This mass evacuation and internment effort was authorized by the President of the United States who, on February 19, 1942, issued Executive Order 9066. EO 9066 effectively ceded civilian life and lives to the control of the military, thus setting the stage for the most sweeping violations of our most deeply cherished Constitutional principles. This "failure of political leadership" - the abrogation of civil authority - was later found by a Congressional Commission to be a primary factor, along with "race prejudice" and "war hysteria," leading to this tragic episode in our American history.

I've distributed photographs of that era showing on one side the evacuated 225 Japanese from Bainbridge Island, the first in the nation to be incarcerated. One of the photographs on the other side shows a very hear wrenching photography of Mr. Ebaristo Arota, a Filipino saying goodbye to his wife Miki who was being interned and he was not allowed to accompany her. And they too were Bainbridge Island residents.

It is said that those who forget history are doomed to repeat it. That, Mr. Speaker, is why my previous seatmate, Representative Tokuda, created the Civil Liberties Public Education Fund, to teach students and the public about the lessons we've learned from this experience. And that is why, Mr. Speaker, my current seatmate has brought this legislation before us. I remind this body that the federal legislation that permitted this gross injustice is still on the books. The time to establish a Civil Liberties Day of Remembrance is now because the number of men and women with first-hand knowledge of these events are rapidly diminishing. Indeed, in the four years since I first offered comments on this floor, I have lost my grandmother and my mother . . . my only direct links to the Japanese American wartime experience. Let us not also lose the lesson of how vulnerable our deeply held ideals are in times of extraordinary challenge. Instead, let us remember that freedom, justice, and equality for all is our greatest birthright as Americans. Let us never forget it. For this reason, I urge this body to join me in setting aside the 19th day of February as a Civil Liberties Day of Remembrance. I ask you to support House Bill No. 1460."

Representative Cairnes: "I spent a good part of my adult life as a professional soldier. I took great pride in being an American fighting man, both then and now. I now often wonder in the peace and quiet of my home, with my wife, my children and my grandchildren around me, what was the Vietnam War actually all about. I always come to the same conclusion, it was about Freedom – Freedom from unlawful imprisonment, Freedom of speech, Freedom of religion and all the other freedoms that we too often take for granted. Basic civil liberties. Basic civil liberties – Human Rights – isn't that what most wars are about?

Human Rights were clearly the central issue for the Second World War. My Dad and my uncles as young men in their late teens and early twenties were in some of the toughest battles. Some were wounded, some were captured and some came through without a physical scratch. Combat is the most horrendous thing that can happen to a human being. I know the horrors of war first hand.

The 442nd Regimental Combat Team – the soldiers of these units were all Japanese-Americans. They were the most decorated unit of their size in American history. These were men, Americans, that were fighting, bleeding, dying, suffering, loving, caring and thinking of their families back home. Wishing for peace and justice. Peace and justice. Isn't that what we all wish for? Combat veterans have a common bond. We hurt to the depths of our souls for each other. There is no greater bond. The bond of fighting together, protecting each other saving each other. These great and brave warriors of the 442nd Regimental Combat Team were among the bravest of the brave. All the while they were involved in combat their wives, sons, mothers, daughters, fathers and uncles were wrongfully imprisoned behind barbed wire. Denied the basic human rights they were overseas fighting for. How can the human spirit be so strong? How can men fight a foreign enemy when their own country, the country they were fighting for imprisoned their families? How can men do that? What amazing dedication to a country, to an ideal, to America.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

On page 3, after line 13, insert the following:

"Sec. 3. RCW 16.08.080 and 2002 c 244 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any city or county that has a notification and appeal procedure with regard to determining a dog within its jurisdiction to be dangerous may continue to utilize or amend its procedure. A city or county animal control authority that does not have a notification and appeal procedure in place as of June 13, 2002, and seeks to declare a dog within its jurisdiction, as defined in subsection (7) of this section, to be dangerous must serve notice upon the dog owner in person or by regular and certified mail, return receipt requested.

(2) The notice must state: The statutory basis for the proposed action; the reasons the authority considers the animal dangerous; a statement that the dog is subject to registration and controls required by this chapter, including a recitation of the controls in subsection (6) of this section; and an explanation of the owner's rights and of the proper procedure for appealing a decision finding the dog dangerous.

(3) Prior to the authority issuing its final determination, the authority shall notify the owner in writing that he or she is entitled to an opportunity to meet with the authority, at which meeting the owner may give, orally or in writing, any reasons or information as to why the dog should not be declared dangerous. The notice shall state the date, time, and location of the meeting, which must occur prior to expiration of fifteen calendar days following delivery of the notice. The owner may propose an alternative meeting date and time, but such meeting must occur within the fifteen-day time period set forth in this section. After such meeting, the authority must issue its final determination, in the form of a written order, within fifteen calendar days. In the event the authority declares a dog to be dangerous, the order shall include a recital of the authority for the action, a brief concise statement of the facts that support the determination, and the signature of the person who made the determination. The order shall be sent by regular and certified mail, return receipt requested, or delivered in person to the owner at the owner's last address known to the authority.

(4) If the local jurisdiction has provided for an administrative appeal of the final determination, the owner must follow the appeal procedure set forth by that jurisdiction. If the local jurisdiction has not provided for an administrative appeal, the owner may appeal a municipal authority's final determination that the dog is dangerous to the municipal court, and may appeal a county animal control authority's or county sheriff's final determination that the dog is dangerous to the district court. The owner must make such appeal within twenty days of receiving the final determination. While the appeal is pending, the authority may order that the dog be confined or controlled in compliance with RCW 16.08.090. If the dog is determined to be dangerous, the owner must pay all costs of confinement and control.

(5) It is unlawful for an owner to have a dangerous dog in the state without a certificate of registration issued under this section. This section and RCW 16.08.090 and 16.08.100 shall not apply to police dogs as defined in RCW 4.24.410.

(6) Unless a city or county has a more restrictive code requirement, the animal control authority of the city or county in which an owner has a dangerous dog shall issue a certificate of registration to the owner of such animal if the owner presents to the animal control unit sufficient evidence of:

(a) A proper enclosure to confine a dangerous dog and the posting of the premises with a clearly visible warning sign that there is a dangerous dog on the property. In addition, the owner shall conspicuously display a sign with a warning symbol that informs children of the presence of a dangerous dog;

(b) A surety bond issued by a surety insurer qualified under chapter 48.28 RCW in a form acceptable to the animal control authority in the sum of at least ~~((two hundred fifty))~~ one hundred thousand dollars, payable to any person injured by the dangerous dog; or

(c) A policy of liability insurance, such as homeowner's insurance, issued by an insurer qualified under Title 48 RCW in the amount of at least ~~((two hundred fifty))~~ one hundred thousand dollars, insuring the owner for any personal injuries inflicted by the dangerous dog.

(7)(a)(i) If an owner has the dangerous dog in an incorporated area that is serviced by both a city and a county animal control authority, the owner shall obtain a certificate of registration from the city authority;

(ii) If an owner has the dangerous dog in an incorporated or unincorporated area served only by a county animal control authority, the owner shall obtain a certificate of registration from the county authority;

(iii) If an owner has the dangerous dog in an incorporated or unincorporated area that is not served by an animal control authority, the owner shall obtain a certificate of registration from the office of the local sheriff.

(b) This subsection does not apply if a city or county does not allow dangerous dogs within its jurisdiction.

(8) Cities and counties may charge an annual fee, in addition to regular dog licensing fees, to register dangerous dogs.

(9) Nothing in this section limits a local authority in placing additional restrictions upon owners of dangerous dogs. This section does not require a local authority to allow a dangerous dog within its jurisdiction."

(1) $2,237,000 of the fiscal year 2002 general fund--state appropriation, $2,288,000 of the fiscal year 2003 general fund--state appropriation, and $1,590,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for the category of services titled "intensive family preservation services."

(2) $685,000 of the general fund--state fiscal year 2002 appropriation and $701,000 of the general fund--state fiscal year 2003 appropriation are provided to contract for the operation of one pediatric interim care facility. The facility shall provide residential care for up to thirteen children through two years of age. Seventy-five percent of the children served by the facility must be in need of special care as a result of substance abuse by their mothers. The facility shall also provide on-site training to biological, adoptive, or foster parents. The facility shall provide at least three months of consultation and support to parents accepting placement of children from the facility. The facility may recruit new and current foster and adoptive parents for infants served by the facility. The department shall not require case management as a condition of the contract.

Reductions to network grants shall be allocated so as to maintain current funding levels, to the greatest extent possible, for projects with the strongest evidence of positive outcomes and for networks with substantial compliance with contracts for network grants.

(5) $2,215,000 of the fiscal year 2002 general fund--state appropriation, $4,394,000 of the fiscal year 2003 general fund--state appropriation, and $5,604,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for reducing the average caseload level per case-carrying social worker. Average caseload reductions are intended to increase the amount of time social workers spend in direct contact with the children, families, and foster parents involved with their open cases. The department shall use some of the funds provided in several local offices to increase staff that support case-carrying social workers in ways that will allow social workers to increase direct contact time with children, families, and foster parents. To achieve the goal of reaching an average caseload ratio of 1:24 by the end of fiscal year 2003, the department shall develop a plan for redeploying 30 FTEs to case-carrying social worker and support positions from other areas in the children and family services budget. The study shall examine the prevalence and needs of families who are raising related children and shall compare services and policies of Washington state with other states that have a higher rate of kinship care placements in lieu of foster care placements. The study shall identify possible changes in services and policies that are likely to increase appropriate kinship care placements.

(8) $3,386,000 of the fiscal year 2002 general fund--state appropriation, $7,671,000 of the fiscal year 2003 general fund--state appropriation, and $20,819,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for increases in the cost per case for foster care and adoption support. $16,000,000 of the general fund--federal amount shall remain unallotted until the office of financial management approves a plan submitted by the department to achieve a higher rate of federal earnings in the foster care program. That plan shall also be submitted to the fiscal committees of the legislature and shall indicate projected federal revenue compared to actual fiscal year 2001 levels. Within the amounts provided for foster care, the department shall increase the basic rate for foster care to an average of $420 per month on July 1, 2001, and to an average of $440 per month on July 1, 2002. If the number and timing of residents choosing to move into community settings is not sufficient to achieve the RHC cottage consolidation plan assumed in the appropriations in subsection (2) of this section, the department shall transfer sufficient appropriations from this subsection to subsection (2) of this section to cover the added costs incurred in the RHCs. The department shall report to the appropriate committees of the legislature, within 45 days following each fiscal year quarter, the number of residents moving into community settings and the actual expenditures for all community services to support those residents.

These funds, along with funding provided for vendor rate increases, are sufficient to raise wages an average of fifty cents and cover the employer share of unemployment and social security taxes on the amount of the wage increase. In consultation with the statewide associations representing such agencies, the department shall establish a mechanism for testing the extent to which funds have been used for this purpose, and report the results to the fiscal committees of the legislature by February 1, 2002.

(1) Keep that part of the premises which he or she occupies and uses as clean and sanitary as the conditions of the premises permit;

(2) Properly dispose from his or her dwelling unit all rubbish, garbage, and other organic or flammable waste, in a clean and sanitary manner at reasonable and regular intervals, and assume all costs of extermination and fumigation for infestation caused by the tenant;

(3) Properly use and operate all electrical, gas, heating, plumbing and other fixtures and appliances supplied by the landlord;

(4) Not intentionally or negligently destroy, deface, damage, impair, or remove any part of the structure or dwelling, with the appurtenances thereto, including the facilities, equipment, furniture, furnishings, and appliances, or permit any member of his or her family, invitee, licensee, or any person acting under his or her control to do so. Violations may be prosecuted under chapter 9A.48 RCW if the destruction is intentional and malicious;

(5) Not permit a nuisance or common waste;

(6) Not engage in drug-related activity at the rental premises, or allow a subtenant, sublessee, resident, or anyone else to engage in drug-related activity at the rental premises with the knowledge or consent of the tenant. (9) Not engage in any gang-related activity at the premises, as defined in RCW 59.18.030, or allow another to engage in such activity at the premises, that renders people in at least two or more dwelling units or residences insecure in life or the use of property or that injures or endangers the safety or health of people in at least two or more dwelling units or residences. In determining whether a tenant is engaged in gang-related activity, a court should consider the totality of the circumstances, including factors such as whether there have been a significant number of complaints to the landlord about the tenant's activities at the property, damages done by the tenant to the property, including the property of other tenants or neighbors, harassment or threats made by the tenant to other tenants or neighbors that have been reported to law enforcement agencies, any police incident reports involving the tenant, and the tenant's criminal history; (~~and~~)

Sec. 8. RCW 59.18.180 and 1998 c 276 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If the tenant fails to comply with any portion of RCW 59.18.130 or 59.18.140, and such noncompliance can substantially affect the health and safety of the tenant or other tenants, or substantially increase the hazards of fire or accident that can be remedied by repair, replacement of a damaged item, or cleaning, the tenant shall comply within thirty days after written notice by the landlord specifying the noncompliance, or, in the case of emergency as promptly as conditions require. If the tenant fails to remedy the noncompliance within that period the landlord may enter the dwelling unit and cause the work to be done and submit an itemized bill of the actual and reasonable cost of repair, to be payable on the next date when periodic rent is due, or on terms mutually agreed to by the landlord and tenant, or immediately if the rental agreement has terminated. Any substantial noncompliance by the tenant of RCW 59.18.130 or 59.18.140 shall constitute a ground for commencing an action in unlawful detainer in accordance with the provisions of chapter 59.12 RCW, and a landlord may commence such action at any time after written notice pursuant to such chapter. The tenant shall have a defense to an unlawful detainer action filed solely on this ground if it is determined at the hearing authorized under the provisions of chapter 59.12 RCW that the tenant is in substantial compliance with the provisions of this section, or if the tenant remedies the noncomplying condition within the thirty day period provided for above or any shorter period determined at the hearing to have been required because of an emergency: PROVIDED, That if the defective condition is remedied after the commencement of an unlawful detainer action, the tenant may be liable to the landlord for statutory costs and reasonable attorney's fees.

(2) If drug-related activity is alleged to be a basis for termination of tenancy under RCW 59.18.130(6), 59.12.030(5), or 59.20.140(5), the compliance provisions of this section do not apply and the landlord may proceed directly to an unlawful detainer action.

(3) If activity on the premises that creates an imminent hazard to the physical safety of other persons on the premises as defined in RCW 59.18.130(8) is alleged to be the basis for termination of the tenancy, and the tenant is arrested as a result of this activity, then the compliance provisions of this section do not apply and the landlord may proceed directly to an unlawful detainer action against the tenant who was arrested for this activity.

(4) If gang-related activity, as prohibited under RCW 59.18.130(9), is alleged to be the basis for termination of the tenancy, then the compliance provisions of this section do not apply and the landlord may proceed directly to an unlawful detainer action in accordance with chapter 59.12 RCW, and a landlord may commence such an action at any time after written notice under chapter 59.12 RCW.

(5) If an act of domestic violence against another tenant or household member is alleged to be the basis for termination of tenancy under RCW 59.18.130(10), and if the tenant is arrested for the act of domestic violence and the victim of the domestic violence agrees to the eviction, the compliance provisions of this section do not apply and the landlord may proceed directly to an unlawful detainer action to evict the tenant arrested for the act of domestic violence.

(6) A landlord may not be held liable in any cause of action for bringing an unlawful detainer action against a tenant for drug-related activity, for creating an imminent hazard to the physical safety of others, for committing an act of domestic violence, or for engaging in gang-related activity that renders people in at least two or more dwelling units or residences insecure in life or the use of property or that injures or endangers the safety or health of people in at least two or more dwelling units or residences under this section, if the unlawful detainer action was brought in good faith. Nothing in this section shall affect a landlord's liability under RCW 59.18.380 to pay all damages sustained by the tenant should the writ of restitution be wrongfully sued out."

The public four-year institutions may aggregate minor works project requests into priority categories without separately ranking each minor project, provided that these aggregated minor works requests are ranked within the overall list. For repairs and improvements to existing facilities and systems, the rating and ranking of individual projects must be based on criteria or factors that include, but are not limited to, the age and condition of buildings or systems, the programmatic suitability of the building or system, and the activity/occupancy level supported by the building or system. For projects creating new space or capacity, the ratings and rankings of projects must be based upon criteria or factors that include, but are not limited to, measuring existing capacity and progress toward meeting increased space utilization levels as determined by the higher education coordinating board.

(2) The single prioritized four-year project list shall be approved by the governing boards of each public four-year institution and shall be submitted to the office of financial management and the higher education coordinating board concurrent with the institution's submittal of their biennial capital budget requests.

(3)(a) The higher education coordinating board, in consultation with the office of financial management and the joint legislative audit and review committee, shall develop common definitions that public four-year institutions and the state board for community and technical colleges shall use in developing their project lists under this section.

(b) As part of its duties under RCW 28B.80.330(4), the higher education coordinating board shall, as part of its biennial budget guidelines, disseminate, by December 1st of each odd-numbered year, the criteria framework, including general definitions, categories, and rating system, to be used by the public four-year institutions in the development of the prioritized four-year project list. The criteria framework shall specify the general priority order of project types based on criteria determined by the board, in consultation with the public four-year institutions.

If the lands are not sold at public auction, the department may, with approval of the board of natural resources, market the lands through persons licensed under chapter 18.85 RCW or through other commercially feasible means at a price not lower than the land's appraised value and pay necessary marketing costs from the sale proceeds. When so offered, the payment required by the recipient agency shall not exceed the costs incurred by the department in managing and protecting the land since receipt by the state.

(3) The department may review lands acquired by escheat since January 1, 1983, for their suitability for park purposes, and apply the evaluation and transfer procedures authorized by subsection (2) of this section.

(4)(a) Any land that is acquired by the state between the effective date of this act and June 30, 2004, either by gift, escheat, devise, or grant, that is not conveyed for a particular purpose, may be held by the department separate from any existing land trusts.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) By December 1, 2003, the superintendent of public instruction, after consultation with parents, teachers, principals, and other interested parties, shall report to the governor, the state board of education, and the house of representatives and senate education committees with one or more recommendations on the design, administration, scoring, and reporting of assessments for social studies, the arts, and health and fitness.

(2) By May 1, 2004, the superintendent of public instruction shall report to the governor, the state board of education, and the house of representatives and senate education committees on:

(a) The review, prioritization, and identification of the essential academic learning requirements and grade level content expectations; and

(b) Subject to available funding, the results of independent research on the alignment and technical review of the reading, writing, and science content areas of the Washington assessment of student learning for fourth and seventh grades and for high school. The review shall be comparable to the research conducted on the mathematics assessments.

(3) By November 30, 2004, the superintendent of public instruction shall report to the governor, the state board of education, and the house of representatives and senate education committees on the feasibility of returning the results of the Washington assessment of student learning, including individual student performance information, to schools, teachers, and parents in the same school year in which the assessment is administered.

(4) By November 30, 2006, subject to available funding, the academic achievement and accountability commission shall report to the governor, the superintendent of public instruction, the state board of education, and the house of representatives and senate education committees on the results of its review of the cut scores needed to meet all grade level content standards on the Washington assessment of student learning. In its report, the commission shall include a schedule for the regular review and adjustment of the cut scores.

Sec. 2. RCW 28A.655.070 and 1999 c 388 s 501 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The superintendent of public instruction shall identify the knowledge and skills all public school students need to know and be able to do based on the student learning goals in RCW 28A.150.210, develop student assessments, and implement the accountability recommendations and requests regarding assistance, rewards, and recognition of the academic achievement and accountability commission.

(2) The superintendent of public instruction shall:

(a) Periodically revise the essential academic learning requirements, as needed, based on the student learning goals in RCW 28A.150.210. Goals one and two shall be considered primary. To the maximum extent possible, the superintendent shall integrate goal four and the knowledge and skill areas in the other goals in the essential academic learning requirements; and

(b) Review and prioritize the essential academic learning requirements and identify, with clear and concise descriptions, the grade level content expectations to be assessed on the Washington assessment of student learning and used for state or federal accountability purposes. The review, prioritization, and identification shall result in more focus and targeting with an emphasis on depth over breadth in the number of grade level content expectations assessed at each grade level. Grade level content expectations shall be articulated over the grades as a sequence of expectations and performances that are logical, build with increasing depth after foundational knowledge and skills are acquired, and reflect, where appropriate, the sequential nature of the discipline.

(3) In consultation with the academic achievement and accountability commission, the superintendent of public instruction shall maintain and continue to develop and revise a statewide academic assessment system for use in the elementary, middle, and high school years designed to determine if each student has mastered the essential academic learning requirements identified in subsection (1) of this section. The academic assessment system shall include a variety of assessment methods, including criterion-referenced and performance-based measures.

(4) The assessment system shall be designed so that the results under the assessment system are used by educators as tools to evaluate instructional practices, and to initiate appropriate educational support for students who have not mastered the essential academic learning requirements at the appropriate periods in the student's educational development.

(a) By September 2006, the results for reading and mathematics shall be reported in a format that will allow parents and teachers to determine the academic gain a student has acquired in those content areas from one school year to the next; and

(b) In order to assist parents and teachers in their efforts to provide educational support to individual students, including students seeking a certificate of academic proficiency, the superintendent of public instruction shall provide as much individual student performance information as possible within the constraints of the assessment system's item bank. The superintendent shall also provide to school districts information on classroom-based and other assessments that may provide additional achievement information for individual students.

(5) To the maximum extent possible, the superintendent shall integrate knowledge and skill areas in development of the assessments.

(6) Assessments for goals three and four of RCW 28A.150.210 shall be integrated in the essential academic learning requirements and assessments for goals one and two.

(7) The superintendent shall develop assessments that are directly related to the essential academic learning requirements, and are not biased toward persons with different learning styles, racial or ethnic backgrounds, or on the basis of gender.

(8) The superintendent shall consider methods to address the unique needs of special education students when developing the assessments under this section.

(9) The superintendent shall consider methods to address the unique needs of highly capable students when developing the assessments under this section.

Sec. 3. RCW 28A.655.090 and 1999 c 388 s 301 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) By September 10, 1998, and by September 10th each year thereafter, the superintendent of public instruction shall report to schools, school districts, and the legislature on the results of the Washington assessment of student learning and state-mandated norm-referenced standardized tests. By 2005, the superintendent shall report the results only of those students whose enrollment in the district is continuous and uninterrupted from October 1st through the testing period, to the extent that the reporting period is permitted by federal law.

(2) The reports shall include the assessment results by school and school district, and include changes over time. For the Washington assessment of student learning, results shall be reported as follows:

(a) The percentage of students meeting the standards;

(b) The percentage of students performing at each level of the assessment; and

(c) A learning improvement index that shows changes in student performance within the different levels of student learning reported on the Washington assessment of student learning.

(3) The reports shall contain data regarding the different characteristics of schools, such as poverty levels, percent of English as a second language students, dropout rates, attendance, percent of students in special education, and student mobility so that districts and schools can learn from the improvement efforts of other schools and districts with similar characteristics.

(4) The reports shall contain student scores on mandated tests by comparable Washington schools of similar characteristics.

(5) The reports shall contain information on public school choice options available to students, including vocational education.

(6) The reports shall be posted on the superintendent of public instruction's internet web site.

(7) To protect the privacy of students, the results of schools and districts that test fewer than ten students in a grade level shall not be reported. In addition, in order to ensure that results are reported accurately, the superintendent of public instruction shall maintain the confidentiality of statewide data files until the superintendent determines that the data are complete and accurate.

(8) The superintendent of public instruction shall monitor the percentage and number of special education and limited English- proficient students exempted from taking the assessments by schools and school districts to ensure the exemptions are in compliance with exemption guidelines."

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that the shoreline management act and the shoreline master program guidelines implementing the policy of the shoreline management act are vital to the protection and preservation of Washington's shorelines. The legislature recognizes that in November 2000, the department of ecology comprehensively updated the guidelines for the first time since 1972. The legislature also recognizes that these guidelines were challenged and subsequently invalidated by the shoreline hearings board. The legislature finds that the mediation occurring among a wide range of parties resulted in an agreement for development of new shoreline master program guidelines for the state.

(2) The legislature recognizes that the process of developing and amending shoreline master programs requires substantial effort and coordination by local governments. To assist local governments in completing this process, the legislature intends to establish a staggered schedule for cities and counties to develop and amend master programs consistent with existing timelines for reviews and amendments of comprehensive plans and development regulations. The legislature also recognizes that several local governments have volunteered to comply with the provisions of this act before the newly established schedule and intends to reflect this in the schedule that is established by RCW 90.58.080.

(3) The legislature also intends to provide reasonable and adequate funding for grants to local governments to accomplish the task of reviewing and revising their shoreline master programs. If the legislature in the future does not provide funding in any one biennium sufficient for reasonable and adequate grant funds, the legislature acknowledges that this may result in delaying the compliance date until the following biennium.

Sec. 2. RCW 90.58.060 and 1995 c 347 s 304 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall periodically review and adopt guidelines consistent with RCW 90.58.020, containing the elements specified in RCW 90.58.100 for:

- (a) Development of master programs for regulation of the uses of shorelines; and
- (b) Development of master programs for regulation of the uses of shorelines of statewide significance.

(2) Before adopting or amending guidelines under this section, the department shall provide an opportunity for public review and comment as follows:

(a) The department shall mail copies of the proposal to all cities, counties, and federally recognized Indian tribes, and to any other person who has requested a copy, and shall publish the proposed guidelines in the Washington state register. Comments shall be submitted in writing to the department within sixty days from the date the proposal has been published in the register.

(b) The department shall hold at least four public hearings on the proposal in different locations throughout the state to provide a reasonable opportunity for residents in all parts of the state to present statements and views on the proposed guidelines. Notice of the hearings shall be published at least once in each of the three weeks immediately preceding the hearing in one or more newspapers of general circulation in each county of the state. If an amendment to the guidelines addresses an issue limited to one geographic area, the number and location of hearings may be adjusted consistent with the intent of this subsection to assure all parties a reasonable opportunity to comment on the proposed amendment. The department shall accept written comments on the proposal during the sixty-day public comment period and for seven days after the final public hearing.

(c) At the conclusion of the public comment period, the department shall review the comments received and modify the proposal consistent with the provisions of this chapter. The proposal shall then be published for adoption pursuant to the provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW.

(3) The department may (~~propose~~) adopt amendments to the guidelines not more than once each year. Such amendments shall be limited to: (a) addressing technical or procedural issues that result from the review and adoption of master programs under the guidelines; or (b) issues of guideline compliance with statutory provisions. ((At least once every five years)) Beginning July 1, 2015, and every seven years thereafter, the department shall conduct a review of the guidelines pursuant to the procedures outlined in subsection (2) of this section."

Any jurisdiction listed in subsection (2)(a)(i) of this section that has a new or amended master program approved by the department on or after March 1, 2002, but before the effective date of this section, shall not be required to complete master program amendments until seven years after the applicable date provided by subsection (2)(a)(iii) of this section.

(b) Following approval by the department of a new or amended master program, local governments choosing to develop or amend master programs on or before December 1, 2009, shall be deemed to have complied with the schedule established by subsections (2)(a)(iii) through (vi) of this section and shall not be required to complete master program amendments until seven years after the applicable dates established by subsections (2)(a)(iii) through (vi) of this section.

(4) Local governments shall conduct a comprehensive review of their master programs at least once every seven years after the applicable dates established by subsections (2)(a)(iii) through (vi) of this section. Following the review required by this subsection (4), local governments shall, as necessary, revise their master programs. The purpose of the review and revision is:

(a) To assure that the master program complies with applicable law and guidelines in effect at the time of the review; and

(b) To assure consistency of the master program with the local government's comprehensive plan and development regulations adopted under chapter RCW 36.70A RCW, if applicable, and other local requirements.

(5) Local governments are encouraged to begin the process of developing or amending their master programs early and are eligible for grants from the department as provided by RCW 90.58.250, subject to available funding. Except for those local governments listed in subsections (2)(a)(i) and (ii) of this section, the deadline for completion of the new or amended master programs shall be two years after the date the grant is approved by the department. Subsequent master program review dates shall not be altered by the provisions of this subsection.

(6)(a) Grants to local governments for developing and amending master programs pursuant to the schedule established by this section shall be provided at least two years before the adoption dates specified in subsection (2) of this section. To the extent possible, the department shall allocate grants within the amount appropriated for such purposes to provide reasonable and adequate funding to local governments that have indicated their intent to develop or amend master programs during the biennium according to the schedule established by subsection (2) of this section. Any local government that applies for but does not receive funding to comply with the provisions of subsection (2) of this section may delay the development or amendment of its master program until the following biennium.

(b) Local governments with delayed compliance dates as provided in subsection (6)(a) of this section shall be the first priority for funding in subsequent biennia, and the development or amendment compliance deadline for those local governments shall be two years after the date of grant approval.

(c) Failure of the local government to apply in a timely manner for a master program development or amendment grant in accordance with the requirements of the department shall not be considered a delay resulting from the provisions of subsection (6)(a) of this section.

(7) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, all local governments subject to the requirements of this chapter that have not developed or amended master programs on or after March 1, 2002, shall, no later than December 1, 2014, develop or amend their master programs to comply with guidelines adopted by the department after January 1, 2003"

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1933 was read the second time.

Representative Schindler moved the adoption of amendment (249):

On page 2, after line 9, insert the following:

"Sec. 2. RCW 90.58.020 and 1995 c 347 s 301 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that the shorelines of the state are among the most valuable and fragile of its natural resources and that there is great concern throughout the state relating to their utilization, protection, restoration, and preservation. In addition it finds that ever increasing pressures of additional uses are being placed on the shorelines necessitating increased coordination in the management and development of the shorelines of the state. The legislature further finds that much of the shorelines of the state and the uplands adjacent thereto are in private ownership; that unrestricted construction on the privately owned or publicly owned shorelines of the state is not in the best public interest; and therefore, coordinated planning is necessary in order to protect the public interest associated with the shorelines of the state while, at the same time, recognizing and protecting private property rights consistent with the public interest. There is, therefore, a clear and urgent demand for a planned, rational, and concerted effort, jointly performed by federal, state, and local governments, to prevent the inherent harm in an uncoordinated and piecemeal development of the state's shorelines.

It is the policy of the state to provide for the management of the shorelines of the state by planning for and fostering all reasonable and appropriate uses. This policy is designed to insure the development of these shorelines in a manner which, while allowing for limited reduction of rights of the public in the navigable waters, will promote and enhance the public interest. The public interest and the statewide interest include the development of water-dependent publicly owned facilities and other facilities necessary for water-dependent economic development. This policy contemplates protecting against adverse effects to the public health, the land and its vegetation and wildlife, and the waters of the state and their aquatic life, while protecting generally public rights of navigation and corollary rights incidental thereto.

The legislature declares that the interest of all of the people shall be paramount in the management of shorelines of statewide significance. The department, in adopting guidelines for shorelines of statewide significance, and local government, in developing master programs for shorelines of statewide significance, shall give preference to uses in the following order of preference which:

- (1) Recognize and protect the statewide interest over local interest;
- (2) Preserve the natural character of the shoreline;
- (3) Result in long term over short term benefit;
- (4) Protect the resources and ecology of the shoreline;
- (5) Increase public access to publicly owned areas of the shorelines;
- (6) Increase recreational opportunities for the public in the shoreline;
- (7) Provide for any other element as defined in RCW 90.58.100 deemed appropriate or necessary.

In the implementation of this policy the public's opportunity to enjoy the physical and aesthetic qualities of natural shorelines of the state shall be preserved to the greatest extent feasible consistent with the overall best interest of the state and the people generally. To this end uses shall be preferred which are consistent with control of pollution and prevention of damage to the natural environment, or are unique to or dependent upon use of the state's shoreline. Alterations of the natural condition of the shorelines of the state, in those limited instances when authorized, shall be given priority for single family residences and their appurtenant structures, ports, shoreline recreational uses including but not limited to parks, marinas, piers, and other improvements facilitating public access to shorelines of the state, industrial and commercial developments which are particularly dependent on their location on or use of the shorelines of the state and other development that will provide an opportunity for substantial numbers of the people to enjoy the shorelines of the state. Alterations of the natural condition of the shorelines and shorelands of the state shall be recognized by the department. Shorelines and shorelands of the state shall be appropriately classified and these classifications shall be revised when circumstances warrant regardless of whether the change in circumstances occurs through man-made causes or natural causes. Any areas resulting from alterations of the natural condition of the shorelines and shorelands of the state no longer meeting the definition of "shorelines of the state" shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter 90.58 RCW.

Permitted uses in the shorelines of the state shall be designed and conducted in a manner to minimize, insofar as practical, any resultant damage to the ecology and environment of the shoreline area and any interference with the public's use of the water.

Sec. 3. RCW 36.70A.480 and 1995 c 347 s 104 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For shorelines of the state, the goals and policies of the shoreline management act as set forth in RCW 90.58.020 are added as one of the goals of this chapter as set forth in RCW 36.70A.020. This addition shall not be interpreted to create a priority among the listed goals in RCW 36.70A.020. The goals and policies of a shoreline master program for a county or city approved under chapter 90.58 RCW shall be considered an element of the county or city's comprehensive plan. All other portions of the shoreline master program for a county or city adopted under chapter 90.58 RCW, including use regulations, shall be considered a part of the county or city's development regulations.

(2) The shoreline master program shall be adopted pursuant to the procedures of chapter 90.58 RCW rather than the goals, policies, and procedures set forth in this chapter for the adoption of a comprehensive plan or development regulations.

(3) As long as a shoreline master program has been approved by the department of ecology, a growth management hearings board reviewing a comprehensive plan or development regulation under RCW 36.70A.280 shall determine that the master program complies with the requirements of this chapter.

(4) Shorelines of the state may contain critical areas as defined in RCW 36.70A.030(5), but shall not be designated as critical areas under RCW 36.70A.170 based on their being either shorelines of the state or shorelines of statewide significance.

Sec. 4. RCW 36.70A.280 and 1996 c 325 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A growth management hearings board shall hear and determine only those petitions alleging either:

(a) That a state agency, county, or city planning under this chapter is not in compliance with the requirements of this chapter, (~~chapter 90.58 RCW as it relates to the adoption of shoreline master programs or amendments thereto,~~) or chapter 43.21C RCW as it relates to plans, development regulations, or amendments, adopted under RCW 36.70A.040 (~~or chapter 90.58 RCW~~); or

(b) That the twenty-year growth management planning population projections adopted by the office of financial management pursuant to RCW 43.62.035 should be adjusted.

(2) A petition may be filed only by: (a) The state, or a county or city that plans under this chapter; (b) a person who has participated orally or in writing before the county or city regarding the matter on which a review is being requested; (c) a person who is certified by the governor within sixty days of filing the request with the board; or (d) a person qualified pursuant to RCW 34.05.530.

(3) For purposes of this section "person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, state agency, governmental subdivision or unit thereof, or public or private organization or entity of any character.

(4) When considering a possible adjustment to a growth management planning population projection prepared by the office of financial management, a board shall consider the implications of any such adjustment to the population forecast for the entire state.

The rationale for any adjustment that is adopted by a board must be documented and filed with the office of financial management within ten working days after adoption.

If adjusted by a board, a county growth management planning population projection shall only be used for the planning purposes set forth in this chapter and shall be known as a "board adjusted population projection". None of these changes shall affect the official state and county population forecasts prepared by the office of financial management, which shall continue to be used for state budget and planning purposes.

(5) So long as a shoreline master program has been approved by the department of ecology, a growth management hearings board reviewing a comprehensive plan or development regulation under this section shall determine that the master program complies with the requirements of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. This act shall apply to all shoreline master programs or amendments to shoreline master programs adopted after January 1, 2001."

Correct the title.

Representative Schindler spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

Representative Berkey spoke against the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was not adopted.

Representative Berkey moved the adoption of amendment (242):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that the final decision and order in Everett Shorelines Coalition v. City of Everett and Washington State Department Of Ecology, Case No. 02-3-0009c, issued on January 9, 2003, by the central Puget Sound growth management hearings board was a case of first impression interpreting the addition of the shoreline management act into the growth management act, and that the board considered the appeal and issued its final order and decision without the benefit of shorelines guidelines to provide guidance on the implementation of the shoreline management act and the adoption of shoreline master programs. The legislature further finds that the department of ecology has proposed the adoption of new shoreline guidelines to provide guidance to state agencies and local governments in the implementation of the shoreline management act.

(2) This act is intended to affirm the legislature's intent that:

(a) The shoreline management act be read, interpreted, applied, and implemented as a whole consistent with decisions of the shoreline hearings board and Washington courts prior to the decision of the central Puget Sound growth management hearings board in Everett Shorelines Coalition v. City of Everett and Washington State Department of Ecology;

(b) The goals of the growth management act, including the goals and policies of the shoreline management act, set forth in RCW 36.70A.020 and included in RCW 36.70A.020 by RCW 36.70A.480, continue to be listed without an order of priority; and

(c) Shorelines of statewide significance may include critical areas as defined by RCW 36.70A.030(5), but that shorelines of statewide significance are not critical areas simply because they are shorelines of statewide significance.

(3) The legislature intends that upon adoption of revised shorelines guidelines after January 1, 2003, critical areas within the jurisdiction of the shoreline management act shall be governed by the shoreline management act and that critical areas outside the jurisdiction of the shoreline management act shall be governed by the growth management act. The legislature further intends that the quality of information currently required by the shoreline management act to be applied to the protection of critical areas within shorelines of the state shall not be limited or changed by the provisions of the growth management act.

Sec. 2. RCW 90.58.030 and 2002 c 230 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the following definitions and concepts apply:

(1) Administration:

(a) "Department" means the department of ecology;

(b) "Director" means the director of the department of ecology;

(c) "Local government" means any county, incorporated city, or town which contains within its boundaries any lands or waters subject to this chapter;

(d) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, organization, cooperative, public or municipal corporation, or agency of the state or local governmental unit however designated;

(e) "Hearing board" means the shoreline hearings board established by this chapter.

(2) Geographical:

(a) "Extreme low tide" means the lowest line on the land reached by a receding tide;

(b) "Ordinary high water mark" on all lakes, streams, and tidal water is that mark that will be found by examining the bed and banks and ascertaining where the presence and action of waters are so common and usual, and so long continued in all ordinary years, as to mark upon the soil a character distinct from that of the abutting upland, in respect to vegetation as that condition exists on June 1, 1971, as it may naturally change thereafter, or as it may change thereafter in accordance with permits issued by a local government or the department:

PROVIDED, That in any area where the ordinary high water mark cannot be found, the ordinary high water mark adjoining salt water shall be the line of mean higher high tide and the ordinary high water mark adjoining fresh water shall be the line of mean high water;

(c) "Shorelines of the state" are the total of all "shorelines" and "shorelines of statewide significance" within the state;

(d) "Shorelines" means all of the water areas of the state, including reservoirs, and their associated shorelands, together with the lands underlying them; except (i) shorelines of statewide significance; (ii) shorelines on segments of streams upstream of a point where the mean annual flow is twenty cubic feet per second or less and the wetlands associated with such upstream segments; and (iii) shorelines on lakes less than twenty acres in size and wetlands associated with such small lakes;

(e) "Shorelines of statewide significance" means the following shorelines of the state:

(i) The area between the ordinary high water mark and the western boundary of the state from Cape Disappointment on the south to Cape Flattery on the north, including harbors, bays, estuaries, and inlets;

(ii) Those areas of Puget Sound and adjacent salt waters and the Strait of Juan de Fuca between the ordinary high water mark and the line of extreme low tide as follows:

(A) Nisqually Delta--from DeWolf Bight to Tatsolo Point,

(B) Birch Bay--from Point Whitehorn to Birch Point,

(C) Hood Canal--from Tala Point to Foulweather Bluff,

- (D) Skagit Bay and adjacent area--from Brown Point to Yokeko Point, and
- (E) Padilla Bay--from March Point to William Point;
- (iii) Those areas of Puget Sound and the Strait of Juan de Fuca and adjacent salt waters north to the Canadian line and lying seaward from the line of extreme low tide;
  - (iv) Those lakes, whether natural, artificial, or a combination thereof, with a surface acreage of one thousand acres or more measured at the ordinary high water mark;
  - (v) Those natural rivers or segments thereof as follows:
    - (A) Any west of the crest of the Cascade range downstream of a point where the mean annual flow is measured at one thousand cubic feet per second or more,
    - (B) Any east of the crest of the Cascade range downstream of a point where the annual flow is measured at two hundred cubic feet per second or more, or those portions of rivers east of the crest of the Cascade range downstream from the first three hundred square miles of drainage area, whichever is longer;
  - (vi) Those shorelands associated with (i), (ii), (iv), and (v) of this subsection (2)(e);
  - (f) "Shorelands" or "shoreland areas" means those lands extending landward for two hundred feet in all directions as measured on a horizontal plane from the ordinary high water mark; floodways and contiguous floodplain areas landward two hundred feet from such floodways; and all wetlands and river deltas associated with the streams, lakes, and tidal waters which are subject to the provisions of this chapter; the same to be designated as to location by the department of ecology. Any county or city may determine that portion of a one-hundred-year-flood plain to be included in its master program as long as such portion includes, as a minimum, the floodway and the adjacent land extending landward two hundred feet therefrom. Shorelands shall also include any additional lands necessary for buffers required by shoreline master programs for critical areas within shorelines of the state;
  - (g) "Floodway" means those portions of the area of a river valley lying streamward from the outer limits of a watercourse upon which flood waters are carried during periods of flooding that occur with reasonable regularity, although not necessarily annually, said floodway being identified, under normal condition, by changes in surface soil conditions or changes in types or quality of vegetative ground cover condition. The floodway shall not include those lands that can reasonably be expected to be protected from flood waters by flood control devices maintained by or maintained under license from the federal government, the state, or a political subdivision of the state;
  - (h) "Wetlands" means areas that are inundated or saturated by surface water or ground water at a frequency and duration sufficient to support, and that under normal circumstances do support, a prevalence of vegetation typically adapted for life in saturated soil conditions. Wetlands generally include swamps, marshes, bogs, and similar areas. Wetlands do not include those artificial wetlands intentionally created from nonwetland sites, including, but not limited to, irrigation and drainage ditches, grass-lined swales, canals, detention facilities, wastewater treatment facilities, farm ponds, and landscape amenities, or those wetlands created after July 1, 1990, that were unintentionally created as a result of the construction of a road, street, or highway. Wetlands may include those artificial wetlands intentionally created from nonwetland areas to mitigate the conversion of wetlands.
- (3) Procedural terms:
  - (a) "Guidelines" means those standards adopted to implement the policy of this chapter for regulation of use of the shorelines of the state prior to adoption of master programs. Such standards shall also provide criteria to local governments and the department in developing master programs;
  - (b) "Master program" shall mean the comprehensive use plan for a described area, and the use regulations together with maps, diagrams, charts, or other descriptive material and text, a statement of desired goals, and standards developed in accordance with the policies enunciated in RCW 90.58.020;
  - (c) "State master program" is the cumulative total of all master programs approved or adopted by the department of ecology;
  - (d) "Development" means a use consisting of the construction or exterior alteration of structures; dredging; drilling; dumping; filling; removal of any sand, gravel, or minerals; bulkheading; driving of piling; placing of obstructions; or any project of a permanent or temporary nature which interferes with the normal public use of the surface of the waters overlying lands subject to this chapter at any state of water level;
  - (e) "Substantial development" shall mean any development of which the total cost or fair market value exceeds five thousand dollars, or any development which materially interferes with the normal public use of the water or shorelines of the state. The dollar threshold established in this subsection (3)(e) must be adjusted for inflation by the office of financial management every five years, beginning July 1, 2007, based upon changes in the consumer price index during that time period. "Consumer price index" means, for any calendar year, that year's annual average consumer price index, Seattle, Washington area, for urban wage earners and clerical workers, all items, compiled by the bureau of labor and statistics, United States department of labor. The office of financial management must calculate the new dollar threshold and transmit it to the office of the code reviser for publication in the Washington State Register at least one month before the new dollar threshold is to take effect. The following shall not be considered substantial developments for the purpose of this chapter:
    - (i) Normal maintenance or repair of existing structures or developments, including damage by accident, fire, or elements;

- (ii) Construction of the normal protective bulkhead common to single family residences;
- (iii) Emergency construction necessary to protect property from damage by the elements;
- (iv) Construction and practices normal or necessary for farming, irrigation, and ranching activities, including agricultural service roads and utilities on shorelands, and the construction and maintenance of irrigation structures including but not limited to head gates, pumping facilities, and irrigation channels. A feedlot of any size, all processing plants, other activities of a commercial nature, alteration of the contour of the shorelands by leveling or filling other than that which results from normal cultivation, shall not be considered normal or necessary farming or ranching activities. A feedlot shall be an enclosure or facility used or capable of being used for feeding livestock hay, grain, silage, or other livestock feed, but shall not include land for growing crops or vegetation for livestock feeding and/or grazing, nor shall it include normal livestock wintering operations;
- (v) Construction or modification of navigational aids such as channel markers and anchor buoys;
- (vi) Construction on shorelands by an owner, lessee, or contract purchaser of a single family residence for his own use or for the use of his or her family, which residence does not exceed a height of thirty-five feet above average grade level and which meets all requirements of the state agency or local government having jurisdiction thereof, other than requirements imposed pursuant to this chapter;
- (vii) Construction of a dock, including a community dock, designed for pleasure craft only, for the private noncommercial use of the owner, lessee, or contract purchaser of single and multiple family residences. This exception applies if either: (A) In salt waters, the fair market value of the dock does not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars; or (B) in fresh waters, the fair market value of the dock does not exceed ten thousand dollars, but if subsequent construction having a fair market value exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars occurs within five years of completion of the prior construction, the subsequent construction shall be considered a substantial development for the purpose of this chapter;
- (viii) Operation, maintenance, or construction of canals, waterways, drains, reservoirs, or other facilities that now exist or are hereafter created or developed as a part of an irrigation system for the primary purpose of making use of system waters, including return flow and artificially stored ground water for the irrigation of lands;
- (ix) The marking of property lines or corners on state owned lands, when such marking does not significantly interfere with normal public use of the surface of the water;
- (x) Operation and maintenance of any system of dikes, ditches, drains, or other facilities existing on September 8, 1975, which were created, developed, or utilized primarily as a part of an agricultural drainage or diking system;
- (xi) Site exploration and investigation activities that are prerequisite to preparation of an application for development authorization under this chapter, if:
  - (A) The activity does not interfere with the normal public use of the surface waters;
  - (B) The activity will have no significant adverse impact on the environment including, but not limited to, fish, wildlife, fish or wildlife habitat, water quality, and aesthetic values;
  - (C) The activity does not involve the installation of a structure, and upon completion of the activity the vegetation and land configuration of the site are restored to conditions existing before the activity;
  - (D) A private entity seeking development authorization under this section first posts a performance bond or provides other evidence of financial responsibility to the local jurisdiction to ensure that the site is restored to preexisting conditions; and
  - (E) The activity is not subject to the permit requirements of RCW 90.58.550;
- (xii) The process of removing or controlling an aquatic noxious weed, as defined in RCW 17.26.020, through the use of an herbicide or other treatment methods applicable to weed control that are recommended by a final environmental impact statement published by the department of agriculture or the department jointly with other state agencies under chapter 43.21C RCW.

Sec. 3. RCW 90.58.090 and 1997 c 429 s 50 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) A master program, segment of a master program, or an amendment to a master program shall become effective when approved by the department. Within the time period provided in RCW 90.58.080, each local government shall have submitted a master program, either totally or by segments, for all shorelines of the state within its jurisdiction to the department for review and approval.
- (2) Upon receipt of a proposed master program or amendment, the department shall:
  - (a) Provide notice to and opportunity for written comment by all interested parties of record as a part of the local government review process for the proposal and to all persons, groups, and agencies that have requested in writing notice of proposed master programs or amendments generally or for a specific area, subject matter, or issue. The comment period shall be at least thirty days, unless the department determines that the level of complexity or controversy involved supports a shorter period;
  - (b) In the department's discretion, conduct a public hearing during the thirty-day comment period in the jurisdiction proposing the master program or amendment;
  - (c) Within fifteen days after the close of public comment, request the local government to review the issues identified by the public, interested parties, groups, and agencies and provide a written response as to how the proposal addresses the identified issues;

(d) Within thirty days after receipt of the local government response pursuant to (c) of this subsection, make written findings and conclusions regarding the consistency of the proposal with the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines, provide a response to the issues identified in (c) of this subsection, and either approve the proposal as submitted, recommend specific changes necessary to make the proposal approvable, or deny approval of the proposal in those instances where no alteration of the proposal appears likely to be consistent with the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines. The written findings and conclusions shall be provided to the local government, all interested persons, parties, groups, and agencies of record on the proposal;

(e) If the department recommends changes to the proposed master program or amendment, within thirty days after the department mails the written findings and conclusions to the local government, the local government may:

(i) Agree to the proposed changes. The receipt by the department of the written notice of agreement constitutes final action by the department approving the amendment; or

(ii) Submit an alternative proposal. If, in the opinion of the department, the alternative is consistent with the purpose and intent of the changes originally submitted by the department and with this chapter it shall approve the changes and provide written notice to all recipients of the written findings and conclusions. If the department determines the proposal is not consistent with the purpose and intent of the changes proposed by the department, the department may resubmit the proposal for public and agency review pursuant to this section or reject the proposal.

(3) The department shall approve the segment of a master program relating to shorelines unless it determines that the submitted segments are not consistent with the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines.

(4) The department shall approve the segment of a master program relating to critical areas as defined by RCW 36.70A.030(5) provided the master program segment is consistent with shoreline guidelines revised and adopted after January 1, 2003, and if that segment provides a level of protection of critical areas at least equal to that provided by the local government's critical areas ordinances adopted and thereafter amended pursuant to RCW 36.70A.060(2).

(5) The department shall approve those segments of the master program relating to shorelines of statewide significance only after determining the program provides the optimum implementation of the policy of this chapter to satisfy the statewide interest. If the department does not approve a segment of a local government master program relating to a shoreline of statewide significance, the department may develop and by rule adopt an alternative to the local government's proposal.

~~((5))~~ (6) In the event a local government has not complied with the requirements of RCW 90.58.070 it may thereafter upon written notice to the department elect to adopt a master program for the shorelines within its jurisdiction, in which event it shall comply with the provisions established by this chapter for the adoption of a master program for such shorelines.

Upon approval of such master program by the department it shall supersede such master program as may have been adopted by the department for such shorelines.

~~((6))~~ (7) A master program or amendment to a master program takes effect when and in such form as approved or adopted by the department. Shoreline master programs that were adopted by the department prior to July 22, 1995, in accordance with the provisions of this section then in effect, shall be deemed approved by the department in accordance with the provisions of this section that became effective on that date. The department shall maintain a record of each master program, the action taken on any proposal for adoption or amendment of the master program, and any appeal of the department's action. The department's approved document of record constitutes the official master program.

Sec. 4. RCW 90.58.190 and 1995 c 347 s 311 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The appeal of the department's decision to adopt a master program or amendment pursuant to RCW 90.58.070(2) or 90.58.090~~((4))~~ (5) is governed by RCW 34.05.510 through 34.05.598.

(2)(a) The department's decision to approve, reject, or modify a proposed master program or amendment adopted by a local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall be appealed to the growth management hearings board with jurisdiction over the local government. The appeal shall be initiated by filing a petition as provided in RCW 36.70A.250 through 36.70A.320.

(b) If the appeal to the growth management hearings board concerns shorelines, the growth management hearings board shall review the proposed master program or amendment solely for compliance with the requirements of this chapter ~~((and chapter 36.70A RCW))~~, the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines, the internal consistency provisions of RCW 36.70A.070, 36.70A.040(4), 35.63.125, and 35A.63.105, and chapter 43.21C RCW as it relates to the adoption of master programs and amendments under chapter 90.58 RCW.

(c) If the appeal to the growth management hearings board concerns a shoreline of statewide significance, the board shall uphold the decision by the department unless the board, by clear and convincing evidence, determines that the decision of the department is inconsistent with the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines.

(d) The appellant has the burden of proof in all appeals to the growth management hearings board under this subsection.

(e) Any party aggrieved by a final decision of a growth management hearings board under this subsection may appeal the decision to superior court as provided in RCW 36.70A.300.

(3)(a) The department's decision to approve, reject, or modify a proposed master program or master program amendment by a local government not planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall be appealed to the shorelines hearings board by filing a petition within thirty days of the date of the department's written notice to the local government of the department's decision to approve, reject, or modify a proposed master program or master program amendment as provided in RCW 90.58.090(2).

(b) In an appeal relating to shorelines, the shorelines hearings board shall review the proposed master program or master program amendment and, after full consideration of the presentations of the local government and the department, shall determine the validity of the local government's master program or amendment in light of the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines.

(c) In an appeal relating to shorelines of statewide significance, the shorelines hearings board shall uphold the decision by the department unless the board determines, by clear and convincing evidence that the decision of the department is inconsistent with the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines.

(d) Review by the shorelines hearings board shall be considered an adjudicative proceeding under chapter 34.05 RCW, the Administrative Procedure Act. The aggrieved local government shall have the burden of proof in all such reviews.

(e) Whenever possible, the review by the shorelines hearings board shall be heard within the county where the land subject to the proposed master program or master program amendment is primarily located. The department and any local government aggrieved by a final decision of the hearings board may appeal the decision to superior court as provided in chapter 34.05 RCW.

(4) A master program amendment shall become effective after the approval of the department or after the decision of the shorelines hearings board to uphold the master program or master program amendment, provided that the board may remand the master program or master program adjustment to the local government or the department for modification prior to the final adoption of the master program or master program amendment.

Sec. 5. RCW 36.70A.480 and 1995 c 347 s 104 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For shorelines of the state, the goals and policies of the shoreline management act as set forth in RCW 90.58.020 are added as one of the goals of this chapter as set forth in RCW 36.70A.020 without creating an order of priority among the fourteen goals. The goals and policies of a shoreline master program for a county or city approved under chapter 90.58 RCW shall be considered an element of the county or city's comprehensive plan. All other portions of the shoreline master program for a county or city adopted under chapter 90.58 RCW, including use regulations, shall be considered a part of the county or city's development regulations.

(2) The shoreline master program shall be adopted pursuant to the procedures of chapter 90.58 RCW rather than the goals, policies, and procedures set forth in this chapter for the adoption of a comprehensive plan or development regulations.

(3) The policies, goals, and provisions of chapter 90.58 RCW and applicable guidelines shall be the sole basis for determining compliance of a shoreline master program with this chapter except as the shoreline master program is required to comply with the internal consistency provisions of RCW 36.70A.070, 36.70A.040(4), 35.63.125, and 35A.63.105.

(a) As of the date the department of ecology approves a local government's shoreline master program adopted under revised shoreline guidelines effective after January 1, 2003, the protection of critical areas as defined by RCW 36.70A.030(5) within shorelines of the state, including adjacent buffer zones, shall be accomplished only through the local government's shoreline master program and shall not be subject to the procedural and substantive requirements of this chapter.

(b) Critical areas within shorelines of the state that have been identified as meeting the definition of critical areas as defined by RCW 36.70A.030(5), and that are subject to a shoreline master program adopted under revised shoreline guidelines adopted after January 1, 2003, shall not be subject to the procedural and substantive requirements of this chapter, provided nothing in this act is intended to change the applicability of the provisions of this chapter to agricultural activities as defined by RCW 90.58.065.

(c) The provisions of RCW 36.70A.172 shall not apply to the adoption or subsequent amendment of a local government's shoreline master program and shall not be used to determine compliance of a local government's shoreline master program with chapter 90.58 RCW and applicable guidelines. Nothing in this section, however, is intended to limit or change the quality of information to be applied in protecting critical areas within shorelines of the state, as required by chapter 90.58 RCW and applicable guidelines.

(4) Shoreline master programs shall provide a level of protection to critical areas located within shorelines of the state that is at least equal to the level of protection provided to critical areas by the local government's critical area ordinances adopted and thereafter amended pursuant to RCW 36.70A.060(2).

(5) Shorelines of the state shall not be considered critical areas under this chapter except to the extent that specific areas located within shorelines of the state qualify for critical area designation based on the definition of critical areas provided by RCW 36.70A.030(5) and have been designated as such by a local government pursuant to RCW 36.70A.060(2)."

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "act;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 90.58.030, 90.58.090, 90.58.190, and 36.70A.480; and creating a new section."

(1) The authority shall coordinate state agency efforts to develop and implement uniform policies across state purchased health care programs that will ensure prudent, cost-effective health services purchasing, maximize efficiencies in administration of state purchased health care programs, improve the quality of care provided through state purchased health care programs, and reduce administrative burdens on health care providers participating in state purchased health care programs. The policies adopted should be based, to the extent possible, upon the best available scientific and medical evidence and shall endeavor to address:

(a) Methods of formal assessment, such as health technology assessment. Consideration of the best available scientific evidence does not preclude consideration of experimental or investigational treatment or services under a clinical investigation approved by an institutional review board;

(b) Monitoring of health outcomes, adverse events, quality, and cost-effectiveness of health services;

(c) Development of a common definition of medical necessity; and

(d) Exploration of common strategies for disease management and demand management programs.

(2) The administrator may invite health care provider organizations, carriers, other health care purchasers, and consumers to participate in efforts undertaken under this section.

(3) For the purposes of this section "best available scientific and medical evidence" means the best available external clinical evidence derived from systematic research.

With the consent of the House, amendment (229) was withdrawn.

Representative Morris moved the adoption of amendment (278):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The purpose of the Washington climate action registry is to assist entities that voluntarily choose to record their greenhouse gas emission inventories in order to gain recognition for emission reductions under any future federal regulatory regime and to trade emission credits. To that end, the Washington climate and rural energy development center may:

- (1) Provide technical and educational resources to registrants;
- (2) Publish basic definitions and protocols and identify organizations qualified to provide technical assistance to registrants;
- (3) Assist registrants, if requested by the registrant, to devise protocols, reporting formats, and verification procedures as may be sought by the registrant to ensure the credibility of the information recorded in the registry; and
- (4) Develop protocols for a specific economic sector that apply to all registrants in that sector if sectorwide protocols are requested by a registrant of that economic sector.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

- (1) "Center" means the Washington climate and rural energy development center established in RCW 28B.30.642.
- (2) "Direct emissions" are emissions from sources, sinks, and activities that an entity owns or has direct or effective control over, such as, but not limited to, on-site combustion and process equipment emissions.
- (3) "Emissions" means the net of release and absorption of greenhouse gases into or from the ambient air.
- (4) "Emissions inventory" means the report of emissions and normalized emissions for a calendar year.
- (5) "Entity" means a for-profit or a nonprofit corporation filing a separate federal income tax return, a city or county, each state government department and agency, and all political subdivisions of the state.
- (6) "Greenhouse gases" means those gaseous constituents of the atmosphere, both natural and anthropogenic, that absorb and emit radiation at wavelengths within the spectrum of infrared radiation emitted by the earth's surface, atmosphere, and clouds.
- (7) "Normalized emissions" means a ratio of emissions per unit time divided by a factor such as, but not limited to, revenues, expenditures, energy use, or production for the same time period and for the same scope as the emissions.
- (8) "Normalized emissions for electrical generation facilities" means a measurement of emissions based on pounds, or the metric equivalent of pounds, of emissions per megawatt hour.
- (9) "Primary greenhouse gas" means carbon dioxide, hydrofluorocarbons, methane, nitrous oxide, perfluorocarbons, and sulfur hexafluoride.
- (10) "Registrant" means an entity that has voluntarily filed with the registry information, notified the center that it intends to record emissions inventories, and has paid the necessary fees.
- (11) "Registry" means the Washington climate action registry.
- (12) "Scope" means the sources, sinks, and activities creating emissions designated by the center.

(13) "Subsidiary" means an entity effectively under the control of a parent entity, including but not limited to, public and private nonprofit and for-profit corporations, whose board of directors or similar managing authority is composed of a majority of persons appointed by either the legislative or executive authority, or both, of the parent entity. However, each department and independent agency of the state and each municipal electric utility may not be considered a subsidiary of a parent entity for the purpose of this chapter. "Subsidiary" includes entities that are joint ventures with other entities with emissions assigned to the parent entities according to mutual agreement or in the absence of an agreement in proportions determined by the protocols of the registry.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) The center may establish and maintain the registry to assist entities that voluntarily register emission inventories in receiving recognition under any future federal regulatory scheme relating to greenhouse gases and trading emissions credits. An entity operating in the state may voluntarily register with the center and use the services of the center.

(2) The center may: (a) Adopt protocols for defining the scope of emissions inventories, and for measuring, calculating, reporting, and verifying emissions, normalized emissions, and emission inventories; (b) adopt a uniform format for reporting emissions inventories; and (c) maintain a record of verified emissions inventories submitted by active registrants.

(3) The center may adopt procedures for delisting registrants and adopt fees to: (a) Recover any costs necessary to maintain the registry; (b) develop protocols for a specific economic sector under section 5 of this act; and (c) provide assistance to registrants.

(4) All records or other information furnished to the registry by a registrant remain the property of the registrant in perpetuity. Nothing in this chapter may be construed to affect in any way the right of privacy and confidentiality of a registrant's records or other information.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) A registrant that voluntarily reports its emission inventories with the center may report emissions for which it may seek recognition under any future regulatory scheme or for credit trading.

(2) Except as provided in section 5 of this act, registrants may:

(a) File with the registry as an entity and may report emission inventories for subsidiaries, individual facilities, or projects, as a subset of an entity's entire emissions inventory report. A registrant may separately report emissions inventories for subsidiaries, facilities, projects, or portions of the entity in other countries, and it may report emissions inventories for subsidiaries or individual facilities located in the state or report emissions inventory for its entire operations. A registrant's scope may include all activities, sources, and sinks in the state and may include the remainder of the entity in the United States. A registrant may report verified emissions inventories for sequential multiple years after January 1, 1990, from facilities or activities outside the entity for which it claims ownership of the net change in emissions;

(b) Record an emissions inventory by calendar year. Registrants that have sufficiently complete data for prior years that can be verified may record emissions inventories for consecutive years before the first year for which they report, but not before January 1, 1990;

(c) Separately identify within their annual emissions inventories any rights or ownership to emissions or emissions credits by year, that have been acquired from or transferred to: (i) Other entities located within or outside the state; or (ii) within the registrant entity, including its subsidiaries, to or from locations outside the state that would not otherwise be included in a registrant's report. An explanatory note may be included in the registry to prior years' data when there is a change in the procedures or protocols by which a registrant's emissions inventories are created. Registrants may record emissions inventories with separately identified adjustments to report any change in scope. Registrants may record verified revised emissions inventories for prior years to conform to current protocols or current scope. Where the scope of the registrant changes significantly during the year, the center may record with the registry for the year in which the scope change occurs an emissions inventory including only the scope of the prior year and shall add an explanatory note to the record;

(d) Identify and quantify any portion of the emissions inventory that is being reported to any other registry of greenhouse gas emissions, any differences between the reports, and the name and address of the other registry; and

(e) Hire, at their own expense, a third-party organization or person qualified under this chapter to independently verify and attest to the accuracy of the emission results reported by the registrant to the registry.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. If a registrant requests that protocols be developed for the specific economic sector in which the registrant files its emissions inventory, the center shall develop protocols for that specific economic sector. In developing the protocols, the center must take into consideration input from other potential registrants, public and private sector interests, and any source necessary to accomplish the goals of this chapter. Protocols must be developed for defining the scope of emissions inventories, and for measuring, calculating, reporting, and verifying emissions, normalized emissions, and emissions inventories for a specific economic sector. The center may register and record only those inventories of registrants that choose to record greenhouse gas emissions inventories using the protocols developed by the center under this section for a specific economic sector.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The center may develop a procedure for identifying and qualifying third-party organizations or persons who can provide registrants competent technical assistance and advice in any or all of the areas of verifying emission inventories, measuring, monitoring, and calculating greenhouse gas emissions, and identifying appropriate emissions reduction targets. The center may limit its recognition of the organization or person to specific areas of competency. The center may reopen the qualification process periodically to enable new organizations and persons to be added to the list.

(2) All records or other information furnished to or reviewed by a person under this section remain the property of the registrant in perpetuity. Nothing in this chapter may be construed to affect in any way the right of privacy and confidentiality of a registrant's records or other information.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. If a mandatory federal greenhouse gas emissions registry is enacted, the director of the center must report to the legislature as soon as practical on any conflicts with this chapter. The center shall certify the date on which a mandatory federal greenhouse gas registry becomes operational. As of the date certified by the center, the center may no longer accept emissions inventories for registration with the state greenhouse gas emissions registry.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Sections 1 through 7 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 43 RCW."

On page 1, line 7, beginning with "However," strike the remainder of the bill and insert the following:
"The legislature further recognizes that these preferences are a tool to recruit new job-providing businesses to our state and to retain current Washington state employers. Given the fact that some bordering states and many other states across the country offer a more business-friendly environment, the legislature finds that it would be in our best interest to have periodic performance audits of tax incentives offered by other states and to determine if similar incentives could be enacted in Washington in order to make us more competitive.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2 As used in this chapter, "tax preference" means an exemption, exclusion, or deduction from the base of a state tax; a credit against a state tax; a deferral of a state tax; or a preferential state tax rate; which is used as an incentive to attract and retain businesses and jobs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) The citizen commission for performance measurement of tax preferences is created.

(2) The commission has thirteen voting members, appointed by the governor as follows:

- (a) Two persons representing small business;
- (b) One person representing the biotechnology industry;
- (c) One person representing the semi-conductor industry;
- (d) One person representing the software industry;

- (h) One person representing the research and development industry;
- (i) One person representing the internet industry;
- (k) One person representing the retail industry;
- (l) One person representing the farming industry;
- (m) One person representing labor.

(3) The commission has five nonvoting members, one appointed by the governor, and one appointed by each chair of the two largest caucuses of the senate and the two largest caucuses of the house of representatives.

(4)(a) Appointees representing small business must be filled from lists of nominees submitted by statewide business organizations representing a cross-section of industries.

(b) Appointees representing the other industries must be filled from lists of nominees submitted by statewide organizations representing the specified industry.

(c) The appointee representing labor must be filled from lists of nominees submitted by statewide labor organizations representing a cross-section of industries.

(5) The commission shall elect a chair from among its voting or nonvoting members. Decisions of the commission must be made using the sufficient consensus model. For the purposes of this subsection, "sufficient consensus" means the point at which the vast majority of the commission favors taking a particular action. If the commission determines that sufficient consensus cannot be reached, a vote must be taken. The commission must allow a minority report to be included with a decision of the commission, if requested by a member of the commission.

(6) Members serve for terms of four years, with the terms expiring on June 30th on the fourth year of the term. However, in the case of the initial members, four members shall serve four-year terms, four members shall serve three-year terms, and five members shall serve a two-year term, with each of the terms expiring on June 30th of the applicable year. Appointees may be reappointed to serve more than one term.

(7) The joint legislative audit and review committee shall provide clerical, technical, and management personnel to the commission to serve as the commission's staff. The department of revenue shall provide necessary support and information to the joint legislative audit and review committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) The citizen commission for performance measurement of tax preferences shall develop a schedule to accomplish an orderly review of tax preferences. The commission shall schedule the review of other states' tax preferences in the order that they deem most appropriate, taking into consideration the business climates of those states. The commission shall analyze the different tax preferences and determine: (1) If the tax preference could be applied in Washington; (2) if the preference would help attract businesses to our state; and (3) if the preference would create jobs in Washington, directly or indirectly. For each tax preference that is considered, the committee shall provide a recommendation as to whether the tax preference should be implemented in Washington.

(2) The commission shall prepare a report that includes the comments of the commission and submit a final report to the finance committee of the house of representatives and the ways and means committee of the senate by November 30, 2003 and every year thereafter.

(3) Following receipt of a report under this section, the finance committee of the house of representatives and the ways and means committee of the senate shall jointly hold a public hearing to consider the final report and any related data.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Hunt requested a scope and object ruling on amendment (232) to House Bill No. 1929.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker (Representative Lovick presiding): "The Speaker has reviewed your request for a ruling on scope and object of amendment (232). The Speaker finds that House Bill No. 1929 is entitled An Act Relating to "the eight-year statute of repose in RCW 4.16.350."

The purpose of the bill is clearly stated in section 1 -- "The purpose of this act is to respond to the court's decision in DeYoung v. Providence Medical Center, 136 Wn 2d 136 (1998), by expressly stating the legislature's rationale for the eight-year statute of repose in RCW 4.16.350."

Section 2 of the bill merely reenacts current law.

Amendment (232) strikes the entire bill and replaces it with a 3-year statute of repose, changes the statute of limitations, eliminates tolling for minors, and creates new periods of limitation and repose for minors under 6.

Both the title of the bill and its expressly stated purpose are very narrow. The scope and object of the bill is to reinstate the 8-year statute of repose and to state the rationale for the reinstatement.

The provisions of the amendment clearly exceed this narrow scope and object.

Representative Hunt, your point of order is well taken."

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1317 was read the second time.

Representative Linville moved the adoption of amendment (257):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the trust water rights program is an important tool in meeting the state's current and future needs for water, both instream and out-of-stream. However, the legislature finds that the existing procedures for establishing trust water rights are unnecessarily complex, and are difficult to explain and administer. Further, the legislature finds that groups currently developing local watershed plans and regional water management programs are seeking an effective means to facilitate multiple, voluntary transfers of existing water rights to address presently unmet needs and future needs.

It is the intent of this act to enhance the effectiveness of the trust water rights program by improving existing incentives, removing disincentives, and clarifying and consolidating procedures for establishing trust water rights.

Sec. 2. RCW 90.42.005 and 1991 c 347 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It is the policy of the state of Washington to recognize and preserve water rights in accordance with RCW 90.03.010 and the beneficial uses of water described in RCW 90.54.020(1).

(2) The legislature finds that:

(a) The state of Washington is faced with a shortage of water with which to meet existing and future needs, particularly during the summer and fall months and in dry years when the demand is greatest;

(b) Consistent with RCW 90.54.180, conservation and water use efficiency programs, ~~((including))~~ storage, and water right transfers should be the preferred methods ~~((of addressing water uses because they can relieve))~~ to address current critical water situations, provide for presently unmet needs, and assist in meeting future water needs. Presently unmet needs or current needs includes the water required to increase the frequency of occurrence of base or minimum flow levels in streams of the state, the water necessary to satisfy existing water rights, or the water necessary to provide full supplies to existing water systems with current supply deficiencies, or as otherwise needed to meet the needs of growing communities for adequate and reliable water supplies, and to provide the water necessary to satisfy existing water rights for other beneficial uses listed in RCW 90.54.020(1); ~~((and))~~

(c) The interests of the state will be served by developing programs and regional water resource plans, in cooperation with local governments, federally recognized tribal governments, appropriate federal agencies, private citizens, and the various water users and water interests in the state, that increase the overall ability to manage the state's waters in order to resolve conflicts and to better satisfy both present and future needs for water, both instream and out-of-stream; and

(d) A state trust water rights program is an effective means to facilitate the voluntary transfer of water and water rights, established through conservation, purchase, lease, or donation, to secure and preserve water rights and provide water for presently unmet needs and emerging needs.

Sec. 3. RCW 90.42.010 and 1998 c 245 s 173 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature ~~((finds that))~~ recognizes a need ~~((exists))~~ to ~~((develop and test))~~ provide a means to facilitate the voluntary transfer of water and water rights, including conserved water, to provide water for presently unmet needs and emerging needs. ~~((Further,))~~ The legislature also finds that water conservation activities have the potential of affecting the quantity of return flow waters to which existing water right holders have a right to and upon which they rely ~~((upon))~~. ~~((It is the intent of))~~ The legislature intends that persons holding rights to water, including return flows, not be adversely affected in the implementation of the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 4. RCW 90.42.020 and 1991 c 347 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Unless the context clearly requires otherwise,))~~ The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Department" means the department of ecology.

(2) "Impairment" means detriment or injury to existing rights as that phrase is used in RCW 90.03.380(1).

(3) "Net water savings" means the amount of water that is determined to be conserved and usable within or from a specified ~~((stream reach or reaches))~~ surface or ground water body for other purposes without impairment ~~((or detriment))~~ to water rights existing at the time that a water conservation project is ~~((undertaken, reducing the ability to deliver water, or reducing the supply of water that otherwise would have been available to other existing water uses))~~ funded.

~~((3))~~ (4) "Trust water right" means any existing water right ~~((acquired))~~ transferred to or managed by the state under this chapter ~~((for management in))~~ and the state's trust water rights program.

~~((4))~~ "Pilot planning areas" means the geographic areas designated under RCW 90.54.045(2).)

(5) "Water conservation project" means any project or program for which the state provides state or federal government assistance that achieves physical or operational improvements that provide for increased water use efficiency in existing systems of diversion, conveyance, application, or use of water under water rights ~~((existing on July 28, 1991)).~~

Sec. 5. RCW 90.42.030 and 1993 c 98 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For the purposes ~~((of))~~ specified in this chapter, the state may enter into contracts to provide moneys to assist in the financing of water conservation projects. In consideration for the financial assistance provided, the state shall obtain public benefits (~~(defined in guidelines developed under RCW 90.42.050)~~) in the form of temporary or permanent water rights.

(2) If the public benefits to be obtained require conveyance or modification of a water right, the recipient of funds shall convey to the state the recipient's interest in that part of the water right (~~(or claim)~~) constituting all or a portion of the resulting net water savings (~~(for deposit in the trust water rights program. The amount to be conveyed shall be finitely determined by the parties, in accordance with the guidelines developed under RCW 90.42.050, before the expenditure of state funds)~~) according to section 8 of this act. Conveyance may consist of complete transfer, lease contracts, or other legally binding agreements. When negotiating for the acquisition of conserved water or net water savings, or a portion thereof, the state may require evidence of a valid water right.

(3) (~~(As part of the contract,)~~) If requested by the water right holder (~~(and)~~), the state shall specify (~~(the process to determine)~~) as part of the contract the amount of water the water right holder would continue to be entitled to once the water conservation project is in place.

(4) (~~(The state shall cooperate fully with the United States in the implementation of this chapter. Trust water rights may be acquired through expenditure of funds provided by the United States and shall be treated in the same manner as trust water rights resulting from the expenditure of state funds.~~)

(5) If water is proposed to be acquired by or conveyed to the state as a trust water right by an irrigation district, evidence of the district's authority to represent the water right holders shall be submitted to and for the satisfaction of the department.

(6) The state shall not contract with any person to acquire a water right served by an irrigation district without the approval of the board of directors of the irrigation district. Disapproval by a board shall be factually based on probable adverse effects on the ability of the district to deliver water to other members or on maintenance of the financial integrity of the district.) When the department provides funding for a water conservation project as a means of establishing a trust water right, a trust water right must be established for the period of time during which the conservation project will result in establishment of a trust water right. For example, a conservation project with a functional life of fifteen years would result in a trust transfer of fifteen years. Before the expenditure of state funds for a water conservation project, the state and the water right holder shall agree on the terms and duration of the trust water transfer as a result of a conservation project.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

(1) All trust water established by the state must be placed in the state trust water rights program to be held in trust by the department. Trust water rights established by the state must be held or authorized for use by the department for any beneficial use described in RCW 90.54.020(1). Trust water rights may also be established for the protection of water rights secured for mitigation purposes and for preservation of water rights for future needs.

(2) Trust water rights may only be established from existing water rights, including rights to divert or withdraw water under existing certificates, claims, and permits, and rights to storage and use of stored water from existing reservoir and secondary use rights, or other appropriate means other than by condemnation.

(3) Trust water rights must be administered by the department. Each trust water right must be administered in strict accordance with the terms under which the trust water right was established, including any agreement between the parties executed at the time the trust water right was established, or as subsequently modified by mutual agreement of the parties. For example, a trust water right established by the state expressly conditioned to limit its use to instream flows must be managed as a trust water right in compliance with that condition.

(4) To the extent practicable and subject to legislative appropriation, trust water rights established in a watershed with an approved watershed plan developed under chapter 90.82 RCW must be used in a manner consistent with that plan.

(5) The department may make arrangements, including entry into contracts with other persons or entities as appropriate, to ensure that trust water rights established in accordance with this chapter can be exercised to the fullest possible extent consistent with applicable state laws.

(6) The department shall cooperate fully with the United States in the implementation of this chapter. Trust water rights may be established through expenditure of funds provided by the United States and must be treated in the same manner as trust water rights established as a result of the expenditure of state funds.

(7) All trust water rights must be managed to ensure that attributes of each water right, such as its priority date, status as a certificate, permit, or claim, names or numbers used to identify the water right, and previously authorized uses remain distinct for each water right established as a trust water right.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A trust water right may be established on a temporary or permanent basis. To establish a permanent trust water right, the water right must be conveyed to the state of Washington. A water right transferred to the trust water program on a temporary basis may not be conveyed to the state of Washington and remains the property of the water right holder while managed by the department in the trust water program consistent with the terms of any agreement between the water right holder and the department.

(2) All or a portion of a water right perfected through actual beneficial use or an unperfected water right in good standing can be established as a trust water right. Once established by the state, such a right is a trust water right.

(3) The department shall develop forms for use in the establishment of trust water rights to gather information pertaining to the water right including, but not limited to, the existing purpose, place of use, and point of diversion or withdrawal of the right, extent of water use under the right, and the use or uses proposed for the right as a trust water right.

(4) Except as provided in RCW 90.03.380(4) and 90.44.100(5), the provisions of RCW 90.03.380 and 90.44.100 apply to trust water right transfers under this chapter.

(5) Acceptance of an existing right as a temporary trust water right under this chapter does not constitute a determination of the validity and extent of an existing water right.

(6) If the holder of a right to water from a body of water chooses to donate all or a portion of the person's water right to the trust water program to assist in providing instream flows on a temporary or permanent basis, the department shall accept the donation on such terms as the person may prescribe as long as the donation satisfies the applicable requirements of this chapter, and the terms prescribed are relevant and material to protecting any interest in the water right retained by the donor. Once accepted, such rights are trust water rights within the conditions prescribed by the donor.

(7)(a) The quantity of water that may be approved for transfer to the trust water program represents the extent to which water use under the original right is reduced or foregone under the trust transfer, resulting in a net benefit to the water body as a result of establishing the trust water right, and resulting from:

(i) Reduced diversion or withdrawal of water under the original right as a result of a water conservation project;

(ii) A reduction in the number of acres irrigated under the right, or a long-term change in the type of crop grown that will require less water;

(iii) A reduction in the period of use of the right, on a seasonal basis, during periods of low stream flows, or according to conditions prescribed for the trust water right;

(iv) The elimination of water use under the original right;

(v) A downstream change in point of diversion of a water right that results in increased flows in the reach of the stream affected by the change;

(vi) The temporary or permanent use of different source of supply to meet all or a portion of the water needs under the original right; or

(vii) Other appropriate changes in activities under the original right, as agreed to between the water right holder and the department.

(b) Where the state establishes a trust water right from a portion of an existing water right, only the portion of the right to be placed in the trust water rights program is subject to the provisions of this chapter. In the case of a trust transfer, the quantity of the trust water right and the water right remaining with the water right holder is reflected in the superseding document issued to the water right holder by the department, and the superseding document issued by the department must be conditioned to ensure that the reduced water use is achieved.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A trust water right retains the same priority date as the water right from which it originated. The trust right shall be deemed to be inferior in priority to the water right from which it originated unless otherwise specified by an agreement between the state and the party holding the original right.

(2) The priority date of an unperfected water right established as a trust water right is the date of its establishment as a trust water right. If an unperfected water right is established as a temporary trust water right, it reverts to the original owner as an unperfected right with the priority date of the original right.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Before acquiring, establishing, or modifying any trust water right, the department shall publish a notice in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or counties in which the storage, diversion, and use are to be made and in other newspapers as the department determines is necessary. The notice must be published once a week for two consecutive weeks. At the same time the department publishes notice, the department shall send a notice containing pertinent information to all appropriate state agencies, potentially affected local governments, potentially affected federally recognized tribal governments, and other interested parties.

(2) This section does not apply to a trust water right resulting from a donation for instream flows under RCW 90.42.080 or from a lease under RCW 90.42.080 if the period of the lease does not exceed five years.

(3) The department shall establish expedited notice provisions to provide notice and opportunity for comment on proposals to establish trust water rights during a formally declared drought.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, a temporary trust water right is established after the following actions occur:

(a) The water right holder provides written notice to the department of their intention to establish a temporary trust water right;

(b) The water right holder publishes a legal notice according to section 9 of this act describing the temporary trust transfer and other details deemed necessary by the department. The legal notice must state that a water right holder wishing to assert a claim of impairment of their water right may do so by filing the claim with the department, and shall specify the deadline for doing so. The legal notice must be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the area in which the temporary trust water right would be established; and

(c) Within thirty days of the last date of publication of the legal notice, no claims of impairment are filed with the department relating to the proposed temporary trust water right. If any claims of impairment are filed with the department, the department shall make a determination regarding the impairment claim or claims and shall issue its determination in writing, stating either that it finds that there will be impairment (a "finding of impairment") or that it finds there will not be impairment (a "finding of no impairment"). The department's written determination may be appealed to the pollution control hearings board as provided in chapter 43.21B RCW or other applicable law.

(2) A temporary trust water right may be established by a superior court conducting a water rights adjudication under chapter 90.03 RCW.

(3) Upon the expiration of the period of time for which a temporary trust water right is established, the full perfected and unperfected quantities of water established as a temporary trust water right revert to the water right holder, with the priority date of the original water right.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

(1)(a) After notice and consideration of comments received, the department shall issue a final decision regarding the establishment of a permanent trust water right.

(b) The department shall provide copies of its final decision to the applicant and to any person or entity who provided comments on the proposed permanent trust water right transfer. The department's final decision on establishment of a permanent trust water right is appealable to the pollution control hearings board under RCW 43.21B.230 or other applicable law.

(2) The department shall issue a certificate of change or transfer as required under RCW 90.03.380(1) for any water right established as a permanent trust water right and order approving a trust water right transfer. Certificates of change or transfer issued under RCW 90.03.380 must be filed and made a record with the department of ecology, and a duplicate certificate must be issued to the applicant, which may be filed with the appropriate county auditor in like manner and with the same effect as provided in the original authorization to divert water.

(3) The department may require a final investigation prior to issuing a superseding certificate for water rights for which the department has issued a certificate of change or transfer under this section and under RCW 90.03.380(1), and shall issue a superseding certificate for such water right only when and to the extent water has been applied to actual beneficial use as described in the certificate of change or transfer issued under RCW 90.03.380(1).

(4) Where only a portion of an existing right is established as a permanent trust water right, the department shall issue a superseding certificate or permit to the original water right holder or, with respect to water claims, issue a superseding certificate or permit only for the perfected portion of a claim as demonstrated through actual beneficial use of water. The superseding document must indicate the quantity of water remaining with the original right holder.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

No state funds may be expended to establish trust water rights by the state under this chapter unless specifically appropriated for this purpose by the legislature. Prior to expending state or federal funds for a trust water right, the department shall exercise appropriate due diligence, as practiced by other water right purchasers, to ensure the validity of the water right or portion thereof for which the funds will be expended.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

A water right conveyed to the trust water right program as a donation that is expressly conditioned to limit its use to instream purposes must be managed by the department for public purposes to ensure that it qualifies as a donation that is deductible for federal income taxation purposes for the person or entity conveying the water right.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

The water right relinquishment provisions of RCW 90.14.130 through 90.14.230 do not apply to trust water rights as of the date the trust water right is established.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Nothing in this chapter authorizes the impairment of, or operates to impair, any existing water rights.

(2) A trust water right may be established only if the department first determines that neither water rights existing at the time the trust water right is established nor the public interest will be impaired. If impairment becomes apparent during the time a trust water right is being exercised, the department shall cease or modify the use of the trust water right to eliminate the impairment.

(3) A water right holder who believes his or her water right has been impaired by a trust water right donated or leased under RCW 90.42.080 may request that the department review his or her impairment claim. If the department determines that exercising the trust water right resulting from the donation or lease or exercising a portion of that trust water right is impairing existing water rights in violation of this section, the trust water right must be altered by the department to eliminate the impairment.

(4) Any decision of the department made according to subsection (2) or (3) of this section may be appealed to the pollution control hearings board according to chapter 43.21B RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

(1) When water is proposed to be provided to the department as a trust water right by an irrigation district, evidence of the district's authority to represent the water right holders must be submitted to, and for the satisfaction of, the department.

(2) The department may not establish a trust water right from an individual's water right under this chapter that is appurtenant to land lying within an irrigation district without the approval of the board of directors of the irrigation district.

Sec. 17. RCW 90.03.380 and 2001 c 237 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The right to the use of water which has been applied to a beneficial use in the state shall be and remain appurtenant to the land or place upon which the same is used: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the right may be transferred to another or to others and become appurtenant to any other land or place of use without loss of priority of right theretofore established if such change can be made without detriment or injury to existing rights. The point of diversion of water for beneficial use or the purpose of use may be changed, if such change can be made without detriment or injury to existing rights. A change in the place of use, point of diversion, and/or purpose of use of a water right to enable irrigation of additional acreage or the addition of new uses may be permitted if such change results in no increase in the annual consumptive quantity of water used under the water right. For purposes of this section, "annual consumptive quantity" means the estimated or actual annual amount of water diverted pursuant to the water right, reduced by the estimated annual amount of return flows, averaged over the two years of greatest use within the most recent five-year period of continuous beneficial use of the water right. Before any transfer of such right to use water or change of the point of diversion of water or change of purpose of use can be made, any person having an interest in the transfer or change, shall file a written application therefor with the department, and the application shall not be granted until notice of the application is published as provided in RCW 90.03.280. If it shall appear that such transfer or such change may be made without injury or detriment to existing rights, the department shall issue to the applicant a certificate in duplicate granting the right for such transfer or for such change of point of diversion or of use. The certificate so issued shall be filed and be made a record with the department and the duplicate certificate issued to the applicant may be filed with the county auditor in like manner and with the same effect as provided in the original certificate or permit to divert water.

(2) If an application for change proposes to transfer water rights from one irrigation district to another, the department shall, before publication of notice, receive concurrence from each of the irrigation districts that such transfer or change will not adversely affect the ability to deliver water to other landowners or impair the financial integrity of either of the districts.

(3) A change in place of use by an individual water user or users of water provided by an irrigation district need only receive approval for the change from the board of directors of the district if the use of water continues within the irrigation district, and when water is provided by an irrigation entity that is a member of a board of joint control created under chapter 87.80 RCW, approval need only be received from the board of joint control if the use of water continues within the area of jurisdiction of the joint board and the change can be made without detriment or injury to existing rights.

(4) ~~The requirements of this section ((shall)) do not apply to trust water rights ((acquired by the state through the funding of water conservation projects under chapter 90.38 RCW or RCW 90.42.010 through 90.42.070)) established on a temporary basis under chapter 90.42 RCW unless such rights are transferred to another person.~~

(5)(a) Pending applications for new water rights are not entitled to protection from impairment, injury, or detriment when an application relating to an existing surface or ground water right is considered.

(b) Applications relating to existing surface or ground water rights may be processed and decisions on them rendered independently of processing and rendering decisions on pending applications for new water rights within the same source of supply without regard to the date of filing of the pending applications for new water rights.

(c) Notwithstanding any other existing authority to process applications, including but not limited to the authority to process applications under WAC 173-152-050 as it existed on January 1, 2001, an application relating to an existing surface or ground water right may be processed ahead of a previously filed application relating to an existing right when sufficient information for a decision on the previously filed application is not available and the applicant for the previously filed application is sent written notice that explains what information is not available and informs the applicant that processing of the next application will begin. The previously filed application does not lose its priority date and if the information is provided by the applicant within sixty days, the previously filed application shall be processed at that time. This subsection (5)(c) does not affect any other existing authority to process applications.

(d) Nothing in this subsection (5) is intended to stop the processing of applications for new water rights.

(6) No applicant for a change, transfer, or amendment of a water right may be required to give up any part of the applicant's valid water right or claim to a state agency, the trust water rights program, or to other persons as a condition of processing the application.

(7) In revising the provisions of this section and adding provisions to this section by chapter 237, Laws of 2001, the legislature does not intend to imply legislative approval or disapproval of any existing administrative policy regarding, or any existing administrative or judicial interpretation of, the provisions of this section not expressly added or revised.

Sec. 18. RCW 90.44.100 and 1997 c 316 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) After an application to, and upon the issuance by the department of an amendment to the appropriate permit or certificate of ground water right, the holder of a valid right to withdraw public ground waters may, without losing the holder's priority of right, construct wells or other means of withdrawal at a new location in substitution for or in addition to those at the original location, or the holder may change the manner or the place of use of the water.

(2) An amendment to construct replacement or a new additional well or wells at a location outside of the location of the original well or wells or to change the manner or place of use of the water shall be issued only after publication of notice of the application and findings as prescribed in the case of an original application. Such amendment shall be issued by the department only on the conditions that: (a) The additional or replacement well or wells shall tap the same body of public ground water as the original well or wells; (b) where a replacement well or wells is approved, the use of the original well or wells shall be discontinued and the original well or wells shall be properly decommissioned as required under chapter 18.104 RCW; (c) where an additional well or wells is constructed, the original well or wells may continue to be used, but the combined total withdrawal from the original and additional well or wells shall not enlarge the right conveyed by the original permit or certificate; and (d) other existing rights shall not be impaired. The department may specify an approved manner of construction and shall require a showing of compliance with the terms of the amendment, as provided in RCW 90.44.080 in the case of an original permit.

(3) The construction of a replacement or new additional well or wells at the location of the original well or wells shall be allowed without application to the department for an amendment. However, the following apply to such a replacement or new additional well: (a) The well shall tap the same body of public ground water as the original well or wells; (b) if a replacement well is constructed, the use of the original well or wells shall be discontinued and the original well or wells shall be properly decommissioned as required under chapter 18.104 RCW; (c) if a new additional well is constructed, the original well or wells may continue to be used, but the combined total withdrawal from the original and additional well or wells shall not enlarge the right conveyed by the original water use permit or certificate; (d) the construction and use of the well shall not interfere with or impair water rights with an earlier date of priority than the water right or rights for the original well or wells; (e) the replacement or additional well shall be located no closer than the original well to a well it might interfere with; (f) the department may specify an approved manner of construction of the well; and (g) the department shall require a showing of compliance with the conditions of this subsection (3).

(4) As used in this section, the "location of the original well or wells" is the area described as the point of withdrawal in the original public notice published for the application for the water right for the well.

(5) The requirements of this section do not apply to trust water rights established on a temporary basis under chapter 90.42 RCW unless such rights are transferred to another person.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

RCW 90.42.050 (Guidelines governing trust water rights-- Submission of guidelines to joint select committee) and 1991 c 347 s 9;

RCW 90.42.070 (Involuntary impairment of existing water rights not authorized) and 1991 c 347 s 11; and

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

'IMPLEMENTATION OF WATERSHED PLANS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature declares and reaffirms that a core principle embodied in chapter 90.82 RCW is that state agencies must work cooperatively with local citizens in a process of planning for future uses of water by giving local citizens and the governments closest to them the ability to determine the management of water in the WRIA or WRIs being planned.

The legislature further finds that this process of local planning must have all the tools necessary to accomplish this task and that it is essential for the legislature to provide a clear statutory process for implementation so that the locally developed plan will be the adopted and implemented plan to the greatest extent possible.

Sec. 2. RCW 90.82.040 and 2001 c 237 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Once a WRIA planning unit has been initiated under RCW 90.82.060 and a lead agency has been designated, it shall notify the department and may apply to the department for funding assistance for conducting the planning and providing coordination and oversight of the implementation of the plan. Funds shall be provided from and to the extent of appropriations made by the legislature to the department expressly for this purpose.

(2)(a) Each planning unit that has complied with subsection (1) of this section is eligible to receive watershed planning grants in the following amounts for the first three phases of watershed planning and phase four watershed plan implementation coordination and oversight:

(i) Initiating governments may apply for an initial organizing grant of up to fifty thousand dollars for a single WRIA or up to seventy-five thousand dollars for a multi-WRIA management area in accordance with RCW 90.82.060(4);

(ii)(A) A planning unit may apply for up to two hundred thousand dollars for each WRIA in the management area for conducting watershed assessments in accordance with RCW 90.82.070, except that a planning unit that chooses to conduct a detailed assessment or studies under (a)(ii)(B) of this subsection or whose initiating governments choose or have chosen to include an instream flow or water quality component in accordance with RCW 90.82.080 or 90.82.090 may apply for up to one hundred thousand additional dollars for each instream flow and up to one hundred thousand additional dollars for each water quality component included for each WRIA to conduct an assessment on that optional component and for each WRIA in which the assessments or studies under (a)(ii)(B) of this subsection are conducted.

(B) A planning unit may elect to apply for up to one hundred thousand additional dollars to conduct a detailed assessment of multipurpose water storage opportunities or for studies of specific multipurpose storage projects which opportunities or projects are consistent with and support the other elements of the planning unit's watershed plan developed under this chapter; and

(iii) A planning unit may apply for up to two hundred fifty thousand dollars for each WRIA in the management area for developing a watershed plan and making recommendations for actions by local, state, and federal agencies, tribes, private property owners, private organizations, and individual citizens, including a recommended list of strategies and projects that would further the purpose of the plan in accordance with RCW 90.82.060 through 90.82.100.

(b) A planning unit may request a different amount for phase two or phase three of watershed planning than is specified in (a) of this subsection, provided that the total amount of funds awarded do not exceed the maximum amount the planning unit is eligible for under (a) of this subsection. The department shall approve such an alternative allocation of funds if the planning unit identifies how the proposed alternative will meet the goals of this chapter and provides a proposed timeline for the completion of planning. However, the up to one hundred thousand additional dollars in funding for instream flow and water quality components and for water storage assessments or studies that a planning unit may apply for under (a)(ii)(A) of this subsection may be used only for those instream flow, water quality, and water storage purposes.

(c) By December 1, 2001, or within one year of initiating phase one of watershed planning, whichever occurs later, the initiating governments for each planning unit must inform the department whether they intend to have the planning unit establish or amend instream flows as part of its planning process. If they elect to have the planning unit establish or amend instream flows, the planning unit is eligible to receive one hundred thousand dollars for that purpose in accordance with (a)(ii) of this subsection. If the initiating governments for a planning unit elect not to establish or amend instream flows as part of the unit's planning process, the department shall retain one hundred thousand dollars to carry out an assessment to support establishment of instream flows and to establish such flows in accordance with RCW 90.54.020(3)(a) and chapter 90.22 RCW. The department shall not use these funds to amend an existing instream flow unless requested to do so by the initiating governments for a planning unit.

(d) In administering funds appropriated for supplemental funding for optional plan components under (a)(ii) of this subsection, the department shall give priority in granting the available funds to proposals for setting or amending instream flows.

(e) A planning unit may apply for a matching grant for phase four coordination and oversight of watershed plan implementation. A match of ten to twenty-five percent is required and may include financial contributions or in-kind goods and services directly related to coordination and oversight functions. The match can be provided by the planning unit or by the combined commitments from federal agencies, tribal governments, local governments, special districts, or other local organizations. The phase four grant may be up to one hundred thousand dollars for each planning unit for each of the first three years of implementation. At the end of the three-year period, a two-year extension may be available for up to fifty thousand dollars each year. For planning units that cover more than one WRIA, additional matching funds of up to twenty-five thousand dollars may be available for each additional WRIA per year for the first three years of implementation, and up to twelve thousand five hundred dollars per WRIA per year for each of the fourth and fifth years.

(3)(a) The department shall use the eligibility criteria in this subsection (3) instead of rules, policies, or guidelines when evaluating grant applications at each stage of the grants program.

(b) In reviewing grant applications under this subsection (3), the department shall evaluate whether:

(i) The planning unit meets all of the requirements of this chapter;

(ii) The application demonstrates a need for state planning funds to accomplish the objectives of the planning process; and

(iii) The application and supporting information evidences a readiness to proceed.

(c) In ranking grant applications submitted at each stage of the grants program, the department shall give preference to applications in the following order of priority:

(i) Applications from existing planning groups that have been in existence for at least one year;

(ii) Applications that address protection and enhancement of fish habitat in watersheds that have aquatic fish species listed or proposed to be listed as endangered or threatened under the federal endangered species act, 16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 et seq. and for which there is evidence of an inability to supply adequate water for population and economic growth from:

(A) First, multi-WRIA planning; and

(B) Second, single WRIA planning;

(iii) Applications that address protection and enhancement of fish habitat in watersheds or for which there is evidence of an inability to supply adequate water for population and economic growth from:

(A) First, multi-WRIA planning; and

(B) Second, single WRIA planning.

(d) Except for phase four watershed plan implementation, the department may not impose any local matching fund requirement as a condition for grant eligibility or as a preference for receiving a grant.

(4) The department may retain up to one percent of funds allocated under this section to defray administrative costs.

(5) Planning under this chapter should be completed as expeditiously as possible, with the focus being on local stakeholders cooperating to meet local needs.

(6) Funding provided under this section shall be considered a contractual obligation against the moneys appropriated for this purpose.

Sec. 3. RCW 90.82.130 and 2001 c 237 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Upon completing its proposed watershed plan, the planning unit may approve the proposal by consensus of all of the members of the planning unit or by consensus among the members of the planning unit appointed to represent units of government and a majority vote of the nongovernmental members of the planning unit.

(b) If the proposal is approved by the planning unit, the unit shall submit the proposal to the counties with territory within the management area. If the planning unit has received funding beyond the initial organizing grant under RCW 90.82.040, such a proposal approved by the planning unit shall be submitted to the counties within four years of the date that funds beyond the initial funding are first drawn upon by the planning unit.

(c) If the watershed plan is not approved by the planning unit, the planning unit may submit the components of the plan for which agreement is achieved using the procedure under (a) of this subsection, or the planning unit may terminate the planning process.

(2)(a) With the exception of a county legislative authority that chooses to opt out of watershed planning as provided in (c) of this subsection, the legislative authority of each of the counties with territory in the management area shall provide public notice of and conduct at least one public hearing on the proposed watershed plan submitted under this section. After the public hearings, the legislative authorities of these counties shall convene in joint session to consider the proposal. The counties may approve or reject the proposed watershed plan for the management area, but may not amend it. Approval of such a proposal shall be made by a majority vote of the members of each of the counties with territory in the management area.

(b) If a proposed watershed plan is not approved, it shall be returned to the planning unit with recommendations for revisions. Approval of such a revised proposal by the planning unit and the counties shall be made in the same manner provided for the original watershed plan. If approval of the revised plan is not achieved, the process shall terminate.

(c) A legislative authority of a county with less than five percent of affected territory within a particular management area may choose to opt out of watershed planning under this chapter and the public hearing processes under (a) and (b) of this subsection, with regard to that legislative authority's affected territory within a particular management area. A county choosing to opt out shall notify the department and the other initiating governments of that choice prior to commencement of plan adoption under the provisions of (a) of this subsection. A county choosing to opt out shall not be bound by obligations contained in the watershed plan adopted for that management area under this chapter. Even if a county chooses to opt out as provided in this section, the other counties within a management area may adopt a proposed watershed plan as provided in this chapter.

(3) The planning unit shall not add an element to its watershed plan that creates an obligation unless each of the governments to be obligated has at least one representative on the planning unit and the respective members appointed to represent those governments agree to adding the element that creates the obligation. A member's agreeing to add an element shall be evidenced by a recorded vote of all members of the planning unit in which the members record support for adding the element. If the watershed plan is approved under subsections (1) and (2) of this section and the plan creates obligations: (a) For agencies of state government, the agencies shall adopt by policy, procedures, agreements, or rules the obligations of both state and county governments and procedures or rules implementing the state obligations, the obligations on state agencies are binding upon adoption of the obligations (~~into rule~~), and the agencies shall take other actions to fulfill their obligations as soon as possible, and should annually review implementation needs with respect to budget and staffing; (~~or~~) (b) for counties, the obligations are binding on the counties and the counties shall adopt any necessary implementing ordinances and take other actions to fulfill their obligations as soon as possible, and should annually review implementation needs with respect to budget and staffing; or (c) for an organization voluntarily accepting an obligation, the organization must adopt policies, procedures, agreements, rules, or ordinances to implement the plan, and should annually review implementation needs with respect to budget and staffing.

(4) As used in this section, "obligation" means any action required as a result of this chapter that imposes upon a tribal government, county government, or state government, either: A fiscal impact; a redeployment of resources; or a change of existing policy.

(5) After a plan is approved under subsection (2)(a) of this section and if the department participated in the planning process, the department shall rely on such a plan as the framework for making water resource and water quality decisions in the watershed. The department shall also rely upon the plan as a primary consideration in determining the public interest related to those decisions.

(6) Once a plan is approved under subsection (2)(a) of this section, the department may adopt rules under RCW 90.54.040(1) to modify the plan through a negotiated rule-making process under RCW 34.05.310(2)(a) and shall adopt rules implementing its obligations imposed by the plan or modified plan through such a negotiated rule-making process. The department may not modify the plan in any other manner or under any other authority. The entities to be included in the negotiated rule making as affected interests must include, but are not limited to: Water right holders and other affected residents in a watershed or watersheds; and, to the greatest extent practicable, the members of the original planning unit for the watershed or watersheds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 90.82 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Upon approval of the watershed plan, the role of the planning unit is to provide coordination and oversight during the implementation of the plan. This may include a number of interrelated activities, such as seeking funding; tracking progress towards implementation milestones; making adjustments to respond to new information and changing conditions; coordinating the many implementation actions being performed by different organizations in the watershed; and responding to local needs and concerns as expressed by elected officials, stakeholders, and the public. Supporting activities also include public outreach and education; long-term monitoring activities and associated research; data management; and program evaluation.

(2) Within one year of accepting funding for plan coordination and oversight, the planning unit must complete a detailed implementation plan. An implementation plan must clearly define coordination and oversight responsibilities; any needed interlocal agreements, rules, or ordinances; specific funding mechanisms; timelines for carrying out the actions included in the plan; and an adaptive management strategy for plan amendments. The implementation plan must include coordination of salmon recovery projects with lead entities working under chapter 246, Laws of 1998. Submittal of a detailed implementation plan to the department is a condition for receiving grants for the second and all subsequent years of the phase four grant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 90.82 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Each plan developed under this chapter must contain strategies for achieving the following water resource objectives:

- (a) Providing sufficient water for productive agriculture;
- (b) Providing sufficient water for commercial, industrial, and residential use; and
- (c) Providing sufficient water for instream flows.

(2) Such a plan must include timelines for achieving these three objectives and interim milestones for measuring progress in achieving the objectives. Such a plan must also identify the state and local administrative approvals and permits that must be secured to achieve these objectives.

(3) The strategies developed under this chapter to satisfy these objectives must include, but are not limited to, the identification of:

(a) How the objectives are to be achieved;

(b) Timelines for achieving these objectives;

(c) How progress is to be measured for achieving the objectives and interim milestones for measuring that progress;

(d) How any limiting factors regarding stream flows or water supply that have been identified for salmon in analyses under RCW 77.85.060 are to be overcome;

(e) How progress in overcoming these limiting factors is to be measured and interim milestones for measuring that progress; and

(f) How the strategies developed under this section are to be coordinated with the activities and habitat project lists of lead entities and committees conducted and developed under RCW 77.85.050.

Sec. 6. RCW 90.82.060 and 2001 c 229 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Planning conducted under this chapter must provide for a process to allow the local citizens within a WRIA or multi-WRIA area to join together in an effort to: (a) Assess the status of the water resources of their WRIA or multi-WRIA area; and (b) determine how best to manage the water resources of the WRIA or multi-WRIA area to balance the competing resource demands for that area within the parameters under RCW 90.82.120.

(2) Watershed planning under this chapter may be initiated for a WRIA only with the concurrence of: (a) All counties within the WRIA; (b) the largest city or town within the WRIA unless the WRIA does not contain a city or town; and (c) the water supply utility obtaining the largest quantity of water from the WRIA or, for a WRIA with lands within the Columbia Basin project, the water supply utility obtaining from the Columbia Basin project the largest quantity of water for the WRIA. To apply for a grant for organizing the planning unit as provided for under RCW 90.82.040(2)(a), these entities shall designate the entity that will serve as the lead agency for the planning effort and indicate how the planning unit will be staffed.

(3) Watershed planning under this chapter may be initiated for a multi-WRIA area only with the concurrence of: (a) All counties within the multi-WRIA area; (b) the largest city or town in each WRIA unless the WRIA does not contain a city or town; and (c) the water supply utility obtaining the largest quantity of water in each WRIA.

(4) If entities in subsection (2) or (3) of this section decide jointly and unanimously to proceed, they shall invite all tribes with reservation lands within the management area.

(5) The entities in subsection (2) or (3) of this section, including the tribes if they affirmatively accept the invitation, constitute the initiating governments for the purposes of this section.

(6) The organizing grant shall be used to organize the planning unit and to determine the scope of the planning to be conducted. In determining the scope of the planning activities, consideration shall be given to all existing plans and related planning activities. The scope of planning must include water quantity elements as provided in RCW 90.82.070, and may include water quality elements as contained in RCW 90.82.090, habitat elements as contained in RCW 90.82.100, and instream flow elements as contained in RCW 90.82.080. The initiating governments shall work with state government, other local governments within the management area, and affected tribal governments, in developing a planning process. The initiating governments may hold public meetings as deemed necessary to develop a proposed scope of work and a proposed composition of the planning unit. In developing a proposed composition of the planning unit, the initiating governments shall provide for representation of a wide range of water resource interests.

(7) Each state agency with regulatory or other interests in the WRIA or multi-WRIA area to be planned shall assist the local citizens in the planning effort to the greatest extent practicable, recognizing any fiscal limitations. In providing such technical assistance and to facilitate representation on the planning unit, state agencies may organize and agree upon their representation on the planning unit. Such technical assistance must only be at the request of and to the extent desired by the planning unit conducting such planning. The number of state agency representatives on the planning unit shall be determined by the initiating governments in consultation with the governor's office.

(8) As used in this section, "lead agency" means the entity that coordinates staff support of its own or of other local governments and receives grants under RCW 90.82.130 for developing and for implementation coordination and oversight of a watershed plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 90.82 RCW to read as follows:

The department and all other state agencies, acting within the authorities, restrictions, and responsibilities of the statutes they administer and available resources, shall act on the approvals and permits needed to implement any plan approved under this chapter. In instances where granting particular approvals or permits is not consistent with those authorities and responsibilities, the agencies or divisions within the department shall identify to the director the changes in statute that would allow them to grant the approvals and permits. By December 31, 2003, and by December 31st of each year thereafter, the director of the department shall report to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature and to the governor on the statutory changes that would be necessary to provide the state agency approvals and permits identified under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 90.54 RCW to read as follows:

(1) When a comprehensive water resource program is developed in segments under RCW 90.54.040(1), the watershed planning shall be conducted through local planning groups that represent at least the diversity of interests required for planning conducted under chapter 90.82 RCW. Any plan developed under this section shall include, but is not limited to, the water supply and use assessment and strategies for future use required for planning conducted under chapter 90.82 RCW by RCW 90.82.070 and the following:

- (a) Strategies for achieving the water resource objectives listed in section 5(1) of this act;
- (b) Timelines for achieving each of the objectives listed in section 5(2) of this act and interim milestones for measuring progress in achieving the objectives; and
- (c) An identification of the state and local administrative approvals and permits that must be secured to achieve the objectives listed in section 5(3) of this act.

The department and all other state agencies, acting within the authorities, restrictions, and responsibilities of the statutes they administer and available resources, shall act on the approvals and permits needed to implement any plan approved under this section. In instances where granting particular approvals or permits is not consistent with those authorities and responsibilities, the agencies or divisions within the department shall identify to the director the changes in statute that would allow them to grant the approvals and permits.

(2) The director shall include within the report required by section 7 of this act the director's recommendations for changes in statutes from those identified under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 90.54 RCW to read as follows:

Instream flow requirements must be established for not less than the main stem of the principal stream or river in each water resource inventory area established in chapter 173-500 WAC as it exists on the effective date of this section.

COORDINATING WATERSHED, WATER QUALITY, AND SALMON RECOVERY PLANNING

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 90.48 RCW to read as follows:

This section applies to any work conducted by the department for determining or allocating total maximum daily loads for approval by the United States environmental protection agency under the federal clean water act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1251 et seq.). The department shall design its work schedule and plan for conducting such activities in a manner that facilitates the involvement of watershed planning units conducting planning under RCW 90.82.090. As a minimum, the department shall:

(1) Schedule its work so that the involvement of planning units under subsection (3) of this section is possible under the work schedules established or likely to be established for the units to implement RCW 90.82.090;

(2) Arrange its longer-term work schedule in a way that allows initiating governments to know that their choice to require a water quality component under RCW 90.82.090 or to initiate planning under RCW 90.82.060(7) would include the involvement of their planning unit under subsection (3) of this section; and

(3) Designate the planning units conducting planning under RCW 90.82.090 as the local advisory bodies to be used, consistent with section 11 of this act, when the department conducts total maximum daily load activities in any portion of the area for which the unit is conducting such planning. This requirement does not apply to activities regarding an allocation of total maximum daily load for a body of water if the allocation is submitted by the department to the United States environmental protection agency for approval under the federal clean water act before or within six months of the effective date of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 90.82 RCW to read as follows:

A planning unit conducting planning under RCW 90.82.090 may choose to assign the responsibility of being the local advisory body for total maximum daily load activities under section 10 of this act to: The members of the planning unit, as a whole, except those representing state agencies; some portion of the membership of the planning unit, other than the members representing state agencies; or any combination it may choose of its membership, other than state agency representatives, and any additional individuals it may choose who agree to participate.

Sec. 12. RCW 90.82.090 and 1998 c 247 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

If the initiating governments choose to include a water quality component, the watershed plan shall include the following elements:

- (1) An examination based on existing studies conducted by federal, state, and local agencies of the degree to which legally established water quality standards are being met in the management area;
- (2) An examination based on existing studies conducted by federal, state, and local agencies of the causes of water quality violations in the management area, including an examination of information regarding pollutants, point and nonpoint sources of pollution, and pollution-carrying capacities of water bodies in the management area. The analysis shall take into account seasonal stream flow or level variations, natural events, and pollution from natural sources that occurs independent of human activities;
- (3) An examination of the legally established characteristic uses of each of the nonmarine bodies of water in the management area;
- (4) An examination of any total maximum daily load established for nonmarine bodies of water in the management area(~~(, unless a total maximum daily load process has begun in the management area as of the date the watershed planning process is initiated under RCW 90.82.060)~~);
- (5) An examination of existing data related to the impact of fresh water on marine water quality;
- (6) A recommended approach for implementing the total maximum daily load established for achieving compliance with water quality standards for the nonmarine bodies of water in the management area(~~(, unless a total maximum daily load process has begun in the management area as of the date the watershed planning process is initiated under RCW 90.82.060)~~); and
- (7) Recommended means of monitoring by appropriate government agencies whether actions taken to implement the approach to bring about improvements in water quality are sufficient to achieve compliance with water quality standards.

This chapter does not obligate the state to undertake analysis or to develop strategies required under the federal clean water act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1251 et seq.). This chapter does not authorize any planning unit, lead agency, or local government to adopt water quality standards or total maximum daily loads under the federal clean water act.

Sec. 13. RCW 90.82.120 and 1998 c 247 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) Watershed planning developed and approved under this chapter shall not contain provisions that: (a) Are in conflict with existing state statutes, federal laws, or tribal treaty rights; (b) impair or diminish in any manner an existing water right evidenced by a claim filed in the water rights claims registry established under chapter 90.14 RCW or a water right certificate or permit; (c) require a modification in the basic operations of a federal reclamation project with a water right the priority date of which is before June 11, 1998, or alter in any manner whatsoever the quantity of water available under the water right for the reclamation project, whether the project has or has not been completed before June 11, 1998; (d) affect or interfere with an ongoing general adjudication of water rights; (e) modify or require the modification of any waste discharge permit issued under chapter 90.48 RCW; (f) except as provided in RCW 77.85.050(1)(c), modify or require the modification of activities or actions taken or intended to be taken under a habitat restoration work schedule developed under chapter 246, Laws of 1998; or (g) modify or require the modification of activities or actions taken to protect or enhance fish habitat if the activities or actions are: (i) Part of an approved habitat conservation plan and an incidental take permit, an incidental take statement, a management or recovery plan, or other cooperative or conservation agreement entered into with a federal or state fish and wildlife protection agency under its statutory authority for fish and wildlife protection that addresses the affected habitat; or (ii) part of a water quality program adopted by an irrigation district under chapter 87.03 RCW or a board of joint control under chapter 87.80 RCW. This subsection (1)(g) applies as long as the activities or actions continue to be taken in accordance with the plan, agreement, permit, or statement. Any assessment conducted under RCW 90.82.070, 90.82.090, or 90.82.100 shall take into consideration such activities and actions and those taken under the forest practices rules, including watershed analysis adopted under the forest practices act, chapter 76.09 RCW.
- (2) Watershed planning developed and approved under this chapter shall not change existing local ordinances or existing state rules or permits, but may contain recommendations for changing such ordinances or rules.
- (3) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, watershed planning shall take into account forest practices rules under the forest practices act, chapter 76.09 RCW, and shall not create any obligations or restrictions on forest practices additional to or inconsistent with the forest practices act and its implementing rules, whether watershed planning is approved by the counties or the department.

Sec. 14. RCW 77.85.050 and 1999 sp.s. c 13 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1)(a) Counties, cities, and tribal governments must jointly designate, by resolution or by letters of support, the area for which a habitat project list is to be developed and the lead entity that is to be responsible for submitting the habitat project list. No project included on a habitat project list shall be considered mandatory in nature and no private landowner may be forced or coerced into participation in any respect. The lead entity may be a county, city, conservation district, special district, tribal government, or other entity.
- (b) The lead entity shall establish a committee that consists of representative interests of counties, cities, conservation districts, tribes, environmental groups, business interests, landowners, citizens, volunteer groups, regional fish enhancement groups, and other habitat interests. The purpose of the committee is to provide a citizen-based evaluation of the projects proposed to promote salmon habitat. The technical review team may provide the lead entity with organizational models that may be used in establishing the committees.

(c) The committee shall compile a list of habitat projects, establish priorities for individual projects, define the sequence for project implementation, and submit these activities as the habitat project list. In any WRIA for which watershed planning is being conducted by a planning unit under RCW 90.82.100, the committee and the lead entity shall share their information regarding the WRIA with the planning unit, and the committee and the lead entity shall consult with the planning unit in preparing and in adding activities to the habitat project list for that WRIA. The committee shall also identify potential federal, state, local, and private funding sources.

(2) The area covered by the habitat project list must be based, at a minimum, on a WRIA, combination of WRIsAs, or any other area as agreed to by the counties, cities, and tribes in resolutions or in letters of support meeting the requirements of this subsection. Preference will be given to projects in an area that contain a salmon species that is listed or proposed for listing under the federal endangered species act.

(3) The lead entity shall submit the habitat project list to the technical review team in accordance with procedures adopted by the board.

Sec. 15. RCW 77.85.130 and 2000 c 107 s 102 and 2000 c 15 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The salmon recovery funding board shall develop procedures and criteria for allocation of funds for salmon habitat projects and salmon recovery activities on a statewide basis to address the highest priorities for salmon habitat protection and restoration. To the extent practicable the board shall adopt an annual allocation of funding. The allocation should address both protection and restoration of habitat, and should recognize the varying needs in each area of the state on an equitable basis. The board has the discretion to partially fund, or to fund in phases, salmon habitat projects. The board may annually establish a maximum amount of funding available for any individual project, subject to available funding. No projects required solely as a mitigation or a condition of permitting are eligible for funding.

(2)(a) In evaluating, ranking, and awarding funds for projects and activities the board shall give preference to projects that:

(i) Are based upon the limiting factors analysis identified under RCW 77.85.060;

(ii) Provide a greater benefit to salmon recovery based upon the stock status information contained in the department of fish and wildlife salmonid stock inventory (SASSI), the salmon and steelhead habitat inventory and assessment project (SSHIAP), and any comparable science-based assessment when available;

(iii) Will benefit listed species and other fish species; and

(iv) Will preserve high quality salmonid habitat.

(b) In evaluating, ranking, and awarding funds for projects and activities the board shall also give consideration to projects that:

(i) Are the most cost-effective;

(ii) Have the greatest matched or in-kind funding; and

(iii) Will be implemented by a sponsor with a successful record of project implementation.

(3) The board may reject, but not add, projects from a habitat project list submitted by a lead entity for funding. After January 1, 2004, the board shall not provide funding for any project in a WRIA for which planning is being conducted under RCW 90.82.100 unless the lead entity as well as the planning unit for the WRIA under chapter 90.82 RCW both document that the consultation required by RCW 77.85.050(1)(c) has been conducted for the project.

(4) For fiscal year 2000, the board may authorize the interagency review team to evaluate, rank, and make funding decisions for categories of projects or activities or from funding sources provided for categories of projects or activities. In delegating such authority the board shall consider the review team's staff resources, procedures, and technical capacity to meet the purposes and objectives of this chapter. The board shall maintain general oversight of the team's exercise of such authority.

(5) The board shall seek the guidance of the technical review team to ensure that scientific principles and information are incorporated into the allocation standards and into proposed projects and activities. If the technical review team determines that a habitat project list complies with the critical pathways methodology under RCW 77.85.060, it shall provide substantial weight to the list's project priorities when making determinations among applications for funding of projects within the area covered by the list.

(6) The board shall establish criteria for determining when block grants may be made to a lead entity or other recognized regional recovery entity consistent with one or more habitat project lists developed for that region. Where a lead entity has been established pursuant to RCW 77.85.050, the board may provide grants to the lead entity to assist in carrying out lead entity functions under this chapter, subject to available funding. The board shall determine an equitable minimum amount of funds for each region, and shall distribute the remainder of funds on a competitive basis.

(7) The board may waive or modify portions of the allocation procedures and standards adopted under this section in the award of grants or loans to conform to legislative appropriations directing an alternative award procedure or when the funds to be awarded are from federal or other sources requiring other allocation procedures or standards as a condition of the board's receipt of the funds. The board shall develop an integrated process to manage the allocation of funding from federal and state sources to minimize delays in the award of funding while recognizing the differences in state and legislative appropriation timing.

(8) The board may award a grant or loan for a salmon recovery project on private or public land when the landowner has a legal obligation under local, state, or federal law to perform the project, when expedited action provides a clear benefit to salmon recovery, and there will be harm to salmon recovery if the project is delayed. For purposes of this subsection, a legal obligation does not include a project required solely as a mitigation or a condition of permitting.

(9) The board may condition a grant or loan to include the requirement that property may only be transferred to a federal agency if the agency that will acquire the property agrees to comply with all terms of the grant or loan to which the project sponsor was obligated. Property acquired or improved by a project sponsor may be conveyed to a federal agency, but only if the agency agrees to comply with all terms of the grant or loan to which the project sponsor was obligated.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. The legislature does not intend to appropriate additional funds for the implementation of this act and expects all affected state agencies to implement this act's provisions within existing funds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. Headings used in this act are not any part of the law."

"Sec. 1. RCW 90.44.100 and 1997 c 316 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) After an application to, and upon the issuance by the department of an amendment to the appropriate permit or certificate of ground water right, the holder of a valid right to withdraw public ground waters may, without losing the holder's priority of right, construct wells or other means of withdrawal or withdraw water under the right from an additional existing well or wells at a new location in substitution for or in addition to those at the original location, or the holder may change the manner or the place of use of the water.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, an amendment to withdraw water under the right from an additional existing well or wells, construct replacement or a new additional well or wells at a location outside of the location of the original well or wells, or to change the manner or place of use of the water shall be issued only after publication of notice of the application and findings as prescribed in the case of an original application. Such amendment shall be issued by the department only on the conditions that: (a) The additional or replacement well or wells shall ((tap the same body of public ground water)) be located within the same water resource inventory area (WRIA), as defined in chapter 173-500 WAC, as the original well or wells or in an adjoining WRIA. If a watershed plan has been approved under chapter 90.82 RCW or a comprehensive watershed plan has been adopted under RCW 90.54.040(1) for the WRIA or the adjoining WRIA or for both WRIs, moving the location of the well or wells through construction or addition must be consistent with the plan or plans. If a ground water management program has been adopted by the department under RCW 90.44.400 through 90.44.430 for the original or new location for the well or wells, moving the location of the well or wells through construction or addition must be consistent with the adopted program; (b) where a replacement well or wells is approved, the use of the original well or wells shall be discontinued and the original well or wells shall be properly decommissioned as required under chapter 18.104 RCW; (c) where an additional well or wells is added or constructed, the original well or wells may continue to be used, but the combined total withdrawal from the original and additional well or wells shall not ((enlarge the right)) increase the annual or instantaneous quantity conveyed by the original permit or certificate; and (d) other existing rights shall not be impaired. The department may specify an approved manner of construction and shall require a showing of compliance with the terms of the amendment, as provided in RCW 90.44.080 in the case of an original permit.

(3) The addition or construction of a replacement or new or existing additional well or wells at the location of the original well or wells shall be allowed without application to the department for an amendment. However, the following apply to such a replacement or new or existing additional well: (a) The well shall tap the same body of public ground water as the original well or wells; (b) if a replacement well is added or constructed, the use of the original well or wells shall be discontinued and the original well or wells shall be properly decommissioned as required under chapter 18.104 RCW; (c) if a new or existing additional well is added or constructed, the original well or wells may continue to be used, but the combined total withdrawal from the original and additional well or wells shall not ((enlarge the right)) increase the annual or instantaneous quantity conveyed by the original water use permit or certificate; (d) the addition or construction and use of the well shall not interfere with or impair water rights with an earlier date of priority than the water right or rights for the original well or wells; (e) the replacement or additional well shall be located no closer than the original well to a well it might interfere with; (f) the department may specify an approved manner of construction of the well; and (g) the department shall require a showing of compliance with the conditions of this subsection (3).

(4) As used in this section, the "location of the original well or wells" is the larger of: (a) The area described as the point of withdrawal in the original public notice published for the application for the water right for the well; or (b) the area up to one-quarter mile radius from the current well or wells.

(5)(a) A water right holder may add or construct a replacement or new or existing additional well or wells at a location outside the location of the original well or wells but not more than two miles from the current well or wells without obtaining approval from the department under the following conditions:

(i) At least sixty days before adding or starting construction of the well or wells, the water right holder must provide written notice to the department of the intention to add or construct the replacement or additional well or wells and publish a legal notice prescribed by the department describing the location of the additional existing or proposed well or wells, the amounts of water to be withdrawn, and other details deemed necessary by the department. The notice must state that a person wishing to assert a claim of impairment of the person's water right may do so by filing the claim with the department and the deadline for doing so, which shall be within thirty days of the last date of publication of the notice. The notice must be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the area in which the well or wells would be located or added. The department must provide a copy of the notice to the tribal governments of all Indian tribes in the watershed or watersheds involved and to any planning unit conducting planning under chapter 90.82 RCW for the area and must post a copy of the notice on its internet web site. The department must file such a claim on behalf of the state if it believes any water rights held by the state would be impaired;

(ii) No claims of impairment of a water right are filed by the holder of the water right with the department relating to the proposed replacement or additional well or wells within thirty days of the last date of publication of the legal notice; and

(iii) The conditions of subsection (3)(a) through (d), (f), and (g) of this section are met.

(b) If a claim of impairment of a water right is timely filed by the holder of the water right with the department, the department shall make a determination regarding the impairment claim and shall issue its determination in writing within ninety days of the date the claim was filed, stating either that it finds that there will be impairment (a "finding of impairment") or that it finds there will not be impairment (a "finding of no impairment"). The department's written determination or its failure to issue a determination within the ninety-day deadline may be appealed, by the claimant or by the water right holder who published notice under (a)(i) of this subsection, to the pollution control hearings board as provided in chapter 43.21B RCW.

(c) Where an impairment claim has been filed, a replacement well may only be added or constructed under this subsection (5) after a final resolution of the impairment claim results in a finding of no impairment. Final resolution of an impairment claim occurs at the expiration of the appeal period following a final determination by the department, the pollution control hearings board, and any reviewing court.

(d) The failure of the department or a person authorized to file a claim of impairment before the thirty-day deadline established in (a) of this subsection shall not be construed as precluding the department or the person from taking actions to require the discontinuance of or reduction in the withdrawal of water from the well or wells added or located and constructed under the authority of this subsection (5) if the state's or person's rights are impaired by the withdrawals."

Representative Chandler moved the adoption of amendment (275) to amendment (259):

On page 1, beginning on line 8 of the amendment, strike the remainder of the amendment and insert the following:

"ground waters may, without losing the holder's priority of right, construct wells or other means of withdrawal at a new location in substitution for or in addition to those at the original location, or the holder may change the (~~manner~~) purpose or the place of use of the water.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, an amendment to construct replacement or a new additional well or wells at a location outside of the location of the original well or wells or to change the (~~manner~~) purpose or place of use of the water shall be issued only after publication of notice of the application and findings as prescribed in the case of an original application. Such amendment shall be issued by the department only on the conditions that: (a) The additional or replacement well or wells shall (~~tap the same body of public ground water~~) be located within the same water resource inventory area, as defined in chapter 173-500 WAC as it exists on the effective date of this act, or an adjoining water resource inventory area as the original well or wells; (b) where a replacement well or wells is approved, the use of the original well or wells shall be discontinued and the original well or wells shall be properly decommissioned as required under chapter 18.104 RCW; (c) where an additional well or wells is constructed, the original well or wells may continue to be used, but the combined total withdrawal from the original and additional well or wells shall not (~~enlarge the right~~) increase the annual or instantaneous quantity conveyed by the original permit or certificate; and (d) other existing rights shall not be impaired. The department may specify an approved manner of construction and shall require a showing of compliance with the terms of the amendment, as provided in RCW 90.44.080 in the case of an original permit.

(3) The construction of a replacement or new additional well or wells at the location of the original well or wells shall be allowed without application to the department for an amendment. However, the following apply to such a replacement or new additional well: (a) The well shall tap the same body of public ground water as the original well or wells; (b) if a replacement well is constructed, the use of the original well or wells shall be discontinued and the original well or wells shall be properly decommissioned as required under chapter 18.104

RCW; (c) if a new additional well is constructed, the original well or wells may continue to be used, but the combined total withdrawal from the original and additional well or wells shall not (~~enlarge the right~~) increase the annual or instantaneous quantity conveyed by the original water use permit or certificate; (d) the construction and use of the well shall not interfere with or impair water rights with an earlier date of priority than the water right or rights for the original well or wells; (e) the replacement or additional well shall be located no closer than the original well to a well it might interfere with; (f) the department may specify an approved manner of construction of the well; and (g) the department shall require a showing of compliance with the conditions of this subsection (3).

(4) As used in this section, the "location of the original well or wells" is the larger of: (a) The area described as the point of withdrawal in the original public notice published for the application for the water right for the well; or (b) the area up to one-quarter mile radius from the current well or wells.

(5)(a) A water right holder may construct a replacement or new additional well or wells at a location outside the location of the original well or wells but not more than two miles from the current well or wells without obtaining approval from the department under the following conditions:

(i) That, at least sixty days before starting construction of the well or wells, the water right holder provides written notice to the department of the intention to construct the replacement or additional well or wells and publishes a legal notice prescribed by the department describing the location of the proposed well or wells, the amounts of water to be withdrawn, and other details deemed necessary by the department. The notice must state that a person wishing to assert a claim of impairment of another water right may do so by filing the claim with the department and the deadline for doing so. The notice must be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the area in which the well or wells would be located;

(ii) That, within thirty days of the last date of publication of the legal notice, no claims of impairment are filed with the department relating to the proposed replacement or additional well or wells; and

(iii) That the conditions of subsection (3)(a) through (g) of this section are met.

(b) If any claims of impairment are filed with the department, the department shall make a determination regarding the impairment claim or claims and shall issue its determination in writing, stating either that it finds that there will be impairment (a "finding of impairment") or that it finds there will not be impairment (a "finding of no impairment"). The department's written determination may be appealed to the pollution control hearings board as provided in chapter 43.21B RCW.

(c) Where an impairment claim has been filed, a replacement well may only be constructed under this subsection (5) after a final resolution of the impairment claim results in a finding of no impairment. Final resolution of an impairment claim occurs at the expiration of the appeal period following a final determination by the department, the pollution control hearings board, and any reviewing court."

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that state laws have long recognized that communities are dynamic entities. The legislature also finds that any interpretation of its laws that would require its communities to be ossified or frozen in time or would require their future growth to be precisely predictable defies the needs of human society. The legislature has provided numerous means and considerable guidance to its communities regarding their growth and for providing essential services within them as they grow. While the legislature recognizes that the totality of the statutory law that governs such communities is found in a wide variety of places throughout the codified version of the statute laws, the Revised Code of Washington, the legislature also recognizes that it has not always expressly announced in the portion of those statutes generally referred to as the state's water laws how the nature of water rights held by municipal water suppliers accommodates the growth of and changes in communities and the requirements placed on them and authorities granted to them by other laws. The legislature finds that this is in part because state policies in the administration of the water laws have reflected the dynamic nature of human habitation and population growth from within and from without the state. For a very long time, these policies recognized that a water right for municipal water supply purposes is "perfected" when facilities for diverting or withdrawing and distributing the water are constructed but before all of the water is placed to actual use within the community or communities served.

With the enactment of this legislation, the legislature intends to provide within the water laws a curative clarification of the relationship of water rights for municipal water supply purposes to the requirements of other law and the realities of growth.

Sec. 2. RCW 90.03.015 and 1987 c 109 s 65 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((As used in this chapter:))~~ The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Department" means the department of ecology(~~(?)~~).

(2) "Director" means the director of ecology(~~(?) and~~).

(3) "Municipal water supplier" means an entity that supplies water for municipal water supply purposes.

(4) "Municipal water supply purposes" means a beneficial use of water: (a) For residential purposes through fifteen or more residential service connections or for providing residential use of water for a nonresidential population that is, on average, at least twenty-five people for at least sixty days a year; (b) for governmental or governmental proprietary purposes; or (c) indirectly for the purposes in (a) or (b) of this subsection through the delivery of treated or raw water to a public water system for such use. If water is beneficially used under a water right for the purposes listed in (a), (b), or (c) of this subsection, any other beneficial use of water under the right generally associated with the use of water within a municipality is also for "municipal water supply purposes," including, but not limited to, beneficial use for commercial, industrial, irrigation of parks and open spaces, or related purposes.

(5) "Person" means any firm, association, water users' association, corporation, irrigation district, or municipal corporation, as well as an individual.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:

Beneficial uses of water under a municipal water supply purposes water right may include water for:

(1) Uses that benefit fish and wildlife, water quality, or other instream resources or related habitat values; or

(2) Uses that are needed to implement environmental obligations called for by a watershed plan approved under chapter 90.82 RCW or a comprehensive watershed plan adopted under RCW 90.54.040(1), a federally approved habitat conservation plan prepared in response to the listing of a species as being endangered or threatened under the federal endangered species act, 16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 et seq., a hydropower license of the federal energy regulatory commission, or a comprehensive irrigation district management plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:

When requested by a municipal water supplier or when processing a change or amendment to the right, the department shall amend the water right documents and related records to ensure that water rights that are for municipal water supply purposes, as defined in RCW 90.03.015, are correctly identified as being for municipal water supply purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 90.14 RCW to read as follows:

When a municipal water supplier acquires an existing water right that is not a municipal water supply purpose right, that right is not subject to relinquishment for nonuse occurring during the time that the acquirer diligently seeks the department's approval to change the right to municipal water supply purposes. Once a change to municipal water supply purposes is approved by the department, the right is thereafter subject to the exception from relinquishment in RCW 90.14.140(2)(d).

Sec. 6. RCW 90.14.031 and 1969 ex.s. c 284 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, the following words and phrases as used in RCW 90.14.031 through 90.14.121 shall have the following meanings:))~~

~~(1) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.~~

~~(a) "Municipal water supplier" has the same meaning as defined in RCW 90.03.015.~~

~~(b) "Municipal water supply purpose" has the same meaning as defined in RCW 90.03.015.~~

~~(2) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout RCW 90.14.031 through 90.14.121 unless the context clearly requires otherwise.~~

~~(a) "Person" shall mean an individual, partnership, association, public or private corporation, city or other municipality, county, or a state agency, and the United States of America when claiming water rights established under the laws of the state of Washington.~~

~~((2)) (b) "Beneficial use" shall include, but not be limited to, use for domestic water, irrigation, fish, shellfish, game and other aquatic life, municipal, recreation, industrial water, generation of electric power, and navigation.~~

Sec. 7. RCW 90.03.260 and 1987 c 109 s 84 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each application for permit to appropriate water shall set forth the name and post office address of the applicant, the source of water supply, the nature and amount of the proposed use, the time during which water will be required each year, the location and description of the proposed ditch, canal, or other work, the time within which the completion of the construction and the time for the complete application of the water to the proposed use.

(2) If for agricultural purposes, ~~((#))~~ the application shall give the legal subdivision of the land and the acreage to be irrigated, as near as may be, and the amount of water expressed in acre feet to be supplied per season. If for power purposes, it shall give the nature of the works by means of which the power is to be developed, the head and amount of water to be utilized, and the uses to which the power is to be applied.

(3) If for construction of a reservoir, ~~((#))~~ the application shall give the height of the dam, the capacity of the reservoir, and the uses to be made of the impounded waters.

(4) If for community or multiple domestic water supply, the application shall give the projected number of service connections sought to be served. However, for a municipal water supplier that has an approved water system plan under chapter 43.20 RCW or an approval from the department of health to serve a specified number of service connections, the service connection figure in the application or any subsequent water right document is not an attribute limiting exercise of the water right as long as the number of service connections to be served under the right is consistent with the approved water system plan or specified number.

(5) If for municipal water supply, ~~((#))~~ the application shall give the present population to be served, and, as near as may be estimated, the future requirement of the municipality. However, for a municipal water supplier that has an approved water system plan under chapter 43.20 RCW or an approval from the department of health to serve a specified number of service connections, the population figures in the application or any subsequent water right document are not an attribute limiting exercise of the water right as long as the population to be provided water under the right is consistent with the approved water system plan or specified number.

(6) If for mining purposes, ((#)) the application shall give the nature of the mines to be served and the method of supplying and utilizing the water; also their location by legal subdivisions.

(7) All applications shall be accompanied by such maps and drawings, in duplicate, and such other data, as may be required by the department, and such accompanying data shall be considered as a part of the application.

Sec. 8. RCW 90.03.386 and 1991 c 350 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Within service areas established pursuant to chapter((§)) 43.20 ((and)) or 70.116 RCW, the department of ecology and the department of health shall coordinate approval procedures to ensure compliance and consistency with the approved water system plan.

(2) The effect of the department of health's approval of a planning or engineering document that describes a municipal water supplier's service area under chapter 43.20 RCW, or the local legislative authority's approval of service area boundaries in accordance with procedures adopted pursuant to chapter 70.116 RCW, is that the place of use of a surface water right or ground water right used by the supplier is equivalent to, and coexistent with, the approved service area if the supplier is in compliance with the terms of the water system plan or small water system management program, including those regarding water conservation, and the alteration of the place of use is not inconsistent, regarding an area added to the place of use, with: Any comprehensive plans or development regulations adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW; any other comprehensive plan, land use plan, or development regulation adopted by a city, town, or county; or any watershed plan approved under chapter 90.82 RCW.

(3) A municipal water supplier must implement cost-effective water conservation in accordance with the requirements of sections 10 and 11 of this act as part of its approved water system plan or small water system management program. With regard to water diverted or withdrawn by the municipal water supplier under a particular surface or ground water right a portion of which is an inchoate right, a municipal supplier with one thousand or more service connections must document an improvement in the efficiency of water use or delivery under the right over the last six years before it may divert or withdraw further amounts of its inchoate right for beneficial use. When establishing or extending a surface or ground water right construction schedule under RCW 90.03.320, the department must take into consideration the public water system's use of conserved water.

Sec. 9. RCW 90.03.330 and 1987 c 109 s 89 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon a showing satisfactory to the department that any appropriation has been perfected in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, it shall be the duty of the department to issue to the applicant a certificate stating such facts in a form to be prescribed by ((him)) the director, and such certificate shall thereupon be recorded with the department. Any original water right certificate issued, as provided by this chapter, shall be recorded with the department and thereafter, at the expense of the party receiving the same, be transmitted by the department ((transmitted)) to the county auditor of the county or counties where the distributing system or any part thereof is located, and be recorded in the office of such county auditor, and thereafter be transmitted to the owner thereof.

(2) Except as provided for the issuance of certificates under RCW 90.03.240 and for the issuance of certificates following the approval of a change, transfer, or amendment under RCW 90.03.380 or 90.44.100, the department shall not revoke or diminish a certificate for a surface or ground water right for municipal water supply purposes as defined in RCW 90.03.015 unless the certificate was issued with ministerial errors or was obtained through misrepresentation. The department may adjust such a certificate under this subsection if ministerial errors are discovered, but only to the extent necessary to correct the ministerial errors. The department may diminish the right represented by such a certificate if the certificate was obtained through a misrepresentation on the part of the applicant or permit holder, but only to the extent of the misrepresentation. The authority provided by this subsection does not include revoking, diminishing, or adjusting a certificate based on any change in policy regarding the issuance of such certificates that has occurred since the certificate was issued. This subsection may not be construed as providing any authority to the department to revoke, diminish, or adjust a certificate for a water right for any purpose other than municipal water supply purposes.

(3) This subsection applies to the water right represented by a water right certificate issued prior to the effective date of this section for municipal water supply purposes as defined in RCW 90.03.015 where the certificate was issued based on an administrative policy for issuing such certificates once works for diverting or withdrawing and distributing water for municipal supply purposes were constructed rather than after the water had been placed to actual beneficial use. Such a water right is a right in good standing as long as the potential use and use of water under the right is consistent with the principles of the administrative policy that led to its being issued, as that policy existed when the certificate was issued.

(4) After the effective date of this section, the department must issue a new certificate under subsection (1) of this section for a water right represented by a water right permit only for the perfected portion of a water right as demonstrated through actual beneficial use of water.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 70.119A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The purpose of this section is to establish water use efficiency requirements designed to ensure efficient use of water while maintaining system financial viability, improving affordability of supplies, and enhancing system reliability. The requirements apply to all municipal water suppliers, as defined in RCW 90.03.015, and must be tailored to be appropriate for a system's size, forecasted demand, and supply constraints.

(2) By December 31, 2005, the department must adopt rules that:

(a) Establish performance measures to be used in measuring the progress a municipal water supplier is making in achieving its water conservation objectives under section 11 of this act which include, but are not limited to, those regarding water distribution system leakage, collection and reporting of source production and water consumption data, and timelines for setting and achieving cost-effective conservation objectives over time;

(b) Establish criteria that identify how the department will determine whether municipal water suppliers are fulfilling the obligations established for them in section 11 of this act when the department reviews the conservation elements of water system plans and small water system management programs, submitted to it under chapter 43.20 RCW or submitted as part of coordinated water system planning under chapter 70.116 RCW. The criteria must take into consideration the historic conservation performance and conservation investment of the supplier, regional climate variations, and the supplier's customer base demographics, forecasted demand, and system supply constraints;

(c) Establish minimum requirements for water demand forecast methodologies to be used by municipal water suppliers; and

(d) Ensure compliance with the provisions of this section and section 11 of this act. The compliance processes established under this section must incorporate the graduated approach specified for the enforcement of water laws in RCW 90.03.605(1) (a) through (c).

(3) The rules adopted by the department under subsection (2) of this section must not establish state conservation requirements that are less stringent than those in effect on the effective date of this section. For the reporting required by subsection (2)(a) of this section, the rules shall require that municipal water suppliers document that they are maintaining or improving conservation performance at the water system level.

(4) The department must establish an advisory committee to assist it in developing rules under this section. The advisory committee must include representatives from public water system customers, environmental interest groups, business interest groups, a representative cross-section of municipal water suppliers, a person employed by a municipal water supplier as a water conservation expert, tribal governments, the department of ecology, and any other members determined necessary by the department.

(5) The department must provide, upon request, technical assistance to public water systems and local governments regarding water conservation. The assistance must be available regarding, but is not limited to, the development of best management practices for water conservation programs, conservation landscape ordinances, conservation rate structures for public water systems, and general public education programs on water conservation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 70.119A RCW to read as follows:

A municipal water supplier, as defined in RCW 90.03.015, must integrate conservation planning into its overall system operation and management and must appropriately fund conservation activities. A municipal water supplier must adopt and achieve water conservation objectives as part of its water system plan or small water system management program developed under chapter 43.20 RCW or as part of a coordinated water system plan under chapter 70.116 RCW. A municipal water supplier must improve the efficiency of its water system or systems over time, relative to past performance, and must assist the users of its water in improving the efficiency of their water use.

Prior to the date by which the department must adopt rules under section 10(2) of this act and for the purposes of chapter 90.03 RCW, a municipal water supplier with one thousand or more service connections is in compliance with the terms of its water system plan regarding water conservation if the supplier is in compliance with the conservation elements of its current plan and it can document an improvement in the efficiency of water use or delivery in the system over the last six years and there is no loss of conservation performance prior to the adoption of the rules.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 90.54 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall prioritize the expenditure of funds and other resources for programs related to streamflow restoration in watersheds where the exercise of inchoate water rights may have a larger effect on streamflows and other water uses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 43.20 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall consult with the departments of ecology, fish and wildlife, and community, trade, and economic development when it approves water system plans of public water systems. In approving such a plan, the department shall ensure that water service to be provided by the system under the plan for any new industrial, commercial, or residential use is consistent with the requirements of any comprehensive plans or development regulations adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW or any other comprehensive plan, land use plan, or development regulation adopted by a city, town, or county for the service area. The department shall also ensure that the plan accommodates the duty of the public water system to provide water for new residential use within its service area as described in section 14 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 43.20 RCW to read as follows:

The first choice of water supply for a new residential use of water within the service area of public water system, for which a public water system plan is required under this chapter, is water service from the public water system. The public water system has a duty to provide the water service within its service area if its service can be available in a timely and cost-effective manner and it has sufficient water rights to provide the service. Any water service provided shall be consistent with the requirements of any comprehensive plans or development regulations adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW or any other comprehensive plan, land use plan, or development regulation adopted by a city, town, or county for the service area. The service is available in a timely manner if the water can be provided within one hundred twenty days of the date the request for water service is made to the system by the party representing the new residential use, unless the party requests a longer period. The service is available in a cost-effective manner if the total cost to obtain the water from the public water system, including but not limited to construction and engineering costs, connection fees, and operating costs, does not exceed one hundred twenty percent of the total cost of providing water service from a well for the new residential use under the permit exemption of RCW 90.44.050.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 43.20 RCW to read as follows:

When a water system plan is regularly submitted to the department for review and approval, which on the effective date of this section occurs every six years, the plan must demonstrate that any new use of the inchoate water right of the system under the plan will be consistent with meeting the timelines and interim milestones established under section 5, chapter . . . , Laws of 2003 (section 5, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2336) or section 8, chapter . . . , Laws of 2003 (section 8, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1336) for achieving instream flows in the watershed in which water is diverted or withdrawn under the right. Public water systems shall provide public notice before submitting a water system plan or major revisions to a water system plan for approval under this chapter or under chapter 70.116 RCW. This section applies only to water systems for which a water system plan must be approved under this chapter or chapter 70.116 RCW.

Sec. 16. RCW 90.48.495 and 1989 c 348 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

The department of ecology shall require sewer plans to include a discussion of water conservation measures considered or underway that would reduce flows to the sewerage system and an analysis of their anticipated impact on public sewer service and treatment capacity.

Sec. 17. RCW 90.48.112 and 1997 c 444 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

The evaluation of any plans submitted under RCW 90.48.110 must include consideration of opportunities for the use of reclaimed water as defined in RCW 90.46.010. Wastewater plans submitted under RCW 90.48.110 must include a statement describing how applicable reclamation and reuse elements will be coordinated as required under RCW 90.46.120(2).

Sec. 18. RCW 90.46.120 and 1997 c 444 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The owner of a wastewater treatment facility that is reclaiming water with a permit issued under this chapter has the exclusive right to any reclaimed water generated by the wastewater treatment facility. Use and distribution of the reclaimed water by the owner of the wastewater treatment facility is exempt from the permit requirements of RCW 90.03.250 and 90.44.060. Revenues derived from the reclaimed water facility shall be used only to offset the cost of operation of the wastewater utility fund or other applicable source of system-wide funding.

(2) If the proposed use or uses of reclaimed water are intended to augment or replace potable water supplies or create the potential for the development of additional potable water supplies, such use or uses shall be considered in the development of the regional water supply plan or plans addressing potable water supply service by multiple water purveyors. The owner of a wastewater treatment facility that proposes to reclaim water shall be included as a participant in the development of such regional water supply plan or plans.

(3) Where opportunities for the use of reclaimed water exist within the period of time addressed by a water supply plan or coordinated water system plan developed under chapter 43.20 or 70.116 RCW, these plans must be developed and coordinated to ensure that opportunities for reclaimed water are evaluated. The requirements of this subsection (3) do not apply to water system plans developed under chapter 43.20 RCW for utilities serving less than one thousand service connections.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:

(1) An unperfected surface water right for municipal water supply purposes or a portion thereof held by a municipal water supplier may be changed or transferred in the same manner as provided by RCW 90.03.380 for any purpose if:

(a) The supplier is in compliance with the terms of an approved water system plan or small water system management program under chapter 43.20 or 70.116 RCW that applies to the supplier, including those regarding water conservation;

(b) Instream flows have been established by rule for the water resource inventory area, as established in chapter 173-500 WAC as it exists on the effective date of this section, that is the source of the water for the transfer or change;

(c) A comprehensive watershed plan has been approved for the water resource inventory area under chapter 90.82 RCW that satisfies the requirements of sections 5, 6, and 7, chapter . . ., Laws of 2003 (sections 5, 6, and 7 of SHB 1336) or has been adopted under RCW 90.54.040(1) that satisfies the requirements of section 9, chapter . . ., Laws of 2003 (section 9 of SHB 1336); and

(d) Stream flows that satisfy the instream flows referred to in (b) of this subsection are met or the milestones for satisfying those instream flows referred to in (c) of this subsection are being met.

(2) If the criteria listed in subsection (1)(a) through (d) of this section are not satisfied, an unperfected surface water right for municipal water supply purposes or a portion thereof held by a municipal water supplier may nonetheless be changed or transferred in the same manner as provided by RCW 90.03.380 if the change or transfer is:

(a) Subject to stream flow protection or restoration requirements contained in: A federally approved habitat conservation plan under the federal endangered species act, 16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 et seq., a hydropower license of the federal energy regulatory commission, or a watershed agreement established under section 21 of this act;

(b) For a water right that is subject to instream flow requirements or agreements with the department and the change or transfer is also subject to those instream flow requirements or agreements; or

(c) For resolving or alleviating a public health or safety emergency caused by a failing public water supply system currently providing potable water to existing users, as such a system is described in section 20 of this act, and if the change, transfer, or amendment is for correcting the actual or anticipated cause or causes of the public water system failure. Inadequate water rights for a public water system to serve existing hookups or to accommodate future population growth or other future uses do not constitute a public health or safety emergency.

(3) If the recipient of water under a change or transfer authorized by subsection (1) of this section is a water supply system, the receiving system must also be in compliance with the terms of an approved water system plan or small water system management program under chapter 43.20 or 70.116 RCW that applies to the system, including those regarding water conservation.

(4) The department must provide notice to affected tribes of any transfer or change proposed under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:

To be considered a failing public water system for the purposes of section 19 of this act, the department of health, in consultation with the department and the local health authority, must make a determination that the system meets one or more of the following conditions:

(1) A public water system has failed, or is in danger of failing within two years, to meet state board of health standards for the delivery of potable water to existing users in adequate quantity or quality to meet basic human drinking, cooking, and sanitation needs or to provide adequate fire protection flows;

(2) The current water source has failed or will fail so that the public water system is or will become incapable of exercising its existing water rights to meet existing needs for drinking, cooking, and sanitation purposes after all reasonable conservation efforts have been implemented; or

(3) A change in source is required to meet drinking water quality standards and avoid unreasonable treatment costs, or the state department of health determines that the existing source of supply is unacceptable for human use.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:

(1) On a pilot project basis, the department may enter into watershed agreements with one or more municipal water suppliers in a watershed to meet the objectives established in a water resource management program approved or being developed under chapter 90.82 RCW. The term of an agreement may not exceed ten years, but the agreement may be renewed or amended upon agreement of the parties.

(2) Watershed agreements must be consistent with:

(a) Growth management plans developed under chapter 36.70A RCW where these plans are adopted and in effect;

- (b) Water supply plans and small water system management programs approved under chapter 43.20 or 70.116 RCW;
- (c) Coordinated water supply plans approved under chapter 70.116 RCW; and
- (d) Water use efficiency and conservation requirements and standards established by the state department of health or such requirements and standards as are provided in an approved watershed plan, whichever are the more stringent.
- (3) A watershed agreement must:
- (a) Require the public water system operated by the participating municipal water supplier to meet obligations under the watershed plan;
- (b) Establish performance measures and timelines for measures to be completed;
- (c) Provide for monitoring of stream flows and metering of water use as needed to ensure that the terms of the agreement are met; and
- (d) Require annual reports from the water users regarding performance under the agreement.
- (4) As needed to implement watershed agreement activities, the department may provide or receive funding, or both, under its existing authorities.
- (5) The department must provide opportunity for public review of a proposed agreement before it is executed. The department must make proposed and executed watershed agreements and annual reports available on the department's internet web site.
- (6) The department must consult with affected local governments and the state departments of health and fish and wildlife before executing an agreement.
- (7) Before executing a watershed agreement, the department must conduct a government-to-government consultation with affected tribal governments. The municipal water suppliers operating the public water systems that are proposing to enter the agreements must be invited to participate in the consultations. During these consultations, the department and the municipal water suppliers shall explore the potential interest of the tribal governments or governments in participating in the agreement.
- (8) Any person aggrieved by the department's failure to satisfy the requirements in subsection (3) of this section as embodied in the department's decision to enter a watershed agreement under this section may, within thirty days of the execution of such an agreement, appeal the department's decision to the pollution control hearings board under chapter 43.21B RCW.
- (9) Any projects implemented by a municipal water system under the terms of an agreement reached under this section may be continued and maintained by the municipal water system after the agreement expires or is terminated as long as the conditions of the agreement under which they were implemented continue to be met.
- (10) The departments of ecology and fish and wildlife must select, with the approval of the county legislative authorities of the counties involved, up to two areas engaged in watershed planning under this chapter to participate on a voluntary basis in the pilot project. The pilot areas selected should be planning areas that are relatively advanced in the development and adoption of their plans.
- (11) Before December 31, 2003, and December 31, 2004, the department must report to the appropriate committees of the legislature the results of the pilot projects provided for in this section. Based on the experience of the pilot project areas, the department must offer any suggested changes in law that would improve, facilitate, and maximize the implementation of watershed plans adopted under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:
The department may not enter into new watershed agreements under section 21 of this act after July 1, 2008. This section does not apply to the renewal of agreements in effect prior to that date.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:
The department shall give priority to processing new water right applications under RCW 90.03.290, reservoir permits under RCW 90.03.370, and applications for changes and transfers under RCW 90.03.380 through 90.03.397, whenever necessary to provide for timely and effective implementation of a watershed plan adopted under chapter 90.82 RCW or RCW 90.54.040(1) or a watershed agreement authorized under section 21 of this act. This section applies only to the sequence of application processing and does not affect the relative priority date of any resulting water rights.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. A new section is added to chapter 90.44 RCW to read as follows:
The department shall give priority to processing new water right applications under RCW 90.44.050, and applications for changes and transfers under RCW 90.44.100 and 90.44.105, whenever necessary to provide for timely and effective implementation of a watershed plan adopted under chapter 90.82 RCW or RCW 90.54.040(1) or a watershed agreement authorized under section 21 of this act. This section applies only to the sequence of application processing and does not affect the relative priority date of any resulting water rights.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. The legislature does not intend to appropriate additional funds for the implementation of this act and expects all affected state agencies to implement this act's provisions within existing funds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

"Sec. 1. RCW 90.42.005 and 1991 c 347 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It is the policy of the state of Washington to recognize and preserve water rights in accordance with RCW 90.03.010.

(2) The legislature finds that:

(a) The state of Washington is faced with a shortage of water with which to meet existing and future needs, particularly during the summer and fall months and in dry years when the demand is greatest;

(b) Consistent with RCW 90.54.180, issuance of new water rights, voluntary water transfers, and conservation and water use efficiency programs, including storage, ~~((should be the preferred))~~ all are acceptable methods of addressing water uses because they can relieve current critical water situations, provide for presently unmet needs, and assist in meeting future water needs. Presently unmet needs or current needs includes the water required to increase the frequency of occurrence of base or minimum flow levels in streams of the state, the water necessary to satisfy existing water rights, or the water necessary to provide full supplies to existing water systems with current supply deficiencies; ~~((and))~~

(c) The interests of the state and its citizens will be served by developing programs and regional water resource plans, in cooperation with local governments, federally recognized tribal governments, appropriate federal agencies, private citizens, and the various water users and water interests in the state, that increase the overall ability to manage the state's waters in order to resolve conflicts and to better satisfy both present and future needs for water; and

(d) Water banking as a function of the trust water program and as authorized by this chapter can provide an effective means to facilitate the voluntary transfer of water rights established through conservation, purchase, lease, or donation, to preserve water rights and provide water for presently unmet and future needs; and to achieve a variety of water resource management objectives throughout the state, including drought response, improving streamflows on a voluntary basis, providing water mitigation, or reserving water supply for future uses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department is hereby authorized to use the trust water rights program in the Yakima river basin for water banking purposes.

(2) Water banking may be used for one or more of the following purposes:

(a) To authorize the use of trust water rights to mitigate for water resource impacts, future water supply needs, or any beneficial use under chapter 90.03, 90.44, or 90.54 RCW, consistent with any terms and conditions established by the transferor, except that return flows from water rights authorized in whole or in part for any purpose shall remain available as part of the Yakima basin's total water supply available and to satisfy existing rights for other downstream uses and users;

(b) To document transfers of water rights to and from the trust water rights program; and

(c) To provide a source of water rights the department can make available to third parties on a temporary or permanent basis for any beneficial use under chapter 90.03, 90.44, or 90.54 RCW.

(3) The department shall not use water banking to:

(a) Cause detriment or injury to existing rights;

(b) Issue temporary water rights or portions thereof for new potable uses requiring an adequate and reliable water supply under RCW 19.27.097;

(c) Administer federal project water rights, including federal storage rights; or

(d) Allow carryover of stored water from one water year to another water year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

(2) An application to transfer a water right to the trust water program shall be reviewed under RCW 90.03.380 at the time the water right is transferred to the trust water program for administration for water banking purposes, and notice of the application shall be published by the applicant as provided under RCW 90.03.280. The application must identify reasonably foreseeable future temporary or permanent beneficial uses for which the water right or portion thereof may be used by a third party upon transfer from the trust water right program. In the event the future place of use, period of use, or other elements of the water right are not specifically identified at the time of the transfer into the trust water program, another review under RCW 90.03.380 will be necessary at the time of a proposed transfer from the trust water program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department shall transfer a water right or portion thereof being administered for water banking purposes from the trust water program to a third party upon occurrence of all of the following:

(a) The department receives a request for transfer of a water right or portion thereof currently administered by the department for water banking purposes;

(b) The request is consistent with any previous review under RCW 90.03.380 of the water right and future temporary or permanent beneficial uses;

(c) The request is consistent with any condition, limitation, or agreement affecting the water right, including but not limited to any trust water right transfer agreement executed at the time the water right was transferred to the trust water rights program; and

(d) The request is accompanied by and is consistent with an assignment of interest or portion thereof from a person or entity retaining an interest in the trust water right or portion thereof to the party requesting transfer of the water right or portion thereof.

(2) The priority date of the water right or portion thereof transferred by the department from the trust water program for water banking purposes shall be the priority date of the underlying water right.

(3) The department shall issue documentation for that water right or portion thereof to the new water right holder based on the requirements applicable to the transfer of other water rights from the trust water rights program.

(4) The department's decision on the transfer of a water right or portion thereof from the trust water program for water banking purposes may be appealed to the pollution control hearings board under RCW 43.21B.230, or to a superior court conducting a general adjudication under RCW 90.03.210.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 90.42 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department shall seek input from agricultural organizations, federal agencies, tribal governments, local governments, watershed groups, conservation groups, and developers on water banking, including water banking procedures and identification of areas in Washington state where water banking could assist in providing water supplies for instream and out-of-stream uses. The department shall summarize any comments received on water banking and submit a report, including any recommendations, to the appropriate committees of the legislature for their consideration in the subsequent legislative session.

(2) By December 31st of every even-numbered year, the department shall submit a report to the appropriate committees of the legislature on water banking activities authorized under section 2 of this act. The report shall:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that thousands of patients are injured each year in the United States as a result of medical errors, and that a more comprehensive approach than looking only at the fault of individual practitioners is needed to effectively reduce the incidence of medical errors in our health care system. Incentives should be available to encourage health care providers, facilities, and health carriers to engage in proven patient safety and medical error reduction efforts. Investments in proven strategies can reduce medical errors, and thereby potentially reduce the need for disciplinary actions against licensed health care professionals and facilities, and the frequency and severity of medical malpractice claims. By authorizing contributions to fund proven patient safety and medical error reduction strategies through a patient safety program, the legislature intends to positively influence the safety and quality of care provided in Washington state's health care system.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 7.70 RCW to read as follows:

An injured claimant who receives a settlement or judgment in any action for damages based upon injuries resulting from health care may contribute a portion of that settlement or judgment to the department of health for deposit into the patient safety account established in section 5 of this act for the patient safety activities authorized in section 3 of this act. Proceeds of the contributions will be distributed by the department of health in the form of grants, loans, or other appropriate arrangements to support strategies that have been proven to reduce medical errors and enhance patient safety.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 43.70 RCW to read as follows:

Proceeds from the contributions authorized in section 2 of this act shall be administered by the department of health, in consultation with established patient safety coalitions. Upon receipt of at least one hundred thousand dollars in contributions under section 2 of this act or grants or other funds under section 4 of this act, patient safety proceeds will be distributed in the form of grants, loans, or other appropriate arrangements to support strategies that have been proven to reduce medical errors and enhance patient safety. In developing criteria for the award of grants, loans, or other funding arrangements under this section, the department shall:

(1) Consult with established patient safety coalitions and health care workers engaged in direct patient care activities; and

(2) Rely heavily upon evidence-based practices that have been shown to improve patient safety and have been identified and recommended by governmental and private organizations, including but not limited to:

- (a) The federal agency for health care quality and research;
- (b) The federal institute of medicine;
- (c) The joint commission on accreditation of health care organizations; and
- (d) The national quality forum.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 43.70 RCW to read as follows:

The secretary may solicit and accept grants or other funds from public and private sources to support patient safety and medical error reduction efforts under this act. Any grants or funds received may be used to enhance these activities as long as program standards established by the secretary are maintained.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 43.70 RCW to read as follows:

The patient safety account is created in the custody of the state treasurer. All receipts from contributions authorized in section 2 of this act must be deposited into the account. Expenditures from the account may be used only for the purposes of this act. Only the secretary or the secretary's designee may authorize expenditures from the account. The account is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but an appropriation is not required for expenditures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 43.70 RCW to read as follows:

Representative McDermott moved the adoption of amendment (302):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. INTENT. (1) The legislature finds that the federal clean water act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1251 et seq.) required large counties and cities in Washington to obtain municipal separate storm sewer system permits under phase one of the national pollutant discharge elimination system permit program. The legislature also finds that under phase two of this program, many other counties and cities in Washington will be required to obtain permits for their systems. The legislature recognizes that the department, as the state agency delegated authority to administer the federal permit program in Washington, is responsible for renewal of the phase one permits and issuance of the phase two permits. The legislature also recognizes that the department must determine whether it is in the state's interest to integrate these two permit programs and, if so, how to accomplish the integration.

(2) The legislature acknowledges and encourages the appropriate use of flexibility in storm water management. The legislature finds that storm water management must satisfy state and federal water quality requirements while also providing state and local agencies, development interests, and others with a flexible set of tools and alternatives that can help ensure cost-effective storm water management.

(3) The legislature finds that significant fragmentation in authority exists among local, state, and federal agencies in managing storm water and that these agencies can better coordinate standards, practices, and approaches for managing storm water. The legislature believes state agencies and local governments and, where appropriate, federal and tribal governments should identify streamlining opportunities to address and improve coordination of storm water management authority exercised by local, state, and federal jurisdictions.

(4) The legislature further finds that the federal permit programs and the state water pollution control laws provide numerous environmental and public health benefits to the citizens of Washington and to the state. The legislature also finds that storm water runoff can cause or increase pollution in our state's waters. The legislature further finds that failure to prevent and control pollution discharges, including those associated with storm water runoff, can damage public health and industries, such as shellfish production, for which water quality is a critical component of their existence.

(5) The legislature also finds that implementing these programs involves great effort and significant costs for municipalities. The legislature recognizes that under federal law, municipalities required to obtain permits under phase two of the national pollutant discharge elimination system have up to five years after permit issuance to develop and implement the permit requirements. The legislature finds that as these permits are being developed, the department needs to identify mechanisms by which the state can best achieve environmental benefits from storm water management and satisfy the federal clean water act permit requirements in the most cost-effective manner to address the impacts on municipalities in implementing these permit programs.

(6) The legislature finds that coordinated permit programs and cooperative storm water management programs between and among local governments may reduce costs and enhance program effectiveness.

(7) The legislature finds that a municipal separate storm sewer system faces different challenges than other types of storm sewer systems. The legislature recognizes the difficulty of predicting and sampling storm water pollutants in these systems. The legislature also recognizes the problems inherent in identifying the sources of and controlling the introduction of pollutants that may contribute to the contamination of storm water discharged through municipal separate storm sewer systems. Further, the legislature finds that municipal separate storm sewer systems have distinct characteristics that must be considered when the department develops permit programs to control storm water runoff, including that these systems may:

(a) Consist of complex, widely dispersed conveyance networks that drain public roads and other key elements of infrastructure;

(b) Include numerous inlets and outfalls that can be difficult to locate and maintain;

(c) Receive large volumes of diffuse storm water on an intermittent and unpredictable basis; and

(d) Receive storm water that has been polluted from a variety of sources.

(8) The legislature recognizes that in 2001 the department developed a stormwater management manual for western Washington. The legislature also recognizes that the department has established a stakeholder process in eastern Washington to develop a stormwater manual for that area of the state. The legislature finds that issues associated with storm water management in eastern Washington are significantly different from those in western Washington. The legislature also finds that the federal phase two permits developed by the department must recognize these differences.

(9) The legislature intends to:

(a) Provide direction to the department and to municipalities regarding the development and implementation of phase two of the federal clean water act's national pollutant discharge elimination system permit program in Washington;

(b) Recognize the eastern Washington stakeholder process for developing a stormwater manual and direct the department to work within that process when implementing the phase two program in eastern Washington; and

(c) Establish a stakeholder process to assist the department in identifying and addressing issues related to developing and implementing the federal national pollutant discharge elimination system permit programs in western Washington and to advise and assist the department as it drafts these permits.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 90.48 RCW to read as follows:

STANDARDS FOR MUNICIPAL SEPARATE STORM SEWER SYSTEM PERMITS. (1) In accordance with federal and state law, permits for municipal separate storm sewer systems shall require the development, implementation and enforcement of stormwater management programs designed to reduce the discharge of pollutants to the maximum extent practicable, to protect water quality, and to satisfy the appropriate water quality requirements of the federal clean water act and this chapter. Permits issued to municipalities subject to federal regulations implementing phase two of the national pollutant discharge elimination system permit program shall include the following minimum control measures established according to the federal regulations implementing the federal national pollutant discharge elimination system permit program:

(a) Public education and outreach on stormwater impacts;

(b) Public involvement and participation;

(c) Illicit discharge detection and elimination;

(d) Construction site storm water runoff control;

(e) Post-construction stormwater management in new development and redevelopment;

(f) Pollution prevention/good housekeeping for municipal operations, including:

(i) Compliance with any more stringent effluent limitations that modify or are in addition to the federal minimum control measures based on an approved total maximum daily load (TMDL) or equivalent analysis; and

(ii) evaluation of program compliance, the appropriateness of identified best management practices, and progress toward achieving identified measurable goals; and

(g) Appropriate recordkeeping and reporting requirements.

(2) For municipal separate storm sewer system permits, the reduction of pollutants to the maximum extent practicable (MEP) shall be equivalent to all known available and reasonable methods of prevention control and treatment (AKART). In interpreting and implementing these standards with respect to municipal separate storm sewer system permits, the department shall consider:

(a) Factors such as on-site practicability analysis, innovations, incentives for alternative storm water management strategies, and retrofit strategies for existing impervious surfaces within project boundaries; and

(b) Whether the probable benefits are greater than the probable costs, in a manner similar to that required for adoption of significant legislative rules according to RCW 34.05.328(1)(c).

(3) For the purposes of this section, narrative effluent limitations requiring the implementation of best management practices are generally the most appropriate form of effluent limitations when designed to satisfy the requirements of subsection (1) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 90.48 RCW to read as follows:

WATERSHED-BASED PERMITS. The department is encouraged to consider the development and issuance of permits for municipal separate storm sewer systems on a watershed basis. In determining whether to issue a general permit for municipal separate storm sewer systems by watershed, the department should consider the:

(1) Physical interconnections between and among municipal separate storm sewer systems;

(2) Location of discharges from municipalities required to obtain permits under phase two of the federal national pollutant discharge elimination system permit program relative to discharges from municipalities permitted and operating under phase one of the federal permit system;

(3) Potential for integrating municipalities permitted and operating under phase one of the federal national pollutant discharge elimination system permit program and those that will obtain permits and implement permit requirements under phase two of the federal permit system; and

(3) Relationships between and among municipalities and the potential to encourage and facilitate cooperative and cost-efficient programs for storm water management.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 90.48 RCW to read as follows:

INTERLOCAL COOPERATION. Local governments are encouraged to cooperate with each other, share resources and coordinate actions to develop and implement programs and activities to satisfy the requirements of permits issued to them according to this chapter. This section shall not be interpreted as a requirement for local governments. Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter or create exemptions to the requirements of chapter 39.04 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 90.48 RCW to read as follows:

WESTERN WASHINGTON PERMIT DEVELOPMENT ADVISORY GROUP. (1) The department shall establish a permit development advisory group for western Washington to advise and assist the department regarding permits for municipal separate storm sewer systems. The executive committee also shall review the responses to the request for proposals and select the facilitator. The department and the executive committee shall work expeditiously to select a facilitator who can begin working with the permit development advisory group by June 1, 2003.

Changing requirements regarding state and local tax to provide for municipal business and occupation tax uniformity and fairness.

The bill was read the second time.

Representative Kessler moved the adoption of amendment (323):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS AND INTENT. The legislature finds that businesses in Washington are concerned about the potential for multiple taxation that arises due to the various city business and occupation taxes and are concerned about the lack of uniformity among city jurisdictions. The current system has a negative impact on Washington's business climate. The legislature further finds that local business and occupation tax revenue provides a sizable portion of city revenue that is used for essential services. The legislature recognizes that local government services contribute to a healthy business climate.

The legislature intends to provide for a more uniform system of city business and occupation taxes that eliminates multiple taxation, while allowing for some continued local control and flexibility to cities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. MUNICIPAL BUSINESS AND OCCUPATION TAX-- LIMITED SCOPE. This act does not apply to taxes on any service that historically or traditionally has been taxed as a utility business for municipal tax purposes, such as:

- (1) A light and power business or a natural gas distribution business, as defined in RCW 82.16.010;
- (2) A telephone business, as defined in RCW 82.04.065;
- (3) Cable television services;
- (4) Sewer or water services;
- (5) Drainage services;
- (6) Solid waste services; or
- (7) Steam services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. MUNICIPAL GROSS RECEIPTS TAX--DEFINITIONS. The definitions in this section apply throughout this act, unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

- (1) "Business" has the same meaning as given in chapter 82.04 RCW.
- (2) "City" means a city, town, or code city.
- (3) "Business and occupation tax" or "gross receipts tax" means a tax imposed on or measured by the value of products, the gross income of the business, or the gross proceeds of sales, as the case may be, and that is the legal liability of the business.
- (4) "Value of products" has the same meaning as given in chapter 82.04 RCW.
- (5) "Gross income of the business" has the same meaning as given in chapter 82.04 RCW.
- (6) "Gross proceeds of sales" has the same meaning as given in chapter 82.04 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. MUNICIPAL BUSINESS AND OCCUPATION TAX--MODEL ORDINANCE. (1)(a) The cities, working through the association of Washington cities, shall form a model ordinance development committee made up of a representative sampling of cities that as of the effective date of this section impose a business and occupation tax. This committee shall work through the association of Washington cities to adopt a model ordinance on municipal gross receipts business and occupation tax. The model ordinance and subsequent amendments shall be adopted using a process that includes opportunity for substantial input from business stakeholders and other members of the public. Input shall be solicited from statewide business associations and from local chambers of commerce and downtown business associations in cities that levy a business and occupation tax.

(b) The municipal research council shall contract to post the model ordinance on an internet web site and to make paper copies available for inspection upon request. The department of revenue and the department of licensing shall post copies of or links to the model ordinance on their internet web sites. Additionally, a city that imposes a business and occupation tax must make copies of its ordinance available for inspection and copying as provided in chapter 42.17 RCW.

(c) The definitions and tax classifications in the model ordinance may not be amended more frequently than once every four years, however the model ordinance may be amended at any time to comply with changes in state law. Any amendment to a mandatory provision of the model ordinance must be adopted with the same effective date by all cities.

(2) A city that imposes a business and occupation tax must adopt the mandatory provisions of the model ordinance. The following provisions are mandatory:

- (a) A system of credits that meets the requirements of section 6 of this act and a form for such use;

(b) A uniform, minimum small business tax threshold of at least the equivalent of twenty thousand dollars in gross income annually. A city may elect to deviate from this requirement by creating a higher threshold or exemption but it shall not deviate lower than the level required in this subsection. If a city has a small business threshold or exemption in excess of that provided in this subsection as of January 1, 2003, and chooses to deviate below the threshold or exemption level that was in place as of January 1, 2003, the city must notify all businesses licensed to do business within the city at least one hundred twenty days prior to the potential implementation of a lower threshold or exemption amount;

(c) Tax reporting frequencies that meet the requirements of section 7 of this act;

(d) Penalty and interest provisions that meet the requirements of sections 8 and 9 of this act;

(e) Claim periods that meet the requirements of section 10 of this act;

(f) Refund provisions that meet the requirements of section 11 of this act; and

(g) Definitions, which at a minimum, must include the definitions enumerated in sections 3 and 12 of this act. The definitions in chapter 82.04 RCW shall be used as the baseline for all definitions in the model ordinance, and any deviation in the model ordinance from these definitions must be described by a comment in the model ordinance.

(3) Except for the system of credits developed to address multiple taxation under subsection (2)(a) of this section, a city may adopt its own provisions for tax exemptions, tax credits, and tax deductions.

(4) Any city that adopts an ordinance that deviates from the nonmandatory provisions of the model ordinance shall make a description of such differences available to the public, in written and electronic form.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. MUNICIPAL GROSS RECEIPTS TAX--NEXUS. A city may not impose a business and occupation tax on a person unless that person has nexus with the city. For the purposes of this section, the term "nexus" means business activities conducted by a person sufficient to subject that person to the taxing jurisdiction of a city under the standards established for interstate commerce under the commerce clause of the United States Constitution.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. MUNICIPAL BUSINESS AND OCCUPATION TAX-- MULTIPLE TAXATION--CREDIT SYSTEM. (1) A city that imposes a business and occupation tax shall provide for a system of credits to avoid multiple taxation as follows:

(a) Persons who engage in business activities that are within the purview of more than one classification of the tax shall be taxable under each applicable classification.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this section, if imposition of the tax would place an undue burden upon interstate commerce or violate constitutional requirements, a taxpayer shall be allowed a credit only to the extent necessary to preserve the validity of the tax.

(c) Persons taxable under the retailing or wholesaling classification with respect to selling products in a city shall be allowed a credit against those taxes for any eligible gross receipts taxes paid by the person (i) with respect to the manufacturing of the products sold in the city, and (ii) with respect to the extracting of the products, or the ingredients used in the products, sold in the city. The amount of the credit shall not exceed the tax liability arising with respect to the sale of those products.

(d) Persons taxable under the manufacturing classification with respect to manufacturing products in a city shall be allowed a credit against that tax for any eligible gross receipts tax paid by the person with respect to extracting the ingredients of the products manufactured in the city and with respect to manufacturing the products other than in the city. The amount of the credit shall not exceed the tax liability arising with respect to the manufacturing of those products.

(e) Persons taxable under the retailing or wholesaling classification with respect to selling products in a city shall be allowed a credit against those taxes for any eligible gross receipts taxes paid by the person with respect to the printing, or the printing and publishing, of the products sold within the city. The amount of the credit shall not exceed the tax liability arising with respect to the sale of those products.

(2) The model ordinance shall be drafted to address the issue of multiple taxation for those tax classifications that are in addition to those enumerated in subsection (1)(c) through (e) of this section. The objective of any such provisions shall be to eliminate multiple taxation of the same income by two or more cities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. MUNICIPAL BUSINESS AND OCCUPATION TAX-- REPORTING FREQUENCY. A city that imposes a business and occupation tax shall allow reporting and payment of tax on a monthly, quarterly, or annual basis. The frequency for any particular person may be assigned at the discretion of the city, except that monthly reporting may be assigned only if it can be demonstrated that the taxpayer is remitting excise tax to the state on a monthly basis. For persons assigned a monthly frequency, payment is due within the same time period provided for monthly taxpayers under RCW 82.32.045. For persons assigned a quarterly or annual frequency, payment is due within the same time period as provided for quarterly or annual frequency under RCW 82.32.045.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. MUNICIPAL BUSINESS AND OCCUPATION TAX-- PENALTIES AND INTEREST. (1) A city that imposes a business and occupation tax shall compute interest charged a taxpayer on an underpaid tax or penalty in accordance with RCW 82.32.050.

(2) A city that imposes a business and occupation tax shall compute interest paid on refunds or credits of amounts paid or other recovery allowed a taxpayer in accordance with RCW 82.32.060.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. MUNICIPAL BUSINESS AND OCCUPATION TAX-- PENALTIES. A city that imposes a business and occupation tax shall provide for the imposition of penalties in accordance with chapter 82.32 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. MUNICIPAL BUSINESS AND OCCUPATION TAX-- CLAIM PERIOD. The provisions relating to the time period allowed for an assessment or correction of an assessment for additional taxes, penalties, or interest shall be in accordance with chapter 82.32 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. MUNICIPAL BUSINESS AND OCCUPATION TAX-- REFUND PERIOD. The provisions relating to the time period allowed for a refund of taxes paid shall be in accordance with chapter 82.32 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. MUNICIPAL BUSINESS AND OCCUPATION TAX-- DEFINITIONS-- TAX CLASSIFICATIONS. (1) In addition to the definitions in section 3 of this act, the following terms and phrases must be defined in the model ordinance under section 4 of this act, and such definitions shall include any specific requirements as noted in this subsection:

- (a) Eligible gross receipts tax.
- (b) Extracting.
- (c) Manufacturing. Software development may not be defined as a manufacturing activity.
- (d) Retailing.
- (e) Retail sale.
- (f) Services. The term "services" excludes retail or wholesale services.
- (g) Wholesale sale.
- (h) Wholesaling.
- (i) To manufacture.
- (j) Commercial and industrial use.
- (k) Engaging in business.
- (l) Person.

(2) Any tax classifications in addition to those enumerated in subsection (1) of this section that are included in the model ordinance must be uniform among all cities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. MUNICIPAL BUSINESS AND OCCUPATION TAX-- ALLOCATION AND APPORTIONMENT OF INCOME. A city that imposes a business and occupation tax shall provide for the allocation and apportionment of a person's gross income, other than persons subject to the provisions of chapter 82.14A RCW, as follows:

(1) Gross income derived from all activities other than those taxed as service or royalties shall be allocated to the location where the activity takes place.

(a) In the case of sales of tangible personal property, the activity takes place where delivery to the buyer occurs.

(b) If a business activity allocated under this subsection (1) takes place in more than one city and all cities impose a gross receipts tax, a credit shall be allowed as provided in section 6 of this act; if not all of the cities impose a gross receipts tax, the affected cities shall allow another credit or allocation system as they and the taxpayer agree.

(2) Gross income derived as royalties from the granting of intangible rights shall be allocated to the commercial domicile of the taxpayer.

(3) Gross income derived from activities taxed as services shall be apportioned to a city by multiplying apportionable income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the payroll factor plus the service-income factor and the denominator of which is two.

(a) The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid in the city during the tax period by the taxpayer for compensation and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid everywhere during the tax period. Compensation is paid in the city if:

- (i) The individual is primarily assigned within the city;
- (ii) The individual is not primarily assigned to any place of business for the tax period and the employee performs fifty percent or more of his or her service for the tax period in the city; or
- (iii) The individual is not primarily assigned to any place of business for the tax period, the individual does not perform fifty percent or more of his or her service in any city and the employee resides in the city.

(b) The service income factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total service income of the taxpayer in the city during the tax period, and the denominator of which is the total service income of the taxpayer everywhere during the tax period. Service income is in the city if:

(i) The customer location is in the city; or

(ii) The income-producing activity is performed in more than one location and a greater proportion of the service-income-producing activity is performed in the city than in any other location, based on costs of performance, and the taxpayer is not taxable at the customer location; or

(iii) The service-income-producing activity is performed within the city, and the taxpayer is not taxable in the customer location.

(c) If the allocation and apportionment provisions of this subsection do not fairly represent the extent of the taxpayer's business activity in the city or cities in which the taxpayer does business, the taxpayer may petition for or the tax administrators may jointly require, in respect to all or any part of the taxpayer's business activity, that one of the following methods be used jointly by the cities to allocate or apportion gross income, if reasonable:

(i) Separate accounting;

(ii) The use of a single factor;

(iii) The inclusion of one or more additional factors that will fairly represent the taxpayer's business activity in the city; or

(iv) The employment of any other method to effectuate an equitable allocation and apportionment of the taxpayer's income.

(4) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section.

(a) "Apportionable income" means the gross income of the business taxable under the service classifications of a city's gross receipts tax, including income received from activities outside the city if the income would be taxable under the service classification if received from activities within the city, less any exemptions or deductions available.

(b) "Compensation" means wages, salaries, commissions, and any other form of remuneration paid to individuals for personal services that are or would be included in the individual's gross income under the federal internal revenue code.

(c) "Individual" means any individual who, under the usual common law rules applicable in determining the employer-employee relationship, has the status of an employee of that taxpayer.

(d) "Customer location" means the city or unincorporated area of a county where the majority of the contacts between the taxpayer and the customer take place.

(e) "Primarily assigned" means the business location of the taxpayer where the individual performs his or her duties.

(f) "Service-taxable income" or "service income" means gross income of the business subject to tax under either the service or royalty classification.

(g) "Tax period" means the calendar year during which tax liability is accrued. If taxes are reported by a taxpayer on a basis more frequent than once per year, taxpayers shall calculate the factors for the previous calendar year for reporting in the current calendar year and correct the reporting for the previous year when the factors are calculated for that year, but not later than the end of the first quarter of the following year.

(h) "Taxable in the customer location" means either that a taxpayer is subject to a gross receipts tax in the customer location for the privilege of doing business, or that the government where the customer is located has the authority to subject the taxpayer to gross receipts tax regardless of whether, in fact, the government does so.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. MUNICIPAL BUSINESS AND OCCUPATION TAX--IMPLEMENTATION BY CITIES--CONTINGENT AUTHORITY. Cities imposing business and occupation taxes must comply with all requirements of sections 2 through 13 of this act by December 31, 2004. A city that has not complied with the requirements of sections 2 through 13 of this act by December 31, 2004, may not impose a tax that is imposed by a city on the privilege of engaging in business activities. Cities imposing business and occupation taxes after December 31, 2004, must comply with sections 2 through 13 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. STUDY OF POTENTIAL NET FISCAL IMPACTS. (1) The department of revenue shall conduct a study of the net fiscal impacts of this act, with particular emphasis on the revenue impacts of the apportionment and allocation method contained in section 13 of this act and any revenue impact resulting from the increased uniformity and consistency provided through the model ordinance. In conducting the study, the department shall use, and regularly consult with, a committee composed of an equal representation from interested business representatives and from a representative sampling of cities imposing business and occupation taxes. The department shall report the final results of the study to the governor and the fiscal committees of the legislature by November 30, 2005. In addition, the department shall provide progress reports to the governor and the fiscal committees of the legislature on November 30, 2003, and November 30, 2004. As part of its report, the department shall examine and recommend options to address any adverse revenue impacts to local jurisdictions.

(2) For the purposes of this section, "net fiscal impacts" means accounting for the potential of both positive and negative fiscal impacts on local jurisdictions that may result from this act.

(3) It is the intent of the legislature through this study to provide accurate fiscal impact analysis and recommended options to alleviate revenue impacts from this act so as to allow local jurisdictions to anticipate and appropriately address any potential adverse revenue impacts from this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. BASELINE STUDY. The department of revenue shall report by December 31, 2004, to the governor and the fiscal committees of the legislature on the definitions used in the proposed model ordinance. The report shall detail the status of the definitions using the baseline standards under section 4(2)(g) of this act, noting any deviations from the definitions in chapter 82.04 RCW and the reason for such deviation. The report shall also estimate the fiscal impact on taxpayers of any deviations from the definitions under chapter 82.04 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. CAPTIONS. Captions used in this act are not any part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. Sections 2 through 14 of this act are each added to chapter 35.21 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. EFFECTIVE DATE. Section 13 of this act takes effect January 1, 2008."

Representative Santos moved the adoption of amendment (324) to amendment (323):

On page 9, after line 31, insert the following:

"Sec. 15. RCW 35.21.710 and 2002 c 179 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any city which imposes a license fee or tax upon business activities consisting of the making of retail sales of tangible personal property which are measured by gross receipts or gross income from such sales, shall impose such tax at a single uniform rate upon all such business activities.

(2)(a) Except as provided under subsection (c) of this subsection, the taxing authority granted to cities for taxes upon business activities measured by gross receipts or gross income from sales shall not exceed a rate of .0020; except that any city with an adopted ordinance at a higher rate, as of January 1, 1982 shall be limited to a maximum increase of ten percent of the January 1982 rate, not to exceed an annual incremental increase of two percent of current rate(~~PROVIDED, That~~).

(b) Any adopted ordinance which classifies according to different types of business or services shall be subject to both the ten percent and the two percent annual incremental increase limitation on each tax rate(~~PROVIDED FURTHER, That~~).

(c)(i) A city that has imposed a tax under this subsection (2) as of the effective date of section 13 of this act may increase the rate or rates of tax pursuant to this subsection (c).

(ii) A city that incurs a reduction in municipal business and occupation tax revenue due to the implementation of the apportionment provisions under section 13 of this act may adjust its rate or rates to the extent necessary to offset any revenue losses. Such rate adjustments may not take effect before January 1, 2008.

(3) All surtaxes on business and occupation classifications in effect as of January 1, 1982, shall expire no later than December 31, 1982, or by expiration date established by local ordinance.

(4) Cities which impose a license fee or tax upon business activities consisting of the making of retail sales of tangible personal property which are measured by gross receipts or gross income from such sales shall be required to submit an annual report to the state auditor identifying the rate established and the revenues received from each fee or tax.

(5) This section shall not apply to any business activities subject to the tax imposed by chapter 82.16 RCW.

(6) For purposes of this section, the providing to consumers of competitive telephone service, as defined in RCW 82.04.065, or the providing of payphone service, shall be subject to tax at the same rate as business activities consisting of the making of retail sales of tangible personal property. As used in this section, "payphone service" means making telephone service available to the public on a fee-per-call basis, independent of any other commercial transaction, for the purpose of making telephone calls, when the telephone can only be activated by inserting coins, calling collect, using a calling card or credit card, or dialing a toll-free number, and the provider of the service owns or leases the telephone equipment but does not own the telephone line providing the service to that equipment and has no affiliation with the owner of the telephone line."

'PART I ALTERNATIVE DELIVERY PROCEDURES FOR CONSTRUCTION SERVICES

NEW SECTION. Sec. 101. The legislature finds that there is a pressing need for additional transportation projects to meet the mobility needs of Washington's citizens. With major new investments approved to meet these pressing needs, additional workforce assistance is necessary to ensure and enhance project delivery timelines. Recruiting and retaining a high quality workforce, and implementing new and innovative procedures for delivering these transportation projects, is required to accomplish them on a timely basis that best serves the public. It is the intent of sections 103 and 104 of this act that no state employees will lose their employment as a result of implementing new and innovative project delivery procedures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 102. A new section is added to chapter 47.28 RCW to read as follows:
The definitions in this section apply throughout section 103 of this act and RCW 41.06.380 unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Construction services" means those services that aid in the delivery of the highway construction program and include, but are not limited to, real estate services and construction engineering services.

(2) "Construction engineering services" include, but are not limited to, construction management, construction administration, materials testing, materials documentation, contractor payments and general administration, construction oversight, and inspection and surveying.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 103. A new section is added to chapter 47.28 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department of transportation shall work with representatives of transportation labor groups to develop a financial incentive program to aid in retention and recruitment of employee classifications where problems exist and program delivery is negatively affected. The department's financial incentive program must be reviewed and approved by the legislature before it can be implemented. This program must support the goal of enhancing project delivery timelines as outlined in section 101 of this act. Upon receiving approval from the legislature, the department of personnel shall implement, as required, specific aspects of the financial incentive package, as developed by the department of transportation.

(2) Notwithstanding chapter 41.06 RCW, the department of transportation may acquire services from qualified private firms in order to deliver the transportation construction program to the public. Services may be acquired solely for augmenting the department's workforce capacity and only when the department's transportation construction program cannot be delivered through its existing or readily available workforce. The department of transportation shall work with representatives of transportation labor groups to develop and implement a program identifying those projects requiring contracted services while establishing a program as defined in subsection (1) of this section to provide the classified personnel necessary to deliver future construction programs. The procedures for acquiring construction engineering services from private firms may not be used to displace existing state employees nor diminish the number of existing classified positions in the present construction program. The acquisition procedures must be in accordance with chapter 39.80 RCW.

(3) Starting in December 2004, and biennially thereafter, the secretary shall report to the transportation committees of the legislature on the use of construction engineering services from private firms authorized under this section. The information provided to the committees must include an assessment of the benefits and costs associated with using construction engineering services, or other services, from private firms, and a comparison of public versus private sector costs. The secretary may act on these findings to ensure the most cost-effective means of service delivery.

Sec. 104. RCW 41.06.380 and 1979 ex.s. c 46 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Nothing contained in this chapter shall prohibit any department, as defined in RCW 41.06.020, from purchasing services by contract with individuals or business entities if such services were regularly purchased by valid contract by such department prior to April 23, 1979: PROVIDED, That no such contract may be executed or renewed if it would have the effect of terminating classified employees or classified employee positions existing at the time of the execution or renewal of the contract.

(2) Nothing contained in this chapter prohibits the department of transportation from purchasing construction services or construction engineering services, as those terms are defined in section 102 of this act, by contract from qualified private businesses as specified in section 103(2) of this act.

PART II APPRENTICESHIP AND ADJUSTMENTS TO PREVAILING WAGE PROVISIONS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. (1) The legislature finds that a skilled technical workforce is necessary for maintaining, preserving, and improving Washington's transportation system. The Blue Ribbon Commission on Transportation found that state and local transportation agencies are showing signs of a workforce that is insufficiently skilled to operate the transportation system at its highest level. Sections 201 through 206 of this act are intended to explore methods for fostering a stronger industry in transportation planning and engineering.

(2) It is the intent of the legislature that the state prevailing wage process operate efficiently, that the process allow contractors and workers to be paid promptly, and that new technologies and innovative outreach methods be used to enhance wage surveys in order to better reflect current wages in counties across the state.

(3) The legislature finds that in order to enhance the prevailing wage process it is appropriate for all intent and affidavit fees paid by contractors be dedicated to the sole purpose of administering the state prevailing wage program.

(4) To accomplish the intent of this section and in order to enhance the response of businesses and labor representatives to the prevailing wage survey process, the department of labor and industries shall undertake the following activities:

(a) Establish a goal of conducting surveys for each trade every three years;

(b) Actively promote increased response rates from all survey recipients in every county both urban and rural. The department shall provide public education and technical assistance to businesses, labor representatives, and public agencies in order to promote a better understanding of prevailing wage laws and increased participation in the prevailing wage survey process;

(c) Actively work with businesses, labor representatives, public agencies, and others to ensure the integrity of information used in the development of prevailing wage rates, and ensure uniform compliance with requirements of sections 201 through 206 of this act;

(d) Maintain a timely processing of intents and affidavits, with a target processing time no greater than seven working days from receipt of completed forms;

(e) Develop and implement electronic processing of intents and affidavits and promote the efficient and effective use of technology to improve the services provided by the prevailing wage program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 202. A new section is added to chapter 49.04 RCW to read as follows:

The apprenticeship council shall work with the department of transportation, local transportation jurisdictions, local and statewide joint apprenticeships, other apprenticeship programs, representatives of labor and business organizations with interest and expertise in the transportation workforce, and representatives of the state's universities and community and vocational colleges to establish technical apprenticeship opportunities specific to the needs of transportation. The council shall issue a report of findings and recommendations to the transportation committees of the legislature by December 1, 2003. The report must include, but not be limited to, findings and recommendations regarding the establishment of transportation technical training programs within the community and vocational college system and in the state universities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 203. A new section is added to chapter 47.01 RCW to read as follows:

The department of transportation shall work with local transportation jurisdictions and representatives of transportation labor groups to establish a human resources skills bank of transportation professionals. The skills bank must be designed to allow all transportation authorities to draw from it when needed. The department shall issue a report of findings and recommendations to the transportation committees of the legislature by December 1, 2003. The report must include, but not be limited to, identification of any statutory or administrative rule changes necessary to create the skills bank and allow it to function in the manner described.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 204. A new section is added to chapter 47.06 RCW to read as follows:

The state interest component of the statewide multimodal transportation plan must include a plan for enhancing the skills of the existing technical transportation workforce.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 205. The department of labor and industries, in cooperation with the department of transportation, shall conduct an assessment of the current practices, including survey techniques, used in setting prevailing wages for those trades related to transportation facilities and transportation project delivery. The assessment must include an analysis of regional variations and stratified random sampling survey methods. A final report must be submitted to the governor and the transportation and labor committees of the senate and house of representatives by July 1, 2003.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 206. A new section is added to chapter 39.12 RCW to read as follows:

- (1) In establishing the prevailing rate of wage under RCW 39.12.010, 39.12.015, and 39.12.020, all data collected by the department may be used only in the county for which the work was performed.
- (2) This section applies only to prevailing wage surveys initiated on or after August 1, 2003.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 207. The sum of one hundred thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated from the public works administration account to the department of labor and industries for the biennium ending June 30, 2005, to carry out the purposes of sections 201, 205, and 206 of this act.

PART III TRANSPORTATION PLANNING AND EFFICIENCY

NEW SECTION. Sec. 301. The legislature finds that roads, streets, bridges, and highways in the state represent public assets worth over one hundred billion dollars. These investments require regular maintenance and preservation, or rehabilitation, to provide cost-effective transportation services. Many of these facilities are in poor condition. Given the magnitude of public investment and the importance of safe, reliable roadways to the motoring public, the legislature intends to create stronger accountability to ensure that cost-effective maintenance and preservation is provided for these transportation facilities.

Sec. 302. RCW 35.84.060 and 1969 ex.s. c 281 s 26 are each amended to read as follows:

Every municipal corporation which owns or operates an urban public transportation system as defined in RCW 47.04.082 within its corporate limits((?)) may acquire, construct, extend, own, or operate such urban public transportation system to any point or points not to exceed fifteen miles outside of its corporate limits: PROVIDED, That no municipal corporation shall extend its urban public transportation system beyond its corporate limits to operate in any territory already served by a privately operated auto transportation company holding a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the utilities and transportation commission.

As a condition of receiving state funding, the municipal corporation shall submit a maintenance management plan for certification by the transportation commission or its successor entity. The plan must inventory all transportation system assets within the direction and control of the municipality, and provide a preservation plan based on lowest life cycle cost methodologies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 303. A new section is added to chapter 36.56 RCW to read as follows:

As a condition of receiving state funding, a county that has assumed the transportation functions of a metropolitan municipal corporation shall submit a maintenance and preservation management plan for certification by the transportation commission or its successor entity. The plan must inventory all transportation system assets within the direction and control of the county, and provide a preservation plan based on lowest life cycle cost methodologies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 304. A new section is added to chapter 36.57A RCW to read as follows:

As a condition of receiving state funding, a public transportation benefit area authority shall submit a maintenance and preservation management plan for certification by the transportation commission or its successor entity. The plan must inventory all transportation system assets within the direction and control of the authority, and provide a preservation plan based on lowest life cycle cost methodologies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 305. A new section is added to chapter 46.68 RCW to read as follows:

During the 2003-2005 biennium, cities and towns shall provide to the transportation commission, or its successor entity, preservation rating information on at least seventy percent of the total city and town arterial network. Thereafter, the preservation rating information requirement shall increase in five percent increments in subsequent biennia. The rating system used by cities and towns must be based upon the Washington state pavement rating method or an equivalent standard approved by the transportation commission or its successor entity.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 306. A new section is added to chapter 81.112 RCW to read as follows:

As a condition of receiving state funding, a regional transit authority shall submit a maintenance and preservation management plan for certification by the transportation commission or its successor entity. The plan must inventory all transportation system assets within the direction and control of the transit authority, and provide a plan for preservation of assets based on lowest life cycle cost methodologies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 307. A new section is added to chapter 36.78 RCW to read as follows:

The county road administration board, or its successor entity, shall establish a standard of good practice for maintenance of transportation system assets. This standard must be implemented by all counties no later than December 31, 2007. The board shall develop a model maintenance management system for use by counties. The board shall develop rules to assist the counties in the implementation of this system. Counties shall annually submit their maintenance plans to the board. The board shall compile the county data regarding maintenance management and annually submit it to the transportation commission or its successor entity.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 308. Part headings used in this act are not part of the law.

(1) In criminal and juvenile offense proceedings where independent proof of the corpus delicti is absent, and the alleged victim of the crime is dead or incompetent to testify, a lawfully obtained and otherwise admissible confession, admission, or other statement of the defendant shall be admissible into evidence if there is substantial independent evidence that would tend to establish the trustworthiness of the confession, admission, or other statement of the defendant.

(2) In determining whether there is substantial independent evidence that the confession, admission, or other statement of the defendant is trustworthy, the court shall consider, but is not limited to:

(a) Whether there is any evidence corroborating or contradicting the facts set out in the statement, including the elements of the offense;

(b) The character of the witness reporting the statement and the number of witnesses to the statement;

(c) Whether a record of the statement was made and the timing of the making of the record in relation to the making of the statement; and/or

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5279, By Senators Prentice, Swecker, Horn, Haugen, Doumit, Finkbeiner, Benton, Esser, Morton, Johnson, T. Sheldon, Hargrove, Brandland, Honeyford, Jacobsen, Oke and Rasmussen

Extending the expiration date of the transportation permit efficiency and accountability committee.

The bill was read the second time.

Representative Armstrong moved the adoption of amendment (327):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 47.01.290 and 1994 c 258 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature recognizes that environmental review of transportation projects is a continuous process that should begin at the earliest stages of planning and continue through final project construction. ~~((Early and extensive involvement of the relevant environmental regulatory authorities is critical in order to avoid significant changes in substantially completed project design and engineering.))~~ Streamlining the permit approval process is essential for reducing project delays and for making the most efficient use of every transportation dollar. It is the expectation of the legislature that if a comprehensive environmental approach is integrated throughout various transportation processes, onerous, duplicative, and time-consuming permit processes will be minimized. To this end, the legislature directs that substantive standards and best management practices governing the construction of transportation projects be jointly agreed upon by both the department and Washington's natural resource agencies. After these substantive standards have been agreed upon, the legislature finds that the greatest efficiency and effectiveness in both protecting our environmental resources and in constructing the transportation infrastructure required to serve Washington's growing population will come from the implementation of these standards by the department itself, with appropriate oversight, as defined in this act, by both natural resource agencies and local governments.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Best available information" means the existing sources of data, including limiting factors analyses required under chapter 77.85 RCW, that can be used to make informed decisions regarding environmental conditions within a watershed.

(2) "Best management practices" means currently available and generally accepted techniques, including new technologies or strategies that seek to reduce the negative impacts of transportation facilities, projects, and services on communities and the environment.

(3) "Committee" means the transportation permit efficiency and accountability committee created in section 3 of this act.

(4) "Least-cost planning" means the use of best available information within a watershed basin applied to transportation decision making in the planning, permitting, and mitigation phases of a project.

(5) "Programmatic permit" means a regulatory instrument that outlines permit conditions and obligations for a variety of similar project activities spanning a watershed ecosystem or geographically defined boundary, that once entered into by parties, delineates an applicant's proposed actions over a specific period of time, that may be conducted without the necessity of obtaining individual permits for the types of projects identified.

(6) "Transportation project of statewide significance" means a project or combination of projects that crosses two or more city or county jurisdictional boundaries.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. TRANSPORTATION PERMIT EFFICIENCY AND ACCOUNTABILITY COMMITTEE--CREATED. The transportation permit efficiency and accountability committee is created.

(1) The committee will consist of nine voting members, including two members from the house of representatives, one each selected by the speaker and the minority leader of the house; two members of the senate, one each selected by the senate majority leader and the senate minority leader; one member designated by the secretary of transportation; one member designated by the director of fish and wildlife; one member designated by the director of ecology; one member designated by the Association of Washington Cities, and one member designated by the Washington State Association of Counties. The committee shall elect a chair from the four legislators appointed to the committee.

(2) Representatives of additional organizations or groups, including but not limited to the following organizations and groups, may be invited by the committee to appear before the committee and advise and provide input to the committee: The state commissioner of public lands; the Northwest

Indian Fisheries Commission; the Columbia River Intertribal Fisheries Commission; the Consulting Engineers Council of Washington; the Associated General Contractors of Washington; the Washington Construction Industry Council; the Association of Washington Business; the Building Industry Association of Washington; any statewide environmental organization; the state fish and wildlife commission; the federal Environmental Protection Agency; the National Marine Fisheries Service; the Federal Highway Administration; and the United States Fish and Wildlife Service.

(3) The committee may create technical subcommittees to assist with drafting of and advice on decisions to adopt the standards described in section 4(1)(a) of this act. In order to use the broadest range of expertise available in writing the substantive standards, the committee may appoint any individual or any representative from any organization or agency as nonvoting members of these technical subcommittees to assist in developing standards governing specific topics.

(4) Legislative members of the committee will be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 44.04.120.

(5) The department of transportation office of environmental affairs shall provide administrative and clerical assistance to the committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. COMMITTEE--RESPONSIBILITIES. (1) By December 31, 2003, the committee shall:

(a) Develop concise environmental standards and best management practices for transportation projects that can be applied with certainty, consistency, and assurance of swift permit action, while taking into account the varying climate, geomorphologic, and hydrologic conditions throughout the state. The standards and best management practices must conform to all current relevant federal and state environmental regulations, and must be sufficient to protect critical areas as defined in chapter 36.70A RCW. Actions to achieve this goal must include identification and development of standards to govern both programmatic permits and individual project permits. Actions to achieve this goal may include the adoption of existing environmental standards, such as existing storm water manuals or other existing sources of standards and best management practices, if the committee decides that these existing resources meet or constitute state or federal environmental standards. These existing resources may be incorporated by reference into the standards developed by the committee. Nothing in this chapter may be interpreted as providing the committee any authority to engage in rule making other than for the purpose of drafting or adopting the standards specified in this subsection. Nothing in this chapter may be interpreted as expanding the rule-making authority of any state agency or as providing rule-making authority for any state agency, including those agencies participating on the committee;

(b) Create a streamlined consultation process for transportation projects for section 404 federal Clean Water Act and section 10 permits issued by the United States Army Corps of Engineers;

(c) Develop a least-cost methodology for analyzing environmental impacts and applying compensatory mitigation consistent with a watershed-based approach before final design;

(d) Assess models to collate and access watershed data to support early agency involvement in transportation planning and reviews under the federal Environmental Protection Act and the State Environmental Protection Act;

(e) Develop procedures to use existing best available information from a variety of sources including, but not limited to, watershed planning efforts, lead entities, regional fisheries enhancement groups, the salmon and steelhead inventory assessment project (SSIAHP), and other recognized entities as deemed appropriate by the committee, in order to determine potential mitigation site requirements for project actions within a watershed. Priority consideration should be given to the use of the state's alternative mitigation strategy to best link transportation mitigation needs with local watershed and lead entity project lists;

(f) Ensure that the department seeks federal delegation authorities to the state where appropriate to streamline permit processes including: Delegation of section 404 permit authority under the federal Clean Water Act; nonfederal lead agency status under the federal Endangered Species Act; section 106 cultural resource designation under the National Historic Preservation Act; and other appropriate authority that when delegated should result in permit streamlining.

(2) Upon completion of the drafting and adoption of the standards referred to in subsection (1)(a) of this section, the committee shall suspend its operation until it is reconvened to amend existing standards or draft or adopt additional standards as provided by section 9(4) of this act, or until it is required to draft a remediation plan as provided by section 9(3) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) Upon completion of the standard drafting or adoption process specified in section 4(1)(a) of this act, the department of ecology and the department of fish and wildlife shall delegate, to the maximum extent consistent with federal law, all environmental permitting authority currently exercised by these agencies, including, but not limited to, chapters 90.48, 90.58, and 77.55 RCW. The department of ecology and the department of fish and wildlife shall delegate authority by certifying the department to self-permit with regard to all state environmental permits currently issued, approved, or consulted upon by the department of ecology and the department of fish and wildlife.

(2) As part of the department's self-permitting process, the department shall, before issuing the final permit for a transportation project of statewide significance, send a draft copy of the permit to both the department of ecology and the department of fish and wildlife for review and comment. The departments of ecology and fish and wildlife shall limit their comments to whether the department has complied with the substantive standards and best management practices developed under section 4(1)(a) of this act. The departments of ecology and fish and wildlife have thirty days to review and comment on the draft permit.

(3) Upon completion of the drafting or adoption process specified in section 4(1)(a) of this act, the department shall review the department's construction project list to determine which projects can be included in programmatic or general permits under the standards adopted under section 4(1)(a) of this act. The department shall issue seventy percent of delegated permits through use of the programmatic and general permits consistent with the standards.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) Upon the certification provided for by section 5 of this act or recertification provided for by section 9 of this act, the department is exempt from obtaining any permit issued by a county, city, or town, regarding a transportation project of statewide significance, including, but not limited to, any permit issued under chapter 90.58 RCW, any permit related to regulation of critical areas under chapter 36.70A RCW, and any permit required for filling, grading, building, or construction, or any other permit required for a transportation project of statewide significance, that would otherwise be issued under a local ordinance meeting the definition of a development regulation under chapter 35.63, 35A.63, 36.70, 36.70A, or 36.70B RCW.

(2) For transportation projects of statewide significance, the department shall serve as the lead entity for all review required under the State Environmental Protection Act (SEPA), chapter 43.21C RCW. Nothing in this section may be construed as limiting the ability of local governments to participate in the SEPA process as provided for in chapter 43.21C RCW.

(3) In addition to local government participation in the SEPA process and as part of the self-permitting process set forth in this chapter, the department shall, before issuing the final permit for a transportation project of statewide significance, send a draft copy of the permit to each local government in whose jurisdiction the project is being constructed for review and comment. Each local government will have thirty days to review and comment on the draft permit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The department of ecology and the department of fish and wildlife may conduct inspections of projects performed by the department of transportation where the department of transportation has issued permits under authority delegated by the department of ecology or the department of fish and wildlife. If an inspector from the department of ecology or the department of fish and wildlife discovers an example of substantial noncompliance with the standards developed under section 4 of this act, the inspector shall document that example and issue a detailed report of that example, which shall be transmitted to the department of transportation. The department of transportation may issue a formal response to the report addressing whether it believes that the department or its contractors failed to substantially comply with the standards developed under section 4 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Every two years the department shall send to the legislature, the governor, the department of ecology, and the department of fish and wildlife a report detailing its self-permitting activities over the previous two years. The report must include a detailed description of all permits issued during the previous two years and must include detailed analysis of all instances of noncompliance with the standards developed under section 4(1)(a) of this act, as well as all measures taken to prevent any future noncompliance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) Every four years, the department of fish and wildlife and the department of ecology shall jointly conduct a review of the department's self-permitting practices. The department of ecology and the department of fish and wildlife shall submit a report on the performance of the department to the legislature and the governor. The report must include a recommendation as to whether the department should be decertified from self-permitting. The department of ecology and the department of fish and wildlife may recommend that the department be decertified from self-permitting only if they find that the department has engaged in repeated substantial noncompliance with the substantive standards developed and adopted under section 4(1)(a) of this act. The department of ecology and the department of fish and wildlife shall specifically identify all instances of substantial noncompliance, and shall additionally identify measures that could be implemented to prevent the substantial noncompliance in the future. For purposes of this section, "repeated substantial noncompliance" means repeated failure to meet the substantive standards and best management practices developed and adopted under section 4(1)(a) of this act that causes more than de minimis actual harm to fish and wildlife or their associated habitat.

(2) Upon a joint finding by the department of ecology and the department of fish and wildlife that the department has engaged in repeated substantial noncompliance with the substantive standards developed under section 4(1)(a) of this act, the governor may decertify the department from self-permitting. The notice of decertification by the governor to the department must include written findings that support the basis for decertification. Upon decertification, all delegation of permitting authority from the departments of ecology and fish and wildlife, and the department's exemption from the requirements to obtain local permits as provided for in section 6(1) of this act, is suspended until the committee has developed and imposed a remediation plan as governed by subsection (3) of this section.

(3) Upon decertification of the department by the governor under subsection (2) of this section, the committee shall meet and develop a remediation plan to identify and correct department procedures that were responsible for, or contributed to, the department's substantial noncompliance with the standards. The department shall implement the remediation plan developed by the committee. Upon full implementation of the remediation plan, the department of ecology and the department of fish and wildlife shall recertify the department to self-permit.

(4) Following the four-year review specified in subsection (1) of this section, the department of ecology, the department of fish and wildlife, or the department of transportation may reconvene the committee and propose amendments or additions to the substantive standards adopted under section 4(1)(a) of this act. The committee shall use the same process for amending standards or adopting additional standards as were used to draft or adopt the initial standards as specified in section 4 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. DEPARTMENT ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATIVE ACTIONS. The legislature finds that an essential component of delegated federal or state permitting authority to the department is the ability of the department to demonstrate the capacity to meet environmental responsibilities. Therefore, the legislature directs that:

(1) Environmental staff within the department shall lead the development of all environmental documentation associated with department projects and permit activities in accordance with the department's managing project delivery tools.

(2) Certified environmental staff or certified consultants shall be given the responsibility to draft environmental permits for the department.

(3) The department shall conduct special prebid meetings for projects that are environmentally complex. In addition, the department shall review environmental considerations related to these projects during the preconstruction meeting held with the contractor who is awarded the bid.

(4) Environmental staff at the department shall conduct field inspections to ensure that project activities are performed under permit conditions. These inspectors may issue stop work orders when compliance with permit standards are not being met. For this portion of their job duties, the inspectors are accountable to the director of the office of environmental services of the department.

(5) Failure to comply with a stop work order may result in civil penalties being assessed against the department and individuals involved. Willful violation by an agency or individual of a stop work notice issued by the department is subject to civil penalties. Continued failure to comply or willful violations by the department may result in loss of permit writing and program management responsibilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. TRAINING AND COMPLIANCE. The legislature expects the department to continue its efforts to improve training and compliance. The department shall:

(1) Provide training in environmental procedures and permit requirements for those responsible for project delivery activities;

(2) Provide resource agency-approved certification training for permit writers and environmental inspectors;

(3) Require wetland mitigation sites to be designed by biologists or landscape architects certified by the department of ecology's wetland program. Environmental mitigation site improvements must have oversight conducted by environmental staff;

(4) Develop an environmental compliance data system to track all permit conditions; and

(5) Keep detailed records of all noncompliance activities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 77.55 RCW to read as follows: Where the department of fish and wildlife has delegated hydraulic project permit approval authority contained in this chapter to the department of transportation under chapter 47.--- RCW (sections 2 through 11 of this act), the department of transportation will be substituted for the department of fish and wildlife in an appeal of the approval of a permit concerning a hydraulic project that is a transportation project of statewide significance as defined in section 2 of this act. The appeal process for the permits issued by the department of transportation under authority delegated by the department of fish and wildlife will operate in the same manner as for permits granted by the department of fish and wildlife under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Captions used in this act are not part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Sections 2 through 11 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 47 RCW."

FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL AND HEALTH SERVICES. (1) Appropriations made in this act to the department of social and health services shall initially be allotted as required by this act. Subsequent allotment modifications shall not include transfers of moneys between sections of this act except as expressly provided in this act, nor shall allotment modifications permit moneys that are provided solely for a specified purpose to be used for other than that purpose, except as expressly provided in subsection (3) of this section.

(2) The department of social and health services shall not initiate any services that will require expenditure of state general fund moneys unless expressly authorized in this act or other law. The department may seek, receive, and spend, under RCW 43.79.260 through 43.79.282, federal moneys not anticipated in this act as long as the federal funding does not require expenditure of state moneys for the program in excess of amounts anticipated in this act. If the department receives unanticipated unrestricted federal moneys, those moneys shall be spent for services authorized in this act or in any other legislation providing appropriation authority, and an equal amount of appropriated state general fund moneys shall lapse. Upon the lapsing of any moneys under this subsection, the office of financial management shall notify the legislative fiscal committees. As used in this subsection, "unrestricted federal moneys" includes block grants and other funds that federal law does not require to be spent on specifically defined projects or matched on a formula basis by state funds.

(3)(a) The appropriations to the department of social and health services in this act shall be expended for the programs and in the amounts specified in this act. However, after May 1, 2002, unless specifically prohibited by this act, the department may transfer general fund--state appropriations for fiscal year 2002 among programs after approval by the director of financial management; and after May 1, 2003, the department may transfer general fund--state appropriations for fiscal year 2003 among programs after such approval. However, the department shall not transfer state moneys that are provided solely for a specified purpose except as expressly provided in subsection (3)(b) of this section.

(b) To the extent that transfers under subsection (3)(a) of this section are insufficient to fund actual expenditures in excess of fiscal year 2002 or fiscal year 2003 caseload forecasts and utilization assumptions in the medical assistance, long-term care, foster care, adoption support, and child support programs, the department may transfer state moneys that are provided solely for a specified purpose after approval by the director of financial management.

(c) The director of financial management shall notify the appropriate fiscal committees of the senate and house of representatives in writing prior to approving any allotment modifications.

(4) In the event the department receives additional unrestricted federal funds or achieves savings in excess of that anticipated in this act, the department shall use up to $5,000,000 of such funds to initiate a pilot project providing integrated support services to homeless individuals needing mental health services, alcohol or substance abuse treatment, medical care, or who demonstrate community safety concerns. Before such a pilot project is initiated, the department shall notify the fiscal committees of the legislature of the plans for such a pilot project including the source of funds to be used.

(3) $524,000 of the general fund--state fiscal year 2002 appropriation, $375,000 of the general fund--state fiscal year 2003 appropriation, and $161,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided for up to three nonfacility-based programs for the training, consultation, support, and recruitment of biological, foster, and adoptive parents of children through age three in need of special care as a result of substance abuse by their mothers, except that each program may serve up to three medically fragile nonsubstance-abuse-affected children. In selecting nonfacility-based programs, preference shall be given to programs whose federal or private funding sources have expired or that have successfully performed under the existing pediatric interim care program.

(4) $1,260,000 of the fiscal year 2002 general fund--state appropriation, $1,248,000 of the fiscal year 2003 general fund--state appropriation, and $4,150,000 of the violence reduction and drug enforcement account appropriation are provided solely for the family policy council and community public health and safety networks. The funding level for the family policy council and community public health and safety networks represents a 25 percent reduction below the funding level for the 1999-2001 biennium. Funding levels shall be reduced 25 percent for both the family policy council and network grants. Reductions to network grants shall be allocated so as to maintain current funding levels, to the greatest extent possible, for projects with the strongest evidence of positive outcomes and for networks with substantial compliance with contracts for network grants.

(5) $2,215,000 of the fiscal year 2002 general fund--state appropriation, $4,394,000 of the fiscal year 2003 general fund--state appropriation, and $5,604,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for reducing the average caseload level per case-carrying social worker. Average caseload reductions are intended to increase the amount of time social workers spend in direct contact with the children, families, and foster parents involved with their open cases. The department shall use some of the funds provided in several local offices to increase staff that support case-carrying social workers in ways that will allow social workers to increase direct contact time with children, families, and foster parents. To achieve the goal of reaching an average caseload ratio of 1:24 by the end of fiscal year 2003, the department shall develop a plan for redeploying 30 FTEs to case-carrying social worker and support positions from other areas in the children and family services budget. The FTE redeployment plan shall be submitted to the fiscal committees of the legislature by December 1, 2001.

(6) $1,000,000 of the fiscal year 2002 general fund--state appropriation and $1,000,000 of the fiscal year 2003 general fund--state appropriation are provided solely for increasing foster parent respite care services that improve the retention of foster parents and increase the stability of foster placements. The department shall report quarterly to the appropriate committees of the legislature progress against appropriate baseline measures for foster parent retention and stability of foster placements.

(7) $1,050,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation is provided solely for increasing kinship care placements for children who otherwise would likely be placed in foster care. These funds shall be used for extraordinary costs incurred by relatives at the time of placement, or for extraordinary costs incurred by relatives after placement if such costs would likely cause a disruption in the kinship care placement. $50,000 of the funds provided shall be contracted to the Washington institute for public policy to conduct a study of kinship care placements. The study shall examine the prevalence and needs of families who are raising related children and shall compare services and policies of Washington state with other states that have a higher rate of kinship care placements in lieu of foster care placements. The study shall identify possible changes in services and policies that are likely to increase appropriate kinship care placements.

(8) $3,386,000 of the fiscal year 2002 general fund--state appropriation, $5,710,000 of the fiscal year 2003 general fund--state appropriation, and $19,819,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for increases in the cost per case for foster care and adoption support. $16,000,000 of the general fund--federal amount shall remain unallotted until the office of financial management approves a plan submitted by the department to achieve a higher rate of federal earnings in the foster care program. That plan shall also be submitted to the fiscal committees of the legislature and shall indicate projected federal revenue compared to actual fiscal year 2001 levels. Within the amounts provided for foster care, the department shall increase the basic rate for foster care to an average of $420 per month on July 1, 2001. The department shall use the remaining funds provided in this subsection to pay for increases in the cost per case for foster care and adoption support. The department shall seek to control rate increases and reimbursement decisions for foster care and adoption support cases such that the cost per case for family foster care, group care, receiving homes, and adoption support does not exceed the amount assumed in the projected caseload expenditures plus the amounts provided in this subsection. By April 2003, the department shall adjust adoption support benefits to account for the availability of the new federal adoption support tax credit for special needs children.

(9) $1,767,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2002, $1,767,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2003, and $1,241,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for rate and capacity increases for child placing agencies. Child placing agencies shall increase their capacity by 15 percent in fiscal year 2002.

(10) The department shall provide secure crisis residential facilities across the state in a manner that: (a) Retains geographic provision of these services; and (b) retains beds in high use areas.

(11) $125,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2002 and $125,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2003 are provided solely for a foster parent retention program. This program is directed at foster parents caring for children who act out sexually, as described in House Bill No. 1525 (foster parent retention program).

Sec. 204. 2002 c 371 s 204 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL AND HEALTH SERVICES--MENTAL HEALTH PROGRAM

(1) COMMUNITY SERVICES/REGIONAL SUPPORT NETWORKS

General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 2002) $194,566,000

General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 2003) (~~($177,206,000)~~)

$179,547,000

General Fund--Federal Appropriation (~~($358,377,000)~~)

$360,727,000

General Fund--Local Appropriation $25,596,000

Health Services Account--State Appropriation $2,450,000

TOTAL APPROPRIATION (~~($758,195,000)~~)

$762,886,000

The appropriations in this subsection are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) Regional support networks shall use portions of the general fund--state appropriation for implementation of working agreements with the vocational rehabilitation program which will maximize the use of federal funding for vocational programs.

(b) From the general fund--state appropriations in this subsection, the secretary of social and health services shall assure that regional support networks reimburse the aging and adult services program for the general fund--state cost of medicaid personal care services that enrolled regional support network consumers use because of their psychiatric disability.

(c) $388,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2002, $2,829,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2003, and $3,157,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for development and operation of community residential and support services for persons whose treatment needs constitute substantial barriers to community placement and who no longer require active psychiatric treatment at an inpatient hospital level of care, no longer meet the criteria for inpatient involuntary commitment, and who are clinically ready for discharge from a state psychiatric hospital. In the event that enough patients are not transitioned or diverted from the state hospitals to close at least two hospital wards by July 2002, and four additional wards by April 2003, a proportional share of these funds shall be transferred to the appropriations in subsection (2) of this section to support continued care of the patients in the state hospitals. Primary responsibility and accountability for provision of appropriate community support for persons placed with these funds shall reside with the mental health program and the regional support networks, with partnership and active support from the alcohol and substance abuse and from the aging and adult services programs. The department shall negotiate performance-based incentive contracts to provide appropriate community support services for individuals leaving the state hospitals under this subsection. The department shall first seek to contract with regional support networks before offering a contract to any other party. The funds appropriated in this subsection shall not be considered "available resources" as defined in RCW 71.24.025 and are not subject to the standard allocation formula applied in accordance with RCW 71.24.035(13)(a).

(d) At least $1,000,000 of the federal block grant funding appropriated in this subsection shall be used for (i) initial development, training, and operation of the community support teams which will work with long-term state hospital residents prior and subsequent to their return to the community; and (ii) development of support strategies which will reduce the unnecessary and excessive use of state and local hospitals for short-term crisis stabilization services. Such strategies may include training and technical assistance to community long-term care and substance abuse providers; the development of diversion beds and stabilization support teams; examination of state hospital policies regarding admissions; and the development of new contractual standards to assure that the statutory requirement that 85 percent of short-term detentions be managed locally is being fulfilled. The department shall report to the fiscal and policy committees of the legislature on the results of these efforts by November 1, 2001, and again by November 1, 2002.

(e) The department is authorized to implement a new formula for allocating available resources among the regional support networks. The distribution formula shall use the number of persons eligible for the state medical programs funded under chapter 74.09 RCW as the measure of the requirement for the number of acutely mentally ill, chronically mentally ill, severely emotionally disturbed children, and seriously disturbed in accordance with RCW 71.24.035(13)(a). The new formula shall be phased in over a period of no less than six years. Furthermore, the department shall increase the medicaid capitation rates which a regional support network would otherwise receive under the formula by an amount sufficient to assure that total funding allocated to the regional support network in fiscal year 2002 increases by up to 3.5 percent over the amount actually paid to that regional support network in fiscal year 2001, and by up to an additional 5.0 percent in fiscal year 2003, if total funding to the regional support network would otherwise increase by less than those percentages under the new formula, and provided that the nonfederal share of the higher medicaid payment rate is provided by the regional support network from local funds.

(f) Within funds appropriated in this subsection, the department shall contract with the Clark county regional support network for development and operation of a project demonstrating collaborative methods for providing intensive mental health services in the school setting for severely emotionally disturbed children who are medicaid eligible. Project services are to be delivered by teachers and teaching assistants who qualify as, or who are under the supervision of, mental health professionals meeting the requirements of chapter 275-57 WAC. The department shall increase medicaid payments to the regional support network by the amount necessary to cover the necessary and allowable costs of the demonstration, not to exceed the upper payment limit specified for the regional support network in the department's medicaid waiver agreement with the federal government after meeting all other medicaid spending requirements assumed in this subsection. The regional support network shall provide the department with (i) periodic reports on project service levels, methods, and outcomes; and (ii) an intergovernmental transfer equal to the state share of the increased medicaid payment provided for operation of this project.

(g) The health services account appropriation is provided solely for implementation of strategies which the department and the affected regional support networks conclude will best assure continued availability of community-based inpatient psychiatric services in all areas of the state. Such strategies may include, but are not limited to, emergency contracts for continued operation of inpatient facilities otherwise at risk of closure because of demonstrated uncompensated care; start-up grants for development of evaluation and treatment facilities; and increases in the rate paid for inpatient psychiatric services for medically indigent and/or general assistance for the unemployed patients. The funds provided in this subsection must be: (i) Prioritized for use in those areas of the state which are at greatest risk of lacking sufficient inpatient psychiatric treatment capacity, rather than being distributed on a formula basis; (ii) prioritized for use by those hospitals which do not receive low-income disproportionate share hospital payments as of the date of application for funding; and (iii) matched on a one-quarter local, three-quarters state basis by funding from the regional support network or networks in the area in which the funds are expended. Payments from the amount provided in this subsection shall not be made to any provider that has not agreed that, except for prospective rate increases, the payment shall offset, on a dollar-for-dollar basis, any liability that may be established against, or any settlement that may be agreed to by the state, regarding the rate of state reimbursement for inpatient psychiatric care. The funds provided in this subsection shall not be considered "available resources" as defined in RCW 71.24.025 and are not subject to the distribution formula established pursuant to RCW 71.24.035.

((+)) (h) The department shall assure that each regional support network increases spending on direct client services in fiscal years 2002 and 2003 by at least the same percentage as the total state, federal, and local funds allocated to the regional support network in those years exceeds the amounts allocated to it in fiscal year 2001.

((+)) (i) The department shall reduce state funding otherwise payable to a regional support network in fiscal years 2002 and 2003 by the full amount by which the regional support network's reserves and fund balances as of December 31, 2001, exceed the required risk reserve for that regional support network. The required reserve amount shall be calculated by applying the risk reserve percentage specified in the department's contract with the regional support network to the total state and federal revenues for which the regional support network would otherwise be eligible in accordance with this subsection. As used in this subsection, "reserves" does not include capital project reserves established in accordance with state accounting and reporting standards before January 1, 2002.

No such patient is to move from the hospital until a team of community professionals has become familiar with the person and their treatment plan; assessed their strengths, preferences, and needs; arranged a safe, clinically-appropriate, and stable place for them to live; assured that other needed medical, behavioral, and social services are in place; and is contracted to monitor the person's progress on an ongoing basis. The department and the regional support networks shall endeavor to assure that hospital patients are able to return to their area of origin, and that placements are not concentrated in proximity to the hospitals.

(d) For each month subsequent to the month in which a state hospital bed has been closed in accordance with (c) of this subsection, the mental health program shall transfer to the medical assistance program state funds equal to the state share of the monthly per capita expenditure amount estimated for categorically needy-disabled persons in the most recent forecast of medical assistance expenditures.

The legislature finds that providing cash assistance to individuals and families needing these supports promotes self-determination and independence. It is the intent of the legislature that the department shall comply with federal requirements to maintain aggregate funding for SSI state supplemental payments while promoting self-determination and independence for persons with developmental disabilities in families with taxable incomes at or below 150 percent of median family income. Individuals receiving family support or high school transition payments shall not become eligible for medical assistance under RCW 74.09.510 due solely to the receipt of SSI state supplemental payments. (~~These amounts and the specified expansion of community services are intended to be the fiscal component of the negotiated settlement in the pending litigation on developmental disabilities services, ARC v. Quasim.~~)

(~~(e))~~) (b) The health services account appropriation and $904,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for health care benefits for home care workers with family incomes below 200 percent of the federal poverty level who are employed through state contracts for twenty hours per week or more. The department shall ensure that the average cost per day for all program services other than start-up costs shall not exceed $280. If the number and timing of residents choosing to move into community settings is not sufficient to achieve the RHC cottage consolidation plan assumed in the appropriations in subsection (2) of this section, the department shall transfer sufficient appropriations from this subsection to subsection (2) of this section to cover the added costs incurred in the RHCs. The department shall report to the appropriate committees of the legislature, within 45 days following each fiscal year quarter, the number of residents moving into community settings and the actual expenditures for all community services to support those residents.

The department shall report to the appropriate committees of the legislature, within 45 days following each fiscal year quarter, the number of persons served with these additional community services, where they were residing, what kinds of services they were receiving prior to placement, and the actual expenditures for all community services to support these clients.

(~~((f))~~) (e) The department shall not increase total enrollment in home and community based waivers for persons with developmental disabilities except for changes assumed in additional funding provided in subsections (~~((b), (d), and (e))~~) (c) and (d) of this section. Prior to submitting to the health care financing authority any additional home and community based waiver request for persons with developmental disabilities, the department shall submit a summary of the waiver request to the appropriate committees of the legislature. The summary shall include eligibility criteria, program description, enrollment projections and limits, and budget and cost effectiveness projections that distinguish the requested waiver from other existing or proposed waivers.

((~~e~~)) (f) $1,000,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2002 and $1,000,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2003 are provided solely for employment, or other day activities and training programs, for young adults with developmental disabilities who complete their high school curriculum in 2001 or 2002. These services are intended to assist with the transition to work and more independent living. Funding shall be used to the greatest extent possible for vocational rehabilitation services matched with federal funding. In recent years, the state general fund appropriation for employment and day programs has been underspent. These surpluses, built into the carry forward level budget, shall be redeployed for high school transition services.

In consultation with the statewide associations representing such agencies, the department shall establish a mechanism for testing the extent to which funds have been used for this purpose, and report the results to the fiscal committees of the legislature by February 1, 2002.

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) The department shall increase its efforts to restrain the growth of health care costs. The appropriations in this section anticipate that the department implements a combination of cost containment and utilization strategies sufficient to reduce general fund--state costs by approximately 3 percent below the level projected for the 2001-03 biennium in the March 2001 forecast. The department shall report to the fiscal committees of the legislature by October 1, 2001, on its specific plans and semiannual targets for accomplishing these savings. The department shall report again to the fiscal committees by March 1, 2002, and by September 1, 2002, on actual performance relative to the semiannual targets. If satisfactory progress is not being made to achieve the targeted savings, the reports shall include recommendations for additional or alternative measures to control costs.

(2) The department shall continue to extend medicaid eligibility to children through age 18 residing in households with incomes below 200 percent of the federal poverty level.

(3) In determining financial eligibility for medicaid-funded services, the department is authorized to disregard recoveries by Holocaust survivors of insurance proceeds or other assets, as defined in RCW 48.104.030.

(4) $502,000 of the health services account appropriation, $400,000 of the general fund--private/local appropriation, and $1,676,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for implementation of Second Substitute House Bill No. 1058 (breast and cervical cancer treatment). If the bill is not enacted by June 30, 2001, or if private funding is not contributed equivalent to the general fund--private/local appropriation, the funds appropriated in this subsection shall lapse.

(5) $620,000 of the health services account appropriation for fiscal year 2002, (~~($1,380,000)~~) $337,000 of the health services account appropriation for fiscal year 2003, and (~~($2,000,000)~~) $960,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for implementation of a "ticket to work" medicaid buy-in program for working persons with disabilities, operated in accordance with the following conditions:

(a) To be eligible, a working person with a disability must have total income which is less than 450 percent of poverty;

(b) Participants shall participate in the cost of the program by paying (i) a monthly enrollment fee equal to fifty percent of any unearned income in excess of the medicaid medically needy standard; and (ii) a monthly premium equal to 5 percent of all unearned income, plus 5 percent of all earned income after disregarding the first sixty-five dollars of monthly earnings, and half the remainder;

(c) The department shall establish more restrictive eligibility standards than specified in this subsection to the extent necessary to operate the program within appropriated funds;

(d) The department may require point-of-service copayments as appropriate, except that copayments shall not be so high as to discourage appropriate service utilization, particularly of prescription drugs needed for the treatment of psychiatric conditions; and

(e) The department shall establish systems for tracking and reporting enrollment and expenditures in this program, and the prior medical assistance eligibility status of new program enrollees. The department shall additionally survey the prior and current employment status and approximate hours worked of program enrollees, and report the results to the fiscal and health care committees of the legislature by January 15, 2003.

(6) From funds appropriated in this section, the department shall design, implement, and evaluate pilot projects to assist individuals with at least three different diseases to improve their health, while reducing total medical expenditures. The projects shall involve (a) identifying persons who are seriously or chronically ill due to a combination of medical, social, and functional problems; and (b) working with the individuals and their care providers to improve adherence to state-of-the-art treatment regimens. The department shall report to the health care and the fiscal committees of the legislature by January 1, 2002, on the particular disease states, intervention protocols, and delivery mechanisms it proposes to test.

(7) Sufficient funds are appropriated in this section for the department to continue full-scope dental coverage, vision coverage, and podiatry services for medicaid-eligible adults.

If Substitute Senate Bill No. 6020 is not enacted by June 30, 2001, the amounts provided in this subsection shall lapse.

(11) In accordance with RCW 74.46.625, (~~($523,600,000)~~) $199,111,000 of the health services account appropriation and (~~($530,585,000)~~) $201,049,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for supplemental payments to nursing homes operated by rural public hospital districts. The payments shall be conditioned upon (a) a contractual commitment by the association of public hospital districts and participating rural public hospital districts to make an intergovernmental transfer to the state treasurer, for deposit into the health services account, equal to at least (~~(98)~~) 95 percent of the supplemental payments; and (b) a contractual commitment by the participating districts to not allow expenditures covered by the supplemental payments to be used for medicaid nursing home rate-setting. The participating districts shall retain no more than a total of $20,000,000 for the 2001-03 biennium. If the medicare upper payment limit revenues referenced in this subsection are not received in an amount or within a time frame sufficient to support spending from the health services account, the governor shall take actions in accordance with RCW 43.88.110(8).

(12) (~~($38,766,000)~~) $40,428,000 of the health services account appropriation (~~(for fiscal year 2002, $40,494,000 of the health services account appropriation for fiscal year 2003, and $79,839,000)~~) and $40,807,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for additional disproportionate share and medicare upper payment limit payments to public hospital districts.

The payments shall be conditioned upon a contractual commitment by the participating public hospital districts to make an intergovernmental transfer to the health services account equal to at least 91 percent of the additional payments. At least 28 percent of the amounts retained by the participating hospital districts shall be allocated to the state's teaching hospitals.

(13) $412,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2002, $862,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2003, and $730,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation are provided solely for implementation of Substitute House Bill No. 1162 (small rural hospitals). If Substitute House Bill No. 1162 is not enacted by June 30, 2001, the amounts provided in this subsection shall lapse.

(14) The department may continue to use any federal money available to continue to provide medicaid matching funds for funds contributed by local governments for purposes of conducting eligibility outreach to children and underserved groups. The department shall ensure cooperation with the anticipated audit of the school districts' matchable expenditures for this program and advise the appropriate legislative fiscal committees of the findings.

(15) The department shall coordinate with the health care authority and with community and migrant health clinics to actively assist children and immigrant adults not eligible for medicaid to enroll in the basic health plan.

(16) $8,500,000 of the general fund--state appropriation for fiscal year 2002, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is provided solely for settlement of Providence St. Peter's Hospital et al. vs. Department of Social and Health Services.

(17) In consultation and coordination with the department of health, the department shall establish mechanisms to assure that the AIDS insurance program operates within budgeted levels. Such mechanisms shall include a system under which the state's contribution to the cost of coverage is adjusted on a sliding-scale basis.

(18) The department shall implement an academic detailing program that educates prescribers on the availability of generic versions of off-patent brand drugs. To the extent the net cost of generics, after accounting for rebates, is less than the off-patent drug, generics will be substituted, with the prescriber's approval, consistent with criteria developed by the department in consultation with the state medical association and the state pharmacists association.

(19) Within available resources, the department shall design and (~~(initiate)~~) report on the feasibility of a general assistance medical care management project in two counties, one in eastern Washington and one in western Washington. In designing the project, the department shall consult with the mental health division, migrant and community health centers, and any other managed care provider that has the capacity to offer coordinated medical and mental health care. The projects shall be designed in such a way that a designated provider network is established for general assistance clients so that care management can be maximized. The department shall report on the design of the pilot project to the policy and fiscal committees of the legislature by October 15, 2002.

Sec. 506. 2002 c 371 s 506 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

FOR THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION--FOR SPECIAL EDUCATION PROGRAMS

$295,015,000

TOTAL APPROPRIATION (~~($1,085,333,000)~~)

$1,125,443,000

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) Funding for special education programs is provided on an excess cost basis, pursuant to RCW 28A.150.390. School districts shall ensure that special education students as a class receive their full share of the general apportionment allocation accruing through sections 502 and 504 of this act. To the extent a school district cannot provide an appropriate education for special education students under chapter 28A.155 RCW through the general apportionment allocation, it shall provide services through the special education excess cost allocation funded in this section.

(2)(a) Effective with the 2001-02 school year, the superintendent of public instruction shall change the S-275 personnel reporting system and all related accounting requirements to ensure that:

(i) Special education students are basic education students first;

(ii) As a class, special education students are entitled to the full basic education allocation; and

(iii) Special education students are basic education students for the entire school day.

(b) Effective with the 2001-02 school year, the S-275 and accounting changes shall supercede any prior excess cost methodologies and shall be required of all school districts.

(3) Each fiscal year appropriation includes such funds as are necessary to complete the school year ending in the fiscal year and for prior fiscal year adjustments.

(4) The superintendent of public instruction shall distribute state funds to school districts based on two categories: The optional birth through age two program for special education eligible developmentally delayed infants and toddlers, and the mandatory special education program for special education eligible students ages three to twenty- one. A "special education eligible student" means a student receiving specially designed instruction in accordance with a properly formulated individualized education program.

(5)(a) For the 2001-02 and 2002-03 school years, the superintendent shall make allocations to each district based on the sum of:

(i) A district's annual average headcount enrollment of developmentally delayed infants and toddlers ages birth through two, multiplied by the district's average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student, multiplied by 1.15; and

(ii) A district's annual average full-time equivalent basic education enrollment multiplied by the funded enrollment percent determined pursuant to subsection (6)(b) of this section, multiplied by the district's average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student multiplied by 0.9309.

(b) For purposes of this subsection, "average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student" for a district shall be based on the staffing ratios required by RCW 28A.150.260 and shall not include enhancements, secondary vocational education, or small schools.

(6) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section.

(a) "Annual average full-time equivalent basic education enrollment" means the resident enrollment including students enrolled through choice (RCW 28A.225.225) and students from nonhigh districts (RCW 28A.225.210) and excluding students residing in another district enrolled as part of an interdistrict cooperative program (RCW 28A.225.250).

(b) "Enrollment percent" means the district's resident special education annual average enrollment, excluding the birth through age two enrollment, as a percent of the district's annual average full-time equivalent basic education enrollment.

(i) For the 2001-02 school year, each district's funded enrollment percent shall be the lesser of the district's actual enrollment percent or 12.7 percent.

(ii) For the 2002-03 school year, each district's general fund--state funded special education enrollment shall be the lesser of the district's actual enrollment percent or 12.7 percent. Increases in enrollment percent from 12.7 percent to 13.0 percent shall be funded from the general fund--federal appropriation.

(7) At the request of any interdistrict cooperative of at least 15 districts in which all excess cost services for special education students of the districts are provided by the cooperative, the maximum enrollment percent shall be calculated in accordance with subsection (6)(b) of this section, and shall be calculated in the aggregate rather than individual district units. For purposes of this subsection, the average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student shall be calculated in the aggregate rather than individual district units.

(8) Safety net funding shall be awarded by the state safety net oversight committee subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) A maximum of $8,500,000 of the general fund--state appropriation and a maximum of $3,500,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation for fiscal year 2002 are provided as safety net funding for districts with demonstrated needs for state special education funding beyond the amounts provided in subsection (5) of this section. (b) The safety net oversight committee shall first consider the needs of districts adversely affected by the 1995 change in the special education funding formula. Awards shall be based on the lesser of the amount required to maintain the 1994-95 state special education excess cost allocation to the school district in aggregate or on a dollar per funded student basis.

(c) The committee shall then consider unmet needs for districts that can convincingly demonstrate that all legitimate expenditures for special education exceed all available revenues from state funding formulas. In the determination of need, the committee shall also consider additional available revenues from federal and local sources. Differences in program costs attributable to district philosophy, service delivery choice, or accounting practices are not a legitimate basis for safety net awards.

(d) The maximum allowable indirect cost for calculating safety net eligibility may not exceed the federal restricted indirect cost rate for the district plus one percent.

(e) Safety net awards shall be adjusted based on the percent of potential medicaid eligible students billed as calculated by the superintendent in accordance with chapter 318, Laws of 1999.

(f) Safety net awards must be adjusted for any audit findings or exceptions related to special education funding.

(g) The superintendent may expend up to $120,000 of the amounts provided in this subsection (8) to provide staff assistance to the committee in analyzing applications for safety net funds received by the committee.

(9) For fiscal year 2003 to the extent necessary, $12,873,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation is provided for safety net awards for districts with demonstrated needs for state special education funding beyond the amounts provided in subsection (5) of this section. If safety net awards exceed the amount appropriated in this subsection (9), the superintendent shall expend all available federal discretionary funds necessary to meet this need. Safety net funds shall be awarded by the state safety net oversight committee subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) The committee shall consider unmet needs for districts that can convincingly demonstrate that all legitimate expenditures for special education exceed all available revenues from state funding formulas. In the determination of need, the committee shall also consider additional available revenues from federal and local sources. Differences in program costs attributable to district philosophy, service delivery choice, or accounting practices are not a legitimate basis for safety net awards.

(b) The committee shall then consider the extraordinary high cost needs of one or more individual special education students. Differences in costs attributable to district philosophy, service delivery choice, or accounting practices are not a legitimate basis for safety net awards.

(c) The maximum allowable indirect cost for calculating safety net eligibility may not exceed the federal restricted indirect cost rate for the district plus one percent.

(d) Safety net awards shall be adjusted based on the percent of potential medicaid eligible students billed as calculated by the superintendent in accordance with chapter 318, Laws of 1999.

(e) Safety net awards must be adjusted for any audit findings or exceptions related to special education funding.

(f) The superintendent may expend up to $120,000 of the amount provided from the general fund--federal appropriation in this subsection (9) to provide staff assistance to the committee in analyzing applications for safety net funds received by the committee.

(10) The superintendent of public instruction may adopt such rules and procedures as are necessary to administer the special education funding and safety net award process. Prior to revising any standards, procedures, or rules, the superintendent shall consult with the office of financial management and the fiscal committees of the legislature.

(11) The safety net oversight committee appointed by the superintendent of public instruction shall consist of:

(a) One staff from the office of superintendent of public instruction;

(b) Staff of the office of the state auditor;

(c) Staff of the office of the financial management; and

(d) One or more representatives from school districts or educational service districts knowledgeable of special education programs and funding.

(12) To the extent necessary, in fiscal year 2002, $2,250,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation shall be expended for safety net funding to meet the extraordinary needs of one or more individual special education students. If safety net awards to meet the extraordinary needs exceed $2,250,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation, the superintendent shall expend all available federal discretionary funds necessary to meet this need. General fund--state funds shall not be expended for this purpose.

(13) A maximum of $678,000 may be expended from the general fund-- state appropriations to fund 5.43 full-time equivalent teachers and 2.1 full-time equivalent aides at children's orthopedic hospital and medical center. This amount is in lieu of money provided through the home and hospital allocation and the special education program.

(14) $1,000,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation is provided for projects to provide special education students with appropriate job and independent living skills, including work experience where possible, to facilitate their successful transition out of the public school system. The funds provided by this subsection shall be from federal discretionary grants.

(15) The superintendent shall maintain the percentage of federal flow-through to school districts at 85 percent for the 2001-02 school year. For the 2002-03 school year, the superintendent shall allocate the federal funds as specified in this section and shall adjust federal flow-through funds accordingly. In addition to other purposes, school districts may use increased federal funds for high-cost students, for purchasing regional special education services from educational service districts, and for staff development activities particularly relating to inclusion issues.

(16) A maximum of $1,200,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation may be expended by the superintendent for projects related to use of inclusion strategies by school districts for provision of special education services. The superintendent shall prepare an information database on laws, best practices, examples of programs, and recommended resources. The information may be disseminated in a variety of ways, including workshops and other staff development activities.

(17) A school district may carry over from one year to the next year up to 10 percent of general fund--state funds allocated under this program; however, carry over funds shall be expended in the special education program.

(18) The superintendent of public instruction shall implement the recommendations of the joint legislative audit and review committee study on special education (report 01-11) only to the extent that funds have been specifically provided therefor.

Tumwater Office Building 1 (01-S-003)

The appropriation in this section is subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) Planning funds are provided to lease/develop a state office building of 150,000 to 200,000 square feet on state-owned property in Tumwater according to the terms of the agreement with the Port of Olympia when the property was acquired or within the preferred development/leasing areas in Thurston county. The building shall be constructed and financed so that agency occupancy costs will not exceed comparable private market rental rates. The comparable general office space rate shall be calculated based on the three latest Thurston county leases of new space of at least 100,000 rentable square feet adjusted for inflation as determined by the department of general administration. The department of general administration shall coordinate with potential state agency tenants whose current lease expire near the time of occupancy so that buyout of current leases do not add to state expense.

(2) The department shall finance this project using a financing contract as authorized in section 907(2)(c), chapter 8, Laws of 2001 2nd sp. sess., with title passing to the state if all payments are made as provided in the contract. Should the department choose to use a financing contract that does not provide for the issuance of certificates of participation, the financing contract shall be subject to approval by the state finance committee as required by RCW 39.94.010. In approving a financing contract not providing for the use of certificates of participation, the state finance committee should be reasonably certain that the contract is excluded from the computation of indebtedness, particularly that the contract is not backed by the full faith and credit of the state and the legislature is expressly not obligated to appropriate funds to make payments. For purposes of this section, "financing contract" includes but is not limited to a certificate of participation and tax exempt financing similar to that authorized in RCW 47.79.140.

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 1388, By Representatives Woods, Ericksen, Ahern, Schindler, Jarrett, Bush, Shabro, Anderson, Bailey, Talcott, Clements, Chandler, Mielke, Boldt, Newhouse, Schoesler, Nixon, Pearson, Pflug and McMahan

Providing incentives to increase transportation revenues by reforming laws limiting the provision of passenger-only ferry service.

The bill was read the second time.

Representative Woods moved the adoption of amendment (330):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the Washington state department of transportation should focus on its core ferry mission of moving automobiles on Washington state's marine highways. The legislature finds that current statutes impose barriers to entities other than the state operating passenger-only ferries. The legislature intends to lift those barriers to allow entities other than the state to provide passenger-only ferry service. The legislature finds that the provision of this service and the improvement in the mobility of the citizens of Washington state is legally adequate consideration for the use of state facilities in conjunction with the provision of the service, and the legislature finds that allowing the operators of passenger-only ferries to use state facilities on the basis of legally adequate consideration does not evince donative intent on the part of the legislature.

Sec. 2. RCW 47.60.120 and 1993 c 427 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If the department acquires or constructs, maintains, and operates any ferry crossings upon or toll bridges over Puget Sound or any of its tributary or connecting waters, there shall not be constructed, operated, or maintained any other ferry crossing upon or bridge over any such waters within ten miles of any such crossing or bridge operated or maintained by the department excepting such bridges or ferry crossings in existence, and being operated and maintained under a lawfully issued franchise at the time of the location of the ferry crossing or construction of the toll bridge by the department.

(2) The ten-mile distance in subsection (1) of this section means ten statute miles measured by airline distance. The ten-mile restriction shall be applied by comparing the two end points (termini) of a state ferry crossing to those of a private ferry crossing.

(3) The Washington utilities and transportation commission may, upon written petition of a commercial ferry operator certificated or applying for certification under chapter 81.84 RCW, and upon notice and hearing, grant a waiver from the ten-mile restriction. The waiver must not be detrimental to the public interest. In making a decision to waive the ten-mile restriction, the commission shall consider, but is not limited to, the impact of the waiver on transportation congestion mitigation, air quality improvement, and the overall impact on the Washington state ferry system. The commission shall act upon a request for a waiver within ninety days after the conclusion of the hearing. A waiver is effective for a period of five years from the date of issuance. At the end of five years the waiver becomes permanent unless appealed within thirty days by the commission on its own motion, the department, or an interested party.

(4) The department shall not maintain and operate any ferry crossing or toll bridge over Puget Sound or any of its tributary or connecting waters that would infringe upon any franchise lawfully issued by the state and in existence and being exercised at the time of the location of the ferry crossing or toll bridge by the department, without first acquiring the rights granted to such franchise holder under the franchise.

(5) This section does not apply to operators of passenger-only ferry service.

Sec. 3. RCW 47.64.090 and 1983 c 15 s 27 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, if any party assumes the operation and maintenance of any ferry or ferry system by rent, lease, or charter from the department of transportation, such party shall assume and be bound by all the provisions herein and any agreement or contract for such operation of any ferry or ferry system entered into by the department shall provide that the wages to be paid, hours of employment, working conditions and seniority rights of employees will be established by the marine employees' commission in accordance with the terms and provisions of this chapter and it shall further provide that all labor disputes shall be adjudicated in accordance with chapter 47.64 RCW.

(2) The department of transportation shall make its terminal, dock, and pier space available to private operators of passenger-only ferries if the space can be made available without limiting the operation of car ferries operated by the department. These private operators are not bound by the provisions of subsection (1) of this section. Charges for the equipment and space must be fair market value taking into account the public benefit derived from the passenger-only ferry service.

(1) No commercial ferry may hereafter operate any vessel or ferry for the public use for hire between fixed termini or over a regular route upon the waters within this state, including the rivers and lakes and Puget Sound, without first applying for and obtaining from the commission a certificate declaring that public convenience and necessity require such operation. Service authorized by certificates issued before or after July 25, 1993, to a commercial ferry operator shall be exercised by the operator in a manner consistent with the conditions established in the certificate or tariffs: PROVIDED, That no certificate shall be required for a vessel primarily engaged in transporting freight other than vehicles, whose gross earnings from the transportation of passengers and/or vehicles, are not more than ten percent of the total gross annual earnings of such vessel: PROVIDED, That nothing herein shall be construed to affect the right of any county public transportation benefit area or other public agency within this state to construct, condemn, purchase, operate, or maintain, itself or by contract, agreement, or lease, with any person, firm, or corporation, ferries or boats across or wharfs at or upon the waters within this state, including rivers and lakes and Puget Sound, provided such operation is not over the same route or between the same districts, being served by a certificate holder without first acquiring the rights granted to the certificate holder under the certificate, nor shall this chapter be construed to affect, amend, or invalidate any contract entered into prior to January 15, 1927, for the operation of ferries or boats upon the waters within this state, which was entered into in good faith by any county with any person, firm, or corporation, except that in case of the operation or maintenance by any county, city, town, port district, or other political subdivision by contract, agreement, or lease with any person, firm, or corporation, of ferries or boats across or wharfs at or upon the waters within this state, including rivers and lakes and Puget Sound, the commission shall have power and authority to regulate rates and services of such operation or maintenance of ferries, boats, or wharfs, to make, fix, alter, or amend said rates, and to regulate service and safety of operations thereof, in the manner and to the same extent as it is empowered to regulate a commercial ferry, notwithstanding the provisions of any act or parts of acts inconsistent herewith.

(2) The holder of a certificate of public convenience and necessity granted under this chapter must initiate service within five years of obtaining the certificate, except that the holder of a certificate of public convenience and necessity for passenger-only ferry service in Puget Sound must initiate service within twenty months of obtaining the certificate. The certificate holder shall report to the commission every six months after the certificate is granted on the progress of the certificated route. The reports shall include, but not be limited to, the progress of environmental impact, parking, local government land use, docking, and financing considerations. ~~((However))~~ Except in the case of passenger-only service in Puget Sound, if service has not been initiated within five years of obtaining the certificate, the commission may extend the certificate on a twelve-month basis for up to three years if the six-month progress reports indicate there is significant advancement toward initiating service.

(3) The commission shall review certificates in existence as of July 25, 1993, where service is not being provided on all or any portion of the route or routes certificated. Based on progress reports required under subsection (2) of this section, the commission may grant an extension beyond that provided in subsection (2) of this section. Such additional extension may not exceed a total of two years.

(1) Upon the filing of an application the commission shall give reasonable notice to the department, affected cities (~~and~~), counties, and public transportation benefit areas and any common carrier which might be adversely affected, of the time and place for hearing on such application. The commission shall have power after hearing, to issue the certificate as prayed for, or to refuse to issue it, or to issue it for the partial exercise only of the privilege sought, and may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by said certificate such terms and conditions as in its judgment the public convenience and necessity may require; but the commission shall not have power to grant a certificate to operate between districts and/or into any territory prohibited by RCW 47.60.120 or already served by an existing certificate holder, unless such existing certificate holder has failed or refused to furnish reasonable and adequate service or has failed to provide the service described in its certificate or tariffs after the time period allowed to initiate service has elapsed: PROVIDED, A certificate shall be granted when it shall appear to the satisfaction of the commission that the commercial ferry was actually operating in good faith over the route for which such certificate shall be sought, on January 15, 1927: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That in case two or more commercial ferries shall upon said date have been operating vessels upon the same route, or between the same districts the commission shall determine after public hearing whether one or more certificates shall issue, and in determining to whom a certificate or certificates shall be issued, the commission shall consider all material facts and circumstances including the prior operation, schedules, and services rendered by either of the ferries, and in case more than one certificate shall issue, the commission shall fix and determine the schedules and services of the ferries to which the certificates are issued to the end that duplication of service be eliminated and public convenience be furthered.

(2) Before issuing a certificate, the commission shall determine that the applicant has the financial resources to operate the proposed service for at least twelve months, based upon the submission by the applicant of a pro forma financial statement of operations. Issuance of a certificate shall be determined upon, but not limited to, the following factors: Ridership and revenue forecasts; the cost of service for the proposed operation; an estimate of the cost of the assets to be used in providing the service; a statement of the total assets on hand of the applicant that will be expended on the proposed operation; and a statement of prior experience, if any, in such field by the applicant. The documentation required of the applicant under this section shall comply with the provisions of RCW 9A.72.085.

(3) Subsection (2) of this section does not apply to an application for a certificate that is pending as of July 25, 1993.

(4) In granting a certificate for passenger-only ferries and determining what conditions to place on the certificate, the commission shall consider and give substantial weight to the effect of its decisions on public agencies operating, or eligible to operate, passenger-only ferry service.

(5) Until March 1, 2005, the commission shall not consider an application for passenger-only ferry service serving any county in Puget Sound, unless the public transportation benefit area authority or ferry district serving that county, by resolution, agrees to the application.

Sec. 6. RCW 81.84.060 and 1993 c 427 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission, upon complaint by an interested party, or upon its own motion after notice and opportunity for hearing, may cancel, revoke, suspend, alter, or amend a certificate issued under this chapter on any of the following grounds:

(1) Failure of the certificate holder to initiate service by the conclusion of the fifth year after the certificate has been granted or by the conclusion of an extension granted under RCW 81.84.010 (2) or (3), if the commission has considered the progress report information required under RCW 81.84.010 (2) or (3);

(2) Failure of a certificate holder for passenger-only ferry service in Puget Sound to initiate service by the conclusion of the twentieth month after the certificate has been granted;

(3) Failure of the certificate holder to file an annual report;

~~((3))~~ (4) The filing by a certificate holder of an annual report that shows no revenue in the previous twelve-month period after service has been initiated;

~~((4))~~ (5) The violation of any provision of this chapter;

~~((5))~~ (6) The violation of or failure to observe the provisions or conditions of the certificate or tariffs;

~~((6))~~ (7) The violation of an order, decision, rule, regulation, or requirement established by the commission under this chapter;

~~((7))~~ (8) Failure of a certificate holder to maintain the required insurance coverage in full force and effect; or

~~((8))~~ (9) Failure or refusal to furnish reasonable and adequate service after initiating service.

The commission shall take appropriate action within thirty days upon a complaint by an interested party or of its own finding that a provision of this section has been violated."

"PART I GENERAL

NEW SECTION. Sec. 101. INTENT. The legislature finds that passenger-only ferry service is a key element to the state's transportation system and that it is in the interest of the state to ensure provision of such services. The legislature further finds that diminished state transportation resources require that regional and local authorities be authorized to develop, operate, and fund needed services.

The legislature recognizes that if the state eliminates passenger-only ferry service on one or more routes, it should provide an opportunity for locally sponsored service and the department of transportation should assist in this effort.

It is the intent of the legislature to encourage interlocal agreements to ensure passenger-only ferry service is reinstated on routes that the Washington state ferry system eliminates.

PART II PTBA PASSENGER-ONLY FERRY SERVICE

NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. A new section is added to chapter 36.57A RCW to read as follows:
PTBA AUTHORIZATION FOR PASSENGER-ONLY FERRY SERVICE. A public transportation benefit area having a boundary located on Puget Sound may provide passenger-only ferry service. For the purposes of this chapter and sections 206 and 207 of this act, Puget Sound is considered as extending north as far as the Canadian border and west as far as Port Angeles. Before a benefit area may provide passenger-only ferry service, it must develop a passenger-only ferry investment plan including elements to operate or contract for the operation of passenger-only ferry services, purchase, lease, or rental of ferry vessels and dock facilities for the provision of transit service, and identify other activities necessary to implement the plan. The plan must set forth terminal locations to be served, projected costs of providing services, and revenues to be generated from tolls, locally collected tax revenues, and other revenue sources. The plan must ensure that services provided under the plan are for the benefit of the residents of the benefit area. The benefit area may use any of its powers to carry out this purpose, unless otherwise prohibited by law. In addition, the public transportation benefit area may enter into contracts and agreements to operate passenger-only ferry service and public-private partnerships and design-build, general contractor/construction management, or other alternative procurement process substantially consistent with chapter 39.10 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 202. A new section is added to chapter 36.57A RCW to read as follows:
TAXES, FEES, AND TOLLS. (1) A public transportation benefit area may, as part of a passenger-only ferry investment plan, recommend some or all of the following revenue sources as provided in this chapter:

- (a) A motor vehicle excise tax, as provided in section 206 of this act;
- (b) A sales and use tax, as provided in section 207 of this act;
- (c) Tolls for passengers and packages and, where applicable, parking; and
- (d) Charges or licensing fees for advertising, leasing space for services to ferry passengers, and other revenue-generating activities.

(2) Taxes may not be imposed without an affirmative vote of the majority of the voters within the boundaries of the area voting on a single ballot proposition to both approve a passenger-only ferry investment plan and to approve taxes to implement the plan. Revenues from these taxes and fees may be used only to implement the plan and must be used for the benefit of the residents of the benefit area. A district may contract with the state department of revenue or other appropriate entities for administration and collection of any of the taxes or charges authorized in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 203. A new section is added to chapter 47.52 RCW to read as follows:
CONVEYANCE OF FERRY VESSELS. The department of transportation may enter into contracts with public transportation benefit areas meeting the requirements of section 201 of this act or county ferry districts to convey passenger-only ferry vessels and other properties associated with passenger-only ferry service that serve to provide passenger-only ferry service, as full or part consideration for the benefit area or ferry district assuming all future maintenance and operation obligations and costs required to maintain and operate the vessel and facilities. The conveyances must provide that the vessels or properties revert to the department if the vessels are not used for providing passenger-only ferry service.

Sec. 204. RCW 47.60.120 and 1993 c 427 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
TEN-MILE RULE EXEMPTION. (1) If the department acquires or constructs, maintains, and operates any ferry crossings upon or toll bridges over Puget Sound or any of its tributary or connecting waters, there shall not be constructed, operated, or maintained any other ferry crossing upon or bridge over any such waters within ten miles of any such crossing or bridge operated or maintained by the department excepting such bridges or ferry crossings in existence, and being operated and maintained under a lawfully issued franchise at the time of the location of the ferry crossing or construction of the toll bridge by the department.

(2) The ten-mile distance in subsection (1) of this section means ten statute miles measured by airline distance. The ten-mile restriction shall be applied by comparing the two end points (termini) of a state ferry crossing to those of a private ferry crossing.

(3) The Washington utilities and transportation commission may, upon written petition of a commercial ferry operator certificated or applying for certification under chapter 81.84 RCW, and upon notice and hearing, grant a waiver from the ten-mile restriction. The waiver must not be detrimental to the public interest. In making a decision to waive the ten-mile restriction, the commission shall consider, but is not limited to, the impact of the waiver on transportation congestion mitigation, air quality improvement, and the overall impact on the Washington state ferry system. The commission shall act upon a request for a waiver within ninety days after the conclusion of the hearing. A waiver is effective for a period of five years from the date of issuance. At the end of five years the waiver becomes permanent unless appealed within thirty days by the commission on its own motion, the department, or an interested party.

(4) The department shall not maintain and operate any ferry crossing or toll bridge over Puget Sound or any of its tributary or connecting waters that would infringe upon any franchise lawfully issued by the state and in existence and being exercised at the time of the location of the ferry crossing or toll bridge by the department, without first acquiring the rights granted to such franchise holder under the franchise.

(5) This section does not apply to the operation of passenger-only ferry service by public transportation benefit areas meeting the requirements of section 201 of this act or to the operation of passenger-only ferry service by ferry districts.

Sec. 205. RCW 47.64.090 and 1983 c 15 s 27 are each amended to read as follows:

USE OF STATE FERRY FACILITIES. (1) Except as provided in section 203 of this act and subsection (2) of this section, or as provided in section 303 of this act and subsection (3) of this section, if any party assumes the operation and maintenance of any ferry or ferry system by rent, lease, or charter from the department of transportation, such party shall assume and be bound by all the provisions herein and any agreement or contract for such operation of any ferry or ferry system entered into by the department shall provide that the wages to be paid, hours of employment, working conditions, and seniority rights of employees will be established by the marine employees' commission in accordance with the terms and provisions of this chapter and it shall further provide that all labor disputes shall be adjudicated in accordance with chapter 47.64 RCW.

(2) If a public transportation benefit area meeting the requirements of section 201 of this act has voter approval to operate passenger-only ferry service, it may enter into an agreement with Washington State Ferries to rent, lease, or purchase passenger-only vessels, related equipment, or terminal space for purposes of loading and unloading the passenger-only ferry. A benefit area or subcontractor of that benefit area that qualifies under this subsection is not subject to the restrictions of subsection (1) of this section, but is subject to the terms of those collective bargaining agreements that it or its subcontractors negotiate with the exclusive bargaining representatives of its or its subcontractors employees under chapter 41.56 RCW or the National Labor Relations Act, as applicable.

(3) If a ferry district is formed under section 301 of this act to operate passenger-only ferry service, it may enter into an agreement with Washington State Ferries to rent, lease, or purchase vessels, related equipment, or terminal space for purposes of loading and unloading the ferry. Charges for the vessels, equipment, and space must be fair market value taking into account the public benefit derived from the ferry service. A ferry district or subcontractor of that district that qualifies under this subsection is not subject to the restrictions of subsection (1) of this section, but is:

(a) Subject to the terms of those collective bargaining agreements that it or its subcontractors negotiate with the exclusive bargaining representatives of its or its subcontractors employees under chapter 41.56 RCW or the National Labor Relations Act, as applicable;

(b) Subject to a requirement, to be included by the ferry district in any contract with the district's subcontractor, to give preferential hiring to former employees of the department of transportation who separated from employment with the department because of termination of the ferry service by the state of Washington; and

(c) Subject to a requirement, to be included by the ferry district in any contract with the district's subcontractor, that any questions concerning representation of employees for collective bargaining purposes may be determined by conducting a cross-check comparing an employee organization's membership records or bargaining authorization cards against the employment records of the employer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 206. A new section is added to chapter 82.80 RCW to read as follows:

MOTOR VEHICLE EXCISE TAX AUTHORIZED. (1) Public transportation benefit areas authorized to implement passenger-only ferry service under section 201 of this act whose boundaries (a) are on the Puget Sound, but (b) do not include an area where a regional transit authority has been formed, may submit an authorizing proposition to the voters and, if approved, may levy and collect an excise tax, at a rate approved by the voters, but not exceeding four-tenths of one percent on the value of every motor vehicle owned by a resident of the taxing district, solely for the purpose of providing passenger-only ferry service. The tax must be collected only at the time of vehicle license renewal under chapter 46.16 RCW. The tax will be imposed on vehicles previously registered in another state or nation when they are initially registered in this state. The tax will not be imposed at the time of sale by a licensed vehicle dealer. In a county imposing a motor vehicle excise tax surcharge under RCW 81.100.060, the maximum tax rate under this section must be reduced to a rate equal to four-tenths of one percent on the value less the equivalent motor vehicle excise tax rate of the surcharge imposed under RCW 81.100.060. This rate does not apply to vehicles licensed under RCW 46.16.070 with an unladen weight more than six thousand pounds, or to vehicles licensed under RCW 46.16.079, 46.16.085, or 46.16.090.

(2) The department of licensing shall administer and collect the tax. The department shall deduct a percentage amount, as provided by contract, not to exceed two percent of the taxes collected, for administration and collection expenses incurred by it. The remaining proceeds must be remitted to the custody of the state treasurer for monthly distribution to the public transportation benefit area.

(3) The public transportation benefit area imposing this tax shall delay the effective date at least six months from the date the fee is approved by the qualified voters of the authority area to allow the department of licensing to implement administration and collection of the tax.

(4) Before an authority may impose a tax authorized under this section, the authorization for imposition of the tax must be approved by a majority of the qualified electors of the authority area voting on that issue.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 207. A new section is added to chapter 82.14 RCW to read as follows:

SALES AND USE TAX AUTHORIZATION. Public transportation benefit areas providing passenger-only ferry service as provided in section 201 of this act whose boundaries (1) are on the Puget Sound, but (2) do not include an area where a regional transit authority has been formed, may submit an authorizing proposition to the voters and, if approved by a majority of persons voting, fix and impose a sales and use tax in accordance with the terms of this chapter, solely for the purpose of providing passenger-only ferry service.

The tax authorized by this section is in addition to other taxes authorized by law and must be collected from those persons who are taxable by the state under chapters 82.08 and 82.12 RCW upon the occurrence of a taxable event within the taxing district. The maximum rate of the tax must be approved by the voters and may not exceed four-tenths of one percent of the selling price in the case of a sales tax or value of the article used in the case of a use tax.

Sec. 208. RCW 82.14.050 and 2002 c 56 s 406 are each amended to read as follows:

ADMINISTRATION AND COLLECTION--LOCAL SALES AND USE TAX ACCOUNT.

The counties, cities, and transportation authorities under RCW 82.14.045, public facilities districts under chapters 36.100 and 35.57 RCW, public transportation benefit areas under section 207 of this act, and regional transportation investment districts shall contract, prior to the effective date of a resolution or ordinance imposing a sales and use tax, the administration and collection to the state department of revenue, which shall deduct a percentage amount, as provided by contract, not to exceed two percent of the taxes collected for administration and collection expenses incurred by the department. The remainder of any portion of any tax authorized by this chapter that is collected by the department of revenue shall be deposited by the state department of revenue in the local sales and use tax account hereby created in the state treasury. Moneys in the local sales and use tax account may be spent only for distribution to counties, cities, transportation authorities, public facilities districts, public transportation benefit areas, and regional transportation investment districts imposing a sales and use tax. All administrative provisions in chapters 82.03, 82.08, 82.12, and 82.32 RCW, as they now exist or may hereafter be amended, shall, insofar as they are applicable to state sales and use taxes, be applicable to taxes imposed pursuant to this chapter. Except as provided in RCW 43.08.190, all earnings of investments of balances in the local sales and use tax account shall be credited to the local sales and use tax account and distributed to the counties, cities, transportation authorities, public facilities districts, public transportation benefit areas, and regional transportation investment districts monthly.

Sec. 209. RCW 36.57A.010 and 1983 c 65 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The definitions set forth in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(9) "Public transportation improvement conference" or "conference" means the body established pursuant to RCW 36.57A.020 which shall be authorized to establish, subject to the provisions of RCW 36.57A.030, a public transportation benefit area pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 210. RCW 36.57A.100 and 1977 ex.s. c 44 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

Except in accordance with an agreement made as provided in this section or in accordance with the provisions of RCW 36.57A.090(3) as now or hereafter amended, upon the effective date on which the public transportation benefit area commences to perform the public transportation service, no person or private corporation shall operate a local public passenger transportation service, including passenger-only ferry service, within the public transportation benefit area with the exception of taxis, buses owned or operated by a school district or private school, and buses owned or operated by any corporation or organization solely for the purposes of the corporation or organization and for the use of which no fee or fare is charged.

An agreement may be entered into between the public transportation benefit area authority and any person or corporation legally operating a local public passenger transportation service, including passenger-only ferry service, wholly within or partly within and partly without the public transportation benefit area and on said effective date under which such person or corporation may continue to operate such service or any part thereof for such time and upon such terms and conditions as provided in such agreement. Such agreement shall provide for a periodic review of the terms and conditions contained therein. Where any such local public passenger transportation service, including passenger-only ferry service, will be required to cease to operate within the public transportation benefit area, the public transportation benefit area authority may agree with the owner of such service to purchase the assets used in providing such service, or if no agreement can be reached, the public transportation benefit area authority shall condemn such assets in the manner and by the same procedure as is or may be provided by law for the condemnation of other properties for cities of the first class, except insofar as such laws may be inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

Wherever a privately owned public carrier operates wholly or partly within a public transportation benefit area, the Washington utilities and transportation commission shall continue to exercise jurisdiction over such operation as provided by law.

(1) No commercial ferry may hereafter operate any vessel or ferry for the public use for hire between fixed termini or over a regular route upon the waters within this state, including the rivers and lakes and Puget Sound, without first applying for and obtaining from the commission a certificate declaring that public convenience and necessity require such operation. Service authorized by certificates issued before or after July 25, 1993, to a commercial ferry operator shall be exercised by the operator in a manner consistent with the conditions established in the certificate or tariffs: PROVIDED, That no certificate shall be required for a vessel primarily engaged in transporting freight other than vehicles, whose gross earnings from the transportation of passengers and/or vehicles, are not more than ten percent of the total gross annual earnings of such vessel: PROVIDED, That nothing herein shall be construed to affect the right of any county public transportation benefit area or other public agency within this state to construct, condemn, purchase, operate, or maintain, itself or by contract, agreement, or lease, with any person, firm, or corporation, ferries or boats across or wharfs at or upon the waters within this state, including rivers and lakes and Puget Sound, provided such operation is not over the same route or between the same districts, being served by a certificate holder without first acquiring the rights granted to the certificate holder under the certificate, nor shall this chapter be construed to affect, amend, or invalidate any contract entered into prior to January 15, 1927, for the operation of ferries or boats upon the waters within this state, which was entered into in good faith by any county with any person, firm, or corporation, except that in case of the operation or maintenance by any county, city, town, port district, or other political subdivision by contract, agreement, or lease with any person, firm, or corporation, of ferries or boats across or wharfs at or upon the waters within this state, including rivers and lakes and Puget Sound, the commission shall have power and authority to regulate rates and services of such operation or maintenance of ferries, boats, or wharfs, to make, fix, alter, or amend said rates, and to regulate service and safety of operations thereof, in the manner and to the same extent as it is empowered to regulate a commercial ferry, notwithstanding the provisions of any act or parts of acts inconsistent herewith.

(2) The holder of a certificate of public convenience and necessity granted under this chapter must initiate service within five years of obtaining the certificate, except that the holder of a certificate of public convenience and necessity for passenger-only ferry service in Puget Sound must initiate service within twenty months of obtaining the certificate. The certificate holder shall report to the commission every six months after the certificate is granted on the progress of the certificated route. The reports shall include, but not be limited to, the progress of environmental impact, parking, local government land use, docking, and financing considerations. ~~((However))~~ Except in the case of passenger-only ferry service in Puget Sound, if service has not been initiated within five years of obtaining the certificate, the commission may extend the certificate on a twelve-month basis for up to three years if the six-month progress reports indicate there is significant advancement toward initiating service.

(3) The commission shall review certificates in existence as of July 25, 1993, where service is not being provided on all or any portion of the route or routes certificated. Based on progress reports required under subsection (2) of this section, the commission may grant an extension beyond that provided in subsection (2) of this section. Such additional extension may not exceed a total of two years.

(1) Upon the filing of an application the commission shall give reasonable notice to the department, affected cities (~~and~~), counties, and public transportation benefit areas and any common carrier which might be adversely affected, of the time and place for hearing on such application. The commission shall have power after hearing, to issue the certificate as prayed for, or to refuse to issue it, or to issue it for the partial exercise only of the privilege sought, and may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by said certificate such terms and conditions as in its judgment the public convenience and necessity may require; but the commission shall not have power to grant a certificate to operate between districts and/or into any territory prohibited by RCW 47.60.120 or already served by an existing certificate holder, unless such existing certificate holder has failed or refused to furnish reasonable and adequate service or has failed to provide the service described in its certificate or tariffs after the time period allowed to initiate service has elapsed: PROVIDED, A certificate shall be granted when it shall appear to the satisfaction of the commission that the commercial ferry was actually operating in good faith over the route for which such certificate shall be sought, on January 15, 1927: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That in case two or more commercial ferries shall upon said date have been operating vessels upon the same route, or between the same districts the commission shall determine after public hearing whether one or more certificates shall issue, and in determining to whom a certificate or certificates shall be issued, the commission shall consider all material facts and circumstances including the prior operation, schedules, and services rendered by either of the ferries, and in case more than one certificate shall issue, the commission shall fix and determine the schedules and services of the ferries to which the certificates are issued to the end that duplication of service be eliminated and public convenience be furthered.

(2) Before issuing a certificate, the commission shall determine that the applicant has the financial resources to operate the proposed service for at least twelve months, based upon the submission by the applicant of a pro forma financial statement of operations. NEW SECTION. Sec. 301. A new section is added to chapter 36.54 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The legislative authority of a county with a population over one million persons and having a boundary on Puget Sound may adopt an ordinance creating a ferry district in all or a portion of the area of the county, including the area within the corporate limits of any city or town within the county. The ordinance may be adopted only after a public hearing has been held on the creation of a ferry district, and the county legislative authority makes a finding that it is in the public interest to create the district. A ferry district is limited to providing passenger-only ferry service.

(2) A ferry district is a municipal corporation, an independent taxing "authority" within the meaning of Article VII, section 1 of the state Constitution, and a "taxing district" within the meaning of Article VII, section 2 of the state Constitution.

(3) A ferry district is a body corporate and possesses all the usual powers of a corporation for public purposes as well as all other powers that may now or hereafter be specifically conferred by statute, including, but not limited to, the authority to hire employees, staff, and services, to enter into contracts, and to sue and be sued.

(4) The members of the county legislative authority, acting ex officio and independently, shall compose the governing body of any ferry district that is created within the county. The voters of a ferry district must be registered voters residing within the boundaries of the district.

(5) For the purposes of this section, Puget Sound is considered as extending north as far as the Canadian border and west as far as Port Angeles.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 302. A new section is added to chapter 36.54 RCW to read as follows:

A ferry district may construct, purchase, operate, and maintain passenger-only ferries or wharves at any unfordable stream, lake, estuary, or bay within or bordering the ferry district, or between portions of the ferry district, or between the ferry district and other ferry districts, together with all the necessary boats, grounds, roads, approaches, and landings appertaining thereto under the direction and control of the governing body of the ferry district, free or for toll as the governing body determines by resolution.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 303. A new section is added to chapter 36.54 RCW to read as follows:

(1) To carry out the purposes for which ferry districts are created, the governing body of a ferry district may levy each year an ad valorem tax on all taxable property located in the district not to exceed seventy-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed value. The levy must be sufficient for the provision of ferry services as shown to be required by the budget prepared by the governing body of the ferry district.

(2) A tax imposed under this section may be used only for providing passenger-only ferry services, including the purchase, lease, or rental of passenger-only ferry vessels and dock facilities, the operation and maintenance of passenger-only ferry vessels and dock facilities, and related personnel costs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 304. A new section is added to chapter 36.54 RCW to read as follows:

A ferry district may impose excess levies upon the property included within the district for a one-year period to be used for operating or capital purposes whenever authorized by the electors of the district under RCW 84.52.052 and Article VII, section 2(a) of the state Constitution.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 305. A new section is added to chapter 36.54 RCW to read as follows:

The governing body of the ferry district shall annually prepare a budget of the requirements of each district fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 306. A new section is added to chapter 36.54 RCW to read as follows:

At the time of making general tax levies in each year, the county legislative authority of the county in which a ferry district is located shall make the required levies for district purposes against the real and personal property in the district. The tax levies must be a part of the general tax roll and be collected as a part of the general taxes against the property in the district.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 307. A new section is added to chapter 36.54 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The treasurer of the county in which a ferry district is located shall be treasurer of the district. The county treasurer shall receive and disburse ferry district revenues, collect taxes authorized and levied under this chapter, and credit district revenues to the proper fund.

(2) The county treasurer shall establish a ferry district fund, into which must be paid all district revenues, and the county treasurer shall also maintain such special funds as may be created by the governing body of a ferry district, into which the county treasurer shall place all money as the governing body of the district may, by resolution, direct.

(3) The county treasurer shall pay out money received for the account of the ferry district on warrants issued by the county auditor against the proper funds of the district.

(4) All district funds must be deposited with the county depositaries under the same restrictions, contracts, and security as provided for county depositaries.

(5) All interest collected on ferry district funds belongs to the district and must be deposited to its credit in the proper district funds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 308. A new section is added to chapter 36.54 RCW to read as follows:

A ferry district is exempt from the provisions of Title 81 RCW and is not subject to the control of the Washington utilities and transportation commission. It is not necessary for a ferry district to apply for a certificate of public convenience and necessity.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 309. A new section is added to chapter 36.54 RCW to read as follows:

A ferry district formed under this chapter may be dissolved in the manner provided in chapter 53.48 RCW, relating to port districts.

Sec. 310. RCW 84.52.010 and 2002 c 248 s 15 and 2002 c 88 s 7 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

Except as is permitted under RCW 84.55.050, all taxes shall be levied or voted in specific amounts.

The rate percent of all taxes for state and county purposes, and purposes of taxing districts coextensive with the county, shall be determined, calculated and fixed by the county assessors of the respective counties, within the limitations provided by law, upon the assessed valuation of the property of the county, as shown by the completed tax rolls of the county, and the rate percent of all taxes levied for purposes of taxing districts within any county shall be determined, calculated and fixed by the county assessors of the respective counties, within the limitations provided by law, upon the assessed valuation of the property of the taxing districts respectively.

When a county assessor finds that the aggregate rate of tax levy on any property, that is subject to the limitations set forth in RCW 84.52.043 or 84.52.050, exceeds the limitations provided in either of these sections, the assessor shall recompute and establish a consolidated levy in the following manner:

(1) The full certified rates of tax levy for state, county, county road district, and city or town purposes shall be extended on the tax rolls in amounts not exceeding the limitations established by law; however any state levy shall take precedence over all other levies and shall not be reduced for any purpose other than that required by RCW 84.55.010. If, as a result of the levies imposed under section 303 of this act, RCW 84.52.069, 84.34.230, the portion of the levy by a metropolitan park district that was protected under RCW 84.52.120, and 84.52.105, the combined rate of regular property tax levies that are subject to the one percent limitation exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property, then these levies shall be reduced as follows: (a) The levy imposed by a ferry district under section 303 of this act must be reduced until the combined rate no longer exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property or must be eliminated; (b) if the combined rate of regular property tax levies that are subject to the one percent limitation still exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property, the portion of the levy by a metropolitan park district that is protected under RCW 84.52.120 shall be reduced until the combined rate no longer exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property or shall be eliminated; ~~((b))~~ (c) if the combined rate of regular property tax levies that are subject to the one percent limitation still exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property, then the levies imposed under RCW 84.34.230, 84.52.105, and any portion of the levy imposed under RCW 84.52.069 that is in excess of thirty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis until the combined rate no longer exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property or shall be eliminated; and ~~((c))~~ (d) if the combined rate of regular property tax levies that are subject to the one percent limitation still exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property, then the thirty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value of tax levy imposed under RCW 84.52.069 shall be reduced until the combined rate no longer exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property or eliminated.

(2) The certified rates of tax levy subject to these limitations by all junior taxing districts imposing taxes on such property shall be reduced or eliminated as follows to bring the consolidated levy of taxes on such property within the provisions of these limitations:

(a) First, the certified property tax levy rates of those junior taxing districts authorized under RCW 36.68.525, 36.69.145, 35.95A.100, and 67.38.130 shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(b) Second, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates of flood control zone districts shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(c) Third, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates of all other junior taxing districts, other than fire protection districts, library districts, the first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levies for metropolitan park districts, and the first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levies for public hospital districts, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(d) Fourth, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levies for metropolitan park districts created on or after January 1, 2002, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(e) Fifth, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates authorized to fire protection districts under RCW 52.16.140 and 52.16.160 shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated; and

(f) Sixth, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates authorized for fire protection districts under RCW 52.16.130, library districts, metropolitan park districts created before January 1, 2002, under their first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levy, and public hospital districts under their first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levy, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated.

In determining whether the aggregate rate of tax levy on any property, that is subject to the limitations set forth in RCW 84.52.050, exceeds the limitations provided in that section, the assessor shall use the hypothetical state levy, as apportioned to the county under RCW 84.48.080, that was computed under RCW 84.48.080 without regard to the reduction under RCW 84.55.012.

Within and subject to the limitations imposed by RCW 84.52.050 as amended, the regular ad valorem tax levies upon real and personal property by the taxing districts hereafter named shall be as follows:

(1) Levies of the senior taxing districts shall be as follows: (a) The levy by the state shall not exceed three dollars and sixty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value adjusted to the state equalized value in accordance with the indicated ratio fixed by the state department of revenue to be used exclusively for the support of the common schools; (b) the levy by any county shall not exceed one dollar and eighty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value; (c) the levy by any road district shall not exceed two dollars and twenty-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed value; and (d) the levy by any city or town shall not exceed three dollars and thirty-seven and one-half cents per thousand dollars of assessed value. However any county is hereby authorized to increase its levy from one dollar and eighty cents to a rate not to exceed two dollars and forty-seven and one-half cents per thousand dollars of assessed value for general county purposes if the total levies for both the county and any road district within the county do not exceed four dollars and five cents per thousand dollars of assessed value, and no other taxing district has its levy reduced as a result of the increased county levy.

(2) The aggregate levies of junior taxing districts and senior taxing districts, other than the state, shall not exceed five dollars and ninety cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation. The term "junior taxing districts" includes all taxing districts other than the state, counties, road districts, cities, towns, port districts, and public utility districts. The limitations provided in this subsection shall not apply to: (a) Levies at the rates provided by existing law by or for any port or public utility district; (b) excess property tax levies authorized in Article VII, section 2 of the state Constitution; (c) levies for acquiring conservation futures as authorized under RCW 84.34.230; (d) levies for emergency medical care or emergency medical services imposed under RCW 84.52.069; (e) levies to finance affordable housing for very low-income housing imposed under RCW 84.52.105; ~~(and)~~ (f) the portions of levies by metropolitan park districts that are protected under RCW 84.52.120; and (g) levies imposed by ferry districts under section 303 of this act.

Sec. 312. RCW 84.52.052 and 2002 c 248 s 16 and 2002 c 180 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

The limitations imposed by RCW 84.52.050 through 84.52.056, and RCW 84.52.043 shall not prevent the levy of additional taxes by any taxing district except school districts in which a larger levy is necessary in order to prevent the impairment of the obligation of contracts. As used in this section, the term "taxing district" means any county, metropolitan park district, park and recreation service area, park and recreation district, water-sewer district, solid waste disposal district, public facilities district, flood control zone district, county rail district, service district, public hospital district, road district, rural county library district, island library district, rural partial-county library district, intercounty rural library district, fire protection district, cemetery district, city, town, transportation benefit district, emergency medical service district with a population density of less than one thousand per square mile, cultural arts, stadium, and convention district, ferry district, or city transportation authority.

Any such taxing district may levy taxes at a rate in excess of the rate specified in RCW 84.52.050 through 84.52.056 and 84.52.043, or 84.55.010 through 84.55.050, when authorized so to do by the voters of such taxing district in the manner set forth in Article VII, section 2(a) of the Constitution of this state at a special or general election to be held in the year in which the levy is made.

A special election may be called and the time therefor fixed by the county legislative authority, or council, board of commissioners, or other governing body of any such taxing district, by giving notice thereof by publication in the manner provided by law for giving notices of general elections, at which special election the proposition authorizing such excess levy shall be submitted in such form as to enable the voters favoring the proposition to vote "yes" and those opposed thereto to vote "no."

ESSB 5269 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee On Judiciary: Creating a building mapping information system. Reported by Committee on State Government

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature recognizes the extreme dangers present when the safety of our citizens requires first responders such as police and fire fighters to evacuate and secure a building. In an effort to prepare for responding to unintended disasters, criminal acts, and acts of terrorism, the legislature intends to create a statewide first responder building mapping information system that will provide all first responders with the information they need to be successful when disaster strikes. The first responder building mapping system in this act is to be developed for a limited and specific purpose and is in no way to be construed as imposing standards or system requirements on any other mapping systems developed and used for any other local government purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 36.28A RCW to read as follows:

(1) When funded, the Washington Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs shall create and operate a statewide first responder building mapping information system.

(2) All state agencies and local governments must utilize building mapping software that complies with the building mapping software standards established under section 3 of this act for any building mapped for this purpose after the statewide first responder building mapping information system is operational. If, prior to creation of the statewide building mapping information system, a local government has utilized building mapping software standards established under section 3 of this act, the local government may continue to use its own building mapping system unless the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs provides funding to bring the local government's system in compliance with the standards established under section 3 of this act.

(3) All state and local government-owned buildings that are occupied by state or local government employees must be mapped when funding is provided by the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs, or from other sources. Nothing in this act requires any state agency or local government to map a building unless the entire cost of mapping the building is provided by the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs, or from other sources.

(4) Once the statewide first responder building mapping information system is operational, all state and local government buildings that are mapped must forward their building mapping information data to the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs. All participating privately, federally, and tribally owned buildings may voluntarily forward their mapping and emergency information data to the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs. The Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs may refuse any building mapping information that does not comply with the specifications described in section 3 of this act.

(5) Consistent with the guidelines developed under section 3 of this act, the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs shall electronically make the building mapping information available to all state, local, federal, and tribal law enforcement agencies, the military department of Washington state, and fire departments.

(6) Consistent with the guidelines developed under section 3 of this act, the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs shall develop building mapping software standards that must be used to participate in the statewide first responder building mapping information system.

(7) The Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs shall pursue federal funds to:

(a) Create the statewide first responder building mapping information system; and

(b) Develop grants for the mapping of all state and local government buildings in the order determined under section 3 of this act.

(8) All tactical and intelligence information provided to the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs under this act is exempt from public disclosure as provided in RCW 42.17.310(1)(d).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 36.28A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs in consultation with the Washington state emergency management office, the Washington association of county officials, the Washington association of cities, the information services board, the Washington state fire chiefs' association, and the Washington state patrol shall convene a committee to establish guidelines related to the statewide first responder building mapping information system. The committee shall have the following responsibilities:

(a) Develop the type of information to be included in the statewide first responder building mapping information system. The information shall include, but is not limited to: Floor plans, fire protection information, evacuation plans, utility information, known hazards, and text and digital images showing emergency personnel contact information;

(b) Develop building mapping software standards that must be utilized by all entities participating in the statewide first responder building mapping information system;

(c) Determine the order in which buildings shall be mapped when funding is received;

(d) Develop guidelines on how the information shall be made available. These guidelines shall include detailed procedures and security systems to ensure that the information is only made available to the government entity that either owns the building or is responding to an incident at the building;

(e) Recommend training guidelines regarding using the statewide first responder building mapping information system to the criminal justice training commission and the Washington state patrol fire protection bureau.

(2)(a) Nothing in this section supersedes the authority of the information services board under chapter 43.105 RCW.

(b) Nothing in this section supersedes the authority of state agencies and local governments to control and maintain access to information within their independent systems.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 36.28A RCW to read as follows:

Units of local government and their employees, as provided in RCW 36.28A.010, are immune from civil liability for damages arising out of the creation and use of the statewide first responder building mapping information system, unless it is shown that an employee acted with gross negligence or bad faith."

SSB 5748 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee On Highways & Transportation: Implementing performance audits of transportation-related agencies. Reported by Committee on Transportation

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. It is essential that the legislature improve the accountability and efficiency of transportation-related agencies and measure transportation system performance against benchmarks established in chapter 5, Laws of 2002. Taxpayers must know that their tax dollars are being well spent to deliver critically needed transportation projects and services. To accomplish this, the legislative transportation committee will oversee a system of transportation performance reviews and audits established to provide oversight and accountability of transportation agencies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 44.40 RCW to read as follows:
The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

- (1) "Committee" means the legislative transportation committee.
- (2) "Legislative auditor" has the meaning contained in chapter 44.28 RCW.
- (3) "Performance audit" has the meaning contained in chapter 44.28 RCW.
- (4) "Performance review" means an evaluation of how a state agency uses its performance measures to assess the outcomes of its legislatively authorized activities.
- (5) "Program audit" has the meaning contained in chapter 44.28 RCW.
- (6) "Transportation-related agencies" means any state agency, board, or commission that receives funding primarily for transportation-related purposes. At a minimum, the department of transportation, the Washington state patrol, the department of licensing, the transportation improvement board or its successor entity, the county road administration board or its successor entity, and the traffic safety commission are considered transportation-related agencies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 44.40 RCW to read as follows:

- (1) The legislative transportation committee shall review the performance and outcome measures of transportation-related agencies. The purpose of these reviews is to ensure that the legislature has the means to adequately and accurately assess the performance and outcomes of those agencies and departments. Where two or more agencies have shared responsibility for functions or priorities of government, the performance reviews may also determine whether effective interagency cooperation and collaboration occurs in areas such as program coordination, administrative structures, information systems, and administration of grants and loans.
- (2) In conducting these reviews, the legislative transportation committee may work with the joint legislative audit and review committee, the office of financial management, and other state agencies as needed.
- (3) The committee shall determine the occurrence and frequency of the performance reviews. In setting the schedule and the extent of performance reviews, the committee shall consider the timing and results of other recent state, federal, and independent reviews and audits, the seriousness of past findings, any inadequate remedial action taken by an agency or department, whether an agency or department lacks performance and outcome measures, and the desirability to include a diverse range of agencies or programs each year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 44.40 RCW to read as follows:
The performance reviews by the committee may include, but are not limited to:

- (1) A determination of whether the performance and outcome measures are consistent with legislative mandates, strategic plans, mission statements, and goals and objectives, and whether the legislature has established clear mandates, strategic plans, mission statements, and goals and objectives that lend themselves to performance and outcome measurement;
- (2) An examination of how agency management uses the measures to manage resources in an efficient and effective manner;

- (3) An assessment of how performance benchmarks are established for the purpose of assessing overall performance compared to external standards and benchmarks;
- (4) An examination of how an analysis of the measurement data is used to make planning and operational improvements;
- (5) A determination of how performance and outcome measures are used in the budget planning, development, and allotment processes and the extent to which the agency is in compliance with its responsibilities under RCW 43.88.090;
- (6) A review of how performance data are reported to and used by the legislature both in policy development and resource allocation;
- (7) An assessment of whether the performance measure data are reliable and collected in a uniform and timely manner;
- (8) A determination of whether targeted funding investments and established priorities of government actually produce the intended and expected services and benefits; and
- (9) Recommendations as necessary or appropriate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 44.40 RCW to read as follows:

(1) After reviewing the performance or outcome measures and benchmarks of a transportation-related agency or department, or at any time it so determines, the committee shall determine if a full performance or program audit of an agency or department, or a specific program within the agency or department, is appropriate. The committee, or its executive committee, may request the joint legislative audit and review committee to conduct performance or program audits, or it may retain a private consultant to do so. The committee shall pay for all costs associated with audits requested and pursued by them.

(2) In addition to the definitions in this chapter of what a performance or program audit is comprised of, the audits sought by the committee may also assess activity areas. Audits of this nature would be designed to augment the information collected under a performance or program audit and would at a minimum, include identifying the entities and agencies involved in or connected to a specific activity, and assessing and determining the impact the activity has on each entity and agency involved.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 44.40 RCW to read as follows:

In conducting performance or program audits, the legislative auditor with the joint legislative audit and review committee, or the private consultant retained by the committee, shall determine in writing the scope of an audit requested by the committee or its executive committee. The committee, or its executive committee, must approve the final scope of the audit. In determining the scope, the legislative auditor and the committee, or its executive committee, shall consider inclusion of the following elements:

- (1) Identification of potential cost savings in the agency, its programs, and its services;
- (2) Identification and recognition of best practices;
- (3) Identification of funding to the agency, to programs, and to services that can be eliminated or reduced;
- (4) Identification of programs and services that can be eliminated, reduced, or transferred to the private sector;
- (5) Analysis of gaps and overlaps in programs and services and recommendations for improving, dropping, blending, or separating functions to correct gaps or overlaps;
- (6) Analysis and recommendations for pooling information technology systems;
- (7) Analysis of the roles and functions of the agency, its programs, and its services and their compliance with statutory authority and recommendations for eliminating or changing those roles and functions and ensuring compliance with statutory authority;
- (8) Recommendations for eliminating or changing statutes, rules, and policy directives as may be necessary to ensure that the agency carry out reasonably and properly those functions expressly vested in the department by statute; and
- (9) Verification of the reliability and validity of department performance data, self-assessments, and performance measurement systems as required under RCW 43.88.090.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 44.40 RCW to read as follows:

(1) When conducting a full performance audit of an agency or department, or a specific program within an agency or department, or multiple agencies, in accordance with section 5 of this act, the legislative auditor or private consultant, as determined by the committee, shall solicit input from appropriate industry representatives or experts.

(2) The completed audit report must include but not be limited to the following: (a) Make recommendations regarding the continuation, abolition, consolidation, or reorganization of each affected agency, department, or program; (b) identify opportunities to develop government partnerships, and eliminate program redundancies that will result in increased quality, effectiveness, and efficiency of state agencies.

(3) Completed performance audits must be presented to the committee or its executive committee. Published performance audits must be made available to the public through the legislative transportation committee's web site and through customary public communications. Final reports must also be transmitted to the appropriate policy and fiscal standing committees of the legislature, the office of financial management, and the affected agencies and entities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The committee shall take steps to ensure that the department of transportation is the first agency subject to the performance review and audit process established in this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 82.36 RCW to read as follows:

SEIZURE AND FORFEITURE. (1) The following are subject to seizure and forfeiture:

(a) Motor vehicle fuel imported into this state by a person not licensed in this state in accordance with this chapter to import fuel;

(b) Motor vehicle fuel that is blended or manufactured by a person not licensed in this state in accordance with this chapter to blend or manufacture fuel;

(c) All conveyances that are used, or intended for use, to transport, or in any manner to facilitate the transportation, for the purpose of sale or receipt of property described in (a) and (b) of this subsection, except where the owner of the conveyance neither had knowledge of nor consented to the transportation of the fuel by an unlicensed importer, blender, or manufacturer of fuel.

(2) Before seizing a common carrier conveyance, contract carrier conveyance, or a conveyance secured by a bona fide security interest where the secured party neither had knowledge of or consented to the unlawful act or omission, the state patrol or the department of licensing shall give the common carrier, contract carrier, or secured party, or their representatives within twenty-four hours, a notice in writing served by mail or other means to cease transporting fuel for any person not licensed to import, blend, or manufacture fuel in this state.

(3) Property subject to forfeiture under this chapter may be seized by the state patrol upon process issued by a superior court or district court having jurisdiction over the property. Seizure without process may be made if:

(a) The seizure is incident to an arrest or a search under a search warrant; or

(b) The state patrol has probable cause to believe that the property was used or is intended to be used in violation of this chapter and exigent circumstances exist making procurement of a search warrant impracticable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 82.36 RCW to read as follows:

FORFEITURE PROCEDURE. In all cases of seizure of property made subject to forfeiture under this chapter, the state patrol shall proceed as follows:

(1) Forfeiture is deemed to have commenced by the seizure.

(2) The state patrol shall list and particularly describe in duplicate the conveyance seized. After the appropriate appeal period has expired, a seized conveyance must be sold at a public auction in accordance with chapter 43.19 RCW.

(3) The state patrol shall list and particularly describe in duplicate the fuel seized. The selling price of the fuel seized will be the average terminal rack price for similar fuel, at the closest terminal rack on the day of sale, unless circumstance warrants that a different selling price is appropriate. The method used to value the fuel must be documented. The fuel will be sold at the earliest point in time, and the total price must include all appropriate state and federal taxes. The state patrol or the department may enter into contracts for the transportation, handling, storage, and sale of fuel subject to forfeiture. The money received must be deposited in the motor vehicle account, after deduction for expenses provided for in sections 3 and 9 of this act.

(4) The state patrol shall, within five days after the seizure of a conveyance or fuel, cause notice to be served on the owner of the property seized, if known, on the person in charge of the property, and on any other person having any known right or interest in the property, of the seizure and intended forfeiture. The notice may be served by any method authorized by law or court rule including but not limited to service by mail. If service is by mail it must be by both certified mail with return receipt requested and regular mail. Service by mail is deemed complete upon mailing within the five-day period after the date of seizure.

(5) If no person notifies the state patrol in writing of the person's claim of ownership or right to possession of the items seized within fifteen days of the date of the notice of seizure, the items seized are considered forfeited.

(6) If any person notifies the state patrol, in writing, of the person's claim of ownership or right to possession of the items seized within fifteen days of the date of the notice of seizure, the person or persons must be given a reasonable opportunity to be heard as to the claim or right. The hearing must be before the director of licensing, or the director's designee. A hearing and any appeals must be in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW. The burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence is upon the person claiming to be the lawful owner or the person claiming to have the lawful right to possession of the items seized. The state patrol and the department shall promptly return the conveyance seized, and money from the sale of fuel seized, to the claimant upon a determination that the claimant is the present lawful owner and is lawfully entitled to possession of the items seized.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 82.36 RCW to read as follows:

FORFEITED PROPERTY--RETENTION, SALE, OR DESTRUCTION--USE OF SALE PROCEEDS.

When property is forfeited under this chapter, the state patrol or the department may use the proceeds of the sale and all moneys forfeited for the payment of all proper expenses of any investigation leading to the seizure and of the proceedings for forfeiture and sale, including expenses of seizure, maintenance of custody, advertising, and court costs. Proper expenses of investigation include costs incurred by a law enforcement agency or a federal, state, or local agency. The balance of the proceeds must be deposited in the motor vehicle account.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 82.36 RCW to read as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 82.36 RCW to read as follows:

(2) Before seizing a common carrier conveyance, contract carrier conveyance, or a conveyance secured by a bona fide security interest where the secured party neither had knowledge of or consented to the unlawful act or omission, the state patrol or the department of licensing shall give the common carrier, contract carrier, or secured party, or their representatives within twenty-four hours, a notice in writing served by mail or other means to cease transporting fuel for any person not licensed to import, blend, or manufacture fuel in this state.

(3) Property subject to forfeiture under this chapter may be seized by the state patrol upon process issued by a superior court or district court having jurisdiction over the property. Seizure without process may be made if:

(1)(a) Each comprehensive land use plan and development regulations shall be subject to continuing review and evaluation by the county or city that adopted them. A county or city shall take legislative action to review and, if needed, revise its comprehensive land use plan and development regulations to ensure the plan and regulations comply with the requirements of this chapter according to the time periods specified in subsection (4) of this section. A county or city not planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall take action to review and, if needed, revise its policies and development regulations regarding critical areas and natural resource lands adopted according to this chapter to ensure these policies and regulations comply with the requirements of this chapter according to the time periods specified in subsection (4) of this section. Legislative action means the adoption of a resolution or ordinance following notice and a public hearing indicating at a minimum, a finding that a review and evaluation has occurred and identifying the revisions made, or that a revision was not needed and the reasons therefore. The review and evaluation required by this subsection may be combined with the review required by subsection (3) of this section. The review and evaluation required by this subsection shall include, but is not limited to, consideration of critical area ordinances and, if planning under RCW 36.70A.040, an analysis of the population allocated to a city or county from the most recent ten-year population forecast by the office of financial management.

(b) Any amendment of or revision to a comprehensive land use plan shall conform to this chapter. Any amendment of or revision to development regulations shall, taken collectively, be consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan, including, but not limited to, accommodation of projected housing and employment growth as adopted in the applicable countywide planning policies and consistent with the most recent twenty-year population forecast by the office of financial management.

(2)(a) Each county and city shall establish and broadly disseminate to the public a public participation program consistent with RCW 36.70A.035 and 36.70A.140 that identifies procedures and schedules whereby updates, proposed amendments, or revisions of the comprehensive plan are considered by the governing body of the county or city no more frequently than once every year. "Updates" means to review and revise, if needed, according to subsection (1) of this section, and the time periods specified in subsection (4) of this section. Amendments may be considered more frequently than once per year under the following circumstances:

(i) The initial adoption of a subarea plan that does not modify the comprehensive plan policies and designations applicable to the subarea;

(ii) The adoption or amendment of a shoreline master program under the procedures set forth in chapter 90.58 RCW; and

(iii) The amendment of the capital facilities element of a comprehensive plan that occurs concurrently with the adoption or amendment of a county or city budget.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in (a) of this subsection, all proposals shall be considered by the governing body concurrently so the cumulative effect of the various proposals can be ascertained. However, after appropriate public participation a county or city may adopt amendments or revisions to its comprehensive plan that conform with this chapter whenever an emergency exists or to resolve an appeal of a comprehensive plan filed with a growth management hearings board or with the court.

(3) Each county that designates urban growth areas under RCW 36.70A.110 shall review, at least every ten years, its designated urban growth area or areas, and the densities permitted within both the incorporated and unincorporated portions of each urban growth area. In conjunction with this review by the county, each city located within an urban growth area shall review the densities permitted within its boundaries, and the extent to which the urban growth occurring within the county has located within each city and the unincorporated portions of the urban growth areas. The county comprehensive plan designating urban growth areas, and the densities permitted in the urban growth areas by the comprehensive plans of the county and each city located within the urban growth areas, shall be revised to accommodate the urban growth projected to occur in the county for the succeeding twenty-year period. The review required by this subsection may be combined with the review and evaluation required by RCW 36.70A.215.

(4) The department shall establish a schedule for counties and cities to take action to review and, if needed, revise their comprehensive plans and development regulations to ensure the plan and regulations comply with the requirements of this chapter. The schedule established by the department shall provide for the reviews and evaluations to be completed as follows:

(a) On or before December 1, 2004, and every seven years thereafter, for Clallam, Clark, Jefferson, King, Kitsap, Pierce, Snohomish, Thurston, and Whatcom counties and the cities within those counties;

(b) On or before December 1, 2005, and every seven years thereafter, for Cowlitz, Island, Lewis, Mason, San Juan, Skagit, and Skamania counties and the cities within those counties;

(c) On or before December 1, 2006, and every seven years thereafter, for Benton, Chelan, Douglas, Grant, Kittitas, Spokane, and Yakima counties and the cities within those counties; and

(d) On or before December 1, 2007, and every seven years thereafter, for Adams, Asotin, Columbia, Ferry, Franklin, Garfield, Grays Harbor, Klickitat, Lincoln, Okanogan, Pacific, Pend Oreille, Stevens, Wahkiakum, Walla Walla, and Whitman counties and the cities within those counties.

(5)(a) Nothing in this section precludes a county or city from conducting the review and evaluation required by this section before the time limits established in subsection (4) of this section. Counties and cities may begin this process early and may be eligible for grants from the department, subject to available funding, if they elect to do so.

(b) State agencies are encouraged to provide technical assistance to the counties and cities in the review of critical area ordinances, comprehensive plans, and development regulations.

(6) A county or city subject to the time periods in subsection (4)(a) of this section that, pursuant to an ordinance adopted by the county or city establishing a schedule for periodic review of its comprehensive plan and development regulations, has conducted a review and evaluation of its comprehensive plan and development regulations and, on or after January 1, 2001, has taken action in response to that review and evaluation shall be deemed to have conducted the first review required by subsection (4)(a) of this section. Subsequent review and evaluation by the county or city of its comprehensive plan and development regulations shall be conducted in accordance with the time periods established under subsection (4)(a) of this section.

(7) The requirements imposed on counties and cities under this section shall be considered "requirements of this chapter" under the terms of RCW 36.70A.040(1). Only those counties and cities in compliance with the schedules in this section shall have the requisite authority to receive grants, loans, pledges, or financial guarantees from those accounts established in RCW 43.155.050 and 70.146.030. Only those counties and cities in compliance with the schedules in this section shall receive preference for grants or loans subject to the provisions of RCW 43.17.250."

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 48.29 RCW to read as follows:

(1) At the time of filing an application for a title insurance agent license, or any renewal or reinstatement of a title insurance agent license, the applicant shall provide satisfactory evidence to the commissioner of having obtained the following as evidence of financial responsibility:

(a) A fidelity bond or fidelity insurance providing coverage in the aggregate amount of two hundred thousand dollars with a deductible no greater than ten thousand dollars covering the applicant and each corporate officer, partner, escrow officer, and employee of the applicant conducting the business of an escrow agent as defined in RCW 18.44.011 and exempt from licensing under RCW 18.44.021(6); and

(b) A surety bond in the amount of ten thousand dollars executed by the applicant as obligor and by a surety company authorized to do a surety business in this state as surety, or some other security approved by the commissioner, unless the fidelity bond or fidelity insurance obtained by the licensee to satisfy the requirement in (a) of this subsection does not have a deductible. The bond shall run to the state of Washington as obligee, and shall run to the benefit of the state and any person or persons who suffer loss by reason of the applicant's or its employee's violation of this chapter. The bond shall be conditioned that the obligor as licensee will faithfully conform to and abide by this chapter and all rules adopted under this chapter, and shall reimburse all persons who suffer loss by reason of a violation of this chapter or rules adopted under this chapter. The bond shall be continuous and may be canceled by the surety upon the surety giving written notice to the commissioner of its intent to cancel the bond. The cancellation shall be effective thirty days after the notice is received by the commissioner. Whether or not the bond is renewed, continued, reinstated, reissued, or otherwise extended, replaced, or modified, including increases or decreases in the penal sum, it shall be considered one continuous obligation, and the surety upon the bond shall not be liable in an aggregate amount exceeding the penal sum set forth on the face of the bond. In no event shall the penal sum, or any portion thereof, at two or more points in time be added together in determining the surety's liability. (2) For the purposes of this section, a "fidelity bond" means a primary commercial blanket bond or its equivalent satisfactory to the commissioner and written by an insurer authorized to transact this line of business in the state of Washington. The bond shall provide fidelity coverage for any fraudulent or dishonest acts committed by any one or more of the employees, officers, or owners as defined in the bond, acting alone or in collusion with others. The bond shall be for the sole benefit of the title insurance agent and under no circumstances whatsoever shall the bonding company be liable under the bond to any other party. The bond shall name the title insurance agent as obligee and shall protect the obligee against the loss of money or other real or personal property belonging to the obligee, or in which the obligee has a pecuniary interest, or for which the obligee is legally liable or held by the obligee in any capacity, whether the obligee is legally liable therefor or not. The bond may be canceled by the insurer upon delivery of thirty days' written notice to the commissioner and to the title insurance agent.

The insurance coverage may be canceled by the insurer upon delivery of thirty days' written notice to the commissioner and to the title insurance agent.

(4) The fidelity bond or fidelity insurance, and the surety bond or other form of security approved by the commissioner, shall be kept in full force and effect as a condition precedent to the title insurance agent's authority to transact business in this state, and the title insurance agent shall supply the commissioner with satisfactory evidence thereof upon request."

ESSB 5586 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee On Natural Resources, Energy & Water: Granting authority to address concerns with lead-based paint activities. Reported by Committee on Fisheries, Ecology & Parks

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that lead hazards associated with lead-based paint represent a significant and preventable environmental health problem. Lead-based paint is the most widespread of the various sources of lead exposure to the public. Census data show that one million five hundred sixty thousand homes in Washington state were built prior to 1978 when the sale of residential lead-based paint was banned. These are homes that are believed to contain some lead-based paint.

Lead negatively affects every system of the body. It is harmful to individuals of all ages and is especially harmful to children, fetuses, and adults of childbearing age. The effects of lead on a child's cognitive, behavioral, and developmental abilities may necessitate large expenditures of public funds for health care and special education. The irreversible damage to children and subsequent expenditures could be avoided if exposure to lead is reduced.

(2) The federal government regulates lead poisoning and lead hazard reduction through:

- (a)(i) The lead-based paint poisoning prevention act;
- (ii) The lead contamination control act;
- (iii) The safe drinking water act;
- (iv) The resource conservation and recovery act of 1976; and
- (v) The residential lead-based paint hazard reduction act of 1992; and
- (b) Implementing regulations of:
  - (i) The environmental protection agency;

- (ii) The department of housing and urban development;
- (iii) The occupational safety and health administration; and
- (iv) The centers for disease control and prevention.

(3) In 1992, congress passed the federal residential lead-based paint hazard reduction act, which allows states to provide for the accreditation of lead-based paint activities programs, the certification of persons completing such training programs, and the licensing of lead-based paint activities contractors under standards developed by the United States environmental protection agency.

(4) The legislature recognizes the state's need to protect the public from exposure to lead hazards. A qualified and properly trained work force is needed to assist in the prevention, detection, reduction, and elimination of hazards associated with lead-based paint. The purpose of training workers, supervisors, inspectors, risk assessors, and project designers engaged in lead-based paint activities is to protect building occupants, particularly children ages six years and younger from potential lead-based paint hazards and exposures both during and after lead-based paint activities. Qualified and properly trained individuals and firms will help to ensure lead-based paint activities are conducted in a way that protects the health of the citizens of Washington state and safeguards the environment. The state lead-based paint activities program requires that all lead-based paint activities be performed by certified personnel trained by an accredited program, and that all lead-based paint activities meet minimum work practice standards established by the department of community, trade, and economic development. Therefore, the lead-based paint activities accreditation, training, and certification program shall be established in accordance with this chapter. The lead-based paint activities accreditation, training, and certification program shall be administered by the department of community, trade, and economic development and shall be used as a means to assure the protection of the general public from exposure to lead hazards.

(5) For the welfare of the people of the state of Washington, this chapter establishes a lead-based paint activities program within the department of community, trade, and economic development to protect the general public from exposure to lead hazards and to ensure the availability of a trained and qualified work force to identify and address lead-based paint hazards.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Abatement" means any measure or set of measures designed to permanently eliminate lead-based paint hazards.

(a) Abatement includes, but is not limited to:

(i) The removal of paint and dust, the permanent enclosure or encapsulation of lead-based paint, the replacement of painted surfaces or fixtures, or the removal or permanent covering of soil, when lead-based paint hazards are present in such paint, dust, or soil; and

(ii) All preparation, cleanup, disposal, and postabatement clearance testing activities associated with such measures.

(b) Specifically, abatement includes, but is not limited to:

(i) Projects for which there is a written contract or other documentation, which provides that an individual or firm will be conducting activities in or to a residential dwelling or child-occupied facility that:

(A) Shall result in the permanent elimination of lead-based paint hazards; or

(B) Are designed to permanently eliminate lead-based paint hazards and are described in (a)(i) and (ii) of this subsection;

(ii) Projects resulting in the permanent elimination of lead-based paint hazards, conducted by certified firms or individuals, unless such projects are covered by (c) of this subsection;

(iii) Projects resulting in the permanent elimination of lead-based paint hazards, conducted by firms or individuals who, through their company name or promotional literature, represent, advertise, or hold themselves out to be in the business of performing lead-based paint activities as identified and defined by this section, unless such projects are covered by (c) of this subsection; or

(iv) Projects resulting in the permanent elimination of lead-based paint hazards, that are conducted in response to state or local abatement orders.

(c) Abatement does not include renovation, remodeling, landscaping, or other activities, when such activities are not designed to permanently eliminate lead-based paint hazards, but, instead, are designed to repair, restore, or remodel a given structure or dwelling, even though these activities may incidentally result in a reduction or elimination of lead-based paint hazards. Furthermore, abatement does not include interim controls, operations and maintenance activities, or other measures and activities designed to temporarily, but not permanently, reduce lead-based paint hazards.

(2) "Accredited training program" means a training program that has been accredited by the department to provide training for individuals engaged in lead-based paint activities.

(9) "Department" means the Washington state department of community, trade, and economic development.

(10) "Director" means the director of the Washington state department of community, trade, and economic development.

(11) "Federal laws and rules" means:

(a) Title IV, toxic substances control act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 2681 et seq.) and the rules adopted by the United States environmental protection agency under that law for authorization of state programs;

(b) Any regulations or requirements adopted by the United States department of housing and urban development regarding eligibility for grants to states and local governments; and

(c) Any other requirements adopted by a federal agency with jurisdiction over lead-based paint hazards.

(12) "Lead-based paint" means paint or other surface coatings that contain lead equal to or in excess of 1.0 milligrams per square centimeter or more than 0.5 percent by weight.

(13) "Lead-based paint activity" includes inspection, testing, risk assessment, lead-based paint hazard reduction project design or planning, or abatement of lead-based paint hazards.

(14) "Lead-based paint hazard" means any condition that causes exposure to lead from lead-contaminated dust, lead-contaminated soil, or lead-contaminated paint that is deteriorated or present in accessible surfaces, friction surfaces, or impact surfaces that would result in adverse human health effects as identified by the administrator of the United States environmental protection agency under the toxic substances control act, section 403.

(15) "State program" means a state administered lead-based paint activities certification and training program that meets the federal environmental protection agency requirements.

(16) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, firm, partnership, or association, an Indian tribe, state, or political subdivision of a state, and a state department or agency.

(17) "Risk assessment" means:

(a) An on-site investigation to determine the existence, nature, severity, and location of lead-based paint hazards; and

(b) The provision of a report by the individual or the firm conducting the risk assessment, explaining the results of the investigation and options for reducing lead-based paint hazards.

NEW SECTION. ESSB 5012 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee On Education: Authorizing charter schools. Reported by Committee on Education

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. INTENT. The legislature finds that in addition to providing more, high quality public school choices for families, teachers, and students, public charter schools may be a tool for the improvement of schools in which significant numbers of students persistently fail to meet state standards. The legislature also finds that the federal no child left behind act of 2001 authorizes the conversion of noncharter public schools to charter public schools in the restructuring process for schools that persistently fail to make adequate yearly progress in student achievement.

The legislature intends to authorize the establishment of charter schools for the primary purpose of providing more, high quality learning environments to assist educationally disadvantaged and other students in meeting the state's academic standards. The legislature also intends to encourage school districts to consider using the chartering process as an optional tool for developing viable school improvement plans aimed at achieving state and federal accountability goals. The legislature also intends to authorize the use of the chartering process as a state intervention strategy to provide focused assistance to low performing schools.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Alternate sponsor" means either: (a) The educational service district in which the proposed charter school will be located; or (b) either the governing board of a state or regional university as defined in RCW 28B.10.016 or the governing board of The Evergreen State College, in consultation with the educational service district in which the proposed charter school will be located. An institution of higher education, to be eligible as an alternate sponsor, must operate an approved teacher education program meeting state standards leading to teacher certification. Charter schools sponsored under this subsection shall be approved by the governing board of the sponsoring institution or by the dean of the department of the school of education or the school operating the institution's teacher education program, or by an official or agency designated by and accountable to the governing board of the sponsoring institution.

(2) "Applicant" means a nonprofit corporation that has submitted an application to a sponsor or an alternate sponsor to obtain approval to operate a charter school. The nonprofit corporation must be either a public benefit nonprofit corporation as defined in RCW 24.03.490, or a nonprofit corporation as defined in RCW 24.03.005 that has applied for tax-exempt status under section 501(c)(3) of the internal revenue code of 1986 (26 U.S.C. Sec. 501(c)(3)). The nonprofit corporation may not be a sectarian or religious organization and must meet all of the requirements for a public benefit nonprofit corporation before receiving any funding under section 12 of this act.

(3) "Board of directors" means the board of directors appointed or elected by the applicant to manage and operate the charter school.

(4) "Charter" means a contract between an applicant and a sponsor. The charter establishes, in accordance with this chapter, the terms and conditions for the management, operation, and educational program of the charter school.

(5) "Charter school" means a public school managed by an applicant's board of directors and operating independently of any school district board under a charter approved in accordance with this chapter.

(6) "Conversion charter school" means a noncharter public school converted to a charter public school through the chartering process approved in accordance with this chapter.

(7) "Educationally disadvantaged students" includes students who do not speak English proficiently, students with special needs, students who qualify for free and reduced priced meals, and other students who are at risk of failing to meet state and federal academic performance standards.

(8) "Sponsor" means the school district in which the charter school is located.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. CHARTER SCHOOLS--POWERS. (1) In carrying out its duty to manage and operate the charter school, the board of directors of a charter school may:

(a) Hire, manage, and discharge any charter school employee in accordance with the terms of this chapter and that school's charter;

(b) Enter into a contract with any school district, or any other public or private entity, also empowered to enter into contracts, for any and all real property, equipment, goods, supplies, and services, including educational instructional services;

(c) Rent, lease, or own property, but may not acquire property by eminent domain. All charters and charter school contracts with other public and private entities must include provisions regarding the disposition of the property if the charter school fails to open as planned, closes, or the charter is revoked or not renewed;

(d) Issue secured and unsecured debt to manage cash flow, improve operations, or finance the acquisition of real property or equipment. Such an issuance does not constitute an obligation, either general, special, or moral of the state, the charter school sponsor, the school district in which the charter school is located or any other political subdivision or agency of the state. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state, the charter school sponsor, the school district in which the charter school is located, or any other political subdivision or agency of the state may be pledged for the payment of such debt;

(e) Accept and administer for the benefit of the charter school and its students gifts, grants, and donations from other governmental and private entities, excluding sectarian or religious organizations. Charter schools may not accept any gifts or donations the conditions of which violate this chapter.

(2) A charter school may not charge tuition, levy taxes, or issue bonds, however it may charge fees for optional noncredit extracurricular events.

(3) Neither a charter school sponsor, an alternate sponsor, nor the school district in which the charter school is located is liable for acts or omissions of a charter school, including but not limited to acts or omissions related to the application, the charter, the operation, the performance, and the closure of the charter school.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. LEGAL STATUS. A charter school is a public school including one or more of grades kindergarten through twelve, operated by a board of directors appointed or elected by a charter school applicant, according to the terms of a renewable five-year contract granted by a sponsor or an alternate sponsor. A charter school may offer any program or course of study that a noncharter public school may offer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. CHARTER SCHOOLS--EXEMPTIONS. (1) A charter school shall operate independently of any school district board, under a charter approved by a sponsor or an alternate sponsor under this chapter.

(2) Charter schools are exempt from all state statutes and rules applicable to school districts and school district boards of directors except those statutes and rules as provided for and made applicable to charter schools in accordance with this chapter and in the school's approved charter.

(3) A charter school's board of directors may elect to comply with one or more provisions of the statutes or rules that are applicable to school districts and school district board of directors.

(4) All approved charter schools shall:

(a) Comply with state and federal health, safety, parents' rights, civil rights laws, and nondiscrimination laws, including but not limited to, chapter 28A.640 RCW (sexual equality) and Title IX of the education amendments of 1972 (20 U.S.C. Sec. 1681 et seq.) applicable to school districts, and to the same extent as school districts;

(b) Participate in nationally normed standardized achievement tests as required in RCW 28A.230.190, 28A.230.193, and 28A.230.230 and the elementary, middle school, and high school standards, requirements, and assessment examinations as required in RCW 28A.655.060;

(c) Employ certificated instructional staff as required in RCW 28A.410.010, however charter schools may hire noncertificated instructional staff of unusual competence and in exceptional cases as specified in RCW 28A.150.260. Charter school instructional staff shall comply with RCW 28A.405.030;

(d) Comply with the employee record check requirements in RCW 28A.400.303;

(e) Be subject to the same financial and audit requirements as a school district, and in addition be subject to regular independent performance audits conducted by the state legislative auditor;

(f) Comply with the annual performance report under RCW 28A.655.110;

(g) Follow the performance improvement goals and requirements adopted by the academic achievement and accountability commission by rule under RCW 28A.655.030;

(h) Report at least annually to its sponsor, the school district in which the charter school is located, and to parents of children enrolled at the charter school on progress toward the student performance goals specified in the charter;

(i) Comply with the open public meetings act in chapter 42.30 RCW and open public records requirements in RCW 42.17.250; and

(j) Be subject to and comply with legislation enacted after the effective date of this act governing the operation and management of charter schools.

(5) A member of a board of directors of a charter school shall be considered the equivalent of a board member of a school district for the purposes of public disclosure requirements and must comply with the reporting requirements in RCW 42.17.240.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS. (1) Notwithstanding subsection (2) of this section, a conversion charter school may not displace students enrolled prior to the chartering process and must be structured to provide sufficient capacity to enroll all students who wish to remain enrolled in the school after conversion and must give first priority to enrollment of those students.

(2) A charter school must enroll all students who submit a timely application if capacity is sufficient. If capacity is insufficient to enroll all students who submit a timely application, the charter school must give enrollment priority to students who reside within the school district boundaries in which the charter school is physically located, students exercising public school choice under the federal no child left behind act of 2001, and students transferring from schools receiving focused assistance. Priority also must be given to siblings of students who are currently enrolled in the school. Students must be selected through an equitable selection process, such as a lottery, to fill any remaining spaces.

(3) A charter school must enroll and serve educationally disadvantaged students and may not limit admission on any characteristic listed in RCW 49.60.010. A charter school may limit admission to students within a given age group or grade level.

(4) The percentage of educationally disadvantaged students enrolled in a charter school must be equal to or greater than the percentage of such students in a noncharter public school being converted to a charter or in the district in which the charter school is located.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. CHARTER APPLICATION--CHARTERING PROCESS.

(1) An applicant may apply to a sponsor or an alternate sponsor to establish a charter school in accordance with this section.

(2) An application for a charter school must be submitted first to the board of directors of the school district in which the proposed charter school will be located, allowing for the board's consideration of the application in accordance with subsections (3) and (4) of this section, before the application may be submitted to an alternate sponsor.

(3) The school district board of directors must decide, within forty-five days of receipt of the application, whether to hold a public hearing in the school district for the purpose of taking public comment on the application and must schedule such a hearing within seventy-five days of receipt of the application. If the school board intends to accept the application, one or more public hearings must be held prior to the granting of a charter; however a school board is not required to hold a public hearing prior to rejecting an application. The school board must either accept or reject the application within one hundred five days after receipt of the application. The one hundred five-day deadline for acceptance or rejection of the charter school application may be extended for an additional thirty days if both parties agree in writing.

(4) If the school board elects not to hold a public hearing or rejects the application after holding one or more public hearings, the school board must notify the applicant in writing of the reasons for that decision. The applicant may submit a revised application for the school board's reconsideration and the school board may provide assistance to improve the application. If the school board rejects the application after submission of a revised application, the school board must notify the applicant in writing of the reasons for the rejection.

(5) Applications to an alternate sponsor for the conversion of a noncharter public school to a charter school may be made only to an educational service district sponsor.

(6) Alternate sponsors must comply with the procedures in subsections (1) through (4) of this section for consideration of the charter application. A sponsor or alternate sponsor is not bound by another sponsor's or another alternate sponsor's findings or decision to deny the application.

(7) The superintendent of public instruction shall maintain copies of all approved charter applications. An applicant may obtain copies of those applications from the office of the superintendent of public instruction.

(8) Educational service districts and the superintendent of public instruction are encouraged to assist schools and school districts in which significant numbers of students persistently fail to meet state standards with completing the chartering process. Assistance from an educational service district or from the superintendent of public instruction may include, but is not limited to, identifying potential eligible applicants and assisting with the charter application and approval processes.

(9) To the extent authorized in the federal no child left behind act of 2001, under the restructuring and alternative governance provisions for schools failing to meet adequate yearly progress, the superintendent of public instruction may require the conversion in accordance with the provisions of this chapter of a persistently failing or low performing noncharter public school into a charter school for the purpose of meeting state and federal student achievement and accountability requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS. The charter school application is a proposed contract and must include:

(1) The identification and description of the nonprofit corporation submitting the application, including the names, descriptions, curriculum vitae, and qualifications, which shall be subject to verification and review, of the individuals who will operate the school;

(11) A description of the procedures to discipline and dismiss students; and

(12) A description of procedures to assure the health and safety of students, employees, and guests of the school and to comply with applicable federal and state health and safety laws and regulations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. APPROVAL CRITERIA. A sponsor or alternate sponsor may approve an application for a charter school, if in the sponsor's or alternate sponsor's reasonable judgment, after exercising due diligence and good faith, the sponsor or alternate sponsor finds:

(1) The applicant is an eligible public benefit nonprofit corporation and the individuals it proposes to manage and operate the school are qualified to operate a charter school and implement the proposed educational program;

(2) The mission statement is consistent with the description of legislative intent and restrictions on charter school operations in this chapter;

(3) The school's proposed educational program is free from religious or sectarian influence;

(7) The school will serve students transferring from low performing schools or educationally disadvantaged students or both, and the school's projected percentage of educationally disadvantaged students is equal to or greater than the percentage of such students in the noncharter public school being converted, or in the district in which the charter school is located;

(8) The school's admissions policy and marketing program is consistent with state and federal law;

(9) The financial plan for the school is designed to reasonably support the charter school's educational program based on a review of the proposed five-year budget of projected revenues, expenditures, and facilities;

(10) The school's financial and administrative operations, including its audits, meet or exceed generally accepted standards of accounting and management;

(11) The assessment of the school's potential legal liability, and the types and limits of insurance coverage the school plans to obtain, are adequate. For purposes of this subsection, a liability insurance policy of five million dollars is required;

(12) The procedures the school plans to follow for discipline and dismissal of students are reasonable and comply with federal law;

(13) The procedures the school plans to follow to assure the health and safety of students, employees, and guests of the school comply with applicable state and federal health and safety laws and regulations; and

(14) The public benefit nonprofit corporation has been approved or conditionally approved by the internal revenue service for tax exempt status under section 501(c)(3) of the internal revenue code of 1986 (26 U.S.C. Sec. 501(c)(3)).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. CHARTER AGREEMENT--AMENDMENT. (1) A charter application approved by a sponsor or an alternate sponsor with any changes or additions, including performance standards or benchmarks established by the sponsor, constitutes a charter.

(2) A charter may be amended during its term at the request of the charter school board of directors and on the approval of the sponsor or alternate sponsor.

(3) A charter may not prohibit and must provide for application of laws applicable to charter schools or to charter school boards of directors enacted after the effective date of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. CHARTER RENEWAL AND REVOCATION. (1) An approved plan to establish a charter school is effective for five years from the first day of operation. At the conclusion of the first three years of operation, the charter school may apply to the original sponsor or alternate sponsor for renewal. A request for renewal must be submitted no later than six months before the expiration of the charter.

(2) A charter school renewal application must include:

(a) A report on the progress of the charter school in achieving the goals; student performance standards, including the student performance standards adopted by rule by the academic achievement and accountability commission in accordance with RCW 28A.655.030; and other terms of the charter; and

(b) A financial statement that discloses the costs of administration, instruction, and other expenditure objects and activities of the charter school.

(3) The sponsor or alternate sponsor shall reject the application for renewal if the academic progress of students in the charter school, as measured by the standards and assessments in RCW 28A.655.060, is inferior to the average progress of students in the district in which the charter school is located when similar student populations are compared.

(4) The sponsor or alternate sponsor may reject the application for renewal if any of the following occurred:

(a) The charter school materially violated its contract with the sponsor or alternate sponsor, as set forth in the charter;

(b) The students enrolled in the charter school failed to meet student performance standards identified in the charter, including the student performance standards adopted by rule by the academic achievement and accountability commission in accordance with RCW 28A.655.030;

(c) The charter school failed to meet generally accepted standards of fiscal management; or

(d) The charter school violated provisions in law that have not been waived in accordance with this chapter.

(5) A sponsor or alternate sponsor shall give written notice of its intent not to renew the charter school's request for renewal to the charter school within three months of the request for renewal to allow the charter school an opportunity to correct identified deficiencies in its operation. At the request of the board of directors of the charter school, the sponsor or alternate sponsor shall review its decision for nonrenewal after the charter school has corrected any identified deficiencies.

(6) The sponsor or alternate sponsor may revoke a previously approved charter before the expiration of the term of the charter, and before application for renewal, for any of the reasons specified in subsection (3) or (4) of this section. Except in cases of emergency where the health and safety of children are at risk, a charter may not be revoked unless the sponsor or alternate sponsor first provides written notice of the specific violations alleged, a public hearing in the school district in which the charter school is located, and a reasonable opportunity for the charter school to correct the identified areas of concern. The sponsor or alternate sponsor of a charter school shall provide for an appeal process upon a determination by the sponsor or alternate sponsor that grounds exist to revoke a charter.

(7) A charter school planning to close or anticipating revocation or nonrenewal of its charter shall provide a plan setting forth a timeline and the responsible parties for disposition of students and student records and disposition of finances.

(a) Immediately following the decision to close a school, the school must:

(i) Submit to the sponsor or alternate sponsor a list of parent addresses and proof that the school has communicated the impending closure of the school to all parents and staff;

(ii) Assign staff responsible for transition of student records and for providing assistance to students and parents in transferring from the charter school to the district public, private, or home school chosen by the family;

(iii) Provide the names and contact information for staff responsible for student transfer of records, as well as the projected transition tasks and timelines to the sponsor or alternate sponsor, and upon completion of student transition, provide a list of students and a brief description of the disposition of their student records to the sponsor or alternate sponsor.

(b) Prior to closing the charter school the charter school board of directors shall:

(i) Identify a trustee who will, through the process of closing the school and for a term of ten years thereafter, assume responsibility for school and student records, and notify the sponsor or alternate sponsor of the name and contact information for the trustee;

(ii) Determine the amount of anticipated revenue due to the school as well as anticipated liabilities, and provide a complete asset and liability report to the sponsor or alternate sponsor;

(iii) Create a current and projected payroll and payroll benefits commitment;

(iv) List each employee, job, and the funds necessary to complete the educational calendar balance of the year, the transition of students and records, and the administrative close-down tasks;

(v) Determine the total moneys required to complete contracts;

(vi) Schedule an audit and set aside funds to cover costs; and

(vii) Provide the sponsor or alternate sponsor with a plan for the closure of the school and final disposition of all property owned by the charter school.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. FUNDING. (1) For charter schools approved by a sponsor:

(a) For purposes of funding, students in charter schools shall be considered students of the sponsoring district for state apportionment purposes. Without violating section 13 of this act, the sponsoring school district shall provide prompt and timely funding for charter schools in amounts the schools would have generated if the students were enrolled in a noncharter public school in the district except that a charter school shall not generate eligibility for small school assistance. Funding for charter schools shall include regular apportionment, categorical, student achievement, and nonbasic education moneys, as appropriate and shall be based on enrollment, staffing, and other financial information submitted by the charter school to the school district as required to determine state apportionment amounts. A sponsor shall submit, by November 1st of each year, to the office of the superintendent of public instruction annual year-end financial information, as prescribed by the superintendent, for each charter school sponsored in the previous school year;

(b) Local levy moneys approved by the voters before the effective date of a charter between a school district and an applicant shall not be allocated to a charter school unless the sponsoring school district determines it has received sufficient authority from voters to allocate maintenance and operation excess tax levy money to the charter school. For levies approved after the effective date of a charter, charter schools shall be included in levy planning, budgets, and funding distribution in the same manner as other schools in the district only to the extent agreed to by the school district board of directors. In making the decision, the school district board of directors shall consult with the charter school board of directors; and

(c) A charter school is eligible for state matching funds for common school construction if a sponsoring school district determines it has received voter approval of local capital funds for the project.

(2) Public schools converting to charter schools shall receive funding in the same manner as other charter schools sponsored by school districts.

(3) If the sponsor is not a school district, students in the charter school shall be considered a separate school district for state apportionment purposes. Without violating section 13 of this act, the superintendent of public instruction shall provide prompt and timely funding for charter schools through the apportionment funding formulas in amounts the schools would have generated if the students were enrolled in a school district except that a charter school shall not generate eligibility for small school assistance. The funding shall include regular apportionment, categorical, student achievement, and nonbasic education moneys and shall be based on enrollment, staffing, and other financial information submitted by the charter school to the superintendent of public instruction, as required to determine state apportionment amounts. Those allocations to charter schools that are included in RCW 84.52.0531(3) (a) through (c) shall be included in the levy base of the district in which the charter school is located.

(4) No local levy money may be allocated to a charter school if the charter school is sponsored by a sponsor that is not a school district.

(5) To be eligible to receive state categorical program funding, a charter school must serve students who would be eligible for program funding if served by the school district.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. ADMINISTRATION FEE. To offset costs of oversight and administering the charter, a sponsor or an alternate sponsor may retain up to three percent of state funding and local excess levy funding, if applicable, that is being driven to the charter school. Except for the administration fee in this section, no other offsets or deductions are allowed, whether for central administration or other off-site support services, from a charter school's per-pupil share of state appropriations, local levies, or other funds, unless the charter school has contracted with a school district to obtain specific additional services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. LEAVES OF ABSENCE. If a school district employee makes a written request for an extended leave of absence to work at a charter school, the school district shall grant the request. The school district may require that the request for a leave be made up to ninety days before the employee would otherwise have to report for duty. The leave shall be granted for up to three years. If the employee returns to the school district within the three-year period, the employee shall be hired before the district hires anyone else with fewer years of service, with respect to any position for which the returning employee is certificated or otherwise qualified.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. STUDY OF CHARTER SCHOOLS. The Washington institute for public policy shall study the implementation and effectiveness of this act. The institute shall report to the legislature on the effectiveness of charter schools in raising student achievement and the impact of charter schools. The institute also shall examine and discuss whether and how charter schools have enhanced education reform efforts and recommend whether relaxing or eliminating certain regulatory requirements for noncharter public schools could result in improved school performance at those schools. The institute shall recommend changes to this chapter including improvements that could be made to the application and approval process. A preliminary report of the study is due to the legislature by March 1, 2006, and a final report is due September 1, 2007.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. NUMBER OF CHARTER SCHOOLS. (1) Applications for charter schools may begin on the effective date of this section. The maximum number of charters that can be granted under this chapter is five in the first year commencing July 1, 2003, five in the second year, and fifteen in each of the next four years. These annual allocations shall be cumulative so that if the maximum is not reached in any given year the maximum shall be increased accordingly for the successive years. Sixty percent of allowable new charters each year may be approved only for charter schools that will serve educationally disadvantaged students, or students from low performing schools.

(2) For purposes of monitoring compliance with this section and providing information to new charter school applicants, the superintendent of public instruction shall maintain a running total of the projected and actual enrollment at charter schools and the total number of charters granted. Charters for schools planning to open at the beginning of a school year must be approved no later than March 31st of the preceding school year, except that for new charter schools planning to open in September 2003, the charter may be approved up to fifteen days after the effective date of this act.

(3) For purposes of implementing this subsection, a sponsor or alternate sponsor shall notify the office of the superintendent of public instruction when it receives a charter school application, when it approves a charter school, and when a charter school is terminated. When the maximum allowable number of new charter schools is approved in a given year, the superintendent shall notify potential sponsors that the annual limit has been reached.

(4) The maximum number of charter schools allowed under this section does not include noncharter public schools converting to charter schools, however, conversion charter schools shall be considered charter schools for the purposes of subsections (2) and (3) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 41.56 RCW to read as follows:

This chapter applies to charter schools as defined in section 2 of this act and the charter school's employees included in the bargaining unit. The bargaining unit of employees of charter schools must be limited to the employees of the charter school and must be separate from other bargaining units in the school district or educational service district unless the charter school is a public school that has converted to a charter school. The employees of public schools that have converted to a charter school shall remain members of the bargaining units in the school district.

This section, designating charter schools as employers and charter school employees as members under the teachers' retirement systems, the school employees' retirement systems, and the public employees' retirement systems, takes effect only if the department of retirement systems receives determinations from the internal revenue service and the United States department of labor that such participation does not jeopardize the status of these retirement systems as governmental plans under the federal employees' retirement income security act and the internal revenue code.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 41.59 RCW to read as follows:

This chapter applies to collective bargaining agreements between charter schools and the employees of charter schools included in the bargaining unit. The bargaining unit of employees of charter schools must be limited to the employees of the charter school and must be separate from other bargaining units in the school district or educational service district.

This section, designating charter schools as employers and charter school employees as members under the teachers' retirement systems, the school employees' retirement systems, and the public employees' retirement systems, takes effect only if the department of retirement systems receives determinations from the internal revenue service and the United States department of labor that such participation does not jeopardize the status of these retirement systems as governmental plans under the federal employees' retirement income security act and the internal revenue code.

The commission, upon proper application for certification as an exclusive bargaining representative or upon petition for change of unit definition by the employer or any employee organization within the time limits specified in RCW 41.59.070(3), and after hearing upon reasonable notice, shall determine the unit appropriate for the purpose of collective bargaining. In determining, modifying or combining the bargaining unit, the commission shall consider the duties, skills, and working conditions of the educational employees; the history of collective bargaining; the extent of organization among the educational employees; and the desire of the educational employees; except that:

(1) A unit including nonsupervisory educational employees shall not be considered appropriate unless it includes all such nonsupervisory educational employees of the employer; and

(2) A unit that includes only supervisors may be considered appropriate if a majority of the employees in such category indicate by vote that they desire to be included in such a unit; and

(3) A unit that includes only principals and assistant principals may be considered appropriate if a majority of such employees indicate by vote that they desire to be included in such a unit; and

(4) A unit that includes both principals and assistant principals and other supervisory employees may be considered appropriate if a majority of the employees in each category indicate by vote that they desire to be included in such a unit; and

(5) A unit that includes supervisors and/or principals and assistant principals and nonsupervisory educational employees may be considered appropriate if a majority of the employees in each category indicate by vote that they desire to be included in such a unit; and

(6) A unit that includes only employees in vocational-technical institutes or occupational skill centers may be considered to constitute an appropriate bargaining unit if the history of bargaining in any such school district so justifies; and

(7) Notwithstanding the definition of collective bargaining, a unit that contains only supervisors and/or principals and assistant principals shall be limited in scope of bargaining to compensation, hours of work, and the number of days of work in the annual employment contracts; and

(8) The bargaining unit of certificated employees of school districts, educational service districts, or institutions of higher education that are education providers under chapter 28A.193 RCW must be limited to the employees working as education providers to juveniles in each adult correctional facility maintained by the department of corrections and must be separate from other bargaining units in school districts, educational service districts, or institutions of higher education; and

(9) The bargaining unit for employees of charter schools as defined in section 2 of this act must be limited to the employees of the charter school and must be separate from other bargaining units in the school district or educational service district.

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

(1) After an application to, and upon the issuance by the department of an amendment to the appropriate permit or certificate of ground water right, the holder of a valid right to withdraw public ground waters may, without losing the holder's priority of right, construct wells or other means of withdrawal or withdraw water under the right from an additional existing well or wells at a new location in substitution for or in addition to those at the original location, or the holder may change the manner or the place of use of the water.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, an amendment to withdraw water under the right from an additional existing well or wells, construct replacement or a new additional well or wells at a location outside of the location of the original well or wells, or to change the manner or place of use of the water shall be issued only after publication of notice of the application and findings as prescribed in the case of an original application. Such amendment shall be issued by the department only on the conditions that: (a) The additional or replacement well or wells shall (~~tap the same body of public ground water~~) be located within the same water resource inventory area (WRIA), as defined in chapter 173-500 WAC, as the original well or wells or in an adjoining WRIA. If a watershed plan has been approved under chapter 90.82 RCW or a comprehensive watershed plan has been adopted under RCW 90.54.040(1) for the WRIA or the adjoining WRIA or for both WRIs, moving the location of the well or wells through construction or addition must be consistent with the plan or plans. If a ground water management program has been adopted by the department under RCW 90.44.400 through 90.44.430 for the original or new location for the well or wells, moving the location of the well or wells through construction or addition must be consistent with the adopted program; (b) where a replacement well or wells is approved, the use of the original well or wells shall be discontinued and the original well or wells shall be properly decommissioned as required under chapter 18.104 RCW; (c) where an additional well or wells is added or constructed, the original well or wells may continue to be used, but the combined total withdrawal from the original and additional well or wells shall not (~~enlarge the right~~) increase the annual or instantaneous quantity conveyed by the original permit or certificate; and (d) other existing rights shall not be impaired. The department may specify an approved manner of construction and shall require a showing of compliance with the terms of the amendment, as provided in RCW 90.44.080 in the case of an original permit.

(3) The addition or construction of a replacement or new or existing additional well or wells at the location of the original well or wells shall be allowed without application to the department for an amendment. However, the following apply to such a replacement or new or existing additional well: (a) The well shall tap the same body of public ground water as the original well or wells; (b) if a replacement well is added or constructed, the use of the original well or wells shall be discontinued and the original well or wells shall be properly decommissioned as required under chapter 18.104 RCW; (c) if a new or existing additional well is added or constructed, the original well or wells may continue to be used, but the combined total withdrawal from the original and additional well or wells shall not (~~enlarge the right~~) increase the annual or instantaneous quantity conveyed by the original water use permit or certificate; (d) the addition or construction and use of the well shall not interfere with or impair water rights with an earlier date of priority than the water right or rights for the original well or wells; (e) the replacement or additional well shall be located no closer than the original well to a well it might interfere with; (f) the department may specify an approved manner of construction of the well; and (g) the department shall require a showing of compliance with the conditions of this subsection (3).

(4) As used in this section, the "location of the original well or wells" is the larger of: (a) The area described as the point of withdrawal in the original public notice published for the application for the water right for the well; or (b) the area up to one-quarter mile radius from the current well or wells.

(5)(a) A water right holder may add or construct a replacement or new or existing additional well or wells at a location outside the location of the original well or wells but not more than two miles from the current well or wells without obtaining approval from the department under the following conditions:

(i) At least sixty days before adding or starting construction of the well or wells, the water right holder must provide written notice to the department of the intention to add or construct the replacement or additional well or wells and publish a legal notice prescribed by the department describing the location of the additional existing or proposed well or wells, the amounts of water to be withdrawn, and other details deemed necessary by the department. The notice must state that a person wishing to assert a claim of impairment of the person's water right may do so by filing the claim with the department and the deadline for doing so, which shall be within thirty days of the last date of publication of the notice. The notice must be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the area in which the well or wells would be located or added.

The department must provide a copy of the notice to the tribal governments of all Indian tribes in the watershed or watersheds involved and to any planning unit conducting planning under chapter 90.82 RCW for the area and must post a copy of the notice on its internet web site. The department must file such a claim on behalf of the state if it believes any water rights held by the state would be impaired;

(ii) No claims of impairment of a water right are filed by the holder of the water right with the department relating to the proposed replacement or additional well or wells within thirty days of the last date of publication of the legal notice; and

(iii) The conditions of subsection (3)(a) through (d), (f), and (g) of this section are met.

(b) If a claim of impairment of a water right is timely filed by the holder of the water right with the department, the department shall make a determination regarding the impairment claim and shall issue its determination in writing within ninety days of the date the claim was filed, stating either that it finds that there will be impairment (a "finding of impairment") or that it finds there will not be impairment (a "finding of no impairment"). The department's written determination or its failure to issue a determination within the ninety-day deadline may be appealed, by the claimant or by the water right holder who published notice under (a)(i) of this subsection, to the pollution control hearings board as provided in chapter 43.21B RCW.

(c) Where an impairment claim has been filed, a replacement well may only be added or constructed under this subsection (5) after a final resolution of the impairment claim results in a finding of no impairment. Final resolution of an impairment claim occurs at the expiration of the appeal period following a final determination by the department, the pollution control hearings board, and any reviewing court.

(d) The failure of the department or a person authorized to file a claim of impairment before the thirty-day deadline established in (a) of this subsection shall not be construed as precluding the department or the person from taking actions to require the discontinuance of or reduction in the withdrawal of water from the well or wells added or located and constructed under the authority of this subsection (5) if the state's or person's rights are impaired by the withdrawals."

2SSB 5024 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee On Ways & Means: Concerning public water systems.
Reported by Committee on Agriculture & Natural Resources

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that state laws have long recognized that communities are dynamic entities. The legislature also finds that any interpretation of its laws that would require its communities to be ossified or frozen in time or would require their future growth to be precisely predictable defies the needs of human society. The legislature has provided numerous means and considerable guidance to its communities regarding their growth and for providing essential services within them as they grow. While the legislature recognizes that the totality of the statutory law that governs such communities is found in a wide variety of places throughout the codified version of the statute laws, the Revised Code of Washington, the legislature also recognizes that it has not always expressly announced in the portion of those statutes generally referred to as the state's water laws how the nature of water rights held by municipal water suppliers accommodates the growth of and changes in communities and the requirements placed on them and authorities granted to them by other laws. The legislature finds that this is in part because state policies in the administration of the water laws have reflected the dynamic nature of human habitation and population growth from within and from without the state. For a very long time, these policies recognized that a water right for municipal water supply purposes is "perfected" when facilities for diverting or withdrawing and distributing the water are constructed but before all of the water is placed to actual use within the community or communities served.

With the enactment of this legislation, the legislature intends to provide within the water laws a curative clarification of the relationship of water rights for municipal water supply purposes to the requirements of other law and the realities of growth.

~~((As used in this chapter:))~~ The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Department" means the department of ecology~~((; and))~~.

(2) "Director" means the director of ecology~~((; and))~~.

(3) "Municipal water supplier" means an entity that supplies water for municipal water supply purposes.

(4) "Municipal water supply purposes" means a beneficial use of water: (a) For residential purposes through fifteen or more residential service connections or for providing residential use of water for a nonresidential population that is, on average, at least twenty-five people for at least sixty days a year; (b) for governmental or governmental proprietary purposes; or (c) indirectly for the purposes in (a) or (b) of this subsection through the delivery of treated or raw water to a public water system for such use. If water is beneficially used under a water right for the purposes listed in (a), (b), or (c) of this subsection, any other beneficial use of water under the right generally associated with the use of water within a municipality is also for "municipal water supply purposes," including, but not limited to, beneficial use for commercial, industrial, irrigation of parks and open spaces, institutional, landscaping, fire flow, water system maintenance and repair, or related purposes.

(5) "Person" means any firm, association, water users' association, corporation, irrigation district, or municipal corporation, as well as an individual.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:

Beneficial uses of water under a municipal water supply purposes water right may include water for:

(1) Uses that benefit fish and wildlife, water quality, or other instream resources or related habitat values; or

(2) Uses that are needed to implement environmental obligations called for by a watershed plan approved under chapter 90.82 RCW or a comprehensive watershed plan adopted under RCW 90.54.040(1), a federally approved habitat conservation plan prepared in response to the listing of a species as being endangered or threatened under the federal endangered species act, 16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 et seq., a hydropower license of the federal energy regulatory commission, or a comprehensive irrigation district management plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:

When requested by a municipal water supplier or when processing a change or amendment to the right, the department shall amend the water right documents and related records to ensure that water rights that are for municipal water supply purposes, as defined in RCW 90.03.015, are correctly identified as being for municipal water supply purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 90.14 RCW to read as follows:

When a municipal water supplier acquires an existing water right that is not a municipal water supply purpose right, that right is not subject to relinquishment for nonuse occurring during the time that the acquirer diligently seeks the department's approval to change the right to municipal water supply purposes. Once a change to municipal water supply purposes is approved by the department, the right is thereafter subject to the exception from relinquishment in RCW 90.14.140(2)(d).

Sec. 6. RCW 90.14.031 and 1969 ex.s. c 284 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, the following words and phrases as used in RCW 90.14.031 through 90.14.121 shall have the following meanings:))~~

(1) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Municipal water supplier" has the same meaning as defined in RCW 90.03.015.

(b) "Municipal water supply purpose" has the same meaning as defined in RCW 90.03.015.

(2) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout RCW 90.14.031 through 90.14.121 unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Person" shall mean an individual, partnership, association, public or private corporation, city or other municipality, county, or a state agency, and the United States of America when claiming water rights established under the laws of the state of Washington.

~~((2))~~ (b) "Beneficial use" shall include, but not be limited to, use for domestic water, irrigation, fish, shellfish, game and other aquatic life, municipal, recreation, industrial water, generation of electric power, and navigation.

Sec. 7. RCW 90.03.260 and 1987 c 109 s 84 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each application for permit to appropriate water shall set forth the name and post office address of the applicant, the source of water supply, the nature and amount of the proposed use, the time during which water will be required each year, the location and description of the proposed ditch, canal, or other work, the time within which the completion of the construction and the time for the complete application of the water to the proposed use.

(2) If for agricultural purposes, ~~((#))~~ the application shall give the legal subdivision of the land and the acreage to be irrigated, as near as may be, and the amount of water expressed in acre feet to be supplied per season. If for power purposes, it shall give the nature of the works by means of which the power is to be developed, the head and amount of water to be utilized, and the uses to which the power is to be applied.

(3) If for construction of a reservoir, ~~((#))~~ the application shall give the height of the dam, the capacity of the reservoir, and the uses to be made of the impounded waters.

(4) If for community or multiple domestic water supply, the application shall give the projected number of service connections sought to be served. However, for a municipal water supplier that has an approved water system plan under chapter 43.20 RCW or an approval from the department of health to serve a specified number of service connections, the service connection figure in the application or any subsequent water right document is not an attribute limiting exercise of the water right as long as the number of service connections to be served under the right is consistent with the approved water system plan or specified number.

(5) If for municipal water supply, ~~((#))~~ the application shall give the present population to be served, and, as near as may be estimated, the future requirement of the municipality. However, for a municipal water supplier that has an approved water system plan under chapter 43.20 RCW or an approval from the department of health to serve a specified number of service connections, the population figures in the application or any subsequent water right document are not an attribute limiting exercise of the water right as long as the population to be provided water under the right is consistent with the approved water system plan or specified number.

(6) If for mining purposes, ~~((#))~~ the application shall give the nature of the mines to be served and the method of supplying and utilizing the water; also their location by legal subdivisions.

(7) All applications shall be accompanied by such maps and drawings, in duplicate, and such other data, as may be required by the department, and such accompanying data shall be considered as a part of the application.

Sec. 8. RCW 90.03.386 and 1991 c 350 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Within service areas established pursuant to chapter ~~((s))~~ 43.20 ~~((and))~~ or 70.116 RCW, the department of ecology and the department of health shall coordinate approval procedures to ensure compliance and consistency with the approved water system plan.

(2) The effect of the department of health's approval of a planning or engineering document that describes a municipal water supplier's service area under chapter 43.20 RCW, or the local legislative authority's approval of service area boundaries in accordance with procedures adopted pursuant to chapter 70.116 RCW, is that the place of use of a surface water right or ground water right used by the supplier is equivalent to, and coexistent with, the approved service area if the supplier is in compliance with the terms of the water system plan or small water system management program, including those regarding water conservation, and the alteration of the place of use is not inconsistent, regarding an area added to the place of use, with: Any comprehensive plans or development regulations adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW; any other comprehensive plan, land use plan, or development regulation adopted by a city, town, or county; or any watershed plan approved under chapter 90.82 RCW.

(3) A municipal water supplier must implement cost-effective water conservation in accordance with the requirements of sections 10 and 11 of this act as part of its approved water system plan or small water system management program. With regard to water diverted or withdrawn by the municipal water supplier under a particular surface or ground water right a portion of which is an inchoate right, a municipal supplier with one thousand or more service connections must document an improvement in the efficiency of water use or delivery under the right over the last six years before it may divert or withdraw further amounts of its inchoate right for beneficial use. When establishing or extending a surface or ground water right construction schedule under RCW 90.03.320, the department must take into consideration the public water system's use of conserved water.

(1) Upon a showing satisfactory to the department that any appropriation has been perfected in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, it shall be the duty of the department to issue to the applicant a certificate stating such facts in a form to be prescribed by ~~((him))~~ the director, and such certificate shall thereupon be recorded with the department. Any original water right certificate issued, as provided by this chapter, shall be recorded with the department and thereafter, at the expense of the party receiving the same, be transmitted by the department ~~((transmitted))~~ to the county auditor of the county or counties where the distributing system or any part thereof is located, and be recorded in the office of such county auditor, and thereafter be transmitted to the owner thereof.

(2) Except as provided for the issuance of certificates under RCW 90.03.240 and for the issuance of certificates following the approval of a change, transfer, or amendment under RCW 90.03.380 or 90.44.100, the department shall not revoke or diminish a certificate for a surface or ground water right for municipal water supply purposes as defined in RCW 90.03.015 unless the certificate was issued with ministerial errors or was obtained through misrepresentation. The department may adjust such a certificate under this subsection if ministerial errors are discovered, but only to the extent necessary to correct the ministerial errors. The department may diminish the right represented by such a certificate if the certificate was obtained through a misrepresentation on the part of the applicant or permit holder, but only to the extent of the misrepresentation. The authority provided by this subsection does not include revoking, diminishing, or adjusting a certificate based on any change in policy regarding the issuance of such certificates that has occurred since the certificate was issued. This subsection may not be construed as providing any authority to the department to revoke, diminish, or adjust a certificate for a water right for any purpose other than municipal water supply purposes.

(3) This subsection applies to the water right represented by a water right certificate issued prior to the effective date of this section for municipal water supply purposes as defined in RCW 90.03.015 where the certificate was issued based on an administrative policy for issuing such certificates once works for diverting or withdrawing and distributing water for municipal supply purposes were constructed rather than after the water had been placed to actual beneficial use. Such a water right is a right in good standing as long as the potential use and use of water under the right is consistent with the principles of the administrative policy that led to its being issued, as that policy existed when the certificate was issued.

(4) After the effective date of this section, the department must issue a new certificate under subsection (1) of this section for a water right represented by a water right permit only for the perfected portion of a water right as demonstrated through actual beneficial use of water.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 70.119A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The purpose of this section is to establish water use efficiency requirements designed to ensure efficient use of water while maintaining system financial viability, improving affordability of supplies, and enhancing system reliability. The requirements apply to all municipal water suppliers, as defined in RCW 90.03.015, and must be tailored to be appropriate for a system's size, forecasted demand, and supply constraints.

(2) By December 31, 2005, the department must adopt rules that:

(a) Establish performance measures to be used in measuring the progress a municipal water supplier is making in achieving its water conservation objectives under section 11 of this act which include, but are not limited to, those regarding water distribution system leakage, collection and reporting of source production and water consumption data, and timelines for setting and achieving cost-effective conservation objectives over time;

(b) Establish criteria that identify how the department will determine whether municipal water suppliers are fulfilling the obligations established for them in section 11 of this act when the department reviews the conservation elements of water system plans and small water system management programs, submitted to it under chapter 43.20 RCW or submitted as part of coordinated water system planning under chapter 70.116 RCW. The criteria must take into consideration the historic conservation performance and conservation investment of the supplier, regional climate variations, and the supplier's customer base demographics, forecasted demand, and system supply constraints;

(c) Establish minimum requirements for water demand forecast methodologies to be used by municipal water suppliers; and

(d) Ensure compliance with the provisions of this section and section 11 of this act. The compliance processes established under this section must incorporate the graduated approach specified for the enforcement of water laws in RCW 90.03.605(1) (a) through (c).

(3) The rules adopted by the department under subsection (2) of this section must not establish state conservation requirements that are less stringent than those in effect on the effective date of this section. For the reporting required by subsection (2)(a) of this section, the rules shall require that municipal water suppliers document that they are maintaining or improving conservation performance at the water system level.

(4) The department must establish an advisory committee to assist it in developing rules under this section. The advisory committee must include representatives from public water system customers, environmental interest groups, business interest groups, a representative cross-section of municipal water suppliers, a person employed by a municipal water supplier as a water conservation expert, tribal governments, the department of ecology, and any other members determined necessary by the department.

(5) The department must provide, upon request, technical assistance to public water systems and local governments regarding water conservation. The assistance must be available regarding, but is not limited to, the development of best management practices for water conservation programs, conservation landscape ordinances, conservation rate structures for public water systems, and general public education programs on water conservation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 70.119A RCW to read as follows:

A municipal water supplier, as defined in RCW 90.03.015, must integrate conservation planning into its overall system operation and management and must appropriately fund conservation activities. A municipal water supplier must adopt and achieve water conservation objectives as part of its water system plan or small water system management program developed under chapter 43.20 RCW or as part of a coordinated water system plan under chapter 70.116 RCW. A municipal water supplier must improve the efficiency of its water system or systems over time, relative to past performance, and must assist the users of its water in improving the efficiency of their water use.

Prior to the date by which the department must adopt rules under section 10(2) of this act and for the purposes of chapter 90.03 RCW, a municipal water supplier with one thousand or more service connections is in compliance with the terms of its water system plan regarding water conservation if the supplier is in compliance with the conservation elements of its current plan and it can document an improvement in the efficiency of water use or delivery in the system over the last six years and there is no loss of conservation performance prior to the adoption of the rules.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 90.54 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall prioritize the expenditure of funds and other resources for programs related to streamflow restoration in watersheds where the exercise of inchoate water rights may have a larger effect on streamflows and other water uses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 43.20 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall consult with the departments of ecology, fish and wildlife, and community, trade, and economic development when it approves water system plans of public water systems. In approving such a plan, the department shall ensure that water service to be provided by the system under the plan for any new industrial, commercial, or residential use is consistent with the requirements of any comprehensive plans or development regulations adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW or any other comprehensive plan, land use plan, or development regulation adopted by a city, town, or county for the service area. The department shall also ensure that the plan accommodates the duty of the public water system to provide water for new residential use within its service area as described in section 14 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 43.20 RCW to read as follows:

The first choice of water supply for a new residential use of water within the service area of public water system, for which a public water system plan is required under this chapter, is water service from the public water system. The public water system has a duty to provide the water service within its service area if its service can be available in a timely and cost-effective manner and it has sufficient water rights to provide the service. Any water service provided shall be consistent with the requirements of any comprehensive plans or development regulations adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW or any other comprehensive plan, land use plan, or development regulation adopted by a city, town, or county for the service area and, for water service by the water utility of a city or town, with the utility service extension ordinances of the city or town. The service is available in a timely manner if the water can be provided within one hundred twenty days of the date the request for water service is made to the system by the party representing the new residential use, unless the party requests a longer period. The service is available in a cost-effective manner if the total cost to obtain the water from the public water system, including but not limited to construction and engineering costs, connection fees, and operating costs, does not exceed one hundred twenty percent of the total cost of providing water service from a well for the new residential use under the permit exemption of RCW 90.44.050.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 43.20 RCW to read as follows:

When a water system plan is regularly submitted to the department for review and approval, which on the effective date of this section occurs every six years, the plan must demonstrate that any new use of the inchoate water right of the system under the plan will be consistent with meeting the timelines and interim milestones established under section 5, chapter . . . , Laws of 2003 (section 5, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2336) or section 8, chapter . . . , Laws of 2003 (section 8, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1336) for achieving instream flows in the watershed in which water is diverted or withdrawn under the right. Public water systems shall provide public notice before submitting a water system plan or major revisions to a water system plan for approval under this chapter or under chapter 70.116 RCW. This section applies only to water systems for which a water system plan must be approved under this chapter or chapter 70.116 RCW.

Sec. 16. RCW 90.48.495 and 1989 c 348 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

The department of ecology shall require sewer plans to include a discussion of water conservation measures considered or underway that would reduce flows to the sewerage system and an analysis of their anticipated impact on public sewer service and treatment capacity.

Sec. 17. RCW 90.48.112 and 1997 c 444 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

The evaluation of any plans submitted under RCW 90.48.110 must include consideration of opportunities for the use of reclaimed water as defined in RCW 90.46.010. Wastewater plans submitted under RCW 90.48.110 must include a statement describing how applicable reclamation and reuse elements will be coordinated as required under RCW 90.46.120(2).

Sec. 18. RCW 90.46.120 and 1997 c 444 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The owner of a wastewater treatment facility that is reclaiming water with a permit issued under this chapter has the exclusive right to any reclaimed water generated by the wastewater treatment facility. Use and distribution of the reclaimed water by the owner of the wastewater treatment facility is exempt from the permit requirements of RCW 90.03.250 and 90.44.060. Revenues derived from the reclaimed water facility shall be used only to offset the cost of operation of the wastewater utility fund or other applicable source of system-wide funding.

(2) If the proposed use or uses of reclaimed water are intended to augment or replace potable water supplies or create the potential for the development of additional potable water supplies, such use or uses shall be considered in the development of the regional water supply plan or plans addressing potable water supply service by multiple water purveyors. The owner of a wastewater treatment facility that proposes to reclaim water shall be included as a participant in the development of such regional water supply plan or plans.

(3) Where opportunities for the use of reclaimed water exist within the period of time addressed by a water supply plan or coordinated water system plan developed under chapter 43.20 or 70.116 RCW, these plans must be developed and coordinated to ensure that opportunities for reclaimed water are evaluated. The requirements of this subsection (3) do not apply to water system plans developed under chapter 43.20 RCW for utilities serving less than one thousand service connections.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:

(1) On a pilot project basis, the department may enter into watershed agreements with one or more municipal water suppliers in a watershed to meet the objectives established in a water resource management program approved or being developed under chapter 90.82 RCW. The term of an agreement may not exceed ten years, but the agreement may be renewed or amended upon agreement of the parties.

(2) Watershed agreements must be consistent with:

(a) Growth management plans developed under chapter 36.70A RCW where these plans are adopted and in effect;

(b) Water supply plans and small water system management programs approved under chapter 43.20 or 70.116 RCW;

(c) Coordinated water supply plans approved under chapter 70.116 RCW; and

(d) Water use efficiency and conservation requirements and standards established by the state department of health or such requirements and standards as are provided in an approved watershed plan, whichever are the more stringent.

(3) A watershed agreement must:

(a) Require the public water system operated by the participating municipal water supplier to meet obligations under the watershed plan;

(b) Establish performance measures and timelines for measures to be completed;

(c) Provide for monitoring of stream flows and metering of water use as needed to ensure that the terms of the agreement are met; and

(d) Require annual reports from the water users regarding performance under the agreement.

(4) As needed to implement watershed agreement activities, the department may provide or receive funding, or both, under its existing authorities.

(5) The department must provide opportunity for public review of a proposed agreement before it is executed. The department must make proposed and executed watershed agreements and annual reports available on the department's internet web site.

(6) The department must consult with affected local governments and the state departments of health and fish and wildlife before executing an agreement.

(7) Before executing a watershed agreement, the department must conduct a government-to-government consultation with affected tribal governments. The municipal water suppliers operating the public water systems that are proposing to enter the agreements must be invited to participate in the consultations. During these consultations, the department and the municipal water suppliers shall explore the potential interest of the tribal governments or governments in participating in the agreement.

(8) Any person aggrieved by the department's failure to satisfy the requirements in subsection (3) of this section as embodied in the department's decision to enter a watershed agreement under this section may, within thirty days of the execution of such an agreement, appeal the department's decision to the pollution control hearings board under chapter 43.21B RCW.

(9) Any projects implemented by a municipal water system under the terms of an agreement reached under this section may be continued and maintained by the municipal water system after the agreement expires or is terminated as long as the conditions of the agreement under which they were implemented continue to be met.

(10) The pilot project shall apply only in water resource inventory area number one established under chapter 173-500 WAC as it exists on the effective date of this section.

(11) Before December 31, 2003, and December 31, 2004, the department must report to the appropriate committees of the legislature the results of the pilot projects provided for in this section. Based on the experience of the pilot project areas, the department must offer any suggested changes in law that would improve, facilitate, and maximize the implementation of watershed plans adopted under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:
The department may not enter into new watershed agreements under section 19 of this act after July 1, 2008. This section does not apply to the renewal of agreements in effect prior to that date.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:
The right to use water under an unperfected surface water right for municipal water supply purposes or a portion thereof held by a municipal water supplier may be changed or transferred in the same manner as provided by RCW 90.03.380 if the change or transfer is subject to a watershed agreement established under section 19 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. The legislature does not intend to appropriate additional funds for the implementation of this act and expects all affected state agencies to implement this act's provisions within existing funds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

"IMPLEMENTATION OF WATERSHED PLANS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature declares and reaffirms that a core principle embodied in chapter 90.82 RCW is that state agencies must work cooperatively with local citizens in a process of planning for future uses of water by giving local citizens and the governments closest to them the ability to determine the management of water in the WRIA or WRIs being planned.

The legislature further finds that this process of local planning must have all the tools necessary to accomplish this task and that it is essential for the legislature to provide a clear statutory process for implementation so that the locally developed plan will be the adopted and implemented plan to the greatest extent possible.

Sec.2. RCW 90.82.040 and 2001 c 237 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Once a WRIA planning unit has been initiated under RCW 90.82.060 and a lead agency has been designated, it shall notify the department and may apply to the department for funding assistance for conducting the planning and providing coordination and oversight of the implementation of the plan. Funds shall be provided from and to the extent of appropriations made by the legislature to the department expressly for this purpose.

(2)(a) Each planning unit that has complied with subsection (1) of this section is eligible to receive watershed planning grants in the following amounts for the first three phases of watershed planning and phase four watershed plan implementation coordination and oversight:

(i) Initiating governments may apply for an initial organizing grant of up to fifty thousand dollars for a single WRIA or up to seventy-five thousand dollars for a multi-WRIA management area in accordance with RCW 90.82.060(4);

(ii)(A) A planning unit may apply for up to two hundred thousand dollars for each WRIA in the management area for conducting watershed assessments in accordance with RCW 90.82.070, except that a planning unit that chooses to conduct a detailed assessment or studies under (a)(ii)(B) of this subsection or whose initiating governments choose or have chosen to include an instream flow or water quality component in accordance with RCW 90.82.080 or 90.82.090 may apply for up to one hundred thousand additional dollars for each instream flow and up to one hundred thousand additional dollars for each water quality component included for each WRIA to conduct an assessment on that optional component and for each WRIA in which the assessments or studies under (a)(ii)(B) of this subsection are conducted.

(B) A planning unit may elect to apply for up to one hundred thousand additional dollars to conduct a detailed assessment of multipurpose water storage opportunities or for studies of specific multipurpose storage projects which opportunities or projects are consistent with and support the other elements of the planning unit's watershed plan developed under this chapter; and

(iii) A planning unit may apply for up to two hundred fifty thousand dollars for each WRIA in the management area for developing a watershed plan and making recommendations for actions by local, state, and federal agencies, tribes, private property owners, private organizations, and individual citizens, including a recommended list of strategies and projects that would further the purpose of the plan in accordance with RCW 90.82.060 through 90.82.100.

(b) A planning unit may request a different amount for phase two or phase three of watershed planning than is specified in (a) of this subsection, provided that the total amount of funds awarded do not exceed the maximum amount the planning unit is eligible for under (a) of this subsection. The department shall approve such an alternative allocation of funds if the planning unit identifies how the proposed alternative will meet the goals of this chapter and provides a proposed timeline for the completion of planning. However, the up to one hundred thousand additional dollars in funding for instream flow and water quality components and for water storage assessments or studies that a planning unit may apply for under (a)(ii)(A) of this subsection may be used only for those instream flow, water quality, and water storage purposes.

(c) By December 1, 2001, or within one year of initiating phase one of watershed planning, whichever occurs later, the initiating governments for each planning unit must inform the department whether they intend to have the planning unit establish or amend instream flows as part of its planning process. If they elect to have the planning unit establish or amend instream flows, the planning unit is eligible to receive one hundred thousand dollars for that purpose in accordance with (a)(ii) of this subsection. If the initiating governments for a planning unit elect not to establish or amend instream flows as part of the unit's planning process, the department shall retain one hundred thousand dollars to carry out an assessment to support establishment of instream flows and to establish such flows in accordance with RCW 90.54.020(3)(a) and chapter 90.22 RCW. The department shall not use these funds to amend an existing instream flow unless requested to do so by the initiating governments for a planning unit.

(d) In administering funds appropriated for supplemental funding for optional plan components under (a)(ii) of this subsection, the department shall give priority in granting the available funds to proposals for setting or amending instream flows.

(e) A planning unit may apply for a matching grant for phase four coordination and oversight of watershed plan implementation. A match of ten to twenty-five percent is required and may include financial contributions or in-kind goods and services directly related to coordination and oversight functions. The match can be provided by the planning unit or by the combined commitments from federal agencies, tribal governments, local governments, special districts, or other local organizations. The phase four grant may be up to one hundred thousand dollars for each planning unit for each of the first three years of implementation. At the end of the three-year period, a two-year extension may be available for up to fifty thousand dollars each year. For planning units that cover more than one WRIA, additional matching funds of up to twenty-five thousand dollars may be available for each additional WRIA per year for the first three years of implementation, and up to twelve thousand five hundred dollars per WRIA per year for each of the fourth and fifth years.

(3)(a) The department shall use the eligibility criteria in this subsection (3) instead of rules, policies, or guidelines when evaluating grant applications at each stage of the grants program.

(b) In reviewing grant applications under this subsection (3), the department shall evaluate whether:

(i) The planning unit meets all of the requirements of this chapter;

(ii) The application demonstrates a need for state planning funds to accomplish the objectives of the planning process; and

(iii) The application and supporting information evidences a readiness to proceed.

(c) In ranking grant applications submitted at each stage of the grants program, the department shall give preference to applications in the following order of priority:

(i) Applications from existing planning groups that have been in existence for at least one year;

(ii) Applications that address protection and enhancement of fish habitat in watersheds that have aquatic fish species listed or proposed to be listed as endangered or threatened under the federal endangered species act, 16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 et seq. and for which there is evidence of an inability to supply adequate water for population and economic growth from:

(A) First, multi-WRIA planning; and

(B) Second, single WRIA planning;

(iii) Applications that address protection and enhancement of fish habitat in watersheds or for which there is evidence of an inability to supply adequate water for population and economic growth from:

(A) First, multi-WRIA planning; and

(B) Second, single WRIA planning.

(d) Except for phase four watershed plan implementation, the department may not impose any local matching fund requirement as a condition for grant eligibility or as a preference for receiving a grant.

(4) The department may retain up to one percent of funds allocated under this section to defray administrative costs.

(5) Planning under this chapter should be completed as expeditiously as possible, with the focus being on local stakeholders cooperating to meet local needs.

(6) Funding provided under this section shall be considered a contractual obligation against the moneys appropriated for this purpose.

Sec. 3. RCW 90.82.130 and 2001 c 237 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Upon completing its proposed watershed plan, the planning unit may approve the proposal by consensus of all of the members of the planning unit or by consensus among the members of the planning unit appointed to represent units of government and a majority vote of the nongovernmental members of the planning unit.

(b) If the proposal is approved by the planning unit, the unit shall submit the proposal to the counties with territory within the management area. If the planning unit has received funding beyond the initial organizing grant under RCW 90.82.040, such a proposal approved by the planning unit shall be submitted to the counties within four years of the date that funds beyond the initial funding are first drawn upon by the planning unit.

(c) If the watershed plan is not approved by the planning unit, the planning unit may submit the components of the plan for which agreement is achieved using the procedure under (a) of this subsection, or the planning unit may terminate the planning process.

(2)(a) With the exception of a county legislative authority that chooses to opt out of watershed planning as provided in (c) of this subsection, the legislative authority of each of the counties with territory in the management area shall provide public notice of and conduct at least one public hearing on the proposed watershed plan submitted under this section. After the public hearings, the legislative authorities of these counties shall convene in joint session to consider the proposal. The counties may approve or reject the proposed watershed plan for the management area, but may not amend it. Approval of such a proposal shall be made by a majority vote of the members of each of the counties with territory in the management area.

(b) If a proposed watershed plan is not approved, it shall be returned to the planning unit with recommendations for revisions. Approval of such a revised proposal by the planning unit and the counties shall be made in the same manner provided for the original watershed plan. If approval of the revised plan is not achieved, the process shall terminate.

(c) A legislative authority of a county with less than five percent of affected territory within a particular management area may choose to opt out of watershed planning under this chapter and the public hearing processes under (a) and (b) of this subsection, with regard to that legislative authority's affected territory within a particular management area. A county choosing to opt out shall notify the department and the other initiating governments of that choice prior to commencement of plan adoption under the provisions of (a) of this subsection. A county choosing to opt out shall not be bound by obligations contained in the watershed plan adopted for that management area under this chapter. Even if a county chooses to opt out as provided in this section, the other counties within a management area may adopt a proposed watershed plan as provided in this chapter.

(3) The planning unit shall not add an element to its watershed plan that creates an obligation unless each of the governments to be obligated has at least one representative on the planning unit and the respective members appointed to represent those governments agree to adding the element that creates the obligation. A member's agreeing to add an element shall be evidenced by a recorded vote of all members of the planning unit in which the members record support for adding the element. If the watershed plan is approved under subsections (1) and (2) of this section and the plan creates obligations: (a) For agencies of state government, the agencies shall adopt by policy, procedures, agreements, or rules the obligations of both state and county governments and procedures or rules implementing the state obligations, the obligations on state agencies are binding upon adoption of the obligations (~~into rule~~), and the agencies shall take other actions to fulfill their obligations as soon as possible, and should annually review implementation needs with respect to budget and staffing; (~~or~~) (b) for counties, the obligations are binding on the counties and the counties shall adopt any necessary implementing ordinances and take other actions to fulfill their obligations as soon as possible, and should annually review implementation needs with respect to budget and staffing; or (c) for an organization voluntarily accepting an obligation, the organization must adopt policies, procedures, agreements, rules, or ordinances to implement the plan, and should annually review implementation needs with respect to budget and staffing.

(4) As used in this section, "obligation" means any action required as a result of this chapter that imposes upon a tribal government, county government, or state government, either: A fiscal impact; a redeployment of resources; or a change of existing policy.

(5) After a plan is approved under subsection (2)(a) of this section and if the department participated in the planning process, the department shall rely on such a plan as the framework for making water resource and water quality decisions in the watershed. The department shall also rely upon the plan as a primary consideration in determining the public interest related to those decisions.

(6) Once a plan is approved under subsection (2)(a) of this section, the department may adopt rules under RCW 90.54.040(1) to modify the plan through a negotiated rule-making process under RCW 34.05.310(2)(a) and shall adopt rules implementing its obligations imposed by the plan or modified plan through such a negotiated rule-making process. The department may not modify the plan in any other manner or under any other authority. The entities to be included in the negotiated rule making as affected interests must include, but are not limited to: Water right holders and other affected residents in a watershed or watersheds; and, to the greatest extent practicable, the members of the original planning unit for the watershed or watersheds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 90.82 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Upon approval of the watershed plan, the role of the planning unit is to provide coordination and oversight during the implementation of the plan. This may include a number of interrelated activities, such as seeking funding; tracking progress towards implementation milestones; making adjustments to respond to new information and changing conditions; coordinating the many implementation actions being performed by different organizations in the watershed; and responding to local needs and concerns as expressed by elected officials, stakeholders, and the public. Supporting activities also include public outreach and education; long-term monitoring activities and associated research; data management; and program evaluation.

(2) Within one year of accepting funding for plan coordination and oversight, the planning unit must complete a detailed implementation plan. An implementation plan must clearly define coordination and oversight responsibilities; any needed interlocal agreements, rules, or ordinances; specific funding mechanisms; timelines for carrying out the actions included in the plan; and an adaptive management strategy for plan amendments. The implementation plan must include coordination of salmon recovery projects with lead entities working under chapter 246, Laws of 1998. Submittal of a detailed implementation plan to the department is a condition for receiving grants for the second and all subsequent years of the phase four grant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 90.82 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Each plan developed under this chapter must contain strategies for achieving the following water resource objectives:

- (a) Providing sufficient water for productive agriculture;
- (b) Providing sufficient water for commercial, industrial, and residential use; and
- (c) Providing sufficient water for instream flows.

(2) Such a plan must include timelines for achieving these three objectives and interim milestones for measuring progress in achieving the objectives. Such a plan must also identify the state and local administrative approvals and permits that must be secured to achieve these objectives.

(3) The strategies developed under this chapter to satisfy these objectives must include, but are not limited to, the identification of:

- (a) How the objectives are to be achieved;
- (b) Timelines for achieving these objectives;
- (c) How progress is to be measured for achieving the objectives and interim milestones for measuring that progress;

(d) How any limiting factors regarding stream flows or water supply that have been identified for salmon in analyses under RCW 77.85.060 are to be overcome;

(e) How progress in overcoming these limiting factors is to be measured and interim milestones for measuring that progress; and

(f) How the strategies developed under this section are to be coordinated with the activities and habitat project lists of lead entities and committees conducted and developed under RCW 77.85.050.

Sec. 6. RCW 90.82.060 and 2001 c 229 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Planning conducted under this chapter must provide for a process to allow the local citizens within a WRIA or multi-WRIA area to join together in an effort to: (a) Assess the status of the water resources of their WRIA or multi-WRIA area; and (b) determine how best to manage the water resources of the WRIA or multi-WRIA area to balance the competing resource demands for that area within the parameters under RCW 90.82.120.

(2) Watershed planning under this chapter may be initiated for a WRIA only with the concurrence of: (a) All counties within the WRIA; (b) the largest city or town within the WRIA unless the WRIA does not contain a city or town; and (c) the water supply utility obtaining the largest quantity of water from the WRIA or, for a WRIA with lands within the Columbia Basin project, the water supply utility obtaining from the Columbia Basin project the largest quantity of water for the WRIA. To apply for a grant for organizing the planning unit as provided for under RCW 90.82.040(2)(a), these entities shall designate the entity that will serve as the lead agency for the planning effort and indicate how the planning unit will be staffed.

(3) Watershed planning under this chapter may be initiated for a multi-WRIA area only with the concurrence of: (a) All counties within the multi-WRIA area; (b) the largest city or town in each WRIA unless the WRIA does not contain a city or town; and (c) the water supply utility obtaining the largest quantity of water in each WRIA.

(4) If entities in subsection (2) or (3) of this section decide jointly and unanimously to proceed, they shall invite all tribes with reservation lands within the management area.

(5) The entities in subsection (2) or (3) of this section, including the tribes if they affirmatively accept the invitation, constitute the initiating governments for the purposes of this section.

(6) The organizing grant shall be used to organize the planning unit and to determine the scope of the planning to be conducted. In determining the scope of the planning activities, consideration shall be given to all existing plans and related planning activities. The scope of planning must include water quantity elements as provided in RCW 90.82.070, and may include water quality elements as contained in RCW 90.82.090, habitat elements as contained in RCW 90.82.100, and instream flow elements as contained in RCW 90.82.080. The initiating governments shall work with state government, other local governments within the management area, and affected tribal governments, in developing a planning process. The initiating governments may hold public meetings as deemed necessary to develop a proposed scope of work and a proposed composition of the planning unit. In developing a proposed composition of the planning unit, the initiating governments shall provide for representation of a wide range of water resource interests.

(7) Each state agency with regulatory or other interests in the WRIA or multi-WRIA area to be planned shall assist the local citizens in the planning effort to the greatest extent practicable, recognizing any fiscal limitations. In providing such technical assistance and to facilitate representation on the planning unit, state agencies may organize and agree upon their representation on the planning unit. Such technical assistance must only be at the request of and to the extent desired by the planning unit conducting such planning. The number of state agency representatives on the planning unit shall be determined by the initiating governments in consultation with the governor's office.

(8) As used in this section, "lead agency" means the entity that coordinates staff support of its own or of other local governments and receives grants under RCW 90.82.130 for developing and for implementation coordination and oversight of a watershed plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 90.82 RCW to read as follows:

The department and all other state agencies, acting within the authorities, restrictions, and responsibilities of the statutes they administer and available resources, shall act on the approvals and permits needed to implement any plan approved under this chapter. In instances where granting particular approvals or permits is not consistent with those authorities and responsibilities, the agencies or divisions within the department shall identify to the director the changes in statute that would allow them to grant the approvals and permits. By December 31, 2003, and by December 31st of each year thereafter, the director of the department shall report to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature and to the governor on the statutory changes that would be necessary to provide the state agency approvals and permits identified under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 90.54 RCW to read as follows:

(1) When a comprehensive water resource program is developed in segments under RCW 90.54.040(1), the watershed planning shall be conducted through local planning groups that represent at least the diversity of interests required for planning conducted under chapter 90.82 RCW. Any plan developed under this section shall include, but is not limited to, the water supply and use assessment and strategies for future use required for planning conducted under chapter 90.82 RCW by RCW 90.82.070 and the following:

(a) Strategies for achieving the water resource objectives listed in section 5(1) of this act;

(b) Timelines for achieving each of the objectives listed in section 5(2) of this act and interim milestones for measuring progress in achieving the objectives; and

(c) An identification of the state and local administrative approvals and permits that must be secured to achieve the objectives listed in section 5(3) of this act.

The department and all other state agencies, acting within the authorities, restrictions, and responsibilities of the statutes they administer and available resources, shall act on the approvals and permits needed to implement any plan approved under this section. In instances where granting particular approvals or permits is not consistent with those authorities and responsibilities, the agencies or divisions within the department shall identify to the director the changes in statute that would allow them to grant the approvals and permits.

(2) The director shall include within the report required by section 7 of this act the director's recommendations for changes in statutes from those identified under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 90.54 RCW to read as follows:

Instream flow requirements must be established for not less than the main stem of the principal stream or river in each water resource inventory area established in chapter 173-500 WAC as it exists on the effective date of this section.

COORDINATING WATERSHED, WATER QUALITY, AND SALMON RECOVERY PLANNING

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 90.48 RCW to read as follows:

This section applies to any work conducted by the department for determining or allocating total maximum daily loads for approval by the United States environmental protection agency under the federal clean water act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1251 et seq.). The department shall design its work schedule and plan for conducting such activities in a manner that facilitates the involvement of watershed planning units conducting planning under RCW 90.82.090. As a minimum, the department shall:

(1) Schedule its work so that the involvement of planning units under subsection (3) of this section is possible under the work schedules established or likely to be established for the units to implement RCW 90.82.090;

(2) Arrange its longer-term work schedule in a way that allows initiating governments to know that their choice to require a water quality component under RCW 90.82.090 or to initiate planning under RCW 90.82.060(7) would include the involvement of their planning unit under subsection (3) of this section; and

(3) Designate the planning units conducting planning under RCW 90.82.090 as the local advisory bodies to be used, consistent with section 11 of this act, when the department conducts total maximum daily load activities in any portion of the area for which the unit is conducting such planning. This requirement does not apply to activities regarding an allocation of total maximum daily load for a body of water if the allocation is submitted by the department to the United States environmental protection agency for approval under the federal clean water act before or within six months of the effective date of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 90.82 RCW to read as follows:

A planning unit conducting planning under RCW 90.82.090 may choose to assign the responsibility of being the local advisory body for total maximum daily load activities under section 10 of this act to: The members of the planning unit, as a whole, except those representing state agencies; some portion of the membership of the planning unit, other than the members representing state agencies; or any combination it may choose of its membership, other than state agency representatives, and any additional individuals it may choose who agree to participate.

Sec. 12. RCW 90.82.090 and 1998 c 247 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

If the initiating governments choose to include a water quality component, the watershed plan shall include the following elements:

(1) An examination based on existing studies conducted by federal, state, and local agencies of the degree to which legally established water quality standards are being met in the management area;

(2) An examination based on existing studies conducted by federal, state, and local agencies of the causes of water quality violations in the management area, including an examination of information regarding pollutants, point and nonpoint sources of pollution, and pollution-carrying capacities of water bodies in the management area. The analysis shall take into account seasonal stream flow or level variations, natural events, and pollution from natural sources that occurs independent of human activities;

(3) An examination of the legally established characteristic uses of each of the nonmarine bodies of water in the management area;

(4) An examination of any total maximum daily load established for nonmarine bodies of water in the management area (~~unless a total maximum daily load process has begun in the management area as of the date the watershed planning process is initiated under RCW 90.82.060~~);

(5) An examination of existing data related to the impact of fresh water on marine water quality;

(6) A recommended approach for implementing the total maximum daily load established for achieving compliance with water quality standards for the nonmarine bodies of water in the management area (~~unless a total maximum daily load process has begun in the management area as of the date the watershed planning process is initiated under RCW 90.82.060~~); and

(7) Recommended means of monitoring by appropriate government agencies whether actions taken to implement the approach to bring about improvements in water quality are sufficient to achieve compliance with water quality standards.

This chapter does not obligate the state to undertake analysis or to develop strategies required under the federal clean water act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1251 et seq.). This chapter does not authorize any planning unit, lead agency, or local government to adopt water quality standards or total maximum daily loads under the federal clean water act.

Sec. 13. RCW 90.82.120 and 1998 c 247 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Watershed planning developed and approved under this chapter shall not contain provisions that: (a) Are in conflict with existing state statutes, federal laws, or tribal treaty rights; (b) impair or diminish in any manner an existing water right evidenced by a claim filed in the water rights claims registry established under chapter 90.14 RCW or a water right certificate or permit; (c) require a modification in the basic operations of a federal reclamation project with a water right the priority date of which is before June 11, 1998, or alter in any manner whatsoever the quantity of water available under the water right for the reclamation project, whether the project has or has not been completed before June 11, 1998; (d) affect or interfere with an ongoing general adjudication of water rights; (e) modify or require the modification of any waste discharge permit issued under chapter 90.48 RCW; (f) except as provided in RCW 77.85.050(1)(c), modify or require the modification of activities or actions taken or intended to be taken under a habitat restoration work schedule developed under chapter 246, Laws of 1998; or (g) modify or require the modification of activities or actions taken to protect or enhance fish habitat if the activities or actions are: (i) Part of an approved habitat conservation plan and an incidental take permit, an incidental take statement, a management or recovery plan, or other cooperative or conservation agreement entered into with a federal or state fish and wildlife protection agency under its statutory authority for fish and wildlife protection that addresses the affected habitat; or (ii) part of a water quality program adopted by an irrigation district under chapter 87.03 RCW or a board of joint control under chapter 87.80 RCW. This subsection (1)(g) applies as long as the activities or actions continue to be taken in accordance with the plan, agreement, permit, or statement. Any assessment conducted under RCW 90.82.070, 90.82.090, or 90.82.100 shall take into consideration such activities and actions and those taken under the forest practices rules, including watershed analysis adopted under the forest practices act, chapter 76.09 RCW.

(2) Watershed planning developed and approved under this chapter shall not change existing local ordinances or existing state rules or permits, but may contain recommendations for changing such ordinances or rules.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, watershed planning shall take into account forest practices rules under the forest practices act, chapter 76.09 RCW, and shall not create any obligations or restrictions on forest practices additional to or inconsistent with the forest practices act and its implementing rules, whether watershed planning is approved by the counties or the department.

Sec. 14. RCW 77.85.050 and 1999 sp.s. c 13 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Counties, cities, and tribal governments must jointly designate, by resolution or by letters of support, the area for which a habitat project list is to be developed and the lead entity that is to be responsible for submitting the habitat project list. No project included on a habitat project list shall be considered mandatory in nature and no private landowner may be forced or coerced into participation in any respect. The lead entity may be a county, city, conservation district, special district, tribal government, or other entity.

(b) The lead entity shall establish a committee that consists of representative interests of counties, cities, conservation districts, tribes, environmental groups, business interests, landowners, citizens, volunteer groups, regional fish enhancement groups, and other habitat interests. The purpose of the committee is to provide a citizen-based evaluation of the projects proposed to promote salmon habitat. The technical review team may provide the lead entity with organizational models that may be used in establishing the committees.

(c) The committee shall compile a list of habitat projects, establish priorities for individual projects, define the sequence for project implementation, and submit these activities as the habitat project list. In any WRIA for which watershed planning is being conducted by a planning unit under RCW 90.82.100, the committee and the lead entity shall share their information regarding the WRIA with the planning unit, and the committee and the lead entity shall consult with the planning unit in preparing and in adding activities to the habitat project list for that WRIA. The committee shall also identify potential federal, state, local, and private funding sources.

(2) The area covered by the habitat project list must be based, at a minimum, on a WRIA, combination of WRIsAs, or any other area as agreed to by the counties, cities, and tribes in resolutions or in letters of support meeting the requirements of this subsection. Preference will be given to projects in an area that contain a salmon species that is listed or proposed for listing under the federal endangered species act.

(3) The lead entity shall submit the habitat project list to the technical review team in accordance with procedures adopted by the board.

Sec. 15. RCW 77.85.130 and 2000 c 107 s 102 and 2000 c 15 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The salmon recovery funding board shall develop procedures and criteria for allocation of funds for salmon habitat projects and salmon recovery activities on a statewide basis to address the highest priorities for salmon habitat protection and restoration. To the extent practicable the board shall adopt an annual allocation of funding. The allocation should address both protection and restoration of habitat, and should recognize the varying needs in each area of the state on an equitable basis. The board has the discretion to partially fund, or to fund in phases, salmon habitat projects. The board may annually establish a maximum amount of funding available for any individual project, subject to available funding. No projects required solely as a mitigation or a condition of permitting are eligible for funding.

(2)(a) In evaluating, ranking, and awarding funds for projects and activities the board shall give preference to projects that:

(i) Are based upon the limiting factors analysis identified under RCW 77.85.060;

(ii) Provide a greater benefit to salmon recovery based upon the stock status information contained in the department of fish and wildlife salmonid stock inventory (SASSI), the salmon and steelhead habitat inventory and assessment project (SSHAP), and any comparable science-based assessment when available;

(iii) Will benefit listed species and other fish species; and

(iv) Will preserve high quality salmonid habitat.

(b) In evaluating, ranking, and awarding funds for projects and activities the board shall also give consideration to projects that:

(i) Are the most cost-effective;

(ii) Have the greatest matched or in-kind funding; and

(iii) Will be implemented by a sponsor with a successful record of project implementation.

(3) The board may reject, but not add, projects from a habitat project list submitted by a lead entity for funding. After January 1, 2004, the board shall not provide funding for any project in a WRIA for which planning is being conducted under RCW 90.82.100 unless the lead entity as well as the planning unit for the WRIA under chapter 90.82 RCW both document that the consultation required by RCW 77.85.050(1)(c) has been conducted for the project.

(4) For fiscal year 2000, the board may authorize the interagency review team to evaluate, rank, and make funding decisions for categories of projects or activities or from funding sources provided for categories of projects or activities. In delegating such authority the board shall consider the review team's staff resources, procedures, and technical capacity to meet the purposes and objectives of this chapter. The board shall maintain general oversight of the team's exercise of such authority.

(5) The board shall seek the guidance of the technical review team to ensure that scientific principles and information are incorporated into the allocation standards and into proposed projects and activities. If the technical review team determines that a habitat project list complies with the critical pathways methodology under RCW 77.85.060, it shall provide substantial weight to the list's project priorities when making determinations among applications for funding of projects within the area covered by the list.

(6) The board shall establish criteria for determining when block grants may be made to a lead entity or other recognized regional recovery entity consistent with one or more habitat project lists developed for that region. Where a lead entity has been established pursuant to RCW 77.85.050, the board may provide grants to the lead entity to assist in carrying out lead entity functions under this chapter, subject to available funding. The board shall determine an equitable minimum amount of funds for each region, and shall distribute the remainder of funds on a competitive basis.

(7) The board may waive or modify portions of the allocation procedures and standards adopted under this section in the award of grants or loans to conform to legislative appropriations directing an alternative award procedure or when the funds to be awarded are from federal or other sources requiring other allocation procedures or standards as a condition of the board's receipt of the funds. The board shall develop an integrated process to manage the allocation of funding from federal and state sources to minimize delays in the award of funding while recognizing the differences in state and legislative appropriation timing.

(8) The board may award a grant or loan for a salmon recovery project on private or public land when the landowner has a legal obligation under local, state, or federal law to perform the project, when expedited action provides a clear benefit to salmon recovery, and there will be harm to salmon recovery if the project is delayed. For purposes of this subsection, a legal obligation does not include a project required solely as a mitigation or a condition of permitting.

(9) The board may condition a grant or loan to include the requirement that property may only be transferred to a federal agency if the agency that will acquire the property agrees to comply with all terms of the grant or loan to which the project sponsor was obligated. Property acquired or improved by a project sponsor may be conveyed to a federal agency, but only if the agency agrees to comply with all terms of the grant or loan to which the project sponsor was obligated.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. The legislature does not intend to appropriate additional funds for the implementation of this act and expects all affected state agencies to implement this act's provisions within existing funds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. Headings used in this act are not any part of the law."

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 90.48 RCW to read as follows:

In exercising authority according to this chapter, the department may only affect the beneficial use of a water right as provided in this section.

(1) Before applying authority according to this chapter to address a water quality problem caused by the unauthorized use of water, the department shall first establish that the use of water is not authorized according to chapter 90.03, 90.14, 90.40, or 90.44 RCW. The department shall establish that the use of water is unauthorized through the issuance of a formal action that is not appealed or is affirmed on appeal. When the use of water is established as unauthorized, the department may use authority under this chapter to address water quality problems resulting from the unauthorized water use.

(2) When issuing water quality certifications according to section 401 of the federal Clean Water Act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1341), the department may condition federal hydropower licenses to ensure that the state's water quality standards are met and that adequate streamflows are maintained.

Sec. 2. RCW 90.03.600 and 1995 c 403 s 635 are each amended to read as follows:

The department must follow the sequence of enforcement actions, including levying a civil penalty, as provided in RCW 90.03.605. In determining the amount of penalty to be levied, the department shall consider the seriousness of the violation, whether the violation is repeated or continuous after notice is given of the violation, and whether any damage has occurred to the health or property of other persons. Except as provided in RCW 43.05.060 through 43.05.080 and 43.05.150, ((the power is granted to)) the department of ecology ((to)) may levy civil penalties ((of up to)) ranging from one hundred dollars to ten thousand dollars per day for violation of any of the provisions of this chapter and chapters 43.83B, 90.22, and 90.44 RCW, and rules, permits, and similar documents and regulatory orders of the department of ecology adopted or issued pursuant to such chapters. The procedures of RCW 90.48.144 shall be applicable to all phases of the levying of a penalty as well as review and appeal of the same."

Sec. 2. RCW 49.60.172 and 1988 c 206 s 903 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No person may require an individual to take an HIV test, as defined in chapter 70.24 RCW, or hepatitis C test, as a condition of hiring, promotion, or continued employment unless the absence of HIV or hepatitis C infection is a bona fide occupational qualification for the job in question.

(2) No person may discharge or fail or refuse to hire any individual, or segregate or classify any individual in any way which would deprive or tend to deprive that individual of employment opportunities or adversely affect his or her status as an employee, or otherwise discriminate against any individual with respect to compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment on the basis of the results of an HIV test or hepatitis C test unless the absence of HIV or hepatitis C infection is a bona fide occupational qualification of the job in question.

(3) The absence of HIV or hepatitis C infection as a bona fide occupational qualification exists when performance of a particular job can be shown to present a significant risk, as defined by the board of health by rule, of transmitting HIV or hepatitis C infection to other persons, and there exists no means of eliminating the risk by restructuring the job.

(4) For the purpose of this chapter, any person who is actually infected with HIV or hepatitis C, but is not disabled as a result of the infection, shall not be eligible for any benefits under the affirmative action provisions of chapter 49.74 RCW solely on the basis of such infection.

(5) Employers are immune from civil action for damages arising out of transmission of HIV or hepatitis C to employees or to members of the public unless such transmission occurs as a result of the employer's gross negligence.

Sec. 3. RCW 49.60.174 and 1997 c 271 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For the purposes of determining whether an unfair practice under this chapter has occurred, claims of discrimination based on actual or perceived HIV or hepatitis C infection shall be evaluated in the same manner as other claims of discrimination based on sensory, mental, or physical disability; or the use of a trained dog guide or service animal by a disabled person.

(2) Subsection (1) of this section shall not apply to transactions with insurance entities, health service contractors, or health maintenance organizations subject to RCW 49.60.030(1)(e) or 49.60.178 to prohibit fair discrimination on the basis of actual HIV or actual hepatitis C infection status when bona fide statistical differences in risk or exposure have been substantiated.

(3) For the purposes of this chapter(⌘):

(a) "HIV" means the human immunodeficiency virus, and includes all HIV and HIV-related viruses which damage the cellular branch of the human immune system and leave the infected person immunodeficient; and

(b) "Hepatitis C" means the hepatitis C virus of any genotype.
