POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Representative Moeller: "Thank you Mr. Speaker. As today's activities are winding down, hopefully, I would like to take a brief moment to thank you personally, Mr. Speaker, as our Speaker Pro-Tem and for the leadership you have shown this body over the last three years. For your fairness and for your good humor. It has been a pleasure to have you at the rostrum, quite honestly, for the entire staffing at the rostrum it has been our honor and I just want to take a moment to thank you for that.

Speaker Pro-Tempore Morris: "Whoa, thank you for that. Thank you very much for your kind words Representative Moeller, and soon this will all be yours."

Representative Kessler: "Thank you Mr. Speaker. I know if Speaker Chopp were out here he would like to thank you so much for allowing him to sit in the back of the room while you take care of the floor action. If any of you don't know this, and you probably should, standing up there hour after hour after hour in one spot maintaining the good humor, working well with both sides, I think being very fair I believe you have, you usually hit us as hard as you were hitting the other side. You have done a remarkable job and your stamina up there has been amazing, I know that is not easy, and I know that again, Frank wants to thank you from the bottom of his heart, and so do I. I will miss you but I'm going away. I know you will still be a member of this chamber and you will be sitting there relaxed while the new Speaker Pro Tem's feet are falling off, so thank you for your service up there."

Representative Quall: "Thank you Mr. Speaker. I not only want to acknowledge your fairness and the good tone you set for debate on this floor, but I must share that to my wife Allene, you are her favorite T.V. personality. I might add people talk about fairness, I know how fair he is because he has gaveled me down when I was making a very good point. But again, I want to thank you Representative Morris for your friendship. I get a paycheck today, I want to thank you for your friendship and being a colleague of mine, thank you very much."

Representative Hinkle: Thank you Mr. Speaker. I too would like to join my colleagues in congratulating you and thanking you for your good service and also for the scariest moment I ever had on the House Floor. You called me to the rostrum one day when everyone was retiring and I thought you were making an announcement I didn't know about yet, that maybe you had talked to my wife or something. Your good humor has been fun and I have to admit to some of us, it has been fun to watch the Speaker up there as the debate goes on, and to watch the faces that they make. Now he tries to play poker pretty hard, but once in a while we were able to break him down completely, like we did just now. It's a tough job and you did it well, with dignity and fairness, and to us that is very important. I really appreciate that you were very accessible and when we wanted to storm the rostrum, you looked a little nervous sometimes, but you were very accepting and approachable. We look forward to working with you more this coming session, thank you."

Mr. Speaker: Thank you Mr. Speaker for recognizing me from the back of the chamber. I am speaking on behalf of Representative Kirby and myself, thank you for the wonderful job you have done for all of us, you are tremendous not only for this house, this institution, but for the entire people of the State of Washington who we represent. From the bottom of my heart I really appreciate what you have done, thanks Jeff very much."

Speaker Pro-Tempore Morris: "I don't have a prepared speech but from the bottom of my heart, this is a business of personalities and I've really enjoyed serving all of you up here. Trying to be fair and making the institution run and making sure that we didn't turn into the Taiwan Legislature with fist fights and things being thrown around the chamber. I thought my good seatmate was done getting me all choked up after last session, and the 45th end-of-Quall dinner I had to sit through, I thought I had moved on to acceptance. You have been a great mentor and your comments mean a great deal to me, all of your remarks mean a lot to me. You have all honored me with this position and I look forward to working with you the next two years in a different capacity. Representative Moeller, Speaker Pro-Tem elect, will do an able job and I look forward to hassling him from the floor. Thank you all very much, it has been a pleasure."

SIXTY SECOND LEGISLATURE - REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY

House Chamber, Olympia, Monday, January 10, 2011

The House was called to order at 12:00 Noon by the Chief Clerk, Barbara Baker.

The flags were escorted to the rostrum by the Washington State Patrol Color Guard. The National Anthem was sung by Joel White, Department of Corrections. The Chief Clerk led the Chamber in the Pledge of Allegiance, Prayer was offered by Rabbi Seth Goldstein, Temple Beth Hatfiloh, Olympia.

Rabbi Seth Goldstein: "My friends, a moment for prayer and reflection. We gather once again at this auspicious time on this auspicious day in this auspicious place to do sacred and important work. As we gather this afternoon though our hearts are heavy as we reflect on the recent tragedy in Arizona. An act of senseless hatred has shattered a community and has reverberated around the nation. We are mindful that when civil discourse is replaced by incitement and respectful disagreement is replaced by violent acts we all suffer. We mourn the lives lost and we pray for those injured, including Congresswoman Giffords, an elected official and public servant who was struck down doing the work that many in this room have been called to do, the work of governance and democracy. May this assembly which gathers to do the work of governance be blessed and protected in its charge. May the men and women who meet here be blessed in its pursuit of justice, righteousness and peace and blessed in its pursuit of meeting the needs of the great State of Washington and all of us who call this home. You who are new to this assembly, may the spirit of service which motivated you to pursue this office and brought you here to this hall continue to inspire you in the work ahead. May you adapt quickly to your duty and flourish in your new role. May you be open to learn and to grow. You who return to this assembly, may you continue to ascend in wisdom as you recommit to the tasks at hand. May the experience gained from past service inform your work ahead and may you share your knowledge with those around you, and may you be open to learn and to grow. To all those assembled, as the ancient Jewish Torah teaches, "may you be yielding like the reed and not firm like the cedar, may you have strength to stand by your principles but also the humility to bend and compromise." The times we live in are difficult ones and there is hard work and hard choices ahead. As we begin this journey of governance may we always remember that achieving our ends must never come at the expense of the means, that all of us are God's creatures worthy of being treated with dignity, respect and love, and that we are all responsible for one another and we have the gifts of creativity, civility and compassion to fulfill that responsibility and strive to build a better society. As we begin this work today may we be guided by the words of the Prophet Isaiah, "This is what I desire, to unlock the fetters of wickedness and untie the cords of lawlessness, to free the oppressed and break off every yoke, share your bread with the hungry and take the wretched poor into your home. When you see the naked give clothing and do not ignore your own kin. If you banish the yolk from your midst the menacing hand, the evil speech, if you offer compassion to the hungry and satisfy the famished creature, then your light will shine in the darkness." The words of Isaiah. Then your light will shine in the darkness. So as we begin, we offer this blessing of thanks appropriate for all new milestones and endeavors. Barukh atah Adonai, Eloheynu Melech Ha'olam, Shecheheyanu, vekiyemanu, vehigiyanu lazman hazeh. We offer our blessings and gratitude to you, the source of all light, the spirit which animates the universe who has given us life, who has sustained us and brought us to this important time. Amen."

The Chief Clerk called upon Representative Appleton and Representative Elect Rivers to escort Chief Justice Barbara Madsen of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington to the Rostrum.

When a question has been postponed indefinitely, it shall not again be introduced during the session. The motion to postpone indefinitely may be made at any stage of the bill except when on first reading.

(D) MOTIONS DECIDED WITHOUT DEBATE. A motion to adjourn, to recess, to lay on the table and to call for the previous question shall be decided without debate. All incidental motions shall be decided without debate, except that members may speak to points of order and appeal as provided in Rule 22.

Motions to adopt house resolutions shall be decided without debate, except as provided in Rule 10(F).

A motion for suspension of the rules shall not be debatable except that the mover of the motion may briefly explain the purpose of the motion and one member may briefly state the opposition to the motion.

(E) MOTION TO ADJOURN. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when the house is voting or is working under the call of the house; but this rule shall not authorize any member to move for adjournment when another member has the floor.

Members Right to Debate

Rule 16. The methods by which a member may exercise his or her right to debate are as follows:

(A) RECOGNITION OF MEMBER. When any member desires to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the house, the member shall rise and respectfully address the speaker and pause until recognized.

(B) ORDER OF SPEAKING. When two or more members arise at once, the speaker shall name the one who is to speak.

(C) LIMITATION OF DEBATE. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the house: PROVIDED, That the chair of the committee or the mover of the question may close debate if it is consistent with Rule 18 (Previous Question).

Rules of Debate

Rule 17. The rules for debate in the house are as follows:

(A) QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE. Any member may rise to a question of privilege and explain a personal matter, by leave of the speaker, but the member shall not discuss any pending question in such explanations.

(B) WITHDRAWAL OF MOTION, BILL, ETC. After a motion is stated by the speaker or a bill, memorial, resolution, petition, or remonstrance is read by the clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the house, but may be withdrawn by consent of the house at any time before decision or amendment.

(C) READING OF A PAPER. When the reading of any paper is called for and is objected to by any member, it shall be determined by a vote of the house.

(D) DISTRIBUTION OF MATERIALS. Any materials of any nature distributed to the members' desks on the floor shall be subject to approval by the speaker and shall bear the name of at least one member granting permission for the distribution. This shall not apply to materials normally distributed by the chief clerk.

(E) ORDER OF QUESTIONS. All questions, whether in committee or in the house, shall be propounded in the order in which they are named except that in filling blanks, the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

(F) DIVISION OF POINTS OF DEBATE. Any member may call for a division of a question which shall be divided if it embraces subjects so distinct that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the house; but a motion to strike out and to insert shall not be divided. The rejection of a motion to strike out and to insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and to insert a different proposition.

(G) DECORUM OF MEMBERS. While the speaker is putting the question, no member shall walk across or out of the house; nor when a member is speaking shall any member entertain private discourse or pass between the speaking member and the rostrum.

(H) REMARKS CONFINED. A member shall confine all remarks to the question under debate and avoid personalities. No member shall impugn the motive of any member's vote or argument.

(I) EXCEPTION TO WORDS SPOKEN IN DEBATE. If any member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling the member to order shall repeat the words excepted to and they shall be taken down in writing at the clerk's table. No member shall be held in answer or be subject to the censure of the house for words spoken in debate if any other member has spoken before exception to them shall have been taken.

(J) TRANSGRESSION OF RULES - APPEAL. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the house the speaker shall, or any member may, call the member to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down unless permitted to explain; and the house shall, if appealed to, decide the case without debate; if there be no appeal, the decision of the chair shall prevail. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, the member shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, and the case shall require it, the member shall be liable to the censure of the house.

Ending of Debate - Previous Question

Rule 18. The previous question may be ordered by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present on all recognized motions or amendments which are debatable.

The previous question is not debatable and cannot be amended. The previous question shall be put in this form:

"Representative _____ demands the previous question. As many as are in favor of ordering the previous question will say 'Aye'; as many as are opposed will say 'No'."

The results of the motion are as follows: If determined in the negative, the consideration goes on as if the motion had never been made; if decided in the affirmative it shall have the effect of cutting off all debate and bringing the house to a direct vote upon the motion or amendment on which it has been ordered: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That when a bill is on final passage or when the motion to postpone indefinitely is pending, one of the sponsors of the bill or the chair of the committee may have the privilege of closing debate after the previous question has been ordered.

If an adjournment is had after the previous question is ordered, the motion or proposition on which the previous question was ordered shall be put to the house immediately following the approval of the journal on the next working day, thus making the main question privileged over all other business, whether new or unfinished.

Voting

Rule 19. (A) PUTTING OF QUESTION. The speaker shall put the question in the following form: "The question before the house is (state the question). As many as are in favor say 'Aye'; and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "as many as are opposed say 'No'."

(B) ALL MEMBERS TO VOTE. Every member who was in the house when the question was put shall vote unless, for special reasons, excused by the house.

All motions to excuse a member shall be made before the house divides or before the call for yeas and nays is commenced; and any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief and verbal statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

Upon a division and count of the house on the question, only members at their desks within the bar of the house shall be counted.

(C) CHANGE OF VOTE. When the electric roll call machine is used, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the speaker has locked the roll call machine. When an oral roll call is taken, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the result has been announced.

Any member who voted on the prevailing side may move for reconsideration or give notice thereof.
A motion to reconsider can be decided only once when decided in the negative.

Any member convicted of a felony and sentenced therefor under any federal law or the law of any other state shall, as of the time of sentencing, be similarly denied such salary, per diem, expenses, facilities, and assistance if either (a) such crime would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution, or (b) the conduct resulting in the conviction and sentencing would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution.

ELECTION OF THE SPEAKER

Representative Rolfes: "Thank you, Madame Chief Clerk. I would like to place the name of Frank Chopp in nomination for Speaker of the House. There are many difficult decisions ahead of us over the next 104 days but this decision is simple, at least for me. I know that our current economic situation is going to force very, very difficult and potentially tragic cuts to things that many of us care about, particularly in the social safety net and possibly in public education. The Governor has said that churches, community groups and non profits will have to step up to fill the gap but the care and precision with which we, the members of this House make these budget cuts will determine whether those gaps can really be filled and how they will be filled. Frank Chopp has spent most of his adult life stretching and mending the safety net in this state from both inside the legislature and outside. That experience, along with his compassion for every person in this state, as well as every person in this chamber will serve this body and all of our state well over the next two years. Of course Speaker Chopp has already served us and I don't know how many terms he has been our Speaker but we have experience with his trademark, the trademark that he brings to this chamber which is respectfulness and collegiality. With the events over the weekend I think we can all agree that trademark is an important signature for our House. I could not be more proud to support his nomination and I hope you will all join me. Thank you."

Representative Kretz: "Thank you, Madame Chief Clerk. I nominate Richard DeBolt for Speaker of the House. Today's nominating procedures are a little bit different than what we've done in recent times but it is a time honored tradition that has lasted from statehood in 1889 to 1993 and I think it has served our chamber well. Richard is a leader with a clear vision for the State of Washington, has a desire to work across the aisle to accomplish goals that are in the best interest of our constituents. He has repeatedly proven that he not only serves the 20th district with distinction but that he is dedicated to ensuring that policies passed by this body are in the best interest of the entire state. His district, and others around the state are struggling with economic hardship brought on by high unemployment, we face a challenge like no other when it comes to addressing the states' spending. Our budget situation needs his fresh perspective and realistic solutions. Now, more than ever, this body needs a leader like the gentleman from the 20th. Madame Chief Clerk, the 20th district representative has a vision of a better Washington for everyone lifting up families, employers and forging a new path of accountability and fiscal sanity in state government. I am honored to stand today to nominate the fine representative from the 20th to serve as Speaker of the House and I hope you will all join me in supporting Representative Richard DeBolt. Thank you Madame Chief Clerk."

SPEAKERS' REMARKS

Mr. Speaker: "Thank you Christine, for your kind remarks. Congratulations Pat, on your new post as Majority Leader. Congratulations Richard, on your election as Republican Leader, and congratulations to all the new and returning members. Welcome to the Peoples' House. As we represent the people, let's remember the best traditions of our nation. In America, we honor those who have gone before us, who sacrificed for us, and who faced far greater hardships than we do today.

Years ago, sitting at the kitchen table with my parents, hearing their stories of living through the Great Depression, I never thought that this nation would ever again see such financial hard times. While times are indeed tough, we need to remember that we are very fortunate compared to those who went before us.

In America, we embrace change, innovation, reform, energy and action. Democracy is designed to continually regenerate and renew our government. Given our financial challenges, that renewal must move faster. For every important challenge we face, we must find a real solution. We can be inspired by positive ideals, but we must also be prepared with creative ideas and ready for sustained, hard work over time.

In America we care for one another. We recognize our common humanity. The notion of people looking out for one another is fundamental to being American. If we carelessly decimate the safety and security of our most vulnerable citizens, we make all of us less safe, less secure. Instead, we must thoughtfully dedicate ourselves to reform and recharge the lifelines, for those among us who need our help. In America, we mobilize to meet the challenges before us to get the job done.

At our core, we are an optimistic people. In America, we believe in a better future for our kids. We cannot let the excess of Wall Street become an excuse for not making sure that every child is healthy, ready to learn, and has the opportunity to get a great education. It is the best hope for their future, and for our future.

We, the representatives of the people, can be part of these American traditions. Every one of us must do our part to help create a better future for all. We must do our part to help turn the Great Recession into the Great Recovery. We can do this if we work together and look beyond the current state of affairs; if we stay focused on the possibilities of new ways to solve old problems. We can rise to the occasion. We owe it to our parents, and to our children. This is America after all! Thank you.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Representative DeBolt: "Thank you Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House. I would like to thank you for your vote and hopefully next time it will be closer. It's amazing to me that we all come here today to start a new session. For the returning members, I appreciate all your long summer work and I look forward to the opportunity to be working with you to solve the problems. To the new members, your task is more daunting because we have to do something different in Washington State and you are bringing the future with you. Each and every one of us, as we start our jobs, it makes us stop and think, what is a job? What does it mean? So many people are out of work, so many people don't have jobs. It is kind of ironic that today we start by swearing in our job as a citizen legislature. A job to me does several things. As a citizen I work outside the legislature and I have a job to feed my family, to help better my community to be able to do more. I love that I am able to work and so many people right now in Washington State would love to work but they can't. How many of us know the solutions that would put those people back to work? The ideas are here in the room, some of them are harder than others. Is it issuing permits in a timely manner? Is it not choosing an industry one day that you are going to support and hurt another industry in that same breathe. Are you going to support and raise all ships? Small business did not bring us to this recession. Small business is going to bring us out of it, yet the things we do here hurt small business every day. We guise it in this word of Wall Street or business. What this is, is our families, our neighbors and our friends and as we hurt them, by not allowing them to thrive and if they thrive then we have more revenue. If they thrive, we have less case loads. If they thrive, our safety net works. Sometimes when you stretch a safety net too far it becomes weak and it can't even support the people it was meant to support. That is where we have arrived at today. Our safety net is stretched thin, our people want to work and we have to make decisions today, and for the next 105 days to make sure they have every opportunity to fulfill the dream of Washington State. It's funny, our dreams are simple, our dreams are to go to work, work hard, feed our family, feed our neighbors, clothe our families, put roofs over our heads. They are not huge dreams but we should allow them to have those dreams. We have solutions that we need help from each of you across the aisle to implement. We know that we have some great ideas to solve the problem and I know together this body can do that. Every year we start out and we talk about the bi-partisanship that we're going to have this session. We saw it in the special session that we can do it, didn't we? It was an opportunity for us to work together. Did our caucus get everything we wanted? Did the Republicans like some of the things that were happening in that budget, no. I'm sure, Mr. Speaker that there were things in that budget that you didn't like. We passed it because we wanted to do what is best for the citizens of Washington State. If you're concerned about jobs and you're concerned about the economy, then those concerns will translate into fixing the biggest budget deficit that we have ever had and making responsible decisions. I encourage you to work with us, Mr. Speaker, anything I can do to help you just let me know and it was a pleasure to vote for you Mr. Speaker and I look forward to this session."

ELECTION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

Representative Jacks: "Thank you Mr. Speaker and congratulations. It is my tremendous good fortune today to rise in this House to nominate my colleague, my seatmate and my friend Jim Moeller to be Speaker Pro Tem. I believe he will be successful in this position for many different reasons. One of which is he is a terrific listener and some of you know that for two decades, in his day job, he has spent it listening closely to people and helping them. Second, he is a man of strongly held convictions and beliefs and he cherishes his opportunity to freely express those beliefs. Because he cherishes this freedom, he respects other peoples freedom to do the same. Democracy is based on an exchange of ideas and here on this floor the debate between different points of view is part of what makes us successful as an institution. I know that he will stand, literally for hours, he will stand unending to protect this exchange of ideas and to protect our points of view to make sure that we have an opportunity to express them. Jim Moeller will be your guardian Mr. Speaker, he will be my guardian as well and the guardian of every member in this House as we debate our ideas and we share our points of view, so he will stand for all of us and he will stand for this House and he will stand for the people of the State of Washington. I urge the bodys support."

MOTION

Representative Sullivan moved that the nominations for the Office of Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives be closed. The motion was carried.

Representative Sullivan moved that Representative Jim Moeller be elected to the position of Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives. The motion was carried.

Representative Jacks escorted Speaker Pro Tempore Moeller to the Rostrum.

OATH OF OFFICE

Chief Justice Madsen administered the Oath of Office to Speaker Pro Tempore Moeller.

SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE'S REMARKS

Speaker Pro Tempore Moeller: "Thank you Representative Jacks for your kind words. Fellow members it is with great humility and honor that I accept your trust and confidence as Speaker Pro Tem of this honorable and great House. Today, as we open this session, and as we pause in prayer after the national tragedy in Arizona, we know that we not only have the charge to do the peoples' business, but we must hold debate that meets our highest standards. I will strive everyday to listen, to learn, to work in the true spirit of cooperation. I pledge myself to put the good of the people of the State of Washington and the United States above all things. I look forward to writing with you, a legislative record in this session of progress and of reform and vision for all Washingtonians. Fellow members we are gathered today at the beginning of the second millennium at the outset of the 62nd Legislature of the House of Representatives of the 42nd State. We are part of a thousand year story of parliaments of legislatures and assemblies of the English speaking world, a long story of neighbors electing neighbors and of assembling those elected to take up the duties of self government. You and I in this place, gathered for this reason, are part of a living tapestry of democracy. You and I, in our opening ceremonies today, are taking our place in an unbroken chain of people from a distant past and into the future hand-to-hand, generation-to-generation, in the cause of freedom from princes and kings. Now that long and flickering light shines on we who are gathered here today, a hundred generations turn their gaze on us as we prepare to take up the charge. It would be easy for anyone entering office today or coming back to this place, having been reconfirmed by the voters, to be overwhelmed by the scale of the issues we face. We have witnessed whole nations humbled by the economic forces beyond their control. We have witnessed the collapse of storied institutions of finance that were older than even this state. Everyone here, having so recently asked for the votes of the people, has witnessed the economic condition of our constituents, our friends and families. The great recession is blind to party, region, creed or orientation. No one has been immune from the recession's awesome sweeping scale. Every part of the state struggles with those twin ugly siblings of unemployment and underemployment. We might take comfort in observing that the economic fire which raged completely out of control when we gathered here in January 2009 is now out but the crisis remains. The damage was widespread and the danger of a new flare up also remains. A long period of rebuilding now begins, but fellow members, perhaps for at least today we might reflect on this moment in a span of a much longer history and story of this state, our nation and the long traditions of freedom that this great House represents. Over and across the oceans and over and across the centuries, those who came before us faced down more and still managed to build a better place. In each of these great challenges there were new beginnings. We are the children of those birth pains, this is our inheritance, this amazing state filled with hard working and bright people. Let's not forget, fellow members, that it is our state that taught the world how to fly, how to use a computer and, quite honestly, how to brew a decent cup of coffee. Now we face our challenges head on, we will not flinch nor will we fail, nor will we lose sight of the goal. From pioneer to homesteader, from logger to miner, from factory worker to software worker, we here in Washington aim to continue to show the world how it's done. Let's get to work, thank you."

ELECTION OF THE CHIEF CLERK

Representative Liias: "Thank you Mr. Speaker. I nominate Barbara Baker for Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives. I appreciated the comments by our new Speaker Pro Tem about the vast history of free peoples and of the importance of legislative assemblies like ours in crafting the future of our society. What is important to remember is in crafting that story every good author needs a scribe and here in the House of Representatives the Chief Clerk of the House is our scribe. She takes down our story as we pass laws and take actions on behalf of the people that have sent us here. It is important that we find a person of the highest caliber to be our scribe and to be the peoples voice in the process of legislating. That is why I nominated Barbara Baker. I had the unique privilege of casting one of my first votes for Barbara Baker as a new member as she was first elected our Chief Clerk. I have watched her discharge her responsibilities with fairness and compassion. In the history of the State of Washington there are times when the Chief Clerk could quite frankly be a partisan position. The majority would put that person in a position of power and it would be a tool of the majority. Here in this House, Barbara Baker has been a bi-partisan Chief Clerk. She has been a voice for the majority and the minority alike, she has been a voice for all the members of this chamber. She has been, in my experience, someone of good humor. Believe it or not, the people of the state may not believe it but sometimes we get a little frazzled around here. Sometimes energies run a little high as bills and amendments are flying around, and there in the center of it is Barbara Baker with a calm spirit and maybe a little joke or a remark to keep you on your way to help you discharge your responsibilities. Mr. Speaker, in closing, I would say, if I could, I would nominate Bernard Dean and the other members of her team as well, because Barbara is as good as the team that is there to support her. So it is an honor to nominate Barbara and I urge all my colleagues to join me in voting for Barbara Baker as our Chief Clerk.”

Representative Ross: “Thank you Mr. Speaker. It’s my privilege to second the nomination today of Barb Baker as Chief Clerk of the Peoples’ House. Speaking from the other party, I want to say the same thing, that it’s been my experience that Barb runs this House with an amazing coolness and an amazing steady hand. At many times I will agree with you that emotions run high out here and for good reason. The motives that compel all of us are very powerful when we are here. Barb sits up there and attempts to try and calm the emotions and direct the conversation in many ways. I know, having sat out here and dialed star 73, feeling angry or overrun and hearing her voice reassuring me that we are going to fix this or were going to have your member speak, I have to make sure she knows that it is an amazing ability to communicate like she does over the phone with all of us out here for those of you who have called her. I think as we have talked of the amazing responsibility that we all have as members, I think her responsibility is even larger because there is only one of her, so it is my hope that she carries us in the right direction and I ask respectfully that we all vote for her today. Thank you.”

MOTIONS

Representative Sullivan moved that the nominations for the Office of Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be closed. The motion was carried.

OATH OF OFFICE

Chief Justice Madsen administered the Oath of Office to Chief Clerk Baker.

CHIEF CLERK’S REMARKS

Chief Clerk Barbara Baker: “It is a very, very great honor to be elected and to hear those kind words and to address this body. Because of that over the last month or so I’ve devised three speeches to give today, none of which I’m going to give. I wanted to just hit on the highlights of the three thoughts that I had and leave you with that.

The first thing I was trying to figure out is a way to really convey how it is that you all and this institution are able to attract the best and the brightest as you go about the very, very difficult things you have to do. That took me to a thought about representative democracy. It took me to the founding fathers and the fact that this was a great experiment and democracies are fragile. Madison thought it might only last twenty years. He really never speculated what would replace it but it really is the institution and the fact that this place is much greater than the sum of its’ parts that enables us to recruit and retain unbelievably bright, diligent and dedicated people. I prepared this whole speech about founding fathers complete with quotes and I gave it to one of my friends. He asked me when I was done if he got academic credit for listening to me. I do want you to be proud, you really should be proud. This is the most important job anybody in this state has.

The second speech came to me as I was watching a certain football game this weekend and I’m not even a football fan, but when I watched Marshawn Lynch do that run, I guess it’s called “the run” now, what was really amazing in watching that run was that the whole rest of the Seahawks’ team was right with him. The quarterback was tackling people. I think there is a very important metaphor there for all of you, and I’m going to leave it to you to figure out what it is I’m thinking about.

On a much more somber note, I try always to think about something good coming from things that happen and from what happened this weekend in Arizona, there is nothing good about that. I know that you all accept a certain amount of risk being elected and sitting in these chairs and everybody in the gallery has to be slightly more concerned than in normal families about your safety. I was thinking about what good could come of that and instead of something good coming from that I wanted to affirm something that has been good since I’ve had this job. First off, my job is not only to be responsible for security in this House, but it is also to be responsible, to some extent, for decorum. If anybody gets out of line, or says mean things, especially in mailings, especially not on this floor because that’s the Speakers’ job, maybe you’ll get a call from me or a visit from me and I was worried about that when I took the job. I have not once had to talk to any of you about your decorum. I think if there is something good to come of the tragedies that happened this weekend it’s that we all reconsider, and continue to be as good as you have been about your speech and your conduct and having a presentation that is wise and respectful and kind. I really think both sides of the aisle have done an amazing job of that in very difficult circumstances, I ask you to keep it up. Bernard and I are very honored to serve this institution for the next two years and we appreciate every single one of you, so thank you.”

Speaker Chopp thanked Chief Justice Madsen and called upon Representatives Appleton and Rivers to escort the Justice from the Chamber.

I know I speak for the vast majority of Washingtonians and I know I speak for all the students in saying thank you. Please join me in prayer. Gracious God we pause at the start of this momentous occasion to offer thanksgiving and to invoke your blessing. First, we invoke your protection, keep safe our public servants and bring healing to Representative Giffords and all those in Arizona, victimized by the tragic union of evil and lunacy. God help us. Now today we thank you for our magnificent state, for its sweeping plains, its verdant coasts, granite backbone, metallic veins and for its good compassionate people. We are favored to call the State of Washington home. Our home, O Lord is troubled. Wounds to our economy threaten our most vulnerable citizens. Across the state escalating needs beg for diminishing resources. Grant this 62nd Legislature wisdom and courage as they confront the agonizing decisions they must make. Prevent us, the electorate from shirking our human responsibility to join our government in meeting this challenge. Often we have demanded the privileges of our citizenship. Today our governor calls us to the duties of our citizenship. Awaken us to the necessity of this call, strengthen Governor Gregoire as she leads us in this call, protect her and this legislature as they rise to this call and give us no rest until we have answered this call. O God bless our state and bless all of its sons and daughters. I offer this prayer as a Christian but on behalf of those who worship you in Synagogues, Mosques, Temples and the sanctuary of your creation, Amen.”

The President introduced Governor Christine Gregoire.

STATE OF THE STATE

Governor Gregoire: “Thank you, Bill Robinson. Your kind and guiding words are appreciated. Thank you, Kyra Smith, for that beautiful performance of the national anthem. Your voice and talent are truly inspiring. And in a few minutes we will hear from Clarke Hallum, a very talented 11-year-old from Olympia. Thank you all for being with us this afternoon.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Madam Chief Justice, distinguished justices of the court, former Governor Mike Lowry, honored officials, members of the Washington State Legislature, tribal leaders, local government officials, members of the Consular Association of Washington, my fellow citizens:

First of all here’s to being the home of the 2010 WNBA champions the Seattle Storm! And how about those University of Washington Huskies! They were underdogs against Nebraska and won. And here’s to the Eastern Washington University Eagles, who trailed 19-0 at halftime, and in one of the most exciting games ever, came back to win 20-19. And how about those Seahawks on Saturday! Never doubt our players and never doubt the great State of Washington.

Harry Truman said if you want a friend in Washington, get a dog. Well here in this Washington I have First Dog Trooper, but more importantly, I have two of four of my closest friends joining me, my husband Mike and daughter Michelle. Our daughter, Courtney, and son-in-law, Scott, could not join us, but are here in spirit. First Mike is a Vietnam combat veteran, and I’m proud of all he does for the state on behalf of our veterans. It’s especially important for those from earlier eras, but also for those now returning from conflicts abroad. Mike was born and raised in Everett, and I am proud to have with us today his mom, Mary Gregoire, a retired Everett schoolteacher. With her are members of the Gregoire family and our extended family. This summer Mike and I were fortunate to join Michelle, Courtney and Scott on a climb of Mt. Rainier. While the young ones charged right to the top, Mike and I are pretty pleased to report that we made it to Camp Muir and then quickly got out of there! But our hearts were with the kids as they unfurled the state flag on a snowy summit. From our perch at Camp Muir, I was struck by the incredible view and reminded of the incredible riches of Washington State. I’m always proud to be a Washingtonian but I was especially proud that day.

Welcome members of the 62nd Washington State Legislature. In particular, welcome to the 25 new members who are attending their first session. You join a group who stands with the long tradition of public service and dedication. You will come to know of the selflessness of not only those who serve this body, but the thousands in our state who protect, serve and educate our citizens. Our National Guard, our military men and women, our law enforcement members, our firefighters, our teachers and our state employees you are my role models: Service above self at the risk of tremendous sacrifice. Thank you.

Over the weekend the nation witnessed a terrible tragedy with the loss of lives and devastating injuries in Arizona. Please join me in a moment of silence for them, their families and the people of Arizona. In the months ahead, all of us will be severely tested. While there are signs of economic recovery around us, state government’s budget remains in a deep freeze, and with a revenue shortfall unprecedented in state history, you will have extraordinarily difficult budget choices. The tough times we are going through will demand equally tough decisions from all of us. You will have choices that seem unfair and unjust. You will have to make decisions that will make life harder for people back home. And you will have to make decisions that may keep you awake at night, because in your heart, they just seem wrong. I know because I have had all those thoughts while drafting the budget I have presented to you. But just remember, our decisions aren’t nearly as tough as those being made by too many of our friends and neighbors who have been forced out of work, out of their homes, out of food and out of hope. This is not the first difficult time in our history, nor will it be the last. Here’s some perspective. On October 29, 1929, after eight years of unprecedented growth, the stock market took a nosedive. Sound familiar? Just like this recession, the fallout hit Washington later than other states, but with equally devastating impact on virtually every sector of the economy. With incomes declining 44 percent by 1932 and unemployment soaring to 25 percent, well above the national average, poverty became a way of life for many. Even the most fortunate were shocked and saddened by the faces of poverty they saw all around them. The most visible symbols were shantytowns called Hoovervilles. In Seattle, 639 men and women lived south of Pioneer Square in 479 makeshift shanties crafted from packing boxes. In 1933, the Unemployed Citizens League marched on Olympia. Nearly 1,200 unemployed men from Seattle were met here by 800 police officers and vigilantes. The protesters wanted the Legislature to assess higher taxes, end foreclosures and provide hot meals for their children. Sound familiar? In 1935, Governor Clarence Martin signed a revenue act that was the most comprehensive tax overhaul in the state’s history. After what was described as a “stormy” session, the bold reform was enacted, and that reform has endured for the past 80 years. I have no doubt that some, possibly many, at that time questioned our economic future. Yet five Washington companies survived the Depression and have emerged as strong, international, Fortune 500 companies. In 1933, Boeing introduced the Boeing 247 — the first truly modern airliner, and today, amid another devastating economic downturn, it is introducing the 787. Nordstrom opened in 1901 as the shoe store Wallin & Nordstrom, and on the eve of the Depression, held a grand opening to announce new ownership and a name change to Nordstrom. Weyerhaeuser began in 1900. Paccar began in 1905 and Safeco in 1923. I remember the recession in the early 1970s that crippled the region and prompted the billboard that read, “Will the last person leaving Seattle turn out the lights.” The doomsayers writing us off didn’t foresee a company called Microsoft, which was still four years away from being founded. Today it has nearly 89,000 employees and revenues of $62 billion. When the pessimists were wringing their hands in 1971, Starbucks had one store — in Pike Place Market. Today the company has almost 17,000 stores in 50 countries. These stories remind us that the people of Washington are resilient. We have been through tough times before, and we emerged stronger than ever. Three years of discouraging news about employment and the economy may have dampened our outlook for the future. But nothing can dampen our resolve. Let me be clear: Washington will rebound. We will come back stronger than ever and we will provide a brighter future for our children.

In America, back then as now, job prospects were dim, our optimism was shattered and people wondered if we would ever recover. Well, I am here today to confidently predict that just like then, those who think America is in decline have overstated our problems, underestimated our resiliency and misjudged our potential. We will show them wrong. So let us go into this session not with our confidence shattered and our hope for the future dimmed. Let us go into this session with the clear knowledge that we have an opportunity, like those who lived through the Great Depression, to be bold and help the people and businesses of Washington rebound and prosper. As we do our work here, we can't forget that the real work, the hard work, is being done back home. Men and women are struggling to keep a job and house their families. Businesses are worried about meeting payroll and keeping the doors open. As they struggle, their view of government is pretty clear — they want government to stay focused on its core services, live within its means, and use every taxpayer's dollar efficiently and effectively. So this year, this time, this session, amid the worst economic climate in eight decades, our challenge is to actually transform Washington State government. I think each of you will find in the weeks ahead our budget crisis leaves us no other option. It will take tough, but wise decisions.

I've offered a path forward. Here it is:

1. We must create a stable, financially secure path for our future;
2. We must recognize government cannot do it all; and
3. We must transform government into a leaner, 21st century organization that is more effective and efficient.

This session is not just about getting us through this crisis. It's also about setting our state on a trajectory that ensures a strong financial foundation for our kids and grandkids. This is a budget and agenda that build the platform for better service and recovery in the years to come. We need to use this economic crisis to get control of spending in two critical areas pensions and health care costs. In the past decade our health care costs doubled to more than $5 billion. In the next biennium alone our pension costs will double. Every dollar we spend on health care and pensions means we have one fewer dollar to educate our children. I am proposing we repeal a 1995 law that gave automatic benefit increases to retirees in the old PERS 1 and TRS 1 pension plans. The pension law was well intended but it carries a staggering price tag and we simply cannot afford to continue it. Pension reform will save $2 billion over the next four years and more than $11 billion during the next 25 years. I am proposing we partner with the Center of Innovation at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to provide real health care reform as a state. We should set a goal: Keep inflation at 4 percent over the next 10 years. We can save $26 billion while increasing the quality of care. We must get a grip on these two budget busters. Unless and until we do, we cannot invest like we must in the education of our children. I have looked at every state program and asked if it can be provided by others, if users should pay for it or if there are better ways to deliver the service. If the Legislature in 1935 in the midst of the Great Depression could enact landmark change that has lasted for 80 years, then we, today, can also transform Washington State government to better serve our people for the next 80 years. Now is the time to challenge the status quo. Why, for instance, do we assume all taxpayers should pay for programs that benefit a few? Should a small business owner in Spokane pay the cost of processing a water right for a landowner in the Yakima Valley? Should a Bellingham family with young kids help pay for the license of an adult family home in Vancouver? And what about our great state parks system. Should those who use the parks pay for their operation and maintenance? Let's adopt a user pays policy so that when only a few benefit from the service, they pay for it. I've asked you the past two years to reduce the number of boards and commissions. This year I'm asking you to reduce the number of state agencies. I have sent you proposals that would reduce the number of natural resource agencies from 11 to five, cut the number of state central service agencies from five to two, and merge a number of small agencies into a new Office of Civil Rights. These consolidation proposals will reduce those agencies from 21 to nine, eliminate duplication in back-office costs, save more than $20 million a biennium and make state government work smarter and better. We must do everything we can to stimulate the economy and put Washington State back to work. I propose cutting the unemployment insurance and workers compensation rates by more than $1 billion to help businesses and our unemployed get back to work. We need to provide retraining to unemployed workers whose jobs no longer exist. And we need to get injured workers healthy and back to work as soon as possible. I'm asking you to get a bill to my desk by February 8 so more than 65,000 small businesses can receive a 48 percent reduction in their unemployment insurance rates. The savings can help small businesses invest, expand and stimulate economic growth in every community across our state. Jobs are the way out of the recession, especially in one of the hardest hit areas — the construction sector. Through the capital and transportation budgets and the Public Works Trust Fund, we can start shovel-ready projects, modernize our infrastructure and put almost 40,000 people to work. As the construction industry goes, so goes our state budget. Education, the number one duty of the state, is the key to the jobs of tomorrow. Today we have eight education agencies with 14 plans. They spend critical time and resources trying to coordinate and provide an education system built in silos. I propose we enact legislation creating one agency the Department of Education which will be focused solely on student education with one plan for a seamless system from pre-school to Ph.D. Our students deserve it and our parents demand it. With that focus we can start by making the 12th grade relevant and exciting. Twelfth grade should be the launch year of a career. We can give our students a leg up in the competitive world of tomorrow by ensuring they leave their senior year on their way to certification, apprenticeship or college credits. In 2009, those with a bachelor's degree had an unemployment rate of 4.6 percent, while those with a high school diploma were unemployed at the rate of 10.5 percent. We need to encourage every student to "complete to compete" — complete an AA, bachelor's or advanced degree so he or she can compete for the jobs of tomorrow. We need tuition flexibility at our colleges and universities to keep the doors of higher education open to all and to maintain high-quality education in good and bad times. I will ask you to adopt the recommendations of the Higher Education Funding Task Force, which increase the number of graduates, require greater accountability from our colleges and universities, ensure stable funding, and establish a $1 billion Washington Pledge Scholarship Program. Educating our students is their future; a world-class education system is our state's future. I also asked if someone else can manage the work better. I answered that question "yes" and I urge you to join me in providing 21st century management models for our state ferry system and information technology in state government.

Our ferry system, the largest in the nation, is in financial crisis. More than 11 years ago, one-fifth of operating funds and three-quarters of the system's capital funding were eliminated. Ever since we've been bailing out the ferry system, and there is simply no place to bail from any longer. But that's not enough. For communities that rely on our ferries as much as others rely on our highways — for those 23 million passengers each year — we must find a better way. I'm asking you to create a regional ferry district run by an elected board of directors to manage the ferry system. Funding would come from a state subsidy, fares and regional taxing authority to pay for the service the region decides it wants and needs. You may not agree with my solution, but I know one thing — we cannot leave here without a solution. Secondly, taxpayers spend $1 billion each year for information technology that processes hundreds of thousands of transactions a week. Like large businesses, we are in the process of consolidating and modernizing. And I'm proud to report that our new data center is ahead of schedule and under budget. I'm asking that we create a charter agency that can contract services with the private sector, just like a public utility, to ensure reliable service at the lowest possible cost. It will save $30 million over four years. I know change is hard, especially here in Olympia where too many have become deeply invested in the status quo. That's why it's easier to hear why change won't work instead of why it will. But I think voters are out ahead in understanding the need for change. Voters sent us here to lead, to solve problems, to work together, to get things done and to be bold. Families, businesses and nonprofits across this state have been forced to change to survive. We must do the same. Like the boldness of the 1935 Legislature in the midst of the Great Depression, we can set a path for success in our state. There are those who say we won't be courageous. There are those who say we can't provide real change. Well this year, let's prove the cynics and skeptics wrong. Let's be bold. Let's stand up for change. Let's put state government on a new path, a 21st century path. I stand ready to help, support and work with you. But make no mistake: I expect you to have the courage to make changes that will benefit the state today and for the next 80 years.

Last month the Legislature came together and passed a supplemental budget in one day. It was the first lame duck session in history, and it demonstrated what we can do when we put politics aside and work together as Washingtonians. That was a great start, but we have unfinished work on the supplemental budget, and that has to be our first order of business. Let's finish what we started and let's finish it together. We are down, but we are not out by any means. We can take a page from those who lived during the Great Depression. Like them we accept the challenge. We are ready to do the hard work and make the tough decisions. We will remain hopeful and optimistic. We will be bold and set a course for a better tomorrow for the State of Washington. We are and forever will be a great state. Our agricultural products from potatoes to cherries to wine are known for their high quality. Our businesses, whether a leading international company, a startup or a small business, are the most innovative. Our workers are the most skilled, educated and competitive. Our communities are compassionate. And we live in one of the most beautiful places in the world. No recession will take that away. We are the proud people of the great State of Washington. Thank you and God bless the great State of Washington and all her people. And God bless America. In the months ahead, all of us will be severely tested. This is not the first difficult time in our history, nor will it be the last. Let me be clear: Washington will rebound. This session is not just about getting us through this crisis. Now is the time to challenge the status quo. Jobs are the way out of the recession. Voters sent us here to lead, to solve problems, to work together, to get things done and to be bold. Let's put state government on a new path, a 21st century path.”

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY

Chief Justice Barbara Madsen: "Members of the Washington State Legislature, Governor Gregoire, Elected Officials and Citizens of the state of Washington. In keeping with tradition and with a desire to continue open communications among our branches of government and with the public, I am delivering this interim report on the state of our judicial system on behalf of the more than 400 judges who serve the public in our appellate and trial courts.

The mission of Washington courts is to protect rights and liberties guaranteed by the constitution and laws of the United States and the state of Washington, impartially uphold and interpret the law, and provide open, just, and timely resolution of all matters before the courts. On behalf of the judicial branch, I can report that Washington's judiciary remains strong, though we continue to face increased demands and budget challenges in our trial and appellate courts.

As you know, our state's judicial system is present in every county in our state as well as in most of our cities and towns. The judicial branch is represented by 9 justices of the Supreme Court, 22 judges of our Courts of Appeal, 188 judges of our superior courts, and 208 full and part-time judges of our district and municipal courts. These justices and judges manage caseloads that collectively total more than two million filings each year, more than one filing for every three citizens of our state.

Being a judge is a tremendous honor, but it is also a great responsibility. Each day, judicial officers and court staff across our state interact with and impact the lives of thousands of individuals. From Walla Walla to Aberdeen and from Bellingham to Vancouver, the need for justice can be found. For a woman and her children, seeking protection from an abusive partner. For a senior citizen victimized by a home foreclosure scam. For parents, hoping to adopt a child from the foster care system. For a small business, in a civil dispute between former owners trying to end the partnership and keep the business afloat. For a teen, critically injured in an automobile accident and unable to work for the rest of his life.

These personal stories, that judges hear every day, remind us that our legal system is about ensuring that basic rights and protections are available to every citizen of our state. In these difficult economic times state courts throughout the nation are struggling with increases in caseloads due to the faltering economy, doing more with less while struggling to keep the courthouse doors open, as required by our federal and state constitutions. Here in Washington it is the same. My colleagues at the trial court levels have shown extraordinary leadership in the face of our state's fiscal crisis, working diligently with local counties and cities and the state on ways to save programs that affect the lives of so many of our state's citizens. However, the financial crisis is taking a serious toll. Funded primarily at the local level, our superior courts have taken the brunt of cuts to date, with more than $10 million in combined cuts in 2009. Projected cuts for 2010 are more than $7 million, adding up to more than $17 million in reductions in the past two years alone. This has resulted in elimination of drug courts and juvenile court services and delays of civil trials. At our district and municipal court levels, budget cuts are impeding core functions, forcing court closures, and eliminating telephonic assistance to the public. Other jurisdictions have resorted to shortening the hours that the public has to resolve basic legal issues such as paying a traffic infraction or petitioning for a domestic violence protection order.

In several recent reports to the Legislature, we have highlighted findings of a Trial Court Funding Task Force and our Justice in Jeopardy legislative proposals aimed at improving the operations of our trial courts. A core finding of this task force was that there must be a rebalancing of funding of trial courts so that the state government contributes in a more equitable way, along with local government, to the operations of the superior, district, and municipal courts. The judicial branch, backed by the Legislature's support beginning in 2004, has embarked on a rigorous and far-reaching effort to address the State's legal obligation to ensure fair and timely administration of court proceedings and provide equal justice for all. Just as you have partnered with us in the past on this effort, we have committed to partnering with you during this fiscal crisis. While we represent a very small fraction of the state budget, less than 1 percent, the judiciary at the state level, as with all levels of government, sustained major reductions in funding last year. These cuts totaled more than $16 million between our state's Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC), Supreme Court, Court of Appeals, State Law Library, Office of Public Defense, and Office of Civil Legal Aid. While every effort was made to reduce areas with the least impact on direct services, these levels of cuts—particularly to AOC, which included a 19.3 percent reduction to its operating budget—has resulted in direct loss of services to the appellate and trial courts, as well as to all citizens throughout our state. One program in particular that is in danger of being eliminated this year is the Office of Public Guardianship, which was established by the Legislature in 2007 to assist the estimated 4,500 state residents who are incapacitated and need the help of a guardian to live independently. Each of these 4,500 Washingtonians has a unique story. Without the assistance of a public guardian, some go without needed medical treatment or lose housing that might have been preserved and end up in institutional settings. Some cycle from the street to a mental hospital or jail, and, finally, some are exploited financially or abused. We hope to work with you in the current session to assure that gains we have made in this area are preserved.

As Chief Justice, I also chair the policy-setting body for the judiciary, our state's Board for Judicial Administration (BJA), which represents every level of court. In the coming year, we will be proceeding with the following issues aimed at improving the administration of justice: Election of Municipal Court Judges. In Washington State, we have a long history of nonpartisan election of judges and we need to be sure that we have a system that fosters judicial independence at all levels of court. Currently, municipal courts are the only level of court that allow for exclusive appointment and reappointment by the executive or legislative branch of a city. Election of independent judges is a vital part of upholding the public's confidence in the judiciary, and we want to introduce this level of accountability to the voters at the municipal court level formally via legislation this year. I had the pleasure of helping to swear in our newly elected municipal court judges at the Supreme Court last month, and as a former Seattle Municipal Court judge, this is an item of great interest to me.

Long-term Planning. We have started the process of long-term planning for the judiciary with our ultimate goal of providing equal access to a fair and effective system of justice for all without excess cost, inconvenience, or delay and with sensitivity to an increasingly diverse society. From increasing public confidence in the judiciary to performance audits to improve the functioning of local courts, this effort is fundamental to providing justice for the citizens of our state.

On another topic, BJA has recently initiated a Public Records Act Work Group, including members of the judiciary, the Washington Coalition for Open Government, and the Washington State Bar Association to issue recommendations on how to best respond to requests for judicial records, which are currently governed by multiple authorities: court rules, the Public Records Act (as a nonbinding guideline), other statutes, and the common law. We will keep you apprised of the recommendations of this work group and any proposed court rules or proposed legislation that may result.

Another vital part of the Justice in Jeopardy initiative is our state's constitutional obligation to provide public defense. More than 230,000 criminal charges and other legal actions are filed against low-income Washington residents each year. Until 2005, counties and cities funded trial level criminal public defense services entirely on their own. Five years ago, the Legislature amended chapter 10.101 RCW to establish the state's public defense improvement program, first funded in 2006. Washington's new involvement in criminal public defense came in response to compelling indicators that public defense has long been inadequate in most of the state. Since that time, almost all of Washington counties and a number of cities have implemented public defense improvements, targeting priority provisions of the Washington State Bar Association's Standards for Indigent Defense Services. In general, the participating local jurisdictions have used the chapter 10.101 RCW funds forwarded to them by the State effectively and efficiently to improve local public defense representation. However, there is still much work to be done. The Office of Public Defense's most recent report on the criminal public defense system in Washington shows troubling deficiencies remain in the constitutional and statutory guaranties of counsel. In particular, excessively high caseloads, low compensation for contract attorneys, and inadequate oversight in the administration and delivery of trial level criminal public defense services require ongoing and focused attention. In other program areas OPD has amassed an impressive track record over the years, starting with improving the quality of public defense in the appellate courts. Ninety-one percent of appellate court judges now rate the quality of OPD's appellate attorneys as "very effective," according to a legislative audit of the agency in 2008. OPD's program to provide quality counsel to indigent parents who have a right to an attorney in child dependency cases also is showing dramatic results. There has been a 39 percent increase in the rate of successful family reunifications in counties with the OPD Parents Representation Program, and cases also are being resolved more quickly which provides significant savings in state costs for foster care. I am tremendously proud of the work of the Washington State Office of Public Defense, which is working to improve our ability to deliver on our constitutional duty to provide adequate representation to all indigent criminal defendants and indigent parents involved in dependency and termination proceedings.

The third leg of the JIJ initiative is civil legal aid. Since 2005, state appropriations for civil legal aid have been administered by the Office of Civil Legal Aid (OCLA). These funds have been appropriated consistent with the Legislature's acknowledgement that "the provision of civil legal aid services to indigent persons is an important component of the state's responsibility to provide for the proper and effective administration of civil and criminal justice." When there is nowhere else to turn, civil legal aid steps in. All over Washington State, civil legal aid attorneys and volunteers work together to provide much-needed legal aid help to those who cannot afford it on matters that affect the most basic needs, family safety and security, housing, and access to essential services and support. The loss of a job very often translates into a parade of civil legal problems from access to unemployment benefits and continuing health care coverage, to protection from foreclosure and eviction, to protection from the demands of creditors and access to essential food and economic support services. Coupled with these are the increased stresses on families, which all too often result in family conflict and domestic violence. Our state's civil legal aid system is struggling to meet the urgent civil needs of the newly poor and vulnerable. In King County, requests for legal assistance over the past year have risen as follows: unemployment benefits (498 percent), mortgage foreclosures (291 percent), medical assistance (290 percent), public assistance (148 percent), bankruptcy (145 percent), and domestic violence (97 percent). The OCLA reports similar increases in demand across the state.

In 2008, the state-funded Northwest Justice Project provided direct legal assistance and representation to 12,958 individual households with funding made available through the Office of Civil Legal Aid. These cases affected more than 28,000 individuals, of which more than 13,000 were children under the age of 18. Cases involving family conflict comprised more than half (58 percent) of all cases. These cases focus on ensuring protection from domestic violence and threats to the life, safety, and security of families with children. The second most common area of legal assistance (28 percent of all cases) involved preservation of housing, including private and subsidized tenancies, foreclosure, and foreclosure rescue scams. Our laws guarantee basic rights and protections to all of us, not just those who can afford a lawyer. But there is a dramatic civil justice gap between the legal needs of the economically disadvantaged and the legal help they receive. At this critical time, we must work together to maintain the current level of civil legal aid funding.

The one budget request that we are pursuing relates to the critical primary information system for courts in Washington State—the Judicial Information System (JIS). JIS’s capabilities and benefits are far-reaching—protecting victims of domestic violence by ensuring judges, police, prosecutors, and community corrections officers gain timely access to related court orders, while providing information regarding outstanding warrants, prior and pending criminal cases, and convictions. Most importantly, judges can access these records while making crucial decisions affecting the parties in real time. This invaluable tool automates and supports the daily operations of the courts, improving efficiency while reducing costs. JIS also serves as a statewide clearinghouse for criminal history information and outstanding warrants. Essentially, this system provides the court with a comprehensive view of the legal history of a litigant who appears before the court. The $3.9 million that we are requesting this year will assist in our long-term goal of improving the information system, which currently serves 16,000 court customers and 8,000 other users. This funding would be a fraction of the $600 million collected annually by JIS for the state and will allow the courts to continue providing streamlined services and accurate and up-to-date information. We have already begun to see benefits in our quest for modernization: Efficient data exchanges among criminal justice agencies is reducing redundant data entry, which will save money and increase public safety by removing the opportunity for input errors. Specifically, use of electronic ticketing, made possible by creative partnerships at the state and local levels, is resulting in significant efficiencies for courts and law enforcement. While still a work in progress, as more law enforcement agencies and courts sign on to this new technology the impact will broaden over the coming years. Ultimately, JIS provides essential information to the Washington State Patrol, Department of Corrections, Office of the Secretary of State, Sentencing Guidelines Commission, Department of Licensing, local law enforcement agencies, and prosecutors. Public defenders, the media, and law firms also use the system. It will be a critical component to implementing tolling on the SR 520 bridge as passed by the Washington State Legislature last year.

This past year has been challenging and as the year came to a close, it was also a year of terrible loss. In the wake of the tragic deaths of our dedicated law enforcement officers, I pledge our support in joining you in your review of the criminal justice system to determine how the system can be improved to avoid similar tragedies in the future. In light of the Lakewood police officer shootings, our state’s Superior Court Judges’ Association has joined with representatives of the Washington Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs, the Washington Association of Prosecuting Attorneys, and others, at the request of the Governor, to determine what changes, if any, can be made to prevent such tragedy. Finally, on behalf of the dedicated judges of Washington State, I reinforce our commitment to the rule of law in our democracy. In large part, the cornerstone of this commitment rests upon adequate and stable funding for the trial courts, and we pledge to stay the course in achieving this long-term goal. I would also like to express how pleased I am to serve alongside you as a leader in our separate, yet equal, branches of government. I am honored to serve as the state’s 55th Chief Justice, and I am also grateful to my predecessor, Gerry Alexander, for his leadership on the many issues that I have outlined here today. If you should have any questions regarding the initiatives outlined in this letter, I invite you to contact me directly, or our State Court Administrator. I wish you all the best in the year ahead.

WHEREAS, Today, January 17, 2011, we join with the people of the state of Washington and throughout our nation in celebration, and in reflection, of the life and legacy of the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.; and

WHEREAS, We recall his words 48 years ago when he stood at our nation's capital in the shadow of the Great Emancipator and reminded all Americans that, "I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed: We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal;" and

The administration may concentrate delivery of these treatments and therapies at a limited number of programs to deliver the treatments in a cost-effective manner.

(7)(a) For the fiscal year ending June 30, 2011, the juvenile rehabilitation administration shall administer a block grant, rather than categorical funding, of consolidated juvenile service funds, community juvenile accountability act grants, the chemical dependency disposition alternative funds, the mental health disposition alternative, and the sentencing disposition alternative for the purpose of serving youth adjudicated in the juvenile justice system. In making the block grant, the juvenile rehabilitation administration shall follow the following formula and will prioritize evidence-based programs and disposition alternatives and take into account juvenile courts program-eligible youth in conjunction with the number of youth served in each approved evidence-based program or disposition alternative: (i) Thirty-seven and one-half percent for the at-risk population of youth ten to seventeen years old; (ii) fifteen percent for moderate and high-risk youth; (iii) twenty-five percent for evidence-based program participation; (iv) seventeen and one-half percent for minority populations; (v) three percent for the chemical dependency disposition alternative; and (vi) two percent for the mental health and sentencing dispositional alternatives. Funding for the evidence-based expansion grants shall be excluded from the block grant formula. Funds may be used for promising practices when approved by the juvenile rehabilitation administration and juvenile courts, through the community juvenile accountability act committee, based on the criteria established in consultation with Washington state institute for public policy and the juvenile courts.

(b) It is the intent of the legislature that the juvenile rehabilitation administration phase the implementation of the formula provided in subsection (1) of this section by including a stop-loss formula of three percent in fiscal year 2011, five percent in fiscal year 2012, and five percent in fiscal year 2013. It is further the intent of the legislature that the evidence-based expansion grants be incorporated into the block grant formula by fiscal year 2013 and SSODA remain separate unless changes would result in increasing the cost benefit savings to the state as identified in (c) of this subsection.

(c) The juvenile rehabilitation administration and the juvenile courts shall establish a block grant funding formula oversight committee with equal representation from the juvenile rehabilitation administration and the juvenile courts. The purpose of this committee is to assess the ongoing implementation of the block grant funding formula, utilizing data-driven decision making and the most current available information. Initial members will include one juvenile court representative from the finance committee, the community juvenile accountability act committee, the risk assessment quality assurance committee, the executive board of the Washington association of juvenile court administrators, the Washington state center for court research, and a representative of the superior court judges association; two representatives from the juvenile rehabilitation administration headquarters program oversight staff, two representatives of the juvenile rehabilitation administration regional office staff, one representative of the juvenile rehabilitation administration fiscal staff and a juvenile rehabilitation administration division director. The committee may make changes to the formula categories other than the evidence-based program and disposition alternative categories if it is determined the changes will increase statewide service delivery or effectiveness of evidence-based program or disposition alternative resulting in increased cost benefit savings to the state. Long-term cost benefit must be considered. Percentage changes may occur in the evidence-based program or disposition alternative categories of the formula should it be determined the changes will increase evidence-based program or disposition alternative delivery and increase the cost benefit to the state. These outcomes will also be considered in determining when evidence-based expansion or special sex offender disposition alternative funds should be included in the block grant or left separate.

(d) The juvenile courts and administrative office of the courts shall be responsible for collecting and distributing information and providing access to the data systems to the juvenile rehabilitation administration and the Washington state institute for public policy related to program and outcome data. The juvenile rehabilitation administration and the juvenile courts will work collaboratively to develop program outcomes that reinforce the greatest cost benefit to the state in the implementation of evidence-based practices and disposition alternatives.

(e) By December 1, 2010, the Washington state institute for public policy shall report to the office of financial management and appropriate committees of the legislature on the administration of the block grant authorized in this subsection. The report shall include the criteria used for allocating the funding as a block grant and the participation targets and actual participation in the programs subject to the block grant.

(8) $3,700,000 of the Washington auto theft prevention authority account--state appropriation is provided solely for competitive grants to community-based organizations to provide at-risk youth intervention services, including but not limited to, case management, employment services, educational services, and street outreach intervention programs. Projects funded should focus on preventing, intervening, and suppressing behavioral problems and violence while linking at-risk youth to pro-social activities. The department may not expend more than $1,850,000 per fiscal year. The costs of administration must not exceed four percent of appropriated funding for each grant recipient. Each entity receiving funds must report to the juvenile rehabilitation administration on the number and types of youth served, the services provided, and the impact of those services upon the youth and the community.

(9) The appropriations in this section assume savings associated with the transfer of youthful offenders age eighteen or older whose sentences extend beyond age twenty-one to the department of corrections to complete their sentences. Prior to transferring an offender to the department of corrections, the juvenile rehabilitation administration shall evaluate the offender to determine the offender's physical and emotional suitability for transfer.

(10) The department shall cease planning for closure and shall not close the maple lane facility during the current biennium.

The appropriations in this subsection are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) $113,689,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and (~~($113,689,000)~~) $96,023,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for persons and services not covered by the medicaid program. This is a reduction of $11,606,000 each fiscal year from the nonmedicaid funding that was allocated for expenditure by regional support networks during fiscal year 2009 prior to supplemental budget reductions. This $11,606,000 reduction shall be distributed among regional support networks proportional to each network's share of the total state population. To the extent possible, levels of regional support network spending shall be maintained in the following priority order: (i) Crisis and commitment services; (ii) community inpatient services; and (iii) residential care services, including personal care and emergency housing assistance.

(b) $10,400,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, (~~($9,100,000)~~) $8,528,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and $1,300,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the department and regional support networks to contract for implementation of high-intensity program for active community treatment (PACT) teams. The department shall work with regional support networks and the center for medicare and medicaid services to integrate eligible components of the PACT service delivery model into medicaid capitation rates no later than January 2011, while maintaining consistency with all essential elements of the PACT evidence-based practice model.

(c) $6,500,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and (~~($6,500,000)~~) $6,091,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for the western Washington regional support networks to provide either community- or hospital campus-based services for persons who require the level of care provided by the program for adaptive living skills (PALS) at western state hospital.

(d) The number of nonforensic beds allocated for use by regional support networks at eastern state hospital shall be 192 per day. The number of nonforensic beds allocated for use by regional support networks at western state hospital shall be 617 per day during the first quarter of fiscal year 2010, (~~and~~) 587 per day through the second quarter of fiscal year 2011, and 557 per day thereafter. Beds in the program for adaptive living skills (PALS) are not included in the preceding bed allocations. The department shall separately charge regional support networks for persons served in the PALS program.

(e) From the general fund--state appropriations in this subsection, the secretary of social and health services shall assure that regional support networks reimburse the aging and disability services administration for the general fund--state cost of medicaid personal care services that enrolled regional support network consumers use because of their psychiatric disability.

(f) $4,582,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $4,582,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for mental health services for mentally ill offenders while confined in a county or city jail and for facilitating access to programs that offer mental health services upon release from confinement.

(g) The department is authorized to continue to contract directly, rather than through contracts with regional support networks, for children's long-term inpatient facility services.

(h) $750,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and (~~($750,000)~~) $703,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely to continue performance-based incentive contracts to provide appropriate community support services for individuals with severe mental illness who were discharged from the state hospitals as part of the expanding community services initiative. These funds will be used to enhance community residential and support services provided by regional support networks through other state and federal funding.

(i) $1,500,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and (~~($1,500,000)~~) $1,125,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for the Spokane regional support network to implement services to reduce utilization and the census at eastern state hospital. Such services shall include:

(i) High intensity treatment team for persons who are high utilizers of psychiatric inpatient services, including those with co-occurring disorders and other special needs;

(ii) Crisis outreach and diversion services to stabilize in the community individuals in crisis who are at risk of requiring inpatient care or jail services;

(iii) Mental health services provided in nursing facilities to individuals with dementia, and consultation to facility staff treating those individuals; and

(iv) Services at the sixteen-bed evaluation and treatment facility.

At least annually, the Spokane regional support network shall assess the effectiveness of these services in reducing utilization at eastern state hospital, identify services that are not optimally effective, and modify those services to improve their effectiveness.

(j) The department shall return to the Spokane regional support network fifty percent of the amounts assessed against the network during the last six months of calendar year 2009 for state hospital utilization in excess of its contractual limit. The regional support network shall use these funds for operation during its initial months of a new sixteen-bed evaluation and treatment facility that will enable the network to reduce its use of the state hospital, and for diversion and community support services for persons with dementia who would likely otherwise require care at the state hospital.

(k) The department is directed to identify and implement program efficiencies and benefit changes in its delivery of medicaid managed-care services that are sufficient to operate within the state and federal appropriations in this section. Such actions may include but are not limited to methods such as adjusting the care access standards; improved utilization management of ongoing, recurring, and high-intensity services; and increased uniformity in provider payment rates. The department shall ensure that the capitation rate adjustments necessary to accomplish these efficiencies and changes are distributed uniformly and equitably across all regional support networks statewide. The department is directed to report to the relevant legislative fiscal and policy committees at least thirty days prior to implementing rate adjustments reflecting these changes.

(l) In developing the new medicaid managed care rates under which the public mental health managed care system will operate during the five years beginning in fiscal year 2011, the department should seek to estimate the reasonable and necessary cost of efficiently and effectively providing a comparable set of medically necessary mental health benefits to persons of different acuity levels regardless of where in the state they live. Actual prior period spending in a regional administrative area shall not be a key determinant of future payment rates. The department shall report to the office of financial management and to the relevant fiscal and policy committees of the legislature on its proposed new waiver and mental health managed care rate-setting approach by October 1, 2009, and again at least sixty days prior to implementation of new capitation rates.

(m) In implementing the new public mental health managed care payment rates for fiscal year 2011, the department shall to the maximum extent possible within each regional support network's allowable rate range establish rates so that there is no increase or decrease in the total state and federal funding that the regional support network would receive if it were to continue to be paid at its October 2009 through June 2010 rates. The department shall additionally revise the draft rates issued January 28, 2010, to more accurately reflect the lower practitioner productivity inherent in the delivery of services in extremely rural regions in which a majority of the population reside in frontier counties, as defined and designated by the national center for frontier communities.

(n) $1,529,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $1,529,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely to reimburse Pierce and Spokane counties for the cost of conducting 180-day commitment hearings at the state psychiatric hospitals.

(o) The legislature intends and expects that regional support networks and contracted community mental health agencies shall make all possible efforts to, at a minimum, maintain current compensation levels of direct care staff. Such efforts shall include, but not be limited to, identifying local funding that can preserve client services and staff compensation, achieving administrative reductions at the regional support network level, and engaging stakeholders on cost-savings ideas that maintain client services and staff compensation. For purposes of this section, "direct care staff" means persons employed by community mental health agencies whose primary responsibility is providing direct treatment and support to people with mental illness, or whose primary responsibility is providing direct support to such staff in areas such as client scheduling, client intake, client reception, client records-keeping, and facilities maintenance.

(p) Regional support networks may use local funds to earn additional federal medicaid match, provided the locally matched rate does not exceed the upper-bound of their federally allowable rate range, and provided that the enhanced funding is used only to provide medicaid state plan or waiver services to medicaid clients. Additionally, regional support networks may use a portion of the state funds allocated in accordance with (a) of this subsection to earn additional medicaid match, but only to the extent that the application of such funds to medicaid services does not diminish the level of crisis and commitment, community inpatient, residential care, and outpatient services presently available to persons not eligible for medicaid.

..... TOTAL APPROPRIATION (~~($1,547,049,000)~~) $1,517,417,000

The appropriations in this subsection are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

- (a) Individuals receiving services as supplemental security income (SSI) state supplemental payments shall not become eligible for medical assistance under RCW 74.09.510 due solely to the receipt of SSI state supplemental payments.
- (b)(i) Amounts appropriated in this section reflect a reduction to funds appropriated for in-home care. The department shall reduce the number of in-home hours authorized. The reduction shall be scaled based on the acuity level of care recipients. The largest hour reductions shall be to lower acuity patients and the smallest hour reductions shall be to higher acuity patients. In doing so, the department shall comply with all maintenance of effort requirements contained in the American reinvestment and recovery act.
- (ii) $508,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 and $822,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the department to partially restore the reductions to in-home care that are taken in (b)(i) of this subsection. The department will use the same formula to restore personal care hours that it used to reduce personal care hours.
- (c) Amounts appropriated in this section are sufficient to develop and implement the use of a consistent, statewide outcome-based vendor contract for employment and day services by April 1, 2011. The rates paid to vendors under this contract shall also be made consistent. In its description of activities the agency shall include activity listings and dollars appropriated for: Employment services, day services, child development services and county administration of services to the developmentally disabled. The department shall begin reporting to the office of financial management on these activities beginning in fiscal year 2010.
- (d) $302,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, $831,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and $1,592,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for health care benefits pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement negotiated with the exclusive bargaining representative of individual providers established under RCW 74.39A.270.
- (e)(i) $682,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, $1,651,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and $1,678,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the state's contribution to the training partnership, as provided in RCW 74.39A.360, pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement negotiated with the exclusive bargaining representative of individual providers established under RCW 74.39A.270.
- (ii) The federal portion of the amounts in this subsection (g) is contingent upon federal approval of participation in contributions to the trust and shall remain unallotted and placed in reserve status until the office of financial management and the department of social and health services receive federal approval.
- (iii) Expenditures for the purposes specified in this subsection (g) shall not exceed the amounts provided in this subsection.
- (f) Within the amounts appropriated in this subsection (1), the department shall implement all necessary rules to facilitate the transfer to a department home and community-based services (HCBS) waiver of all eligible individuals who (i) currently receive services under the existing state-only employment and day program or the existing state-only residential program, and (ii) otherwise meet the waiver eligibility requirements. The amounts appropriated are sufficient to ensure that all individuals currently receiving services under the state-only employment and day and state-only residential programs who are not transferred to a department HCBS waiver will continue to receive services.

(g) In addition to other reductions, the appropriations in this subsection reflect reductions targeted specifically to state government administrative costs. These administrative reductions shall be achieved, to the greatest extent possible, by reducing those administrative costs that do not affect direct client services or direct service delivery or programs.

(i) Within the appropriations of this section, the department shall reduce all seventeen payment levels of the seventeen-level payment system from the fiscal year 2009 levels for boarding homes, boarding homes contracted as assisted living, and adult family homes. Within amounts appropriated, exceptional add-on rates for AIDS/HIV, dementia specialty care, and expanded community services may be standardized within each program.

(j) The amounts appropriated in this subsection reflect a reduction in funds available for employment and day services. In administering this reduction the department shall negotiate with counties and their vendors so that this reduction, to the greatest extent possible, is achieved by reducing vendor rates and allowable contract administrative charges (overhead) and not through reductions to direct client services or direct service delivery or programs.

(k) As part of the needs assessment instrument, the department may collect data on family income for minor children with developmental disabilities and all individuals who are receiving state-only funded services. The department may ensure that this information is collected as part of the client assessment process.

(l) $116,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, (~~($2,689,000)~~) $2,133,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and $1,772,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for employment services and required waiver services. (15) The department shall establish waiting lists to the extent necessary to assure that annual expenditures on the community options program entry systems (COPEs) program do not exceed appropriated levels. In establishing and managing any such waiting list, the department shall assure priority access to persons with the greatest unmet needs, as determined by department assessment processes.

(2) The department and the office of financial management shall electronically report quarterly the expenditures, maintenance of effort allotments, expenditure amounts, and caseloads for the WorkFirst program to the legislative fiscal committees.

(3) $16,783,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 and $62,000,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for all components of the WorkFirst program in order to maintain services to January 2011. The legislature intends to work with the governor to design and implement fiscal and programmatic modifications to provide for the sustainability of the program. The funding in this subsection assumes that no other expenditure reductions will be made prior to January 2011 other than those assumed in the appropriation levels in this act.

(4) $94,322,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and (~~($84,904,000)~~) $64,545,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, net of recoveries, are provided solely for cash assistance and other services to recipients in the cash program pursuant to chapter 8, Laws of 2010 1st sp. sess. (security lifeline act), including persons in the unemployable, expedited, and aged, blind, and disabled components of the program. It is the intent of the legislature that the lifeline incapacity determination and progressive evaluation process regulations be carefully designed to accurately identify those persons who have been or will be incapacitated for at least ninety days. The incapacity determination and progressive evaluation process regulations in effect on January 1, 2010, cannot be amended until at least September 30, 2010; except that provisions related to the use of administrative review teams may be amended, and obsolete terminology and functional assessment language may be updated on or after July 1, 2010, in a manner that only minimally impacts the outcome of incapacity evaluations. After September 30, 2010, the incapacity determination and progressive evaluation process regulations may be amended only if the reports under (a) and (b) of this subsection have been submitted, and find that expenditures will exceed the appropriated level by three percent or more.

(a) The department and the caseload forecast council shall, by September 21, 2010, submit a report to the legislature based upon the most recent caseload forecast and actual expenditure data available, as to whether expenditures for the lifeline-unemployable grants in fiscal year 2011 will exceed $69,648,000 for fiscal year 2011 in the 2010 supplemental operating budget by three percent or more. If expenditures will exceed the appropriated amount for lifeline-unemployable grants by three percent or more, the department may adopt regulations modifying incapacity determination and progressive evaluation process regulations after September 30, 2010.

(b) On or before September 21, 2010, the department shall submit a report to the relevant policy and fiscal committees of the legislature that includes the following information regarding any regulations proposed for adoption that would modify the lifeline incapacity determination and progressive evaluation process:

(i) A copy of the proposed changes and a concise description of the changes;

(ii) A description of the persons who would likely be affected by adoption of the regulations, including their impairments, age, education, and work history;

(iii) An estimate of the number of persons who, on a monthly basis through June 2013, would be denied lifeline benefits if the regulations were adopted, expressed as a number, as a percentage of total applicants, and as a percentage of the number of persons granted lifeline benefits in each month;

(iv) An estimate of the number of persons who, on a monthly basis through June 2013, would have their lifeline benefits terminated following an eligibility review if the regulations were adopted, expressed as a number, as a percentage of the number of persons who have had an eligibility review in each month, and as a percentage of the total number of persons currently receiving lifeline-unemployable benefits in each month; and

(v) Intended improvements in employment or treatment outcomes among persons receiving lifeline benefits that could be attributable to the changes in the regulations.

(c) Within these amounts:

(i) The department shall aggressively pursue opportunities to transfer lifeline clients to general assistance expedited coverage and to facilitate client applications for federal supplemental security income when the client's incapacities indicate that he or she would be likely to meet the federal disability criteria for supplemental security income. The department shall initiate and file the federal supplemental security income interim agreement as quickly as possible in order to maximize the recovery of federal funds;

(ii) The department shall review the lifeline caseload to identify recipients that would benefit from assistance in becoming naturalized citizens, and thus be eligible to receive federal supplemental security income benefits. Those cases shall be given high priority for naturalization funding through the department;

(iii) The department shall actively coordinate with local workforce development councils to expedite access to worker retraining programs for lifeline clients in those regions of the state with the greatest number of such clients;

(iv) By July 1, 2009, the department shall enter into an interagency agreement with the department of veterans' affairs to establish a process for referral of veterans who may be eligible for veteran's services. This agreement must include outstationing department of veterans' affairs staff in selected community service office locations in King and Pierce counties to facilitate applications for veterans' services; and

(v) In addition to any earlier evaluation that may have been conducted, the department shall intensively evaluate those clients who have been receiving lifeline benefits for twelve months or more as of July 1, 2009, or thereafter, if the available medical and incapacity related evidence indicates that the client is unlikely to meet the disability standard for federal supplemental security income benefits. The evaluation shall identify services necessary to eliminate or minimize barriers to employment, including mental health treatment, substance abuse treatment and vocational rehabilitation services. The department shall expedite referrals to chemical dependency treatment, mental health and vocational rehabilitation services for these clients.

(vi) The appropriations in this subsection reflect a change in the earned income disregard policy for lifeline clients. It is the intent of the legislature that the department shall adopt the temporary assistance for needy families earned income policy for the lifeline program.

(5) $750,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $750,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for naturalization services.

(6)(a) $3,550,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 is provided solely for refugee employment services, of which $2,650,000 is provided solely for the department to pass through to statewide refugee assistance organizations for limited English proficiency pathway services; and ~~((3,550,000))~~ $550,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 is provided solely for refugee employment services ~~(, of which $2,650,000 is provided solely for the department to pass through to statewide refugee assistance organizations for limited English proficiency pathway services.~~

~~—(b) The legislature intends that the appropriation in this subsection for the 2009–11 fiscal biennium will maintain funding for refugee programs at a level at least equal to expenditures on these programs in the 2007–09 fiscal biennium).~~

(7) The appropriations in this section reflect reductions in the appropriations for the economic services administration's administrative expenses. It is the intent of the legislature that these reductions shall be achieved, to the greatest extent possible, by reducing those administrative costs that do not affect direct client services or direct service delivery or program.

(8) $855,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, $719,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation, and $2,907,000 of the general fund--private/local appropriation are provided solely for the implementation of the opportunity portal, the food stamp employment and training program, and the disability lifeline program under Second Substitute House Bill No. 2782 (security lifeline act). If the bill is not enacted by June 30, 2010, the amounts provided in this subsection shall lapse.

(9) ~~($200,000)~~ $100,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 is provided solely for the department to award grants to small mutual assistance or small community-based organizations that contract with the department for immigrant and refugee assistance services. The funds shall be awarded to provide funding for community groups to provide transitional assistance, language skills, and other resources to improve refugees' economic self-sufficiency through the effective use of social services, financial services, and medical assistance.

Appropriation $260,036,000

.....TOTAL APPROPRIATION (~~($9,814,052,000)~~) $9,727,634,000

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) Based on quarterly expenditure reports and caseload forecasts, if the department estimates that expenditures for the medical assistance program will exceed the appropriations, the department shall take steps including but not limited to reduction of rates or elimination of optional services to reduce expenditures so that total program costs do not exceed the annual appropriation authority.

(2) In determining financial eligibility for medicaid-funded services, the department is authorized to disregard recoveries by Holocaust survivors of insurance proceeds or other assets, as defined in RCW 48.104.030.

(3) The legislature affirms that it is in the state's interest for Harborview medical center to remain an economically viable component of the state's health care system.

(4) When a person is ineligible for medicaid solely by reason of residence in an institution for mental diseases, the department shall provide the person with the same benefits as he or she would receive if eligible for medicaid, using state-only funds to the extent necessary.

(5) In accordance with RCW 74.46.625, $6,000,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation is provided solely for supplemental payments to nursing homes operated by public hospital districts. The public hospital district shall be responsible for providing the required nonfederal match for the supplemental payment, and the payments shall not exceed the maximum allowable under federal rules. It is the legislature's intent that the payments shall be supplemental to and shall not in any way offset or reduce the payments calculated and provided in accordance with part E of chapter 74.46 RCW. It is the legislature's further intent that costs otherwise allowable for rate-setting and settlement against payments under chapter 74.46 RCW shall not be disallowed solely because such costs have been paid by revenues retained by the nursing home from these supplemental payments. The supplemental payments are subject to retrospective interim and final cost settlements based on the nursing homes' as-filed and final medicare cost reports. The timing of the interim and final cost settlements shall be at the department's discretion. During either the interim cost settlement or the final cost settlement, the department shall recoup from the public hospital districts the supplemental payments that exceed the medicaid cost limit and/or the medicare upper payment limit. The department shall apply federal rules for identifying the eligible incurred medicaid costs and the medicare upper payment limit.

(6) $1,110,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation and $1,105,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for grants to rural hospitals. The department shall distribute the funds under a formula that provides a relatively larger share of the available funding to hospitals that (a) serve a disproportionate share of low-income and medically indigent patients, and (b) have relatively smaller net financial margins, to the extent allowed by the federal medicaid program.

(7) (~~($9,818,000)~~) $5,729,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and (~~($9,865,000)~~) $5,776,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for grants to nonrural hospitals. The department shall distribute the funds under a formula that provides a relatively larger share of the available funding to hospitals that (a) serve a disproportionate share of low-income and medically indigent patients, and (b) have relatively smaller net financial margins, to the extent allowed by the federal medicaid program.

(8) The department shall continue the inpatient hospital certified public expenditures program for the 2009-11 biennium. The program shall apply to all public hospitals, including those owned or operated by the state, except those classified as critical access hospitals or state psychiatric institutions. The department shall submit reports to the governor and legislature by November 1, 2009, and by November 1, 2010, that evaluate whether savings continue to exceed costs for this program. If the certified public expenditures (CPE) program in its current form is no longer cost-effective to maintain, the department shall submit a report to the governor and legislature detailing cost-effective alternative uses of local, state, and federal resources as a replacement for this program. During fiscal year 2010 and fiscal year 2011, hospitals in the program shall be paid and shall retain one hundred percent of the federal portion of the allowable hospital cost for each medicaid inpatient fee-for-service claim payable by medical assistance and one hundred percent of the federal portion of the maximum disproportionate share hospital payment allowable under federal regulations. Inpatient medicaid payments shall be established using an allowable methodology that approximates the cost of claims submitted by the hospitals. Payments made to each hospital in the program in each fiscal year of the biennium shall be compared to a baseline amount. The baseline amount will be determined by the total of (a) the inpatient claim payment amounts that would have been paid during the fiscal year had the hospital not been in the CPE program based on the reimbursement rates developed, implemented, and consistent with policies approved in the 2009-11 biennial operating appropriations act (chapter 564, Laws of 2009) and in effect on July 1, 2009, (b) one half of the indigent assistance disproportionate share hospital payment amounts paid to and retained by each hospital during fiscal year 2005, and (c) all of the other disproportionate share hospital payment amounts paid to and retained by each hospital during fiscal year 2005 to the extent the same disproportionate share hospital programs exist in the 2009-11 biennium. If payments during the fiscal year exceed the hospital's baseline amount, no additional payments will be made to the hospital except the federal portion of allowable disproportionate share hospital payments for which the hospital can certify allowable match. If payments during the fiscal year are less than the baseline amount, the hospital will be paid a state grant equal to the difference between payments during the fiscal year and the applicable baseline amount. Payment of the state grant shall be made in the applicable fiscal year and distributed in monthly payments. The grants will be recalculated and redistributed as the baseline is updated during the fiscal year. The grant payments are subject to an interim settlement within eleven months after the end of the fiscal year. A final settlement shall be performed. To the extent that either settlement determines that a hospital has received funds in excess of what it would have received as described in this subsection, the hospital must repay the excess amounts to the state when requested. $20,403,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, of which $6,570,000 is appropriated in section 204(1) of this act, and $29,480,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, of which $6,570,000 is appropriated in section 204(1) of this act, are provided solely for state grants for the participating hospitals. CPE hospitals will receive the inpatient and outpatient reimbursement rate restorations in section 9 and rate increases in section 10(1)(b) of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 2956 (hospital safety net assessment) funded through the hospital safety net assessment fund rather than through the baseline mechanism specified in this subsection.

(9) The department is authorized to use funds appropriated in this section to purchase goods and supplies through direct contracting with vendors when the department determines it is cost-effective to do so.

(10) $93,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $93,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the department to pursue a federal Medicaid waiver pursuant to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5945 (Washington health partnership plan). If the bill is not enacted by June 30, 2009, the amounts provided in this subsection shall lapse.

(11) The department shall require managed health care systems that have contracts with the department to serve medical assistance clients to limit any reimbursements or payments the systems make to providers not employed by or under contract with the systems to no more than the medical assistance rates paid by the department to providers for comparable services rendered to clients in the fee-for-service delivery system.

(12) A maximum of $241,141,000 in total funds from the general fund--state, general fund--federal, and tobacco and prevention control account--state appropriations may be expended in the fiscal biennium for the medical program pursuant to chapter 8, Laws of 2010 1st sp. sess. (security lifeline act), and these amounts are provided solely for this program. Of these amounts, $10,749,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $10,892,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for payments to hospitals for providing outpatient services to low income patients who are recipients of lifeline benefits. Pursuant to RCW 74.09.035, the department shall not expend for the lifeline medical care services program any amounts in excess of the amounts provided in this subsection.

(13) Mental health services shall be included in the services provided through the managed care system for lifeline clients under chapter 8, Laws of 2010 1st sp. sess. In transitioning lifeline clients to managed care, the department shall attempt to deliver care to lifeline clients through medical homes in community and migrant health centers. The department, in collaboration with the carrier, shall seek to improve the transition rate of lifeline clients to the federal supplemental security income program. The department shall renegotiate the contract with the managed care plan that provides services for lifeline clients to maximize state retention of future hospital savings as a result of improved care coordination. The department, in collaboration with stakeholders, shall propose a new name for the lifeline program.

(14) The department shall evaluate the impact of the use of a managed care delivery and financing system on state costs and outcomes for lifeline medical clients. Outcomes measured shall include state costs, utilization, changes in mental health status and symptoms, and involvement in the criminal justice system.

(15) The department shall report to the governor and the fiscal committees of the legislature by June 1, 2010, on its progress toward achieving a twenty percentage point increase in the generic prescription drug utilization rate.

(16) State funds shall not be used by hospitals for advertising purposes.

(17) $24,356,000 of the general fund--private/local appropriation and $35,707,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the implementation of professional services supplemental payment programs. The department shall seek a medicaid state plan amendment to create a professional services supplemental payment program for University of Washington medicine professional providers no later than July 1, 2009. The department shall apply federal rules for identifying the shortfall between current fee-for-service medicaid payments to participating providers and the applicable federal upper payment limit. Participating providers shall be solely responsible for providing the local funds required to obtain federal matching funds. Any incremental costs incurred by the department in the development, implementation, and maintenance of this program will be the responsibility of the participating providers. Participating providers will retain the full amount of supplemental payments provided under this program, net of any potential costs for any related audits or litigation brought against the state. The department shall report to the governor and the legislative fiscal committees on the prospects for expansion of the program to other qualifying providers as soon as feasibility is determined but no later than December 31, 2009. The report will outline estimated impacts on the participating providers, the procedures necessary to comply with federal guidelines, and the administrative resource requirements necessary to implement the program. The department will create a process for expansion of the program to other qualifying providers as soon as it is determined feasible by both the department and providers but no later than June 30, 2010.

(18) $9,075,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, $8,588,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and $39,747,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for development and implementation of a replacement system for the existing medicaid management information system. The amounts provided in this subsection are conditioned on the department satisfying the requirements of section 902 of this act.

(19) $506,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 and $657,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the implementation of Second Substitute House Bill No. 1373 (children's mental health). If the bill is not enacted by June 30, 2009, the amounts provided in this subsection shall lapse.

(20) Pursuant to 42 U.S.C. Sec. 1396(a)(25), the department shall pursue insurance claims on behalf of medicaid children served through its in-home medically intensive child program under WAC 388-551-3000. The department shall report to the Legislature by December 31, 2009, on the results of its efforts to recover such claims.

(21) The department may, on a case-by-case basis and in the best interests of the child, set payment rates for medically intensive home care services to promote access to home care as an alternative to hospitalization. Expenditures related to these increased payments shall not exceed the amount the department would otherwise pay for hospitalization for the child receiving medically intensive home care services.

(22) $425,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $790,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely to continue children's health coverage outreach and education efforts under RCW 74.09.470. These efforts shall rely on existing relationships and systems developed with local public health agencies, health care providers, public schools, the women, infants, and children program, the early childhood education and assistance program, child care providers, newborn visiting nurses, and other community-based organizations. The department shall seek public-private partnerships and federal funds that are or may become available to provide on-going support for outreach and education efforts under the federal children's health insurance program reauthorization act of 2009.

(23) The department, in conjunction with the office of financial management, shall implement a prorated inpatient payment policy.

(24) The department will pursue a competitive procurement process for antihemophilic products, emphasizing evidence-based medicine and protection of patient access without significant disruption in treatment.

(25) The department will pursue several strategies towards reducing pharmacy expenditures including but not limited to increasing generic prescription drug utilization by 20 percentage points and promoting increased utilization of the existing mail-order pharmacy program.

(26) The department shall reduce reimbursement for over-the-counter medications while maintaining reimbursement for those over-the-counter medications that can replace more costly prescription medications.

(27) The department shall seek public-private partnerships and federal funds that are or may become available to implement health information technology projects under the federal American recovery and reinvestment act of 2009.

(28) If the cost of a brand name drug, after receiving discounted prices and rebates, is less than the cost of the generic version of the drug for the medical assistance program, the brand name drug shall be purchased.

~~((28))~~ (29) The department shall target funding for maternity support services towards pregnant women with factors that lead to higher rates of poor birth outcomes, including hypertension, a preterm or low birth weight birth in the most recent previous birth, a cognitive deficit or developmental disability, substance abuse, severe mental illness, unhealthy weight or failure to gain weight, tobacco use, or African American or Native American race. The department shall prioritize evidence-based practices for delivery of maternity support services. To the extent practicable, the department shall develop a mechanism to increase federal funding for maternity support services by leveraging local public funding for those services.

The department shall work in partnership with the department of corrections to identify services and find placements for offenders who are released through the extraordinary medical placement program. The department shall collaborate with the department of corrections to identify and track cost savings to the department of corrections, including medical cost savings, and to identify and track expenditures incurred by the aging and disability services program for community services and by the medical assistance program for medical expenses. A joint report regarding the identified savings and expenditures shall be provided to the office of financial management and the appropriate fiscal committees of the legislature by November 30, 2010. ~~((33))~~ Sufficient amounts are provided in this section to provide full benefit dual eligible beneficiaries with medicare part D prescription drug copayment coverage in accordance with RCW 74.09.520.)

(34) In addition to other reductions, the appropriations in this section reflect reductions targeted specifically to state government administrative costs. These administrative reductions shall be achieved, to the greatest extent possible, by reducing those administrative costs that do not affect providers, direct client services, or direct service delivery or programs.

(35) $331,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, $331,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and $1,228,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the department to support the activities of the Washington poison center. (37) Reductions in dental services are to be achieved by focusing on the fastest growing areas of dental care. Reductions in preventative care, particularly for children, will be avoided to the extent possible.

(38) $1,307,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 and $1,770,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely to continue to provide dental services in calendar year 2011 for qualifying adults with developmental disabilities. (40)(a) The department, in coordination with the health care authority, shall actively continue to negotiate a medicaid section 1115 waiver with the federal centers for medicare and medicaid services that would provide federal matching funds for services provided to persons enrolled in the basic health plan under chapter 70.47 RCW and the medical care services program under RCW 74.09.035.

(b) If the waiver in (a) of this subsection is granted, the department and the health care authority may implement the waiver if it allows the program to remain within appropriated levels, after providing notice of its terms and conditions to the relevant policy and fiscal committees of the legislature in writing thirty days prior to the planned implementation date of the waiver.

- (8) Any school district board of directors may petition the superintendent of public instruction by submission of a resolution adopted in a public meeting to reduce or delay any portion of its basic education allocation for any school year. The superintendent of public instruction shall approve such reduction or delay if it does not impair the district's financial condition. Any delay shall not be for more than two school years. Sec. 505. 2010 1st sp.s. c 37 s 507 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

FOR THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION--FOR SPECIAL EDUCATION PROGRAMS

General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 2010) $632,136,000

General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 2011) (~~($650,856,000)~~) $651,856,000

Education Legacy Trust Account--State

Appropriation $756,000

..... TOTAL APPROPRIATION (~~($1,948,349,000)~~) $1,949,349,000

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

- (1) Funding for special education programs is provided on an excess cost basis, pursuant to RCW 28A.150.390. School districts shall ensure that special education students as a class receive their full share of the general apportionment allocation accruing through sections 502 and 504 of this act. To the extent a school district cannot provide an appropriate education for special education students under chapter 28A.155 RCW through the general apportionment allocation, it shall provide services through the special education excess cost allocation funded in this section.
  - (2)(a) The superintendent of public instruction shall ensure that:
    - (i) Special education students are basic education students first;
    - (ii) As a class, special education students are entitled to the full basic education allocation; and
    - (iii) Special education students are basic education students for the entire school day.
  - (b) The superintendent of public instruction shall continue to implement the full cost method of excess cost accounting, as designed by the committee and recommended by the superintendent, pursuant to section 501(1)(k), chapter 372, Laws of 2006.
  - (3) Each fiscal year appropriation includes such funds as are necessary to complete the school year ending in the fiscal year and for prior fiscal year adjustments.
  - (4) The superintendent of public instruction shall distribute state funds to school districts based on two categories: (a) The first category includes (i) children birth through age two who are eligible for the optional program for special education eligible developmentally delayed infants and toddlers, and (ii) students eligible for the mandatory special education program and who are age three or four, or five and not yet enrolled in kindergarten; and (b) the second category includes students who are eligible for the mandatory special education program and who are age five and enrolled in kindergarten and students age six through 21.
  - (5)(a) For the 2009-10 and 2010-11 school years, the superintendent shall make allocations to each district based on the sum of:
    - (i) A district's annual average headcount enrollment of students ages birth through four and those five year olds not yet enrolled in kindergarten, as defined in subsection (4) of this section, multiplied by the district's average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student, multiplied by 1.15; and
    - (ii) A district's annual average full-time equivalent basic education enrollment multiplied by the funded enrollment percent determined pursuant to subsection (6)(b) of this section, multiplied by the district's average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student multiplied by 0.9309.
  - (b) For purposes of this subsection, "average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student" for a district shall be based on the staffing ratios required by RCW 28A.150.260 and shall not include enhancements, secondary vocational education, or small schools in the 2009-10 school year. In the 2010-11 school year, the per student allocation under this subsection (5)(b) shall include the same factors as in the 2009-10 school year, but shall also include the classified staff enhancements included in section 502(3)(b).
  - (6) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section.
    - (a) "Annual average full-time equivalent basic education enrollment" means the resident enrollment including students enrolled through choice (RCW 28A.225.225) and students from nonhigh districts (RCW 28A.225.210) and excluding students residing in another district enrolled as part of an interdistrict cooperative program (RCW 28A.225.250).
    - (b) "Enrollment percent" means the district's resident special education annual average enrollment, excluding the birth through age four enrollment and those five year olds not yet enrolled in kindergarten, as a percent of the district's annual average full-time equivalent basic education enrollment.
- Each district's general fund--state funded special education enrollment shall be the lesser of the district's actual enrollment percent or 12.7 percent.
- (7) At the request of any interdistrict cooperative of at least 15 districts in which all excess cost services for special education students of the districts are provided by the cooperative, the maximum enrollment percent shall be calculated in accordance with subsection (6)(b) of this section, and shall be calculated in the aggregate rather than individual district units. For purposes of this subsection, the average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student shall be calculated in the aggregate rather than individual district units.

(8) To the extent necessary, (~~($44,269,000)~~) $45,269,000 of the general fund--state appropriation and $29,574,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided for safety net awards for districts with demonstrated needs for special education funding beyond the amounts provided in subsection (5) of this section. If the federal safety net awards based on the federal eligibility threshold exceed the federal appropriation in this subsection (8) in any fiscal year, the superintendent shall expend all available federal discretionary funds necessary to meet this need. Safety net funds shall be awarded by the state safety net oversight committee subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) The committee shall consider unmet needs for districts that can convincingly demonstrate that all legitimate expenditures for special education exceed all available revenues from state funding formulas. In the determination of need, the committee shall also consider additional available revenues from federal sources. Differences in program costs attributable to district philosophy, service delivery choice, or accounting practices are not a legitimate basis for safety net awards. In the determination of need, the committee shall require that districts demonstrate that they are maximizing their eligibility for all state and federal revenues related to services for special education-eligible students. Awards associated with (b) and (c) of this subsection shall not exceed the total of a district's specific determination of need.

(b) The committee shall then consider the extraordinary high cost needs of one or more individual special education students. Differences in costs attributable to district philosophy, service delivery choice, or accounting practices are not a legitimate basis for safety net awards.

(c) Using criteria developed by the committee, the committee shall then consider extraordinary costs associated with communities that draw a larger number of families with children in need of special education services. The safety net awards to school districts shall be adjusted to reflect amounts awarded under (b) of this subsection.

(d) The maximum allowable indirect cost for calculating safety net eligibility may not exceed the federal restricted indirect cost rate for the district plus one percent.

(e) Safety net awards must be adjusted for any audit findings or exceptions related to special education funding.

(f) Safety net awards shall be adjusted based on the percent of potential medicaid eligible students billed as calculated by the superintendent in accordance with chapter 318, Laws of 1999. The state safety net oversight committee shall ensure that safety net documentation and awards are based on current medicaid revenue amounts.

(g) The office of the superintendent of public instruction, at the conclusion of each school year, shall recover safety net funds that were distributed prospectively but for which districts were not subsequently eligible.

(9) The superintendent of public instruction may adopt such rules and procedures as are necessary to administer the special education funding and safety net award process. Prior to revising any standards, procedures, or rules, the superintendent shall consult with the office of financial management and the fiscal committees of the legislature.

(10) The safety net oversight committee appointed by the superintendent of public instruction shall consist of:

(a) One staff from the office of superintendent of public instruction;

(b) Staff of the office of the state auditor who shall be nonvoting members of the committee; and

(c) One or more representatives from school districts or educational service districts knowledgeable of special education programs and funding.

(11) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall review and streamline the application process to access safety net funds, provide technical assistance to school districts, and annually survey school districts regarding improvement to the process.

(12) A maximum of $678,000 may be expended from the general fund--state appropriations to fund 5.43 full-time equivalent teachers and 2.1 full-time equivalent aides at children's orthopedic hospital and medical center. This amount is in lieu of money provided through the home and hospital allocation and the special education program.

(13) The superintendent shall maintain the percentage of federal flow-through to school districts at 85 percent. In addition to other purposes, school districts may use increased federal funds for high-cost students, for purchasing regional special education services from educational service districts, and for staff development activities particularly relating to inclusion issues.

(14) A school district may carry over from one year to the next year up to 10 percent of the general fund--state funds allocated under this program; however, carryover funds shall be expended in the special education program.

She was employee of the year and it seemed like in our community, I've lived in Monroe all of my 52 years and the correctional complex has been there over a 100 years and there has never been a situation like that. It seemed like a lot of us were hurting that day. Madame Speaker, my heart goes out to all the staff, the brothers and sisters of Teamsters, Local 117, Superintendent Frakes, Secretary Vail and everyone that works for the Department of Corrections and all of our state employees. #### HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2011-4612, by Representative Probst

WHEREAS, Tens of thousands of Washington motorcyclists travel the roads, streets, and highways of the Evergreen State in their regular work and school commutes, and in their weekend adventures and vacation rides; and

WHEREAS, Motorcycles are fuel-efficient, congestion-busting users of our transportation infrastructure for which they help provide the funding; and

WHEREAS, Our state and nation are world leaders in motorcycle safety and licensing, and in rider training and public awareness; and

WHEREAS, The vast majority of the members of the motorcycling community are genuinely committed to upholding safe and sane policies and procedures for themselves and their passengers, and certainly also for their fellow motorists with whom they share the highways and roads of our state; and

WHEREAS, A recent comprehensive study of crashes involving motorcycles and motor vehicles - the "Motorcycle Accident Cause Factors and Identification of Countermeasures" report - found that in approximately two-thirds of the cases, the driver of the car, pickup, or some other motor vehicle was in fact the cause of the crash; and

WHEREAS, A stronger emphasis on motorcycle safety and awareness will make our roads, streets, and highways safer for everyone; and

WHEREAS, Although every day of the year in a very real sense can and must be considered "Motorcycle Safety Awareness Day," May is in fact a month set aside at the national level for special and particular emphasis on safety on the part of the riders of the road and respect from their fellow users of the road; and

WHEREAS, The month of May enjoys special status as Motorcycle Safety Awareness Month;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives join the rest of the state and nation in saluting and celebrating May - Motorcycle Safety Awareness Month; and

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 1091, by Representatives Sells, Reykdal and Kenney

Modifying the unemployment insurance program.

The bill was read the second time.

Representative Sells moved the adoption of amendment (14).

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 924. The legislature finds that the state of Washington has run one of the most effective, efficient, and responsible unemployment insurance tax and benefit systems in the nation. The result is a trust fund that is the healthiest of all unemployment insurance trust funds in the nation, resulting in Washington being one of the minority of states that has not been required to borrow from the federal government for the trust fund. The legislature also finds that there is an urgent need for a temporary stimulus to help Washington employers and workers weather some of the most severe economic conditions in the state's history. The state of Washington is uniquely positioned to draw down the balance of the unemployment insurance trust fund to encourage employers to create jobs, stimulate economic activities, and provide needed assistance to unemployed workers, all without jeopardizing the solvency of the trust fund. It is the intent of the legislature to use surplus funds in the unemployment insurance trust fund that are not derived from experience-based charges in order to provide this needed temporary stimulus.

PART I

Temporary Benefit Increase

NEW SECTION. Sec. 925. A new section is added to chapter 50.20 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided for in subsection (3) of this section, for claims with an effective date on or after March 6, 2011, and before January 1, 2012, an individual's weekly benefit amount shall be the amount established under RCW 50.20.120 plus an additional temporary benefit increase of twenty-five dollars. The weekly benefit amount under this section:

(a) Is payable for all weeks of regular, extended, emergency, supplemental, or additional benefits on that claim;

(b) Shall increase the maximum benefits payable to the individual under RCW 50.20.120(1) by a corresponding dollar amount; and

(c) Shall increase the maximum amount payable weekly and the minimum amount payable weekly, irrespective of the provisions of RCW 50.20.120(3).

(2) Payment of benefits to individuals whose weekly benefit amounts are increased under this section shall be subject to the same terms and conditions under this title that apply to the payment of benefits to individuals whose benefit amounts are established under RCW 50.20.120.

(3) The department must calculate the total amount of temporary benefit increases paid under subsection (1) of this section.

(a) In calculating the total amount of temporary benefit increases, weeks of emergency unemployment compensation and extended benefits shall not be considered.

(b) Except as provided for in (c) of this subsection, when the total amount of temporary benefit increases for all weeks equals ninety million dollars, the temporary benefit increase under subsection (1) of this section may not be paid for any additional weeks. An individual's maximum benefits payable, maximum amount payable weekly, or the minimum amount payable weekly must be adjusted accordingly.

(c) An individual receiving emergency unemployment compensation or extended benefits under this section shall continue to receive the temporary benefit increase for all weeks of emergency unemployment compensation or extended benefits.

Sec. 926. RCW 50.20.120 and 2009 c 3 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as provided in RCW 50.20.1201 and section 2 of this act, benefits shall be payable as provided in this section.

(1) For claims with an effective date on or after April 4, 2004, benefits shall be payable to any eligible individual during the individual's benefit year in a maximum amount equal to the lesser of twenty-six times the weekly benefit amount, as determined in subsection (2) of this section, or one-third of the individual's base year wages under this title.

(2) For claims with an effective date on or after April 24, 2005, an individual's weekly benefit amount shall be an amount equal to three and eighty-five one-hundredths percent of the average quarterly wages of the individual's total wages during the two quarters of the individual's base year in which such total wages were highest.

(3) The maximum and minimum amounts payable weekly shall be determined as of each June 30th to apply to benefit years beginning in the twelve-month period immediately following such June 30th.

(a) The maximum amount payable weekly shall be either four hundred ninety-six dollars or sixty-three percent of the "average weekly wage" for the calendar year preceding such June 30th, whichever is greater.

(b) The minimum amount payable weekly shall be fifteen percent of the "average weekly wage" for the calendar year preceding such June 30th.

(4) If any weekly benefit, maximum benefit, or minimum benefit amount computed herein is not a multiple of one dollar, it shall be reduced to the next lower multiple of one dollar.

Sec. 927. RCW 50.29.021 and 2010 c 25 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) This section applies to benefits charged to the experience rating accounts of employers for claims that have an effective date on or after January 4, 2004.

(2)(a) An experience rating account shall be established and maintained for each employer, except employers as described in RCW 50.44.010, 50.44.030, and 50.50.030 who have properly elected to make payments in lieu of contributions, taxable local government employers as described in RCW 50.44.035, and those employers who are required to make payments in lieu of contributions, based on existing records of the employment security department.

(b) Benefits paid to an eligible individual shall be charged to the experience rating accounts of each of such individual's employers during the individual's base year in the same ratio that the wages paid by each employer to the individual during the base year bear to the wages paid by all employers to that individual during that base year, except as otherwise provided in this section.

(c) When the eligible individual's separating employer is a covered contribution paying base year employer, benefits paid to the eligible individual shall be charged to the experience rating account of only the individual's separating employer if the individual qualifies for benefits under:

(i) RCW 50.20.050 (1)(b)(i) or (2)(b)(i), as applicable, and became unemployed after having worked and earned wages in the bona fide work; or

(ii) RCW 50.20.050 (1)(b) (v) through (x) or (2)(b) (v) through (x).

(3) The legislature finds that certain benefit payments, in whole or in part, should not be charged to the experience rating accounts of employers except those employers described in RCW 50.44.010, 50.44.030, and 50.50.030 who have properly elected to make payments in lieu of contributions, taxable local government employers described in RCW 50.44.035, and those employers who are required to make payments in lieu of contributions, as follows:

(a) Benefits paid to any individual later determined to be ineligible shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer. However, when a benefit claim becomes invalid due to an amendment or adjustment of a report where the employer failed to report or inaccurately reported hours worked or remuneration paid, or both, all benefits paid will be charged to the experience rating account of the contribution paying employer or employers that originally filed the incomplete or inaccurate report or reports. An employer who reimburses the trust fund for benefits paid to workers and who fails to report or inaccurately reported hours worked or remuneration paid, or both, shall reimburse the trust fund for all benefits paid that are based on the originally filed incomplete or inaccurate report or reports.

(b) Benefits paid to an individual filing under the provisions of chapter 50.06 RCW shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer only if:

(i) The individual files under RCW 50.06.020(1) after receiving crime victims' compensation for a disability resulting from a nonwork- related occurrence; or

(ii) The individual files under RCW 50.06.020(2).

(c) Benefits paid which represent the state's share of benefits payable as extended benefits defined under RCW 50.22.010(6) shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(d) In the case of individuals who requalify for benefits under RCW 50.20.050 or 50.20.060, benefits based on wage credits earned prior to the disqualifying separation shall not be charged to the experience rating account of the contribution paying employer from whom that separation took place.

(e) Benefits paid to an individual who qualifies for benefits under RCW 50.20.050 (1)(b) (iv) or (xi) or (2)(b) (iv) or (xi), as applicable, shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(f) With respect to claims with an effective date on or after the first Sunday following April 22, 2005, benefits paid that exceed the benefits that would have been paid if the weekly benefit amount for the claim had been determined as one percent of the total wages paid in the individual's base year shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer. This subsection

(3)(f) does not apply to the calculation of contribution rates under RCW 50.29.025 for rate year 2010 and thereafter.

(g) The forty-five dollar increase paid as part of an individual's weekly benefit amount as provided in RCW 50.20.1201 and the twenty-five dollar increase paid as part of an individual's weekly benefit amount as provided in section 2 of this act shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(h) With respect to claims where the minimum amount payable weekly is increased to one hundred fifty-five dollars pursuant to RCW 50.20.1201(3), benefits paid that exceed the benefits that would have been paid if the minimum amount payable weekly had been calculated pursuant to RCW 50.20.120 shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(i) Training benefits paid to an individual under RCW 50.22.155 shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(4)(a) A contribution paying base year employer, not otherwise eligible for relief of charges for benefits under this section, may receive such relief if the benefit charges result from payment to an individual who:

(i) Last left the employ of such employer voluntarily for reasons not attributable to the employer;

(ii) Was discharged for misconduct or gross misconduct connected with his or her work not a result of inability to meet the minimum job requirements;

(iii) Is unemployed as a result of closure or severe curtailment of operation at the employer's plant, building, worksite, or other facility. This closure must be for reasons directly attributable to a catastrophic occurrence such as fire, flood, or other natural disaster;

(iv) Continues to be employed on a regularly scheduled permanent part-time basis by a base year employer and who at some time during the base year was concurrently employed and subsequently separated from at least one other base year employer. Benefit charge relief ceases when the employment relationship between the employer requesting relief and the claimant is terminated. This subsection does not apply to shared work employers under chapter 50.06 RCW; or

(v) Was hired to replace an employee who is a member of the military reserves or National Guard and was called to federal active military service by the president of the United States and is subsequently laid off when that employee is reemployed by their employer upon release from active duty within the time provided for reemployment in RCW 73.16.035.

(b) The employer requesting relief of charges under this subsection must request relief in writing within thirty days following mailing to the last known address of the notification of the valid initial determination of such claim, stating the date and reason for the separation or the circumstances of continued employment. The commissioner, upon investigation of the request, shall determine whether relief should be granted.

The funds provided in this subsection must be fully obligated for training benefits for these individuals before the funds provided in subsection (1) of this section may be obligated for training benefits for these individuals. Any amount of the funds specified in this subsection that is not obligated as permitted may not be carried forward to any future period.) If the amount available for training benefits at any time is equal to or less than five million dollars, funds will no longer be obligated for individuals in RCW 50.22.155(2)(a)(i). If funds are exhausted, training benefits will continue to be obligated to dislocated workers only under RCW 50.22.155(2)(a)(i). The following year's obligation for training benefits will be reduced by a corresponding amount.

Sec. 934. RCW 50.24.014 and 2009 c 566 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The amount of wages subject to tax shall be determined under RCW 50.24.010.

(b) A separate and identifiable account is established in the administrative contingency fund for financing the employment security department's administrative costs under RCW 50.22.150 and 50.22.155 and the costs under RCW 50.22.150(11) and 50.22.155~~((14))~~ (1)(m) and (2)(m). All money in this account shall be expended solely for the purposes of this title and for no other purposes whatsoever. The amount of wages subject to tax shall be determined under RCW 50.24.010. Any amount of contributions payable under this subsection (1)(b) that exceeds the amount that would have been collected at a rate of four one-thousandths of one percent must be deposited in the account created in (a) of this subsection.

(2)(a) Contributions under this section shall become due and be paid by each employer under rules as the commissioner may prescribe, and shall not be deducted, in whole or in part, from the remuneration of individuals in the employ of the employer. Any deduction in violation of this section is unlawful.

(b) In the payment of any contributions under this section, a fractional part of a cent shall be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to one cent.

(3) If the commissioner determines that federal funding has been increased to provide financing for the services specified in chapter 50.62 RCW, the commissioner shall direct that collection of contributions under this section be terminated on the following January 1st.

Sec. 935. RCW 50.04.075 and 1984 c 181 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) With respect to claims with an effective date prior to July 1, 2012, "dislocated worker" means any individual who:

~~((1))~~ (a) Has been terminated or received a notice of termination from employment;

~~((2))~~ (b) Is eligible for or has exhausted entitlement to unemployment compensation benefits; and

~~((3))~~ (c) Is unlikely to return to employment in the individual's principal occupation or previous industry because of a diminishing demand for their skills in that occupation or industry.

(2) With respect to claims with an effective date on or after July 1, 2012, "dislocated worker" means any individual who:

(a) Has been involuntarily and indefinitely separated from employment as a result of a permanent reduction of operations at the individual's place of employment, or has separated from a declining occupation; and

(b) Is eligible for or has exhausted entitlement to unemployment compensation benefits.

Sec. 936. RCW 50.20.130 and 2010 c 8 s 13022 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If an eligible individual is available for work for less than a full week, he or she shall be paid his or her weekly benefit amount reduced by one-seventh of such amount for each day that he or she is unavailable for work: PROVIDED, That if he or she is unavailable for work for three days or more of a week, he or she shall be considered unavailable for the entire week.

(2) Each eligible individual who is unemployed in any week shall be paid with respect to such week a benefit in an amount equal to his or her weekly benefit amount less:

(a) Seventy-five percent of that part of the remuneration (if any) payable to him or her with respect to such week which is in excess of five dollars; or

(b) For any weeks in which the individual is receiving training benefits as provided in RCW 50.22.155(2), half of that part of the remuneration (if any) payable to him or her with respect to such week which is in excess of five dollars. ~~((Such benefit))~~

(3) The benefits in this section, if not a multiple of one dollar, shall be reduced to the next lower multiple of one dollar.

Sec. 937. RCW 50.29.021 and 2010 c 25 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) This section applies to benefits charged to the experience rating accounts of employers for claims that have an effective date on or after January 4, 2004.

(2)(a) An experience rating account shall be established and maintained for each employer, except employers as described in RCW 50.44.010, 50.44.030, and 50.50.030 who have properly elected to make payments in lieu of contributions, taxable local government employers as described in RCW 50.44.035, and those employers who are required to make payments in lieu of contributions, based on existing records of the employment security department.

(b) Benefits paid to an eligible individual shall be charged to the experience rating accounts of each of such individual's employers during the individual's base year in the same ratio that the wages paid by each employer to the individual during the base year bear to the wages paid by all employers to that individual during that base year, except as otherwise provided in this section.

(c) When the eligible individual's separating employer is a covered contribution paying base year employer, benefits paid to the eligible individual shall be charged to the experience rating account of only the individual's separating employer if the individual qualifies for benefits under:

(i) RCW 50.20.050 (1)(b)(i) or (2)(b)(i), as applicable, and became unemployed after having worked and earned wages in the bona fide work; or

(ii) RCW 50.20.050 (1)(b) (v) through (x) or (2)(b) (v) through (x).

(3) The legislature finds that certain benefit payments, in whole or in part, should not be charged to the experience rating accounts of employers except those employers described in RCW 50.44.010,

50.44.030, and 50.50.030 who have properly elected to make payments in lieu of contributions, taxable local government employers described in RCW 50.44.035, and those employers who are required to make payments in lieu of contributions, as follows:

(a) Benefits paid to any individual later determined to be ineligible shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer. However, when a benefit claim becomes invalid due to an amendment or adjustment of a report where the employer failed to report or inaccurately reported hours worked or remuneration paid, or both, all benefits paid will be charged to the experience rating account of the contribution paying employer or employers that originally filed the incomplete or inaccurate report or reports. An employer who reimburses the trust fund for benefits paid to workers and who fails to report or inaccurately reported hours worked or remuneration paid, or both, shall reimburse the trust fund for all benefits paid that are based on the originally filed incomplete or inaccurate report or reports.

(b) Benefits paid to an individual filing under the provisions of chapter 50.06 RCW shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer only if:

(i) The individual files under RCW 50.06.020(1) after receiving crime victims' compensation for a disability resulting from a nonwork-related occurrence; or

(ii) The individual files under RCW 50.06.020(2).

(c) Benefits paid which represent the state's share of benefits payable as extended benefits defined under RCW 50.22.010(6) shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(d) In the case of individuals who requalify for benefits under RCW 50.20.050 or 50.20.060, benefits based on wage credits earned prior to the disqualifying separation shall not be charged to the experience rating account of the contribution paying employer from whom that separation took place.

(e) Benefits paid to an individual who qualifies for benefits under RCW 50.20.050 (1)(b) (iv) or (xi) or (2)(b) (iv) or (xi), as applicable, shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(f) With respect to claims with an effective date on or after the first Sunday following April 22, 2005, benefits paid that exceed the benefits that would have been paid if the weekly benefit amount for the claim had been determined as one percent of the total wages paid in the individual's base year shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer. This subsection (3)(f) does not apply to the calculation of contribution rates under RCW 50.29.025 for rate year 2010 and thereafter.

(g) The forty-five dollar increase paid as part of an individual's weekly benefit amount as provided in RCW 50.20.1201 and the twenty-five dollar increase paid as part of an individual's weekly benefit amount as provided in section 2 of this act shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(h) With respect to claims where the minimum amount payable weekly is increased to one hundred fifty-five dollars pursuant to RCW 50.20.1201(3), benefits paid that exceed the benefits that would have been paid if the minimum amount payable weekly had been calculated pursuant to RCW 50.20.120 shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(i) Upon approval of an individual's training benefits plan submitted in accordance with RCW 50.22.155(2), an individual is considered enrolled in training, and regular benefits beginning with the week of approval shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(j) Training benefits paid to an individual under RCW 50.22.155 shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(4)(a) A contribution paying base year employer, not otherwise eligible for relief of charges for benefits under this section, may receive such relief if the benefit charges result from payment to an individual who:

(i) Last left the employ of such employer voluntarily for reasons not attributable to the employer;

(ii) Was discharged for misconduct or gross misconduct connected with his or her work not a result of inability to meet the minimum job requirements;

(iii) Is unemployed as a result of closure or severe curtailment of operation at the employer's plant, building, worksite, or other facility. This closure must be for reasons directly attributable to a catastrophic occurrence such as fire, flood, or other natural disaster;

(iv) Continues to be employed on a regularly scheduled permanent part-time basis by a base year employer and who at some time during the base year was concurrently employed and subsequently separated from at least one other base year employer. Benefit charge relief ceases when the employment relationship between the employer requesting relief and the claimant is terminated. This subsection does not apply to shared work employers under chapter 50.06 RCW; or

(v) Was hired to replace an employee who is a member of the military reserves or National Guard and was called to federal active military service by the president of the United States and is subsequently laid off when that employee is reemployed by their employer upon release from active duty within the time provided for reemployment in RCW 73.16.035.

(b) The employer requesting relief of charges under this subsection must request relief in writing within thirty days following mailing to the last known address of the notification of the valid initial determination of such claim, stating the date and reason for the separation or the circumstances of continued employment. The commissioner, upon investigation of the request, shall determine whether relief should be granted.

Sec. 938. RCW 50.22.157 and 2009 c 3 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The employment security department shall report to the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 2009, and every year thereafter, on the status of the training benefits program and the resulting outcomes. The report shall include a survey based assessment of the employment outcomes for program participants within the previous three years. The department shall also include in its report:

((4)) (a) A demographic analysis of participants in the training benefits program under this section including the number of claimants per North American industry classification system code and the gender, race, age, and geographic representation of participants;

((2)) (b) The duration of training benefits claimed per claimant;

((3)) (c) An analysis of the training provided to participants including the occupational category supported by the training, whether the training received would lead to employment in a high demand occupation, whether a degree or certificate is required in that occupational category to obtain employment, those participants who complete training in relationship to those that do not, the number of participants who take courses in basic language, reading, or writing skills to improve their employability, and the reasons for noncompletion of approved training programs;

((4)) (d) The employment and wage history of participants, including the pretraining and posttraining wage, the type of work participants were engaged in prior to unemployment, and whether those participating in training return to their previous employer (after training terminates) within two years of receiving training, or are employed in a field for which they were retrained; ~~((and~~

(b) The graduated social cost factor rate shall be determined as follows:

(i)(A) Except as provided in (b)(i)(B) and (C) of this subsection, the commissioner shall calculate the flat social cost factor for a rate year by dividing the total social cost by the total taxable payroll. The division shall be carried to the second decimal place with the remaining fraction disregarded unless it amounts to five hundredths or more, in which case the second decimal place shall be rounded to the next higher digit. The flat social cost factor shall be expressed as a percentage.

(B) If, on the cut-off date, the balance in the unemployment compensation fund is determined by the commissioner to be an amount that will provide more than ten months of unemployment benefits, the commissioner shall calculate the flat social cost factor for the rate year immediately following the cut-off date by reducing the total social cost by the dollar amount that represents the number of months for which the balance in the unemployment compensation fund on the cut-off date will provide benefits above ten months and dividing the result by the total taxable payroll. However, the calculation under this subsection (1)(b)(i)(B) for a rate year may not result in a flat social cost factor that is more than four-tenths lower than the calculation under (b)(i)(A) of this subsection for that rate year.

For the purposes of this subsection, the commissioner shall determine the number of months of unemployment benefits in the unemployment compensation fund using the benefit cost rate for the average of the three highest calendar benefit cost rates in the twenty consecutive completed calendar years immediately preceding the cut-off date or a period of consecutive calendar years immediately preceding the cut-off date that includes three recessions, if longer.

(C) The minimum flat social cost factor calculated under this subsection (1)(b) shall be six-tenths of one percent, except that if the balance in the unemployment compensation fund is determined by the commissioner to be an amount that will provide:

(I) At least twelve months but less than fourteen months of unemployment benefits, the minimum shall be five-tenths of one percent; or

(II) At least fourteen months of unemployment benefits, the minimum shall be five-tenths of one percent, except that, for employers in rate class 1, the minimum shall be forty-five hundredths of one percent.

(ii)(A) Except as provided in (b)(ii)(B) of this subsection, the graduated social cost factor rate for each employer in the array is the flat social cost factor multiplied by the percentage specified as follows for the rate class to which the employer has been assigned in (a)(ii) of this subsection, except that the sum of an employer's array calculation factor rate and the graduated social cost factor rate may not exceed six and five-tenths percent or, for employers whose North American industry classification system code is within "111," "112," "1141," "115," "3114," "3117," "42448," or "49312," may not exceed six percent through rate year 2007 and may not exceed five and seven-tenths percent for rate years 2008 and 2009:

- (I) Rate class 1 - 78 percent;
- (II) Rate class 2 - 82 percent;
- (III) Rate class 3 - 86 percent;
- (IV) Rate class 4 - 90 percent;
- (V) Rate class 5 - 94 percent;
- (VI) Rate class 6 - 98 percent;
- (VII) Rate class 7 - 102 percent;
- (VIII) Rate class 8 - 106 percent;
- (IX) Rate class 9 - 110 percent;
- (X) Rate class 10 - 114 percent;
- (XI) Rate class 11 - 118 percent; and

(XII) Rate classes 12 through 40 - 120 percent.

(B) For contributions assessed beginning July 1, 2005, through December 31, 2007, for employers whose North American industry classification system code is "111," "112," "1141," "115," "3114," "3117," "42448," or "49312," the graduated social cost factor rate is zero.

(iii) For the purposes of this section:

(A) "Total social cost" means the amount calculated by subtracting the array calculation factor contributions paid by all employers with respect to the four consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date and paid to the employment security department by the cut-off date from the total unemployment benefits paid to claimants in the same four consecutive calendar quarters. To calculate the flat social cost factor for rate year 2005, the commissioner shall calculate the total social cost using the array calculation factor contributions that would have been required to be paid by all employers in the calculation period if (a) of this subsection had been in effect for the relevant period. To calculate the flat social cost factor for rate years 2010 and 2011, the forty-five dollar increase paid as part of an individual's weekly benefit amount as provided in RCW 50.20.1201 shall not be considered for purposes of calculating the total unemployment benefits paid to claimants in the four consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date.

(B) "Total taxable payroll" means the total amount of wages subject to tax, as determined under RCW 50.24.010, for all employers in the four consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date and reported to the employment security department by the cut-off date.

(c) For employers who do not meet the definition of "qualified employer" by reason of failure to pay contributions when due:

(i) The array calculation factor rate shall be two-tenths higher than that in rate class 40, except employers who have an approved agency-deferred payment contract by September 30th of the previous rate year. If any employer with an approved agency-deferred payment contract fails to make any one of the succeeding deferred payments or fails to submit any succeeding tax report and payment in a timely manner, the employer's tax rate shall immediately revert to an array calculation factor rate two-tenths higher than that in rate class 40; and

(ii) The social cost factor rate shall be the social cost factor rate assigned to rate class 40 under (b)(ii) of this subsection.

(d) For all other employers not qualified to be in the array:

(i) For rate years 2005, 2006, and 2007:

(A) The array calculation factor rate shall be a rate equal to the average industry array calculation factor rate as determined by the commissioner, plus fifteen percent of that amount; however, the rate may not be less than one percent or more than the array calculation factor rate in rate class 40; and

(B) The social cost factor rate shall be a rate equal to the average industry social cost factor rate as determined by the commissioner, plus fifteen percent of that amount, but not more than the social cost factor rate assigned to rate class 40 under (b)(ii) of this subsection.

(ii) For contributions assessed for rate years 2008 and 2009:

(A) The array calculation factor rate shall be a rate equal to the average industry array calculation factor rate as determined by the commissioner, multiplied by the history factor, but not less than one percent or more than the array calculation factor rate in rate class 40;

(B) The social cost factor rate shall be a rate equal to the average industry social cost factor rate as determined by the commissioner, multiplied by the history factor, but not more than the social cost factor rate assigned to rate class 40 under (b)(ii) of this subsection; and

(C) The history factor shall be based on the total amounts of benefits charged and contributions paid in the three fiscal years ending prior to the computation date by employers not qualified to be in the array, other than employers in (c) of this subsection, who were first subject to contributions in the calendar year ending three years prior to the computation date. The commissioner shall calculate the history ratio by dividing the total amount of benefits charged by the total amount of contributions paid in this three-year period by these employers. The division shall be carried to the second decimal place with the remaining fraction disregarded unless it amounts to five one-hundredths or more, in which case the second decimal place shall be rounded to the next higher digit. The commissioner shall determine the history factor according to the history ratio as follows:

	History Ratio		History Factor (percent)
	At least	Less than
(I)	.95	90	0.010000	0.011250	10	1.01

			0.023750	0.025000	21	2.50

(2) For contributions assessed in rate year 2010 and thereafter, the contribution rate for each employer subject to contributions under RCW 50.24.010 shall be the sum of the array calculation factor rate and the graduated social cost factor rate determined under this subsection, and the solvency surcharge determined under RCW 50.29.041, if any.

(a) The array calculation factor rate shall be determined as follows:

(i) An array shall be prepared, listing all qualified employers in ascending order of their benefit ratios. The array shall show for each qualified employer: (A) Identification number; (B) benefit ratio; and (C) taxable payrolls for the four consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date and reported to the employment security department by the cut-off date.

(ii) Each employer in the array shall be assigned to one of forty rate classes according to his or her benefit ratio as follows, and, except as provided in RCW 50.29.026, the array calculation factor rate for each employer in the array shall be the rate specified in the rate class to which the employer has been assigned:

(b) The graduated social cost factor rate shall be determined as follows:

(i)(A) Except as provided in (b)(i)(B) and (C) of this subsection, the commissioner shall calculate the flat social cost factor for a rate year by dividing the total social cost by the total taxable payroll. The division shall be carried to the second decimal place with the remaining fraction disregarded unless it amounts to five hundredths or more, in which case the second decimal place shall be rounded to the next higher digit. The flat social cost factor shall be expressed as a percentage.

(B)(I) If, on the cut-off date, the balance in the unemployment compensation fund is determined by the commissioner to be an amount that will provide more than ten months of unemployment benefits, the commissioner shall calculate the flat social cost factor for the rate year immediately following the cut-off date by reducing the total social cost by the dollar amount that represents the number of months for which the balance in the unemployment compensation fund on the cut-off date will provide benefits above ten months and dividing the result by the total taxable payroll. However, the calculation under this subsection (2)(b)(i)(B) for a rate year may not result in a flat social cost factor that is more than four-tenths lower than the calculation under (b)(i)(A) of this subsection for that rate year. For rate year 2011 and thereafter, the calculation may not result in a flat social cost factor that is more than one and twenty-two one-hundredths percent.

(II) If, on the cut-off date, the balance in the unemployment compensation fund is determined by the commissioner to be an amount that will provide ten months of unemployment benefits or less, the flat social cost factor for the rate year immediately following the cut-off date may not increase by more than fifty percent over the previous rate year or may not exceed one and twenty-two one-hundredths percent, whichever is greater.

(III) For the purposes of this subsection (2)(b), the commissioner shall determine the number of months of unemployment benefits in the unemployment compensation fund using the benefit cost rate for the average of the three highest calendar benefit cost rates in the twenty consecutive completed calendar years immediately preceding the cut-off date or a period of consecutive calendar years immediately preceding the cut-off date that includes three recessions, if longer. The twenty-five dollar increase paid as part of an individual's weekly benefit amount as provided in section 2 of this act shall not be considered in calculating the benefit cost rate when determining the number of months of unemployment benefits in the unemployment compensation fund.

(C) The minimum flat social cost factor calculated under this subsection (2)(b) shall be six-tenths of one percent, except that if the balance in the unemployment compensation fund is determined by the commissioner to be an amount that will provide:

(I) At least ten months but less than eleven months of unemployment benefits, the minimum shall be five-tenths of one percent; or

(II) At least eleven months but less than twelve months of unemployment benefits, the minimum shall be forty-five hundredths of one percent; or

(III) At least twelve months but less than thirteen months of unemployment benefits, the minimum shall be four-tenths of one percent; or

(IV) At least thirteen months but less than fifteen months of unemployment benefits, the minimum shall be thirty-five hundredths of one percent; or

(V) At least fifteen months but less than seventeen months of unemployment benefits, the minimum shall be twenty-five hundredths of one percent; or

(VI) At least seventeen months but less than eighteen months of unemployment benefits, the minimum shall be fifteen hundredths of one percent; or

(VII) At least eighteen months of unemployment benefits, the minimum shall be fifteen hundredths of one percent through rate year 2011 and shall be zero thereafter.

(ii)(A) For rate years through 2010, the graduated social cost factor rate for each employer in the array is the flat social cost factor multiplied by the percentage specified as follows for the rate class to which the employer has been assigned in (a)(ii) of this subsection, except that the sum of an employer's array calculation factor rate and the graduated social cost factor rate may not exceed six percent or, for employers whose North American industry classification system code is within "111," "112," "1141," "115," "3114," "3117," "42448," or "49312," may not exceed five and four-tenths percent:

~~((A))~~ (I) Rate class 1 - 78 percent;

~~((B))~~ (II) Rate class 2 - 82 percent;

~~((C))~~ (III) Rate class 3 - 86 percent;

~~((D))~~ (IV) Rate class 4 - 90 percent;

~~((E))~~ (V) Rate class 5 - 94 percent;

~~((F))~~ (VI) Rate class 6 - 98 percent;

~~((G))~~ (VII) Rate class 7 - 102 percent;

~~((H))~~ (VIII) Rate class 8 - 106 percent;

~~((I))~~ (IX) Rate class 9 - 110 percent;

~~((J))~~ (X) Rate class 10 - 114 percent;

~~((K))~~ (XI) Rate class 11 - 118 percent; and

~~((L))~~ (XII) Rate classes 12 through 40 - 120 percent.

(B) For rate years 2011 and thereafter, the graduated social cost factor rate for each employer in the array is the flat social cost factor multiplied by the percentage specified as follows for the rate class to which the employer has been assigned in (a)(ii) of this subsection, except that the sum of an employer's array calculation factor rate and the graduated social cost factor rate may not exceed six percent or, for employers whose North American industry classification system code is within "111," "112," "1141," "115," "3114," "3117," "42448," or "49312," may not exceed five and four-tenths percent:

(I) Rate class 1 - 40 percent;

(II) Rate class 2 - 44 percent;

(III) Rate class 3 - 48 percent;

(IV) Rate class 4 - 52 percent;

(V) Rate class 5 - 56 percent;

(VI) Rate class 6 - 60 percent;

(VII) Rate class 7 - 64 percent;

(VIII) Rate class 8 - 68 percent;

(IX) Rate class 9 - 72 percent;

(X) Rate class 10 - 76 percent;

(XI) Rate class 11 - 80 percent;

(XII) Rate class 12 - 84 percent;

(XIII) Rate class 13 - 88 percent;

(XIV) Rate class 14 - 92 percent;

(XV) Rate class 15 - 96 percent;

(XVI) Rate class 16 - 100 percent;

(XVII) Rate class 17 - 104 percent;

(XVIII) Rate class 18 - 108 percent;

(XIX) Rate class 19 - 112 percent;

(XX) Rate class 20 - 116 percent; and

(XXI) Rate classes 21 through 40 - 120 percent.

(iii) For the purposes of this section:

(A) "Total social cost" means the amount calculated by subtracting the array calculation factor contributions paid by all employers with respect to the four consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date and paid to the employment security department by the cut-off date from the total unemployment benefits paid to claimants in the same four consecutive calendar quarters. To calculate the flat social cost factor for rate years 2012 and 2013, the twenty-five dollar increase paid as part of an individual's weekly benefit amount as provided in section 2 of this act shall not be considered for purposes of calculating the total unemployment benefits paid to claimants in the four consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date.

(B) "Total taxable payroll" means the total amount of wages subject to tax, as determined under RCW 50.24.010, for all employers in the four consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date and reported to the employment security department by the cut-off date.

(c) For employers who do not meet the definition of "qualified employer" by reason of failure to pay contributions when due:

(i) For rate years through 2010:

(A) The array calculation factor rate shall be two-tenths higher than that in rate class 40, except employers who have an approved agency-deferred payment contract by September 30th of the previous rate year. If any employer with an approved agency-deferred payment contract fails to make any one of the succeeding deferred payments or fails to submit any succeeding tax report and payment in a timely manner, the employer's tax rate shall immediately revert to an array calculation factor rate two-tenths higher than that in rate class 40; and

(B) The social cost factor rate shall be the social cost factor rate assigned to rate class 40 under (b)(ii)(A) of this subsection.

(ii) For rate years 2011 and thereafter:

(A)(I) For an employer who does not enter into an approved agency- deferred payment contract as described in (c)(ii)(A)(II) or (III) of this subsection, the array calculation factor rate shall be the rate it would have been if the employer had not been delinquent in payment plus an additional one percent or, if the employer is delinquent in payment for a second or more consecutive year, an additional two percent;

(II) For an employer who enters an approved agency-deferred payment contract by September 30th of the previous rate year, the array calculation factor rate shall be the rate it would have been if the employer had not been delinquent in payment;

(III) For an employer who enters an approved agency-deferred payment contract after September 30th of the previous rate year, but within thirty days of the date the department sent its first tax rate notice, the array calculation factor rate shall be the rate it would have been had the employer not been delinquent in payment plus an additional one-half of one percent or, if the employer is delinquent in payment for a second or more consecutive year, an additional one and one-half percent;

(IV) For an employer who enters an approved agency-deferred payment contract as described in (c)(ii)(A)(II) or (III) of this subsection, but who fails to make any one of the succeeding deferred payments or fails to submit any succeeding tax report and payment in a timely manner, the array calculation factor rate shall immediately revert to the applicable array calculation factor rate under (c)(ii)(A)(I) of this subsection; and

(B) The social cost factor rate shall be the social cost factor rate assigned to rate class 40 under (b)(ii)(B) of this subsection.

(d) For all other employers not qualified to be in the array:

(i) The array calculation factor rate shall be a rate equal to the average industry array calculation factor rate as determined by the commissioner, multiplied by the history factor, but not less than one percent or more than the array calculation factor rate in rate class 40;

(ii) The social cost factor rate shall be a rate equal to the average industry social cost factor rate as determined by the commissioner, multiplied by the history factor, but not more than the social cost factor rate assigned to rate class 40 for the relevant year under (b)(ii) (A) or (B) of this subsection; and

(iii) The history factor shall be based on the total amounts of benefits charged and contributions paid in the three fiscal years ending prior to the computation date by employers not qualified to be in the array, other than employers in (c) of this subsection, who were first subject to contributions in the calendar year ending three years prior to the computation date. The commissioner shall calculate the history ratio by dividing the total amount of benefits charged by the total amount of contributions paid in this three-year period by these employers. The division shall be carried to the second decimal place with the remaining fraction disregarded unless it amounts to five one-hundredths or more, in which case the second decimal place shall be rounded to the next higher digit. The commissioner shall determine the history factor according to the history ratio as follows:

	History Ratio		History Factor (percent)
	At least	Less than
(A)		.95	90
(B)	.95	1.05	100
(C)	1.05		115

(3) Assignment of employers by the commissioner to industrial classification, for purposes of this section, shall be in accordance with established classification practices found in the North American industry classification system code.

"Sec. 5. RCW 50.16.030 and 2006 c 13 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Except as provided in (b) and (c) of this subsection, moneys shall be requisitioned from this state's account in the unemployment trust fund solely for the payment of benefits and repayment of loans from the federal government to guarantee solvency of the unemployment compensation fund in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commissioner, except that money credited to this state's account pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, shall be used exclusively as provided in ((RCW 50.16.030(5))) subsection (5) of this section. The commissioner shall from time to time requisition from the unemployment trust fund such amounts, not exceeding the amounts standing to its account therein, as he or she deems necessary for the payment of benefits for a reasonable future period. Upon receipt thereof the treasurer shall deposit such moneys in the benefit account and shall issue his or her warrants for the payment of benefits solely from such benefits account.

(b) During fiscal year 2006, moneys for the payment of regular benefits as defined in RCW 50.22.010 shall be requisitioned ((during fiscal year 2006)) in the following order:

(i) First, from the moneys credited to this state's account in the unemployment trust fund pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended in section 209 of the temporary extended unemployment compensation act of 2002 (42 U.S.C. Sec.

1103(d)), the amount equal to the amount of benefits charged that exceed the contributions paid in the four consecutive calendar quarters ending on June 30, 2006, because the social cost factor contributions that employers are subject to under RCW 50.29.025(2)(b)(ii)(B) are less than the social cost factor contributions that these employers would have been subject to if RCW 50.29.025(2)(b)(ii)(A) had applied to these employers; and

(ii) Second, after the requisitioning required under (b)(i) of this subsection, from all other moneys credited to this state's account in the unemployment trust fund.

(c) During fiscal years 2012 and 2013, if moneys are credited to this state's account in the unemployment trust fund pursuant to section 903(f)(3) of the social security act, as amended in section 2003 of the American recovery and reinvestment act of 2009 (42 U.S.C. Sec. 1103(f)(3)), moneys for the payment of regular benefits as defined in RCW 50.22.010 shall be requisitioned in the following order:

(i) First, from the moneys credited to this state's account in the unemployment trust fund pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended in section 2003 of the American recovery and reinvestment act of 2009 (42 U.S.C. Sec. 1103(f)), a total amount during the two-year period consisting of fiscal years 2012 and 2013 that is equal to the total amount of temporary benefit increases under section 2 of this act. This subsection shall not be construed as requiring that the total amount be requisitioned in each of these fiscal years; and

(ii) Second, after the requisitioning required under (c)(i) of this subsection, from all other moneys credited to this state's account in the unemployment trust fund.

(2) Expenditures of such moneys in the benefit account and refunds from the clearing account shall not be subject to any provisions of law requiring specific appropriations or other formal release by state officers of money in their custody, and RCW 43.01.050, as amended, shall not apply. All warrants issued by the treasurer for the payment of benefits and refunds shall bear the signature of the treasurer and the countersignature of the commissioner, or his or her duly authorized agent for that purpose.

(3) Any balance of moneys requisitioned from the unemployment trust fund which remains unclaimed or unpaid in the benefit account after the expiration of the period for which sums were requisitioned shall either be deducted from estimates for, and may be utilized for the payment of, benefits during succeeding periods, or in the discretion of the commissioner, shall be redeposited with the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America to the credit of this state's account in the unemployment trust fund.

(4) Money credited to the account of this state in the unemployment trust fund by the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, may be requisitioned and used for the payment of expenses incurred for the administration of this title pursuant to a specific appropriation by the legislature, provided that the expenses are incurred and the money is requisitioned after the enactment of an appropriation law which:

(a) Specifies the purposes for which such money is appropriated and the amounts appropriated therefor;

(b) Limits the period within which such money may be obligated to a period ending not more than two years after the date of the enactment of the appropriation law; and

(c) Limits the amount which may be obligated during a twelve-month period beginning on July 1st and ending on the next June 30th to an amount which does not exceed the amount by which (i) the aggregate of the amounts credited to the account of this state pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, during the same twelve-month period and the thirty-four preceding twelve-month periods, exceeds (ii) the aggregate of the amounts obligated pursuant to ((RCW 50.16.030 (4), (5) and)) subsections (4) through (6) of this section and charged against the amounts credited to the account of this state during any of such thirty-five twelve-month periods. For the purposes of ((RCW 50.16.030 (4), (5) and)) subsections (4) through (6) of this section, amounts obligated during any such twelve-month period shall be charged against equivalent amounts which were first credited and which are not already so charged; except that no amount obligated for administration during any such twelve-month period may be charged against any amount credited during such a twelve-month period earlier than the thirty-fourth twelve-month period preceding such period: PROVIDED, That any amount credited to this state's account under section 903 of the social security act, as amended, which has been appropriated for expenses of administration, whether or not withdrawn from the trust fund shall be excluded from the unemployment compensation fund balance for the purpose of experience rating credit determination.

(5) Money credited to the account of this state pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, may not be withdrawn or used except for the payment of benefits and for the payment of expenses of administration and of public employment offices pursuant to ((RCW 50.16.030 (4), (5) and)) subsections (4) through (6) of this section. However, moneys credited because of excess amounts in federal accounts in federal fiscal years 1999, 2000, and 2001 shall be used solely for the administration of the unemployment compensation program and are not subject to appropriation by the legislature for any other purpose.

(6) Money requisitioned as provided in ((RCW 50.16.030 (4), (5) and)) subsections (4) through (6) of this section for the payment of expenses of administration shall be deposited in the unemployment compensation fund, but until expended, shall remain a part of the unemployment compensation fund. The commissioner shall maintain a separate record of the deposit, obligation, expenditure and return of funds so deposited. Any money so deposited which either will not be obligated within the period specified by the appropriation law or remains unobligated at the end of the period, and any money which has been obligated within the period but will not be expended, shall be returned promptly to the account of this state in the unemployment trust fund."

The facility shall also provide on-site training to biological, adoptive, or foster parents. The facility shall provide at least three months of consultation and support to parents accepting placement of children from the facility. The facility may recruit new and current foster and adoptive parents for infants served by the facility. The department shall not require case management as a condition of the contract.

(2) $369,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, ~~($366,000)~~ $343,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and ~~($316,000)~~ $306,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for up to three nonfacility-based programs for the training, consultation, support, and recruitment of biological, foster, and adoptive parents of children through age three in need of special care as a result of substance abuse by their mothers, except that each program may serve up to three medically fragile nonsubstance-abuse-affected children. In selecting nonfacility-based programs, preference shall be given to programs whose federal or private funding sources have expired or that have successfully performed under the existing pediatric interim care program.

(3) $2,500,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $88,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and $2,256,000 of the home security fund--state appropriation are provided solely for secure crisis residential centers. This subsection (b) does not prevent or eliminate the department's responsibility for removing the child from the provider if the child's emotional, behavioral, or medical condition worsens or is threatened.

(c) The department is encouraged to use performance-based contracts with incentives directly tied to outcomes described in this section. The contracts should incentivize contracted providers to accept the hardest to serve children and incentivize improvement in children's emotional, mental, and medical well-being within the established exit date. The department is further encouraged to increase the use of behavioral rehabilitative service group homes, wrap around services to facilitate and support placement of youth at home with relatives, or other permanent resources, and other means to control expenditures.

The legislature intends for the pilot project to provide flexibility to the department to improve outcomes and to achieve more efficient utilization of existing resources, while meeting the statutory goals of the adolescent services programs. The department shall provide an update to the appropriate legislative committees and governor on the status of the pilot project implementation by December 1, 2010.

The juvenile rehabilitation administration shall develop criteria for evaluation of plans submitted and a timeline for awarding funding and shall assist counties in creating and submitting plans for evaluation.

(5) $3,066,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and ~~((3,066,000))~~ $2,873,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for grants to county juvenile courts for the following programs identified by the Washington state institute for public policy (institute) in its October 2006 report: "Evidence-Based Public Policy Options to Reduce Future Prison Construction, Criminal Justice Costs and Crime Rates": Functional family therapy, multi-systemic therapy, aggression replacement training and interagency coordination programs, or other programs with a positive benefit-cost finding in the institute's report. County juvenile courts shall apply to the juvenile rehabilitation administration for funding for program-specific participation and the administration shall provide grants to the courts consistent with the per-participant treatment costs identified by the institute.

(6) $1,287,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $1,287,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for expansion of the following treatments and therapies in juvenile rehabilitation administration programs identified by the Washington state institute for public policy in its October 2006 report: "Evidence-Based Public Policy Options to Reduce Future Prison Construction, Criminal Justice Costs and Crime Rates": Multidimensional treatment foster care, family integrated transitions, and aggression replacement training. The administration may concentrate delivery of these treatments and therapies at a limited number of programs to deliver the treatments in a cost-effective manner.

(7)(a) For the fiscal year ending June 30, 2011, the juvenile rehabilitation administration shall administer a block grant, rather than categorical funding, of consolidated juvenile service funds, community juvenile accountability act grants, the chemical dependency disposition alternative funds, the mental health disposition alternative, and the sentencing disposition alternative for the purpose of serving youth adjudicated in the juvenile justice system. In making the block grant, the juvenile rehabilitation administration shall follow the following formula and will prioritize evidence-based programs and disposition alternatives and take into account juvenile courts program-eligible youth in conjunction with the number of youth served in each approved evidence-based program or disposition alternative: (i) Thirty-seven and one-half percent for the at-risk population of youth ten to seventeen years old; (ii) fifteen percent for moderate and high-risk youth; (iii) twenty-five percent for evidence-based program participation; (iv) seventeen and one-half percent for minority populations; (v) three percent for the chemical dependency disposition alternative; and (vi) two percent for the mental health and sentencing dispositional alternatives. Funding for the special sex offender disposition alternative (SSODA) shall not be included in the block grant, but allocated on the average daily population in juvenile courts. Funding for the evidence-based expansion grants shall be excluded from the block grant formula. Funds may be used for promising practices when approved by the juvenile rehabilitation administration and juvenile courts, through the community juvenile accountability act committee, based on the criteria established in consultation with Washington state institute for public policy and the juvenile courts.

(b) It is the intent of the legislature that the juvenile rehabilitation administration phase the implementation of the formula provided in subsection (1) of this section by including a stop-loss formula of three percent in fiscal year 2011, five percent in fiscal year 2012, and five percent in fiscal year 2013. It is further the intent of the legislature that the evidence-based expansion grants be incorporated into the block grant formula by fiscal year 2013 and SSODA remain separate unless changes would result in increasing the cost benefit savings to the state as identified in (c) of this subsection.

(c) The juvenile rehabilitation administration and the juvenile courts shall establish a block grant funding formula oversight committee with equal representation from the juvenile rehabilitation administration and the juvenile courts. The purpose of this committee is to assess the ongoing implementation of the block grant funding formula, utilizing data-driven decision making and the most current available information. The committee will be cochaired by the juvenile rehabilitation administration and the juvenile courts, who will also have the ability to change members of the committee as needed to achieve its purpose. Initial members will include one juvenile court representative from the finance committee, the community juvenile accountability act committee, the risk assessment quality assurance committee, the executive board of the Washington association of juvenile court administrators, the Washington state center for court research, and a representative of the superior court judges association; two representatives from the juvenile rehabilitation administration headquarters program oversight staff, two representatives of the juvenile rehabilitation administration regional office staff, one representative of the juvenile rehabilitation administration fiscal staff and a juvenile rehabilitation administration division director. The committee may make changes to the formula categories other than the evidence-based program and disposition alternative categories if it is determined the changes will increase statewide service delivery or effectiveness of evidence-based program or disposition alternative resulting in increased cost benefit savings to the state. Long-term cost benefit must be considered. Percentage changes may occur in the evidence-based program or disposition alternative categories of the formula should it be determined the changes will increase evidence-based program or disposition alternative delivery and increase the cost benefit to the state. These outcomes will also be considered in determining when evidence-based expansion or special sex offender disposition alternative funds should be included in the block grant or left separate.

(d) The juvenile courts and administrative office of the courts shall be responsible for collecting and distributing information and providing access to the data systems to the juvenile rehabilitation administration and the Washington state institute for public policy related to program and outcome data. The juvenile rehabilitation administration and the juvenile courts will work collaboratively to develop program outcomes that reinforce the greatest cost benefit to the state in the implementation of evidence-based practices and disposition alternatives.

(e) By December 1, 2010, the Washington state institute for public policy shall report to the office of financial management and appropriate committees of the legislature on the administration of the block grant authorized in this subsection. The report shall include the criteria used for allocating the funding as a block grant and the participation targets and actual participation in the programs subject to the block grant.

(8) $3,700,000 of the Washington auto theft prevention authority account--state appropriation is provided solely for competitive grants to community-based organizations to provide at-risk youth intervention services, including but not limited to, case management, employment services, educational services, and street outreach intervention programs. Projects funded should focus on preventing, intervening, and suppressing behavioral problems and violence while linking at-risk youth to pro-social activities. The department may not expend more than $1,850,000 per fiscal year. The costs of administration must not exceed four percent of appropriated funding for each grant recipient. Each entity receiving funds must report to the juvenile rehabilitation administration on the number and types of youth served, the services provided, and the impact of those services upon the youth and the community.

(9) The appropriations in this section assume savings associated with the transfer of youthful offenders age eighteen or older whose sentences extend beyond age twenty-one to the department of corrections to complete their sentences. Prior to transferring an offender to the department of corrections, the juvenile rehabilitation administration shall evaluate the offender to determine the offender's physical and emotional suitability for transfer.

($1,091,784,000)
$1,078,092,000

The appropriations in this subsection are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) $113,689,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and (~~($113,689,000)~~) $101,089,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for persons and services not covered by the medicaid program. This is a reduction of $11,606,000 each fiscal year from the nonmedicaid funding that was allocated for expenditure by regional support networks during fiscal year 2009 prior to supplemental budget reductions. This $11,606,000 reduction shall be distributed among regional support networks proportional to each network's share of the total state population. To the extent possible, levels of regional support network spending shall be maintained in the following priority order: (i) Crisis and commitment services; (ii) community inpatient services; and (iii) residential care services, including personal care and emergency housing assistance.

(b) $10,400,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, (~~($9,400,000)~~) $8,814,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and $1,300,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the department and regional support networks to contract for implementation of high- intensity program for active community treatment (PACT) teams. The department shall work with regional support networks and the center for medicare and medicaid services to integrate eligible components of the PACT service delivery model into medicaid capitation rates no later than January 2011, while maintaining consistency with all essential elements of the PACT evidence-based practice model.

(c) $6,500,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and (~~($6,500,000)~~) $6,091,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for the western Washington regional support networks to provide either community- or hospital campus-based services for persons who require the level of care provided by the program for adaptive living skills (PALS) at western state hospital.

(d) The number of nonforensic beds allocated for use by regional support networks at eastern state hospital shall be 192 per day. The number of nonforensic beds allocated for use by regional support networks at western state hospital shall be 617 per day during the first quarter of fiscal year 2010, (~~and~~) 587 per day through the second quarter of fiscal year 2011, and 557 per day thereafter. Beds in the program for adaptive living skills (PALS) are not included in the preceding bed allocations. The department shall separately charge regional support networks for persons served in the PALS program.

(e) From the general fund--state appropriations in this subsection, the secretary of social and health services shall assure that regional support networks reimburse the aging and disability services administration for the general fund--state cost of medicaid personal care services that enrolled regional support network consumers use because of their psychiatric disability.

(f) $4,582,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $4,582,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for mental health services for mentally ill offenders while confined in a county or city jail and for facilitating access to programs that offer mental health services upon release from confinement.

(g) The department is authorized to continue to contract directly, rather than through contracts with regional support networks, for children's long-term inpatient facility services.

(h) $750,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and (~~($750,000)~~) $703,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely to continue performance-based incentive contracts to provide appropriate community support services for individuals with severe mental illness who were discharged from the state hospitals as part of the expanding community services initiative. These funds will be used to enhance community residential and support services provided by regional support networks through other state and federal funding.

(i) $1,500,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $1,500,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for the Spokane regional support network to implement services to reduce utilization and the census at eastern state hospital. Such services shall include:

(i) High intensity treatment team for persons who are high utilizers of psychiatric inpatient services, including those with co- occurring disorders and other special needs;

(ii) Crisis outreach and diversion services to stabilize in the community individuals in crisis who are at risk of requiring inpatient care or jail services;

(iii) Mental health services provided in nursing facilities to individuals with dementia, and consultation to facility staff treating those individuals; and

(iv) Services at the sixteen-bed evaluation and treatment facility.

At least annually, the Spokane regional support network shall assess the effectiveness of these services in reducing utilization at eastern state hospital, identify services that are not optimally effective, and modify those services to improve their effectiveness.

(j) The department shall return to the Spokane regional support network fifty percent of the amounts assessed against the network during the last six months of calendar year 2009 for state hospital utilization in excess of its contractual limit. The regional support network shall use these funds for operation during its initial months of a new sixteen-bed evaluation and treatment facility that will enable the network to reduce its use of the state hospital, and for diversion and community support services for persons with dementia who would likely otherwise require care at the state hospital.

(k) The department is directed to identify and implement program efficiencies and benefit changes in its delivery of medicaid managed- care services that are sufficient to operate within the state and federal appropriations in this section. Such actions may include but are not limited to methods such as adjusting the care access standards; improved utilization management of ongoing, recurring, and high- intensity services; and increased uniformity in provider payment rates. The department shall ensure that the capitation rate adjustments necessary to accomplish these efficiencies and changes are distributed uniformly and equitably across all regional support networks statewide. The department is directed to report to the relevant legislative fiscal and policy committees at least thirty days prior to implementing rate adjustments reflecting these changes.

(l) In developing the new medicaid managed care rates under which the public mental health managed care system will operate during the five years beginning in fiscal year 2011, the department should seek to estimate the reasonable and necessary cost of efficiently and effectively providing a comparable set of medically necessary mental health benefits to persons of different acuity levels regardless of where in the state they live. Actual prior period spending in a regional administrative area shall not be a key determinant of future payment rates. The department shall report to the office of financial management and to the relevant fiscal and policy committees of the legislature on its proposed new waiver and mental health managed care rate-setting approach by October 1, 2009, and again at least sixty days prior to implementation of new capitation rates.

(m) In implementing the new public mental health managed care payment rates for fiscal year 2011, the department shall to the maximum extent possible within each regional support network's allowable rate range establish rates so that there is no increase or decrease in the total state and federal funding that the regional support network would receive if it were to continue to be paid at its October 2009 through June 2010 rates. The department shall additionally revise the draft rates issued January 28, 2010, to more accurately reflect the lower practitioner productivity inherent in the delivery of services in extremely rural regions in which a majority of the population reside in frontier counties, as defined and designated by the national center for frontier communities.

(n) $1,529,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $1,529,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely to reimburse Pierce and Spokane counties for the cost of conducting 180-day commitment hearings at the state psychiatric hospitals.

(o) The legislature intends and expects that regional support networks and contracted community mental health agencies shall make all possible efforts to, at a minimum, maintain current compensation levels of direct care staff. Such efforts shall include, but not be limited to, identifying local funding that can preserve client services and staff compensation, achieving administrative reductions at the regional support network level, and engaging stakeholders on cost-savings ideas that maintain client services and staff compensation. For purposes of this section, "direct care staff" means persons employed by community mental health agencies whose primary responsibility is providing direct treatment and support to people with mental illness, or whose primary responsibility is providing direct support to such staff in areas such as client scheduling, client intake, client reception, client records- keeping, and facilities maintenance.

(p) Regional support networks may use local funds to earn additional federal medicaid match, provided the locally matched rate does not exceed the upper-bound of their federally allowable rate range, and provided that the enhanced funding is used only to provide medicaid state plan or waiver services to medicaid clients. Additionally, regional support networks may use a portion of the state funds allocated in accordance with (a) of this subsection to earn additional medicaid match, but only to the extent that the application of such funds to medicaid services does not diminish the level of crisis and commitment, community inpatient, residential care, and outpatient services presently available to persons not eligible for medicaid.

The largest hour reductions shall be to lower acuity patients and the smallest hour reductions shall be to higher acuity patients. In doing so, the department shall comply with all maintenance of effort requirements contained in the American reinvestment and recovery act.

(ii) $508,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 and $822,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the department to partially restore the reductions to in-home care that are taken in (b)(i) of this subsection. The department will use the same formula to restore personal care hours that it used to reduce personal care hours.

(c) Amounts appropriated in this section are sufficient to develop and implement the use of a consistent, statewide outcome-based vendor contract for employment and day services by April 1, 2011. The rates paid to vendors under this contract shall also be made consistent. In its description of activities the agency shall include activity listings and dollars appropriated for: Employment services, day services, child development services and county administration of services to the developmentally disabled. The department shall begin reporting to the office of financial management on these activities beginning in fiscal year 2010.

(d) $302,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, $831,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and $1,592,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for health care benefits pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement negotiated with the exclusive bargaining representative of individual providers established under RCW 74.39A.270.

(e)(i) $682,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, $1,651,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and $1,678,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the state's contribution to the training partnership, as provided in RCW 74.39A.360, pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement negotiated with the exclusive bargaining representative of individual providers established under RCW 74.39A.270.

(ii) The federal portion of the amounts in this subsection (g) is contingent upon federal approval of participation in contributions to the trust and shall remain unallotted and placed in reserve status until the office of financial management and the department of social and health services receive federal approval.

(iii) Expenditures for the purposes specified in this subsection (g) shall not exceed the amounts provided in this subsection.

(f) Within the amounts appropriated in this subsection (1), the department shall implement all necessary rules to facilitate the transfer to a department home and community-based services (HCBS) waiver of all eligible individuals who (i) currently receive services under the existing state-only employment and day program or the existing state-only residential program, and (ii) otherwise meet the waiver eligibility requirements. The amounts appropriated are sufficient to ensure that all individuals currently receiving services under the state-only employment and day and state-only residential programs who are not transferred to a department HCBS waiver will continue to receive services.

(g) In addition to other reductions, the appropriations in this subsection reflect reductions targeted specifically to state government administrative costs. These administrative reductions shall be achieved, to the greatest extent possible, by reducing those administrative costs that do not affect direct client services or direct service delivery or programs.

(h) The department shall not pay a home care agency licensed under chapter 70.127 RCW for personal care services provided by a family member, pursuant to Substitute House Bill No. 2361 (modifying state payments for in-home care).

(i) Within the appropriations of this section, the department shall reduce all seventeen payment levels of the seventeen-level payment system from the fiscal year 2009 levels for boarding homes, boarding homes contracted as assisted living, and adult family homes. Excluded from the reductions are exceptional care rate add-ons. The long-term care program may develop add-ons to pay exceptional care rates to adult family homes and boarding homes with specialty contracts to provide support for the following specifically eligible clients:

(i) Persons with AIDS or HIV-related diseases who might otherwise require nursing home or hospital care;

(ii) Persons with Alzheimer's disease and related dementia who might otherwise require nursing home care; and

(iii) Persons with co-occurring mental illness and long-term care needs who are eligible for expanded community services and who might otherwise require state and local psychiatric hospital care.

Within amounts appropriated, exceptional add-on rates for AIDS/HIV, dementia specialty care, and expanded community services may be standardized within each program.

(j) The amounts appropriated in this subsection reflect a reduction in funds available for employment and day services. In administering this reduction the department shall negotiate with counties and their vendors so that this reduction, to the greatest extent possible, is achieved by reducing vendor rates and allowable contract administrative charges (overhead) and not through reductions to direct client services or direct service delivery or programs.

(k) As part of the needs assessment instrument, the department may collect data on family income for minor children with developmental disabilities and all individuals who are receiving state-only funded services. The department may ensure that this information is collected as part of the client assessment process.

(l) $116,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, ~~($2,689,000)~~ $2,133,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and $1,772,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for employment services and required waiver services. Priority consideration for this new funding shall be young adults with developmental disabilities living with their family who need employment opportunities and assistance after high school graduation. Services shall be provided for both waiver and nonwaiver clients. ~~((Fifty percent of the general fund appropriation shall be utilized for graduates served on a home and community-based services waiver and fifty percent of the general fund appropriation shall be used for nonwaiver clients.))~~

(m) $81,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, $599,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and $1,111,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the department to provide employment and day services for eligible students who are currently on a waiver and will graduate from high school during fiscal years 2010 and 2011.

(n) The automatic award of additional hours of personal care for people with special meal preparation or incontinence needs is eliminated. Authorization of service hours will be based upon the individual's assessed needs.

(o) $75,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 is provided solely for the restoration of direct support to local organizations that utilize parent-to-parent networks and communication to promote access and quality of care for individuals with developmental disabilities and their families.

(2) After examining actual nursing facility cost information, the legislature finds that the medicaid nursing facility rates calculated pursuant to Substitute House Bill No. 3202 or Substitute Senate Bill No. 6872 (nursing facility medicaid payments) provide sufficient reimbursement to efficient and economically operating nursing facilities and bears a reasonable relationship to costs.

(3) In accordance with chapter 74.46 RCW, the department shall issue no additional certificates of capital authorization for fiscal year 2010 and no new certificates of capital authorization for fiscal year 2011 and shall grant no rate add-ons to payment rates for capital improvements not requiring a certificate of need and a certificate of capital authorization for fiscal year 2011.

(4) The long-term care program may develop and pay enhanced rates for exceptional care to nursing homes for persons with traumatic brain injuries who are transitioning from hospital care. The cost per patient day for caring for these clients in a nursing home setting may be equal to or less than the cost of caring for these clients in a hospital setting.

(5) Within the appropriations of this section, the department shall reduce all seventeen payment levels of the seventeen-level payment system from the fiscal year 2009 levels for boarding homes, boarding homes contracted as assisted living, and adult family homes. Excluded from the reductions are exceptional care rate add-ons. The long-term care program may develop add-ons to pay exceptional care rates to adult family homes and boarding homes with specialty contracts to provide support for the following specifically eligible clients:

- (b) Persons with Alzheimer's disease and related dementia who might otherwise require nursing home care; and

(6)(a) Amounts appropriated in this section reflect a reduction to funds appropriated for in-home care. The department shall reduce the number of in-home hours authorized. The reduction shall be scaled based on the acuity level of care recipients. The largest hour reductions shall be to lower acuity patients and the smallest hour reductions shall be to higher acuity patients. The department will use the same formula to restore personal care hours that it used to reduce personal care hours.

(7) $536,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, $1,477,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and $2,830,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for health care benefits pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement negotiated with the exclusive bargaining representative of individual providers established under RCW 74.39A.270.

Coordination of these services will be done in partnership between the mental health program and the aging and disability services administration.

(12) Within the funds provided, the department shall continue to provide an add-on per medicaid resident day per facility not to exceed $1.57. (c) The department shall identify the number of medically needy nursing home residents, and enrollment and expenditures on each of the two medically needy waivers, on monthly management reports.

(d) If it is necessary to establish a waiting list for either waiver because the budgeted number of enrollment opportunities has been reached, the department shall track how the long-term care needs of applicants assigned to the waiting list are met.

(15) The department shall establish waiting lists to the extent necessary to assure that annual expenditures on the community options program entry systems (COPES) program do not exceed appropriated levels. In establishing and managing any such waiting list, the department shall assure priority access to persons with the greatest unmet needs, as determined by department assessment processes.

(16) The department shall contract for housing with service models, such as cluster care, to create efficiencies in service delivery and responsiveness to unscheduled personal care needs by clustering hours for clients that live in close proximity to each other.

The department shall collaborate with the department of corrections to identify and track cost savings to the department of corrections, including medical cost savings and to identify and track expenditures incurred by the aging and disability services program for community services and by the medical assistance program for medical expenses. A joint report regarding the identified savings and expenditures shall be provided to the office of financial management and the appropriate fiscal committees of the legislature by November 30, 2010. If this bill is not enacted by June 30, 2009, the amounts provided in this subsection shall lapse.

(19) In accordance with RCW 18.51.050, 18.20.050, and 43.135.055, the department is authorized to increase nursing facility and boarding home fees in fiscal year 2011 as necessary to meet the actual costs of conducting the licensure, inspection, and regulatory programs.

For the second period beginning July 1, 2009, the department may partially or totally waive settlements only in specific cases where a nursing home can demonstrate significant decreases in costs from the first period.

(23) $72,000 of the traumatic brain injury account appropriation and $116,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for a direct care rate add-on to any nursing facility specializing in the care of residents with traumatic brain injuries where more than 50 percent of residents are classified with this condition based upon the federal minimum data set assessment.

The legislature intends to work with the governor to design and implement fiscal and programmatic modifications to provide for the sustainability of the program. (4) (($94,322,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $84,904,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, net of recoveries, are provided solely for cash assistance and other services to recipients in the cash program pursuant to chapter 8, Laws of 2010 1st sp. sess. (ii) A description of the persons who would likely be affected by adoption of the regulations, including their impairments, age, education, and work history;

(iii) An estimate of the number of persons who, on a monthly basis through June 2013, would be denied lifeline benefits if the regulations were adopted, expressed as a number, as a percentage of total applicants, and as a percentage of the number of persons granted lifeline benefits in each month;

(iv) An estimate of the number of persons who, on a monthly basis through June 2013, would have their lifeline benefits terminated following an eligibility review if the regulations were adopted, expressed as a number, as a percentage of the number of persons who have had an eligibility review in each month, and as a percentage of the total number of persons currently receiving lifeline-unemployable benefits in each month; and

(v) Intended improvements in employment or treatment outcomes among persons receiving lifeline benefits that could be attributable to the changes in the regulations.

(c) Within these amounts:

(i) The department shall aggressively pursue opportunities to transfer lifeline clients to general assistance expedited coverage and to facilitate client applications for federal supplemental security income when the client's incapacities indicate that he or she would be likely to meet the federal disability criteria for supplemental security income. The department shall initiate and file the federal supplemental security income interim agreement as quickly as possible in order to maximize the recovery of federal funds;

(ii) The department shall review the lifeline caseload to identify recipients that would benefit from assistance in becoming naturalized citizens, and thus be eligible to receive federal supplemental security income benefits. Those cases shall be given high priority for naturalization funding through the department;

(iii) The department shall actively coordinate with local workforce development councils to expedite access to worker retraining programs for lifeline clients in those regions of the state with the greatest number of such clients;

(v) In addition to any earlier evaluation that may have been conducted, the department shall intensively evaluate those clients who have been receiving lifeline benefits for twelve months or more as of July 1, 2009, or thereafter, if the available medical and incapacity related evidence indicates that the client is unlikely to meet the disability standard for federal supplemental security income benefits. The evaluation shall identify services necessary to eliminate or minimize barriers to employment, including mental health treatment, substance abuse treatment and vocational rehabilitation services. The department shall expedite referrals to chemical dependency treatment, mental health and vocational rehabilitation services for these clients.

(vi) The appropriations in this subsection reflect a change in the earned income disregard policy for lifeline clients. It is the intent of the legislature that the department shall adopt the temporary assistance for needy families earned income policy for the lifeline program.

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) Based on quarterly expenditure reports and caseload forecasts, if the department estimates that expenditures for the medical assistance program will exceed the appropriations, the department shall take steps including but not limited to reduction of rates or elimination of optional services to reduce expenditures so that total program costs do not exceed the annual appropriation authority.

(2) In determining financial eligibility for medicaid-funded services, the department is authorized to disregard recoveries by Holocaust survivors of insurance proceeds or other assets, as defined in RCW 48.104.030.

(3) The legislature affirms that it is in the state's interest for Harborview medical center to remain an economically viable component of the state's health care system.

(4) When a person is ineligible for medicaid solely by reason of residence in an institution for mental diseases, the department shall provide the person with the same benefits as he or she would receive if eligible for medicaid, using state-only funds to the extent necessary.

(5) In accordance with RCW 74.46.625, $6,000,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation is provided solely for supplemental payments to nursing homes operated by public hospital districts. The public hospital district shall be responsible for providing the required nonfederal match for the supplemental payment, and the payments shall not exceed the maximum allowable under federal rules. It is the legislature's intent that the payments shall be supplemental to and shall not in any way offset or reduce the payments calculated and provided in accordance with part E of chapter 74.46 RCW. It is the legislature's further intent that costs otherwise allowable for rate- setting and settlement against payments under chapter 74.46 RCW shall not be disallowed solely because such costs have been paid by revenues retained by the nursing home from these supplemental payments. The supplemental payments are subject to retrospective interim and final cost settlements based on the nursing homes' as-filed and final medicare cost reports. The timing of the interim and final cost settlements shall be at the department's discretion. During either the interim cost settlement or the final cost settlement, the department shall recoup from the public hospital districts the supplemental payments that exceed the medicaid cost limit and/or the medicare upper payment limit. The department shall apply federal rules for identifying the eligible incurred medicaid costs and the medicare upper payment limit.

(6) (~~($1,110,000)~~) $649,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation and (~~($1,105,000)~~) $644,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for grants to rural hospitals. The department shall distribute the funds under a formula that provides a relatively larger share of the available funding to hospitals that (a) serve a disproportionate share of low- income and medically indigent patients, and (b) have relatively smaller net financial margins, to the extent allowed by the federal medicaid program.

(7) (~~($9,818,000)~~) $5,729,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, and (~~($9,865,000)~~) $5,776,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for grants to nonrural hospitals. The department shall distribute the funds under a formula that provides a relatively larger share of the available funding to hospitals that (a) serve a disproportionate share of low- income and medically indigent patients, and (b) have relatively smaller net financial margins, to the extent allowed by the federal medicaid program.

(8) The department shall continue the inpatient hospital certified public expenditures program for the 2009-11 biennium. The program shall apply to all public hospitals, including those owned or operated by the state, except those classified as critical access hospitals or state psychiatric institutions. The department shall submit reports to the governor and legislature by November 1, 2009, and by November 1, 2010, that evaluate whether savings continue to exceed costs for this program. If the certified public expenditures (CPE) program in its current form is no longer cost-effective to maintain, the department shall submit a report to the governor and legislature detailing cost-effective alternative uses of local, state, and federal resources as a replacement for this program. During fiscal year 2010 and fiscal year 2011, hospitals in the program shall be paid and shall retain one hundred percent of the federal portion of the allowable hospital cost for each medicaid inpatient fee-for-service claim payable by medical assistance and one hundred percent of the federal portion of the maximum disproportionate share hospital payment allowable under federal regulations. Inpatient medicaid payments shall be established using an allowable methodology that approximates the cost of claims submitted by the hospitals. Payments made to each hospital in the program in each fiscal year of the biennium shall be compared to a baseline amount. The baseline amount will be determined by the total of (a) the inpatient claim payment amounts that would have been paid during the fiscal year had the hospital not been in the CPE program based on the reimbursement rates developed, implemented, and consistent with policies approved in the 2009-11 biennial operating appropriations act (chapter 564, Laws of 2009) and in effect on July 1, 2009, (b) one half of the indigent assistance disproportionate share hospital payment amounts paid to and retained by each hospital during fiscal year 2005, and (c) all of the other disproportionate share hospital payment amounts paid to and retained by each hospital during fiscal year 2005 to the extent the same disproportionate share hospital programs exist in the 2009-11 biennium. If payments during the fiscal year exceed the hospital's baseline amount, no additional payments will be made to the hospital except the federal portion of allowable disproportionate share hospital payments for which the hospital can certify allowable match. If payments during the fiscal year are less than the baseline amount, the hospital will be paid a state grant equal to the difference between payments during the fiscal year and the applicable baseline amount. Payment of the state grant shall be made in the applicable fiscal year and distributed in monthly payments. The grants will be recalculated and redistributed as the baseline is updated during the fiscal year. The grant payments are subject to an interim settlement within eleven months after the end of the fiscal year. A final settlement shall be performed. To the extent that either settlement determines that a hospital has received funds in excess of what it would have received as described in this subsection, the hospital must repay the excess amounts to the state when requested. $20,403,000 of the general fund-- state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, of which $6,570,000 is appropriated in section 204(1) of this act, and $29,480,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011, of which $6,570,000 is appropriated in section 204(1) of this act, are provided solely for state grants for the participating hospitals. CPE hospitals will receive the inpatient and outpatient reimbursement rate restorations in section 9 and rate increases in section 10(1)(b) of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 2956 (hospital safety net assessment) funded through the hospital safety net assessment fund rather than through the baseline mechanism specified in this subsection.

(9) The department is authorized to use funds appropriated in this section to purchase goods and supplies through direct contracting with vendors when the department determines it is cost-effective to do so.

(10) $93,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $93,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the department to pursue a federal Medicaid waiver pursuant to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5945 (Washington health partnership plan). If the bill is not enacted by June 30, 2009, the amounts provided in this subsection shall lapse.

(11) The department shall require managed health care systems that have contracts with the department to serve medical assistance clients to limit any reimbursements or payments to providers not employed by or under contract with the systems to no more than the medical assistance rates paid by the department to providers for comparable services rendered to clients in the fee-for-service delivery system.

(12) A maximum of $241,141,000 in total funds from the general fund--state, general fund--federal, and tobacco and prevention control account--state appropriations may be expended in the fiscal biennium for the medical program pursuant to chapter 8, Laws of 2010 1st sp. sess. (security lifeline act), and these amounts are provided solely for this program. Of these amounts, $10,749,000 of the general fund-- state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $10,892,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for payments to hospitals for providing outpatient services to low income patients who are recipients of lifeline benefits. Pursuant to RCW 74.09.035, the department shall not expend for the lifeline medical care services program any amounts in excess of the amounts provided in this subsection.

(13) Mental health services shall be included in the services provided through the managed care system for lifeline clients under chapter 8, Laws of 2010 1st sp. sess. In transitioning lifeline clients to managed care, the department shall attempt to deliver care to lifeline clients through medical homes in community and migrant health centers. The department, in collaboration with the carrier, shall seek to improve the transition rate of lifeline clients to the federal supplemental security income program. The department shall renegotiate the contract with the managed care plan that provides services for lifeline clients to maximize state retention of future hospital savings as a result of improved care coordination. The department, in collaboration with stakeholders, shall propose a new name for the lifeline program.

(14) The department shall evaluate the impact of the use of a managed care delivery and financing system on state costs and outcomes for lifeline medical clients. Outcomes measured shall include state costs, utilization, changes in mental health status and symptoms, and involvement in the criminal justice system.

(15) The department shall report to the governor and the fiscal committees of the legislature by June 1, 2010, on its progress toward achieving a twenty percentage point increase in the generic prescription drug utilization rate.

(16) State funds shall not be used by hospitals for advertising purposes.

(17) $24,356,000 of the general fund--private/local appropriation and $35,707,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the implementation of professional services supplemental payment programs. The department shall seek a medicaid state plan amendment to create a professional services supplemental payment program for University of Washington medicine professional providers no later than July 1, 2009. The department shall apply federal rules for identifying the shortfall between current fee-for-service medicaid payments to participating providers and the applicable federal upper payment limit. Participating providers shall be solely responsible for providing the local funds required to obtain federal matching funds. Any incremental costs incurred by the department in the development, implementation, and maintenance of this program will be the responsibility of the participating providers. Participating providers will retain the full amount of supplemental payments provided under this program, net of any potential costs for any related audits or litigation brought against the state. The department shall report to the governor and the legislative fiscal committees on the prospects for expansion of the program to other qualifying providers as soon as feasibility is determined but no later than December 31, 2009. The report will outline estimated impacts on the participating providers, the procedures necessary to comply with federal guidelines, and the administrative resource requirements necessary to implement the program. The department will create a process for expansion of the program to other qualifying providers as soon as it is determined feasible by both the department and providers but no later than June 30, 2010.

Sec. 1396(a)(25), the department shall pursue insurance claims on behalf of medicaid children served through its in-home medically intensive child program under WAC 388-551-3000. The department shall report to the Legislature by December 31, 2009, on the results of its efforts to recover such claims.

(21) The department may, on a case-by-case basis and in the best interests of the child, set payment rates for medically intensive home care services to promote access to home care as an alternative to hospitalization. Expenditures related to these increased payments shall not exceed the amount the department would otherwise pay for hospitalization for the child receiving medically intensive home care services.

(22) $425,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $790,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely to continue children's health coverage outreach and education efforts under RCW 74.09.470. The department shall seek public- private partnerships and federal funds that are or may become available to provide on-going support for outreach and education efforts under the federal children's health insurance program reauthorization act of 2009.

(23) The department, in conjunction with the office of financial management, shall implement a prorated inpatient payment policy.

(24) The department will pursue a competitive procurement process for antihemophilic products, emphasizing evidence-based medicine and protection of patient access without significant disruption in treatment.

(4) The superintendent of public instruction shall distribute state funds to school districts based on two categories: (a) The first category includes (i) children birth through age two who are eligible for the optional program for special education eligible developmentally delayed infants and toddlers, and (ii) students eligible for the mandatory special education program and who are age three or four, or five and not yet enrolled in kindergarten; and (b) the second category includes students who are eligible for the mandatory special education program and who are age five and enrolled in kindergarten and students age six through 21.

(5)(a) For the 2009-10 and 2010-11 school years, the superintendent shall make allocations to each district based on the sum of:

(i) A district's annual average headcount enrollment of students ages birth through four and those five year olds not yet enrolled in kindergarten, as defined in subsection (4) of this section, multiplied by the district's average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student, multiplied by 1.15; and

(ii) A district's annual average full-time equivalent basic education enrollment multiplied by the funded enrollment percent determined pursuant to subsection (6)(b) of this section, multiplied by the district's average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student multiplied by 0.9309.

(b) For purposes of this subsection, "average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student" for a district shall be based on the staffing ratios required by RCW 28A.150.260 and shall not include enhancements, secondary vocational education, or small schools in the 2009-10 school year. In the 2010-11 school year, the per student allocation under this subsection (5)(b) shall include the same factors as in the 2009-10 school year, but shall also include the classified staff enhancements included in section 502(3)(b).

(6) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section.

(a) "Annual average full-time equivalent basic education enrollment" means the resident enrollment including students enrolled through choice (RCW 28A.225.225) and students from nonhigh districts (RCW 28A.225.210) and excluding students residing in another district enrolled as part of an interdistrict cooperative program (RCW 28A.225.250).

(b) "Enrollment percent" means the district's resident special education annual average enrollment, excluding the birth through age four enrollment and those five year olds not yet enrolled in kindergarten, as a percent of the district's annual average full-time equivalent basic education enrollment.

Each district's general fund--state funded special education enrollment shall be the lesser of the district's actual enrollment percent or 12.7 percent.

(7) At the request of any interdistrict cooperative of at least 15 districts in which all excess cost services for special education students of the districts are provided by the cooperative, the maximum enrollment percent shall be calculated in accordance with subsection (6)(b) of this section, and shall be calculated in the aggregate rather than individual district units. For purposes of this subsection, the average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student shall be calculated in the aggregate rather than individual district units.

(8) To the extent necessary, (~~($44,269,000)~~ $19,512,000) of the general fund--state appropriation and $29,574,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided for safety net awards for districts with demonstrated needs for special education funding beyond the amounts provided in subsection (5) of this section. If the federal safety net awards based on the federal eligibility threshold exceed the federal appropriation in this subsection (8) in any fiscal year, the superintendent shall expend all available federal discretionary funds necessary to meet this need. Safety net funds shall be awarded by the state safety net oversight committee subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) The committee shall consider unmet needs for districts that can convincingly demonstrate that all legitimate expenditures for special education exceed all available revenues from state funding formulas. In the determination of need, the committee shall also consider additional available revenues from federal sources. Differences in program costs attributable to district philosophy, service delivery choice, or accounting practices are not a legitimate basis for safety net awards. In the determination of need, the committee shall require that districts demonstrate that they are maximizing their eligibility for all state and federal revenues related to services for special education-eligible students. Awards associated with (b) and (c) of this subsection shall not exceed the total of a district's specific determination of need.

(b) The committee shall then consider the extraordinary high cost needs of one or more individual special education students. Differences in costs attributable to district philosophy, service delivery choice, or accounting practices are not a legitimate basis for safety net awards.

(c) Using criteria developed by the committee, the committee shall then consider extraordinary costs associated with communities that draw a larger number of families with children in need of special education services. The safety net awards to school districts shall be adjusted to reflect amounts awarded under (b) of this subsection.

(d) The maximum allowable indirect cost for calculating safety net eligibility may not exceed the federal restricted indirect cost rate for the district plus one percent.

(e) Safety net awards must be adjusted for any audit findings or exceptions related to special education funding.

(f) Safety net awards shall be adjusted based on the percent of potential medicaid eligible students billed as calculated by the superintendent in accordance with chapter 318, Laws of 1999. The state safety net oversight committee shall ensure that safety net documentation and awards are based on current medicaid revenue amounts.

(g) ((The office of the superintendent of public instruction, at the conclusion of each school year, shall recover safety net funds that were distributed prospectively but for which districts were not subsequently eligible)) Beginning with the 2010-11 school year award cycle, the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall make award determinations for state safety net funding in August of each school year. Determinations on school district eligibility for state safety net awards shall be based on analysis of actual expenditure data from the current school year.

(9) The superintendent of public instruction may adopt such rules and procedures as are necessary to administer the special education funding and safety net award process. Prior to revising any standards, procedures, or rules, the superintendent shall consult with the office of financial management and the fiscal committees of the legislature.

(10) The safety net oversight committee appointed by the superintendent of public instruction shall consist of:

(a) One staff from the office of superintendent of public instruction;

(b) Staff of the office of the state auditor who shall be nonvoting members of the committee; and

(c) One or more representatives from school districts or educational service districts knowledgeable of special education programs and funding.

(11) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall review and streamline the application process to access safety net funds, provide technical assistance to school districts, and annually survey school districts regarding improvement to the process.

(12) A maximum of $678,000 may be expended from the general fund-- state appropriations to fund 5.43 full-time equivalent teachers and 2.1 full-time equivalent aides at children's orthopedic hospital and medical center. This amount is in lieu of money provided through the home and hospital allocation and the special education program.

(13) The superintendent shall maintain the percentage of federal flow-through to school districts at 85 percent. In addition to other purposes, school districts may use increased federal funds for high- cost students, for purchasing regional special education services from educational service districts, and for staff development activities particularly relating to inclusion issues.

(14) A school district may carry over from one year to the next year up to 10 percent of the general fund--state funds allocated under this program; however, carryover funds shall be expended in the special education program.

(15) $262,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010 and $251,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2011 are provided solely for two additional full-time equivalent staff to support the work of the safety net committee and to provide training and support to districts applying for safety net awards.

(16) $50,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2010, $50,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal 2011, and $100,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation shall be expended to support a special education ombudsman program within the office of superintendent of public instruction.
