WAC 415-114-400  Assessment of interest charge.
The first calendar day that the receivable is overdue, interest will be charged, based on the due date.

A 1% per month simple interest charge will be assessed against an employer's overdue balance. Interest charges for other receivables will be determined by the director of the department of retirement systems. For member receivables, interest will be based on the long-term investment return assumption adopted under RCW 41.45.030. These rates approximate interest lost to trust funds because the receivables have not been paid in a timely manner.

Assessed interest will appear on the monthly accounts receivable statement issued by the department.

WAC 415-114-700  Erroneous charges of interest. If the department erroneously charges interest, the department will credit the account within sixty days of the date that the erroneous bill is corrected. The credit will equal all erroneous interest charged. Those who believe they have been charged interest in error must submit written justification of their claim within ninety days of the interest charge.
