question as to how the court can find that the defendant should be acquitted by reason of insanity if it does not first find that the defendant committed the crime charged. In order to remove the cloud of constitutionality, I have determined to veto the item consisting of the subsection references so that a court would still be required to enter findings in substantially the same form as set forth in RCW 10.77.040.

Section 10 of the bill contains another obvious drafting error which reverses the intent of the amendatory language. Presumably, the Legislature intended that if a defendant acquitted by reason of insanity is found among other things, to present a substantial likelihood of committing felonious acts jeopardizing public safety or security, the court would be required to order his hospitalization or other treatment less restrictive than detention in a state mental hospital. As drafted and enacted, the result would be the exact opposite. Accordingly, I have determined to veto that item in section 10 and by this veto I am restoring the language of the existing law, and urge the Legislature to make another attempt at enacting correct amendatory language at its next session. I have been urged by some to correct this drafting error by simply vetoing the word "not" contained in that item, but have determined not to do so as such a veto would be of questionable constitutionality.

With the exception of the foregoing items, I have approved the remainder of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3312."

Passed the House April 23, 1974.
Passed the Senate April 25, 1974.
Approved by the Governor May 6, 1974, with the exception of one item which is vetoed.
File in Office of Secretary of State May 6, 1974.
Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one item Substitute House Bill No. 779 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to public employment."

This bill provides for improved retirement benefits for teacher-legislators by enabling, among other things, current teacher-legislators to receive pensions amounting to three percent of the average earnable compensation of his or her two highest consecutive years of service, which earnable compensation would include both the full contract salary as a teacher and the annual legislative salary.

Notwithstanding the increased benefits, section 2 of the bill contains an item which reduces the employee contribution of the teacher-legislator from seven and one-half percent to six percent of earnable compensation. This reduction in the employee contribution may be justified in respect to future teacher-legislators whose benefits are limited elsewhere in the bill to two percent of the average earnable compensation of the two highest consecutive years of service, but is wholly unwarranted in the case of current teacher-legislators whose benefits have been increased under the bill. For these reasons, I have determined to veto that item.

With the exception of the foregoing item, the remainder of Substitute House Bill No. 779 is approved."
