Passed the House May 1, 1975.

Passed the Senate May 15, 1975.

Approved by the Governor May 27, 1975, with the exception of section 1 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State May 27, 1975.

Veto overridden by the House May 30, 1975.

Veto overridden by the Senate June 8, 1975.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State June 9, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section Substitute House Bill No. 409 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to electricians and electrical installations."

The purpose of the bill is to empower the board of electrical examiners to establish, in addition to a general electrical contractors' license, other classifications of specialty licenses, and to administer written examinations for general and specialty electrical contractors' qualifying certificates.

Section 1 of the bill contains a grandfather clause providing that any person licensed as an electrical contractor during 1974 will be entitled to receive a general electrical contractor license. As a first matter, I do not believe a grandfather clause serves either the best interest of the industry or the public. The grandfather clause should not be necessary where different classes of examinations are to be administered to take into account those electrical contractors who may only be skilled in certain specialties. Second, I believe it is extremely unwise to grant, by the grandfather clause, a general electrical contractor's license to all those presently licensed regardless of whether they may be qualified to perform general electrical contracting work.

It is my belief and intent that a veto of section 1 will still leave the board of electrical examiners with sufficient flexibility to establish examinations in both general and specialty areas which take into account an applicant's past experience as a licensed electrical contractor under previous law so that qualified practitioners are not unfairly barred from their lifetime profession.

For the foregoing reasons, I have determined to veto section 1. With the sole exception of that section, I have approved the remainder of Substitute House Bill No. 409."

Note: Chief Clerk of House's letter informing the Secretary of State that the Legislature has overridden the Governor's partial veto is as follows:

The Honorable Bruce K. Chapman
Secretary of State
State of Washington

Passed the Senate May 5, 1975.

Vetoed by the Governor May 15, 1975.

Full veto of the Governor overridden by the House May 30, 1975.

Full veto of the Governor overridden by the Senate June 8, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of full veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval Substitute House Bill No. 249 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to motor vehicles."

This bill makes certain changes in the laws relating to tonnage fees, and allows tonnage permits in addition to regular license fees to be paid quarterly, if the additional tonnage is over six thousand pounds.

The matter of truck weights and truck weight fees has been the subject of a comprehensive study by the Legislative Transportation Committee. The ultimate aim of such study is to devise an equitable system of transportation fees. The passage of this bill before completion and implementation of the study is premature and unwise, and the piecemeal approach will likely require further corrective action by the Legislature after the results of the study are known.

Moreover, the fiscal impact of the bill is a loss of approximately $270,000 over the next biennium in addition to requiring increased expenditures by the Department of Highways. Given the very difficult financial state of the Department, enactment of this bill is even more untimely at this moment.

For the foregoing reasons, I have determined to veto Substitute House Bill No. 249."

Note: Chief Clerk of House's letter informing the Secretary of State that the Legislature has overridden the Governor's full veto is as follows:

Sec. 2. Section 10, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 6, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.050 are each amended to read as follows:

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to limit the right of any person to apply voluntarily to any public or private agency or practitioner for treatment of a mental disorder, either by direct application or by referral. Any person voluntarily admitted for inpatient treatment to any public or private agency shall be released immediately upon his request. Any person voluntarily admitted for inpatient treatment to any public or private agency shall orally be advised of the right to immediate release and further advised of such rights in writing as are secured to them pursuant to this chapter and their rights of access to attorneys, courts, and other legal redress. Their condition and status shall be reviewed at least once each one hundred eighty days for evaluation as to the need for further treatment and/or possible release, at which time they shall again be advised of their right to release upon request: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That if the professional staff of any public or private agency regards a person voluntarily admitted who requests release as ~~((dangerous to himself or others or gravely disabled as defined by this act))~~ presenting, as a result of a mental disorder, an imminent likelihood of serious harm to himself or others, or is gravely disabled, they may detain such person for ~~((a reasonable length of time;))~~ sufficient time to notify the designated county mental health professional of such person's condition to enable such mental health professional to authorize such person being further held in custody or transported to an evaluation and treatment center pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, which shall in ordinary circumstances be no later than the next judicial day.

Sec. 3. Section 20, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 8, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.150 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) When a mental health professional designated by the county receives information alleging that a person, as a result of a mental disorder, presents a likelihood of serious harm to others or himself, or is gravely disabled, such mental health professional, after investigation and evaluation of the specific facts alleged, and of the reliability and credibility of the person or persons, if any, providing information to initiate detention, may summon such person to appear at an evaluation and treatment facility for not more than a seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment period; the summons shall state whether the required seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment services may be delivered on an outpatient or inpatient status. The mental health professional shall also designate, at the time of the summons, from a list provided by the court, an attorney who will be appointed, if any is to be appointed, and state the name, business address, and telephone number of this attorney in the summons.

(b) The summons shall state a date and time to appear not less than twenty-four hours after the service of the summons. The summons shall state the address of the evaluation and treatment facility to which such person is to report and the business address and phone number of the mental health professional designated by the county. The summons shall state that if the person named in the summons fails to appear at the evaluation and treatment facility at or before the date and time stated in the summons, such person may be involuntarily taken into custody. Accompanying the summons to such person shall be a copy of the petition for initial detention and a notice of rights.

(c) If such mental health professional decides to summon such person for up to a seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment period, the mental health professional must file in court the summons, the petition for initial detention, and all documentary evidence. The mental health professional shall then serve or cause to be served on such person, his guardian, and conservator, if any, a copy of the summons together with a notice of rights and a petition for initial detention. After service on such person the mental health professional shall file the return of service in court and provide copies of all papers in the court file to the evaluation and treatment facility and the designated attorney. The mental health professional shall notify the court and the prosecuting attorney that a probable cause hearing will be held within seventy-two hours of the date and time specified on the summons if such person is not released prior to the expiration of such period.

(d) If the person summoned appears on or before the date and time specified, the evaluation and treatment facility (~~shall~~) may admit such person as required by RCW 71.05.170 or may provide treatment on an outpatient basis. If the person summoned fails to appear on or before the date and time specified, the evaluation and treatment facility shall immediately notify the mental health professional designated by the county who may notify a peace officer to take such person or cause such person to be taken into custody and placed in an evaluation and treatment facility. Should the mental health professional notify a peace officer authorizing him to take a person into custody under the provisions of this subsection, he shall file with the court a copy of such authorization and a notice of detention. At the time such person is taken into custody there shall commence to be served on such person, his guardian, and conservator, if any, a copy of the original summons together with a notice of detention, a notice of rights, and a petition for initial detention.

(2) When a mental health professional designated by the county receives information alleging that a person, as the result of a mental disorder, presents an imminent likelihood of serious harm to himself or others, after investigation and evaluation of the specific facts alleged and of the reliability and credibility of the person or persons providing the information if any, the mental health professional may take such person, or cause by oral or written order such person to be taken into emergency custody in an evaluation and treatment facility for not more than seventy-two hours as described in RCW 71.05.180.

(3) A peace officer may take such person or cause such person to be taken into custody and placed in an evaluation and treatment facility pursuant to subsection (1)(d) of this section.

(4) A peace officer may, without prior notice of the proceedings provided for in subsection (1) of this section, take or cause such person to be taken into custody and immediately delivered to an evaluation and treatment facility:

(a) Only pursuant to subsections (1)(d) and (2) of this section; or

(b) When he has reasonable cause to believe that such person is suffering from a mental disorder and presents an imminent likelihood of serious harm to others or himself.

(5) Persons delivered to evaluation and treatment facilities by peace officers pursuant to subsection (4)(b) of this section may be held by the facility for a period of up to twelve hours: PROVIDED, That they are examined by a mental health professional within three hours of their arrival. Within twelve hours of their arrival, the designated county mental health professional must file a supplemental petition for detention, and commence service on the designated attorney for the detained person.

Sec. 4. Section 26, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 14, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.210 are each amended to read as follows:

Each person involuntarily admitted to an evaluation and treatment facility shall, within twenty-four hours of his admission, be examined and evaluated by a licensed physician and a mental health professional as defined in this chapter, and shall receive such treatment and care as his condition requires including treatment on an outpatient basis for the period that he is detained, except that, beginning twenty-four hours prior to a court proceeding, the individual may refuse all but emergency life-saving treatment, and the individual shall be informed at an appropriate time of his right to such refusal of treatment. Such person shall be detained up to seventy-two hours, if, in the opinion of the professional person in charge of the facility, or his professional designee, the person presents a likelihood of serious harm to himself or others, or is gravely disabled. A person who has been detained for seventy-two hours shall no later than the end of such period be released, unless referred for further care on a voluntary basis, or detained pursuant to court order for further treatment as provided in this chapter.

An evaluation and treatment center admitting any person pursuant to this chapter whose physical condition reveals the need for hospitalization shall assure that such person is transferred to an appropriate hospital for treatment. Notice of such fact shall be given to the court, the designated attorney, and the designated county mental health professional and the court shall order such continuance in proceedings under this chapter as may be necessary, but in no event may this continuance be more than fourteen days.

Sec. 5. Section 28, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 15, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.230 are each amended to read as follows:

A person detained for seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment may be detained for not more than fourteen additional days of either involuntary intensive treatment or of a less restrictive alternative to involuntary intensive treatment if the following conditions are met:

(1) The professional staff of the agency or facility providing evaluation services has analyzed the person's condition and finds that said condition is caused by mental disorder and either results in a likelihood of serious harm to the person detained or to others, or results in the detained person being gravely disabled and are prepared to testify those conditions are met; and

(2) The person has been advised of the need for ~~((, but has not accepted;))~~ voluntary treatment and the professional staff of the facility has evidence that he has not in good faith volunteered; and

(3) The facility providing intensive treatment is certified to provide such treatment by the department of social and health services; and

(4) The professional staff of the agency or facility or the mental health professional designated by the county has filed a petition for fourteen day involuntary detention or a less restrictive alternative with the court. The petition must be signed either by two physicians or by one physician and a mental health professional who have examined the person. If involuntary detention is sought the petition shall state facts that support the finding that such person, as a result of mental disorder, presents a likelihood of serious harm to others or himself, or is gravely disabled and that there are no less restrictive alternatives to detention in the best interest of such person or others. If an involuntary less restrictive alternative is sought, the petition shall state facts that support the finding that such person, as a result of mental disorder, presents a likelihood of serious harm to others or himself, or is gravely disabled and shall set forth the less restrictive alternative proposed by the facility; and

(5) A copy of the petition has been served on the detained person, his attorney and his guardian or conservator, if any, prior to the probable cause hearing; and

(6) The court at the time the petition was filed and before the probable cause hearing has appointed counsel to represent such person if no other counsel has appeared; and

(7) The court has ordered a fourteen day involuntary treatment after a probable cause hearing has been held pursuant to RCW 71.05.240.

Sec. 6. Section 34, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 20, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.290 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) At any time during a person's fourteen day intensive treatment period, the professional person in charge of a treatment facility or his professional designee or the designated county mental health professional may petition the superior court for an order requiring such person to undergo an additional period of treatment. Such petition must be based on one or more of the grounds set forth in RCW 71.05.280.

(2) The petition shall summarize the facts which support the need for further confinement and shall be supported by affidavits signed by two examining physicians, or by one examining physician and examining mental health professional. The affidavits shall describe in detail the behavior of the detained person which supports the petition and shall explain what, if any, less restrictive treatments which are alternatives to detention are available to such person, and shall state the willingness of the affiant to testify to such facts in subsequent judicial proceedings under this chapter.

(3) If a person has been determined to be incompetent (~~((and the charges have been dismissed) without prejudice))~~ pursuant to RCW 10.77.090(3) (~~((or its successors))~~) as now existing or hereafter amended, then the professional person in charge of the treatment facility or his professional designee or the county designated mental health professional may directly file a petition for ninety day treatment under RCW 71.05.280((+))(3). No petition for initial detention or fourteen day detention is required before such a petition may be filed.

Sec. 7. Section 35, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 21, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.300 are each amended to read as follows:

The petition for ninety day treatment shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court. At the time of filing such petition, the clerk shall set a time for the person to come before the court on the next judicial day after the day of filing unless such appearance is waived by the person's attorney, and the clerk shall notify the designated county mental health professional. The designated county mental health professional shall immediately notify the person detained, his attorney, if any, and his guardian or conservator, if any, and the prosecuting attorney, ~~((shall))~~ and provide a copy of the petition to such persons as soon as possible.

At the time set for appearance the detained person shall be brought before the court, unless such appearance has been waived and the court shall advise him of his right to be represented by an attorney and of his right to a jury trial. If the detained person is not represented by an attorney, or is indigent or is unwilling to retain an attorney, the court shall immediately appoint an attorney to represent him. The court shall, if requested, appoint a reasonably available licensed physician, psychologist, or psychiatrist, designated by the detained person to examine and testify on behalf of the detained person.

The court may, if requested, also appoint a professional person as defined in RCW 71.05.020(12) to seek less restrictive alternative courses of treatment and to testify on behalf of the detained person.

The court shall also set a date for a full hearing on the petition as provided in RCW 71.05.310.

Sec. 8. Section 36, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 22, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.310 are each amended to read as follows:

The court shall conduct a hearing on the petition for ninety day treatment within five judicial days of the first court appearance after the probable cause hearing unless the person named in the petition requests a jury trial, in which case trial shall commence within ten judicial days of the filing of the petition for ninety day treatment. The court may continue the hearing upon the written request of the person named in the petition or his attorney, which continuance shall not exceed ten additional judicial days. The burden of proof shall be by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence and shall be upon the petitioner. The person shall be present at such proceeding, which shall in all respects accord with the constitutional guarantees of due process of law and the rules of evidence pursuant to RCW 71.05.~~((260))~~250.

During the proceeding, the person named in the petition shall continue to be treated until released by order of the superior court. If no order has been made within thirty days after the filing of the petition, not including extensions of time requested by the detained person or his attorney, the detained person shall be released.

Sec. 9. Section 37, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 23, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.320 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If the court or jury finds that grounds set forth in RCW 71.05.280 have been proven and that the best interests of the person or others will not be served by a less restrictive treatment which is an alternative to detention, the court shall remand him to the custody of the department of social and health services or to a facility certified for ninety day treatment by the department of social and health services for a further period of intensive treatment not to exceed ninety days from the date of judgment.

If the court or jury finds that grounds set forth in RCW 71.05.280 have been proven, but finds that treatment less restrictive than detention will be in the best interest of the person or others, then the court shall remand him to the custody of the department of social and health services or to a facility certified for ninety day treatment by the department of social and health services or to a less restrictive alternative for a further period of less restrictive treatment not to exceed ninety days from the date of judgment.

(2) Said person shall be released from involuntary treatment at the expiration of ninety days unless the superintendent or professional person in charge of the facility in which he is confined, or in the event of a less restrictive alternative, the designated mental health professional, files a new petition for involuntary treatment on the grounds that the committed person;

(a) Has threatened, attempted, or inflicted physical harm upon the person of another during the current period of court ordered treatment and, as a result of mental disorder presents a likelihood of serious harm to others; or

(b) Was taken into custody as a result of conduct in which he attempted or inflicted serious physical harm upon the person of another, and continues to present, as a result of mental disorder a likelihood of serious harm to others; or

(c) Is in custody pursuant to RCW 71.05.~~((290))~~280(3) and as a result of mental disorder presents a substantial likelihood of repeating similar acts; or

(d) Continues to be gravely disabled.

If the conduct required to be proven in subsections (b) and (c) of this section was found by a judge or jury in a prior trial under this chapter, it shall not be necessary to reprove that element. Such new petition for involuntary treatment shall be filed and heard in the superior court of the county of the facility which is filing the new petition for involuntary treatment unless good cause is shown for a change of venue. The cost of the proceedings shall be borne by the state.

The hearing shall be held as provided in RCW 71.05.310, and if the court or jury finds that the grounds for additional confinement as set forth in this subsection are present, the court may order the committed person returned for an additional period of treatment not to exceed one hundred eighty days from the date of judgment. At the end of the one hundred eighty day period of commitment, the committed person shall be released unless a petition for another one hundred eighty day period of continued treatment is filed and heard in the same manner as provided herein above. Successive one hundred eighty day commitments are permissible on the same grounds and pursuant to the same procedures as the original one hundred eighty day commitment. No person committed as herein provided may be detained unless a valid order of commitment is in effect. No order of commitment can exceed one hundred eighty days in length.

Sec. 10. Section 44, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 27, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.390 are each amended to read as follows:

The fact of admission and all information and records compiled, obtained, or maintained in the course of providing services to either voluntary or involuntary recipients of services at public or private agencies shall be confidential.

Information and records may be disclosed only:

(1) In communications between qualified professional persons to meet the requirements of this chapter, in the provision of services or appropriate referrals, or in the course of guardianship proceedings. The consent of the patient, or his guardian, must be obtained before information or records may be disclosed by a professional person employed by a facility to a professional person, not employed by the facility, who does not have the medical responsibility for the patient's care or who is not a designated county mental health professional or who is not involved in providing services under the community mental health services act, chapter 71.24 RCW;

(2) When the person receiving services, or his guardian, designates persons to whom information or records may be released, or if the person is a minor, when his parents make such designation;

(3) To the extent necessary for a recipient to make a claim, or for a claim to be made on behalf of a recipient for aid, insurance, or medical assistance to which he may be entitled;

(4) For program evaluation and/or research: PROVIDED, That the secretary or social and health services adopts rules for the conduct of such evaluation and/or research. Such rules shall include, but need not be limited to, the requirement that all evaluators and researchers must sign an oath of confidentiality substantially as follows:

"As a condition of conducting evaluation or research concerning persons who have received services from (fill in the facility, agency, or person) I,, agree not to divulge, publish, or otherwise make known to unauthorized persons or the public any information obtained in the course of such evaluation or research regarding persons who have received services such that the person who received such services is identifiable.

I recognize that unauthorized release of confidential information may subject me to civil liability under the provisions of state law.

(5) To the courts as necessary to the administration of this chapter.

(6) To law enforcement officers (~~when requesting such information~~) or public health officers necessary to carry out the (~~provisions of RCW 9.41.070 and Public Law 90-618~~) responsibilities of their office: PROVIDED, That

(a) Only the fact and date of admission, the fact and date of discharge, and the last known address shall be disclosed upon request; and

(b) The law enforcement and public health officers shall be obligated to keep such information confidential in accordance with this chapter; and

(c) Additional information shall be disclosed only after giving notice to said person and his counsel and upon a showing of clear, cogent and convincing evidence that such information is necessary and that appropriate safeguards for strict confidentiality are and will be maintained: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That in the event the said person has escaped from custody, said notice prior to disclosure is not necessary and that the facility from which the person escaped shall include an evaluation as to whether the person is of danger to persons or property and has a propensity toward violence.

(7) To the attorney of the detained person.

The fact of admission, as well as all records, files, evidence, findings, or orders made, prepared, collected, or maintained pursuant to this chapter shall not be admissible as evidence in any legal proceeding outside this chapter without the written consent of the person who was the subject of the proceeding. The records and files maintained in any court proceeding pursuant to this chapter shall be confidential and available subsequent to such proceedings only to the person who was the subject of the proceeding or his attorney. In addition, the court may order the subsequent release or use of such records or files only upon good cause shown if the court finds that appropriate safeguards for strict confidentiality are and will be maintained.

Sec. 11. Section 72.23.070, chapter 28, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 3, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 72.23.070 are each amended to read as follows:

Pursuant to rules and regulations established by the department, a public or private facility may receive any person who is a suitable person for care and treatment as mentally ill, or for observation as to the existence of mental illness, upon the receipt of a written application of the person, or others on his behalf, in accordance with the following requirements:

(1) In the case of a person eighteen years of age or over, the application shall be voluntarily made by the person;

(2) In the case of a person thirteen years of age or under, the application may be voluntarily made by his parents, or by the parent, conservator, guardian, or other person entitled to his custody. When such person is more than thirteen years of age, such application must be accompanied by the written consent, knowingly and voluntarily given, of the minor. All such voluntary applications to a public ((facility)) agency shall be reviewed by the county mental health professionals, who shall submit a written report and evaluation with recommendations to the superintendent of such facility to which such application is made stating whether treatment is necessary and proper on a voluntary basis and evaluating the reasons for voluntary commitment. Such person's condition and status shall be reviewed by the professional person in charge of the facility or his designee at least once each one hundred eighty days. A person under eighteen years of age received into a public facility as a voluntary patient shall not be retained after he reaches eighteen years of age, but such person, upon reaching eighteen years of age, may apply for admission into a public or private facility as a voluntary patient.

(3) No minor over thirteen years of age shall be involuntarily committed to a state or private facility for care and treatment as mentally disordered, or for observation as to the existence of mental disorder, except in accordance with the following requirements:

(a) The facility must be certified by the department of social and health services to provide evaluation and treatment to persons under eighteen years of age suffering from mental disorders: PROVIDED, That a physically separate and separately operated portion of a state hospital may be designated as an evaluation and treatment facility: PROVIDED FURTHER, That a facility which is part of, or a part of, or operated by, the department of social and health services or any federal agency will not require certification.

(b) A petition shall be filed with the juvenile court by the person's parent, parents, conservator, guardian, or by the juvenile court itself. The petition shall set forth the reasons why commitment is necessary and what alternative courses of treatment have been explored. The juvenile court shall then conduct a hearing, at which the person under eighteen years of age shall be represented by an attorney, to determine whether commitment is clearly in the best interests of the person sought to be committed, and that no less restrictive alternative exists: PROVIDED, That, if in the opinion of the designated county mental health professional a minor presents an imminent likelihood of serious harm to himself or others, he may be temporarily detained for up to seventy-two hours by a licensed facility pending petition to the juvenile court for further commitment.

(c) If the juvenile court determines that commitment is clearly necessary, it will issue an order approving such petition. If the juvenile court determines that a less restrictive alternative is desirable, it may order that alternatives be followed.

(d) If a person under the age of eighteen years is committed to a state or private facility pursuant to this section, the juvenile court recommending commitment shall require a report from the facility every one hundred eighty days that sets forth such facts as the juvenile court may require. Upon receipt of the report, the juvenile court shall undertake a review of the status of such person to determine whether or not it is still clearly in the best interests of the patient that he remain in the facility. If the juvenile court determines that further commitment is not clearly in the best interests of the patient, it shall order release upon such conditions as it deems necessary.

(e) Every person under the age of eighteen shall ~~((specifically))~~ have all the rights provided for ~~((by RCW 71.05.370 and 71.05.480, except))~~ persons eighteen years of age or over under this chapter as now or hereafter amended except those rights specifically modified by this section: PROVIDED, That the juvenile court rather than the superior court shall be responsible for any proceedings. A voluntarily admitted minor over thirteen years of age shall have the right to release on the next judicial day from the date of request unless a petition is filed in juvenile court by the professional person in charge of the facility or his designee on the grounds that the juvenile is dangerous to himself or others or that it would be in the best interests of the juvenile that he remain in the facility. Furthermore, should the patient and his parent, parents, conservator, or guardian both request his release, he shall be immediately released unless the professional person in charge of the facility objects immediately in writing to the juvenile court on the grounds that the person is dangerous to himself or others and that it would not be in the patient's best interests to be released. Should this occur, the juvenile court shall hold a hearing on the issue within five judicial days and determine whether the person should be released.

(f) Nothing in this section shall prohibit the professional person in charge of the facility in which the person is being treated from releasing him at any time when, in the opinion of said professional person, further commitment would no longer be in the best interests of the patient.

Whenever a person is released by the professional person in charge of a facility under this section, said person shall, in writing, notify the juvenile court which committed the person for treatment.

(4) In the case of a person eighteen years of age or over for whom a conservator or guardian of the person has been appointed, such application shall be made by said conservator or guardian, when so authorized by proper court order in the conservatorship or guardianship proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. There is added to chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and to chapter 71.05 RCW a new section to read as follows:

When, in the judgment of the department of social and health services, the welfare of any person committed to or confined in any state juvenile correctional institution or facility necessitates that such a person be transferred or moved for observation, diagnosis or treatment to any state institution or facility for the care of mentally ill juveniles the secretary, or his designee, is authorized to order and effect such move or transfer: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the secretary shall adopt and implement procedures to assure that persons so transferred shall, while detained or confined in such institution or facility for the care of mentally ill juveniles, be provided with substantially similar opportunities for parole or early release evaluation and determination as persons detained or confined in state juvenile correctional institutions or facilities: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the secretary shall notify the original committing court of such transfer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Section 134, chapter 249, Laws of 1909 and RCW 9.80.020 are each repealed.

(2) The members of the initial board appointed by the governor shall be appointed so that the term of one member shall expire December 31, 1975, the term of one member shall expire December 31, 1976, the term of one member shall expire December 31, 1977, ~~((and))~~ the terms of two members shall expire December 31, 1978, and the terms of two members shall expire December 31, 1979. Thereafter, each member shall be appointed for a term of four years. Vacancies on the board shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointments. Each member of the board shall continue in office until his successor is appointed and qualified. The commissioner of public lands or his designee shall be the chairman of the board.

(4) Members of the board, except public employees and elected officials, shall receive forty dollars per diem for each day or major portion thereof actually spent in attending to their duties as board members and in addition they shall be entitled to reimbursement for subsistence and actual travel expenses incurred in the performance of their duties in the same manner as provided for state officials generally in chapter 43.03 RCW as now or hereafter amended.

(5) The board may employ such clerical help and staff pursuant to chapter 41.06 RCW as is necessary to carry out its duties.

Sec. 2. Section 5, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 76.09.050 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The board shall establish by rule which forest practices shall be included within each of the following classes:

Class I: Minimal or specific forest practices that have no direct potential for damaging a public resource that may be conducted without submitting an application~~((: PROVIDED, That no forest practice shall be within Class I if it has a direct potential for damaging a public resource:))~~ or a notification;

Class II: Forest practices ((for)) which ((the application must be approved or disapproved by the department within fourteen calendar days from the date the department receives the application:)) have a less than ordinary potential for damaging a public resource that may be conducted without submitting an application and may begin five calendar days, or such lesser time as the department may determine, after written notification by the operator, in the manner, content, and form as prescribed by the department, is received by the department. Class II shall not include forest practices:

(a) On lands platted after January 1, 1960, or being converted to another use;

(b) Which require approvals under the provisions of the Hydraulics Act, RCW 75.20.100; not to be reforested because of the likelihood of future conversion to urban development, and/or (d) which have a potential for a substantial impact on the environment and therefore require an evaluation by the department as to whether or not a detailed statement must be prepared pursuant to the State Environmental Policy Act, chapter 43.21C RCW. Such evaluation shall be made within ten days from the date the department receives the application: PROVIDED, That nothing herein shall be construed to prevent any local or regional governmental entity from determining that a detailed statement must be prepared for an action pursuant to a Class IV forest practice taken by that governmental entity concerning the land on which forest practices will be conducted. A Class IV application must be approved or disapproved by the department within thirty calendar days from the date the department receives the application, unless the department determines that a detailed statement must be made, in which case the application must be approved or disapproved by the department within sixty calendar days from the date the department receives the application, unless the commissioner of public lands, through the promulgation of a formal order, determines that the process cannot be completed within such period.

Forest practices under Classes I, II, and III are exempt from the requirements for preparation of a detailed statement under the State Environmental Policy Act.

(2) No Class II ((or)), Class III, or Class IV forest practice shall be commenced or continued after January 1, 1975, unless the department has received a notification with regard to a Class II forest practice or approved an application with regard to a Class III or Class IV forest practice containing all information required by RCW 76.09.060 as now or hereafter amended: PROVIDED, That any person commencing a forest practice during 1974 may continue such forest practice until April 1, 1975, if such person has submitted an application to the department prior to January 1, 1975: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That in the event forest practices regulations necessary for the scheduled implementation of this chapter and RCW 90.48.420 have not been adopted in time to meet such schedules, the department shall have the authority to regulate forest practices and approve applications on such terms and conditions consistent with this chapter and RCW 90.48.420 and the purposes and policies of RCW 76.09.010 until applicable forest practices regulations are in effect.

(3) If a notification or application is delivered in person to the department by the operator or his agent, the department shall immediately provide a dated receipt thereof. In all other cases, the department shall immediately mail a dated receipt to the operator.

(4) Forest practices shall be conducted in accordance with the forest practices regulations, orders and directives as authorized by this chapter or the forest practices regulations, and the terms and conditions of any approved applications.

(5) The department of natural resources shall notify the applicant in writing of either its approval of the application or its disapproval of the application and the specific manner in which the application fails to comply with the provisions of this section or with the forest practices regulations. Except as provided otherwise in this section, if the department fails to either approve or disapprove an application or any portion thereof within the applicable time limit, ~~((then, on petition of the~~ ~~applicant the chairman of the appeals board shall issue an order directing the department to approve or disapprove the application within five days or issue a temporary approval until the application is either finally approved or disapproved: PROVIDED, That the temporary approval shall be issued only if it meets the conditions set by the board for such temporary approvals)) the application shall be deemed approved and the operation may be commenced: PROVIDED, That this provision shall not apply to applications which are neither approved nor disapproved pursuant to the provisions of subsection (7) of this section: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That if seasonal field conditions prevent the department from being able to properly evaluate the application, the department may issue an approval conditional upon further review within sixty days: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the department shall have until April 1, 1975, to approve or disapprove an application involving forest practices allowed to continue to April 1, 1975, under the provisions of subsection (2) of this section. Upon receipt of any notification or any satisfactorily completed application the department shall in any event no later than two business days after such receipt transmit a copy to the departments of ecology, game, and fisheries, and to the county in which the forest practice is to be commenced. Any comments by such agencies shall be directed to the department of natural resources.~~

~~((4))~~ (6) If the county believes that an application is inconsistent with this chapter, the forest practices regulations, or any local authority consistent with RCW 76.09.240 as now or hereafter amended, it may so notify the department and the applicant, specifying its objections.

~~((5))~~ (7) The department shall not approve portions of applications to which a county objects if:

(a) The department receives written notice from the county of such objections within ~~((seven business days for a Class H or))~~ fourteen business days ~~((for a Class HH application))~~ from the time of ~~((its))~~ transmittal of the application to the county, or one day before the department acts on the application, whichever is later; and

(b) The objections relate to lands either:

- (i) Platted after January 1, 1960; or
- (ii) Being converted to another use.

The department shall either disapprove those portions of such application or appeal the county objections to the appeals board. If the objections related to subparagraphs (b) (i) and (ii) of this subsection are based on local authority consistent with RCW 76.09.240 as now or hereafter amended, the department shall disapprove the application until such time as the county consents to its approval or such disapproval is reversed on appeal. The applicant shall be a party to all department appeals of county objections. Unless the county either consents or has waived its rights under this subsection, the department shall not approve portions of an application affecting such lands until the minimum time for county objections has expired.

~~((6))~~ (8) In addition to any rights under the above paragraph, the county may appeal any department approval of an application with respect to any lands within its jurisdiction. The appeals board may suspend the department's approval in whole or in part pending such appeal where there exists potential for immediate and material damage to a public resource.

~~((7))~~ (9) Appeals under this section shall be made to the appeals board in the manner and time provided in RCW 76.09.220(9). In such appeals there shall be no presumption of correctness of either the county or the department position.

~~((8))~~ (10) The department shall, within four business days notify the county of all notifications, approvals, and disapprovals of an application affecting lands within the county, except to the extent the county has waived its right to such notice.

~~((9))~~ (11) A county may waive in whole or in part its rights under this section, and may withdraw or modify any such waiver, at any time by written notice to the department.

Sec. 3. Section 6, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 76.09.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall prescribe the form and contents of the notification and application. The forest practices regulations shall specify by whom and under what conditions the notification and application shall be signed. The application or notification shall be delivered in person or sent by certified mail to the department. The information required may include, but shall not be limited to:

- (a) Name and address of the forest land owner, timber owner, and operator;
- (b) Description of the proposed forest practice or practices to be conducted;
- (c) Legal description of the land on which the forest practices are to be conducted;
- (d) Planimetric and topographic maps showing location and size of all lakes and streams and other public waters in and immediately adjacent to the operating area and showing all existing and proposed roads and major tractor roads;
- (e) Description of the silvicultural, harvesting, or other forest practice methods to be used, including the type of equipment to be used and materials to be applied;
- (f) Proposed plan for reforestation and for any revegetation necessary to reduce erosion potential from roadsides and yarding roads, as required by the forest practices regulations;
- (g) Soil, geological, and hydrological data with respect to forest practices;
- (h) The expected dates of commencement and completion of all forest practices specified in the application;
- (i) Provisions for continuing maintenance of roads and other construction or other measures necessary to afford protection to public resources; and
- (j) An affirmation that the statements contained in the notification or application are true.

(2) At the option of the applicant, the application or notification may be submitted to cover a single forest practice or any number of forest practices within reasonable geographic or political boundaries as specified by the department. Long range plans may be submitted to the department for review and consultation.

(3) The application shall indicate whether any land covered by the application will be converted or is intended to be converted to a use other than commercial timber production within three years after completion of the forest practices described in it. (a) If the application states that any such land will be or is intended to be so converted:

(i) The reforestation requirements of this chapter and of the forest practices regulations shall not apply if the land is in fact so converted unless applicable alternatives or limitations are provided in forest practices regulations issued under RCW 76.09.070 as now or hereafter amended;

(ii) Completion of such forest practice operations shall be deemed conversion of the lands to another use for purposes of chapters 84.28, 84.33, and 84.34 RCW unless the conversion is to a use permitted under a current use tax agreement permitted under chapter 84.34 RCW;

(iii) The forest practices described in the application are subject to applicable county, city and regional governmental authority permitted under RCW 76.09.240 as now or hereafter amended as well as the forest practices regulations.

(b) If the application does not state that any land covered by the application will be or is intended to be so converted:

(i) For six years after the date of the application the county or city and regional governmental entities may deny any or all applications for permits or approvals, including building permits and subdivision approvals, relating to nonforestry uses of land subject to the application;

(ii) Failure to comply with the reforestation requirements contained in any final order or decision shall constitute a removal from classification under the provisions of RCW 84.28.065, a removal of designation under the provisions of RCW 84.33.140, and a change of use under the provisions of RCW 84.34.080, and, if applicable, shall subject such lands to the payments and/or penalties resulting from such removals or changes; and

(iii) Conversion to a use other than commercial timber operations within three years after completion of the forest practices without the consent of the county or municipality shall constitute a violation of each of the county, municipal and regional authorities to which the forest practice operations would have been subject if the application had so stated.

~~((4))~~ (c) The application shall be either signed by the ~~((forest))~~ land owner or accompanied by a statement signed by the ~~((forest))~~ land owner indicating his intent with respect to conversion and acknowledging that he is familiar with the effects of this subsection.

~~((5))~~ (4) Whenever an approved application authorizes a forest practice which, because of soil condition, proximity to a water course or other unusual factor, has a ~~((greater than ordinary))~~ potential for causing material damage to a public resource, as determined by the department, the applicant shall, when requested on the approved application, notify the department ~~((five))~~ two days before the commencement of actual operations.

~~((6))~~ (5) Before ~~((commencing))~~ the operator commences any forest practice in a manner or to an extent significantly different from that described in a previously approved application or notification, ~~((the applicant shall submit))~~ there shall be submitted to the department a new application or notification form in the manner set forth in this section.

~~((7))~~ (6) The notification to or the approval given by the department to an application to conduct a forest practice shall be effective for a term of one year from the date of approval or notification and shall not be renewed unless a new application is filed and approved or a new notification has been filed.

~~((8))~~ (7) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, no prior application or notification shall be required for any emergency forest practice necessitated by fire, flood, windstorm, earthquake, or other emergency as defined by the board, but the operator shall submit an application or notification, whichever is applicable, to the department within forty-eight hours after commencement of such practice.

Sec. 4. Section 7, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 76.09.070 are each amended to read as follows:

After the completion of a logging operation, satisfactory reforestation as defined by the rules and regulations promulgated by the board shall be completed within three years: PROVIDED, That a longer period may be authorized if seed or seedlings are not available: PROVIDED FURTHER, That a period of up to five years may be allowed where a natural regeneration plan is approved by the department. Upon the completion of a reforestation operation a report on such operation shall be filed with the department of natural resources. Within ~~((six))~~ twelve months of receipt of such a report the department shall inspect the reforestation operation, and shall determine either that the reforestation operation has been properly completed or that further reforestation and inspection is necessary.

The forest practices regulations may provide alternatives to or limitations on the applicability of reforestation requirements with respect to forest lands being converted in whole or in part to another use which is compatible with timber growing. The forest practices regulations may identify classifications and/or areas of forest land that have the likelihood of future conversion to urban development within a ten year period. The reforestation requirements may be modified or eliminated on such lands: PROVIDED, That such identification and/or such conversion to urban development must be consistent with any local or regional land use plans or ordinances.

Sec. 5. Section 8, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 76.09.080 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall have the authority to serve upon an operator a stop work order which shall be a final order of the department if:

(a) There is any violation of the provisions of this chapter or the forest practices regulations; or

(b) There is a deviation from the approved application; or

(c) Immediate action is necessary to prevent continuation of or to avoid material damage to a public resource.

(2) The stop work order shall set forth:

(a) The specific nature, extent, and time of the violation, deviation, damage, or potential damage;

(b) An order to stop all work connected with the violation, deviation, damage, or potential damage;

(c) The specific course of action needed to correct such violation or deviation or to prevent damage and to correct and/or compensate for damage to public resources which has resulted from any violation, unauthorized deviation, or wilful or negligent disregard for potential damage to a public resource; and/or those courses of action necessary to prevent continuing damage to public resources where the damage is resulting from the forest practice activities but has not resulted from any violation, unauthorized deviation, or negligence; and

(d) The right of the operator to a hearing before the appeals board.

The department shall immediately file a copy of such order with the appeals board and mail a copy thereof to the timber owner and forest land owner at the addresses shown on the application. The operator, timber owner, or forest land owner may commence an appeal to the appeals board within fifteen days after service upon the operator. If such appeal is commenced, a hearing shall be held not more than twenty days after copies of the notice of appeal were filed with the appeals board. Such proceeding shall be a contested case within the meaning of chapter 34.04 RCW. The operator shall comply with the order of the department immediately upon being served, but the appeals board if requested shall have authority to continue or discontinue in whole or in part the order of the department under such conditions as it may impose pending the outcome of the proceeding.

Sec. 6. Section 9, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 76.09.090 are each amended to read as follows:

If a violation, a deviation, material damage or potential for material damage to a public resource has occurred and the department determines that a stop work order is unnecessary, then the department shall issue and serve upon the operator or land owner a notice, which shall clearly set forth:

(1) (a) The specific nature, extent, and time of failure to comply with the approved application; or identifying the damage or potential damage; and/or

(b) The relevant provisions of this chapter or of the forest practice regulations relating thereto;

(2) The right of the operator or landowner to a hearing before the department; and

(3) The specific course of action ordered by the department to be followed by the operator to correct such failure to comply and to prevent, correct and/or compensate for material damage to public resources which resulted from ((forest practices)) any violation, unauthorized deviation, or wilful or negligent disregard for potential damage to a public resource; and/or those courses of action necessary to prevent continuing damage to public resources where the damage is resulting from the forest practice activities but has not resulted from any violation, unauthorized deviation, or negligence.

The department shall mail a copy thereof to the forest land owner and the timber owner at the addresses shown on the application, showing the date of service upon the operator. Such notice to comply shall become a final order of the department ((and)): PROVIDED, That no direct appeal to the appeals board will be allowed from such final order. Such operator shall undertake the course of action so ordered by the department unless, within fifteen days after the date of service of such notice to comply, the operator, forest land owner, or timber owner, shall request the department in writing to schedule a hearing. If so requested, the department shall schedule a hearing on a date not more than twenty days after receiving such request. Within ten days after such hearing, the department shall issue a final order either withdrawing its notice to comply or clearly setting forth the specific course of action to be followed by such operator. Such operator shall undertake the course of action so ordered by the department unless within thirty days after the date of such final order, the operator, forest land owner, or timber owner appeals such final order to the appeals board.

No person shall be under any obligation under this section to prevent, correct, or compensate for any damage to public resources which occurs more than one year after the date of completion of the forest practices operations involved exclusive of reforestation, unless such forest practices were not conducted in accordance with forest practices rules and regulations: PROVIDED, That this provision shall not relieve the forest landowner from any obligation to comply with forest practices rules and regulations pertaining to providing continuing road maintenance. No action to recover damages shall be taken under this section more than two years after the date the damage involved occurs.

Sec. 7. Section 10, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 76.09.100 are each amended to read as follows:

If the department of ecology determines that a person has failed to comply with the forest practices regulations relating to water quality protection, and that the department of natural resources has not issued a stop work order or notice to comply, the department of ecology shall inform the department thereof. If the department of natural resources fails to take authorized enforcement action within twenty-four hours under RCW 76.09.080, 76.09.090, 76.09.120, or 76.09.130, ~~((and 76.09.170;))~~ the department of ecology may ~~((take such action, except that))~~ petition to the chairman of the appeals board, who shall, within forty-eight hours, either deny the petition or direct the department of natural resources to immediately issue a stop work order or notice to comply, or to impose a penalty. No civil or criminal penalties shall be imposed for past actions or omissions if such actions or omissions were conducted pursuant to an approval or directive of the department of natural resources.

Sec. 8. Section 14, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 76.09.140 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department of natural resources, through the attorney general, may take any necessary action to enforce any final order or final decision, or to enjoin any forest practices by any person for a one year period after such person has failed to comply with a final order or a final decision.

~~(2) ((The department of ecology, through the attorney general, may take any necessary action to enforce any final order of such department or any final decision of the pollution control hearings board relating to water quality protection; or to enjoin any forest practices relating to water quality protection by any person for a one year period after such person has failed to comply with a final order or final decision.~~

~~(3))~~ A county may bring injunctive, declaratory, or other actions for enforcement for forest practice activities within its jurisdiction in the superior court as provided by law against the department ~~((or the department of ecology)),~~ the forest land owner, timber owner or operator to enforce the forest practice regulations or any final order of the department, or ~~((the department of ecology,))~~ the appeals board ~~((or the pollution control hearings board))~~: PROVIDED, That no civil or criminal penalties shall be imposed for past actions or omissions if such actions or omissions were conducted pursuant to an approval or directive of the department of natural resources ~~((or department of ecology))~~: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That such actions shall not be commenced unless the department ~~((or the department of ecology))~~ fails to take appropriate action after ten days written notice to the ~~((respective))~~ department by the county of a violation of the forest practices regulations or final orders of the department ~~((or the department of ecology))~~ or the appeals board ~~((or the pollution control hearings board))~~.

Sec. 9. Section 17, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 76.09.170 are each amended to read as follows:

Every person who fails to comply with any provision of RCW 76.09.010 through 76.09.280 as now or hereafter amended or of the forest practices regulations shall be subject to a penalty in an amount of not more than ~~((one thousand))~~ five hundred dollars ~~((per day))~~ for every such violation. Each and every such violation shall be a separate and distinct offense. In case of a ~~((continuing violation))~~ failure to comply with a notice pursuant to RCW 76.09.090 as now or hereafter amended or a stop work order, every day's continuance shall be a separate and distinct violation. Every person who through an act of commission or omission procures, aids or abets in the violation shall be considered to have violated the provisions of this section and shall be subject to the penalty herein provided for: PROVIDED, That no penalty shall be imposed under this section upon any governmental official, an employee of any governmental department, agency, or entity, or a member of any board or advisory committee created by this chapter for any act or omission in his duties in the administration of this chapter or of any regulation promulgated thereunder.

The penalty herein provided for shall be imposed by a notice in writing, either by certified mail with return receipt requested or by personal service, to the person incurring the same from the department of natural resources ~~((or the department of ecology if water quality protection is involved,))~~ describing the violation with reasonable particularity. Within fifteen days after the notice is received, the person incurring the penalty may apply in writing to the department ~~((imposing the penalty))~~ for the remission or mitigation of such penalty. Upon receipt of the application, that department may remit or mitigate the penalty upon whatever terms that department in its discretion deems proper, provided the department ~~((imposing the penalty))~~ deems such remission or mitigation to be in the best interests of carrying out the purposes of this chapter. The department of natural resources ~~((and the department of ecology))~~ shall have authority to ascertain the facts regarding all such applications in such reasonable manner and under such regulations as ~~((they))~~ it may deem proper.

Any person incurring any penalty hereunder may appeal the same to the forest practices appeals board ~~((or PROVIDED, That the appeal of any penalty imposed by the department of ecology relating to water quality protection shall be to the pollution control hearings board))~~.

Such appeals shall be filed within thirty days of receipt of notice imposing any penalty unless an application for remission or mitigation is made to the department (~~(or the department of ecology)~~). When such an application for remission or mitigation is made, such appeals shall be filed within thirty days of receipt of notice from the department (~~(or the department of ecology)~~) setting forth the disposition of the application.

Any penalty imposed hereunder shall become due and payable thirty days after receipt of a notice imposing the same unless application for remission or mitigation is made or an appeal is filed. When such an application for remission or mitigation is made, any penalty incurred hereunder shall become due and payable thirty days after receipt of notice setting forth the disposition of such application unless an appeal is filed from such disposition. Whenever an appeal of any penalty incurred hereunder is filed, the penalty shall become due and payable only upon completion of all review proceedings and the issuance of a final decision confirming the penalty in whole or in part.

If the amount of any penalty is not paid to the department (~~(or the department of ecology)~~) within thirty days after it becomes due and payable, the attorney general, upon the request of the (~~(respective director)~~) department, shall bring an action in the name of the state of Washington in the superior court of Thurston county or of any county in which such violator may do business, to recover such penalty. In all such actions the procedure and rules of evidence shall be the same as an ordinary civil action except as otherwise in this chapter provided.

Sec. 10. Section 22, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 76.09.220 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The appeals board shall operate on either a part time or a full time basis, as determined by the governor. If it is determined that the appeals board shall operate on a full time basis, each member shall receive an annual salary to be determined by the governor. If it is determined that the appeals board shall operate on a part time basis, each member shall receive compensation on the basis of seventy-five dollars for each day spent in performance of his duties: PROVIDED, That such compensation shall not exceed ten thousand dollars in a fiscal year. Each member shall receive reimbursement for travel and other expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties in accordance with the provisions of chapter 43.03 RCW.

(2) The appeals board may appoint, discharge, and fix the compensation of an executive secretary, a clerk, and such other clerical, professional, and technical assistants as may be necessary. As specified in RCW 41.06.073, such employment shall be in accordance with the rules of the state civil service law, chapter 41.06 RCW.

(3) The appeals board shall as soon as practicable after the initial appointment of the members thereof, meet and elect from among its members a chairman, and shall at least biennially thereafter meet and elect or reelect a chairman.

(4) The principal office of the appeals board shall be at the state capital, but it may sit or hold hearings at any other place in the state. A majority of the appeals board shall constitute a quorum for making orders or decisions, promulgating rules and regulations necessary for the conduct of its powers and duties, or transacting other official business, and may act though one position on the board be vacant. One or more members may hold hearings and take testimony to be reported for action by the board when authorized by rule or order of the board. The appeals board shall perform all the powers and duties granted to it in this chapter or as otherwise provided by law.

(5) The appeals board shall make findings of fact and prepare a written decision in each case decided by it, and such findings and decision shall be effective upon being signed by two or more members and upon being filed at the appeals board's principal office, and shall be open to public inspection at all reasonable times.

(6) The appeals board shall either publish at its expense or make arrangements with a publishing firm for the publication of those of its findings and decisions which are of general public interest, in such form as to assure reasonable distribution thereof.

(7) The appeals board shall maintain at its principal office a journal which shall contain all official actions of the appeals board, with the exception of findings and decisions, together with the vote of each member on such actions. The journal shall be available for public inspection at the principal office of the appeals board at all reasonable times.

(8) The forest practices appeals board shall have exclusive jurisdiction to hear appeals arising from an action or determination by the department (~~and the pollution control hearings board established by RCW 43.21B.010 shall have exclusive jurisdiction to hear appeals arising from an action or determination by the department of ecology~~).

(9) (a) Any person aggrieved by the approval or disapproval of an application to conduct a forest practice may seek review from the appeals board by filing a request for the same within thirty days of the approval or disapproval. Concurrently with the filing of any request for review with the board as provided in this section, the requestor shall file a copy of his request with the department and the attorney general. The attorney general may intervene to protect the public interest and insure that the provisions of this chapter are complied with.

(b) The review proceedings authorized in subparagraph (a) of this subsection are subject to the provisions of chapter 34.04 RCW pertaining to procedures in contested cases.

Sec. 11. Section 24, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 76.09.240 are each amended to read as follows:

No county, city, municipality, or other local or regional governmental entity shall adopt or enforce any law, ordinance, or regulation pertaining to forest practices, except that to the extent otherwise permitted by law, such entities may exercise any:

(1) Land use planning or zoning authority: PROVIDED, That exercise of such authority may regulate forest practices only: (a) Where the application submitted under RCW 76.09.060 as now or hereafter amended indicates that the lands will be converted to a use other than commercial timber production; or (b) on lands which have been platted after January 1, 1960 (~~or (c) on tracts of forest land not otherwise covered under subsections (a) and (b) and less than twenty acres including road rights of way in contiguous ownership not classified, designated and taxed under chapter 84.34 RCW, chapter 84.33 RCW, or chapter 84.28 RCW~~);

PROVIDED, That no permit system solely for forest practices shall be allowed; that any additional or more stringent regulations shall not be inconsistent with the forest practices regulations enacted under this chapter; and such local regulations shall not unreasonably prevent timber harvesting;

(2) Taxing powers;

(3) Regulatory authority with respect to public health; and

(4) Authority granted by chapter 90.58 RCW, the "Shoreline Management Act of 1971", except that in relation to "shorelines" as defined in RCW 90.58.030, the following shall apply:

(a) The forest practice regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter shall be the sole rules applicable to the performance of forest practices, and enforcement thereof shall be solely as provided in chapter 76.09 RCW;

(b) As to that road construction which constitutes a substantial development, no permit shall be required under chapter 90.58 RCW for the construction of up to five hundred feet of one and only one road or segment of a road provided such road does not enter the shoreline more than once. Such exemption from said permit requirements shall be limited to a single road or road segment for each forest practice and such road construction shall be subject to the requirements of chapter 76.09 RCW and regulations adopted pursuant thereto and to the prohibitions or restrictions of any master program in effect under the provisions of chapter 90.58 RCW. Nothing in this subsection shall add to or diminish the authority of the shoreline management act regarding road construction except as specifically provided herein. The provisions of this subsection shall not relate to any road which crosses over or through a stream, lake, or other water body subject to chapter 90.58 RCW;

(c) Nothing in this section shall create, add to, or diminish the authority of local government to prohibit or restrict forest practices within the shorelines through master programs adopted and approved pursuant to chapter 90.58 RCW except as provided in (a) and (b) above.

Any powers granted by chapter 90.58 RCW pertaining to forest practices, as amended herein, are expressly limited to lands located within "shorelines of the state" as defined in RCW 90.58.030.

Sec. 12. Section 32, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 76.09.910 are each amended to read as follows:

Nothing in RCW 76.09.010 through 76.09.280 as now or hereafter amended shall modify any requirements to ~~((obtain permits))~~ comply with the Shoreline Management Act of 1971 except as limited by RCW 76.09.240 as now or hereafter amended, or ~~((any violations that may be found, under the Shoreline Management Act of 1971 (chapter 90.58 RCW);))~~ the Hydraulics Act (RCW 75.20.100), other state statutes in effect on January 1, 1975, and any local ordinances not inconsistent with RCW 76.09.240 as now or hereafter amended.

Sec. 13. Section 30, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 90.48.420 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department of ecology, pursuant to powers vested in it previously by chapter 90.48 RCW and consistent with the policies of said chapter and RCW 90.54.020(3), shall be solely responsible for establishing water quality standards for waters of the state. On or before January 1, 1975, the department of ecology shall examine existing regulations containing water quality standards and other applicable rules and regulations of said department pertaining to waters of the state affected by nonpoint sources of pollution arising from forest practices and, when it appears appropriate to the department of ecology, modify said regulations. In any such examination or modification the department of ecology shall consider such factors, among others, as uses of the receiving waters, diffusion, down-stream cooling, and reasonable transient and short-term effects resulting from forest practices.

Promulgation of forest practices regulations by the department of ecology and the forest practices board, shall be accomplished so that compliance with such forest practice regulations will achieve compliance with ~~((such water quality standards))~~ water pollution control laws.

(2) The department of ecology shall monitor water quality to determine whether revisions in such water quality standards or revisions in such forest practices regulations are necessary to accomplish the foregoing result, and either promulgate appropriate revisions to such water quality standards or propose appropriate revisions to such forest practices regulations or both.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provisions of chapter 90.48 RCW or of the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, no permit system pertaining to nonpoint sources of pollution arising from forest practices shall be authorized, and no civil or criminal penalties shall be imposed with respect to any forest practices conducted in full compliance with the applicable provisions of RCW 76.09.010 through 76.09.280, forest practices regulations, and any approvals or directives of the department of natural resources thereunder.

(4) Prior to the department of ecology taking action under statutes or regulations relating to water quality, regarding violations of water quality standards arising from forest practices, the department of ecology shall notify the department of natural resources.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. There is added to chapter 90.48 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The Forest Practices Act, chapter 76.09 RCW, and the forest practices regulations adopted thereunder relating to water quality protection shall be utilized to satisfy the planning and program requirements of sections 208, 209, and 305 of the federal Water Pollution Control Act, as regards silvicultural activities, unless it is determined by the department of ecology that extraordinary conditions exist which make forest practices regulations unsuitable to satisfy such federal requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. This 1975 amendatory act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to Title 69 RCW a new chapter to read as set forth in sections 2 through 39 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Eggs and egg products are an important source of the state's total supply of food, and are used in food in various forms. They are consumed throughout the state and the major portion thereof moves in intrastate commerce. It is essential, in the public interest, that the health and welfare of consumers be protected by the adoption of measures prescribed herein for assuring that eggs and egg products distributed to them and used in products consumed by them are wholesome, otherwise not adulterated, and properly labeled and packaged. Lack of effective regulation for the handling or disposition of unwholesome, otherwise adulterated, or improperly labeled or packaged egg products and certain qualities of eggs is injurious to the public welfare and destroys markets for wholesome, unadulterated, and properly labeled and packaged eggs and egg products and results in sundry losses to producers and processors, as well as injury to consumers. Unwholesome, otherwise adulterated, or improperly labeled or packaged products can be sold at lower prices and compete unfairly with the wholesome, unadulterated, and properly labeled and packaged products, to the detriment of consumers and the public generally. It is hereby found that all egg products and the qualities of eggs which are regulated under this chapter are either in intrastate commerce, or substantially affect such commerce, and that regulation by the director, as contemplated by this chapter, is appropriate to protect the health and welfare of consumers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. When used in this chapter the following terms shall have the indicated meanings, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Department" means the department of agriculture of the state of Washington.

(2) "Director" means the director of the department or his duly authorized representative.

(a) If it bears or contains any poisonous or deleterious substance which may render it injurious to health; but in case the substance is not an added substance, such article shall not be considered adulterated under this clause if the quantity of such substance in or on such article does not ordinarily render it injurious to health;

(b) If it bears or contains any added poisonous or added deleterious substance (other than one which is: (i) A pesticide chemical in or on a raw agricultural commodity; (ii) a food additive; or (iii) a color additive) which may, in the judgment of the director, make such article unfit for human food;

(c) If it is, in whole or in part, a raw agricultural commodity and such commodity bears or contains a pesticide chemical which is unsafe within the meaning of RCW 69.04.392, as enacted or hereafter amended;

(d) If it bears or contains any food additive which is unsafe within the meaning of RCW 69.04.394, as enacted or hereafter amended;

(e) If it bears or contains any color additive which is unsafe within the meaning of RCW 69.04.396, as enacted or hereafter amended: PROVIDED, That an article which is not otherwise deemed adulterated under subsection (4)(c), (d), or (e) of this section shall nevertheless be deemed adulterated if use of the pesticide chemical, food additive, or color additive, in or on such article, is prohibited by regulations of the director in official plants;

(f) If it consists in whole or in part of any filthy, putrid, or decomposed substance, or if it is otherwise unfit for human food;

(g) If it has been prepared, packaged, or held under insanitary conditions whereby it may have become contaminated with filth, or whereby it may have been rendered injurious to health;

(h) If it is an egg which has been subjected to incubation or the product of any egg which has been subjected to incubation;

(i) If its container is composed, in whole or in part, of any poisonous or deleterious substance which may render the contents injurious to health;

(j) If it has been intentionally subjected to radiation, unless the use of the radiation was in conformity with a regulation or exemption in effect pursuant to RCW 69.04.394; or

(k) If any valuable constituent has been in whole or in part omitted or abstracted therefrom; or if any substance has been substituted, wholly or in part therefor; or if damage or inferiority has been concealed in any manner; or if any substance has been added thereto or mixed or packed therewith so as to increase its bulk or weight, or reduce its quality or strength, or make it appear better or of greater value than it is.

(6) "Intrastate commerce" means any eggs or egg products in intrastate commerce, whether such eggs or egg products are intended for sale, held for sale, offered for sale, sold, stored, transported, or handled in this state in any manner and prepared for eventual distribution in this state, whether at wholesale or retail.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The purpose of this chapter is to promote uniformity of state legislation and regulations with the federal egg products inspection act, 21

U.S.C. sec. 1031, et seq., and regulations adopted thereunder. In accord with such declared purpose, any regulations adopted under the federal egg products inspection act relating to eggs and egg products, as defined in section 3 (11) and (12) of this act, in effect on July 1, 1975, are hereby deemed to have been adopted under the provisions hereof. Further, to promote such uniformity, any regulations adopted hereafter under the provisions of the federal egg products inspection act relating to eggs and egg products, as defined in section 3 (11) and (12) of this act, and published in the federal register, shall be deemed to have been adopted under the provisions of this chapter in accord with chapter 34.04 RCW, as now or hereafter amended. The director may, however, within thirty days of the publication of the adoption of any such regulation under the federal egg products inspection act, give public notice that a hearing will be held to determine if such regulations shall not be applicable under the provisions of this chapter. Such hearing shall be in accord with the requirements of chapter 34.04 RCW, as now or hereafter amended.

The director, in addition to the foregoing, may adopt any rule and regulation necessary to carry out the purpose and provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The adoption, amendment, modification, or revocation of any rules or regulations under the provisions of this chapter, or the holding of a hearing in regard to a license issued or which may be issued or denied under the provisions of this chapter, shall be subject to the applicable provisions of chapter 34.04 RCW, the administrative procedure act, as now or hereafter amended.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. No person shall act as an egg handler or dealer without first obtaining an annual license and permanent dealer's number from the department; such license shall expire on the thirtieth day of June following issuance. Application for a license shall be on a form prescribed by the director and accompanied by a ten dollar annual license fee. Duplicate copies of the license may be issued upon payment of five dollars. A copy of said license shall be posted at each location where such licensee operates. Such application shall include the full name of the applicant for the license and the location of each facility he intends to operate. If such applicant is an individual, receiver, trustee, firm, partnership, association or corporation, the full name of each member of the firm or partnership or the names of the officers of the association or corporation shall be given on the application. Such application shall further state the principal business address of the applicant in the state and elsewhere and the name of a person domiciled in this state authorized to receive and accept service of summons of legal notices of all kinds for the applicant and any other necessary information prescribed by the director. Upon the approval of the application and compliance with the provisions of this chapter, including the applicable regulations adopted hereunder by the department, the applicant shall be issued a license or renewal thereof. Such license and permanent egg handler or dealer's number shall be nontransferable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. If the application for the renewal of an egg handler's or dealer's license is not filed before July 1st of any year, an additional fee of five dollars shall be assessed and added to the original fee and shall be paid by the applicant before the renewal license shall be issued: PROVIDED, That such additional fee shall not be charged if the applicant furnishes an affidavit certifying that he has not acted as an egg handler or dealer subsequent to the expiration of his license.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The department may deny, suspend, revoke, or issue a license or a conditional license if it determines that an applicant or licensee has committed any of the following acts:

(1) That the applicant or licensee is violating or has violated any of the provisions of this chapter or rules and regulations adopted thereunder.

(2) That the application contains any materially false or misleading statement or involves any misrepresentation by any officer, agent, or employee of the applicant.

(3) That the applicant or licensee has concealed or withheld any facts regarding any violation of this chapter by any officer, agent, or employee of the applicant or licensee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) For the purpose of preventing the entry into or movement in intrastate commerce of any egg product which is capable of use as human food and is misbranded or adulterated, the director shall, whenever processing operations are being conducted, unless under inspection by the United States department of agriculture, cause continuous inspection to be made, in accordance with the regulations promulgated under this chapter, of the processing of egg products, in each plant processing egg products for commerce, unless exempted under section 18 of this act. Without restricting the application of the preceding sentence to other kinds of establishments within its provisions, any food manufacturing establishment, institution, or restaurant which uses any eggs that do not meet the requirements of section 18(1)(a) of this act in the preparation of any articles for human food, shall be deemed to be a plant processing egg products, with respect to such operations.

(2) The director, at any time, shall cause such retention, segregation, and reinspection as he deems necessary of eggs and egg products capable of use as human food in each official plant.

(3) Eggs and egg products found to be adulterated at official plants shall be condemned, and if no appeal be taken from such determination or condemnation, such articles shall be destroyed for human food purposes under the supervision of an inspector: PROVIDED, That articles which may by reprocessing be made not adulterated need not be condemned and destroyed if so reprocessed under the supervision of an inspector and thereafter found to be not adulterated. If an appeal be taken from such determination, the eggs or egg products shall be appropriately marked and segregated pending completion of an appeal inspection, which appeal shall be at the cost of the appellant if the director determines that the appeal is frivolous. If the determination of condemnation is sustained, the eggs or egg products shall be destroyed for human food purposes under the supervision of an inspector.

(4) The director shall cause such other inspections to be made of the business premises, facilities, inventory, operations, and records of egg handlers, and the records and inventory of other persons required to keep records under section 15 of this act, as he deems appropriate (and in the case of shell egg packers, packing eggs for the ultimate consumer, at least once each calendar quarter) to assure that only eggs fit for human food are used for such purpose, and otherwise to assure compliance by egg handlers and other persons with the requirements of section 15 of this act, except that the director shall cause such inspections to be made as he deems appropriate to assure compliance with such requirements at food manufacturing establishments, institutions, and restaurants, other than plants processing egg products. Representatives of the director shall be afforded access to all such places of business for purposes of making the inspections provided for in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) The operator of each official plant shall operate such plant in accordance with such sanitary practices and shall have such premises, facilities, and equipment as are required by regulations promulgated by the director to effectuate the purposes of this chapter, including requirements for segregation and disposition of restricted eggs.

(2) The director shall refuse to render inspection to any plant whose premises, facilities, or equipment, or the operation thereof, fail to meet the requirements of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (1) Egg products inspected at any official plant under the authority of this chapter and found to be not adulterated shall be pasteurized before they leave the official plant, except as otherwise permitted by regulations of the director, and shall at the time they leave the official plant, bear in distinctly legible form on their shipping containers or immediate containers, or both, when required by regulations of the director, the official inspection legend and official plant number, of the plant where the products were processed, and such other information as the director may require by regulations to describe the products adequately and to assure that they will not have false or misleading labeling.

(2) No labeling or container shall be used for egg products at official plants if it is false or misleading or has not been approved as required by the regulations of the director. If the director has reason to believe that any labeling or the size or form of any container in use or proposed for use with respect to egg products at any official plant is false or misleading in any particular, he may direct that such use be withheld unless the labeling or container is modified in such manner as he may prescribe so that it will not be false or misleading. If the person using or proposing to use the labeling or container does not accept the determination of the director, such person may request a hearing, but the use of the labeling or container shall, if the director so directs, be withheld pending hearing and final determination by the director. Any such determination by the director shall be conclusive unless, within thirty days after receipt of notice of such final determination, the person adversely affected thereby appeals to the superior court in the county in which such person has its principal place of business.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) No person shall buy, sell, or transport, or offer to buy or sell, or offer or receive for transportation, in any business in intrastate commerce any restricted eggs, capable of use as human food, except as authorized by regulations of the director under such conditions as he may prescribe to assure that only eggs fit for human food are used for such purpose.

(2) No egg handler shall possess with intent to use, or use, any restricted eggs in the preparation of human food for intrastate commerce except that such eggs may be so possessed and used when authorized by regulations of the director under such conditions as he may prescribe to assure that only eggs fit for human food are used for such purpose.

(3) No person shall process any egg products for intrastate commerce at any plant except in compliance with the requirements of this chapter.

(4) No person shall buy, sell, or transport, or offer to buy or sell, or offer or receive for transportation, in intrastate commerce any egg products required to be inspected under this chapter unless they have been so inspected and are labeled and packaged in accordance with the requirements of section 11 of this act.

(5) No operator of any official plant shall allow any egg products to be moved from such plant if they are adulterated or misbranded and capable of use as human food.

(6) No person shall:

(a) Manufacture, cast, print, lithograph, or otherwise make any device containing any official mark or simulation thereof, or any label bearing any such mark or simulation, or any form of official certificate or simulation thereof, except as authorized by the director;

(b) Forge or alter any official device, mark, or certificate;

(c) Without authorization from the director, use any official device, mark, or certificate, or simulation thereof, or detach, deface, or destroy any official device or mark; or use any labeling or container ordered to be withheld from use under section 11 of this act after final judicial affirmance of such order or expiration of the time for appeal if no appeal is taken under said section;

(d) Contrary to the regulations prescribed by the director, fail to use, or to detach, deface, or destroy any official device, mark, or certificate;

(f) Knowingly make any false statement in any shipper's certificate or other nonofficial or official certificate provided for in the regulations prescribed by the director;

(g) Knowingly represent that any article has been inspected or exempted, under this chapter when in fact it has not been so inspected or exempted; and

(h) Refuse access, at any reasonable time, to any representative of the director, to any plant or other place of business subject to inspection under any provisions of this chapter.

(7) No person, while an official or employee of the state or local governmental agency, or thereafter, shall use to his own advantage, or reveal other than to the authorized representatives of the United States government or the state in their official capacity, or as ordered by a court in a judicial proceeding, any information acquired under the authority of this chapter concerning any matter which the originator or relator of such information claims to be entitled to protection as a trade secret.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The director shall, whenever he determines that it would effectuate the purposes of this chapter, cooperate with any state, federal or other governmental agencies in carrying out any provisions of this chapter. In carrying out the provisions of this chapter, the director may conduct such examinations, investigations, and inspections as he determines practicable through any officer or employee of any such agency commissioned by him for such purpose.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Inspection shall not be provided under this chapter at any plant for the processing of any egg products which are not intended for use as human food, but such articles, prior to their offer for sale or transportation in intrastate commerce, shall be denatured or identified as prescribed by regulations of the director to deter their use for human food. No person shall buy, sell, or transport or offer to buy or sell, or offer or receive for transportation, in intrastate commerce, any restricted eggs or egg products which are not intended for use as human food unless they are denatured or identified as required by the regulations of the director.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. For the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this chapter and the regulations promulgated thereunder, all persons engaged in the business of transporting, shipping, or receiving any eggs or egg products in intrastate commerce or in interstate commerce, or holding such articles so received, and all egg handlers, shall maintain such records showing, for such time and in such form and manner, as the director may prescribe, to the extent that they are concerned therewith, the receipt, delivery, sale, movement, and disposition of all eggs and egg products handled by them, and shall, upon the request of the director, permit him at reasonable times to have access to and to copy all such records.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. (1) Any person who commits any offense prohibited by section 12 of this act shall upon conviction be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. When construing or enforcing the provisions of section 12 of this act, the act, omission, or failure of any person acting for or employed by any individual, partnership, corporation, or association within the scope of his employment or office shall in every case be deemed the act, omission, or failure of such individual, partnership, corporation, or association, as well as of such person.

(2) No carrier or warehouseman shall be subject to the penalties of this chapter, other than the penalties for violation of section 15 of this act, or subsection (3) of this section, by reason of his receipt, carriage, holding, or delivery, in the usual course of business, as a carrier or warehouseman of eggs or egg products owned by another person unless the carrier or warehouseman has knowledge, or is in possession of facts which would cause a reasonable person to believe that such eggs or egg products were not eligible for transportation under, or were otherwise in violation of, this chapter, or unless the carrier or warehouseman refuses to furnish on request of a representative of the director the name and address of the person from whom he received such eggs or egg products and copies of all documents, if there be any, pertaining to the delivery of the eggs or egg products to, or by, such carrier or warehouseman.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of law any person who forcibly assaults, resists, impedes, intimidates, or interferes with any person while engaged in or on account of the performance of his official duties under this chapter shall be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars or imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than three years, or both. Whoever, in the commission of any such act, uses a deadly or dangerous weapon, shall be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or both.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. Before any violation of this chapter, other than of section 16(3) of this act, is reported by the director to any prosecuting attorney for institution of a criminal proceeding, the person against whom such proceeding is contemplated shall be given reasonable notice of the alleged violation and opportunity to present his views orally or in writing with regard to such contemplated proceeding. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as requiring the director to report for criminal prosecution violation of this chapter whenever he believes that the public interest will be adequately served and compliance with this chapter obtained by a suitable written notice of warning.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. (1) The director may, by regulation and under such conditions and procedures as he may prescribe, exempt from specific provisions of this chapter:

(a) The sale, transportation, possession, or use of eggs which contain no more restricted eggs than are allowed by the tolerance in the official state standards for consumer grades for shell eggs;

(b) The processing of egg products at any plant where the facilities and operating procedures meet such sanitary standards as may be prescribed by the director, and where the eggs received or used in the manufacture of egg products contain no more restricted eggs than are allowed by the official standards of the state consumer grades for shell eggs, and the egg products processed at such plant;

(c) The sale of eggs by any poultry producer from his own flocks directly to a household consumer exclusively for use by such consumer and members of his household and his nonpaying guests and employees, and the transportation, possession, and use of such eggs in accordance with this subsection;

(d) The sale of eggs by shell egg packers on his own premises directly to household consumers for use by such consumer and members of his household and his nonpaying guests and employees, and the transportation, possession, and use of such eggs in accordance with this subsection.

(2) The director may modify or revoke any regulation granting exemption under this chapter whenever he deems such action appropriate to effectuate the purposes of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. The director may limit the entry of eggs and egg products and other materials into official plants under such conditions as he may prescribe to assure that allowing the entry of such articles into such plants will be consistent with the purposes of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. Whenever any eggs or egg products subject to this chapter are found by any authorized representative of the director upon any premises and there is reason to believe that they are or have been processed, bought, sold, possessed, used, transported, or offered or received for sale or transportation in violation of this chapter, or that they are in any other way in violation of this chapter, or whenever any restricted eggs capable of use as human food are found by such a representative in the possession of any person not authorized to acquire such eggs under the regulations of the director, such articles may be embargoed by such representative for a reasonable period but not to exceed twenty days, pending action under section 21 of this act or notification of any federal or other governmental authorities having jurisdiction over such articles, and shall not be moved by any person from the place at which they are located when so detained until released by such representative. All official marks may be required by such representative to be removed from such articles before they are released unless it appears to the satisfaction of the director that the articles are eligible to retain such marks.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. When the director has embargoed any eggs or egg products, he shall petition the superior court of the county in which the eggs or egg products are located for an order affirming such embargo. Such court shall have jurisdiction for cause shown and after a prompt hearing to any claimant of eggs or egg products, shall issue an order which directs the removal of such embargo or the destruction or correction and release of such eggs and egg products. An order for destruction or the correction and release of such eggs and egg products shall contain such provision for the payment of pertinent court costs and fees and administrative expenses as is equitable and which the court deems appropriate in the circumstances. An order for correction and release may contain such provisions for a bond as the court finds indicated in the circumstance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. The director need not petition the superior court as provided for in section 21 of this act if the owner or claimant of such eggs or egg products agrees in writing to the disposition of such eggs or egg products as the director may order.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. Two or more petitions under section 21 of this act which pend at the same time and which present the same issue and claimant hereunder may be consolidated for simultaneous determination by one court of competent jurisdiction, upon application to any court of jurisdiction by the director or claimant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. The claimant in any proceeding by petition under section 21 of this act shall be entitled to receive a representative sample of the article subject to such proceedings upon application to the court of competent jurisdiction made at any time after such petition and prior to the hearing thereon.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. No state court shall allow the recovery of damages for administrative action for condemnation under the provisions of this chapter, if the court finds that there was probable cause for such action.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. There is hereby levied an assessment not to exceed two and one-half mills per dozen eggs entering intrastate commerce, as prescribed by rules and regulations issued by the director. Such assessment shall be applicable to all eggs entering intrastate commerce except as provided in sections 18 and 30. Such assessment shall be paid to the director on a monthly basis on or before the tenth day following the month such eggs enter intrastate commerce. The director may require reports by egg handlers or dealers along with the payment of the assessment fee. Such reports may include any and all pertinent information necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter. The director may, by regulations, require egg container manufacturers to report on a monthly basis all egg containers sold to any egg handler or dealer and bearing such egg handler or dealer's license number.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. Any egg handler or dealer may prepay the assessment provided for in section 26 of this act by purchasing Washington state egg seals from the director to be placed on egg containers showing that the proper assessment has been paid. Any carton manufacturer may apply to the director for a permit to place reasonable facsimiles of the Washington state egg seals to be imprinted on egg containers. The director shall, from time to time, prescribe rules and regulations governing the affixing of seals and he is authorized to cancel any such permit issued pursuant to this chapter, whenever he finds that a violation of the terms under which the permit has been granted has been violated.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. Every egg handler or dealer who pays assessments required under the provisions of this chapter on a monthly basis in lieu of seals shall be subject to audit by the director on an annual basis or more frequently if necessary. The cost to the director for performing such audit shall be chargeable to and payable by the egg handler or dealer subject to audit. Failure to pay assessments when due or refusal to pay for audit costs may be cause for a summary suspension of an egg handler's or dealer's license and a charge of one percent per month, or fraction thereof shall be added to the sum due the director, for each remittance not received by the director when due. The conditions and charges applicable to egg handlers and dealers set forth herein shall also be applicable to payments due the director for facsimiles of seals placed on egg containers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. The proceeds from assessment fees paid to the director shall be retained for the inspection of eggs and carrying out the provisions of this chapter relating to eggs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. The assessments provided in this chapter shall not apply to:

- (1) Sale and shipment to points outside of this state;
- (2) Sale to the United States government and its instrumentalities;
- (3) Sale to breaking plants for processing into egg products;
- (4) Sale between egg dealers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. All moneys in the state egg account, created by RCW 69.24.450, at the time of the effective date of this act, shall be transferred to the director and shall be retained and expended for administering and carrying out the purposes of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 32. All containers used by an egg handler or dealer to package eggs shall bear the name and address or the permanent number issued by the director to said egg handler or dealer. Such permanent number shall be displayed in a size and location prescribed by the director. It shall constitute a gross misdemeanor for any egg handler or dealer to reuse a container which bears the permanent number of another egg handler or dealer unless such number is totally obliterated prior to reuse. The director may in addition require the obliteration of any or all markings that may be on any container which will be reused for eggs by an egg handler or dealer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. In addition to any other records required to be kept and furnished the director under the provisions of this chapter, the director may require any person who sells to any retailer, or to any restaurant, hotel, boarding house, bakery, or any institution or concern which purchases eggs for serving to guests or patrons thereof or for its use in preparation of any food product for human consumption, candled or graded eggs other than those of his own production sold and delivered on the premises where produced, to furnish that retailer or other purchaser with an invoice covering each such sale, showing the exact grade or quality, and the size or weight of the eggs sold, according to the standards prescribed by the director, together with the name and address of the person by whom the eggs were sold. The person selling and the retailer or other purchaser shall keep a copy of said invoice on file at his place of business for a period of thirty days, during which time the copy shall be available for inspection at all reasonable times by the director: PROVIDED, That no retailer or other purchaser shall be guilty of a violation of this chapter if he can establish a guarantee from the person from whom the eggs were purchased to the effect that they, at the time of purchase, conformed to the information required by the director on such invoice: PROVIDED FURTHER, That if the retailer or other purchaser having labeled any such eggs in accordance with the invoice keeps them for such a time after they are purchased as to cause them to deteriorate to a lower grade or standard, and sells them under the label of the invoice grade or standard, he shall be guilty of a violation of this chapter.

No invoice shall be required on eggs when packed for sale to the United States department of defense, or a component thereof, if labeled with grades promulgated by the United States secretary of agriculture.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 34. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to the sale of eggs by any egg producer with an annual egg production from a flock of three thousand or less hens.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 35. The enactment of this chapter shall not have the effect of terminating or in any way modifying any liability, civil or criminal, which shall already be in existence on the effective date of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 36. Any person violating any provision of this chapter or regulations for which a penalty is not specifically provided for in this chapter, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and guilty of a gross misdemeanor for any subsequent violation: PROVIDED, That any offense committed more than five years after a previous conviction shall be considered a first offense.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 37. The provisions of this chapter shall be cumulative and nonexclusive and shall not affect any other remedy at law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 38. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 39. This act may be known and cited as the "Washington wholesome eggs and egg products act".

NEW SECTION. Sec. 40. The following acts or parts of acts are each hereby repealed:

~~((In order to protect children and the mentally retarded whose health and welfare may be adversely affected through the infliction, by other than accidental means, of death, physical injury and/or physical neglect, or sexual abuse,))~~ The Washington state legislature finds and declares: The bond between a child and his or her parent, custodian, or guardian is of paramount importance, and any intervention into the life of a child is also an intervention into the life of the parent, custodian, or guardian; however, instances of nonaccidental injury, neglect, death, sexual abuse and cruelty to children by their parents, custodians or guardians have occurred, and in the instance where a child or mentally retarded person is deprived of his or her right to conditions of minimal nurture, health, and safety, the state is justified in emergency intervention based upon verified information; and therefore the Washington state legislature hereby provides for the reporting of such cases to the appropriate public authorities. It is the intent of the legislature that, as a result of such reports, protective services shall be made available in an effort to prevent further abuses, and to safeguard ((and enhance)) the general welfare of such children: PROVIDED, That such reports shall be maintained and disseminated with strictest regard for the privacy of the subjects of such reports and so as to safeguard against arbitrary, malicious or erroneous information or actions: PROVIDED FURTHER, That this chapter shall not be construed to authorize interference with child-raising practices, including reasonable parental

(1) In any judicial proceeding in which it is alleged that a child has been subjected to child abuse or neglect the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for the child: PROVIDED, That the requirement of a guardian ad litem shall be deemed satisfied if the child is represented by counsel in the proceedings.

(2) At any time prior to or during a hearing in such a case, when the court finds upon clear, cogent and convincing evidence that an incident of child abuse or neglect has occurred, the court may, on its own motion, or the motion of the guardian ad litem, or other parties, order the examination by a physician, psychologist or psychiatrist, of any parent or child or other person having custody of the child at the time of the alleged child abuse or neglect, if the court finds such an examination is necessary to the proper determination of the case. The hearing may be continued pending the completion of such examination. The physician, psychologist or psychiatrist conducting such an examination may be required to testify in the dispositional hearing concerning the results of such examination and may be asked to give his opinion as to whether the protection of the child requires that he not be returned to the custody of his parents or other persons having custody of him at the time of the alleged child abuse or neglect. Such temporary protective custody by an administrator or doctor shall not be deemed an arrest and shall continue only until supervisory custody is assumed by the appropriate law enforcement agency or juvenile court.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds that the use of centerlines of public streets, roads and highways as boundaries of incorporated cities and towns has resulted in divided jurisdiction over such public ways causing inefficiencies and waste in their construction, improvement and maintenance and impairing effective traffic law enforcement. It is the intent of this act to preclude the use of highway centerlines as corporate boundaries in the future and to encourage counties and cities and towns by agreement to revise existing highway centerline boundaries to coincide with highway right of way lines.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 7, Laws of 1965 and to chapter 35.02 RCW a new section to read as follows:

After the effective date of this 1975 amendatory act, centerlines of public streets, roads or highways shall not be used to define any part of a boundary of a city or town in an incorporation or annexation proceeding. The right of way line of any public street, road or highway, or any segment thereof, may be used to define a part of a corporate boundary in an incorporation or annexation proceeding.

Upon final hearing on a petition for incorporation the board shall, subject to section 2 of this amendatory act, establish and define the boundaries of the proposed city or town, being authorized to decrease but not increase the area proposed in the petition and any such decrease shall not exceed twenty percent of the area proposed; it must also determine the number of inhabitants within the boundaries it has established: PROVIDED, That the area shall not be so decreased that the number of inhabitants therein shall be less than required by RCW 35.02.010 as now or hereafter amended.

Sec. 4. Section 35.03.030, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 3, chapter 270, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 35.03.030 are each amended to read as follows:

If no boundary review board has jurisdiction over a proposed incorporation under RCW 35.03.005 through 35.03.050 or such a board's jurisdiction is not invoked within the sixty day period prescribed in RCW 36.93.100, the board of county commissioners shall by resolution, subject to section 2 of this amendatory act, establish and define the boundaries of such corporation, establish and find the number of inhabitants residing therein and state the name of the proposed corporation as specified in the petition for incorporation. Within ninety days after the passage of said resolution or the filing of the decision of approval or modification of the boundary review board with the board of county commissioners, the board of county commissioners shall cause an election to be called and held within the boundaries so established, said election to be conducted in the manner required for the calling of a special election in Title 29 RCW, as now or hereafter amended, except as otherwise provided in this chapter, for the purpose of determining whether such boundaries so established shall be incorporated and of electing fifteen freeholders, who shall have been residents within said boundaries for a period of at least two years preceding their election and qualified electors of the county, for the purpose of framing a charter for said city. Any qualified person may, not earlier than sixty days nor later than thirty days prior to such election,

The hearing provided for in RCW 35.04.050 shall be held jointly by all the respective boards of county commissioners under the direction of the principal board of county commissioners. The hearing may be adjourned from time to time not to exceed two months in all. If upon final hearing the respective boards find that any land has been unjustly or improperly included within or excluded from the proposed corporation, the respective boards may change and fix the boundary lines of the portion of the proposed corporation within their respective counties in such a manner as they deem reasonable and just and conducive to the public welfare and convenience, and each such board shall, subject to section 2 of this amendatory act, thereupon enter an order establishing and defining the boundary lines of the proposed corporation within its respective county: PROVIDED, That when any part of the area to be incorporated lies within five miles of any city having a population of fifteen thousand or more and in a class AA or A county, the area shall not be so decreased that the number of inhabitants therein shall be less than three thousand. No land shall be so included within the boundaries described in the petition unless each board of county commissioners of that county in which the area sought to be included is located first obtains the written assent of not less than a number of qualified voters resident within each area to be included in the proposed corporation equal in number to twenty percent of the votes cast at the last state election. Each board of county commissioners shall for the area within its respective county, promptly after the final hearing, by order establish and define the boundaries of the proposed corporation, determine the number of inhabitants residing therein and state the name of the proposed corporation: PROVIDED, That for the action required after the final hearing, the boards may act jointly but in such case a majority of each board must vote favorably on such final action and the order shall be entered in the minutes of each board.

The resolution of the city or town initiating such election shall, subject to section 2 of this amendatory act, describe the boundaries of the area to be annexed, as nearly as may be state the number of voters residing therein, pray for the calling of an election to be held among the qualified voters therein upon the question of annexation, and provide that said city or town will pay the cost of the annexation election. Whenever a city or town has prepared and filed a comprehensive plan for the area to be annexed as provided for in RCW 35.13.177 and 35.13.178, the resolution initiating the election may also provide for the simultaneous adoption of the comprehensive plan upon approval of annexation by the electorate of the area to be annexed. The resolution initiating the election may also provide for the simultaneous creation of a community municipal corporation and election of community council members as provided for in RCW 35.14.010 through 35.14.060 upon approval of annexation by the electorate of the area to be annexed. In cities under the optional municipal code the resolution initiating the election may also provide for the simultaneous inclusion of the annexed area into a named existing community municipal corporation. The proposition for the creation of a community municipal corporation may be submitted as part of the annexation proposition or may be submitted as a separate proposition. The proposition for inclusion within a named existing community municipal corporation shall be submitted as part of the annexation proposition.

If the petition also provides for the creation of a community municipal corporation and election of community council members, the petition shall also describe the boundaries of the proposed service area, state the number of voters residing therein as nearly as may be, and pray for the election of community council members by the qualified voters residing in the service area.

Sec. 8. Section 35.13.130, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 12, chapter 164, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 35.13.130 are each amended to read as follows:

A petition for annexation of an area contiguous to a city or town may be made in writing addressed to and filed with the legislative body of the municipality to which annexation is desired. Except where all the property sought to be annexed is property of a school district, and the school directors thereof file the petition for annexation as in RCW 28A.58.044 authorized, the petition must be signed by the owners of not less than seventy-five percent in value, according to the assessed valuation for general taxation of the property for which annexation is petitioned. The petition shall set forth a description of the property according to government legal subdivisions or legal plats which is in compliance with section 2 of this amendatory act, and shall be accompanied by a plat which outlines the boundaries of the property sought to be annexed. If the legislative body has required the assumption of all or of any portion of city or town indebtedness by the area annexed, and/or the adoption of a comprehensive plan for the area to be annexed, these facts, together with a quotation of the minute entry of such requirement or requirements shall be set forth in the petition.

Sec. 9. Section 35.13.150, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 and RCW 35.13.150 are each amended to read as follows:

Following the hearing, the council or commission shall determine by ordinance whether annexation shall be made. Subject to section 2 of this amendatory act, they may annex all or any portion of the proposed area but may not include in the annexation any property not described in the petition. Upon passage of the ordinance a certified copy shall be filed with the board of county commissioners of the county in which the annexed property is located.

Sec. 10. Section 15, chapter 189, Laws of 1967 as amended by section 8, chapter 111, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 36.93.150 are each amended to read as follows:

- (3) Determination of a division of assets and liabilities between two or more governmental units where relevant;
- (4) Determination whether, or the extent to which, functions of a special purpose district are to be assumed by an incorporated city or town, metropolitan municipal corporation, or another existing special purpose district; or
- (5) Disapproval of the proposal except that the board shall not have jurisdiction to disapprove the dissolution or disincorporation of a special purpose district which is not providing services but shall have jurisdiction over the determination of a division of the assets and liabilities of a dissolved or disincorporated special purpose district.

Unless the board shall disapprove a proposal, it shall be presented under the appropriate statute for approval of a public body and, if required, a vote of the

If a proposal after modification does not contain enough signatures of persons within the modified area, as are required by law, then the initiating party, parties or governmental unit has thirty days after the modification decision to secure enough signatures to satisfy the legal requirement. If the signatures cannot be secured then the proposal may be submitted to a vote of the people, as required by law.

When the board, after due proceedings held, disapproves a proposed action, such proposed action shall be unavailable, the proposing agency shall be without power to initiate the same or substantially the same as determined by the board, and any succeeding acts intended to or tending to effectuate that action shall be void, but such action may be reinitiated after a period of twelve months from date of disapproval and shall again be subject to the same consideration.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. There is added to chapter 119, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and to chapter 35A.03 RCW a new section to read as follows:

After the effective date of this amendatory act, centerlines of public streets, roads or highways shall not be used to define any part of a boundary of a city or town in an incorporation or annexation proceeding. The right of way line of any public street, road or highway, or any segment thereof, may be used to define a part of a corporate boundary in an incorporation or annexation proceeding.

Sec. 12. Section 35A.03.070, chapter 119, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 35A.03.070 are each amended to read as follows:

Within five days after the final hearing on a petition for incorporation the board shall, subject to section 11 of this amendatory act, establish and define the boundaries of the proposed noncharter code city, being authorized to decrease, but not increase, the area proposed in the petition when it appears to the board that a change in the boundaries set by the petition would be in the best interests of all the inhabitants of the proposed area, based on the considerations set forth in RCW 35A.03.060. Any such decrease shall not exceed twenty percent of the area proposed. The board must also determine the number of inhabitants within the boundaries so established: PROVIDED, That the area shall not be so decreased that the number of inhabitants therein shall be less than required by RCW 35A.03.010 as now or hereafter amended.

Sec. 13. Section 35A.04.070, chapter 119, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 35A.04.070 are each amended to read as follows:

If upon final hearing the respective boards find that any land within their respective counties has been unjustly or improperly included within or excluded from the proposed corporation, based on the considerations stated in RCW 35A.04.060, the respective boards may change and fix the boundary lines of the portion of the proposed corporation within their respective counties in such a manner as they deem reasonable and just and conducive to the public welfare and convenience: PROVIDED, That when any part of the area to be incorporated lies within five miles of any city having a population of fifteen thousand or more, the area shall not be so decreased that the number of inhabitants therein shall be less than five thousand. No land shall be so included within the boundaries described in the petition unless each board of county commissioners of that county in which the area sought to be included is located first obtains the written assent of a number of qualified voters resident within each area to be included in the proposed corporation equal in number to not less than twenty percent of the votes cast in that area at the last state election. Within five days after the final hearing each board of county commissioners shall, for the area within its respective county, by order establish and define the boundaries of the proposed corporation consistent with section 11 of this amendatory act, determine the number of inhabitants residing therein and affirm the name of the proposed corporation: PROVIDED, That for the action required after the final hearing, the boards may act jointly but in such case a majority of each board must vote favorably on such final action and the order shall be entered in the minutes of each board.

Sec. 14. Section 35A.14.015, chapter 119, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as amended by section 10, chapter 251, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 35A.14.015 are each amended to read as follows:

When the legislative body of a charter code city or noncharter code city shall determine that the best interests and general welfare of such city would be served by the annexation of unincorporated territory contiguous to such city, such legislative body may, by resolution, call for an election to be held to submit to the voters of such territory the proposal for annexation. The resolution shall, subject to section 11 of this amendatory act, describe the boundaries of the area to be annexed, state the number of voters residing therein as nearly as may be, and shall provide that said city will pay the cost of the annexation election. The resolution may require that there also be submitted to the electorate of the territory sought to be annexed a proposition that all property within the area annexed shall, upon annexation, be assessed and taxed at the same rate and on the same basis as the property of such annexing city is assessed and taxed to pay for any then outstanding indebtedness of the city to which said area is annexed, contracted prior to, or existing at, the date of annexation. Whenever such city has prepared and filed a proposed zoning regulation for the area to be annexed as provided for in RCW 35A.14.330 and 35A.14.340, the resolution initiating the election may also provide for the simultaneous adoption of the proposed zoning regulation upon approval of annexation by the electorate of the area to be annexed. A certified copy of the resolution shall be filed with the board of county commissioners of the county in which said territory is located. A certified copy of the resolution shall be filed with the boundary review board as provided for in chapter 189, Laws of 1967 [chapter 36.93 RCW] or the county annexation review board established by RCW 35A.14.200, unless such annexation proposal is within the provisions of RCW 35A.14.220.

Sec. 15. Section 35A.14.050, chapter 119, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as amended by section 7, chapter 251, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 35A.14.050 are each amended to read as follows:

After consideration of the proposed annexation as provided in RCW 35A.14.200, the county annexation review board, within thirty days after the final day of hearing, shall take one of the following actions:

- (1) Approval of the proposal as submitted.
- (2) Subject to section 11 of this 1975 amendatory act, modification of the proposal by adjusting boundaries to include or exclude territory; except that any such inclusion of territory shall not increase the total area of territory proposed for annexation by an amount exceeding the original proposal by more than five percent: PROVIDED, That the county annexation review board shall not adjust boundaries to include territory not included in the original proposal without first affording to residents and property owners of the area affected by such adjustment of boundaries an opportunity to be heard as to the proposal.

(3) Disapproval of the proposal.

The written decision of the county annexation review board shall be filed with the board of county commissioners and with the legislative body of the city concerned. If the annexation proposal is modified by the county annexation review board, such modification shall be fully set forth in the written decision. If the decision of the boundary review board or the county annexation review board is favorable to the annexation proposal, or the proposal as modified by the review board, the board of county commissioners, at its next regular meeting if to be held within thirty days after receipt of the decision of the boundary review board or the county annexation review board, or at a special meeting to be held within that period, shall set a date for submission of such annexation proposal, with any modifications made by the review board, to the voters of the territory proposed to be annexed. The question shall be submitted at a general election if one is to be held within ninety days, or at a special election called for that purpose not less than forty-five days nor more than ninety days after the filing of the decision of the review board with the board of county commissioners. If the boundary review board or the county annexation review board disapproves the annexation proposal, no further action shall be taken thereon, and no proposal for annexation of the same territory, or substantially the same as determined by the board, shall be initiated or considered for twelve months thereafter.

Sec. 16. Section 35A.14.140, chapter 119, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 35A.14.140 are each amended to read as follows:

Following the hearing, if the legislative body determines to effect the annexation, they shall do so by ordinance. Upon passage of the annexation ordinance a certified copy shall be filed with the board of county commissioners of the county in which the annexed property is located.

Payments to any dependent invalid child over the age of eighteen years shall continue in the amount previously paid on account of such child until he shall cease to be dependent. Payments to any child over the age of eighteen years permanently enrolled at a full time course in an accredited school shall continue in the amount previously paid on account of such child until he reaches an age over that provided for in the definition of "child" in this title or ceases to be permanently enrolled whichever occurs first. The department or self-insurer, as the case may be, must make claim for such repayment or recoupment within one year of the making of any such payment or it will be deemed any claim therefor has been waived. The director, pursuant to rules adopted in accordance with the procedures provided in the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.04 RCW, may exercise his discretion to waive, in whole or in part, the amount of any such timely claim where the recovery would be against equity and good conscience.

The director, pursuant to rules adopted in accordance with the procedures provided in the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.04 RCW, may exercise his discretion to waive, in whole or in part, the amount of any such payments where the recovery would be against equity and good conscience.

(3) Whenever any payment of benefits under this title has been induced by fraud the recipient thereof shall repay any such payment together with a penalty of fifty percent of the total of any such payments and the amount of such total sum may be recouped from any future payments due to the recipient on any claim with the state fund or self-insurer against whom the fraud was committed, as the case may be, and the amount of such penalty shall be placed in the supplemental pension fund. Such repayment or recoupment must be demanded or ordered within one year of the discovery of the fraud.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. Inequality in the educational opportunities afforded women and girls at all levels of the public schools in Washington state is a breach of Article XXXI, section 1, Amendment 61, of the Washington state Constitution, requiring equal treatment of all citizens regardless of sex. This violation of rights has had a deleterious effect on the individuals affected and on society. Recognizing the benefit to our state and nation of equal educational opportunities for all students, discrimination on the basis of sex for any student in grades K-12 of the Washington public schools is prohibited.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The superintendent of public instruction shall develop regulations and guidelines to eliminate sex discrimination as it applies to public school employment, counseling and guidance services to students, recreational and athletic activities for students, access to course offerings, and in textbooks and instructional materials used by students.

(1) Specifically with respect to public school employment, all schools shall be required to:

- (a) Maintain credential requirements for all personnel without regard to sex;
- (b) Make no differentiation in pay scale on the basis of sex;
- (c) Assign school duties without regard to sex except where such assignment would involve duty in areas or situations, such as but not limited to a shower room, where persons might be disrobed.
- (d) Provide the same opportunities for advancement to males and females; and
- (e) Make no difference in conditions of employment including, but not limited to, hiring practices, leaves of absence, hours of employment, and assignment of, or pay for, instructional and noninstructional duties, on the basis of sex.

(2) Specifically with respect to counseling and guidance services for students, they shall be made available to all students equally. All certificated personnel shall be required to stress access to all career and vocational opportunities to students without regard to sex.

(3) Specifically with respect to recreational and athletic activities, they shall be offered to all students without regard to sex. Schools may provide separate teams for each sex. Schools which provide the following shall do so with no disparities based on sex: Equipment and supplies; medical care; services and insurance; transportation and per diem allowances; opportunities to receive coaching and instruction; laundry services; assignment of game officials; opportunities for competition, publicity and awards; scheduling of games and practice times including use of courts, gyms, and pools; PROVIDED, That such scheduling of games and practice times shall be determined by local administrative authorities after consideration of the public and student interest in attending and participating in various recreational and athletic activities. Each school which provides showers, toilets, or training room facilities for athletic purposes shall provide comparable facilities for both sexes. Such facilities may be provided either as separate facilities or shall be scheduled and used separately by each sex.

The superintendent of public instruction shall also be required to develop a student survey to distribute every three years to each local school district in the state to determine student interest for male/female participation in specific sports.

(4) Specifically with respect to course offerings, all classes shall be required to be available to all students without regard to sex: PROVIDED, That separation is permitted within any class during sessions on sex education or gym classes.

(5) Specifically with respect to textbooks and instructional materials, which shall also include, but not be limited to, reference books and audio-visual materials, they shall be required to adhere to the guidelines developed by the superintendent of public instruction to implement the intent of this chapter: PROVIDED, That this subsection shall not be construed to prohibit the introduction of material deemed appropriate by the instructor for educational purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall be required to monitor the compliance by local school districts with this chapter, shall establish a compliance timetable and regulations for enforcement of this chapter, and shall establish guidelines for affirmative action programs to be adopted by all school districts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Any person aggrieved by a violation of this chapter, or aggrieved by the violation of any regulation or guideline adopted hereunder, shall have a right of action in superior court for civil damages and such equitable relief as the court shall determine.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The superintendent of public instruction shall have the power to enforce and obtain compliance with the provisions of this chapter and the regulations and guidelines adopted pursuant thereto by appropriate order made pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, which order, by way of illustration, may include, the termination of all or part of state apportionment or categorical moneys to the offending school district, the termination of specified programs in which violations may be flagrant within the offending school district, the institution of a mandatory affirmative action program within the offending school district, and the placement of the offending school district on probation with appropriate sanctions until compliance is achieved.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. This chapter shall be supplementary to, and shall not supersede, existing law and procedures and future amendments thereto relating to unlawful discrimination based on sex.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 1 through 6 of this act are added to chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and to Title 28A RCW as a new chapter thereof.

On or before the fifteenth day of June of each year an "average annual wage", an "average weekly wage", a "qualifying annual wage", ~~((and))~~ a "qualifying weekly wage", and an "average annual wage for contributions purposes" shall be computed from information for the preceding calendar year including corrections thereof reported within three months after the close of that year by all employers as defined in RCW 50.04.080 (~~on employers' contribution reports (including corrections thereof) filed within three months after the close of that year~~). The "average annual wage" is the quotient derived by dividing total remuneration reported by all employers by the average number of workers reported for all months and if the result is not a multiple of one dollar, ((and)) rounding the result to the next lower multiple of one dollar. The "average annual wage" thus obtained shall be divided by fifty-two and if the result is not a multiple of one dollar, rounding the result to the next lower multiple of one dollar to determine the "average weekly wage". The "qualifying annual wage" shall be computed by multiplying the "average annual wage" by fifteen percent and if the result is not a multiple of fifty dollars, rounding the result to the next lower multiple of fifty dollars. The "qualifying weekly wage" shall be computed by multiplying the "average weekly wage" by fifteen percent and if the result is not a multiple of one dollar, rounding the result to the next lower multiple of one dollar. The "average annual wage" for contribution purposes is the quotient derived by dividing total remuneration reported by all employers subject to contributions by the average number of workers reported for all months by these same employers and if the result is not a multiple of one dollar, rounding the result to the next lower multiple of one dollar.

Sec. 2. Section 46, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 and RCW 50.12.070 are each amended to read as follows:

Each employing unit shall keep true and accurate work records, containing such information as the commissioner may prescribe. Such records shall be open to inspection and be subject to being copied by the commissioner or his authorized representatives at any reasonable time and as often as may be necessary. The commissioner may require from any employing unit any sworn or unsworn reports with respect to persons employed by it, which he deems necessary for the effective administration of this title. Each employer shall make periodic reports at such intervals as the commissioner may by regulation prescribe, setting forth the remuneration paid for employment to workers in its employ, the names of all such workers, the number of weeks for which the worker earned the "qualifying weekly wage" and such other information as the commissioner may by regulation prescribe.

In the event the employing unit fails or has failed to report the number of weeks in a reporting period for which a worker earned the "qualifying weekly wage" such number will be computed by the commissioner and given the same force and effect as if it had been reported by the employing unit. In computing the number of such weeks the total wages for the reporting period, as reported by the employing unit, shall be divided by the dollar amount of the "qualifying weekly wage" in effect for such reporting period and the quotient, disregarding any remainder, shall be credited to the worker: PROVIDED, That the total number of weeks credited to the worker for any quarterly period shall not exceed thirteen weeks: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the computation so made will not be subject to appeal by the employing unit.

Sec. 3. Section 87, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as last amended by section 7, chapter 158, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 50.20.190 are each amended to read as follows:

An individual who is paid any amount as benefits under this title to which he or she is not entitled shall, unless otherwise relieved pursuant to this section, be liable for repayment of the amount overpaid. The department shall issue an overpayment assessment setting forth the reasons for and the amount of the overpayment. The amount assessed, to the extent not collected, ~~((shall))~~ may be deducted from any future benefits payable to the individual: PROVIDED, That in the absence of fraud, misrepresentation, or wilful nondisclosure, every determination of liability shall be mailed or personally served not later than two years after the close of the individual's benefit year in which the purported overpayment was made unless the merits of the claim are subjected to administrative or judicial review in which event the period for serving the determination of liability shall be extended to allow service of the determination of liability during the six-month period following the final decision affecting the claim.

The commissioner may waive an overpayment if he finds that said overpayment was not the result of fraud, misrepresentation, wilful nondisclosure, or fault attributable to the individual and that the recovery thereof would be against equity and good conscience: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the overpayment so waived shall be charged against the individual's applicable entitlement for the eligibility period containing the weeks to which the overpayment was attributed as though such benefits had been properly paid.

Any assessment herein provided shall constitute a determination of liability from which an appeal may be had in the same manner and to the same extent as provided for appeals relating to determinations in respect to claims for benefits: PROVIDED, That an appeal from any determination covering overpayment only, shall be deemed to be an appeal from the determination which was the basis for establishing the overpayment unless the merits involved in the issue set forth in such determination have already been heard and passed upon by the appeal tribunal. If no such appeal is taken to the appeal tribunal by the individual within ten days of the delivery of the notice of determination of liability, or within ten days of the mailing of the notice of determination, whichever is the earlier, said determination of liability shall be deemed conclusive and final, and the court shall, upon application of the commissioner, enter a judgment in the amount provided by the notice of determination, which judgment shall have and be given the same effect as if entered pursuant to civil action.

On request of any agency which administers an employment security law of another state, the United States or a foreign government and which has found in accordance with the provisions of such law that a claimant is liable to repay benefits received under such law by reason of having knowingly made a false statement or misrepresentation of a material fact with respect to a claim taken in this state as an agent for such agency, the commissioner may collect the amount of such benefits from such claimant to be refunded to such agency. In any case in which under this section a claimant is liable to repay any amount to the agency of another state, the United States or a foreign government, such amounts may be collected without interest by civil action in the name of the commissioner acting as agent for such agency if the other state, the United States or the foreign government extends such collection rights to the employment security department of the state of Washington, and provided that the court costs be paid by the governmental agency benefiting from such collection.

Sec. 4. Section 1, chapter 200, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 50.32.025 are each amended to read as follows:

The appeal or petition from a determination, redetermination, order and notice of assessment, appeals decision, or commissioner's decision (~~(if such document be mailed, shall be deemed filed with the addressee on the postmarked date if said document is properly addressed and has sufficient postage affixed thereto)~~) which is (1) transmitted through the United States mail, shall be deemed filed and received by the addressee on the date shown by the United States postal service cancellation mark stamped by the United States postal service employees upon the envelope or other appropriate wrapper containing it or, (2) mailed but not received by the addressee, or where received and the United States postal service cancellation mark is illegible, erroneous or omitted, shall be deemed filed and received on the date it was mailed, if the sender establishes by competent evidence that the appeal or petition was deposited in the United States mail on or before the date due for filing; PROVIDED, That in the case of a metered cancellation mark by the sender and a United States postal service cancellation mark on the same envelope or other wrapper, the latter shall control; PROVIDED, FURTHER, That in any of the above circumstances, the appeal or petition must be properly addressed and have sufficient postage affixed thereto.

Sec. 5. Section 123, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as amended by section 31, chapter 215, Laws of 1947 and RCW 50.32.070 are each amended to read as follows:

Within ten days from the date of notification or mailing, whichever is the earlier, of any decision of an appeal tribunal, the commissioner on his own order may, or upon petition of any interested party shall, take jurisdiction of the proceedings for the purpose of review thereof. Appeal from any decision of an appeal tribunal may be perfected so as to prevent finality of such decision if, within ten days from the date of mailing the appeal tribunal decision, or notification thereof, whichever is the earlier, a petition in writing for review by the commissioner is received by the commissioner or by such representative of the commissioner as the commissioner by regulation shall prescribe. The commissioner may also prevent finality of any decision of an appeal tribunal and take jurisdiction of the proceedings for his review thereof by entering an order so providing on his own motion and mailing a copy thereof to the interested parties within the same period allowed herein for receipt of a petition for review. The time limit provided herein (~~(for seeking review by the commissioner and)~~) for the commissioner's assumption of jurisdiction on his own motion for review shall be deemed to be jurisdictional.

Sec. 6. Section 11, chapter 2, Laws of 1970 ex. sess. and RCW 50.29.020 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An experience rating account shall be established and maintained for each employer based on existing records of the employment security department and shall be effective beginning with July 1, 1967. Benefits paid to any eligible individuals for benefit years beginning subsequent to June 30, 1967, shall be charged to the experience rating accounts of each of his employers during his base year in the same ratio that the wages paid by each employer to the individual during the base year bear to the wages paid by all employers to that individual during that base year (~~(except that)~~).

(2) The legislature finds that certain benefit payments should not be charged to the experience rating accounts of employers whose employees are not covered under chapter 50.44 RCW, as follows:

(a) Benefits paid to any individuals later determined to be ineligible shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(b) Benefits paid to an individual under the provisions of RCW 50.12.050 shall not be charged to the account of any contribution paying employer if the wage credits earned in this state by the individual during his base year are less than the minimum amount necessary to qualify the individual for unemployment benefits.

(c) Benefits paid to an individual filing under the provisions of chapter 50.06 RCW shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. This chapter is enacted for the purpose of providing the protection of the unemployment compensation system to workers who have suffered a temporary total disability compensable under industrial insurance and is a recognition by this legislature of the economic hardship confronting those workers who have not been promptly reemployed after a prolonged period of temporary total disability.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Only individuals who have suffered a temporary total disability and have received compensation under the industrial insurance laws of this state, any other state or the United States for a period of not less than thirteen consecutive calendar weeks by reason of such temporary total disability shall be allowed the benefits of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. An application for initial determination made pursuant to this chapter, to be considered timely, must be filed in writing with the employment security department within twenty-six weeks following the week in which the period of temporary total disability commenced. Notice from the department of labor and industries shall satisfy this requirement. The records of the agency supervising the award of compensation shall be conclusive evidence of the fact of temporary disability and the beginning date of such disability. The employment security department shall process and issue an initial determination of entitlement or nonentitlement as the case may be.

For the purpose of this chapter, a special base year is established for an individual consisting of the first four of the last five completed calendar quarters immediately prior to the first day of the calendar week in which the individual's temporary total disability commenced, and a special individual benefit year is established consisting of the entire period of disability and a fifty-two consecutive week period commencing with the first day of the calendar week immediately following the week or part thereof with respect to which the individual received his final temporary total disability compensation under the applicable industrial insurance laws except that no special benefit year shall have a duration in excess of three hundred twelve calendar weeks: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That such special benefit year will not be established unless the criteria contained in RCW 50.04.030 has been met, except that an individual meeting the disability and filing requirements of this chapter and who has an unexpired benefit year established which would overlap the special benefit year provided by this chapter, notwithstanding the provisions in RCW 50.04.030 relating to the establishment of a subsequent benefit year and RCW 50.40.010 relating to waiver of rights, may elect to establish a special benefit year under this chapter: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the unexpired benefit year shall be terminated with the beginning of the special benefit year if the individual elects to establish such special benefit year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The individual's weekly benefit amount and maximum amount payable during the special benefit year shall be governed by the provision contained in RCW 50.20.120. The individual's basic and continuing right to benefits shall be governed by the general laws and regulations relating to the payment of unemployment compensation benefits to the extent that they are not in conflict with the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The fact that wages, hours or weeks worked during the special base year may have been used in the computation of a prior valid claim for unemployment compensation shall not affect a claim for benefits made pursuant to the provisions of this chapter; however, wages, hours and weeks worked used in computing entitlement on a claim filed pursuant to this chapter shall not be available or used for establishing entitlement or amount of benefits in any succeeding benefit year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. This chapter shall be available only to individuals who suffer a temporary total disability, compensable by an industrial insurance program, after the effective date of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Should any part of this chapter be declared unconstitutional by the final decision of any court or declared out of conformity by the United States secretary of labor, the commissioner shall immediately discontinue the payment of benefits based on this chapter, declare it inoperative and report that fact to the governor and the legislature.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Sections 7 through 13 of this 1975 act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 50 RCW and shall be codified as chapter 50.06 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. There is added to chapter 35, Laws of 1945 and to chapter 50.24 RCW, a new section to be codified as RCW 50.24.115 to read as follows:

Whenever any order and notice of assessment or jeopardy assessment shall have become final in accordance with the provisions of this title the commissioner may file with the clerk of any county within the state a warrant in the amount of the notice of assessment plus interest and a filing fee of five dollars. The clerk of the county wherein the warrant is filed shall immediately designate a superior court cause number for such warrant, and the clerk shall cause to be entered in the judgment docket under the superior court cause number assigned to the warrant, the name of the employer mentioned in the warrant, the amount of the tax, interest and filing fee and the date when such warrant was filed. The aggregate amount of such warrant as docketed shall become a lien upon the title to, and interest in all real and personal property of the employer against whom the warrant is issued, the same as a judgment in a civil case duly docketed in the office of such clerk. Such warrant so docketed shall be sufficient to support the issuance of writs of execution and writs of garnishment in favor of the state in the manner provided by law in the case of civil judgment, wholly or partially unsatisfied. The clerk of the court shall be entitled to a filing fee of five dollars, which shall be added to the amount of the warrant, and charged by the commissioner to the employer or employing unit. A copy of the warrant shall be mailed to the employer or employing unit by certified mail to his last known address within five days of filing with the clerk.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. There is added to chapter 35, Laws of 1945, and to chapter 50.32 RCW a new section to be codified as RCW 50.32.075 to read as follows:

WAIVER OF TIME FOR APPEAL OR PETITION. For good cause shown the appeal tribunal or the commissioner may waive the time limitations for administrative appeals or petitions set forth in the provisions of this title.

Sec. 17. Section 22, chapter 3, Laws of 1971, as amended by section 10, chapter 73, Laws of 1973, and RCW 50.44.050, is amended to read as follows:

Benefits based on services in employment covered by or pursuant to this chapter shall be payable on the same terms and subject to the same conditions as compensation payable on the basis of other service subject to this title: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That benefits based on service in an instructional, research or principal administrative capacity in an institution of higher education shall not be paid to an individual for any week of unemployment which begins during the period between two successive academic years, or during a similar period between two regular terms, whether or not successive, or during a period of paid sabbatical leave provided for in the individual's contract, if the individual has a contract or contracts to perform services in any such capacity for an institution or institutions of higher education for both such academic years or both such terms; or during any non-work period occurring during a term that does not diminish the individual's salary for the term: PROVIDED FURTHER, That benefits based on service in an instructional, research, or principal administrative capacity in an educational institution other than an institution of higher education shall not be paid to an individual for any week of unemployment which begins during the period between two successive academic years, or during a similar period between two regular terms, whether or not successive, or during a period of paid sabbatical leave provided for in the individual's contract, if the individual has a contract or contracts to perform services in any such capacity in an educational institution or institutions other than an institution of higher education for both such academic years or both such terms; or during any non-work period occurring during a term that does not diminish the individual's salary for the term: PROVIDED FURTHER, That any employee of a common school district who is conclusively presumed to have been reemployed pursuant to RCW 28A.67.070 shall be deemed to have a contract for the ensuing term.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. Section 3, chapter 286, Laws of 1955, section 20, chapter 2, Laws of 1970 ex. sess., section 2, chapter 167, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 50.20.030 are each repealed.

INDUSTRIAL INSURANCE—TEMPORARY TOTAL DISABILITY—AVAILABLE WORK

AN ACT Relating to industrial insurance; and amending section 51.32.090, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 22, chapter 43, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 51.32.090.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 51.32.090, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 22, chapter 43, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 51.32.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When the total disability is only temporary, the schedule of payments contained in subdivisions (1) through (13) of RCW 51.32.060 as amended shall apply, so long as the total disability continues.

(2) Any compensation payable under this section for children not in the custody of the injured workman as of the date of injury shall be payable only to such person as actually is providing the support for such child or children pursuant to the order of a court of record providing for support of such child or children.

(3) As soon as recovery is so complete that the present earning power of the workman, at any kind of work, is restored to that existing at the time of the occurrence of the injury, the payments shall cease. If and so long as the present earning power is only partially restored, the payments shall continue in the proportion which the new earning power shall bear to the old. No compensation shall be payable unless the loss of earning power shall exceed five percent.

(4) Whenever an employer requests that a workman who is entitled to temporary total disability under this chapter be certified by a physician as able to perform available work other than his usual work, the employer shall furnish to the physician, with a copy to the workman, a statement describing the available work in terms that will enable the physician to relate the physical activities of the job to the workman's disability. The physician shall then determine whether the workman is physically able to perform the work described. If the workman is released by his physician for said work, and the work thereafter comes to an end before the workman's recovery is sufficient in the judgment of his physician to permit him to return to his usual job, or to perform other available work, the workman's temporary total disability payments shall be resumed. Should the available work described, once undertaken by the workman, impede his recovery to the extent that in the judgment of his physician he should not continue to work, the workman's temporary total disability payments shall be resumed when the workman ceases such work.

Once the workman returns to work under the terms of this subsection, he shall not be assigned by the employer to work other than the available work described without the workman's written consent, or without prior review and approval by the workman's physician.

In the event of any dispute as to the workman's ability to perform the available work offered by the employer, the department shall make the final determination.

(5) No workman shall receive compensation for or during the day on which injury was received or the three days following the same, unless his disability shall continue for a period of fourteen consecutive calendar days from date of injury.

(6) Should a workman suffer a temporary total disability and should his employer at the time of the injury continue to pay him the wages which he was earning at the time of such injury, such injured workman shall not receive any payment provided in subsection (1) of this section during the period his employer shall so pay such wages.

(7) In no event shall the monthly payments provided in this section exceed seventy-five percent of the average monthly wage in the state as computed under the provisions of RCW 51.08.018.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature has approved by its appropriation of funds from time to time, capital projects for the state community colleges, which appropriations have been funded primarily by the issuance of general tuition fee, limited obligation bonds by the state board for community college education (hereinafter in this act called the "college board"). In order that any future appropriations for such approved capital projects may be funded on terms most advantageous to the state, it is hereby determined to be in the public interest to provide for the issuance of state general obligation bonds, in lieu of general tuition fee, limited obligation bonds.

For purposes of this act, "community college capital projects" means the construction, reconstruction, erection, equipping, maintenance, demolition and major alteration of buildings and other capital assets owned by the state board for community college education in the name of the state of Washington, and the acquisition of sites, rights-of-way, easements, improvements or appurtenances in relation thereto. It is the intent of the legislature that in any decision to contract for capital projects funded as the result of this act, full and fair consideration shall be given to minority contractors.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. For the purpose of financing the community college capital projects as determined by the legislature in its capital appropriations act, Chapter..., Laws of 1975 (ESHB 206), the state finance committee is hereby authorized to issue from time to time general obligation bonds of the state of Washington in the aggregate principal amount of fourteen million seven hundred seventy-six thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be required for such purposes, to be paid and discharged within thirty years of the date or dates of issuance, in accordance with Article VIII, section 1 of the Constitution of the state of Washington.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. When the state finance committee has determined to issue such general obligation bonds, or a portion thereof, it may, pending the issuance thereof, issue in the name of the state temporary notes in anticipation of the issuance of such bonds, which notes shall be designated as "bond anticipation notes". Such portion of the proceeds of the sale of such bonds as may be required for the payment of principal and redemption premium, if any, of and interest on such notes shall be applied thereto when such bonds are issued.

The state finance committee is authorized to prescribe the form, terms, conditions and covenants of the bonds and/or the bond anticipation notes, the time or times of sale of all or any portion of them, and the conditions and manner of their sale and issuance.

Each such bond and bond anticipation note shall pledge the full faith and credit of the state of Washington and shall contain an unconditional promise to pay the principal thereof and the interest thereon when due.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Except for that portion of the proceeds required to pay bond anticipation notes pursuant to section 3 of this act, the proceeds from the sale of the bonds and/or bond anticipation notes authorized in this act, together with all grants, donations, transferred funds, and all other moneys which the state finance committee or the college board may direct the state treasurer to deposit therein, shall be deposited in the 1975 community college capital construction account in the state general fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Subject to legislative appropriation, all proceeds of the bonds authorized in this act shall be administered by the college board exclusively for the purposes specified in this act and for the payment of the expenses incurred in connection with the sale and issuance of such bonds and bond anticipation notes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The 1975 community college capital construction bond retirement fund in the state treasury shall be used for the purpose of the payment of principal of and interest on the bonds authorized to be issued pursuant to this act.

The state finance committee, on or before June 30th of each year, shall certify to the state treasurer the amount required in the next succeeding twelve months for the payment of the principal of and interest coming due on such bonds. On July 1st of each such year the state treasurer shall withdraw from any general state revenues received in the state treasury and deposit in the 1975 community college capital construction bond retirement fund, an amount equal to the amount certified by the state finance committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. On or before June 30th of each year, the college board shall accumulate in the community college capital projects account from general tuition fees and other moneys deposited therein, an amount at least equal to the amount required in the next succeeding twelve months for the payment of principal of and interest on the bonds issued pursuant to this act. On July 1st of each such year, the state treasurer shall withdraw said sum from the community college capital projects account and deposit said sum in the state general fund: PROVIDED, That withdrawal of general tuition fees from the community college capital projects account for deposit into the general fund pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be made only after provision has first been made for the payment in full of the principal of and interest on all outstanding general tuition fee, limited obligation bonds of the college board coming due in the twelve months next succeeding July 1st of each such year, and for any reserve account deposits necessary for such outstanding bonds in the same period.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The bonds authorized in this act shall constitute a legal investment for all state funds or for funds under state control and all funds of municipal corporations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The bonds authorized in this act shall be issued only after the college board has certified to the state finance committee that its projected general tuition fee revenue shall be adequate, based upon reasonable projections of student enrollments, for the college board to meet the requirements of section 7 of this act, during the life of the bonds proposed to be issued.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Sections 1 through 9 of this act are added to Title 28B RCW as a new chapter thereof.

[Substitute House Bill No. 1174]

EMPLOYMENT OF CHILD BERRY PICKERS

AN ACT Relating to agriculture; adding new sections to chapter 15.04 RCW; and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 15.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The legislature finds that the crops of berry growers in the state are imperiled by a recent change in the federal law relating to youthful agricultural workers. Since the berry harvest season is so short that few migrant agricultural workers find the trip to this state to pick berries worth the trouble, the long-established use of younger pickers must be permitted to the extent where such employment will not interfere with interstate commerce and the federal law. Further, the legislature finds that such employment is healthful, a good indoctrination for youth in the work ethic and the role of agriculture in society, and an opportunity youths welcome to earn extra spending money.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 15.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) An employee engaged to pick berries in this state outside of school hours for the school district where such employee is living while so employed may be less than twelve years of age: PROVIDED, That (a) the employee is employed with the consent of his parent or person standing in the place of his parent, (b) the berries are for sale within the state only, and are not to be shipped out of the state in any form; (c) the secretary of agriculture or his designated representative has certified that there are not sufficient workers available in the immediate area to harvest the crop without such youthful employees, and (d) all employees of any employer engaging youthful employees are paid at the same rate for picking berries.

(2) Each basket, package, or other container containing berries or berry products picked by an employee under twelve years of age shall be distinctively marked so as to insure that the berries do not enter interstate commerce: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That nothing in this act shall apply to employers who are exempt from the federal fair labor standards act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

[Substitute House Bill No. 1178]

STATE GOVERNMENT—CENTRAL PERSONNEL—PAYROLL SYSTEM

AN ACT Relating to state government; providing for a central personnel-payroll system; adding a new chapter to Title 41 RCW; and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. (1) As used in this chapter "state agency" means all offices, departments, agencies, institutions, boards, and commissions of state government including those headed by an elected official and including institutions of higher education.

(2) As used in this chapter "central personnel-payroll system" means an automated data processing system capable of keeping records and processing necessary transactions in the process of employing persons, changing their employment status, and paying employees of any or all state agencies. Such system shall include production of reports and documents required or authorized by state or federal agencies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The department of personnel is authorized to administer, maintain, and operate the central personnel-payroll system and to provide its services for any state agency designated jointly by the director of the department of personnel and the director of the office of program planning and fiscal management.

The system shall be operated through state data processing centers. State agencies shall convert personnel and payroll processing to the central personnel-payroll system as soon as administratively and technically feasible as determined by the office of program planning and fiscal management and the department of personnel. It is the intent of the legislature to provide, through the central personnel-payroll system, for uniform reporting to the office of program planning and fiscal management and to the legislature regarding salaries and related costs, and to reduce present costs of manual procedures in personnel and payroll record keeping and reporting.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The costs of administering, maintaining, and operating the central personnel-payroll system shall be distributed to the using state agencies. In order to insure proper and equitable distribution of costs the department of personnel shall utilize cost accounting procedures to identify all costs incurred in the administration, maintenance, and operation of the central personnel-payroll system. In order to facilitate proper and equitable distribution of costs to the using state agencies the department of personnel is authorized to utilize the data processing revolving fund created by RCW 43.105.080 and the department of personnel service fund created by RCW 41.06.280.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. On October 1, 1975, or at such earlier time as may be mutually agreed upon by the director of general administration and the director of personnel, the staff of the data processing service center engaged in payroll data control and payroll data entry along with such records, files, data, materials, equipment, supplies, and other assets as are directly associated with their function shall be transferred to the department of personnel.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Sections 1 through 4 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 41 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect July 1, 1975.

UNIFORM FOREIGN MONEY-JUDGMENTS RECOGNITION ACT

AN ACT Relating to the recognition of foreign money-judgments; enacting the Uniform Foreign Money-Judgments Recognition Act; and creating a new chapter in Title 6 RCW.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. DEFINITIONS. As used in this act:

(1) "Foreign state" means any governmental unit other than the United States, or any state, district, commonwealth, territory, or insular possession thereof, or the Panama Canal Zone, the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands, or the Ryukyu Islands;

(2) "Foreign judgment" means any judgment of a foreign state granting or denying recovery of a sum of money, other than a judgment for taxes, a fine or other penalty, or a judgment for support in matrimonial or family matters.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. APPLICABILITY. This act applies to any foreign judgment that is final and conclusive and enforceable where rendered even though an appeal therefrom is pending or it is subject to appeal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. RECOGNITION AND ENFORCEMENT. Except as provided in section 4 of this act, a foreign judgment meeting the requirements of section 2 of this act is conclusive between the parties to the extent that it grants or denies recovery of a sum of money. The foreign judgment is enforceable in the same manner as the judgment of a sister state which is entitled to full faith and credit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. GROUNDS FOR NON-RECOGNITION. (1) A foreign judgment is not conclusive if

(a) the judgment was rendered under a system which does not provide impartial tribunals or procedures compatible with the requirements of due process of law;

(b) the foreign court did not have personal jurisdiction over the defendant; or

(c) the foreign court did not have jurisdiction over the subject matter.

(2) A foreign judgment need not be recognized if

(a) The defendant in the proceedings in the foreign court did not receive notice of the proceedings in sufficient time to enable him to defend;

(b) the judgment was obtained by fraud;

(c) the claim for relief on which the judgment is based is repugnant to the public policy of this state;

(d) the judgment conflicts with another final and conclusive judgment;

(e) the proceeding in the foreign court was contrary to an agreement between the parties under which the dispute in question was to be settled otherwise than by proceedings in that court; or

(f) in the case of jurisdiction based only on personal service, the foreign court was a seriously inconvenient forum for the trial of the action.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. PERSONAL JURISDICTION. (1) The foreign judgment shall not be refused recognition for lack of personal jurisdiction if

(a) the defendant was served personally in the foreign state;

(b) the defendant voluntarily appeared in the proceedings, other than for the purpose of protecting property seized or threatened with seizure in the proceedings or of contesting the jurisdiction of the court over him;

(c) the defendant prior to the commencement of the proceedings had agreed to submit to the jurisdiction of the foreign court with respect to the subject matter involved;

(d) the defendant was domiciled in the foreign state when the proceedings were instituted, or, being a body corporate had its principal place of business, was incorporated, or had otherwise acquired corporate status, in the foreign state;

(e) the defendant had a business office in the foreign state and the proceedings in the foreign court involved a claim for relief arising out of business done by the defendant through that office in the foreign state; or

(f) the defendant operated a motor vehicle or airplane in the foreign state and the proceedings involved a claim for relief arising out of such operation.

(2) The courts of this state may recognize other bases of jurisdiction.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. STAY IN CASE OF APPEAL. If the defendant satisfies the court either that an appeal is pending or that he is entitled and intends to appeal from the foreign judgment, the court may stay the proceedings until the appeal has been determined or until the expiration of a period of time sufficient to enable the defendant to prosecute the appeal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. SAVING CLAUSE. This act does not prevent the recognition of a foreign judgment in situations not covered by this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. UNIFORMITY OF INTERPRETATION. This act shall be so construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. SHORT TITLE. This act may be cited as the Uniform Foreign Money—Judgments Recognition Act.

The petition shall also contain a case history of the person supporting the allegations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. - (4) Whether effective treatment for the person's problem is available.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The facility or center shall make a written report to the court stating its findings and recommendations after the investigation and examination required by section 4 of this act. If its findings and recommendations support treatment, it shall also recommend a treatment plan setting out:

- (3) Length;
- (4) A treatment time schedule; and
- (5) Approximate cost of the treatment.

The report with the treatment plan shall be filed with the court and a copy given to the defendant and defendant's counsel.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. When treatment is either not recommended or not approved by the judge, or the defendant declines to accept the treatment plan, the defendant shall be arraigned on the charge.

At the hearing, evidence shall be taken of the defendant's alleged failure to comply with the treatment plan and the defendant shall have the right to present evidence on his or her own behalf. The court shall either order that the defendant continue on the treatment plan or be removed from deferred prosecution. If removed from deferred prosecution, the defendant's docket shall be returned to the regular court files and the defendant shall be arraigned on the original charge.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. If a defendant is convicted in any court of an offense similar and committed subsequent to the one for which the defendant is in a deferred prosecution program, the court in which the defendant is under deferred

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 1, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 155, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.010 are each amended to read as follows:

It is hereby declared to be the policy of the legislature, recognizing the close relationship between professional gambling and organized crime, to restrain all persons from seeking profit from professional gambling activities in this state; to restrain all persons from patronizing such professional gambling activities; to safeguard the public against the evils induced by common gamblers and common gambling houses engaged in professional gambling; and at the same time, both to preserve the freedom of the press and to avoid restricting participation by individuals in activities and social pastimes, which activities and social pastimes are more for amusement rather than for profit, do not maliciously affect the public, and do not breach the peace.

The legislature further declares that the raising of funds for the promotion of bona fide charitable or nonprofit organizations is in the public interest as is participation in such activities and social pastimes as are hereinafter in this chapter authorized.

The legislature further declares that the conducting of bingo, raffles, and amusement games and the operation of punch boards, pull-tabs, card games and other social pastimes, when conducted pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto, are hereby authorized, as are only such lotteries for which no valuable consideration has been paid or agreed to be paid as hereinafter in this chapter provided.

The legislature further declares that fishing derbys shall not constitute any form of gambling and shall not be considered as a lottery, a raffle, or an amusement game and shall not be subject to the provisions of this chapter or any rules and regulations adopted hereunder.

All factors incident to the activities authorized in this chapter shall be closely controlled, and the provisions of this chapter shall be liberally construed to achieve such end.

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 2, chapter 155, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.020 are each amended to read as follows:

The fact that contributions to an organization do not qualify for charitable contribution deduction purposes or that the organization is not otherwise exempt from payment of federal income taxes pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, shall constitute prima facie evidence that the organization is not a bona fide charitable or nonprofit organization for the purposes of this section.

A natural person who gambles at a social game of chance on equal terms with the other participants therein does not otherwise render material assistance to the establishment, conduct or operation thereof by performing, without fee or remuneration, acts directed toward the arrangement or facilitation of the game, such as inviting persons to play, permitting the use of premises therefor, and supplying cards or other equipment used therein. A person who engages in "bookmaking" as defined in this section is not a "player".

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.08.010. GENERAL REQUIREMENTS OF CULPABILITY. (1) Kinds of Culpability Defined.

(a) Intent. A person acts with intent or intentionally when he acts with the objective or purpose to accomplish a result which constitutes a crime.

(b) Knowledge. A person knows or acts knowingly or with knowledge when:

(i) he is aware of a fact, facts, or circumstances or result described by a statute defining an offense; or

(ii) he has information which would lead a reasonable man in the same situation to believe that facts exist which facts are described by a statute defining an offense.

(c) Recklessness. A person is reckless or acts recklessly when he knows of and disregards a substantial risk that a wrongful act may occur and his disregard of such substantial risk is a gross deviation from conduct that a reasonable man would exercise in the same situation.

(d) Criminal Negligence. A person is criminally negligent or acts with criminal negligence when he fails to be aware of a substantial risk that a wrongful act may occur and his failure to be aware of such substantial risk constitutes a gross deviation from the standard of care that a reasonable man would exercise in the same situation.

(2) Substitutes for Criminal Negligence, Recklessness, and Knowledge. When a statute provides that criminal negligence suffices to establish an element of an offense, such element also is established if a person acts intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly. When recklessness suffices to establish an element, such element also is established if a person acts intentionally or knowingly. When acting knowingly suffices to establish an element, such element also is established if a person acts intentionally.

(3) Culpability as Determinant of Grade of Offense. When the grade or degree of an offense depends on whether the offense is committed intentionally, knowingly, recklessly, or with criminal negligence, its grade or degree shall be the lowest for which the determinative kind of culpability is established with respect to any material element of the offense.

(4) Requirement of Wilfulness Satisfied by Acting Knowingly. A requirement that an offense be committed wilfully is satisfied if a person acts knowingly with respect to the material elements of the offense, unless a purpose to impose further requirements plainly appears.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.08.020. LIABILITY FOR CONDUCT OF ANOTHER—COMPLICITY. (1) A person is guilty of a crime if it is committed by the conduct of another person for which he is legally accountable.

(2) A person is legally accountable for the conduct of another person when:

(a) Acting with the kind of culpability that is sufficient for the commission of the crime, he causes an innocent or irresponsible person to engage in such conduct; or

(b) He is made accountable for the conduct of such other person by this title or by the law defining the crime; or

(c) He is an accomplice of such other person in the commission of the crime.

(3) A person is an accomplice of another person in the commission of a crime if:

(a) With knowledge that it will promote or facilitate the commission of the crime, he

(i) solicits, commands, encourages, or requests such other person to commit it; or

(ii) aids or agrees to aid such other person in planning or committing it; or

(b) His conduct is expressly declared by law to establish his complicity.

(4) A person who is legally incapable of committing a particular crime himself may be guilty thereof if it is committed by the conduct of another person for which he is legally accountable, unless such liability is inconsistent with the purpose of the provision establishing his incapacity.

(5) Unless otherwise provided by this title or by the law defining the crime, a person is not an accomplice in a crime committed by another person if:

(a) He is a victim of that crime; or

(b) He terminates his complicity prior to the commission of the crime and gives timely warning to the law enforcement authorities or otherwise makes a good faith effort to prevent the commission of the crime.

(6) A person legally accountable for the conduct of another person may be convicted on proof of the commission of the crime and of his complicity therein, though the person claimed to have committed the crime has not been prosecuted or convicted or has been convicted of a different crime or degree of crime or has an immunity to prosecution or conviction or has been acquitted.

(2) A corporation is guilty of an offense when:

(a) The conduct constituting the offense consists of an omission to discharge a specific duty of performance imposed on corporations by law; or

(b) The conduct constituting the offense is engaged in, authorized, solicited, requested, commanded, or tolerated by the board of directors or by a high managerial agent acting within the scope of his employment and on behalf of the corporation; or

(c) The conduct constituting the offense is engaged in by an agent of the corporation, other than a high managerial agent, while acting within the scope of his employment and in behalf of the corporation and (i) the offense is a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor, or (ii) the offense is one defined by a statute which clearly indicates a legislative intent to impose such criminal liability on a corporation.

(3) A person is criminally liable for conduct constituting an offense which he performs or causes to be performed in the name of or on behalf of a corporation to the same extent as if such conduct were performed in his own name or behalf.

(4) Whenever a duty to act is imposed by law upon a corporation, any agent of the corporation who knows he has or shares primary responsibility for the discharge of the duty is criminally liable for a reckless or, if a high managerial agent, criminally negligent omission to perform the required act to the same extent as if the duty were by law imposed directly upon such agent.

(5) Every corporation, whether foreign or domestic, which shall violate any provision of section 9A.28.040, shall forfeit every right and franchise to do business in this state. The attorney general shall begin and conduct all actions and proceedings necessary to enforce the provisions of this subsection.

(2) The defense of insanity must be established by a preponderance of the evidence.

(5) Whenever used by a carrier of passengers or his authorized agent or servant, or other person assisting them at their request in expelling from a carriage, railway car, vessel, or other vehicle, a passenger who refuses to obey a lawful and reasonable regulation prescribed for the conduct of passengers, if such vehicle has first been stopped and the force used is not more than shall be necessary to expel the offender with reasonable regard to his personal safety;

(6) Whenever used by any person to prevent a mentally retarded person or a mentally ill person from committing an act dangerous to himself or another, or in enforcing necessary restraint for the protection of his person, or his restoration to health, during such period only as shall be necessary to obtain legal authority for the restraint or custody of his person.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.16.050. HOMICIDE—BY OTHER PERSON – WHEN JUSTIFIABLE. Homicide is also justifiable when committed either:

- (1) In the lawful defense of the slayer, or his or her husband, wife, parent, child, brother, or sister, or of any other person in his presence or company, when there is reasonable ground to apprehend a design on the part of the person slain to commit a felony or to do some great personal injury to the slayer or to any such person, and there is imminent danger of such design being accomplished; or
- (2) In the actual resistance of an attempt to commit a felony upon the slayer, in his presence, or upon or in a dwelling, or other place of abode, in which he is.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.16.060. DURESS. (1) In any prosecution for a crime, it is a defense that:

(a) The actor participated in the crime under compulsion by another who by threat or use of force created an apprehension in the mind of the actor that in case of refusal he or another would be liable to immediate death or immediate grievous bodily injury; and

(b) That such apprehension was reasonable upon the part of the actor; and

(c) That the actor would not have participated in the crime except for the duress involved.

(2) The defense of duress is not available if the crime charged is murder or manslaughter.

(3) The defense of duress is not available if the actor intentionally or recklessly places himself in a situation in which it is probable that he will be subject to duress.

(4) The defense of duress is not established solely by a showing that a married person acted on the command of his or her spouse.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.16.070. ENTRAPMENT. (1) In any prosecution for a crime, it is a defense that:

(a) The criminal design originated in the mind of law enforcement officials, or any person acting under their direction, and

(b) The actor was lured or induced to commit a crime which the actor had not otherwise intended to commit.

(2) The defense of entrapment is not established by a showing only that law enforcement officials merely afforded the actor an opportunity to commit a crime.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.16.080. ACTION FOR BEING DETAINED ON MERCANTILE ESTABLISHMENT PREMISES FOR INVESTIGATION— "REASONABLE GROUNDS" AS DEFENSE. In any criminal action brought by reason of any person having been detained on or in the immediate vicinity of the premises of a mercantile establishment for the purpose of investigation or questioning as to the ownership of any merchandise, it shall be a defense of such action that the person was detained in a reasonable manner and for not more than a reasonable time to permit such investigation or questioning by a peace officer, by the owner of the mercantile establishment, or by the owner's authorized employee or agent, and that such peace officer, owner, employee, or agent had reasonable grounds to believe that the person so detained was committing or attempting to commit theft or shoplifting on such premises of such merchandise. As used in this section, "reasonable grounds" shall include, but not be limited to, knowledge that a person has concealed possession of unpurchased merchandise of a mercantile establishment, and a "reasonable time" shall mean the time necessary to permit the person detained to make a statement or to refuse to make a statement, and the time necessary to examine employees and records of the mercantile establishment relative to the ownership of the merchandise.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.16.090. INTOXICATION. No act committed by a person while in a state of voluntary intoxication shall be deemed less criminal by reason of his condition, but whenever the actual existence of any particular mental state is a necessary element to constitute a particular species or degree of crime, the fact of his intoxication may be taken into consideration in determining such mental state.

CLASSIFICATION OF CRIMES

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.20.010. CLASSIFICATION AND DESIGNATION OF CRIMES. (1) Classified Felonies. (a) The particular classification of each felony defined in Title 9A RCW is expressly designated in the section defining it.

(b) For purposes of sentencing, classified felonies are designated as one of three classes, as follows:

- (i) Class A felony; or
- (ii) Class B felony; or
- (iii) Class C felony.

(2) Misdemeanors and Gross Misdemeanors. (a) Any crime punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail for not more than ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment is a misdemeanor. Whenever the performance of any act is prohibited by any statute, and no penalty for the violation of such statute is imposed, the committing of such act shall be a misdemeanor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.20.020. AUTHORIZED SENTENCES OF OFFENDERS. (1) Felony. Every person convicted of a classified felony shall be punished as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.20.030. ALTERNATIVE TO A FINE. (1) If a person has gained money or property or caused a victim to lose money or property through the commission of a crime, upon conviction thereof the court, in lieu of imposing the fine authorized for the offense under section 9A.20.020, may order the defendant to pay an amount, fixed by the court, not to exceed double the amount of the defendant's gain or victim's loss from the commission of a crime. Such amount may be used to provide restitution to the victim at the order of the court. In such case the court shall make a finding as to the amount of the defendant's gain or victim's loss from the crime, and if the record does not contain sufficient evidence to support such finding the court may conduct a hearing upon the issue. For purposes of this section, the terms "gain" or "loss" refer to the amount of money or the value of property or services gained or lost.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, this section also applies to any corporation or joint stock association found guilty of any crime.

(2) If the conduct in which a person engages otherwise constitutes an attempt to commit a crime, it is no defense to a prosecution of such attempt that the crime charged to have been attempted was, under the attendant circumstances, factually or legally impossible of commission.

(3) An attempt to commit a crime is a:

(2) Criminal solicitation shall be punished in the same manner as criminal attempt under section 9A.28.020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.28.040. CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY. (1) A person is guilty of criminal conspiracy when, with intent that conduct constituting a crime be performed, he agrees with one or more persons to engage in or cause the performance of such conduct, and any one of them takes a substantial step in pursuance of such agreement.

(2) It shall not be a defense to criminal conspiracy that the person or persons with whom the accused is alleged to have conspired:

(i) Did not commit the homicidal act or in any way solicit, request, command, importune, cause, or aid the commission thereof; and

(ii) Was not armed with a deadly weapon, or any instrument, article, or substance readily capable of causing death or serious physical injury; and

(3) "Enters or remains unlawfully". A person "enters or remains unlawfully" in or upon premises when he is not then licensed, invited, or otherwise privileged to so enter or remain.

A license or privilege to enter or remain in a building which is only partly open to the public is not a license or privilege to enter or remain in that part of a building which is not open to the public. A person who enters or remains upon unimproved and apparently unused land, which is neither fenced nor otherwise enclosed in a manner designed to exclude intruders, does so with license and privilege unless notice against trespass is personally communicated to him by the owner of the land or some other authorized person, or unless notice is given by posting in a conspicuous manner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.52.040. INFERENCE OF INTENT. In any prosecution for burglary, any person who enters or remains unlawfully in a building may be inferred to have acted with intent to commit a crime against a person or property therein, unless such entering or remaining shall be explained by evidence satisfactory to the trier of fact to have been made without such criminal intent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.52.050. OTHER CRIME IN COMMITTING BURGLARY PUNISHABLE. Every person who, in the commission of a burglary shall commit any other crime, may be punished therefor as well as for the burglary, and may be prosecuted for each crime separately.

(1) Every person who shall make or mend or cause to be made or mended, or have in his possession, any engine, machine, tool, false key, pick lock, bit, nippers, or implement adapted, designed, or commonly used for the commission of burglary under circumstances evincing an intent to use or employ, or allow the same to be used or employed in the commission of a burglary, or knowing that the same is intended to be so used, shall be guilty of making or having burglar tools.

(2) Making or having burglar tools is a gross misdemeanor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.52.070. CRIMINAL TRESPASS IN THE FIRST DEGREE. (2) The premises were at the time open to members of the public and the actor complied with all lawful conditions imposed on access to or remaining in the premises; or

(3) The actor reasonably believed that the owner of the premises, or other person empowered to license access thereto, would have licensed him to enter or remain.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.52.100. VEHICLE PROWLING. (1) A person is guilty of vehicle prowling if, with intent to commit a crime against a person or property therein, he enters or remains unlawfully in a vehicle.

(2) Vehicle prowling is a gross misdemeanor.

(3) "Credit card" means any instrument or device, whether incomplete, revoked, or expired, whether known as a credit card, credit plate, charge plate, courtesy card, or by any other name, issued with or without fee for the use of the cardholder in obtaining money, goods, services, or anything else of value, including satisfaction of a debt or the payment of a check drawn by a cardholder, either on credit or in consideration of an undertaking or guarantee by the issuer;

(e) Promises performance which the actor does not intend to perform or knows will not be performed.

(5) "Deprive" in addition to its common meaning means to make unauthorized use or an unauthorized copy of records, information, data, trade secrets, or computer programs, provided that the aforementioned are of a private proprietary nature;

(12) Value. (a) "Value" means the market value of the property or services at the time and in the approximate area of the criminal act.

(b) Whether or not they have been issued or delivered, written instruments, except those having a readily ascertained market value, shall be evaluated as follows:

(i) The value of an instrument constituting an evidence of debt, such as a check, draft, or promissory note, shall be deemed the amount due or collectible thereon or thereby, that figure ordinarily being the face amount of the indebtedness less any portion thereof which has been satisfied;

(ii) The value of a ticket or equivalent instrument which evidences a right to receive transportation, entertainment, or other service shall be deemed the price stated thereon, if any; and if no price is stated thereon, the value shall be deemed the price of such ticket or equivalent instrument which the issuer charged the general public;

(iii) The value of any other instrument that creates, releases, discharges, or otherwise affects any valuable legal right, privilege, or obligation shall be deemed the greatest amount of economic loss which the owner of the instrument might reasonably suffer by virtue of the loss of the instrument.

(c) Whenever any series of transactions which constitute theft, would, when considered separately, constitute theft in the third degree because of value, and said series of transactions are a part of a common scheme or plan, then the transactions may be aggregated in one count and the sum of the value of all said transactions shall be the value considered in determining the degree of theft involved.

(d) Whenever any person is charged with possessing stolen property and such person has unlawfully in his possession at the same time the stolen property of more than one person, then the stolen property possessed may be aggregated in one count and the sum of the value of all said stolen property shall be the value considered in determining the degree of theft involved.

The word "credit" as used herein shall be construed to mean an arrangement or understanding with the bank or other depository for the payment of such check or draft, and the uttering or delivery of such a check or draft to another person without such fund or credit to meet the same shall be prima facie evidence of an intent to defraud.

(2) Unlawful issuance of a bank check in an amount greater than two hundred and fifty dollars is a class C felony.

(3) Unlawful issuance of a bank check in an amount of two hundred and fifty dollars or less is a gross misdemeanor.

This presumption may be rebutted by evidence raising a reasonable inference that the failure to return the vehicle or piece of machinery or equipment was not with the intent to defraud or otherwise deprive the owner of his property.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.56.100. THEFT AND LARCENY EQUATED. All offenses defined as larcenies outside of this title shall be treated as thefts as provided in this title.

(3) Extortion in the second degree is a Class C felony.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9A.56.140. POSSESSING STOLEN PROPERTY—

(2) The fact that the person who stole the property has not been convicted, apprehended, or identified is not a defense to a charge of possessing stolen property.

(3) When a person not an issuer or agent thereof has in his possession or under his control stolen credit cards issued in the names of two or more persons, he shall be presumed to know that they are stolen. This presumption may be rebutted by evidence raising a reasonable inference that the possession of such stolen credit cards was without knowledge that they were stolen.

The number of directors may be increased or decreased from time to time by amendment to the bylaws, but no decrease shall have the effect of shortening the term of any incumbent director. In the absence of a bylaw fixing the number of directors, the number shall be the same as that stated in the articles of incorporation. The names and addresses of the members of the first board of directors shall be stated in the articles of incorporation. Such persons shall hold office until the first annual meeting of shareholders, and until their successors shall have been elected and are qualified, unless removed in accordance with the provisions of the bylaws. Attendance of a director or a committee member at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a director or a committee member attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any regular or special meeting of the board of directors or any committee designated by the bylaws or appointed by the board of directors need be specified in the notice or waiver of notice of such meeting unless required by the bylaws.

Except as may be otherwise restricted by the articles of incorporation or bylaws, members of the board of directors or any committee designated by the bylaws or appointed by the board of directors may participate in a meeting of such board or committee by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other at the same time, and participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at a meeting.

Sec. 4. Section 50, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.08.470 are each amended to read as follows:

The officers of a corporation shall consist of a president, one or more vice-presidents as may be prescribed by the bylaws, a secretary, and a treasurer, each of whom shall be elected by the board of directors at such time and in such manner as may be prescribed by the bylaws. Such other officers and assistant officers and agents as may be deemed necessary may be elected or appointed by the

(1) If the articles of incorporation so provide, the shares of any preferred or special class may be divided into and issued in series. If the shares of any such class are to be issued in series, then each series shall be so designated as to distinguish the shares thereof from the shares of all other series and classes. Any or all of the series of any such class and the variations in the relative rights and preferences as between different series may be fixed and determined by the articles of incorporation, but all shares of the same class shall be identical except as to the following relative rights and preferences, as to which there may be variations between different series:

- (a) The rate of dividend.
- (b) Whether shares may be redeemed and, if so, the redemption price and the terms and conditions of redemption.
- (c) The amount payable upon shares in event of voluntary and involuntary liquidation.
- (d) Sinking fund provisions, if any, for the redemption or purchase of shares.
- (e) The terms and conditions, if any, on which shares may be converted.

(3) In order for the board of directors to establish a series, where authority so to do is contained in the articles of incorporation, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth the designation of the series and fixing and determining the relative rights and preferences thereof, or so much thereof as shall not be fixed and determined by the articles of incorporation.

(4) Prior to the issue of any shares of a series established by resolution adopted by the board of directors, the corporation shall file and execute in the manner hereinafter provided a statement setting forth:

- (a) The name of the corporation.
- (b) A copy of the resolution establishing and designating the series, and fixing and determining the relative rights and preferences thereof.
- (c) The date of adoption of such resolution.

(d) That such resolution was duly adopted by the board of directors.

(5) Such statement shall be executed in triplicate by the corporation by its president or a vice-president and by its secretary or an assistant secretary, and verified by one of the officers signing such statement, and shall be delivered to the secretary of state. If the secretary of state finds that such statement conforms to law, he shall, when all fees have been paid as in this title prescribed:

(a) Endorse on each of such triplicate originals the word "Filed," and the month, day, and year of the filing thereof.

(b) File one of such originals in his office.

(c) Return the other two such originals to the corporation or its representative.

(6) One of such other originals shall then be filed in the office of the auditor of the county in which the registered office of the corporation is located and the other shall be retained by the corporation.

(7) Upon the filing of such statement by the secretary of state, the resolution establishing and designating the series and fixing and determining the relative rights and preferences thereof shall become effective and shall constitute an amendment of the articles of incorporation.

MUTUAL SAVINGS BANKS—TRUST POWERS

AN ACT Relating to mutual savings banks; and amending section 12, chapter 55, Laws of 1969 and RCW 32.08.210.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 12, chapter 55, Laws of 1969 and RCW 32.08.210 are each amended to read as follows:

A mutual savings bank shall have the power to act as trustee under:

(1) ~~((A retirement plan established pursuant to the provisions of the act of Congress entitled "Self-Employed Individuals Tax Retirement Act of 1962", as now constituted or hereafter amended. If a retirement plan, which in the judgment of the mutual savings bank, constituted a qualified plan under the provisions of that act at the time accepted by the mutual savings bank, is subsequently determined not to be a qualified plan or subsequently ceases to be a qualified plan in whole or in part, the mutual savings bank may, nevertheless, continue to act as trustee of any deposits theretofore made under the plan and to dispose of the same in accordance with the directions of the trustor and the beneficiaries thereof.~~

(2)) A trust established by an inter vivos trust agreement or under the will of a deceased person ~~((but only if all the trust assets are required by the terms of the trust to be invested in accounts with mutual savings banks. The trustee shall deposit the trust assets in savings accounts with itself as soon as practical after establishment of the trust)).~~

~~((3))~~ (2) A trust established in connection with any collective bargaining agreement or labor negotiation wherein the beneficiaries of the trust include the employees concerned under the agreement or negotiation, or a trust established in connection with any pension, profit sharing, or retirement benefit plan of any corporation, partnership, association, or individual, including but not limited to retirement plans established pursuant to the provisions of the act of congress entitled "Self-Employed Individuals Tax Retirement Act of 1962", as now constituted or hereafter amended, or plans established pursuant to the provisions of the act of congress entitled "Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974", as now constituted or hereafter amended.

A mutual savings bank may be appointed to and accept the appointment of ((~~executor~~)) personal representative of the last will and testament, or administrator with will annexed, of the estate of any deceased person ((~~wherein the will establishes a trust wherein the mutual savings bank may act as trustee~~)) and to be appointed and to act as guardian of the estate of minors and incompetent and disabled persons.

The restrictions, limitations and requirements in Title 30 RCW shall apply to a mutual savings bank exercising the powers granted under this section insofar as the restrictions, limitations, and requirements relate to exercising the powers granted under this section. The incidental trust powers to act as agent in the management of trust property and the transaction of trust business in Title 30 RCW shall apply to a mutual savings bank exercising the powers granted under this section insofar as the incidental powers relate to exercising the powers granted under this section.

Before engaging in trust business, a mutual savings bank shall apply to the supervisor of banking on such form as he shall determine and pay the same fee as required for a state bank to engage in trust business. In considering such application the supervisor shall ascertain from the best source of information at his command and by such investigation as he may deem necessary whether the management and personnel of the mutual savings bank are such as to command confidence and warrant belief that the trust business will be adequately and efficiently conducted in accordance with law, whether the resources in the neighborhood of such place and in the surrounding country afford a reasonable promise of adequate support for the proposed trust business and whether the resources of the mutual savings bank are sufficient to support the conduct of such trust business, and that the mutual savings bank has and maintains, in addition to its guaranty fund, undivided profits against which the depositors have no prior claim in an amount not less than would be required of a state bank or trust company, which undivided profits shall be eligible for investment in the same manner as the guaranty fund of a mutual savings bank. Within sixty days after receipt of such application, the supervisor shall either approve or refuse the same and forthwith return to the mutual savings bank a copy of the application upon which his decision has been endorsed. The supervisor shall not be required to approve or refuse an application until thirty days after any appropriate approval has been obtained from a federal regulatory agency. The applicant shall have the right to appeal from an unfavorable determination in accordance with the procedures of the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW, as now or hereafter amended. A mutual savings bank shall not use the word "trust" in its name, but may use the word "trust" in its business or advertising.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 11, chapter 212, Laws of 1959 and RCW 31.08.175 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No licensee shall require the purchasing of property insurance from the licensee or any employee, affiliate, or associate of the licensee or from any agent, broker, or insurance company designated by the licensee as a condition precedent to the making of a loan nor shall any licensee decline existing insurance which meets or exceeds the standards set forth in this section.

The licensee may require a borrower to insure tangible property offered as security for a loan hereunder against any substantial risk of loss, damage, or destruction for an amount not to exceed the reasonable value of the property insured or the amount of the loan and for the customary term approximating the term of the loan contract: PROVIDED, That no licensee hereunder may require such insurance on loans in an amount less than three hundred dollars. It shall be optional with the borrower to obtain such insurance in an amount greater than the amount of the loan or for a longer term. The premium for such insurance shall not exceed that fixed by current applicable manual of a recognized standard insurance rating bureau and such insurance shall be written by or through a duly licensed insurance agent or broker.

(2) A licensee may insure the life of one borrower, but only one of them if there are two or more obligors, for the unpaid principal balance scheduled to be outstanding; and regardless of the the premium paid by the licensee, the licensee may charge not more than sixty cents per one hundred dollars per year computed on the original principal amount of the loan, excluding charges for the loan, when the loan contract requires substantially equal and consecutive monthly installments of principal and charges combined, and such charge may be in the same proportions for different payment schedules, maturities, and principal amounts: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That if both husband and wife sign an obligation to repay the loan, each may be an insured borrower hereunder and a single identifiable insurance charge may be made by the licensee for the two jointly under a plan whereby both lives are insured but a death benefit is paid only upon the death of the spouse dying first. For such joint spouse coverage, the licensee may charge not more than one dollar per one hundred dollars per year computed on the same basis as herein prescribed for life insurance on one borrower. Such charge may be deducted from the principal of the loan when the loan is made. Only one such charge may be made in connection with any loan contract irrespective of the number of obligors, and only one obligor need be insured. If the insured obligor dies during the term of the loan contract, the insurance must pay the principal balance of the loan outstanding on the day of his death without any exception or reservation. The insurance shall be in force as soon as the loan is made. If the loan contract is prepaid in full by cash, a new loan, renewal, refinancing, or otherwise, a portion of such life insurance charge shall be rebated according to the method established in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (3) of RCW 31.08.160. When charges for the loan are precomputed in accordance with subsection (3) of RCW 31.08.160, any required rebate and any permitted deferment charge may be computed on the combined total of the precomputed charge and the life insurance charge.

(3) If a borrower procures any insurance by or through a licensee, the statement required by RCW 31.08.170 shall disclose the cost to the borrower and the type of insurance, and the licensee shall cause to be delivered to the borrower a copy of the policy, certificate, or other evidence thereof within a reasonable time.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, any gain or advantage in any form whatsoever to the licensee or to any employee, affiliate, or associate of the licensee from any insurance or its sale or provision shall not be deemed to be additional or further interest, consideration, charges, or fee in connection with such loan.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to alter, amend or repeal any provision of the insurance code.

No insurance shall be required, requested, sold, or offered for sale in connection with any loan made under this chapter, except as and to the extent authorized by this section.

Sec. 2. Section .01.01, chapter 79, Laws of 1947 and RCW 48.01.010 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Chapters 48.01 to 48.36 RCW, and chapter 48.48 of this))~~ Title 48 RCW constitutes the insurance code.

After hearing or with the consent of the insurer and in addition to or in lieu of the suspension, revocation, or refusal to renew any certificate of authority the commissioner may levy a fine upon the insurer in an amount not less than two hundred fifty dollars and not more than ~~((one))~~ five thousand dollars. The order levying such fine shall specify the period within which the fine shall be fully paid and which period shall not be less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the date of such order. Upon failure to pay any such fine when due the commissioner shall revoke the certificate of authority of the insurer if not already revoked, and the fine shall be recovered in a civil action brought in behalf of the commissioner by the attorney general. Any fine so collected shall be paid by the commissioner to the state treasurer for the account of the general fund.

Sec. 4. Section .07.09, chapter 79, Laws of 1947 as amended by section 3, chapter 197, Laws of 1953 and RCW 48.07.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No incorporated domestic insurer shall make any contract whereby any person is granted or is to enjoy in fact the control and management of the insurer, or control of underwriting, investment, loss adjustments, production, or other major function of the insurer, all to the material exclusion of its board of directors, or the controlling or preemptive right to produce substantially all insurance business for the insurer, or, if an officer, director, or otherwise part of the insurer's management, is directly or indirectly to receive any commission, bonus, or compensation based upon the volume of the insurer's business or transactions unless such contract ~~((is))~~ has been filed with and approved by the commissioner. The contract shall be deemed approved unless disapproved by the commissioner within thirty days after date of filing. Any disapproval shall be delivered to the insurer in writing, stating the ~~((grounds))~~ reasons therefor.

(2) Any such contract hereafter made shall provide that any such manager, producer of its business, or contract holder shall within ninety days after expiration of each calendar year thereunder furnish the insurer's board of directors a written statement of amounts received under or on account of the contract and amounts expended thereunder during such calendar year, with specification of the compensation and emoluments received therefrom by the respective directors, officers, and other principal management personnel of the insurer, or manager, or producer, or contract holder with such classification of items and further detail as the insurer's board of directors may reasonably require.

(3) The commissioner shall not approve any contract referred to in subsection (1) which:

(b) does not contain fair and adequate standards of performance; or
(c) is to extend for an unreasonable length of time; or
(d) ~~((contains other inequitable provisions or provisions which may jeopardize the security of policyholders))~~ provides for commission, bonus, or compensation without reasonable relationship to the insurer's current expense, net growth, and net gain in surplus factors, or without reasonable limitation of the amount of money to be received as such commission, bonus, or compensation with respect to the insurer's business in any one calendar year; or

(e) contains other inequitable provision or provisions which may jeopardize the security of policyholders or the reasonable interests of stockholders.

(4) The commissioner may, after a hearing held thereon, withdraw his approval of any such contract theretofore permitted to become effective, if he finds that any basis of his original approval of, or failure to disapprove, the contract no longer exists, or that the contract has, in actual operation, shown itself to be subject to disapproval on any of the grounds referred to in subsection (3) of this section.

The minimum deposit held by the commissioner shall constitute part of the surplus funds so otherwise required. The insurer need not deposit such additional surplus funds with the commissioner: PROVIDED, That a domestic reciprocal insurer which under prior laws held authority to transact insurance in this state may continue to be so authorized so long as it otherwise qualifies therefor and maintains surplus funds in amount not less than as required under laws of this state in force at the time such authority to transact insurance in this state was granted.

(3) A domestic reciprocal insurer heretofore formed shall maintain on deposit with the commissioner surplus funds of not less than the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, and ~~((shall have additional surplus in the amount of any additional surplus funds required by this code for authority))~~ to transact kinds of insurance transacted by it in addition to that authorized by its original certificate of authority, shall have and maintain surplus (including the amount of such deposit) in amount not less than the paid-in capital stock required under RCW 48.05.340(1) plus special surplus, if any, required under RCW 48.05.360, of a domestic stock insurer formed after 1967 and transacting the same kinds of insurance. The commissioner may, by rule and regulation, prescribe the terms under which the foregoing financial requirements may be waived in circumstances where insurance cannot be otherwise procured on risks located in this state.

(2) For any violation of this section the broker shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars or more than two hundred and fifty dollars, his surplus line broker's license shall be revoked, and the broker may not again be so licensed within a period of two years thereafter.

(3) This section shall not apply with respect to any person securing and forwarding information required for the purposes of group ~~((insurance covering the unpaid balance, or remaining payments proposed to be made, in connection with the purchase of merchandise or securities, and where no commission or other compensation is payable on account of such insurance to such person))~~ credit life and credit disability insurance in connection with an extension of credit and such other credit life or disability insurance lines as the commissioner shall determine, and where no commission or other compensation is payable on account of the securing and forwarding of such information: PROVIDED, That the reimbursement of a creditor's actual expenses for securing and forwarding information required for the purposes of such group insurance shall not be considered a commission or other compensation if such reimbursement does not exceed three dollars per certificate issued, or in the case of a monthly premium plan extending beyond twelve months, not to exceed three dollars per loan transaction revision per year.

(4) Any person violating this section shall be liable to a fine of not to exceed five hundred dollars and imprisonment for not to exceed six months for each instance of such violation.

(The foregoing policy provision shall not be so construed as to affect any legal requirement for avoidance of a policy or denial of a claim during such initial two year period, nor to limit the application of RCW 48.20.172, 48.20.182, 48.20.192, 48.20.202, and 48.20.212 in the event of misstatement with respect to age or occupation or other insurance.)

"(b) No claim for loss incurred or disability (as defined in the policy) commencing after two years from the date of issue of this policy shall be reduced or denied on the ground that a disease or physical condition not excluded from coverage by name or specific description effective on the date of loss had existed prior to the effective date of coverage of this policy."

(More stringent provisions may be required by the commissioner in connection with individual disability policies sold without any application or with minimal applications.)

Sec. 13. Section 9, chapter 219, Laws of 1961 and RCW 48.34.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) All credit life insurance and credit accident and health insurance shall be evidenced by an individual policy, or in the case of group insurance by a certificate of insurance, which individual policy or group certificate of insurance shall be delivered to the debtor.

(2) Each individual policy or group certificate of credit life insurance, and/or credit accident and health insurance shall, in addition to other requirements of law, set forth the name and home office address of the insurer, the name or names of the debtor or in the case of a certificate under a group policy, the identity by name or otherwise of the debtor, the premium or amount of payment, if any, by the debtor separately for credit life insurance and credit accident and health insurance, a description of the coverage including the amount and term thereof, and any exceptions, limitations and restrictions, and shall state that the benefits shall be paid to the creditor to reduce or extinguish the unpaid indebtedness and, wherever the amount of insurance exceeds the unpaid indebtedness, that any such excess shall be payable to a beneficiary, other than the creditor, named by the debtor or to the debtor's estate. Upon acceptance of the insurance by the insurer and within thirty days of the date upon which the indebtedness is incurred, the insurer shall cause the individual policy or group certificate of insurance to be delivered to the debtor. The application or notice of proposed insurance shall state that upon acceptance by the insurer, the insurance shall become effective as provided in RCW 48.34.080.

(5) If the named insurer does not accept the risk, then the debtor shall receive a policy or certificate of insurance setting forth the name and home office address of the substituted insurer and the amount of the premium to be charged, and if the amount of premium is less than that set forth in the notice of proposed insurance an appropriate refund shall be made.

Sec. 14. Section 4, chapter 119, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 48.44.240 are each amended to read as follows:

(3) No policy shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state which does not meet the prescribed minimum standards for the categories of coverage listed in items (a) through (g) of subsection (1) of this section, unless the commissioner finds such policy will be in the public interest and such policy meets the requirements set forth in RCW 48.18.110.

(4) The commissioner shall prescribe the method of identification of policies based upon coverages provided.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. There is added to chapter 48.20 RCW a new section to read as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. There is added to chapter 48.20 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 48.20.052, if an insurer elects to use a simplified application form, with or without a question as to the applicant's health at the time of application, but without any questions concerning the insured's health history or medical treatment history, the policy must cover any loss occurring after twelve months from any preexisting condition not specifically excluded from coverage by terms of the policy, and, except as so provided, the policy shall not include wording that would permit a defense based upon preexisting conditions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. There is added to chapter 48.21 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) No group disability insurance policy which provides benefits for hospital, medical, or surgical expenses shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state after the effective date of this 1975 act which contains any provision whereby the insurer may reduce or refuse to pay such benefits otherwise payable thereunder solely on account of the existence of similar benefits provided under any individual disability insurance policy, or under any individual health care service contract.

(2) No group disability insurance policy providing hospital, medical or surgical expense benefits and which contains a provision for the reduction of benefits otherwise payable thereunder on the basis of other existing coverages, shall provide that such reduction will operate to reduce total benefits payable below an amount equal to one hundred percent of total allowable expenses. The commissioner shall by rule establish guidelines for the application of this section, including: (a) The procedures by which persons insured under such policies are to be made aware of the existence of such a provision; (b) the benefits which may be subject to such a provision; (c) the effect of such a provision on the benefits provided; (d) establishment of the order of benefit determination; and (e) reasonable claim administration procedures to expedite claim payments under such a provision.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is hereby appropriated to the Washington State Highway Commission the sum of $150,000, or as much thereof as may be necessary, from the Motor Vehicle Fund to study the following issues regarding the proposed improved crossing of the Duwamish waterway to West Seattle;

(1) Feasibility of placing the corridor currently identified as the West Seattle freeway corridor, connecting West Seattle to Interstate 5, on the state highway system.

(2) Evaluation of existing studies regarding the proposed high-level crossings of the Duwamish waterway, or conduct additional studies as the commission deems appropriate, to determine the approximate amount of funds required for the construction of a high-level crossing of the Duwamish waterway.

(3) Identification of the principal groups or agencies benefiting from the construction of a high-level crossing of the Duwamish waterway and alternative methods of permitting such groups to participate in project costs including, but not limited to, user tolls or local improvement district assessments.

The appropriations contained in sections 52 through 62 of this act shall be subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) The legislature recognizes that mass institutionalization and hospitalization may not be a satisfactory solution to the treatment of physical or mental disorders or the problem of criminal rehabilitation. The legislature further recognizes that proposals to modify such institutionalization and hospitalization have not been thoroughly reviewed for substance or fiscal impact in such a manner as to permit the development of sound legislative policy in these areas. Therefore, the legislature has established a budgetary position that will assure institutional provisions for the safety and well-being of all our citizens, but which restrains the modification of existing methods until questions of policy and fiscal impact have been determined by the legislature.

(2) Not later than October 1, 1975, the department shall transmit a list to the standing ways and means committees of all federal moneys received, including unanticipated receipts so noted, as of July 1, 1975, by departmental program, category, and organizational unit which list shall include the following information:

- (a) The granting federal agency;
- (b) A brief description and federal reference number, if applicable;
- (c) The specific amount of money received and the purpose for which it is intended;
- (d) The matching requirements; and
- (e) The limiting factors, if any.

Monthly revisions to the list required by this subsection, including unanticipated receipts, shall be provided in the same manner as the original list for the remainder of the fiscal biennium.

(3) The department shall not transfer more than ten million dollars between the programs appropriated for in sections 51 through 62 of this act without specific approval of the office of program planning and fiscal management and the standing ways and means committees. The department shall notify the office of program planning and fiscal management and the standing ways and means committees whenever any transfers are made which are within the limits established by this subsection.

(4) The department shall provide quarterly reports to the standing ways and means committees relating to the realization of all projected program savings upon which the 1975-77 departmental budget request is predicated.

(5) The department of social and health services shall establish regulations for reasonable nursing home accounting and reimbursement systems which recognize relevant cost related factors for department of social and health services patients. This shall include, but not be limited to, the scope or level of services or care, requirements of staff, physical plant, a reasonable rate of return on investment, and incentives for improved patient care within funds available to the department for nursing home care. The regulations shall provide that no payment will be made to a nursing home which does not permit inspection by the department of social and health services of every part of its premises and an examination of all records, including financial records, methods of administration, general and special dietary programs, the disbursement of drugs and methods of supply, and any other records the department deems relevant to the establishment of such a system. Not later than January 1, 1976, the department shall provide a report to the standing ways and means and social and health services committees which reviews the nursing home cost reimbursement system and other vendor payments and which includes required state and federal standards, standards maintained, all completed audits, and recommendations for legislative consideration.

(6) The department shall present fiscal and organizational zero-base data to the standing ways and means committees and the social and health services committees, by July 1, 1976, which will assist in reestablishing the budgetary base for the public health, vocational rehabilitation, and administrative and support services programs.

(7) The department shall develop a proposal for a group homes cost reimbursement system that provides incentives for improving client care. The proposal shall provide for maximum limits for described levels and kinds of care that ensure that expenditures shall be within amounts appropriated for such care. The cost reimbursement system shall also include consideration of various salary schedules necessary for the delivery of such components of care and shall also include consideration of wage and salary levels of comparable positions in the public and private sectors. The department shall submit the proposed cost reimbursement system to the standing ways and means and social and health services committees for approval prior to the implementation of the system.

(8) If the claim made by the state to the United States department of health, education, and welfare on October 24, 1972, for reimbursement in the amount of $32,876,903 is sustained in whole or in part such funds and any other similar funds received by the state shall be deposited by the state treasurer in Suspense Fund 705 and no allocation or disbursement from such fund shall be made except as specifically authorized by legislative enactment.

All disputes arising between the state and the United States department of health, education, and welfare involving the state's claim or claims to federal reimbursement of state expenditures as provided by the applicable provisions of the federal social security act which would have the effect of reducing or increasing any appropriation or any part thereof as set forth in this act shall be negotiated and settled only with the consent of a majority of the members of the respective ways and means committees of the legislature.

The sum of $5,508,264 currently held by the state treasurer in Suspense Fund 705 pending the completion of federal review of the legitimacy of the aforementioned claim for such moneys shall continue to be held and no allocation or disbursement from such funds shall be made without specific authorization by legislative enactment, except to repay the federal government if necessary.

If the department of social and health services claims additional matching for the period of October 1, 1972, through June 30, 1973, or any portion thereof, or for any other period, such moneys shall be deposited by the state treasurer in Suspense Fund 705 and no allocation or disbursement from such fund shall be made except as specifically authorized by legislative enactment.

(9) The department shall deploy personnel in such a manner as to insure, insofar as is possible, that ineligible persons shall be removed from current caseloads, errors resulting in overpayments or underpayments to recipients shall be corrected, efforts shall be made to insure that only eligible individuals are added to the public assistance caseloads, and that caseloads are kept within the estimates for which funds are provided by this act.

Compliance with this act and the attempt to contain caseloads within acceptable limits shall be accomplished but, notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 74.08.040, the department of social and health services shall not impose ratable reductions, or any other form of reduction in public assistance grants which are in addition to, or in any way lower than the maximums presently imposed.

(10) It is the intent of the legislature that the department shall not initiate any new or additional programs or services in any of the agency's programs beyond those authorized in sections 52 through 62 of this act without prior approval of the ways and means committees of the legislature.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 187. In accordance with the provisions of this section the office of program planning and fiscal management shall use the allotment process during the 1975-77 biennium to control the funding of the formula portion of the instruction and departmental research programs of all the four year institutions of higher education and the community colleges. For the purpose of the controls outlined in this section, deviations in the formula entitlements for faculty staffing shall be the controlling factor. For the purpose of this section, the "contract level" is defined as the formula entitlement level upon which the budget is based, and the "base level" is defined as the formula entitlement level corresponding to the prior year's contract or actual enrollment level, whichever is lower. Controls shall be applied to each four year institution separately and to the community college education system as a total entity. "Growth funding" is defined as that portion of the appropriation by which the contract level exceeds the base level. All growth funds shall be reserved at the time of annual allotments. Such reserves shall be released only to the extent that the contract level is achieved, based upon the office of program planning and fiscal management's population studies section projections of full year enrollments from actual enrollments on the tenth day of the fall term. Growth funding not so released shall lapse at the end of a fiscal year. In any case where actual formula faculty entitlement, as computed from full year enrollments in spring, exceeds the contract level by more than one and one-half percent, appropriated funds equal in amount to the student operating fees derived from such excess enrollment shall be withheld during the same or subsequent year and shall revert to the state general fund following the close of the 1975-1977 biennium.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 188. Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter 82, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. the house of representatives, the senate, and the permanent statutory committees shall pay expenses quarterly to the department of general administration, general administration facilities and revolving account, for services rendered by the department for operation, maintenance, and supplies relating to buildings, structures, and facilities utilized by the legislature for the biennium beginning July 1, 1975.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 189. No agency shall reallocate authorized personnel board positions in such a manner that the net cost impact of such reallocations upward and downward will increase agency expenditures for salaries and wages.

Sec. 189. was vetoed, see message at end of chapter.*

NEW SECTION. Sec. 190. All or any portion of the funds provided in sections 149 through 164 of this act for allocation to school districts shall be withheld by the superintendent of public instruction from any school district which expends moneys in excess of such districts certified budget or budget extensions thereto as filed with the office of the superintendent of public instruction and the state board of education.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 191. Every state agency other than institutions of higher education, common school or intermediate school districts, and the legislature, shall have withheld from the allotments or series of allotments to be made to such agencies by the office of program planning and fiscal management during the fiscal year 1977 an amount of money equal to not less than three percent of the funds available for expenditure by each such agency for full time equivalent staff years from the appropriations contained in this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 192. Any state agency which receives funds pursuant to the provisions of this act and utilizes any portion of such funds for grants to local public bodies shall not withhold consideration of potential grant projects for local public bodies located within the Trident impact area merely on the basis that federal funds for the same or similar services and/or projects are or will be available at the present time or at some future date.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 193. If any municipality, which shall have pledged the revenue from the special excise tax authorized by RCW 35.58.273 to secure the payment of all or any part of the principal of or interest on any general obligation bonds or revenue bonds issued pursuant to RCW 35.58.279, does not receive state transit assistance sufficient to meet such bond obligations, there is hereby appropriated from the general fund the sum of $3,000,000, or so much thereof as shall be necessary, to the state treasurer who shall distribute to each such municipality a sum equal to such bond obligation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 194. It is the expressed intention of the legislature that agency operational activity will be regularly monitored by the office of program planning and fiscal management, under their statutory authority relating to the allotment control function, in order to limit fluctuations in biennial spending patterns which tend to inflate the final current level base. Particular control emphasis will be placed on those instances in which biennial full time equivalent employment authorization is deliberately delayed in order to increase the agency position count as substantiation for the ensuing biennial request. Unanticipated receipts, which are authorized and expended by any state agency, shall not be used as the basis for expansion of current level full time equivalents, as it relates to legislative appropriations made prior to such authorization, unless definite assurance is made of continuation of funds from the specific source involved.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 195. (1) Federal funds, which were not anticipated relative to the appropriations enacted on the budget approved by the legislature for the biennium ending June 30, 1977, for programs financed from both state and federal revenues, shall be used in lieu of moneys from state or local revenue sources unless prohibited by federal law, rule, regulation or other restriction. The provisions of RCW 43.79.260 through 43.79.280 shall not apply to authorize expenditures beyond either budgeted or appropriated amounts from federal funds subject to this subsection. Exceptions to the rule imposed by this subsection may be granted by the legislature if in session or by the legislative budget committee or its statutory successor during the interim between legislative sessions or when the legislature has been in recess for three days or more.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 43.79.260 through 43.79.280 federal funds which are not subject to subsection (1) of this section and which were not anticipated relative to appropriations enacted or the budget approved by the legislature shall not be allotted for expenditure in excess of either appropriations provided by law or the budget approved by the legislature for the biennium ending June 30, 1977, without prior approval of the legislature if in session or by the legislative budget committee or its statutory successor during the interim between legislative sessions or when the legislature has been in recess for three days or more.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 43.79.260 through 43.79.280 any unanticipated state or local revenues to appropriated funds or accounts shall not be allocated for expenditure in excess of appropriations provided by law or budget approved by the legislature for the biennium ending June 30, 1977, without prior approval of the legislature if in session or by the legislative budget committee or its statutory successor during the interim between legislative sessions or when the legislature has been in recess for three days or more.

*Sec. 195. was vetoed, see message at end of chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 196. The word "agency" used in this act, unless the context requires otherwise, means and includes every state government office, officer, each institution, whether educational, correctional, or other, and every department, division, board, and commission, except as otherwise provided in this act.

The phrase "agencies headed by elective officials" used herein shall mean those executive offices or departments of the state which are directly supervised, administered, or controlled by the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction, commissioner of public lands, or insurance commissioner, but it shall not include those boards, commissions, or committees on which one or more of the above-mentioned officials serve.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 197. In order to carry out the provisions of these appropriations and the state budget, the director of the Office of Program Planning and Fiscal Management with the approval of the governor, may:

(1) Allot all of any portion of the funds herein appropriated or included in the state budget, to the various agencies by such periods as he shall determine and may place any funds not so allotted in reserve available for subsequent allotment: PROVIDED, That the director of the office of program planning and fiscal management shall not alter allotment requests filed with him, nor shall he place in reserve any funds, for the following: Washington State Apple Advertising Commission; Washington State Fruit Commission; Washington Dairy Products Commission or any agricultural commodity commission created under the provisions of chapter 15.66 RCW; the legislative branch of state government including the legislative budget committee, the statute law committee, and any legislative committee; or the judicial branch of state government: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the aggregate of allotments for any agency shall not exceed the total of applicable appropriations and local funds available to the agency concerned. It shall be unlawful for any officer or employee to incur obligations in excess of approved allotments or to incur a deficiency and any obligation so made shall be deemed invalid. Nothing in this section or in chapter 328, Laws of 1959, shall prevent revisions of any allotment when necessary to prevent the making of expenditures under appropriations in this act in excess of available revenues.

(2) Issue rules and regulations to establish uniform standards and business practices throughout the state service, including regulation of travel by officers and employees and the conditions under which per diem shall be paid, so as to improve efficiency and conserve funds.

(3) Prescribe procedures and forms to carry out the above.

(4) Allot funds from appropriations in this act in advance of July 1, 1975; for the sole purpose of authorizing agencies to order goods, supplies, or services for delivery after July 1, 1975: PROVIDED, That no expenditures may be made from the appropriations contained in this act, except as otherwise provided, until after July 1, 1975.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 198. Whenever possible, the receipt of federal or other funds which are not anticipated by the governor's budget or in the appropriations enacted by the legislature shall be used to support regular programs instead of using funds appropriated from state taxes or similar revenue sources.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 199. In the event that receipts shall be less than those estimated in the budget from any source expenditures shall be limited to the amount received and allotments made as provided in section 193 of this act. Receipts for purposes of this section shall include amounts realized within one calendar month following the close of a fiscal period and applicable to expenditures of that period. The amount of such payment shall be credited to and shall be treated for all purposes as having been collected during the fiscal period.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 200. If any part of this act shall be found to be in conflict with federal requirements which are a prescribed condition to the allocation of federal funds to the state, such conflicting part of this act is hereby declared to be inoperative solely to the extent of such conflict, and such finding or determination shall not affect the operation of the remainder of this act. The rules and regulations under this act shall meet federal requirements which are a necessary condition to the receipt of federal funds by the state. .

NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. Agencies are authorized to make refunds of erroneous or excessive payments and in the case of other refunds, which may be provided by law, without express appropriation therefor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 202. Whenever allocations are made from the governor's emergency appropriation to an agency which is financed by other than general fund moneys, the director of the office of program planning and fiscal management may direct the repayment of such allocated amount to the general fund from any balance in the fund or funds which finance such agency. No appropriation shall be necessary to effect such repayment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 203. In addition to the amounts appropriated in this act for revenue for distribution, excluding those funds appropriated for urban mass transit assistance, and bond retirement and interest, and interest on registered warrants, there is also appropriated such further amounts as may be required or available for these purposes under any statutory formula or under any proper bond covenant made in accordance with law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 204. Amounts received by an agency as reimbursements pursuant to RCW 43.09.210 shall be considered as returned loans of materials supplied or services rendered. Such amounts may be expended as a part of the original appropriation of the fund to which it belongs, without further or additional appropriation, subject to conditions and procedures prescribed by the director of the office of program planning and fiscal management which shall provide for determination of full costs, disclosure of such reimbursements in the governor's budget, maximum interagency usage of data processing equipment and services and such restrictions as will promote more economical operations of state government without incurring continuing costs beyond those reimbursed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 205. In order to obtain maximum interagency use of aircraft, the Aeronautics Commission, in accordance with RCW 43.09.210 and chapter 39.34 RCW is hereby authorized to lease, purchase or otherwise acquire suitable aircraft which shall be utilized for the purposes of the Aeronautics Commission and also by other state agencies which have a need for an aircraft to carry out agency assigned responsibilities: PROVIDED, That the Aeronautics Commission is further authorized to enter into contractual agreements with other state agencies in order to acquire aircraft, establish rental rates for aircraft under their control, provide pilot services, aircraft maintenance and make such other provisions as necessary to provide aircraft and related services for multi-agency use: PROVIDED FURTHER, That in order to achieve economy in the use of the appropriations contained within this act no state agency may purchase or otherwise acquire an aircraft or enter into a flying service or aircraft rental contract without first seeking such service from the Aeronautics Commission and without prior approval of the director of the office of program planning and fiscal management.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 206. From the amounts appropriated to the senate and the house of representatives for the expenses and costs of the legislature by section 2, chapter 16, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess., the senate and house of representatives respectively shall reimburse their members in quarterly amounts of not to exceed one hundred fifty dollars upon presentation of vouchers by a member claiming reimbursement for interim expenses and certified by him that his expenses for such three month period were equal to or in excess of one hundred fifty dollars.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 207. In making expenditures for the salaries of state officers and employees, transfer from one branch of state government to another or within the legislative branch shall be deemed a termination of employment within the meaning of RCW 43.01.041 provided the officer or employee so transferred elects to receive accrued vacation leave by written notice filed with both the transferor and transferee employer at least five days preceding the effective date of the transfer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 208. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 209. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

Passed the House June 8, 1975.

Passed the Senate June 8, 1975.

Approved by the Governor June 30, 1975, with the exception of certain items which are vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 1, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to certain sections and items Substitute House Bill No. 866 entitled:

"AN ACT Adopting the budget; making appropriations and authorizing expenditures for the operations of state agencies for the fiscal biennium beginning July 1, 1975, and ending June 30, 1977; making other appropriations; designating effective dates for certain appropriations; and declaring an emergency."

The specific sections and items which I have vetoed are as follows:

1. Alternatives for Washington.

On page 4, section 11, I have vetoed subsection (10) which declares that no part of the Governor's special appropriation fund shall be used for the Alternatives for Washington program.

The value of studies which help in the planning and development of policy has long been recognized by the Legislature, and there has not been a session of the Legislature in recent history that has not appropriated funds for studies on a host of subjects. The executive, as an equal and coordinate branch of government, must likewise be permitted to engage in such studies as will enable it to carry out its constitutional and statutory duties in appropriate manner.

2. State magazine.

On page 7, section 21, I have vetoed subsection (4) which provides for the reversion of $248,000 purportedly included in state agency budgets for state magazine purposes to the general fund.

The concept of a quality state magazine was conceived to provide a single, unified, and informative source of information on the operations of state government of general interest to our citizens. It was further intended, along with executive request legislation proposed during the recently adjourned sessions of the Legislature, to eliminate the multiplicity of publications issued by state agencies, each of which provided little information of general interest. While certain of these publications serve a valuable purpose and should be continued, publication of the state magazine should remove the need for the remainder and should result in noticeable reductions in overall state agency publication costs.

3. Timber tax return audits.

On page 10, section 28, I have vetoed subsection (2) which places a restriction on the manner in which the Department of Revenue is to conduct audits of timber tax returns.

The Department of Revenue has had adequate staffing to conduct audit responsibilities assigned to it during the past biennium. Subsection (1) of section 28 mandates an increase in the audit coverage of timber tax returns. To add this burden to the department at the same time flexibility is removed for proper staffing is unduly restrictive and unrealistic.

4. Purchasing and material control.

On page 11, section 32, I have vetoed subsection (3) which appropriates $210,000 for implementation of the provisions of House Bill No. 102.

I previously vetoed this bill on May 15, 1975, and in my veto message stated that I agree with and support the intent of that legislation but could not accept the creation of a policy board to implement that intent. While I am vetoing this appropriation because it relates to House Bill No. 102, I have already asked the Department of General Administration to proceed under the policy declared by the Legislature in that bill to the fullest extent permitted by existing law.

5. Planning and Community Affairs Agency – federal grants.

On page 58, section 63, I have vetoed subsection (1) which requires the Planning and Community Affairs Agency to obtain prior approval of the Legislative Budget Committee before expenditure of federal grants which exceed by a certain amount the anticipated sum for specific activities.

I believe there are serious questions as to whether this kind of prior approval of expenditures by the Legislative Budget Committee is constitutional. These same concerns were elaborated in my veto message attached to Substitute House Bill No. 111 dated March 17, 1975. In brief, I believe this provision constitutes an encroachment into executive functions by a legislative committee and further question whether this is a valid delegation of legislative power to a single committee. The question can also be raised as to whether the delegation of this type of function to the Legislative Budget Committee would make that committee a "civil office" within the meaning of Article II, section 13 of the state constitution so that members of the Legislature would not be able to serve thereon. Even disregarding the constitutional questions, I believe the restriction is bad policy because it removes needed flexibility from the agency in utilizing the funds received. Such flexibility is required at times to meet newly imposed federal regulations governing expenditures of the grant funds.

6. Planning and Community Affairs Agency – federal grants.

On page 58, section 63, I have vetoed subsection (2) which requires the Planning and Community Affairs Agency to obtain prior approval of the Legislative Budget Committee before expending federal grants not included in the agency's appropriation.

The reasons stated above for the veto of subsection (1) of section 63 also apply here. In addition, RCW 43.79.260-280 already sets out a procedure for the receipt and expenditure of unanticipated funds involving approval by the Governor and notification to the Legislative Budget Committee and both standing Committees on Ways and Means. No valid reason has been given to alter that procedure either for this or any other agency.

7. Toll-free telephone service.

On page 59, section 63, I have vetoed subsection (9) declaring that no funds from the Planning and Community Affairs Agency appropriation shall be used for toll-free telephone services.

This provision is apparently directed at toll-free telephone services initiated by the Planning and Community Affairs Agency in the area of housing information and in encouraging local government agencies to take advantage of available state assistance in planning and other technical matters. There is every reason to believe that the use of toll-free telephone services not only promotes greater communication between that state agency and its constituent population, but also effects net cost savings by reducing the time and expense otherwise involved in travel by staff members of that agency across the state to accomplish the same goals now being achieved by installation of toll-free telephone services. The Legislature itself has recognized the wisdom of such telephone service by the installation of its own toll-free service for use by citizens from every part of the state.

8. Department of Transportation.

On page 65, I have vetoed section 72 which makes an appropriation to the Department of Transportation from the public transportation account of the general fund.

The appropriation in this section is contingent on the passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 2535. That bill was not passed by the Legislature nor was a public transportation account established in the general fund.

9. K-12 Program.

On page 81, I have vetoed section 147 which provides that no funds shall be expended for (a) 1971 "Guidelines and Standards" adopted by the State Board of Education, and (b) development of occupational skill centers.

The 1971 "Guidelines and Standards" developed by the Board of Education provides at this time the certification criteria for over 1,000 professional staff persons in the K-12 program. Perhaps, as the Legislature apparently believes, the certification process can be better administered in some other fashion. But until such time as better standards and guidelines are actually developed, it is inappropriate simply to do away with the present program and thereby jeopardize the certification of the large number of persons affected.

The prohibition against funding occupational skill centers in this section apparently arises out of legislative concern over potential duplication of effort in the area of vocational education. This same concern was a major reason for the enactment of Substitute Senate Bill No. 2463 (Chapter 174, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess.), and the Commission on Vocational Education established by that act should be permitted to determine whether such duplication exists. Enactment of the prohibition in this section is therefore premature at this time.

10. State Board of Education.

On page 82, section 148, I have vetoed subsection (5) which prohibits the State Board of Education from consolidating intermediate school districts without approval by the Legislature.

I believe that if the State Board of Education can effect greater efficiency in educational management and save the taxpayers' money by consolidating intermediate school districts, it should not be prevented from so doing. Such efforts should, indeed, be encouraged to the greatest extent.

11. Emergency school special levy relief.

On page 85, I have vetoed section 150 which appropriates $65 million for emergency special levy relief and provides a formula of distribution of these funds.

I firmly believe that the level of special levy relief approved by the Legislature is inadequate to meet the basic needs of our common schools. For those districts which have lost their special levies, it is no longer a question of simply cutting back on what have commonly become known and vaguely defined as "frills" and "extras". Rather, there are school districts across the state facing the prospect of not being able even to offer a subsistence level of education and services to the children in their schools. Not only will educational programs be cut back or eliminated, but there will be a great number of schools which will deteriorate physically into unsafe, unclean, and unhealthy facilities.

The funds are available at this time for adequate emergency relief, and I can think of no higher priority for the use of those funds. In terms of the entire state budget, the higher amount of relief I am asking the Legislature to appropriate is an insignificant sum. But in terms of affected school districts, the difference can be dramatic. Without question, the distribution of special levy relief in whatever amount should be concentrated on those districts which lost their special levies. It should also be noted that both houses at one point or other in the recently adjourned session approved special levy relief in amounts up to and exceeding $100 million, but the final action produced considerably less.

The excellence of our public school system is widely recognized and contributes immeasurably to the high quality of life we are blessed with in this state. It would indeed be sad if this invaluable asset that has been developed over many years is depreciated in one session by the refusal to look beyond short term fiscal difficulties.

12. Local economic development grants.

On page 97, section 173, I have vetoed the item earmarking $286,400 for proposed local economic development grants.

The Legislature apparently intends the amount set aside for this purpose to come partially from the elimination of the nuclear energy division in the Department of Commerce and Economic Development. I cannot accept at a time when development of energy sources could well be the most important factor in the future development of the state, the elimination of the one state program which addresses itself to energy needs for economic development. In keeping with the basic intent of the item I am vetoing, however, I will direct the Department to develop an operating plan within the limits of the agency's appropriation which will allow initiation of this pilot program of local economic development grants, without eliminating entirely the nuclear energy program.

13. Reallocation of personnel positions.

On page 112, I have vetoed section 189 which prohibits any agency from reallocating personnel board approved positions in a manner which would increase expenditures for salaries and wages.

Limitation of amounts that may be expended out of an agency's appropriation for salaries and wages is contrary to good management practice, and would severely hinder the ability to respond to changing conditions or program requirements not foreseen at the time the budget was prepared. Flexibility is often needed to meet new demands imposed by new federal regulations, state laws or changing economic conditions. It should remain the agency's prerogative to make such adjustments without violating legislative intent on program content.

14. Reduction in full time equivalent staff years.

On page 113, I have vetoed section 191 which requires all state agencies with the exception of educational institutions and the Legislature to have withheld from its fiscal year 1977 allotments an amount "not less than three percent of the funds available . . . for full-time equivalent staff years from appropriations contained in this act."

This language is unclear as to purpose and intent and easily subject to misinterpretation. For example, it could be read to mean that three percent of the full biennium FTE allowance would be withheld during the second year, which would mean six percent of the second year allotments. The language would also indicate conflict with legislative intent for the salary increase approved during the recently adjourned session. A three percent (or potential six percent) reduction in the funding available for FTE staff years could well result in lesser salary increases than were intended.

Whatever the intent of this section, I would suggest that the Legislature seek to accomplish it in a more flexible fashion and with greater uniformity in application.

15. Unanticipated receipts.

On page 114, I have vetoed section 195, which provides that unanticipated federal, state and local funds shall be used in lieu of appropriated state funds where possible, and that such unanticipated receipts shall not be spent without approval by the Legislative Budget Committee.

This section also provides that RCW 43.79.260 through 43.79.280 shall not apply to such unanticipated receipts. The referenced sections authorize the Governor to receive all funds from federal and other sources, and provide that state agencies and the Governor shall provide to the Legislative Budget Committee, and the Ways and Means Committees of both houses, copies of all proposals for such receipts and expenditures, and copies of all approvals by the Governor.

Earlier in this message, I outlined my reasons for objecting to prior approval required by the Legislative Budget Committee as it applied to funds received by the Planning and Community Affairs Agency in section 63, subsection (1) and (2). These same reasons apply here. I simply believe this kind of provision trends on questionable constitutional grounds. Moreover, no valid reasons have been cited to prove that the provisions of RCW 43.79.260-280 have not functioned satisfactorily.

With the exception of the foregoing sections and items which I have vetoed for the reasons stated, the remainder of Substitute House Bill No. 866 is approved."

Sec. 3. Section 2, chapter 111, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. as last amended by section 2, chapter 255, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 35.95.020 are each amended to read as follows:

The following terms however used or referred to in this chapter, shall have the following meanings, unless a different meaning is required by the context:

(1) "Corporate authority" shall mean the council or other legislative body of a municipality.

(2) "Municipality" shall mean any incorporated city (~~of the first, second or third class in the state~~), town, county pursuant to sections 9 and 10 of this amendatory act, any county transportation authority created pursuant to chapter 36.57 RCW, any public transportation benefit area created pursuant to sections 11 through 26 of this amendatory act, or any metropolitan municipal corporation created pursuant to RCW 35.58.010, et seq: PROVIDED, That the term "municipality" shall mean in respect to any county performing the public transportation function pursuant to sections 9 and 10 of this amendatory act only that portion of the unincorporated area lying wholly within such unincorporated transportation benefit area.

Sec. 4. Section 4, chapter 111, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 35.95.040 are each amended to read as follows:

The corporate authorities of a municipality are authorized to adopt ordinances for the levy and collection of excise taxes and/or for the imposition of an additional tax for the act or privilege of engaging in business activities. Such business and occupation tax shall be imposed in such amounts as fixed and determined by the corporate authorities of the municipality and shall be measured by the application of rates against value of products, gross proceeds of sales, or gross income of the business, as the case may be. The terms "business", "engaging in business", "gross proceeds of sales", and "gross income of the business" shall for the purpose of this chapter have the same meanings as defined and set forth in chapter 82.04 RCW or as said chapter may hereafter be amended.

The excise taxes other than the business and occupation tax above provided for shall be levied and collected from all persons within the municipality (~~who are served and billed for any one or more public utility services owned and operated by such municipality~~) in such amounts as shall be fixed and determined by the corporate authorities of the municipality: PROVIDED, That such excise tax shall not exceed one dollar per month for each housing unit. Before any county transportation authority established pursuant to chapter 36.57 RCW or any public transportation benefit area authority established pursuant to sections 11 through 26 of this amendatory act may impose any of the excise taxes authorized pursuant to this section, the authorization for imposition of such taxes shall be approved by the voters residing within such respective area.

The county on behalf of an unincorporated transportation benefit area established pursuant to sections 9 and 10 of this amendatory act may impose any of the excise taxes authorized pursuant to this section only within the boundaries of such unincorporated transportation benefit area.

Sec. 5. Section 8, chapter 167, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 36.57.080 are each amended to read as follows:

On the effective date of the proposition approved by the voters in accord with RCW ~~((82.14.047))~~ 35.95.040 or 82.14.045, as now or hereafter amended, the authority shall have and exercise all rights with respect to the construction, acquisition, maintenance, operation, extension, alteration, repair, control and management of passenger transportation which the county or any city located within such county shall have been previously empowered to exercise and such powers shall not thereafter be exercised by the county or such cities without the consent of the authority. The county and all cities within such county upon demand of the authority shall transfer to the authority all unexpended funds earmarked or budgeted from any source for public transportation, including funds receivable. The county in which an authority is located shall have the power to contract indebtedness and issue bonds pursuant to chapter 36.67 RCW to enable the authority to carry out the purposes of this chapter and ~~((RCW 82.14.047))~~ 35.95.040 or 82.14.045, as now or hereafter amended, and the purposes of this chapter and ~~((RCW 82.14.047))~~ 35.95.040 or 82.14.045, as now or hereafter amended, shall constitute a "county purpose" as that term is used in chapter 36.67 RCW.

Sec. 6. Section 2, chapter 296, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 82.14.045 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ~~The ((governing body upon written request by the mayor or other executive officer of any city within a class AA county, a class AA county or any metropolitan municipal corporation within a class AA county))~~ legislative body of any city pursuant to RCW 35.92.060, of any county which has created an unincorporated transportation benefit area pursuant to sections 9 and 10 of this amendatory act, of any public transportation benefit area pursuant to sections 18 and 19 of this amendatory act, of any county transportation authority established pursuant to chapter 36.57 RCW, and of any metropolitan municipal corporation within a class AA county pursuant to chapter 35.58 RCW, ((while not required by legislative mandate to do so,)) may, by resolution or ordinance for the sole purpose of providing funds for the operation, maintenance or capital needs of public transportation systems and in lieu of the excise taxes authorized by RCW 35.95.040, as now or hereafter amended, submit an authorizing proposition to the

Notwithstanding any provisions of this section to the contrary, any county in which a county public transportation plan has been adopted pursuant to RCW 36.57.070 and the voters of such county have authorized the imposition of a sales and use tax pursuant to the provisions of RCW 82.14.047, section 10, chapter 167, Laws of 1974 ex. sess., prior to the effective date of this 1975 amendatory act, shall be authorized to fix and impose a sales and use tax as provided in this section at not to exceed the rate so authorized without additional approval of the voters of such county as otherwise required by this section.

~~((Such))~~ The tax authorized pursuant to this section shall be in addition to the tax authorized by RCW 82.14.030 and shall be collected from those persons who are taxable by the state pursuant to chapters 82.08 and 82.12 RCW upon the occurrence of any taxable event within such city, public transportation benefit area, county, or metropolitan municipal corporation as the case may be. The rate of such tax ((imposed by such city, county or metropolitan municipal corporation)) shall be one-tenth, two-tenths, or three-tenths of one percent of the selling price (in the case of a sales tax) or value of the article used (in the case of a use tax) and shall not exceed the rate authorized in the proposition approved by the voters unless such increase shall be similarly approved~~((: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That))~~.

(2)(a) In the event a metropolitan municipal corporation shall impose a sales and use tax pursuant to this chapter no city, county which has created an unincorporated transportation benefit area, public transportation benefit area authority, or county transportation authority wholly ((or partly)) within such metropolitan municipal corporation shall ((impose a sales and use tax pursuant to this chapter)) be empowered to levy and/or collect taxes pursuant to RCW 35.58.273, 35.95.040 and/or 82.14.045, as now or hereafter amended, but nothing herein shall prevent such city or county from imposing sales and use taxes pursuant to any other authorization~~((: PROVIDED FURTHER, That in the event a metropolitan municipal corporation or county shall impose a sales and use tax pursuant to this 1971 amendatory act, no city within such county or wholly or~~

~~partly within such metropolitan municipal corporation shall impose an excise tax pursuant to RCW 35.95.040).~~

(b) In the event a county transportation authority shall impose a sales and use tax pursuant to this section, no city, county which has created an unincorporated transportation benefit area, public transportation benefit area, or metropolitan municipal corporation, located within the territory of the authority, shall be empowered to levy or collect taxes pursuant to RCW 35.58.273, 35.95.040, or 82.14.045, as now or hereafter amended.

(c) In the event a public transportation benefit area shall impose a sales and use tax pursuant to this section, no city, county which has created an unincorporated transportation benefit area, or metropolitan municipal corporation, located wholly or partly within the territory of the public transportation benefit area, shall be empowered to levy or collect taxes pursuant to RCW 35.58.273, 35.95.040 or 82.14.045, as now or hereafter amended.

(3) Any local sales and use tax revenue collected pursuant to this section by any city or by any county for transportation purposes pursuant to sections 9 and 10 of this amendatory act shall not be counted as locally generated tax revenues for the purposes of apportionment and distribution, in the manner prescribed by chapter 82.44 RCW, as now or hereafter amended, of the proceeds of the motor vehicle excise tax authorized pursuant to RCW 35.58.273, as now or hereafter amended.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. There is added to chapter 35.58 RCW a new section to read as follows:

In addition to any other authority now provided by law, and subject only to constitutional limitations, the governing body of any municipality shall be authorized to acquire, construct, operate, and maintain a public transportation system and additions and betterments thereto, and to issue general obligation bonds for public mass transportation capital purposes including but not limited to replacement of equipment: PROVIDED, That the general indebtedness incurred under this section when considered together with all the other outstanding general indebtedness of the municipality shall not exceed the amounts of indebtedness authorized by chapter 39.36 RCW and chapter 35.58 RCW, as now or hereafter amended, to be incurred without and with the assent of the voters.

Upon the effective date of this 1975 amendatory act any such municipality is authorized to pledge that the taxes authorized, levied and collected to pay or secure the payment of any bonds issued after such effective date for authorized public transportation purposes shall continue to be levied, collected and applied until such bonds shall have been paid or sufficient funds for such payment shall have been duly provided and irrevocably set aside by the issuer for such payment. If any of the revenue from any tax or surcharge authorized by this or any other chapter shall have been pledged to secure the payment of any bonds as herein authorized, then as long as that pledge shall be in effect the legislature shall not withdraw the authority to levy and collect the tax. Any municipality is authorized to pledge for the payment or security of the principal of and interest on any bonds issued for authorized public transportation purposes all or any portion of any taxes authorized to be levied by the issuer, including, but not limited to, the local sales and use tax authorized pursuant to RCW 82.14.045 and section 6 of this 1975 amendatory act, as now or hereafter amended, and not more than ten percent of the motor vehicle excise taxes levied and collected pursuant to RCW 35.58.273: PROVIDED, That such ten percent limitation shall not apply to any bonds outstanding on the effective date of this 1975 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. There is added to chapter 35.58 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Any city, county, public transportation benefit area authority, county transportation authority, or metropolitan municipal corporation operating a public transportation system shall be authorized to conduct, contract for, participate in and support research, demonstration, testing and development of public transportation systems, equipment and use incentives and shall have all powers necessary to comply with any criteria, standards, and regulations which may be adopted under the urban mass transportation act (78 Stat. 302 et seq., 49 U.S.C. 1601 et seq.) and to take all actions necessary to meet the requirements of that act. Any county in which a county transportation authority or public transportation benefit area shall have been established and any metropolitan municipal corporation which shall have been authorized to perform the function of metropolitan public transportation shall have, in addition to such powers, the authority to prepare, adopt and carry out a comprehensive transit plan and to make such other plans and studies and to perform such programs as the governing body of the county authority public transportation benefit area authority or metropolitan municipal corporation shall deem necessary to implement and comply with said federal act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. There is added to chapter 36.57 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Every county, except a county in which a metropolitan municipal corporation is performing the public transportation function as of the effective date of this 1975 amendatory act, is authorized to perform such function in such portions of the unincorporated areas of the county, except within the boundaries of a public transportation benefit area established pursuant to sections 11 through 26 of this amendatory act, as the county legislative body shall determine and the county shall have those powers as are specified in RCW 36.57.040 with respect to the provision of public transportation as is authorized pursuant to RCW 36.57.040.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. There is added to chapter 36.57 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The legislative body of any county is hereby authorized to create and define the boundaries of unincorporated transportation benefit areas within the unincorporated areas of the county, following school district or election precinct lines, as far as practicable. Such areas shall include only those portions of the unincorporated area of the county which could reasonably assume to benefit from the provision of public transportation services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. For the purposes of this chapter the following definitions shall apply:

(1) "Public transportation benefit area" means a municipal corporation of the state of Washington created pursuant to this chapter.

(2) "Public transportation benefit area authority" or "authority" means the legislative body of a public transportation benefit area.

(3) "City" means an incorporated city or town.

(4) "Component city" means an incorporated city or town within a public transportation benefit area.

(5) "City council" means the legislative body of any city or town.

(6) "County legislative body" means the board of county commissioners or the county council.

(7) "Population" means the number of residents as shown by the figures released for the most recent official state, federal, or county census, or population determination made by the office of program planning and fiscal management.

(8) "Public transportation service" means the transportation of packages, passengers and their incidental baggage by means other than by chartered bus, sight-seeing bus, together with the necessary passenger terminals and parking facilities or other properties necessary for passenger and vehicular access to and from such people moving systems: PROVIDED, That nothing shall prohibit an authority from leasing its buses to private certified carriers or prohibit the authority from providing school bus service.

(9) "Public transportation improvement conference" or "conference" shall mean the body established pursuant to section 12 of this amendatory act which shall be authorized to establish, subject to the provisions of section 13 of this amendatory act, a public transportation benefit area pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The county legislative authority of every class A, class 1, class 2, or class 3 county shall, and the legislative authority of every other county may, within ninety days of the effective date of this 1975 amendatory act, and as often thereafter as it deems necessary, and upon thirty days prior written notice addressed to the legislative body of each city within the county and with thirty days public notice, convene a public transportation improvement conference to be attended by an elected representative selected by the legislative body of each city, within such county, and by the county commissioners. Such conference shall be for the purpose of evaluating the need for and the desirability of the creation of a public transportation benefit area within certain incorporated and unincorporated portions of the county to provide public transportation services within such area. In those counties where county officials believe the need for public transportation service extends across county boundaries so as to provide public transportation service in a metropolitan area, the county legislative bodies of two or more neighboring counties may elect to convene a multi-county conference. In addition, county-wide conferences may be convened by resolution of the legislative bodies of two or more cities within the county, not to exceed one in any twelve month period, or a petition signed by at least ten percent of the registered voters in the last general election of the city, county or city/county areas of a proposed benefit area. The chairman of the conference shall be elected from the members at large.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Any conference which finds it desirable to establish a public transportation benefit area or change the boundaries of any existing public transportation benefit area shall fix a date for a public hearing thereon, or the legislative bodies of any two or more component cities or the county legislative body by resolution may require the public transportation improvement conference to fix a date for a public hearing thereon. Prior to the convening of the public hearing, the county governing body shall delineate the area of the county proposed to be included within the transportation benefit area, and shall furnish a copy of such delineation to each incorporated city within such area. Each city shall advise the county governing body, on a preliminary basis, of its desire to be included or excluded from the transportation benefit area. The county governing body shall cause the delineations to be revised to reflect the wishes of such incorporated cities. This delineation shall be considered by the conference at the public hearing for inclusion in the public transportation benefit area.

Notice of such hearing shall be published once a week for at least four consecutive weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation within the area. The notice shall contain a description and map of the boundaries of the proposed public transportation benefit area and shall state the time and place of the hearing and the fact that any changes in the boundaries of the public transportation benefit area will be considered at such time and place. At such hearing or any continuation thereof, any interested person may appear and be heard on all matters relating to the effect of the formation of the proposed public transportation benefit area.

The conference may make such changes in the boundaries of the public transportation benefit area as they shall deem reasonable and proper, but may not delete any portion of the proposed area which will create an island of included or excluded lands, and may not delete a portion of any city. If the conference shall determine that any additional territory should be included in the public transportation benefit area, a second hearing shall be held and notice given in the same manner as for the original hearing. The conference may adjourn the hearing on the formation of a public transportation benefit area from time to time not exceeding thirty days in all.

At the next regular meeting following the conclusion of such hearing the conference shall adopt a resolution fixing the boundaries of the proposed public transportation benefit area, declaring that the formation of the proposed public transportation benefit area will be conducive to the welfare and benefit of the persons and property therein.

Within thirty days of the adoption of such conference resolution, the county legislative authority of each county wherein a conference has established proposed boundaries of a public transportation benefit area, may by resolution, upon making a legislative finding that the proposed benefit area includes portions of the county which could not be reasonably expected to benefit from such benefit area or excludes portions of the county which could be reasonably expected to benefit from its creation, disapprove and terminate the establishment of such public transportation benefit area within such county.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. At the time of its formation no public transportation benefit area shall include only a part of any city, and every city shall be either wholly included or wholly excluded from the boundaries of such area. If subsequent to the formation of a public transportation benefit area a part only of any city shall be included within the boundaries of a public transportation benefit area such part shall be deemed to be "unincorporated" for the purpose of selecting a member of the governing authority pursuant to section 16 of this amendatory act.

The boundaries of any public transportation benefit area shall follow school district lines or election precinct lines, as far as practicable. Only such areas shall be included which the conference determines could reasonably benefit from the provision of public transportation services. Only one public transportation benefit area may be created in any county.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. Within sixty days of the establishment of the boundaries of the public transportation benefit area the county commissioners and elected representatives of cities within the area shall provide for the selection of the governing body of such area, the public transportation benefit area authority, which shall consist of elected officials selected by and serving at the pleasure of the governing bodies of component cities within the area and the county commissioners of each county within the area.

Within such sixty day period, the legislative body of any city may by resolution of its legislative body withdraw from participation in the public transportation benefit area. The county legislative authority and each city remaining in the public transportation benefit area may disapprove and prevent the establishment of any governing body of a public transportation benefit area if the composition thereof does not meet its approval.

In no case shall the governing body of a single county public transportation benefit area be greater than nine members and in the case of a multi-county area, fifteen members. Those cities within the transportation benefit area and excluded from direct membership on the authority are hereby authorized to designate a member of the authority who shall be entitled to represent the interests of such city which is excluded from direct membership on the authority. The legislative body of such city shall notify the authority as to the determination of its authorized representative on the authority.

Any member of the authority who is an elected official and whose office is not a full time position shall receive forty dollars for each day attending official meetings of the authority.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. The public transportation benefit area authority authorized pursuant to section 15 of this amendatory act shall develop a comprehensive transit plan for the area. Such plan shall include, but not be limited to the following elements:

(1) The levels of transit service that can be reasonably provided for various portions of the benefit area.

(2) The funding requirements, including local tax sources, state and federal funds, necessary to provide various levels of service within the area.

(3) The impact of such a transportation program on other transit systems operating within that county or adjacent counties.

(4) The future enlargement of the benefit area or the consolidation of such benefit area with other transit systems.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. The comprehensive transit plan adopted by the authority shall be reviewed by the state transportation commission, and if such commission does not exist, by the planning and community affairs agency or its successor to determine:

(1) The completeness of service to be offered and the economic viability of the transit system proposed in such comprehensive transit plan;

(2) Whether such plan integrates the proposed transportation system with existing transportation modes and systems that serve the benefit area;

(3) Whether such plan coordinates that area's system and service with nearby public transportation systems;

(4) Whether such plan is eligible for matching state or federal funds;

After reviewing the comprehensive transit plan, the state transportation commission, and if such does not exist, the planning and community affairs agency or its successor shall have sixty days in which to approve such plan and to certify to the state treasurer that such public transportation benefit area shall be eligible to receive the motor vehicle excise tax proceeds authorized pursuant to RCW 35.58.273, as now or hereafter amended in the manner prescribed by chapter 82.44 RCW, as now or hereafter amended. To be approved a plan shall provide for coordinated transportation planning, the integration of such proposed transportation program with other transportation systems operating in areas adjacent to, or in the vicinity of the proposed public transportation benefit area, and be consistent with the public transportation coordination criteria adopted pursuant to the urban mass transportation act of 1964 as amended as of the effective date of this 1975 amendatory act. In the event such comprehensive plan is disapproved and ruled ineligible to receive motor vehicle tax proceeds, the state transportation commission, and if such does not exist, the planning and community affairs agency or its successor, shall provide written notice to the authority within thirty days as to the reasons for such plan's disapproval and such ineligibility. The authority may resubmit such plan upon reconsideration and correction of such deficiencies in the plan cited in such notice of disapproval.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. In addition to the powers specifically granted by this chapter a public transportation benefit area shall have all powers which are necessary to carry out the purposes of the public transportation benefit area. A public transportation benefit area may contract with the United States or any agency thereof, any state or agency thereof, any other public transportation benefit area, any county, city, metropolitan municipal corporation, special district, or governmental agency, within or without the state, and any private person, firm or corporation for the purpose of receiving gifts or grants or securing loans or advances for preliminary planning and feasibility studies, or for the design, construction or operation of transportation facilities. In addition a public transportation benefit area may contract with any governmental agency or with any private person, firm or corporation for the use by either contracting party of all or any part of the facilities, structures, lands, interests in lands, air rights over lands and rights of way of all kinds which are owned, leased or held by the other party and for the purpose of planning, constructing or operating any facility or performing any service which the public transportation benefit area may be authorized to operate or perform, on such terms as may be agreed upon by the contracting parties. Before any contract for the lease or operation of any public transportation benefit area facilities shall be let to any private person, firm or corporation, a general schedule of rental rates for bus equipment with or without drivers shall be publicly posted applicable to all private certificated carriers, and for other facilities competitive bids shall first be called upon such notice, bidder qualifications and bid conditions as the public transportation benefit area authority shall determine.

A public transportation benefit area may sue and be sued in its corporate capacity in all courts and in all proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A public transportation benefit area authority shall have the following powers in addition to the general powers granted by this chapter:

(1) To prepare, adopt and carry out a general comprehensive plan for public transportation service which will best serve the residents of the public transportation benefit area and to amend said plan from time to time to meet changed conditions and requirements.

(2) To acquire by purchase, condemnation, gift or grant and to lease, construct, add to, improve, replace, repair, maintain, operate and regulate the use of transportation facilities and properties within or without the public transportation benefit area or the state, including systems of surface, underground or overhead railways, tramways, buses, or any other means of local transportation except taxis, and including escalators, moving sidewalks or other people-moving systems, passenger terminal and parking facilities and properties and such other facilities and properties as may be necessary for passenger and vehicular access to and from such people-moving systems, terminal and parking facilities and properties, together with all lands, rights of way, property, equipment and accessories necessary for such systems and facilities. Public transportation facilities and properties which are owned by any city may be acquired or used by the public transportation benefit area authority only with the consent of the city council of the city owning such facilities. Cities are hereby authorized to convey or lease such facilities to a public transportation benefit area authority or to contract for their joint use on such terms as may be fixed by agreement between the city council of such city and the public transportation benefit area authority, without submitting the matter to the voters of such city.

The facilities and properties of a public transportation benefit area system whose vehicles will operate primarily within the rights of way of public streets, roads or highways, may be acquired, developed and operated without the corridor and design hearings which are required by RCW 35.58.273, as now or hereafter amended, for mass transit facilities operating on a separate right of way.

(3) To fix rates, tolls, fares and charges for the use of such facilities and to establish various routes and classes of service.

In the event any public transportation benefit area shall extend its public transportation services to any area of service already offered by any company holding a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the Washington utilities and transportation commission, under RCW 81.68.040 it shall by purchase or condemnation acquire at the fair market value, from the person holding the existing certificate for providing the services, that portion of the operating authority and equipment representing the services within the area of public operation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. Except in accordance with an agreement made as provided in this section, upon the effective date on which the public transportation benefit area commences to perform the public transportation service, no person or private corporation shall operate a local public passenger transportation service within the public transportation benefit area with the exception of taxis, buses owned or operated by a school district or private school, and buses owned or operated by any corporation or organization solely for the purposes of the corporation or organization and for the use of which no fee or fare is charged.

An agreement may be entered into between the public transportation benefit area authority and any person or corporation legally operating a local public passenger transportation service wholly within or partly within and partly without the public transportation benefit area and on said effective date under which such person or corporation may continue to operate such service or any part thereof for such time and upon such terms and conditions as provided in such agreement. Where any such local public passenger transportation service will be required to cease to operate within the public transportation benefit area, the public transportation benefit area authority may agree with the owner of such service to purchase the assets used in providing such service, or if no agreement can be reached, the public transportation benefit area authority shall condemn such assets in the manner and by the same procedure as is or may be provided by law for the condemnation of other properties for cities of the first class, except insofar as such laws may be inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

Wherever a privately owned public carrier operates wholly or partly within a public transportation benefit area, the Washington utilities and transportation commission shall continue to exercise jurisdiction over such operation as provided by law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. The public transportation benefit area shall have and exercise all rights with respect to the construction, acquisition, maintenance, operation, extension, alteration, repair, control and management of passenger transportation which any component city shall have been previously empowered to exercise and such powers shall not thereafter be exercised by such component cities without the consent of the public transportation benefit area: PROVIDED, That any city owning and operating a public transportation system on such effective date of this chapter may continue to operate such system within such city until such system shall have been acquired by the public transportation benefit area and a public transportation benefit area may not acquire such system without the consent of the city council of such city.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. If a public transportation benefit area shall acquire any existing transportation system, it shall assume and observe all existing labor contracts relating to such system and, to the extent necessary for operation of facilities, all of the employees of such acquired transportation system whose duties are necessary to operate efficiently the facilities acquired shall be appointed to comparable positions to those which they held at the time of such transfer, and no employee or retired or pensioned employee of such systems shall be placed in any worse position with respect to pension seniority, wages, sick leave, vacation or other benefits that he enjoyed as an employee of such system prior to such acquisition. The public transportation benefit area authority shall engage in collective bargaining with the duly appointed representatives of any employee labor organization having existing contracts with the acquired transportation system and may enter into labor contracts with such employee labor organization.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. Each public transportation benefit area authority shall establish a fund to be designated as the "transportation fund", in which shall be placed all sums received by the authority from any source except the proceeds of bonds issued by the authority, and out of which shall be expended all sums disbursed by the authority unless otherwise provided in bond covenants. The county treasurer, or in the case of a multi-county public transportation benefit area, the county treasurer of the largest component county, shall be the custodian of the fund. The county auditor of such county shall keep the record of the receipts and disbursements, and shall draw and such county treasurer shall honor and pay all warrants, which shall be approved before issuance and payment as directed by the authority.

The county or counties and each city or town which is included in the authority shall contribute such sums towards the expense for maintaining and operating the public transportation system as shall be agreed upon between them.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. (1) An election to authorize the annexation of territory contiguous to a public transportation benefit area may be called within the area to be annexed pursuant to resolution or petition in the following manner:

(a) By resolution of a public transportation benefit area authority when it shall determine that the best interests and general welfare of such public transportation benefit area would be served. Such authority shall consider the question of areas to be annexed to the public transportation benefit area at least once every two years.

(b) By petition calling for such an election signed by at least four percent of the qualified voters residing within the area to be annexed and filed with the auditor of the county wherein the largest portion of the public transportation benefit area is located, and notice thereof shall be given to such authority. Upon receipt of such a petition, the auditor shall examine the same and certify to the sufficiency of the signatures thereon.

(c) By resolution of a public transportation benefit area authority upon request of any city for annexation thereto.

(2) The resolution or petition shall describe the boundaries of the area to be annexed. It shall require that there also be submitted to the electorate of the territory sought to be annexed a proposition authorizing the inclusion of such area within the public transportation benefit area and authorizing the imposition of such taxes authorized by law to be collected by the authority.

(3) Upon the annexation of additional area to a public transportation benefit area, the authority of the public transportation benefit area shall be reconstituted within sixty days in accordance with the provisions of section 15 of this amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. Counties that have established a county transportation authority pursuant to chapter 36.57 RCW and public transportation benefit areas that have been established pursuant to this chapter are eligible to receive a one-time advanced financial support payment from the state to assist in the development of the initial comprehensive transit plan required by RCW 36.57.070 and section 16 of this amendatory act. The amount of this support payment is established at one dollar per person residing within each county or public transportation benefit area, as determined by the office of program planning and fiscal management, but no single payment shall exceed $50,000. Repayment of an advanced financial support payment shall be made to the public transportation account in the general fund or, if such account does not exist, to the general fund by each agency within two years of the date such advanced payment was received. Such repayment shall be waived within two years of the date such advanced payment was received if the voters in the appropriate counties or public transportation benefit areas do not elect to levy and collect taxes enabled under authority of this 1975 amendatory act. The state department of transportation or, if such department does not exist, the planning and community affairs agency shall provide technical assistance in the preparation of local transit plans, and administer the advanced financial support payments authorized by this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. A public transportation benefit area established pursuant to this chapter may be dissolved and its affairs liquidated when so directed by a majority of persons in the benefit area voting on such question. An election placing such question before the voters may be called in the following manner:

- (1) By resolution of the public transportation benefit area authority;
- (2) By resolution of the county legislative body or bodies with the concurrence therein by resolution of the city council of a component city; or
- (3) By petition calling for such election signed by at least ten percent of the qualified voters residing within the area filed with auditor of the county wherein the largest portion of the public transportation benefit area is located. The auditor shall examine the same and certify to the sufficiency of the signatures thereon: PROVIDED, That to be validated, signatures must have been collected within a ninety day period as designated by the petition sponsors.

With dissolution of the benefit area, any outstanding obligations and bonded indebtedness of the public transportation benefit area shall be satisfied or allocated by mutual agreement to the county or counties and component cities of the public transportation benefit area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. There is hereby appropriated from the public transportation account in the general fund or, if such account does not exist, from the general fund to the transportation commission or, if such commission does not exist to the planning and community affairs agency for the biennium ending June 30, 1977 the sum of $450,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to carry out the provisions of sections 16, 17, and 25 of this amendatory act.

 BELLEVUE-SEATTLE SEGMENT OF
 I-90—DECISION SCHEDULE

AN ACT Relating to transportation; creating new sections; and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds that the Washington department of highways initiated route studies for the location of that segment of the national system of interstate and defense highways (interstate system) between south Bellevue and state route No. 5 in Seattle in 1957 culminating in a corridor public hearing and adoption of a corridor in 1963; that thereafter the department utilizing a multidisciplinary design team and soliciting the broadest public participation developed a series of designs culminating in a public design hearing in 1970, a public limited access hearing in 1971 and adoption of a design and limited access plan for the facility in 1971; that commencing in 1970 the proposed facility has been the subject of numerous lawsuits and administrative proceedings which have prevented advancement of the project to construction; that since further development of the project was enjoined by federal courts in 1971 the cost of constructing the project has increased by more than one hundred million dollars; that the traffic congestion and traffic hazards existing in the existing highway corridor between south Bellevue, Mercer Island and the city of Seattle are no longer tolerable; that after more than seventeen years of studies the public interest now requires that final decisions regarding the appropriate system for meeting the transportation requirements between south Bellevue and the city of Seattle be made promptly and in accordance with a prescribed schedule.

It is therefore the sense of the legislature that further protracted delay in establishing the transportation system to be constructed between south Bellevue and state route No. 5 in the city of Seattle is contrary to the interest of the people of this state and can no longer be tolerated as acceptable public administration. Accordingly the schedule for finally determining the character of transportation modes between south Bellevue and state route No. 5 in the city of Seattle as set forth in this act is adopted as the public policy of this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The Puget Sound council of governments (until July 1, 1975, known as the Puget Sound governmental conference) now engaged in a study of the withdrawal from the interstate system of that segment of state route No. 90 between the south Bellevue interchange and the Connecticut street interchange on state route No. 5 and the substitution of public mass transit projects in lieu thereof as authorized by section 103(e)(4) of Title 23, United States Code, is directed to complete all phases of the study by November 1, 1975.

(2) No later than January 15, 1976, the city councils of Seattle, Mercer Island and Bellevue and the county council of King County shall each by resolution either approve or disapprove a request to withdraw from the interstate system the segment of state route No. 90 between south Bellevue interchange and the Connecticut street interchange on state route No. 5. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as requiring the city or county councils to adopt by January 15, 1976 any proposal for substitute mass transit projects.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section House Bill No. 12 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to veterans benefits."

This bill makes certain changes in the eligibility requirements for receipt of Viet Nam veterans bonuses.

Section 4 declares an emergency and provides for the act to take effect immediately. I have, on several recent occasions, expressed my increasing apprehension over repeated and unwarranted use of emergency clauses in bills that do not measure up to the standard of urgency contained in Article II, section 1(b) of our Constitution. I have vetoed emergency clauses from such bills, and must do so again for the same reason in the case of this bill.

With the exception of section 4 which I have vetoed, the remainder of House Bill No. 12 is approved."

If the redrawing of board-member district boundaries pursuant to this chapter shall cause the resident board-member district of two or more board members to coincide, such board members shall continue to serve on the board until the next general school election at which time a new board shall be elected. The board-member districts shall be arranged so far as practicable on a basis of equal population, with consideration being given existing board members of existing ((intermediate school)) educational service district boards. Such district board, if failing to make the necessary changes prior to June 1 of the appropriate year, shall refer for settlement questions on board-member district boundaries to the state board of education, which, after a public hearing, shall decide such questions.

In such case positions number eight and nine shall be filled at the next general school election, position numbered eight to be for a term of two years, position numbered nine to be for a term of four years. Thereafter the terms for such positions shall be for four years.

In the event that there are more than three vacancies in a seven-member board or four vacancies in a nine-member board, the state board of education shall fill by appointment sufficient vacancies so that there shall be a quorum of the board serving. Each appointed board member shall serve until the next general school election, at which time there shall be elected a member to fill the unexpired term.

The board of directors, within ten days following the conclusion of such hearing, shall notify the employee in writing of its final decision either to renew or not to renew the employment of the employee for the next ensuing term. Any decision not to renew such employment contract shall be based solely upon the cause or causes for nonrenewal specified in the notice of probable cause to the employee and established by a preponderance of the evidence at the hearing to be sufficient cause or causes for nonrenewal. If any such notification or opportunity for hearing is not timely given by the district, the employee entitled thereto shall be conclusively presumed to have been reemployed by the district for the next ensuing term upon

NEW SECTION. Sec. 156. This amendatory act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.*

Sec. 156. was vetoed, see message at end of chapter.

Passed the House June 3, 1975.

Passed the Senate May 30, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of section 2 and 156 which are vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to two sections House Bill No. 205 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to intermediate school districts; redesignating such districts, with their attendant boards and officials as educational service districts."

Section 2 contains a proviso which prohibits the State Board of Education from consolidating intermediate school districts without express approval by the Legislature. Recent studies have shown that consolidation of intermediate school districts will lead to greater efficiency in educational management and attendant cost savings. I believe the State Board of Education should not be prevented from taking measures to improve management and save tax money in this manner.

Section 156 declares an emergency and provides for the act to take effect immediately. I have, on several recent occasions, expressed my increasing apprehension over repeated and unwarranted use of emergency clauses in bills that do not measure up to the standard of urgency contained in Article II, section 1(b) of our Constitution. I have vetoed emergency clauses from such bills, and must do so again for the same reason in the case of this bill.

With the exception of sections 2 and 156 which I have vetoed, the remainder of House Bill No. 205 is approved."

CAPITAL BUDGET

AN ACT Adopting the capital budget; making appropriations and authorizing expenditures for capital improvements; authorizing certain projects; and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. A capital budget is hereby adopted and subject to provisions hereinafter set forth the several amounts hereinafter specified, or so much thereof as shall be sufficient to accomplish the purposes designated, are hereby appropriated and authorized to be disbursed for capital projects during the period ending June 30, 1977, out of several funds hereinafter named.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The legislature finds that present management of capital projects does not always ensure a systematic review of project increments such as planning, design, site acquisition, and construction. Projects are not regularly subjected to independent technical review concerning less costly alternatives nor are such projects regularly considered in context with master planning projections.

The office of program planning and fiscal management, in order to ensure management control, shall prepare a capital construction projects management plan for every item included in this act, except that fire and safety projects and maintenance type projects may be exempted from the master plan and program plan provisions of this section when such exemptions are approved by the office of program planning and fiscal management. Such capital construction projects management plan shall consider, but not necessarily be limited to, the following elements:

- (1) Master plan;
- (2) Program plan;
- (3) Physical plan; and
- (4) Construction.

The management plan shall provide for technical feasibility review of capital projects by the department of general administration and provision for incremental approvals of capital projects.

The management plan for capital projects shall be submitted to the legislature, no later than January 1, 1976, along with the recommendations of the office of program planning and fiscal management and the department of general administration concerning technical feasibility, schedules for the release of funds by project increments, and other pertinent concerns regarding capital projects approved in this act.

For the purposes of this section:

"Master plan" includes, but is not limited to, identification and analysis of present institutional programs and a minimum five year projection thereof; identification and categorization of current physical facilities and an analysis of effectiveness of utilization; an analysis of match between program and necessary physical facilities based on objective standards as developed by appropriate state agencies; and recommendations for sale, purchase, demolition, expansion, renovation, replacement, or relocation of facilities.

"Program plan" relates to a specific project or facility and shall include, but is not limited to, an inventory of amounts and types of space currently available; an analysis of amounts, types, and relative locations of space required for current programs as determined by use of accepted state space standards; an analysis of projected programs and space required; and, if a change in facilities is justified from analysis, recommendations for demolition, remodeling, or construction.

"Physical plan" includes survey and site investigation and architectural and engineering designs.

"Construction" includes detailed budgets and realistic schedules for project implementation.

thereby reduce the long term operating costs of new state facilities. The departments shall submit a joint report to both the governor and legislature on the results of the implementation of this section. Such report shall be presented to the next regular session of the legislature for its consideration.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. During the 1975-77 biennium the state parks and recreation commission shall make no contractual agreements or receive any donation of real property or an interest therein which commits the commission to either assuming on a current basis or to requesting funds at a future time for development or acquisition costs without prior approval of the legislative budget committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. To effectively carry out the provisions of this act, the governor may assign responsibility for planning, engineering and construction and other related activities to any appropriate agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. Reappropriations shall be limited to the unexpended balances remaining June 30, 1975, in the current appropriation for each project.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. The governor, through the director of the office of program planning and fiscal management, may authorize a transfer of funds appropriated for a capital project in excess of the amount required for the completion of such project to another capital project for which the appropriation is insufficient only within the department of social and health services, or between appropriations for a specific department, commission or institution of higher education. No such transfer shall be used to expand the capacity of any facility beyond that anticipated by the legislature in making the appropriation. A report of any transfer effected under this section shall be filed with the legislative auditor for transmittal to the legislative budget committee by the director of the office of program planning and fiscal management within thirty days of the date the transfer is effected.

projects involving inmate labor at a state institution: PROVIDED FURTHER, That it is the intent of the legislature that in any decision to contract for capital projects funded as the result of this act, full and fair consideration shall be given to minority contractors.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

Passed the House June 9, 1975.

Passed the Senate June 9, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of a certain item which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of item veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one item Substitute House Bill No. 206 entitled:

"AN ACT Adopting the capital budget; making appropriations and authorizing expenditures for capital improvements; authorizing certain projects."

In section 19, beginning on page 45, I have vetoed the proviso beginning on line 33 and ending on line 1, page 46, which prohibits the expenditure of funds for planning or construction of occupational skill centers.

This proviso apparently arises out of legislative concern over potential duplication of effort in the area of vocational education. This same concern was a major reason for the enactment of Substitute Senate Bill No. 2463 (Chapter 174, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess.), and the Commission on Vocational Education established by that act should be permitted to determine whether such duplication exists. Enactment of the prohibition in this proviso is therefore premature at this time.

With the exception of the foregoing proviso which I have vetoed for the reasons stated, the remainder of the bill is approved."

[Substitute House Bill No. 211]

BUSINESS REGULATIONS—FARM IMPLEMENTS, MACHINERY AND REPAIR PARTS

AN ACT Relating to business regulations; adding a new chapter to Title 19 RCW; and providing an effective date.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. Whenever any person, firm, or corporation engaged in the retail sale of farm implements and repair parts therefor enters into a written contract with any wholesaler, manufacturer, or distributor of farm implements, machinery, attachments, accessories, or repair parts whereby such retailer agrees to maintain a stock of parts or complete or whole machines, attachments, or accessories, and either party to such contract desires to cancel or discontinue the contract, unless the retailer should desire to keep such merchandise the manufacturer, wholesaler, or distributor shall pay the retailer for the merchandise.

Such payment shall be in the amount of one hundred percent of the net cost of all current unused complete farm implements, machinery, attachments, and accessories, including transportation charges paid by the retailer, and eighty-five percent of the current net prices on repair parts, including superseded parts listed in current price lists or catalogs which parts had previously been purchased from such wholesaler, manufacturer, or distributor and held by such retailer on the date of the cancellation or discontinuance of such contract or thereafter received by such retailer from the wholesaler, manufacturer, or distributor. The wholesaler, manufacturer, or distributor shall also pay such retailer a sum equal to five percent of the current net price of all parts returned for the handling, packing, and loading of such parts for return: PROVIDED, That the provisions of this section shall apply only to repair parts which are new, unused, and in good condition. Upon the payment of such amounts, the title to such farm implements, farm machinery, attachments, accessories, or repair parts, shall pass to the manufacturer, wholesaler, or distributor making such payment, and such manufacturer, wholesaler, or distributor shall be entitled to the possession of such merchandise.

The provisions of this section shall apply to any annual part return adjustment agreement made between a seller or retailer and a manufacturer, wholesaler, or distributor.

The provisions of this section shall be supplemental to any agreement between the retailer and the manufacturer, wholesaler, or distributor covering the return of farm implements, machinery, attachments, accessories, and repair parts so that the retailer can elect to pursue either his contract remedy or the remedy provided herein, and an election by the retailer to pursue his contract remedy shall not bar his right to the remedy provided herein as to those farm implements, machinery, attachments, accessories, and repair parts not affected by the contract remedy.

The provisions of this section shall apply to all contracts now in effect which have no expiration date and are a continuing contract, and all other contracts entered into or renewed after January 1, 1976. Any contract in force and effect on January 1, 1976, which by its own terms will terminate on a date subsequent thereto shall be governed by the law as it existed prior to this chapter: PROVIDED, That no contract covered by this chapter may be cancelled by any party without good cause. Good cause shall include, but shall not be restricted to, the failure of any party to comply with the lawful provisions of the contract, the adjudication of any party to a contract as a bankrupt, wrongful refusal of manufacturer, wholesaler, or distributor to supply farm machinery, farm implements and repair parts therefor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. All repurchase payments to retailers and sellers made pursuant to section 1 of this 1975 act shall be less amounts owed on any lien or claim then outstanding upon such items covered by this section. Any wholesaler, manufacturer, or distributor making repurchase payments covered by this chapter to any retailer or seller shall satisfy such secured liens or claims pursuant to chapter 62A.9 RCW less any interest owed to the lienholder arising from the financing of such items which shall be paid to any such secured lienholder by the retailer or seller. In no case shall the wholesaler, manufacturer, or distributor, in making payments covered by section 1 of this 1975 act, pay in excess of those amounts prescribed therein.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The prices of farm implements, machinery and repair parts therefor, required to be paid to any retail dealer as provided in section 1 of this 1975 act shall be determined by taking one hundred percent of the net cost on farm implements, machinery, and attachments, and eighty-five percent of the current net price of repair parts therefor as shown upon the manufacturer's, wholesaler's, or distributor's price lists or catalogues in effect at the time such contract is canceled or discontinued.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. In the event that any manufacturer, wholesaler, or distributor of farm machinery, farm implements, and repair parts therefor, upon cancellation or discontinuation of a contract by either a retailer or a manufacturer, wholesaler, or distributor, fails or refuses to make payment to such dealer as is required by section 1 of this 1975 act, such manufacturer, wholesaler, or distributor shall be liable in a civil action to be brought by such retailer for such payments as are required by section 1 of this 1975 act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Sections 1 through 4 of this 1975 act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 19 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. This act shall take effect on January 1, 1976.

The county treasurer shall issue triplicate receipts therefor, one of which shall be filed with the county auditor, one with the court, and one with the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue. If the funds remain in the county treasury unclaimed for a period of four years and ninety days, the county treasurer shall forthwith remit them to the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue for deposit in the state treasury in the fund in which escheats and forfeitures are by law required to be deposited.

It must contain the names and business addresses of all creditors of the transferor, with the amounts when known, and also the names of all persons who are known to the transferor to assert claims against him even though such claims are disputed. If the transferor is the obligor of an outstanding issue of bonds, debentures or the like as to which there is an indenture trustee, the list of creditors need include only the name and address of the indenture trustee and the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the issue.

(3) Responsibility for the completeness and accuracy of the list of creditors rests on the transferor, and the transfer is not rendered ineffective by errors or omissions therein unless the transferee is shown to have had knowledge.

Sec. 34. Section 6-107, chapter 157, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 62A.6-107 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The notice to creditors (RCW 62A.6-105) shall state:

(c) whether or not all the debts of the transferor are to be paid in full as they fall due as a result of the transaction, and if so, the address to which creditors should send their bills.

(2) If the debts of the transferor are not to be paid in full as they fall due or if the transferee is in doubt on that point then the notice shall state further:

(a) the location and general description of the property to be transferred and the estimated total of the transferor's debts;

(b) the address where the schedule of property and list of creditors (RCW 62A.6-104) may be inspected;

(3) The notice in any case shall be delivered personally or sent by registered or certified mail to all the persons shown on the list of creditors furnished by the transferor (RCW 62A.6-104), to all other persons who are known to the transferee to hold or assert claims against the transferor, and to the office of the state ((~~tax commission~~)) department of revenue. A copy of the notice shall be filed in the office of the county auditor of the county in which the property transferred is located and indexed as chattel mortgages are indexed, the name of the vendor being indexed as mortgagor and the name of the intending purchaser as mortgagee.

each year, certify to the state treasurer the amount needed in the ensuing twelve months to meet bond retirement and interest requirements and the state treasurer shall thereupon deposit such amount in said juvenile correctional institution building bond redemption fund from moneys transmitted to the state treasurer by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue and certified by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue to be sales tax collections and such amount certified by the state finance committee to the state treasurer shall be a prior charge against all retail sales tax revenues of the state of Washington, except that portion thereof heretofore pledged for the payment of bond principal and interest.

The owner and holder of each of said bonds or the trustee for any of the bonds may by mandamus or other appropriate proceeding require and compel the transfer and payment of funds as directed herein.

Sec. 37. Section 6, chapter 298, Laws of 1957 and RCW 72.99.120 are each amended to read as follows:

There is hereby created in the state treasury a special fund to be known as the state building construction bond redemption fund, which fund shall be exclusively devoted for the retirement of said bonds upon maturity and the payment of interest as it falls due. The state finance committee shall, on or before June 30th of each year, certify to the state treasurer the amount needed in the ensuing twelve months to meet bond retirement and interest requirements, and the state treasurer shall thereupon deposit such amount in said state building construction bond redemption fund from moneys transmitted to the state treasurer by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue and certified by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue to be sales tax collections, and such amount certified by the state finance committee to the state treasurer shall be a prior charge against all retail sales tax revenues of the state of Washington, subject to and inferior only to the charges thereon created by chapters 229 and 230, Laws of 1949 [RCW 28A.47.130–28A.47.180 and 72.99.010–72.99.060]. Said bond redemption fund shall be kept segregated from all moneys in the state treasury and shall, while any of such bonds or interest thereon remains unpaid, be available solely for the payment thereof. As a part of the contract of sale of the bonds herein authorized, the state undertakes to continue to levy and collect a tax on retail sales equal to that portion thereof allocated to said fund as provided in RCW 72.99.070 through 72.99.160, and to place the proceeds thereof in the state building construction bond redemption fund and to make said fund available to meet said payments when due until all bonds and the interest thereon authorized under RCW 72.99.070 through 72.99.160 shall have been paid.

Sec. 38. Section 4, chapter 299, Laws of 1957 and RCW 72.99.200 are each amended to read as follows:

The owner and holder of each of said bonds or the trustee for any of the bonds may by mandamus or other appropriate proceeding require and compel the transfer and payment of funds as directed herein.

Sec. 39. Section 82.04.020, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.04.020 are each amended to read as follows:

"Tax year" or "taxable year" means either the calendar year, or the taxpayer's fiscal year when permission is obtained from the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue to use a fiscal year in lieu of the calendar year.

Sec. 40. Section 82.04.090, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.04.090 are each amended to read as follows:

"Value proceeding or accruing" means the consideration, whether money, credits, rights, or other property expressed in terms of money, actually received or accrued. The term shall be applied, in each case, on a cash receipts or accrual basis according to which method of accounting is regularly employed in keeping the books of the taxpayer. The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may provide by regulation that the value proceeding or accruing from sales on the installment plan under conditional contracts of sale may be reported as of the dates when the payments become due.

Sec. 41. Section 82.04.300, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 3, chapter 293, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.04.300 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter shall apply to any person engaging in any business activity taxable under RCW 82.04.230, 82.04.240, 82.04.250, 82.04.260, 82.04.270, 82.04.275, 82.04.280 and 82.04.290 other than those whose value of products, gross proceeds of sales, or gross income of the business is less than three hundred dollars per month: PROVIDED, That where one person engages in more than one business activity and the combined measures of the tax applicable to such businesses equal or exceed three hundred dollars per month, no exemption or deduction from the amount of tax is allowed by this section.

Any person claiming exemption under the provisions of this section may be required to file returns even though no tax may be due: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the ((tax commission)) department of revenue may allow exemptions, by general rule or regulation, in those instances in which quarterly, semiannual, or annual returns are permitted. Exemptions for such periods shall be equivalent in amount to the total of exemptions for each month of a reporting period.

Sec. 42. Section 82.04.450, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.04.450 are each amended to read as follows:

The value of products, including byproducts, extracted or manufactured shall be determined by the gross proceeds derived from the sale thereof whether such sale is at wholesale or at retail, to which shall be added all subsidies and bonuses received from the purchaser or from any other person with respect to the extraction, manufacture, or sale of such products or byproducts by the seller, except:

(1) Where such products, including byproducts, are extracted or manufactured for commercial or industrial use;

(2) Where such products, including byproducts, are shipped, transported or transferred out of the state, or to another person, without prior sale or are sold under circumstances such that the gross proceeds from the sale are not indicative of the true value of the subject matter of the sale.

In the above cases the value shall correspond as nearly as possible to the gross proceeds from sales in this state of similar products of like quality and character, and in similar quantities by other taxpayers, plus the amount of subsidies or bonuses ordinarily payable by the purchaser or by any third person with respect to the extraction, manufacture, or sale of such products. The ((tax commission)) department of revenue shall prescribe uniform and equitable rules for the purpose of ascertaining such values.

Sec. 43. Section 82.04.470, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.04.470 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless a seller has taken from the purchaser a resale certificate signed by, and bearing the name and address and registration number of the purchaser to the effect that the property was purchased for resale, or unless the nature of the transaction is clearly shown as a sale at wholesale by the books and records of the taxpayer in such other manner as the ((tax commission)) department of revenue shall by regulation provide, the burden of proving that a sale of tangible personal property was not a sale at retail shall be upon the person who made it.

Sec. 44. Section 82.04.480, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.04.480 are each amended to read as follows:

Every consignee, bailee, factor, or auctioneer having either actual or constructive possession of tangible personal property, or having possession of the documents of title thereto, with power to sell such tangible personal property in his or its own name and actually so selling, shall be deemed the seller of such tangible personal property within the meaning of this chapter; and further, the consignor, bailor, principal, or owner shall be deemed a seller of such property to the consignee, bailee, factor, or auctioneer.

The burden shall be upon the taxpayer in every case to establish the fact that he is not engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property but is acting merely as broker or agent in promoting sales for a principal. Such claim will be allowed only when the taxpayer's accounting records are kept in such manner as the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall by general regulation provide.

Sec. 45. Section 82.04.490, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.04.490 are each amended to read as follows:

The taxes imposed hereunder shall be due and payable in monthly installments and remittance therefor shall be made on or before the fifteenth day of the month next succeeding the end of the monthly period in which tax accrued. The taxpayer, on or before said fifteenth day of said month, shall make out a return, upon such forms and setting forth such information as the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may require, showing the amount of the tax for which he is liable for the preceding monthly period, sign and transmit the same to the ~~((commission))~~ department, together with a remittance for such amount in the form required: PROVIDED, That any such taxpayer may elect to remit each month on such forms as the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall in its discretion prescribe, an estimate of the tax to be due for each month on or before the fifteenth day of the month next succeeding the end of the monthly period in which the tax accrued, and a quarterly return to the ~~((commission))~~ department on or before the fifteenth day of the month next succeeding the end of each quarter of every year and shall remit therewith the balance of the actual tax due for the period of the report: PROVIDED FURTHER, That every person who shall elect to remit a monthly "estimate of the tax to be due" as hereinabove described shall remit each month at least one-third of the tax paid during the previous quarter or, ninety percent of the tax actually collected or owing during the month, whichever is greater.

The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may also relieve any taxpayer or class of taxpayers from the obligation of filing monthly returns and may require the return to cover other reporting periods, but in no event shall returns be filed for a period greater than one year.

The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may also, by general rule or regulation, establish conditions for submission of annual or semiannual reconciling returns by such taxpayers or class of taxpayers in lieu of quarterly returns.

The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may also require verified annual returns from any taxpayer, setting forth such additional information as it may deem necessary to correctly determine tax liability.

Sec. 46. Section 82.08.040, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.08.040 are each amended to read as follows:

Every consignee, bailee, factor, or auctioneer authorized, engaged, or employed to sell or call for bids on tangible personal property belonging to another, and so selling or calling, shall be deemed the seller of such tangible personal property within the meaning of this chapter and all sales made by such persons are subject to its provisions even though the sale would have been exempt from tax hereunder had it been made directly by the owner of the property sold. Every consignee, bailee, factor, or auctioneer shall collect and remit the amount of tax due under this chapter with respect to sales made or called by him: PROVIDED, That if the owner of the property sold is engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property in this state the tax imposed under this chapter may be remitted by such owner under such rules and regulations as the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall prescribe.

Sec. 47. Section 82.08.060, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.08.060 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall have power to adopt rules and regulations prescribing methods and schedules for the collection of the tax required to be collected by the seller from the buyer under this chapter. The methods and schedules prescribed shall be adopted so as to eliminate the collection of fractions of one cent and so as to provide that the aggregate collections of all taxes by the seller shall, insofar as practicable, equal the amount of tax imposed by this chapter. Such schedules may provide that no tax need be collected from the buyer upon sales below a stated sum and may be amended from time to time to accomplish the purposes set forth herein.

Sec. 48. Section 82.08.080, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 2, chapter 244, Laws of 1963 and RCW 82.08.080 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue may authorize a seller to pay the tax levied under this chapter upon sales made through vending machines and similar devices or where sales are made under conditions of business such as to render impracticable the collection of the tax as a separate item and waive collection of the tax from the customer. Where sales are made by receipt of a coin or coins dropped into a receptacle that results in delivery of the merchandise in single purchases of smaller value than the minimum sale upon which a one cent tax may be collected from the purchaser, according to the schedule provided by the ~~((commission))~~ department under authority of RCW 82.08.060, and where the design of the sales device is such that multiple sales of items are not possible or cannot be detected so as practically to assess a tax, in such a case the selling price for the purposes of the tax imposed under RCW 82.08.020 shall be sixty percent of the gross receipts of the vending machine through which such sales are made. No such authority shall be granted except upon application to the ~~((commission))~~ department and unless the ~~((commission))~~ department, after hearing, finds that the conditions of the applicant's business are such as to render impracticable the collection of the tax in the manner otherwise provided. The ~~((commission))~~ department, by regulation, may provide that the applicant, under this section, furnish a proper bond sufficient to secure the payment of the tax.

Sec. 49. Section 82.08.090, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.08.090 are each amended to read as follows:

In the case of installment sales and leases of personal property, the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue, by regulation, may provide for the collection of taxes upon the installments of the purchase price, or amount of rental, as of the time the same fall due.

Sec. 50. Section 82.08.100, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.08.100 are each amended to read as follows:

The (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue, by general regulation, may provide that a taxpayer whose regular books of account are kept on a cash receipts basis may file returns based upon his cash receipts for each reporting period and pay the tax herein provided upon such basis in lieu of reporting and paying the tax on all sales made during such period.

Sec. 51. Section 82.08.120, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.08.120 are each amended to read as follows:

Whoever, excepting as expressly authorized by this chapter, refunds, remits, or rebates to a buyer, either directly or indirectly and by whatever means, all or any part of the tax levied by this chapter, or makes in any form of advertising, verbal or otherwise, any statements which might infer that he is absorbing the tax or paying the tax for the buyer by an adjustment of prices, or at a price including the tax, or in any other manner whatsoever shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The violation of this section by any person holding a license granted by the state or any political subdivision thereof shall be sufficient grounds for the cancellation of the license of such person upon written notification by the (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue to the proper officer of the department granting the license that such person has violated the provisions of this section. Before any license shall be canceled hereunder, the licensee shall be entitled to a hearing before the department granting the license under such regulations as the department may prescribe.

Sec. 52. Section 82.12.010, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 17, chapter 173, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 82.12.010 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Value of the article used" shall mean the consideration, whether money, credit, rights, or other property, expressed in terms of money, paid or given or contracted to be paid or given by the purchaser to the seller for the article of tangible personal property, the use of which is taxable under this chapter. The term includes, in addition to the consideration paid or given or contracted to be paid or given, the amount of any tariff or duty paid with respect to the importation of the article used. In case the article used is acquired by lease or by gift or is extracted, produced, or manufactured by the person using the same or is sold under conditions wherein the purchase price does not represent the true value thereof, the value of the article used shall be determined as nearly as possible according to the retail selling price at place of use of similar products of like quality and character under such rules and regulations as the (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue may prescribe.

In case the articles used are acquired by bailment, the value of the use of the articles so used shall be in an amount representing a reasonable rental for the use of the articles so bailed, determined as nearly as possible according to the value of such use at the places of use of similar products of like quality and character under such rules and regulations as the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may prescribe;

In the case of articles manufactured or produced by the user and used in the manufacture or production of products sold or to be sold to the department of defense of the United States, the value of the articles used shall be determined according to the value of the ingredients of such articles.

(2) "Use," "used," "using," or "put to use" shall have their ordinary meaning, and shall mean the first act within this state by which the taxpayer takes or assumes dominion or control over the article of tangible personal property (as a consumer), and include installation, storage, withdrawal from storage, or any other act preparatory to subsequent actual use or consumption within this state;

(3) "Taxpayer" and "purchaser" include all persons included within the meaning of the word "buyer" and the word "consumer" as defined in chapters 82.04 and 82.08 RCW;

(4) "Retailer" means every person engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property at retail and every person required to collect from purchasers the tax imposed under this chapter;

(5) The meaning ascribed to words and phrases in chapters 82.04 and 82.08 RCW, insofar as applicable, shall have full force and effect with respect to taxes imposed under the provisions of this chapter. "Consumer," in addition to the meaning ascribed to it in chapters 82.04 and 82.08 RCW insofar as applicable, shall also mean any person who distributes or displays, or causes to be distributed or displayed, any article of tangible personal property, except newspapers, the primary purpose of which is to promote the sale of products or services.

Sec. 53. Section 82.12.050, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.12.050 are each amended to read as follows:

Each taxpayer subject to the provisions of this chapter shall, on or before the fifteenth day of the month succeeding the end of the monthly period in which the tax accrued, file a return with the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue showing in detail the total quantity of tangible personal property used by him within the state during the preceding monthly period subject to the tax herein imposed, and such other information as the ~~((commission))~~ department may deem pertinent. Each taxpayer shall remit to the ~~((commission))~~ department with his return the amount of tax shown thereon to be due: PROVIDED, That any such taxpayer may elect to remit each month on such forms as the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall in its discretion prescribe, an estimate of the tax to be due for each month on or before the fifteenth day of the month next succeeding the end of the monthly period in which the tax accrued, and a quarterly return to the ~~((commission))~~ department on or before the fifteenth day of the month next succeeding the end of each quarter of every year and shall remit therewith the balance of the actual tax due for the period of the report: PROVIDED FURTHER, That every person who shall elect to remit a monthly "estimate of the tax to be due" as hereinabove described shall remit each month at least one-third of the tax paid during the previous quarter or, ninety percent of the tax actually collected or owing during the month, whichever is greater.

The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may also relieve any taxpayer or class of taxpayers from the obligation of filing monthly returns and may require the return to cover other reporting periods, but in no event shall returns be filed for a period greater than one year.

The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may also, by general rule or regulation, establish conditions for submission of annual or semiannual reconciling returns by such taxpayers or class of taxpayers in lieu of quarterly returns.

The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may also require verified annual returns from any taxpayer, setting forth such additional information as it may deem necessary to correctly determine tax liability.

The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall, by rule or regulation, establish procedures and forms for reporting consonant with efficient tax administration and accounting procedure to carry into effect the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 54. Section 82.12.060, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 16, chapter 293, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.12.060 are each amended to read as follows:

In the case of installment sales and leases of personal property, the ~~((commission))~~ department, by regulation, may provide for the collection of taxes upon the installments of the purchase price, or amount of rental, as of the time the same fall due.

In the case of property acquired by bailment, the ~~((commission))~~ department, by regulation, may provide for payment of the tax due in installments based on the reasonable rental for the property as determined under RCW 82.12.010(1).

Sec. 55. Section 82.12.070, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.12.070 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue, by general regulation, may provide that a taxpayer whose regular books of account are kept on a cash receipts basis may file returns based upon his cash receipts for each reporting period and pay the tax herein provided upon such basis in lieu of reporting and paying the tax on all sales made during such period.

Sec. 56. Section 82.16.070, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 14, chapter 293, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.16.070 are each amended to read as follows:

The taxes imposed hereunder shall be due and payable in monthly installments and remittance therefor shall be made on or before the fifteenth day of the month next succeeding the end of the monthly period in which the tax accrued. The taxpayer on or before the fifteenth day of such month shall make out a return, upon such forms and setting forth such information as the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may require, showing the amount of the tax for which he is liable for the preceding monthly period, sign, and transmit the same to the ~~((commission))~~ department, together with a remittance for such amount in the form required in chapter 82.32 RCW: PROVIDED, That any such taxpayer may elect to remit each month on such forms as the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall in its discretion prescribe, an estimate of the tax to be due for each month on or before the fifteenth day of the month next succeeding the end of the monthly period in which the tax accrued, and a quarterly return to the (~~commission~~) department on or before the fifteenth day of the month next succeeding the end of each quarter of every year and shall remit therewith the balance of the actual tax due for the period of the report: PROVIDED FURTHER, That every person who shall elect to remit a monthly "estimate of the tax to be due" as hereinabove described shall remit each month at least one-third of the tax paid during the previous quarter or, at least ninety percent of the tax actually collected or owing during the month.

The (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue may also relieve any taxpayer or class of taxpayers from the obligation of filing monthly returns and may require the return to cover other reporting periods, but in no event shall returns be filed for a period greater than one year.

The (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue may also, by general rule or regulation, establish conditions for submission of annual or semiannual reconciling returns by such taxpayers or class of taxpayers in lieu of quarterly returns.

The (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue may also require verified annual returns from any taxpayer, setting forth such additional information as it may deem necessary to correctly determine tax liability.

The (~~commission~~) department shall, by rule or regulation, establish procedures and forms for reporting consonant with efficient tax administration and accounting procedure to carry into effect the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 57. Section 82.20.020, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.20.020 are each amended to read as follows:

The (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue shall cause to be prepared and distributed for the payment of the taxes prescribed in this chapter suitable stamps denoting the tax on any instrument, document, or paper, to which the same may be affixed, and shall prescribe such method for the affixing of the stamps as it may deem expedient.

Sec. 58. Section 82.20.030, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.20.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever any stamp is used for denoting any tax imposed by this chapter, except as hereinafter provided, the person using or affixing the same shall write or stamp thereon, the initials of his name and the date upon which it is attached or used, so that the stamp may not again be used. The (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue may prescribe such other method for the cancellation of the stamps as it may deem expedient.

Sec. 59. Section 82.20.040, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.20.040 are each amended to read as follows:

The (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue may, upon receipt of satisfactory evidence of the facts, make allowance for or redeem such of the stamps, issued under authority of law to denote the payment of any tax, as may have been spoiled, destroyed or rendered useless or unfit for the purpose intended, or for which the owner may have no use, or which, through mistake, have been improperly or unnecessarily used, or where the returns or duties represented thereby have been excessive in amount, paid in error, or in any manner wrongfully collected. Such allowance or redemption may be made, either by giving other stamps in lieu of the stamps so allowed for or redeemed or by refunding the amount of value to the owner thereof; but no allowance or redemption shall be made in any case until the stamps so spoiled or rendered useless have been returned to the ((~~commission~~)) department, or until satisfactory proof has been made showing the reason why they cannot be returned. No claim for the redemption of or allowance for stamps shall be allowed unless presented within two years after the purchase of the stamps from the ((~~commission~~)) department.

Sec. 60. Section 82.20.060, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.20.060 are each amended to read as follows:

Every person shall cause to be affixed on every package of cigarettes on which a tax is due, stamps of an amount equaling the tax due thereon before he sells, offers for sale, uses, consumes, handles, removes, or otherwise disturbs and distributes the same: PROVIDED, That where it is established to the satisfaction of the ((~~commission~~)) department that it is impractical to affix such stamps to the smallest container or package, the ((~~commission~~)) department may authorize the affixing of stamps of appropriate denomination to a large container or package.

All wholesalers shall within fifteen days after the first day of each month file with the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue a report of all drop shipment sales made by them to retailers within this state during the preceding month, which report shall show the name and address of the retailer to whom the cigarettes were sold, the kind and quantity, and the date of delivery thereof.

(9) For any person to make, use, or present or exhibit to the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue or any duly authorized agent thereof, any invoice for any of the articles herein taxed which bears an untrue date or falsely states the nature or quantity of the goods therein invoiced;

(10) For any wholesaler or retailer or his agents or employees to fail to produce on demand of the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue all invoices of all the articles herein taxed or stamps bought by him or received in his place of business within five years prior to such demand unless he can show by satisfactory proof that the nonproduction of the invoices was due to causes beyond his control;

(11) For any person to receive in this state any shipment of any of the articles taxed herein, when the same are not stamped, for the purpose of avoiding payment of tax. It is presumed that persons other than dealers who purchase or receive shipments of unstamped cigarettes do so to avoid payment of the tax imposed herein.

All agents, employees, and others who aid, abet, or otherwise participate in any way in the violation of the provisions of this chapter or in any of the offenses herein described shall be guilty and punishable as principals, to the same extent as any wholesaler or retailer violating the provisions thereof.

Sec. 64. Section 82.24.120, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.24.120 are each amended to read as follows:

If any person, subject to the provisions of this chapter or any rules and regulations promulgated by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue under authority hereof, is found to have failed to affix the stamps required, or to have them affixed as herein provided, or to pay any tax due hereunder, or to have violated any of the provisions of this chapter or rules and regulations promulgated by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue in the administration hereof, there shall be assessed and collected from such person, in addition to any tax that may be found due, a penalty equal to the amount of any tax found to be due plus interest thereon at the rate of one percent for each thirty days or portions thereof from the date the tax became due, and upon notice mailed to the last known address of the taxpayer said amount shall become due and payable in ten days, at which time the ~~((commission))~~ department or its duly authorized agent may make immediate demand upon such person for the payment of all such taxes and penalties. The ~~((commission))~~ department, for good reason shown, may remit all or any part of penalties imposed, but the taxpayer must pay all taxes due and interest thereon, at the rate of one percent for each thirty days or portion thereof. The keeping of any unstamped articles coming within the provisions of this chapter shall be prima facie evidence of intent to violate the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 65. Section 82.24.140, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.24.140 are each amended to read as follows:

In all cases of seizure of any property made subject to forfeiture under the provisions of this chapter, which, in the opinion of the person making the seizure, is of the appraised value of one hundred dollars, or more, the said person shall proceed as follows:

(1) He shall cause a list containing a particular description of the property seized to be prepared in duplicate, and an appraisal thereof to be made by three sworn appraisers to be selected by him, who shall be respectable and disinterested citizens of this state, residing within the county where the seizure was made. Said list and appraisal shall be properly attested by the said person and the said appraisers, for which service each of the said appraisers shall be allowed the sum of one dollar per day for not exceeding two days, to be paid as other costs;

(2) If the property seized is believed, by the person making the seizure, to be of less value than one hundred dollars, no appraisal shall be made;

(3) The person making the seizure shall proceed to give notice thereof for five days, in writing, at three places in the county where the seizure is made. One of the notices shall be posted at the county court house; another at the place where the goods were seized; and the other at some public place. The notice shall describe the property seized, and the time and place and cause of seizure and give the name and place of residence, if known, of the person from whom the property was seized, and shall require any person claiming it to appear and make such claim in writing, within five days from the date of the first posting of such notice. Such person making the seizure shall also deliver to the person from whom the property was seized, and also to the owner, if known, a copy of the said notice;

(4) Any person claiming the said property seized as contraband, within the time specified in the notice, may file with the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue a claim, in writing, stating his interest in the property seized, and may execute a bond to the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue in a penal sum equal to double the value of the property so seized, but in no case shall said bond be less than one hundred dollars, with sureties to be approved by the clerk of the superior court in the county in which the property is seized, conditioned that in case of condemnation of the property seized, the obligor shall pay to the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue the full value of the property so seized, and all costs and expenses of the proceedings to obtain such condemnation, including a reasonable attorney's fee. And, upon delivery of such bond to the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue, it shall transmit the same with the duplicate list or description of the property seized to the prosecuting attorney of the county in which such seizure was made, and said prosecuting attorney shall prosecute the case to secure the forfeiture of said property in the court having jurisdiction. Upon filing the bond aforesaid, the said property shall be delivered to the claimant pending the outcome of the case: PROVIDED, That he shall at once affix the required stamps thereto;

(5) If no claim is interposed and no bond is filed within the time above specified, such property shall be forfeited, without further proceedings, and the same shall be sold as herein provided, and the proceeds of sale when received by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall be paid into the state treasury as are other funds collected: PROVIDED, That in seizures of property of less value than one hundred dollars, the same may be advertised by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue with other quantities at Olympia or at any other city or town in which a branch office of the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue is located and disposed of as hereinbefore provided;

(6) In proceedings to secure a confiscation of the property hereinbefore mentioned, where the value of the goods seized at one time is one hundred dollars, or less, the justice court of the place where the property is situated, shall have jurisdiction to try the cause. Where the value of the property seized at one time is more than one hundred dollars, then the superior court of the county where the property is seized shall have jurisdiction to try the cause.

The proceedings against property seized, according to the provisions of this chapter, shall be considered a proceeding in rem unless otherwise herein provided.

Within ten days after filing the bond provided for in subdivision (4) hereof, the claimant shall file a petition in the court having jurisdiction of the cause, and the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue or other party authorized to prosecute the confiscation of said property, shall plead to it as if it were an ordinary action at law, and the same rules of pleading and procedure applicable to actions in the justice court or superior court shall be observed in this action, and the costs shall be adjudged as in other actions: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That neither the state, nor the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue, nor any other person representing the state shall be liable for the costs in event the court shall not confiscate the property in controversy.

The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may return any property seized under the provisions of this chapter when it is shown that there was no intention to violate the provisions thereof.

When any property is seized, under the provisions of this chapter, the ~~((commission))~~ department may return such goods to the parties from whom they were seized if and when such parties affix the proper amount of stamps thereto, and pay to the ~~((commission))~~ department as penalty an amount equal to twenty-five percent of the amount of tax due and interest thereon at the rate of one percent for each thirty days or portion thereof from the date the tax became due, and in such cases, no advertisement shall be made or notices posted in connection with said seizure.

Sec. 67. Section 82.24.190, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.24.190 are each amended to read as follows:

Each certificate shall be numbered and shall show the name, residence, and place and character of business of the taxpayer and such other information as the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue deems necessary and shall be posted in a conspicuous place at the place of business for which it is issued. If any person summoned as a witness before the ~~((commission))~~ department, or its authorized agent, fails or refuses to obey the summons, or refuses to testify or answer any material questions, or to produce any book, record, paper, or data when required to do so, he shall be guilty of contempt, and the ~~((commission))~~ department shall thereupon institute proceedings in the superior court of Thurston county, or of the county in which such person resides, to punish him as for contempt of court.

thereof by such purchaser or successor shall, to the extent thereof, be deemed a payment upon the purchase price, and if such payment is greater in amount than the purchase price the amount of the difference shall become a debt due such purchaser or successor from the taxpayer.

No successor shall be liable for any tax due from the person from whom he has acquired a business or stock of goods if he gives written notice to the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue of such acquisition and no assessment is issued by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue within six months of receipt of such notice against the former operator of the business and a copy thereof mailed to such successor.

Sec. 83. Section 82.32.200, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.32.200 are each amended to read as follows:

When any assessment or additional assessment has been made, the taxpayer may obtain a stay of collection, under such circumstances and for such periods as the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may by general regulation provide, of the whole or any part thereof, by filing with the ~~((commission))~~ department a bond in an amount, not exceeding twice the amount on which stay is desired, and with sureties as the ~~((commission))~~ department deems necessary, conditioned for the payment of the amount of the assessments, collection of which is stayed by the bond, together with the interest thereon at the rate of one percent of the amount of such assessment for each thirty days or portion thereof from the due date thereof until paid.

The notice and order to withhold and deliver shall be served by the sheriff of the county wherein the service is made, or by his deputy, or by any duly authorized representative of the department. Any person, or any political subdivision or department upon whom service has been made is hereby required to answer the notice within twenty days exclusive of the day of service, under oath and in writing, and shall make true answers to the matters inquired of in the notice.

In the event there is in the possession of any such person or political subdivision or department, any property which may be subject to the claim of the department, such property shall be delivered forthwith to the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue or its duly authorized representative upon demand to be held in trust by the department for application on the indebtedness involved or for return, without interest, in accordance with final determination of liability or nonliability, or in the alternative, there shall be furnished a good and sufficient bond satisfactory to the department conditioned upon final determination of liability.

Should any person or political subdivision fail to make answer to an order to withhold and deliver within the time prescribed herein, it shall be lawful for the court, after the time to answer such order has expired, to render judgment by default against such person or political subdivision for the full amount claimed by the department in the notice to withhold and deliver, together with costs.

Any tax due and unpaid and all increases and penalties thereon, shall constitute a debt to the state and may be collected by court proceedings in the same manner as any other debt in like amount, which remedy shall be in addition to any and all other existing remedies.

In all cases of probate, insolvency, assignment for the benefit of creditors, or bankruptcy, involving any taxpayer, the claim of the state for said taxes and all increases and penalties thereon shall be a lien upon all real and personal property of the taxpayer, and the mere existence of such cases or conditions shall be sufficient to create such lien without any prior or subsequent action by the state, and in all such cases it shall be the duty of all administrators, executors, guardians, receivers, trustees in bankruptcy or assignees for the benefit of creditors, to notify the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue of such administration, receivership or assignment within thirty days from the date of their appointment and qualification.

The lien provided for by this section shall attach as of the date of the assignment for the benefit of creditors or of the initiation of the probate, insolvency, or bankruptcy proceedings: PROVIDED, That this sentence shall not be construed as affecting the validity or priority of any earlier lien that may have attached previously in favor of the state under any other section of this title.

Any administrator, executor, guardian, receiver or assignee for the benefit of creditors not giving the notification as provided for above shall become personally liable for payment of the taxes and all increases and penalties thereon.

Sec. 87. Section 82.32.260, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.32.260 are each amended to read as follows:

In the case of any corporation organized under the laws of this state, the courts shall not enter or sign any decree of dissolution, nor shall the secretary of state file in his office any certificate of dissolution, and in the case of any corporation organized under the laws of another jurisdiction and admitted to do business in this state, the secretary of state shall withhold the issuance of any certificate of withdrawal, until proof, in the form of a certificate from the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue, has been furnished by the applicant for such dissolution or withdrawal, that every license fee, tax, increase, or penalty has been paid or provided for.

The taxes imposed hereunder, and the returns required therefor, shall be upon a calendar year basis; but, if any taxpayer in transacting his business, keeps books reflecting the same on a basis other than the calendar year, he may, with consent of the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue, make his returns, and pay taxes upon the basis of his accounting period as shown by the method of keeping the books of his business.

Sec. 89. Section 82.32.290, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.32.290 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any person to engage in business without having obtained a certificate of registration as provided herein; or to engage in business after his certificate of registration has been revoked by order of the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue; or to tear down or remove any order or notice posted by the ~~((commission))~~ department; or to make any false or fraudulent return or false statement in any return, with intent to defraud the state or evade the payment of any tax or part thereof; or for any person to aid or abet another in any attempt to evade the payment of such tax or any part thereof; or for the president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, or other officer of any company to make or permit to be made for any company any false return, or any false statement in any return, with intent to evade payment of any tax hereunder; or for the president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, or other officer of any company to carry on the business of any company which has not obtained a certificate of registration or whose certificate of registration has been revoked by order of the ~~((commission))~~ department; or for any purchaser to fraudulently sign a resale certificate without intent to resell the property purchased; or for any person to fail or refuse to permit the examination of any book, paper, account, record, or other data by the ~~((commission))~~ department or its duly authorized agent; or to fail or refuse to permit the inspection or appraisal of any property by the ~~((commission))~~ department or its duly authorized agent; or to refuse to offer testimony or produce any record as required.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

In addition to the foregoing penalties, any person who knowingly swears to or verifies any false or fraudulent return, or any return containing any false or fraudulent statement with the intent aforesaid, shall be guilty of the offense of perjury in the second degree; and any company for which a false return, or a return containing a false statement, as aforesaid, is made, shall be punished, upon conviction thereof, by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars. All penalties or punishments provided in this section shall be in addition to all other penalties provided by law.

Sec. 90. Section 82.32.300, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.32.300 are each amended to read as follows:

The administration of this and chapters 82.04 through 82.28 RCW of this title is vested in the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue which shall prescribe forms and rules of procedure for the determination of the taxable status of any person, for the making of returns and for the ascertainment, assessment and collection of taxes and penalties imposed thereunder.

The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall make and publish rules and regulations, not inconsistent therewith, necessary to enforce their provisions, which shall have the same force and effect as if specifically included therein, unless declared invalid by the judgment of a court of record not appealed from.

The ~~((commission))~~ department may employ such clerks, specialists, and other assistants as are necessary. Salaries and compensation of such employees shall be fixed by the ~~((commission))~~ department and shall be charged to the proper appropriation for the ~~((commission))~~ department.

The ~~((commission))~~ department shall exercise general supervision of the collection of taxes and, in the discharge of such duty, may institute and prosecute such suits or proceedings in the courts as may be necessary and proper.

Sec. 91. Section 82.32.310, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.32.310 are each amended to read as follows:

When recovery is had in any suit or proceeding against an officer, agent, or employee of the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue for any act done by him or for the recovery of any money exacted by or paid to him and by him paid over to the ~~((commission))~~ department, in the performance of his official duty, and the court certifies that there was probable cause for the act done by such officer, agent, or employee, or that he acted under the direction of the ~~((commission))~~ department or an officer thereof, no execution shall issue against such officer, agent, or employee, but the amount so recovered shall, upon final judgment, be paid by the ~~((commission))~~ department as an expense of operation.

Sec. 92. Section 82.32.320, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.32.320 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue, on the next business day following the receipt of any payments hereunder, shall transmit them to the state treasurer, taking his receipt therefor.

Sec. 93. Section 82.32.360, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.32.360 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon approval of such agreement, evidenced by execution thereof by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue and the person so agreeing, the agreement shall be final and conclusive as to tax liability or tax immunity covered thereby, and, except upon a showing of fraud or malfeasance, or of misrepresentation of a material fact:

(1) The case shall not be reopened as to the matters agreed upon, or the agreement modified, by any officer, employee, or agent of the state, or the taxpayer, and

(2) In any suit, action or proceeding, such agreement, or any determination, assessment, collection, payment, abatement, refund, or credit made in accordance therewith, shall not be annulled, modified, set aside, or disregarded.

Sec. 94. Section 82.44.040, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.44.040 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue and association of county assessors of the state shall prepare and, on or before December 1st of each year, furnish to the county auditor of each county in the state a schedule for use in the collection of the excise tax imposed by this chapter. Such schedule shall be based upon such information as may be available to them pertaining to the fair market value of motor vehicles. Such vehicles shall be classified therein into a convenient number of classes on the basis of make, type, year of manufacture, or any other reasonable basis, and to the value of vehicles within the classes as thus determined shall be applied the rate of tax prescribed in RCW 82.44.020. In determining fair market value, the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue and county assessors may use any guidebook, report, or compendium of recognized standing in the automotive industry. The schedule shall show, so far as possible, the amount of excise tax for vehicles within each class and shall sufficiently describe the various motor vehicles included within each classification to enable the county auditor to ascertain readily the amount of tax applicable to any particular motor vehicle.

Sec. 95. Section 82.44.120, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 4, chapter 54, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 82.44.120 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever any person has paid a motor vehicle license fee, and together therewith has paid an excise tax imposed under the provisions of this chapter, and the director of motor vehicles determines that the payor is entitled to a refund of the entire amount of the license fee as provided by law, then he shall also be entitled to a refund of the entire excise tax collected under the provisions of this chapter. In case the director determines that any person is entitled to a refund of only a part of the license fee so paid, the payor shall be entitled to a refund of the difference, if any, between the excise tax collected and that which should have been collected and the state treasurer shall determine the amount of such refund by reference to the applicable excise tax schedule prepared by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue and the association of county assessors.

In case no claim is to be made for the refund of the license fee or any part thereof but claim is made by any person that he has paid an erroneously excessive amount of excise tax, the department of motor vehicles shall determine in the manner generally provided in this chapter the amount of such excess, if any, that has been paid and shall certify to the state treasurer that such person is entitled to a refund in such amount.

No refund of excise tax shall be allowed under the first paragraph of this section unless application for a refund of license fee is filed with the director of motor vehicles within the period provided by law, and no such refund shall be allowed under the second paragraph of this section unless filed with the department of motor vehicles within thirteen months after such claimed excessive excise tax was paid.

Any person authorized by the utilities and transportation commission to operate a motor vehicle for the conveyance of freight or passengers for hire as a common carrier or as a contract carrier, and so operating such vehicle partly within and partly outside of this state during any calendar year, shall be entitled to a refund of that portion of the full excise tax for such vehicle for such year that the mileage actually operated by such vehicle outside the state bears to the total mileage so operated both within and outside of the state: PROVIDED, If only one-half of the full excise fee was paid, the unpaid one-half shall be deducted from the amount of refund so determined: PROVIDED FURTHER, If only a one-half fee was paid, and the vehicle was operated in this state more than fifty percent of the total miles operated, a balance of the tax is due equal to an amount which is the same percentage of the full excise fee as is the percentage of mileage the vehicle was operated in this state minus the one-half fee previously paid, and any balance due, is payable on or before the first day of June of the year in which the amount of the excise fee due the state has been determined, and until any such balance has been paid no identification plate or permit shall be thereafter issued for such vehicle or any other vehicle owned by the same person. Any claim for such refund shall be filed with the department of motor vehicles at Olympia not later than December 31st of the calendar year following the year for which refund is claimed and any claim filed after said date shall not be allowed. When a claim is filed the applicant must therewith furnish to the department his affidavit, verified by oath, of the mileage so operated by such vehicle during the preceding year, within the state, outside of the state, and the total of all mileage so operated.

If the department approves the claim it shall notify the state treasurer to that effect, and the treasurer shall make such approved refunds and the other refunds herein provided for from the general fund and shall mail or deliver the same to the person entitled thereto.

Any person making any false statement, in the affidavit herein mentioned, under which he obtains any amount of refund to which he is not entitled under the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Sec. 96. Section 82.48.090, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.48.090 are each amended to read as follows:

In case a claim is made by any person that he has paid an erroneously excessive amount of excise tax under this chapter, he may apply to the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue for a refund of the claimed excessive amount. The ~~((commission))~~ department shall review such application, and if it determines that an excess amount of tax has actually been paid by the taxpayer, such excess amount shall be refunded to the taxpayer by means of a voucher approved by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue and by the issuance of a state warrant drawn upon and payable from such funds as the legislature may provide for that purpose. No refund shall be allowed, however, unless application for the refund is filed with the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue within ninety days after the claimed excessive excise tax was paid.

Sec. 97. Section 82.50.170, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 9, chapter 54, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 82.50.170 are each amended to read as follows:

In case a claim is made by any person that he has erroneously paid the tax or a part thereof or any charge hereunder, he may apply in writing to the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue for a refund of the amount of the claimed erroneous payment within ninety days of the time of payment of the tax on such a form as is prescribed by the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue. The ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue shall review such application for refund, and, if it determines that an erroneous payment has been made by the taxpayer, it shall certify the amount to be refunded to the state treasurer that such person is entitled to a refund in such amount, and the treasurer shall make such approved refund herein provided for from the general fund and shall mail or deliver the same to the person entitled thereto.

Any person making any false statement in the affidavit herein mentioned, under which he obtains any amount of refund to which he is not entitled under the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Sec. 98. Section 6, chapter 292, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.04.023 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the tax is sooner paid in full, it shall be a lien upon the gross estate of the decedent for ten years from the date of death, except that such part of the gross estate as is used for the payment of charges against the estate and expenses of its administration, allowed by any court having jurisdiction thereof, shall be divested of such lien. If the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue is satisfied that the tax liability of an estate has been fully discharged or provided for, it may, under regulations prescribed by it, issue its certificate, releasing any or all property of such estate from the lien herein imposed. The limitation period shall in each case be extended for a period of time equal to the period of pendency of litigation of questions affecting the determination of the amount of tax due, provided a lis pendens has been filed with the county auditor.

Any part of the gross estate as is sold, pursuant to an order of the court for the payment of charges against the estate and the expenses of its administration, shall be divested of such lien and such lien shall be transferred to the proceeds. A mortgage on property pursuant to an order of court for payment of charges against the estate and expenses of administration shall constitute a lien upon said property prior and superior to the inheritance tax lien which inheritance tax lien shall attach to the proceeds.

Sec. 99. Section 83.05.010, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.05.010 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter:

"Grantor" means any person who creates a power of appointment.

"Donee" means any person given the power to exercise the appointment.

"Property" means any property subject to the power of appointment which is within the jurisdiction of this state.

"Trustee" means any person, including a donee, who holds the property or the title thereto in trust or otherwise.

"Ultimate beneficiary" means any person who becomes entitled to the property through exercise of the power, or by reason of nonexercise of the power, or by reason of renouncement of the power by the donee, or by reason of renouncement or waiver by the person appointed to receive the property.

"Greatest possible tax" means a tentative tax computed on an assumed devolution of the property to an ultimate beneficiary within the limitations of the power who would be taxable at the highest rates provided by the inheritance tax laws of this state.

"Final tax" means the tax determined under the inheritance tax laws of this state when the power is exercised or terminated.

"~~((Commission))~~ Department" means the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue of this state.

Sec. 100. Section 83.05.040, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.05.040 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon the exercise or termination of the power, prior to furnishing the bond or other security for the tax as hereinafter provided, it shall be the duty of the donee to immediately notify the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue thereof, together with the name and address of the ultimate beneficiary and his relationship to the grantor. If the donee fails to so notify the ~~((commission))~~ department, which failure results in loss of tax, he shall be liable for such tax.

Sec. 101. Section 83.05.050, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.05.050 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the greatest possible tax is paid in full within thirty days after receipt of the property by the trustee or within thirty days after the death of the grantor, whichever occurs last, a surety company bond shall be executed in favor of the state of Washington by the trustee and filed with the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue, which bond shall be binding on his successors or representatives, in an amount equal to the greatest possible tax, conditioned that upon the exercise or termination of the power the ~~((commission))~~ department will be notified and the final tax paid in full: PROVIDED, That the trustee may elect to pay a tentative tax based on the probabilities of devolution of the property, and file a bond only for the difference between the tentative tax paid and the greatest possible tax. The ~~((commission))~~ department, in its discretion, may accept other adequate security in lieu of any bond or payment of tentative tax. If at any time the ~~((commission))~~ department has cause to believe that the bond or security furnished is inadequate to insure payment of the final tax, it may require such further security from the remaining property as it deems necessary. If the trustee fails or refuses to pay such tax, or furnish a bond or adequate security, the greatest possible tax shall immediately become due and payable, and may be enforced against the property by the ~~((commission))~~ department through foreclosure proceedings. Any bond executed by the trustee as above provided shall not be released or exonerated without written consent of the ~~((commission))~~ department.

Sec. 102. Section 83.05.060, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.05.060 are each amended to read as follows:

In the event any tentative tax paid as provided heretofore is determined to be in excess of the final tax, a refund for the excess shall be granted by the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue, without interest.

Sec. 103. Section 83.12.020, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.12.020 are each amended to read as follows:

Where there is property belonging to decedent both within the state of Washington and without the state of Washington exemptions allowed under the inheritance tax provisions of this title shall be prorated, and that portion allowed in the state of Washington shall be in that proportion that the value of the property within the state of Washington bears to all the property within and without the state of Washington. In order to secure an exemption where the property is thus situated, the representative must file with the inheritance tax division of the ((tax commission)) department of revenue a certified copy of the inventory of all the properties without the state of Washington, and upon his failure so to do, no exemptions will be allowed in this state, whether there is property within this state or without this state.

Sec. 104. Section 83.14.010, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.14.010 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Executor" means an executor of a will or administrator of the estate of the decedent, but does not include an ancillary administrator nor an administrator with the will annexed if an executor named in the will has been appointed and has qualified in another state.

(2) "Taxing official" means the state ((tax commission)) department of revenue and the designated authority of a reciprocal state charged with the duty of collecting its death taxes.

(3) "Death tax" means any tax levied by a state on account of the transfer or shifting of economic benefits in property at death, or in contemplation thereof, or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after death, whether denominated an "inheritance tax", "transfer tax", "succession tax", "estate tax", "death duty", "death dues", or otherwise.

(4) "Interested person" means any person who may be entitled to receive or who has received any property or interest which may be required to be considered in computing the death taxes of any state involved in the dispute.

(5) "State" means the District of Columbia and any state, territory or possession of the United States.

(6) "This state" means the state of Washington.

(7) "Board" means board of arbitration.

Sec. 105. Section 83.14.030, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.14.030 are each amended to read as follows:

In any case in which an election is made and not rejected, as provided in RCW 83.14.020, the state ((tax commission)) department of revenue may enter into a written agreement with the other taxing officials involved and with the executor to accept a sum certain in full payment of any death taxes, together with interest and penalties, which may be due this state, provided the agreement fixes the amount of death taxes with interest and penalties to be paid to the other states involved in the dispute.

Sec. 106. Section 83.14.040, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.14.040 are each amended to read as follows:

When it appears by the written admission of the executor and the tax official of each state involved in the dispute that an agreement contemplated in RCW 83.14.030 cannot be reached or, in all events, if one year has elapsed from the date of the election without such an agreement having been reached, the domicile of the decedent at the time of his death shall be determined solely for death tax purposes as follows:

(1) When this state and one other state only are involved in the dispute, the state (~~(tax commission)~~) department of revenue and the taxing official of the other state shall each appoint a member of a board of arbitration and those members shall appoint the third member of the board. If this state and more than one other state are involved, the taxing officials thereof shall agree upon the authorities charged with the duty of administering death tax laws in three states not involved in the dispute and each of these authorities shall appoint one member of the board of arbitration. The board shall select one of its members as chairman.

(2) The board shall hold hearings at such places as it deems necessary, upon reasonable notice to the executor, ancillary administrators, all interested persons and the taxing officials of the state involved, all of whom are entitled to be heard.

(3) The board may administer oaths, take testimony, subpoena witnesses and require their attendance, require the production of books, papers and documents and issue commissions to take testimony. Subpoenas may be issued by any member of the board. Failure to obey a subpoena of the board may be punished by any court of record in the same manner as if the subpoena had been issued by such court.

(4) Whenever practicable the board shall apply the rules of evidence then prevailing in the federal courts under the federal rules of civil procedure.

(5) The board, by the decision of its majority, shall determine the domicile of the decedent at the time of his death. The decision of the board is final and conclusive and binds this state and all its judicial and administrative officials on all questions concerning the domicile of the decedent for death tax purposes. If the board does not render a decision within one year from the time that it is fully constituted, all authority of the board shall cease and the bar to court proceedings set forth in RCW 83.14.020 shall no longer exist.

(6) The decision of the board and the record of its proceeding shall be filed with the authority having jurisdiction to assess death taxes in the state determined to be the domicile of the decedent and with the authorities which would have had jurisdiction to assess death taxes in each of the other states involved if the decedent had been found to be domiciled therein.

(7) The reasonable compensation and expenses of the members of the board and its employees shall be agreed upon among such members, the taxing officials involved, and the executor. If such an agreement cannot be reached, the compensation and expenses shall be determined by such taxing officials and, if they cannot agree, by the appropriate probate court of the state determined to be the domicile of the decedent. Such amount so determined shall be borne by the decedent's estate and shall be deemed an administration expense thereof.

Sec. 107. Section 83.14.050, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.14.050 are each amended to read as follows:

Notwithstanding the commencement of a legal action for determination of domicile within this state or the commencement of an arbitration proceeding as provided in RCW 83.14.040, the state (~~(tax commission)~~) department of revenue, at any time prior to the conclusion of such action or proceeding, may in any case enter into a written agreement with the other taxing officials involved and with the executor to accept a sum certain in full payment of any death tax, together with interest and penalties, which may be due this state, provided the agreement fixes the amount of death taxes with interest and penalties to be paid the other states involved in the dispute. Upon the filing of the agreement with the authority which would have jurisdiction to assess the death taxes of this state if the decedent died domiciled in this state, an assessment shall be made as provided in such agreement, and such assessment shall finally and conclusively fix the amount of death taxes due this state. If the aggregate amount payable under such agreement or under an agreement made in accordance with the provisions of RCW 83.14.030 to the states involved in the dispute is less than the minimum credit allowable to the estate against the United States estate tax imposed with respect thereto, the executor forthwith shall also pay to the state ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue of this state the same percentage of the difference between such aggregate amount of such credit as the amount payable to the state ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue under such agreement bears to such aggregate amount.

Sec. 108. Section 83.16.020, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.16.020 are each amended to read as follows:

When the estate of a deceased person is subject to an inheritance tax, and there is an annuity, life estate, or an estate for a term of years given to one or more persons and the remainder to another or others, the entire estate shall be appraised as other estates are required to be appraised by the laws of this state. The value of the annuity, life or term estate shall be determined in accordance with the rules, methods, and standards of mortality and value that are set forth in tables to be furnished by the insurance commissioner of this state upon request of the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue based upon such mortality tables as is from time to time required by law for use by life insurance companies in this state in determining nonforfeiture values under ordinary life insurance policies, except that the rate of interest used in computing the present value of the annuity, life or term estate shall be three and one-half percent per annum, and the value of the remainder interest shall be determined by deducting such computed value from the value of the entire property. After the values shall have been determined as provided in this section, the tax shall be computed and collected in the same manner that the tax on other estates is computed and collected: PROVIDED, That any person owning the beneficial interest in the remainder may defer the payment of the tax thereon until he comes into possession of the same by filing in the office of the county clerk within thirty days after the determination of the tax, a good and sufficient surety company bond to the state, or such other security as is deemed by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue to be adequate, in a sum equal to the amount of the tax conditioned that he will pay such tax in full within sixty days after coming into possession of the estate. The bond shall not operate to defer payment of the tax unless it is approved by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue, and if it shall appear to the ~~((commission))~~ department at any time that a bond previously filed and approved has become insufficient it may require a new bond to be filed. If the person owning the beneficial interest in the remainder shall fail to file a bond within the time herein provided, or if he shall fail to file a new bond when directed by the ~~((commission))~~ department, the tax shall immediately become due and payable.

Sec. 109. Section 83.16.070, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.16.070 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this section:

"Property" includes property which can be identified as having been acquired in exchange for or with the proceeds of property previously taxed.

"Property previously taxed" means property transferred by a present decedent to any person who is a class A transferee, as defined by the inheritance tax laws of this state, with respect to the present decedent, where the property had previously been transferred to the present decedent by a prior decedent, whose death occurred not more than five years prior to that of the present decedent, and in relation to whom the present decedent was a class A transferee, and where an inheritance tax was paid to this state on such transfer.

There shall be allowed as an exemption in the estate of the present decedent an amount equal to that portion of the property previously taxed which is exclusive of the proportion of deductions chargeable against and any exemption allowed against the property previously taxed in the estate of the prior decedent and the proportion of deductions chargeable against the property previously taxed in the present decedent's estate, which shall be determined under rules prescribed by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue. For the purpose of computing such exemption, the value of each item of the property previously taxed shall be the gross value thereof as of the date of death of the prior decedent or as of the date of death of the present decedent, whichever is lower.

Sec. 110. Section 83.24.010, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 12, chapter 292, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.24.010 are each amended to read as follows:

When any person dies leaving property within the jurisdiction of the state of Washington, which shall pass by the statutes of inheritance of this or any other state, or by deed, grant, sale or gift made in contemplation of the death of the grantor or donor, or by deed, grant, sale or gift made or intended to take effect in possession or in enjoyment after the death of the grantor or donor, to any person in trust or otherwise, and there has been no application for letters of administration of the estate of such deceased person, or when administration of any estate has been completed without an adjudication of the inheritance tax, the liability of such property for the payment of an inheritance tax may be determined without administration in the manner hereinafter provided.

Such affidavit shall contain the name and date of death of decedent, the description and estimated value of all property involved, the names and places of residence of all persons interested in the same, and such other facts as are necessary for a determination of such questions.

Where the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue, through its inheritance tax division, has determined that no tax is due, or that the amount of tax as determined has been fully paid, it may issue its release and receipt, but such release shall be only as to the assets of the estate shown and disclosed by such affidavit and supplementary exhibits filed in such proceedings.

In any such case, the ~~((supervisor of the inheritance tax division))~~ department of revenue may compromise such tax and issue a satisfaction therefor, without probate proceedings, where the necessary facts are furnished and filed by affidavit, but such release shall be only as to the assets of the estate shown and disclosed by such proceedings.

Sec. 112. Section 83.28.020, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.28.020 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((supervisor))~~ department may examine and take evidence of such witnesses or of such executor or administrator or other person under oath concerning such property and the value thereof, and concerning the property or the estate of such decedent subject to probate. No safe deposit company, bank or other institution, person or persons, holding any securities, property or assets of any nonresident decedent, shall deliver or transfer the same to any nonresident executor, administrator or representative of such decedent, until after a notice in writing of the time and place of such transfer shall have been duly given the (~~(tax commission)~~) department of revenue at least ten days prior thereto, and the tax imposed by the inheritance tax provisions of this title paid thereon, and every such safe deposit company, bank or other institution, person or persons, shall be liable for the payment of such tax.

Whenever an estate charged, or sought to be charged with the inheritance tax, is of such a nature, or is so disposed, that the liability of the estate is doubtful, or the value thereof cannot, with reasonable certainty, be ascertained under the provisions of law, the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may compromise with the beneficiaries or representatives of such estates, and compound the tax thereon; but said settlement must be approved by the superior court having jurisdiction of the estate, and after such approval, the payment of the amount of the taxes so agreed upon shall discharge the lien against the property of the estate.

No such action shall be maintained where any proceedings are pending in any court or before the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue or the ~~((supervisor))~~ director thereof in this state wherein the taxability of such transfer and the liability therefor and the amount thereof may be determined. Should the court determine that the property described in the complaint is subject to the lien of said tax and that said property has been transferred within the meaning of the inheritance tax provisions of this title, the court shall grant affirmative relief to the state in said action and judgment shall be rendered therein in favor of the state, ascertaining and determining the amount of said tax and the person or persons liable therefor, and the property chargeable therewith or subject to lien therefor. If the court shall determine that such property or estate is not liable to be charged

(2) Whenever it is necessary in the judgment of the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue it may require any person, by notice served upon him, to make a return, render under oath such statements, or keep such records, as the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue deems sufficient to show whether or not such person is liable to tax under this chapter.

In any case in which any tax, interest, or penalty imposed by this chapter is not paid when due, the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may file for record in the office of the county auditor of any county a certificate giving the name of the donor and the donee or either of them and the amount of taxes, interest and penalties due. From the time of the recording of any such certificate the amount of the tax, interest and penalties therein set forth shall constitute a lien upon any real property then owned or thereafter acquired by any donor or donee named in such certificate located in the county in which said certificate is recorded, which lien shall have the same force, effect and priority as a lien created by the recording of a judgment. Said lien shall continue, however, for ten years after the time the tax becomes delinquent or until the tax is paid, the property sold for the nonpayment thereof until the lien is released or otherwise extinguished.

Sec. 130. Section 83.56.140, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.56.140 are each amended to read as follows:

If the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue is satisfied that the gift tax liability of any person has been provided for or will be provided for or that no gift tax liability exists, it may issue its certificate releasing any property of such person from the lien imposed by this chapter.

Sec. 131. Section 83.56.150, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.56.150 are each amended to read as follows:

As soon as practicable after the return is filed the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall examine it and shall determine the correct amount of the tax.

Sec. 132. Section 83.56.170, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.56.170 are each amended to read as follows:

Interest upon the amount determined as a deficiency shall be assessed at the same time as the deficiency, shall be paid upon notice and demand from the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue, and shall be collected as a part of the tax, at the rate of six percent per annum from the due date of the tax to the date the deficiency is assessed, or, in case of waiver under RCW 83.56.160(4), to the thirtieth day after the filing of such waiver or the date the deficiency is assessed, whichever is the earlier.

Sec. 133. Section 83.56.180, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.56.180 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue believes that the assessment or collection of a deficiency will be jeopardized by delay, it shall immediately assess such deficiency (together with all interest, additional amounts or additions to the tax provided for by law) and notice and demand shall be made by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue for the payment thereof;

(2) If the jeopardy assessment is made before any notice in respect of the tax to which the jeopardy assessment relates has been mailed, then the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall mail a notice within sixty days after the making of the assessment;

(3) The jeopardy assessment may be made in respect of a deficiency greater or less than that notice of which has been mailed to the donor, despite the provisions of this chapter prohibiting the determination of additional deficiencies, and whether or not the donor has theretofore filed a petition with the superior court;

(4) When a jeopardy assessment has been made, the donor, within ten days after notice and demand for the payment of the amount of the assessment, may obtain a stay of collection of the whole or any part of the amount of the assessment by filing with the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue a bond in such amount, not exceeding double the amount as to which the stay is desired, and with such sureties as the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue deems necessary, conditioned upon the payment of so much of the amount, the collection of which is stayed by the bond, as is not abated by a decision of the superior court which has become final, together with interest thereon as provided herein;

(5) If the bond is given before the donor has filed his petition with the superior court the bond shall contain a further condition that if a petition is not filed within the period provided in this chapter, then the amount, the collection of which is stayed by the bond, will be paid on notice and demand at any time after the expiration of such period, together with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from the date of the jeopardy notice and demand to the date of notice and demand under this subsection;

(6) Upon the filing of the bond the collection of so much of the amount assessed as is covered by the bond shall be stayed. The donor shall have the right to waive such stay at any time in respect of the whole or any part of the amount covered by the bond, and if as a result of such waiver any part of the amount covered by the bond is paid, then the bond shall, at the request of the donor, be proportionately reduced. If the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue determines that the amount assessed is greater than the amount which should have been assessed then when the decision of the superior court is rendered the bond shall, at the request of the donor, be proportionately reduced;

(7) When the petition has been filed with the superior court and when the amount which should have been assessed has been determined by a decision of the court which has become final, then any unpaid portion, the collection of which has been stayed by the bond, shall be collected as part of the tax upon notice and demand from the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue, and any remaining portion of the assessment shall be abated. If the amount already collected exceeds the amount determined as the amount which should have been assessed, such excess shall be credited or refunded by the state of Washington. If the amount determined as the amount which should have been assessed is greater than the amount actually assessed, then the difference shall be assessed and shall be collected as part of the tax upon notice and demand from the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue.

Sec. 134. Section 83.56.200, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.56.200 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise herein provided, the amount of taxes imposed by this chapter shall be assessed within one year after the return is filed, and no proceeding in court without assessment for the collection of such taxes shall be begun after the expiration of three years after the return was filed;

(2) In the case of false or fraudulent return with intent to evade tax or of failure to file return the tax may be assessed or a proceeding in court for the collection of such tax may be begun without assessment at any time;

(3) Where the assessment of any tax imposed by this chapter has been made within the statutory period of limitation properly applicable thereto such tax may be collected by distraint or by a proceeding in court, but only if begun (a) within six years after the assessment of the tax, or (b) prior to the expiration of any period for collection agreed upon in writing by the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue and the donor.

Sec. 135. Section 83.56.210, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.56.210 are each amended to read as follows:

The running of the statute of limitations provided herein on the making of assessments and the beginning of distraint or a proceeding in court for collection, in respect of any deficiency, shall (after the mailing of notice) be suspended for the period during which the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue is prohibited from making the assessment or beginning distraint or a proceeding in court, and for sixty days thereafter.

(1) Where the amount determined by the donor as the tax imposed by this chapter, or any part of such amount, is not paid on the due date of the tax, there shall be collected as a part of the tax, interest, upon the unpaid amount at the rate of one percent per month from the due date until it is paid;

(2) Where an extension of time for payment of the amount so determined as the tax by the donor has been granted, and the amount the time for payment of which has been extended, and the interest thereon determined under RCW 83.56-.230(1), is not paid in full prior to the expiration of the period of the extension, then, in lieu of the interest provided for in subsection (1) of this section, interest at the rate of one percent per month shall be collected on such unpaid amount from the date of the expiration of the period of the extension until it is paid;

(3) Where a deficiency, or any interest assessed in connection therewith under RCW 83.56.170 or any addition to the tax provided for in this chapter, is not paid in full within ten days from the date of notice and demand from the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue, there shall be collected as part of the tax, interest upon the unpaid amount at the rate of one percent a month from the date of such notice and demand until it is paid;

(4) If a bond is filed, as provided in RCW 83.56.180, the provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall not apply to the amount covered by the bond;

(5) If the part of the deficiency, the time for payment of which is extended as provided in RCW 83.56.160(9) is not paid in accordance with the terms of the extensions, there shall be collected, as a part of the tax, interest on such amount at the rate of one percent per month for the period from the time fixed by the terms of the extension for its payment until it is paid, and no other interest shall be collected on such unpaid amount for such period;

(6) If the amount included in the notice and demand from the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue under RCW 83.56.180(7) is not paid in full within ten days after such notice and demand, then there shall be collected, as part of the tax, interest upon the unpaid amount at the rate of one percent a month from the date of such notice and demand until it is paid.

(1) Where there has been an overpayment of any tax imposed by this chapter, the amount of such overpayment shall be credited against any gift tax then due from the taxpayer, and any balance shall be refunded by the state of Washington to the taxpayer;

(2) Limitation on allowance. (a) No such credit or refund shall be allowed or made after two years from the time the tax was paid, unless before the expiration of such period a claim therefor is filed by the taxpayer; (b) The amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid during the three years immediately preceding the filing of the claim, or if no claim was filed, then during the three years immediately preceding the allowance of the credit or refund;

(3) If the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue has mailed to the taxpayer a notice of deficiency under RCW 83.56.160(1) and if the taxpayer files a petition with the superior court within the time prescribed in such section, no credit or refund in respect of the tax for the calendar year in respect of which the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue has determined the deficiency shall be allowed or made and no suit by the taxpayer for the recovering of any part of such tax shall be instituted in any court except: (a) As to the overpayments determined by a decision of the court which has become final; and (b) as to any amount collected in excess of an amount computed in accordance with the decision of the court which has become final; and (c) as to any amount collected after the period of limitation upon the beginning of distraint or a proceeding in court for collection has expired; but in any such claim for credit or refund or in any such suit for refund the decision of the court which has become final, as to whether such period has expired before the notice of deficiency was mailed, shall be conclusive;

(4) If the court finds that there is no deficiency and further finds that the taxpayer has made an overpayment of tax in respect of the taxable year in respect of which the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue determined the deficiency, the court shall have jurisdiction to determine the amount of such overpayment, and such amount shall, when the decision of the court has become final, be credited or refunded to the taxpayer. No such credit or refund shall be made of any portion of the tax paid more than three years before the filing of the claim or the filing of the petition, whichever is earlier.

Sec. 138. Section 83.56.250, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.56.250 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The amount of the following liabilities shall, except as hereinafter provided, be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner and subject to the same provisions and limitations as in the case of a deficiency in the tax imposed by this chapter (including the provisions in case of a delinquency in payment after notice and demand, the provisions authorizing distraint and proceedings in court for collection, and the provisions prohibiting claims and suits for refunds):

(b) The liability of a fiduciary in respect of the payment of any such tax from the estate of the donor;

Any such liability may be either as to the amount of tax shown on the return or as to any deficiency in tax;

(3) For the purpose of this section, if the donor is deceased, the period of limitation for assessment against the donor shall be the period that would be in effect had the death not occurred;

(4) The running of the statute of limitations upon the assessment of the liability of a transferee or fiduciary shall, after mailing of the notice under RCW 83.56.160(1) to the transferee or fiduciary, be suspended for the period during which the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue is prohibited from making the assessment in respect of the liability of the transferee or fiduciary (and in any event, if a proceeding in respect of the liability is placed on the docket of the superior court, until the decision of the court becomes final, and for sixty days thereafter);

(5) No suit shall be maintained in any court for the purpose of restraining the assessment or collection of (a) the amount of the liability, at law or in equity of a transferee of property of a donor in respect of any gift tax, or (b) the amount of the liability of a fiduciary under this chapter, in respect of any such tax;

(6) As used in this section, the term "transferee" includes donee, heir, legatee, devisee, and distributee;

(7) In the absence of notice to the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue under RCW 83.56.270(2) of the existence of a fiduciary relationship, notice of liability enforceable under this section in respect of a tax imposed by this chapter, if mailed to the person subject to the liability at his last known address, shall be sufficient for the purposes of this chapter even if such person is deceased, or is under legal disability, or, in the case of a corporation, has terminated its existence.

Sec. 139. Section 83.56.270, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.56.270 are each amended to read as follows:

In case of any failure to make and file a return required by this chapter, within the time prescribed by law or by the (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue in pursuance of law, twenty-five percent of the tax shall be added to the tax, except that when a return is filed after such time and it is shown that the failure to file it was not due to wilful neglect no such addition shall be made to the tax. The amount so added to any tax shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner and as a part of the tax unless the tax has been paid before the discovery of the neglect, in which case the amount so added shall be collected in the same manner as the tax.

Sec. 141. Section 83.56.310, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.56.310 are each amended to read as follows:

"Greatest possible tax" means a tentative tax computed on an assumed devolution of the property to an ultimate beneficiary within the limitations of the power, who would be taxable at the highest rates provided by the gift tax laws of this state.

"Due date" means the fifteenth day of March following the close of the calendar year in which any gift is made.

Upon the exercise or termination of the power, prior to furnishing the bond or other security for the tax as hereinafter provided, it shall be the duty of the donee to immediately notify the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue thereof, together with the name and address of the ultimate beneficiary and his relationship to the donor. If the donee fails to so notify the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue, which failure results in loss of tax, he shall be liable for such tax.

Sec. 145. Section 83.60.050, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 83.60.050 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the greatest possible tax is paid in full on or before the due date, a surety company bond shall be executed in favor of the state of Washington by the trustee and filed with the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue, which bond shall be binding on his successors or representatives in an amount equal to the greatest possible tax, conditioned that upon the exercise or termination of the power the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue will be notified and the final tax paid in full: PROVIDED, That the trustee may elect to pay a tentative tax based on the probabilities of devolution of the property, and file a bond only for the difference between the tentative tax paid and the greatest possible tax. The ~~((commission))~~ department, in its discretion, may accept other adequate security in lieu of any bond or payment of tax. If at any time the ~~((commission))~~ department has cause to believe that the bond or security furnished is inadequate to insure payment of the final tax, it may require such further security from the remaining property as it deems necessary. If the trustee fails or refuses to pay such tax, or furnish a bond or adequate security, the greatest possible tax shall immediately become due and payable, and may be enforced against the property by the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue through foreclosure proceedings. Any bond executed by the trustee as above provided shall not be released or exonerated without written consent of the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue.

state, and between the different taxing units and townships, so that equality of taxation and uniformity of administration shall be secured and all taxes shall be collected according to the provisions of law.

(2) Formulate such rules and processes for the assessment of both real and personal property for purposes of taxation as are best calculated to secure uniform assessment of property of like kind and value in the various taxing units of the state, and relative uniformity between properties of different kinds and values in the same taxing unit. The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall furnish to each county assessor a copy of the rules and processes so formulated. The ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may, from time to time, make such changes in the rules and processes so formulated as it deems advisable to accomplish the purpose thereof, and it shall inform all county assessors of such changes.

(3) Visit the counties in the state, unless prevented by necessary official duties, for the investigation of the methods adopted by the county assessors and county boards of commissioners in the assessment and equalization of taxation of real and personal property; carefully examine into all cases where evasion of property taxation is alleged, and ascertain where existing laws are defective, or improperly or negligently administered.

(1) Confer with, advise and direct assessors, boards of equalization, county boards of commissioners, county treasurers, county auditors and all other county and township officers as to their duties under the law and statutes of the state, relating to taxation, and direct what proceedings, actions or prosecutions shall be instituted to support the law relating to the penalties, liabilities and punishment of public officers, persons, and officers or agents of corporations for failure or neglect to comply with the provisions of the statutes governing the return, assessment and taxation of property, and the collection of taxes, and cause complaint to be made against any of such public officers in the proper county for their removal from office for official misconduct or neglect of duty. In the execution of these powers and duties the said ~~((commission))~~ department or any member thereof may call upon prosecuting attorneys or the attorney general, who shall assist in the commencement and prosecution for penalties and forfeiture, liabilities and punishments for violations of the laws of the state in respect to the assessment and taxation of property.

(2) Prescribe all forms of books and blanks to be used in the assessment and collection of taxes, and change such forms when prescribed by law, and recommend to the legislature such changes as may be deemed most economical to the state and counties, and such recommendation shall be accompanied by carefully prepared bill or bills for this end.

(3) Require county, city and town officers to report information as to assessments of property, equalization of taxes, the expenditure of public funds for all purposes, and other information which said ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue may request.

Sec. 150. Section 84.08.060, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 84.08.060 are each amended to read as follows:

The (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue shall have power to direct and to order any county board of equalization to raise or lower the valuation of any taxable property, or to add any property to the assessment list, or to perform or complete any other duty required by statute. The (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue may require any such board of equalization to reconvene after its adjournment for the purpose of performing any order or requirement made by the (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue and may make such orders as it shall determine to be just and necessary. The (~~commission~~) department may require any county board of equalization to reconvene at any time for the purpose of performing or completing any duty or taking any action it might lawfully have performed or taken at any of its previous regular July, November or April meetings. If such board of equalization shall fail or refuse forthwith to comply with any such order or requirement of the (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue, the (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue shall have power to take any other appropriate action, or to make such correction or change in the assessment list, and such corrections and changes shall be a part of the record of the proceedings of the said board of equalization: PROVIDED, That in all cases where the (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue shall raise the valuation of any property or add property to the assessment list, it shall give notice either for the same time and in the same manner as is now required in like cases of county boards of equalization, or if it shall deem such method of giving notice impracticable it shall give notice by publication thereof in a newspaper of general circulation within the county in which the property affected is situated once each week for two consecutive weeks, and the (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue shall not proceed to raise such valuation or add such property to the assessment list until a period of five days shall have elapsed subsequent to the date of the last publication of such notice. Such notice shall give the legal description of each tract of land involved, or a general description in case of personal property; the tax record-owner thereof; the assessed value thereof determined by the county board of equalization in case the property is on the assessment roll; and the assessed value thereof as determined by the (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue and shall state that the (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue proposes to increase the assessed valuation of such property to the amount stated and to add such property to the assessment list at the assessed valuation stated. The necessary expense incurred by the (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue in making such reassessment and/or adding such property to the assessment list shall be borne by the county or township in which the property as reassessed and/or so added to the assessment list is situated and shall be paid out of the proper funds of such county upon the order of the (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue.

All such recommendations shall be accompanied by suitable bill or bills necessary to carry into effect such recommendations. This report shall also show in tabulated form the whole amount of taxes collected in the state for all purposes, classified as state, county and municipal, with the sources thereof, the amount lost, the cause of the loss and such other pertinent statistics, matter and information concerning revenue and taxation as may be deemed of public interest.

Sec. 154. Section 84.08.110, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 84.08.110 are each amended to read as follows:

The (~~tax commission~~) department of revenue shall compile the laws of this state relating to assessment and collection of taxes, with such annotations, instructions and references to the decisions of the courts concerning the same as it may deem proper. It shall cause the same to be printed and distributed to the several county assessors, deputy county assessors, prosecuting attorneys, county commissioners, in the state, and to such other officers and persons as may request the same.

It shall be the duty of every public officer to comply with any lawful order, rule or regulation of the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue made under the provisions of this title, and whenever it shall appear to the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue that any public officer or employee whose duties relate to the assessment or equalization of assessments of property for taxation or to the levy or collection of taxes has failed to comply with the provisions of this title or with any other law relating to such duties or the rules of the ~~((commission))~~ department made in pursuance thereof, the ~~((commission))~~ department after a hearing on the facts may issue its order directing such public officer or employee to comply with such provisions of law or of its rules, and if such public officer or employee for a period of ten days after service on him of the ~~((commission's))~~ department's order shall neglect or refuse to comply therewith, the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue may apply to a judge of the superior court or court commissioner of the county in which said public officer or employee holds office for an order returnable within five days from the date thereof to compel such public officer or employee to comply with such provisions of law or of the ~~((commission's))~~ department's order, or to show cause why he should not be compelled so to do, and any order issued by the judge pursuant thereto shall be final. The remedy herein provided shall be cumulative and shall not exclude the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue from exercising any power or rights otherwise granted.

therewith make it possible for him to do so: PROVIDED, That such tax as reassessed and relieved shall be figured and determined at the same tax rate as the original tax on said property for the year or years for which said reassessment was made, was or should have been, figured and determined.

Sec. 189. Section 84.28.020, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 4, chapter 214, Laws of 1963 and RCW 84.28.020 are each amended to read as follows:

The owner of any lands eligible for classification under this chapter may apply in writing to the department of natural resources for the classification of any such lands as reforestation lands. The application shall contain a list of such lands by county, giving the legal description thereof by government legal subdivision, in tracts not smaller than a forty acre tract or government lot. At the time of filing the application with the department, the owner shall also file a copy thereof with the assessor of each county wherein such lands are situated along with a list of such lands described in the application. Within one hundred and twenty days following the filing of the application, a hearing on the proposed classification shall be held by the department at the court house in the county seat in each county of the state wherein any lands proposed for classification are situated. Notice of the hearing shall be given by the department by publication of a notice in at least two issues of a newspaper published and having general circulation in the county wherein such hearing is to be held. The notice shall specify the time, place and general purpose of the hearing and shall advise that a list of the lands proposed for classification as reforestation lands, with the legal description and the names of the owners, has been filed with the county assessor. The last publication of such notice shall be at least fifteen days prior to the date fixed for the hearing. The department shall, on or before the date of the last publication of the notice, mail a copy thereof to the applicant, the county commissioners and the county assessor. At the hearing, the department shall hear objections to, and arguments for and against the proposed classification as to all, or any particular lands described on the list. Following the hearing the department shall reconsider the proposed list and classification and shall strike from the list any lands it determines are not suitable as reforestation lands and shall forward a list of such rejected lands to the land owner. The department shall, within thirty days following the conclusion of the hearing, file with the state (~~(tax commission)~~) department of revenue and forward to the land owner and assessor a list of the lands by the respective counties determined by it to be qualified for classification as reforestation lands, with description by government legal subdivisions, and names and addresses of respective owners.

The ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue shall hold said list for a period of two weeks, during which time any taxpayer, or the county assessor, of the county in which the lands are located shall be entitled to file written objections with it to the classification as reforestation lands of any particular lands on such list. If any objection is filed the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue shall within thirty days after the receipt of the objection fix a date and hold a hearing thereon, and shall in writing notify the objector, the department, the assessor and the owner of the lands of the date fixed for the hearing and send a copy of the written objections to the department, land owner and assessor. At the hearing the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue shall hear and consider evidence offered by the department, owner, assessor or objector as to the nature and character of such lands, and from such evidence shall determine whether the lands shall be classified as reforestation lands; and if the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue determines that the lands are not suitable for reforestation and should not be classified as reforestation lands, it shall cause such lands to be stricken from the list. If no objections are filed to the classification of any lands on such list or if objections are filed and after hearing are overruled, the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue shall forthwith enter an order approving the list as filed; and if, following a hearing on objections to classification as to any particular lands on the list, the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue determines that the particular lands are not properly classified as reforestation lands, it shall within thirty days after the close of the hearing enter an order to that effect and shall strike such lands from the list, and enter an order approving the list with such lands stricken therefrom. Upon entry of the order the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue shall, within a period of ten days, at its expense, cause a certified copy thereof, together with the approved list to be recorded in the office of the auditor of the county in which the lands are situated, and shall forward one certified copy thereof, together with the approved list, to the assessor of the county wherein the lands are situated, one copy to the department, and one copy of its order to the owner, with a list only of lands in which he has an interest; and thereupon the lands described on such list shall be classified as reforestation lands.

Sec. 190. Section 84.28.050, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 5, chapter 214, Laws of 1963 and RCW 84.28.050 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever the department or county assessor of the county in which classified lands are situated believes that any lands classified as reforestation lands are not being protected as provided by law, or the lands become more valuable for some other purpose, or are not being used primarily for forest crop production, the department or county assessor may petition the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue to remove such lands from classification as reforestation lands. The petition shall describe the lands by government legal subdivisions and shall set forth the name of the owner thereof, and the grounds and reasons for which such removal is sought. The ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue shall within sixty days after filing of the petition fix a time and place and shall hold a hearing on the petition and shall mail a copy of the notice thereof, together with a copy of the petition, to the owner at his address as shown by the records of the county treasurer's office at least thirty days prior to the date set for the hearing. At the time and place fixed for the hearing the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue shall hold a hearing on the petition and shall receive evidence offered by the owner, the department or county assessor for and against the petition. Upon the conclusion of the hearing the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue shall within fifteen days thereafter determine whether such lands shall be removed from classification as reforestation lands, and shall enter an order accordingly. Within ten days after issuance of the order, one certified copy of such order shall be forwarded by the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue to the county assessor of the county in which the lands are situated, one to the owner and one to the department, and the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue shall, at its own expense, cause a certified copy of such order, together with a list of the lands covered thereby, to be recorded in the office of the auditor of the county in which the lands are situated.

Sec. 191. Section 84.28.060, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 6, chapter 214, Laws of 1963 and RCW 84.28.060 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever any lands previously classified as reforestation lands shall be or become more valuable for some other purpose and twenty-five taxpayers of the county in which the lands are situated file a petition with the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue, alleging such to be the case, the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue shall fix a date for hearing on the petition and shall in writing notify the taxpayers by mailing notice thereof directed to the taxpayers at the address shown on the petition; and shall likewise, at least thirty days prior to the hearing date, notify the department, the assessor and the owners of the lands involved, by mailing a notice of the hearing with a copy of the petition to them directed to their respective addresses. At the hearing the petitioners, the department, the assessor and the owners shall be entitled to offer evidence bearing upon the question of the value of such lands for reforestation and other purposes. The ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue from the evidence shall determine whether the lands are more valuable for some other purpose than for reforestation; and if it so determines it shall enter an order to that effect and thereupon the lands shall be removed from classification as reforestation lands. Upon entry of an order by the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue, as provided for in this section, the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue shall, at its own expense, cause a certified copy thereof, together with a list of the lands covered thereby, to be recorded in the office of the auditor of the county in which the lands are situated and a certified copy thereof shall also be mailed to the owner.

Sec. 192. Section 7, chapter 214, Laws of 1963 and RCW 84.28.063 are each amended to read as follows:

The owner may at any time cause any of his lands classified under this chapter to be removed from such classification by filing written notice to that effect with the county assessor of the county in which such lands are situated, which notice shall describe the lands to be removed, giving the legal description thereof by government legal subdivision. Copy of such notice shall also be filed with the department, the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue and the county auditor of the county in which the lands are situated. Upon receipt from the county treasurer of evidence of payment of the yield taxes imposed by RCW 84.28.065, the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue shall issue an order removing said lands from classification, and such lands shall thereby be removed from classification as reforestation lands as of the first day of January next following the date of issuance of such order, and shall cease to be assessed and taxed as such and shall be free from any lien for unpaid taxes due or assessable under this chapter except as provided in RCW 84.28.065.

Sec. 193. Section 8, chapter 214, Laws of 1963 and RCW 84.28.065 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever any land is removed from classification as reforestation land it shall thereafter be assessed and taxed without regard to the provisions of this chapter, and there shall thereupon become due and owing to the county in which such land is situated the taxes set forth in this section.

(a) A yield tax equal to twelve and one-half percent of the value of the timber or forest crop remaining on the land, based upon full current stumpage rates fixed by the assessor: PROVIDED, That whenever, within a period of twelve years following the classification of any lands as reforestation lands, any such lands shall be removed from classification, the owner thereof shall be required to pay a yield tax upon the timber of one percent for each year that has expired from the date of such classification until such removal from classification.

(b) A sum of money equivalent to the amount, if any, by which the tax paid on the land and forest crop because of classification under this chapter is less than the tax paid during the same period on similar land and forest crop that was not classified.

The assessor shall prepare a roll of lands to be removed from classification and shall extend against such lands the taxes computed as provided in this section, and shall forthwith transmit to the county treasurer a record of such taxes; and the county treasurer shall thereupon enter the amount of such taxes upon his records against such lands and their owner; and such taxes shall thereupon become a lien against such lands and timber and also against any forest material that may be cut thereon and against any other real or personal property owned by such owner. Such taxes shall become delinquent on the fifteenth day of March next following the effective date of the ~~((commission's))~~ order of the department of revenue. The lien of such taxes shall be superior, and shall be enforceable, in the same manner and to the same effect as provided in RCW 84.28.140 for collection of yield taxes on materials removed from classified lands: PROVIDED, That payment of such taxes shall be a condition precedent to issuance of an order removing lands from classification pursuant to provisions of RCW 84.28.063: PROVIDED FURTHER, That an order classifying lands or removing lands from classification shall not be retroactive, but the effective date of such order shall not be earlier than the first day of January next following the date of issuance of such order.

Sec. 194. Section 84.28.160, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 14, chapter 214, Laws of 1963 and RCW 84.28.160 are each amended to read as follows:

The assessor shall add up and note the amount of each column in his detail and assessment lists, which he shall have bound in book form in such manner, to be prescribed or approved by the state (~~(tax commission)~~) department of revenue, as will provide a convenient and permanent record of assessment. He shall also make, under proper headings, a tabular statement showing the footings of the several columns upon each page, and shall add and set down under the respective headings the total amounts of each column, which he shall attach to the highest numbered assessment book, and on the first Monday of July he shall file the same, properly indexed, with the clerk of the county board of equalization for the purpose of equalization by the said board. Such returns shall be verified by his affidavit, substantially in the following form:

I,, Assessor, do solemnly swear that the books No. 1 to No., to the last of which this is attached, contain a correct and full list of all the real property (or personal property, as the case may be) subject to taxation in county, so far as I have been able to ascertain the same; and that the assessed value set down in the proper column, opposite the several kinds and descriptions of property, is in each case one hundred percent of the true and fair value of such property, to the best of my knowledge and belief, and that the footings of the several columns in said books, and the tabular statement returned herewith, are correct, as I verily believe.

....., Assessor.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this day of, 19...

PROVIDED, That the failure of the assessor to attach his certificate shall in no-wise invalidate the assessment. After the same has been duly equalized by the county and state board of equalization, the same shall be delivered to the county assessor, who shall then extend the amount as levied by the state and county boards upon the said detail and assessment lists as by law provided.

Sec. 196. Section 84.40.330, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 84.40.330 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be the duty of the county assessor, on the completion of his assessment rolls each year, to furnish the (~~(tax commission)~~) department of revenue a list of corporations, companies, associations, banks and individuals doing business of a public character whose assessed valuation is three thousand dollars or more, together with the class of property and the valuation placed on same for assessment purposes.

After consideration of such request the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall advise the assessor that such request is either approved or rejected in whole or in part. Upon approval of such request, the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may assist the assessor in the valuation of such property in such manner as the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue, in its discretion, considers proper and adequate.

Sec. 198. Section 84.41.070, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 84.41.070 are each amended to read as follows:

If the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue finds upon its own investigation, or upon a showing by others, that the revaluation program for any county is not proceeding for any reason as herein directed, or is not proceeding for any reason with sufficient rapidity to be completed before June 1, 1958, the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue shall advise both the board of county commissioners and the county assessor of such finding. Within thirty days after receiving such advice, the board of county commissioners, at regular or special session, either (1) shall authorize such expenditures as will enable the assessor to complete the revaluation program as herein directed, or (2) shall direct the assessor to request special assistance from the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue for aid in effectuating the county's revaluation program.

Sec. 199. Section 84.41.080, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 84.41.080 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon receiving a request from the county assessor, either upon his initiation or at the direction of the board of county commissioners, for special assistance in the county's revaluation program, the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may, before undertaking to render such special assistance, negotiate a contract with the board of county commissioners of the county concerned. Such contracts as are negotiated shall provide that the county will reimburse the state for fifty percent of the costs of such special assistance within three years of the date of expenditure of such costs. All such reimbursements shall be paid to the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue for deposit to the state general fund. Each county assessor shall keep such books and records as are required by the rules and regulations of the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue and shall comply with any lawful order, rule or regulation of the ~~((commission))~~ department of revenue.

Whenever it appears to the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue that any assessor has failed to comply with any of the provisions of this chapter relating to his duties or the rules of the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue made in pursuance thereof, the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue, after a hearing on the facts, may issue an order directing such assessor to comply with such provisions of this chapter or rules of the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue. Such order shall be mailed by registered mail to the assessor at the county court house. If, upon the expiration of fifteen days from the date such order is mailed, the assessor has not complied therewith or has not taken measures that will insure compliance within a reasonable time, the ~~((tax commission))~~ department of revenue may apply to a judge of the superior court or court commissioner of the county in which such assessor holds office, for an order returnable within five days from the date thereof to compel him to comply with such provisions of law or of the ~~((tax commission's))~~ order of the department of revenue or to show cause why he should not be compelled so to do. Upon the filing of the petition with the county assessor that officer shall proceed forthwith to conduct such investigation as may be necessary to ascertain and determine whether or not the assessment in question was erroneous or whether or not the tax was incorrectly extended upon the tax rolls and if he finds there is probable cause to believe that the property was erroneously assessed, and that such erroneous assessment was due to an error in description, double assessment or manifest error in assessment which does not involve a revaluation of the property, or that the tax was incorrectly extended upon the tax rolls, he shall endorse his findings upon the petition, and thereupon within ten days after the filing of the petition by the taxpayer forward the same to the county treasurer. If the assessor's findings be in favor of cancellation or reduction or correction he shall include therein a statement of the amount to which he recommends that the assessment and tax be reduced. Upon receipt of the (~~(commission's)~~) order of the department of revenue the county auditor shall draw a warrant against the county tax refund fund in the amount of any tax reduction so ordered, plus legal interest to the date such warrant is issued, and such warrant shall be paid by the county treasurer out of any moneys on hand in said fund. If no funds are available in the county tax refund fund for the payment of such warrant the warrant shall bear interest and shall be callable under such conditions as are provided by law for county warrants and such interest, if any, shall also be paid out of said fund. The (~~(commission's)~~) order of the department of revenue shall for all purposes be considered as a judgment against the county tax refund fund and the obligation thereof shall be discharged in the same manner

The basis of apportionment shall be the same as that of property taxes first collectible in the year in which such lieu payment is made: PROVIDED, That if any such lieu payment cannot be so apportioned the apportionment shall be made on such basis as the (~~((tax commission))~~) department of revenue shall deem equitable and proper.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 217. The legislature hereby reaffirms its singular intent under this amendatory act to change the designation of the state tax commission to the department of revenue or the board of tax appeals, as the case may be, and to make explicit its intent that no rights, duties, obligations or benefits, of whatsoever kind, are to be construed as changed as a result of the enactment hereof.

Passed the House March 14, 1975.

Passed the Senate May 31, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of section 216 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section House Bill No. 354 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to conforming state statutes to reflect the transfer of powers, duties and functions from the state tax commission to the department of revenue or to the board of tax appeals."

Section 216 declares an emergency and provides for the act to take effect immediately. I have, on several recent occasions, expressed my increasing apprehension over repeated and unwarranted use of emergency clauses in bills that do not measure up to the standard of urgency contained in Article II, section 1(b) of our Constitution. I have vetoed emergency clauses from such bills, and must do so again for the same reason in the case of this bill.

With the exception of section 216 which I have vetoed, the remainder of House Bill No. 354 is approved."

[Substitute House Bill No. 427]

The legislature finds that the highway commission has made significant management improvements to date in the development and utilization of work standards and similar criteria for determining both operational and support personnel requirements in all programs. It is the intent of the legislature that the highway commission devote special attention to the continued evolution and refinement of such criteria during execution of the 1975-77 biennium budget; and to prepare the 1977-79 biennium budget request based on such refined criteria.

Sec. 1. was partially vetoed, see message at end of chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The budget for the urban arterial board is hereby adopted and there is hereby appropriated from the urban arterial trust account in the motor vehicle fund to the urban arterial board for the biennium ending June 30, 1977, $43,101,804 or so much thereof as may be necessary for implementing and administering the program of financial assistance to cities and counties in urban areas for urban arterial highways, roads and streets: PROVIDED, That said appropriation shall include $20,000,000 from the proceeds from the sale of first authorization bonds provided for by RCW 47.26.420 through 47.26.427 and shall further include $5,000,000 from the proceeds from the sale of series II bonds as provided for by RCW 47.26.420 through 47.26.427: PROVIDED FURTHER, That in event proceeds of motor vehicle fuel tax revenue distributed in accordance with RCW 82.36.020 are insufficient to meet debt service requirements on bonds sold in accordance with RCW 47.26.420, funds for such debt service deficits shall be provided in accordance with RCW 47.26.425 and 47.26.426: PROVIDED FURTHER, That during the 1975-77 biennium, the urban arterial board shall not authorize any additional projects which in the board's judgment cannot be placed under contract for construction within eighteen months of authorization.

*Sec. 3. was partially vetoed, see message at end of chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund to the Washington state highway commission for the biennium ending June 30, 1977, $422,000 for supportive services to off-the-job training programs for minority highway construction workers and for minority contractors' training programs: PROVIDED, That this appropriation or so much thereof as shall be necessary shall be expended on or before June 30, 1977, and shall be fully reimbursable from federal funds authorized by P. NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. There is hereby appropriated from the motor vehicle fund to the Washington state highway commission for the biennium ending June 30, 1977, the sum of $77,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary to continue the agreement, in accordance with the provisions of RCW 47.56.720, between Wahkiakum county and the state highway commission for the operation and maintenance of the Puget Island ferry.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 43.79-.260 through RCW 43.79.280, if federal funds in excess of the $238,809,309 contained in the appropriations to the state highway commission are received by the state of Washington for highway purposes, and the federal notification thereof is in excess of one million dollars in biennial expenditures, the highway commission shall determine, after consultation with the standing committees on transportation and utilities of the house and senate, the extent to which the receipt of such federal funds will impact on total biennium appropriations and budgeted expenditures of state revenues in the motor vehicle fund.

(2) The highway commission shall submit to the governor, as appropriate, either a statement requesting an increase in the biennium appropriations and an allotment amendment to authorize expenditures of such funds in addition to appropriations provided by law, or a statement requesting an allotment amendment to authorize the expenditure of such funds in lieu of state revenues in the motor vehicle fund within the total appropriation provided by law. A copy of the request shall be submitted to the standing committees on transportation and utilities of the house and senate. If the governor approves the highway commission request, he shall transmit one approved copy to the highway commission and identical copies to the standing committees on transportation and utilities of the house and senate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

Passed the House June 7, 1975.

Passed the Senate June 2, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of certain items which are vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to several items Substitute House Bill No. 427 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to highways; making appropriations for the operations and capital improvements of the state highway commission, the urban arterial board, and the Washington toll bridge authority."

1. Priority programming.

In section 1, page 2, beginning on line 3, I have vetoed the proviso ending on line 8 which allows the Highway Commission to digress from the mandate of the priority programming law in order to "utilize effectively state and federal funds available for highway purposes."

The intent of this proviso is unclear and may be subject to varying interpretations. Existing law already provides for departure from priority programming in any of the following circumstances:

". . . (a) to the extent that otherwise funds cannot be utilized feasibly within the budget, (b) as may be required by court judgment or legally binding agreement, (c) to take advantage of some substantial financial benefit that may be available, or (d) for continuity of route development." See RCW 47.05.050.

If the intent of the proviso is to add another situation under which the commission may depart from priority programming, it should be clearly stated. Absent persuasive evidence that would justify such broadening of the exceptions to priority programming, I cannot accept the proviso.

2. Urban Arterial Board.

In section 2, page 3, beginning on line 28, I have vetoed the item ending on line 30 providing for inclusion in the Urgan Arterial Board appropriation of $5 million from proceeds of sale of series II bonds.

The authorization for issuance of series II bonds was contingent on the enactment of Substitute Senate Bill No. 2159 relating to the variable gasoline tax. Since I have vetoed that bill, it would be inappropriate for this item to remain in the appropriation.

3. Port Townsend-Keystone ferry.

In section 3, page 4, beginning on line 29, I have vetoed the proviso ending on line 33 directing the Toll Bridge Authority to provide year-round ferry service on the Port Townsend-Keystone route. While maintenance of year-round service on this route may be desirable, the difficult circumstances of the motor vehicle fund at this time would make it prudent to allow the Toll Bridge Authority to exercise its discretion in this respect after thorough review of the demand on this route and exigent needs elsewhere.

With the exception of the foregoing items which I have vetoed for the reasons stated, the remainder of the bill is approved."

Failure to pay the annual license renewal fee by the dates specified above shall render the license invalid, but such license may be reinstated upon written application therefor to the director, and payment to the state of a penalty of ten dollars together with all delinquent annual license renewal fees.

The director shall prorate the licensing fee for massage operator based on one-twelfth of the annual license fee for each full calendar month between the issue date and the next anniversary of the applicant's birth date, a date used as the expiration date of such license.

Every applicant for a license shall pay an examination fee determined by the director as provided in RCW 43.24.085 as now or hereafter amended, which fee shall accompany their application.

Applicants granted a license under this chapter shall pay to the director a license fee determined by the director as provided in RCW 43.24.085 as now or hereafter amended, prior to the issuance of their license, and an annual renewal fee determined by the director as provided in RCW 43.24.085 as now or hereafter amended.

The examinations shall require the applicant to demonstrate a basic knowledge of anatomy, physiology, hygiene, first aid, and such other subjects as the examining board may determine: PROVIDED, That the board shall give an appropriate alternate form of examination for persons who cannot read or speak English to determine equivalent competency.

NEW SECTION Sec. 8. NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. It shall be unlawful to advertise the practice of massage by a business not licensed by the director.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. No person shall conduct a massage business without a massage business license issued by the director and, where required, by the political subdivision within whose jurisdiction the massage business is located. No massage business shall hire a massage operator who is not licensed by the director, provided that this requirement shall not become effective until six months after the effective date of this 1975 act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. Sections 1 through 22 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 18 RCW.

Passed the House June 8, 1975.

Passed the Senate June 8, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of section 8 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section House Bill No. 774 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the operation of massage businesses."

This bill provides for the regulation and licensing, at the state level, of massage businesses and operators.

Section 8 contains a "grandfather clause" allowing any person engaged in the massage business for one year or more to qualify for the massage operator's license without taking the examination prescribed elsewhere in the bill.

I have long stated my objection to grandfather clauses in business licensing acts for the reason that I do not believe it is either in the best interest of the public or the particular business involved to license all persons previously engaged in a business for a set period of time regardless of the competency of such person. In addition, I cannot ignore the reports by law enforcement agencies detailing the proliferation in certain areas of our state of purported massage parlors which actually engage in a number of illicit and criminal activities. Approval of the grandfather clause in this bill would effectively grant licenses to persons engaged in such activities at those establishments.

With the exception of section 8 which I have vetoed for the reasons stated, the remainder of House Bill No. 774 is approved."

TOWING OR REMOVING OF MOTOR VEHICLES FROM PRIVATE PROPERTY

AN ACT Relating to towing or removing of motor vehicles from private property; amending section 1, chapter 208, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 46.52.119; adding new sections to chapter 46.52 RCW; and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. Any person having possession or control of real property who finds an abandoned vehicle or abandoned vehicle hulk as defined in RCW 46.52.102 standing upon that property is authorized to have such vehicle or hulk removed by a person properly registered pursuant to RCW 46.52.108. Such

Sec. 2. Section 1, chapter 208, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 46.52.119 are each amended to read as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. No person shall have the right to tow, remove, impound or otherwise disturb any motor vehicle other than an abandoned vehicle as defined in RCW 46.52.102, which may be parked, stalled or otherwise left on private property, other than family residential property, owned or controlled by such person, unless there is posted on or near the property in a clearly conspicuous location a sign or notice in compliance with rules and regulations of the director of the department of motor vehicles providing for, without limitation, specifications for signs and posting thereof by persons intending to have unauthorized vehicles removed from property other than family residential property. Such regulations shall provide for notification to any person of the intent of the property holder to remove any unauthorized vehicles and sufficient information to assist in the prompt recovery of any vehicle removed. Such regulations shall require as a minimum that the language on any such sign provide:

- (2) The name, telephone number and location of the towing firm authorized to remove vehicles.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) Any towing firm removing vehicles from private property pursuant to sections 2 or 3 of this 1975 amendatory act shall:

- (b) Post a copy of the schedule of fees on file with the department in a prominent place at the business location where vehicles are released from storage;
- (c) Maintain personnel able and authorized to release any vehicle to its owner on a twenty-four hour basis;

which agency shall maintain a log of such reports: PROVIDED, That the reporting required in this subsection shall include an immediate radio or telephone call to, and a written notification, within twenty-four hours, to such local law enforcement agency;

(e) If any vehicle removed pursuant to sections 2 or 3 of this 1975 amendatory act remains unclaimed after twenty-four hours, send to the registered owner of the vehicle by the end of the next business day a notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, advising that person of the name, location and twenty-four hour telephone number of the person, tow truck operator, or operator of any storage facility who is empowered or authorized to return custody of any such towed, removed, or impounded motor vehicle. The notification shall also contain an estimate of the costs of towing, storage, or other services rendered during the course of removing, impounding, or storing any such motor vehicle. For the purpose of sending such notice, the law enforcement agency to which the report was made shall provide the name and address of the registered owner, as it appears on the records of the department, to the towing firm removing a vehicle under the provisions of this 1975 amendatory act: PROVIDED, That in the event such certified letter has been refused or returned to sender unclaimed the notification to the law enforcement agency as provided in subsection (1)(d) of this section shall constitute actual notice to the registered and legal owner: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the effect of other laws notwithstanding, the costs of towing, storage or other services rendered during the course of removing, impounding or storing any such motor vehicle shall not constitute a lien upon the legal ownership of such motor vehicle until forty-eight hours after the notice as provided in this subsection has been received by the local law enforcement agency or owner of the vehicle, at which time the lien may be enforced as otherwise provided by law for the enforcement of towing or storage liens or liens generally: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That if the towing firm assesses a fee according to the miles a vehicle is towed, the lien shall be, and the towing firm shall attempt to recover, no more than the fees that would accrue for towing to the nearest storage location of any towing firm.

(2) A failure to comply with the provisions of this section in regard to any vehicle waives the lien on that vehicle, constitutes a bar to recovery of the charges accrued on that vehicle, and is grounds for the suspension or revocation of the registration of any towing firm registered under RCW 46.52.108 to dispose of the abandoned vehicle: PROVIDED, That no storage charges shall accrue in any event until written notice as provided in this section shall have been received by the local law enforcement agency or owner of the vehicle.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Any towing firm removing vehicles from private property pursuant to sections 2 or 3 of this 1975 amendatory act shall release such vehicle to the owner, operator, driver, or authorized designee thereof upon the presentation to any person having custody of such vehicle of commercially reasonable tender sufficient to cover the costs of towing, storage or other services rendered during the course of towing, removing, impounding or storing any such motor vehicle, such commercially reasonable tender to include, without limitation, cash, personal checks drawn on local banks with proper identification, and valid and appropriate credit cards: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That any person who stops payment on a personal check with intent to defraud a towing firm which has provided a service pursuant to this section, or in any other manner defrauds the towing firm in connection with services rendered pursuant to this section shall be liable for damages in the amount of twice the towing and storage fees, plus costs and reasonable attorney's fees: PROVIDED FURTHER, That every towing firm providing service pursuant to this section shall post a true copy of this section in a conspicuous place upon its business premises: PROVIDED FURTHER, That if the owner, operator, driver or authorized designee thereof, shall provide adequate proof of his financial responsibility, employment and residence in the community to any person having custody of any towed, removed, impounded or stored motor vehicle, then the motor vehicle shall be released without payment, with the understanding that such costs shall be paid within thirty days, or shall be recoverable through an action by law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Any person acting to tow, remove or otherwise disturb any motor vehicle parked, stalled or otherwise left on privately owned or controlled property, and any person owning or controlling such private property, or either of them, shall be liable to the owner, operator or driver of a motor vehicle, or each of them, for consequential and incidental damages arising from any interference with the ownership or use of such motor vehicle which does not comply with the requirements of sections 3, 4 and 5 of this 1975 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 1 and 3 through 6 of this 1975 amendatory act shall be added to chapter 46.52 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. If any provision of this 1975 amendatory act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. This 1975 amendatory act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

Passed the House June 7, 1975.

Passed the Senate June 6, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of section 9 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section Substitute House Bill No. 818 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to towing or removing of motor vehicles from private property."

This bill makes various changes in the law governing the rights and duties of tow truck operators.

Section 9 declares an emergency and provides for the act to take effect immediately. I have, on several recent occasions, expressed my increasing apprehension over repeated and unwarranted use of emergency clauses in bills that do not measure up to the standard of urgency contained in Article II, section 1(b) of our Constitution. I have vetoed emergency clauses from such bills, and must do so again for the same reason in the case of this bill.

With the exception of section 9 which I have vetoed, the remainder of Substitute House Bill No. 818 is approved."

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 69.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) No person shall sell, keep for sale, expose or offer for sale, any article or product in imitation or semblance of honey branded exclusively as "honey", "liquid or extracted honey", "strained honey" or "pure honey".

(2) No person, firm, association, company or corporation shall manufacture, sell, expose or offer for sale, any compound or mixture branded or labeled exclusively as honey which shall be made up of honey mixed with any other substance or ingredient.

(4) Whenever any substance or commodity is to be marketed in imitation or semblance of honey, but contains no honey, the product shall not be branded or labeled with the word "honey" and/or depict thereon a picture or drawing of a bee, bee hive, or honeycomb;

(5) Whenever honey is mixed with any other substance or ingredient and the commodity is to be marketed, there shall be printed on the package containing such compound or mixture a statement giving the ingredients of which it is made; if honey is one of such ingredients it shall be so stated in the same size type as are the other ingredients; nor shall such compound or mixture be branded or labeled exclusively with the word "honey" in any form other than as herein provided; nor shall any product in semblance of honey, whether a mixture or not, be sold, exposed or offered for sale as honey, or branded or labeled exclusively with the word "honey", unless such article is pure honey.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 69.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The label for a product which is not in semblance of honey and which contains honey may include the word "honey" in the name of the product and the relative position of the word "honey" in the product name, and in the list of ingredients, when required, shall be determined by its prominence as an ingredient in the product.

Sec. 2. was vetoed, see message at end of chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is added to chapter 69.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Whenever the director shall find, or shall have probable cause to believe, that any honey or product subject to the provisions of this chapter, as now or hereafter amended, is in intrastate commerce, which was introduced into such intrastate commerce in violation of the provisions of this chapter, as now or hereafter amended, he is hereby authorized to affix to such honey or product a notice placing an embargo on such honey or product, and prohibiting its sale in intrastate commerce, and no person shall move or sell such honey or product without first receiving permission from the director to move or sell such honey or product. But if, after such honey or product has been embargoed, the director shall find that such honey or product does not involve a violation of this chapter, as now or hereafter amended, such embargo shall be forthwith removed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is added to chapter 69.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

When the director has embargoed any honey or product he shall, no later than twenty days after the affixing of notice of its embargo, petition the superior court for an order affirming such embargo. Such court shall then have jurisdiction, for cause shown and after prompt hearing to any claimant of such honey or product, to issue an order which directs the removal of such embargo or the destruction or the correction and release of such honey or product. An order for destruction or correction and release shall contain such provision for the payment of pertinent court costs and fees and administrative expenses, as is equitable and which the court deems appropriate in the circumstances. An order for correction and release may contain such provision for bond, as the court finds indicated in the circumstances.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. There is added to chapter 69.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Two or more petitions under this chapter, as now or hereafter amended, which pend at the same time and which present the same issue and claimant hereunder, shall be consolidated for simultaneous determination by one court of jurisdiction, upon application to any court of jurisdiction by the director or by such claimant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. There is added to chapter 69.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The claimant in any proceeding by petition under this chapter, as now or hereafter amended, shall be entitled to receive a representative sample of the honey or product subject to such proceeding, upon application to the court of jurisdiction made at any time after such petition and prior to the hearing thereon.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. There is added to chapter 69.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

No state court shall allow the recovery of damages for embargo under this chapter, as now or hereafter amended, if the court finds that there was probable cause for such action.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Section 31, chapter 199, Laws of 1939 and RCW 69-28.150 are each repealed.

Passed the House June 2, 1975.

Passed the Senate May 29, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975, with the exception of section 2 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section Substitute House Bill No. 1204 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to honey."

This bill sets up some rigid labelling standards for the sale of products labeled as honey or containing honey.

Section 2 of the bill provides that a product "not in semblance of honey" and which contains honey is subject to labelling restrictions in the use of the word "honey." The section creates potential problems with the free flow in interstate commerce of products containing honey because of the new labelling standard and works against the intent of Substitute Senate Bill No. 2150 previously enacted by the Legislature and approved by me. A major purpose of that bill was to promote uniformity of this state's legislation and regulations on labelling with the federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act and regulations adopted thereunder. The free movement of out of state products in this state, including honey products, would be impeded by the requirements of section 2.

For the foregoing reasons, I have determined to veto section 2. With that exception, the remainder of the bill is approved."

PUBLIC SCHOOL EXTRACURRICULAR EVENTS—FEES— ASSOCIATED STUDENT BODY PROGRAM FUND

AN ACT Relating to education; amending section 1, chapter 52, Laws of 1973 and RCW 28A.58.115; adding a new section to chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and chapter 28A.58 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and chapter 28A.65 RCW; prescribing an effective date; and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and to chapter 28A.58 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The board of directors of any common school district may establish and collect a fee from students and nonstudents as a condition to their attendance at any optional noncredit extracurricular event of the district which is of a cultural, social, recreational or athletic nature: PROVIDED, That in so establishing such fee or fees, the district shall adopt regulations for waiving and reducing such fees in the cases of those students whose families, by reason of their low income, would have difficulty in paying the entire amount of such fees. An optional comprehensive fee may be established and collected for any combination or all of such events or, in the alternative, a fee may be established and collected as a condition to attendance at any single event. Fees collected pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the associated student body program fund of the school district, and may be expended to defray the costs of optional noncredit extracurricular events of such a cultural, social, recreational or athletic nature, or to otherwise support the activities and programs of associated student bodies.

There is hereby created a fund on deposit with each county treasurer for each school district of the county having an associated student body as defined in RCW 28A.58.115. Such fund shall be known as the associated student body program fund. Rules and regulations promulgated by the superintendent of public instruction under section 3 of this 1975 act shall require separate accounting for each associated student body's transactions in the school district's associated student body program fund.

All moneys generated through the programs and activities of any associated student body shall be deposited in the associated student body program fund. Such funds may be invested for the sole benefit of the associated student body program fund in items enumerated in RCW 28A.58.440 and the county treasurer may assess a fee as provided therein. Disbursements from such fund shall be under the control and supervision, and with the approval, of the board of directors of the school district, and shall be by warrant as provided in chapter 28A.66 RCW: PROVIDED, That in no case shall such warrants be issued in an amount greater than the funds on deposit with the county treasurer in the associated student body program fund. To facilitate the payment of minor or unexpected obligations, or obligations which require immediate payment, an imprest bank account or accounts may be created and replenished from the associated student body program fund.

The associated student body program fund shall be budgeted by the associated student body, subject to approval by the board of directors of the school district. All disbursements from the associated student body program fund or any imprest bank account established thereunder shall have the prior approval of the appropriate governing body representing the associated student body. Notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 43.09.210, it shall not be mandatory that expenditures from the district's general fund in support of associated student body programs and activities be reimbursed by payments from the associated student body program fund.

The effective date of this section shall be July 1, 1976.

Sec. 3. Section 1, chapter 52, Laws of 1973 and RCW 28A.58.115 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this section, an "associated student body" means the formal organization of the students of a school formed with the approval of and regulation by the board of directors of the school district in conformity to the rules and regulations promulgated by the superintendent of public instruction.

The superintendent of public instruction, after consultation with appropriate school organizations and students, shall promulgate rules and regulations to designate the powers and responsibilities of the boards of directors of the school districts of the state of Washington in developing efficient administration, management, and control of moneys, records, and reports of the associated student bodies organized in the public schools of the state.

The application of the provisions of this section is suspended until July 1, 1976.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of its provisions to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Section 1 of this 1975 act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

Sec. 5. was vetoed, see message at end of chapter.

Passed the Senate June 9, 1975.

Passed the House June 9, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of section 5 which was vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2210 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to education."

This bill authorizes school districts to establish and collect fees from students and non-students for participation in certain extracurricular activities.

Section 5 declares an emergency and provides for the act to take effect immediately. I have, on several recent occasions, expressed my increasing apprehension over repeated and unwarranted use of emergency clauses in bills that do not measure up to the standard of urgency contained in Article II, section 1(b) of our Constitution. I have vetoed emergency clauses from such bills, and must do so again for the same reason in the case of this bill.

With the exception of section 5 which I have vetoed, the remainder of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2210 is approved."

AN ACT Relating to adjustment of workmen's compensation payments; amending section 17, chapter 289, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as last amended by section 3, chapter 110, Laws of 1973 and RCW 51.32.073; adding a new section to chapter 23, Laws of 1961 and to chapter 51.32 RCW; and providing an effective date.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 17, chapter 289, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as last amended by section 3, chapter 110, Laws of 1973 and RCW 51.32.073 are each amended to read as follows:

Each employer shall retain from the earnings of each workman that amount as shall be fixed from time to time by the director, the basis for measuring said amount to be determined by the director. The money so retained shall be matched in an equal amount by each employer, and all such moneys shall be remitted to the department in such manner and at such intervals as the department directs and shall be placed in the supplemental pension fund: PROVIDED, That the state apprenticeship council shall pay the entire amount into the supplemental pension fund for registered apprentices or trainees during their participation in supplemental and related instruction classes. The moneys so collected shall be used exclusively for the additional payments prescribed in RCW 51.32.070 and for the amount of any increase payable under the provisions of section 2 of this 1975 amendatory act and shall be no more than necessary to make such payments on a current basis.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 23, Laws of 1961 and to chapter 51.32 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Effective July 1 of each year, the compensation or death benefits payable pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, for temporary total disability, permanent total disability or death arising out of injuries or occupational diseases shall be adjusted as follows:

(1) For those whose right to compensation was established on or after July 1, 1971, and before July 1, 1975, an initial adjustment shall be determined by multiplying the amount of compensation to which they are entitled by a fraction, the denominator of which shall be the maximum amount of compensation payable for the fiscal year in which such person's right to compensation was established, and the numerator of which shall be the maximum amount of compensation payable in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1975. After the initial adjustment has been made, subsequent adjustments shall be made in the same manner as provided in section 2 of this 1975 amendatory act, provided that the base upon which such subsequent adjustments are made shall be the amount of compensation determined after the initial adjustment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. For persons under the age of 62 receiving compensation for temporary or permanent total disability pursuant to the provisions of chapter 51.32 RCW, such compensation shall be reduced by an amount equal to the benefits payable under the federal old-age, survivors and disability insurance act as now or hereafter amended not to exceed the amount of the reduction established pursuant to 42 USC 424a. However, such reduction shall not apply when the combined compensation provided pursuant to chapter 51.32 RCW and the federal old-age, survivors and disability insurance act is less than the total benefits to which the federal reduction would apply, pursuant to 42 USC 424a.

*Sec. 4. was vetoed, see message at end of chapter.

Passed the Senate June 8, 1975.

Passed the House June 8, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of section 4 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2401 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to adjustment of workmen's compensation payments."

This bill provides for certain cost of living increases for workmen's compensation payments.

Section 4 sets an effective date for the act of July 1, 1975. Without such a designated date, the act would go into effect ninety days after the adjournment of the recent extraordinary session of the Legislature. The effect of the July 1, 1975 date in this case is to cut short the ninety-day period during which the people have the right pursuant to Article II, section 1(d) of our Constitution, to subject the measure to referendum. I have serious reservations about the constitutionality of an effective date of this kind, inasmuch as the Constitution provides that an act shall not be subject to referendum if it is necessary for the "immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, support of the state government and its existing public institutions." See Article II, section 1(b). Whether or not the bill would ever be subjected to a referendum effort, it simply does not measure up to that standard of urgency.

With the exception of section 4, which I have vetoed for the foregoing reasons, the remainder of the bill is approved."

[Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2403]

MOTOR VEHICLE VIOLATIONS— PERSONS UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF INTOXICATING LIQUOR OR DRUGS

AN ACT Relating to motor vehicles; amending section 3, chapter 1, Laws of 1969 and RCW 46.61-.506; amending section 62, chapter 155, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 130, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 46.61.515; amending section 46.56.040, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 2, chapter 38, Laws of 1973 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 46.61.520; amending section 1, chapter 1, Laws of 1969 and RCW 46.20.308; adding a new section to chapter 46.61 RCW; repealing section 61, chapter 155, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 46.61-.510; and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 3, chapter 1, Laws of 1969 and RCW 46.61.506 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It is unlawful for any person who is under the influence of or affected by the use of intoxicating liquor or of any ((narcotic)) drug to drive or be in actual physical control of a vehicle within this state.

(2) Upon the trial of any civil or criminal action or proceeding arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving or in actual physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time alleged as shown by chemical analysis of his blood, breath or other bodily substance shall give rise to the following presumptions:

(a) If there was at that time 0.05 percent or less by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that he was not under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

(b) If there was at that time in excess of 0.05 percent but less than 0.10 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, such fact shall not give rise to any presumption that the person was or was not under the influence of intoxicating liquor, but such fact may be considered with other competent evidence in determining whether the person was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

(c) If there was at that time 0.10 percent or more by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that he was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

(d) Percent by weight of alcohol in the blood shall be based upon milligrams of alcohol per one hundred cubic centimeters of blood.

(e) The foregoing provisions of this section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether the person was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

(3) Chemical analysis of the person's blood or breath to be considered valid under the provisions of this section shall have been performed according to methods approved by the state toxicologist and by an individual possessing a valid permit issued by the state toxicologist for this purpose. The state toxicologist is directed to approve satisfactory techniques or methods, to supervise the examination of individuals to ascertain their qualifications and competence to conduct such analyses, and to issue permits which shall be subject to termination or revocation at the discretion of the state toxicologist.

(4) When a blood test is administered under the provisions of RCW 46.20.308, the withdrawal of blood for the purpose of determining its alcoholic content may be performed only by a physician, a registered nurse, or a qualified technician. This limitation shall not apply to the taking of breath specimens.

(5) The person tested may have a physician, or a qualified technician, chemist, registered nurse, or other qualified person of his own choosing administer a chemical test or tests in addition to any administered at the direction of a law enforcement officer. The failure or inability to obtain an additional test by a person shall not preclude the admission of evidence relating to the test or tests taken at the direction of a law enforcement officer.

(6) Upon the request of the person who shall submit to a chemical test or tests at the request of a law enforcement officer, full information concerning the test or tests shall be made available to him or his attorney.

Sec. 2. Section 62, chapter 155, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 130, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 46.61.515 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every person who is convicted of a violation of (a) driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or (b) driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of a ((narcotic)) drug(~~(, or under the influence of any other drug)~~) to a degree which renders the driver incapable of safely driving a motor vehicle shall be punished by imprisonment for not less than five days nor more than one year, and by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars.

On a second or subsequent conviction of either offense within a five year period he shall be punished by imprisonment for not less than thirty days nor more than one year and by a fine not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, and neither the jail sentence nor the fine shall be suspended: PROVIDED, That the court may, for a defendant who has not previously had a jail sentence suspended on such second or subsequent conviction, suspend such sentence and/or fine only on the condition that the defendant participate in and successfully complete a court approved alcohol treatment program: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the suspension shall be set aside upon the failure of the defendant to provide proof of successful completion of said treatment program within a time certain to be established by the court. If such person at the time of a second or subsequent conviction is without a license or permit because of a previous suspension or revocation, the minimum mandatory sentence shall be ninety days in jail and a two hundred dollar fine. The penalty so imposed shall not be suspended.

(2) There shall be levied and paid into the highway safety fund of the state treasury a penalty assessment in the minimum amount of twenty-five percent of, and which shall be in addition to, any fine, bail forfeiture, or costs on all offenses involving a violation of any state statute or city or county ordinance relating to driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or being in actual physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor: PROVIDED, That all funds derived from such penalty assessment shall be in addition to and exclusive of assessments made under RCW 46.81.030 and shall be for the exclusive use of the department for driver services programs and for a state-wide alcohol safety action program, or other similar programs designed primarily for the rehabilitation or control of traffic offenders. Such penalty assessment shall be included in any bail schedule and shall be included by the court in any pronouncement of sentence.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions contained in chapters 3.16, 3.46, 3.50, 3.62 or 35.20 RCW, or any other section, the penalty assessment provided for in subsection (2) of this section shall not be suspended, waived, modified, or deferred in any respect and all moneys derived from such penalty assessments shall be forwarded to the highway safety fund to be used exclusively for the purposes set forth in subsection (2) of this section.

(4) The license or permit to drive or any nonresident privilege of any person convicted of either of the offenses named in subsection (1) above shall:

(a) Be suspended by the department for not less than thirty days;

(b) On a second conviction under either such offense within a five year period, be suspended by the department for not less than sixty days after the termination of such person's jail sentence;

(c) On a third or subsequent conviction under either such offense within a five year period, be revoked by the department.

(5) In any case provided for in this section, where a driver's license is to be revoked or suspended, such revocation or suspension shall be stayed and shall not take effect until after the determination of any appeal from the conviction which may lawfully be taken, but in case such conviction is sustained on appeal such revocation or suspension shall take effect as of the date that the conviction becomes effective for other purposes.

Sec. 3. Section 46.56.040, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 2, chapter 38, Laws of 1973 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 46.61.520 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When the death of any person shall ensue within three years as a proximate result of injury received by the driving of any vehicle by any person while under the influence of or affected by intoxicating liquor or ~~((narcotic))~~ drugs ~~((as defined in chapter 69.50 RCW, Uniform Controlled Substances Act))~~, or by the operation of any vehicle in a reckless manner or with disregard for the safety of others, the person so operating such vehicle shall be guilty of negligent homicide by means of a motor vehicle.

(2) Any person convicted of negligent homicide by means of a motor vehicle shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both fine and imprisonment.

Sec. 4. Section 1, chapter 1, Laws of 1969 and RCW 46.20.308 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person who operates a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state shall be deemed to have given consent, subject to the provisions of RCW 46.61.506, to a chemical test or tests of his breath or blood for the purpose of determining the alcoholic content of his blood if arrested for any offense where, at the time of the arrest, the arresting officer has reasonable grounds to believe the person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The test or tests shall be administered at the direction of a law enforcement officer having reasonable grounds to believe the person to have been driving or in actual physical control of a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Such officer shall inform the person of his right to refuse the test, and of his right to have additional tests administered by any qualified person of his choosing as provided in RCW 46.61.506. The officer shall warn the driver that his privilege to drive will be revoked or denied if he refuses to submit to the test. Unless the person to be tested is unconscious, the chemical test administered shall be of his breath only: PROVIDED, That if an individual is under arrest for the crime of negligent homicide by motor vehicle as provided in RCW 46.61.520, or if an individual is under arrest for the crime of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs as provided in RCW 46.61.506, which arrest results from an accident in which another person has been injured and there is a reasonable likelihood that such other person may die as a result of injuries sustained in the accident, a breath or blood test may be administered without the consent of the individual so arrested. In such circumstances, the provisions of subsections 2 through 6 of section 5 of this 1975 amendatory act shall not apply.

(2) Any person who is dead, unconscious or who is otherwise in a condition rendering him incapable of refusal, shall be deemed not to have withdrawn the consent provided by subsection (1) of this section and the test or tests may be administered, subject to the provisions of RCW 46.61.506.

(3) If, following his arrest, the person arrested refuses upon the request of a law enforcement officer to submit to a chemical test of his breath, after being informed that his refusal will result in the revocation or denial of his privilege to drive, no test shall be given. The department of motor vehicles, upon the receipt of a sworn report of the law enforcement officer that he had reasonable grounds to believe the arrested person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and that the person had refused to submit to the test upon the request of the law enforcement officer after being informed that such refusal would result in the revocation or denial of his privilege to drive, shall revoke his license or permit to drive or any nonresident operating privilege. If the person is a resident without a license or permit to operate a motor vehicle in this state, the department shall deny to the person the issuance of a license or permit for a period of six months after the date of the alleged violation, subject to review as hereinafter provided.

(4) Upon revoking the license or permit to drive or the nonresident operating privilege of any person, or upon determining that the issuance of a license or permit shall be denied to the person, as hereinbefore in this section directed, the department shall immediately notify the person involved in writing by personal service or by registered or certified mail of its decision and the grounds therefor, and of his right to a hearing, specifying the steps he must take to obtain a hearing. The person upon receiving such notice may, in writing and within ten days therefrom request a formal hearing. Upon receipt of such request, the department shall afford him an opportunity for a hearing as provided in RCW 46.20.329 and RCW 46.20.332. The scope of such hearing for the purposes of this section shall cover the issues of whether a law enforcement officer had reasonable grounds to believe the person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, whether the person was placed under arrest and whether he refused to submit to the test upon request of the officer after having been informed that such refusal would result in the revocation or denial of his privilege to drive. The department shall order that the revocation or determination that there should be a denial of issuance either be rescinded or sustained. Any decision by the department revoking a person's driving privilege shall be stayed and shall not take effect while a formal hearing is pending as herein provided or during the pendency of a subsequent appeal to superior court: PROVIDED, That this stay shall be effective only so long as there is no conviction for a moving violation during pendency of the hearing and appeal.

(5) If the revocation or determination that there should be a denial of issuance is sustained after such a hearing, the person whose license, privilege or permit is so affected shall have the right to file a petition in the superior court of the county wherein he resides, or, if a nonresident of this state, where the charge arose, to review the final order of revocation or denial by the department in the manner provided in RCW 46.20.334.

(6) When it has been finally determined under the procedures of this section that a nonresident's privilege to operate a motor vehicle in this state has been revoked, the department shall give information in writing of the action taken to the motor vehicle administrator of the state of the person's residence and of any state in which he has a license.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. There is added to chapter 46.61 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The word "drugs", as used in RCW 46.61.500 through 46.61.535, shall include but not be limited to those drugs and substances regulated by chapters 69.41 and 69.50 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Section 61, chapter 155, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 46.61.510 are each repealed.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. This chapter may be cited as the educational employment relations act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. It is the purpose of this chapter to prescribe certain rights and obligations of the educational employees of the school districts of the state of Washington, and to establish procedures governing the relationship between such employees and their employers which are designed to meet the special requirements and needs of public employment in education.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. As used in this chapter:

(1) The term "employee organization" means any organization, union, association, agency, committee, council, or group of any kind in which employees participate, and which exists for the purpose, in whole or in part, of collective bargaining with employers.

(2) The term "collective bargaining" or "bargaining" means the performance of the mutual obligation of the representatives of the employer and the exclusive bargaining representative to meet at reasonable times in light of the time limitations of the budget-making process, and to bargain in good faith in an effort to reach agreement with respect to the wages, hours, and terms and conditions of employment: PROVIDED, That prior law, practice or interpretation shall be neither restrictive, expansive, nor determinative with respect to the scope of bargaining. A written contract incorporating any agreements reached shall be executed if requested by either party. The obligation to bargain does not compel either party to agree to a proposal or to make a concession.

In the event of a dispute between an employer and an exclusive bargaining representative over the matters that are terms and conditions of employment, the commission shall decide which item(s) are mandatory subjects for bargaining and which item(s) are nonmandatory.

(3) The term "commission" means the education employment relations commission established by section 4 of this 1975 act: PROVIDED, That if the legislature creates another board, commission, or division of a state agency comprehensively assuming administrative responsibilities for labor relations or collective bargaining in the public sector, "commission" for the purposes of this 1975 amendatory act shall mean such board, commission, or division as therein created.

(4) The terms "employee" and "educational employee" means any certificated employee of a school district, except:

(a) The chief executive officer of the employer.

(b) The chief administrative officers of the employer, which shall mean the superintendent of the district, deputy superintendents, administrative assistants to the superintendent, assistant superintendents, and business manager. Title variation from all positions enumerated in this subsection (b) may be appealed to the commission for determination of inclusion in, or exclusion from, the term "educational employee".

(c) Confidential employees, which shall mean:

(i) Any person who participates directly on behalf of an employer in the formulation of labor relations policy, the preparation for or conduct of collective bargaining, or the administration of collective bargaining agreements, except that the role of such person is not merely routine or clerical in nature but calls for the consistent exercise of independent judgment; and

(ii) Any person who assists and acts in a confidential capacity to such person.

(d) Unless included within a bargaining unit pursuant to section 9 of this 1975 act, any supervisor, which means any employee having authority, in the interest of an employer, to hire, assign, promote, transfer, layoff, recall, suspend, discipline, or discharge other employees, or to adjust their grievances, or to recommend effectively such action, if in connection with the foregoing the exercise of such authority is not merely routine or clerical in nature but calls for the consistent exercise of independent judgment, and shall not include any persons solely by reason of their membership on a faculty tenure or other governance committee or body. The term "supervisor" shall include only those employees who perform a preponderance of the above-specified acts of authority.

(e) Unless included within a bargaining unit pursuant to section 9 of this 1975 act, principals and assistant principals in school districts.

(5) The term "employer" means any school district.

(6) The term "exclusive bargaining representative" means any employee organization which has:

(a) Been selected or designated pursuant to the provisions of this chapter as the representative of the employees in an appropriate collective bargaining unit; or

(b) Prior to the effective date of this chapter, been recognized under a predecessor statute as the representative of the employees in an appropriate collective bargaining or negotiations unit.

(7) The term "person" means one or more individuals, organizations, unions, associations, partnerships, corporations, boards, committees, commissions, agencies, or other entities, or their representatives.

(8) The term "nonsupervisory employee" means all educational employees other than principals, assistant principals and supervisors.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) There is hereby created the education employment relations commission, hereafter in this chapter called the "commission". The commission shall consist of five members who shall be appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate: PROVIDED, That no member appointed when the legislature was not in session shall continue to be a member of the commission after the thirtieth day of the next legislative session unless that person's appointment shall have been approved by the senate. One of the original members shall be appointed for a term of one year, one for a term of two years, one for a term of three years, one for a term of four years, and one for a term of five years. Their successors shall be appointed for terms of five years each, except that any person chosen to fill a vacancy shall be appointed only for the unexpired term of the member whom that person succeeds. Commission members shall be eligible for reappointment. The governor shall designate one member to serve as chairman of the commission. Any member of the commission may be removed by the governor, upon notice and hearing, for neglect of duty or malfeasance in office, but for no other cause.*

(2) A vacancy in the commission shall not impair the right of the remaining members to exercise all the powers of the commission, and three members of the commission shall, at all times, constitute a quorum of the commission for the conduct of business. The commission shall have an official seal which shall be judicially noticed.

(3) The commission, at the close of each fiscal year, shall make a report in writing to the legislature and to the governor stating the cases it has heard, the decisions it has rendered, the names, salaries, and duties of all employees and officers in the employ or under the supervision of the commission, and an account of all moneys it has disbursed.

*Sec. 4. was vetoed, see message at end of chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) Each member of the commission shall be paid fifty dollars for each day during which the member has actually attended a meeting of the commission officially held, or in attending to such other business of the commission as may be authorized thereby. There shall be no limitation on the number of such daily payments that the members of the commission may receive for official meetings of the commission actually attended. Members of the commission shall also be reimbursed for necessary travel and other expenses incurred in the discharge of their official duties on the same basis as is provided for state officers and employees generally in chapter 43.03 RCW.

(2) The commission shall appoint an executive director whose annual salary shall be determined under the provisions of RCW 43.03.028, and who shall perform such duties and have such powers as the commission shall prescribe in order to carry out the provisions of this chapter. The executive director, unless otherwise provided in this 1975 act, shall have authority to act on behalf of the commission in matters concerning the administration of this chapter and shall perform such administrative duties as prescribed by the commission, with such assistance as may be provided by the attorney general and such additional legal assistance not inconsistent with chapter 43.10 RCW.

(3) When necessary to carry out or enforce any action or decision of the commission, the executive director shall have authority to petition any court of competent jurisdiction for an order requiring compliance with commission action or decision.

(4) The commission shall employ such employees as it may from time to time find necessary for the proper performance of its duties consistent with the provisions of this chapter and such rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(5) All of the expenses of the commission, including all necessary traveling and subsistence expenses outside the city of Olympia incurred by the members or employees of the commission, and under its orders, shall be allowed and paid on the presentation of itemized vouchers therefor approved by the commission or by any individual it designates for that purpose.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The principal office of the commission shall be in the city of Olympia, but it may meet and exercise any or all of its powers at any other place in the state of Washington.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) Employees shall have the right to self-organization, to form, join, or assist employee organizations, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and shall also have the right to refrain from any or all of such activities except to the extent that employees may be required to pay a fee to any employee organization under an agency shop agreement authorized in this chapter.

(2) The exclusive bargaining representative shall have the right to have deducted from the salary of employees, upon receipt of an appropriate authorization form which shall not be irrevocable for a period of more than one year, an amount equal to the fees and dues required for membership. Such fees and dues shall be deducted monthly from the pay of all appropriate employees by the employer and transmitted as provided for by agreement between the employer and the exclusive bargaining representative, unless an automatic payroll deduction service is established pursuant to law, at which time such fees and dues shall be transmitted as therein provided. If an agency shop provision is agreed to and becomes effective pursuant to section 11 of this 1975 act, except as provided in that section, the agency fee equal to the fees and dues required of membership in the exclusive bargaining representative shall be deducted from the salary of employees in the bargaining unit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) Any employee organization may file a request with the commission for recognition as the exclusive representative. Such request shall allege that a majority of the employees in an appropriate collective bargaining unit wish to be represented for the purpose of collective bargaining by such organization, shall describe the grouping of jobs or positions which constitute the unit claimed to be appropriate, shall be supported by credible evidence demonstrating that at least thirty percent of the employees in the appropriate unit desire the organization requesting recognition as their exclusive representative, and shall indicate the name, address, and telephone number of any other interested employee organization, if known to the requesting organization.

(2) The commission shall determine the exclusive representative by conducting an election by secret ballot, except under the following circumstances:

(a) In instances where a serious unfair labor practice has been committed which interfered with the election process and precluded the holding of a fair election, the commission shall determine the exclusive bargaining representative by an examination of organization membership rolls or a comparison of signatures on organization bargaining authorization cards.

(b) In instances where there is then in effect a lawful written collective bargaining agreement between the employer and another employee organization covering any employees included in the unit described in the request for recognition, the request for recognition shall not be entertained unless it shall be filed within the time limits prescribed in subsection (3) of this section for decertification or a new recognition election.

(c) In instances where within the previous twelve months another employee organization has been lawfully recognized or certified as the exclusive bargaining representative of any employees included in the unit described in the request for recognition, the request for recognition shall not be entertained.

(d) In instances where the commission has within the previous twelve months conducted a secret ballot election involving any employees included in the unit described in the request for recognition in which a majority of the valid ballots cast chose not to be represented by any employee organization, the request for recognition shall not be entertained.

(3) Whenever the commission conducts an election to ascertain the exclusive bargaining representative, the ballot shall contain the name of the proposed bargaining representative and of any other bargaining representative showing written proof of at least ten percent representation of the educational employees within the unit, together with a choice for any educational employee to designate that he or she does not desire to be represented by any bargaining agent. Where more than one organization is on the ballot and neither of the three or more choices receives a majority of the valid ballots cast by the educational employees within the bargaining unit, a run-off election shall be held. The run-off ballot shall contain the two choices which receive the largest and second largest number of votes. No question concerning representation may be raised within one year of a certification or attempted certification. Where there is a valid collective bargaining agreement in effect, no question of representation may be raised except during the period not more than ninety nor less than sixty days prior to the expiration date of the agreement. In the event that a valid collective bargaining agreement, together with any renewals or extensions thereof, has been or will be in existence for three years, then the question of representation may be raised not more than ninety nor less than sixty days prior to the third anniversary date of the agreement or any renewals or extensions thereof as long as such renewals and extensions do not exceed three years; and if the exclusive bargaining representative is removed as a result of such procedure, the then existing collective bargaining agreement shall be terminable by the new exclusive bargaining representative so selected within sixty days after its certification or terminated on its expiration date, whichever is sooner, or if no exclusive bargaining representative is so selected, then the agreement shall be deemed to be terminated at its expiration date or as of such third anniversary date, whichever is sooner.

(4) Within the time limits prescribed in subsection (3) of this section, a petition may be filed signed by at least thirty percent of the employees of a collective bargaining unit, then represented by an exclusive bargaining representative, alleging that a majority of the employees in that unit do not wish to be represented by an employee organization, requesting that the exclusive bargaining representative be decertified, and indicating the name, address and telephone number of the exclusive bargaining representative and any other interested employee organization, if known. Upon the verification of the signatures on the petition, the commission shall conduct an election by secret ballot as prescribed by subsection (3) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The commission, upon proper application for certification as an exclusive bargaining representative or upon petition for change of unit definition by the employer or any employee organization within the time limits specified in section 8(3) of this 1975 act, and after hearing upon reasonable notice, shall determine the unit appropriate for the purpose of collective bargaining. In determining, modifying or combining the bargaining unit, the commission shall consider the duties, skills, and working conditions of the educational employees; the history of collective bargaining; the extent of organization among the educational employees; and the desire of the educational employees; except that:

(1) A unit including nonsupervisory educational employees shall not be considered appropriate unless it includes all such nonsupervisory educational employees of the employer; and

(2) A unit that includes only supervisors may be considered appropriate if a majority of the employees in such category indicate by vote that they desire to be included in such a unit; and

(3) A unit that includes only principals and assistant principals may be considered appropriate if a majority of such employees indicate by vote that they desire to be included in such a unit; and

(4) A unit that includes both principals and assistant principals and other supervisory employees may be considered appropriate if a majority of the employees in each category indicate by vote that they desire to be included in such a unit; and

(5) A unit that includes supervisors and/or principals and assistant principals and nonsupervisory educational employees may be considered appropriate if a majority of the employees in each category indicate by vote that they desire to be included in such a unit; and

(6) A unit that includes only employees in vocational-technical institutes or occupational skill centers may be considered to constitute an appropriate bargaining unit if the history of bargaining in any such school district so justifies; and

(7) Notwithstanding the definition of collective bargaining, a unit that contains only supervisors and/or principals and assistant principals shall be limited in scope of bargaining to compensation, hours of work, and the number of days of work in the annual employment contracts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The employee organization which has been determined to represent a majority of the employees in a bargaining unit shall be certified by the commission as the exclusive bargaining representative of, and shall be required to represent all the employees within the unit without regard to membership in that bargaining representative: PROVIDED, That any employee at any time may present his grievance to the employer and have such grievance adjusted without the intervention of the exclusive bargaining representative, as long as such representative has been given an opportunity to be present at that adjustment and to make its views known, and as long as the adjustment is not inconsistent with the terms of a collective bargaining agreement then in effect.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A collective bargaining agreement may include union security provisions including an agency shop, but not a union or closed shop. If an agency shop provision is agreed to, the employer shall enforce it by deducting from the salary payments to members of the bargaining unit the dues required of membership in the bargaining representative, or, for nonmembers thereof, a fee equivalent to such dues. All union security provisions must safeguard the right of nonassociation of employees based on bona fide religious tenets or teachings of a church or religious body of which such employee is a member. Such employee shall pay an amount of money equivalent to regular dues and fees to a nonreligious charity or to another charitable organization mutually agreed upon by the employee affected and the bargaining representative to which such employee would otherwise pay the dues and fees. The employee shall furnish written proof that such payment has been made. If the employee and the bargaining representative do not reach agreement on such matter, the commission shall designate the charitable organization.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) The commission shall promulgate, revise, or rescind, in the manner prescribed by the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.04 RCW, such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary and appropriate to administer the provisions of this chapter, in conformity with the intent and purpose of this chapter, and consistent with the best standards of labor-management relations.

(2) The rules, precedents, and practices of the national labor relations board, provided they are consistent with this chapter, shall be considered by the commission in its interpretation of this chapter, and prior to adoption of any aforesaid commission rules and regulations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) Either an employer or an exclusive bargaining representative may declare that an impasse has been reached between them in collective bargaining and may request the commission to appoint a mediator for the purpose of assisting them in reconciling their differences and resolving the controversy on terms which are mutually acceptable. If the commission determines that its assistance is needed, not later than five days after the receipt of a request therefor, it shall appoint a mediator in accordance with rules and regulations for such appointment prescribed by the commission. The mediator shall meet with the parties or their representatives, or both, forthwith, either jointly or separately, and shall take such other steps as he may deem appropriate in order to persuade the parties to resolve their differences and effect a mutually acceptable agreement. The mediator, without the consent of both parties, shall not make findings of fact or recommend terms of settlement. The services of the mediator, including, if any, per diem expenses, shall be provided by the commission without cost to the parties. Nothing in this subsection (1) shall be construed to prevent the parties from mutually agreeing upon their own mediation procedure, and in the event of such agreement, the commission shall not appoint its own mediator unless failure to do so would be inconsistent with the effectuation of the purposes and policy of this chapter.

(2) If the mediator is unable to effect settlement of the controversy within ten days after his or her appointment, either party, by written notification to the other, may request that their differences be submitted to fact-finding with recommendations, except that the time for mediation may be extended by mutual agreement between the parties. Within five days after receipt of the aforesaid written request for fact-finding, the parties shall select a person to serve as fact-finder and obtain a commitment from that person to serve. If they are unable to agree upon a fact-finder or to obtain such a commitment within that time, either party may request the commission to designate a fact-finder. The commission, within five days after receipt of such request, shall designate a fact-finder in accordance with rules and regulations for such designation prescribed by the commission. The fact-finder so designated shall not be the same person who was appointed mediator pursuant to subsection (1) of this section without the consent of both parties.

The fact-finder, within five days after his appointment, shall meet with the parties or their representatives, or both, either jointly or separately, and make inquiries and investigations, hold hearings, and take such other steps as he may deem appropriate. For the purpose of such hearings, investigations and inquiries, the fact-finder shall have the power to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of evidence. If the dispute is not settled within ten days after his appointment, the fact-finder shall make findings of fact and recommend terms of settlement within thirty days after his appointment, which recommendations shall be advisory only.

(3) Such recommendations, together with the findings of fact, shall be submitted in writing to the parties and the commission privately before they are made public. Either the commission, the fact-finder, the employer, or the exclusive bargaining representative may make such findings and recommendations public if the dispute is not settled within five days after their receipt from the fact-finder.

(4) The costs for the services of the fact-finder, including, if any, per diem expenses and actual and necessary travel and subsistence expenses, and any other incurred costs, shall be borne by the commission without cost to the parties.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit an employer and an exclusive bargaining representative from agreeing to substitute, at their own expense, their own procedure for resolving impasses in collective bargaining for that provided in this section or from agreeing to utilize for the purposes of this section any other governmental or other agency or person in lieu of the commission.

(6) Any fact-finder designated by an employer and an exclusive representative or the commission for the purposes of this section shall be deemed an agent of the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. An employer and an exclusive bargaining representative who enter into a collective bargaining agreement may include in such agreement procedures for binding arbitration of such disputes as may arise involving the interpretation or application of such agreement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) It shall be an unfair labor practice for an employer:

(a) To interfere with, restrain, or coerce employees in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in section 7 of this 1975 act.

(b) To dominate or interfere with the formation or administration of any employee organization or contribute financial or other support to it: PROVIDED, That subject to rules and regulations made by the commission pursuant to section 12 of this 1975 act, an employer shall not be prohibited from permitting employees to confer with it or its representatives or agents during working hours without loss of time or pay;

(c) To encourage or discourage membership in any employee organization by discrimination in regard to hire, tenure of employment or any term or condition of employment, but nothing contained in this subsection shall prevent an employer from requiring, as a condition of continued employment, payment of periodic dues and fees uniformly required to an exclusive bargaining representative pursuant to section 11 of this 1975 act;

(d) To discharge or otherwise discriminate against an employee because he has filed charges or given testimony under this act;

(e) To refuse to bargain collectively with the representatives of its employees.

(2) It shall be an unfair labor practice for an employee organization:

(a) To restrain or coerce (i) employees in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in section 7 of this 1975 act: PROVIDED, That this paragraph shall not impair the right of an employee organization to prescribe its own rules with respect to the acquisition or retention of membership therein; or (ii) an employer in the selection of his representatives for the purposes of collective bargaining or the adjustment of grievances;

(b) To cause or attempt to cause an employer to discriminate against an employee in violation of subsection (1)(c) of this section;

(c) To refuse to bargain collectively with an employer, provided it is the representative of its employees subject to section 10 of this 1975 act.

(3) The expressing of any views, argument, or opinion, or the dissemination thereof to the public, whether in written, printed, graphic, or visual form, shall not constitute or be evidence of an unfair labor practice under any of the provisions of this 1975 act, if such expression contains no threat of reprisal or force or promise of benefit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. (1) The commission is empowered to prevent any person from engaging in any unfair labor practice as defined in section 15 of this 1975 act. This power shall not be affected by any other means of adjustment or prevention that has been or may be established by agreement, law, equity or otherwise.

(2) If the commission determines that any person has engaged in or is engaging in any such unfair labor practices as defined in section 15 of this 1975 act, then the commission shall issue and cause to be served upon such person an order requiring such person to cease and desist from such unfair labor practice, and to take such affirmative action as will effectuate the purposes and policy of this chapter, such as the payment of damages and/or the reinstatement of employees.

(3) The commission may petition the superior court for the county in which the main office of the employer is located or wherein the person who has engaged or is engaging in such unfair labor practice resides or transacts business, for the enforcement of its order and for appropriate temporary relief.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. Actions taken by or on behalf of the commission shall be pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, or rules and regulations adopted in accordance therewith, and the right of judicial review provided by chapter 34.04 RCW shall be applicable to all such actions and rules and regulations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. (1) Whenever a collective bargaining agreement between an employer and an exclusive bargaining representative is concluded after the termination date of the previous collective bargaining agreement between the employer and an employee organization representing the same employees, the effective date of such collective bargaining agreement may be the day after the termination date of the previous collective bargaining agreement and all benefits included in the new collective bargaining agreement, including wage or salary increases, may accrue beginning with such effective date as established by this subsection, and may also accrue beginning with the effective date of any individual employee contracts affected thereby.

(2) Any collective bargaining agreement may provide for the increase of any wages, salaries and other benefits during the term of such agreement or the term of any individual employee contracts concerned, in the event that the employer receives by increased appropriation or from other sources, additional moneys for such purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. This chapter shall supersede existing statutes not expressly repealed to the extent that there is a conflict between a provision of this chapter and those other statutes. Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, nothing in this chapter shall be construed to annul, modify or preclude the renewal or continuation of any lawful agreement entered into prior to the effective date of this chapter between an employer and an employee organization covering wages, hours, and terms and conditions of employment. Where there is a conflict between any collective bargaining agreement and any resolution, rule, policy or regulation of the employer or its agents, the terms of the collective bargaining agreement shall prevail.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, nothing contained in this 1975 act shall be construed to deny or otherwise abridge any rights, privileges or benefits granted by law to employees.

Sec. 21. Section 1, chapter 105, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 28A.01-.130 are each amended to read as follows:

The term "certificated employee" as used in RCW 28A.58.450 through 28A-.58.515, 28A.58.445, 28A.67.065, 28A.67.070, ~~((and))~~ 28A.67.074 and this 1975 amendatory act, each as now or hereafter amended, shall include those persons who hold certificates as authorized by rule or regulation of the state board of education or the superintendent of public instruction.

At such time as a majority of such employees are certificated, the job category may be considered an appropriate unit under this 1975 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. If any provision of this 1975 act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

Passed the Senate May 28, 1975.

Passed the House June 2, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of section 4 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2500 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to employer-employee relations in the public sector; providing for an educational employment relations act."

This bill repeals the current law on professional negotiations in education, RCW Chapter 28A.72, and enacts a new chapter defining rights and duties in collective bargaining in the education sector.

Section 4 creates a new commission on education employment relations consisting of five members appointed by the Governor with the consent of the Senate. A proviso in that section specifies that unless a member appointed when the Legislature is not in session is confirmed by the Senate during the first thirty days of the next session, that member's appointment shall be deemed rejected.

The language of the proviso is unclear as to what should happen if the duration of the next session is less than thirty days. More important, however, is that the proviso in effect allows the Senate to reject an appointment to the commission by inaction. I believe this is bad policy and cannot accept such a procedure. A governor goes on record in making an appointment; if the law requires confirmation by the Senate, that body should go on record as confirming or rejecting the appointee. To allow rejection by inaction would be to deprive the governor, the appointee, and the public the right to know who opposed the appointment and the reasons for such opposition.

I am aware that the commission created by this act would be superseded by the new commission on public employment relations designated by Substitute Senate Bill No. 2408, which is also before me for approval. The same proviso appears in that bill, and for the reasons stated herein and for other reasons too, I intend to veto the pertinent portions of that act.

Recognizing that the substantive portions of this bill are unworkable without the existence of the commission created in section 4, and considering that the effective date of those elements of the bill is January 1, 1976, I would urge the Legislature to redraft this section at the next opportune moment.

With the exception of section 4 which I have vetoed, the remainder of the bill is approved."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. Savings once deemed adequate for retirement living have been rendered inadequate by increased tax rates, increased property values, and the failure of pension systems to adequately reflect such factors. It is therefore deemed necessary that the legislature, in addition to that tax exemption as provided for in RCW 84.36.381 through 84.36.389 as now or hereafter amended, allow retired persons to defer payment of special assessments on their residences, and to defer their real property tax obligations on their residences, an amount of up to eighty percent of their equity in said property. This deferral program is intended to assist retired persons in maintaining their dignity and a reasonable standard of living by residing in their own homes, providing for their own needs, and managing their own affairs without requiring assistance from public welfare programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. Unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, the following words and phrases as hereinafter used in this chapter shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Claimant" means a retired person who elects to defer payment of the special assessments and/or real property taxes accrued on his residence by filing a declaration to defer as provided by this chapter.

When two individuals of a household file or seek to file a declaration to defer, they may determine between them as to who the claimant shall be.

(2) "Consumer price index" shall mean the consumer price index for urban wage earners and clerical workers as compiled by the bureau of labor statistics of the United States department of labor.

(3) "Department" means the state department of revenue.

(4) "Equity value" means the amount by which the fair market value of a residence as determined from the records of the county assessor exceeds the total amount of any liens or other obligations against the property.

(5) "Owned" includes possession under a contract of sale, deed of trust, or tenancy in common.

(6) "Special assessment" means the charge or obligation imposed by a city, town, county, or other municipal corporation upon property specially benefited by a local improvement.

(7) "Real property taxes" means ad valorem property taxes levied on a residence in this state in the preceding calendar year. If a residence is an integral part of a larger unit such as a farm, or a multi-purpose or multi-dwelling building, real property taxes shall be that percentage of the total property taxes accrued as the value of the residence is of the total value of the unit. For purposes of this paragraph "unit" refers to the parcel of property covered by a single tax statement of which the residence is a part.

(8) "Preceding calendar year" shall mean the calendar year preceding the year in which the application for deferral of special assessment and/or real property taxes is made.

(9) The term "residence" shall mean a single family dwelling unit whether such unit be separate or part of a multiunit dwelling, including the land on which such dwelling stands not to exceed one acre per unit. The term shall also include a single family dwelling situated upon lands the fee of which is vested in the United States or any instrumentality thereof including an Indian tribe or in the state of Washington or its municipal corporations, and notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 84.04.080, 84.04.090, or 84.40.250, such a residence shall be deemed real property.

(10) The term "real property", except for the purposes of chapters 84.56 and 84.60 RCW, shall also include a mobile home which has substantially lost its identity as a mobile unit by virtue of its being fixed in location upon land owned or leased by the owner of the mobile home and placed on a foundation (posts or blocks) with fixed pipe, connections with sewer, water or other utilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. A retired person may elect to defer payment of special assessments and/or real property taxes on his residence up to eighty percent of the amount of his equity value in said property if the following conditions are met:

(1) The special assessments and/or property taxes must have been imposed upon a residence: (a) Which has been regularly occupied by the person claiming the deferral during the two calendar years preceding the year in which the deferral claim is filed; or (b) which was occupied by the person claiming the deferral as a principal place of residence as of January 1st of the year in which the claim is filed and the person claiming the deferral must also have been a resident of the state of Washington for the last three calendar years preceding the year in which the claim is filed.

(2) The claimant must have owned, at the time of filing, the residence on which the special assessment and/or real property taxes have been imposed. For purposes of this subsection, a residence owned by a marital community shall be deemed to be owned by each spouse.

(3) The claimant must have been sixty-two years of age or older on January 1st of the year in which the deferral claim is filed, or must have been, at the time of filing, retired from regular gainful employment by reason of physical disability.

(4) The claimant and/or his or her spouse must not have received income of the type referred to in RCW 84.36.381, as now or hereafter amended, during the preceding calendar year which exceeds the following amounts:

(a) For claims filed in 1976—eight thousand dollars;

(b) For claims filed in subsequent years, an amount equal to the previous year's income limit adjusted by the percentage change in the consumer price index for the twelve month period ending September 31st of the previous year.

(5) The claimant must have and keep in force fire and casualty insurance in sufficient amount to protect the interest of the state in the claimant's equity value.

(6) In the case of special assessment deferral, claimant must have opted for payment of such special assessments on the installment method if such method was available.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. (1) Each claimant electing to defer payment of special assessments and/or real property tax obligations under this chapter shall file with the county assessor, on forms prescribed by the department and supplied by the assessor, a written declaration thereof. The declaration to defer special assessments and/or real property taxes for any year shall be filed prior to July 1st each year for deferral for the following year.

(2) The declaration shall designate the property to which the deferral applies, and shall include a statement setting forth (a) a list of all members of the claimant's household, (b) the claimant's equity value in his residence, (c) facts establishing the eligibility for the deferral under the provisions of this chapter, and (d) any other relevant information required by the rules of the department. Each copy shall be signed by the claimant subject to the penalties as provided in chapter 9.72 RCW for the false swearing. The first declaration to defer filed in a county shall include proof of the claimant's age acceptable to the assessor.

(3) The county assessor shall determine if each claimant shall be granted a deferral for each year but the claimant shall have the right to appeal this determination to the county board of equalization whose decision shall be final as to the deferral of that year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. (1)(a) Declarations to defer property taxes for all years following the first year may be made by filing with the county assessor on or before July 1st a renewal form in duplicate, prescribed by the department of revenue and supplied by the county assessor, which affirms the continued eligibility of the claimant.

(b) In January of each year, the county assessor shall send to each claimant who has been granted deferral of ad valorem taxes for the previous year renewal forms and notice to renew.

(2) Declarations to defer special assessments shall be made by filing with the assessor on or before July 1st of any year on a form to be prescribed by the department of revenue and supplied by the county assessor. Upon approval, the full amount of special assessments upon such claimant's residence shall be deferred for the following year but not to exceed an amount equal to eighty percent of the claimant's equity value in said property.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. If the claimant is unable to make his own declaration of deferral, it may be made by a duly authorized agent or by a guardian or other person charged with care of the person or property of such claimant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 32. If the claimant declaring his intention to defer special assessments or real property tax obligations under this chapter ceases to reside permanently on the property for which the declaration to defer is made between the date of filing the declaration and December 15th of that year, the deferral otherwise allowable under this chapter shall not be allowed on such tax roll. However, this section shall not apply where the claimant dies, leaving a spouse surviving, who is also eligible for deferral of special assessment and/or property taxes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. A person's right to defer special assessments and/or property tax obligations on his residence shall not be reduced by contract or agreement, from the effective date of this chapter onward.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 34. If any residence is under mortgage or purchase contract requiring accumulation of reserves out of which the holder of the mortgage or contract is required to pay real estate taxes, said holder shall co-sign the declaration of deferral either before a notary public or the county assessor or his deputy in the county where the real property is located.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 35. Whenever a person's special assessment and/or real property tax obligation is deferred under the provisions of this chapter, it shall become a lien in favor of the state upon his property and shall have priority as provided in chapters 35.50 and 84.60 RCW: PROVIDED, That the interest of a mortgage or purchase contract holder who is required to co-sign a declaration of deferral under section 34 of this act, shall have priority to said deferred lien. This lien may accumulate up to eighty percent of the amount of the claimant's equity value in said property and shall bear interest each year at the rates prescribed for delinquent taxes in RCW 84.56.020 as now or hereafter amended per year until said obligation becomes due and payable under section 38 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 36. The county assessor shall:

(1) Transmit one copy of each declaration to defer to the department of revenue. The department may audit any declaration and shall, not later than August 31st, notify the assessor of any claim where any factor appears to disqualify the claimant for the deferral sought.

(2) Transmit one copy of each declaration to defer a special assessment to the local improvement district which imposed such assessment.

(3) After October 15th, compute the dollar tax rate for the county as if any deferrals provided by this chapter did not exist.

(4) On or before December 15th, notify the department of revenue and the county treasurer of the amount of real property taxes deferred for that year and notify the department of revenue and the respective treasurers of municipal corporations of the amount of special assessments deferred for each local improvement district within such unit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 37. Upon receipt of the notification from the county assessor of the amount of deferred special assessments and/or real property taxes the department shall certify to the state treasurer the amount due the respective municipal corporations prior to the following February 15th and the state treasurer shall pay to the treasurers of such municipal corporations said amounts, equivalent to the amount of special assessments and/or real property taxes deferred, to be distributed to the local improvement or taxing districts which levied the taxes so deferred.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 38. Special assessments and/or real property tax obligations deferred under this chapter shall become payable together with interest as provided in section 35 of this amendatory act:

(1) Upon the sale of property which has a deferred special assessment and/or real property tax lien upon it.

(2) Upon the death of the claimant with an outstanding deferred special assessment and/or real property tax lien except a surviving spouse who is qualified under this chapter may elect to incur the special assessment and/or real property tax lien which shall then be payable by that spouse as provided in this section.

(3) Upon the condemnation of property with a deferred special assessment and/or real property tax lien upon it by a public or private body exercising eminent domain power, except as otherwise provided in RCW 84.60.070.

(4) At such time as the claimant ceases to reside permanently in the residence upon which the deferral has been granted.

(5) Upon the failure of any condition set forth in section 28(5) of this amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 39. (1) The county treasurer shall collect all the amounts deferred together with interest under this chapter, in the manner provided for in chapter 84.56 RCW. For purposes of collection of deferred taxes, the provisions of chapters 84.56, 84.60, and 84.64 RCW shall be applicable.

(2) When any deferred special assessment and/or real property taxes together with interest are collected the moneys shall be credited to a special account in the county treasury. The county treasurer shall remit the amount of deferred special assessment and/or real property taxes together with interest to the state treasurer, with a remittance advice to the department within thirty days from the date of collection.

(3) The state treasurer shall deposit the deferred taxes in the state general fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 40. (1) A surviving spouse of the claimant may elect to continue the property in its deferred tax status if the property is the residence of the spouse of the claimant and the spouse meets the requirements of this chapter.

(2) The election under this section to continue the property in its deferred status by the spouse of the claimant shall be filed in the same manner as an original claim for deferral is filed under this chapter, not later than ninety days from the date of the claimant's death. Thereupon, the property with respect to which the deferral of special assessments and/or real property taxes is claimed shall continue to be treated as deferred property. When the property has been continued in its deferred status by the filing of the spouse of the claimant of an election under this section, the spouse of the claimant may continue the property in its deferred status in subsequent years by filing a claim under this chapter so long as the spouse meets the qualifications set out in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 41. Any person may at any time pay a part or all of the deferred taxes but such payment shall not affect the deferred tax status of the property.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 42. Nothing in this chapter is intended to or shall be construed to prevent the collection, by foreclosure, of personal property taxes which become a lien against tax-deferred property.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 43. The department of revenue of the state of Washington shall devise the forms and make rules and regulations consistent with chapter 34.04 RCW and the provisions of this chapter as shall be necessary or desirable to permit its effective administration.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 44. There is added to Title 84 RCW a new chapter to consist of sections 26 through 43 of this amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 45. If any provision of this 1975 amendatory act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 46. This 1975 amendatory act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing institutions, and shall take effect immediately: PROVIDED, That sections 8 and 26 through 43 of this amendatory act shall be effective on and after January 1, 1976: PROVIDED FURTHER, That sections 2, 3, and 4, and subsections (1) and (2) of Section 24 shall be effective on and after

Sec. 2. Section 1, chapter 148, Laws of 1965 and RCW 43.31.790 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature hereby recognizes the economic benefits resultant from the participation in and presentation of state international trade fairs; to a large degree the present export of state products from the ports of this state has resulted from state international trade fair presentation or participation; as this state is the natural gateway to the Orient, participation in trade fairs in that area is essential to the furtherance of industrial markets of this state; Washington products must be put on view to the people of the state, this country, and the world; nothing serves this purpose more appropriately than state international trade fairs, the support of which through state aid the legislature herewith proposes.

The purpose of such post audit shall be to determine how and to what extent each participating state international trade fair has expended all of its funds.

The audit required by this section shall be a condition to future allotments of money from the state international trade fair fund, and the director shall make a report of the findings of each post audit and shall use such report as a consideration in an application for any future allocations.

Sec. 7. Section 8, chapter 148, Laws of 1965 and RCW 43.31.850 are each amended to read as follows:

and economic development for the sole purpose of assisting state international trade fairs. The remaining thirty percent shall be paid to the state treasurer, who is hereby made ex officio treasurer of a fund to be known as the "fair fund," which shall be maintained as a separate and independent fund outside of the state treasury, and made available to the director of agriculture for the sole purpose of assisting fairs in the manner provided in Title 15 RCW. *Sec. 9. was vetoed, see message at end of chapter.

Passed the House June 5, 1975.

Passed the Senate June 3, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of section 9 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section Substitute House Bill No. 591 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to trade fairs."

Section 9 of the bill increases the revenue to the trade fair fund from three to four percent, and correspondingly decreases the revenue to the general fund derived from horse racing parimutual machines by one percent.

I am advised that the trade fair fund has a current balance in excess of $150,000, and at the present three percent level of funding receives annually an average of $130,645. The maximum annual expenditure from the fund to finance fairs both within and outside the United States, including the increased funding allotments and state agency support costs, would be $155,980. Since domestic fairs are not held on a regular basis, funds accrued during the intervening periods are sufficient to hold such an event at the appropriate time. Therefore the existing revenue base is sufficient for present and projected demands on the fund, and the increase is unwarranted at this time.

With the exception of section 9, which I have vetoed for the reasons stated, the remainder of Substitute House Bill No. 591 is approved."

*Sec. 21. was partially vetoed, see message at end of chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. If any provision of this 1975 amendatory act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. This 1975 amendatory act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect on July 1, 1975.

Passed the House June 4, 1975.

Passed the Senate June 3, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of certain items which are vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to several sections House Bill No. 675 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to state government."

This bill changes, among other things, the existing law as it relates to the expenditure of unanticipated receipts, and delegates to the Legislative Budget Committee the power to approve or disapprove expenditure of such receipts while the Legislature is not in session. During a legislative session, such power of approval would rest with the House and Senate standing committees on Ways and Means. Under existing law, it is the duty of the Governor to review and approve proposals for expenditure of unanticipated receipts with due notice to the Legislative Budget Committee and the Ways and Means Committees of each house.

This bill is one of the latest of a number of bills passed in recent sessions designed to take away from the executive functions and duties which are executive in nature and delegate them instead to legislative committees. I have vetoed several bills or portions of bills which have attempted to accomplish this, and I object to several sections of this bill for the same reasons.

I believe that the interposing of legislative committees into executive functions at best violates the fundamentals of good government. Even more seriously, I am advised that the delegation of such a function to a legislative committee could transform that committee into a "civil office" within the meaning of Article II, section 13 of the Washington State Constitution. This would prevent any member of the Legislature from serving on such a committee, which is an unfortunate result that I do not believe the Legislature intended.

While the Legislature as a whole has the constitutional power to control expenditure of public funds through the appropriation process, I question whether the delegation of such power to a legislative committee is permissible under our constitution, and look on this as even more reason why I cannot approve this kind of procedure.

For these reasons, I have determined to veto sections 3, 4, and 12. Since subsection (1) in section 21 repeals the existing section of the law on approval of expenditure of unanticipated receipts, I have determined also to veto that subsection. I do not believe I am constrained in vetoing the entire section 21 inasmuch as the repealer in subsection (1) constitutes a separate and independent subject by itself.

With those exceptions, the remainder of the bill is approved."

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 1, chapter 1, Laws of 1973 and RCW 42.17.010 are each amended to read as follows:

It is hereby declared by the sovereign people to be the public policy of the state of Washington:

(1) That political campaign and lobbying contributions and expenditures be fully disclosed to the public and that secrecy is to be avoided.

(2) That the people have the right to expect from their elected representatives at all levels of government the utmost of integrity, honesty, and fairness in their dealings.

(3) That the people shall be assured that the private financial dealings of their public officials, and of candidates for those offices, present no conflict of interest between the public trust and private interest.

(4) That our representative form of government is founded on a belief that those entrusted with the offices of government have nothing to fear from full public disclosure of their financial and business holdings, provided those officials deal honestly and fairly with the people.

(5) That public confidence in government at all levels is essential and must be promoted by all possible means.

(6) That public confidence in government at all levels can best be sustained by assuring the people of the impartiality and honesty of the officials in all public transactions and decisions.

(7) That the concept of attempting to increase financial participation of individual contributors in political campaigns is encouraged by the passage of the Revenue Act of 1971 by the Congress of the United States, and in consequence thereof, it is desirable to have implementing legislation at the state level.

(8) That the concepts of disclosure and limitation of election campaign financing are established by the passage of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 by the Congress of the United States, and in consequence thereof it is desirable to have implementing legislation at the state level.

(9) That small contributions by individual contributors are to be encouraged, and that not requiring the reporting of small contributions may tend to encourage such contributions.

(10) That the public's right to know of the financing of political campaigns and lobbying and the financial affairs of elected officials and candidates far outweighs any right that these matters remain secret and private.

(11) That, mindful of the right of individuals to privacy and of the desirability of the efficient administration of government, full access to information concerning the conduct of government on every level must be assured as a fundamental and necessary precondition to the sound governance of a free society.

The provisions of this chapter shall be liberally construed to promote complete disclosure of all information respecting the financing of political campaigns and lobbying, and the financial affairs of elected officials and candidates, and full access to public records so as to assure continuing public confidence of fairness of elections and governmental processes, and so as to assure that the public interest will be fully protected. In promoting such complete disclosure, however, this chapter shall be enforced so as to insure that the information disclosed will not be misused for arbitrary and capricious purposes and to insure that all persons reporting under this chapter will be protected from harassment and unfounded allegations based on information they have freely disclosed.

(3) An agency need not maintain such an index, if to do so would be unduly burdensome, but it shall in that event:

(a) Issue and publish a formal order specifying the reasons why and the extent to which compliance would unduly burden or interfere with agency operations; and

(b) Make available for public inspection and copying all indexes maintained for agency use.

(4) A public record may be relied on, used, or cited as precedent by an agency against a party other than an agency and it may be invoked by the agency for any other purpose only if—

Sec. 15. Section 27, chapter 1, Laws of 1973 and RCW 42.17.270 are each amended to read as follows:

Public records shall be available (~~to any person~~) for inspection and copying, and agencies shall, upon request for identifiable public records, make them promptly available to any person. Agencies shall adopt and enforce reasonable rules and regulations, consonant with the intent of this chapter to provide full public access to (~~official~~) public records, to protect public records from damage or disorganization, and to prevent excessive interference with other essential functions of the agency. Such rules and regulations shall provide for the fullest assistance to inquirers and the most timely possible action on requests for information. Nothing in this section shall relieve agencies from honoring requests received by mail for copies of identifiable public records.

Sec. 17. Section 31, chapter 1, Laws of 1973 and RCW 42.17.310 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The following shall be exempt from public inspection and copying:

(b) Personal information in files maintained for employees, appointees, or elected officials of any public agency to the extent that disclosure would violate their right to privacy.

(c) Information required of any taxpayer in connection with the assessment or collection of any tax if the disclosure of the information to other persons would violate the taxpayer's right to privacy or would result in unfair competitive disadvantage to such taxpayer.

(d) Specific intelligence information and specific investigative ~~((files))~~ records compiled by investigative, law enforcement, and penology agencies, and state agencies vested with the responsibility to discipline members of any profession, the nondisclosure of which is essential to effective law enforcement or for the protection of any person's right to privacy.

(e) Information revealing the identity of persons who file complaints with investigative, law enforcement, or penology agencies, except as the complainant may authorize: PROVIDED, That this subsection shall not apply to persons who file complaints with the public disclosure commission about any elected official or candidate for elective office: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That all complaints filed with the public disclosure commission about any elected official or candidate for public office must be made in writing and signed by the complainant under oath.

(g) Except as provided by chapter 8.26 RCW, the contents of real estate appraisals, made for or by any agency relative to the acquisition or sale of property, until the project or prospective sale is abandoned or until such time as all of the property has been acquired or the property to which the sale appraisal relates is sold, but in no event shall disclosure be denied for more than three years after the appraisal.

(h) Valuable formulae, designs, drawings, and research data obtained by any agency within five years of the request for disclosure when disclosure would produce private gain and public loss.

(i) Preliminary drafts, notes, recommendations, and intra-agency memorandums in which opinions are expressed or policies formulated or recommended except that a specific record shall not be exempt when publicly cited by an agency in connection with any agency action.

(j) Records which are relevant to a controversy to which an agency is a party but which records would not be available to another party under the rules of pre-trial discovery for causes pending in the superior courts.

(2) The exemptions of this section shall be inapplicable to the extent that information, the disclosure of which would violate personal privacy or vital governmental interests, can be deleted from the specific records sought. No exemption shall be construed to permit the nondisclosure of statistical information not descriptive of any readily identifiable person or persons.

(3) Inspection or copying of any specific records, exempt under the provisions of this section, may be permitted if the superior court in the county in which the record is maintained finds, after a hearing with notice thereof to every person in interest and the agency, that the exemption of such records, is clearly unnecessary to protect any individual's right of privacy or any vital governmental function.

(4) Agency responses refusing, in whole or in part, inspection of any public record shall include a statement of the specific exemption authorizing the withholding of the record (or part) and a brief explanation of how the exemption applies to the record withheld.

Sec. 18. Section 32, chapter 1, Laws of 1973 and RCW 42.17.320 are each amended to read as follows:

Responses to requests for public records shall be made promptly by agencies. Denials of requests must be accompanied by a written statement of the specific reasons therefor. Agencies shall establish mechanisms for the most prompt possible review of decisions denying inspection, and such review shall be deemed completed at the end of the second business day following the denial of inspection and shall constitute final agency action for the purposes of judicial review.

Sec. 19. Section 33, chapter 1, Laws of 1973 and RCW 42.17.330 are each amended to read as follows:

The examination of any specific public record may be enjoined if, upon motion and affidavit, the superior court for the county in which the movant resides or in which the record is maintained, finds that such examination would clearly not be in the public interest and would substantially and irreparably damage any person, or would substantially and irreparably damage vital governmental functions.

Sec. 20. Section 34, chapter 1, Laws of 1973 and RCW 42.17.340 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon the motion of any person having been denied an opportunity to inspect or copy a public record by an agency, the superior court in the county in which a record is maintained may require the responsible agency to show cause why it has refused to allow inspection or copying of a specific public record or class of records. The burden of proof shall be on the agency to establish that refusal to permit public inspection and copying is required.

(2) Judicial review of all agency actions taken or challenged under RCW 42.17.250 through 42.17.320 shall be de novo. Courts shall take into account the policy of this chapter that free and open examination of public records is in the public interest, even though such examination may cause inconvenience or embarrassment to public officials or others. Courts may examine any record in camera in any proceeding brought under this section.

(3) Any person who prevails against an agency in any action in the courts seeking the right to inspect or copy any public record shall be awarded all costs, including reasonable attorney fees, incurred in connection with such legal action. In addition, it shall be within the discretion of the court to award such person an amount not to exceed twenty-five dollars for each day that he was denied the right to inspect or copy said public record.

The commission shall elect its own chairman and adopt its own rules of procedure in the manner provided in chapter 34.04 RCW. Any member of the commission may be removed by the governor, but only upon grounds of neglect of duty or misconduct in office.

The commission is empowered to:

(1) Adopt, promulgate, amend, and rescind suitable administrative rules and regulations to carry out the policies and purposes of this chapter, which rules and regulations shall be promulgated pursuant to the provisions of chapter 34.04 RCW;

(2) Prepare and publish such reports and technical studies as in its judgment will tend to promote the purposes of this chapter, including reports and statistics concerning campaign financing, lobbying, financial interests of elected officials, and enforcement of this chapter;

(3) Make from time to time, on its own motion, audits and field investigations;

(4) Make public the ~~((fact that an alleged or apparent violation has occurred and the nature thereof))~~ time and date of any formal hearing set to determine whether a violation has occurred, the question or questions to be considered, and the results thereof;

(5) Administer oaths and affirmations, ~~((subpoena witnesses))~~ issue subpoenas, ((compel their attendance)) and compel attendance, take evidence and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memorandums, or other records which the commission deems relevant or material for the purpose of any investigation authorized under this chapter, or any other proceeding under this chapter;

(6) Adopt and promulgate a code of fair campaign practices;

(7) Relieve, by published regulation of general applicability, candidates or political committees of obligations to comply with the provisions of this chapter relating to election campaigns, if they have not received contributions nor made expenditures in connection with any election campaign of more than one thousand dollars; and

(8) Enact regulations prescribing reasonable requirements for keeping accounts of and reporting on a quarterly basis costs incurred by state agencies, counties, cities, and other municipalities and political subdivisions in preparing, publishing, and distributing legislative information. The term "legislative information", for the purposes of this subsection, means books, pamphlets, reports, and other materials prepared, published, or distributed at substantial cost, a substantial purpose of which is to influence the passage or defeat of any legislation. The state auditor in his regular examination of each agency under chapter 43.09 RCW shall review such regulations, accounts, and reports and make appropriate findings, comments, and recommendations in his examination reports concerning those agencies.

(9) The commission, after hearing, by order approved and ratified by a majority of the membership of the commission, may suspend or modify any of the reporting requirements hereunder in a particular case if it finds that literal application of this chapter works a manifestly unreasonable hardship and if it also finds that such suspension or modification will not frustrate the purposes of the chapter. Any such suspension or modification shall be only to the extent necessary to substantially relieve the hardship. The commission shall act to suspend or modify any reporting requirements only if it determines that facts exist that are clear and convincing proof of the findings required hereunder. Any citizen shall have standing to bring an action in Thurston county superior court to contest the propriety of any order entered hereunder within one year from the date of the entry of such order.

Sec. 26. Section 38, chapter 1, Laws of 1973 and RCW 42.17.380 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The secretary of state, through his office, shall perform such ministerial functions as may be necessary to enable the commission to carry out its responsibilities under this chapter. The office of the secretary of state shall be designated as the place where the public may file papers or correspond with the commission and receive any form or instruction from the commission.

(2) The attorney general, through his office, shall supply such assistance as the commission may require in order to carry out its responsibilities under this chapter. The commission may employ attorneys who are neither the attorney general nor an assistant attorney general to carry out any function of the attorney general prescribed in this ~~((section))~~ chapter.

Sec. 27. Section 40, chapter 1, Laws of 1973 and RCW 42.17.400 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The attorney general and the prosecuting authorities of political subdivisions of this state may bring civil actions in the name of the state for any appropriate civil remedy, including but not limited to the special remedies provided in RCW 42.17.390.

(2) The attorney general and the prosecuting authorities of political subdivisions of this state may investigate or cause to be investigated the activities of any person who there is reason to believe is or has been acting in violation of this chapter, and may require any such person or any other person reasonably believed to have information concerning the activities of such person to appear at a time and place designated in the county in which such person resides or is found, to give such information under oath and to produce all accounts, bills, receipts, books, paper and documents which may be relevant or material to any investigation authorized under this chapter.

(3) When the attorney general or the prosecuting authority of any political subdivision of this state requires the attendance of any person to obtain such information or the production of the accounts, bills, receipts, books, papers, and documents which may be relevant or material to any investigation authorized under this chapter, he shall issue an order setting forth the time when and the place where attendance is required and shall cause the same to be delivered to or sent by registered mail to the person at least fourteen days before the date fixed for attendance. Such order shall have the same force and effect as a subpoena, shall be effective state-wide, and, upon application of the attorney general or said prosecuting authority, obedience to the order may be enforced by any superior court judge in the county where the person receiving it resides or is found, in the same manner as though the order were a subpoena. The court, after hearing, for good cause, and upon application of any person aggrieved by the order, shall have the right to alter, amend, revise, suspend, or postpone all or any part of its provisions. In any case where the order is not enforced by the court according to its terms, the reasons for the court's actions shall be clearly stated in writing, and such action shall be subject to review by the appellate courts by certiorari or other appropriate proceeding.

(4) Any person who has notified the attorney general and the prosecuting attorney in the county in which the violation occurred in writing that there is reason to believe that some provision of this chapter is being or has been violated may himself bring in the name of the state any of the actions (hereinafter referred to as a citizen's action) authorized under this chapter. This citizen action may be brought only if the attorney general ((has)) and the prosecuting attorney have failed to commence an action hereunder within ((forty)) forty-five days after such notice and ((if the attorney general has failed to commence an action within ten days after a notice in writing delivered to the attorney general advising him that a citizen's action will be brought if the attorney general does not bring an action:)) such person has thereafter further notified the attorney general and prosecuting attorney that said person will commence a citizen's action within ten days upon their failure so to do, and the attorney general and the prosecuting attorney have in fact failed to bring such action within ten days of receipt of said second notice. If the person who brings the citizen's action prevails, ((he shall be entitled to one half of any judgment awarded, and to the extent the costs and attorney's fees he has incurred exceed his share of the judgment,)) the judgment awarded shall escheat to the state, but he shall be entitled to be reimbursed ((for such costs and fees)) by the state of Washington for costs and attorney's fees he has incurred: PROVIDED, That in the case of a citizen's action which is dismissed and which the court also finds was brought without reasonable cause, the court may order the person commencing the action to pay all costs of trial and reasonable attorney's fees incurred by the defendant.

(5) In any action brought under this section, the court may award to the state all costs of investigation and trial, including a reasonable attorney's fee to be fixed by the court. If the violation is found to have been intentional, the amount of the judgment, which shall for this purpose include the costs, may be trebled as punitive damages. If damages or trebled damages are awarded in such an action brought against a lobbyist, the judgment may be awarded against the lobbyist, and the lobbyist's employer or employers joined as defendants, jointly, severally, or both. If the defendant prevails, he shall be awarded all costs of trial, and may be awarded a reasonable attorney's fee to be fixed by the court to be paid by the state of Washington.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. This 1975 amendatory act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. If any provision of this 1975 amendatory act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

Passed the House June 9, 1975.

Passed the Senate June 9, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of section 24 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 827 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to open government."

This bill makes a number of changes in RCW chapter 42.17, the Public Disclosure Act (Initiative 276).

Section 24(9) contains a proviso which would require the Public Disclosure Commission to hold formal hearings under the Administrative Procedure Act when it finds that "probable cause exists to believe that any party has committed an apparent violation of this chapter" Although the wording of the subsection is not clear, it would appear to require the commission to (1) find probable cause, (2) hold a hearing under the APA, and based on the evidence, (3) find an apparent violation, and (4) refer the matter to the appropriate enforcement agency.

A requirement to hold formal "contested case" hearings would make sense if it were coupled with a grant of authority enabling the Commission to impose administrative remedies or penalties, or determine private rights pursuant to such hearings. However, the commission has no such authority, and I believe a requirement of that kind without corresponding authority to impose administrative sanctions would be a hollow and useless form of due process.

I am advised also that this requirement would impose an enormous administrative burden on the Public Disclosure Commission for which it has no present capability to handle. In light of the lack of real need for this provision, I cannot accept this change.

For these reasons, I have determined to veto section 24 of the bill since I am unable to veto only the applicable subsection. With the exception of that section, the remainder of the bill is approved."

AN ACT Relating to agricultural water supply facilities; making designations of funds; setting forth guidelines; adding new sections to chapter 43.83B RCW; making an appropriation; and declaring an emergency.

NEW SECTION. *Sec. 12. Upon final selection of a project for funding assistance letters of intent may obligate appropriated funds subject to the execution of a contract within a period not to exceed two years from the date of the letter. NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

Passed the House June 9, 1975.

Passed the Senate June 8, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of certain items which are vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to certain sections Substitute House Bill No. 867 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to agricultural water supply facilities."

The intent of the bill, insofar as it sets out a general policy and limitations on the use of Referendum 27 funds for agricultural water supply facilities, is highly commendable. Until the present time, there has been no clear statutory delineation of how these funds are to be used. Furthermore, the establishment of specific criteria to determine project feasibility and relative priority of proposed projects is highly desirable.

Section 6 of the bill creates what is purported to be a technical "advisory" committee vested with wide-ranging policy-making responsibilities and substantive powers in regard to project criteria and selection, interest rates, repayment periods, and other matters. Although I have no objection to the creation of such a committee in an advisory capacity and do not doubt its potential value, I cannot accept the premise that the intent of the Legislature and the duties assigned to the department under the bill can be more effectively achieved through the division of responsibilities between the committee and the department. The delegation of substantive functions to a committee consisting of diverse and potentially conflicting interests may well delay and inhibit legislative directives and unduly complicate the achievement of the purposes of the bill. I believe the tasks can be performed more promptly and efficiently by the Department of Ecology, particularly to the extent that legislative intent is clearly defined and adequate staff funding provided. I would not hesitate to approve a bill containing sections substantially the same as herein vetoed but charging the department with the primary responsibility for administering the bill.

I further cannot accept the provisions of sections 2 and 8 which require the approval of the Ways and Means Committees of each house of financing arrangements and project criteria relating to the expenditure of Referendum 27 funds. As I have set out more fully in my veto message attached to Substitute House Bill 111 dated March 17, 1975, I believe these provisions constitute an encroachment into executive functions by legislative committees and further question whether this is a valid delegation of legislative power.

With the exception of sections 2, 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 15 which I have vetoed for the foregoing reasons, the remainder of Substitute House Bill 867 is approved."

The panel shall begin hearings on the matters in dispute within five days of the formation of the fact-finding panel and shall conclude such hearings and issue findings of fact and recommendations to the parties within thirty days of the date upon which hearings were commenced.

Reasonable notice of such hearings shall be given to the parties who shall appear and be heard either in person or by counsel or other representative. Hearings shall be informal and the rules of evidence prevailing in judicial proceedings shall not be binding. Minutes of the proceedings shall be taken. Any oral or documentary evidence and other data deemed relevant by the panel may be received in evidence. The panel shall have the power to administer oaths, require the attendance of witnesses, and the production of such books, papers, contracts, agreements, and documents as may be deemed by the panel material to a just determination of the issues in dispute and to issue subpoenas. Costs of each party's appointee shall be paid by the party, and the costs of proceedings otherwise shall be borne by the ((department)) commission.

In making its findings, the fact-finding panel shall be mindful of the legislative purpose enumerated in RCW 41.56.430 and as additional standards of guidelines to aid it in developing its recommendations, it shall take into consideration those factors set forth in RCW 41.56.460.

Sec. 29. Section 4, chapter 131, Laws of 1973 and RCW 41.56.450 are each amended to read as follows:

If an agreement has not been reached within forty-five days after mediation and fact-finding has commenced, an arbitration panel shall be created in the following manner: Each party shall submit a list of three persons to the ((director, who)) commission, which shall then name one from each list as members to the panel, all within two days. The two appointed members shall utilize one of the two following options in the appointment of the third member, who shall act as chairman of the panel: (1) By mutual consent, the two appointed members may jointly request the ((department)) commission, and the ((department)) commission shall appoint a third member within two days of such request. Costs of each party's appointee shall be borne by each party respectively; other costs of the arbitration proceedings shall be borne by the ((department)) commission; or (2) The two appointed members shall choose a third member within two days. The costs of each party's appointee shall be borne by each party respectively, and the costs of the proceedings otherwise shall be shared equally between the parties.

If the two members so appointed under alternative (2) cannot agree within two days to the appointment of a third member, either party may apply to the superior court of the county where the labor disputes exist and request that the third member of the panel be appointed as provided by RCW 7.04.050. The panel thus composed shall be deemed an agency of the executive director and a state agency for the purposes of this 1973 amendatory act. The panel shall hold hearings on the matters in dispute within five days after the formation of the arbitration panel and take oral or written testimony.

Reasonable notice of such hearings shall be given to the parties who shall appear and be heard either in person or by counsel or other representative. Hearings shall be informal and the rules of evidence prevailing in judicial proceedings shall not be binding. A recording of the proceedings shall be taken. Any oral or documentary evidence and other data deemed relevant by the panel may be received in evidence. The panel shall have the power to administer oaths, require the attendance of witnesses, and the production of such books, papers, contracts, agreements and documents as may be deemed by the panel material to a just determination of the issues in dispute and to issue subpoenas. If any person refuses to obey such subpoena or refuses to be sworn to testify, or any witness, party or attorney of a party is guilty of any contempt while in attendance at any hearing held hereunder, the panel may invoke the jurisdiction of the superior court in the county where a labor dispute exists and such court shall have jurisdiction to issue an appropriate order. Any failure to obey such order may be punished by the court as a contempt thereof.

The hearing conducted by the panel shall be concluded within twenty days of the time of commencement and, within fifteen days after conclusion of the hearings, the chairman shall make written findings of fact and a written determination of the dispute based upon the issues presented, a copy of which shall be mailed or otherwise delivered to the employees' negotiating agent or its attorney or other designated representative and to the employer or the employer's attorney or designated representative. The decision made by the panel shall be final and binding upon both parties, subject to review by the superior court upon the application of either party solely upon the question of whether the decision of the panel was arbitrary or capricious.

Sec. 30. Section 7, chapter 131, Laws of 1973 and RCW 41.56.480 are each amended to read as follows:

If the representative of either or both the uniformed personnel and the public employer refuse to submit to the procedures set forth in RCW 41.56.440 and 41.56.450, the parties, or the ~~((department))~~ commission on its own motion, may invoke the jurisdiction of the superior court for the county in which the labor dispute exists and such court shall have jurisdiction to issue an appropriate order. A failure to obey such order may be punished by the court as a contempt thereof. A decision of the arbitration panel shall be final and binding on the parties, and may be enforced at the instance of either party, the arbitration panel or the ~~((department))~~ commission in the superior court for the county where the dispute arose.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 39. Section 47.64.020, chapter 13, Laws of 1961 and RCW 47.64.020 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 40. Sections 1 through 7 of this 1975 amendatory act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 41 RCW.

Passed the Senate April 2, 1975.

Passed the House June 3, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975, with the exception of two sections which are vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to two sections Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2408 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to public employment relations."

This bill creates a new commission on employment relations to administer many of the mediation and fact-finding duties presently vested in the Department of Labor and Industries and is intended to consolidate dispute settlement mechanisms in the public employment sector in one single agency.

The new commission set up by the bill consists of three members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. A proviso appearing in section 2 specifies that unless a member appointed when the Legislature is not in session is confirmed by the Senate during the first thirty days of the next session, that member's appointment shall be deemed rejected.

On this same date I have vetoed a section from Substitute Senate Bill No. 2500 containing an identical proviso with respect to the commission created under that bill. As stated in my message attached to that bill, I believe it is bad policy to allow the Senate to, in effect, reject an appointment to the commission by inaction. A governor goes on record in making an appointment; if the law requires confirmation by the Senate, that body should be required to go on record as confirming or rejecting the appointment. Otherwise there is no way for the record to show to the governor, the appointee, and the public those who opposed the appointment and the reasons for their opposition.

Section 3 of the bill contains a subsection which provides that all expenses of the commission, including travel expenses incurred by members and staff, shall be allowed and paid on approval by the commission itself or by someone designated by the commission for that purpose. I am concerned that this section could be interpreted to mandate approval of all gravel and subsistence expenses incurred, whether such expenses conform to the standards and limits set in RCW chapter 43.03 and regulations promulgated thereunder. I question the need for this subsection in any event, since existing law well covers the limits of and procedures for payment of necessary expenses

I recognize that the veto of sections 2 and 3 would render the rest of the bill virtually unworkable, and therefore urge the Legislature to redraft the same at the next opportune moment. With the exception of those two sections, the remainder of the bill is approved."

CHAPTER 297

[Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2422]

HANDICAPPED PERSONS— SPECIAL PARKING PRIVILEGES

AN ACT Relating to handicapped persons; amending section 1, chapter 128, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 26, chapter 32, Laws of 1967 and RCW 46.16.380; amending section 2, chapter 128, Laws of 1961 and RCW 46.61.580; declaring an emergency and providing an effective date.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 1, chapter 128, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 26, chapter 32, Laws of 1967 and RCW 46.16.380 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person who shall submit satisfactory proof to the director that he or she has lost both of his or her lower extremities, or who has lost the normal or full use thereof, or who is so severely disabled as to be unable to move without the aid of crutches or a wheelchair, shall be entitled to receive ((for one motor vehicle only;)) a special ((~~dec~~) card to be ((~~affixed to the~~) left in a vehicle in a conspicuous place (~~designated by the director~~), bearing distinguishing marks, letters or numerals indicating that the vehicle is (~~owned by~~) being used to transport such a privileged person. Such a privileged person shall also be entitled to receive for one motor vehicle only, a special decal to be affixed to the vehicle in a conspicuous place designated by the director, bearing distinguishing marks, letters or numerals indicating that the vehicle is owned by or primarily used for such a privileged person. Whenever such owner transfers or assigns his interest in such vehicle, the special decal shall be removed. Such person shall immediately surrender the decal to the director together with a notice of the transfer of interest in such vehicle. If another vehicle is acquired by, or for the primary use of, such person, a new decal shall be issued by the director. Application for renewal, except for the permanently disabled who shall be issued a permanent card, must be made by January 10th of each renewal year together with satisfactory proof of the right to continued use of such special card and decal. No additional fees shall be charged for the issuance of such special card and decal. The director shall promulgate such rules and regulations as he deems necessary to carry into effect this section.

Any unauthorized use of such distinguishing card and decal shall constitute a gross misdemeanor.

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 128, Laws of 1961 and RCW 46.61.580 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person who has lost both of his or her lower extremities, or who has lost the normal or full use thereof, or who is so severely disabled as to be unable to move without the aid of crutches or a wheelchair, shall be allowed to park (~~his~~) a vehicle being used to transport such person for unlimited periods of time in parking zones or areas which are otherwise restricted as to the length of time parking is permitted. This section shall have no application to those zones or areas in which the stopping, parking, or standing of all vehicles is prohibited or which are reserved for special types of vehicles. Such person shall not be permitted the foregoing privilege unless he obtains and displays a distinguishing card or decal as provided in RCW 46.16.380.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect on July 1, 1975.*

Passed the Senate June 8, 1975.

Passed the House June 7, 1975.

Approved by the Governor July 2, 1975 with the exception of section 3 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State July 2, 1975.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2422 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to handicapped persons."

This bill provides for special parking privileges to vehicles transporting persons with severe physical handicaps or disabilities.

Section 3 declares an emergency and provides for the act to take effect immediately. I have, on several recent occasions, expressed my increasing apprehension over repeated and unwarranted use of emergency clauses in bills that do not measure up to the standard of urgency contained in Article II, section 1(b) of our Constitution. I have vetoed emergency clauses from such bills, and must do so again for the same reason in the case of this bill.

With the exception of section 3 which I have vetoed, the remainder of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2422 is approved."
