In the event of this consent or if upon the record made at the hearing the supervisor finds that any violation or practice specified in the notice of charges has been established, the supervisor may issue and serve upon the bank or trust company an order to cease and desist from the violation or practice. The order may require the bank or trust company and its directors, officers, employees, and agents to cease and desist from the violation or practice and may require the bank to take affirmative action to correct the conditions resulting from the violation or practice.

(3) A cease and desist order shall become effective at the expiration of ten days after the service of the order upon the bank or trust company concerned except that a cease and desist order issued upon consent shall become effective at the time specified in the order and shall remain effective as provided therein unless it is stayed, modified, terminated, or set aside by action of the supervisor or a reviewing court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 30.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The order shall become effective upon service on the bank or trust company and shall remain effective unless set aside, limited, or suspended by a court in proceedings under section 3 of this 1977 amendatory act pending the completion of the administrative proceedings under the notice and until such time as the supervisor shall dismiss the charges specified in the notice or until the effective date of a cease and desist order issued against the bank or trust company under section 1 of this 1977 amendatory act.

If the board shall find the objections to be well founded, such director, officer or employee shall be immediately removed.

~~If upon the hearing the director, officer or employee against whom the objections have been filed is not immediately removed, or if the board fail to meet, consider or act upon the objections within twenty days after receiving the same, the supervisor may forthwith or within thirty days thereafter, by an order in writing filed in his office, remove such director, officer or employee from his directorship, office or employment, or may, for a limited time to be stated in the order, suspend such director, officer or employee therefrom. The hearing shall be set not earlier than ten days nor later than thirty days after the date of service of the notice unless an earlier or later date is set by the supervisor at the request of the director, officer, or employee for good cause shown or of the attorney general of the state.

Unless the director, officer, or employee appears at the hearing personally or by a duly authorized representative, the person shall be deemed to have consented to the issuance of an order of removal or prohibition or both. In the event of such consent or if upon the record made at the hearing the supervisor finds that any of the grounds specified in the notice have been established, the supervisor may issue such orders of removal from office or prohibition from participation in the conduct of the affairs of the bank or trust company as the supervisor may consider appropriate.

Any order shall become effective at the expiration of ten days after service upon the bank and the director, officer, or employee concerned except that an order issued upon consent shall become effective at the time specified in the order.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. There is added to chapter 30.12 RCW a new section to read as follows:

If at any time because of the removal of one or more directors under this chapter there shall be on the board of directors of a bank or trust company less than a quorum of directors, all powers and functions vested in or exercisable by the board shall vest in and be exercisable by the director or directors remaining until such time as there is a quorum on the board of directors. The court shall have jurisdiction upon the filing of the petition, which jurisdiction shall become exclusive upon the filing of the record to affirm, modify, terminate, or set aside in whole or in part the order of the supervisor except that the supervisor may modify, terminate, or set aside an order with the permission of the court. The judgment and decree of the court shall be final, except that it shall be subject to appellate review under the rules of court.

(3) The commencement of proceedings for judicial review under subsection (2) of this section shall not operate as a stay of any order issued by the supervisor unless specifically ordered by the court.

(4) Service of any notice or order required to be served under sections 1, 2, 5 or 6 of this 1977 amendatory act shall be accomplished in the same manner as required for the service of process in civil actions in superior courts of this state.

The supervisor may apply to the superior court of the county of the principal place of business of the bank or trust company affected for the enforcement of any effective and outstanding order issued under sections 1, 2, 4, or 6 of this act, and the court shall have jurisdiction to order compliance therewith.

No court shall have jurisdiction to affect by injunction or otherwise the issuance or enforcement of any order or to review, modify, suspend, terminate, or set aside any order except as provided in sections 3 and 8 of this 1977 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. There is added to chapter 30.12 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Sec. 6. Section 43.52.360, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 and RCW 43.52.360 are each amended to read as follows:

Any two or more cities or public utility districts or combinations thereof may form an operating agency (herein sometimes called a joint operating agency) for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, operating and owning plants, systems and other facilities and extensions thereof, for the generation and/or transmission of electric energy and power. Each such agency shall be a municipal corporation of the state of Washington with the right to sue and be sued in its own name.

Application for the formation of an operating agency shall be made to the director of ~~((conservation))~~ the department of ecology (herein sometimes referred to as the director) after the adoption of a resolution by the legislative body of each city or public utility district to be initial members thereof authorizing said city or district to participate. Such application shall set forth (1) the name and address of each participant, together with a certified copy of the resolution authorizing its participation; (2) a general description of the project and the principal project works, including dams, reservoirs, power houses and transmission lines; (3) the general location of the project and, if a hydroelectric project, the name of the stream on which such proposed project is to be located; (4) if the project is for the generation of electricity, the proposed use or market for the power to be developed; (5) a general statement of the electric loads and resources of each of the participants; (6) a statement of the proposed method of financing the preliminary engineering and other studies and the participation therein by each of the participants.

Within ten days after such application is filed with the director of ~~((conservation))~~ the department of ecology notice thereof shall be published by the director once a week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county or counties in which such project is to be located, setting forth the names of the participants and the general nature, extent and location of the project. Any public utility wishing to do so may object to such application by filing an objection, setting forth the reasons therefor, with the director of ~~((conservation))~~ the department of ecology not later than ten days after the date of last publication of such notice.

Within ninety days after the date of last publication the director shall either make findings thereon or have instituted a hearing thereon. In event the director has neither made findings nor instituted a hearing within ninety days of the date of last publication, or if such hearing is instituted within such time but no findings are made within one hundred and twenty days of the date of such last publication, the application shall be deemed to have been approved and the operating agency established. If it shall appear (a) that the statements set forth in said application are substantially correct; (b) that the contemplated project is such as is adaptable to the needs, both actual and prospective, of the participants and such other public utilities as indicate a good faith intention by contract or by letter of intent to participate in the use of such project; (c) that no objection to the formation of such operating agency has been filed by any other public utility which prior to and at the time of the filing of the application for such operating agency had on file a permit or license from an agency of the state or an agency of the United States, whichever has primary jurisdiction, for the construction of such project; (d) that adequate provision will be made for financing the preliminary engineering, legal and other costs necessary thereto; the director shall make findings to that effect and enter an order creating such operating agency, establishing the name thereof and the specific project for the construction and operation for which such operating agency is formed. Such order shall not be construed to constitute a bar to any other public utility proceeding according to law to procure any required governmental permits, licenses or authority, but such order shall establish the competency of the operating agency to proceed according to law to procure such permits, licenses or authority.

No operating agency shall undertake projects in addition to those for which it was formed without the approval of the legislative bodies of a majority of the members thereof. In the event that an operating agency desires to undertake such a hydroelectric project at a site or sites upon which any publicly or privately owned public utility has a license or permit or has a prior application for a license or permit pending with any commission or agency, state or federal, having jurisdiction thereof, application to construct such additional project shall be made to the director of ~~((conservation))~~ the department of ecology in the same manner, subject to the same requirements and with the same notice as required for an initial agency and project and shall not be constructed until an order authorizing the same shall have been made by the director in the manner provided for such original application.

Any party who has joined in filing the application for, or objections against, the creation of such operating agency and/or the construction of an additional project, and who feels aggrieved by any order or finding of the director shall have the right to appeal to the superior court in the manner set forth in RCW 43.52.430.

After the formation of an operating agency, any other city or district may become a member thereof upon application to such agency after the adoption of a resolution of its legislative body authorizing said city or district to participate, and with the consent of the operating agency by the affirmative vote of the majority of its members. Any member may withdraw from an operating agency, and thereupon such member shall forfeit any and all rights or interest which it may have in such operating agency or in any of the assets thereof: PROVIDED, That all contractual obligations incurred while a member shall remain in full force and effect. An operating agency may be dissolved by the unanimous agreement of the members, and the members, after making provisions for the payment of all debts and obligations, shall thereupon hold the assets thereof as tenants in common.

Sec. 7. Section 43.52.370, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 and RCW 43.52.370 are each amended to read as follows:

The management and control of an operating agency shall be vested in a board of directors, herein sometimes referred to as the board. The legislative body of each member of an operating agency shall appoint a representative who may, at the discretion of the member and regardless of any charter or other provision to the contrary, be an officer or employee of the member, to serve on the board of the operating agency. Each representative shall have one vote and shall have, in addition thereto, one vote for each block of electric energy equal to ten percent of the total energy generated by the agency during the preceding year purchased by the member represented by such representative. Each member may appoint an alternative representative to serve in the absence or disability of its representative. Each representative shall serve at the pleasure of the member. The board of an operating agency shall elect from its members a president, vice president and secretary, who shall serve at the pleasure of the board. The president and secretary shall perform the same duties with respect to the operating agency as are provided by law for the president and secretary, respectively, of public utility districts, and such other duties as may be provided by motion, rule or resolution of the board. The board of an operating agency shall adopt rules for the conduct of its meetings and the carrying out of its business, and adopt an official seal. All proceedings of an operating agency shall be by motion or resolution and shall be recorded in the minute book which shall be a public record. A majority of the board members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. A majority of the votes which the members present are entitled to cast shall be necessary and sufficient to pass any motion or resolution: PROVIDED, That such board members are entitled to cast a majority of the votes of all members of the board. The members of the board of an operating agency may be compensated by such agency (~~((to the same extent and subject to the same limitations))~~) as is provided (~~((for members of the commission))~~) in RCW 43.52.290: PROVIDED, That the per diem compensation to any member shall not exceed five thousand dollars in any year.

Sec. 8. Section 43.52.391, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 and RCW 43.52.391 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided in this section, a joint operating agency shall have all powers now or hereafter granted public utility districts under the laws of this state. It shall not acquire nor operate any electric distribution properties nor condemn any properties owned by a public utility which are operated for the generation and transmission of electric power and energy or are being developed for such purposes with due diligence under a valid license or permit, nor purchase or acquire any operating hydroelectric generating plant owned by any city or district on June 11, 1953, or which may be acquired by any city or district by condemnation on or after January 1, 1957, nor levy taxes, issue general obligation bonds, or create subdistricts. It may enter into any contracts, leases or other undertakings deemed necessary or proper and acquire by purchase or condemnation any real or personal property used or useful for its corporate purposes. Actions in eminent domain may be instituted in the superior court of any county in which any of the property sought to be condemned is located and the court in any such action shall have jurisdiction to condemn property wherever located within the state; otherwise such actions shall be governed by the same procedure as now or hereafter provided by law for public utility districts. An operating agency may sell steam or water not required by it for the generation of power and may construct or acquire any facilities it deems necessary for that purpose.

An operating agency may make contracts for any term relating to the purchase, sale, interchange or wheeling of power with the government of the United States or any agency thereof and with any municipal corporation or public utility, within or without the state, and may purchase or deliver power anywhere pursuant to any such contract. An operating agency may acquire any coal-bearing lands for the purpose of assuring a long-term, adequate supply of coal to supply its needs, both actual and prospective, for the generation of power and may make such contracts with respect to the extraction, sale or disposal of coal that it deems proper. ~~((In addition to the power and authority granted in this chapter to an operating agency, it shall also have all power and authority heretofore granted, and shall be subject to all of the duties imposed upon, the Washington state power commission by RCW 43.52.300 and RCW 43.52.350.))~~

Any member of an operating agency may advance or contribute funds to an agency as may be agreed upon by the agency and the member, and the agency shall repay such advances or contributions from proceeds of revenue bonds, from operating revenues or from any other funds of the agency, together with interest not to exceed six percent per annum.

Sec. 9. Section 43.52.410, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 and RCW 43.52.410 are each amended to read as follows:

Any city or district is authorized to enter into contracts or compacts with ~~((the commission or))~~ any operating agency or a publicly or privately owned public utility for the purchase and sale of electric energy or falling waters.

Sec. 10. Section 43.52.430, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 113, chapter 81, Laws of 1971 and RCW 43.52.430 are each amended to read as follows:

Any party in interest deeming itself aggrieved by any order of ~~((the commission or of))~~ the director of the department of ecology may appeal to the superior court of Thurston county by serving upon the ~~((commission or))~~ director ~~((, as the case may be,))~~ and filing with clerk of said court within thirty days after the entry of the order a notice of appeal. The ~~((commission or))~~ director shall, within ten days after service of the notice of appeal, file with the clerk of the court ~~((its or his))~~ a return containing a true copy of the order appealed from, together with a transcript of the record of the proceeding before the ~~((commission or))~~ director, after which the appeal shall be at issue. The appeal shall be heard and decided by the court upon the record before the ~~((commission or))~~ director and the court may either affirm, set aside, or remand the order appealed from for further proceedings. Appeal may be had to the supreme court or the court of appeals as in the case of civil appeals.

Sec. 11. Section 43.52.450, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 and RCW 43.52.450 are each amended to read as follows:

The provisions of this chapter shall be cumulative and shall not impair or supersede the powers or rights of any person, firm or corporation or political subdivision of the state of Washington under any other law. The rights of all persons, firms, corporations and political subdivisions or operating units of any kind under existing contracts, renewals thereof or supplements thereto, with the United States, or any agency thereof, for power, are hereby preserved and such rights shall not be impaired or modified by any of the provisions of this chapter or any of the powers granted by this chapter.

Passed the House May 27, 1977.

Passed the Senate May 25, 1977.

Approved by the Governor June 8, 1977, with the exception of section 2 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State June 8, 1977.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section House Bill No. 559 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the state employees' insurance board; reenacting and amending section 1, chapter 6, Laws of 1977 and section 34, chapter ... (ESB 2133), Laws of 1977 and RCW 41.05.020; and declaring an emergency."

Section 2 of the bill declares an emergency and provides for the act to take effect immediately. Under the Constitution, Article II, Sections 1(b) and 41, the use of an emergency clause does two things. First, it alters the time when a particular piece of legislation becomes effective, thereby eliminating what may be a desirable adjustment period for affected persons. Second, it excepts the legislation from the important referendum right reserved by the people. Because of these effects, the use of the clause should be restricted to those instances where the use is clearly warranted due to the urgency of the situation. For these reasons, I have vetoed this section.

With the exception of section 2, which I have vetoed, the remainder of House Bill No. 559 is approved."

AN ACT Relating to the death penalty; amending section 9A.32.040, chapter 260, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9A.32.040; amending section 1, chapter 9, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. (Initiative Measure No. 316, section 1) and RCW 9A.32.045; amending section 2, chapter 9, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. (Initiative Measure No. 316, section 2) and RCW 9A.32.046; amending section 3, chapter 9, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. (Initiative Measure No. 316, section 3) and RCW 9A.32.047; adding a new chapter to Title 10 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 9.01 RCW; prescribing penalties; and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. When a defendant is charged with the crime of murder in the first degree as defined in RCW 9A.32.030(1)(a), the prosecuting attorney or the prosecuting attorney's designee shall file a written notice of intention to request a proceeding to determine whether or not the death penalty should be imposed when the prosecution has reason to believe that one or more aggravating circumstances, as set forth in RCW 9A.32.045 as now or hereafter amended, was present and the prosecution intends to prove the presence of such circumstance or circumstances in a special sentencing proceeding under section 2 of this 1977 amendatory act.

The notice of intention to request the death penalty must be served on the defendant or the defendant's attorney and filed with the court within thirty days of the defendant's arraignment in superior court on the charge of murder in the first degree under RCW 9A.32.030(1)(a). The notice shall specify the aggravating circumstance or circumstances upon which the prosecuting attorney bases the request for the death penalty. The court may, within the thirty day period upon good cause being shown, extend the period for the service and filing of notice.

If the prosecution does not serve and file written notice of intent to request the death penalty within the specified time the prosecuting attorney may not request the death penalty.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) If notice of intention to request the death penalty has been served and filed by the prosecution in accordance with section 1 of this 1977 amendatory act, then a special sentencing proceeding shall be held in the event the defendant is found guilty of murder in the first degree under RCW 9A.32.030(1)(a).

(2) If the prosecution has filed a request for the death penalty in accordance with section 1 of this 1977 amendatory act, and the trial jury returns a verdict of murder in the first degree under RCW 9A.32.030(1)(a), then, at such time as the verdict is returned, the trial judge shall reconvene the same trial jury to determine in a separate special sentencing proceeding whether there are one or more aggravating circumstances and whether there are mitigating circumstances sufficient to merit leniency, as provided in RCW 9A.32.045 as now or hereafter amended, and to answer special questions pursuant to subsection (10) of this section. The special sentencing proceeding shall be held as soon as possible following the return of the jury verdict.

(3) At the commencement of the special sentencing proceeding the judge shall instruct the jury as to the nature and purpose of the proceeding and as to the consequences of its findings as provided in RCW 9A.32.040 as now or hereafter amended.

(4) In the special sentencing proceeding, evidence may be presented relating to the presence of any aggravating or mitigating circumstances as enumerated in RCW 9A.32.045 as now or hereafter amended. Evidence of aggravating circumstances shall be limited to evidence relevant to those aggravating circumstances specified in the notice required by section 1 of this 1977 amendatory act.

(5) Any relevant evidence which the court deems to have probative value may be received regardless of its admissibility under usual rules of evidence: PROVIDED, That the defendant is accorded a fair opportunity to rebut any hearsay statements: PROVIDED FURTHER, That evidence secured in violation of the Constitutions of the United States or the state of Washington shall not be admissible.

(6) Upon the conclusion of the evidence, the judge shall give the jury appropriate instructions and the prosecution and the defendant or defendant's counsel shall be permitted to present argument. The prosecution shall open and conclude the argument to the jury.

(7) The jury shall then retire to deliberate. Upon reaching a decision, the jury shall specify each aggravating circumstance that it unanimously determines to have been established beyond a reasonable doubt. In the event the jury finds no aggravating circumstances the defendant shall be sentenced pursuant to RCW 9A.32.040(3) as now or hereafter amended.

(8) If the jury finds there are one or more aggravating circumstances it must then decide whether it is also unanimously convinced beyond a reasonable doubt there are not sufficient mitigating circumstances to merit leniency. If the jury makes such a finding, it shall proceed to answer the special questions submitted pursuant to subsection (10) of this section.

(9) If the jury finds there are one or more aggravating circumstances but fails to be convinced beyond a reasonable doubt there are not sufficient mitigating circumstances to merit leniency the defendant shall be sentenced pursuant to RCW 9A.32.040(2) as now or hereafter amended.

(10) If the jury finds that there are one or more aggravating circumstances and is unanimously convinced beyond a reasonable doubt that there are not sufficient mitigating circumstances to merit leniency, the jury shall answer the following questions:

(a) Did the evidence presented at trial establish the guilt of the defendant with clear certainty?

(b) Are you convinced beyond a reasonable doubt that there is a probability that the defendant would commit additional criminal acts of violence that would constitute a continuing threat to society?

The state shall have the burden of proving each question and the court shall instruct the jury that it may not answer either question in the affirmative unless it agrees unanimously.

If the jury answers both questions in the affirmative, the defendant shall be sentenced pursuant to RCW 9A.32.040(1) as now or hereafter amended.

If the jury answers either question in the negative the defendant shall be sentenced pursuant to RCW 9A.32.040(2) as now or hereafter amended.

(2) If, pursuant to a special sentencing proceeding held under section 2 of this 1977 amendatory act, the jury finds that there are one or more aggravating circumstances but fails to find that there are not sufficient mitigating circumstances to merit leniency, or the jury answers in the negative either of the special questions submitted pursuant to section 2(10) of this 1977 amendatory act, the sentence shall be life imprisonment without possibility of release or parole. (a) A complaint may be filed by a legislator, legislative employee, member of the public, a board, or member of a board. Complaints must be written, signed under oath, and directed to the chairman of the appropriate board. The board shall determine if the complaint is within its jurisdiction and whether there are sufficient facts alleged which if true may support a finding of unethical conduct.

(b) If the board finds that the complaint is not within its jurisdiction, or is frivolous, or is made for the purpose of harassment, or that there are insufficient facts alleged which if true may support a finding of unethical conduct, it shall dismiss the complaint, so notify the complainant, the person charged, and the public with a copy of the complaint and the board's reasons for dismissal.

(c) If the board finds that a complaint is within its jurisdiction and there are sufficient facts alleged which if true may support a finding of unethical conduct, such board shall hold an investigative hearing and send a notice to the complainant and the person charged which shall include a copy of the complaint. The person charged shall receive at least thirty days' written notice of such hearing. The notice shall provide that the person charged shall be entitled to request the board to set an earlier hearing date, present evidence, cross-examine witnesses, be represented by counsel, and file an affidavit of prejudice within ten days of receipt of the notice as provided in subsection (4)(f) of this section.

(e) A board may designate a subcommittee composed of at least two members of the board, at least half of whom shall be lay members, to conduct investigative hearings. The board, or if designated thereby, any member or subcommittee of the board, may issue subpoenas for the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of documentary evidence relating to any matter under examination by the board or involved in any hearing, administer oaths or affirmations, examine witnesses, and receive evidence. In case of disobedience to a subpoena, the board may invoke the aid of any superior court of the state. Such court may, in case of refusal to obey a subpoena issued to such person, issue an order requiring such person to appear before the board, to produce documentary evidence, and/or to give evidence, and any failure to obey such order may be punished by that court as contempt. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, every public official, state agency, and local governmental unit shall furnish to the board any documents, records, data, statements, or information which the board designates as being necessary for the exercise of its functions, powers or duties.

(f) Members of a board shall be disqualified in any case: (i) involving persons whom such members cannot judge impartially, in which cases they shall disqualify themselves; or (ii) where the person charged files an affidavit of prejudice against a member or members whom he believes is unable to make an impartial judgment, in which case the disqualification shall be automatic: PROVIDED, That only one such affidavit may be filed in a single investigation. (g) At the conclusion of the investigative hearings, a statement of findings of fact shall be prepared based upon evidence presented at the hearings. A copy of this statement shall be sent to the person charged who shall have at least ten days to offer a written rebuttal to the board. The board, on the basis of the findings of fact, any written rebuttal, and applicable standards of ethical conduct shall make a preliminary report which shall be subject to review and the rendering of a decision at the final hearing. Copies of the findings of fact, preliminary report, and notice of the date for a final hearing shall be sent by registered mail to the person charged. Such person may rebut the report not later than one week prior to the final hearing date, but shall in any event have a period of not less than two weeks in which to respond.

(h) The final hearing shall be open to the public. There shall be available at the hearing copies of the board's findings of fact, preliminary report, and any written rebuttal received by the board from the person charged. The board shall, on the basis of these documents and any final statement made by the person charged, render a final decision as to whether the facts justify a finding of unethical conduct. A final decision must be agreed upon by at least six members of the board. The board shall notify the appropriate law enforcement agency directly if the board makes a finding that it has reasonable grounds to believe that a criminal violation has occurred.

(i) If the board in its final decision determines that the facts support a finding of unethical conduct, such decision shall be transmitted to the chief clerk of the house or the secretary of the senate as appropriate. Such officer shall deliver the report to his house at such time as that house is in session, for such action as that house deems appropriate.

(j) Upon receipt, complaints shall be assigned a reference number. Each board shall maintain and keep current for public inspection a status sheet which shall contain with respect to each complaint: Its reference number, the date received by the board, and its present status, including the date of any hearings scheduled. Passed the Senate May 28, 1977.

Passed the House May 27, 1977.

Approved by the Governor June 10, 1977, with the exception of section 3 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State June 10, 1977.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section Substitute Senate Bill No. 3036 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to alcoholic beverage control; amending section 3, chapter 208, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 66.04.011; amending section 90, chapter 62, Laws of 1933 ex. sess. as last amended by section 3, chapter 74, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 66.28-.010; amending section 1, chapter 245, Laws of 1943 and RCW 66.44.310; and amending section 2, chapter 13, Laws of 1970 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 245, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 66.24.420."

A careful reading of this bill reveals that section 3 as amended could create problems beyond the intent of the sponsor. The amendment was submitted as a floor amendment and thus did not have the benefit of committee deliberation. Although the purpose of the change was to allow those under 21 years of age to assist in clean-up duties in their parents' taverns, in itself not particularly objectionable, the amended section could be interpreted as allowing teenage "coke" parties or other social events in a contrived atmosphere.

Another problem exists involving the ability of the Washington State Liquor Control Board to enforce the statute. It is a valid argument that a tavern operator might be able to take advantage of the law if a minor was found on the premises by quickly suspending sales and claiming no violation.

For these reasons, section 3 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3036 is vetoed and the remainder of the bill is approved."

Such registration shall be effective ~~((for the period requested by the charitable organization in its registration statement but such period shall not exceed one year. The director may adopt regulations providing for the annual renewal of registrations by charitable organizations having continuing or annually recurring fund raising campaigns. Renewals shall be accompanied by such information as may be required to bring the registration statement up to date))~~ until withdrawn by the registrant or suspended or revoked by the director. If there are any changes in fact, policy, or method that would alter the information given in the registration statement, the charitable organization shall notify the director in writing thereof within ten days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, after any such change.

Sec. 5. Section 9, chapter 13, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 19.09.090 are each amended to read as follows:

Where any chapter, branch, affiliate, or area division of a charitable organization is supervised and controlled by a superior or parent organization which is incorporated, qualified to do business, or doing business within this state such chapter, branch, affiliate, or area division shall not be required to register under RCW 19.09.060 if the superior or parent organization files a registration statement, on behalf of its subsidiary, in addition to or as a part of its own registration statement. Where a registration statement has been filed by a superior or parent organization, on behalf of such subsidiary organization, ~~((it shall file any reports required of the subsidiary organization, under this chapter, in addition to or as part of its own report, but the accounting information so required shall be set forth separately and not in consolidated form with respect to every such chapter, branch, affiliate, or division which solicits, collects, or expends more than four thousand dollars in any fiscal year))~~ the superior or parent organization need not include the financial statement information as a part of its financial report for any chapter, branch, or affiliate which solicits and collects less than five hundred dollars during its fiscal year, providing all such fund raising is done by persons who are unpaid for such services. For those chapters, branches, or affiliates which solicit, collect, or expend between five hundred dollars and five thousand dollars during their fiscal year, the superior or parent organization shall report such financial information either separately or in consolidated form. For those chapters, branches, or affiliates which solicit, collect, or expend in excess of five thousand dollars during their fiscal year, the superior or parent organization shall set forth such financial information separately, in addition to including such information in consolidated form.

Sec. 6. Section 10, chapter 13, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 3, chapter 106, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 19.09.100 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon receipt of an application in the proper form for registration, the director shall immediately initiate an examination to determine that:

(1) ~~((The cost of solicitation for direct gifts shall not exceed twenty percent of the total gross amount to be raised or for sale and benefit affairs shall not exceed fifty-five percent of the total gross amount to be raised; and of this fifty-five percent, not more than twenty percent shall be paid for all wages, fees, commissions, salaries, and emoluments paid or to be paid to all salesmen, solicitors, collectors, and professional fund raisers. If it appears that the cost of soliciting will exceed the percentages listed above, and except for that, the registration would otherwise be granted, the director may enter an order registering the charitable organization, upon a showing that special reasons make a cost higher than twenty percent or said fifty-five percent, or said twenty percent, respectively, reasonable in the particular case. When such an order is entered, the amount, stated as a percentage of the total purchase price, that will be given to the charitable organization or purpose shall be disclosed to each person being solicited at the time of each solicitation by conspicuously setting out such cost upon the item of goods, or upon its package, or by conspicuously setting out such cost upon a sign posted at each location where such~~ solicitation occurs)) The cost of solicitation (including payments to professional fund raisers and professional solicitors and internal fund raising and solicitation salaries and expenses) during the year immediately preceding the date of application has not exceeded, or, for the specified year in which the application is submitted, will not exceed twenty percent of the total moneys, pledges, or other property raised or received or to be raised or received by reason of any solicitation and/or fund raising activities or campaigns. The term "internal fund raising and solicitation salaries and expenses" shall include, but not be limited to, such portions of the charitable organization's salary and overhead expenses as is fairly allocable (on a time or other appropriate basis) to its solicitation and/or fund raising expense. As provided in RCW 19.09.020(5), the cost of solicitation shall not include the reasonable purchase price to the charitable organization of any tangible goods or services resold by the organization as a part of its fund-raising activities. The amount of such expenditure by the organization shall be deducted from the gross amount collected, or from the organization's support received directly from the public, prior to computing the percentage limitation. In the event special facts or circumstances are presented showing that expenses higher than twenty percent were not or will not be unreasonable, the director has the discretion to allow such higher expense and enter an order registering the charitable organization. Such an order shall be reviewed annually by the director. When such an order is entered, the cost of solicitation shall be disclosed by the organization to each person being solicited at the time of each solicitation. To further the purposes of this chapter, the director shall from time to time apprise the public of the names of those organizations for which discretionary action has been exercised in connection with the cost of solicitation limitations;

(2) The charitable organization has complied with all local governmental regulations which apply to soliciting for or on behalf of charitable organizations;

(3) The advertising material and the general promotional plan are not false, misleading, or deceptive (~~and its rules and regulations, which the director may adopt, comply with the standards prescribed by the director and which afford full and fair disclosure~~); comply with the standards, rules, and regulations which the director may adopt; and afford full and fair disclosure;

(4) The charitable organization has not, or if a corporation, its officers, directors, and principals have not, been convicted of a crime involving solicitations for or on behalf of a charitable organization in this state, the United States, or any other state or foreign country within the past ten years and has not been subject to any permanent injunction or administrative order or judgment, under the provisions of RCW 19.86.080 or 19.86.090, involving a violation or violations of the provisions of RCW 19.86.020, within the past ten years, or of restraining a false or misleading promotional plan involving solicitations for charitable organizations.

Sec. 7. Section 11, chapter 13, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 19.09.110 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (~~Upon receipt of the application for registration, in proper form, the director shall issue a notice of filing to the applicant.~~) Within thirty days from (~~the date of the notice of filing~~) the receipt of the application for registration, in proper form, the director shall enter an order registering the charitable organization or rejecting the registration. If no order of rejection is entered within thirty days from

~~((the date of notice of filing))~~ the receipt of the application for registration, in proper form, the charitable organization shall be deemed registered unless the applicant has consented, in writing, to a delay.

(2) If the director affirmatively determines, upon inquiry and examination that the requirements of RCW 19.09.100 have been met he shall enter an order registering the charitable organization.

(3) If the director determines, upon inquiry and examination, that any of the requirements of RCW 19.09.100 have not been met, the director shall notify the applicant that the application for registration must be corrected in the deficiencies specified. If the requested corrections are not complied with, the director shall enter an order rejecting the registration, such order shall include the findings of fact upon which the order is based. The order rejecting the registration shall not become effective for twenty days during which time the applicant may petition for reconsideration and shall be entitled to a hearing.

Sec. 8. Section 18, chapter 13, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 19.09.180 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Every person soliciting contributions for or on behalf of a charitable organization which is required to file or have filed in its behalf a registration statement, under this chapter, shall have readily available for prospective contributors an identification card which shall include the following information in legible form:~~

~~(1) The name of the charitable organization for which the contributions are solicited:~~

~~(2) A statement that the charitable organization has filed a registration statement with the director and the date such registration was filed:~~

~~(3) Such other information, from the registration statement, as may be required by reasonable rule or regulation of the director for the protection of the public:~~

~~The director may prescribe the form of such identification card. The card shall be exhibited to any person from whom a contribution is requested or, on demand, to any police or law enforcement officer))~~ The director shall keep the public informed on charitable activities in the state. To this end, the director shall conduct investigations and audits and issue an annual report on or about July 31st of each year setting forth information related to solicitation activities of registered charitable organizations. The director shall issue periodic reports to the public to carry out the purposes of this chapter.

Sec. 9. Section 19, chapter 13, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 19.09.190 are each amended to read as follows:

Every person employed or retained as a professional fund raiser or professional solicitor by or for a charitable organization shall file with the director a valid registration or renewal of such registration. Applications for such registration shall be in writing, under oath, and in the form prescribed by the director. The form shall require information as to the identity and previous related activities of the registrant as may be necessary or appropriate for the public interest or for the protection of contributors. A corporation, partnership, or sole proprietorship which is a professional fund raiser or professional solicitor, may register for and pay a single fee on behalf of all its members, officers, agents, servants, and employees. However, the names and addresses of all officers, agents, servants, and employees of professional fund raisers and professional solicitors must be listed in the application. In addition, a professional fund raiser shall file, at the time of making application, with and have approved by the director a surety bond executed by the applicant as principal in the amount of five thousand dollars with one or more sureties whose liability in the aggregate as such sureties will at least equal the said sum. The bond shall run to the director for the use of the state and to any person who may have a cause of action against the obligor of said bond for any malfeasance or misfeasance in the conduct of such solicitation. The director or his designee shall examine each application, and if he finds it to be in conformity with the requirements of this chapter and all relevant rules and regulations he shall approve the registration. Any applicant who is denied registration may, within twenty days from the date of notification of such denial, request, in writing, a hearing, which hearing shall be held in accordance with the provisions of the administrative procedure act, chapter 34-.04 RCW. Registration, when effected, shall be for a period of one year, or any part thereof, expiring on the last day of December and may be renewed for additional periods unless rejected for legally sufficient cause or for failure to file the bond prescribed in this section. The additional periods shall be for not more than one calendar year or such shorter period as the director may prescribe by regulation.

Sec. 10. Section 21, chapter 13, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 219, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 19.09.210 are each amended to read as follows:

(a) (~~Within ninety days~~) On or before the fifteenth day of the fifth month following the close of its fiscal year every charitable organization which is required to file a registration statement under RCW 19.09.060 and which has received contributions during the previous fiscal year shall file with the director a financial statement containing, but not limited to, the following information:

(1) The gross amount of the contributions pledged and the gross amount collected.

(2) The amount thereof, given or to be given to charitable purposes represented together with details as to the manner of distribution as may be required either by general rule or by specific written request of the director.

(3) The aggregate amount paid and to be paid for the expenses of such solicitation.

(4) The amounts paid to and to be paid to professional fund raisers and solicitors.

(5) Copies of any annual or periodic reports furnished by the charitable organization, of its activities during or for the same fiscal period, to its parent organization, subsidiaries, or affiliates, if any.

(b) The director may prescribe such forms as may be necessary or convenient for the furnishing of such information. In addition, the director may require that within thirty days after the close of any special period of solicitation the charitable organization conducting such solicitation shall file a special report containing the information specified in this section for such special period of solicitation.

Sec. 11. Section 22, chapter 13, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 19.09.220 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If it appears to the director, at any time, that any organization has failed to comply with any requirement of RCW 19.09.210 or failed to file any required report, the director following notice, and after an opportunity for a hearing (at a time fixed by the director) within ~~((fifteen))~~ twenty days after such notice, shall issue an order suspending the registration. When such requirement has been fulfilled or the information has been filed in accordance with such order, the director shall so declare and thereupon the order shall cease to be effective.

(2) The director is hereby empowered to make an examination in any case to determine whether an order should issue under subsection (1) of this section. In making such examination the director, or his designee, shall have access to, and may demand the production of any books and papers of, and may administer oaths and affirmations to, and may examine the charitable organization, any agents, or any other person, in respect to any matter relevant to the examination. If the charitable organization or any agents shall fail to cooperate or shall obstruct or refuse to permit the making of an examination such conduct shall be proper grounds for the issuance of an order suspending the registration.

Sec. 12. Section 26, chapter 13, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 19.09.260 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((+))~~ The director may:

~~((a))~~ (1) Make necessary public or private investigations within or without the state to determine whether any person has violated or is about to violate this chapter or any rule, regulation, or order hereunder, or to aid in the enforcement of this chapter, or in the prescribing of rules and forms hereunder; and

~~((b))~~ (2) Require or permit any person to file a statement in writing, under oath or otherwise as the director determines, as to all facts and circumstances concerning the matter to be investigated.

~~((2))~~ For the purpose of any investigation or proceeding under this chapter, the director or any officer designated by rule may administer oaths or affirmations and upon the director's own motion or upon request of any party shall subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any matter which is relevant to the investigation, including the existence, description, nature, custody, condition, and location of any books, documents, or other tangible things together with the identity and location of persons having knowledge, relevant facts, or any other matter reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of material evidence.

~~(3)~~ Upon failure to obey a subpoena or to answer questions propounded by the investigating officer, and upon reasonable notice to all persons affected thereby, the director may apply to the superior court for an order compelling compliance.

~~(4)~~ Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, all proceedings under this chapter shall be in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34-04 RCW.)

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. There is added to chapter 19.09 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For the purpose of any investigation, proceeding, or hearing under this chapter, the director or any officer designated by rule may (1) administer oaths or affirmations and (2) upon the director's own motion, or upon request of any party to a hearing, shall subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, require the production

Subpoenas issued by the director or his designee shall be served in accordance with the provisions of law governing the service of subpoenas in actions in superior court. If any person refuses to obey a subpoena issued under this section, or refuses to answer any proper question put to him during a hearing or proceeding, the director or his designee may petition the superior court of any county in which such person resides or is found for an order requiring such person to appear and give evidence, or to produce the requested material, or to answer the proposed question. Any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by the court as a civil contempt may be punished.

Unless another place is named by the director or his designee, all hearings and proceedings shall be located in Olympia, and all subpoenaed physical evidence or exhibits, whether demanded in relation to a hearing, proceeding, or investigation, shall be produced in Olympia.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. There is added to chapter 19.09 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) ~~((A registration may be revoked, following notice and hearing;))~~ Following notice and hearing in accordance with the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.04 RCW, the director may suspend or revoke any registration made pursuant to this chapter upon a written finding of fact that the charitable organization, professional fund raiser, or professional solicitor has:

(2) If the director finds, following notice and hearing, that the charitable organization, professional fund raiser or professional solicitor has been guilty of a violation for which revocation could be ordered, he may issue a cease and desist order instead.

(3) If the director finds that the public interest requires emergency action, and incorporates a finding to that effect in a written order, summary suspension of a registration may be ordered pending proceedings for revocation or other action. Such proceedings shall be promptly instituted and determined.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. There is added to chapter 19.09 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, all proceedings under this chapter shall be in accordance with the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.04 RCW.

CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE OF HIGHWAYS—SCHEDULING NEW OR LIMITED ACCESS USE—LAND USE RESTRICTIONS—CONTRACTS OR STATE FORCE

AN ACT Relating to highways; amending section 47.28.025, chapter 13, Laws of 1961 and RCW 47.28.025; amending section 47.28.026, chapter 13, Laws of 1961 and RCW 47.28.026; and amending section 47.28.030, chapter 13, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 1, chapter 116, Laws of 1973 and RCW 47.28.030.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 47.28.025, chapter 13, Laws of 1961 and RCW 47.28.025 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever (~~any authority in behalf of~~) the state highway commission shall establish the location, width, and lines of any new highway, or declare any such new highway as a limited access facility and schedules the acquisition of the right of way for the highway or facility within the ensuing two years, it may cause the description and plan of any such highway to be made, showing the center line of said highway and the established width thereof and attach thereto a certified copy of the resolution, and thereupon such description, plan, and resolution shall be recorded in the office of the county auditor of the proper county in a separate book kept for such purposes, which shall be furnished to the county auditor of such county by the Washington state highway commission at the expense of the state.

Sec. 2. Section 47.28.026, chapter 13, Laws of 1961 and RCW 47.28.026 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No owner or occupier of lands, buildings or improvements shall erect any buildings or make any improvements within the limits of any such highway, location, width and lines of which have been established and recorded, as provided in RCW 47.28.025, and if any such erection and improvements shall be made, no allowances shall be had therefor by the assessment of damages. No permits for improvements within said limits shall be issued by any authority: PROVIDED, That the establishment of any highway location as set forth in RCW 47.28.025 shall be ineffective after one year from the filing thereof if no action to condemn or acquire the property within said limits has been commenced within said time.

(2) Unless and until the state highway commission shall cause a plan of a proposed new highway or limited access facility to be recorded in the office of the county auditor as authorized in section 1 of this 1977 amendatory act, nothing contained in sections 1 or 2 of this 1977 amendatory act shall be deemed to restrict or restrain in any manner the improvement, development, or other use by owners or occupiers of lands, buildings, or improvements within the limits of any proposed new or limited access highway or any proposed relocated or widened highway. Because of the uncertainties of federal aid and the state level of funding of proposed construction or improvement of state highways, plans for such improvements approved by the state highway commission shall be deemed tentative until filed with the county auditor as authorized in section 1 of this 1977 amendatory act or until the department of highways commences action to condemn or otherwise acquire the right of way for such highway improvements.

Sec. 3. Section 47.28.030, chapter 13, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 1, chapter 116, Laws of 1973 and RCW 47.28.030 are each amended to read as follows:

A state highway shall be constructed, altered, repaired, or improved, and improvements located on property acquired for right of way purposes may be repaired or renovated pending the use of such right of way for highway purposes, by contract or ((day labor)) state forces. The work or portions thereof may be done by ((day labor)) state forces when the estimated costs thereof is less than fifteen thousand dollars: PROVIDED, When delay of performance of such work would jeopardize a state highway or constitute a danger to the traveling public, the work may be done by ((day labor)) state forces when the estimated cost thereof is less than twenty-five thousand dollars. When the state highway commission determines to do the work by ((day labor)) state forces; it shall enter a resolution upon its records to that effect, stating the reasons therefor. To enable a larger number of small businesses and minority contractors to effectively compete for highway department contracts, the state highway commission may adopt rules and regulations providing for bids and award of contracts for the performance of work, or furnishing equipment, materials, supplies, or operating services whenever any work is to be performed and the engineer's estimate indicates the cost of the work would not exceed ((twenty-five)) fifty thousand dollars. The rules and regulations adopted under this section:

(1) Shall provide for competitive bids to the extent that competitive sources are available except when delay of performance would jeopardize life or property or inconvenience the traveling public; and

(2) Need not require the furnishing of a bid deposit nor a performance bond, but in the event such a performance bond is not required then progress payments to the contractor may be required to be made based on submittal of paid invoices to substantiate proof that disbursements have been made to laborers, materialmen, mechanics, and subcontractors from the previous partial payment; and

(3) May establish prequalification standards and procedures as an alternative to those set forth in RCW 47.28.070, but the prequalification standards and procedures under RCW 47.28.070 shall always be sufficient.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund to the tort claims revolving fund for payment of claims pursuant to RCW 4.92.170, as now or hereafter amended, the sum of $150,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Sec. 2. Section 11, chapter 159, Laws of 1963 as last amended by section 3, chapter 75, Laws of 1977 and RCW 4.92.170 are each amended to read as follows:

Liability for and payment of claims arising out of tortious conduct or under and pursuant to 42 U.S.C. Sec. 1981 et seq. is declared to be a proper charge as part of the normal cost of operating the various agencies and departments of state government whose operations and activities give rise to the liability and a lawful charge against moneys appropriated or available to such agencies and departments.

Within any agency or department the charge shall be apportioned among such appropriated and other available moneys in the same proportion that the moneys finance the activity causing liability. Whenever the operations and activities of more than one agency or department combine to give rise to a single liability, the budget director shall determine the comparative responsibility of each agency or department for the liability.

State agencies (~~over which the budget director has authority to revise allotments under chapter 43.88 RCW~~) shall make reimbursement to the tort claims revolving fund for any payment made from it for the benefit of such agencies. The budget director is authorized and directed to transfer or order the transfer to the revolving fund, from moneys available or appropriated to such agencies, that sum of money which is a proper charge against them. Such amounts may be expended for the purposes for which the tort claims revolving fund was created by RCW

4.92.130 as herein or hereafter amended without further or additional appropriation: PROVIDED, That in any case where reimbursement would seriously disrupt or prevent substantial performance of the operations or activities of the state agency, the budget director may relieve the agency of all or a portion of the obligation to make reimbursement.

The budget director shall report on request to the legislature on the status of the tort claims revolving fund, all payments made therefrom, all reimbursements made thereto, and the identity of agencies and departments of state government whose operations and activities give rise to liability, including those agencies and departments over which he does not have authority to revise allotments under chapter 43.88 RCW.

The budget director may authorize agencies, in accordance with chapter 41.05 RCW to the extent that it is applicable, to purchase insurance to protect and hold personally harmless any officer or employee of the state, or any classes of such officers or employees or for other persons performing services for the state, whether by contract or otherwise, from any action, claim, or proceeding for damages arising out of the performance of duties for, employment with, or the performance of services on behalf of the state and to hold him harmless from any expenses connected with the defense, settlement or monetary judgment from such actions.

The budget director shall adopt rules and regulations governing the procedures to be followed in making payment from the tort claims revolving fund, in reimbursing the revolving fund and in relieving an agency of its obligation to reimburse.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. This 1977 amendatory act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 2, chapter 184, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. as amended by section 7, chapter 106, Laws of 1977 1st ex. sess. and RCW 75.28.455 are each amended to read as follows:

On and after May 6, 1974, the department of fisheries of the state of Washington shall initiate a program to limit the number of commercial salmon vessels for each type of fishing gear and area by issuing licenses and vessel delivery permits to fish for salmon only to those vessels holding such licenses or permits in any year between January 1, 1970 and May 6, 1974: PROVIDED, That only those vessels which held commercial gear fishing licenses or vessel delivery permits valid for salmon during such period and can prove by means of a valid fish receiving document that salmon were caught and landed during such period shall be entitled to a valid commercial fishing license or vessel delivery permit to fish for or possess salmon for the same type of gear and area for each year of a period extending from January 1, 1975 through December 31, 1980: PROVIDED FURTHER, That except for vessels coming under the provisions of RCW 75.28.460, no commercial salmon fishing license or vessel delivery permit shall be issued to a vessel for calendar years 1979 and 1980 unless that vessel (1) was issued or had transferred to it a valid Washington state commercial salmon fishing license or vessel delivery permit during the previous calendar year, or during the last calendar year in which the vessel was legally eligible for licenses if the vessel's licenses were suspended or revoked during the calendar year or years previous to the year for which the licenses are being sought; and (2) can prove by means of a valid fish receiving document that food fish were caught and landed by such vessel in this state or in another state during the previous calendar year, or during the last calendar year in which

All such licenses or vessel delivery permits shall be transferable ((~~PROVIDED, That in order to qualify for licenses in calendar years 1979 and 1980, a vessel must prove by means of a valid fish receiving document that food fish were caught and landed by such vessel in this state or in another state during the previous calendar year, or during the last calendar year in which the vessel was legally eligible for licenses if the vessel's licenses were suspended or revoked during the calendar year or years previous to the year for which the licenses are being sought~~)).

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 183, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 75.28.500 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that the protection, welfare, and economic well-being of the commercial fishing industry is important to the people of this state. There presently exists an overabundance of commercial fishing gear in our state waters which causes great pressure on the fishing resources. This results in great economic waste to the state and prohibits conservation and harvesting programs from achieving their goals. This adverse situation has been compounded by the ((~~re-~~cent)) federal court decisions, United States of America et al. v. State of Washington et al., Civil No. 9213, United States District Court for the Western District of Washington, February 12, 1974, and Sohappy v. Smith, 302 F. Supp. 899 (D. Oregon, 1969), as amended, affirmed, and remanded 529 F. 2d 570 (9th Cir., 1976). As a result, large numbers of commercial fishermen face personal economic hardship, and the state commercial fishing industry is confronted with economic difficulty. The public welfare requires that the state have the authority to purchase commercial fishing vessels, licenses, gear, and permits offered for sale, as appropriate, in a manner which will provide relief to the individual vessel owner, and which will effect a reduction in the amount of commercial fishing gear in use in the state so as to insure increased economic opportunity for those persons in the industry and to insure that sound scientific conservation and harvesting programs can be carried out. It is the intention of the legislature to provide relief to commercial fishermen adversely affected by the current economic situation in the state fishery and to preserve this valuable state industry and these natural resources.

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 183, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 75.28.505 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in RCW 75.28.500 through 75.28.540; unless the context indicates otherwise:

(1) "Case areas" means those areas of the Western district of Washington ((~~within the watersheds of Puget Sound and the Olympic Peninsula north of Grays Harbor~~)) and in the adjacent offshore waters which are within the jurisdiction of the state of Washington, as defined in United States of America et al. v. State of Washington et al., Civil No. 9213, United States District Court for Western District of Washington, February 12, 1974, and in Sohappy v. Smith, 302 F. Supp. 899 (D. Oregon, 1969), as amended, affirmed, and remanded 529 F. 2d 570 (9th Cir., 1976), or any area in which fishing rights are affected by court decision in a manner consistent with the above-mentioned decisions;

(2) "Department" means the department of fisheries;

(3) "Director" means the director of the department of fisheries.

Sec. 4. Section 4, chapter 183, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 75.28.510 are each amended to read as follows:

The department is authorized to purchase commercial fishing vessels and appurtenant gear, and the ~~((appropriate))~~ current commercial fishing licenses and delivery permits and charter boat licenses issued by the state of Washington if the vessel, licensee, or permit holder:

(1) Was licensed to fish or deliver fish during 1974, 1975, 1976, or 1977 within the case areas; and

(2) Was substantially restricted in its fishing season ~~((in 1974))~~ by the department as a result of compliance with United States of America et al. v. State of Washington et al., Civil No. 9213, United States District Court for Western District of Washington, February 12, 1974, and Sohappy v. Smith, 302 F. Supp. 899 (D. Oregon, 1969), as amended, affirmed, and remanded 529 F. 2d 570 (9th Cir., 1976).

The department shall not purchase any vessel without also purchasing all ~~((appropriate))~~ current Washington commercial fishing licenses and delivery permits and charter boat licenses issued to such vessel or its owner: PROVIDED, That the department is authorized to purchase current licenses and delivery permits in the absence of the purchase of a vessel.

Sec. 5. Section 9, chapter 183, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 75.28.535 are each amended to read as follows:

The provisions of ~~((this 1975 amendatory act))~~ RCW 75.28.500 through 75.28.540 as now or hereafter amended, shall become effective on January 1, 1978, or thereafter, only upon receipt by the department from the federal government of funds in an amount sufficient to administer such provisions and to accomplish its purposes. ~~((If such funds are not received or authorized prior to July 1, 1976, this 1975 amendatory act shall expire on said date.))~~

The director shall be the responsible state officer for the administration of, and the disbursement of all funds, goods, commodities, and services, which may be received by the state in connection with the provisions of ~~((this 1975 amendatory act))~~ RCW 75.28.500 through 75.28.540 as now or hereafter amended. There is created within the state treasury a fund to be known as the "vessel, gear, license, and permit reduction fund", which shall be used for the purchase of vessels, licenses, permits, and fishing gear as provided in ~~((this 1975 amendatory act))~~ RCW 75.28.500 through 75.28.540 as now or hereafter amended, and for the administration of the provisions of ~~((this 1975 amendatory act))~~ RCW 75.28.500 through 75.28.540 as now or hereafter amended. This fund shall be credited with any federal or other funds received to carry out the purposes of ~~((this 1975 amendatory act))~~ RCW 75.28.500 through 75.28.540 as now or hereafter amended, and shall also be credited with all proceeds from the sale or other disposition of any property purchased pursuant to RCW 75.28.510 as now or hereafter amended.

Sec. 6. Section 10, chapter 183, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 75.28.540 are each amended to read as follows:

No application for participation in the program provided for in RCW 75.28.500 through 75.28.540 shall be accepted by the department later than June 30, ((1977)) 1980. The director shall provide for the expeditious completion of the program thereafter and shall notify the state legislature when such provisions might appropriately be declared null and void.

Upon such hearing the court shall make and cause to be entered a formal order, either establishing and probating such will, or refusing to establish and probate the same, and such order shall be conclusive except in the event of a contest of such will as hereinafter provided. All testimony in support of the will shall be reduced to writing, signed by the witnesses, and certified by the judge of the court. If the application for probate of a will does not request the appointment of a personal representative and the court enters an adjudication of testacy establishing such will no further administration shall be required except as commenced pursuant to RCW 11.28.330 or 11.28.340.

(2) In addition to the foregoing procedure for the proof of wills, any or all of the attesting witnesses to a will may, at the request of the testator or, after his decease, at the request of the executor or any person interested under it, make an affidavit before any person authorized to administer oaths, stating such facts as they would be required to testify to in court to prove such will, which affidavit may be written on the will or may be attached to the will or to a photographic copy of the will. The sworn statement of any witness so taken shall be accepted by the court as if it had been taken before the court.

If the application for an adjudication of intestacy and heirship does not request the appointment of a personal representative and the court enters an adjudication of intestacy no further administration shall be required except as set forth in RCW 11.28.330 or 11.28.340.

Sec. 5. Section 46, chapter 117, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 11.28.185 are each amended to read as follows:

The court may at any time after appointment of the personal representative require said personal representative to give a bond or additional bond, the same to be conditioned and to be approved as provided in this section; or the court may allow a reduction of the bond upon a proper showing.

In lieu of bond, the court may in its discretion, substitute other security or financial arrangements, such as provided under RCW 11.88.105, or as the court may deem adequate to protect the assets of the estate.

- (1) Establishing the decedent's will as his last will and testament and persons entitled to receive his estate thereunder; or
- (2) Establishing the fact that the decedent died intestate, and those persons entitled to receive his estate as his heirs at law.

The right of an heir, legatee, or devisee to receive the assets of a decedent shall, to the extent otherwise provided by this title, be subject to the prior rights of the decedent's creditors and of any persons entitled to a homestead award or award in lieu of homestead or family allowance, and nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to alter or diminish such prior rights, or to prohibit any person for good cause shown, from obtaining the appointment of a personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent after the entry of an order adjudicating testacy or intestacy and heirship. However, if the petition for letters testamentary or of administration shall be filed more than four months after the date of the adjudication of testacy or of intestacy and heirship, the issuance of such letters shall not affect the finality of said adjudications.

A claimant after a claim has been on file for at least thirty days may notify the personal representative that he will petition the court to have the claim allowed. If the personal representative fails to file an allowance or rejection of such claim twenty days after the receipt of such notice, the claimant may note the matter up for hearing and the court shall hear the matter and determine whether the claim should be allowed or rejected, in whole or in part. If at the hearing the claim is substantially allowed the court may allow petitioner reasonable attorney's fees of not less than one hundred dollars chargeable against the estate.

(3) If the personal representative shall reject the claim, in whole or in part, he shall notify the claimant of said rejection and file in the office of the clerk, an affidavit showing such notification and the date thereof. Said notification shall be by personal service or certified mail addressed to the claimant at his address as stated in the claim; if a person other than the claimant shall have signed said claim for or on behalf of the claimant, and said person's business address as stated in said claim is different from that of the claimant, notification of rejection shall also be made by personal service or certified mail upon said person; the date of the postmark shall be the date of notification. (4) The personal representative may, either before or after rejection of any claim compromise said claim, whether due or not, absolute or contingent, liquidated or unliquidated, if it appears to the personal representative that such compromise is in the best interests of the estate.

If the surviving partner or partners commit waste, or if it appears to the court that it is for the best interest of the estate of the decedent, such court may, after a hearing, order the surviving partner or partners to give security for the faithful settlement of the partnership affairs and the payment to the personal representative of any amount due the estate.

Sec. 16. Section 11.64.022, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.64.022 are each amended to read as follows:

If the surviving partner or partners fail or refuse to ~~((file the))~~ furnish an inventory(;) or list of liabilities, ~~((or))~~ to permit an appraisal, or ~~((if it appears proper to order the surviving partner or partners to account to the court or to file a bond))~~ to account to the personal representative, or to furnish a bond when required pursuant to RCW 11.64.016, said court shall order a citation to issue requiring the surviving partner or partners to appear and show cause why they have not ~~((filed))~~ furnished an inventory(;) list of liabilities, or permitted an appraisal or why they should not account to the ~~((court))~~ personal representative or file a bond. The citation shall be served not less than ten days before the return day designated therein, or such shorter period as the court upon a showing of good cause deems appropriate. If the surviving partner or partners neglect or refuse to file an inventory(;) or list of liabilities, or to permit an appraisal, or fail to account to the court or to file a bond, after they have been directed to do so, they may be punished for a contempt or the court may commit them to jail until they comply with the order of the court. Where the surviving partner or partners fail to file a bond after being ordered to do so by the court, the court may also appoint a receiver of the partnership estate with like powers and duties of receivers in equity, and order the costs and expenses of the proceedings to be paid out of the partnership estate or out of the estate of the decedent, or by the surviving partner or partners personally, or partly by each of the parties.

Sec. 17. Section 11.64.030, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.64.030 are each amended to read as follows:

The surviving partner or the surviving partners jointly, shall have the right at any time to petition the court to purchase the interests of a deceased partner in the partnership. Upon a hearing pursuant to such petition ~~((being presented))~~ the court shall, in such manner as it sees fit, ~~((learn))~~ determine and by order fix the value of the interest of the deceased partner over and above all partnership debts and obligations, ~~((and))~~ the price, terms, and conditions ~~((upon))~~ of such sale and the period of time during which the surviving partner or partners ~~((may purchase, and thereafter the surviving partner or partners))~~ shall have the ~~((preference))~~ prior right ~~((for such length of time as the court may fix,))~~ to purchase the interest of the deceased partner ~~((at the price and upon the terms and conditions fixed by the court))~~. If any such surviving partner be also the personal representative of the estate of the deceased partner, such fact shall not affect his right to purchase, or to join with the other surviving partners to purchase such interest in the manner hereinbefore provided.

The court shall make such orders in connection with such sale as it deems proper or necessary to protect the estate of the deceased against any liability for partnership debts or obligations.

Sec. 18. Section 11.68.010, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 13, chapter 117, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 11.68.010 are each amended to read as follows:

Sec. 24. Section 20, chapter 117, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 11.68.080 are each amended to read as follows:

After such notice as the court may require, the order of solvency shall be vacated or restricted upon the petition of any personal representative, heir, legatee, devisee, or creditor, if supported by proof satisfactory to the court that said estate has become insolvent.

Sec. 25. Section 22, chapter 117, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 11.68.100 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When the estate is ready to be closed, the court, upon application by the personal representative who has nonintervention powers, shall have the authority and it shall be its duty, to make and cause to be entered a decree which either:

(a) Finds and adjudges that all approved claims of the decedent have been paid, finds and adjudges the heirs of the decedent or those persons entitled to take under his will, and distributes the property of the decedent to the persons entitled thereto; or

(b) Approves the accounting of the personal representative and settles the estate of the decedent in the manner provided for in the administration of those estates in which the personal representative has not acquired nonintervention powers.

(2) Either decree provided for in this section shall be made after notice given as provided for in the settlement of estates by a personal representative who has not acquired nonintervention powers. The petition for either decree provided for in this section shall state the fees paid or proposed to be paid to the personal representative, his attorneys, accountants, and appraisers, and any heir, devisee, or legatee whose interest in the assets of a decedent's estate would be reduced by the ~~((amount))~~ payment of said fees shall receive a copy of said petition with the notice of hearing thereon; at the request of the personal representative or any said heir, devisee, or legatee, the court shall, at the time of the hearing on either petition, determine the reasonableness of said fees. ~~((The criteria for and reasonable range of fees reviewed shall be as established by court rules issued by the state supreme court.))~~ The court shall take into consideration all criteria forming the basis for the determination of the amount of such fees as contained in the code of professional responsibility; in determining the reasonableness of the fees charged by any personal representative, accountants, and appraisers the court shall take into consideration the criteria forming the basis for the determination of attorney's fees, to the extent applicable, and any other factors which the court determines to be relevant in the determination of the amount of fees to be paid to such personal representative.

If a personal representative who has acquired nonintervention powers shall not apply to the court for either final decree provided for in RCW 11.68.100 as now or hereafter amended, the personal representative shall, when the administration of the estate has been completed, file a declaration to that effect, which declaration shall state as follows:

(1) The date of the decedent's death, and his residence at the time of death, whether or not the decedent died testate or intestate, and if testate, the date of his last will and testament and the date of the order admitting said will to probate;

(3) The personal representative has completed the administration of the decedent's estate without court intervention, and the estate is ready to be closed;

(5) The amount of fees paid or to be paid to each of the following: (a) Personal representative or representatives, (b) attorney or attorneys, (c) appraiser or appraisers, and (d) accountant or accountants((-)); and that the personal representative believes said fees to be reasonable and does not intend to obtain court approval of the amount of said fees or to submit an estate accounting to the court for approval.

Subject to the requirement of notice as provided in this section, unless an heir, devisee, or legatee of a decedent shall petition the court either for an order requiring the personal representative to obtain court approval of the amount of fees paid or to be paid to the personal representative, his attorneys, appraisers, or accountants, or for an order requiring an accounting, or both, within thirty days from the date of filing a declaration of completion of probate, the personal representative will be discharged and his powers cease thirty days after the filing of said declaration of completion of probate, and said declaration of completion of probate shall, at said time, be the equivalent of the entry of a decree of distribution in accordance with the provisions of chapter 11.76 RCW for all legal intents and purposes.

Within five days of the date of the filing of the declaration of completion, the personal representative or his attorney shall mail a copy of said declaration of completion to each heir, legatee, or devisee of the decedent (who has not waived notice of said filing, in writing, filed in the cause) together with a notice which shall be as follows:

If all heirs, devisees, and legatees of the decedent shall waive, in writing, the notice required by this section, the personal representative shall be discharged and the declaration of completion of probate will become effective as a decree of distribution upon the date of filing thereof. In those instances where the personal representative has been required to furnish bond, and a declaration of completion shall have been filed pursuant to this section, any bond furnished by the personal representative shall be automatically discharged upon the discharge of the personal representative.

(1) The death, disability, or incompetence of any principal who has executed a power of attorney in writing other than a power as described by RCW (~~30.04-260~~) 11.94.010, does not revoke or terminate the agency as to the attorney in fact, agent, or other person who, without actual knowledge of the death, disability, or incompetence of the principal, acts in good faith under the power of attorney or agency. Any action so taken, unless otherwise invalid or unenforceable, binds the principal and his heirs, devisees, and personal representatives.

(2) An affidavit, executed by the attorney in fact, or agent, stating that he did not have, at the time of doing an act pursuant to the power of attorney, actual knowledge of the revocation or termination of the power of attorney by death, disability, or incompetence, is, in the absence of a showing of fraud or bad faith, conclusive proof of the nonrevocation or nontermination of the power at that time. If the exercise of the power requires execution and delivery of any instrument which is recordable, the affidavit when authenticated for record is likewise recordable.

(3) This section shall not be construed to alter or affect any provision for revocation or termination contained in the power of attorney.

Sec. 28. Section 30.20.020, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as last amended by section 39, chapter 117, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 30.20.020 are each amended to read as follows:

On the death of any depositor of any bank or trust company, such bank or trust company may pay to the surviving spouse, the moneys in said bank or trust company on deposit to the credit of said deceased depositor in cases where the amount

The payment of such deposit made in good faith to the spouse making the affidavit shall be a full acquittance and release of the bank for the amount of the deposit so paid.

No probate proceeding shall be necessary to establish the right of said surviving spouse to withdraw said deposits upon the filing of said affidavit: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, Whenever (~~an administrator~~) a personal representative is appointed in an estate where a withdrawal of deposits has been had in compliance with this section, the spouse so withdrawing said deposits shall account for the same to the (~~administrator~~) personal representative. The bank or trust company may also pay out the moneys on deposit to the credit of the deceased upon presentation of an affidavit as provided in RCW 11.62.010 as now or hereafter amended.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds that a need exists to adequately inform the public on the conduct of the people's business by state government, and that providing adequate notice of the affairs of government enables the public to actively participate in the conduct of state government. The legislature further finds that the promulgation of rules by state agencies has a direct effect on the ability of the people to conduct their personal affairs and knowledgeably deal with state government. It is therefore the intent and purpose of sections 2 and 12 of this 1977 amendatory act and of this chapter to require the publication of a state register by which the public will be adequately informed of the activities of government and where they may actively participate in the conduct of state government and influence the decision making process of the people's business.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 1.08 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The statute law committee, in addition to the other responsibilities enumerated in this chapter, shall cause to be published the Washington State Register as created in section 3 of this 1977 amendatory act. The statute law committee and/or the code reviser may adopt such rules as are necessary for the effective operation of such service.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is hereby created a state publication to be called the Washington State Register, which shall be published on a monthly basis. The register shall contain, but is not limited to, the following materials received by the code reviser's office during the pertinent publication period:

Such material shall be considered, when published, to be the official notification of the intended action, and no state agency or official thereof shall take action on any such rule except on emergency rules adopted in accordance with RCW 34.04.030, until twenty days have passed since the distribution date of the register in which the rule and hearing notice have been published or a notice regarding the omission of the rule has been published pursuant to RCW 34.04.050(3) as now or hereafter amended;

(4) Public meeting notices of any and all agencies of state government, including state elected officials whose offices are created by Article III of the state Constitution or RCW 48.02.010; and

(5) Rules of the state supreme court which have been adopted but not yet published in an official permanent codification.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. All material included in the register pursuant to section 3 of this 1977 amendatory act shall be prepared by the appropriate agency or official and transmitted to the code reviser in accordance with rules adopted by the code reviser prescribing the style, format, and numbering system therefor, the date of receipt for inclusion within a particular register, and such other requirements as may be necessary for the orderly and efficient publication of the register and the Washington Administrative Code.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The publication of any information in the Washington State Register shall be deemed to be official notice of such information, and publication in the register of such information and materials shall be certified to be the true and correct copy of such rules or other information as filed in the code reviser's office. The code reviser shall certify, to any court of record, the publication of any notice or information, and attached to such certification shall be the agency's declaration of compliance with the provisions of the Open Public Meetings Act (chapter 42.30 RCW), the Administrative Procedure Act (chapter 34.04 RCW) or the Higher Education Administrative Procedure Act (chapter 28B.19 RCW), as appropriate, and this chapter.

CHAPTER 260

NURSING HOMES—ANNUAL COST REPORTS—AUDITS—RATES

AN ACT Relating to nursing homes; adding new sections to chapter 74.09 RCW; and providing penalties.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds that reliability of financial information is dependent upon the application of generally accepted accounting principles and adherence to published rules of the department of social and health services. To assure that these accounting principles and rules are being applied to reports submitted by nursing homes, the legislature finds it necessary to require certain reports submitted by nursing homes to be audited by the department of social and health services in the manner prescribed in sections 2 and 3 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. All annual cost reports submitted to the state by a nursing home shall be audited annually through a field audit conducted by auditors under contract with or employed by the department of social and health services. The secretary of the department of social and health services shall establish an audit manual and program which shall require that all audits, conducted either through contract or by department employees:

(1) Comply with generally accepted auditing standards prescribed by the American institute of certified public accountants;

(2) Include a written opinion as to whether allowable costs included in the report are presented fairly in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and department rules, and whether, in all material respects, allowable costs are documented, reasonable, and related to patient care;

(3) Are conducted by accounting firms or auditors who, during the period of the auditors' professional engagement or employment and during the period covered by the financial statements, do not have nor are committed to acquire any direct or indirect financial interest in the ownership, financing, or operation of a nursing home in this state;

(4) Are conducted by accounting firms or auditors who, as a condition of the contract or employment, are not allowed to have nursing home clients during or within two years of termination of their contract or employment;

(5) Are conducted by auditors who are otherwise independent as determined by the standards of independence established by the American institute of certified public accountants;

(6) Are supervised by a certified public accountant;

(7) Are completed within one year after the annual cost report is submitted by the nursing home; and

(8) Provide to the nursing home complete written interpretations which explain in detail the application of all relevant contract provisions, regulations, auditing standards, rate formulae, and departmental policies, with explanations and examples, and which are sufficient to permit the nursing home to calculate with reasonable certainty those costs which are allowable and the settlement to which the nursing home is entitled.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) The department of social and health services shall prepare a written summary of any audit disallowance which exceeds five hundred dollars. Where the department pays rates or proposes settlement of accounts at less than the nursing home's actual reported costs, which have been verified by audit, the department shall for each cost center, as determined under department rules, advise the nursing home management of the rules and regulations justifying reimbursement at less than actual cost. Where the nursing home is pursuing judicial or administrative remedies in good faith regarding reimbursement settlement issues the department shall not withhold from the nursing home current payment amounts the department claims to be due from the nursing home.

(2) All financial reports and information submitted by nursing homes to the department of social and health services and all final audit narratives and summaries reviewing the submitted material shall be available for public inspection. By December 31, 1979, all nursing homes shall submit annual cost reports based on their federal tax year, which shall coincide with a common fiscal year as determined by the secretary of the department of social and health services.

(3) The department shall, without identifying individual nursing homes, make available to the public full information regarding its cost-finding and rate-setting methodology for nursing home care. The information shall include, but not necessarily be limited to, the following:

(a) Ranges, averages, and median costs for all cost centers;

(b) Departmental budget projections which reflect probable economic trends;

(c) Computer models and programs, with related documentation sufficient to explain them, used or proposed by the department to evaluate cost reports, establish cost projections, establish rates, or, in whole or in part, determine settlements; and

(d) All raw data relied upon by the department for any such cost-finding or rate-setting activities.

The department shall, prior to April 1 of each year, file with the senate ways and means and house appropriations committees, and make available to the public, a comprehensive report concerning all of the above matters.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The nursing home payment system under this chapter shall provide for individually-based or class-based rates which shall be the maximum reimbursement for each nursing home for the period for which the rates are assigned. Operators of nursing homes shall refund all portions of payments received which exceed actual audited costs and all portions of payments received which are attributable to unreasonable or nonallowable costs as determined by federal or state regulations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Payment rates shall:

(1) Not be set lower prospectively than the level which may reasonably be expected to reimburse in full for actual allowable costs under federal regulations for a nursing home which is economically and efficiently operated;

(2) Realistically take into account economic conditions and trends during the time period covered by the rates;

(3) Be at least annually redetermined;

(4) Permit as allowable those expenses necessary to meet all items of expense which operators of nursing homes must incur to provide federally defined skilled or intermediate care services;

(5) Meet the reasonable cost of patient assessment activity as required by the department; and

(6) Meet the reasonable cost of accounting requirements.

Reasonable costs shall be determined independently of the level of funding available, in accordance with federal regulations and guidelines.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Nothing in this chapter shall preclude the state auditor from conducting post audit examinations of public funds pursuant to RCW 43.09.330 or other applicable law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 1 through 6 of this act shall be added to chapter 74.09 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

Passed the Senate June 6, 1977.

Approved by the Governor June 15, 1977.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State June 15, 1977.

It is hereby declared to be the policy of this state that each housing authority shall manage and operate its housing projects in an efficient manner so as to enable it to fix the rentals for dwelling accommodations at the lowest possible rates consistent with its providing decent, safe and sanitary dwelling accommodations, and that no housing authority shall construct or operate any such project for profit, or as a source of revenue to the city or the county. To this end, an authority shall fix the rentals for ~~((dwellings))~~ rental units for persons of low income in ~~((its))~~ projects owned or leased by the authority at no higher rates than it shall find to be necessary in order to produce revenues which (together with all other available moneys, revenues, income and receipts of the authority from whatever sources derived) will be sufficient (1) to pay, as the same become due, the principal and interest on the bonds of the authority issued to finance the projects; (2) to meet the cost of, and to provide for, maintaining and operating the projects (including the cost of any insurance) and the administrative expenses of the authority; and (3) to create (during not less than the six years immediately succeeding its issuance of any such bonds) a reserve sufficient to meet the largest principal and interest payments which will be due on such bonds in any one year thereafter and to maintain such reserve.

In the operation and management of rental units which are rented to persons of low income in any housing project(s) an authority shall at all times observe the following duties with respect to rentals and tenant selection: (1) it may rent or lease the dwelling accommodations therein ~~((only))~~ to persons of low income and at rentals within the financial reach of such persons of low income; (2) it may rent or lease to a tenant dwelling accommodations consisting of the number of rooms (but no greater number) which it deems necessary to provide safe and sanitary accommodations to the proposed occupants thereof, without overcrowding; and (3) it shall not accept any person as a low income tenant in any housing project if the person or persons who would occupy the dwelling accommodations have an annual net income in excess of five times the annual rental of the quarters to be furnished such person or persons, except that in the case of families with three or more minor dependents, such ratio shall not exceed six to one; in computing the rental for this purpose of selecting tenants, there shall be included in the rental the average annual cost (as determined by the authority) to occupants of heat, water, electricity, gas, cooking range and other necessary services or facilities, whether or not the charge for such services and facilities is in fact included in the rental.

Nothing contained in this section or RCW 35.82.080 shall be construed as limiting the power of an authority to vest in an obligee the right, in the event of a default by the authority, to take possession of a housing project or cause the appointment of a receiver thereof, free from all the restrictions imposed by this section or RCW 35.82.080.

Sec. 5. Section 35.82.130, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 and RCW 35.82.130 are each amended to read as follows:

An authority shall have power to issue bonds from time to time in its discretion, for any of its corporate purposes. An authority shall also have power to issue re-funding bonds for the purpose of paying or retiring bonds previously issued by it. An authority may issue such types of bonds as it may determine, including (without limiting the generality of the foregoing) bonds on which the principal and interest are payable: (1) exclusively from the income and revenues of the housing project financed with the proceeds of such bonds; (2) exclusively from the income and revenues of certain designated housing projects whether or not they are financed in whole or in part with the proceeds of such bonds; or (3) from all or part of its revenues or assets generally. Any such bonds may be additionally secured by a pledge of any grant or contributions from the federal government or other source, or a pledge of any income or revenues of the authority, or a mortgage of any housing project, projects or other property of the authority. Any pledge made by the authority shall be valid and binding from the time when the pledge is made and recorded; the revenues, moneys, or property so pledged and thereafter received by the authority shall immediately be subject to the lien of the pledge without any physical delivery thereof or further act, and the lien of any such pledge shall be valid and binding as against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract, or otherwise against the authority, irrespective of whether the parties have notice thereof. The resolution and any other instrument by which a pledge is created shall be recorded.

Neither the commissioners of an authority nor any person executing the bonds shall be liable personally on the bonds by reason of the issuance thereof. The bonds and other obligations of an authority (and such bonds and obligations shall so state on their face) shall not be a debt of the city, the county, the state or any political subdivision thereof and neither the city or the county, nor the state or any political subdivision thereof shall be liable thereon, nor in any event shall such bonds or obligations be payable out of any funds or properties other than those of said authority. The bonds shall not constitute an indebtedness within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory debt limitation or restriction. Bonds of an authority are declared to be issued for an essential public and governmental purpose and to be public instrumentalities and, together with interest thereon and income therefrom, shall be exempt from taxes.

Sec. 6. Section 35.82.140, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 45, chapter 56, Laws of 1970 ex. sess. and RCW 35.82.140 are each amended to read as follows:

Bonds of an authority shall be authorized by its resolution and may be issued in one or more series and shall bear such date or dates, mature at such time or times, bear interest at such rate or rates, be in such denomination or denominations, be in such form, either coupon or registered, carry such conversion or registration privileges, have such rank or priority, be executed in such manner, be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places, and be subject to such terms of redemption (with or without premium) as such resolution, its trust indenture or mortgage may provide.

The bonds may be sold at public or private sale ((at not less than par)).

In case any of the commissioners or officers of the authority whose signatures appear on any bond or coupons shall cease to be such commissioners or officers before the delivery of such bonds, such signatures shall, nevertheless, be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if they had remained in office until such delivery. Any provision of any law to the contrary notwithstanding, any bonds issued pursuant to this chapter shall be fully negotiable.

In any suit, action or proceedings involving the validity or enforceability of any bond of an authority or the security therefor, any such bond reciting in substance that it has been issued by the authority to aid in financing a housing project to provide dwelling accommodations for persons of low income shall be conclusively deemed to have been issued for a housing project of such character and said project shall be conclusively deemed to have been planned, located and constructed in accordance with the purposes and provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 7. Section 35.82.150, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 and RCW 35.82.150 are each amended to read as follows:

In connection with the issuance of bonds or the incurring of obligations under leases and in order to secure the payment of such bonds or obligations, an authority, in addition to its other powers, shall have power:

(1) To pledge all or any part of its gross or net rents, fees ~~((or))~~, revenues, or assets, including mortgage loans and obligations securing the same, to which its right then exists or may thereafter come into existence.

(5) To covenant (subject to the limitations contained in this chapter) as to the rents and fees to be charged in the operation of a housing project or projects, the amount to be raised each year or other period of time by rents, fees and other revenues, and as to the use and disposition to be made thereof; to create or to authorize the creation of special funds for moneys held for construction or operating costs, debt service, reserves, or other purposes, and to covenant as to the use and disposition of the moneys held in such funds.

(6) To prescribe the procedure, if any, by which the terms of any contract with bondholders may be amended or abrogated, the amount of bonds the holders of which must consent thereto and the manner in which such consent may be given.

(7) To covenant as to use of any or all of its real or personal property; and to covenant as to the maintenance of its real and personal property, the replacement thereof, the insurance to be carried thereon and the use and disposition of insurance moneys.

(8) To covenant as to the rights, liabilities, powers and duties arising upon the breach by it of any covenant, condition, or obligation; and to covenant and prescribe as to events of default and terms and conditions upon which any or all of its bonds or obligations shall become or may be declared due before maturity, and as to the terms and conditions upon which such declaration and its consequences may be waived.

(9) To vest in a trustee or trustees or the holders of bonds or any proportion of them the right to enforce the payment of the bonds or any covenants securing or relating to the bonds; to vest in a trustee or trustees the right, in the event of a default by said authority, to take possession and use, operate and manage any housing project or part thereof, and to collect the rents and revenues arising therefrom and to dispose of such moneys in accordance with the agreement of the authority with said trustee; to provide for the powers and duties of a trustee or trustees and to limit the liabilities thereof; and to provide the terms and conditions upon which the trustee or trustees or the holders of bonds or any proportion of them may enforce any covenant or rights securing or relating to the bonds.

(10) To covenant as to the use and disposition of the gross income from mortgages owned by the authority and payment of principal of the mortgages.

(11) To exercise all or any part or combination of the powers herein granted; to make covenants other than and in addition to the covenants herein expressly authorized, of like or different character; to make such covenants and to do any and all such acts and things as may be necessary or convenient or desirable in order to secure its bonds, or, in the absolute discretion of said authority, as will tend to make the bonds more marketable notwithstanding that such covenants, acts or things may not be enumerated herein.

Sec. 8. Section 35.82.220, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 and RCW 35.82.220 are each amended to read as follows:

Notwithstanding any restrictions on investments contained in any laws of this state, the state and all public officers, municipal corporations, political subdivisions, and public bodies, all banks, bankers, trust companies, savings banks and institutions, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, investment companies and other persons carrying on a banking business, all insurance companies, insurance associations and other persons carrying on an insurance business, and all executors, administrators, guardians, trustees and other fiduciaries may legally invest any sinking funds, moneys or other funds belonging to them or within their control in any bonds or other obligations issued by a housing authority pursuant to the housing authorities law of this state or issued by any public housing authority or agency in the United States, ~~((when such bonds or other obligations are secured by a pledge of annual contributions to be paid by the United States government or any agency thereof,))~~ and such bonds and other obligations shall be authorized security for all public deposits; it being the purpose of this chapter to authorize any persons, firms, corporations, associations, political subdivisions, bodies and officers, public or private, to use any funds owned or controlled by them,

CLASS AA OR CLASS A COUNTIES—ASSUMPTION OF RIGHTS, ETC., OF METROPOLITAN MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS

AN ACT Relating to local government; amending and reenacting section 35.58.020, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 2, chapter 70, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and by section 1, chapter 84, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 35.58.020; adding a new chapter to Title 36 RCW; and prescribing an effective date.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. Any class AA or class A county in which a metropolitan municipal corporation has been established pursuant to chapter 35.58 RCW with boundaries coterminous with the boundaries of the county may by ordinance or resolution, as the case may be, of the county legislative authority assume the rights, powers, functions, and obligations of such metropolitan municipal corporation in accordance with the provisions of this 1977 amendatory act. The definitions contained in RCW 35.58.020 shall be applicable to this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The assumption of the rights, powers, functions, and obligations of a metropolitan municipal corporation may be initiated by the adoption of an ordinance or a resolution, as the case may be, by the county legislative authority indicating its intention to conduct a hearing concerning assumption of such rights, powers, functions, and obligations. In the event the county legislative authority adopts such an ordinance or a resolution of intention, such ordinance or resolution shall set a time and place at which it will consider the proposed assumption of the rights, powers, functions, and obligations of the metropolitan municipal corporation, and shall state that all persons interested may appear and be heard. Such ordinance or resolution of intention shall be published for at least four times during the four weeks next preceding the scheduled hearing in newspapers of daily general circulation printed or published in said county.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. At the time scheduled for the hearing in the ordinance or resolution of intention, the county legislative authority shall consider the assumption of the rights, powers, functions, and obligations of the metropolitan municipal corporation, and hear those appearing and all protests and objections to it. The county legislative authority may continue the hearing from time to time, not exceeding sixty days in all.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If, from the testimony given before the county legislative authority, it appears that the public interest or welfare would be satisfied by the county assuming the rights, powers, functions, and obligations of the metropolitan municipal corporation, the county legislative authority may declare that to be its intent and assume such rights, powers, functions, and obligations by ordinance or resolution, as the case may be, providing that the county shall be vested with every right, power, function, and obligation currently granted to or possessed by the metropolitan municipal corporation pursuant to chapter 35.58 RCW (including RCW 35.58.273 relating to levy and use of the motor vehicle excise tax) or other provision of state law, including but not limited to, the power and authority to levy a sales and use tax pursuant to chapter 82.14 RCW or other provision of law: PROVIDED, That such ordinance or resolution shall be submitted to the voters of the county for their adoption and ratification or rejection, and if a majority of the persons voting on the proposition residing within the central city shall vote in favor thereof and a majority of the persons voting on the proposition residing in the metropolitan area outside of the central city shall vote in favor thereof, the ordinance or resolution shall be deemed adopted and ratified.

Upon assumption of the rights, powers, functions, and obligations of the metropolitan municipal corporation by the county, the metropolitan council established pursuant to the provisions of RCW 35.58.120 through 35.58.160 shall be abolished, said provisions shall be inapplicable to the county, and the county legislative authority shall thereafter be vested with all rights, powers, duties, and obligations otherwise vested by law in the metropolitan council: PROVIDED, That in any county with a home rule charter such rights, powers, functions, and obligations shall vest in accordance with the executive and legislative responsibilities defined in such charter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. All employees and personnel of the metropolitan municipal corporation who are under a personnel system pursuant to RCW 35.58-.370 shall be assigned to the county personnel system to perform their usual duties upon the same terms as formerly, without any loss of rights, subject to any action that may be appropriate thereafter in accordance with the laws and rules governing the county personnel system.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. If apportionments of budgeted funds are required because of the transfers authorized by this chapter, the county budget office shall certify such apportionments to the agencies and local governmental units affected and to the state auditor. Each of these shall make the appropriate transfer and adjustments in funds and appropriation accounts and equipment records in accordance with such certification.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. No transfer of any function made pursuant to this chapter shall be construed to impair or alter any existing rights acquired under the provisions of chapter 35.58 RCW or any other provision of law relating to metropolitan municipal corporations, nor as impairing or altering any actions, activities, or proceedings validated thereunder, nor as impairing or altering any civil or criminal proceedings instituted thereunder, nor any rule, regulation, or order promulgated thereunder, nor any administrative action taken thereunder; and neither the assumption of control of any metropolitan municipal function by a county, nor any transfer of rights, powers, functions, and obligations as provided in this chapter, shall impair or alter the validity of any act performed by such metropolitan municipal corporation or division thereof or any officer thereof prior to the assumption of such rights, powers, functions, and obligations by any county as authorized by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to alter any existing collective bargaining unit or the provisions of any existing collective bargaining agreement until any such agreement has expired or until any such bargaining unit has been modified as provided by law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. All rules and regulations, and all pending business before the committees, divisions, boards, and other agencies of any metropolitan municipal corporation transferred pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall be continued and acted upon by the county.

All existing contracts and obligations of the transferred metropolitan municipal corporation shall remain in full force and effect, and shall be performed by the county. No transfer authorized in this chapter shall affect the validity of any official act performed by any official or employee prior to the transfer authorized pursuant to this amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. When the rights, powers, functions, and obligations of a metropolitan municipal corporation are transferred pursuant to this chapter, all real and personal property owned by the metropolitan municipal corporation shall become that of the county.

All reports, documents, surveys, books, records, files, papers, or other writings relating to the administration of the powers, duties, and functions transferred pursuant to this chapter and available to the metropolitan municipal corporation shall be made available to the county.

All cabinets, furniture, office equipment, motor vehicles, and other tangible property employed in carrying out the rights, powers, functions, and obligations transferred by this chapter and available to the metropolitan municipal corporation shall be made available to the county.

All funds, credits, or other assets held in connection with powers, duties, and functions herein transferred shall be assigned to the county.

Any appropriations or federal grant made to any committee, division, board, or other department of a metropolitan municipal corporation for the purpose of carrying out the rights, powers, functions, and obligations authorized to be assumed by a county pursuant to this chapter shall on the effective date of such transfer be credited to the county for the purpose of carrying out such transferred rights, powers, functions, and obligations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The county shall assume and agree to provide for the payment of all of the indebtedness of the metropolitan municipal corporation including the payment and retirement of outstanding general obligation and revenue bonds issued by the metropolitan municipal corporation. Until the indebtedness of a metropolitan municipal corporation thus assumed by a county has been discharged, all property within the boundaries of the metropolitan municipal corporation and the owners and occupants of that property, shall continue to be liable for taxes, special assessments, and other charges legally pledged to pay the indebtedness of the metropolitan municipal corporation. The county shall assume the obligation of causing the payment of such indebtedness, collecting such taxes, assessments, and charges and observing and performing the other contractual obligations of the metropolitan municipal corporation. The legislative authority of the county shall act in the same manner as the governing body of the metropolitan municipal corporation for the purpose of certifying the amount of any property tax to be levied and collected therein, and may cause service and other charges and assessments to be collected from such property or owners or occupants thereof, enforce such collection and perform all acts necessary to ensure performance of the contractual obligations of the metropolitan municipal corporation in the same manner and by the same means as if the property of the metropolitan municipal corporation had not been acquired by the county.

When a county assumes the obligation of paying indebtedness of a metropolitan municipal corporation and if property taxes or assessments have been levied and service and other charges have accrued for such purpose but have not been collected by the metropolitan municipal corporation prior to such assumption, the same when collected shall belong and be paid to the county and be used by such county so far as necessary for payment of the indebtedness of the metropolitan municipal corporation existing and unpaid on the date such county assumed that indebtedness. Any funds received by the county which have been collected for the purpose of paying any bonded or other indebtedness of the metropolitan municipal corporation shall be used for the purpose for which they were collected and for no other purpose until such indebtedness has been paid and retired or adequate provision has been made for such payment and retirement. No transfer of property as provided in this act shall derogate from the claims or rights of the creditors of the metropolitan municipal corporation or impair the ability of the metropolitan municipal corporation to respond to its debts and obligations.

MOBILE HOME LANDLORD-TENANT ACT

AN ACT Relating to landlord and tenant; and adding a new chapter to Title 59 RCW.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Mobile Home Landlord-Tenant Act".

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Every duty under this chapter and every act which must be performed as a condition precedent to the exercise of a right or remedy under this chapter imposes an obligation of good faith in its performance or enforcement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. For purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Landlord" means the owner of a mobile home park and includes the agents of a landlord;

(2) "Mobile home lot" means a portion of a mobile home park designated as the location of one mobile home and its accessory buildings, and intended for the exclusive use of the occupants of that mobile home;

(4) "Tenant" means any person, except a transient, who rents a mobile home lot;

(5) "Transient" means a person who rents a mobile home lot for a period of less than one month.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. This chapter shall regulate and determine legal rights, remedies, and obligations arising from any rental agreement between a landlord and a tenant regarding a mobile home lot. All such rental agreements shall be unenforceable to the extent of any conflict with any provision of this chapter. Chapter 59.12 RCW shall be applicable only in implementation of the provisions of this chapter and not as an alternative remedy to this chapter which shall be exclusive where applicable: PROVIDED, That the provision of RCW 59.12.090, 59.12.100, and 59.12.170 shall not apply to any rental agreement included under the provisions of this chapter. RCW 59.18.370 through 59.18.410 shall be applicable to any action of forcible entry or detainer or unlawful detainer arising from a tenancy under the provisions of this chapter. Rentals of mobile homes themselves are governed by the Residential Landlord-Tenant Act, chapter 59.18 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) On and after the effective date of this act, no landlord may offer a mobile home lot for rent without offering to a prospective tenant a written rental agreement for a term of one year or more. A prospective tenant who desires to occupy a mobile home lot for other than a term of one year or more may have the option to be on a month to month basis but must waive, in writing, the right to such one year or more term. Except pursuant to such waiver, no landlord shall allow a mobile home to be moved into a mobile home park in this state until a written rental agreement has been signed by the landlord and the tenant and a copy provided for the tenant;

(2) The requirements of subsection (1) of this section shall not apply if:

(a) The mobile home park or part thereof has been acquired or is under imminent threat of condemnation for a public works project, or

(b) An employer-employee relationship exists between a landlord and tenant;

(3) The provisions of this section shall apply to any tenancy in existence prior to the effective date of this act, upon expiration of the term of any oral or written rental agreement governing such tenancy.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) Any rental agreement executed between the landlord and tenant shall contain:

(a) The terms for the payment of rent, including time and place, and any additional charges to be paid by the tenant. Additional charges that occur less frequently than monthly shall be itemized in a billing to the tenant;

(b) Reasonable rules for guest parking which shall be clearly stated;

(c) The rules and regulations of the park;

(d) The name and address of the person who is the landlord, and if such person does not reside in the state where the mobile home park is located there shall also be designated by name and address a person who resides in the county where the mobile home park is located who is authorized to act as agent for the purposes of service of notices and process. If no designation is made of a person to act as agent, then the person to whom rental payments are to be made shall be considered the agent; and

(e) The terms and conditions under which any deposit or portion thereof may be withheld by the landlord upon termination of the rental agreement if any moneys are paid to the landlord by the tenant as a deposit or as security for performance of the tenant's obligations in a rental agreement.

(2) Any rental agreement executed between the landlord and tenant shall not contain:

(a) Any provision which allows the landlord to charge a fee for guest parking unless a violation of the rules for guest parking occurs: PROVIDED, That a fee may be charged for guest parking which covers an extended period of time as defined in the rental agreement;

(b) Any provision which authorizes the towing or impounding of a vehicle except upon notice to the owner thereof or the tenant whose guest is the owner of said vehicle;

(c) Any provision which allows the landlord to increase the rent or alter the due date for rent payment during the term of the rental agreement: PROVIDED, That a rental agreement may include an escalation clause for a pro rata share of any increase in the mobile home park's real property taxes or utility assessments or charges, over the base taxes or utility assessments or charges of the year in which the rental agreement took effect, if the clause also provides for a pro rata reduction in rent or other charges in the event of a reduction in real property taxes or utility assessments or charges, below the base year;

(d) Any provision by which the tenant agrees to waive or forego rights or remedies under this chapter; or

(e) Any provision allowing the landlord to charge an "entrance fee" or an "exit fee".

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A landlord shall not:

(1) Deny any tenant the right to sell such tenant's mobile home within a park or require the removal of the mobile home from the park solely because of the sale thereof: PROVIDED, That:

(a) A rental agreement for a fixed term shall be assignable by the tenant to any person to whom he sells or transfers title to the mobile home, subject to the approval of the landlord after fifteen days' written notice of such intended assignment;

(b) The assignee of the rental agreement shall assume all the duties and obligations of his assignor for the remainder of the term of the rental agreement unless, by mutual agreement, a new rental agreement is entered into with the landlord; and

(c) The landlord shall approve or disapprove of the assignment of a rental agreement on the same basis that the landlord approves or disapproves of any new tenant; or

(2) Restrict the tenant's freedom of choice in purchasing goods or services but may reserve the right to approve or disapprove any exterior structural improvements on a mobile home lot: PROVIDED, That door-to-door solicitation in the mobile home park may be restricted in the rental agreement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Tenancy during the term of a rental agreement may be terminated by the landlord only for one or more of the following reasons:

(1) Substantial or repeated violation of the rules of the mobile home park as established by the landlord at the inception of the tenancy or as assumed subsequently with the consent of the tenant. The tenant shall be given written notice of a fifteen day period in which to comply or vacate. In the case of periodic rather than continuous violation, said notice shall specify that the same violation repeated shall result in termination;

(2) Nonpayment of rent or other charges specified in the rental agreement, upon five days written notice to pay rent and/or other charges or to vacate;

The executive director shall make a report of such funds received from private sources to the legislative budget committee on a current basis. Such funds received from private sources shall not be applied to reduce or substitute for the commission's budget as appropriated by the legislature, but, shall be applied and expended toward projects and functions authorized by this chapter which were not funded by the legislature.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. Sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act may be known and cited as the Washington Sunset Act of 1977.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The state legislature finds that state agencies may fail to deliver services as effectively and efficiently as is expected by the general public and as originally contemplated by the legislature. It further finds that state government actions have produced a substantial increase in numbers of agencies, growth of programs, and proliferation of rules and regulations, and that the entire process has evolved without sufficient legislative and executive oversight, regulatory accountability, or a system of checks and balances. The legislature further finds that by establishing a system for the termination, continuation, or modification of state agencies, coupled with a system of scheduled review of such agencies, it will be in a better position to evaluate the need for the continued existence of existing and future state agencies. The legislature recognizes that the executive branch shares in this duty and responsibility to assure that state government operates in an efficient, orderly, and responsive manner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. As used in sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Committees of reference" means the standing legislative committees designated by the respective rules committees of the senate and house of representatives to consider termination, modification, or reestablishment of state agencies pursuant to sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act.

(2) "Person" includes every natural person, firm, partnership, corporation, association, or organization.

(3) "Regulatory entity" means any board, commission, agency, division, or other unit or subunit of state government which licenses or regulates one or more professions, occupations, industries, businesses, or other endeavors in the state of Washington.

(4) "State agency" includes every state office, department, board, commission, regulatory entity and agency of the state, and where provided by law, programs and activities involving less than the full responsibility of a state agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Any state agency scheduled for termination by the processes provided in sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act may be reestablished by the legislature for a period of time specified by law, but not to exceed six years. At the end of such period of time the legislature shall again review such state agency in a manner consistent with the provisions of this act and reestablish, modify, or consolidate such state agency or allow it to be terminated.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The legislative budget committee shall cause to be conducted a program and fiscal review of each state agency scheduled for termination by the processes provided in sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act. Such program and fiscal review shall be completed and a report prepared on or before September 30th of the year prior to the date established for termination. Upon completion of its report, the legislative budget committee shall transmit copies of the report as well as working papers, related studies, and documents to the office of financial management. The office of financial management may then conduct its own program and fiscal review of the agency scheduled for termination and shall prepare a report on or before December 31st of the year prior to the date established for termination. Upon completion of its report the office of financial management shall transmit copies of its report as well as related studies and documents to the legislative budget committee. The legislative budget committee shall prepare a final report that includes the reports of both the office of financial management and the legislative budget committee as well as related studies and documents. The legislative budget committee shall transmit the final report to all members of the legislature, to the state agency concerned, to the governor, and to the state library.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. In conducting the review of a regulatory entity, the legislative budget committee shall consider, but not be limited to, the following factors where applicable:

- (1) The extent to which the regulatory entity has permitted qualified applicants to serve the public;
- (2) The extent to which the regulatory entity restricts or inhibits competition or otherwise adversely affects the state's economic climate;
- (3) The extent to which the system of regulation has contributed directly or indirectly to increasing or decreasing the costs of any goods or services involved;
- (4) The duties of the regulatory entity and the costs incurred in carrying out such duties;
- (5) Whether the regulatory entity has operated in the public interest, including the extent to which the regulatory entity has:
  - (a) Sought and achieved public participation in making its rules and decisions including consideration of recommending appointment of one or more "public" members to the entity;
  - (b) Processed to completion in a timely and equitable manner the formal complaints filed with it;
  - (c) Implemented an effective system of evaluating the impact on the public of its rules and decisions regarding economy, availability, and improvement of the services rendered to the persons it regulates;

(d) Initiated administrative procedures or recommended statutory changes to the legislature that would benefit the public as opposed to the persons it regulates; and

(e) Identified the needs and problems of the recipients of goods and services provided by those regulated;

(6) The extent to which persons regulated by the regulatory entity have been encouraged to participate in assessing problems in their profession, occupation, or industry which affect the public;

(7) The impact and effectiveness of the regulatory entity with respect to the problems or needs the entity was intended to address;

(8) The consequences of eliminating or modifying the program of the regulatory entity;

(9) The extent to which the regulatory entity duplicates the activities of other regulatory entities or of the private sector, where appropriate; and

(10) The extent to which the absence or modification of regulation would adversely affect the public health, safety, or welfare.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. In conducting the review of a state agency other than a regulatory entity, the legislative budget committee shall consider, but not be limited to, the following factors where applicable:

(1) The extent to which the state agency has complied with legislative intent;

(2) The extent to which the state agency is operating in an efficient and economical manner which results in optimum performance;

(3) The extent to which the state agency is operating in the public interest by effectively providing a needed service that should be continued rather than modified, consolidated, or eliminated;

(4) The extent to which the state agency duplicates the activities of other state agencies or of the private sector, where appropriate; and

(5) The extent to which the termination or modification of the state agency would adversely affect the public health, safety, or welfare.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) Following receipt of the final report from the legislative budget committee, the appropriate committees of reference in the senate and the house of representatives shall jointly hold a public hearing to consider the final report and any related data. The committees shall also receive testimony from representatives of the state agency involved, which shall have the burden of demonstrating a public need for its continued existence; and from the governor or the governor's designee, and other interested parties, including the general public.

(2) When requested jointly by the presiding members of the appropriate senate and house committees of reference, a regulatory entity under review shall mail an announcement of the joint hearing to the persons it regulates who have requested notice of agency rule-making proceedings as provided in RCW 34.04.025(1)(a), as now existing or hereafter amended, or who have requested notice of hearings held pursuant to the provisions of this section. On request of either presiding member, such mailing shall include an explanatory statement not exceeding one page in length prepared and supplied by the member's committee.

(3) The presiding members of the senate committee on ways and means and the house committee on appropriations may designate one or more liaison members to each committee of reference in their respective chambers for purposes of participating in the joint hearing and in subsequent committee of reference discussions and to seek a coordinated approach between the committee of reference and the committee they represent in a liaison capacity.

(4) Following the joint hearing by the committees of reference, such committees may separately hold additional meetings or hearings to come to a final determination as to whether a state agency has demonstrated a public need for its continued existence or whether modifications in existing procedures are needed. In the event that a committee of reference concludes that a state agency shall be reestablished or modified or its functions transferred elsewhere, it shall make such determination as a bill. No more than one state agency shall be reestablished or modified in any one bill.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. If terminated, a state agency shall continue in existence until June 30th of the next succeeding year for the purpose of concluding its affairs: PROVIDED, That the powers and authority of the state agency shall not be reduced or otherwise limited during this period. Unless otherwise provided:

(1) All employees of terminated state agencies classified under chapter 41.06 RCW, the state civil service law, shall be transferred as appropriate or as otherwise provided in the procedures adopted by the personnel board pursuant to RCW 41.06.150;

(2) All documents and papers, equipment, or other tangible property in the possession of the terminated state agency shall be delivered to the custody of the agency assuming the responsibilities of the terminated agency or if such responsibilities have been eliminated, documents and papers shall be delivered to the state archivist and equipment or other tangible property to the department of general administration;

(3) All funds held by, or other moneys due to, the terminated state agency shall revert to the fund from which they were appropriated, or if that fund is abolished to the general fund;

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 34.04.940, all rules made by a terminated state agency shall be repealed, without further action by the state agency, at the end of the period provided in this section, unless assumed and reaffirmed by the agency assuming the related legal responsibilities of the terminated state agency;

(5) All contractual rights and duties of a state agency shall be assigned or delegated to the agency assuming the responsibilities of the terminated state agency, or if there is none to such agency as the governor shall direct.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act shall not affect the right to institute or prosecute any cause of action by or against a state agency terminated pursuant to sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act if the cause of action arose prior to the end of the period provided in section 9 of this 1977 amendatory act. Such causes of action may be instituted, prosecuted, or defended in the name of the state of Washington by the office of the attorney general. Any hearing or other proceeding pending before a state agency to be terminated and not completed before the end of the period provided in section 9 of this 1977 amendatory act, may be completed by the agency assuming the responsibilities of the terminated state agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Any reference in sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act to a committee of the legislature including the legislative budget committee shall also refer to the successor of that committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) The speaker of the house of representatives and the president of the senate shall appoint a select joint committee consisting of ten members of the legislature within thirty days of the effective date of this 1977 amendatory act. The speaker shall appoint three members of the majority party and two members of the minority party. The president shall appoint three members of the majority party and two members of the minority party. The committee shall be responsible for the development of legislation which provides a schedule for the termination of state agencies in a manner consistent with the terms of sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act and of RCW 43.06.010 as now or hereafter amended. The termination of such state agencies shall occur over a period of six years, beginning on June 30, 1979. In the development of such legislation, the select joint committee shall:

(a) Identify state agencies which might appropriately be scheduled for termination and arrange for automatic termination of state agencies, with a reasonable number of state agencies to be terminated on June 30, 1979, a reasonable number of state agencies to be terminated on June 30, 1981, and a reasonable number of state agencies to be terminated on June 30, 1983; no more than one state agency shall be so identified or scheduled for automatic termination in any one section of such legislation;

(b) Seek to schedule state agencies with like goals, objectives, or functions for termination on the same date so as to better assure identification of duplicative activities and provide for appropriate modification or consolidation of state agencies to avoid future duplication; and

(c) Seek to schedule state agencies for termination in a manner which assures that as many committees of reference as possible have sufficient opportunity to develop experience in conducting reviews as provided pursuant to the terms of sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act, and which assures that no such committee is given responsibility for review of an unreasonable number of state agencies during any legislative session.

(2) In identifying those state agencies to be scheduled for termination, the select joint committee shall consider, but not be limited to, the following factors where applicable:

(a) The extent to which the burden of compliance on the executive and legislative branches with the terms of sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act is reasonable;

(b) The extent to which a state agency may serve the interests of a particular profession, occupation, or industry as opposed to the interests of the public;

(c) The extent to which a state agency may have outlived its original statutory purpose; and

(d) The potential for fiscal savings.

(3) The select joint committee shall also be responsible for assisting in the implementation of the terms and provisions of sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act and shall establish proposed procedures which facilitate legislative review as required by sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act for presentation to the legislature. Such committee shall recommend legislative rules which assure effective and appropriate consideration of all bills and reports regarding termination, modification, consolidation, or reauthorization of state agencies scheduled for termination.

(4) Proposed legislation, recommendations, and findings shall be submitted to the legislature as soon as is practicable, but no later than the first day the legislature is in session after January 1, 1978.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Nothing in sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act or RCW 43.06.010 as now or hereafter amended, shall prevent the legislature from abolishing or modifying a state agency scheduled for termination prior to the agency's established termination date or from abolishing or modifying any other state agency.

- (d) Escrow commission;
- (e) Employment agency advisory board.

(3) The state agencies scheduled for termination in this section shall be subject to all of the processes provided in sections 1 through 14 of this 1977 amendatory act. The state agencies set forth in this section may also be included in the schedule of state agencies to be terminated which shall be developed by the select joint committee as provided in section 12 of this 1977 amendatory act. If any state agency set forth in this section is reestablished or modified, such agency shall remain subject to the provisions of section 12 of this 1977 amendatory act. If any state agency set forth in this section is not reestablished or modified according to the provisions of this section, then the inclusion of that state agency in the schedule provided in section 12 of this 1977 amendatory act shall be null.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 84.08.130, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 156, chapter 278, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 84.08.130 are each amended to read as follows:

Any taxpayer or taxing unit feeling aggrieved by the action of any county board of equalization may appeal to the board of tax appeals by filing with the county auditor a notice of appeal in duplicate within ~~((ten))~~ thirty days after the action of such board of equalization, which notice shall specify the actions complained of, and said auditor shall forthwith transmit one of said notices to the board of tax appeals; and in like manner any county assessor may appeal to the board of tax appeals from any action of any county board of equalization. The board of tax appeals shall require the board appealed from to certify the minutes of its proceedings resulting in such action and all evidence taken in connection therewith, and may receive further evidence, and shall make such order as in its judgment is just and proper.

Sec. 2. Section 84.48.010, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 84.48.010 as amended by section 2, chapter 55, Laws of 1970 ex. sess., are each amended as follows:

Prior to July 1st, the county commissioners shall form a board for the equalization of the assessment of the property of the county. The members of said board may receive twenty-five dollars per day for each day of actual attendance of the meeting of the board of equalization to be paid out of the current expense fund of the county: PROVIDED, That when the county commissioners constitute the board they shall not receive the per diem allowance. The board of equalization shall meet in open session for this purpose annually on the first Monday in July and, having each taken an oath fairly and impartially to perform their duties as members of such board, they shall examine and compare the returns of the assessment of the property of the county and proceed to equalize the same, so that each tract or lot of real property and each article or class of personal property shall be entered on the assessment list at its true and fair value, according to the measure of value used by the county assessor in such assessment year, and subject to the following rules:

First. They shall raise the valuation of each tract or lot or item of real property which in their opinion is returned below its true and fair value to such price or sum as they believe to be the true and fair value thereof, after at least five days' notice shall have been given in writing to the owner or agent.

Second. They shall reduce the valuation of each tract or lot or item which in their opinion is returned above its true and fair value to such price or sum as they believe to be the true and fair value thereof.

Third. They shall raise the valuation of each class of personal property which in their opinion is returned below its true and fair value to such price or sum as they believe to be the true and fair value thereof, and they shall raise the aggregate value of the personal property of each individual whenever they believe that such aggregate value is less than the true valuation of the taxable personal property possessed by such individual, to such sum or amount as they believe to be the true value thereof, after at least five days' notice shall have been given in writing to the owner or agent thereof.

Fourth. They shall, upon complaint in writing of any party aggrieved, reduce the valuation of each class of personal property enumerated on the detail and assessment list of the current year, which in their opinion is returned above its true and fair value, to such price or sum as they believe to be the true and fair value thereof; and, upon like complaint, they shall reduce the aggregate valuation of the personal property of such individual who, in their opinion, has been assessed at too large a sum, to such sum or amount as they believe was the true and fair value of his personal property.

Fifth. The board may review all claims for either real or personal property tax exemption, and shall consider any taxpayer appeals from the decision of the assessor thereon to determine (1) if the taxpayer is entitled to an exemption, and (2) if so, the amount thereof.

The clerk of the board shall keep an accurate journal or record of the proceedings and orders of said board in a book kept for that purpose, showing the facts and evidence upon which their action is based, and the said record shall be published the same as other proceedings of county commissioners, and shall make a true record of the changes of the descriptions and assessed values ordered by the county board of equalization. The assessor shall correct the real and personal assessment rolls in accordance with the changes made by the said county board of equalization, and he shall make duplicate abstracts of such corrected values, one copy of which shall be retained in his office, and one copy forwarded to the state board of equalization on or before the fifth day of August next following the meeting of the county board of equalization.

The county board of equalization shall meet on the first Monday in July and may continue in session and adjourn from time to time during a period not to exceed four weeks, but shall remain in session not less than three days: PROVIDED, That, in addition to the several times fixed by statute, any county board of equalization may be reconvened for special or general purposes, but not later than three years after the date of adjournment of its regularly convened session by order of the department of revenue: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the county board of equalization with the approval of the county legislative authority may convene at any time when petitions filed exceed twenty-five, or ten percent of the number of appeals filed in the preceding year, whichever is greater.

No taxes, except special taxes, shall be extended upon the tax rolls until the property valuations are equalized by the state board of equalization for the purpose of raising the state revenue.

Boards of county commissioners as such shall at no time have any authority to change the valuation of the property of any person or to release or commute in whole or in part the taxes due on the property of any person.

If the hearing on the petition is not held within these time limits the child shall be released from detention.

(5) Cooperate with other public and voluntary agencies and organizations in the development and coordination of programs and activities in behalf of children including but not limited to contracting with private and public entities to provide basic education and vocational training and crisis intervention services.

~~((4))~~ (6) Have authority to accept custody of children from parents, guardians, and/or juvenile courts, to provide child welfare services including placement for adoption, and to provide for the physical care of such children and to make payment of maintenance costs if needed. ~~((A child in need of detention, whether alleged to be dependent or delinquent, shall, prior to findings and disposition by the court pursuant to RCW 13.04.095 as now or hereafter amended, be the responsibility of and provided for by the juvenile court.))~~

~~((5))~~ (7) Have authority to purchase care for children and shall follow in general the policy of using properly approved private agency services for the actual care and supervision of such children insofar as they are available, paying for care of such children as are accepted by the department as eligible for support at reasonable rates established by the department.

~~((6))~~ (8) Establish a child welfare and day care advisory committee who shall act as an advisory committee to the state advisory committee and to the secretary in the development of policy on all matters pertaining to child welfare, day care, licensing of child care agencies, and services related thereto.

(9) Notwithstanding any other provision of sections 16 through 19, 21, and 22 of this 1977 amendatory act, all services to be provided by the department of social and health services under subsections (3) and (4) of this section, subject to the limitations of these subsections, may be provided by any program offering such services funded pursuant to Title II of the federal juvenile justice and delinquency prevention act of 1974 (P.L. No. 93-415; 42 U.S.C. 5634 et seq.).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. This chapter shall be known as the "Juvenile Court Procedure for Families In Conflict".

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. A child or a child's parent or custodian may file with the juvenile court a petition to approve alternative residential placement as provided in RCW 74.13.031(4)(f) as now or hereafter amended. The filing of a petition to approve such placement is not dependent upon the court's having obtained any prior jurisdiction over the child or his or her parent or custodian, and confers upon the court a special jurisdiction to approve or disapprove alternative residential placement or its continuation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. The juvenile court shall promptly appoint legal counsel for the child whether or not the child is the moving party, schedule a hearing date, and notify the child and his or her parent or custodian of the hearing date, the legal consequences of an approval or disapproval of alternative residential placement, the right of both parties to present evidence at the hearing, and the right of the parent or custodian to be represented by legal counsel at the hearing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. The hearing shall be upon the question of the child's placement. Prior to approving an alternative residential placement, the court shall find by a preponderance of the evidence that the reasons for request of alternative residential placement are not capricious and that there is a conflict between the parent and the child that cannot be remedied by counseling, crisis intervention, or continued placement in the parental home.

After making such a finding the court may approve the placement in which the child resides or wishes to reside or the court may place the child in such nonsecure licensed care as is deemed appropriate taking into account the interests of the parents and the best interests of the child.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. Upon approving an alternative residential placement pursuant to this section, the court shall schedule the matter on the calendar for review within six months, advise the parties of the date thereof, appoint legal counsel to represent the child at the review hearing, and notify the parties of their rights to present evidence at the review hearing and of the right of the parent or custodian to be represented by legal counsel. At each review hearing, the juvenile court: (1) Shall approve or disapprove the continuation of the alternative residential placement according to the same standards and limitations as governed the initial approval; (2) shall determine that such interim services as may be appropriate have been offered the child and his or her family, pursuant to RCW 74.13.031 as now or hereafter amended; and (3) shall again set the matter on the calendar for further review in six months, notifying the parties as before.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. Sections 23 through 27 of this 1977 amendatory act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 13 RCW.

PART C

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. This chapter shall be known as the "Juvenile Court Act in Cases Relating to Dependency of a Child and the Termination of a Parent and Child Relationship".

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. The legislature declares that the family unit is a fundamental resource of American life which should be nurtured. Toward the continuance of this principle, the legislature declares that the family unit should remain intact in the absence of compelling evidence to the contrary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. For purposes of this chapter:

- (1) "Child" and "juvenile" shall mean any individual under the age of eighteen years;
- (2) "Dependent child" shall mean any child:
  - (a) Who has been abandoned; that is, left by his or her parents, guardian, or other custodian without parental care and support; or
  - (b) Who is abused or neglected as defined in chapter 26.44 RCW; or
  - (c) Who has no parent, guardian, or custodian; or
  - (d) Any child:
    - (i) Who is in conflict with his or her parent, guardian, or custodian;
    - (ii) Who refuses to remain in any nonsecure residential placement ordered by a court pursuant to section 26 of this 1977 amendatory act;
    - (iii) Whose conduct evidences a substantial likelihood of degenerating into serious delinquent behavior if not corrected; and
    - (iv) Who is in need of custodial treatment in a diagnostic and treatment facility.

Sec. 32. Section 5, chapter 160, Laws of 1913 and RCW 13.04.060 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person may file with the clerk of the superior court a petition showing that there is within the county, or residing within the county, a dependent (~~(or delinquent)~~) child and praying that the superior court deal with such child as provided in this chapter: PROVIDED, That in counties having paid probation officers, such officers shall, as far as possible, first determine if such petition is reasonably justifiable. Such petition shall be verified and shall contain a statement of facts constituting such dependency (~~(or delinquency)~~), as defined in (~~(RCW 13.04.010)~~) this chapter, and the names and residence, if known to the petitioner, of the parents, guardian, or custodian of such dependent (~~(or delinquent)~~) child. There shall be no fee for filing such petitions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. The juvenile court may enter an order directing a law enforcement officer, probation counselor, or child protective services official to take a child into custody if a petition is filed with the juvenile court alleging that the child is dependent and the court finds reasonable grounds to believe the child is dependent and that the child's health, safety, and welfare will be seriously endangered if not taken into custody.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 34. (1) A child taken into custody pursuant to section 33 or 51 of this 1977 amendatory act shall be immediately placed in shelter care. "Shelter care" means temporary physical care in a foster family home or receiving home licensed pursuant to RCW 74.15.030. In no case shall a child who is taken into custody pursuant to section 33 or 51 of this 1977 amendatory act be detained in a secure detention facility. No child may be held longer than seventy-two hours, excluding Sundays and holidays, after such child is taken into custody unless a court order has been entered for continued shelter care. The child and his or her parent, guardian, or custodian shall be informed that they have a right to a preliminary shelter care hearing. The court shall hold a preliminary shelter care hearing if one is requested.

(2) The juvenile court counselor assigned to the matter shall advise the parents, guardian, or legal custodian of the time and place of any shelter care hearing, request that they be present, and inform them of their basic rights as provided in section 37 of this 1977 amendatory act.

(3) At the commencement of the shelter care hearing the court shall advise the parties of their basic rights as provided in section 37 of this 1977 amendatory act and shall appoint counsel pursuant to section 37 of this 1977 amendatory act if counsel has not been retained by the parent or guardian or if the parent or guardian is indigent, unless the court finds that the right to counsel has been expressly and voluntarily waived.

(4) The court shall take testimony concerning the circumstances for taking the child into custody and the need for shelter care. The court shall give the child and the child's parent or guardian and the parent's or guardian's counsel an opportunity to introduce evidence, to be heard in their own behalf, and to examine witnesses.

(5) In class A and AA counties the department of social and health services (and in all other counties the juvenile court probation counselor) shall submit a recommendation to the court as to the further need for shelter care.

(6) The court shall release a child alleged to be dependent to the care, custody, and control of the child's parent, guardian, or custodian or other suitable person able and willing to provide supervision and care for such child unless the court finds there is reasonable cause to believe that:

(a) The child has no parent, guardian, custodian, or other suitable person to provide supervision and care for such child; or

(b) The release of such child would present a serious threat of substantial harm to such child.

If continued shelter care is ordered, the court shall set forth its reasons for continued shelter care.

(7) An order releasing the child on any conditions specified in this section may at any time be amended, with notice and hearing thereon, so as to return the child to shelter care for failure of the parties to conform to the conditions originally imposed.

(8) A shelter care order issued pursuant to this section may be amended at any time with notice and hearing thereon. No child shall be detained for longer than thirty days without an order, signed by the judge, authorizing continued shelter care.

Sec. 35. Section 6, chapter 160, Laws of 1913 and RCW 13.04.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon the filing of ((an information, or)) the petition, the clerk of the court shall issue a summons ((requiring the person having custody or control of the child, or with whom the child may be, to appear with the child at a place and time stated in the summons, which time shall not be less than twenty-four hours after service. The parents of the child, if living, and their residence is known, or its legal guardian, if there be one or if there is neither parent nor guardian, or if his or her residence is not known, then some relative, if there be one, and his residence is known, shall be notified of the proceedings, and in any case the judge shall appoint some suitable person or association to act in behalf of the child)), one directed to the child, if the child is twelve or more years of age, and another to the parents, guardian, or custodian, and such other persons as appear to the court to be proper or necessary parties to the proceedings, requiring them to appear personally before the court at the time fixed to hear the petition. Where the custodian is summoned, the parent or guardian or both shall also be served with a summons.

(2) A copy of the petition shall be attached to each summons.

(3) The summons shall advise the parties of the right to counsel.

(4) The judge may endorse upon the summons an order directing any parent, guardian, or custodian having the custody or control of the child to bring the child to the hearing.

(5) If it appears from affidavit or sworn statement presented to the judge that there is probable cause for the issuance of a warrant of arrest or that the child needs to be taken into custody pursuant to section 33 of this 1977 amendatory act, the judge may endorse upon the summons an order that an officer serving the summons shall at once take the child into custody and take him to the place of shelter designated by the court.

(6) If a party to be served with a summons can be found within the state, the summons shall be served upon the party personally at least five court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court. If the party is within the state and cannot be personally served, but the party's address is known or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, the summons may be served upon the party by mailing a copy thereof by certified mail at least ten court days before the hearing, or such time as set by the court. If a party other than the child is without the state but can be found or the address is known, or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, service of the summons may be made either by delivering a copy thereof to the party personally or by mailing a copy thereof to the party by certified mail at least ten court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court.

(7) Service of summons may be made under the direction of the court by any person twenty-one years of age or older who is not a party to the proceedings or by any law enforcement officer, probation counselor, or department of social and health services social worker.

(8) If the person summoned as herein provided, shall fail without reasonable cause to appear and abide the order of the court, ((or bring the child;)) he ((shall)) may be proceeded against as for contempt of court. ((In case the summons cannot be served or the parties served fail to obey [the] same, and in any case when it shall be made to appear to the court that said summons will be ineffectual, a warrant may issue on the order of the court, either against the parent or guardian or the person having custody of the child, or with whom the child may be, or against the child itself. On return of the summons or other process, or as soon thereafter as may be, the court shall proceed to hear and dispose of the case in a summary manner. Pending the final disposition of the case, the child may be retained in the possession of the person having charge of same, or may be kept in some suitable place provided by the city or county authorities, or by any association having for one of its objects the care of delinquent and dependent children.))

Sec. 36. Section 7, chapter 160, Laws of 1913 as amended by section 4, chapter 302, Laws of 1961 and RCW 13.04.080 are each amended to read as follows:

In ~~((any))~~ a dependency case where it shall appear by the petition or verified statement, that the person standing in the position of natural or legal guardian of the person of any child, is a nonresident of this state, or that the name or place of residence or whereabouts of such person is unknown, as well as in all cases where, after due diligence, the officer has been unable to make service of the summons or notice provided for in ~~((RCW 13.04.070))~~ section 35 of this 1977 amendatory act, and a copy of said notice has been deposited in the post office, postage prepaid, directed to such person at his last known place of residence, the court may order said notice published in a legal newspaper printed in the county, qualified to publish summons, once a week for three consecutive weeks, the first publication of said notice to be at least twenty-five days prior to the date fixed for the hearing. Such notice shall be directed to the parent, parents, or other person claiming the right to the custody of the child, if their names are known, or if unknown, the phrase "To whom it may concern" shall be used and apply to, and be binding upon, any such persons whose names are unknown. The name of the court, the name of the child (or children if of one family), the date of the filing of the petition and the date of hearing and the object of the proceeding in general terms, shall be set forth and the whole shall be subscribed by the clerk. There shall be filed with the clerk an affidavit showing due publication of the notice and the cost of publication shall be paid by the county at not to exceed the rate paid by the county for other legal notices. The publication of notice shall be deemed equivalent to personal service upon all persons, known or unknown, who have been designated as provided in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 37. Any party has a right to be represented by an attorney of his or her own choosing in all proceedings under this chapter, to introduce evidence, to be heard in his or her own behalf, to examine witnesses, to receive a decision based solely on the evidence adduced at the hearing, and to an unbiased fact-finder.

At all stages of a proceeding in which a child is alleged to be dependent pursuant to section 31 (2) (a), (b), or (c) of this 1977 amendatory act, the child's parent or guardian shall have the right to be represented by counsel, and if indigent, to have counsel appointed for him or her by the court.

A child alleged to be dependent pursuant to section 31(2)(d) of this 1977 amendatory act shall have the right to appointed counsel.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 38. The court, at any stage of a proceeding under this chapter, may appoint a guardian ad litem for a child who is a party to the proceedings. A party to the proceeding or the party's employee or representative shall not be so appointed. Such guardian ad litem shall receive all notice contemplated for a parent in all proceedings under this chapter.

Sec. 39. Section 5, chapter 302, Laws of 1961 and RCW 13.04.091 are each amended to read as follows:

The court shall hold a fact-finding hearing on the petition and, unless the court dismisses the petition, shall make written findings of fact, stating the reasons therefor, and after it has announced its findings of fact shall hold a hearing to consider disposition of the case immediately following the fact-finding hearing or at a continued hearing within fourteen days. No social file or social study shall be considered by the court in connection with the fact-finding hearing or prior to factual determination. Notice of the time and place of the continued hearing may be given in open court. If notice in open court is not given to a party, that party shall be notified by mail of the time and place of any continued hearing.

All hearings may be conducted at any time or place within the limits of the county, and such cases shall not be heard in conjunction with other business of any other division of the superior court. The general public shall be excluded and only such persons shall be admitted who are found by the judge to have a direct interest in the case or in the work of the court.

Stenographic notes or any device which accurately records the proceedings may be required as provided in other civil cases pursuant to RCW 2.32.200.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 40. (1) To aid the court in its decision on disposition, a social study, consisting of a written evaluation of matters relevant to the disposition of the case, shall be made. The study shall include all social records and shall be made available to the court. The court shall consider the social file and social study at the disposition hearing in addition to evidence produced at the fact-finding hearing.

(2) In addition to the requirements set forth in subsection (1) of this section, a predisposition study to the court in cases of dependency alleged pursuant to section 31(2)(b) of this 1977 amendatory act shall contain the following information:

(a) A statement of the specific harm or harms to the child that intervention is designed to alleviate;

(b) A description of the specific programs, for both the parents and child, that are needed in order to prevent further harm to the child; the reasons why such programs are likely to be useful; the availability of any proposed services; and the agency's overall plan for ensuring that the services will be delivered;

(c) If removal is recommended, a full description of the reasons why the child cannot be protected adequately in the home, including a description of any previous efforts to work with the parents and the child in the home; the in-home treatment programs which have been considered and rejected; and the parents' attitude toward placement of the child;

(d) A statement of the likely harms the child will suffer as a result of removal. This section should include an exploration of the nature of the parent-child attachment and the meaning of separation and loss to both the parents and the child;

(e) A description of the steps that will be taken to minimize harm to the child that may result if separation occurs; and

(f) Behavior that will be expected before determination that supervision of the family or placement is no longer necessary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 41. If, after a fact-finding hearing pursuant to section 39 of this 1977 amendatory act, it has been proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is dependent within the meaning of section 31(2) (a), (b), or (c) of this 1977 amendatory act; after consideration of the predisposition report prepared pursuant to section 39 of this 1977 amendatory act and after a disposition hearing has been held pursuant to section 39 of this 1977 amendatory act, the court shall enter an order of disposition pursuant to this section.

(1) The court shall order one of the following dispositions of the case:

(a) Order a disposition other than removal of the child from his or her home, which shall provide a program designed to alleviate the immediate danger to the child, to mitigate or cure any damage the child has already suffered, and to aid the parents so that the child will not be endangered in the future. In selecting a program, the court should choose those services that least interfere with family autonomy, provided that the services are adequate to protect the child.

(b) Order that the child be placed in foster care. Such an order may be made only if:

(i) There is no parent or guardian available to care for such child; or

(ii) The child is unwilling to reside in the custody of the child's parent or guardian; or

(iii) The parent or guardian is not willing to take custody of the child; or

(iv) A manifest danger would exist that the child will suffer further abuse or neglect if the child is not removed from the home.

(2) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the child's home, the agency charged with his or her care shall provide the court with a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, and what actions the agency will take to maintain parent-child ties.

(a) The agency plan shall specify what services the parents will receive in order to enable them to resume custody and what actions the parents must take in order to resume custody.

(b) The agency shall be required to encourage the maximum parent-child contact possible, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement.

(c) A child shall be placed as close to the child's home as possible, preferably in the child's own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child's or parents' well-being.

(d) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall be responsible for assuming that all services are provided. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services.

(3) The status of all children found to be dependent shall be reviewed by the court at least every six months at a hearing in which it shall be determined whether court supervision should continue.

(a) A child shall be returned home at the review hearing unless the court finds that a reason for removal as set forth in this section still exists. When a child is returned, casework supervision shall continue for a period of six months, at which time there shall be a hearing on the need for continued intervention.

(b) If the child is not returned home, the court shall establish in writing:

(i) What services have been provided to or offered to the parents to facilitate reunion;

(ii) The extent to which the parents have visited the child and any reasons why visitation has not occurred or has been infrequent;

(iii) Whether the agency is satisfied with the cooperation given to it by the parents;

(iv) Whether additional services are needed to facilitate the return of the child to the child's parents; if so, the court shall order such services; and

(v) When return of the child can be expected.

(c) If a child is not returned to the child's home, at such review hearing the court shall advise the parents that a petition to seek termination of parental rights may be ordered at the next review hearing.

(d) The court at the review hearing may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 42. If after a fact-finding hearing it has been proven beyond a reasonable doubt that a child is dependent within the meaning of section 31(2)(d) of this 1977 amendatory act, and after consideration of the predisposition report and after a disposition hearing, the court may order one of the following dispositions of the child:

(a) Placement of the child in an alternative nonsecure residential facility pursuant to section 26 of this 1977 amendatory act;

(b) Commitment to the department of social and health services for placement in a custodial diagnostic and treatment facility for not more than thirty days only if other less restrictive alternatives have failed, if such a treatment facility is available, and if the diagnosis and treatment is reasonably expected to prevent degeneration of the child's conduct into serious delinquent behavior: PROVIDED, That such housing and treatment shall be entirely separate from that of youth who have been found guilty of committing a felony or misdemeanor.

Sec. 43. Section 15, chapter 160, Laws of 1913 and RCW 13.04.150 are each amended to read as follows:

Any order made by the court in the case of a dependent (~~(or delinquent)~~) child may at any time be changed, modified or set aside, as to the judge may seem meet and proper.

Sec. 44. Section 8, chapter 160, Laws of 1913 as last amended by section 1, chapter 138, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 13.04.100 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((An order of commitment may be temporary or permanent in the discretion of the court, and may be revoked or modified as the circumstances of the case may thereafter require.))~~ In any case in which the court shall find the child dependent (~~(or delinquent)~~), it may in the same or subsequent proceeding upon the parent or parents, guardian, or other person having custody of said child, being duly summoned or voluntarily appearing, proceed to inquire into the ability of such persons or person to support the child or contribute to its support, and if the court shall find such person or persons able to support the child or contribute thereto, the court may enter such order or decree as shall be according to equity in the premises, and may enforce the same by execution, or in any way in which a court of equity may enforce its decrees: PROVIDED, That no support payments shall be required of a parent who, throughout a dependence proceeding pursuant to section 31 (2) (d) of this 1977 amendatory act, has continuously sought reconciliation with, and the return of, his or her child, unless such parent has been found to have abused or neglected such children.

Sec. 45. Section 1, chapter 188, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 8, chapter 302, Laws of 1961 and RCW 13.04.105 are each amended to read as follows:

In any case in which an order or decree of the juvenile court requiring a parent or parents, guardian, or other person having custody of a child to pay for (~~(detention)~~) shelter care and/or support of such child is not complied with, the court may, upon such person or persons being duly summoned or voluntarily appearing, proceed to inquire into the amount due upon said order or decree and enter judgment for such amount against the defaulting party or parties, and such judgment shall be docketed as are other judgments for the payment of money.

In such judgments, the county in which the same are entered shall be denominated the judgment creditor, or the state may be the judgment creditor where the child is in the custody of a state agency and said judgments may be enforced by the prosecuting attorney of such county, or the attorney general where the state is the judgment creditor and any moneys recovered thereon shall be paid into the registry of the juvenile court and shall be disbursed to such person, persons, agency, or governmental department as the court shall find to be entitled thereto.

Such judgments shall remain as valid and enforceable judgments for a period of six years subsequent to the entry thereof.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 46. A petition seeking termination of a parent and child relationship may be filed in juvenile court. Such petition shall conform to the requirements of RCW 13.04.060 as now or hereafter amended and shall allege:

(1) That the child has been removed from the custody of the parent for a period of at least six months pursuant to a finding of dependency under section 31(2)(a) or (b) of this 1977 amendatory act; and

(2) That the conditions which led to the removal still persist; and

(3) That there is little likelihood that those conditions will be remedied so that the child can be returned to the parent in the near future; and

(4) That continuation of the parent and child relationship clearly diminishes the child's prospects for early integration into a stable and permanent home; and

(5) That, if the finding of dependency has been pursuant to section 31(2)(b) of this 1977 amendatory act, necessary services have been provided or offered to the parent to facilitate a reunion; and

(6) That the parent has substantially failed to accept such services; and

(7) That if the parent is subject to an order of disposition pursuant to the finding of dependency, the parent has substantially failed to comply with the order.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 47. After hearings pursuant to RCW 13.04.091, the court may enter an order terminating all parental rights to a child if the court finds that:

(1) The allegations contained in the petition as provided in section 46 of this 1977 amendatory act are established by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence; and

(2) Such an order is in the best interests of the child.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 48. (1) Upon the termination of parental rights pursuant to section 46 of this 1977 amendatory act, all rights, powers, privileges, immunities, duties, and obligations, including any rights to custody, control, visitation, or support existing between the child and parent shall be severed and terminated and the parent shall have no standing to appear at any further legal proceedings concerning the child: PROVIDED, That any support obligation existing prior to the effective date of the order terminating parental rights shall not be severed or terminated. The rights of one parent may be terminated without affecting the rights of the other parent and the order shall so state.

(2) An order terminating the parent and child relationship shall not disentitle a child to any benefit due the child from any third person, agency, state, or the United States, nor shall any action under this chapter be deemed to affect any rights and benefits that a native American child derives from the child's descent from a member of a federally recognized Indian tribe.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 49. If, upon entering an order terminating the parental rights of a parent, there remains no parent having parental rights, the court shall commit the child to the custody of the department of social and health services or to a licensed child-placing agency willing to accept custody for the purpose of placing the child for adoption, or in the absence thereof in a licensed foster home, or take other suitable measures for the care and welfare of the child. The custodian shall have authority to consent to the adoption of the child, the marriage of the child, the enlistment of the child in the armed forces of the United States, necessary surgical and other medical treatment for the child, and to consent to such other matters as might normally be required of the parent of the child.

If a child has not been adopted within two years after the date of the order and a general guardian of the child has not been appointed by the court, the child shall be returned to the court for entry of further orders for his or her care, custody, and control.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 50. Sections 29, 30, 31, 33, 34, 37, 38, 40, 41, 42, and 46 through 49 of this 1977 amendatory act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 13 RCW. The following sections of the Revised Code of Washington, as now or hereafter amended, are hereby decodified and shall be recodified as part of said new chapter: RCW 13.04.060, 13.04.070, 13.04.080, 13.04.091, 13.04.100, 13.04.105, and 13.04.150.

Sec. 51. Section 5, chapter 13, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 28, chapter 80, Laws of 1977 1st ex. sess. and RCW 26.44.050 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon the receipt of a report concerning the possible occurrence of abuse or neglect, it shall be the duty of the law enforcement agency or the department of social and health services to investigate and provide the protective services section with a report in accordance with the provision of chapter 74.13 RCW, and where necessary to refer such report to the court.

A law enforcement officer may take, or cause to be taken, a child into custody without a court order if there is probable cause to believe that the child is abused or neglected and that the child would be injured or could not be taken into custody if it were necessary to first obtain a court order pursuant to section 33 of this 1977 amendatory act. Notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 13.04.130 as now or hereafter amended, the law enforcement agency or the department of social and health services investigating such a report is hereby authorized to photograph such a child or adult developmentally disabled person for the purpose of providing documentary evidence of the physical condition of the child or disabled person at the time the child or disabled person was taken into custody.

Sec. 52. Section 28A.27.070, chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.27.070 are each amended to read as follows:

Standards proposed for offenders listed in section 56(1) of this 1977 amendatory act shall include a range of confinement which shall not be less than thirty days. No standard range may include a period of confinement which includes both more than thirty, and thirty or less, days. Disposition standards proposed by the department shall provide that in all cases where a youth is sentenced to a term of confinement in excess of thirty days the department may impose an additional period of parole not to exceed eighteen months. The secretary shall also submit guidelines pertaining to the nature of the security to be imposed on youth placed in his or her custody based on the age, offense(s), and criminal history of the juvenile offender. Such guidelines shall be submitted to the legislature for its review at the same time the department proposes its disposition standards.

(b) Where the maximum term in the range is greater than ninety days but not greater than one year, the minimum term in the range shall be no less than seventy-five percent of the maximum term in the range; and

NEW SECTION. Sec. 58. (1) A youth may be taken into custody: .

(a) Pursuant to a court order if a complaint is filed with the court alleging, and the court finds probable cause to believe, that the youth has committed an offense or has violated terms of community supervision;

(b) Without a court order, by a law enforcement officer if grounds exist for the arrest of an adult in identical circumstances. Admission to, and continued custody in, a court detention facility shall be governed by subsection (2) of this section;

(c) Pursuant to a court order that the youth be held as a material witness; or

(d) Where the secretary or the secretary's designee has suspended the parole of a juvenile offender.

(2) A youth shall not be held in detention unless:

(a) The youth has been taken into custody and referred to the court for allegedly committing an offense or when the youth has allegedly failed, or has been found to have failed, to meet the terms of his or her community supervision, and that the youth's past conduct or statements give reason to believe that:

(i) The youth will likely fail to appear for further proceedings; or

(ii) Detention is required to protect a youth who is dangerous to himself or herself;

(b) The court has ordered detention as a material witness;

(c) The youth is a fugitive from justice;

(d) The secretary or the secretary's designee has suspended the early release of a juvenile offender;

(e) There is clear and convincing evidence that the youth is dangerous to others; or

(f) The youth will seek to intimidate witnesses or otherwise unlawfully interfere with the administration of justice.

(3) Upon a finding that members of the community have threatened the health of a youth taken into custody, at the youth's request the court may order continued detention pending further order of the court.

(4) A youth detained under this section may be released upon posting bond set by the court. A court authorizing such a release shall issue an order containing a statement of conditions imposed upon the youth and shall set the date of his or her next court appearance. The court shall advise the youth of any conditions specified in the order and may at any time amend such an order in order to impose additional or different conditions of release upon the youth or to return the youth to custody for failing to conform to the conditions imposed. Failure to appear on the date scheduled by the court pursuant to this section shall constitute the crime of bail jumping.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 59. (1) When a youth taken into custody is held in detention:

(a) An information shall be filed within seventy-two hours, Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays excluded, or the youth shall be released; and

(b) A detention hearing shall be held within seventy-two hours, Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays excluded, from the time of filing the information, to determine whether continued detention is necessary under section 58 of this 1977 amendatory act.

(2) Written notice of the detention hearing, stating the time, place, and purpose of the hearing, and stating the right to counsel, shall be given to the parent, guardian, or custodian if such person can be found and shall also be given to the youth if over twelve years of age.

(3) At the commencement of the detention hearing, the court shall advise the parties of their rights under this chapter and shall appoint counsel as specified in this chapter.

(4) The court shall, based upon the allegations in the information, determine whether the case is properly before it or whether the case should be treated as a diversion case under section 62 of this 1977 amendatory act. If the case is not properly before the court the juvenile shall be ordered released.

(5) Notwithstanding a determination that the case is properly before the court and that probable cause exists, a child shall at the detention hearing be ordered released on the child's personal recognizance pending further hearing unless the court finds detention is necessary under section 58 of this 1977 amendatory act.

(6) If detention is not necessary under section 58 of this 1977 amendatory act the court shall impose the most appropriate of the following conditions or, if necessary, any combination of the following conditions:

(a) Place the child in the custody of a designated person agreeing to supervise such child;

(b) Place restrictions on the travel of the child during the period of release;

(c) Require the child to report regularly to and remain under the supervision of the juvenile court;

(e) Require that the child return to detention during specified hours.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 60. (1) Proceedings under this chapter shall be commenced in the county where the child resides. However, proceedings may be commenced in the county where an element of the alleged criminal offense occurred if so requested by the child or by the prosecuting attorney of the county where the incident occurred.

(2) If the hearing takes place in the county where an element of the alleged criminal offense occurred, the case and copies of all legal and social documents pertaining thereto shall be transferred to the county where the child resides for a disposition hearing. All costs and arrangements for care and transportation of the child in custody shall be the responsibility of the receiving county as of the date of the transfer, unless the counties otherwise agree.

(3) The court upon motion of any party or upon its own motion may, at any time, transfer a proceeding to another juvenile court when:

- (a) There is reason to believe that an impartial proceeding cannot be held in the county in which the proceeding was begun; or
- (b) It appears that venue is incorrect under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 61. (1) Complaints referred to the court alleging the commission of an offense shall be referred directly to the prosecutor. The prosecutor, upon receipt of a complaint, shall screen the complaint for legal sufficiency. The purpose of such screening shall be to determine whether:

- (a) The alleged facts bring the case within the jurisdiction of the court; and
- (b) On a basis of available evidence there is probable cause to believe that the youth did commit the offense.

(2) An information shall be a plain, concise, and definite written statement of the essential facts constituting the offense charged. It shall be signed by the prosecuting attorney and conform to chapter 10.37 RCW.

(3) Where a case is legally sufficient, the prosecutor shall file an information with the juvenile court if the alleged offender is one or more of the following:

(a) An alleged offender accused of a class A felony, an attempt to commit a class A felony, a class B felony, an attempt to commit a class B felony, assault in the third degree, rape in the third degree, or any other offense listed in section 56(1)(b) or (c) of this 1977 amendatory act; or

(b) An alleged offender with a criminal history of at least a class A or class B felony, or two class C felony offenses, or at least one class C felony offense and at least one misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor, or at least two gross misdemeanors, or at least one gross misdemeanor and two misdemeanors, or at least three misdemeanors; or

(c) An alleged offender accused of violating his or her diversion agreement or who wishes to be prosecuted rather than enter into a diversion agreement or who has been referred by the diversion unit for prosecution: PROVIDED, That if the prosecutor elects not to file a charge for which there is probable cause, he shall maintain a record, for one year, of such election and the reasons therefor.

(4) If it appears that there is probable cause to believe that an offense has been committed by a youth, the prosecutor may file an information with the juvenile court if the alleged offender is an alleged offender accused of a class C felony.

(5) Whenever the alleged offender is an alleged offender listed in subsection (3) of this section, the prosecutor may file an information on any other criminal complaint regardless of whether or not the other offense is listed in subsection (3)(a) of this section. In lieu of filing an information, the prosecutor may file a motion to modify or revoke community supervision if a criminal complaint alleges a violation of a condition of community supervision.

(6) If an alleged offender does not fall within subsection (3) or (4) of this section, the prosecutor shall refer the complaint to the diversionary unit for the formation of a diversion agreement pursuant to section 62 of this 1977 amendatory act.

(7) Whenever a juvenile is placed in custody or, where not placed in custody, referred to a diversionary interview, the parent or legal guardian of the juvenile shall be notified as soon as possible concerning the allegation made against the juvenile and the current status of the juvenile.

(8) The responsibilities of the prosecutor under subsections (1) through (7) of this section may be performed by a juvenile court probation counselor for any complaint referred to the court alleging the commission of an offense which would not be a felony if committed by an adult, if the prosecutor has given sufficient written notice to the juvenile court that the prosecutor will not review such complaints.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 62. (1) A diversion agreement shall be a contract between a youth accused of an offense and a diversionary unit whereby the youth agrees to fulfill certain conditions in lieu of prosecution. Such agreements may be entered into only after the prosecutor has determined that probable cause exists to believe that a crime has been committed and that the juvenile committed it.

(2) A diversion agreement may include:

(a) Periods of community service not to exceed one hundred fifty hours, but if the youth is attending school, no community service shall be required during normal school hours;

(b) Restitution limited to the amount of actual loss incurred by the victim, and the youth shall be required to make restitution to the victim unless the youth does not have the means and could not acquire the means to do so;

(c) In assessing periods of community service to be performed and restitution to be paid by a youth who has entered into a diversion agreement, the court officer to whom this task is assigned shall to the extent possible involve members of the community. Such members of the community shall meet with the youth and advise the court officer as to the terms of the diversion agreement and shall supervise the youth in carrying out its terms;

(d) A diversion agreement shall not exceed a period of six months for a misdemeanor or one year for a felony. Any restitution assessed during its term shall not exceed an amount which the youth could be reasonably expected to pay during this period. If additional time is necessary for the youth to complete restitution to the victim, the time period limitations of this subsection may be extended by an additional six months; and

(e) An informational, educational, or counseling interview may be required at a community agency.

(3) The youth shall retain the right to be referred to the court at any time prior to the signing of the diversion agreement.

(4) Divertees and potential divertees shall be afforded due process in all contacts with a diversionary unit regardless of whether said youths are accepted for diversion or whether the diversion program is successfully completed. Such due process shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(a) A written diversion agreement shall be executed stating all conditions in clearly understandable language;

(b) Violation of the terms of the agreement shall be the only grounds for termination;

(c) No youth shall be terminated from a diversion program without being given a court hearing, which hearing shall be preceded by:

(i) Written notice of alleged violations of the conditions of the diversion program; and

(ii) Disclosure of all evidence to be offered against the youth;

(d) The hearing shall include:

(i) Opportunity to be heard in person and to present evidence;

(ii) The right to confront and cross-examine all adverse witnesses;

(iii) A written statement by the court as to the evidence relied on and the reasons for termination, should that be the decision; and

(iv) Demonstration by evidence that the diverted youth has substantially violated the terms of his or her diversion agreement.

(5) The diversion unit shall be responsible for advising a youth of his or her rights as provided in this chapter.

(6) The right to counsel shall inure prior to the initial interview for purposes of advising the youth as to whether he or she desires to participate in the diversion process or to appear in the juvenile court. The youth may be represented by counsel at any critical stage of the diversion process, including intake interviews and termination hearings. The youth shall be fully advised at the intake of his or her right to an attorney and of the relevant services an attorney can provide. For the purpose of this section, intake interviews shall mean all interviews regarding the diversion agreement process.

The youth shall be advised that a diversion agreement shall constitute a part of the youth's criminal history as defined by section 56(6) of this 1977 amendatory act. A signed acknowledgement of such advisement shall be obtained from the youth, and the document shall be maintained by the diversionary unit together with the diversion agreement, and a copy of both documents shall be delivered to the prosecutor if requested by the prosecutor. The supreme court shall promulgate rules setting forth the content of such advisement in simple language.

(7) When a youth enters into a diversion agreement, the juvenile court may receive only the following information for dispositional purposes:

(a) The fact that a charge or charges were made;

(b) The fact that a diversion agreement was entered into;

(c) The youth's obligations under such agreement;

(d) Whether the alleged offender performed his or her obligations under such agreement; and

(e) The facts of the alleged offense.

(8) A diversionary unit may refuse to enter into a diversion agreement with a youth. It shall immediately refer such youth to the court for action and shall forward to the court the criminal complaint and a detailed statement of its reasons for refusing to enter into a diversion agreement. The diversionary unit shall also immediately refer the case to the prosecuting attorney for action if such youth fails to make restitution or perform community service as required by the diversion agreement.

(9) A diversionary unit may, in instances where it determines that the act or omission of an act for which a youth has been referred to it involved no victim, or where it determines that the youth referred to it has no prior criminal history and is alleged to have committed an illegal act involving no threat of or instance of actual physical harm and involving not more than fifty dollars in property loss or damage and that there is no loss outstanding to the person or firm suffering such damage or loss, counsel and release or release such a youth without entering into a diversion agreement: PROVIDED, That any youth so handled shall be advised that the act or omission of any act for which he or she had been referred shall constitute a part of the youth's criminal history as defined by section 56(6) of this 1977 amendatory act. A signed acknowledgment of such advisement shall be obtained from the youth and the document shall be maintained by the unit and a copy of the document shall be delivered to the prosecutor if requested by the prosecutor. The supreme court shall promulgate rules setting forth the content of such advisement in simple language: PROVIDED FURTHER, That a youth determined to be eligible by a diversionary unit for such release shall retain the same right to counsel and right to have his or her case referred to the court for formal action as any other youth referred to the unit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 63. The county prosecuting attorney shall be a party to all juvenile court proceedings involving juvenile offenders or alleged juvenile offenders.

The prosecuting attorney may, after giving appropriate notice to the juvenile court, decline to represent the state of Washington in juvenile court matters except felonies unless requested by the court on an individual basis to represent the state at an adjudicatory hearing in which case he or she shall participate. When the prosecutor declines to represent the state, then such function may be performed by the juvenile court probation counselor authorized by the court or local court rule to serve as the prosecuting authority.

If the prosecuting attorney elects not to participate, the prosecuting attorney shall file with the county clerk each year by the first Monday in July notice of intent not to participate. In a county wherein the prosecuting attorney has elected not to participate in juvenile court, he or she shall not thereafter until the next filing date participate in juvenile court proceedings unless so requested by the court on an individual basis, in which case the prosecuting attorney shall participate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 64. (1) Upon the filing of an information, the clerk of the court shall issue a summons directed to the child, if the child is twelve or more years of age, and another to the parents, guardian, or custodian, and such other persons as appear to the court to be proper or necessary parties to the proceedings, requiring them to appear personally before the court at the time fixed to hear the petition. Where the custodian is summoned, the parent or guardian or both shall also be served with a summons.

(2) A copy of the information shall be attached to each summons.

(3) The summons shall advise the parties of the right to counsel.

(4) The judge may endorse upon the summons an order directing the parents, guardian, or custodian having the custody or control of the child to bring the child to the hearing.

(5) If it appears from affidavit or sworn statement presented to the judge that there is probable cause for the issuance of a warrant of arrest or that the child needs to be taken into custody pursuant to section 33 of this 1977 amendatory act the judge may endorse upon the summons an order that an officer serving the summons shall at once take the child into custody and take the child to the place of detention or shelter designated by the court.

(6) If a party to be served with a summons can be found within the state, the summons shall be served upon the party personally at least five court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court. If the party is within the state and cannot be personally served, but the party's address is known or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, the summons may be served upon the party by mailing a copy thereof by certified mail at least ten court days before the hearing, or such time as set by the court. If a party other than the child is without the state but can be found or the party's address is known, or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, service of the summons may be made either by delivering a copy thereof to the party personally or by mailing a copy thereof to the party by certified mail at least ten court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court.

(7) Service of summons may be made under the direction of the court by any law enforcement officer or probation counselor.

(8) If the person summoned as herein provided shall fail without reasonable cause to appear and abide the order of the court, the person may be proceeded against as for contempt of court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 65. (1) The prosecutor, respondent, or the court on its own motion may, before a hearing on the information on its merits, file a motion requesting the court to transfer the respondent for adult criminal prosecution and the matter shall be set for a hearing on the question of declining jurisdiction. Unless waived by the court, the parties, and their counsel, a decline hearing shall be held where:

(a) The respondent is sixteen or seventeen years of age and the petition alleges a class A felony or an attempt to commit a class A felony; or

(b) The respondent is seventeen years of age and the petition alleges assault in the second degree, extortion in the first degree, indecent liberties, kidnaping in the second degree, rape in the second degree, or robbery in the second degree.

(2) The court after a decline hearing may order the case transferred for adult criminal prosecution upon a finding that the declination would be in the best interest of the juvenile or the public. The court shall consider the relevant reports, facts, opinions, and arguments presented by the parties and their counsel.

(3) When the respondent is transferred for criminal prosecution or retained for prosecution in juvenile court, the court shall set forth in writing its finding which shall be supported by relevant facts and opinions produced at the hearing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 66. The court shall hold an adjudicatory hearing on the information, and, after it has announced its findings of fact and its verdict, shall hold a hearing to consider disposition of the case pursuant to sections 69 and 70 of this 1977 amendatory act immediately following the adjudicatory hearing or at a continued hearing within fourteen days unless good cause is shown for a further continuance. Notice of the time and place of the continued hearing may be given in open court. If notice is not given in open court to a party, that party shall be notified by mail of the time and place of any continued hearing.

All hearings may be conducted at any time or place within the limits of the county, and such cases shall not be heard in conjunction with other business of any other division of the superior court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 67. (1) The respondent shall be advised of the allegations in the information and shall be required to plead guilty or not guilty to the allegation(s). The state or the respondent may make preliminary motions up to the time of the plea.

(2) If the respondent pleads guilty, the court may proceed with disposition or may continue the case for a dispositional hearing. If the respondent denies guilt, a hearing date shall be set.

(3) At the adjudicatory hearing it shall be the burden of the prosecution to prove the allegations of the information beyond a reasonable doubt.

(4) The court shall record its findings of fact and shall enter its verdict upon the record. Such findings shall set forth the evidence relied upon by the court in reaching its verdict.

(5) If the respondent is found not guilty he or she shall be released from detention.

(6) If the respondent is found guilty the court may immediately proceed to disposition or may continue the case for a dispositional hearing.

(7) The court following an adjudicatory hearing may request that a predisposition study be prepared to aid the court in its evaluation of the matters relevant to disposition of the case.

(8) In sentencing an offender, the court shall use the disposition standards in effect on the date of the offense.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 68. (1) A youth shall be advised of his or her rights when appearing before the court.

(2) A youth and his or her parent, guardian, or custodian shall be advised by the court or its representative that the youth has a right to be represented by counsel at all critical stages of the proceedings. Unless waived, counsel shall be provided to a youth, who is financially unable to obtain counsel without causing substantial hardship to himself or herself or the youth's family, in any proceeding where the youth may be subject to transfer for criminal prosecution, or in any proceeding where the youth may be in danger of confinement or partial confinement. The ability to pay part of the cost of counsel shall not preclude assignment. In no case shall a youth be deprived of counsel because of a parent, guardian, or custodian refusing to pay therefor. The youth shall be fully advised of his or her right to an attorney and of the relevant services an attorney can provide.

(3) The right to counsel shall include the right to the appointment of experts necessary and the experts shall be required pursuant to the procedures and requirements established by the supreme court.

(4) Upon application of a party, the clerk of the court shall issue, and the court on its own motion may issue, subpoenas requiring attendance and testimony of witnesses and production of records, documents, or other tangible objects at any hearing, or such subpoenas may be issued by an attorney of record.

(5) All proceedings shall be transcribed verbatim by means which will provide an accurate record.

(6) The general public and press shall be permitted to attend any hearing unless the court, for good cause, orders a particular hearing to be closed. The presumption shall be that all such hearings will be open.

(7) In all adjudicatory proceedings before the court, all parties shall have the right to adequate notice, discovery as provided in criminal cases, opportunity to be heard, confrontation of witnesses except in such cases as this chapter expressly permits the use of hearsay testimony, findings based solely upon the evidence adduced at the hearing, and an unbiased fact-finder.

(8) A juvenile shall be accorded the privilege against self-incrimination. An extra judicial statement which would be constitutionally inadmissible in a criminal proceeding shall not be received in evidence at an adjudicatory hearing over objection. Evidence illegally seized or obtained shall not be received in evidence over objection at an adjudicatory hearing to prove the allegations against the child. An extra judicial admission or confession made by the child out of court is insufficient to support a finding that the child committed the acts alleged in the information unless a corpus delicti is first established.

(9) Waiver of any right which a child has under this chapter must be an express waiver intelligently made by the child after the child has been fully informed of the right being waived.

(10) Whenever this chapter refers to waiver or objection by a child, the word child shall be construed to refer to a child who is at least twelve years of age. If a child is under twelve years of age, the child's parent, guardian, or custodian shall give any waiver or offer any objection contemplated by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 69. (1) In disposition hearings all relevant and material evidence, including oral and written reports, may be received by the court and may be relied upon to the extent of its probative value, even though such evidence may not be admissible in a hearing on the information. The youth or the youth's counsel and the prosecuting attorney shall be afforded an opportunity to examine and controvert written reports so received and to cross-examine individuals making reports when such individuals are reasonably available, but sources of confidential information need not be disclosed. The prosecutor and counsel for the juvenile may submit recommendations for disposition.

(2) Before entering a dispositional order as to a respondent found to have committed an offense, the court shall hold a disposition hearing, at which the court shall:

(a) Consider the facts supporting the allegations of criminal conduct by the respondent;

(b) Consider information and arguments offered by parties and their counsel;

(c) Consider any predisposition reports;

(d) Afford the respondent and the respondent's parent, guardian, or custodian an opportunity to speak in the respondent's behalf;

(e) Allow the victim or a representative of the victim and an investigative law enforcement officer to speak;

(f) Determine the amount of restitution owing to the victim, if any;

(g) Determine whether the respondent is a serious offender or a minor or first offender;

(h) Consider whether or not any of the following mitigating factors exist:

(i) The respondent's conduct neither caused nor threatened serious bodily injury or the respondent did not contemplate that his or her conduct would cause or threaten serious bodily injury;

(ii) The respondent acted under strong and immediate provocation;

(iii) The respondent was suffering from a mental or physical condition that significantly reduced his or her culpability for the offense though failing to establish a defense;

(iv) Prior to his or her detection, the respondent compensated or made a good faith attempt to compensate the victim for the injury or loss sustained; and

(v) There has been at least one year between the respondent's current offense and any prior criminal offense;

(i) Consider whether or not any of the following aggravating factors exist:

(i) In the commission of the offense, or in flight therefrom, the respondent inflicted or attempted to inflict serious bodily injury to another;

(ii) The offense was committed in an especially heinous, cruel, or depraved manner;

(iii) The victim or victims were particularly vulnerable;

(iv) The respondent has a recent criminal history or has failed to comply with conditions of a recent dispositional order or diversion agreement; and

(v) The respondent was the leader of a criminal enterprise involving several persons;

(j) The following factors shall not be considered in determining the punishment to be imposed:

(i) The sex of the respondent;

(ii) The race or color of the respondent or the respondent's family;

(iii) The creed or religion of the respondent or the respondent's family;

(iv) The economic or social class of the respondent or the respondent's family; and

(v) Factors indicating that the respondent may be or is a dependent child within the meaning of this chapter;

(k) A court shall not commit a youth to a state institution solely because of the lack of facilities, including treatment facilities, existing in the community.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 70. (1) When the respondent is found to be a serious offender, the court shall commit the offender to the department for a determinate sentence consisting of the standard range of disposition for the offense.

If the court finds that a disposition within the standard range would effectuate a manifest injustice, the court may impose a disposition outside the range but only after it enters reasons upon which it bases its conclusion that disposition within the standard range would effectuate a manifest injustice. A disposition imposed outside a standard range is appealable under section 77 of this 1977 amendatory act by the state or the respondent. A disposition within the standard range is not appealable under section 77 of this 1977 amendatory act.

(2) Where the respondent is found to be a minor or first offender, the court shall order that the respondent serve a term of community supervision. If the court determines that a disposition of community supervision would effectuate a manifest injustice the court may impose another disposition. A disposition other than a community supervision shall be imposed only after the court enters reasons upon which it bases its conclusions that imposition of community supervision would effectuate a manifest injustice. Any disposition other than community supervision may be appealed as provided in section 77 of this 1977 amendatory act by the state or the respondent. A disposition of community supervision may not be appealed under section 77 of this 1977 amendatory act.

(3) A juvenile appearing before the court for formal disposition who has declined to enter into a diversion agreement and who would otherwise be so entitled shall, if determined to be a first or minor offender, be referred to a diversionary unit under the supervision of which such youth may only be required to perform the term of community service and, where there is a victim, shall be required to make restitution under the limits specified in this chapter.

(4) Where the respondent is found to have committed an offense and is neither a serious offender nor a minor or first offender, consistent with the purposes of this chapter the court shall: (a)(i) Where the appropriate standard range includes a period of confinement exceeding thirty days, sentence the offender to the department for a term consisting of the appropriate standard range, or (ii) where the appropriate standard range does not include a period of confinement exceeding thirty days, sentence the offender to a determinate term within the appropriate standard range in which case the court shall consider only those aggravating and mitigating factors set forth in section 69 of this 1977 amendatory act and shall state its reasons for selecting the particular punishment imposed, or (b) shall impose a term of community supervision. If the court sentencing pursuant to subsection (a)(i) or (ii) of this section finds that a disposition within the standard range would effectuate a manifest injustice, it may impose a disposition other than community supervision outside the range but only after it enters reasons upon which it bases its conclusion that disposition within the standard range would effectuate a manifest injustice. A disposition so imposed outside the standard range may be appealed as provided in section 77 of this 1977 amendatory act by the state or the respondent. A disposition within the standard range or of community supervision shall not be appealable under section 77 of this 1977 amendatory act.

(5) A court may require a juvenile offender to serve a period of partial confinement not to exceed thirty days or a period of confinement not to exceed the minimum period of confinement included within the standard range for the offense(s) for which he or she was found guilty, but in no case to exceed thirty days: PROVIDED, That such periods of partial confinement and confinement may be required only of youthful offenders who are: (a) Not sentenced to a sentence within a range established by the legislature; (b) not committed to the department; (c) not first and minor offenders; and (d) are serving terms of community supervision: PROVIDED FURTHER, That all such terms of partial confinement and confinement shall be served in a facility operated by or pursuant to a contract with a county or city.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 71. The fingerprints and photograph may be taken of any serious offender.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 72. Where a disposition is imposed on a youth for two or more offenses, the terms shall run consecutively, subject to the following limitations: (1) Where the offenses were committed through a single act or omission, or through an act or omission which in itself constituted one of the offenses and also was an element of the other, the aggregate of all the terms shall not exceed one hundred fifty percent of the term imposed for the most serious offense; and (2) in all other cases, the aggregate of all consecutive terms shall not exceed three hundred percent of the term imposed for the most serious offense.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 73. (1) In its dispositional order, the court shall require the respondent to make restitution to any persons who have suffered loss or damage as a result of the offense committed by the respondent. The payment of restitution shall be in addition to any punishment which is imposed pursuant to the other provisions of this chapter. The court may determine the amount, terms, and conditions of the restitution. If the respondent participated in the crime with another person or other persons, all such participants shall be jointly and severally responsible for the payment of restitution: PROVIDED, That the court shall not require the respondent to pay full or partial restitution if the respondent reasonably satisfies the court that he or she does not have the means to make full or partial restitution and could not reasonably acquire the means to pay such restitution.

(2) When a respondent who has been ordered by a court to pay a fine or restitution, or to perform service for the public good fails to fulfill that order, the court upon the motion of the prosecutor or upon its own motion, shall require the respondent to show cause why the respondent should not be confined in a detention facility for nonfulfillment. The court may issue a summons or a warrant for arrest to compel the respondent's appearance.

(3) The respondent shall have the burden of showing that the nonpayment or nonfulfillment was not a wilful refusal and that he or she did not have the means and could not reasonably acquire the means to pay the fine or restitution or to perform the service for the public good. If the court finds that the default was wilful, it may order the youth detained in a county facility for one day for each twenty-five dollars of restitution or fine on which the youth wilfully defaulted or may order the youth detained in a county facility for one day for each eight hours of community service on which the youth wilfully defaulted.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 74. Consistent with the purposes of this chapter, if the respondent violates a condition of his or her community supervision, community supervision may be revoked or modified and further permissible punishment imposed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. Such punishment may include a period of confinement and/or partial confinement in a county facility not to exceed thirty days. Community supervision may only be revoked or modified upon the same due process as would be afforded an adult alleged probation violator.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 75. (1) The secretary shall, except in the case of a youth committed by a court to a term of confinement in a state institution outside the appropriate standard range for the offense(s) for which the youth was found to be guilty established pursuant to section 57 of this 1977 amendatory act, set a release or discharge date for each youth committed to its custody which shall be within the prescribed range to which a youth has been committed. Such dates shall be determined prior to the expiration of sixty percent of a youth's minimum term of confinement included within the prescribed range to which the youth has been committed.

(2) Following the youth's release pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the secretary may require the youth to comply with a program of parole to be administered by the department in his or her community which shall last no longer than eighteen months. The secretary shall, for the period of parole, facilitate the youth's reintegration into his or her community and to further this goal may require the youth to: (a) Undergo available medical or psychiatric treatment; (b) report as directed to a parole officer; (c) pursue a course of study or vocational training; (d) remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the department of any change in his or her address; and (e) refrain from committing new offenses. After termination of the parole period, the youth shall be discharged from the department's supervision.

(3) The department may also revoke or modify parole for violation thereof. If, after affording a youth all of the due process rights to which he or she would be entitled if the youth were an adult, the secretary finds that a youth has violated a condition of his or her parole, the secretary shall order one of the following which is reasonably likely to effectuate the purpose of the parole and to protect the public: (a) Continued supervision under the same conditions previously imposed; (b) intensified supervision with increased reporting requirements; (c) additional conditions of supervision authorized by this chapter; and (d) imposition of a period of partial confinement not to exceed thirty days.

(4) A parole officer of the department of social and health services shall have the power to arrest a juvenile under his or her supervision on the same grounds as a law enforcement officer would be authorized to arrest such person.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 76. Whenever legal custody of a child is vested in someone other than his or her parents, after due notice to the parents or other persons legally obligated to care for and support the child, and after a hearing, the court may order and decree that the parent or other legally obligated person shall pay in such a manner as the court may direct a reasonable sum representing in whole or in part the costs of support, treatment, and confinement of the child after the decree is entered. If the parent or other legally obligated person wilfully fails or refuses to pay such sum, the court may proceed against such person for contempt.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 77. (1) Dispositions reviewed pursuant to section 70 of this 1977 amendatory act shall be reviewed in the appropriate division of the court of appeals.

An appeal under this section shall be heard solely upon the record that was before the disposition court. No written briefs shall be required and the appeal shall be heard within thirty days following the date of sentencing and a decision rendered within fifteen days following the argument. The supreme court shall promulgate any necessary rules to effectuate the purposes of this section.

(2) To uphold a disposition outside the standard range, or which imposes confinement for a minor or first offender, the court of appeals must find (a) that the reasons supplied by the disposition judge are supported by the record which was before the judge and that those reasons clearly and convincingly support the conclusion that a disposition within the range, or nonconfinement for a minor or first offender, would constitute a manifest injustice, and (b) that the sentence imposed was neither clearly excessive nor clearly too lenient.

(3) If the court does not find subsection (2)(a) of this section it shall remand the case for disposition within the standard range or for community supervision without confinement as would otherwise be appropriate pursuant to this chapter.

(4) If the court finds subsection (2)(a) but not subsection (2)(b) of this section it shall remand the case with instructions for further proceedings consistent with the provisions of this chapter.

(5) Pending appeal, a respondent shall not be committed or detained for a period of time in excess of the standard range for the offense(s) committed and shall not be detained if a first or minor offender: PROVIDED, That if the order of the disposition court is below the standard range, the respondent shall be committed or detained for no longer than the term set by the disposition court.

(6) Dispositions imposed by the disposition court shall not be final until either the deadline for appeal pursuant to state law or supreme court rule has passed without an appeal being taken, or the court of appeals has issued its decision on the appeal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 78. All references to juvenile delinquents or juvenile delinquency in other chapters of the Revised Code of Washington shall be construed as meaning juvenile offenders or the commitment of an offense by juveniles as defined by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 79. (1) There is appropriated for the period July 1, 1978, to June 30, 1979, from the general fund nine hundred eighty-three thousand six hundred dollars to be allocated to counties for the cost of operating diversion units as required by this chapter.

(2) The secretary shall administer the funds and shall promulgate, pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, rules establishing a planning process and standards which meet the intent of this chapter. The secretary shall also monitor and evaluate, against established standards, all programs and services funded by this appropriation.

(3) The total sum shall be allocated by the secretary to the counties. Diversion units funded by this section shall be administered and operated separately from the court: PROVIDED, That counties of classes other than AA and A may request for an exemption from this requirement. The secretary may grant such exemption if it is clearly demonstrated that resources do not exist nor can be established in such county to operate diversion units separately from the court.

(4) In meeting the requirements of this chapter, there shall be a maintenance of effort whereby counties shall exhaust existing resources prior to the utilization of funds appropriated by this section.

(5) It is the intent of the legislature that these funds shall be the maximum amount necessary to meet the requirement of this chapter for the stated period. Courts shall be required to provide diversion programs and services to the extent made possible by available sources. In addressing diverted youths, a resource priority continuum shall be developed whereby the highest priority in resource allocation shall be given to diverted youths who have inflicted bodily harm while the lowest priority shall be given to diverting youths who have committed victimless crimes or minor property offenses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 80. Sections 55 through 78 of this 1977 amendatory act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 13 RCW. RCW 13.04.260 is hereby decodified and shall be recodified as part of that new chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 81. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 7, chapter 3, Laws of 1971 and RCW 50.04.116 are each amended to read as follows:

The term "employment" shall include the service of an individual who is a citizen of the United States, performed outside the United States (except in Canada ((or the Virgin Islands)), and in the case of the Virgin Islands after December 31, 1971 and prior to January 1 of the year following the year in which the United States secretary of labor approves the unemployment compensation law of the Virgin Islands under section 3304(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954) in the employ of an American employer (other than service which is deemed "employment" under the provisions of RCW 50.04.110 or 50.04.120 or the parallel provisions of another state's law), if:

(1) The employer's principal place of business in the United States is located in this state; or

(2) The employer has no place of business in the United States but:

(a) The employer is an individual who is a resident of this state; or

(b) The employer is a corporation which is organized under the laws of this state; or

(c) The employer is a partnership or a trust and the number of the partners or trustees who are residents of this state is greater than the number who are residents of any one other state; or

(3) None of the criteria ~~((fin))~~ in subsections (1) and (2) of this section is met but the employer has elected coverage in this state, or the employer having failed to elect coverage in any state, the individual has filed a claim for benefits, based on such service, under the laws of this state.

(4) An "American employer", for the purposes of this section, means a person who is:

(a) An individual who is a resident of the United States; or

(b) A partnership if two-thirds or more of the partners are residents of the United States; or

(c) A trust, if all of the trustees are residents of the United States; or

(d) A corporation organized under the laws of the United States or of any state.

Sec. 2. Section 16, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as last amended by section 1, chapter 264, Laws of 1957 and RCW 50.04.150 are each amended to read as follows:

The term "employment" shall not include service performed in agricultural labor except as otherwise provided in section 3 of this 1977 amendatory act.

Agricultural labor is defined as services performed:

(1) On a farm, in the employ of any person, in connection with the cultivation of the soil, or in connection with raising or harvesting any agricultural or horticultural commodity, including raising, shearing, feeding, caring for, training, and management of livestock, bees, poultry, and furbearing animals and wild life, or in the employ of the owner or tenant or other operator of a farm in connection with the operation, management, conservation, improvement, or maintenance of such farm and its tools and equipment; or

(2) In packing, packaging, grading, storing, or delivering to storage, or to market or to a carrier for transportation to market, any agricultural or horticultural commodity; but only if such service is performed as an incident to ordinary farming operations. The exclusions from the term "employment" provided in this paragraph shall not be deemed to be applicable with respect to commercial packing houses, commercial storage establishments, commercial canning, commercial freezing, or any other commercial processing or with respect to services performed in connection with the cultivation, raising, harvesting and processing of oysters or raising and harvesting of mushrooms or in connection with any agricultural or horticultural commodity after its delivery to a terminal market for distribution for consumption.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is added to chapter 35, Laws of 1945 and to chapter 50.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) Service performed in agricultural labor on and after January 1, 1978, for a farm operator or crew leader will be deemed services in employment if the farm operator or crew leader:

(a) Paid twenty thousand dollars or more as remuneration to individuals employed in agricultural labor during any calendar quarter in the current or preceding calendar year; or

(b) Employed ten or more individuals in agricultural labor for some portion of the day in each of twenty different calendar weeks in either the current or preceding calendar year regardless of whether they were employed at the same moment of time or whether or not the weeks were consecutive.

(2) A farm operator is the owner or tenant of the farmlands who stands to gain or lose economically from the operations of the farm. Employment will be considered employment by the farm operator unless it is established to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the services were performed in the employ of a crew leader. The risk of nonpersuasion is upon the farm operator. The operator will nonetheless be liable for contributions under RCW 50.24.130 even though services performed on the operator's farmlands would not be sufficient to bring the services under the term employment if services performed on the operator's land in the employ of a crew leader would be covered and the crew leader has failed to pay contributions on the services. For the purposes of the preceding sentence and RCW 50.24.130, all moneys paid or payable to the crew leader by the farm operator shall be deemed paid for services unless there is a written contract clearly specifying the amounts of money to be attributed to items other than services of the crew leader or the crew leader's employees.

(3) For the purposes of this section, a crew leader is a person who furnishes individuals to perform services in agricultural labor for the benefit of any other person, who pays for the services performed in agricultural labor (either on his or her own behalf or on behalf of the other person), and who has not made a written agreement making himself or herself an employee of the other person: PROVIDED, That no person shall be deemed a crew leader unless he or she is established independently of the person for whom the services are performed and either has a valid certificate of registration under the farm labor contractor registration act of 1963 or substantially all the members of his or her crew operate or maintain tractors, mechanized harvesting or crop dusting equipment, or any other mechanized equipment which is provided by the crew leader.

Sec. 4. Section 17, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as amended by section 4, chapter 215, Laws of 1947 and RCW 50.04.160 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((The term "employment" shall not include domestic service in a private home, local college club, or local chapter of a college fraternity or sorority: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That))~~ Services performed in domestic service in a private home, local college club, or local chapter of a college fraternity or sorority shall not be considered services in employment unless the services are performed after December 31, 1977, for a person who paid remuneration of one thousand dollars or more to individuals employed in this domestic service in any calendar quarter in the current or the preceding calendar year. The terms local college club and local chapter of a college fraternity or sorority shall not be deemed to include alumni clubs or chapters.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. There is added to chapter 35, Laws of 1945 and to chapter 50.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Services performed by aliens legally or illegally admitted to the United States shall be considered services in employment subject to the payment of contributions to the extent that services by citizens are covered.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. There is added to chapter 35, Laws of 1945 and to chapter 50.20 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Benefits shall not be paid to any individual on the basis of any services, substantially all of which consist of participating in sports or athletic events or training or preparing to so participate, for any week which commences during the period between two successive sport seasons (or similar periods) if the individual performed the services in the first of the seasons (or similar periods) and there is a reasonable assurance that the individual will perform the services in the latter of the seasons (or similar periods).

Sec. 7. Section 28, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 and RCW 50.04.270 are each amended to read as follows:

The term "employment" shall not include casual labor not in the course of the employer's trade or business (labor which does not promote or advance the trade or business of the employer). Temporary labor in the usual course of an employer's trade or business or domestic services as defined in RCW 50.04.160 shall not be deemed to be casual labor.

Sec. 8. Section 31, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as amended by section 10, chapter 3, Laws of 1971 and RCW 50.04.300 are each amended to read as follows:

"State" includes, in addition to the states of the United States of America, the District of Columbia, the Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

Sec. 9. Section 44, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as last amended by section 11, chapter 3, Laws of 1971 and RCW 50.12.050 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this section the terms "other state" and "another state" shall be deemed to include any state or territory of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and any foreign government and, where applicable, shall also be deemed to include the federal government or provisions of a law of the federal government, as the case may be.

As used in this section the term "claim" shall be deemed to include whichever of the following terms is applicable, to wit: "Application for initial determination", "claim for waiting period credit", or "claim for benefits".

The commissioner shall enter into an agreement with any other state whereby in the event an individual files a claim in another state against wages earned in employment in this state, or against wage credits earned in this state and in any other state or who files a claim in this state against wage credits earned in employment in any other state, or against wages earned in this state and in any other state, the claim will be paid by this state or another state as designated by the agreement in accordance with a determination on the claim as provided by the agreement and pursuant to the qualification and disqualification provisions of this title or under the provisions of the law of the designated paying state (including another state) or under such a combination of the provisions of both laws as shall be determined by the commissioner as being fair and reasonable to all affected interests, and whereby the wages of such individual, if earned in two or more states (including another state) may be combined, and further, whereby this state or another state shall reimburse the paying state in an amount which shall bear the same ratio to the amount of benefits already paid as the amount of wage credits transferred by this state or another state, and used in the determination, bear to the total wage credits used in computing the claimant's maximum amount of benefits potentially payable.

Whenever any claim is filed by an individual involving the combination of wages or a reciprocal arrangement for the payment of benefits, which is governed by the provisions of this section, the employment security department of this state, when not designated as the paying state, shall promptly make a report to the other state making the determination, showing wages earned in employment in this state.

The commissioner is hereby authorized to make to another state and to receive from another state reimbursements from or to the unemployment compensation fund in accordance with arrangements made pursuant to the provisions of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. There is added to chapter 35, Laws of 1945 and to chapter 50.20 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) Benefits shall not be paid on the basis of services performed by an alien unless the alien is an individual who has been lawfully admitted for permanent residence or otherwise is permanently residing in the United States under color of law (including an alien who is lawfully present in the United States as a result of the application of 8 U.S.C. Sec. 1153(a)(7) or 8 U.S.C. Sec. 1182(d)(5): PROVIDED, That any modifications to 26 U.S.C. Sec. 3304(a)(14) as provided by PL 94-566 which specify other conditions or other effective date than stated herein for the denial of benefits based on services performed by aliens and which modifications are required to be implemented under state law as a condition for full tax credit against the tax imposed by 26 U.S.C. Sec. 3301 shall be deemed applicable under this section.

(2) Any data or information required of individuals applying for benefits to determine whether benefits are not payable to them because of their alien status shall be uniformly required from all applicants for benefits.

(3) In the case of an individual whose application for benefits would otherwise be approved, no determination that benefits to the individual are not payable because of his or her alien status shall be made except upon a preponderance of the evidence.

Sec. 11. Section 2, chapter 1, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 7, chapter 73, Laws of 1973 and RCW 50.22.010 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

(1) "Extended benefit period" means a period which:

(a) Begins with the third week after whichever of the following weeks occurs first:

(i) A week for which there is a national "on" indicator((:); or

(ii) A week for which there is a state "on" indicator((: ~~PROVIDED, That, as there was a state "on" indicator for the week which was three weeks prior to October 11, 1970, an extended benefit period began on that date.);~~ and

(b) Ends with the third week after the first week for which there is both a national "off" indicator and a state "off" indicator: PROVIDED, That no extended benefit period shall last for a period of less than thirteen consecutive weeks, and further that no extended benefit period may begin by reason of a state "on" indicator before the fourteenth week after the close of a prior extended benefit period which was in effect with respect to this state(~~(: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That prior to January 1, 1972, an extended benefit period may become effective and be terminated in this state solely by reason of a state "on" and a state "off" indicator, respectively)).~~

(2) There is a "national 'on' indicator" for a week if the United States secretary of labor determines that ((for each of the three most recent calendar months ending before such week, the rate of insured unemployment (seasonally adjusted) for all states equaled or exceeded four and five-tenths percent)) for the period consisting of such week and the twelve weeks immediately preceding it, the rate of insured unemployment (seasonally adjusted) for all states equaled or exceeded four and five-tenths percent (determined by reference to the average monthly covered employment for the first four of the most recent six calendar quarters ending before the close of the period).

(3) There is a "national 'off' indicator" for a week if the United States secretary of labor determines that ((for each of the three most recent calendar months ending before such week, the rate of insured unemployment (seasonally adjusted) for all states was less than four and five-tenths percent)) for the period consisting of such week and the immediately preceding twelve weeks, the rate of insured unemployment (seasonally adjusted) for all states was less than four and five-tenths percent (determined by reference to the average monthly covered employment for the first four of the most recent six calendar quarters ending before the close of the period).

(4) There is a "state 'on' indicator" for this state for a week if the commissioner determines, in accordance with the regulations of the United States secretary of labor, that for the period consisting of such week and the immediately preceding twelve weeks, the rate of insured unemployment (not seasonally adjusted) ((as determined under the provisions of subsection (6) of this section)) either:

(a) Equaled or exceeded one hundred twenty percent of the average of such rates for the corresponding thirteen-week period ending in each of the preceding two calendar years(;) and equaled or exceeded four percent; or

(b) Equaled or exceeded ((four)) five percent.

(5) There is a "state 'off' indicator" for this state for a week if the commissioner determines, in accordance with the regulations of the United States secretary of labor, that for the period consisting of such week and the immediately preceding twelve weeks, the rate of insured unemployment (not seasonally adjusted) ((as determined under the provisions of subsection (6) of this section)) was either:

(a) Less than ((one hundred twenty percent of the average of such rates for the corresponding thirteen-week period ending in each of the preceding two calendar years)) four percent; or

(b) ((Less than)) Four percent or more but less than five percent and the rate of insured unemployment was less than one hundred twenty percent of the average of the rates for the corresponding thirteen week period ending in each of the two preceding calendar years.

~~(6) ("Rate of insured unemployment", for purposes of subsections (4) and (5) of this section, means the percentage derived by dividing the average weekly number of individuals filing claims in this state for weeks of unemployment with respect to the most recent thirteen consecutive week period, as determined by the commissioner on the basis of his reports to the United States secretary of labor; by the average monthly employment covered under this title for the first four of the most recent six completed calendar quarters ending before the end of such thirteen-week period:~~

~~(7))~~ "Regular benefits" means benefits payable to an individual under this title or ~~(;)~~ under any state law (including benefits payable to federal civilian employees and to ex-servicemen pursuant to 5 U.S.C. chapter 85) other than extended benefits or additional benefits.

~~((8))~~ (7) "Extended benefits" means benefits payable for weeks of unemployment beginning in an extended benefit period to an individual under this title or under any state law (including benefits payable to federal civilian employees and to ex-servicemen pursuant to 5 U.S.C. chapter 85) other than ~~((emergency benefits payable to an individual under the provisions of this chapter for weeks of unemployment in his eligibility period))~~ regular or additional benefits.

~~((9))~~ (8) "Additional benefits" are benefits ((other than regular benefits or extended benefits)) totally financed by the state and payable under this title to exhaustees by reason of conditions of high unemployment or by reason of other special factors.

~~((10))~~ (9) "Eligibility period" of an individual means the period consisting of the weeks in his benefit year which begin in an extended benefit period that is in effect in this state and, if his benefit year ends within such extended benefit period, any weeks thereafter which begin in such period.

~~((11))~~ (10) "Exhaustee" means an individual who, with respect to any week of unemployment in his eligibility period:

(a) Has received, prior to such week, all of the regular benefits that were payable to him under this title or any other state law (including dependents' allowances and regular benefits payable to federal civilian employees and ex-servicemen under 5 U.S.C. chapter 85) in his current benefit year that includes such week; or

(b) Has received, prior to such week, all of the regular benefits that were available to him under this title or any other state law (including dependents' allowances and regular benefits available to federal civilian employees and ex-servicemen under 5 U.S.C. chapter 85) in his current benefit year that includes such week, after the cancellation of some or all of his wage credits or the total or partial reduction of his rights to regular benefits: PROVIDED, That, for the purposes of (a) and (b), an individual shall be deemed to have received in his current benefit year all of the regular benefits that were payable to him, or available to him, as the case may be, even though:

(i) As a result of a pending appeal with respect to wages or employment, or both, that were not included in the original monetary determination with respect to his current benefit year, he may subsequently be determined to be entitled to more regular benefits; or

(ii) By reason of the seasonal provisions of another state law, he is not entitled to regular benefits with respect to such week of unemployment (although he may be entitled to regular benefits with respect to future weeks of unemployment in the next season, as the case may be, in his current benefit year), and he is otherwise an exhaustee within the meaning of this section with respect to his right to regular benefits under such state law seasonal provisions during the season or off season in which that week of unemployment occurs; or

(iii) Having established a benefit year, no regular benefits are payable to him during such year because his wage credits were canceled or his right to regular benefits was totally reduced as the result of the application of a disqualification; or

(c) His benefit year having ended prior to such week, he has insufficient wages or employment, or both, on the basis of which he could establish in any state a new benefit year that would include such week, or having established a new benefit year that includes such week, he is precluded from receiving regular benefits by reason of the provision in RCW 50.04.030 which meets the requirement of section 3304(a)(7) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, or the similar provision in any other state law; and

(d) (i) Has no right for such week to unemployment benefits or allowances, as the case may be, under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, the Trade Expansion Act of 1962, and such other federal laws as are specified in regulations issued by the United States secretary of labor; and

(ii) Has not received and is not seeking for such week unemployment benefits under the unemployment compensation law of the Virgin Islands or Canada, unless the appropriate agency finally determines that he is not entitled to unemployment benefits under such law for such week.

~~((+2))~~ (11) "State law" means the unemployment insurance law of any state, approved by the United States secretary of labor under section 3304 of the internal revenue code of 1954.

Sec. 12. Section 104, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as last amended by section 1, chapter 35, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 50.24.160 are each amended to read as follows:

Any employing unit for which services that do not constitute employment as defined in this title are performed may file with the commissioner a written election that all such services performed by any distinct class or group of individuals or by all individuals in its employ in one or more distinct establishments or places of business shall be deemed to constitute employment for all the purposes of this title for not less than two calendar years. Upon the written approval of such election by the commissioner, such services shall be deemed to constitute employment subject to this title from and after the date stated in such approval(~~(: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That any political subdivision of this state or any instrumentality of a political subdivision may elect coverage in accordance with the provisions of RCW 50.44.030 as a matter of right)~~). Services covered pursuant to this section shall cease to be deemed employment subject hereto as of January 1st of any calendar year subsequent to such two calendar years, only if the employing unit files with the commissioner prior to the fifteenth day of January of such year a written application for termination of coverage(~~(: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the provisions of RCW 50.04.200 to the contrary notwithstanding, public port districts may elect to cover the services of all or any distinct class or group of individuals in its employ on a contribution basis; such election shall preclude said port districts from~~ ~~covering contemporaneous services of any other class or group of employees under the provisions of RCW 50.44.030)).~~

Sec. 13. Section 19, chapter 3, Laws of 1971 and RCW 50.44.020 are each amended to read as follows:

Commencing with benefit years beginning on or after January 28, 1971, services performed subsequent to September 30, 1969 in the employ of this state or any of its wholly owned instrumentalities or jointly owned instrumentalities of this state and another state or this state and one or more of its political subdivisions shall be deemed services in employment unless such services are excluded from the term employment by RCW 50.44.040.

The state shall make payments in lieu of contributions with respect to benefits attributable to such employment as provided with respect to nonprofit organizations in subsections (2) and (3) of RCW 50.44.060: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That for weeks of unemployment beginning after January 1, 1979, the state shall pay in addition to the full amount of regular and additional benefits so attributable the full amount of extended benefits so attributable: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That no payment will be required from the state until the expiration of the twelve-month period following the end of the biennium in which the benefits attributable to such employment were paid. The amount of this payment shall include an amount equal to the amount of interest that would have been realized for the benefit of the unemployment compensation trust fund had such payments been received within thirty days after the day of the quarterly billing provided for in RCW 50.44.060(2)(a).

Sec. 14. Section 20, chapter 3, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 2, chapter 35, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 50.44.030 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Any political subdivision of this state or any instrumentality of a political subdivision may elect to cover the services of all or any distinct class or group of individuals in its employ: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That public utility districts and public power authorities may not elect coverage under this section: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That any political subdivision of this state or any instrumentality of a political subdivision which elects to cover the services of any employees in an institution of higher education or hospital operated by said political subdivision or instrumentality shall cover the services of all employees in all institutions of higher education and all hospitals operated by said political subdivision or instrumentality.~~

~~For the purposes of this chapter the term "hospital" means any institution primarily engaged in the treatment of emotional or physical disability which provides, on a regular basis, twenty-four hour per day bed care under the supervision of licensed medical personnel and those components, of other institutions, which are primarily engaged in the treatment of emotional or physical disability and which provide, on a regular basis, twenty-four hour per day bed care under the supervision of licensed medical personnel.~~

~~For the purposes of this chapter, the term "institution of higher education" means an educational institution in this state which~~

~~(1) Admits as regular students only individuals having a certificate of graduation from a high school, or the recognized equivalent of such a certificate;~~

~~(2) Is legally authorized within this state to provide a program of education beyond high school;~~

~~(3) Provides an educational program for which it awards a bachelor's or higher degree, or provides a program which is acceptable for full credit toward such a degree, or offers a program of training to prepare students for gainful employment in a recognized occupation; and~~

~~(4) Is a public or other nonprofit institution;~~

~~(5) Notwithstanding any of the foregoing subsections, all colleges and universities in this state are "institutions of higher education".~~

~~Services covered by the election performed subsequent to the date of such election shall be deemed services in employment unless such services are excluded from the term "employment" by RCW 50.44.040.~~

~~Any political subdivision or instrumentality electing coverage under this section shall make payments in lieu of contributions with respect to benefits attributable to such employment as provided with respect to nonprofit organizations in subsections (2) and (3) of RCW 50.44.060.~~

~~An election under the provisions of this section shall be for no less than two calendar years. A political subdivision or instrumentality of a political subdivision desiring to terminate coverage may do so by filing a written application for termination of coverage no later than the December fifteenth preceding the calendar year with respect to which such termination is to be effective. Termination of coverage will not relieve the political subdivision or instrumentality of a political subdivision of the obligation to reimburse the unemployment compensation fund for all benefits paid attributable to service performed during the covered period in the employ of such political subdivision or instrumentality of a political subdivision.))~~

(1) All services performed for any political subdivision or instrumentality of one or more political subdivisions of this state or one or more political subdivisions of this state and any other state after December 31, 1977, will be deemed to be services in employment to the extent coverage is not exempted under RCW 50.44.040.

(2) All such units of government shall file, before December 15, 1977, a written registration with the commissioner of the employment security department. Such registration shall specify the manner in which the unit of government will finance the payment of benefits. The elections available to counties, cities and towns are the local government tax, provided for in section 15 of this 1977 amendatory act, or payments in lieu of contributions, as described in RCW 50.44.060. The elections available to other units of government are the contributions plan in chapters 50.24 and 50.29 RCW, or payments in lieu of contributions, described in RCW 50.44.060. Under any election the governmental unit will be charged the full amount of regular and additional benefits attributable to its account plus one-half the amount of extended benefits so attributable: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That beginning with weeks of unemployment commencing after January 1, 1979, the unit of government which is financing the payment of benefits under the payment in lieu of contributions option shall, in addition to paying the full amount of regular and additional benefits attributable to its account, pay the full amount of extended benefits so attributable.

(3) Any political subdivision or instrumentality of more than one political subdivision of this state is hereby authorized to enter into agreements with other political subdivisions or instrumentalities of more than one political subdivision of this state to form pool accounts for the purpose of making payments in lieu of contributions. These accounts shall be formed and administered in accordance with applicable regulations. The formation of such accounts shall not relieve the governmental unit of the responsibility for making required payments in the event that the pool account does not make the payments.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. There is added to chapter 3, Laws of 1971 and to chapter 50.44 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) Any county, city or town not electing to make payments in lieu of contributions shall pay a "local government tax." Taxes paid under this section shall be paid into an administratively identifiable account in the unemployment compensation fund. This account shall be self-sustaining. For calendar years 1978 and 1979 all such employers shall pay local government tax at the rate of one and one-quarter percent of all remuneration paid by the governmental unit for services in its employment. For each year after 1979 each such employer's rate of tax shall be determined in accordance with this section: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That whenever it appears to the commissioner that the anticipated benefit payments from the account would jeopardize reasonable reserves in this identifiable account the commissioner may at the commencement of any calendar quarter, impose an emergency excess tax of not more than one percent of remuneration paid by the participating governmental units which "excess tax" shall be paid in addition to the applicable rate computed pursuant to this section until the calendar year following the next September 1.

(2) A reserve account shall be established for each such employer.

(a) The "reserve account" of each such employer shall be credited with tax amounts paid and shall be charged with benefit amounts charged in accordance with the formula set forth in RCW 50.44.060 as now or hereafter amended except that such employer's account shall be charged for the full amount of extended benefits so attributable for weeks of unemployment commencing after January 1, 1979. Such credits and charges shall be cumulative from January 1, 1978.

(b) After the cutoff date, the "reserve ratio" of each such employer shall be computed by dividing its reserve account balance as of the computation date by the total remuneration paid during the preceding calendar year for services in its employment. This division shall be carried to four decimal places, with the remaining fraction, if any, disregarded.

(3) A "benefit cost ratio" for each such employer shall be computed by dividing its total benefit charges during the thirty-six months ending on June 30 by its total remuneration during the three preceding calendar years: PROVIDED, That after August 31 in 1979 each employer's total benefit charges for the twelve months ending on June 30 shall be divided by its total remuneration paid in the last three quarters of calendar year 1978; and after August 31 in 1980 each employer's total benefit charges for the twenty-four months ending June 30 shall be divided by its total remuneration paid in the last three calendar quarters of 1978 and the four calendar quarters of 1979. Such computations shall be carried to four decimal places, with the remaining fraction, if any, disregarded.

(4) For each such employer its benefit cost ratio shall be subtracted from its reserve ratio. One-third of the resulting amount shall be subtracted from its benefit cost ratio. The resulting figure, expressed as a percentage and rounded to the nearest tenth of one percent, shall become its local government tax rate for the following rate year. For the rate year 1980 no tax rate shall be less than 0.6 percent nor more than 2.2 percent. For 1981 no tax rate shall be less than 0.4 percent nor more than 2.6 percent. For years after 1981 no tax rate shall be less than 0.2 percent or more than 3.0 percent. No individual rate shall be increased any more than 1.0 percent from one rate year to the next.

(5) Any county, city or town electing participation under this section at any time after December 15, 1977, shall be assigned a tax rate of one and one-quarter percent of total remuneration for the first eight quarters of the participation.

(6) Each year after 1980 the commissioner shall review the local government tax system and make recommendations to the legislature for changes in said system.

(7) "Local government tax" shall be deemed to be "contributions" to the extent that such usage is consistent with the purposes of this title. Such construction shall include but not be limited to those portions of this title and the rules and regulations enacted pursuant thereto dealing with assessments, interest, liens, collection procedures and remedies, administrative and judicial review, and the imposition of administrative, civil and criminal sanctions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. There is added to chapter 3, Laws of 1971 and to chapter 50.44 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Sec. 19. Section 23, chapter 3, Laws of 1971 and RCW 50.44.060 are each amended to read as follows:

Benefits paid to employees of "nonprofit organizations" shall be financed in accordance with the provisions of this section. For the purpose of this section and RCW 50.44.070, the term "nonprofit organization" is limited to those organizations described in RCW 50.44.010, and joint accounts composed exclusively of such organizations.

(1) Any nonprofit organization which is, or becomes subject to this title on or after January 1, 1972 shall pay contributions under the provisions of RCW 50.24.010, unless it elects, in accordance with this subsection, to pay to the commissioner for the unemployment compensation fund an amount equal to the full amount of regular and additional benefits and one-half of the amount of extended benefits paid to individuals for weeks of unemployment which begin during the effective period of such election to the extent that such payments are attributable to service in the employ of such nonprofit organization.

~~(a) ((Any nonprofit organization which is, or becomes, subject to this title on January 1, 1972 may elect to become liable for payments in lieu of contributions for a period of not less than one taxable year beginning with January 1, 1972: PROVIDED, That it files with the commissioner a written notice of its election within the thirty-day period immediately following such date.~~

~~(b))~~ Any nonprofit organization which becomes subject to this title after January 1, 1972 may elect to become liable for payments in lieu of contributions for a period of not less than twelve months beginning with the date on which such subjectivity begins by filing a written notice of its election with the commissioner not later than thirty days immediately following the date of the determination of such subjectivity.

~~((c))~~ (b) Any nonprofit organization which makes an election in accordance with paragraph~~((s))~~ (a) ~~((or (b)))~~ of this subsection will continue to be liable for payments in lieu of contributions until it files with the commissioner a written notice terminating its election not later than thirty days prior to the beginning of the taxable year for which such termination shall first be effective.

~~((d))~~ (c) Any nonprofit organization which has been paying contributions under this title for a period subsequent to January 1, 1972 may change to a reimbursable basis by filing with the commissioner not later than thirty days prior to the beginning of any taxable year a written notice of election to become liable for payments in lieu of contributions. Such election shall not be terminable by the organization for that and the next year.

~~((e))~~ (d) The commissioner may for good cause extend the period within which a notice of election, or a notice of termination, must be filed and may permit an election to be retroactive but not any earlier than with respect to benefits paid after December 31, 1969.

~~((f))~~ (e) The commissioner, in accordance with such regulations as he may prescribe, shall notify each nonprofit organization of any determination which he may make of its status as an employer and of the effective date of any election which it makes and of any termination of such election. Any nonprofit organization subject to such determination and dissatisfied with such determination may file a request for review and redetermination with the commissioner within thirty days of the mailing of the determination to the organization. Should such request for review and redetermination be denied, the organization may, within ten days of the mailing of such notice of denial, file with the appeal tribunal a petition for hearing which shall be heard in the same manner as a petition for denial of refund. The appellate procedure prescribed by this title for further appeal shall apply to all denials of review and redetermination under this paragraph.

(2) Payments in lieu of contributions shall be made in accordance with the provisions of this section including either paragraph (a) or (b) of this subsection.

(a) At the end of each calendar quarter, the commissioner shall bill each nonprofit organization or group of such organizations which has elected to make payments in lieu of contributions for an amount equal to the full amount of regular and additional benefits plus one-half of the amount of extended benefits paid during such quarter that is attributable to service in the employ of such organization.

(b) (i) Each nonprofit organization that has elected payments in lieu of contributions may request permission to make such payments as provided in this paragraph. Such method of payment shall become effective upon approval by the commissioner.

(ii) At the end of each calendar quarter, or at the end of such other period as determined by the commissioner, the commissioner shall bill each nonprofit organization for an amount representing one of the following:

(A) ~~((For 1972, six-tenths of one percent of its total payroll for 1971.~~

~~(B) For years after 1972, such))~~ The percentage of its total payroll for the immediately preceding calendar year as the commissioner shall determine. Such determination shall be based each year on the average benefit costs attributable to service in the employ of nonprofit organizations during the preceding calendar year.

~~((C))~~ (B) For any organization which did not pay wages throughout the four calendar quarters of the preceding calendar year, such percentage of its payroll during such year as the commissioner shall determine.

(iii) At the end of each taxable year, the commissioner may modify the quarterly percentage of payroll thereafter payable by the nonprofit organization in order to minimize excess or insufficient payments.

(iv) At the end of each taxable year, the commissioner shall determine whether the total of payments for such year made by a nonprofit organization is less than, or in excess of, the total amount of regular and additional benefits plus one-half of the amount of extended benefits paid to individuals during such taxable year based on wages attributable to service in the employ of such organization. Each nonprofit organization whose total payments for such year are less than the amount so determined shall be liable for payment of the unpaid balance to the fund in accordance with paragraph (c). If the total payments exceed the amount so determined for the taxable year, all of the excess payments will be retained in the fund as part of the payments which may be required for the next taxable year, or a part of the excess may, at the discretion of the commissioner, be refunded from the fund or retained in the fund as part of the payments which may be required for the next taxable year.

(c) Payment of any bill rendered under paragraph (a) or (b) shall be made not later than thirty days after such bill was mailed to the last known address of the nonprofit organization or was otherwise delivered to it, and if not paid within such thirty days, the reimbursement payments itemized in the bill shall be deemed to be delinquent and the whole or part thereof remaining unpaid shall bear interest from and after the end of such thirty days at the rate and in the manner set forth in RCW 50.24.040.

(d) Payments made by any nonprofit organization under the provisions of this section shall not be deducted or deductible, in whole or in part, from the remuneration of individuals in the employ of the organization. Any deduction in violation of the provisions of this paragraph shall be unlawful.

(3) Each employer that is liable for payments in lieu of contributions shall pay to the commissioner for the fund the total amount of regular and additional benefits plus the amount of one-half of extended benefits paid that are attributable to service in the employ of such employer. If benefits paid to an individual are based on wages paid by more than one employer and one or more of such employers are liable for payments in lieu of contributions, the amount (~~(payable)~~) payable to the fund by each employer that is liable for such payments shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (a) (~~(or (b))~~) through (d) of this subsection.

(a) If benefits paid to an individual are based on wages paid by one or more employers that are liable for payments in lieu of contributions and on wages paid by one or more employers who are liable for contributions, the amount of benefits payable by each employer that is liable for payments in lieu of contributions shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the total benefits paid to the individual as the total base-period wages paid to the individual by such employer bear to the total base-period wages paid to the individual by all of his base-period employers.

(b) If benefits paid to an individual are based on wages paid by two or more employers that are liable for payments in lieu of contributions, the amount of benefits payable by each such employer shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the total benefits paid to the individual as the total base-period wages paid to the individual by such employer bear to the total base-period wages paid to the individual by all of his base-period employers.

~~((4) Notwithstanding any other provisions in this section, any nonprofit organization which prior to January 1, 1969, paid contributions into the unemployment compensation fund, and pursuant to this section, elects, within thirty days after January 1, 1972 to make payments in lieu of contributions, shall not be required to make any such payment on account of any regular, additional, or extended benefits paid, on the basis of wages paid by such organization to individuals for weeks of unemployment which begin on or after the effective date of such election until the total amount of such benefits equals the amount of the positive balance in the experience rating account of such organization:))~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. There is added to chapter 35, Laws of 1945 and to chapter 50.98 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) Effective with benefit years beginning on and after January 1, 1978, base year wages shall include remuneration paid for previously uncovered services: PROVIDED, That the maximum benefits payable to an individual as computed for the benefit year will be reduced to the extent that benefits were paid on the basis of identical calendar quarters of the previously uncovered services with respect to a claim filed by the individual under Title II of the Emergency Jobs and Unemployment Assistance Act of 1974. Benefits will be paid, subject to the provisions of this title, based upon the previously uncovered services to the extent that the unemployment compensation trust fund will be reimbursed for the cost thereof by the federal government under section 121 of PL 94-566 and regulations published by the secretary of labor relating thereto.

(2) For the purposes of this section, the term "previously uncovered services" means services performed before January 1, 1978, which are not employment as defined in Title 50 RCW at any time during the one year period ending December 31, 1975, and which:

(a) Is agricultural labor as defined in RCW 50.04.150 and covered by section 3 of this 1977 amendatory act or domestic services as defined in and covered by RCW 50.04.160; or

(b) Is service performed by an employee of this state or a political subdivision of this state newly covered by this 1977 amendatory act or by an employee of a nonprofit educational institution which is not an institution of higher education as provided in RCW 50.44.040(3).

(3) Any nonprofit organization or governmental entity electing to make payments in lieu of contributions shall not be liable to make payments with respect to benefits paid any individual whose base year wages include wages for previously uncovered services as defined in subsection (2) (a) and (b) of this section to the extent that the unemployment compensation fund is reimbursed for the benefits under section 121 of PL 94-566.

(4) Benefits paid any individual whose base year wages include wages for previously uncovered services as defined in subsection (2) (a) and (b) of this section shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer to the extent that the unemployment compensation fund is reimbursed for the benefits under section 121 of PL 94-566.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. There is added to chapter 35, Laws of 1945 and to chapter 50.98 RCW a new section to read as follows:

This 1977 amendatory act has been enacted to meet the requirements imposed by the federal unemployment tax act as amended by PL 94-566. Internal references in any section of this 1977 amendatory act to the provisions of that act are intended only to apply to those provisions as they existed as of the effective date of this 1977 amendatory act.

In view of the importance of compliance of this 1977 amendatory act with the federal unemployment tax act, any ambiguities contained herein should be resolved in a manner consistent with the provisions of that act. Considerable weight has been given to the commentary contained in that document entitled "Draft Language and Commentary to Implement the Unemployment Compensation Amendments of 1976 PL 94-566", published by the United States department of labor, employment and training administration, and that commentary should be referred to when interpreting the provisions of this 1977 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. The commissioner is authorized, with the approval of the governor, to collect from the three-tenths of one percent increase in employer contributions provided in section 10 of chapter 33, Laws of 1977 1st ex. sess., for calendar years 1978 and 1979, nine and one-tenth percent of the additional revenue generated by the three-tenths of one percent increase, or so much thereof as may be deemed appropriate by the commissioner, to be deposited in the administrative contingency fund, one-half of such deposit to be extended for the purpose of operating a quality control program similar to the pilot quality program project which ended in 1976, in local employment security offices, and one-half for increased audits and investigations of employers subject to Title 50 RCW. In determining the amount of the deposit, if any, authorized by this section, the commissioner and the governor shall consider the impact any such deposit would have on employer contributions required by the federal government for the repayment of a loan from the federal unemployment trust fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. (1) The provisions of this act mandating coverage of employees of political subdivisions have been enacted to comply with the provisions of Public Law 94-566. Therefore, as provided in subsection (2), this mandatory feature shall be contingent on the existence of valid and constitutional federal law requiring the Secretary of Labor to refuse to certify as approved the employment security laws of this state if such laws did not continue such mandatory coverage.

(2) In the event the mandatory coverage feature for political subdivisions ceases to be necessary for compliance with valid and constitutional federal law, then the mandatory feature of this 1977 act shall cease to be effective as of the end of the next quarter following the quarter in which the mandatory feature contained in this 1977 act is not necessary for such compliance.

(3) In the event mandatory coverage ceases to be effective pursuant to subsection (2), then the sections, or subsections as the case may be, of this 1977 amendatory act shall to the extent that they apply to coverage of employees of political subdivisions be deemed nullified and the language of the sections being amended shall be deemed reinstated as the laws of this state.

(4) Benefits paid based on the services covered during the effective life of the mandatory coverage feature shall be financed as follows:

(a) If the political subdivision was financing payment of benefits on a reimbursable basis, benefits attributable to employment with the political subdivision shall be assessed to and paid by the political subdivision;

(b) If the political subdivision is a county, city, or town which elected financing pursuant to section 15 of this 1977 amendatory act, such political subdivision will pay "the local government tax" for all earnings by employees through the end of the calendar quarter in which the mandatory coverage is no longer effective pursuant to subsection (2);

(c) If the political subdivision was financing benefits by the contribution method it will pay contributions on wages earned by its employees through the end of the calendar quarter in which mandatory coverage is no longer effective pursuant to subsection (2).

Sec. 24. Section 60, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as last amended by section 4, chapter 73, Laws of 1973 and RCW 50.16.010 are each amended to read as follows:

There shall be maintained as special funds, separate and apart from all public moneys or funds of this state an unemployment compensation fund and an administrative contingency fund, which shall be administered by the commissioner exclusively for the purposes of this title, and to which RCW 43.01.050 shall not be applicable. The unemployment compensation fund shall consist of

(1) all contributions and payments in lieu of contributions collected pursuant to the provisions of this title,

(2) interest earned upon any moneys in the fund,

(9) all moneys received for the fund from any other source.

All moneys in the unemployment compensation fund shall be commingled and undivided.

The administrative contingency fund shall consist of all interest on delinquent contributions collected pursuant to this title after June 20, 1953, all fines and penalties collected pursuant to the provisions of this title, and all sums recovered on official bonds for losses sustained by the fund and sums collected pursuant to section 23 of this amendatory act: PROVIDED, That all fees, fines, forfeitures and penalties collected or assessed by a justice court because of the violation of a state law shall be remitted as provided in chapter 3.62 RCW as now exists or is later amended. The amount in this fund ((in excess of)) that exceeds the amount deposited pursuant to section 23 of this amendatory act by one hundred thousand dollars on the close of business of the last day of each calendar quarter shall be immediately transferred to this state's account in the unemployment trust fund. Moneys available in the administrative contingency fund shall be expended upon the direction of the commissioner, with the approval of the governor, whenever it appears to him or her that such expenditure is necessary for:

(a) The proper administration of this title and no federal funds are available for the specific purpose to which such expenditure is to be made, provided, the moneys are not substituted for appropriations from federal funds which, in the absence of such moneys, would be made available.

(b) The proper administration of this title for which purpose appropriations from federal funds have been requested but not yet received, provided, the administrative contingency fund will be reimbursed upon receipt of the requested federal appropriation.

CHAPTER 293

TEACHERS' RETIREMENT SYSTEM

AN ACT Relating to the teachers' retirement system; amending section 1, chapter 80, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 149, chapter 275, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 41.32.010; adding new sections to chapter 41.32 RCW; prescribing an effective date; and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. LEGISLATIVE FINDING. The legislature finds and determines that those members first employed on or before September 30, 1977, shall not suffer any diminishment or loss of benefits or rights, whether current or prospective, as the result of the enactment of this 1977 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. APPLICATION TO CERTAIN PERSONS. Sections 3 through 16 of this 1977 amendatory act shall apply only to those persons who are initially employed by an employer on or after October 1, 1977.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. COMPUTATION OF THE RETIREMENT ALLOWANCE. A member of the retirement system shall receive a retirement allowance equal to two percent of such member's average final compensation for each year of service.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. RETIREMENT FOR SERVICE. (1) NORMAL RETIREMENT. Any member with at least five years of service who has attained at least age sixty-five shall be eligible to retire and to receive a retirement allowance computed according to the provisions of section 3 of this 1977 amendatory act.

(2) EARLY RETIREMENT. Any member who has completed at least twenty years of service who has attained at least age fifty-five shall be eligible to retire and to receive a retirement allowance computed according to the provisions of section 3 of this 1977 amendatory act, except that a member retiring pursuant to this subsection shall have the retirement allowance actuarially reduced to reflect the difference in the number of years between age at retirement and the attainment of age sixty-five.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. POST-RETIREMENT COST-OF-LIVING. Beginning July 1, 1979, and every year thereafter, the department shall determine the following information for each retired member or beneficiary whose retirement allowance has been in effect for at least one year:

- (1) The original dollar amount of the retirement allowance;
- (2) The index for the calendar year prior to the effective date of the retirement allowance, to be known as "index A";
- (3) The index for the calendar year prior to the date of determination, to be known as "index B"; and
- (4) The ratio obtained when index B is divided by index A.

The value of the ratio obtained shall be the annual adjustment to the original retirement allowance and shall be applied beginning with the July payment. In no event, however, shall the annual adjustment:

- (a) Produce a retirement allowance which is lower than the original retirement allowance;
- (b) Exceed three percent in the initial annual adjustment; or
- (c) Differ from the previous year's annual adjustment by more than three percent.

For the purposes of this section, "index" means, for any calendar year, that year's average consumer price index—Seattle, Washington area for urban wage earners and clerical workers, all items, compiled by the bureau of labor statistics, United States department of labor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. EMPLOYER AND MEMBER CONTRIBUTIONS. The required contribution rates to the retirement system for both members and employers shall be established by the director from time to time as may be necessary upon the advice of the state actuary: PROVIDED, That the employer contribution shall be contributed as provided in RCW 41.32.401.

Contribution rates required to fund the costs of the retirement system shall always be equal for members and employers, except as herein provided. Any adjustments in contribution rates required from time to time for future costs shall likewise be shared equally by the members and employers: PROVIDED, That the costs of amortizing the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system, in existence on September 30, 1977, shall be borne in full by the employers.

Any increase in the contribution rate required as the result of a failure of an employer to make any contribution required by this section shall be borne in full by the employer not making the contribution.

The director shall notify the retirement board of any pending adjustment in the required contribution rate and such increase shall be announced at a board meeting held at least thirty days prior to the effective date of the change.

Members contributions required by this section shall be deducted from the members earnable compensation each payroll period. The members contribution shall be remitted directly to the department within fifteen days following the end of the calendar month during which the payroll period ends and the employers contribution shall be remitted as provided by law.

Until such time as the director shall establish other rates, members and employers of such members shall each contribute 5.66% of earnable compensation: PROVIDED, That employers shall initially contribute an additional 5.80% of earnable compensation per member to amortize the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system in effect on September 30, 1977.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. TEACHERS REQUIRED TO BE MEMBERS. All teachers who become employed by an employer on or after October 1, 1977, shall be members of the retirement system and shall be governed by the provisions of sections 2 through 16 of this 1977 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. OPTIONS FOR PAYMENT OF RETIREMENT ALLOWANCES. Upon retirement for service as prescribed in section 4 of this 1977 amendatory act, a member shall elect to have the retirement allowance paid pursuant to Option 1, 2, or 3 with Options 2 and 3 calculated so as to be actuarially equivalent to Option 1.

(1) OPTION 1. A member electing this option shall receive a retirement allowance payable throughout such member's life. However, if the retiree dies before the total of the retirement allowance paid to such retiree equals the amount of such retiree's accumulated contributions at the time of retirement, then the balance shall be paid to such person or persons having an insurable interest in the retiree's life as the retiree shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department; or if there be no such designated person or persons still living at the time of the retiree's death, then to the surviving spouse; or if there be neither such designated person or persons still living at the time of death nor a surviving spouse, then to the retiree's legal representative.

(2) OPTION 2. A member who elects this option shall receive a reduced retirement allowance, which upon the member's death shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to such person having an insurable interest in the retiree's life as the retiree shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department at the time of the retiree's retirement.

(3) OPTION 3. A member who elects this option shall receive a reduced retirement allowance, and upon the member's death one-half of the retiree's reduced retirement allowance shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to such person having an insurable interest in the retiree's life as the retiree shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department at the time of the retiree's retirement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. EARNED DISABILITY ALLOWANCE. A member of the retirement system who becomes totally incapacitated for continued employment by an employer as determined by the department upon recommendation of the retirement board shall be eligible to receive an allowance under the provisions of sections 2 through 16 of this 1977 amendatory act. Such member shall receive a monthly disability allowance computed as provided for in section 3 of this 1977 amendatory act and shall have such allowance actuarially reduced to reflect the difference in the number of years between age at disability and the attainment of age sixty-five.

Any member who receives an allowance under the provisions of this section shall be subject to such comprehensive medical examinations as required by the department. If such medical examinations reveal that such a member has recovered from the incapacitating disability and the member is offered reemployment by an employer at a comparable compensation, such member shall cease to be eligible for such allowance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. APPLICATION FOR AND EFFECTIVE DATE OF RETIREMENT ALLOWANCES. Any member or beneficiary eligible to receive a retirement allowance under the provisions of sections 4, 9, or 12 of this 1977 amendatory act shall be eligible to commence receiving a retirement allowance after having filed written application with the department.

(1) Retirement allowances paid to members under the provisions of section 4 of this 1977 amendatory act shall accrue from the first day of the calendar month immediately following such member's separation from employment.

(2) Retirement allowances paid to vested members no longer in service, but qualifying for such an allowance pursuant to section 4 of this 1977 amendatory act, shall accrue from the first day of the calendar month immediately following such qualification.

(3) Disability allowances paid to disabled members under the provisions of section 9 of this 1977 amendatory act shall accrue from the first day of the calendar month immediately following such member's separation from employment for disability.

(4) Retirement allowances paid as death benefits under the provisions of section 12 of this 1977 amendatory act shall accrue from the first day of the calendar month immediately following the member's death.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. SUSPENSION OF RETIREMENT ALLOWANCE UPON REEMPLOYMENT BY AN EMPLOYER. No retiree under the provisions of sections 2 through 16 of this 1977 amendatory act shall be eligible to receive such retiree's monthly retirement allowance if such retiree is performing service for any nonfederal public employer in this state.

Upon cessation of service for any nonfederal public employer in this state such retiree shall have benefits actuarially recomputed pursuant to the rules adopted by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. DEATH BENEFITS. (1) If a member or a vested member who has not completed at least ten years of service dies, the amount of the accumulated contributions standing to such member's credit in the retirement system at the time of such member's death shall be paid to such person or persons having an insurable interest in such member's life as the member shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department. If there be no such designated person or persons still living at the time of the member's death, such member's accumulated contributions standing to such member's credit in the retirement system shall be paid to the member's surviving spouse as if in fact such spouse had been nominated by written designation, or if there be no such surviving spouse, then to such member's legal representatives.

Any member selecting this optional vesting with less than twenty years of service shall not be covered by the provisions of RCW 41.26.150, and his survivors shall not be entitled to the benefits of RCW 41.26.160 unless his death occurs after he has attained the age of fifty years. for the benefits of RCW 41.26.160 regardless of his age at the time of his death, to the exclusion of the lump sum amount provided by this subsection.

(3) Any member who has attained the age of sixty years shall be retired on the first day of the calendar month next succeeding that in which said member shall have attained the age of sixty and may not thereafter be employed as a law enforcement officer or fire fighter: PROVIDED, That for any member who is elected or appointed to the office of sheriff, chief of police, or fire chief, his election or appointment shall be considered as a waiver of the age sixty provision for retirement and nonemployment for whatever number of years remain in his present term of office and any succeeding periods for which he may be so elected or appointed: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the provisions of this subsection shall not apply to any member who is employed as a law enforcement officer or fire fighter on March 1, 1970.

The amount of this allowance will be increased five percent of final average salary for each child as defined in RCW 41.26.030(7), as now or hereafter amended, subject to a maximum combined allowance of sixty percent of final average salary: PROVIDED, That if the child or children is or are in the care of a legal guardian, payment of the increase attributable to each child will be made to the child's legal guardian.

(2) If at the time of the death of a vested member with twenty or more years service as provided above or a member retired for service or disability, the surviving spouse has not been lawfully married to such member for one year prior to his retirement or separation from service if a vested member, the surviving spouse shall not be eligible to receive the benefits under this section: PROVIDED, That if a member dies as a result of a disability incurred in the line of duty, then if he was married at the time he was disabled, his surviving spouse shall be eligible to receive the benefits under this section.

(3) If there be no surviving spouse eligible to receive benefits at the time of such member's death, then the child or children of such member shall receive a monthly allowance equal to thirty percent of final average salary for one child and an additional ten percent for each additional child subject to a maximum combined payment, under this subsection, of sixty percent of final average salary. When there cease to be any eligible children as defined in RCW 41.26.030(7), as now or hereafter amended, there shall be paid to the legal heirs of said member the excess, if any, of accumulated contributions of said member at the time of his death over all payments made to his survivors on his behalf under this chapter: PROVIDED,

That payments under this subsection to children shall be prorated equally among the children, if more than one.

(4) In the event that there is no surviving spouse eligible to receive benefits under this section, and that there be no child or children eligible to receive benefits under this section, then the accumulated contributions shall be paid to the estate of said member.

(5) If a surviving spouse receiving benefits under the provisions of this section thereafter dies (~~or remarries~~) and there are children as defined in RCW 41.26.030(7), as now or hereafter amended, payment to the spouse shall cease and the child or children shall receive the benefits as provided in subsection (3) above.

For the purposes of this section, "index" means, for any calendar year, that year's average consumer price index—Seattle, Washington area for urban wage earners and clerical workers, all items, compiled by the bureau of labor statistics, United States department of labor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. EMPLOYER AND MEMBER CONTRIBUTIONS. The required contribution rates to the retirement system for both members and employers shall be established by the director from time to time as may be necessary upon the advice of the state actuary.

Contribution rates required to fund the costs of the retirement system shall always be equal for members and employers, except as herein provided. Any adjustments in contribution rates required from time to time for future costs shall likewise be shared equally by the members and employers: PROVIDED, That the costs of amortizing the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system, in existence on September 30, 1977, shall be borne in full by the employers.

Any increase in the contribution rate required as the result of a failure of an employer to make any contribution required by this section shall be borne in full by the employer not making the contribution.

The director shall notify the retirement board of any pending adjustment in the required contribution rate and such increase shall be announced at a board meeting held at least thirty days prior to the effective date of the change.

Members contributions required by this section shall be deducted from the members compensation earnable each payroll period. Until such time as the director shall establish other rates, members and employers of such members shall each contribute 5.51% of compensation earnable: PROVIDED, That employers shall initially contribute an additional one and one-half percent of compensation earnable per member to amortize the unfunded supplemental present value of the retirement system in effect on September 30, 1977.

(1) OPTION 1. A member electing this option shall receive a retirement allowance payable throughout such member's life. However, if the retiree dies before the total of the retirement allowance paid to such retiree equals the amount of such retiree's accumulated contributions at the time of retirement, then the balance shall be paid to such person or persons having an insurable interest in the retiree's life as the retiree shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department; or if there be no such designated person or persons still living at the time of the retiree's death, then to the surviving spouse; or if there be neither such designated person or persons still living at the time of death nor a surviving spouse, then to the retiree's legal representative.

(2) OPTION 2. A member who elects this option shall receive a reduced retirement allowance, which upon the member's death shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to such person having an insurable interest in the retiree's life as the retiree shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department at the time of the retiree's retirement.

nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department at the time of the retiree's retirement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. EARNED DISABILITY ALLOWANCE. A member of the retirement system who becomes totally incapacitated for continued employment by an employer as determined by the department upon recommendation of the retirement board shall be eligible to receive an allowance under the provisions of sections 2 through 15 of this 1977 amendatory act. Such member shall receive a monthly disability allowance computed as provided for in section 3 of this 1977 amendatory act and shall have such allowance actuarially reduced to reflect the difference in the number of years between age at disability and the attainment of age sixty-five.

Any member who receives an allowance under the provisions of this section shall be subject to such comprehensive medical examinations as required by the department. If such medical examinations reveal that such a member has recovered from the incapacitating disability and the member is offered reemployment by an employer at a comparable compensation, such member shall cease to be eligible for such allowance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. APPLICATION FOR AND EFFECTIVE DATE OF RETIREMENT ALLOWANCES. Any member or beneficiary eligible to receive a retirement allowance under the provisions of sections 4, 8, or 11 of this 1977 amendatory act shall be eligible to commence receiving a retirement allowance after having filed written application with the department.

Upon cessation of service for any nonfederal public employer in this state such retiree shall have benefits actuarially recomputed pursuant to the rules adopted by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. DEATH BENEFITS. (1) If a member or a vested member who has not completed at least ten years of service dies, the amount of the accumulated contributions standing to such member's credit in the retirement system at the time of such member's death shall be paid to such person or persons having an insurable interest in such member's life as the member shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department. If there be no such designated person or persons still living at the time of the member's death, such member's accumulated contributions standing to such member's credit in the retirement system shall be paid to the member's surviving spouse as if in fact such spouse had been nominated by written designation, or if there be no such surviving spouse, then to such member's legal representatives.

(b) The member's accumulated contributions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. SERVICE CREDIT FOR AUTHORIZED LEAVE OF ABSENCE. A member who is on a paid leave of absence authorized by a member's employer shall continue to receive service credit as provided for under the provisions of sections 2 through 15 of this 1977 amendatory act.

A member shall be eligible to receive a maximum of two years service credit during a member's entire working career for those periods when a member is on an unpaid leave of absence authorized by an employer. Such credit may be obtained only if the member makes both the employer and member contributions plus interest as determined by the department for the period of the authorized leave of absence within five years of resumption of service or prior to retirement whichever comes sooner: PROVIDED, That for the purpose of this subsection the contribution shall not include the contribution for the unfunded supplemental present value as required by section 6 of this 1977 amendatory act. NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. VESTED MEMBERSHIP. A member who separates or has separated after having completed at least five years of service may remain a member during the period of such member's absence from service for the

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. REFUND OF CONTRIBUTIONS. A member who ceases to be an employee of an employer may request a refund of the member's accumulated contributions. The refund shall be made within ninety days following the receipt of the request and notification of termination by the employer; except that in the case of death, an initial payment shall be made within thirty days of receipt of request for such payment. A member who files a request for refund and subsequently enters into employment with another employer prior to the refund being made shall not be eligible for a refund. The refund of accumulated contributions shall terminate all rights to benefits under sections 2 through 15 of this 1977 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. REENTRY. A member, who had left service and withdrawn the member's accumulated contributions, shall receive service credit for such prior service if the member restores all withdrawn accumulated contributions together with interest since the time of withdrawal as determined by the department.

Section 1. Section 3, chapter 108, Laws of 1959 and RCW 57.08.090 are each amended to read as follows:

The district may, at any time after the connection charges or rates and charges for water supplied and penalties are delinquent for a period of sixty days, bring suit in foreclosure by civil action in the superior court of the county in which the district is situated. The court may allow, in addition to the costs and disbursements provided by statute, such an attorney's fee as it adjudges reasonable. The action shall be in rem, and may be brought in the name of the district against an individual, or against all of those who are delinquent in one action, and the laws and rules of the court shall control as in other civil actions.

In addition to the right to foreclose provided in this section, the district may also cut off all or part of the service after charges for water supplied are delinquent for a period of sixty days.

Sec. 2. Section 1, chapter 50, Laws of 1953 and RCW 57.08.015 are each amended to read as follows:

The board of commissioners of a water district may sell, at public or private sale, property belonging to the district if the board determines by unanimous vote of the elected members of the board that the property is not and will not be needed for district purposes and if the board gives notice of intention to sell as in this section provided: PROVIDED, That no such notice of intention shall be required to sell personal property of less than two hundred-fifty dollars in value.

Sec. 3. Section 6, chapter 18, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 6, chapter 108, Laws of 1959 and RCW 57.16.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The water district commissioners before ordering any improvements hereunder or submitting to vote any proposition for incurring any indebtedness shall adopt a general comprehensive plan of water supply for the district. They shall investigate the several portions and sections of the district for the purpose of determining the present and reasonably foreseeable future needs thereof; shall examine and investigate, determine and select a water supply or water supplies for such district suitable and adequate for present and reasonably foreseeable future needs thereof; and shall consider and determine a general system or plan for acquiring such water supply or water supplies; and the lands, waters and water rights and easements necessary therefor, and for retaining and storing any such waters, erecting dams, reservoirs, aqueducts and pipe lines to convey the same throughout such district. There may be included as part of the system the installation of fire hydrants at suitable places throughout the district, and the purchase and maintenance of necessary fire fighting equipment and apparatus, together with facilities for housing same. The water district commissioners shall determine a general comprehensive plan for distributing such water throughout such portion of the district as may then reasonably be served by means of subsidiary aqueducts and pipe lines, and the method of distributing the cost and expense thereof against such water district and against local improvement districts or utility local improvement districts within such water district for any lawful purpose, and including any such local improvement district or utility local improvement district lying wholly or partially within the limits of any city or town in such district, and shall determine whether the whole or part of the cost and expenses shall be paid from water revenue bonds as in this act provided. The commissioners may employ such engineering and legal service as in their discretion is necessary in carrying out the objects and purposes of this act.

The general comprehensive plan shall be adopted by resolution and submitted to an engineer designated by the legislative authority of the county in which fifty-one percent or more of the area of the district is located, and to the director of health of the county in which the district or any portion thereof is located, and must be approved in writing by the engineer and director of health.

Before becoming effective, the general comprehensive plan shall also be submitted to, and approved by resolution of, the legislative authority of every county within whose boundaries all or a portion of the water district lies. If the district includes portions or all of one or more cities or towns, the general comprehensive plan shall be submitted also to, and approved by resolution of, the legislative authority of cities and towns before becoming effective.

Before becoming effective, any amendment to, alteration of, or addition to, a general comprehensive plan shall also be subject to such approval as if it were a new general comprehensive plan: PROVIDED, That only if the amendment, alteration, or addition effects a particular city or town, shall the amendment, alteration or addition be subject to approval by such particular city or town legislative authority.

Sec. 4. Section 8, chapter 18, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 8, chapter 108, Laws of 1959 and RCW 57.16.030 are each amended to read as follows:

The commissioners may ~~((submit at any general or special election, a proposition that))~~, without submitting a proposition to the voters, authorize by resolution the district to issue revenue bonds for the construction costs, interest during the period of construction and six months thereafter, working capital or other costs of any part or all of the general comprehensive plan. The amount of the bonds to be issued shall be included in the ~~((proposition))~~ resolution submitted.

~~((The proposition to issue such))~~ Any resolution authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds may include provision for refunding any local improvement district bonds of a district, out of the proceeds of sale of revenue bonds, and a district may pay off any outstanding local improvement bonds with such funds either by purchase in the open market below their par value and accrued interest or by call at par value and accrued interest at the next succeeding coupon maturity date.

~~((No proposition for the issuance of revenue bonds shall be submitted at any election if there are outstanding any district local improvement district bonds issued under the provisions of RCW 57.20.030 to 57.20.090, unless the proposition provides that all such local improvement district bonds shall be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of the revenue bonds.~~

The proposition for issuance of revenue bonds shall be adopted by a majority of the voters voting thereon.) When a ~~((proposition))~~ resolution authorizing revenue bonds has been adopted the commissioners may forthwith carry out the general comprehensive plan to the extent specified.

Sec. 5. Section 10, chapter 108, Laws of 1959 and RCW 57.16.035 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever a water district shall have adopted a general comprehensive plan and bonds to defray the cost thereof shall have been authorized by ~~((the electors of the district))~~ resolution of the board of water commissioners, and before the completion of the improvements the board of water commissioners shall find by resolution that the authorized bonds are not sufficient to defray the cost of such improvements due to the increase of costs of construction subsequent to the adoption of said plan, the board of water commissioners may by resolution ~~((, without submitting the matter to the voters of the district,))~~ authorize the issuance and sale of additional water revenue bonds for such purpose in excess of those previously ~~((authorized: PROVIDED, That in no event shall the principal amount of such additional water revenue bonds exceed twenty percent of such previously authorized bonds))~~ issued.

Sec. 6. Section 9, chapter 18, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 70, chapter 195, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 57.16.040 are each amended to read as follows:

In the same manner as provided for the adoption of the original general comprehensive plan, a plan providing for additions and betterments to the original general comprehensive plan may be adopted. Without limiting its generality "additions and betterments" shall include any necessary change in, amendment of or addition to the general comprehensive plan.

The district may incur a general indebtedness payable from annual tax levies to be made in excess of the constitutional and/or statutory tax limitations for the construction of the additions and betterments in the same way that general indebtedness may be incurred for the construction of the original general comprehensive plan after submission to the voters of the entire district in the manner the original proposition to incur indebtedness was submitted. Upon ratification the additions and betterments may be carried out by the commissioners to the extent specified or referred to in the proposition to incur the general indebtedness.

The district may issue revenue bonds to pay for the construction of the additions and the betterments pursuant to resolution of the board of water commissioners ~~((without submitting a proposition therefor to the voters of the district))~~.

Sec. 7. Section 11, chapter 18, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 1, chapter 39, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 57.16.060 are each amended to read as follows:

Local improvement districts or utility local improvement districts to carry out the whole or any portion of the general comprehensive plan of improvements or plan providing for additions and betterments to the original general comprehensive plan previously adopted may be initiated either by resolution of the board of water commissioners or by petition signed by the owners according to the records of the office of the county auditor of at least fifty-one percent of the area of the land within the limits of the local improvement district to be created.

In case the board of water commissioners shall desire to initiate the formation of a local improvement district or a utility local improvement district by resolution, it shall first pass a resolution declaring its intention to order such improvement, setting forth the nature and territorial extent of such proposed improvement, designating the number of the proposed local improvement district or utility local improvement district, and describing the boundaries thereof, stating the estimated cost and expense of the improvement and the proportionate amount thereof which will be borne by the property within the proposed district, and fixing a date, time and place for a public hearing on the formation of the proposed local district.

In case any such local improvement district or utility local improvement district shall be initiated by petition, such petition shall set forth the nature and territorial extent of the proposed improvement requested to be ordered and the fact that the signers thereof are the owners according to the records of the county auditor of at least fifty-one percent of the area of land within the limits of the local improvement district or utility local improvement district to be created. Upon the filing of such petition the board shall determine whether the same shall be sufficient, and the board's determination thereof shall be conclusive upon all persons. No person shall withdraw his name from the petition after the same has been filed with the board of water commissioners. If the board shall find the petition to be sufficient, it shall proceed to adopt a resolution declaring its intention to order the improvement petitioned for, setting forth the nature and territorial extent of said improvement, designating the number of the proposed local district and describing the boundaries thereof, stating the estimated cost and expense of the improvement and the proportionate amount thereof which will be borne by the property within the proposed local district, and fixing a date, time and place for a public hearing on the formation of the proposed local district.

Notice of the adoption of the resolution of intention, whether the resolution was adopted on the initiative of the board or pursuant to a petition of the property owners, shall be published in at least two consecutive issues of a newspaper of general circulation in the proposed local district, the date of the first publication to be at least fifteen days prior to the date fixed by such resolution for hearing before the board of water commissioners. Notice of the adoption of the resolution of intention shall also be given each owner or reputed owner of any lot, tract, parcel of land or other property within the proposed improvement district by mailing said notice at least fifteen days before the date fixed for the public hearing to the owner or reputed owner of the property as shown on the tax rolls of the county treasurer at the address shown thereon. Whenever such notices are mailed, the water commissioners shall maintain a list of such reputed property owners, which list shall be kept on file at a location within the water district and shall be made available for public perusal. The notices shall refer to the resolution of intention and designate the proposed improvement district by number. Said notices shall also set forth the nature of the proposed improvement, the total estimated cost, the proportion of total cost to be borne by assessments, the date, time and place of the hearing before the board of water commissioners(~~(; and)~~). In the case of improvements initiated by resolution, said notice shall also: (1) State that all persons desiring to object to the formation of the proposed district must file their written protests with the secretary of the board of water commissioners before the time fixed for said public hearing; (2) state that if owners of at least forty percent of the area of land within the proposed district file written protests with the secretary of the board, the power of the water commissioners to proceed with the creation of the proposed district shall be divested; (3) provide the name and address of the secretary of the board; and (4) state the hours and location within the water district where the names of the property owners within the proposed district are kept available for public perusal. In the case of the notice given each owner or reputed owner by mail, the notice shall set forth the estimated amount of the cost and expense of such improvement to be borne by the particular lot, tract, parcel of land or other property.

Whether the improvement is initiated by petition or resolution, the board shall conduct a public hearing at the time and place designated in the notice to property owners. At this hearing the board shall hear objections from any person affected by the formation of the local district and may make such changes in the boundaries of the district or such modifications in the plans for the proposed improvement as shall be deemed necessary: PROVIDED, That the board may not change the boundaries of the district to include property not previously included therein without first passing a new resolution of intention and giving a new notice to property owners in the manner and form and within the time herein provided for the original notice.

After said hearing the commissioners shall have jurisdiction to overrule protests and proceed with any such improvement initiated by petition or resolution: PROVIDED, That the jurisdiction of the commissioners to proceed with any improvement initiated by resolution shall be divested by protests filed with the secretary of the board prior to said public hearing signed by the owners, according to the records of the county auditor, of at least forty percent of the area of land within the proposed local district.

If the commissioners find that the district should be formed, they shall by resolution order the improvement, provide the general funds of the water district to be applied thereto, adopt detailed plans of the local improvement district or utility local improvement district and declare the estimated cost thereof, acquire all necessary land therefor, pay all damages caused thereby, and commence in the name of the water district such eminent domain proceedings as may be necessary to entitle the district to proceed with the work. The board shall thereupon proceed with the work and file with the county treasurer its roll levying special assessments in the amount to be paid by special assessment against the property situated within the improvement district in proportion to the special benefits to be derived by the property therein from the improvement.

Sec. 8. Section 17, chapter 251, Laws of 1953 as amended by section 13, chapter 108, Laws of 1959 and RCW 57.20.025 are each amended to read as follows:

The board of water commissioners of any water district may by resolution(~~(; without submitting the matter to the voters of the district;)~~) provide for the issuance of refunding revenue bonds to refund outstanding general obligation bonds and/or revenue bonds, or any part thereof, and/or all outstanding local improvement district bonds, at maturity thereof, or before maturity thereof if they are subject to call for prior redemption or all of the holders thereof consent thereto. The total interest cost to the district over the life of the refunding bonds shall not exceed the total cost to the district which the district would have incurred but for such refunding over the remainder of the life of the bonds to be refunded thereby. The refunding bonds may be exchanged for the bonds to be refunded thereby, or may be sold in such manner as the board of water commissioners deems to be for the best interest of the district, and the proceeds used, except as hereinafter provided, exclusively for the purpose of paying, retiring and canceling the bonds to be refunded and interest thereon.

All unpaid utility local improvement district assessments payable into the revenue bond redemption fund established for payment of the bonds to be refunded shall thereafter when collected be paid into the revenue bond redemption fund established for payment of the refunding revenue bonds.

Whenever local improvement district bonds have been refunded as ((required)) provided by RCW 57.16.030 as now or hereafter amended, or pursuant to this section, all local improvement district assessments remaining unpaid shall thereafter when collected be paid into the revenue bond redemption fund established for payment of the refunding revenue bonds, and the cash balance, if any, in the local improvement guaranty fund of the district and the proceeds received from any other assets owned by such fund shall be used in whole or in part as a reserve fund for the refunding revenue bonds or be transferred in whole or in part to any other funds of the district as the board of water commissioners may determine. In the event that any warrants are outstanding against the local improvement guaranty fund of the district at the time of the issuance of such refunding revenue bonds, said bonds shall be issued in an amount sufficient also to fund and pay such outstanding warrants.

The provisions of RCW 57.20.020 shall apply to the refunding revenue bonds issued under this title.

Passed the House June 11, 1977.

Before the license is issued to any commission merchant and/or dealer the applicant shall execute and deliver to the director a surety bond executed by the applicant as principal and by a surety company qualified and authorized to do business in this state as surety. Such bond shall be in the sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars for a commission merchant or any dealer handling livestock, hay, grain, or straw and a bond in the sum of three thousand dollars for any other dealer: PROVIDED, That the bond for a commission merchant, a dealer acting as a processor, or a dealer in livestock, hay, grain, or straw shall be in a minimum amount of seven thousand five hundred dollars or more based upon the annual gross dollar volume of purchases by, or consignments to the licensee. The bond for any other dealer shall be in the minimum amount of three thousand dollars, or an increased amount based upon the annual gross dollar volume of purchases by, or consignments to, the licensee. The bond for such commission merchant or dealer shall be determined by taking the annual gross dollar volume of that commission merchant or dealer of net payment to growers and dividing that amount by ~~((one hundred thirty))~~ fifty-two and the bond shall be in an amount to the next multiple of two thousand dollars larger than the sum: PROVIDED, That the gross dollar volume used in computing the bond requirements of a commission merchant or dealer handling horticultural products shall be based on the net proceeds due to growers: PROVIDED FURTHER, That bonds above twenty-six thousand dollars shall be not less than the next multiple of five thousand dollars above the amount secured by applying the formula except that when the bond amount reaches fifty thousand dollars any amount of bond required above this shall be on a basis of ten percent of the amount arrived by applying the formula of annual gross divided by ~~((one hundred thirty))~~ fifty-two. Such bond shall be of a standard form and approved by the director as to terms and conditions. Said bond shall be conditioned that the principal will not commit any fraudulent act and will comply with the provisions of this chapter and the rules and regulations adopted hereunder. Said bond shall be to the state for the benefit of every consignor of an agricultural product in this state. The total and aggregate liability of the surety for all claims upon the bond shall be limited to the face of such bond. Every bond filed with and approved by the director shall without the necessity of periodic renewal remain in force and effect ~~((until such time as the license of the licensee is revoked for cause or otherwise canceled, or))~~ until released by notice from the director when a superseding bond has been issued and is in effect. All such sureties on a bond, as provided herein, shall also be released and discharged from all liability to the state accruing on such bond by giving notice to the principal and the director by certified mail. Upon receipt of such notice the director shall notify the surety and the principal of the effective date of termination which shall be thirty days from the receipt of such notice by the director, but this shall not operate to relieve, release or discharge the surety from any liability already accrued or which shall accrue (due and to become due hereunder) before the expiration period provided for above. Unless the principal shall before the expiration of such period, file a new bond, the director shall forthwith cancel the principal's license. Upon such cancellation the license and vehicle plates issued attendant to the license shall be surrendered to the director forthwith.

If an applicant for a commission merchant's and/or dealer's license is bonded as a livestock dealer or packer under the provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act of 1921 (7 U.S.C. 181), as amended, on ~~((the effective date of this act))~~ June 13, 1963, and acts as a commission merchant, packer, and/or a dealer only in livestock as defined in said Packers and Stockyards Act of 1921 (7 U.S.C. 181), the director may accept such bond in lieu of the bond required in RCW 20.01.210 as good and sufficient and issue the applicant a license limited solely to dealing in livestock. A dealer buying and selling livestock who has furnished a bond as required by the packers and stockyards administration to cover acting as order buyer as well as dealer may also act as an order buyer for others under the provisions of this ~~((1971 amendatory act))~~ chapter, and all persons who act as order buyers of livestock shall license under this ~~((1971 amendatory act))~~ chapter as a livestock dealer: PROVIDED, That the applicant shall furnish the director with a bond approved by the United States secretary of agriculture (~~((naming the director as trustee))~~). Such bond shall be in a (~~((sum equal to or greater than the sum of the bond required in RCW 20.01.210))~~) minimum amount of seventy-five hundred dollars. It shall be a violation for the licensee to act as a commission merchant and/or dealer in any other agricultural commodity without first having notified the director and furnishing him with a bond as required under the provisions of RCW 20.01.210, and failure to furnish the director with such bond shall be cause for the immediate suspension of the licensee's license, and revocation subject to a hearing.

Sec. 8. Section 33, chapter 139, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 11, chapter 182, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 20.01.330 are each amended to read as follows:

(4) That the applicant, or licensee, directly or indirectly has purchased for his own account agricultural products received by him upon consignment without prior authority from the consignor together with the price fixed by consignor or without promptly notifying the consignor of such purchase. This shall not prevent any commission merchant from taking to account of sales, in order to close the day's business, miscellaneous lots or parcels of agricultural products remaining unsold, if such commission merchant shall forthwith enter such transaction on his account of sales.

(5) That the applicant, or licensee, has intentionally made any false or misleading statement as to the conditions of the market for any agricultural products.

(6) That the applicant, or licensee, has made fictitious sales or has been guilty of collusion to defraud the consignor.

(7) That a commission merchant to whom any consignment is made has re- consigned such consignment to another commission merchant and has received, collected, or charged by such means more than one commission for making the sale thereof, for the consignor, unless by written consent of such consignor.

(8) That the licensee was (~~((intentionally))~~) guilty of fraud or deception in the procurement of such license.

(9) That the licensee or applicant has failed or refused to file with the director a schedule of his charges for services in connection with agricultural products handled on account of or as an agent of another, or that the applicant, or licensee, has indulged in any unfair practice.

(10) That the licensee has rejected, without reasonable cause, or has failed or refused to accept, without reasonable cause, any agricultural product bought or contracted to be bought from a consignor by such licensee; or failed or refused, without reasonable cause, to furnish or provide boxes or other containers, or hauling, harvesting, or any other service contracted to be done by licensee in connection with the acceptance, harvesting, or other handling of said agricultural products bought or handled or contracted to be bought or handled; or has used any other device to avoid acceptance or unreasonably to defer acceptance of agricultural products bought or handled or contracted to be bought or handled.

(11) That the licensee has otherwise violated any provision of this chapter and/or rules and regulations adopted hereunder.

(12) That the licensee has knowingly employed an agent, as defined in this chapter, without causing said agent to comply with the licensing requirements of this chapter applicable to agents.

(13) That the applicant or licensee has, in the handling of any agricultural products, been guilty of fraud, deceit, or ~~((willful))~~ negligence.

(14) That the licensee has failed or refused, upon demand, to permit the director or his agents to make the investigations, examination or audits, as provided in this chapter, or that the licensee has removed or sequestered any books, records, or papers necessary to any such investigations, examination, or audits, or has otherwise obstructed the same.

(15) That the licensee, without reasonable cause, has failed or refused to execute or carry out a lawful contract with a consignor.

(16) That the licensee has failed or refused to keep and maintain the records as required by this chapter and/or rules and regulations adopted hereunder.

(17) That the licensee has attempted payment by check with insufficient funds to cover such check.

(18) That the licensee has been guilty of fraud or deception in his dealings with purchasers including misrepresentation of goods as to grade, quality, weights, quantity, or any other essential fact in connection therewith.

(20) That a commission merchant or dealer in livestock, hay, grain, or straw has failed to furnish additional bond coverage within fifteen days of when it was requested in writing by the director.

(21) That the licensee has discriminated in the licensee's dealings with consignors on the basis of race, creed, color, national origin, sex, or the presence of any sensory, mental, or physical handicap.

Sec. 9. Section 37, chapter 139, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 6, chapter 102, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 20.01.370 are each amended to read as follows:

(10) Any claim or claims which have been or may be filed by the commission merchant against any person for overcharges or for damages resulting from the injury or deterioration of such agricultural products by the act, neglect or failure of such person and such records shall be open to the inspection of the director and the consignor of agricultural products for whom such claim or claims are made.

Such determination in favor of the consignor shall be based on the market price of the agricultural product in question at the time the complaint is filed against said commission merchant or dealer by the consignor: PROVIDED, That if the return to the consignor is determined most favorably on a commission basis, the total commission shall not exceed ten percent, and all other charges for handling the agricultural product in question shall be figured on the basis of the actual cost of said handling.

Sec. 11. Section 43, chapter 139, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 9, chapter 102, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 20.01.430 are each amended to read as follows:

Every commission merchant shall remit to the consignor of any agricultural product the full price for which such agricultural product was sold within thirty days of ~~((said))~~ the date of sale, unless otherwise mutually agreed between grower and commission merchant. ~~((Such))~~ The remittance to the consignor shall include all collections, overcharges, and damages, less the agreed commission and other charges and advances, and a complete account of the sale.

The director, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 34.04 RCW and in conjunction with representatives of producers and commission merchants, shall develop a standard contract format for use in the sale or consignment of agricultural products ~~((by))~~ to persons licensed as commission merchants pursuant to this chapter.

On and after the effective date of the rules and regulations establishing the standard contract format, the director or the supervisor of the appropriate division of the department of agriculture shall approve contracts for the sale or consignment of agricultural products ~~((by))~~ to persons licensed as commission merchants pursuant to this chapter to insure that such contracts are in the form and style required by the department's rules and regulations.

When a violation has occurred which results in improper payment or nonpayment and a claim is made to the department and the payment is secured through the actions of the department, the ~~((following))~~ charges ~~((will be))~~ made to the consignor for the action of the department in the matter will depend upon the delay of reporting after such improper payment or nonpayment would normally become obvious to the consignor as follows:

- (1) When reported within thirty days ~~((from time of default))~~, no charge.
- (2) When reported thirty days to one hundred eighty days ~~((from time of default))~~, five percent.
- (3) When reported after one hundred eighty days ~~((from time of default))~~, ten percent.

(b) The exemption provided for in RCW 20.01.030(1) shall not apply to a cooperative or association as defined therein, which acts as a processor defined herein, and markets such agricultural crops on behalf of the grower or on its own behalf.

Sec. 15. Section 20, chapter 182, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 20.01.550 are each amended to read as follows:

Any processor who (~~wilfully~~) discriminates between growers with whom he contracts as to price, conditions for production, harvesting, and delivery of crops which is not supportable by economic cost factors shall be in violation of this chapter and the director may subsequent to a hearing deny, suspend, or revoke such processor's license to act as a dealer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. There is added to chapter 20.01 RCW a new section to read as follows:

In lieu of the bonding provision required by RCW 20.01.210 as now or hereafter amended, any dealer who has not been found after a hearing to be in violation of this chapter during the two most recent years of such business operations may file a bond in an amount equal to such dealer's maximum monthly purchases, divided by thirty, and multiplied by the maximum number of days which will expire after the date of sale but before final payment is made: PROVIDED, That the minimum bond provided by this section shall be in a minimum of three thousand dollars.

Any dealer utilizing the bonding provisions of this section shall file an affidavit with the director which sets forth the maximum monthly purchases of the dealer and the maximum number of days which will expire from the date of sale to the date final payment is made to consignors.

MT. SI CONSERVATION AREA

AN ACT Relating to the preservation of Mt. Si and Little Si; amending section 1, chapter 88, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 43.51.940; adding new sections to chapter 43.51 RCW; repealing section 2, chapter 88, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 43.51.941; and making an appropriation.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 1, chapter 88, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 43.51.940 are each amended to read as follows:

Mt. Si and Little Si in King county offer unique scenic, natural, and geological features which can be viewed from the I-90 highway. They also afford outstanding recreational opportunities enjoyed by the citizens of this state and tourists alike. ~~((Therefore, the legislature declares this area to be one of state-wide significance. It further recognizes the importance of safeguarding this area from those types of development which would alter its natural form and beauty.))~~ The legislature recognizes the importance of guarding portions of this area from those types of development which would permanently alter the area's natural form and beauty. It further recognizes the necessity of setting forth procedures to manage the area, to enhance the opportunities afforded the state's citizens, one-half of whom live within one-half hour driving time of Mt. Si, and to safeguard to the extent possible the scenic, natural, geological, game habitat, and recreational values therein, and to safeguard and promote the upper Snoqualmie River valley's economy in which the recreational use of Mt. Si plays a pivotal role. Therefore, the legislature declares this area to be of state-wide significance for the foregoing purposes to be enhanced and safeguarded in accordance with the procedures set forth in this 1977 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is hereby created a "Mt. Si Conservation Area" to include approximately twenty-five hundred acres of state, United States government, and privately owned lands within Sections 25, 26, 35, and 36, Township 24 North, Range 8 East, W.M., and Sections 2, 3, 10, 11, and 12 of Township 23 North, Range 8 East, W.M., as identified for inclusion in the conservation area and described more specifically by the Mt. Si citizen advisory subcommittee in their published report of December 6, 1976, to the Washington state department of natural resources and the Washington state parks and recreation commission as contained in the report filed by those agencies to the house and senate committees on parks and recreation, filed December 1976.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The state department of natural resources and the state parks and recreation commission have joined together in excellent cooperation in the conducting of this study along with the citizen advisory subcommittee and have joined together in cooperation with the state department of game to accomplish other projects of multidisciplinary concern, and because it may be in the best interests of the state to continue such cooperation, the state parks and recreation commission, the department of natural resources, and the department of game are hereby directed to consider both short and long term objectives, the expertise of each agency's staff, and alternatives such as reasonably may be expected to safeguard the conservation area's values as described in section 1 of this 1977 amendatory act giving due regard to efficiency and economy of management: PROVIDED, That the interests conveyed to or by the state agencies identified in section 3 of this 1977 amendatory act shall be managed by the department of natural resources until such time as the state parks and recreation commission or other public agency is managing public recreation areas and facilities located in such close proximity to the conservation area described in section 2 of this 1977 amendatory act so as to make combined management of those areas and facilities and transfer of management of the conservation area more efficient and economical than continued management by the department of natural resources. At that time the department of natural resources is directed to negotiate with the appropriate public agency for the transfer of those management responsibilities for the interests obtained within the conservation area under this 1977 amendatory act: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the state agencies identified in section 3 of this 1977 amendatory act may, by mutual agreement, undertake management of portions of the conservation area as they may from time to time determine in accordance with those rules and regulations established for natural area preserves under chapter 79.70 RCW, for natural and conservation areas under present WAC 352-16-020 (3) and (6), and under chapter 77.12 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) The full market value for department of natural resources' managed trust lands or interest therein within the conservation area shall be determined by the department of natural resources for any lands or interests to be dedicated or leased as provided herein. The department of natural resources shall determine the value of dedicating such lands or interests in lands as it may determine to be necessary to carry out the purposes of this 1977 amendatory act either by execution of fifty-five year scenic or development easements or by execution of fifty-five year leases, including such conditions as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this 1977 amendatory act. Any lease issued pursuant to this 1977 amendatory act may be subject to renewal under the provisions of RCW 79.01.276 as presently existing or hereafter amended. Nothing in this 1977 amendatory act shall be deemed to alter or affect normal management on lands owned by the state for which no dedication by easement or lease has been made and it is further recognized that no restrictions on management of such lands shall be required unless the applicable trust relating to such lands shall have been compensated.

The completed report of the cost of obtaining the desired interest in these lands shall be presented by the department of natural resources to the interagency committee for outdoor recreation and a summary of the report to the senate and house committees on parks and recreation by December 31, 1978.

(2) The parks and recreation commission shall appraise all lands except those identified in subsection (1) of this section to establish fair market fee title value of the interests therein. The parks and recreation commission shall present to the interagency committee for outdoor recreation the completed report of the cost of obtaining the desired interest in such lands, and a summary of the report to the senate and house committees on parks and recreation by December 31, 1978.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The interagency committee for outdoor recreation is directed to consider the inclusion of an amount not to exceed two million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars for purposes of this 1977 amendatory act in its 1979-81 biennium budget request: PROVIDED, That such attendant expenses of determining fair market value as described in section 4 of this 1977 amendatory act shall be considered an eligible project acquisition cost.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. No property or interest in property shall be acquired for the purpose of this 1977 amendatory act by the exercise of the power of eminent domain.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 2 through 6 of this 1977 amendatory act shall be added to chapter 43.51 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Section 2, chapter 88, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 43.51.941 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. There is appropriated to the parks and recreation commission from the general fund, the sum of thirty-five thousand dollars, to be used exclusively for the purpose of accomplishing appraisals under this 1977 amendatory act, or so much thereof as may be necessary, and to the department of natural resources from the general fund, the sum of six thousand five hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to carry out the purposes of section 4 of this 1977 amendatory act.

Passed the House June 10, 1977.

JUVENILE PROBATION SERVICES

AN ACT Relating to juveniles; providing probation and other services; amending section 5, chapter 165, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 198, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 13.06.050; creating a new section; declaring an emergency; and providing an effective date.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 5, chapter 165, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 198, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 13.06.050 are each amended to read as follows:

No county shall be entitled to receive any state funds provided by this chapter until its application is approved, and unless and until the minimum standards prescribed by the department of social and health services are complied with and then only on such terms as are set forth hereafter in this section.

(1) A base commitment rate for each county and for the state as a whole shall be calculated by the department of social and health services. The base commitment rate shall be determined by computing the ratio of the number of juveniles committed to state juvenile correctional institutions plus the number of juveniles who have been convicted of felonies and committed to state correctional institutions after a juvenile court has declined jurisdiction of their cases and remanded them for prosecution in the superior courts, to the county population, such ratio to be expressed in a rate per hundred thousand population, for each of the calendar years 1964 through 1968. The average of these rates for a county for the five year period or the average of the last two years of the period, whichever is higher, shall be the base commitment rate, as certified by the secretary: PROVIDED, That, a county may elect as its base commitment rate the average of the base commitment rates of all counties in the state over the last two years of the period described above. The county and state population shall be that certified as of April 1st of each year by the office of program planning and fiscal management, such population figures to be provided to the secretary of social and health services not later than June 30th of each year.

(2) An annual commitment rate shall be calculated by the department at the end of each year for each participating county and for the state as a whole, in a like manner as provided in subsection (1). The annual commitment rate shall exclude commitments that fall within the high risk categories as defined by the department.

(3) The amount that may be paid to a county pursuant to this chapter shall be the ~~((actual))~~ standard cost of the operation of a special supervision program ~~((or four thousand dollars multiplied by the "commitment reduction number", whichever is the lesser))~~ based upon workload standards established by the department. Payment shall not exceed five thousand dollars per commitment reduction. The "commitment reduction number" is obtained by subtracting (a) the product of the most recent annual commitment rate and population of the county for the same year from (b) the product of the base commitment rate and population of the county for the same year employed in (a).

(4) The secretary ~~((of social and health services))~~ will reimburse a county upon presentation and approval of a valid claim pursuant to the provisions of this chapter based on actual performance in reducing the annual commitment rate from its base commitment rate. Whenever a claim made by a county pursuant to this chapter, covering a prior year, is found to be in error, an adjustment may be made on a current claim without the necessity of applying the adjustment to the allocation for the prior year.

(5) In the event a participating county earns in a payment period less than one-half of the sum paid in the previous payment period because of extremely unusual circumstances claimed by the county and verified by the secretary of the department of social and health services, the secretary may pay to the county a sum not to exceed actual program expenditures, provided, however, that in subsequent periods the county will be paid only the amount earned: PROVIDED, That the amendatory provisions of subsection (5) of this act may be applied to payment periods prior to May 20, 1971.

(6) If the amount received by a county in reimbursement of its expenditures in a calendar year is less than the maximum amount computed under subsection (3) above, the difference may be paid to the county as reimbursement of program costs during the next two succeeding years upon receipt of valid claims for reimbursement of program expenses.

(7) Funds received by participating counties under this chapter shall not be used to replace local funds for existing programs for delinquent juveniles or to develop county institutional programs.

(8) Any county averaging less than thirty commitments annually during either the two year or five year period used to determine the base commitment rate as defined in subsection (1) above may:

(a) apply for subsidies under subsection (1); or

(b) as an alternative, elect to receive from the state the salary of one full time additional probation officer and related employee benefits(-); or

(c) elect to receive from the state the salary and related employee benefits of one full time additional probation officer and in addition, reimbursement for certain supporting services other than capital outlay and equipment whose total will not exceed a maximum limit established by the secretary of the department of social and health services; or

(d) elect to receive from the state reimbursement for certain supporting services other than capital outlay and equipment whose total cost will not exceed a maximum limit established by the secretary of the department of social and health services.

(9) In the event a county chooses one of the alternative proposals in subsection (8), it will be eligible for reimbursement only so long as the officer and supporting services are wholly used in the performance of probation services to supervision of persons eligible for state commitment and are paid the salary referred to in this section in accordance with a salary schedule adopted by rule of the department and:

(a) if its base commitment rate is below the state average, its annual commitment rate does not exceed the base commitment rate for the entire state; or

(b) if its base commitment rate is above the state average, its annual commitment rate does not in the year exceed by two its own base commitment rate.

(10) Where any county does not have a juvenile probation officer, but obtains such services by agreement with another county or counties, or, where two or more counties mutually provide probation services by agreement for such counties, then under such circumstances the secretary may make the computations and payments under this chapter as though the counties served with probation services were one geographical unit.

NEW SECTION. Sec 2. By January 1, 1978, the department of social and health services shall provide to the standing committees on ways and means and on social and health services of the state senate and to the standing committees on appropriations and on institutions of the house of representatives a report on the juvenile probation services in the state. Such report shall include, but not be limited to:

- (1) A disposition of all juvenile probation officers by county;
- (2) The number of juvenile probation officers provided with juvenile probation subsidy funds by county;
- (3) A description of the full range of services provided under the juvenile probation subsidy program by county;
- (4) The cost per child served by the program by county;
- (5) An evaluation of the program by county; and
- (6) An analysis of the application and impact of the "banking" provision.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. This 1977 amendatory act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect July 1, 1977.

Passed the House June 10, 1977.

SALMON ENHANCEMENT FACILITIES—FINANCING

AN ACT Relating to the support of state government; providing for salmon enhancement facilities; providing for the financing thereof by the issuance of bonds and anticipation notes; adding a new chapter to Title 75 RCW; and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The long range economic development goals for the state of Washington must include the restoration of salmon runs to provide an increased supply of this renewable resource for the benefit of commercial and recreational users and the economic well-being of the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. For the purpose of providing funds for the planning, acquisition, construction, and improvement of salmon hatcheries, other salmon propagation facilities including natural production sites, and necessary supporting facilities within the state, the state finance committee is authorized to issue, at any time prior to January 1, 1985, general obligation bonds of the state of Washington in the sum of thirty-one million five hundred thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be required to finance the improvements defined in this chapter and all costs incidental thereto. These bonds shall be paid and discharged within thirty years. No bonds authorized by this chapter shall be offered for sale without prior legislative appropriation of the proceeds of such bonds to be sold.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The proceeds from the sale of bonds authorized by this chapter shall be deposited in the salmon enhancement construction account hereby created in the general fund and shall be used exclusively for the purpose specified in this chapter and for payment of the expenses incurred in the issuance and sale of the bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The proceeds from the sale of the bonds deposited in the salmon enhancement construction account of the general fund under the terms of this chapter shall be administered by the state department of fisheries subject to legislative appropriation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. As used in this chapter, the term "facilities" means salmon propagation facilities including, but not limited to, all equipment, utilities, structures, real property, and interests in and improvements on real property, as well as stream bed clearing, for or incidental to the acquisition, construction, or development of salmon propagation facilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The state finance committee is authorized to prescribe the form, terms, conditions, and covenants of the bonds, the time or times of sale of all or any portion of them, and the conditions and manner of their sale and issuance. None of the bonds authorized in this chapter shall be sold for less than their par value.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. When the state finance committee has decided to issue such bonds or a portion thereof, it may, pending the issuing of such bonds, issue, in the name of the state, temporary notes in anticipation of the money to be derived from the sale of such bonds, which notes shall be designated as "anticipation notes". Such portion of the proceeds of the sale of such bonds as may be required for such purpose shall be applied to the payment of the principal of and interest on such anticipation notes which have been issued. The bonds and notes shall pledge the full faith and credit of the state of Washington and shall contain an unconditional promise to pay the principal and interest when due. The state finance committee may authorize the use of a printed facsimile of the seal of the state of Washington in the issuance of the bonds and notes.

The state finance committee shall, on or before June 30th of each year, certify to the state treasurer the amount required in the next succeeding twelve months for the payment of the principal of and the interest coming due on such bonds. Not less than thirty days prior to the date on which any such interest or principal and interest payment is due, the state treasurer shall withdraw from any general state revenues received in the state treasury and deposit in the salmon enhancement construction bond retirement fund an amount equal to the amount certified by the state finance committee to be due on such payment date. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 1, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88-.005 are each amended to read as follows:

It is the intent and purpose of the legislature to recognize that ~~((mentally retarded, developmentally disabled, and other allegedly mentally incompetent))~~ disabled persons have special and unique abilities and competencies with varying degrees of disability.

Such persons must be legally protected without the necessity for determination of total incompetency and without the attendant deprivation of civil and legal rights that such a determination requires.

Sec. 2. Section 11.88.010, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 2, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.010 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The superior court of each county shall have power to appoint guardians for the persons and estates, or either thereof, of incompetent persons ~~((resident of the county))~~, and guardians for the estates of all such persons who are nonresidents of the state but who have property in such county needing care and attention.

An "incompetent" is any person who is either:

(a) Under the age of majority, as defined in RCW 11.92.010, or

(b) Incompetent by reason of ~~((insanity;))~~ mental illness, ~~((mental retardation))~~ developmental disability, senility, habitual drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, or other mental incapacity, of either managing his property or caring for himself or both.

(2) The superior court for each county shall have power to appoint limited guardians for the persons and estates, or either thereof, of disabled persons, who by reason of their disability have need for protection and assistance, but who cannot be found to be fully incompetent, upon investigation ~~((by the court or any agency jointly designated by the mental health board and mental retardation board (or county social service administrative board where applicable) of the county where such person resides))~~ as provided by RCW 11.88.090 as now or hereafter amended. After considering all evidence presented as a result of such investigation, the court shall impose, by order, only such specific limitations and disabilities on a disabled person to be placed under a limited guardianship as the court finds necessary for such person's protection and assistance. A person shall not be presumed to be incompetent nor shall a person lose any legal rights or suffer any legal disabilities as the result of being placed under a limited guardianship, except as to those rights and disabilities specifically set forth in the court order establishing such a limited guardianship. In addition, the court order shall state the period of time for which it shall be applicable.

For the purposes of chapters 11.88 and 11.92 RCW the term "disabled person" ~~((includes, but is not limited to, an individual who is mentally retarded, mentally ill, developmentally disabled, or is gravely disabled))~~ means an individual who is in need of protection and assistance by reason of mental illness, developmental disability, senility, habitual drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, or other mental incapacity, but cannot be found to be fully incompetent.

(3) Venue for petitions for guardianship or limited guardianship shall lie in the county wherein the alleged incompetent or disabled person is domiciled, or if such person is a resident of a state institution for developmentally disabled persons, in either the county wherein such institution is located, the county of domicile, or the county wherein a parent of the alleged incompetent or disabled person is domiciled.

Sec. 3. Section 11.88.030, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 4, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any interested person or entity may file a petition for the appointment of himself or some other qualified person, trust company, national bank, or nonprofit corporation authorized in RCW 11.88.020 as now or hereafter amended as the guardian or limited guardian of an incompetent or disabled person. A petition for guardianship or limited guardianship shall state:

~~((1))~~ (a) The name, age, residence, and post office address of the incompetent or disabled person;

~~((2))~~ (b) The nature of his alleged incompetency in accordance with RCW 11.88.010;

~~((3))~~ (c) The approximate value and description of his property, including any compensation, pension, insurance, or allowance to which he may be entitled;

~~((4))~~ (d) Whether there is, in any state, a guardian or limited guardian for the person or estate of the alleged incompetent or disabled person;

~~((5))~~ (e) The residence and post office address of the person whom petitioner asks to be appointed guardian or limited guardian;

~~((7))~~ (g) The name and address of the person or institution having the care and custody of the alleged incompetent or disabled person;

~~((8))~~ (h) The reason why the appointment of a guardian or limited guardian is sought and the interest of the petitioner in the appointment, and whether the appointment is sought as guardian or limited guardian of the person, the estate, or both;

~~((9))~~ (i) The nature and degree of the alleged disability and the specific areas of protection and assistance requested and the limitation of rights requested to be included in the court's order of appointment;

~~((10))~~ (j) The requested term of the limited guardianship to be included in the court's order of appointment ~~((: PROVIDED, That))~~;

(2) No filing fee shall be charged by the court for filing either a petition for guardianship or a petition for limited guardianship ~~((unless))~~ if the petition alleges that the alleged incompetent or disabled person has ~~((an estate valued in excess of fifteen hundred))~~ total assets of a value of less than three thousand dollars.

(3) All petitions filed under the provisions of this section shall be heard within ~~((thirty))~~ forty-five days unless an extension of time is requested by a party within such forty-five day period and granted for good cause shown.

Sec. 4. Section 11.88.040, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 5, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(2) A parent, if the alleged incompetent or disabled person is a minor, and the spouse of the alleged incompetent or disabled person if any;

(3) Any other person who has been appointed as guardian or limited guardian, or the person with whom the alleged incompetent or disabled person resides. No notice need be given to those persons named in subsections (2) and (3) of this section if they have signed the petition for the appointment of the guardian or limited guardian or have waived notice of the hearing. If the petition is by a parent asking for his appointment as guardian or limited guardian of a minor child under the age of fourteen years, or if the petition be accompanied by the written consent of a minor of the age of fourteen years or upward, consenting to the appointment of the guardian or limited guardian asked for, or if the petition be by a nonresident guardian of any minor or incompetent or disabled person, then the court may appoint the guardian without notice of the hearing. The court for good cause may reduce the number of days of notice, but in every case, at least three days notice shall be given.

~~((In all guardianship and limited guardianship hearings))~~ The alleged incompetent or disabled person shall be present in court at the final hearing on the petition~~((If the petition for guardianship or limited guardianship states that the alleged incompetent or disabled person is physically unable to be present, the guardian ad litem may request the court to waive the requirement of the presence of the alleged incompetent at the hearing))~~: PROVIDED, That this requirement may be waived at the discretion of the court for good cause shown in the report to be provided by the guardian ad litem pursuant to RCW 11.88.090 as now or hereafter amended, or if no guardian ad litem is required to be appointed pursuant to RCW 11.88.090, as now or hereafter amended, at the discretion of the court for good cause shown by a party. Alternatively, the court may remove itself to the place of residence of the alleged incompetent or disabled person and conduct the final hearing in the presence of the alleged incompetent or disabled person. Final hearings on the petition may be held in closed court without admittance of any person other than those necessary to the action or proceeding.

If presence of the alleged incompetent or disabled person is waived and the court does not remove itself to the place of residence of such person, the guardian ad litem shall appear in person at the final hearing on the petition.

Sec. 5. Section 7, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.045 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An alleged incompetent or disabled person is entitled to independent legal counsel at his own expense to represent him in the procedure: PROVIDED, That if the alleged incompetent or disabled person is unable to pay for such representation or should such payment result in substantial hardship upon such person the county shall be responsible for such costs: PROVIDED FURTHER, That when, in the opinion of the court, the rights and interests of an alleged or adjudicated incompetent or disabled person cannot otherwise be adequately protected and represented, the court on its own motion shall appoint an attorney at any time to represent such person.

(2) The alleged incompetent or disabled person is further entitled upon request to a jury trial on the issues of his alleged incompetency or disability(~~(, with)~~). The standard of proof to be applied (~~(being)~~) in a contested case, whether before a jury or the court, shall be that of clear, cogent, and convincing evidence.

(3) In all proceedings for appointment of a guardian or limited guardian, the court must be presented with a (~~(sworn)~~) medical report in writing from a physician selected by the guardian ad litem appointed pursuant to RCW 11.88.090 as now or hereafter amended pertaining to the alleged incompetent or disabled persons' degree of incompetency or disability(~~(: PROVIDED, That the court may waive the filing of a sworn medical report)~~) including the medical history if reasonably available, the effects of any current medication on appearance or the ability to participate fully in the proceedings, and a medical prognosis specifying the estimated length and severity of any current disability.

Sec. 6. Section 11.88.090, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 9, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Nothing contained in RCW 11.88.080 through 11.88.120, 11.92.010 through 11.92.040, 11.92.060 through 11.92.120, 11.92.170, and 11.92.180, as now or hereafter amended, shall affect or impair the power of any court to appoint a guardian to defend the interests of any incompetent or disabled person interested in any suit or matter pending therein, or to commence and prosecute any suit in his behalf.

(2) Upon receipt of a petition for appointment of guardian or limited guardian, except as provided herein, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the best interests of the alleged incompetent or disabled person, who (~~(may)~~) shall be a person (~~(recommended by either the local mental health board or mental retardation board (or county social service administrative board where applicable), to represent the interests of the alleged incompetent or disabled person in response to any petition for guardianship or limited guardianship)~~) found or known by the court to

(a) be free of influence from anyone interested in the result of the proceeding;

(b) have the requisite knowledge, training, or expertise to perform the duties required by this section.

In making this determination the court shall give due consideration to the type of incompetency or disability alleged and to any recommendations made to the court by public or private agencies having appropriate experience or expertise: PROVIDED, That no guardian ad litem need be appointed if a parent is petitioning for a guardian or a limited guardian to be appointed for his or her minor child if the minority of the child, as defined by RCW 11.92.010, is the sole basis of the petition. The order appointing the guardian ad litem shall recite the duties set forth in subsection (3) of this section. The appointment of a guardian ad litem shall have no effect on the legal competency of the alleged incompetent or disabled person and such appointment shall not overcome the presumption of competency or full legal and civil rights of the alleged incompetent or disabled person.

(3) The guardian ad litem appointed pursuant to this section shall have the following duties:

(a) To meet and consult with the alleged incompetent or disabled person as soon as practicable following appointment and explain, in language which such person can reasonably be expected to understand, the substance of the petition, the nature of the resultant proceedings, the person's right to contest the petition, the identification of the proposed guardian or limited guardian, the right to a jury trial on the issue of his alleged incompetency or disability, the right to independent legal counsel as provided by RCW 11.88.045, and the right to be present in court at the hearing on the petition;

(b) To provide the court with a written report which shall include the following:

(i) A description of the degree of incompetency or disability;

(ii) An evaluation of the appropriateness of the guardian or limited guardian whose appointment is sought;

(iii) In the event the limited guardianship is ordered, its appropriate duration, and the limits and disabilities to be placed on the disabled person; and

(iv) Any expression of approval or disapproval made by the alleged incompetent or disabled person concerning the proposed guardian or limited guardian or guardianship or limited guardianship.

Such report shall also include a recommendation as to whether or not counsel should be appointed to represent the alleged incompetent or disabled person, and the reasons for such recommendation.

The investigation and report shall be made and forwarded to the court, with copies to the alleged incompetent or disabled person, and his attorney, if any has appeared, and to the petitioner, or his attorney within twenty days after appointment, unless an extension of time has been granted by the court for good cause shown;

(c) To arrange for a written medical report pursuant to RCW 11.88.045 as now or hereafter amended.

(4) If the petition is brought by an interested person or entity requesting the appointment of some other qualified person or entity and a prospective guardian or limited guardian cannot be found, the court shall order the guardian ad litem and any other qualified person or organization to investigate the availability of a possible guardian or limited guardian and to include the findings in a report to the court pursuant to RCW 11.88.090(3)(b) as now or hereafter amended.

(5) The court appointed guardian ad litem shall have the authority, in the event that the alleged incompetent or disabled person is in need of emergency ((and)) life-saving medical services, and is unable to consent to such medical services due to ((incapacity)) incompetence or disability pending the hearing on the petition to give consent for such emergency ((and)) life-saving medical services on behalf of the alleged incompetent or disabled person.

(6) The guardian ad litem shall receive a fee determined by the court. The fee shall be charged to the alleged incompetent or disabled person unless the court finds that such payment would result in substantial hardship upon such person, in which case the county shall be responsible for such costs: PROVIDED, That if no guardian or limited guardian is appointed the court may charge such fee to the petitioner or the alleged incompetent or disabled person, or divide the fee, as it deems just; and if the petition is found to be frivolous or not brought in good faith, the guardian ad litem fee shall be charged to the petitioner. The court shall not be required to provide for the payment of a fee to any salaried employee of a public or nonprofit agency.

Sec. 7. Section 11.88.100, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 10, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.100 are each amended to read as follows:

Before letters of guardianship are issued, each guardian or limited guardian shall take and subscribe an oath and, unless dispensed with by order of the court as provided in RCW 11.88.105, file a bond, with sureties to be approved by the court, payable to the state, in such sum as the court may fix, taking into account the character of the assets on hand or anticipated and the income to be received and disbursements to be made, and such bond shall be conditioned substantially as follows:

The condition of this obligation is such, that if the above bound A.B., who has been appointed guardian or limited guardian for C.D., shall faithfully discharge the office and trust of such guardian or limited guardian according to law and shall render a fair and just account of his guardianship or limited guardianship to the superior court of the county of . . . . ., from time to time as he shall thereto be required by such court, and comply with all orders of the court, lawfully made, relative to the goods, chattels, moneys, care, management, and education of such incompetent or disabled person, or his or her property, and render and pay to such incompetent or disabled person all moneys, goods, chattels, title papers, and effects which may come into the hands or possession of such guardian or limited guardian, at such time and in such manner as the court may order or adjudge, then this obligation shall be void, otherwise to be and remain in full force and effect.

The bond shall be for the use of the incompetent or disabled person, and shall not become void upon the first recovery, but may be put in suit from time to time against all or any one of the obligors, in the name and for the use and benefit of any person entitled by the breach thereof, until the whole penalty is recovered thereon. The court may require an additional bond whenever for any reason it appears to the court that an additional bond should be given.

In all guardianships or limited guardianships of the person, and in all guardianship or limited guardianships of the estate, in which the ~~((inventory filed with the court shows))~~ petition alleges that the alleged incompetent or disabled person has total ~~((accumulated))~~ assets of a value of less than ~~((fifteen hundred))~~ three thousand dollars, the court may dispense with the requirement of a bond pending filing of an inventory confirming that the estate has total assets of less than three thousand dollars: PROVIDED, That the guardian or limited guardian shall swear to report to the court any changes in the ~~((accumulated))~~ total assets of the incompetent or disabled person increasing their value to over ~~((fifteen hundred))~~ three thousand dollars: PROVIDED FURTHER, That said guardian or limited guardian shall file a yearly statement showing the monthly income of the incompetent or disabled person if said monthly income is over the sum of two hundred fifty dollars per month for any three consecutive months.

Sec. 10. Section 6, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.125 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) TERMINATION WITHOUT COURT ORDER. A guardianship or limited guardianship is terminated:

(a) Upon the attainment of full and legal age, as defined in RCW 11.92.010 as now or hereafter amended, of any person defined as an incompetent or disabled person pursuant to RCW 11.88.010 as now or hereafter amended solely by reason of youth, RCW 26.28.020 to the contrary notwithstanding((:));

(b) By an adjudication of competency((:)) or an adjudication of termination of disability;

(2) TERMINATION ON COURT ORDER. A guardianship or limited guardianship may be terminated by court order after such notice as the court may require:

(a) If the guardianship or limited guardianship is of the estate and the estate is exhausted;

(b) If the guardianship or limited guardianship is no longer necessary for any other reason.

(3) EFFECT OF TERMINATION. When a guardianship or limited guardianship terminates otherwise than by the death of the incompetent or disabled person, the powers of the guardian or limited guardian cease, except that a guardian or limited guardian of the estate may make disbursements for claims that are or may be allowed by the court, for liabilities already properly incurred for the estate or for the incompetent or disabled person, and for expenses of administration. When a guardianship or limited guardianship terminates by death of the incompetent or disabled person, the guardian or limited guardian of the estate may proceed under RCW 11.88.150 as now or hereafter amended, but the rights of all creditors against the incompetent's or disabled person's estate shall be determined by the law of decedents' estates.

Sec. 12. Section 11.88.150, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 17, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.150 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon the death of an incompetent or disabled person intestate the guardian or limited guardian of his estate has power under the letters issued to him and subject to the direction of the court to administer the estate as the estate of the deceased incompetent or disabled person without further letters unless within forty days after death of the incompetent or disabled person a petition is filed for letters of administration or for letters testamentary and the petition is granted. If the guardian or limited guardian elects to administer the estate under his letters of guardianship or limited guardianship, he shall petition the court for an order transferring the guardianship or limited guardianship proceeding to a probate proceeding, and upon court approval, the clerk of the court shall re-index the cause as a decedent's estate, using the same file number which is assigned to the guardianship or limited guardianship proceeding. The guardian or limited guardian shall then be authorized to continue administration of the estate without the necessity for any further petition or hearing. Notice to creditors and other persons interested in the estate shall be published and may be combined with the notice of the guardian's or limited guardian's final account. This notice shall be published in the manner provided in RCW 11.40.010, once each week for three successive weeks, with proof by affidavit of the publication of such notice to be filed with the court. All claims which are not filed within four months after first publication or within four months after the date of filing of the copy of such notice to creditors with the clerk of the court, whichever is later, shall be barred against the estate. Upon the hearing, the account may be allowed and the balance distributed to the persons entitled thereto, after the payment of such claims as may be allowed. Liability on the guardian's or limited guardian's bond shall continue until exonerated on settlement of his account, and may apply to the complete administration of the estate of the deceased incompetent or disabled person with the consent of the surety. If letters of administration or letters testamentary are granted upon petition filed within forty days after the death of the incompetent or disabled person, the personal representative shall supersede the guardian or limited guardian in the administration of the estate and the estate shall be administered as a decedent's estate as provided in this title, including the publication of notice to creditors and other interested persons and the barring of creditors claims.

Sec. 13. Section 11.92.040, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 20, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.92.040 are each amended to read as follows:

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature declares that it is the policy of the state of Washington to provide for the completeness, accuracy, confidentiality, and security of criminal history record information and victim, witness, and complainant record information as defined in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This 1977 amendatory act may be cited as the Washington State Criminal Records Privacy Act.

(1) "Criminal history record information" means information contained in records collected by criminal justice agencies, other than courts, on individuals, other than juveniles, consisting of identifiable descriptions and notations of arrests, detentions, indictments, informations, or other formal criminal charges, and any disposition arising therefrom, including sentences, correctional supervision, and release. The term includes information contained in records maintained by or obtained from criminal justice agencies, other than courts, which records provide individual identification of a person together with any portion of the individual's record of involvement in the criminal justice system as an alleged or convicted offender, except:

(a) Posters, announcements, or lists for identifying or apprehending fugitives or wanted persons;

(b) Original records of entry maintained by criminal justice agencies to the extent that such records are compiled and maintained chronologically and are accessible only on a chronological basis;

(c) Court indices and records of public judicial proceedings, court decisions, and opinions, and information disclosed during public judicial proceedings;

(d) Records of traffic violations which are not punishable by a maximum term of imprisonment of more than ninety days;

(2) "Nonconviction data" consists of all criminal history record information relating to an incident which has not led to a conviction or other disposition adverse to the subject, and for which proceedings are no longer actively pending. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that proceedings are no longer actively pending if more than one year has elapsed since arrest, citation, or service of warrant and no disposition has been entered.

(3) "Conviction record" means criminal history record information relating to an incident which has led to a conviction or other disposition adverse to the subject.

(4) "Conviction or other disposition adverse to the subject" means any disposition of charges, except a decision not to prosecute, a dismissal, or acquittal: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That a dismissal entered after a period of probation, suspension, or deferral of sentence shall be considered a disposition adverse to the subject.

(5) "Criminal justice agency" means: (a) A court; or (b) a government agency which performs the administration of criminal justice pursuant to a statute or executive order and which allocates a substantial part of its annual budget to the administration of criminal justice.

The term also includes criminal identification activities and the collection, storage, dissemination of criminal history record information, and the compensation of victims of crime.

(7) "Disposition" means the formal conclusion of a criminal proceeding at whatever stage it occurs in the criminal justice system.

(8) "Dissemination" means disclosing criminal history record information or disclosing the absence of criminal history record information to any person or agency outside the agency possessing the information, subject to the following exceptions:

(a) When criminal justice agencies jointly participate in the maintenance of a single record keeping department as an alternative to maintaining separate records, the furnishing of information by that department to personnel of any participating agency is not a dissemination;

(b) The furnishing of information by one criminal justice agency to another for the purpose of processing a matter through the criminal justice system, such as a police department providing information to a prosecutor for use in preparing a charge resulting from an investigation by that department, is not a dissemination;

(c) The reporting of an event to a record keeping agency for the purpose of maintaining the record is not a dissemination.

(9) "State planning agency" shall mean that agency designated by law or executive order to fulfill the functions established by 42 U.S.C. Section 3701, the "Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968", as amended.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Effective January 1, 1978, no criminal justice agency shall disseminate criminal history record information pertaining to an arrest, detention, indictment, information, or other formal criminal charge made after December 31, 1977, unless the record disseminated states the disposition of such charge to the extent dispositions have been made at the time of the request for the information: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That if a disposition occurring within ten days immediately preceding the dissemination has not been reported to the agency disseminating the criminal history record information, or if information has been received by the agency within the seventy-two hours immediately preceding the dissemination, that information shall not be required to be included in the dissemination.

Effective January 1, 1978, no criminal justice agency shall disseminate criminal history record information which shall include information concerning a felony or gross misdemeanor without first making inquiry of the identification section of the Washington state patrol for the purpose of obtaining the most current and complete information available, unless one or more of the following circumstances exists:

(1) The information to be disseminated is needed for a purpose in the administration of criminal justice for which time is of the essence and the identification section is technically or physically incapable of responding within the required time;

(2) The full information requested and to be disseminated relates to specific facts or incidents which are within the direct knowledge of the agency which disseminates the information;

(3) The full information requested and to be disseminated is contained in a criminal history record information summary received from the identification section by the agency which is to make the dissemination not more than thirty days preceding the dissemination to be made;

(4) The statute, executive order, court rule, or court order pursuant to which the information is to be disseminated refers solely to information in the files of the agency which makes the dissemination; or

(5) The information requested and to be disseminated is for the express purpose of research, evaluative, or statistical activities to be based upon information maintained in the files of the agency or agencies from which the information is directly sought.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) Conviction records may be disseminated without restriction.

(2) Any criminal history record information which pertains to an incident for which a person is currently being processed by the criminal justice system, including the entire period of correctional supervision extending through final discharge from parole, when applicable, may be disseminated without restriction.

(3) Criminal history record information which includes nonconviction data may be disseminated by a criminal justice agency to another criminal justice agency for any purpose associated with the administration of criminal justice, or in connection with the employment of the subject of the record by a criminal justice or juvenile justice agency. A criminal justice agency may respond to any inquiry from another criminal justice agency without any obligation to ascertain the purpose for which the information is to be used by the agency making the inquiry.

(4) Criminal history record information which includes nonconviction data may be disseminated by a criminal justice agency to implement a statute, ordinance, executive order, or a court rule, decision, or order which expressly refers to records of arrest, charges, or allegations of criminal conduct or other nonconviction data and authorizes or directs that it be available or accessible for a specific purpose.

(5) Criminal history record information which includes nonconviction data may be disseminated to individuals and agencies pursuant to a contract with a criminal justice agency to provide services related to the administration of criminal justice. Such contract must specifically authorize access to criminal history record information, but need not specifically state that access to nonconviction data is included. The agreement must limit the use of the criminal history record information to stated purposes and insure the confidentiality and security of the information consistent with state law and any applicable federal statutes and regulations.

(6) Criminal history record information which includes nonconviction data may be disseminated to individuals and agencies for the express purpose of research, evaluative, or statistical activities pursuant to an agreement with a criminal justice agency. Such agreement must authorize the access to nonconviction data, limit the use of that information which identifies specific individuals to research, evaluative, or statistical purposes, and contain provisions giving notice to the person or organization to which the records are disseminated that the use of information obtained therefrom and further dissemination of such information are subject to the provisions of this chapter and applicable federal statutes and regulations, which shall be cited with express reference to the penalties provided for a violation thereof.

(7) Every criminal justice agency that maintains and disseminates criminal history record information must maintain information pertaining to every dissemination of criminal history record information except a dissemination to the effect that the agency has no record concerning an individual. Information pertaining to disseminations shall include:

(a) An indication of to whom (agency or person) criminal history record information was disseminated;

(b) The date on which the information was disseminated;

(c) The individual to whom the information relates; and

(d) A brief description of the information disseminated.

The information pertaining to dissemination required to be maintained shall be retained for a period of not less than one year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Criminal history record information which consists of nonconviction data only shall be subject to deletion from criminal justice agency files which are available and generally searched for the purpose of responding to inquiries concerning the criminal history of a named or otherwise identified individual when two years or longer have elapsed since the record became nonconviction data as a result of the entry of a disposition favorable to the defendant, or upon the passage of three years from the date of arrest or issuance of a citation or warrant for an offense for which a conviction was not obtained unless the defendant is a fugitive, or the case is under active prosecution according to a current certification made by the prosecuting attorney.

Such criminal history record information consisting of nonconviction data shall be deleted upon the request of the person who is the subject of the record: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the criminal justice agency maintaining the data may, at its option, refuse to make the deletion if:

(1) The disposition was a deferred prosecution or similar diversion of the alleged offender;

(2) The person who is the subject of the record has had a prior conviction for a felony or gross misdemeanor;

(3) The individual who is the subject of the record has been arrested for or charged with another crime during the intervening period.

Nothing in this chapter is intended to restrict the authority of any court, through appropriate judicial proceedings, to order the modification or deletion of a record in a particular cause or concerning a particular individual or event.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) Criminal justice agencies may, in their discretion, disclose to persons who have suffered physical loss, property damage, or injury compensable through civil action, the identity of persons suspected as being responsible for such loss, damage, or injury together with such information as the agency reasonably believes may be of assistance to the victim in obtaining civil redress. Such disclosure may be made without regard to whether the suspected offender is an adult or a juvenile, whether charges have or have not been filed, or a prosecuting authority has declined to file a charge or a charge has been dismissed.

(2) The disclosure by a criminal justice agency of investigative information pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall not establish a duty to disclose any additional information concerning the same incident or make any subsequent disclosure of investigative information, except to the extent an additional disclosure is compelled by legal process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. All criminal justice agencies shall permit an individual who is, or who believes that he may be, the subject of a criminal record maintained by that agency, to appear in person during normal business hours of that criminal justice agency and request to see the criminal history record information held by that agency pertaining to the individual. The individual's right to access and review of criminal history record information shall not extend to data contained in intelligence, investigative, or other related files, and shall not be construed to include any information other than that defined as criminal history record information by this chapter.

Every criminal justice agency shall adopt rules and make available forms to facilitate the inspection and review of criminal history record information by the subjects thereof, which rules may include requirements for identification, the establishment of reasonable periods of time to be allowed an individual to examine the record, and for assistance by an individual's counsel, interpreter, or other appropriate persons.

No person shall be allowed to retain or mechanically reproduce any nonconviction data except for the purpose of challenge or correction when the person who is the subject of the record asserts the belief in writing that the information regarding such person is inaccurate or incomplete. The provisions of chapter 42.17 RCW shall not be construed to require or authorize copying of nonconviction data for any other purpose.

The state planning agency shall establish rules for the challenge of records which an individual declares to be inaccurate or incomplete, and for the resolution of any disputes between individuals and criminal justice agencies pertaining to the accuracy and completeness of criminal history record information. The state planning agency shall also adopt rules for the correction of criminal history record information and the dissemination of corrected information to agencies and persons to whom inaccurate or incomplete information was previously disseminated. Such rules may establish time limitations of not less than ninety days upon the requirement for disseminating corrected information.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The state planning agency is hereby designated the agency of state government responsible for the administration of the 1977 Washington State Criminal Records Privacy Act. The state planning agency may adopt any rules and regulations necessary for the performance of the administrative functions provided for in this chapter.

The state planning agency shall have the following specific administrative duties:

(1) To establish by rule and regulation standards for the security of criminal history information systems in order that such systems and the data contained therein be adequately protected from fire, theft, loss, destruction, other physical hazard, or unauthorized access;

(2) To establish by rule and regulation standards for personnel employed by criminal justice of other state and local government agencies in positions with responsibility for maintenance and dissemination of criminal history record information; and

(3) To contract with the Washington state auditor or other public or private agency, organization, or individual to perform audits of criminal history record information systems.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Criminal justice agencies shall be authorized to establish and collect reasonable fees for the dissemination of criminal history record information to agencies and persons other than criminal justice agencies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Any person may maintain an action to enjoin a continuance of any act or acts in violation of any of the provisions of this chapter, and if injured thereby, for the recovery of damages and for the recovery of reasonable attorneys' fees. If, in such action, the court shall find that the defendant is violating or has violated any of the provisions of this chapter, it shall enjoin the defendant from a continuance thereof, and it shall not be necessary that actual damages to the plaintiff be alleged or proved. In addition to such injunctive relief, the plaintiff in said action shall be entitled to recover from the defendant the amount of the actual damages, if any, sustained by him if actual damages to the plaintiff are alleged and proved. In any suit brought to enjoin a violation of this chapter, the prevailing party may be awarded reasonable attorneys' fees, including fees incurred upon appeal. Commencement, pendency, or conclusion of a civil action for injunction or damages shall not affect the liability of a person or agency to criminal prosecution for a violation of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Violation of the provisions of this chapter shall constitute a misdemeanor, and any person whether as principal, agent, officer, or director for himself or for another person, or for any firm or corporation, public or private, or any municipality who or which shall violate any of the provisions of this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor for each single violation. Any criminal prosecution shall not affect the right of any person to bring a civil action as authorized by this chapter or otherwise authorized by law.

Sec. 13. Section 31, chapter 1, Laws of 1973 as last amended by section 5, chapter 82, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 42.17.310 are each amended to read as follows:

(d) Specific intelligence information and specific investigative records compiled by investigative, law enforcement, and penology agencies, and state agencies vested with the responsibility to discipline members of any profession, the nondisclosure of which is essential to effective law enforcement or for the protection of any person's right to privacy.

PROVIDED, That this subsection shall not apply to persons who file complaints with the public disclosure commission about any elected official or candidate for elective office))~~ other than the public disclosure commission, if disclosure would endanger any person's life, physical safety, or property: PROVIDED, That if at the time the complaint is filed the complainant indicates a desire for disclosure or nondisclosure, such desire shall govern: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That all complaints filed with the public disclosure commission about any elected official or candidate for public office must be made in writing and signed by the complainant under oath.

(h) Valuable formulae, designs, drawings, and research data obtained by any agency within five years of the request for disclosure when disclosure would produce private gain and public loss.

(i) Preliminary drafts, notes, recommendations, and intra-agency memorandums in which opinions are expressed or policies formulated or recommended except that a specific record shall not be exempt when publicly cited by an agency in connection with any agency action.

(j) Records which are relevant to a controversy to which an agency is a party but which records would not be available to another party under the rules of pre-trial discovery for causes pending in the superior courts.

(k) Records, maps, or other information identifying the location of archaeological sites in order to avoid the looting or depredation of such sites.

(2) The exemptions of this section shall be inapplicable to the extent that information, the disclosure of which would violate personal privacy or vital governmental interests, can be deleted from the specific records sought. No exemption shall be construed to permit the nondisclosure of statistical information not descriptive of any readily identifiable person or persons.

(3) Inspection or copying of any specific records, exempt under the provisions of this section, may be permitted if the superior court in the county in which the record is maintained finds, after a hearing with notice thereof to every person in interest and the agency, that the exemption of such records, is clearly unnecessary to protect any individual's right of privacy or any vital governmental function.

(4) Agency responses refusing, in whole or in part, inspection of any public record shall include a statement of the specific exemption authorizing the withholding of the record (or part) and a brief explanation of how the exemption applies to the record withheld.

Sec. 14. Section 2, chapter 152, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 43.43.705 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon the receipt of identification data from criminal justice agencies within this state, the section shall immediately cause the files to be examined and upon request shall promptly return to the contributor of such data a transcript of the record of previous arrests and dispositions of the persons described in the data submitted.

Upon application, the section shall furnish to criminal justice agencies a transcript of the criminal offender record information available pertaining to any person of whom the section has a record.

For the purposes of RCW 43.43.700 through 43.43.800 the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings:

"Criminal offender record information" includes, and shall be restricted to identifying data and public record information recorded as the result of an arrest or other initiation of criminal proceedings and the consequent proceedings related thereto. "Criminal offender record information" shall not include intelligence, analytical, or investigative reports and files.

"Criminal justice agencies" are those public agencies within or outside the state which perform, as a principal function, activities directly relating to the apprehension, prosecution, adjudication or rehabilitation of criminal offenders.

Applications for information shall be by a data communications network used exclusively by criminal justice agencies or in writing and information applied for shall be used solely in the due administration of the criminal laws or for the purposes enumerated in RCW 43.43.760(3).

~~((Any person who, in violation of this 1972 act, furnishes to any person or other agency information obtained from the section shall be civilly liable, as provided in RCW 72.50.170.))~~

The section may refuse to furnish any information pertaining to the identification or history of any person or persons of whom it has a record, or other information in its files and records, to any applicant if the chief determines that the applicant has previously misused information furnished to such applicant by the section or the chief believes that the applicant will not use the information requested solely for the purpose of due administration of the criminal laws or for the purposes enumerated in RCW 43.43.760(3). The applicant may appeal such determination and denial of information to the advisory council created in RCW 43.43.785 and the council may direct that the section furnish such information to the applicant.

Sec. 15. Section 3, chapter 152, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 43.43.710 are each amended to read as follows:

Information contained in the files and records of the section relative to the commission of any crime by any person shall be considered privileged and shall not be made public or disclosed for any ~~((personal))~~ purpose ~~((or in any civil court proceedings except upon a written order of the judge of a court wherein such civil proceedings are had. All information contained in the files of the section relative to criminal records and personal histories of persons arrested for the commission of a crime shall be available to all criminal justice agencies, upon the filing of an application as provided in RCW 43.43.705:~~

~~Although no application for information has been made to the section as provided in RCW 43.43.705, the section may transmit such information in the chief's discretion, to such agencies as are authorized by RCW 43.43.705 to make application for it)~~ except in accordance with chapter — RCW (sections 1 through 11 of this 1977 amendatory act).

Sec. 16. Section 7, chapter 152, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 43.43.730 are each amended to read as follows:

~~(1) ((When any person, having no prior criminal record, whose fingerprints and/or other identifying data were submitted to and filed at the section, shall be found not guilty of the offense for which the fingerprints and/or other identifying data were sent to the section, or be released without a conviction being obtained, his fingerprints and/or other identifying data and all copies thereof on file at the section shall be destroyed by the section, provided such person requests said destruction after the finding of not guilty or after the release. The section shall, upon destruction of the record pursuant to this section, notify said person of the destruction.~~

~~(2))~~ Any individual shall have the right to inspect criminal offender record information on file with the section which refers to him. If an individual believes such information to be inaccurate or incomplete, he may request the section to purge, modify or supplement it and to advise such persons or agencies who have received his record and whom the individual designates to modify it accordingly. Should the section decline to so act, or should the individual believe the section's decision to be otherwise unsatisfactory, the individual may appeal such decision to the superior court in the county in which he is resident, or the county from which the disputed record emanated or Thurston county. The court shall in such case conduct a de novo hearing, and may order such relief as it finds to be just and equitable.

~~((3))~~ (2) The section may prescribe reasonable hours and a place for inspection, and may impose such additional restrictions, including fingerprinting, as are reasonably necessary both to assure the record's security and to verify the identities of those who seek to inspect them: PROVIDED, That the section may charge a reasonable fee for fingerprinting.

Sec. 17. Section 23, chapter 152, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 43.43.810 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person who wilfully requests, obtains or seeks to obtain criminal offender record information under false pretenses, or who wilfully communicates or seeks to communicate criminal offender record information to any agency or person except in accordance with this act, or any member, officer, employee or agent of the section, the council or any participating agency, who wilfully falsifies criminal offender record information, or any records relating thereto, shall for each such offense be ~~((fined not more than five thousand dollars, or imprisoned not more than one year or both))~~ guilty of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 315

[Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3015]

OCEANOGRAPHIC COMMISSION—LIQUEFIED GAS HAZARDS MANAGEMENT STUDY

AN ACT Relating to energy facilities; creating new sections; making an appropriation; and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds and declares that the safe and prompt delivery of energy producing fuels is of paramount importance to the economy of the state. Recognizing the complex problems to be solved and the hazards to be averted as well as the potential for the substantial benefits to be achieved makes apparent the need for a study to determine the safety and jurisdictional problems of typical liquefied natural gas ports, liquefied petroleum gas ports, and liquefied natural gas regasification sites on the waters of the state of Washington. It is, therefore, the declared policy and intent of this legislation to fund an initial study of the matter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The oceanographic commission shall conduct a liquefied natural gas and liquefied petroleum gas hazards management study to determine:

(a) The nature of typical transport and port facilities used to receive marine shipments of liquefied natural gas and liquefied petroleum gas and facilities for subsequent regasification of liquefied natural gas;

(b) Representative sites for liquefied natural gas and liquefied petroleum gas port facilities based upon the size of vessels and harbor facilities and in terms of safely dealing with the hazardous properties of liquefied natural gas and liquefied petroleum gas;

(c) The hazardous properties of liquefied natural gas and liquefied petroleum gas and subsequent safeguards which the state may require in liquefied natural gas and liquefied petroleum gas port facilities;

(d) The responsibilities of federal, state, and local governments in siting and operating liquefied natural gas and liquefied petroleum gas port facilities and liquefied natural gas regasification facilities;

(e) Whether at the representative locations for the facility the state and local governments have the resources to effectively manage the hazards by such means as fire protection and security; and

(f) Any other areas of importance which the oceanographic commission feels would have an impact on a liquefied natural gas or a liquefied petroleum gas port facility or a liquefied natural gas regasification facility.

(2) After conducting a search for studies, reports, or other literature relating to liquefied natural gas and liquefied petroleum gas hazards management, the commission shall submit a report to the house and senate energy and utilities committees concerning the material available and the reasons for the commission's decision whether or not to proceed with the remainder of the study.

(3) The findings of this study shall be reported to the legislature by the second Monday in January, 1979.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is appropriated to the oceanographic commission of Washington from the general fund the sum of seventy-six thousand five hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to carry out the purposes of section 2 of this act.

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

Passed the Senate June 11, 1977.

Passed the House June 9, 1977.

Approved by the Governor with the exception of section 4 which was vetoed June 21, 1977.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State June 21, 1977.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

'I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section Senate Bill No. 3015 entitled:

'AN ACT Relating to energy facilities; creating new sections; making an appropriation; and declaring an emergency.'

Section 4 of the bill declares an emergency and provides for the act to take effect immediately. Under the Constitution, Article II, Sections 1(b) and 41, the use of an emergency clause does two things. First, it alters the time when a particular piece of legislation becomes effective, thereby eliminating what may be a desirable adjustment period for affected persons. Second, it excepts the legislation from the important referendum right reserved by the people. Because of these effects, the use of the clause should be restricted to those instances where the use is clearly warranted due to the urgency of the situation.

With the exception of section 4, which I have vetoed, the remainder of Senate Bill No. 3015 is approved.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) As a condition of eligibility for such financial assistance as may be provided by or through the state of Washington exclusively for the construction and/or modernization of jails, all jail construction and/or substantial remodeling projects shall be submitted by the governing unit to the commission for review. The commission shall submit the projects to the office of program planning and fiscal management, pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, if they comply with the physical plant standards adopted by the commission, pursuant to the provisions of section 5(5) of this 1977 amendatory act. Subsequent standards shall be prescribed by the commission and submitted to the Legislative Budget Committee for review. If the Legislative Budget Committee disapproves such standards, they shall not have effect;

(2) The physical plant standards which are adopted and approved pursuant to section 5(5) of this 1977 amendatory act shall not be mandatory unless, pursuant to the provisions of section 11 of this 1977 amendatory act, the state fully funds the cost of implementing such standards for detention and correctional facilities: PROVIDED, That, such funds shall be subject to biennial appropriation: PROVIDED FURTHER, That after such funds are made available, local jurisdictions shall have a period of time before such standards are mandatory that is adequate to effect any needed construction or repairs: PROVIDED FURTHER, That those provisions of sections 6 and 11 of this 1977 amendatory act requiring approval prior to funding and commencement of construction or remodeling shall not apply to prevent the funding of jails of governing units which have appropriated funds for substantial remodeling or construction of jails after February 16, 1974, and before the effective date of this 1977 amendatory act. Approval in such cases may be given retroactively.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. All jails which do not meet the appropriate mandatory custodial care standards and physical plant standards may be required to be closed, entirely or in part, until such requirements are met, pursuant to the following procedures:

(1) In the event the commission finds a jail does not comply with the appropriate mandatory custodial care and/or physical plant standards, notice shall be given to the governing unit which shall be either a notice of noncompliance, a notice of conditional compliance for the continued operation of the jail under such restrictions as the commission determines to be appropriate, or a notice of full or partial closure.

(2) Such notices shall specify the manner in which the jail does not comply with the standards. In issuing such notices consideration shall be given to the magnitude and seriousness of the deficiencies and their potential effect on the health and safety of jail inmates, the cost of correction, and other information deemed relevant by the commission.

(3) (a) If the commission issues a notice of noncompliance, it shall specify in the notice the time limits within which the standards are to be met.

(b) If the commission determines that there will be compliance with the standards provided that certain conditions or restrictions which the commission determines to be appropriate are applied, the commission may issue a notice of conditional compliance setting out the conditions and restrictions which the commission determines to be appropriate. A certificate of conditional compliance may be issued thereon.

(c) In those cases where the nature and extent of the deficiencies are such that a notice of immediate full or partial closure is deemed necessary by the commission in order to preserve the health and safety of persons in the jail, a notice of immediate full or partial closure may be issued by the commission.

(4) Within thirty days after the date of receipt of a notice of noncompliance, a notice of conditional compliance, or a notice of full or partial closure, the appropriate governing unit may request a review thereof by the commission which review shall be heard not more than forty-five days following such request unless such period is extended not more than another forty-five days by order of the commission. All reviews conducted under this section shall be deemed to be "contested cases" within the meaning of chapter 34.04 RCW.

The commission shall hear and decide the review, and the decision of the commission may be appealed to the superior court as provided in chapter 34.04 RCW.

(5) If a notice of full or partial closure is issued and upheld, or if a notice of conditional compliance is issued and the conditions or restrictions are not complied with, or if a notice of noncompliance is issued and upheld and compliance is not satisfactorily accomplished within the time prescribed in the notice, the attorney general, upon request and on behalf of the commission, shall apply to the superior court of the county in which the jail is located for an order of closure of all or part of the jail and the court shall have authority to issue such order of closure or prescribe other appropriate relief.

(6) In the event an order of closure is issued by the superior court, all confined persons in custody in the jail or portions thereof ordered closed shall be transferred, provided sufficient space is available, to a suitable, available jail, and the transferring governing unit shall pay for the costs of board, room, program, and administration of such transferred persons, pursuant to the rate for such costs established by the governing unit accepting such confined persons. If a transferring governing unit disputes the rates established by the governing unit accepting, the commission shall set the rates.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) A city or county primarily responsible for the operation of a jail or jails may create a department of corrections to be in charge of such jail and of all persons confined therein by law, subject to the authority of the governing unit. If such department is created, it shall have charge of jails and persons confined therein. If no such department of corrections is created, the chief law enforcement officer of the city or county primarily responsible for the operation of said jail shall have charge of the jail and of all persons confined therein. A department of corrections or the chief law enforcement officer shall operate a jail in conformance with the rules and regulations adopted by the commission and any rules, regulations, or ordinances adopted by the governing unit.

(b) The hour, date and manner of each person's discharge.

(2) The records of a person confined in jail shall be held in confidence and shall be made available only to criminal justice agencies as defined in RCW 43.43.705; or

(a) For use in inspections made pursuant to section 7 of this 1977 amendatory act;

(b) In jail certification proceedings;

(c) For use in court proceedings upon the written order of the court in which the proceedings are conducted; or

(d) Upon the written permission of the person.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Upon obtaining approval for the substantial remodeling or construction of a jail pursuant to section 6 of this 1977 amendatory act and biennial appropriation of the legislature, a governing unit shall receive full funding from the state for the costs of the necessary new construction or improvements to or remodeling of existing detention or correctional facilities necessary to comply with the standards established pursuant to this chapter. The commission shall biennially establish for each application the level of costs necessary to comply with the physical plant standards and shall authorize payment by the state treasurer of the designated amount from the local jail improvement and construction account created in section 12 of this 1977 amendatory act to the eligible governing unit in accordance with procedures established by the commission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. There is hereby established in the state treasury a fund to be known as the local jail improvement and construction account in which shall be deposited such sums as are appropriated by law for the purpose of providing funds to units of local government for new construction and the substantial remodeling of detention and correctional facilities so as to obtain compliance with the physical plant standards for such facilities. Funds in the local jail improvement and construction account shall be invested in the same manner as other funds in other accounts within the state treasury, and such earnings shall accrue to the local jail improvement and construction account. Funds in this account shall be disbursed by the state treasurer to units of local government, subject to biennial legislative appropriation, at the direction of the commission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Payment for emergency or necessary health care shall be by the governing unit, except that the department shall reimburse the governing unit for the cost thereof if the confined person requires treatment for which such person is eligible under the department's public assistance medical program.

The governing unit may obtain reimbursement from the confined person for the cost of emergency and other health care to the extent that such person is reasonably able to pay for such care, including reimbursement from any insurance program or from other medical benefit programs available to such person. (1) (a) During the fifth month of each fiscal half-year ending June 30th and December 31st of each year, the department of motor vehicles shall compute a motor vehicle fuel tax rate to the nearest one-half cent per gallon of motor vehicle fuel by multiplying twenty-one and one-half percent times the weighted average retail sales price of motor vehicle fuel, per gallon, sold within the state in the third month of such fiscal half-year. The department of motor vehicles shall determine the weighted average retail sales price of motor vehicle fuel by state-wide sampling and survey techniques designed to reflect such prices for the third month of such fiscal half-year. The department shall establish reasonable guidelines for its sampling and survey methods.

(b) Subject to provisions of subsections (2) and (3) of this section the excise tax rate computed in the manner provided in subsection (1) of this section shall apply to the sale, distribution, or use of motor vehicle fuel beginning the fiscal half-year following computation of the rate and shall remain in effect for each succeeding fiscal half-year until a subsequent computation requires a change in the rate. For the first fiscal half-year after the effective date of this 1977 amendatory act, the motor vehicle fuel tax shall be eleven cents per gallon.

(2) (a) The motor vehicle fuel tax rate for any fiscal half-year shall not exceed twelve cents per gallon nor exceed a rate as computed in this subsection.

(b) Each fiscal half-year at the time the department of motor vehicles computes the excise tax rate for the ensuing fiscal half-year of a biennium, the department shall estimate the total aggregate motor vehicle fuel tax revenues and the total of all other state revenues which will accrue to the motor vehicle fund during the full biennium. The estimated total aggregate motor vehicle fuel tax revenues for the biennium shall include those revenues which have accrued to the motor vehicle fund for the half-year or half-years of the biennium that have then elapsed plus revenues which the department determines will accrue during the remaining fiscal half-years of the biennium, assuming the sale, distribution, and use of motor vehicle fuel and special fuel within the state for the remaining fiscal half-years of the biennium shall be at the same volume as during the fiscal half-year last ended, adjusted however for the historic variations in sales, distribution, and use according to half-yearly periods and for projected trends, and at the weighted average retail sales price of motor vehicle fuel as last determined by the department of motor vehicles. The estimated total of all other state revenues to accrue to the motor vehicle fund during the biennium shall include those revenues (other than the aggregate motor vehicle fuel tax revenues) which have accrued to the motor vehicle fund for the half-year or half-years of the biennium that have then elapsed plus revenues which the department of highways with the concurrence of the office of program planning and fiscal management determines will accrue during the remaining fiscal half-years of the biennium, assuming that collections of such revenues for the remaining fiscal half-years of the biennium shall be at the same level as during the fiscal half-year just ended, adjusted however for historic variations in collections according to half-yearly periods and for projected trends, and shall include state revenues in the motor vehicle fund balance as of the end of the prior biennium as certified by the state treasurer, less an appropriate minimum balance for the biennium as determined by the department of highways with the concurrence of the office of program planning and fiscal management and the proceeds of the sale of bonds but shall not include reimbursements to the motor vehicle fund for services performed by the department of highways for others.

(c) If the estimated biennial aggregate motor vehicle fuel tax revenues as computed in paragraph (b) of this subsection, exceed the total of all appropriations, reappropriations, and transfers of state revenues from the motor vehicle fund for the biennium (less the estimated total of all other state revenues which will accrue to the motor vehicle fund during the biennium as computed in paragraph (b) of this subsection) by more than five percent thereof, the rate of the motor vehicle fuel tax (computed as provided in subsection (1) of this section) shall be reduced by one-half cent increments, commencing at the beginning of the ensuing fiscal half-year, as may be necessary to reduce such estimated total revenues for the full biennium to within the total of such appropriations, reappropriations, and transfers plus five percent thereof.

(3) (a) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section the excise tax rate for any fiscal half-year shall not be less than nine cents per gallon nor less than the rate as computed in this subsection.

(b) Each fiscal half-year at the time the department of motor vehicles computes the excise tax rate for the ensuing fiscal half-year of a fiscal year, the department shall estimate the total aggregate motor vehicle fuel tax revenues which will accrue to the motor vehicle fund during such fiscal year in the same manner that such revenues are estimated for a full biennium. If such estimated aggregate motor vehicle fuel tax revenues for the fiscal year are less than an amount equal to the aggregate motor vehicle fuel tax revenues collected during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1973, increased by six percent per year compounded annually for each year which has elapsed from June 30, 1973, to June 30th of the fiscal year for which estimated aggregate motor vehicle fuel tax revenues were computed, the department shall increase the rate of the excise tax by one-half cent increments, but not to exceed a total excise tax of twelve cents per gallon, commencing at the beginning of the ensuing fiscal half-year as necessary to produce estimated aggregate motor vehicle fuel tax revenues for such fiscal year as great as such revenues collected during the 1973 fiscal year increased by six percent per year compounded annually from June 30, 1973, to June 30th of the fiscal year for which such minimum half-yearly tax rate is being computed.

(4) (a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection, if the department of highways receives notification that unanticipated federal funds in excess of one million dollars above appropriations of federal funds from the motor vehicle fund for a biennium will be received for expenditure during that biennium, the highway commission shall give notice of the amount of such unanticipated funds to the department of motor vehicles which shall include such amount in the computation of the estimated total of all other state revenues to accrue during the biennium under paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of this section for purposes of computing the maximum rate of motor vehicle fuel tax as provided in this section.

(b) Upon receipt by the department of highways of notification that unanticipated federal funds in excess of one million dollars above appropriations of federal funds from the motor vehicle fund for a biennium will be received for expenditure during that biennium, if the highway commission determines that such funds or any part thereof may not legally or operationally be substituted for purposes for which state motor vehicle fund moneys have been appropriated, or determines that substitution of such federal funds for state funds would delay the construction of needed highway improvements, the highway commission shall forthwith notify the governor and the standing committees on transportation of the house and senate of its determination. If both the governor and the standing committees concur in the commission's determination, the unanticipated federal funds shall not be considered by the department of motor vehicles in computing the estimated total of all other state revenues to accrue during the biennium under paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of this section.

Sec. 7. Section 35.77.010, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 1, chapter 215, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 35.77.010 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (~~Prior to July 1, 1968,~~) The legislative body of each city and town, pursuant to one or more public hearings thereon, shall prepare and adopt a comprehensive street program for the ensuing six calendar years and shall file the same with the director of highways not more than thirty days after its adoption. Annually thereafter the legislative body of each city and town shall review the work accomplished under the program and determine current city street needs. Based on these findings each such legislative body prior to July 1st of each year shall prepare and after public hearings thereon adopt a revised and extended comprehensive street program, and each one year extension and revision shall be filed with the director of highways not more than thirty days after its adoption. The purpose of this section shall be to assure that perpetually each city and town shall have available advanced plans, looking to the future for not less than six years as a guide in carrying out a coordinated street construction program. Such program may at any time be revised by a majority of the legislative body of a city or town, but only after a public hearing.

The six year program of each city lying within an urban area shall contain a separate section setting forth the six year program for arterial street construction based upon its long range construction plan and formulated in accordance with regulations of the urban arterial board. The six year program for arterial street construction shall be submitted to the urban arterial board forthwith after its annual revision and adoption by the legislative body of the city. The six year program for arterial street construction shall be based upon estimated revenues available for such construction together with such additional sums as the legislative authority may request for urban arterials only from the urban arterial trust account for the six year period. The arterial street construction program shall provide for a more rapid rate of completion of the long range construction needs of major arterial streets than for secondary and collector arterial streets, pursuant to regulations of the urban arterial board: PROVIDED, That urban arterial trust funds made available to the group of incorporated cities lying outside the boundaries of federally approved urban areas within each region need not be divided between functional classes of arterials but shall be available for any designated arterial street.

(2) On and after July 1, 1976, each six year program forwarded to the director in compliance with subsection (1) of this section shall contain information as to how a city or town will expend its moneys, including funds made available pursuant to chapter 47.30 RCW, for bicycle, pedestrian, and equestrian purposes.

Sec. 8. Section 46.68.090, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 74, chapter 32, Laws of 1967 and RCW 46.68.090 are each amended to read as follows:

All moneys which have accrued or may accrue to the motor vehicle fund from the motor vehicle fuel tax and ~~((use))~~ special fuel tax shall be first expended for the following purposes:

(1) For payment of refunds of motor vehicle fuel tax and ~~((use))~~ special fuel tax which has been paid and is refundable as provided by law;

(2) For payment of amounts to be expended pursuant to appropriations for the administrative expenses of the offices of state treasurer, state auditor, and the department of motor vehicles of the state of Washington in the administration of the motor vehicle fuel tax and the ~~((use))~~ special fuel tax, said sums to be distributed monthly.

The amount accruing to the motor vehicle fund by virtue of the motor vehicle fuel tax and the ~~((use))~~ special fuel tax and remaining after payments as provided in subsections (1) and (2) above shall, for the purposes of this chapter, be referred to as the "net tax amount."

Sec. 9. Section 46.68.100, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 1, chapter 51, Laws of 1977 and RCW 46.68.100 are each amended to read as follows:

From the net tax amount in the motor vehicle fund there shall be paid monthly as funds accrue the following sums ((as follows)):

~~(1) ((There shall be paid to the cities and towns of the state sums equal to ten and forty-four hundredths percent of the net tax amount to be paid monthly as the same accrues;~~

~~(2) To the counties of the state there shall be paid sums equal to thirty-two and sixty-one hundredths percent of the net tax amount out of which there shall be distributed from time to time, as directed by the highway commission, those sums as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of RCW 47.56.725 as now or hereafter amended, with the balance of such county share to be distributed monthly as the same accrues for distribution in accordance with RCW 46.68.120;~~

~~(3) To the state there shall be paid to be expended as provided by RCW 46.68.130, sums equal to fifty-five and five-tenths percent of the net tax amount to be paid monthly as the same accrues.~~

~~(4) There shall be paid to the Puget Sound ferry operations account sums equal to one and forty-five hundredths percent of the net tax amount to be paid monthly as the same accrues))~~ To the cities and towns, to be distributed as provided by RCW 46.68.110, sums equal to six and ninety-two hundredths percent of the net tax amount;

(2) To the cities and towns, to be expended as provided by section 10 of this 1977 amendatory act, sums equal to four and sixty-one hundredths percent of the net tax amount;

(3) To the counties, sums equal to twenty-two and seventy-eight hundredths percent of the net tax amount out of which there shall be distributed from time to time, as directed by the highway commission, those sums as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of RCW 47.56.725, with the balance of such county share to be distributed monthly as the same accrues for distribution in accordance with RCW 46.68.120;

(4) To the urban arterial trust account in the motor vehicle fund, sums equal to seven and twelve hundredths percent of the net tax amount;

(5) To the state, to be expended as provided by RCW 46.68.130, sums equal to forty-five and twenty-six hundredths percent of the net tax amount;

(6) To the state, to be expended as provided by RCW 46.68.150 as now or hereafter amended, sums equal to six and ninety-five hundredths percent of the net tax amount;

(7) To the Puget Sound reserve account in the motor vehicle fund sums equal to three and twenty-one hundredths percent of the net tax amount;

(8) To the Puget Sound ferry operations account in the motor vehicle fund sums equal to three and fifteen hundredths percent of the net tax amount.

Nothing in this section or in RCW 46.68.090 as now or hereafter amended or 46.68.130 shall be construed so as to violate any terms or conditions contained in any highway construction bond issues now or hereafter authorized by statute and whose payment is by such statute pledged to be paid from any excise taxes on motor and special vehicle fuels.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. There is added to chapter 46.68 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The sums distributed to cities and towns as set forth in subsection (2) of RCW 46.68.100, as now or hereafter amended, shall be allocated between them as provided by RCW 46.68.110, subject to the provisions of RCW 35.76.050, to be used exclusively for the construction, improvement, and repair of arterial highways and city streets as those terms are defined in RCW 46.04.030 and 46.04.120, or for the payment of any municipal indebtedness which may be incurred after June 12, 1963, in the construction, improvement, and repair of arterial highways and city streets.

Sec. 11. Section 9, chapter 83, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 46.68.150 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((proceeds of five-eighths of one cent of motor vehicle fuel tax and use fuel tax))~~ sums distributed to the state pursuant to RCW ~~((82.36.020(2), after proper deductions for refunds and costs of collection as provided in RCW 46.68.090))~~ 46.68.100(6) as now or hereafter amended, and the proceeds of bonds issued and sold pursuant to RCW 47.26.400 through 47.26.407 shall be expended by the state highway commission for construction and improvement of state highways in urban areas as provided for in RCW 47.26.040 through 47.26.070 or for payment of principal and interest on bonds issued pursuant to RCW 47.26.400 through 47.26.407: PROVIDED, That at the end of each fiscal quarter the state treasurer shall determine the amount, if any, that the sums distributed to the state pursuant to RCW 46.68.100(6) as now or hereafter amended exceed an amount equivalent to the proceeds of five-eighths of one cent motor vehicle and special fuel excise tax collected on the net gallonage after the deductions provided for in RCW 82.36.020 for the preceding fiscal quarter. The amount so ascertained shall be available first to repay the counties, cities, and towns for any moneys derived from excise taxes on motor vehicle and special fuels distributable to the counties, cities, and towns pursuant to RCW 46.68.100 but as a result of the pledge and debt service payment provisions contained in RCW 47.26.404 and 47.26.405 and as certified by the state finance committee have been used to repay state urban bonds (and interest thereon) authorized by RCW 47.26.400 through 47.26.407, and after such sums have been repaid in full, then for expenditure as provided in RCW 46.68.130.

Sec. 12. Section 10, chapter 83, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 253, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 47.26.040 are each amended to read as follows:

The term "urban area" means every area of this state designated as an urban area by the state highway commission with the approval of the federal (~~department of the~~) secretary of transportation (~~or the federal highway administrator~~) in accordance with federal law, hereafter referred to as federally approved urban areas, or areas within incorporated cities (~~as determined by the office of program planning and fiscal management~~).

Sec. 13. Section 24, chapter 83, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as amended by section 2, chapter 253, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 47.26.180 are each amended to read as follows:

Arterial designation and classification, as provided for by this chapter, shall be required to be an integral and coordinated portion of its planning process as authorized by chapters 35.63 or 36.70 RCW. The legislative authority of each county and city lying within or having within its boundaries an urban area shall with the advice and assistance of its chief engineer and its planning office divide all of its roads or streets into arterial roads or streets and access roads or streets and shall further subdivide the arterials into three functional classes to be known as major arterials, secondary arterials, and collector arterials, all in accordance with uniform standards established by the urban arterial board: PROVIDED, That incorporated cities lying outside federally approved urban areas shall not be required to subdivide arterials into functional classes. Upon receipt of the classification plans of the several counties and cities, the urban arterial board shall review and revise the classification for the urban arterials as necessary to conform with its uniform standards for classifying urban arterials.

Sec. 14. Section 25, chapter 83, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as last amended by section 2, chapter 126, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 47.26.190 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Once each calendar quarter, the urban arterial board shall apportion funds credited to the urban arterial trust account, including the proceeds from motor vehicle fuel tax revenues, bond sales, anticipatory notes and interfund loans, which are available for the construction and improvement of urban arterials among))~~ (1) At the beginning of each biennium the urban arterial board shall establish apportionment percentages for the five regions defined in RCW 47.26.050 in the manner prescribed in RCW 47.26.060 ((relating to the apportionment of state urban funds)) for that biennium, except calculations of needs shall be based upon a projection of needs for the ensuing six year period as determined by the state highway commission. Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3) of this section, such apportionment percentages shall be used once each calendar quarter by the urban arterial board to apportion funds credited to the urban arterial trust account which are available for expenditure for urban arterial projects. The funds so apportioned shall remain apportioned until expended on construction projects in accordance with rules and regulations of the urban arterial board.

(2) All amounts credited to the urban arterial trust account, except those provided for in subsection (3) of this section and except proceeds from the sale of first authorization bonds and any funds that may be required to repay such bonds or the interest thereon when due, after apportionment to each region, shall be divided on the basis of relative population established at the beginning of each biennium by the office of program planning and fiscal management between (a) the group of cities and that portion of those counties within federally approved urban areas and (b) the group of incorporated cities outside the boundaries of federally approved urban areas. Within each region, funds divided between the groups identified under (a) and (b) above shall then be allocated by the urban arterial board to incorporated cities and counties, as the case may be, for the construction of specific urban arterial projects in accordance with the procedures set forth in RCW 47.26.240.

(3) At the beginning of each biennium the urban arterial board shall establish apportionment percentages for each of the five regions for the apportionment of the proceeds from the sale of fifteen million dollars of series II bonds authorized by RCW 47.26.420, as now or hereafter amended, in the ratio which the population of the incorporated cities and towns lying outside the boundaries of federally approved urban areas of each region bears to the total population of all incorporated cities and towns of the state lying outside the boundaries of federally approved urban areas, as such populations are determined at the beginning of each biennium by the office of program planning and fiscal management. Such apportionment percentages shall be used once each calendar quarter by the urban arterial board to apportion funds credited to the urban arterial trust account which are available for expenditure for urban arterial projects. The funds so apportioned shall remain apportioned until expended on construction projects in accordance with rules and regulations of the urban arterial board. Funds apportioned to each region shall be allocated by the urban arterial board to incorporated cities lying outside the boundaries of federally approved urban areas, for the construction of specific urban arterial projects in accordance with the procedures set forth in RCW 47.26.240.

Sec. 15. Section 30, chapter 83, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 47.26.240 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon receipt of a county's or city's revised six year program, the urban arterial board as soon as practicable shall review and may revise the construction program as it relates to urban arterials for which urban arterial trust account moneys are requested as necessary to conform to (1) the priority rating of the proposed project, based upon the factors in RCW 47.26.220, in relation to proposed projects in all other urban arterial construction programs submitted by the cities and counties ((in the same region)), and within each region, projects proposed by the group of cities and counties within federally approved urban areas shall be evaluated separately from the projects proposed by the group of incorporated cities outside the boundaries of federally approved urban areas; and (2) the amount of urban arterial trust account funds which the urban arterial board estimates will be apportioned to the region, and further divided between the group of cities and counties within federally approved urban areas and the group of incorporated cities outside the boundaries of federally approved urban areas, in the ensuing six year period.

Sec. 16. Section 33, chapter 83, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 47.26.270 are each amended to read as follows:

Counties and cities receiving funds from the urban arterial trust account for construction of arterials shall provide such matching funds as shall be established by regulations recommended by the urban arterial board subject to review, revision, and final approval by the state highway commission. Matching requirements shall be established after appropriate studies by the board taking into account (1) financial resources available to counties and cities to meet arterial needs, (2) the amounts and percentages of funds available for road or street construction traditionally expended by counties and cities on arterials, (3) in the case of counties, the relative needs of arterials lying outside urban areas, and (4) the requirements necessary to avoid diversion of funds traditionally expended for arterial construction to other street or road purposes or to nonhighway purposes: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That for projects funded subsequent to the effective date of this 1977 amendatory act, and prior to July 1, 1983, cities and counties may use as matching funds any moneys received from any source, except such moneys which by law may not be used for the purposes set forth in this chapter.

Sec. 17. Section 41, chapter 83, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 47.26.405 are each amended to read as follows:

Any funds required to repay such bonds, or the interest thereon when due (~~subject to the proviso of this section,~~) shall be taken from that portion of the motor vehicle fund which results from the imposition of excise taxes on motor vehicle and special fuels and which is distributed to the state under the provisions of RCW ~~((82.36.020(2)))~~ 46.68.100(6) as now or hereafter amended for construction of state highways in urban areas, and shall never constitute a charge against any allocations of any other such funds to the state, counties, cities, and towns unless and until the amount of the motor vehicle fund arising from the excise taxes on motor vehicle and special fuels and available to the state for construction of state highways in urban areas proves insufficient to meet the requirements for bond retirement or interest on any such bonds.

Sec. 18. Section 45, chapter 83, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as amended by section 4, chapter 169, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 47.26.420 are each amended to read as follows:

In order to provide funds necessary to meet the urgent construction needs on county and city arterials within urban areas, there ~~((shall be issued and sold))~~ are hereby authorized for issuance general obligation bonds of the state of Washington, the first authorization of which shall be in the sum of two hundred million dollars ~~((or such amount thereof)),~~ and the second authorization of which, to be known as series II bonds, shall be in the sum of sixty million dollars which shall be issued and sold in such amounts and at such times as determined to be necessary by the state highway commission. The amount of such bonds issued and sold under the provisions of RCW 47.26.420 through 47.26.427 in any biennium shall not exceed the amount of a specific appropriation therefor, from the proceeds of such bonds, for the construction of county and city arterials in urban areas. The issuance, sale, and retirement of said bonds shall be under the supervision and control of the state finance committee which, upon request being made by the state highway commission, shall provide for the issuance, sale, and retirement of coupon or registered bonds to be dated, issued, and sold from time to time in such amounts as shall be requested by the state highway commission.

Sec. 19. Section 49, chapter 83, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as amended by section 6, chapter 169, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 47.26.424 are each amended to read as follows:

Bonds issued under the provisions of RCW 47.26.420 through 47.26.427 shall distinctly state that they are a general obligation of the state of Washington, shall pledge the full faith and credit of the state to the payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon, and shall contain an unconditional promise to pay such principal and interest as the same shall become due. The principal and interest on such bonds shall be first payable in the manner provided in RCW 47.26.420 through 47.26.427 from the proceeds of state excise taxes on motor vehicle and special fuels imposed by chapters 82.36 (~~RCW and chapter 82.40~~), 82.37, and 82.38 RCW. The proceeds of such excise taxes are hereby pledged to the payment of any bonds and the interest thereon issued under the provisions of RCW 47.26.420 through 47.26.427, and the legislature hereby agrees to continue to impose the same excise taxes on motor vehicle and special fuels in amounts sufficient to pay, when due, the principal and interest on all bonds issued under the provisions of RCW 47.26.420 through 47.26.427.

Sec. 20. Section 50, chapter 83, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 47.26.425 are each amended to read as follows:

Any funds required to repay (~~such~~) the first authorization of two hundred million dollars of bonds authorized by RCW 47.26.420, as amended by section 18 of this 1977 amendatory act or the interest thereon when due, (~~subject to the proviso of this section,~~) shall be taken from that portion of the motor vehicle fund which results from the imposition of excise taxes on motor vehicle and special fuels and which is distributed to the urban arterial trust account in the motor vehicle fund, and shall never constitute a charge against any allocations of any other such funds in the motor vehicle fund to the state, counties, cities, and towns unless and until the amount of the motor vehicle fund arising from the excise tax on motor vehicle and special fuels and distributed to the urban arterial trust account proves insufficient to meet the requirements for bond retirement or interest on any such bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. There is added to chapter 47.26 RCW a new section, to be codified as RCW 47.26.4251 and to become a part of the series of RCW sections 47.26.420 through 47.26.427, to read as follows:

Any funds required to repay the authorization of series II bonds authorized by RCW 47.26.420, as amended by section 18 of this 1977 amendatory act, or the interest thereon when due, shall be taken from that portion of the motor vehicle fund which results from the imposition of excise taxes on motor vehicle and special fuels imposed by chapters 82.36, 82.37, and 82.38 RCW and which is distributed to the urban arterial trust account in the motor vehicle fund, subject, however, to the prior lien of the first authorization of bonds authorized by RCW 47.26.420, as amended by section 18 of this 1977 amendatory act. If the moneys distributed to the urban arterial trust account shall ever be insufficient to repay the first authorization bonds together with interest thereon, and the series II bonds or the interest thereon when due, the amount required to make such payments on such bonds or interest thereon shall next be taken from that portion of the motor vehicle fund which results from the imposition of excise taxes on motor vehicle and special fuels and which is distributed to the state, counties, cities, and towns pursuant to RCW 46.68.100 as now or hereafter amended. Any payments on such bonds or interest thereon taken from motor vehicle or special fuel tax revenues which are distributable to the state, counties, cities, and towns, shall be repaid from the first moneys distributed to the urban arterial trust account not required for redemption of the first authorization bonds or series II bonds or interest on said bond issues.

Sec. 22. Section 14, chapter 83, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 47.26.080 are each amended to read as follows:

There is hereby created in the motor vehicle fund the urban arterial trust account. All moneys deposited in the motor vehicle fund to be credited to the urban arterial trust account shall be expended for the construction and improvement of city arterial streets and county arterial roads within urban areas, for expenses of the urban arterial board, or for the payment of principal or interest on bonds issued for the purpose of constructing or improving city arterial streets and county arterial roads within urban areas, or for reimbursement to the state, counties, cities, and towns in accordance with section 21 of this 1977 amendatory act, the amount of any payments made on principal or interest on urban arterial trust account bonds from motor vehicle or special fuel tax revenues which were distributable to the state, counties, cities, and towns.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. If any provision of this 1977 amendatory act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. This 1977 amendatory act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect on July 1, 1977, except for section 9, which shall take effect on September 1, 1977.

Passed the Senate June 20, 1977.

Passed the House June 20, 1977.

Approved by the Governor June 27, 1977.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State June 27, 1977.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to Title 19 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Experience under the pilot program of the business coordination act suggests that the number of state licenses and permits required for new businesses and the renewal of existing licenses places an undue burden on business. Studies under this act also show that the state can reduce its costs by coordinating application forms, information, and licenses. Therefore, the legislature extends the business coordination act by establishing a business registration and license program to develop and implement the following goals and objectives:

(1) The first goal of this system is to provide a convenient, accessible, and timely system for the business community to acquire and maintain the necessary state registrations and licenses to conduct business, which system shall be developed and operated in the most cost-efficient manner for the business community and state. The objectives of this goal are:

(a) To provide a service whereby information is available to the business community concerning all state registration and licensing requirements;

(b) To establish a system which will enable state agencies to efficiently store, retrieve, and exchange registration and license information with due regard to privacy statutes; to issue and renew master licenses where such licenses are appropriate; and to provide appropriate support services for this objective;

(c) To seek to provide at designated locations one consolidated application form to be completed by any given applicant; and

(d) To establish a state-wide system of common business identification.

(2) The second goal of this system is to reduce the total number of licenses required to conduct business in this state.

It is the intent of the legislature that the authority for determining if a requested license shall be issued shall remain with the agency legally authorized to issue the license or permit.

It is the further intent of the legislature that those licenses and permits which no longer serve a useful purpose in regulating certain business activities should be eliminated.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to Title 19 RCW a new section to read as follows:

As used in this 1977 amendatory act, the following words shall have the following meanings:

(1) "System" means the business registration and licensing center established by this 1977 amendatory act and located in and under the administrative control of the department of motor vehicles;

(2) "Board of review" means the body established to review policies and rules adopted by the department of motor vehicles for carrying out the provisions of this 1977 amendatory act;

(3) "Master license" means the document designed for public display issued by the system which certifies individual state agency approval for licenses the state requires for any person subject to the provisions of this 1977 amendatory act;

(4) "License" means the whole or part of any agency permit, license, certificate, approval, registration, charter, or any form or permission required by law, including agency rule, to engage in any activity; and

(5) "Person" means any individual, sole proprietorship, partnership, association, cooperative, corporation, nonprofit organization, state or local government agency, and any other organization required to register with the state to do business in the state and to obtain one or more licenses from the state or any of its agencies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is added to Title 19 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) There is created within the department of motor vehicles a business registration and licensing system.

(2) The duties of the system shall be:

(a) To establish a service before January 1, 1978, that will provide information to persons detailing all state licenses required to engage in business in this state and the locations for applying for those licenses;

(b) To develop before April 1, 1978, a common system of identifying businesses by all state agencies;

(d) To develop a computerized system before April 1, 1980, capable of storing, retrieving, and exchanging license information as well as issuing and renewing master licenses in an efficient manner.

(3) Every state agency shall review its licenses and recommend to the legislature on January 1, 1979, those licenses that should be eliminated or consolidated and justify those that should be retained.

(4) The plan for developing the system shall include a phased approach that:

Section 1. Section 1, chapter 131, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 74.38.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature recognizes the need for the ~~((further))~~ development and expansion of alternative services and forms of care for senior citizens. ~~((These alternative forms should be developed to assure that senior citizens receive the level of care needed and that appropriate resources are available to match client needs. Furthermore,))~~ Such services ((received)) should be designed to restore individuals to, or maintain them at, the level of independent living they are capable of attaining. ((Such a system of alternative care should be designed to allow senior citizens to move within this system, thus allowing the appropriate services to be rendered according to the care needs.)) These alternative services and forms of care should be designed to both complement the present forms of institutional care and create a system whereby appropriate services can be rendered according to the care needs of an individual. The provision of service should continue until the client is able to function independently, moves to an institution, moves from the state, dies, or withdraws from the program.

~~((Therefore, the legislature deems it to be the public policy of this state that programs shall be developed in order to more appropriately meet the care needs of senior citizens through the creation and/or expansion of alternative care services and a resulting reduction in institutional care))~~ Therefore, it shall be the policy of this state to develop, expand, or maintain those programs which provide an alternative to institutional care when that form of care is premature, unnecessary, or inappropriate.

In arriving at the amount of money, securities, or bond required under this subsection, the director shall take into consideration the financial ability of the employer to pay compensation and assessments and his or her probable continuity of operation. The money, securities, or bond so deposited shall be held by the director to secure the payment of compensation by the self-insurer and to secure payment of his or her assessments. The amount of security may be increased or decreased from time to time by the director. The income from any securities deposited may be distributed currently to the self-insurer.

(3) Securities or money deposited by an employer pursuant to subsection (2) of this section shall be returned to him or her upon his or her written request provided the employer files the bond required by such subsection.

(5) A self-insurer may reinsure a portion of his or her liability under this title with any reinsurer authorized to transact such reinsurance in this state: PROVIDED, That the reinsurer may not participate in the administration of the responsibilities of the self-insurer under this title. The sufficiency of such statement shall be subject to the approval of the director: PROVIDED, That the director may in his or her discretion and for the effective administration of this title require an employer in individual instances to furnish a supplementary report containing the name of each individual ((workman)) worker, his or her hours worked, his or her rate of pay and the class or classes in which such work was performed: PROVIDED FURTHER, That in the event an employer shall furnish the department with four consecutive quarterly reports wherein each such quarterly report indicates that no premium is due the department may close the account: ((AND,)) PROVIDED FURTHER, That the department may promulgate rules and regulations in accordance with chapter 34.04 RCW to establish other reporting periods and payment due dates in lieu of reports and payments following each calendar quarter, and may also establish terms and conditions for payment of premiums and assessments based on estimated payrolls, with such payments being subject to approval as to sufficiency of the estimated payroll by the department, and also subject to appropriate periodic adjustments made by the department based on actual payroll: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That a temporary help company which provides workers on a temporary basis to its customers shall be considered the employer for purposes of reporting and paying premiums and assessments under this title according to the appropriate rate classifications as determined by the department: PROVIDED, That the employer shall be liable for paying premiums and assessments, should the temporary help company fail to pay the premiums and assessments under this title.

Sec. 12. Section 51.16.110, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 4, chapter 289, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 51.16.110 are each amended to read as follows:

Every employer who shall enter into any business, or who shall resume operations in any work or plant after the final adjustment of his or her payroll in connection therewith, or who was formerly a self-insurer and wishes to continue his or her operations subject to this title, shall, before so commencing or resuming or continuing operations, as the case may be, notify the ((director)) department of such fact, accompanying such notification with a cash deposit in a sum equal to the estimated premiums for the first three full calendar months of his or her proposed operations which shall remain on deposit subject to the other provisions of this section.

The ((director)) department may, in ((his)) its discretion and in lieu of such deposit, accept a bond, in an amount which ((he)) it deems sufficient, to secure payment of premiums due or to become due to the accident fund and medical aid fund. The deposit or posting of a bond shall not relieve the employer from paying premiums subsequently due.

Should the employer acquire sufficient assets to assure the payment of premiums due to the accident fund and the medical aid fund the ((director)) department may, in ((his)) its discretion, refund the deposit or cancel the bond.

If the employer ceases to be an employer under ((RCW 51.08.070)) this title, the ((director)) department shall, upon receipt of all payments due the accident

The difference between the charge thus assessed to ~~((the))~~ such employer at the time of said further injury or disease and the total cost of the pension reserve shall be assessed against the second injury fund. The department shall pass upon the application of this section in all cases where benefits are paid for total permanent disability or death and issue an order thereon appealable by the employer. Pending outcome of such appeal the transfer or payment shall be made as required by such order.

(2) The department shall, in cases of claims of workers sustaining injuries or occupational diseases in the employ of state fund employers, recompute the experience record of such employers when the claims of workers injured in their employ have been found to qualify for payments from the second injury fund after the regular time for computation of such experience records and the department may make appropriate adjustments in such cases including cash refunds or credits to such employers.

(3) To encourage employment of injured workers who are not reemployed by the employer at the time of injury, the department may adopt rules providing for the reduction or elimination of premiums or assessments from subsequent employers of such workers and may also adopt rules for the reduction or elimination of charges against such employers in the event of further injury to such workers in their employ.

Sec. 14. Section 51.32.030, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 and RCW 51.32.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Any ~~((individual employer or any member or officer of any corporate employer who is carried upon the payroll at a salary or wage not less than the average salary or wage named in such payroll))~~ sole proprietor, partner, or joint venturer who has requested coverage under this title and who shall thereafter be injured or sustain an occupational disease, shall be entitled to the benefit of this title, as and under the same circumstances and subject to the same obligations as a ~~((workman))~~ worker: PROVIDED, That no such ~~((employer))~~ person or the beneficiaries ~~((of such employer))~~ thereof shall be entitled to benefits under this title unless the ~~((director, prior to the date of the injury,))~~ department has received notice in writing ~~((of the~~ fact that such employer is being carried upon the payroll)) of such request on such forms as the department may provide prior to the date of the injury or occupational disease as the result of which claims ((for a compensation)) are made: PROVIDED, That the department shall have the power to cancel the personal coverage of any such person if any required payments or reports have not been made.

Sec. 15. Section 1, chapter 19, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 51.32.073 are each amended to read as follows:

Each employer shall retain from the earnings of each ((workman)) worker that amount as shall be fixed from time to time by the director, the basis for measuring said amount to be determined by the director. The money so retained shall be matched in an equal amount by each employer, and all such moneys shall be remitted to the department in such manner and at such intervals as the department directs and shall be placed in the supplemental pension fund: PROVIDED, That the state apprenticeship council shall pay the entire amount into the supplemental pension fund for registered apprentices or trainees during their participation in supplemental and related instruction classes. The moneys so collected shall be used exclusively for the additional payments from the supplemental pension fund prescribed in this title and for the amount of any increase payable under the provisions of RCW 51.32.075 as now or hereafter amended and shall be no more than necessary to make such payments on a current basis. The department may require a self-insurer to make any additional payments which are payable from the supplemental pension fund and thereafter such self-insurer shall be reimbursed therefrom.

Sec. 16. Section 12, chapter 289, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as amended by section 23, chapter 43, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 51.32.095 are each amended to read as follows:

One of the primary purposes of this title is the restoration of the injured ((workman)) worker to gainful employment. To this end, the department shall utilize the services of individuals whose experience, training, and interests in vocational rehabilitation and retraining qualify them to lend expert assistance to the supervisor of industrial insurance in such programs of vocational rehabilitation or retraining as may be reasonable to qualify the ((workman)) worker for employment consistent with his or her physical and mental status. Where, after evaluation and recommendation by such individuals and prior to final evaluation of the ((workman's)) worker's permanent disability and in the sole opinion of the supervisor, vocational rehabilitation or retraining is both necessary and likely to restore the injured ((workman)) worker to a form of gainful employment, the supervisor may, in his or her sole discretion, pay or, if the employer is a self-insurer, direct the self-insurer to pay the cost of books, tuition, fees, supplies, equipment, and transportation for any such worker in an amount not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars in any calendar year, and continue the temporary total disability compensation under RCW 51.32.090 while the ((workman)) worker is actively and successfully undergoing a formal program of vocational rehabilitation or retraining: PROVIDED, That such compensation or payment of such vocational rehabilitation or retraining expenses may not be authorized for a period of more than fifty-two weeks: PROVIDED FURTHER, That such period may, in the sole discretion of the supervisor after his or her review, be extended for an additional fifty-two weeks or portion thereof by written order of the supervisor.

In cases where the ~~((workman))~~ worker is required to reside away from his or her customary residence, the reasonable cost of board and lodging shall also be paid. Said costs shall be chargeable to the employer's cost experience or shall be paid by the self-insurer ~~((for workmen to whom he is liable for compensation and benefits under the provisions of this title))~~ as the case may be.

Sec. 17. Section 51.32.110, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 13, chapter 289, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 51.32.110 are each amended to read as follows:

However, such reduction shall not apply when the combined compensation provided pursuant to chapter 51.32 RCW and the federal old-age, survivors and disability insurance act is less than the total benefits to which the federal reduction would apply, pursuant to 42 USC 424a.
