RESOLUTION

Resolution by Mr. O'Brien:

Resolved, That the rules which governed the House of Representatives for the first extraordinary session of the thirty-second legislature be adopted by the House as the permanent rules of this second extraordinary session of the thirty-second legislature.

On motion of Mr. O'Brien, the resolution was adopted.

The Speaker called on Mr. S. R. Holcomb, Chief Clerk of the first extraordinary session of the thirty-second legislature, to preside.

The Chief Clerk declared that nominations for Speaker of the House of Representatives were in order.

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Paulsen.

Mr. Paulsen:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Members of the House:

"We are meeting here at a critical time in the State of Washington and the people of the State of Washington are looking to us for leadership and a solution to the problems which are now in the hands of the legislators.

"The State of Washington and we members of the legislature are very fortunate to have one of our colleagues who is capable enough, I believe, to lead us through this special session and find an answer to some of the problems which we are facing. I am referring to our highly esteemed colleague, Charles Hodde, with whom I have had the privilege of serving in three regular sessions and two special sessions.

"I know Mr. Hodde has the knowledge of state government, and he has the confidence of every one of us. He will coordinate our action and lead us to the solution of the problems thrust upon us. He is a man of the highest integrity and has the greatest understanding of state affairs. He is our friend and the colleague with whom we have worked during the past regular and special sessions.

"I offer the name of Charles Hodde of Stevens County as Speaker of the House of Representatives."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Comfort.

Mr. Comfort:

"The State of Washington is extremely fortunate in that it has so many people who are capable of honoring the position of Speaker of the House of Representatives, and this legislature is likewise extremely fortunate in having more than one man who is capable of filling the position. I offer to you the name of a man who has served well in this House for several sessions. He is capable and has knowledge of parliamentary procedure to perfection. He has the honesty and capacity to fill this job; he is understanding and he is tolerant. I offer for your consideration the name of Perry B. Woodall of Yakima County."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Stokes.

Mr. Stokes:

"At the first session now a long while ago, I said it was regrettable that my first utterances in this chamber would be directed to a matter which I thought impugned the honor of a people. No such regret is present today as I rise to second the nomination of Mr. Woodall. He is a very capable attorney from Yakima County and I am very happy to second his nomination as Speaker of the House of Representatives."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. O'Brien.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Chief Justice Finley, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House:

"It is my privilege to second the nomination of Charles W. Hodde. He is a very astute student of state government of the State of Washington. I know that. I have served with him in past sessions and he has steered us well and capably. He at all times seemed to have the right answers for our problems. I know that in special sessions we must have leadership, and in this second extraordinary session we again need him to help solve our problems. If we follow his advice we will have our appropriation bill out tomorrow and have a few days recess for the purpose of studying our taxation picture. If we do that, I know we will do the job well. It is my pleasure to second the nomination of Charles W. Hodde."

There being no further nominations, the Clerk called the roll and Mr. Hodde was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives by the following vote: Mr. Hodde, 52; Mr. Woodall, 41; absent or not voting, 6.

MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR ARTHUR B. LANGLEIE TO THE LEGISLATURE

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Legislature:

We meet here today under conditions of utmost urgency. The state supreme court decision of last Monday has invalidated many million dollars worth of state warrants already issued. The decision has made it illegal for state officials to issue any more warrants until a new appropriation bill is enacted. At the last session the combination of the appropriations with a tax measure offered a somewhat remote possibility of resolving our difficulties. The supreme court has now blasted that possibility and has cleared up in a very definite way a number of questions regarding the imposition of taxes that have been bandied about in legislative halls for some time. The decision, moreover, has voided the four per cent corporation tax by means of which it was hoped to stabilize the financial condition of the state.

The result is that state government finances are virtually at a standstill, presenting us with an emergency of the first order. It is an emergency which affects the personal interests of all of our citizens, for everyone in the state is a recipient of state services in some form. The emergency is especially acute, however, with respect to the thousands of our citizens who are dependent, from month to month, upon social security grants.

In view of this situation I had no recourse but to call the thirty-second legislature back into extraordinary session on extremely short notice. In recognition of our mutual responsibilities to the people of the state, I earnestly ask that you join me in laying aside all considerations, personal or partisan, which may interfere in the least with our forthright and effective dealing with the problems which here confront us. Let us approach the task in a spirit of candor and cooperation and resolve that our only goal shall be the best interests of the state.

The matter of greatest urgency is the ratification of appropriations already expended and the enactment of new appropriations for the remainder of the biennium. I recommend that this be accomplished by the immediate reenactment of the appropriations as contained in sections one and two of Chapter 10, Laws of First Extraordinary Session, 1951.

These appropriations were approved by your committees and in your general sessions, after a great deal of study. Our experience during the first five months of this biennium has demonstrated a general ability to operate with the appropriations made. There have been some areas in which sufficient money was not made available to do a really adequate job and in some instances we are losing competent employees. I point this out to you because those of you who feel there can be sharp reductions of any consequence in this present budget should understand that in many areas we are operating on a sub-standard basis, not actually being fair to many people dependent upon the state nor to many of those working in public service for the state. This inflationary period has hit state employees as hard as other people. Many private and public employers have granted their employees cost of living increases which we have been unable to give to ours.

There is no reason to believe that, in the brief period now available to you before action would be imperatively required, that a resurvey of these appropriations would indicate substantial reductions which could be safely made.

In addition it should be realized that expenditures during the first five months of the biennium have already been made on the basis of the appropriations set forth in Chapter 10, Laws of the First Extraordinary Session, 1951. The sixth month, September, being a part of the second quarter of the first fiscal year of the biennium also carries commitments for expenditures at the same rate, because of reliance on our budget control procedure. Therefore, any change in appropriations which you may determine to make should apply only to the last year and a half of the biennium leaving unimpaired the expenditures made at the present rate during the first six months. You should keep in mind further that the schools and other educational institutions of the state have entered into contractual obligations with their teachers based on an estimate of income on their part, in accordance with appropriations heretofore made.

While enactment of general appropriations is obviously the most urgent task, the balancing of the current budget and the reduction of the accumulated general fund deficit before this extraordinary session adjourns is also very important.

There is no need of my entering into a long discussion with you, the legislature, about our financial difficulties. This is the third session since January, 1951, in which the same problems have come up for consideration. While some of the figures have changed, the basic aspects for legislative determination are identical.

The deficit for the past biennium, as the books were closed, amounted to 44 million dollars. The estimates of revenue set up by the tax commission upon which we have been operating this biennium have thus far very closely approximated the figures that were presented to the legislature and it appears that the tax commission's estimates are statistically very sound. Assuming that we operated on the basis of appropriations that have been made this biennium, the budget division calculated that we will close this period with an additional deficit of approximately 30 million dollars.

There is one encouraging development to be noted. The monthly operating deficit is now one and a quarter million dollars as compared to a three million dollar monthly deficit in the last biennium.

Reductions substantial enough to balance the budget would in my opinion seriously impair essential state services, inflict severe hardships upon large groups of our people and jeopardize the natural resources necessary to assure the livelihood of many. This is why I have recommended reenactment of the appropriations which you approved at your last session.

The only course open, therefore, is increased revenue. I had hoped that the four per cent corporation tax which you approved would provide the solution to our budget-balancing problem. In recommending this approach, however, I called your attention to the serious question concerning the legality of such a tax. I expressed the hope that it could be enacted early in your regular session so that there could be a court test before that session adjourned. This desire did not materialize. The state supreme court has now invalidated such a tax. There must, therefore, be some other new source of revenue utilized.

The members of this particular legislature have reviewed from time to time all available tax sources in the State of Washington—from additional liquor taxes to extending the sales tax to personal services, and many others.

Most of you are familiar with these tax sources and know approximately what they will raise. As far as I am concerned, I will share with you the responsibility for selecting those that will do the best job, under the circumstances, to raise the necessary funds, to put the State of Washington on a sound financial basis.

I close this message as I began it. We are faced with a grave financial emergency. Our task is both great and urgent. There is no time or excuse for temporizing. Our plain duty is to get down to brass tacks on this problem. All of the people of the state are looking to Olympia today and will keep their eyes in this direction until our job is done. If it is to be a job well done, as God grant that it may, we must, these next few days, work together fairly, industriously and unselfishly as servants of all the people.

The President directed the special committee to escort His Excellency, Governor Arthur B. Langlie to the governor's chambers.

The special committee thereupon escorted the governor from the House chamber. (Applause.)

The Speaker resumed the chair and directed the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House to escort the Lieutenant Governor to the Senate chamber.

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the House thereupon escorted the Lieutenant Governor from the House chamber. (Applause.)

On motion of Mr. Adams, the joint session was dissolved.

The Speaker directed the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate to escort the Senators to the Senate chamber.

The House resumed its session.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

Department of State, Office of the Secretary,
Olympia, Wash., August 24, 1951.

*To the Honorable, The Speaker of the House of Representatives,
The Legislature of the State of Washington, Olympia, Washington.*

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith pursuant to section 12, Article III of the Constitution of the State of Washington, for the consideration of the House of Representatives, certified copies of the following bills passed by the House and Senate in the extraordinary session of the thirty-second session of legislature and partially vetoed by the governor together with his veto message attached thereto.

They are Substitute House Bill No. 1 and House Bill No. 4.

Respectfully,

EARL COE, Secretary of State

Executive Department,
Olympia, Wash., April 16, 1951.

To the Honorable, The House of Representatives of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to certain items, Substitute House Bill No. 1, entitled:

"An Act providing for the support of the state government, making appropriations for salaries, operations, maintenance and other expenses of state institutions, departments and offices, for the purchase, condemnation and improvement of land, the construction of buildings and improvements for the various state institutions designated and mentioned, and for emergencies, and for refunds, and for the relief of certain individuals, corporations, counties and municipalities, and for transfers, and for deficiencies, and for appropriation of revolving funds, and for sundry civil expenses of the state government, and for public assistance, and for purposes specified in certain acts of Congress, and for miscellaneous purposes, for the fiscal biennium beginning April 1, 1951, and ending March 31, 1953, except as otherwise provided, imposing an excise tax upon corporations, prescribing penalties, and declaring that certain parts of this act shall take effect immediately, and that certain other parts shall take effect May 1, 1951."

I disapprove and veto that portion of section 2 which reads:

"Provided, That no part of any appropriation contained in this act shall be used to pay the salary, wages, or grant of any person who believes in or who is a member of or who supports any organization that believes in or teaches the overthrow of the United States government by force or by any illegal or unconstitutional methods: Provided Further, That no part of any appropriation contained in this act shall be used to pay the salary, wages, or grant of any person while engaged in strike against the State of Washington, or any office, department or agency thereof, or against any political subdivision of the state: Provided Further, That for the purposes hereof an affidavit filed with the state auditor by the payee prior to the issuance of any warrant, or in lieu thereof a certificate by the responsible officer certifying that the payee or payees for whom vouchers or payrolls are submitted have filed with such officer such affidavit, shall be prima facie evidence that the person making it, or filing the same with the responsible officer, has not acted contrary to the provisions herein set forth: And provided further, That any person who believes in or who is a member of or who supports any organization that believes in or teaches the overthrow of the United States government by force or by any illegal or unconstitutional methods and accepts employment, the salary, wages, or grant for which is paid from any appropriation contained in this act, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisoned in the county jail for not more than one (1) year, or both.", for the reason that it would impose upon thousands of our aged and blind citizens the burden of appearing before a notary, paying a fee from their meager funds, executing a loyalty affidavit and filing it either with the state auditor or with the director of the state department of social security before becoming eligible to receive payment of the grant awarded them.

Such a provision would be considered insulting and discriminatory in its effect upon these people, many of whom have given a major portion of their lives to the building of our great state and are among our most loyal citizens. To stigmatize them with the suspicion of being subversive would be playing directly into the hands of the leaders of those who are truly subversive and would defeat the intended purpose of the legislature.

No greater opportunity to stir up confusion and dissension among our people could be given to our enemies than to attempt to pursue such a course.

In view of the additional fact that the director of social security and others charged with the administration of our social security laws have stressed the impracticability of attempting to secure such affidavits and have joined in the request that these provisions be vetoed, and of the further fact that the Subversive Activities Act (Senate Bill No. 379, chapter 254, Laws of 1951) is now in effect and the protection intended in these provisions is amply afforded by existing law, this item is vetoed.

I disapprove and veto the item "Bureau of Statistics and Immigration: Salaries, Wages and Operations and State Resources Program $35,000.00" for the reason that in my opinion sufficient funds have been provided in the regular appropriations for the Secretary of State to support the duties required by law of said bureau.

I disapprove and veto the item "To carry out provisions of House Bill No. 536 to re-establish and monument corners in the surveys of Aberdeen, Hoquiam, and Cosmopolis tidelands $15,000.00" for the reason that House Bill No. 536 failed of passage.

I disapprove and veto the item "To carry out provisions of Senate Bill No. 185, relating to Apiculture $10,000.00" for the reason that Senate Bill No. 185 failed of passage.

I disapprove and veto the item "From the Game Fund. To General Fund (being 25% of the amount expended from the Washington State Development fund by the Department of Game for Capital Outlays) $273,750.00" for the reason that there is a question as to whether this payment would constitute a diversion of license fees under state and federal laws and I do not consider it advisable at this time to jeopardize our wild life conservation program for the amount involved in this appropriation.

I disapprove and veto the item "Messrs. Lance, Maguire and Muri, architects, for architectural services at Soldiers' Home at Orting, payment to be made only upon a receipt in full and the dismissal of Thurston County cause No. 23672 with prejudice $4,000.00" for the reason that this case relates to the question of certain public officials exceeding their authority and involves a serious question of public policy, therefore I believe that the determination of liability, if any exists, should abide the result of suitable court action.

I disapprove and veto the item "South Columbia Basin Irrigation District $450.54" for the reason that this item under the Treasurer of Adams County is a clerical error and in duplication of a similar item correctly entered under the Treasurer of Franklin County.

With the exception of the foregoing items which are vetoed the remainder of Substitute House Bill No. 1 is approved.

I have done this in the full understanding of the hazards involved as to the constitutionality of this legislation. The Attorney General, in his opinion, has advised that on many of the questions raised in connection with the bill its constitutionality can be sustained. As to the constitutionality of the corporate franchise tax, however, the Attorney General has advised that while a good case can be made in support of it, in view of previous decisions of the court, the ultimate sustaining of the act is uncertain.

This is far from being a perfect bill. The confusions in the legislative processes which marked its passage challenged description and stand as a reproach and a perversion of the orderly conduct of public affairs. But, in view of the difficulty of the legislature in reaching any agreement as to an acceptable tax source after two attempts, it seems that the most feasible course is to permit this law to be tested in the courts, although some months' delay may result. Therefore, I have approved this section of the bill in the hope that the legal questions will be settled in the shortest possible time.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR B. LANGLIE, Governor

Executive Department,
Olympia, Wash., April 13, 1951.

To the Honorable, The House of Representatives of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to the last unnumbered item of section 1, consisting of the following:

"Provided Further, That no person, firm or corporation, licensed in any class under chapter 66.24, R.C.W., nor any agent or employee of such person, firm or corporation, shall have any interest, direct or indirect, and whether as owner, mortgagee, pledgee, consignee, or bailee, in any coin-operated amusement device or machine, other than a device or machine maintained and operated on the premises under license to such person, firm or corporation, or maintained and operated exclusively for charitable purposes," and as to section 16, of House Bill No. 4, entitled:

"An Act relating to revenue and taxation; amending certain sections of Title 82, R.C.W.; and declaring an emergency and an effective date."

I am advised that the last unnumbered item of section 1, the content of which is set forth above, was added to section 1 by Senate amendment at the very last moment and for that reason it possibly was not given the consideration it deserved. Its effect is to prohibit a tavern or cocktail bar licensee under the liquor act from having any interest in any juke box or other coin-operated amusement device other than such as are maintained in his own licensed premises or such as are operated exclusively for charitable purposes.

While I have no quarrel with the object sought by such provision, it obviously has no place whatever in a revenue measure. Its proper place would have been in a bill dealing with liquor licensees. Under our Constitution no bill shall embrace more than one subject and that must be expressed in the title thereof. With this provision in the bill, House Bill No. 4 clearly contains two subjects and its presence therein serves to seriously jeopardize the remainder of the bill dealing with revenue. Moreover, the matter of regulating licensees of amusement devices in taverns and cocktail bars is not mentioned in the title. For these reasons the unnumbered item referred to is vetoed.

Section 16 of House Bill No. 4 provides that "section 6 of this act" shall have retrospective as well as prospective effect. I am advised that the reference should have been to an entirely different section of the act; that the erroneous reference to "section 6" was inadvertent, and that unless section 16 is vetoed the effect might be to lead to unnecessary complications in the future administration of our revenue act. For this reason section 16 is vetoed.

With the exception of the provisions above noted as vetoed, the remainder of House Bill No. 4 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
ARTHUR B. LANGLIE, Governor

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Adams, the bills together with the veto messages were referred to the Committee on Rules and Order.

Senate Chamber,

HERBERT H. SIELER, Secretary.

MOTION

Mr. Woodall moved that the rules be suspended and that Senate Bill No. 9 be placed on first reading.

The motion was carried.

FIRST READING OF SENATE BILLS

Senate Bill No. 9, by Senator Hall:

An Act relating to state funds; suspending the operation of section 43.09.080, R.C.W.; and declaring an emergency.

The bill was read the first time by title.

On motion of Mr. Olson (Ole H.), the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 9 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 9, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 88; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 10.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Anderson (B. Roy), Anderson (Eva), Bailey, Bassett, Beierlein, Bernethy, Brown (Henry A.), Carmichael, Carty, Clark, Comfort, Connor, Cooney, Cory, Donohue, Dootson, Eldridge, Ford, Forrest, Frayn, Gallagher, Giboney, Gordon, Griffith, Hallauer, Hansen, Hawley, Henry (Al), Henry (Edward E.), Hess, Hillyer, Hoefel, Hoff, Hofmeister, Holliday, Hoopingarner, Hurley, Jeffreys, Johnson (Charlie), Jones (Mrs. Vincent F.), Jones (W. Kenneth), Kellogg, King, Kirk, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, Lester, Lorimer, Mardesich, Mayes, McLean, Miller (Clyde J.), Miller (Floyd C.), Morris, Nunamaker, O'Brien, Olsen (Ray), Olson (Ole H.), Orndorff, Ovenell, Pedersen, Phillips, Rasmussen, Ridgway, Riemcke, Roderick, Sandison, Savage, Schumann, Shadbolt, Siler, Simmons, Sisson, Smith, Sorensen, Stokes, Stonecipher, Strom, Testu, Timm, Vane, Wedekind, Wenberg, Wintler, Woodall, Young, Mr. Speaker—88.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Adams, Ball, Brown (Gordon J.), Huhta, Johnston (Elmer E.), Jones (John R.), Loney, Neill, Paulsen, Powell—10.

Senate Bill No. 9, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

On motion of Mr. Woodall, Senate Bill No. 9 was ordered immediately transmitted to the Senate.

The Speaker observed within the bar of the House Congressman Hugh B. Mitchell of the First Congressional District of the State of Washington, and directed the Sergeant-at-Arms to escort him to a seat on the rostrum beside the Speaker.

The Speaker:

"Ladies and Gentleman of the House, Congressman Hugh B. Mitchell. Congressman Mitchell, we are very pleased to have you with us today and would be very happy to have a few words from you on any subject you think would be of interest to the House." (Applause.)

Congressman Mitchell:

"Thank you very much, Speaker Hodde, and ladies and gentleman of the House. I appreciate very much the honor of being able to come here and say 'hello'. I would like to bring the respects of the House of Representatives from the national capitol to the House of Representatives here in the State of Washington.

"Certainly I can take a very definite story of efficiency back to the national House of Representatives. Someone told me a minute ago there was going to be a roll call and, of course, I thought there would be a long time between the start of the roll call and the announcement of the results. All of a sudden someone was announcing the results without any time at all having elapsed. If we in the national congress could meet your time on a roll call, we could do a great deal more work each day and each week. It takes forty-five minutes just to call a roll. I think the time on your roll call was really something. It shows the devotion to business which this House exemplifies. I do not wish to say here today that the House of Representatives in the national capitol is loafing on the job. They certainly are not.

"I hope that in some of the legislation you are going to have in this session, you are not going to have the difficulties we have had in ping-ponging appropriations bills back and forth. We are supposed to get all appropriations bills passed by the end of the fiscal year, June 30th. We did not pass one of them on June 30th. We are still working on the majority of those bills and we hope that before September is through the routine appropriations bills for the year that started July 1st will have been passed.

"One of the bills which will come up shortly after the reconvening of congress on September 12th will be the civil functions appropriation bill which, as you all know, carries some $115,000,000 for hydro-electric power and flood control and navigation projects in the Pacific northwest, a good many of them in the State of Washington. That represents about a $30,000,000 increase over what was appropriated by the House of Representatives. Therefore, when the bill comes back to us, we are going to have a job to maintain the position of the Senate against the opposition to appropriations in the House of Representatives. However, I feel that the full amount of $115,000,000 should be appropriated because it is not only in the best defense interests to get additional power flowing into our lines here in the Pacific northwest, but it is also in the interest of developing our economy here in the Pacific northwest. In this manner we can do the very greatest job in producing those things so necessary in the arsenal of this country in order that it may support the arsenal of the free countries which are so essential to the maintenance of a free world today. We have a tremendous job to do in stemming the tide of Communism. I think that tide is being stemmed in western Europe. We have a long way to go.

"A number of people have asked me what the national defense program is going to mean to the State of Washington. That is almost an impossible question. The last time I looked at the allocation of contracts for the State of Washington, there were over $1,542,000,000 of contracts which had been awarded in the State of Washington. That placed us twelfth of all of the states in the country in the field of national defense contracts. No one can tell what contracts are going to be let here in future months. No one can say with any degree of certainty what effect that is going to have on our economy. But, anyone can see that it is going to have a very great impact. Today with $342,000,000 in contracts with the Air Force, $120,000,000 in contracts with the Navy, and about $60,000,000 with the Army, you can see that our government is turning to this state for a great deal of the production necessary to the defense effort.

"One thing that too few people understand is that we are not yet feeling the impact of the defense program. The newspapers tell the story of a million dollars in contracts being let by the defense agencies each week. They, of course, immediately transform that into actual production and, of course, it takes quite a while for that production to start to flow from the lines.

"Charles Wilson, in appearing before committees of congress, said that starting this Fall, the nation will have actual production of between $4,500,000,000 and $5,000,000,000 worth of defense goods coming off the production lines of the various factories of these United States, and when it has reached that point, we will see the tremendous impact of the program which has been outlined for the defense authorities by Charles Wilson, who is doing a great job in the mobilization of our production facilities. That is going to have a big effect on the economy of Washington. If you add to that the AEC expenditures, McNary, Chief Joseph and Albany dams, and, I hope, The Dalles dam, we can readily recognize that the federal government is going to have a sizeable program which will have a definite effect on the economy of Washington state.

It has been a pleasure to be here today. Again I thank you for the honor of letting me talk to you today." (Applause.)

The Speaker:

"I am going to ask Congressman Mitchell to remain on the rostrum and, if he can learn anything here that will be beneficial in Washington D. C., I'm sure they can use it."

There being no objection, the House returned to the fifth order of business for the purpose of receiving committee reports.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

Executive Department,
Olympia, Wash., August 28, 1951.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to a certain item and Section 3 of House Bill No. 5, entitled:

"An Act making appropriations and reappropriations for the payment of salaries of certain officers and employees of the state and for the operation, maintenance and other expenses of certain state institutions, departments and offices, for the purchase, condemnation and improvement of land, the construction of buildings and improvements for the various state institutions designated and mentioned, and for emergencies, and for refunds, and for the relief of certain individuals, corporations, counties and municipalities, and for transfers, and for deficiencies, and for appropriation of revolving funds, and for sundry civil expenses of the state government, and for public assistance, and for purposes specified in certain acts of Congress, and for miscellaneous purposes, for the fiscal biennium beginning April 1, 1951, and ending March 31, 1953, except as otherwise provided, defining terms, limiting allowances and payments, prescribing penalties, validating, confirming, and ratifying appropriations and expenditures made under Chapter 10, Laws First Extraordinary Session, 1951, and obligations incurred thereunder, and declaring that this act shall take effect immediately."

I disapprove and veto that portion of Section 2 which reads:

"FROM THE PARKS AND PARKWAY FUND to General Fund (Being the amount expended from the Washington State Development Fund by the State Parks and Recreation Commission for construction of facilities at Dry Falls State Park).....$389,999.70," for the reason that in an opinion dated March 30, 1951, the Attorney General ruled:

"The Legislature could not transfer funds from the Parks and Parkway Fund so long as Section 2, Chapter 52, Laws of 1949, remains on the book."

For the foregoing reason the item is vetoed.

I disapprove and veto Section 3 which reads:

"It is the intent of the Legislature and it hereby directs that the administrative agencies of state government, elected or otherwise, attempt to reduce their expenses of operation by a minimum of at least 2½ per cent for the rest of this biennium.

"We hereby direct every agency of state government, within thirty days of the Governor's signing of this bill, to file with the Department of Budget and the Legislative Budget Committee a statement of their actions in this connection.

"It is not the intention of the Legislature by the above, to in any way direct any reduction in any of the funds to be used for schools, public welfare, the industrial insurance programs of the state or state institutions," primarily because there is a possibility of questioning the constitutionality of the entire bill. The Supreme Court in its recent decision invalidating the omnibus appropriation and corporate tax measure passed by the First Extraordinary Session, was most emphatic in pointing out the necessity for confining an appropriation bill to the subject of appropriations only.

In the light of the foregoing and the present emergency, it behooves us not to jeopardize even slightly the validity of this law by allowing such a provision to remain and make it subject to challenge in the courts. This provision does not, will not reduce in any way any expenditures by administrative agencies. It is advisory in its intent but mandatory in its direction to every state agency to file reports. It touches but a small area of the administrative branch of government and reversions from the various departments normally returned will far exceed the recommendations made.

With the exception of the provisions above noted as vetoed, the remainder of House Bill No. 5 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR B. LANGLEY,
Governor.

On motion of Mr. O'Brien, the governor's message was referred to the Committee on Rules and Order.

Executive Department,
Olympia, Wash., August 28, 1951.

To the Honorable, The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

House Bill No. 1:

"An Act appropriating the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the actual and necessary expenses of the legislature, and declaring an emergency."

House Bill No. 2:

"An Act appropriating the sum of thirty thousand four hundred and fifty dollars ($30,450.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the actual and necessary expenses of the members of the legislature for lodging and subsistence actually incurred and paid by them while absent from their places of residence in the service of the state, and declaring an emergency."

Very truly yours,

MERRITT E. BENSON,
Assistant to the Governor.

MOTION

Mr. Olsen (Ray) moved that the rules be suspended, that House Bill No. 20 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill placed on final passage.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Woodall:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. The bill has already passed to third reading which means it automatically went to the Rules Committee."

Mr. Hurley:

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. Woodall's point is not well taken because the motion was to suspend the rules."

The Speaker:

"That doesn't change the position of the bill, however. The question Mr. Woodall raised is whether the bill is in possession of the Rules Committee, and the Speaker has ruled on previous occasions that, after a bill has passed to third reading and we have proceeded to the next bill on the calendar, the motion is out of order."

Mr. Hurley:

"When a man makes a motion to suspend the rules, all rules are suspended."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The rules are not suspended until after the vote has been taken. The proposition to suspend the rules cannot change the position of bills in the House until the rules have been suspended by a vote of the House. The rules provide that, if a bill is in Rules Committee, which the Speaker will rule is the case on Mr. Woodall's point of order, it does require a suspension of the rules to bring it out of the Rules Committee. However, the bill is not before the House and the first motion would have to be a motion to take the bill from the Rules Committee."

MOTION

Mr. Hurley:

"Mr. Speaker, I move that the rules be suspended and that House Bill No. 20 be taken from the Rules Committee and immediately placed on the third reading calendar."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Woodall:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Hurley can move that the bill be taken from the Rules Committee, but the motion to place the bill on the third reading calendar must be made separately."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The motion is compound. The Speaker will rule in this case that the motion to relieve the Rules Committee of House Bill No. 20 should be voted on separately. Do you wish to restate your motion, Mr. Hurley?"

Mr. Hurley:

"I move that the rules be suspended and that the Rules Committee be relieved of further consideration of House Bill No. 20."

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the motion by Mr. Hurley that the rules be suspended and that the Committee on Rules and Order be relieved of further consideration of House Bill No. 20.

The motion was lost.

House Bill No. 8, by Representatives Paulsen and Gallagher:

Any county, school district, metropolitan park district, sewer district, water district, public hospital district, rural county library district, inter-county rural library district, fire protection district, city, or town may levy taxes at a rate in excess of the rate specified in this * * * * act, when authorized so to do by the electors of such county, school district, metropolitan park district, sewer district, water district, public hospital district, rural county library district, inter-county rural library district, fire protection district, city or town by a three-fifths majority of those voting on the proposition at a special election, to be held in the year in which the levy is made, and not oftener than twice in such year, in the manner provided by law for holding general elections, at such time as may be fixed by the body authorized to call the same, which special election may be called by the board of county commissioners, board of school directors, or council, board of commissioners, or other governing body of any metropolitan park district, sewer district, water district, public hospital district, rural county library district, inter-county rural library district, fire protection district, city or town, by giving notice thereof for two successive weeks by publication and posting in the manner provided by law for giving notices of general elections, at which special election the proposition of authorizing such excess levy shall be submitted in such form as to enable the voters favoring the proposition to vote 'Yes,' and those opposed thereto to vote 'No': Provided, that the total number of persons voting at such special election must constitute not less than forty per cent of the voters in said taxing district who voted at the last preceding general state election.

"Sec. 4. Any municipal corporation otherwise authorized by law to issue general obligation bonds for capital purposes may, at an election duly held after giving notice thereof as required by law, authorize the issuance of general obligation bonds for capital purposes only, which shall not include the replacement of equipment, and provide for the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds by annual levies in excess of the tax limitation contained * * * * in this act. Such an election shall not be held oftener than twice a calender year, and the proposition to issue any such bonds and to exceed said tax limitation must receive the affirmative vote of a three-fifths majority of those voting on the proposition and the total number of persons voting at such election must constitute not less than forty per cent of the voters in said municipal corporation who voted at the last preceding general state election.

"Any taxing district shall have the right by vote of its governing body to refund any general obligation bonds of said district issued for capital purposes only, and to provide for the interest thereon and amortization thereof by annual levies in excess of the tax limitation provided for * * * * in this act.

"All taxes shall be levied or voted in specific amounts, and the rate per cent of all taxes for state and county purposes, and purposes of taxing districts coextensive with the county, shall be determined, calculated, and fixed by the county assessor, within the limitations hereinafter prescribed, upon the assessed valuation of the property of the county, as shown by the completed tax rolls of the county, and the rate per cent of all taxes levied for purposes of taxing districts within any county shall be determined, calculated, and fixed by the county assessor, within the limitations hereinafter prescribed, upon the assessed valuation of the property of the respective taxing districts: Provided, That when a county assessor finds that the aggregate rate of levy on any property will exceed the limitation fixed by section 2, Article VII of the state constitution, as enacted by the seventeenth amendment, he shall recompute and establish a consolidated levy in the following manner:

"(1) He shall include for extension on the tax rolls the full rates of levy certified to him for state, county, county road district, city, rural county library district, inter-county rural library district, metropolitan park district, and school district purposes in amount not exceeding the limitations established by law, and

"(2) He shall include for extension on the tax rolls the rates per cent of the tax levies certified to him by all other taxing districts imposing taxes on such property, other than port districts and public utility districts, reduced by him in such uniform percentages as will bring the consolidated tax levy on such property within the provisions of the constitutional limitation.

"Sec. 6. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Amend the title—strike the whole thereof and substitute therefor the following: "An Act relating to property taxes; providing for levies in rural county library districts and in inter-county rural library districts, providing for levies in metropolitan park districts and reducing levies accordingly in cities wherein such districts exist, prescribing certain powers and duties of county assessors in relation thereto, authorizing the levy of additional taxes for sewer districts, water districts, public hospital districts, rural county library districts, inter-county rural library districts and fire protection districts, amending sections 84.52.050 and 84.52.010, R.C.W., and declaring an emergency."

House Bill No. 30, by Representative Ford:
Providing revenue for water districts.

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., August 30, 1951.

MR. SPEAKER:

We, a majority of your Committee on Revenue and Taxation, to whom was referred House Bill No. 30, providing revenue for water districts, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendments:

Amend the bill by striking everything after the enacting clause and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. Section 57.16.020, R.C.W., as derived from section 2, chapter 128, Laws of 1939, is amended to read as follows:

"The comprehensive plan shall be adopted by resolution, which shall provide for the submission thereof at a general or special election specified in the resolution to the voters of the district. No expenditure for carrying on any part of the plan shall be made by the commissioners other than the necessary salaries of engineers, clerical, and office expenses and the cost of engineering, surveying, preparation, and collection of data necessary for making the general plan of improvements, until it has been ratified by a majority of the voters of the district voting thereon at the election held for that purpose. Notice of the election shall be given in accordance with the general election laws. If a majority of the votes favor the adoption of the plan, it shall thereupon be ratified and proclamation thereof made by the commission within ten days after the election. The commission may submit at the same election or at any general or special election, a proposition that the district incur a general indebtedness payable from annual tax levies to be made in excess of the forty-mill tax limitation for the construction of any part or all of the comprehensive plan. The proposition to incur indebtedness shall be submitted so as to enable the voters to vote for or against it independent of a vote on the plan, and if general indebtedness is to be incurred, the amount of the indebtedness and the terms thereof shall be included in the proposition submitted to the voters, and the proposition shall be adopted by three-fifths of the voters voting thereon, at which such election the total number of persons voting shall constitute not less than forty per cent of the voters in said water district who voted at the last preceding general state election.

"Sec. 2. Section 57.16.040, R.C.W., as derived from section 2, chapter 112, Laws of 1951, is amended to read as follows:

"In the same manner as provided for the adoption and ratification of the original comprehensive plan, a plan providing for additions and betterments to the original plan may be adopted and ratified. Whenever an area has been annexed to a district after the adoption of the comprehensive plan, the commission shall have the right without further vote of the electors of the district to adopt a scheme for additions and betterments to the original comprehensive scheme to provide for the needs of the area annexed.

"The district may incur a general indebtedness payable from annual tax levies to be made in excess of the forty-mill limitation for the construction of the additions and betterments in the same way that general indebtedness may be incurred for the construction of the original plan after submission to the voters of the entire district in the manner the original proposition to incur indebtedness was submitted. Upon ratification the additions and betterments may be carried out by the commissioners to the extent specified in the proposition to incur the general indebtedness.

"The district may issue revenue bonds to pay for the construction of the additions and betterments in the same way revenue bonds may be issued for payment of the construction of the original comprehensive plan or any portion thereof. Revenue bonds for additions and betterments may be issued by the water commissioners without authorization of the voters of the district.

"Sec. 3. Section 57.20.010, R.C.W., as derived from section 2, chapter 72, Laws of 1931, is amended to read as follows:

"When general district indebtedness payable from annual tax levies to be made in excess of the forty-mill limitation has been authorized, the district may issue its general obligation bonds in payment thereof. The bonds shall be serial in form and maturity and numbered from one up consecutively and shall bear interest not to exceed six per cent per year payable semiannually, with interest coupons attached. The various annual maturities shall commence with the second year after the date of issue, and shall as nearly as practicable be in such amounts as will, together with the interest on all outstanding bonds, be met by an equal annual tax levy for the payment of the bonds and interest. Only the bond numbered one of any issue shall be of a denomination other than a multiple of one hundred dollars.

"Bonds shall not be issued to run for a longer period than twenty years from the date of issue and shall as near as practicable be issued for a period which will be equivalent to the life of the improvement to be acquired by the issue of the bonds and shall be dated either July 1 or January 1.

"The bonds shall be signed by the president of the board and attested by the secretary, under the seal of the district. The interest coupons shall be signed by the facsimile signature of the president and attested by the facsimile signature of the secretary.

"There shall be levied by the officers or governing body charged with the duty of levying taxes, an annual levy in excess of the forty-mill tax limitation sufficient to meet the annual or semiannual payments of principal and interest on the bonds upon all taxable property within the district.

"The bonds shall be sold in such manner as the commissioners deem for the best interest of the district, and at a price not less than par and accrued interest.

"Sec. 4. Section 57.20.100, R.C.W., as derived from section 1, chapter 62, Laws of 1951, is amended to read as follows:

"A district may, in addition to the levies mentioned in sections 57.16.020, 57.16.040 and 57.20.010, levy a general tax on all property located in the district each year not to exceed two mills on the assessed valuation of the property * * * * where such water district maintains a fire department as authorized by sections 57.16.010 to 57.16.040, inclusive, R.C.W., but * * * * such levy shall not be made where any property * * * * within such water district lies within the boundaries of any fire protection district created under sections 52.04.010 to 52.04.160, inclusive, R.C.W. The taxes so levied shall be certified * * * * for * * * * collection as other general taxes, and the proceeds, when collected, shall be placed * * * * in such water district funds as the commissioners may direct and paid out on warrants issued for * * * * water district purposes.

"Sec. 5. Section 57.20.104, R.C.W., as derived from section 4, chapter 107, Laws of 1951, and section 57.20.106, R.C.W., as derived from section 4, chapter 6, Laws First Extraordinary Session 1951, are hereby repealed.

"Sec. 6. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Amend the title—strike the whole thereof and substitute therefor the following: "An Act relating to water districts; granting to such districts authority to incur indebtedness, to issue general obligation bonds and to levy taxes for the payment thereof in excess of the forty-mill tax limitation, providing the terms and provisions of such bonds, authorizing the levy of a tax of not to exceed two mills under certain conditions, amending section 57.20.010, R.C.W., repealing sections 57.20.104 and 57.20.106, R.C.W., and declaring an emergency."

"Sec. 2. Sections 3 to 9, inclusive, are hereby added to chapter 52.16, R.C.W.

"Sec. 3. Fire protection districts are hereby authorized to incur general indebtedness for capital purposes and for the purpose of refunding outstanding coupon warrants issued for capital purposes only, not to exceed an amount, together with any outstanding general obligation indebtedness, equal to three per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable property within such district and to issue general obligation bonds evidencing such indebtedness on the terms and provisions hereinafter set forth, the principal and interest thereof to be payable from annual tax levies to be made in excess of the forty-mill tax limitation.

"Sec. 4. After adoption by the board of fire commissioners of any district of a resolution fixing the purpose or purposes for the incurring of such indebtedness and the issuance of said bonds, the question of whether or not such indebtedness shall be incurred and such bonds issued shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the district for their ratification or rejection at a general or special election which may be held at any time. Such proposition shall state the purpose or purposes for which such bonds shall be issued, and the amount thereof, the length of time the same shall run, the maximum interest which the same may bear, and must receive an affirmative vote of three-fifths of those voting on such proposition at such election, at which such election the total number of persons voting shall constitute not less than forty per cent of the voters in said fire protection district who voted at the last preceding general state election.

"Sec. 5. Bonds shall be serial in form and maturity and numbered from one up consecutively. They shall bear interest at a rate of not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable semiannually from date of said bonds until the principal thereof is paid with interest coupons evidencing such interest to be attached thereto. The first annual maturity shall be two years from the date of issue of said bonds and the various annual maturity shall be as nearly as practicable in such amounts as will, together with the interest on all outstanding bonds, be met by equal annual tax levies for the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds. Bonds issued under this act may not run for more than twenty years from the date of issue and except for bond No. 1, may only be in multiples of one hundred dollars.

"Sec. 6. Such bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the board of fire commissioners and attested by the secretary of said board under the seal of the district and the interest coupons to be attached thereto shall be signed with the facsimile signatures of said officials. Said bonds shall be sold in such manner as the board of fire commissioners shall deem to be for the best interest of the district and at a price not less than par.

"Sec. 7. An annual levy in excess of the forty-mill tax limitation shall be made upon all the taxable property within such district by the officers or governing body thereof now or hereafter charged by law with the duty of levying taxes for such district sufficient to meet the annual and semiannual payments of principal and interest due on said bonds.

"Sec. 8. To carry out the purposes for which fire protection districts are created, the board of fire commissioners of any such district is hereby authorized to levy each year, in addition to the levy or levies provided in this act for the payment of the principal and interest of any outstanding general obligation bonds and the levies necessary to pay the principal and interest of any coupon warrants heretofore issued and outstanding, an ad valorem tax on all taxable property located in such district not to exceed two mills: Provided, That in no case may the total general levy for all purposes, except retirement of general obligation bonds, exceed four mills. Any such tax when so levied shall be certified to the proper county officials for the collection of the same as for other general taxes. Such taxes when collected shall be placed in the appropriate district fund or funds as provided by law, and shall be paid out on warrants of the auditor of the county in which the district is situated, upon authorization of the board of fire commissioners of such district.

"Sec. 9. Notwithstanding the limitation of millage contained in section 8, the board of fire commissioners of any such district is hereby authorized to levy, in addition to any levy for the payment of the principal and interest of any outstanding general obligation bonds and levies necessary to pay the principal and interest of any coupon warrants heretofore issued and outstanding, an ad valorem tax on all property located in such district of not to exceed one and one-half mills when such levy will not take millage which other taxing districts may lawfully claim and which will not cause the combined levies to exceed the forty-mill limitation, and such additional levy, or any portion thereof, may also be made when millage of other taxing units is released therefor by agreement with the other taxing units from their authorized levies.

"Sec. 10. Section 52.16.070, R.C.W., as derived from section 11, chapter 254, Laws of 1947, is amended to read as follows:

*"Except as authorized * * * * by virtue of the issuance and sale of district coupon warrants and general obligation bonds, the board of fire commissioners shall have no authority to incur expenses or other financial obligations payable in any year in excess of the aggregate amount of taxes levied for that year. In the event that there are any unpaid warrants drawn on any district fund or funds for expenses and obligations incurred outstanding at the end of any calendar year, the same may be paid from taxes collected in the subsequent year or years for the same fund or funds.*

"Sec. 11. Sections 52.16.044, 52.16.045, 52.16.060, R.C.W., as derived from section 2, chapter 107, Laws of 1951, section 2, chapter 6, Laws of First Extraordinary Session 1951, and section 10, chapter 254, Laws of 1947, respectively, are repealed.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. O'Brien, all bills passed so far today were ordered immediately transmitted to the Senate.

The Speaker observed within the bar of the House, Congressman Henry M. Jackson of the second congressional district of the State of Washington, and appointed Representatives Carmichael, Dootson and Mardesich to escort him to the rostrum to be introduced to the members of the House.

The Speaker:

"Ladies and Gentlemen, I'd like to introduce Congressman Jackson and ask him to say a few words to us. In spite of the fact we are trying to get our work done as fast as possible, I am sure that everybody would be glad to have Mr. Jackson say a few words to us on what is going on in the national capital. I think that he is a man who knows." (Applause.)

Congressman Jackson:

"Mr. Speaker, my Colleagues of the House of Representatives:

"I consider it a great honor and a high privilege to be able to speak to you this afternoon. I'm glad that the Speaker saw fit to have me speak prior to the measure that is to be considered, as I understand you have a tax bill coming up. We have tax bills coming up in Washington, D. C. and we have appropriations bills coming up too, but sometimes they go in opposite directions.

"I serve on the Committee on Appropriations in the House of Representatives, which, incidentally, has fifty members. It is almost like a legislature. We have so many members we have to divide them into subcommittees. There are five on a subcommittee, or ten subcommittees. My particular subcommittee is the department of interior, which, as you know, passes on appropriations for the Bonneville power administration here in the northwest, the bureau of reclamation, bureau of Indian affairs, geological survey, fish and wildlife services—in other words, the whole resource development program.

"My other committee is the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy and, as legislators, I think maybe you might be interested for a brief two or three minutes to hear how that committee functions. All of you are familiar with our resource development in the northwest. We are all familiar with the fact that in the Pacific northwest, we have forty per cent of the potential hydro-electric power of the entire United States of America. But a very few of us, and it is understandable, realize and appreciate the importance of our atomic energy program in the field of resource development of our great nation.

"The Joint Committee on Atomic Energy is made up of nine members of the House and nine members of the Senate. When the Atomic Energy Commission bill was passed in 1946, a bill, so to speak, to rule the atom, the Congress of the United States was confronted with a problem never before presented to that body. It is understandable why it was so difficult because the subject matter could not be discussed on either the floor of the House or Senate. Therefore, the Congress in its wisdom, saw fit to set up a joint committee with nine members from the Senate and nine members from the House.

"When a bill is introduced in regard to atomic energy, it does not go to a House committee or a Senate committee. The bill goes to the one joint committee. We pass very few bills. We spend almost two or three hours every day or every other day going over atomic energy development as reported to us by the Atomic Energy Commission, by central intelligence agencies, by the joint chiefs of staff and other related agencies in this all important program. Of course we meet in secret session but it is our job and our responsibility representing our respective branches of the government, the House and the Senate, to see to it that our country is adequately prepared in the field of atomic energy. We act, in effect, as agents for the Representatives in the House and the Senators in the Senate. The information that is given to us is given only to the joint committee and we cannot divulge it to other members of the House or Senate.

"This program in the field of atomic energy is indeed a novel one for the legislative branch because we have never before had to set up a committee such as the joint committee. I can say this: in my humble opinion it is working well. We are making a bipartisan effort to see to it that the United States of America and the free world stays on top of the atomic stock pile because, as Winston Churchill so rightfully said some three years ago, if it hadn't been for the fact that America won the race of discovery and made the first atomic bomb, we might have had world war III immediately after world war II. It has been that strength, the strength in the hands of a democracy, that has made it possible for us to maintain freedom in the world.

"In this all important field, we should remember that it is not a case of merely making destructive power as in the case of Hiroshima where it was a bomb the equivalent of twenty thousand tons of T.N.T., but we are doing something more than that. We have a program that, if we can avoid a world war III, will give us resources in our stockpile which will provide energy in a way we can improve the standard of living of our people now and for generations to come. Too many people think of our atomic energy effort as something that only relates to the explosion of bombs, to the killing of women and children in cities, but nothing could be further from the truth! Today our atomic stockpile which is growing in substantial numbers, numbers which are of course top secret, acts as swords in the arsenal of democracy. If, and God forbid that we have another war, we can avoid a war and do not have to use these bombs, we can refabricate this material overnight from swords, so to speak, to plowshares to be used as energy to operate trains and planes and produce electric power. Our scientists have already made substantial progress in this field. It has been announced that we have a breeder device that burns fissionable material, produces electric power as a by-product, and in the end you have more fissionable material or bomb material than you had when you started! I think we are making legislative progress in the field of perpetual motion which we thought was not possible a few years back.

"What I want to say in connection with our great Pacific northwest: On the one hand we are blessed with this tremendous potential of hydro-electric power which means more industry, more jobs and more opportunities for our people in this great region. At the same time we have this tremendous reservoir of energy which we are stockpiling in our arsenal of democracy. We have this stockpile of energy which we can add to our stockpile of hydro-electric power and one day the two may make the Pacific northwest truly the powerhouse in the field of atomic power. As taxpayers and people who are interested in trying to see to it that we spend our money wisely, and as legislators, you will be interested in knowing that every dollar invested in your atomic energy program is a dollar invested in the security of America today and the economic progress and wellbeing of your nation tomorrow.

"We are making a lot of conventional weapons. Only two per cent of our entire atomic energy effort goes into the military budget. Think of it! Ninety-eight per cent for conventional weapons and two per cent for atomic weapons. In the case of atomic weapons, we'll never have a war surplus sale. They never become outmoded. The fissionable material will not evaporate. It is not exploded, it can be used as it will be very shortly to operate a submarine, and then an airplane, and then to generate electric power, so it is a sound investment at a time when we must pick those weapons that will give us the greatest dollar return.

"I hope we will continue to invest in our atomic energy program. I hope that we will double our effort because we will be laying the groundwork of strength which is needed in this troubled world today to bring peace to all mankind, and we here in the Pacific northwest can be proud indeed that we have not only the greatest hydro-electric projects on the way in the entire world but we have the greatest atomic energy plant in the entire world. As the recipients and participants in this great effort, we have a great responsibility and I am happy to report to you that over at Hanford we are continuing to move forward. We are continuing to expand that great operation because we have here in the northwest a bountiful supply of water from the Columbia and the power necessary to keep that plant in full operation and on an expanding basis. I hope and pray that this great arsenal of energy may never be used in another war. But, I also pray and hope that we will keep that fissionable power dry and strong so that no other nation dare move against America, the United Nations or any part of the free world lest they know and understand that they shall face the full wrath of the free world with all of its strength." (Applause.)

The Speaker:

"We appreciate very much the message Congressman Jackson has brought us this afternoon."

The Speaker observed within the bar of the House former Representatives Charles M. Carroll of King County and Cecil A. Gholson of Yakima County, and appointed Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Connor to escort the former members to seats beside the Speaker.

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE ON HOUSE BILL PASSED BY SECOND EXTRAORDINARY SESSION, 1951

September 10, 1951.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

(Through the Secretary of State)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval, House Bill No. 3, entitled:

"An Act relating to taxation; substituting assessments for tax levies in weed, fire protection, sewer and water districts, repealing sections 17.04.240, 17.04.245, 52.16.044, 52.16.046, 56.16.120, 56.16.125, 57.20.104 and 57.20.106, R.C.W., and declaring an emergency."

House Bill No. 3 repeals chapter 107, Laws of 1951, and chapter 6, Laws of the First Extraordinary Session of 1951, which eliminated tax levies and substituted benefit assessments for fire protection districts, water districts, sewer districts and weed districts.

Since no affirmative legislation was passed in regard to weed districts, the passage of this act would leave the weed districts without any basic law. If the bill had repealed only the 1951 amendments of the weed district tax, it could be said that such repeal would not affect the antecedent section, but the bill repeals the basic law and such a repeal carries with it not only the 1951 amendments but also the basic law existing prior to 1951.

Since the passage of this act would leave the weed districts without any power to levy general taxes and at the same time without power to impose or collect an assessment for operational purposes, House Bill No. 3 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ARTHUR B. LANGLEE,

Governor.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Seal of the State of Washington at Olympia, this twelfth day of January, A. D., 1953.

EARL COE,

Secretary of State.

(THE SEAL OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON—1889)

The roll was called and all members were present.

The Honorable Frank P. Weaver, Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington, administered the oath of office to all members present.

PROPOSITIONS, MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

Resolution by Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.):

Resolved, That the rules which governed the House of Representatives during the thirty-second session of 1951 be adopted by this House as temporary rules until permanent rules be adopted and that the Committee on Rules and Order be authorized and directed to formulate the permanent rules of the House for the present session, and that the Committee on Rules and Order act jointly with a like committee from the Senate to formulate joint rules.

On motion of Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.), the resolution was adopted.

Nominations for Speaker of the House were declared in order.

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Clark (Newman H.).

Mr. Clark of King:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Justice Weaver, Members of the House:

"It is my privilege to place in nomination for Speaker of the House the name of my colleague and friend, Mr. R. Mort Frayn. I am sure those of you who have served in the House with Mort Frayn in years past have been impressed by his fairness, his desire to do the proper thing, and his experience. You know him and like him.

"He is qualified, honest, and has integrity beyond question. He shows loyalty to the state and to his party. He has been an industrious worker and a sincere campaigner.

"It is an honor for me to place the name of R. Mort Frayn in nomination as Speaker of the House of Representatives."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth).

Mr. Jones of Spokane:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Justice Weaver, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"We all agree this is a time when our state needs the best leadership we can obtain. In Mort Frayn we have a great leader. We are proud of him. For the past several months he has led the campaign for our party. As you all know, he lead us through a highly successful campaign. He has been a member of this House many times and you all know him.

"As Mr. Clark has said, Mr. Frayn is noted for his fairness and integrity. It is my pleasure to second the nomination of Mr. R. Mort Frayn as Speaker of the House."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mrs. Anderson (Eva).

Mrs. Anderson of Chelan:

"Mr. Chief Clerk:

"It is a joy to second the nomination of Mort Frayn. The success of this session depends upon our making the right move at this moment. The gentleman who sits in the chair as Speaker guides our destinies. To him we look for leadership—honest, conscientious, courageous leadership.

"Mr. Frayn was dynamic as state chairman of the Republican party. As Speaker, he will be human. That is the first essential. He will also be fair and fearless, colorful, constructive and cooperative.

"On behalf of all of you, I am happy to second the nomination of R. Mort Frayn as Speaker."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Olson (Ole H.).

Mr. Olson of Franklin:

"It is an unusual privilege and honor that falls to me in placing in nomination the name of a lady as Speaker. She is highly qualified. She has been elected eight different times from her district as state Representative. Her services have been outstanding and she has made a name for herself in other fields.

"This lady, as a member of the House, has won recognition not only in the legislature but throughout the state of Washington for her ability and she has brought honor and recognition to the state. She has served and specialized in a field not considered a feminine field—roads and bridges.

"She has earned all the honor we can give her. The vote she receives will be for her ability and will be in recognition of her service to the state of Washington. Throughout her period of service, she has placed the state foremost in her interests.

"It is a pleasure and honor to nominate the lady from Wahkiakum, Julia Butler Hansen."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. O'Brien.

Mr. O'Brien of King:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Justice Weaver, Members of the House:

"It is my great pleasure to second the nomination of the state of Washington's outstanding woman legislator. We have all worked with Mrs. Hansen for many sessions. She has presided over the largest committee in the House, and has done so with dispatch, courtesy, and fairness. She has developed a real highway program for the state and is universally recognized.

"It is true the Speaker's position is a man's job but we feel she has handled positions of trust in this legislature. She has ability, political acumen and wherewithal to do a real job. She will be an outstanding presiding officer.

"It is my great honor and privilege to second the nomination of Julia Butler Hansen as Speaker."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mrs. Testu.

Mrs. Testu of King:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"I am proud to be in a position to second the nomination of Mrs. Hansen. Many fine things have been said to which we all subscribe. We have worked with her for many years. Words are inadequate. Her record of service cannot be confined to these walls. She lives in the minds and hearts of every man, woman and child in the state of Washington. She serves as wife, mother and career woman. She is recognized far beyond this state.

"We are proud and honored to place her name in nomination. The state of Washington is taking a forward step in transcending all discrimination in placing in nomination the name of this fine woman leader."

Kenneth), Kirk, Lawrence, LeCocq, Lester, Loney, Lorimer, Mason, Mast, May, Mayes, McBeath, McKay, Montgomery, Neill, Oakes, Ovenell, Pedersen, Petrie, Richey, Robison, Ruoff, Ryder, Shropshire, Siler, Smith, Steele, Stokes, Strom, Swan, Swayze, Timm, Wang, Wintler, Yearout—58.

The Chief Clerk announced that Mr. R. Mort Frayn, having received the majority vote of the House, was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Chief Clerk appointed Mr. Loney and Mr. Anderson (B. Roy) to escort Mr. Frayn to the rostrum.

Representatives Loney and Anderson (B. Roy) escorted Mr. Frayn to the rostrum where the Honorable Frank P. Weaver, Justice of the State Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to him.

The Speaker assumed the Chair.

The Speaker addressed the House with the following remarks:

"The remarks I shall make will of necessity be short. It goes without saying however that the remarks, long or short, could in no way cover the mingled feelings I have in being nominated and elected your Speaker for this thirty-third session of the Washington legislature—mingled because they move in two areas, first in personal pride that I have been selected and second in the realization of the responsibility that it embodies.

"It is natural and sincere when I say that I have personal pride in being named for this honor. It is the greatest that has ever been mine and, while I recognize that it is the result of circumstances that might well have made it fall to others, it still remains that it is mine.

"To a larger extent it is the realization of the responsibility the Speakership embodies. It is the job itself and how it is done and not the person who occupies the Chair that counts.

"If I can give you sincerity, honesty and fairness—no matter whether it be to the majority party or to the minority party—then I will satisfy most certainly the major requisite. If that is not done, then I certainly will not have succeeded in the first essential of the Speakership.

"I pledge this then to be my program as far as the direction of the activities of this House is concerned, and the time and effort as I have it to give will be added. If from you I can have the same, then I am sure this session will be profitable for our state and one which we can look back on with pleasure.

"I know that we will not agree on all matters but if our criticisms be constructive we will have satisfied our part of the legislative process of which we are a very essential part.

"The problems that are in front of us need not be spelled out at this time. It is sufficient to say that I believe with courageous effort on the part of all of us, successful answers can be made."

The Speaker called for nominations for the office of Chief Clerk.

The Speaker recognized Mr. Neill.

Mr. Neill of Whitman:

"Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House:

"We have today selected a pilot to lead this portion of the ship of state through the rocky waters of the next sixty days. The ship has a pilot that steers the way. Just as the chief engineer keeps the wheel going 'round, so does the Chief Clerk keep the wheel going 'round.

"It is my privilege and pleasure to place in nomination the name of a man who meets all the qualifications necessary to keep this ship going, a man who by background, integrity, and proven quality and cooperation can do the job necessary to keep us going. I nominate for the office of Chief Clerk, Mr. William S. Howard of Seattle."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Ball.

Mr. Ball of Spokane:

"Mr. Speaker, Honorable Justice Weaver, and Members of the House of Representatives:

"I rise to second the nomination of William S. Howard of Seattle for Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives. Mr. Howard, by background and experience, has that rare ability necessary to carry out the responsible duties of this office. Mr. Howard is a man of integrity, a man of character. He also has worked diligently in behalf of the government of the state of Washington. He is a man who has the confidence of all those who know him.

"It is a real pleasure to second the nomination of William S. Howard of Seattle as Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Kirk.

Mr. Kirk of King:

"Mr. Speaker, Justice Weaver, Members of the House:

"The Chief Clerk must expedite the routine and special business of the House, supervise the personnel, accelerate the work, and have a knowledge of legal processes so he may counsel the members of the House. A fellow Republican has these qualities in particular abundance.

"I am pleased to second the nomination of Mr. William S. Howard."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Adams (Geo. N.).

Mr. Adams of Mason:

"Mr. Speaker, Justice Weaver, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House of Representatives:

"This is one of the times when I am very sorry that the only boast I can make of my alma mater is that it is the school of hard knocks. I wish I had some other alma mater to boast of so I could properly put before you the nomination of a man who has been a very close friend of mine over a period of years. I have seen him start as an employee of the House of Representatives—first as minute clerk and then as assistant. As time went on he proved his value and worth and was promoted to the position he now holds.

"I don't know of a person in the state of Washington or any place who takes his position more seriously and works more faithfully and more loyally for the members of this House and the state of Washington.

"It is unnecessary for me to further recapitulate the merits and ability of this wonderful man you all know. It is a great pleasure and privilege to have an opportunity at this time to place in nomination the name of Mr. S. R. Holcomb."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Miller (Floyd C.).

Mr. Miller of King:

"Mr. Speaker, Justice Weaver, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House:

"It is a great privilege for me to rise and second the nomination of Si Holcomb. During the legislative sessions I have had the honor and privilege to serve the state of Washington, Si Holcomb has been our Chief Clerk. Si has done the job efficiently and well. He has endeared himself to the members of the legislature that he has served, irrespective of party affiliations. When any member has desired some advice or individual service, Si always rendered that service gladly. Si has spent the greatest part of his life in the service of the state of Washington.

"I think that he has made a great Chief Clerk. I believe he should be continued as Chief Clerk. It is indeed an honor and privilege for me to have the opportunity to second the nomination of Si Holcomb."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Reilly.

Mr. Reilly of Spokane:

"Mr. Speaker, Justice Weaver, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"Like the two previous speakers, I feel honored that I have been selected to second the nomination of Mr. Si Holcomb as Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

"Probably I have known Mr. Holcomb more intimately than any of the members here assembled. I have known him in the role of Chief Clerk in the trying sessions of '33, '35 and '37, when he not only took on his official duties but became guide to every legislator elected to serve at that time.

"I know of the tireless efforts he has expended day in and day out during sessions so that we would have the laws properly engrossed and enrolled and put on the statute books. His integrity is above reproach. It will speak for itself. His ability is known far and wide.

"Regardless of the outcome of the election of Chief Clerk, I can assure you as a personal friend and as a man who has worked a long time with Mr. Holcomb that no matter where he may be or what he may be doing, you legislators can call upon him for even one little word of wisdom and guidance.

"It is a privilege and honor and I feel very deeply this opportunity to present to you the seconding of the name of Si Holcomb."

The Clerk called the roll and Mr. William S. Howard was elected Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives by the following vote: Mr. Howard, 58; Mr. Holcomb, 41.

Those voting for Mr. Howard were: Representatives Adams (Alfred O.), Anderson (B. Roy), Anderson (Eva), Arnason, Ball, Byrne, Canfield, Chytil, Clark (Cecil C.), Clark (Newman H.), Davis, Eldridge, Elway, Farrar, Gamon, Gordon, Griffith, Hawley, Hoefel, Jeffreys, Johnson (Ray W.), Johnston (Elmer E.), Jones (W. Kenneth), Kirk, Lawrence, LeCocq, Lester, Loney, Lorimer, Mason, Mast, May, Mayes, McBeath, McKay, Montgomery, Neill, Oakes, Ovenell, Pedersen, Petrie, Richey, Robison, Ruoff, Ryder, Shropshire, Siler, Smith, Steele, Stokes, Strom, Swan, Swayze, Timm, Wang, Wintler, Yearout, Mr. Speaker—58.

Those voting for Mr. Holcomb were: Representatives Adams (Geo. N.), Bailey, Beierlein, Bernethy, Brown, Carmichael, Connor, Donohue, Dore, Gallagher, Hallauer, Hansen (Julia Butler), Hanson (Herb), Hess, Hofmeister, Huhta, Hurley, Hyppa, Jones (John R.), King, Macek, Mardesich, McCutcheon, Miller (Clyde J.), Miller (Floyd C.), Mundy, Munsey, O'Brien, Olsen (Ray), Olson (Ole H.), Purvis, Rasmussen, Reilly, Ridgway, Rosenberg, Sandison, Savage, Sorensen, Stocker, Testu, Young—41.

The Speaker announced that Mr. William S. Howard, having received the majority vote of the House, was elected Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

The Speaker appointed Mr. Lester and Mr. Smith to escort the Chief Clerk to the rostrum.

Representatives Lester and Smith escorted Mr. Howard to the rostrum where Justice Frank P. Weaver administered the oath of office to him.

The Speaker announced that nominations for Sergeant-at-Arms were in order.

The Speaker recognized Mr. Lorimer.

Mr. Lorimer of Thurston:

"Mr. Speaker, Justice Weaver, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House:

"I wish to place in nomination for the position of Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives the name of a man well known in the state of Washington. He has been a resident of Washington state for over thirty years. During this period he has given himself untiringly to the advancement of the state. He has served as state chairman of the Republican Central Committee. Previous to that time, he was one of the most influential workers of the Republican party in District No. 22. He has proved himself worthy of any position of trust or responsibility that might be placed upon him. He has never asked for any position.

"Because of his sincerity of purpose and his ability to fill this office, I deem it a great pleasure and privilege to place in nomination the name of Mr. J. M. (Bud) Dawley for Sergeant-at-Arms."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Stokes.

Mr. Stokes of King:

"Mr. Speaker, Justice Weaver, Members of the House:

"I know that sometimes we should be brief. I am going to be just that. I am going to stand up to be seen, speak up to be heard, and shut up to be appreciated.

"The Sergeant-at-Arms is the person who has to handle people. The person nominated is a construction engineer and he is going to do this. He has said he will let the personnel under him decide all the big questions. He is going to decide which are the big ones and which are the little ones. Because of his ability to handle people, his ability to decide which are the big questions, I second the nomination of Bud Dawley as Sergeant-at-Arms."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Timm.

Mr. Timm of Lincoln:

"Mr. Speaker, Justice Weaver:

"It is a distinct pleasure for me to second the nomination of Bud Dawley. He is recognized as one of the distinguished citizens of Olympia and the state. I think the host city should provide the man to aid us with the mechanics of our deliberations."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Bernethy.

Mr. Bernethy of Snohomish:

"Mr. Speaker, Justice Weaver, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House:

"It is a privilege to place in nomination the name of a man who has served us for a long time. He has also served as a member of the legislature. He has been your Sergeant-at-Arms for four sessions, two regular and two special sessions. At this time, it gives me great pleasure to place in nomination the name of Mr. Victor A. Skinner as Sergeant-at-Arms."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Savage.

Mr. Savage of Mason:

"Mr. Speaker, Members of the House:

"The Sergeant-at-Arms has a great deal to do with the convenience and pleasure of the members of the House, and Mr. Skinner has served several sessions as a member of this House. As Sergeant-at-Arms he has always been quick to make any changes suggested by members. He has always been at our beck and call. It is a pleasure to second the nomination of Mr. Victor Skinner."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Olsen (Ray).

Mr. Olsen of King:

"Mr. Speaker, Justice Weaver:

"Mr. Vic Skinner's name has been offered as Sergeant-at-Arms. As a member of the delegation from King county, it gives me great pleasure to second the nomination of Victor Skinner, who has served this House faithfully."

The Clerk called the roll and Mr. J. M. (Bud) Dawley was elected Sergeant-at-Arms of the House by the following vote: Mr. Dawley, 58; Mr. Skinner, 41.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

Department of State, Office of the Secretary,
Olympia, Washington, January 12, 1953.

To the Honorable, The Speaker of the House of Representatives,
The Legislature of the State of Washington, Olympia, Washington..

SIR:

I have the honor to transmit herewith pursuant to Section 12, Article III of the Constitution of the State of Washington, for the consideration of the House of Representatives, House Bill No. 3, passed by the House and Senate in the 2nd Extraordinary Session of the 1951 Legislative Session and vetoed by the Governor, together with his veto message.

Respectfully,

EARL COE, Secretary of State.

Office of Governor,
September 10, 1951.

To the Honorable, The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.
(Through the Secretary of State)

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval, House Bill No. 3, entitled:

"An Act relating to taxation; substituting assessments for tax levies in weed, fire protection, sewer and water districts, repealing sections 17.04.240, 17.04.245, 52.16-.044, 52.16.046, 56.16.120, 56.16.125, 57.20.104 and 57.20.106, RCW, and declaring an emergency."

House Bill No. 3 repeals chapter 107, Laws of 1951, and chapter 6, Laws of the First Extraordinary Session of 1951, which eliminated tax levies and substituted benefit assessments for fire protection districts, water districts, sewer districts and weed districts.

Since no affirmative legislation was passed in regard to weed districts, the passage of this act would leave the weed districts without any basic law. If the bill had repealed only the 1951 amendments of the weed district tax, it could be said that such repeal would not affect the antecedent section, but the bill repeals the basic law and such a repeal carries with it not only the 1951 amendments but also the basic law existing prior to 1951.

Since the passage of this act would leave the weed districts without any power to levy general taxes and at the same time without power to impose or collect an assessment for operational purposes, House Bill No. 3 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR B. LANGLE, Governor.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.), vetoed House Bill No. 3 of the 2nd extraordinary session of the 1951 legislature, together with the veto message, were referred to the Committee on Rules and Order.

MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR ARTHUR B. LANGLIE TO THE LEGISLATURE

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Supreme Court, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Legislature, My Fellow Citizens of the State of Washington:

The unity and strength of our form of government is strikingly symbolized by the assemblage here this afternoon of the three coordinate branches of state government. While we are known as a government of checks and balances, it is our underlying singleness of purpose to serve all the people that gives our government the ability and strength to cope with the great problems of the day. It is in this spirit that we meet, to consider together the state of governmental affairs and the action which should be taken by this 33rd Legislature.

We live in a fast-moving and complex society in which government has become more and more a part of everyday problems and living. Government was created to meet the common needs of people, needs which the people find themselves unable to meet adequately by individual or group action. But government must always be kept a service function—a means for the people, never an end in itself. In the interest of preserving freedom and initiative we need constantly to evaluate the services that government renders. We need carefully to analyze the cost of those services as compared to the benefits the people receive.

In dealing with the problems before us, it is first necessary to gather full and accurate information in order that we may form a sound and reliable basis for our deliberations and judgment. We will all be confronted with a great deal of pressure from those who feel that their particular problems and interests merit more consideration or a greater slice of the tax dollar than those of other groups of our citizens.

Many of these pressure groups will be represented by lobbyists. While there is a negative connotation in the terms "pressure groups" and "lobbyists," they can play an important role in bringing to the legislature much valuable information that should help in developing the full factual picture of the various activities and problems of the state, its local subdivisions and various segments of our society.

It is highly important that full hearings be given to all of those who are interested in placing before public officials factual material on legislative proposals so that our decisions may be made in the light of the fullest amount of information available based on full and free expression from the people whom we serve.

Our prime difficulty stems from a need for money—tax money! For many years, in our state, the basic cost of state and local government has been shifted from tax collecting at the local level to tax collecting at the state level—from local financing of local programs to state financing in large part of the programs of local government.

Most of you have read, I am sure, the state booklet issued some time ago entitled, "Your Dollar's Worth of State Government." This booklet rather clearly presents, I feel, the financial difficulties with which we are confronted. During the past twelve years, a period of rapid growth in our state, the value of the dollar has been going down. At the same time, the income of our people and their ability to support improved public services has been rising fast. The demand for expanded services, however, was not matched by a willingness to pay for their cost. Revenues of state and local governments did not keep pace with the rising income of our people. Local governments relied to an ever-increasing degree upon state government which then in turn resorted to deficit operation. In the current biennium, income and outgo of the general fund are in balance for the first time in several years. But we are still saddled with a floating debt of about $42 million, the unpaid part of the cost of Initiative 172.

The demand still exists for the state to expand its sharing of revenues with local governments. At the same time the people have been faced with the increased burden of taxes from our national administration. Thirty-five cents out of every income dollar goes to pay taxes for the cost of operating local, state and national government. Twenty years ago, four-fifths of the tax dollar went to support state and local government, one-fifth to support our national government. Today the reverse is true. Four-fifths of the tax dollar goes to national government and one-fifth to state and local government. We must call a halt to the steady rise in the tax burden that has grown and multiplied to where it has now reached a danger point beyond which public officials who believe in our free way of life dare not go.

The national debt, with its interest charges, the state obligations created by our various bond issues and our floating debt of approximately $42 million, all must be serviced and taken care of. We have entered a period where every unit of government—national, state and local—must carefully revise its concepts of administration, unification, efficient organization, and of the extent and standard of services it renders, with the thought of seeking to save money wherever possible. Yet the necessary, essential obligations of government must be fulfilled so that they meet the needs of our people and protect their long-range welfare.

There are many, many services which benefit the people in one way or another. What is needed in these times of exhausted revenues and inflated costs is a sensible choosing between these services. It is far better that we limit ourselves to the most vital and essential services and perform them well. To over-extend ourselves and demoralize governmental operation with a mediocre job is to weaken the confidence of the people in their institutions of government.

You will be petitioned and urged to accept the responsibility of raising taxes—often by officials who are unwilling to accept that responsibility at their own level of government.

Washington now ranks relatively high in collection of taxes by the state and among the lowest half dozen states in local taxes. It is therefore only proper that if demands are raised for services beyond those supported from our present state taxes that they should be financed locally.

I am submitting to you for the biennium 1953-55 a general fund budget that balances expenditures with anticipated revenues from existing sources at current tax rates. This assumes that the legislature re-enacts the taxes imposed by Chapter 28, Second Special Session of 1951. These measures are scheduled to expire on April 30, 1953.

You will recall the great difficulty the 32nd Legislature had in finding additional taxes to meet the rising costs of state and local government. The tax burdens have become no less onerous to the people of our state since that time. That is why I feel it necessary to present to you for your deliberations a budget that is balanced without additional taxes.

You will find, however, that the essential needs of the people of our state make this budget inadequate in certain important areas of government activity. In your studies of the needs of various state departments and institutions you may find it advisable to make a little more money available in some areas by reducing the amounts in others. That is why careful and full hearings on all the facts are needed so that your decisions may be sound.

You will find this especially true in the management of public institutions, that is, our mental hospitals, schools for the deaf and blind, correctional institutions, veterans' homes and custodial schools for mentally deficient children. Some gains have been made in the management of these institutions in recent years. But the pressure of increasing inmate and patient population, the expense of equipping and operating new buildings constructed from the proceeds of the bond issue, the effects of inflation as shown in the continuing rise in the cost of food, fuel and other items of maintenance, the necessity to reduce a 48 and 55 hour employee work week—all these contribute to the ever-rising cost of operating our institutions. A careful survey is required of the amount of money needed to sustain those programs in view of our financial situation.

In the field of public assistance we have made substantial savings despite the growing problem that confronts us in some areas. We are developing a program of "assistance based on genuine need." Only in this way is it possible at the state level adequately to care for the worthy and deserving who are not sufficiently covered by Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance or by self-financing programs of a public or private nature. We feel that further savings in this field can be made, based on the current cost of living, without reducing the present grants to our aged for their essential needs.

Other states finding themselves in circumstances similar to ours have enacted legislation making available to official bodies for official purposes welfare data regarding those receiving assistance. They have also enacted legislation authorizing the recovery of funds from the estates of the deceased recipients of public assistance. These steps have made more secure the financial assistance to the living who are in need. I commend these measures to you and will present legislation to effectuate them.

The medical care program has been expensive and difficult to administer. There have been some rewarding experiences in this field and I believe some headway has been made. Yet the problems of compensation for hospital, dental and medical care have presented difficulties both for the state and for those rendering the services. We have not found any easy answers to this problem as yet. However, we feel we are making progress with the professional groups who, along with everyone else, are confronted with a dollar that buys less as they strive to bring their costs in line with the charges they make.

In the field of education, we are acutely aware of the fact that the constantly declining share of school support derived from local property taxes is one of the basic causes of the constant demand from the state for more and more money to support the common schools. We recognize the increased need for school housing, for additional teachers, and the fact that the teachers face increased living costs with a less valuable dollar. But the idea that the state can raise these funds and distribute them equitably on complicated formulas when so large a share of the cost is borne on the state level, opens the door many times for expenditures that otherwise would not be made for certain types of services now being rendered if the money had to be raised locally.

The support of our public schools will be the most crucial problem to come before you. The sky-rocketing birth rate of the postwar years is now boosting enrollments. School enrollments have risen from a pre-war total of 300,000 to 450,000; they are expected to be close to half a million within two years. More teachers will be needed than are being trained in our colleges. Teachers' salaries may have to be raised to attract a sufficient number of good people to the profession.

I am certain that you all agree with me that nothing is closer to our hearts nor more important for the future of our state than the education of our children. It is for that same reason that the founders of the State of Washington wrote in its Constitution, "It is the paramount duty of the state to make ample provision for the education of all children residing within its borders without distinction or preference on account of race, color, caste or sex."

To provide for educational needs, the state is allocated a certain millage—12 mills at present—to the schools, and enabled the residents in each district to vote additional levies if they so desired. Because school districts vary in value of taxable property, the state entered into partnership with the schools as an equalizing factor. But local support did not keep pace with rising school needs. In the past 30 years local support rose little while state support multiplied 20 times. Most state money is now paid out not for the purpose of equalization but as flat grants.

Three out of every four dollars of school support come from the state. In this respect Washington is unique. On the average for the United States, public schools receive 44% of their support from the states, in many northern states which are on a similar economic level as Washington, like Massachusetts, Connecticut and Illinois, less than 20%. Only a few of the low-income southern states—which maintain segregated schools—bear as large a share of public school costs as Washington. Washington state government pays more than twice the U. S. average support per pupil in average daily attendance.

The time has come when we must realize that the process of passing expenses on to higher levels of government has gone too far and must be reversed if local autonomy is to be preserved. I can see no reason why Washington should not follow the system of school support used in other northern states. The request of the Superintendent of Public Instruction for an increase of 48 million dollars in the state support of public schools could not be granted without a substantial raise in state taxes.

Two years ago I said in my message to the 32nd Legislature: "Because the problem of shifting this obligation from the state government to the local government is one that cannot be solved easily and quickly, I feel that the state must, during this next two-year period, carry some of the additional requests for financing the schools that have been made in the budget submitted. * * * But these matters can be taken care of by local government if they will really make the effort."

The time has now come when the necessary steps to accomplish this can no longer be postponed.

The budget that will be submitted to you carries an increase of 10 million dollars in state support for common schools.

I have made no recommendation regarding the request for 30 million dollars in state funds for school building construction. Most of the proceeds of the 40 million dollar bond issue for school building construction has been spent or committed. There is a need for further school construction. But I see no good justification why half of the funds should come from the state. Last November the people approved a constitutional amendment which doubled the bonding capacity of local school districts. A steady rise in assessed values will increase funds from this source even further. We should in the next two years undertake a study of those districts which, after exhausting all the sources at their command, still cannot provide adequate facilities. We should in those emergency cases provide state aid. Other districts should finance their own school buildings.

To be of some assistance in that program, we approach in an indirect way what we think may be an incentive to correct the abuse of low assessments in many areas of our state. It is a well known fact, and has been for many years, that the assessed value placed on property in most counties of our state has been ridiculously low. It has been suggested that the state government should either take over making assessments or prescribe the formula by which it is done as is the case in a number of other states.

The county assessors in some areas have been prone to resist any adjustment in property valuations. Other county assessors are trying to do an adequate job in this respect. Valuations are now a mockery of the uniformity provisions of our state constitution. Through our system of equalization aid the state has been rewarding those counties that have shirked their local revenue-raising responsibilities and has penalized those counties which are trying to do a proper job. The obvious unfairness of this situation requires correction.

Most people are paying substantially less in property taxes today than they paid 20 years ago. Since they are paying those taxes in cheaper dollars, their contributions to the cost of local government, the school district, and the county are obviously only a fraction of what they used to be.

In the interest of offering some incentives to our counties to increase their assessments to more reasonable levels, we propose that liquor profits be distributed to the cities and counties on a formula that would encourage reasonable, uniform assessments throughout the state. This measure will be made available to you for study and for public hearings and if enacted can, I believe, be of assistance in encouraging local government and the county assessors to meet certain reasonable standards of assessment.

Also, there are several other ways by which the opportunities for local government to raise money could be broadened. A minor change in the law would make it easier for them to obtain approval of special levies.

In the budget that will be submitted to you, we have dealt realistically with our state resources—land, water, timber, fisheries. Much more money could be expended in those areas that would benefit the people of our state, their children and generations yet unborn. But our limited means impose severe restrictions. The budget strives to hold the gains we made in the last few years and makes further modest advances in some areas.

We have placed in the budget $520,000 for state advertising. This is a substantial increase over the past biennium. But we are keenly aware of the fact that the bringing of tourists to our state returns to us in economic benefits, directly and indirectly, many times the tax dollars invested in the necessary advertising programs.

To pave the way for such a reorganization as may be needed in our governmental structure, I appointed in the fall of 1951, in cooperation with the Legislative Council, a citizens' Committee on State Government Organization.

The so-called "Little Hoover Committee" of which Mr. Harold Shefelman is chairman, is made up of citizens of our state who have contributed a great deal of their time and, in many instances, personal expense to make a study of our state government and its possible reorganization. I have, from time to time, reviewed their recommendations. While I have not seen the various bills that they have had under preparation for your consideration, I am satisfied that in a general way they are constructive and in line with the best contemporary thinking in the field of government organization. Those urgently needed improvements merit your considered judgment. I have been impressed by the sincerity and devotion to duty that these citizens have demonstrated and urge that you give favorable consideration to the various bills that they are submitting to you, with such amendments as you deem necessary. Among the recommendations of this committee will be a proposal to establish a state-wide merit system for our employees. I have consistently supported such a program and again commend it to you for your earnest consideration.

The inflationary dollar, together with high taxes, has created problems in obtaining and keeping qualified people for departments of state government charged with administering large affairs involving many, many millions of dollars. The pay rates are substantially below those of individuals holding similar responsibilities in private business. It is difficult to attract to those highly responsible positions, skilled administrators of sufficient stature and experience and retain them on a salary of $8,500 a year. It is necessary that you consider some change in the present authority of the Governor to set salary levels of department heads so that he may be able to procure and retain the effective leadership necessary to carry on the administrative work of important divisions of state government.

One of the great problems facing every state at this time is the need for greater highway facilities. During the past two years, under the direction of the Highway Commission, tremendous improvements have been made. Many contracts have been let, much planning accomplished. Yet, as we survey the continuing, expanding usage of our highways, the increasing population and vehicular travel, we are constantly aware of the pressing need to build more highways as rapidly as possible. A number of measures will be presented to you to further expedite the improvements of our highway system. Toll roads and bridges should receive your fullest attention and review. In many states toll road construction under certain circumstances has been entirely practical and though the tolls have seemed rather expensive to the motorist as compared to the normal pay-as-you-go method of financing, nevertheless, because of the great savings in travel time, wear and tear on vehicles—to say nothing of gas and oil savings and increased safety—it has been proven entirely practicable to develop toll roads paralleling other highways supported out of the general highway user taxes.

To make possible further considerations of toll highway facilities, measures will be presented to you requesting certain authorizations. You are all familiar with the studies made for bridging Puget Sound. A board of engineers recruited from all over the United States has completed its studies and made its report. We all realize that neither this report nor any other report could fully satisfy the manifold and often conflicting desires and hopes of all the people who reside in the areas that will be served by a cross-sound bridge.

This is a problem which must be faced with an understanding of all of the facts involved. We, as legislators and administrators, must necessarily depend to a large extent upon the advice of competent engineers in determining the location, the method, the time and the place for construction. It is entirely proper that every recommendation be challenged, that hearings be held, the engineering reports reviewed—if necessary, studied by other engineers. The progress of our state, however, and particularly the Puget Sound area, depends largely on the bridging of Puget Sound to facilitate the free movement of traffic to and from the Olympic Peninsula. This area must be utilized more rapidly as our state develops. The bridging idea has been found entirely feasible. Delay of too many years could mean the loss of an opportunity to keep our state in the vanguard of progressive development. The Toll Bridge Authority has recommended that $770,000 be made available to complete plans for the bridge. I am sure this will merit your full study and review and that you will make such authorization as you feel proper under the circumstances. On the basis of the facts that I have, I concur in this recommendation.

One of the most important elements in furthering the economic and industrial growth of our state is the full development of its hydro-electric resources. For many years federal agencies have controlled these programs, not always in keeping with the wishes or the best interest of the people of this region.

The new national administration which will take office on January 20th has committed itself to assisting state and local governments in recapturing the right to finance, manage and operate the resources of their respective regions. Proposals will be before you on methods to develop to its full potential the power and water resources of our state and the Pacific Northwest under control of our people and their elected representatives.

Nine major run-of-the-river projects have been completed or are now under construction. The building of large storage reservoirs on the upper reaches of the Columbia River will give us the additional low cost energy required under adverse water conditions. An over-all plan must be based on co-operation among the federal government, the states in the Columbia River watershed, Canada and the various public and private systems operating in it. Such a joint effort will safeguard all the interests involved and pave the way for maximum use of our water resources.

As you know, March 2, 1953, will mark the beginning of our state's territorial centennial. Tied in with our advertising program, nation-wide attention can be focused on our state. Members of your body have served on the committee developing these plans. Your co-operation will be sought in promoting the celebration of this important year in our state's history.

In the last session of the legislature, a new office building was authorized to house departments of state government in order to centralize activities and more efficiently and economically serve the people. It was contemplated by the legislature that the State Library would be accommodated in this new structure. After plans were prepared by the architect, it became apparent that this new office building could not provide the type of facilities essential to good library operation. It was also apparent that the housing facilities of the Department of Labor and Industries were inadequate and poorly designed for the purposes of that unit of government. The conclusion was reached that the present structure accommodating the Department of Labor and Industries could be made satisfactorily to serve the purposes of the library, while properly designed space in the new building could better serve the purposes of the Department of Labor and Industries. For that reason certain authorizations and changes in existing law are being requested.

Numerous executive and department request bills are being prepared and from time to time we will submit these to you and be glad to discuss fully their provisions with you at your pleasure.

I want to assure you that the governor's office and staff, as well as all department heads, are anxious to assist you in your deliberations and in supplying you information at any time that you desire.

For the next sixty days this statehouse will be the focal point of interest in the state of Washington. What we here do, in the exercise of the legislative and executive powers vested in us, will greatly affect the stability and advancement of our state for the next two years.

The programs we now adopt may, indeed, influence the direction and momentum of governmental affairs for a much longer period than two years. The effect of legislative and executive action is cumulative. Just as we today face problems which have their genesis in policies adopted a decade or more ago, so the business we now transact in these halls may smooth the way or add to the burdens of our people for many years to come.

May God guide us all into the paths of wisdom and service. (Applause.)

The House resolution by Representative Rasmussen, introduced January 14, 1953, and referred to the Judiciary Committee, has been investigated and it was determined that although a decision was not rendered until January 20, 1953, by the supreme court in the case of Derby Club Inc., appellants, vs. Evro Becket, et al., respondents, No. 32005 by the supreme court, the opinion was not at any time assigned to be written or was the decision uncompleted or undecided by any judge of the supreme court for a period of six months.

The original opinion, written and circulated among the members of the court for their approval or disapproval, did not receive the constitutional majority of the court and was within six months from the date of hearing reassigned by the chief justice to another member of the court for an opinion. The opinion was within six months written and the decision has been rendered in the case. The statute 2.04.090, RCW, has in all particulars been complied with.

Debate ensued.

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth) demanded the previous question.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Reilly:

"Mr. Speaker, point of information. I am surprised that the sponsors of this bill are in accord with the amendment. The bill was inadvertently emasculated."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. The previous question has been demanded."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken, Mr. O'Brien. We are on the previous question. However, it is the Speaker's opinion that Mr. Reilly does not intend to debate the merits of the bill. The Speaker will rule that Mr. Reilly has the floor."

Mr. Reilly:

"I am not being facetious. I am calling the House's attention to the floor amendment to this bill. I don't think we should send it to the Senate in its present form. The amendment starts on line 36 of the printed bill by striking the colon and inserting a period, and striking the balance of the section. This leaves out ' . . . That any student barber holding'. Like Mr. Smith, I have no personal interest in the bill. However, I think it should be corrected. I don't think it was the intent to strike the words now in the present act."

Mr. Clark (Newman H.):

"I am rather in doubt as to the construction to which you refer. The amendment says 'after the words "one dollar" strike the colon (:) and insert in lieu thereof a period (.) and strike the balance of the section'. The amendment does strike the balance of the section."

The demand for the previous question was sustained.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be Engrossed House Bill No. 15 on final passage.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The following written statement was filed by Mr. John L. O'Brien of King county to be spread on the Journal:

"I do hereby protest the action of the House of Representatives in refusing to recede from its amendment to Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4 on the twenty-sixth day of our legislative session on February 6, 1953.

"On that day I made the following motion: 'I move that the House do recede from its amendment striking section 33 of Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4.'

"In speaking on the motion I gave oral notice to the House I wanted my remarks in support of my motion to be made a part of the Journal of February 6, 1953, for the primary purpose of calling this motion and its effect to the members of the House if, after the sixtieth legislative day, Senate and House bills would be presented to us for our consideration. If, after that time, those bills were passed and were signed by the governor, I was going to challenge their constitutionality.

"The substance of my remarks in support of the motion to recede from our House amendment to Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4 was as follows:

"The House should abide by the constitution, Article 2, section 12, stating in part as follows: 'After the first legislature the sessions shall not be more than sixty days'; and Article 1, section 29, which states: 'The provisions of this constitution are mandatory, unless by express words they are declared to be otherwise.'

"I stated that section 33 of Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4 was confirmation upon ourselves that we were in accordance with the constitution and were going to abide by the sixty-day rule and prepare and arrange our work in an orderly manner so that we could be through with our legislative deliberations at the end of the sixty-day period; that indications and recent decisions of the supreme court are to the effect that the court can look into the Journal and the records of the legislature in determining the constitutionality of various legislative actions and that the stopping of the clock has been declared only a subterfuge and the courts have so determined; and, that recent decisions of the supreme courts of other states, notably Tennessee and West Virginia, have taken the position that any legislative action taken after the expiration of actual passage of time at midnight the sixtieth day of the unextended regular session, under the device of stopping or turning back the clock or like device or practice, if forbidden by the constitution, is unconstitutional and null and void.

"In support of this conclusion, I cited the case in part of the State vs. Heston, case of the supreme court of appeals of West Virginia found in 71 S. E. 2D, page 481, which case upheld this position. I stated that any other action other than to recede from my amendment striking section 33, Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4 was an indication of our action to thwart the constitution, and that the same action if challenged by the supreme court would be declared forbidden by our state constitution, and that such action would be unconstitutional, null and void. I felt the whole House should support my motion."

House Bill No. 240, by Representatives Ball, Jones (John R.) and Mason (by departmental request):

Authorizing state highway district engineers to award certain contracts. The bill was read the second time by sections and passed to third reading.

House Bill No. 182, by Representative Anderson (B. Roy):

Relating to revenue and taxation.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Mr. Anderson (B. Roy), the following amendment was adopted:

In section 3, page 2, line 5 of the original bill, being page 1, line 25 of the printed bill, after the words "the purpose" and before the word "resale" strike the word "or" and insert in lieu thereof the word "of"

Mr. Mardesich moved the adoption of the following amendment:

In section 4, page 2, line 38 of the printed bill, after the words "rate of" and before the words "of one per cent" strike the words "one one-hundredth" and insert in lieu thereof the word "one-eighth"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Miller (Clyde J.):

"Will Mr. Anderson yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will the gentleman yield?"

Mr. Anderson (B. Roy):

"I will yield."

Mr. Miller (Clyde J.):

"When we were at our wits end to pass legislation to derive additional revenue, this bill was passed. Do you feel that we are not in the same position this session and that we can look forward to a cut in revenues?"

Mr. Anderson (B. Roy):

"We are here to encourage commerce to the state, not to impair it."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth) demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Mardesich.

The motion was lost and the amendment was not adopted.

Mr. Rosenberg moved the adoption of the following amendment:

"Strike all of section one and renumber the following sections consecutively."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. We have already passed on section 1 of this bill."

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken. However, I am going to let the amendment be read."

Mr. Rasmussen:

"I think the point Mr. Jones raised should be settled in a very clear manner. My understanding is that a bill may be amended at any time."

The Speaker:

"The Chair has ruled that Mr. Rosenberg's amendment will be read to the House."

Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.) demanded the previous question and the demand was not sustained.

Further debate ensued.

Mr. Reilly demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Rosenberg.

The motion was lost and the amendment was not adopted.

House Bill No. 182 was passed to third reading and ordered engrossed.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. A few minutes ago I raised a point of order on Mr. Rosenberg's motion to amend section 1 of House Bill No. 182. The Speaker allowed the amendment to be presented. I should like to call to the attention of the House section 130 of Reed's Parliamentary Rules which states: 'Second reading is by paragraphs or sections for amendment, and each paragraph is amended in its turn; and it is not permissible, except by general consent, to recur to a paragraph already passed.' I call this to the attention of the House. We should follow Reed's parliamentary rules."

Mr. Rasmussen:

"I don't believe Mr. Jones' interpretation is correct. It has always been the practice of this House to consider amendments to any section of a bill at any time on second reading. There is nothing in the House rules which says differently. Certainly, at this time, we would not be right in changing our rules as to amending bills. We could always go through the bill and then go back and amend. It is common practice."

The Speaker:

"I can agree with both sides. In order to expedite business in an orderly process, amendments should be brought up as the sections are read. That is why the bill is read by sections."

Mr. Rasmussen:

"Mr. Speaker, many times an amendment is offered which has completely changed the text, and members re-reading the bill go back and change their mistakes. I think you would be defeating your purpose."

The Speaker:

"I believe that once a section has been passed, an amendment may be offered to that section by general consent. After further study, a ruling will be made that will be fair to all of us."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Mr. Speaker. POINT OF ORDER

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker.

"We have long since passed section 14. The question of amending a section already passed was mentioned the other day."

The Speaker:

"In the future I will rule an amendment out of order if a bill has been read section by section, unless such an amendment is required because of other amendatory material which makes it necessary for us to go back. I will not do so in today's session."

Mr. Rasmussen:

"That is a departure from all previous Speakers' rulings for the reason that the Speaker has always said 'Are there further amendments to the bill?' after the bill has been read."

Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.):

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. Such a statement is made only when reading of the bill has been waived and the last line read. Since I have been a member, it has been the privilege of the Speaker to consider amendments to any section if the bill was not read section by section. If a bill was read section by section, then the amendment must be made as the section was read."

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Mr. McKay.

The motion was lost and the amendment was not adopted.

On motion of Mr. Clark (Newman H.), the following amendment was adopted:

In section 25, page 8, line 8 of the original bill, being page 5, line 36 of the printed bill, after the word "through" and before the words "of this act" strike the figures "53" and insert in lieu thereof the figures "55"

RESOLUTION

Resolution by Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth), Mr. Reilly and Mr. Clark (Newman H.):

Be It Resolved By the House of Representatives:

WHEREAS on the eighth day of March, nineteen hundred and fifty-one, the same being the sixtieth day of the thirty-second session of the Washington state legislature, the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolution by Mr. Henry (Edward E.), Mr. Orndorff and Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.):

"Be It Resolved By the House of Representatives:

"WHEREAS the problem of the qualifications of justice of the peace and the jurisdiction of these judicial officers have plagued and beset several sessions of this honorable legislature,

"WHEREAS at each such session of the legislature the honorable member from the twenty-eighth district, Pierce county, Representative Rasmussen, has evidenced great interest and understanding with relation to these problems and their solution,

"WHEREAS such experience, study and analysis of the problems of these inferior courts have peculiarly and particularly qualified Representative Rasmussen to continue his study and analysis of this vexing problem,

"WHEREAS it is the opinion of the House of Representatives in legislative session assembled that opportunity should be provided within the framework of our judicial process that a fitting position should be established and created to further the opportunity for such further analysis, that Representative Rasmussen may care to make,

"WHEREAS the supreme court of the state of Washington has the power to assist such studies and to authorize the admission of officers of the court to act as practitioners before such justice courts,

"Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved That the House of Representatives request and petition the supreme court to create and designate a classification to be known as Class 'C' practitioners before justices of the peace who are not lawyers, with jurisdiction of matters involving not more than twenty-five dollars, and after the creation of this special designation to specially admit Representative A. L. (Slim) Rasmussen to the special post thus created."

WHEREAS the Washington state supreme court has failed to heed the aforesaid resolution; and

WHEREAS the said A. L. (Slim) Rasmussen has been untrue to the trust hereinbefore reposed in him and has failed to exercise any of the powers, privileges and prerogatives of his office and by his own admission contained in the roster and committee assignments of the Senate and House of Representatives of the state of Washington for the thirty-third regular session of said legislature, has seen fit to abandon the said powers, privileges and prerogatives and now prefers to be known as a "Farmer, Machinist and Real Estate" and has thereby seen fit to cast his lot with the real estate men instead of staying with his brothers at the bar;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved That this House rescind its ill-advised and hasty decision heretofore made on the sixtieth day of the said thirty-second regular session of the state legislature; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the reputation of the said A. L. (Slim) Rasmussen as a great natural long ball hitter shall not be confused with that of his Class "C" practitioner at the bar and that he be forthwith stricken from the rolls of Class "C" practitioners before justices of the peace who are not lawyers, with jurisdiction of matters involving not more than twenty-five dollars.

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth) moved the adoption of the resolution.

REPRESENTATIVE JEANETTE TESTU

Enshrined in the roll of memory are the names of forty-five members who have gone to the great beyond during this biennium. It is with a deep sense of honor and humility that we pay tribute to them today.

Though not here in physical presence, their moral stamina and lofty ideals live in our hearts, and even now are strengthening our decisions to fashion just practices into laws of our sovereign state.

Ideas keep democracy and Christianity alive, so blending their ideas and ours that we influence the lives of this generation and generations to come, even when we too are dust.

We are aware of our responsibility to continue the task consecrated by their memory. To their friends and relatives who are here today we tell of our gratitude for their vision, their service, and their efforts for a better design for living. We strive to match their achievements as our hearts rise to higher levels.

So the moment passes.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

The Speaker declared that the hour of 10:15 a. m. having arrived, the House would now consider the special order of business, the motion by Mr. O'Brien to indefinitely postpone consideration of House Bill No. 77, Substitute House Bill No. 77 and the committee reports thereon.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point, Mr. Jones."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"The motion made by Mr. O'Brien is contrary to the rules of the House and is out of order. I ask leave of the Speaker to permit me to discuss my point."

The Speaker:

"You may make your explanation."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen:"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point, Mr. O'Brien."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Why doesn't Mr. Jones state his point to the Speaker. By his discussion, he is opening up my motion."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"I am not discussing the motion. I am about to discuss my point of order."

The Speaker:

"Will you proceed, Mr. Jones."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"I am convinced that Mr. O'Brien's motion is out of order under the rules of the House. I am very sorry that a point of order had to be raised on this particular bill. However, I do believe, for the benefit of this House, that once we have adopted rules we must live by them no matter what bill is before the House. That is why I feel I am properly in order to discuss the point of order."

"When we started this session, we adopted rules which were practically without exception the same rules that have governed the procedures of this House for many, many sessions. Each of us agreed to be bound by those rules."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point, Mr. O'Brien."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Jones is going into a discourse on the rules."

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Jones is speaking to the point. Proceed, Mr. Jones."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"The point I wish to make is that Mr. O'Brien's motion is contrary to rule No. 78 of the House rules, which states: 'The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full. After the first reading, bills are referred to committees unless they are committee bills, in which event they go direct to second reading.'

"In the next paragraph, rule 78 covers the reading of committee reports: 'Upon being reported back by committee, all bills shall go to second reading unless there shall be a two-thirds majority report against the bill, in which case a vote shall be called for immediately upon the indefinite postponement of the bill.'

"Our rules specify that when a committee report is read the bill 'shall' go to second reading. Therefore, if you are to sustain the motion made by Mr. O'Brien, the rules must first be suspended and it takes a two-thirds majority to suspend the rules. Mr. O'Brien has not asked for a suspension of the rules. There is, however, one exception to that rule as stated in the second paragraph of rule 78: ' . . . all bills shall go to second reading unless there shall be a two-thirds majority report against the bill.' We have a two-thirds majority in favor of the bill. The rule goes further: 'The chairman of any committee recommending a two-thirds majority report against a bill shall notify the author of said measure in writing of the committee's recommendation not later than twenty-four hours before the convening of the house on the day the report is read.'

"I emphasize to the House and the Speaker that the word 'shall' as used in our House rules is mandatory. It does not say 'may' or 'should'. It says 'shall'. We have all been here long enough to have learned from the law that the word 'shall' is mandatory.

"That is my point of order. Under the House rules, a committee report should go into second reading. Mr. O'Brien's motion is out of order."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order in support of my motion."

The Speaker:

"I think your request is within the same range of reasoning as Mr. Jones'. You may speak on your point."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"Reed's Parliamentary Rules, No. 121, 'Motion for Indefinite Postponement', page 72, states: 'This motion is designed to avoid a direct vote on the question itself, and to give the opponents of the bill an opportunity to try their strength at any stage of the bill.' I want to emphasize that . . . 'to give the opponents of the bill an opportunity to try their strength at any stage of the bill. If decided in the affirmative, the bill is defeated; if in the negative, the bill proceeds as if the motion had not been made. It serves the original purpose of the English previous question, as it was under early practice.'

"Also Reed's rule No. 80, 'Presentation of Report': 'When the member of a committee charged with the duty presents the report of a committee to the assembly it is for immediate action, unless the rules otherwise provide. If, however, anyone desires to raise the question of immediate consideration, he does so by demanding that the question be put upon the reception of the report. If this motion be decided in the negative, the committee must wait a more favorable season. If in the affirmative, then the clerk reads it to the assembly, and it becomes the subject of action like any other business.

"In the House of Representatives a right given to a committee to report at any time implies the right to ask immediate consideration, notwithstanding the rules.'

"Also, ladies and gentlemen, we have a precedent established in this House at the 1943 session of this legislature on the forty-eighth day. Senate Joint Resolution No. 4 was presented to us for the first time. The motion was made to indefinitely postpone that measure. The Speaker held it was proper and in answering a request for a ruling, stated in part: 'The Speaker will rule that in accordance with House rule No. 29 when a bill, resolution or memorial is postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted upon again during the session.' I submit that precedent has been established, Mr. Speaker, and that we are firmly supported by Reed's rules and that my motion is in order."

Mr. Rasmussen:

"Mr. Speaker, I beg you to read rule No. 39 of our House rules. It states: 'After a motion is stated by the Speaker, or a bill, memorial, resolution, petition or remonstrance is read by the clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn by consent of the House at any time before decision or amendment.' I submit to you, Mr. Speaker, the committee report is now in possession of the House for any action the House deems necessary."

Mr. Reilly:

"Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"I wish at this time to call your attention to the point raised by Mr. Jones on rule No. 78. The rule is clear and concise and to the point, and was put in there for a specific purpose. The word 'shall' is just as mandatory as in any other law. There is no compromise. In my opinion it gives every member of the House a chance on second reading to have a bill read in full so as to comprehend the context of what is contained therein. That is why the word 'shall' is imposed. It is mandatory the bill go to second reading. Otherwise, a motion can be made to indefinitely postpone and a little less than half of the members can be deprived of the right to analyze the bill.

"I differ with Mr. Jones in this respect. I believe Mr. O'Brien's motion can be made at any time. A motion to indefinitely postpone can be made at any time but implies that rule No. 78 be suspended. Any standing rule can be temporarily suspended. Consequently, Mr. O'Brien's motion will require a two-thirds majority to suspend rule 78.

"I concur with Mr. Jones in that Mr. O'Brien's motion was not properly put because he did not ask to suspend the rules. Rule 12 provides that a motion can be made to suspend the rules, and takes a two-thirds majority.

"I wish also to call to your attention the circumstance surrounding the ruling I made in 1943. The House in regular general assembly had voted down the issue which the Senate brought over on a concurrent resolution and it was the same matter we had voted on. Our rules and Reed's rules and Hinds' Precedents forbids the acting on the same question twice. I made the ruling in 1943 to postpone indefinitely because we had already acted on the matter and couldn't do it twice."

POINT OF ORDER

Mrs. Hansen:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point, Mrs. Hansen."

Mrs. Hansen:

"On the first reading of bills in 1943 on the forty-eighth day, Senate Joint Resolution No. 4 had not been acted upon by the House of Representatives. It was presented to the House on first reading. The motion was made to indefinitely postpone. At that time Mr. Reilly ruled that there could not be a reconsideration of the vote on indefinite postponement. That closed the subject."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"I shall only take the time of the House to answer in a sense what Mr. O'Brien said in his argument. The matter he brings up as a precedent in 1943 is not a similar situation to the one under discussion; that is, a committee report simply being read before the House."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The Speaker desires to bring to the attention of the assembly the following points:

"The rules under which we operate and their order of importance is as follows: the constitution of the state, the joint rules of the House and Senate, the House rules, and Reed's rules.

"I call to your attention page 248 of the House rules, Rule 47, which states: 'The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Reed's Parliamentary Rules shall govern all cases in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the House.'

"Reed's rules, page 51, section 80, which was brought to our attention by both Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Jones states: 'When the member of a committee charged with the duty presents the report of a committee for the assembly, it is for immediate action unless the rules otherwise provide.'

"The question then before us is, do we have any specific House rule applying to this situation? I then would ask the assembly to look at House rule 78 on page 257. Skipping the first paragraph, which has to do with the first reading of bills, I bring you to the point we are now discussing: 'Upon being reported back by committee, all bills shall go to second reading unless there shall be a two-thirds majority report against the bill, in which case a vote shall be called for immediately upon the indefinite postponement of the bill.'

"I also call your attention to the next paragraph: 'The chairman of any committee recommending a two-thirds majority report against a bill shall notify the author of said measure in writing of the committee's recommendation not later than twenty-four hours before the convening of the House on the day the report is read.'

"The major point is in the second paragraph of House rule 78 which states that it is mandatory that all bills shall go to second reading unless there shall be a two-thirds majority report against the bill, in which case the vote shall be called for immediately upon the indefinite postponement of the bill. Further, I call your attention to the fact that the committee report showed a majority report in favor—a majority report of 7, and a minority report of 5, on this bill.

"In answer to Mr. Rasmussen's point, House rule 39 will apply to a situation where a motion has been stated and the member of the assembly wishes to recall the motion by consent of the House. It would apply to a bill, memorial, petition or remonstrance. I do not believe rule 39 has any bearing on this question.

"The Speaker will rule that Mr. O'Brien's motion to indefinitely postpone consideration of House Bill No. 77, Substitute House Bill No. 77 and the committee reports thereon is out of order."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Rasmussen:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point."

Mr. Rasmussen:

"I rise to object to the Speaker's ruling on rule 39 on the basis that the Speaker is placing his own interpretation on the rule. 'After a bill, memorial, petition or remonstrance is read by the clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the house, but may be withdrawn by the consent of the house at any time before decision or amendment.'

"That only takes a majority action. I want the objection noted in the Journal."

The Speaker:

"It will be so noted in the Journal."

MOTION

Mr. O'Brien:

"I move the rules be suspended and that House Bill No. 77, Substitute House Bill No. 77 and the committee reports thereon be indefinitely postponed."

Mr. Reilly:

"I demand a division of the motion."

Mr. O'Brien:

"It can't be divided."

Mr. Reilly:

"Mr. O'Brien is moving to suspend the rules and moving to indefinitely postpone. I wish to divide the motion."

Mr. O'Brien:

"The Speaker ruled my motion out of order. Now I am moving to suspend the rules and indefinitely postpone the bills and the majority committee report."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"I believe, Mr. O'Brien, that we first vote on whether we will suspend the rules."

Mr. O'Brien:

"That is how we suspend the rules. We suspend the rules and take up the matter at the same time."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker. Do we first vote on the question of whether or not we suspend the rules, or on the entire motion?"

The Speaker:

"We will vote on the suspension of rules."

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the motion by Mr. O'Brien to suspend House rule No. 78.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House.

"As you can see, this particular measure is well known to all of us. We know the merits and particularly the demerits of this proposed measure. It is not something foreign to any of us in this House."

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, please confine your comments to whether or not we should suspend the rules on a bill being reported out of committee. The merits of the bill have nothing to do with the present question."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I wish to point out that we should have immediate action by the House on this particular measure. The bill would be referred to the Committee on Rules and Order and would come out and be read by sections. We know what the sections contain. Why delay further action on this particular measure?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, your remarks are definitely not in line with the question before the House."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"The chair recognizes Mr. Jones."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Ladies and Gentlemen:

"I will confine my remarks to the question before the House, the suspension of rules. Rules are adopted for orderly procedure. The motion we are considering would completely suspend orderly procedure of the House. That is the only issue before you on this vote."

Mr. O'Brien demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Mr. O'Brien to suspend House rule No. 78, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 39; nays, 60; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams (Geo. N.), Bailey, Beierlein, Bernethy, Brown, Carmichael, Connor, Donohue, Dore, Gallagher, Hal-lauer, Hansen (Julia Butler), Hanson (Herb), Hess, Hofmeister, Huhta, Hyppa, Jones (John R.), King, Macek, Mardesich, McCutcheon, Miller (Clyde J.), Miller (Floyd C.), Mundy, Munsey, O'Brien, Olsen (Ray), Olson (Ole H.), Purvis, Rasmussen, Ridgway, Rosenberg, Sandison, Savage, Sorensen, Stocker, Testu, Young—39.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams (Alfred O.), Anderson (B. Roy), Anderson (Eva), Arnason, Ball, Byrne, Canfield, Chytil, Clark (Cecil C.), Clark (Newman H.), Davis, Eldridge, Elway, Farrar, Gamon, Gordon, Griffith, Hawley, Hoefel, Hurley, Jeffreys, Johnson (Ray W.), Johnston (Elmer E.), Jones (W. Kenneth), Kirk, Lawrence, LeCocq, Lester, Loney, Lorimer, Mason, Mast, May, Mayes, McBeath, McKay, Montgomery, Neill, Oakes, Ovenell, Pedersen, Petrie, Reilly, Richey, Robison, Ruoff, Ryder, Shropshire, Siler, Smith, Steele, Stokes, Strom, Swan, Swayze, Timm, Wang, Wintler, Yearout, Mr. Speaker—60.

House Bill No. 77 was passed to second reading.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted no on Mr. O'Brien's motion to suspend the rules in support of orderly parliamentary procedure and wish to make clear that my vote in no way expresses my opinion on the merits of House Bill No. 77.

Complying with the request made in the House resolution asking for a report from the state treasurer showing the precise amount of indebtedness of the general fund as of January 23, 1953, we are handing you herewith first, a report showing the precise amount of indebtedness of the general fund as of January 23, 1953, and also a report issued by this office of the general fund as of the 31st day of December, 1952. * Memo:

Should this estimate be reasonably close to the actual figure, it must be further taken into consideration that the month of April, 1953, will be a light receipt month and the above balance would show a substantial increase.

If April, 1953, receipts are extremely light and a transfer of some $7,000,000.00 is made to schools and colleges, then our surplus for redemption of general fund warrants would be considerably more than offset by releases during that month. We might go to approximately $56,000,000.00 indebtedness by the end of April, 1953.

Any person who heretofore has occupied and improved an area subject to lease under this act and has secured a permit for such improvements from the United States army engineers or other federal regulatory agency, shall have the rights of a lessee under this section upon the filing of a copy of such permit together with plans and specifications of such improvements with the commissioner of public lands."

"Will the gentleman yield?"

Mr. Clark (Newman H.):

"I will yield."

Mr. King:

"Wouldn't it be advisable to draft a separate bill rather than incorporate these amendments in this bill?"

Mr. Clark (Newman H.):

"I would certainly have done exactly that if I had drafted the bill. However, it has been done this way and the provisions of the bill are beneficial to the state of Washington."

Mr. King:

"Did the department say they were in favor of the amendments?"

Mr. Clark (Newman H.):

"This is their verbiage. I have not talked to them."

Mr. Arnason:

"Yes, sir, Mr. King. On their own initiative the department has approved everything that pertains to booming grounds."

Further debate ensued.

"Will the chairman of the Judiciary Committee yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will Mr. Clark yield?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The Speaker will now rule on the matter which he took under advisement, namely, can sections of a bill be amended when the House has moved on and is considering a subsequent section?"

"The Speaker has found no specific House rule on this subject. Section 130, Reed's Parliamentary Rules, states: 'When the main question is in paragraphs or sections, the second reading is by paragraphs or sections for amendment, and each paragraph is amended in its turn; and it is not permissible, except by general consent, to recur to a paragraph already passed.'

"Accordingly, the Speaker will rule that when a bill is considered by sections, the right to amend a given section is lost when the House moves on to consider a subsequent section unless the House gives consent to return to the preceding section. This rule does not apply where the last line or last word of a bill is read, or where the underscored matter only is read, as this procedure is to expedite the business of the House and not to cut off the individual right of a member to offer his amendment. In such a case the Speaker will rule the entire bill is open to amendment."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Rasmussen:

"Point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point."

Mr. Rasmussen:

"It is not entirely clear in my mind what the Speaker's intention is in making this particular ruling. Is it your intention that there will be a change made in our rules?"

The Speaker:

"There is no necessity, Mr. Rasmussen, of changing our House rules. If we read a bill, as we are now doing, section by section, we will not go back to a previous section unless by general consent. If the last line of a bill is re-read, any section may be amended. If it is suggested that the last line of a bill be re-read and no one objects, a suspension of rules will not be required. If someone objects to a motion to re-read the last line, a suspension of the rules will be required."

Mr. Rasmussen:

"The reason I ask for clarification is whether or not general consent will mean a majority?"

The Speaker:

"The general consent will be by majority."

Mr. Rasmussen:

"That is the opposite of the ruling you made on Thursday when you ruled a majority of the House did not have a right to take a bill and act on it when it was in our possession."

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien's motion was for a suspension of the rules. We are now concerned with a consent to move back to an area to which an amendment might be needed in order to clarify the action of a bill."

Mr. Rasmussen:

"If the majority wishes to gag us, we will find other means of having our will made known. We want that notice to be in the record."

The Speaker:

"It will be."

Mr. Reilly:

"Mr. Speaker, you informed the legislative body as to how you were going to rule in the future where a bill is read section by section, is that correct?"

The Speaker:

"That is correct."

Mr. Reilly:

"Mr. Rasmussen, I cannot see anything confusing about the Speaker's ruling. He has every right to inform this legislative body what his ruling is going to be. It has no relationship to any other business. The ruling is clear and concise. However, so that there will be no misunderstanding, I suggest the Chief Clerk supply us with copies of the ruling."

Authorizing cities and towns to operate off-street parking lots.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point, Mr. O'Brien."

Mr. O'Brien:

"I refer to rule 60. It reads: 'Standing committees shall report all bills, memorials and resolutions back to the House with their recommendation thereon signed by a majority of the entire membership of the committee, within ten days from the time of referral unless further time be granted by the House.'

"I submit to you that the chairman of a committee should report bills out within ten days unless otherwise granted by the House."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Mr. Speaker. Upon the matter of the point of order, rule 60 says that bills shall be reported out unless further time be granted by the House. The House by a simple majority can allow the committee further time. I don't think that anyone that was or is a committee chairman can deny keeping many, many bills in committee much longer than the ten-day period. You all know that many bills must of necessity be kept in committee longer than that. Public hearings are held, sub-committees are appointed—they take time. I think we are wasting the time of the House on this matter."

The Speaker:

"Technically, under rule 60, a bill should be out of committee in ten days. However, in the four sessions I have been a member of the House, this rule has not been strictly adhered to. In trying to interpret rules, one must take into account the procedure employed in the past.

"I believe your position, Mr. O'Brien, is fairly well sound but there is also the matter of custom to consider. The Speaker will take this question under consideration and, if so desired, rule on it after advisement."

MOTIONS

Mr. Stokes moved that the motion by Mr. Purvis be laid on the table.

The motion was lost.

Mr. O'Brien moved that the motion by Mr. Purvis be made a special order of business, Monday at 11:15 a. m.

The motion was lost.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the motion by Mr. Purvis to re-refer House Bill No. 248 from the Judiciary Committee to the Committee on Veterans' and Military Affairs.

Debate ensued.

Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.) demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Mr. O'Brien demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

MESSAGE FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

Olympia, Wash., February 20, 1953.

To the Honorable, The Speaker of the House of Representatives,
The Legislature of the State of Washington, Olympia, Washington.

DEAR SIR:

This will acknowledge receipt of your communication of February 19 transmitting a certified copy of the resolution adopted by the House of Representatives on February 17, 1953, requesting the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to furnish the House of Representatives with detailed information concerning the bond issue provided for in chapter 229, Laws of 1949, and related matters.

On Wednesday, February 18, each member of the House of Representatives and the Senate was provided with a copy of a report of school building construction cooperatively financed from the proceeds of the $40,000,000 bond issue provided for in chapter 229, Laws of 1949, and authorized by the voters of the state in November, 1950. This report (copy enclosed) provides in detail the information requested in the resolution—itemized statement of total amount of disbursements to date; number of schools and schoolrooms constructed by virtue of such construction (together with itemization of all other funds, including matching funds, disbursed for such school construction); and balance of bond issue yet to be expended.

No part of the $40,000,000 bond issue has been used by the State Board of Education or the State Superintendent of Public Instruction for administration costs of the State School Building Construction Program, all such costs having been paid from appropriations to the State Board of Education and to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction for salaries, wages and operations.

The enclosed summary report includes detail of funds in the amount of $17,985.06 expended from the proceeds of the bond issue by the State Finance Committee for costs incurred for issuance and sale of bonds.

Interest received from the school building bond revenue investments is placed in the bond redemption fund for use in meeting bond redemptions and bond interest. It does not accrue in the State Public School Building Construction Fund. The total interest received and accrued as of December 30, 1952, amounts to $816,200.00.

This report has been prepared specifically for the members of the 1953 state legislature, and we were pleased that the House of Representatives expressed its interest in the details of the school building program as evidenced by adoption of the resolution on February 17.

Sincerely,
 PEARL A. WANAMAKER,
 State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

QUESTION OF CONSIDERATION

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Reilly:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point, Mr. Reilly."

Mr. Reilly:

"My point is that the question of consideration cannot be raised except on the main question. The rule reads as follows: 'The question of consideration applies only to the main question, and not to any other motion.' The question of consideration by Mr. O'Brien is out of order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"I maintain my motion is in order. The main question has been submitted to us. Reed's sections 110 and 111 so substantiate as follows: 'In some treatises it is said that the question of consideration cannot be raised except by special rule. The question of consideration is like the question of the acceptance of a report. In both cases the question used always to be put as matter of course, whether the business should be considered or whether the report should be received. In both cases, also, it has come to be the custom for the chair not to put the question, but to require it to be raised from the floor. If the question is not raised, then consideration and reception are both matters of course.

"The rules of the House of Representatives that the question 'Will the House now consider it?' shall not be put unless demanded by a member.' I maintain my motion is in order."

Mr. Reilly:

"Such a motion would not be in order on some treatises. What Mr. O'Brien read is in regard to the House of Representatives in Congress and does not apply to any rules under which we are operating in this House."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Rasmussen:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point."

Mr. Rasmussen:

"In the 1951 legislative handbook, on page 275: 'Mr. Speaker: * * * * *
On that (motion, bill, resolution or amendment) I raise the question of consideration.' In Reed's rule 109: 'The business thus in possession of the House is called the "main question". The only question before the House is called the main question.'"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I believe the point of order by Mr. Reilly, whether or not we were discussing the main question, has considerable merit.

"The Speaker will rule that by his motion Mr. Jones brought before the House Substitute House Bill No. 77 and that Mr. O'Brien's question of consideration of the motion by Mr. Jones is in order."

Mr. Reilly demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Rasmussen:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker.

"This vote is to decide whether we want to consider the substitute bill rather than House Bill No. 77. If the motion fails and we do not want to consider the substitute bill, then House Bill No. 77 in its original form will be before us?"

The Speaker:

"That is correct. A vote 'Aye' will be a vote to consider Substitute House Bill No. 77; a vote 'No' will be to refuse to consider Mr. Jones' motion."

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the question of consideration of the motion by Mr. Jones that Substitute House Bill No. 77 be substituted for House Bill No. 77 and that Substitute House Bill No. 77 be read the second time by sections.

The Clerk called the roll on the question of consideration of the motion by Mr. Jones and the House refused to consider Substitute House Bill No. 77 by the following vote: Yeas, 45; nays, 53; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams (Alfred O.), Arnason, Ball, Byrne, Canfield, Chytil, Clark (Cecil C.), Clark (Newman H.), Davis, Donohue, Eldridge, Gamon, Gordon, Hawley, Hoefel, Hurley, Jeffreys, Johnston (Elmer E.), Jones (W. Kenneth), Lawrence, LeCocq, Loney, Mast, May, Mayes, McBeath, Montgomery, Neill, Oakes, Ovenell, Petrie, Richey, Robison, Ruoff, Ryder, Shropshire, Siler, Smith, Steele, Stokes, Strom, Swayze, Timm, Wang, Mr. Speaker—45.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams (Geo. N.), Anderson (B. Roy), Anderson (Eva), Bailey, Beierlein, Bernethy, Brown, Carmichael, Connor, Dore, Elway, Farrar, Gallagher, Griffith, Hallauer, Hansen (Julia Butler), Hanson (Herb), Hess, Hofmeister, Huhta, Hyppa, Johnson (Ray W.), Jones (John R.), King, Kirk, Lester, Lorimer, Macek, Mason, McCutcheon, McKay, Miller (Clyde J.), Miller (Floyd C.), Mundy, Munsey, O'Brien, Olsen (Ray), Olson (Ole H.), Pedersen, Purvis, Rasmussen, Reilly, Ridgway, Rosenberg, Sandison, Savage, Sorensen, Stocker, Swan, Testu, Wintler, Yearout, Young—53.

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION

Mr. Reilly:

"Mr. Speaker, having voted on the prevailing side, I serve notice that at 2:30 p. m. I will move to reconsider the vote on the question of consideration."

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, having voted on the prevailing side, I move that we do immediately reconsider the vote on the question of consideration."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Reilly:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order.

"By his motion, Mr. O'Brien defeats my privilege. Any time you defeat a privileged issue, it takes a two-thirds vote. Mr. O'Brien's motion will require a two-thirds vote."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. Reilly brings up a point that he can, by a privileged motion, give notice of reconsideration to a time certain. This would deprive the House membership of the right to adjourn and that cannot be taken away from them.

"The Speaker will rule that Mr. O'Brien's motion is in order and may be carried by a majority of those present."

MOTION.

Mr. O'Brien:

"I move that my motion to immediately reconsider the vote on the question of consideration be laid on the table."

The motion was carried.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be House Bill No. 77 on second reading.

Mr. O'Brien moved that House Bill No. 77 be indefinitely postponed.

Debate ensued.

Mr. Gallagher demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth) demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McKay:

"I call your attention to the state constitution, section 30, Article II, which states: 'A member who has a private interest in any bill or measure proposed or pending before the legislature shall disclose the fact to the House of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon.' I have such a private interest."

The Speaker:

"Your notice is received, Mr. McKay, and you are excused from this vote on House Bill No. 77."

The Speaker explained the vote:

"A vote 'Aye' is to indefinitely postpone House Bill No. 77 and the bill would not be before the House again at any time. A vote 'No' is to consider House Bill No. 77."

The Clerk called the roll on Mr. O'Brien's motion to indefinitely postpone consideration of House Bill No. 77 and the House decided to indefinitely postpone House Bill No. 77 by the following vote: Yeas, 52; nays, 45; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

Roy), Anderson (Eva), Bailey, Beierlein, Bernethy, Brown, Carmichael, Connor, Dore, Elway, Farrar, Gallagher, Griffith, Hallauer, Hansen (Julia Butler), Hanson (Herb), Hess, Hofmeister, Huhta, Hyppa, Johnson (Ray W.), Jones (John R.), King, Kirk, Lester, Lorimer, Macek, Mason, McCutcheon, Miller (Clyde J.), Miller (Floyd C.), Mundy, Munsey, O'Brien, Olsen (Ray), Olson (Ole H.), Pedersen, Purvis, Rasmussen, Reilly, Ridgway, Rosenberg, Sandison, Savage, Sorensen, Stocker, Swan, Testu, Wintler, Yearout, Young—52.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams (Alfred O.), Arnason, Ball, Byrne, Canfield, Chytil, Clark (Cecil C.), Clark (Newman H.), Davis, Donohue, Eldridge, Gamon, Gordon, Hawley, Hoefel, Hurley, Jeffreys, Johnston (Elmer E.), Jones (W. Kenneth), Lawrence, LeCocq, Loney, Mast, May, Mayes, McBeath, Montgomery, Neill, Oakes, Ovenell, Petrie, Richey, Robison, Ruoff, Ryder, Shropshire, Siler, Smith, Steele, Stokes, Strom, Swayze, Timm, Wang, Mr. Speaker—45.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Mardesich—1.

Those excused were: Representative McKay—1.

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION

Mr. Reilly:

"Having voted on the prevailing side, I serve notice that I will ask for reconsideration of the vote by which House Bill No. 77 has been indefinitely postponed."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point."

Mr. O'Brien:

"The notice by Mr. Reilly is not in order. I refer you to the House Journal of 1943 on a motion to indefinitely postpone. The Speaker ruled: 'The Speaker will rule that in accordance with House Rule 29 when a bill, resolution or memorial is postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted upon again during the session.'

"That was on House Rule 29. Rule 38 says: 'A motion to postpone indefinitely having been decided in the negative shall not again be allowed on the same day, nor at the same stage of a bill or proposition. When a bill, resolution or memorial is postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted upon again during the session.'"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Gallagher:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. You are not called upon at this time to make a ruling. Only notice has been given."

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mr. O'Brien:

"I move that we immediately reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 77 was indefinitely postponed."

Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.):

"I move that Mr. O'Brien's motion be laid on the table."

Mr. O'Brien:

"I will withdraw my motion with the consent of the House."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Steele:

Further debate ensued.

"Will Mr. Mast yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will the gentleman yield?"

Mr. Mast:

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. McKay:

"Will the gentleman yield to a question?"

Dr. Adams (Alfred O.):

"Yes."

Mr. McKay:

"Dr. Adams, would you object to your remarks being placed in the record?"

Dr. Adams (Alfred O.):

"Not at all."

The remarks submitted by Representative Adams (Alfred O.) were as follows:

"This bill provides that before a hospital district is formed the board of county commissioners shall receive from the state board of health its recommendations as to the feasibility of forming a district in that area. This does not in any way prevent the formation of a hospital district in the event people of the area should wish to proceed with their plans even though the recommendations of the state board of health may have been opposed to such action.

"The second portion of the bill also requires that the commissioners should again obtain the advice of the state board of health regarding the plan of operation that is to be carried out; and again the bill does not prohibit them from proceeding with their plan even though the state board of health may have recommended that it is unsound."

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be Engrossed House Bill No. 140 on final passage.

"The committee amendment states the number of persons voting at any special school district election need not constitute more than forty percent. The constitution says it shall constitute not less than forty percent."

Mr. Anderson (B. Roy):

"The answer lies in the word 'more'. What we are trying to do is make it easier—that is, less difficult—for a school district to pass a special levy by not requiring a larger number than forty percent of those who voted at the last general election."

"It is restricted to school districts and school districts only."

Mr. Olson (Ole H.):

"You are restoring the word 'state' which is not in the constitution."

Mr. Anderson (B. Roy):

"That is statutory. The original bill strikes it. We are putting it back in so our amendment is amendatory to the statute and will validate an election when not more than forty percent of the persons voting at the last district election might be less than the state general election."

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of parliamentary inquiry.

"Last Saturday we asked for a ruling on House rule No. 60 and how you would interpret it as pertaining to House Bill No. 248, which did not get a two-thirds vote to keep the bill in the Judiciary Committee."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"House rule 60 states that 'Standing committees shall report all bills, memorials and resolutions back to the House * * * * within ten days from the time of referral unless further time be granted by the House.'

"While the rule on its face appears to be positive and mandatory, this rule has never been strictly enforced; and normally, if a committee has taken some type of action on a bill either by referring it to a subcommittee, setting it up for a public hearing or other committee action, it has been considered sufficient action under this rule.

"The Speaker is not inclined to place a stronger construction on this rule than prior Speakers. Of necessity the Committee on Roads and Bridges has for years held up substantial portions of its program, particularly on new construction, until all of the bills proposing new roads have been studied and compared.

"It is the opinion of the Speaker that rule 60 is for the purpose of insuring that committees will take action within the committee rather than compelling every matter to be reported back to the floor of the House.

"The Speaker will rule that the House may, by a simple majority, relieve a committee of further consideration of a bill if committee action has not been taken on a bill.

"In respect to House Bill No. 248, a subcommittee of three members has been appointed, comprised of Mr. Reilly, Mr. Neill and Mr. Purvis, which the Speaker will interpret as keeping the bill alive."

Mr. Rasmussen:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe the rule was put in for the purpose of avoiding delaying tactics. If a committee chairman tries, a bill may be discharged within ten days and if the chairman decides more time is needed, he may come and ask the House for more time."

Mr. Reilly:

"I might answer Mr. Rasmussen. I believe the rule was adopted in 1889. If you will refer to one of the journals in 1889 you will appreciate how few bills were introduced. I might say that in 1933 and every session since, the question of this rule has been brought to the attention of the House and a similar ruling has been expressed by all the Speakers down the line.

"Unfortunately this action was brought before the House when I was absent. I have never heard of that being done when a member of the committee was absent. A courtesy is usually extended to that member and a time awaited until he returns.

"The Judiciary Committee did take action. My brief was submitted to the sponsor of the bill. I asked him to look it over and return it. I have not heard anything from the sponsor to date. If we are going to bring all of the bills out of committee within ten days, we have only 800 more to go."

Further discussion ensued.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I believe that there has been more than sufficient discussion of this matter. If it is the desire of the House to take further action, you may do so. Otherwise, the Speaker will now rule on a question under debate a few days ago—the effect of a motion to lay a pending amendment on the table.

"There is no specific House rule covering this point. However, section 114 of Reed's Parliamentary Rules is very specific on this subject. Reed's states as follows to the effect of a motion to lay on the table: 'If it be moved on the main question, then all amendments go with it; if moved on the amendment, then the main question goes on the table also. This is upon the very solid ground that you can not go on with an amendment when the main subject is no longer before the House, and can not go on with the main question when there exist amendments liable to be called up at the pleasure of the House.'

"The Speaker will rule that a motion to lay an amendment on the table takes the bill with it."

MESSAGE FROM DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS

Department of Public Institutions,
Olympia, Wash., February 21, 1953.

Honorable House of Representatives, Olympia, Washington.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

Receipt is acknowledged of House resolution proposed by Representative A. L. Rasmussen requesting "detailed and current information * * * regarding expenditures made and results obtained to date by reason of * * * public institutions bond issue provided for in the Laws of 1949."

Replying thereto, I am pleased to enclose a list of all projects completed or presently under construction showing the contracted cost for each, together with a list of additional projects on which plans have proceeded to a point that bids will be called in the relatively near future, showing the estimated cost for each such project.

In general, may I make the following comment as to the basis on which our construction work under the bond issue has been programmed:

The department has given primary attention to the design of structures that will most efficiently and economically serve functional needs of our institutions. Buildings so designed and constructed are substantial, permanent structures and, while reasonably in keeping with the architectural motif of the individual institution, have been so designed as to avoid expensive trim, superfluous decorative features or equipment items of doubtful practicality. The objective is two-fold: First, to keep institutional buildings in keeping with their functional use, and, secondly, to make our dollars for construction purposes go just as far as is possible.

It will be noted that the total of the contracted costs of the projects already completed and those now under construction amounts to $9,161,135.00. In this connection, you may be interested in the fact that the total contract figure just mentioned is better than $1 million dollars less than the total of the preliminary estimated costs. These estimated costs were in the first place figured on a very conservative basis. The reductions below the estimated costs were brought about through clarity of design and specification and adequate competition on the part of qualified contractors, together with a comprehensive scheduling of bid openings to avoid submission of bids at times when military and other large public works were in the market.

It will be noted that the total estimated costs of projects presently in the near contract stage amount to $8,365,000.00. Other projects presently in the early consideration and preliminary plan stage will during the current biennium pretty well exhaust the funds made available under the institutional bond issue.

It has been the plan of the department to accord first priority to most pressing needs, included in which are the buildings now under construction. As we progress further, individual projects will be measured by the relative immediateness of the need.

In anticipation of a question as to the lack of capital outlay expenditures for new buildings at the state training school at Chehalis, such has been temporarily held in abeyance pending the decision of the present legislature as to the possible establishment of a new institution for boys.

Trusting that this gives the desired information and that the general manner of handling meets the approval of your honorable body, I am

Respectfully yours,

H. D. VAN EATON, Director.

Debate ensued.

At the request of Mr. Hallauer, the following letters were ordered made a part of the Journal of the House.

April 24, 1950.

Mr. Ralph S. Stacy, King County Assessor, County City Building, Seattle, Washington.

DEAR MR. STACY:

You have asked me to furnish you with the legal basis, either statutory or by judicial decree, for the position that the assessor does not have authority to increase the assessment of property in his county by a blanket raise, say of 10, 15 or 20%. This problem as I understand it, is and I believe the same holds true in all other counties, that property in general is not now being assessed at a true 50% valuation and pressure is being exerted to compel you to put into effect a blanket "across the board" increase.

I have made a thorough examination of the supreme court decisions, attorney general's opinions and rulings of the Tax Commission and, strange as it may seem, have not been able to find exact authority on this question. The nearest approach to the program is found in two supreme court decisions. Weyerhaeuser Timber Company v. Pierce County, 97 Wash. 534; Milwaukee Land Company v. Taylor, 171 Wash. 352. There are several opinions of the attorney general which touch upon the question but they seem to involve the power of the county board of equalization to put into effect either a blanket increase or decrease in the course of its equalization of property valuations. The leading opinion is found at Page 128, Opinions of Attorney General, 1921-1922.

I don't believe there can be much question that the county assessor does not have authority to put into effect a blanket increase such as is requested of you. I believe section 163 of our Property Tax Code is quite specific on this point. It says in part:

"He (the County Assessor) shall actually determine as nearly as practicable the true and fair value of each tract and lot of land listed for taxation and of each improvement located thereon and shall enter 50% of the value of such land and of the total value of such improvements, together with the total of such 50% valuations opposite each description of property on his property list and tax roll."

I think your position is entirely sound to the effect that a blanket increase of this kind mentioned would be illegal.

Very truly yours,

TAX COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON,
E. W. ANDERSON, Commissioner.

May 4, 1950.

Mr. Walter Scott, County Assessor, Coupeville, Washington.

DEAR SIR:

Your deputy, Mary McDonald, contacted me by telephone today and asked that, if possible, one of the tax commissioners attend the meeting of your board of county commissioners next Monday in regard to the board's request for a blanket increase in all assessed valuations of property on Whidby Island. As I understand it, such proposed increase would not extend to any property in the remainder of the county. As you know, Mr. Hedges who had charge of our property tax division has left the commission, leaving only Mr. Huntley and myself, and our work is such that neither of us can at this time make the trip to Coupeville. However, I expressed the opinion to your deputy over the phone that such a proposed horizontal or overall percentage increase in assessed values would be unauthorized and illegal. Section 164 of our property tax code is quite specific on this point. It provides:

"He (the assessor) shall actually determine as nearly as practicable the true and fair value of each tract or lot of land listed for taxation and of each improvement located thereon and shall enter fifty per cent (50%) of the value of such land and of the total value of such improvements, together with the total of such fifty per cent valuations, opposite each description of property on his assessment list and tax roll."

This requires an individual valuation based upon the true and fair value of each tract. It may be, theoretically at least, that if it is determined that each individual tract in the county has been uniformly and without exception assessed say at 40% of its true and fair value, and it is then desired to approach more nearly the statutory 50% figure, that an overall percentage increase would be sustainable legally. We do not think that such an ideal of uniformity will ever be reached, and it is therefore our opinion that any general increase in valuation must be done by a reappraisal and revaluation of individual properties throughout the county.

Very truly yours,

TAX COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON,
E. W. ANDERSON, Commissioner.

Mr. Johnston demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Mr. O'Brien demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

Mrs. Hansen (Julia Butler):

Mr. Anderson (B. Roy):

"Yes, you can let it go by chance and keep it from getting so complicated it won't accomplish the end."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Olson (Ole H.):

"Will Mr. Anderson or Mr. Johnston yield to a question? Mr. Johnston made the statement the provisions of this bill will not become effective until 1955. What advantage has this over an income tax measure?"

Engrossed House Bill No. 384 is basically sound in that it provides a method of financing school districts which are unable to provide services demanded by local patrons. I should prefer greater safeguards be placed on this bill but feel the merits of the bill outweigh the deficiencies. Accordingly, I voted in favor of the bill.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Loney, the House adjourned until ten o'clock a. m., Monday, March 2, 1953.

R. MORT FRAYN, Speaker.

WILLIAM S. HOWARD, Chief Clerk.

FIFTIETH DAY

MORNING SESSION

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
OLYMPIA, WASH., Monday, March 2, 1953.

The Speaker called the House to order at ten o'clock a. m.

The Clerk called the roll and all members were present except Representatives Bailey, Connor, Hallauer, King, Loney, May, McCutcheon, Swan and Timm.

The flag of our country was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant-at-Arms color guard.

Prayer was offered by the Reverend Daniel McAllister, of the St. Michaels Church of Olympia.

The reading clerk proceeded to read the journal of the proceedings of the previous day. On motion of Mr. Smith, further reading was dispensed with and the journal was ordered to stand approved.

RESOLUTION

Resolution by Mr. O'Brien:

We, the members of the House of Representatives of the state of Washington in legislative session assembled, most heartily commend the Honorable Arthur B. Langlie, governor of the state of Washington, for his most recent expression of opposition to the continuation of the legislative session beyond the sixty-day limit.

WHEREAS, Governor Langlie has stated that any bill passed beyond the sixtieth day would be in extreme danger of being declared unconstitutional according to the constitution of the state of Washington and would be declared null and void by the supreme court of the state of Washington, and

WHEREAS, We already have pointed out and made our position clear in the Journal of this House in support of this self-same interpretation of our views, and that the above mentioned position coincides with that of the minority party,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted to the governor of the state of Washington and to the members of the supreme court of the state of Washington.

Mr. O'Brien moved the adoption of the resolution.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Stokes:

"Will Mr. O'Brien yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, will you yield?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Yes."

Mr. Stokes:

"Do you think innumerable amendments to certain bills and the requests to read in full some of the bills have anything to do with your anxiety to get out of here by March 12?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"I don't think that has anything to do with the resolution at all. Whether or not we want a bill read in full is a parliamentary and legislative procedure. You are an attorney. You know that any measure passed after the sixty-day limit may be unconstitutional, and null and void."

Mr. Stokes:

"As an attorney, I know you are assuming something that may not be true."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth) moved that Mr. O'Brien's motion be laid on the table.

Mr. O'Brien demanded a division and the demand was sustained.

The motion was carried on a standing vote and the resolution by Mr. O'Brien was laid on the table.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Yearout, permission was granted representatives of the Washington State Association of Gideons International to make a presentation of bibles.

The Speaker appointed Mr. Yearout and Mr. Elway to escort Mr. Ernest Taggart, president of the local branch of the Gideons society, and the Honorable Matthew W. Hill, judge of the state supreme court, to the rostrum.

Mr. Taggart presented a bible to each member of the House of Representatives.

Judge Hill:

"Mr. Speaker, Members of the House of Representatives:

"It is a very real pleasure on behalf of the Gideons to aid in the presentation of bibles to all elective state officials. We will present bibles to the Senate as they convene and to the governor and all of the other elected officials, including the justices of the supreme court, as a preliminary to the beginning of our second century of progress.

"In the first verse of the first chapter of the bible, it says, 'In the beginning God ' and when we read the last verse of the last book we find the statement, 'The grace of our Lord, Jesus Christ, be with you all, Amen.' In between you have the word of life. You have the means whereby we may determine our duties to God, to our neighbor, to ourselves. We have the law of life and our relationship to others and our responsibilities and duties much more accurately and succinctly than in the three volumes of territorial reports and the more than 240 volumes of state reports issued by the state supreme court. It contains the law of life as it applies to all mankind.

"If we may turn back in our history, in the third verse of the Star Spangled Banner, you will find, 'The power that has made and preserved us a nation.' This book is an emblem of that power.

"From the very beginning of our history as a nation, you will find constant reference to the power. In those days of the constitutional convention when they thought it was impossible for these warring, jealous thirteen states to ever arrive at an agreement, the oldest man in the convention rose and said, 'Mr. President, I have lived a long time.' And they knew that he had lived more than 80 years. 'If a sparrow cannot fall without notice, it is futile to believe we can act without His aid. I therefore suggest we invoke the blessings of Deity on our deliberations.' It may be a coincidence that from that time forward they began to arrive at the compromises that brought into existence the United States of America.

"It is worthy of note that George Washington at the conclusion of eight years of service delivered his farewell, dealing with many subjects he deemed to be of importance, and the only thing he said absolutely essential for the nation was morality and religion. He said that no people could remain free unless there was a real sense of morality in a living and dynamic religion.

"It was Andrew Jackson who said that the book you have on your desk is the rock on which our republic rests. And Abraham Lincoln said that the principles of the bible are the groundwork of human freedom. And Woodrow Wilson, on going back to the institution of which he was president before he became governor and president of the United States, at a convocation of Princeton students said, 'When you have read the bible you will know it is the word of God because you will have found the key to our own heart and your own happiness and your own duty.'

"Ladies and gentlemen, the book you have before you is as old as time and newer than this morning's newspaper. This morning's newspaper will tell you what happened yesterday. The bible will tell you what we ought to do today.

"We appreciate the opportunity of making this presentation on behalf of the Gideons. Thank you very much."

The Speaker:

"Thank you Judge Hill and Mr. Taggart.

"Speaking for the members of the House, I am certain they join me in expressing our thanks to you. I may say that instead of the red book we operate under, we could very well replace it with the white book you have given us today."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Dore:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege. I think Mr. Stokes impugned my motives. I wish to remind Mr. Stokes that he and I represent the same district, which encompasses more minority races than any other district. Mr. Stokes has directed his attention only to the negro race. I not only referred to the negro race but also to the Chinese, Japanese and other races.

"Only five members signed his bill out of Judiciary. His bill has many ramifications . . ."

The Speaker:

"I don't believe you are discussing your subject, Mr. Dore. Please confine your remarks to Mr. Stokes' having impugned your motives."

"You are talking about the merits of the bill. If you wish to confine your remarks to that which personally impugns your position, you may go ahead."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Stokes is speaking on the merits of the bill."

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken, Mr. O'Brien. The Speaker will advise both Mr. Dore and Mr. Stokes that they have the right to prepare remarks and have them placed in the Journal."

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

Executive Department,
Olympia, Wash., March 3, 1953.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I have the honor to advise that the Governor has approved the following House Bill, entitled:

House Bill No. 33:

"An Act relating to forest practices and amending sections 76.08.010, 76.08.060, 76.08.080 and 76.08.090, RCW, as derived from chapter 193, Laws of 1945, as amended."

Very truly yours,

FRED C. KOCH,

Assistant to the Governor.

Executive Department,
Olympia, Wash., March 3, 1953.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval as to section 54, House Bill No. 85, entitled:

"An Act relating to the regulation of cemeteries; adding a new chapter to title 68, RCW, creating a cemetery board and defining its powers and duties; adding a new section to chapter 68.40, RCW; and amending sections 68.36.060, 68.36.070, 68.36.090; and amending sections 68.40.010, 68.40.020, 68.40.030, 68.40.040, 68.40.060, 68.40.070, 68.40.080; and amending sections 68.44.010, 68.44.020, 68.44.030, 68.44.050, 68.44.070, 68.44.080, 68.44.090, 68.44.100, 68.44.110, 68.44.120, 68.44.160, 68.44.170, RCW, providing penalties, and repealing section 68.44.040, RCW."

Section 54 provides that "no license of any kind or character shall be required of any person, firm or corporation on account of or to authorize the sale of lots, graves or interment spaces in any dedicated cemetery".

This section was not contained in the original bill but was added by amendment. It appears to me to be wholly inconsistent with the remainder of the bill. One of the primary purposes of the bill appears to be to vest broad regulatory powers over cemetery authorities in the new cemetery board in order to correct certain abuses that have arisen and which cannot be controlled under the cemetery act of 1943, and I am convinced from my study of the bill that section 54 is directly contrary to and negates such purpose.

For these reasons section 54 is vetoed and the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR B. LANGLE, Governor.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.), the message from the governor on House Bill No. 85 was ordered transmitted to the Committee on Rules and Order.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Miller (Floyd C.):

"I'd like to make an inquiry that Mr. Gordon might answer. This amendment refers to senior citizens only but it seems to me it applies to all categories including the employable unemployed. We are trying to restrict it to deserving senior citizens of the act. I'd like to have it clarified."

Mr. Gordon:

"We copied this wording out of the statute. It had been deleted and we are putting it back in."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Will Mr. Reilly yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will the gentleman yield?"

Mr. Reilly:

Debate ensued.

The motion was lost and the amendment was not adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Miller (Floyd C.):

"I would like to make an inquiry on section 31. Can anyone tell me for certain if the state old age assistance grant would be considered federal assistance. We don't want to preclude a recipient of old age assistance from receiving a supplement by a senior citizen grant."

Mr. Petrie:

"I will try to answer. That, of course, is something under the administration of federal statutes. It is my belief the receiver would not be precluded under this section."

Mr. Gallagher:

"Yes."

Mr. Beierlein:

"You keep referring to the legislative council. Would that mean it has the final answer and is always correct?"

Mr. Gallagher:

"I do keep referring to the legislative council. The members of the council have given more time to the study of these projects than anyone else. I am only sorry that more consideration has not been given to our judgment."

Mr. Jones demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the motion by Mr. Carmichael.

The motion was lost and the amendment was not adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Reilly:

"Will Mr. Petrie yield to a question?"

Mr. Petrie:

"Yes."

Mr. Reilly:

"If one spouse died, could another declare a homestead in preference to the state?"

Mr. Petrie:

"If one spouse should die, could the other declare a homestead? Certainly, yes."

Mr. Reilly:

"Where is it so stated in the act?"

Mr. Petrie:

"On page 14, line 7, it says: 'Procedure for the allowance of such claims shall be in accordance with chapter 11.40, RCW, and as hereafter amended, and shall be subject to chapter 11.52, RCW, and as hereafter amended.' Section 11.52 is the provision for the homestead allowance."

Mr. Reilly:

"Doesn't the following take it out: 'The claim of the state shall have preference?' It also says, '* * * * it shall be subject to the law except as hereafter amended'. Wouldn't it be your interpretation by that very language that you have given a preference to the state?"

Mr. Petrie:

"No, Mr. Reilly.

"I don't wish to stand here and debate legal questions. There are others more qualified than I am. In line 10 it states, 'The claim of the state shall have preference to the claims of all unsecured creditors, except funeral expenses, expenses of last sickness and of administration.' That has no bearing on the homestead provision."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"I wonder if I might answer Mr. Reilly's question.

"The present law does not require allowance for payment of preferred claims. A homestead can still be set aside against that claim. I raise this point of information— isn't it true a homestead can be set aside against a preferred claim and this is a preferred claim?"

Mr. Reilly:

"As hereafter amended'. Doesn't that mean the claim shall have preference over all claims? Are we amending by reference?"

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"It states, 'as hereafter amended', not 'hereinafter'."

Further debate ensued.

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth) demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Mr. Stocker, you are not satisfied with the language of this bill which states it is subject to the homestead rights? You want to spell it out?"

Mr. Stocker:

"I want to spell it out so that a person establishing a homestead will not have that homestead violated by recovery."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Isn't it repetitious?"

Mr. Stocker:

"It is not redundant."

"Yes."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Did I understand you to say that it is no longer necessary to put up any bond? Suppose an agent absconded with some money. How could it be recovered?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mrs. Ridgway:

"I would like to question the constitutionality of the amendment just put on this bill."

Mr. Anderson (B. Roy):

"Would you please repeat your question."

Mrs. Ridgway:

"Have you considered the amendment's constitutionality, or whether it is germane to the bill?"

Mr. Anderson (B. Roy):

"The amendment relates to exemptions. It has been given considerable thought on the part of those qualified to have opinions."

Mrs. Ridgway:

"Do you think the amendment is constitutional and germane?"

Mr. Anderson (B. Roy):

"The amendment is germane. It relates to exemptions of taxes."

Mrs. Ridgway:

"How about the constitutionality?"

Mr. Anderson (B. Roy):

"There isn't any question about it in the opinion of counsel."

Mrs. Ridgway:

"I don't believe the amendment is germane as the bill, in its original form, deals only with personal property exemptions and the amendment deals with an entirely different matter—a tax on marine vessels. I wish to point out that a section which places a tax upon ships is an entirely different subject than household goods and furnishings. I believe the bill now encompasses two subjects and therefore is unconstitutional."

On motion of Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.), the rules were suspended, Re-Engrossed House Bill No. 52 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Savage:

"Will the lady yield to a question?"

Mrs. May:

"Yes."

Mr. Savage:

"I am in favor of fifty percent of the forest reserve money going to the schools. However, the attitude of the county officials in my county is such that last year when a school house burned, about a third of the entire fund was allocated to that district. It appears to me that this provision would prevent using the money in that manner. A formula might be devised but would the state board have to write a formula or would the money be distributed according to attendance?"

Mrs. May:

"There are inequities of apportionment and this bill would eliminate them by giving the county superintendents more leeway to apportion the money where it is most needed. Right now, the county superintendents realize that under the present basis they do not have an equitable apportionment. The formula in this bill is not a hard and fast one.

"This legislation is a definite request on the part of the department of education, so that money will go where it is most needed."

"State your point, Mr. Reilly."

Mr. Reilly:

"In your absence, Mr. Johnston was presiding officer of this House. On final passage of House Bill No. 578, after the previous question had been sustained, Mr. Johnston said, 'We are on the final passage of House Bill No. 578 and the clerk will call the roll'. Before the roll was commenced, Mr. Farrar demanded a call of the House. Mr. Johnston recognized him but ruled his demand was out of order. This was done before the roll call."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Rasmussen:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. Business has intervened. Mr. Reilly is out of order in raising his point of order now. He did not raise it at the proper time and he didn't appeal from the decision of the chair."

Mr. Reilly:

"Before I could raise the point of order, Mr. Johnston, as presiding officer, told Mr. Farrar he was out of order. The reading clerk then started the roll call. I ask this body to concur in my point or expunge the records as taken down by the minute clerk."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Point of order. House Bill No. 578 was declared by the Speaker to be lost, and on reconsideration it was lost. I don't believe that bill is before us now. The Speaker Pro Tem made a decision and that decision wasn't challenged."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The Speaker will rule that Mr. Reilly's point of order is not well taken. Subsequent matters have been considered since the question on which he is raising the point of order was considered. The final passage of House Bill No. 594 was that matter."

APPEAL FROM THE DECISION OF THE CHAIR

Mr. Reilly:

"Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House:

"I do this reluctantly. I know the Speaker is trying to be very fair. I appeal from the decision of the Speaker.

"The previous question had been put and sustained. Mr. Johnston, according to the minutes, said that the question before the House was the final passage of House Bill No. 578 and that the clerk will call the roll. Before a name had been called, Mr. Farrar was recognized by the chair, and demanded a call of the House. The clerk had not started the roll call.

"I appeal from the decision of the chair based on rule 199 of Reed's Parliamentary Rules which states that a point of order must be raised immediately except if there be confusion.

"Mr. Bernethy tried to obtain the Speaker's attention before the roll call had started. Mr. Gallagher tried to get the Speaker's attention before the roll call started. There were three who tried to get his attention and such confusion brings into effect section 199 of Reed's Parliamentary Rules. I ask you to sustain my appeal.

"I do not like to appeal. It is not the personal decision of the Speaker. It was the Speaker Pro Tem's decision and I think we ought to clear it up. I know the Speaker should be sustained but I am calling this to your attention because I think it is quite important."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"I wish to be as fair as possible and am only making this statement so that the members of the House will know what is in Reed's. Section 112 of Reed's says: 'Both of these objections to present action must be presented before consideration has been entered upon. After debate has begun or other action has been taken it is too late'.

"Reed's does say in section 199, and I point this out so that the House may have before it all of the facts, 'A question of order has precedence over all the others, provided it is made at once, but has no standing if the business has been entered upon, or in the case of unparliamentary language the offending member has been allowed to proceed. A point of order must be made at once or is deemed to be waived. If there is confusion, rising and endeavoring to make the point saves all rights. The other incidental motions have no precedence over each other, and each must be decided before another can be put, and before any action on the question which was pending when the incidental motion was entertained.'

"In view of the fact we are on an appeal, I am calling attention to what Reed's says."

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Miss Wintler:

"Point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker. When does a roll call begin? When the Speaker announces the clerk will call the roll, or when the clerk calls the first name?"

The Speaker:

"The roll call has started when the first name is called."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Reilly:

"I wish to state here for the record that I am appealing from the decision of Mr. Frayn only in so far as it is the indirect order by Mr. Johnston while he was presiding officer."

The Speaker:

"The question before the House is 'Shall the decision of the Speaker be the judgment of the House?'"

The decision of the Speaker was voted the judgment of the House.

"The Speaker will rule that his watch is the time under which we are operating and that the hour now being after midnight of the fifty-fifth day Mr. Reilly would be out of order to discuss this bill any further."

Mr. Brown:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege.

"Twenty minutes ago I went to the journal room to inspect yesterday's journal. I was informed that it wasn't yet completed. I was asked what part I wished to see. I said the evening proceedings and that portion of the journal was brought to me. There were other parts I was interested in also.

"Each day we sit here and approve the journal but we don't know what is in it. How can we approve something before it is completed?"

Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.):

“Today we stop our work to honor a distinguished member of this House, our Speaker, the Honorable R. Mort Frayn and his lovely wife, Helen.

“I have here in my hand a scroll which bears the signature of every member of this House. In looking at the writing on this scroll, I see comments and remarks certifying to the high esteem and regard with which Mort is held by all his colleagues on both sides of the aisle. Along with the scroll, I also wish to present a man’s handsome watch from the fifteen members of the Rules committee, that deliberative body which handles the business of the House, in sincere appreciation for the fairness with which you have handled the important matters before that committee.

“It is with great pleasure and honor that I hand you this written message and watch as a token of our admiration for your outstanding leadership in this thirty-third session of the House of Representatives and express with it, on behalf of all the members, best wishes for your continued success and happiness in the days to come.”

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"What bill is that?"

The Speaker (Mr. Loney presiding):

"Engrossed Senate Bill No. 412."

Mr. O'Brien:

"You are reporting under standing committee reports?"

The Speaker (Mr. Loney presiding):

"That is correct."

Mr. O'Brien:

"That is the report from the Elections committee?"

The Speaker (Mr. Loney presiding):

"That is correct."

Mr. O'Brien:

"When did the House Election committee meet?"

The Speaker (Mr. Loney presiding):

"You might ask Mr. Lawrence."

Mr. O'Brien:

"When did the Election committee meet on this?"

Mr. Lawrence:

"There was a short meeting held today."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker, on whether the committee meeting was called legally or whether the bill was passed around in the corridors of this House."

The Speaker (Mr. Loney presiding):

"Mr. O'Brien, I'd like to inform you that the following members signed the committee report: Mr. Bernethy, Mr. Brown, Mr. Hess, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. Ryder, Mr. Shropshire, Mr. Siler and Mr. Wang."

The Speaker resumed the chair.

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, will you re-state your point of order, please."

Mr. O'Brien:

"A committee chairman should call a meeting to order at a regularly scheduled time and place, and the report should not be passed around in the corridors for members to sign. A regularly called meeting wasn't called or had. A report of that nature should not be filed."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Lawrence, have you been having meetings of your Committee on Elections?"

Mr. Lawrence:

"Yes."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Mr. Speaker, I don't believe Mr. O'Brien should dominate the floor. The committee report is signed by the chairman of the committee and by committee members. I don't see how we can go beyond that."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, it was admitted that a committee meeting wasn't held relative to this bill."

The Speaker:

"I don't believe your point is well taken, Mr. O'Brien. I think that a committee meeting was held today by the Committee on Elections. I don't believe the committee chairman, Mr. Lawrence, has been derelict."

Mr. O'Brien:

"House Rule 16, Mr. Speaker. 'The chief clerk shall post on the bulletin board the time and place of committee meetings.' No notice was given. Also, under rule 16, a meeting must be posted."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

RESOLUTIONS

Resolution by Mrs. Hansen, Messrs. Neill and Rasmussen:

WHEREAS, Each session of the legislature is confronted with numerous bills affecting the salaries of persons employed in various capacities in the state government and local governmental subdivisions of the state; and

WHEREAS, The enactment of laws affecting these matters in some departments of the state and in some local governmental subdivisions and failure to enact similar laws affecting other departments and subdivisions widens the existing disparity between salaries, classifications and qualifications among city, county and state governmental agencies; and

WHEREAS, These conditions hamper the efforts of the state and local governmental subdivisions to stabilize and equalize governmental wage scales, job classifications and qualifications of public employees and to insure the payment to all of the prevailing wage for similar work; and

WHEREAS, In order that the legislature may take appropriate action to alleviate these conditions it is necessary that it be fully informed on all matters relating to wage scales, job classifications and qualifications in all branches of public employment, federal, state and local, and on all other matters relating thereto;

EXPLANATION OF VOTES

We, the undersigned members of the Democrat party, voted against and opposed the resolution offered by Representative Montgomery this Thursday morning, March 12, 1953, stating that it was the intention of the legislature to increase teachers' salaries.

We oppose Representative Montgomery's resolution because the teachers' pay cannot be raised with good intentions, but this requires adequate appropriations.

When the omnibus appropriation bill was before this House, we members of the Democrat minority specifically offered amendments to provide for sufficient appropriations for an adequate raise in pay for teachers. We then pointed out that the appropriation for schools contained in the appropriation bill submitted by the Republican majority was inadequate.

A great American, on a great occasion, said:

"The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it will long remember what we do here."

This is a lesser occasion, but we are convinced that the people of this state and the school teachers are not interested in our good intentions. They are interested in our fulfilling our legislative responsibilities by providing adequate appropriations for our schools. We voted against Representative Montgomery's resolution because we do not believe in giving mere lip service to our responsibilities, but desire to back up our good intentions with adequate appropriations.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

Senate Bill No. 281, by Senator Kimball:

Providing for a tax on copra products.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Mr. Reilly moved the adoption of the following amendment:

Amend the bill by adding thereto two new sections to be known as sections 3 and 4 to read as follows:

"Sec. 3. Chapter 82.04, RCW, shall contain a new section to read as follows:

"There is levied and shall be collected from every person engaging within this state in the business of selling, licensing or otherwise disposing of performing rights in or to any musical composition or dramatic-musical composition which has been copyrighted and is the subject of a valid existing copyright under the laws of the United States, a tax for the act or privilege of engaging in such business activity. Such tax shall be equal to the gross income of the business, multiplied by the rate of three percent.

"Sec. 4. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. The amendment just read goes beyond the scope of the bill and is not germane to it."

Mr. Reilly:

"I believe Senate Bill No. 281, before us now, pertains to the 1935 revenue act, which is the revenue act, RCW 82.04. Section 82.04, Mr. Jones, embodies everything under which the people of this state can receive a sales tax. I have the act before me. It is 41 pages long. My proposed amendment is an amendment to section 82.04, the same as Senate Bill No. 281, and I think it is germane and apropos to the bill in all respects in that Senate Bill No. 281 deals with one-fourth of one percent sales tax and my amendment deals with a three percent sales tax."

Mr. Anderson (B. Roy):

"While the lawyers are giving reasons that the amendment is germane by reason of the same section of the same statute, I would like to say that the bill deals with the conversion to oil of copra imported from the south Sea islands. You are speaking of something entirely foreign. Even though the amendment might be under the same act of law, it isn't germane."

Mr. Reilly:

"I don't believe there is anything in the original revenue act of 1935 dealing with copra."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The Speaker will rule the amendment is not germane. It may be germane to section 82.04 of the code, but by our state constitution no amendment to any bill shall be allowed which changes the scope and object of that bill."

On motion of Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.), the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 281 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

Mr. Farrar demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 281, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 76; nays, 1; absent or not voting, 22.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams (Geo. N.), Anderson (B. Roy), Anderson (Eva), Arnason, Bailey, Beierlein, Bernethy, Byrne, Carmichael, Chytil, Clark (Cecil C.), Clark (Newman H.), Connor, Donohue, Dore, Eldridge, Elway, Farrar, Gallagher, Gordon, Griffith, Hansen (Julia Butler), Hanson (Herb), Hawley, Hoefel, Huhta, Hurley, Hyppa, Jeffreys, Johnson (Ray W.), Johnston (Elmer E.), Jones (John R.), Jones (W. Kenneth), King, Kirk, Lawrence, Lester, Lorimer, Macek, Mardesich, Mason, Mast, McBeath, McCutcheon, Miller (Clyde J.), Miller (Floyd C.), Montgomery, Mundy, Munsey, Neill, Oakes, O'Brien, Olsen (Ray), Olson (Ole H.), Ovenell, Petrie, Purvis, Rasmussen, Reilly, Rosenberg, Sandison, Savage, Shropshire, Siler, Sorensen, Steele, Stocker, Stokes, Swan, Swayze, Timm, Wang, Wintler, Yearout, Young, Mr. Speaker—76.

Those voting nay were: Representative Robison—1.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Adams (Alfred O.), Ball, Brown, Canfield, Davis, Gamon, Hallauer, Hess, Hofmeister, LeCocq, Loney, May, Mayes, McKay, Pedersen, Richey, Ridgway, Ruoff, Ryder, Smith, Strom, Testu—22.

Senate Bill No. 281, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

Senate Bill No. 347, by Senator Goodloe:

Relating to county law libraries; creating maintenance fund therefor.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.), the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 347 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 347, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 75; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 22.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams (Geo. N.), Anderson (B. Roy), Anderson (Eva), Arnason, Bailey, Beierlein, Bernethy, Carmichael, Chytil, Clark (Cecil C.), Clark (Newman H.), Connor, Donohue, Dore, Eldridge, Elway, Farrar, Gallagher, Gordon, Griffith, Hansen (Julia Butler), Hanson (Herb), Hawley, Hoefel, Hofmeister, Huhta, Hurley, Hyppa, Jeffreys, Johnson (Ray W.), Johnston (Elmer E.), Jones (John R.), Jones (W. Senate Bill No. 347, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES ON HOUSE BILLS VETOED OR PARTIALLY VETOED

March 3, 1953.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

(Through the Secretary of State.)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith without my approval as to section 54, House Bill No. 85, entitled:

"An Act relating to the regulation of cemeteries; adding a new chapter to title 68, RCW, creating a cemetery board and defining its powers and duties; adding a new section to chapter 68.40, RCW; and amending sections 68.36.060, 68.36.070, 68.36.090; and amending sections 68.40.010, 68.40.020, 68.40.030, 68.40.040, 68.40.060, 68.40.070, 68.40.080; and amending sections 68.44.010, 68.44.020, 68.44.030, 68.44.050, 68.44.070, 68.44.080, 68.44.090, 68.44.100, 68.44.110, 68.44.120, 68.44.160, 68.44.170, RCW, providing penalties, and repealing section 68.44.040, RCW."

Section 54 provides that "no license of any kind or character shall be required of any person, firm or corporation on account of or to authorize the sale of lots, graves or interment spaces in any dedicated cemetery".

This section was not contained in the original bill but was added by amendment. It appears to me to be wholly inconsistent with the remainder of the bill. One of the primary purposes of the bill appears to be to vest broad regulatory powers over cemetery authorities in the new cemetery board in order to correct certain abuses that have arisen and which cannot be controlled under the cemetery act of 1943, and I am convinced from my study of the bill that section 54 is directly contrary to and negates such purpose.

For these reasons section 54 is vetoed and the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ARTHUR B. LANGLIE,

Governor.

March 18, 1953.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

(Through the Secretary of State.)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington at the next session of the legislature, without my approval, House Bill No. 382, entitled:

"An Act relating to the real estate sales tax; prescribing certain additional duties of county treasurers with respect thereto; imposing certain duties upon the state tax commission; and amending chapter 28.45, RCW, by adding a new section thereto."

This bill was designed to provide a yardstick whereby to determine the percentage or ratio of assessed value to selling price of real property on the basis of records to be maintained in connection with the real estate sales tax enacted by the legislature at its first extraordinary session of 1951.

The bill was intended to operate in conjunction with House Bill No. 383 setting up a new basis for the equalization factor in common school support and House Bill No. 384 which authorized counties to impose additional taxes for school support with a vote of the electors of the county.

Inasmuch as both of these bills failed to pass, House Bill No. 382 can serve no useful purpose.

For this reason House Bill No. 382 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ARTHUR B. LANGLEIE,

Governor.

March 20, 1953.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

(Through the Secretary of State.)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the legislature, without my approval, House Bill No. 488, entitled:

“An Act validating the organization, establishment, and existence of water districts heretofore organized or established or attempted to be organized or established under chapter 57.04, RCW; validating and confirming all bonds, obligations, contracts, assessments, levies, and all other acts, proceedings and things heretofore executed, issued or done by such districts or their officers; and declaring an emergency.”

The bill validates the organization, establishment and existence of certain water districts organized or established under the provisions of chapter 57.04, RCW. It practically duplicates the provisions of sections 25, 26 and 27 of Senate Bill 431, the provisions of which appear to be somewhat broader in scope and therefore in my opinion preferable to the provisions of House Bill No. 488.

For these reasons House Bill No. 488 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ARTHUR B. LANGLEIE,

Governor.

March 21, 1953.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

(Through the Secretary of State.)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the legislature, without my approval, House Bill No. 556, entitled:

"An Act relating to sales of property of school districts of the first class; repealing section 18, article III, subchapter 4, Title III, chapter 97, Laws of 1909 and amending section 28.62.190, RCW."

I have approved House Bill No. 37 which provides that school districts may sell property no longer required for school purposes without an authorizing vote of the electors of the district, if such property has a value of less than $20,000.

House Bill No. 556 was introduced to correct certain minor errors in RCW 28.62.190 and retains the $2,000 limitation on unneeded property which may be sold by a first class school district without a vote of the electors.

House Bill No. 37 which I have already signed, increasing the $2,000 limitation to $20,000, expressly repeals RCW 28.62.190 to the extent of any inconsistency with the provisions of House Bill No. 37. The legal effect of my approval of House Bill No. 556 would be to supersede and nullify House Bill No. 37 in so far as first class school districts are concerned by restoring the $2,000 limitation enacted by House Bill No. 37.

For this reason House Bill No. 556 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ARTHUR B. LANGLIE,

Governor.

March 23, 1953.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

(Through the Secretary of State.)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington at the next session of the legislature, without my approval, House Bill No. 409, entitled:

"An Act relating to the due date of excise taxes; prescribing penalties; and amending section 82.32.090, RCW."

This bill was a companion bill to House Bill No. 333 and amends section 192 of the revenue act of 1935 as amended by extending the delinquency date of excise taxes from the 25th of the month next succeeding the due date to the last day of such month.

The reasons given in my veto of House Bill No. 333 apply equally to House Bill No. 409.

A further reason prompts me to exercise the veto power on this bill. As introduced the bill made similar provisions for extending the delinquency date on taxes collected by the second largest tax collecting agency in the state, namely, the motor fuel tax and use fuel tax collected by the Department of Licenses. These provisions were amended out of the bill and I can see no reason why, if delinquency dates are to be uniformly extended to the last day of the month, such provisions should not apply to all such collecting agencies.

For these reasons House Bill No. 409 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ARTHUR B. LANGLIE,

Governor.

March 23, 1953.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

(Through the Secretary of State.)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval, House Bill No. 333, entitled:

"An Act relating to industrial insurance; fixing time for filing employer's quarterly reports and payment of premiums; and amending section 51.16.060, RCW."

Under existing law employers subject to the workmen's compensation act are required to file reports with the Department of Labor and Industries and pay their industrial insurance premiums quarterly and they are given 25 days of grace before delinquency.

House Bill No. 333 extends the grace period from the 25th to the last day of the month. Over the last several decades the Department has established routine practices and procedures for the processing of these reports and payments. I am convinced that this bill will disrupt such practices and procedures to such an extent that any disadvantage which public accountants are met with under existing law will be more than offset by the disruption that will inevitably be brought about if this bill should be approved. I can see no reason why the 25-day period of grace should be extended to the end of the month and I believe that to do so would not be advisable or in the public interest.

For these reasons House Bill No. 333 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ARTHUR B. LANGLEIE,

Governor.

March 23, 1953.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

(Through the Secretary of State.)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval, House Bill No. 478, entitled:

"An Act relating to food handler, restaurant worker and bartender health certificates."

This bill provides that a health certificate usually referred to as a "health card" issued to a food handler, restaurant worker or bartender, under the provisions of county or city ordinances, shall be valid throughout the entire State of Washington. I am in entire sympathy with a proposal that such workers should be entitled to a single card having statewide validity but I believe that before such a provision should be enacted into law there should be uniform statewide standards established for the examination of these workers, together with a uniform fee. No such uniform standards exist at the present time and none is provided for in this bill.

Its wording would permit any private physician to issue a health certificate for any period of time he may designate. He could, for example, designate a period of 5 years and this would not be adequate to prevent contact of the public with an infected food handler. The type of health examination is not specified nor is the frequency of examinations.

Under present conditions, each area operates on its own standards some of which are quite rigid and others of which are extremely liberal, and this bill, in my opinion, would tend to reduce all areas to the common level of those areas which now maintain the lowest standards and, therefore, would not be in the public interest.

I believe the enactment of a bill establishing uniform standards and fees should precede the enactment of a bill such as House Bill No. 478.

For these reasons House Bill No. 478 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ARTHUR B. LANGLEIE,

Governor.

March 23, 1953.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

(Through the Secretary of State.)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval, House Bill No. 381, entitled:

“An Act relating to property taxation; reconstituting the county board of equalization; prescribing the duties of said board and of the county assessor; amending RCW 84.40.030 and 84.48-.010, adding a new section to chapter 84.52, RCW, and declaring an emergency.”

This bill was introduced as part of the so-called “package plan” of enabling legislation so that counties, if they wanted extra services, could have the means of raising the money to pay for them.

The bill went in with another group of bills the purpose of which was to provide alternative means by which to increase funds available for governmental purposes at the local level if the people at the local level felt it desirable.

Two of these bills, namely, House Bills Nos. 383 and 384, failed to pass with the result that another of the bills, namely, House Bill No. 382, with which the other two were designed to operate, had to be vetoed. Thus the bills that were to serve as an alternative and as complementary to House Bill No. 381 failed and with the loss of these bills, particularly House Bill No. 384, the original purpose of the “package plan” has been frustrated with the result that I must veto House Bill No. 381.

For these reasons House Bill No. 381 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ARTHUR B. LANGLEIE,

Governor.

March 23, 1953.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

(Through the Secretary of State.)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to certain items, House Bill No. 451, entitled:

"An Act making appropriations and reappropriations for the purchase, condemnation and improvement of land, construction of buildings and improvements at designated state institutions; for the payment of salaries of certain officers and employees of the state and for the operation, maintenance and other expenses of certain state institutions, departments and offices; for the relief of certain individuals, corporations, counties and municipalities; for refunds and for deficiencies and for emergencies, and for appropriation of revolving funds, and for purposes specified in certain acts of Congress, and for miscellaneous purposes designated for the fiscal biennium beginning April 1, 1953, and ending March 31, 1955, except as otherwise provided; defining terms, limiting allowances and payments, and declaring that this act shall take effect immediately."

I disapprove and veto the item "HAROLD LARSEN, damages to hay and grain by deer $800.00" for the reason that through error this award was also included in the amount allowed to CARL LARSEN, immediately preceding. Claimants have agreed to accept the amount allowed to Carl Larsen in full settlement of both claims.

I disapprove and veto the item "FOR THE SECRETARY OF STATE: Bureau of Statistics and Immigration: Salaries, Wages and Operations $12,000.00" for the reason that this service has been performed by the Secretary of State from his regular office appropriation and ample funds have been provided in the omnibus appropriations bill to continue the service without a special appropriation.

I disapprove and veto the items "FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SECURITY: Division of Public Assistance: General Home Assistance $3,500,000.00; Contingencies: PROVIDED, That this appropriation shall become available only upon written approval by the Governor $750,000.00; (Expenditures from the foregoing two appropriations not to exceed amounts received from the tax levied under the provisions Substitute House Bill No. 225) Total $4,000,000.00" for the reason that these items are reappropriated to the department of public assistance by Senate Bill No. 14, extraordinary session of 1953 and therefore represent a duplication.

I disapprove and veto the item "FROM THE MOTOR VEHICLE FUND. FOR TRANSFER: To Highway Bond Retirement Fund $1,489,500.00" for the reason that Senate Bill No. 433 duplicates this appropriation.

With the exception of the foregoing items, which are vetoed, the remainder of House Bill No. 451 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ARTHUR B. LANGLIE,

Governor.

March 23, 1953.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

(Through the Secretary of State.)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval, House Bill No. 144, entitled:

"An Act relating to toll bridges and amending section 47.60-.120, RCW."

This bill amends section 6 of the toll ferry act of 1949. The section as originally enacted contained a provision prohibiting any competitive service either by way of toll bridges or ferry crossings within 10 miles of any ferry crossing or bridge operated or maintained by Toll Bridge Authority.

This bill amends the 10-mile prohibition by inserting a proviso the effect of which will be that the 10-mile prohibition will not apply to any competing service transporting persons by vessels not carrying licensed motor vehicles concerning which the Public Service Commission shall be entitled to issue a certificate of public convenience and necessity only upon permission and approval of the Toll Bridge Authority.

This represents, in my opinion, a material relaxation of the express provisions contained in the same section as enacted in 1949. That section provided that "the provisions of this section shall be binding upon the state, and all of its departments, agencies and instrumentalities * * * and the provisions of this section shall restrict and limit the powers of the legislature in respect to the matters herein mentioned so long as any of such bonds are outstanding and unpaid and shall be deemed to constitute a contract to that effect for the benefit of the holders of all such bonds."

Thus this section constitutes a contract with the bondholders until the last bond is redeemed.

I am unable to comprehend how the terms of that contract can be varied by amendment such as that incorporated in House Bill No. 144, without impairing the obligation of contracts in violation of the constitutional rights of the bondholders.

The sanctity of the pledged word is one of the cornerstones of our American system of law and order. It may be argued that the bill does not violate the covenant with the bondholders in view of the fact that the competitive service cannot be initiated except with the approval and permission of the Toll Bridge Authority, but this overlooks the fact that the contract is with the state through its legislature and not with any administrative body.

It is not inconceivable that with a turnover in administration the Toll Bridge Authority might be disposed to give its approval to competing service in the face of the contractual 10-mile prohibition and relegate bondholders to the courts for the protection of the integrity of their investment. This would entail considerable time, trouble and expense and I believe that one of the purposes of the provisions contained in the original act safeguarding the bondholders was to insure that amendments such as contemplated by House Bill No. 144 would not be imposed.

For these reasons House Bill No. 144 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) ARTHUR B. LANGLIE,
Governor.

March 23, 1953.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.
(Through the Secretary of State.)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval, House Bill No. 142, entitled:

"An Act relating to toll bridges and amending section 47.56-.220, RCW."

This bill is a companion bill to House Bill No. 144 and inserts the same amendment in section 13 of the original toll bridge act as was inserted in the toll ferry act by House Bill No. 144.

For the reasons stated in my message on House Bill No. 144, House Bill No. 142 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) ARTHUR B. LANGLIE,
Governor.

March 23, 1953.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.
(Through the Secretary of State.)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval, House Bill No. 260, entitled:

"An Act relating to the acquiring of land by the state capitol committee for additions to Capitol Place in the city of Olympia; providing for the establishment of a parking area thereon; making an appropriation; and declaring an emergency."

There has not been sufficiently careful planning on this project to justify the state during the next two years putting in $325,000 for a parking lot. While during legislative sessions, particularly, parking is a serious problem and there is need for additional parking space this matter has not been given the serious study nor tied into the long range plan of the Capitol grounds sufficiently well to make it feasible at this time; also there is some doubt as to whether the Capitol building construction fund to the extent needed for this bill and also for the new office building is sufficient at this time.

For these reasons House Bill No. 260 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) ARTHUR B. LANGLIE,
Governor.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTALTo the Members of the 33rd Legislature:

In compliance with the act creating the Washington State Legislative Council, submitted herewith is the Council's report for the 1951-1953 biennium summarizing research activities during this period and presenting recommendations endorsed by the Council for consideration by the legislature.

Council recommendations are based on studies made by its standing and special subcommittees, the reports of which are summarized herein. The detailed results of these studies with supporting documentation are contained in separate committee reports. The attention of the legislators is invited to these reports for further information of problems involved and reasons for the conclusions and recommendations reached by the Council for presentation to the legislature.

Respectfully,

III. REPORT OF LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL ACTIVITIES IN INTERSTATE COOPERATIONIV. FINANCIAL STATEMENT*ORGANIZATION AND FUNCTIONS*The Council Idea

The Legislative Council is a continuing, fact-finding agency of the Washington State Legislature established (by act of the legislature February 12, 1947) to study state problems and compile data at a time apart from the rush of a law-making session when so requested, particularly when requested by committees or members of either house, or when so directed by either Senate or House Resolution; and from its studies, made over a period of two years, make recommendations on problems on which the legislators find it difficult to reach a conclusion during the brief sixty days of the session.

Powers and Duties

The Council exercises the following powers and duties:

To carry out all functions normally delegated to special interim legislative committees.

To examine and study the organization and procedures of the state government and to make recommendations for greater economy and efficiency.

To examine and report concerning the current condition of all state funds and appropriations.

To make other studies and examinations of state affairs as deemed advisable.

To receive messages and reports from the governor and other state officials, and to attend to business addressed to and affecting the legislature during the interim between regular sessions.

To report findings and recommendations to the legislature at least ten days prior to the ensuing session.

To cooperate and function with the Council of State Governments, and with other legislative councils and research organizations.

To inspect the files, records and accounts of any state office and, if deemed necessary, to issue subpoenas and compel the attendance of witnesses.

To make its own rules and regulations governing the conduct of business not otherwise prescribed.

Membership, Officers and Staff

The Council consists of ten senators and eleven representatives, including the president pro tem of the Senate and the speaker of the House of Representatives. Members are appointed by the president of the Senate and speaker of the House in such a manner as to include at least one individual from each United States Congressional District within the state and so that not more than twelve of the council members shall be members of any one particular party. Appointments must be made at least ten days prior to the close of the session, subject to confirmation as to the Senate members by the Senate and as to the House members by the House of Representatives. Terms last only until the convening of the succeeding regular session.

The Council's officers, a chairman, vice chairman, and secretary, are elected by the Council as a whole. The officers form an executive committee which has authority to act in any way necessary for the Council when it is not in session.

A full time office and research staff is maintained; although a great deal of the information which forms a background for Council work is available through libraries and research agencies of this and other states, a certain amount of essential information can be procured only through the utilization and maintenance of a permanent research staff.

How the Council Functions

The Council functions through a number of standing committees appointed under the rules of the Council. Provision is also made for the appointment of special subcommittees as needed.

An allocation from the Council budget is made to each subcommittee to provide for necessary travel of committee members and essential staff work.

From the many problems presented by the legislature and other agencies to the Council, the subcommittees screen and select those currently considered of pressing importance. It is necessary to guard against spreading committee efforts too thinly over too wide a field. By Council action it is necessary that all subcommittee projects be approved by the executive committee.

The work of the subcommittees is reported upon at each Council meeting. These progress reports are received and appended to the minutes of the Council's meeting, a copy of which is sent to each member of the legislature. Thus, the members of the legislature are kept informed regarding projects under consideration by the Council and its subcommittees.

When the subcommittees have completed their work, usually near the end of the year preceding the next regular session, their recommendations are embodied in reports to the Council. Those committee recommendations which are formally adopted by the Council become its recommendations to the legislature and are duly submitted to that body in the Council's report.

RECOMMENDATIONS TO THE 33RD LEGISLATURE

Information in detail (groundwork, facts, and figures) on all committee reports available in Council office, House Committee Room 9.

Subcommittee on Commerce, Industry, Trades and Professions

The Subcommittee on Commerce, Industry, Trades and Professions was charged with consideration of matters relating to state regulation of economic pursuits which affect the public interests.

During the biennium the committee gave primary attention to the industrial insurance law, the healing arts, and basic science law.

In order to obtain the views of both labor and industry, as well as the Department of Labor and Industries and the Board of Appeals, and to enable the committee to make a more comprehensive study of the industrial insurance law, the committee conferred with and sought the full cooperation of these agencies. Problems relating to the optometry law and the Metropolitan Tract were also considered.

In connection with the committee's studies concerning the Horse Racing Law, the Motor Fuel Excise Tax, the proposed naturopathic bill, and the problems of the barbers and beauticians, the committee recommended that, although these studies were not concluded, the material be made available to appropriate committees of the legislature.

A preliminary investigation made in connection with the denial of rate reductions to the Tacoma-Port Angeles Auto Freight, Inc., resulted in the committee's agreeing that the matter did not justify further study. A problem presented to the committee in connection with the status of employees, due to the acquisition by the state of the Washington Ferry System, was investigated and settled satisfactorily.

The recommendations of the subcommittee, as approved by the Council for consideration by the legislature on the industrial insurance law, basic science law, Metropolitan Tract, and optometry law, are as follows:

INDUSTRIAL INSURANCE LAW

1. It is recommended that provisions relating to attorneys' fees be strengthened to disallow a fee to an attorney for representing claimant before the Supervisor of Industrial Insurance; or at least hold the fee to a bare minimum; that all fees be recorded in writing and approved; that exorbitant and duplicitous fees be prohibited.

Under the present system an attorney who appears at the departmental level is unnecessary and can accomplish nothing that the man could not obtain by himself; hence, a fee for such services is inequitable. The effect of this recommendation would also add meaning to RCW 51.52.132, which makes it unlawful for any lawyer to receive a greater fee than that set in accordance with certain sections of the act.

2. It is recommended that the law provide for lump sum payments in permanent partial disability awards with discretion in the workman to choose periodic payments. However, a minimum should be provided whereby any award less than the minimum should be automatically paid in a lump sum.

The present law makes it mandatory that permanent partial awards be compensated in a lump sum. There are occasions when it would be to the best interests of the workman to receive his compensation periodically rather than in a lump sum. A minimum award, as set by the legislature, should always be paid in a lump sum, since there is a point when, administratively, it is unwise economically to attempt to pay such a small sum periodically.

3. It is recommended that RCW 51.04.050 be amended to include hospitals and medical clinics so that these institutions must divulge necessary information. (The present law applies only to physicians.)

The present law provides that in all hearings, actions, or proceedings before the Department, the Board, or any court, that physicians who have examined or treated a claimant must divulge all information. Administratively this causes some difficulty; and the claim procedure would be materially expedited if the law were expanded to include hospitals and medical clinics.

4. It is recommended that the provision allowing an employer to be covered at his election be eliminated.

Because of the difficulty of administration, including the determination of whether an employer has or has not reported his hours; the determination of whether an employer is actually receiving twenty-four-hour coverage, whereas, he pays a premium only on a normal working day; because occasionally a claim is allowed where the hours of the employer were not included; and to achieve greater efficiency and to reduce cost, this provision should be eliminated.

5. It is recommended that the definition of "employer" be modified to state that a person, body of persons, corporate or otherwise, must have at least one employee, other than the person, firm, partner, corporate officer, or other form of employer to be considered an employer under the act. This is to be in addition to the present definition and not in substitution therefor.

This recommendation is aimed at changing a judicial interpretation recently made by the Washington Supreme Court in which the court decided that although the Department had ruled that self-employed individuals cannot be employers unless they have at least one employee, that departmental ruling is not controlling since it is an erroneous construction of the act. Hence, the law should be clarified to express such legislative intent.

6. It is recommended that the law be amended to include a definition of the phrase "within the course of employment" to cover:
 - (a) All time growing out of, or incidental to, employment;
 - (b) Going to and from work while on the employer's premises within a reasonable time of actual hours of service;

- (c) On other premises or on the street while actually engaged in the employer's business affairs;
- (d) While operating or riding in any mode of transportation with the employer's express or implied approval while engaged in the employer's business affairs;
- (e) During the lunch hour while on the employer's premises, or on other premises when his presence is actually required by the employer's business affairs;
- (f) Where employment requires travel, except where there is a deviation for a purely personal use (but acts necessary for living, or incidental thereto, are not to be considered personal deviations);
- (g) When injury occurs during hours of service or while actually engaged in the employer's business affairs.

Provision should be inserted that the employer need not consider these as workman hours in his report, except where there is travel time, or where the employee is actually engaged in business affairs.

This will cover the hazards of employment which naturally attach prior to actual hours of service, during the lunch hour, or if hours of service have terminated. Presently, the workman is not covered during these times and in these areas; therefore, he must attempt to have a judicial determination of the question of whether he was or was not injured in the course of employment. The seven points listed above are intended merely as framework for a suggested law.

7. It is recommended that RCW 51.32.130 be amended to clearly state that in death or permanent total disability cases where a conversion to a lump sum is made, such lump sum whether made at one time or through a series of partial conversions shall not exceed the statutory sum, or the full value of the remaining annuity reserve whichever sum is the lesser; that the maximum statutory amount be raised, or a percentage basis be provided in the law. The law should allow a choice whereby the full annuity reserve would be paid over a period of time, but a smaller amount would be payable under the cash surrender value theory. Such legislative intent should be clearly stated. The present law puts a statutory maximum of $5,000 on conversion to a lump sum of a death or permanent total disability award. By comparison, an unspecified permanent partial disability has a maximum of $6,000 lump sum (see RCW 51.32.080), yet the death and permanent total disability allows a lesser amount. The maximum should be increased to at least $7,500 to show a more equitable comparison between the two payments.

This recommendation is to preclude arguments and court cases similar to a recent Washington Supreme Court decision. The court upheld the Department which had ruled that they could total all partial conversions to reach the statutory limit and then no more would be due; whereas, the claimant had argued that the maximum conversion sum meant at any one time.

8. It is recommended that the law be amended to clearly provide that when a man accepts a statutory amount as cash payment, by conversion or otherwise, and closes his claim that such final action should also include his widow.

The law should clearly state that the widow has one year in which to file a claim of any kind and not allow the argument that in one case it is one year but in the other the widow has an indefinite time in which to apply.

9. It is recommended that RCW 51.12.010 and 51.20 which enumerates employments included in the act should be amended to include the resolutions of the Department and the Attorney General's Opinions from 1911 to 1919, which included many employments within the act; the current departmental classification should also be enumerated.

These defects cause delay and such an obvious administrative fault should be corrected. It would bring the law up to date and in conformation with the intent of RCW 51.12.030, which allows the Department to include unenumerated occupations until fixed by legislation.

10. It is recommended that the laws be amended so as to contain a statement of policy and direction regarding complete cooperation by the state agency to the end that necessary information in the files and records of each state department is available to the other for administrative purposes.

Under the "Jenner Amendment" to the Revenue Act of 1951 (Public Law 183—82nd Congress), the states may enact such legislation without affecting federal assistance from the Federal Security Agency, provided it prohibits the use of such information for commercial or political purposes. Therefore, the laws should be amended to allow state agencies to reveal and exchange information and to require complete cooperation in their mutual efforts to administer the laws of the state.

11. It is recommended that the law be amended to include coverage for employees of tuberculosis sanatoriums.

The Attorney General has ruled that since this is an occupational disease, the Department may not allow them coverage under the elective provisions. The records indicate an increasing number of claims from such institutions and it is definitely a hazard of employment.

12. It is recommended that RCW 51.32.050 (a) should be amended to read as follows:

Where death results from the injury, or where a workman dies while on the pension rolls and the cause of death is not related to the injury, the expenses of burial not to exceed three hundred dollars shall be paid to the undertaker conducting the funeral, but such payment shall not affect the right of the widow, parent or parents, as the case may be, to be forthwith paid the sum of three hundred dollars additional payment as provided in subsection (b) of this section.

Burial expenses are presently paid only when death occurs as a result of the injury. The proposed amendment merely provides care for the man to time of burial, and if a widow or dependents survive, it relieves them of the financial obligation to some extent, the same as if death had occurred from injury.

13. It is recommended that the law be amended to confer authority in the Department of Labor and Industries to conclusively fix the date on which any pension order shall become effective; provided that this amendment shall in no way affect the right of the workman to reopen his case as now provided in this chapter.

The Department should have authority to determine from the man's own doctors and special examiners when he has reached a point where treatment is no longer justified. At that time a classification up to permanent total disability would be justified. Under this recommendation the man would have opportunity to reopen for aggravation within the statutory period as otherwise provided by law.

14. It is recommended that RCW 51.32.110 be amended to read as follows: Any workman entitled to receive compensation under this act is required if requested by the Department, to submit himself for medical examination at a time and from time to time at a place reasonably convenient for the workman, either within or without the state of Washington or to and from the state of Washington, and as may be provided by the rules of the Department. (The remainder of this section should remain as presently worded.)

On not infrequent occasions after a man has received his award, he immediately leaves the state. Subsequently he applies for reopening and further treatment. It is extremely difficult to supervise such treatment or evaluate reports from other states whose laws always differ from Washington's and often there is no medical staff. In some cases there is an imposition on state funds and in others the man is underrated because of out-of-state doctors adhering to the principles of the local law which usually is less liberal.

15. It is recommended that a provision be inserted in the law giving the attending physician upon application the right to secure a review by the superior court of any fee for services set by the Department or the Board.

It is probable that such provision will insure the practice of consultation and conference between the Department and the medical profession prior to issuance of a medical fee schedule; hence, the number of challenges should be few.

16. It is recommended that RCW 51.32.090 relating to total temporary disability be amended by striking from the law subdivision (b) thereof in its entirety because of its patent inconsistency with RCW 51.32.060 (a), (b), and (c).

Confusion arises because the schedule of payments is lower in the temporary section. In other words, the three subsections in the permanent total section cover the same things covered in (b) of the temporary; hence, there are two schedules of payments provided for in temporary total disability. Such inconsistency should not stand and therefore paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of the permanent total section should be retained by reference, and the second paragraph (b) of the temporary section should be removed from the law.

17. It is recommended that RCW 51.24.010 relating to right of action of the workman against a third party not in the same employ should be amended to provide that if the workman elects to take under the act, the cause of action against such third party should be assigned to the state for the benefit of the accident and medical aid funds.

Presently, the workman may elect in advance of any suit whether to take under the act, or to seek another remedy against a person not in the same employ; but if he elects to take under the act, then the cause of action shall be assigned to the state for the benefit of the accident fund. Such law should be amended to make it for the benefit of both the accident and medical aid funds, since both funds are affected by injuries.

18. It is recommended that the Department of Labor and Industries shall employ a competent, full-time medical director, chosen from a list of names submitted by the Washington State Medical Association.

All interested parties are agreed that a highly qualified medical man should be employed full time by the Department. On occasion it has been suggested that a claimant is not receiving proper medical treatment, or he is not receiving treatment from a practitioner who is qualified in a particular field. It is felt that this practice will cease, for the most part, by having counsel of such expert at all times prior to submission to any questionable operation; but such counsel is not to be binding upon the injured workman except upon his free choice.

SUPPLEMENT

With reference to recommendations 7, 6, 14, 16 and 18 in particular, and perhaps others, pertaining to the industrial insurance law, the committee recommends that the legislature give further study to these matters in view of the fact that additional information on these subjects was presented to the committee at such a late date that it was impossible for it to make further studies in this connection. The committee also suggests that it might be wise for the legislature to conduct hearings on these controversial matters before taking action on the industrial insurance recommendations in toto. (See subcommittee's Industrial Insurance report.)

BASIC SCIENCE LAW

1. It is recommended that a provision be inserted into the law extending reciprocity and waiver to other states of equal standards.

This recommendation would have the effect of making the Washington law uniform, in this respect, with eighteen of the twenty-one states having basic science laws.

2. It is recommended that during the examination all questions propounded by examinees must be stated orally before all persons being examined, and that all answers to such questions be stated orally before all examinees.

The effect of this recommendation would be to remove any possible charges as to discrimination in answers to questions from examinees during the examination.

3. It is recommended that applicants be allowed to choose examination numbers at random when they arrive at the place of examination; that no correlation between name and examination number be made until after the grades are publicly posted, as in Civil Service examinations.

This will also remove possible charges of discrimination and will satisfy the wishes of certain groups.

4. It is recommended that bacteriology be included in the law as a basic science subject.

This recommendation will raise the Washington requirements in the basic science law to the level of most other states.

5. It is recommended that an applicant who has failed in not more than two subjects be permitted to retake the examination in the subject, or subjects, which he failed, but that he need not retake the entire examination.

This makes the law conform to the general practices of colleges and universities which require a student to retake a subject in which he failed, but he need not repeat his entire course work.

6. It is recommended that the law provide that a list of books from which the examination questions will be drawn shall be given to all applicants 90 days preceding such examination, or if the application is made less than 90 days prior to such examination, then such list shall be given upon application.

This would assure that all applicants would be apprised of the general source from which questions are to be asked. The board would still do the actual drafting of questions at its pleasure. It would help remove charges that some questions are based on isolated materials available only to certain groups.

7. It is recommended that a list of definitions be inserted in the law defining among other things the basic sciences, a healing art, a clinical subject, a basic science certificate, and a license.

This is necessary to define exactly what is a basic science; which has a universal application; what is a healing art, for the purpose of this act; it makes the purposes and intent of the act more clear.

8. It is recommended that a section be drafted setting forth the organization of the board, officers, rules, expenses, compensation, and so forth.

This is necessary to achieve orderly procedure and practice in any administrative board.

9. It is recommended that requirements be inserted providing that prior to issuance of a basic science certificate, the applicant must show proof of good moral character, education equal to that of an accredited high school, and that applicant has successfully passed the basic science examination.

The effect of this recommendation would be to make the law more nearly conform to the wording of other laws and would set a minimum standard of professional quality for the protection of the public without discrimination against any healing art.

10. It is recommended that provisions be inserted allowing revocation of certificates and enforceable penalties for mistake of material fact, fraudulent statements by the applicant, or practicing without a certificate.

This would have the effect of deterring attempts to obtain certificates by reason of false and untrue statements, or other fraud or misrepresentations, or to practice without a certificate.

11. It is recommended that exceptions be made to the law to protect those licensed prior to the effective date of the act; that a general clause be inserted prohibiting discrimination against any branch of a healing art, or any member thereof; and that a general penalty provision for violation of any provision be inserted in the law.

(See subcommittee's Basic Science Report.)

METROPOLITAN TRACT

1. The committee recommends that it might be wise for the legislature to review the matter contained in Chapter 98, Laws of 1951 (H. B. 516), in order to determine whether it might better serve the interests of the state and the university if the Board of Regents be given the authority to extend the term of the lease from the present twenty-five years to a longer period.

OPTOMETRY LAW

1. The committee recommends that the legislature should make a study of the optometry law and suggests that revisions in the law are desirable.

Subcommittee on Education and Public Building

This committee's major project during the biennium was a study of the entire problem of school finance, which included a study of revenues and operations, building construction costs, and teachers' salaries. Through contact with the Department of Education, school organizations, individuals interested in school problems, and questionnaires sent to the superintendents of school districts throughout the state, as well as meetings held by the subcommittee at the request of the Allied School Council in areas representing major school problems, information was compiled and an analysis made which resulted in a report to the Council containing certain recommendations dealing with problems presented in the educational field.

House Resolution requesting the Council to make a study regarding the feasibility of the acquisition or erection of state buildings for state offices for which rent is now being paid, was referred to this committee.

Considerable statistical data and other information relative to the project were assembled and progress reports submitted to the Council from time to time, but no final conclusions were reached by the subcommittee.

The recommendations of the subcommittee, as approved by the Council for consideration by the legislature, on education, are as follows:

1. The following provisions relating to the county superintendent are recommended:
 - (a) Authorize elimination of a county superintendent where no longer necessary, as in Garfield county, which is all one school district;
 - (b) Appointment of the county superintendent by the county school committee, subject to much stronger professional requirements than at present; provided that this provision apply only to counties of the third class to ninth class;
 - (c) Enabling powers for counties to contract so that one superintendent may serve two or more counties;
 - (d) Enabling legislation providing for organizational consolidation of offices of county superintendent, the same as district consolidation at present, with provision for dissolution if desired;
 - (e) Provision of appropriate salary scale commensurate with the scope of duties under any of the above changes.

Legislation providing substantially for these items has been drafted by the County Superintendents' Association in the interests of strengthening the quality of the county superintendents in the state, of reducing costs, and achieving a governmental organization which fits the service area.

2. It was recommended that the Council endorse and urge passage of the proposal on the ballot in the November 1952 election to increase the debt limit for school districts from five per cent to ten per cent.

Tabulation supporting this recommendation is contained in the report of the Subcommittee on Education and Public Building. It indicates that 114 districts at present have debt substantially near their limit, which means they have already utilized their bonding power. (This measure was passed November 4, as recommended.)

3. It is recommended that school districts be authorized at one election to vote excess levies for periods not exceeding (a) two years for capital outlay and (b) two years for operating funds.

In regard to the capital outlay, it is evident that this method can save a considerable sum in interest charges which would be incurred by bonding, and that there would be considerable saving in election expense. For both capital outlay and operations, the state appropriations cover a two-year period. It is logical and reasonable to allow the same two-year planning in regard to local funds as is done for the state funds.

4. It is recommended that the word "state" be deleted from the 40-mill statute as passed in 1945, so that the text will then conform exactly to the text of the constitutional amendment.

This recommendation would accomplish a good deal toward easing the present strict requirements because the special levies or bond elections could be held following the spring election which is now a general election and would meet the constitutional requirements.

5. It is recommended that provision be made for requiring non-high districts to assist in the capital outlay costs of the high school or union high school district that serves them.

Although non-high districts now contribute through the non-high levy toward the operating costs of educating their high school children, they pay nothing toward capital outlay. This situation has had such effects as killing a bond and special levy election for a new high school; of delaying a new high school, of causing serious concern in numerous cities. It should be remedied.

6. It is recommended that the entire constructive attendance formula be eliminated from the law.

The present constructive attendance formula in the law provides separate factors in computing daily attendance for grade school, junior high, senior high, advanced secondary, vocational, evening, part-time, adult education, parental, kindergarten, and closing attendance. The ratios have no basis in cost accounting findings and actually are not particularly related to proportionate costs of the expenditures for the various classes.

7. It is recommended that school buses be purchased on a fleet basis by the state and paid for by state funds.

The total annual cost for transportation in the state for the year ending June 30, 1951, was $5,326,000 in round figures, of which just slightly under one million was for depreciation of equipment, and four and a third million for operating expense. The state is already paying approximately seventy-five per cent of the cost of this entire item, including the capital outlay, so the additional burden on the state would be about $250,000 per year, which is not a major item.

8. It is recommended that authorization for either regional maintenance garages by the state, or cooperative or consolidated garages for several districts be provided for, but still allowing larger districts to handle their own maintenance and repair.

Many small districts now have no adequate way of using preventive maintenance techniques on their buses, or getting proper repair and maintenance at all from private garages. Unquestionably, the useful life of many buses could be extended, costs reduced greatly, and more buses kept in service by such a plan.

9. It is recommended that enabling authority be passed, allowing any school district in the state to buy through the state purchasing office, or under any state contracts, or through any other governmental unit purchasing facility, such as a city or county, or association purchasing unit.

This is done on a county basis in Spokane and King counties now, and has provided surprising savings. The state purchasing office could handle such purchasing with little or no cost to the department, allowing any school district to buy standard items with the advantage of mass buying power. The provision would be entirely optional, but the districts would be furnished information so that they could utilize it at will. The over-all savings are estimated at 20 to 24 per cent.

10. It is recommended that determination be made as to whether kindergarten is a basic part of the school program and of the state's responsibility; and that if it is determined to be such a responsibility, the present methods of allotting funds be changed so that all districts may be enabled to have kindergarten if desired. Otherwise, that credit for kindergarten attendance no longer be given for state allotments; and that school districts make their own determination as to having kindergarten—financing it themselves.

If it is determined that the state is to support kindergarten, then a change should be made in the funds allotted therefor, so that the ironic situation now prevailing, namely, poor districts which cannot afford to establish kindergarten, contribute money to the state which is expended for kindergarten in other districts which are wealthier, will be changed to a more equitable basis.

The present cost of the state's share of the kindergarten program is about $3,500,000 per biennium, or $1,750,000 per year. If this state money, instead of being allocated to kindergarten, were to be allocated to the schools for the basic twelve grades, it would mean that each district would have approximately $4.50 per pupil per year additional, which could be used either for kindergarten, or to assist in their regular program. In such case, the districts which wanted kindergarten could determine it as a local decision and a local responsibility. For such poor districts as mentioned previously, if the decision is made that a kindergarten is an essential part of the state school system and that it should be available to all, possibly some additional state support for the first year in which kindergarten is established would solve the problem for those districts not able to have kindergarten now.

11. It is recommended that the Bureau of Population Research at the University of Washington, be required annually to furnish school enrollment estimates, projected two years ahead, to the budget committee of the legislature.

This would give the legislature an independent check on enrollment estimates of the department, or the Governor's office. Since the size of the state budget for education is directly related to the estimated enrollment, this should be of substantial help in letting the legislature evaluate budget requests.

12. It is recommended that the amount of $1,000,000 appropriated for the current biennium to teach handicapped children, such as spastics, and physically and mentally handicapped children, be increased by a substantial amount for the next biennium.

The $500,000 per year which the legislature supplied for this purpose is being very effectively used; and, at Spokane and Pasco particularly, great local support is being given to implement the program. It is apparent that these funds are well spent from an economic standpoint as well as a social one, because already it is evident that many children are enabled to take a proper place in school and, later, in life because of this special help. Also, the constitution and state law require the state to see that all children receive an education.

13. It is recommended that the state utilize the equalization principle with regard to extra levies voted by school districts for operating purposes by allotments sufficient to yield a definite number of cents per day per pupil for each five, or other number of mills voted.

Under this proposal, a district which voted an extra levy for operations would be guaranteed by the state a flat number of cents per day per pupil for each five mills of extra levies voted by the district, with the state making up the proportion of the guarantee which is not yielded by the levy.

14. It is recommended that the law be amended to require distribution of federal forest fund money, half to the schools, and half to the county road districts.

The present law says that the funds shall be divided between the schools and the county roads, but makes no express stipulation as to the ratio of division. To settle the continuing argument and make the provision definite, a fifty-fifty distribution would clarify the situation.

15. It is recommended that coordinate with action to study possible centralization and improvement of the state's agencies dealing with state lands and timber, all possible action be taken to obtain greatest possible yields from rented lands, either by extension of share-cropping or other methods.

This study has indicated that the state is not receiving a maximum return on state lands rented or leased by private individuals. Presently a considerable portion of the land is rented for a flat yearly sum, regardless of the use to which it is being put; and positive steps should be taken to make the income to the state from this land more nearly reflect the income derived from the use of the land.

16. It is recommended that enrollment figures for the current year be used in calculating state allotments rather than using the enrollment for the previous year.

For the districts which have the greatest growing pains, the use of a previous year's enrollment figure works a hardship in that they must provide for a much larger enrollment, but with funds allocated only for a smaller number. They are, thus, forced to issue warrants, or otherwise get by until such a year as the growth levels off.

17. It is recommended that the present state law setting a minimum salary for teachers at $2,400 per year be raised to $3,000 per year.

The question of teachers' salaries dominated the education hearings. It was most apparent that the great pressure was in the lower half of the existing salary ranges. According to the study issued in March, 1952, by the WEA, the present median for all teachers is approximately $3,700 per year which means that half the teachers, about 8,500 in number, are receiving salaries below this figure.

The average age of Washington State teachers is now about forty-five; whereas, in 1940, it was about twenty-six. This reflects the return of more retired teachers and the loss of some of the young teachers to other occupations, or to teaching in other states. When coupled with the fact that the teachers' colleges are not producing teachers in proportion to the school population increase, it is evident that some action is necessary to provide an adequate number of competent teachers for our schools.

18. It is recommended that a new formula be adopted for determining state allocations to schools and that the entire present series of provisions, including the 35¢ a day, 30¢ a day, unit allotment, 17¢ a day, and special unit allotments, all be discontinued. The proposed formula, expressed in terms of a mathematical equation, is:

Total District Revenue is the sum of the following items:'

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1. $\frac{(L + 24S)}{10}(P) - R$, plus | (State Equalization Allotment) |
| 2. (ST) (T) , plus | (State Teaching Unit Allotment) |
| 3. (P) (S) , plus | (State Pupil Allotment) |
| 4. (B) (60%) , plus | (State Transportation Operating Allotment) |
| 5. TR | (Total Local Revenues) |

L equals average yield, per pupil enrolled, for each district, from 10 mills of property tax for the year.

S equals average yield, per pupil enrolled, from 10 mills of property tax for the entire state for the year. (In 1952 this was $50.)

P equals pupils enrolled for each district.

R equals revenue from 10 mills of local property tax.

ST equals average yield, per teaching unit, from 10 mills of property tax for the entire state for the year. (In 1952 this was $1,235.)

T equals number of teaching units in the district.

B equals transportation operating expense for the district.

TR equals total local revenue from 12 mills.

This formula as recommended is for the determination yearly of allocations of state funds to school districts. The formula is based on the average potential revenue per child on a state-wide basis, as related to the revenues for each particular district, and guarantees an equalization level for each pupil equal to two and one-half times the state average revenue from property taxes, in lieu payments, and the like. Additional direct aid is granted, based on the average revenue per pupil and per teacher, to be given directly to all districts. The net result would be to place a little more emphasis on equalization and a little less on direct aid to all districts. The proposal is outlined in detail in the report of the Subcommittee on Education and Public Building, with tabulations showing what the effect would be on low value districts, average value districts, and high value districts. There are also examples listed as to what the future effect would be in other years, according to what changes took place in the variables of property valuation and enrollment.

Subcommittee on Legislative Processes and Procedures

The work of this subcommittee has included the study of the rules and joint rules of the House and Senate of the Legislature and the consideration of changes in these rules. Members of the committee have attended several regional meetings of the Council of State Governments' Legislative Processes and Procedures Committee in order to obtain more information on procedures followed in other states.

The subcommittee was charged with the responsibility of organizing a program for the Territorial Centennial Celebration to be held early in 1953. Progress was made in securing talent to insure an outstanding program for this event.

The report of the House Committee on Appropriations, dated February 18, 1951, together with the report of the Special House Committee on Installing an Electric Roll Call System in the House Chamber, was referred by the House to the Council for further study, which study was referred to this committee. A letter was directed to all legislative bodies using the electric roll call, soliciting advice covering the advantages and disadvantages of such a system. From replies received and study made on the subject, the subcommittee did not consider the installation practical at this time.

The recommendations of the subcommittee, as approved by the Council for consideration by the legislature, on joint rules of House and Senate and electric roll call system, are as follows:

JOINT RULES OF HOUSE AND SENATE

It is recommended that the Joint Rules of the House and Senate be amended as follows:

Amend Joint Rule 4 to read as follows:

Rule 4. In every case of difference between the two houses, upon any subject of legislation, * * * * the house refusing to recede * * * * shall request a conference and appoint a committee of three for that purpose, and the other house * * * * shall grant the request for a conference and appoint a like committee to confer. The committee shall meet at * * * * the earliest possible hour, to be agreed upon by their respective chairmen, and shall confer upon the difference between the two houses * * * * indicated by the amendment * * * * adopted in one and rejected in the other. But no * * * * conference committee shall consider or report on any matter except that directly at issue between the two houses. The papers shall be left with the conferees of the house * * * * requesting such conference, and they shall first present the report of the committee to their house. When such house shall have acted thereon, it shall transmit the * * * * report and the papers relating thereto, to the other house, with a message certifying it action thereon. Every report of a * * * * conference committee shall be read * * * * in full in each house before a vote is taken on the * * * * report.

Amend Joint Rule 5 to read as follows:

Rule 5. The presiding officer of each house shall appoint * * * * on such conference committee * * * * three members, selecting them so as to represent, in each case, the attitude of the majority and minority upon the subject of the legislation referred to the conference committee.

Amend Rule 6 to read as follows:

Rule 6. In case of a failure of the conferees to agree, a report of such disagreement shall be made and the power of free conference may be granted by the two houses either to the same committee, or the committee may be discharged and a new committee appointed with the power of free conference, to whom the whole subject matter embraced in the bill or resolution shall be committed, and the committee of free conference may report by new bill or resolution, or otherwise, and bills or resolutions so reported shall be * * * * acted upon in the same manner as provided for reports of conference committees.

Amend Joint Rule 8 to read as follows:

Rule 8. * * * * Reports of * * * * conference and free conference committees must be unanimously agreed to, and the original and two copies must be signed personally by all members of the committee: Provided, however, That in the event the members of a free conference committee cannot unanimously agree on the bill or measure referred to the committee, a majority of the committee may report that the committee cannot agree, and request the appointment of another committee.

Amend Joint Rule 15 to read as follows:

Rule 15. All memorials and resolutions from the legislature addressed to the President of the United States, to the Congress or either house thereof, or to the heads of any other branch of the Federal government * * * * shall be in the form of joint memorials. Proposed amendments to the state constitution shall be in the form of * * * * joint resolution. * * * * Joint memorials and joint resolutions, up to and including the signing thereof by the presiding officer of each house, shall be subject to the rules governing the course of bills. Concurrent resolutions and all other resolutions and memorials may be treated as motions and may be adopted without a roll call: Provided, however, That concurrent resolutions authorizing investigations, and authorizing the expenditure or allocation of any money must be adopted by roll call, and the yeas and nays recorded in the journal * * * *.

Amend Joint Rule 19 to read as follows:

Rule 19. Bills introduced in either house intended to amend existing statutes, shall have the words which are amendatory to such existing statutes underlined in the original * * * * bill * * * *. Any matter omitted in the existing statutes shall be indicated by not less than four stars or asterisks, with space of not less than two ems * * * * in the original bill. The five copies of the original bill, instead of the asterisks showing omissions, shall show the omitted matter in full set off by parentheses and the printed bill shall designate such omitted matter in type that has been stricken through with lines, and no bill shall be printed or acted upon until the provisions of this rule shall have been complied with. No bill shall be introduced 'by request' except bills introduced by executive or departmental request.

No bill shall be introduced by title only, and, in the event a bill is not complete, at least Section 1 shall be set forth in full before the bill may be accepted for introduction.

Amendments to bills will be acted upon in the manner provided in the Rules of the Senate and in the Rules of the House: Provided, That no amendment to a bill shall be considered which strikes the entire subject matter of a bill, and substitutes in lieu thereof entirely new subject matter not germane to the original or engrossed bill.

ELECTRIC ROLL CALL SYSTEM

It is recommended that in the event a future Legislative Council desires to pursue the matter of an electric roll call system for the House of Representatives, it designate the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to travel to near-by capitols which are using the electric roll call system, for a personal investigation. At the present time the subcommittee does not feel that an electric roll call system would be feasible.

From investigation made it was found that one of the principal advantages of the electric system of calling the roll, that of saving time, was often defeated in that all members must be in their seats before the roll call may be commenced, which often would consume more time than the present vocal roll call. The purchase price of between $80,000 to $90,000 appeared exorbitant, and rental costs of $25,000 for the first year and from $5,000 to $8,000 per year thereafter, whether the Legislature is in session or not, seemed considerably out of line.

Subcommittee on Natural Resources

This subcommittee had the responsibility of investigating matters brought to its attention in connection with the natural resources of the state. Their work has entailed research into water and air pollution problems, and into the matter of artificial cloud nucleation (rainmaking). While the subcommittee made no recommendations to the Council, it spent a great deal of time and effort on the matter of artificial cloud nucleation, and in this connection two public hearings were held which were attended by representatives of the fruit growers, the wheat farmers, meteorologists, technologists, Washington Forest Fire Association, Washington State Reclamation Association, Idaho Bureau of Reclamation, Department of Conservation and Development, State Department of Agriculture, State Pollution Control Commission, State Association of Washington Irrigation Districts, Bonneville Power Administration, United States Geological Survey, and the Washington State Grange, as well as representatives of a number of business firms engaged in artificial cloud stimulation. (Progress reports and other material on file in Council office.)

Subcommittee on Public Welfare

Primary attention was again given to the problem of public assistance. This emphasis was chosen because the subcommittee was convinced that this program represents the most serious unresolved problem of the state government. The central objectives were to undertake a comprehensive statistical analysis of the welfare case load, to determine the consequences of the changes made by Initiative 178, and to observe current administrative experience closely. In this way, a solid base of information and understanding was sought for recommendations looking toward a stable and constructive welfare program.

Detailed statistical data pertaining to the case load, however, was not available from the State Department of Social Security. Special studies were made of the $8,000 property limitation, and of the recipient's budget in Washington as compared with other states. Also case loads and cost trends were projected for the biennium to provide an estimate of program costs if severe ratable reductions were not used.

The subcommittee invited representative citizens of King, Pierce, and Spokane counties to organize themselves as advisory committees to review the public assistance program and to advise the subcommittee upon recommendations which should be made to the Legislative Council and the Legislature. A special handbook was prepared for the use of committee members. Meetings of the committees were held during the late summer and autumn of 1952. Attendance was excellent and interest intense. The cooperation of the State Department of Social Security and particularly of the county welfare administrators was most valuable. The reports of these advisory committees were received and filed with the Legislative Council.

When it became apparent that Initiative 184 would appear upon the ballot at the 1952 general election, an analysis was made of its provisions. This memorandum was made generally available to interested persons.

As in the previous biennium, the subcommittee utilized the Institute of Public Affairs as its technical staff. The institute supplied the subcommittee with a comprehensive technical report which will be available for general distribution.

The recommendations of the subcommittee, as approved by the Council for consideration by the Legislature, on public welfare are as follows:

1. Program Objective:

The purpose of public assistance should be:

- a. To relieve economic dependency so that a person whose income and resources are insufficient to permit a living consistent with health and well-being, may be assured a maximum degree of self-dependence.
- b. To assist the individual in the restoration of his capacity to earn, and in the utilization of his resources to the maximum extent; public assistance is not the payment of a "pension"; it reinforces the individual's own efforts at self-sufficiency.

2. Development of Policy:

The legislature, by the enactment of statutory provision, cannot specify the details of policy that will prove workable in every situation. Inevitably legislation must be limited to the statement of general standards under which a reliable and informed administrative process refines these standards in the light of experience. The development of these detailed standards requires more than competent professional staff. It is a responsibility which should be placed in a state social welfare council composed of representative citizens who should serve for overlapping terms, thus giving policy stability and consistency.

3. Standards of Assistance. The following considerations should govern the granting of assistance:

Residence. A person who has been a bona fide resident of the state for a period of one year, and who is actually in need, should be eligible for assistance. This will provide a uniform rule for all assistance programs. Other persons should be eligible for emergency grants. However, persons newly arrived in the state should not acquire the required residence while receiving assistance from this, or any other state, unless the other state extends reciprocal treatment to residents of Washington.

Uniformity of Standards. To assure equitable treatment of all needy persons definitions of eligibility and need, except for employables, should be uniform for all programs.

Definition of Need. A person should be regarded as in need whenever his income and resources are insufficient to provide a reasonable standard of health and well-being. In compliance with Federal Requirements, all income and resources should be applied toward the meeting of a person's requirements.

Income and Resources. The income and resources of a recipient should be applied without exemption or exclusion toward the meeting of his requirements, either by appropriate use or by conversion into cash. The state social welfare council should be authorized to adopt reasonable standards for the utilization of the following classes of resources:

Home property. The home, when actually used as a residence, should be regarded as a resource applied toward the meeting of a recipient's shelter requirements.

Personal effects. Furniture, clothing, and similar personal effects, within reasonable limitations, should be regarded as meeting a recipient's personal requirements.

Cash reserves. Reasonable reserves in the form of (a) cash of not to exceed two hundred dollars for a single person or four hundred dollars for a family unit, or marketable securities of such value; or (b) life insurance having a cash surrender value not in excess of five hundred dollars for a single person or one thousand dollars for a family unit: Provided, That this maximum allowance shall be decreased by the amount of cash held by the person or the family unit under item (a) above. If a deceased recipient has a funeral benefit insurance policy the proceeds shall be applied to the funeral costs in lieu of payment by the state.

Property holdings in addition to those allowed as meeting personal requirements should not disqualify a person if such property is devoted to a profitable use and produces a reasonable return, in cash or kind, which is devoted toward the support of the recipient.

Utilization of resources. The income and resources of the recipient and of his family group should be regarded as available toward the support of the recipient:

Relatives. Parents, children, and the spouse of a recipient should be regarded as responsible, so far as they are financially able, for contributing to the support of recipients. The administrative agency should be directed to recognize and develop these resources in a reasonable and equitable way. However, enforcement of support by legal actions should be authorized only with respect to the support of a recipient by the spouse, and the support of a minor child by parents. To protect the state against unnecessary burdens because of the avoidance of parental responsibility, the domestic relations law of the state should be amended to require mandatory provision in every divorce or separation settlement for the support of any minor children.

Recovery against estates. A preferred claim should attach against the estate of a person receiving old age assistance to permit recovery against the estate for the full amount of assistance paid while the person was in an assistance status. Such preferred claim should not be enforceable while home property is occupied as a residence by the surviving spouse or by the dependents of the deceased. The statutory homestead exemption applicable to probate proceedings should apply.

Assistance level. The state social welfare council should be authorized to adopt an assistance budget to measure the reasonable requirements of applicants and recipients upon an individualized basis. This budget should be used to determine whether an applicant is in need. The statute should not peg this budget to any dollar value whether by way of an average, a minimum, or a maximum. The council should be directed to revise this budget periodically to reflect changes in the cost of items in the budget. The budget should reflect the determined requirements of recipients for food, shelter, clothing, and personal incidentals. However, the state council should be authorized to adjust the content of the budget whenever necessary to adjust the grant level to the amount of funds available for the payment of grants. This procedure is deemed to be more equitable than the use of "ratable reductions" when available funds do not permit the payment of grants at a fully adequate level.

Chapter 274. Chapter 274, Laws of 1951, providing for the crediting of income against the amount of ratable reductions, has worked with great inequity. With the more flexible treatment of the assistance budget recommended above, it becomes inapplicable and should be repealed.

Incentives. The only equitable way to provide incentives to recipients to maximize their earning capacity is to recognize in the determination of the recipient's individual requirements, the items needed to make partial employment possible, and particularly in the case of older children, the items needed for preparation for employment. In addition, intelligent case work services should be used to encourage and assist recipients who are able to do so to find employment.

4. Confidentiality of records. The confidentiality of records should be protected against commercial and political exploitation. However, information should be made available whenever such availability contributes to the effectiveness of administration, or is needed in connection with the administration of related governmental programs. Accordingly, the state council should be authorized to adopt reasonable rules, in conformity with Federal requirements, for the exchange of information with other governmental agencies, for the availability of information to duly constituted governmental agencies, recognized social agencies, and bodies of the legislature having use for such information in the discharge of their official duties and responsibilities.
5. Funeral and Burial Expense. To correct present inequities in the payment of funeral and burial expense:
 - a. Payments to the funeral director and to the cemetery or crematorium should be handled separately.
 - b. In the case of each type of payment, a reasonable sum representing as nearly as possible the actual cost of a basic service should be paid by the state department to the vendor. The standards of such services and the uniform amount to be paid should be determined by agreement between the state council and representatives of the vendors.
 - c. The payments made by the state shall not be subject to supplementation by the relatives or friends of recipients. Whenever relatives or friends provide more expensive services than those so authorized the state shall not participate in the payment of any part of the cost.

The foregoing recommendation is in accordance with the suggestions of the Washington State Funeral Directors Association.

6. Departmental staffing. A strong effort should be made to strengthen the visiting and supervisory staff of the county departments. At present, visitors are carrying too many cases to permit an adequate management of the caseload. Accordingly, appropriations for administration should be adequate for the recruitment and training of additional visiting staff substantially to reduce the number of cases handled by each visitor and to permit a much more intensive treatment of the individual case.
7. Administrative structure. The legislation relating to the organization and administration of public assistance should be revised in accordance with these principles:
 - a. The present state department should be replaced by a state social welfare council and a state department of social welfare. The new agency should be vested with the functions now exercised by the Department of Social Security. Personnel holding office under the merit system should be transferred to the new department.
 - b. The state social welfare council should consist of seven citizens who have special fitness for the position because of their civic interest and experience. They should be appointed by the governor with the consent of the Senate. The council should represent the general public interest. Members should serve without compensation except - for actual expenses. They should be appointed on a bi-partisan basis for overlapping terms. The council should be responsible for policy functions, the recommendation of the biennial budget, the administrative allotment of funds within the limits of legislative appropriations, and acting in an advisory capacity to the director on administrative matters.

- c. The state department of social welfare should be headed by a director appointed by the governor from among persons certified by the state council as qualified on the basis of knowledge and interest in the field of social welfare, and executive competence as demonstrated by previous successful experience. The director should be responsible to the governor for the effective application of policies established by the state council, and for the efficient management of the department. The internal organization of the department should be determined by the director.
 - d. In each county there should be a county social welfare council and a county department of social welfare, except the state council should be authorized to consolidate counties or parts of counties into larger administrative areas in the interest of efficient administration. Where counties are consolidated, a single council and a single department should serve the consolidated area.
 - e. The county social welfare council should be composed of seven leading citizens including the chairman of the county commissioners and the mayor of the largest city. In consolidated areas, ex officio members from the component counties should serve in annual rotation. Appointive members should be appointed by the governor from among persons nominated by the state council. The county council should appoint the county administrator under the merit system, approve an annual plan developed by the county administrator for meeting the county's problems of economic dependency, and assist the administrator in obtaining the cooperative participation of the judiciary, the bar, the school system, citizen groups and others who can contribute to the county's program.
 - f. The county administrator should be responsible for the administration of the state-wide program of assistance in the county under uniform state-wide standards.
8. Supervision of institutions. Because of new provisions of Federal law, the state supervision of all institutions providing in-patient care for assistance recipients will be necessary.
9. Program financing. The following changes should be made in the financial aspects of the assistance program:
- a. Single appropriation. A single appropriation should be made for all assistance programs with authorization to the state council to allocate amounts quarterly to the various programs on the basis of relative caseload. In this way uneven and inequitable treatment of categories will be minimized. If the reduction of the grant level becomes necessary because of the shortage of appropriated funds, the reduction will be distributed over all programs.
 - b. Administrative expense. The amount to be authorized for the cost of administration should be fixed at not to exceed a percentage of the total amount appropriated for grant payments and included within the single appropriation. This will permit needed flexibility in the use of administrative expense to obtain maximum effectiveness in the management of the caseload.
 - c. Two-mill levy. To simplify the financing of the assistance program, the present two-mill county levy for assistance purposes should be abolished.
 - d. Ratable reductions. The device of ratable reductions to adjust the grant level to the availability of funds for expenditure, is awkward and inequitable. Legislative appropriations should be made upon the basis of projected case load with assistance at a reasonable grant level. With authority vested in the state council to allocate a lump sum appropriation among the categories, and to adjust the content of the assistance budget, the need for the use of ratable reductions should be eliminated.

- 10. Problems for future consideration. The following important problems are recommended for thorough study by future Legislative Councils:
- a. Chronic disease care. The present method of providing care for persons afflicted with chronic conditions in nursing homes, and to some extent in state mental hospitals, should be studied comprehensively to determine whether a system of state-administered chronic disease hospitals should be established.
 - b. County hospitals. The financial and administrative status of the present county hospitals, particularly those with 200 beds or more, should be analyzed to determine whether they should be more clearly recognized as state institutions.
 - c. Interdepartmental relationships. The interrelationships between activities administered by the state department of public welfare, and by other state departments and agencies, both institutional and home services, should be studied to determine the amount of duplication, and the extent to which more economic and effective services could be rendered by transfers of responsibilities, or by the consolidation of activities into a larger department of the state government.

Subcommittee on State and Local Government

The principal work of this committee can be divided into three categories: (1) A study of junior taxing districts; (2) a study of law enforcement procedure and practices in the State of Washington; and (3) a study of state government reorganization.

In regard to the junior taxing districts, time and research were devoted to a study of legislation in this field, including the matter of state equalization of the assessed valuation of property throughout the state. Meetings were held with the commissioners of junior taxing districts, and others interested in their problems, to determine the needs of legislation relating thereto.

In connection with the State and Local Government subcommittee's project relative to law enforcement procedure and practices in the State of Washington, a fact-finding study was made for the purpose of determining whether there should be some reorganization or changes in present law enforcement to enable officials to cope with existing vice conditions or conditions that may arise in the future. Because of the magnitude of the problem the committee does not purport to have investigated all phases related to law enforcement. Public hearings were held, however, in Vancouver, Tacoma, Aberdeen and Seattle, and shorter private hearings were held in most of the other major areas of the state. As a result of these, the committee gained a comprehensive picture of crime, vice, and law enforcement existing in the State of Washington, and received many valuable recommendations for changes in the laws.

Although the recommendations hereinafter set forth on law enforcement may tend to increase the immediate cost of law enforcement in the state, it is felt that ultimately it will contribute vast savings to the people of the State of Washington. This is particularly obvious when an examination of the crime reports of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shows that in 1951 the total value of property stolen by means of robbery, burglary, larceny, etc., was the sum of $157,266,508; this is just for tangible property without consideration of the tremendous damage to individuals as the result of assault, moral offenses, etc. The trend in 1952 shows even higher figures than these.

The study of reorganization of state government was made with a view toward evaluating present administrative machinery in an effort to eliminate duplication and effect greater economy and efficiency in state government. In connection with this study it was learned that the Governor was contemplating setting up a similar committee. In order to establish a single committee to undertake this important task, an invitation was extended to the Governor to have representatives of his office attend an organizational meeting with a group composed of a cross-section of Washington citizenry. This meeting resulted in the formation of the Committee on State Government Organization, sponsored jointly by the Council and Governor Langlie. This committee has been meeting at different intervals and is making definite progress. Although the magnitude of its work is such that it cannot be completed by the end of this biennium, certain specific recommendations will be submitted to the legislature.

The recommendations of the subcommittee, as approved by the Council for consideration by the legislature, on junior taxing districts, and law enforcement, are as follows:

JUNIOR TAXING DISTRICTS

1. It is recommended that the Legislature provide for a thorough equalization study of property assessment in the state and furnish the Tax Commission with sufficient funds to assign ten to twelve men to the project; provide that upon request of any county assessor making a showing of substantially changed valuations in any one year, the State Equalization Board must make appropriate change in the assessment ratio as used for school money allocation and other purposes.

It is well known that at the present time the ratios of assessed value to actual value, which are published by the State Tax Commission annually, are not at all realistic. The Tax Commission has had normally only one employee do the sampling upon which these ratios are based; and it is apparent that such samples cannot give any accurate picture of the true situation. Since there are legal questions as to whether or not the state can directly supervise property assessment or enforce standards, it is desirable to make as much improvement as possible at the local level.

2. It is recommended that the Tax Commission be authorized to provide specialized appraisers to be assigned, upon request, to counties for appraisal of industrial plants, machinery, mills, and similar property.

In many of the smaller counties the assessor does not have on his staff, nor can he obtain, appraisers who are familiar with some of the specialized classes of property. Court cases in the past have pointed up this fact and indicated that in such circumstances, the assessor does the best he can, but often is at a loss as to how to value these properties.

3. It is recommended that the wording of the statute providing for annexation to a city or a special district by the election procedure be revised to make clear that petitions must be signed by voters totaling in number at least 20 percent of the number of votes cast in the last preceding general election.

Because of a recent Supreme Court decision, statutes covering annexation to a city or a special district by the election procedure should be amended to make clear that petitions must be signed by voters totaling in number at least 20 percent of the number of votes cast in the last preceding general election.

4. It is recommended that all governmental units which are authorized to issue bonds be allowed also to issue refunding bonds as are cities and schools at the present time.

Although it would seem that the original authority to issue bonds would include authority to issue refunding bonds, permissive legislation is necessary to preclude any challenge of such authority.

5. It is recommended that library districts, and inter-county, or regional library districts, be allowed to issue general obligation bonds.

Library districts should be allowed to issue general obligation bonds. At this time they are the only governmental units which have need of capital outlay, but have no authority to issue bonds.

6. It is recommended that provision be made allowing consolidation of two or more special districts by (a) unanimous vote of one board of commissioners proposing the consolidation, with acceptance by unanimous vote of the other boards; (b) by a majority vote of one board of commissioners and approval by election of the voters in the other district or districts; (c) consolidation by either method (a) or (b) of a water and sewer district into a single utility district or of other combinations of the same or different functions into one unit.

It is apparent that many counties have huge numbers of special districts. In addition to reducing the number of governmental units, this would also help in some cases to avoid the pyramiding of levies which has occasioned much of the troublesome features of the 40-mill law.

7. It is recommended that provision be made for dissolution of any special district following the procedure now existing in the port district laws, RCW 53.48, but providing that instead of allowing the court to turn the district over to the sheriff and the assets to the schools, the court could turn the district over to any other existing governmental unit capable of handling the function, such as a city or another special district, and transfer assets and liabilities, properties, and resources to the other unit.

If a special district is dissolved, the present law contemplates wiping out the district entirely, ending its function, and turning the assets over to a school district; the court should be allowed to turn the district, its assets and liabilities over to an existing governmental unit capable of handling the function.

8. It is recommended that enabling legislation provide for simple methods of contracting between two or more districts for operations, capital outlay, services, and various kinds of agreement.

Aside from fire protection and sewer districts, no adequate legal basis exists for simple methods of contracting between two or more districts. Such provision should be made.

9. It is recommended that provision be made for transfer from one special district to another of areas which may be better served by the second district.

Sometimes when special districts are formed topographical, or natural boundaries are overlooked, with the result that operational difficulties occur. The recommended provision would allow transfer of a problem area to another district better suited to serve it.

10. It is recommended that the provision of Chapter 248, Laws of 1951, dealing with areas annexed to a city be expended to cover also incorporations of cities.

What happens to a special district when it is annexed to an existing city is covered by Chapter 248, Laws of 1951; but additional law is needed to cover the problem when an area incorporates.

11. It is recommended that provision be made allowing a city which is part of a special district to withdraw from the district, contingent upon the city contracting with the special district commissioners.

Because of financing problems it is sometimes desirable that a city be allowed to withdraw from a special district contingent upon the city's contracting with the special district commissioners to insure the continued operation of the district.

12. It is recommended that enabling legislation be enacted providing for metropolitan districts or utility districts to carry out one or more functions, and to incorporate existing districts and areas not already served into one governmental unit, and to provide for adjustment of the assets and liabilities, properties, and rate structures accordingly.

In metropolitan fringe areas and urban areas developing in the country, many governmental functions are needed prior to actual need for incorporation. Enabling legislation providing for metropolitan districts or utility districts to carry out one or more functions and to incorporate existing districts and areas not already served into one governmental unit is essential.

13. It is recommended that a specific repeal be made of that portion of Chapter 107, Laws of 1951, regular session, relating to weed districts, and legislation be passed reenacting that authorization to make an annual tax levy as they previously could.

In view of the Governor vetoing the general repeal of Chapter 107, Laws of 1951, much confusion exists as to whether weed districts still retain their tax levies. Corrective measures call for specific repeal of the portion of Chapter 107, relating to weed districts and the reenactment of previous legislation authorizing an annual tax levy.

14. It is recommended that cities be allowed to utilize utility local improvement districts and their method of financing for their projects in the same manner as water districts and sewer districts now do.

The present city local improvement law utilizes the assessment method only for financing projects, whereas sewer and water districts utilize a combination of revenue bonds and assessments. Provision to allow a city to utilize utility local improvement districts and their methods of financing would solve some of the problems.

15. It is recommended that firemen who are full-time employees of fire districts be allowed coverage under the regular firemen's pension system the same as for city firemen, instead of the volunteer firemen's pension system.

Volunteer firemen ordinarily have other means of employment and presumably other means of pension coverage; however, full-time firemen in a fire district still receive only the nominal coverage of the volunteer system. They should be allowed coverage under the regular firemen's pension fund.

16. It is recommended that special districts be authorized to place on the ballot, concurrently with a proposal to incorporate the district, a request for a special levy with which to begin its initial operations.

When a water, sewer, or fire district is organized it has no immediate means of financing its basic, original, comprehensive plan or its first operations until the annual tax levy is available or operations can produce service charges. Such difficulty could be overcome if special districts were authorized to place on the ballot a request for a special levy concurrently with the proposal to incorporate.

17. It is recommended that existing statutes relating to special districts be consolidated in a single law, as to all similar points of those districts which are essentially alike in character.

Instead of having separate and slightly different laws of incorporation, annexation, elections and other points for each special district, it is believed that similar sections could be consolidated into one law.

18. It is recommended that a change be made in Chapter 86, Laws of 1951, Regular Session, which will allow the petitioners to select the form of government under which the city or town incorporates and organizes.

The present laws relating to incorporation provide that the voters shall select the form of government under which the city or town will incorporate. The law should be amended allowing the petitioners to select the form of government.

19. It is recommended that the State Personnel Board may enter into agreements with any municipality or other political subdivision of the state to furnish services and facilities of the personnel board to such municipality or political subdivision in the administration of its personnel on merit principles.

In the interest of better government and for the purpose of insuring the impartial selection of personnel on the basis of merit, the facilities of the State Personnel board should be expanded to furnish services and facilities to any municipality or other political subdivision desiring such services.

(See subcommittee's Junior Taxing Districts report.)

LAW ENFORCEMENT

1. It is recommended that the legislature enact a law setting up mandatory rules of procedure to guide all legislative interim committees, and that in the drafting of such law the following provisions should be considered:
 - a. No major investigation shall be initiated without approval of a majority of the committee.
 - b. Executive hearings and public hearings shall be held only with the approval of a majority of the committee.
 - c. An accurate stenographic record shall be kept of the testimony of all witnesses under oath in public and executive hearings.
 - d. All testimony taken in executive hearings shall be secret. It shall not be released or used in public hearings without the approval of the majority of the committee.
 - e. Any witness summoned at a public or executive hearing, unless the committee by a majority vote determines otherwise, may be accompanied by counsel who shall be permitted while the witness is testifying to advise him of his rights.
 - f. In public hearings any person who is the subject of an investigation may cross-examine other witnesses giving testimony relating to his case by submitting questions in writing to the chairman. With the consent of a majority of the committee then present these questions will be put to the witness by a member of counsel of the committee.
 - g. No report shall be made to the Legislature or released to the public without the approval of the majority of the subcommittee, except a minority report may always accompany a majority report.
 - h. In those cases in which public testimony is given which affects adversely the reputation of a person, it shall be the policy to give that person reasonable opportunity to call witnesses on his own behalf and otherwise to answer adequately any charges made against him. If any individual wishes to call such witnesses, he should submit in writing the names and addresses of the same to the Chairman of the committee and request that they be heard.
2. It is recommended that a gambling code be enacted by the legislature designed to prohibit all forms of gambling and all methods of conducting gambling operations. This bill should provide for rigid prohibitions of the use of telephone, telegraph, radio and television facilities for the dissemination of gambling information; it should include separate and effective sections on lotteries, the numbers racket and gambling establishments. It should incorporate the recommendation that liquor, food, health, tax commission certificates and other types of licenses of establishments which permit gambling on their premises be forfeited.

3. It is recommended that the legislature adopt a measure reasserting its primary responsibility for the function of law enforcement agencies; that it give consideration to the adoption of a bill similar to the Model Department of Justice Act approved by the National Council of commissioners on state law and the American Bar Association; this act would encourage cooperation among law enforcement officers and provide for a general supervision of criminal prosecution by the Attorney General and make him the Chief Law Enforcement Officer of the state in order to secure the benefits of a uniform and efficient enforcement of the criminal law and the administration of criminal justice throughout the state.

It must be remembered that presently we have a situation where the state has enacted laws making certain acts a crime, but has left the duty of enforcing those state laws to the 39 different prosecutors in the 39 different counties in 39 different ways if they see fit. It is recommended that no powers whatsoever be taken away from the local officials and that the home rule on law enforcement be permitted to continue as it is the feeling of the committee that, generally speaking, law enforcement officers in the state are of the highest caliber; however, it is recommended that an act such as above mentioned, giving to the state a greater measure of supervision over criminal prosecutions in cases where there has been a breakdown of law enforcement on a local level, be enacted. It will give to the people of this state uniform enforcement and an opportunity to appeal to a higher authority in the event of corruption or laxity, or if for other reasons the local officials in their particular community may have failed to act.

4. The Uniform Narcotics Act passed by the last session of the legislature has been working satisfactorily in this state. A few minor amendments are necessary to make it more workable, the enactment of which is recommended. The need for state law enforcement activity is acute in the suppression of the illicit sale and distribution of narcotics. Well trained narcotics squads should be set up in the large communities of this state within their police departments, and it is recommended that consideration be given to establishing a state trained narcotics squad of men operating throughout the state who are thoroughly familiar with the methods of narcotics peddlers. Such a squad could be established in the Department of Justice above mentioned.
5. It is recommended that a bill be enacted by the legislature compelling witnesses to testify in criminal proceedings by the granting to them of immunity from prosecution for anything concerning which they produced evidence.
6. It is recommended that a law be enacted recognizing alcoholism as a public health problem, establishing an agency specifically charged with responsibility for a program on alcoholism and accountable to statutory controls with specified powers and duties, providing for machinery for voluntary and involuntary commitments, providing for a centralized rehabilitation center or farm, and appropriating either from the General Fund or allocating a special fund for necessary cost and expense thereof. RCW 71.08.020, Common Drunkard, should be amended to conform to the new act. RCW 71.08.030 and following sections, Habitual Drunkard, should be repealed as being inoperative. RCW 71.12.170 and following sections, Chronic Alcoholics, should be repealed or amended to conform to the new act.
7. It is recommended that the legislature enact a law creating a Central Identification Bureau with official and legal recognition as the custodian of criminal records to be maintained for the convenience and service of local law enforcement agencies; that the bureau should be fully - equipped as a crime laboratory and staffed with trained personnel and equipment for the purpose of detecting crime; that this bureau could be continued in the offices of the Washington State Patrol or could become a division of the Department of Justice as hereinabove mentioned; and that the registration of small firearms be transferred from the License Department to the State Patrol or Department of Justice.

8. It is recommended that the state provide for the use and services of a medical examiner for local law enforcement officers to aid them in solving homicides.
 9. It is recommended that the statutes pertaining to misfeasance, malfeasance, and nonfeasance be strengthened by tightening the legal provisions concerning the removal of lax and faithless public officials.
 10. It is recommended that a higher standard of pay for persons engaged in local law enforcement work be provided.
 11. It is recommended that the statute pertaining to driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor be amended to permit greater discretion by the sentencing judge on matters pertaining to mandatory revocation of drivers' licenses.
 12. It is recommended that the conspiracy statutes of the state be strengthened.
 13. It is recommended that the gambling recovery statute be amended to permit families of a gambler to bring suit for recovery of losses and to permit them to recover double the amount of losses from the gambling establishments.
 14. It is recommended that an act be passed providing that any employee of the Washington State Tax Commission, Washington State Health Department, Washington State Liquor Control Board and any other public employee, who while performing his assigned duty encounters law violations not connected with his particular duty, immediately report such information to his superior and to the proper law enforcement officer of the community.
 15. It is felt that public awareness and knowledge is one of the greatest deterrents of vice. The interest shown and demonstrated by the public in the assault of the committee on organized crime should be kept alive and fully utilized. It is recommended that there be formed continuing independent citizens' groups in Metropolitan centers of the state to keep the public advised as to crime conditions within their communities and as to the effectiveness or laxity of public officials in dealing with them.
 16. It is recommended that legislative committees make periodic checks throughout the state on crime conditions, and that such committees be adequately staffed, equipped and financed so as to effectively bring out to the public conditions that may be existing.
 17. It is recommended that in addition to a Department of Justice there be created in this state a State Crime Commission. This commission should be created in as non-political and non-partisan a way as possible. It should consist of perhaps six members appointed by the Governor with the consent and approval of the Senate, and each member should be appointed for staggered terms. The members of the commission should not be removable except for cause and should have a right to appeal to the courts upon any removal by the Governor. The commission should have "watch dog authority" throughout the state with power of recommendation to the Governor and the legislature in case of a breakdown of law enforcement on any level including any breakdown on the part of the proposed Department of Justice.
The members of the commission should be non-salaried except for a per diem during the time that they meet, and provision should be made to assure at least one of the members being from the law enforcement ranks of the state.
 18. The committee makes the following observations and recommendations with reference to narcotics:
 - a. That RCW 69.32.080 be amended to make it a gross misdemeanor to unlawfully use any narcotic drug as defined in the Uniform Narcotic Drug Act, or to have in his possession any narcotic drug, as defined therein, with intent to unlawfully use it. This should include making it a gross misdemeanor to smoke or have in his possession with intent to smoke or unlawfully use marijuana in any form. The act should include a provision that illegal possession of narcotics, including marijuana, shall be prima facie evidence of an intent to personally illegally use such narcotic drug.

With reference to possession of narcotics, including marijuana, there has been experienced a tendency, both on the part of enforcement agencies and the courts, to be reluctant to cause convictions under the Uniform Drug Act as felons where there is no proof of the possession to be with intent to sell and, therefore, there should probably be a provision in the gross misdemeanor act that possession should be prima facie evidence of intent to use. This would give a discretionary authority to the enforcement agencies as to whether the charge should be filed as a gross misdemeanor or a felony.

- b. Barbiturates. Appropriate legislation should be enacted for the manufacture, transportation, sale, dispensing, possession and control of barbiturate products, their derivatives and synthetical preparations medically used as sedatives, hypnotics, and the control of pain. This control should be vested in the State Board of Pharmacy on a permit system, and provide for penalties for violations thereunder.

Due to the increased use of these products by unsupervised medication, resulting in a marked increase in deaths and critically ill persons from overdoses and the increased addiction from their use, together with the import and sale by unauthorized persons, there is created the need for state level legislation in the control thereof.

19. It is recommended that legislation be passed curbing the present abuses connected with bail forfeitures.
20. It is recommended that the legislature give consideration to prohibiting prosecuting attorneys from engaging in private practice in other counties in addition to Class A and First Class counties.

CONCLUSIONS

The committee felt that although local home rule in law enforcement should be strictly adhered to and nothing should be taken away from the local police and local sheriffs, who are doing a good job in the State of Washington, yet if there is to be a single policy toward crime and not the policy of many different competing local units, if the efforts of different law enforcement agencies are to be coordinated, and if similar standards of efficiency in dealing with the massive menace of organized crime are to be maintained, there must be a greater assumption of responsibility on the part of the state in connection with law enforcement. The state must provide the organization, the money, the man power and the direction so that adequate supervision over local enforcement agencies is maintained, similar law enforcement policies enforced, and similar standards of efficiency achieved. This is a vital prerequisite for progress in dealing with organized crime. (See Subcommittee's Crime Investigation report.)

Special Subcommittee on Reapportionment

In compliance with the directions contained in a resolution adopted by the House on March 6, 1951 (Thirty-second Regular Session), referred to the special subcommittee by the Legislative Council, a thorough study of the present inequities in legislative apportionment as related to population was made.

A careful reapportionment plan for the state was prepared. In forming this plan the subcommittee was restricted by the following provisions in our state constitution, Article II—Legislative Department:

"Sec. 2. House of Representatives and Senate—The house of representatives shall be composed of not less than sixty-three nor more than ninety-nine members. The number of senators shall not be more than one-half nor less than one-third of the number of members of the house of representatives. * * * *"

"Sec. 3. The Census * * * * the legislature shall apportion and district anew the members of the senate and house of representatives, according to the number of inhabitants, * * * *"

The subcommittee also followed the directives contained in the resolution:

"The council shall consider the population, geographic and other factors affecting the equitable apportionment of the members of the legislature to the end that the members of the Senate and House of Representatives shall be apportioned and districted anew according to the number of inhabitants, excluding members of United States armed forces on active duty.

"* * * * Senatorial districts shall contain a number of inhabitants, which number shall be computed by dividing the number of proposed senatorial districts into the number of inhabitants of the state as determined by the last enumeration. Representative districts shall contain a number of inhabitants, which number shall be computed by dividing the number of proposed representatives into said number of inhabitants. The districts established may vary in population within reasonable limits over or under the figures derived from such computations in the interest of compactness or geography.

"Districts shall be as compact as possible and the boundaries thereof shall be reasonably regular. In making any apportionment plan, the council shall not disturb the terms of holdover Senators unless required to do so in order to carry out the mandate of the constitution."

Referring to the second paragraph in the above quotation from the resolution, it was found that by adding two new legislative districts to the present 46 districts and dividing the 1950 population by 48, the average population for each district should be 49,562 and entitled to one Senator and two Representatives. In some of the revised districts it will be noted that the populations are from 75 to 85 thousand because the geographic locations of the districts would not permit further adjustments in population without disturbing every legislative district within the county. In these larger districts, one Senator and three Representatives are allocated.

The results are as follows: (For details of precincts changed see special subcommittee's Reapportionment Plan for the State of Washington.)

The present districts numbered 1, 5, 9, 11, 12, 13, 17, 18, 22, 24, 30, 33, 34, 37, 38, 39, 42, and 43, remain the same as they now are in view of the fact that in these districts the representation in both House and Senate, according to the 1950 population, is substantially correct.

District No. 2 (Pend Oreille and Stevens) is enlarged by adding Ferry county, with one Senator and two Representatives.

District No. 3 (Spokane, part), at present too large in population, is decreased in size by deducting 17 precincts and adding the precincts deducted to District No. 7 (Spokane, part) at present too small in population.

District No. 4 (Spokane, part), now too large, is decreased in size by deducting 20 precincts and adding those precincts to District No. 6 (Spokane, part) at present too small in population.

District No. 8 (Adams, Ferry and Lincoln) is decreased in size by taking Ferry county out of the district and placing it in the new 2nd district, and because the population of this new district would then be slightly less than 20 thousand, one Senator and one Representative are allocated.

District No. 10 (Asotin, Columbia and Garfield). The boundaries remain the same as the present District No. 10, but because the population is slightly less than 20 thousand, one Senator and one Representative are allocated.

District No. 14 (Yakima, part) is increased in size by taking eight precincts from the 15th district (Yakima, part). The representation in both these districts remains the same; namely, the 14th district has one Senator and three Representatives and the 15th district has one Senator and two Representatives.

District No. 16 (Benton, Franklin, Klickitat and Skamania) is divided by taking Klickitat and Skamania counties to make a new legislative District No. 48. One Senator and two Representatives are allocated to the revised 16th district and one Senator and one Representative to the newly created 48th district.

District No. 19 (Pacific and 17 Grays Harbor precincts). The boundaries remain the same but because of the fact that the present population is slightly above 22 thousand, this district is allocated one Senator and one Representative.

District No. 20 (Lewis) now having one Senator and three Representatives with a population of only 43,755 is allocated one Senator and two Representatives.

District No. 21 (Grays Harbor, except 17 precincts in the 19th district) now has one Senator and three Representatives, but again because the present population is slightly above 48,000 this district is allocated one Senator and two Representatives.

District No. 23 (Kitsap) now has a population of 75,724, and at present one Senator and two Representatives are allocated to this district. This district is being reallocated one more Representative.

Districts No. 25-26-27-28-29 (Pierce) all have been readjusted. Because of low population, the present 27th district, more or less, has been added to the present 28th district. Because of the present large population, particularly of the 26th and 29th districts and slightly in the 25th district, a new 27th district is created by taking precincts from all three (25, 26 and 29). Each of the five districts is allocated the same representation in the Senate and the House; namely, one Senator and two Representatives.

District No. 31 (King, part), the largest in the state with a population of 131,910, is decreased in size by taking 90 precincts and creating a new 47th district. The new 47th district, with a population of slightly less than 50 thousand, is allocated one Senator and two Representatives. The remaining part of the 31st district, with a population of 82,968, is allocated one Senator and three Representatives. A further adjustment of the present 31st district could not be made without disturbing the boundaries of the 30th, the 33rd, and the 34th legislative districts which are now exactly proportionate as to population.

District No. 32 (King, part) is increased in size by taking eight precincts from the present 44th district.

District No. 35 (King, part) is increased in size by taking 17 precincts from the present 36th district.

District No. 36 (King, part) is increased in size by adding 30 precincts from the present 44th district, and decreased in size by the precincts that are added to the 35th district.

District No. 40 (San Juan and Skagit), having a population of 46,518, has one Senator and three Representatives. This district is now allocated one Senator and two Representatives.

District No. 41 (Whatcom, part). In considering Whatcom county with a total population of 66,733, now composed of two districts—the 41st and 42nd, each with one Senator and two Representatives—the subcommittee at first considered making one district out of the county with one Senator and three Representatives, but decided it would be better to leave the boundaries of both districts the same and allocate one Senator and one Representative to the 41st district; leaving the 42nd district the same as it is with one Senator and two Representatives. By this method Whatcom county will have two Senators and three Representatives. By the first method the county would have only one Senator and three Representatives.

District No. 44 (King, part) is decreased in size by the precincts deducted and given to the foregoing 32nd and 36th districts.

District No. 45 and District No. 46 (King, part). The present 46th legislative district contains a population of 107,613. These two districts (the 45th and 46th) by deducting precincts from the 46th district containing a population of 24,834 and adding to the 45th district will be about equal in size, approximately 82 thousand, and each is given one Senator and three Representatives.

The net result is that eastern Washington loses two Representatives but gains a Senator, and western Washington gains one Senator and two Representatives.

The recommended plan of the Special Subcommittee on Reapportionment was approved by the Council for consideration by the legislature, the outline of which is set forth above.

Special Subcommittee on Capitol Buildings and Grounds

The Special Subcommittee on Capitol Buildings and Grounds was created to consider the problem of providing adequate and proper facilities for the State Capitol.

The present facilities are being taxed to the limit; and, while it is felt that the current building program will take care of immediate needs, it will not allow for any great amount of future expansion and will not provide space for those functions which have moved to other cities because of lack of room in Olympia.

The proposed relocation of Highway 99 and the placing in operation of the new building will have considerable effect upon the present situation; and a future study should be made with this in mind. A complete re-evaluation of the Wilder and White plan, adopted some forty years ago, is needed. It is agreed that this plan is an excellent one; however, all but one of the building sites have been used—that one being the present location of the Governor's Mansion. (See report of Special Subcommittee on Capitol Buildings and Grounds.)

The recommendation of the committee, as approved by the Council for consideration by the Legislature, is as follows:

It is recommended that a continued study be made during the next biennium involving the development of a comprehensive plan for future capitol buildings and grounds.

REPORT OF LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL ACTIVITIES IN INTERSTATE COOPERATION

The Legislative Council, created at the time Washington's Commission on Interstate Cooperation was abolished, is vested with authority to cooperate and function with similar councils or committees of other states, with the Council of State Governments, and with other interstate research organizations. In addition, the chairman and three other members of the Legislative Council are by law members of the five-man Interstate Compact Commission.

The advantages to state officials in the exchange of information with officials of other states, and of finding ways of cooperating when they have common problems, have long been obvious. Each state is faced with common or similar problems in such matters as public finance, education, employment, highways, veterans' affairs, legislative practices, and state-local relations. Through the medium of regional conferences, these and other problems, such as institutional care and agriculture, are given more detailed study and suggested solutions propounded.

The various organizations of state officials have been brought together in one organization known as the Council of State Governments. This council was established as a liaison, to act as secretariat for, and to assist these organizations in whatever way, each desires. This council is also a channel for the organization of federal-state cooperative programs. Considerable attention is given to the prevention or elimination of interstate trade barriers.

During the past biennium, members appointed to represent the Council at the various meetings, regional conferences, and legislative conferences of the Council of State Governments, were B. J. Dahl, Charles W. Hodde, Albert D. Rosellini, Howard Roup, Jess V. Sapp, and Victor Zednick.

Also, Representative Julia Butler Hansen, Chairman, and Senator W. C. Raugust, member, of the Joint Fact-Finding Committee on Highways, Streets and Bridges, were appointed to attend the meetings of the Western Highways Policies Committee of the Eleven Western States.

Council representatives attending these meetings submitted reports on the proceedings upon their return, copies of which are available in the Legislative Council's office.

MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR ARTHUR B. LANGLEIE TO THE LEGISLATURE

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Legislature:

One of the most difficult decisions I have had to make in connection with legislative matters since I have been your governor is the one asking you to continue your work here in the state capitol at a time when you had already labored so long and hard in the thirty-third session.

I know how painstakingly and conscientiously you have put in your time. I am aware of the tremendous problems that you had to face and the constant pressures placed upon you for state tax money to carry out the many worthwhile governmental programs so important to the people of our state.

The great limiting factor for all of us has been time. Time for hearings, time for communication with one another, time to understand the big problems so that we might arrive at the best answers possible for the people we serve. This limiting factor is not a new problem in legislative sessions. Only once in the past twenty years was the legislature able to complete its work within the sixty days permitted by our state constitution. On other occasions the clock was stopped and the sessions went on. The state supreme court indicated, however, in a recent decision that it would not longer condone such a practice.

The only legal way, therefore, by which the members of the legislature could consider, deliberate and act upon several vital measures, is through the means of a special session. Because some of the bills, which one or both houses found no time to consider under the pressure of the last few days of the session, are of such paramount importance to the efficient and economical management of the state, I felt it necessary to call you back into session.

As we came to those closing days of the thirty-third session and the time limitation began to bear down upon us, efforts were made to crowd through many pieces of important legislation that were under consideration. Unfortunately, it was impossible to do all the things that needed to be done in the interest of our citizenry. Some inequities which often creep into major bills, such as the appropriation measure, presented a problem or two of serious proportions.

Since it was necessary to deal with these matters promptly, I felt it also would be proper to take up a limited number of other essential measures which one or both houses had found no time to consider.

First, there is the problem of our aging citizenry. When the final appropriation bill came to my office on Tuesday night, a review of it disclosed that the allocation for old age assistance had been reduced by \$10 million. While other monies had been placed in the budget that might be diverted to the old age category, nevertheless there had been a net effective reduction of $7\frac{1}{2}$ million in the appropriation for old age assistance. Such a reduction would cut the average monthly grant to individual aged citizens from \$69 to \$59. In view of the high living costs and the mounting problems of our aging population, I could not in good conscience fail to discuss with you the serious impact this would make upon some 65,000 people who are dependent in whole or in part upon the old age assistance program.

Following conversations with many of you, it became apparent that because of the shifting of millage—purportedly affecting the transfer of funds to the state and to the schools—that there was some misunderstanding in the minds of many legislators about the amount of money really allocated for the aged. My concern is shared by many of you who will, I am sure, seek ways to deal with this deficiency. I believe this matter can be remedied without putting the general fund budget out of balance.

Another serious problem which must be solved if an important state program is to continue without serious interruption relates to the department of employment security. It is this department which administers the unemployment compensation program. The press of time and other factors prevented legislative action on Senate Bill 151. This legislation would bring our act into conformity with state and federal laws. A recent supreme court decision in another state held that an act with a similar defect in its title was invalid. The Washington state statute passed in 1945 pertaining to specific titles of acts is the same as that of the state involved in this supreme court decision. This decision places our present state law relating to the unemployment compensation program in serious jeopardy.

Our responsibility is crystal clear. Either we enact remedial legislation or we stand in danger of losing 8 million dollars because of non-conformity. We must bear in mind that this 8 million, although made available by the federal government, actually is money which has been collected from our own Washington industries. Not only would we face the possibility of losing this money, but also Washington employers would be in jeopardy of having to pay a double tax. We cannot afford to risk this loss and the passage of a new law is the only way to place this program on safe ground.

Senate Bill 151 would also make possible certain beneficial changes in present unemployment compensation laws, providing a more efficient and adequate service to the people on the part of our department of employment security.

There were two measures of significant importance before the legislature in the field of public health, namely, Senate Bills 291 and 309. Unless the first of these bills is passed, the present budget set for the department of health will be one million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars short of meeting the obligations presently involved. When that budget was prepared, it was contemplated that a measure such as Senate Bill 291 would be adopted by the legislature. The passage of this law not only assures the continuance of certain matching funds under federal social security, but in addition makes certain operational economies possible in the department of health not now existent under present law. Without this bill we would have to ask for a deficiency appropriation at the end of the biennium of around 2 million dollars.

Several years ago we inaugurated a program to eradicate tuberculosis in the state of Washington. We have made considerable progress toward that end. The provisions of Senate Bill 309, another measure introduced during the thirty-third session, constituted a further step toward that objective. This measure, while providing for the finest services possible in this program, would save at least one-fourth of a million dollars in this biennium.

Many of you are familiar with the two measures prepared by our Little Hoover Committee, headed by Harold Shefelman. Senate Bill 250 would have established in our state a modern management system as well as comprehensive expenditure controls in keeping with the principles consistently advocated in the recommendations of the federal Hoover Commission and the Little Hoover Commissions in many of our sister states.

Senate Bill 252 would have established a merit system for our state employees. Authorities on personnel management throughout the country are agreed that a merit system is the best method of effective public personnel administration.

Senate Bills 250 and 252 were the result of a year of hard work by a committee of public-spirited citizens who were requested to undertake a government organization study by the legislative council and the governor. These two bills should be adopted.

For a quarter of a century almost everyone in the state has been concerned about the management of our forest resources, both public and private. Our forests not only provide a way of life which is peculiar to the Pacific Northwest but also they are so much a part of our basic economic life that one-third of our population is dependent upon them for support, directly or indirectly.

From continuing studies since 1942, progress has been made in forest fire protection measures and minimum cutting practices, particularly as they applied to private lands. Unfortunately sound management of our state-owned forest resources has been pretty largely static. To continue the present system of responsibility divided among three field agencies controlled by four different boards or committees with varying responsibilities is sheer folly.

As an alternate for the original Shefelman recommendation, the substance of Senate Bill 405 would accomplish the policies advocated by foresters, conservationists, educators and representatives of labor and industry for consolidation. This program merits your most earnest consideration.

I realize that in asking you to continue your deliberations into this special over-time period we face the attempts to revive a wide gamut of legislation already discarded or over-ruled. In making recommendations to you, I have tried to limit them to matters that are of prime importance, that relieve inequities among the people of our state, and promote substantial savings in administrative costs.

I shall cooperate with you in every way possible to restrict the field of new legislation, since it is my considered judgment that in the sixty days of the thirty-third session you did remarkable work in taking care of the great bulk of required state business. Few legislators have ever worked so hard under such difficult circumstances to maintain a balanced budget after sixty days of exhaustive inventorying and discussion of the state's needs.

I sincerely hope we may expedite the work of this special session and that the opportunity to return to your homes may come quickly. I know I am expressing the gratitude of the people of the state for what you have done and for the additional labors that are now being imposed upon you.

The President directed the special committee to escort His Excellency, Governor Langlie to the governor's chambers.

The special committee thereupon escorted the governor from the House chamber (Applause).

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.), the joint session was dissolved.

The Speaker resumed the chair and directed the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House to escort the Lieutenant Governor to the Senate chamber, and the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate to escort the Senators to the Senate chamber.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

Senate Bill No. 2, by Senator McMullen:

Providing for legislators' subsistence appropriation.

The bill was re-read the second time by sections.

Mr. Reilly moved the adoption of the following amendment:

In section 1, line 10 of the original bill, after the word "Washington" strike the comma (,) and the remainder of the section, and insert in lieu thereof a period (.) and add the following sentence: "Notwithstanding any statute, or section of this bill to the contrary the members of the thirty-third legislature shall be paid not to exceed fifteen dollars per day in lieu of subsistence and lodging during and while attending the first extraordinary session of the thirty-third legislature."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Mason:

"Will Mr. Reilly yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will the gentleman yield?"

Mr. Reilly:

"Yes."

Mr. Mason:

"You are asking for the fifteen dollars to be in lieu of a per diem allowance? That is, fifteen dollars flat regardless of our expenses?"

Mr. Reilly:

"That is correct, Mr. Mason. Of course, one doesn't have to collect it if you don't wish to do so."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Adams (Geo. N.):

"Mr. Reilly, if this legislation passes, will the next session revert back to ten dollars?"

Mr. Reilly:

"The bill only applies to the days we are here in extraordinary session of the legislature. It will not be retroactive but from the time the governor signs the bill."

Mr. Gallagher demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Reilly.

The amendment was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Reilly, the following amendment was adopted:

Further amend the bill—add a new section to be known as section 2 to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. Section 44.04.080, RCW, as derived from section 1, chapter 173, Laws of 1941, as last amended by section 1, chapter 4, Laws of 1945, is amended to read as follows:

"Members of the legislature shall be * * * * * paid not to exceed ten dollars per day in lieu of subsistence and lodging during and while attending the legislative session."

Renumber the remaining section to read "Sec. 3."

On motion of Mr. Reilly, the following amendment was adopted:

Amend the title—strike the whole thereof and insert in lieu thereof the following: "An Act relating to legislators' expenses and providing for in lieu payments to members of the legislature for lodging and subsistence, containing an appropriation, amending RCW 44.04.080, and declaring an emergency."

On motion of Mr. Johnston (Elmer E.), the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 2 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

In section 3, page 2, line 3 of the printed bill, after the word "hospitals" and before the word "into" insert the words "having a higher average daily cost per patient" and after the words "Tuberculosis hospitals" and before the word "which" insert the words "having a lower average daily cost per patient"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Reilly:

"Dr. Adams, what is the percentage decrease of patients in the last four years?"

Mr. Adams:

"I can't tell you the percentage. It has been high. In Spokane county, 150,000 chests were X-rayed and only 20 unknown cases of tuberculosis were found. The cost was probably something like $20,000 each to find the twenty cases. Firlands has two hundred vacant beds. Spokane has vacant beds. I don't know if Yakima has or not. I think Tacoma has vacant beds."

Mr. Reilly:

"Are the patients receiving just as good care in the smaller hospitals as they are in the bigger ones?"

"No. They can't possibly receive the surgery available at the larger hospitals. Walla Walla can't afford a chest surgeon. Patients are taken to a larger institution for surgery at a cost to the county."

In section 1, page 1, line 5 of the mimeographed bill, after the word "of" and before the word "million" strike the word "twenty" and insert in lieu thereof the word "ten"

Mr. Olson (Ole H.):

"Will Mr. Ryder yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will the gentleman yield?"

"Yes."

Mr. Olson (Ole H.):

"The ten million dollars wouldn't be adequate in the first place, would it?"

Mr. Ryder:

"That is right. As more were needed, the limit would be raised."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Rasmussen:

A. L. RASMUSSEN, Chairman.

We concur in this report: Don Eldridge, Elmer Huhta, James T. Ovenell, Gordon Sandison.

SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker announced that he was about to sign: House Bill No. 18.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 16, by Senators Sears, Zednick and Rosellini:
Establishing department of state administration.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point, Mr. O'Brien."

Mr. O'Brien:

"House rule 77 states that 'Every bill shall be read on three separate days unless the House deems it expedient to suspend this rule'. Senate Bill No. 16 was read today on first reading of bills. Therefore, it is out of order to consider this bill at this time on second reading."

Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth):

"The rule Mr. O'Brien raises has not been raised before in this session. We have on several occasions violated the rule by reason of ignoring it. Today, for example the kindergarten bill was read and passed. There is a legal saying that when you sleep on your rights, you waive those rights. I would like to submit that Mr. O'Brien, by not having raised the issue before, has waived the right to do so now."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Two wrongs never made a right. The rules were suspended in the case of those other bills, and only by suspending the rules were those bills considered."

Mr. Gallagher:

"I agree with Mr. Jones' comments but I think I should go further. If you sleep on the rights, they are waived only to that extent. If you should happen to wake up, you can then assert the rights."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The Speaker will rule that the point of order raised by Mr. O'Brien is well taken and one by which the House must abide."

MOTIONS

On motion of Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth), the House dispensed with the call of the House.

On motion of Mr. Jones (W. Kenneth), the House adjourned until 12:01 a. m., Saturday, March 21, 1953.

On motion of Mr. Montgomery, the resolution was adopted.

Resolution by Mr. Gallagher:

WHEREAS, The citizens' committee for the reorganization of the state government had proposed to the regular session of the thirty-third legislature certain measures which, in part because of their controversial nature and in part because of the lack of adequate time for committee and member consideration, failed of passage; and

WHEREAS, The said committee has again proposed to this first extraordinary session of the thirty-third legislature two of said measures in modified form, namely, Senate Bill No. 17, providing for a merit system for certain state employees, and Senate Bill No. 16, providing for a major change in the organization, structure and function of important elective and appointive offices of the state government; and

WHEREAS, It is the common desire of the executive and the legislative branch of the government that this first extraordinary session of the thirty-third legislature come to an early close; and

WHEREAS, It is most unlikely that full consideration to these important and controversial measures can be given without unduly protracting this first extraordinary session; and

WHEREAS, It is not in the best interest of the state of Washington that these measures be hurried through without opportunity for committee and member study, public hearings and full discussion; and

WHEREAS, Through the agency of the legislative council such opportunity can be afforded and the paramount public interest can best be subserved;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives, that the first extraordinary session of the thirty-third legislature do not consider Senate Bills Nos. 16 and 17; and
