Members of the Legislature:

We are pleased to present the Final Report of the Joint Legislative Task Force on the Underground Economy in the Construction Industry.

During the 2007 interim, the Task Force heard presentations and public testimony that confirmed the underground economy is costly to the state in lost revenue and unfair to law-abiding businesses and workers. Our recommendations from the 2007 work led to the enactment of two important pieces of legislation. ESHB 3122 clearly defines who is an independent contractor for persons working in the construction industry. 2SSB 6732 gives the Department of Labor and Industries additional tools to identify and impose consequences on people working underground. In addition, the 2007-09 supplemental budget included funding for the Department to increase enforcement as well as to educate consumers about unregistered contractors.

A key recommendation enacted in 2008 was to allow the Task Force to continue its work through the 2008 interim and 2009 session. Our work during the 2008 interim led to a broad range of recommendations which are further detailed in this report. The recommendations include increased regulation and education of contractors and greater education for consumers. A significant issue came to our attention late in 2008, that of the use of stop work orders for enforcement. A subcommittee is continuing to work on this issue.

During the 2008 interim, a Benchmark Advisory Committee staffed by the Washington State Institute for Public Policy worked on establishment of benchmarks for the monitoring of activities recommended in the 2008 legislation. The Advisory Committee's preliminary report is included as part of this report.

It became apparent during our study that the need for monitoring the underground economy is ongoing and beyond the use of benchmarks. The Task Force therefore recommends that an interagency advisory committee be formed, with labor and business stakeholders, to address issues identified by the Task Force as well as emerging issues regarding the underground economy in construction and other areas. Some of the recommendations listed in this report are long-range and appropriate for evaluation by an ongoing advisory committee.

We believe these recommendations will assist in protecting the economic vitality of the state.

PART I
BACKGROUND ON THE TASK FORCE

In 2007, the Legislature enacted Senate Bill 5926. The bill created a joint legislative task force to formulate a state policy to establish cohesion and transparency between state agencies to increase oversight and regulation of the underground economy practices in the construction industry. The Task Force met in the 2007 interim and developed findings and recommendations. The recommendations from the 2007 work led to enactment during the 2008 legislative session of two bills -- ESHB 3122 and 2SSB 6732 -- and budget provisos, all of which are further discussed in Part II. The 2008 legislation extended the Task Force for an additional year and required a final report to the Legislature by December 31, 2008. (Section 10, 2SSB 6732)

The Task Force conducted its work with the goal of reducing or eliminating the underground economy in the construction industry.

For a full understanding of the Task Force's activities, reviewing the Findings and Recommendations from the 2007 work in addition to this report is recommended. Those findings and recommendations are available online, as are other Task Force meeting materials.

Findings, Declarations, and Intent

The bill creating the Task Force, SB 5926, expressed legislative findings and declarations as well as the Legislature’s intent. The Legislature found “that some current estimates place the percentage of unreported employment in Washington State’s construction industry at between twenty percent and fifty percent, although solid data on this phenomenon is not readily available in Washington.” The Legislature also found “that unreported construction employment may result in the loss of a worker’s employment rights and protections, including workers’ compensation and unemployment insurance compensation.” The Legislature further found “that unreported construction employment also could deny the state the revenues it is due, including sales taxes, business and occupation taxes, and other business fees paid to the state.” The Legislature declared “that the underground economy in this state may permit unfair conditions to exist against persons working in the construction industry who do follow the employment laws and appropriately pay taxes.” The Legislature’s intent was “to determine the extent and potential costs to the state of the underground economy in the construction industry.”

Joint Legislative Task Force

The Task Force consisted of the following members: four legislative members designated as the chairs and the ranking minority members of the Senate Labor, Commerce, Research and Development Committee and the House Commerce and Labor Committee; four members representing the construction business; four members representing construction laborers; and nonvoting agency liaison members from the Employment Security Department, the Department of Labor and Industries, and the Department of Revenue. The Washington State Institute for Public Policy (Institute) maintained a nonvoting liaison representative to the Task Force as well.

1 The companion to SB 5926 was HB 2086 which passed the House Commerce and Labor Committee.
2 http://www1.leg.wa.gov/Joint/Committees/UECI
The 2007 legislation directed the Task Force to contract with the Institute to assist the Task Force and determine the extent of and projected costs to the state and workers of the underground economy in the construction industry. (see Appendix to Findings and Recommendations) The 2008 legislation directed the Institute to establish benchmarks for the future monitoring of activities recommended by the Task Force. The preliminary Benchmark Report is Appendix A.

Funding for the work of the Task Force in FY 2008 was provided for in the 2007-09 operating budget, SHB 1128. For FY 2008, $56,000 was appropriated for the House of Representatives and $56,000 was appropriated for the Senate. For FY 2009, the Legislature appropriated $46,000 directly to the Institute. ESHB 2687.
PART II
2008 LEGISLATION

In 2008, the Legislature passed ESHB 3122 and 2SSB 6723. (The Governor vetoed two sections of 2SSB 6732, discussed below.) Budget provisos related to the underground economy in the construction industry were also enacted in the supplemental 2007-09 budget, ESHB 2687.

ESHB 3122 established a seven part independent contractor test for purposes of unemployment insurance and industrial insurance. The new test is similar to the six-part test for all industries, but is limited to the construction industry. An individual meeting the test must have a valid contractor registration or electrical contractor license on the effective date of the contract and active and valid accounts with the Department of Revenue and any other state agencies.

In 2SSB 6732, the Legislature adopted items relating to penalties, data-sharing and detection, enforcement, and education and outreach activities. These provisions include:

Penalties.
- The Department of Labor & Industries (L&I) must deny a contractor registration application and suspend an active registration if L&I determines that the applicant falsified information on the application or the applicant does not have an active and valid certificate of registration with the Department of Revenue.
- A person who submits false information on an application for registration is subject to a penalty of up to $10,000.
- A contractor is prohibited from bidding on public works projects if two or more specified violations are committed within a five year period.

Data-sharing and detection.
- Employers must keep records of the compensation paid to contractors and electricians.
- State agencies may disclose records between themselves if the agencies would otherwise be permitted to obtain the information directly.

Education and outreach.
- L&I must create an expanded social marketing campaign to warn consumers of the risks and potential consequences of hiring unregistered contractors.

The term of the Task Force was extended to June 30, 2009.

Vetoes. The Governor vetoed a section requiring L&I to add staff to the Fraud Audit Infraction and Revenue (FAIR) contractor fraud team and requiring both L&I and the Employment Security Department to hire additional auditors. The vetoed section also required that funding be dedicated to the Attorney General's office for contractor compliance cases. However, funding was provided in the budget for L&I and the Attorney General's office and the Governor's veto message indicated she was directing L&I to hire investigative staff. (L&I provided updates to the Task Force on the hiring of FAIR team inspectors, auditors, and an additional Attorney General.)
Also vetoed was a section providing for a pilot project between L&I and local jurisdictions to explore ways to improve the collection and sharing of building permit information.

Budget provisos:

Funding was addressed in the 2007-09 supplemental budget to implement 2SSB 6732:

- Attorney General's Office.
- Department of Labor and Industries.
- Employment Security Department.
- Washington State Institute for Public Policy.

The text of the bills and bill reports are in Appendix B.
PART III
ACTIVITIES OF THE TASK FORCE

In 2007, Task Force topics included an overview of the current oversight of the underground economy in the construction industry as presented by the Employment Security Department (ESD), the Department of Labor and Industries (L&I), and the Department of Revenue (DOR); impediments to collection of taxes and recommendations for improvement; experiences from other states; perspectives on the underground economy from both business and labor representatives; the role of local governments in monitoring the construction economy; current independent contractor laws in this state and other states; laws regarding data sharing among state agencies; enforcement and penalty issues; and contractor registration requirements. Further detail is in the 2008 findings and recommendations.

In 2008, Task Force topics included a review of the 2008 legislation; Benchmark Advisory Committee activities; best practices from other states; local government data sharing and suggestions for addressing the underground economy; Department of Licensing (DOL) sunrise review of residential contractors; updates from the three liaison agencies; new hire reporting, and stop work orders. (Dates in parentheses below are dates of the meetings at which particular topics were discussed.)

Organizational Matters

Procedures: In 2008, the Task Force maintained the procedures adopted in 2007. The procedures addressed the organization and conduct of the Task Force, the appointment of Task Force subcommittees; the data request process; and the decision making process. The Executive Committee agreed to meet after Task Force meetings as necessary to make data requests of staff and agencies and to identify agenda items for the next meeting.

Schedule: The Task Force planned four meetings and held one additional short meeting. (May 28, September 10, October 1, November 12, December 4)

Reports: Presentations and reports given to the Task Force by state agency representatives, the Institute, and other presenters are available online.3 Appendix C contains a list of all these reports for both 2007 and 2008.

Public Comment: The Task Force meetings (other than the final meeting) included an opportunity for public comment.

Subcommittees and Advisory Committees: Two advisory committees and two subcommittees assisted with the Task Force’s work.

Independent Contractor Subcommittee. This subcommittee looked into creating a uniform definition of “independent contractor” and met three times in late 2007. See discussion of ESHB 3122. (November 7, December 3, December 17)

3 http://www.leg.wa.gov/Joint/Committees/UECI/
Local Government Advisory Committee. The Task Force asked the Local Government Advisory Committee to investigate ways to improve data sharing between the state and local governments. The Advisory Committee met once in 2007 (December 6) and once in 2008 (August 7).

Benchmark Advisory Committee. The Task Force created a Benchmark Advisory Committee, to be led by the Washington State Institute for Public Policy (Institute), in late 2007. 2SSB 6732 then specifically directed the Institute to organize the advisory committee, with the assistance of the three liaison agencies, with a goal of establishing benchmarks for the future monitoring of activities recommended by the Task Force. The advisory committee met twice in 2008 and also presented updates to the Task Force. The preliminary report is Appendix A. (March 21, July 9)

Stop Work Subcommittee. The Task Force formed a Stop Work Subcommittee to consider issuance of stop work orders by L&I as an enforcement tool. The Subcommittee met twice in December 2008. (December 1, December 16)

Substantive Issues Addressed in 2008

Implementation of 2008 legislation and related updates from agencies. Agency representatives presented information on implementation of the 2008 legislation and related activities.

L&I addressed the hiring of the additional staff (Fraud Audit Infraction and Revenue (FAIR) team compliance inspectors, auditors, and Assistant Attorney General) and the implementation of the marketing campaign, new penalties, and new independent contractor test. L&I also provided copies of the new contractor application form.

ESD also provided information on the implementation of the new independent contractor test as well as data on enforcement efforts.

ESD and L&I both addressed workers' compensation and unemployment insurance coverage of sole proprietors and persons in other types of business relationships. ESD also addressed release of subcontractor information. (May 28, September 10)

Budget requests. L&I and ESD discussed their 2009-11 decision packages related to the underground economy in construction. ESD provided general information on funding for auditors. (October 1)

Benchmarks and future monitoring. The Institute provided updates on the work of the Benchmark Advisory Committee, including identification of data elements and baseline data to measure the impact of 2SSB 6732. (May 28, September 10, October 1)

Best Practices. The Task Force heard from national business and labor representatives regarding best practices in regulating the underground economy in the construction industry to achieve the goal of reducing or eliminating the underground economy. Matt Capece, Representative of the General President, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, presented a survey of federal and state actions to counter misclassification fraud. Alex Strong, National Association of Home Builders Government Affairs Manager, provided information on independent contractor legislation in Congress and the effects of misclassifying workers as independent contractors. (September 10)

Local governments. L&I, representatives of the Washington Association of Building Officials, and cities, presented information on the Local Government Advisory Committee discussions with cities and counties on data sharing. Additionally, the city of Lacey worked with L&I representatives and demonstrated the data they currently collect and the format in which such data is kept.

The Institute presented information on lost revenue to cities and counties from the underground economy.

Representatives from cities and counties made suggestions to address the underground economy. (September 10, October 1)

Contractor regulation. The Department of Licensing presented information on the sunrise review of contractor regulation. The Task Force also heard a staff presentation on regulation of contractors in California and Oregon, which have competency testing. (September 10, October 1)

Prevailing wage classification. L&I provided information on links between enforcement of prevailing wage and workers’ compensation laws, including classification issues. (October 1)

New hire registry. The Division of Child Support of the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS) presented an overview of the requirement that employers report new hires to DSHS. DSHS also reported on states which require reporting of independent contractors in addition to employees, and new hire reporting compliance in Washington. L&I and ESD provided information on data sharing with DSHS. (October 1, November 12)

Stop work orders. Staff presented information on stop work order laws in other states and a bill draft for discussion. (October 1, November 12)
During the 2008 interim, the Task Force carried forward the broad list of possible recommendations identified in 2007 that were not adopted in 2008. Business and labor were asked to prioritize and submit recommendations for 2009 from this carry forward list and to identify any additional items. At the November 12 meeting, the Task Force adopted a number of the carry forward items, deferred some items to the December 4th meeting, deferred some items long-term, and added to the list of possible recommendations. At the December 4 meeting, a majority of the Task Force ratified the adoption of the November 12th recommendations, discussed and adopted some of the deferred items, and took action on other items.

Some task force members requested that it be entered into the record that the state is facing a difficult budget situation and that the Task Force should not necessarily be recommending additional spending. Consequently, the Legislature should consider the costs and benefits of funding the recommendations of this report in light of the current economic situation.

Overall, the business members believe that there should be a balance between education and enforcement so that adequate resources are devoted to make sure persons working in construction receive information on their obligations under the law and that enforcement resources are directed to those who choose to fail to follow the law.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The following recommendations were adopted by the Task Force at the November 12th meeting, and were ratified (except for #5 and with one change to item #1) by a majority of the Task Force on December 4th, with two members abstaining. After the December 4th meeting, the business community withdrew support for a portion of #18(b).

1. Contractor registration - identification requirements. A valid photo identification should be required for contractor registration and renewal. The registration should be available for review by consumers to verify the identity of the contractor.

2. Registration availability. All contractors should be required to have a list of all first tier subcontractors and their registrations available.4

3. Unregistered contractor criminal penalty. The unregistered contractor criminal penalty should be increased from a gross misdemeanor to a class C felony for the 3rd offense.

4. Construction training and outreach team. The Department of Labor & Industries (L&I) should establish a construction training and outreach team. Add two staff to provide direct contractor education/outreach to put on contractor training days, attend home shows, perform outreach to consumers and contractors. This also requires funding for travel, mailings, and materials. Add two underwriting staff for education and outreach on workers’ compensation requirements and premium responsibilities, including independent contractor issues. They would work with new firms individually, and help establish mass education campaigns. Funding for travel, mailings and materials is also needed.

5. Education and outreach. Requirements should be explored for new and out-of-state contractors to attend a contractor training class before allowing registration/licensing, as well as a minimum of 8 hours of ongoing education on law/regulations each year. Add one staff person to implement these changes.

6. Employment Security Department (ESD) and L&I priority. ESD and L&I should be given priority to collect amounts owed from retainage on public works projects.

7. Unemployment insurance records penalty. A stringent penalty should be provided for failure to keep unemployment insurance records.

8. Master business application system funding. Funding for the Master Business Application Systems should be enhanced.

9. Employer fraud detection system funding. Funding should be provided to L&I for the employer fraud detection system based on results of the feasibility study.

10. Enforcement - local government. Local governments should be required to verify compliance with registration and other requirements before issuing a business license. Local governments need funding to implement the requirements.

Items deferred for long-term consideration:

11. Homeowner penalty. The issue of whether penalties should be created for homeowners who intentionally do not follow the rules should be deferred for long-term consideration. (In its discussions of this issue, the Task Force noted that whether penalties should be created for all owners, not just homeowners, should be part of any future consideration of this issue.)

12. Undocumented cash penalty. The issue of whether penalties should be created for persons who accept undocumented cash payments should be deferred for long-term consideration. (In its discussions of this issue, the Task Force noted that whether penalties should be created for persons who accept, in addition to those who accept, undocumented cash payment should be part of any future consideration of this issue.)

The following recommendations were discussed and adopted by a majority of the Task Force at the December 4th meeting, with two members recommending item #18 not be adopted and one member abstaining from #14.

5 Although the Task Force voted to endorse the concept of affirmative training for newly established businesses in Washington State, business members of the Task Force do not support the continuing education element, feeling that it is impractical to implement, and that state agencies as well as trade associations already perform this function.

6 The labor members of the Task Force strongly recommend that competency testing for contractors be a component of education and outreach. Competency testing should be similar to that required in California or at a minimum a competency test on contracting and registration laws and regulations of the state.
13. Stop work orders. The issue of stop work orders merits further consideration and the Stop Work Subcommittee should continue to meet. The Task Force acknowledges some difference of opinion as to whether stop work legislation is a priority for the 2009 session. Passage of a stop work bill is the top priority for the 2009 session for some members. Other members do not think it is necessary to pass the bill during the 2009 session, but want to continue working on the issue and moving towards agreement.

14. Future monitoring. An ongoing interagency advisory committee should be formed, with labor and business stakeholders, to address issues identified by the Task Force as well as emerging issues regarding the underground economy in construction and other areas. One member abstained from this recommendation. (The discussion of future monitoring included discussion of ongoing reporting of measures recommended by the Benchmark Advisory Committee.)

15. DSHS new hire information. The Legislature should consider the possibility of a shorter reporting time as a means of improving state agency data cross-matching capabilities and usefulness, while also enhancing compliance with new hire reporting requirements. DSHS should be encouraged to use its existing tools to obtain compliance. One task force member brought up concerns about changing the target when so few businesses are meeting the current target and this current target is not being enforced. Reservations were also expressed about setting the reporting requirements too tight to be practical for those who may outsource employment and payroll reporting functions.

16. Independent contractor definition - prevailing wage. The Legislature should define who is an independent contractor for purposes of prevailing wage laws. Some members would like to use the existing workers' compensation definition while others suggest that this definition should not automatically be used.

17. Local government tax issues. It is important that the interagency advisory committee address the items that were brought to the attention of the Task Force by the representatives of the cities and the counties. These include the issue of resale certificates, which is being explored by the Department of Revenue, and whether contractors should be required to place subcontractor UBI numbers on checks.

18. Sunrise review of residential contractors. A majority of the Task Force recommends that the following recommendations made by the Department of Licensing in their sunrise review of residential contractors receive consideration in the 2009 legislative session. Two members do not agree with this recommendation.

   a. Registration requirements. Strengthen registration requirements by authorizing the Department of Labor & Industries to suspend registration for cause. Establish mechanisms for monitoring industry performance.

   b. Strengthen registration. Strengthen registration by requiring disclosure of prior business names and/or bankruptcy, two years experience in the construction industry, and evidence of training regulations and business practices in the construction industry. Consider higher bonding limits.

(c. Central complaint repository. Create a central complaint repository within state government. Establish a database and encourage state agencies and local authorities to share information in a uniform format.

d. Consumer awareness. Enhance L&I’s current efforts to increase consumer skills and awareness of issues, resources, and strategies that are important in the area of residential contracting. Connect this effort to the issues identified as critical in this study. Set goals and targets and define metrics for consumer awareness.

7Recommendation #18 was handled in haste at the end of the last meeting, and the maker of the motion mistakenly included the experiential, training, and bonding elements of element (b). The intent was only to include the disclosure of prior business activity and bankruptcy history; deleting the remaining elements. There is no support from the business members of the Task Force for any of the elements beyond prior business activity disclosures. There was no discussion of this recommendation, which would have brought out that mistake and resulted in an altered motion. Had an informed vote been taken, there would have been no majority for the original motion and an amended motion may have been considered. Since there are no subsequent meetings of the Task Force which would offer the opportunity for reconsideration of this action, business members want the report to acknowledge that they do not support the elements of recommendation (b) beyond disclosure of prior business names and bankruptcies.
MONITORING REGULATION AND ENFORCEMENT ACTIVITIES ASSOCIATED WITH THE UNDERGROUND CONSTRUCTION ECONOMY: PRELIMINARY REPORT

Introduction

In 2007, the Washington State Legislature enacted Senate Bill 5926 relating to the underground economy in the construction industry. The legislation created a joint legislative task force to “formulate a state policy to establish cohesion and transparency between state agencies so as to increase the oversight and regulation of the underground economy practices in the construction industry.”

In addition, the Joint Task Force on the Underground Economy in the Construction Industry (Task Force) was directed to contract with the Washington State Institute for Public Policy (Institute) to assist in determining the extent of and costs associated with the underground construction economy. Subsequent legislation in 2008 instructed the Institute to organize a committee to identify benchmarks to measure the effect of Task Force recommendations and to provide a preliminary report by December 31, 2008.

The Benchmark Advisory Committee, comprising members of the Task Force and representatives of the Department of Revenue (DOR), Employment Security Department (ESD), and Department of Labor and Industries (L&I), met three times during calendar year 2008. The Committee reviewed enacted legislation that was recommended by the Task Force (2SSB 6732 and ESHB 3122) and identified new activities and initiatives for which data could be collected to monitor progress and results.

This report describes data (currently available or soon to be collected) that can be used to monitor the implementation of legislatively enacted policies associated with the Task Force’s recommendations. Because many of the activities enacted during the 2008 legislative session were not implemented until late summer or fall of 2008, the data presented here only represent a baseline against which to measure future outcomes. Data reflecting the first fiscal year of implementation will be available prior to the 2010 legislative session.

Background

State Revenue Losses Associated With Underground Construction Activity. The Task Force was directed to contract with the Institute to provide assistance in estimating the size of and costs associated with the underground construction economy. The primary focus was to estimate the total state revenue (sales and business and occupation [B&O] taxes and unemployment insurance and workers’ compensation premiums) owed to Washington State by participants in the underground construction industry.

Due to the hidden nature of the underground economy, there is little detailed data available at the state or even the national level. However, based on an extensive review of the research literature and in consultation with staff at DOR, ESD, and L&I, the Institute developed a rough estimate of the size of the underground construction industry.

Based on the estimated size of the underground construction economy and a cumulative tax rate provided by the three revenue-collecting agencies, in fiscal year 2006, the unpaid sales and B&O taxes and premiums associated with underground construction activity were valued at roughly $109

3 This legislation consolidated, aligned, and clarified exception tests for determination of independent contractor status under unemployment compensation and workers’ compensation laws.
4 Underground construction activity includes any work in the building construction trades that is not reported (yet is required to be reported) to government agencies charged with taxing or regulating the activity.
5 SB 5926, Sec. 2(2), Chapter 288, Laws of 2007.
This estimate includes only the sales and B&O taxes that could have been collected by DOR and the premiums collected by ESD and L&I. This estimate does not include the revenue losses experienced by city and county governments.8

Underground construction activity also influences workers’ wages, worker safety, healthcare costs associated with uninsured workers, and other regulatory activities. These economic and social costs were not evaluated for this study.

Task Force Recommendations and Legislation. During the 2008 session, the Task Force submitted a report to the Legislature recommending a number of legislative, agency, and budget actions intended to improve regulation and oversight in the construction industry with respect to underground activity.9

The Task Force recommended new registration requirements and penalties, increased enforcement activities, increased education and outreach, and continuation of data sharing and detection capabilities. They also recommended consolidating, aligning, and clarifying tests for determination of independent contractor status under unemployment compensation and workers’ compensation laws.

Enacted legislation resulting from these recommendations is embodied in two bills: 2SSB 6732 and ESHB 3122. The former addressed penalties, registration, enforcement, and education, the latter the definition of covered employment.10

Monitoring the Activities Recommended by the Task Force

The Benchmark Advisory Committee reviewed relevant legislation and identified policy areas where data are or may eventually be available to monitor activities recommended by the Task Force. Data are or will be available in the future to monitor activities associated with the following policy areas:

- Contractor registration and records
- Penalties
- Enforcement
- Education and outreach
- Data sharing and detection

The 2007 recommendations of the Task Force have been implemented. This report describes the activities to be monitored, the data used to monitor those activities, the agency compiling the data, and when those data may be available.11 Where baseline data are available, they are presented in this report.12

Contractor Registration and Records. Contractors must register with the Department of Labor and Industries. The revised statute requires that the registration application include a Department of Revenue Universal Business Identifier (UBI).13 The statute also allows for denials and suspensions of applications of contractors who do not have a UBI, are not registered, or submit false information on their registration application.14 Additionally, employers are now required to keep a record of compensation paid to contractors performing work.15

- Contractor registration UBI requirement.
  While a requirement for a UBI was not previously in statute, it effectively is a requirement because a UBI is necessary for entry into L&I’s Contractor Registration Information System (CRIS). As a result, since third quarter 2004, there are no

7 Due to the high premiums paid for workers’ compensation and unemployment insurance in the construction industry, the great majority of lost revenue (88 percent) is estimated to be in unpaid premiums to ESD and L&I.
8 Local governments lose revenue from a variety of sources, including local sales and B&O taxes, building permit and licensing fees, and property taxes. Data to estimate the size of those revenue losses, however, are not available. And the considerable uncertainty around the statewide estimate is greatly compounded when attempting to estimate revenue losses at the local level.
10 The work of the Task Force was continued to another year and recommendations for the 2009 legislative session were being finalized at the time of this report.
11 The “activities to be monitored” are the activities and policies enacted for which agencies can or will be able to provide data for ongoing monitoring. They were identified in consultation with the Benchmark Advisory Committee.
12 Only 2SSB 6732 included statutory changes for which ongoing data monitoring is applicable. ESHB 3122 simplified the test to determine independent contractor status.
13 2SSB 6732 Sec. 1(1)(b)
14 2SSB 6732 Sec. 1(3)(a)(iv-v), 1(3)(b)(iv-v), and 2(7)(c) registered contractors without UBI numbers (Exhibit 1).

- Application denials and suspensions. If applications or denials occur, L&I will be able to report the number of application denials and registration suspensions in a given year. As of December 15, 2008, however, there have been none. DOR is also able to report tax recoveries associated with any denials and suspensions reported to them by L&I.

Penalties. Several new penalties targeting contractors in violation of rules were enacted in the 2008 legislation. Contractors are now subject to a fine of up to $10,000 for falsifying information on an application for registration.17 Also, contractors who misrepresent payroll or employee hours, operate without a certificate of L&I coverage, or have multiple contractor registration violations may be prohibited from bidding on public works contracts for one year.18

- Up to $10,000 fine. There are no baseline data regarding this new penalty and no cases have been initiated or resolved as of December 15, 2008. In the future, L&I will be able to provide the number of fines assessed, collection amounts, and accompanying narratives associated with any violations resulting in this penalty.

- Public works contract prohibition. There are no baseline data available regarding this new sanction and no cases have been initiated or resolved as of December 15, 2008. In the future, L&I will be able to provide the number of these sanctions resulting from construction audits and provide narrative accounts associated with violations resulting in a sanction.

  ESD will also be able to provide the number of referrals (following appeal) to L&I for firms that misrepresent payroll or employee hours.

Enforcement. The Task Force sought to increase resources allocated to enforcement by adding more L&I investigative and auditing staff and dedicating funds for prosecution of compliance cases. The specific details of these recommendations adopted in legislation were vetoed by the Governor;19 however, funds provided in the 2008 supplemental budget were used by L&I to implement increased enforcement activities. As a result, L&I increased its auditing and investigative staff.

In addition to increased investigative and auditing staff, the Legislature directed L&I to dedicate funds (if available in the 2008 supplemental budget) to the attorney general’s office to be used in the enforcement of contractor compliance cases.20 A prosecutor was appointed in the fall of 2008.

- Additional investigative and auditing staff. L&I is able to report the number of audits filed and total dollars assessed for all industries and construction. Baseline data for all industry and construction audits are provided in Exhibits 2 through 5. It is important to note, however, that the four additional auditors described above are not dedicated to only auditing the construction industry.

In fiscal year 2008, L&I’s auditing staff consisted of 67 FTEs at a total cost of $4,566,295. L&I currently fields 71 FTE auditors at $4,926,951 for fiscal year 2009.

16 The state fiscal year runs from July through June (e.g., FY04 lasts from July 2003 through June 2004.
17 2SSB 6732 Sec. 2(8)(a)
18 2SSB 6732 Sec. 3
19 2SSB 6732 Sec. 11(1)(a) and 11(2), were vetoed.
20 This section was also vetoed, but L&I funded this effort using available resources.
L&I is also able to report on the activities of the FAIR Team. The FAIR Team began operations in 2006 and focus on unlicensed construction contractors and firms not paying workers’ compensation. Baseline audit and collection referrals and the total dollars assessed and collected are provided in Exhibits 6 and 7, respectively.

In fiscal year 2008, the FAIR Team consisted of 3 FTEs at a cost of $277,404 per year. There are currently six FAIR Team staff at a cost of $636,829 for fiscal 2009.

21 Fraud, Audit, Infraction, and Revenue.
22 FY10 funding will be $595,535, lower than FY09 due to one-time costs associated with new FTEs in FY09.
Attorney general enforcement of contractor compliance cases. A prosecutor was assigned in the fall of 2008. By December 15, 2008, however, no cases had been initiated. In the future, L&I will be able to report the number of cases initiated for prosecution and prosecution outcomes, and provide narrative accounts of cases brought to prosecution.

Employment Security Department Underground Economy Unit. The ESD’s Underground Economy Unit focuses on locating businesses (not just construction) that are not registered with the Department. While the Task Force recommended no additional auditors for ESD, this activity merits inclusion as a possible benchmark for future monitoring. ESD is able to report tax discoveries, penalties, and interest owed for all industries and construction. The Underground Economy unit began operation in FY07. Baseline data for their first two years of operation are provided in Exhibits 8 and 9.

In fiscal year 2008, the ESD Underground Economy unit was staffed with 4 FTEs at a cost of $361,384. Their efforts generated $8.64 in tax discovery, penalties, and interest for every dollar spent that year.

Education and Outreach. 2008 legislation directed L&I to “create an expanded social marketing campaign using currently available materials and newly created materials as needed. This campaign should be aimed at consumers and warn them of the risks and potential consequences of hiring unregistered contractors or otherwise assisting in the furtherance of the underground economy. The campaign may include: providing public service announcements and other similar materials, made available in English as well as other languages, to the media and to community groups; providing information on violations and penalties; and encouraging legitimate contractors and the public to report fraud.”

A comprehensive strategy targeting contractors and consumers is in development; in addition, L&I’s media campaign is scheduled to begin in early 2009. The Department has updated educational materials and continues to stage contractor classes and other events such as home shows across the state. L&I is able to describe the number of classes and events and the total attendance and contacts made at each event. Baseline data are provided in Exhibit 10.

Data Sharing and Detection. The task force recommended legislation to ensure that agencies continue to share data for the purpose of investigating unregistered businesses and other compliance issues. The legislation passed ensures that records or information obtained can be used for purposes “(a) directly connected to the official purpose for which the records or information were obtained or (b) to another governmental agency which would be permitted to obtain the records or information under subsection[s]…of this section.”

Agencies continue to routinely share information and data. Related to these efforts, the Department of Revenue tracks the number of referrals across agencies and dollars assessed and collected from those referrals. During fiscal year 2008 (the first full year these data were compiled), there were 8,805 referrals among DOR, ESD, and L&I (Exhibit 11), $658,056 assessed, of which $601,905 had been collected by the end of the fiscal year. DOR continues to compile these data on a quarterly basis.

Other Available Monitoring Data. Data described thus far are specific to initiatives recommended by the Task Force. The primary goal of these initiatives is to reduce the amount of underground construction activity. An obvious benchmark to monitor the overall effectiveness of these efforts would be some measure of the amount of underground activity over time.

Unfortunately, because underground activity is hidden, there are no conveniently available means of measurement. All three agencies, however, compile data that may be useful for future monitoring efforts.

- Bi-annual non-compliance study. DOR publishes a study every other year in which they describe revenue losses due to non-compliance. While the report does not focus on the construction industry, it provides an on-going record of DOR revenue losses attributable to non-compliance in general. The 2010 report will include data from audits conducted in 2008 and earlier years.
• Employee misclassification. One issue related to underground construction activity is the misclassification of employees as independent contractors. Based on targeted and other audits, the ESD is able to report the percentage of audited construction firms misclassifying workers and the number of workers misclassified by these audited firms. Historical data are available, and data reflecting audits conducted in calendar year 2009 could be available in January 2010.

• Unregistered contractors. L&I currently compiles data on construction audits, identifying the number of uncovered workers and hours worked, and dollars assessed. They also have the capacity to report the total number of unregistered contractors identified by investigative and audit staff. Data on unregistered contractors were not available for this report, but will be in the future.

Future Updates

The data elements described above are or will be available on a regular basis to monitor activity associated with recommendations of the Task Force and related 2008 legislation. Data reflecting the first fiscal year of implementation will be available for a December 2009 update report and can be used to establish benchmarks for continued monitoring of the impacts of regulatory changes and enforcement activities.

FINAL BILL REPORT

C 102 L 08
Synopsis as Enacted

Brief Description: Consolidating, aligning, and clarifying exception tests for determination of independent contractor status under unemployment compensation and workers' compensation laws.

Sponsors: By House Committee on Commerce & Labor (originally sponsored by Representatives Conway, Green, Hunt, Kenney, Roberts, Haler, Morrell, Ericks, Hankins, Eddy, Wood, Sells, Chase, Ormsby, Hasegawa, Appleton, Williams, Moeller, Simpson, Sullivan and McIntire).

House Committee on Commerce & Labor
Senate Committee on Labor, Commerce, Research & Development

Background:

In 2007 the Legislature enacted Senate Bill 5926, which created a Joint Legislative Task Force on the Underground Economy in the Construction Industry (Task Force). The Task Force was directed to formulate a state policy to establish cohesion and transparency between state agencies to increase oversight and regulation of the underground construction economy. Over the 2007 interim, the Task Force met six times and adopted recommendations at its final meeting.

One of the issues the Task Force discussed was the determination of independent contractor status. The term "independent contractor" is not defined in law; rather, this concept is embodied in several exception tests to the definition of "worker" in industrial insurance law and "employment" in unemployment compensation law. If a person fulfills the tests, the person is not covered for purposes of workers' compensation and unemployment insurance, and no industrial insurance premiums or unemployment taxes are due. Otherwise, the person is covered, and premiums and taxes are due.

Industrial insurance and unemployment insurance laws share a four-part exception test that applies only to construction. These laws also share a six-part test that applies to all industries, including construction. Persons working under independent contract, the essence of which is personal labor, are covered under industrial insurance. Both sets of laws also contain exceptions for specific industries, and sole proprietors and other business owners are exempt. The analysis also otherwise differs somewhat for unemployment insurance and industrial insurance.
The Task Force recommended that the different definitions of covered worker and employment exceptions be blended into one consistent definition.

Summary:

A new test is established to determine when work is done by independent contract in the construction industry for purposes of unemployment insurance and industrial insurance. The existing construction-specific tests are eliminated. All parts of the following test must be met:

(1) The individual has been and will continue to be free from control or direction over the performance of the service, both under contract and in fact.
(2) The service is either outside the usual course of business for which the service is performed, or outside of all the places of the enterprise for which the service is performed, or the individual is responsible, both under the contract and in fact, for the costs of the place of business.
(3) The individual is customarily engaged in an independently established trade, occupation, profession, or business of the same nature, or the individual has a principal place of business that is eligible for a business deduction for federal income tax purposes, other than that furnished by the employer.
(4) On the effective date of the contract, the individual is responsible for filing, under the contract and in fact, a schedule of expenses with the Internal Revenue Service.
(5) On the effective date of the contract or within a reasonable period after the effective date, the individual has an active and valid certificate of registration with the Department of Revenue (DOR) and an active and valid account with any other state agencies, and has a Unified Business Identifier number.
(6) On the effective date of the contract, the individual is maintaining a separate set of books or records.
(7) On the effective date of the contract, the individual has a valid contractor registration or electrical contractor license if the work requires the registration or license.

The new test is similar to the six-part test for all industries. The test differs in that the individual must have a valid contractor registration or electrical contractor license on the effective date of the contract and the accounts the individual must have with the DOR and any other state agencies must be active and valid. In addition, the principal place of business that is eligible for a business deduction must be other than that furnished by the employer.

Service shall be made in a manner which conforms to the civil rules for superior court. The requesting agency shall include with the copy of the application a statement to the effect that the individual or employing unit may contact the public records officer of the employment security department to state any objections to the release of the records or information. The the requesting agency until at least five days after service on the concerned individual or employing unit. The employment security department shall consider any objections raised by the concerned individual or employing unit in deciding whether the requesting agency needs the information or records for official purposes.

(2) The requirements of subsections (1) and (9) of this section shall not apply to the state legislative branch. The state legislature shall have access to information or records deemed private and confidential under this chapter, if the legislature or a legislative committee finds that the information or records are necessary and for official purposes. If the employment security department does not make information or records available as provided in this subsection, the legislature may exercise its authority granted by chapter 44.16 RCW.

emergency is defined as a situation in which irreparable harm or damage could occur if records or information are not released immediately.

(4) The requirements of subsection (1)(c) of this section shall not apply to governmental agencies where the procedures would frustrate the investigation of possible violations of criminal laws or employees, and aggregate employer wage data for the purpose of state governmental agencies preparing small business economic impact statements under chapter 19.85 RCW or preparing cost-benefit analyses under RCW 34.05.328(1) (c) and (d). Information provided by the department and held to be private and confidential under state or federal laws must not be misused or released to unauthorized parties. A person who misuses such information or releases such information to unauthorized parties is subject to the sanctions in RCW 50.13.080.

(5) Governmental agencies shall have access to certain records or information, limited to such items as names, addresses, social security numbers, and general information about benefit entitlement or employer information possessed by the department, for comparison purposes with records or information possessed by the requesting agency to detect improper or fraudulent claims, or to determine potential tax liability or employer compliance with registration and licensing requirements. In those cases the governmental agency shall not be required to comply with subsection (1)(c) of this section, but the requirements of the remainder of subsection (1) of this section must be satisfied.

(6) Governmental agencies may have access to certain records and information, limited to employer information possessed by the department for purposes authorized in chapter 50.38 RCW. Access to these records and information is limited to only those individuals conducting authorized statistical analysis, research, and evaluation studies. Only in cases consistent with the purposes of chapter 50.38 RCW are government agencies not required to comply with subsection (1)(c) of this section, but the requirements of the remainder of subsection (1) of this section must be satisfied. Information provided by the department and held to be private and confidential under state or federal laws shall not be misused or released to unauthorized parties subject to the sanctions in RCW 50.13.080.

(7) Disclosure to governmental agencies of information or records obtained by the employment security department from the federal government shall be governed by any applicable federal law or any agreement between the federal government and the employment security department where so required by federal law. When federal law does not apply to the records or information state law shall control.
(8) The department may provide information for purposes of statistical analysis and evaluation of the WorkFirst program or any successor state welfare program to the department of social and health services, the office of financial management, and other governmental entities with oversight or evaluation responsibilities for the program in accordance with RCW 43.20A.080. The confidential information provided by the department shall remain the property of the department and may be used by the authorized requesting agencies only for statistical analysis, research, and evaluation purposes as provided in RCW 74.08A.410 and 74.08A.420. The department of social and health services, the office of financial management, or other governmental entities with oversight or evaluation responsibilities for the program are not required to comply with subsection (1)(c) of this section, but the requirements of the remainder of subsection (1) of this section and applicable federal laws and regulations must be satisfied. The confidential information used for evaluation and analysis of welfare reform supplied to the authorized requesting entities with regard to the WorkFirst program or any successor state welfare program are exempt from public inspection and copying under chapter 42.56 RCW.

(9) The disclosure of any records or information by a governmental agency which has obtained the records or information under this section is prohibited unless the disclosure is (a) directly connected to the official purpose for which the records or information were obtained or (b) to another governmental agency which would be permitted to obtain the records or information under subsection (4) or (5) of this section.

(10) In conducting periodic salary or fringe benefit studies pursuant to law, the department of personnel shall have access to records of the employment security department as may be required for such studies. For such purposes, the requirements of subsection (1)(c) of this section need not apply.

(11)(a) To promote the reemployment of job seekers, the commissioner may enter into data-sharing contracts with partners of the one-stop career development system. The contracts shall provide for the transfer of data only to the extent that the transfer is necessary for the efficient provisions of workforce programs, including but not limited to public labor exchange, unemployment insurance, worker training and retraining, vocational rehabilitation, vocational education, adult education, transition from public assistance, and support services. The transfer of information under contracts with one-stop partners is exempt from subsection (1)(c) of this section.

(b) An individual who applies for services from the department and whose information will be shared under (a) of this subsection (1) must be notified that his or her private and confidential information in the department's records will be shared among the one-stop partners to facilitate the delivery of one-stop services to the individual. The notice must advise the individual that he or she may request that private and confidential information not be shared among the one-stop partners and the department must honor the request. In addition, the notice must:

(i) Advise the individual that if he or she requests that private and confidential information not be shared among one-stop partners, the request will in no way affect eligibility for services;

(ii) Describe the nature of the information to be shared, the general use of the information by one-stop partner representatives, and among whom the information will be shared;

(iii) Inform the individual that shared information will be used only for the purpose of delivering one-stop services and that further disclosure of the information is prohibited under contract and is not subject to disclosure under chapter 42.56 RCW; and

(iv) Be provided in English and an alternative language selected by the one-stop center or job service center as appropriate for the community where the center is located.

If the notice is provided in-person, the individual who does not want private and confidential information shared among the one-stop partners must immediately advise the one-stop partner representative of that decision. The notice must be provided to an individual who applies for services telephonically, electronically, or by mail, in a suitable format and within a reasonable time after applying for services, which shall be no later than ten working days from the department's receipt of the application for services. A one-stop representative must be available to answer specific questions regarding the nature, extent, and purpose for which the information may be shared.

(12) To facilitate improved operation and evaluation of state programs, the commissioner may enter into data-sharing contracts with other state agencies only to the extent that such transfer is necessary for the efficient operation or evaluation of outcomes for those programs. The transfer of information by contract under this subsection is exempt from subsection (1)(c) of this section.

(13) The misuse or unauthorized release of records or information by any person or organization to which access is permitted by this chapter subjects the person or organization to a civil penalty of five thousand dollars and other applicable sanctions under state and federal law. Suit to enforce this section shall be brought by the attorney general and the amount of any penalties collected shall be paid into the employment security department administrative contingency fund. The attorney general may recover reasonable attorneys' fees for any action brought to enforce this section.

Sec. 14. RCW 50.12.070 and 2007 c 146 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Each employing unit shall keep true and accurate work records, containing such information as the commissioner may prescribe. Such records shall be open to inspection and be subject to being copied by the commissioner or his or her authorized representatives at any reasonable time and as often as may be necessary. The commissioner may require from any employing unit any sworn or unsworn reports with respect to persons employed by it, which he or she deems necessary for the effective administration of this title.
(b) An employer who contracts with another person or entity for work subject to chapter 18.27 or 19.28 RCW shall obtain and preserve a record of the unified business identifier account number for and compensation paid to the person or entity performing the work. (b) Each employer shall make periodic reports at such intervals as the commissioner may by regulation prescribe, setting forth the remuneration paid for employment to workers in its employ, the full names and social security numbers of all such workers, and the total hours worked by each worker and such other information as the commissioner may by regulation prescribe.

(c) If the employing unit fails or has failed to report the number of hours in a reporting period for which a worker worked, such number will be computed by the commissioner and given the same force and effect as if it had been reported by the employing unit. In computing the number of such hours worked, the total wages for the reporting period, as reported by the employing unit, shall be divided by the dollar amount of the state’s minimum wage in effect for such reporting period and the quotient, disregarding any remainder, shall be credited to the worker: PROVIDED, That although the computation so made will not be subject to appeal by the employing unit, monetary entitlement may be redetermined upon request if the department is provided with credible evidence of the actual hours worked. Benefits paid using computed hours are not considered an overpayment and are not subject to collections when the correction of computed hours results in an invalid or reduced claim; however:

(i) A contribution paying employer who fails to report the number of hours worked will have its experience rating account charged for all benefits paid that are based on hours computed under this subsection; and

(ii) An employer who reimburses the trust fund for benefits paid to workers and fails to report the number of hours worked shall reimburse the trust fund for all benefits paid that are based on hours computed under this subsection.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning, without my approval as to Sections 11 and 13, Second Substitute Senate Bill 6732 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to implementing the recommendations of the joint legislative task force on the underground economy in the construction industry."

This bill provides precise tools to both the Department of Labor and Industries and the Employment Security Department to crack down on the underground construction economy. This legislation strengthens the ability of the two departments to enforce the statutes most frequently violated by unregistered contractors. It also provides the enforcement staff and the penalties necessary to make an impact on the underground construction economy.

Section 11 directs the Department of Labor and Industries to hire three staff members, including a working supervisor. While it is understandable that the Legislature wishes to make clear its intent regarding the Department's enforcement staff, specific reporting relationships and staffing levels are decisions best left to the Department and its management. The underlying strategies and tools described in the bill as a whole depend upon increased staffing in the Department's fraud audit infraction and revenue team. Therefore, I am directing the Department of Labor and Industries to hire investigative staff, consistent with the legislative appropriation provided for implementation of this bill, to carry out the activities and functions necessary to curb the activities of the underground construction economy.

Section 13 directs the Department of Labor and Industries to establish a pilot program with local jurisdictions surrounding the collection and sharing of building permit information. The intent and makeup of this study is unclear and the language provides little direction as to the nature of the pilot project. Since the pilot was intended to run until the end of 2014, I believe the legislature can revisit this idea in the next session.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Sections 11 and 13 of Second Substitute Senate Bill 6732.

With the exception of Sections 11 and 13, Second Substitute Senate Bill 6732 is approved."
PARTIAL VETO
C 120 L 08
Synopsis as Enacted

Brief Description: Implementing the recommendations of the joint legislative task force on the underground economy in the construction industry.

Sponsors: Senate Committee on Ways & Means (originally sponsored by Senators Kohl-Welles, Kline, Keiser, Marr, Murray, Hobbs, Regala, Tom, Oemig and Fairley).

Background: In 2007 the Legislature enacted SB 5926 (C 288 L 07) relating to the underground economy in the construction industry. The act created the Joint Legislative Task Force on the Underground Economy in the Construction Industry (Task Force) to formulate a state policy to establish cohesion and transparency between state agencies to increase oversight and regulation of the underground economy practices in the construction industry.

At its final meeting in 2007, the Task Force developed a list of recommendations for legislative and budgetary action during the 2008 Legislative Session. The recommendations included items relating to penalties, data-sharing and detection, enforcement, and education and outreach activities. A report listing the Task Force's findings and recommendations will be distributed to the Legislature in January 2008.

Summary: Applicants for registration as a contractor must submit a unified business identifier (UBI) number. The Department of Labor and Industries (L&I) must deny an application for registration as a contractor and suspend an active registration if L&I determines that the applicant has falsified information on the application or the applicant does not have an active and valid certificate of registration with the Department of Revenue (DOR). Additionally, a person who submits false information on an application for registration is subject to a penalty of up to $10,000.

A contractor is prohibited from bidding on public works projects for one year if, within a five year period, the contractor commits two violations of any of the following: willfully violates contractor registration laws; knowingly misrepresents the amount of his or her payroll or employee hours to L&I; engages in business without a certificate of coverage under the industrial insurance provisions; or commits a second violation of the contractor registration laws.

Employers must keep records of the compensation paid to contractors and electricians with whom they contract. Government agencies may disclose records between themselves if the agencies would be otherwise permitted to obtain that information.
L&I must add staff to the Fraud Audit Infraction and Revenue contractor fraud team and both L&I and the Employment Security Department must hire additional auditors. If funds are available, funding must be dedicated to the Office of the Attorney General for contractor compliance cases.

An expanded social marketing campaign must be created to warn consumers of the risks and potential consequences of hiring unregistered contractors.

A pilot project must be established between L&I and local jurisdictions to explore ways to improve the collection and sharing of building permit information.

The term of the Task Force is extended to December 31, 2008.
