MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

State of Washington, Office of the Governor,
Olympia, February 28, 1967.

A STATEMENT BY THE GOVERNOR

Technology is fast becoming the dominant influence in our society. The changes it effects in cultural developments, population characteristics, and economic forces are immeasurable. With approximately 12,000 job openings in the State of Washington as of January, 1967, and with an estimate of approximately 220,000 new jobs to be in existence within the next five years, our state is facing a serious shortage of skilled manpower. The dynamic economy in which we find ourselves living is dependent to a large extent upon the availability, when the time comes, of competent workers to fill each of these jobs.

Vocational-technical education in the State of Washington includes training for approximately 200 different occupations in the fields of vocational agriculture, distributive services, business and office occupations, home and family living, and trade, technical, and industrial occupations. To support tomorrow's economy the schools of today must prepare new curricula, facilities, and teachers so that technology's effect will be one of benefit rather than one of disaster.

It is most fitting and proper to salute those who are faced with the meeting of this challenge. Educators or students, adults or youth, employers or employees—all must participate in this preparation for tomorrow.

Now, Therefore, I, Daniel J. Evans, Governor of the State of Washington, do hereby designate February 26 through March 4, 1967, as in the State of Washington, and do hereby commend its second annual observance to each and every citizen of our state.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK

Sincerely yours,

DANIEL J. EVANS,
Governor.

[Seal of the State of Washington]

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kupka:

"Mr. President, would Senator Stender yield to a question:

"Senator Stender, why did you encompass only Class A and AA counties? Why didn't you include all of the counties? If it's good for some, why isn't it good for all of them?"

Senator Stender:

"It may be good for all county employees Senator Kupka, but I think that the sponsors had in mind the fact that we've got some very small counties with as few as 3500 people and making this compulsory at this point would be ill advised. They have the option, and I think if those counties not included do desire to do it by resolution and adopt the civil service system, they can. The point is they cannot rescind it once they come under the act. I think with experience and looking at this in the future, we will find it will indicate what needs to be done in other counties. This is the beginning."

Senator Atwood:

"Mr. President, would Senator Ridder yield:

"Senator, in section 13 with regards to appointments to vacancies, in the event the appointing power does not appoint the first person on the list, but appoints the second or third person on the list, he has to give his reason. Why is that included in the bill? Why does the appointing power have to state his reason if he wants to pick man number three instead of one or two? Wouldn't it be embarrassing both to the employee and the appointing authority?"

Senator Ridder:

"Senator, this bill has been introduced in the legislature before and to tell the honest truth, I have not examined every single facet of this bill. But I think in any case when you have a choice to make, you should be brave enough to stand up and make that choice known. If you are going to bypass the top person on the list, it seems to me you should have a reason for doing so."

Senator Atwood:

"Do you know of any other civil service enactment that has this requirement in it, including the state?"

Senator Ridder:

"I am sorry, but I am not an expert on civil service. I think you picked the wrong expert."

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted):

"Mr. President, would Senator Woodall yield to a question:

"On pension funds of this kind I believe you feel as I do that it should be stabilized funds and you used the word, 'lucrative.' Now when you speak of a lucrative investment, in my book you are speaking of something where there is a gamble to it and I wondered what you thought when you used the word, 'lucrative.'"

Senator Woodall:

"I would say that it is a comparative term, naturally. What is lucrative to one might be mediocre to another. But I would feel that something that brings in a higher yield than your P.U.D. investments for example. Our own state portfolio, for example, which Mr. Baker exhibited to the committee, shows that we have a lot of our own money in three percent bonds. He says that is out of keeping with present trends. It does not bring in enough yield to give the additional return to people on pensions who are on a fixed income; that with the rising costs you must have some of your portfolio in something which rises along with it and that is the philosophy behind this legislation. We didn't subscribe to this when we passed the proposed constitutional amendment to allow us within certain realms of discretion to invest in mutual funds and the blue chip type of stocks. Certainly there is no thought of investing in any mining stock or phony patents or Rube Goldberg contraptions of any kind. The point is it would be the same type of investment that many of you sitting right here in this room have seen fit to invest in, such as recognized mutual funds, and apparently you didn't think that was too insecure a gamble when you did it with your own money. Again this would be a limited portion of their portfolio. It would have to meet the attorney general's approval before you could do it. Obviously if he ruled against it, nothing is going to happen under it. Now for example at the moment you can get five percent just having it in a bank somewhere and yet a lot of our money is invested in mortgages that hold three, three and a half, three and three-quarters percent so the retirement funds are not building with the times."

Debate ensued.

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President, would Senator Ryder yield:

"As I understand it, a chain like Seattle First is a national bank and at present they can go into military reservations, is that correct?"

Senator Ryder:

"That is correct."

Senator Woodall:

"This would then mean if a few citizens wanted to establish a little bank of their own, they would have a chance? That is all this bill does?"

Senator Ryder:

"That is correct and of course they would have to have permission of the state supervisor of banking to do so."

On motion of Senator Ryder, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No.

582 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

Senate Bill No. 31, by Senators Dore and Connor:

On motion of Senator Greive, Senate Bill No. 31 was ordered to retain its place on the second reading calendar for today immediately following consideration of Senate Bill No. 505.

Senate Bill No. 503, by Senators Greive, Connor, Marquardt, Herr, Ridder, Williams, Pritchard, Peterson (Ted), Ryder, Andersen, Uhlman and Dore:

Reducing taxes (stadium air rights).

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

Senate Bill No. 503:

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., February 25, 1967.

Reducing taxes (stadium air rights) (reported by Committee on Ways and Means):
MAJORITY recommends that it do pass with the following amendment:

On page 1, section 2, line 14, after "stadium" and before "in the" strike "or parking facilities" and insert ", or parking facilities to be used in connection therewith,"

....., Chairman.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

It was moved by Senator Dore that the committee amendment be adopted.

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the committee amendment was adopted.

It was moved by Senator Dore that the following amendment be adopted:

In section 2, line 16, following "facilities" add ": Provided, That no exemption from general property taxation be allowed for parking facilities unless adjacent and contiguous to the principal stadium installation or no more than 2,000 feet from such stadium"

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, would Senator Dore yield to a question:

"Senator Dore, in this bill, I don't see any place where it says that this has to be a public facility. Could you advise me, if it would be possible for a privately owned and constructed auditorium to be put on this property and receive this tax exemption?"

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President:

"I think that question should be directed to Senator Greive, the sponsor of the bill. I think he is more familiar with the general bill."

Senator Greive:

"Senator Rasmussen:

"If you will read the bill, it says: 'Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in section 2 of this act, whenever the owner of any real property dedicates the perpetual right to use the air space over his property to any county, city or other political subdivision.'

"I think that sufficiently answers the question. It has to be a county, city or political subdivision."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, a further question of Senator Greive:

"Is it true that they can condemn and then re-lease to a privately operated group?"

Senator Greive:

"No, not necessarily. In the other bill you will see it gives them power to construct the stadium and then to enter into a lease with some private person if that is their desire. Either the county or city can operate it or they can lease it to someone to operate on their behalf, a concession, for instance. This is a very standard form of procedure and it is one that is used quite frequently. I don't think there is anything untoward about that. But the fee ownership will definitely be in the county or city or other public body."

Debate ensued.

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, would Senator Greive yield to another question:

"Senator Greive, I have been trying to understand this bill. Now let us assume for instance, that I have a large area of property that I might own—it might be a railroad yard, it might be a warehouse—and I have a lot of land there that I truck back and forth on, and I am going to lease the air rights on this particular ten acres or whatever it may be. Now I am going to let them use the air rights, but on the portion that is built underneath, I may have a number of large specialty shops and store buildings and so forth. These then under the terms of this bill would be exempt from taxation because I granted the air rights, although I reserved the property for my own purpose, is this right?"

Senator Greive:

"No, not necessarily. It would merely permit the stadium commissioner to recommend and the county and city to agree if they want a piece of property bad enough to give them an exemption. You see this is designed only where the property would be extremely expensive. For instance if you are in the middle of downtown Seattle, obviously you couldn't purchase property like that for a stadium or anything like it. It would be out of the question. But it has a lot of advantages. People from Bellingham and Vancouver or Grays Harbor and Spokane might very well want to come over by train and enjoy the football game and go back. Now if, in the judgment of the commission, they chose this site—and there is no assurance that they would ever choose it at this time because many other sites might be more adequate—they would be more in a position to negotiate and give somebody something for it. But you couldn't buy a property like that. It might be worth more than the stadium, itself, in that particular location. So this is merely permissive. In their judgment they can do it if they think it is best. But don't think for one minute this means they are going to choose that site. This merely leaves it open."

Further debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Greive, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 503 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Further debate ensued.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 503 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 5; excused, 1.

Those voting yea were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Connor, Cooney, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Hanna, Henry, Herr, Herrmann, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, Lewis, McCormack, McMillan, Mardesich, Marquardt, Metcalf, Morgan, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Rasmussen, Redmon, Ridder, Ryder, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Washington, Williams, Woodall—41.

Those voting nay were: Senators Canfield, Stender—2.

Absent or not voting: Senators Freise, Hallauer, McCutcheon, Neill, Sandison—5.

Excused: Senator Chytil—1.

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 503, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

Senate Bill No. 505, by Senators Greive, Dore, Connor, Marquardt, Herr, Ridder, Williams, Pritchard, Peterson (Ted), Ryder, Andersen, Stender and Uhlman:

Establishing a stadium commission.

Senate Bill No. 505:

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., February 25, 1967.

Establishing a stadium commission (reported by Committee on Ways and Means):
MAJORITY recommends that it do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, section 2, beginning with line 18 strike all of the material down through line 23 and insert the following:

"Any class AA county, class A county, or first class county may within ninety days following the effective date of this act submit to the governor a request that the commission conduct a study and investigation as provided in section 3 of this act relative to the construction of a stadium within such county. Such request shall be supported by plans and other relevant information.

"Within two weeks of the end of the ninety-day period, the governor and/or the two members of the commission appointed by him shall meet and consider any such requests, and shall accept that request which in their sole discretion appears to present the most feasible plan.

"Thereupon, the board of county commissioners of the county whose request is accepted shall select two members from its body as members of the commission, and the mayor of the city having the largest population in such county shall appoint two members from such city's legislative body to the commission."

On page 7, section 16, line 28, after "section 11" and before "of" insert "and section 12"

On page 8, line 9, add a new section as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. If any provision of this act, or its application to any municipality, person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of this act or the application of the provision to other municipalities, persons or circumstances is not affected."

Martin J. Durkan, Chairman.

We concur in this report: James A. Andersen, R. Frank Atwood, Robert C. Bailey, John L. Cooney, Dewey C. Donohue, Fred H. Dore, Frank W. Foley, William A. Gissberg, R. R. On page 3, section 8, line 26, after "section" and before "of" strike "11" and insert "12"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich:

"Mr. President, would Senator Greive yield:

"Senator Greive, unfortunately I was unable to follow exactly where the amendments which you are now attaching fit into the bill. I agree with the principle wholeheartedly. However, I am wondering whether by some amendment we might include here the question of franchise, if there were a franchise issued to any corporation, that franchise corporation should also be one organized in the manner you have described."

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President, Senator Mardesich:

"We cannot control a franchise. I feel confident that the arguments of Mr. James R. Ellis of the 'Forward Thrust' program in Seattle, would stand very well. If we started determining who was to purchase or would not purchase franchises, we wouldn't have a team. Mr. Ellis tells me today it is the policy of the A.F.L. and N.F.L. to have one person or one combine to deal with because of the squabbles and board of directors and so on. I can understand that. This doesn't deal in any way with the team. That is something that would have to be negotiated. This only provides for concessions or if the stadium, itself, is to be operated, it would be operated in this particular way and I might add that this amendment was carefully considered. Senator Durkan I think first showed it to me. I discussed it with Senator Gissberg. We took it to Max Nicolai the caucus attorney. It's been gone over with a fine-toothed comb."

Senator Mardesich:

"Mr. President:

"I repeat, Senator Greive, I am entirely in agreement with the amendment. However, I would disagree that it could not include the franchise aspect. Certainly we could not control what franchise should be granted, but if the user or holder of the franchise wanted to use this stadium, we certainly could control that. Maybe football leagues feel that the franchise should be held by one or two persons or three so that it is easily controlled, but I would like to point out that it seems to me those old Green Bay Packers were a public offering corporation and they had some fair measure of success in the football business."

Debate ensued.

Senator Atwood:

"Mr. President, would Senator Greive yield to a question?"

Senator Greive:

"The answer is $800,000 a year."

Senator Atwood:

"How much?"

Senator Greive:

"$800,000."

Senator Atwood:

"And this is contemplated for how many years?"

Senator Greive:

"Well, it would be contemplated for a period to retire the bonds. I presume it would be twenty years as things are set up. I might add there is the provision here that if we could get sufficient revenue out of the stadium or sufficient revenue from parking, then we wouldn't need the money. I also might say that people who appeared before the committee, R. C. Torrence, Joseph Gandy and various people that have made a study of this said that in approximately thirteen years they felt the line would cross and we would no longer need assistance. They felt confident on the basis of the study made of Minneapolis and Houston and I think they made a study in Oakland—on the basis of three or four different studies and they had a firm of experts that worked on this when they were going to build it locally with local revenues before—and these people made a very comprehensive study of the history of this type of facility and they felt that it would be about thirteen years."

Senator Atwood:

"Mr. President:

"Senator Greive, this is so that there is no mistake or misunderstanding, we are talking about taking $800,000 a year out of the general fund, is that right, for thirteen years?"

Senator Greive:

"That is approximate. Now I might tell all of the members of the Senate that when they conducted their studies and hired this group of outside experts, it was determined that stadiums of this sort brought in approximately a million dollars in tax revenue every year, so really we could have a total profit of about $200,000 a year, if you want to look at it that way."

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Greive, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 505 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Further debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Donohue:

"Mr. President:

"Senator Greive, would you yield to a question:

"This two percent we are speaking about to help finance this stadium would not become effective until the proposition was further advanced and the bonds were sold, is that right?"

Senator Greive:

"No."

Senator Donohue:

"Would it have any effect on the general fund until that time?"

Senator Greive:

"It wouldn't have any effect because the bill specifically provides that unless you have a franchise for at least a professional football team or baseball team, you can't even get into operation."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Washington:

"Mr. President, would Senator Greive yield to a question:

"Senator Greive, in the bill that we now have before us, it doesn't provide for any tax impact or financial impact on the part of the restaurants, hotels and motels and the entertainment industry generally in the Seattle area such as was done in the successful financing of the stadium in New Orleans."

Senator Greive:

"No. New Orleans put on a four percent tax. But we already have a 4.2 percent tax on all of those items which they didn't have in the city of New Orleans. I might also point out to you this provides for one-third of the financing. If we were to construct it downtown as has been considered we would still expect about one-third to two-thirds to be voted in general obligation bonds by the people and citizens of King county."

Debate ensued.

Senator Atwood:

"Mr. President, would the Majority Whip yield to a question:

"Senator, you mentioned a $3 million figure return on this investment. Is that $3 million all coming back to the state general fund or is that counting moneys going to local governments?"

Senator Gissberg:

"It was my impression in the testimony that it was additional excise tax moneys and, of course, being excise tax money, it would necessarily follow it would go into the general fund."

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President:

"A word of explanation: The reason I used $1 million and Senator Gissberg has used $3 million is because while the study showed there may be a possible $3 million when they gave us the figure, to get a hard, firm figure, they said $1 million. They said you have a possibility of $3 million if everything goes well. But they said they could almost assure us of a million but what Senator Gissberg has said is true and that was the import of the study and testimony."

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 505 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 4; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 1.

Those voting yea were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Connor, Cooney, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Faulk, Freise, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Herrmann, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, Lewis, McCutcheon, McMillan, Mardesich, Marquardt, Morgan, Neill, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Rasmussen, Redmon, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Washington, Williams—41.

Those voting nay were: Senators Canfield, Foley, Hallauer, Hanna—4.

Absent or not voting: Senators McCormack, Metcalf, Woodall—3.

Excused: Senator Chytil—1.

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 505, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Washington:

"Mr. President, point of personal privilege:

"Speaking on the measure which was just passed, I think the Representatives and Senators from Seattle should recognize that a number of us from other parts of the state feel that Seattle is the metropolitan area of the state and what is good for Seattle is probably good for the rest of the state. But I would hope that the legislative representatives from Seattle will recognize that there are some responsibilities that go along with being the metropolitan center of the state and being the capital city so to speak economically of the entire state of Washington, and that when we have problems on the east side of the state or other areas outside of the metropolitan area that you will recognize that our area contributes to yours just as the prosperity and tourism that you will bring into Seattle will benefit all of us. Many people will travel through our areas to come to Seattle. I think we in the hinterland exhibited our awareness of the importance of a metropolitan center like Seattle and have tried to work with you not only through this bill we have just passed but with the World's Fair. Now there are matters that may come up on highways in other areas where you feel that it is a rural idea and we certainly hope you will have the idea again something like the Old Roman Empire if you are going to be the center of an empire you have to take some of the responsibility for the hinterland problems, the same idea that many of us had when we voted for your bill today."

Senator Peterson (Ted):

"Mr. President, I rise to speak on point of personal privilege:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"It might be that Senator Greive was going to do just what I am about to do, but I think the acknowledgment here by Senator Washington was one of the finest that I have heard. We can remember back to problems we had when we were organizing the World's Fair and some of the things that went on and it looked like the big city again was trying to take up some of the things that should be perused more and should work through the whole state. He made a statement that anything that happened in the city of Seattle, the Queen City, helped and benefited the whole state and with comments coming like this, Senator, you can rest assured that we have helped you on roads and I am sure we have helped you on some of your other problems in the past, but I want to say also that the people who have worked on this in the Forward Thrust program one of them died yesterday and Jim Ellis who has been one of the leaders along with Senator Greive and the rest of us on the committee has been in the hospital a week and a half with a serious heart condition, so there has been a lot of effort put into this and I am sure that if it culminates in a successful stadium, the whole state of Washington will benefit and I want to thank you personally from the city of Seattle, Senator Washington."

There being no objection, the Senate returned to the first order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Peterson (Lowell), the committee on Commerce, Manufacturing and Licenses was relieved of further consideration of House Bill No. 438.

On motion of Senator Peterson (Lowell), House Bill No. 438 was referred to the Committee on Natural Resources, Parks, Fisheries and Game Fish.

There being no objection, the Senate advanced to the seventh order of business.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

Senate Bill No. 31, by Senators Dore and Connor:

Providing additional funds for treatment of alcoholism, and increasing beer and wine licensing fees.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Lewis, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 2, section 1, after "That" on line 18, strike "twenty-five" and insert "twenty"

It was moved by Senator Greive that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 2, section 1, line 18, following "That" and before "shall be" on line 21, strike "twenty-five percent of the total amount derived from license fees pursuant to RCW 66.24.320, 66.24.330, 66.24.340, 66.24.350, 66.24.360, and 66.24.370, as such sections are now or hereinafter amended," and insert "nine cents per barrel of the total amount derived from the per barrel sales tax and ten cents per barrel of the total amount derived from the sales tax on bottled and canned beer pursuant to RCW 66.24.290, as now or hereafter amended,"

Debate ensued.

It was moved by Senator Dore that the amendment be laid upon the table.

The motion was carried on a rising vote and the amendment was laid upon the table.

On motion of Senator Dore, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 31 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 31 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 1.

Those voting yea were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Faulk, Foley, Freise, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Herrmann, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, Lewis, McCormack, McMillan, Mardesich, Marquardt, Metcalf, Morgan, Neill, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Rasmussen, Redmon, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Washington, Williams, Woodall—45.

Absent or not voting: Senators Cooney, Herr, McCutcheon—3.

Excused: Senator Chytil—1.

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 31, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

The time having arrived, the Senate resumed consideration of the motion by Senator Uhlman that the Senate reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Senate Bill No. 307 failed to pass the Senate.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Ridder:

"Mr. President, would Senator Uhlman yield to a question:

"Senator Uhlman, I am very much interested in the situations under which this may be used. I am given to understand that after building or rebuilding upon an urban renewal piece of land, this would enable the municipalities to sell to the original owner or to make negotiations privately with him to get the original owner back in more easily, rather than submitting him to the possibility of being outbid on a high bid basis. Is this a correct understanding?"

Senator Uhlman:

"Yes, that is the purpose of the bill."

Senator Ridder:

"But does this not also give the right for the municipalities to dispose of a piece of land—it might be mine—next to perhaps a piece of business property that needs my land for a parking area? Would it not be possible under the same wording to sell that without having competitive bids for it?"

Senator Uhlman:

"Yes, it would be. Very often in a comprehensive plan on urban renewal it is desirable to tear down a little, one-story shack that has inadequate plumbing and that has no place in the urban renewal plan and to remove it, whereas next door there may be a large and growing and flourishing business that does fit within the comprehensive plan and it would be within the scope and intent of this bill to permit the small building, if it falls in this category, to be removed and perhaps sold to the adjunct property next door."

Senator Ridder:

"In the overall planning in urban renewal areas, does it not follow that there have to be some very definite standards by which they judge whether my home is a blighted home or not?"

Senator Uhlman:

"Oh, yes, there are hearings. There are findings by the court. There has to be a finding by the court that this is necessary. As a matter of fact the reason why the Montlake Urban Renewal plan was overturned by the court was that there were not sufficient findings beforehand and there were not sufficient hearings and there was not this comprehensive plan or the need for urban renewal in the area."

Senator Ridder:

"All right, then last but not least, does this offer due process in taking my property?"

Senator Uhlman:

"Absolutely. No one is going to take your property without adequate compensation, without the right of eminent domain, of course, and you have your right to your day in court and to be heard and to be compensated. You can appeal all the way to the supreme court if you don't feel you are compensated satisfactorily."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, would Senator Uhlman yield:

"Senator Uhlman, assume my business building is setting right alongside your business building and they determine they are going to tear my building down, even though I may be living in it, so that you can have a parking lot. How would I get this determination changed so they could tear your building down and I could use your area for my parking lot; and, the second question would be, if you are going to have to pay ninety percent of the value of my building for your parking lot, why not go a step further and keep the city out of it and pay me the appraised value, rather than causing me to lose ten percent of the value of my building?"

Senator Uhlman:

"Senator Rasmussen, in answer to the first part of your question, I think the bill is designed to prevent this kind of thing that you are talking about with businessmen turning on businessmen and to cut down the competition where there may be substantial outlays of money and an outlay of time to buy one businessman out in this competitive situation. In answer to the second, would you repeat the second part of your question? I am not sure I understood it."

Senator Rasmussen:

"You haven't answered the first part yet, Senator Uhlman. I asked how would I get this urban renewal department or whoever it is condemning my building to change their mind and condemn yours when yours would make as good a parking lot as mine. The reason for that, you see in material distributed by the urban renewal director of the city of Seattle area that this is going to be a problem. They speak of a major thoroughfare lined with businesses and then they speak of —"

Senator Uhlman:

"Mr. President, I wonder if I might retire here for a moment while Senator Rasmussen makes his speech."

Senator Rasmussen:

"I was asking a question to find out something. Maybe he doesn't have the answer on the tip of his tongue."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"It is your privilege not to yield."

Senator Uhlman:

"I would be happy to yield, but I haven't heard a question. All I have heard so far is a speech."

Senator Rasmussen:

"All right, answer the question, please."

Senator Uhlman:

"Would you repeat your question?"

Senator Rasmussen:

"How would I get the urban renewal to tear your building down instead of mine?"

Senator Uhlman:

"I think the answer to that would be, Senator Rasmussen, for you to convince them that it is within the comprehensive plan and that it is more reasonable and desirable that your building remain and my building not remain. We are looking at the entire, comprehensive plan, not individual, selfish, economic interests here and I am sure that being a man of vast expanse such as you are in public interests that if your building were found to be the one in this comprehensive plan that would be the parking lot, you would rise to the occasion and probably submit to this general comprehensive plan."

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 307.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Marquardt:

"Mr. President, would Senator Ridder yield:

"Senator Ridder, who is going to maintain these records? Is it the director of the department of institutions?"

Senator Ridder:

"As I understand it, the director of the department of institutions is the keeper, essentially, and he has the right to delegate the authority to maintain them. He would have the final say as to what is destroyed and what isn't. He would set the policy."

Senator Marquardt:

"In your opinion, what would be the reason for his keeping these records?"

Senator Ridder:

"We discussed that at length. Essentially they keep these records for treatment of the youngster while under their care. If the records that they keep are minor in nature, such as the daily behavior of the youngster while in the institution, these can easily be thrown away. But we both agreed that records of major import to the future behavior of this youngster should be maintained within the discretion of the Director."

Senator Marquardt:

"Do you feel that by keeping this record, that future crimes could be prevented, for example?"

Senator Ridder:

"I would hazard a statement to that: Yes."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Uhlman that the Committee on Highways be relieved of further consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 228.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess:

"Mr. President, would Senator Woodall yield to a question:

"What is the health of Senate Bill No. 272 in the Judiciary Committee now? Do you care to give the body a report on the health of the measure that went into the Judiciary Committee very early in the session?"

Senator Woodall:

"I am not chairman of that committee. I have no particular report to make at this time."

Senator Guess:

"Mr. President, would Senator Uhlman yield:

"Senator Uhlman, would you care to give the body a report on the health of the bill that is before your committee?"

Senator Uhlman:

"Yes, it is in a state of very vigorous healthy life before us and pulsating with life. It was on this morning's calendar. I had already put it on this morning's calendar for a vote by the full committee when I learned last night the House had already passed this measure and it would be a futile thing indeed when it had just one more day of vigorous pulsating life and the House bill would logically be before the same committee that had conducted all of the hearings and we could then consider the bill on tomorrow's calendar. I can assure you, Senator Guess, that this bill will be voted on tomorrow. Now I can't assure you of the outcome of the vote any more than you can assure any other member of the outcome of any vote in any other committee. All I can say is that the bill will be given a full and lively discussion and debate and there will be a vote on the measure in the Judiciary Committee."

Senator Guess:

"Then you would say that since you were surprised that this bill got out of the House last night, that you then thought perhaps as long as it had gotten out, you could wait until this morning and capture both of them so they wouldn't get a chance to live?"

Senator Uhlman:

"Senator Guess, you are putting words in my mouth. If you will check the record, I did not say a word about being surprised that the bill got out of the House. All I said was that it would be most logical to consider the same matter in the Senate Judiciary Committee and we are going to do that if this body will follow orderly procedure and not throw bills haphazardly into any and all committees which should have no business with them."

Debate ensued.

Senators Gissberg, Hanna and Herrmann demanded the previous question.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Washington:

Point of personal privilege, Mr. President?"

The President:

"The Senator must be reminded that the President will be rather restrictive and the remarks must be directed strictly to a point of personal privilege."

Senator Washington:

"Mr. President:

"I think there is some innuendo by Senator Herrmann that someone or that I am questioning the conduct of the Judiciary Committee. I feel that the bill has been given a hearing. It has been studied. I am casting no aspersions whatsoever upon the fine work that has been done by the chairman of the Judiciary Committee, but being very practical, I have checked the membership of the committee, itself, and I just frankly feel that when the chairman does put it up to a vote, it will not be voted out."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"He is violating the rule of personal privilege. He is anticipating and is expressing an opinion as to how this committee is going to vote."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The point of order is well taken."

The demand for the previous question was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Uhlman that the Committee on Highways be relieved of further consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 228.

Senator McCormack:

"The way the bill is written, with the amendments we have prepared and to which Senator Washington has agreed, it would not interfere with the community college act that was passed by the House last night and will be considered by the Senate in the near future. This bill provides for an independent taxing district which would cover the same area geographically as the community college district which would not set up a municipal corporation and this is the principal difference. It would not make a municipal corporation of the community college district and thus it would not conflict with any other legislation."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Senator McCormack, if the independent taxing district takes over all of the debts and obligations of the community college as such, would this then mean that any debt that was created now would be taken over by the proposed bill that you have?"

Senator McCormack:

"The answer to your question is no. The present community colleges are administered by the districts in which they are located. This would set up a new municipality within the general area now served by the community college, but separate from the community college administration. Legally it would have no relationship. It would simply be a collecting device that Senator Washington has conceived as a device for collecting this one mill for the purpose of assisting Big Bend Community College in the development of Larsen Air Force Base. It would not have any other purpose nor put any other contractual obligations on the community college either as it exists now or the new community college district. It is a completely separate entity."

Debate ensued.

Senator Guess:

"Mr. President, would Senator Washington yield to a question:

"Senator Washington, what is going to be the total amount of money raised by a levy of one mill on the land to be encompassed by this act?"

Senator Washington:

"The college administrators have no idea at the present time how far the county commissioners will allow the district to go. It is possible for the district to be co-extensive with the entire district. However, it is possible that some of the remote areas may be petitioned not to go into the area. I don't have the exact figures."

Senator Guess:

"I am really concerned about the bill because I know that Larsen Air Force Base is a tremendous property. At one time I had charge of all of the military facilities on the base and it will not only go for the school, but it is going to go for industrial development. Now are the plants that come in here and locate on the base according to the industrial expansion of the area going to have to bear the cost of this?"

Senator Washington:

"If they become private property they would have to bear the one mill. The one mill, if voted, would cover all property within the district. Now I do want to make it clear that most of the property is still maintained by the General Service Administration and would be sold for industrial purposes. The community college has some of the dormitories, a large hangar and some of the machine shops. Those are the parts that have already been set over to the community college. The community college is now operating them and calls it the north campus to the Big Bend Community College. However, with the amount of money available, they have not been able to properly heat the buildings and they have not been able to properly maintain them. They are not going to go to the state to get this additional money, but every property owner whether it is a farm, a business, a home, an industry, will have the one mill levy. One safeguard is that this will be for four years. This is experimental. Then it will have to be voted on again. This is really the escape hatch. There were some reservations expressed even in the community college and in order to take care of this, it will be voted upon again to revalidate it."

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Washington, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 7, section 11, line 33, after "program." strike all the matter down to and including "district." on page 8, line 6.

On page 8, following Sec. 13, add a new section as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Nothing in this act shall be construed as causing a community college district to become a taxing district or a municipal corporation, and nothing herein shall be construed to allow any contractual agreements which would prevent any change in the boundaries of any community college district."

On motion of Senator Washington, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 491 was advanced to third reading; the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

Senator McCormack:

"Mr. President, will Senator Washington yield:

"Senator Washington, even though this is general legislation, is it understood that this is intended to aid solely the Big Bend Community College in the development of Larsen Air Force Base?"

Senator Washington:

"That is correct."

Senator McCormack:

"Is it also understood that the development district you are creating in no way puts any contractual obligation upon the community college district in that area or in any way affects the district's lines in that area?"

Senator Washington:

"That is correct."

Debate ensued.

Senate Bill No. 136, by Senators Kupka, Guess and Knoblauch:

Regulating landscape architects.

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 136 on second reading.

On motion of Senator Freise, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 8, after "architecture" and before the comma insert "for hire"

On page 2, section 3, line 1, after "performs" and before "professional" insert ", for hire."

On motion of Senator Neill, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, section 3, line 25, after "defined" strike the comma and all the material down to the period on line 27.

On motion of Senator Canfield, the following amendment by Senators Guess and Canfield was adopted:

On page 7, section 12, following line 15, insert:

"(h) To prevent land owners or occupants from planning and planting property owned by them."

Reumber subsection (h) to read subsection (i).

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman:

"Mr. President, would Senator Guess yield to a question:

"Senator Guess, this has a bearing on whether additional amendments should be proposed on second reading. On page 4, section 8, it states that in order to apply to become a landscape architect, you have to have five references of whom three shall be landscape architects or persons having landscape architect experience. In other words, does this in effect mean that it is necessary for the applicant to have the acceptance or approval of persons who are already acceptable under the grandfather clause, which is done in another provision of the act, before he can even apply to become a landscape architect even though he may have the professional ability and knowledge to become a landscape architect? In other words, an analogous situation would be if I would have to go to three other lawyers and have them certify I would be a good lawyer and that they know me personally before I can even take the bar examination."

Senator Guess:

"Mr. President, Senator Uhlman:

"I believe that this is for the use of the director of the department of licenses and it would give the director a little more information about the man so that he could have a better basis of granting him the license."

On motion of Senator Guess, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 136 was advanced to third reading the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Kupka, Senator Hanna was excused.

Senator Washington:

"Would Senator Kupka yield, Mr. President:

"As I understand this bill, this does not prevent people from actually going out and doing gardening work if they don't advertise as landscape architects?"

Senator Kupka:

"I am quite sure the amendments placed on the bill take care of that, Senator Washington. If it doesn't, we would certainly be happy to correct it."

Senator Washington:

"Senator Guess, is that your understanding, that this doesn't prevent people from going out and doing gardening work and planting work as long as they don't advertise as being landscape architects? Is that correct?"

Senator Guess:

"This is correct, Senator Washington, and we have put on the two amendments to absolutely guarantee that this will prevail."

Senators Talley, Guess and Peterson (Ted) demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 12, Laws of 1961, and to chapter 46.12 RCW, a new section to read as follows: No vehicle license number plates or certificate of license registration, whether original issues or duplicates, shall be issued or furnished by the director of motor vehicles unless the applicant therefor, at the same time, presents satisfactory evidence that he has in his lawful possession and is entitled to a valid and subsisting motor vehicle operator's license."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

Strike all of the title and substitute the following:

"An Act relating to motor vehicle license number plates; requiring presentation of motor vehicle operator's license as a condition to the issuance thereof; adding a new section to chapter 12, Laws of 1961, and to chapter 46.12 RCW; and declaring an emergency."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Atwood:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"This is beyond the scope and object of the original bill."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pro Tempore Henry:

"The President, ruling on your point of order, rules that the point is well taken. It does enlarge the scope and object of the bill."

Senator Kupka:

"Mr. President, I question the President's ruling."

President Pro Tempore Henry:

"Do you wish to appeal the decision of the Chair?"

Senator Kupka:

"As one of the body who is casting a vote on this bill, I don't think that you are quite in a position to determine this particular part."

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President, I would like to call to your attention the wording of the first section: 'The purpose of this act is to provide for the exercise of the police power of this state to protect the health and safety of its citizens by assuring that only qualified drivers and vehicles shall operate upon the highways of this state.'

"Now it seems to me that this amendment is another method of trying to insure that only qualified people are on the highways. Whether or not you are for the amendment, it seems to me it is certainly within the scope and object of the bill."

President Pro Tempore Henry:

"The President believes that the sponsor also knew that this was beyond the object and scope of the bill because he prepared an amendment to the title to bring the amendment within the title of the act. The President has ruled. If you wish to appeal the decision of the Chair, that is your prerogative."

Senator Kupka:

"Mr. President:

"That seldom happens, but I think it is in order in this case. However, if it is necessary, I will speak under personal privilege."

President Pro Tempore Henry:

"The Senator will speak upon a point of personal privilege."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kupka:

"Mr. President and Lady and Gentlemen of the Senate:

"We started out here with the theme that there were too many people driving automobiles without valid drivers' licenses. I can think of a lot cheaper way to correct that situation other than hiring a lot of patrolmen, blocking the highways and flagging down cars to check drivers' licenses and that is what this amendment is designed to do. I ask in this amendment that each person who goes to the county auditor's office or wherever they dispense license plates, when he buys license tags for that automobile, that he has to show them a valid and current driver's license. I see nothing wrong with that procedure. It certainly has merit and I believe I could catch offenders more by accident at these counters where they are selling these license plates than a thousand patrolmen could do year around. We are talking about what it costs to maintain these inspection stations. Why did they abandon them? It wasn't the old junkers that were mentioned. It was the brand new automobiles. The old cars seemed to manage all right and consequently they found out they were not correcting the problems. In view of the fact it was costing a lot of money, they then decided to abandon that type of enforcement and let the people be on their own volition and tune their cars up as they ought to be. Consequently I think that this is an amendment that could well serve the purpose in what we are attempting to do. This would catch every person that comes to buy a plate and it isn't out of order to ask these people to show a current driver's license before they can issue this plate. Now you are not going to catch them all, but I think—"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Talley:

"Mr. President:

"I think this goes beyond personal privilege. He is speaking on the bill and the amendment and everything else."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pro Tempore Henry:

"Your point is well taken, Senator Talley. Will you confine your remarks, Senator Kupka."

Senator Kupka:

"Mr. President:

"If I understand your ruling, there wasn't anything to do with the amendment. You ruled to that effect. You said that this was not a proper amendment so I am not talking on the amendment or the bill. Consequently, what I am trying to do here, is to catch these people that I hear so much about that are not buying these drivers' licenses and I think we can do that much more easily at the desk where they are selling the license plates. It is not asking too much for a person to show a valid driver's license, or otherwise he can't buy his plates. In the interest of economy, I think this is the kind of legislation we ought to think about."

It was moved by Senator Stender that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 2, line 5, strike all of section 4.

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Talley, the amendment was laid upon the table.

It was moved by Senator Woodall that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, section 2, line 21, add the following:

"No criminal citation shall be issued for a period of 10 days after giving a warning ticket pointing out the defect."

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the amendment was adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kupka:

"Mr. President, would Senator Atwood yield to a question:

"Senator Atwood, if we could devise a proper amendment to fit this bill would this meet with your approval wherein the buyers of license plates would have to show their driver's license in order to get the plates?"

Senator Atwood:

"No, it wouldn't because of the fact that the highway department is on the computer system on our licensing. You can mail the application in now and the law would have to be completely changed to accomplish what you want and I don't think it belongs in this bill. If you want to do it separately, perhaps, but I just don't think it belongs in this bill, Senator Kupka."

It was moved by Senator Atwood that the rules be suspended, that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 11 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill be placed on final passage.

Senator Atwood demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Peterson (Ted), Neill, Talley, Rasmussen, Bailey, Washington, Metcalf and Faulk.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Bailey:

"Mr. President, parliamentary inquiry:

"Do we need a two-thirds majority vote on this or a simple majority."

President Pro Tempore Henry:

"A simple majority, Senator."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 28; nays, 16; excused, 5.

Those voting yea were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Donohue, Durkan, Faulk, Foley, Guess, Hanna, Henry, Herr, Keefe, Lewis, McCormack, Marquardt, Metcalf, Morgan, Neill, Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Rasmussen, Ridder, Ryder, Talley, Washington, Williams—28.

Those voting nay were: Senators Cooney, Dore, Freise, Gissberg, Greive, Herrmann, Knoblauch, Kupka, McMillan, Mardesich, Peterson (Lowell), Sandison, Stender, Twigg, Uhlman, Woodall—16.

Excused: Senators Chytil, Hallauer, Lennart, McCutcheon, Redmon—5.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 11.

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Gissberg, the rules were suspended and the following statement of intent was ordered spread upon the journal:

Washington State Patrol Headquarters,
Olympia, February 27, 1967.

Senator R. Frank Atwood,
Legislative Building,
Olympia, Washington.

Dear Senator Atwood:

This is in reference to your inquiry regarding spot checks and the policy of this Department towards them.

I should first like to point out that such a program would be pointed towards a minimum of inconvenience to the driving public. I am sure you realize that it is the policy of this Department to provide courteous and efficient service—not to harass the people in any manner whatsoever.

We would coordinate our spot checks on main highways so that a motorist traveling across the state would not be stopped more than once. Further, it would be our policy to only stop the number of vehicles which could be handled in the most expeditious manner—usually one car stopped for each Trooper present. Thus, it can readily be seen that a motorist would be stopped and possibly on his way in a matter of one or two minutes. However, of course, if a violation was detected during the spot check—no valid driver's license, etc., the Trooper would then necessarily take the appropriate action. In the majority of cases, I feel confident in saying that the general public would not be unduly delayed in any manner whatsoever.

If there is any further information you may desire regarding our program of spot checks, I should be pleased to hear from you further.

Sincerely,

Will Bachofner, Chief.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President, would Senator Atwood yield to a question:

"Senator Atwood, you said this measure is not a 'stop and frisk' bill and I just wondered how the mechanics of the bill work then. I understand the patrol has the authority to stop an individual and after being stopped if they see anything which might indicate some suspicious circumstances like the protrusion of some object in the suit, I presume they could go ahead and conduct a search which would be a frisk."

Senator Atwood:

"No, the state patrolman cannot search without arresting you. That has always been the law in this state and every other state."

Senator Dore:

"They have to arrest you first. Then this is a 'stop, arrest and frisk' bill, not a 'stop and frisk' bill?"

Senator Atwood:

"No, that has always been the law. If you are arrested, they can make a search, but they have to make a valid arrest before they frisk you."

Senator Dore:

"That is the point. Right now you have to be committing a misdemeanor in the presence of the officers. Now the patrolmen are going to be able to stop cars as I understand it without anything happening whatsoever, so then they get you in their presence, which they might not be able to do if they didn't have this additional right under this bill. The point I am trying to make is that this now makes this a stop, arrest and frisk bill."

Senator Atwood:

"I agree that it could be a stop and arrest law, but if the man has a valid driver's license and the vehicle is in good shape, he can't be arrested, can he?"

Debate ensued.

Senators Bailey, Sandison and Greive demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued.

The President resumed the Chair.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 11 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 32; nays, 13; excused, 4.

Those voting yea were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Donohue, Durkan, Faulk, Foley, Greive, Guess, Hanna, Henry, Herr, Herrmann, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, McCormack, McMillan, Marquardt, Metcalf, Morgan, Neill, Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Talley, Washington, Williams, Woodall—32.

Those voting nay were: Senators Connor, Cooney, Dore, Freise, Gissberg, Hallauer, Lewis, Mardesich, Peterson (Lowell), Rasmussen, Stender, Twigg, Uhlman—13.

Excused: Senators Chytil, Lennart, McCutcheon, Redmon—4.

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 11, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

March 1, 1967.

We the undersigned, wish to explain our vote against Senate Bill No. 11, the Spot Check bill. We voted against the bill because we feel that it is unconstitutional.

We attach hereto a brief on the question of arrest upon which we relied on casting our negative vote.

House Bill No. 226 and Senate Bill No. 11 propose the enactment of a law that would, in my opinion be in violation of the Constitution of the United States. Specifically, these bills seeking to empower the Washington State Patrol to require the driver of any motor vehicle to stop and display his driver's license and to submit his vehicle to inspection and tests would deprive the citizens of this state of their Fourth Amendment right "to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures." (U. S. Const. amend. IV) (emphasis added)

That the restrictions of the Fourth Amendment apply with full force to state laws is beyond dispute: the United States Supreme Court so held in Wolf v. Colorado (1949) and Mapp v. Ohio (1961).

What the Fourth Amendment requires, for purposes of the present discussion, comes down to this: (1) No arrest may be made except with "probable cause". "Probable cause exists if the facts and circumstances known to the officer warrant a prudent man in believing that the offense has been committed." (Henry v. United States, 361 U.S. 98, 102 (1959)) (2) No search may be conducted except with a valid search warrant issued in accordance with Fourth Amendment standards or unless incident to a valid arrest.

The proposed "Stop and Check" law would empower the Washington State Patrol to arrest (as that term has been defined by the Supreme Court) and to search drivers and their automobiles without even the pretense of "probable cause" to arrest and without a warrant either to arrest or to search.

The fact that the proposed law refers to the power of the State Patrol to "stop" rather than to "arrest" is of no Constitutional significance. Constitutional rights do not depend upon the label the state attaches to its exercise of power. The question whether an arrest (in the constitutional sense) occurs when an automobile is stopped was before the United States Supreme Court in the Henry case, cited supra. There the Court said:

"The prosecution conceded below . . . that the arrest took place when the federal agents stopped the car. That is our view on the facts of this particular case. When the officers interrupted the two men and restricted their liberty of movement, the arrest, for purposes of this case, was complete. (Henry v. United States, at p. 103) (emphasis added)

More recently the Supreme Court has held that the rights of an individual to be free from compulsory self-incrimination attach when he is "in custody".

"By custodial interrogation, we mean questioning initiated by law enforcement officers after a person has been taken into custody or otherwise deprived of his freedom of action in any significant way. (Miranda v. Arizona, 86 S. Ct. 1602, 1612 (1966)) (emphasis added)

Thus whenever the Supreme Court has had occasion to pass on what constitutes an "arrest" for Fourth Amendment purposes, it has consciously avoided placing its decision on the "label" chosen by the government—state or federal—to describe its conduct and has instead focused on the nature of the conduct itself. And if that conduct amounts to a deprivation of the individual's "liberty of movement" or "freedom of action" it is an "arrest" and will be so treated for constitutional purposes

The "stop and frisk" laws adopted in a few jurisdictions provide no constitutional precedent for the proposed "stop and check" law. In the first place, the stop and frisk laws have never been upheld by the Supreme Court. Moreover, the proposed law differs sharply from the stop and frisk laws in that it does not require that the officer have any particular reason for stopping a vehicle. The stop and frisk laws uniformly require that the officer have some good cause for stopping persons even though he need not have probable cause to arrest.

The proposed law can thus be viewed as a "general warrant" permitting officers of the State Patrol to stop any driver without any specific information with respect to the person or vehicle stopped. It was precisely such practices on the part of agents of the Crown, acting under "general warrants" and "writs of assistance" to search ships and warehouses, that the Fourth Amendment was designed to prohibit.

Not only is the proposed law contrary to our history and our Constitution, it is also contrary to good policy on several grounds. First, it is a wholly unnecessary invasion of individual freedom, unsupported by the strength of the state's interest in revenue or traffic control which can be adequately served by other, less drastic, methods. Second, although the proposed law purports only to control licensing and vehicle equipment, it takes little imagination to conceive of abuses of this purpose that could occur, especially in light of the House Committee's deletion of the Proviso barring admission in court of any evidence unrelated to the stated purposes.

Finally, sound policy demands rejection of the proposed law on the ground that its enactment would be a dangerous precedent which could in future years lead to greater erosions of the freedom of the individual.

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Gissberg that Senate Bill No. 486 hold its place at the end of the second reading calendar for tomorrow.

Debate ensued.

Senator Andersen demanded a roll call on the motion and the demand was sustained by Senators Marquardt, Metcalf, Stender, Talley, Greive, Uhlman, Dore and Kupka.

Debate ensued.

Senator Andersen demanded a Call of the Senate and the demand was not sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President, would Senator Gissberg yield:

"Senator Gissberg, I have not examined this bill in detail, but assume that a person has a farm that fronts one mile along which a utility line is running at the time. Perhaps it is open land and maybe you don't even have a cut in. Could that person be compelled to pay the costs to put this utility line underground running along the entire frontage of that particular place?"

Senator Gissberg:

"Senator Woodall, I have no doubt that under the hypothetical you have cited, assuming the county is one of the municipalities covered by the definition in this bill, and I assume that it is, the farmer in that instance would be required to pay whatever benefit would accrue to his land by virtue of the utility being put underground. Of course he would have to pay something, and that is the reason I want to delay this bill, so that I know whether counties are involved and what it involves, and I would be very hopeful that this motion would be supported by the members of the Senate."

Debate ensued.

Senators Gissberg, Hallauer and Woodall demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Gissberg, that Senate Bill No. 486 retain its place at the end of the second reading calendar for tomorrow.

The motion was declared lost on a rising vote.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Andersen:

"Point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"I have been trying to obtain the floor, Mr. President. It is my recollection that when a demand for a roll call has been placed, that the body is entitled to a roll call, rather than a vote anonymously."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Andersen, the President was of the opinion that you had called for a roll call when you inadvertently meant to call for a Call of the Senate. Ensuing debate took place. The President felt that you should have reminded the President of your demand for a roll call if you still desired it on this motion. The President believes that there was plenty of time for you to do so."

Senator Andersen:

"Mr. President:

"I was not aware and I am not now aware of any rule, and I may be in error on this because of my unfamiliarity on procedures of this sort, that requires me to call for a roll call only just before the vote is taken. I thought I could call for it at any time. It was called for. It was voted upon. The vote was sustained and when I asked for a roll call, that was precisely what I meant and this was before the body and I think that we are entitled to a roll call vote when one has been requested and sustained by the body and without interpolation."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President is very sorry, Senator Andersen, if that is what you believe, but the President still is of the opinion that if you still wished a roll call on the measure, you should have reminded the President just before the motion was put."

Senator Rasmussen:

Beginning on page 13, section 16, subsection (5)(a), line 18, strike all of the material down to and including line 24, on page 15 and insert the following language:

(a) Coerce or attempt to coerce any motor vehicle dealer to order or accept delivery of any motor vehicle or vehicles, parts or accessories, or any other commodities which shall not have been voluntarily ordered by the said motor vehicle dealer: Provided, that recommendation, endorsement, exposition, persuasion, urging, or argument shall not be deemed to constitute coercion;

(b) Cancel, or, fail to renew the franchise or selling agreement of any motor vehicle dealer doing business in this state without fairly compensating the dealer at a fair going business value for his capital investment which shall include but not be limited to tools, equipment, and parts inventory, possessed by the dealer on the day he is notified of such cancellation or termination and which are still within the dealer's possession on the day the cancellation or termination is effective, if: (1) The capital investment shall have been entered into with reasonable and prudent business judgment for the purpose of fulfilling the franchise; and (2) Said cancellation or nonrenewal was not done in good faith. Good faith shall be defined as the duty of each party to any franchise to act in a fair and equitable manner towards each other, so as to guarantee one party freedom from coercion, intimidation, or threats of coercion or intimidation from the other party: Provided, That recommendation, endorsement, exposition, persuasion, urging or argument shall not be deemed to constitute a lack of good faith.

(c) Encourage, aid, abet or teach a motor vehicle dealer to sell motor vehicles through any false, deceptive or misleading sales or financing practices including but not limited to those practices declared unlawful in this section;

(d) Coerce or attempt to coerce a motor vehicle dealer to engage in any practice forbidden in this section by either threats of actual cancellation or failure to renew the dealer's franchise agreement;

(6) Nothing in this section shall be construed to impair the obligations of a contract or to prevent a manufacturer, distributor, representative or any other person, whether or not licensed under this act, from requiring performance of a written contract entered into with any licensee hereunder, nor shall the requirement of such performance constitute a violation of any of the provisions of this section: Provided However, any such contract, or the terms thereof, requiring performance, shall have been theretofore freely entered into and executed between the contracting parties.

The complaint must allege that the cancellation or failure to renew was without good cause, and that a bona fide attempt has been made by the complainant to negotiate a settlement with the manufacturer, factory representative or distributor to resolve said dispute.

The absence of good cause shall consist of but not be limited to:

(1) That the manufacturer failed to compensate the motor vehicle dealer in accordance with the provisions of section 16 (5) (b), and/or;

For the purpose of this section, excessive quota is defined as an unreasonable number of vehicles required to be ordered from the manufacturer, distributor or factory representative as compared to the reasonable projection of market sales for that make and model or models in the dealer's geographic region;

(d) A cancellation or nonrenewal of the franchise because the complainant failed to accept a delivery of vehicles, parts or accessories that had not been ordered or;

(e) A cancellation or nonrenewal of the franchise because of the refusal of the complainant to engage in any practice declared unlawful in section 16 of this amendatory act.

On motion of Senator Pritchard, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 381 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis:

"Mr. President, would Senator Pritchard yield to a question:

"Senator Pritchard, it is my understanding that this bill, Senate Bill No. 318, would give to the state and local governments the power to condemn private property for unspecified rights in private property without limitation. Now the thing that I am concerned about, if they are going to do this condemning, does the bill indicate that they shall condemn and that it shall be used to obtain only a full fee title to the land? Is this correct?"

Senator Pritchard:

"I believe I am going to ask my attorney, Senator Williams, to answer that question."

Senator Williams:

"Senator Lewis, as far as I know it doesn't change the detailed procedures on acquiring land. The main purpose of the bill was to cover the problems we now have in the counties where the counties can only work in the county areas and the cities work in the city areas. This will allow county work in both areas so that we can have county-wide projects particularly in highway and park and recreation areas.

Senator Lewis:

"The thing I am trying to get to: It is not clear in my mind but that the bill may mean that they could condemn only air rights or a portion of land. Is the bill restricted? Does it restrict the power of condemnation to be used only to acquire full fee title? In other words, not just a portion, but full fee. Can they condemn air rights or a portion of the surface rights? This would be a problem."

Senator Williams:

"As far as I know it is full fee title. There is nothing in the bill about air rights."

Debate ensued.

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, would Senator Williams yield:

"Senator, on page 2 of the bill, section 3, it says the counties are authorized to establish, construct and improve highways. Do they have this authority now?"

Senator Williams:

"The basic problem is the counties have authority in unincorporated areas and the cities have authority in the cities. Where you have a proliferation of small towns, then you have a problem with any county-wide program. This will help the metropolitan areas solve some of these problems on a county-wide basis because otherwise the state would have to do it. If the counties can't take care of the arterial problems, the only other way we can do it would be for the state to do it. As it is the counties can't get the power to do it unless there is a vote in each of the incorporated cities along the path. This would provide that a detailed plan be submitted to the voters and it will require that kind of action beyond what the legislature does here. This merely enables them to act on a county-wide basis so they can do this job."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Does this require the approval of the legislative body of the city before the county can move in and construct, destruct or condemn building?"

Senator Williams:

"No, I don't think so, but I don't think that is the problem. The problem is how to get these highways built where you have a proliferation of these small cities. But you have to have a sixty percent vote of the people of the area to do this and this is difficult under any circumstances."

Debate ensued.

Senator Donohue:

"Mr. President, would Senator Williams yield to a question:

"Senator, as I understand it the legislative body of the city or county has to authorize this?"

Senator Williams:

"Yes."

Senator Donohue:

"Let's take a look at the other side of the coin. For an example let us go down into my small county where the majority of the people live in the city, but ninety percent of the valuation lies out of the city limits. Now when it comes to voting on the bond issues to sustain this, it is the entire vote of everybody in the county, is that right?"

Senator Williams:

"Yes, the entire county."

Senator Donohue:

"Wouldn't that be a distinct disadvantage to the rural people who would have to pay most of the money to retire the bonds because the people in the smaller cities could impose that upon them against their will?"

Senator Williams:

"I don't think the city people are going to have sixty percent of the vote, are they?"

Senator Donohue:

"They would in my particular area, Senator."

Senator Williams:

"They would not in Seattle."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon:

"Mr. President, would Senator Mardesich yield to a question:

"Senator Mardesich, this would disqualify all members of the legislature in terms of overlap, from those officials you have raised would it not?"

Senator Mardesich:

"That is correct. Anyone who votes for this measure, were it to pass today, would be disqualified if he were to run for the office for which we raised the wages today."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ridder:

"Mr. President, would Senator Kupka yield:

"Senator Kupka, how would this affect an older couple who, unlike attaching to a sewer line where they could keep on using the septic tank even though the sewer line ran in front of their place, do not have money to change the entrance service to their property and yet they are going to be forced in ninety days to provide such an entry service underground? How could they provide for this?"

Senator Kupka:

"Senator, it would apply the same as the old couple that owns a home and is assessed with a school levy and they don't have any children in school. They would be required to pay it."

Senator Ridder:

"Touché. But is there any way that some surcease can be brought for such a situation? This is a peculiar situation unlike an L.I.D. for a sewer where you can sit and wait for ten years and use the old septic tank and not connect to the sewer."

Senator Kupka:

"In reply to your question, Senator Ridder, I am sure that if there is one home in an area like that, there probably are a number of others. I am sure that the group in that block is not going to support this kind of improvement. I doubt if the improvement would pass when put to a vote in cases of that kind and consequently they wouldn't put the facility underground. They would do this in an area where people will solicit this kind of improvement."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield:

"Mr. President, would Senator Ridder yield to a question:

"Senator Ridder, I am not quite sure what this electoral point is. I have never heard of that. Would you please explain what an electoral point is?"

Senator Ridder:

"Actually it is much like the electoral college on the national level in which you vote according to the number of electoral votes, which were weighted. This would weight the vote of each school board member in proportion to the number of pupils. If there were 250 pupils in the school district, he would get 250 votes and then they are totaled. For instance, from out of 223,000 pupils in the county of King, Seattle has 91,000 of these pupils. You can see that Seattle with 91,000 votes per board member would not be able to control the votes of King county but it would have a significantly larger voice."

Senator Canfield:

"Senator Ridder, is that then the one man, one vote system like you explained previously?"

Senator Ridder:

"Yes, it is on a pupil basis rather than on a population basis."

Senator Canfield:

"You may be right, but I don't recall the supreme court said anything about weighted votes."

Senator Ridder:

"Perhaps they didn't. This has been studied very closely by our caucus attorney. It was also studied by the superintendent of public instruction. They have been worried about this problem for a long time and when this idea came up, they were overjoyed in having it settled in some amicable way. The only thing I can do is take the attorneys' opinion on it and they say it is a very good solution for a knotty problem, so I submit it to you on this basis."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield:

"Mr. President, would Senator Woodall yield to a question:

"Senator Woodall, you and your interim committee did considerable work on certain commercial practices of which this was one and I want to record that I received a credit card, 'Carte Blanche,' through the mails without my request and shortly afterward was sent a bill. Now I never asked for the card and never used it. As a matter of fact, I destroyed it. My question to you is this: I wonder if you have any opinion as to how much money is taken in by gullible people paying these bills?"

Senator Woodall:

"I thought for a moment you were going to ask a legal question and I would bill you. No, we have no figures on that, but there are tremendous numbers of instances where you get everything from magazines to ties through the mail that are unwanted and later you get bills for them. We do have a bill the interim committee worked on that was presented in the House and will be coming over to this body to discourage mailings of this type. This bill states if you don't want it and haven't ordered it, you need not pay for it. Perhaps that would take care of this situation."

Debate ensued.

"Mr. President, would Senator Greive yield?"

"Senator, did the people of Seattle vote on this measure in accordance with the provisions of this bill that you are now striking? Did not the people vote down the proposition for the salary to be paid?"

Senator Greive:

"Certainly not in the lifetime of this particular commission. Some years ago we passed a special act enlarging the port commission. At that time they did vote to take away the salary, but since that time we have had new people on the port commission. They are not the same people. The matter has been entirely cleared up and there has been an effort to eliminate some people who were just hanging on. As a matter of fact, these are good people and are doing a good job. We think they should be paid for it. We don't think they should be required to render public service strictly as a hobby."

Debate ensued.

"What you are saying then is that what is not covered at this moment by federal law, this legislation will cover?"

Senator Rasmussen:

"What we are doing is giving people within the state the exemptions that are in the law now that were put in the last time, the same thing."

Senator Woodall:

"Is the class you are legislating for already covered by federal law or not is all I am asking?"

Senator Rasmussen:

"No, the new increases do not cover the state unless we pass the law. But they are covered by the state department of labor and industries for $1.25 minimum."

Senator Woodall:

"Does this affect farm laborers?"

Senator Rasmussen:

"It doesn't affect them any more than the previous minimum wage law and quite frankly, Senator Woodall, it is quite a long law and I will get it for you. I thought everybody was aware of it."

Senator Woodall:

"Are you aware of it? Tell me: Are farm laborers exempt or not?"

FIFTY-FOURTH DAY

NOON SESSION

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Washington, Friday, March 3, 1967.

The Senate was called to order at noon by President Cherberg.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Chytil, Donohue, Kupka and Redmon.

On motion of Senator Bailey, Senators Donohue and Kupka were excused.

On motion of Senator Atwood, Senators Chytil and Redmon were excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Larry McMurray, Color Bearer, and Theresa Hallauer, presented the Colors.

Reverend David C. Wold, pastor of the Saint Timothy Lutheran Church of Seattle, offered prayer as follows:

"God of all power and might; let your Lordship be felt within these chambers today. Help us to be obedient not only to constituents but above to Your upward call for truth and integrity. Protect us from complacency and indifference, Lord. You know how difficult it is to be zealous for the right when we must also be practical. Stir up our flagging energies and dispel the weariness that drains away the clarity from our minds. Keep us from being contentious but make us men, courageous for truth with humility.

"Lord, you know how small we can be. Set before us constantly the image of true manhood in Christ. Fill us with respect for our responsibility and a knowledge of our own limited capacity for perfect performance. We would continue this experiment in freedom only so long as You equip us for the labor of self government. Lord, you have set men free. Teach us to celebrate our freedom in responsible concern for our brothers everywhere. Hear us in the name of Christ our Savior and Lord. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"In your bill books you will find a copy of the proposed annual budget bill which was introduced by twelve democratic Senators (Senate Bill No. 618). Also, on your desk you will find a breakdown and analysis of the proposed one-year budget. Under the annual budget bill as written (Senate Bill No. 618), a surplus would be developed of approximately $20 million which could be used as an additional amount for schools or any other purpose. The proposed budget bill itself, except for two or three major adjustments, is a breakdown of House Bill No. 208 on an annual basis which has already been passed by the House. The annual budget merely sets forth the impact of the House spending budget in the first year of the biennium. As we all know, the second year of the biennium under House Bill No. 208 would develop a spending program of approximately $90 million more than the first year. In the annual budget proposed by the sponsors, the major changes are an increase of $12½ million for the needs of the cities during the year 1967-1968; an allocation of $23½ million for special levy purposes; and an additional $4 million in the general school appropriation during the first year which would be an $8 million increase over the biennium.

"The purpose of introducing the annual budget in bill form was to bring the matter before the Legislature and the Ways and Means Committee for analysis and also as an alternate plan to solve the fiscal problems of the state. In my opinion, the annual budget is the only way we can develop substantial increases for schools and cities without any new taxes and without substantial cuts in programs. Governor Evans, who has supported annual sessions and had, himself, seriously considered introducing an annual budget bill, said in analyzing the proposed budget that it is some $65 million out of balance the first year and $75 million out of balance the second year. I was startled at first by this announcement until I realized that he did not use any of the $81 million in the surplus to help balance the budget as I had done. The figures that I used in developing my one-year budget are the figures directly out of his own budget book as submitted to the Legislature and he does not quarrel those figures. However, in analyzing the annual budget, he did not realize that I used the surplus. The Governor, in his budget, proposed to use $51 million out of the surplus for state buildings. However, under our proposal, we would bond them over some 20 years or the life of the buildings. In addition, the sponsors of this measure struck out his emergency appropriations of $17½ million on the basis of the philosophy that the spending of large sums of money is a question of public policy and should be exercised solely by the policy-making group which is the Legislature and not the Executive.

"To say Senate Bill No. 618 is $75 million out of balance on the second year begs the issue as this is an annual budget—and has nothing to do with the second year. The Governor has said that the annual budget will cause a 5% sales tax. This is simply a scare-tactic used successfully to defeat Initiative No. 226. The annual budget, Senate Bill No. 618, requires no increase in the sales tax or any other tax, whatsoever.

"Several days ago this body saw fit in its wisdom to pass by a two-thirds vote, an annual session bill, and, if this would pass the House and be adopted by the people we would, of necessity, have to have an annual budget. In the debate on the floor in support of annual sessions, it was pointed out that we have grown from less than a million dollar budget to a $3 billion biennial budget and that by projecting a budget ahead some 3 years provides for a margin of error of some $300 million or 1/10 of the budget. Substantial savings could be achieved by reason of an annual budget which would cut down the projection period to some 18 months.

"The Seattle TIMES is editorially supporting the one-year budget. I believe that the $81 million surplus was generated by the hundred thousand new jobs developed in the western part of the state during the biennium and the people who filled these jobs and bought merchandise on which the sales tax of 4.2% was paid. These people also created the need for additional firemen, policemen, health officers, and planning officials; obligations which were assumed by the cities. That is the reason that, in fairness, I have used $25 million out of the surplus to give back to the cities for the expense caused by this influx of jobs. I believe that it makes more sense to spend the surplus and not raise taxes until such time as we have to. I believe that it is total fiscal irresponsibility to raise taxes when we have a surplus.

"We are presently operating in a semi-war economy and economists are not agreed as to whether the next biennium will be recessional or inflationary and, I for one, consider it unwise at this time to raise the sales tax by enacting another so-called "tax reform" unless we get closer to the problem.

"By enacting an annual budget, we will be able to return to Olympia in nine months and see exactly what the economy is, what revenues were actually collected during this past year, and how the economy in general is going.

"I have discussed this biennial budget with Senator Durkan, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and he says that he will submit this matter to the full Ways and Means Committee as an alternate possibility of handling the finances of the state this year. The individual amounts in the bill set out after the individual agencies were not intended to be the final figures but as there was not sufficient time for me to call the Appropriations Committee together, at this last juncture to finalize them, I therefore directly submitted the bill to the Ways and Means Committee rather than have a duplication of effort in the subcommittee. In conclusion, I wish to say that I respectfully hope the Ways and Means Committee will give serious consideration to the proposal of the sponsors of this measure.

"Personally, I have received a great deal of enthusiastic support for the annual budget."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Durkan:

"Mr. President, a matter of personal privilege:

"There seems to be some question on this annual budget and the two year budget, as to how it concerns me personally as chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means. I would only like to make it clear that thirty days ago I raised the question as to what the proposal should be and whether it should be a one year or two year. At that time I discussed it with the opposition party and I discussed it with the Governor. It was then my conclusion that to expedite the business of the legislature as well as the Senate that a two year proposal was the proper method that we should approach. This was done.

"I congratulate Senator Dore on his one year philosophy. We all agree with that. There isn't any disagreement with it. It just seems to us and to me as Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means that we should expedite the business of the public and that the proper way to do it was with the two year budget. That is why I proceeded along those lines. Senator Dore, in stating that I said I would submit his budget to the full Committee on Ways and Means is absolutely correct. I have some two hundred bills in that Committee and I intend to see as many as possible presented to the Committee."

MOTION

It was moved by Senator McCormack that the Senate immediately consider Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 16.

The motion was carried.

FIRST READING OF RESOLUTION

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, would Senator McCormack yield:

"Senator, if this were to be introduced in the special session, it would not need any special action, is that correct?"

Senator McCormack:

"That is correct, Senator Rasmussen, but it was felt because of the rising tide of resentment over the confusion of this particular interpretation of this bill, that we should act promptly and stop any resentment that was coming out of the school districts all over the state."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Senator McCormack, will it make any dollar difference?"

Senator McCormack:

"It will make no dollar difference whatsoever. The money is already appropriated."

On motion of Senator McCormack, the rules were suspended, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 16 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

"In Thy wisdom Thou hast created us so that without Thee we cannot live truly. Help us to realize that without our cooperation Thou wilt not coerce us into true living. Since none of us can be right all of the time, give us the grace to recognize our partial perspectives and so to be corrected by others who are right part of the time. In the name and spirit of Jesus Christ. Amen."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGES

Senator Lennart:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"Yesterday the Senate voted not to confirm Mr. Hagist as a member of the Washington State Liquor Board. If I met the man on the street I would not know him but I have met many a large hotel operator who had only the highest praise for him. Nothing was brought out to question the man's integrity or business ability. All I heard in and out of the caucus room were allegations and rumors—mind you merely rumors. How many of you able gentry of the bar would deny a man his day in court on such spurious pretext? It is one thing in this Senate hall to debate honest differences of opinion but it is quite another matter to kick out an honorable man like a dog on rumors. The standard of manners which inspires the best in us demands full public disclosure and substantiated proof, and I believe the people in the state want it. I am a man of strong convictions and I believe that the avowed intent and purpose of the Steel Act was to keep liquor out of politics—hence the nine year term.

"Are we doing it? How well are we doing it. It has been proposed that this august body is too well bred and well possessed to assail an honorable man, but let it not be said that there be no one to come up in his defense to vindicate his cause. I do not believe I am alone, but if I were, I would do so. If I did not rise up in defense of a man proven guilty on allegations, I would feel like a soldier volunteering for a dangerous post, then deserting it. Nothing but a full public disclosure proving or disapproving the allegations will satisfy the people in the state of Washington. I cannot believe that the age of chivalry is dead."

Senator McCutcheon:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"I heartily agree with the remarks of Senator Lennart."

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"In answering Senator Lennart, I would simply like to say that I was very reluctant to vote against Mr. Hagist. As an actual matter I don't think in all of my time in the Senate I have ever voted against a governor's appointment before. I felt very strange about it. I weighed it very carefully. I would like to say this: There were sufficient charges made and detailed as far as I was concerned and if Mr. Hagist would like to have them spread upon the Senate journal and substantiated, if he will send a request to the Democratic caucus, I think we will be glad to oblige."

On motion of Senator Greive the Senate resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, President Pro Tempore Al Henry in the Chair, for the purpose of considering Engrossed House Bill No. 208.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Engrossed House Bill No. 208 was considered in the Committee of the Whole and reported back to the Senate, President Pro Tempore Al Henry presiding, with the recommendation that it do pass as amended.

On motion of Senator Henry, the report of the committee was adopted. On motion of Senator Gissberg, the reading had in the Committee of the Whole was considered the second reading of Engrossed House Bill No. 208.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the committee amendments to Engrossed House Bill No. 208, adopted in the Committee of the Whole, were adopted by the Senate.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the following amendments to the committee amendment to Engrossed House Bill No. 208 adopted in the Committee of the Whole were adopted by the Senate:

On page 19, beginning on line 22 of the engrossed bill, strike all of section 2.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

The Secretary commenced reading an amendment by Senators Woodall, Canfield, Redmon and Neill.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Bailey:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"I think we should have a ruling from the Chair whether this amendment is in order after we have come out of the Committee of the Whole. Several times I have wanted to do the same sort of thing and the Chair would not permit it."

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President:

"This same amendment to the bill was adopted by the entire body last session. This is not an amendment to any dollar amount. It is an amendment of language, not dollar amounts."

Senator Bailey:

"I would be willing that we have the amendment read, whether or not it has any effect on dollar amount is the question I would like to have determined. If it has any effect on dollar amounts, that is the same as raising or lowering the budget, I would say."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"My point of order is that there is nothing to raise a point of order about until the amendment is read in full and it has been moved that it be adopted."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The point of order of Senator Woodall is well taken. The Secretary will read the amendment."

It was moved by Senator Woodall that the following amendment by Senators Woodall, Canfield, Redmon and Neill be adopted:

On page 15, section 1, line 6, after "session" insert:

"Provided, That the apportionment per weighted student to any district which complies with the requirement of this act for the school years 1967-1968 and 1968-1969 shall be an amount sufficient to guarantee ninety-five percent of the total revenue per weighted student, excluding special levies which such district realized during the 1964-1965 school year."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Bailey:

"Mr. President:

"I still raise the point of order. I must say I favor the amendment but I think Senator Woodall is putting it in in the wrong place to make a record on it. He should have put it in in the Committee of the Whole. I would go along with going back to the Committee of the Whole and taking care of this."

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President:

"This is a basic philosophy. It is not an appropriation and it does not change the dollar amounts at all. You cannot make a record in the Committee of the Whole."

Senator Gissberg:

"Mr. President:

"I am advised that this does in fact have an effect on the dollar allocations, not the dollars, but the dollar allocations to school districts, and it having a dollar effect, Senator Woodall is trying to do by indirection what he cannot do directly.

"Now as precedent for this, Mr. President, I would refer you to some sessions back when we had the so-called lien clause before us and when at that time there was an attempt made to get a record on the lien clause outside of the Committee of the Whole. Now, Senator, if you want to go back into the Committee of the Whole for the purpose of doing this, I don't think anyone is going to object, but I think it would be out of order to do it outside of the Committee of the Whole."

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President:

"This is the same identical amendment that was written into the bill by amendment last session on the floor of this body and it seems to me it is perfectly in order."

It does not change the dollar amounts and that is what you do in a Committee of the Whole. It does take out the penalty clause in some counties that are not assessing the way that some may think they should. But it does not change the dollar impact of the budget, and that is the purpose of going into the Committee of the Whole. Otherwise, the rule would say that after you have been in the Committee of the Whole, you can make no changes. I submit this is not a dollar figure and therefore it is proper under this rule."

Senator Bailey:

"Mr. President:

"Speaking on the issue raised by Senator Woodall, I recall this being in the last bill but not in the appropriations bill, Senator Woodall. It was in the school formula bill as I recall it and Senator Woodall made the amendment at that time. It was a one hundred percent amendment written down to ninety-five or ninety percent and it went into conference between the two houses. It had nothing to do with, as I recall, the appropriation bill. I am not against the amendment but I think this is the wrong way to do it. It should go into the supplemental bill. You say you can't make a record of the Committee of the Whole. That is the reason the Committee of the Whole is a horrible example of legislative procedure. I think we should make a record of everything, whether it is a Committee of the Whole or whatever it might be. But in the Committee of the Whole, since we don't have a record of everything, we shouldn't make it on this amendment."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President, in ruling upon the point, believes that it is reasonable to believe that the amendment would have some financial impact and therefore should be considered in the Committee of the Whole."

MOTIONS

It was moved by Senator Woodall that the Senate resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of considering Engrossed House Bill No. 208.

The motion was lost on a rising vote.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 208 as amended by the Senate was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Gissberg:

"Mr. President:

"I have no intention of being political in any way, shape or form in what I am now about to say but I just feel that at this stage of the legislative proceedings it is appropriate to recognize and compliment the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means and the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations of the State Senate. I think that most of us recognize but very seldom say that the most difficult and most exacting and most exhaustive and most important task of any legislative session has to do with the subject matter that we are now considering, the budget bill.

"I think only those of you who have served as chairmen of the Committee on Ways and Means can possibly know what personal sacrifices are necessarily required of the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations and the chairmen of the Committee on Ways and Means. Senator Mardesich has had a stint in the House and had the job over there. Senator Hallauer has served as chairman here as well as Senator Foley and I believe also Senator Neill, and there may be others of us I am overlooking that have likewise had the chairmanship. But I think those people that have served as chairmen know better than I, who have not been in that particular field, of the tremendous sacrifices that are involved in chairmanship that particular committee. I think Senator Durkan has met the challenge of the budget bill job and he has done so, I know, with tremendous personal effort; that he is now exhausted from his labors should be apparent to us. But it should not be surprising in any way. I think understandably Mrs. Durkan knows even better than we of the sacrifices that he has necessarily had to make to his family during this session. Senator Durkan has demonstrated I think to all of us that he has in him the deep reservoir of strength and the patience and the understanding to put together this budget bill. In his doing so I am sure that you members on the minority side will recognize this. I have heard you people mention, as I have heard others on our side mention the fact that he has done a competent job as a chairman; that is to say that he has operated a committee with dispatch. He has not tolerated long and lengthy debate, repetitious debate, nor has he tolerated any harangue. I think he has been fair to both sides of the aisle in this respect.

"Senator Durkan and Senator Dore, I compliment both of you on a job well done."

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Freise:

"Mr. President, would Senator Durkan yield to a question:

"Senator Durkan, on the last page of the committee amendment on page 20, strike line 1 and add the following and then it states:

". . . one quarter to cities and towns maintaining police departments of five or more full time equivalent positions for fully paid persons engaged in police work, and exclusive of any clerical positions; and one quarter to cities and towns maintaining fire departments of five or more full time equivalent positions for full-paid persons engaged in fire fighting and exclusive of any clerical positions.'

"Now the funds that are earmarked for those cities in these categories or this category, is this money that will go directly and exclusively for the fire department and police department?"

Senator Durkan:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"The answer is no."

Debate ensued.

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President, would Senator Dore yield to a question?"

Senator Dore:

"Let me think about it. What do you have in mind, what area?"

Senator Woodall:

"Common sense, an alien field but you try to reach it.

"Senator Dore, you mentioned that because someone said the bill was going into conference, someone had a pipeline. Have you, in all of your years of service here and even when you had both houses on your side and a Governor of your faith—has there ever been an appropriation bill passed which did not go into conference between the two bodies?"

Senator Dore:

"Yes, in the first term of Governor Rosellini as I recall we accepted a budget which—I think it was a little out of balance—"

Senator Woodall:

"I'll settle for that answer. Yes. Thank you."

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 208 as amended by the Senate and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 28; nays, 20; excused, 1.

Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, McCormack, McCutcheon, McMillan, Mardesich, Morgan, Peterson (Lowell), Rasmussen, Ridder, Sandison, Talley, Washington—28.

Those voting nay were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Canfield, Faulk, Freise, Guess, Lennart, Lewis, Marquardt, Metcalf, Neill, Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Redmon, Ryder, Stender, Twigg, Uhlman, Williams, Woodall—20.

Excused: Senator Chytil—1.

Engrossed House Bill No. 208 as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

March 4, 1967.

We, the undersigned, voted against Engrossed House Bill No. 208 for the reason that the same contains unwarranted, unnecessary and unneeded expenditures, the most noteworthy being an increase of eighteen million seven hundred thousand dollars ($18,700,000) in the field of general assistance and aid to dependent children. These same categories received an increase of six million dollars ($6,000,000) last biennium which means that in the 1967-69 biennium we will be spending approximately twenty-four to twenty-five million dollars more per biennium for these welfare categories than was spent during the Rosellini administration.

In addition, in the budget there are other items which could have been deleted such as unjustifiable reserve funds, the elimination of which would have made possible the presentation of a balanced budget without new taxes.

Since these unwarranted, unnecessary and unneeded items are contained in the bill as presented on the floor of the Senate, we record here our reasons for voting no.

(Signed)

Senators Perry B. Woodall, Robert W. Twigg, Sam C. Guess and Fred G. Redmon.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

Statement on Engrossed House Bill No. 208:

"We voted 'no' on Engrossed House Bill No. 208, as amended by the Senate because

"(1) This bill purposely over-estimated income and 'spent it' in this budget. It is irresponsible to anticipate extra income for the spending you want to do—especially because if the extra income does actually materialize, due to increased population and industrial growth, the extra expenses in providing more schools, services, etc., would render your spending budget inadequate. A contingency fund, which might have been a defense against the above criticism, was also removed and spent!

(2) This budget was 'balanced' by the above method, as well as by using the 1965-67 budget surplus. Instead of using this to get some higher education capital construction on a 'pay-as-you-go basis' it was used in the spending budget, which merely 'builds in' and guarantees a tax increase in the next biennium.

If the necessity for more money is shown, and I believe it is, let's be honest enough to raise the tax now, not resort to the methods used in this amendment to Engrossed House Bill No. 208."

(Signed)

Senators Jack Metcalf and Richard Marquardt.

FIFTY-SIXTH DAY

EVENING SESSION

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., Sunday, March 5, 1967.

The Senate was called to order at 8:00 p.m. by President Cherberg.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Chytil, Durkan and Marquardt.

On motion of Senator Atwood, Senators Chytil and Marquardt were excused.

"For all that degrades and demeans the life of men, we stand in shame. Help us to oppose it by word and deed. To this end grant that the members of this Senate, in their decisions, may both contribute to the glory of humanity and oppose its shame. In the name and spirit of Jesus Christ. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Lennart:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"In America, in this world today, there is a great social and economic unrest, a questioning, an uncertainty and a lack of faith. Moral values the world over are largely forgotten, treaties among Nations have become mere scraps of paper and solemn obligations of government are ignored.

"From this precept many individuals, and many people take unto themselves the same prerogatives, of choosing for themselves laws which they might wish to disobey, or repudiating obligations which they no longer wish to assume, setting aside the old fashioned integrity, the common honesty, which is and always has been the greatest force for good known to men.

"America is not a Nation of treaty breakers, but a Nation of human dreams, souls and aspirations. And it did me and all of us here in the Senate honor to be the invited guests of Lieutenant Governor Cherberg's reception of the Consular Agencies in Seattle, to exemplify the American character of good will, mutual aspirations and understanding. I, personally, have had no more delightful occasion during the past two months and I do believe that if the world is to live to see another chapter written towards peace and good will toward all men, many, many more similar occasions in this great land of ours is the only avenue of attainment.

"To the members of the Consular Agents, who honored us, we express our gratitude, and to you President Cherberg a vote of thanks."

The Secretary read:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1967 - 25

By Senators Guess, McMillan and Talley:

Whereas, The expanding population of our state continues to create a need for land for parks and other public purposes; and

Whereas, The state of Washington has under its ownership large areas of land, stream banks, and shore lines which are suitable for parks and recreational purposes; and

Whereas, Many citizens of the state of Washington are growing concerned over the rapid taking of private lands for parks, recreational and other public purposes; and

Whereas, It has proven to be difficult and expensive for the state and its political subdivisions to obtain through purchase or other means land suitable for parks and other public purposes; and

Whereas, Studies which have been made in the past concerning the needs of the state and its inhabitants for parks and recreational facilities indicate that there has been no comprehensive review of the needs of the state for several years; nor has there been a comprehensive inventory of the land presently owned by the state which is suitable for park or recreation purposes;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate of the state of Washington, that the legislative council be authorized and directed to initiate a study and develop a comprehensive plan which shall contain:

(1) An inventory of all public lands under the ownership of the State and its subdivisions which will reveal the status of those lands that are currently being used for parks and recreational uses; and those lands which are suitable for recreation in the future according to an appropriate and coordinated master plan.

(2) A study of the laws of the state of Washington and a determination of the number of state agencies and its political subdivisions which have been empowered to acquire private lands in any manner.

Be It Further Resolved, That the legislative council shall report to the legislature the results of its study together with its recommendation for the correlation of legislation and the acquisition of private lands in the future.

On motion of Senator Guess, the resolution was adopted.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich:

"Point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"Did the House as yet send back Engrossed House Bill No. 208 this evening?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"These were all standing committee reports, Senator Mardesich."

Senator Mardesich:

"Is the House meeting now, Mr. President? Are you aware?"

The President:

"The House is adjourned until some time tomorrow, Senator Mardesich."

Senator Mardesich:

"They haven't met Sunday at all?"

The President:

"They haven't met Sunday at all."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich:

"I am just trying to get some information, Mr. President. Perhaps Senator Ryder would yield to a question.

"Senator Ryder, the last weeks and weeks and weeks that we have been here—"

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President:

"Is Senator Mardesich asking a question or making a speech?"

Senator Mardesich:

"I am starting with the facts. For the past weeks we have been hearing that the House is working so diligently and then lately they seem to have petered out in the last three or four weeks. They sent us a bill which we worked on day and night to get back to them and finally we did get it back yesterday afternoon and I was somewhat surprised to hear that the House had adjourned Saturday afternoon even before the Senate, knowing that we were working on the big budget bill; and then I come back this evening to find out that they didn't even go back in session today to consider the amendments we were making and to send that bill back to us to give us an opportunity to adjourn within sixty days. Now, Senator Ryder, can you explain to me why the House is relaxing so?"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President, point of order:

"My point of order is this: Just because the House has had a Mr. Interlocutor, Mr. Bones hassle earlier in the session is no reason why the Senate should do so tonight. I suggest we act like Senators and forget this Mr. Interlocutor, Mr. Bones routine and let's go ahead with business and act like Senators should."

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President:

"I assume Senator Mardesich is the Mr. Bones, is this correct?"

The Secretary read:

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., March 1, 1967.

Limiting liability of owner of property and water areas made available to the public for recreational purposes (reported by Judiciary Committee):

MAJORITY recommends that it do pass with the following amendment:

Beginning on page 1, line 10 of both the engrossed and original bills, after "Sec. 2.", strike all of the material down to and including "affected." on page 3, line 24 of the engrossed and original bills and insert the following:

"Any landowner who allows members of the public to use his agricultural or forest land for the purposes of outdoor recreation, which term includes hunting, fishing, camping, picnicking, hiking, pleasure driving, nature study, winter sports, viewing or enjoying historical, archaeological, scenic, or scientific sites, without charging a fee of any kind therefor, shall not be liable for unintentional injuries to such users: Provided, That nothing in this section shall prevent the liability of a landowner for injuries sustained to users by reason of a dangerous artificial latent condition for which warning signs have not been conspicuously posted. Provided Further, That nothing in this act limits or expands in any way the doctrine of attractive nuisance."

Wes C. Uhlman, Chairman,
 _____, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: James A. Andersen, R. Frank Atwood, Martin J. Durkan, Frank W. Foley, H. B. (Jerry) Hanna, Karl Herrmann, Mike McCormack, John T. McCutcheon, Marshall A. Neill, Robert W. Twigg, Perry B. Woodall.

Senate Chamber,
 Olympia, Wash., March 2, 1967.

Limiting liability of owner of property and water areas made available to the public for recreational purposes (reported by Judiciary Committee):

MINORITY recommends that it do not pass.

_____, Chairman,
 Fred H. Dore, Vice Chairman.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

It was moved by Senator Woodall that the committee amendment be adopted.

It was moved by Senator Woodall that the following amendment to the committee amendment be adopted:

Amend the Senate committee amendment to section 2, on line 18 of the amendment, after "a" insert "known"

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President, would Senator Woodall yield to a question:

"How do you reconcile the word, 'known,' and the word, 'latent,' in the same section?"

Senator Woodall:

"Latent is something which does not meet the common eye."

Senator Dore:

"You can't see it so it isn't known."

Senator Woodall:

"No."

Senator Dore:

"Then you say, 'known, artificial, latent.' The terms nullify each other. How do you reconcile the words, 'known,' and, 'latent,' in the same section?"

Senator Woodall:

"Latent is something which does not meet the common eye. Let me give you an example. Senator Donohue buys a section of range land. He has not explored it foot by foot. Someone says, 'Can I hunt on this range land?' and the Senator says, 'Yes, you can hunt.' Unbeknownst to Senator Donohue, the prior owner somewhere dug a well and didn't properly cover it. Now this is an artificial, latent defect—artificial because man made, latent because it appears to be covered and isn't. Senator Donohue has not personally explored this whole section. This amendment says that the Senator does not have to post something he doesn't know about. If there is an open well that he knows about, he has to post it. But he shouldn't be liable for something on this land that he doesn't know about."

Debate ensued.

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President, would Senator Dore yield to a question now:

"Senator Dore, we don't normally contemplate renting apartment houses for recreational purposes, do we?"

Senator Dore:

"You don't represent my district!"

Debate ensued.

Senator Stender:

"Mr. President, would Senator Uhlman yield to a question:

"Senator Uhlman, I notice that the amendment from the Senate Judiciary Committee strikes out most of the House bill. When I read the House bill it seems to be pretty broad in its coverage and I was wondering what purpose was there in striking out the House bill and then putting in this short amendment?"

Senator Uhlman:

"Just precisely that: The House bill changes the whole tort concept as Senator Dore pointed out, and the Senate amendment limits it to just what the original proponents of the bill intended and that was just to cover agricultural and forest land. This is the thinking of our committee."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Canfield:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate, I'd like to ask Senator Woodall as to intent and preface the question by giving a little information. I am not an attorney but I do have some property which would come under the scope of this act and I have not posted it lately because I like to have people come down and hunt or fish if they want and anyway all of my signs have been torn down year after year and it is too much work to keep them up. But I do have, Mr. President and members of the Senate, over a mile of river frontage which is quite a hazard and one of my questions of Senator Woodall is this: Do I have to post signs along that mile of river frontage to the effect that water is wet and if people get in there they might drown?"

Senator Woodall:

"If it wasn't apparent that water is wet you would have to put a sign on it saying it was. If you were here you heard the hypothetical I gave about the poorly covered well, that you didn't know about. The way the amendment reads, if my amendment is not adopted, you would be charged with knowledge. Take for example your river bottom lands. You would be charged with knowledge of any dangerous thing that was down in that ground even though you weren't aware of it."

Senator Canfield:

"My second question, Senator Woodall:

"I also have about a half a mile of a high bank which comes on my property and is immediately joining a railroad track and this is a steep bluff. It is almost a ninety degree bluff straight up and approximates a possible fall of about seventy-five feet, which would be fatal in case anybody would fall over it. Now am I supposed to post that half mile of cliff for fear somebody might fall? When you answer that, I have another question."

Senator Woodall:

"You are now getting closer into the kind of things that make lawsuits. Probably not in this case if the bank was in its natural state, but if there was anything done to the bank where the dirt had ever been disturbed which would cause an individual to step in a hole and then fall over the bank, you probably would be liable."

Senator Canfield:

"Mr. President:

"My last question is a little more serious. Some fishermen were down on my place one day and they thought they saw something on the bottom of the river and upon closer inspection it looked like it was a car; whereupon, they reported that to the sheriff's office and they sent down a crew and dragged the place and dragged out a car and it had a dead body in it of a young man who had been dead for some time. Now the deceased apparently ran his car or by having his car run down this steep hill and over this bank that I referred to a minute ago landed in the water and was either killed when he hit or drowned. Now am I liable because I didn't post these places against that hazard?"

Senator Woodall:

"No, under that condition you are not because you did not give him permission. He did not request permission. He entered solely at his own risk. We are only talking about persons who come up and say, 'Mr. Canfield, may I hunt on your property?' and you want to be a good guy and you say, 'Yes, go ahead.' That is the type of situation we are talking about. When a man comes in and doesn't ask you, he clearly takes everything at his own risk."

The motion was carried and the amendment to the amendment was adopted.

It was moved by Senator Atwood that the following amendment to the committee amendment be adopted:

Amend the Senate committee amendment to section 2, in the first proviso after "prevent the liability of" insert "such"

The motion was carried.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stender:

"Mr. President, I have a question of the committee chairman. I tried to get this answered before.

"As I read the amendment, the committee amendment strikes the entire House bill, section 2, section 3, section 4, section 5, section 6, section 7 and sections 8 and 9, does it not?"

Senator Uhlman:

"That is correct."

Senator Stender:

"And in its place, it adds this short amendment, is that correct?"

Senator Uhlman:

"That's correct."

Senator Stender:

"And is it the consensus of the Judiciary Committee that that short paragraph provides the same coverage as the House bill does in the several sections that were stricken?"

Senator Uhlman:

"That is not correct."

Senator Stender:

"Is the bill then not actually in the same condition? Is this not actually the same bill now as it was? In other words, it doesn't protect the landowner as it does under the original House bill?"

Senator Uhlman:

"It does not protect the landowner as the original House bill intended."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the committee amendment as amended.

The motion was carried and the committee amendment as amended was adopted.

On motion of Senator Herrmann, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 258 as amended by the Senate was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

Whereas, The President of the United States will shortly be called upon to select and appoint a worthy successor to this high office; and

Whereas, Our own Chief Justice, The Honorable Robert C. Finley, in his seventeen years of service on our supreme court including two terms as chief justice, and by virtue of his many collateral achievements in the advancement and improvement of the law and the administration of justice, as enumerated below has demonstrated his eminent qualifications for consideration for appointment to this prospective vacancy, to wit: He was born and reared in North Carolina and was graduated from the public schools of that state; he earned his B.A. and LL.B. degrees at Duke University, and was awarded the degree of master in law at Georgetown University; he was also bestowed honorary membership in the Order of the Coif at Duke University; opinions are frequently cited with approval by courts and judges throughout the nation; and

Whereas, Judge Finley is above all a warm and humane person who enjoys the popular support of business, agriculture and labor, as well as of various citizens groups and was twice reelected to the Supreme Bench without opposition; and

Whereas, The appointment to the supreme court of the United States of a person having lengthy and broad state appellate court experience would be of great benefit to the court and to the nation;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate, that we do unequivocally commend to the attention of the President of the United States and the other addressees of this resolution, the serious consideration of the appointment of Judge Robert C. Finley to fill the prospective vacancy on the United States Supreme Court when it occurs; and

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, would Senator Neill yield?"

"Senator Neill, your amendment would have the effect, by implication of repealing all the statutes related to eighteen year olds? It wouldn't repeal them, but would amend them from the present twenty-one years to eighteen years, is that right?"

"At the present time there is nothing in the Constitution in this regard, is there?"

Senator Neill:

"As far as I know this one section we are dealing with is the only place in the Constitution where they have put in a direct age limitation."

Debate ensued.

Senator Pritchard:

"Mr. President, I would like to ask Senator Guess a question:

"Senator Guess, is it my understanding that if Senator Neill's amendment is adopted, then legislators could be eighteen years old and serve in Olympia, could they not?"

Senator Guess:

"I believe there is another mention of age in the Constitution that would prohibit that, Senator Pritchard."

Senator Pritchard:

"I will ask Senator Neill, if your amendment was adopted, would that drop the age for legislators and Senators to eighteen years?"

Senator Neill:

"I don't know, but I presume so."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President, would Senator Pritchard yield to a question:

"Senator, I have been told that the reason you are opposing this measure is because you are afraid this would elect Bobby Kennedy President, is that correct?"

Senator Pritchard:

"If Bobby Kennedy has as much trouble keeping his hair as I in the next few years, I don't think he is going to appeal to this group."

Further debate ensued.

Senators Talley, Greive and Ryder demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Senator Greive demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Herrmann, Rasmussen, Uhlman, Kupka, Guess, Talley, Atwood, Ridder and Donohue.

"Sec. 8. Section 6, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.08.030 are each amended to read as follows:

A corporation shall have the right to purchase, take, receive or otherwise acquire, hold, own, pledge, transfer or otherwise dispose of its own shares, but purchases of its own shares, whether direct or indirect, shall be made only to the extent of unreserved and unrestricted [earned] surplus available therefore [, and, if the articles of incorporation so permit or with the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two thirds of all shares entitled to vote thereon, to the extent of unreserved and unrestricted capital surplus available therefore].

To the extent that [earned] surplus [or capital surplus] is used as the measure of the corporation's right to purchase its own shares, such surplus shall be restricted so long as such shares are held as treasury shares, and upon the disposition or cancellation of any such shares the restriction shall be removed pro tanto.

Notwithstanding the foregoing limitation, a corporation may purchase or otherwise acquire its own shares for the purpose of:

- (1) Eliminating fractional shares.
- (2) Collecting or compromising indebtedness to the corporation.
- (3) Paying dissenting shareholders entitled to payment for their shares under the provisions of this title.
- (4) Effecting, subject to the other provisions of this title, the retirement of its redeemable shares by redemption or by purchase at not to exceed the redemption price.

No purchase of or payment for its own shares shall be made at a time when the corporation is insolvent or when such purchase or payment would make it insolvent.

Sec. 9. Section 46, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.08.430 are each amended to read as follows:

The board of directors of a corporation may, from time to time, distribute to its shareholders out of capital surplus of the corporation a portion of its assets, in cash or property, subject to the following provisions:

(1) No such distribution shall be made at a time when the corporation is insolvent or when such distribution would render the corporation insolvent.

[(2) No such distribution shall be made unless the articles of incorporation so provide or such distribution is authorized by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of each class whether or not entitled to vote thereon by the provisions of the articles of incorporation of the corporation.]

[(3)] (2) No such distribution shall be made to the holders of any class of shares unless all cumulative dividends accrued on all preferred or special classes of shares entitled to preferential dividends shall have been fully paid.

[(4)] (3) No such distribution shall be made to the holders of any class of shares which would reduce the remaining net assets of the corporation below the aggregate preferential amount payable in event of voluntary liquidation to the holders of shares having preferential rights to the assets of the corporation in the event of liquidation.

[(5)] (4) Each such distribution, when made, shall be identified as a distribution from capital surplus and the amount per share disclosed to the shareholders receiving the same concurrently with the distribution thereof.

The board of directors of a corporation may also, from time to time, distribute to the holders of its outstanding shares having a cumulative preferential right to receive dividends, in discharge of their cumulative dividend rights, dividends payable in cash out of the capital surplus of the corporation, if at the time the corporation has no earned surplus and is not insolvent and would not thereby be rendered insolvent. Each such distribution, when made, shall be identified as a payment of cumulative dividends out of capital surplus."

Remember the remaining section.

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "corporations;" and before "amending" insert "amending section 6, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.08.030;"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President, would Senator Twigg yield to a question:

"Senator Twigg, is this quite a radical departure from the existing law to enable a corporation to write off a surplus?"

Senator Twigg:

"As I understand it, Senator Dore, it is not. In fact our committee was assigned to review the business corporation act that was passed by this body two years ago and they explained to me that they simply overlooked this one feature, that for the past twenty years corporations by actual practice in this state have been permitted to buy their own stock out of their own surplus in an unrestricted manner."

Senator Dore:

"Is there any price specification? What price is specified? Is it fair market value? Is there some standard of market value or book value or something included?"

Senator Twigg:

"I am not real sure. I might explain as we have revised this act or at least this particular portion, this complies with the act as it is now in force in Delaware, New York, California, Michigan, Minnesota and other major business states."

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the committee amendment to page 9 was adopted.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the committee amendment to the title was adopted.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Canfield:

"Mr. President, point of personal privilege:

"The Senate has been kind enough to pass several agriculture bills this afternoon but I have a question which I would like to direct to Senator Woodall to read into the record if I might have that permission."

"Senator Woodall, I understand there are some questions arising with regard to the pesticide act which we passed earlier today and I believe you have a communication that you would like to read into the record?"

Senator Woodall:

"That is correct, Senator Canfield.

"Some question arose as to whether or not the intent of House Bill No. 297 might be to restrict a farmer from performing services for another farmer. With that question in mind, I called the director of agriculture, Donald Moos, who wrote me the following:

"Dear Senator Woodall:

"In answer to your inquiry in regard to House Bill No. 297, Section 12: Our intent of striking the word "others" and inserting the words "other farmers" is so that a farmer may apply pesticides for other farmers, his neighbors, but not for contractors or other persons wishing to hire him as a commercial sprayer.

"The department recognizes the necessity of farmers cooperating and sharing equipment and does not want in any way to prohibit this type of practice.

"I hope this clarifies the intent of the department of agriculture in asking for this amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey:

"Mr. President, would Senator Guess yield to a question:

"Senator Guess, does this bill only change the way in which any municipality can pay for these small contracts without filing a bond?"

Senator Guess:

"Under two thousand dollars, yes, sir. It says, 'in lieu of a bond,' in the bill and then the municipality will keep all of the money until thirty days after the job is finished."

Senator Bailey:

"Senator Guess, this bill in no way is intended to prohibit PUD's or municipalities from having their own crews do their work as they do now, does it?"

Senator Guess:

"Senator Bailey, we have checked this out with three different attorneys and we find in their opinion it does not change the existing PUD law in any way."

Senator Bailey:

"Another question, Senator Guess: Is it your intent that this in any way will change the working conditions of municipalities and PUD's as far as their own crews?"

Senator Guess:

"No, sir, it does not change in any way the present laws. There is the same regulation."

Senator Bailey:

"With this in the record, I am confident the bill is all right."

SECOND READING OF BILLS

Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 76, by Committee on Public Health and Welfare:

Regulating agencies caring for children, expectant mothers and retarded persons.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Guess, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 76, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess:

"Mr. President, would Senator Pritchard yield to a question:

"Senator Pritchard, the regulations that are in existence in the department now have contained some twenty-six pages of regulations and as I understand these regulations are being completely redrafted and will be re-issued before they go into effect. Could you give me a short rundown as to some of the provisions?"

Senator Pritchard:

"If you would ask for specifics, perhaps I could answer better."

Senator Guess:

"Specifically one of the areas that is covered in this bill, as I have been told, is the requirements for the space and the area, the physical plant layout which was very stringent. Can you tell me what is in there now?"

Senator Pritchard:

"Senator, I think you have to appreciate in this measure, that it has to be state-wide and you may have some very serious problems in your larger cities. The department of public assistance would like to have some teeth in this so they can go into some of these chronic areas and I guess you could say that it is a little tough. Now in the areas of space there is going to be some latitude. I talked to the department tonight and they are going to set up what I think are very livable rules. But I think you have to recognize that they are going to start with some rather strict rules and work backwards because of the very bad situation they have had in some larger cities. Now specifically if you are discussing the problem of Cheney I took that up with the department. The department is sending some employees over there, but you realize if you set up an agency in Seattle and set up an agency in Cheney, they are totally different situations. But the rule has to be state-wide. They have said that they will be lenient. The department will take each instance and develop it according to the area and the technical problems they have in that area and they feel there won't be any problem and they will be quite lenient with their rules."

Senator Guess:

"Senator Pritchard, would you consider that a woman who had raised her own family could go in with another group of women and have sufficient experience to run and take care of one of these centers?"

Senator Pritchard:

"Yes, she certainly would and I talked to the department about that."

Senator Guess:

"Thank you very much. Senator Uhlman, do you have some comments to make on this matter of rules and regulations that are being promulgated?"

Senator Uhlman:

"Senator Guess, the only comment I would have additionally here is that under the Administrative Procedure Act any rules that are promulgated will have to be promulgated after full and complete notice to any and all parties who have requested said notice. There has to be a hearing. Any and all parties who are interested may attend and after the hearing and after all due process, then and only then can the department adopt these regulations. These will not be arbitrary regulations secretly put into effect which will adversely affect citizens of the state."

Debate ensued.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 76 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

Those voting yea were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Chytil, Connor, Cooney, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Faulk, Foley, Freise, Gissberg, Guess, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Herrmann, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, McCormack, McCutcheon, McMillan, Mardesich, Marquardt, Metcalf, Morgan, Neill, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Rasmussen, Redmon, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Washington, Williams, Woodall—45.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 97 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talley:

"Mr. President, would Senator Uhlman yield:

"Senator Uhlman, you have in this bill now 120 days during which a claimant can file a claim against the city or its subdivision, but there is no limit on the time he can file suit as long as the claim is filed within 120 days."

Senator Uhlman:

"That is correct and it has been determined by the court that jurisdiction is complete only with the filing of a claim and if you don't file a claim within that time and if it isn't verified and in the proper form, you are just out of luck. This is in essence notice to the city that you have a cause of action, that there has been a wrongdoing. This is not a lawyer's bill. I think it is an absolute fallacy to think of this as a lawyers' bill. This bill enables people who have been wronged by a subdivision of the state or any local government or fire protection district or any of these other subdivisions listed in the bill to sue them when there has been a wrong and it is extending the time to file a claim to 120 days. It is a very simple bill."

Senator Talley:

"One other question:

"Is there any limit then on the time in which they can file suit?"

Senator Uhlman:

"For all intent and purposes you have to go ahead and give notice first and after you have given notice and you have filed your claim, then you have the normal statutory period of time which, for a personal injury, would be three years. But you can have the best cause of action in the world and on the 121st day, if you didn't file your claim, it would not be considered. The statute is not applicable to that at all."

Senator Talley:

"But if they file the claim, then they have three years to bring suit or action against the city, is that correct?"

Senator Uhlman:

"That's correct. Often times a person, for example is involved in a serious injury and will not have any idea what his injuries are for some long period of time after. At least if he has filed the claim within 120 days, he can proceed."

Debate ensued.

This is for out-of-state teachers."

House Bill No. 866, by Representatives Veroske, Berentson and Farr:
Assuming federal lands for diking.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Talley, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 1, line 7, before "NEW SECTION. Section 1." insert the following and renumber the remaining sections consecutively:

"NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to Title 85 RCW a new chapter to read as set forth in sections 2 through 20 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The maintenance, enlargement and extension of diking, drainage and sewerage improvement districts formed under chapter 85.08 RCW is essential to the public welfare and economy of the state. The influx of population and changes in land use since many such districts were formed, has made obsolete, expensive and unjust the method used under existing law to provide funds for the operation of such districts and for the maintenance and expansion of their systems of improvement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. As used in this chapter:

"District" means a diking, drainage or sewerage improvement district organized under chapter 85.08 RCW.

"Maintenance" means and includes not merely operating expenses and such upkeep and other work commonly classed as maintenance as shall be necessary to restore and preserve the district's systems of improvement and the machinery and equipment operated in connection therewith in the same or as good condition as when originally constructed and installed, but also the making of such changes in and betterments to the original works, improvements and installations as shall, subject to approval of the board of county commissioners, be by the board deemed necessary to put the systems of improvements into such condition as will provide protection and services as contemplated and intended by the original construction and any enlargement and extensions thereof thereafter made.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. To operate under this chapter, the board of commissioners of the improvement district shall cause to be prepared and filed with the board of county commissioners a property roll. The roll shall contain: (1) A description of all properties benefited and improvements thereon which receive protection and service from the systems of the district with the name of the owner or the reputed owner thereof and his address as shown on the tax rolls of the assessor or treasurer of the county wherein the property is located, and (2) the determined value of such land and improvements thereon as last assessed and equalized by the assessor of such county or counties. Such assessed and equalized values shall be deemed prima facie to be just, fair and correct valuations against which annual millage shall be levied for the operation of the district and the maintenance and expansion of its facilities.

If property outside of the limits of the original district are upon the roll as adopted ultimately, and the original district has outstanding bonds or long-term warrants, the board of county commissioners shall set up separate millage levies for the full retirement thereof.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. When a property roll is filed with the board of county commissioners, the board shall hold a public hearing to determine whether the facts and conditions heretofore recited in this chapter as a prerequisite to its application do or do not exist, and shall give notice of hearing as follows:

The notice shall be published at least three times in consecutive issues in a weekly newspaper, or once a week for three consecutive weeks in a daily newspaper, published in or near said district, and if there is more than one such paper, then in some paper chosen by the board of county commissioners having general circulation in the area involved. The last publication shall be more than fifteen days prior to date of hearing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Any person, owner or reputed owner having any interest in any property against which the board of county commissioners seeks to make a protection and service charge under this chapter, may object thereto. All such objections must be in writing and filed with the board of county commissioners before the hearing is commenced upon the roll containing such properties and must state clearly the grounds of such objection. Objections not made within this time and in this manner shall be deemed conclusively to have been waived.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The board of county commissioners may at any time reexamine the properties on any roll, and upon receipt of a petition from the board of supervisors of the district or the written request of a property owner shall do so. If it is found that the condition of such property or properties has changed so that such property should be eliminated from any rolls on file, or the valuation against which millage is levied should be lowered, it shall so determine and enter an order adjusting the valuation as to such properties and shall certify and file a copy thereof with the treasurer of the county wherein the property is situated, and the treasurer shall alter and change the existing rolls accordingly. Valuations may be revised periodically to reflect changes in real property valuations by the county assessor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The roll approved and certified to the county officers by the board of county commissioners as in this chapter provided shall constitute the valuations of land, buildings and improvements furnished protection and services by the systems of the district against which valuation millage shall be levied and collected annually in the same manner as general taxes for the continuing operations of the district and its systems. The valuations on said roll shall be subject to adjustment from time to time in the manner provided in section 7 of this chapter.

The board of county commissioners shall hold a hearing on such adjustments at the county seat at the time of equalization of real property assessments for the purpose of considering written objections to any revision of valuations filed at least ten days prior to the hearing and shall give published notice only of such hearing as provided in section 5 of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Wherever any roll shall have been adopted by the board of county commissioners, the regularity, validity and correctness of the proceedings relating thereto shall be conclusive upon all parties, and it cannot in any manner be contested or questioned in any proceeding whatsoever by any person not filing written objections to the roll as provided in section 6 of this chapter and appealing from the action of said board in confirming the roll in the manner and within the time in this chapter provided. No proceeding of any kind, except proceedings had throughout the process of appeal as in this chapter provided, shall be commenced or prosecuted or may be maintained, for the purpose of defeating or contesting any assessment or charge made through levies under this chapter, or the sale of any property to pay such charges: Provided, That suit in injunction may be brought to prevent collection of charges of assessments or sale of property thereunder upon the following grounds and no other:

(1) That the property charged or about to be sold does not appear upon the district roll, or

(2) The charge has been paid.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The decision of the board of county commissioners upon any objection made within the time and in the manner prescribed may be reviewed by the superior court of the county wherein the property in question is located, upon appeal thereto taken in the following manner: Any person aggrieved must file his petition for writ of review with the clerk of the superior court wherein the property is located within ten days after the roll affecting such aggrieved party was adopted by resolution, and serve a copy thereof upon the county treasurer. The petition shall describe the property in question, shall set forth the written objections which were made to the decision, and the date of filing of such objections, and shall be signed by such party or someone in his behalf. The court shall forthwith grant such petition if correct as to form and filed in accordance with this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Within ten days from the filing of such petition for review, the county treasurer, unless the court shall grant additional time, shall file with the clerk of the superior court its certified transcript containing such portion of the roll as is subject to review, any written objections thereto filed with the board by the person reviewing before the roll was adopted, and a copy of the resolution adopting the roll.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The county clerk shall charge the same filing fees for petitions for review as in civil actions. At the time of the filing of such a petition with the clerk, the appellant shall execute and file a bond in the penal sum of two hundred dollars, with at least two sureties, to be approved by the judge of the court, conditioned upon his prosecuting his appeal without delay and to guarantee all costs which may be assessed against him by reason of such review. The court shall, on motion of either party to the cause, with notice to the other party, set the cause for trial at the earliest time available to the court, fixing a date for hearing and trial without a jury. The cause shall have preference over all civil actions pending in the court except eminent domain and forcible entry and detainer proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. At the trial the court shall determine whether the board of county commissioners has acted within its discretion and has correctly construed and applied the law. If it finds that it has, the finding of the board shall be affirmed; otherwise it shall be reversed or modified. The judgment of the court may change, confirm, correct, or modify the values of the property in question as shown upon the roll, and a certified copy thereof shall be filed with the county treasurer, who shall change, modify, or correct the roll as and if required by the judgment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. An appeal shall lie to the supreme court from the superior court as in other civil cases: Provided, That such appeal must be taken within fifteen days after the date of entry of the judgment of the superior court. The supreme court may change, conform, correct, or modify the values of the property in question as shown upon the roll. A certified copy of any judgment of the supreme court shall be filed with the county treasurer having custody of such roll, who shall thereupon change, modify, or correct such roll in accordance with such judgment as and if required.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The millage levies collected from time to time under this chapter are solely assessments for benefits received continuously by the protected properties, calculated in the manner specified in this chapter as a just and equitable way for all protected property to share the expense of such required protection and services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. The board of any improvement district proceeding under this chapter shall, on or before the first day of September of each year, make an estimate of the costs reasonably anticipated to be required for the effective functioning of the district during the ensuing year and until further revenue therefor can be made available, and shall cause its chairman or secretary to file the same with the board of county commissioners of the county containing the district and other benefited area. The board of county commissioners shall, on or before the first Monday in October next ensuing, certify the amount of the district's estimate, or such amount as it shall deem advisable, to the county treasurer. The amount so certified shall be applied by the regular taxing agencies against the benefit valuation of lands, buildings and improvements as shown by the then current complete roll of such properties certified to and filed with such county treasurer by the board of county commissioners. When thus levied, the amount of assessment produced thereby shall be added by the general taxing authorities to the general taxes against said lands and collected therewith as a part thereof. If unpaid, any delinquencies in such assessments shall bear interest at the same rate and in the same manner as general taxes and they shall be included in and be made a part of any general tax foreclosure proceedings, according to the provisions of law with relation to such foreclosures. As assessment collections are made, the county treasurer shall credit the same to the funds of the district.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. In the case of an emergency or disaster occurring after the time of making the annual estimate of costs, declared to be such by resolution of the board, the board of the district may incur additional obligations and issue valid warrants therefor in excess of such estimate, in the manner provided by law for issuance of warrants by districts and the servicing thereof. All such warrants so issued shall be valid and legal obligations of the district and its taxable lands and improvements as shown upon the then current roll of the district filed with the county treasurer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. Any diking, drainage, or sewerage improvement district operating under this chapter shall not use concurrently the processes provided for raising revenue for maintenance purposes under any other law: Provided, That any other method of raising such revenue provided by law may be used concurrently for the sole purpose of extinguishing indebtedness incurred before the district adopts the procedures of this chapter, and no funds raised hereunder shall be used to pay such prior indebtedness.

On page 1, line 1 of the title, strike "An Act relating to diking and drainage districts;" and insert: "An Act relating to diking, drainage, and sewerage improvement districts; prescribing a method to pay for maintenance costs of such districts; defining terms; providing for an assessment roll and levies; prescribing powers, duties and functions of the board of improvement districts and the boards of county commissioners in relation thereto; prescribing a method of review; adding a new chapter to Title 85 RCW;"

FIFTY-EIGHTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber,

Olympia, Washington, Tuesday, March 7, 1967.

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Pro Tempore Henry.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Herr.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Dale Rowe, Color Bearer, and Karen Andersen, presented the Colors.

Reverend Walter A. MacArthur, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Each day brings its new aspiration, Great God, and each night reveals how we did not live up to it. We seem to spend so much of our energy struggling for things that are here today and gone tomorrow. Touch us with a sense of that which endures, truth, beauty, goodness and holiness.

"Preserve us from being so ambitious for things that we miss. Our understanding of one another does not reach as far as our careless words or our blind vehemence.

"Keep, then, our indignation vivid against every wrong that twists or distorts human personality. Strengthen our wills and make sound our judgments in the tasks and duties of this day, O God. Amen."

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

The Secretary read:

SENATE RESOLUTION
1967 - 27

By Senators McCormack, Uhlman and Woodall:

Whereas, A large part of the code of criminal procedure, Title 10 RCW, originated in early territorial days and has not been revised in over one hundred years; and

Whereas, Society's views concerning criminal procedure have in many respects undergone material change since these laws were adopted; and

Whereas, The decisions of the United States Supreme Court relating to constitutional aspects of criminal procedure and particularly with regard to the rights of accused persons, have rendered obsolete many of our state criminal procedure statutes; and

Whereas, Portions of Title 10 RCW have been superseded in whole or in part by the rules of court; and

Whereas, It is essential that the code of criminal procedure of the state of Washington be rewritten and modernized;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, by the Senate, That the judicial council is requested to modernize and recodify the code of criminal procedure, Title 10 RCW, and to report to the forty-first legislature their recommendations thereon.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the resolution was adopted.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new resident who moves into the state of Washington less than one year from an approaching presidential election and intends to make this state his permanent residence shall be entitled to vote for presidential and vice-presidential electors or for the office of president and vice president of the United States, as the case may be, but no other office, provided he meets the following qualifications:

- (3) He is unable to vote for presidential and vice-presidential electors in the state of his former residence; and
- (4) He has followed the voting procedure as hereinafter in this chapter provided.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. All voting as provided by this chapter shall be by mail through the use of a special ballot issued by the secretary of state.

Insofar as applicable, the voting procedure for a new resident to cast a special presidential ballot shall be substantially the same as for civilian absentee voting as provided in chapter 29.36 RCW but the secretary of state shall make such revisions that are necessary to carry out the purpose of this chapter, including but not limited to, the following:

Providing certain changes in industrial insurance law.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Greive, the following amendment by Senators Sandison, Bailey and Rasmussen was adopted:

On page 13 of the printed and engrossed bills, following section 13, add the following two new sections:

"Sec. 14. Section 51.08.030, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 and RCW 51.08.030 are each amended to read as follows:

"Child" means every natural born child, posthumous child, stepchild, child legally adopted prior to the injury, and illegitimate child legitimated prior to the injury, all while under the age of eighteen years, or under the age of twenty-one years while still attending school as a full time student and over the age of eighteen years if the child is a dependent invalid child.

Sec. 15. Section 51.32.005, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 and RCW 51.32.005 are each amended to read as follows:

The term "child" whenever used in this chapter means every natural born child, posthumous child, stepchild, child legally adopted prior to the injury, and illegitimate child legitimated prior to the injury, all while under the age of eighteen years, or under the age of twenty-one years while still attending school as a full time student and over the age of eighteen years if the child is a dependent invalid child."

On motion of Senator Freise, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 13 of the engrossed and printed bills, following section 13, add a new section as follows:

"Sec. 14. Section 51.24.010, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 7, chapter 274, Laws of 1961 and RCW 51.24.010 are each amended to read as follows:

If the injury to a workman is due to negligence or wrong of another not in the same employ, the injured workman or, if death results from the injury, his widow, children, or dependents, as the case may be, shall elect whether to take under this title or seek a remedy against such other, such election to be in advance of any suit under this section and, if he takes under this title, the cause of action against such other shall be assigned to the state for the benefit of the accident fund and the medical aid fund; if the other choice is made, the accident fund and the medical aid fund shall contribute only the deficiency, if any, between the amount of recovery against such third person actually collected and the compensation provided or estimated by this title for such case: Provided, That where equipment is time-rented by an employer on an operated basis (with operator and crew only) to perform work for another employer covered under this title, said operator and crewmen, while so engaged and for the purposes of this section, shall each be deemed to be a workman in the same employ of both his regular employer and his temporary employer who directs the work and the workmen of both, regardless of whether or not such workman is legally a borrowed servant, and regardless of which employer in fact handles his payroll and premiums: Provided, Further, That the injured workman or if death results from his injury, his widow, children or dependents as the case may be, electing to seek a remedy against such other person, shall receive benefits payable under this title as if such election had not been made, and the department for the benefit of the accident fund and the medical aid fund to the extent of such payments having been made by the department to the injured workman or if death results from his injury, his widow, children or dependents as the case may be shall be subrogated to the rights of such person or persons against the recovery had from such third party and shall have a lien [thereupon] on the amount actually collected from such third party to the proportionate extent that the amount actually collected bears to the total amount which the person or persons are entitled to recover as determined by trial of the cause of action or court approved compromise and settlement. Any such cause of action assigned to the state may be prosecuted or compromised by the department in its discretion in the name of the workman, beneficiaries, or legal representative. Any compromise by the workman of any such suit, which would leave a deficiency to be made good out of the accident fund or the medical aid fund may be made only with the written approval of the department. If such approval is not obtained, claim for the deficiency will be deemed to have been waived.

In any action brought under this section wherein recovery is made by compromise and settlement or otherwise, the amount to be repaid to the state of Washington as a result of said action shall bear its proportionate share of attorney's fees and costs incurred by the injured workman or his widow, children, or dependents, as the case may be, and the court shall approve the amount of attorney's fees."

It was moved by Senator Greive that the following amendment by Senators Bailey, Greive, Keefe and Rasmussen be adopted:

The legislature shall make biennial appropriations to carry out the purposes of this section.

The legislature shall make biennial appropriations to carry out the purposes of this section.

Sec. 16. Section 6, chapter 148, Laws of 1963 and RCW 51.52.104 are each amended to read as follows:

After all evidence has been presented at hearings conducted by a hearing examiner, who shall be an active member of the Washington state bar association, the hearing examiner shall prepare a proposed or recommended decision and order which shall be in writing and shall contain findings and conclusions as to each contested issue of fact and law, as well as the order based thereon. The hearing examiner shall file the original of the proposed decision and order, signed by him, with the board, and copies thereof shall be mailed by the board to each party to the appeal and to his attorney of record. Within twenty days, or such further period as the board may allow on written application of a party filed within said twenty days, from the date of communication of the proposed decision and order to the parties or their attorneys of record, any party may file with the board a written [statement of exceptions to] petition for review of the same. Such [statement of exceptions] petition for review shall set forth in detail the grounds therefor and the party or parties filing the same shall be deemed to have waived all objections or irregularities not specifically set forth therein.

In the event no [statement of exceptions] petition for review is filed as provided herein by any party, the proposed decision and order of the hearing examiner shall be adopted by the board and become the decision and order of the board, and no appeal may be taken therefrom to the courts.

Sec. 17. Section 51.52.106; chapter 23, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 4, chapter 165, Laws of 1965 extraordinary session and RCW 51.52.106 are each amended to read as follows:

After the filing of a [statement or statements of exceptions] petition or petitions for review as provided for in [RCW 51.52.104] section 16 of this 1967 amendatory act, the proposed decision and order of the hearing examiner, the petition or petitions for review and, in its discretion, the record or any part thereof, may be considered by the board and on agreement of at least two of the regular members thereof, the board may thereupon deny the petition or petitions. In such event all parties shall forthwith be notified in writing of said denial, and the hearing examiner's proposed decision and order shall thereupon be deemed to be the final decision and order of the board. In the event of a review, the [the record before the board] proposed decision and order, the petition or petitions for review and the record or any part thereof deemed necessary shall be considered by a panel of at least two of the members of the board, on which not more than one industry and one labor member serve. The chairman may be a member of any panel. The decision and order of any such panel shall be the decision and order of the board. Every final decision and order rendered by the board shall be in writing and shall contain findings and conclusions as to each contested issue of fact and law, as well as the board's order based thereon. A copy of the decision and order, including the findings and conclusions, shall be mailed to each party to the appeal and to his attorney of record within one hundred and twenty days from the date of expiration of the period for filing petitions for review. In the event that no such decision and order is mailed within said one hundred and twenty days, the hearing examiner's proposed decision and order shall be deemed to be the final decision and order of the board.

Sec. 18. Section 51.52.110, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 and RCW 51.52.110 are each amended to read as follows:

Within thirty days after the final decision and order of the board upon such appeal has been communicated to such workman, beneficiary, employer or other person, or within thirty days after the appeal is deemed denied as herein provided, or within thirty days after the proposed decision and order of the hearing examiner is deemed to be the final decision and order of the board as herein provided, such workman, beneficiary, employer or other person aggrieved by the decision and order of the board may appeal to the superior court.

In cases involving injured workmen such appeal shall be to the superior court of the county of residence of the workman or beneficiary, as shown by the department's records, the superior court for Thurston county, or to the superior court of the county wherein the injury occurred. In all other cases, the appeal shall be to the superior court of Thurston county. Such appeal shall be perfected by filing with the clerk of the court a notice of appeal and by serving a copy thereof by mail, or personally, on the director and on the board. The department shall, within twenty days after the receipt of such notice of appeal, serve and file its notice of appearance and such appeal shall thereupon be deemed at issue. The board shall serve upon the appealing party, the director and any other party appearing at the board's proceeding, and file with the clerk of the court before trial, a certified copy of the board's official record which shall include the notice of appeal and other pleadings, testimony and exhibits, and the board's decision and order, which shall become the record in such case. No bond shall be required on appeals to the superior court or on appeals to the supreme court, except that an appeal by the employer from a decision and order of the board under RCW 51.48.070, shall be ineffectual unless, within five days following the service of notice thereof, a bond, with surety satisfactory to the court, shall be filed, conditioned to perform the judgment of the court. Except in the case last named an appeal shall not be a stay: Provided, However, That whenever the board has made any decision and order reversing an order of the supervisor of industrial insurance on questions of law or mandatory administrative actions of the director, the department shall have the right of appeal to the superior court.

Sec. 19. Section 51.52.130, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 and RCW 51.52.130 are each amended to read as follows:

If, on appeal to the court from the decision and order of the board, said decision and order is reversed or modified and additional relief is granted to a workman or beneficiary, or in cases where a party other than the workman or beneficiary is the appealing party and the workman's or beneficiary's right to relief is sustained by the court, a reasonable fee for the services of the workman's or beneficiary's attorney shall be fixed by the court. In fixing the fee the court shall take into consideration the fee or fees, if any, fixed by the director and the board for such attorney's services before the department and the board. If the court finds that the fee fixed by the director or by the board is inadequate for services performed before the department or board, or if the director or the board has fixed no fee for such services, then the court shall fix a fee for the attorney's services before the department, or the board, as the case may be, in addition to the fee fixed for the services in the court. If the decision and order of the board is reversed or modified and if the accident fund is affected by the litigation then the attorney's fee fixed by the court for services before the court only, and the fees of medical and other witnesses and the costs shall be [payable out of the administrative fund of the department] paid and assessed by the department in the same manner as provided for those costs and expenses in RCW 51.52.150.

Sec. 20. Section 51.52.132, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 2, chapter 63, Laws of 1965 extraordinary session and RCW 51.52.132 are each amended to read as follows:

Where the department pays the attorney's fee, or where the department, the board or the court, pursuant to RCW 51.52.120 or 51.52.130 fixes the attorney's fee, it shall be unlawful for an attorney to charge or receive any fee in excess [of that fixed by the department, board or the court] thereof. Any person who violates any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 21. Section 51.52.150, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 and RCW 51.52.150 are each amended to read as follows:

All expenses and costs incurred by the department for board and court appeals, including fees for medical and other witnesses, court reporter costs and attorney's fees, and all costs taxed against the department, shall be paid one-half out of the medical aid fund and one-half out of the accident fund and shall be assessed against the various employer classes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. There is added to chapter 23, Laws of 1961 and to chapter 51.52 RCW a new section to read as follows:

An attorney engaged in the representation of a workman or beneficiary shall be entitled to attorney's fees which shall be paid by the department in addition to any award granted the workman or beneficiary, and shall be determined as follows:

(1) For services before the department or the board, a fee of twenty-five percent of the amount of temporary total disability and permanent partial disability compensation in immediate issue which is awarded and obtained by the attorney's services: Provided, That in cases of a pension award, such fee shall be either ten percent of the pension reserve as determined by the department, or four thousand dollars, whichever is less;

(2) For services before the superior court or supreme court, a fee of thirty percent of the amount of temporary total disability and permanent partial disability compensation in immediate issue which is awarded and obtained by the attorney's services: Provided, That in cases of a pension award, such fee shall be either ten percent of the pension reserve as determined by the department, or four thousand dollars, whichever is less;

(3) In cases where no increased compensation is obtained as prescribed in subsections (1) and (2), but which result in the department assuming responsibility for expenses of medical treatment, the attorney's fee shall be twenty-five percent of the amount of such expenses, both past and future, that are paid on behalf of the workman up to such time as the department next closes the claim or the expiration of one year from the date of the decision, order or judgment whereby the department assumed the responsibility for such expenses, whichever occurs first: Provided, That in no event shall such fee exceed the sum of one thousand dollars.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. There is added to chapter 23, Laws of 1961 and to chapter 51.52 RCW a new section to read as follows:

If, on appeal to the board or to the superior or supreme court, the order of the department is reversed or modified and additional relief is granted the workman or beneficiary, or in cases where a party other than the workman or beneficiary is the appealing party and the right of the workman or beneficiary to relief is sustained, the department shall pay to the workman or beneficiary, as costs, his witness fees, including those of medical witnesses, but not to exceed in total amount the sum of one hundred dollars. Such fees shall be paid by the department in addition to any award granted the workman or beneficiary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. Sections 14 through 23 of this 1967 amendatory act shall take effect on July 1, 1967. The review procedure provided in sections 16 through 18 of this 1967 amendatory act shall apply to all appeals as provided for in chapter 51.52 RCW, but as to those appeals pending before the board on July 1, 1967, with respect to which there has been a proposed decision and order issued on which exceptions have been filed, the time for mailing a final decision and order shall be extended to one hundred and twenty days from July 1, 1967. The provisions of sections 22 and 23 of this 1967 amendatory act shall only apply to cases involving injuries occurring on or after July 1, 1967. The provisions of RCW 51.52.120 and 51.52.130 shall only apply to cases involving injuries which occurred prior to July 1, 1967."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President, will Senator Greive yield to a question:

"Senator Greive, you mentioned that there would be some approximately four million dollars as I add it up here—"

Senator Greive:

"$3.9 million, yes."

Senator Ryder:

"That would be coming from the general fund?"

Senator Greive:

"Correct."

Senator Ryder:

"Is this something new in the industrial insurance program in this state?"

Senator Greive:

"The word, 'new,' is something that could be interpreted in many ways. Actually most of it, $2.7 million is in a bill we passed earlier in the session and for which you voted. But as far as new, it is new in the sense we are raising them. We are doing the same thing for these people that we did for the old-time teachers, and the old-time firemen and the old-time everybody else. We are merely saying to the people who received their benefits and were frozen prior to a certain date that they should have the benefits of the act which was passed in 1965 or the last session."

Senator Ryder:

"One further question, Senator Greive:

"Is there any reason that you know of why this couldn't still come from the accident and medical fund?"

Senator Greive:

"Yes, there is a constitutional reason. It is the same reason you deal with the old-time firemen and policemen and in dealing with any of these particular groups, you have to take the money out of the general fund. Normally these particular funds have certain contractual obligations when they are contributed. Under the state, when people contributed, there were contractual obligations and we have a clause in our constitution that says that a gratuity cannot be given to anyone and that was amended not too long ago with a constitutional amendment that says it can be done but the increases have to come out of the general fund."

Debate ensued.

Senator Lennart:

"Mr. President:

"Would Senator Greive yield:

"Does this amendment include that definition of a child from eighteen years of age to twenty-one years of age? Is that part of the cost of the bill?"

Senator Greive:

"That is another $500,000 and so if you added that particular part, it would then be $6.7 million."

Senator Lennart:

"That's another amendment?"

Senator Greive:

"That's another amendment and when I gave my answer to Senator Ryder, I am awfully sorry but I inadvertently didn't realize I was talking about that particular portion of the bill."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Greive demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Rasmussen, Talley, Donohue, Sandison, Stender, Durkan, McCutcheon and Bailey.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess:

"Mr. President, would Senator Uhlman yield:

"Would you explain again, Senator Uhlman, the intent of the Senate Judiciary Committee amendment removing the word, 'earlier,' and replacing it with, 'later'?"

Senator Uhlman:

"Senator Guess, it is conceivable that the following facts would be applicable under the previous wording: You are an architect. You design a building. You then do not supervise the construction of that building. The building is the I.B.M. building in the city of Seattle which may take eight or nine years to build. You would be out of the picture. You would have rendered your services long before the six-year period which is the subject matter of this proposed legislation, and this would then cut off your liability as an architect after six years, and then even though the building went up in nine years and your errors or omissions would not be discovered until some nine years later when the building was actually built. It was felt by the Senate Judiciary Committee that we should wait until a substantial completion and tenants had moved in and had a chance to find out any errors or omissions on your part. Thus we should then have an opportunity to sue you as the architect if you had any errors or omissions through that longer period of time. We felt then as of the time of substantial completion or as of the time the tenant moved in, they had an opportunity to observe the building and were able to find out whether or not there were any errors or omissions on your part, from satisfactory completion of construction."

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 678 as amended by the Senate was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

Providing for office of community affairs.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Williams, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 78 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stender:

"Mr. President, would Senator Williams yield to a question:

"Senator Williams, what will be the extra cost to the state of Washington for this new department?"

Senator Williams:

"Senator Stender, I don't think there is any particular additional cost involved. This is a growing thing. It has been growing, anyway, with the federal aid programs, and they are requiring more and more state planning and stamp of approval and things of this sort. The degree in which it grows will depend upon the appropriation bill and what is given to it. I think the main thing we are doing here is perhaps because so many state agencies have planning problems, we need some degree of advisory coordination rather than another department which has a special interest. We felt it should be a separate, independent agency working with all of the other state agencies. I think the cost will be far more than repaid, first in the increased efficiency and coordination, and, secondly, in implementing the federal aid more effectively."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Senator Williams, did I hear you say that the Republican Party now is concerned about getting more federal aid rather than self-help at the local level?"

Senator Williams:

"I think the federal aid programs are available and we want them to be effectively utilized in a coordinated manner throughout the state."

Senator Rasmussen:

"You want to get your share."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Greive, Senator Peterson (Lowell) was excused.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Durkan:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"Under the constitution, is the bill on third reading, or do the rules have to be suspended to move Initiative No. 32 to third reading?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Durkan, in answer to your parliamentary inquiry, Initiative No. 32 was placed on the second reading calendar for this evening. But inasmuch as the joint rules prohibit the amending of the initiative, and Initiative No. 32 having been read and thoroughly discussed, in essence, the measure is on final passage."

Senators Ryder, Stender and Durkan demanded the previous question.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon:

"Mr. President, point of parliamentary inquiry:

"Has the House taken any action on this matter?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President is not aware of any official action, Senator McCutcheon."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Woodall:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"If this is an initiative to the legislature, who determines which house handles the matter first?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Woodall, you have posed a very interesting question. The President is of the opinion that inasmuch as the measure has been presented to both houses, it appears as if either house may act upon this at their own discretion."

Senator McCutcheon:

"Mr. President, speaking to your point of inquiry, I know of no provision of the constitution or any rule that says you can pass a law by one house of the legislature of the state of Washington."

The President:

"The President concurs in your observation."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"Is it too late to move that this be held over until tomorrow?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President believes, Senator McCutcheon, that the Senate rules provide that inasmuch as the previous question was requested, and sustained by the body, that the body should decide the main question at this time. This precludes any further motions."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President:

"Is the previous question ordered on final passage?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Yes, Senator Rasmussen."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Then if Senator McCutcheon voted on the prevailing side, he would then be in a position to reconsider and he could make his motion at that time."

The President:

"The President believes that if the motion carries and Senator McCutcheon votes on the prevailing side, that he could move for reconsideration. The Secretary will please call the roll.

"Senator Peterson, for what purpose do you rise?"

Senator Peterson (Ted):

"Mr. President, just a parliamentary inquiry:

"I want to know—you mean we are all through with the discussion? We haven't even talked about it. I have been waiting here for Senator McCutcheon to wind up. I know what this issue is and I think it should be talked about and I intend to, but I have been waiting here to see what was going to happen."

The President:

"Senator Peterson, what is going to happen is that the main question will be now put. Senator, with all due respect, Senator Ryder has requested the previous question and it was sustained by the body. Therefore the President is mandated by the rules to put the main question."

Senator Peterson (Ted):

"I understand that but I am going to suggest that the rules be suspended. I think this should be discussed and give us a chance to talk."

The President:

"Senator, the President is mandated by the rules and must put the question."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Henry:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"Reference was made to some motion which may be made in the future for reconsideration and then to hold it over for reconsideration to the following day. I should like a ruling on the fact that reconsideration must be done the same day after the fiftieth day, is that correct?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"That is true, Senator, although a subsequent motion may make it a special order of business for the following day. The President suggests to Senator Peterson that perhaps if you wish to have the matter discussed or at least have another opportunity to discuss it, that you vote on the prevailing side and move for reconsideration. The Secretary will please call the roll."

March 7, 1967.

I changed my vote from "yes" to "no" on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 596 at the suggestion of Committee Chairman Gordon Sandison so that I might serve on a conference committee on this bill if one came into existence. As a member of the Temporary Advisory Council on Higher Education I have always favored Olympia as a site for the four-year college and I would have voted for it under any other circumstances except those stated above.

(Signed)

Senator Mike McCormack.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Sidney Snyder II, Color Bearer, and Linda Deife, presented the Colors.

Reverend Maynard H. Kragthorpe, pastor of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church of Seattle, offered prayer as follows:

"O God, our King, who art the only sovereign ruler in Thy universe, who hast granted to us mortals the awesome responsibility of governing ourselves under Thy precepts and who hast called us to be ministers to the needs of Thy people, teach us to bear one another's burdens and the burdens of our commonwealth, the state of Washington.

"Open our eyes to see the things that are wrong in our land, the things that are wrong in us, the despair in the lives of those who are victims of our technology, and the deep and shameful wrongs that cry to be put right. Open our eyes also to see those things that may be put right, at least in part, through our feeble human efforts.

"Give us also a vision of our state and our nation as Thou wouldst have it be, and as only Thou canst finally make it be. Help us to be Thy faithful servants in working toward that great end.

"Give no rest to Thy servants until we have exhausted ourselves in Thy service; until Thou hast used us to bring about Thy works of compassion on behalf of the needy; until our government resembles thine as closely as humans can do.

"Help us this day so to direct our thoughts and speech and actions to the pressing business before us, that we may pace ourselves and our constituents with a good conscience. This we ask for Thy Holy Name's sake. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood:

"Mr. President, would Senator Ridder yield to a question:

"On page 2 of the bill there is a proviso regarding teachers who are also legislators. Does this proviso mean that they can now draw from both retirement systems?"

Senator Ridder:

"No, but it enables a legislator who is also a teacher, while he is here, to have deductions made to maintain him on the teachers' retirement system. There is no provision at this time for this. This is not a pork barrel. It is just that while we are here for the two months no deductions can be made from teachers' retirement. This more or less takes care of some twelve legislators on the retirement system who would otherwise have to pay back into the system to maintain it."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gissberg:

"Mr. President, would Senator Andersen yield to a question:

"Senator Andersen, would you tell us what the landowner pays when these overhead facilities are placed underground? What is the intent of the bill?"

Senator Andersen:

"The intent of this bill, Senator Gissberg, is to provide a method whereby the people who desire to have the overhead utilities placed underground can do so by paying the additional cost of undergrounding the overhead facilities. It is not the intent to have the property owners pay the entire cost of the underground facilities, but only that cost above the normal utilities costs. There are certain people who want to beautify their areas by placing utilities underground and it would not be equitable to have property owners in other areas pay for that additional cost. But those who do want it should pay the additional cost of undergrounding, and that is the intent of this bill."

Further debate ensued.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., March 5, 1967.

Deleting from small loan act exception as to loans made in another state (reported by Judiciary Committee):

MAJORITY recommends that it do pass with the following amendment:

On page 2, following line 1 add a new section to read as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Section 13, chapter 208, Laws of 1941 as amended by section 5, chapter 212, Laws of 1959 and RCW 31.08.160 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every licensee hereunder may lend any sum of money not to exceed one thousand dollars in amount and may charge, contract for, and receive thereon charges at a rate not exceeding [three] thirty-six percent per [month] year on that part of the unpaid principal balance of any loan not in excess of three hundred dollars, [one and one half] eighteen percent per [month] year on that part of the unpaid principal balance of any loan in excess of three hundred dollars and not in excess of five hundred dollars, and [one] twelve percent per [month] year on any remainder of such unpaid principal balance: Provided, However, That in lieu of said charges a licensee may charge one dollar per month, or fraction thereof, when said charges computed at the said rate amount to less than one dollar: And Provided Further, That such charge of one dollar shall not be collected on more than one loan nor more than once from any one borrower during any period of one month.

(2) Charges on loans made under this chapter shall not be paid, deducted, discounted, or received in advance, or compounded, but the rate of charge authorized by this section may be precomputed as provided in subsection (3) of this section. Charges on loans made under this chapter, excepting the minimum charge of one dollar provided in this section and excepting as permitted by subsection (3) hereof, (a) shall be computed and paid [only] monthly as a percentage per [month] year of the unpaid principal balance or portions thereof, and (b) shall be [so] expressed in terms of annual charges thereon in every obligation signed by the borrower. For the purpose of this section a month shall be that period of time from any date in a month to the corresponding date in the next month and if there is no such corresponding date then to the last day of the next month; and a day shall be considered one-thirtieth of a month when computation is made for a fraction of a month.

(3) When the loan contract requires repayment in substantially equal and consecutive monthly installments of principal and charges combined, the charges may be precomputed at the monthly rate on scheduled unpaid principal balances according to the terms of the contract and added to the principal of the loan. Every payment may be applied to the combined total of principal and precomputed charge until the contract is fully paid. The acceptance or payment of charges on loans made under the provisions of this subsection shall not be deemed to constitute payment, deduction, or receipt thereof in advance nor compounding under subsection (2) above. Such precomputed charge shall be subject to the following adjustments:

(a) The portion of the precomputed charge applicable to any particular monthly installment period shall bear the same ratio to the total precomputed charge, excluding any adjustment made under paragraph (f) of this subsection, as the balance scheduled to be outstanding during that monthly period bears to the sum of all monthly balances scheduled originally by the contract of loan.

(b) If the loan contract is prepaid in full by cash, a new loan, refinancing, or otherwise before the final installment date, the portion of the precomputed charge applicable to the full installment periods following the installment date nearest the date of such prepayment shall be rebated. In computing any required rebate, any prepayment made on or before the fifteenth day following an installment date shall be deemed to have been made on the installment date preceding such prepayment. If prepayment in full occurs before the first installment date an additional rebate of one-thirtieth of the portion of the precomputed charge applicable to a first installment period of one month shall be made for each day from the date of such prepayment to the first scheduled installment date. If judgment is obtained before the final installment date, the contract balance shall be reduced by the rebate of precomputed charge which would be required for prepayment in full as of the date judgment is obtained.

(c) If the payment date of all wholly unpaid installments on which no default charge has been collected is deferred one or more full months and the contract so provides, the licensee may charge and collect a deferment charge. Such deferment charge shall not exceed the portion of the precomputed charge applicable under the original contract of loan to the first month of the deferment period multiplied by the number of months in said period. The deferment period is the month or months in which no scheduled payment has been made or in which no payment is to be required by reason of the deferment. In computing any default charge, or required rebate, the portion of the precomputed charge applicable to each deferred balance and installment period following the deferment period and prior to the deferred maturity shall remain the same as that applicable to such balances and periods under the original contract of loan. Such charge may be collected at the time of deferment or at any time thereafter. If a loan is prepaid in full during a deferment period, the borrower shall receive, in addition to the rebate required under paragraph (b) of this subsection, a rebate of that portion of the deferment charge applicable to any unexpired months of the deferment period.

(d) If the payment in full of any scheduled installment is in default more than seven days and the contract so provides, the licensee may charge and collect a default charge not exceeding an amount equal to the portion of the precomputed charge applicable to the final installment period. Said charge may not be collected more than once for the same default and may be collected when such default occurs or any time thereafter. If such default charge is deducted from any payment received after default occurs and such deduction results in the default of a subsequent installment, no charge may be made for the resulting default.

(e) If two or more full installments are in default for one full month or more at any installment date and if the contract so provides, the licensee may reduce the contract balance by the rebate which would be required for prepayment in full on such installment date. Thereafter, charges may be received at the agreed rate computed on actual unpaid balances of the contract for the time outstanding until the contract is fully paid. Charges so collected shall be in lieu of any deferment or default charges which otherwise would accrue on the contract after such installment date.

(f) A licensee and borrower may agree that the first installment due date may be not more than fifteen days more than one month and the amount of such installment may be increased by one-thirtieth of the portion of the precomputed charge applicable to a first installment of one month for each extra day.

(4) No licensee shall induce or permit any borrower to split up or divide any loan, nor induce or permit any person, nor any husband and wife jointly or severally, to become obligated, directly or contingently or both, under more than one contract of loan at the same time, for the purpose or with the result of obtaining a higher rate of charge than would otherwise be permitted by this section. If part or all of the consideration for a loan contract is the unpaid principal balance of a prior loan with the same licensee, then the principal amount payable under such loan contract shall not include any unpaid charges on the prior loan, except charges which have accrued within sixty days before the making of such loan contract any may include the balance of a precomputed contract which remains after giving the rebate required by subsection (3) hereof.

(5) No licensee shall directly or indirectly charge, contract for, or receive any charges or fees except charges authorized by this chapter and the lawful fees, if any, actually and necessarily paid out by the licensee to any public officer for the transferring of title or for filing, recording, or releasing in any public office, any instrument securing the loan, which fees may be collected when the loan is made, or at any time thereafter. A bona fide error in the calculation of charges or in the recording of such charges in any statement or receipt delivered to the borrower or in the licensee's records shall not be deemed to be a violation of this chapter if the licensee corrects the error."

Remember the remaining sections consecutively.

In line 1 of the title after the semicolon and before "and" insert "amending section 13, chapter 208, Laws of 1941 as amended by section 5, chapter 212, Laws of 1959 and RCW 31.08.160;"

No moneys derived from the sale, lease or other disposal of lands granted in trust to the state by the Washington state enabling act shall be deposited in such account. Therefore, the department of natural resources, with respect to the rental on lands leased for park purposes, shall determine the full rental market value as required by Article XVI of the Washington State Constitution, by considering only the actual money value of the lands when used for park purposes and the offsetting benefits accruing directly or indirectly to the owner and/or beneficiaries of such lands.

For the purpose of securing and preserving privately owned lands for parks and recreation purposes, the department of natural resources is authorized, with the advice and approval of the state board of natural resources, to exchange any state lands of equal value for such lands. POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey:

"I'd like to ask Senator Greive a question:

"What is this going to do to the hospital rates for members that have protection under this legislation?"

Senator Greive:

"It won't do anything to them. If anything, it might even decrease the rates but it shouldn't raise them. I don't know how it could. The only way it could raise them is if you are not getting a service now and if the union contracts for that service, of course they would have to pay the additional fee. If they don't contract, then of course they wouldn't get it. It's merely permissive so they can contract for it."

"Mr. President, would Senator Mardesich yield to a question:

"Since Group Health is a contractor, must an organization such as this offer freedom of choice? Are they covered by this legislation?"

"No, as I understand it this covers only those contractors offering coverage by participation or by identification."

(b) The satisfaction by the insured of a judgment for such injury or damage shall not be a condition precedent to the right or duty of the insurance carrier to make payment on account of such injury or damage.

(c) The insurance carrier shall have the right to settle any claim covered by the policy, and if such settlement is made in good faith, the amount thereof shall be deductible from the limits of liability specified in subdivision (b) of subsection (2) of this section.

(d) The policy, the written application therefor, if any, and any rider or endorsement which does not conflict with the provisions of this chapter shall constitute the entire contract between the parties.

(7) Excess or additional coverage. With respect to a policy which grants such excess or additional coverage the term 'motor vehicle liability policy' shall apply only to that part of the coverage which is required by this section.

(9) Proration of insurance permitted. Any motor vehicle liability policy may provide for the prorating of the insurance thereunder with other valid and collectible insurance.

(10) Multiple policies. The requirements for a motor vehicle liability policy may be fulfilled by the policies of one or more insurance carrier which policies together meet such requirements.

(2) If the contract provides for payment of benefits in variable amounts, it shall contain a statement of the essential features of the procedure to be followed by the insurer in determining the dollar amount of such variable benefits. Any such contract shall state that such dollar amount may decrease or increase and shall contain on its first page a statement that the benefits thereunder are on a variable basis.

(3) No domestic life insurer, and no other authorized life insurer, shall deliver within this state any contract providing benefits in variable amounts until the insurer has satisfied the commissioner that it has surplus as to policyholders of not less than one million dollars, and that its condition or methods of operation in connection with the issuance of such contracts will not render its operation hazardous to the public or its policyholders in this state. In determining the qualification of any insurer requesting authority to deliver such agreements within this state, the commissioner shall consider, among other things,

(a) The history and financial condition of the insurer,

(b) The character, responsibility and general fitness of the officers and directors of the insurer, and

(c) In the case of an insurer other than a domestic insurer, whether the statutes or regulations of the jurisdiction of its incorporation provide a degree of protection to policyholders and the public which is substantially equal to that provided under this section and rules and regulations issued hereunder.

(The foregoing policy provision shall not be so construed as to affect any legal requirement for avoidance of a policy or denial of a claim during such initial [three year] ninety day period, nor to limit the application of RCW 48.20.172, 48.20.182, 48.20.192, 48.20.202, and 48.20.212 in the event of misstatement with respect to age or occupation or other insurance.)

"After this policy has been in force for a period of [three years] ninety days during the lifetime of the insured (excluding any period during which the insured is disabled), it shall become incontestable as to the statements contained in the application.")

(b) No claim for loss incurred or disability (as defined in the policy) commencing after [three years] ninety days from the date of issue of this policy shall be reduced or denied on the ground that a disease or physical condition not excluded from coverage by name or specific description effective on the date of loss had existed prior to the effective date of coverage of this policy.

The Secretary read:

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

State of Washington, Office of the Governor,
Olympia, March 8, 1967.

To the Honorable, The Senate of the State of Washington.

Lady and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith Senate Bill No. 49 entitled:

"An Act establishing the oceanographic commission of Washington; authorizing the formation of the Oceanographic Institute of Washington; prescribing powers, duties and functions; making an appropriation; and providing an effective date."

This bill establishes the Oceanographic Commission of Washington to encourage and promote maximum utilization of our oceanographic assets. In my State of the State Message, I stated "to assure the proper public management of our new and exciting frontier in oceanography, I will enthusiastically support the establishment of the Washington State Oceanographic Commission." I commend the legislature for its enactment of Senate Bill No. 49 and believe that the Commission which it has established will play a vital role in the future of the State of Washington.

In Section 2, the bill provides that members of the Commission shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for necessary travel and other expenses incurred in the performance of their duties as commission members "on the same basis as provided by law for state officials and employees under RCW 44.04.120." The statute cited in the bill does not refer to travel and other expenses incurred by state officials or employees, but rather, refers to expenses incurred by members of the legislature while serving on interim committees. State officials and employees are reimbursed for travel and other expenses under RCW 43.03.050 and .060 at the rate of $.08 a mile and $15.00 a day while inside the state and $25.00 a day while outside the state. I believe the legislature intended that those who are serving on a temporary basis while permanently engaged in other employment be reimbursed at the higher rate provided by RCW 44.04.120 of $25.00 a day and $1.0 a mile.

To allow the language to remain as it exists in this bill would invite challenge by the Auditor of payment of proper expenses of members of the Commission. In order to avoid any question with regard to this matter, I have vetoed the words "by law for state officials and employees" from Section 2. The remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS,
Governor.

On motion of Senator Greive, Senate Bill No. 49 together with the Governor's veto message was referred to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules.

HOUSE AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILL

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., March 7, 1967.

Mr. President:

The House has passed:

Substitute Senate Bill No. 46 with the following amendments:

On page 3, section 2, line 29, after "duration as" and before "to be" insert "is, or is likely to be,"

On page 3, section 2, line 29, after "human" and before ", plant" insert "health"

On page 3, section 2, line 30, after "life or" and before "property" strike "to"

On page 25, section 31, line 16, after subparagraph (a) insert a new subparagraph as follows:

"(b) If the application for variance shows that there is no automobile fragmentizer in the state within a reasonable distance of the wrecking yard for which the variance is sought, a variance will be granted for a period not to exceed five years for commercial burning of automobile hulks, subject to such conditions as the state board or governing body may impose as to climatic conditions and hours during which burning of such hulks may be carried out: Provided, However, That any variance granted hereunder shall be of no force and effect after January 1, 1972."

Reletter the remaining subparagraphs accordingly.

On page 25, section 31, line 29, after "(a)" strike "and (b)" and insert ", (b) and (c)", and the same is herewith transmitted.

Malcolm McBeath, Chief Clerk.

It was moved by Senator Greive that the Senate do concur in the House amendments to Substitute Senate Bill No. 46 except the amendment on page 25, section 31, line 16.

Debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Freise:

"If this should pass, is it still possible to move that the amendment on page 25, section 31 thereafter be concurred in, also?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President believes that the motion should be made at this time, Senator."

Senator Freise:

"We are only voting right now on a portion of the amendments, isn't that correct?"

The President:

"You are voting on the entire measure, Senator."

MOTION

Senator Freise:

"I move at this time that the motion by Senator Greive be amended to concur in all of the amendments that the House has placed on the measure."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"We had concluded debate and were in the middle of a vote when Senator Freise arose to inquire on a point of parliamentary procedure. While standing doing that, he then makes the motion in the middle of a vote. I suggest that that is improper procedure."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"As I understand Senator Greive's motion, we concur in certain amendments and he spelled out the number of amendments in which we were concurring. This would not foreclose a further motion to approve the rest of the amendments."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"If the Senate acts favorably upon the motion by Senator Greive which was that the Senate concur in the House amendments to Senate Bill No. 46 with the exception of the amendment on page 25, section 31, line 16, then it would take a motion to reconsider in order to concur in the other amendments, Senator. Another motion could be made then to concur in the other amendment. You would have to first reconsider the vote by which the Senate concurred."

Senator Rasmussen:

"That doesn't sound just exactly right to me. Senator Greive's motion was that we concur in the House amendments with this one exception, but he hasn't said that we do not concur in this one and ask for a conference thereon or anything."

The President:

"That would be the effect of it, Senator."

Senator Uhlman demanded that the question be divided.

On motion of Senator Greive, the Senate concurred in the House amendments to Substitute Senate Bill No. 46 to page 3 and the amendment to page 25, section 31, line 29.

It was moved by Senator Freise that the Senate do concur in the House amendment on page 25, section 31, line 16.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich:

"Mr. President, would Senator Greive yield to a question:

"Senator Greive, I am not as well acquainted with this bill as I could be, but I have been told that there is a certain period of time now, a certain waiting period or compliance period for someone who causes nuisances of this sort to have a chance to abate and that time is two years, is that correct?"

Senator Greive:

"Not exactly. The way the program works is this: Of course there will be a period of time until they put them into effect. I suppose a minimum of ninety days and then it is going to take several months before it goes into effect and they get things organized and I think it is generally estimated it will take six to eight months after that time. It may take a year or two years in some cases. After you once get a particular governmental unit in operation, then there is provision to make application on the two year basis. You show your hardship and show the reason why you can't comply. Then they may grant you permission with somebody there to burn so many cars per day or during certain hours and they may do this from day to day or year to year until such time as you can take care of the situation or they finally get fed up and tell you you can't do anything."

Debate ensued.

Senators McCutcheon, Atwood and Greive demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Senator Greive demanded a roll call call and the demand was sustained by Senators Bailey, Uhlman, McCutcheon, Foley, Williams, Peterson (Ted), Redmon and Donohue.

The President stated the motion before the Senate was the positive motion by Senator Williams that the Senate do concur in the House amendment to page 25, section 31, line 16 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 46.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll. The motion was lost and the Senate refused to concur in the amendment to page 25, section 31, line 16 by the following vote: Yeas, 18; nays, 25; absent or not voting, 5; excused, 1.

Those voting yea were: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Foley, Freise, Hallauer, Herrmann, Keefe, Kupka, Lewis, Metcalf, Neill, Redmon, Ryder, Sandison, Talley, Twigg, Woodall—18.

Those voting nay were: Senators Andersen, Cooney, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Faulk, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Hanna, Knoblauch, McCormack, McCutcheon, McMillan, Mardesich, Marquardt, Morgan, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Ridder, Stender, Uhlman, Washington, Williams—25.

Reverend Walter A. MacArthur, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"This is a day which Thou hast made, O God, and we rejoice and are glad in it. These are moments of great joy for us, as we come to the closing day of this regular 1967 session. We pause to thank Thee for the awareness we have had of Thy presence time and again throughout these long days of deliberation.

"Continue to walk and work with us this day, keep us from cowardly fear or unjustified suspicion, stretch our understanding so that we will not fall as victims of littleness or pettiness, stay us, if in haste or under heavy pressure, we are tempted to legislate the expedient rather than the just and right. Do with us, and in us, what we cannot do for ourselves.

"From the diversities of opinion and position because of an aisle, gather up the great and common goods of our minds and hearts and help us fashion the pattern for living in this state of Washington, that closest parallels Thy will and way for us, we pray in Thy Holy Name. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman:

"Mr. President, would Senator Freise yield to a question?"

Senator Freise:

"I yield."

Senator Uhlman:

"Senator Freise, is it your intent and opinion that this amendment will not preclude the renewal of these provisional temporary licenses in the future?"

Senator Freise:

"Senator Uhlman, and members of the Senate:

"I am really not an expert in this particular field, but I have discussed the effect of the House amendment with Dr. William Conte, the director of the Department of Institutions, who is probably the most concerned. The House amendment does more or less turn the language around, but Dr. Conte said that they could live with it and he feels that in the two years that is provided, these people can prove themselves so that they can renew their permits. It is not necessarily the intent that they forever be barred. I hope it will work out that we can try it for a two year period and next session, if it isn't satisfactory, we could revise it. The Department of Institutions is going to work with the State Medical Association. They are going to keep an eye on it. I know the problem that we have over at the penitentiary in Walla Walla to hire competent medical workers. The local doctors are overworked as it is and most of them don't want to go to the penitentiary and I think in two years we can work it out with the Medical Association."

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the Senate concurred in the House amendment to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 121.

Any person having a claim against the contractor for any of the items referred to in this section may bring suit upon such bond in the superior court of the county in which the work is done or of any county in which jurisdiction of the contractor may be had. Action upon such bond shall be commenced by serving and filing of the complaint within one year from the date of expiration of the certificate of registration in force at the time the work was completed. A copy of the complaint shall be served by registered or certified mail upon the director of licenses at the time suit is started and the director shall maintain a record, available for public inspection, of all suits so commenced. Such service shall constitute service on the surety and the director shall transmit the complaint or a copy thereof to the surety within forty-eight hours after it shall have been received. The surety upon the bond shall not be liable in an aggregate amount in excess of the amount named in the bond, but in case claims pending at any one time exceed the amount of the bond, claims shall be satisfied from the bond in the following order:

In lieu of the surety bond required by this section the contractor may file with the director a cash deposit or other negotiable security acceptable to the director.

In the event of a judgment being entered against such deposit, the director of licenses shall upon receipt of a certified copy of a final judgment, pay from the amount of the deposit said judgment.

REPORT OF FREE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Olympia, Wash., March 9, 1967.

Mr. President:

Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Free Conference Committee, to whom was referred Engrossed House Bill No. 497, amending the 1966 corporation code, have had the same under consideration, and we recommend that the Senate Judiciary Committee amendment to page 9 of the engrossed bill be stricken and that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 9, section 7, line 23, after "title." insert the following new sections:

"Sec. 8. Section 6, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.08.030 are each amended to read as follows:

A corporation shall have the right to purchase, take, receive or otherwise acquire, hold, own, pledge, transfer or otherwise dispose of its own shares, but purchases of its own shares, whether direct or indirect, shall be made only to the extent of unreserved and unrestricted earned surplus available therefor, and, if the articles of incorporation so permit or with the affirmative vote of the holders of at least [two-thirds] a majority of all shares entitled to vote thereon, to the extent of unreserved and unrestricted capital surplus available therefor [.] : Provided, That a Regulated Investment Company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, or any similar federal statute, shall have the right to purchase its own shares out of unreserved and unrestricted capital surplus whether or not the articles of incorporation so provide and without prior shareholder approval.

To the extent that earned surplus or capital surplus is used as the measure of the corporation's right to purchase its own shares, such surplus shall be restricted so long as such shares are held as treasury shares, and upon the disposition or cancellation of any such shares the restriction shall be removed pro tanto.

Notwithstanding the foregoing limitation, a corporation may purchase or otherwise acquire its own shares for the purpose of:

- (1) Eliminating fractional shares.
- (2) Collecting or compromising indebtedness to the corporation.
- (3) Paying dissenting shareholders entitled to payment for their shares under the provisions of this title.
- (4) Effecting, subject to the other provisions of this title, the retirement of its redeemable shares by redemption or by purchase at not to exceed the redemption price.

No purchase of or payment for its own shares shall be made at a time when the corporation is insolvent or when such purchase or payment would make it insolvent.

Sec. 9. Section 46, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.08.430 are each amended to read as follows:

The board of directors of a corporation may, from time to time, distribute to its shareholders out of capital surplus of the corporation a portion of its assets, in cash or property, subject to the following provisions:

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Morgan:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I would like to have my remarks in the Journal so if I need personal privilege, I'll use it."

The President:

"Your comments will be recorded in the Journal, Senator Morgan."

Senator Morgan:

"This session is my ninth year in the legislature. I have been committee chairman for the Institutions Committee many years, and before that I served once as vice chairman in the House.

"This year our committee was handed over thirty bills, most of which were executive request bills. Most of our committee had not had the privilege of serving on the subcommittee for institutions under the Legislative Council. Consequently, we came to Olympia to the legislature hoping to have time enough to study the bills. We were handed bills right off the bat—some of them twelve pages long, some fifteen pages long, and some which needed much discussion and some which did not agree with the chairman's thinking and many of the other members. So how do we handle these things? We handle them in due time. We handled them through committee meetings. We handled them through hearings. We did not have time enough for this. I am speaking for annual sessions because of this matter. Among my bills were appointments—three appointments for very important positions in this state to the parole board and one for director of institutions. There was much thought given and material distributed as to the necessary requirements of these gentlemen. When we were due to have this meeting, we also had the cross sound hearing at the same time because this assembly had run overtime. We had a Medicine, Dentistry and Drugs meeting which was running overtime downstairs. I am a member of both of these committees.

"Finally when we met it was dusk and we had two senators besides myself. As one would go, one would come. There was also a Rules meeting at that time, too, so it was absolutely impossible to give full time and justice to the men who were appointed by the Governor.

"Now one of these gentleman has 25,000 souls under his department, to say nothing of employees. It might have been interesting if we could have considered a new division, something like, say a correction division, a mental retardation division and a mental health division. Oh, no. We've got to hurry. We've got to hurry because we only have sixty days so we passed it out today. There's no time to adequately have hearings. There's no time to adequately and efficiently carry on committee meetings.

"Just yesterday I received a request from a very respected member of my committee who had a letter from some businessman from clear across the state wanting to know why such and such a bill was in our committee so long, so I said to this respected member, Senator Canfield, 'Let's look it up.'

"So we looked it up and we found that this Senate bill had been in the House, if you please, not in the Senate, until last week. We had it a week. We had no time to consider it. But still we are 'the most inefficient committee in the legislature.' One week with us and two months with the House. We had no time for a meeting or hearing. There is no time.

"I served with Governor Evans who was Representative Evans in the 1959 session in the House. I worked all night long as did Governor Evans or Representative Evans and many of the other people in this body on the cross sound bridge, and when it was defeated over here, we worked for hours, reconstructing another bill. Now that happened to concern the destiny of my area and there are many people who have sent me here to represent them and you tear down the word, represent, it's re-pre-sent. It means: re-pre-sent their needs. 24,500 people sent me down here to re-pre-sent their needs, one of which is transportation, whether or not to take away our sole transportation. We have one of the largest naval bases and defense areas in this country. Now that was our problem in 1959 and it went down. There was no more time. This year we have it again. It's going to roll over here next week and there is no time, so we'll probably vote. What do we care if we block off a naval base? There's no time in sixty days.

"I am again faced with the destiny of my area and very likely I'll have maybe an hour or two in our Highways meeting and maybe half a minute on the floor. When I spoke to a gentleman from the House the other evening about this—and excuse me if I use these words, but I'm going to use them on this floor right now—he said, 'Goddamnit, Frances, why don't you grow up?' He says, 'You're going to have bridges. Your ferries are going to have to go away and you better grow up.'

"Now this is true. I received this right here on my floor in my Senate room from a chairman in the House and it's the first chance I had had to speak to him about it. Pretty rough? This isn't the Ladies' Aid, I want to remind you!

"Now I'm going to say that there isn't time enough for Governor Evans' office to operate efficiently either, because I had an interview with this gentleman this morning and many good people and organizations spent over forty dollars last week and sent telegrams down here asking: 'Dear Governor Evans, will you please reconsider our Olympic Center before it is sold off? We do want retarded children and that was our intent and that was the intent of the legislature two years ago to help. Please, Governor Evans, will you meet with us?'

"And who were they? They were the bar, they were the medical association, they were the chamber of commerce, they were the chairman of the Republican Party, Joe Mentor, a young Republican who gives parties for the Governor. Why am I telling you this? Because it relates to what we are voting on this minute. There is no time. So Governor Evans has not met with these people and it's over a week ago and these people are calling and asking, 'Will he talk with us?'"

"Well, I came back to the man who works for the Republican Caucus and Republican Guard and a very respected man, who took them to Mr. James Dolliver's office. Where it is, I don't know, but our Governor did not see it, so there is not time for the Governor because everything we do is related to the Governor's office, and there is no time. This may not be important to you, but believe me, it's terribly important to my people at home. We have several things at stake. We have transportation. We need highways. Are we getting our just dues on gasoline tax money? Yes, but we can't have a highway. We have seventeen miles of the same old narrow road out to Bremer-ton and Silverdale that we have had for sixty years and there are ammunition trucks going over it now.

"Pressures, pressures that come because of the sixty day session, and this one takes the cake! I'm talking on a subject, why we need annual sessions. I may never talk from this floor again. A lot of you may not, also. I'm saying that we need annual sessions to prevent the type of pressures and arm twisting and techniques and telephone calls which my office has had and which I have had and which my clerk has been subjected to. I hope it doesn't happen to another woman should she happen to be elected to the Washington State Senate.

"This is my ninth year, gentlemen, and I want to go on record for annual sessions. If this is to be the pattern in the future, and if it is to pick up more and more and more momentum, the thing to do is get in the act. If you've got a bill, pass it out. Pass it out. I've had it from some of the younger people and some of these newer members, and some of the older ones. I like them personally, but this has been their technique. But from the older ones, a little more seasoned, who would make good chairmen themselves, they realize that it takes a little time. They realize that we are not all members of the bar and that we do represent our peoples' needs. You may not realize it, but every one of you to me represents certain areas that you come from. Just as with Senator Marshall Neill, I think of Colfax. Senator McMillan, I think of Colville and his special needs. Every member in this session has special needs which have to be represented in sixty days, and look at the pile of bills!

"I'm going to use a woman's expression. I'm going to say this is a legislature of hodgepodge, and that's what this session is, and I am thoroughly and completely dis-gusted and concerned for the future.

"This next session you may not have a woman in here because I will be nicely smeared by then. The technique has started: 'Why didn't she get her bills out?'"

"Well, gentlemen, over thirty bills have gone from my committee and some I am ashamed to say I am really concerned about and some of the appointments I am going to say that I didn't put my name on one because I wanted to watch that appointment.

"It's imperative that we have annual sessions and as the Highway Chairman said in the House, and I won't use the profanity: It's time we grew up and faced reality and have annual sessions, and I do not think the Governor, I know that amendment's all over with, but I do not think any Governor, whether Democrat or Republican or heretic should say what we are going to study or what we are going to do right here on this floor. It's according to the needs of our state. Two years ago we were nicely shaken up about this time. We really got shaken up. The dome went up and came down again and everybody scooted for home. I think we should be shaken up again and realize that this thing we experience here is somewhat of a maze, but I would like to use the word 'merging' of problems and bills and areas and different individuals who try sincerely to represent their people.

"I'll close now and I hope my remarks are in the record and I hope they will be and I will say that if you don't wake up, you're going to have a mighty sorry state and it will be a state of hodgepodge.

"Thank you."

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 505, as amended by the House, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Freise that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which the Senate refused to concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 67.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Freise, the President is advised that the bill is no longer with the Senate, that it is in the House, that the House requested a conference, the Senate granted the conference, and the conferees have been appointed and confirmed."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Rasmussen:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"I forget the number of the bill that we acted upon a few minutes ago, but I'm looking at the joint rules on conference committee reports and so forth and rule 4 states that in every case of a difference between the two houses, upon any subject of legislation, the house refusing to recede shall request a conference and appoint a committee for that purpose and the other house shall grant the request for a conference and appoint a like committee."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Now, parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"We by motion of Senator Woodall just refused to grant a conference when the other house asked for it and his motion was to adhere, and it would seem to me, Mr. President, that we are breaking down the relations between the houses."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"That matter is no longer before the body. This matter was not raised at the time the motion was put and the message sent. Now Senator Rasmussen didn't raise it at the time and he shouldn't take up a lot of time right now. We should proceed in order."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, speaking to the point of order:

"I was not stating a point of order. It was a parliamentary inquiry leading up to the main question that I was going to ask you. Now the question relates to the fact that House Bill No. 477 which was amended and sent to the House and was in the process of going back and forth between the houses was referred to a committee in the House and no action was taken on it, and what would you suggest that we do to get action on that bill?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Rasmussen, the President believes that Reed's rule 253 covers the situation:

"If, however, either House desires to notify the other that its determination is fixed to make or reject the proposed amendment, even if it causes the loss of the bill, a motion to adhere is the proper motion. After both houses have adopted the motion to adhere, the bill is lost."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"That covers that particular question, Mr. President. My further parliamentary inquiry is: How do we get action on a bill that is in transition between the two houses and they refer it to committee?"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"There is nothing before this body to consider. You do not ask the President of this body to pass an opinion on what the other House did or did not do. It is wholly improper and we should proceed with the business at hand and not engage in semantics as to what somebody's opinion might be of what the other house is doing."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, speaking to that point of order that Senator Woodall has raised, I think it is the privilege of any member to raise a parliamentary inquiry and get some of the vast fund of information that the President has at his fingertips."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Rasmussen, Senator Woodall's remarks are well taken. Yours are well taken to the extent that you can raise a parliamentary inquiry at any time, but the President and the members of the Senate should really not question the actions of the other house."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Then you have no suggestions, Mr. President as to some manner in which we could proceed to get action?"

The President:

"I never try to tell the other house their business, Senator Rasmussen."

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

Department of State, Office of the Secretary,
Olympia, Washington, March 10, 1967.

To the Honorable, The President of the Senate,
The Legislature of the State of Washington,
Olympia, Washington.

Mr. President:

I, A. Ludlow Kramer, Secretary of State of the state of Washington and custodian of the Seal of said State, do hereby certify that: I have carefully compared the annexed copy of a proclamation by the Governor calling an extraordinary session of the Legislature to convene on the 10th day of March, 1967, with the original copy of said proclamation now on file in this office, and find the same to be a full, true and correct copy of said original, and the whole thereof, together with all official endorsements thereon.

In Testimony Whereof, I have set my hand and affixed hereto the seal of the state of Washington. Done at the Capitol at Olympia on this the date of March 10, 1967.

A. Ludlow Kramer,
Secretary of State.

Seal of the State of Washington

State of Washington, Office of the Governor,
Olympia, March 9, 1967.

To The Honorable, The Senate of the State of Washington

Lady and Gentlemen:

I have the honor to advise that Governor Evans has executed and filed in the Office of the Secretary of State the attached proclamation convening an Extraordinary Session of the Legislature at 9 o'clock a.m., Friday, March 10, 1967.

Yours very truly,
Raymond W. Haman,
Legal Counsel to the Governor.

State of Washington, Office of the Governor.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR:

The 1967 Session of the Washington State Legislature has considered a record volume of proposed legislation during its regular sixty-day session, and is to be commended for enacting more significant measures than any legislature in recent history.

However, the Legislature has failed to enact appropriation and revenue measures and other measures of vital interest to the people of this state, including the following:

Tax Reform. The people should have the opportunity to choose a tax structure which is more responsive to the expanding needs of this state and more equitable in its impact upon its citizens. The proceeds of any revised tax structure should be made available to relieve the heavy reliance upon annual special levies for school support.

Highway Safety. The legislature must protect innocent persons from the fatal consequences of the drinking driver; and must bring our highway safety laws into compliance with federal requirements to assure that this state will obtain its full share of federal funds for highway construction. Also the State Patrol needs 200 more troopers to help keep our highways safe.

Transportation. A Department of Transportation will make it possible to properly coordinate the agencies of state government involved with the movement of people and goods on land, in the air, and over water. And the Legislature should provide a transportation system of bridges, roads and ferries for Puget Sound.

Human Needs. The state urgently needs a program of mental health and mental retardation services and a program for comprehensive community health centers. The outdated facilities for the mentally ill and mentally retarded should be rebuilt now, rather than incurring the delay inherent in financing construction of these facilities through another state-wide bond issue.

Unemployment Compensation laws should be modernized to give workers a realistic level of benefits and to provide a more equitable system of allocating the costs of the program among employers. Public Assistance grants should be based on current living costs. Injured workmen deserve legislation to speed the processing of industrial insurance appeals.

Preserving Natural Resources. The natural beauty of this state both within and outside urban areas should be preserved and recreational facilities developed. The legislature should propose a constitutional amendment and pass enabling legislation to permit assessment of certain undeveloped property for tax purposes on the basis of present use. A bond issue should be authorized to finance acquisition and development of recreation sites. A system of scenic highways should be authorized.

Assisting Local Government. Local government should be given additional taxing authority; and additional state funds should be appropriated during the ensuing biennium to help cities cope with their immediate problems.

Constitutional Reform. The Legislature should permit the people to call a constitutional convention and permit the Legislature to propose comprehensive revisions of the constitution as a single amendment. Moreover, the constitution should permit a majority of the people voting on the issue to call a constitutional convention. A Constitutional Revision Commission should be created to review the constitution and make recommendations for its modernization.

Improvement of Government. The remaining "fee justice courts" should be abolished. The administration of the tax laws would be improved under a Department of Revenue; and taxpayers would have a speedy, inexpensive and independent review of administrative decisions in the field of taxation under a separate Board of Tax Appeals. The overcrowded general election ballots would be relieved by holding a state general election every year. Effective control of air and water pollution can be achieved best by coordinating these functions under the Environmental Quality Commission. The state should have an improved system for handling the payroll of its employees. The Governor should be authorized to accept federal funds when new programs are developed between sessions of the Legislature. Finally, the Legislature should address itself to the need for laws regulating campaign contributions and strengthening the code of ethics applicable to legislators and other public officials.

As a result of these conditions, an emergency exists constituting an extraordinary occasion within the meaning of Article III, Section 7, of the Constitution of the State of Washington:

Now, Therefore, I, Daniel J. Evans, Governor of the State of Washington, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution, do hereby convene the Legislature of the State of Washington in Extraordinary Session in the Capitol at Olympia on the tenth day of March, A.D. 1967, at the hour of nine o'clock a.m.; and

I Do Hereby Specify, in accordance with the requirements of the Constitution that the purposes for which the Legislature is convened are:

To appropriate sufficient funds, and raise sufficient revenues, to carry on the necessary functions and services of state government; and

To consider the enactment of the several other measures specified above for the benefit of the people of the State of Washington.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Washington to be affixed at Olympia, this 9th day of March, A.D., Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-seven.

DANIEL J. EVANS,
Governor of Washington.

By The Governor:
A. Ludlow Kramer, Secretary of State.

With leave of the Senate, business was suspended to permit the Senate Pages to present a certificate of appreciation to the President of the Senate, the Secretary of the Senate and the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate.

With leave of the Senate, business was suspended to permit the Secretary to read the following message:

BILL ROOM MEMORIAL

Fortieth Regular Session of the
State of Washington

By All the Members of the Legislative Bill Room

To The Honorable Herbert H. Freise, Senator of the Great State of Washington:

We, Your Memorialists, members of the Legislative Bill Room during the Fortieth Regular Legislative Session of the State of Washington, respectfully offer the following memorial:

Whereas, The Fortieth Regular Legislative Session of the State of Washington has been a long and unusual one; and

Whereas, The Honorable Herbert H. Freise, Washington State Senator, at the beginning of the session, approached members of the Legislative Bill Room and offered them help in the form of High School Juniors and Seniors from the Walla Walla district; and

Whereas, These young men arrived in teams of two to twelve strong almost every week of the Regular Legislative Session; and

Whereas, These young men worked, unsung and without pay, during the longest and hardest hours of the Fortieth Legislative Session; and

Whereas, Without Senator Freise's additional help, it would have been practically impossible for the Legislative Bill Room to keep up with the work being done by the members of the Senate; and

Whereas, Both the Legislative Bill Room and the members of the Senate of the State of Washington ultimately benefited from the work which was done by Senator Freise's young men,

Now, Therefore, Your Memorialists, members of the Legislative Bill Room, respectfully wish to thank the Honorable Senator Herbert H. Freise and his groups of willing and capable young men.

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

FIRST EXTRAORDINARY SESSION
OF THE
FORTIETH LEGISLATURE

FIRST DAY

MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber,

The Senate was called to order at 9:00 a.m. by President Cherberg.

Reverend Walter A. MacArthur, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Well, here we are again, Eternal God, in the midst of work undone, business unfinished, in the need of prayer and divine help in this special session.

"We thank Thee that Thou hast made us able to toil until we pass the breaking point and yet not break. We thank Thee that Thou hast made us such that we cannot be satisfied with the mediocre, the inequitable, the unjust. We thank Thee for the skills which Thou hast put into the minds of each one of us, for the visions and ideals implanted in our souls.

"Enable us to look beyond the fences of profession, or trade, or education, or color of skin, to the common needs, interests and concerns of all. Do not let a multitude of little irritations spoil our usefulness to each other or to Thee. Set us free from the shackles of envy, or partisan politics, or resentment, or bitterness, but inspire us to fashion a society where each may realize his highest and holiest best. Amen."

The Secretary read:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Joint Interim Committee on Facilities and Operations concern itself with the improvement of the loudspeaker system of the chamber by installation of high fidelity electronic equipment designed with sufficient range of highs and lows to enable the spoken word to be heard with equal facility on the floor and in the galleries implemented by such modification or alteration of the chamber, itself, as necessary to produce acoustically rich, true and accurate sound.

SENATE RESOLUTION
1967 EX - 5

By Senators Gissberg, Kupka, Keefe and Mardesich:

Whereas, Press reports have brought to public attention a most alarming condition at the Northern State Hospital, Sedro Woolley, averring a deplorable lack of control and supervision over patient activities on and off the hospital premises, resulting in immoral, illicit and perverse relationships between patients; and

Whereas, The same reports allege an apparent indifference on the part of hospital officials and staff as to the incidence of sexual aberration and license, together with a tendency to view such aberration and license as an unavoidable by-product of modern techniques of restraint-free treatment of the mentally ill; and

Whereas, The problem seems increased by the alleged fact that, among other patients, so-called prisoner patients, i.e. convicted felons, are under treatment at the hospital and enjoy with the other patients the same freedom from activity restraints; and

Whereas, The public interest requires an immediate and effective official concern with the facts of the matter and with such steps as may be required by way of remedy; and

Whereas, To date, the head of the department of institutions has expressed no positive position as to the grossly shocking revelations of the aforesaid reports which, if true, present an emergency of paramount public import;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate that the Legislative Council be requested to undertake an investigation of the alleged conditions as to lack of supervision and resultant immorality at Northern State Hospital in Sedro Woolley.

Be It Further Resolved, That the results of the investigation and the recommendations be presented to the next regular session of the legislature for its consideration.

It was moved by Senator Gissberg that the resolution be adopted.

On motion of Senator Ryder, the following amendment to the resolution was adopted:

On page 1, strike the following beginning on line 18 of the resolution:

"Whereas, To date, the head of the department of institutions has expressed no positive position as to the grossly shocking revelations of the aforesaid reports which, if true, present an emergency of paramount public import;"

John A. Cherberg, President of the Senate.

Ward Bowden, Secretary of the Senate.

FIFTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., Tuesday, March 14, 1967.

The Senate was called to order at 11:00 a.m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Williams and Woodall.

On motion of Senator Atwood, Senator Williams was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Martin Fuller, Color Bearer, and Heidi Johnson, presented the Colors.

Reverend Norman Ott, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"O Gracious God, in Whom we live and move and have our being, we thank Thee for the privilege of serving Thee as servants to our neighbor. Give us insights into the needs of our state, wisdom to devise their supply, courage to implement the procedures. Where we fail, forgive, O Lord; where we succeed, give us the grace of humility. Bless this assembly with Thy gracious presence; direct it with Thy divine wisdom. May we thus know the satisfaction that having done good to one of the least of these our brothers, we have done it unto Thee, to Whom be glory and praise, through Jesus Christ. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

The Secretary read:

SENATE RESOLUTION

1967 EX - 6

By Senator Washington:

Whereas, Mel Cox reached the heights of athletic excellence when he was named to the 1967 Little All-America Basketball squad; and

Whereas, Mel Cox, in his senior year, led the Coulee City basketball team to the State Class "B" Tournament and was named all-State center; and

Whereas, Mel Cox holds every individual scoring record for game, season and career at Central Washington State College, including the record for most points scored in a single game—43; the record for the most points in a season—610; and the record for the most points scored in a career—2,047; and

Whereas, Mel Cox is the first Evergreen Conference basketball player to lead the conference in scoring three years in a row; and

Whereas, Mel Cox has been named First Team All-Evergreen Conference for the past three years; and

Whereas, Mel Cox has led Central Washington State College this year to its best season record in twenty years, and to a seventh place ranking in the Associated Press Basketball poll; and

Whereas, Mel Cox has led Central Washington State College to the NAIA National Basketball Tournament for the past three years; and

Whereas, Mel Cox received Honorable Mention All-America for both the 1964-65 and 1965-66 basketball seasons; and

Whereas, Mel Cox has become the first Central Washington State College basketball player to be named to the first team All-America squad, and one of the very few in the state to ever be so honored; and

Whereas, Mel Cox exemplifies the heights to which a young athlete can aspire through personal dedication and perseverance;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring, that Mel Cox be congratulated for being named All-America basketball player, and for bringing honor to the state of Washington, to Central Washington State College, and to his home town, Coulee City; and

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to Mel Cox, to the student body of Central Washington State College, and to the student body of Coulee City High School.

On motion of Senator Washington, the resolution was adopted.

The Secretary read:

SENATE RESOLUTION

1967 EX - 7

By Senators Washington, Uhlman and Guess:

Whereas, Recent arrests of college students for selling and possessing marijuana and LSD make it appear that the use of these substances is increasing on college and university campuses of the state of Washington; and

Whereas, Law enforcement although important cannot be counted on alone to stem the rise; and

Whereas, It seems possible that the colleges and universities might be able to become more effective in their efforts to reduce student use of these substances;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Temporary Advisory Council on Public Higher Education of the Washington State Legislature study and investigate possible means whereby colleges and universities themselves may be more effective in discouraging the use of these harmful substances.

On motion of Senator Washington, the resolution was adopted.

The Secretary read:

SENATE RESOLUTION

By Senators Rasmussen and Stender:

Whereas, The state of Washington and its citizens and residents are vitally affected by and interested in the costs of hospital care in the interests of providing the most competent and modern medical techniques and facilities available at the least possible expense in cases where the state is involved, to the state, and in cases where private citizens are involved, to such private individuals;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate, that the Legislative Council is requested to conduct a study of and compile statistics concerning the rising costs of hospital care in the state of Washington, including an analysis and evaluation of ways and means for controlling any inflationary tendencies or trends in the cost of hospital care, both to the state and to private individuals; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Legislative Council shall report its findings and recommendations on what types of regulation may be imposed in order to control rising costs of hospital care, to the forty-first legislature, and submit drafts of any proposed legislation necessary to carry its recommendations into effect. Such report shall be made on or before December 1, 1968.

It was moved by Senator Rasmussen that the resolution be adopted.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President, would Senator Rasmussen yield:

"Senator, wouldn't it be more proper to place this in the legislative budget committee than the legislative council? They are studying figures of this kind all the time and I think it would be much easier for them to do than the legislative council."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Senator Ryder, I would have no objection other than the legislative budget committee is primarily concerned with state budgets, not particularly with a subject of this sort. Now with the liaison between the legislative council and the legislative budget committee I am sure that the budget committee would be glad to be of any assistance on figures that the legislative council needed and work jointly with them, but it is primarily of a broader concern than with state government. That's why it's directed to the legislative council."

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the resolution was adopted.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"I rise to urge you to vote for the confirmation of Bob Timm as director of the Utilities and Transportation Commission. Bob Timm is very well known to most of us on both sides of the aisle. He has been very active in state government for fifteen or twenty years and has done a good job in every area of responsibility which he has held. He was a member of the House for about ten years and as a member of the House supported much legislation for the good of the people of the state in all of our areas. He was well respected on both sides of the aisle and was one of those representatives who might be called a legislator's representative, who did a good deal of advising and conferring with other legislators on various pieces of legislation before it came to the floor.

"Bob has been active in Olympia since Governor Evans was elected a couple of years ago and did a very creditable job in assisting him in getting the machinery of the state government rolling under his administration. I think there again he gained the respect of all of us on both sides of the aisle for the very fine job that he did and the fair and impartial treatment that we all received. I think that this is one of the real top appointments of the Governor and I feel that we can all with good clear conscience vote for his confirmation."

Senator Henry:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"I would like to add a few words to Senator Ryder's commendation of Bob Timm. I served with him in the House when he first came over from eastern Washington and in his present capacity I have had the opportunity to watch him in action and know that he is very knowledgeable and that he is a student of the job that he undertakes. I am convinced that he is an excellent appointment and I urge that he be confirmed."

Senator Kupka:

"Mr. President, lady and gentlemen of the Senate:

"I, too, want to concur in the remarks of both Senator Ryder and Senator Henry. I also have had the pleasure of serving with Bob Timm in the House. He has gained the highest regard from members on both sides of the aisle and is truly a fine public spirited servant. I am sure that he will be a credit to the state of Washington in his entire term on the Utilities and Transportation Commission."

The motion was carried.

APPOINTMENT OF ROBERT D. TIMM

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Canfield:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"It is a pleasure for me to rise and approve the recommendation of Governor Evans of Donald Moos to the position of director of the Department of Agriculture. I have known Don for several years in his service in the House of Representatives where he performed very creditably. Before that he was a leader in his own right in his farm community in eastern Washington. During his term as director of the Department of Agriculture, he has served well. He is an able man. He is a fine administrator; capable and dedicated, and we would do very well indeed to approve the Governor's recommendation for Donald Moos."

Senator McMillan:

"Mr. President, fellow Senators:

"I feel that as one of the vanishing tribe of farmers and cattlemen, I think there are about two of us left here in the Senate where we formerly had a farm bloc, but it has dissolved into thin mist, however, as a farmer and as a friend of Don Moos, having also known him for a number of years, I feel that I too must say a word and that I certainly approve this appointment. I know that Don is a good worker on his own holdings and an active farmer. He knows the problems of the agriculturalist, the cattlemen and the orchardists. I think he is an excellent prospect for this appointment."

Senator Donohue:

"Mr. President, lady and gentlemen of the Senate:

"As chairman of the Committee on Agriculture and Horticulture, I wish also to concur with the previous speakers. I have worked very closely with Don Moos. I have also served with him in the House. I feel that he is very well qualified to carry out the duties assigned to him and I hope that we will confirm him."

The motion was carried.

Absent or not voting: Senators Dore, Guess—2.

Excused: Senators Williams, Woodall—2.

Having received the approval of the Senate, the confirmation of Donald W. Moos to the position of director of the Department of Agriculture, was confirmed.

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., March 7, 1967.

H. Maurice Ahlquist, to the position of director of the Department of Conservation, appointed by the Governor June 1, 1965, for the term ending at the Governor's pleasure, succeeding Roy F. Mundy, reported by Committee on Natural Resources, Parks, Fisheries and Game Fish):

It was moved by Senator Greive that the rules be suspended and that the appointment of H. Maurice Ahlquist to the position of director of the Department of Conservation, be now confirmed.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Freise:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"Maurice Ahlquist had lived in Walla Walla for a couple of decades and during that time he was very active in farm work, farm bureau work, soil reclamation, water rights, and so forth; and in the five sessions he served in the Washington State Legislature, he was very active in water rights legislation and worked in the field of reclamation. He was a member of the Columbia River Compact Commission and is nationally known in this particular field.

"Under the new Governor when they were looking around for a director of conservation, there was no one else really that could match his ability in this particular field. Mr. Ahlquist has been a speaker at various national meetings and is recognized throughout the United States as one of the top men in this particular field. I suggest that we confirm him."

Senator Canfield:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"It is a privilege again to rise and speak in behalf of Maurice Ahlquist. I have known him also in his service in the House of Representatives and before that at his home in his farming work in the community near Walla Walla. He is a fine man. He was a fine legislator. He is a credit to the administration and he will do an excellent job in this new work."

APPOINTMENT OF H. MAURICE AHLQUIST

The Secretary called the roll and the appointment of H. Maurice Ahlquist to the position of director of the Department of Conservation was confirmed by the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 4; excused, 2.

Excused: Senators Williams, Woodall—2.

Having received the approval of the Senate, the appointment of H. Maurice Ahlquist to the position of director of the Department of Conservation was confirmed.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Gissberg:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"During the gubernatorial campaign in which Governor Evans defeated Governor Rosellini, I always felt it was very unfair for certain people engaged in that campaign to label Governor Rosellini's administration as filled with 'cronyism' because it was without foundation in fact. I felt as we have just confirmed the appointments of these fine people that they have all been good legislators and have demonstrated over the years that they have had the trust and confidence of the people that have sent them to Olympia. But there is a fine line between friends of the administration, which these people are that we have just confirmed, and cronyism. I do not subscribe to labeling them as cronies. But I simply felt that this should be pointed out that I suppose if somebody wanted to be political, that we could call these people, 'cronies.' I do not, and I am hopeful that in the future when we have these campaigns on state level that we can be factual, rather than emotional, in ascribing the term, 'cronies,' and, 'cronyism,' to the Democratic office seekers."

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President:

"I'd simply like to add that Senator McMillan spoke of the vanishing farm bloc. It looks like they are all vanishing into jobs for the administration. Every one of these gentlemen is, I understand, a farmer."

At the request of Senator Rasmussen, the Secretary read:

MESSAGE FROM THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Temple of Justice,
Olympia, Wash., February 16, 1967.

Honorable A. L. Rasmussen
State Senator, 28th District
Legislative Building
Olympia, Washington

Dear Senator Rasmussen:

We are writing in response to your letter dated February 1, 1967, wherein you requested an opinion of this office with regard to certain qualifications which must be met by persons applying for the real property tax exemption provided for by § 2, chapter 168, Laws of 1965, Ex. Sess.

We have delayed answering your letter until such time as we had finalized our thinking on the scope of subsection (7) of the section in question. We have now completed our work on this matter, and, consequently, enclose for your reference a copy of AGO 1967 No. 5.

You will note, as pointed out in the opinion, that the existing law requires (insofar as is material to your question):

(1) That the applicant, and his or her spouse, shall have been retired from all gainful employment for at least one year prior to application, and not be actively engaged in any type of business; and

(2) That the total income of the applicant, and his or her spouse, ". . . from all sources whatsoever, . . ." shall not be in excess of $3,000 for the calendar year immediately preceding the year in which the real property is assessed and the taxes levied thereon.

Quite obviously, these are both very stringent tests, as is pointed out in the opinion. Certain bills which are presently before the legislature would substantially liberalize these tests. The bills currently pending are noted in footnote 1 of the opinion.

However, on the basis of present law, we can see no other alternative but to conclude that any person who is gainfully employed, even on a sporadic or part-time basis, would be disqualified from receiving the tax exemption by virtue of subsection (6), even though his total income amounted to less than $3,000 per annum.

We trust that the foregoing will be of assistance to you.

Very truly yours,
JOHN J. O'CONNELL,
Attorney General,
(Signed) PHILIP H. AUSTIN,
Assistant Attorney General.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"I asked to have this read because this answers a number of questions that have been asked of me and I know of the rest of you Senators, and that is if I do baby-sitting one day a week or if I work on the election board or if I do any work whatever of any nature and receive a few dollars for it, even though I am only getting $1500 a year from my social security, am I barred from getting the $50.00 tax exemption on my property?"

"Under the Attorney General's opinion, the only answer we can give these people is, 'Yes, you are barred. Even if you only work one day a month, or just this one day on the election board, then you cannot file for the $50.00 tax exemption.'

"This is working a hardship on a lot of people who desire to be honest. There are a lot of people that have filed not knowing how stringent this provision is, and those that have asked people that are informed on it, they, of course, will not file because there is quite a severe penalty."

"We do have a bill in the Committee on Ways and Means, Senate Bill No. 114. It will take care of this matter and I think that the Committee on Ways and Means should expedite this bill in every way possible to clear this situation for those people that are living on very minimum incomes. I know it was the intention of the legislature at the time we passed the bill that the $3,000 income limitation—this is the poverty level, and it was our intention nobody should be barred that was receiving less than that. Here is a strange situation where by reason of working a very minimal amount of time and not receiving a great deal of money, you could not get the $50.00 tax exemption, though you could have in some instances other income from investments which would far exceed the amount you could make baby-sitting or working on the election board, and you wouldn't be barred from the $50.00 tax exemption as long as you were below the $3,000 level. I urge that we members of the Committee on Ways and Means work on the bill and bring it out of committee and clarify the law with these people who are living on very minimal amounts of money."

There being no objection, the Senate advanced to the eighth order of business.

SENATE RESOLUTION

1967 EX - 9

By Senator Freise:

Whereas, The Walla Walla Symphony Orchestra is now in its sixtieth consecutive season, having been incorporated in 1907 as one of seventeen in the United States at that time; and

Whereas, This is the oldest continuous symphony west of the Mississippi and the oldest operating in a city of twenty-five thousand or less population; and

Whereas, Its membership, under the direction of Mr. William H. Bailey, Professor of Music at Whitman College, consists of nonprofessional volunteers from all walks of life residing in the several communities of southeastern Washington and northeastern Oregon; and

Whereas, It has contributed players to community and professional orchestras throughout the northwest;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By The Senate Of The State Of Washington, In Extraordinary Session Of The Fortieth Legislature Assembled, That we do hereby congratulate the Walla Walla Symphony Orchestra on the occasion of its sixtieth anniversary celebration for an outstanding continuous and continuing contribution to the cultural life of this state and the other states of the northwest; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Senate to Mr. William H. Bailey, Conductor of said symphony orchestra; and to the Mayor and to each of the councilmen of the city of Walla Walla.

On motion of Senator Freise, the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION

By Senator McCormack:

Whereas, The Kelly Air Mail Act of 1925 marked the beginning of contract air mail service by providing for a series of north to south feeder lines connecting the Post Office Department's east to west route from New York to San Francisco; and

Whereas, Leon Cuddeback inaugurated scheduled contract air mail service for Varney Airlines on contract air mail Route No. 5, connecting the Pacific Northwest with the Southwest from Pasco, Washington to Elko, Nevada via Boise, Idaho in his ninety horsepower Swallow biplane at 6:23 antemeridian on the 6th day of April 1926; and

Whereas, It has been generally acknowledged by American air historians that Leon Cuddeback flew the first authentic scheduled contract air mail run; and

Whereas, Early contract air mail service was beset by a number of perils and limitations by reason of numerous forced landings and lack of navigational aids and equipment, and required the most daring spirit reminiscent of the pioneering spirit of the earliest settlers in the Americas and later of the settlers in the American West;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate that the President and Congress of the United States of America, and the United States Postmaster General, be respectfully urged to commemorate the inauguration of scheduled contract air mail service under the Kelly Air Mail Act of 1925 from Pasco, Washington to Elko, Nevada on the 6th day of April, 1926, by the issuance, in the year 1976, of a semicentennial or golden jubilee commemorative air mail stamp or series; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Honorable Lyndon B. Johnson, President of the United States of America, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to each member of Congress from the State of Washington, and to the United States Postmaster General.

On motion of Senator McCormack, the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION

1967 EX - 11

By Senators Greive and Atwood:

Whereas, The state of Washington is a vast and economically growing state, and commerce between its cities is becoming increasingly important; and

Whereas, Intrastate air commerce is on the verge of dramatic breakthroughs in techniques for transporting passengers and freight within this state; and

Whereas, Many states assume jurisdiction over intrastate air commerce and vest that jurisdiction in a regulatory agency of the state; and

Whereas, The state of Washington has not acted in pursuance of the police powers to provide for the health and safety of its citizens by vesting jurisdiction over intrastate air commerce in a regulatory agency of the state in order to provide safe and financially healthy intrastate air carrier systems;

Now Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate, that the Legislative Council is authorized and requested to undertake a study of the intrastate air commerce in the state of Washington and to recommend legislation for the control and regulation of this industry; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the results of the study and the recommendations be presented to the next regular session of the legislature for its consideration.

On motion of Senator Atwood, the resolution was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION

1967 EX - 12

By Senators Talley, Foley, Ryder and Gissberg:

Whereas, The staffing of each county assessor's office with an adequate number of properly trained appraisers is essential to the equality of the taxing process and is vital to the support of the state and local governments;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate, that the Legislative Council is requested to study 1967 Senate Bill No. 278 and the entire problem of providing assessor's offices with an adequate number of properly trained personnel, and to report its findings to the forty-first legislature.

On motion of Senator Talley, the resolution was adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stender:

"Mr. President, would Senator Herrmann yield to a question:

"Senator Herrmann, the increase from the ten to fifteen and the fifteen to thirty thousand dollars, what is the reason for this? Why is this necessary? Certainly it is going to raise the insurance costs to every consumer in the state. Why is this necessary?"

Senator Herrmann:

"The reason behind it, Senator, is that because of inflationary trends, cases that would have been amply covered at say $8,000 are now going to cost ten to twelve thousand or fourteen or fifteen thousand dollars and when you consider that many of these real bad accidents that we have on the highway, sometimes will run $20,000 for just one doctor bill or hospital bill. I think we had a case here last session where a party was injured during the session and the doctor bill and hospital bill alone was some $17,000. The purpose of the insurance is to repay and indemnify people who have suffered bodily injury and property damage and in order to keep up with inflationary trends, it was considered that $15,000 and $30,000 would be in line."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, would Senator Herrmann yield to a question:

"Does this require those people that are not carrying insurance to carry insurance? I have been receiving many letters on this and the argument they are using is that this is going to require people that are already carrying insurance to carry more insurance and they are not the ones that are having the accidents. Does this do anything to require people to carry insurance per se?"

Senator Herrmann:

"It would, in answer to your question, in a sense. Under the present law the uninsured motorist is entitled to one accident, but after that he must comply with financial responsibility and there is where it would be compulsory and it would be mandatory then that he carry $15,000 and $30,000 coverage, so it would affect the party who has had an accident. Now it does not have any compulsory insurance provision other than what exists under the present law."

Senator Rasmussen:

"This means then that if somebody runs into me and I have to be hospitalized and my hospital and doctor bill is over $30,000, I would be out $30,000 because he wasn't carrying insurance, instead of being out $20,000 as it is now, is that right?"

Senator Herrmann:

"That's correct."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Is this a good bill then?"

Senator Herrmann:

"I think it's definitely in the public interest, Senator, especially if you are involved with your entire family. I think injuries could well run over $20,000 and cases do every day."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Could I ask you, Senator Herrmann, how much consideration did your committee give to compulsory insurance, Senate Bill No. 353 or 290, that have been in your committee to these many days?"

Senator Herrmann:

"I would say that we gave considerable consideration to it, Senator. Even the reports we got from Saskatchewan and also Massachusetts were unfavorable. Massachusetts is the only state that has compulsory insurance and the feeling of the majority of the committee was that it would not be in the public interest to have compulsory insurance at this time. But it was discussed and studied."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield:

"Mr. President, would Senator Herrmann yield:

"Senator, under the increases proposed in this bill, what would be the estimated increase in insurance premium cost to the average insurance policyholder?"

Senator Herrmann:

"I would say it would not affect the average policyholder, Senator, too much because I think the cost of the additional coverage is very small compared to your initial coverage. For example, I carry $100,000 and $200,000 coverage and the cost of that additional coverage is very small. We are not operating on a constant rate, if ten thousand would cost fifty dollars, it would be seventy-five for fifteen. The additional coverage is much less."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President, point of order:

"Senator Rasmussen is not speaking on this particular bill at all. He is on a different bill altogether and I think he is out of order."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, speaking to the point of order, what bill are you considering?"

President Pro Tempore Henry:

"Senate Bill No. 152, Senator."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Well, Mr. President, I announced I was speaking in opposition to Senate Bill No. 152."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pro Tempore Henry:

"Senate Bill No. 152 merely raises the limits under the existing law, Senator. I would suggest you confine your remarks to whether or not they should be ten and twenty or fifteen and thirty thousand dollars."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Well, Mr. President, that's exactly what I was going to talk about, the increase in the automobile financial responsibility limits. I don't know how I could approach it any other way, but I will try to do so."

President Pro Tempore Henry:

"I admit your title was correct, Senator, but the song was a little bit off."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President, point of order:

"The Senator just refuses to abide by the ruling of the President. He is now talking about what Senator Herrmann did or didn't do in his committee. This has nothing to do with this bill."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

President Pro Tempore Henry:

"The point is well taken, Senator Woodall."

Senator Washington:

"Mr. President, it seems to me, supporting Senator Rasmussen's position, when we have a bill before the body, I think any member has the right to use whatever arguments he feels may assist in defeating this particular bill. I don't think we should establish a precedent of holding down and raising points of order when a person is speaking against the enactment of a bill. We may all disagree as to the reasons used, but I think each member is entitled to give those reasons to support his position, particularly in debate against the passage of a certain bill."

President Pro Tempore Henry:

"You may continue, Senator Rasmussen."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Thank you, Mr. President. Thank you, Senator Washington. I agree with you one hundred percent!"

Debate ensued.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4, by Senators Herrmann, Freise, Redmon, Connor, Peterson (Ted), Kupka, Lennart, Ridder, Herr, Peterson (Lowell), and Andersen:

Providing for joint interim committee on insurance.

It was moved by Senator Pritchard that the rules be suspended and that Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4 be returned to second reading for the purpose of amendment.

On motion of Senator Greive, the rules were suspended to permit debate on the motion.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pritchard:

"Mr. President, I would like to ask Senator Andersen to yield to a question:

"Senator, you were on this committee. I wonder what figures you have as to the money that was spent?"

Senator Andersen:

"Senator Redmon and I were on the committee and in connection with this bill when we saw it was asking for a higher appropriation, we thought we had better take a look and find out what it was. Senator Redmon asked the state auditor for a complete, up-to-date list of expenditures and I believe he got it as of about the first. It is entitled, 'Interim Committee on Insurance, 1965-1966 biennium, appropriated, $35,000; obligated, 1965-66, $24,644.88 and has a balance of $8,355.12.' Now we asked for an up-to-date expenditure and this is what we got from the state auditor. It is also possible that something was dropped some place or all of the figures aren't in, but all I know is that this is the figure the auditor gave to us, and that was twenty-four thousand and some dollars out of the $35,000 appropriation had been used. We specifically asked for a detailed expenditure list and we got a detailed expenditure list detailing the expenses, which I thought was quite reasonable and showed that the chairman had done a good, conservative job, but the figures we received totaled $24,644.88, which is a little more than ten thousand less than the appropriation."

Further debate ensued.

The motion was lost.

On motion of Senator Herrmann the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4 was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President, speaking on a point of personal privilege:

"Mr. President, I resent to a very great extent the implications that there has been personalities and politics injected into these insurance bills. If there has been politics in them, they have been injected by the other side of the aisle as much as they have been by this side of the aisle. Republicans in the Senate who were members of the Committee on Banks, Financial Institutions and Insurance, signed these bills out and supported them on the floor when they passed during the regular session. Now the House, in their judgment felt that they were not proper bills and that they should not have been passed. That was up to them. Now if politics entered into it, it entered into it from the Senate side as well as from the House side and so far as I know, there was at no time any personalities entering into it at all.

"Now many bills died in committee, both in the original committees and in the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules in both Houses, many of which were very meritorious bills. But we don't have any idea, I hope, and I don't think that we are going to dredge all of these bills up and pass them out onto the floor just because they weren't passed in the regular session by one House or the other. We all have some bills that died over in the House and I am sure that most of the members in the House had some bills that died here, and as a member of the Republican party, I resent the implications through the newspapers that we have not done our job on these bills or any other bills. We did it as we saw the right to do it, and I don't believe that we should be pushed into bringing out a package of bills on the insurance business or the banking business or any other kind of business because a newspaper decides that we should bring them out, and spreads editorials and headlines across the sheet that we are not doing our job.

"Now I am sure that in the House they did the job as they saw the right to do it. If they had felt that these bills were meritorious as we in the Senate felt they were, they would have been passed, and there were many bills that were passed in the House which we did not pass because we did not agree upon them, so I hope this does not open the flood gates now either from our own Rules Committee or from the Rules Committee in the House to pass out all bills that someone feels should be passed just because they happened to be from their particular legislative committee or the legislative council or the legislative budget committee and did not get proper consideration."

Senator Greive:

"May I say very shortly that we have no desire to accuse Senator Ryder or the Republicans of this body of anything. Anything that I said can very adequately be documented if the matter is pressed."

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

CONFIRMATION OF GUBERNATORIAL APPOINTMENTS

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., January 26, 1967.

Appointment of Sidney E. Smith, to the position of director of the Department of Public Assistance, appointed July 5, 1966, for the term ending at the Governor's pleasure, succeeding Leonard L. Hegland (reported by Committee on Labor and Social Security):

Recommends that said appointment be confirmed.

A. L. Rasmussen, Chairman.

We concur in this report: Robert C. Bailey, Frank Connor, Martin J. Durkan, Larry Faulk, Richard G. (Dick) Marquardt, Robert C. Ridder, John H. Stender.

It was moved by Senator Greive that the rules be suspended and that the appointment of Sidney E. Smith to the position of director of the Department of Public Assistance, be now confirmed.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"Mr. Smith appeared before the Committee on Labor and Social Security. The Committee was well pleased with his presentation. No person appeared to speak against him, and we think that he will do and is doing a competent job and will continue to do so. I urge you to vote for his confirmation."

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"I would like to join in the remarks of my colleague, Senator Rasmussen. As chairman of the Appropriations Committee, I have worked closely with Mr. Smith during the past few months. I have been tremendously impressed with him. He is a businessman and when you ask him a question, you get an answer. I think he has the grasp of the situation. He has an ambitious program to place the entire department on a business-like basis and as far as I am personally concerned, I would give him my highest accolade and commend the Governor on an excellent appointment. We are certainly happy that men like Mr. Smith accept the responsibility of state government and come down here to help us to do the job the people expect us to do."

Senator Morgan:

"Mr. President, gentlemen of the Senate:

"I concur in these remarks. I don't know when I have met a person who has a grasp of his department any better and in working with him as a Senator for my district and for children, I just can't say enough for Mr. Sidney Smith. I certainly hope we will confirm his appointment."

Senator Stender:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I'm so pleased to hear so many speak so well of Sid because Sid Smith has been a person I have come to know in years past. He resides not too far from where I live in south King county and is one of my constituents and I would like to add that I admire his courage and devotion to public service by leaving the job that he held in the Employment Security Department and going on to a job in Public Assistance which, to say the least or the most, always has become a subject of some considerable controversy, and anybody who assumes that position certainly has a real desire to do a job in public service in an area that I think all of us agree needs a good, strong administration. I think Mr. Smith is doing and will continue to do one of the most excellent jobs we have had from any director in the past."

Senator Williams:

"Mr. President:

"I think there is very little to add except I think it should be observed that there has been a great boost in morale among the employees in the Department of Public Assistance under Mr. Smith. I think he has an enthusiasm and drive to carry things forward and this has been quite contagious throughout the department, and I am sure it is going to be helpful in the coming years."

This plan is reviewed from time to time and I have found that in conferring over the plan with the department of Civil Defense under Mr. Link's guidance, we have had very good cooperation. I think that he brings an understanding and awareness to the job and I believe he will make an outstanding director."

Senator Canfield:

"Mr. President and lady and gentlemen of the Senate:

"I, too, wish to recommend the appointment of Colonel Link to the position. I have known him many, many years in connection with his work at the Yakima Firing Center. POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President, Senator Durkan:

"I have a series of questions which I would like to ask you, some of which do not bear directly on this bill, but which bear on the fiscal policy of the state at this session of the legislature, and I would like to have you answer them so that we may sort out just where we intend to go on our fiscal policy at this time and where it might take us at the end of this session.

"The first question is: What do you estimate the level of our surplus to be at the end of the 1965-67 biennium?"

Senator Durkan:

"Mr. President:

"Approximately $116 million."

Senator Ryder:

"Is this an estimate which is agreed to by the State Tax Commission?"

Senator Durkan:

"My answer would have to be no, Senator, at the present time. I don't think they agree to it, although in essence we will find out Friday whether or not they have readjusted their estimates."

Senator Ryder:

"You don't know what their estimate is at this moment?"

Senator Durkan:

"I think they were down somewhere between $95 million and $100 million."

Senator Ryder:

"I think that's correct, Senator. We took $100 million as the top.

"Senator, how much of this surplus, this estimated surplus, you say $116 million and I might say $100 million, do you intend to use to balance your present spending budget from the general fund the bill which the Democrats passed here and is now in conference?"

Senator Durkan:

"Senator, the question is not answerable by one statement, but I could probably answer it best this way and that is we have taken your figures of between $95 and $100 million and worked with them and we will, according to our estimates and the people who are advising us, be able to balance the budget as I stated previously, give all of the services that were indicated in the Senate budget along with the capital construction program as evidenced by us and we still will have a surplus which, if we desire, we can use for such things as contingency funds. That surplus will be between $7 and $10 million."

Senator Ryder:

"You say you would have $7 to $10 million after using the amount of money that you estimate would be needed to balance the budget?"

Senator Durkan:

"That's correct."

Senator Ryder:

"But what I'm getting at is how much of this money would then be needed to balance the budget?"

Senator Durkan:

"Senator, you'll notice that the only thing we have taken out which would change the Governor's proposal, the only thing we have taken out of the capital construction budget as far as surplus is concerned is approximately $30 million so this is principally where we differ with the Republican party and the Governor as to the extent of the surplus. Now we may differ again, Senator—we may differ as to the estimates of revenue and it is our opinion that based on the facts that we have—"

Senator Ryder:

"I have another question."

Senator Durkan:

"As soon as I'm finished, Senator, I'll be glad to answer. Based upon the facts that we have, that our estimates are low and that there will be additional moneys that can be used for much needed state services. Now, I'll be happy to answer your next question."

Senator Ryder:

"Well, then from the figures which you have just given us, you say $7 to $10 million will be left plus the $22 million which you do keep in Engrossed House Bill No. 207 as proposed by your committee amendment, as an expenditure from surplus, this is approximately, you say, thirty million so you would be using somewhere in the neighborhood of $70 million actually."

Senator Durkan:

"No, to answer you directly, Senator. We are using approximately $30 million other than what your budget proposes."

Senator Ryder:

"We can assume though $70 million however, is that correct? At least $70 million?"

Senator Durkan:

"Senator, the answer to your question is, no, you cannot assume it. The answer to your question is that we have differed from your budget by approximately $30 million and in addition to that we intend to use the railroad money, the windfall of House Bill No. 186. There was approximately $2 million reversion provided for in House Bill No. 186 that we didn't spend. There will be a reversion which the Governor and the Republican Party did not take into consideration, a second year reversion that was not used in building your budget, and we intend to use that in addition to using such moneys we feel were underestimated in your revenue estimates."

Senator Ryder:

"Senator, I'm still forced to use the $70 million and may have to add $16 million on it if your estimate of the surplus is correct, which would bring it up to somewhere over $80 million. Now in your budget, the Democratic budget as it was passed by the Senate, you had $25 million for the cities, is this correct?"

Senator Durkan:

"Yes, we agreed with you, Senator, on that $25 million, but in addition we felt that since you had appropriated it, we could put in the formula so it would be distributed—"

Senator Ryder:

"We have no quarrel. I was just establishing this point. Is this $25 million something that would have to be carried on in the 1969-71 budget, or do you intend to support a bill which would broaden the tax basis of the cities so that they may locally pick up this money?"

Senator Durkan:

"Mr. President, Senator:

"I'm not speaking for the Democratic Party on whether we want to broaden the tax basis or anything else, but in answer to you, the $25 million is the appropriation for the fiscal year of 1967-69. Now as to what will happen in 1969, we only would be guessing here: I can't tell you as to whether or not I am in favor of more local authority. All I can say is that your Governor has proposed some twenty-nine tax packages and in the event any of them should reach the Senate, I would be glad to consider them and give you every opportunity to present them in the Committee on Ways and Means."

Senator Ryder:

"Thank you, Senator. Now one last question: What is your estimate—how much, let's say, is your estimate of income for the 1967-69 biennium over the budget of the Governor?"

Senator Durkan:

"We estimate in the 1967-69 biennium between $25 and $30 million. Now these estimates are based upon the economists which the Governor had used and which will be available Friday morning to testify before the Conference Committee here in the legislative chambers."

Senator Ryder:

"Thank you very much, Senator. I think that's all the questions and I have all of the figures which I need right at the moment. That's all the questions, Senator."

Debate ensued:

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey:

"I have a question I would like to ask Senator Ryder, Mr. President:

"Senator Ryder, you say that the economists now say that we are in a state of decline as far as recession goes?"

Senator Ryder:

"No, I did not say that, Senator. I said that the national news now indicates that on a national basis we may possibly be entering a recession period and while I made it plain I believe that this certainly has not hit the state of Washington yet and we don't expect it to have the effect on the state of Washington that it has nationally, but it undoubtedly will have some effect."

Senator Bailey:

"Senator Ryder, during the last campaign, the Governor made quite a point of the fact that the national prosperity was the result of his administration in the state of Washington. Do you recall that? I wonder if he is going to take credit for the recession when it hits the state of Washington?"

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President, I'm sure the Governor is going to take credit for the fact that the recession will not be very deep in the state of Washington and he will be responsible for that."

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Greive, the rules were suspended and Senator Herr was excused.

PROTEST

We regard the Democrat plan implicit in House Bill No. 207 and Senate Bill Nos. 530, 531 and 532 as not unlike the use of family savings for food, clothing, and utilities during period of full regular employment. Under such a plan, when the savings are spent, the family's spending habits being established, new sources of money are needed to maintain the then established standard of living. Under the Democrat plan, we will establish a state spending level that will require $120 million in new taxes the next biennium, based on 1967-69 projections. We prefer to keep the state's spending within regular income, so as to keep income and outgo under control.

Accordingly, we opposed the removal of the capital items from House Bill No. 207 which would have been financed out of surplus and insertion of the capital items in Senate Bill Nos. 530, 531 and 532 to be funded by general obligation bonds, in order to free some thirty-one million dollars of savings—money in the bank, if you please—for increased spending for current operations during the 1967-69 biennium.

Our no votes on Senate Bill Nos. 530, 531 and 532 do not represent opposition to the projects themselves; rather, they represent opposition to the method of financing them—in view of the opportunity to pay for them out of surplus.

(Signed) Senators James A. Andersen, John N. Ryder, Sam C. Guess, R. Frank Atwood, Damon R. Canfield, Fred G. Redmon, Herbert H. Freise, Lawrence Faulk, Walter B. Williams, Robert W. Twigg, Richard G. Marquardt, Marshall A. Neill, Ted G. Peterson, Jack Metcalf, Harry A. Lewis, Joel Pritchard.

Senate Bill No. 545, by Senator Washington:

Authorizing issuance of highway construction bonds and establishing reserve funds for certain purposes.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Washington, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 545 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President, would Senator Washington yield:

"Senator Washington, I noticed you said something about handling things the way you do over in the Columbia Basin area? Did you say something about this?"

Senator Washington:

"Yes, I did."

Senator Woodall:

"You mean if we vote for this, we might have the rest of our roads in the same condition as the Columbia Basin area?"

Senator Washington:

"Senator, remember those roads in the Columbia Basin have all been paid back. The interest has been paid back by the counties and every penny that has been borrowed on bond issues, using the bonding capacity of the state, have been paid back with interest. There's not one penny in arrears and the gas tax allocation from each county is pledged. It isn't even paid to the county. The State Highway Department has the money and each period when the money is allocated, a portion is allocated to pay off the bonds. This provision would be the same way if any city or county borrows money under this $25 million and the terms of the bonds of course which were provided for repayment. The Highway Department will automatically repay the bonds for the city or county from gasoline tax funds and not even turn it over to the county."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

At 5:10 p.m., on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate adjourned until noon, Friday, March 17, 1967.

John A. Cherberg, President of the Senate.

Ward Bowden, Secretary of the Senate.

EIGHTH DAY

NOON SESSION

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., Friday, March 17, 1967.

The Senate was called to order at noon by President Pro Tempore Al Henry.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President Pro Tempore that all Senators were present except Senators Dore and Mardesich.

The Color Guard consisting of Pages Tex Strickland, Color Bearer, and Sally Weiss, presented the Colors.

Reverend Charles Howard Perry, pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Almighty God by whom the meek are guided in judgment and from whom light and truth come for those of a godly character, grant to the members of this Senate of the state of Washington such a sense of their responsibility to serve this people that they may in humility turn to Thee in quiet prayer and thoughtful meditation. Thou art never far from us, O God our Father; may we never stray too far from Thee, that He was a person before he became a tradition.

"On this day when we recall the life of St. Patrick may we not forget that there is still bigotry and slavery in our world, that men and women still need to be delivered from the snakes which crawl amongst us to corrupt both body and mind, and that service to one's fellowman is still the highest form of human labor and work. May we, following the example of Patrick, pray for our enemies and work for their conversion to a better view of life.

"In the press of our political judgments help us not to lose sight of the values and standards that make our political institutions possible and that give expression to the trust and confidence a free people show towards one another. Help us always to discern the fine line between political convictions and political expediency. May we serve our convictions and our constituents rather than our bellies or our own private interests.

"Help us, O God, to deal graciously with the power committed into our hands, and never be ashamed to behold our own face in a mirror nor afraid to look into the eyes of our friends nor to meet Thee face to face.

"All this we offer to Thee, our God and Father, in the name of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

SENATE RESOLUTION

1967 EX - 13

By Senator Uhlman:

Whereas, The federal government, through the Demonstration Cities and Metropolitan Development Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-754), offers an opportunity to selected cities of this nation to focus maximum resources in fighting the physical, social, health and economic problems of the poor and blighted portions of those cities; and

Whereas, This opportunity is extended not only to the largest of our cities, but to cities of all sizes, recognizing that these problems, although concentrated in our largest cities, can occur almost anywhere; and

Whereas, The federal law, recognizing that local governments do not have the resources to carry on these massive battles alone, would make supplemental grants to those cities designated as "Demonstration Cities", returning up to eighty percent of the local moneys, which match the federal programs to these cities, which would be used to create new, imaginative, and innovative programs in these same areas; and

Whereas, Several cities in the state of Washington have indicated a desire to participate in this program and are preparing applications to the federal government and are thus in competition with hundreds of cities from all over the United States to be designated as one of perhaps seventy cities which will ultimately participate in the program. To assist them in this competition and to assure them of maximum impact on the areas which they wish to improve, it is imperative that every agency of the state of Washington which can participate in these areas does its utmost to assist the cities.

Now Therefore, Be It Resolved, by the Senate, that all agencies and departments of the state of Washington and the employees and officials thereof are requested to offer every assistance to local governments in the planning and execution of the Demonstration Cities program and to the plans for Demonstration Cities developed by the citizens of those areas.

And Be It Further Resolved, That the Legislative Budget Committee be requested to make a study into the feasibility and financial impact of leaving with the local agency for further use for said program the funds returned to the local agency by the federal government under the provisions of Public Law 89-754 regardless of the original source of such funds.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the resolution was adopted.

GUBERNATORIAL APPOINTMENT

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR AND STATE OFFICIAL

State of Washington, Office of the Governor,
Olympia, March 10, 1967.

To The Honorable, The Senate of The State of Washington.
Lady and Gentlemen:

I have the honor to submit the following appointment to the position of member of the State Highway Commission, subject to your confirmation:

Robert L. Mikalson, appointed July 15, 1965, for a term ending July 1, 1971, succeeding himself.

Sincerely,
DANIEL J. EVANS,
Governor.

It was moved by Senator Greive that the rules be suspended and that the appointment of Robert L. Mikalson to the position of member of the State Highway Commission, be now confirmed.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Washington:

"Mr. President:

"Speaking in behalf of the appointment, Commissioner Mikalson served a term under the preceding Governor. He served in an excellent manner. He has certainly conducted his office and conducted himself in a manner which most of us can certainly approve. Much of the excellent work on the highway system, the advances that have been made of course are due to his work and the work of the other members of the commission and I think it was singular again that the new Governor saw fit to reappoint Mr. Mikalson. Having worked closely with him as chairman of the Senate Highways Committee, and as a former chairman of the Joint Interim Committee on Highways, I recommend him highly and certainly hope his appointment will be confirmed."

Senator Redmon:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I knew Mr. Mikalson when he was a football player and a union business agent. He has been on the highway commission and has done a good job. I thoroughly recommend that you give him your consideration and confirm him as a member of the highway commission."

Senator Bailey:

"Mr. President:

"I would like to second the nomination of the confirmation of Bob Mikalson. He is from our district, southwest Washington. He has been a very good man to contact at any time. There was never any problem that we ever have had in southwest Washington that Bob Mikalson wasn't available to come and settle or try to settle with the Highway Commission. He is a representative of organized labor on the Commission. He is also a good Democrat which is necessary on the Commission. He is a very good member of the Highway Commission."

Senator Chytil:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I, too, want to add my remarks and concur with those that have been given. I have known Bob Mikalson for a number of years. He not only does a good job on the Commission, but he is also active in community affairs throughout my area in Lewis county and the Centralia-Chehalis area, and I hope that you do confirm Bob Mikalson."

ELEVENTH DAY

NOON SESSION

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., Monday, March 20, 1967.

The Senate was called to order at noon by President Cherberg.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Metcalf.

On motion of Senator Atwood, Senator Metcalf was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Gregory Klump, Color Bearer, and Jill Rutherford, presented the Colors.

Reverend Charles Howard Perry, pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church of Olympia offered prayer as follows:

"O God, our Heavenly Father, the source of all wisdom, the giver of all truth, help us to keep from separating our religious convictions from our convictions about life and work. Give us discernment of things spiritual even as we are enabled to discern truth in our material world. We pray for understanding which encompasses knowledge and belief about man even as we seek through the processes of our minds and political structures to order the society of men. Let us not be de-humanized as we seek ways to improve the conditions under which humans work and play, love and sleep, grow in age, learn about and experience the fullness of your creation.

"In this Holy Week when we recall the self-offering of Jesus of Nazareth, help us to contemplate the meaning of holiness and see in the Majesty of His humility the glory of all human selflessness. May we not boast of our power and influence before we have considered the meaning of responsibility and the qualifications of moral leadership.

"Bestow your blessing upon the members of this Senate and grant that they may always turn to you in faith, confidence and hope as they seek to fulfill your will in guiding the affairs of this State.

"All of this, O God, we offer as our prayer this day. May this be a day in which your will is done in this House and your purposes for men and women furthered through the labor of those appointed to serve here. We pray in the name of Jesus Christ who said 'ask and you shall receive; seek and you shall find; knock and the door shall be opened for you.' Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

SENATE RESOLUTION

1967 EX - 14

By Senators Herrmann, Connor, McMillan, Uhlman, Kupka, Henry, Cooney, Keefe, Herr, Peterson (Lowell), Donohue, Ridder, Greive, Knoblauch, Bailey, Talley, Foley, Morgan, Rasmussen, Washington, McCormack, McCutcheon, Sandison, Durkan, Dore, Hanna, Hallauer, Gissberg, Mardesich and Lennart:

Whereas, There have been many complaints since its existence in the assigned risk pool for automobile liability insurance within this state, questions being raised as to whether the pool's intended purpose has been achieved and whether it should be continued, many of which complaints were voiced to the interim committee on insurance during its hearings between the thirty-ninth and fortieth sessions of this legislature; and

Whereas, Although such interim committee devoted much time to the study of rating systems and their efficacy in the field of insurance and particular attention was paid to the California system, which allegedly requires proof of competition and relinquishes the requirement of prior rate approval, expert testimony presented proved inadequate to permit a considered judgment by the interim committee and a far more thorough and detailed study should be made before a legislative decision should be determined upon this vital matter; and

Whereas, Lack of standard provisions in, and general confusion surrounding most school insurance programs has and continues to be a subject of great irritation to the citizens of this state and a phase of the insurance field in particular need of investigation and subsequent remedial legislation; and

Whereas, The admirable job done by the interim committee on insurance prior to the present fortieth session of the legislature was, because of limitations both in time and moneys available for investigatory purposes, but a positive beginning into the investigation and remedy of present inequities in the business of insurance in this state, and the failure to continue such a program of inquiry shall be equivalent to a disavowal of the legitimate economic interest of the majority of this state's citizens; and

Whereas, It appears necessary to determine both the effort put forth and the cost thereof by the insurance industry to influence legislation, or the lack thereof, within this state and more particularly during this fortieth session and extraordinary session of the legislature, and to investigate activities of insurance lobbyists, registered or otherwise, as the case may be, during said period of legislative activity;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the members of this Senate, That there be and hereby is created a committee of seven senators, the chairman of such committee to be the present chairman of the standing Senate committee on banks, financial institutions and insurance, and six other members to be appointed by the President of the Senate, and confirmed by the Senate, not more than four of said members on such committee to be from the same political party, to make a study of how the public's interest is being furthered as well as protected, under the present insurance code and the rules and regulations promulgated incident thereto, with particular emphasis on such problems as outlined above; and

Provided Further, That such Senate interim committee on insurance is hereby authorized to sit, hold sessions and meetings and to act during the present extraordinary session of this legislature and at all such times after the adjournment of this legislature, whether or not the Senate has recessed or adjourned, and to hold such hearings, require the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such books, papers, and documents by subpoena or otherwise, and to take such testimony as it deems necessary. Subpoenas shall be issued under the signature of the chairman and shall be served by any person designated by him. The chairman of the committee or any member thereof may administer oaths to witnesses. That in case of disobedience of any person to comply with any subpoena issued in behalf of the committee, or on the refusal of any witness to testify to any matters germane to the subject matter of the committee's study, it shall be the duty of the superior court of any county, or the judge thereof, on application of the committee, to compel obedience by proceedings for contempt, as in the case of disobedience of the requirements of a subpoena issued from such court or a refusal to testify therein; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the committee may accept grants, gifts or donations from any source whatsoever and expend the same in such manner as the committee deems best to carry out the purposes of this Senate Resolution; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the committee may employ such help and technical and legal assistance as the committee deems necessary for the proper and efficient performance of its duties; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the committee and its employees be entitled to their actual traveling, lodging and subsistence expenses while absent from their usual places of residence in the service of the State in attendance at committee meetings, hearings, or while in attendance on committee business and for traveling to and from such meetings, hearings, or while in attendance on such committee business; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the committee may fix the salaries of any employees, experts and advisers of such committee, and that all expenses and salaries shall be paid upon vouchers properly approved, and that the payment of all such salaries and expenses shall be paid from any appropriations made for legislative expenses, the total of such salaries and expenses of the committee not to exceed one hundred thousand dollars; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the committee shall make a report of its findings, including therein recommendations for consideration by the forty-first session of the state's legislature, to the Secretary of the Senate prior to the convening of such session of the legislature.

On motion of Senator Greive, the resolution was ordered printed.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gissberg, Senate Resolution 1967 Ex-14 was made a special order of business under the first order of business for tomorrow.

The Secretary read:

SENATE RESOLUTION1967 EX - 15

By Senators Atwood and Gissberg:

Whereas, The economic growth within our state has made lands suitable for parks and recreational purposes and open spaces extremely expensive and difficult to obtain; and

Whereas, Our expanding population has increased and will continue to increase the need for lands for parks and recreational purposes and open spaces; and

Whereas, The state of Washington has under its control large areas of land which are suitable for parks and recreational purposes and open spaces; and

Whereas, It has proved to be extremely difficult and expensive for the state and its political subdivisions to obtain through purchase or condemnation lands suitable for these purposes; and

Whereas, The legislative council has been directed, by Senate resolution, to undertake a study of public lands under the ownership of the state and its subdivisions,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate, that the legislative budget committee in cooperation with the legislative council is authorized and directed to conduct a study and survey of public lands suitable for parks and recreational purposes and open spaces, which study and survey shall contain:

(1) An inventory of all public lands under the control of the state classified as to (a) those lands that are currently being leased or utilized for park and recreational and open spaces purposes; (b) those lands which could be and are suitable for utilization for such purposes in the future in accordance with the statewide plan for outdoor recreation; and (c) those lands which are not suitable for such purposes.

(2) A determination and itemization of all moneys accruing to various public funds, including but not limited to the state general fund, common school fund, permanent school fund, capitol building construction account, and other state, school, or college and university funds and accounts, from income from various sources from such public lands.

(3) A determination of the expense to the state and its political subdivisions of providing funds to acquire suitable lands for parks and recreational purposes and open spaces in comparison with the expense of utilizing suitable public lands for such purposes and reimbursing the various funds for any loss of revenue incurred from so using such lands.

Be It Further Resolved, That the legislative budget committee and the legislative council shall report to the legislature the results of their study and survey together with their recommendations and such drafts of legislation as they may deem necessary on or before December 15, 1968.

On motion of Senator Atwood, the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION

1967 EX - 16

By Senators McCutcheon, McCormack and Stender:

Whereas, The registration procedures and the statutory forms for the use of registering voters have not been changed since being established by the 1931 Legislature; and

Whereas, A substantial number of registration records contain obsolete addresses and no longer have adequate space for crediting the voter with the act of casting a ballot as required by law in order to perpetuate the voter's record; and

Whereas, It is not possible to readily obtain a list of names and addresses of currently registered voters as is possible in other states of comparable population; and

Whereas, Great strides have been accomplished in the automation and centralization of registration records in other states; and

Whereas, A review of all the election laws would be of great value in the modernization of election procedures;

Now, Therefore, Be it Resolved, By the Senate, That the legislative council be and is hereby instructed to study during the interim between this extraordinary session of the fortieth legislature and the regular session of the forty-first legislature the need for and the expected benefits of the updating and revision of all permanent registration forms, the reviewing of registration and election procedures, and researching in particular the methods of automation of voters' registration records as used in other states and report thereon to the forty-first session of the legislature; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate transmit a copy of this Senate resolution to the executive secretary of the legislative council for action thereon.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, would Senator Ryder yield to a question:

"Senator Ryder, I am quite concerned. I've heard several remarks in the debate on this resolution and the statements made leave me quite concerned. What limit do the people have now as a protection from the legislature raising the sales tax?"

Senator Ryder:

"They have no protection and this is just one of the things that I am talking about. The Governor's compromise on this would put a—theoretically at least—ceiling on the sales tax. As it has been admitted in the House, as you know, the sales tax could not be imposed at a higher rate than the proportional income tax to be proposed, so this would substantially put a ceiling not only on the sales tax but on the income tax, also."

Senator Rasmussen:

"One other question:

"What protection through all the years have the business people had from the legislature imposing a business and occupation tax?"

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"The legislature has had no limit on imposing additional business and occupation tax on business and the only thing that has stopped the legislature from putting more tax on, I am sure, is the diligent work of the business community in convincing the legislature of the problems that would be caused if they did so."

Debate ensued.

Senators Greive, Connor and Talley demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 31 and the resolution passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 22; nays, 27.

Those voting yea were: Senators Bailey, Connor, Dore, Durkan, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Herr, Knoblauch, Kupka, Mardesich, Metcalf, Morgan, Peterson (Lowell), Rasmussen, Ridder, Sandison, Uhlman, Washington—22.

Those voting nay were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Canfield, Chytil, Cooney, Donohue, Faulk, Freise, Guess, Herrmann, Keefe, Lennart, Lewis, McCormack, McCutcheon, McMillan, Marquardt, Neill, Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Redmon, Ryder, Stender, Talley, Twigg, Williams, Woodall—27.

Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 31, having failed to receive the constitutional two-thirds majority, was declared lost.

PROTEST

I voted for Senate Joint Resolution No. 31. I am personally opposed to a graduated income tax, however, and if it is put on the ballot I will work and vote against it.

We face a crisis in this state in constantly rising property and sales taxes. Some tax revision is necessary.

I have stated during my last three campaigns that I would vote to put this measure on the ballot so that, if the people want to vote themselves an income tax, they would have the opportunity. I am convinced the people don't want this and will defeat it. Then perhaps meaningful tax reform would more likely become a reality in our state.

(Signed) Senator Jack Metcalf.

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator McCormack served notice that he would, at the appropriate time, move that the Senate reconsider the vote by which Senate Joint Resolution No. 31 failed to pass.

It was moved by Senator Greive that the Senate do now consider the special order of business scheduled for noon.

The motion was carried.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

Pursuant to the motion of Senator Greive, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Joint Resolution No. 13 on second reading.

Martin J. Durkan, Chairman.

We concur in this report: R. Frank Atwood, Robert C. Bailey, Damon R. Canfield, John L. Cooney, Dewey C. Donohue, Fred H. Dore, Frank W. Foley, William A. Gissberg, Sam C. Guess, Ernest W. Lennart, Harry B. Lewis, David E. McMillan, Marshall A. Neill, John N. Ryder.

"That, At the next general election to be held in this state, there shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the state for their approval and ratification, or rejection, an amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Washington by amending section 2, as amended by Amendment 17, so that said section will read as follows:

Article VII, section 2. (1) Except as hereinafter provided and notwithstanding any other provision of this Constitution, the aggregate of all tax levies upon real and personal property by the state and all taxing districts now existing or hereafter created, shall not in any year exceed [forty mills on the dollar of assessed valuation, which assessed valuation shall be fifty per centum of the true and fair value of such property in money] ten dollars per one thousand dollars of the current true value of such property: Provided, However, That nothing herein shall prevent levies at the rates now provided by law by or for any port or public utility district. The term "taxing district" for the purposes of this section shall mean any political subdivision, municipal corporation, district, or other governmental agency authorized by law to levy, or have levied for it, ad valorem taxes on property, other than a port or public utility district. The legislature shall have the power, by appropriate legislation, to provide for the enforcement of the provisions of this article by state or local agencies or both. Such aggregate limitation or any specific limitation imposed by law in conformity therewith may be exceeded only

(a) By any taxing district when specifically authorized so to do by a majority of at least three-fifths of the electors thereof voting on the proposition to levy such additional tax submitted not more than twelve months prior to the date on which the proposed levy is to be made and not oftener than twice in such twelve month period, either at a special election or at the regular election of such taxing district, at which election the number of persons voting on the proposition shall constitute not less than forty per centum of the total number of votes cast in such taxing district at the last preceding general election;

(b) By any taxing district otherwise authorized by law to issue general obligation bonds for capital purposes, for the sole purpose of making the required payments of principal and interest on general obligation bonds issued solely for capital purposes, other than the replacement of equipment, when authorized so to do by majority of at least three-fifths of the electors thereof voting on the proposition to issue such bonds and to pay the principal and interest thereon by an annual tax levy in excess of the limitation herein provided during the term of such bonds, submitted not oftener than twice in any calendar year, at an election held in the manner provided by law for bond elections in such taxing district, at which election the total number of persons voting on the proposition shall constitute not less than forty per centum of the total number of votes cast in such taxing district at the last preceding general election: Provided, That any such taxing district shall have the right by vote of its governing body to refund any general obligation bonds of said district issued for capital purposes only, and to provide for the interest thereon and amortization thereof by annual levies in excess of the tax limitation provided for herein, And Provided Further, That the provisions of this section shall also be subject to the limitations contained in Article VIII, Section 6, of this Constitution;

(c) By the state or any taxing district for the purpose of paying the principal or interest on general obligation bonds outstanding on [December 6, 1934] the date this amendment to this section becomes effective; or for the purpose of preventing the impairment of the obligation of a contract when ordered so to do by a court of last resort.

(2) The legislature is authorized to impose, and may grant to municipal corporations the authority to impose, graduated or nongraduated taxes upon the net income of every person and corporation and may provide for such deductions and exemptions from such taxes and the computation thereof as it may deem just and proper: Provided, That during the time there is imposed a graduated or nongraduated state net income tax on individuals no tax shall be levied on retail sales in this state on food and food items sold for human consumption off the premises where sold and on sales of prescription drugs: and Provided Further, That during the time there is imposed a graduated or nongraduated state net income tax on both individuals and corporations, no tax measured on gross income shall be imposed by the state on the privilege of doing business in the state unless (1) both the rates and services of the business are regulated by the state, or (2) the business is conducted by a municipal corporation, or (3) the business is conducted by a nonprofit corporation or association, whether mutual, cooperative or otherwise. Income is not property within the meaning of this Constitution and a tax imposed upon or measured by income, from whatever source derived, shall not be deemed an ad valorem tax.

The legislature may coordinate the administration and collection of state income taxes with the income tax laws and procedures of the United States, and may delegate to such state administrators as it may designate the authority to prescribe the means of coordination of state and United States tax laws and methods for the allocation of income for taxing purposes. The legislature may adopt by reference any federal statutes relating to the determination of taxable income, as existing at time of adoption and as amended from time to time.

Be It Further Resolved, That the foregoing constitutional amendment shall be construed as a separate amendment within the meaning of Article XXIII, section 1 (Amendment 37) of this Constitution. In the event the foregoing amendment is held to be separate amendments, this senate joint resolution shall be void in its entirety and shall be of no further force and effect.

And Be It Further Resolved, That the secretary of state shall cause notice of the foregoing constitutional amendment to be published at least four times during the four weeks next preceding the election in every legal newspaper in the state."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCormack:

"Mr. President:

"This amendment I have placed on the desk is an amendment which would completely scalp this resolution and would place on it instead the provisions of Senate Joint Resolution No. 29 but since we have gone over this once today in almost identical language, I shall withdraw this amendment, with the understanding of the Senate that it was my preference and prejudice that the provisions we have just been dealing with and the provisions of Senate Joint Resolution No. 31 should prevail in the Senate, and this is what I intended to do with Senate Joint Resolution No. 13."

With leave of the Senate, Senator McCormack was permitted to withdraw the amendment.

It was moved by Senator Lennart that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, line 17, after "district" insert ": Provided Further, That if any public utility district does not levy such millage, then any fire protection district is empowered to levy such public utility district millage within such fire protection district".

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gissberg:

"Mr. President, would Senator Lennart yield to a question:

"Senator, as I understand it, utility districts are now outside the forty mill limitation."

Senator Lennart:

"This is constitutional millage."

Senator Gissberg:

"And you are asking that in the event that the utilities districts do not levy any tax above the forty mill limitation, that the fire protection district would have that authority?"

Senator Lennart:

"That's right."

Senator Gissberg:

"And there would be no restriction whatsoever in the amount of millage that could be added?"

Senator Lennart:

"Two mills only, two mills constitutional limitation."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stender:

"Mr. President, would Senator Lennart yield to another question:

"Isn't this a proposal, Senator, that could very well be handled by law without providing for a constitutional amendment?"

Senator Lennart:

"No, I don't think so because this constitutional millage has long belonged to the public utility districts and only when they are not invoking this millage could this be used, and I think this would be a wonderful opportunity to help out at a place where the millage is really needed. You have only the minor special millage and they have a problem with that. This is a state-wide problem. I think this is a very good way to solve this problem and it in no way disrupts the constitutional rights of the public utility districts to use the millage if they so desire at any time."

Further debate ensued.

It was moved by Senator McMillan that the amendment by Senator Lennart be laid upon the table.

The motion was lost on a rising vote.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stender:

"Senator, supposing that the fire districts took advantage of this, if we passed this and it became part of our law, supposing that a fire district took advantage of the two mills and was operating and using that money and the PUD decided they wanted the two mills. What happens at that point? Would the fire district have to give it up?"

Senator Lennart:

"You cannot take it away. It's only in case they are not using it. The amendment is quite clear."

Debate ensued.

A division was called for.

Senator McMillan demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Gissberg, Kupka, Connor, Bailey, Greive, McMillan, Morgan, Stender, Guess and Woodall.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Andersen:

"Mr. President, point of parliamentary inquiry:

"I don't understand this, Mr. President, exactly. A vote was called for. A vote was had. Obviously one side won and the other side lost and after it was obvious that the one side had lost but—I'll grant you—the President had not struck the gavel—then a demand for a roll call vote was made. Now is this in accordance with the rules of this body that after a vote has been had and lost, that the losing side then rises and demands a roll call vote and turns the thing around because it is a recorded vote?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator, in the opinion of the President, a vote had not been had as yet and a roll call demand is in order according to the rules."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Andersen:

"A further point, just so it is clarified in my mind for my future edification and the edification of the body, is it correct that any time anybody wants to demand a roll call vote when there is a standing vote, that at any time before the gavel sounds a person can rise and demand a roll call vote regardless of how the standing vote appears to you? Is this right? Any time before the gavel is pounded, you can stand up and demand a roll call vote and if you get the concurrence of the body, then you get the roll call vote?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President believes your remarks, Senator, are essentially correct."

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President:

"I would like to call Senator Andersen's attention to our Senate Rule 32 and also Article 2, Section 21 of the State Constitution."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll. The motion by Senator Lennart was carried and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 29; nays, 20.

Those voting yea were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Cooney, Dore, Durkan, Faulk, Henry, Herrmann, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, Lewis, McCormack, McCutcheon, Marquardt, Metcalf, Morgan, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Rasmussen, Ridder, Ryder, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Washington, Williams—29.

It was moved by Senator McCutcheon that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, line 15, after "such" and before "property" insert "real" and after "money" and before the colon insert "and thirty-five percentum of the true and fair value of such personal property in money".

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis:

"Mr. President, would Senator McCutcheon yield:

"As one who is quite heavily affected with this inventory tax, I am a little bit concerned about the percentage of thirty-five percent that you have chosen in your amendment. Would you, Senator McCutcheon object to an amendment to your amendment reducing that to thirty percent, which I could then willingly support, sir?"

Senator McCutcheon:

"Yes."

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Lewis, the following amendment to the amendment by Senator McCutcheon was adopted:

Amend the amendment to page 1, line 15 by striking "thirty-five" and inserting "thirty".

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment as amended.

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the amendment by Senator McCutcheon as amended by Senator Lewis was adopted.

On motion of Senator Bailey, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 13 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

Senators McCutcheon, Stender and Twigg demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 13 and the resolution passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 8.

Those voting yea were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Chytil, Connor, Cooney, Donohue, Dore, Faulk, Foley, Freise, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Herr, Herrmann, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, Lewis, McCormack, McCutcheon, McMillan, Marquardt, Metcalf, Morgan, Neill, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Talley, Twigg, Woodall—41.

Those voting nay were: Senators Durkan, Mardesich, Pritchard, Redmon, Ridder, Uhlman, Washington, Williams—8.

Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 13, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

Senate Bill No. 630, by Senators Dore and Gissberg:

Creating a board of ethics in each house of the legislature.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Dore, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 630 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich:

"Mr. President, would Senator Dore yield to a question:

"Senator Dore, on page 4 of this measure, beginning on line 9, it says that any member of the board may administer oaths or affirmations, examine witnesses and receive evidence. Would any member be allowed to do that without the concurrence of the majority of that board? The next line following that implies that any member of the board has the power of subpoena only with the concurrence of the majority of the board. Now that would not seem to apply to line 9, and I wonder if that is intended so that it may be possible for some one member who has a dislike for someone in this body to take off on a witch hunt without the concurrence of the majority?"

Senator Dore:

"I would say no, Senator. You have to read the entire thing in context. It gives them the authority the same as any member here can initiate complaints. This is a confidential board. This isn't going to be any witch hunting deal. It has to be confidential to hear complaints and make decisions. There is a provision for hearings. There is a section on that, but that has to be with the concurrence of the majority like any other committee. If you have any concern, I would be happy to accept an amendment. It's on third reading, but you can move it back if you would like."

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the rules were suspended and Senate Bill No. 630 was returned to second reading for the purpose of amendment.

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 4, line 9, after "board" insert ", with the concurrence of the majority of the board."

On motion of Senator Dore, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 630 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Further debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted):

"Mr. President, I wanted to ask Senator Dore a question on this bill.

"Senator Dore, I know you have been adamant on this and you have been researching all during the session and I have heard of the code of ethics and sometimes I think that maybe this could be just a witch hunt and I wonder why, if a lay committee of twenty-seven suggest this and proposed legislation came through them, why you didn't have someone outside of the legislature on this committee? Now is this information going to be made public so that we will know, instead of something coming up like Hagist where we are still in the dark and still hearing rumors, or will this be out to the press and the public or are you going to keep this secret?"

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President, I wonder if he would divide the question. Are you interested in going to the Hagist point or—"

Senator Peterson (Ted):

"I just used that illustration as to how much we can be kept in the dark. Is this going to be public knowledge so that we know the facts and will these be published or is it going to be kept within the confidence of the committee of ethics?"

Senator Dore:

"That will be up to the discretion of the majority of the board whether or not it will be made public. It is hoped that these things will be kept confidential, that they should be kept confidential, and if the facts are a matter of public concern and the public is involved, then the report should be made public. But that's up to the members of the board. On this board there will be three from the Republican side and three from the Democratic side and the President of the Senate, so we have a great deal of confidence in these men and we feel that by this measure of confidence that we can better regulate our own conduct, rather than transferring that responsibility to a third party.

"As I said before, by the passage of this bill, we would become the second state in America to have a code of ethics bill. The only other state is New York, and I think we can be proud of that fact if this bill is passed."

Senator Peterson (Ted):

"Mr. President, I would like to pursue this a little further with another question:

"Now one day here on a vote, a member stepped off the floor and didn't vote on a certain bill. Would anything like this come under the disclosure? Would this be under this at all, or would this not be under the code of ethics?"

Senator Dore:

"Under the State Constitution, I think the provisions would be the same that we all live with here, Senator. It says, 'No member shall vote in any matter in which he has a personal interest.' That's in the Constitution, and yet we have a situation where it requires at least twenty-five Senators to vote on every measure and fifty House members to vote on every measure. We know that every tax measure we vote on here affects all of us. We all have an interest. It seems incongruous and the question is how can this be resolved. I asked the attorney general for an opinion some time ago. He has not evidently had time to answer me yet as to the meaning of 'interest.' We don't know. We keep guessing. Under the provisions of this bill, the seven men would be authorized to study the problem anew and come up with a code of ethics recommendation to the legislature. There are many problems and there are no answers. It is in a discretionary, gray field and I think it would be of benefit to all of us and to the public if we had a minimum guide line in order to guide us, because if we are going to have a part time, 'citizens' legislature, we are going to have conflicts. There's no question about that. The thing is we must control these conflicts and disclose them. That's the main point, and by this board we give the authority to our own body, just like the Congress does—they have a code of ethics committee there, too, and you are familiar with their work. In this body we would not be able to handle an Adam Clayton Powell affair or a Senator Dodd affair because we have no machinery to act."

Senator Peterson (Ted):

"Just one further question:

"You didn't feel that there should be anyone on the board or the committee outside of the legislature?"

Senator Dore:

"I would feel that a couple of outside members on the board—if the majority sentiment of this body thought so—would be fine, but I think we should take it a step at a time. I think we are making a tremendous stride here in adopting this particular procedure. Now if later on next session it develops we should have public members on the board, I certainly would welcome them. I have discussed this with Mr. Horowitz who served as committee chairman of the advisory committee, and Fred Orth. They recommended this procedure which was the recommended procedure of the state of Illinois, that is having a lay board outside of the legislature to examine these things. As yet it has not been passed in Illinois. It was introduced twice. I discussed this with Mr. Horowitz and he said he is very satisfied with this board. In fact he says that he thinks it may be superior to having an outside board looking over the shoulder of the legislature which possibly might interfere with their work. I think the legislators understand our particular problems. I think we have men here of the highest caliber. We have men that go on to be judges, Congressmen, maybe even President of our country. I don't know. But we have the highest type people right here in this body right now and I have great confidence they can fairly and equitably handle any problems. The main thing is this board is going to be a help to us. In other words, if we have a problem, we can go to this body and get an advisory opinion without telling somebody about it and then the next time we hear about it, it's in the newspapers. This could be a confidential situation and we would be able to go and say, 'I have a situation here, I have a possible conflict, what do you think? Should I disqualify myself or not?'

"We have no such body now and at the present time if you mention it to anyone, as I say, it may end up in the newspapers."

Debate ensued.

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, would Senator Dore yield to a question:

"Senator Dore, I notice in your original bill that Mr. Horowitz worked on that matter whenever the board would find unethical conduct, the board should report the findings to the House Committee on Rules and Order or the Senate Committee on Rules and Joint Rules and the report 'shall also be sent to the attorney general.'

"Now my question is, in the proposed bill on which we are working, Senate Bill No. 630, it merely provides for the report to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules without a copy being filed with the attorney general. Now all of the other elected officials in municipalities and so forth, when the state auditor makes an audit and finds some discrepancies, he is required by law to file his report with the attorney general and then the attorney general decides to take the appropriate action on the elected officials.

"Why did you decide in your substitute bill to drop that portion?"

Senator Dore:

"I have no particular objection to it, but I think the theory of this bill is under the Constitution that each body shall be exclusive judge of the qualifications of its members and the purpose of this is to have a confidential determination and to keep it in the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules unless someone is to be subject to charges. In many cases just the very fact a person makes a disclosure may point toward some indication of guilt. The thought is to protect the members who need protection as much as possible. Of course those who should be exposed, the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules I suppose would expose them and then the attorney general would read it in the papers or secure a copy of the report. There wouldn't be any reason why he shouldn't receive it. But it's just like the Bar Association or the Dental Association. In other words, we have disbarment proceedings or hearings. They are held on a confidential basis until such time as action is taken and then when the action is taken and there is disbarment, it then comes out in the newspapers and the information is presented but if they find the charges are not grounded, they don't publicize anything one way or the other because sometimes innocent men are damaged by the fact that they are charged."

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I was called from the floor of the Senate during the final passage of House Bill No. 295. I would have voted for this bill if I had been present.

(Signed) Senator Mike McCormack.

Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 303, by Committee on Public Health and Welfare:

Establishing community mental health program.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

It was moved by Senator Guess that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 8, section 19, line 4, after "reimbursement." insert:

"Every plan shall provide that no child shall be subjected to examination, diagnosis or treatment without prior written permission from the parents or guardian of such child: Provided, That such permission shall not be required when the child has been referred by a superior court judge."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Would Senator Guess yield to a question:

"Senator Guess, would your amendment have the effect of requiring school authorities to have a child referred by the superior court before they could have tests?"

Senator Guess:

"No, Senator Rasmussen, this hasn't anything to do with schools. That is found in House Bills No. 301 and 302. But I think this would be the same type of protection that we have when a child goes into a hospital, the parent is asked to give written consent for an operation or blood transfusion or some other treatment and this is no more than the same protection that is offered for a minor. A minor cannot own property and cannot contract and this is one of the fundamental basic protections of the state of Washington statutes to protect minors and this applies in a new field that is coming into being. We just want to make sure that this child and minor is protected in this type of operation as well as any other type of operations where they are protected."

Senator Rasmussen:

"How would a child get into this clinic without the parent bringing him there?"

Senator Guess:

"Well, I don't know, Senator Rasmussen, how the child may get in but the only thing we want to do here is, had the child gotten into the clinic, then they would be protected and this is only so the county commissioners in making rules and regulations will take this into consideration."

Debate ensued.

The motion was lost on a rising vote and the amendment was not adopted.

It was moved by Senator Gissberg that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, line 23, following subsection (2) add a new subsection as follows:

"(3) "Community Mental Health Program" means any consciously adopted program designed to help people learn to avoid mental crisis. "Crisis" is any personal distress, acute or chronic."

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Freise, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 303 as amended by the Senate was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess:

"Mr. President, would Senator Kupka yield:

"Senator Kupka, you say it would be very easy for us to drop the program if it doesn't seem to work out. I'd like to ask you in all frankness and candor if you have ever known of our dropping a federal program where once it got started? Is it possible ever to drop the federal handout?"

Senator Kupka:

"Oh, I'm sure that it is possible. If you don't get the money to carry it out, it automatically drops. If something isn't good, you don't furnish the money and you know what happens to it. We do that within the state. We pass laws from time to time that are never supported by the budget or the appropriations and consequently that's the cure right there."

Debate ensued.

(1) All sums accruing by reason of the breakage, that is the difference between the eighty-five percent of the actual sums placed as bets and the amounts paid out on winning tickets, resulting from the practice of computing the payoff to the nearest five cents.

(2) All sums accruing to the licensee by reason of unclaimed winning purses allocated to outstanding tickets, which have not been claimed within thirty days after the right to collect thereon."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President, I raise a point of order:

"This vastly expands the scope and object of the bill. I think the amendment is entirely out of order."

President Pro Tempore Henry:

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Durkan:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"Didn't you just rule that this was not within the scope and object of the bill?"

President Pro Tempore Henry:

"I said it appears to enlarge the scope and object of it, but on the other hand it is a method of financing mental retardation centers. I hadn't made a ruling yet, Senator. The question is the motion by Senator Keefe that the amendment be laid upon the table."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President:

"I would respectfully point out to the President that such a motion is not in order until such time as you have made your ruling. We have a question of a point of order which is a privileged motion and is certainly above a motion to lay on the table, which under Senate Rule 21 is a subsidiary motion, so if you look to Rule 21, you will see we have a right to a ruling first."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pro Tempore Henry:

"The President, ruling upon the point of order, rules that the amendment by Senator Peterson does enlarge the scope and object of the bill."

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Durkan that House Bills No. 3 and 4 retain their places on the second reading calendar for tomorrow.

The motion was carried.

Senate Bill No. 419, by Senators Dore, Herr, Ryder and Greive:

Providing for the payment of compensation by abutting owners for property acquired through vacation of streets and alleys.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, would Senator Dore yield to a question:

"I want to know whether this should be amended or not. I wanted to ask you what is the procedure now when a piece of property is platted? Certain areas are designated as streets and are deeded to the city for that purpose?"

Senator Dore:

"I think we are talking about the ends of various streets. This problem arose in Seattle where the city vacated some streets and also charged for them and evidently there was a case last year which arose where someone challenged it and they had no authority to receive money for the property they vacated and therefore, this bill would enable them to receive money for it."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Well, I understand the intent of the bill, but what I was trying to arrive at is whether the bill needed an amendment. It seems that the property owners must deed a portion to the cities to be used for street purposes and when it is vacated it then reverts to the property owner who deeded it to the city in the first place, is this correct?"

Senator Dore:

"I think this probably happened many, many years ago. In other words as I understand you want to have these deeds go back to the real property owner, is that what you want to do?"

Senator Rasmussen:

"I was trying to arrive at the question—the original owner deeded the street and it was not used for that purpose. Would it then go back to the original owner, is that correct?"

Senator Dore:

"If that was in the original deed, it would. Otherwise, not. If it was just an outright acceptance it wouldn't revert back at all. The city would own the title and then could convey it to the new property owner and the practice has been for the city to receive compensation when this is done. Evidently this was done last year at some time and the owner refused to pay and said the city had no authority to make the property owner pay. The court upheld it. The purpose of the bill is to allow the city to charge for the property vacated back."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, I'd like to ask Senator Gissberg a question:

"Senator Gissberg, could you enlighten me on what is the present practice if I plat a piece of land?"

Senator Gissberg:

"Yes, Senator, the law now is that if you as a property owner plat a parcel of ground into lots and included in that plat of course is the dedication of streets, and whenever that street or any portion thereof is vacated for some reason by the city, the law is now whoever owns the lots immediately adjacent to the vacated street acquires title out to the middle of the street. If you own lots on both sides of the street, then of course you would acquire title to the entire portion of the street vacated in front of your lots. If you platted a piece of property and it was accepted and you didn't sell any of the lots, but continued to own them all and for some reason the city vacated—which I doubt they would do—but if the city did, then the law is that you would reacquire the ownership of all of that street. Now that's the present posture of the law."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Could you enlighten me further, Senator Gissberg—at the present time this is required either by city or county ordinance or state law that I do dedicate certain areas or streets? I have no chance to escape this?"

Senator Gissberg:

"No, not by statute. Well, there is a provision in the state statutes that if you sell four or more parcels of land from a single parcel, you must plat it and of course platting is controlled by the local planning commission or local county in the absence of a planning commission, and they all have regulations which would require you to provide for streets."

Senator Rasmussen:

"So then under existing city or county ordinances, I have to dedicate the land and then if the city or the county would decide to vacate it, then you are going to attempt to sell it back to me under this bill? They don't pay me any money for it in the first place, do they?"

Senator Gissberg:

"That's correct, Senator."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stender:

"Mr. President, would Senator Atwood yield:

"I raised the question earlier about the fact the cities or counties are not named in this bill at all. Was there another act to your knowledge to cover it applying within the county areas?"

Senator Atwood:

"No, Senator Stender, this is an act peculiar to cities. When the counties vacate, each of the abutting property owners acquire to the middle of the street."

Senator Stender:

"Then this act would apply to the county as well as the city under this amendment?"

Senator Atwood:

"No."

Senator Stender:

"It wouldn't apply to the county at all?"

Senator Atwood:

"No."

Further debate ensued.

SENATE RESOLUTION
1967 EX - 18

By Senators Hanna, Talley, Lennart and Chytil:

Whereas, Dairy products are essential and necessary articles of food for human consumption, and are vital to the health and welfare of citizens of the state of Washington; and

Whereas, Our dairy farmers and creameries, a paramount industry of the state, are being destroyed by unfair trade practices and the lack of economic opportunity; and

Whereas, The majority of the dairy industry, recognizing the need to protect the industry and the public, has asked this legislature for help in governing its activities for the benefit of itself, is willing to accept legislation beneficial to itself and the consuming public; and

Whereas, Such measures are necessary to save our dairy industry and protect the consumer; and

Whereas, The critical problems of the dairy farmer and creameries in this state have been clearly reflected by the recent outbreaks of wanton waste of milk and industrial intimidation and terrorism in twenty-five other sovereign states;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That this fortieth session of the Washington State Legislature accept the responsibility of saving our important dairy industry from destruction by enactment of legislation designed to implement by statute the purpose of this resolution.

On motion of Senator Lennart, the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION
1967 EX - 19

By Senators Pritchard and Peterson (Ted):

Whereas, The construction of the Lake Washington Ship Canal and the Hiram Chittenden Locks system was a major engineering feat and gave great impetus to the growth of Seattle and surrounding Puget Sound areas; and

Whereas, Seattle is the boating capital of the United States and the Lake Washington Ship Canal and the Hiram Chittenden Locks have been an integral part of this boating boom; and

Whereas, The joining of fresh water and salt water in the Puget Sound area has been of great economic value; and

Whereas, The economy of the state owes a debt to this unique shipping and tourist attraction; and

Whereas, The citizens of the city of Seattle are preparing a city-wide fete to mark the fiftieth anniversary of the construction of the Hiram Chittenden Locks and the Lake Washington Ship Canal;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Senate of the state of Washington hereby offers its sincerest congratulations and best wishes to the city of Seattle and the United States Corps of Army Engineers and joins with other units of government and the thousands of the state's citizens in the anniversary celebration to be held during the month of July, 1967.

On motion of Senator Pritchard, the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION
1967 EX - 20

By Senators Lennart, Redmon and Durkan:

Whereas, Senate Bill No. 389, providing for appointment of a local bank to act as the agent of the state of Washington and its political subdivisions, in the servicing of the bonds issued thereby, has for its purposes, promoting the convenience of local bondholders, saving them time and expense in obtaining payment of interest coupons and the redemption of the bonds, preserving to the state the right to use the money needed for such payment and redemption until due, owing and claimed, and providing that the advantage, if any, from delay in presentation of coupons for payment or bonds for redemption, accrue to the state of Washington, if possible, and if not, then to a local bank rather than a New York City bank; and

Whereas, There was insufficient time to develop and verify the facts and test the various theories advanced as to the implications of the bill, as proposed, to form a conclusion whether change in the system would result in higher bond interest costs or in savings in the form of increased earnings from bond redemption funds; and

Whereas, The potential advantages to the state and to the political subdivisions thereof is great enough to justify an in depth study;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Senate recommend that the legislative budget committee study the bond servicing requirements of the state and its political subdivisions, especially as they relate to the appointment of an agent to service the same, bearing in mind that there are hundreds of millions of dollars in bonds authorized, issued and outstanding, and, the probability that there will be additional issues authorized and issued in the future by all segments of government, and that the servicing costs thereof are a significant and important budgetary item, and, the servicing practices have been unchanged for many years although communication is easier and our local financial institutions stronger and more capable of performing the services historically ceded, by default, to New York City banks.

On motion of Senator Lennart, the resolution was adopted.

(1) On or before June 30th of each year the college board if issuing bonds payable out of general tuition fees shall certify to the state treasurer the amounts required in the ensuing twelve-month period to pay and secure the payment of the principal of and interest on such bonds. The amounts deposited in the bond retirement fund shall be used exclusively to pay and secure the payment of the principal of and interest on the tuition fee bonds issued by the college board as authorized by this act. If in any twelve-month period it shall appear that the amount certified by the college board is insufficient to pay and secure the payment of the principal of and interest on the outstanding general tuition fee bonds, the state treasurer shall notify the college board and such board shall adjust its certificate so that all requirements of moneys to pay and secure the payment of the principal and interest on all such bonds then outstanding shall be fully met at all times.

(3) Such additional funds as the legislature may provide.

Said bond retirement fund shall be kept segregated from all moneys in the state treasury and shall, while any of such bonds or any interest thereon remains unpaid, be available solely for the payment thereof. As a part of the contract of sale of such

Such refunding bonds may be issued in the manner and on terms and conditions and with the covenants permitted by sections 33 through 40 of this act for the issuance of bonds. The effective interest cost to maturity on such refunding bonds shall not exceed six percent per annum nor shall any single interest or coupon rate exceed six percent per annum. The board may exchange the refunding bonds at par for the bonds which are being refunded or may sell them in such manner as it deems for the best interest of the college.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 40. The bonds authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of sections 33 through 40 of this act shall not be general obligations of the state of Washington, but shall be limited obligation bonds payable only from the special funds created for their payment. The legislature may specify additional means for providing funds for the payment of principal and interest of said bonds. Sections 33 through 40 of this act shall not be deemed to provide an exclusive method for such payment. The power given to the legislature by this section to provide for additional means for raising money is permissive, and shall not in any way be construed as a pledge of the general credit of the state of Washington.

(2) Faculty hired by the college district boards after the effective date of this act, who are members of a teachers' pension plan in operation in the state of Washington or who are members of a nationwide teachers' pension plan, may continue to retain membership in such plan if they so elect and if the election is not inconsistent with the regulations of such retirement plan.

Until the legislature adopts a new pension plan for such employees, the district boards shall deduct from the remuneration of such employee the amount which such employee is or may be required to pay in accordance with the provisions of the pension plan he has elected to continue and the college district boards shall pay to the pension plan any amounts required to be paid under the provisions of such plan by the employer and the employee.

(3) The state board for community college education is hereby directed to consult with the public pension commission and prepare a study report on pension plans for faculty and to recommend legislation to adopt a plan for the best interests of the state. The study report shall be presented to the members of the forty-first legislature no later than November 30, 1968.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 58. Whenever the provisions of the professional negotiations law, chapter 28.72 RCW, as now or hereafter amended, applies to the faculty and staff of the said community colleges and vocational-technical institutes, it shall continue to apply after the effective date of this act, but negotiations and appeals shall be conducted with the respective board and the director of the state board for community college education.

The state board for community colleges shall prepare a study for presentation to the members of the forty-first legislature with respect to the applicability of such law to the state system of community colleges.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 59. Whenever, prior to the effective date of this act, the use of a single building facility is being shared between an existing community college program and a K-12 program, hereafter the respective boards shall continue to share the use of the facility until such time as it is convenient to remove one of the two programs to another facility. The determination of convenience shall be based solely upon the best interests of the students involved.

Whenever a community college district board and a common school district board are sharing the use of a single facility, the program occupying the majority of the space of such facility, exclusive of space utilized equally by both, shall determine which board will be charged with the administration and control of such facility. The determination of occupancy shall be based upon the space occupied as of January 1, 1967.

The board which is charged with the administration and control of such facility may share expenses with the other board for the use of the facility.

In the event that the two boards are unable to agree upon which board is to administer and control the facility or upon a fair share of expenses for the use of the facility, the governor shall appoint an arbitrator to settle the matter. The decisions of the arbitrator shall be final and binding upon both boards. The expenses of the arbitration shall be divided equally by each board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 60. Whenever a common school board has contracted to redeem general obligation bonds used for the construction or acquisition of facilities which are now to be under the administration, control and occupancy of the community college district board, the common school board shall continue to redeem the bonds in accordance with the provisions of the bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 61. In all cases where an existing office, board, commission, bureau, or department of the state is abolished by this act, or where the powers and duties vested in, and required to be performed by, any existing officer, board, commission, common school district board, bureau, or department, are transferred to, vested in and required to be performed by, an existing or a newly created department, council, district board, state board, or a state officer, all books, papers, maps, charts, plans, records, and all other equipment or property in the possession of such existing officer, board, commission, common school district board, bureau or department or any officer or member thereof, and pending business in any way pertaining to the powers and duties of such office, board, commission, bureau, or department abolished by this act, shall be delivered and transferred to the administrative and executive head of the department, the council, district board, state board, or state officer to which his or its powers and duties are transferred. In case such powers and duties are divided between two or more departments, councils, district boards, state boards, committees, or state officers, each shall receive such books, papers, maps, charts, plans, records, other equipment and property, and pending business as pertain to the powers and duties transferred to that department, council, district board, state board, or officer. In all cases where any question shall arise as to the proper custody of any such books, papers, maps, charts, plans, records, other equipment and property, and pending business, the governor shall settle the dispute.

All parties to such transfer are hereby directed to cooperate to the extent that the changeover shall be accomplished in the best interest of education and the people served by such state board, department, council, or district board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 62. All petitions, hearings, and other proceedings pending before any existing officer, board, commission, bureau, common school district board, or department which is abolished by this act, or the powers and duties of which are vested in, and required to be performed by, an existing or newly created department, or state officer, and all prosecutions, legal or other proceedings and investigations begun by any such officer, board, commission, bureau, or department, and not completed at the time of the taking effect of this act, shall continue and remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the passage of this act, and may be completed before or by the department, board, council or district board, or officer which succeeds to the powers and duties of such office, board, commission, bureau, or department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 63. All orders, rules, and regulations made by any existing officer, board, commission, bureau, common school district board, or department which is abolished by this act, or the powers and duties of which are vested in, and required to be performed by, an existing or newly created department, board, council, or district board, or a state officer, shall remain in full force and effect until revoked, or modified in accordance with law by the department, board, council, or district board, or officer which succeeds to the powers and duties of such existing office, board, commission, district board, bureau, or department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 64. All existing contracts and obligations of the officers, boards, commissions, bureaus, departments, common school district boards, abolished by this act, or the powers and duties of which are vested in, and required to be performed by, an existing or newly created department, council, board, district board, or a state officer, shall remain in full force and effect, and shall be performed by the respective departments, council, board, district board, or state officers to which the powers and duties of such existing office, board, commission, bureau, department or district board are transferred.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 65. All reports required by law to be made by any existing office, board, commission, bureau, department, district board, abolished by this act, or the powers and duties of which are vested in, and required to be performed by, an existing or newly created department, board, council, district board, created by this act, or a state officer, shall hereafter be made by the executive and administrative head of the department, or board, council, district board or officer to which the powers and duties of such existing office, board, commission, bureau, department or district board are transferred.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 66. In all cases where by this act power is vested in a department or officer to inspect, examine, secure data or information from, or procure assistance from, another department or officer, it shall be the duty of such other department or officer to submit to such inspection or examination, and to furnish the data, information, or assistance required.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 67. In all cases where any powers and duties, which have heretofore been vested in, or performed by, any existing officer, board, commission, common school district board, bureau or department, or any deputy or subordinate officer thereof, are by this act transferred, either in whole or in part, to, or vested in and required to be performed by, an existing or newly created department, or state officer, such powers and duties shall be vested in, and shall be performed by, the department, council board, district board, or officer to which the same are hereby transferred, and not otherwise. And every act done in the exercise of such powers and duties shall have the same legal effect as if done by the former officer, board, commission, bureau, common school district board, or department or any deputy or subordinate officer thereof. Every person and corporation shall be subject to the same obligations and duties, and shall have the same rights arising from the exercise of such powers and the performance of such duties, as if such powers and duties were exercised and performed by the officer, board, commission, bureau, district board, or department, or any deputy or subordinate officer thereof, designated in the respective laws which are to be administered by the departments, council, board, district boards, or state officers to which such powers and duties are transferred.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 68. In all cases where an existing office, board, commission, bureau, department, or common school district board is abolished by this act, or where the powers and duties vested in, and required to be performed by, any existing officer, board, commission, bureau, department or district board are transferred to, vested in, and required to be performed by an existing or newly created department, council, state board, or district board, or a state officer, all teachers and other employees of such office, board, common school district board, commission, bureau, or department so abolished, or the powers and duties of which are so transferred, as the director of the department or council, state board, or district board, or officer to which the powers and duties of such office, board, commission, bureau, district board, or department are transferred may select, shall continue to perform their usual duties upon the same terms and conditions as heretofore, until removed, or appointed to positions in accordance with the provisions of this act relative to such department, board, or district board or transferred to some other department, board, or district board. In all cases where the powers and duties of any such existing office, board, commission, bureau, district board, or department are divided between departments, boards, council, district boards, or state officers, each of such departments, committees, or officers shall receive, on the above terms and conditions, such of the employees of said office, board, commission, bureau, or department as are selected by the respective directors of the department, or by the council, state board, or district board, or state officer to which the functions thereof are by this act transferred.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 69. The appropriations made to the state board for vocational education abolished by this chapter shall be transferred to and made available to the coordinating council for occupational education in accordance with the powers, duties and functions assigned to it by this act. Appropriations for the exercise of powers, duties and functions transferred to the state board for community college education from the state board of education shall be transferred to and made available to the state board for community college education in accordance with the provisions of section 70 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 70. The transfer of equipment, funds and appropriations from the state board of education to the state board for community college education, as provided in sections 59 through 70 of this act, shall be accomplished in accordance with apportionments among the several agencies by the director of the budget, who shall have due consideration to the total of the appropriations to the several agencies, the size and nature of the functions to be transferred and the feasibility of segregating such equipment to the various functions. The director of the budget shall certify such apportionments to the agencies affected and to the state auditor, the state treasurer and department of general administration, each of whom shall make the appropriate transfers and adjustments in their funds and appropriation accounts and equipment records in accordance with such certification.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 71. All funds remaining to the credit of the various special service revolving funds created pursuant to RCW 28.84.290 (herein repealed) shall be disbursed in accordance with the provisions of RCW 28.84.290 until July 1, 1967, thereafter such funds shall be transferred to the community college district boards of trustees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 72. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 73. The following acts or parts of acts are each hereby repealed:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 74. Notwithstanding any other statutory provision relating to indebtedness of school districts, bonds heretofore issued by any common school district for the purpose of providing funds for community college facilities shall not be considered as indebtedness in determining the maximum allowable indebtedness under any statutory limitation of indebtedness when the sum of all indebtedness therein does not exceed the maximum constitutional allowable indebtedness applied to the value of the taxable property contained in such school district; Provided, That nothing contained herein shall be construed to affect the distribution of state funds under any applicable distribution formula.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 75. Until the community college district board has actually assumed the duties and responsibilities of the administration, management, or development of existing or authorized community college facilities, those duties and responsibilities shall continue to be discharged by the common school district operating or developing such community college facilities on the effective date hereof.

Where contracts have been let by the common school board pursuant to present law for the purpose of acquisition, construction, repair or modification of an existing community college facility such projects shall be completed under the administration of the common school board, superintendent of public instruction and/or the state board of education, and payments thereto shall be made from such funds as are allocated thereto.

Sec. 76. Section 1, chapter 169, Laws of 1947, as last amended by section 1, chapter 103, Laws of 1965 and RCW 28.58.360 are each amended to read as follows:

The school directors' association may establish a graduated schedule of dues for members of the association based upon the number of certificated personnel in each district. Dues shall be established for the directors of each district as a group. The total of all dues assessed shall not exceed twenty-two cents for each one thousand dollars of the state-wide total of all school districts' general fund receipts. The board of directors of a school district shall make provision for payment out of the general fund of the district of the dues of association members resident in the district, which payment shall be made in the manner provided by law for the payment of other claims against the general fund of the district. The dues for each school district shall be due and payable on the first day of January of each year, and if not paid by any district before the thirty-first day of December of any year the executive committee of the association may present a written request to the county auditor that such payment be made by him by transfer of funds from the general fund of the district. Upon receipt of such request the county auditor shall make such transfer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 77. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, the board of directors of any public school district located in any county of the second, first, A or AA class wherein there is an existing vocational-technical institute, may elect to have such vocational-technical institute remain a part of the public school system rather than have such institute become a part of the state community college system: Provided, That within thirty days after the effective date of this act, any school district operating a vocational-technical institute which operates independently of any existing community college as of January 1, 1967 may elect to remain independent of any community college by resolution of the board of directors of such district: and Provided Further, That any public school district may relinquish administrative control over a vocational-technical institute at the beginning of any fiscal biennium if by resolution dated before the preceding January 1st it shall so inform the state board of education and the state and district community college boards.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 78. It is the intent of this legislature that the college board provide for the four community colleges authorized by section 3, chapter 159, Laws of 1965 extraordinary session, and for which local funds for construction have been voted as of the effective date of this act, funds equivalent to those that would have been provided by matching ratios and construction costs in effect on January 1, 1967.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 79. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

It was moved by Senator Sandison that the report of the Free Conference Committee on Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 548 be adopted.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Andersen:

"Mr. President, would Senator McCormack yield to a few questions:

"The point of some controversy and I know a lot of concern to the Free Conference Committee, Senator McCormack, as it has been previously here on the floor of the Senate, has been what is now new section 78. This is the section that you just referred to and I would like to ask you a couple of questions concerning the intent of the Free Conference Committee and accordingly the intent of this body if we adopt the Free Conference Committee report concerning new section 78. You said, Senator McCormack, this would provide approximately $1. million computed in accordance with this for the district that I represent, for the Bellevue Community College, is that approximately correct?"

Senator McCormack:

"That is true."

Senator Andersen:

"Now in connection with this new section 78, it is still my understanding, Senator McCormack, that the scheme of this Free Conference report bill now, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 548, that insofar as these funds are concerned, these matching ratios, this is still basically a discretionary matter with the new community college board if this act passes, is that correct?"

Senator McCormack:

"That is correct."

Senator Andersen:

"Then in that connection and in connection with the deliberations of the Free Conference Committee, is it fair to say that you people found it necessary, in order to provide for these four new colleges, including Bellevue, to make a generic category as it were, rather than picking out each one and providing what you thought each one should get? In other words, you have to pick a general category to put in the law so that you are not specifically legislating relating to each community college?"

Senator McCormack:

"Yes, Senator."

Senator Andersen:

"Now would it be fair to ask you, whether or not it is opinion of the Free Conference Committee that the situation in Bellevue which I went on at considerable length to discuss and which the Free Conference Committee reported on in some considerable length, is really in the most difficulty, the one with the most serious problems of this category of community colleges, to which new section 78 refers?"

Senator McCormack:

"Yes, there is no question of that. We did recognize Bellevue has the most critical situation of any community college in the state."

Senator Andersen:

"Then in the various answers to these various questions that I have proposed and you have been kind enough to answer, do I understand that there is some discretion involved to take care of this situation on the part of the new community college board?"

Senator McCormack:

"That is correct."

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich:

"Would Senator McCormack yield:

"Senator, I'm sorry I was at the rostrum when you started discussing this. Are we to the point of accepting your conference report at this time?"

Senator McCormack:

"The motion is to accept the Conference Committee report."

Senator Mardesich:

"And this bill, as I understand it as set up would give only to those junior colleges which were established last session the break on the tax money that people locally put into the community college system?"

Senator McCormack:

"No, Senator Mardesich, it is not. The intent of the committee was to draw attention to the inequality that existed during the last two years in these four districts, the new community colleges authorized since the passage of House Bill No. 104 and funded under Referendum No. 15. Because they were funded under Referendum No. 15, they were not supplied with the same matching ratios as the other community colleges. The intent of the Conference Committee report is to call attention to the needs of these community colleges, by suggesting that they be treated the same as other community colleges have been treated in the past in their construction programs. This does not deal in any way with the retirement of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the common school districts."

Senator Mardesich:

"There is no provision in this bill at all for refunding any outstanding debt of any community college?"

Senator McCormack:

"That is correct."

Senator Mardesich:

"And this indicates the intent is that we should put those authorized at the last session on equal basis with those matching money before?"

Senator McCormack:

"That is correct."

Senator Mardesich:

"Who is to determine what is to be done and how?"

Senator McCormack:

"The state board of community colleges which will be administering the disposition of funds for construction of community colleges."

Senator Mardesich:

"Could they then determine what the formula would be at their own discretion?"

Senator McCormack:

"Yes, they could, and they could provide more money."

Senator Mardesich:

"So in effect they can do anything they want under this bill as it is now drawn? They can refund everything for which those schools contracted?"

Senator McCormack:

"No, all they can do is provide money for construction of community college facilities."

Senator Mardesich:

"The state board of community colleges can decide what will revert to Bellevue area and the total bonded indebtedness that they desire?"

Senator McCormack:

"No, they could not, Senator."

Senator Mardesich:

"Why not? Where is the prohibition?"

Senator McCormack:

"The bill provides that the money for community college construction shall be for community college construction. Now I presume, Senator, that if the Bellevue school board were to decide that it does not want to build a community college at all with any local money and can stop operations and then come in at a later date for a community college, the request might be honored, but it would delay their entire program."

Senator Mardesich:

"But it could be done?"

Senator McCormack:

"Yes."

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Gissberg that Senator Durkan make a report as to the progress of Engrossed House Bills No. 207 and 208 under consideration in Free Conference Committee.

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried on a rising vote.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Durkan:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"In response to Senator Gissberg's question, and trying to keep within the rules of the Conference Committee, I would like to say that we have, on the major issues, made absolutely no progress. We have resolved the minor differences. We have come to agreement on most of the things which the Conference Committee has talked about in many areas, but in the real true sense has the Conference Committee made any progress, the answer is absolutely no.

"Now we have met longer on this Conference Committee than any Conference Committee I have been a member of and the one thing, with all due respect to the members of the Conference Committee and I in no way wish to detract from their ability or earnestness in trying to resolve the budget of Engrossed House Bills No. 207 and 208, but the question simply is that every time we get down to start talking about the major issues, the spectre of the Governor's tax package in the House hangs over us and the issue is simply this: Until the Governor has made a determination that his tax bill can or cannot pass, it is absolutely useless for this Conference Committee to meet. I don't want to say anything that would in any way detract from the Republican members who have been on this Conference Committee, but I think we are all in agreement that until the issue of the tax reform, as the Governor calls it on his side, has either been voted up or voted down in the House, we are not going to come to an end in this legislative session.

"Now we are sitting up there and going through the motions on many of the small things, but on the major issue, it still depends upon the Governor. Now how long this session lasts will depend upon when the Governor makes a determination to bring his tax reform on the floor to see whether it has enough votes or not, or whether he makes the determination that he is not going to bring his tax reform out and he so informs the conferees on the committee so we can then go ahead and settle the budget.

"Now I have kept in my committee the sales tax which was passed by the House of Representatives. I have kept it alive and given the Governor that much of a chance in the event that he would get his tax reform over to the Senate. But if it is going to bring this thing to a head, it is my intention that that sales tax will be on the floor in the near future so that we can tell the Governor what position the Senate wants to take on his sales tax.

"Now I am hopeful that the Governor will move his House leadership and either tell them to bring his tax reform to a vote or tell them to tell the minority in the House, the Democrats, that as far as he is concerned this session, his tax increase package is dead. When that is done, we in the Conference Committee as far as the Democrats are concerned, and I am sure as far as the Republicans are concerned, can come in with a compromise budget which the legislature can then vote on and we can go home because there is no question in my mind we can adjourn just the moment the Governor makes the determination what he wants to do. We are waiting here for his actions."

Senator Neill:

"Mr. President, I guess we are going to be here a while because you boys have seen fit to inject pure politics into a serious problem of our Conference Committee trying to find a sensible solution to the matter of state expenditures for the next two years. This is only part of the story which you have heard. I think you are all aware of this. I think we have worked pretty well in the Conference Committee trying to work out differences and what truly are the relatively minor items of departments and agencies, but we still have the basic issue of a budget that is badly out of balance. Now it is badly out of balance because of the action of this Senate. It is badly out of balance because you have seen fit to put phoney, counterfeit money in. You think the school people are hollering about phoney money. Look what you are doing to our own budget in revenue estimates on this side. We can't pass that out of the Conference Committee in the present status of the income and revenue aspects of this state, with or without the Governor's tax reform package.

"Now, true, I wish we would get some action here, too. I would like to go home. But it seems like every time that our cohorts in the House think maybe they can get things going, that the chairman of the Senate Ways and Means goes over there and peels off the votes. This is part of the game. I'm not critical of this. I think it's all right, but this all takes time, gentlemen. It's all going to have to take a little time. But even if the House does pass or if the House does not pass the Governor's tax reform package, the fact remains that the budget which this Conference Committee is working on is so far out of balance that it's going to be a major job to get this into focus where we can adjourn and go home, so I guess that's the minority report from the Conference Committee, Counsel."

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President:

"I hadn't intended to say anything, Senator, but it is our position, of course, speaking for the Democratic conferees, that the budget is not out of balance. In fact, the evidence we had the other day at our meeting with the economists of the state, the Washington Research Council for one, substantiates the Democratic position that there is an additional thirty or forty million dollars in revenue over and above the estimate by the Governor's Budget Department, so if that figure is accepted, of course, the budget is not out of balance.

"Again just last night I checked with Mr. O'Brien, the State Treasurer, who tells me that instead of $81 million, there is now $101 million and by June 30th the surplus figure will be raised further. If that's true, we will have an additional $30 million. We have heard the testimony of the so-called experts of the Governor, some thirteen in number, as to the estimated revenue for next biennium. Cross examination the other day pointed out that even by your own figures, there is a margin of error of two percent on the surplus side and two percent on the minus side, or a four percent margin even on their own figures, so at least there is $40 million in that.

"We have been over this very carefully. It is the purpose of the Conference Committee to resolve these differences between the two positions. It seems to me at this time if we can come together and perhaps come part way — maybe our figure is too high, but your figure is certainly too low — perhaps we could agree on a figure in between $20 or $25 million. If we can do that perhaps we can come to a new figure on the budget. The truth of the matter is it is just like Senator Durkan has said. So far this has really been a waste of time to me because we have to resolve this tax problem. Perhaps this stand made sense two weeks ago, even perhaps it made sense last week. But now the time has come when we have to ask: Will we ever resolve the problem? Is the Governor going to just stand still and say he refuses to change his position until you give in to my proposition? I don't think that is the democratic process at all. I don't think it is fair to the people of the state of Washington. I feel that under the Democratic version proposed by the Ways and Means Committee and Senator Durkan, we were able to realistically budget our moneys to satisfy the school people and the institutions and so on and to come out with a balanced budget without any new taxes. As I have said before, I think it is chaotic and idiotic to attempt to tax people further when we have a surplus. Let's spend this surplus first and then tax the people.

"Senator, with those words, I think we can all go to lunch."

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President, not quite yet:

"I'm not quite as hungry as some. I ate breakfast late.

"Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am sorry that we got into this argument, at this time of the day, and at this point in the session. Now the facts of the matter are this: The budget has been passed by the House and the budget has been passed by the Senate and it is now in Conference Committee, both the capital and the general fund spending budget. It is also true that the taxes to balance the House version of this budget have already been passed by the House and that is over here now. It has not to my knowledge even been considered in the Senate Ways and Means Committee. The problem is not the tax reform package which is now hanging on the calendar or in Rules Committee in the House. The problem is the balancing of the budget, which is in conference, and with the tax package or with the taxes that have been passed by the House. The tax reform bill has nothing to do with the balancing of this biennium budget.

"Now certainly the Governor is trying to get his tax reform package passed so it can go on the ballot and the people can vote on it and we can use it in the next biennium if we so desire, and the spectre of the Governor is, as Senator Durkan has said, in the Conference Committee so far as this tax reform bill is concerned, and in the halls of the House, so far as getting enough votes to pass it, but the spectre of the Governor is continually running up against the spectre of a candidate for Governor who is working on the other side of the street and every time there are enough votes to pass it over there, this other spectre comes along and through some legerdemain has been able to peel off two or three so that the bill cannot be passed.

"Now who is holding things up? Let's get these two spectres working together. Let's get this tax reform bill over here in the Senate where we can take a look at it and where the adverse spectres, shall we call them, can be presented to us on the Senate floor and make a decision whether or not we want to put this into the Constitution or kill it or what. But so far as the Conference Committee on the budget is concerned, it can go ahead and do the job and come out with this report and at the same time we should have another Conference Committee on the tax to balance that budget, so that regardless of what happens to the tax reform bill, we are ready to wind up our business and go home."

SECOND READING OF BILLS

Senate Bill No. 122, by Senators Dore, Kupka, Keefe, Washington, Rasmussen, Knoblauch and Hallauer (by Facilities and Operations Committee request):

Regulating legislative lobbying.

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 122 on second reading and the amendment proposed by Senator Dore.

It was moved by Senator Dore that the following amendment by Senator Uhlman to the amendment by Senators Dore and Gissberg be adopted:

On page 2, section 3, subsection (2), line 16 of the amendment by Senators Dore and Gissberg, after "legislation" insert "or in corresponding and/or telephoning with members of the legislature or the governor in connection therewith"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman:

"Would Senator Dore yield:

"Senator Dore, this bill came out very hastily without apparently too much chance for study by the members of the legislature. I have several questions, one of which is under section two where it says, with or without pay or compensation, so I would presume that would cover a person who came down here on his own representing another group, representing persons other than himself. I notice in section three, subsection one, it reads here on behalf of himself, so he is excluded then, but otherwise, let's take the example of Senator Jackson who comes to the legislature not only on his own behalf, but on behalf of the very active and able committee against meddling with the forty mill limit, would he have to register as a lobbyist?

Senator Dore:

"No."

Senator Uhlman:

"Well, would any individual who came down here free, accepting no compensation, on behalf of the retarded children's association or the P.-T.A. have to register?"

Senator Dore:

"Senator, in answer to your first question with reference to Senator Jackson, he would be exempt under section three, subsection five."

Senator Uhlman:

"No, no you've got the wrong Senator Jackson. I mean former Senator Jackson of this body, 'Forty Mill Jackson.'"

Senator Dore:

"Oh, 'Forty Mill Jackson.' Yes, he would have to register."

Senator Uhlman:

"Why should he register if he is down here on good government and he's down here representing himself and others who agree with him?"

Senator Dore:

"Senator, all lobbyists are in Olympia for good government but thirty-eight states have language that spells out this problem and have a registration of lobbyists. This is just a registration of lobbyists to give their name and address and who they represent and if they spend any money that they file returns sixty days after the session ends. If they don't spend any money, they are relieved of any obligation to file anything. They have to do that now. If they come down and lobby, they have to register with the respective houses, the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, so the only thing we are adding to it, in the event they spend money, within sixty days after the session they must file expenses. If they spend no money, this particular bill has no application."

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the amendment to the amendment was adopted.

It was moved by Senator Dore, that the following amendment by Senator Mardesich to the amendment by Senators Dore and Gissberg be adopted:

On page 1, section 1, subsection (3), line 13 of the amendment by Senators Dore and Gissberg, after "persons" strike the semicolon and insert ". The term does not include a member or member-elect of either house of the state legislature."

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the amendment was adopted.

It was moved by Senator Rasmussen that the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Dore and Gissberg be adopted.

On page 2, section 2, subsection (3) the last line thereof, strike "two" and insert "six"

Debate ensued.

The motion was lost on a rising vote and the amendment was not adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President, would Senator Dore yield to a question:

"Senator, I'm still a little confused about the first subsection in section three which says 'that the activities of a person promoting the passage, legislative approval, or veto by the Governor in his own behalf and not as a representative, agent or employee of another person.'

"Now many times we have interested people who come to the legislature who are not particularly representing themselves but who have been urged by some friends or groups to make presentations to a member of the legislature they may happen to know on a certain bill, and maybe they come here just once or maybe they call once or maybe write a letter once. Now they are not representing themselves really on this. Many times they are representing some group who has urged them to do this, for instance, some of the P.-T.A. groups or something like that. Now is this person going to have to register and file expenses and all this sort of thing?"

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President:

"In answering Senator Ryder, the answer is, no. He is not exempt under the section you have read, but he is exempt under section three, subsection three, appearing or testifying before a committee in support of any legislation."

Senator Ryder:

"The person I described would not necessarily be appearing before a committee. They may only write a letter or make a phone call to a legislator, or perhaps send in a note and say they would like to talk to you about it."

Senator Dore:

"Senator, we exempted out letters and phone calls. If you exempt out compensation, you strip the bill of any meaning. We exempted out letters and phone calls at Senator Uhlman's suggestions, even though you are compensated, and appearing and testifying for or against a measure before a committee, we exempted this out. When you start contacting legislators personally, then you are lobbying under the terms of this act then you should register as is now required. The only thing this really requires you to do that you don't do now, is that if you spend any money you file this report."

Senator Ryder:

"One more question: As a concrete example, supposing a member of the P.-T.A. in my district came down and sent in a note saying, 'I'm for Bruno's budget on schools.' Now this person doesn't register at this time. He doesn't register with the President of the Senate or the Speaker of the House. He merely comes to Olympia more or less on his own but still representing the P.-T.A. you might say, and he says, 'I would like to have you support this or that particular school legislation.' That may be the only time he is down here."

Senator Dore:

"Senator, in answering the question, the example you gave me would not be under the act because in that case your party would be acting on behalf of herself. In other words, she probably has children and thinks it is to her interest to support the Bruno budget, and this type of person certainly could say, 'I'm for Bruno's budget,' so the example you gave me would not meet the requirement of this act nor is there now any requirement. This is not going to be any more rigid than the requirements we now have under our own rules except this act does require within sixty days after the session, the lobbyists give a statement of the contributions or the money they spent to influence legislation. Now that's the only additional thing over the requirements we now have, that they have to file this financial statement at the end of the session. In the type of example you gave me of course they spend no money at all and so that type of person does not register or file a statement. They do not register now, so they would not register under this act."

Senator Ryder:

"One further question: Suppose the person we just spoke about was the President of the P-T.A. and they had a meeting and directed the President to come down and contact me and urge me to vote yes or no on a certain bill, and the President of the P-T.A. came down representing them and maybe was paid for mileage and lunch when he came down by the funds of the P-T.A. but just down and back in one day. Is he going to have to register and is he going to have to file?"

Senator Dore:

"My answer would be the same. In other words, if it is just the personal expenses and meals, they are exempted out of this act entirely. They are not required to register now. The President of the P-T.A. I would say is merely reflective of his own thinking."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Metcalf that Senate Bill No. 122 be referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Debate ensued.

It was moved by Senator Gissberg that the motion by Senator Metcalf be laid upon the table.

Senator Dore demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Mardesich, Connor, Rasmussen, Talley, Gissberg, Hanna, Peterson (Lowell) and Ryder.

Senators Dore, Connor and Mardesich demanded a Call of the Senate.

The motion for a Call of the Senate was lost on a rising vote.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the motion by Senator Gissberg. The motion was carried and the motion by Senator Metcalf was laid upon the table by the following vote: Yeas, 25; nays, 19; absent or not voting, 4; excused, 1.

Those voting yea were: Senators Bailey, Connor, Cooney, Donohue, Dore, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Hallauer, Hanna, Herrmann, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, McMillan, Mardesich, Marquardt, Morgan, Peterson (Lowell), Rasmussen, Ridder, Sandison, Talley, Washington—25.

Those voting nay were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Canfield, Chytil, Freise, Guess, Lennart, Lewis, Metcalf, Neill, Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Redmon, Ryder, Stender, Twigg, Uhlman, Williams, Woodall—19.

Absent or not voting: Senators Durkan, Henry, McCormack, McCutcheon—4.

Excused: Senator Herr—1.

It was moved by Senator Uhlman that the following amendment by Senator Uhlman to the amendment by Senators Dore and Gissberg be adopted:

On page 1, Sec. 2 (1), line 19 of the amendment by Senators Dore and Gissberg, after "consideration" strike "or without pay or other consideration"

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the amendment by Senator Uhlman to the amendment by Senators Dore and Gissberg was adopted.

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Senate Bill No. 122 was ordered to retain its place on the second reading calendar for tomorrow.

On page 6, section 9, line 33, after "amount" and before "as" insert "higher or lower".

On page 7, section 10, line 11, after "fund" and before the period insert ": Provided, That no part of the $32,000,000 bond issue shall be sold unless there are insufficient funds in the common school construction fund to meet appropriations authorized by this Act as evidenced by a joint agreement entered into between the governor and the superintendent of public instruction"

Robert C. Ridder, Chairman

We concur in this report: Reuben A. Knoblauch, Jack Metcalf, John T. McCutcheon, David E. McMillan, Ted G. Peterson, Nat Washington.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Dore, the committee amendments were laid upon the table.

On motion of Senator Dore, the following amendments by Senators Dore, Durkan, Foley and Ryder were adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. For the purpose of furnishing funds for state assistance to school districts in providing common school plant facilities and modernization of existing common school plant facilities, there shall be issued and sold limited obligation bonds of the state of Washington in the sum of twenty-two million dollars to be paid and discharged not more than twenty years after the date of issuance. The issuance, sale and retirement of said bonds shall be under the general supervision and control of the state finance committee: Provided, That no part of the twenty-two million dollar bond issue shall be sold unless there are insufficient funds in the common school construction fund to meet appropriations authorized by this act as evidenced by a joint agreement entered into between the governor and the superintendent of public instruction.

The state finance committee is authorized to prescribe the forms of such bonds; the provisions of sale of all or any portion or portions of such bonds; the terms, provisions, and covenants of said bonds, and the sale, issuance and redemption thereof. None of the bonds herein authorized shall be sold for less than the par value thereof.

The committee may provide that the bonds, or any of them, may be called prior to the maturity date thereof under such terms, conditions, and provisions as it may determine and may authorize the use of facsimile signatures in the issuance of such bonds and upon any coupons attached thereto. Such bonds shall be payable at such places as the state finance committee may provide.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The common school building construction account of the general fund is hereby created as an account of the general fund and the proceeds from the sale of the bonds authorized by this act shall be deposited therein and shall be used exclusively for the purposes of carrying out the provisions of this act, and for payment of the expense incurred in the printing, issuance and sale of such bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall distinctly state that they are not a general obligation bond of the state, but are payable in the manner provided in this act from that portion of the common school construction fund derived from the interest on the permanent common school fund. That portion of the common school construction fund derived from interest on the permanent common school fund is hereby pledged to the payment of any bonds and the interest thereon issued under the provisions of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The common school building bond redemption fund of 1967 is hereby created in the state treasury which fund shall be exclusively devoted to the retirement of the bonds and interest authorized by this act. The state finance committee shall, on or before June thirtieth of each year, certify to the state treasurer the amount needed in the ensuing twelve months to meet interest payments on and retirement of bonds authorized by this act. On July first of each year the state treasurer shall transfer such amount to the common school building bond redemption fund of 1967 from moneys in the common school construction fund certified by the state finance committee to be interest on the permanent common school fund and such amount certified by the state finance committee to the state treasurer shall be a prior charge against that portion of the common school construction fund derived from interest on the permanent common school fund.

The owner and holder of each of said bonds or the trustee for any of the bonds may by mandamus or other appropriate proceeding require and compel the transfer and payment of funds as directed herein.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The legislature may provide additional means for raising funds for the payment of interest and principal of the bonds authorized by this act and this act shall not be deemed to provide an exclusive method of payment. The power given to the legislature by this section is permissive and shall not be construed to constitute a pledge of general credit of the state of Washington.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The bonds herein authorized shall be fully negotiable instruments and shall be legal investment for all state funds or for funds, under state control and all funds of municipal corporations, and shall be legal security for all state, county and municipal deposits.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act funds appropriated to the state board of education from the common school building construction account of the general fund or the common school construction fund shall be allotted by the state board of education in accordance with the provisions of sections 7 through 15, chapter 3, Laws of 1961, extraordinary session: Provided, That no allotment shall be made to a school district for the purpose aforesaid until such district has provided funds for school building construction purposes through the issuance of bonds or through the authorization of excess tax levies or both in an amount equivalent to ten percent of its taxable valuation or such amount as may be required by the state board of education. The state board of education shall prescribe and make effective such rules and regulations as are necessary to equate insofar as possible the efforts made by school districts to provide capital funds by the means aforesaid.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. There is hereby appropriated to the state board of education the following sums, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the act: (1) twenty-two million dollars from the common school building construction account and (2) twenty-nine million, seven hundred forty-four thousand five hundred and fifty-four dollars from the common school construction fund.

In accordance with section 7, the state board of education is authorized to allocate for the purposes of carrying out the provisions of this act the sum of sixty-three million nine hundred thousand dollars: Provided, That expenditures against such allocation shall not exceed the amount appropriated in this section: Provided Further, That no part of the allocation provided in this section in excess of the total amount appropriated by this act shall be allocated unless joint agreement of its necessity shall be determined by the governor and the superintendent of public instruction.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. If any section, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase or word of this act should be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such act shall not affect nor impair the validity or constitutionality of any other section, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase or word of this act. It is hereby declared that had any section, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase or word as to which this act is declared invalid been eliminated from the act at the time the same was considered, the act would have nevertheless been enacted with such portions eliminated.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and for the support of state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Beginning on line 1 of the title strike all of the title and insert the following:

"AN ACT Relating to the common schools and the support thereof; authorizing the sale of limited obligation bonds and the use of the proceeds for needed common school plant facilities, modernization of existing common school facilities; providing ways and means to pay said bonds; making appropriations; and declaring an emergency."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gissberg:

"Mr. President, would Senator Ryder yield to a question:

"Would you just indicate what formula you would now be using for the distribution of these funds?"

Senator Ryder:

"Yes, Senator Gissberg, I should have mentioned that point.

"The formula for the distribution of these funds to the local school districts will be the same formula that we have been using for the past several bienniums. The formula which was contained in the original Senate Bill No. 375 has been stricken out of this bill and the bill directs the State Board of Education to distribute money to the districts on the same basis, using the same formula that we had been using previous to this biennium."

On motion of Senator Dore, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 375 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ridder:

"Mr. President, would Senator Ryder yield to a question:

"I notice in section 9, there will be allocated $64 million rather than $71 million which was originally provided. Excuse me. It is $63,900,000 rather than the $71 million originally allocated. Could you explain that reduction here?"

Senator Ryder:

"The reason for this is the estimate that will be available to the investment of the permanent school fund, the bonding capacity and the amount of the money that can be used without bonding adds up to $64 million. $29 million of course will be in cash without bonds, plus another $12 million which would be accumulated by the end of the biennium, plus the $22 million which is bonded, and would be supported by the common school construction fund. This adds up to $64 million instead of the $71 previously talked about."

Senator Ridder:

"This has been checked out and found to be accurate?"

Senator Ryder:

"This is right. This is agreed on by the Superintendent of Public Instruction and by the Central Budget Agency."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, would Senator Durkan yield to a question:

"Senator Durkan, could you tell us how many federal funds are available for this states participation?"

Senator Durkan:

"Mr. President:

"In terms of dollars, Senator, I don't know the exact amount."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Not dollars — the number of different funds."

Senator Durkan:

"Well, I know now that the state is presently participating in some sixty-two different federal programs within the state."

Senator Rasmussen:

"This would probably be expanded this session to another twenty-five or thirty?"

Senator Durkan:

"Mr. President:

"I don't know the answer, but I do know this: That for us to participate in certain federal aid and grant programs which are necessary and which are desirable, that these guidelines have to be enacted by the state. Otherwise, we cannot participate. Now, will this enlarge the number of federal aid programs in which the state is going to participate? The answer is yes, it will enlarge it as to the new, but probably those which we have participated in, they will cease, and so while it has had a flexibility, over the past four years the numbers have stayed approximately the same and that is somewhere between fifty and seventy."

Senator Rasmussen:

"And this will not stop them from participating but they just have to notify the Budget Committee so you will have some idea of the amount you will have to appropriate?"

Senator Durkan:

"That's what the amendment says, yes."

Debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"As I understand it, it would take a two-thirds majority to suspend the rules. We are only voting on the suspension of the rules in order that Senator Woodall can put his motion, and not the motion to reconsider, is that correct?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President believes the purpose of the motion—well, the President doesn't wish to read any particular meaning into the motion."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"Senator Woodall moved that we do now immediately reconsider and the President ruled that it would require a two-thirds majority for suspension of the rules in order that his motion would prevail. Now if we vote no, then we are only voting on the suspension of the rules, is that correct?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Rasmussen, in answer to your question, Senator Woodall's motion is a compound motion. It would be necessary to divide the question."

MOTION TO DIVIDE QUESTION

Senator Rasmussen:

"I so move, Mr. President."

The President:

"Senator Rasmussen has moved that the question be divided. The motion is for a suspension of Senate Rule No. 31. The motion before the Senate is that Senate Rule 31 be now suspended. Did you wish the roll call on this, Senator?"

Senator Hanna:

"I do indeed."

The President:

"The President will construe the demand for the roll call as sustained. A vote aye will be to suspend the rules. A vote nay will be not to suspend Senate Rule 31."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the motion to suspend Senate Rule No. 31 and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 25; nays, 22; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

MOTION

John A. Cherberg, President of the Senate.

Ward Bowden, Secretary of the Senate.

FIFTEENTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., Friday, March 24, 1967.

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Cherberg.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Sid Snyder II, Color Bearer, and Colleen Convis, presented the Colors.

Reverend Charles Loyer, pastor of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Our God and Father who from the beginning of time hast used the counsels of men to bring Thy will to pass, We thank Thee for the dedication and perseverance of this body. We are grateful that after a slow start they are finishing strongly, handling the difficult problems with wisdom and dispatch. And now as they take the turn of the home stretch be mindful of their individual needs. Those who are weary, strengthen. Those who are disappointed, bless. Those who have difficult decisions yet to make, enlighten.

"Help the legislators now to close ranks and to marshal their remaining resources for one final surge to win the prize of Thy approval and the praise and gratitude of the people. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

The Secretary read:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1967 - EX 21

By Senators Mardesich, Andersen, Keefe and Greive:

Whereas, It has been made to appear that various student groups at certain of the community colleges, state colleges and universities have been including the general public in their advertising and showing of entertaining as distinguished from educational motion pictures, for pay admission, which showing is in competition with the public offerings by theatre owners and operators; and

Whereas, Such showings, often involving the employment of non-union labor and the use of public buildings and facilities, is preeminently unfair to local theatre owners and operators, to organized labor, and to the whole tax paying public,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate of the state of Washington, in extraordinary session of the fortieth legislature assembled, that the presidents and governing bodies of the community colleges, state colleges and state universities be requested to take appropriate administrative action designed to eliminate the unfair practice of admitting the general public to student showings of entertainment films; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Senate Journal and copies thereof be mailed to the presidents and board chairmen of the said community colleges, state colleges and universities.

On motion of Senator Andersen, the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION 1967 - EX 22

By Senators Talley, Bailey and Lennart:

Whereas, The counties of the state of Washington perform county services in connection with income-producing public lands, in return for which no tax revenue is received by the counties; and

Whereas, The counties are hard pressed for necessary funds; and

Whereas, It is only equitable that they receive proper return for their services;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate that the legislative council be directed to study the provisions of Senate Bill No. 173, providing for payments in lieu of taxes on public lands; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the results of the study together with recommendations and proposed drafts of legislation be presented to the forty-first session of the legislature in January, 1969.

On motion of Senator Talley, the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION

1967 - EX 23

By Senator Woodall:

Whereas, The administrative procedure act was first enacted in 1959 and has been amended in subsequent sessions, including the 1967 regular session; and

Whereas, Laws relating to the procedures of particular administrative agencies remain in conflict with the administrative procedure act, as amended, and have not been amended to conform to such Act; and

Whereas, There are approximately one hundred sixty state agencies in varying degrees of conformity with the administrative procedure act; and

Whereas, The recent state supreme court case of Washington State Board Against Discrimination v. Board of Directors, Olympia School District casts doubt as to the extent the administrative procedure act prevails over conflicting special legislation relating to particular agencies;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate that the legislative council conduct the study required by RCW 34.04.160 of statutes authorizing specific agencies to enact rules and regulations and to prepare legislation eliminating conflict therein with the provisions of the administrative procedures act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

On motion of Senator Woodall, the resolution was adopted.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed a special committee consisting of Senators Bailey, Greive, Atwood and Ryder to escort Senator Marshall A. Neill to a place of honor upon the rostrum.

The Secretary read:

SENATE RESOLUTION

1967 - EX 24

By Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Chytil, Connor, Cooney, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Faulk, Foley, Freise, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Herr, Herrmann, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, Lewis, Mardesich, Marquardt, McCormack, McCutcheon, McMillan, Metcalf, Morgan, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Rasmussen, Redmon, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Washington, Williams and Woodall:

Whereas, The Senate has long recognized the judicial temperament, legal skill, political wisdom, and leadership ability of Senator Marshall A. Neill; and

Whereas, In 1959, the members of the Senate recommended to the President of the United States of America that Senator Neill be appointed to a vacancy then existing in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Washington; and

Whereas, We regard the announcement of his appointment to the State Supreme Court as a proper reward well deserved for faithful service to the people of the state, a reward full of promise of continuing even if not greater service to the people of the state in years ahead on the bench;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate, that we hereby congratulate the Governor on the announcement of his appointment of Senator Neill to the Supreme Court; we take vicarious pleasure in the recognition of Senator Neill's skill, judgment and learning; and, we express our concern for the imminent loss of his counsel on the floor of the Senate, in committee and in the halls, we wish him well in his new venture, and while we recognize there are those who would dispute which is the higher calling, we nevertheless regard the appointment the attainment of the highest of goals in the service of his profession and the people of the state, and take pleasure in the satisfaction it will bring.

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Ryder that the resolution be adopted.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"We all have served many years with Senator Neill. I first served with him in the House of Representatives some fourteen years ago and since my coming to the Senate and his coming to the Senate, have served with him here. Most of us who have been in the Senate a few sessions have come to appreciate the tremendous ability that Senator Neill has, the ability to compromise, the ability to work things out, the ability to get things done in the interest of the people of the state.

"Certainly we in the legislature are going to miss him terrifically and miss his judicial judgment. But I would like to join and add to this resolution the well deserved congratulations and praise that he should have in going to the Supreme Court. Here we will have a man who has the right kind of temperament, a man who has the judicial temperament to make the right decisions in the interest of the people and in the interest of the law, and I think the people of the state of Washington should be very proud that they have such a man as Senator Neill available for appointment to the highest court in the state. I hope that you will all join with me and with all of his associates in congratulating him not only for the fine work that he has done in the public service, but in the fine work that we know he will do as a member of the Supreme Court of the state of Washington."

Senator Knoblauch:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I think the real heart of the resolution is a proper and prompt reward well deserved for faithful service to the people of the state. I cannot think of a person more deserving than Senator Marshall Neill to this appointment to the state Supreme Court. I do not know of a member of the Senate who has been more fair and more dedicated a worker than Marshall Neill, and a man that has the respect of both sides of the aisle.

"Senator, many years ago I saw a poem that I liked so well, called, 'Friends,' that I memorized it, and I think perhaps this poem could have been written in honor of Senator Marshall Neill because he has made so many friends throughout the state of Washington in his many long years of public service, and so, Senator Marshall Neill, let me repeat these few words and dedicate them to you:

Life is sweet because of the friends we have made,
And the things which in common we share.
We want to live on, not because of ourselves
But because of the people who care.

It's giving and doing for somebody else,
On that all of life's splendor depends,
And the joy of this world,
When you've summed it all up
Is found in the making of friends.'

"So, Marshall Neill, one friend to another, my sincere congratulations!"

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"I would like to add my word, and I am sure that of a number of other Democrats, to the words which Senator Ryder has said in behalf of Senator Neill. It seems to me that in thinking of Senator Neill, the one thing that has struck me throughout the years in working with him is that he is sympathetic. By that I mean that even if he didn't agree, he seemed to have the patience and understanding and the willingness to listen to our story. Whether or not he came to the same conclusion is another thing. A wise man once said that sympathy is the communicating of my pain to your poverty. I suppose one of the many qualities he will need on the Supreme Court is sympathy.

"If there is any one good appointment which Governor Evans made, and I am sure there have been many, I think Justice Neill will be among the best if not the best. I am very impressed with the thought that today or when he takes that particular position, Justice Neill will descend from the ranks of the active legislator to that of elder statesman on the Supreme Court. And, I suppose the mark of good government, whether Democrat or Republican, is whether or not we can manage to retain the counsel and wisdom of our elder statesmen while looking forward to new ideas.

"I would say that Justice Neill has demonstrated throughout the years his ability to give a little touch of understanding, sympathy, and maybe a bit of spice to our proceedings and I am sure that the Supreme Court will be the better for his work.

Senator Washington:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate, Justice Neill:

"I can perhaps speak of Marshall Neill in two respects: One, I'm going to miss him as a Senator who also represents a very important part of the Columbia Basin Area that has many legislative problems, and it was always a real pleasure to me during this session when we had several bills that needed to move, that I was able to work with Senator Neill. Just thinking, one of the best compliments we can pay is not so much in words, but how many times Senator Neill's name appears on bills, and I know I felt that to have his name on a bill along with mine would perhaps expedite it without people doing a whole lot of studying on the bill. Many here in this Senate and in the House, both in Rules Committee and on the floor, would be inclined to vote for that particular bill, and this is very important particularly in the final days of the session when members don't have the time to study all measures and a name that commands a great deal of respect is highly important on the bill. I am thinking of one bill in particular that was somewhat controversial relating to community colleges, Senate Bill No. 491, but it passed quickly in the House and several people talked to me, and I just felt that Senator Neill's real close connection with the colleges and the respect he holds in both Houses helped that very controversial bill pass.

"Marshall, I'm going to miss you. I felt I had a wonderful relationship working on the Columbia Basin problems with Senator Raugust and then I was fortunate enough to have you step in. Of course, I feel eventually you will have a worthy replacement, but I am going to miss you as a Senator and as a lawyer.

"One other thing I think we should also consider. Many times we elevate to the United States Supreme Court and to the Supreme Court of the state of Washington superior court judges or men who have had judicial experience. I think it is highly important that occasionally we do have a man on the bench who is well grounded in law but who has also had a public experience, because so much of what comes before the Supreme Court relates to matters of public importance, public issues, constitutional questions that depend so much more on a man's thinking, his political understanding, his knowledge generally, than having served as a superior court judge or federal judge, as the case may be. I look upon Marshall's appointment as giving and bringing to that court an extremely important background of knowledge to handle the many important public questions that the Supreme Court is called upon to answer. And certainly, Marshall, as a fellow attorney, as a fellow Senator, and as one who has respected you, as a member of the other party, I congratulate you from the bottom of my heart and know we are all pleased, and I express it for all of the members of the Senate."

Senator McMillan:

"Mr. President, fellow members of the Senate:

"I offer my congratulations and sincere best wishes to Senator Neill on this happy occasion of his elevation to this important post. I think it is very fitting that a justice of the type and quality and the integrity of Justice Ott should be succeeded by a man of the caliber of Senator Neill. My part of the country, I believe, is particularly honored on this occasion because of the fact that Senator Neill's mother is a Colville girl. He has other relatives in that area with whom I am well acquainted. Senator Neill makes frequent or at least occasional trips to that part of the country to visit us. I might also say that in earlier times in my Senate experience two cousins of Senator Neill were on my staff, so to speak, here in the State Senate, so without further belatboring the subject, I just wanted to say it's a happy occasion for Senator Neill and his good friends here in the Senate."

Senator Lennart:

"Mr. President, Marshall, fellow Senators:

"I have studied the great John Marshall considerably. He was a great man, and every time I call Marshall Neill just 'Marshall' it is because it seems to me so natural even from that angle that he should be on the Supreme Court. I have been here many long years and I have met and known all the leaders of note in the state of Washington during these many years, and there are many, many in here, but none are taller than Marshall Neill: height in intelligence, height in character, height in purpose and height in good will and respect and confidence of the people, which is probably what we all strive for.

"I sometimes wish that it had been my fortune to have had law as my training so I could come down before him and see his magnanimities as he has used to me here in treating me as an equal, which I didn't deserve. I haven't that privilege, but I remember just a few days ago or a couple of weeks ago, Marshall, that you gave me a rich tribute which I perhaps did not deserve, and you said that time will come to all men when he will leave the Senate. I didn't think that you would beat me to it! Just yesterday it was announced in the papers that I would cease to serve at the termination of this session.

"Marshall, from all that is best in me, I congratulate you and more than anything else, the people of the state of Washington."

Senator Canfield:

"Mr. President:

"Perhaps a little incident from a man's life can illustrate the situation here this morning regarding Senator Neill.

"A few years ago, Senator Neill was then Representative Neill and of course a member of the caucus in the House and chairman of the caucus. I know that Senator Chytil was in that caucus and perhaps Senator Ryder and they will remember this incident.

"We had before us in the caucus a little bill which was designed to needle the opposition. A promise was given that we could use it on the floor to act in that fashion, but we had no intent that it would go any further. We would not pass the bill. The promise was implicitly given that we would not push that bill. But strange to say the opposition took the bait and we had a chance to pass the bill. In the caucus then the matter came up as to whether we should pursue this matter, and Senator Neill made these remarks which I have always remembered. He said, 'Ladies and Gentlemen of the Caucus, we have given our word. I have given my promise that this bill would not pass, and if you insist on pursuing the course suggested, you will leave no alternative for me but to resign.'

"I think that illustrates a high character and illustrates in Senator Neill a priceless ingredient of integrity, and I congratulate the state on this appointment."

Senator Foley:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"I have probably known Senator Neill longer than any man on this floor, both intimately, scholastically, politically and otherwise. I am very pleased and proud, as I am sure all of his friends are, that he has gained something that he has wanted for many years, a position on the Supreme Court as a judge.

"Now I am going to descend for a moment at this time to a more practical outlook and state that for two years now, Senator Neill has to run for office, and if anyone has the temerity or audacity to file against him, I hope that we in our respective districts will all join together and support him in any way that he feels necessary. I frankly intend to say that is how I vote." (Applause.)

Senator McCutcheon:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"I want to congratulate Judge Neill on having a built in political machine started, as suggested by Senator Foley. I do want to join in the heartfelt congratulations of every person on the floor.

"My remarks, Marshall, if I may call you that for the last time, except when you are outside of those hallowed halls across the street, you will always be Marshall to us over here, but you will bring to the Supreme Court I hope and believe what is known as an ability to tell the others the intent of the legislature. I have practiced law thirty years, and the judges are always talking about the intent of the legislature, and I am sure you will be able to interpret that for them. I couldn't myself.

"I am sure you will shine over there, not just on the seat of your pants as some judges sit. I want to impart a little humor into this if I can, and I want to say that you will hear more boring speeches over there than you have ever heard here. You are going to perform a great service for the people of the state of Washington. It is one of the finest appointments, I think, that has ever been made and with our heartfelt thanks, I want everybody to remember what Senator Foley has just said."

Senator Atwood:
