POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Raiter yielded to question by Mr. Moyer.

Mr. Moyer: Section 9 of the bill adds new language which reads "The duty of a state hospital to accept persons for evaluation and treatment under this section shall be limited by chapter 71.24 RCW." My question is: If regional support networks are not created statewide, does that mean patients from counties, not part of regional support networks, cannot be admitted to the state hospitals and have to be assumed by the counties, regardless?

Mr. Raiter: No. That language is intended to apply only to regional support networks which have been created. If a regional support network is not in place for a given county, the state hospitals have an obligation to accept persons from that county.

Mr. Moyer spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Zellinsky: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. You know, I could probably cry. I have not announced formally, but I can say that I have been giving it a great deal of thought. It has some merits. First of all, I have to win--that's a problem oftentimes, as we all know. Winning is a job, if I do throw my hat in the ring, I will work very hard to prevail, which is part of this system that we have all learned and that my seven years here have taught me well. If I should make this change and am fortunate enough with the constituency to prevail, there are things here that I will miss. This is like a family. A family is close, as this group is, and we see friends come and go. You never think that you will be leaving, and so I am not too sure, after this. I'll take my picture and my tape and thank you folks for that. I want to thank each and every one of you for your kindness today.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The purpose of this act is to create a system that: (1) Assists the courts in sentencing felony offenders regarding the offenders' legal financial obligations; (2) holds offenders accountable to victims, counties, cities, the state, municipalities, and society for the assessed costs associated with their crimes; and (3) provides remedies for an individual or other entities to recoup or at least defray a portion of the loss associated with the costs of felonious behavior.

Sec. 2. Section 11, chapter 145, Laws of 1988, section 1, chapter 153, Laws of 1988, section 2, chapter 154, Laws of 1988 and section 1, chapter 157, Laws of 1988 and RCW 9.94A.030 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Collect,' or any derivative thereof, 'collect and remit,' or 'collect and deliver,' when used with reference to the department of corrections, means that the department is responsible for monitoring and enforcing the offender's sentence with regard to the legal financial obligation, receiving payment thereof from the offender, and, consistent with current law, delivering daily the entire payment to the superior court clerk without depositing it in a departmental account.

(2) 'Commission' means the sentencing guidelines commission.

((2)) (3) 'Community corrections officer' means an employee of the department who is responsible for carrying out specific duties in supervision of sentenced offenders and monitoring of sentence conditions.

((3)) (4) 'Community custody' means that portion of an inmate's sentence of confinement in lieu of earned early release time served in the community subject to controls placed on the inmate's movement and activities by the department of corrections.

((4)) (5) 'Community placement' means a one-year period during which the offender is subject to the conditions of community custody and/or postrelease supervision, which begins either upon completion of the term of confinement (postrelease supervision) or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release. Community placement may consist of entirely community custody, entirely postrelease supervision, or a combination of the two.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. (1) Whenever a person is convicted of a felony, the court may order the payment of a legal financial obligation as part of the sentence. The court must on either the judgment and sentence or on a subsequent order to pay, designate the total amount of a legal financial obligation and segregate this amount among the separate assessments made for restitution, costs fines, and other assessments required by law. On the same order, the court is also to set a sum that the offender is required to pay on a monthly basis towards satisfying the legal financial obligation.

(2) All legal financial obligations that are ordered as a result of a conviction for a felony, may also be enforced in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action by the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed. These obligations may be enforced at any time during the ten-year period following the offender's release from total confinement or within ten years of entry of the judgment and sentence, whichever period is longer. Independent of the department, the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed shall have the authority to utilize any other remedies available to the party or entity to collect the legal financial obligation.

(3) In order to assist the court in setting a monthly sum that the offender must pay during the period of supervision, the offender is required to report to the department for purposes of preparing a recommendation to the court. When reporting, the offender is required, under oath, to truthfully and honestly respond to all questions concerning present, past, and future earning capabilities and the location and nature of all property or financial assets. The offender is further required to bring any and all documents as requested by the department.

(4) After completing the investigation, the department shall make a report to the court on the amount of the monthly payment that the offender should be required to make towards a satisfied legal financial obligation.

(5) During the period of supervision, the department may make a recommendation to the court that the offender's monthly payment schedule be modified so as to reflect a change in financial circumstances. Also, during the period of supervision, the offender may be required at the request of the department to report to the department for the purposes of reviewing the appropriateness of the collection schedule for the legal financial obligation. During this reporting, the offender is required under oath to truthfully and honestly respond to all questions concerning earning capabilities and the location and nature of all property or financial assets. Also, the offender is required to bring any and all documents as requested by the department in order to prepare the collection schedule.

(6) After the judgment and sentence or payment order is entered, the department shall for any period of supervision be authorized to collect the legal financial obligation from the offender. Any amount collected by the department shall be remitted daily to the county clerk for the purposes of disbursements. The department is authorized to accept credit cards as payment for a legal financial obligation, and any costs incurred related to accepting credit card payments shall be the responsibility of the offender.

(7) The department or any obligee of the legal financial obligation may seek a mandatory wage assignment for the purposes of obtaining satisfaction for the legal financial obligation pursuant to section 9 of this act.

(8) The requirement that the offender pay a monthly sum towards a legal financial obligation constitutes a condition and term of community supervision and the offender is subject to the penalties as provided in RCW 9.94A.200 for noncompliance.

(9) The county clerk shall provide the department with individualized monthly billings for each offender with an unsatisfied legal financial obligation and shall provide the department with written notice of payments by such offenders no less frequently than weekly.

Sec. 4. Section 21, chapter 143, Laws of 1988, section 2, chapter 153, Laws of 1988 and section 3, chapter 154, Laws of 1988 and RCW 9.94A.120 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2), (5), and (7) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than three years, and shall not be eligible for furlough, work release or other authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility during such minimum three year term except for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility. The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender refrain from committing new offenses. The sentence may also include up to two years of community supervision, which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions, may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(b) Undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;

(c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;

(d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;

(e) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer; or

(f) Pay ~~((a fine))~~ all court-ordered legal financial obligations as provided in RCW 9.94A.030 and/or ((accomplish some)) perform community service work.

(6) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or ~~((a fine))~~ other legal financial obligations. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(7) (a) When an offender is convicted of a sex offense other than a violation of RCW 9A.44.040 or RCW 9A.44.050 and has no prior convictions for a sex offense or any other felony sexual offenses in this or any other state, the sentencing court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine whether the defendant is amenable to treatment.

After receipt of the reports, the court shall then determine whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sexual offender sentencing alternative. If the court determines that both the offender and the community will benefit from use of this provision, the court shall then impose a sentence within the sentence range and, if this sentence is less than six years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and place the offender on community supervision for up to two years. As a condition of the suspended sentence, the court may impose other sentence conditions including up to six months of confinement, not to exceed the sentence range of confinement for that offense, crime-related prohibitions, and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(ii) Undergo available outpatient sex offender treatment for up to two years, or inpatient sex offender treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment;

(iii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;

(iv) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;

(vi) Make recoupment to the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime.

If the offender violates these sentence conditions the court may revoke the suspension and order execution of the sentence. All confinement time served during the period of community supervision shall be credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

(b) When an offender is convicted of any felony sexual offense committed before July 1, 1987, and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, order the offender committed for up to thirty days to the custody of the secretary of social and health services for evaluation and report to the court on the offender's amenability to treatment at these facilities. If the secretary of social and health services cannot begin the evaluation within thirty days of the court's order of commitment, the offender shall be transferred to the state for confinement pending an opportunity to be evaluated at the appropriate facility. The court shall review the reports and may order that the term of confinement imposed be served in the sexual offender treatment program at the location determined by the secretary of social and health services or the secretary's designee, only if the report indicates that the offender is amenable to the treatment program provided at these facilities. The offender shall be transferred to the state pending placement in the treatment program. Any offender who has escaped from the treatment program shall be referred back to the sentencing court.

If the offender does not comply with the conditions of the treatment program, the secretary of social and health services may refer the matter to the sentencing court. The sentencing court shall commit the offender to the department of corrections to serve the balance of the term of confinement.

If the offender successfully completes the treatment program before the expiration of the term of confinement, the court may convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and may place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- (iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of the community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

After June 30, 1993, this subsection (b) shall cease to have effect.

(c) When an offender commits any felony sexual offense on or after July 1, 1987, and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, request the department of corrections to evaluate whether the offender is amenable to treatment and the department may place the offender in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department.

Except for an offender who has been convicted of a violation of RCW 9A.44.040 or 9A.44.050, if the offender completes the treatment program before the expiration of his term of confinement, the department of corrections may request the court to convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and to place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- (iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of his community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of his community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

Nothing in (c) of this subsection shall confer eligibility for such programs for offenders convicted and sentenced for a sexual offense committed prior to July 1, 1987.

(8) (a) When a court sentences a person to a term of total confinement to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense, a serious violent offense, assault in the second degree, any crime against a person where it is determined in accordance with RCW 9.94A.125 that the defendant or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of commission, or any felony offense under chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW, committed on or after July 1, 1988, the court shall in addition to the other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to a one-year term of community placement beginning either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150(1). When the court sentences an offender under this section to the statutory maximum period of confinement then the community placement portion of the sentence shall consist entirely of such community custody to which the offender may become eligible, in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150(1).

Any period of community custody actually served shall be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence.

(b) When a court sentences a person to a term of total confinement to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense, a serious violent offense, assault in the second degree, any crime against a person where it is determined in accordance with RCW 9.94A.125 that the defendant or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of commission, or any felony offense under chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW, committed on or after July 1, 1988, unless a condition is waived by the court, the sentence shall include, in addition to the other terms of the sentence, a one-year term of community placement on the following conditions:

(i) The offender shall report to and be available for contact with the assigned community corrections officer as directed;

(ii) The offender shall work at department of corrections-approved education, employment, and/or community service;

(d) Prior to transfer to, or during, community placement, any conditions of community placement may be removed or modified so as not to be more restrictive by the sentencing court, upon recommendation of the department of corrections.

(9) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days. Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.

(10) If a sentence imposed includes ~~((a fine or restitution))~~ payment of a legal financial obligation, the sentence shall specify ~~((a reasonable manner and time in which the fine or restitution shall be paid. Restitution to victims shall be paid prior to any other payments of monetary obligations in any sentence under this chapter the court may also require the offender to make such monetary payments on such terms as it deems appropriate under the circumstances, as are necessary (a) to pay court costs, including reimbursement of the state for costs of extradition if return to this state by extradition was required, (b) to make recoupment of the cost of defense attorney's fees if counsel is provided at public expense, (c) to contribute to a county or interlocal drug fund, and (d) to make such other payments as provided by law))~~ the total amount of the legal financial obligation owed, and shall require the offender to pay a specified monthly sum toward that legal financial obligation. Restitution to victims shall be paid prior to any other payments of monetary obligations. The offender's compliance with payment of ((monetary) legal financial obligations shall be supervised by the department((The rate of payment shall be determined by the court or, in the absence of a rate determined by the court, the rate shall be set by the department)). All monetary payments ordered shall be paid no later than ten years after the ((most recent of either the)) last date of release from confinement pursuant to a felony conviction or the date the sentence was entered. Independent of the department, the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed shall have the authority to utilize any other remedies available to the party or entity to collect the legal financial obligation. Nothing in this section makes the department, the state, or any of its employees, agents, or other persons acting on their behalf liable under any circumstances for the payment of these legal financial obligations. If an order includes restitution as one of the monetary assessments, the county clerk shall make disbursements to victims named in the order. ((The restitution to victims named in the order shall be paid prior to any payment for other penalties or monetary assessments:))

(11) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1) and 9.94A.142(1), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision or community placement which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(12) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, ~~((restitution, or fines))~~ or legal financial obligation shall be under the supervision of the secretary of the department of corrections or such person as the secretary may designate and shall follow explicitly the instructions of the secretary including reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, and notifying the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment.

(13) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(14) A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.400(1) and (2) governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and may be appealed by the defendant or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.210(2) through (6).

(15) The court shall order restitution whenever the offender is convicted of a felony that results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property, whether the offender is sentenced to confinement or placed under community supervision, unless extraordinary circumstances exist that make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment. The court shall set forth the extraordinary circumstances in the record if it does not order restitution.

(16) As a part of any sentence, the court may impose and enforce an order that relates directly to the circumstances of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, prohibiting the offender from having any contact with other specified individuals or a specific class of individuals for a period not to exceed the maximum allowable sentence for the crime, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community supervision.

(17) In any sentence of partial confinement, the court may require the defendant to serve the partial confinement in work release or in a program of home detention.

(18) All court-ordered legal financial obligations collected by the department and remitted to the county clerk shall be credited and paid where restitution is ordered. Restitution shall be paid prior to any other payments of monetary obligations.

Sec. 5. Section 14, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 3, chapter 281, Laws of 1987 and RCW 9.94A.140 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If restitution is ordered, the court shall determine the amount of restitution due at the sentencing hearing or within sixty days ~~((and may set the terms and conditions under which the defendant shall make restitution))~~. The court shall then set a minimum monthly payment that the offender is required to make towards the restitution that is ordered. The court should take into consideration the total amount of the restitution owed, the offender's present, past, and future ability to pay, as well as any assets that the offender may have. During the period of supervision, the community corrections officer may examine the offender to determine if there has been a change in circumstances that warrants an amendment of the monthly payment schedule. The community corrections officer may recommend a change to the schedule of payment and shall inform the court of the recommended change and the reasons for the change. The sentencing court may then reset the monthly minimum payments based on the report from the community corrections officer of the change in circumstances. Restitution ordered by a court pursuant to a criminal conviction shall be based on easily ascertainable damages for injury to or loss of property, actual expenses incurred for treatment for injury to persons, and lost wages resulting from injury. Restitution shall not include reimbursement for damages for mental anguish, pain and suffering, or other intangible losses, but may include the costs of counseling reasonably related to the offense. The amount of restitution shall not exceed double the amount of the offender's gain or the victim's loss from the commission of the crime. For the purposes of this section, the offender shall remain under the court's jurisdiction for a maximum term of ten years subsequent to the imposition of sentence. The portion of the sentence concerning restitution may be modified as to amount, terms and conditions during the ten-year period, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community supervision and regardless of the statutory maximum for the crime. The offender's compliance with the restitution shall be supervised by the department.

(2) Restitution may be ordered whenever the offender is convicted of an offense which results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property. In addition, restitution may be ordered to pay for an injury, loss, or damage if the offender pleads guilty to a lesser offense or fewer offenses and agrees with the prosecutor's recommendation that the offender be required to pay restitution to a victim of an offense or offenses which are not prosecuted pursuant to a plea agreement.

(3) In addition to any sentence that may be imposed, a defendant who has been found guilty of an offense involving fraud or other deceptive practice or an organization which has been found guilty of any such offense may be ordered by the sentencing court to give notice of the conviction to the class of persons or to the sector of the public affected by the conviction or financially interested in the subject matter of the offense by mail, by advertising in designated areas or through designated media, or by other appropriate means.

(4) This section does not limit civil remedies or defenses available to the victim or defendant.

Sec. 6. Section 10, chapter 443, Laws of 1985 as amended by section 4, chapter 281, Laws of 1987 and RCW 9.94A.142 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When restitution is ordered, the court shall determine the amount of restitution due at the sentencing hearing or within sixty days (~~and shall set the terms and conditions under which the defendant shall make restitution~~). The court shall then set a minimum monthly payment that the offender is required to make towards the restitution that is ordered. The court should take into consideration the total amount of the restitution owed, the offender's present, past, and future ability to pay, as well as any assets that the offender may have. During the period of supervision, the community corrections officer may examine the offender to determine if there has been a change in circumstances that warrants an amendment of the monthly payment schedule. The community corrections officer may recommend a change to the schedule of payment and shall inform the court of the recommended change and the reasons for the change. The sentencing court may then reset the monthly minimum payments based on the report from the community corrections officer of the change in circumstances. Restitution ordered by a court pursuant to a criminal conviction shall be based on easily ascertainable damages for injury to or loss of property, actual expenses incurred for treatment for injury to persons, and lost wages resulting from injury. Restitution shall not include reimbursement for damages for mental anguish, pain and suffering, or other intangible losses, but may include the costs of counseling reasonably related to the offense. The amount of restitution shall not exceed double the amount of the offender's gain or the victim's loss from the commission of the crime. For the purposes of this section, the offender shall remain under the court's jurisdiction for a maximum term of ten years subsequent to the imposition of sentence. The portion of the sentence concerning restitution may be modified as to amount, terms and conditions during the ten-year period, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community supervision and regardless of the statutory maximum for the crime. The offender's compliance with the restitution shall be supervised by the department.

(2) Restitution shall be ordered whenever the offender is convicted of an offense which results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property unless extraordinary circumstances exist which make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment and the court sets forth such circumstances in the record. In addition, restitution shall be ordered to pay for an injury, loss, or damage if the offender pleads guilty to a lesser offense or fewer offenses and agrees with the prosecutor's recommendation that the offender be required to pay restitution to a victim of an offense or offenses which are not prosecuted pursuant to a plea agreement.

(3) In addition to any sentence that may be imposed, a defendant who has been found guilty of an offense involving fraud or other deceptive practice or an organization which has been found guilty of any such offense may be ordered by the sentencing court to give notice of the conviction to the class of persons or to the sector of the public affected by the conviction or financially interested in the subject matter of the offense by mail, by advertising in designated areas or through designated media, or by other appropriate means.

(4) This section does not limit civil remedies or defenses available to the victim, survivors of the victim, or defendant.

(5) This section shall apply to offenses committed after July 1, 1985.

Sec. 7. Section 20, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 11, chapter 153, Laws of 1988 and by section 2, chapter 155, Laws of 1988 and RCW 9.94A.200 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) If an offender violates any condition or requirement of a sentence, the court may modify its order of judgment and sentence and impose further punishment in accordance with this section.

(2) If an offender fails to comply with any of the requirements or conditions of a sentence the following provisions apply:

(a) The court, upon the motion of the state, or upon its own motion, shall require the offender to show cause why the offender should not be punished for the noncompliance. The court may issue a summons or a warrant of arrest for the offender's appearance;

(b) The state has the burden of showing noncompliance by a preponderance of the evidence. If the court finds that the violation has occurred, it may order the offender to be confined for a period not to exceed sixty days for each violation, and may (i) convert a term of partial confinement to total confinement, (ii) convert community service obligation to total or partial confinement, or (iii) convert monetary obligations, except restitution and the crime victim penalty assessment, to community service hours at the rate of the state minimum wage as established in RCW 49.46.020 for each hour of community service. Any time served in confinement awaiting a hearing on noncompliance shall be credited against any confinement order by the court; and

(c) If the court finds that the violation was not willful, the court may modify its previous order regarding payment of (~~times or other monetary payments~~) legal financial obligations and regarding community service obligations.

(3) Nothing in this section prohibits the filing of escape charges if appropriate.

Sec. 8. Section 2, chapter 207, Laws of 1982 as amended by section 15, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.270 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a punishment imposed under this chapter requires community supervision services to be provided, the sentencing court shall require that the offender pay to the department of corrections the monthly assessment, prescribed under subsection (2) of this section, which shall be for the duration of the probation and which shall be considered as payment or part payment of the cost of providing probation supervision to the probationer. The court may exempt a person from the payment of all or any part of the assessment based upon any of the following factors:

(a) The offender has diligently attempted but has been unable to obtain employment that provides the offender sufficient income to make such payments.

(b) The offender is a student in a school, college, university, or a course of vocational or technical training designed to fit the student for gainful employment.

(c) The offender has an employment handicap, as determined by an examination acceptable to or ordered by the court.

(d) The offender's age prevents him from obtaining employment.

(e) The offender is responsible for the support of dependents and the payment of the assessment constitutes an undue hardship on the offender.

(f) Other extenuating circumstances as determined by the court.

(2) The department of corrections shall adopt a rule prescribing the amount of the assessment. The department may, if it finds it appropriate, prescribe a schedule of assessments that shall vary in accordance with the intensity or cost of the supervision. The department may not prescribe any assessment that is less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars.

(3) All amounts required to be paid under this section shall be collected by the department of corrections and deposited by the department in the ~~((state general))~~ dedicated fund established pursuant to section 26 of this act.

(4) This section shall not apply to probation services provided under an interstate compact pursuant to chapter 9.95 RCW or to probation services provided for persons placed on probation prior to June 10, 1982.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. A petition or motion seeking a mandatory wage assignment in a criminal action may be filed by the department or any obligee if the offender is more than thirty days past due in monthly payments in an amount equal to or greater than the amount payable for one month. The petition or motion shall include a sworn statement by the secretary or designee, or if filed solely by an obligee, by such obligee, stating the facts authorizing the issuance of the wage assignment order, including: (1) That the offender, stating his or her name and last known residence, is more than thirty days past due in payments in an amount equal to or greater than the amount payable for one month; (2) a description of the terms of the judgment and sentence and/or payment order requiring payment of a court-ordered legal financial obligation, the total amount remaining unpaid, and the amount past due; (3) the name and address of the offender's employer; (4) that notice by personal service, or any form of mail requiring a return receipt, has been provided to the offender at least fifteen days prior to the filing of a mandatory wage assignment, unless the judgment and sentence or the order for payment states that the department or obligee may seek a mandatory wage assignment without notice to the defendant. A copy of the judgment and sentence or payment order shall be attached to the petition or motion seeking the wage assignment.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. Upon receipt of a petition or motion seeking a mandatory wage assignment that complies with section 9 of this act, the court shall issue a wage assignment order as provided in section 12 of this act and including the information required in section 9 of this act, directed to the employer, and commanding the employer to answer the order on the forms served with the order that comply with section 14 of this act within twenty days after service of the order upon the employer.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 11. (1) The wage assignment order in section 10 of this act shall include: (a) The maximum amount or current amount owed on a court-ordered legal financial obligation, if any, to be withheld from the defendant's earnings each month, or from each earnings disbursement; and (b) the total amount of the arrearage or reimbursement judgment previously entered by the court, if any, together with interest, if any.

(2) The total amount to be withheld from the defendant's earnings each month, or from each earnings disbursement, shall not exceed twenty-five percent of the disposable earnings of the defendant. If the amounts to be paid toward the arrearage are specified in the payment order, then the maximum amount to be withheld is the sum of the current amount owed and the amount ordered to be paid toward the arrearage, or twenty-five percent of the disposable earnings of the defendant, whichever is less.

(3) If the defendant is subject to two or more attachments for payment of a court-ordered legal financial obligation on account of different obligees, the employer shall, if the nonexempt portion of the defendant's earnings is not sufficient to respond fully to all the attachments, apportion the defendant's nonexempt disposable earnings between or among the various obligees equally. Any obligee may seek a court order reapportioning the defendant's nonexempt disposable earnings upon notice to all interested parties. Notice shall be by personal service, or in the manner provided by the civil rules of superior court or applicable statute.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The department shall develop a form and adopt rules for the wage assignment order.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) An employer upon whom service of a wage assignment order has been made shall answer the order by sworn affidavit within twenty days after the date of service. The answer shall state whether the offender is employed by or receives earnings from the employer, whether the employer will honor the wage assignment order, and whether there are multiple attachments against the offender.

(2) If the employer possesses any earnings due and owing to the offender, the earnings subject to the wage assignment order shall be withheld immediately upon receipt of the wage assignment order. The employer shall deliver the withheld earnings to the clerk of the court pursuant to the wage assignment order. The employer shall make the first delivery no sooner than twenty days after receipt of the wage assignment order.

(3) The employer shall continue to withhold the ordered amounts from nonexempt earnings of the offender until notified that the wage assignment has been modified or terminated. The employer shall promptly notify the clerk of the court who entered the order when the employee is no longer employed.

(4) The employer may deduct a processing fee from the remainder of the employee's earnings after withholding under the wage assignment order, even if the remainder is exempt under section 11 of this act. The processing fee may not exceed: (a) Ten dollars for the first disbursement made by the employer to the clerk of the court; and (b) one dollar for each subsequent disbursement made under the wage assignment order.

(5) An employer who fails to withhold earnings as required by a wage assignment order issued under this chapter may be held liable for the amounts disbursed to the offender in violation of the wage assignment order, and may be found by the court to be in contempt of court and may be punished as provided by law.

(6) No employer who complies with a wage assignment order issued under this chapter may be liable to the employee for wrongful withholding.

(7) No employer may discharge, discipline, or refuse to hire an employee because of the entry or service of a wage assignment order issued and executed under this chapter. A person who violates this subsection may be found by the court to be in contempt of court and may be punished as provided by law.

(8) An employer shall deliver a copy of the wage assignment order to the obligor as soon as is reasonably possible.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. The department shall develop a form and adopt rules for the wage assignment answer, and instructions for employers for preparing such answer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) Service of the wage assignment order on the employer is invalid unless it is served with five answer forms in substantial conformance with section 14 of this act, together with stamped envelopes addressed to, respectively, the clerk of the court where the order was issued, the obligee's attorney, the petitioner, the department, and the obligor. The petitioner shall also include an extra copy of the wage assignment order for the employer to deliver to the obligor. Service on the employer shall be in person or by any form of mail requiring a return receipt.

(2) On or before the date of service of the wage assignment order on the employer, the petitioner shall mail or cause to be mailed by certified mail a copy of the wage assignment order to the obligor at the obligor's last known post office address; or, in the alternative, a copy of the wage assignment order shall be served on the obligor in the same manner as a summons in a civil action on, before, or within two days after the date of service of the order on the employer. This requirement is not jurisdictional, but if the copy is not mailed or served as this subsection provides, or if any irregularity appears with respect to the mailing of service, the superior court, in its discretion, may quash the wage assignment order, upon motion of the obligor promptly made and supported by an affidavit showing that the defendant has suffered substantial injury due to the failure to mail or serve the copy.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. In a hearing to quash, modify, or terminate the wage assignment order, the court may grant relief only upon a showing that the wage assignment order causes extreme hardship or substantial injustice. Satisfaction by the defendant of all past-due payments subsequent to the issuance of the wage assignment order is not grounds to quash, modify, or terminate the wage assignment order. If a wage assignment order has been in operation for twelve consecutive months and the obligor's payment towards a court-ordered legal financial obligation is current, the court may terminate the order upon motion of the obligor unless the obligee or the department can show good cause as to why the wage assignment order should remain in effect. The department shall notify the employer of any modification or termination of the wage assignment order.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. In any action to enforce legal financial obligations under this chapter, the prevailing party is entitled to a recovery of costs, including an award for reasonable attorneys' fees. An obligor may not be considered a prevailing party under this section unless the obligee has acted in bad faith in connection with the proceeding in question.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. For those individuals who, as a condition and term of their sentence imposed on or before July 1, 1989, have had financial obligations imposed, and who are not in compliance with the court order requiring payment of that legal financial obligation, no action shall be brought before the court from July 1, 1989, through and including December 31, 1989, to impose a penalty for their failure to pay. All individuals who, after December 31, 1989, have not taken the opportunity to bring their legal financial obligation current, shall be proceeded against pursuant to RCW 9.94A.200.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. Sections 3 and 9 through 18 of this act are each added to chapter 9.94A RCW.

Sec. 20. Section 1, chapter 207, Laws of 1982 and RCW 72.04A.120 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person placed on parole shall be required to pay the monthly assessment, prescribed under subsection (2) of this section, which shall be for the duration of the parole and which shall be considered as payment or part payment of the cost of providing parole supervision to the parolee. The board may exempt a person from the payment of all or any part of the assessment based upon any of the following factors:

(a) The offender has diligently attempted but has been unable to obtain employment which provides the offender sufficient income to make such payments.

(b) The offender is a student in a school, college, university, or a course of vocational or technical training designed to fit the student for gainful employment.

(c) The offender has an employment handicap, as determined by an examination acceptable to or ordered by the board.

(d) The offender's age prevents him from obtaining employment.

(e) The offender is responsible for the support of dependents and the payment of the assessment constitutes an undue hardship on the offender.

(f) Other extenuating circumstances as determined by the board.

(2) The department of corrections shall adopt a rule prescribing the amount of the assessment. The department may, if it finds it appropriate, prescribe a schedule of assessments which shall vary in accordance with the intensity or cost of the supervision. The department may not prescribe any assessment which is less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars.

(3) Payment of the assessed amount shall constitute a condition of parole for purposes of the application of RCW 72.04A.090.

(4) All amounts required to be paid under this section shall be collected by the department of corrections and deposited by the department in the ~~((state general))~~ dedicated fund established pursuant to section 26 of this act.

(5) This section shall not apply to parole services provided under an interstate compact pursuant to chapter 9.95 RCW or to parole services provided for offenders paroled before June 10, 1982.

Sec. 21. Section 6, chapter 17, Laws of 1967 and RCW 72.65.060 are each amended to read as follows:

The earnings of a work release participant shall not be subject to garnishment, attachment, or execution while such earnings are either in the possession of the employer or any state officer authorized to hold such funds, except for payment of a court-ordered legal financial obligation as that term is defined in section 22 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. Unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, the following words and phrases as hereafter used in this chapter shall have the following meanings:

(1) 'Court-ordered legal financial obligation' means a sum of money that is ordered by a superior court of the state of Washington for payment of restitution to a victim, statutorily imposed crime victims compensation fee, court costs, a county or interlocal drug fund, court-appointed attorneys' fees and costs of defense, fines, and any other legal financial obligation that is assessed as a result of a felony conviction.

(2) 'Department' means the department of corrections.

(3) 'Offender' means an individual who is currently under the jurisdiction of the Washington state department of corrections, and who also has a court-ordered legal financial obligation as a result of a felony conviction.

(4) 'Secretary' means the secretary of the department of corrections or the secretary's designee.

(5) 'Superintendent' means the superintendent of a correctional facility under the jurisdiction of the Washington state department of corrections.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. The secretary shall be custodian of all funds of a convicted person that are in his or her possession upon admission to a state institution, or that are sent or brought to the person, or earned by the person while in custody, or that are forwarded to the superintendent on behalf of a convicted person. All such funds shall be deposited in the personal account of the convicted person within the institutional resident deposit account as established by the office of financial management pursuant to RCW 43.88.195, and the secretary shall have authority to disburse money from such person's personal account for the purposes of satisfying a court-ordered legal financial obligation to the court. Unless specifically granted authority herein, at no time shall the withdrawal of funds for the payment of a legal financial obligation result in reducing the inmate's account to an amount less than the defined level of indigency to be determined by the department.

Further, unless specifically altered herein, court-ordered legal financial obligations shall be paid.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. (1) Except as otherwise provided herein, all court-ordered legal financial obligations shall take priority over any other statutorily imposed mandatory withdrawals from inmate's accounts.

(2) For those inmates who are on work release pursuant to chapter 72.65 RCW, before any legal financial obligations are withdrawn from the inmate's account, the inmate is entitled to payroll deductions that are required by law, or such payroll deductions as may reasonably be required by the nature of the employment unless any such amount which his or her work release plan specifies should be retained to help meet the inmate's needs, including costs necessary for his or her participation in the work release plan such as travel, meals, clothing, tools, and other incidentals.

(3) Before the payment of any court-ordered legal financial obligation is required, the department is entitled to reimbursement for any expenses advanced for vocational training pursuant to RCW 72.65.020(2), for expenses incident to a work release plan pursuant to RCW 72.65.090, payments for board and room charges for the work release participant, and payments that are necessary for the support of the work release participant's dependents, if any.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. Sections 22 through 24 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 72 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. The cost of supervision fund is created in the custody of the state treasurer. All receipts from assessments made under RCW 9.94A.270 and 72.04A.120 shall be deposited into the fund. Expenditures from the fund may be used only to support the collection of legal financial obligations. Only the secretary of the department of corrections or the secretary's designee may authorize expenditures from the fund. The fund is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but no appropriation is required for expenditures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. Except for sections 18, 22, 23, and 24 of this act, this act applies prospectively only and not retrospectively. It applies only to offenses committed on or after the effective date of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. The department of corrections and the county clerks association shall develop compatible management and accounting systems that will result in increased collections of legal financial obligations and report their proposed systems to the senate health care and corrections committee and the house health care committee by December 1, 1989.

Sec. 29. Section 10, chapter 302, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 281, Laws of 1987 and RCW 7.68.035 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever any person is found guilty in any superior court of having committed a crime, except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, there shall be imposed by the court upon such convicted person a penalty assessment. The assessment shall be in addition to any other penalty or fine imposed by law and shall be ~~((seventy))~~ one hundred dollars for each case or cause of action that includes one or more convictions of a felony or gross misdemeanor and ~~((forty-five))~~ seventy-five dollars for any case or cause of action that includes convictions of only one or more misdemeanors.

(2) The assessment imposed by subsection (1) of this section shall not apply to motor vehicle crimes defined in Title 46 RCW except those defined in the following sections: RCW 46.61-.520, 46.61.522, 46.61.024, 46.52.090, 46.70.140, 46.65.090, 46.61.502, 46.61.504, 46.52.100, 46.20.410, 46.52.020, 46.10.130, 46.09.130, 46.61.525, 46.61.685, 46.61.530, 46.61.500, 46.61.015, 46.52.010, 46.44.180, 46.10.090(2), and 46.09.120(2).

(3) Whenever any person accused of having committed a crime posts bail in superior court pursuant to the provisions of chapter 10.19 RCW and such bail is forfeited, there shall be deducted from the proceeds of such forfeited bail a penalty assessment, in addition to any other penalty or fine imposed by law, equal to the assessment which would be applicable under subsection (1) of this section if the person had been convicted of the crime.

(4) Such penalty assessments shall be paid by the clerk of the superior court to the county treasurer who shall monthly transmit the money as provided in RCW 10.82.070. Each county shall deposit not less than one and seventy-five one-hundredths percent of the money it retains under RCW 10.82.070 and chapter 3.62 RCW and all money it receives under subsection (8) of this section into a fund maintained exclusively for the support of comprehensive programs to encourage and facilitate testimony by the victims of crimes and witnesses to crimes. A program shall be considered 'comprehensive' only after approval of the department upon application by the county prosecuting attorney. The department shall approve as comprehensive only programs which:

(a) Provide comprehensive services to victims and witnesses of all types of crime with particular emphasis on serious crimes against persons and property. It is the intent of the legislature to make funds available only to programs which do not restrict services to victims or witnesses of a particular type or types of crime and that such funds supplement, not supplant, existing local funding levels;

(b) Are administered by the county prosecuting attorney either directly through the prosecuting attorney's office or by contract between the county and agencies providing services to victims of crime;

(c) Make a reasonable effort to inform the known victim or his surviving dependents of the existence of this chapter and the procedure for making application for benefits;

(d) Assist victims in the restitution and adjudication process; and

(e) Assist victims of violent crimes in the preparation and presentation of their claims to the department of labor and industries under this chapter.

Before a program in any county west of the Cascade mountains is submitted to the department for approval, it shall be submitted for review and comment to each city within the county with a population of more than one hundred fifty thousand. The department will consider if the county's proposed comprehensive plan meets the needs of crime victims in cases adjudicated in municipal, district or superior courts and of crime victims located within the city and county.

(5) Upon submission to the department of a letter of intent to adopt a comprehensive program, the prosecuting attorney shall retain the money deposited by the county under subsection (4) of this section until such time as the county prosecuting attorney has obtained approval of a program from the department. Approval of the comprehensive plan by the department must be obtained within one year of the date of the letter of intent to adopt a comprehensive program. The county prosecuting attorney shall not make any expenditures from the money deposited under subsection (4) of this section until approval of a comprehensive plan by the department. If a county prosecuting attorney has failed to obtain approval of a program from the department under subsection (4) of this section or failed to obtain approval of a comprehensive program within one year after submission of a letter of intent under this section, the county treasurer shall monthly transmit one hundred percent of the money deposited by the county under subsection (4) of this section to the state treasurer for deposit in the public safety and education account established under RCW 43.08.250.

(6) County prosecuting attorneys are responsible to make every reasonable effort to insure that the penalty assessments of this chapter are imposed and collected.

(7) Penalty assessments under this section shall also be imposed in juvenile offense dispositions under Title 13 RCW. Upon motion of a party and a showing of good cause, the court may modify the penalty assessment in the disposition of juvenile offenses under Title 13 RCW.

(8) Every city and town shall transmit monthly one and seventy-five one-hundredths percent of all money, other than money received for parking infractions, retained under RCW 3.46.120, 3.50.100, and 35.20.220 to the county treasurer for deposit as provided in subsection (4) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. (1) Sections 1 through 17, 19 through 21, 25, 26, and 28 of this act shall take effect July 1, 1990 unless otherwise directed by law.

(2) Sections 18, 22, 23, and 24 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect July 1, 1989.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

(c) For all other employers not qualified to be in the array, the contribution rate shall be a rate equal to the average industry rate as determined by the commissioner; however, the rate may not be less than one percent. Assignment of employers by the commissioner to industrial classification, for purposes of this subsection, shall be in accordance with established classification practices found in the 'Standard Industrial Classification Manual' issued by the federal office of management and budget to the third digit provided in the Standard Industrial Classification code.

Sec. 80. Section 78, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as last amended by section 6, chapter 33, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 50.20.100 are each amended to read as follows:

Suitable work for an individual is employment in an occupation in keeping with the individual's prior work experience, education, or training and if the individual has no prior work experience, special education, or training for employment available in the general area, then employment which the individual would have the physical and mental ability to perform, and for individuals with base year work experience in agricultural labor, any agricultural labor available from any employer shall be deemed suitable unless it meets the conditions in RCW 50.20.110 or the commissioner finds elements of specific work opportunity unsuitable for a particular individual. In determining whether work is suitable for an individual, the commissioner shall also consider the degree of risk involved to the individual's health, safety, and morals, the individual's physical fitness, the individual's length of unemployment and prospects for securing local work in the individual's customary occupation, the distance of the available work from the individual's residence, and such other factors as the commissioner may deem pertinent, including state and national emergencies.

Sec. 81. Section 6, chapter 205, Laws of 1984 and RCW 50.29.062 are each amended to read as follows:

From and after January 1 following the transfer, the successor's contribution rate for each rate year shall be based on his or her experience with payrolls and benefits including the experience of the acquired business or portion of a business from the date of transfer, as of the regular computation date for that rate year.

(2) If the successor is not an employer at the time of the transfer, he or she shall pay contributions at the rate class assigned to the predecessor employer at the time of the transfer for the remainder for that rate year and continuing until such time as he or she qualifies for a different rate in his or her own right.

(3) If the successor is not an employer at the time of the transfer and simultaneously acquires the business or a portion of the business of two or more employers in different rate classes, his or her rate from the date the transfer occurred until the end of that rate year and until he or she qualifies in his or her own right for a new rate, shall be the highest rate class applicable at the time of the acquisition to any predecessor employer who is a party to the acquisition.

(4) The contribution rate on any payroll retained by a predecessor employer shall remain unchanged for the remainder of the rate year in which the transfer occurs.

(5) In all cases, from and after January 1 following the transfer, the predecessor's contribution rate for each rate year shall be based on his or her experience with payrolls and benefits as of the regular computation date for that rate year including the experience of the acquired business or portion of business up to the date of transfer: PROVIDED, That if all of the predecessor's business is transferred to a successor or successors, the predecessor shall not be a qualified employer until he or she satisfies the requirements of a 'qualified employer' as set forth in RCW 50.29.010.

The advisory committee shall be composed of: A representative of the department of labor and industries; a representative of the department of agriculture; representatives of the agricultural employer and employee communities; and one legislator from each caucus of the house of representatives and the senate, to be appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives and president of the senate, respectively.

Based upon the recommendations of the advisory committee and considerations as to the nature of agricultural employment and usual crop cultural and harvest requirements, the director shall adopt rules under chapter 34.05 RCW which only address the following:

(1) The employment of minors, providing for annual notification to the department of intent to hire minors, and including provisions that both encourage school attendance and provide flexible hours that will meet the requirements of agricultural employment; and

(2) The provision of rest and meal periods for agricultural employees, taking into account naturally occurring work breaks where possible. The initial rules shall be adopted no later than July 1, 1990.

The rules under this act shall meet federal requirements which are a necessary condition to the receipt of federal funds by the state or the granting of federal unemployment tax credits to employers in this state.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 90. Sections 69 and 71 through 73 of this act shall take effect on January 1, 1990.

SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed HOUSE BILL NO. 1656 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. PUBLIC OFFERING STATEMENT—CONDOMINIUM SECURITIES. If an interest in a condominium is currently registered with the securities and exchange commission of the United States, a declarant satisfies all requirements relating to the preparation of a public offering statement of this chapter if the declarant delivers to the purchaser a copy of the public offering statement filed with the securities and exchange commission. An interest in a condominium is not a security under the provisions of chapter 21.20 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. EXPRESS WARRANTIES OF QUALITY. (1) Express warranties made by any seller to a purchaser of a unit, if relied upon by the purchaser, are created as follows:

(a) Any written affirmation of fact or promise which relates to the unit, its use, or rights appurtenant thereto, area improvements to the condominium that would directly benefit the unit, or the right to use or have the benefit of facilities not located in the condominium creates an express warranty that the unit and related rights and uses will conform to the affirmation or promise;

(b) Any model or written description of the physical characteristics of the condominium at the time the purchase agreement is executed, including plans and specifications of or for improvements, creates an express warranty that the condominium will conform to the model or description except pursuant to RCW 64..... (section 4-103(1)(v), chapter 43, Laws of 1989);

(c) Any written description of the quantity or extent of the real property comprising the condominium, including plats or surveys, creates an express warranty that the condominium will conform to the description, subject to customary tolerances; and

(d) A written provision that a buyer may put a unit only to a specified use is an express warranty that the specified use is lawful.

(2) Neither formal words, such as 'warranty' or 'guarantee,' nor a specific intention to make a warranty are necessary to create an express warranty of quality, but a statement purporting to be merely an opinion or commendation of the real estate or its value does not create a warranty. A purchaser may not rely on any representation or express warranty unless it is contained in the public offering statement or made in writing signed by the declarant or declarant's agent identified in the public offering statement.

(3) Any conveyance of a unit transfers to the purchaser all express warranties of quality made by previous sellers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS FOR WARRANTIES. (1) A judicial proceeding for breach of any obligation arising under RCW 64..... or 64..... (section 4-111 or 4-112, chapter 43, Laws of 1989) must be commenced within four years after the cause of action accrues.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) of this section, a cause of action for breach of warranty of quality, regardless of the purchaser's lack of knowledge of the breach, accrues:

(a) As to a unit, at the time the purchaser to whom the warranty is first made enters into possession if a possessory interest was conveyed or at the time of acceptance of the instrument of conveyance if a nonpossessory interest was conveyed; and

(b) As to each common element, at the time the common element is completed or, if later: (i) As to a common element that may be added to the condominium or portion thereof, at the time the first unit therein is conveyed to a bona fide purchaser; or (ii) as to a common element within any other portion of the condominium, at the time the first unit in the condominium is conveyed to a bona fide purchaser.

(3) If a warranty of quality explicitly extends to future performance or duration of any improvement or component of the condominium, the cause of action accrues at the time the breach is discovered or at the end of the period for which the warranty explicitly extends, whichever is earlier.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. SUBSTANTIAL COMPLETION OF UNITS. In the case of a sale of a unit where delivery of a public offering statement is required, a contract of sale may be executed, but no interest in that unit may be conveyed until the declaration is recorded.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. STUDY COMMITTEE. A statutory committee is created to:

(1) Review the Washington condominium act, and consider comments concerning the act;

(2) Draft recommended revisions to the act; and

(3) Prepare written comments on the act to be included in the Senate or House Journals.

The committee shall consist of the following members:

(a) One member each of the majority and minority parties of the senate, appointed by the president of the senate;

(b) One member each of the majority and minority parties of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives;

(c) Four members of the drafting subcommittee of the senate judiciary condominium task force;

(d) One member appointed by the Washington land title association;

(e) One member appointed by the Washington mortgage bankers association;

(f) One member appointed by the Washington association of realtors;

(g) One member appointed by the Washington chapter of the community associations institute;

(h) One member appointed by the homebuilders association of Washington state;

(i) One member appointed by the Washington state bar association;

(j) One member appointed by the Washington association of county officials; and

(k) Two members appointed by the governor.

The committee shall report to the senate law and justice committee and the house judiciary committee before March 1, 1990.

This section shall expire March 1, 1990.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. CAPTIONS. Section captions as used in this act do not constitute any part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. EFFECTIVE DATE. Sections 1 through 4 of this act shall take effect July 1, 1990."

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "lands;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "creating new sections; and providing an effective date."

and the same is herewith transmitted.

W. D. Naismith, Assistant Secretary.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Mr. Speaker:

We of your Conference Committee to whom was referred SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5383, establishing a program for employment and training planning, have had the same under consideration and we report that we are unable to agree, and we respectfully request the powers of Free Conference to amend the bill as follows:

Reject all previous amendments, and Adopt the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS AND DECLARATIONS. The legislature finds that the economy of Washington, like that of the nation, has shifted to an international economic arena. To meet this growing competition from other countries, businesses in the state need a skilled workforce. Because of the increased technical nature of the new jobs, the workforce is increasingly unable to fill the needs of the job market. Action is needed to train workers for the job skills necessary now and in the future.

It is also recognized that twenty to thirty percent of the present labor force pool is deficient in various literacy skills which must be improved before they can take advantage of job training or retraining programs. It is essential that cooperative efforts to provide state citizens with appropriate job and literacy training be designed and administered in accordance with the economic conditions and employment needs of each locality. It is also recognized that existing state and federal programs addressing the employment needs of the economically disadvantaged are multiple, often uncoordinated responses to these needs.

The legislature finds that the encouragement of entrepreneurial development and business ownership is necessary if the state's opportunities for economic growth and job creation are to be realized.

The legislature finds and declares that section 126 of the federal job training partnership act requires coordination of all state job training efforts and allows the enactment of state legislation to implement the federal job training partnership act programs, provided the state legislation is consistent with the federal act. The job training coordination council and private industry councils created under the federal act have been effective and as constituted could immediately implement the requirements of this chapter. Furthermore the federal job training partnership act, P.L. 97-300, charges the state administering agency and private industry councils with the responsibility of coordinating the employment and training system in the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Department' means the employment security department.

(2) 'State council' means the Washington state job training coordinating council.

(3) 'Training and retraining' means any education or skill training activity that is needed by an individual to begin or continue full participation in the Washington workforce.

(4) 'Employment and training system' includes agencies and institutions of elementary and secondary education, community colleges, vocational technical institutes, higher education, adult education, apprenticeship programs, employment training and retraining, vocational education, the public employment service and unemployment insurance system, and private and public nonprofit organizations that provide job training services, including programs authorized under the federal job training partnership act, P.L. 97-300.

(5) 'Dislocated worker' means individuals who:

(a) Have been terminated or laid off or have received a notice of termination or layoff from employment, are eligible for or have exhausted their entitlement to unemployment compensation, and are unlikely to return to their previous industry or occupation;

(b) Have been terminated or have received a notice of termination of employment as a result of any permanent closure of or any substantial layoff at a plant, facility, or enterprise;

(c) Are long-term unemployed and have limited opportunities for employment or reemployment in the same or a similar occupation in the area in which they reside, including older individuals who may have substantial barriers to employment by reason of age; or

(d) Were self-employed (including farmers and ranchers) and are unemployed as a result of general economic condition in the community in which they reside or because of natural disasters.

Sec. 3. Section 1, chapter 181, Laws of 1984 and RCW 50.04.075 are each amended to read as follows:

DISLOCATED WORKER DEFINITION. 'Dislocated worker' means ~~((any))~~ individuals who:

~~(1) ((Has been terminated or received a notice of termination from employment;~~

~~(2) is eligible for or has exhausted entitlement to unemployment compensation benefits; and~~

(4) Job training services and entrepreneurial training for those participants who without such training would be unable to obtain unsubsidized employment within a reasonable period of time;

(5) Basic and remedial education for those participants whose deficiency is a barrier to necessary job skills training;

(6) Job placement services for participants completing training programs; and

(7) Specialized employment placement assistance, where appropriate, for individuals whose access to services is limited due to physical disabilities but who are otherwise eligible for services.

Economically disadvantaged women and minorities shall be served with federal job training partnership act funds, with respect to Title I and Title II of the act, at a rate that approximates their rate of representation and need for job training among the economically disadvantaged within each service delivery area.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 16. SERVICE DELIVERY AREA PLAN—PUBLIC REVIEW AND COMMENT—APPROVAL OF PLAN. A service delivery area plan shall be prepared in accordance with an agreement or agreements between the local private industry council and the chief elected official or officials in the service delivery area. In selecting services or facilities for training, existing services and community facilities shall be utilized to the fullest extent possible.

The consortium shall conform to the provisions of this chapter. The state council and the employment security department shall give full cooperation and assistance in assuring the effective, efficient formulation and operation of the consortium.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 18. ELIGIBILITY—PRIORITIES. In the event that available funding is not sufficient to provide the full range of services authorized under this chapter to persons eligible for such services, the state council shall establish criteria to be used in service delivery areas in determining both of the following:

- (1) The priority order among eligible persons for access to services; and
- (2) The priority order among the types of services to be provided.

The criteria shall provide sufficient flexibility in order that local service delivery area plans can respond to the needs of eligible groups for programs developed in response to local conditions.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 19. EMPLOYMENT SECURITY—COORDINATION OF PLANS—PLAN FOR INFORMATION SYSTEM. The employment security department shall assure that the services and resources provided by its various networks, systems, and functions are fully supportive of the service delivery areas.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 20. DISLOCATED WORKER ASSISTANCE PROGRAM. The employment security department shall establish a dislocated workers assistance program consistent with the requirements of Title III of the federal job training partnership act, P.L. 97-300, as amended. The program will have the capability to respond rapidly, on site, to permanent closures and substantial layoffs throughout the state to assess the need for, and initially to provide for, appropriate basic readjustment services.

The program shall:

(1) Make appropriate retraining and basic readjustment services available to eligible dislocated workers through the use of rapid response teams, substate grantees, and other appropriate organizations;

- (2) Work with employers and labor organizations in promoting labor-management cooperation to achieve the goals of this chapter and the federal job training partnership act;
- (3) Operate a monitoring, reporting, and management system which provides an adequate information base for effective program management, review, and evaluation;
- (4) Exchange information and coordinate programs with other state agencies;
- (5) Disseminate throughout the state information on the availability of all state services and activities under this program; and
- (6) Integrate the delivery of services under the program with services or payments provided pursuant to Title II of the federal trade act of 1974.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 21. DISLOCATED WORKER PLAN. The dislocated workers assistance program shall be responsible for the development of a biennial state plan describing in detail the dislocated worker efforts that will be assisted with funds under this chapter and Title III of the job training partnership act. The dislocated worker plan shall be prepared in consultation with and subject to the approval of the state council. The dislocated worker plan shall be developed in conjunction with the state's coordination and special services plan prepared by the state council. The dislocated worker plan shall include:

- (1) Provisions sufficient to demonstrate that the department and the private industry councils will comply with the requirements of this chapter and Title III of the job training partnership act;
- (2) Incentives to provide training of greater duration for those who require it; and
- (3) Assurances that services will be provided only to eligible dislocated workers or displaced homemakers as provided in Title III of the job training partnership act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 22. SUBSTATE PLAN. The substate grantee designated in accordance with section 12(3) of this act shall be responsible for the preparation of a substate plan describing the manner in which the dislocated worker activities of the substate grantee will be conducted within the substate area. The substate grantee shall submit the substate plan to the governor for approval or modification. Prior to the submission to the governor, the plan shall be submitted to the state council for certification that the plan is consistent with criteria established by the state council and to the other parties to the agreement described in section 12(3) of this act for their review and comment.

The substate plan shall contain a statement of:

- (1) The mechanism the substate grantee will use for coordinating dislocated worker programs with the unemployment compensation system in the substate area;
- (2) A description of the methods by which the substate grantee will respond expeditiously to worker dislocation where the rapid response assistance required of the department's dislocated workers assistance program is inappropriate, including worker dislocation in sparsely populated areas; and
- (3) The means whereby coordination with other appropriate programs, services, and systems will be affected, particularly where such coordination is intended to provide access to the services of such other systems for program participants at no cost to the worker readjustment program.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 23. USE OF FUNDS FOR RETRAINING SERVICES. Not less than sixty percent of the funds provided for dislocated workers under Title III of the job training partnership act to a substate grantee shall be expended for training and retraining services. This requirement is subject to the waiver provision of the federal job training partnership act, P.L. 97-300. Training shall be in job skills for which demand exceeds supply.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 24. FUNDING FOR SERVICES. The funding for services authorized under this chapter is to be administered through:

- (1) Federal job training partnership act funds; and
- (2) Appropriate state and federal categorical funds for demonstration and special assistance programs.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 25. The legislature finds that the economy of Washington, like that of the nation, has shifted to an international economic arena. To meet this growing competition from other countries, businesses in the state need a skilled and flexible workforce. Because of the increased technical nature of the new jobs and the tightening of labor markets, employers will be hard pressed to find skilled workers to meet world market competition. Approximately eighty-five percent of the workforce for the year 2000 is already employed. Many of the workers currently employed will encounter problems adapting to the needs of the future labor market. A large share of the workers will need improved technical skills. Action is needed to retrain workers to keep up with emerging technology and to provide the necessary skills to workers reentering the workforce. To assist workers in need of skills and employers in need of skilled workers, an increase in training opportunities in the state is necessary.

The legislature further finds that by directing additional job training and retraining to those individuals who are recipients of unemployment insurance benefits, recent exhaustees of benefits, or employees who are soon likely to claim benefits due to economic dislocation, the state can reduce pressure on the unemployment insurance system and at the same time promote the economic development of the state.

(4) Contracts may include the cost of facilitating the applications of small businesses and groups of small businesses as part of the cost of providing training.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 33. Evaluation is an integral part of the Washington employment futures program and shall give useful, policy-relevant information about the effectiveness of program strategies and training provided in the program.

(1) Evaluation of the program shall be performed by the department in conjunction with a research organization with expertise in program analysis selected by the office of financial management. The role of the research organization shall be limited to assisting the department in setting evaluation parameters and verifying the department's analysis of the data. The evaluation shall have three major components:

- (a) An analysis of program implementation and operation with a focus on the linkages among the organizations providing services;

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The higher education coordinating board shall establish a planning committee to develop criteria for the screening and selection of recipients of the conditional scholarships. These criteria shall emphasize the student's proficiency in a Pacific Rim language and expressed intention to teach that language.

MOTION

Ms. Cantwell moved that the House do concur in the Senate amendments to House Bill No. 2129.

POINT OF ORDER

Ms. Belcher: I request a ruling on the scope and object of the Senate amendments to House Bill No. 2129.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker (Mr. Wang presiding): The Speaker has examined House Bill No. 2129, which is "an act relating to diverse cultures and languages." It establishes a state policy to welcome cultures. On the other hand, the Speaker has examined the amendments, and the amendments go considerably beyond that in terms of establishing a conditional scholarship program to be operated by the Higher Education Coordinating Board. The Speaker finds that your point of order is well taken and that the Senate amendments are beyond the scope and object of the bill.

MOTION

Ms. Cantwell moved that the House refuse to concur in the Senate amendments to House Bill No. 2129 and ask the Senate to recede therefrom. The motion was carried.

JOSEPH E. KING, Speaker

MORNING SESSION

House Chamber, Olympia, Monday, April 24, 1989

The House was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by the Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding). The Clerk called the roll and all members were present except Representatives Basich, Baugher, Beck, Braddock, Chandler, Ferguson, Gallagher, Haugen, Inslee, Locke, Miller, Moyer, Raiter, Schmidt, Sprenkle, Walk, Wineberry and Zellinsky. On motion of Ms. Cole, Representatives Basich, Baugher, Braddock, Gallagher, Haugen, Inslee, Locke, Raiter, Sprenkle, Walk and Zellinsky were excused. On motion of Mr. D. Sommers, Representatives Beck, Chandler, Ferguson, Miller, Moyer and Schmidt were excused.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms Color Guard, Pages Tracy Alsup and Jennifer Boyd. Prayer was offered by The Reverend Ronald Gadde, Minister of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church of Olympia:

Lord God, it is so easy to look around and say, "It's his fault; it's her fault." This morning, on the radio, one of the legislators was quoted as blaming these extra days on the deliberation of the Governor. Others have been heard to say, "It's the Democrats' fault; it's the Republicans' fault." Why is it, Lord, that we can't stand on our own two feet? Why is it that we always blame someone else when we don't get our own way? I guess, God, we could blame You. You created us.

Lord God, as the second day of the new week begins and as the extra session of deliberations begins, help these men and women as they deal with the issues at hand. Help them to use this time, not as a time to cast disparaging remarks or to blame, but as a time to work together for the good of all. Help them to be open to each other and understanding of each other, so that together they can bring these days to a beneficial end. Help them to put aside petty differences and political jealousies, as the needs of people are brought before them. Lord God, guide the deliberations of this legislative body, so that this day can be experienced in its fullness.

I'd like to leave you with a thought: "Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today. There may be a law against it by that time." Have a wonderful day.

CENTENNIAL MESSAGE
FROM THE WASHINGTON STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

April 24, 1989

On this day in 1889, Blaine in Whatcom County unanimously decided to incorporate as a town. The Blaine Improvement Company, which intended to spend twenty thousand dollars for building in the next few months, began driving piles with a steam pile-driver.

And, the Grand Army of the Republic, the organization of veterans who fought in the Civil War for the North, met in Spokane.

On April 24, 1985 Arlo Guthrie sang his father's Bonneville Power Administration tune, "Roll on, Columbia," before three hundred legislators and fans on the State Capitol steps. Woody Guthrie had been paid two hundred and seventy dollars for the song, originally. The Legislature was considering a bill to make "Louie, Louie" the state song.

CENTENNIAL MESSAGE
FROM THE WASHINGTON STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

May 1, 1989

On this day in 1889, a settler in the Nooksack Valley complained that there were too many bachelors around. "My chief reasons for going," said a man who left, "are a scarcity of grub and a lack of women."

And, new customs officials took office in Port Townsend, as the new national Republican administration replaced Democrats. The new Deputy Collector of Customs, Frank McKee, was the brother-in-law of President Benjamin Harrison's son.

On May 1, 1909 an early forest ranger called a forest guard, named C. C. McGuire, began to do a typical piece of his work. For three hundred dollars, he repaired a sixteen-mile-long North Cascades trail, including building a sixty-foot bridge. He took beans, bacon, a badge, tools, and a how-to-do-it book and finished the job in four days.

On May 1, 1918 the IWW newspaper, The Industrial Worker, greeted the Socialist holiday, May Day, at its own peak of influence in the Northwest by addressing the bosses: "The songs we sing are not the songs of race or creed. They sound the might of a class. We are confined to no country, no flag. Our songs herald your overflow.... We are revolt. We are progress. We are revolution."

On this day in 1950 Olympia began its centennial celebration, lasting until May 7, with a parade, a carnival, a golf tournament, and a relay race.

And, on this day in 1967, the Boeing 747 assembly plant in Everett opened. At two hundred million cubic feet, it was the largest aircraft assembly plant in the world and would be expanded by eighty-five cubic feet in the future. Assembly work on the 747 began in September.

Public school building construction: 1989 (90-2-001)

The appropriation in this section is subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) A maximum of $1,050,000 may be spent for state administration of school construction funding.

(2) $66,136,000 is provided solely for modernization projects approved by the state board of education.

(3) The appropriation in this section includes proceeds of the issuance of bonds authorized for deposit in the common school construction fund by chapter 3, Laws of 1987 1st ex. sess., and ten million dollars in additional state bonds authorized by chapter ____, Laws of 1989 (HB ____). Of the proceeds of bonds authorized by chapter ____, Laws of 1989 (HB ____), $8,000,000, or as much thereof as may be necessary, shall be compensation to the common school construction fund for the sale of timber from common school trust lands sold to the parks and recreation commission pursuant to RCW 43.51.270, and authorized for sale by the legislature prior to January 1, 1989.

(4) If Initiative 102 is not enacted by December 31, 1989, or if Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5352 as enacted does not contain a transfer of $45,000,000 from the children's initiative fund—K-12 education account to the common school construction fund, $45,000,000 of this appropriation shall lapse.

(5) The state board shall review current rules and administrative procedures, and shall amend or revise these rules and procedures to address the following concerns:

(a) The discrepancy between the forecasted enrollments used for determining state funding for school construction, and the state-wide growth trends predicted by the office of financial management;

(b) The infrequency of cooperative use of surplus space available in neighboring districts;

(c) The creation of new construction needs by school districts by selling or demolishing schools, or by redesignating grade space or administrative use of school buildings;

(d) The incentive to condemn useable schools to secure state funding, rather than awaiting uncertain support for modernization;

(e) Greater needs for replacement of decaying schools caused by deferral of modernization, at a higher long-term cost to the state and local districts;

(f) The potential of district boundary changes for the purpose of achieving more efficient use of facilities; and

(g) The potential of the state to recover its share of the value of sold school buildings that were built with state matching moneys.

Prior to September 15, 1989, the state board of education shall report to the capital facilities and financing committee of the house of representatives and the ways and means committee of the senate on the actions taken or rules adopted by the board to address these concerns.

Common school disbursement limit

The appropriations in sections 701 through 708 of this act are subject to the following conditions and limitations: A maximum of $276,890,000 from the total of these appropriations may be disbursed during the 1989-91 biennium. If Initiative 102 is not enacted by December 31, 1989, or if Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5352 as enacted does not contain a transfer of $45,000,000 from the children's initiative fund—K-12 education account to the common school construction fund, the amount provided under this subsection shall be reduced to $231,890,000.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 710. FOR THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

School housing emergencies

The appropriation in this section is subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) This appropriation is provided solely to provide portable classrooms for school districts that have experienced an unanticipated school housing emergency. Portable classrooms provided under this section shall be leased by the superintendent of public instruction to school districts at fair market rates, and the lease payments shall be deposited into the common school construction fund. School districts may qualify for assistance under this section only as a result of events barring students from occupying a school or a portion of a school, and portables shall not be provided under this section to address needs attributable to enrollment growth. The superintendent of public instruction shall provide assistance to a school district under this section only if satisfied that the district has considered other available options and that portable classrooms are the most feasible solution to school housing needs.

(2) Districts receiving assistance under this section shall submit a plan to replace or reopen their closed facilities prior to the end of the lease period, and shall certify that local levy funds or other resources are available and adequate to complete the plan and meet all terms of the lease.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 904. FOR THE ARTS COMMISSION—ART WORK ALLOWANCE
POOLING

The appropriations in this act are subject to the following conditions and limitations: One-half of one percent of moneys appropriated in this act are provided solely for the purposes of RCW 28A.58.055, 28B.10.027, and 43.17.200.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 905. The amounts shown under the headings 'Prior Biennia,' 'Future Biennia,' and 'Total' in this act are for informational purposes only and do not constitute legislative approval of these amounts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 906. 'Reappropriations' in this act are appropriations and are subject to the relevant conditions and limitations applicable to appropriations. Reappropriations shall be limited to the unexpended balances remaining June 30, 1989, in the current appropriation for each project.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 907. To carry out the provisions of this act, the governor may assign responsibility for planning, engineering, construction, and other related activities to any appropriate agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 908. In order to provide for consistent and comparable asbestos survey data, and to ensure that the chain-of-evidence requirements for asbestos samples and survey data are met in regard to pending asbestos manufacturer litigation:

(1) No state agency shall expend new funds appropriated in the 1989-91 biennium for asbestos surveys prior to approval by the department of general administration of the agency's asbestos survey policies and procedures. At the completion of each survey, state agencies shall submit the findings to the department in a format to be determined by the department.

(2) The department of general administration shall distribute to all state agencies chain-of-evidence requirements, as developed by the department and the office of the attorney general. State agencies expending appropriated funds for asbestos survey and abatement projects shall make every effort to conform with chain-of-evidence requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 909. As part of the annual six-year update to the State Facilities and Capital Plan, agencies shall provide information on lease development projects to the office of financial management.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 910. If any federal moneys appropriated by this act for capital projects are not received by the state, the department or agency to which the moneys were appropriated may replace the federal moneys with any moneys available from private or local sources. No replacement may occur under this section without the prior approval of the director of financial management in consultation with the committees on ways and means of the senate and house of representatives.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 911. Any appropriation in this act that involves appropriated and non-appropriated funds shall comply with RCW 43.88.150. The office of financial management shall report to the legislature by January 1990 all instances where compliance with RCW 43.88.155 has delayed or precluded the completion of any capital project included in this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 912. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, for the 1989-91 biennium, transfers of reimbursement by the state treasurer to the general fund from the community college capital projects account for debt service payments made under the provisions of Title 28B RCW shall occur only after such debt service payment has been made and only to the extent that funds are actually available in the account. Any unpaid reimbursements shall be a continuing obligation against the community college capital projects account until paid. The state board for community college education need not accumulate any specific balance in the community college capital projects account in anticipation of transfers to reimburse the general fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 913. Any capital improvements or capital project involving construction or major expansion of a state office facility, including district headquarters, detachment offices, and off-campus faculty offices, shall be reviewed by the department of general administration for possible consolidation and compliance with state office standards prior to allotment of funds. The intent of the requirement imposed by this section is to eliminate duplication and reduce total office space requirements where feasible, while ensuring proper service to the public.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 914. The governor, through the director of financial management, may authorize a transfer of appropriation authority provided for a capital project which is in excess of the amount required for the completion of such project to another capital project for which the appropriation is insufficient. No such transfer shall be used to expand the capacity of any facility beyond that intended by the legislature in making the appropriation. Such transfers may be effected only between capital appropriations to a specific department, commission, agency, or institution of higher education and only between capital projects which are funded from the same fund or account.

For the purposes of this section, the governor may find that an amount is in excess of the amount required for the completion of a project only if (1) the project as defined in the notes to the budget document is substantially complete and there are funds remaining or (2) bids have been let on a project and it appears to a substantial certainty that the project as defined in the notes to the budget document can be completed within the biennium for less than the amount appropriated herein.

For the purposes of this section, the legislature intends that each project be defined as proposed to the legislature in the governor's budget document, unless it clearly appears from the legislative history that the legislature intended to define the scope of a project in a different way.

A report of any transfer effected under this section shall be filed with the legislative fiscal committees of the senate and house of representatives by the director of financial management within thirty days of the date the transfer is effected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 915. (1) The legislature finds:

(a) Estimates of capital project costs are prepared in a manner to ensure sufficient funds are available for the completion of projects.

(b) Actual project costs are influenced by variations in cost factors, changing unit price levels, available inventories, inflation rates, gross construction volume at the time of project bid, and other factors that cannot be predicted at the time of estimating capital project costs.

(c) Due to funding limitations, necessary capital projects are deferred to ensuing biennia.

(d) The deferral of capital projects results in increased project costs due to the effects of inflation and increased deterioration of facilities.

(e) No statutory authority currently exists to allow project cost savings to be used to implement necessary capital projects that were deferred to ensuing biennia due to lack of funds.

(2) There is hereby authorized a capital projects cost control incentive program for the 1989-91 biennium.

(3) Appropriations not required by an agency to complete capital projects authorized in this act, may be expended to implement, in priority sequence, those capital projects of the agency listed in the Governor's Six-Year Capital and Facility Plan for the 1991-93 Biennium, as that list exists in the Governor's final 1990 update of the six-year plan. Expenditures under this section are subject to the following conditions:

(a) No expenditure may be made without the prior allotment approval of the office of financial management.

(b) The office of financial management shall notify the senate and house ways and means committees prior to authorizing any project for implementation under this section.

(c) No project may be authorized under this section by the office of financial management unless sufficient funds are available to complete a project's design phase, construction phase, or both.

(d) Appropriations in this act for a capital project shall not be expended under this section unless:

(i) All contracts associated with the performance of the project have been completed and accepted by the state of Washington;

(ii) The statutory thirty-day lien period for each project has expired;

(iii) All claims of lien against project contracts have been satisfied;

(iv) There are no outstanding claims against the state of Washington by any contracted party to the project construction contract; and

(v) Any and all negotiated settlements or settlements arising from the findings of an arbitration board or court of jurisdiction have been satisfied.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 916. The department of information services will act as lead agency in coordinating video telecommunications services for state agencies. As lead agency, the department shall develop standards and common specifications for leased and purchased telecommunications equipment and assist state agencies in developing a video telecommunications expenditure plan. No agency may spend any portion of any appropriation in this act for new video telecommunication equipment, new video telecommunication transmission, or new video telecommunication programming, or for expanding current video telecommunication systems without first complying with chapter 43.105 RCW, including but not limited to RCW 43.105.041(2), and without first submitting a video telecommunications expenditure plan, in accordance with the policies of the department of information services, for review and assessment by the department of information services under RCW 43.105.052. Prior to any such expenditure by a public school, a video telecommunications expenditure plan shall be approved by the superintendent of public instruction. The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall coordinate the use of video telecommunications in public schools by providing educational information to local school districts and shall assist local school districts and educational service districts in telecommunications planning and curriculum development. Prior to any such expenditure by a public institution of postsecondary education, a telecommunications expenditure plan shall be approved by the higher education coordinating board. The higher education coordinating board shall coordinate the use of video telecommunications for instruction and instructional support in postsecondary education, including the review and approval of instructional telecommunications course offerings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 917. To ensure that major construction projects are carried out in accordance with legislative and executive intent, capital projects for renovation or additional space contained in this act that exceed two million five hundred thousand dollars for which a program document is not completed prior to September 1, 1988, shall not expend funds for planning and construction until the office of financial management has reviewed the agency's programmatic document and approved continuation of the project. The program document shall include but not be limited to projected workload, site conditions, user requirements, current space available, and an overall budget and cost estimate breakdown.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 918. The appropriations contained in this act are maximum expenditure authorizations. Pursuant to RCW 43.88.037, moneys disbursed from the treasury on the basis of a formalized loan agreement with another governmental entity shall be treated as a loan and are to be recorded as loans receivable and not as expenditures for accounting purposes. To the extent that moneys are disbursed on a loan basis, the corresponding appropriation shall be reduced by the amount of loan moneys disbursed from the treasury during the 1989-91 biennium.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 919. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 920. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "capital budget;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "making appropriations and authorizing expenditures for capital improvements; authorizing certain projects; and declaring an emergency."

Mr. Nelson moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

"(1) On and after the effective day of this act, no moneys from this appropriation (a reappropriation) may be expended for grants that have received moneys from prior legislative appropriations and that are for solid waste incinerator projects with an expected value exceeding fifty million dollars."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Day: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like a ruling on the scope and object of this amendment.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Day, the Speaker has examined Substitute Senate Bill No. 5521 which is, as you all know, the capital budget and the amendment by Representative Nelson. The amendment simply limits where we can spend some of that money. It may or may not be a good idea to have this kind of proviso, but I find that it is within the scope and object of the original bill. It perfects, rather than broadens, the scope. I find that your point is not well taken, Representative Day.

Representatives Nelson and Sprinkle spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the committee amendment, and Representatives D. Sommers and H. Sommers opposed it.

Ms. K. Wilson demanded an electric roll call vote, and the demand was not sustained.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Representative Nelson to the committee amendment.

A division was called. The Speaker called upon the House to divide. The result of the division was: Yeas - 12; Nays - 82. The amendment to the committee amendment was not adopted.

Mr. Padden moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Padden and Wolfe to the committee amendment:

On page 40, beginning on line 31 of the amendment, insert the following:

"(3) Any recipient of a grant from this appropriation valued over fifty million dollars for a solid waste incinerator project shall take all lawful steps to ensure that the county in which the grant project is located and the primary city served by the project each holds an advisory election at which its voters may approve or disapprove of the project."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Moyer: I ask for a ruling on the scope and object of this amendment.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Moyer, the Speaker has looked at the capital budget, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5521, and the amendment. While this is a closer call than the previous ruling, the subject is basically the same. What this amendment does is condition the release of the money included in the capital budget appropriation. Again, I find that it perfects, rather than broadens, the scope of the original bill. It simply is another proviso or provision on how that money would be released, just as if we were conditioning it by offering that the local community must match the money. It is the same type of amendment, so I find that your point is not well taken, that the amendment is within the scope and object of the original bill.

Representatives Padden and Wolfe spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the committee amendment, and Representatives Dellwo, D. Sommers and Moyer opposed it. Mr. Padden again spoke in favor of the amendment to the committee amendment.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Representatives Padden and Wolfe to the committee amendment.

A division was called. The Speaker called upon the House to divide. The result of the division was: Yeas - 22; Nays - 71. The amendment to the committee amendment was not adopted.

Mr. May moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives May, Crane, Wineberry, Miller, Horn, Holland, Van Luven, Ferguson, Wang, Nelson and Anderson to the committee amendment:

On page 22, after line 39 of the amendment, insert:

CENTENNIAL MESSAGE

May 6, 1989

On this day in 1889, the Merchants Bank of Port Townsend was incorporated, replacing the Clapp & Fuerbach private bank, which dissolved the same day. C. F. Clapp became president of the new bank, which had a capital of seventy-five thousand dollars. In the 1880s, corporations generally replaced private banks.

And, citizens of Aberdeen were described as fully understanding how factories could bring prosperity and were "ready to make the most liberal concessions" to prospective factory owners who would build in the city.

And, at Port Townsend, tugboat crews struck for higher pay. Engineers wanted a raise from one hundred and twenty-five dollars to one hundred and fifty dollars a month; firemen wanted a raise from forty-five dollars to fifty dollars. Some tugboat owners agreed to the new scale.

On May 6, 1928 people in the Grays Harbor area turned out to raise an aircraft hangar, a modern adaptation of the traditional barn raising.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Ms. Fraser: Mr. Speaker, as the session winds down, I would like to say that I have heard from many members of the House, staff and others, who come to this area for the legislative session, that they have enjoyed being here in such a friendly and lovely community. I have also received comments from people in the capital area that they take a great deal of pride in being the host community for the State Legislature. We have copies on our desks this morning of an expression of friendship and appreciation from citizens of our local community and community leaders of our local government. I hope you will take some time to read it. It was prepared by four local governments and six community organizations. I think anybody here, who has organized anything like this, knows the complexity and perseverance it takes to put together a resolution of this type, and I think that it shows the true spirit of friendship and the strong sentiment that comes from the local area to the Legislature. I would appreciate it very much, if this message from the local community could be read.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) requested that the Clerk read the following resolution:

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, The Washington State Legislature's annual session is this community's most important meeting of lawmakers, staff and thousands of citizens from across the state, who visit our beautiful area to participate in and experience the process of government; and

WHEREAS, The members of the Washington State Legislature represent the most significant visitor group of the State Capital communities during these sessions, work weekends and other special occasions requiring their attendance throughout the year in our communities; and

WHEREAS, The legislators, staff, state workers and citizen visitors have a positive impact on our local economy; and

WHEREAS, We, who represent the State Capital communities, appreciate the recognition and benefits the Legislature brings to our communities;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the leaders and representatives of these State Capital communities shall continue to welcome the Legislature and citizen visitors; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the leaders and representatives of the State Capital communities will do whatever is possible to ensure a comfortable, productive, enjoyable and rewarding stay in these communities, so that legislators will be proud to adopt these State Capital communities as their "home away from home;" and

For the purposes of this tax, it shall be presumed that the occupancy of real property for a continuous period of one month or more constitutes a rental or lease of real property and not a mere license to use or to enjoy the same.

(2) Any seller, as defined in RCW 82.08.010, who is required to collect any tax under this section shall pay over such tax to the city as provided in RCW 67.28.200. The deduction from state taxes under RCW 67.28.190 does not apply to taxes imposed under this section.

(3) The tax authorized in subsection (1) of this section is in addition to any other tax authorized by law.

(4) All taxes levied and collected under this section shall be credited to a special fund in the treasury of the city. Such taxes shall be levied only for fine arts activities including the operation, maintenance, construction, repair or renovation of facilities.

(5) No more than ten percent of the monies received from the taxes imposed under this section may be used for construction, repair, or renovation of facilities.

(6) The city council of any city authorized to impose a tax under this section may establish reasonable exemptions and may adopt such reasonable rules and regulations as may be necessary for the levy and collection of the tax authorized under this section. The department of revenue shall perform the collection of such taxes on behalf of such city at no cost to the city."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Padden: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would ask for a ruling on scope and object of this amendment.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Padden, the Speaker has examined Reengrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6074 and the amendment offered by Representative Braddock. Reengrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6074 deals with the formation of public facilities districts and the taxing authority of these districts. The amendment offered by Representative Braddock pertains to cities and counties and expanding the local hotel/motel tax. I find that the amendment does not perfect, but expands the original scope of the bill. I find that your point is well taken, that the amendment is outside the scope and object of the bill.

(1) From time to time, but at least once each year, the state treasurer shall refund from the motor vehicle fund one percent of the motor vehicle fuel tax revenues collected under chapter 82.36 RCW under the tax rate in effect on January 1, 1989, and five-tenths of one percent of the motor vehicle fuel tax revenues from any increase in the tax imposed after that date, less proper deductions for refunds and costs of collection as provided in RCW 46.68.090. The treasurer shall place these funds in the general fund as follows:

(d) Fifty-four and one-half percent, together with the funds received by the interagency committee for outdoor recreation under RCW 46.09.110, shall be credited to the outdoor recreation account to be administered by the committee for planning, acquisition, development, maintenance, and management of ORV recreation facilities and nonhighway road recreation facilities; ORV user education and information; and ORV law enforcement programs. The department shall establish a highway heritage program to preserve Washington's unique scenic character along highway corridors and provide travelers with a continuing opportunity to appreciate and obtain information regarding unique natural, cultural, and historic features near or accessible by highways. Through this program, the department may:

Funds may be used for directional signs on county roads and city streets to supplement signs on highways, at the request of the city or county. This subsection does not affect any other statute governing signs.

(3) Work with public and private land owners, local governments, and private organizations and associations to achieve the purposes of this section without land acquisition.

(4) Work with the parks and recreation commission to identify projects and establish priorities for expenditure of funds under this program. The commission shall be reimbursed for any expenses incurred.

The program shall give priority to heavily traveled corridors where the potential for loss of unique natural scenic areas is greatest and to newly established corridors.

CENTENNIAL MESSAGE

May 8, 1989

On this day in 1889, a newspaper reported that the four salmon canneries at Grays Harbor had produced fifty thousand cases in the past year with harbor production increasing. The author invited entrepreneurs to extend the business into canning clams: "Clams, millions of 'em, are ready for the enterprising man." Even caviar canning, the author claimed, would be profitable because of the abundant sturgeon.

And, logs were so big--sixty inches square at the top--that mill workers in Tacoma had to split them to make them small enough to pass through the machinery.

On May 8, 1917, in Seattle, the Lake Washington Ship Canal opened for navigation.

On May 8, 1963 bids were opened on the largest revenue bond issue in the Northwest up to that time--one hundred and twenty-two million dollars to finance the Hanford Project, involving the Washington Public Power Supply System.

(1) A maximum of $1,050,000 may be spent for state administration of school construction funding.
(2) $66,136,000 is provided solely for modernization projects previously approved by the state board of education.
(3) The appropriation in this section includes proceeds of the issuance of bonds authorized for deposit in the common school construction fund by chapter 3, Laws of 1987 1st ex. sess., and ten million dollars in additional state bonds authorized by chapter ____, Laws of 1989 (HB 1484). Of the proceeds of bonds authorized by chapter ____, Laws of 1989 (HB 1484), $8,000,000, or as much thereof as may be necessary, shall be compensation to the common school construction fund for the sale of timber from common school trust lands sold to the parks and recreation commission pursuant to RCW 43.51.270, and authorized for sale by the legislature prior to January 1, 1989.
(4) The state board shall review current rules and administrative procedures, and shall amend or revise these rules and procedures to address the following concerns:
(a) The discrepancy between the forecasted enrollments used for determining state funding for school construction, and the state-wide growth trends predicted by the office of financial management;
(b) The infrequency of cooperative use of surplus space available in neighboring districts;
(c) The creation of new construction needs by school districts by selling or demolishing schools, or by redesignating grade space or administrative use of school buildings;
(d) The incentive to condemn useable schools to secure state funding, rather than awaiting uncertain support for modernization;
(e) Greater needs for replacement of decaying schools caused by deferral of modernization, at a higher long-term cost to the state and local districts;
(f) The potential of district boundary changes for the purpose of achieving more efficient use of facilities; and
(g) The potential of the state to recover its share of the value of sold school buildings that were built with state matching moneys.
Prior to September 15, 1989, the state board of education shall report to the capital facilities and financing committee of the house of representatives and the ways and means committee of the senate on the actions taken or rules adopted by the board to address these concerns.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 709. FOR THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

School housing emergencies

The appropriation in this section is subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) This appropriation is provided solely to provide portable classrooms for school districts that have experienced an unanticipated school housing emergency. Portable classrooms provided under this section shall be leased by the superintendent of public instruction to school districts, and the lease payments shall be deposited into the common school construction fund. School districts may qualify for assistance under this section only as a result of events barring students from occupying a school or a portion of a school, and portables shall not be provided under this section to address needs attributable to enrollment growth. The superintendent of public instruction shall provide assistance to a school district under this section only if satisfied that the district has considered other available options and that portable classrooms are the most feasible solution to school housing needs.

(2) Districts receiving assistance under this section shall submit a plan to replace or reopen their closed facilities prior to the end of the lease period, and shall certify that resources are available to meet all terms of the lease.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the term 'lease' includes a lease with option to purchase.

(2) The advisory committee shall consist of the following persons who shall be appointed by and serve at the pleasure of the governor:

POOLING

The appropriations in this act are subject to the following conditions and limitations: One-half of one percent of moneys appropriated in this act are provided solely for the purposes of RCW 28A.58.055, 28B.10.027, and 43.17.200.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 905. The amounts shown under the headings 'Prior Biennia,' 'Future Biennia,' and 'Total' in this act are for informational purposes only and do not constitute legislative approval of these amounts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 906. 'Reappropriations' in this act are appropriations and, unless the context clearly provides otherwise, are subject to the relevant conditions and limitations applicable to appropriations. Reappropriations shall be limited to the unexpended balances remaining June 30, 1989, in the current appropriation for each project.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 907. To carry out the provisions of this act, the governor may assign responsibility for planning, engineering, construction, and other related activities to any appropriate agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 908. In order to provide for consistent and comparable asbestos survey data, and to ensure that the chain-of-evidence requirements for asbestos samples and survey data are met in regard to pending asbestos manufacturer litigation:

(1) No state agency shall expend new funds appropriated in the 1989-91 biennium for asbestos surveys prior to approval by the department of general administration of the agency's asbestos survey policies and procedures. At the completion of each survey, state agencies shall submit the findings to the department in a format to be determined by the department.

(2) The department of general administration shall distribute to all state agencies chain-of-evidence requirements, as developed by the department and the office of the attorney general. State agencies expending appropriated funds for asbestos survey and abatement projects shall make every effort to conform with chain-of-evidence requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 909. (1) The office of financial management shall coordinate the efforts of the department of natural resources, the department of social and health services, and the department of general administration to inventory and record all lands and other capital assets acquired or dedicated for the care of blind or deaf or otherwise disabled youth, for juvenile offenders, and for persons who are mentally ill or developmentally disabled. The inventory shall be completed by December 15, 1989.

(2) The legislature intends to contract with an independent consultant to identify strategies for more aggressive management of these lands and facilities to maximize the funds acquired through the use of these lands.

(3) No land or other capital assets described in this section may be sold, given, traded, or encumbered by a new or renewed agreement for any period of time beyond June 30, 1991, unless such agreement is specifically authorized by the legislature.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 910. As part of the annual six-year update to the State Facilities and Capital Plan, agencies shall provide information on lease development and lease purchase projects to the office of financial management.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 911. If any federal moneys appropriated by this act for capital projects are not received by the state, the department or agency to which the moneys were appropriated may replace the federal moneys with any moneys available from private or local sources. No replacement may occur under this section without the prior approval of the director of financial management in consultation with the committees on ways and means of the senate and house of representatives.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 912. Any appropriation in this act that involves appropriated and non-appropriated funds shall comply with RCW 43.88.150. The office of financial management shall report to the legislature by January 1990 all instances where compliance with RCW 43.88.150 has delayed or precluded the completion of any capital project included in this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 913. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, for the 1989-91 biennium, transfers of reimbursement by the state treasurer to the general fund from the community college capital projects account for debt service payments made under the provisions of Title 28B RCW shall occur only after such debt service payment has been made and only to the extent that funds are actually available in the account. Any unpaid reimbursements shall be a continuing obligation against the community college capital projects account until paid. The state board for community college education need not accumulate any specific balance in the community college capital projects account in anticipation of transfers to reimburse the general fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 914. State agencies, departments, and institutions moving into new or existing office space or other facilities shall, if practical and feasible, make use of the agencies' existing furnishings and equipment and shall minimize purchases of new furnishings and equipment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 915. State agencies, departments, and institutions receiving appropriations under this act for unanticipated or emergency repairs shall submit to the fiscal committees of the legislature by January 2, 1990, a description of each expenditure made from the appropriation during the prior eighteen months.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 916. Any capital improvements or capital project involving construction or major expansion of a state office facility, including district headquarters, detachment offices, and off-campus faculty offices, shall be reviewed by the department of general administration for possible consolidation and compliance with state office standards prior to allotment of funds. The intent of the requirement imposed by this section is to eliminate duplication and reduce total office space requirements where feasible, while ensuring proper service to the public.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 917. The governor, through the director of financial management, may authorize a transfer of appropriation authority provided for a capital project which is in excess of the amount required for the completion of such project to another capital project for which the appropriation is insufficient. No such transfer shall be used to expand the capacity of any facility beyond that intended by the legislature in making the appropriation. Such transfers may be effected only between capital appropriations to a specific department, commission, agency, or institution of higher education and only between capital projects which are funded from the same fund or account.

For the purposes of this section, the governor may find that an amount is in excess of the amount required for the completion of a project only if (1) the project as defined in the notes to the budget document is substantially complete and there are funds remaining or (2) bids have been let on a project and it appears to a substantial certainty that the project as defined in the notes to the budget document can be completed within the biennium for less than the amount appropriated herein.

For the purposes of this section, the legislature intends that each project be defined as proposed to the legislature in the governor's budget document, unless it clearly appears from the legislative history that the legislature intended to define the scope of a project in a different way.

A report of any transfer effected under this section shall be filed with the legislative fiscal committees of the senate and house of representatives by the director of financial management within thirty days of the date the transfer is effected.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 918. (1) The legislature finds:

(a) Estimates of capital project costs are prepared in a manner to ensure sufficient funds are available for the completion of projects.

(b) Actual project costs are influenced by variations in cost factors, changing unit price levels, available inventories, inflation rates, gross construction volume at the time of project bid, and other factors that cannot be predicted at the time of estimating capital project costs.

(c) Due to funding limitations, necessary capital projects are deferred to ensuing biennia.

(d) The deferral of capital projects results in increased project costs due to the effects of inflation and increased deterioration of facilities.

(e) No statutory authority currently exists to allow project cost savings to be used to implement necessary capital projects that were deferred to ensuing biennia due to lack of funds.

(2) There is hereby authorized a capital projects cost control incentive program for the 1989-91 biennium.

(3) Appropriations not required by an agency to complete capital projects authorized in this act, may be expended to implement, in priority sequence, those capital projects of the agency listed in the Governor's Six-Year Capital and Facility Plan for the 1991-93 Biennium, as that list exists in the Governor's final 1990 update of the six-year plan. Expenditures under this section are subject to the following conditions:

(a) No expenditure may be made without the prior allotment approval of the office of financial management.

(b) The office of financial management shall notify the senate ways and means and the house capital facilities and financing committees prior to authorizing any project for implementation under this section.

(c) No project may be authorized under this section by the office of financial management unless sufficient funds are available to complete a project's design phase, construction phase, or both.

(d) Appropriations in this act for a capital project shall not be expended under this section unless:

(i) All contracts associated with the performance of the project have been completed and accepted by the state of Washington;

(ii) The statutory thirty-day lien period for each project has expired;

(iii) All claims of lien against project contracts have been satisfied;

(iv) There are no outstanding claims against the state of Washington by any contracted party to the project construction contract; and

(v) Any and all negotiated settlements or settlements arising from the findings of an arbitration board or court of jurisdiction have been satisfied.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 919. The department of information services will act as lead agency in coordinating video telecommunications services for state agencies. As lead agency, the department shall develop standards and common specifications for leased and purchased telecommunications equipment and assist state agencies in developing a video telecommunications expenditure plan. No agency may spend any portion of any appropriation in this act for new video telecommunication equipment, new video telecommunication transmission, or new video telecommunication programming, or for expanding current video telecommunication systems without first complying with chapter 43.105 RCW, including but not limited to RCW 43.105.041(2), and without first submitting a video telecommunications expenditure plan, in accordance with the policies of the department of information services, for review and assessment by the department of information services under RCW 43.105.052. Prior to any such expenditure by a public school, a video telecommunications expenditure plan shall be approved by the superintendent of public instruction. The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall submit the plans to the department of information services in a form prescribed by the department. The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall coordinate the use of video telecommunications in public schools by providing educational information to local school districts and shall assist local school districts and educational service districts in telecommunications planning and curriculum development. Prior to any such expenditure by a public institution of postsecondary education, a telecommunications expenditure plan shall be approved by the higher education coordinating board. The higher education coordinating board shall coordinate the use of video telecommunications for instruction and instructional support in postsecondary education, including the review and approval of instructional telecommunications course offerings.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 920. To ensure that major construction projects are carried out in accordance with legislative and executive intent, capital projects for renovation or additional space contained in this act that exceed two million five hundred thousand dollars for which a program document is not completed prior to September 1, 1988, shall not expend funds for planning and construction until the office of financial management has reviewed the agency's programmatic document and approved continuation of the project. The program document shall include but not be limited to projected workload, site conditions, user requirements, current space available, and an overall budget and cost estimate breakdown.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 921. The appropriations contained in this act are maximum expenditure authorizations. Pursuant to RCW 43.88.037, moneys disbursed from the treasury on the basis of a formalized loan agreement with another governmental entity shall be treated as a loan and are to be recorded as loans receivable and not as expenditures for accounting purposes. To the extent that moneys are disbursed on a loan basis, the corresponding appropriation shall be reduced by the amount of loan moneys disbursed from the treasury during the 1989-91 biennium.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 922. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 923. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL AND HEALTH SERVICES

(1) Appropriations made in this act to the department of social and health services shall initially be allotted as required by this act. Subsequent allotment modifications shall not include transfers of moneys between sections of this act except as expressly provided in this act, nor shall allotment modifications permit moneys that are provided solely for a specified purpose to be used for other than that purpose.

(2) The department of social and health services shall not initiate any services that will require expenditure of state general fund moneys unless expressly authorized in this act or other law, or unless the services were provided on March 1, 1989. The department may seek, receive, and spend, under RCW 43.79.260 through 43.79.282, federal moneys not anticipated in this act as long as the federal funding does not require expenditure of state moneys for the program in excess of amounts anticipated in this act. If the department receives unanticipated unrestricted federal moneys, except maternal and child health block grant moneys, those moneys shall be spent for services authorized in this act, and an equal amount of appropriated state general fund moneys shall lapse. As used in this subsection, 'unrestricted federal moneys' includes block grants and other funds that federal law does not require to be spent on explicitly defined projects or matched on a formula basis by state funds.

(3) The department of social and health services is authorized to expend federal funds made available by the federal immigration reform and control act, P.L. 99-603, for the purposes contained in that act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 202. GENERAL VENDOR RATE INCREASES

In granting the vendor rate increases funded by appropriations in sections 201 through 219 of this act which reference this section, the department may vary percentage increases among vendor groups. In order to determine the percentage increases for each vendor group, the department may consider the gap between the vendor group's costs or market rates and department rates, and the extent to which a disproportionate share of the vendor group's revenue or activity is dependent on department clients. The department shall ensure that the overall average rate increase on January 1, 1990, does not exceed three percent and that the average overall increase on January 1, 1991, does not exceed two percent. The department may transfer funds among appropriations for the purposes of this section. In no case may transfers out of a section exceed the amounts appropriated for the purposes of this section. This section does not apply to rates for hospitals and nursing homes reimbursed under chapter 74.46 RCW.

(i) It is the intent of the legislature to implement mental health reform on a multi-year schedule. Dramatic escalation of costs for new programs would impair the state's ability to proceed with subsequent expansion. The contracts shall contain a fiscal plan that will ensure that the increased cost of maintaining fiscal year 1991 programs in fiscal year 1992 will not unduly exceed the rate of inflation. Of the amounts provided in this subsection, a maximum of $500,000 from the general fund—state appropriation may be used for planning and technical assistance grants to counties or regions wishing to form networks. The amounts in this subsection include moneys needed to implement the federal omnibus budget and reconciliation act of 1987 ('OBRA'). First priority for necessary mental health services shall be given to individuals transferred from nursing homes because of OBRA. Such services shall be consistent with an individual's discharge plan and shall include residential services, if needed. Assumptions regarding the number of transfers from the nursing homes shall be incorporated into each contract and shall be consistent with the state-wide plan. The department shall coordinate OBRA transfers consistent with the provisions of each contract. The secretary shall negotiate contracts with networks from areas comprising no more than two-thirds of the state's population. Contracts shall be negotiated in at least two competitive rounds. The reimbursement rate per available bed-day shall not exceed $206 in fiscal year 1990 and $210 in fiscal year 1991. During the contract period, all eligible involuntary treatment referrals for Kitsap county residents shall be made to the project. No involuntary referrals shall be made to western state hospital unless the Kitsap residential treatment facility is filled to capacity and the mental health division and the Kitsap county mental health coordinator concur with the referral. Priority for referral to western state hospital shall be given to individuals under ninety-day or one hundred eighty-day commitments and individuals who have exhausted all community placement options.

(iii) The department may continue to contract directly with Chartley house until King county joins or becomes a regional support network.

(b) $2,000,000 of the general fund—state appropriation is provided solely for a mental health housing reserve. The secretary of social and health services shall transfer funds from the reserve to the state hospitals in any quarter in which hospital census exceeds the December 1988 forecast adjusted to eliminate the bed contract assumption. Any amount remaining after March 1991 may be used for one-time grants. In making grants, the secretary shall give priority to proposals that facilitate network development, demonstrate integration with other mental health services, and are designed to reduce involuntary treatment.

(c) $5,500,000 of the general fund—state appropriation is provided solely for increases for involuntary treatment act administration, including costs associated with involuntary medication hearings.

(d) $2,200,000 of the general fund—state appropriation is provided solely for information system requirements associated with chapter 205, Laws of 1989.

(9) For the purposes of RCW 84.52.0531, the increase per full time equivalent student in state basic education appropriations provided under this act, including appropriations for salary and benefits increases, is 6.07 percent from the 1988-89 school year to the 1989-90 school year, and 5.74 percent from the 1989-90 school year to the 1990-91 school year.

(b) For each school year, the funding provided under subsection (2)(a) of this section shall be based on a ratio of fifty-one certificated instructional staff per thousand students in kindergarten through grade three only if the district documents an actual ratio of at least fifty-one full time basic education certificated instructional staff per thousand full time equivalent students at those grade levels. For any school district documenting a lower ratio, the funding provided under this section shall be based on the district's actual K-3 ratio achieved in that school year, or the statutory minimum ratio established under RCW 28A.41.140(2)(c), if greater.

(c) School districts that had a ratio of fifty-one basic education certificated instructional staff per thousand students in kindergarten through grade three in the 1988-89 school year shall expend additional funding generated by the increase in staffing ratios provided in this section solely to improve staffing ratios in kindergarten through grade twelve.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 62. To maximize the use of motor vehicle fund revenues, it is the intent of the legislature to encourage sharing of technology, information, and systems where appropriate between transportation agencies.

To facilitate this exchange, the Washington state department of transportation assistant secretary for finance and budget management; Washington state department of transportation chief, management information systems; the Washington state patrol support services bureau deputy chief; Washington state patrol manager of the computer services division; the department of licensing deputy director and department of licensing assistant director for information systems will meet quarterly to share plans, discuss progress of key projects and to coordinate activities for the common good. Project status reports shall examine and evaluate project management, accomplishments, budget, action to address variances, risk management, cost and benefits analysis, and other aspects critical to completion of a project.

Work shall not commence on any task in a subsequent phase of a project until the status report for the preceding key decision point has been approved by the department of information services, the office of financial management, and the legislative transportation committee as appropriate.

REENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 6106, by Senator McDonald

Relating to social and health services.

Mr. Vekich moved adoption of the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. This act may be known and cited as the 'maternity care access act of 1989.'

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The legislature finds that Washington state and the nation as a whole have a high rate of infant illness and death compared with other industrialized nations. This is especially true for minority and low-income populations. Premature and low weight births have been directly linked to infant illness and death. The availability of adequate maternity care throughout the course of pregnancy has been identified as a major factor in reducing infant illness and death. Further, the investment in preventive health care programs, such as maternity care, contributes to the growth of a healthy and productive society and is a sound approach to health care cost containment. The legislature further finds that access to maternity care for low-income women in the state of Washington has declined significantly in recent years and has reached a crisis level.

(2) It is the purpose of this chapter to provide, consistent with appropriated funds, maternity care necessary to ensure healthy birth outcomes for low-income families. To this end, a maternity care access system is established based on the following principles:

(a) The family is the fundamental unit in our society and should be supported through public policy.

(b) Access to maternity care for eligible persons should be made readily available in an expeditious manner through a single service entry point.

(c) Unnecessary barriers to maternity care for eligible persons should be removed.

(d) Access to preventive and other health care services should be available for low-income children.

(e) Each woman should be encouraged to and assisted in making her own informed decisions about her maternity care.

(f) Unnecessary barriers to the provision of maternity care by qualified health professionals should be removed.

(g) The system should be sensitive to cultural differences among eligible persons.

(h) To the extent possible, decisions about the scope, content, and delivery of services should be made at the local level involving a broad representation of community interests.

(i) The maternity care access system should be evaluated at appropriate intervals to determine effectiveness and need for modification.

(j) Maternity care services should be delivered in a cost-effective manner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The legislature reserves the right to amend or repeal all or any part of this chapter at any time and there shall be no vested private right of any kind against such amendment or repeal. All rights, privileges, or immunities conferred by this chapter or any acts done pursuant thereto shall exist subject to the power of the legislature to amend or repeal this chapter at any time.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout sections 1 through 8 of this act:

(1) 'At-risk eligible person' means an eligible person determined by the department to need special assistance in applying for and obtaining maternity care, including pregnant women who are substance abusers, pregnant and parenting adolescents, pregnant minority women, and other eligible persons who need special assistance in gaining access to the maternity care system.

(6) 'Support services' means, at least, public health nursing assessment and follow-up, health and childbirth education, psychological assessment and counseling, outreach services, nutritional assessment and counseling, needed vitamin and nonprescriptive drugs, transportation, and child care. Support services may include alcohol and substance abuse treatment for pregnant women who are addicted or at risk of being addicted to alcohol or drugs to the extent funds are made available for that purpose by Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1793, if enacted.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. In an effort to provide for healthy births, the department shall, consistent with the state budget act, develop a maternity care access program as follows:

(4) Establish a maternity care case management system that shall assist at-risk eligible persons with obtaining medical assistance benefits and receiving maternity care services, including transportation and child care services;

(5) Within available resources, establish appropriate reimbursement levels for maternity care providers;

(6) Implement a broad-based public education program that stresses the importance of obtaining maternity care early during pregnancy; and

(7) Study the desirability and feasibility of implementing the presumptive eligibility provisions set forth in section 9407 of the federal omnibus budget reconciliation act of 1986 and report to the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 1989.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. (1) The department shall establish an alternative maternity care service delivery system, if it determines that a county or a group of counties is a maternity care distressed area. A maternity care distressed area shall be defined by the department, in rule, as a county or a group of counties where eligible women are unable to obtain adequate maternity care. The department shall include the following factors in its determination:

(a) Higher than average percentage of eligible persons in the distressed area who receive late or no prenatal care;

(b) Higher than average percentage of eligible persons in the distressed area who go out of the area to receive maternity care;

(e) Higher than average percentage of infants that are of low birth weight, five and one-half pounds or two thousand five hundred grams, born to eligible persons in the distressed area.

(2) If the department determines that a maternity care distressed area exists, it shall notify the relevant county authority. The county authority shall, within one hundred twenty days, submit a brief report to the department recommending remedial action. The report shall be prepared in consultation with the department and its local community service offices, the local public health officer, community health clinics, health care providers, hospitals, the business community, labor representatives, and low-income advocates in the distressed area. A county authority may contract with a local nonprofit entity to develop the report. If the county authority is unwilling or unable to develop the report, it shall notify the department within thirty days, and the department shall develop the report for the distressed area.

(3) The department shall review the report and use it, to the extent possible, in developing strategies to improve maternity care access in the distressed area. The department may contract with or directly employ qualified maternity care health providers to provide maternity care services, if access to such providers in the distressed area is not possible by other means. In such cases, the department is authorized to pay that portion of the health care providers' malpractice liability insurance that represents the percentage of maternity care provided to eligible persons by that provider through increased medical assistance payments.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. To the extent that federal matching funds are available, the department or the department of health if one is created shall establish, in consultation with the health science programs of the state's colleges and universities, and community health clinics, a loan repayment program that will encourage maternity care providers to practice in medically underserved areas in exchange for repayment of part or all of their health education loans.

WHEREAS, Small Issue Bonds are the cornerstone of state and local government economic development efforts to create and retain jobs and to promote growth in the economy; and

WHEREAS, Since 1982, Small Issue Bonds have stimulated the creation of eleven thousand four hundred eighty-five jobs in the State of Washington that would otherwise not exist; and

WHEREAS, Small Issue Bonds provide needed capital at rates and terms vital to small and medium size businesses in their efforts to modernize and expand manufacturing facilities; and

WHEREAS, Small Issue Bonds support growth in the manufacturing sector, with seventy percent of all United States manufactured goods subject to foreign competition; and

WHEREAS, Recent tax law provisions controlling federal expenditures through volume cap limitations have substantially addressed concerns about the uses of this financing tool; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the State of Washington acknowledge the importance of the Small Issue Bond program and support the extension of the December 31, 1989 Sunset on Small Issue Bonds; and

May 10, 1989

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed HOUSE BILL NO. 2244 with the following amendments:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. This act may be known and cited as the 'maternity care access act of 1989.'

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The legislature finds that Washington state and the nation as a whole have a high rate of infant illness and death compared with other industrialized nations. This is especially true for minority and low-income populations. Premature and low weight births have been directly linked to infant illness and death. The availability of adequate maternity care throughout the course of pregnancy has been identified as a major factor in reducing infant illness and death. Further, the investment in preventive health care programs, such as maternity care, contributes to the growth of a healthy and productive society and is a sound approach to health care cost containment. The legislature further finds that access to maternity care for low-income women in the state of Washington has declined significantly in recent years and has reached a crisis level.

(2) It is the purpose of this chapter to provide, consistent with appropriated funds, maternity care necessary to ensure healthy birth outcomes for low-income families. To this end, a maternity care access system is established based on the following principles:

(a) The family is the fundamental unit in our society and should be supported through public policy.

(b) Access to maternity care for eligible persons to ensure healthy birth outcomes should be made readily available in an expeditious manner through a single service entry point.

(c) Unnecessary barriers to maternity care for eligible persons should be removed.

(d) Access to preventive and other health care services should be available for low-income children.

(e) Each woman should be encouraged to and assisted in making her own informed decisions about her maternity care.

(f) Unnecessary barriers to the provision of maternity care by qualified health professionals should be removed.

(g) The system should be sensitive to cultural differences among eligible persons.

(h) To the extent possible, decisions about the scope, content, and delivery of services should be made at the local level involving a broad representation of community interests.

(i) The maternity care access system should be evaluated at appropriate intervals to determine effectiveness and need for modification.

(j) Maternity care services should be delivered in a cost-effective manner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The legislature reserves the right to amend or repeal all or any part of this chapter at any time and there shall be no vested private right of any kind against such amendment or repeal. All rights, privileges, or immunities conferred by this chapter or any acts done pursuant thereto shall exist subject to the power of the legislature to amend or repeal this chapter at any time.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout sections 1 through 8 of this act:

(1) 'At-risk eligible person' means an eligible person determined by the department to need special assistance in applying for and obtaining maternity care, including pregnant women who are substance abusers, pregnant and parenting adolescents, pregnant minority women, and other eligible persons who need special assistance in gaining access to the maternity care system.

(2) 'County authority' means the board of county commissioners, county council, or county executive having the authority to participate in the maternity care access program or its designee. Two or more county authorities may enter into joint agreements to fulfill the requirements of this chapter.

(3) 'Department' means the department of social and health services.

(4) 'Eligible person' means a woman in need of maternity care or a child, who is eligible for medical assistance pursuant to chapter 74.09 RCW or the prenatal care program administered by the department.

(5) 'Maternity care services' means inpatient and outpatient medical care, case management, and support services necessary during prenatal, delivery, and postpartum periods.

(6) 'Support services' means, at least, public health nursing assessment and follow-up, health and childbirth education, psychological assessment and counseling, outreach services, nutritional assessment and counseling, needed vitamin and nonprescriptive drugs, transportation, and child care. Support services may include alcohol and substance abuse treatment for pregnant women who are addicted or at risk of being addicted to alcohol or drugs to the extent funds are made available for that purpose by Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1793, if enacted.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. The department shall, consistent with the state budget act, develop a maternity care access program designed to ensure healthy birth outcomes as follows:

(1) Provide maternity care services to low-income pregnant women and health care services to children in poverty to the maximum extent allowable under the medical assistance program, Title XIX of the federal social security act;

(2) Provide maternity care services to low-income women who are not eligible to receive such services under the medical assistance program, Title XIX of the federal social security act;

(3) By January 1, 1990, have the following procedures in place to improve access to maternity care services and eligibility determinations for pregnant women applying for maternity care services under the medical assistance program, Title XIX of the federal social security act:

(a) Use of a shortened and simplified application form;

(b) Outstationing department staff to make eligibility determinations;

(c) Establishing local plans at the county and regional level, coordinated by the department; and

(d) Conducting an interview for the purpose of determining medical assistance eligibility within five working days of the date of an application by a pregnant woman and making an eligibility determination within fifteen working days of the date of application by a pregnant woman;

(4) Establish a maternity care case management system that shall assist at-risk eligible persons with obtaining medical assistance benefits and receiving maternity care services, including transportation and child care services;

(5) Within available resources, establish appropriate reimbursement levels for maternity care providers;

(6) Implement a broad-based public education program that stresses the importance of obtaining maternity care early during pregnancy;

(7) Study the desirability and feasibility of implementing the presumptive eligibility provisions set forth in section 9407 of the federal omnibus budget reconciliation act of 1986 and report to the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 1989; and

(8) Refer persons eligible for maternity care services under the program established by this section to persons, agencies, or organizations with maternity care service practices that primarily emphasize healthy birth outcomes.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. (1) The department shall establish an alternative maternity care service delivery system, if it determines that a county or a group of counties is a maternity care distressed area. A maternity care distressed area shall be defined by the department, in rule, as a county or a group of counties where eligible women are unable to obtain adequate maternity care. The department shall include the following factors in its determination:

(a) Higher than average percentage of eligible persons in the distressed area who receive late or no prenatal care;

(b) Higher than average percentage of eligible persons in the distressed area who go out of the area to receive maternity care;

(c) Lower than average percentage of obstetrical care providers in the distressed area who provide care to eligible persons;

(d) Higher than average percentage of infants born to eligible persons per obstetrical care provider in the distressed area; and

(e) Higher than average percentage of infants that are of low birth weight; five and one-half pounds or two thousand five hundred grams, born to eligible persons in the distressed area.

(2) If the department determines that a maternity care distressed area exists, it shall notify the relevant county authority. The county authority shall, within one hundred twenty days, submit a brief report to the department recommending remedial action. The report shall be prepared in consultation with the department and its local community service offices, the local public health officer, community health clinics, health care providers, hospitals, the business community, labor representatives, and low-income advocates in the distressed area. A county authority may contract with a local nonprofit entity to develop the report. If the county authority is unwilling or unable to develop the report, it shall notify the department within thirty days, and the department shall develop the report for the distressed area.

(3) The department shall review the report and use it, to the extent possible, in developing strategies to improve maternity care access in the distressed area. The department may contract with or directly employ qualified maternity care health providers to provide maternity care services, if access to such providers in the distressed area is not possible by other means. In such cases, the department is authorized to pay that portion of the health care providers' malpractice liability insurance that represents the percentage of maternity care provided to eligible persons by that provider through increased medical assistance payments.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. To the extent that federal matching funds are available, the department or the department of health if one is created shall establish, in consultation with the health science programs of the state's colleges and universities, and community health clinics, a loan repayment program that will encourage maternity care providers to practice in medically underserved areas in exchange for repayment of part or all of their health education loans.

Sec. 8. Section 4, chapter 30, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as last amended by section 2, chapter 87, Laws of 1989 and RCW 74.09.510 are each amended to read as follows:

SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL

May 10, 1989

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1581 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the demands of the workplace and of families need to be balanced to promote family stability and economic security. Changes in workplace leave policies are desirable to accommodate changes in the work force such as rising numbers of dual-career couples and working single parents. In addition, given the mobility of American society, many people no longer have available community or family support networks and therefore need additional flexibility in the workplace. The legislature declares it to be in the public interest to provide reasonable family leave upon the birth or adoption of a child and to care for a child under eighteen years old with a terminal health condition.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

- (1) 'Child' means a biological or adopted child, or a stepchild, living with the employee.
- (2) 'Department' means the department of labor and industries.
- (3) 'Employee' means a person other than an independent contractor employed by an employer on a continuous basis for the previous fifty-two weeks for at least thirty-five hours per week.
- (4) 'Employer' means: (a) Any person, firm, corporation, partnership, business trust, legal representative, or other business entity which engages in any business, industry, profession, or activity in this state and includes any unit of local government including, but not limited to, a county, city, town, municipal corporation, quasi-municipal corporation, or political subdivision, which (i) employed a daily average of one hundred or more employees during the last calendar quarter at the place where the employee requesting leave reports for work, or (ii) employed a daily average of one hundred or more employees during the last calendar quarter within a twenty mile radius of the place where the employee requesting leave reports for work, where the employer maintains a central hiring location and customarily transfers employees among workplaces; and (b) the state, state institutions, and state agencies.
- (5) 'Family leave' means leave from employment to care for a newborn or newly adopted child under the age of six or a child under eighteen years old with a terminal health condition, as provided in section 3 of this act.

(6) 'Health care provider' means a person licensed as a physician under chapter 18.71 RCW or an osteopath under chapter 18.57 RCW.

(7) 'Parent' means a biological or adoptive parent, or a stepparent.

(8) 'Reduced leave schedule' means leave scheduled for fewer than an employee's usual number of hours or days per workweek.

(9) 'Terminal health condition' means a condition caused by injury, disease, or illness, that, within reasonable medical judgment, is incurable and will produce death within the period of leave to which the employee is entitled.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. (1) An employee is entitled to twelve workweeks of family leave during any twenty-four month period to: (a) Care for a newborn child or adopted child of the employee who is under the age of six at the time of placement for adoption, or, (b) care for a child under eighteen years old of the employee who has a terminal health condition. Leave under subsection (1)(a) of this section shall be completed within twelve months after the birth or placement for adoption, as applicable. An employee is entitled to leave under subsection (1)(b) of this section only once for any given child.

(2) Family leave may be taken on a reduced leave schedule subject to the approval of the employer.

(3) The leave required by this section may be unpaid. If an employer provides paid family leave for fewer than twelve workweeks, the additional workweeks of leave added to attain the twelve-workweek total may be unpaid. An employer may require an employee to first use up the employee's total accumulation of leave to which the employee is otherwise entitled before going on family leave; however, except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, nothing in this section requires more than twelve total workweeks of leave during any twenty-four month period. An employer is not required to allow an employee to use the employee's other leave in place of the leave provided under this chapter.

(4) The leave required by this section is in addition to any leave for sickness or temporary disability because of pregnancy or childbirth.

(5) An employer may limit or deny family leave to either: (a) Up to ten percent of the employer's workforce in the state designated as key personnel by the employer. Any designation made under this section shall take effect thirty days after it is issued and may be changed no more than once in any twelve-month period. An employer shall not designate key personnel on the basis of age or gender or for the purpose of evading the requirements of this chapter. No employee may be designated as key personnel after giving notice of intent to take leave pursuant to section 4 of this act. The designation shall be in writing and shall be displayed in a conspicuous place; or (b) if the employer does not designate key personnel, the highest paid ten percent of the employer's employees in the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) An employee planning to take family leave under section 3(1)(a) of this act shall provide the employer with written notice at least thirty days in advance of the anticipated date of delivery or placement for adoption, stating the dates during which the employee intends to take family leave. The employee shall adhere to the dates stated in the notice unless:

- (a) The birth is premature;
- (b) The mother is incapacitated due to birth such that she is unable to care for the child;
- (c) The employee takes physical custody of the newly adopted child at an unanticipated time and is unable to give notice thirty days in advance; or
- (d) The employer and employee agree to alter the dates of family leave stated in the notice.

(2) In cases of premature birth, incapacity, or unanticipated placement for adoption referred to in subsection (1) of this section, the employee must give notice of revised dates of family leave as soon as possible but at least within one working day of the birth or placement for adoption or incapacitation of the mother.

(3) If family leave under section 3(1)(b) of this act is foreseeable, the employee shall provide the employer with written notice at least fourteen days in advance of the expected leave and shall make a reasonable effort to schedule the leave so as not to unduly disrupt the operations of the employer. If family leave under section 3(1)(b) of this act is not foreseeable fourteen or more days before the leave is to take place, the employee shall notify the employer of the expected leave as soon as possible, but at least within one working day of the beginning of the leave.

(4) If the employee fails to give the notice required by this section, the employer may reduce or increase the family leave required by this chapter by three weeks.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) In the event of any dispute under this chapter regarding premature birth, incapacitation of the mother, maternity disability, or terminal condition of a child, an employer may require confirmation by a health care provider of: (a) The date of the birth; (b) the date on which incapacity because of childbirth or disability because of pregnancy or childbirth commenced or will probably commence, and its probable duration; or (c) for family leave under section 3(1)(b) of this act, the fact that the child has a terminal health condition.

(2) An employer may require, at the employer's expense, that the employee obtain the opinion of a second health care provider selected by the employer concerning any information required under subsection (1) of this section. If the health care providers disagree on any factor which is determinative of the employee's eligibility for family leave, the two health care providers shall select a third health care provider, whose opinion, obtained at the employer's expense, shall be conclusive.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. If both parents of a child are employed by the same employer, they shall together be entitled to a total of twelve workweeks of family leave during any twenty-four month period, and leave need be granted to only one parent at a time.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) Subject to subsection (2) of this section, an employee who exercises any right provided under section 3 of this act shall be entitled, upon return from leave or during any reduced leave schedule:

- (a) To the same position held by the employee when the leave commenced; or
- (b) To a position with equivalent benefits and pay at a workplace within twenty miles of the employee's workplace when leave commenced; or
- (c) If the employer's circumstances have so changed that the employee cannot be reinstated to the same position, or a position of equivalent pay and benefits, the employee shall be reinstated in any other position which is vacant and for which the employee is qualified.

(2) The entitlement under subsection (1) of this section is subject to bona fide changes in compensation or work duties, and does not apply if:

- (a) The employee's position is eliminated by a bona fide restructuring, or reduction-in-force;
- (b) The employee's workplace is permanently or temporarily shut down for at least thirty days;
- (c) The employee's workplace is moved to a location at least sixty miles from the location of the workplace when leave commenced;
- (d) An employee on family leave takes another job; or
- (e) The employee fails to provide timely notice of family leave as required under section 4 of this act, or fails to return on the established ending date of leave.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) The taking of leave under this chapter shall not result in the loss of any benefit, including seniority or pension rights, accrued before the date on which the leave commenced.

(2) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to require the employer to grant benefits, including seniority or pension rights, during any period of leave.

(3) All policies applied during the period of leave to the classification of employees to which the employee on leave belongs shall apply to the employee on leave.

(4) During any period of leave taken under section 3 of this act, if the employee is not eligible for any employer contribution to medical or dental benefits under an applicable collective bargaining agreement or employer policy during any period of leave, an employer shall allow the employee to continue, at his or her own expense, medical or dental insurance coverage, including any spouse and dependent coverage, in accordance with state or federal law. The premium to be paid by the employee shall not exceed one hundred two percent of the applicable premium for the leave period.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The department of labor and industries shall administer the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) Except as provided in this chapter, the rights under this chapter are in addition to any other rights provided by law. The remedies under this chapter shall be exclusive.

(2) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to discourage employers from adopting policies which provide greater leave rights to employees than those required by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (1) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to diminish an employer's obligation to comply with any collective bargaining agreement or any employment benefit program or plan which provides greater leave rights to employees than the rights provided under this chapter.

(2) The rights provided to employees under this chapter may not be diminished by any collective bargaining agreement or any employment benefit program or plan entered into or renewed after the effective date of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) In the case of employees covered by an unexpired collective bargaining agreement that expires on or after September 1, 1989, or by an employee benefit program or plan with a stated year ending on or after September 1, 1989, the effective date of this chapter shall be the later of: (a) The first day following expiration of the collective bargaining agreement; or (b) the first day of the next plan year.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 14 through 21 of this act, where this chapter has been incorporated into a collective bargaining agreement, the grievance procedures contained in the respective collective bargaining agreement shall be used to resolve complaints related to this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. No employer, employment agency, labor union, or other person shall discharge, expel, or otherwise discriminate against any person because he or she has opposed any practices forbidden by this chapter, or because he or she has filed a complaint, testified, or assisted in any proceeding under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. (1) An employee who believes that his or her employer has violated any provision of this chapter may file a complaint with the department within ninety days of the alleged violation. The complaint shall contain the following:

(a) The name and address of the employee making the complaint;

(b) The name, address, and telephone number of the employer against whom the complaint is made;

(c) A statement of the specific facts which constitute the alleged violation, including the date(s) on which the alleged violation occurred.

(2) Upon receipt of a complaint, the department shall forward written notice of the complaint to the employer.

(3) The department may investigate any complaint filed within the required time frame. If the department determines that a violation of this chapter has occurred, it may issue a notice of infraction.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The department may issue a notice of infraction to an employer who violates this chapter. The employment standards supervisor shall direct that notices of infraction contain the following when issued:

(1) A statement that the notice represents a determination that the infraction has been committed by the employer named in the notice and that the determination shall be final unless contested;

(2) A statement that the infraction is a noncriminal offense for which imprisonment shall not be imposed as a sanction;

(3) A statement of the specific violation which necessitated issuance of the infraction;

(4) A statement of the penalty involved if the infraction is established;

(5) A statement informing the employer of the right to a hearing conducted pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW if requested within twenty days of issuance of the infraction;

(6) A statement that at any hearing to contest the notice of infraction the state has the burden of proving, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the infraction was committed, and that the employer may subpoena witnesses including the agent that issued the notice of infraction:

(7) If a notice of infraction is personally served upon a supervisory or managerial employee of a firm or corporation, the department shall within seventy-two hours of service send a copy of the notice by certified mail to the employer;

(8) Constructive service may be made by certified mail directed to the employer named in the notice of infraction.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. (1) If an employer is a corporation or a partnership, the department need not serve the employer personally. In such a case, if no officer or partner of a violating employer is present, the department may issue a notice of infraction to any managerial employee.

(2) If the department serves a notice of infraction on a managerial employee, and not on an officer, or partner of the employer, the department shall mail by certified mail a copy of the notice of infraction to the employer. The department shall mail a second copy by ordinary mail.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. In any case in which the department shall issue an order against any political or civil subdivision of the state, or any agency, or instrumentality of the state or of the foregoing, or any officer or employee thereof, the department shall transmit a copy of such order to the governor of the state. The governor shall take such action to secure compliance with such order as the governor deems necessary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. (1) If an employer desires to contest the notice of infraction issued, the employer shall file two copies of a notice of appeal with the department at the office designated on the notice of infraction, within twenty days of issuance of the infraction.

(2) The department shall conduct a hearing in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW.

(3) Employers may appear before the administrative law judge through counsel, or may represent themselves. The department shall be represented by the attorney general.

(4) Admission of evidence is subject to RCW 34.05.452 and 34.05.446.

(5) The administrative law judge shall issue a proposed decision that includes findings of fact, conclusions of law, and if appropriate, any legal penalty. The proposed decision shall be served by certified mail or personally on the employer and the department. The employer or department may appeal to the director within thirty days after the date of issuance of the proposed decision. If none of the parties appeals within thirty days, the proposed decision may not be appealed either to the director or the courts.

(6) An appellant must file with the director an original and four copies of its notice of appeal. The notice of appeal must specify which findings and conclusions are erroneous. The appellant must attach to the notice the written arguments supporting its appeal.

The appellant must serve a copy of the notice of appeal and the arguments on the other parties. The respondent parties must file with the director their written arguments within thirty days after the date the notice of appeal and the arguments were served upon them.

(7) The director shall review the proposed decision in accordance with the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW. The director may: Allow the parties to present oral arguments as well as the written arguments; require the parties to specify the portions of the record on which the parties rely; require the parties to submit additional information by affidavit or certificate; remand the matter to the administrative law judge for further proceedings; and require a departmental employee to prepare a summary of the record for the director to review. The director shall issue a final decision that can affirm, modify, or reverse the proposed decision.

(8) The director shall serve the final decision on all parties. Any aggrieved party may appeal the final decision to superior court pursuant to RCW 34.05.570 unless the final decision affirms an unappealed proposed decision. If no party appeals within the period set by RCW 34.05.570, the director's decision is conclusive and binding on all parties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. An employer found to have committed an infraction under this chapter may be subject to a fine of up to two hundred dollars for the first infraction. An employer that continues to violate the statute may be subject to a fine of up to one thousand dollars for each infraction. An employer found to have failed to reinstate an employee as required under section 7 of this act may also be ordered to reinstate the employee, with or without back pay.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. The department shall develop and furnish to each employer a poster which describes an employer's obligations and an employee's rights under this chapter. The poster must include notice about any state law, rule, or regulation governing maternity disability leave and indicate that federal or local ordinances, laws, rules or regulations may also apply. The poster must also include a telephone number and an address of the department to enable employees to obtain more information regarding this chapter. Each employer must display this poster in a conspicuous place. Nothing in this section shall be construed to create a right to continued employment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. (1) The department will cease to administer and enforce this act upon the effective date of any federal act it determines, with the consent of the legislative budget committee, to be substantially similar, in substance and enforcement, to this act. A federal act shall be considered substantially similar even where the duration of leave required or size of employer covered is different than that under this chapter.

(2) No employee shall have a private right of action for any alleged violation of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. The legislature finds that employers often distinguish between biological parents, and adoptive parents and stepparents in their employee leave policies. Many employers who grant leave to their employees to care for a newborn child either have no policy or establish a more restrictive policy regarding whether an adoptive parent or stepparent can take similar leave. The legislature further finds that many employers establish different leave policies for men and women regarding the care of a newborn or newly placed child. The legislature recognizes that the bonding that occurs between a parent and child is important to the nurturing of that child, regardless of whether the parent is the child's biological parent and regardless of the gender of the parent. For these reasons, the legislature declares that it is the public policy of this state to require that employers who grant leave to their employees to care for a newborn child make the same leave available upon the same terms for adoptive parents and stepparents, men and women.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. A new section is added to chapter 49.12 RCW to read as follows:

(1) An employer must grant an adoptive parent or a stepparent, at the time of birth or initial placement for adoption of a child under the age of six, the same leave under the same terms as the employer grants to biological parents. As a term of leave, an employer may restrict leave to those living with the child at the time of birth or initial placement.

(2) An employer must grant the same leave upon the same terms for men as it does for women.

(3) The department shall administer and investigate violations of this section. Notices of infraction, penalties, and appeals shall be administered in the same manner as violations under RCW 49.12.285.

(4) For purposes of this section, 'employer' includes all private and public employers listed in RCW 49.12.005(3).

(5) For purposes of this section, 'leave' means any leave from employment granted to care for a newborn or a newly adopted child at the time of placement for adoption.

(6) Nothing in this section requires an employer to:

(a) Grant leave equivalent to maternity disability leave; or

(b) Establish a leave policy to care for a newborn or newly placed child if no such leave policy is in place for any of its employees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. A new section is added to chapter 49.12 RCW to read as follows:

In the case of employees covered by an unexpired collective bargaining agreement that expires on or after September 1, 1989, or by an employee benefit program or plan with a stated year ending on or after September 1, 1989, the effective date of section 23 of this act shall be the later of: (1) The first day following expiration of the collective bargaining agreement; or (2) the first day of the next plan year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. Sections 1 through 21 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 49 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. This act shall take effect September 1, 1989."

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "family" strike the remainder of the title and insert "leave; adding new sections to chapter 49.12 RCW; adding a new chapter to Title 49 RCW; creating new sections; prescribing penalties; and providing effective dates."

and the same is herewith transmitted.

W. D. Naismith, Assistant Secretary.

MOTION

Mr. Vekich moved that the House do concur in the Senate amendments to Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1581. The motion was carried.

FINAL PASSAGE OF HOUSE BILL AS AMENDED BY SENATE

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1581 as amended by the Senate.

Mr. Wang spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Wang yielded to question by Mr. Vekich.

Mr. Vekich: Representative Wang, I believe some clarification of the definition of "terminal health condition" is needed. Does the language "reasonable medical judgment" and the definition relate both to the determination that the illness is incurable and that it will produce death within a certain time?

Mr. Wang: Yes, Representative Vekich. There is a two-step qualification. A terminal health condition can only be found if the medical judgment is such that the disease is incurable and that it will result in death during the time leave is taken. Under section 5, this judgment is made by a health care provider in the case of a dispute. In all other cases, if the child's doctor says that the child has an incurable disease which will result in death within the time of leave, the leave is available for the responsible adult. I cannot foresee a situation where, if the death does not result during the predicted time period, the employee would be penalized.

Representatives Walker, Rector, Leonard and Miller spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINTS OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Locke: I am glad that the members of this House have passed this budget by such an overwhelming majority. It certainly is a lot stronger margin of approval than when we passed the House budget several weeks ago. One of the things that I certainly want to say is that it has been a difficult negotiating process, and I think that both the House and Senate can emerge from this process as victors. Both Democrats and Republicans can claim victory in this budget. We started this budget several months ago. When the House passed its budget, we were guided by several principles--a commitment to make a long-term public investment in children and families, a commitment to strengthen our education system and make it one of our nation's finest, a commitment to improve the quality of life for all people in the State of Washington, whether it's the smallest infant on life support or a ninety-year-old person in a nursing home in Spokane. But, more importantly, we wanted to commit our state dollars to those areas that are most in need. We have had to make a lot of painful choices. I think that everyone can say it is a good budget and that it maintains the priorities of both the House and Senate, Democrats and Republicans. It is a very human budget, so I think the people in the State of Washington are the final winners. It is a human budget, and, for that, I think all of us can be proud and can take that back to our constituents. Thank you very much for your support on this budget.

Mr. Fuhrman: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Having already voted, I would like to speak as to why I voted "No" on this budget. I would like to mention that this is a twenty-one percent budget increase. I would like to mention that what we do here tonight is serious. We have a citizenry out there that is paying for this with their taxes to the State of Washington, and this twenty-one percent budget increase is something that most of them are not receiving in inflation or cost-of-living increases. If you add inflation and population, it does not come near to twenty-one percent. We have created a bow wave in this, and we have to be serious about what we are doing. This will carry forward the budget; the bow wave we are carrying forward will approach fourteen million dollars. We will be back here in 1991 facing that. I thank you.

SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1581.

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease.

The Speaker called the House to order.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Ballard: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ladies and gentlemen: The hour is late, but I have one subject of importance that I would like to put before you prior to Sine Die. With your permission, I would like to explain my concern and also discuss a possible plan of action. Recently we had a situation in which the committee appointments were made. That is always a tough situation when we have minority and majority party concerns. Mr. Speaker, I would hope that we could revisit the process and the appointments at a later date. It is extremely important that we maintain a good working relationship between the minority and majority parties. It is also very important that we have input for the good of our caucus and for the good of the system. So, Mr. Speaker, my request is that we revisit the process, talk about it, and look at how we are going to do things in the future in the other existing appointments. Thank you.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

May 10, 1989

Mr. Speaker:

The President has signed:

Our loving God, as this special legislative session begins, we pause for a moment to acknowledge Your presence and to ask for Your help and guidance. You well know that the problems these men and women face are complex. The issues they deal with are very sensitive, and the pressure to find adequate solutions comes from all sides. I pray that You would encourage and strengthen each one and help them to be refreshed as they tackle the many issues at hand. Give them the grace to serve unselfishly and to govern wisely. As this day continues, I pray that You would keep them from being impatient and from having a quick temper. Keep them from being touchy and quick to take offense. Enable them to avoid that stubborn attitude that seeks its own point of view and which wants only its own way. Give them insight and understanding. Help them to listen to one another and work together and be persevering as they seek to do what is best for all. Bless them in their work today. Amen.

Excused: Representatives Beck, Betrozoff, Brooks, Brumsickle, Chandler, Hankins - 6.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ebersole: Mr. Speaker, I believe that, while we all obviously support the motion to consider this message, we cannot continue at this time. The Veto Message in question was of a Senate Bill, and the Veto Message was returned to the House of origin which was the Senate. I think we have, as a body, served notice of our sentiments that we do not approve of the Governor's veto. We want burglars off the streets and in prison, which is where we put them with the passage of that bill. At this time, we cannot proceed with this procedure.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Ebersole, I have just checked with the Chief Clerk and the Senate apparently is still in possession of the message. Your point of order is well taken. The message is, unfortunately, not before us.

POINTS OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Ms. Brough: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am well aware of the fact that the point of order that was just made was going to be made. I simply want to talk to my colleagues for a moment, Mr. Speaker, and tell them to hold these thoughts. We will have the appropriate motion before us, I hope, within the next day or two as this special session progresses. This may have been an exercise, but I like to think of it as a warm-up exercise with the real show to follow. Thank you.

Mr. Locke: Thank you, Mr. Speaker and members of the body. We knew that, technically, the Veto Message was not before us. Those of us who spoke and urged the motion to consider the Governor's Veto Message, wanted to do so to give a message, not only to the Governor, but also to the Senate, lest they believe that we would not be in support of overriding the Governor's veto. The dialogue and the vote which occurred took place to put the Senate on notice that we are dead serious about overriding the Governor's veto for the reasons that we have all indicated. We hope that the Senate will immediately consider overriding the Governor's veto of the residential burglary bill. This is not an exercise in futility, but merely an indication to the public, the Senate and the Governor of just how serious we are with respect to this piece of legislation. Thank you very much.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

Had I been present on Wednesday, May 17, 1989, I would have voted "No" on final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1825 and Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1294. I would have voted "Yes" on the motion by Representative Locke to immediately consider the Governor's Veto Message regarding Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5233.

Mr. Ebersole moved adoption of the resolution.

REMARKS BY REPRESENTATIVE EBERSOLE

Mr. Ebersole: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I think we have all heard that Senator Warren Magnuson passed away earlier today. It is a rather humbling experience to move the adoption of a resolution, praising this great Washingtonian. Maggie said that, if you have the votes, you don't need to make a speech, and if you need to make a speech, you don't have the votes. I think I have the votes on this, but I will make a few remarks.

They have not yet erected a statue to Warren Magnuson, but across this state there are countless monuments to his greatness as a person and as a political leader. Some of those monuments are physically very imposing--the hydroelectric dams on the Columbia River and the huge irrigation projects that turned the deserts of our state into green farmland. In the words of Hubert Humphrey, "we will be remembered for the power of our compassion and our dedication to human welfare." I think that is certainly true for Warren Magnuson. Yes, Maggie was proud of the dams on the Columbia and proud of those prosperous farms, but his greatest accomplishments were the ones that quietly shaped the lives of citizens throughout the state over a span of fifty years. He was the father of countless legislative initiatives, including the National Institute for Health, consumer protection, civil rights laws and many others. His nicknames alone show the breadth of his accomplishments; at different times Maggie was Mr. Consumer, Mr. Health, Mr. Oceanography and the Father of Public Television.

In a way, it is fitting that we would be here today, acknowledging the accomplishments of this great man. I did not know Maggie personally. I have been an admirer of his from a distance over the many years. I am sure there are many others who want to join in this moment to pay tribute to a great Washingtonian.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE O'BRIEN

Mr. O'Brien: Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House: I knew Warren Magnuson very well. He was a great public-spirited citizen and legislative leader. He finished his career in Congress as President Pro Tempore of the United States Senate. He was a man who cared deeply for people. Any time you went to Washington, D.C., and were from our state, Warren always did his utmost to take care of your needs. He cared about people. He will be remembered in history, along with Senator Jackson, as one of the greatest Senators this state will ever have. They worked closely together in the United States Senate; their careers paralleled each other. They were great public leaders, and we miss both of them. This resolution is a very fine one with which to send our condolences to Jermaine, his wife and a very fine person. I urge you to support this resolution, because Warren Magnuson sat in these Chambers. He started his career here and went on to achieve great heights, not only here and in King County as a prosecuting attorney, but also in the United States House of Representatives and United States Senate. He has an enviable record, a record that will stand for a long time.

REMARKS BY REPRESENTATIVE BALLARD

Mr. Ballard: Thank you, Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen. We would like to join, from this side of the aisle, in paying tribute to a gentleman who has done an incredible amount of good for the people of the State of Washington. One of the Press Corps asked me to say something that would reflect my thoughts on Senator Magnuson. My thoughts are that he always remembered where he was from; he always remembered who he was representing and why he was in Washington. I think there is no higher tribute that we can pay to someone who worked very, very hard for the people of our state. His accomplishments are legendary. It's also good to remember the other side of his personality in times of difficulty such as this. I was just reading the section of the resolution on his inability to pronounce some names: Joe Cauliflower and Mr. Average Brundy. With sadness and great memories, we, too, would like to say we appreciate all that he has done for the State of Washington.

REMARKS BY REPRESENTATIVE WANG

Mr. Wang: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Maggie has long been one of my heroes. Last year, when we had the Presidential debates, a question was raised: "Who do you admire most or who are your heroes?" It provoked some thought on my part, and I realized that Maggie was one of the persons I most admired. Sometimes we forget to tell people that, and we don't communicate that. I took the opportunity to write to Maggie, saying that I wanted to express my admiration to him and to tell him that he had been one of my personal heroes. I didn't get a response from him, but it didn't matter because I felt good just knowing that I had communicated to him my great admiration. He will always be one of my personal heroes, so I am very proud to join in saluting a person who, in his own words, was a true work horse and not a show horse.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker: The Speaker has a great vantage point up here, as Speaker O'Brien can tell you. I listened closely to his words. Warren Magnuson started his career here and sat in these Chambers. As Speaker, I wonder if I am not looking, after this incredibly successful session we have had this year, at another Warren Magnuson out there. Perhaps I am. I think the events of very recent days will remind us how much forethought and vision Senator Magnuson had. He was a man who told the sitting Governor of the State of Washington, who was in the front row of the Democratic State Convention, that supertankers would appear in Puget Sound "over my dead body." I suspect that the man, who almost single-handedly built the University of Washington School of Medicine and Hospital, would be greatly encouraged by the strides that this Legislature has made in offering universal access to health care. I suspect he would have been very proud of some of the accomplishments we have achieved together this year. I, too, commend this resolution to you.

House Floor Resolution No. 89-4713 was adopted.

POINTS OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Locke: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I want to address the members of the House about copies of a handbook, called Barton's Legislative Handbook and Manual of the State of Washington, which have been delivered to our offices. I want to indicate to you that this is a product of the Washington State Centennial Commission and contains documents from our State Constitutional Convention and the First Legislative Session that have long been lost, but found last year by Jane Whittaker, whose grandfather had served in the First Legislature of the State of Washington. This document was brought to Secretary of State Ralph Munro, who is Co-chair of the Centennial Commission. It gives us a very charming and informative look at the people who were members of the First Legislature, through the rules they wrote, the votes they took, and some of the thoughts they deemed important enough to write down. It is interesting to note that all the members of that

First Legislature were men, who came from other parts of the United States, except for three who were born in the State of Washington. Nineteen of them were immigrants, having been born in foreign countries. Most served in the Civil War. How things have changed in the last one hundred years--most of them were Republicans, which is not the case today. Most were farmers, and most were against suffrage and prohibition. And, at the end of that first session, they wanted to go home.

At this time I would urge the members of the House to participate in any Centennial events that are being sponsored throughout the state. A sample of these is the logging show which was held on the Capital grounds today.

I have been privileged to be a member of the Centennial Commission for the last four years; the commission itself has been working over the last seven years. I would like to pay tribute to some of the other members of this body, who have been working so hard to provide community events throughout the State of Washington for thousands of people to enjoy. The House members of the Centennial Commission are Representative Jennifer Belcher, Representative John Betrozoff, Representative Eugene Prince, former Representative Joe Williams, and former Representative and, now, Senator Mike Kreidler. The Centennial Commission is ably chaired by two Co-chairs, Secretary of State Ralph Munro and our First Lady Jean Gardner. Thank you very much.

Ms. Leonard: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to invite those of you who have not seen the delightful display in the Rotunda to do so. This display was done by an elementary school in the 11th District by fourth, fifth and sixth grade students, who started it last November at the beginning of the Centennial. The sixth grade students were able to visit us last month, and in September the fifth grade students will visit. They have made a study of our state that is unlike anything I have ever seen an elementary school do. And, that is what we are all about down here--how well we allow and teach our young people to grow and appreciate our state. You'll find some delightful exhibits on coal, fishing, logging, mining, and the Native American background. There is a quilt made by the students. All of their activities this year have been designated toward the Washington State Centennial, honoring and appreciating our state. I would appreciate it if you would look at it and sign the guest book outside the Senate doors for the children who worked so hard for Washington State this year. Thank you.

Mr. Ballard: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ladies and gentlemen: We are at last concluding our long session and special sessions. On behalf of the minority party, I would like to say that, even though we don't always agree and even though it has been a long session with very difficult issues, we have had a good session. We appreciate the Speaker, although at times we don't always agree with his rulings. We appreciate the Majority Leader and all of you who work so hard as Chairs. We trust that you will have a good, restful summer. We'll come back rested and refreshed and ready to do our business next January. Thank you very much for the cooperation. We trust that you all will have a very good year.

Mr. Ebersole: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I wanted to respond to my colleague, Representative Ballard. We appreciate the finality of your remarks; we hope we are getting out of here. We certainly have enjoyed our good working relationship with our colleagues across the aisle. I think government functions best when we put aside our partisan differences and try to do what we think is right. I think that has characterized this session to a large degree. We have accomplished a great deal, thanks to the good working relationship we have had with those across the aisle, and I hope that that will continue.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES ON HOUSE BILLS VETOED AND PARTIALLY VETOED

Fifty-First Legislature
1989 Regular Session
1989 First Special Session
1989 Second Special Session

May 11, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 18 and 19, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1028 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to recreational fishing licenses."

Section 18 of this bill provides half-price hunting and fishing licenses to veterans with a service connected disability of 30 percent or greater. Section 19 of this bill creates a reduced rate ($5) steelhead punch-card for persons under 15 or 70 years and older. Currently, persons in these age brackets pay $15. To enact these sections will cause the Department of Wildlife the loss of approximately $160,000 over the next biennium.

I regret denying these groups reduced fees; however, we need to approach the issue of special groups in consistent fashion to avoid greater erosion of the funding for this department. When the Legislature created the Department of Wildlife in 1987 (HB 758), it directed the Wildlife Commission to conduct a study of license fees with its report due by July 1989. At a minimum, the Legislature should review this work before adding to the list of reduced or free licenses.

With the exception of sections 18 and 19, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1028 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 11, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 2, Substitute House Bill No. 1031 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to state budget request."

Over the last two years, the Legislative Budget Committee, in response to legislative request, has examined the State's Capital Budget process. Concurrently, the Office of Financial Management (OFM) has conducted similar studies. Both of these groups have expressed a need for greater technical review and analysis of capital projects by a group independent of the requesting agency. I concur with this finding. However, section 2 of this bill proposes that OFM conduct such a review of capital budget requests without providing the requisite funding in the bill or in the 1989-91 Budget. While I support the idea of additional technical review, I cannot approve section 2 without the requisite funding.

With the exception of section 2, Substitute House Bill No. 1031 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 13, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 16, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1051 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to developmentally disabled adults."

Section 16 of this bill amends RCW 71.05.325 relating to the release of certain committed individuals. Similar language is contained in House Bill No. 2054, section 1. To avoid confusion, I am vetoing section 16.

With the exception of section 16, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1051 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 11, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 1 and 3, Substitute House Bill No. 1065 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to sexual offenses."

Section 1 of this measure authorizes courts to assess fees for sex offender treatment and makes such fees a priority for collection. At this time, the only assessment receiving such priority is for restitution to victims. This is proper and should be maintained. However, other recipients of court-ordered assessments, including the crime victim's compensation fund and local governments, should not be required to await payment until sex offender treatment costs are paid. This priority places an improper burden on other recipients.

In addition, section 1 conflicts with the provisions of House Bill No. 1542, section 4. That measure revises the authority of the Department of Corrections with respect to collection and distribution of financial obligations of offenders.

Section 3 amends the statute of limitations for child sexual offenses. These same provisions are amended by Senate Bill No. 5950, section 3. That measure makes additional, necessary changes to the same statute. In order to avoid confusion, I am vetoing section 3 of this act.

With the exception of sections 1 and 3, Substitute House Bill No. 1065 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1157 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to sole source purchasing by vocational-technical institutes."

House Bill No. 1157 grants Vocational Technical Institutes (VTIs) the authority to enter into sole source contracts for the purchase of equipment, facilities, or services when they are limited to a single source of supply. I am advised that school districts, VTIs, and other public entities already have the power to engage in sole source contracts in situations envisioned by this bill.

Since public entities already have this power, the enactment of a sole source procedure for only one operation of a school district and not other public entities, including the other operations of a school district, could possibly be construed as negating the power already attached to these other public bodies.

To avoid this possible confusion, I believe we should retain the safeguards and protections which are provided by current law or codify new sole source provisions for all public entities.

For the reasons stated above, I am vetoing House Bill No. 1157 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 4, Substitute House Bill No. 1221 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to auctioneers and auction companies."

An auctioneer, licensed under RCW 18.11, must comply with licensing requirements applicable to regulated "goods". As such, existing statutes require an auctioneer to obtain a vehicle dealer's license, post surety bonds, and acquire a temporary sub-agency license. These licenses ensure that the appropriate measures have been taken to protect consumers in these purchases.

This bill eliminates the temporary sub-agency license requirements, revises place of business requirements, and relaxes dealer licensing and surety bond requirements for auctioneers and auction companies. The changes provide for simplified departmental procedures while adequate consumer protection remains in effect, with one exception.

In reviewing the surety bond requirement, it is not clear why auctioneers selling mobile homes or travel trailers should not be required to post a bond comparable to those required for mobile home and travel trailer dealers. Passage of this section would not provide the public with adequate consumer protection.

With the exception of Section 4, Substitute House Bill No. 1221 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 1, Substitute House Bill No. 1251 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to annexation for municipal purposes."

Substitute House Bill No. 1251 resulted from recommendations of the Local Governance Study Commission. The Commission found that Washington has comparatively restrictive annexation procedures, and that the problems of providing services to citizens in high-density unincorporated areas result in part from those restrictive procedures. The purpose of Substitute House Bill No. 1251 is to improve municipal annexation procedures and facilitate annexation of urbanized land. That is a laudable goal and one that I fully endorse.

A portion of section 1 of the bill, which resulted from an amendment to the original bill, would have the effect of increasing the number of signatures necessary at certain times to initiate an annexation under the petition/election method for a non-code city or town. That is contrary to the overall purpose of the legislation and the recommendations of the Local Governance Study Commission.

With the exception of section 1, Substitute House Bill No. 1251 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 3, Substitute House Bill No. 1254, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to immunity from civil liability."

This bill was introduced as a Governor and Attorney General request bill to address concerns which arose out of a specific factual situation. A citizen reported the violation of a tax law to a state agency, the agency took enforcement action, and the party who was alleged to have violated the law sued the citizen for slander and libel even though the information reported was factual. Truth is a defense to any slander or libel lawsuit; however, the request bill allows citizens to be represented and protected against the financial cost of defending against frivolous suits. Sections 1, 2 and 4 address this situation and provide appropriate protection so citizens can feel secure in reporting possible violations of the law to regulatory agencies. The agency then can verify the facts and take appropriate action.

Section 3 was added to Substitute House Bill No. 1254 late in the session and was not subject to thorough legislative discussion and standing committee review. It provides that if an agency fails to respond to a complaint regarding a matter of concern to the agency, the person filing the complaint would be immune from civil liability on claims arising from the communication of the complaint.

I understand that the intent of this section is to ensure that good faith citizen complaints are acted upon by governmental agencies by providing immunity from suit to people who may choose to go public with their concerns. That is an admirable purpose which I support. However, I am concerned that the language used in this section could be interpreted to mean that immunity would be conferred even when statements are made that go beyond the original communication to the agency, such as inferences made about the character of an individual. These claims may arise from the communication and therefore be subject to the immunity provisions. That broadened immunity from civil action is more than what is needed in these instances.

In addition, under section 3, if an agency failed to reasonably respond to a complaint, the complainant would be granted immunity to communicate to other persons information about a private individual that was actually false and damaging to the individual's reputation, as long as the complainant claimed he reasonably believed the information was true. Unfortunately, proving or in this case disproving, the complainant's state of mind is not easy. The injured individual would be precluded from taking action against the person who disseminated the false information.

Also, section 3 fails to indicate what is meant by "if an agency failed to reasonably respond to a complaint". Citizens often expect immediate responses to their complaints regardless of the complexity of the issue or the capacity of the agency to respond. The Legislature should discuss whether this kind of immunity to make false charges is good public policy or if additional safeguards or standards should be included before this provision becomes law.

With the exception of section 3, Substitute House Bill No. 1254 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1289, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to authorized business entertainment practices by liquor manufacturers, importers, or wholesalers."

House Bill No. 1289 permits manufacturers, importers and wholesalers of alcoholic beverages to give retailers and their employees, food and beverages at business meetings, tickets and transportation to athletic and other entertainment events, and food and beverages at those events. Current state liquor control laws prohibit these practices. The "tied house" provisions of the original Steele Act prohibit financial ties between retailers and their suppliers.

Proponents of this legislation maintain that the practices permitted by this bill are normal business practices that occur routinely between business people and their clients. They argue that transactions between alcoholic beverage suppliers and retailers should not be treated differently than other business transactions. However, our state treats liquor sales in a control or regulated fashion and has not adopted the open market approach used in some states.

The primary purpose of the "tied house" and other provisions of the state's liquor laws is to treat the alcoholic beverage business differently than other businesses—and for very sound historical reasons. In the past, close financial ties between suppliers and retailers led to reduced competition and coercive sales practices. In addition, the increased cost of this proposed business entertainment will ultimately be passed on to the consuming public when they purchase these products.

I believe it is unwise to relax the requirements of the "tied house" laws. This breach in the Steele Act could lead to further erosion of a law that has served the state well.

For this reason, I have vetoed House Bill No. 1289 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1301 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to radon studies and education."

This bill requires the Department of Social and Health Services to maintain a public education program on radon gas and radon progeny. Additionally, it requires the department to study the existence of radon in schools, state buildings, and individual residential structures throughout the state. These programs are certainly laudable, and the department has been supportive of the policies of this bill during the legislative session.

However, the appropriation is not sufficient to meet the requirements of this bill. The department's budget will not support absorbing the costs of these provisions. Despite the positive policy goals of this legislation, I cannot sign into law new or expanded initiatives which are not sufficiently funded, and which might result in taking resources away from currently mandated programs.

It is my understanding that the $48,000 appropriation was intended for use in receiving federal funding. The federal Indoor Radon Abatement Act of 1988 does include a grant assistance program, beginning in October of this year, to assist states with certain radon testing and education activities. However, the eligibility requirements and the criteria for distribution of available funds have not yet been determined. It is not even known whether a state will need to contribute matching funds to participate in the program. Once this grant program has been defined, the Department of Social and Health Services will take the necessary action to apply for participation and will advise me if legislative action is required.

For the reasons stated above, I have vetoed Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1301 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 11, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 206, Substitute House Bill No. 1305 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to public utility taxation."

Section 206 creates a new exemption to the public utility tax for electrical power purchased for resale. This exemption would create an unfair competitive advantage for firms which purchase electrical power and then resell it. Such power would be subject only to a B&O tax of 1.5% while other power in the state is subject to a public utility tax of 3.852%.

To our knowledge, only one firm would benefit from this exemption. The purpose of the exemption was to eliminate the double taxation of such electrical power. In this case, a firm purchases electrical power from a utility. The utility pays a public utility tax on such power of 3.852%. The firm which purchases the power then sells it to a subsidiary. Since the power is a sale by the firm, it is part of its gross receipts and subject to a 1.5% B&O tax. The firm argues that the public utility tax is unfair double taxation.

Unfortunately, double taxation is the rule with the B&O tax, not the exception. The B&O tax is a gross receipts tax which is imposed on gross income with no deductions. Since the firm is in business and sells the power, the value of the power is part of their gross receipts. What the firm in fact wants is a deduction for the costs of doing business. In effect, this is tax reform, but only for one firm not for everybody. The need for tax reform is real. This piecemeal revision of the tax code is not the appropriate way to address the shortcomings of the existing tax system.

Furthermore, no logical argument has been presented which would indicate that electrical power for resale should be exempt. Under this bill, the power purchased by the firm in this case would be subject to a B&O tax of only 1.5%. All other power sold for in-state use is subject to a public utility tax of 3.852%. There is no reason why this power should be taxed at a lower rate.

With the exception of section 206, Substitute House Bill No. 1305 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

April 4, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1324, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to creating a department of health."

Four months ago, I announced my support for the creation of a cabinet-level state health agency. I am convinced of the need to establish a comprehensive department to address health issues that affect the citizens of the state. Currently, the state has responsibilities as a protector of the public health, a health care provider of last resort, a regulator of health services, and a purchaser of health services. The state must increase its role in evaluating the state's health needs by planning for the future.

I made clear at that time, and throughout this legislative session, that the challenge before us in the creation of a Department of Health was of greater consequence than the mere reorganization of existing state health programs.

In providing the citizens of the state a structure for addressing these issues, I believe we must look beyond the interests of the bureaucracy, the service providers, and those with financial interests in the field. We must focus on the kind of agency that will serve the citizens best. A state Department of Health must have the ability to assess, analyze, and act on issues of public health, health care costs, health care quality, and access to health care.

The original version of this bill, which I proposed to you, provided the structure to realize those goals. The bill as it has been returned to me does not. While I strongly support the creation of a Department of Health, I am vetoing Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1324.

I would like to outline the substantive issues of my original proposal that were unacceptably weakened through committee amendment.

Quality

The bill I proposed to you provided for assessment of health quality, development of health quality policies, and an enhanced ability to assure delivery of quality health care. My proposal combined health regulatory and planning programs from four different agencies, and introduced new quality-related programs, such as the Office of Consumer Affairs and the evaluation of population-based data.

I support the refinements made to my proposal that tie the department's quality-related studies with the Board of Health's State Health Report. However, I do not support limiting the department's ability to assess quality of care to those issues approved by the Board of Health or the Legislature. A cabinet level agency should have the autonomy independently to identify and address health quality issues.

The policy development role of the Department of Health, as defined in Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1324, is limited to the secretary's seat on the Board of Health. As with the quality-related studies, this agency should also have the autonomy to develop health-quality policies. While the Board of Health and the Department of Health will work closely together in many ways, they should remain independent entities. The executive request bill provided the necessary transfer of planning functions currently carried out by DSHS to the Department of Health. The role of policy development and planning is extremely important to the functions of the Department of Health.

I am baffled with the Legislature's unwillingness to include the Board of Pharmacy within the Department of Health. This is not an inconsequential act. Creation of a Department of Health that includes the Board of Pharmacy is consistent with the goal of defining health issues across the entire spectrum of health services. Recognizing pharmacology as an important health area requires that the Board be fully included in the department, thereby giving this subject full presence in state health deliberations. The members of the Board of Pharmacy understand this and are supportive of my approach to including their functions in the Department of Health, an approach which is sensitive to the policy and oversight role appropriate to this dedicated and hard-working board.

Cost Containment

Rapidly increasing health care costs negatively affect access to and quality of care. State government has a central role in containing health care costs, and the appropriate placement of that role is within a Department of Health. I want to identify clearly my position on cost containment as something more sophisticated than just rate regulation. We must find ways of making health care affordable to all citizens of the state. Rate regulation is but one tool. An informed citizenry, as informed consumers, can affect the cost of the care they purchase. Volume health care purchasers, large employers and health insurance companies can apply pressure to identify ways to provide some health care services more efficiently. However, these efforts are not enough. The health care marketplace is not a free market system in which a consumer can be assured of equitable and efficient care. The gaps in the system are significant enough that some protection must be in place for the good of all citizens.

Perhaps the most meaningful tool in controlling health care costs is through proper health care practice. This requires education of those to whom we turn for care, changes in lifestyle for each of us, and achieving consensus on hard ethical and value laden choices on distribution of health resources. These efforts will take time to accomplish. In the meantime we must have in place some mechanisms that will protect us from the uncertainties of an unfettered marketplace in an area as essential to our well-being as health care.

For these reasons the Department of Health must have cost containment capabilities. These should include the ability to:

- 1) Evaluate and analyze available data and information to determine the outcome and effectiveness of health services, utilization and payment methods;
- 2) Develop, based on these analyses and with public input, policies and recommendations on what actions the state, as well as health care consumers, purchasers and providers, should take to contain costs; and
- 3) Assure that state cost containment programs are carried out. This would include any gubernatorial or legislative directive based on the agency's policy recommendations, the certificate of need program, and some form of hospital rate regulation.

I want you to understand clearly that I do not demand that the hospital rate regulation debate occur within the Department of Health bill. However, when this debate comes to a close, the Department of Health should be the agency with executive responsibility.

I remain convinced that my proposal for a modified rate regulating system within the Department of Health is the most effective way to free hospitals from unnecessary regulation, provide incentives for cost containment, and at the same time provide safeguards to the citizens of the state. It is in the best interests of the citizens of this state to create a Department of Health with the authority to deal with issues of cost and access in this manner.

Executive Authority

In addition to not addressing the health-specific issues listed above, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1324 includes certain administrative mandates which are more appropriately addressed through the authority of the executive. These include organizational structure, processes for communication between state agencies, and placement of agency programs. The governor is charged with ensuring that the laws of this state are faithfully executed. If these mandates were to be enacted, the executive would be constrained in the ability to carry out the constitutional duties of office with regard to administration of the Department of Health.

Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1324 goes beyond identifying goals and objectives for the department. It sets forth organizational structures and precepts which once enacted would become cumbersome. This micro-management of the executive branch through legislation is not acceptable.

Organizational Structure (subsection 2 of section 103)

I have long supported the organizational concepts contained in this subsection. In fact, I proposed these concepts as the goals and objectives for the department. However, mandating an organizational structure limits the executive's administrative abilities. These are concepts and theories of organization which are inappropriate as legislative mandates.

Communication Between Agencies (subsection 2 of section 301)

As a result of concerns raised by one of the health profession boards about the ability of the board to effectively interact with an agency, I proposed that the new Department of Health be required to enter into written operating agreements with all such boards. It is my intent that these agreements provide accountability to the boards, for the department's administration of the boards' policies, goals, and objectives.

The Legislature managed to take the proposal for written operating agreements and make it unworkable by requiring that these agreements be jointly promulgated in rule. This is an inappropriate use of the Administrative Procedure Act, and a step which would result in unnecessary administrative expense and costly litigation. The executive can ensure that the boards and the department reach agreement on issues of administrative support without the public expense and burden of jointly promulgating rules.

Parent-Child Health Services (subsection 6 of section 201)

Another of my priorities for this legislative session is the First Steps Initiative. This is a comprehensive children's program that would be implemented by various divisions of the Department of Social and Health Services, including the Bureau of Parent-Child Health Services. It is imperative that this bureau remain within DSHS at least until the First Steps program is operational.

The Department of Health proposal is the largest reorganization effort undertaken in many years. The Department includes a number of different programs, some of which are social service in nature. It is more appropriate to analyze each of the programs before making a decision to transfer them to the Department of Health. This includes the Bureau of Parent-Child Health Services which I believe would be more appropriately retained within the Department of Social and Health Services at this time. I am committed to carefully reviewing the Bureau of Parent-Child Health Services' programs and making recommendations to the Legislature as to the appropriate administrative agency for each of those programs.

I envision a Department of Health that will allow Washington State to be progressive in its involvement in health issues. This will require responsibility for the full breadth of health issues: classic public health, quality assurance, cost containment, policy planning, and access. This will allow Washington State to address the health of the state as a whole, and not in a compartmentalized fashion as it does now. This department will have an improved ability to assess available data, develop policy with public involvement, and assure action. This Department of Health will have the public's interest in mind: consumer protection, consumer empowerment, public involvement in policy development, and assurance of public health. The Department of Health I envision is not just a reorganization of state government, but a new way for the state to be involved in the health of the state.

The Department of Health created by Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1324 is a department of the past. It is only a department of public health and regulation.

In taking this action today, I urge you to join me in my vision of a comprehensive, progressive Department of Health. There is still time left in this legislative session to negotiate a bill that will be acceptable to us all.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 2, Engrossed House Bill No. 1334 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to senior citizens volunteering in the schools."

Section 1 creates the six-plus-sixty volunteer program to encourage senior citizens to volunteer in our public schools. Section 2 requires the Superintendent of Public Instruction to develop a model intergenerational child care program. Both the Superintendent of Public Instruction and I support these programs as outlined. The six-plus-sixty program is permissive and allows the superintendent to develop the program if monies are available. The model child care program in section 2 is mandated without any funds available and, therefore, the program cannot achieve its expected result.

With the exception of section 2, Engrossed House Bill No. 1334 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 1 and 5, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1369 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the repair of waterfront sewer systems."

Section 1 states the intent of the Legislature that owners of single-family salt waterfront residences be allowed to expand, remodel, or rebuild their homes by upgrading their sewage disposal systems or replacing them with modern effective systems. Existing on-site systems for homes on salt waterfront properties pose significant water quality problems for both ground water and for Puget Sound. This problem will only become aggravated as more individuals and families seek to expand, repair, or rebuild their homes, thereby placing additional pressures on these inadequate on-site systems. There is clearly a question as to whether modern systems are or can be effective given the sensitive water quality issues at stake. This is a question that needs detailed examination by local county health officials, the Department of Social and Health Services, the Department of Ecology and the State Board of Health.

Section 5 directs the appropriate committees of the House and Senate to investigate on-site systems and to report to their respective houses at the 1991 Legislature. House and Senate committees do not need statutory authority to report to their respective chambers.

Under this bill, the Legislature sets effluent standards to be met by new on-site disposal systems. These standards will take effect November 1, 1989, unless the State Board of Health adopts regulations, which may be more restrictive than stipulated in the bill, by that date. The bill also provides local government with authority to adopt more restrictive regulations for on-site disposal systems.

With the exception of sections 1 and 5, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1369 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 4, Substitute House Bill No. 1397 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to water use efficiency and conservation."

The definition of "water use efficiency" contained in section 4 uses the concepts and terminology utilized in the energy conservation arena. I agree that the work done with respect to energy conservation should be the model for use in water conservation. However, the definition contained in this bill does not match the concept utilized by the Northwest Power Planning Council.

The federal legislation which introduced the successful implementation of this concept is the Northwest Power Act. That act makes explicit and repeated provision for consideration of environmental values. For example, the Northwest Power Act provides that costs include "such quantifiable environmental costs and benefits as the Administrator determines.....are directly attributable to such measure or resource." The federal legislation further provides for methods to determine quantifiable environmental costs and benefits.

To assure conformity with existing state laws, such as the State Environmental Policy Act, the Department of Ecology must interpret "water use efficiency" to require explicit consideration of environmental and other public costs of efficiency measures and of alternative sources of water supply.

In the absence of a statutory definition, the Department of Ecology shall interpret the term "water use efficiency" in a manner which is consistent with existing state law and based on the least cost approach used by the Northwest Power Planning Council.

With the exception of section 4, Substitute House Bill No. 1397 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Engrossed House Bill No. 1412 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to remembrance tabs for honorably discharged veterans."

This bill permits veterans to purchase license tabs for five dollars each, depicting the United States flag and an insignia representing the time period of their service. The intent is to allow a veteran to commemorate his or her service to our country.

Currently, front registration tabs which indicate year and month of renewal are being reinstated by the Department of Licensing at the request of the Washington State Patrol. Money to fund this reinstatement is in the budget. The space available on the front license plate does not allow for the placement of both veteran commemorative tabs and year/month tabs. A veto of this legislation is necessary due to the space limitations of the plates and the visual difficulty extraneous tabs would pose for law enforcement personnel.

I have instructed the Department of Licensing, the Washington State Patrol and the Department of Veterans Affairs to work with veterans' groups in developing an alternative method of recognition for our veterans.

For the reasons stated above, I am vetoing Engrossed House Bill No. 1412 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 4, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 4, 15, and 16, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1444 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to students at risk."

I requested this bill as a part of my effort to restructure our public education system and improve student performance. Most of the bill will improve the ability of the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and local school districts to respond to the diverse needs of students at risk of dropping out of high school.

Under the learning assistance program, as student's test scores improve, school districts receive less funds. Section 4 of the bill attempts to eliminate this disincentive. Unfortunately, a technical drafting error creates both confusion and potentially higher program costs.

Section 6 provides a broad prohibition on the use of tobacco products on public school property. I strongly support the goal of reducing the number of children who become addicted to cigarettes and other tobacco products which cause health problems. Although there have been some concerns raised about the ban, the provision does have an effective date of September 1, 1991. The delay will allow local districts to plan for implementation and allow the legislature the opportunity to address any technical concerns, such as whether it applies to property leased to private parties, before the effective date. Hence, I have decided not to remove this section.

Section 15 requires the Superintendent of Public Instruction to establish an awards program related to outcomes-based education programs. Although I support the concept of establishing an awards program for outcomes-based education programs, this section is overly specific and directive. I have retained the appropriation in section 18 to allow the Superintendent of Public Instruction to design an awards program for the recognition of schools in school districts that have shown significant and continuous improvement in student basic skills performance as well as other desired outcomes identified by the school district and community.

Section 16 requires the Superintendent of Public Instruction to develop a model curriculum for an outcomes-based health and physical education learning assistance education program. No funds are provided for this activity in the bill or in the House or Senate draft budgets.

With the exception of sections 4, 15, and 16, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1444 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 13, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14, Second Substitute House Bill No. 1476 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the development of marketplace programs."

This legislation establishes both the Washington Marketplace Program and the Office of Capital Projects in the Department of Trade and Economic Development. Sections 1 through 4 codify the successful pilot Washington Marketplace Program currently operated by the department. Through this program the department will work with organizations in communities to help local businesses find new markets for their products.

The provisions of sections 5 through 14 would establish the Office of Capital Projects in the department to assist businesses in the state to increase their participation in large capital construction projects. This office would assist firms in the formation of business consortia to compete for large-scale capital projects.

The concept that the state should increase its role in assisting state firms to compete more effectively in international markets is an important one. New efforts by the federal government and by the international community to open international markets for capital construction projects may well provide additional opportunities for state firms. There may well be a useful role to be played by the state in assisting firms to respond to new opportunities in these markets. However, the lack of any funds to support this new function leads me to veto sections 5 through 14.

With the exception of sections 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14, Second Substitute House Bill No. 1476 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 12, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 202(2), Substitute House Bill No. 1479 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the budget."

My reason for vetoing this portion of the 1987-89 supplemental budget is as follows:

Section 202(2) restricts the amount that the Department of Social and Health Services may transfer into the General Assistance-Unemployable (GA-U) program. The GA-U caseload will experience significant growth in the last two months of the current biennium because of the Thurston County Superior Court's April 24, 1989 ruling directing that clients who are terminated from ADATSA shelter receive GA-U until they are assessed for GA-U eligibility. The Department of Social and Health Services has estimated the cost of this caseload growth will be $1.7 million. The proviso in section 202(2) restricts the transfer to the estimated amount. The estimate is not precise, however.

The ADATSA shelter program has experienced volatile and unpredictable caseload growth, and it is difficult to predict the cost of shifting that population to GA-U. If the actual cost exceeds the estimate by any amount, the Department would have to impose a ratable reduction to remain within appropriated funds. It is not possible for the Department to implement a ratable reduction this late in the biennium. Furthermore, the other clients on GA-U, with physical and mental disabilities, would be faced with a sudden and unanticipated reduction in their living allowances. The Department must have unrestricted transfer authority in order to fund the actual cost of the GA-U caseload at the close of the biennium.

With the exception of section 202(2), Substitute House Bill No. 1479 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 8, Substitute House Bill No. 1547 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to medical support enforcement."

Section 8 of this bill incorrectly amends RCW 26.23.050 which was also amended by section 15 of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1635. To avoid confusion, I am vetoing section 8 of this bill.

With the exception of section 8, Substitute House Bill No. 1547 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Engrossed House Bill No. 1552, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to mobile home tenant lot fees."

The provisions of Engrossed House Bill 1552 amend existing law regarding the collection of the fee charged to mobile home park tenants and mobile home park owners to fund the Office of Mobile Home Affairs administered by the Department of Community Development. These provisions contradict provisions contained in sections 6, 7 and 8 of Engrossed Substitute House Bill 2136, which I am signing today.

Both section 1, the only section of Engrossed House Bill 1552, and section 7 of Engrossed Substitute House Bill 2136, amend RCW 59.22.060. In addition, sections 6 and 8 of Engrossed Substitute House Bill 2136 impact the same provisions in a manner inconsistent with Engrossed House Bill 1552. Sections 6 and 8 direct county treasurers to collect an administrative fee to fund the Office of Mobile Home Affairs, plus a separate fee instituted to generate revenue for a new Mobile Home Park Relocation Fund.

In order to eliminate contradictory provisions contained in these two pieces of legislation, I am vetoing Engrossed House Bill No. 1552 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Substitute House Bill No. 1582 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to child care."

This bill allows before and after school child care programs provided by school districts to qualify for employment day care funds, but exempts them from licensure requirements. Presently, the Department of Social and Health Services requires such programs to be certified as meeting licensing standards before receiving funds. This bill would remove the agency's authority to guarantee that these funds are used in programs that meet minimal standards under which private day care providers must operate.

Originally, this bill would have created pilot programs for school districts to provide low-income families with child care services. It is essential that we increase access to child care services for low income families to promote economic independence. Such access is a key element of the Family Independence Program. However, these programs must also ensure that children receive quality care and this is a duty of the Department of Social and Health Services.

For the reasons stated above, I am vetoing Substitute House Bill No. 1582 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 2, 14, 26, 27, and 28, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1619 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to alcoholism and other drug addiction."

These five sections each conflict with amendments to the same statutes which are made in Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1793, the Omnibus Drug Act, and Substitute Senate Bill No. 5469. This bill is a housekeeping recodification bill, while the Omnibus Drug Act and Substitute Senate Bill No. 5469 contain substantive modifications reflecting legislative policy changes. Therefore, I am vetoing these sections to avoid conflict and confusion.

Section 2 of this bill amends RCW 70.96A.010 which is also amended by section 304 of E2SHB 1793. Section 35 (22) repeals RCW 70.96.150 which is amended by section 308 of E2SHB 1793. In addition, section 14 of this bill provides a new section that is similar to the first paragraph of section 308 of E2SHB 1793 but lacks the new second paragraph. I have signed SHB 1619 first to avoid repealing the amended language in section 308 of E2SHB 1793. Section 26 of this bill amends RCW 70.96A.120 which is also amended by section 306 of E2SHB 1793. Section 27 of this bill amends RCW 70.96A.140 which is also amended by section 307 of E2SHB 1793. Section 28 of this bill amends RCW 70.96A.150 which conflicts with section 1 of SSB 5469 which I have already signed.

With the exception of sections 2, 14, 26, 27, and 28, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1619 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 25, Substitute House Bill No. 1630, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to clarifying the property classification of manufactured homes."

Section 25 of Substitute House Bill No. 1630 amends the definition of "mobile home" contained in RCW 82.50.010. Section 20 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5443 amends the same statute. The definition contained in section 20 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5443 is more comprehensive than that contained in section 25 of Substitute House Bill No. 1630. To avoid confusion, I have vetoed section 25 of this bill.

With the exception of section 25, Substitute House Bill No. 1630 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 38, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1635 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to support enforcement."

This bill was submitted at the request of the Department of Social and Health Services to clarify and strengthen support enforcement procedures.

Section 38 was amended to create a process for petitioning courts to require an accounting of support payment expenditures. Although the procedural requirements of this section are intended to protect receiving parents from frivolous charges and harassment, I believe the result of these changes could encourage an increase in such behavior.

Accountings can be required under section 15 of this Act which amends RCW 26.23.050. It allows Superior Court support orders to state that a receiving parent may be required to submit an accounting of support payment expenditures. This language allows the court to order an accounting without the potential for harassment contained in section 38.

With the exception of section 38, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1635 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 13, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, and 17, Engrossed House Bill No. 1645 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the relationship between motor vehicle dealers and manufacturers."

Engrossed House Bill No. 1645 creates a separate regulatory process to monitor the relationship between motor vehicle dealers and manufacturers. The bill provides procedures for filing with the Department of Licensing any dispute between a dealer and manufacturer regarding location, relocation, cancellation, or non-renewal of a franchise.

This bill addresses many of the inequities in the contractual relationships state motor vehicle dealers have had with manufacturers. The sections being enacted provide a new balance between dealers and manufacturers which should promote healthier franchises, clarify agreements, and encourage action in good faith by both parties, with benefits to the public interest of consumers.

However, sections 12 through 17 allow creation of geographic "relevant market areas." This would permit a dealer of new vehicles to intervene against a manufacturer's actions for location or relocation of a new franchise of the "same line make of motor vehicle" within a ten-mile radius in urban areas or within a fifteen-mile radius in areas where the population of the county is less than four hundred thousand. This language interferes with the competitive nature of the market. It provides a significant procedural and economic limitation to entry in the market as well as promoting higher prices. The burden of proof to establish "good cause" for the new or relocated dealership is on the manufacturer and there is no consumer representative in the process.

A 1986 study conducted by the Federal Trade Commission, entitled "The Effect of State Entry Regulation on Retail Automobile Markets," estimates that the impact of similar market area restrictions can be as much as a seven percent increase in the average price of new cars in areas experiencing urban population growth.

Government must be careful not to interfere with the market flow of commercial transactions and to ensure that any necessary interference not compromise the public interest. In past veto messages, I have indicated my concerns about establishing market areas for new motorcycle franchise dealers (1985 - Substitute Senate Bill No. 3333) and motor vehicle fuel dealers (1986 - Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4620). Both measures had the effect of significantly inhibiting competition, which would adversely affect the consuming public. I remain convinced that the public does not benefit from this type of market interference.

With the exception of sections 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, and 17, Engrossed House Bill No. 1645 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 14, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 1, 3, and 4, House Bill No. 1656 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to regulation of the sale of lands."

I vetoed similar language contained in Substitute Senate Bill No. 5208, because the interests of purchasers were not adequately protected.

The Legislature responded by making changes to sections 2 and 5, so I am approving those sections today. However, sections 1, 3 and 4 still substantially limit the rights of individual condominium purchasers.

Section 1 is related to public offering statements. It states that an interest in a condominium is not a security for state regulatory purposes, under RCW 21.20, if the seller delivers to the purchaser a copy of the securities and exchange commission public offering statement. State security provisions do apply to an interest in a condominium in some cases. This section exempts a developer from having to give the carefully tailored public offering statement required by state law to purchasers. Purchasers need the information in the more detailed state public offering statement, since developers are given expanded rights to do phased projects and to control the homeowners' associations during the phasing.

Section 3 limits the time in which a purchaser can take action for breach of a warranty of quality. Purchasers must take action within four years of the time they take possession, regardless of when the defect is discovered.

Furthermore, the statute of limitations can possibly be interpreted to run four years after common elements are completed, regardless of when a purchaser buys into the project. I urge the Legislature to look at the interrelationship of purchasers' rights and the expanded rights of developers to ensure a balance. Under current case law, purchasers have three years from the date a construction defect is discovered, or should reasonably have been discovered, to bring an action. Hence it offers more protection to purchasers.

Section 4 leaves unclear when a conveyance is completed for purposes of determining when the risk of loss shifts to the purchaser, determining when the statute of limitations begins to run, and ascertaining when the seller has a right to the purchase funds. Under current case law, the risk of property loss shifts to the purchaser at the time of conveyance, and the statute of limitations on certain actions against the builder under state law begins to run from the time of conveyance. Note, the provisions in the Uniform Condominium Act (UCA) requires a developer to file a certificate of substantial completion before the conveyance occurs. I believe current case law offers more protection for the purchaser, but recommend the Legislature consider adopting the provision in the UCA.

With the exception of sections 1, 3, and 4, House Bill No. 1656 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 15, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 7, 14, 44, 105, and 106, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1671 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to solid waste."

This is landmark legislation. It is a major step forward in solid waste management and is entirely consistent with my explicitly stated goal that this state do far more in the area of waste reduction and recycling.

This bill makes significant changes in the way this state manages solid waste. Specifically, the thrust of this bill is to move solid waste management toward waste reduction and recycling in order to provide greater environmental protection and to minimize costly cleanup of environmental problems. Over the last two years, the Joint Select Committee for Preferred Solid Waste Management has examined this issue thoroughly and this legislation is the result of effort. The bill puts into place mechanisms to ensure that waste reduction and recycling is treated as a priority and implemented in order to minimize reliance on incineration and landfills. It establishes as a fundamental strategy the segregation of waste at its source in order to clean out of the waste stream those materials that have resource value, and to segregate those wastes which pose particular environmental hazards for proper management.

However, I have found it necessary to veto a number of sections of this bill. Section 7 removes a requirement in current statute that any city preparing an independent solid waste management plan must provide for disposal sites wholly within its jurisdiction. There has been a very long debate, involving many complex issues, over the proper county-city roles in the area of solid waste management. I am concerned that section 7 is inconsistent with the intent expressed in section 1 which is to encourage regional solutions.

Section 14 amends RCW 35.21.120 and makes technical changes clarifying city authority over solid waste handling. However, the same technical changes to RCW 35.21.120 were also made in section 1 of Substitute House Bill No. 1568. To avoid confusion, I am vetoing section 14.

Section 44 exempts business establishments from paying the B&O tax on the value of core deposits or credits on returnable products such as batteries, starters, brakes and other products. These deposits constitute gross proceeds and, in Washington, gross proceeds are taxed. Further, the reference to "other products with returnable value" is unqualified and potentially opens up a broad category of unknown products which are exempt from the B&O tax. I do not believe the incentive to recycle most of the currently discussed items will be impacted by the taxable status of the returnable value. For these reasons I am vetoing section 44.

Section 105 states that the Department of Ecology may give grants to local governments for regional facilities to manage wastes on an integrated waste management basis. This section duplicates the direction provided in section 1 that regional solutions be encouraged. Section 105 also directs the Department to give grants for integrated waste facilities; however, the Department already has this authority under current law. Finally, this section directs the Department to spend public funds on landfills and incineration facilities -- clearly designated in Engrossed Substitute House Bill 1671 as lower waste management priorities -- which possibly might come at the expense of the higher waste management priorities. By vetoing this section, I do not intend to compromise movement toward regional cooperation and facilities; clearly, section 1(7) of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1671 states that regional solutions and intergovernmental cooperation are required if we are to solve this state's solid waste management problems.

Section 106 states that a facility that achieves an integrated waste management strategy, and which receives a substantial volume of waste from a region, shall be provided flexibility by local government preparing a solid waste management plan. The thrust of this amendment is inconsistent with the objectives of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1671. First, there are not several waste management priorities. There is a priority among them, and clearly the bill, as well as current statute, states that waste reduction and recycling are of the highest order. Second, the reference, "provided flexibility," suggests that a facility has some added leeway to depart from the reduction and recycling element which Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1671 requires to be adopted as part of each local government's solid waste management plan. The apparent inconsistency of this section with the overall intent of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1671, and the ambiguity and the public policy implications warrant a veto of section 106.

With the exception of sections 7, 14, 44, 105, and 106, I am pleased to sign Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1671.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 2 and 5, Substitute House Bill No. 1711 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to establishing a crime prevention employee training program in businesses operating during late night hours."

This bill will enhance security for employees of businesses that are open late at night, through physical safety specifications and educational programs. I applaud the intent of the bill and most of its provisions.

Section 2, however, would require that crime prevention programs be developed or certified by the Department of Labor and Industries. This would impose a significant cost on the Department, which is not funded. It would also involve the Department in the establishment of specific crime prevention procedures for individual establishments, a function that is more appropriately performed by the employer.

Crime prevention training can be a meaningful factor in reducing risks to employees who work late at night and in the early hours of the morning. I believe this is an essential protection for workers. While I am vetoing section 2, I am also asking the Department of Labor and Industries to adopt rules to require employers to develop appropriate instruction programs.

Section 5 references section 2, which I have vetoed. This section is also objectionable. It runs contrary to the fundamental intent of the Washington Industrial Safety and Health Act by shifting responsibility for training from the employer to the employee. For these reasons, I have also vetoed section 5.

With the exception of sections 2 and 5, Substitute House Bill No. 1711 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 14, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1737 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to crime victims compensation."

There are areas where government should act with restraint. These areas are delineated by the constitutions of the United States and the State of Washington. Both unequivocally protect freedom of speech and artistic expression as set forth in a long line of state and federal court cases defining First Amendment rights.

The provisions in sections 9, 10, 11 and 12 of this bill are unacceptable intrusions of these rights. These sections impose excise taxes on adult entertainment materials and services significantly higher than the tax already imposed on other similar retail materials, i.e. eighteen percent higher. While I can understand citizens' feelings about pornographic material, there are several major difficulties associated with this revenue source. The first is the intrusion into freedom of speech, which is manifested by these sections. This is dubious public policy, and would almost certainly be challenged in court. Such a challenge must be considered as having a high likelihood of success, if not a certainty, and would entail significant litigation expenses for the state. I believe the Legislature publicly acknowledged these concerns when it decided not to use this tax as a funding source on Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1793.

Second, administration of this tax would be extremely difficult. Potentially, the Department of Revenue would be required to specifically list all services, magazines, video tapes, etc., which are subject to this tax. Closely related to this will be a taxpayer compliance problem. Given the nature of the materials being taxed, it is reasonable to assume that compliance will be at a much lower level than with other types of retail sales. Additionally, mail order sources may be substituted for in-state sales. In either case, audit expenses associated with this tax are likely to be very high. Given these difficulties plus the high probability of incurring litigation expenses in a defense of these new taxes, I must veto sections 9 through 12.

Section 8 of this bill would require the Office of Financial Management to conduct a study of the Public Safety and Education Account by December 1, 1989. The bill specifies a number of items that are to be included in the study and would require a comprehensive look at a complex area of state government. The bill, however, does not provide an appropriation for the study.

The type of study that is anticipated by this section cannot be conducted within available resources. The Office of Financial Management, along with the Department of Labor and Industries, has been studying this issue on a more limited basis as resources permit, and will continue to do so. For this reason, I have vetoed section 8.

With the exception of sections 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1737 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

For Veto Message on SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1774, see page 2330.

May 13, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 2, Engrossed House Bill No. 1778 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the business and occupation tax on nonprofit trade and professional organizations for convention, educational seminar and trade show registration income."

Engrossed House Bill No. 1778 creates a specific exemption for income received by nonprofit organizations for trade shows and educational seminars. No other state besides Washington treats this type of income in the way that our current law does. This creates a competitive disadvantage for these organizations and entities operating facilities which host these events.

Section 2 would make the provisions of section 1 effective on July 1, 1991. In making changes that affect the state's revenues, it is sound public policy to recognize the effect of the changes in the same biennium that the legislation is passed. Where possible, these costs should not be pushed forward into future biennia.

With the exception of section 2, Engrossed House Bill No. 1778 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 7, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 107, Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1793 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to alcohol and controlled substances abuse."

This omnibus bill represents a major accomplishment by the Legislature in working to address the serious and pressing issue of substance abuse in our state and society. The Legislature is to be commended for its efforts to address this issue in a comprehensive fashion. It also contains the essence of five Governor-request bills which address this issue.

Section 107 of the bill would prohibit and force closure of needle exchange programs, currently operating in Tacoma and Seattle which are a means to reduce HIV/AIDS transmission and encourage treatment referral. These model programs have received national attention for their innovative and credible management of the needle exchange. Both programs are operated and strictly controlled by local public health authorities and are structured to accommodate maximum research benefit. I do not condone use of illegal drugs or their taking by intravenous means. The reality is that these programs have very little potential for encouraging more illegal drug use but a very high potential for limiting the spread of serious and deadly diseases which impact not only the persons involved but others. For both humane and economic reasons, we must do everything we can to halt the spread of AIDS.

With the exception of section 107, Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1793 is approved

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 11, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 8 and 9, Engrossed House Bill No. 1802 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the court of appeals."

Under existing law, Superior Court judges are considered employees of the state and the county within which they preside and receive half of their salary from each. As a result of this dual status, they are eligible for medical benefits provided by both the state and their respective counties, if the county chooses to provide such coverage. A recent survey indicated that 18 of the state's 39 counties provide some form of medical benefit for Superior Court judges ranging from self-pay supplemental coverage to full benefits.

Sections 8 and 9 of this bill would exclude Superior Court judges whose benefits are provided by the state from the definition of employees eligible for county medical benefits. The apparent purpose of these amendments is to prevent judges from receiving full-blown, dual medical benefits from counties if they also receive state benefits, thereby avoiding the cost of dual coverage. This makes good fiscal sense.

However, the bill goes beyond simply prohibiting dual benefits. It would also prohibit coverage that some counties have chosen independently to provide, which is only supplemental to the primary state benefit and is no more extensive than coverage provided other county employees. In at least one large county, the supplemental county coverage is provided under a self-pay plan by the judge at no additional cost to the county.

I do not believe that counties should be prevented from entering into such supplemental coverage arrangements for their Superior Court Judges. I would, however, support future legislation similar to sections 8 and 9 that would permit counties the option of providing supplemental coverage if it does not exceed that offered to other county employees. The county could then decide to offer the supplemental coverage at county expense or via self-pay.

With the exception of sections 8 and 9, Engrossed House Bill No. 1802 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 5, Substitute House Bill No. 1854 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to resource damage assessment under the state water pollution control act."

Section 1 states that the Legislature finds that there is confusion regarding the measure of natural resource damages and that the intent of this bill is to clarify existing law.

This intent, however, is contradicted by section 5 which states that the act is intended to apply prospectively only and not retroactively. This will continue the ambiguity contrary to the rule of statutory construction that remedial or clarifying legislation, in civil matters such as this, is intended to apply retroactively.

With the exception of section 5, Substitute House Bill No. 1854 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 12, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 18, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1864 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to quality of care in nursing homes."

Section 18 requires that the Department of Social and Health Services, in cooperation with the state's area agencies on aging, prepare and distribute printed information regarding the availability of long-term care services in the state. In addition, nursing homes are required to make the information available prior to accepting new residents for admission. While there is value in the information required under this section, there is no budget appropriation for the development, printing and distribution of this material.

With the exception of section 18, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1864 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 13, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 1 and 4, Substitute House Bill No. 1889 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to public employee immunity."

Under current law, state officers and employees can be defended by the Attorney General for acts or omissions performed in good faith within their official scope of duties, and the state will bear the cost of the litigation and any judgment or settlement that results. To qualify, the employing agency, after reviewing the facts and circumstances, must recommend that the state assume the responsibility for the defense. The Attorney General then either approves or declines the defense. This process of reviewing and evaluating such cases has proven to be effective. Although the state has rarely declined a defense, the right to decline has been upheld by the Supreme Court in State v. Herrmann, 89 Wn. 2d 349 (1977).

Amendments to RCW 4.92.070 in section 1 of the bill eliminate existing authority of the Attorney General to make a finding regarding whether or not the employee's acts or omissions were in good faith and within the scope of official duties. Additionally, section 1, when compared on a word-for-word basis with the existing statutes repealed by section 4, inappropriately expands and mandates the state via the Attorney General to represent state officers, employees, or volunteers charged with violation of criminal statutes. A review of several instances in which employees have requested criminal defense because they felt their actions were within the scope of their job does not support the need for expanding the present statutes.

The effect of these changes in section 1 would be to modify the law so that a defense by the state is more of an entitlement, with no administrative or executive officer being expressly empowered to determine eligibility or lack thereof. The current law has worked well. It has served the interests of both the state and its employees and has provided for the defense of employees in civil rights actions for alleged violations of 42 U.S.C. Sec. 1981 or 1983. I therefore see no valid reason to change the process.

Sections 2 and 3 of the bill represent important substantive additions to the law. They require the state to indemnify and hold harmless employees who are acting within the scope of their duties when the action that gave rise to the liability or civil or criminal lawsuit occurred. They also require judgment creditors in actions against employees to seek satisfaction of judgment only from the state.

With the exception of sections 1 and 4, Substitute House Bill No. 1889 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 3, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 17 and 27, Substitute House Bill No. 1894, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to technical changes in chapter 18.29 and 18.32 RCW."

RCW 43.03.240 specifically designates all part-time boards which perform regulatory or licensing functions with respect to a specific profession, occupation, business, or industry as Class Three Groups for purposes of compensation. Members of boards classified as Class Three Groups receive up to $50 for each day during which the member attends an official meeting or performs statutorily prescribed duties. Both the Board of Dental Examiners and the Dental Disciplinary Board are included in the definition of the part-time boards under RCW 43.03.240 which is the Class Three reimbursement and compensation statute.

Sections 17 and 27 of Substitute House Bill No. 1894 attempt to change the compensation of the Board of Dental Examiners and the Dental Disciplinary Board by amending their respective practice acts to refer to RCW 43.03.250 which authorizes reimbursement of $100 per day. Enactment of these two sections would clearly be in conflict with the statutory criteria contained in RCW 43.03.240 which says a Class Three Board "performs regulatory or licensing functions with respect to a specific profession". Both boards fit within their existing Class Three ranking. Additionally, the Office of Financial Management, pursuant to a statutory requirement, reviewed all part-time board's compensation and reported to the legislature in November 1988. This report is under consideration by the respective legislative committees.

With the exception of sections 17 and 27, Substitute House Bill No. 1894 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

April 20, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Engrossed House Bill No. 1909, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to abandoned property held by local governments."

Engrossed House Bill No. 1909 provides that a local government holding abandoned intangible property that is not forwarded to the Department of Revenue may transfer the money to its current expense fund after it is determined to be abandoned. The original intent of this bill was to clarify the record retention process for such property under the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act.

That intent, however, became unclear after the bill was amended. I am advised that the bill could now be interpreted to allow local governments to retain unclaimed property that should be turned over to the State. Even though that may not have been the intent of the measure, I am unwilling to risk the possibility of such and interpretation.

For that reason, I have vetoed Engrossed House Bill No. 1909 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 5 and 6, Engrossed House Bill No. 1917 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the licensing and certification of real estate appraisers."

I support the approach in the bill to certify real estate appraisers. It is a voluntary certification program, which is the lowest level of regulation that will meet the anticipated need. It is also structured suitably, with the Department of Licensing responsible for actual certification and administration, assisted by an advisory board.

There are, however, several problems with the creation of the real estate appraiser certification board. I have expressed my concern with the proliferation of permanent statutory boards on numerous occasions. I believe that these boards create confusion in the public's mind and reduce government's accountability to the people. There are relatively few advisory functions that cannot be performed by temporary, nonstatutory bodies appointed by agency directors.

I am also concerned with the ambiguity surrounding this board's ability to conduct administrative hearings. The Administrative Procedure Act already specifies a hearings procedure in some detail. I think it advisable to use this procedure for hearings on real estate appraiser certification issues as it is used for numerous other matters.

Because I think advice from the public and industry representatives is indispensable to state agencies with regulatory responsibilities, I am asking the Director of the Department of Licensing to appoint an advisory body under existing statutory authority.

This partial veto will leave a number of inaccurate references in the remaining portions of the bill which should be corrected by the Legislature.

With the exception of sections 5 and 6, Engrossed House Bill No. 1917 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 5, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 2 and 10, Substitute House Bill No. 1958 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to board membership and licensing requirements."

RCW 43.03.240 specifically designates all part-time boards which perform regulatory or licensing functions with respect to a specific profession, occupation, business, or industry as class three groups for purposes of compensation. Members of boards classified as class three groups receive up to $50 for each day during which the member attends an official meeting or performs statutorily prescribed duties. Both the Board of Chiropractic Examiners and the Chiropractic Disciplinary Board are included in the definition of the part-time boards under RCW 43.03.240.

Sections 2 and 10 of Substitute House Bill No. 1958 attempt to change the compensation of the Board of Chiropractic Examiners and the Chiropractic Disciplinary Board by amending their respective practice acts to refer to RCW 43.03.250. Enactment of these two sections would clearly be in conflict with RCW 43.03.240.

Additionally, the Office of Financial Management, pursuant to a statutory requirement, reviewed all part-time boards and reported to the Legislature in November, 1988. This report is under consideration by the respective legislative committees. This is the appropriate forum to consider changes in compensation for all boards within a class or changes in language to recategorize groups of boards from one class to another.

With the exception of sections 2 and 10, Substitute House Bill No. 1958 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 25, 29, 34 and 35, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1968 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to long term care."

Section 25 requires the Department of Social and Health Services to promulgate rules regarding adult family home resident rights, but limits the rules by requiring them to be "equal" to those already in place. Senior advocates and caregivers may recommend the expansion or modification of resident rights, and the department would be prohibited from responding under this language.

Section 29 requires the department to create a written training program for adult family home operators and to report to the Legislature. No appropriation is made to carry out the requirements of this section.

Section 34 repeals the rule-making authority the department needs to regulate congregate care facilities.

Section 35 is a preemptive zoning statute that designates residential facilities serving up to 15 persons as permitted uses under local zoning statutes. The language is overly broad and vague as written and may present a problem to local governments. The Legislature will receive a report from all local governments on the need for these facilities in 1990.

With the exception of sections 25, 29, 34 and 35, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1968 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 21, Substitute House Bill No. 1983 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to contempt of court."

Section 21 of this act amends RCW 26.09.160, which is also amended by section 1 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6009. That measure substantially revises statutes relating to custodial interference and failure to adhere to the residential provisions of parenting agreements. In order to avoid confusion, I have vetoed section 21 of this act.

With the exception of section 21, Substitute House Bill No. 1983 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 6, House Bill No. 2010 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to permitting hunting by nonambulatory disabled persons."

Current law prohibits hunters from carrying a loaded weapon in a motor vehicle and prohibits hunting from a non-highway vehicle or snowmobile. This legislation would give disabled hunters the opportunity to hunt by allowing hunting from a non-highway vehicle or snowmobile.

This legislation sets good policy regarding the enhancement of the hunting opportunities for disabled persons. The need to veto section 6 relates solely to an inconsistency. Existing law prohibits hunting from, across or along the maintained portion of a public highway. It is stated in new section 2, "No hunting shall be permitted from a motor vehicle that is parked on or beside the maintained portion of a public road." Yet section 6 implies that disabled hunters may shoot from, across or along public highways. To remove this inconsistency, it is necessary to veto section 6, which then leaves the current prohibition in place.

With the exception of section 6, House Bill No. 2010 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 4, 6, and 7, Substitute House Bill No. 2024 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to regulatory fairness."

Section 4 of Substitute House Bill No. 2024 imposes new notification requirements on state agencies when they are developing rules that affect small businesses. There are four separate notification procedures specified in the section. Because of the way the section is drafted, agencies could be subject to legal challenge if they did not notify by all sections which apply to a given business. The language is subject to two interpretations due to the fact the word "and" is used at the end of subsection 3, rather than "or."

These new procedures would be in addition to the expanded notification and public access requirements mandated by the new Administrative Procedure Act

(APA) under RCW 34.05. That act will go into effect in July of this year. The new APA mandates advance notice of rule making through the state register, authorizes agency solicitation of comments from the public on proposed rules, encourages the creation of committees to discuss rules in advance of official notice, requires the creation of a rule-making docket in each agency, and requires agencies to send notices of proposed rule adoptions to any citizen who requests them.

The Legislature, state agencies, the Bar Association, the Attorney General's Office, and interest groups, including representatives of small business, spent four years perfecting the new APA, including its uniform rule-notice requirements. To create an entirely new set of requirements applicable only to a single special interest group before the APA becomes effective is not necessary. It would also have an unanticipated fiscal impact on many state agencies.

Sections 6 and 7 authorize the Joint Administrative Rules Review Committee to review executive agency compliance with the Regulatory Fairness Act and the sufficiency of small business economic impact statements. Currently, this committee reviews rules for conformance with underlying legislative intent and procedural correctness. To give the committee expanded authority to review the substance of detailed economic impact statements prepared by agencies is beyond the scope of the committee.

Concerns regarding agency compliance with the Regulatory Fairness Act can already be brought before the agency, the Business Assistance Center, and ultimately the courts. To add one more forum to this field is both unnecessary and duplicative.

With the exception of sections 4, 6, and 7, Substitute House Bill No. 2024 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 6, House Bill No. 2060 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the horse racing industry."

The main objective of House Bill No. 2060 is to improve the process by which industrial insurance premiums for the horse racing industry are assessed, and in so doing, to improve the industrial insurance coverage of the horse racing industry as a whole. With the exception of section 6, I fully endorse this bill.

Section 6 requires the House Commerce and Labor Committee and the Senate Economic Development and Labor Committee, in conjunction with the Horse Racing Commission and the Department of Labor and Industries, to conduct a study of industrial insurance coverage of the horse racing industry in general and coverage for jockeys specifically. Although I concur with the Legislature in the need for such a study, I feel that the practice of placing legislative studies into statute is both unnecessary and unwarranted. Although I am vetoing this section, I am directing the Horse Racing Commission and the Department of Labor and Industries to participate and cooperate fully in this study.

With the exception of section 6, House Bill No. 2060 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 11, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 3, Substitute House Bill No. 2070 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the state building code."

The provisions of Substitute House Bill No. 2070 address problems arising from the application of the State Building Code to buildings and structures that are to be moved. Section 3 is not related to this issue in any way. The section would have the effect of requiring the State Building Code Council to adopt rules pursuant to RCW 34.05, the Administrative Procedure Act, for the purpose of proposing a biennial budget for submission to the Office of Financial Management.

This provision would impose an undue and unnecessary administrative burden on the State Building Code Council, the Department of Community Development, and the Office of Financial Management. The provision would not provide additional benefits to the public which would justify the additional administrative requirements. State agencies are not currently required to adopt administrative rules when proposing budgets, as required in this provision, and there is no compelling reason to establish extraordinary requirements to apply to the budget of the State Building Code Council.

The provision would also require the State Building Code Council to adopt rules pursuant to RCW 34.05, the Administrative Procedure Act, regarding changes to codes adopted or amended by the State Building Code and to consider local government amendments to the State Building Code with impact on residential buildings. This provision would be duplicative of provisions of section 3 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5905, which I have signed and which has thereby been enacted into law.

With the exception of section 3, Substitute House Bill No. 2070, is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

May 14, 1989

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 4 and 5, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2137 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to targeted sectors for economic development."

Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2137 establishes new programs in the Department of Trade and Economic Development focused on significant industries in the state facing the prospect of major growth or change. The legislation provides a framework for state action to encourage the competitiveness of these industries. It ensures that the state assist these industries only after taking a careful look at the industry and after consideration of issues such as international markets, training needs, and the availability of financing. It provides a thoughtful and appropriate structure for state activities of this type.

Section 4 of the bill, however, establishes an advisory committee for the program as a whole and subcommittees for each of three targeted industries. While I agree with the need to involve affected industries in the development and operation of programs to address their competitive needs, and while legislative involvement in this process may be valuable, the structure to achieve these ends is administratively cumbersome and overly complex.

I have therefore vetoed Section 4 of the bill. I will, however, ensure that affected industries will be involved in the development and operation of the programs and that such action is consistent with the spirit of Engrossed Substitute House Bill 2137.

Section 5 of the bill provides for a targeted sector program for manufactured wood products in the Department of Trade and Economic Development. I agree that there is a need for state involvement to increase the capacity of our state's wood products firms to manufacture new value-added wood products for domestic and international markets. However, the Legislature has appropriated funds in section 309(8) of this year's operating budget for new activities by the department, in cooperation with the state's wood products industry, to increase the competitiveness of state firms in these markets. The provisions contained in section 5 are duplicative of the budget provisions and would be unnecessarily burdensome.

While vetoing section 5, I will, however, ensure that state activities to increase the competitiveness of the state's manufactured wood products industry are undertaken in a fashion consistent with the thoughtful approach to other industrial sectors as provided for in this legislation.

With the exception of Sections 4 and 5, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2137 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 27, Engrossed House Bill No. 2155 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to technical corrections and clarifications to the parenting act of 1987 and related provisions."

Section 27 of this bill amends RCW 26.09.120, which is also amended in an incompatible manner by section 11 of SHB 1635.

With the exception of section 27, Engrossed House Bill No. 2155 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor.
