JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

STATE OF WASHINGTON

FORTY-FIRST LEGISLATURE

FIRST DAY

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wash., Monday, January 13, 1969.

AT NOON

The Forty-first Senate of the state of Washington assembled at the Senate Chamber in the State Capitol, pursuant to law at noon.

Lieutenant Governor John A. Cherberg, President of the Senate, called the Senate to order.

The Color Guard consisting of Pages Wesley Clizer, Color Bearer, and Betsy Zarelli, presented the Colors. Reverend Charles H. Perry, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

Read from "THE COTTON PATCH VERSION OF THE EPISTLES OF PAUL", pages 48-49. Let us pray: "Almighty and Everlasting God, the giver of all good things on the earth, the 'planter of truth in the hearts of men', behold with Thy love and favor the members of this Senate of the state of Washington, the Governor of this State, the members of the House of Representatives, and all who participate in the work of this legislature, as together they begin another session may the standards of honesty, truth and integrity they espouse not be 'crucified' to attain the more limited goals achieved by expediency and self-interest. We pray for them in these troublous times that they would be given the humility to seek Your wisdom, to be guided by Your truth, and to desire an inner spirit of freedom that derives from a life of service to others. Give them discernment of mind so they can perceive the line of separation between Your 'foolishness' and the 'wisdom' of men, and may they never be captivated by human wisdom when it is in conflict with the simplicity of Your truth. Help them to remember that upon them and their conduct depend the continuation of the free institutions of political government in this State and Nation. May the mountain-top of perspective never be too hard for them to attain, nor the valley of suffering too low for them to enter. Give to them the peace of mind and heart that come to those who seek to do the best they know how when men are divided over the way, the truth and the spirit that leads to life. And one more thing we would ask for them is a sense of humor that springs from joy in the knowledge of Your love for them. Hear our prayer, O God, and let our cry come unto Thee, for we offer it in the Name and Faith of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President announced the presence of the Honorable Toraichi Nakabayashi, Speaker of the Hyogo Prefectural Assembly of Kobi, Japan and his wife, Hatsu, and their son, Iso and appointed a special committee consisting of Senators Sandison and Williams to escort the visitors to a place of honor upon the rostrum.

With leave of the Senate, business was suspended to permit the Honorable Nakabayashi to address the Senate.

Senator Williams replied to the remarks of the visitor in Japanese.

The committee of honor escorted the visitors from the Senate Chamber.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The President declared nominations to be open for President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I rise today to put in nomination the name of a friend of mine, a man who has served with distinction in the Washington State Senate, a man who has served with distinction in the Washington State House of Representatives, one who has broad knowledge of all government affairs, a man who has held the post of President Pro Tempore of this body in the last session of the legislature and one who we can all say has been eminently fair to all of us in his dealings as President of the Senate.

"It is with great pleasure today that I nominate for President Pro Tempore of the Senate, Senator Al Henry."

Senator Mardesich: "Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I rise to second the nomination of Senator Al Henry for President Pro Tempore of this body.

"I have known and served with Al eighteen years and he has been here some twenty-three years, if my recollection serves me, and the reason that I rise to second this nomination is because in those past years serving with Al, I have come to know that he possesses those qualifications which are imperative to anyone who would serve as President of this body.

"In my view the primary attribute for the person who handles that job should be one of fairness, respect for both parties and all persons equally and alike.

"It gives me great pleasure to second the nomination of Senator Al Henry as President Pro Tempore."

Senator Canfield: "Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"It's a personal honor and a happy privilege to place in nomination as President Pro Tempore of this body an outstanding citizen and a distinguished member of this legislative body, a man who was raised and who grew up in an atmosphere of civic responsibility, a man recognized as a born leader, not only of Republicans but of citizens throughout the state everywhere, a man whose service in this legislature is longer than that of any member of this body, beginning thirty years ago in the year 1939 in the House of Representatives where he was for three sessions—the party leader in that body, a man who has continued to serve in this body since 1959 and who has been three times his party's leader in this chamber, a man who has served under five governors in this state, a man who has served his country well in World War II and later served as judge advocate for the Washington State American Legion, a man whose sharp wit is excelled only by his political brilliance and his dedication to the people of the State of Washington.

"Gentlemen of the Senate, I give to you the distinguished Senator from the 15th district, the Honorable Senator Perry B. Woodall."

Senator Atwood: "Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I rise to second the nomination of the one and only Superchief of this legislature or any previous legislature. I happen to be the junior partner of Woodall, Freise and Atwood and one of our partners is missing but the Superchief is still with us. This man is without peer in this legislature as an orator, debater and his brilliance is second to none.

"Without any further ado, Senator Woodall, I'd like to second that nomination."

There being no further nominations, the President declared the nominations closed.

On motion of Senator Gissberg, Senator Foley was excused.

ROLL CALL

The Acting Secretary called the roll on the election of President Pro Tempore of the Senate and Senator Henry was elected by the following vote: Senator Henry, 26; Senator Woodall, 22; excused, 1.

Those voting for Senator Henry were: Senators Bailey, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Gissberg, Greive, Herr, Keefe, Knoblauch, McCormack, McCutcheon, Mardesich, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Ridder, Sandison, Stortini, Talley, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Wilson, Woodall—26.

Those voting for Senator Woodall were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Canfield, Elicker, Faulk, Guess, Henry, Holman, Huntley, Lewis, (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McDougall, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ryder, Stender, Twigg, Williams—22.

Excused: Senator Foley, 1.

The President declared that Senator Henry, having received the constitutional majority vote of the Senate was elected President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

The President appointed Senators Connor and Day to act as a committee of honor to escort Senator Henry to the rostrum.

The Honorable Marshall A. Neill, Justice of the Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to Senator Henry.

President Cherberg: "Honorable members of the Senate, Justice Neill and President Pro Tempore Al Henry, ladies and gentlemen:

"It is a distinct pleasure for the President to have the opportunity to present to you your next elected Pro Tempore. The President assures that you will all join with him in extending the heartiest congratulations to Senator Henry and to Senator Woodall, a grand person. Congratulations to you, Senator Woodall, certainly a fitting tribute to you in the remarks that were presented by Senator Canfield. You have our deepest respect, admiration and affection.

"Senator Henry, the President is personally delighted to have you as President Pro Tempore and realizing full well that after your four years of Pro Tempore in the Washington State Senate, now in the parlance of the data processing field, you are certainly fourth generation compatible hardware. You bear up well and I understand that you are commencing your fourth term in the Senate. I know it full well because we came here together. Senator Henry is a person with a delightful personality, a remarkable sense of humor, and one who will serve you well. It is a pleasure at this time to present to you Senator Al Henry, your newly elected President Pro Tempore."

Senator Henry: "Mr. President and fellow Senators. The man who nominated me had me worried there for a little while. He got to the phrase 'broad' and I was afraid that he wasn't going to put 'knowledge' after it. He saved me. I also asked the lieutenant governor, due to the narrowness of the aisle, to be sure that if he appointed an escort committee to pick out two of the slimmest ones. Instead of that, he just chose one escort, Senator Connor. It's a good thing he did because there would have been a bigger foup up than there really was.

"I am deeply honored, particularly on this occasion, because as I understand from the record it is the first time in the history of the state that one man has been so honored by his fellow senators. I appreciate it and I could have no more distinguished adversary than Senator Woodall. He came to the House one session ahead of me. We've been personal friends over the years. He chases some of those Indian friends of his over the Satus Pass into my district and I chase them back and together we have a very good working relationship. It is my job as I have tried to do in the past to expedite legislation, to see that all people are recognized fairly on the floor and to assist and back up the Lieutenant Governor of the state of Washington, an eminently fair and hard-working man, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg. I have only one request of him, that if I have to stand in for him like I did at an educator's meeting in Seattle last session and they handed me a prepared speech they don't start out that I was born in Seattle and raised on Queen Anne Hill and coached the University of Washington football team. I had to make some real fast last minute changes.

"Thank you so much for the honor."

President Cherberg: "Thank you very much, Mr. President. The President extends apologies to you but suggested that perhaps due to the narrowness of the aisle that one escort would be sufficient. I believe I agree with you, Al. That isn't quite right. We should have such distinguished personalities escorted by at least two members. We will rectify that and have Senator Connor and Senator Day, would you please join Senator Connor."

"Will the committee of honor come to the rostrum and escort President Pro Tempore Henry to his desk."

The President declared the nominations were now in order for the office of Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

Senator Sandison: "I rise to place in nomination for Vice President Pro Tempore the name of Senator James E. Keefe. Senator Keefe has been a member of the Washington State Senate now for 22 years. During this time he has shown himself to be a man of not only a great deal of confidence but a great deal of compassion. He has shown an interest not only in the people of his district but in the people of the state of Washington, those unfortunate in the institutions, the penal institutions, mental institutions, and those who are attending our public schools. In a period where there is divisiveness, he brings us together. In a period where there is a dichotomy of thought, he finds a middle ground. I think he is eminently qualified for the job."

Senator Knoblauch: "I would like to second the nomination of Senator James Keefe as Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate. Senator Keefe is a dedicated public servant and a man who will serve this position with dignity and honor. He has done an outstanding job as a legislator and it is with pleasure that I second his nomination."

Senator Williams: "Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I would like to place in nomination the name of Senator John Ryder. As you know, Senator John Ryder appeared first in the House in 1953 and he has served as a member of this Senate since 1955.

"In his legislative career he has become known as very knowledgeable in some of the most difficult fields of our government; taxation, public pensions, appropriations and matters which are of keen concern to everyone in the state.

"During this period he has served as an outstanding civic leader in the city of Seattle. He has been active in the YMCA, the Chamber of Commerce and other civic groups.

"I suggest he is equally worthy of this position."

Senator Guess: "I rise to second the nomination of Senator John Ryder. It gives me a great deal of pleasure to be able to do so. Senator Ryder has been a guider, a leader and has furnished counsel to those of us on this side of the aisle and I am sure that all of the body knows of the fairness that Senator Ryder will bring and it is with a great deal of pleasure that I second his nomination."

There being no further nominations, the President declared the nominations closed.

ROLL CALL

The Acting Secretary called the roll on the election of Vice President Pro Tempore, and Senator Keefe was elected by the following vote: Senator Keefe, 26; Senator Ryder, 22; excused, 1.

Those voting for Senator Keefe were: Senators Bailey, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Gissberg, Greive, Henry, Herr, Knoblauch, McCormack, McCutcheon, Mardesich, Odegard, Peterson (Lowell), Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stortini, Talley, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Wilson—26.

Those voting for Senator Ryder were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Canfield, Elicker, Faulk, Guess, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McDougall, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Stender, Twigg, Williams, Woodall—22.

Excused: Senator Foley—1.

Senator Keefe having received the constitutional majority vote of the Senate was elected Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

The President appointed Senators Cooney and Twigg to act as a committee of honor to escort Senator Keefe to the rostrum.

The Acting Sergeant at Arms and the honor committee escorted Senator Keefe to the rostrum and Justice Neill administered the oath of office.

President Cherberg: "Gentlemen of the Senate, Justice Neill, Vice President Pro Tempore Keefe, ladies and gentlemen:

"A rare privilege that the President has in presenting to you a man that comes to us from the sidewalks of New York.

"Senator Keefe's vast experience in the Senate Chambers, this is his sixth term incidentally, and it is wonderful to have you. His many years of experience in the theatrical field plus his own tremendous sense of humor and wit has given him a vocabulary described by Reader's Digest as being toward more picturesque speech.

"As a Senator he is one of the most highly respected and beloved persons in the history of the legislature. We would like at this time, Senator, for you to grace us with a few well-chosen words delivered in your own inimitably clever style."

Senator Keefe: "Thank you Mr. President, honored guests and fellow Senators:

"Thank you for this high honor that you have conferred upon me and I hope that I can do an outstanding job for you. I had a very worthy opponent, Senator John Ryder. He is a dear friend of mine and I hope that in being given the opportunity to preside up here I shall be fair and impartial and I want to say to you, even though he's the Superchief, Senator Woodall is now my roommate. Thank you very much."

President Cherberg: "Thank you very much, Vice President Pro Tempore Keefe.

"Will the committee of honor come to the rostrum and escort Vice President Pro Tempore Keefe to his desk."

President Cherberg: "The President calls for nominations for the office of Secretary of the Senate."

Senator Gissberg: "Mr. President and colleagues:

"I place in nomination the name of Ward Bowden for Secretary of the Senate. I did the same in 1953 but my nomination was not successful. I did the same in 1955. Once again, Mr. Bowden was not elected but during those two sessions of the legislature he did serve in the capacity as assistant to the then Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives. He did such an outstanding job learning his job during those early days that in 1957 he won by an overwhelming majority of the members of the Senate and each and every session since that time I have placed his name in nomination and because of the fine job that he has done, he continues to serve in that capacity.

"I am hopeful again that the things that he has done here for us will enable you to express your confidence in him by voting for Ward Bowden.

"I can recall the longest speech that was ever made on this floor some years ago. It was a seconding nomination made by a Republican for Ward Bowden. I don't recall specifically the occasion but it seems that there was some thought about filibustering on the occasion and I know, however, that Justice Marshall Neill did say all the things that were really in his heart about Ward Bowden because he did an outstanding job in telling us at that time why Ward Bowden was important to us and why we should elect him.

"I think that it should be pointed out that in complimenting Ward Bowden about the things that he has done for the Senate during this interim and the legislature, that I will not detract from the work done by Senator Sandison in his capacity as chairman of the Senate Facilities Committee but I think I should point out that although Ward has served long, he has not been the type of individual who is content with the status quo. He constantly seeks to make our work easier for us and he has done so during this past interim.

"I would point out to you the fact that Mrs. Fading is sitting near a new machine which has been utilized now in some few states but I think that Washington is one of the pioneers now in using the computer system on the floor of the Senate. Ward Bowden's leadership, with that of Senator Sandison, was instrumental in placing that before us to serve as another legislative aid in assisting us in modernizing the role of state government generally. Ward Bowden has also been a leader in seeing to it, in pushing, if you will, the legislators in putting the Revised Code of Washington on tape to simplify the work of bill drafters. This also will make itself felt.

"I am sorry that I must lose Ward Bowden from the 39th legislative district, however, Snohomish county's loss is Thurston county's gain. I am happy to report, however, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Bowden has sold his newspaper and that I will lose the support of Ward Bowden in Snohomish county, I am very pleased and I know you will be happy to know that he did sell his newspapers to a very fine Democrat who has been an understudy for many years and so the fine work in the Skykomish Valley will continue in the same fashion.

"Ward has done an outstanding job for us. I sincerely hope that you will express your confidence in him by voting for him for this position as Secretary of the Senate."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Thank you, Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"I think it is apparent that partisan politics dictate that when it comes to floor work officers that each party should sponsor its own candidate. However, when we talk about the mechanics of operation of a business like the Washington State Senate, I believe and I think that all of us believe, that it should be operated efficiently without partisanship by a group and under the leadership of a man like Ward Bowden who is familiar and experienced with its operation.

"I rise to second the nomination for the members of the minority. There is a job to be done. Mr. Bowden is competent and knowledgeable and does the job well. His experienced management of the staff affording services to the Senate as a body and to each of us members deserves the vote of each of us.

"I am happy to second the nomination of Ward Bowden as Secretary of the Senate."

There being no further nominations, the President declared the nominations for Secretary of the Senate to be closed.

ROLL CALL

The Acting Secretary called the roll on the election of Secretary of the Senate and Ward Bowden was elected by the following vote: Ward Bowden, 48; excused, 1.

Those voting for Ward Bowden were: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall—48.

Excused: Senator Foley—1.

Ward Bowden, having received the constitutional majority vote of the Senate, was elected Secretary of the Senate.

The President appointed an honor committee consisting of Senators Gissberg and Lewis (Harry) to escort Ward Bowden to the rostrum.

Justice Neill administered the oath of office of Secretary of the Senate to Ward Bowden.

President Cherberg: "Honored members of the Senate, Justice Neill, Mr. Secretary:

"It was a close fight, Ward, but you won. Truly, it is a remarkable honor for you to receive a unanimous vote for the office. I can only think of one other man who has received that particular honor in the history of our country and that was President George Washington!

"Ward is recognized as the outstanding Secretary of the Senate in the United States of America and the President wishes to compliment the members on their excellent judgment and offer hearty congratulations to you, Ward, and a word of appreciation for the grand job you have always done for us.

"The Honorable Ward Bowden."

Ward Bowden: "Thank you Governor, Judge Neill, Senator Gissberg, Senator Lewis and other members of the Senate:

"You have honored me greatly today and I want to thank you again. I am quite overwhelmed, really. I suggested that my family might like to be here today. Some of them are in the gallery and I'm sure they have heard many things about their father and my wife's husband that they probably didn't know before. This is the first time that my family has been able to see me sworn and I am very proud to have them here today.

"I presume with the exception of Senator Dore that you are enjoying your new surroundings. We worked hard and diligently with the Committee and I think everything is ready for you now. There are a few things yet to be done, a little smoothing out to do but we are going to do it in the next day or so.

"The Employment Committee has met and adjourned and has left in my hands a wonderful staff of people to work with you and, of course, those that you see here this morning are just a very small part of the employees that were hired by the Washington State Senate to assist you in your duties here. I hope that you take every opportunity to use their services and try to learn about the new services that we have here for you.

"On the rostrum we have some new faces, to the rostrum at least, and I would like to present my assistant, of course, Don Wilson who has served us faithfully for many sessions. Don is my great right arm and he handles all the property around here and does things that I couldn't possibly do by myself and I am very glad to have Don back. Don, would you stand?

"Now we have a new journal clerk but she is not new to the Senate. In fact, Dorothy antedates me in the Senate. She came here as a very young woman and she has been here ever since. Dorothy, I would like you to stand.

"And of course, Verne Sawyer needs no introduction. He has been with us a good many sessions and we are happy to have him back. Verne, would you stand?

"The newest member of the Senate staff is Elmo Fading and she sits at my right. Elmo is the Docket Clerk and she has the controls of the data processing system at her fingertips. She can answer many questions for you very rapidly and I hope that you will each go up and take the opportunity to meet Elmo and ask her what she can do for you, because this is something very new and if you are not familiar with it, familiarize yourself with it and I am sure that you will find it very useful.

"Now thank you again, gentlemen of the Senate. You have honored me today. Thank you Senator Gissberg for the beautiful nominating speech and also Senator Lewis."

The President declared nominations for the office of Sergeant at Arms of the Senate now in order.

Senator Henry: "Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"Some eighteen years ago I had the privilege of serving with our present Acting Sergeant at Arms as a member of the House. Subsequently I have nominated him as Sergeant at Arms of the House and he did an outstanding job there. In 1957 I nominated him in the Senate. He has been the Sergeant at Arms of the Washington State Senate ever since.

"He has worked untiringly on behalf of the members on both sides of the aisle and I think it fitting and proper that once again we return Charlie Johnson as our Sergeant at Arms of the Washington State Senate.

"He is on call twenty-four hours a day as some of you know because I know some of you make a practice of calling him and I think that once again it will be our pleasure to have serving us as Sergeant at Arms, Charles Johnson."

Senator Uhlman: "Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate:

"It gives me a great deal of pleasure to second the nomination of Charlie Johnson. Everyone here I believe knows him and as Senator Henry indicated has had occasion to have him perform tasks for them and to the newer members, I would simply suggest that Charles Johnson has done an excellent job and will continue I believe to do the same kind of a job.

"He has a thankless job and one that is near impossible on occasion, for dealing with forty-nine different and distinct personalities is almost an impossible job. He has done it well and I believe he should continue."

Senator Pritchard: "Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I would like to offer this side of the aisle's candidate for Sergeant at Arms. Thinking about this post, I tried to think about the qualities which we would like in our Sergeant at Arms and I thought probably like any person that shoulders a major responsibility, we want the same qualities there as we do in our Senators. I thought of two, one who is truly concerned and deeply cares about the legislature and the legislative process which we all know is the cornerstone of a responsible and responsive government and second, like Senators, the employees shoulder a major responsibility and are pulled in a hundred different directions and have a thousand distractions and I think it is important that they have a keen sense of purpose and proper standard of priority for it is far too easy to drift into the backwaters of trivia.

"My nominee is Linus Pearson who is a successful businessman and a community leader in Seattle and he meets the standards that we have set and we properly expect from this position. We offer this gentleman for your consideration."

Senator Metcalf: "Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"It is a privilege to second the nomination of Linus Pearson, a fine and competent gentleman for the office of Sergeant at Arms of the Washington State Senate."

There being no further nominations, the President declared the nominations for Sergeant at Arms to be closed.

President Cherberg: "Honored members of the Senate, Justice Neill, Honorable Charles Johnson, ladies and gentlemen:

"The Sergeant at Arms is another fourth generation hardware addition to the forty-first state legislature. I believe that Charlie came to the legislature, or that is to the Washington State Senate, in 1957 and has served the Senate as Sergeant at Arms ever since. He has done a fine job.

"Charlie, we want to congratulate you on your reelection and would like to have you address the Senate at this time."

Charlie Johnson: "Thank you Mr. President, Judge Neill and members:

"I appreciate your selecting me again. It is quite an honor to be here to serve you fellows. I know that I heard what someone said that you have forty-nine things that make you very uncomfortable sometimes when you can't do what you want to do but I will do my very best for forty-nine Senators.

"Anytime you need me, I will be very happy to serve you.

"I have one request I would like to make of you. I have my sister and my niece in the gallery and they have never been here during a session before and I would like to have them stand, if it is permissible. Mrs. Hill and her daughter, Mrs. Scott from Seattle.

"Thank you very much from the bottom of my heart."

SECOND DAY

MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wash., Tuesday, January 14, 1969.

The Senate was called to order at 10:30 a.m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Foley. On motion of Senator Greive, Senator Foley was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Lynn Marquardt, Color Bearer, and Michael O'Neil, presented the Colors. Reverend Charles Howard Perry, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want; He makes me lie down in green pastures. He leads me beside still waters; he restores my soul. He leads me in paths of righteousness for his name's sake.' O God, Thou who art indeed the shepherd of all Thy flock upon the earth, lead us, we pray Thee into those paths of life which serve the cause of righteousness. When we are tempted to forget who You are, and what You are, recall to our remembrance the words of this Shepherd Psalm and grant that in them we may be led to find Thee. When we are bewildered, tired of doing good, ready to quit and give up, may we remember that it is Your Spirit which restores our soul and your love which guides us to the still waters where we may also be still and know that You are our God and our Father in Heaven. In these days of tumult, war, strife and disagreement—both within our own nation and amongst other nations on the earth—we pray especially for these men who serve in the Senate of the state of Washington. Lead them, O God, as a Shepherd into the streets of our great cities where they may see people who are in want, and may find ways to help provide for them; lead them to the campuses of our colleges and universities where they may look upon the unrest of students and faculty and by their wisdom lead others to the green pastures of peace and understanding; lead them into the forests, lakes, rivers and seas of our State and grant them a will to preserve the places of still waters where men's souls and bodies are restored; lead them on to the highways of our State and give them a heart that grieves for those killed and injured there, and a mind to solve the complex problems involved in moving millions of people around from town to town and city to city. Be present in Thy power, O Lord, in the halls of this Senate; may yours not be the only Spirit absent when the debate rages and the vote is taken. Lead these men into the paths of righteousness for Thy name's sake. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

We especially ask Thy blessing upon our Chief Executive and Governor. Give to him of Thy wisdom, patience and good humor so that he can unite us above party, creed and color to the doing together of Thy good purposes for mankind.

The Speaker of the House turned the gavel over to the President of the Senate.

The President of the Senate: "Mr. Speaker, Governor Evans, Mr. Chief Justice Hunter, Reverend Haehlen, members of the court, members of the Washington state legislature, ladies and gentlemen:

"Governor Evans, may I extend to you my most sincere congratulations on your election to a second term as the Chief Executive of our wonderful state. To the other state officials and members of the legislature, may I offer my heartiest congratulations and best wishes for a successful and prosperous term in office during the next four years, which I am sure will be guided by the wisdom and knowledge the electorate knew each of you possess.

"I should like to express my sincere appreciation to the people of the state of Washington for granting me the opportunity to serve once again. I should like to express my appreciation to my wife, Betty (applause), to my children (applause), to all my brothers and sisters (applause), and to my many friends whose undying loyalty and persistent determination, and above all else whose patience, have resulted in my presence here today.

"When you handed me the gavel and the Certificate of Election, Mr. Speaker, I must say that it gave me quite a thrill. Although I will miss some of my friends in the Lieutenant Governor's Conference, I am very proud and honored to be the only Democratic Lieutenant Governor reelected in the country this past year (applause). I am humble because of the numerous and important duties which we all now face. In twelve years as President of the Senate, I have never found an easy road to a successful legislative session, and certainly none will be found for this one. However, I am filled with determination that the Forty-first session of the Washington State Legislature will be the most successful in the history of our illustrious state. It is gratifying to sense that I am not alone in this determination. As we take the oath of office today, we must remind ourselves that the success we seek can only be properly measured by the results of our deliberations. It is not the number of bills which we pass by which we will be remembered, nor is it the eloquence with which they are presented, but rather the content thereof and the effect on the future which they have, which will determine whether we have fulfilled our obligations to the citizens of the state. We will be judged by what we do more than by what we say. We will follow well-reasoned precedents, so long as they are applicable to our fast-changing society, but will not blindly ignore the need for change to adjust to the needs of our people. With unity of purpose for the betterment of our state and the willingness to cooperate with each other, I am confident that the members of the legislature and the elected state officials will capably fulfill their obligations to the citizens whose public servants we are. Let us not forget that."

The President of the Senate: "Ladies and gentlemen, it is the pleasure, privilege and honor of the President to present to you at this time the Chief of the Washington State Patrol, the Honorable Will Bachofner.

Chief Bachofner: "Governor Evans, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, Mr. Speaker, distinguished members of the Supreme Court, elected officials, honorable legislators, ladies and gentlemen:

"It is a real privilege for me this afternoon to be able to present on behalf of the Washington State Patrol a small memento to Mr. Lee I. Kueckelhan in appreciation for his services. He has served many years in state government and the last eight years as Insurance Commissioner. He served on the Washington State Patrol Retirement System, and probably did more for us than any other man serving on that commission to keep us one of the most solvent pension systems in the state.

"So, Lee, at this time I would like to give to you a plaque from the Washington State Patrol in appreciation, not only for everything that you did for our department, but also just for being a great guy and a real friend."

Mr. Kueckelhan: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Governor Evans, distinguished members of the court, other state officials, gentlemen of the Senate and ladies and gentlemen of the House, and ladies and gentlemen:

"I have had the rare privilege of serving the state of Washington for almost 31 years. It has been a pleasure to do this, and I feel that something has been accomplished in the way of insurance protection in the state of Washington as well as participating in activities throughout the country.

"One of the girls in our office asked me this morning, 'When do you get unsworn?' I hadn't heard this before, but I said I thought the echoes of the swearing I did four years ago would wear out soon after noon today.

"I appreciate particularly the honor of having served eight years as the elected Insurance Commissioner. I feel that I could not wish my successor anything better than that when he retires from that office, he will also merit your commendation. Thank you very much."

THE OATH OF OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

Chief Justice Robert T. Hunter administered the oath of office to Governor Daniel J. Evans, and the President presented him his Certificate of Election.

The President of the Senate: "Thank you very much, Mr. Chief Justice, ladies and gentlemen: At this time the moment has arrived for His Excellency the Governor of the state of Washington, the Honorable Daniel J. Evans, to deliver a message to the legislature. The President should like to request Mr. Prince and Mr. Johnson to escort Governor Evans to the Clerk's desk."

MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR DANIEL J. EVANS TO THE LEGISLATURE

"Mr. Chief Justice, Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, distinguished officers of the state, members of the Washington state legislature, and my fellow Washingtonians:

"The Lieutenant Governor introduced a portion of his family. I think that I have him beat in the number of brothers, the number of sisters-in-law and brothers-in-law, all sitting up in the gallery here. I would like to introduce especially however some who are very close, those who have made it possible during the past four years to conduct the office of Governor and of course made it possible for me to stand here. Most particularly making that possible are my mother and father, seated over here. (Applause) One who particularly makes it possible when campaign time comes, with three young children, is a fine mother-in-law who stays at home many, many times taking care of those three rather wild young boys. (Applause) Now, particularly, my wife, Nancy. I don't know how many boys are still left there. I know my oldest son, Danny, seated next to Nancy; and my son, Mark, who is temporarily ensconced in a cast from a skiing accident; and young Bruce I suspect has just left the auditorium. Would they all stand? (The audience rose and applauded Governor Evans' family.)

"Twelve years ago, I began in these chambers as a member of the House of Representatives and was seated far in the back corner. I never thought then that I would stand in front of you and deliver the second, much less the first, inaugural address as Governor. I must say that when I served in the House, the chambers didn't look half so nice—the light wasn't half so bright—and I hope all of this just means that the production out of this session will be as delightful, as new, and I won't say as expensive, as the refurbishing was.

"We begin here today not a continuation of the past, but a departure into the future.

"What is past is history; what lies before us is a new and still greater challenge to make the works of government equal to the problems of those who are governed.

"If in the last four years we have labored successfully, then in the next four we must labor that much longer, work that much harder, sacrifice that much more—in order to achieve progress for this state and well being for its people.

"I have not come before you today to pay tribute to past accomplishment. I have come here to rededicate this administration to the tasks of government which are broader than any single party and beyond the abilities of any single man.

"If we are to serve the needs of Washington well—we shall serve them together, and with honor.

"This year Washington will celebrate its 80th anniversary of statehood.

"Problems, which festered for a century in other parts of the nation, have arrived on our doorstep in little short of a single decade.

"Our metropolitan areas are expanding at a record rate—and parts of them are deteriorating with equal speed.

"The land which once seemed inexhaustible is disappearing—some of it consigned forever to the tragedy of perpetual blight.

"Our transportation system is threatening to tie itself in a suicidal knot—a system in which our ability to build new freeways is exceeded only by our ability to fill them beyond capacity.

"Our atmosphere—both air and water—is in jeopardy—not because we want it so, but because we have too long taken too much for granted.

"In our cities we are confronting the sometimes visionary, sometimes violent problems of social upheaval—the search for human dignity and equal opportunity under physical conditions which are barely more than adequate and barely less than impossible.

"And while our problems have multiplied; while this region has progressed from simplicity to complexity, we have steadfastly refused to modernize our state government; we have failed to come to grips with the necessary task of constitutional reform; and we have failed to meet the responsibilities of revising our taxing system.

"In short, we have dealt with the extremities, but not with the heart of the problem.

"We have acknowledged the ends but ignored the means.

"We have satisfied the growing demands of today, but not the greater demands of the future.

"The principal tasks before us then are more basic than they are many.

"They are questions of substance—and I believe our answers to them may well be the difference between more than political victory and political defeat; they may well be the difference between the success and the failure of an entire state.

"I pledge to you today that this administration enters the arena with an open mind. There are no closed corridors, no rigid formulas, no back room agreements—only my commitment and the commitment of this administration that we shall do what is reasonable and what is right.

"Beyond that, all things are possible. Short of that, nothing can be assured.

"We turn, therefore, to the problems before us. They are my problems, but they are equally yours. And beyond our common concern, they are finally the agenda of the state—which we serve with equal but not opposite responsibilities.

"The decisions of government are too important and the consequences too grave to allow the executive branch to function with an organization designed to serve the past, and with restrictions which make it impossible to serve the future.

"It is time to reconstruct the executive branch of government so that we can begin to manage the business of the people, instead of just cope with it; so that we can bring the services of government to bear quickly on emerging problems—instead of dividing our efforts through dozens of functions in far too many separate departments and agencies.

"Government cannot be run exactly like a business—but nowhere does it say that government must be run in ignorance of business principles. And nowhere can you find justification for the contention that size is a realistic substitute for efficiency.

"Within the next several days, this administration will introduce a series of bills dealing with the reorganization of the executive branch of government. Six of these have been recommended by the Task Force on Executive Organization, a bipartisan group of citizens whom I believe, share the average citizen's concern that government should be designed to meet the needs of the people, and not to serve the pleasure of its tenants.

"We shall either reorganize or we shall suffocate in the quicksand of an outdated and ineffective system of administration. The details are debatable, but the principle is clear: we must forge a government structure which can plan comprehensively and a structure which can deliver whole solutions to whole problems. I believe this Legislature will respond to the very real needs of executive reorganization.

"Two years ago, this administration came before the Legislature to ask for a new system of taxation for the state of Washington.

"We came, not because tax reform was popular, but because it was necessary; because in its absence the income of the State threatened to become seriously out of balance with the demands for future service.

"Because excess school levies were becoming an increasing burden on the property taxpayer—and a serious threat to the stability and quality of our common school system.

"Because the sales tax as it grew in percentage grew also in its unfair impact on low income families.

"Because the standards of property tax collection varied from county to county, giving some citizens an advantage at the expense of others.

"In effect, we had a taxing system which was irresponsible to growth, inequitable in its distribution of the tax burden, unequal in its administration and incapable of resolving the primary financial responsibilities of state government.

"That same system exists today. And, if anything, over the past two years it has proved itself less responsive, more inequitable, more unequal and less capable than ever before.

"The crisis has now arrived. School districts serving thirty-seven percent of this state's students have failed in passage of special levies. Our ability to keep pace with health care needs, higher education, mental retardation—and scores of equally important areas of state government—is in serious jeopardy. Failure to act now will unquestionably result in a decline in this state's high quality of performance.

"But I think we have learned from our failure of two years ago. And while we have learned so, I believe, have the citizens of Washington. What was once a proposal distinguished by a lack of both understanding and support, now lacks neither.

"It is therefore time to reconsider our past actions, and I will shortly ask permission of this Legislature to deliver a special message on tax reform.

"It is not an easy challenge. But if we are not equal now, then we must ask who will be. And when. And at what ultimate price to the people we serve and to the generations which follow them.

"We have all heard it before, but it is nonetheless true today that the price of progress must eventually be paid. And this administration and this Legislature just happen to be in charge of the public treasury when progress demands that price.

"The third basic concern which I will place before the Legislature is that of constitutional reform. We have for the past four years—and for many more before that—deliberated the wisdom of reforming our constitution. The arguments in favor and those in opposition have been promoted with equal vigor and with equal success—resulting in a continuous constitutional stalemate.

"The result of our failure to act responsibly in the constitutional area is that today, when events impose themselves at a record pace, we are forced to deal with them through restrictions imposed by an archaic document. The constitution of this state was not written for the problems of an accelerating urban age. Though remarkable for its wisdom at the time, it was nevertheless drafted by men who held an inherent distrust of state government. They reasoned that a state which governed slowly, governed best.

"But few would agree today that the problems of this state can be solved at leisure. Instead we find ourselves at a time in history which demands swift action, and if we cannot agree on total reform of the constitution, then at the very least we must agree upon new machinery to speed up and broaden the amendment process.

"I will therefore propose the adoption of a 'gateway amendment' which will authorize constitutional amendment by broad subject matter, instead of the present requirement to amend by single subjects only. When the problems of a state are presented chapter by chapter, it is both unreasonable and dangerous to deal with them page by page. The gateway amendment is not a total solution, but it is a reasonable one. It does not endanger the basic safeguards built into the constitution, nor does it remove approval from the hands of the people.

"What it does do is to permit the administration and the Legislature to meet constitutional needs more comprehensively—to secure necessary revisions in larger numbers through essentially the same amendment procedures.

"The gateway amendment proposal completes the three basic areas which concern us today. Each of them—executive reorganization, tax reform and constitutional reform—is more than simply a request from the administration to the Legislature. Each of them is, in fact, a vital key to the ability of government to perform and perhaps even to survive.

"I hope that we have profited from the lesson which so many other states have learned at bitter expense—the lesson that to be prepared is at least half the battle. That in order to deal effectively with escalating problems, the machinery of government must be efficient and its financial house in order. We cannot guarantee success in any case, but we can at least minimize the prospect of failure.

"If we can combine in these halls to reorganize the executive branch; if we can both revise our constitutional amendment process and reform our system of taxation—then I truly believe we will have done more for the future citizens of Washington than all of the bills passed and all of the laws written in the last eighty years.

"It is a large order, but we are living in critical times, and I am confident that dedicated men and women will see their duty—and will do it accordingly.

"The three areas which I have outlined constitute, in my judgment, the critical business of this Legislature; but they are by no means the full agenda of the state.

"In particular, I commend to your attention two additional areas, each of which cuts across the entire spectrum of Legislative responsibilities.

"The first of these embraces the difficult and demanding problems of our rapidly expanding urban centers. Neither by choice nor by chance, Washington has entered the urban age. The rapid knitting together of suburban communities around our central cities has come by sheer circumstance—by the gravitation of people to this last, best frontier of the nation.

"The problems which urbanization brings are manifold, and because they occur so swiftly they must have immediate and special attention. In the course of this session you will consider, at the very minimum, thirty legislative proposals prepared from an exhaustive list of one hundred ninety-eight recommendations made by the Urban Affairs Council.

"Not all of the proposals will bear the signature of executive request, but each of them deals with a vital area of concern, and I urge you to act on them with the highest sense of urgency.

"Much of this nation today is already wracked with the agony of urban crisis; and whether the nation survives will in large measure depend on how that crisis is resolved. For this state, which has been so fortunate, the challenge is clear. If we profit by the failure of others we can succeed; but if we fail, then no failure will have been greater—and no consequence so grave.

"The second area concerns the proposition that this state should now develop a broadly based, comprehensive inventory of its physical and capital needs; and having done so, embark during the 1970's on a statewide program of coordinated action.

"The concept of Forward Thrust, so brilliantly written by the citizens of King county, is truly basic to any system of logical government. It asks, in effect, not for piecemeal measurement, but for overall measurement—a single, sweeping assessment of where we are, where we are going, what is required and how we can achieve it.

"In theory such a task seems impossible; yet in practice—given the commitment of local government, of business, of labor, of agriculture and of the average citizen—the Forward Thrust concept has proved not only workable, but successful.

"The range of a statewide Forward Thrust program would be as broad as our problems are many. It would involve the priorities of irrigation development as well as mass transportation; of recreational need as well as industrial expansion. It would be, in every sense, a full and complete inventory of a state now making its commitment for the balance of a century—and for the realization of a centennial only twenty short years away.

"Within the next sixty days I will seek the formation of a broadly-based statewide organization charged with these principal responsibilities: to analyze the total needs of the state; to measure our capacity in dollars and human resources; and to report by 1970 with a recommended program of action.

"It is a program for the decade of the Seventies, when we shall find more in the urgency of common action than in the luxury of separate hope. It is, beyond this, a measure of our ability to find the key to cooperative action at every level of government and every level of citizen concern.

"It is my hope that you will support the administration in this program; that you will see at the end of a road travelled with difficulty, a goal worth achieving—a monument to the wisdom of a state which having reached its first hundred years has prepared grandly for the second.

"In addition, in the days immediately ahead, this administration will submit a number of bills in the areas of Recreation and Environment, Health and Welfare, Manpower and Labor, Law Enforcement and the Courts, Local Affairs and the Conduct of Government.

"Taken separately, each measure responds to an individual need. Taken together, they reflect not the prejudice of one man—or one administration—but a comprehensive assessment of our collective needs.

"We have reached the point where some needs can no longer be met while others are neglected.

"It does no good to improve our system of justice if we do not attack the conditions which cause injustice.

"It does no good to improve the condition of an individual citizen, if we do not also improve the condition of his environment.

"We accomplish nothing by improving health standards if at the same time we ignore housing standards.

"Nor can we achieve progress by meeting the needs of one part of the state while neglecting the others—by assessing one set of problems while ignoring the rest.

"Instead, we must move ahead on a larger front, relating all problems together—taking them not one at a time but in unison;

"Seeing not the pieces, but the whole.

"It is because we must see the entirety of our problems that I will call this Legislature back into regular session in January of 1970. The times which confront us are noted not only for their magnitude, but for their rapid change; and I believe we have reached the point where a Legislature cannot deal with twenty-four months of change in two months of activity every two years.

"I am vitally aware that expanding the time commitment of the Legislature even further expands its responsibilities. The demands upon your time from this day forward will steadily increase, and the burden of responsibility will continue to grow. In recognition of this—and I believe with the full support of every citizen—I urge that the salaries of all legislators be increased from the present level of three hundred dollars to at least six hundred dollars per month.

"It is a small price to pay for the conduct of wise and good government. And it is even then not truly enough for the responsibilities you are about to begin.

"And so, we turn now from words to action, and to the business of a state preparing for its newest—and perhaps greatest—reckoning.

"The challenge which lies before us is more than just government of the present; it is government of the future.

"It is government by reason, and it is government by plan.

"And finally it is—as it must be—government by the people. Never before has a state needed the participation of so many to accomplish so much. And in so short a time.

"This Legislature and this administration can do many things—but we cannot do it all. The great energies, the great talents, the great resources of our private citizens must be harnessed—and they must be dedicated to the public work.

"To ask your help is not enough. To offer mine is not adequate. We must—for the good of all here and for the benefit of all to follow—unite in the common cause of progress.

"I hope that in a future time, the people of the state of Washington will look back not in anger, but in admiration;

"That they will say here was a government which did more than what was necessary. Here was a government which did what was right.

"Let us then unite in our common cause. Let us bring to the task of government the wisdom of experience, the courage of conviction and a dedication of principle.

"Let us begin again. And may God grant us all the greatness we seek, to lead the people we serve.

"Thank you."

The Speaker instructed the Sergeants at Arms of the Senate and the House to escort the President and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate to seats on the rostrum, and invited the Senators to seats within the House.

The Speaker turned the gavel over to President of the Senate, John A. Cherberg.

The President of the Senate called the joint session to order.

The Secretary of the Senate called the roll of the Senate and all members were present except Senators Cooney, Gissberg, Keefe, Lewis (Harry), and Stender who were excused.

The Clerk of the House called the roll of the House and all members were present.

The President of the Senate announced that the purpose of the joint session was to receive a message from His Excellency, Governor Daniel J. Evans, and appointed the following committee to escort Governor Evans to the House chamber: Senators Peterson (Ted) and Uhlman; and Representatives Chatalas and Cunningham.

The committee retired.

The Sergeant at Arms of the House announced the arrival of His Excellency, Governor Daniel J. Evans, at the bar of the House, and the President instructed the committee to escort Governor Evans to a seat on the rostrum.

The President of the Senate: "Governor Evans, Speaker Eldridge, President Pro Tempore Henry, Honorable ladies and gentlemen of the Washington State Legislature, ladies and gentlemen:

"The purpose of the joint session this morning is to receive a message from the Governor, the Honorable Daniel J. Evans, Governor of the state of Washington."

Governor Evans: "I hope no one here will be dismayed by my bringing the budget book along with me. I am not going to read selected passages from the 'good book.' Instead, my message will be brief and to the point. First, let me thank, for myself personally, and I think as you go through the session, particularly those of you on the Ways and Means Committees of the two houses will join with me in thanking the budget staff, the director of our Central Budget Agency, Walt Howe, and all those who have worked on both the economic forecasting as well as the actual budget making. I think they have done a remarkably fine job and I know they have put in enormous numbers of hours on a seven-day a week basis in order to present this budget to you.

"In my inaugural address two days ago, I attempted to define a direction and a sense of purpose for the state of Washington as we enter into this most critical period of our state's history. Today of course it is my task to assess that direction and purpose in terms of dollars, and in terms of available resources—in effect to relate the goals we seek to the practical realities of a state budget. The budget document prepared by the Central Budget Agency is, as always, an exhaustive summary of state programs. It contains an initial list of executive request legislation and the budget requirements envisioned for each of those programs. Now, each of you has a copy of it. The basic thrust of the budget proposals for the next biennium is contained in the formal budget message and in the budget highlights presented in front of the budget book. I am confident that each legislator will carefully examine these documents, so it seems unnecessary to try to detail them to you here today, and I hope each one of you will read the budget message that is in the front of each of the budget books. My essential purpose here today is not then to just call the roll of legislation and to recite budget figures. It is to deal really with the fundamental principles underlying the administration's budget.

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the legislature:

"Two years ago I stood before you and proposed a budget which included an ambitious plan describing the goals, objectives and aspirations of this state. It represented a response to a population which has grown at nearly three times the national average; enrollment in our common schools which has increased by 55,000 students over the previous two years; four-year college and university enrollment which has increased 11.9%; and community college enrollment which has increased 49.5%.

"It represented a response to the growing problems caused by an increasing concentration of new people and new jobs in urban areas, which lack the financial resources to provide adequate public services.

"It represented a response to the need to provide competitive salaries for public employees in a period of rapid wage increases in the private sector.

"It represented a response to the growing demands for outdoor recreation, exemplified by a 36.7% increase in visitors to our state parks the last two years and by the crowding of our highways as shown by the 14.1% increase in vehicle miles travelled. It represented an attempt to provide for additional assistance to the growing number of persons of marginal employment ability who come with the growth in the state's population.

"Your response in enacting a budget to meet these needs has enabled this administration to play a strong role in encouraging a recognition at the national level that the states are ready to meet these responsibilities. It has helped to achieve growing recognition that the federal system can survive only with greater delegation by the Federal Government of both resources and flexibility to states to allow them to meet their unique needs in an innovative manner.

"Since you last met, 36 legislatures from other states have enacted tax increases. Under our present tax structure, average state tax paid by each citizen for each $1,000 of personal income will decline during the next biennium. I have, however, chosen to present a budget which does not call for new taxes at this time, but which allows the 1970 Special Session which I shall call, to review the level of expenditures, hopefully after a vitally needed new tax structure has been achieved.

"The budget I present totals 4.25 billion dollars. Forty-eight percent of this amount is funded from earmarked sources, leaving a General Fund budget which proposes new spending of $2.18 billion. This represents an increase of 30.5% over the present biennium. It also represents the greatest reduction from expressed needs of state agencies, common schools and institutions of higher education ever presented—a reduction of over $800 million. This is four times as great as the reduction of two years ago. Total federal revenue assumed is $907 million, of which $321 million will be used for General Fund activities, a 29.7% increase.

"To remain within available revenue, during the second year of the biennium this budget proposes only a four percent salary increase for all employees; provides for updating of public assistance grants and vendor rates for cost of living only during the first year of the biennium, and provides $16 million for aid to cities and $4 million to assist counties during the first year, but no funding during the second year.

"You may well agree with me that these needs ultimately must be met. A 1970 Session of this Legislature will provide an opportunity to meet them following an adoption of a new tax system, by increasing taxes under our present system, or by allocating new revenue, should receipts exceed present estimates of available resources.

"A General Fund surplus has been achieved again during this biennium. Without this surplus, it is clear the needs of a growingly complex state could not be met without immediate and substantial tax increase. We began this biennium with a $22 million surplus, unappropriated by the last session of the Legislature. Strong economy measures and changes in projected workload will result in a reversion of $11 million in unspent General Fund appropriation at the end of the biennium, $6 million more than two years earlier. We will also realize $105 million in revenue from all General Fund sources in excess of that assumed in your last 1967 Appropriation Act. A substantial portion of this $105 million has resulted from greatly accelerated inflation at the national level, which also directly adds increased costs which are reflected in this budget in salaries, in the costs of goods which we must purchase, and in rapidly rising medical costs in several state programs.

"Of the total surplus of $130.7 million, the budget allocates $67 million for one-time expenditures, $21.6 million to meet increased costs caused by federal legislation which prohibits the consideration of Public Law 874 impacted area distributions as local revenue of school districts, $25.6 million for continuing the level established by use of surplus for continuing expenses two years ago, and $16 million for new and continuing operational expenses of government. As I stated in 1967, I believe it would be irresponsible to use the entire surplus for normal current operations and establish a level of expenditure for the next fiscal period which would insure thenceforth for substantial tax increase. In addition to the use of the surplus, the General Fund expenditures are financed by an estimated $389 million increase in continuing revenue, and a proposed distribution of $14 million from the Investment Reserve Account which has not been needed to cover defaulted investments since 1951.

"I have proposed new General Fund capital expenditures of $24.0 million substantially less than proposed two years ago. An additional $61 million is proposed for construction for higher education utilizing the State Building Authority. This new procedure provides important flexibility for financing needed building at our institutions of higher education, and enables continued progress in construction of the new Evergreen State College. It also creates an obligation for lease payments of approximately $7.1 million a biennium when construction is completed. Until some experience is gained in its use, expansion of this request to additional projects or new types of construction seems extremely unwise. I strongly urge the Legislature to limit any further use of this method of financing, at least until the 1970 Session of the Legislature, at which time I hope to present to you a comprehensive and dynamic capital construction plan for the 1970's.

"In the past, some construction projects have been approved by the Legislature before adequate planning had been completed by agencies. This has resulted in substantial additional requests for projects already authorized. These requests have been sharply reduced in this budget to those which seem unavoidable. Adequate pre-planning money is provided in this budget for all agencies. I urge the Legislature to join me in refusing to fund any additional buildings until adequate plans have been developed fully, and that we strongly resist costly alterations in already approved buildings. Good planning is a key to good government, and it must be required in buildings as well as programs.

"We cannot rest on the progress we have made in the development of human resources in this state. We must do more to create in the state of Washington a society in which the doors to personal achievement and fulfillment are open to all. This means necessarily a society of justice and opportunities; a society in which discrimination has no place—whether that discrimination be rooted in racism or in the inherent degradation of poverty. To achieve this goal, I am proposing increases in those agencies whose primary concerns are centered on the well-being and status of the citizen as a person, and I am proposing reorganization into three new departments all of the presently scattered activities which work to develop these resources.

"I have asked for increased staff for the present Board Against Discrimination to expand the affirmative community relations and educational activities, and for additional legal and investigative personnel, so that the anti-discrimination laws, particularly in those areas relating to state procurement, can be fully and faithfully enforced—for without justice we mock law and can scarcely expect order.

"To marshal the human resource of talented citizens who generously wish to serve, I am requesting funds for a nucleus volunteer bureau in the present state Office of Economic Opportunity so that the need for service and the offers of service can be matched. I am strengthening the technical assistance we now offer to community action agencies, including the addition of a position to be concerned solely with self-help cooperatives and credit unions. I am asking that $500,000 be available for innovative programs, especially at the community level, which will seek new solutions to persistent problems. I have asked the Director of Commerce and Economic Development to place increased emphasis on assisting the disadvantaged to achieve their fair share of our riches through participation in our dynamic business community.

"During the past biennium, intensive efforts have reduced employable caseloads of the Department of Public Assistance by 1,000 below those of four years ago despite sharp population increase. However, non-employable caseloads, particularly in the Aid for Dependent Children category, have increased substantially above estimates during the first year of the biennium, and medical costs have increased rapidly during the second year. This is a national phenomenon, which has resulted in the need for increased financing in nearly every major state. By comparison, regular Aid for Dependent Children caseloads have increased by 46.3% in Washington during the past four years while increasing 46.8% throughout the nation, 105% in California and 130% in New York.

"To meet this rising caseload, a substantial portion of the Contingency Fund was allocated to the Department during this biennium. To meet continuing high caseload and medical program costs, an additional $4.9 million in state funds will be required during this biennium to avoid implementation of a ratable reduction which we worked many years to eliminate. For the next biennium, the public assistance budget will increase 39.3% to $468 million. This increase will assure payments to recipients and vendors based on the current cost of living on July 1, 1969, and will meet the additional financial demands imposed by Federal court decisions and Federal regulations. Should other regulations or court decisions now in process impose further demands upon us, either additional financing or the unfortunate reduction of programs for those who rightfully do need assistance will be required. It is increasingly clear that the welfare system has failed to meet either the needs of the truly unemployable or the needs of the remainder of society. Federal regulations accelerate the shift of financial responsibility from the Federal Government to the states, but at the same time place greater restrictions upon the capabilities of the states to devise new methods to meet their own priorities and needs. I intend to call upon the new national administration as forcefully as possible to completely review the system which has developed and to return to the states a capability to deal with their own priorities. I urge you to join me in this endeavor.

"In addition, I intend to build on the highly successful PLACE program developed jointly by the Departments of Public Assistance and Employment Security during this biennium, which has resulted in employment of almost 3,000 public assistance recipients during the last year. I am proposing the use of state and Federal resources through both departments to develop a work incentive training program in an all-out effort to help those who are able to achieve independence and economic self-sufficiency through employment. This program is a vital next step if we are to reduce public assistance expenditures.

"I am proposing a substantial increase in the budget of vocational rehabilitation to enable us to maximize available federal funds to serve larger numbers of the economically oppressed and culturally handicapped, and increase the availability of rehabilitation services to inmates of our correctional institutions, mental hospitals, and schools for the retarded.

"To provide quality care in our schools for the retarded, this budget provides for the continuation of a ten-year program of staffing increases to meet national standards. Even more importantly, the direction of our treatment begins to shift dramatically to local and regional care, thereby enabling us to move toward the national standards which call for smaller schools. Funds are provided for purchase of services from a network of boarding homes planned by private, non-profit groups; for doubling the sheltered workshop program; for a 43% increase in the special education program in our public schools; and for additional planning for regional centers for the retarded. Specialists in placement of those able to fit within community programs will be placed in each school to begin to work with these new resources for care.

"Similarly, continued emphasis will be given to increased community mental health programs, with state grant-in-aid funds increased by 59.6% to $3.8 million. State matching funds are also provided for the first time through the Health Department for comprehensive community health facilities. In addition, 48 community workers are included in the budgets of the three mental hospitals to provide strengthened support and liaison between state hospitals and community programs. A pilot drug abuse program is provided at Northern State Hospital to determine the proper role of our mental hospitals in providing the needed array of services to meet this growingly serious problem. An example of the benefit of effective preventive health programs is the Red Measles Immunization Campaign. More than 115,000 children were immunized during the fall of 1967 against the disease which frequently causes hearing loss, vision damage and retardation, with a resultant 90% reduction in cases reported in 1968. It is estimated that at least ten dollars of direct and indirect cost to taxpayers was avoided for each dollar of state expenditure for this program. This budget proposes a follow-up effort, or if vaccines become available to prevent German measles, known to be a major cause of birth defects, a new immunization program to attempt to eradicate this disease.

"Funds are provided to allow purchase of space in community facilities for inmates of our correctional facilities on work release to allow expansion of this highly successful and cost-reducing program and for continued planning for a regional correctional center. Of particular importance, the budget proposes a probation subsidy program, which will provide substantial funding for counties to develop programs which will enable them to rehabilitate youths without placement in state institutions. This program, highly successful in California, has the potential of eliminating the need for constructing and staffing two new institutions in the next five years. Planning will proceed on one additional boys' institution, but a final decision on its construction will await further review prior to the 1970 Legislative Session.

"Perhaps the most vital step in development of a more effective and efficient system to deliver state services is enactment of the series of reorganization proposals which would create single Departments of Health and Social Services, Manpower and Industry, and Community Affairs and Development and open the way to cost reduction, improved service, and integration of the planning and budgeting process in these areas.

"Enrollments this fall in our common school system exceeded estimates by approximately 9,700. Enrollment is expected to increase by 19,000 in 1969 and 13,700 in 1970. An increase of $160 million in General Fund support is proposed for activities under the Superintendent of Public Instruction. This increase will allow us to meet the continued large yearly increases without sacrificing present quality. It will allow us to increase the salaries of all district personnel by an average of 7% the first year of the biennium, with a 4% increase in the second year, subject to additional review by the 1970 Session. To meet this expenditure increase, the two-mill shift of property tax made by the last session is continued.

"The request also slightly increases badly needed state assistance to the outstanding Pacific Science Center educational program, continues with state funds the highly successful supplementary education and cultural enrichment program previously funded by Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, and provides $4.1 million for additional supplementation to meet special urban area and minority education program needs.

"This budget does not propose to solve the problem of special levies, which has grown to crises proportions. Solution is simply not available under our present tax structure. I will again propose solution to this problem as part of a special message on tax reform.

"Common school construction of $63 million will be supported by cash receipts from timber sales and bonds from the interest income from the Permanent Common School Fund. I will support early appropriation of a portion of this request to prevent unnecessary delay in construction.

"The 22 community colleges have made great strides toward becoming an educational system under the excellent guidance of the Board for Community Colleges. By fall of 1970, enrollment is projected to increase by 11,500 over 1968 to a total of over 58,000 full time equivalent students. To finance this large growth and salary increases of 7% and 4%, an increase of $30.4 million or 46% is proposed. The appropriation includes $5 million for the Board for Community Colleges to use for innovative programs to assure that new ideas are nurtured for improvements in our educational system. New capital construction of $36.7 million is proposed, with $500,000 in General Fund support for pre-planning provided for the first time to allow community colleges to meet the new demands for completion of specific planning before approval of construction projects.

"Finally, funds for an important new part of our higher education system are proposed. Five hundred and seventy-six thousand dollars ($576,000) is included for a Council on Higher Education to provide new strength in coordinating and planning the increasingly excellent and sophisticated programs offered our citizens by our higher educational system.

"It is also particularly important that this session of the Legislature give close attention to the financial problems of students and our private colleges and universities. The recommendations of the Temporary Advisory Council on Higher Education on student financial aid, including special assistance to disadvantaged students in public institutions and on direct aid to private education, should be reviewed carefully.

"I am convinced that the private educational system is a vital component of our total educational system. Care must be taken, however, to insure that any diversion of funds to aid the private colleges and universities does not lower the quality of our public education, and that any funds to provide scholarships to needy students do in fact aid students and not just institutions.

"Substantial progress has been made in conserving our priceless recreational resources to meet the rapidly increased demand for public recreation space. The voters again showed their willingness to meet the cost of acquiring and developing new recreational areas by the overwhelming approval given Referendum 18. It will provide $10 million in additional resources during the next biennium and an additional $30 million over the two ensuing biennia.

"While good progress has been made in acquisition, it is clear that the Parks and Recreation Commission has been unable to devote sufficient resources to developing new facilities and maintaining existing ones. When revenue accruing to the Park and Parkways Account has fallen below estimates, vital programs have been forced to be curtailed. As a result, two important changes are proposed in this budget. To provide an assured source of revenue to meet the demands for recreational areas, the funding of the Parks and Recreation Commission is transferred to the General Fund, and $1 million is requested for the first phase of catching up with badly needed deferred maintenance in our park facilities. Funds are also included to provide additional lifeguard coverage to our park beaches, maintenance of our ocean beaches, initiation of a Youth Summer Program to provide summer employment for urban area youths, and increased staffing throughout the park system to better serve the ever-increasing numbers of state citizens and visitors making use of park facilities for recreational enjoyment.

"In addition to monies provided through the Interagency Committee for Outdoor Recreation, capital funds of $4.6 million is proposed, which will include six new rest and comfort stations, 13 safe parking areas on our ocean beaches, the first phase of development of the Yakima Canyon portion of our scenic highways and other improvements throughout the park system. It is assumed that the first phase of the vital Green River Gorge Project will be funded directly through the Interagency Committee.

"While deaths per vehicle mile travelled remained stable for the second straight year in 1968, the continued increase in highway accidents requires that we maintain the emphasis on programs designed to reduce accidents. The portion of the driver's license fee which previously was used for activities of the Parks and Recreation Commission, will be designated for the activities of the State Patrol and Department of Motor Vehicles. To meet the costs of continuing our current level of service, to provide 70 added state troopers and necessary supporting staff during the next biennium to keep up with added vehicles on our highways, and to provide for an increase of 22.4% in driver improvement programs in the Department of Motor Vehicles, fee increases of $1 for each driver's license and $1.40 on the basic vehicle registration fee are necessary. An additional $1.3 million will be provided for state and local governments for traffic safety programs under the Federal Highway Safety Program.

"Two years ago, the Legislature wisely recognized that the problems of rapid growth greatly affect not only state government, but local government as well, and, for the first time, appropriated $25 million from the General Fund to assist in meeting these problems. This budget proposes $20 million of similar assistance during the first year of the biennium, leaving the 1970 Session to review available resources and new methods of aid should tax reform be achieved. Sixteen million dollars of this aid is earmarked for our cities. Four million dollars is for the first year of a new program of assistance to counties through the Department of Revenue so they may have a complete, one-time, current reevaluation of all property. The substantial benefit of this effort can be seen from the experience of Cowlitz County, which spent $200,000 for such a reevaluation, as a result of which it will realize an estimated $1.1 million in new revenue during calendar year 1969.

"Creation of a Community Affairs and Development Department and increases in grant programs which assist local government in programs such as mental health, retardation, juvenile rehabilitation, public health, economic opportunity, urban highway construction, traffic safety and technical assistance are proposed. In addition, $855,000 is provided to continue the development for local governments of a criminal information system, begun through the State Patrol, with cooperation and assistance of local law enforcement agencies. Funds are also provided the Attorney General for a program of assistance to local prosecutors, and to review the laboratory and training facilities with which state government can give assistance to local law enforcement officials on a planned and coordinated basis.

"The complexities of managing a rapidly growing state demand continued high quality in those who perform its many tasks. State employees are now paid on the basis of a basic compensation plan adopted to reflect prevailing wages in 1966, but which did not become fully effective until January 1, 1968. To make salary levels competitive, I am proposing for all employees under the State Personnel Board on July 1, 1969 a basic 5% increase plus an average 7% catch-up increase for those personnel whose salaries were lagging in 1968 as determined by the Board's July 1968 salary survey. This increase provides equal treatment with other public employees who received a 5% increase in the second year of the current biennium. I am also proposing for the first time to provide annual salary surveys, with an increase of an average of 4% at the beginning of the second year of the biennium to keep salaries on a current basis. The budget contains a General Fund appropriation of $31.8 million for this item for the next biennium.

"Not only must salaries keep pace with private industry, but fringe benefits must also be re-examined periodically. At the recommendation of my Insurance Advisory Committee, I am proposing that beginning in November, 1969, the state pay the entire employee's portion of a health insurance program comparable to that now available, contingent upon Legislative approval of competitive procurement of insurance from a single carrier. Options for dependent coverage at the expense of the employee would be made available. The biennial cost of this new program in excess of the cost of the current program is $5.4 million of which $1.8 million is included in a special General Fund appropriation. To develop to the highest potential capability all those employed in state government, $340,000 is provided to implement a continuing education and training program developed by the Department of Personnel.

"Last biennium, the Legislature wisely established a contingency fund of $10 million, to be used only with the agreement of the Legislative Budget Committee and Legislative Council. The value of such a fund in a time of rapid change and explosive growth was proven when its use to meet the crises in public assistance funding avoided the necessity of a special session of the Legislature. It is important to continue this concept. However, the austerity of this budget, particularly during the second year, has resulted in the reduction of the fund from $10 million to $3 million. In addition, I have reduced the unearmarked portion of the Governor's Emergency Fund from $1,250,000 to $900,000.

"From the very beginning this administration has realized that state program objectives could not be achieved, no matter how imaginatively conceived, in the absence of responsive, cost-conscious and performance-oriented management. The rapid expansion of many state activities forced by Washington's current economic boom and dramatic population growth has intensified the importance of this effort. The launching and maintenance of comprehensive management improvement and cost reduction programs such as the Interagency Management Improvement Council and the Management Services and Administration Information Systems Divisions of the Central Budget Agency has therefore been a primary concern of this administration in its continuous effort to provide truly effective and timely service to the taxpayer at the lowest possible cost.

"I will shortly create a Washington State Businessmen's Advisory Council which will provide businessmen in Washington State the unique opportunity to bring to the direct attention of state agencies those regulations, procedures, policies and laws which needlessly complicate the relationships of business and state government.

"Intensive effort has been given to planning and coordination of data processing. The success of this effort under the excellent guidance of the Data Processing Advisory Committee merits continued emphasis and support by the Legislature.

"This budget also represents an initial step in the important integration of the planning and budgeting systems of the state. This effort has demanded clearer identification of goals and objectives of operating agencies, and their relationship to budget requests. These efforts will become more visible in two years with the submission of a more readable and informative budget document.

"Finally, the report of the Task Force on Reorganization of Executive Agencies presents to you an attainable and absolutely vital program which is a key to both efficiency and effectiveness in government.

"This is an austere budget. It is also a balanced budget. It is meant to be both. It is meant to be both so that this Legislature and ultimately the people of this state, can determine what is to be done about the fiscal crisis that is stalking our state. The substantial cuts which are contained in the second year of the biennium are clear evidence that we as a Legislature, as an administration, and as a people must face facts and find a solution to the problems of state financing.

"The admonition of Governor Rockefeller in his State of the State Message to his 1968 Legislative Session is appropriate for us to consider. He stated: "We may well be reaching a point where the level of expectation of the American people is rising at a rate which is out-running our capability to raise the revenue on a sound basis—on a basis that will not seriously affect economic growth and increased job opportunities. As a people and as local officials, we must face the fact that government at all levels—just like a family—cannot spend way beyond its means for long without weakening its credit and undermining its strength. We are by nature a generous people. We want to help those in need. But we simply cannot do it all at once."

"Yet 1969 is our last year of grace. If we are to continue to live in a quality state, if we are to continue the proud heritage left by those who preceded us, if we are to be able to respond effectively to the challenges of the 1970's, we must continue to provide those services which the people legitimately demand and at levels which they reasonably can expect.

"The budget I submit to you today will do this for one year—but for one year only. I will call the Legislature back into special session in January, 1970, at that time to reconsider the level of spending for the second year of the biennium. In the meantime, I hope this Legislature will discharge its obligation to let the people of the state decide the question of tax reform so that as we meet again in 1970 the direction the people choose to take will be clear and we can act accordingly."

The President of the Senate requested that the special committee escort Governor Evans from the rostrum to his chambers.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall: "Point of order, Mr. President."

President Pro Tempore Henry: "State your point of order."

Senator Woodall: "Senator Ridder is not speaking on the subject matter as to which committee it should be in. He is discussing the broad field of loving schools and children which we all do."

Senator Ridder: "I'm glad that Senator Woodall loves schools and children too. It does have some bearing upon this bill however. If we want this bill out to look at it, to have hearings upon it and to do something with it which we should, we need some interim movement before a finality then we must put it in a committee from which it will come out and I suggest the Committee on Revenue and Taxation is as good as any other, in fact, more so!"

Debate ensued.

Senator McCormack demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators McCormack, Ridder, Talley, Knoblauch, Pritchard, Faulk, Washington and Marquardt.

“Almighty God Thou Eternal Father of us all, we stand silent before Thee at the outset of this day’s official work so that Thou canst speak to us and hopefully through us. We thank Thee that Thou art not a member of any one party, nor any one nation, nor any one race. Give us this day courage and insight to know and meet our responsibilities not only here in this legislative session but in our committee meetings and in our hallway conversations. Give us the courage to say 'no' to everything that will make it more difficult to say 'yes' to Thee. Amen."

MOTIONS

It was moved by Senator Greive that the rules be suspended and that the appointment of Francis Pearson to the position of Member of the Utilities and Transportation Commission be placed before the Senate for consideration at this time.

The motion carried.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Gissberg: "Parliamentary inquiry."

Senator Gissberg: "I take it that now that the rules have been suspended that another motion should now be made that he be confirmed. Is that right, Mr. President?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pro Tempore Henry: "That is correct, Senator Gissberg."

SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President signed: SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 2.

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Gissberg that the appointment of Francis Pearson to the position of Member of the Utilities and Transportation Commission be now confirmed.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Gissberg: "Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I would like to say initially that I, prior to making this motion, did speak to the chairman of the committee to which this appointment would otherwise have been referred, and that is Senator Mardesich. He agreed that the long standing custom of this Senate insofar as confirming former Senate members should be carried out in this instance, not only as a courtesy to Senator Pearson, but to demonstrate to him and to the Governor the confidence that we have in the administration in that commission to which he has been appointed and has served on for so many years past.

"I think for the newly elected members, particularly, and if I may read under suspension of rules the personal resume that Governor Evans sent up with his message, I would be very much appreciative if I may do so:

"Francis Pearson, a native of Washington, born in Seattle, later moved to Kitsap county and then to Port Angeles where he was in business for a number of years before moving to Olympia when he was appointed as commissioner.

"He has been a member of the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission since April, 1957.

"He was President of the Mountain-Pacific States Conference of Public Service Commissions (now the Western Conference) 1961-62.

"He is Vice President of the National Association of Regulatory Commissioners.

"He is also a member of the Executive Committee and the Communications Committee of the NARUC.

"Mr. Pearson served 20 years in the Washington State Legislature from the 24th District—ten years in each house.

"He is a member of the Clallam County Pomona Grange and Washington State Grange, Fraternal Order of Eagles, B.P.O.E., Masonic Blue Lodge, Royal Arch and Commandery of Port Angeles and the Mason-Thurston Counties Shrine Club.

"Mr. Pearson is married and has one daughter. His son was recently killed in Viet Nam."

"Supplementing the Governor's remarks which I don't think really get to the heart of what a fine man Francis Pearson is, I have been his personal friend for many, many years, since I first came to the Senate in 1953 and I personally know much of what I know about Senate procedure to the fact that Francis Pearson, although without sight, has a keen insight and political instinct as to legislation and the operation of this Senate.

"He has been eminently fair, I believe, in the conduct of his office although I understand this only by reputation and not firsthand knowledge because I do not have, as a practicing lawyer, and have not had occasion to appear before the commission on behalf of any clients of mine but I understand he is eminently fair in the very important regulatory business that the commission must carry out.

"As the Governor indicated, his son, Tony, was very recently killed in Viet Nam and that has constituted a tremendous tragedy, of course, to both Francis and his lovely wife, Betty.

"Certainly we all wish Senator Pearson well and God speed and great success in the future and hopefully he will be with us for a long, long time."

Senator Ted Peterson: "I rise, if I may, to add to the remarks of Senator Gissberg.

"Senator Gissberg referred to his not having any sight and I tell you, fellow Senators, that he was blind when he was in the Senate and blind now and I am amazed, and I speak for one who worked with him for years on Fisheries, that is, I am just really astounded to note that he is up for confirmation because he was looking at an apartment in the forty-fourth district and I was trying to help him.

"So this is indeed a pleasure to get up and say that here is a man without sight that could maybe blow rings around some of us who have sight. I have never seen anything like it. I have been with him on the trail and had his hand lightly on my arm, so lightly that you would wonder how I could maneuver him around. But he is a fellow in my estimation, of great stature and I am just pleased to say that we here today are able to confirm him."

Senator Greive: "In speaking of former Senator Pearson, it is rather refreshing to all of us to see a man appointed who is a Democrat to a position which has to be, by nature, bi-partisan. Frequently we find that the Governor and I am sure that every Governor is responsible for doing this, finding some friendly people of the opposition party who have no status, no stature and were never heard of, but that they qualify as your appointee from your side of the aisle and we all shudder a little bit when we say 'find'. In other words, it is someone who really doesn't have a political party who puts it on simply to qualify.

"Obviously, Senator Pearson is a Democrat, is proud of it and all of the time that he has been on the commission, he has continued unashamed to go to the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinners, he participated as a Democrat. I don't mean of course he has gotten into partisan politics where the Governor is concerned but certainly he has been a good Democrat and one that we are proud of and I think it is a good condition to see a man that is appointed who is supposed to be a Democrat to represent the Democratic Party on that commission and act like one."

Senator Harry Lewis: "Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I would also like to speak in support of Francis Pearson.

"Senator Greive's remarks are very well taken. Senator Pearson to my knowledge, although he is not a close friend of mine but from observations living here in Olympia I have seen him act fairly. I have seen him make tough, difficult decisions as a member of the commission and I would like to speak in support for one specific reason particularly.

"In addition to the fairness of the man and that is to the fairness of continuity of knowledgeable people on the commission and obviously in the Governor's opinion, who is in himself a fair and honest man, he appreciated the knowledge that Mr. Pearson has.

"I would like to remind all of us that the hearings that come before these commissioners and are in progress now and that it is vitally important that they have men of the integrity and the knowledge and experience that Francis Pearson has continuing on such a commission."

Senator Dore: "Mr. President and fellow members:

"I would like to join in recommending the nomination of Francis Pearson, our former colleague. I know if time would permit, all of us could rise in making the same remarks.

"Now Senator Gissberg said he had never had the pleasure of presenting a matter before Senator Pearson. I think some six years ago I had that pleasure. It was rather an involved case and I frankly wondered how a man of his handicap might be able to digest the evidence and analyze the problem and come to a just conclusion and I was delighted and impressed with the tremendous retention of memory he has for testimony, for analysis and coming to a just decision and he has done that in all fields of endeavor.

"Today I think he is one of the most knowledgeable men in the entire United States in utility law and application. I think his knowledge rivals many of our so-called members of the legal professions serving in a similar capacity.

"He has that initial Senate experience which he brings out along with that witty witicism which he of course shows at all times.

"He is a tremendous inspiration to me personally and we wish him well in spite of his recent tragedy and we hope that he will continue to carry on the magnificent work he has done the past six years.

"As a Democrat on this side of the aisle, I think that we should commend Governor Evans for his excellent appointee and I know that we here today are all going to enthusiastically support his appointment."

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Office of the Governor, January 22, 1969.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

GENTLEMEN:

As I stated on January 15 in my Inaugural Message, "It is time to reconstruct the executive branch of government so that we can begin to manage the business of the people, instead of just cope with it; so that we can bring the services of government to bear quickly on emerging problems—instead of dividing our efforts through dozens of functions in far too many separate departments and agencies."

To this end, I will, within the next few days, have introduced by executive request seven major reorganization bills. These bills would establish a Department of Transportation, a Department of Environmental Quality, a Department of Social and Health Services, a Department of Manpower and Industry, a Department of Community Affairs and Development, an Office of Program Planning and Fiscal Management and would provide for the merger of the highway personnel system into the State Department of Personnel. A brief description of these bills is as follows:

I. Department of Transportation

This bill will create a seven-member Transportation Commission which will establish policy for and give direction to the department. Its membership will be composed of the present Highway Commission plus two additional members. The Director of the department will be appointed by the Governor. The Department of Transportation will succeed to the present powers of the Highway Department, Highway Commission, Toll Bridge Authority, Aeronautics Commission, Canal Commission, Traffic Safety Commission, Pilotage Commission, and the Urban Arterial Board.

The Urban Arterial Board and the Pilotage Commission will remain intact within the consolidated department.

The Department will become the agency of state government which will deal broadly and comprehensively with transportation planning and development.

II. Department of Environmental Quality

This bill will consolidate into a single agency of state government the pollution control programs of the state. Included are the present powers of the Air Pollution Control Board, the Water Pollution Control Commission and the pollution programs now within the Department of Health. The bill will charge the department with broad responsibility not only to enforce pollution laws relating to air, water and land pollution, but also to make studies of other problems which relate to the degradation and contamination of the environment. A seven-member commission will establish policy for the agency.

III. Department of Social and Health Services

This bill will consolidate the present Department of Public Assistance, Health, and Institutions and the Veterans' Rehabilitation Council. The department is designed to integrate and coordinate all those activities involving provision for the care of individuals who as the result of their economic, social or health conditions, require financial assistance, health services or institutional care and services. The Veterans' Rehabilitation Council will become an advisory council to the department.

By this consolidation of functions it is intended that the department will have greater capacity to deliver coordinated services to individuals through a comprehensive program. It will allow the development of a unified system for the delivery of social and health services to replace the fragmented delivery system which now tends to be the case.

IV. Department of Manpower and Industry

This bill will consolidate the present Department of Employment Security and Labor and Industries and the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation of the Coordinating Council for Occupational Education. It will consolidate into a single department those state programs dealing with training and rehabilitation needed to provide work skills to the individual, placement services to match the needs of employer and employee, labor relations services to mediate differences between labor and management, the economic protection of Industrial Insurance and Unemployment Compensation, and the industrial hygiene and safety and related inspection services needed to provide safe environments in places of work and public use. This department thus will be able to develop a comprehensive program dealing with the needs of individuals in their world of work.

V. Department of Community Affairs and Development

This bill will merge the community affairs functions of the present Planning and Community Affairs Agency with the functions of the State Office of Economic Opportunity and of the Board Against Discrimination. Under this bill the Board Against Discrimination will be expanded in size and will become an advisory council on human rights. The present functions of the board will be contained within a human rights division of the agency.

This agency will as a result have included within it the developing state programs as they relate to local governmental units, including counties and cities and various local governmental structures such as the Model Cities Programs and the Community Action Programs. The developing economic and social emphasis of the Discrimination Board activities are tending increasingly to merge with the community development efforts of the Community Affairs and Office of Economic Opportunity programs.

VI. Office of Program Planning and Fiscal Management

This bill will consolidate within the Office of the Governor the present functions of the Central Budget Agency and the state program planning functions of the present Planning and Community Affairs Agency. This will allow the integration of the longer-range state planning functions with the short-range planning which presently goes on within the budget agency as part of the budget development process. Through this office state government will be able to maximize the developing planning concepts and better coordinate the various planning efforts carried on by the various units of state government.

VII. Consolidation of State Civil Service System

This bill will consolidate the functions of the highway department personnel board and the highway department personnel system into the State Personnel Board and the State Department of Personnel. All highway department employees will remain subject to the classification plan and compensation plan in effect on the effective date of the act.

There is no higher priority in state government than that of an efficient and effective system of management. The expanding role of state government, the increasing complexity of the problems we face in this state and the continuing demands for adequate service make it imperative that we take these important steps in the field of government reorganization. I urge the legislature to give its careful and favorable attention to this proposed legislation.

Sincerely,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

At 12:20 p.m. on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate adjourned until 10:45 a.m., Thursday, January 23, 1969.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.

WARD BOWDEN, Secretary of the Senate.

ELEVENTH DAY

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wash., Thursday, January 23, 1969.

The Senate was called to order at 10:45 a.m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Day and Pritchard. On motion of Senator Greive, Senator Day was excused. On motion of Senator Ryder, Senator Pritchard was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Bob Schaffer, Color Bearer, and Colleen Convis, presented the Colors. Reverend Maurice K. Haehlen, pastor of the United Churches of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"O God, our Heavenly Father, we pause before Thee so that we might come to know Thee better so that we might serve our fellowmen more usefully. Lift us above all mistrust into faith and hope by the simple reliance upon Thy sure will for mankind. We pray that there might be evidence in what is said and done here this day that Thou hast been permitted to vote and that on proper matters we have yielded the floor to Thee. So give us the spirit we ought to have so that we can do what we ought to do. Amen."

The Senate retired to the House Chamber at 10:50 a.m. for the purpose of receiving a message by Governor Daniel J. Evans.

JOINT SESSION

The Sergeant at Arms of the House announced the arrival of the Senate at the bar of the House.

The Speaker invited the Senators to seats within the House, and instructed the Sergeants at Arms of the Senate and the House to escort the President and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate to seats on the rostrum beside the Speaker.

The Speaker turned the gavel over to the President of the Senate.

The President of the Senate: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Honored members of the Senate; honored members of the House; ladies and gentlemen:

"In cooperation with the radio networks, we are trying to synchronize Governor Evans' message to their time. We wish to have the Governor's message go out statewide on a live radio broadcast this morning. For that reason, the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House will not call the roll here this morning. We have approximately three minutes before the broadcast."

The President of the Senate declared the joint session to be at ease.

The President of the Senate called the joint session to order.

The President of the Senate announced that the purpose of the joint session was to receive a message from His Excellency, Governor Daniel J. Evans, and appointed the following committee to escort Governor Evans to the House chamber: Senators Peterson (Lowell) and Elicker, and Representatives McCormick and North.

The committee retired.

The Sergeant at Arms of the House announced the arrival of Governor Daniel J. Evans at the bar of the House, and the President instructed the committee to escort him to a seat on the rostrum.

The President of the Senate: "The purpose of the joint session of the Washington State Legislature is to receive a message from His Excellency, the Honorable Daniel J. Evans, Governor of the State of Washington. It is the privilege of the President to present to you Governor Evans."

Governor Evans: "Mr. President; Mr. Speaker; Distinguished Members of the Legislature; and ladies and gentlemen:

"This is getting to be something of a habit I guess, but I promise it will be the last time—at least under present plans—that I address you. The agenda before the legislature is already long, but this of course is, I think, the number one priority of this session.

"I think it should be recorded at the outset that seldom in history has a legislature been so prepared for what a Governor is about to say.

"And let it also be recorded that never in history has a Governor been so prepared to say it.

"We are met here today to begin deliberation on the subject of taxation. And before we leave Olympia in this early spring we shall have resolved it.

"There is no assurance that what we do will be popular; I can only remind you of the insight of Edmund Burke, when he wrote: 'To tax and to please, no more than to love and be wise, is not given to men.'

"But there should be every assurance that what we do is responsible; that the solution we construct is based on current wisdom and not on past error. That it is a fair and just solution, not a collection of popular phrases and political conveniences.

"The task before us is not to do as little as possible; it is to do what is right as soon as possible—and to take that solution to the people for their approval.

"For too long now we have swept tax reform under the rug; we have added new burdens to old taxes and taxed what was convenient. We have spent our time protecting ourselves against excessive taxation, instead of looking for a system which was more productive, more equitable, more reasonable and more responsible. In short we have worried so long about pleasing the people, we have ended up failing to serve them instead.

"Instead of taxing the new flow of wealth as it is earned, we have continued to tax the remainder as it is spent.

"Instead of taxing business profits when they are made, we have taxed sales before profit is assured.

"And we have done all this during the greatest period of growth in our state's history. A period when income has become not only the standard of wealth, but when it is the vital measure of increases demanded in state services.

"It is now time for us to take up the question of tax reform, and to re-examine the serious financial problems which our present tax system has created.

"No property taxpayer of this state has to be reminded today of what is happening to his annual tax bill. Nor does any educator or parent have to be reminded of what is occurring in common school financing. Nor does any moderate income family have to be reminded of the 4.5 percent sales tax which they pay on the inflationary cost of food and drugs and the other necessities of life.

"But I think it would help to place things in perspective if we were all reminded of the damage an antiquated tax system can do, the grief it can bring and the future problems it can cause.

"Let me share with you the difficulties of one school district in the state of Washington—one small problem in a sea of troubles; an isolated example for the moment, but in its isolation a symbol of what can happen to every school district.

"This school district in two successive years turned down four special school levies. The reason is important, but it is not so important as the consequences. The reason was, simply, that the citizens of that school district were tired of escalating property taxation—and that problem has been resolved.

"Their taxes have not been raised.

"But the consequences, by comparison, are monumental—and they could go on forever. The high school has been forced to curtail virtually every extra-curricular activity. No band, no clubs, no athletics, no school yearbook; limitations on basic educational materials, limitations on course offerings, limitations on counseling and limitations on faculty size.

"To those who say that it will force the school to be more efficient in its operation, I cannot answer.

"But I can point out that in this high school the dropout rate has increased drastically. And these dropouts will form the nucleus of a new burden for the state; the burden of future welfare, of future unemployment and of future crime.

"In this one district, we have begun the process of creating failure. The problems of this district, multiplied a hundred times over, must be resolved through tax reform before we are overwhelmed by them; before we become a state which is either consumed by the disintegration of its schools or by a revolt of its taxpayers.

"I believe that every legislator, Republican or Democrat, urban or rural, recognizes the financial dilemma we face.

"We cannot permit the gap between anticipated income and estimated expenditure to grow—a gap which under the present tax system could reach a half billion dollars by 1980.

"And we cannot forever continue to increase the sales tax, the property tax and the unfair taxes imposed on business.

"On this much, there is little debate. There are few—if any—among us who would debate the wisdom of reducing the sales tax and even—in some areas—causing its elimination.

"There are few—if any—who would not approve of reducing property taxes.

"And there are few—if any—who would not approve a reduction of the unfair tax burden on business—a burden which presently drives far too many businesses out and discourages far too many businesses from moving in.

"But to do these things, we must obviously change. And the change necessary is building a new system of taxation—a system which will meet four essential criteria.

"First, our tax system must be fair and equitable. It must share the burden equitably in terms of income, in terms of property and in terms of the various user groups.

"Second, our tax system must be broadly based so that we can, in fact, share the price of progress. And so that the burden on any one group or individual is minimized within the framework of fairness and equity.

"Third, our tax system must be responsive. It must be capable of producing immediate income equal to estimated expenditure; and, of equal importance, it must have the capacity to produce increased revenue, based on economic growth, equal to the increased demands which growth places on state services.

"And fourth, our tax system must have specific constitutional limitations—a specific set of safeguards which define clearly the boundaries within which the system must operate.

"Fairness, a broad base, responsiveness and limitation—these are the critical ingredients of a responsible taxing system—a system in which the people have confidence, a system which is realistic and just, a system which is inherently stable and dependable and a system which offers the full weight of constitutional protection.

"Let me say this—firmly and finally—on the principle of limitation—the principle of constitutional protection: if we establish a system of taxation which is fair, which is broadly based and which is responsive—then there should be no quarrel with writing that system into the protective custody of constitutional law.

"I don't believe the people of the state of Washington want a temporary tax system now and another temporary tax system ten years from now.

"And I don't believe they want a system in which tax rates are continually subject to unlimited increase.

"The people of this state, I believe, want this administration and this legislature to do a full job; they want us to do a responsible job which will once and for all do away with rate making and tax juggling and produce a forthright solution.

"They can ask no more and we can do no less. And we will do no less because we owe that much responsibility to the citizens of this state.

"Ultimately the question of tax reform revolves around the institution of a state income tax. And, if we are being realistic—which should probably be included in the basic criteria—then it revolves equally around the question of what kind of income tax.

"I did not become an advocate of a single rate income tax because it was a convenient alternative or compromise. I became an advocate and remain an advocate—just as the Tax Advisory Council remains an advocate—because I believe the single rate tax is the best income tax for this state. It is responsive, it can be applied to a broad base, it is by definition limited and, above all it is fair. Not more fair; not less fair—but fair in every sense of the word.

"Moreover a single rate income tax has at least two other compelling advantages:

"First, it is by far the least expensive income tax to collect. It does not require a complex administrative process.

"Second, the single rate tax does not penalize incentive. Now I am not referring to the very wealthy who already have high federal income tax rates or the poor who have little income tax liability. I am referring very specifically to the wage-earner—the average worker—who by his ability, and through the great productivity of our economic system and, yes, with the help of his labor union, is finally enjoying some small measure of affluence.

"I fail to see the wisdom of giving him greater affluence on the one hand, only to take it away on the other by imposing higher and higher graduated tax rates.

"In fact, we should not—not in this state or this nation; not at this time or any other time—attempt to destroy incentive. Because to penalize progress and individual growth is grossly unfair—and there are tens of thousands of newly affluent wage-earners who stand as testimony to that fact.

"The single rate tax is not deceptive, or regressive, or unfair. It is, in fact, a tax which, properly based, benefits the low income family, takes no more than fair measure from the high income family and, above all, permits the great majority—the middle income family—to enjoy the fruits of their industry, their ability and their labor.

"It is, in fact, a tax which will serve the needs of this state and its people for years to come.

"During the course of the next several weeks, it is essential that tax reform be debated openly—and for as long as it takes to assure that our decision is the right one.

"But I think we owe a further obligation to the people; and that obligation is to present them with an opportunity to vote on our deliberations. I have no special insight into the opinions of the people, except that I sense—as you must sense—a great and rising pressure to 'get on with it'—to come to a decision, and to do so with both conviction and dispatch.

"The financial crisis facing Washington State is not a crisis of the future. As I stated in my inaugural address, repeated in the budget message—and repeat again today—the crisis is now.

"At stake is our ability to function as a state government, to develop and sustain the financial resources which guarantee not just adequate government but quality government.

"The people of Washington, I am sure, do not want to preside over their own disintegration. They do not want to see the environment destroyed, or educational opportunity diminish, or their routes of access become impassable.

"Finally, let me say that what we do in the area of tax reform will in some small measure help determine the fate of the Federal system.

"Only a union of states financially strong can hope to survive the manifest problems of modern government. If we cannot demonstrate this capability—if we cannot reorder our tax system to meet those problems peculiar to state solution—then we will surrender ourselves, swiftly and painfully, to an increasing Federal domination.

"Tax reform is not the only requirement for the survival of state government, but it is a critical one and without it, I doubt that we can make much of a case for local responsibility.

"All of this leads to what I hope are obvious conclusions:

"That this administration believes tax reform to be the number one priority of state government.

"That tax reform must be thorough and complete.

"That it must meet the essential criteria of fairness, responsiveness and a broad base.

"That it must include limitations prescribed by law and by the Constitution.

"That it must include a state income tax which does not penalize incentive.

"And that it, finally, must be put before the people for their approval.

"The alternatives of increased sales taxes or increased property taxes—or new taxes bearing no relationship to ultimate tax reform are simply not acceptable. As I said at the beginning we are here to deal with the serious business of the people and tax reform is serious business.

"My views on tax reform have become well-known over the past two years. In addition each legislator has received a copy of the 1968 report of the Governor's Tax Advisory Council. During this past two-year period many enthusiastic citizens and groups have been working on tax reform. From these efforts have come a number of excellent ideas. Tomorrow I will have introduced by executive request a constitutional amendment relative to tax reform. I will not however—during this session—introduce a specific tax measure.

"Bills expressing a variety of approaches within the guidelines I have set forth will be placed before you shortly, and I will be ready at any time to work with the legislature in developing the best possible solution carrying out sound fundamental principles.

"I am prepared to compromise where compromise is dictated by the choice between two equal alternatives; but this administration will not compromise in the name of political expediency at the sacrifice of the citizens of Washington.

"The solution is now our responsibility. The approval is ultimately the responsibility of the people we represent.

"It will not be a simple task, just as no fundamental change is simple. But we must proceed with confidence, with diligence and with faith that reasonable men can obtain reasonable solutions.

"I have every confidence that tax reform is within our power to achieve, and that we shall achieve it—collectively—in both good conscience and good time.

"Thank you."

The President of the Senate requested that the special committee escort Governor Evans from the rostrum to his chambers.

The President of the Senate: "Mr. Speaker, members of the Legislature, members of the staff:

"Thank you very much for your hospitality. The President will now return the gavel to Mr. Speaker."

The President called the Senate to order at 11:25 a.m.

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

Office of the Governor, January 24, 1969.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
 GENTLEMEN:

If any government is to perform effectively and if state government in Washington is to meet the difficult tasks of the years ahead it is imperative that the fundamental law, the constitution, be responsive to current needs. To this end, I propose the following legislation:
 1. Tax Reform. My views on this subject were contained in the tax reform message delivered to the legislature on January 23. As I stated then, I believe this to be the number one priority of this legislature. Action during this session is urgently needed. By executive request, a proposed constitutional amendment on tax reform will be introduced today. I am ready to work with the legislature to assure the passage of a tax reform amendment and legislation this session so as to allow for approval of the tax reform amendment by the people in November of this year.

2. Annual General Elections. So that tax reform and other constitutional amendments and referenda from the legislature can appear on the ballot the year they are passed I endorse the Legislative Council Bill, HB 1 which provides for annual general elections.

3. Gateway Amendment. I endorse the gateway amendment recommended by the Constitutional Revision Commission. This authorizes constitutional amendment by broad subject matter instead of the present requirement of amendment by single subjects only. Approval of the gateway amendment would allow the legislature to do a comprehensive job of constitutional review and submit its action to the people.

4. Constitutional Revision Commission. A bi-partisan commission was established by executive order last year. In addition to its recommendation on a gateway amendment it has made substantial progress in preparing a draft of a new constitution. I will have introduced by executive request legislation to continue this commission so that its completed draft of the constitution can be made available to you for consideration during the 1970 session.

I believe a constitutional amendment to provide regular annual sessions of the legislature is necessary. In order, however, to keep the issues presented to the voters at the 1969 election to a minimum, I will not request an annual session amendment until the 1970 special session.

Passage of these bills and constitutional amendments will provide the needed tools for this state to continue to move ahead. I urge your favorable consideration.

Sincerely,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Office of the Governor, January 27, 1969.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

GENTLEMEN::

During the next several days I am having introduced by executive request a series of bills relating to Human Resources in the state of Washington. These bills cover a wide range, dealing with housing, health facilities, parolees and other groups and individuals needing assistance from the state to help them become fully involved as citizens. Without exception this is legislation which places this state and its people in the position of caring. Each request is important and I urge the legislature to give these bills prompt and favorable consideration.

The bills to be introduced, together with a short description, are as follows:

1. Health Care Facilities Licensing. The health care facilities licensing bill is a bill which is designed to provide for the first time, one comprehensive act embracing the licensing of all health care facilities in the state of Washington, with one advisory council, and uniform requirements for inspection by the state fire marshal and the Electrical Division of Labor and Industries.

2. Medical Examiner. This act abolishes the present county coroner system and sets up within the State Department of Health a medical examiners system.

3. Retarded Group Home Authority. This bill authorizes the Department of Institutions to pay all or a portion of the cost of care, support and training for residents of state residential schools for the mentally or physically deficient persons who are placed in group homes. The payments to be made for such placements will be supplementary to any payments from the estate of such residents or from any other source which may be available for the support of such residents in group homes.

4. Work Release Housing. This bill authorizes the Director of the Department of Institutions to lease appropriate facilities to house work release participants from the state correctional institutions and provide for their subsistence and supervision. The work release participants so placed will be required to reimburse the department the per capita cost of their subsistence and lodging.

Under the present state work release program the participants must either commute daily from the correctional institutions or be placed in local jails. Requiring the participants to return to the correctional institution each night severely limits the scope of the program and typically local jails are ill-suited to accommodate such a program. The housing of work release participants within communities under close supervision for qualified candidates will provide an additional tool to bridge the gap of returning the prisoner to the community.

5. Probation Incentive. This plan provides a method of financing improved county juvenile probation services. Reductions in commitments would develop financial savings to the state which would be passed on to county probation programs. Each county participating in the program and reducing its rate of commitments could receive up to $4,000 in reimbursement for each uncommitted case to finance the improved probation services.

Since the costs of institutional care per case are substantially higher than the maximum reimbursement that would be available to counties under this plan, the results of this program would be: (1) reduction in the overall cost to the state for rehabilitating selected delinquent youths; (2) higher quality probation services; (3) increased protection to the communities through more effective probationary supervision; (4) reduced commitment rates to state juvenile rehabilitation institutions; (5) reduced involvement of youths in repeated offenses.

6. Parole Revocation and Board Expansion. This bill establishes the procedures for on-sight revocation hearings for persons accused of violating the terms of their parole. The bill describes the procedures for the arrest, detention and hearings relating to parole revocations, including the right of the parolee to counsel at such hearings. The bill also prohibits the release from custody on bail or personal recognizance of persons who have been arrested for parole violation until such time as a determination has been made as to whether the parole should be revoked.

The bill also defines the authority of the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles to establish regulations concerning procedural matters relating to parole.

The size of the Parole Board is increased from five to seven members.

7. Work Incentive Program. This bill implements the federal work incentive training program at the state level. It is aimed at providing training and employment for persons presently receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children from the Department of Public Assistance.

8. Training Opportunities Program. This bill is a companion bill to the work incentive training program bill. While the latter is limited in scope to recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children, under this state sponsored program the same approach will be used for other potentially employable persons presently receiving assistance from the Department of Public Assistance.

The objective of the program is to provide the necessary services and opportunities to public assistance recipients so that they can become wage-earning members of society and restore themselves and their families to independence and useful roles in their communities.

9. Fair Housing. This bill prohibits discrimination because of race, creed, color or national origin by brokers or owners in all real estate transactions.

The bill prohibits "blockbusting", voids restrictive covenants, and provides that where a discriminatory practice relating to real estate has occurred a notice may be posted on the premises whereby for a period of forty days any prospective transferee will take the property subject to any rights of the complainant.

10. Housing Development. This Act establishes a housing structure within the proposed State Community Affairs and Development Agency for encouragement of low cost housing by assisting cities and counties and by providing for certification of private incorporated housing development corporations which meet established criteria. The state shall not, itself, construct housing but shall give technical and financial assistance to the certified housing development corporations.

Sincerely,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Office of the Governor, January 28, 1969.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
GENTLEMEN:

Within the next several days I will have introduced by executive request a series of bills relative to recreation and the environment. The people of Washington have made it clear, particularly by their overwhelming endorsement of environmental legislation in the 1968 election, that they consider action to preserve our environment of prime importance. In the 1967 session of the legislature great progress was made in this area. The bills which I propose to this session of the legislature are of equal importance and will help to assure that the environment we enjoy today will be passed on to those who follow us.

The bills which will be introduced are as follows:

1. Surface Mining. This legislation would require strip mining operations to meet standards set by the state and to reclaim surface mining sites.

2. Shorelands and Rivers Inventory. These will be companion bills which provide for the inventory and classification of shorelands, tidelands and rivers in Washington. Classification plans will be presented to the legislature and to local government bodies for further action.

3. Boating Safety. This bill would provide for statewide boating safety regulations. Administration, licensing and educational programs would be conducted by the state. The basic enforcement of the safety regulations would be by county law enforcement agencies, with concurrent jurisdiction for state law enforcement agencies.

4. Seashore Conservation. These would be amendments to the 1967 Seashore Conservation Act to provide for better administration of the ocean beaches by the Parks Department.

5. Sale of Shorelands. This act would change the present statute which requires sale by the state of second class shorelands to the abutting upland owner to allowing such sale to be made only if it is in the public interest. I endorse HB 175 introduced by Legislative Council request.

6. Clean Air Act. This would amend the 1967 air pollution act to allow for concurrent jurisdiction by the state and local air agencies when the state asserts statewide jurisdiction over a specific type of air pollution.

7. Solid Waste Act. This pertains to a state program to assist in the disposal of garbage and other solid wastes.

8. Western Interstate Nuclear Compact. This would allow the state to cooperate with other states in the west in taking full advantage of developments in the field of nuclear energy.

9. Columbia River Fisheries Compact. This would amend the 1919 Columbia River Fisheries Compact in two essentials: (1) Bring Idaho in as a member to have a vote on those fisheries in which Idaho has an interest; (2) Add three members to the compact—Idaho Fish and Game Commission, Oregon Game Commission and the Washington Game Commission. The compact is presently composed of the Oregon Fish Commission and the Washington Department of Fisheries. Under the amendment to the compact, each state, Oregon, Washington and Idaho would have one vote each.

10. Current Use Taxation. H. B. 26, a Legislative Council bill, would implement HJR 1 pertaining to taxation of land at current use rather than highest and best use. I endorse the Legislative Council bill.

Each of these bills is important to the recreational and environmental welfare of this state. I urge the legislature give prompt and favorable consideration to them.

Sincerely,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "Will Senator McCutcheon yield to a question?"

Senator McCutcheon: "I yield."

Senator Metcalf: "Senator McCutcheon, I would ask that you describe the procedure whereby this measure received the 'solid majority vote' which you described came out of your committee on Constitution, Elections and Legislative Processes."

Senator McCutcheon: "Well, it is a rather simple procedure, Senator Metcalf, you were there. You are a member of the committee. We discussed your point of view and it was turned down and we discussed other points of view and they were rejected and we had a quorum at all times when we started and when we finished.

"I have never seen such a popular drawing card as we had there yesterday and when we got done there was a solid majority. We had seventeen or was it fifteen but anyway we had one or two more than necessary and I say solid majority because it is a majority. It is the numerical majority and no bill can be brought out of a committee without a majority."

Senator Metcalf: "Senator McCutcheon may have forgotten one little detail which he did not include in his description and that is when this measure was brought up for a vote of do pass in the committee and I don't remember exactly if it was five to three or six to three in opposition to that motion, the question was put on a motion do pass, the vote was either five to three or six to three not to pass the bill out.

"The chairman then informed the committee that if he could get the required number of signatures, the bill would go out anyway and the members present and voting majority voted do not send it out and I just wanted the record to show that because I don't believe that this is in harmony with the spirit of the rules and in harmony with the concept of representative self-government that we are sent here to uphold."

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President: I would like to have the record show that Senator Metcalf is against passing this bill out."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Holman: "Will Senator Durkan yield to a question?"

Senator Durkan: "I yield."

Senator Holman: "Senator Durkan, if I understood the motion of Senator McCormack, it is to refer this measure to his Committee on Revenue and Taxation and that is what Senator Gissberg and Senator Huntley referred to, but I may have misunderstood you when you spoke, I thought you said refer it to Ways and Means and I am a little unclear in my mind as to the differences between these two committees or subcommittees and I am wondering if the motion is successful, will this mean that it will be in the custody of yourself as chairman of Ways and Means or in the custody of Senator McCormack as chairman of Revenue and Taxation.

"Could you clarify this for me?"

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President: All bills are referred to Ways and Means when they are referred to as such, Ways and Means, Committee on Appropriations, or Ways and Means, Committee on Revenue. They hold hearings on it.

"They have do passes and do not passes or minority report.

"All bills that come out of the Revenue and/or Appropriations come to the committee on Ways and Means. So a bill would go to a committee on Appropriations or in this instance, it would go to the committee on Ways and Means. It is referred to the Ways and Means Committee, Committee on Revenue.

"It would be in Senator McCormack's committee to hold the hearings on it and then when he has finished he would have a report to the major committee and at any time that Senator McCormack and Senator Dore and I have agreed that the Ways and Means Committee can meet and ask to call out the bill."

Further debate ensued.

Senators Mardesich, Durkan and McCutcheon demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Senator McCutcheon demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Connor, Greive, Donohue, Stender, Sandison, Faulk, Durkan, Cooney and Odegaard.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

Office of the Governor, January 29, 1969.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

GENTLEMEN:

This final group of executive request bills is concerned with labor, education and youth, and effective government. Some of the issues with which these bills are concerned deal with specific areas of interest while others have a broader impact. Each one of them in some measure will contribute to the ability of government to serve the people and for the people to have a more active and determining role in the process of government. I urge the legislature to give these bills its full consideration and its approval.

LABOR

1. Unemployment Compensation. It is imperative that this session of the legislature address itself to the unmet problems of the unemployment compensation program, so that updated benefits can be provided to our injured workmen. In the hope that the representatives of labor and management will themselves be able to find a satisfactory solution to their differences, I will not at this time submit an executive request bill on unemployment compensation but will await the outcome of continuing discussion between the representatives of labor and management.

2. Workmen's Compensation. Washington State's Workmen's Compensation Act currently meets 16 of the 23 internationally recognized standards. The primary purpose of the bill is to bring our Act into conformity with two more standards:

(1) Maximum temporary benefits equal to two thirds of the state's average wage;

(2) Temporary disability awards retroactive to date of injury if disability continues through at least 14 days.

3. Full Health Insurance Coverage for State Employees. With the rapid rise in health care costs, adequate health insurance coverage has become increasingly important. Accordingly, I will submit a bill which will authorize the payment of 100% of the health insurance premiums by the state for its employees. Under this program the employees will have the option to include their dependents within the health insurance program at their own expense.

EDUCATION AND YOUTH

1. Coordinating Council for Higher Education. The need for longer-range planning and coordination between the institutions of higher education of our state, both public and private, along with representatives of the public, the legislature and the executive has become increasingly important. The bill submitted by the Temporary Advisory Council on Public Higher Education should accomplish these objectives and I accordingly endorse their bill to establish a Council on Higher Education.

2. Governor's Youth Advisory Council. This bill creates a 14-member Youth Advisory Council which would advise the Governor, the Council on Children and Youth and other appropriate state agencies on the problems and needs of the youth of our state.

3. Student's Representatives on Boards of Regents. This bill authorizes the addition to each university, college and community college board of a student representative selected by the students of the respective institutions.

4. Reduction of the Voting Age to 18 Years. This constitutional amendment will allow persons between the age of 18 and 21 to vote. With the greater knowledge and responsibility placed upon younger adults it has become increasingly important that they also be provided with the privilege to vote and thereby to participate more actively in the critical decisions which so directly effect them.

I also urge the legislature to give serious consideration to the problems of financial aid to persons seeking higher education and the question of providing financial aid directly to private institutions of higher education.

EFFECTIVE GOVERNMENT

1. I endorse the need for implementation of the constitutional amendment approved by the voters at the last election authorizing the creation of an intermediate court of appeals to function between the trial court and the State Supreme Court. Congestion in our courts makes real to many litigants today the maxim that justice delayed is justice denied.

2. Elimination of Fee Justices. I endorse the Judicial Council bill which abolishes the remaining fee justices within the state.

3. Abolition of Capital Punishment. After careful consideration of the use of the death penalty I have concluded it has no significant deterrent effect upon the commission of capital offenses and it, of course, eliminates any possibility of rehabilitation. Experience throughout the country indicates that the death penalty can be both erratically and at times erroneously applied. I am convinced that adequate protection can be provided to the community by the incarceration of persons convicted of violent crimes. Accordingly, I will submit a bill to abolish the use of capital punishment.

4. Community Municipal Corporations. This bill authorizes in cities over 100,000 population to create community municipal corporations to represent areas within a city primarily in an advisory capacity on community development programs which effect their areas. This should create a mechanism whereby government can be brought closer to the people in our larger cities.

5. Doubling Debt Limitation of School Districts. This bill doubles the authorized debt limitation for school districts and should provide greater flexibility to school districts in meeting their capital requirements.

6. Regulation of the Reporting of Campaign Contributions and Expenses. This bill will for the first time provide the state with a strong and comprehensive statute for the reporting of the sources of campaign contributions, their amounts and the expenditures to which such contributions are put. It will require honest reporting and thus encourage higher standards by candidates for public office.

7. Presidential Preference Primary. The need for all of the citizens of our state to participate more directly in the process of the selection of our presidential candidates has become increasingly evident. This bill, patterned closely after the Oregon Primary, will allow every voter to express his preference for a presidential candidate and will bind the delegates sent to the respective national conventions for the first two ballots for the presidential nomination at the national conventions.

Sincerely,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

Office of the Governor, January 29, 1969.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

GENTLEMEN:

SENATE BILL NO. 275: Providing for subsistence and lodging of legislators and the president of the Senate.

SENATE BILL NO. 276: Appropriating for legislative expense including subsistence.

Further debate ensued.

Senator Andersen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Woodall, Atwood, Marquardt, Elicker, Henry, Bailey, Sandison, Dore and Durkan.

Senator Gissberg moved that the motion by Senator Keefe to relieve the Senate Committee on Commerce and Regulatory Agencies be tabled.

Senator Dore demanded a roll call on Senator Gissberg's motion and the demand was sustained by Senators Durkan, Gissberg, Connor, Washington, Henry, Guess, Atwood, Woodall, Andersen, Elicker.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Andersen: "Point of parliamentary inquiry, what effect would the adoption of this motion have on the bill itself?"

The President: "The bill would remain in the Senate Committee on Commerce and Regulatory Agencies."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the motion by Senator Gissberg to table the motion by Senator Keefe, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 23; nays, 26.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Connor, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Henry, Knoblauch, McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Odegaard, Ridder, Sandison, Stortini, Talley, Uhlman, Washington, Wilson—23.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the motion by Senator Keefe to relieve the Committee on Commerce and Regulatory Agencies of further consideration of Senate Bill No. 303 and the motion carried by the following vote: Yeas, 28; nays, 21.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Canfield, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Elicker, Guess, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ryder, Stender, Twigg, Walgren, Williams, Woodall—28.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Connor, Dore, Durkan, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Henry, Knoblauch, McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Odegaard, Ridder, Sandison, Stortini, Talley, Uhlman, Washington, Wilson—21.

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator Mardesich gave notice that at the proper time tomorrow he would move to reconsider the vote by which the Committee on Commerce and Regulatory Agencies was relieved of further consideration of Senate Bill No. 303.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Was it not the ruling last session that reconsideration of a motion of this sort as distinguished from a final passage of a measure must be considered on the same working day?"

Senator Gissberg: "Mr. President: I have a more recent precedent to say to you and that is what has happened this session rather than last session.

"Senator McCutcheon on a similar matter on exactly the same type of motion having given notice of reconsideration did in fact make that motion the following day and the precedent is here before us during this session of the legislature and not at any other previous session."

Senator Woodall: "In response to that of course, no one raised the question, so there wasn't any ruling so when there is no question raised and no ruling made by the Chair, why of course you haven't established any precedent. That of course is very well known to the very able Senator Gissberg that until you raise a point you establish no precedent and I am asking now what the ruling of the Chair will be on this particular point."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Mardesich that the Senate recess until 1:30 p.m.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Andersen: "My point of parliamentary inquiry is connected with Senator Woodall's and the language of the motion previously made by Senator Mardesich. Senator Mardesich's motion is, as I recall, that he moves at the proper time that this vote be reconsidered and my point of parliamentary inquiry is, isn't this the proper time now and doesn't this come now? This other motion would therefore be out of order, it seems to me, if this other matter is before us."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President, in answering your inquiry, states that a motion to recess is in order."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Andersen: "My point of order is that Senator Mardesich's motion to recess is out of order pursuant to Senate Rule 31 which reads that the motion to reconsider shall have precedence over every other motion except the motion to adjourn.

"We do not have a motion to adjourn before us. We have a motion to reconsider before us. My point of order is this motion to recess not out of order?"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President's ruling upon the point is to indicate to the members that there is no motion to reconsider before the body at this time. Notice of reconsideration has been received.

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the Senate to be at ease.

The President called the Senate to order at 12:35 p.m.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "In reply to the point of parliamentary inquiry presented by Senator Woodall, the President states that if Senator Mardesich wishes to move to reconsider the vote by which the Committee on Commerce and Regulatory Agencies was relieved of Senate Bill No. 303, the rules require that it be done at this time.

MOTION

Senator Woodall moved that Senate Bill No. 303 be referred to the Committee on Cities, Towns and Counties.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Senator Mardesich moved that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which the Committee on Commerce and Regulatory Agencies was relieved of further consideration of Senate Bill No. 303.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall: "There has been an intervening motion."

Senator Gissberg: "A motion to reconsider the action of the Senate is clearly, on the same order of business at least, superior to a motion in priority such as that which has been put by Senator Woodall."

Senator Woodall: "There was no motion pending at the time I made mine. I submit it is of equal rank, mine being placed first, it is entitled to be put first."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President in ruling upon the point of order as presented by Senator Woodall, the President rules that notice of reconsideration has been given by Senator Mardesich and inasmuch as his is a motion of higher rank, the President believes that the body should consider the motion as presented by Senator Mardesich."

"I have explained several of the provisions but there is one provision he wrote in this particular bill and I would like to have him explain it to us."

Senator Woodall: "Mr. President and members of the Senate: Several years ago when the justices of the peace . . . when they had many of these rural ones . . . and they did not have clerical help, a rule was pronounced and in fact a law that when a defendant filed a notice to appeal, you had to personally go and get the transcript from the justice of the peace and carry it up to the court, to the superior court.

"Now, when you appeal from the superior court to the supreme court you don't go get the transcript and carry it over to Olympia. But it is rather ridiculous when you have clerks in the same building and some of them just do it voluntarily, the point is, the burden is on you to get it up there and if you do not, it has been ruled that that is jurisdictional and your case can go out the window, so all this provides is that the justices of the peace should send it on up to the clerk of the superior court instead of the defense attorney having to call every few days and say 'do you have the transcript ready? Can I carry it up today?'

"This merely puts the burden where it ought to be and has him pick it up."

Debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Andersen: "Mr. President: I ask permission to file an explanation of vote in the record and for anyone that voted against this bill to join me in that explanation."

Senator Gissberg: "Solely for the record I think it should be that the Senator has the privilege of filing a protest but we have either a rule or constitutional provision that no Senator shall be allowed to explain his vote as such and a protest is perfectly proper but not an explanation of the vote."

Senator Andersen: "Mr. President: The only privilege I would ask would be the same privilege extended to other Senators in the past as expressed by the journal and I would presume that this would be duly noted."

PROTEST

We, the undersigned, protest the passage of Senate Bill No. 100 by the Senate on January 31, 1969; herewith explain why we voted against this bill; and ask that this protest be filed in the Senate Journal.

We voted against this bill because of the failure to carry Senator Andersen's amendment. This amendment would have removed the provisions of the bill extending retroactive immunity to District Justice Court Justices for embezzlement and other illegal acts of their employees.

This bill, without the mentioned amendment, releases not only the judges, but the bonding companies of the judges on the judges' bonds. These bonding companies have been paid premiums out of public funds to cover just such losses.

While there is much in this bill that is good and desirable legislation, we felt obliged to vote against it for the reasons stated.

Signed by: Senators Andersen, Mardesich, Walgren, Durkan, Elicker, Marquardt, Atwood, Peterson (Ted), Faulk, Huntley, Matson, McDougall, Lewis (Brian), Williams, Guess.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman: "Mr. President: I have a parliamentary inquiry."

The President: "Senator Uhlman will state his parliamentary inquiry, please."

Senator Uhlman: "I have an amendment, an individual amendment on the desk which would amend line 27 which is also being amended by the committee amendment. In what order should these be taken?"

The President: "Does your amendment affect the committee amendment, Senator Uhlman?"

Senator Uhlman: "My amendment would not directly, it would simply add two more words and would change the designation from a subsection to a section."

The President: "The President believes it would be proper to act on the committee amendment as read and then act upon your amendment at a later time."

Senator Uhlman: "Thank you, Mr. President."

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the committee amendment was adopted.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Andersen: "Would Senator Uhlman yield to a question? Senator Uhlman, there is a little confusion in my mind in connection with the latter part of the committee amendment and I wanted to ask you a question concerning it before this bill moves to the third reading calendar."

"What is now section 3 reads, the way it was originally, 'the recordings shall only be used for valid police or court activities and shall not be released to news or communications media'. The words 'or court' were deleted as I understood in the committee amendment."

"Now my question is this, is the effect of that particular amendment that if a person makes a confession which is recorded, that this cannot be introduced in evidence if it becomes germane?"

Senator Uhlman: "Senator, you will note that the purpose of the exemption is up in line 10 which says 'recording incoming telephone calls to police and fire stations for the purpose and only for the purpose of verifying the accuracy, etc.'"

Senator Andersen: "I am worried about section 2 basically. I am talking about where you can take a recording of a confession."

Senator Uhlman: "This was discussed in committee. Senator Woodall made the motion and the majority of the committee agreed that the principal purpose of the original act that we passed last session was to greatly delineate and prohibit all recordings that were made and this would include video recordings, without the consent of the individual. This was originally designed to permit a very limited extension of the recordings and they would be utilized principally for police purposes and not for obtaining information and not for obtaining tapes or video tapes of confessions for court purposes."

Senator Andersen: "Senator Uhlman, I don't believe this answers the thing that I am talking about and I would like to make it more clear if I could."

"Section 2 provides for recordings, sound and video recordings of confessions as it is in the original bill. I wasn't talking about section 1, whatever the intention is with reference to section 1 but obviously it relates to incoming telephone conversations and the purpose, etc. But what I am talking about is section 2 which authorizes taping of confessions or video recordings of confessions after the constitutional statements have been made, I am wondering if this new section, the way we have changed it, subsection 2(d) which would become subsection 3, if that section, if the effect of that, is to make these confessions inadmissible in court. I can't conceive of the purpose of the law insofar as the second section is concerned if we don't permit the matter to be admissible in court."

"That is the reason for my asking with relation to the second paragraph in the bill."

Senator Uhlman: "There was a vigorous and spirited discussion in the Judiciary Committee concerning this precise issue and I suspect the best thing for me to do would be to turn this question over to the most vigorous and spirited proponent of this. Frankly, I have no feeling at all either way. You do raise the precise point that we did discuss in committee and I'll now defer, with your permission, with the Senate's permission, to Senator Woodall who felt most strongly about this precise issue."

Senator Woodall: "Mr. President and members of the Senate: It was our thought that as long as the recording itself contained the declaration of this man's right and so you did not get into an academic discussion as to whether he was or was not, it was the feeling of the committee that as long as the record itself recorded no words depriving the man of his constitutional rights so you did not run the hazard of someone saying, 'yes, he was advised' instead of saying 'no, he was not advised', but to compel the words which advised him to be inserted, so a court could then pass on the adequacy of it. The court being satisfied that his rights have been adequately protected and he has been advised, then this would be admissible as evidence in court."

Senator Andersen: "To get it clear and of course the purpose of the question is to clarify before we move on. Then what was section 2(d), Senator Woodall, which is now section 3 as I understand it. By deleting the words, which the committee amendment has done, the words 'or court', this does not then as I understand it from your answer, say that these confessions are inadmissible providing they meet the other requirements specified in this statute. Because it seems to be ambiguous to me is why I'm asking the clarification on the record. I can just see some judge saying 'Well, the legislature took out the words "being used for valid police purpose activities" but not for "court activities" and that's why I wanted to make the record completely clear on that.'"

Senator Woodall: "It was the feeling of the committee at that time that those words were not needed, however, if there's any doubt in the world I certainly would have no objection to rejecting this amendment which would leave the words 'or court' in because we had no desire to take that away, so with that thought in mind I would support . . ."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Andersen: "All right, with the consent of the body, if I may, Mr. President, I'm sorry, I would like to state a parliamentary inquiry."

The President: "The Senator will please state his point of parliamentary inquiry."

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Senator Andersen: "I simply want to reconsider the matter . . . the amendment whereby the words 'or court' were removed so that we may put them back in the interests of clarifying a very important point. And I'm inquiring as to the appropriate and most expeditious way of doing it if there is no opposition here."

Senator Mardesich: "Mr. President: If there be no objection I suggest that Senate Bill No. 107 be placed on tomorrow's second reading calendar."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "I do not think we have adopted this amendment as yet, have we?"

The President: "The committee amendments have been adopted."

The President: "Senator Mardesich has moved that Senate Bill No. 107 take its place on the second reading calendar for tomorrow."

Senator Uhlman: "Speaking on the motion if this is the only point that we need to clarify, it can be done very easily by any one of the Senators who voted on the prevailing side after that last amendment, simply by moving at this time for reconsideration of the vote by which this last amendment was adopted and there would be no necessity to hold it over."

The President: "The President understands that Senator Andersen has already moved for reconsideration."

Senator McCormack: "I wish to speak on behalf of Senator Mardesich's motion. It clearly is a very important matter and we all recognize it although we are not expert in it. We now are thoroughly confused as to where we are and I think it wouldn't hurt to take a day to completely straighten this thing out. It will come back on second reading and at that time the motion to reconsider may be put if it's in order. But I think it would give the sponsors of the bill an opportunity to straighten out a situation and come out with a clear picture."

Senator Stender: "Mr. President: I would request in holding it over that the proposed amendment by Senator Uhlman be printed and put on our desks so that we could follow it . . . in fact what he's trying to do with this bill. I have some questions of the effects of it. I did get confused, I might add, with these amendments if the bill is in the same form that I thought it was at the beginning of the second reading calendar."

The President: "Members of the Senate: The president has recognized Senator Andersen's motion to reconsider the vote by which the amendment was adopted. Does it meet with your approval, Senator, to hold the bill over?"

"If there are no objections, Senate Bill No. 107 will hold its place on the second reading calendar for tomorrow."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 112, by Senators Greive, Woodall and Cooney (by Legislative Council request):

Disqualifying inferior court judges in certain instances.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Greive, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 112 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Greive yield? Does this only apply to King county?"

Senator Greive: "No, it applies to all judges. There is no reason why, as I see it, if you come in and ask for an affidavit of prejudice and transfer to another court you shouldn't have the right, regardless of what county made the arrangements."

Senator Atwood: "In section 2, line 21 down to line 25, you have stricken the proviso of municipal court transfers. Has this been replaced any place in this bill?"

Senator Uhlman: "If I could refer Senator Atwood in answer to his question to page 3, line 22 and following."

“In the quiet moment of devotion, O God, with all other voices stilled, breathe on us, breath of God, fill us with life anew. Forgive us our wordiness. We talk so much and are so seldom silent. We are constantly in motion and rarely still.

“When things just won’t come out right in our thoughts, our debates, our search for solutions, help us to be still and know that Thou art God, the Source of all wisdom, truth and love.

“Now strengthen and encourage us for the high enterprise of building here a more decent society and living space for all citizens, Great God. Amen.”

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 35, by Senators Washington, Pritchard and Talley:

Eliminating certain special motor vehicle license plates.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

It was moved by Senator Lewis (Brian) that the following amendment by Senators Lewis (Brian) and Washington be adopted:

On page 2, section 1, line 30 after the double parentheses add a new sentence to read as follows:

"The mass transit trust account heretofore created in the general fund shall remain an account of the general fund."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: Would Senator Lewis (Brian) yield to a question? Is it your intention that the five dollars which will still be collected continue to go into that fund?"

Senator Lewis: "No, Senator, I think the earlier language deletes any reference to that."

Senator Mardesich: "Is there other language then that provides where this five dollars will go? Line 11 excludes the disposition of the fund and there should be some correction to take care of that."

Senator Washington: "Senator Mardesich, it is my understanding that the five dollar fund would continue to go where the ordinary funds for license plates go."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Washington, Senate Bill No. 35 was placed at the end of the second reading calendar for today.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 107, by Senators Uhlman, Andersen and Dore:

Authorizing sound and video recordings in certain police activities.

The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 107 on second reading.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Senator Woodall: "Point of information, Mr. President. Was the one amendment adopted, that Senator Andersen raised the question about, the one which struck the matter of 'courts'. The good Senator is not here this morning."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "Senator Uhlman's amendment was adopted and also the committee amendment, Senator Woodall."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman: "Mr. President, point of inquiry. As I recall there was pending before us when we ceased consideration of this measure, a motion for reconsideration of the vote by which the amendment was adopted striking the words 'or courts' which are found on the bottom of page 1, line 27 and 'or court' on the top of page 2. Am I correct on that?"

The President: "Senator Uhlman, your remarks are correct. A notice of reconsideration was given by Senator Andersen and the President later recognized a motion of reconsideration had been made by Senator Andersen."

Senator Uhlman: "For the record, it should be noted that it was a committee amendment. The committee amendment was 'or court'. Those are the only words that we are voting on at the present time. That was a portion of the committee amendment."

The President: "It is the understanding of the Secretary that it was your amendment, Senator Uhlman."

Senator Uhlman: "Mr. President, I refer the President to the amendment in the bill book on Senate Bill No. 107 which states on page 2, line 1, strike 'or court'. That amendment was a committee amendment, it was adopted. It really doesn't matter as to whose amendment it was, but for the record it should be noted correctly that this was a committee amendment and it so shows in the books."

The President: "Thank you, Senator Uhlman, the Secretary is checking the minutes." Debate ensued.

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to reconsider the vote by which the last committee amendment was adopted.

The motion was lost and the amendment was not adopted.

On motion of Senator Woodall, there being no objection, Senate Bill No. 107 was placed at the end of the second reading calendar for today.

A change of venue from the police judge to a judge pro tempore appointed in the manner prescribed in RCW 35.24.480, as now or hereafter amended, shall be allowed in accordance with the provisions of RCW 3.20.100 and 3.20.110, as now or hereafter amended, in all civil and criminal proceedings. In addition, the provisions of RCW 3.34.110, as now or hereafter amended, pertaining to the transfer of cases by the administrator for the state courts shall apply to police judges, except that such cases shall be transferred to a judge pro tempore appointed in the manner prescribed by RCW 35.24.480."

SPECIAL COMMITTEE

Senators Woodall, Talley and Henry were appointed as a special committee to escort Congresswoman Julia Butler Hansen to the rostrum.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

"The President: Honored members of the Senate, ladies and gentlemen, the Senate Chamber is graced with yet another distinguished and noted visitor from Washington D. C. The President would like to request of Senator Woodall, Senator Talley and Senator Henry, would you please act as a committee of honor to escort the Honorable Julia Butler Hansen from the Lieutenant Governor's chambers to the bar of the Senate, and would Senator Foley please join the committee of honor."

"Gentlemen of the Senate, ladies and gentlemen, the President takes a great deal of pleasure in presenting to you one of the graduates of the Washington State Legislature who achieved a record second almost to no one in the history of our state. I believe the people of our state are deeply appreciative of the wonderful work that Julia Butler Hansen has accomplished during her stay in the legislature. From the legislature she has gone on to far greater achievements in the Halls of Congress of Washington, D. C. Whereas the three million citizens of our state are deeply grateful to Julia for her work, now we have two-hundred million people gathered throughout the country and millions more throughout the world who are well acquainted and familiar with the wonderful job that the Honorable Julia Butler Hansen has done in Washington, D. C.

"And now, ladies and gentlemen, it is with great pride that we request of Julia that she address the Senate this morning."

Congresswoman Julia Butler Hansen: "Lieutenant Governor Cherberg and a very distinguished Senate, members who I notice many of them are, shall I say retiring or refugees from the House of Representatives across the way where I have just been, and interestingly enough today is the first day I have been in the House of Representatives since I left in the session in 1959 and it was sort of a sentimental journey.

"I had the privilege of talking last night with Senator Zahn and Senator Woodall who began in that session in 1939 with me in the House thirty years ago. It's a real joy to be here today and I wish both houses of this session extremely well because as I told the House, the more successful and better the state government operates, the more successful and the better the entire nation operates, since the problems of the national government and the problems of state government are deeply intermeshed. The welfare of one is impossible without the welfare of the other.

"I would like while I'm here to make a very brief announcement. This afternoon at two o'clock in the General Services Administration Auditorium there is going to be a showing by the geological survey on the proposed satellite, the appropriation for which is before my particular subcommittee. This should be of deep interest to people of the Northwest relative to the future of our water, our resources, our mineral resources, mapping of our state, etc. So I invite any of you who may be free to attend that meeting.

"When I leave here today. I go on to speak to the Northwest Roadbuilders tomorrow in Seattle and then I'm going to San Francisco, and from there down through the redwoods, because we have several problems there on timber and national park equipment and to determine the appropriation. Then most interesting of all we will go Sunday to New Mexico to look at some of the Indian hospitals and schools, some of the worst schools and some of the better schools, some of the problems that confront each of us as Americans.

"Again, Lieutenant Governor, as I said I'm not sure that the Senate was always happy with my activities. I seem to remember lilies on Senator Nat Washington's door one time. Do you remember those? And so there are no lilies today. But it is a real joy to be here with many of my very beloved colleagues and so many of you who are new and just beginning in the government of our state. It is a great state and those of us who have the joy and the privilege of serving it know the greatness of it and particularly as we measure it in the stature of our entire nation.

"My very best to all of you. Thank you for your courtesy and your non-lilies this morning."

"Goodbye."

Senator Talley: "I wonder if our esteemed Congresswoman would yield to a question? I would like to know if she has met Mr. Hickie yet."

Congresswoman Hansen: "I have, indeed. He presented himself in my office and I went out and introduced myself."

The President: "Thank you very much, Julia. We appreciate your taking the time to be with us and to give us such well chosen remarks and as a small indication of the high regard and esteem that the members of the Senate and the President hold for you, Senator Sandison, Chairman of the Senate Dining Room Committee and the other members of this committee, have relayed a very, very rare invitation to you to join the members of the Senate and the President for lunch today in the Senate dining room."

Congresswoman Hansen: "I wish it were possible for me to do so, however, I am meeting with Bert Cole this noon to discuss some of our natural resources problems, and as you know we have many problems with timber, so I will take a rain check on it, Lieutenant Governor, because I feel that I had better take care of some of the pressing problems. But I will take a rain check and the next time I'm back I hope to see you."

"Goodbye."

The President: "Will the committee please come to the rostrum and escort our lovely visitor from the Chamber." -

SENATE BILL NO. 121, by Senators Woodall, Greive, Twigg and Cooney (by Legislative Council request):

Updating the interest rate on civil judgments.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 121 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ryder: "Would Senator Twigg yield to a question? Senator, I notice in the first part of section one of this bill, they talk about a contract rate which I would assume would be the rate of interest contained in any contractual obligation and that if they sued in case of default or foreclosure, that the top rate then would be the rate of the contract itself, that is if it is a four percent contract or a five or six percent contract, that would be the maximum rate, is that true?"

Senator Twigg: "That is true, Senator Ryder, but I might add I don't think I have ever seen a real estate mortgage note nor have I seen many contracts that do not contain a provision that in the event a judgment or foreclosure is interested or in the event legal action is required but what they automatically accelerate to the maximum interest rate provided under the law which in this state is twelve percent. And so in the case you cite, I believe that your judgment of foreclosure or your judgment on contract carries virtually in all instances a ten percent rate on appeal."

Senator Ryder: "That is if the judgment was held."

Senator Twigg: "Right."

Senator Ryder: "Thank you."

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

January 21, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 34, providing that Washington history as a required subject may be included in a course in United States History (reported by Committee on Education):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, beginning on line 15, after "general." strike all the material down to "[: PROVIDED" on line 16, and insert "[No person shall be graduated from any eighth grade or high school without completing such courses of study]"

Signed by: Senators Ridder, Chairman; Elicker, Knoblauch, Marquardt, Metcalf, Odegaard, Peterson (Ted), Stender, Talley, Uhlman.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Ridder, the committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Stortini, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 34 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon: "Would Senator Stortini yield to a question? This hasn't anything to do with the qualification of teachers. I had a sort of an impression that we had a law that required teachers to be qualified before they could teach in the state of Washington, who have so many semesters or quarters in Washington State history. Is that true?"

Senator Stortini: "Yes, that is true, Senator. A teacher teaching in the state of Washington if he or she comes in from outside of the state will have had to take Washington State History within a five year period."

Senator McCutcheon: "And this has only to do with blending these two courses, is what it amounts to."

Senator Stortini: "That is correct. I personally feel that the students, and they are the ones we are concerned about, would develop better concepts and much more knowledge by integrating the two courses as some school districts have done for the requirement at the present time in this state."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCutcheon: Mr. President, I would have you know that this is my native state. I was born in my district and this is the native state also I believe, of Senator Stortini, quite removed in point of years. He is a very distinguished history teacher at Mt. Tahoma High School. Obviously he knows his subject and I am greatly impressed by what he says but I was going to question that matter of letting teachers come in to this state without any qualifications to teach Washington State history and I thought well, maybe that is just to satisfy a few teachers to come here and not be put off that they should have less interest than some others in the history of the state of Washington.

"Now it's not big, it's not great, but it is interesting and very informative and I think everyone should know something about this subject but I think this bill is all right.

Senator Stortini: "Mr. President, I might remind Senator McCutcheon that if we look back through the elementary years the students here in the state of Washington get United States history and Washington state history in the fifth, eighth and eleventh grade and I think that the thing that we have to be concerned about would be the students and there is no doubt in my mind in teaching these two courses for the past fourteen years that the answer or the solution would be to integrate these two courses on behalf of the young students.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 34, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 5; absent or not voting, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Holman, Keefe, Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Williams, Wilson, Woodall—43.

Voting nay: Senators Gissberg, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Sandison, Washington—5.
Absent or not voting: Senator Huntley—1.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 34 having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Knoblauch: "I simply want to say that Washington state history was made here today in the state Senate when the great Senator from Tacoma made his maiden speech. He didn't convince me but he convinced forty-five others and I would like to explain, I am chopping these names off the list and so far there are a few of you who haven't done your stuff yet: Donohue, Elicker, McDougall, Matson, Newschwander, Odegaard and Walgren. I know your turn is coming but Senator Stortini, your turn is here.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Greive, all bills remaining on the second reading calendar were held for tomorrow's calendar.

At 12:40 p.m. on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate adjourned until 11:00 a.m. Wednesday, February 5, 1969.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.

WARD BOWDEN, Secretary of the Senate.

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wash., Wednesday, February 5, 1969.

The Senate was called to order at 11:00 a.m. by President Cherberg. The President declared the Senate to be at ease. The President called the Senate to order at 11:05 a.m. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Foley, Peterson (Lowell) and Talley. On motion of Senator Gissberg, Senator Foley was excused. Senators Peterson (Lowell) and Talley had been excused the previous day by Senator Greive so they could attend a meeting in Alaska.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Dan Bowman, Color Bearer, and Maureen Cooney, presented the Colors. Reverend Maurice L. Haehlen, minister of the United Churches of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Almighty God thou eternal Father of us all, save this moment of quietness from being merely a gesture to custom or convention and make it a real seeking for Thy guidance and help on the part of each of us. Just as we have sometimes felt Thee near us in church or synagogue, make us now to feel Thy nearness in the business of this day, be the unseen Senator, present and voting. Inspire us with Thy love and truth so that we say and do what may be in accordance with Thy will for this land that we love so much. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

AMENDMENTS TO SENATE RULES

It was moved by Senator Greive that the following resolution be adopted:

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Temporary Rules of the Senate be adopted as the Permanent Rules of the Senate with the following amendments:

RULE 12

On page 267 of the 1967 Legislative Manual, strike all the matter after "order:" on line 3 of Rule 12 down to but not including the last paragraph and insert:

- "FIRST. Reports of standing committees.

- FOURTH. Messages from the house of representatives.
- FIFTH. Introduction, first reading, and reference of bills, memorials and resolutions.
- SIXTH. Presentation of petitions, memorials, resolutions and motions.
- SEVENTH. Second reading of bills.
- EIGHTH. Third reading of bills."

RULE 46

On page 276 of the 1967 Legislative Manual, add the following paragraph to Rule 46:

"VOTING IN COMMITTEES

No vote in any standing committee shall be taken by secret ballot nor shall any committee have a policy of secrecy as to any vote on action taken in such committee."

RULE 61

On page 282 of the 1967 Legislative Manual, under "READING OF BILLS" after line 4 and immediately preceding the last paragraph insert the following:

"A bill shall be reported back by the committee chairman upon written petition therefor signed by a majority of its members. The petition shall designate the recommendation as provided in Rule 47.

No committee chairman shall exercise a pocket veto of any bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Would Senator Washington yield to a question?"

Senator Dore: "Senator Washington, what do you mean by pocket veto? Do you mean that if the majority of the committee reports the bill out and the committee chairman does not circulate a report that that is a pocket veto? Do you want to prohibit that conduct?"

Senator Washington: "I would say that would possibly be a proper ruling. The old pocket veto that was referred to as a pocket veto was where the chairman just actually put the bill in his pocket and walked around with it or put it in a locked drawer, so even if the committee voted it out you couldn't get the original bill and he could by that way defy the wishes of the majority of the committee."

Senator Dore: "I understand that Senator Washington. This is what I am trying to get at, I understand what the literal meaning of pocket veto means, taking the bill in your pocket and walking away with it. It has also been interpreted in some quarters that it also means if a majority of the committee vote the bill out and the committee chairman does not circulate the report, of course, it can't come out.

"Now, by this position in the rule do you want to prohibit that conduct of the chairman?"

Senator Washington: "I would say that that certainly should be prohibited."

Senator Dore: "And that is your intent with this rule change, and you want your remarks in the journal?"

Senator Washington: "This was not a rule that was suggested by me. I think it was suggested by members of the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules but certainly this would be my understanding and if some member of the Rules Committee would like to have a different interpretation, perhaps it should come from him."

Senator Gissberg: "Mr. President, since I am the scrivener of the rule, I suppose that it is proper to respond to the question and in doing so I will make a short speech myself about the abuse that I think this very important rule will prevent in the future and I personally know, of course, that there has been abuse in that area.

"This rule, quite aside from the pocket veto, will really and truly make committees democratic in function in that the majority will of the members of the committee will no longer have to be frustrated by a committee chairman, by his failure to call a bill up for consideration in executive session. I don't think any chairman has ever refused to have a hearing on a bill that I know of but the hearing itself does little good when the chairman in preparing his calendar for bills to be considered in executive session simply does not put it on the calendar.

"This rule by implementation will be a good one in that even though the committee chairman sees fit not to call a public hearing or not to call an executive session on a particular bill or not to put it on a calendar, any supporter of the measure may, by preparing his own petition and circulating it for signature of a majority of the members of that committee, take away from the committee chairman or the minority members of that committee that particular bill and it will automatically come out for second reading.

"The reason for the pocket veto provision in it, that is the prohibition against the so-called pocket veto, is so that the committee chairman would not be able to put the bill in a file cabinet. It would be an idle gesture if you just had a petition and the petition itself came out here before the President of the Senate. The bill itself, the original bill, as a matter of law must come back with it. The pocket part is not literal in any sense of the word. It includes the location of the bill in whatever filing cabinet it might be.

"I am sure that we will not have that type of a problem of having to force open a filing cabinet to get the original bill but none the less I think that provision against the pocket veto is an effective enforcement tool in making this bill work.

"I would say that it indeed is a step forward and would make the other committees function in a democratic way that the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules has always functioned. As a matter of fact, I might say for the newcomers, the Rules Committee has historically, and I think I have served on it since 1957, operated in a way where every committee member in turn can raise the bill out of the committee and place it before the committee unlike the method of proceeding in the various standing committees. There of course we all know that in order to raise a bill before the committee, that the chairman, himself, must put it on the calendar.

"It is within the whim of one man as to whether or not that bill is going to be considered, unlike the Rules Committee where the members sit around the table and each take a turn consecutively in raising that bill for the consideration of the membership, which I have always felt was a very fine way indeed. It was impossible for any person or group of persons to prohibit or prevent consideration of any bills that were in the Rules Committee.

"I think generally these rules will be a great improvement to the functioning of the legislative process. There has been, I think, some of what I concede to be unfair criticism of the Rules Committee in a sense that it was felt that we were operating behind closed doors, but we have never done so except in the same manner as the existing committees now operate behind closed doors. The Rules Committee has always taken the same policy that the other committees do, namely that when you go into executive session the doors are closed and you are free to discuss the various measures before the committee.

"I know of only one instance in all the time I have been a member of the Rules Committee where there has been a bill which has been killed by the Rules Committee in which I thought, and I think a majority of the members of the committee subsequently thought, that there was a great public need to have out. But I find that really there are very few bills that are killed in the Rules Committee that are desired by the majority of the members of this floor.

"I do believe, however, that it is a bad practice to take the bill away from any committee, that is like the members sitting out here on the floor trying to take a bill away from committee. I think that by so doing you break down the committee system which, after all, is the only way whereby I think that you can really dissect and digest, analyze and improve the legislative analysis of the particular bill and I am hopeful that what I concede to be a good tradition and custom to follow will not be asserted, that is to say it is my hope that there will not be motions made on the floor to take bills away from committees except in very, very rare circumstances and I can't really recall when we have done it.

"There have been motions made but I think that in order to preserve the committee system that it just has to be frowned upon by us, and this amendment will indeed allow members of the committee themselves to take the bill away which would be perfectly proper."

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President and members of the Senate: I was very interested in Senator Gissberg's defense of the chastity of the Rules Committee and as one who has always supported the Rules Committee as a strong and independent and necessary adjunct to the Senate, I intend to likewise support it, but I don't think neither discussion between Senator Washington and Senator Dore nor explanation by Senator Gissberg are interpretations which are going to govern this Senate as far as the rules are concerned and I would like to make it perfectly clear as a chairman and one who has served in this body for ten years that I also believe in the democratic processes and I think that anybody who wants, in my committee, can get a bill without trying to circulate and trade off with each other outside the committee.

"So just to make it perfectly clear as far as I am concerned as a chairman and a member of this body, I applaud Senator Gissberg's explanation of the rules as far as the Rules Committee is concerned and while I agree with him on the necessity of open hearings in committees, I think that many of us as committee chairmen will be able to interpret the rules as well as the Rules Committee members when the proper time comes."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "Point of parliamentary inquiry. Rule 61 as amended provides: 'A bill shall be reported back by the committee chairman upon written therefor by a majority of its members.'

"My point of inquiry is, what is the effect of a vote in any committee, a vote to 'do pass' on a bill and that vote fails by the members present and voting?"

Senator Greive: "I would like to answer that, I think on behalf of the majority, since we have the committee chairmanship.

"A committee is a democratic procedure. It is governed by a majority of all the people appointed to that committee and a bill can't be voted out unless it has a majority.

"Now, beyond that we leave it to the discretion of the chairman. Sure, he has an executive session and finds if the majority 'do' or 'don't' want to, but I can remember one session when we had the budget bill when we had Senator Lindsay, no longer with us, who voted his budget and thought he held a meeting. It came out and then he couldn't get enough signatures. He resigned because he found out that he just simply didn't have control of his committee, so whatever procedure short of actually signing the report, that is entirely a matter of discretion with the chairman.

"Basically, he has to have a report and the signatures on that report are what govern and not any temporary vote that merely governs his, that is for his guidance and guidance alone."

Senator Metcalf: "Mr. President, I wanted to make that point very clear that in a committee a majority of those members present and voting can vote 'do not pass' on a bill and then that bill can be circulated and come out. I believe that this is not a good practice. Many members are very careful to attend meetings religiously and listen to the testimony and many members do not attend well and yet we have the problem that I mentioned specifically. I just make the comment for the record that if the time comes when the minority party, and the tide swings back and forth as we know, are in the majority here and if the constituents in my district smile on me and I am still here, I will at that time move to push this issue to be sure that the vote of the people present and voting would be the first prerequisite of a bill leaving committee.

"I believe it is an improper practice from a basic point of view of representative government to allow the kind of thing that is allowed under this rule. I recognize the problem and I just say that I couldn't agree more with Senator Gissberg when he said that it will make the committees democratic in function."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Mardesich demanded the previous question. The demand was not sustained.

MOTION

Senator McCormack moved that the motion to adopt the Permanent Rules be amended to change the number of members on the Committee on Ways and Means, Revenue and Taxation, to twenty-six.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Andersen: "Mr. President, point of parliamentary inquiry. Would it be in order for me to ask Senator Atwood if he would yield to a very brief question?"

Senator Atwood: "I yield."

Senator Andersen: "Senator Atwood, the Republican caucus has taken the position on this matter of wanting to permit each party to designate its members on each committee at the outset. Now is there a change in this regard in these rules and if not, why not?"

Senator Atwood: "Senator Andersen, we made this proposal to the majority party and as Senator McCutcheon says, there is no substitute for having the majority vote.

"In direct response to your question, on the proposal that we made, we merely asked that we be allowed to nominate to the standing committees which is Rule 2 and rather than put it in the rule, the leadership of the majority party has assured us that when we come around to this point again that they will permit us to make the nominations.

"Of course, as always the majority can and probably will exercise a restrained veto, I hope, only in those areas which they feel are highly sensitive to them and we thought that that was a fair proposal and we are sure that they are men of their word and we will have an opportunity to make our nominations. I might add that although we started out this session on this side of the aisle very concerned about our membership on the committees, they have proved to be more than fair in most areas. There are one or two areas where we feel we were not treated fairly but this is not without precedent in this body and if we are successful, Senator Metcalf, I am sure that we will exercise a majority voice in this type of proceeding.

"In regards to Senator McCormack's motion, Senator Andersen, this is an agreement that is not adding anything to the committee. They are moving around membership in this gigantic committee. We suspect that we could probably put the whole Senate on this one."

There being no objection, the amendment by Senator McCormack was adopted.

PRESIDENT'S APPOINTMENTS

The President appointed Senators Ridder, Stortini, Washington and Williams to the Committee on Ways and Means, Revenue and Taxation.

Senator McCormack moved the confirmation of the appointments.

The motion was carried and the appointments were confirmed.

Senator Stender moved the adoption of the following amendment:

READING OF BILLS

RULE 56. Joint resolutions and joint memorials, up to the signing thereof by the president of the senate, shall be subject to the rules governing the course of bills: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That amendments to joint resolutions must receive an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members elected.

RULE 61. Every bill shall be read on three separate days unless the senate deems it expedient to suspend this rule: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That after the 49th day of every regular session this rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full.

After the first reading, bills shall be referred to an appropriate standing committee.

Upon being reported back by committee, all bills shall be referred to the committee on rules and joint rules for second reading, unless otherwise ordered by the senate.

Should there be a two-thirds majority report of the committee membership against the bill, a vote shall be immediately ordered for the indefinite postponement of the bill.

COMMITTEE BILLS

Committee bills introduced by a standing committee may be filed with the secretary of the senate and introduced, and the signature of each member of the committee shall be endorsed upon the cover of the original bill.

Committee bills shall be read the first time by title, ordered printed, and referred to the committee on rules and joint rules for second reading.

SECOND READING

Upon second reading, the bill shall be read section by section, in full, and be subject to amendment: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That amendments to joint resolutions must receive an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members elected.

AMENDMENTS

No amendment shall be considered by the senate until it shall have been sent to the desk in writing and read by the secretary, and all amendments on the desk shall be read.

All amendments adopted on the second reading shall then be securely fastened to the original bill.

All amendments on joint resolutions must receive a favorable vote of two-thirds of the members elected.

All amendments rejected by the senate shall be spread upon the journal, and the journal shall show the disposition of all amendments.

When no further amendments shall be offered, the president shall declare the bill has passed its second reading, and shall be referred to the committee on rules and joint rules for third reading.

The bill with the amendments, if there be any attached thereto, shall be sent to the committee on claims and auditing which committee shall see that all amendments are properly engrossed upon the original bill, and the bill returned to the secretary before the opening of the senate on the next succeeding day.

THIRD READING

Bills on third reading shall be read in full by sections, and no amendment shall be entertained.

When a bill shall pass, it shall be certified to by the secretary, together with the vote upon final passage, noting the day of its passage thereon.

The vote must be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the senators voting for and against the same to be entered upon the journal and the majority of the members elected to the senate must be recorded thereon as voting in its favor to secure its passage by the senate. (See also Rule 3.)

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Stender to amend the resolution was lost.

Senator Greive demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Ridder, Sandison, Bailey, Washington, Day, Stender, Knoblauch and Herr.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the Permanent Rules as amended were adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson—43.

Voting nay: Senators McDougall, Woodall—2.

Absent or not voting: Senator Henry—1.

Excused: Senators Foley, Peterson (Lowell), Talley—3.

The Senate Resolution, having received a constitutional majority, the Permanent Rules as amended were adopted.

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Greive that the rules be suspended and that the Senators that were excused previously be permitted to indicate their assent to the Rules as adopted today.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "I am rising to question whether that is an actual casting of the votes or an indication of how they might have voted."

Senator Greive: "It is an indication of how they would have voted if they were here. We have very few votes against it. I just want to be sure that they can keep the record straight. They couldn't cast a vote because the vote is staid and adopted."

Senator Mardesich: "I object to this procedure. I think that we would be setting a precedent and it is entirely uncalled for. I think in the past we have seen, we have recognized that those Senators who are legitimately excused are recognized as excused in any recording of their votes and they are shown as excused. I think their constituents recognize that a Senator cannot make every vote that is here.

"I object to the principle of this thing, Senator Greive. I think it is a precedent-setting objective you have in mind. I think it could be used on power bills. I think it could be used on labor bills and I just think that we are establishing a procedure which is not in keeping with the decorum of the Senate."

Debate ensued.

Senator Greive demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Connor, Herr, Washington, Knoblauch, Ridder, Uhlman, Day and Stortini.

There being no objection, Senator Greive withdrew his motion.

Senator Holman moved that the amendment by Senators Lewis (Harry) and Sandison be laid upon the table.

The motion to table the amendment was lost on a rising vote.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Would Senator Lewis (Harry) yield to a question? Senator Lewis, this bill is expanding membership from ten to eighteen and you have taken away half its function. Don't you think the bill should be properly conformed to reduce the ten to five if you are going to take away half its function? But my question to you is this: Would you be willing to limit to the schools and universities of higher learning and leave the community colleges out because at our hearing the other day in the Appropriations Committee, we find that the interest of the community college is not only not the same as the state and the universities but it is completely antagonistic to them and I think they are hybrid in themselves.

"Maybe we should have a separate committee for community colleges but I think they are more closely identified to the K-12 rather than the state universities. I have no objection to voting for your amendment if it is limited to the four-year colleges and universities and eliminate the community colleges. Do you accept this amendment?"

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Mr. President, Senator Dore, I am shocked and surprised that you would receive an interpretation out of that hearing the other day. I did not have that reaction. I think that we have clearly, during the last session, broken the community colleges after extensive debate and many, many days and weeks of work, we have broken the area of higher education, the community colleges to this date out of the common schools.

"I think that this is a clear mandate from the legislature that we do this. Certainly there are problems in integrating the community colleges when they have been for so many years, involved with the common schools when their budgets have been mixed up and stirred together with common school budgets and I think it is reasonable that there are going to be some difficulties.

"The bill was not perfect last time in breaking the way but it certainly was a long step forward, and so I would object to any type of amendment that would tend to split higher education. I would like to say in direct answer to your question I think that the subject that we are discussing today is an extremely important one.

"Those of you who have read the report of the Temporary Advisory Committee on Higher Education will see that for the first time, to my knowledge, we have come close to a coordinated effort and cooperative effort with all the institutions of higher education. I believe sincerely if the amendment does not carry in its present form or we have a clear separation between common schools and higher education that we will lose much of the work Senator Sandison's committee has done in attempting to achieve this type of coordination.

"Senator Dore, I would just have to say that my understanding at that hearing as to the feelings of the community college people, I just cannot agree with you nor do I think that your suggestion is a valid one."

It was moved by Senator Dore that Senate Bill No. 250 be made a special order of business for 2:30 p.m. today.

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Dore carried.

SENATE BILL NO. 94, by Senators Guess and Washington:

Authorizing fire protection for state colleges.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 7, by Senators Canfield and McCormack:

Directing or dedicating property tax revenue for school, municipal and county purposes.

Referred to Committee on Ways and Means—Revenue and Taxation.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 250, by Senators Ridder, Uhlman, Huntley, Holman and Marquardt (by Joint Committee on Education request):

Increasing membership on joint committee on education.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Dore moved the adoption of the following amendment by Senator Dore to the amendment by Senators Lewis (Harry) and Sandison:

After "(4)" strike the balance of subsection (4) and insert "Relationship of post high school education to common schools, [adult education,] community colleges, and vocational and technical schools; [, and colleges and universities.]"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Holman: "I wonder if Senator Sandison would yield to a question? Senator, could you tell me, is there any difference between your amendment as distributed on the desk yesterday and your amendment as it exists up on the Secretary's desk?"

Senator Sandison: "I haven't checked the amendment up on the Secretary's desk but I understand there is a difference. Perhaps Senator Lewis (Harry) could give you a more definitive answer."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Senator Holman, yes, there is a difference. The amendment that is on your desk is the substance of the amendment. The technical amendment that is on the desk and is accurately drawn."

Senator Holman: "Thank you for your response. The point I wish to make here is that we are considering Senator Dore's amendment to an amendment which is up on the desk but is not the amendment that we have studied since yesterday and I would, therefore, move that this be made a special order of business at 12:15 p.m. for the purpose of getting copies of the amendment before the membership."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Point of inquiry. If I were to move that the bill be re-referred to the Rules Committee, would I be out of order at this time?"

The President: "No, Senator, the motion is quite in order."

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Bailey that Senate Bill No. 250 be re-referred to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules. There being no objection, it was so ordered.

SENATE BILL NO. 35, by Senators Washington, Pritchard and Talley:

Eliminating certain special motor vehicle license plates.

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 35 on second reading.

There being no objection, the Secretary read the following proposed amendment by Senator Metcalf:

On page 1, section 1, line 14, after "numbers" add "at an additional fee of five dollars" and restore the original wording to the balance of the bill.

The question before the Senate is consideration of Senator Metcalf's proposed amendment first.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gissberg: "Point of order, Mr. President. Senator Metcalf has not made a motion, Mr. President. He merely made a suggestion and not having made a motion, the only thing that is before the Senate at this time is the motion that was carried over from the past day's business and that is the motion by Senator Lewis (Brian) to adopt these amendments."

"So, if Senator Lewis objects to considering first a proposal by Senator Metcalf, that will take care of the matter unless Senator Metcalf makes an affirmative motion to that effect."

The President: "The point of order as expressed by Senator Gissberg is well taken."

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Atwood that Senate Bill No. 35 be placed at the end of the second reading calendar for today and that all amendments on the desk be printed and distributed to the members.

The motion carried.

The President signed:
HOUSE BILL NO. 169,
HOUSE BILL NO. 219.

SENATE BILL NO. 107, by Senators Uhlman, Andersen and Dore:
Authorizing sound and video recordings in certain police activities.

On motion of Senator Woodall, there being no objection, Senate Bill No. 107 was placed at the end of the second reading calendar for today.

SENATE BILL NO. 202, by Senators Canfield, Dore, Mardesich and Andersen (by Legislative Budget Committee request):

Allowing recreational use of leased state lands.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Canfield, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 202 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 202, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Holman, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Woodall—44.

Voting nay: Senators Huntley, Wilson—2.

Absent or not voting: Senator Ryder—1.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 99 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Mr. President, would Senator Atwood yield to a question? Senator Atwood, when you put the letter into the mail with return receipt requested, if the post office does not return that receipt to you indicating that it was signed for, does the process go on?"

Senator Atwood: "I am not sure I follow you. If I don't get the return receipt back?"

Senator Guess: "Right."

Senator Atwood: "Well, you don't have good service. You have to get the return receipt back, signed or unsigned, the way the bill reads."

Senator Guess: "If it comes back unsigned, then what?"

Senator Atwood: "Then you can take judgment but I don't know what judgment you would have, Senator Guess. In several of these cases the insurance companies know all about these and they tell their people not to accept these and the result is that they escape debt and liability under this guise."

Senator Guess: "Then under the law, wouldn't you have personal service to make sure that they receive the notice?"

Senator Atwood: "In some cases, maybe, but under this bill you would have personal service when you received the return receipt showing addressee refused to accept or something of that nature. If, in fact, the fellow has moved and left no forwarding address that is another matter."

Senator Guess: "And if he moves and has no forwarding address and you don't get the receipt back, then what is your course of action?"

Senator Atwood: "Well, you are kind of up a tree. You have to find some other means of getting jurisdiction over him. This happens quite a bit."

Senator Guess: "Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Woodall, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, section 1, beginning on line 8, strike all of the matter down to and including "conviction." on line 12, and insert:

thirty days but within forty days from the date judgment was entered against him to a state institution for felons designated by the director of the department of institutions: PROVIDED, That when good cause is shown, a superior court judge may order the prisoner detained in the county jail beyond said forty days for an additional period not to exceed ten days."

On motion of Senator Odegaard, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 185 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 185 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall-46.

SENATE BILL NO. 32, by Senator Uhlman:

Increasing the salary of the administrator for the courts.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 32 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Will Senator Uhlman yield to a question? Senator Uhlman, what are the qualifications leading up to this?"

Senator Uhlman: "He has to be an attorney, he has to be someone very highly qualified, very diplomatic and skillful and someone who could earn far more than $15,000 which is what we are paying him, on the outside so to speak. He has to be a very highly qualified person and the present court administrator is and I think this will help us to retain him and when he leaves to obtain somebody equally qualified."

Senator Washington: "Also for the enlightenment of Senator Peterson, he has many years of training in the FBI. His chief qualification, however, is that he is a graduate of the Ephrata High School."

Senator Durkan: "Would Senator Uhlman yield? Senator, is the court administrator in King county a retired federal employee?"

Senator Uhlman: "I don't know that there is a court administrator in King county. You mean in this position? I don't believe he is retired. I think he was with the FBI for a long period of time but I couldn't tell you if he is retired. Perhaps Senator Washington can answer whether or not he personally is retired from the FBI with full pension rights."

Senator Washington: "He is retired from the FBI. There are many people appointed to positions who may have stocks and bonds, they may have inherited real estate, they may be rich in their own right but here is a highly capable man who has held this position for many years. He has the background and training to do the job and unless we are going to determine what the financial facilities are outside of his salary, we are going to have to consider this, I suppose in the judges of the superior court, the supreme court, the governor and various other officers to determine what their outside economic resources are before we are going to give them a raise. In this we are attempting to make a raise for a position and in the future the position may be held by someone with no outside resources, or it can possibly be held by someone who does have additional resources."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 32 and the bill failed to pass the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 19; nays, 28; excused, 2.

Excused: Senators Peterson (Lowell), Talley—2.

SENATE BILL NO. 32, having failed to receive the constitutional majority, was declared lost.

The provisions of Part I of the instant bill seek to change existing laws. The provisions of Part II seek to change correlative provisions of the proposed 1969 education code if such code becomes law. It is the intent of the legislature that the provisions of Part I shall be effective only until the date upon which the 1969 education code shall take effect, upon which date the provisions of Part I shall expire and the provisions of Part II shall concomitantly become effective. It is the further intent of the legislature that Part II of the instant bill shall not take effect unless the proposed 1969 education code is adopted at this legislature, but if such event occurs then the amendatory provisions of Part II of this bill shall be construed as amending the correlative sections of the 1969 education code, and shall be construed as being in pari materia with the 1969 education code.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "Mr. President, point of parliamentary inquiry. Now that these other amendments have been adopted and we have dealt with the disposal of the money, my amendment may have to be perfected as to restoring the balance of the bill except as amended. The President: "The President believes so, Senator Metcalf."

MOTION

Senator Metcalf moved the adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Mardesich: "Point of order."

The President: "Senator Mardesich will state his point of order."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Senator McCormack: "I was going to speak on behalf of this amendment. Now the point of order has been ruled upon by the Chair. I presume we are at a point where we don't have such an amendment before us, is that correct, Mr. President?"

MOTION

It was moved by Senator McCormack that Senate Bill No. 35 take its place at the end of today's second reading calendar.

What you are trying to do is put some more money into the mass transit fund and if this goes through we will have about $200 more and we will have a total of $500 in the mass transit fund which matched by the city of Seattle will get us on the way with $1,000 to start our program."

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Sandison that the amendment by Senator Metcalf be laid upon the table.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Stender: "Point of order, Mr. President. I thought there was a motion by Senator McCormack that this bill be placed at the end of the second reading calendar for today."

The President: "The point is well taken."

The motion to place Senate Bill No. 35 at the end of the second reading calendar for today was carried by a standing vote.

SENATE BILL NO. 107, by Senators Uhlman, Andersen and Dore:

Authorizing sound and video recordings in certain police activities.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, there being no objections, Senate Bill No. 107 was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

SENATE BILL NO. 246, by Senators Ryder, Lewis (Harry) and Sandison (by Advisory Council on Public Higher Education request):

Establishing a state higher education personnel board.

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 246 on second reading.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 12, section 20, line 17, after "approval" strike "by the state central budget agency" and insert "and appropriation by the legislature"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Ryder yield to a question? Senator Ryder, I notice on page 3, line 25 after the word 'governor', we have these words: 'subject to confirmation by the Senate'. Do you have any advance information on the possibility of an item veto if we pass this bill in this particular state?"

Senator Ryder: "Senator, as long as we have the present rule on vetoes, why sure, I suppose there would be this possibility on any bill we pass."

On motion of Senator Ryder, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 2, section 4, line 26 after "(1)" and before "presidents" strike "All" and insert "Members of the governing board of each institution and related boards, all"

On motion of Senator Ryder, the following three amendments were adopted:

On page 6, section 10, line 25, after "institution" and before the colon insert "or related board"

On page 7, line 13, strike "supervising" and insert "supervisory"

On page 7, line 21, after "institution" insert "or related board"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gissberg: "Will Senator Ryder yield to a question? Senator Ryder, referring to section 20 which you just amended, I take it that an amount not to exceed one-half of one percent of the salaries and wages for all the positions to be covered by this act which would be all the community colleges and institutions of higher education to be contributed by each of the institutions covered by this act for its administration.

"Now then, how do you arrive at one-half of one percent and secondly, how much is one-half of one percent in dollars that would be going into the administration of this act.

"In other words, I have two questions: Why one-half of one percent, what is that related to in terms of experience of the existing personnel board; and secondly, how much money are we talking about that is going into this fund?"

Senator Ryder: "Senator Gissberg, I can't answer your second question because I have no figures on how much. The first question comprised, if I understand it correctly, brings the act into conformity with our present personnel board and civil service policy on state employees. How much money is involved because of bringing the community colleges into this, I don't know. I have no figures on it."

On motion of Senator Woodall, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, beginning on line 16, strike all of section 1. Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Ryder yield to a question? Senator Ryder, on page 3 at the bottom and page 4 at the top, section 6, creating a higher educational personnel board and providing for who may serve on that board, it excludes from the right to hold such an office those persons who are an officer of a political party for a period of one year immediately prior to such appointment and on line 3, page 2 and shall not be or become a candidate for partisan elective public office during the terms for which they are appointed.

"Now, I would assume that this refers to the terms to which they are appointed and if they should resign. It doesn't say so, however. What if a person were to hold one of these offices and then resign and couldn't run for any public office for a period of five years."

Senator Ryder: "I am sure the interpretation would be that when he resigned, he would be able to file for public office."

Senator Mardesich: "Now, you are assuming that. I only raised the question because I am not certain as to that, and also it provides that the expense of these members shall be fifty dollars per day and if there is no limit on the number of daily payments which they receive . . ."

Senator Ryder: "Senator Mardesich, that has been stricken by an amendment by Senator Durkan."

Senator Lewis (Brian): "Would Senator Ryder yield? Senator Ryder, section 11 of this bill on page 8 provides for the board to make reviews from time to time to make sure that these employees covered under this section, that their salary schedules shall reflect not less than prevailing rates in private industry and other governmental units for positions of a similar nature in the locality in which the institutional or related board is located.

"My questions to you would be: What private industries would be similar, and second, how do we cover the situation of these surveys? I have seen from time to time they don't seem to give due recognition to the fact that employees in private industry oft times do not get a month or more vacation and are not entitled to retirement with considerable benefits after only maybe twenty years of employment so that a direct across-the-board comparison of remuneration is not exactly germane, but yet it is always the one that is used as a way of getting a raise in salary."

Senator Ryder: "Senator Lewis, the only way that I would see that we could overcome this would be perhaps to appoint the board . . . the survey team from this body and have them give them instructions to follow along the rules and regulations which you set down in your question. I think that this is a standard procedure in the civil service act and is now in the state civil service act directing the personnel board to conduct a survey periodically, certainly a survey team or whoever it is that they hire to do this job should take into consideration all of the economic facts that pertain to the situation, so the questions which you raise in any responsible group of survey people should be automatic."

Senator Gissberg moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 12, section 20, line 18, strike lines 18 through 23 down to and including the words "RCW."

The motion by Senator Gissberg was lost on a rising vote and the amendment was not adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Ryder yield to another question? Senator Ryder, on page 14, section 23, provides for the exemption, line 11 says the provisions of this chapter do not apply to and down on line 20 it strikes certain matter 'academic personnel' and reinstates language indicating that academic personnel and employees of state institutions of higher education.

"Now, I don't know exactly what this chapter, or section of this chapter, applies to when this act seems to be an attempt to include employees of state institutions under this merit system, and I am wondering what this language excluding employees of state institutions means?"

Senator Ryder: "Senator, you will have to give me the line that you are looking at."

Senator Mardesich: "Page 14, line 11 says 'the provisions of this chapter do not apply to' and it outlines those people who will not be covered: the legislature, judges, etc. and then in subsection 3 on line 20 through 24 it attempts to exclude in line 22 employees in state institutions of higher education."

"I was under the impression that this was what we were trying to include with this bill and as I say, I am not certain what this section 47, chapter 8, Laws of 1967 does and I am wondering if there couldn't be something wrong with that?"

Senator Ryder: "My legal adviser, Senator Atwood, will answer you."

Senator Atwood: "Senator Mardesich, if you will look in section 23 that is amending Title 41.06.070, which is the state civil service law and in order to bring this act into conformity with that, this amendment is necessary. I happen to have the 41.06.070 and that is what the purpose of that stricken material and addition there is for."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "To make it a little more clear for Senator Mardesich, what we had to do in this bill, as I understand it, was to take them out from underneath the one personnel board which this section does and the other section puts them in under a separate and new personnel board which this act creates."

On motion of Senator Ryder, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 246 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Would Senator Ryder yield to a question? Senator Ryder, what are the reasons why you are taking this function out of the personnel board and setting up a separate system just like the highway system when there have been many arguments through the years that we should abolish the highway personnel board and put it back in the state personnel board, and now we are further cutting away the jurisdiction of the state personnel board?"

Senator Ryder: "I don't believe that the state personnel board has complete jurisdiction in this area now. This sets up a new board to take in the area of higher education which is not now on a statewide basis."

Senator Dore: "That is my question. Why didn't you put this under the state personnel board rather than setting up a hybrid board just for another small segment of our state budget?"

Senator Ryder: "Small segment?"

Senator Dore: "Well, whether small or large, wouldn't it be better to have consolidation under the state personnel board rather than running off into another . . ."

Senator Ryder: "The consensus of opinion of the various people who worked on it was that it should not be. It was more or less a specialized area of employment and could be handled and should be handled by a separate board rather than under the present state personnel board which is already overworked."

Senator Dore: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Senator Durkan, you offered an amendment, I think, to page 12, section 20, line 17, where you added the words 'an appropriation to the legislature'. My question to you is, what happens if the board determines the various salary schedules and it comes to the legislature and they set the amount? Is our function a function like we have to do with the federal government, merely mandatorily appropriate the money, or by your amendment do you intend that we would have discretionary power to appropriate the full amount or lesser amount or perhaps not make any appropriation at all?"

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, my position is that no agency of state government, including this proposed agency or personnel board, will spend any monies whether federal or state without an appropriation from the legislature."

Senator Bailey: "I would like to ask Senator Ryder another question? Pursuing the question Senator Gissberg asked you, I think we discussed this in the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules, what if the state board decides that it is going to certify a register of janitors or something of this sort and this is the only board that the local personnel man can select from. Wouldn't it be possible then to take away from the local institution the right to hire local people to their employment, non-certified employment. This happened in several instances, I know, in some of the other state employment and I just question whether or not we are adequately protected."

Senator Ryder: "Mr. President, yes, I think that they are adequately protected in this and that the policy of the personnel board would have to be, of course, because local people would be the ones who would have the first opportunity at least in any job opening. Now, maybe it would be possible that they would have to import someone if they couldn't find anyone in the local area for any particular job."

Senator Bailey: "Senator Ryder, I read that the way you did the first time that the local personnel man is subject to the rules and regulations of the state board and in that respect I would like to see if we couldn't work out an amendment or something to take care of it. I think we are going to have a most unhappy situation in local districts if we have all the applicants out of Seattle down in Grays Harbor and all the Grays Harbor applicants up in Seattle. It isn't going to be a very happy situation in the institutions. I don't read it the way you do."

Senator Ryder: "I would have no objection to an amendment to do exactly what you want although I think it is there, inherent in the bill now, that this would be done. As a matter of fact, several of the junior colleges could go together, for instance if they were in close enough proximity and have a joint personnel officer who would act for all of them."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Durkan: "Point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I didn't oppose Senate Bill No. 263 as an appropriation measure because actually the monies and the method by which their appropriations have already been made were predetermined by the legislature but it points up a problem which is growing larger and larger in this state, and that is where the legislature in previous years has created a commission and then earmarked funds for them and the amount of the earmarked monies at the inception was very little but over the period of years has grown and grown until the directors of the agencies, have become appropriation committees. In this particular instance it happens to be the director of the department of agriculture, who now receives nearly $600,000 in a fund for which he accounts to no one and he makes appropriations on his own decision.

"So, what I intend to do is have legislation drawn which is going to bring these funds under the control of the legislature so that we shall be the appropriating body, and I just wanted to point out to you today that a little bill such as Senator Canfield's bill, while it is laudatory in many things, does point up the problem whereby the funds which are earmarked and the fund itself while it grows, causes the director of the department to become the appropriating agency."

Excused: Senator McCormack—1.

SENATE BILL NO. 55, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Bailey: "Personal privilege. Mr. President, I read in one of the Seattle papers yesterday something to the effect that at Governor Evans' press conference, it was mentioned that every member of the Senate may well put in for a trip to Japan to the World's Fair. I would like to make a comment myself that I know of no effort to do this unless the Republican minority plans to do it. I would like to hear from them on this matter. Also, if there is any such effort I think the Governor is going to have trouble getting his million dollars for the fair itself because we have great need in the state of Washington without going to some World's Fair in a foreign country."

Senator Atwood: "Mr. President, in response to Senator Bailey's remarks, I think the press took him out of context because we questioned the Governor very closely on this and he said that he would give us a one-way ticket."

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, the present opinion of the chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee is that there won't be anything to go over to see anyway because that million, too, can be well spent here in the state of Washington."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Washington, Senate Bill No. 359 was ordered to be placed on the second reading calendar for Wednesday, February 12, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 35, by Senators Washington, Pritchard and Talley:

Eliminating certain special motor vehicle license plates.

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 35.

Senator Metcalf moved the adoption of the following amendments:

On page 1, section 1, beginning on line 14, after "numbers" restore the original language of the statute down to and including "fund]" on page 2, line 11, and on lines 14 and 15 strike "[thirty]" and insert "thirty"

On page 2, line 15, after "tv]" insert "dollars in the case of personalized plates and", and after "five dollars" insert "in the case of amateur radio operator's call license plates"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Metcalf yield to a question? Senator Metcalf, do I understand that under this bill, if your amendments carry I could go and ask for a certain initial and then they would give me a number that was personalized?"

Senator Metcalf: "Yes, you could ask for three letters and then three numbers as long as it follows that pattern and as long as it wasn't issued to someone else. This is the present law today and it has worked fine."

Senator Woodall: "Could several people have the same first three letters, for example could lawyers have LAW and then numbers, doctors could have DOC and then numbers? Do you suppose I could get one issued to me that read WSP?"

Senator Metcalf: "Specifically in answer to your question, I believe they are already taken, Senator."

Further debate ensued.

MOTIONS

Senator Talley moved that the amendments by Senator Metcalf be laid upon the table. The motion lost on a rising vote.

The motion by Senator Metcalf carried and the amendments were adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Lewis (Harry) yield to a question? Senator Lewis, I fail to see what amending of this particular section of the law as it is shown in Senate Bill No. 130 would have to do with the residence of the pro tempore police judge."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "The language, Senator Mardesich, eliminates the requirement that the police judge pro tempore live in the city. This is the only change. Does that answer your question?"

Senator Mardesich: "Yes, thank you."

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 1, by Senator Faulk:

Utilizing school buildings twelve months a year.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

January 27, 1969.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 1, utilizing school buildings twelve months a year (reported by Committee on Education):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On line 7, following "that the" strike all the material down to and including "consideration." on line 13 and insert:

"Joint Committee on Education is authorized and directed to commence an in-depth study of the potentialities and problems of the utilization of public school facilities on a year-round basis. The Joint Committee on Education is specifically directed to study the following areas of concern:

"(1) The four-quarter system for public common schools

"(2) Other variations and adaptations of a twelve month school year, including the feasibility of a state supported tuition-free summer educational and recreational program

"(3) Educational and recreational programs which might more fully utilize school facilities on a year-round basis

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Joint Committee on Education is directed to report the results of this study, with recommendations, to the next regular or special legislative session succeeding the forty-first legislature."

Signed by: Senators Ridder, Chairman; Andersen, Elicker, Knoblauch, McCutcheon, Marquardt, Metcalf, Odegaard, Peterson, (Ted), Uhlman, Washington.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Ridder moved the adoption of the committee amendment.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Would Senator Ridder yield to a question? Senator Ridder, what are finite parameters?"

Senator Ridder: "It involves the number of different areas considering the use of school property for recreation and school property for educational purposes. What we try to do is draw up some lines and make it more specific. Is that a better way to put it?"

Senator Canfield: "Thank you."

Senator Lewis (Brian): "Mr. President, would Senator Ridder yield to a question? Senator Ridder, the last line of the amendment says 'the joint committee on education is directed to report the results of its study to the next or regular legislative session succeeding the forty-first legislature'."

"I presume from reading that, Senator that the intent of the committee when they drafted that if there is a special session next year you would like to have their results by that time. Yet, I interpret a special session next year as being a special session of the forty-first legislature so therefore as I would understand the amendment as it reads now, the results would not be reported until at least two years from now whereas I deduce you wanted it one year from now. Could you advise me on that?"

Senator Ridder: "I understand the point. In other words, the special legislative session would really be an extension of this forty-first legislature, if this be the law we are somewhat in error and this should be amended. However, it says the next regular so it would be two years from this date at least or three years if that need be which is perfectly all right."

"I think in the sense as it is drafted there should be no problem. It still will be reported in the next session . . . the forty-second session of the legislature. It may mean by this wording until the special session of the forty-second legislature but I doubt that this would take place so I think really that this breeds a little ambiguity but it will work out."

Further debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Woodall, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1 was placed at the end of the second reading calendar for today.

SENATE BILL NO. 291, by Senators Sandison and Ryder:

Permitting persons over 18 to donate blood without parental consent.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Sandison, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 291 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Would Senator Sandison yield to a question? Senator Sandison, will this give these people the right to vote, too?"

Senator Sandison: "No, but while they are thinking about it they can give a pint of blood."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 291, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall—48.

Excused: Senator McCormack—1.

SENATE BILL NO. 297, by Senators Uhlman, Walgren and Greive:

Providing mandatory retirement ages for justice court judges.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

It was moved by Senator Talley that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 10 after "act" and before the period insert " PROVIDED, However, that in counties of the third to the ninth class judges of justice courts now in office, in any county of such class, may serve one additional term if re-elected notwithstanding the provisions of this act"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Uhlman yield to a question? Senator Uhlman, did I understand from your remarks that you are supposed to wait until you are seventy-five before you start enjoying life?"

Senator Uhlman: "Senator Woodall, I think an exception can be made in your instance."

The motion was lost on a rising vote and the amendment was not adopted.

It was moved by Senator Metcalf that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 8, strike "five"

Debate ensued.

The motion was lost and the amendment was not adopted.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 297 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon: "I wonder if Senator Uhlman would yield to a question? Do I understand if a man is seventy that he can run for election at seventy or when does the seventy-five take effect? By running and being elected at seventy do I have to quit before the end of the term or is that in the bill?"

Senator Uhlman: "At the end of the calendar year, Senator 'in which the judge attains the age of seventy-five.'"

Senator McCutcheon: "The end of the calendar year, whether his term expires or not?"

Senator Uhlman: "That is correct. That is the way that it is now for the superior and the supreme court."

Senator McCutcheon: "I was wondering also if you would yield to another question? Did you ever hear the story of Judge Gordon in Seattle or are you too young?"

Senator Uhlman: "No, sir, I haven't heard that story but I would be delighted to hear it at this time."

Senator McCutcheon: "He looked like he was asleep on the bench but he wasn't. I had a client that said, 'why, that's terrible, that old man is sitting up there and he hasn't heard a word for two days. He's asleep.' I said 'what do you mean he's asleep.' He said 'It's a disgrace.'

"But I saw my client again a week later and he said 'I changed my mind. That old gentlemen in there, why they asked a witness a question and he answered it and the judge woke up and said 'that's not what you said last Friday!'"

Voting nay: Senator Donohue—1.

Absent or not voting: Senators Day, Pritchard—2.

Excused: Senator McCormack—1.

Their strength was really in the fact that some of them recognized their weakness and turned to You for guidance and help.

“Help us to rise to our tasks by recognizing the fact that if we are to lead wisely and justly we too may need to go down on our knees to seek your guidance and help. Amen.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bailey, the rules were suspended and all members of the majority caucus were added as additional sponsors to Senate Resolution 1969-13.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGES

Senator Washington: "Mr. President, Mrs. Lennart and members of the Senate, I am very happy that Senator Bailey rose to make the motion that he did. I was prepared to make the same motion.

"It was my privilege early in my legislative career to have lived in the same apartment house with Ernie and Mrs. Lennart. They lived upstairs and we lived down and I learned that, although there is much truth in the resolution which states that Ernie Lennart did a great deal for the Republican Party, he did more. Of course, in being a universal man and having so many talents in so many ways, I think, he was recognized on both sides of this aisle as perhaps the most outstanding who sat on the floor of the Senate. It is an honor to the Republican Party to have had such a man. But nevertheless he was a human being, he was a member of this Senate, and I think many of us, and I know I had the feeling that he was one of my closest personal friends who had that capacity, yet when I talk to other Democrats on this side of the aisle, they also had the feeling he was one of their closest personal friends.

"So it certainly was fitting for Senator Bailey to make the motion that he did and again Abraham Lincoln himself, of course, was such a universal person and it was an honor that he was a member of the Republican Party. He was such a marvelous, great American that at one of those celebrations, of course, we also on this side of the aisle honor him, just as we pay tribute to Ernie Lennart as being a friend of ours. I know having ancestors, my grandmother and grandfather who came from the south, even though they were southerners they still could not help but have a great deal of respect for Abraham Lincoln, again indicating how universal he is in the respect and love of the American people.

"Again, it is a real pleasure and an honor for me, Mrs. Lennart, that you were able to come. I know the rest of the Democrats and everyone here in the Senate feel the same way, but I couldn't overlook this opportunity to say a few words in behalf of my personal friend, Ernie Lennart."

Senator McCutcheon: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I miss Ernie Lennart. Mrs. Lennart, I miss your husband personally and sincerely. I think everyone on this floor does. He left an imprint on all of us by his character, his courage, his cheerfulness which we, perhaps, loved the most of all. His knowledge, he was a learned man. He inspired respect everywhere on both sides of the aisle. He didn't belong to any party. He was bigger than that. He was bigger than anyone in this Senate that I have ever known and I miss him terribly. We all do and I have often eulogized him here before in this chamber and I do so this morning but there is nothing further that I can say. I regret his departure. We are all going to join him somewhere in a happier land.

"Mrs. Lennart, I wrote you a letter, my heartfelt sympathy goes out to you. Thank you."

Senator Ryder: "Mr. President, Mrs. Lennart, members of the Senate, I rise to concur wholeheartedly in the remarks that have been made here in behalf of Ernie Lennart and in praise of him.

"He was one of the really great in our times in state government. A man who was dedicated, a man who gave his whole heart to the job of better government in the state of Washington and as Senator McCutcheon said, a nonpartisan type. I personally learned a great deal from Ernie when I first came to the legislature, he was in the Senate, I came into the House. The fine details of political maneuvering, of course, I learned from Senator Woodall who was then the counsel for the Speaker in the House, but in the overall philosophy of government and in the approach really to the real good things that we can gain out of our service in state government, I learned from Ernie.

"Mrs. Lennart took in my daughter the last session when she was a page over in the House and was unable to find a place to live down here. Mrs. Lennart asked her to come into her family and live with her during the session, which she did. With that contact I became very closely associated and acquainted with Ernie, and he gave me a great many Ernie Lennartites during the first few years of my service and I've had nothing but a great deal of praise for him and humbleness in the dedication and the service which he has given to the state of Washington."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Mr. President, Mrs. Lennart and members of the Senate, I want to say that in all the years that I spent in the legislature I spent, with the exception of last session, with Ernie Lennart in what I called the 'cellblock' up above, Senator Ernie Lennart, Senator Raugust, Senator Freise and I were there. I have to rise because of the heritage that was placed and was behind Senator Lennart. I can recall last session that Senator Gissberg and I were able to work out a resolution that he could take to Sweden, his original native land, and when he came back he told me of the things that had happened there and the reverence and the way that the people of Sweden and particularly his home town held him so. I've always felt that closeness to him, he was a legislator's legislator. There isn't any question about that.

"It hasn't been mentioned that he was a great artist. The drawings that he made of Lieutenant Governor Cherberg were masterpieces. He had the qualifications of a great man and he stayed on the Washington legislative level which he loved. There were other things, when he came to my home, and when we talked about what he called those wonderful 'cottage cheese pancakes.' He just really emoted and it was always a pleasure to talk to him.

"It is really wonderful to be counted as a personal friend of Ernie Lennart."

Senator Stortini: "Mr. President, Mrs. Lennart, members of the Senate, I would like to speak for the back row, the freshmen. Most of us did not know the Senator but I can remember a famous saying Abraham Lincoln had and he used it many times and he said 'I am for those means that will do the greatest good for the greatest number' and it sounds to me that Senator Lennart had this same philosophy."

Senator Lewis (Brian): "Mr. President, Mrs. Lennart, members of the Senate, one evening last spring my wife and I had the distinct pleasure to have Senator Lennart and his wife, Edith, as guests in our home in Bellevue for dinner, prior to attending the forty-first district caucus, Republican caucus of the forty-first district in King county. As you all know, the forty-first district was Ernie's home district in Whatcom county and now by redistricting it is a King county district.

"Senator Lennart was our incumbent Senator and we thought it fitting and proper that he should come to attend our district caucus and be recognized for his many years of service to the Republican Party. Little did I think that when Ernie and Edith sat down at our dining room table that that indeed would be his last supper and that three hours later he would have left us. I want to tell you because I was the only one in this Chamber privileged to be there. The address that he gave to our forty-first Republican caucus was in the true spirit of an outstanding Ernie Lennart address, and while he had no way of knowing that this would be his last address, in fact thirty minutes after leaving the podium he had left us, I can assure, Mrs. Lennart and gentlemen of the Senate, that had he been able to write his last speech this certainly would have been the speech that he would have written.

"I feel it a distinct privilege and a responsibility somewhat awesome to occupy the seat from the forty-first district that Ernie Lennart held for so long. I hope that I can even begin to measure up to one inch part of his stature.

"I, too, join my colleagues in mourning his passing."

Senator Dore: "Mr. President, Mrs. Lennart, members of the Senate, if I had made the speech Senator Washington made I think mine would have been the same because I too felt that he was a very close personal friend and I guess he gave that impression to all of us.

"The thing that I shall remember about Senator Lennart is that he was a man of conviction, integrity and courage. Now although he did not represent an area up in Whatcom County where the minority problem was of any particular concern, he spoke out forthrightly on this. He jointly sponsored and actively worked for the passage of the 'open housing' law long before the great public opinion swelled up. I shall always remember him as a leader of the civil rights movement in the state of Washington because he was a man of courage. He believed in what he said. He voted in the Rules Committee for what he believed in on the floor. He spoke on the floor what he believed in his heart. I shall always remember Senator Lennart as a man of courage, conviction and integrity."

Senator Odegaard: "Mr. President, Mrs. Lennart and members of the Senate, I would like to say a few words in behalf of Senator Lennart.

"I was raised in Sumas, Mrs. Lennart, you might remember although I haven't seen you for many years now, but he was my Senator for many, many years even though he was on the other side of the aisle politically. He served us well in Whatcom county and he was a man many people asked to speak to their respective groups, that was Ernie Lennart. He always gave such an inspiring talk with that little Swedish accent.

"I would just like to say this in the memory of Senator Lennart."

On motion of Senator Atwood, the resolution was unanimously adopted.

The President announced the presence within the bar of the Senate of Senator Perry B. Woodall and appointed a special committee consisting of Senators Bailey and Ryder to act as a committee of honor to escort the Honorable Perry B. Woodall to a place of honor upon the rostrum.

"Honored and respected members of the Senate, Mrs. Lennart, ladies and gentlemen, the President is not going to begin a process of canonization or necessarily prepare our speaker for the devil but I do believe that those of us in the Senate Chamber today are most fortunate to have a man of Senator Perry Woodall's caliber to address us.

"When I listened to the fine gentlemen of the Senate speak of our late friend, Ernie Lennart, and especially the eloquent remarks by Senator McCutcheon, I thought how many of them fit our speaker of today. When Senator McCutcheon spoke of cheerfulness, courage and a sense of humor, he was also speaking of Senator Woodall. The President might add that as Ernie was an authority on constitutional law so is Perry. I don't think that any of us can find a person that we admire more than Perry and whose career of public service matches that of Ernie very, very closely. And one further distinction I believe that of all the members of the legislature and perhaps of anybody in the state of Washington, that Perry Woodall comes closest to going back to the period of Abraham Lincoln's life through his father, who is still living with Perry in Toppenish. How old is your dad now, Perry?"

Senator Woodall: "Ninety-four."

The President: "Ninety-four. So you can see that the remarks of the President do have considerable merit. Now, ladies and gentlemen, it is with the greatest pride and pleasure that the President presents to you at this time the Honorable Perry B. Woodall."

Senator Woodall: "Mr. President, Mrs. Lennart, members of the Senate and Friends, I feel a little inadequate about one thing I have been asked to do here this morning. There are none here who knew Ernie longer than I and as I look around the room, I see only two who knew him as long. I first met him in 1941 when he joined the House of Representatives. I note that Senator McCutcheon served in that session and also Senator Henry, I believe they are the only two who are presently in this body who served with him in the 1941 session in the House of Representatives.

"I cannot add much to what has been said about the greatness of this man. We remember him for the things he said to us and I'm not going to try and make a Lincoln Day address in the wake of this man because I feel unworthy to fill his shoes. If you will bear with me I am going to read to you the last address that Ernie made to this body. I shall not have quite all the fervor, quite all of the greatness which he gave but I shall do my best."

Senator Woodall then read: (See pages 369-371, 1967 Senate Journal)

The President: "Thank you very much, Senator Woodall. That was a wonderful rendition of a message that we shall always remember.

"At this time honored members of the Senate, I should like to request of the Honorable Reuben A. Knoblauch that he come to the rostrum to deliver remarks in memory of Ernie Lennart."

Senator Knoblauch: "Mr. President, Mrs. Lennart, and members of the Senate, ladies and gentlemen: I have talked to Mrs. Lennart about these words I am about to say. I wasn't sure that they may not be a little too sad for her to listen to but she assured me that I could go ahead because she thought I was talking from the heart.

"When I think of Ernest Lennart, a smile comes to my face. He is away but he is still here. His voice is quiet but it still rings throughout these chambers. Most of us here will always remember his loud and joyful laugh. How he loved his fellowman and how he enjoyed life. We can still hear his beautiful Swedish accent as he gave his annual Lincoln Day address here in this room. Perhaps we could not always understand every word that he spoke but always we knew he was expounding the virtues of a man he admired so much, his beloved Abraham Lincoln. Throughout the twenty-three years that I served with Ernest Lennart, we developed a very close friendship between the two of us. As much as a man can love another man, I loved and respected the truly Christian gentleman as my own father.

"In a way Ernest Lennart was close to me because of the land of his birth. He came from Sweden as did my own mother. They came to this land so far from home as they heard about the good opportunities in America. They found a new home, they worked hard, and they both found much happiness as devoted mates with a large family of which they were so proud.

"My thoughts turn today to that very impressive and inspiring Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C. Like Ernest Lennart must have felt, I felt truly humble as I walked up the steps of that memorial in awesome reverence in what seemed to be the lifelike presence of one of America's greatest men. The inscription over the head of the statue reads 'In this temple as in the hearts of the people for whom he saved the Union, the memory of Abraham Lincoln is enshrined forever.' The Gettysburg Address and the Second Inaugural Address are inscribed in the two small chambers.

"There is no memorial, no impressive memorial, to the great man to whom we pay tribute today. A servant whose example of true public service will always be our inspiration. Though there is no statue of our beloved Senator Lennart in our state capitol, the memory of his devoted service to the people of our state will be written on the tablets of love and memory.

"A personal treasure to me is the letter which Senator Lennart wrote to me dated April 30, 1967 in the closing days of that session. I am sure that he wrote to other members of the Senate in similar vein but I will always remember those words from Ernest Lennart to me and I am only going to read the personal part that I want to read from his letter.

"... The great fact of life is death. Thus on any other day, some day, some year, perhaps not in the not too distant future I will, like all men, have to answer the summons. I think and I hope that at that time you will occupy your chair in the Senate. There is a custom and a beautiful one, it is true, as members of this Senate depart for the undiscovered country to commemorate their memory with appropriate services. I want you to sweeten my departure by, in your own words, scribbling off a scroll like a little man from Heaven three thousand years ago when the Shepherd David gathered it up in a Psalm, 'The Lord is my shepherd'. At that time I will need no one to mourn me. Being in the bosom of the ground I will not heed it. I will need pity for I will have gone where the servant is free of his master. Where the weary are at rest.'

"Today, Mrs. Lennart, the members of the Washington State Senate proudly honor a good man and a good and faithful public servant. He spent his life so full of goodness, a friend whose memory will always bring a smile to our faces. Our tribute to you, Senator Ernest Lennart, are the words 'well done, thou good and faithful servant'."

The President: "Thank you very much, Senator Knoblauch. We all know that your remarks certainly came from the heart."

Senator Woodall: "Mr. President, I want to thank you for your splendid introduction and for the honor of having been here.

"I just want to share with you one little remark Mrs. Lennart made just a second ago when I concluded reading, she turned to me and said, 'you read it well, but you didn't get the Swedish accent in it.'"

The President: "Mrs. Lennart has requested of the President that he express her great appreciation and gratitude to the members of the Senate and especially to the gentlemen who spoke so beautifully in memory of her late beloved husband.

The committee of honor escorted Senator Woodall from the rostrum to his seat in the Senate Chamber.

The President: "Mrs. Lennart, the members of the Senate and the President are honored that you graced the Senate Chamber with your presence today. Thank you very much for coming."

The committee of honor escorted Mrs. Lennart from the rostrum.

THIRD READING

SENATE BILL NO. 246, by Senators Ryder, Lewis (Harry) and Sandison (by Advisory Council on Public Higher Education request):

Establishing a state higher education personnel board.

The bill was read the third time by sections.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Stender: "I wonder if Senator Ryder would yield to a question? I have had considerable inquiry during the last ten days with respect to this bill and particularly from people in the community colleges. They seem to hold an apprehension that this bill would perhaps put them in a disadvantaged position with other areas of the state insofar as employment and salaries and such as that which pertains to the non-certificated employees of the community colleges.

"Under this board could this possibly come about, that the status salary-wise and job-wise would be protected directly in these various areas in which the colleges are situated?"

Senator Ryder: "Well, Senator, this is one of the questions of course which we discussed on second reading with the amendments which had been proposed and this does give to the local colleges much control over this area as long as their personnel policy is within the general policy of the state board.

"As a matter of information, the bill was produced by a committee which had representation on it from the community colleges and they agreed one hundred percent with the basic policy reflected in the bill and did approve it."

Senator Stender: "One further question. Maybe I didn't make it direct, Senator Ryder, the question of salaries to these employees is now established by the local community college board, isn't that correct?"

Senator Ryder: "That is correct."

Senator Stender: "Now under this proposed bill Senate Bill No. 246, who will establish the salary at the community college level for those same employees looking to the future if this bill becomes law?"

Senator Ryder: "There will be salary schedules which will be set down as I see it by the personnel board to the higher education personnel board and the local institutions' personnel officers or groups will set the salaries within that schedule."

Senator Stender: "The bill would have some influence on those salaries on the local campus areas?"

Senator Ryder: "The state board?"

Senator Stender: "The particular area, say the community college in my district for example, has a certain salary schedule they are working under presently. If this bill passes and salary adjustments are made in future years what measure would the local community college have affecting the salary of the employees on that college campus?"

Senator Ryder: "Well, the individual salary, of course, would be set by the state board as I have said before, however, the individual salary within that range would be determined by the local group, the local personnel officer."

Senator Stender: "Senator, if I might ask one further question, supposing Highline Community College has a different salary schedule for employees than say the Columbia Basin Community College. In the future years, would that difference be maintained or would they all be put on one salary schedule for the same job?"

Senator Ryder: "It certainly would be brought more closely together probably than they are now through the operation of the state personnel board. However, in the final analysis the level of salaries is going to be pretty much determined by the legislature in its appropriation for the various colleges."

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Ryder the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and Engrossed Senate Bill No. 246 was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Durkan: "Point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I voted for this bill and I voted for the amendment but it seems strange to me that for years we have been skirting the real issue and that is we talk about implied consent and we talk about spot checks and we talk about people who don't have insurance going to jail but the legislature has yet failed to face up to the real problem and that is when a person is convicted of drunken driving he gets a mandatory jail sentence.

"That is the real issue that we have been discussing here for the last four years and some of us who have had some qualms about implied consent and about spot checks feel that we wouldn't need these things if the defendant was given all the due process and at the time he was convicted we said to him 'if you come into court and you are convicted of drunken driving, you are going to jail', and that is what the legislature should really be talking about."

SENATE BILL NO. 222, by Senators Dore, Herr, Greive, Connor, Ridder, Talley, Uhlman, Cooney, Stortini, Holman and Keefe:

MOTION

Senator Ryder: "Yes, Mr. President and members of the Senate, this is a bill that was studied by the pension commission and Senator Williams, who would remember and was the chairman of that commission, has written a letter to Senator Stortini about it, as chairman of the committee, and then another letter has come out analyzing it for the benefit of the members of the Senate and I think that Senator Williams who is absent today should be here to explain the commission's position."

Senator Greive: "Mr. President, I will join Senator Ryder in that motion."

There being no objections, Senate Bill No. 222 was ordered retained on the second reading calendar for Monday, February 17.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gissberg: "I would like to inquire if I could of Senator Elicker whether or not the cities and the towns are not required to make a contribution into the fund?"

Senator Elicker: "The volunteer fire departments and you are right, Senator Gissberg there are a few paid fire departments who are using the volunteer firemen's fund, they make a contribution into the fund which amounts to $10 per fireman per year for pension benefit, $5 for disability, a total of $15. We don't propose to raise this."

Senator Gissberg: "Can I assure the governing bodies of the towns in my district that this bill will not result in any further financial burdens upon them?"

Senator Elicker: "Well, Senator, the only way that this could impose any further financial burden upon them would be if they actuarially experience, and I have a letter here from the actuary for the volunteer firemen's fund, if the actuarial experience that we have had in the past does not prove sound in the future, I think this would be an unlikely contingency, then I suppose as with any pension system, it might require some increased contributions but if we can go on the basis of past actuarial experience, no."

On motion of Senator Stortini, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 183 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Andersen: "Is the purpose of this amendment, Senator Mardesich, to prevent a port district from evading the public bidding aspects of the law by breaking large blocks of property down into lots of less than twenty-five hundred dollars and so making private sales?"

Senator Mardesich: "That is the intent and I believe that is what the amendment accomplishes."

On motion of Senator Greive, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 222 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "If I may, Mr. President, I would like to ask Senator Durkan a question. Senator Durkan, I know you are a very important man and you are writing a budget that is going to be before this body soon and my question to you is this: Is there going to be money in this budget at your suggestion to give the cities adequate aid so that these pension advances may be adequately met?"

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, we are going to appropriate funds which the legislature will think is sufficient to the cities. We are not going to earmark it beyond a formula and we would hope that the cities will do the same thing as they did last time and that is that they used a great deal of it for their law enforcement and fire protection so I would think that when the budget comes out some time next week, that the cities will be very happy and I hope that the Republicans will support me on the increase."

Senator McCutcheon: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, would Senator Williams yield to a question? Senator Williams, as the sponsor of this bill or as an opponent of this bill, can you tell me how many firemen there are in the state of Washington who would be affected by it?"

Senator Williams: "Well, Senator McCutcheon, that is entirely a matter of the retirees coming up from here on out. This matter has been brought out about people already drawing disability and as Senator Dore replied, people who shouldn't be drawing disability but this bill will give a better deal to the widow of that person if they don't draw disability so I expect it will be a very large number."

Senator McCutcheon: "Thank you very much."

Further debate ensued.

Senators Keefe, Greive and Connor demanded the previous question and the demand was not sustained.

Further debate ensued.

Senators Peterson (Lowell), Greive and Uhlman demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Voting nay: Senators Atwood, Elicker, Faulk, Gissberg, Guess, Huntley, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McDougall, Matson, Metcalf, Pritchard, Ryder, Williams, Woodall—15.

PROTEST

Senate Bill No. 222 mandates cities to pay escalating benefits based on a legislature-imposed escalator benefits clause without providing cities the means to pay such increased benefits, clearly violating the home rule principle legislatively rewriting the contracts which city and firemen operate under, and providing benefits for one class of public employees which are not available generally.

The increases mandated cannot be justified as necessary to keep pace with the increased cost of living.

The escalator clause represents a piecemeal approach to a problem of general application. Public pension legislation should be framed in principles applicable to all public pensions. Systems should be consolidated to accomplish administrative savings and provide benefits equitably.

General cost of living adjustments tied to a reliable index should be a part of every pension plan in order to guarantee that the purchasing power of the pension be maintained.

Legislation designed to do this is warranted, has been introduced and should be supported.

Signed by: Senators Williams, Matson, Newschwander, Huntley, McDougall, Lewis (Brian), Woodall, Ryder, Lewis (Harry), Faulk.

Regulating use of dangerous weapons.

The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 123 on second reading and the following pending amendment by Senator Uhlman:

On page 2, section 1, line 13, strike the whole of subsection (f).

Senator Uhlman moved the adoption of the amendment.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Uhlman yield? Senator Uhlman, as I now read the bill, the House has taken out section 2, is that the way you so construe it?"

Senator Uhlman: "That is correct, Senator."

Senator Woodall: "So that the original purpose of the bill that we didn't want people carrying these weapons into public buildings such as coming down here or coming to city hall has now been pretty well gutted out of the bill. Is that correct?"

Senator Uhlman: "Well, that one provision is removed, however, you do note, Senator, that section 1 still does leave a substantial portion of the bill."

Senator Woodall: "Is it not against the law now to . . ."

Senator Uhlman: "Senator, this creates a new crime and makes an additional crime for the prosecutor to charge an individual who does carry a weapon. There are numerous weapons listed there and I think it adequately covers the problem. Section 2 will be degraded more as Senator Andersen has an amendment to reinstate the language in section 2 that the House struck."

Senator Woodall: "Now, as I understand it, the bill was up before my committee, section 1 is the exhibiting or using in a threatening manner, section 2 was to give some protection when people come into a public building armed with these clubs but they have not as yet used them in a threatening manner, so apparently they can do nothing about it. That was the idea of including it.

"Now, what I want to ask is, with your striking out the exemption of what a person does in his place of abode or fixed place of business, have you not pretty much, in fact, destroyed self defense as a defense?"

Senator Uhlman: "As a matter of fact, Senator, no, just to the contrary. You will note that the crime is created in section 1. Section 4 is the exceptions to that crime and we frankly don't want to create an exception. We don't want to permit somebody to come into a person's place of abode and to intimidate him with a weapon and to be able to perform these acts without any compunction whatsoever."

Senator Woodall: "Well, Senator Uhlman, I don't want to carry on any lengthy debate on it but as I read the section you have stricken, it is an exception to the crime which says that a man has a right to have a gun on his own fixed place of abode or in his own place of business. When you strike that out have you not made it a crime for a man to have a gun in his fixed place of business?"

Senator Uhlman: "Absolutely not. What we are doing by striking that, Senator, then is an exception to the crime."

Senator Woodall: "Right."

Senator Uhlman: "If you will note what we are simply saying is that a person cannot willfully come in and intimidate, etc. a person in his place of abode."

Senator Woodall: "I'm sorry, Senator. I don't read it like you do at all because this is an exception to the crime. It says it doesn't apply to a man who has it in his own fixed place of business. Now, when you take that exception out then you say it does apply to a man even when he has it in his own fixed place of business.”

Senator Uhlman: “Well, on the contrary, Senator. If you read section 1 it sets out the crime itself. Now, you say that this is not a crime if you leave subsection (a) in . . . ‘if any act is committed by a person while in his place of abode or fixed place of business’. It clearly would remove the right to defend yourself in your fixed place of business or your abode if you leave this in.”

On motion of Senator Gissberg, Engrossed House Bill No. 123 was ordered to retain its place on second reading calendar for tomorrow.

SENATE BILL NO. 218, by Senators Durkan, Greive, Ryder and Uhlman:

Preserving parks and parklands.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Durkan moved the adoption of the following committee amendments:

In section 1, line 11, after "is" and before "for" strike "appropriated" and insert "publicly owned or permanently dedicated"

In section 2, line 21, after "acquisition," and before "unless" insert "or has been permanently dedicated for use as a public park and is administered by a public agency or trust,"

In section 2, line 21, after "unless" and before "adequate" insert " , upon demand therefor,"

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Elicker: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Senator, what would happen in a situation, for instance the only one that I can think of currently, and I assume that this would apply to city park property, your section 2 also, it is so broad. For example on Aurora Avenue where it passes through Woodland Park, I assume that is still highway 99, if the highway department wanted to widen it by thirty feet, and this would encroach into the park property?"

"Now this isn't my district but I lived there for many years. I don't know how it would be at all possible to replace any property in the vicinity of Woodland Park. What problems would be involved here?"

Senator Durkan: "Well, probably without specifics, the park owner, the city, would have the right to demand equal property and it would then require the highway department either to go north or south, obviously, so they would be required to supply upon demand. We are assuming in this bill that the municipality is going to be a reasonable prudent person in asking for additional property but the one reason why they can't just accept money is because we cannot condemn for park purposes but we can require the highway department, and this would be a highway use because they can condemn the additional property and give it to the park."

Senator Washington: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Senator Durkan, I might say that I had talked to you yesterday about this bill and you had agreed to hold it over. A problem does occur to me, one particularly involving irrigation districts who might have to cross park property and would not then have the right of eminent domain for park purposes. There may be other agencies that in order to acquire the substitute land might need eminent domain powers and it occurred to me perhaps an amendment should be added which would allow any such agency to condemn the property necessary in replacement. I think such an amendment could easily be worked out but it just occurred to me now, and I think it is something we should explore before the bill is passed."

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, Senator Washington and members of the Senate, Senator Washington has a great facility at the last moment to raise a good question. I'm not so sure that he is not correct on the matter."

On motion of Senator Durkan, Senate Bill No. 218 and the pending committee amendments were ordered to hold their place on the second reading calendar for tomorrow.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Guess: "I would like to speak on a point of personal privilege."

The President: "The Senator will speak upon his point of personal privilege."

Senator Guess: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I have distributed on the desks of each of you this morning, two pieces of news items that came from the Spokesman Review and under the date of February 15, 1969. The first piece was a columnist's article about a dance that he had attended in New York and the headline on it is 'No Artistic

Justification Found for Lewd Movies', and then on the righthand side of the page is the editorial which I would like to highly commend the Spokesman Review for publishing. The title of this one is 'Obscenity Invades the Personal Right' and so I would like very much, if you would permit me, to read the last paragraph in which it says 'and if the Ford Foundation with its untaxed income is knowingly subsidizing such things, it too can take some credit for what is happening to the freedom of choice in this country.'

"After having introduced three pieces of legislation which have to do with the rights of a parent to regulate whether or not their child will take certain tests or materials in school, and as the author of a bill which has received quite a bit of adverse comment, a bill which passed the Senate of the state of Washington in 1967, and one which I believe is most necessary in order to protect the youth and moral fiber of America, and so it was with a great deal of pleasure that I found in Saturday's newspaper the editorial which I have placed on your desks. I wanted to take this opportunity to commend the Spokesman Review for a high level of editorial comment. Thank you."

SENATE BILL NO. 92, by Senators Atwood and Uhlman:

Establishing public defender system.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 13, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 92, establishing public defender system (reported by Judiciary Committee):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, section 2, line 20, after "territorially" strike "continuous" and insert "contiguous"

On page 2, section 5, line 19, after the period following "district" add a new paragraph as follows:

"Expenditures by the public defender shall be subject to the provisions of Chapter 36.40 RCW and other statutes relating to expenditures by counties."

Signed by: Senators Uhlman, Chairman; Dore, Vice Chairman; Atwood, Foley, Gissberg, Holman, McCormack, Ridder, Twigg, Woodall.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Atwood the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 17, before "counties" strike "whole" and insert "more entire"

On motion of Senator Atwood the following amendment was adopted:

On page 3, section 9, line 26, after "attorney" strike "a"

On motion of Senator Lewis (Brian) the following amendment was adopted:

On page 2, section 6, line 23, after "duties" and before the semicolon insert "":
PROVIDED, That the compensation of the public defender shall not exceed that of the county prosecutor in those districts which comprise only one county"

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I rise to ask Senator Atwood if he would yield to a question? Senator Atwood, I know this doesn't affect King county and I just wondered if you could give an example. I think there is a question as to where something like this would fit in. I have an idea that you are referring to some of the counties in the eastern part of the state and when you talk about a reasonable compensation for this, what is reasonable compensation in this case on the average?"

Senator Atwood: "Well, Senator Peterson, I imagine that the county commissioners, if you look at the bill, of the various counties comprising the public defender district would agree on what was reasonable. I would guess, depending on of course, how many counties are involved, it would be in the neighborhood of probably $15,000 or $16,000, perhaps more depending if all is relative on the size of the district and the amount of work involved and as time goes by the public defender if, in fact, it is established in a district is going to have a considerable amount of work under their supreme court rulings.

"Now juveniles are entitled to counsel and I imagine the area is going to be considerably broadened but as far as putting a price tag on it, you will notice in this bill, this is up to the discretion of the county commissioners of those districts where I think it properly belongs. They know what they can afford. It applies to the entire state, Senator Peterson."

Senator Stender: "One further question Senator Atwood, would this defender. . .is he going to be a full time person or is he going to be practicing law and be a public defender simultaneously?"

Senator Atwood: "Senator Stender, in those counties that are large it will probably be full time. There is a bill presently pending in the Judiciary Committee making all prosecutors full time so I would suspect if you look at this bill, this is not a mandatory bill, this is only a bare boned enabling act and the county commissioners would sit down, I imagine, and decide whether it would be part time or full time but I would suspect that it would be a full time position."

Senator Stender: "If it were part time, a conflict could arise in this area the same as there has been with prosecutors in the past."

Senator Atwood: "I suspect that. That is why we have left it to the discretion of the county commissioners."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Mr. President, Senator Atwood, I wonder if you could clarify in my mind just what an indigent person is, under the terms of this act?"

Senator Atwood: "An indigent person is one without resources and without funds. Right now, a determination of indigency is made by the court at the time of arraignment. Several of the people of the Bar have considerable quarrel about the judges being too lenient on the determination of indigency but if you have ever been in an arraignment, they ask the defendant what resources he has, is he able, does he own a car, does he have a job, does he own his home, etc. If he has any of these assets, the court will make the determination and make the appointment."

On motion of Senator Atwood, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 92 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 92 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 1; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Elicker, Faulk, Gissberg, Guess, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Wilson, Woodall—44.

Voting nay: Senator Lewis (Harry)—1.

Absent or not voting: Senators Durkan, Foley, Greive—3.

Excused: Senator Williams—1.

SENATE BILL NO. 195, by Senators Atwood, Woodall and Day:

Providing for rural representation on health district boards.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Atwood, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 195 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Atwood yield to a question? Senator Atwood, it would appear to me that the two changes are different only in that one relates to a district composed of more than one county and that is the first section. The second section is where there is a district with only a single county. Now in this second section pertaining to a single county, it appears that you set up a seven member rather than a five member group and that is composed of three county commissioners; two from the unincorporated areas and two from the incorporated areas. Do I read it correctly?"

Senator Atwood: "That is the way I read it."

Senator Mardesich: "Following that I am wondering now whether there is an intention on the part of the rural people to give it to the city people."

Senator Atwood: "No intention."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 195 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 1; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 1.

Voting nay: Senator Mardesich—1.

Absent or not voting: Senators Durkan, Foley, Greive—3.

SENATE RESOLUTION: 1969-15

By Senator Talley:

WHEREAS, Many of the naturally propagated runs of salmon and steelhead trout in the Columbia River Drainage have declined greatly and are continuing to decline as the result of the construction of an ever-increasing number of dams and water usage projects; and

WHEREAS, The federally financed Columbia River Fishery Development Program was instituted as mitigation for the anticipated adverse effects of dams and water usage projects; and

WHEREAS, Funds from the Development Program have built and are operating twenty-one state and federal fish hatcheries along the lower Columbia River in Oregon and Washington for the purpose of offsetting by artificially propagated runs the declines in natural runs; and

WHEREAS, The funds from the Development Program have been insufficient to permit full utilization of the design capacity of the hatcheries and to maintain them in proper structural and operating condition; and

WHEREAS, At the request of the Pacific Marine Fisheries Commission, the Federal Bureau of Commercial Fisheries has furnished the Commission with a report on the efficiency and economics of artificial propagation at the twenty-one Columbia River Development Program hatcheries, the estimated benefits and costs of operating the hatcheries at design capacity and maintaining them in proper condition, and the possibilities of increasing the design capacity of the hatcheries by the conversion and operation of certain natural ponds to rearing ponds for juvenile salmon and steelhead; and

WHEREAS, The member fishery agencies of the Pacific Marine Fisheries Commission have studied the report carefully and have concluded that adequate funding of the operation and maintenance of the Development Program hatcheries is required to fulfill the initial promises of mitigation and to offset the declining runs of naturally propagated salmon and steelhead, and in addition is in the national interest as a profitable investment and proper management of a valuable renewable resource;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Pacific Marine Fisheries Commission urge adequate funding of the Columbia River Fishery Development Program to permit full maintenance and operation of the twenty-one lower Columbia River hatcheries and the development of certain natural ponds for rearing and thereby supplementation of the capacity of the hatcheries.

Senator Talley moved the adoption of the resolution.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Mr. President, would Senator Talley yield to a question? Senator Talley, in this resource, now the Oregon people get in on this catch. What type of salmon are they raising in their hatcheries?"

Senator Talley: "These are mostly chinook. They are not steelhead hatcheries. They are operated by the state of Washington. These are the federal hatcheries."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Would Senator McCormack yield? Senator McCormack, is there a possibility, Senator, that the temperatures generated by the atomic plant in Richland would have anything to do with the declining salmon run?"

Senator McCormack: "I am delighted that you raised that question, Senator. I am prepared to give an hour lecture in answer to it. The answer is in all likelihood, there is not. Senator Woodall, you can relax, I won't really do that."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall: "Point of order."

The President: "Senator Woodall will please state his point of order."

Senator Woodall: "If Senator McCormack is going to make an hour's speech, it will take a suspension of the rules."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCormack: "Gentlemen of the Senate, in reply to Senator Lowell Peterson, as a matter of fact the maximum temperature increase on the river due to the reactors at Hanford is less than one degree Fahrenheit. The natural difference in temperature of the river runs to almost forty degrees Fahrenheit. The deviation in the temperature of the river in any given month from year to year is about ten degrees Fahrenheit. The maximum temperature difference through the Hanford reservation due to sunshine on an August day is five degrees Fahrenheit.

"The number of fish spawning nets in the river by photographic evidence at the maximum activity of the Hanford reservation was ten times what it was before the reactors were built. Now this is not because the reactors are there. It is probably because there are upstream dams and it is easier for the fish to spawn in a free flowing river.

"But any assertion that the temperature of the river has anything to do with the fish run while in the face of the seasonal temperature difference of forty degrees from the maximum temperature increase in the river from the reactors is less than one degree."

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION: 1969-16

By Senators Holman and Uhlman:

WHEREAS, It has been alleged that unsworn hearsay evidence may be used against an alleged parole violator at a hearing before the State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles; and

WHEREAS, It has been alleged that an alleged parole violator can be compelled to testify at such a hearing; and

WHEREAS, Other state laws on this subject are confused or disparate, offering little indication of how the procedure for revocation of parole should be conducted or what a parolee's rights should be;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate, That we do hereby request the Judicial Council to commence a study of the entire question of parole practices and probationer's and parolee's rights with a view to recommending changes in the law to the next legislative session.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the resolution was adopted.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ryder: "Point of personal privilege, Mr. President."

The President: "The Senator will speak on his point of personal privilege."

Senator Ryder: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, we passed two so-called innocent resolutions this morning; they didn't cause very much controversy until we got into areas they didn't cover anyway and we were able to understand them easily but I think that from now on we ought to have copies of proposed resolutions placed on the desks before we ask for their approval by the Senate.

"In many cases there may be exceptions taken by individual members of the Senate. They may want to study the situation and decide whether or not they feel the resolution is worthwhile and I would suggest that from now on that these resolutions be developed early enough so that copies can be put on the members' desks."

MOTION

At 12:35 p.m. on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate recessed until 2:00 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Senate was called to order at 2:00 p.m. President Pro Tempore Henry in the Chair.

MOTIONS

Senator Durkan moved that the Committee on Cities, Towns and Counties be relieved of further consideration of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 13.

The motion carried.

Senator Durkan moved that the Committee on State Government be relieved of further consideration of Senate Bill No. 282.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Senator Greive: "Senator Durkan, would you have any objections to following the proper procedure and having Senator Henry circulate a petition putting it on the floor in a joint committee. Our problem here is that once we start this procedure, really we have circumvented the whole arrangement. We should either change the procedure or follow it, I would think."

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, I have no objections. Senator Henry wants to transfer the bill to my committee and I told him I would accept it. So I think your question should be directed to Senator Henry."

Senator Greive: "Senator Henry, would you be good enough to respond to my question? Senator, would you have any objection to circulating a petition for the purpose of referring the bill in that manner?"

Senator Henry: "Senator Greive, I'm feeling in a very charitable mood this morning. It has been a long way from the oasis but I will do that. But I might say that circumventing the committees has been something that we haven't paid any particular attention to up until now and in the absence of getting a quorum at my committee meetings, I have led one of the best circulating bees you have ever seen. I think I have nine bills circulating here this morning for signatures."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McCutcheon: "Point of order. I wonder if we could get a ruling from the Chair to the effect that if a bill is once in committee and not on the first go around and signed by the members and Senator Henry has this bill in his committee and he wants to get rid of it. Now we have passed a rule that you can relieve any committee of any bill by circulating a petition which I voted for and thoroughly approve, nobody can sit on a bill, but I want the rules applied and if they are not weighed, I would like to have a ruling or something to guide me in the future. There is no trouble, no problem at all. All you have to do is to have the majority of your committee sign it and say we would like to have Senator Henry's committee relieved of this and let it go to another committee. Now it will only take from three to five minutes, Senator Atwood, and I am sure you are not holding up the proceedings if you follow the rules."

Senator Greive: "In the event there is any question about it, I will be very happy to make a motion to suspend the rules or any other motion. There isn't any problem about doing it today if we could follow the procedure."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "A question of parliamentary inquiry perhaps. It seems to me that we do have a rule which allows the body to discharge any committee of a bill by a majority vote. Sometimes it is an adversary proceeding with much opposition but if you can make that motion in an adversary manner attempting to force a bill from a committee, it should be relatively simple for the chairman or someone else in a friendly way just to move simply that the bill be discharged from the committee. I hope we are not foreclosing our right to do that by some precedent being established here this morning."

Senator Henry: "Mr. President, I insist on keeping the bill. I have heard of discharging a bill from a committee. This is the first time I have heard somebody insist that we sit on a bill. I insist on keeping the bill and while all of this dialogue has been going on, I could have circulated it, so let's forget the whole thing."

Senator Greive: "In response to Senator Washington, the rule is 46 and there is no question but that the procedure is correct. We have always had that rule and it is to be done. Since I have been in the Senate, and it has been some years, I think it has only happened once to my knowledge, Senator Washington made the motion. It was Committee on Rules and was over an investigation and all I was attempting to do was to talk somebody out of something. I wasn't saying they didn't have the right to it. They have every right in the world. There is no way that you can sit on a bill if the body really wants it and we know that, but I did feel that because we have a number of people who are on committees and they like to be protected so that a friendly chairman and some other friend might not request a bill that he can't get out of his committee and whisk it away to another committee that has protected the system."

The President: "The President is ruling upon the point of order presented by Senator John McCutcheon. The President has ruled that the remarks of Senator Greive are correct. There are two ways that a bill may be obtained from a committee, one is to have it reported out and the other is that if the majority of the body wishes to relieve the committee of consideration of any measure, the body may do so."

With the consent of the Senate, Senator Durkan withdrew his motion.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "I am sorry I was distracted and missed some of the floor action. Was the question posed as to whether or not since the rules require that a bill go to committee and the committee reports it out it has to be sent to the Rules Committee to release?"

The President: "No, Senator Mardesich, it does not require a suspension of the rules."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ryder: "Would Senator Mardesich yield? Senator, I just wanted to know if you had some personal interest in this ruling by the Chair which might apply to your committee?"

Senator Mardesich: "I have no more of a personal interest in that subject than you do, Senator Ryder."

The President called upon Senator Al Henry, President Pro Tempore to preside.

SENATE BILL NO. 212, by Senators McCutcheon, Stender and Cooney:

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On motion of Senator Bailey, the first committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Atwood, the second and third committee amendments were adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman: "Would Senator Atwood yield to a question? Senator Atwood, I had a question concerning page 16. Does this, as it appears on a very quick reading, change the vesting period from ten to five years?"

Senator Atwood: "It sure does."

Senator Uhlman: "Does this include also then the legislative or elected officials as well?"

Senator Atwood: "For those who are on state retirement."

Senator Uhlman: "I assume that actuarial studies have been done on this."

Senator Atwood: "According to testimony before the committee, they said that this should substantiate it. We just did it on the patrol figures down to 'two' so somebody said but according to the testimony, the vesting period down to five years is well within the capability of this fund."

On motion of Senator Atwood, the last two committee amendments were adopted.

The following amendment by Senator Walgren was not adopted:

On page 14, section 5, line 31, strike "offices or persons appointed by the governor" and insert "or appointive offices"

On motion of Senator Bailey, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 182 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

SENATE BILL NO. 212, by Senators McCutcheon, Stender and Cooney:

Amending pension law for police in first class cities.

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 212 on second reading.

Senator Williams moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 13 after "to" strike the balance of the sentence and insert "having his pension under this chapter adjusted by an amount which is equal to the ratio of the cost of living index of the department of labor statistics at the time of retirement and the same cost of living index as of January 1 of each year for the next ensuing year"

Senators Stender, Bailey and Greive demanded a Call of the Senate.

A Call of the Senate was ordered.

CALL OF THE SENATE

The Sergeant at Arms locked the doors of the Senate Chamber.

The Secretary called the roll on the Call of the Senate, all members being present except Senators Day and Talley who had previously been excused.

On motion of Senator Greive, the Senate proceeded under the Call of the Senate.

MOTION

Senator McCutcheon moved that the amendment by Senator Williams be laid upon the table.

Senator McCutcheon demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Sandison, Greive, Uhlman, Cooney, Ridder, Peterson (Lowell), Washington, Stender, Gissberg and Bailey.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator McCutcheon to lay upon the table the amendment by Senator Williams was carried and the amendment was laid upon the table by the following vote: Yeas, 27; nays, 20; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Bailey, Connor, Cooney, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Foley, Greive, Henry, Herr, Keefe, Knoblauch, McCutcheon, Marquardt, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Ridder, Stender, Stortini, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Wilson, Woodall—27.

Excused: Senators Day, Talley—2.

On motion of Senator Stender, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 212 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon: "I wonder if Senator Guess would yield to a question? Senator Guess, the accusation has been made or the charge that in both these cities there was a tax understanding that the fines and forfeitures would go to pay these pensions. Is that correct?"

Senator Guess: "Senator McCutcheon, I think you will find that all fines and forfeitures go into the general fund."

Senator McCutcheon: "Yes, they go into the general fund but they were originally going to be earmarked for this purpose."

Senator Guess: "I have never heard of that. The fines and forfeitures in the city of Spokane were in existence long before the pension plan came into being."

Senator McCutcheon: "Now, how much are those fines and forfeitures?"

Senator Guess: "Senator, I am very sorry. I do not have those figures."

Senator McCutcheon: "Thank you. Mr. President, I am advised that in Seattle there is a million dollars left over after this. If this bill should be passed there is still a million dollars in the fines and forfeitures fund. This is a question of fact, if that is true in Seattle they tell me there is over a million dollars in funds, if this bill should pass. This makes the whole thing uniform for police and I think it should pass."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 212 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 29; nays, 18; excused, 2.

It was moved by Senator Uhlman that the committee amendment to page 2, section 2 be not adopted.

The motion was carried.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the committee amendments to page 3, section 3 were adopted.

On motion of Senator Uhlman the committee amendment to page 4, section 3 was adopted.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the committee amendment to page 4, section 4, line 19 was adopted.

It was moved by Senator Uhlman that the committee amendment to page 4, section 4, line 22 be not adopted.

The motion was carried.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the committee amendment to page 11, section 13 was adopted.

It was moved by Senator Williams that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 3, section 3, line 14 after "term" strike the remainder of the paragraph and insert "adjusted annually by an amount which is equal to the ratio of the cost of living index of the bureau of labor statistics of the department of labor at the time of retirement and the same cost of living index as of January 1 of each year for the next ensuing calendar year."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ridder: "Would Senator Woodall yield to a question? Senator Woodall, how many judges would retire if this bill were to pass. How many would come under this retirement?"

Senator Woodall: "There are about four judges. Number one, anyone who has already retired cannot come in under this bill. Their rights are all 1967. This doesn't go back and pick anyone up like some of the other acts do. There are four judges available to retire now if they wanted to. Judge Barnett from Yakima, long overdue. He is drawing seventy-five percent now anyway and working as a judge. There are about four I think who are about due to quit or could if they elected to come under it. Some of them will not even bother to and some of them are already within a small part of it, they prefer not to come under it and not to hold themselves available under the act. So we are only talking about four people in the next biennium."

Senator Ridder: "I was given to understand that far more would be capable of coming under this new law. Would you yield to another question?"

Senator Woodall: "Certainly, Senator. Eligible to come under it, yes. I thought your question was when would the retirement be effective as to him."

Senator Ridder: "Right, and you say only four?"

Senator Woodall: "Four in the next biennium."

Senator Ridder: "How many are presently capable of retiring under the present act?"

Senator Woodall: "The same, there are only four."

Senator Ridder: "Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Williams was lost on a rising vote and the amendment was not adopted.

It was moved by Senator Woodall that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 5, section 6, line 33 after "expenses" strike remainder of subsection (a) and insert "and per diem only if he is serving outside the county of his residence;"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, would Senator Woodall yield to a question? Senator Woodall, I was under the apprehension that you were thinking of putting these judges on the supreme court as they are doing now. You are talking now about putting them on the superior court. Does this word 'retired' mean also 'defeated'?"

Senator Woodall: "If his rights have vested at that time, yes. He would be subject to being used by the attorney who agreed to let him try the case."

Senator Bailey: "Senator Woodall, the point I am getting at is if we defeat a judge in our county, now do we want some court coming back and putting him on the bench after we have defeated him? The people after all have the last say in this and I think maybe we ought to have another amendment on this bill."

Senator Woodall: "My response, Senator Bailey, is that the people always have the last say in the act or as to any one of these retired judges, unless both counsels agree, he doesn't hear the case so that takes care of your situation. In other words, the particular judge who lost out in your county, your attorney doesn't have to have him and unless both attorneys think you would get a fair shake in front of a man, he just doesn't worry if any two counsels, if either one of them do not want him, they don't have to take him."

The motion carried and the amendment by Senator Woodall was adopted.

Senator Woodall moved that the rules be suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 114 be advanced to third reading, the second reading be considered the third, and the bill placed on final passage.

Senator Newschwander demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators McDougall, Lewis (Brian), Elicker, Metcalf, Guess, Bailey, Ridder and Greive.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the motion by Senator Woodall that the rules be suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 114 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill be placed on final passage. The motion carried by the following vote: Yeas, 38; nays, 10; excused, 1; and the bill was placed on final passage.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, Marquardt, Matson, Odegard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ryder, Stender, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall—38.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Faulk, Guess, McDougall, Mardesich, Metcalf, Newschwander, Ridder, Sandison, Stortini—10.

Excused: Senator Day—1.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "May I ask Senator Williams a question? Senator Williams, it is my understanding that the Pension Commission of which you are chairman has approved this bill, is that correct?"

Senator Williams: "No, they have not."

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 114, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Woodall, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 114 was ordered immediately transmitted to the House.

SENATE BILL NO. 143, by Senators Peterson (Ted), Ridder, Williams and Herr:
Regulating sale of short firearms.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 12, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 143, regulating sale of short firearms (reported by Judiciary Committee):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, section 1, line 20, after "birth," insert "race,"

On page 2, section 1, line 9, after "or" and before "legally" strike "has been" and insert "is"

On page 3, section 4, line 31, after "occupation," and before "and" strike "color" and insert "[color] race"

Signed by: Senators Uhlman, Chairman; Andersen, Greive, Holman, McCormack, Twigg, Walgren, Woodall.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 25 after "or" and before "legally" strike "has been" and insert "is"

Senator Mardesich moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 2, line 17 after "dealers;" strike all the material down to and including "valid identification;" on line 21.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Would Senator Mardesich yield to a question? Senator Mardesich, would this, in effect, then prevent me from buying a pistol as an individual from you as another individual without securing a permit to do so?"

Senator Mardesich: "No, I don't think it would have that effect at all. This bill says now, if you have a license to carry a concealed weapon, you can go in and buy one hundred such weapons on one hundred different occasions without having that fact registered and you could become in fact a dealer in weapons. I see no reason why the fact that you are buying a series of weapons should not be made a record even though you are a police officer or you have a license to carry a concealed weapon, which is what my amendment does."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "I don't mean to turn this into a debating society but I would attach some validity to Senator Ted Peterson's position if he can answer one question. Is a police officer required to have a license before he can purchase a gun?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): "If he is buying a service pistol for himself and if he is making the choice of a service pistol, he doesn't have to make out the permit but if he does otherwise, he does."

The motion by Senator Mardesich carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Peterson (Ted), the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 143 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 143 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; excused, 1.

SENATE RESOLUTION: 1969-17

By Senator Talley:

WHEREAS, The construction and improvement of the Ocean Beach Highway is of prime interest to this body and to all of Southwest Washington; and

WHEREAS, The Ocean Beach Highway, properly planned, can well be an artery of commerce and a gateway to areas of recreational and economic interest, or, wrongly planned, can become a barrier and a handicap to development along the route of that highway; and

WHEREAS, There is a potential use of the stream bed areas of such streams as Germany Creek and Abernathy Creek, north of the Ocean Beach Highway, for small boat harbors and associated purposes, which use will require adequate vertical and horizontal clearance under any bridge crossing such streams; and

WHEREAS, The plans for the construction and development of the Ocean Beach Highway (SR 4) in the areas of Germany Creek and Abernathy Creek are now under consideration and the present legislature will be asked to make funds available for such purposes;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Highway Commission of the state of Washington be requested to plan for an adequate vertical and horizontal clearance from water level to understructure of any bridge constructed as a part of the Ocean Beach Highway over Germany Creek and over Abernathy Creek, and that due consideration be given to the requisite clearance above any other stream bridged in the route of said highway where stream use by boat appears possible; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the governor of the state of Washington, the Highway Commission of the state of Washington, the director of the state Highway Department, the Highway Engineer of District IV, the director of the Department of Commerce and Economic Development, the director of Planning and Community Affairs, the chairman of the Legislative Interim Committee on Highways, and the Cowlitz County Regional Planning Commission.

On motion of Senator Talley, the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION: 1969-18

WHEREAS, A time of great internal unrest has descended upon our land; and

WHEREAS, Resulting civil turmoil is now and will continue to throw an increasing burden upon our fine judicial system; and

WHEREAS, The excellent judicial system of the state of Washington must be fully prepared to meet this added challenge by every possible improvement and "tuning-up" as soon as possible;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate that the Legislative Council, with the advice of the Judicial Council, be requested to make a study of the need for redistricting of the Superior Courts of the State of Washington; and in order to further this study, the Supreme Court through the office of the Court Administrator is requested to furnish to the Legislative Council information reflecting number of cases actually tried, number of jury cases tried, actual length of trials, days and times court is held, and judicial vacations, with a view toward an even higher degree of judicial efficiency in the critical days ahead.

Senator Metcalf moved the adoption of the resolution.

Debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Woodall, Senate Resolution 1969-18 was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

SENATE RESOLUTION: 1969-19

By Senators Stortini, Donohue, Wilson, Odegaard, Uhlman, McCormack:

WHEREAS, The increasing cost of purchasing motor vehicle insurance for juvenile and minor drivers is a matter of concern for all parents; and

WHEREAS, The high cost of motor vehicle insurance for juvenile and minor drivers regardless of driving ability, accident experience or lack thereof, and regardless of driver's training courses places a burden upon all parents because of the experience of a few juveniles and minors;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate, that the Legislative Council or other appropriate Legislative Interim Committee be requested to make a study of the insurance practice of charging high rates for all juvenile and minor drivers based solely upon the age of the driver.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the study committee make the results of the study available to the members of the legislature prior to the next session of the legislature including any recommended legislation found to be necessary as a result of such study.

Senator Stortini moved the adoption of the resolution.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Ryder: "I wonder if Senator Stortini would yield to a question? Senator Stortini, I agree that insurance rates ought to be investigated by whatever agency is authorized to do so. On line 14 you have the words 'practice of charging high rates'. Now, aren't we presupposing by using those words the answer to the study which you are suggesting that the rates are high. Would you feel that an amendment to your resolution taking out the words 'practice of charging high' so it would read 'insurance rates for all juveniles'? Would this be acceptable to you?"

Senator Stortini: "Well, Senator, I think that this is the gist of the entire resolution. That amendment was proposed to me yesterday and I did not put it in because I think this is the whole problem. I think it is evident that insurance rates are high and I would suggest that those words be left in."

Debate ensued.

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Greive yield to a question? Senator Greive, since you have already come to the conclusion that the rates are high, what is the necessity for the study, I mean that they are overcharging?"

Senator Greive: "Mr. President, the reason for the study is the same reason we study anything. It is to delineate and to publicize and to finally bring to the attention of the public the evil that I feel confident is there and see something is done about it. Obviously this is why you have any particular study. Just because I had concluded they are high doesn't mean that the committee would conclude they are high or that the public in general realizes they are high. I think that is kind of a foolish question and really I don't mean to demean the question but I don't know why you asked it."

Senator Atwood: "This whole resolution is a pre-judging of a study and apparently the legislative council of which Senator Greive is a member, has already pre-judged the matter and I would suggest to get a little more objectivity to it that Senator Ryder is absolutely correct. I am no expert on insurance. I handle as many insurance cases as Senator Greive, I believe, or our office does but I believe that the resolution as it is presently worded lacks any objectivity whatsoever."

Further debate ensued.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 295, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SENATE BILL NO. 277, by Senators Connor, Peterson (Ted), Durkan, Knoblauch and Keefe:

Amending laws relating to blind and otherwise physically disabled persons.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Mr. President, I realize this is somewhat out of order but before we leave the second reading order I would like to ask one of the sponsors of the bill whether or not it might not be wise to define what 'blind' is; and secondly, whether new section 4 would apply in the case of a situation where there was a blind person who stepped off the sidewalk into a crosswalk and there is a traffic control light indicating that the cars could pass through, if the driver of the vehicle would automatically be liable under new section 4 and I wonder if the sponsors want to go as far as they are going here?"

Senator Connor: "Section 4 and 5 gives the right of way to the blind person crossing the street. The right is extended even though the blind person shall not signal with his cane. Now this is what the 'White Cane' people wanted. They have this law passed in several states, I believe Michigan and Wisconsin."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Continuing on a little further on Senator Mardesich's inquiry, I just want to say that if they have the white cane or if they have the guide dog, and the motorist ran into them, they would be liable. If the blind person started crossing the intersection against the light without the indicated white cane or the guide dog, then the motorist would not be liable. In this bill you have two indications on this, the all white cane means totally blind, if the cane is half white and half red, then he is partially blind but the indications would be on the cane or the fact that he had a dog which would mean that he was totally blind."

On motion of Senator Connor, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 277 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The motion carried and the amendment was adopted.

Senator Greive moved the adoption of the following amendment by Senators Greive, Cooney, Ridder, Holman, Faulk, Guess, Atwood, Knoblauch, Connor, Odegaard, McCutcheon, Uhlman, Donohue, Peterson (Ted), Metcalf, Herr and Washington:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. For the purposes of this act

"(1) "Minor" means a person under the age of eighteen years;

"(2) "Erotic publication" and "erotic publications" means printed material, the dominant theme of which taken as a whole appeals to a prurient interest of minors in sex; which is patently offensive because it affronts contemporary community standards relating to the description or representation of sexual matters; and its utterly without redeeming social value;

"(3) "Person" means any individual, corporation, or other organization;

"(4) "Dealers" and "distributors" mean persons engaged in the distribution for sale of printed material.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The sale or distribution of erotic publications to minors is hereby declared to be unlawful.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) When it appears that an erotic publication is being sold or otherwise distributed in this state, the attorney general or the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the sale or other distribution is taking place may apply to the superior court for such county for a hearing to determine the character of the material with respect to whether it is an erotic publication. The attorney general may make such application for a hearing to the superior court for Thurston County.

"(2) Notice of the hearing shall immediately be served upon the dealer or distributor selling or otherwise distributing the alleged erotic publication. The superior court shall hold a hearing not sooner than five days in the case of weekly or monthly publications and in the case of other publications not sooner than ten days from the service of notice to determine whether the subject material is an erotic publication within the meaning of section 1 of this act.

"(3) If the superior court rules that the subject publication is an erotic publication, an order shall be issued requiring that an "adults only" label shall be placed on the publication, if such publication is going to continue to be distributed.

"(4) Failure to comply with the court order shall subject the dealer or distributor to contempt proceedings.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) Whenever the superior court orders a publication to have an "adults only" label placed thereon, such label shall be impressed on the front cover of all copies of such erotic publication sold or otherwise distributed in the state of Washington.

"(2) Such label shall be in forty-eight point bold face type located in a conspicuous place on the front cover of the publication.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. All dealers and distributors are hereby prohibited from displaying erotic publications in their store windows or on outside newsstands on public thoroughfares. Any person violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Any person who sells to or otherwise secures for a minor an erotic publication is guilty of a gross misdemeanor. Any person convicted under this section shall be sentenced to not less than ninety days nor more than six months in the county jail or to a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or both.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The attorney general is authorized to purchase any printed material which is being or may be distributed for sale in this state for the purpose of determining whether such printed material is an erotic publication.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A dealer or distributor regularly engaged in the distribution for sale of printed material in this state shall sell and deliver to the attorney general at his request a copy or copies of every future issue of any periodical, including but not limited to weekly or monthly publications, at least one day prior to the distribution for sale of such periodical.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provisions to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Keefe: "Mr. President, point of order. I think the amendment changes the scope and object of the bill. My name is on Senator Greive's bill of which I am very proud but this is a labor bill and has no relation to what Senator Greive is talking about so I think this bill can stand on its own merit. I know the bill he is talking about and I want to say something else, this is the first scalping of the session."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Senator Uhlman: "Is the President entertaining at this time discussion concerning the amendment or the point of order?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pro Tempore Henry: "I am entertaining discussion on point of order."
Debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Parliamentary inquiry. Is this an Arabian amendment?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pro Tempore Henry: "I would think this is an Indian amendment, it has to do with scalping."

Further debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pro Tempore Henry: "The President ruling on the point of order as raised by Senator Keefe; page 283 of the Senate Rules, Rule 62, 'no amendment to any bill shall be allowed to change the scope and object of the bill.' Your point is well taken, Senator Keefe, and the amendment is out of order."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Senator Keefe, will you yield to a question? Senator, now I heard you say that this is a union projectionist. Are you talking about a certified movie theater or about just any club or places like that where he would be projecting a film."

Senator Keefe: "I am talking about a motion picture theater projectionist who is hired to do a job. He doesn't know what is in that can of film. He displays it. Oregon and Idaho passed this legislation."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "You mean we don't have a ruling where a board has to pass on films that are shown to the public in movie theaters?"

Senator Keefe: "No."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Just any film can be shown in public movie houses, is that right?"

Senator Keefe: "Yes, and evidently Senator Greive hasn't been to the movies for a long time. They have signs that say 'no minors admitted under eighteen years of age' so therefore the operators are employed to do the job and he doesn't know what is in a can of film."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Then I think we need some laws that will correct that."

MOTIONS

Senator Greive moved that Senate Bill No. 29 be rereferred to the Judiciary Committee.

Senator Keefe moved that the motion to rerefer Senate Bill No. 29 to the Judiciary Committee be laid upon the table.

A roll call was demanded and the demand was sustained by Senators Metcalf, Uhlman, Herr, Bailey, Greive, Ridder, Connor, Keefe and Dore.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Keefe to lay upon the table the motion by Senator Greive to refer Senate Bill No. 29 to the Judiciary Committee was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 25; nays, 19; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Durkan, Faulk, Gissberg, Henry, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Newschwander, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Ryder, Sandison, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Walgren, Woodall—25.

Absent or not voting: Senators Cooney, McCormack, Stender—3.

Excused: Senators Day, Guess—2.

Senator Keefe moved that the rules be suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 29 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill be placed on final passage.

Senator Ridder demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Ridder, Washington, McCutcheon, Greive, Herr, Uhlman, Elicker, Metcalf and Connor.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Keefe that the rules be suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 29 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill be placed on final passage, carried by the following vote: Yeas, 32; nays, 13; absent or not voting, 2; excused, 2, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Cooney, Donohue, Durkan, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Henry, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Newschwander, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Ryder, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Walgren, Williams, Woodall—32.

Voting nay: Senators Connor, Elicker, Greive, Herr, McCutcheon, Metcalf, Odegaard, Pritchard, Ridder, Sandison, Uhlman, Washington, Wilson—13.

Absent or not voting: Senators Dore, McCormack—2.

Excused: Senators Day, Guess—2.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Will Senator Keefe yield to a question? Senator Keefe, in reading this bill, suppose if we could take a hypothetical situation where I was hired to work as a projectionist in a theater or I was hired by someone who operated a cannery business to show pictures occasionally to the cannery workers and on a day off I showed movies of an obscene nature, would I be exempt under the terms of this bill from prosecution?"

Senator Keefe: "Senator Lewis, I go along with your thinking but there is something I would like to explain to Senator Greive. In our Spokane papers every Sunday all of the pictures that are being shown in theaters are approved, disapproved or recommended by a Catholic board. Something he doesn't know evidently. I know he has newspapers in his district so in Spokane there is no obscene picture being shown so what he is doing is scalping my bill to which I object very much because I am co-sponsoring his bill. This is a situation I don't like and I suggest we have a roll call, Mr. President, I think if I can defeat him on the floor this time I would be very happy and some of my other friends will be happy, too."

Senator Lewis (Brian): "Will Senator Keefe yield to another question? Senator Keefe, as I understand it, the motion upon which we are now about to vote is your original bill, Senate Bill No. 29 with no amendments upon it except for the amendment by Senator Mardesich. However, as I understand it, Senator Greive is objecting to that bill. Earlier we disposed of an amendment by Senator Greive which added a new section 2 but did not in any way affect the language of Senate Bill No. 29 as drafted by you and amended by Senator Mardesich. I seem to understand that apparently Senator Greive was prepared to accept your language at that time as a vehicle for getting his amendment past the Senate and then spoke in favor of the amended bill. Can you tell me how your bill differs now from the way it would have been as amended by Senator Greive, the main body of your bill, is there any difference?"

Senator Keefe: "No difference."

Senator Lewis (Brian): "Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Greive: "Point of personal privilege. Since there has been a direct comment, I think we may as well put something in the record. I said and I will repeat, that for five sessions we have managed to get an obscenity vote through this Senate and never through the House. I felt that if we had to equate the two problems, it was better to give in on the question of movies and to go where I thought the problem was more pressing. It was always the hope that something could be done to further amend this bill in the House.

"Now, as a practical matter this bill, and I said so at the time, in and of itself is not a good bill because it completely removes, or effectively I think is the best word, removes any restriction whatsoever on the showing of obscene films, simply because . . .

Senator Keefe: "He is talking on the bill not on a personal privilege."

Senator Greive: "My motives were questioned by Senator Lewis on a matter that would appear upon the record and I am merely correcting and explaining what I said previously and does not appear on the record; namely, that if this bill is passed in its present form, there would be no restriction on a person showing a movie because . . .

POINT OF INFORMATION

Senator Durkan: "Did you rule on Senator Keefe's point of order? Senator Greive is talking on the merits of the bill."

Senator Greive: "I am not talking on the merits of the bill. It was a question as to whether . . ."

President Pro Tempore Henry: "Will you please confine your remarks to your honor, Senator Greive."

Senator Greive: "I shall. I explained previously at the time that this particular bill meant there would be no effective control because a person had to be proven to have seen the film to be prosecuted and if the owner merely said that he had not seen it, he would be protected but obviously the projectionist would have to know that he already had protection the first time around. All this did was say that after that time he continued to show he had the problem so I don't think there is anything inconsistent with my position at all."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Would Senator Keefe yield to a question? Senator Keefe, I didn't have the advantage of attending the hearings of this committee on this bill but are the owners having difficulty with their employees showing these obscene films and is that the reason to exempt them because they want protection or exoneration or insulation from liability in this particular amendment?"

Senator Keefe: "No, Senator, in answer to Senator Ridder . . .

Senator Dore: "I'm not interested in Senator Ridder. I am interested in my question because I want to know if I can vote for the bill or not. I wonder if this isn't a deterrent, the fact that there is some exposure on the part of the operator to show this obscene film and he will not do it unless he is insulated from liability and by this we will actually permit them to be more readily shown because now they are not in fear the operator might be held liable."

Senator Keefe: "In other words, Senator, there are very few pictures that are borderline of obscene. I have never seen one myself really and I see many motion pictures but the operator does not know what is in that can of film. He is employed. He is an employee."

Further debate ensued.

Senators Keefe, Durkan and Gissberg demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 29 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 26; nays, 18; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 2.

Voting nay: Senators Andersen, Canfield, Connor, Donohue, Dore, Elicker, Faulk, Greive, Herr, Huntley, McCutcheon, Metcalf, Odegaard, Pritchard, Ridder, Uhlman, Washington, Wilson—18.

Excused: Senators Day, Guess—2.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 29, having received the constitutional majority was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SENATE BILL NO. 163, by Senators Gissberg, Walgren and Twigg:

Amending grounds for issuance of search warrants.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Gissberg, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 163 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 163, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; absent or not voting, 2; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall—45.

Absent or not voting: Senators Cooney, McCormack—2.

Excused: Senators Day, Guess—2.

SENATE BILL NO. 163, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

With the consent of the Senate, Senator Greive was excused.

Regulating use of dangerous weapons.

The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 123 on second reading as amended by Senator Uhlman, and the following amendment by Senator Andersen:

On page 1, section 1, delete the House amendments to page 1 of the bill so as to restore subsection 2 and references thereto.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "I would like to ask Senator Andersen to yield. Senator Andersen, the trouble I am having with restoring section 2 is the problem of gun clubs and people using a public building for a rifle or short arms range. The problem here is that I would like to see your other amendment before I could possibly vote on the restoration of section 2."

Senator Andersen: "Subsection 5, . . . or subsection (f) this would go in now as one of the exceptions, Senator Bailey. I'm not certain it is broad enough to cover your objections but I think probably it is. It adds to the exceptions a new subsection (f). Any member of an organized gun club meeting on or near public property in which a gun club has written permission from the public agency which has charge of the public property on or near which the gun club is meeting. Basically what it says is that you have a gun club, all it does is that the gun club asks permission to hold the meeting and then they get written permission. They can't just say accept all gun clubs because if a mob wants to go down they can say 'we are the Evergreen Gun Club' and we are just going for a walk with loaded shotguns on their shoulders. . . that kind of a thing. But we say an organized gun club. They simply say 'give us permission' and they give permission and then they can use it. I think that takes care of your problem. It is a little bit cumbersome but we tried to make it as little cumbersome as possible."

Senator Wilson: "Would Senator Andersen yield? Senator Andersen, to speak more specifically to Senator Uhlman's objections, in my home town of Omak the department of natural resources has a set of buildings alongside the north end of Main street. This is close to the open fields beyond and not infrequently hunters walk down the publicly owned streets with guns directly past the department of natural resources to go hunt some birds in the fields. Now would such hunters for example be in violation of section 2 of this bill?"

Senator Andersen: "To be candid, they would and I appreciate that this is a concern. I wish I had drafted it instead of the legislative council. I think the only thing that you can do, and Senator Canfield made this point, to correct the bill in this kind of a situation is to narrow down the limits. We have five hundred feet or something from a public building. The bill is aimed at people who go in a public building or immediately adjacent to it, and the only thing I could say is probably there would be a technical violation of the law if a person walked passed it although I am not positive, not knowing the situation whether that would truly be a public building or not."

Senator Wilson: "I think the definition is that any building owned by the state or any political subdivision thereof is the definition of a public building given in the original section 2 of this bill."

Senator Andersen: "I think you get the situation where a person is going down the highway and there is no one on the highway and you are doing eighty miles an hour, not hurting anyone, so it is a matter that you may not know you are doing eighty miles an hour but the speed limit says sixty and it is up to you to control it."

"If we narrowed the limitation down as to the sidewalks immediately in front of it, perhaps a narrower distance then they could walk up the other side of the street. You understand there is a prosecutor's option in some of these matters, prosecutor's judgment, police officer's judgment, and I am certain that no one under any circumstances however remote, would ever be bothered by something like this but to answer your question, the answer is 'yes' and I have to answer it in that fashion."

Further debate ensued.

There being no objection, Senator Andersen withdrew his amendment.

On motion of Senator Mardesich the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 7 of both the printed and engrossed bills, strike "wilfully"

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 123 as amended by the Senate was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Further debate ensued.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall—46.

“Arouse us, O God, to the evils and dangers which beset our beloved land. Restrain the greedy and those who would corrupt and poison the minds and bodies of our youth. Renew in us the spirit of integrity and honorable service. Speed the messengers of good will, strengthen the forces which unite the nations and races of Thy whole family. REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 19, 1969.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 127, authorizing bond issue for school plant facilities and modernization of existing facilities (reported by Committee on Ways and Means):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Ryder: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Does this amendment change our present formula for allocation of these funds?"

Senator Durkan: "The answer, to be perfectly candid, Senator, is 'yes'."

Senator Ryder: "This would not be a permanent amendment to our allocation."

Senator Durkan: "It specifically states 'this particular act', Senator."

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I have a letter before me and with the permission of the Senate I would like to read it. It says: 'Dear Senator Durkan: Per your request this is to advise you and assure you that none of the funds to be provided in the $20 million issue of House Bill No. 127 will be allocated by the State Board of Education for modernization projects.'"

The motion carried and the amendment was adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon: "Would Senator Durkan yield? Senator Durkan, how will this affect the non-high school districts?"

Senator Durkan: "This bill with the amendment, Senator, will take care of the only non-high school district that was in it, otherwise it would not have been taken care of."

Senator McCutcheon: "The only one that was in it?"

Senator Durkan: "The only one that was recommended as a project in this appropriation."

Senator McCutcheon: "The only one on the list?"

Senator Durkan: "Yes, sir."

Senator McCutcheon: "In other words you left off the list . . ."

Senator Durkan: "On this bond issue, Senator. On the next one you will have to come back with . . . what's the name of that place . . . DuPont, yes, that is it."

Senator McCutcheon: "As long as I'm not getting the business here."

Senator Durkan: "I know better than that, Senator."

On motion of Senator Durkan, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 127 as amended by the Senate was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

It says 'any expenses and any other costs for each member of the board in attending board meetings shall be met by the board'. Is this without restriction? Every other board that is set up has certain restrictions for expenditures and this would appear to be an open door. Was it meant to be?"

MEMORIAL TRIBUTE
Representative Veroske:

“ ‘The memory of the just is blessed.’ Proverbs 10:7

“Placed in the hand of man are two wonderful lamps. One is the lamp of Hope, which leads us forward through the uncertain mists of the future; the other is the lamp of Memory, which leads us back through the mists of the past to the happy scenes and experiences of yesterday. By the soft glow of that lamp of Memory we look into those faces which we have loved and now lost for awhile.

“How rich we are with this gift of Memory; for with it we keep alive the examples of those men that inspire us to worthy living. It was a false sentiment which Shakespeare put into the mouth of Mark Anthony when he made him say in his oration over the body of the assassinated Caesar:

“ ‘The evil that men do lives after them;
The good is oft interred with their bones.’

“It is, indeed, true that evil deeds and evil men cast a long and dark shadow. But it is not true that what the good men do is interred with their bones. Nothing is more certain than the touch of influence of just and godly men. They continue to touch us in what they were, in what they said, in what they did and in the things they helped to build.

“On this occasion, it is fitting that with the lamp of Memory we look at those who have lived nobly and know they have made the most splendid and beautiful preparation for the life into which they have now entered. They leave to us the legacy of living expressed in the words of Robert Louis Stevenson:

“ ‘To believe in immortality is one thing, but it is first needful to believe in life.’

“It is right that the memory of these men should turn our attention to living, living in a manner that will keep alive those principles and ideals by which we can build a better world.

Mr. President: The House has passed SENATE BILL NO. 327, and the same is herewith transmitted. SIDNEY R. SNYDER, Assistant Chief Clerk.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 239, by Senators Gissberg and Stortini:
Providing public employees' collective bargaining.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 11, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 239, providing public employees' collective bargaining (reported by Committee on Labor and Social Security):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 25 after "(3)" strike all the remaining matter down to and including "employee" on page 2, line 7 and insert "Bargaining representative" means any lawful organization which has as one of its primary purposes the representation of employees in their employment relations with employers"

Signed by: Senators Stortini, Chairman; Bailey, Connor, Faulk, Herr, Ridder.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Stortini, the committee amendment was adopted.

Senator Donohue moved the adoption of the following amendment by Senators Donohue, Henry, Knoblauch and Lewis (Brian):

On page 4, section 4, line 30 after "representative;" insert ": PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That agreements involving the subject matter covered by subsections (i) and (j) of this section must safeguard the rights of non-association of employees based on bona fide religious tenets or teachings of a church or religious body of which such employee is a member."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Durkan: "Would Senator Gissberg yield to a question? Senator Gissberg, what if the employer and the bargaining agent for the employee determine that they don't want an agency agreement?"

Senator Gissberg: "I don't think that in any way detracts from the point that I was making Senator, and if there were to be a union agreement under a union shop or maintenance in membership clause, and I assume that is what you have in mind, that would be the ultimate point that would be negotiated. In other words that there was not an agency agreement but that there was a maintenance in membership clause provided, then under those circumstances, of course, the agency shop not having been negotiated would not be applicable at a local level. But the fact remains that it is my position that the case for this should be made at a local level and not at the state level.

"The case should not be mandating the local public employer as to what should and what should not be in a collective bargaining agreement any more than the federal government should mandate, or the state government should mandate what should and should not be in a collective bargaining agreement. That is the proper scope of negotiation at the local level."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon: "Would Senator Stender yield to a question? Senator Stender, the question is this. . . a union agreement, now you know of the right to work law, you are a business representative and you are more educated and informed than I am on this I'm sure, but I have a keen memory about how the people in the state of Washington feel about the right to work law. There was some large and wide implication that the man has the right to join or not to join a union and we have voted on that two or three times and every time the Republican Party for instance, backed Initiative 198 and 202 and prior to that back in the 1930's, Initiative 131, and each time with a larger majority against amendment of the right to work theory. Do you see any right to work theory in this that is parallel?"

Senator Stender: "The thing is, this doesn't even come close to the question of right to work because the bargaining agent merely would arrange for a proper place for these objectors to pay their dues which is a nonreligious charity in the same amount as any other employee would pay to his union. This is a matter that would be handled between the bargaining representatives and the employer, but the only purpose of it is that the majority and certainly the majority would be the ones that would be voting for the union shop and the minority would have no control over that because of the fact that they, because of their religious belief, do not belong to the organization and would not even have a voice in the discussion, as I pointed out in my previous remarks."

Senator McCutcheon: "One more question, the employer might be the county commissioners or any other political subdivision of the state. It's all voluntary, the agreements may cover this. Why do you need to put any more amendments on this bill if you can have an inter-agency agreement under this law?"

Senator Stender: "Senator, the main reason is that they may agree also to an agreement having a union shop in it and if they did that then these people with the religious-based objection would be required to join or leave their employment."

Senator McCutcheon: "Thank you."

Senator Donohue demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Greive, Dore, Uhlman, Day, Stender, Pritchard, Metcalf, Holman and Faulk.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment by Senators Donohue, Henry, Knoblauch and Lewis (Brian) was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 6.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Canfield, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McDougall, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall—43.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Connor, Cooney, Gissberg, McCutcheon, Mardesich—6.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ryder: "Point of personal privilege."

The President: "The Senator will speak upon the point of personal privilege."

Senator Ryder: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, Senator McCutcheon made a statement during the discussion on this amendment in which he said the Republican Party had repeatedly supported a right to work amendment in the laws of the state of Washington.

"I just wanted to remark for the record that this is completely untrue, that the Republican Party never officially voted any right to work amendment, some individual members of the Republican Party, also some members of the Democratic Party supported the right to work amendment and a very brief group who helped them, but I just wanted to straighten this out for the record that there was no official or unofficial report by the Republican Party for a right to work amendment."

Senator McCutcheon: "Senator Ryder, I didn't catch your answer. What did I say wrong? I want to know. Maybe I shouldn't have said it but I certainly implied it that the Republican Party started out quite boldly in favor of the right to work program. They took a beating around the ears and then they came back for more. The third round, they got the message. They haven't said anything about it since."

Senator Lewis (Brian) moved the adoption of the following amendment by Senators Lewis (Brian) and Lewis (Harry):

On page 5, section 10, add 6 sections to the bill to be known as sections 5-10 as follows:

Section 5. Section 8, chapter 108, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 41.56.080 are each amended to read as follows:

The bargaining representative which has been determined to represent a majority of the employees in a bargaining unit shall be certified by the department as the exclusive bargaining representative of, and shall be required to represent, all the public employees within the unit, except professional employees as provided for in other sections of this 1969 amendatory act, without regard to membership in said bargaining representative: PROVIDED, That any public employee at any time may present his grievance to the public employer and have such grievance adjusted without the intervention of the exclusive bargaining representative, if the adjustment is not inconsistent with the terms of a collective bargaining agreement then in effect, and if the exclusive bargaining representative has been given reasonable opportunity to be present at any initial meeting called for the resolution of such grievance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. There is added to chapter 108, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Any group of professional employees, who have a community of interests and who wish to bargain collectively, shall be guaranteed the right to form and administer their own bargaining unit and be permitted free choice of their representatives to negotiate with their employer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. There is added to chapter 108, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

No professional employee, or group of employees, desiring to undertake collective bargaining with an employer, shall be forced to affiliate with, or become members of, any bargaining group that includes nonprofessional employees, or to submit to representation by such a group or its designated agents.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. There is added to chapter 108, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

No professional employee shall be forced, against his desire, to join any organization as a condition of his employment, or to sacrifice his right to individual personal relations with his employer in matters of employment conditions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. There is added to chapter 108, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

No employee shall be presumed to be represented by or included in any bargaining unit unless he is so notified. Notification shall consist of a membership list including job classifications, a statement of the anticipated goals to be achieved through collective bargaining, and the rights of the individual as established and guaranteed by this 1969 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. There is added to chapter 108, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

"Professional employee" as used in this 1969 amendatory act means:

(1) Any employee engaged in work; (a) predominantly intellectual and varied in character as opposed to routine mental, manual, mechanical or physical work; (b) involving the consistent exercise of discretion and judgment in its performance; (c) of such a character that the output produced or the result accomplished cannot be standardized in relation to a given period of time; (d) requiring knowledge of an advanced type in a field of science or learning customarily acquired by a prolonged course of specialized intellectual instruction and study in an institution of higher learning or a hospital, as distinguished from a general academic education or from an apprenticeship or from training in the performance of routine mental, manual, or physical processes; or

(2) Any employee, who (a) has completed the courses of specialized intellectual instruction and study described in subsection (1) (d) above; and (b) is performing related work under the supervision of a professional person to qualify himself to become a professional employee as defined in said subsection (1) above.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon: "Would Senator Lewis (Brian) yield to question? My objection, or my thought on this as I was reading it is somewhat different from that of Senator Gissberg. You attempt to define what work is predominantly intellectual and varied in character to routine mental. You say, 'professional employee as used in this 1969 amendatory act means any employee engaged in work predominantly intellectual and varied in character as opposed to routine mental, manual, mechanical or physical work involving the consistent exercise of discretion and judgment in its performance.' Who is going to make those decisions under this bill?"

Senator Lewis (Brian): "Well, Senator, I presume that in the final analysis if there is any argument about who those people are, the decision is going to be made by the department of labor and industries which is the body to whom people make their appeals."

Senator McCutcheon: "One more question, is Senator Gissberg correct when he says there are already rules in the department for this purpose, that this is a duplication?"

Senator Lewis (Brian): "No, this is not a duplication. The quotation that Senator Gissberg made is quite correct, however, subsequently I will request the President for an opportunity to speak in response to his comments."

Senator McCutcheon: "Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Greive moved that the amendment by Senators Lewis (Brian) and Lewis (Harry) be laid upon the table.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stender: "Mr. President, would Senator Williams yield? Senator Williams, you alluded to the cost of living raise to the patrol. How much is it?"

Senator Williams: "It is two percent a year, Senator Stender, which is on the basis of the last ten years, a little more than the cost of living. Now, I recognize there are two approaches on this, one approach is to do it on the basis of each year's change but that does involve a delay and also it involves actuarial problems so the two percent that has been used in this bill, the state patrol preferred this, is actuarially better, and over the historical trend it is a little more than a cost of living increase."

Debate ensued.

Providing rent, lease or disposal regulations for highway lands.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Henry, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 292 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Washington yield? Senator, in addition to what you say this bill does in section 2, it takes away from the commission the authority to lease excess lands to municipalities as well as to sell it. What is the purpose of that change on page 2, line 3 through 8?"

Senator Washington: "The purpose of that, as I understand it, this is a short provision but not for longer than four years. This provides that the lease may be for longer periods."

Senator Mardesich: "The difference is that section 1 pertains to land that the highway department needs. Section 2, line 23 pertains that any land that the highway commission needs. . . that any land that is no longer required for state highways, that is the distinction between the two sections and yet they are taking away the authority to lease as to the second. I was just wondering why this was being done. This will require the commission to sell and they will no longer have authority to lease."

Senator Washington: "Of course, the main purpose was that the provision was tied down to only a four year period and then if it was no longer needed for highway purposes there is no reason why it should be leased. It might as well be sold. But the basic reason is to give a longer period of time. Before, the periods were too short."

Senator Gissberg: "After hearing Senator Washington's explanation of this matter, the thought occurred to me, I don't know whether the highway interim committee has considered it or not, but it has to do with the fact that I know that in Europe in some places those governments have actually leased or granted the right to private entrepreneurs to construct restaurants and motels above freeways. Now that may all be to the good but nonetheless we in Snohomish county at least, I believe, have a very excellent planning commission which does a real good job in terms of planning land use including the location of commercial buildings of all types.

"Now it is a fundamental principle of planning law that the local planning authority has no jurisdiction to regulate the use of state owned land or the area above state owned land. It would appear to me therefore by the enactment of this bill that the highway commission will have available to it another tool in another area of being able to put up commercial buildings and thus circumvent the local planning authority.

"I don't know, as I say, whether the highway committee has considered this problem but it seems to me that it does pose a difficult one for local people. Now, I think that any of you who know anything about planning realize that the local planning commissions have done everything they can to adequately plan the use of the interchanges along a limited access highway to provide adequate facilities for the traveling public, but as we go along, those interchanges are going to be rapidly filled up, the prices that are paid for them now are great and will be greater in the future. Therefore, the pressure upon the highway commission if this bill is passed would likewise become great insofar as the utilization of the air space above the freeways is concerned for commercial purposes. I'm not against that but what I would like to see is some provision in here for the local authority to get involved in the act insofar as the planning is concerned, namely, that prior to such lease of air space for commercial purposes above the highway, that the local authority has jurisdiction as to whether that land use is a land use which is compatible with the local plan. I ask them both in the form of a question and a statement."

Senator Washington: "It is my impression that the zoning ordinances would not be changed by this and that the area through which the freeway goes would be bound by that. If there is some question, I would have no objection to holding the bill over to check further into that but my feeling is that zoning would take precedence over the highway commission."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gissberg, there being no objection, Senate Bill No. 292 was ordered to hold its place on the third reading calendar for Tuesday, February 25, 1969.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 239, by Senators Gissberg and Stortini:

Providing public employees' collective bargaining.

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 239 on second reading and the pending amendment by Senator Walgren.

On motion of Senator Walgren, there being no objection, the amendment by Senator Walgren was withdrawn.

Senator Elicker moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 3, section 3, line 7, after "employer" insert "if unappropriated funds are available and if not otherwise prohibited by law"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive: "Would Senator Elicker yield to a question? Senator Elicker, I really don't have a lot of quarrel at the outset with what you are trying to do. I just want to be sure that you are doing it.

"If you will look at your bill book, it says 'if a collective bargaining agreement is concluded after the adoption of the budget by the public employer' and then you pick up the words 'if unappropriated funds are available and if not otherwise prohibited by law' then continuing to read, it says 'the public employer shall appropriate the necessary funds to pay the increase in wages or benefits under the terms of the agreement'. Aren't those two in conflict?"

Senator Elicker: "No, I don't think so. It says the public employer shall appropriate the necessary funds to pay the increase if funds are available and if not prohibited by law."

Senator Greive: "Now the public body is in a position to also pass a law. How do we equate the fact that they may pass their own law in a given instance? Maybe they are a small town and they only have two or three employees and they can do whatever they wish."

Senator Elicker: "What sort of a law do you mean, Senator? They can't pass a law that would contravene the RCW as far as the budgeting of the city is concerned, though."

Senator Greive: "Don't we give them that authority when we say 'otherwise prohibited by law'? They couldn't if we didn't have that in there, no. What I really want to know is whether any lawyer, say Stuart Todd of the Republican caucus, checked this out to see that it does what you want it to do?"

Senator Elicker: "As a matter of fact, yes. He prepared this amendment."

Debate ensued.

Senator Stender: "Mr. President, I have a question that I would like to ask Senator Elicker, if I might. Senator Elicker, you alluded to subsection (2) of section 4 which had to do with the arbitration of disputes arising from interpretation of the agreement. Is that a concern in your amendment or are you just concerned with section 3?"

Senator Elicker: "Well, the amendment is to section 3, Senator Stender but I think that the problem might arise under the language of section 2. I talked to Mr. Todd and he had talked to Mr. Nicolai, the Democratic caucus attorney, and I was concerned that section 2 might be an unconstitutional delegation of power to an arbitration board but they are of the opinion that a fair reading of section 4 in effect which set all these things, (a) through (1) over on the other page, do not relate directly to wages and so if this in fact were true, then there would be nothing unconstitutional about a public employer delegating these things to an arbitration board. Then we came down to subsection (b) particularly, which was the application of seniority rights affecting the matters contained in such agreement. Then this is where the possible problem could come up because this could involve money and perhaps a substantial sum of money."

Senator Stender: "If it is your intent to amend out the obligation of an employer to meet the terms of the agreement then we are just spinning our wheels."

Senator Elicker: "No, it is not the intent to amend this out and I think you could. . . a fair reading of it would be. . . say that in fact an arbitration board of a city owed this money to an employee or group of employees there is nothing to preclude the city from including this item in its next budget. But under the terms of our existing statutes in the state, and in effect, state that once a budget has been adopted that they cannot go out and add gratuity money to the budget, except where in an emergency brought on by a dire threat to public order or something of this sort."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive: "Mr. President, I would like to carry on from Senator Stender and I have had a conference with Senator Gissberg and he brings to the fore this point and I would like to ask another question.

"Senator Elicker, let us assume that the budget is already drawn. You get into a labor dispute and somebody has some money coming. It goes to arbitration and they give the employee some back pay. Then under the law shouldn't they be responsible to make an emergency appropriation to pay the man what is given to him by arbitration?"

Senator Elicker: "I think you are probably right but if you read the RCW on this, I don't think it would come under the emergency appropriate powers of a city. The emergency section is titled and with the permission of the Senate, I will read this for cities under 300,000 and similar language for larger cities.

"They call it 'nondebatable emergencies' and it says 'upon the happening of any emergency caused by fire, flood, explosion, insurrection or for the immediate preservation of order or public health or restoration of condition of usefulness for public property' and then it continues and sets out 'or in settlement of approved claims for personal injuries or property damage.' However, I don't think that a wage claim would necessarily fall under this. I think there could be some definite question."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Greive, Senate Bill No. 239 was ordered placed at the end of the second reading calendar for today.

On motion of Senator Greive, Senate Bill No. 180 was made a special order of business immediately following noon recess.

SENATE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 4, by Senators McCormack, Woodall, Foley, Peterson (Lowell), Henry, Bailey, Sandison, Donohue, Washington and Canfield:

Memorializing Oregon to declare steelhead a game fish.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Senator Durkan was excused.

On motion of Senator McCormack, the rules were suspended, Senate Joint Memorial No. 4 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the memorial was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Would Senator McCormack yield to a question? Senator McCormack, we have tried this before and I hope you are successful this time. I know what it means to you in the Tri-Cities area but as long as the gillnetters and particularly the commercial people fish the steelhead in the Columbia river and half the river is theirs, they can fish all over the river.

"Now I am wondering too, how can you do this and how can Oregon turn this around when our Indians from Washington send over three tons of steelhead to them and sell it on the Oregon market. It just doesn't seem that there is any consistency and I am wondering whether this memorial actually means anything or whether you can do anything. What causes you to feel that you can work something through the Oregon legislature this way?"

Senator McCormack: "Mr. President, Senator Peterson and members of the Senate, the only attempt with this memorial is to deal with the fact that Oregon licenses commercial fishermen to net steelhead in the river. If the state of Oregon declares steelhead to be a game fish, this practice can be discontinued. I can't speak to the problem relating to Indians or the shipment of fish into or out of either state but it is clear that a large percentage of the steelhead is removed from the river by commercial gillnetters and this is what we are objecting to."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "I just pose this question to either Senator Lowell Peterson or Senator McCormack. Then what are we going to do locally in this state. You are breaking down what the Oregon legislature will pass if the Indians keep shipping steelhead into the state of Oregon's commercial market and sell it commercially because if it is a game fish they wouldn't be able to do that.

"What we have to do here in the way of laws invoked so that the Indian can't do this and break the law because he will break down just exactly what you are trying to accomplish with this memorial. I don't see how they can go about it and they will mandate us to not sell on the Oregon open fish market."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "I haven't seen the bill, Senator, that Oregon has in its legislature. I think if they are thinking along these lines that perhaps we are getting closer to being in accord on the measure and hopefully we can work this thing out between the two states where we can get a workable measure."

On motion of Senator Atwood, the rules were suspended, Senate Joint Memorial No. 7 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the memorial was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Would Senator Atwood yield to a question? Senator Atwood, has there ever been any thought that the geographic should be changed in that this part of Canada, you might say, is Washington. It is a peninsula that ends down there and should go into Canada. Couldn't they trade it for one of the islands in the San Juans or do something so this could be rectified? The situation you have there, it seems intolerable."

Senator Atwood: "There has been some thought of that. I don't know what the feeling of the residents of Point Roberts would be but we thought of starting another Pig War and then having the Japanese mediate the dispute and we might get an island for Point Roberts. When the Kaiser drew the line, I don't think he looked at the map. I don't know what the upshot or the recommendations will be but I don't think it will result in a territorial transfer of jurisdiction."

On motion of Senator Atwood, the rules were suspended, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 10 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Gissberg: "Would Senator Atwood yield? Senator Atwood, I was most pleased to hear you say that you would be better prepared with information in 1971. Inferentially then, does that mean that you do not subscribe to the Governor's plan to call us back here in 1970? Do you feel as we do that we can do the job and make it last for two years?"

Senator Atwood: "I am of that impression originally, Senator Gissberg. I still think so. The Governor has made the statement that he is going to have us back in 1970. We can't get on top of this community college problem within this nine month period."

Senator Stender: "Mr. President, I would like to ask Senator Atwood a further question, if he would yield. Senator Atwood, is this resolution designed to, you might say, avoid the facing up to the problem in the current biennium or financing the community colleges at the proper level?"

Senator Atwood: "I don't quite follow you, Senator."

Senator Stender: "I think the question has been pretty well stated that the community colleges proposed budgets have been cut off by the Governor. There was some real feeling that an honest budget was presented and then it was cut back and the others all come with these balloon budgets. Is this a way to avoid facing up to this?"

Senator Atwood: "No, not at all, Senator Stender. The plain fact is, if you were at the hearing, that there was no supporting data on which this legislature or the central budget agency could make an objective judgment. If you were at the hearing you saw their charts. They were comparative charts to the institutions of higher learning. In order for us to get any figures on the salaries and everything the WEA had to furnish me with a current salary survey. The community college board had no figures on this and we did get them last week, courtesy of the WEA and it turns out that there is a great disparity in between institutions. There are twenty-two of them and they are all different, every one of them. There is no consistency in any of their figures."

Senator McCormack: "Would Senator Atwood yield to another question? Senator Atwood, what will this bill provide that would not be a normal functioning operation of the legislative budget committee?"

Senator Atwood: "Nothing, that I know of, except that we have to have a direction to do this. That was the feeling of Senator Foley, the chairman, and Senator Durkan who is co-sponsor of this resolution."

Senator McCormack: "Doesn't the budget committee normally go into the operational budget?"

Senator Atwood: "Not that detailed without a direction of the legislature. If you will look at it, it is quite detailed in an area where they were directed the same way on the institutions of higher learning a few years ago on the formula."

Senator McCormack: "Thank you."

The motion carried and the resolution was adopted.

SENATE BILL NO. 290, by Senators Henry, Peterson (Ted) and Stender (by departmental request):

Creating additional divisions within department of labor and industries.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 21, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 290, creating additional divisions within department of labor and industries (reported by Committee on Labor and Social Security):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

On page 2, section 3, line 4 after "division" and before the "." insert "subject to the provisions of Chapter 41.06 RCW"

Signed by: Senators Stortini, Chairman; Connor, Durkan, Faulk, Herr, Matson, Ridder, Stender.

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 11, strike the word "and"

On motion of Senator Stortini, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 290 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Would Senator Stender yield to a question? Senator Stender, can you answer the question as to whether or not there will be a conflict in the two statutes there?"

Senator Stender: "I have to point out, Senator, the hearings were held and the question was raised at that time and the department already has these responsibilities. This is an organizational measure within the department. The responsibility is not removed from the department by this measure. It merely adds the two divisions as heading within the department, not outside but within the department itself and the functions as I explained that are now being performed.

"The apprenticeship council, as you mentioned Senator, is not disturbed one iota. They have a head man that is an assistant, so to speak, in charge of the apprenticeship program for the state of Washington. So it is just organizational so far as the powers already delegated within the department of labor and industries."

Senator Greive: "Would Senator Stender and Senator Guess yield to a question? Would you have any objection if we placed this bill first on the calendar for tomorrow? We have promised people who have meetings that they could have them as scheduled and if we can continue this as number one tomorrow, we will be able to have the meetings as planned."

Senator Stender: "Very frankly, if all of these questions posed and if those who are in doubt will study what the situation is and Senator Guess is certainly close to this in his regular work, there just isn't any controversy in this measure. We can make it into a controversy if you think that you have the time for it but I wouldn't be upholding or supporting it in the first place if I thought it was a measure that would disrupt the department of apprenticeship or was designed at all to destroy the function insofar as the safety division is concerned, which is not at all in any manner, shape or form affected by this housekeeping measure. That is what I am saying. I suppose that we could ask questions about the whole department but this doesn't propose to change it."

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Senate Bill No. 290 was ordered placed on the second reading calendar for Friday, February 28.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Brian): "Parliamentary inquiry."

President Pro Tempore Henry: "The Senator will state his point of parliamentary inquiry."

Senator Lewis (Brian): "I understood that Senator Gissberg had moved this morning that Senate Bill No. 292 be placed at the end of the second reading calendar. Is there a motion to cease action on the second reading calendar?"

President Pro Tempore Henry: "It will be on the second reading calendar for tomorrow, Senator Lewis."

MOTION

At 3:10 p.m. on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate adjourned until 10:00 a.m., Thursday, February 27, 1969.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.

WARD BOWDEN, Secretary of the Senate.

"Lord, teach us how to pray aright, with reverence and with fear; though dust and ashes in Thy sight, we may, we must draw near. We perish if we cease from prayer; O grant us power to pray and when to meet Thee we prepare, Lord, meet us by the way. Truly, Thou art the Way, without Thee there is no going. Thou art the Truth, without Thee there is no knowing. Thou art the Life, without Thee there is no living. Grant us Thy Way to go, Thy Truth to know, Thy Life to live. Forgive our sins and our lack of faith and strengthen us this day to know and to do Thy will. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

The President signed:
HOUSE BILL NO. 123.

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 15, by Committee on Education:

Directing the promulgation of certain rules and regulations respecting certain activities in the common school system.

On motion of Senator Ridder, the rules were suspended, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 15 was advanced to second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Ridder, the rules were suspended, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 15 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Would Senator Ridder yield? Senator Ridder, can you assure me that the superintendent of public instruction is legally bound to follow the directive of the legislature as expressed through a concurrent resolution?"

Senator Ridder: "As I understand it, we have delegated the authority to the state school board through the superintendent of public instruction to promulgate policy in this area, and noticing that last session we passed a bill concerning the gaining permission of parents for psychological testing, that was immediately picked up and put in guidelines by the superintendent of public instruction of the state school board, we have been assured to this degree that these will be accepted and put into regulations. If they are put into regulations as we have specified, they will become law and will be codified and this is my understanding on it.

"Further than this, I don't know whether this binds but I would presume that legislative intent through a body that we have delegated authority to is binding."

Senator Lewis (Brian): "In other words, Senator, last time they acted in response to a bill. Mr. Bruno has now given you written assurance that he will act in response to a concurrent resolution?"

Senator Ridder: "I must admit I do not have written assurance that they will move on this in this way. I do have oral assurance that this is acceptable to them and will be acted upon."

Senator Lewis (Brian): "Then I hope that you will be able to get his oral assurance in writing so we may have it before us before we adjourn."

Senator McDougall: "Mr. President, would Senator Guess yield to a question? Senator Guess, don't the individual school boards as such, have the right to set forth rules and regulations regarding the particular items that are contained in this concurrent resolution?"

Senator Guess: "I believe that they do, Senator McDougall, but in many areas they have not done so and this will make it a matter of the state board of education. The state board of education will promulgate the rules and regulations and then tell the individual school boards what they want them to do."

Senator McDougall: "In other words, it is your feeling that the state should enter into this matter because of this reason and this should not be the prerogative of the individual who resides in these school districts where this has been set forth?"

Senator Guess: "Senator McDougall, I think you will find many instances where the state school board has already promulgated rules and regulations and that this will not be an invasion of the prerogatives of the individual school boards."

Senator Marquardt: "Will Senator Ridder yield? Senator Ridder, is it your feeling that this resolution will substitute Senate Bills 60, 61 and 62?"

Senator Ridder: "Could I answer that at length, Senator? I believe throughout the state of Washington today, any parent that walks into a school can ask for certain information and immediately receive it, so it is in my school district. We advise parents of what is going on and parents who send in permission slips or excuse slips or requests for absence slips, we respect and we follow through on these requests.

"There are incidents which we noticed in testimony where in the state of Washington today, this right of parents is forbidden. Thank heavens it isn't widespread but there are these cases.

"What we want to do is to let the people of the state and let the school board know that we are on record here in this body of parents' rights as far as their children are concerned. I personally feel this right is now available but I think it should be put out in writing and I think is the reason for this Senate concurrent resolution being devised. I think it will do something and I urge its passage."

Senator Ridder demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Andersen, Marquardt, Guess, Knoblauch, Metcalf, Uhlman, Newschwander and Faulk.

ROLL CALL

Providing for the payment of a bonus to the veterans of the South Viet Nam conflict.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 20, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 200, providing for the payment of a bonus to veterans of South Viet Nam (reported by Committee on Parks, Recreation, Capitol Grounds and Veterans' Affairs):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 2, section 2, line 4, after "August" and before "involving" strike "25, 1964, and ending on the date of an armistice" and insert "5, 1964, and ending on such date as shall thereafter be determined by Presidential proclamation or concurrent resolution of the Congress terminating the conflict".

On page 2, section 2, line 19, after "August" and before "1964", strike "25," and insert "5,".

On page 2, section 2, line 29, before "date" delete "armistice" and insert "termination".

On page 4, section 5, line 31, after "is" and before "mentally", insert "physically or".

On page 6, section 8, line 18, after "thereof" insert a period and strike the remainder of the paragraph.

On page 7, section 10, line 16, strike the entire section and insert in lieu thereof:

"NEW SECTION: Sec. 10. The state finance committee shall, on or before June thirtieth of each year certify to the state treasurer the amount needed in the ensuing twelve months to meet interest payments on and retirement of bonds authorized by this act. The state treasurer shall thereupon deposit such amount in the war veterans' compensation bond retirement fund of 1949 from the receipts from the taxes on cigarettes imposed by RCW 82.24.020, RCW 73.32.130, and RCW 28.47.440. The amount certified to the state treasurer by the state finance committee as aforesaid shall be a first and prior charge, subject only to amounts previously pledged for the payment of interest on and retirement of bonds heretofore issued, against all cigarette tax revenues."

Signed by: Senators Wilson, Chairman; Bailey, Canfield, Durkan, Henry, Mardesich.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Wilson, the committee amendments were adopted.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman: "Would Senator McCormack yield? Senator McCormack, I caught a portion of your comments concerning the fiscal impact. Was my understanding correct in that there is no possibility of determining what the fiscal impact of this bill would be?"

Senator McCormack: "Mr. President, Senator Uhlman, I was speaking to Senate Bill No. 188. I was not speaking to Senate Bill No. 200."

Senator Uhlman: "Then I would like to ask the same question of Senate Bill No. 200. What is the fiscal impact?"

Senator McCormack: "Senator Durkan has the fiscal note on Senate Bill No. 200, Senator."

Senator Uhlman: "Would Senator Durkan yield? Senator Durkan, would you answer the same question?"

Senator Durkan: "As the cigarette tax is structured and as the bill is written, there would not in the first year of the biennium be any fiscal impact on the general fund because it takes at least one year to catch up. For the second year of the biennium, the impact would be $2,650,000."

Senator Uhlman: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a further question? Senator Durkan, has Senate Bill No. 200 been considered by the Senate Ways and Means Committee?"

Senator Durkan: "No, it hasn't, Senator Uhlman, not yet."

Senator Uhlman: "Would it be your opinion, Senator Durkan, that the Senate Ways and Means Committee should consider this measure?"

Senator Durkan: "Senator Uhlman, since you asked that question I, obviously, as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee would have to say 'yes.'"

Senator Woodall: "Senator Durkan, would you further yield to a question? Senator Durkan, the bonus payment comes from the special cigarette tax, does it not, which goes to pay back the bonds, the money is borrowed and then the special cigarette tax goes to pay the bonuses, is that not correct, so that this does not then create a new fiscal burden?"

Senator Durkan: "But it does, Senator, because the general fund is counting on $2,650,000 of the cigarette tax money in the second year of the biennium to be transferred into it."

"The Governor's budget anticipated that that much money from the cigarette tax will be available and should this bill pass, then $2,650,000 will not be available as anticipated by the executive budget."

Senator Woodall: "May I further question? Senator, what you are saying then is that this special cigarette tax that was put on to pay back these bonds has now paid back the original bonds for World War II and Korea and instead of taking the tax off, being the veterans have been paid with it, that we are going to leave it on and put it into the general fund. Is that about what we are saying?"

Senator Durkan: "Senator, that is correct. There are still some bonds to be paid off. The cigarette tax is also used on the World's Fair and such things as that, so you are correct. Originally it was intended to take care of bonuses. It now has been used to support the general agencies of state government."

Senator Woodall: "So the passage of this particular bill would merely continue to use the particular cigarette tax for the same purpose as originally intended, namely to pay veterans' bonuses?"

Senator Durkan: "That is correct Senator, but the question that was asked me was whether or not this will have a fiscal impact on the executive budget and it will have for the second year of the biennium. Should this bill pass, we will be required to replace in the general fund $2,650,000."

"Now, politically speaking, this isn't the kind of a bill that the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee would like to have in his committee but nevertheless the fact is there, and the question was asked."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Pritchard, Senate Bill No. 200 was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means on a rising vote.

On motion of Senator Stortini, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 180 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Foley: "I would like to know, where it begins on page 5, line 8, what makes the licensing exclusive with the state of Washington. That is all added material. It preempts to the state of Washington the licensing of the individuals covered by this bill. Your comment was that it did not."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "On the licensing but you still have the permit system with which you have been carrying out in Vancouver now. You are talking about permits and then licensing. It is a state license and a city permit so you will still have your revenue there as you have always had. This licensing goes back to 1919. It is one of the oldest codes of this type in the state of Washington, Senator."

Senator Foley: "Well, I sincerely hope you are right. The attorney for the city of Vancouver, Washington seemed to think that it preempts to the state of Washington."

SENATE BILL NO. 308, providing for interdistrict cooperation among school districts (reported by Committee on Education):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 4, section 5, line 17, after "facilities;" strike "and" and insert "or".

On page 4, section 5, line 18, after "districts" add:

": PROVIDED, That no voluntary, tuition free attendance program among school districts developed by the superintendent of public instruction shall be instituted unless such program receives the approval of the boards of directors of the districts"

On page 8, section 11, line 12, after "facilities;" strike "and" and insert "or".

On page 8, section 11, line 14, after "districts" add:

": PROVIDED, That no voluntary, tuition free attendance program among school districts developed by the superintendent of public instruction shall be instituted unless such program receives the approval of the boards of directors of the districts"

On motion of Senator Ridder, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Atwood, the following amendment was adopted:

Senator Ridder moved that the rules be suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 308 be advanced to third reading, the second reading be considered the third, and the bill be placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Will Senator Ridder yield to a question? Senator Ridder, I have probably the most remote school district in my area, and that is the San Juan Islands. Could you enlighten me a little bit as to just how and in what manner this would help a group of islands such as I have in the district, perhaps the consolidation isn't the answer due to the remoteness of the districts to each other. How would it help in this area?"

Senator Ridder: "You do have a problem. You have a problem of transportation and I can't necessarily answer to this that this bill is specifically going to help that area. I have had letters from the San Juan Islands. The San Juans have actually been one of the few small school districts who said they would like to consolidate. But I think in this way, perhaps through some water transportation you could effect with the mainland some programs of vocational education and having small schools on the islands you could for a day out of a school month, or a school week, come to the mainland for vocational education with other contiguous districts and I think you could arrange cooperative efforts in this way."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "One further question, Senator, there is some mention of weighted enrollments in this bill and due to the number of repealers I am not familiar with exactly what this does. Does this permit any additional state funding or state support for districts such as this?"

Senator Ridder: "I think that the situation you are alluding to is that in the past we have given a special weighting, our weighting characteristic formula, to small and remote school districts. School districts in themselves are not small and remote but there are some school plans that really have some problems up in the hills and the San Juans, specifically the group about which you are speaking. This would give them in the formula for school plans that are remote and necessary a little added weight. It would do a lot to enable them to take part in such cooperative ventures."

Senator McCormack: "Would Senator Ridder yield? Senator Ridder, now I understand this bill is designed to provide for an inter-district cooperation. We often think of this in terms of vocational or occupational training. Now I would like to ask you specifically, does this involve the entire broad spectrum of all educational activities or is it limited just to vocational training?"

Senator Ridder: "No, this would take care of any special programs whatsoever you are interested in. It might take a special music program that two or three districts would like to get together, neither one having the facilities, but together they would be able to provide them. So this takes the whole broad spectrum."

Senator McCormack: "And this would include advanced academic courses such as advanced physics and language, math courses that one school couldn't offer efficiently by itself but that two or three schools could offer together?"

Senator Ridder: "Excellent, but remember this is voluntary. If several districts would like to get together to build some type of program and neither one alone could manage, this would give them the opportunity to do it and your minds could devise any type arrangement."

Senator McCormack: "And finally, Senator Ridder, the students would retain their identity in the home school district. They would not adopt the identity of a centralized facility. They would simply move to and from some centralized facility or some combined jointly operated installation on an hourly or daily basis. They would retain their identity in their home school district. Is that correct?"

Senator Ridder: "Right. This does not take any rights away from the autonomy of the school district. We don't envision any living away or anything of this sort. It is a part time basis."

Senator Guess: "Would Senator Ridder yield? Senator, can you interpret section 12 for me? What would this do in the way of constructing educational parks?"

Senator Ridder: "This in a sense would allow, in fact this might be a basis for educational parks. This is not the intent of the bill but this could be. After all, any type of inter-district cooperation would be allowed. Anything you may devise in which several districts would want to get together would be allowable under this depending on whether they voluntarily want to enter into it or not."

Senator Guess moved that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 308 be placed at the beginning of the second reading calendar for tomorrow.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Uhlman: "Mr. President, I believe the bill is now on third reading at this time."

President Pro Tempore Henry: "Your point is well taken, Senator Uhlman."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Guess, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 308 was ordered placed at the beginning of the third reading calendar for today.

SENATE BILL NO. 298, by Senators Uhlman, Durkan and Woodall:
Providing salaries for full time justices of the peace.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 5, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 298, providing salaries for full time justices of the peace (reported by Judiciary Committee):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On line 21, following section 1, insert the following section:

"Sec. 2. Section 4, chapter 156, Laws of 1951, as amended by section 6, chapter 110, Laws of 1965 ex. sess., and RCW 3.16.004 are each amended to read as follows:

Effective the second Monday in January, 1967, in cities having a population of more than twenty thousand, the justices of the peace shall devote their full time to the duties of the office and shall not engage in the practice of law; the annual salary shall be [two-thirds of the amount provided by statute as the salary for the position of superior court judge or twelve thousand five hundred dollars, whichever is greater] twenty thousand dollars: PROVIDED FURTHER, That where justices of the peace in cities over the population of twenty thousand are also acting as police judges, five thousand dollars of their salaries as hereinabove provided shall be charged against the counties and the remainder shall be paid by the municipality."

Renumber the remaining section accordingly.

In line 3 of the title, after "3,58,010;" and before "and" insert "amending section 4, chapter 156, Laws of 1951, as amended by section 6, chapter 110, Laws of 1965 ex. sess., and RCW 3.16.004;"

Signed by: Senators Uhlman, Chairman; Andersen, Atwood, Durkan, Foley, Gissberg, Holman, Twigg, Walgren, Woodall.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the first committee amendment was adopted.

Senator Knoblauch moved the adoption of the following amendment by Senators Knoblauch and Atwood:

In line 11 of the second committee amendment, after "greater]" strike "twenty" and insert "eighteen"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDougall: "Would Senator Uhlman yield to a question? Senator Uhlman, in section 1 of the bill it refers to a full time justice of the peace. Could you define this individual for me, please?"

Senator Uhlman: "Yes, a full time justice of the peace is one created under the 1961 act who simply can't practice law. There is no moonlighting available. He spends all of his time on the bench defending justice and that's it."

MOTIONS

Senator McCutcheon moved that the Senate do indefinitely postpone Senate Bill No. 298.

The motion by Senator Knoblauch carried and the second committee amendment as amended by Senators Knoblauch and Atwood was adopted.

On motion of Senator McCutcheon, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 1, line 21, strike all of section 2.

On page 1, section 2, beginning on line 3 of the title, strike "; and declaring an emergency"

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 298 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator McDougall: "Would Senator Uhlman yield to another question? Senator Uhlman, in section 1 you told me that a full time justice of the peace is one who does not practice law and is a full time justice. Section 2, however, says that in cities over 25,000 it specifically states that those individuals, if they are justices of the peace, cannot practice law.

"Now I am trying to relate this to my own, the largest city in my particular district which is Wenatchee and has a population of approximately 18,000.

"Why is it necessary in section 2 to specifically state that these individuals cannot practice law and yet when they reside in an area that is over 20,000 in population section 1 makes no reference. I am coming to the conclusion that if it is under 20,000 that they could still practice law and carry on the functions of this job."

Senator Uhlman: "This would not affect them, Senator McDougall, they would still be under the mandate of the county and the county commissioners would set their salary and this is what we are doing here. It would not affect them at all."

Senator Bailey: "I have a question of Senator Uhlman. Senator, every time we talk a pension bill or a pay raise bill, we get the widows and then we get the first class cities type and then we get their widows and then we get somebody else and we think we are through with it and the next day we come in and have something else."

"I was wondering now whether the judiciary committee and this in my mind goes with the whole package, what is the judiciary committee going to do with the part time justices under this act? How much pay raise are you going to ask for them? I am speaking of those now that are not taken care of in this bill."

Senator Uhlman: "Senator, at the present time there is no bill pending in our committee to my knowledge. I believe the justices of the peace of the magistrate's association have some legislation which they would like to see passed but I am not familiar with it."

Senator Bailey: "You haven't it in judiciary committee?"

Senator Uhlman: "There is nothing in our committee at the present."

Senator Guess: "Point of order. Senator Stender is not speaking on the point."

The President: "The President in ruling upon the point of order as presented by Senator Guess believes that Senator Stender has been speaking on the point of order in trying to point out why the bill should not be held over for second reading calendar tomorrow."

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Stortini carried on a rising vote.

SENATE BILL NO. 74, by Senators Durkan, Talley, Greive, McCormack, Keefe and Ridder:

Establishing a state law enforcement officers' retirement system.

On motion of Senator Greive, Substitute Senate Bill No. 74 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 74, and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Williams, the following amendments were adopted:

Renumber Sec. 18 as Sec. 19 and renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

Senator Williams moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, section 3, line 21, after "officer" strike "of cities other than first class"

Senators Greive, Talley and McCutcheon demanded a Call of the Senate.

A Call of the Senate was ordered.

CALL OF THE SENATE

The Sergeant at Arms locked the doors of the Senate Chamber.

The Secretary called the roll on the Call of the Senate, all members were present.

On motion of Senator Greive, the Senate proceeded under the Call of the Senate.

Debate ensued.

Senator Greive moved that the amendment to page 1, section 3, line 21, be laid upon the table.

Senator Durkan demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Knoblauch, Ridder, McCormack, Peterson (Lowell), Walgren, Greive, Talley, Andersen and Connor.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Greive to lay upon the table the amendment to page 1, section 3, line 21, was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 31; nays, 18.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Bailey, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Henry, Herr, Keefe, Knoblauch, McCormack, McCutcheon, Mardesich, Marquardt, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Ridder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Wilson—31.

Voting nay: Senators Atwood, Canfield, Elicker, Faulk, Guess, Holman, Huntley, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McDougall, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Pritchard, Ryder, Twigg, Williams, Woodall—18.

On motion of Senator Atwood, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 17, section 20, line 12, after "with the" strike "provisions" and insert "provisions"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Senator Durkan, on page 4, lines 4 through 9, indicate that there is some unfunded liability created by this act and if that unfunded liability will be funded over thirty years by appropriation, I would assume from the general fund, can you tell us what the financial impact of this section would be?"

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, with the amendments, I do not know. I have just talked to our pension expert and asked him to give me an estimate and asked him if I could hold him to it and he said 'no'. He is sending the amendment to the actuary and has told me he would have the information available. He approximated around $2½ million but he does not want to be held to this figure."

MOTION

Senator Mardesich moved that Substitute Senate Bill No. 74 be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive: "Would Senator Mardesich yield to a question? Senator, would you have any objection to our holding this particular bill on the second reading calendar until such time as Senator Durkan can find out what the financial impact is from the actuary?"

Senator Mardesich: "I did notice that Senator Durkan was a sponsor on the original bill and I am sure that it is not going to spend too much time in the Ways and Means Committee and I would prefer to follow the ordinary course of business."

Senator Stender: "I wonder if Senator Durkan would yield? On page 8, section 10, subsection 2, it says 'any member having more than four but less than twenty years of service who terminates his employment with any employer, may leave his contributions in the fund'.

"Now, I note that the amendment Senator Williams put on the bill provides for fifty years as a minimum for retirement, that you would have a void it would seem to me between twenty and twenty-five because it requires twenty-five years under the provisions of the bill. Was that an oversight or was there a reason for that to be twenty rather than twenty-five years in section 2?"

Senator Williams: "Maybe I can answer that. I believe that the twenty and twenty-five are unrelated. After twenty years of service he receives a partial pension based on twenty years of service. Twenty-five years establishes a maximum pension except for a few exceptions. After twenty years you get a percentage based on the years of service. If you have less than that, you simply add it on to your social security at a later date.

"I cannot explain it in exact detail but twenty years or more gives you a portion of a full pension. If it is between four and twenty years then you see he gets a retirement of two percent which does not take effect until his normal retirement period or upon attaining the minimum social security age. I do not think that is a mistake is what I am trying to say."

Senator Stender: "This may be right, but it would seem with your amendment of fifty years that you placed, Senator, with twenty years it would seem there could be a considerable difference in time before he would be eligible to draw any part of it."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Mardesich: "Point of order. I made a motion and I would like to ask what the chairman of the committee's response is to my motion and have action taken on my motion rather than a discussion of other sections of the bill."

Senator Greive: "I would like to respond to Senator Mardesich's motion and say that if you will look in Rule 21 you will find that this is a question of privilege, question and answer asked from the floor, which is a great deal higher than a motion to rerefer which is way under subsidiary motions at the bottom of the scale."

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Durkan: "I will answer Senator Stender and then I will reply to Senator Mardesich. I don't think that Senator Williams' amendment, I have been talking with the pension men, affects your question, Senator. I'm not sure whether the amendment does affect it. I probably can solve it this way by saying that since I am chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and since there is a revenue impact and we don't know what it is, the bill goes to Ways and Means—Revenue and Taxation. Unfortunately, it seems that that is where all my bills are going. I will accept Senator Mardesich's motion and put it in revenue and hope we get it worked out, and your question also, Senator."

Senator Stender: "If you will yield further, Senator, with the fifty years it is conceivable that a person could have twenty-five years' time in and be age forty-five, or twenty years' time in and be age forty-five and leave the service of his employer, but under this unless there is some other clarifying language, it would seem to me that you are leaving a person in that shape without any alternative."

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, in an effort to save the Senate time on the floor, I would be glad to check into this with you in the committee."

The motion by Senator Mardesich carried and Substitute Senate Bill No. 74 was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Greive, the Senate dispensed with the Call of the Senate.

SENATE BILL NO. 337, by Senators McDougall, Marquardt and Ridder:
Using nicknames on ballots.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator McDougall, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 337 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Keefe: "Would Senator McDougall yield? I use my names as James 'Jimmy' Keefe. I can still do that?"

Senator McDougall: "I think you would still be able to do that or if you prefer you could run just as 'Jimmy' Keefe, Senator Keefe."

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 337, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 49.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall-49.

SENATE BILL NO. 337, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall-48.

Absent or not voting: Senator Ridder-1.

SENATE BILL NO. 242, by Senators Gissberg and Metcalf:
Increasing indebtedness limitations and interest on bonds of public hospital districts.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 20, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 242, increasing indebtedness limitations and interest on bonds of public hospital districts (reported by Committee on Cities, Towns and Counties):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 5, section 3, line 33, after "[six]" strike "eight" and insert "ten"

On page 6, section 4, line 21, after "the" and before "of" strike "last assessed valuation" and insert "[last assessed valuation] value"

Signed by: Senators Herr, Chairman; Wilson, Vice Chairman; Elicker, Faulk, Guess, McDougall, Mardesich, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Stortini, Talley, Uhman, Walgren.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Herr, the first committee amendment was adopted.

Senator Herr moved the adoption of the second committee amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Does Senator Herr or someone who might have some knowledge on this subject yield to a question? Taking a look at page 6, line 21, you are striking the words 'last assessed valuation' and making the last value in taxable property in a district, the base for maximum indebtedness.

"Now, I am just wondering whether the last assessed valuation would mean the twenty or twenty-five percent of value which all property in the district is assessed or would this make it assessable at the whole one hundred percent of value and if that is so, this would be increasing by five times the potential indebtedness. Could that be the effect of this?"

Senator Herr: "Senator Mardesich, they said this would not bring it up like that."

Senator Mardesich: "It just seems to me that that would be the possible effect and if it is, I wonder if this is what we intended. I am not knowledgeable enough on the subject to know what it would mean."

Senator Day: "Senator Gissberg, isn't this your bill? What is your understanding on that point? I just caught that myself. It would appear to me that Senator Mardesich is correct and what happens here is that the first amendment increased the bonding capacity and this increases it five times the total. Could you answer that, Senator?"

Senator Gissberg: "No, I cannot."

Senator Ryder moved the adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION: 1969-20

By Senators Ryder, Ridder and Williams:

WHEREAS, A knowledge of the operation of our economy is a prerequisite to competent citizenship; and

WHEREAS, Our youth must be taught the fundamentals of this economic system and must be trained in the analysis of its problems; and

WHEREAS, The State Department of Public Instruction has wisely and effectively obtained the assistance of leaders of labor, management and education through collaboration with the Joint Council on Economic Education and its regional affiliate the Northwest Council for Economic Education in the development of a comprehensive plan for the teaching of economics from kindergarten through the twelfth grade;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate that all school boards and administrators be urged to incorporate Economic Education for Washington Schools, Kindergarten through Grade Six, Economic Education for Washington Schools, Grades Seven through Nine, and Economic Education for Washington Schools, Grades Ten through Twelve into the curriculum of their school system and further that they take steps to provide adequate staff training to assure that all teachers are properly prepared to implement this program for the teaching of economics; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the State Superintendent of Public Instruction be requested to notify all school authorities of the intent of this resolution.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Senator Ryder, you might clarify something for me. Here on lines 13 through 16 it speaks of 'Economic Education for Washington Schools, Kindergarten through Grade 6, Economic Education for Washington Schools, Grades 7 through 9, . . .' well, it just doesn't make sense unless they are names to books and if they are the names or titles to books, this is the first time that the legislature has ever seen fit to take this approach, to be telling the school districts what books they should be using. I don't say it's bad, I just want to know if we are starting out and I have a couple more titles I would like to add."

Senator Ryder: "Mr. President, Senator Mardesich should know these are not the names of books but the name of a course. 'Economic Education' would be the name of the course, not the name of a book. There would be various books, and they would be at the discretion of the instructor, himself, as to what books were used."

The motion carried and the resolution was adopted.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 290, by Senators Henry, Peterson (Ted) and Stender. (by departmental request):

Creating additional divisions within department of labor and industries.

On motion of Senator Guess, Senate Bill No. 290 was ordered placed on today's second reading calendar following Senate Bill No. 377.

SENATE BILL NO. 242, by Senators Gissberg and Metcalf:

Increasing indebtedness limitations and interest on bonds of public hospital districts.

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 242 on second reading and the second committee amendment.

On motion of Senator Day, the following second committee amendment was laid upon the table:

On page 6, section 4, line 21 after "the" and before "of" strike "last assessed valuation" and insert "[last assessed valuation] value"

On motion of Senator Herr, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 242 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Brian): "Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. I notice in the bill that there were two committee amendments offered by the committee. Did Senator Day's motion carry both of those amendments with it? He only referred to one when he made the motion to table the amendment."

The President: "The second committee amendment was the only one tabled, Senator Lewis."

Senator Lewis (Brian): "Thank you."

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 242, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 3.

SENATE BILL NO. 95, by Senators Atwood, Odegaard, Durkan and Guess:

Authorizes granting of certain doctorate degrees at Western Washington State College.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 22, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 95, authorizes granting of certain doctorate degrees at Western Washington State College (reported by Committee on Higher Education and Libraries):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, section 1, line 14, after "education" strike all the matter down to and including "degree," on line 15.

On page 1, section 2, line 26, after "tion" strike all the matter down to and including "degree," on line 27.

Signed by: Senators Atwood, Donohue, Dore, Holman, Huntley, Lewis (Harry), McCormack, Ryder, Wilson.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Sandison, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Atwood, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 95 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Atwood yield to a question? Senator Atwood, I really didn't have an opportunity to read that book. I wonder with the Senate's leave if you would read it to us and tell us what it is?"

Senator Atwood: "I shall furnish you a copy forthwith. Somebody asked what it would do. It permits Western Washington State College to only grant a PhD in Education. It will be four to six years before a program of this nature will be able to be implemented. I might add with the Coordinating Council pending it will probably be that body that will recommend implementation of it if and when they get the program put together at Western State College."

Senator McCutcheon: "Would Senator Atwood yield to a question? I got the impression that you were trying to keep this a secret as to what this is all about. Am I wrong on that?"

Senator Atwood: "No, Senator, it's no secret. I was just trying to reduce the amount of flack I was going to catch on it."

Senator McCutcheon: "You feel that it is a most emergent measure?"

Senator Atwood: "You're asking about the emergency clause? If you will look on all the education bills that passed through here, it says that the emergency clause is on part 2 on the present code that is pending in Senate Rules. In order to put this into the new code, the emergency clause if you will look on the back end of Senate Bill 95, in fact all the education bills, there is an emergency clause that refers only to part 2. It does not refer to the substantive part of the bill."

Senator McCutcheon: "It doesn't refer to when the salaries go into effect?"

Senator Atwood: "No, there are no salaries involved."

Senator McCutcheon: "There are no salaries involved?"

Senator Atwood: "No."

Senator McCutcheon: "Now you startle me."

Senator Atwood: "This is a program, only, and it's being developed. It will be four to six years before any salaries will be involved."

Senator McCutcheon: "You have the background laid for it, though."

Senator Foley: "Would Senator Atwood yield to a question? Senator Atwood, how long would it take to read this manual?"

Senator Atwood: "Well, it's nineteen pages and I think you've read it haven't you, Senator? If you haven't you should because I gave you two copies."

Senator Foley: "I read both copies. I'm not positive the rest of the members of this body have read one copy. I would like to have them read it."

Senator Ridder: "Would the good Senator from Whatcom county yield to a question? I'd like to know how many doctors of philosophy in education were granted from the University of Washington last year?"

Senator Atwood: "I have no idea but I can tell you this, at the hearing on community colleges two presidents testified in support of this measure and they had several doctorate candidates turned down and had to go to the University of Oregon to get the proper doctorate degree. There is a great need and if you have read the booklet, emphasis in this area will be in community college teachers."

Senator Ridder: "As I note we have taken all of that material out on other degrees in the liberal arts only in the doctor of philosophy in education and personally, I would like to take another look at this thing and see just how necessary it is."

Senator Atwood: "Well, that's your prerogative, Senator, I think it is very necessary and that's why the bill is before you. There is a great need for doctorate candidates and I might say in regards to your remarks that there is no evidence at this time that the Coordinating Council has not yet passed either body and I suspect the Interim Committee on Higher Education is the best chance of passage at this time, but this measure has been before this body and had a full hearing last time and I think that in the interim there has been plenty of chance to study it and I think everybody is aware of what it does."

Senator Ridder moved that Senate Bill No. 95 be placed on the third reading calendar for Monday.

Senator Ridder withdrew his motion.

Senator Gissberg: "Would Senator Atwood yield? Assuming that you decide to run for re-election, Senator, am I correct that the passage of this bill would be of material assistance to your endeavors in that regard?"

Senator Atwood: "It might prove to be."

Senator Canfield: "Would Senator Atwood yield to a question? Senator, this is a very fine institution. I have visited it several times. I do not have any opposition to this bill but my question to you is directed in this way. How long ago was it that they told us that they wanted to give master's degrees but would not ask for PhD's?"

Senator Atwood: "They didn't say that."

Senator Canfield: "I think you're losing me now, Senator."

Senator Atwood: "I was the sponsor of the master's bill in 1963, Senator, and the statement was not made that they would not ask for a PhD. I think that everybody in the body at that time knew that this institution was one of the institutions that was on the move in this state."

Senator Canfield: "My second question would be this, and maybe you can't answer. How long do you think it will be before some of the other colleges ask for similar privileges?"

Senator Atwood: "I'm not in a position to tell you, Senator, I suspect that the next one may be Central. Eastern indicated that they were not in a position to do this at this time, but I don't know what the attitude at Central is on this. Frankly, I have not heard. They have not joined in this and made no request. It may well be that Evergreen State will be prior to the other two. I'm not aware of any move of such because they're not on the line."

Senator Canfield: "My last question is that in case this bill is passed and a doctorate is permitted there, that would naturally change the formula under which we are working in the various institutions, would it not?"

Senator Atwood: "It would not change the formula of the basic formula. It only would add an additional item in Western's budget if the doctorate was in fact granted. I would assume it would be on the same formula as Washington State University or the University of Washington but, of course, this is quite a ways off."

By Senators Peterson (Ted), Holman, Lewis (Brian), Elicker, Durkan, Atwood and Ryder:

WHEREAS, Large sums of state funds are being maintained as deposits in banks in the state without reference to the need for such deposits, the services being performed by such depositories for the state of Washington, or a return of investment to the state; and

WHEREAS, Such large sums of money might better serve the state if they were invested in some manner which would provide a return on such sums which are not really necessary for immediate cash reserve needs of the state:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate of the state of Washington, that the State Treasurer reduce the amount of funds on deposit in the inactive accounts deposited throughout the state and place such amounts as are not needed for active day to day operation on deposit or invest such funds whereby a return on such funds will accrue to the benefit of the state of Washington, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Legislative Budget Committee be directed to make a study of the deposit practices of the State Treasurer under present state law and determine if a revision in state law is needed in order to provide a larger return for the state for such sums as are now resting in inactive deposit accounts, and further to report to the Legislature the results of such study no later than January 1, 1970.

SENATE BILL NO. 53, by Senators Washington, McDougall and Marquardt:

Adding a highway to the scenic and recreational system.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 24, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 53, adding a highway to scenic and recreational system (reported by Committee on Highways):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 6, section 1, line 11, after the period insert "The scenic and recreational qualities of this highway shall be preserved by the highway commission by setting a maximum speed substantially less than that authorized by RCW 46.61.400. The commission may prescribe different maximum speeds for different sections of such highway."

On page 6, section 1, following subsection (26), add a new subsection as follows:

"(27) Primary state highway No. 15, the Stevens Pass highway, beginning at Woods Creek Bridge (bridge 216) at the east city limits of Monroe, thence in an easterly direction by way of Stevens Pass to a junction with primary State Highway No. 2 in the vicinity of Peshastin."

On motion of Senator Washington, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Washington, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 53 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Huntley: "Will Senator Washington yield? Senator, in effect, if we pass this bill aren't we putting eighteen miles of Kittitas county roads on the highway system?"

Senator Washington: "Yes, it does."

Debate ensued.

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Washington yield? Senator Washington, if some other Senator who is not chairman of your committee drew up a bill adding eighteen miles to a highway system, would you not take the position that it should go through your committee and that we just don't add stretches by floor amendment? What would be your position if some of the rest of us drew amendments to add eighteen miles?"

Senator Washington: "In answer to Senator Woodall's question, this is not an amendment to leave the Yakima Canyon stretch on the highway system. This was the original bill. The amendment which was put on the bill was an amendment requested by Senator McDougall which does not add miles to the highway system but which allows the section of the Stevens Pass highway to be changed from a scenic designation to the designation of a scenic and recreational highway."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Keefe: "I wonder if Senator Washington would hold the bill until Monday's calendar so that I may prepare an amendment?"

Senator Washington: "If there are amendments to be added, certainly, I usually try to accommodate and if you have one to propose, I would be willing to have the bill set over."

Senator Keefe: "Thank you."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Would Senator Washington yield? Senator, when we add a highway to the scenic system, does this in any way change the construction standard or the manner in which a highway is constructed or improved in this designated area?"

Senator Washington: "It would in this particular section because it would provide for the lowering of the speed limit on the highway. This would not be utilized as a 'through' highway. The ordinary scenic highway, however, would not have such a restriction. This was put on for this particular stretch of road."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Senator, you're not exactly answering my question. I'm referring specifically to Stevens Pass and we are in a program on that pass where we are widening and improving the highway which has been badly needed for a number of years and I know that in certain areas when the highway becomes 'scenic', construction standards are so changed that it seriously hampers and it also involves much more costly construction methods than are normally used to build highways. I am wondering if we are going to slow down the construction and improvement of Stevens Pass if we put it on the scenic system at this time?"

Senator Washington: "I would say 'no'. The only additional cost would be by recreational funds that might be appropriated by the State Parks and Recreation Committee, particularly from that source, and perhaps from the Game Department and other areas to get access to the streams that border the highway. It does not require more expensive construction insofar as the Stevens Pass highway is concerned."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Thank you."

Providing procedures for the arrest, detention and hearings on revocation of parole violation.

On motion of Senator Marquardt, Senate Bill No. 346 was ordered to hold its place on the second reading calendar for Monday, March 3, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 340, by Senators Washington, Guess, Twigg and Keefe (by departmental request):

Authorizing the highway commission to build a bridge across the Spokane river.
The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Washington, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 340 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Stender: "Would Senator Washington yield? Senator, you talk of another bridge across the Spokane river. How far from the ill-fated Maple street bridge is this new free bridge?"

Senator Washington: "It will probably be two or three miles. It will not be too far from the vicinity of Division street that goes north and south through Spokane at the present time, at least somewhere in that area is the projected location."

Senator Stender: "That's less than a mile, isn't it?"

Senator Washington: "No, it's probably over a mile, possibly a couple of miles."

Senator Stender: "A couple of miles between Division street and Maple street? Is that the estimate you have?"

Senator Washington: "I would say perhaps a mile and a half or two miles."

Senator Stender: "Now, if Senator Guess would allow me, I would like to ask further, how much deficit is the Maple street bridge producing for us at present?"

Senator Washington: "I'm sorry, I do not have that particular figure. Perhaps Senator Guess or Senator Keefe might have those figures readily available. But the point remains we are now picking up that tab and we have done so for a number of years in our appropriations bills."

Senator Stender: "I was going to ask further, when this bridge is built, I would assume that this is a project that has been a priority project for the highway department?"

Senator Washington: "Yes, it is, the north-south freeway."

Debate ensued.

Senator Stender: "This is my final question, would this eventually when the other bridge is completed mean that Maple street bridge would have to become a totally free bridge?"

Senator Washington: "No, it does not. There is no requirement whatsoever that the tolls be taken off the Spokane River bridge."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Holman: "Would Senator Washington yield to a question? Senator, someone told me that the toll is ten cents per car on this Maple street bridge? Will there be anything in the contract which is executed by the bondholders which will restrict the operators of the bridge from reducing the tolls or perhaps removing them altogether? Because you see if we pass this bill and without such a commitment, we are in effect, going to pick up the entire cost of the bond retirement and at the present time, as I understand it, when we appropriate, we at least know that they haven't reduced the toll.

"Would there be any kind of a safeguard in the contract and should we have some assurance that if that is not going to be in there that at least the legislature will know that it is not?"

Senator Washington: "At the present time, the contract with the bondholders provides that the tolls must be maintained and that the amount of the principal interest must be paid.

"Now, there is no way that the tolls can be taken off without legislative approval. This has been set up as a toll bridge and it can't be taken off except by legislative action. It gets to be rather a close question and one which requires a great deal of thought to determine which is the optimum toll, a higher toll perhaps can completely discourage use of the bridge.

"This is a matter of judgment and I think with the highway commission attempting to keep as much money as possible in the motor vehicle fund, that they will attempt to maintain an optimum toll to bring in as much money as possible. It possibly could be raised, it is possible they might figure at some time they could make more by lowering the toll to five or seven cents or some odd figure.

"This, of course, is the power that we give the toll bridge authority and the highway commission to attempt to bring in the money necessary, to get as much money as possible from the toll bridges."

Senator Pritchard: "I wonder if Senator Washington would yield? Senator, what you are inferring now is the crossing of this ravine by this freeway will not cut down on the traffic on the Maple street bridge?"

Senator Washington: "Now I certainly can't guarantee that. I would assume that most of the traffic that is going north and south, this crossing being a number of blocks to the east, that it wouldn't materially reduce the amount of traffic. Now I don't think anyone can guarantee what the traffic patterns are going to be. But in order for the city of Spokane and the state to have a proper highway system and a freeway running north and south, it is absolutely necessary that it be constructed.

"I don't think we want to prevent such a facility from being developed. This, I think, is the primary consideration. Our secondary consideration is the payment of the tolls on the bridge and paying off the bondholders, particularly the teachers' retirement system and the state employees' retirement system."

Senator Pritchard: "Senator, the other question would be, is this freeway being built by money from the gas tax, the last raise in the gas tax that we had?"

Senator Washington: "Perhaps some of the funds could be utilized on that but generally it is the main north-south freeway. It won't be on the interstate system although built to very high standards."

Senator Pritchard: "What I am saying is, is this project possible because of the last raise in the gas tax?"

Senator Washington: "I don't believe that that was the primary consideration because it was planned and on the drawing boards for a number of years before we passed the last gasoline tax."

Senator Pritchard: "This project would have been possible even though we didn't raise the gas tax?"

Senator Washington: "I think that it had a high enough priority that it would have been built without it."

Senator Pritchard: "Finally, is the toll on this bridge just ten cents?"

Senator Washington: "I believe that is correct. I am flooded with thoughts about this whole area because I can hardly imagine any place in the state of Washington where drivers would go two or three miles out of their way to save a dime. If that is the case in Spokane, I guess that's the way it will have to be."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 340, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 1; absent or not voting, 2; excused, 2.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

The time having arrived, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Resolution 1969-22.

Senator Gissberg moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, line 1, strike all of the material beginning on line 1 and ending on line 21 and insert the following:

“WHEREAS, Large sums of public funds are being maintained as deposits in banks in the state without reference to the need for such deposits, the services being performed by such depositories for the state of Washington and its subdivisions, or a return of investment to the state and local subdivisions; and

“WHEREAS, Such sums of money might better serve the state and local subdivisions if they were invested in some manner which would provide a return on such sums which are not really necessary for immediate cash reserve needs of the state and its subdivisions; and

“WHEREAS, The practice of so maintaining such deposits has gone on over a period of time spanning many years and many changes of administration in the public offices and mainly because of conflicts between the laws of the state of Washington and the federal laws which latter do not permit the payment of interest on certain deposits in federal commercial banks;

“NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate of the state of Washington, That the Legislative Budget Committee be requested to make a study of the deposit practices of the public agencies under present state law and determine if a revision in state law is needed in order to provide a larger return for the state and its subdivisions for such sums as are now resting in inactive deposit accounts, and further to report to the Legislature the results of such study no later than January 1, 1970.

Debate ensued.

Senators Greive, McCutcheon and Canfield demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The motion by Senator Gissberg carried and the amendment was adopted.

Senate Resolution 1969-22 as amended was adopted.

WITHDRAWAL OF NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION

There being no objection, Senator Guess withdrew his notice of reconsideration of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 53.

On motion of Senator Guess, the rules were suspended and Engrossed Senate Bill No. 53 was ordered immediately transmitted to the House.

At 12:05 p.m., on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Monday, March 3, 1969.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.

WARD BOWDEN, Secretary of the Senate.

Edited by SIDNEY R. SNYDER,
Elected Secretary of the Senate May 12, 1969.

FIFTIETH DAY

NOON SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wash., Monday, March 3, 1969.

The Senate was called to order at 12:00 o'clock noon by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Robert Wilson, Color Bearer, and Wendy Bohlke, presented the Colors. Reverend Glen D. Cole, Pastor of the First Assembly of God of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Our Eternal God, we beseech Thee in the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to bless this legislative body as it begins another week of work. We know that prayer quickens insight, releases power, gives answers to problems, and can result in peace of heart if we are truly sincere in our communication with You. Remind us all today that prayer is one of the greatest of all creative forces operating in life.

"So, we ask for guidance, we pray for a physical and spiritual quickening. Where there is discord, give harmony. When answers are slow in coming, grant special wisdom. For every situation this group faces may the words of Jesus become relevant: 'I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will have the light of life and will never walk in the darkness.'

"We would also pray for your blessing upon our country today. Sustain our boys fighting in Viet Nam. Give courage and protection in the heat of battle, and a swift and meaningful end to the conflict. For these blessings at home and abroad, we thank Thee now, in Christ's Name. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

Mr. President: The House has passed:
 ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 131,
 SENATE BILL NO. 206,

and the same are herewith transmitted. SIDNEY R. SNYDER, Assistant Chief Clerk.

February 28, 1969.

Mr. President: The House refuses to recede from its amendments to SENATE BILL NO. 142 and asks the Senate for a conference thereon, and the Speaker has appointed as the House conferees on SENATE BILL NO. 142 and the House amendments thereto: Representatives Fleming, Whetzel, Hoggins.

SIDNEY R. SNYDER, Assistant Chief Clerk.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

The President appointed as Senate members of the Conference Committee on Senate Bill No. 142, Senators Dore, Ridder and Holman.

On motion of Senator Dore, the appointments were confirmed.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRIES

Senator Greive: "Parliamentary inquiry. The appointment of the conference committee is very satisfactory as far as I am concerned but I wonder if the appointees didn't all vote for the bill?"

REPLIES BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President checked that very carefully, Senator. Senator Holman and Senator Ridder voted 'nay' on the motion to concur. Senator Dore voted to concur."

Senator Greive: "Don't the rules provide that the original bill and not the motion to concur is the issue?"

The President: "Senator Greive, the President is unaware of any rule which prescribes that the vote on the original bill be the basis for the naming of the conferees. The President believes that the question in doubt is the House amendment to Senate Bill No. 142 and, therefore, the vote on that particular motion to concur is the one that could be followed."

Senator Greive: "Mr. President, technically I believe you are in error for this reason. Very often we merely concur or not concur by voice vote. In this case a roll call was demanded. I do believe that a checking of the joint rules will indicate that it is the original bill. I really don't care in this one case but it is a precedent that I would like to know so that we will know how the rule works."

The President: "The joint rules do not cover, in the opinion of the President, that specific point, Senator Greive. The President is referring to Rule 5 which reads as follows: 'The presiding officer of each House shall appoint on such conference committee three members selecting them so as to represent in each case the attitude of the majority and minority upon the subject of the legislation referred to the conference committee.' The President believes that the subject referred to the conference committee was the motion to concur on the House amendment."

Senator Dore: "I would like to put in the record in this instance that Representative Fleming struck everything after the enacting clause and hung on a different bill as the House amendment. So in making the ruling today I think that should be in the record that the facts are that an entirely new bill was hung under that title in the House and came over to the Senate and actually the vote on the amendment which was in effect a new bill, was voted on and I concur or agree with the President's rationale of the situation that the roll call on the amendment actually represents the minority and majority position on the matter."

Senator Greive: "I have no objection whatsoever to the people who were appointed. In fact I think it was an excellent selection of the members to serve on the committee."

"My only question is that I would like to clarify this because this isn't the only bill that we are going to have a problem on and I want to know as a simple tool, because any of these bills are tools and can be used one way or another depending on what they do. I would respectfully request under the circumstances that the President have a written memorandum and that we put it into the record so that for the future we will know what we are doing when it comes up. Frequently we all know that members vote on a bill to be on a conference committee and it is an accepted practice and we would just like to know where we are."

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, in further support of Senator Greive's remarks, I would like to ask the Chair to consider what would happen if we had four or five amendments in which we had split votes and couldn't quite determine which one was for the bill and which one was against the bill. I think it is worth consideration in briefing before we proceed."

Senator Woodall: "Mr. President and members of the body, a conference committee is picked to resolve the differences between the two bodies. So the point is on what did the two bodies differ? You appoint two members from the prevailing side and one from the non-prevailing side, and I am inclined to agree with Senator Dore on this particular issue that here there is a clear cut split of opinion as to this one particular amendment which came over from the House. The thing that Senator Holman addressed himself to was the concurrence or nonconcurrence and with this one particular principle of whether you did it on a ward basis or whether you did it at large. So that is the difference between the two bodies and it is not how you voted on the original bill which passed whether or not you are for or against the bill, the difference is whether you are for or against the ward concept or the at large concept. It is my feeling that the basis upon which they have been picked is a proper one because you pick in relationship to the issue on which the difference exists between the two bodies."

Senator Greive: "Merely following up what Senator Bailey said, I have no quarrel with Senator Dore and Senator Woodall's position. I think that is a very reasonable position. We are speaking now of something that we will be using many times during the session and usually only becomes important in the closing days of the session and in order to clarify it, Senator Bailey made my point."

"Suppose there are five amendments. How are we going to determine it? All I would like to do is have this very clear so that if necessary we can draft a proper rule to cover it."

Senator Ryder: "Mr. President, I would like to support Senator Greive and Senator Bailey on their analysis of this. I think that Senator Dore's and Senator Woodall's analysis is pre-supposing and a compromise already and that the appointment is made on the basis of a new compromise. When the bill went out of the Senate it went out without any amendment on it and when it came back from the House it has a completely new bill on it. We have no representation on here or may not have any representation of the attitudes of the Senate on the original bill. We only have here representation of the attitudes of those who are voting for or against the House amendment so I think we have to go back to the original bill in order to get a representation of opinion."

Senator Day: "Thank you, Mr. President, I believe that your decision was well taken in appointing the conference committee, however, I believe the point raised by Senator Bailey and Senator Greive and others is also well taken in that the rules should read that any concurrence—any motion for concurrence should be taken by a roll call vote. Otherwise you have no basis upon which to follow and in this instance there was a roll call vote."

"I also want to say that I believe that in the instance of concurrence that the only possible solution in representing both sides of the question is to do as the President has done and to pick people from both sides of the question of concurrence, not the original bill."

Senator Woodall: "Backing up what I said hastily on the floor, Section 243 of Reed's Rules says 'action of conference committee, the object of a conference being the adjustment of differences between two bodies,' so that supports that view."

The President: "The Secretary has advised the President that the only 'no' votes on Senate Bill No. 142 were: Senator Connor, Senator Talley, Senator Newschwander and Senator Woodall."

"The President complied with the letter and spirit of Rule 5 of the joint rules."

Senator Greive: "I believe that the appointment of the conferees is moot. It is done, it is approved. No one is objecting. All we are worried about is the future."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Before we leave second reading, I would like to ask some of the sponsors of this measure a question or two.

"I started to glance at it and I am not really quite certain what it does do. As I read it, section 1 pertains now to state agencies or departments and the employees thereof and it provides that the state can supply health insurance, I guess you can call it, to its employees. Section 2 provides that the counties can do the same and section 5 provides that any other department not covered by sections 1 and 2 can do the same. There are some exclusions.

"First of all, I am wondering what the exclusion on page 2, line 16 is. It provides apparently to a certain class of employees under 47.64 RCW. Can anyone tell me what that exclusion is?

"The second question before we leave this, as I see it now and you might correct me, section 1 provides that the state and its agencies may pay for all of the health coverage with a proviso that dependents are not covered unless the employee pays. Section 2 relating to counties provides that the counties and cities may pay for all or part and it does not say if 'all or part' includes dependents. We assume that it does since it has no prohibition. Section 5 pertains to any department or division not covered within the other two sections and again says, if you will look to page 3, line 23, that these subdivisions shall provide and fund the entire employee's share of the health benefit program.

"I am wondering what the reason for the distinction between these various groups of state and/or municipal employees. In the one case the state is required to pay and in other cases, the cities may or may not pay, in other cases the state may pay except for that portion relating to dependents. Why these distinctions?"

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, I can't answer the question. However, I have a briefing on the bill on my desk in my office but we are going to be asked to go to caucus very shortly anyway so if we could carry this bill over until after recess, we would have the answer back for you, Senator Mardesich. We have several amendments pending, incidentally."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Senate Bill No. 377 was ordered to retain its position on today's second reading calendar after Senate Bill No. 265.

MOTION

At 2:35 p.m., on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate recessed until 3:05 p.m.

SECOND AFTERNOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 3:05 p.m. The President declared the Senate to be at ease subject to the call of the President.

The President called the Senate to order at 3:15 p.m.

At 3:18 p.m. on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate adjourned until 10:00 a.m., Tuesday, March 4, 1969.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.

WARD BOWDEN, Secretary of the Senate.

Edited by SIDNEY R. SNYDER,
Elected Secretary of the Senate May 12, 1969.

FIFTY-FIRST DAY

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wash., Tuesday, March 4, 1969.

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Greive. On motion of Senator Bailey, Senator Greive was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Pat Feehan, Color Bearer, and Kathy Ellis, presented the Colors. Reverend Glen D. Cole, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Father in heaven, we come into Your presence in the Name of Jesus. We would make this Senate Chamber a place of prayer to invoke Thy rich blessing upon the duties of another day. We thank you for the blessings of life. We recognize that Jesus is the world's greatest genius in the art of living. He said, 'I have come in order that they might have life, life in all its fullness.' Teach us how to live and work today so we may have that kind of life. Men are giving themselves to science. Others to noble efforts in peacemaking. We want to do our part to make this a better world, but teach us anew that nothing is so needed as men and women of prayer. Remind us from history and the Bible that nothing can have greater impact on the world than a new demonstration of the power of God in human affairs. 'If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?'"

So, Dear God, we here humble ourselves and call on Your Name for blessing for guidance, for strength. Give a Divine touch to the President and every Senator here assembled. We pray in our Blessed Saviour's Name. Amen."

On motion of Senator Bailey, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman: "Mr. President, I would like to ask if Senator Ryder would yield to a question? Senator Ryder, this bill has now been on the calendar for four days. Is there any likelihood that the Ethics Committee would meet tonight?"

Senator Ryder: "Yes, Senator Uhlman, we have a meeting called for this evening. You know we have lay members, one of whom has to come from eastern Washington and we sent out the notices and we are having a meeting this afternoon at 4:30."

Senator Uhlman: "Would Senator Ryder yield to another question? What possible subject matter would Senate Bill No. 109 cover which would relate to the Ethics Board?"

Senator Ryder: "Senator Uhlman, this was a question that was raised by the member himself and I do not believe that we of the Ethics Board are at liberty to discuss it until we have had a chance to discuss it in the Ethics Board, itself."

Providing insurance and health care programs for state, municipal, institution, and political subdivision employees.

Senator Bailey moved the adoption of the following amendment by Senators Bailey, Lewis (Harry) and Durkan:

On page 1, section 1, line 20, after "through" strike "a contract [contracts]" and insert "contracts"

Debate ensued.

The motion carried and the amendment was adopted on a rising vote.

Senator Bailey moved the adoption of the following amendment by Senators Bailey, Lewis (Harry) and Durkan:

On page 1, section 1, beginning on line 23, after "plans" restore the stricken material down to and including "contractors]" on page 2, line 2 to read as follows: " PROVIDED, That any department, division or separate agency of state government, and any county, municipality or other political subdivision of the state acting through its principal supervising official or governing body shall provide the employees thereof a choice of policies or plans through contracts with not less than two regularly constituted insurance carriers or health care service contractors"

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Bailey yield to a question? Senator, I am in sympathy with what you are trying to accomplish but if you will look at line 13, you are striking out from this section, at least, and adding back later in another section. But in this section you are striking out as part of this particular section counties, municipalities and other political subdivisions.

"Now you are reinstating in a proviso that part pertaining not only to departments and divisions in state government but also counties, municipalities, etc. I wonder if perhaps that should not be put into sections 2 and 5 rather than as it pertains to counties and cities?"

Senator Bailey: "Senator Mardesich, I think that the wording has been put into sections 2 and 5. However, I think it provides the plural 'contracts' instead of one contract in line 26. We would be glad to look that over. I think we should go ahead with these amendments and if necessary, we can add some others later."

Senator Wilson: "Would Senator Bailey yield to a question? Senator Bailey, it is my understanding with respect to page 2, line 24 where the word 'may' is used, that the intent of this bill is to make this permissive rather than obligatory with respect to county government."

"Now the amendment, as I understand it, page 1, line 27, uses the word 'shall'. Is this in conflict with the intent of the bill to make this discretionary with county government?"

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, I was not too close to this bill actually but I do know that this was negotiated with the Governor insofar as the state workers were concerned and this has been agreed upon. I think it is in the budget, Senator Durkan can speak to that, but as to local government, it has always been permissive insofar as their local budgets would allow."

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, in answer to Senator Wilson, one is that they shall provide a choice of plan and the other is they may enter into it."

"In other words, if they enter into it which is permissive on the second page, then they shall provide the choice."

Senator Day moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Bailey, Lewis (Harry) and Durkan:

On page 2, line 2, following "PROVIDED" insert "FURTHER, That all such contracts shall provide for the availability of services by practitioners licensed under chapters 18.72 RCW, 18.57 RCW, 18.25 RCW, 18.22 RCW, and 18.53 RCW, on an equal basis within their respective scopes of practice:"

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman: "Would Senator Day yield to a question? Senator Day, would you go down each one of those chapters and tell us precisely what health care service we are talking about?"

Senator Day: "Yes, Senator, 18.72 is the medical practice act; 18.57 is the osteopathic practice act; 18.25 is the chiropractic practice act; 18.22 is the podiatry or chiropodist practice act; and 18.53 is the optometric act."

Senator Guess: "Would Senator Day yield? Senator Day, the last one which is 18.53, the optometrists, is the only one that bothered me having sat on a number of the health and welfare trustee boards."

"I wonder if 18.53 would require that the plan provide glasses when necessary after they have been prescribed by the optometrists?"

Senator Day: "Now, if you will note, and I am sorry that I did not have printed a copy of my amendment to the amendment, it adds 'on an equal basis' and if they weren't covered under the other contract, there wouldn't be any necessity of covering them here within their respective scope of practice. So, actually there is no additional cost to this at all because what it does is allow free choice of a practitioner within his proper legally defined scope when it is already covered by the policy and no other time."

Senator Guess: "Thank you, Senator."

Debate ensued.

Senator Atwood: "Mr. President, would Senator Lewis (Harry) yield? Senator Lewis, in your remarks just now, you said that this had been negotiated between the Governor's office and the employee union. My question is this, the negotiation and the agreement that was reached only involved a single carrier, is that not right, not multiple carriers?"

Senator Lewis (Harry): "That is correct, Senator Atwood."

Senator Atwood: "I want it clearly understood that the amendments that are being added are not the Governor's amendments."

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Day carried and the second amendment by Senators Bailey, Lewis (Harry) and Durkan as amended by Senator Day was adopted.

On motion of Senator Bailey, the following amendment by Senators Bailey, Lewis (Harry) and Durkan was adopted:

On page 2, section 1, line 3, after "such" and before "may" strike "contract" and insert "contracts"

On motion of Senator Bailey, the following amendment by Senators Bailey and Lewis (Harry) was adopted:

On page 3, section 4, line 9, after "through" and before "as" strike "a contract" and insert "contracts"

Senator McCormack moved the adoption of the following amendments:

On page 3, beginning on line 27 following section 5 add two new sections to read as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. There is added to chapter 41.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

"Notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 48.24.060, any employee of any department, division, or separate agency of state government or of any county, municipality or other political subdivision of the state, may avail himself of the opportunity to enter into a contract of group life insurance made available by the department of general administration. The director of general administration, acting for the department, after due consideration of the several plans and bids submitted in accordance with the competitive bid provisions of chapter 43.19 RCW by the several interested insurers having a certificate of authority issued by this state, shall obtain the best possible policy of group life insurance for the purposes aforesaid: PROVIDED, That no contract shall be entered into unless there are two or more such plans and bids submitted. The department may include in the cost of premiums to be paid by the employee, whether to the department of general administration or to the insurer, any costs of administration the department encounters. The department shall periodically, but not less than biennially, give interested insurers the opportunity to submit bids for such contract of group life insurance.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The department of general administration shall carry out the purposes of section 6 of this 1969 amendatory act as reasonably soon as possible after the effective date of this act and give all interested employees notice thereof insofar as feasible, it being the intent of section 6 of this 1969 amendatory act that such contractual relationship is neither the concern nor a responsibility of the agency employer."

On page 3, line 27, renumber "Sec. 6." as "Sec. 8."

Debate ensued.

The motion carried and the amendments were adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Stender, Senate Bill No. 377 was ordered held in second position on the second reading calendar for Wednesday, March 5, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 475, by Senators Greive, Stender and Herr:
Authorizing port commissioners' compensation.

On motion of Senator Greive, Senate Bill No. 475 was ordered to follow Senate Bill No. 313.

SENATE BILL NO. 313, by Senators McDougall, Donohue and Huntley (by departmental request):

Establishing a diagnostic center for livestock diseases.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 11, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 313, establishing a diagnostic center for livestock diseases (reported by Committee on Agriculture and Horticulture):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, section 1, line 11, after "established" strike all of the material down to the period on line 12.

On page 1, strike all of sections 3 and 4, and renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

On page 1, section 2, line 13, after "agriculture" and before "is" insert ", in cooperation with Washington State University,"

On page 2, section 5, line 1, after "director" and before "in" strike "may" and insert "shall, in cooperation with Washington State University,"

On page 2, section 6, line 6, after "director" and before "may" insert ", in cooperation with Washington State University,"

On page 2, add a new section following section 6 being renumbered 4.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. All funds appropriated or donated for the purpose of operating said diagnostic center shall be under the joint direction of Washington State University and the Department of Agriculture."

Signed by: Senators Donohue, Chairman; Canfield, Knoblauch, McDougall, Matson, Odegaard.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Donohue, the first two committee amendments were adopted. Senator Donohue moved the adoption of the third committee amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stender: "Will Senator Donohue yield to a question? Senator, doesn't the Washington State University now have a veterinary school of medicine?"

Senator Donohue: "That is correct, Senator."

Senator Stender: "What purpose then would this particular amendment serve if they already have one? What would this amendment provide in addition to what they are doing now?"

Senator Donohue: "I think this will be explained a little bit later, Senator."

The motion carried and the third committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Donohue, the fourth, fifth and sixth committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Lewis (Brian), the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, section 2, line 16, after "state" insert "or adjacent states: PROVIDED, That charges shall be made for such services as will reimburse the center for the cost of such services."

On motion of Senator Donohue, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 313 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator McCormack: "Would Senator Donohue yield to a question? Senator, as I understand it from the remarks of Senator McDougall, there is no funding for this program during this biennium, is that correct?"

Senator Donohue: "That is true."

Senator McCormack: "So this is strictly permissive legislation?"

Senator Donohue: "True."

Senator McCormack: "Now, could the Washington State University go ahead and establish this program this biennium out of its present operating fund?"

Senator Donohue: "I don't think they could, Senator."

Senator McCormack: "Because you don't think they have the funds to do it, it's too expensive?"

Senator Donohue: "I don't think there has been any money appropriated for this purpose."

Senator McCormack: "Senator, would you say that this bill is in the interests of the agricultural communities in the state?"

Senator Donohue: "I certainly would."

Senator McCormack: "And ultimately it will cost the people of the state a sizeable amount of money?"

Senator Donohue: "The estimate of setting this up, to my knowledge and in discussion with several different people, is that eventually it would cost in terms of $100,000."

Senator McCormack: "Thank you very much, Senator."

Authorizing port commissioners' compensation.

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 475 on second reading.

On motion of Senator Greive, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 1, beginning on line 9, after "port district commission" strike all of the material down to and including "PROVIDED FURTHER" on line 14, and insert "PROVIDED"

On page 1, beginning on line 20, after "dollars per month" strike all the matter down to the period on line 25.

On motion of Senator Greive, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 475 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 475, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; absent or not voting, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall—48.

Absent or not voting: Senator Lewis (Brian)—1.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 475, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SENATE BILL NO. 355, by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Gissberg, Uhlman, Holman, Canfield and Twigg (by departmental request):

Enforcing laws by certain employees of the department of natural resources.

On motion of Senator Peterson (Lowell), Substitute Senate Bill No. 355 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 355, and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time by sections.

Senator Gissberg moved the adoption of the following amendments by Senators Gissberg and Peterson (Lowell):

On page 1, section 1, line 12, after "lands" strike "and" and insert "if such" and after "Property" insert "is"

On page 1, section 1, after line 12, insert:

"A violation of any rule or regulation adopted under this section shall constitute a misdemeanor."

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Would Senator Gissberg yield to a question? Senator Gissberg, as I understand your amendments, you are saying that it shall be a misdemeanor if there is a violation of present rules that have been adopted by the department and citizens violate those rules. I further understand that amendment to mean that the department may in the future, issue rules and regulations which we have already called a misdemeanor. Am I misunderstanding your amendment?"

Senator Gissberg: "You are wrong on all of your assumptions, Senator Lewis. Insofar as the present rules and regulations are concerned the amendment would not touch those. In other words, they would have to adopt, the criminal sanctions would apply only to rules and regulations promulgated after the effective date of this act obviously and with respect to your second question, your assumption was wrong."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Maybe I misunderstood your amendment. My second question was if the department in the future promulgates a rule, is a violation of that rule which may be promulgated in the future a misdemeanor?"

Senator Gissberg: "Yes, that is the intent and that is what it would do, Senator Lewis, and without it, of course, there is no purpose in having the bill."

"As I say, the forest products people are also extremely anxious to have this passed because without it, as you know, the sheriff, etc. just can't get up into the woods to enforce the law and without this sort of enabling legislation it is going to get worse instead of better."

Debate ensued.

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Gissberg yield? Senator, I didn't quite hear what you said you did with that first amendment. Would you explain that?"

Senator Gissberg: "Yes, on line 12 after 'land', the amendment strikes 'and' and inserts 'if such' and after 'property' and before 'administered', the amendment inserts 'is'. So that the amendatory language would read 'pertaining to use by the public of state owned land if such property is administered by the department'. Otherwise, it is all state land, it is wide open, you see."

Further debate ensued.

The motion carried and the amendments by Senators Gissberg and Peterson (Lowell) were adopted.

On motion of Senator Gissberg, the following title amendment was adopted:

On line 3 of the title strike "and" and on line 4, after "RCW" and before the period insert "; and prescribing criminal penalties"

On motion of Senator Peterson (Lowell), the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 355 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 3, 1969.

Mr. President: The House has adopted HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 12, and the same is herewith transmitted. SIDNEY R. SNYDER, Assistant Chief Clerk.

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 12, by Representatives Bledsoe and O'Brien:

Prescribing cutoff dates for consideration of legislative business.

On motion of Senator Greive, the rules were suspended, and House Concurrent Resolution No. 12 was read the second time in full.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Senator Woodall: "Point of information. I would like a ruling from the President whether or not under the wording of this resolution, confirmations could be considered after that particular hour. If the ruling be in the negative then I would suggest an amendment to allow the Senate to take care of confirmations in that period of time."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "Senator Woodall, the President believes that the process of confirming gubernatorial appointments is a unilateral action and that the Senate may make its own rules on this particular procedure."

On motion of Senator Greive, the rules were suspended, House Concurrent Resolution No. 12 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, the resolution was placed on final passage and adopted.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 342, by Senators Metcalf, Odegaard, Twigg, Andersen, Newschwander, Guess, Knoblauch and Holman (by executive request):

Leasing facilities for housing work release prisoners.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 7, after "enter" strike "in to" and insert "[in to] into"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Before we leave second reading, I would like to ask of someone who knows what this bill does whether or not they mean on line 14 'such work release participants placed in these facilities shall be required to reimburse the department'. Does it mean what it says?"

"First of all, I am not sure who is covered under RCW 72.65.050. I am wondering if the intention was to charge the participants and I assume participants might mean inmates, for the cost?"

Senator Metcalf: "In answer to Senator Mardesich's question, the participants do mean, as I understand it, the inmates on the work release program, and they do reimburse the department for their cost of subsistence and lodging and that money comes directly into the general fund."

On motion of Senator Metcalf, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 342 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Woodall—46.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Greive moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 1, line 3, after "employee." insert a new paragraph reading as follows:

"Retainer means to engage a professional advisor for pay independent of any future work or the result thereof on the part of the advisor. The following is a list of all persons, firms, associations, corporations, or organizations from whom I, any firm, any association, any partnership, or enterprise, of which I am a member have received a retainer of more than $1,500 paid in advance of, during, and after the conclusion of any regular or extraordinary session of the Washington state legislature within one year thereof.

Persons, Firm, Association, Corporation or Organization	Any Deferred Comp- ensation Retainer In Advance of During and After Legislative Session	Monthly Deferred Compen- sation or Retainer	Annual Deferred Compensa- tion or Retainer
I	Association	Partnership	Enterprise Firm"

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman: "Mr. President, I rise to a point of parliamentary inquiry. I would like to ask the President to construe Rule 3 and the applicability to those members who would presently have retainers and would be voting on this measure."

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, I don't mean to be facetious but you can only consider those people that have retainers over $1,500."

The President: "Senator Uhlman, in reply to your inquiry, the President believes that each legislator is equal and therefore there is no particular reason why you or anyone else should sustain from voting."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Andersen: "Senator Greive is not speaking to the question. This has nothing to do with what legislators report. This amendment and this bill have to do with what other candidates than legislators would have to file."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Keefe moved that the amendment as proposed by Senator Greive be laid upon the table.

Senator Greive demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Bailey, Connor, Washington, Uhlman, Donohue, Sandison, Elicker, Durkan, Knoblauch, Keefe and Cooney.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment as proposed by Senator Greive, was laid upon the table by the following vote: Yeas, 32; nays, 15; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Cooney, Day, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Guess, Henry, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Newschwander, Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ryder, Sandison, Talley, Twigg, Walgren, Williams, Woodall—32.

Voting nay: Senators Connor, Donohue, Dore, Greive, Knoblauch, McCormack, McCutcheon, Metcalf, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Ridder, Stender, Stortini, Uhlman, Washington—15.

Absent or not voting: Senator Herr—1.

Excused: Senator Wilson—1.

On motion of Senator Bailey, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 629 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon: "Would Senator Metcalf yield? I gathered that what you said about the United States Senators, did you include the Governor as a candidate, too?"

Senator Metcalf: "My bill just says the federal legislators but as far as I am concerned it could be amended to include others. That's fine with me."

Senator McCutcheon: "That isn't one that was put in by title?"

Senator Metcalf: "No, it isn't. It is in your committee and it is spelled out completely. I am sure that we will be giving it full consideration there, Senator McCutcheon."

Senator McCutcheon: "You would have no objection to where the Governor says expenses were just under half a million, it's just about right, he says just comfortably, he wasn't over financed or under financed. That is one of the reasons I voted for the Greive amendment because I feel that we are stepping on ourselves pretty hard and we are getting very touchy about this but I read in the newspapers about how the higher officials spend enormous sums of money and there is no place to report it or cover or punish anyone at all or put any penalties on them, the sky has been the limit."

Further debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Greive: "Point of personal privilege. There was a second amendment that was never considered, not that it is so important but it would be important otherwise. It wouldn't look as though this applied to legislators so under personal privilege I am going to say that I had proposed to amend also on page 1, section 1, line 8, after 'official' and before 'legislator' strike 'except' and insert 'including' and the reason for that is it makes it very clear that this would affect legislators."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 629, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; absent or not voting, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall—48.

Absent or not voting: Senator Herr—1.

SENATE BILL NO. 629, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SENATE BILL NO. 474, by Senators Matson, Day, Donohue, Woodall, Wilson and McDougall:

Relating to migrant farm worker housing.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Woodall, Senate Bill No. 474 was ordered to retain its place on the second reading calendar for Wednesday, March 5, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 562, by Senators Woodall, Lewis (Brian), Newschwander, Matson, Marquardt, Holman, Stender, Gissberg, Henry, Wilson, Odegaard, Stortini, Bailey and Washington (by departmental request):

Implementing law relating to minor party conventions.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Woodall moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 2, line 27, after "one—" strike "half" and insert "tenth"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCormack: "Would Senator Woodall yield to a question? Senator Woodall, I do not have the amendment before me. Do you have the definition of 'local' in this amendment? Would you define what a local election is? Is it a legislative district election, a countywide election or how would you define it?"

Senator Woodall: "If it is countywide, it is the votes in the county. If it is district, it is the votes in the district, with a minimum of seventy-five."

Senator McCormack: "So anything else than a statewide election would fall in this category. What about a congressional district, Senator?"

Senator Woodall: "This has nothing to do with Congress. Oh, yes it would. . . same category."

Senator McCormack: "So for congressional districts we would use the figure one-half of one percent, is that right?"

Senator Woodall: "Yes."

Senator McCormack: "Thank you."

The motion carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Woodall, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 562 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCormack: "Would Senator Woodall yield to a question? Senator, first of all I want to say that I am supporting you on this bill, but I would like to ask a question concerning the layout of ballot to the mechanical voting machine. You noted that they had, I believe it was the Wallace Party and the Black Panther Party on the same horizontal line. Now this works unless both of them happen to have candidates running for the same office. It is quite possible, is it not, that you could have an extremely confusing situation with a mechanical voting machine under these conditions?"

Senator Woodall: "Yes, in this case the Black Panthers had some candidates running for the legislature. They haven't gotten around to the President yet and Wallace didn't have anyone running for the legislature so they put them on the same line."

Senator McCormack: "And you think that the average person going into the voting booth could comprehend this situation as he approached the mechanical voting machine, Senator Woodall?"

Senator Woodall: "Over in my county the voters are very discerning. I can't guarantee some of the others."

Senator McCormack: "Thank you."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 562, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; nays, 1; absent or not voting, 1.

Voting nay: Senator Uhlman—1.

Absent or not voting: Senator Herr—1.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 562, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.

WARD BOWDEN, Secretary of the Senate.

Edited by SIDNEY R. SNYDER,
Elected Secretary of the Senate May 12, 1969.

FIFTY-SECOND DAY

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wash., Wednesday, March 5, 1969.

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Foley and Elicker. On motion of Senator Talley, Senator Foley was excused. On motion of Senator Atwood, Senator Elicker was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Sid Snyder, Jr., Color Bearer, and Cathy Cole, presented the Colors. Reverend Glen D. Cole, pastor of the First Assembly Church of God of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Heavenly Father, we come into Thy presence in the Name of Thy Son, Jesus, with boldness and faith. You have said, in so many words, 'All My resources are at your command.' The words recorded in Scripture are, ' whatsoever ye shall ask in My Name, that will I do.'

"Never in our history have we needed the assurance of such a promise as this. It tells us that where we lack understanding, You will give it to us. Where we lack compassion, You will touch us with Your compassion. When we have sin, You will grant us pardon and cleansing when we truly repent.

"So, we come again today at the beginning of this session to ask for understanding, wisdom, forgiveness, courage to say and do what is right, and for the attitude of Christ to be our attitude, 'Not my will but Thine be done.' Bless in a mighty way the affairs of our state and nation today. We pray these things in the Name of Him who gave His life for us, freely and willingly, even Jesus. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

SENATE RESOLUTION: 1969-25

By Senators Canfield, Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Henry, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ryder, Stortini, Twigg, Uhlman, Washington, Wilson and Woodall:

WHEREAS, The development of hundreds of thousands of arid lands in the state of Washington through irrigation has created substantial social, economic and recreational benefits to the state; and

WHEREAS, The financing of such irrigation projects has been primarily by Federal funds loaned and administered through the United States Bureau of Reclamation, such funds being repaid to the Bureau by the water users; and

WHEREAS, Competition for federal funds, involving fiscal demands on the national budget both at home and abroad, threatens to impair future irrigation development through federal financing; and

WHEREAS, It appears that this state must now consider assuming a more effective role in the development of irrigated agriculture, including the related social, economic and recreational benefits accruing to the state; and

WHEREAS, The demand for water in vast arid portions of other western states poses the threat that we must use our own water resources or run the risk of losing them within the near future; and

WHEREAS, It is in the interest of the state of Washington to investigate the feasibility of providing financial support for the future development of arid lands within the state;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the legislative council in conjunction with the department of water resources and other interested state agencies, is requested to make an investigation and submit a report to the legislature, making specific recommendations relative to state and local financing and administration of future irrigation projects, such report to be made on or before the convening of the forty-second legislative session.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Will Senator Canfield yield to a question? Senator Canfield, with a resolution of this nature and what it embodies, do you suppose that this will be helpful in keeping Washington's Columbia River fresh water in Washington rather than sending it down to the Southwest to California and Arizona?"

Senator Canfield: "The tremendous importance of our water resources and particularly the Columbia River and its watershed we also know that politically speaking many of the western states have the political muscle to take this away from us unless we show a need and prior use and commitment of this resource. That is the thing we are pointing to in this study."

The motion carried and the resolution was adopted.

SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President signed:

HOUSE BILL NO. 827,

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 12.

SENATE RESOLUTION: 1969-26

By Senators Woodall, McCormack and Cooney:

WHEREAS, Pursuant to a 1967 Senate Resolution, the legislative council was directed to draft a proposed revision of the Criminal Code of the state of Washington and to recommend such revision for adoption by the forty-first session of the legislature; and

WHEREAS, Due to the magnitude of this assignment, the legislative council was not able to complete the mandate of this 1967 Senate Resolution; and

WHEREAS, The same reasons for revising the Criminal Code exist now as existed in 1967, that is, the Criminal Code in many instances is obsolete, ambiguous, and does not truly represent the interests and desires of the people of this state; and

WHEREAS, The legislative council, through its judiciary committee, has made considerable progress in drafting a proposed revision of the Criminal Code and has established a workable system under which this proposed revision is to be accomplished;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate, That the legislative council, through its Judiciary Committee, continue with its efforts in drafting a proposed revision of the Criminal Code of the state of Washington and report its recommendations thereon to the forty-second session of the legislature or to the 1970 special session of the legislature, if such special session is called and if by such time the legislative council, through its judiciary committee, has completed the proposed revision.

On motion of Senator Woodall, the resolution was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Durkan, Senate Bills Nos. 152 and 151 were placed at the beginning of today's second reading calendar.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 152, by Senators Atwood and Ryder:

Adopting the budget.

On motion of Senator Durkan, Substitute Senate Bill No. 152 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 152 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading.

On motion of Senator Durkan the Senate resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, President Pro Tempore Al Henry in the Chair, for the purpose of considering Substitute Senate Bill No. 152.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Substitute Senate Bill No. 152 was considered in the Committee of the Whole and reported back to the Senate, President Pro Tempore Al Henry presiding, with the recommendation that it do pass.

On motion of Senator Henry, the report of the committee was adopted.

On motion of Senator Henry, the reading had in the Committee of the Whole was considered the second reading of Substitute Senate Bill No. 152.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 152 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Durkan yield? On the addition to Parks there is a $1,700,000 additional from general fund money, as I understand it, is that correct?"

Senator Durkan: "That is correct."

Senator Atwood: "Is that taken into account in the bill that follows?"

Senator Durkan: "Yes, we feel that we have approximately $3,500,000 of unexpended funds in the bill that follows as far as our revenue projections are concerned which will take care of this item. I might add, Senator, and his applies to the bill that follows as well. There are many items in the omnibus operations bill that consider a myriad of executive request bills that are presently in the legislature and should they fail there will be much more general fund money available. But we built that in also so there is a variance that we can depend upon. Historically not all executive requests pass the Senate."

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Durkan further yield? Senator Durkan, on the $21,000,000 added to the community colleges what is the very earliest that any of those projects that are included in the $21,000,000 can be let for bid?"

Senator Durkan: "They vary all the way from January of next year to the spring of next year, Senator. And since we don't plan on being back here until 1971 we felt that we should make the appropriation now."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 152, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 38; nays, 10; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Bailey, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Ridder, Sandison, Stortini, Talley, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall—38.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Senator Durkan, the following question I have for you is due to the fact that we have just received your final version at 10:30 this morning and this is the first time I was able to see the bill and the first time any Republican was able to see it and I want to start with first things first.

"First, what revenue estimate did you use to arrive at your revenue? I'm not too sure the amount of difference between what is in the executive budget and what is in yours."

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, in arriving at our revenue estimates I would have to go back two years in which the legislature appropriated money to hire special consultants and that would be the A. D. Little Company and I want to be perfectly candid when I discuss this.

"We asked them to project revenue and then this session of the legislature had more lengthy hearings than any other previous session that I have been in. We sat and listened to the executive branch. We listened to the method by which the three major formulas by which they arrived at their projections. We listened to the Washington Research Council. We listened to all the experts and then we arrived at a decision ourselves.

"Now, first we felt with some justification we think, that historically this administration has always underestimated revenue. In the past four years you have seen it underestimated by as much as $120 million. We felt historically that it was underestimated this time. We have been told by the legislative experts. We have been told by the Governor's experts that three percent either way on a budget of this size is a reasonable estimate. We then arrived at a figure that we felt was reasonable and not high nor was it conservative but in the middle. We felt that the Governor had probably underestimated revenue this time by about $47 million. That is the first item."

Senator Atwood: "That is your first figure, $47 million?"

Senator Durkan: "Right."

Senator Atwood: "And that is over the Governor's budget including the $6 million added last week?"

Senator Durkan: "It would be reduced to $45 million, Senator, if you want to be accurate. Secondly, we have taken the investment reserve account which we discussed at some length in the Ways and Means Committee this morning, Senator, and used that figure and built it into the budget of approximately $5 million."

Senator Atwood: "It is $5.6 million, I believe. In that regard, Senator, how do you plan to finance the finance committee for the next biennium, the state building authority for the next biennium and the state treasurer's office for the next biennium that relies on this account for a considerable amount of their support?"

Senator Durkan: "Senator, I should have asked the question louder this morning in the Ways and Means Committee. I asked Walt Howe of Central Budget Agency and he said it was built into the budget, that the twenty percent of the bill will still finance the three agencies."

Senator Atwood: "Yes, but you are not leaving twenty percent."

Senator Durkan: "The bill still provides that twenty percent coming in will and it is funded for the biennium."

Senator Atwood: "You misunderstand my question. I am not talking about the biennium in this budget but the 1971-73 biennium. Do you have any plans on how to finance these three agencies for that biennium?"

Senator Durkan: "Senator, two years from now if the need be, and you and I have talked about this, that perhaps the ideal situation is that the general fund should assume the funding of all, and not only these three agencies but many others."

Senator Atwood: "All right. That is the $5.6 million item then plus the $14 million that is in Senate Bill No. 282?"

Senator Durkan: "Then, Senator, there is a question of the Intalco bill which we have in the Ways and Means Committee. I estimated it at about $7.7 and my staff tells me I may be high but I was also informed that we do have available another $2½ million which will permit us as far as the deferred financing program on education which will give us $2½ million which is not built in the budget at the present time. I have also built in the cost of the supplemental bill which I haven't even had an opportunity to take a look at and will probably reduce. We also have some $27 million in executive request bills that are floating around here, Senator."

"Historically, probably not all of them will pass but I have them built into the budget. Now, my best information available right now based upon the information given to me by the legislative budget committee this morning is this bill, the substitute bill before you now is balanced with approximately $3.3 left over for surplus."

Senator Atwood: "I notice in getting down to specifics of the bill that you have cut out a considerable number of things that were executive request measures and I am referring to such things as the medical examiner, etc. which we have no way of telling. There is nothing in the bill funded for Senate Bill No. 74 presently on our calendar which is a $2.8 million item."

"But be that as it may, I would rather concern myself with some specific questions and something in this bill that has appeared that I was not aware of and that I don't think many of the people in this legislature were; namely, on the public assistance budget on page 20. I talked to you a little bit about this, there is a forgiveness of some $308,000 on line (e). I was unaware until I briefly glanced at this and I wondered. My question is specifically, I have three of them in this regard, does this mean that the state will not collect these amounts that were advanced at the beginning of the last biennium?"

Senator Durkan: "In effect, Senator, the answer is yes."

Senator Atwood: "Now, my next question is this. I am aware of a big one hanging in the wings of some $750,000. Is it your intention to also forgive this one as well and I am referring to the one at Harborview? I understand this is a request that will be sneaking up on us."

Senator Durkan: "Senator, this is before us and I would say if these two items are accepted by the Senate as valid, I would think that Harborview's request should be honored. But Senator, that is a matter for the Senate Ways and Means Committee to decide."

Senator Atwood: "I understand. Now, I want to go through a couple of the items in this bill that concern me that you haven't touched on; namely, on the insurance commissioner, I notice some additional $500,000."

Senator Durkan: "As you know, the present insurance commissioner representing the people on the basis of trying to do something to bring the office back so that it would protect the people rather than the industry and as a result of his election and as a result of some lengthy discussions with him as to the consumer fraud protection of people who have been totally disregarded by industry on cancellations and many other things, we felt that $500,000 invested, and incidentally out of which I think, the insurance premium pays something like $26 million to the state and we are going to give an additional $500,000 to the insurance commissioner."

"We felt that this was a good investment as far as protecting some of the citizens from unjust discrimination by the insurance industry."

Senator Atwood: "In this regard, I was present at the Ways and Means Committee meeting when Senator Herrmann made this proposal. Part of it was for updating on the fire marshal's office. Is that not right?"

Senator Durkan: "We had hoped, Senator, to put a little more in the bill for fire protection in our institutions so that they would have more fire marshals and we wouldn't have to go through the thing that we have been going through for the past two years as far as the institutions are concerned and the executive branch not being able to get information.

"We hope that with more fire marshals in the institutions that we will be able to update them and the chances of a disastrous fire in which our children in the institutions would be killed or maimed will not happen and the insurance commissioner has assured me that with this money he will be able to do something."

Senator Atwood: "I notice if you will look very closely at the bill that the proviso from the original bill has not been changed so none of this $500,000 can be used for the fire marshal so I suspect you need a change on that. I didn't want to waste our time. We can probably take care of that if in fact it says in. . ."

Senator Durkan: "He has said if you will give him the additional funds that he would be able, with the other money, to do this but to clarify it I always depend upon my lawyer and I follow your advice on these matters."

Senator Atwood: "In regard to the funding of cities was any attempt made on this additional $14 million to determine the amount of actual grants that were coming to the cities by way of an additional source and a check also, Senator, of the amount additional that is coming in direct grants from the motor vehicle excise and liquor profits and the other grants that the cities receive?"

Senator Durkan: "Senator, briefly, the answer would have to be no."

Senator Ridder: "I would like to ask one question for the record of Senator Durkan. This seven percent increase in the first year of the biennium and the seven percent in the second year biennium, will this include increments to teachers or not?"

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, Senator Ridder, there is nothing in here for increments."

Senator Ridder: "Thank you very much."

Further debate ensued.

Senators Greive, Cooney and Conner demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 151, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 30; nays, 18; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Henry, Herr, Holman, Keefe, Knoblauch, McCormack, McCutcheon, Mardesich, Marquardt, Odegard, Peterson (Lowell), Ridder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Wilson—30.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 151, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act

PERSONAL PRIVILEGES

Senator Durkan: "Point of personal privilege."

President Pro Tempore Henry: "State your point."

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, I would only like to take this opportunity to thank the budget committee staff who worked very diligently on this matter and who have had a tough time and who have performed excellently. I would also like to add my compliments to the Central Budget Agency, Walt Howe and his staff, who have been in attendance and who have supplied advice and figures and opinions when asked for. I would like to thank the members of my committee, both Republicans and Democrats, who attended and who voiced their opinions and to whom their chairman listened intently. Hopefully when this bill gets to the House they will adopt it and we'll go home before sixty days."

Senator Atwood: "Point of personal privilege. I think that the legislature can look with pride on the staff of the budget committee. They did an outstanding job. In no other period in our history have we had such tremendous staff support on a budget and we are getting more expert by the day and we can take an executive budget apart and see where our money is being spent. I think they deserve a lot more than we can probably give them but on behalf of the Republicans I am really proud of the budget committee. It is the one nonpartisan committee in this body. I might also compliment Walt Howe and his staff. Most of this staff work that was before us during most of this session was put on tape prior to the session convening and turned over to us with their own computers and machines and I think that this is the first time that it has been done anywhere in the United States."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Greive, the Senate dispensed with the Call of the Senate.

At 4:50 p.m., on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate adjourned until 10:00 a.m., Thursday, March 6, 1969.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.

Elected Secretary of the Senate May 12, 1969.

FIFTY-THIRD DAY

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wash., Thursday, March 6, 1969.

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Andersen. On motion of Senator Ryder, Senator Andersen was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Bruce Williams, Color Bearer, and Karen Pearson, presented the Colors. Reverend Glen D. Cole, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"God of Power, Mercy and Love, send your spirit of wisdom and compassion upon this deliberative assembly. Lift the sights of all those who work together for the good of the people of this state. Lord, you know how preoccupied we can be with our own careers and personal interests. We would not deliberately bring harm to any person but so frequently allow distress to afflict our brothers while we debate over the rightness of his plight. Cause us to have wisdom from beyond ourselves that we may face with courage and urgency the abiding ailments of our communities and their people.

"God of life and freedom, we ask for your blessing not because we deserve it but because the survival of humanity depends upon it. Show us how to so order society that all persons may experience what it means to be human according to your design and purpose.

"Because your son, Jesus became our brother, we are united as a family. Because Jesus is Lord, we are commended to move toward each other to discover the fullness of our own life. Impress upon us that nothing that touches our brother is minor or insignificant and that true religion in your name is integrally involved with sound and responsible government.

"Lord, we have no desire to offend our brothers with slovenly statesmanship. Much less do we desire to betray your trust in us by selfish living and shallow theology.

"Lord, we thank you that we can believe that you are at work on our needs before we even ask. Make good your promises in our midst so that we may enjoy your presence and find peace with our brothers. In Jesus Name we pray. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 109 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon: "Would Senator Uhlman yield to a question? Senator, you spoke of the 'keyhole' bill. Is this loophole for tax escapes or what is this?"

Senator Uhlman: "Senator, the 'keyhole' bill is not now before us, but it is a provision whereby individuals can set aside up to I believe $3,000, and if they qualify this money . . . there are a number of qualifications and regulations . . . but if they do qualify they can set up to this amount and they do cover their employees. It is a deferral of income tax to a later time. It is not a forgiveness of that tax."

Senator McCutcheon: "One more question, I am not on the Judiciary Committee this year and I should get up at four in the morning and go to work with you but what I want to know is will the lawyers and doctors and veterinarians be allowed to incorporate to do business?"

Senator Uhlman: "Senator, they will be able to incorporate for tax purposes only. But as Senator Stender has pointed out in his amendment and as I have indicated, this does not in any way affect the liability or the professional standards or the professional ethics because they are specifically set forth as excluded. This is only for tax purposes."

Senator McCutcheon: "There is one other situation that has always interested me, that is where there is a firm and one of the older partners becomes beyond the age of holding a judgeship or rather the attorney for other private corporations, he may have a firm but they have a policy of retiring him when he gets to be seventy-two so he retires and forms a corporation or partnership and he still stays on the payroll. They have been waiting for him to retire for years but he doesn't do it. Of course, that has nothing to do with this bill."

Senator Uhlman: "Well, Senator, it does have something to do with this bill because often times an older individual would like to retire but he has such a large capital investment that the younger or other members cannot afford to buy him out so he just stays on and on and not out of choice but because he has to.

"This bill will permit the deferral of various earnings over a period of time which will permit funding of a program to buy him out at the appropriate time. This is one of the major advantages of this bill."

Senator McCutcheon: "That is what it is intended for? I think I vaguely understand it."

President Pro Tempore Henry assumed the Chair.

SENATE BILL NO. 377, by Senators Lewis (Harry), Bailey and Atwood (by executive request):

Providing insurance and health care programs for state, municipal, institution, and political subdivision employees.

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 377 on second reading.

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 19, after "employees," strike all the matter down to and including "officials," on line 20 and insert "elected and appointed officials, and their dependents"

On page 2, section 1, beginning with "That" on line 3, strike all the matter down to and including "employees:" on line 5

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Brian): "Mr. President, I wonder if Senator Mardesich would yield to a question? Senator Mardesich, it seems to me the amendments that you have just offered, would significantly increase the cost of this bill to not only the state of Washington, because we would now be involved in paying the total medical hospitalization insurance costs for employees, but it has a transcendent and a direct implication that those extra costs could go into city and county employees as well. Do we have a note from the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee as to the fiscal impact of your amendment?"

Senator Mardesich: "Senator Lewis, the transcendent effect you speak of is already in sections 2 and 5. My amendment does not do that at all. It merely puts the state employees in the same position that this bill would already put the municipal and county employees in.

"Now as to the financial effect you speak of caused by my amendment. If you look on page 1, line 15, the language in the bill as now amended reads 'whenever funds shall be available for that purpose as determined by the director of budget', so that it may have a financial impact only through negotiations with the state employees' group and the Governor and if they put such funds into the budget, then it would have a financial effect. There would be no financial effect this session because no such funds have been included."

Senator Lewis (Brian): "Senator, if I could pursue my question. I appreciate that this is permissive legislation but it seems to be pretty much history in these events that momentarily the course that is pursued is to the maximum allowed by law. In the event that the state were to, through negotiations, award such a contract to the employees, what would be the extra cost with the number of employees that we have at the moment?"

Senator Mardesich: "The increase in cost as provided by my amendment would come from the inclusion of the dependents and only that and I don't know what that cost would be at this time."

On motion of Senator Bailey, the following amendment by Senator McCormack to the title was adopted:

In line 6 of the title after "RCW;" and before "and providing" insert "adding a new section to chapter 41.04 RCW;"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Knoblauch: "I wonder if Senator Greive would yield to a question? Senator Greive, in my area I have some farmers who raise berries. Some of those farmers have as high as 900 employees. Some of those employees are school children who come out to the valley to make a few dollars during the summer. Would this bill without the amendment force the farmers in my area or force the farm workers to organize?"

Senator Greive: "It is my understanding that there is a limitation on the number of days in the bill which provides that it would not cover most of the employees involved in a transient or just on a day basis.

"Now I did not realize that question would be asked and I just generally know that somewhere in the bill there is a limitation and if you wish I would be very happy to put this over until after lunch."

Senator Knoblauch: "I was going to make a motion to that effect."

Senator Greive: "I would support that motion because I think that is a legitimate question and I am sure that there is a provision that protects the situation."

Senator Keefe: "Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "I wonder if Senator Wilson would yield to a question? Now this is on ocean land?"

Senator Wilson: "That is correct."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "What do you propose to do with the logs then if no one has jurisdiction over them? You aren't just going to leave them out there to endanger sea transportation, are you?"

Senator Wilson: "No, Senator Peterson, there is an existing procedure which the log patrol is following with respect to this matter. The amendment would seek to clarify and change that procedure and it was decided best to let the operation go as it is now. It is not interfering at all with the functions of the seashore conservation area."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman: "Would Senator Peterson (Lowell) yield to question? Senator Peterson, what possible rationale would justify the extension of a contract for the removal of timber, stone, gravel, or other material for a period longer than the original ten years, that is twenty years as suggested in this bill on line 2?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Line 2, what page, Senator?"

Senator Uhlman: "Page 2, both on lines 26 in the new material and on line 31. As you know, the present law is for a ten-year maximum, and what is being suggested here is that it provides for a twenty-year contract for the removal of timber, stone, gravel, etc. What possible rationale would there be for a twenty-year rather than the present ten-year contract?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Senator, this does not apply to timber. It applies to stone and quarries primarily and there are instances where quarries are developed where five-year amortization just is not feasible. It does not apply to timber."

Senator Uhlman: "Let's just assume it is just for stone, sand, etc., it is not five years as you said, it is ten years at the present time and what I am asking is what possible rationale is there for extending it to twenty years?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "I think the rationale behind this is that on these extensions they do renew the contract if necessary and I presume that it is because of the development costs involved."

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 357, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; absent or not voting, 2; excused, 2.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McCormack: "Point of order."

The President: "Senator McCormack will please state his point of order."

Senator McCormack: "Senator Woodall has previously stated that this is debatable only as to the disposition of the bill and I think he has already addressed himself to that question once. His opening remarks started out on the merits of the bill and I think that we should confine ourselves to the remarks we have already made and vote on the disposition of the bill."

Senator Woodall: "Well, if the good Senator feels I have made it clear I did not want it to go to the Committee on Labor and Social Security, I am happy."

Excused: Senators Andersen, Stender—2.

Senator Williams moved the adoption of the following amendment by Senators Williams and Matson:

The motion carried and the amendment was adopted.

Senator Ridder moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 9, after "governed" strike all the matter down to the period on line 11 and insert "by reasonable health and sanitation standards to insure a healthful environment for farm workers and their families"

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Matson: "Would Senator Ridder yield to a question? Are you familiar with the 1960 regulation?"

Senator Ridder: "I have them before me and I have read them."

Senator Matson: "Are you familiar with them?"

Senator Ridder: "I am familiar with them, I suppose, to a certain extent, I have them pretty well outlined."

Senator Matson: "You may be sure that I do. The 1960 regulations call for a number of things including a good water supply, including no common drinking cups, including hot and cold water for bathing, washing and laundry facilities, including some very strict regulations for sewage and liquid waste disposal, if you have studied them all. It also demands refuse disposal such as handling of refuse not to create rodent harborage, insect breeding or health hazards. It contains provisions for refuse, storage of refuse in clean, tight containers with lids and located more than one hundred feet from the dwelling unit.

"I can go on and show you where this regulation is entirely adequate if lived up to, to provide good, healthy, sanitary housing. Now, let us keep in mind the housing that you are talking about has never been covered by the 1960 regulation. As a matter of fact if I can pull a figure off the top of my head, I would say that probably less than thirty percent of the housing that migrant labor has been living in has been under the 1960 regulation.

"Now, when you ask people to provide housing free, agriculture is the only industry that does this but when you ask the people that provide this housing free to knock a wall out of their building to add fifteen square feet, now stop and think a minute what is contained in knocking a wall out of a building. You have to replace the floor joists because they are too short by a foot or a foot and a half. You have to increase sidewalls because they are too short by a foot or a foot and a half. You have to put new rafters on the building because the roof line is suddenly too short. Now it does not make any difference whether you do that now or three or four years from now, it still is totally impractical and I cannot see where a living unit that otherwise is clean and sanitary is so bad if it is only fifteen square feet short."

Senator Ridder: "May I answer? In 1960 the regulation on new construction was 70-50. Now, it has not been complied with. This is the problem. I think this is the reason this bill ought to go into committee. I think that we can look at this bill and very possibly come out with a much better suggestion. I think we can meet some of these problems but I don't think we can meet them if we pass this bill here today.

"The 1968 regulations are not too harsh and if you read them you will find this to be true, and I do not think that the health department is going around just looking for trouble to make it impossible for you people to function. And this is what bothers me. It is a minimum requirement we are asking and that should be provided."

Senator McCormack: "Mr. President, I wonder if Senator Matson would yield to a question? Senator Matson, earlier in this debate you said that the regulations which have been promulgated by the department of health and upheld by the Governor's task force were impossible, I think you used the word 'impossible', to carry out. I wonder if you would mind telling me what is impossible about them?"

Senator Matson: "In the first place the square footage is impossible."

Senator McCormack: "Would you care to go on beyond that?"

Senator Matson: "Square footage is the main factor and I might say this that the Governor's task force, as you say, okayed these regulations and I think if you would investigate that a little you would find that the Governor's task force looked at only that housing which would come under the 1960 regulation which is somewhat less than thirty percent."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Woodall: "The motion was to lay the motion of Senator Stender's on the table?"

The President: "The question is on the tabling of the motion by Senator Stender."

Senator Mardesich: "If the Senate should refuse to table, is that not tantamount to sending it to the committee?"

The President: "A refusal to table the motion will keep the motion under the consideration of the Senate."

Senator Mardesich: "Will the next vote be for the motion to send it to the Committee on Medicine and Dentistry?"

The President: "That would be the question."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator McDougall to lay upon the table the motion by Senator Stender failed by the following vote: Yeas, 23; nays, 25; excused, 1.

Excused: Senator Andersen—1.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "I have a question for either Senator Ridder or Senator Donohue? Isn't it possible that the 1968 regulations if in early practice it turns out that they are completely unworkable, can be amended by the department of health?"

Senator Ridder: "As a regulatory agency, they have the right to amend or change their regulations at will and it seems to me that if this is not workable, they have the ability to moderate them."

Senator Matson: "Mr. President, I would like to respond to that also. I think it might be well for the members of the Senate to know that we have worked with the health department for over a year attempting to get them to write regulations under which we could house a maximum number of people in reasonable, sanitary conditions. Conditions that we could live up to and it would satisfy the job. Our efforts were totally in vain."

Senator Ridder demanded a roll call on the motion to adopt the amendment proposed by Senator Ridder and the demand was sustained by Senators Cooney, Mardesich, Odegaard, Dore, McCormack, Connor, Washington, Bailey and Stender.

Senator Dore moved that Senate Bill No. 474 be referred to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall: "Point of order."

The President: "Senator Woodall will state his point of order."

Senator Woodall: "In the absence of a motion to advance that is the place it goes anyway. The only place it could go. I would like to make a motion to suspend the rules."

Senator Dore: "Mr. President, I will defer to the motion and demand a roll call."

Senator Woodall demanded a roll call to advance to third reading and the demand was sustained by Senators Mardesich, Ridder, Dore, McCormack, Washington, Connor, Bailey, Uhlman and Stender.

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The motion by Senator Ridder to make Engrossed Senate Bill No. 474 a special order of business was defeated, Senator. Senator Ridder moved that the Senate do immediately reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Senate Bill No. 474 passed the Senate.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Elicker: "Would Senator Ridder yield to a question? Senator Ridder, I have a little bit of a problem. About a half an hour ago you stood and made a very eloquent speech in favor of your amendment which was carried to a large extent, I think, by the members of your party on your side of the aisle. You proposed no further amendment to the bill. Now that it has been amended the way you wanted it, you are telling us now to defeat it. Is this in effect correct? Do I have this straight?"

Senator Ridder: "I and Senator Greive are co-partners in this. I still do not feel happy or contented with this bill. I still feel that this bill needs a good deal of looking at and for that reason I am against it. I think we should do these things in much calmer deliberation than sitting here on this floor and arguing party against party."

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Ridder to immediately reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Senate Bill No. 474 passed the Senate failed to carry on a rising vote.

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Woodall that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 474 be immediately transmitted to the House and the motion was carried.

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 512 and the following amendment by Senator Donohue:

On page 2, section 2, subsection 3, after "organization;" strike all the material down through "employee;" on line 4. And the amendment by Senator McCormack to the amendment by Senator Donohue to page 2, section 2, subsection 3, to restore the deleted wording after "in agriculture;"

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Greive: "Parliamentary inquiry. Several people have asked me what they are voting on. Would you be good enough to tell them what the amendment is, whose amendment it is and what it does, please?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The first amendment as presented by Senator Donohue on page 2, section 2, subsection 3, line 2, after 'organization' strikes all the material down through 'employee' on line 4. Then Senator McCormack offered an amendment to the amendment on page 2, section 2, line 2, restoring the deleted wording after the words 'in agriculture'."

Senator Day: "Point of order."

The President: "Senator Day will state his point of order."

Senator Day: "Mr. President, I believe we have already adopted the amendment to the amendment and we are now voting on the amendment as amended."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Senator Durkan, this bill sets up a new board, a new program. Can you tell me the fiscal impact and if you do have it, is it in your budget?"

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, as the bill sets up a new agency, it does have a fiscal impact and as far as the fiscal impact is concerned, we understand that it is budgeted for about between $50,000 and $100,000. As far as the amount concerned, Senator Dore and myself were going to consider that in a supplemental."

Senator Atwood: "You don't have a fiscal note you can give this body at this time?"

Senator Durkan: "We don't have the exact figure, Senator."

Senator Atwood: "Has the budget committee done a fiscal note on this?"

Senator Durkan: "No, they haven't, Senator."

On page 4, add new sections following section 3 as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is added to chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and Title 23A RCW a new section to read as follows:

"Nothing contained in this Title shall be construed to limit or repeal additional requirements imposed by statute on corporations subject to the jurisdiction of state regulatory agencies.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 421 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gissberg: "May I inquire of either Senator Atwood or Senator Uhlman as to whether or not the amendments adopted by the Judiciary Committee go to the question of closing the loopholes that apparently some sharp attorney found with respect to merger of corporations and thus enable the transfer of certificates of public use and necessity issued by the Utilities and Transportation Commission without approval of that body?"

Senator Uhlman: "Senator Gissberg, I didn't hear the very first portion of your question but in answer to the latter portion, the last amendment which we introduced was designed to take care of that particular situation. This is put on at the request of the commission because there definitely was not ever in the intent of the statute that you could have a merger or a consolidation without the approval of the commission."

Senator Greive: "This bill could apply to other counties if they so desired. That is always a possibility. It is a peculiar problem and I would be glad to discuss it at some detail if you so desire. Excused: Senator Andersen—1.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Atwood, Senator Ryder was excused.

On motion of Senator Greive, Senator Bailey was excused.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Guess: "Point of personal privilege. This bill has been before us since the last days of the last session. It has been the subject of quite a bit of discussion by the committee during the interim and as Senator Stender has so ably pointed out, something for nothing is worth nothing and I was very hopeful that we would take the bill and put it into a form which would promote and permit loans rather than gifts.

"For the last six years it has been my pleasure and privilege to work with the Washington State University, University of Idaho and Gonzaga University during which time the organization to which I belong has granted some twelve scholarships. The recipients of these have been a disappointment to me. As a result of the granting of some seventy-two scholarships which were direct grants without any strings attached, I have had a total of four thank you letters and for that reason I have cancelled with the board approval, all but the scholarships at Washington State University.

"It is a sad commentary on the situation in an institution of higher learning when scholarships are passed out willy nilly or with some program of selection and then to have the donor of the scholarship totally ignored and I would expect that we will see the same degree of respect for this program that I have experienced in private life and I am very disappointed that the amendments did not stick and I will, therefore, vote against the bill."

On motion of Senator Dore, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 245 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Keefe: "Would Senator Sandison yield? How many states have this bill now, about forty?"

Senator Sandison: "Senator Keefe, there are seventeen states that have statutes very identical to this. There are about twenty other states that have somewhat similar statutes and most of them a great deal more liberal than this."

Senator Canfield: "Senator Sandison, would you yield to a question? Senator, my first question and by the way I want to commend your committee for the work they have done on this and I do agree with the package approach which you have so clearly outlined; but my first question is this, in view of the type of students who undoubtedly will be mostly considered, that is the low income and the underprivileged group, and in view of their lack of probable scholarship qualifications since it is based upon need and in view of the crowded conditions of our public institutions of higher learning, what percentage of these students do you estimate would go to private schools?"

Senator Sandison: "Senator, based on the other states that have somewhat equal provisions as would be in this bill, we would anticipate that not quite one-third would go to private schools and this is highly problematical because we have a better vocational-technical setup in this state. In other words, we have four or five excellent vocational-technical schools, several community colleges with vocational-technical programs, so if anything, the one-third would be very conservative."

Senator Canfield: "My second question is this, a commission is created and the commission administers the act under the direction of one whom you call an executive director. My question is directed to what you think would be the overhead of the executive director, his staff, his office and the expenses incident to the office and the necessary people who would have to collect the data on these students and supervise their work. I would like to get a rough percentage of the overhead out of the $600,000 appropriated."

Senator Sandison: "It would be a rough figure. We could give you a fairly exact fiscal note. The fiscal note on this is $50,000."

Senator Guess: "Would Senator Dore yield to a question? Senator Dore, on page 3, line 21, 'the package approach of combining loans', could you explain that portion?"

Senator Dore: "The testimony before the committee as I understand Senator Sandison's committee recommended the package approach. In other words, this board in interviewing the students to determine if they have the need for the money and they satisfy the requirements, perhaps they could loan them the entire amount of money or part of it or they could loan them part, grant them part, or they could require him to work a half day and make part of the money himself. That is what they mean by the package approach."

Senator Guess: "Thank you very much, Senator Dore."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 245, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 36; nays, 9; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 3.

FIFTY-FOURTH DAY

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wash., Friday, March 7, 1969.

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Woodall. On motion of Senator Atwood, Senator Woodall was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Andy Ridder, Color Bearer, and Nancy Rosenkranz, presented the Colors. Reverend Glen D. Cole, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Heavenly Father, grant us today, we pray Thee, a cleansing in mind and a renewal of life, that we may live unto Thee. As this body of legislators grapples with the problems of state may they have a great consciousness of Your abiding presence. We turn to Your word for direction and a question asked by the prophet Micah seems appropriate for this hour: 'He has showed you, O man, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God? May this be our direction for another day . . . to do justice, to love kindness, and to walk humbly with our God.'

"Help us, O God, to listen to conscience, the greatest evangelist in the world. Help us to perform rigorously the convictions of our conscience, rather than to always listen to our intellect as Pilate of old. May everyone of us be this day a servant of God to the people who have asked us to serve in so noble a capacity.

"Accept now our thanks for Your bounty and blessing, and for Your answer to our prayer, in the Name of Jesus. Amen."

The prayer was ordered printed and distributed.

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Would Senator Elicker yield to a question? You said one hundred and eight ferryboat pilots. You didn't mean that, did you?"

Senator Elicker: "No, the masters and mates of all the ferryboats in the state also carry a pilot's license. However, they do not pilot the ships into Puget Sound, the vessels that are coming in, however, do carry a pilot's license as well as master's papers."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Last session we had a bill in the legislature that included Grays Harbor in this pilotage commission. Are you adding any additional members? Do you have representation from Grays Harbor?"

Senator Elicker: "Not necessarily, the bill merely states that two of the additional representatives who will be selected will be from the Northwest towboat industry and it will be up to the Governor to make the selection."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "I am wondering about the distribution of the commission as to whether Grays Harbor will be represented."

Senator Elicker: "I do not know, Senator Peterson, as with most commissions, this is left up to the Governor and he pretty generally tries, I think, on most of his appointments to be as fair as he can in geographical representation."

Debate ensued.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 115, by Committee on Medicine, Dentistry, Public Health, Air and Water Pollution:

Changing size and powers of the state board of pharmacy.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Day, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 115 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Would Senator Day yield to a question? Sir, I am a little bit curious as to the statement that you made that these two additional men are going to serve as a liaison with the public. I thought that all of the board members were in touch with the public."

Senator Day: "Of course, they are in touch with the public but they are also members of the actual professional group themselves. What this will accomplish is to give public representation directly with the pharmacy board and if you will note on page 2 that there is a proviso that they don't get into the technical aspects of the board of pharmacy, examinations, etc."

Senator Guess: "Senator Day, would you then think that this would be a good move for us to amend the professional engineers act and also to have two lay people on that board to be liaison with the public?"

Senator Day: "No, I do not. I think this is an entirely different area."

Senator Guess: "Would Senator Greive yield to a question? Senator, you said that you don't believe that a person should be able to get three different prices from three different stores. Is this against the free enterprise system?"

Senator Greive: "No, the problem we have is something a little different than drugs. Now, let's be realistic, if you go and ask for a divorce and describe your problems to two different attorneys you can find out. But if you go and show a druggist a particular prescription, you don't even know what is in that prescription and you don't know if you are getting exactly the same thing. So usually a patient at least our testimony so indicated, had a tendency to go to the drugstore that was indicated by the doctor and they didn't know and there was no way of discussing it.

"What I am trying to say is that there may be a generic equivalent. There may be other things. I realize as things presently stand, we can't get to that particular point because we have unfortunately put a law through but we felt that the board of pharmacy should take some leadership in attempting to solve this and they wouldn't do it. I can give you another example.

"For instance when the pharmacists had a strike. The law says that you can't keep a pharmacy going if you don't have a full-time pharmacist. They have closed down a lot of small pharmacies. Only those which have a pharmacist around the clock and yet when they had the strike, the pharmacy board deliberately, absolutely deliberately violated the rule; ran their pharmacists from one store to another to fill prescriptions because the other pharmacists were on strike and wouldn't cross the picket line. So, they out and out violated the statutes that they themselves were upholding. I think this board, really, in any investigation is worse than most of the others and I think it needs it first. I do think that the other boards could use some lay supervision but not as badly."

Senator Guess: "Senator Greive, if the pharmacy was owned by the pharmacist, would he not be able to keep his store open?"

Senator Greive: "Absolutely, that was the problem. In all of the pharmacies owned by the pharmacists there was no kick. There was also no kick about any pharmacy that was managed by a pharmacist. In other words, if you were manager, you could do it.

"The thing was that there were a number of drugstores that were run by lay people who are not pharmacists. They were part of a chain and the other pharmacists were on strike and wouldn't cross the picket line. According to the law of the state of Washington, they should have been closed down but instead, because there were three chain members of a pharmacy, and incidentally this was not under your Governor, if you can call him your Governor, and the fact is the union documented cases, believe it or not, where certain pharmacists that worked directly for one of the board members were running around from store to store violating the law. This is really a bad area and something should be done."

Senator Guess: "Senator Greive, how is this bill going to solve that problem, though?"

Senator Greive: "The only thing this bill could help solve is if there had been lay members. We felt that if there had been somebody else to appeal to in all of these things it would help. The problem you have is that you have professional boards and they have to take the leadership. Professional boards have to take the leadership in all these things because everybody will say, if it is lawyers, let the lawyers decide it; if it is pharmacists, let the pharmacists decide, if it is chiropractors, let the chiropractors decide, but you have no one to appeal to so the thing that this legislation is intended, and it has been very much watered down, is simply to provide some sort of an ethical watchdog, somebody on the outside so that the thing did not become too engrained."

Senator Guess: "Senator Greive, you are only putting two members on the board. You are still going to have five members from the pharmacy field. Are the two going to be able to out-vote the five?"

Senator Greive: "No, they are not going to be able to out-vote the five except you will find that virtually all of the decisions of the pharmacy board are three to nothing. At least you will have a little opposition. Certainly, Senator, you, of all people don't believe that opposition is bad. You understand, don't you, Senator Guess, that sometimes being against something, like maybe rapid transit, even if you are in the minority, might be a good thing."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 115, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 29; nays, 18; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Herr, Holman, Keefe, Knoblauch, McCormack, McCutcheon, Mardesich, Odegard, Peterson (Lowell), Ridder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington—29.

Regulating sale and disposition of salmon by director of fisheries.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Peterson (Ted), the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 537 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Would Senator Peterson (Ted) yield? Senator Peterson, the practice now is to let this out on bid, and this fish is sold on the market, is it not?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): "The prime green fish will be put out for bid and sold on the market, Senator, and not the fish that has been spawned out or stripped or milked."

Senator Bailey: "You said that this would be furnished to institutions. What I am asking is what is the dividing line between the fish that is furnished the institutions and the fish that is sold on the open market?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): "There is a great dividing line because there you are only selling the green fish, what we call prime fish on the open market. That fish has not been spawned out. Any fish that has been spawned out will, if they are in good condition as far as the spawned out fish are concerned, go to the institutions. Anything beyond that that is not in edible condition for human consumption, will go for animal, mink food, etc."

Senator Bailey: "What I am trying to find out is if our third greatest fish that we are giving to institutions is fish that is not very good. This is what I am trying to find out."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "No, we are very careful about that, Senator. They are fish that are spawned. They are virtually green fish in good condition but they are spawned out. If it is fish that has turned and is not in good condition and cannot be used, it will be used for animal food."

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 537, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; absent or not voting, 6; excused, 1.

SENATE BILL NO. 311, by Senators Henry, Washington and Huntley (by Joint Committee on Highways request):

Providing for advance right-of-way acquisition and costs.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 27, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 311, providing for advance right-of-way acquisition and costs (reported by Committee on Highways):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

On page 2, section 4, line 14, after "dollars" and before "into" insert " , or so much thereof as is necessary to carry out the provisions of this act."

Signed by: Senators Washington, Chairman; Bailey, Donohue, Faulk, Herr, Huntley, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), McDougall, Marquardt, Peterson (Lowell), Pritchard, Ridder, Walgren, Williams.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Washington, the committee amendment was adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Before we move on from second reading, would Senator Washington yield to a question? I notice that the bill allows for the expenditure of federal monies which come into this revolving fund in line 17 of page 2 and also line 18, the highway commission may expend any such funds without further or additional appropriation. This is an entirely new concept in the highway programming and I wonder if there may not even be a legal question involved whether that money may be spent without appropriation and secondly, whether this is a good policy decision?"

Senator Washington: "These funds that come in for this purpose should be used for no other purpose, it might be a policy question. I see nothing wrong with the procedure. Actually, this money would have to be used for that purpose since it is federal money and earmarked for that purpose."

Senator Mardesich: "I am aware of no situation where we spend highway funds without an appropriation, and this is allowing the highway funds to be spent without further appropriation or approval by the legislature."

"Now, I see in line 1 on page 2 that this is for program construction and I assume that program construction is that approved by the legislature rather than that determined to be the program of the highway commission. There is also a question in my mind, are we going to make the determination as to where these rights of way should be or will the highway department make that determination without further need for appropriation?"

Senator Washington: "Of course, we have to set the highway on the system. We don't determine exactly where the highway is going to be. In checking over this, would you tell me the page and lines again, Senator?"

Senator Mardesich: "On the appropriations question, it is page 2, lines 17 and 18."

Senator Washington: "The only change we have is 'and engineering costs', this has been added."

Senator Mardesich: "No, that is a new section. It is a new policy question. We do though allow that expenditure for acquisition. We also are now adding engineering costs, I agree it is done in section 1, but when we get beyond that, we are getting into new matter."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Washington, Senate Bill No. 311 was made a special order of business for two o'clock today.

SENATE BILL NO. 557, by Senators Stender, Greive and Connor:

Implementing law relating to industrial insurance for building industry.

The following acts and parts of acts are each repealed: (1) Section 23U added to chapter 62, Laws of 1933 ex. sess. by section 1, chapter 217, Laws of 1937 and RCW 66.24.025; (2) Section 243, chapter 249, Laws of 1909 and RCW 66.44.220".

"Such person purchasing wine outside the boundaries of the state shall, after prepayment of the freight thereon, consign such wine to a Washington state liquor control board warehouse, and may claim the shipment upon return to Washington by making payment to the liquor control board of the appropriate state taxes and mark up required by state law."

On page 1, line 25 of the title, after "RCW 66.24.025;" and before "and" insert "repealing section 243, chapter 249, Laws of 1909 and RCW 66.44.220;"

Signed by: Senators Walgren, Chairman; Andersen, Connor, Henry, Herr, Holman, Knoblauch, Twigg, Woodall.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Walgren, the committee amendments were adopted.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Ryder: "Would Senator Walgren yield to a question? Senator Walgren, I am sorry that I was off the floor when these amendments came up. I didn't realize they were coming up so fast.

"I have a letter from the chief of police in Seattle in which he very strongly urges that the committee amendment to section 8 be not adopted because he feels very strongly that the cooperation of the liquor board with the local agencies in the enforcement would be of great value in the larger cities, particularly. Again I am really sorry that I was not here to speak on the amendment when it came up but I wonder if we could discuss it with the idea of maybe moving back?"

Senator Walgren: "I think it is out of order myself. I think the amendment has been adopted.

"I should say that I had the same letter from Chief Ramon. If you will note, if it is the same letter, he refers to existing law. He does not want the existing law changed. He is under a mistaken apprehension as to what the law is presently. As a matter of fact as I explained, presently before a licensed premises can have entertainment, they must obtain a license from the duly authorized local agency, whether this is the licensing department or the sheriff's office or the police department.

"Now, Chief Ramon apparently is under the impression that we are changing that existing law. Now if they have the cooperation of the liquor board and its officers, they will continue to have that cooperation but we are doing nothing to change the existing law as he seems to think we are."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Durkan: "Point of order."

The President: "The Senator will state his point of order."

Senator Durkan: "Senator Ryder is out of order, the amendment has been adopted."

On motion of Senator Walgren, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 341 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Faulk: "Would Senator Walgren yield? I wonder about the purpose of striking the provision where a man has been convicted of a violation; what was the purpose of the committee striking that particular section on page 4, line 18 through 22?"

Senator Walgren: "As I understand it, Senator Faulk, this was by the request of the liquor control board. Presently the law will allow the granting of a license where I believe a violation of the federal law has been involved and will not allow it where a violation of the state law, even though the state law violation may be substantially lesser in nature. What this does is bring them both into conformity."

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 341, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 28; nays, 18; absent or not voting, 2; excused, 1.

SENATE BILL NO. 428, by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Mardesich and Durkan: Conveying unplatted first class tidelands to port of Skagit county.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Peterson (Lowell), the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 428 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Would Senator Lowell Peterson yield to a question? I'm not confused but you said this was going to be used for fill areas and then later you said it could be used for a boat harbor although it was a back slough. Does the tidal action affect this any in creating the washing into this fill area?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Actually, Senator, it is a little hard to explain from this map that you have but the area involved in the plat of state tidelands is not part of the boat basin. The boat basin will be right off the LaConnor slough which is shown over in the left corner of the map and this dredge material would then be pumped into this area that is shown as tidelands and would fill it up. This is where the land improvement would come. It would be from the dredge material from off the boat basin off the LaConnor slough."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "But actually, the tidal action won't affect the wash into the back area that you are filling? Is this refuse, is this solid material?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Well, it is the normal dredging material. It would be just dredged out of the boat basin."

Debate ensued.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Stender: "Would Senator Atwood yield to a question? Senator Atwood, this goes to additional state highway patrolmen? Is that what you are saying? How many additional highway patrolmen are we talking about?"

Senator Atwood: "On the budget that was passed out of the Senate two days ago, it calls for seventy additional highway patrolmen. This is for the pay increase to help pay for them. It also funds their pension bill that was passed in the Senate on which you voted 'aye' to increase their pension benefits."

Senator Stender: "When we raised the driver's license fee from four to five dollars, that is a pretty sizeable increase. Is this figured as a necessary expense or is this an idea to make round numbers so that when we buy our license we are going to have to pay twenty percent more?"

Senator Atwood: "Let me give you a breakdown on that five dollars. The increase is allocated. Three dollars and ten cents of this to the highway safety fund, and one dollar and ninety cents to the state highway patrol account. It is necessary, Senator, because of the budget and the state patrol pension bills which have already passed this body, and this is the projection they made, the amount it took to get the correct amount to balance the budget."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Isn't it true, Senator Durkan, that last session the highway people had figured out their need for patrolmen in the future and I think they set a number of, I think, one hundred fifty; and is this just part of that program of increasing and protecting the highways?"

Senator Durkan: "This is correct and, of course, we haven't funded the patrol as great as the national average would say that we need on the highways. The national average puts us about forty percent below funding, and I think this is probably one of the best places that we can spend a dollar."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 287, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 7; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

SENATE BILL NO. 209, by Senators Ryder, Atwood, Washington and Foley:

Providing similar annuity and retirement income plan authority for employees of the state colleges and universities.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

March 1, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 209, providing similar annuity and retirement income plan authority for employees of the state colleges and universities (reported by Committee on Higher Education and Libraries):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 3, section 3, line 9, strike all of the material down to and including "contributions." on line 16 and insert "In no case shall the [regents] governing boards pay in any one year towards the purchase of such annuity or retirement income plan [more] less than half of the annual premium of any faculty member or other employee, nor an amount exceeding ten per cent of such person's salary, [whichever is less] such contributions to be in addition to federal social security tax contributions."

On page 6, section 9, line 9, strike all of the material down to and including "contributions." on line 16 and insert "In no case shall the [regents] governing boards pay in any one year towards the purchase of such annuity or retirement income plan [more] less than half of the annual premium of any faculty member or other employee, nor an amount exceeding ten per cent of such person's salary, [whichever is less] such contributions to be in addition to federal social security tax contributions."

Signed by: Senators Sandison, Chairman; Atwood, Donohue, Foley, Holman, Huntley, Lewis (Harry), McCormack, Ryder, Williams.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Sandison, the committee amendments were adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Ryder yield to a question? Senator Ryder, I'm not certain that I am clear on what this bill actually does. Am I correct in assuming that the state matches the annuity fund that the employee pays?"

Senator Ryder: "Up to fifty percent, that is true."

Senator Mardesich: "And that the percentage increase we are allowing would then have some fiscal impact?"

Senator Ryder: "Undoubtedly it would if the employees increased their annuity contributions far enough, surely."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Mardesich moved that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 209 be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Further debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator McCormack: "Would Senator Foley yield to a question? Senator Foley, you just said that this would be $1.3 million annually based on the facts as you know them. Well, what don't you know? What perimeters are we working in here?"

Senator Foley: "We are working on the present number of professors, the amount of money they are putting into the fund at the present time and those are unknown factors in 1971."

Senator McCormack: "The change then would be the change in the number of faculty members?"

Senator Foley: "And the amount of money that they would possibly be putting into the fund."

Senator Canfield: "Will Senator Ryder yield to a question? Senator Ryder, I understand that court decisions have held that pensions once granted cannot be revoked, is that correct?"

Senator Ryder: "There is a case that deals with the police pension system called the 'Bakenhus' case. Whether that would apply here, I don't know."

Senator Canfield: "I understand that that is the case. Once a pension is granted it cannot be diminished or revoked and I understand that was established in regard to the teachers' pensions and others under state jurisdiction which leads to my second question; that even though there is no fiscal impact now, there will definitely be a fiscal impact in the future. Is that correct?"

Senator Ryder: "There certainly could be an impact as Senator Foley has mentioned to you. Something over a million dollars in the next biennium."

The motion by Senator Mardesich carried, and Engrossed Senate Bill No. 209 was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

SENATE BILL NO. 608, by Senators Keefe, Peterson (Lowell), Connor and Greive:
Increasing firemen's pension minimum.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Williams moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 13, after "month" and before the period insert: "PROVIDED, That the pension of any pensioner receiving an increase in pension because of this amendatory act shall be reduced by the amount of any other pension (other than federal old age and survivors' insurance benefit) received by such pensioner, such reduction in any event not to exceed fifty dollars."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "Would Senator Stortini yield to a question? What class cities are involved in this particular pension bill?"

Senator Stortini: "Senator Washington, there are eleven cities involved and a total of 508 engineers. I also want to mention that the total amount would be a little more than $300,000 with more than $200,000 going to Seattle per year."

Senators Keefe, Greive and McCutcheon demanded a Call of the Senate.

A Call of the Senate was ordered.

Edited by SIDNEY R. SNYDER,
Elected Secretary of the Senate: May 12, 1969.

FIFTY-FIFTH DAY

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wash., Saturday, March 8, 1969.

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Herr, Ryder and Walgren. On motion of Senator Atwood, Senator Ryder was excused. On motion of Senator Peterson (Lowell), Senator Herr was excused. On motion of Senator Greive, Senator Walgren was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Sid Snyder, Jr., Color Bearer, and Wendy Bohlke, presented the Colors. Reverend Glen D. Cole, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Father in heaven, we bow in Thy presence to thank You for another opportunity of praying together. We have discovered that what one seeks with great effort through the racking of one's brains, or through many books, or through much conversation, is often given to us quite unexpectedly after a few breaths of sincere prayer. That is why the apostles must have asked, 'Lord, teach us to pray!' We know that prayer is communication. We know that prayer doesn't change You, Lord, it merely qualifies us for the answer to our desire and petition. We are not just filling up so much space in the agenda when we pray, we are invoking the guidance and blessing of the Almighty upon our work, tasteful or distasteful, for another day.

"Be Thou our Guest in these chambers. May our prayer and desire be like the Psalmist of old: 'Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in Thy sight, Oh Lord, my strength, and my redeemer.'

"Thank you, Heavenly Father, for hearing us. Thank You for loving us. Thank You for help and strength through the work of another day. In Christ's name. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

SENATE BILL NO. 186, regulating construction of mobile homes and travel trailers (reported by Committee on Commerce and Regulatory Agencies):

MAJORITY recommendation. Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 2, section 3, line 9, strike "six" and insert "seven"

On page 3, section 3, line 6, after "homes" and before "shall" insert "and of the member representing the general public"

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "Would Senator Peterson (Ted) yield to a question? Senator Peterson, what is the financial impact of this particular bill?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): "There is no impact as far as the state is concerned. The department of labor and industries is self-providing and through the licenses they take care of their own. There is no impact whatsoever. We are on Senate Bill No. 186 on mobile trailer homes."

Senator Day: "Isn't this the one that creates an advisory commission on the promulgation of rules?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): "That is right but they are self-providing as far as income goes through the licenses and permits, Senator. There is no impact."

Senator Day: "As I read this bill, I believe what it accomplishes is this, it creates an advisory commission to advise the department of labor and industries in relation to the promulgation of rules which it already has the power to do, and in effect about all it accomplishes is to allow the department to pay per diem to members of an industry in consulting with them on the promulgation of rules. Is that not correct?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): "It is true in some respects but you want to remember that this regulation is an all-state regulation, Senator. You have to have rules and regulations for something like this that has, you might say, just exactly what a stationary home has as far as plumbing, heating and wiring, and therefore you have to have inspections.

"The trailer people, themselves, want this type of regulation so they can really in the expansion of the industry as a whole be taken care of properly and safely for the people of the state of Washington."

Senator Day: "Senator, if you will yield further, what is the license fee for a manufacturer of this type of equipment?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): "I don't recall offhand what the license fee is at present but I want to say that it is in just the electrical end alone, ten dollars; it is probably around twenty-five dollars."

Senator Day: "How many manufacturers are there in the state, do you know?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): "There are between sixty and seventy-five and they are growing daily. This is a protection for the manufacturers of the state of Washington because so many of these trailers were coming in from non-union states like Wisconsin and coming with trailers that didn't meet the standards at all. This is picking up the standard requirements and protecting the manufacturers in the state of Washington."

Senator Guess: "I would like to ask Senator Peterson (Ted) to yield? Senator Peterson, on line 27, 28 and 29 on page 3, it says that the expenses recognized by the state of Washington shall be paid out of the mobile home and travel trailer appropriation. Have we appropriated mobile home and travel trailer money?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): "We have not made an appropriation. This will come through the licensing on the funds which they build up through the department of labor and industries. No, there is no special appropriation for this."

Senator Guess: "I thought you said that this was going to . . . if you have the money in the general fund and certainly this will go into the general fund, then you have to re-appropriate that money back out? Don't you think there is a flaw in the drafting of this bill?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): "No, I don't, Senator. This is the usual procedure."

Senator Guess: "It further says that upon vouchers approved by the budget director of labor and industries. Can you tell me what office that is?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): That would be an account set up within the department of labor and industries."

Senator Guess: "The budget director of labor and industries?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Yes."

"We are still ahead and I think even if we don't come back on Sunday, we are going to be ahead of them next week. They are working on the budget."

Senator Mardesich: "I believe the Governor intended to infer that the House was working."

On page 1, section 1, line 14, after "children" strike "and dyslexic children"

On page 1, section 1, line 19, after "handicap" strike all the material beginning with "; and" on line 19 down to and including "ia" on line 23 and insert "and those children who have specific learning and language disabilities resulting from perceptual-motor handicaps, including problems in visual and auditory perception and intergration"

The bill was read the second time by sections.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 457, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall—46.

SENATE BILL NO. 413, by Senators Keefe, Day and Twigg:

Directing maintenance of a minimum of two tuberculosis hospitals or facilities.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Day, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 2, section 2, line 14, after "located in" and before "to service" strike "Spokane county" and insert "a county east of the Cascade mountains"

On motion of Senator Day, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 413 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman: "Would Senator Day yield to a question? Senator Day, as I read this bill you are mandating that facility be located on the east side of the mountains irrespective of economy, costs, any factor whatsoever that might well indicate that we should have a consolidation of facilities to one facility in the state, is that correct?"

Senator Day: "That is correct. There are reasons for it as I explained. I don't know if you were here when I started my explanation but we have had some real difficulties with the health department on this. In fact, if you will recall in the last session of the legislature, the legislature mandated the department of health to do certain things with a facility on the west side of the mountains which were never accomplished. So there seems to be, I don't know what it is in that department, but we keep having difficulties.

"What this bill will do is accomplish exactly what you said, mandate this until such time as the legislature determines that it should be handled differently and, of course, if it should occur, and I question whether it will, but if it should occur that there is no longer a need for the facility, I am sure that it will be an easy thing to correct through a simple legislative act."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 413, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 4; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Ridder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Wilson, Woodall—42.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Newschwander, Pritchard, Williams—4.

Absent or not voting: Senator Metcalf—1.

Excused: Senators Herr, Ryder—2.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 413, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SENATE BILL NO. 306, by Senators Durkan, Stender, Mardesich, Knoblauch, Dore, and McCormack:

Promoting collective bargaining between health care activities and employees.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 21, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 306, labor relations act for health care services employees (reported by Committee on Labor and Social Security):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, section 2, line 14, after "establishment" and before "having" on line 15, strike " , whether operated publicly or privately" and insert " , exclusive of those operated by the state, its municipalities, or political subdivisions,"

On page 2, section 2, line 1, after "it;" insert "nor shall it apply to persons performing services in connection with healing by prayer or spiritual means alone in accordance with the tenets and practices of recognized church or religious denominations by adherents thereof;"

On page 2, section 2, line 3, after "organization" and before "engaged" strike " , public or private,"

On page 2, section 3, line 21, after "unit." and before "The" on line 22, strike "No election shall be valid unless at least sixty percent of those eligible shall have voted."

Signed by: Senators Stortini, Chairman; Connor, Durkan, Faulk, Herr, Matson, Ridder, Stender.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Stortini, the committee amendments were adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, I would like to ask a question about this, perhaps of Senator Durkan. The way I read this it takes out the county hospital districts and they will not be subject to collective bargaining?"

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, those who are covered under the collective bargaining act of the state collective bargaining act and this is what this does, excludes them from this particular act."

Senator Greive: "If I may merely add a word, this is an effort to give the private hospitals the same rights and in fact it is patterned directly after what a good share of the nurses already enjoy."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Senator Durkan, I'm still not clear. I suppose I am asking the same question that Senator Bailey did. The third amendment which is on line 3, page 2 strikes 'public or private' and confuses me somewhat.

"Now, as I understand, with these amendments, this one in particular, this act now applies to public employees under the act passed last session, is that correct? Does it now apply to public hospitals?"

Senator Durkan: "At the last session, as I understand it, we excluded hospitals from the collective bargaining act. That is a good question, Senator. It has been raised and it is a proper question to make a determination whether Senate Bill No. 239 if it passes, and this may presume that it will pass, and if it did, then I would have been correct in my answer. If the collective bargaining bill that went over to the House does not pass and this bill passes with the amendments, there would be a certain hiatus where some public hospitals would not be covered either under collective bargaining nor under this."

Senator Uhlman: "Well, do I understand then that this bill would cover all so-called 'non-profit' hospitals and would cover all private or religious hospitals?"

Senator Durkan: "That is correct except the exemption, there is an exemption in the bill that it does not cover those who are working in the hospital. They are not part of the collective bargaining."

Senator Uhlman: "But you have excluded now public hospitals?"

Senator Durkan: "The purpose of the amendment now as I understand it is to exclude it because of the provision in the bill which previously passed in the Senate. They would be considered under the collective bargaining act of the state but now there is a question whether that act will pass and being perfectly candid, it could be that we could end up with no coverage on the public hospitals. You are right.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Greive, Senate Bill No. 306 was ordered placed on today's second reading calendar immediately following Senate Bill No. 186.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 9, by Senator Greive (by Joint Committee on Governmental Cooperation request):

Applying ad valorem taxes accruing from urban renewal improvement to pay costs of urban renewal.

The resolution was read the second time in full.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: “Would Senator McCormack yield to a question? Senator McCormack, on this particular measure I raised a particular question in the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules and I raise it here on the floor. This has some substantial financial impact, the amount of which I am not too sure. Has your committee gone through this and determined the fiscal impact?”

Senator McCormack: “No, Senator, Senate Joint Resolution No. 9 has not been to the revenue and taxation committee.”

Senator Atwood: “Have you had a chance to look at this particular measure?”

Senator McCormack: “No, I did not know it was going to be on the calendar until it was substituted this morning for Senate Joint Resolution No. 8 so I do not know what the impact is.”

MOTION

Senator Atwood moved that Senate Joint Resolution No. 9 be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means—Revenue and Taxation.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Greive: “Parliamentary inquiry. Are we now working on Senate Joint Resolution No. 9?”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: “Senator Atwood has moved that Senate Joint Resolution No. 9 be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means—Revenue and Taxation.”

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: “Would Senator McCormack yield to a question? Senator McCormack, could this particular measure, if we had time, the thought just occurred to me in view of what Senator Durkan proposed the other day, in view of these rigid requirements you are now making our farmers do on this housing, could we use this as a vehicle to also give some tax credits to people who are going to be compelled to expend large additional sums of money to put their migrant houses under the new act?”

Senator McCormack: “In answer to your question, it could be. I think the answer to your question is ‘yes.’”

MOTION

Senator Woodall moved that Senate Joint Resolution No. 9 be rereferred to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McCormack: “Parliamentary inquiry. Doesn't the original motion by Senator Atwood have equal standing with the motion by Senator Woodall?”

The President: "That is true, Senator McCormack. They are of equal rank."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McCormack: "Point of order. The first motion is in order and I think the Senate should be considering it."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Would Senator Elicker yield to a question? Senator Elicker, if you are collecting $10,000 on three houses and you only have three families going to school, then you are going to collect $50,000 on 500 hundred families. Who is going to pay the schools for that additional imposition if you are going to put it into another fund to retire the urban area bonds. I can't figure that out?"

Senator Elicker: "That is precisely the point I raise, Senator. That this has some dramatic impact at the local level because urban renewal quite often pre-supposes higher population density after the renewal than before the renewal and under the terms of this constitutional amendment, the actual taxes collected and paid through the local government would be the same either before or after."

Debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCormack: "Point of personal privilege."

The President: "The Senator will speak upon his point of personal privilege."

Senator McCormack: "I would like to take sharp exception to the remarks made by Senator Greive. I think they are uncalled for, Senator. This bill has not been in the revenue and taxation committee. This is a revenue and tax bill. This bill has severe impact and I believe that any bill of this importance should go to the standing committee concerned with it where there is an adequate staff that is working continually with the attorney general's office and department of revenue and people who are trained to work in this area and who are concerned with finding out what the facts of the bill are and bring them back to the legislature with a meaningful report and this is what I propose to do.

"I have no desire to kill this bill. It is an important bill in the area of revenue and taxation and it belongs to the revenue and taxation committee."

MOTION

The motion by Senator Atwood carried and Senate Joint Resolution No. 9 was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means—Revenue and Taxation.

SENATE BILL NO. 376, by Senators Walgren and Atwood:

Requiring counties to indemnify their officials and employees.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Walgren, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 376 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gissberg: "Would Senator Walgren yield to a question? Senator, I note that there are no upper limits in the insurance policy that you would be mandating the county commissioners to procure. What kind of costs are we talking about, what type of policies are we talking about?"

"Conceivably of course, the county treasurer then would have to provide a policy of indemnification for all of the funds the county treasurer holds. Now, before you answer that question, not only would the county commissioners have to take out this policy for the officials, so-called, but also all employees.

"Now then, you are mandating them and they don't have any discretion but what possible situation would you get into where you had these policies in effect for clerks and typists and this sort of thing who are not performing functions of any policy decisions, discretionary decisions but are simply ministerial in their functions. Do you intend to require them to take out policies covering them against that and if so, what kind of mistakes are you protecting them against?"

Senator Walgren: "Having some familiarity with some of the mistakes that are made in the clerk's office as attorney, there are mistakes that are made which make the officials liable. I think that most of these policies, of course, are blanket policies and could include all the various employees of the department. To answer your direct question, yes, I think that the bill does provide and does mandate commissioners to provide this insurance coverage for all employees of the county in whatever capacity they may be in.

"You asked something about the cost, many of the counties have provided blanket policies for their employees. For instance, in King county the coverage includes the county liability on its vehicles, etc., and the total annual cost of the policies is $150,000 and the representatives of the insurance companies when they were contacted, estimated ten percent or $15,000 would be the share of the annual premiums to cover officers and employees for liability as provided under the provisions of this bill. In Whatcom county the annual fee for the errors and omissions insurance for all officials excepting the sheriff and the prosecutor is $914.98. In Kitsap county the county errors and omissions policy cost is $1,097.98 annually for the coverage of all its employees and there are other counties that have similar costs, all employees."

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Walgren yield? I notice also that there is no bid provision for the calling of this insurance although from your testimony it is not too great an amount. I thought it would be much larger but would you have any adversity to including a bid provision?"

Senator Walgren: "No, as a matter of fact, I think that would be wise."

Senator Mardesich: "Would your mind if we move the bill back to second reading?"

Senator Walgren: "Not at all."

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 376, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall-47.

Excused: Senators Herr, Ryder-2.

SENATE BILL NO. 376, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

SENATE BILL NO. 186, by Senators Peterson (Ted), Dore, Marquardt and Durkan: Regulating construction of mobile homes and travel trailers.

The time having arrived, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 186 on second reading.

On motion of Senator Guess, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 3, section 3, line 27, after "paid" strike "out of the mobile home and travel trailer appropriations" and insert "out of the appropriation to the department of labor and industries"

On page 3, section 3, line 29, before "director" strike "budget"

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 186 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Would Senator Peterson (Ted) yield? Senator there are thousands of area of state regulations and this bill now proposes that an advisory council together with the attendant expense be created with respect to one of these thousands of areas of regulations.

"I am a little curious as to how you would define an area of state regulation which justifies an advisory council of this nature as compared to areas of state regulation which do not?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Senator Wilson, up to this time and up to two years ago, we had problems because we had no direction whatsoever on trailers. They were just a vehicle, in fact we weren't even getting the tax that we should have. This is being adjusted and being that these trailers are becoming mobile, they are becoming trailer homes and when you come into a trailer home anywhere from thirty-five to sixty-five feet, you have two divisions of them. You see them coming up the highways. They put them together and actually they become a permanent home and when you have permanent homes for residents with children and when you go into the safety and protection of these people, then you must have some rules and regulations to follow. It comes from the department of labor and industries through suggestions of the mobile home people and people who are interested as we have in any division within the department of labor and industries."

Senator Wilson: "Thank you, Senator. But aren't there many areas of state regulations of equal importance to this one which are getting along without an advisory council?"

Senator Peterson (Ted): "I can't agree with you there, Senator, although I know what you are alluding to but when you have a practice, say in medicine or something like that that has to do with the individual technician as to the policies that he renders to the people, but you don't have anything like this that has to do with leasing, it has to do with ownership, has to do with sale, and has to do with the actual living on the premises which you do in trailers."

"I think you are probably talking of the various professions. This isn't a profession as such. This is an overall industry like boiler inspection on ships where you have building inspectors, sewer inspectors, etc. This is for the general public, the safety of the general public. You are in a different sphere altogether. This is living, the requirements, fire protection and the other things that go along with home living."

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 186, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 3, excused, 2.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 310, by Senators Henry, Washington and Huntley (by Joint Committee on Highways request):

Providing eminent domain procedures.

The time having arrived, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 310 on second reading and the second and third committee amendments.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the second and third committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 11, after section 17, being renumbered section 16, insert a new section to read as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. In order to insure compliance with the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1968, with regard to acquisitions for state highway purposes or for any highway, road or street on a federal aid highway system, this act shall be effective as of August 23, 1968."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Uhlman yield to a question? For the record, Senator Uhlman, is this a fair statement, the purpose of this act and intent was to merely enact such law as is necessary to obtain the federal money, that there was no intention of changing or amending any existing substantive law. Was that not the intent?"

Senator Uhlman: "I think your question should be answered two-fold, Senator Woodall. In the first instance concerning this specific amendment and I am glad that this question is able to be presented in the record, it is our intention in placing this amendment on the bill that it will not jeopardize or do away with in any fashion any existing rights that may be accrued to any individual whose property is being taken. This would be including any existing law suits or rights accrued for law suits not yet in existence. In answer to the second portion of your question which would be the broader one, the answer is yes, it has been represented to us by the representatives of the highway department through the attorney general's office that this act is necessary for passage, that if we do not pass this act in substantially the form as it now exists, the state of Washington stands to lose a substantial amount of money, some several millions of dollars which will be available to the state for displaced persons, persons whose property is taken or will be taken for highway purposes."

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 310 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Washington, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 310 was immediately transmitted to the House.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Washington: "Point of personal privilege. I had a matter I did want to mention in regard to the statements made by Senator Andersen. I didn't feel like making them when we were discussing the bill because I didn't want the bill to be involved in perhaps a bi-play between Senator Andersen and myself.

"I do want to point out to Senator Andersen and to the members of the Senate that this bill, of course, as he says did have some matters in it that were particularly repugnant to members of the legal profession who understand the laws of eminent domain and very clearly the bill, as it was drafted, would have changed the law of eminent domain but these matters were clearly pointed out.

"I personally attended a session with Senator Uhlman, chairman of the judiciary committee with a representative of the highway department, discussing these particular matters. There was no effort to pose this bill as an innocent little housekeeping measure. It was recognized in the beginning as an important change of present policy and the matters which involved the legal profession were discussed with the chairman of the judiciary committee who assured us very candidly that he was opposed to those matters. He felt that the judiciary committee would also be opposed and of course his prediction is correct, the judiciary committee did eliminate section 8. But I want to point out, no one connected as far as I know with the highway department or the highway committee, sent this bill forward as a simple little amendment. We recognized how relatively earthshaking it was."

Senator Andersen: "I would like to ask Senator Woodall if he would yield to a question? Senator Woodall, I believe you were present at the time this matter was first presented to the judiciary committee. Initially what was the representation made on behalf of this bill to the committee?"

Senator Woodall: "The representative from the highway department who appeared, Senator Washington was not there that day and he has no knowledge of what was said that day, stated that this was simply a bill to bring our law into conformity so that we could get the federal matching money, and it was for that purpose and none other that the bill was introduced. That was the first representation.

"We then started exploring certain portions of it and he then began to admit that it had gone beyond it. Now, I want to call your attention, in addition to that section 8 to another little one that is stuck in and you see we have a system here that makes it a little bit difficult. You can be fooled sometimes because new matter in a section is underlined, old matter is stricken out but then you have these paragraphs where you have a brand new section. Unless you read the words 'NEW SECTION' there is nothing to indicate that that is new matter or that it is coming in for the first time, so they had a real cute one down in section 11, new section, hereby added a chapter which said 'should any person agree by determination as to eligibility, payment of these amounts, as an appeal to the condemnor' and the condemnor decides whether he has been fair.

"I am my own judge, you see, and it said 'the opinion of the condemning agent shall be final notwithstanding the provisions of' a certain section which happens to be the administrative procedure act. So then I inquired of this gentleman, is that needed in order to get federal money? He said 'no'. We then told him to go back and bring us back an honest review of the bill and point out which sections of it were necessary to get the federal moneys, and the other portions which for some reason or other the highway department wanted to change, and they definitely fell into two different categories. So we did then amend this other section, which amendments you have adopted, that put back that the condemnation must follow the rules of the administrative procedure act. That was also shoved in there to try and get that out and until we dug it up, no one bothered to call it to our attention."

SENATE BILL NO. 499, by Senator Williams:
Authorizing recognition of studded tires by highway commission.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 28, 1969.

SENATE BILL NO. 499, authorizing recognition of studded tires by highway commission (reported by Committee on Highways):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 20, after "skid" and before the period insert "PROVIDED, That it shall be unlawful to use metal studs imbedded within the tire between April 1 and November 1".

Signed by: Senators Washington, Chairman: Connor, Donohue, Elicker, Faulk, Herr, Huntley, Lewis (Brian), McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Peterson (Lowell), Pritchard, Ridder, Walgren, Williams.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Washington moved the adoption of the committee amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCormack: "Would Senator Washington yield to a question? Senator, this amendment prohibits the use of studded tires in this state during that period or the use on state highways during that period?"

Senator Washington: "It would be on public highways during that period of time. They are difficult on the highways and wear the highways and this would prohibit their use on any public highways, not just state highways."

Senator McCormack: "In other words, county roads and state highways?"

Senator Washington: "That is correct."

Senator Williams moved the adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

Amend the last line of the committee amendment as follows:

After "November 1" insert "PROVIDED FURTHER, That the state highway commission may, from time to time, determine additional periods in which the use of tires with metal studs imbedded therein shall be lawful".

The motion by Senator Williams carried and the committee amendment as amended by Senator Williams was adopted.

On motion of Senator Williams, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 499 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "I wonder if Senator Washington would yield to a question? Senator Washington, I dislike putting on chains just like anyone else when going over the pass but after hearing the inquiry from Senator McCormack, it is my feeling that perhaps this bill is a little premature and I am going to ask you a question.

"On black top on the west side of the mountains there are some years we don't even have snow, sure we have a little rain but you have pretty good holding power in rain on a paving or black topping. Isn't it possible that perhaps you will be tearing up a lot of black topping with this type of tire on the west side where you don't have much snow and maybe not even much rain? It doesn't seem like this bill is consistent. You just have a certain allocated time of the year when you would use the studded tires and the rest of the time we could have dry weather here and you could have dry weather on the east side so what is it going to do to the highways and what is the cost going to be eventually when you tear up the highways with this type of tire with the designation of time as you have it."

Senator Washington: "The answer as given by the highway department and also from the experience of the state patrol is that there is a natural limitation. Generally, the people who are going to be driving across the pass, those people who are habitually driving in snow, are going to be utilizing the studded tire. They have found that occasionally people who perhaps would not drive in that kind of area will have the steel studs but it is relatively unusual and they feel that just in the natural course of events, the people who would be likely to use the tire would not be those who would be in large numbers on the west side."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Mr. President, in pursuing this a little further, Senator Williams leaves the studded tires on all the time over on the west side and he is not in snow. He might be up skiing over a weekend but beyond that I just wonder if this is consistent with your statement."

Senator Washington: "I will say that this is not an iron clad statement. This takes in the law of probabilities and the averages and the highway department feels that it will not cause, during this period of time, a great wearing on the highways in western Washington because in the past few years experience indicates that the majority of people would be in the category that I described. Those people who are frequently driving in the snow and I don't know whether Senator Williams does go to the mountains occasionally but even the number of skiers, as many as they may seem, are relatively small in percentage on the west side."

Senator Stender: "Would Senator Washington further yield? Senator, my understanding is that these tire shops take these tires that are on automobiles and shoot these metal studs right into the tire, an easy job I have heard.

"Doesn't this bill then lend itself you might say, to great increase in the use of this tire and isn't it going to be quite an expensive job for the patrol or whoever is going to police this requirement to see that these so-called time limits are carried out? Aren't we getting into something that would be very difficult to handle and police?"

Senator Washington: "Senator, again there is the feeling because of the use of these tires being chiefly where there is snow and ice that in the ordinary year there will be very little call for the people to go to the extra expense on the west side of having the steel studded tires. The highway department feels, as in so many areas we are governed by the practicalities of life and many times those are more important in the prevention of damage than the actual use of the law itself in law enforcement. I will admit that there will be some problems as far as the enforcement is concerned but the mere fact that the law is in effect, the majority of people will abide by it and of course the state patrol will have the ability to attempt to check on the other people who don't comply.

"But really, the highway department and the state patrol feel that with the limitations that are in the bill there is nothing really to be concerned about. However, if experience shows that we have gone too far then at the next session of the legislature, we may be called upon to make some changes."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 499, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 1; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Sandison, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington, Williams, Wilson, Woodall-43.

SENATE BILL NO. 241, by Senators Faulk, Uhlman and Elicker:
 Providing accounting procedure for county warrants:
 The bill was read the second time by sections.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Uhlman: "Before we move to third reading, I wonder if Senator Faulk will yield to a question? Senator Faulk, as you know these interest payments are paid quarterly and since you are taking them off from the face amount of the note, could you tell me what effect this would have in the beginning of the third quarter when the real property taxes become due?"

Senator Faulk: "No effect as far as I know, Senator."

Senator Uhlman: "Wouldn't it normally have an effect if you made this substantive change?"

Senator Faulk: "I really don't think so, Senator."

Senator Uhlman: "On what do you base your answer?"

Senator Faulk: "What I am saying is that whether you mark the interest on the warrant or not doesn't have anything to do with the payment of the interest. It is still marked in a warrant register or in an interest register so I don't really see . . ."

Senator Uhlman: "Senator, it doesn't say an interest register it says a warrant register. What about the interest?"

Senator Faulk: "The interest is marked on the warrant register."

Senator Mardesich: "What does he have to show the government?"

Senator Faulk: "The county treasurer could, I am sure, give him a copy of that portion of that warrant register itself."

Senator Mardesich: "That is what the bill does and now you are striking it out and he no longer has to do it."

Senator Faulk: "No, Senator, that is not correct. What we are saying is that the treasurer no longer has to mark the amount of interest on the warrant itself."

President Cherberg resumed the Chair.

On motion of Senator Faulk, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 241 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Holman, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 618 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, this is just a query. In the appropriations bill we have a provision which states that no state funds shall be provided where a school district expends or over expends in anticipation of its funds as provided by the budget which was adopted in October.

"My question is, would a school district which last October adopted a budget and then we increased its bonding capacity and the district floats more bonds and spends the money, would they be prevented from taking advantage of the state appropriation?"

Senator Holman: "Senator Durkan, I haven't seen your provision on that matter but I wouldn't think so because this has reference to the incurring of indebtedness and not for the expenditure of the money. The districts would still have to remain within their budget as I understand it but this would permit the school districts, for example, to incur some indebtedness and then they would have to budget the repayment in their next year's budget.

"A typical example, it isn't typical, thank heavens, but there is a school district in Snohomish county which failed its levy for capital construction twice, this is for maintenance and operation and this would permit them to indent themselves by vote of the school board to a small amount so they could at least carry on minimum operations. They couldn't spend any more money this time but they could contract for it so that they could pay for it in next year's budget when hopefully their operational budget passed.

"This has many advantages and flexibility but in answer to your specific question, it does not in my opinion, permit them to spend any more money than they have budgeted."

Senator Durkan: "I think your example is just exactly to what I am directing my question. If this does pass, they will use the bonding capacity for purposes of getting more revenue and I am not trying to defeat the bill. However, I just want to point out that Senate Bill No. 151 does state that no portion of these funds shall be allocated to a school district which expends or anticipates expending monies in excess of its certified budget as filed with the office of the superintendent of public instruction."

Senator Holman: "Mr. President, my suggestion to meet that would be that it should be called to any school district's attention so that they don't inadvertently by using any flexibility, deny themselves relief under the bill."

Senator Stender: "I wonder if Senator Holman would yield to further question? Senator Holman, in your remarks you alluded to the philosophical aspects of this approach. I was wondering in that area of philosophy of this indebtedness, aren't we allowing further indebtedness or just defeating some of the purpose that we are really striving for, and we are loading further debt service costs on these particular areas of public interest? Aren't we building up a bigger need for additional money for servicing these bonds when we go in deeper?"

Senator Holman: "No, Senator Stender, I don't think we are. We are not doing anything as far as increasing the indebtedness. We are simply giving local districts and their boards of directors and governing bodies further latitude, that of course is their own decision.

"I would like to explain that many of these areas are growing. They have capital needs in tremendous degrees. Some school districts in my legislative district, in Senator Brian Lewis' district and yours, find that under the present statutory restrictions, they do not have enough capacity to build their buildings, to indent themselves so that they can build buildings. So what do they have to do, they have to put on a special building fund levy of ten, fifteen or even eighteen mills. Now in these districts where they already have very high millage for just maintenance and operation this produces a very tough situation for the taxpayers. In my area, as I have pointed out on this floor before, we now pay almost eighty mills in school taxes out of a total of one hundred twenty-five mills altogether.

"In the Northshore school district which is Bothell, they had to put on a seventeen mill special building fund levy this year simply because they were unable to authorize any additional bonds. It has been my feeling that when you have capital construction of buildings that are going to be used for a generation or two with new people coming into the district, you should ask those new people coming in ten to fifteen years from now to pay a portion of it rather than laying it on the people who are there at present.

"While I agree with you that we don't want to increase the indebtedness of any district, I say that we are not by this means doing it. This has to be a local decision but it does give them the flexibility they need to meet some of their problems."

Senator Canfield: "Would Senator Holman yield to a question? Senator Holman, this is a very important and complicated bill. I was wondering if you think that the property owners in your instance, as an example, should have to pay these excessive costs of which you speak or should they be financed from state funds?"

Senator Holman: "Of course, anything we could get from the state I am sure my district would be delighted to have but my impression is that the state funds have serious drains on them already.

"This is an attempt to let the local districts at least get themselves in a position if they want, to be able to help themselves. Certainly we want to have state funds if it is possible and I would point out that there will be a provision and they have under discussion for statewide bond issue for public school construction but that doesn't have anything to do with this particular measure, Senator."

Senator Canfield: "I raise the point, Senator Holman, that I have grave doubts as to whether children or their parents should be penalized tax-wise because of the fact that you happen to live in a certain section of the county. We have long ago adopted the principle of equalization to operate our schools. We believe in giving our children equal opportunity, don't we? Yet we penalize them, through their parents because of the sole fact they live in a certain area and therefore you are obligated by these extra levies which in many cases are almost confiscatory."

Senator Holman: "I would certainly agree with that. It is one of the things I am here for and I hope we all are here to remedy this situation by a tax reform so that we won't have in these certain school districts of the state, to ask them to pay exorbitant amounts in one district to maintain a good school system when in other areas they are required to do so. I don't believe that we have reached that question. I believe that comes out sometime next week."

Senator Canfield: "If I may, I would like to ask Senator Holman a second question? Senator, on page 5 in subsection 3 all underlined, I have read that over three or four times, and it appears to be a little contradictory and I would like to have you analyze that if you would and explain exactly what it means."

Senator Holman: "Yes, I would be glad to explain it. The Constitution refers to the amount of indebtedness that a taxing district may incur. Heretofore when bonds were authorized by voters of a school district, they usually ask an amount based on what they estimate the assessed valuation of their area to be at the time they are getting ready to issue the bonds which may be a year or so away.

"They don't have that figure exactly at the time they vote on the bond so normally they estimate it and then ask for the authorization. What this says, and this has been a practice, they ask for authorization and it may be more than they can legally indent themselves but that doesn't void the authorization up to the amount they can indent themselves. This simply clarifies that bond counsel has advised this is the present law. They would like to have this in the law, so they are sure. Otherwise, you might run the risk of a taxpayer suit saying that they hadn't authorized it."

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Holman yield? Senator, you have probably already answered this question. I regret that I wasn't listening when you began your discussion. Is it your interpretation now that by changing of the language from last assessed valuation to value that there is a potential increase of five times in the bonding indebtedness?"

Senator Holman: "No, twice."

Senator Mardesich: "How do you arrive at that?"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Guess: "I would like to speak on a point of personal privilege."

The President: "The Senator will speak on his point of personal privilege."

Senator Guess: "I also ask the concurrence of the Senate in the reading of certain material rather than get into a misquote situation. I would like to be able to read some of the material that I will present.

"On Saturday, March 8 the office of the superintendent of public instruction testified against Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 15 which was adopted by the Senate by a vote of 46-0. The statement submitted in writing to the House Education Committee concluded with the following:

"The office of the state superintendent holds firmly to the position that curriculum matters including the selection of materials, course content and basic administrative policies shall be determined by local school boards and patrons and should not be dictated from Olympia, from Washington, D.C. or even from Oklahoma."

"I want to direct your attention to the unfortunate flaw contained in the last clause and to state that the resolution was a product of the Senate Education Committee. Senator Ridder in commenting upon the resolution when it was before the Senate stated that the form and content of the resolution had been approved by the superintendent's office. The exact contents and quote of that statement, I think, will be in the record because it was read in as a question.

"The resolution embodies the principle elements of three Senate Bills, 60, 61 and 62 which were prefiled by Senator Guess after almost two years of work with constituents of this district and concerned parents. The testimony of the superintendent of public instruction is a direct attempt to adversely affect the course of a bill through the legislature, a breach of good faith and an attempt to impugn the honor and integrity of the original draft of the legislation. It also included a copy of the material that was used and presented to the committee. There is a second sheet.

"Now, I also include a copy of the concurrent resolution and I will skip to line 10 'where the testimony adduced at public hearings has failed to reflect any clear cut abuses of a state-wide general nature in the foregoing areas although particular instances have been noted and whereas this legislature recognizes the paramount right and duty of each parent with respect to the education of his children; and whereas, it has been the general policy of the public school system of this state to preserve and protect these rights'.

"I think it is fundamental, it was agreed and it was voted upon and passed by the Senate when it was before us. Now there has also come into my hands this afternoon before twelve o'clock the material you will find in the last few sheets of the hand out. I don't propose to read all of the material but I would like to invite your attention to the administrative guidelines for teaching sex education, it is entitled 'for teacher's use only'.

"The material with the vocabulary that is on the last page is an affront to the parents of the school district in which the material is being taught. These parents have been to the local school board.

"Now in the resolution and the reason I agreed to the resolution is because I do not believe in legislating a tight outline for any department whether it is the department of labor and industries or the school department and I was agreeable to going along with the resolution and because I was agreeable I had that uncertain, uneasy feeling that I might be getting the doublecross. I can understand Senator Ridder's sincerity and honesty and his consideration in trying to get this into a form that will be agreeable by the school authorities.

"This morning at the hearing of the House Education Committee I expressed my very great displeasure with the fact that Mr. Bruno's office had testified against the bill and I feel that this is a complete breach of faith on the part of the department.

"Gentlemen, this material that is included in this hand out is a sample of some of the material that is being used in the school system of the state of Washington. Now, if we are going to protect the schools and protect the children of the state of Washington, we have to have some guidelines of decency and I beg of you, in the next few days, to bear with me and let's come up with something that will be of a workable nature and something that will protect the children and satisfy the parents of the students. Thank you."

By Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Connor, Cooney, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Elicker, Faulk, Foley, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Holman, Huntley, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Brian), Lewis (Harry), McCormack, McCutcheon, McDougall, Mardesich, Marquardt, Matson, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Pritchard, Ridder, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Uhlman, Walgren, Washington Williams and Wilson:

WHEREAS, The Honorable Perry B. Woodall, a member of the class of 1939, rounds out legislative service spanning thirty years during this forty-first session of the Washington State Legislature; and

WHEREAS, During that period, Senator Woodall served his fifteenth district as a member of the House of Representatives; his county as president of the Central Washington Fair for twenty-five years; his country as an officer in the United States Navy during World War II; the state as lawyer for the Speaker; and his constituency as State Senator since 1956; and

WHEREAS, His education, training, and experience in the diverse fields of legislation, business, farming and politics provide a significant contribution to our system of representative government; and

WHEREAS, His talents mark Senator Woodall as more than a competent legislative technician skilled in parliamentary practice and procedure; and

WHEREAS, His talent as an entertainer, storyteller, and prestidigitator is unmatched, surpassed only by his courageous leadership, his forensic ability, and skill in speaking extemporaneously, in all of which he exalts a love of country, adherence to its exacting standards and a compassionate regard for his fellowman; and

WHEREAS, He has shared this talent and ability with us and for our use and benefit, and for the use and benefit of the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, It is altogether fitting and proper that we pause momentarily in our deliberations during this forty-first session to note his long and devoted service;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate in legislative session assembled, That the Senate acknowledge the contributions made, the leadership demonstrated and, most of all, its admiration, respect and joy of being associated with the Honorable Perry B. Woodall as a member of the Senate and look forward to a continuing association for many years to come; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be suitably enrolled and presented to Senator Woodall, his lovely wife, Joye, and his daughter, Patti.

Senator Ryder: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am very, very proud to be the mover of this resolution. I have known Perry Woodall for almost all of the thirty years he has served in this legislature both in and out of the legislature. He has done a tremendous job. He has been a real bulwark in the forming of legislation. He has had very positive ideas but they have been honest ideas. He has had integrity in putting forth his position and he has done it so very forcefully and he has prevailed as you know many, many times.

"I first became acquainted in the legislature as a legislator with Perry in 1953 when he was counsel for the speaker of the House. Perry did a very fine job there and I got my basic training because I sat in the back row as a freshman and Perry sat directly behind me as advisor and advised me on occasion when to stand and make certain motions. I also did what he told me and then I had to turn and ask, 'Now, what do I do?'. But Perry always had the answer and I got by the session without being shot at by the front row.

"As you all know, since Perry has been in the Senate the last ten or twelve years he has done a tremendous job here in serving not only the people of the state of Washington but the people of his district. We on this side of the aisle are very, very proud of him and I know that many of you on the other side of the aisle are proud to be associated with him and count him as one of your finest adversaries and one of your finest friends. He is a true and a loyal soldier. He works at his job and he is a great asset to the legislature, to the Senate, and as a representative of the people of the state of Washington."

Senator Canfield: "Thank you, Mr. President, and members of the Senate, I think it is quite appropriate that I speak about this gentleman because I think I have known him longer than anyone in this body, having known him since he was about fourteen years old at which early age he was quite outspoken but I have never quite figured out by whom. At that time he was engaged in 4-H club work and was a showman of sheep, particularly, and I would say pretty much of an authority upon that subject and he has never forgotten his love of agriculture.

"I should point out to this body, too, that he was for some years my senator from the fifteenth district. I have known his mother and father for a long time. His father is over ninety now and at the age of ninety I met him in the Wapato Park on a celebration and he did handsprings and cartwheels for me. I would like to point out to you gentlemen if you can do cartwheels and handsprings at the age of ninety, you will even exceed that illustrious Senator McCutcheon in that particular talent.

"Senator Woodall came from sturdy Kentucky stock. I never went back to investigate his forebearers but I do understand that they were good Republicans and his father told me that one time by accident he voted for a Democrat and since that time he constantly asks the Lord to forgive him.

"It is quite true that he is a respected citizen and attorney in his home town of Toppenish which is near where I live. It is quite true that he is also a farmer, with a considerable knowledge of fruit growing and grape growing and I would like to point out for Senator Ridder's benefit that Senator Woodall knows that you prune grapes and fruit and you train hops. It is also true as the resolution states that he was one of the organizers with me of the Central Washington Fair in 1939 and was the first and only president until 1961. It is also true that he has been a long time crusader for good government. I would like to point out to this body that I, myself, probably would not be in this legislature if it had not been for Senator Woodall who in 1952 decided to make a run for the lieutenant governor and left his slot open. I ran for it and the people were kind enough to elect me to the position which he had held up to that time.

"I would like to make a remark about Senator Woodall's speeches. I wonder if there is anybody here who heard the illustrious, silver-toned orator William Jennings Bryan. Well, I have heard William Jennings Bryan and he was a great orator and I recall one time a man went to hear William Jennings Bryan and when he went home his wife said, 'What did he say?'. He said, 'I don't remember what he said, but it was the greatest speech I ever heard.' Now, Senator Woodall's speeches are not like that. It is true he is silver-toned but you always remember what he said. I would like to remind this body, too, that Senator Woodall is a master of the needle and a master of the razor-edged knife but strangely enough, though the needle may penetrate its full depth it doesn't hurt too much and the blood flows from the razor cut and somehow doesn't hurt and the blood doesn't flow too long. I think we are very fortunate to have Senator Woodall as a member of this body. I value him not only as a legislator but also as a good friend."

Senator Greive: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I would like to say something about my good friend, Perry. I had the distinct memory of having my first bill passed because Perry Woodall made a man, who is now a superior court judge, surrender the bill on the floor of the House twenty-three years ago; the man was holding the bill and trying to pocket veto. He made a scene and the fellow had to surrender it. The man is a good friend of mine so I don't want to mention his name, but the bill was passed. I also would like to say that during the years that I have been a member of this body probably the kindest words I ever heard came from Senator Woodall on occasion of Mr. Rasmussen so I have a real affection for the good Senator.

"One thing you can say for Perry, he doesn't feed you any soft-shoe routine. You get it straight from the shoulder and there is no fancy footwork but actually Perry over the years has become a sort of institution in these halls, both House and Senate. I might remind you that this institution is more than bricks and mortar. An institution that Perry has built is one of faith and courage and his recognized leadership in those areas in which he is interested. I, too, as a member of the majority party and as floor leader on behalf of the other members and I am sure many of them want to pay tribute to a really great legislator, Perry Woodall."

Senator McCutcheon: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, Perry, I don't know how to start a speech or finish one when you're around, I feel that you are so close to me that I can only say how proud we are of how far you have gone and proudest of all of what you have done for the state of Washington. You have infiltrated this side of the aisle. I notice, even though Senator Canfield says you are a very strict Republican I haven't found you so. Your influence is terrible over here, devastating shall we say. And the very fact that you are, you are officing with my good friend, Senator Keefe, I walked up and I saw the name Senator Woodall on the office door and also the name of Senator Keefe, and I said, 'What's going on here, Wallace and somebody else . . . what party is this?'

"Senator Woodall is universal, he is in his prime of life right now and anybody that thinks he can't put up a terrific fight, they better not come in collision with him. He is full of magnanimity, a great heart and a great intellect and unselfish desire to do what he loves to do which is the highest possible ambition of any person to serve his country well under our democratic form of government.

"I could talk here all afternoon and you know what they say, there's nothing like silence, Perry, but I'm not going to do that. You and I are too old . . . I'm much too old . . . your father is ninety? Well, I am seventy-six and I had a grandfather who was one hundred and two when he was doing handsprings. I always thought that the only brainy thing he ever did do was to live that long but Perry has a background. I am going to sit down because I know everybody on this floor wants to say something about you . . . I don't know what we could say . . . I think we should take it in a day's work and go on from there because if you weren't here, I don't know what this place would be like."

Senator Henry: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I think perhaps that I can speak with a little authority having known Perry since my first session in 1941. I too think maybe sometimes the product of Kentucky helps us all to do handsprings but I think that the statement was made that a statesman is a dead politician does not apply in this case. My definition of a statesman is a man that looks to the next generation, a politician is a man who looks to the next election, and I can say to you with all sincerity that Perry Woodall looks to the next generation."

Senator Atwood: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, being a newer member in this body I think my words are inadequate to express my appreciation and affection for the superchief. During my tenure here he is the most outstanding legislator that I have observed. I can only say that he is indomitable, indefatigable and irresistible and we salute you, Mr. Legislator."

Senator Twigg: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am sure it is no secret to anyone in this chamber that the man we are honoring is my personal friend and I would like to simply take this opportunity to thank him publicly for his help and guidance to me."

Senator Dore: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I would like to join in all the remarks of the Senators that have been made here except one. As one who has felt the needle now and then, Senator Canfield, I don't subscribe to your statement that it doesn't hurt too much and the blood doesn't flow too long."

Senator Day: "Thank you, Mr. President, I wish to add my little bit for the superchief because he served as a member of my interim committee on public health and I want to say that this is not only the most effective but the most objective legislator that we had on the committee. He was terrific."

Senator Holman: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, in representing the back row I would like to pay my tribute to Senator Woodall. I didn't know Senator Woodall only briefly during the last session when I was a freshman in the other body, but I've gotten to know him this session very well as a member of the judiciary committee as one of the most faithful attenders, and I find this extremely gratifying to note that even though you progress from session to session and finally end up in the front row, they still come down to the meetings and get into the real spade work of the legislation. I have found Perry Woodall even on matters on which he and I have differed, to be courteous, gracious and understanding and I think that is the hallmark of a legislator."

Senator Uhlman: "Thank you, Mr. President and members of the Senate, I will make a very brief addition to what has been said and that is simply this. It was a real surprise and a pleasant surprise for me to come over from the House to the Senate and find as chairman of the judiciary committee that every morning when we held a meeting at 8:00 a.m. Senator Woodall was there bright and cheery, all knowing full well where he had been the night before. As Senator Holman has indicated he is the most regular attendee of the committee, I believe, I would say the most effective member of the committee and I would certainly underline and punctuate the comments that have been made about the lack of partisanship. I think one of the real pleasures of that committee has been the total lack of partisanship. I can't recall ever having seen a real partisan vote or move by Senator Woodall in that committee, and this is of course over a period of two sessions now. I would certainly join in a very hearty commendation and hope that Senator Woodall's constitution will enable him to continue for another thirty years."

Senator Matson: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, as a freshman from Perry's home county I don't have the experience of working with Perry on the Senate floor. I have known him for a good many years and as far as I am concerned, I look forward to working with him in the future. I, too, salute you, Senator Perry."

Senator Knoblauch: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I don't know if Perry Woodall remembers this occasion or not, but twenty-three years ago when I came to the House of Representatives, I made the mistake of clashing with Mr. Woodall and he won and I said to myself 'I'll get that guy some day.' But you know it wasn't long before I came to respect him as a fine member of the House and I said to myself 'Well, maybe you had it coming.'

"If anyone in this Senate has brought credit to the word 'politician' that is Senator Woodall. Lots of people make fun of the word 'politician' but after all it is just the art of government and a man taking part in public service. So I have always felt that Senator Woodall brought credit to that word and to every member of the House and the Senate. I will just say in closing that Perry Woodall is a true public servant."

Senator Washington: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, Senator Woodall and I have probably clashed as much as any two men on the floor, usually involving what should be before the lawyer's committee and the highway committee. My batting average against him has been rather poor in most of these forays and I find really the only way to operate with Perry is to be on the same side. We did happen to get together, both of us more or less on a three-cornered battle in an Indian estate matter, and at that time Perry and I found we were working generally in the same direction attempting to defeat the third party, leaving something perhaps for Perry's client and mine. But, also, I have found that after a strong battle on the floor and Perry does battle hard, and I think I do, but we were always able when it was over, I think in the true tradition here of the Senate, to laugh and joke about it later on. Then if the time comes again for another battle on the floor you can still go at it hard and still be friends when it is over, and one of Perry's best characteristics is that he knows when to fight and he knows when to be friends."

Senator Guess: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, if I have learned anything from my associations on the floor, it is that Perry Woodall has a set of principles and he lives by those principles and believes in them. It has been a lesson to me and a wonder at times as to how he can remember the speeches and the statements that he has made and can recount without end the position he took on issues in the past, the singleness of purpose and the devotion to those principles has been an inspiration to me. When I came here as a freshman I listened to him, I remember deviating one time and he hasn't let me forget it yet, but this is what I think the elders of the body should do for the freshmen and I want to tell you, Perry, how much I appreciated the guidance you have given me and the help you have been to me on the floor."

Senators Ryder, Atwood, Twigg, Bailey, Greive and Keefe acted as a committee of honor to escort Senator Perry B. Woodall to the rostrum.

The President: "Honored members of the Senate, ladies and gentlemen, I wish to thank the forty-eight sponsors of this resolution for honoring a truly outstanding man's man. The one thing that I believe about all the remarks made that really impressed me more than anything else in the world was the truth, the depth and the sincerity. I want you to know, Perry, that I am sure that everybody in the chamber today is happy and delighted that you are having an opportunity to smell the flowers while you are still around to enjoy them. I know it is going to be a little tough but I am positive that the members and the people present in the gallery would certainly love to hear from you at this time."

Senator Woodall: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, that last move didn't make it any easier. One would be devoid of all normal human reactions if he would be anything but extremely proud and humble listening as I did to these fine, splendid remarks. Proud because they were made and humble in the realization that it presents a constant challenge to try to measure up and do all of those fine things.

"The fact that you are liked by the members on your own side of the aisle is of course thrilling but to have come here at least charitably an aggressive partisan, to have heard the splendid, fine things said for you from the other side of the aisle makes this moment perhaps the most thrilling of my lifetime. I just hope in the days ahead that I will always merit this.

"I am glad I read the last part of the resolution. As it started off I was afraid it was the sort of thing you do when a person is retiring. I didn't have any plans and I didn't know whether some of you had planned some involuntary retirement for me, but you ended up with a nice thing saying that you wished me back and I certainly want to be back. I want you to know how much I enjoy all of you and how thrilled and happy I am here today. Thank you."

The President: "The President should like to exercise the privilege at this time of presenting another longtime friend of our honored Senator, the Honorable Cecil Gholson, who is hosting the luncheon today which is given in appreciation to honor Perry B. Woodall."

On motion of Senator Ryder, the resolution was adopted.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

Senators Ryder, Atwood, Twigg, Bailey, Greive and Keefe acted as a committee of honor to escort Senator Perry B. Woodall to the rostrum.

Senator Woodall assumed the Chair.

HOUSE BILL NO. 18, by Representatives Moon, Newhouse and Wanamaker (by Legislative Council request):

Regulating food processing plants.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Guess moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 1, line 19, after "department." insert a new subsection as follows: "(e) Standards that must be used to establish the temperature and purity of water used in the processing of foods."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCormack: "Would Senator Guess yield to a question? Senator, I'm not sure what you are trying to do. You told us you are trying to do something, would you tell us why?"

Senator Guess: "Because, Senator, there is nothing in the bill to do with the number of times that the water can be re-used in the processing of food. If you will go into some of the processing plants, you will find that they use the water until it gets to be an almost opaque material, something that could carry material that is deleterious to the processing of the foods that we are using."

Senator McCormack: "So what are you doing in this amendment, Senator Guess?"

Senator Guess: "This allows the department to establish the standards for the temperature and the purity of the water in the processing."

The motion carried and the amendment was adopted.

Senator Uhlman: "Would Senator Donohue yield to a question? Senator, does this apply to just intrastate processing?"

Senator Donohue: "It applies to all processing plants in the state."

Senator Uhlman: "How does this bill and the provisions and requirements of this bill agree with the federal act that was passed that we heard so much about that was sponsored by Representative Foley in Congress and that we read about this last year?"

Senator Donohue: "This abides by all those regulations and there will be no duplication of inspection in state and federal if this legislation passes. Does that answer your question? There will be no duplication, those being inspected by the federal government will continue to be inspected."

Senator Uhlman: "I think my question should be better placed. Will this weaken the federal act at all or the implication of the federal act at all?"

Senator Donohue: "No, Senator, it strengthens the act. This is something that the legislative council and food processing people have been working on all year."

ROLL CALL

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 131, by Representatives Charette, Clarke (George W.) and O'Dell:

Regulating mutual savings banks.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Would Senator Ryder yield to a question? Senator, my first question is, if I may ask, why was this bill run in ahead of the rest of the calendar without any chance to discuss it before being brought on the floor?"

Senator Greive: "I will handle that because as an actual matter, this is a motion that I made in the Rules Committee and Senator Ryder had nothing to do with it whatsoever other than he voted for it.

"The feeling was that we had a lot of controversial bills this morning and a number of us wanted to handle the controversial bills at that time but we felt it would be better to facilitate the situation that we take up a noncontroversial bill, that we would keep moving them down on the calendar so we wouldn't cut off the controversial ones. Otherwise, we couldn't have gotten a controversial or consent calendar out this morning. So our thought was when we came back from lunch we had the idea that we would take out all the so-called controversial bills that we passed over that we really wanted, we put those first so we would always have something to consider and we wouldn't be out of work by tomorrow night."

Senator Canfield: "Would Senator Ryder yield? I am glad to hear that this isn't controversial but all the banks in my district have violently opposed this bill so there must be some controversy and I understand that it is in the area of making commercial loans and in the area of trust departments.

"Senator Greive, you will pardon me for finishing my question. If it isn't controversial, Senator Ryder, I would appreciate it if you explain why because our bankers seem to feel that it is controversial."

Senator Greive: "I think that under the circumstances that it is only fair that I answer that question too. This is on the special calendar which we consider controversial bills. This is not on a non-controversial calendar. This comes ahead of the calendar that we were considering before."

MOTION

Senator Marquardt moved that Engrossed House Bill No. 131 be held for the third reading calendar for tomorrow.

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Greive moved that the motion by Senator Marquardt be laid upon the table.

Senator Marquardt demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Elicker, Metcalf, Matson, McDougall, Uhlman, McCormack, Lewis (Harry), Holman and Guess.

Absent or not voting: Senator Woodall—1.

Excused: Senators Andersen, Huntley—2.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Uhlman, the Senate proceeded in order with the second reading calendar.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "I assume that a motion such as that by Senator Uhlman does not preclude the movement of any bill up the calendar at a later hour, am I correct in that assumption?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President believes that you are correct, Senator Mardesich."

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

Providing code revision of Title 28 RCW, education.

The time having arrived, the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 58 on second reading.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 19, 1969.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 58, providing code revision of Title 28 RCW, education (reported by Committee on Education):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 74, section 28A.41.130, line 3, after "States Code" and before "and" strike the semicolon and insert "": PROVIDED, That after July 1, 1969, funds received pursuant to Title 20, Sections 236 through 244, United States Code shall not be deemed available revenues for the purpose of this subsection or subsection (7) of this section;"

On page 208, section 28A.58.310, line 18, after "them." add "The school directors, school superintendents or other school representatives may be advanced sufficient sums to cover their anticipated expenses in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by the state auditor and which shall substantially conform to the procedures provided in RCW 43.03.150 through 43.03.210."

Signed by: Senators Elicker, Knoblauch, McCutcheon, Marquardt, Metcalf, Odegaard, Peterson (Ted), Stender, Uhlman, Washington.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Ridder moved the adoption of the committee amendments.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Would Senator Ridder yield to a question? What specifically does that apply to without looking it up?"

Senator Ridder: "This was the 874 fund bill that struck the 874 fund fifteen percent leeway."

The motion carried and the committee amendments were adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Would Senator Ridder yield to another question? Does not this amendment also refer to another bill which we passed in this body which referred to this particular big bill of yours and now this amendment has been incorporated in it?"

Senator Ridder: "No, I don't think so. This is just a little change in wording."

Senator Canfield: "I thought we had a bill which authorized anticipating these expenses?"

Senator Ridder: "No, I think the bill that passed dealt with a little broader picture than this."

Senator Canfield: "This is separate from the bill then?"

Senator Ridder: "Yes, this is another little problem."

Senator Guess moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 5, line 22, add three new sections to chapter 28A.02 as follows: "NEW SECTION. Section 1. No test, questionnaire, survey, assignment or examination designed for the purpose of bringing out the pupil's personal beliefs or practices in sex, family life, morality or religion, or any questions about his parents' or guardians' beliefs and practices in sex, family life, morality and religion, shall be administered to any pupil in kindergarten or grades one through twelve, inclusive, unless the parent or guardian of the pupil is notified, in writing, that such test, questionnaire, survey, assignment or examination is to be administered and the parent or guardian of the pupil gives written permission for the pupil to take such test, questionnaire, survey, assignment or examination. The provisions of this section shall apply whether the test, questionnaire, survey, assignment or examination is to be conducted in private or in group testing and discussions.

"NEW SECTION. Section 2. No part of any common school curriculum which is designed specifically to provide instruction in human sexuality or sex relationships shall be administered to any pupil in kindergarten or in grades one through eleven, inclusive, unless the parent or guardian of such pupil is notified, in writing, that such course is to be administered and the parent or guardian of the pupil gives written permission for the pupil to take such course.

"NEW SECTION. Section 3. Every parent shall have the right of full and free access to all records and files of information concerning his own child or ward and himself which are held by the public school administrations. School authorities in possession of such files shall produce them upon request of parents or guardians at reasonable times during the school hours.

"Every parent shall have the right to know any facts, plans or intentions relating to any part of the school program, curriculum or activities either required or optional of that school in which his own child or ward is asked to participate."

MOTION

Senator Bailey moved that Engrossed House Bill No. 58 be referred to the Committee on Education.

POINTS OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Brian): "Would Senator Bailey yield to a question? Senator Bailey, you have much more experience in this body than I. It is my understanding in previous years when we have had codes as large as this before us, I remember particularly the optional municipal code and before that the uniform commercial code, there was a clause inserted in the back and in fact said the code would not become law for two years to give everybody who was concerned with it an opportunity to really study it and come back before the body with any clarifying amendments before it in fact became law. Is there any reason why such an amendment could not be added to this particular code?"

Senator Bailey: "Senator Lewis, I'm not a sponsor of this code at all. When it came on the floor at first it was supposed to be just a recodification of the law. Now we hear that it had substantive changes. Then we heard that the House took those changes out and for that reason we brought it out of the Rules Committee. Now we are getting amendments on it. I happen to be much in favor of this amendment we put on awhile ago but I don't think this is the place that it belongs and when we have something this large, I do think that it should be something we study.

"Senator Uhlman was talking about studying a two-page bill awhile ago, that he has to have time to digest and have the lawyers bring out something in advance. This is quite a bit bigger and if they are going to amend it and if they want to put it through this way, this is one thing but if they are going to amend it, certainly I think we should take it to committee. Furthermore, the objection I have would be the accusation here against Mr. Bruno and other people. I think they should be able to be heard before we vote on these amendments and they cannot be heard on the floor of the Senate."

Senators Mardesich, Knoblauch and Sandison demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The motion by Senator Bailey carried and Engrossed House Bill No. 58 was referred to the Committee on Education.

HOUSE BILL NO. 170, by Representatives King, Kiskaddon, Clarke (George W.) and Bottiger:

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Odegaard, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 179 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "Would Senator Odegaard yield to a question? Senator Odegaard, at Eastern State and Lakeland Village they have some very nice apartments and some other buildings that house the people who are employed there.

"I was wondering what will happen to the loss of revenue that will occur if they are no longer required to live in these facilities. These facilities are some eighteen to twenty miles from Spokane and there wouldn't be any tenants available, I would imagine, other than these tenants to fill them."

Senator Odegaard: "Senator Day, as I understand it, these buildings are in good repair and would be used for halfway houses and this type of thing and I have been assured by the department of institutions that these buildings will be used."

Senator Day: "That I appreciate but the only thing is that there will be a loss of revenue because if the buildings are utilized and don't collect rent, are they presently collecting rent?"

Senator Odegaard: "As I understand it in some of the institutions, they are. These rents are very low and the housing is good. I have been told they are in good shape. It is probable that most of these employees will continue to live in this housing. There might be an exception of a few and this is the purpose of the bill, to make that exception for those who desire to live away from the institution."
