NEW SECTION. Sec. 706. Parts X through XV of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 34 RCW, and the sections amended or set forth in this act shall be recodified in the order they appear in this act. The code reviser shall correct all statutory references to these sections and to the repealed chapters 28B.19 and 34.04 RCW to reflect this recodification and repeal.

Passed the House March 10, 1988.
Passed the Senate March 10, 1988.
Approved by the Governor March 25, 1988, with the exception of certain items which were vetoed.
Filed in Office of Secretary of State March 25, 1988.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 701(32), 702, and a portion of section 202(3), House Bill No. 1515, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to state government."

I have vetoed section 701(32), which repeals a section of law that is also amended in section 409 of the bill. To allow section 701(32) to become law could create confusion regarding the validity of the amendatory language in section 409.

I am also vetoing section 702. Under the current public disclosure law, agencies may waive the requirement to maintain an index of a variety of records if doing so would be "unduly burdensome." Section 702 amends that law by deleting this waiver option for all final opinions, orders, and statements of policy and interpretations of policy. This amendment would, in effect, require agencies and institutions to maintain indexes that provide identifying information on these kinds of records, regardless of cost or the significance of the indexed records.

I recognize that these indexes, if prepared in sufficient detail, could be useful to both the public and agency officials. However, agencies report that preparation and maintenance of the indexes would be costly. Since it is unlikely that necessary additional appropriations will be made available for indexing, I reluctantly cannot approve this new requirement. I would, however, be willing to work with the Legislature to devise an indexing requirement that would be both prudent from the standpoint of cost and useful in content.

In vetoing section 702, it is also necessary to veto a portion of section 202(3), which stipulates that final orders cannot be relied upon as precedent until they have been indexed. This partial veto is necessary to achieve consistency between the two sections.

With the exception of sections 701(32), 702, and a portion of section 202(3), House Bill No. 1515 is approved."

- (b) The governor shall allocate funds to the superintendent of public instruction, the department of social and health services, the department of community development, the department of fisheries, the department of ecology, and the department of labor and industries. The governor shall allocate these appropriations to specific agencies based on increased agency expenditures and workload directly associated with the Everett home port. The governor may release to the specific agencies only the amount necessary to offset the directly incurred increased costs which have been documented by the agency.

- (c) Any appropriation adjustments and actions that the governor has taken related to the Everett home port and pursuant to this appropriation shall be reported to the legislature on January 1, 1988, and January 1, 1989.

Passed the House March 10, 1988.
Passed the Senate March 10, 1988.
Approved by the Governor March 26, 1988, with the exception of certain items which were vetoed.
Filed in Office of Secretary of State March 26, 1988.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 306(10) and a portion of section 401(5), Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1312 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to fiscal matters."

Section 306(10) provides $125,000 solely to develop a salmon and steelhead rehabilitation plan for the Stillaguamish River. In 1985, the Legislature directed the Department of Fisheries to develop comprehensive resource restoration and enhancement plans for watersheds throughout the state, including the Stillaguamish River. Efforts funded under this section would be duplicative of ongoing and completed efforts under that watershed planning program. Therefore, I am vetoing this section.

By separate letter I will be asking the Department of Fisheries to return the appropriation to the General Fund.

The phrase "to establish a separate unit" on line 8, section 401(5), establishes a major crimes investigation unit within the Washington State Patrol for the purposes of developing a computerized database and record system for crime scene information and to provide investigative expertise and assistance to local law enforcement agencies. There is currently a study project being conducted by the Patrol which will assess the level of assistance and technical expertise that is appropriate for the Patrol to provide to local law enforcement agencies. Consequently, it is premature to establish a separate unit within the Patrol until the study and pilot project is completed. It should be noted that during the 1988 and 1987 legislative sessions, the Legislature did consider, but failed to enact, the legislation which would have created, in statute, a separate unit dedicated to major crimes investigation within the Patrol. My veto allows the Patrol funding to work on this project without the requirement of establishing a separate dedicated unit.

With the exception of section 306(10) and a portion of section 401(5), Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1312 is approved."
