

Women Legislators in the Washington State House

Total House Seats

Contrasted with the Senate, the House realized a stronger representation of women in the earlier years. For example, prior to 1979 the number of women representatives averaged better than six per session. The House peaked at 43 women in 1994. Currently, 34% of Washington's Representatives are women. This compares with Congress's average (House) of 19.3%, while the 50-state legislative (both House & Senate) average is 24.5% women.

