Sec. 23. Section 45, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.08.420 are each amended to read as follows:

The board of directors of a corporation may, from time to time, declare and the corporation may pay dividends on its outstanding shares in cash, property, or its own shares, except when the corporation is insolvent or when the payment thereof would render the corporation insolvent or when the declaration or payment thereof would be contrary to any restrictions contained in the articles of incorporation, subject to the following provisions:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, dividends may be declared and paid in cash or property only out of:

(a) the unreserved and unrestricted earned surplus of the corporation, or (~~out of~~)

(b) the unreserved and unrestricted net earnings of the current fiscal year and the next preceding fiscal year taken as a single period. No (~~such~~) dividend out of unreserved and unrestricted net earnings so computed shall be paid which would reduce the net assets of the corporation below the aggregate preferential amount payable in event of voluntary liquidation to the holders of shares having preferential rights to the assets of the corporation in the event of liquidation.

(2) (~~In the case of a corporation engaged in the business of exploiting natural resources or owning property having a limited life, such as a lease for a term of years, or a patent~~) If the articles of incorporation of a corporation engaged in the business of exploiting natural resources so provide, dividends may be declared and paid in cash out of the depletion reserves, but each such dividend shall be identified as a distribution of such reserves and the amount per share paid from such reserves shall be disclosed to the shareholders receiving the same concurrently with the distribution thereof.

(3) Dividends may be declared and paid in its own treasury shares (~~out of any treasury shares that have been reacquired out of surplus of the corporation~~).

(4) Dividends may be declared and paid in its own authorized but unissued shares out of any unreserved and unrestricted surplus of the corporation upon the following conditions:

(a) If a dividend is payable in its own shares having a par value, such shares shall be issued at not less than the par value thereof and there shall be transferred to stated capital at the time such dividend is paid an amount of surplus (~~at least~~) equal to the aggregate par value of the shares to be issued as a dividend.

(b) If a dividend is payable in its own shares without par value, such shares shall be issued at such stated value as shall be fixed by the board of directors by resolution adopted at the time such dividend is declared, and there shall be transferred to stated capital at the time such dividend is paid an amount of surplus equal to the aggregate stated value so fixed in respect of such shares; and the amount per share so transferred to stated capital shall be disclosed to the shareholders receiving such dividend concurrently with the payment thereof.

(5) No dividend payable in shares of any class shall be paid to the holders of shares of any other class unless the articles of incorporation so provide or such payment is authorized by the affirmative vote or the written consent of the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of the class in which the payment is to be made.

A split-up or division of the issued shares of any class into a greater number of shares of the same class without increasing the stated capital of the corporation shall not be construed to be a share dividend within the meaning of this section.

Sec. 24. Section 48, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.08.450 are each amended to read as follows:

In addition to any other liabilities imposed by law upon directors of a corporation:

(1) Directors of a corporation who vote for or assent to the declaration of any dividend or other distribution of the assets of a corporation to its shareholders contrary to the provisions of this title or contrary to any restrictions contained in the articles of incorporation, shall be jointly and severally liable to the corporation for the amount of such dividend which is paid or the value of such assets which are distributed in excess of the amount of such dividend or distribution which could have been paid or distributed without a violation of the provisions of this title or the restrictions in the articles of incorporation.

(2) Directors of a corporation who vote for or assent to the purchase of its own shares contrary to the provisions of this title shall be jointly and severally liable to the corporation for the amount of consideration paid for such shares which is in excess of the maximum amount which could have been paid therefor without a violation of the provisions of this title.

(3) The directors of a corporation who vote for or assent to any distribution of assets of a corporation to its shareholders during the liquidation of the corporation without the payment and discharge of, or making adequate provision for, all known debts, obligations, and liabilities of the corporation shall be jointly and severally liable to the corporation for the value of such assets which are distributed, to the extent that such debts, obligations, and liabilities of the corporation are not thereafter paid and discharged.

~~((5) If a corporation shall commence business before it has received at least five hundred dollars as consideration for the issuance of shares, the directors who assent thereto shall be jointly and severally liable to the corporation for such part of five hundred dollars as shall not have been received before commencing business, but such liability shall be terminated when the corporation has actually received five hundred dollars as consideration for the issuance of shares.))~~

A director of a corporation who is present at a meeting of its board of directors at which action on any corporate matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action taken unless his dissent shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting or unless he shall file his written dissent to such action with the person acting as the secretary of the meeting before the adjournment thereof or shall forward such dissent by registered mail to the secretary of the corporation immediately after the adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent shall not apply to a director who voted in favor of such action.

A director shall not be liable under subsections (1), (2), or (3) of this section if he relied and acted in good faith upon financial statements of the corporation represented to him to be correct by the president or the officer of such corporation having charge of its books of account, or stated in a written report by an independent public or certified public accountant or firm of such accountants fairly to reflect the financial condition of such corporation, nor shall he be so liable if in good faith in determining the amount available for any such dividend or distribution he considered the assets to be of their book value.

Any director against whom a claim shall be asserted under or pursuant to this section for the payment of a dividend or other distribution of assets of a corporation and who shall be held liable thereon, shall be entitled to contribution from the shareholders who accepted or received any such dividend or assets, knowing such dividend or distribution to have been made in violation of this title, in proportion to the amounts received by them respectively.

Any director against whom a claim shall be asserted under or pursuant to this section shall be entitled to contribution from the other directors who voted for or assented to the action upon which the claim is asserted.

Sec. 25. Section 50, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 4, chapter 264, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 23A.08.470 are each amended to read as follows:

The officers of a corporation shall consist of a president, one or more vice presidents as may be prescribed by the bylaws, a secretary, and a treasurer, each of whom shall be elected by the board of directors at such time and in such manner as may be prescribed by the bylaws. Such other officers and assistant officers and agents as may be deemed necessary may be elected or appointed by the board of directors or chosen in such other manner as may be prescribed by the bylaws. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person, except the offices of president and secretary, except that when all of the issued and outstanding stock of the corporation is owned of record by one ((person)) shareholder, ((such)) one person may hold all or any combination of offices.

All officers and agents of the corporation, as between themselves and the corporation, shall have such authority and perform such duties in the management of the corporation as may be provided in the bylaws, or as may be determined by resolution of the board of directors not inconsistent with the bylaws.

Sec. 26. Section 53, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.08.500 are each amended to read as follows:

Each corporation shall keep correct and complete books and records of account and shall keep minutes of the proceedings of its shareholders and board of directors; and shall keep at its registered office or principal place of business, or at the office of its transfer agent or registrar, a record of its shareholders, giving the names and addresses of all shareholders and the number and class of the shares held by each. Any books, records, and minutes may be in written form or any other form capable of being converted into written form within a reasonable time.

Any person who shall have been a ((shareholder)) holder of record ((for)) of shares or of voting trust certificates for shares at least six months immediately preceding his demand or who shall be the holder of record of, or the holder of record of voting trust certificates for, at least five percent of all the outstanding shares of a corporation, upon written demand stating the purpose thereof, shall have the right to examine, in person, or by agent or attorney, at any reasonable time or times, for any proper purpose, its relevant books and records of account, minutes and record of shareholders and to make extracts therefrom.

Any officer or agent who, or a corporation which, shall refuse to allow any such shareholder or holder of voting trust certificates, or his agent or attorney, so to examine and make extracts from its books and records of account, minutes, and record of shareholders, for any proper purpose, shall be liable to such shareholder or holder of voting trust certificates in a penalty of ten percent of the value of the shares owned by such shareholder, or in respect of which such voting trust certificates are issued, in addition to any other damages or remedy afforded him by law. It shall be a defense to any action for penalties under this section that the person suing therefor has within two years sold or offered for sale any list of shareholders or of holders of voting trust certificates for shares of such corporation or any other corporation or has aided or abetted any person in procuring any list of shareholders or of holders of voting trust certificates for any such purpose, or has improperly used any information secured through any prior examination of the books and records of account, or minutes, or record of shareholders or of holders of voting trust certificates for shares of such corporation or any other corporation, or was not acting in good faith or for a proper purpose in making his demand.

Nothing herein contained shall impair the power of any court of competent jurisdiction, upon proof by a shareholder or holder of voting trust certificates of proper purpose, irrespective of the period of time during which such shareholder or holder of voting trust certificates shall have been a shareholder or a holder of record of voting trust certificates, and irrespective of the number of shares held by him or represented by voting trust certificates held by him, to compel the production for examination by such shareholder of the books and records of account, minutes, and record of shareholders of a corporation.

Upon the written request of any shareholder or holder of voting trust certificates of a corporation, the corporation shall mail to such shareholder or holder of voting trust certificates its most recent financial statements showing in reasonable detail its assets and liabilities and the results of its operations.

(3) The certificate of amendment, together with the original of the articles of amendment affixed thereto by the secretary of state, shall be returned to the corporation or its representative.

(4) ~~((Upon the issuance of the certificate of amendment by the secretary of state;))~~ The amendment shall become effective ~~((and the articles of incorporation shall be deemed to be amended accordingly))~~ upon the issuance of the certificate of amendment by the secretary of state, or on such later date, not more than thirty days subsequent to the filing thereof with the secretary of state, as shall be provided for in the articles of amendment, without any action thereon by the directors or shareholders of the corporation and with the same effect as if the amendments had been adopted by unanimous action of the directors and shareholders of the corporation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 35. There is added to chapter 23A.20 RCW a new section to read as follows:

All the issued or all the outstanding shares of one or more classes of any domestic corporation may be acquired through the exchange of all such shares of such class or classes by another domestic or foreign corporation pursuant to a plan of exchange approved in the manner provided in this title.

The board of directors of each corporation shall, by resolution adopted by each board, approve a plan of exchange setting forth:

(1) The name of the corporation the shares of which are proposed to be acquired by exchange and the name of the corporation to acquire the shares of such corporation in the exchange, which is designated in this chapter as the acquiring corporation;

(2) The terms and conditions of the proposed exchange;

(3) The manner and basis of exchanging the shares to be acquired for shares, obligations, or other securities of the acquiring corporation or any other corporation, or, in whole or in part, for cash or other property; and

The procedure authorized by this section shall not be deemed to limit the power of a corporation to acquire all or part of the shares of any class or classes of a corporation through a voluntary exchange or otherwise by agreement with the shareholders.

Sec. 36. Section 75, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.20.030 are each amended to read as follows:

The board of directors of each corporation, (~~upon approving such plan of merger or plan of consolidation~~) in the case of a merger or consolidation, and the board of directors of the corporation the shares of which are to be acquired, in the case of an exchange, upon approving the plan of merger, consolidation, or exchange, shall, by resolution, direct that the plan be submitted to a vote at a meeting of shareholders, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Any class of shares of any such corporation shall be entitled to vote as a class if ~~(the)~~ any such plan (of merger or consolidation, as the case may be,) contains any provision which, if contained in a proposed amendment to articles of incorporation, would entitle such class of shares to vote as a class and, in case of an exchange, if the class is included in the exchange.

After such approval by a vote of the shareholders of each such corporation, and at any time prior to the filing of the articles of merger ~~(or)~~, consolidation, or exchange, the merger ~~(or)~~, consolidation, or exchange may be abandoned pursuant to provisions therefor, if any, set forth in the plan ~~(of merger or consolidation)~~.

(2) A copy of such plan of merger shall be mailed to each shareholder of record of the subsidiary corporation.

(a) The plan of merger;

(b) The number of outstanding shares of each class of the subsidiary corporation and the number of such shares of each class owned by the surviving corporation; and

(5) The certificate of merger, together with the original of the articles of merger affixed thereto by the secretary of state, shall be returned to the surviving corporation or its representative.

Sec. 39. Section 78, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.20.060 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Upon the issuance of the certificate of merger or the certificate of consolidation by the secretary of state, the merger or consolidation shall be effected:))~~ A merger, consolidation, or exchange shall become effective upon the issuance of a certificate of merger, consolidation, or exchange by the secretary of state, or on such later date, not more than thirty days subsequent to the filing thereof with the secretary of state, as shall be provided for in the plan.

When ~~((such))~~ a merger or consolidation has ~~((been effected))~~ become effective:

(1) The several corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation shall be a single corporation, which, in the case of a merger, shall be that corporation designated in the plan of merger as the surviving corporation, and, in the case of a consolidation, shall be the new corporation provided for in the plan of consolidation.

(2) The separate existence of all corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation, except the surviving or new corporation, shall cease.

(3) Such surviving or new corporation shall have all the rights, privileges, immunities and powers and shall be subject to all the duties and liabilities of a corporation organized under this title.

When a merger, consolidation, or exchange has become effective, the shares of the corporation or corporations party to the plan that are, under the terms of the plan, to be converted or exchanged, shall cease to exist, in the case of a merger or consolidation, or be deemed to be exchanged in the case of an exchange, and the holders of the shares shall thereafter be entitled only to the shares, obligations, other securities, cash, or other property into which they shall have been converted or for which they shall have been exchanged, in accordance with the plan, subject to any rights under RCW 23A.24.030.

Sec. 40. Section 79, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.20.070 are each amended to read as follows:

One or more foreign corporations and one or more domestic corporations may be merged or consolidated or participate in an exchange in the following manner, if such merger ((~~or~~)), consolidation, or exchange is permitted by the laws of the state under which each such foreign corporation is organized:

(1) Each domestic corporation shall comply with the provisions of this title with respect to the merger ((~~or~~)), consolidation, or exchange, as the case may be, of domestic corporations and each foreign corporation shall comply with the applicable provisions of the laws of the state under which it is organized.

(2) If the surviving or new corporation(~~(, as the case may be,))~~ in a merger or consolidation is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, it shall comply with the provisions of this title with respect to foreign corporations if it is to transact business in this state, and in every case it shall file with the secretary of state of this state:

(a) An agreement that it may be served with process in this state in any proceeding for the enforcement of any obligation of any domestic corporation which is a party to such merger or consolidation and in any proceeding for the enforcement of the rights of a dissenting shareholder of any such domestic corporation against the surviving or new corporation;

(b) An irrevocable appointment of the secretary of state of this state as its agent to accept service of process in any such proceeding; and

(c) An agreement that it will promptly pay to the dissenting shareholders of any such domestic corporation the amount, if any, to which they shall be entitled under the provisions of this title with respect to the rights of dissenting shareholders.

The effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic corporations, if the surviving or new corporation is to be governed by the laws of this state. If the surviving or new corporation is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, the effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic corporations except insofar as the laws of such other state provide otherwise.

(3) At any time prior to the ((filing)) effective date of the articles of merger ((~~or~~)), consolidation, or exchange, the merger ((~~or~~)), consolidation, or exchange, may be abandoned pursuant to provision((s)) therefor, if any, set forth in the plan of merger ((~~or~~)), consolidation or exchange. In the event the merger, consolidation, or exchange is abandoned, the parties thereto shall execute a notice of abandonment in triplicate by the respective presidents or vice presidents and by the secretaries or assistant secretaries, and verified by an officer for each corporation signing the notice. If the secretary of state finds the notice conforms to law, he shall:

(a) Endorse on each of the originals the word "Filed" and the month, day, and year of filing thereof;

(b) File one of the triplicate originals in his office; and

(c) Issue the other triplicate originals to the respective parties or their representatives.

Sec. 41. Section 80, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.24.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets of a corporation in the usual and regular course of its business and the mortgage or pledge of any or all property and assets of a corporation whether or not in the usual and regular course of business may be made upon such terms and conditions and for such consideration, which may consist in whole or in part of money or property, real or personal, including shares, obligations, or other securities of any other corporation, domestic or foreign, as shall be authorized by its board of directors; and in any such case no authorization or consent of the shareholders shall be required.

Sec. 42. Section 81, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.24.020 are each amended to read as follows:

A sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets, with or without the good will, of a corporation, if not in the usual and regular course of its business, may be made upon such terms and conditions and for such consideration, which may consist in whole or in part of money or property, real or personal, including shares, obligations, or other securities of any other corporation, domestic or foreign, as may be authorized in the following manner:

(1) The board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending such sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition and directing the submission thereof to a vote at a meeting of shareholders, which may be either an annual or a special meeting.

(2) Written notice shall be given to each shareholder of record, whether or not entitled to vote at such meeting, not less than twenty days before such meeting, in the manner provided in this title for the giving of notice of meetings of shareholders, and, whether the meeting be an annual or a special meeting, shall state that the purpose, or one of the purposes is to consider the proposed sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition.

(3) At such meeting the shareholders may authorize such sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition and may fix, or may authorize the board of directors to fix, any or all of the terms and conditions thereof and the consideration to be received by the corporation therefor. Such authorization shall require the affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds of the shares of the corporation entitled to vote thereon, unless any class of shares is entitled to vote thereon as a class, in which event such authorization shall require the affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds of the shares of each class of shares entitled to vote as a class thereon and of the total shares entitled to vote thereon.

(4) After such authorization by a vote of shareholders, the board of directors nevertheless, in its discretion, may abandon such sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of assets, subject to the rights of third parties under any contracts relating thereto, without further action or approval by shareholders.

Sec. 43. Section 82, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.24.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Any shareholder of a corporation shall have the right to dissent from any of the following corporate actions:

(1) Any plan of merger or consolidation to which the corporation is a party; or

(3) Any plan of exchange to which the corporation is a party as the corporation the shares of which are to be acquired.

A shareholder may dissent as to less than all of the shares registered in his name. In that event, his rights shall be determined as if the shares as to which he has dissented and his other shares were registered in the names of different shareholders.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to the shareholders of the surviving corporation in a merger (~~if such corporation is on the date of the filing of the articles of merger the owner of all the outstanding shares of the other corporations, domestic or foreign, which are parties to the merger, or~~) if a vote of the shareholders of such corporation is not necessary to authorize such merger.

Sec. 44. Section 83, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.24.040 are each amended to read as follows:

Any shareholder electing to exercise such right of dissent shall file with the corporation, prior to or at the meeting of shareholders at which such proposed corporate action is submitted to a vote, a written objection to such proposed corporate action. If such proposed corporate action be approved by the required vote and such shareholder shall not have voted in favor thereof, such shareholder may, within ten days after the date on which the vote was taken, or if a corporation is to be merged without a vote of its shareholders into another corporation, any other shareholders may, within fifteen days after the plan of such merger shall have been mailed to such shareholders, make written demand on the corporation, or, in the case of a merger or consolidation, on the surviving or new corporation, domestic or foreign, for payment of the fair value of such shareholder's shares, and, if such proposed corporate action is effected, such corporation shall pay to such shareholder, upon surrender of the certificate or certificates representing such shares, the fair value thereof as of the day prior to the date on which the vote was taken approving the proposed corporate action, excluding any appreciation or depreciation in anticipation of such corporate action. Any shareholder failing to make demand within the applicable ten day or fifteen day period shall be bound by the terms of the proposed corporate action. Any shareholder making such demand shall thereafter be entitled only to payment as in this section provided and shall not be entitled to vote or to exercise any other rights of a shareholder.

No such demand shall be withdrawn unless the corporation shall consent thereto. The right of such shareholder to be paid the fair value of his shares shall cease and his status as a shareholder shall be restored, without prejudice to any corporate proceedings which may have been taken during the interim, if:

- (1) Such demand shall be withdrawn upon consent; or
- (2) The proposed corporate action shall be abandoned or rescinded or the shareholders shall revoke the authority to effect such action; or
- (3) In the case of a merger, on the date of the filing of the articles of merger the surviving corporation is the owner of all the outstanding shares of the other corporations, domestic and foreign, that are parties to the merger; or
- (4) No demand or petition for the determination of fair value by a court shall have been made or filed within the time provided by this section; or
- (5) A court of competent jurisdiction shall determine that such shareholder is not entitled to the relief provided by this section.

Within ten days after such corporate action is effected, the corporation, or, in the case of a merger or consolidation, the surviving or new corporation, domestic or foreign, shall give written notice thereof to each dissenting shareholder who has made demand as herein provided, and shall make a written offer to each such shareholder to pay for such shares at a specified price deemed by such corporation to be the fair value thereof. Such notice and offer shall be accompanied by a balance sheet of the corporation the shares of which the dissenting shareholder holds, as of the latest available date and not more than twelve months prior to the making of such offer, and a profit and loss statement of such corporation for the twelve months' period ended on the date of such balance sheet.

If within thirty days after the date on which such corporate action was effected the fair value of such shares is agreed upon between any such dissenting shareholder and the corporation, payment therefor shall be made within ninety days after the date on which such corporate action was effected, upon surrender of the certificate or certificates representing such shares. Upon payment of the agreed value the dissenting shareholder shall cease to have any interest in such shares.

If within such period of thirty days a dissenting shareholder and the corporation do not so agree, then the corporation, within thirty days after receipt of written demand from any dissenting shareholder given within sixty days after the date on which such corporate action was effected, shall, or at its election at any time within such period of sixty days may, file a petition in any court of competent jurisdiction in the county in this state where the registered office of the corporation is located praying that the fair value of such shares be found and determined. If, in the case of a merger or consolidation, the surviving or new corporation is a foreign corporation without a registered office in this state, such petition shall be filed in the county where the registered office of the domestic corporation was last located. If the corporation shall fail to institute the proceeding as herein provided, any dissenting shareholder may do so in the name of the corporation. All dissenting shareholders, wherever residing, shall be made parties to the proceeding as an action against their shares quasi in rem. A copy of the petition shall be served on each dissenting shareholder who is a resident of this state and shall be served by registered or certified mail on each dissenting shareholder who is a nonresident. Service on nonresidents shall also be made by publication as provided by law. The jurisdiction of the court shall be plenary and exclusive. All shareholders who are parties to the proceeding shall be entitled to judgment against the corporation for the amount of the fair value of their shares. The court may, if it so elects, appoint one or more persons as appraisers to receive evidence and recommend a decision on the question of fair value. The appraisers shall have such power and authority as shall be specified in the order of their appointment or an amendment thereof. The judgment shall be payable only upon and concurrently with the surrender to the corporation of the certificate or certificates representing such shares. Upon payment of the judgment, the dissenting shareholder shall cease to have any interest in such shares.

The judgment shall include an allowance for interest at such rate as the court may find to be fair and equitable in all the circumstances, from the date on which the vote was taken on the proposed corporate action to the date of payment.

The costs and expenses of any such proceeding shall be determined by the court and shall be assessed against the corporation, but all or any part of such costs and expenses may be apportioned and assessed as the court may deem equitable against any or all of the dissenting shareholders who are parties to the proceeding to whom the corporation shall have made an offer to pay for the shares if the court shall find that the action of such shareholders in failing to accept such offer was arbitrary or vexatious or not in good faith. Such expenses shall include reasonable compensation for and reasonable expenses of the appraisers, but shall exclude the fees and expenses of counsel for and experts employed by any party; but if the fair value of the shares as determined materially exceeds the amount which the corporation offered to pay therefor, or if no offer was made, the court in its discretion may award to any shareholder who is a party to the proceeding such sum as the court may determine to be reasonable compensation to any expert or experts employed by the shareholder in the proceeding.

Within twenty days after demanding payment for his shares, each shareholder demanding payment shall submit the certificate or certificates representing his shares to the corporation for notation thereon that such demand has been made. His failure to do so shall, at the option of the corporation, terminate his rights under this section unless a court of competent jurisdiction, for good and sufficient cause shown, shall otherwise direct. If shares represented by a certificate on which notation has been so made shall be transferred, each new certificate issued therefor shall bear similar notation, together with the name of the original dissenting holder of such shares, and a transferee of such shares shall acquire by such transfer no rights in the corporation other than those which the original dissenting shareholder had after making demand for payment of the fair value thereof.

Shares acquired by a corporation pursuant to payment of the agreed value therefor or to payment of the judgment entered therefor, as in this section provided, may be held and disposed of by such corporation as in the case of other treasury shares, except that, in the case of a merger or consolidation, they may be held and disposed of as the plan of merger or consolidation may otherwise provide.

Sec. 45. Section 84, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 14, chapter 193, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 23A.28.010 are each amended to read as follows:

A corporation which has not commenced business and which has not issued any shares, may be voluntarily dissolved by its incorporators at any time (~~within two years after the date of the issuance of its certificate of incorporation,~~) in the following manner:

(1) Articles of dissolution shall be executed in duplicate by a majority of the incorporators, and verified by them, and shall set forth:

(a) The name of the corporation.

(b) The date of issuance of its certificate of incorporation.

(c) That none of its shares has been issued.

(2) Duplicate originals of the articles of dissolution shall be delivered to the secretary of state. If the secretary of state finds that the articles of dissolution conform to law, he shall, when all fees have been paid as in this title prescribed:

(a) Endorse on each of such originals the word "Filed," and the month, day, and year of the filing thereof.

(b) File one of such originals in his office.

(c) Issue a certificate of dissolution to which he shall affix the other original.

The certificate of dissolution, together with the duplicate original of the articles of dissolution affixed thereto by the secretary of state, shall be returned to the incorporators or their representatives. Upon the issuance of such certificate of dissolution by the secretary of state, the existence of the corporation shall cease.

Sec. 46. Section 109, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.32.010 are each amended to read as follows:

No foreign corporation shall have the right to transact business in this state until it shall have procured a certificate of authority so to do from the secretary of state. No foreign corporation shall be entitled to procure a certificate of authority under this title to transact in this state any business which a corporation organized under this title is not permitted to transact. A foreign corporation shall not be denied a certificate of authority by reason of the fact that the laws of the state or country under which such corporation is organized governing its organization and internal affairs differ from the laws of this state, and nothing in this title contained shall be construed to authorize this state to regulate the organization or the internal affairs of such corporation.

Without excluding other activities which may not constitute transacting business in this state, a foreign corporation shall not be considered to be transacting business in this state, for the purposes of this title, by reason of carrying on in this state any one or more of the following activities:

(7) Creating (~~evidences of debt, mortgages or liens on~~) as borrower or lender, or acquiring, indebtedness or mortgages or other security interests in real or personal property.

(8) Securing or collecting debts or enforcing any rights in property securing the same.

(9) Transacting any business in interstate commerce.

(10) Conducting an isolated transaction completed within a period of thirty days and not in the course of a number of repeated transactions of like nature.

Sec. 47. Section 111, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 6, chapter 190, Laws of 1967 and RCW 23A.32.030 are each amended to read as follows:

No certificate of authority shall be issued to a foreign corporation unless the corporate name of such corporation:

(1) Shall contain the word "corporation," "company," "incorporated," or "limited," or shall contain an abbreviation of one of such words, or such corporation shall, for use in this state, add at the end of its name one of such words or an abbreviation thereof.

(2) Shall not contain any word or phrase which indicates or implies that it is organized for any purpose other than one or more of the purposes contained in its articles of incorporation or that it is authorized or empowered to conduct the business of banking or insurance.

(3) Shall not be the same as, or deceptively similar to, the name of any domestic corporation existing under the laws of this state or any foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state, or a name the exclusive right to which is, at the time, reserved in the manner provided in this title, or the name of a corporation which has in effect a registration of its name as provided in this title(~~(-PROVIDED, That a foreign corporation which is precluded from using its corporate name for one of the above reasons may adopt an assumed name under which it may conduct its business in this state)~~), except that this provision shall not apply if the foreign corporation applying for a certificate of authority files with the secretary of state any one of the following:

(c) A certified copy of a final decree of a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the prior right of the foreign corporation to the use of the name in this state.

Sec. 48. Section 112, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.32.040 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever a foreign corporation which is authorized to transact business in this state shall change its name to one under which a certificate of authority would not be granted to it on application therefor, the certificate of authority of such corporation shall be suspended and it shall not thereafter transact any business in this state until it has changed its name to a name which is available to it under the laws of this state or has otherwise complied with the provisions of this title.

Sec. 49. Section 113, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 1, chapter 22, Laws of 1971 and RCW 23A.32.050 are each amended to read as follows:

(8) A statement that a registered agent has been appointed and the name and address of such agent, and that a registered office exists and the address of such registered office is identical to that of the registered agent.

(9) Such additional information as may be necessary or appropriate in order to enable the secretary of state to determine whether such corporation is entitled to a certificate of authority to transact business in this state and to determine and assess the fees payable as in this title prescribed.

Such application shall be made on forms prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state and shall be executed in duplicate by the corporation by its president or a vice president and by its secretary or an assistant secretary, and verified by one of the officers signing such application.

Such application shall be accompanied by a certificate of good standing to be certified to by the proper officer of the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated.

Sec. 50. Section 114, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 1, chapter 89, Laws of 1973 and RCW 23A.32.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(2) File in his office one of such duplicate originals of the application.

(3) Issue a certificate of authority to transact business in this state to which he shall affix the other duplicate original application.

The certificate of authority, together with the duplicate original of the application affixed thereto by the secretary of state, shall be returned to the corporation or its representative.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 51. There is added to chapter 23A.32 RCW a new section to read as follows:

A foreign corporation doing an intrastate business or seeking to do an intrastate business in the state of Washington shall qualify so to do in the manner prescribed in this title and shall pay for the privilege of so doing the filing and license fees prescribed in this title for domestic corporations, including the same fees as are prescribed in chapter 23A.40 RCW for the filing of articles of incorporation of a domestic corporation. The fees are to be computed upon the portion of capital stock of such corporation represented or to be represented in the state of Washington, to be ascertained by comparing the value in money of its entire property and capital with the value in money of its property and capital in, or to be brought into, and used in this state. Any corporation that employs an increased amount of its capital stock within the state shall pay fees at the same rate upon such increase, and whenever such increase is made such corporation shall file with the secretary of state, a statement showing the amount of such increase. Before any foreign corporation shall be authorized to do intrastate business in the state of Washington it shall file with the secretary of state upon a blank form to be furnished for that purpose under the oath of its president, secretary, treasurer, superintendent or managing agent in this state, a statement showing the following facts:

(1) The number of shares of capital stock of the company and the par value of each share, and if such shares have no par value, then the value of the assets represented by nonpar shares.

(2) The portion of the capital stock of the company which is represented and/or to be represented, employed and/or to be employed in its business transacted or to be transacted in the state of Washington.

(3) The value of the property in or to be brought into, and the amount of capital to be used by the company in the state of Washington and the value of the property and capital owned and/or used by the company outside of the state of Washington.

(4) Such other facts as the secretary of state may require.

From the facts thus reported, and such other additional information as the secretary of state may require, the secretary of state shall determine the amount of capital or the proportionate amount of the capital stock of the company represented by its property and business in the state of Washington and upon which the fees prescribed herein are payable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 52. There is added to chapter 23A.32 RCW a new section to read as follows:

All foreign corporations doing intrastate business, or hereafter seeking to do intrastate business in this state shall pay for the privilege of doing such intrastate business in this state the same fees as are prescribed for domestic corporations for annual license fees. Such fees shall be computed upon the proportion of the capital stock represented or to be represented by its property and business in this state to be ascertained by comparing the entire volume of business with the volume of intrastate business in this state. Any such corporation that shall employ an increased amount of its capital stock within this state shall pay license fees upon such increase in the same proportion as provided for payment of license fees by domestic corporations. Such corporations shall file with the secretary of state a statement showing the amount of such increase and shall forthwith pay to the secretary of state the increased license fee brought about by such increased use of capital represented by its property and business in this state. All fees shall be paid on or before the first day of July of each and every year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 53. There is added to chapter 23A.32 RCW a new section to read as follows:

There is hereby imposed and levied on the license and filing fees on foreign corporations as prescribed by sections 51 and 52 of this act, a surtax of twenty-five percent to be collected from those corporations at the time they pay those license and filing fees. All fees collected in compliance with this section shall be deposited in the state general fund.

Sec. 54. Section 117, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.32.090 are each amended to read as follows:

A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state may change its registered office or change its registered agent, or both, upon filing in the office of the secretary of state a ~~((certificate))~~ statement setting forth:

- (1) The name of the corporation.
- (2) The address of its then registered office.
- (3) If the address of its registered office be changed, the address to which the registered office is to be changed.
- (4) The name of its then registered agent.
- (5) If its registered agent be changed, the name of its successor registered agent.
- (6) That the address of its registered office and the address of the business office of its registered agent, as changed, will be identical.
- (7) That such change was authorized by resolution duly adopted by its board of directors.

Such statement shall be executed in duplicate by the corporation by its president or a vice president, and verified by him, and delivered to the secretary of state. If the secretary of state finds that such statement conforms to the provisions of this title, he shall ~~((file such statement in his office, and upon such filing the))~~ endorse on such duplicate originals the word "Filed," and the month, day, and year of the filing thereof, file one original in his office, and return the other original to the corporation or its representative. The change of address of the registered office, or the appointment of a new registered agent, or both, as the case may be, shall become effective upon filing unless a later date is specified.

Any registered agent of a foreign corporation may resign as such agent upon filing a written notice thereof, executed in duplicate, with the secretary of state, who shall forthwith mail a copy thereof to the corporation at its principal office in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated. The appointment of such agent shall terminate upon the expiration of thirty days after receipt of such notice by the secretary of state.

If a registered agent changes his or its business address to another place within the same county, he or it may change such address and the address of the registered office of any corporation of which he or it is a registered agent by filing a statement as required by this section, except that it need be signed only by the registered agent, it need not be responsive to subsections (5) or (7) of this section, and it must recite that a copy of the statement has been mailed to the corporation.

Sec. 55. Section 122, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.32.140 are each amended to read as follows:

A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state may withdraw from this state upon procuring from the secretary of state a certificate of withdrawal. The activities authorized by RCW 23A.36.010 and 23A.36.020, by such non-admitted organizations shall not constitute (~~"conducting business," "carrying on business,"~~) "transacting business(~~(," or "doing business")~~)" within the meaning of chapter 23A.32 RCW.

Sec. 57. Section 4, chapter 92, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 36, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 23A.40.075 are each amended to read as follows:

The annual license fee required by RCW 23A.40.060, as now or hereafter amended, and (~~(RCW 23A.40.140)~~) section 52 of this 1979 act is a tax on the privilege of doing business as a corporation in the state of Washington. No corporation shall do business in this state without first having paid its annual license fee, except as provided in RCW 23A.36.010 and 23A.36.020.

Failure of the corporation to pay its annual license fees shall not derogate from the rights of its creditors, or prevent the corporation from being sued and from defending lawsuits, nor shall it release the corporation from any of the duties or liabilities of a corporation under law.

Every domestic corporation which shall fail for three consecutive years to acquire an annual license for the privilege of doing business in this state shall cease to exist as a corporation on the third anniversary of the date it was last licensed to do business in this state. restoration fee which shall include a sum equivalent to the amount of annual license fees the corporation would have paid had it continuously maintained its privilege to do business plus an additional fee equivalent to one percent per month or fraction thereof computed upon each annual license fee from the time it would have been paid had the corporation maintained its privilege to do business to the date when the corporation restored its privilege to do business: PROVIDED, That the minimum additional license fee due under this section shall be two dollars and fifty cents. A corporation which has ceased to exist may reinstate within two years by paying all fees specified above plus a reinstatement fee of ten dollars and upon doing so shall be reinstated and again be entitled to do business, and may use its former corporate name if that name is not then in use by a corporation then in existence. If the former name is not available, the corporation may file amended articles to adopt a new name simultaneous with reinstatement. Upon payment of the above fees, restoration and reinstatement of the privilege to do business shall be effective, and the corporation shall have all the rights and privileges it would have possessed had it continually maintained its privilege to do business.

When any domestic corporation first fails to pay its annual license fee when due, the secretary of state shall, in that year only, mail to the corporation at its registered office, by first class mail, a notice that if it does not pay its annual license fee it will no longer have the privilege of doing business in this state, and that the corporation's privilege may be restored as provided in this section, and the notice shall contain a reminder that, if the privilege is not restored for three consecutive years, the existence of the corporation shall cease without further notice.

Sec. 58. Section 1, chapter 2, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 23A.40.150 are each amended to read as follows:

There is hereby imposed and levied on the license and filing fees on domestic ((and foreign)) corporations as prescribed by RCW 23A.40.040(;) and 23A.40.060(~~(, 23A.40.130 and 23A.40.140)~~) a surtax of twenty-five percent to be collected from those corporations at the time they pay those license and filing fees. All fees collected in compliance with this section shall be deposited in the state general fund.

Sec. 59. Section 165, chapter 53, Laws of 1965 and RCW 23A.98.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Nothing contained in this title shall be construed as an impairment of any obligation of the state as evidenced by bonds held for any purpose, and subsections 2 and 13 of RCW 23A.40.020, subsections 1 and 2 of RCW 23A.40.030, and RCW 23A.40.040, 23A.40.050, 23A.40.060, 23A.40.070, 23A.40.080, 23A.40.090, (~~(23A.40.130 and 23A.40.140)~~) sections 51 and 52 of this 1979 act shall be deemed to be a continuation of chapter 70, Laws of 1937, as amended, for the purpose of payment of:

(1) world's fair bonds authorized by chapter 174, Laws of 1957 as amended by chapter 152, Laws of 1961, and

On motion of Senator Peterson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 178 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, I am looking at the title of this act and is tansy ragwort listed as relating to forests and forest products? It is an awfully big weed, if it is."

Senator Bottiger: "Well, Senator Rasmussen, it is an act relating to forest and forest products and it is talking about land management. One of the problems is spraying out a weed. This is one problem. Obviously, there are others. When you put in some of the beetle, the infestation controls there is no way to tell where one property owner starts with another as far as an airplane flying over, so I would imagine they do it on an acreage basis, a certain percentage of the area sprayed, if you were talking about that kind of thing.

"Now tansy ragwort spreads through forest lands, spreads very fast and very effectively in the shaded areas along a cut, especially in new cut lands and those of us that were watching for a way to solve some of this problem are hoping this bill passes."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, Engrossed House Bill No. 178 was ordered held for consideration following Substitute House Bill No. 82 on today's second reading calendar.

Voting yea: Senators Bausch, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Conner, Day, Donohue, Fleming, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Gould, Guess, Hansen, Hayner, Henry, Jones, Lee, Lewis, Lysen, Marsh, Matson, McDermott, Moore, Morrison, Newschwander, North, Odegaard, Peterson, Pullen, Quigg, Rasmussen, Ridder, Scott, Sellar, Shinpoch, Talley, Talmadge, Van Hollebeke, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Walgren, Wanamaker, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, Woody—48.

Excused: Senator Keefe—1.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 796, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 486, by Committee on Ecology (originally sponsored by Representatives Barr, Fancher and Hughes):

Authorizing sale of certain second class shorelands by the state.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Clarke, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 10, after "interest" insert ": PROVIDED, That the purpose of this section is to remove the prohibition contained in RCW 79.01.470 regarding the sale of second class shorelands to abutting owners, whose uplands front upon the shorelands. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to otherwise affect the rights of interested parties relating to public or private ownership of shorelands within the state."

On motion of Senator Wilson, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 486, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talley: "Senator Clarke, doesn't this open this thing broad enough so to include tidelands and saltwater?"

Senator Clarke: "No, I don't see how it could. The bill itself is restricted to inland lakes."

Senator Talley: "But, this would open it wide open, wouldn't it?"

Senator Clarke: "No, all that this amendment does is to make plain that the bill shall not be construed to affect the rights of the parties other than to permit this sale and this sale is restricted to the sale of second class shorelands. I do not see how it could be possibly construed to in any way extend to, or affect, tidelands."

Senator Talley: "What do you call a second class shoreland?"

Senator Clarke: "Second class shorelands are, as I recall it, has to do with inland lakes. They are not tidelands and I think that they relate to that property which is between the line of normal high water and navigability."

Senator Talley: "I think it is a little broader than that, Senator Clarke, it said they cannot be within two miles of a city, or something like that? The city limits."

Senator Clarke: "I believe that is first class shorelands."

Senator Talley: "No, that is second class. First class is within two miles of the city limits. I do not know what you are doing with this amendment, but it seems awfully broad."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WILSON

Senator Wilson: "Mr. President, and Senator Talley, the bill relates only to second class shorelands, which are those pertaining to inland lakes and the effect of Senator Clarke's amendment is simply to say that other than the principle purpose of the bill that nothing else regarding the status of any shorelands in the state would be affected or modified."

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 82, by Committee on Financial Institutions (originally sponsored by Representatives Eng, Lux and Wilson):

Regulating cemetery prearrangement contracts.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Gould, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 82 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Senator Gould, I have not had a chance to read the bill in its present form. Could you give us a little bit more information on the other restrictions that have been written into it?"

Senator Gould: "Certainly. One of the problems that developed out of, for instance, the Floral Hills fiasco, as we call it in our area, was that the money which was paid into pre-arrangement contracts was not held in trust — in a trust account until you had fifty percented. The law allows that fifty percent can be used by the operator first and then the last fifty percent would be held in trust. The option now is that a cemetery authority, an operator, can do that. But if they decide not to put the first fifty percent into a trust account, they must have a bond, a surety bond. Also, another part of this is that the cemetery board has the authority to request a financial report annually from a cemetery. I mean, a cemetery board has the authority to request a financial report annually. Those are two of the major portions of it."

Debate ensued.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 729, by Committee on State Government (originally sponsored by Representatives Douthwaite, Taller, Newhouse, Blair, Keller, Salatino and Lux) (by State Employees' Insurance Board request):

Modifying the laws on panel medicine plans for state employees.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 27, 1979.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 729, modifying the laws on panel medicine plans for state employees, (reported by Committee on State Government):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 4, line 5, after "contribution" strike "shall" and insert "may".

On page 4, after line 17, strike all of the material down to and including "coverage." on line 21.

Renumber the remaining subsections consecutively.

Signed by: Senators Rasmussen, Chairman; Day, Gallagher, Gould, McDermott, Wanamaker.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the committee amendment to page 4, line 5.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "Senator Rasmussen, it is my understanding that by striking 'shall' and inserting 'may' that this in no way is legislative intent that we pay more for one plan than for another."

Senator Rasmussen: "That is correct. It would allow that cost to be absorbed in the present fund though if they so desired."

The motion by Senator Rasmussen carried and the committee amendment to page 4, line 5 was adopted.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the committee amendment to page 4, following line 17 was adopted.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 729, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Donohue: "Senator Rasmussen, underlined language on page 4, top of the page starting with line 2, where it says 'unless the board approves a panel medicine plan at a subscription rate, etc., an employee contribution shall be authorized at an amount equal to such excess'. Are we opening the door where they are going to be coming back to us eventually and wanting larger appropriations that relates to medical care? Are we opening the door far beyond. . . ."

Senator Rasmussen: "No, Senator Donohue, if you read that line five 'an employee contribution'."

Senator Donohue: "I understand that, Senator, and that is what I am concerned about."

Senator Rasmussen: "We have 'an employee contribution' would be what the individual authorized rather than what we as a state authorize the amount we will spend for health care."

Senator Donohue: "But, when you historically, isn't it true that when employees have to contribute more that they usually come back to the legislature and ask the legislature to pick up the cost?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Donohue, you are absolutely correct and that is why they have the legislature here. It says that they will spend only so much money."

Senator Donohue: "To historically agree with the state employees union when they come before us, Senator."

Senator Rasmussen: "I would assume that everybody asks for everything they can get and it is up to us to say what we are going to give you is fair but there is no requirement in this bill that you have to exceed any amount that the legislature appropriates. Be of good cheer."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Peterson, how much does it cost to go out for deep sea fishing on these charter boats?"

Senator Peterson: "I did not go this last year, but I think it is about twenty-two dollars to twenty-five dollars."

Senator Guess: "If there was a surplus of boats, or where you really had competition in it, couldn't that price come down if a person could carry two more people instead of now carrying six, he could carry eight? Couldn't he afford to cut their price?"

Senator Peterson: "That has not been the case, Senator. Before we had a moratorium, when I started fishing at Westport I paid twelve dollars a day and it subsequently has gone up and up and up. The boats increased to the point to where to take the pressure off the fisheries, that was the original intent of the moratorium and we are talking about conservation. But, as far as lowering the price to the consumer, I would say there is very little likelihood."

Senator Guess: "Well, Senator Peterson, maybe I didn't get the reason for the moratorium. Is it because they want to keep from catching fish?"

Senator Peterson: "The reason for the moratorium, initially when we passed it, was the same reason that we passed the moratorium on commercial salmon licenses. We brought the charter boat people in under the same category, the same act. That is the reason, conservation."

Senator Guess: "Conservation, oh, we really do not care what happens to the charter boat owner, whether he can make it or not?"

Senator Peterson: "Yes, we care, of course we care, that is one of the reasons that that green bill is before you and the charter boat people fully support this concept."

(1) Prior to the adoption, amendment, or repeal of any rule, each agency shall:

(a) File notice thereof with the code reviser in accordance with RCW 34.08.020(1) for publication in the state register, and with the secretary of the senate, the chief clerk of the house of representatives, and the appropriate review committee, and mail such notice to all persons who have made timely request of the agency for advance notice of its rule-making proceedings. Such notice shall also include (i) reference to the authority under which the rule is proposed, (ii) a statement of either the terms or substance of the proposed rule or a description of the subjects and issues involved, and (iii) the time when, the place where, and the manner in which interested persons may present their views thereon;

(b) Furnish to the legislature, along with the notice required by subsection (1)(a) of this section, a statement of the reasons supporting the proposed action;

(c) Afford all interested persons reasonable opportunity to submit data, views, or arguments, orally or in writing. In case of substantive rules, opportunity for oral hearing must be granted if requested by twenty-five persons, by a governmental subdivision or agency, by the appropriate review committee, or by an association having not less than twenty-five members.

(2) The agency shall consider fully all written and oral submissions respecting the proposed rule including those addressing the question of whether the proposed rule is within the intent of the legislature as expressed by the statute which the rule implements. Upon adoption of a rule, the agency, if requested to do so by an interested person either prior to adoption or within thirty days thereafter, shall issue a concise statement of the principal reasons for and against its adoption, incorporating therein its reasons for overruling the considerations urged against its adoption.

~~((2))~~ (3) No proceeding (~~shall~~) may be held on any rule until twenty days have passed from the distribution date of the register in which notice thereof was contained. The code reviser shall make provisions for informing an agency giving notice under subsection (1) of this section of the distribution date of the register in which such notice will be published.

(5) No rule hereafter adopted is valid unless adopted in (~~substantial~~) compliance with this section, (~~or, if~~) unless it is an emergency rule designated as such(~~;~~) and is adopted in (~~substantial~~) compliance with RCW 34.04.030, as now or hereafter amended. In any proceeding a rule cannot be contested on the ground of noncompliance with the procedural requirements of RCW 34.08.020(1), of this section, or of RCW 34.04.030, as now or hereafter amended, after two years have elapsed from the effective date of the rule.

((+)) If the agency finds that immediate adoption or amendment of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observance of the requirements of notice and opportunity to present views on the proposed action would be contrary to the public interest, the agency may dispense with such requirements and adopt the rule or amendment as an emergency rule or amendment. The agency's finding and a ((brief)) detailed statement of the reasons for its finding shall be incorporated in the emergency rule or amendment as filed with the office of the code reviser under RCW 34.04.040 and with the appropriate review committees. An emergency rule or amendment ~~((shall))~~ may not remain in effect for longer than ninety days after filing. This section does not relieve any agency from compliance with any law requiring that its rules be approved by designated persons or bodies before they become effective.

~~((2) The emergency rule published in the register is solely to inform the public of its adoption, and nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the implementation of the rule upon its filing with the code reviser in accordance with RCW 34.04.040(2):))~~

Within thirty days of the receipt of the review committee's notice the agency shall file notice of a hearing on the rule in question with the code reviser and mail notice to all persons who have made timely request of the agency for advance notice of its rule-making proceedings as provided in RCW 34.04.025, as now or hereafter amended. Such notice and statement shall also be provided to the agency by the review committee.

(3) The code reviser shall publish the review committee's notice of objection and statement of the reasons therefor issued pursuant to subsection (1) or (2) of this section in the Washington state register and shall publish in the next supplement and compilation of the Washington Administrative Code a reference to the committee's objection and to the issue of the Washington state register in which the full text thereof appears.

(4) Such notice shall be removed from a rule published in the Washington Administrative Code if a subsequent adjudicatory proceeding determines that the rule is within the intent of the legislature.

(5) In any legal proceeding challenging the validity of a rule for which a review committee notice of objection has been published in the Washington state register the burden of proof shall be on the agency to establish that the rule is within the intent of the legislature.

(6) The legislature may, by concurrent resolution, annul any agency rule. In such concurrent resolution the legislature shall state its objections to the rule. The annulment shall be effective upon the concurrent resolution being filed with the code reviser.

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 6, after line 5, insert the following:

"Sec. 7. Section 1, chapter 56, Laws of 1907 as last amended by section 1, chapter 76, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 2.36.150 are each amended to read as follows:

Trial by jury shall be allowed in criminal cases involving violations of city ordinances commencing January 1, 1972 unless such incorporated city affected by this chapter has made provision therefor prior to January 1, 1972."

Renumber the sections consecutively.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Rasmussen, this is going to increase the county's load for their juries by two and a half times. Now I do not see in this amendment any additional taxing authority for the counties in order that they support this type of an amendment, as meritorious as it is."

Senator Rasmussen: "This is absolutely right, Senator Guess. This will be a county expense. However, the new judges we put on is just as heavy an expense. The jurors are a very important part of the judicial system and there is no question about it that there will be additional cost, yes. At the same time, Senator Guess, you are required to serve on the jury. It is very difficult to get excused unless you have a really horrendous excuse."

Senator Guess: "I grant you that, Senator Rasmussen, but when we indicate to the counties that they shall have another judge, it is usually by forewarning from the bar and from the prosecuting attorney that that judge is going to be needed and the county commissioners have a little leeway in putting that judge on. But this case we are coming here without their knowledge by a floor amendment precipitously hanging onto the counties and each of the thirty-nine counties are not in a financial condition right now to pick up the additional load of the judges we have given them and we pay, you remember, half of the cost of a new judge going on the county roll. But this law will not provide any state funds for mitigating the blow to the counties. I wonder if we are not moving too fast, too far, here?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Are you asking me, Senator Guess?"

Senator Guess: "Yes, sir. Aren't we moving too far and too fast and just up without proper consideration; judicial committee, without the ways and means committee and without having talked to the counties at all, are we saddling them with too much of a burden? Two and a half times, Senator, what it has cost them."

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Guess, my only answer to that can be that my concern is for those people that are required to serve on the jury and the fact that we do want competent people to be able to serve. Now, as far as the cost, this bill does not contain an emergency clause, this becomes effective ninety days after we leave here. And, further, we have no control over the amount of jurors that they use."

Senator Guess: "Well, they are going to use more and more juries because all these laws that we are passing here at the rate of about one a minute, and I would beg the body to take very close scrutiny of the extra costs that we are hanging on the counties."

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Walgren, Substitute House Bill No. 99, as amended, was returned to the Committee on Rules.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 248, by Committee on Constitution, Elections and Governmental Ethics (originally sponsored by Representatives Whiteside, Charnley and Garrett):

Allowing executive sessions for the disposition of real estate.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 28, 1979.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 248, allowing executive sessions for the disposition of real estate (reported by Committee on Local Government):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On line 11, after "security:", insert "to consider"

On line 13, after "price:", insert "to consider"

On line 14, before the comma after "sale", insert "by a port district"

On line 16, after "price:", insert "to consider"

Signed by: Senators Bluechel, Fleming, Moore, Sellar, Talley.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Wilson, the committee amendments to page 11, page 13 and page 16 were considered and adopted simultaneously.

Senator Wilson moved adoption of the committee amendment to page 14.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, my concern is this: The rule (sic) says when publicity regarding such consideration would cause a likelihood of decreased price, they would evidently hold an open meeting then, if it was a likelihood of increasing the price. Is this correct?"

Senator Bottiger: "Well, Senator Rasmussen, if you will look on line 13, there it says 'cause of likelihood of increased price' and the amendatory language also puts in 'the likelihood of a decreased price when they are selling'. When they are purchasing we are worried about an increase because of speculation, when we are selling, we might be worried about a decreased price to the public body. And, in either case, they would be allowed to go into public or into executive session. Senator, however, the amendment before us right now pertains to the question of should this be restricted only to port districts, or should it apply to any governmental unit?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, I guess my concern goes a little further than that. All of these bodies that you speak of have the powers of condemnation and, rather negotiation, they all have the power of condemnation which would go to court and then a fair price would be determined. I am concerned why any of this is needed?"

Senator Bottiger: "Well, Senator, if I were to make a guess, I would tell you that probably two or three percent of all of the property either acquired by a government ever has to go that far as condemnation, that is the final straw. What we are talking about in the original language of the bill, the original existing law, is when a governmental unit decides to negotiate for the purchase or the sale of a piece of property, should they do that in executive session where, if they didn't, there would be a likelihood of an increase or a decrease in the price of what they were buying or selling. The only question before us right now is, should we restrict this only to port districts? I think not."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Odegaard: "Senator Wilson, why should an exception be made then for port districts?"

Senator Wilson: "That's it, Senator, the local government committee in proposing the amendment which is before us was trying to keep things as tight as possible and make the exemptions to the open meeting act as limited as possible and did recommend an amendment limiting it to port districts. However, if the floor amendment is adopted, I would see no reason why this should not apply to all types of districts."

The motion by Senator Wilson failed and the committee amendment to line 14 was not adopted.

Senator Wilson moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, line 26, strike "whether to sell or lease real estate and"

The motion by Senator Wilson carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Wilson, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 248, as amended, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 28, 1979.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 259, enacting the Controlled Substances Therapeutic Research Act (reported by Committee on Social and Health Services):

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Day, what testimony did you have in the committee in regards the beneficial affects of marijuana?"

Senator Day: "Senator Rasmussen, we had all proponents of the bill. There were no opponents of the bill testifying. The testimony was by a number of doctors and others that the, as I said in my statement, the side effects of chemotherapy and radiation and the ill effects of glaucoma were alleviated to some degree, there were indications, by marijuana. And, that the use of marijuana seemed to have less side effects and less danger to the patient than many of the drugs that were presently being used to try to control those side effects. This bill is strictly confined to research and it is very closely controlled and monitored. It is not a bill that in any way legalizes the illicit use of marijuana."

Senator Rasmussen: "Did we have the experts from the University of Washington medical school testifying in favor of?"

Senator Day: "Yes, we did. There was no one testifying against the bill."

Senator Rasmussen: "And, they are going to be the people handling the research, and how wide is this research to be?"

Senator Day: "Well, no, I would say that the research is going to be conducted at the University, but I think it can be conducted under the bill under the controlled circumstances by a physician certified by the American Board of Ophthalmology in the case of glaucoma, a physician certified in the specialty of Oncology, which is related to malignancies or cancer and a physician certified in psychiatry or radiology and it is very carefully and closely confined to the specific circumstance of research, Senator."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Day, this requires a yearly examination. Once you discover the disease, you do not need another examination?"

Senator Day: "Senator, the disease begins sometimes during childhood and could begin after one of the previous examinations. Now, it is not an examination that the bill demands, it is screening. A very simple screening test that will be done probably by the gym teacher who will be trained and that is what the little bit of money in the bill does, it is to train these people to recognize the signs and then they will be sent, directed to someone for an examination if it is indicated. So, every child is not going to have an examination, just a simple screening that just takes a few minutes."

Senator Rasmussen: "The school nurse could do it in many instances."

Senator Day: "The school nurse could do it, she is authorized in the bill."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator Day."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 88, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; excused, 2.

HOUSE BILL NO. 25, by Representatives Knowles, Smith (Rick) and Sherman (by House Committee on Judiciary of the 45th Legislature request):

Defining what persons are lawfully on another's property in cases of liability for dog bites.

The Senate resumed consideration of House Bill No. 25 from earlier today on third reading.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Marsh, the rules were suspended, and House Bill No. 25 was returned to second reading.

Senator Hayner moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Hayner, Marsh, Clarke and Bottiger:

On page 1, line 11, after "situated")" strike the remainder of the act and insert:

"when such person is upon the property of the owner with the express or implied consent of the owner: PROVIDED, That said consent shall not be presumed when the property of the owner is fenced or reasonably posted."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Hayner, we started out debating on the benefit of doorbeller's bill and I would presume that the doorbeller would have some difficulty convincing a court that he had the expressed or implied consent to come doorbelling. Would you have a different thought?"

Senator Hayner: "He might have, it might be a question of fact."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Senator Hayner, as I read this proposed amendment, I am wondering if we are presuming that all owners of dogs then will be liable for the dog bite activity of their dogs unless the property is posted?"

Senator Hayner: "Well, they can show that there was no implied, or expressed consent, in which case they would not be liable."

Senator Woody: "But, if they did post their property then they would definitely be non-liability."

Senator Hayner: "That is right. There would be no expressed or implied consent if they posted their property or had a fence."

Senator Woody: "All right. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: "I think perhaps, at least from my own standpoint, this may need a little further clarification.

"Actually, what I think would be the result of this amendment, and I do support the amendment because I think it is a good middle ground, but I think that in reality the question of consent would still be a matter for jury determination under the facts of the particular case, and this simply says that the consent shall not be presumed when the property of the owner is fenced or reasonably posted. And, you note the words 'reasonably posted', because it is necessary to have some flexibility there in view of the many different kinds of property that might be involved, but it would be up to the jury in the final analysis to determine under proper instructions from the court whether or not in reality the person on the property did have at least the implied consent of the owner, so I think it is as good as we can do with this type of problem."

On motion of Senator Marsh, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 25, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

AFTERNOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 1:30 p.m.

MOTION

Senator Marsh: "Mr. President, I move that all bills considered this morning passed by the Senate be immediately transmitted to the House."

The President: "Senator Marsh has moved that all measures passed by the Senate this morning be immediately transmitted to the House."

Senator Gould: "Having voted on the prevailing side of House Bill 25, I would like to move for reconsideration."

Senator Marsh: "Mr. President, I think there is a motion on the floor."

Senator Gould: "Mr. President, may I ask which motion takes precedence?"

The President: "Yes, you may ask, Senator."

Senator Gould: "With advice from my counsel on the right, I am reminded that Rule 31 says that a motion to reconsider shall have precedence over every other motion except one to adjourn. I would just like to. . . ."

The President: "The President is aware of the rule, Senator."

"Senator Marsh and Senator Gould, Senator Gould the President is aware of Rule 31 which indicates that on and after the fiftieth day of any session, the motion to reconsider shall only be in order on the same day upon which notice of reconsideration is given and may be made at any time that day. But, and Senator Marsh, the President has always ruled that regardless of whether a motion to transmit is carried, that a move to reconsider shall be in order any time during the working day after the fiftieth day.

"Your notice . . . or your motion has . . . your notice has been received, your motion is made. Do you wish it acted upon at this time or may be acted upon any time this day. The President suggests that perhaps you might want to do it."

Senator Walgren: "Mr. President . . . ."

The President: "Senator Walgren, perhaps Senator Walgren can clarify."

Senator Walgren: "I don't know if I can clarify . . . I move that further consideration of House Bill 25 be accomplished. . . ."

The President: "The President believes it would be eligible after five p.m., if you plan to run after that hour."

The President: "What is your wish, Senator Gould."

Senator Gould: "I move for immediate reconsideration of the bill."

The President: "Senator Gould has moved that the Senate immediately reconsider the vote by which House Bill 25 was passed. Do you wish to speak on the motion, Senator? Did you vote on the prevailing side?"

Senator Gould: "Mr. President, yes, I did vote on the prevailing side and my request to have immediate reconsideration was based on the fact that having voted on the prevailing side, I learned more about the bill and wanted to change my vote. If I may ask, Mr. President, does it require a two-thirds vote to have immediate reconsideration?"

The President: "No, it does not."

Senator Gould: "I do not want to delay the afternoon. I would just ask that we may now immediately reconsider and take the vote."

The President: "The question before the Senate is the motion by Senator Gould that the Senate immediately reconsider the vote by which House Bill 25 was passed. As many as are in favor will say 'aye' - as many as are opposed will say 'no'. The 'no's' appear to have it."

A division was requested.

The President: "A division has been requested. As many as are in favor of reconsideration will stand and please remain standing until counted. As many as are opposed will stand and please remain standing until counted. There are 24 yeas and 15 nays. The motion carried."

The President: "Senator Walgren. . . ."

Senator Walgren: "Mr. President, I move that further consideration of House Bill No. 25 be deferred until or take its place immediately after House Bill 100 on the consent calendar."

The President: "If there are no objections, consideration of House Bill 25 will be placed immediately after House Bill 100."

Senator Gould: "Mr. President. . . ."

The President: "Senator Gould. . . ."

Senator Gould: "Point of inquiry. Does that mean that we will be considering even if we don't get to House Bill 100. That we will have an opportunity to reconsider our vote on House Bill 25?"

The President: "Yes, Senator, you will have the opportunity."

Senator Gould: "Thank you."

The President: "Senator Marsh has moved that the other measures passed this morning be immediately transmitted to the House. If there are no objections, it is so ordered."

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 319, by Committee on Higher Education (originally sponsored by Representatives Burns, Patterson, Grimm, Barnes, Douthwaite, Keller, Kreidler, Greengo, Lux, Erickson and Gruger):

Authorizing waiver of fees for university or college employees taking courses thereat, but limited to space available basis.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 28, 1979.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 319, authorizing waiver of fees for university or college employees taking courses thereat, but limited to space available basis (reported by Committee on Higher Education):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 2, line 10, after "for" insert "full time"

On page 2, line 28, after "for" insert "full time"

On page 3, after line 2, insert the following:

"(4) It is the intent of this section to create an in-service program for full time employees to enhance their career development."

Signed by: Senators Goltz, Chairman; Benitz, Scott, von Reichbauer.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Goltz moved adoption of the committee amendments to page 2, line 10 and 28.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Goltz, I am not very familiar with this bill. You say you are tightening it up, yet the employees of the particular institution would be allowed to go on a waiver of fees?"

Senator Goltz: "The tightening up is that the language previously would have implied that a part-time employee could also have participated in such a program. That opens up the possibility that persons would seek part-time employment as a method of achieving, as it were, a scholarship or a fee waiver for their education. So, the tightening up by this amendment restricts the opportunity to full-time employees only."

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Goltz carried and the committee amendments to page 2 were adopted.

On motion of Senator Goltz, the committee amendment to page 3 was adopted.

On motion of Senator Goltz, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 319, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Donohue: "Mr. President, I think this is a philosophical issue as I see it and I have to agree with Senator Rasmussen. I am trying in my own mind to decide what kind of help we are giving a special group of people and I want just to raise an example. Let's assume that a driver of a milk truck for the local dairy drives the truck and delivers the milk to the door of a college food concessionary establishment and that milk is put on the shelf inside of that establishment by an employee on that campus. Why then, I guess Senator Goltz, should not the person that delivered the milk also receive a waiver?"

Senator Goltz: "Well, I suppose the answer is that this bill does not attempt to do everything, but I would point out that for some of the classes of persons that have been mentioned, the firms or the agencies already provide in-service training programs of another type. DSHS, for example, the one that Senator Rasmussen mentioned, does have an in-service training program for their employees. The state patrol does have an in-service training program for their employees. Many private agencies, perhaps even the dairyman, has an in-service training program for their employees. In many ways this is a career development program for college and university civil service personnel and I think, for that reason, it is a very narrow program and doesn't attempt to give educational opportunity to everyone."

Senator Donohue: "What do you think the odds are that the employer of that milk truck driver has an in-service program? What do you think the odds are?"

Senator Goltz: "They would be very small, I think."

Senator Donohue: "I think that is the issue."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ODEGAARD

Senator Odegaard: "Mr. President, members of the Senate, I think maybe there is some misunderstanding of this bill. I had the same misunderstanding for awhile in committee and for awhile I was a little bit reluctant to support it because of that. Senator Rasmussen and Senator Donohue, the misunderstanding that I had when that was cleared up allowed me to support this bill.

"It is presently the non-faculty employees at two universities are allowed to take classes that are counted towards their contract level. In other words, the state has to reimburse the universities for the costs of those non-faculty members who take those classes and that could amount to quite a few dollars that has to be appropriated by us to those two universities. But this bill changes that so that it is only on a space-available-type set up and if there is space available and this is above their contract level, the state does not reimburse those students. So it is actually a savings to the state. In fact the fiscal note shows that there probably will be a revenue gain which we question somewhat. But at least there is no cost and there is presently a cost. I think that is an important difference. This is only on a space available basis."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 319, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 39; nays, 8; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bausch, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Conner, Day, Fleming, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Gould, Guess, Hansen, Hayner, Jones, Lee, Lewis, Lysen, Marsh, McDermott, Moore, Morrison, North, Odegaard, Peterson, Pullen, Ridder, Scott, Shinpoch, Talley, Talmadge, Van Hollebeke, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Walgren, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, Woody—39.

Voting nay: Senators Clarke, Donohue, Matson, Newschwander, Quigg, Rasmussen, Sellar, Wanamaker—8.

Absent or not voting: Senator Henry—1.

Excused: Senator Keefe—1.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 319, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

Authorizing the department of game to retain fees charged for informational materials published by the department.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Marsh, House Bill No. 331 was returned to the Committee on Rules.

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 365, by Representatives Lux, Galloway, Smith (Rick), Zimmerman, Garrett and Williams:

Authorizing satellite facilities for credit unions.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 3, following section 4 add the following:

"Sec. 5. Section 31, chapter 173, Laws of 1933 as last amended by section 83, chapter 81, Laws of 1971 and RCW 31.12.360 are each amended to read as follows:

If an officer of a credit union is, in the opinion of the supervisor, dishonest, inefficient, incapable of doing his work, or wilfully disobeying orders of the supervisor, or is in any way violating this chapter or the bylaws of the credit union, he may be suspended by the supervisor. The supervisor shall give the board of the credit union prompt notice of such suspension and promptly upon receipt thereof the board shall call a meeting of its members to consider the matter forthwith and give the supervisor at least seven days' notice of the time and place of such meeting. If the board shall find the supervisor's objection to be well founded, it shall remove such director, officer or employee immediately. In the event that the board of the credit union shall fail to remove such director, officer or employee, the supervisor may petition the superior court of the county wherein the principal office of the credit union is located, setting forth the reasons why such person should be removed. Such petition shall be answered by the credit union as in civil actions. Such cause shall be heard by the court de novo without the intervention of a jury and upon such hearing the superior court shall enter its decision as to whether such person shall remain in or be removed from his position. The court shall make and enter specific findings of fact and conclusions of law and its decision shall be reviewable by the supreme court or the court of appeals.

The supervisor shall be charged with the administration and enforcement of this chapter, shall require each credit union to conduct its business in compliance therewith, and shall have power to commence and prosecute actions and proceedings to enforce the provisions of this chapter, to enjoin violations thereof, and to collect sums due the state of Washington from any credit union.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the supervisor may make reasonable rules authorizing a credit union to exercise any of the powers currently conferred upon a federal credit union doing business in this state as of the effective date of this 1979 act, if the supervisor finds that the exercise of the power:

(1) Serves the public convenience and advantage; and

(2) Equalizes and maintains the quality of competition between state chartered credit unions and federally chartered credit unions.

The exercise of these powers is subject to such rules and regulations as the supervisor may prescribe."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Jones: "I would challenge this on the basis of scope and object. 365 is a bill that refers to, I believe, satellite banking. I believe this is not within the scope and object of House Bill 365."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In the interest of expediency, the President would appreciate a motion to delay action."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, House Bill No. 365, together with the pending amendment by Senator Rasmussen and the Point of Order by Senator Jones, was ordered held following House Bill No. 588.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Senator Marsh, I was reading the next bill and reading another bill and didn't see exactly what is being done here and if you could help me I would very much appreciate it. I heard you say that this would raise the dollar jurisdiction of the district courts to three thousand dollars, is that correct?"

Senator Marsh: "That is correct."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "And, now we have passed the Senate bill that increased it to three thousand. It is already increased by the constitutional amendment we passed here to three thousand, but in the opinion of most members of the bar, but this increases it to three thousand to remove any ambiguity in the law, is that correct?"

Senator Marsh: "That is correct and it also does a further thing of increasing the jurisdiction to five thousand dollars effective July 1, 1981."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "And, does it further increase it to seventy-five hundred dollars effective later if the Senate bill we passed earlier this session did?"

Senator Marsh: "No, it does not. It just contains the two-step increase. The first step is to three thousand, the second step is to five thousand and the third step is missing."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "The third step is missing. Does it address the small claims court jurisdiction? We increased that to, I believe, six hundred dollars in the Senate bill we passed."

Senator Marsh: "Yes, it increases it to five hundred dollars."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "To five hundred, all right, thank you very much."

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 636, by Representatives Charnley, Barnes and Rohrbach:

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Lysen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, line 23, strike lines 23 through 26.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Guess, you are talking about one individual that apparently was sharp enough to beat the port in its own move. I think what Senator Lysen is concerned with is those people that have had to move and take the only available site to them. Now, it is my understanding that in King county, and particularly in that area, housing is down to less than one percent availability. In fact, I think it is probably down to zero availability for these people. I think you have to go anyplace that you can find a house these days and they should extend the noise abatement program even though they have been paid off for relocation once. I cannot believe that the port is going to pay them any great amount over the market price of the real estate."

Senator Guess: "Senator, if you read the report that was put out by the port last year, you would realize that all of those properties that they moved, every one of them came out vastly superior to the situation that they had existed in prior to the move and this amendment, or the change in the bill from the original form to prohibit this leap-frogging and people buying into the circle of the next taking is the thing that this bill was designed to stop.

"Now if the amendment is removed, they will be able to continue to do that and I do not think it is fair for somebody because he gets more of a settlement from the port than he can get, you ought to see what they do. They will move them. If a person wants to move his house they will pick the house up bodily, he buys a new lot somewhere, they will move it to the lot, they will put it in the very best of shape and put in the landscaping in the same shape his lot was in and so it costs the port an awful lot of money.

"Now there is going to be an awful long time before they will be broadening this thing, but what they are trying to do is to stop those people from moving into and the houses from being built in the zone. Now this bill puts them on notice that if they go six miles from the centerline and thirty-three hundred feet either side of it, then they are going to be in the procedure, or at least they are going to be in jeopardy of being moved at a later time. So, the port has to comply with the federal law and I think that this will hurt them from complying with it."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Shinpoch: "Senator Lee, I am not sure exactly what you were saying, but let me lay out what I think you said and you tell me if I am correct, or not.

"I think you indicated that if we took a hypothetical case that a person may have moved far enough away from the airport that they are no longer impacted by the noise. But, you are saying that now they are moving the airport out to the person who may have moved and, therefore, you think this amendment is needed to take care of that."

Senator Lee: "You are almost correct. What is happening is we are moving the aircraft noise abatement zone, so it covers more territory and a person may have moved from the old noise abatement zone to an area outside of that zone and they could now be included once again and, therefore, would get no relief, so your conclusion was correct even though it was not the airport itself that is being enlarged, it is the zone surrounding the airport."

Senator Shinpoch: "Senator Lee, I guess I really do not understand then, how the noise gets any greater just because they have moved an arbitrary line. If they were extending the airport so that the longer take-offs were impacting the noise then I could understand probably for the first time since I read this amendment, why you might want this. But, if that is not the case, then I guess I am back where I was before you spoke."

Senator Lee: "I think we have to realize that the zone that we are talking about is really much smaller than the total noise impact zone. The total noise impact zone depends upon the ear of the beholder, if you will, and so what is happening here is that when it was first put on the books, about four or five years ago, the zone was drawn just about as small as could possibly be drawn, so that we were absolutely certain that the noise impact was almost unbearable. During that same period of time, noise impact studies were made very scientifically over a full period of a full year and it was discovered that the noise impact zone was not large enough and that is the reason for this particular bill. And, so they want to be able to extend the programs to the larger zone."

The motion by Senator Lysen failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

On motion of Senator Wilson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 636 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Any mutual savings bank chartered by the state of Washington may, upon receipt of the appropriate federal regulatory approval, convert to a federally chartered mutual savings bank."

Re-number accordingly.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the Point of Order presented by Senator Walgren, the President finds that House Bill 806 is a measure which broadens the enforcement powers of the Supervisor of Banking by allowing him to issue cease and desist orders against mutual savings banks.

"The amendment proposed by Senator Lewis sets forth a procedure whereby state chartered mutual savings banks could convert to a federally chartered mutual savings bank.

The amendment by Senator Lewis was ruled out of order.

The motion by Senator Bausch, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 806 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 109, by Committee on Insurance (originally sponsored by Representatives Douthwaite, Sanders, Erak and Oliver)(by House Committee on Insurance of 45th Legislature request):

Regulating insurance policy cancellations.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Hansen moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Henry, Hansen and Guess:

On page 1, line 11, after "insurer." insert:

"No insurer shall cancel, deny, refuse to renew or increase premiums on any contract of insurance for a private passenger automobile on the basis of information relating to speeding violations where the posted speed limit was exceeded by twenty percent or less."

POINT OR ORDER

Senator Clarke: "I raise the point of scope and object on this particular amendment and would like to be heard briefly in support of the motion.

"Substitute House Bill 109 is a very narrow bill. It simply provides that where an insurance policy is cancelled or not renewed, upon written request of the insured the company shall give the reason for such failure and then it also provides that the company shall be immune company and its representatives shall be immune from in effect, slander actions for that purpose. It has nothing whatsoever to do with the situations under which policies may be cancelled. It simply relates to the fact that the reason can be requested and that there is immunity for giving the answer. This amendment and various other amendments, which are offered tend to relate to the circumstances under which a policy may or may not be cancelled or failure to renew. And, for that reason substantially expand the scope and object of the bill."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the Point of Order raised by Senator Clarke, the President finds that Substitute House Bill 109 is a measure which requires insurers and health care service contractors to disclose, upon request, the reasons for denial, cancellation or non-renewal of an insurance of health care service contract.

"The proposed amendment would regulate the conditions under which an insurer could refuse to renew automobile liability or collision coverage. There is a clear difference between disclosing information relating to an action and regulating the action itself.

"The President therefore finds that the proposed amendment does expand the scope and object of the bill and that the Point of Order is well taken."

The amendment by Senators Henry, Hansen and Guess was ruled out of order.

Senator Shinpoch moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, line 20 insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. It shall be an unfair practice and no insurer shall refuse to renew the liability and/or collision coverage of an automobile insurance policy on the basis that an insured covered by the policy of the insurer has submitted one or more claims under the comprehensive, road service, or towing coverage of the policy. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the nonrenewal of comprehensive, road service, or towing coverage on the basis of one or more claims submitted by an insured."

Re-number the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Clarke: "I also raise the point of scope and object on this amendment for the same reason that it is in the same category."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Shinpoch, the President believes your amendment regulates as the previous amendment did and therefore will rule accordingly."

The amendment by Senator Shinpoch was ruled out of order.

REMARKS BY SENATOR SHINPOCH

Senator Shinpoch: "Mr. President, I recognize that you have already ruled. However, on line 7 it deals with refusing to renew and if you follow that on down to line 8, passenger automobile insurance. It deals with unfair practices. I do not understand in light of those things, I would like to understand the reason for the ruling."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: "Could I respond briefly to Senator Shinpoch, I would submit that the ruling should be identical with the previous for the identical reason and that is that the bill as drawn deals exclusively with the fact that upon request for notice, notice shall be given. It has nothing to do with the right to cancel or refuse to renew in any instance. The two amendments in reality are almost in the same field."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President believes remarks by Senator Clarke are well taken, therefore so rules again."

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the following amendments were considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 1, lines 27 and 28, strike "or any firm, person, or corporation".

On page 2, line 30, after "employees," strike "or any firm, person, or corporation".

There being no objection, on motion of Senator Morrison, an amendment on the desk of the Secretary of the Senate was withdrawn.

On motion of Senator Bausch, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 109, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 808, by Representatives Winsley, Hurley and Knowles (by Department of General Administration request):

Permitting corporations doing a trust business to deposit securities held in trust in other banks and trust companies.

The Senate resumed consideration of House Bill No. 808, the pending amendment by Senators Pullen and Lee and the Point of Order raised by Senator Jones on the amendment.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the Point of Order raised by Senator Jones, the President finds that House Bill 808 is a measure which removes the present requirement that a trust department label each security to indicate the trust to which it belongs.

The amendment would require that when a receipt is issued for a deposit made in a bank or trust company the receipt must show the account number.

"The President therefore finds the amendment expands the scope and object of the bill and the Point of Order is well taken."

The amendment by Senators Pullen and Lee was ruled out of order.

On motion of Senator Bausch, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 808 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Such procedure shall require that a good faith effort be made to request quotations from all contractors on the small works roster. Immediately after an award is made, the bid quotations obtained shall be recorded, open to public inspection, and available by telephone inquiry."

On page 3, line 22, after "roster." strike all of the material down through the period on line 23 and insert the following:

~~"((The board of water commissioners shall distribute the number of project offers as equally as possible among the contractors on the small works roster:))~~ The board of water commissioners shall authorize by resolution a procedure for securing telephone and/or written quotations from at least three contractors on the small works roster to assure establishment of a competitive price and for awarding contracts to the lowest responsible bidder. Such procedure shall require that a good faith effort be made to request quotations from all contractors on the small works roster. Immediately after an award is made, the bid quotations obtained shall be recorded, open to public inspection, and available by telephone inquiry."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "Senator Bluechel, Senator, we are not getting down into an area here where the expense of bidding costs money to let bids and to submit bids, and I am just wondering if by small works roster that is indicating to us that we are getting down into an area where the amounts are so small that it is not feasible to bid these jobs?"

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Day, we are talking about twelve thousand five hundred dollars and we do not have formal bidding procedures. What we have instituted here is the telephone bid procedure which we have in the other bidding procedures for cities and towns. We put about twelve sections of this in last session, in 1977, and we worked this out with Dave Rogers of the sewer commissioner's association. He agreed that it was the proper way to do it and, in actuality they do not have to put in a written bid now, except the confirmation. What they do is they phone their bids in the same as is allowed in the other larger entities and when we are talking twelve thousand five hundred dollars it saves a lot of work not having to post, advertise and everything like that. The procedure here used is that everybody in the small works roster is called on the phone and said we want to buy X number of pencils, the purchasing agent, and at that time the bidders would then within an hour or two hours, or whatever is reasonable time, phone back their lowest bid. At the end of all the bids being received, maybe one hour, the low bid would be picked and the person receiving the low bid would be awarded the bid and anybody else could phone in and find out where they were in line of bid. It is a pretty simple procedure. It is probably the simplest procedure there is."

Senator Day: "Well, of course, if it is not posted, how would everyone know, in other words only the people that know about these bids are the ones that are notified about it."

Senator Bluechel: "This is a small works roster in which everybody who wants to be on it must be on it as long as they have pre-qualified. We are not entering into that at all. Anybody who wants to bid will be called."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talley: "Senator Bluechel, these amendments were discussed in the committee and the sewer people and the water people were there and they certainly did not agree with what the committee did and these agreements were made outside of the committee then?"

Senator Bluechel: "Dave Rogers of the sewer association wrote these amendments. These are different from the ones in committee."

The motion by Senator Bluechel carried and the amendments were adopted.

Facilitating ride sharing operations.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 27, 1979.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 96, facilitating ride sharing operations (reported by Committee on Transportation):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 6, line 12, after "corporation." strike the remainder of the section, through and including "driver." on line 16.

On page 6, line 29, after "business." strike all material through and including "employees." on line 33, and insert "The definition shall include, but not be limited to, the use of state-owned motor vehicles for commuter ride sharing so long as the entire capital depreciation and operational expense of the commuter ride-sharing arrangement is paid by the commuters."

Signed by: Senators Talley, Vice Chairman; Bluechel, Conner, Gallagher, Guess, Lee, Peterson, Van Hollebeke, Wanamaker.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Bottiger moved adoption of the committee amendment to page 6, line 12.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, my question is if I am going from here to Seattle, would I be allowed to pick up in my van a person and take him and drop him off at the business just ahead of the business — suppose I was going to Boeings, could I drop a passenger off at Southcenter and would I be legal?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Rasmussen, we are talking about an amendment. Senator Guess is going to handle the bill. I do not know why he asked me to handle the amendment, but he did and I have found myself in trouble already."

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and the committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the committee amendment to page 6, line 29 was adopted.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 96, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Jones, Senator Matson was excused.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Bottiger, I have particular reference to page 9, line 12, we find that the language says 'that the operation shall be permissible so long as it does not compete nor infringe upon comparable service actually being provided prior to the initiation of the ride sharing operation'. Now, the question is 'comparable service.' It is to permit operation of both buses and van pools in their respective areas in which they operate most efficiently. Can buses and van pools serve the same termini efficiently?"

Senator Bottiger: "Yes, Senator Guess, there is a need for both and I think that they both can serve the same termini efficiently."

Senator Guess: "The next question is, if a bus rider who traveled a considerable distance to get to the bus should opt for a van pool that stops at or a short distance from his home, would the van pool be competing with the bus?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Guess, as I understand the intent, the answer would be 'no'. The service would not be comparable. What is comparable or not is a question of fact to be decided by the utilities and transportation commission and I understand that they have agreed to provide interested parties with a staff interpretation which will give guidance on this point."

Senator Guess: "Would a van pool which operated on a more convenient schedule for the rider be offering service that is not comparable?"

Senator Bottiger: "If the schedule is significantly better the service would not be comparable. No commuter should have to wait for an unreasonable time. What is reasonable is a factual question and guidance on this point is also to be expected from the UTC."

Senator Guess: "Does schedule include travel time as well as waiting time?"

Senator Bottiger: "I believe, yes."

Senator Guess: "The next one, would customer amenities and equipment be considered in determining what is comparable? For example, the opportunity to smoke, or to be away from smokers, and provision of reading lights?"

Senator Bottiger: "Yes. Such amenities are the things that offer a rider a choice."

Senator Guess: "Senator Bottiger, I understand that the attorney general's opinion on this subject says one of the elements to compete with is solicitation. Does that still apply under this bill?"

Senator Bottiger: "Yes, I believe it does."

Senator Guess: "If a rider asks to join a van pool and is accepted when a vacancy occurs, is that a solicitation?"

Senator Bottiger: "I do not believe so."

Senator Guess: "The last question, is if a company has a ride sharing referral system or service and gave employees interested in rides a list of van pool operators and bus operators in a general area of his residence, would a company be guilty of solicitation or aiding or abetting?"

Senator Bottiger: "No, as long as the list included all available choices and was not a referral to a particular van pool or pools, i.e. the final choice is left to the rider."

Senator Guess: "Thank you, Senator Bottiger, and thank you members of the Senate."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, and members of the Senate, the purpose of that exchange obviously was to get intent into the bill so that the UTC and if any court action were filed, the intent of the legislature would be established and we appreciate the opportunity to do that."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "The prepared question and answer that Senators Guess and Bottiger had, did not answer my question, which was, if I picked up somebody not quite adjacent from my home and took him to another place of business other than the one where I work, if that would be a violation? The second question while you are answering Senator Guess, would be if I have a van and I am giving this service to my neighbors, do I have to apply to the utilities and transportation for a permit?"

Senator Guess: "The answer to the first question is, that it would depend on whether or not you charged that man for the ride. And, the purpose of the entire bill, Senator, is that in order to qualify with the van pool so that your insurance is writeable and coverable, the UTC will write the rules and regulations for the use of the van pool so that a person can pay and still the van operator be within the law and this is the sole purpose of the action."

Senator Rasmussen: "Your answer, Senator Guess, was not clear. If I charged that person, if that person contributed to the operating costs of the van, would that be considered running a commercial service? I am in agreement with the intent. I am trying to find out how wide it is."

Senator Guess: "The whole question that you have asked there is if there was an accident and that rider was injured, would he have a cause of action against you? I think that is what . . . okay, in order to be protected from a cause of action you would have to first have cleared as a van pool operator and then you would have been able to operate and accept money under the terms of the act."

Senator Rasmussen: "Then, Senator Guess, what you are saying is that all of the people now that are operating minivans, or whatever, and their friends are contributing to the cost of gasoline, oil and repairs, that that is illegal?"

Senator Guess: "The question that Senator Rasmussen has asked, I do not have the exact answer to it and I do not want to make a statement that is not proper. Perhaps Senator Bottiger has the answer."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, members of the Senate, if your neighbor, Senator Rasmussen, was on a straight share-the-ride basis and not doing anything for profit, he would be perfectly legal and probably covered under his insurance policy. He should read it. If he is out charging people for a ride to work, he had better read his insurance policy, he better tell his insurance agent about it, because he might not have coverage for those people.

"Now, if there is an ordinance relating to taxis or for hire vehicles in that community, he had better read that, too. I cannot tell you flat out whether he is legal or not, but I would presume he should check his county or city ordinances as to how they define a taxi. That is not the purpose of this bill, Senator Rasmussen. What we are trying to do here is authorize employers to set up van pools for their employees and to make those registered van pools exempt from the public transportation for higher action even though the van pool driver is collecting enough to make monthly payments on his van."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GUESS

Senator Guess: "Mr. President, I would point Senator Rasmussen to section seven, which says that 'no private non-profit transportation provider may operate in this state without first having obtained from the commission under the provisions of this chapter a certificate. But a certificate shall be granted to any private, non-profit transportation provider holding an automobile transportation company certificate.' So, I think that that answers your question. You have got to have a certificate from the UTC in order to operate legally."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Senator Bottiger, I could not follow the full significance of the question and answer session between yourself and Senator Guess, so I would like to ask whether any of your answers were intended to impair or adversely affect those portions of this bill designed to facilitate senior citizen transportation?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Wilson, in no way does this bill or any of our questions and answers affect the senior citizen, handicapped transportation program as I know them in this state."

On motion of Senator McDermott, the rules were suspended, House Bill 663, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Scott: "Senator McDermott, I need a little help and I suspect some of the others on the floor do as to the price of this bill, whether the price is built into the budget or not, as to whether what appears to be a type of categorical help for these students is indeed a new category, some of the parameters of the measure. Those of us that have not heard it in caucus and are not on your committee are a little bit at sea."

Senator McDermott: "All right. If you want an explanation at this hour I will give it to you. This is an implementing bill for a program which was included in the Governor's budget. It is also anticipated to be covered in the Senate education budget. It is a program that will respond to the needs of school children in this state as demonstrated by the fourth grade testing and it is also designed to be responsive to the federal Title 1 incentive program which is now before Congress and will put additional money out into the school districts. This particular bill was give us a breadth of remediation which will go all across school districts. It will give us the ability to reach children who need remediation for reasons other than their economic standard. Title 1 is directed at socio-economic things, but this will give us the ability to reach all kids who need remediation programs."

Senator Scott: "Could this be termed then, a new categorical and do other programs in any way overlap or duplicate it?"

Senator McDermott: "Actually, this bill as the Governor's budget reflected it, was really to wipe out several programs and to set up a state-wide remediation program. So, in one sense it is a new program, but it really envelopes several others that have been there before."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 663, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Bausch, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Conner, Day, Donohue, Fleming, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Gould, Guess, Hansen, Hayner, Henry, Jones, Lee, Lewis, Lysen, Marsh, McDermott, Moore, Morrison, Newschwander, North, Odegaard, Peterson, Pullen, Quigg, Rasmussen, Ridder, Scott, Sellar, Shinpoch, Talley, Talmadge, Van Hollebeke, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Walgren, Wanamaker, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, Woody—47.

Excused: Senators Keefe, Matson—2.

HOUSE BILL NO. 663, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

Senator Walgren: "I move that the Senate be adjourned until twelve noon on Monday."

The President: "Senator Walgren has moved that the Senate adjourn until twelve noon Monday."

The President: "Senator Gould . . ."

Senator Gould: "Point of inquiry, what is the status of House Bill 25 at this point?"

The President: "The President will check the record, Senator Gould."

The President: "Senator Gould, the records indicate that you made a motion to reconsider immediately. That motion carried on a rising vote. Then the question of reconsideration of the vote by which the measure was passed was to be reconsidered after House Bill 100. You asked if you would have the opportunity. The President answered 'yes' fully expecting you to have the opportunity. However, a motion of higher rank has been made by Senator Walgren to adjourn."

Senator Gould: "I certainly wouldn't doubt your word or the word of the record. It was my understanding that my original motion was to reconsider, my second motion was to reconsider immediately but I defer to your decision."

The President: You may recall that a similar instance occurred several days ago. The only element different being that at that time it required a suspension of the rules."

Senator Lewis: "Mr. President, if the motion was passed to reconsider then the bill is not passed. Is that correct?"

The President: "The President honestly believes that the first motion was to consider the question immediately and was going to put another motion to the effect when Senator Gould would make the motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed."

Senator Lewis: "Is the bill considered then to have been passed and now has passed both houses and no further action can be taken?"

The President: "The absolute best of the President's recollection unless the bill is acted on further that the bill has been passed."

Senator Lewis: "I wonder if the majority leader, in light of the Chair's position of having said 'yes, the bill would be able to be considered', would like to withdraw his motion to adjourn in fairness to the understanding at that time."

Senator Walgren: "Senator Fleming, my adviser in this, says that the one bite has been had already. We seem to have a split of opinion over here as to whether or not we should adjourn. I think I should stick to the motion I made to adjourn. As a matter of fact, I am not sure after the five o'clock period which we have imposed by our rules, we could further consider the bill anyway."

The President: "The Chamber realized that this discussion is out of order but . . . Senator Lewis . . ."

Senator Lewis: "Mr. President, being as the Ruling at the time was that it could be considered after five o'clock, I believe that was said, that if the majority leader would withdraw his motion to adjourn, would it then be in order to discuss this bill?"

The President: "The President believes that it would be."

The President: "Senator Marsh . . ."

Senator Marsh: "Point of order, Mr. President. A motion has been made, it is undebatable . . . call for the question."

The President: "The point is well taken."

The President: "The motion is that the Senators move that the Senate adjourn until twelve noon, Monday, the time is debatable. Senator Gould, you can speak on that."

Senator Walgren: "Mr. President, as I say, there is a dispute over on our side as to whether or not we ought to stick to the motion to adjourn and rather than taking a poll of all the persons involved, I will withdraw my motion at this point and let them proceed."

The President: "Senator Gould . . ."

Senator Gould: "Mr. President, I would move that we reconsider the vote by which House Bill 25 passed . . . immediately."

The President: "Senator Gould has moved that the Senate reconsider the vote by which House Bill 25 passed."

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am want to think of the time when I was first serving in the House and Margaret Hurley pulled a rule on me that I never forgot and, Senator Gould, had we adjourned, I was going to suggest you mark it in the book and remember it but Senator Walgren permits us to debate this.

"Now, we had a bill out here that passed the House, an amendment was prepared tightening it down and taking care of some problems which we joined in, went back, adopted the amendment and provided the safeguards that are in that amendment.

"Now you want to reconsider which means that we have got to go back to second reading and then it takes a bump to go back up to third reading, Now for those people who realize all the rules—let's remember that if you expect to do anything about a bill that now provides that only the mailman and the meter reader have any relief if a dog bites them on their property . . . that is the status of the law. If you want to provide any relief for that, I would suggest the bill, as amended, provides the protection.

"If you want to have a dog that bites kids, you have got to post your property or build a fence. If you have a dog, I have two of them—one of them doesn't bite kids and one of them does—and the one that does is kept restrained and in a run and put in the house when nobody is home and anybody that comes in the house is going to get bitten. It is there when I am gone and my wife and kids are home alone. I have a dog like that. It is trained to do that but if I let that dog out and it bites somebody's kid, I ought to pay.

"Now, if we go back to second reading, can't get back to third, then we have left the law the way it is now. No relief for people that get bitten. I would suggest the amendment and the bill is a fair compromise to allow the people that want to have dogs that bite people to build a fence to keep the little kids out and post the property."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Marsh: "Mr. President, I raise the Point of Order that it is now 5:20 and SCR 102 points out that after 5:00 p.m. on the fifty-fourth day of the session, Friday, March 2, 1979, neither the Senate nor the House shall consider any bills except appropriation and revenue bills, messages to amendments, matters of differences between the two houses, conference and free conference reports, and matters incident and pertaining to the interim and to the closing of the business of the regular session of the legislature. I would submit, Mr. President, that it is improper for us to further consider House Bill No. 25. It was not under consideration until well after five o'clock tonight."

Senator Scott: "Mr. President, if Senator Marsh's point would hold then that, I presume, would also take the vote, the vote on the last bill we did."

Senator Gould: "Mr. President, would it be appropriate that the bill was under consideration prior to five o'clock because the motion to reconsider was made and approved by the body earlier in the day?"

The President: "Senator Gould, the President has always held that when consideration started on a bill prior to five o'clock that it would . . . the action on it would be completed. In other words, if something were made a special order of business at 4:59, then the Senate would conclude action on that bill. However, to the best of the President's recollection, he cannot recall whereby a question of this kind would be eligible for consideration after five p.m."

Senator Hansen: "Mr. President, beings you were under consideration, what is the status of the bill now. Is it dead now?"

The President: "The President believes that the bill has passed, Senator Hansen."

Senator Hansen: "How could you come up with a determination like that when you had it under reconsideration?"

The President: "The motion to reconsider, in the President's mind, was never put, Senator Hansen."

Senator Gould: "Mr. President, may I try my last parting shot. Reed's Parliamentary Rules of Order states in 203: 'Motion for Reconsideration.—A motion to reconsider, if agreed to, reopens the entire question for further action, as if there had been no final decision'. As I recall that motion was made and approved by the body earlier today."

The President: "The President quite agrees with Reed's Parliamentary Rules, Senator Gould, and also with the Rule 31: 'On and after the fiftieth day of any session a motion to reconsider shall only be in order on the same day upon which notice of reconsideration is given and may be made at any time that day'.

"The President thoroughly agrees with the meaning of that rule. However, the President believes that House Concurrent Resolution No. 102 precedes those rules. This, in essence, is a joint rule between this body and the House."

Senator Pullen: "Mr. President, as I recall, we did vote to reconsider the measure. Is that correct?"

The President: "Voted to immediately reconsider the question. To immediately . . ."

Senator Pullen: "Then we did take that vote and we voted 'yes'. Is that not correct? Then the motion was to hold the bill on the calendar for further action."

The President: "To hold the motion to reconsider on further action."

Senator Pullen: "Well, what was the vote that we took?"

The President: "That you would reconsider it now and then a motion was made to act upon it later."

Senator Pullen: "We did vote to reconsider it now. Is that not correct? There was a rising vote and I cannot recall the exact numbers but on the rising vote the proponents carried the particular vote. Was that not a vote to immediately reconsider?"

The President: "Then another motion was made that was adopted by the body to consider the question later, Senator Pullen; since the interested parties did not make the motion within the time frame of the concurrent resolution."

Senator Pullen: "Therefore it seems to me that the bill that we were carrying with this past five o'clock should be dead."

The President: "The President stated that the bill under consideration prior to five, the Senate has always been permitted to complete the consideration. This is . . . your points are all well taken, ladies and gentlemen, but not timely."

Senator Lewis: "Mr. President, was there not a Ruling from the Chair, from you, that the bill would be able to be considered after five o'clock?"

The President: "The President then answered the question . . ."

Senator Lewis: "Yes . . . I apologize, Mr. President."

The President: "The President would have to check the record, Senator."

Senator Marsh: "Mr. President, I respectfully submit that the resolution . . ."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The Point of Order presented by Senator Marsh is well taken.

"The motion has been made the Senate adjourn until twelve noon Monday. As many as are in favor say 'aye' . . . as many opposed say 'no'. The ayes appear to have it.

"The Senate is now adjourned until twelve noon, Monday."

By Lieutenant Governor John A. WHEREAS, WILLI AND JOLENE UNSOELD, have long exemplified the dedication of the human intellect and spirit to the causes of personal excellence and social responsibility; and

WHEREAS, WILLI, as a founding faculty member of interdisciplinary studies at The Evergreen State College and as a true Renaissance Man, was loved by many and respected by all for giving to those who learned with him a desire to emulate his philosophy of life, wherein excellence is met by toughness of mind and gentleness of soul; and

WHEREAS, WILLI was internationally respected for his pioneer conquest of Mt. Everest, his role as Peace Corps director in Nepal, and his work in Outward Bound; and

WHEREAS, JOLENE is admired and respected throughout the State of Washington for her unceasing efforts to assure open, responsive government and high levels of ethical responsibility by our elected officials; and

WHEREAS, REGON, KRAG and TERRES UNSOELD have joined their parents in providing exemplary models for citizen participation and community involvement; and

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, THAT The Senate of the State of Washington expresses its condolences for the untimely deaths of WILLI UNSOELD AND JANIE DIEPENBROCK, and that the Senate extend its sympathy to both families in their sorrow.

REMARKS BY SENATOR GOLTZ

Senator Goltz: "Mr. President, members of the Senate, I did not know Janie Diepenbrock, but I did know Willi Unsoeld, at least slightly, and considered him a friend, and I would like to rise to say a few words about Willi Unsoeld and the kind of rare contribution people like Willi Unsoeld make in our society.

"Willi Unsoeld was primarily an educator in his professional life. He was one who has an institutionalized responsibility for passing on the cultural values and knowledge in our society from one generation to the next. Willie Unsoeld loved life and he loved the challenge of the mountains.

"He found that the human contest with nature was a way to test human capacity of mind and body. He used the environment of the mountains to teach biology, geology, philosophy, religion, what have you, and to seek the truth. Few people have that rare gift. His students learned from him in that environment and they loved him for it.

"Nature taught us a lesson yesterday as well. It is not always predictable and it does not discriminate and eventually death comes to everyone, oftentimes without warning and in the prime of life. I thought this morning of the words of an unusual philosopher, Walter Hagen, who is a golfer, who one time said I think something which we should all ponder today: 'We are only here for a little while, don't forget to smell the flowers.'

REMARKS BY SENATOR NEWSCHWANDER

Senator Newschwander: "I was shocked this morning when I heard on the news that Willi was not with us anymore. It was beyond my comprehension how one family can have two tragedies in such a short time.

"It was my privilege to have met Willi several times during the last three years. He was a former student at PLU, and we have all known Jolene with the work that she has done in the Legislature. I have gotten to know Jolene over the years as she attended the Ethics Committee very religiously and the work that she has done to open our eyes is beyond imagination.

"I would just at this time want to wish Jolene and her family and the family of Janie Diepenbrock our condolences and although things are dark today, things will be better tomorrow."

The members of the Senate observed a moment of silence in memory of Willi Unsoeld.

MOTION

At 12:30 p.m., on motion of Senator Walgren, the Senate recessed until 1:45 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The examination of the financial affairs of (~~((townships, cities and towns, and school))~~) all taxing districts shall be made at (~~((least once in every two years; all other examinations shall be made at least once a year))~~) such reasonable, periodic intervals as the state auditor shall determine. Wilful false swearing in any such examination shall be perjury and punishable as such.

A report of such examination shall be made in triplicate, one copy to be filed in the office of the state auditor, one in the auditing department of the taxing district reported upon, and one in the office of the attorney general. If any such report discloses malfeasance, misfeasance, or nonfeasance in office on the part of any public officer or employee, within thirty days from the receipt of his copy of the report, the attorney general shall institute, in the proper county, such legal action as is proper in the premises by civil process and prosecute the same to final determination to carry into effect the findings of the examination.

It shall be unlawful for the county commissioners or any board or officer to make a settlement or compromise of any claim arising out of such malfeasance, misfeasance, or nonfeasance, or any action commenced therefor, or for any court to enter upon any compromise or settlement of such action, without the written approval and consent of the attorney general and the state auditor."

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 2, 1979.

Mr. President: The House has passed ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2149 with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Section 1. This act shall be known and cited as "The Transitional Bilingual Instruction Act of 1979". The legislature finds that there are large numbers of children who come from homes where the primary language is other than English. Experience has shown that classes which are taught in English are inadequate to meet the needs of these children. The legislature finds that a bilingual education program can meet the needs of these children. Pursuant to the policy of this state to insure equal educational opportunity to every child in this state, it is the purpose of this act to provide for the implementation of bilingual education programs in the public schools, and to provide supplemental financial assistance to help local school districts to meet the extra costs of these programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. As used in this act, unless the context thereof indicates to the contrary:

(1) "Transitional bilingual instruction" means a system of instruction which uses two languages, one of which is English, as a means of instruction to build upon and expand language skills to enable the pupil to achieve competency in English. Concepts and information are introduced in the primary language and reinforced in the second language: PROVIDED, That the program shall include testing in the subject matter in English.

(2) "Primary language" means the language most often used by the student for communication in his/her home.

(3) "Eligible pupil" means any enrollee of the school district whose primary language is other than English and whose English language skills are sufficiently deficient or absent to impair learning when taught only in English, but shall not include pupils who are equally or almost equally competent in English and other languages.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Every school district board of directors shall:

(1) Make available to each eligible pupil bilingual instruction in accord with rules of the superintendent of public instruction: PROVIDED, That such rules shall provide that any school district with a limited number of pupils of the same non-English dominant language shall not be required to activate a new bilingual program but may carry on an alternative instructional program utilizing resources available to the district.

(2) Wherever feasible, ensure that communications to parents emanating from the schools shall be appropriately bilingual for those parents of pupils in the bilingual instruction program.

(3) Annually determine by administration of a test approved by the superintendent of public instruction the number of eligible pupils enrolled in the school district.

(4) Provide in-service training for all teachers, counselors, and other staff, who are involved in bilingual education within the district. Such training shall include appropriate instructional strategies for children of culturally different backgrounds, use of curriculum materials, and bilingual program models.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Every school district board of directors may appoint, maintain, and receive recommendations from an advisory committee of persons including parents whose children are in the bilingual instruction program and bilingual teachers and other staff members.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The superintendent of public instruction shall prepare and issue prior to September, 1979, program development guidelines to assist school districts in preparing their programs. Rules for implementation of this bilingual instruction act shall be promulgated by the superintendent of public instruction in accordance with chapter 34.04 RCW no later than May 15, 1980.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The superintendent of public instruction shall prepare and submit biennially to the governor and the legislature a budget request for bilingual instruction programs. Moneys appropriated by the legislature for the purposes of this act shall be allocated by the superintendent of public instruction to school districts for the sole purpose of operating an approved bilingual instruction program; priorities for funding shall exist for the early elementary grades. No moneys shall be allocated pursuant to this section to fund more than three school years of bilingual instruction for each eligible pupil within a district: PROVIDED, That such moneys may be allocated to fund more than three school years of bilingual instruction for any pupil who fails to demonstrate improvement in English language skills adequate to remove impairment of learning when taught only in English. The superintendent of public instruction shall set standards and approve a test for the measurement of such English language skills. School districts are hereby empowered to accept grants, gifts, donations, devices and other gratuities from private and public sources to aid in accomplishing the purposes of sections 1 through 6 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Section 3 of this act shall take effect September 1, 1980.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Sections 1 through 6 of this act are added to chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and to chapter 28A.58 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.", and the same is herewith transmitted.

MOTION

At 2:40 p.m., on motion of Senator Walgren, the Senate recessed until 3:40 p.m.

SECOND AFTERNOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 3:40 p.m.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Marsh, the Senate advanced to the sixth order of business.

On motion of Senator Marsh, the Senate commenced consideration of Second Substitute House Bill No. 204.

SECOND READING

SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 204, by Committee on State Government (originally sponsored by Representatives Becker, Struthers, D. Nelson, Mitchell, Houchen, Rohrbach and Addison) (by Governor Ray request):

Establishing a criminal justice division and council in the governor's office.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the rules were suspended, Second Substitute House Bill No. 204 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Rasmussen, in the ways and means committee we have done a lot of questioning of the department of social and health services about adult corrections and we have also talked to the board of prison terms and parole and we have talked to the jail commission and a lot of other justice-related organizations and I wonder if you could tell me on page three of the bill, it says that one of the responsibilities of this council is to develop comprehensive, unified and and orderly procedures to ensure that all local plans and all state and local criminal justice projects are in accord with the comprehensive state plan for juvenile and criminal justice. Would it be your intention, or would it be your belief that that says that this agency is now the central planning agency for the state as far as criminal justice goes?"

Senator Rasmussen: "No, I would think that this would relate only to the fact that they will allocate funds in accordance with any law that we have passed and see that the funds are spent in a unified and orderly procedure. These funds go out in grants to the local level to local police and sheriffs and so forth, and that would be my understanding of that."

Senator McDermott: "So you would not believe that they had any statewide planning function beyond the allocation of the money that comes from the federal government? In other words, DSHS will continue to plan by itself and the board of prison terms and parole will continue to plan by itself, and the jails commission will plan by itself? This is not an attempt to bring those together under one agency?"

Senator Rasmussen: "I would think not, Senator McDermott. I would think that if they had recommendations for new legislation in that respect that they then would be required to bring those before the legislature and get them adopted in law."

Senator McDermott: "Thank you."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson: "Senator Rasmussen, I am a little bit concerned on page three, starting on line thirteen, 'to perform such duties as set forth by the Governor in matters relating to juvenile and criminal justice'. Now, we are revising this juvenile code in this session of the legislature. I want to know what affect that has on the revision of the juvenile code; secondly, I would like to know what the fiscal impact of this measure is going to be, or if you had a fiscal impact run on it?"

Senator Rasmussen: "It would be my understanding you are referring to line thirteen, 'to perform such duties as set forth by the Governor in matters relating to juvenile and criminal justice'. I don't think that the Governor's office can require any duties other than set out by law. The Governor's office cannot create law. They can have advice and recommendations, but when it comes to the grants at the local level the advisory council will then make a recommendation as to whether or not they are following out these juvenile and criminal justice as set out by law and it can be set out no other way. Rule or regulation will not cover that."

Senator Peterson: "All right, how about the fiscal impact?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Fiscal impact is one million state funds and twenty-four million federal funds."

Senator Peterson: "How much federal?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Twenty-four million."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bluechel, Second Substitute House Bill No. 204 was ordered held on the third reading calendar for Tuesday, March 6, 1979.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Marsh, the Senate returned to the fourth order of business.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 2, 1979.

Mr. President: The House has passed SENATE BILL NO. 2077 with the following amendments;

On page 1, line 14, after the period insert "Any reduction in rates granted in whatever manner to low income senior citizens in one part of a service area shall be uniformly extended to low income senior citizens in all other parts of the service area."

On page 1, line 14, strike "implementing such reduced rates." and insert "providing the utility services.", and the same is herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk.
 VITO T. CHIECHI, Chief Clerk.

MOTION

Senator Bottiger moved the Senate do concur in the House amendments to Senate Bill No. 2077.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gallagher: "Senator Bottiger, does this allow the municipality whose service area extends beyond the city limits to offer our low income senior citizens a reduced rate by way of rebate taken from the city's general fund?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, it is the intent of the makers of the amendment in the House and I would presume that it would be the intent of the Senate if they concur, that in the case — and I will use Tacoma which areas you and I represent — if they offer a rebate to bring about an effectively reduced rate for low income senior citizens, at the time the interpretation was the city's general revenues could not be used to effectively reduce the rate of low income senior citizens outside the city. This amendment would authorize such a rebate throughout the service area. Now, in addition to the city of Tacoma and there are many other municipalities whose service area is not coincidental with their city boundaries. Seattle City Light has customers outside the boundary area and it is the purpose of the House amendment to say that if you have a program for your customers, that that program be co-extensive with your service area, not necessarily with your city limit boundaries. So, the same rate should apply outside as it does inside."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Senator Bottiger, to refresh my memory, are the provisions in this bill entirely optional with each individual utility?"

Senator Bottiger: "Absolutely, Senator, this bill is the result of an auditor's report challenging the authority of several cities in the state; Seattle, Tacoma, Ellensburg, to offer a rate classification for senior citizens and this bill says they can, as they have been doing."

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and the Senate concurred in the House amendments to Senate Bill No. 2077.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 2, 1979.

Mr. President: The House has passed SENATE BILL NO. 2045 with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Section 1. Section 1, chapter 90, Laws of 1969 as last amended by section 5, chapter 327, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 75.28.095 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Every owner of a vessel used as a charter boat from which salmon and other food fish are taken for personal use shall obtain a yearly charter boat license for each such vessel, and the fee for said license shall be two hundred dollars per annum. PROVIDED, That))~~ Every owner of a vessel used as a charter boat from which only food fish other than salmon are taken for personal use shall obtain a yearly charter boat license for each vessel, and the fee for said license shall be one hundred dollars per annum. "Charter boat" means any vessel from which persons may, for a fee, angle for food fish, and which delivers food fish taken from waters either within or without the territorial boundaries of the state of Washington into state ports.

No vessel may engage in both charter or sports fishing and commercial fishing on the same day. A vessel may be licensed for both charter boat fishing and for commercial fishing at the same time: PROVIDED, That the license and delivery permit allowing the the activity not being engaged in shall be deposited with the fisheries patrol officer for that area or an agent designated by the director.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to mean that vessels not generally engaged in charter boat fishing, and under private lease or charter being operated by the lessee for the lessee's personal recreational enjoyment, shall be included under the provisions of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 75.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Every owner of a vessel used as a charter boat from which salmon and other food fish are taken for personal use shall obtain a yearly charter boat license for each such vessel, whether resident or nonresident, and the fee for the license shall be two hundred dollars per annum. However, vessels used by guides for clients seeking salmon for personal use in freshwater rivers, streams, and lakes, other than Lake Washington or that part of the Columbia river below the bridge at Longview, are not charter boats under this section or RCW 75.28.095.

Sec. 3. Section 2, chapter 327, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 75.18.110 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall not acquire, construct, or substantially improve any salmon enhancement facility unless the requirements of this section are met.

(a) The productivity of any salmon propagation facility is very dependent on water quantity and quality. Since there is a limited number of water sources which meet the critical needs of a facility it is imperative that these sources are acquired. Therefore, site acquisitions and preliminary design shall be considered by the department as generally having priority over project development.

(b) Prior to expending any moneys for the construction and development of any particular salmon propagation facility, except for site acquisition and preliminary design, the department shall, with the advice of the advisory council created in subsection (2) of this section, give consideration to the following factors with respect to that facility:

- (i) The department's management authority over propagated salmon;
- (ii) The level of expected Canadian interception on the propagated salmon and whether this would be acceptable;
- (iii) Whether an acceptable agreement has been reached on the status of treaty Indian salmon harvest; and
- (iv) Whether there can be a maximum harvest of propagated salmon with a tolerable impact on other salmonid stocks, both natural and artificial, and on their environment. The department shall consult on this matter with the department of game.

(2) To aid and advise the department in the performance of its functions as specified by this section with regard to the salmon enhancement program, a salmon advisory council is hereby created. The advisory council shall consist of ten members appointed by the governor; the director of the department of fisheries, who shall be chairman; the director of the department of game, or the director's designee; one member of the senate to be appointed by the president of the senate; and one member of the house of representatives to be appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives. Of the members appointed by the governor, two shall represent troll fishermen; two shall represent gill net fishermen, of which one shall be from the Puget Sound area and one from the southwest Washington area; one shall represent purse seine fishermen; one shall represent owners of charter boats; two shall represent sportsmen; and two shall represent fish processors, of which one shall represent fresh or frozen fish processors and one shall represent canneries.

The terms of the initial members appointed by the governor expire on December 31, 1979. Thereafter, all members appointed by the governor shall serve terms of two years.

The advisory council shall be convened by the director prior to the decision to expend any funds for construction and development of any salmon propagation facility. The council shall advise the director with regard to the considerations listed in subsection (1)(b) of this section and any other factors the council deems relevant with respect to the proposed facility.

Vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as original appointments. Except for the director of the department of game and legislative members, members shall receive reimbursement through the department of fisheries for travel expenses incurred in the performance of their duties in accordance with RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060 as now existing or hereafter amended.

The director of the department of game, or the director's designee, shall receive reimbursement through the department of game for travel expenses incurred in the performance of his or her duties in accordance with RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060 as now existing or hereafter amended. The legislative members shall be deemed engaged in legislative business while in attendance upon the business of the council and shall be limited to such allowances therefor as otherwise provided in RCW 44.04.120 as now existing or hereafter amended.

The salmon advisory council shall cease to exist on December 31, 1989.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

On page 1, on line 1 of the title, after "fish;" delete "and"

On page 1, on line 3 of the title, after "75.28.095" and before the period, insert "; amending section 2, chapter 327, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 75.18.110; adding a new section to chapter 75.28 RCW; providing an expiration date; and declaring an emergency", and the same is herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk.
VITO T. CHIECHI, Chief Clerk.

Any person authorized by the utilities and transportation commission to operate a motor vehicle for the conveyance of freight or passengers for hire as a common carrier or as a contract carrier, and so operating such vehicle partly within and partly outside of this state during any calendar year, shall be entitled to a refund of that portion of the full excise tax for such vehicle for such year that the mileage actually operated by such vehicle outside the state bears to the total mileage so operated both within and outside of the state: PROVIDED, If only one-half of the full excise fee was paid, the unpaid one-half shall be deducted from the amount of refund so determined: PROVIDED FURTHER, If only a one-half fee was paid, and the vehicle was operated in this state more than fifty percent of the total miles operated, a balance of the tax is due equal to an amount which is the same percentage of the full excise fee as is the percentage of mileage the vehicle was operated in this state minus the one-half fee previously paid, and any balance due, is payable on or before the first day of June of the year in which the amount of the excise fee due the state has been determined, and until any such balance has been paid no identification plate or permit shall be thereafter issued for such vehicle or any other vehicle owned by the same person. Any claim for such refund shall be filed with the department of ~~((motor vehicles))~~ licensing at Olympia not later than December 31st of the calendar year following the year for which refund is claimed and any claim filed after said date shall not be allowed. If the department approves the claim it shall notify the state treasurer to that effect, and the treasurer shall make such approved refunds and the other refunds herein provided for from the general fund and shall mail or deliver the same to the person entitled thereto.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 2, 1979.

Mr. President: The House has passed SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2097 with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 46.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

"Moped" means any two-wheeled or three-wheeled device having fully operative pedals for propulsion by human power and a motor with a cylinder displacement not exceeding fifty cubic centimeters which produces no more than two gross brake horsepower (developed by a prime mover, as measured by a brake applied to the driving shaft) and is capable of propelling the device at a maximum speed of not more than thirty miles per hour on level ground, and the wheels of which are at least sixteen inches in diameter.

The state commission on equipment may approve of and define as a "moped" a vehicle which fails to meet these specific criteria, but which is essentially similar in performance and application to vehicles which do meet these specific criteria.

Sec. 2. Section 46.04.330, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 and RCW 46.04.330 are each amended to read as follows:

"Motorcycle" means every motor vehicle having a saddle for the use of the rider and designed to travel on not more than three wheels in contact with the ground, but excluding a farm tractor and a moped.

Sec. 3. Section 28, chapter 154, Laws of 1963 and RCW 46.04.332 are each amended to read as follows:

"Motor-driven cycle" means every motorcycle, including every motor scooter, with a motor which produces not to exceed five brake horsepower (developed by a prime mover, as measured by a brake applied to the driving shaft) (~~(- and every bicycle with motor attached)~~). A motor driven cycle does not include a moped.

Sec. 4. Section 46.04.670, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 and RCW 46.04.670 are each amended to read as follows:

"Vehicle" includes every device capable of being moved upon a public highway and in, upon, or by which any persons or property is or may be transported or drawn upon a public highway, excepting devices moved by human or animal power or used exclusively upon stationary rails or tracks, except that mopeds shall be considered vehicles or motor vehicles for the purposes of chapter 46.12 RCW, but not for the purposes of chapter 46.70 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. There is added to chapter 46.16 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Application for registration of a moped shall be made to the department of licensing in such manner and upon such forms as the department shall prescribe, and shall state the name and address of each owner of the moped to be registered, the vehicle identification number, and such other information as the department may require, and shall be accompanied by a registration fee of three dollars. Upon receipt of the application and the application fee, the moped shall be registered and a registration number assigned, which shall be affixed to the moped in the manner as provided by rules adopted by the department. The registration provided in this section shall be valid for a period of twelve months.

Every owner of a moped in this state shall renew the registration, in such manner as the department shall prescribe, for an additional period of twelve months, upon payment of a renewal fee of three dollars.

Any person acquiring a moped already validly registered must, within fifteen days of the acquisition or purchase of the moped, make application to the department for transfer of the registration, and the application shall be accompanied by a transfer fee of one dollar.

The registration fees provided in this section shall be in lieu of any personal property tax or the vehicle excise tax imposed by chapter 82.44 RCW.

The department shall, at the time the registration number is assigned, make available a decal or other identifying device to be displayed on the moped. A fee of one dollar and fifty cents shall be charged for the decal or other identifying device.

The provisions of RCW 46.01.130 and 46.01.140 shall apply to applications for the issuance of registration numbers or renewals or transfers thereof for mopeds as they do to the issuance of vehicle licenses, the appointment of agents, and the collection of application fees. Except for the fee collected pursuant to RCW 46.01.140, all fees collected under this section shall be deposited in the motor vehicle fund.

Sec. 6. Section 1, chapter 232, Laws of 1967 and RCW 46.20.500 are each amended to read as follows:

No person shall drive a motorcycle, as defined in RCW 46.04.330, or a motor-driven cycle, as defined in RCW 46.04.332 as now or hereafter amended, unless such person has a valid driver's license specially endorsed by the director to enable the holder to drive such vehicles: PROVIDED, That any person sixteen years of age or older, holding a valid driver's license of any class issued by the state of the person's residence, may operate a moped without taking any special examination for the operation of a moped.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hansen, the Senate refused to concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2142 and asks the House to recede therefrom.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 2, 1979.

Mr. President: The House has passed SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2184 with the following amendments:

On page 1, after line 24, insert the following:

"Sec. 2. Section 4, chapter 127, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 43.83A.040 are each amended to read as follows:

The proceeds from the sale of the bonds deposited in the state and local improvements revolving account of the general fund under the terms of this chapter shall be administered by the state department of ecology subject to legislative appropriation. The department may use or permit the use of any funds derived from the sale of bonds authorized under this chapter to accomplish the purpose for which said bonds are issued by direct expenditures and by grants or loans to public bodies, including grants to public bodies as matching funds in any case where federal, local or other funds are made available on a matching basis for improvements within the purposes of this chapter.

The department may not use or permit the use of any funds derived from the sale of bonds authorized by this chapter for the support of a solid waste recycling activity or service in a locale if the department determines that the activity or service is reasonably available to persons within that locale from private enterprise.

Integration of the management and operation of systems for solid waste disposal with systems of liquid waste disposal holds promise of improved waste disposal efficiency and greater environmental protection and restoration. To encourage the planning for and development of such integration, the legislature may provide for special grant incentives to public bodies which plan for or operate integrated waste disposal management systems."

On page 1, on line 1 of the title, delete "and"

On page 1, on line 3 of the title, after "43.83A.050" and before the period insert "; amending section 4, chapter 127, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 43.83A.040", and the same is herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk.

VITO T. CHIECHI, Chief Clerk.

MOTION

Senator Williams moved the Senate concur in the House amendments to Substitute Senate Bill No. 2184.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Williams: "Senator Guess, the original bill allowed bond monies to be utilized for recycling, public recycling centers. This was an expansion of the previous definition of the use of those bonds. The House added an amendment which restricted the use of those monies for recycling in an instance where there is a reasonable private recycling effort going on and the decision to be made on that is referred to the department of ecology director.

"I would like to ask if your understanding of that would be that still local governments would not be precluded from submitting an application in spite of a private recycler in their area and allowing that that decision then as to what is reasonable would take into account reasonable in the eyes of that local unit of government in terms of the private recycling activity being satisfactory, readily available, et cetera. Is that your understanding?"

Senator Guess: "That is my impression, Senator Williams. In certain instances we find that the recycler, the small recycler in free enterprise does not have the means whereby he can do it and if he was asked to undertake the recycling it would require that he go out and borrow money at a rate that he could not handle, and therefore it would be unreasonable. And, I think what we want to do is we want to make sure that the local communities can cooperate in every reasonable way of getting a recycling program going."

The motion by Senator Williams carried.

The Senate concurred in the House amendments to Substitute Senate Bill No. 2184.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
REGARDING DAVID CRAIG RUNYAN

Office of the Governor, February 27, 1979.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN;

In compliance with the provisions of Section 11 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Washington, I have the honor to submit herewith my report of each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon which has been granted since the adjournment of the First Extraordinary Session of the Forty-Fifth Regular Session of the Legislature.

On the 14th day of July, 1967, David Craig Runyan was convicted and sentenced for the felony offense of Unlawful Sale of Narcotics by the Superior Court for the State of Washington in and for the County of Kittitas under Cause Number C-6724 to a maximum term of twenty years.

David Craig Runyan was paroled by the Washington State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles on the 15th day of September, 1969. He was granted a Conditional Discharge from Supervision on the 28th day of September, 1971 and granted a Final Discharge Restoring Civil Rights by the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles on the 8th day of January, 1973. Numerous petitions and letters have been received on behalf of David Craig Runyan urging that his twenty year maximum term be cancelled. It appears from the information presented that David Craig Runyan has evolved into the type of person who makes extraordinary contributions to the peace and dignity of the citizens of our state.

On May 16, 1978, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the laws of the State of Washington, I do hereby pardon David Craig Runyan of the crime of Unlawful Sale of Narcotics and do release and discharge David Craig Runyan from any further punishment, penalty or obligation by reason of the conviction of the crime of Unlawful Sale of Narcotics, and do restore all civil rights forfeited by reason of this conviction.

Respectfully submitted,
DIXY LEE RAY

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
REGARDING BYRON B. KENT

Office of the Governor, February 27, 1979.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

In compliance with the provisions of Section 11 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Washington, I have the honor to submit herewith my report of each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon which has been granted since the adjournment of the First Extraordinary Session of the Forty-Fifth Regular Session of the Legislature.

Byron B. Kent was found guilty of Possession of Amphetamines by the Superior Court of the State of Washington for Yakima County on February 4, 1974, and was given a three year deferred sentence. Mr. Kent satisfactorily performed the terms of his probation and in less than the three years was granted an order of dismissal on April 26, 1976, in the Yakima County Superior Court, which restored his civil rights.

During his probation, but more particularly since the dismissal of the charges against him, Mr. Kent has fully demonstrated his rehabilitation. The record indicates that he is drug and alcohol free, is responsibly employed and community oriented. A substantial cross-section of the citizenry where he lives and works, including some law enforcement people, support his request for pardon.

On September 14, 1977, Byron B. Kent was granted a pardon from the judgment and sentence of Possession of Amphetamines entered on February 4, 1974, by the Superior Court of the State of Washington for Yakima County.

On February 10, 1978, this pardon was amended to further restore Mr. Kent's right to possess and bear arms.

Respectfully submitted,
DIXY LEE RAY
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR REGARDING ALICE AVERY

Office of the Governor, February 27, 1979.
TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

In compliance with the provisions of Section 11 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Washington, I have the honor to submit herewith my report of each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon which has been granted since the adjournment of the First Extraordinary Session of the Forty-Fifth Regular Session of the Legislature.

On July 18, 1975, Alice Avery was sentenced to a Federal penitentiary for a term of six months and a three year probationary period of Judge Marshall Neill of the Federal District Court, Eastern District of Washington. The crime was the sale of 23.19 grams of heroin, being a violation of Titles 21 and 18 of the United States Code.

Alice Avery was released from parole status and probation by order of Marshall Neill, United States District Judge on March 1, 1977. This is verified by letter dated March 9, 1977, signed by Gary V. Vargas, United States Probation Officer.

While the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles has the statutory authority to grant a restoration of civil rights to a person convicted of a felony under state law, it does not have such authority where a person is convicted under federal law. The Governor, however, does have the authority to restore within this state the civil rights of a person convicted of a felony under federal law.

It is reported to me by investigation of the Washington State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles that Alice Avery has a responsible position in a Seattle law firm as a legal secretary. She is rearing four children and her conduct strongly indicates she is maintaining a law abiding posture in the community. The Board has recommended restoration of her civil rights and I agree this should be done.

On February 6, 1978, by virtue of the authority vested in me, I do hereby restore to Alice Avery all civil rights and privileges forfeited by reason of her conviction.

Respectfully submitted,
DIXY LEE RAY
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
REGARDING GREGORY WAYNE DAVIS

Office of the Governor, February 27, 1979.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

In compliance with the provisions of Section 11 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Washington, I have the honor to submit herewith my report of each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon which has been granted since the adjournment of the First Extraordinary Session of the Forty-Fifth Regular Session of the Legislature.

On the first day of January, 1977, Gregory Wayne Davis was sentenced by the Superior Court of the State of Washington in and for the County of Kitsap under Cause Number 2995 to a maximum term of five years and a mandatory minimum term of two years for the felony offense of Sale of a Controlled Substance (Heroin) and a Finding of Fact was entered that Gregory Wayne Davis sold the heroin for profit which required the mandatory minimum term of two years under RCW 69.50.410.

The sentencing judge by letter dated July 11, 1977 expressed that the court was favorably impressed with the cooperative attitude of Gregory Wayne Davis and made a recommendation to the Washington State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles that he be considered favorably for an intensive probation program in the community.

The superintendent of Firlands Correctional Center by letter of March 27, 1978, on the basis of Gregory Wayne Davis' above-average adjustment within the correctional facility, recommended a waiver of the mandatory sentence and further recommended that Gregory Wayne Davis be scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 1978.

By letter of March 3, 1978 the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles recommended that the mandatory minimum term of two years be commuted to give the Board the authority to consider Gregory Wayne Davis for parole.

On May 16, 1978, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the laws of the State of Washington, I do hereby commute the mandatory portion of the five-year sentence of Gregory Wayne Davis and authorize the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles to parole Gregory Wayne Davis subject to the complete control, supervision and authority of said Board, which authority shall include any and all action deemed appropriate by the Board, including the authority to revoke the parole and return Gregory Wayne Davis to imprisonment.

Respectfully submitted,
DIXY LEE RAY
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
REGARDING TRINIDAD TREVINO

Office of the Governor, February 27, 1979.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

In compliance with the provisions of Section 11 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Washington, I have the honor to submit herewith my report of each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon which has been granted since the adjournment of the First Extraordinary Session of the Forty-Fifth Regular Session of the Legislature.

Trinidad Trevino was found guilty of Illegal Possession of Narcotic Drugs (Marijuana) and committed to a Washington State Correctional Facility on June 13, 1969. The amount of marijuana in possession was less than two grams, but on such date any possession was considered a felony.

Mr. Trevino not only served over one year in prison, but was deported to Mexico. His family continues to reside in the State of Washington.

On November 16, 1977, the Washington State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles granted to Mr. Trevino a Final Discharge and Restoration of Civil Rights. The Board has also recommended a gubernatorial pardon so that Mr. Trevino can rejoin his family in Grandview, Washington.

It does not appear that Trinidad Trevino has in any way violated the law since his satisfactory completion of probation, and his continued deportation seems a punishment far too harsh for the crime involved in 1969. In addition, many supporting letters have been submitted attesting to his continued good conduct. The record merits executive pardon.

On February 2, 1978, Trinidad Trevino was granted a pardon from the judgment and sentence of Illegal Possession of Narcotic Drugs (Cause 2465) entered on June 15, 1969, by the Superior Court of the State of Washington for Adams County.

Respectfully submitted,
DIXY LEE RAY
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR REGARDING KATHERINE LOUISE HUFF

Office of the Governor, February 27, 1979.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

In compliance with the provisions of Section 11 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Washington, I have the honor to submit herewith my report of each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon which has been granted since the adjournment of the First Extraordinary Session of the Forty-Fifth Regular Session of the Legislature.

On the 3rd day of November, 1967, Katherine Louise Huff was sentenced by the Superior Court for the State of Washington in and for the County of Spokane under Cause Number 18538 to a mandatory term of life imprisonment for the crime of Murder in the First Degree.

Katherine Louise Huff has been continuously confined in excess of ten years since the date of her sentence, and her conduct and record have been exemplary. Katherine Louise Huff has been granted the status of work release for six years and has completed over one hundred social outings in the community successfully. Because of the statutory minimum sentence provided in RCW 9.95, substantial additional incarceration will be required before she will be eligible for parole pursuant to the authority of the Washington State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles.

The Board has interviewed Katherine Louise Huff and has advised that she has demonstrated that her progress in the institution has been outstanding, and the Board recommended that her sentence be commuted and the Board be given the authority to consider her for parole to an acceptable plan.

All information available to me with respect to Katherine Louise Huff has been carefully reviewed, and the recommendations of public officers who are knowledgeable of her present circumstances have been considered. I have concluded that further incarceration of Katherine Louise Huff is not in the best interest of society or of herself, that she is demonstrably rehabilitated, that she will be able to fill a responsible role in the community and will not be a threat to other persons.

On the 16th day of May, 1978, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the laws of the State of Washington, I do hereby commute the life sentence of Katherine Louise Huff and authorize the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles to parole Katherine Louise Huff subject to the complete control, supervision and authority of said Board, which authority shall include any and all action deemed appropriate by the Board, including the authority to revoke the parole and return Katherine Louise Huff to imprisonment.

Respectfully submitted,
DIXY LEE RAY
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR REGARDING ROBERT HUSON

Office of the Governor, February 27, 1979.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

In compliance with the provisions of Section 11 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Washington, I have the honor to submit herewith my report of each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon which has been granted since the adjournment of the First Extraordinary Session of the Forty-Fifth Regular Session of the Legislature.

On the 26th day of May, 1967, Robert Huson was sentenced by the Superior Court for the State of Washington, in and for the County of King, to a term of life imprisonment for the crime of Murder in the First Degree.

Robert Huson has now served in excess of eleven years at the Washington State Penitentiary at Walla Walla, where his conduct and record have been exemplary. Because of the statutory minimum sentence provided in RCW Chapter 9.95, additional incarceration will be required before he will be eligible for parole pursuant to the authority of the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles.

The Superintendent and Institutional Reviewing Committee have recommended to the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles that the Board recommend on behalf of Robert Huson to have his life sentence commuted to allow him to be considered for parole to an acceptable parole plan. The Board of Prison Terms and Paroles has recommended Robert Huson's commutation.

All information available to me with respect to Robert Huson has been carefully reviewed and the recommendations of public officers who are knowledgeable of his present circumstances have been considered. I have concluded that further incarceration of Robert Huson is not in the best interests of society or of himself, that he is demonstrably rehabilitated, that he will be able to fill a responsible role in the community and will not be a threat to other persons.

On March 1, 1978, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the laws of the State of Washington, do hereby commute the life sentence of Robert Huson and authorize the Washington State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles to parole Robert Huson subject to the complete control, supervision and authority of said Board, which authority shall include any and all action deemed appropriate by the Board, including the authority to revoke the parole and return Robert Huson to imprisonment.

Respectfully submitted,
DIXY LEE RAY
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
REGARDING RICHARD MONTGOMERY

Office of the Governor, February 27, 1979.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

In compliance with the provisions of Section 11 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Washington, I have the honor to submit herewith my report of each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon which has been granted since the adjournment of the First Extraordinary Session of the Forty-Fifth Regular Session of the Legislature.

On September 8, 1977, Richard Montgomery was sentenced by the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington to confinement in a Federal Penitentiary for a period of five years with a special two year parole to follow. The conviction concerned a violation of Title 21 United States Code 841 (a) (1) and Title 18 United States Code 2, Possession of Marijuana With Intent To Distribute.

Mr. Montgomery was discharged from parole on December 1, 1977, by action of the United States Department of Justice.

While the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles has the statutory authority to grant a restoration of civil rights to a person convicted of a felony under state law, it does not have such authority where a person is convicted under federal law. However, the Governor does have the authority to restore within this state the civil rights of a person convicted of a felony under federal law.

Richard Montgomery has petitioned my office for the restoration of his civil rights and I have this authority. His petition is supported by his employer, Mr. Bill Lupinacci, of the Pioneer School District, No. 402, Shelton, Washington, and by others attesting to his good character and capabilities. He is further supported by his former Federal Probation Officer, Walter D. Myers. I believe this to be an appropriate case for restoration of civil rights.

On February 6, 1978, by virtue of the authority in me vested, do hereby restore to Richard Montgomery all civil rights and privileges forfeited by reason of his conviction.

Respectfully submitted,
DIXY LEE RAY
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
REGARDING ALFRED C. BOILEAU

Office of the Governor, February 27, 1979.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

In compliance with the provisions of Section 11 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Washington, I have the honor to submit herewith my report of each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon which has been granted since the adjournment of the First Extraordinary Session of the Forty-Fifth Regular Session of the Legislature.

On December 1, 1972, Alfred C. Boileau was sentenced by the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington to confinement in a federal penitentiary for a period of thirty days for the crime of making a false statement in an official matter; being a violation of 18 U.S.C. 1001 Article VI, Section 3 of the State Constitution disqualifies a person convicted of a felony from voting in the State of Washington.

While the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles has the statutory authority to grant a restoration of civil rights to a person convicted of a felony under state law, it does not have such authority where a person is convicted under federal law. However, the Governor does have the authority to restore, within this state, the civil rights of a person convicted of a felony under federal law.

I am advised that Alfred C. Boileau has conducted himself in a satisfactory and acceptable manner and has given such evidence as to justify the belief that he is trustworthy and reliable and that a restoration of his civil rights is appropriate. In addition, he has established, by presenting himself for office and being elected as Mayor of Cosmopolis, that he has the respect of his peers and the confidence of his friends and neighbors.

On July 15, 1977, by virtue of the authority in me vested, do hereby restore to Alfred C. Boileau all civil rights and privileges forfeited by reason of his conviction.

Respectfully submitted,
DIXY LEE RAY
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
REGARDING RONNIE JOE NICHOLS

Office of the Governor, February 27, 1979.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

In compliance with the provisions of Section 11 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Washington, I have the honor to submit herewith my report of each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon which has been granted since the adjournment of the First Extraordinary Session of the Forty-Fifth Regular Session of the Legislature.

On the 18th day of March, 1966, Ronnie Joe Nichols was sentenced by the Superior Court for the State of Washington in and for the County of King under Cause Number 43320 to the term of life imprisonment for the felony offense of Murder in the First Degree.

Ronnie Joe Nichols has now served in excess of eleven years continuously confined within Washington State correctional institutions where his conduct has been outstanding. Because of the statutory minimum sentence provided in RCW 9.95, additional incarceration will be required before he will be eligible for parole pursuant to the authority of the Washington State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles.

The superintendent of the Washington State Penitentiary has recommended on several occasions that further incarceration is unnecessary for Ronnie Joe Nichols and the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles has reviewed the recommendation of the superintendent several times in the past. The Board now recommends commutation of the life sentence of Ronnie Joe Nichols.

All information available to me with respect to Ronnie Joe Nichols has been carefully reviewed and the recommendations of public officers who are knowledgeable of his present circumstances have been considered. I have concluded that further incarceration of Ronnie Joe Nichols is not in the best interest of society or of himself, that he is demonstrably rehabilitated, that he will be able to fill a responsible role in the community and will not be a threat to other persons.

On May 16, 1978, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the laws of the State of Washington, do hereby commute the life sentence of Ronnie Joe Nichols and authorize the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles to parole Ronnie Joe Nichols subject to the complete control, supervision and authority of said Board, which authority shall include any and all action deemed appropriate by the Board, including the authority to revoke the parole and return Ronnie Joe Nichols to imprisonment.

Respectfully submitted,
DIXY LEE RAY
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
REGARDING HEINZE JAGER

Office of the Governor, March 1, 1979.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

In compliance with the provisions of Section 11 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Washington, I have the honor to submit herewith my report of each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon which has been granted since the adjournment of the First Extraordinary Session of the Forty-Fifth Regular Session of the Legislature. The following order was signed by me on April 25, 1978.

ORDER RELEASING HEINZE JAGER TO THE CUSTODY OF THE SWISS GOVERNMENT FOR COMPLETION OF SENTENCE

Whereas, Heinz Jager is a Swiss National who was sentenced on January 7, 1977 to life imprisonment following his conviction for First Degree Murder in King County Superior Court and such sentence carries a mandatory imprisonment of twenty consecutive years less earned good time (for a total period of incarceration of thirteen years and four months) and may not be released until paroled by the Washington State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles; and

Mr. Jager suffers from a severe mental illness for which there are inadequate treatment facilities at the Washington State Penitentiary at Walla Walla, Washington, where Mr. Jager is currently incarcerated; and

Psychiatrists and mental health professionals at the penitentiary have concluded that Mr. Jager should be released to the Swiss authorities who are willing and able to treat his mental illnesses and ensure the public's safety by continuing Mr. Jager's confinement; and

The United States Department of Justice, Immigration and Naturalization Service, has entered an order deporting Mr. Jager to Switzerland, which is to take effect upon his release from Washington custody; and

Based on the foregoing, it would appear to be in the best interests of the State of Washington and of the defendant, Heinze Jager, that he be released from the custody of the State of Washington and deported to Switzerland, there to finish serving the life sentence imposed upon him by this state, and not be released from custody prior to the mandatory stipulation of his life sentence, which will be completed on May 6, 1990 if his good time credits are certified.

On April 25, 1978, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the laws of the State of Washington, I do hereby order that Heinze Jager be released to the appropriate United States Government authorities, as soon as reasonably possible, for his deportation to Switzerland, on condition that the Swiss Government requires him to complete the life sentence, with its twenty year mandatory minimum thirteen years and four months counting good time, not before May 6, 1990, as imposed by the State of Washington, subject to the following condition that if Mr. Jager ever returns to the State of Washington he shall immediately be subject to confinement for completion of the judgment and sentence imposed upon him.

The foregoing report is respectfully submitted this first day of March, 1979.

DIXY LEE RAY
Governor.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talley: "Senator Lee, under the present law we give them at seventy. I think under this amendment here we would even take it away from them at seventy, wouldn't we?"

Senator Lee: "We are talking about how the department, in fact, should be financed and as long as they can be financed out of various fees they can give away as many as they wish to. But, if we are going to be financing them out of the general taxation revenues of the state of Washington I think we need to think for the second time. We also have to remember that the amount for a license is seven dollars and its is very doubtful to me that if a person cannot afford seven dollars for a license that they could afford the gear and so on to even be able to go fishing or the ability to get to the fishing hole in the first place."

Senator Talley: "Well, that was not my question. I say that the law now at the age of seventy they get a free fishing license. Under this amendment it would take it away from them, too."

Senator Odegaard demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the amendment by Senators Lee, Jones, Matson, Benitz, Scott and Gallagher.

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING

Amending SCR 102.

On motion of Senator Walgren, the rules were suspended, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 113 was advanced to second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Walgren, the rules were suspended, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 113 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newschwander: "Senator Walgren, has this been changed from the wording we saw this morning?"

Senator Walgren: "Yes, Senator Newschwander, it has been changed to the extent of adding 'sunset legislation' and I believe the word 'collective bargaining' and two other words 'budget' and 'budget-related bills'."

Senator Newschwander: "Can you give us about thirty seconds so that we can read the thing and make sure now?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR WALGREN

Senator Walgren: "Mr. President, this concurrent resolution is an amendment to our original cutoff resolution which was adopted on the first day of the session.

"As you know, when we adopted that particular resolution we were aiming for a sixty day session that, of course, would require the passage of the budget. We know that traditionally the budget starts this year in the House of Representatives. The indications that we have is that the House will not be able to furnish us with a budget in time for the completion of this sixty day session. As we had contemplated, we thought that this last week we could be concentrating on those matters that relate specifically to the budget and to the finances that are required for final action on that budget. Such is not the case. Consequently it would seem that the most appropriate thing would be to open up our resolution and let us consider some of the other important measures that we have not yet had an opportunity of acting upon. So this resolution is drafted in that regard. Certainly, it does not cover the full gamut of legislation that we might consider and we probably will not be able to consider everything that is in this additional resolution. But, it will permit us to so act and be able to concentrate these next two days of the regular session on some very important pieces of legislation and I urge the adoption."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: "Thank you, Mr. President. We certainly concur in the idea that the Senate and, in fact, the whole legislature should utilize its time to the best advantage toward the passing of meaningful legislation. And, for that reason we are not going to oppose this particular resolution. We cannot, however, but comment upon the fact that it is the opinion of many of us on this side that there was ample time to have considered these matters and that when comparison is made as to the time previously spent and the results of the time previously spent to expect that in the last two or three days we would have the opportunity of considering and actually enacting matters which are of substance and which, quite frankly, we think should have been taken care of at a much earlier date in the session. We still adhere to the philosophy that we should have been able to handle these things within the sixty day period and we also adhere to the philosophy that there should be, we should get

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Morrison: "Senator Walgren, has the House been involved in the preparation of this resolution?"

Senator Walgren: "Not to my knowledge, no, Senator Morrison."

Senator Morrison: "Is there any way, Senator Walgren, that we can keep them busy on the budget so that we can handle these major matters that are before them that you describe?"

Senator Walgren: "Well, Senator Morrison, I think that the House is trying in its own infinite way to try and get a budget over to us and I think that we all acknowledge that that is not going to be possible. It just seems very simple to me that we ought to be working out here on some other legislation. I think there is a good likelihood that the House might very well adopt this concurrent resolution. I hope that they do. And, I hope that they are as diligent as the Senate has been.

"I might say that Senator Clarke's remarks in some regard are certainly well taken. I would not think they are well taken with regard to the action that we have presented here in the Senate because I am sure he knows, and the other members of your side of the aisle are well aware of the rather significant pieces of legislation that we have passed, during this session of the Legislature. We do know, however, that a good bit of the legislation that we have worked upon, the good legislation that we have worked upon is now over in the House of Representatives where it is languishing and we hope that by this resolution here that we can . . . I am glad that one of the co-speakers is here with his lieutenant to hear these remarks, because it is true that it is languishing for one reason or another and we are hopeful that this particular concurrent resolution will do something to spur further action on Senate measures, as we have worked diligently on the House measures."

Senator Morrison: "Senator Walgren, one further question: What happens technically if, in fact, the House does not concur in this resolution?"

Senator Walgren: "Well, I suspect that the bills that we worked upon here to go over to the House will be sent back to us and we will have an opportunity for considering them again, but perhaps not at the length that will consider them now."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gould: "Senator Walgren, this morning when I first heard about this I understood the basic education amendments were going to be considerations. I do not see them on the resolution, was that on purpose, or . . .?"

Senator Walgren: "I think the conclusion was that the basic education amendments would take a considerable amount of debate out here on the floor. We do not have enough time to do that during the sixty-day period. We have, as you well know, considered them very seriously in both the education committee and in the ways and means committee. But, to take the remaining two days and concentrate totally upon basic education in my opinion would be an error. I think that it is the opinion of the people that worked on this particular resolution also."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 113.

The resolution was adopted.

MOTION

At 2:30 p.m., on motion of Senator Walgren, the Senate recessed until 3:00 p.m.

"IN THE CRUNCH OF TOO MUCH TO DO AND TOO LITTLE TIME TO DO IT, I HAVE A PRAYER BY JOHN HUNTER THAT IS A FAVORITE OF MINE. LET ME SHARE IT SO THAT PERHAPS IT MAY BECOME YOURS TODAY ALSO. LET US PRAY:

'DEAR MASTER, IN WHOSE LIFE I SEE
ALL THAT I WOULD, BUT FAIL TO BE;
LET THY CLEAR LIGHT FOREVER SHINE,
TO SHAME AND GUIDE THIS LIFE OF MINE.
THOUGH WHAT I DREAM AND WHAT I DO
IN MY WEAK DAYS ARE ALWAYS TWO,
HELP ME, OPPRESSED BY THINGS UNDONE,

Senator Morrison moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, line 8, after "occurred" insert

": PROVIDED FURTHER, That upon determining that there has been an overpayment, the department or self-insurer shall immediately notify the person who received the overpayment that he or she shall be required to make repayment pursuant to this act"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Quigg: "Senator Morrison, as you know there has been quite a number of cases where people have had this dual benefits paid. Will this affect these cases in their resolution or will this take effect on any new cases that develop after this, should this bill become law?"

Senator Morrison: "The amendment will have no effect on existing cases. However, the bill, as I understand it, will. A number of those are in court and they are being questioned. In fact the department has held up on a number of them and if I recall the testimony in labor committee that, in fact, they will now look at these and modify the repayment requirements for persons currently under the gun."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lysen: "Senator Morrison, we have discussed this I think after the bill came out of committee a little bit. When you say 'immediately', would that mean with, say within a month, or what would be a reasonable period of time? If that were the case that would seem reasonable and I would have no objection to this."

Senator Morrison: "We did not specify a certain time, there is usually a certain amount of administrative lag. I think we wanted to include this amendment, Senator Lysen, just to make sure the department knew that as soon as they knew that there may be an overpayment that they should notify the worker right away. I really think it is only fair that if a person may have to repay part of a check that he has gotten, that, in fact, he should know as quickly as is possible within the general grind into the bureaucracy."

Senator Lysen: "So, you say one month would be reasonable?"

Senator Morrison: "That would be fine."

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Morrison carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Lysen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2317 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2317, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; excused, 1.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On page 4, line 22, after "dollars:" insert:

"PROVIDED FURTHER, That no more than 120 days shall elapse from the date of department referral for permanent partial disability rating and claim closure:"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Lysen: "Mr. President, I would like to raise a question of scope and object on this amendment.

"House Bill 612 deals only with the limitation on the payments workers' compensation benefits, which is required in RCW 51.32.210, which requires that all the time loss payments begin within fourteen days of the date. This is the only section of the code setting time limits on benefits and it is not included in House Bill 612. House Bill 612 deals with permanent partial disability benefits and not administrative procedures on the payment of these benefits. Therefore, it is outside the scope and object of this bill."

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Marsh, Engrossed House Bill No. 612, together with the pending amendment by Senators McDermott and Morrison and the Point of Order by Senator Lysen, was ordered held following consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 92.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2333, by Senators Hansen, Clarke, Hayner, Talley, Bausch and Bluechel:

Modifying tort and product liability law.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the substitute bill was not substituted for the original bill.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Bottiger moved adoption of the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Section 1. (1) In an action based on fault seeking to recover damages for injury or death to person or harm to property, any contributory fault chargeable to the claimant diminishes proportionately the amount awarded as compensatory damages for an injury attributable to the claimant's contributory fault, but does not bar recovery. This rule applies whether or not under prior law the claimant's contributory fault constituted a defense or was disregarded under applicable legal doctrines, such as last clear chance.

(2) "Fault" includes acts or omissions that are in any measure negligent or reckless toward the person or property of the actor or others, or that subject a person to strict tort liability. The term also includes breach of warranty, unreasonable assumption of risk not constituting an enforceable express consent, misuse of a product for which the defendant otherwise would be liable, and unreasonable failure to avoid an injury or to mitigate damages. Legal requirements of causal relation apply both to fault as the basis for liability and to contributory fault.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) In all actions involving fault of more than one party to the action, including third-party defendants, persons released by the claimant, persons immune from liability to the claimant and persons with any other individual defense against the claimant, the court, unless otherwise agreed by all parties, shall instruct the jury to answer special interrogatories or, if there is no jury, shall make findings, indicating:

(a) The amount of damages each claimant would be entitled to recover if contributory fault is disregarded; and

(b) The percentage of the total fault of all of the parties to each claim that is allocated to each claimant, defendant, third-party defendant, persons released by the claimant, persons immune from liability to the claimant, and persons with any other individual defense against the claimant.

(2) In determining the percentages of fault, the trier of fact shall consider both the nature of the conduct of each party at fault and the extent of the causal relation between the conduct and the damages claimed.

(3) The court shall determine the award of damages to each claimant in accordance with the findings and enter judgment against each party liable in the amount of the equitable share of damages allocated against that party. The equitable share of each party is calculated by multiplying the party's percentage of fault determined in subsection (1)(b) of this section times the amount of damages determined in subsection (1)(a) of this section. Each party liable shall only be responsible for payment of that party's equitable share, except as provided in subsections (4) and (5) of this section.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5) of this section, a party shall be responsible for the fault of another person or for payment of the equitable share of another party liable only where both were acting in concert or in a relationship justifying imposition of vicarious liability or where provided by statute. In a product liability action, a manufacturer shall be responsible for any fault attributable to its component suppliers; but a retailer, wholesaler, distributor, or other seller shall not be responsible for the fault of a manufacturer unless:

(a) The retailer, wholesaler, distributor or other seller exercised control or substantial influence over the product design, manufacture, warnings, or instructions alleged to be defective; or

(b) The retailer, wholesaler, distributor or other seller upon request refuses to disclose a prior seller in the chain of distribution from which the product was obtained; or

(c) Personal jurisdiction cannot be obtained over any known prior seller in the chain of distribution.

(5) Upon motion made not later than one year after judgment is entered, the court shall determine whether all or part of the equitable share of a party liable is uncollectible by reason of insolvency and shall reallocate the uncollectible amount among all other parties who were allocated a percentage of fault under subsection (1)(b) of this section, including a claimant at fault, according to their respective percentages of fault. The party whose liability is reallocated is nonetheless subject to contribution and to any continuing liability to the claimant on the judgment.

(6) Any person whose fault was a cause of the claimant's damage may be joined as a party to the action for the purpose of assessing that person's percentage of fault. The fault of a person released by the claimant, a person immune from liability to the claimant, or a person with any other individual defense against the claimant shall not be allocated under subsection (1)(b) of this section unless such person is made a party to the action pursuant to the joinder procedure of this subsection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A claim and counterclaim shall be set off, and only the difference between them is recoverable in the judgment. However, if either or both of the claims are covered by liability insurance and an insurance carrier's liability under its policy is reduced by reason of the set-off, the insured is entitled to recover from the carrier the amount of the reduction. Amounts so recovered shall be credited against pertinent liability policy limits. For purposes of uninsured-motorist and similar coverages, the amounts so recovered shall be treated as payment of those amounts to the insured by the party liable. In the event of a set-off, the court shall equitably award costs, if any, among all parties to the lawsuit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) A party liable shall have a right to contribution, including a right to full indemnity, from any person whose fault caused claimant's damage if that person was not allocated a percentage of fault under section 2(1)(b) of this act or if the party liable was responsible for that person's fault under section 2(4) of this act or for payment of a reallocated portion of that person's equitable share under section 2(5) of this act. The right to contribution, including the right to full indemnity, may be enforced either in the original action or by a separate action brought for that purpose. The basis for contribution is each person's equitable share of the obligation, including the equitable share of a claimant at fault, as determined in accordance with the provisions of section 2 of this act.

(2) Contribution is available to a person who enters into a settlement with a claimant only if that person had a reasonable expectation of potential liability to the claimant, if the liability of the person against whom contribution is sought has been extinguished, and to the extent that the amount paid in settlement was reasonable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) If the equitable shares of the parties to a claim for contribution have been established pursuant to section 2 of this act, a party paying more than his equitable share of the obligation, upon motion, may recover judgment for contribution.

(2) If the equitable shares of the parties to the claim for contribution have not been established, contribution may be enforced in a separate action, whether or not a judgment has been rendered against either the person seeking contribution or the person from whom contribution is being sought.

(3) If a judgment has been rendered, the action for contribution shall be commenced within one year after the judgment becomes final. If no judgment has been rendered, the person bringing the action for contribution either shall have:

(a) Discharged by payment the liability within the period of the statute of limitations applicable to the claimant's right of action against him and commenced the action for contribution within one year after payment; or

(b) Agreed while action was pending to discharge the common liability and, within one year after the agreement, have paid the liability and commenced an action for contribution.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A release, covenant not to sue, or similar agreement entered into by a claimant and a person liable discharges that person from all liability for contribution, but the agreement does not discharge any other persons liable upon the same claim unless the agreement so provides.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) For the purpose of this chapter, the following term shall have the meaning set forth in this section:

"Product liability action" means an action brought against the seller of a product by a person seeking to recover damages for injury or death to a person or harm to property caused by a defective condition of a product, including without limitation:

(a) Any defect in product design;

(b) Any defect in product manufacture, including inspection and testing;

(c) Any failure to warn regarding the product; or

(d) Any failure to properly instruct in the use of the product.

A product liability action includes all actions based upon negligence, breach of warranty, strict liability in tort, and any other substantive legal theory, except fraud, intentionally caused injury, or consumer protection under chapter 19.86 RCW.

(2) As used in this section, the term "seller" includes the manufacturer, wholesaler, distributor, or retailer of a product.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. In any product liability action, it is an affirmative defense that the product is not defective because:

(1) The product's design, warnings, and instructions were in conformance with the technology economically feasible and generally known or reasonably available at the time the product was manufactured; or

(2) The alternative design, manufacture, warnings, or instructions proposed by plaintiff to reduce or eliminate plaintiff's injury would increase other hazards so as to degrade overall product safety; or

(3) The damage was proximately caused by an alteration, modification, or misuse of the product which was not reasonably foreseeable by the defendant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. In any product liability action the following rules of evidence apply:

(1) When, after an event, measures are taken which, if taken previously, would have made the event less likely to occur, evidence of the subsequent measures is not admissible to prove fault in connection with the event. This rule does not require exclusion of evidence of subsequent measures when offered for another purpose, such as proving ownership, control, or feasibility of precautionary measures, if controverted, or impeachment; and

(2) Evidence of technology which became economically feasible and generally known or reasonably available only after the product was manufactured is inadmissible.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Any duty on the part of a manufacturer or seller of a product to warn of a hazard which may arise in the use of the product shall not extend to:

(1) Warning of hazards which are patent or open and obvious; or

(2) Situations where safeguards and precautions would or should have been taken by a person similarly situated exercising reasonable care.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. There is added to chapter 4.16 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) In any product liability action, the plaintiff shall commence the action within three years of the time the injury is or in the exercise of reasonable diligence should have been discovered by the plaintiff, except that no product liability action may be commenced more than ten years after the manufacturer relinquished possession or control of the product or sold the product, whichever occurred later in time. Where the defendant has expressly warranted in writing that the product has a longer useful life, the action must be commenced within one year after the expiration of the longer period.

(2) Where the plaintiff's cause of action is based upon a legal duty to alter, repair, recall, inspect, or to issue warnings or instructions, or to otherwise take any action or precaution for the benefit of the injured party, which legal duty is based upon a contract, statute, administrative ruling, or court order specifically applicable to the product and arose after the defendant relinquished possession and control of the product or sold the product, whichever occurred later in time, the plaintiff shall commence the action within three years of the time the injury is or in the exercise of reasonable diligence should have been discovered by the plaintiff, except that no such action may be commenced more than six years after the defendant first came under the subsequent duty. The period in this subsection shall not act to bar any action brought within the time limited by subsection (1) of this section.

(3) If a person otherwise entitled to bring an action is, at the time the cause of action accrues, under a legal disability, as defined in RCW 4.16.190, the time of such disability shall not be a part of the time limited for commencement of action by subsections (1) and (2) of this section.

(4) The limitations set forth in subsection (1) of this section shall not apply to any product liability action based upon the use of any drug as defined in RCW 18.64.011 or the cumulative effects of exposure to radiation or a chemical.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. There is added to chapter 51.24 RCW a new section to read as follows:

In any action against a third person permitted under RCW 51.24.030, the amount of the department's or self-insurer's lien shall be equal to the amount by which the compensation or benefits actually paid exceed the total amount of the equitable shares of the employer, the injured worker, and others in the same employ as determined under section 2(3) of this act.

Sec. 13. Section 51.24.020, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 31, chapter 350, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 51.24.020 are each amended to read as follows:

If injury or death results to a worker from the deliberate intention of his or her employer to produce such injury or death, or if the employer, with wilful disregard of the safety of the employee, intentionally removes, permits to be removed or fails to install permanent safety features or devices recommended by the manufacturer who supplied the product, or required by law for the particular product, causing injury or death, the worker, surviving spouse, child, or dependent of the worker shall have the privilege to take under this title and also have cause of action against the employer as if this title had not been enacted, for any excess of damages over the amount received or receivable under this title.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. In any action for damages against the state or a political subdivision thereof, or against its officers, agents, employees, or contractors, the following affirmative defenses shall be applicable, but nothing contained herein shall create any cause of action or be held or interpreted as altering or diminishing any other existing defenses:

(1) In any action involving the design of any portion or aspect of a highway, road, bridge, street, or sidewalk, it shall be an affirmative defense that such design was not in violation of statutes or ordinances establishing or adopting design or construction standards applicable when built.

(2) In any action involving the construction of any portion or aspect of a highway, road, bridge, street, or sidewalk, it shall be an affirmative defense that such construction was in compliance with applicable statutes, ordinances, or contracts establishing or adopting design or construction standards applicable when built.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. In any action for damages against the state or a political subdivision thereof, or against its officers, agents or employees, the following affirmative defenses shall be applicable, but nothing contained herein shall create any cause of action or be held or interpreted as altering or diminishing any other existing defenses. In any action involving inspections, or failure to inspect, made for the purpose of determining compliance with applicable laws, it shall be an affirmative defense that the governmental agency:

(1) Was not aware of the noncompliance; or

(2) Has made a reasonable attempt to notify the owner, operator, or agent responsible for compliance of the noncompliance.

Neither affirmative defense shall apply where the property inspected is owned by the governmental agency or where inspection procedures pursuant to specific standards required by applicable laws have not been followed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. There is hereby appropriated to the office of financial management the sum of ten thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary from the general fund for the purpose of conducting a study of the effects of the apportionment and reallocation provisions of section 2 of this act on injured party recoveries in future cases where one of the parties at fault is insolvent or has an immunity or individual defense.

The office of financial management shall prepare a written report of its findings and shall submit the report to the financial institutions and insurance committee and the judiciary committee of the senate and the insurance committee and the judiciary committee of the house of representatives no later than one year from the effective date of this 1979 act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. Sections 1 through 10 and sections 12 through 15 of this 1979 act shall apply to all actions filed after the effective date of this 1979 act. Section 11 of this 1979 act shall apply to all causes of action arising after the effective date of this 1979 act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. Sections 1 through 6 of this act are each added to chapter 4.22 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. Sections 7 through 10 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 4 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. Section 1, chapter 138, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 4.22.010 are each repealed."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Bottiger, would you tell me what the status of joint and several liability is in this bill and the changes from the bill prior to this amendment?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Bluechel, if I could do that thoroughly and accurately I would also award you about three credit hours toward your law degree. You are asking an extremely technical question. Basically we have compromised the harshness of joint and several by allowing contribution, by assessing a portion of the damage and fault to the plaintiff and by requiring that a plaintiff pick up his share of the insolvent or immune tort feasons assessment by the jury of liability."

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Bottiger, is the main difference between what we had discussed in committee and this bill, the insolvent party?"

Senator Bottiger: "You would have to have insolvent and immune parties. The situation where two or more people cause an injury to a third, which may or may not have been partially his fault is the problems of joint and several and we have attempted to compromise that out in a way that is least harsh to anybody. Everybody under certain circumstances would suffer a little more than you or I might desire and it might not be the same people."

Senator Bluechel: "The deep pocket is still there for the . . . in the case of insolvency then of one of the parties, but as I understand it the amount is proportionately taken from each of the remaining parties in that case, is that correct?"

Senator Bottiger: "Each of the remaining parties at fault, yes."

Senator Bluechel: "Thank you."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Bottiger, with respect to section thirteen of the amendment, the one relating to the immunity of the employer . . . it is your intention with respect to section thirteen is it not, Senator Bottiger, to avoid the problem encountered in a recent supreme court case that restricted the availability of that section to a very, very narrow range of cases?"

Senator Bottiger: "I should have mentioned some of the give and take in this bill. Senator Marsh urges me to be brief. One of the problems that was faced was that of the negligent employer who takes a safety device off of a machine that results in the injury to an employee. A compromise was reached by requiring that if he wilfully did it, now wilful is almost a criminal standard. If he wilfully removed or failed to install safety equipment, then he loses his immunity. The recent supreme court case that Senator Talmadge referred to held that he had to do it on purpose. He had to drive over the employee with a fork lift meaning to kill him and we are softening that and saying, 'no, if he wilfully did something that resulted in the injury', almost criminal test, then he loses his immunity."

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the following amendment to the title was adopted.

On page 1, line 1, of the title after "Relating to civil causes of action;" strike the remainder of the title and insert the following:

On motion of Senator Marsh, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2333 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Van Hollebeke, you said this increases the amount that a person is required to carry?"

Senator Van Hollebeke: "That is correct."

Senator Rasmussen: "Would you refresh my memory? Is anybody in this state required to carry any insurance until after they have had the serious and maiming accident, caused several deaths and then they are required to carry it?"

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Now you are coming close to correctly stating the law, Senator, and in the sense I misspoke, we are not required to be insured until we are found not to have been able to carry out our financial responsibility after having been held liable for an accident."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ridder: "Senator Van Hollebeke, from your statements, Senator, I would assume then that one-third of those who now have insurance coverage and are at the minimum rate will be paying an annual increase of either twelve or sixteen dollars as a part of the process of the change in our products liability and tort liability legislation. Would that be accurate?"

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Well, Senator, that is close but perhaps a little bit inaccurate. The companies, some companies deal with insuring, . . . are highly competitive companies in their premiums. I think that only with those companies would you find as high as one-third carrying minimum limits. But some companies do not deal with those at all, or in lesser percentages, so they would not have as many as one-third carrying minimum limits."

Senator Ridder: "Excuse me, but it would be the portion of those who are now carrying the minimum limit and who then are paying an increase in rate that we would be talking about, right?"

Senator Van Hollebeke: "That is correct, Senator. For your further information, it was estimated by one party speaking for one of the largest companies, that is one of those carrying more insureds in this state than almost any other, that they thought that very few people would also drop their insurance because, or be uninsured because of this, practically none was their estimate."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wojahn: "Senator Van Hollebeke, I do not serve on the committee that heard this bill and I have reviewed it and can you respond to the reason that no mandatory substance is put in the bill, so that in other words a person could not be licensed, their car could not be licensed in this state unless they had insurance. Was there any consideration given to this so that people would have to be insured if they were, in fact, driving a car? Either their driver's license, or the license on the vehicle."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Senator, that is not addressed in the bill and I will tell you why that has never become law in the state of Washington, somewhat to the surprise of some people. It is the insurance companies themselves that resist that and the reason is they do not want to be forced to take the high risk insureds. As it stands now, those that are placed in the assigned risk pool and pay the extremely high rate are already a loss to the insurance companies and a far greater loss than are the insureds who are not in that pool. And, insurance companies have traditionally very forcefully and very effectively resisted having absolute . . . resisted any law which would require that everybody be insured or every automobile be insured. That is why it was not addressed here."

Senator Wojahn: "Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wojahn: "Senator Bottiger, since you are running some interference, Senator Bottiger, I understood that uninsured motorists' claims simply took care of personal liability. If you were injured in a car accident you could recover on a pain and suffering claim on uninsured motorists, but it did not cover your car. Now, has that been changed?"

Senator Bottiger: "No, that has not been changed. There are some extremely rare cases where someone would have uninsured motorists without having collision coverage on their own car. You see one every once in awhile that there is some reason somebody does not have collision. The collision in this bill is not required, so somebody could go out and buy the minimum insurance policy required by the state, not have his car financed any place, so therefore, did not buy collision insurance which is always required by the bank and the uninsured motorist would not cover his car. That could happen on a rare occasion."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "Senator Van Hollebeke, this bill has a very unusual life in this body. It was just born a few minutes ago as far as I know, right here on the floor and I am curious as to the urgency of this bill that would require this body to interrupt the normal process of handling these bills and I guess permitting us to display our ignorance out here, that should bring it to us in this particular route."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Well, Senator, to reply and I think that is certainly a valid inquiry. The reason first of all, I think it has been sufficiently explained. If there are any further questions I would be happy to answer. Senator Bottiger and others would be happy to answer any questions you have, but it was brought out because it was part of a compromise package to get the last bill before both bodies and the House does want to get them all on the same day. That is the principle reason why it was brought out today."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, I would like a little bit more explanation of this deep pocket. The insurance companies have a very deep pocket and I have been trying to fill it all my life through their rates they charge, but my concern with this would be, I carry one hundred thousand, three hundred thousand liability."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, you are in conflict with your insurance policy, you promised them you would never tell anybody."

Senator Rasmussen: "I never promised them a thing, it is public information and, furthermore, they have given that to everybody else in the country, through their lists, but let's get back to that deep pocket, that young lad out there—he is not drunk, he is just a young driver and he is carrying no insurance and he runs into me and kills my wife, puts my kids in the hospital and we have a tremendous bill. Smashes up whatever automobile I happen to be driving, explain the deep pocket theory now. This young lad will not have to have any insurance up until the time he runs into me."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, that is not the deep pocket in that case, it is your deep pocket, because you are not going to recover from him. Under your uninsured motorist provisions in your policy, depending on how it is worded and how many cars you have under current law, you would be able to collect for the pain, suffering and medical bills that are incurred by you, your wife and your children. You could not collect from your car unless you had a collision insurance, which is a different subject.

"Now, had that young fellow been run off the road as the result of a faulty bridge design and the plaintiff's lawyer sued the county, now we are into deep pocket. Under the existing law, prior to what we just passed, the county would bear the entire share—your entire loss—and we would not worry about that kid with no insurance. Under the bill we passed, if you were at fault at all, you would share with the county, your share of the portion of the fault assigned to that young kid that drove you off the road and you would share that with the county. You remember in caucus I put some figures upon the board to explain that?

"Now, that is what we call deep pocket. The county is there, it has unknown amount of money, we have the Boeing Company, we have the Toro lawnmower, those are the deep pockets we are talking about when we refer to deep pockets."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator."

Further debate ensued.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Marsh, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2768 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2768 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Section 1. Section 2, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.04.011 are each amended to read as follows:

For purposes of this ((chapter)) title:

(1) Except as specifically provided in RCW 13.40.020 and chapter 13.24 RCW, as now or hereafter amended, "juvenile(~~(-)~~)," "youth(~~(-)~~)," and "child" ((~~shall~~)) mean any individual who is under the chronological age of eighteen years;

(2) "Juvenile offender" and "juvenile offense" ((~~shall~~)) have the meaning ascribed in RCW 13.40.010 through 13.40.240; ((~~and~~))

Sec. 2. Section 3, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.04.021 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The juvenile court shall be a division of the superior court. In judicial districts having more than one judge of the superior court, the judges of such court shall annually(~~(, in the month of January,)~~) assign one or more of their number to the juvenile court division. In any judicial district having a court commissioner, the court commissioner shall have the power, authority, and jurisdiction, concurrent with a juvenile court judge, to hear all cases under this chapter and to enter judgment and make orders with the same power, force, and effect as any judge of the juvenile court, subject to motion or demand by any party within ten days from the entry of the order or judgment by the court commissioner as provided in RCW 2.24.050.

(2) Cases in the juvenile court shall be tried without a jury.

Sec. 3. Section 2, chapter 160, Laws of 1913 as last amended by section 4, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.04.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(6) Relating to ((youth)) juveniles alleged or found to ((be a juvenile offender)) have committed offenses or violations as provided in RCW 13.40.020 through

13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended, unless:

(a) The juvenile court transfers jurisdiction of a particular juvenile to adult criminal court pursuant to RCW 13.40.110, as now or hereafter amended; or

(b) The ((period)) statute of limitations ((of actions)) applicable to adult prosecution for the offense ((alleged in the petition)) or violation has expired; or

(c) The alleged offense is a traffic, fish, boating, or game offense ((involves a violation of the traffic laws, which is not a misdemeanor, by juveniles over fifteen years of age)) committed by a juvenile sixteen years of age or older and would, if committed by an adult, be tried in a court of limited jurisdiction, in which instance the case shall be heard in the appropriate court of limited jurisdiction: PROVIDED, That where such an alleged offense and an alleged offense subject to juvenile court jurisdiction arise out of the same event or incident, the juvenile court may have jurisdiction of both matters: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the jurisdiction under this subsection does not constitute "transfer" or a "decline" for purposes of RCW 13.40.110(1) or subsection (6)(a) of this section; and

(7) Under the interstate compact on juveniles as provided in chapter 13.24 RCW.

All probation counselors shall possess all the powers conferred upon sheriffs and police officers to serve process and make arrests of juveniles under their supervision for the violation of any state law or county or city ordinance.

The administrator is hereby authorized, and to the extent possible is encouraged to, contract with private agencies existing within the community for the provision of services to youthful offenders and youth who have entered into diversion agreements pursuant to RCW 13.40.080, as now or hereafter amended.

Sec. 7. Section 2, chapter 132, Laws of 1945 and RCW 13.04.130 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Neither the fingerprints nor a photograph ((shall be taken)) of any ((child under the age of eighteen years)) juvenile may be taken ((into custody for any purpose)) without the consent of juvenile court, except as provided in subsection (2) of this section and RCW 10.64.110.

(2) A law enforcement agency may fingerprint and photograph a juvenile arrested for a felony offense. If the court finds a juvenile's arrest for a felony offense unlawful, the court shall order the fingerprints and photographs of the juvenile taken pursuant to that arrest expunged, unless the court, after a hearing, orders otherwise.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) For purposes of this chapter:

(a) "Juvenile justice or care agency" means any of the following: Police, diversion units, court, prosecuting attorney, defense attorney, detention center, attorney general, the department of social and health services and its contracting agencies, and persons or public or private agencies having children committed to their custody;

(2) Each petition or information filed with the court may include only one juvenile and each petition or information shall be filed under a separate docket number. The social file shall be filed separately from the official juvenile court file.

(3) It is the duty of any juvenile justice or care agency to maintain accurate records. To this end:

(a) The agency may never knowingly record inaccurate information;

(b) An agency shall take reasonable steps to insure the security of its records and prevent tampering with them; and

(c) An agency shall make reasonable efforts to insure the completeness of its records, including action taken by other agencies with respect to matters in its files.

(5) Any person who has reasonable cause to believe information concerning that person is included in the records of a juvenile justice or care agency and who has been denied access to those records by the agency may make a motion to the court for an order authorizing that person to inspect the juvenile justice or care agency record concerning that person. The court shall grant the motion to examine records unless it finds that in the interests of justice or in the best interests of the juvenile the records or parts of them should remain confidential.

(6) A juvenile, or his or her parents, or any person who has reasonable cause to believe information concerning that person is included in the records of a juvenile justice or care agency may make a motion to the court challenging the accuracy of any information concerning the moving party in the record or challenging the continued possession of the record by the agency. If the court grants the motion, it shall order the record or information to be corrected or destroyed.

(7) The person making a motion under subsection (5) or (6) of this section shall give reasonable notice of the motion to all parties to the original action and to any agency whose records will be affected by the motion.

(8) The court may permit inspection of records by, or release of information to, any clinic, hospital, or agency which has the subject person under care or treatment, or to individuals or agencies engaged in legitimate research for educational, scientific, or public purposes. The court may also permit inspection of, or release of information from, records which have been sealed pursuant to section 9(12) of this act. Access to records or information for research purposes shall be permitted only if the anonymity of all persons mentioned in the records or information will be preserved. Each person granted permission to inspect juvenile justice or care agency records for research purposes shall present a notarized statement to the court stating that the names of juveniles and parents will remain confidential.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) This section governs records relating to the commission of juvenile offenses, including records relating to diversions.

(2) The official juvenile court file of any alleged or proven juvenile offender shall be open to public inspection, unless sealed pursuant to subsection (12) of this section.

(3) All records other than the official juvenile court file are confidential and may be released only as provided in this section and section 8 of this act.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this section and section 8 of this act, records retained or produced by any juvenile justice or care agency may be released to other participants in the juvenile justice or care system only when an investigation or case involving the juvenile in question is being pursued by the other participant or when that other participant is assigned the responsibility for supervising the juvenile.

(5) Information not in an official juvenile court file concerning a juvenile or a juvenile's family may be released to the public only when that information could not reasonably be expected to identify the juvenile or the juvenile's family.

(6) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the release of law enforcement and prosecuting attorneys' records pertaining to investigation, diversion, and prosecution of juvenile offenses shall be governed by the rules of discovery and other rules of law applicable in adult criminal investigations and prosecutions.

(7) If a complaint has been filed with the prosecutor and referred for diversion pursuant to RCW 13.40.070, up to the time the juvenile agrees to enter a diversion agreement, the rules of discovery applicable in adult criminal cases apply to release of information to the prosecutor, the juvenile, and the juvenile's attorney.

(8) The juvenile court and the prosecutor may set up and maintain a central record-keeping system which may receive information on all alleged juvenile offenders against whom a complaint has been filed pursuant to RCW 13.40.070 whether or not their cases are currently pending before the court. The central record-keeping system may be computerized.

(9) Upon request of the victim of a crime or the victim's immediate family, the identity of an alleged or proven juvenile offender alleged or found to have committed a crime against the victim and the identity of the alleged or proven juvenile offender's parent, guardian, or custodian and the circumstance of the alleged or proven crime shall be released to the victim of the crime or the victim's immediate family.

(10) Subject to the rules of discovery applicable in adult criminal prosecutions, the juvenile offense records of an adult criminal defendant or witness in an adult criminal proceeding may be released to prosecution and defense counsel after a charge has actually been filed. The juvenile offense records of any adult convicted of a crime and placed under the supervision of the adult corrections system may be released to the adult corrections system.

(11) In any case in which an information has been filed pursuant to RCW 13.40.100 or a complaint has been filed with the prosecutor and referred for diversion pursuant to RCW 13.40.070, the person the subject of the information or complaint may file a motion with the court to have the court vacate its order and findings, if any, and order the sealing of the official juvenile court file, the social file, and records of the court and of any other agency in the case.

(12) The court shall grant the motion to seal records made pursuant to subsection (11) of this section if it finds that:

(a) Two years have elapsed from the later of: (i) Final discharge of the person from the supervision of any agency charged with supervising juvenile offenders; or (ii) from the entry of a court order relating to the commission of a juvenile offense or a criminal offense;

(b) No proceeding is pending against the moving party seeking the conviction of a juvenile offense or a criminal offense; and

(c) No proceeding is pending seeking the formation of a diversion agreement with that person.

(13) The person making a motion pursuant to subsection (11) of this section shall give reasonable notice of the motion to the prosecution and to any person or agency whose files are sought to be sealed.

(14) If the court grants the motion to seal made pursuant to subsection (11) of this section, it shall order sealed the official juvenile court file, the social file, and other records relating to the case as are named in the order. Thereafter, the proceedings in the case shall be treated as if they never occurred, and the subject of the records may reply accordingly to any inquiry about the events, records of which are sealed. Any agency shall reply to any inquiry concerning confidential or sealed records that records are confidential, and no information can be given about the existence or nonexistence of records concerning an individual.

(15) Inspection of the files and records included in the order to seal may thereafter be permitted only by order of the court upon motion made by the person who is the subject of the information or complaint, except as otherwise provided in section 8(8) of this act.

(16) Any adjudication of a juvenile offense or a crime subsequent to sealing has the effect of nullifying the sealing order.

(17) In any case in which an information has been filed pursuant to RCW 13.40.100 or a complaint has been filed with the prosecutor and referred for diversion pursuant to RCW 13.40.070, the person who is the subject of the information or complaint may file a motion with the court to have the court vacate its order and findings, if any, and order the destruction of the official juvenile court file, the social file, and records of the court and of any other agency in the case.

(18) The court may grant the motion to destroy records made pursuant to subsection (17) of this section if it finds:

- (a) The person making the motion is at least twenty-three years of age;
- (b) The person has not subsequently been convicted of a felony;
- (c) No proceeding is pending against that person seeking the conviction of a criminal offense; and
- (d) The person has never been found guilty of a serious offense.

(19) If the court grants the motion to destroy records made pursuant to subsection (17) of this section, it shall order the official juvenile court file, the social file, and any other records named in the order to be destroyed.

(20) The person making the motion pursuant to subsection (17) of this section shall give reasonable notice of the motion to the prosecuting attorney and to any agency whose records are sought to be destroyed.

(21) Any juvenile to whom the provisions of this section may apply shall be given written notice of his or her rights under this section at the time of his or her disposition hearing or during the diversion process.

(22) Nothing in this section may be construed to prevent a crime victim or a member of the victim's family from divulging the identity of the alleged or proven juvenile offender or his or her family when necessary in a civil proceeding.

(23) Any juvenile justice or care agency may, subject to the limitations in subparagraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection, develop procedures for the routine destruction of records relating to juvenile offenses and diversions.

(a) Records may be routinely destroyed only when the person the subject of the information or complaint has attained twenty-three years of age or older.

(b) The court may not routinely destroy the official juvenile court file or recordings or transcripts of any proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) This section governs records not covered by section 9 of this act.

(2) Records covered by this section shall be confidential and shall be released only pursuant to this section and section 8 of this act.

(3) Records retained or produced by any juvenile justice or care agency may be released to other participants in the juvenile justice or care system only when an investigation or case involving the juvenile in question is being pursued by the other participant or when that other participant is assigned the responsibility of supervising the juvenile.

(4) A juvenile, his or her parents, the juvenile's attorney and the juvenile's parent's attorney, shall, upon request, be given access to all records and information collected or retained by a juvenile justice or care agency which pertain to the juvenile except:

(a) If it is determined by the agency that release of this information is likely to cause severe psychological or physical harm to the juvenile or his or her parents the agency may withhold the information subject to other order of the court: PROVIDED, That if the court determines that limited release of the information is appropriate, the court may specify terms and conditions for the release of the information; or

(b) If the information or record has been obtained by a juvenile justice or care agency in connection with the provision of counseling, psychological, psychiatric, or medical services to the juvenile, and the juvenile has a legal right to receive those services without the consent of any person or agency, then the information or record may not be disclosed to the juvenile's parents without the informed consent of the juvenile.

(5) A juvenile or his or her parent denied access to any records following an agency determination under subsection (4) of this section may file a motion in juvenile court requesting access to the records. The court shall grant the motion unless it finds access may not be permitted according to the standards found in subsections (4) (a) and (b) of this section.

(6) The person making a motion under subsection (5) of this section shall give reasonable notice of the motion to all parties to the original action and to any agency whose records will be affected by the motion.

(7) Subject to the rules of discovery in civil cases, any party to a proceeding seeking a declaration of dependency or a termination of the parent-child relationship and any party's counsel and the guardian ad litem of any party, shall have access to the records of any natural or adoptive child of the parent, subject to the limitations in subsection (4) of this section.

(8) Information concerning a juvenile or a juvenile's family contained in records covered by this section may be released to the public only when that information could not reasonably be expected to identify the juvenile or the juvenile's family.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. This chapter applies to all juvenile justice or care agency records created on or after July 1, 1978.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Sections 8 through 11 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 13 RCW. RCW 13.04.276 and 13.04.278, each as now or hereafter amended, are decodified and shall be recodified as part of such new chapter.

Sec. 13. Section 14, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.04.278 are each amended to read as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, whenever a child is arrested for a violation of any law, including municipal ordinances, regulating the operation of vehicles on the public highways, a copy of the traffic citation and a record of the action taken by the ((juvenile)) court shall be forwarded by the juvenile court to the ((director of licenses)) department of licensing in the same manner as provided in RCW ((46.20.280)) 46.20.270.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. There is added to chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and chapter 13.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Nothing in chapter 13.04, 13.06, 13.30, 13.32, 13.34, or 13.40 RCW may be construed to prevent a juvenile from being found both dependent and an offender if there exists a factual basis for such a finding.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The legislature finds that within any group of people there exists a need for guidelines for acceptable behavior and that, presumptively, experience and maturity are better qualifications for establishing guidelines beneficial to and protective of individual members and the group as a whole than are youth and inexperience. The legislature further finds that it is the right and responsibility of adults to establish laws for the benefit and protection of the society; and that, in the same manner, the right and responsibility for establishing reasonable guidelines for the family unit belongs to the adults within that unit. The legislature reaffirms its position stated in RCW 13.34.020 that the family unit is the fundamental resource of American life which should be nurtured and that it should remain intact in the absence of compelling evidence to the contrary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the Procedures for Families in Conflict.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. As used in this chapter the following terms have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

- (1) "Department" means the department of social and health services;
- (2) "Child," "juvenile," and "youth" mean any individual who is under the chronological age of eighteen years;
- (3) "Parent" means the legal custodian(s) or guardian(s) of a child;
- (4) "Semi-secure facility" means any facility, including but not limited to crisis residential centers or specialized foster family homes, operated in a manner to reasonably assure that youth placed there will not run away: PROVIDED, That such facility shall not be a secure institution or facility as defined by the federal juvenile justice and delinquency prevention act of 1974 (P.L. 93-415; 42 U.S.C. Sec. 5634 et seq.) and regulations and clarifying instructions promulgated thereunder. Pursuant to rules established by the department, the facility administrator shall establish reasonable hours for residents to come and go from the facility such that no residents are free to come and go at all hours of the day and night. To prevent residents from taking unreasonable actions, the facility administrator, where appropriate, may condition a resident's leaving the facility upon the resident being accompanied by the administrator or the administrator's designee and the resident may be required to notify the administrator or the administrator's designee of any intent to leave, his or her intended destination, and the probable time of his or her return to the center.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. Families who are in conflict may request crisis intervention services from the department. Such services shall be provided to alleviate personal or family situations which present a serious and imminent threat to the health or stability of the child or family and to maintain families intact wherever possible. Crisis intervention services shall be designed to develop skills and supports within families to resolve family conflicts and may include but are not limited to referral to services for suicide prevention, psychiatric or other medical care, or psychological, welfare, legal, educational, or other social services, as appropriate to the needs of the child and the family.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A law enforcement officer shall take a juvenile into custody:

- (1) If a law enforcement agency has been contacted by the parent of the child that the child is absent from custody without consent; or
- (2) If a law enforcement officer reasonably believes that a juvenile is in circumstances which constitute a serious danger to the juvenile's physical safety; or
- (3) If an agency legally charged with the supervision of a child has notified a law enforcement agency that the child has run away from placement.

In no case may law enforcement custody extend more than six hours from the time of the juvenile's initial contact with the law enforcement officer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. (1) An officer taking a juvenile into custody under section 19 of this 1979 act shall inform the juvenile of the reason for such custody and shall transport the juvenile to his or her home if the juvenile consents. The officer so releasing a juvenile from custody shall inform the parent of the reason for taking the juvenile into custody and may, if he or she believes further services may be needed, inform the juvenile and the person to whom the juvenile is released of the nature and location of appropriate services.

(2) If, in the judgment of the law enforcement officer, it is not practical nor in the best interests of the family to take the juvenile home, the law enforcement officer shall take the juvenile to a designated crisis residential center licensed by the department and established pursuant to chapter 74.13 RCW. The department shall ensure that all the enforcement authorities are informed on a regular basis as to the location of the designated crisis residential shelter or shelters in their judicial district, where juveniles taken into custody under section 19 of this 1979 act may be taken.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. An officer taking a juvenile into custody under section 19 of this 1979 act may, at his or her discretion, transport the juvenile to the home of a responsible adult other than the child's parent where the officer reasonably believes that the child will be provided with adequate care and supervision and that the child will remain in the custody of such adult until such time as the department can bring about the child's return home or an alternative residential placement can be agreed to or determined pursuant to this chapter. An officer placing a juvenile with a responsible adult other than his or her parent shall immediately notify the department's local community service office of this fact and of the reason for taking the juvenile into custody.

A law enforcement officer acting reasonably and in good faith pursuant to this chapter in releasing a juvenile to a person other than a parent of such juvenile is immune from civil or criminal liability for such action. A person other than a parent of such juvenile who receives a child pursuant to this chapter and who acts reasonably and in good faith in doing so is immune from civil or criminal liability for the act of receiving such child. Such immunity does not release such person from liability under any other law including the laws regulating licensed child care and prohibiting child abuse.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. (1) Any person who knowingly provides shelter to a child without the acquiescence of the child's parent shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor if he or she refuses to release the child to a law enforcement officer after being informed by the officer that the child is a reported runaway and that refusal to release the juvenile is a gross misdemeanor. This section does not apply to any person providing shelter to a reported runaway pursuant to section 23 of this 1979 act.

(2) Any person who provides shelter to a child, absent from home, may notify the department's local community service office of the child's presence.

(3) An adult responsible for involving a juvenile in the commission of an offense may be prosecuted under existing criminal statutes including, but not limited to:

(a) Distribution of a controlled substance to a minor, as defined in RCW 69.50.406;

(b) Promoting prostitution as defined in chapter 9A.88 RCW; and

(c) Complicity of the adult in the crime of a minor, under RCW 9A.08.020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. (1) The person in charge of a designated crisis residential center or the department pursuant to section 21 of this 1979 act shall perform the duties under subsection (2) of this section:

(a) Upon admitting a child who has been brought to the center by a law enforcement officer under section 20 of this 1979 act;

(b) Upon admitting a child who has run away from home or has requested admittance to the center;

(c) Upon learning from a person under section 22(2) of this 1979 act that the person is providing shelter to a child absent from home; or

(d) Upon learning that a child has been placed with a responsible adult pursuant to section 21 of this 1979 act.

(2) When any of the circumstances under subsection (1) of this section are present, the person in charge of a center shall perform the following duties:

(a) Immediately notify the child's parent of the child's whereabouts, physical and emotional condition, and the circumstances surrounding his or her placement;

(b) Notify and inform the parent of the child as to the parent's rights under this chapter including, but not limited to, the right to file an alternative residential placement petition;

(c) Inform the parent whether a referral to children's protective services has been made and, if so, inform the parent of the standard pursuant to RCW 26.44.020(12) governing child abuse and neglect in this state;

(d) Arrange transportation for the child to the residence of the parent, as soon as practicable, at the latter's expense to the extent of his or her ability to pay, with any unmet transportation expenses to be assumed by the department, when the child and his or her parent agrees to the child's return home;

(e) Arrange transportation for the child to an alternative residential placement which may include a licensed group care facility or foster family when agreed to by the child and parent at the latter's expense to the extent of his or her ability to pay, with any unmet transportation expenses assumed by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. Where a child is placed in a residence other than that of his or her parent pursuant to section 23(2)(e) of this 1979 act, the department shall make available crisis intervention services in order to facilitate the reunification of the family. Any such placement may continue as long as there is agreement by the child and parent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. If a child who has a legal residence outside the state of Washington is admitted to a crisis residential center or is placed by a law enforcement officer with a responsible person other than the child's parent, and the child refuses to return home, the provisions of RCW 13.24.010 shall apply.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. (1) Where either a child or the child's parent or the person or facility currently providing shelter to the child notifies the center that such individual or individuals cannot agree to the continuation of an alternative residential placement arrived at pursuant to section 23(2)(e) of this 1979 act, the center shall immediately contact the remaining party or parties to the agreement and shall attempt to bring about the child's return home or to an alternative living arrangement agreeable to the child and the parent as soon as practicable.

(2) If a child and his or her parent cannot agree to an alternative residential placement under section 23(2)(e) of this 1979 act, either the child or parent may file with the juvenile court a petition to approve an alternative residential placement.

(3) If a child and his or her parent cannot agree to the continuation of an alternative residential placement arrived at under section 23(2)(e) of this 1979 act, either the child or parent may file with the juvenile court a petition to approve an alternative residential placement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. A child admitted to a crisis residential center under this chapter who is not returned to the home of his or her parent or who is not placed in an alternative residential placement under section 23(2)(e) of this 1979 act shall, except as provided for by section 28 and section 30(2) of this 1979 act, reside in such placement under the rules and regulations established for the center for a period not to exceed seventy-two hours from the point of intake, except as otherwise provided by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. The department shall file a petition to approve an alternative residential placement on behalf of a child under any of the following sets of circumstances:

(1) The child has been admitted to a crisis residential center or has been placed with a responsible person other than his or her parent, and:

(a) The parent has been notified that the child was so admitted or placed;

(b) Seventy-two hours, including Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, have passed since such notification;

(c) No agreement between the parent and the child as to where the child shall live has been reached;

(d) No petition requesting approval of an alternative residential placement has been filed by either the child or parent or legal custodian; and

(e) The child has no suitable place to live other than the home of his or her parent.

(2) The child has been admitted to a crisis residential center or placed with a responsible adult other than his or her parent, and:

(a) Seventy-two hours, including Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, have passed since such placement;

(b) The staff, after searching with due diligence, have been unable to contact the parent of such child; and

(c) The child has no suitable place to live other than the home of his or her parent.

(3) An agreement between parent and child made pursuant to section 23(2)(e) or pursuant to section 26(1) of this 1979 act is no longer acceptable to parent or child, and:

(a) The party to whom the arrangement is no longer acceptable has so notified the department;

(b) Seventy-two hours, including Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, have passed since such notification;

(c) No new agreement between parent and child as to where the child shall live has been reached;

(d) No petition requesting approval of an alternative residential placement has been filed by either the child or the parent; and

(e) The child has no suitable place to live other than the home of his or her parent.

Under the circumstances of subsections (1), (2), or (3) of this section, the child shall remain in a licensed child care facility, including but not limited to a crisis residential center, or in any other suitable residence to be determined by the department until an alternative residential placement petition filed by the department on behalf of the child is reviewed by the juvenile court and is resolved by such court. The state, when the department files a petition for alternative residential placement under this section, shall be represented as provided for in RCW 13.04.093.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. A child or a child's parent may file with the juvenile court a petition to approve an alternative residential placement for the child outside the parent's home. The department shall, when requested, assist either a parent or child in the filing of the petition. The petition shall only ask that the placement of a child outside the home of his or her parent be approved or disapproved. The filing of a petition to approve or disapprove such placement is not dependent upon the court's having obtained any prior jurisdiction over the child or his or her parent, and confers upon the court a special jurisdiction to approve or disapprove alternative residential placement or its continuation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. (1) When a proper petition is filed under section 26, 28, or 29 of this 1979 act the juvenile court shall: (a) Schedule a date for a fact-finding hearing; notify the parent and child of such date; (b) notify the parent of the right to be represented by counsel and, if indigent, to have counsel appointed for him or her by the court; (c) appoint legal counsel for the child; (d) inform the child and his or her parent of the legal consequences of the court approving or disapproving an alternative residential placement petition; and (e) notify all parties of their right to present evidence at the fact-finding hearing.

(2) Upon filing of an alternative residential placement petition, the child may be placed, if not already placed, by the department in a crisis residential center, foster family home, group home facility licensed under chapter 74.15 RCW, or any other suitable residence to be determined by the department.

(3) If the child has been placed in a foster family home or group care facility under chapter 74.15 RCW, the child shall remain there, or in any other suitable residence as determined by the department, pending resolution of the alternative residential placement petition by the court. Any placement may be reviewed by the court within three court days upon the request of the juvenile or the juvenile's parent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. (1) The court shall hold a fact-finding hearing to consider a proper petition and may approve or disapprove alternative residential placement giving due weight to the intent of the legislature expressed in section 15 of this 1979 act. The court shall approve an order stating that the child shall be placed in a residence other than the home of his or her parent if it is established by a preponderance of the evidence that a serious conflict exists between the parent and child and that the conflict cannot be resolved by the delivery of services to the family during continued placement of the child in the parental home.

(2) The order approving out-of-home placement shall direct the department to submit a disposition plan for a three-month placement of the child that is designed to reunite the family and resolve the family conflict. In making the order, the court shall further direct the department to make recommendations, as to which agency or person should have physical custody of the child, as to which parental powers should be awarded to such agency or person, and as to parental visitation rights. The court may direct the department to consider the cultural heritage of the child in making its recommendations.

(3) The hearing to consider the recommendations of the department for a three-month disposition plan shall be set no later than fourteen days after the approval of the court of a petition to approve alternative residential placement. Each party shall be notified of the time and place of such disposition hearing.

(4) If the court disapproves a petition for an alternative residential placement, a written statement of the reasons shall be filed. If the court disapproves a petition requesting that a child be placed in a residence other than the home of his or her parent, the court shall instruct that the child remain at or return to the home of his or her parent.

(5) The court shall dismiss the petition if it finds (a) that a petition filed pursuant to section 29 of this 1979 act is capricious, or (b) that the filing party did not first reasonably attempt to resolve the conflict outside the court. Upon dismissing the petition, the court shall impress upon the party filing the petition of the legislative intent to restrict the proceedings to situations where a family conflict is so great that it cannot be resolved by the provision of in-home services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 32. (1) At a dispositional hearing held to consider the three-month dispositional plan presented by the department the court shall consider all such recommendations included therein. The court, consistent with the stated goal of resolving the family conflict and reuniting the family, may modify such plan and shall make its dispositional order for a three-month out-of-home placement for the child. The court dispositional order shall specify the person or agency with whom the child shall be placed, those parental powers which will be temporarily awarded to such agency or person including but not limited to the right to authorize medical, dental, and optical treatment, and parental visitation rights. Any agency or residence at which the child is placed must, at a minimum, comply with minimum standards for licensed family foster homes.

(2) No placement made pursuant to this section may be in a secure residence as defined by the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974 and clarifying interpretations and regulations promulgated thereunder.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. (1) Upon making a dispositional order under section 32 of this 1979 act, the court shall schedule the matter on the calendar for review within three months, advise the parties of the date thereof, appoint legal counsel to represent the child and the parent, if indigent, at the review hearing, advise nonindigent parents of their right to be represented by legal counsel at the review hearing, and notify the parties of their rights to present evidence at the hearing.

(2) At the review hearing the court: (a) Shall approve or disapprove the continuation of the dispositional plan according to the standards of resolving the conflict and reuniting the family which governed the initial approval; (b) if out-of-home placement is continued, the court may modify the dispositional plan according to the standards of resolving the family conflict and reuniting the family and shall set the matter on the calendar for further review within six months; (c) may determine that interim services as may be appropriate have been offered to the parent and child.

(3) Subsequent six-month review hearings shall be held pursuant to this section until such time as the family is reunited. If the court, at any such hearing, does not approve the continuation of an alternative residential placement and states that the child shall reside with his or her parents, it may hold another review hearing within six months.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 34. All hearings pursuant to this chapter may be conducted at any time or place within the county of the residence of the parent and such cases shall not be heard in conjunction with the business of any other division of the superior court. The general public shall be excluded from hearings and only such persons who are found by the court to have a direct interest in the case or the work of the court shall be admitted to the proceedings.

Sec. 35. Section 9A.76.010, chapter 260, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 53, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 9A.76.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The following definitions are applicable in this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Custody" means restraint pursuant to a lawful arrest or an order of a court: PROVIDED, That custody pursuant to chapter(~~s 13.30, 13.32, and~~) 13.34 RCW and RCW 74.13.020 and 74.13.031 and sections 15 through 34 of this 1979 act shall not be deemed custody for purposes of this chapter;

(b) The release of such child would present a serious threat of substantial harm to such child.

~~((If continued shelter care is ordered, the court shall set forth its reasons for continued shelter care:))~~ If the court does not release the child to his or her parent, guardian, or legal custodian, the court shall order continued shelter care or order placement with another suitable person, and the court shall set forth its reasons for the order.

Sec. 46. Section 41, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.34.130 are each amended to read as follows:

If, after a fact-finding hearing pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, as now or hereafter amended, it has been proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is dependent within the meaning of RCW 13.34.030(2) ~~((a), (b), or (c))~~; after consideration of the predisposition report prepared pursuant to RCW 13.34.110 and after a disposition hearing has been held pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, the court shall enter an order of disposition pursuant to this section.

(1) The court shall order one of the following dispositions of the case:

In selecting a program, the court should choose those services that least interfere with family autonomy, provided that the services are adequate to protect the child.

(b) Order that the child be ~~((placed in foster care))~~ removed from his or her home and ordered into the custody, control, and care of a relative or the department of social and health services or a licensed child placing agency for placement in a foster family home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW. (iii) The parent ~~((or)),~~ guardian, or legal custodian is not willing to take custody of the child; or

(iv) A manifest danger ~~((would))~~ exists that the child will suffer ~~((further))~~ serious abuse or neglect if the child is not removed from the home.

(2) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the child's home, the agency charged with his or her care shall provide the court with a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, and what actions the agency will take to maintain parent-child ties.

(a) The agency plan shall specify what services the parents will ~~((receive))~~ be offered in order to enable them to resume custody and what ~~((actions))~~ requirements the parents must ~~((take))~~ meet in order to resume custody.

(b) The agency shall be required to encourage the maximum parent-child contact possible, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement.

(c) A child shall be placed as close to the child's home as possible, preferably in the child's own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child's or parents' well-being.

(d) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall ~~((be responsible for assuming that all services are provided))~~ provide all reasonable services that are available within the agency, or within the community, or those services which the department of social and health services has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services.

(3) The status of all children found to be dependent shall be reviewed by the court at least every six months at a hearing in which it shall be determined whether court supervision should continue.

When a child is returned, casework supervision shall continue for a period of six months, at which time there shall be a hearing on the need for continued intervention.

(b) If the child is not returned home, the court shall establish in writing:

(i) What services have been provided to or offered to the ~~((parents))~~ parties to facilitate reunion;

(ii) The extent to which the parents have visited the child and any reasons why visitation has not occurred or has been infrequent;

(v) When return of the child can be expected.

~~(c) ((If a child is not returned to the child's home, at such review hearing the court shall advise the parents that a petition to seek termination of parental rights may be ordered at the next review hearing.~~

~~(d))~~ The court at the review hearing may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed.

Sec. 47. Section 46, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.34.180 are each amended to read as follows:

A petition seeking termination of a parent and child relationship may be filed in juvenile court. Such petition shall conform to the requirements of RCW 13.34.040 as now or hereafter amended and shall allege:

(2) That the court has entered a dispositional order pursuant to RCW 13.34.130; and

(3) That the child has been removed or will, at the time of the hearing, have been removed from the custody of the parent for a period of at least six months pursuant to a finding of dependency under RCW 13.34.030(2) ~~((a) or (b))~~; and

~~((2) That the conditions which led to the removal still persist; and~~

~~(3))~~ (4) That the services ordered under RCW 13.34.130 have been offered or provided and all necessary services, reasonably available, capable of correcting the parental deficiencies within the foreseeable future have been offered or provided; and

(5) That there is little likelihood that ~~((those))~~ conditions will be remedied so that the child can be returned to the parent in the near future; and

~~((4))~~ (6) That continuation of the parent and child relationship clearly diminishes the child's prospects for early integration into a stable and permanent home; ~~((and~~

~~(5) That, if the finding of dependency has been pursuant to RCW 13.34.030(2)(b), necessary services have been provided or offered to the parent to~~ facilitate a reunion; and

~~(6) That the parent has substantially failed to accept such services; and~~

~~(7) That if the parent is subject to an order of disposition pursuant to the finding of dependency, the parent has substantially failed to comply with the order))~~

(7) In lieu of the allegations in subsections (1) through (6) of this section, the petition may allege that the child was found under such circumstances that the identity and whereabouts of the child's parent are unknown and no parent has claimed the child within two months after the child was found.

Sec. 48. Section 47, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.34.190 are each amended to read as follows:

(2) Such an order is in the best interests of the child.

Sec. 49. Section 49, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.34.210 are each amended to read as follows:

If, upon entering an order terminating the parental rights of a parent, there remains no parent having parental rights, the court shall commit the child to the custody of the department of social and health services or to a licensed child-placing agency willing to accept custody for the purpose of placing the child for adoption, or in the absence thereof in a licensed foster home, or take other suitable measures for the care and welfare of the child. The custodian shall have authority to consent to the adoption of the child, the marriage of the child, the enlistment of the child in the armed forces of the United States, necessary surgical and other medical treatment for the child, and to consent to such other matters as might normally be required of the parent of the child.

If a child has not been adopted within ~~((two years))~~ six months after the date of the order and a general guardian of the child has not been appointed by the court, the child shall be returned to the court for entry of further orders for his or her care, custody, and control, and the court shall review the case every six months thereafter until a decree of adoption is entered.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 50. There is added to chapter 13.34 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(3) At the commencement of the detention hearing, the court shall advise the parties of their rights under this chapter and shall appoint counsel as specified in this

(4) The court shall, based upon the allegations in the information, determine whether the case is properly before it or whether the case should be treated as a diversion case under RCW 13.40.080. If the case is not properly before the court the juvenile shall be ordered released.

(5) Notwithstanding a determination that the case is properly before the court and that probable cause exists, a ~~((child))~~ juvenile shall at the detention hearing be ordered released on the ~~((child's))~~ juvenile's personal recognizance pending further hearing unless the court finds detention is necessary under RCW 13.40.040 as now or hereafter amended.

(6) If detention is not necessary under RCW 13.40.040, as now or hereafter amended, the court shall impose the most appropriate of the following conditions or, if necessary, any combination of the following conditions:

(2) If the hearing takes place in the county where an element of the alleged criminal offense occurred, the case and copies of all legal and social documents pertaining thereto ~~((shall))~~ may in the discretion of the court be transferred to the county where the ~~((child))~~ juvenile resides for a disposition hearing. All costs and arrangements for care and transportation of the ~~((child))~~ juvenile in custody shall be the responsibility of the receiving county as of the date of the transfer of the juvenile to such county, unless the counties otherwise agree.

(3) An information shall be a plain, concise, and definite written statement of the essential facts constituting the offense charged. It shall be signed by the prosecuting attorney and conform to chapter 10.37 RCW.

(a) The respondent is sixteen or seventeen years of age and the ((petition)) information alleges a class A felony or an attempt to commit a class A felony; or

(b) The respondent is seventeen years of age and the ((petition)) information alleges assault in the second degree, extortion in the first degree, indecent liberties, kidnapping in the second degree, rape in the second degree, or robbery in the second degree.

(2) The court after a decline hearing may order the case transferred for adult criminal prosecution upon a finding that the declination would be in the best interest of the juvenile or the public. The court shall consider the relevant reports, facts, opinions, and arguments presented by the parties and their counsel.

(3) When the respondent is transferred for criminal prosecution or retained for prosecution in juvenile court, the court shall set forth in writing its finding which shall be supported by relevant facts and opinions produced at the hearing.

Sec. 64. Section 66, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.40.120 are each amended to read as follows:

The court shall hold an adjudicatory hearing on the information, and, after it has announced its findings of fact and its ((verdict)) decision, shall hold a hearing to consider disposition of the case pursuant to RCW 13.40.150 and 13.40.160, as now or hereafter amended, immediately following the adjudicatory hearing or at a continued hearing within fourteen days unless good cause is shown for a further continuance. Notice of the time and place of the continued hearing may be given in open court. If notice is not given in open court to a party, that party shall be notified by mail of the time and place of any continued hearing.

All hearings may be conducted at any time or place within the limits of the county, and such cases ((shall)) may not be heard in conjunction with other business of any other division of the superior court.

Sec. 65. Section 67, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.40.130 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The respondent shall be advised of the allegations in the information and shall be required to plead guilty or not guilty to the allegation(s). The state or the respondent may make preliminary motions up to the time of the plea.

(2) If the respondent pleads guilty, the court may proceed with disposition or may continue the case for a dispositional hearing. If the respondent denies guilt, a hearing date shall be set.

(3) At the adjudicatory hearing it shall be the burden of the prosecution to prove the allegations of the information beyond a reasonable doubt.

(4) The court shall record its findings of fact and shall enter its ((verdict)) decision upon the record. Such findings shall set forth the evidence relied upon by the court in reaching its ((verdict)) decision.

(5) If the respondent is found not guilty he or she shall be released from detention.

(6) If the respondent is found guilty the court may immediately proceed to disposition or may continue the case for a dispositional hearing.

(7) The court following an adjudicatory hearing may request that a predisposition study be prepared to aid the court in its evaluation of the matters relevant to disposition of the case.

(8) The disposition hearing shall be held within fourteen days after the adjudicatory hearing or plea of guilty unless held in a detention facility, unless good cause is shown for further delay.

(9) In sentencing an offender, the court shall use the disposition standards in effect on the date of the offense.

Sec. 66. Section 68, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.40.140 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A ((youth)) juvenile shall be advised of his or her rights when appearing before the court.

(2) A ((youth)) juvenile and his or her parent, guardian, or custodian shall be advised by the court or its representative that the ((youth)) juvenile has a right to be represented by counsel at all critical stages of the proceedings. Unless waived, counsel shall be provided to a ((youth;)) juvenile who is financially unable to obtain counsel without causing substantial hardship to himself or herself or the ((youth's)) juvenile's family, in any proceeding where the ((youth)) juvenile may be subject to transfer for criminal prosecution, or in any proceeding where the ((youth)) juvenile may be in danger of confinement ((or partial confinement)). The ability to pay part of the cost of counsel ((shall)) does not preclude assignment. In no case ((shall)) may a ((youth)) juvenile be deprived of counsel because of a parent, guardian, or custodian refusing to pay therefor. The ((youth)) juvenile shall be fully advised of his or her right to an attorney and of the relevant services an attorney can provide.

(3) The right to counsel ((shall)) includes the right to the appointment of experts necessary, and the experts shall be required pursuant to the procedures and requirements established by the supreme court.

(4) Upon application of a party, the clerk of the court shall issue, and the court on its own motion may issue, subpoenas requiring attendance and testimony of witnesses and production of records, documents, or other tangible objects at any hearing, or such subpoenas may be issued by an attorney of record.

(5) All proceedings shall be transcribed verbatim by means which will provide an accurate record.

(6) The general public and press shall be permitted to attend any hearing unless the court, for good cause, orders a particular hearing to be closed. The presumption shall be that all such hearings will be open.

(7) In all adjudicatory proceedings before the court, all parties shall have the right to adequate notice, discovery as provided in criminal cases, opportunity to be heard, confrontation of witnesses except in such cases as this chapter expressly permits the use of hearsay testimony, findings based solely upon the evidence adduced at the hearing, and an unbiased fact-finder.

(8) A juvenile shall be accorded the privilege against self-incrimination. An ((extra-judicial)) extrajudicial statement which would be constitutionally inadmissible in a criminal proceeding ((shall)) may not be received in evidence at an adjudicatory hearing over objection. Evidence illegally seized or obtained ((shall)) may not be received in evidence over objection at an adjudicatory hearing to prove the allegations against the ((child) juvenile. An ((extra-judicial)) extrajudicial admission or confession made by the ((child)) juvenile out of court is insufficient to support a finding that the ((child)) juvenile committed the acts alleged in the information unless evidence of a corpus delicti is first independently established.

(9) Waiver of any right which a ((child)) juvenile has under this chapter must be an express waiver intelligently made by the ((child)) juvenile after the ((child)) juvenile has been fully informed of the right being waived.

(10) Whenever this chapter refers to waiver or objection by a ((child)) juvenile, the word ((child)) juvenile shall be construed to refer to a ((child)) juvenile who is at least twelve years of age. If a ((child)) juvenile is under twelve years of age, the ((child's)) juvenile's parent, guardian, or custodian shall give any waiver or offer any objection contemplated by this chapter.

Sec. 67. Section 69, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.40.150 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In disposition hearings all relevant and material evidence, including oral and written reports, may be received by the court and may be relied upon to the extent of its probative value, even though such evidence may not be admissible in a hearing on the information. The youth or the youth's counsel and the prosecuting attorney shall be afforded an opportunity to examine and controvert written reports so received and to cross-examine individuals making reports when such individuals are reasonably available, but sources of confidential information need not be disclosed. The prosecutor and counsel for the juvenile may submit recommendations for disposition.

(2) For purposes of disposition:

(a) Violations which are current offenses count as misdemeanors;

(b) Violations may not count as part of the offender's criminal history;

(c) In no event may a disposition for a violation include confinement.

(3) Before entering a dispositional order as to a respondent found to have committed an offense, the court shall hold a disposition hearing, at which the court shall:

(a) Consider the facts supporting the allegations of criminal conduct by the respondent;

(b) Consider information and arguments offered by parties and their counsel;

(c) Consider any predisposition reports;

(d) Afford the respondent and the respondent's parent, guardian, or custodian an opportunity to speak in the respondent's behalf;

(e) Allow the victim or a representative of the victim and an investigative law enforcement officer to speak;

(f) Determine the amount of restitution owing to the victim, if any;

(g) Determine whether the respondent is a serious offender or a minor or first offender;

(h) Consider whether or not any of the following mitigating factors exist:

(i) The respondent's conduct neither caused nor threatened serious bodily injury or the respondent did not contemplate that his or her conduct would cause or threaten serious bodily injury;

(ii) The respondent acted under strong and immediate provocation;

(iii) The respondent was suffering from a mental or physical condition that significantly reduced his or her culpability for the offense though failing to establish a defense;

(iv) Prior to his or her detection, the respondent compensated or made a good faith attempt to compensate the victim for the injury or loss sustained; and

(v) There has been at least one year between the respondent's current offense and any prior criminal offense;

(i) Consider whether or not any of the following aggravating factors exist:

(i) In the commission of the offense, or in flight therefrom, the respondent inflicted or attempted to inflict serious bodily injury to another;

(ii) The offense was committed in an especially heinous, cruel, or depraved manner;

(iii) The victim or victims were particularly vulnerable;

(iv) The respondent has a recent criminal history or has failed to comply with conditions of a recent dispositional order or diversion agreement; and

(v) The respondent was the leader of a criminal enterprise involving several persons(;;);

((+)) (4) The following factors ((shat)) may not be considered in determining the punishment to be imposed:

((+)) (a) The sex of the respondent;

~~((iii))~~ (b) The race or color of the respondent or the respondent's family;
~~((iiii))~~ (c) The creed or religion of the respondent or the respondent's family;
~~((iv))~~ (d) The economic or social class of the respondent or the respondent's family; and

~~((v))~~ (e) Factors indicating that the respondent may be or is a dependent child within the meaning of this chapter(;;).

~~((*)~~ (5) A court ~~((shall))~~ may not commit a ~~((youth))~~ juvenile to a state institution solely because of the lack of facilities, including treatment facilities, existing in the community.

Sec. 68. Section 70, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.40.160 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When the respondent is found to be a serious offender, the court shall commit the offender to the department for ~~((a determinate sentence consisting of))~~ the standard range of disposition for the offense.

If the court ~~((finds that a disposition within the standard range would effectuate a manifest injustice, the court may impose a disposition outside the range but only after it enters reasons upon which it bases))~~ concludes, and enters reasons for its conclusion, that disposition within the standard range would effectuate a manifest injustice the court shall impose a disposition outside the standard range.

A disposition outside the standard range shall be determinate and shall be comprised of confinement or community supervision, or a combination thereof. When a judge finds a manifest injustice and imposes a sentence of confinement exceeding thirty days, the court shall sentence the juvenile to a maximum term, and the provisions of RCW 13.40.030(6), as now or hereafter amended, shall be used to determine the range. A disposition ~~((imposed))~~ outside ~~((a))~~ the standard range is appealable under RCW 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended, by the state or the respondent. A disposition within the standard range is not appealable under RCW 13.40.230 as now or hereafter amended.

(2) Where the respondent is found to be a minor or first offender, the court shall order that the respondent serve a term of community supervision. If the court determines that a disposition of community supervision would effectuate a manifest injustice the court may impose another disposition. A disposition other than a community supervision ~~((shall))~~ may be imposed only after the court enters reasons upon which it bases its conclusions that imposition of community supervision would effectuate a manifest injustice. When a judge finds a manifest injustice and imposes a sentence of confinement exceeding thirty days, the court shall sentence the juvenile to a maximum term, and the provisions of RCW 13.40.030(6), as now or hereafter amended, shall be used to determine the range. Any disposition other than community supervision may be appealed as provided in RCW 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended, by the state or the respondent. A disposition of community supervision may not be appealed under RCW 13.40.230 as now or hereafter amended.

(3) ~~((A juvenile appearing before the court for formal disposition who has))~~ Where a respondent is found to have committed an offense for which the respondent declined to enter into a diversion agreement ~~((and who would otherwise be so entitled shall, if determined to be a first or minor offender, be referred to a diversionary unit under the supervision of which such youth may only be required to perform the term of community service and, where there is a victim, shall be required to make restitution under the limits specified in this chapter))~~, the court shall impose a term of community supervision limited to the conditions allowed in a diversion agreement as provided in RCW 13.40.080(2) as now or hereafter amended.

(4) Where ~~((the))~~ a respondent is found to have committed an offense ~~((and))~~ which is neither a serious ~~((offender))~~ nor a minor or first ~~((offender, consistent with the purposes of this chapter the court shall: (a)(i) Where the appropriate))~~ offense:

(a) The court shall impose a determinate disposition within the standard range(s) for such offense: PROVIDED, That if the standard range includes a ((period)) term of confinement exceeding thirty days, ((sentence the offender to the department for a term consisting of the appropriate standard range, or (ii) where the appropriate standard range does not include a period of confinement exceeding thirty days, sentence the offender to a determinate term within the appropriate standard range in which case the court shall consider only those)) commitment shall be to the department for the standard range of confinement; or

(b) The court shall impose a determinate disposition of community supervision and/or up to thirty days confinement in which case, if confinement has been imposed, the court shall state either aggravating ((and)) or mitigating factors as set forth in RCW 13.40.150 ((and shall state its reasons for selecting the particular punishment imposed, or (b) shall impose a term of community supervision. If the court sentencing pursuant to subsection (a)(i) or (ii) of this section finds that a disposition within the standard range would effectuate a manifest injustice, it may impose a disposition other than community supervision outside the range but only after it)) as now or hereafter amended.

(c) Only if the court concludes, and enters reasons ((upon which it bases)) for its conclusions, that disposition ((within the standard range)) as provided in subsection (4) (a) or (b) of this section would effectuate a manifest injustice, the court shall sentence the juvenile to a maximum term, and the provisions of RCW 13.40.030(6), as now or hereafter amended, shall be used to determine the range.

(d) A disposition ((so imposed outside the standard range may be appealed as provided in)) pursuant to subsection (4)(c) of this section is appealable under RCW 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended, by the state or the respondent. A disposition ((within the standard range or of community supervision shall)) pursuant to subsection (4)(a) or (b) of this section is not ((be)) appealable under RCW 13.40.230 as now or hereafter amended.

(5) ((A court may require a juvenile offender to serve a period of partial confinement not to exceed thirty days or a period of confinement not to exceed the minimum period of confinement included within the standard range for the offense(s) for which he or she was found guilty, but in no case to exceed thirty days: PROVIDED, That such periods of partial confinement and confinement may be required only of youthful offenders who are: (a) Not sentenced to a sentence within a range established by the legislature; (b) not committed to the department; (c) not first and minor offenders; and (d) are serving terms of community supervision: PROVIDED FURTHER, That all such terms of partial confinement and confinement shall be served in a facility operated by or pursuant to a contract with a county or city.)) Whenever a juvenile offender is entitled to credit for time spent in detention prior to a dispositional order, the dispositional order shall specifically state the number of days of credit for time served.

Sec. 69. Section 73, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.40.190 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In its dispositional order, the court shall require the respondent to make restitution to any persons who have suffered loss or damage as a result of the offense committed by the respondent. The payment of restitution shall be in addition to any punishment which is imposed pursuant to the other provisions of this chapter. The court may determine the amount, terms, and conditions of the restitution. If the respondent participated in the crime with another person or other persons, all such participants shall be jointly and severally responsible for the payment of restitution. ~~((: PROVIDED, That)).~~ The court ((shall)) may not require the respondent to pay full or partial restitution if the respondent reasonably satisfies the court that he or she does not have the means to make full or partial restitution and could not reasonably acquire the means to pay such restitution. In cases where an offender has been committed to the department for a period of confinement exceeding fifteen weeks, restitution may be waived.

~~(2) ((When a respondent who has been ordered by a court to pay a fine or restitution, or to perform service for the public good fails to fulfill that order, the court upon the motion of the prosecutor or upon its own motion, shall require the respondent to show cause why the respondent should not be confined in a detention facility for nonfulfillment. The court may issue a summons or a warrant for arrest to compel the respondent's appearance.~~

~~(3) The respondent shall have the burden of showing that the nonpayment or nonfulfillment was not a wilful refusal and that he or she did not have the means and could not reasonably acquire the means to pay the fine or restitution or to perform the service for the public good. If the court finds that the default was wilful, it may order the youth detained in a county facility for one day for each twenty-five dollars of restitution or fine on which the youth wilfully defaulted or may order the youth detained in a county facility for one day for each eight hours of community service on which the youth wilfully defaulted)) A respondent under obligation to pay restitution may petition the court for modification of the restitution order.~~

Sec. 70. Section 74, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.40.200 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Consistent with the purposes of this chapter, if the respondent violates a condition of his or her community supervision, community supervision may be revoked or modified and further permissible punishment imposed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. Such punishment may include a period of confinement and/or partial confinement in a county facility not to exceed thirty days. Community supervision may only be revoked or modified upon the same due process as would be afforded an adult alleged probation violator.)) (1) When a respondent fails to comply with an order of restitution, community supervision, or confinement of less than thirty days, the court upon motion of the prosecutor or its own motion, may modify the order after a hearing on the violation.~~

~~(2) The hearing shall afford the respondent the same due process of law as would be afforded an adult probationer. The court may issue a summons or a warrant to compel the respondent's appearance. The state shall have the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence the fact of the violation. The respondent shall have the burden of showing that the violation was not a willful refusal to comply with the terms of the order. If a respondent has failed to pay a fine or restitution or to perform community service hours, as required by the court, it shall be the respondent's burden to show that he or she did not have the means and could not reasonably have acquired the means to pay the fine or restitution or perform community service.~~

~~(3) (a) If the court finds that a respondent has wilfully violated the terms of an order pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) of this section, it may impose a penalty of up to thirty days confinement.~~

~~(b) If the violation of the terms of the order under (a) of this subsection is failure to pay fines, complete community service, or make restitution, the term of confinement imposed under (a) of this subsection shall be assessed at a rate of one day of confinement for each twenty-five dollars or eight hours owed.~~

Sec. 71. Section 75, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.40.210 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The secretary shall, except in the case of a ((youth)) juvenile committed by a court to a term of confinement in a state institution outside the appropriate standard range for the offense(s) for which the ((youth)) juvenile was found to be guilty established pursuant to RCW 13.40.030, as now or hereafter amended, set a release or discharge date for each ((youth)) juvenile committed to its custody which shall be within the prescribed range to which a ((youth)) juvenile has been committed. Such dates shall be determined prior to the expiration of sixty percent of a ((youth's)) juvenile's minimum term of confinement included within the prescribed range to which the ((youth)) juvenile has been committed. The secretary shall release any juvenile committed to the custody of the department within four calendar days prior to the juvenile's release date or on the release date set under this chapter: PROVIDED, That days spent in the custody of the department shall be tolled by any period of time during which a juvenile has absented himself or herself from the department's supervision without the prior approval of the secretary or the secretary's designee.

(2) Following the ((youth's)) juvenile's release pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the secretary may require the ((youth)) juvenile to comply with a program of parole to be administered by the department in his or her community which shall last no longer than eighteen months. The secretary shall, for the period of parole, facilitate the ((youth's)) juvenile's reintegration into his or her community and to further this goal may require the ((youth)) juvenile to: (a) Undergo available medical or psychiatric treatment; (b) report as directed to a parole officer; (c) pursue a course of study or vocational training; (d) remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the department of any change in his or her address; and (e) refrain from committing new offenses. After termination of the parole period, the ((youth)) juvenile shall be discharged from the department's supervision.

(3) The department may also (~~revoke or~~) modify parole for violation thereof. If, after affording a ((youth)) juvenile all of the due process rights to which he or she would be entitled if the ((youth)) juvenile were an adult, the secretary finds that a ((youth)) juvenile has violated a condition of his or her parole, the secretary shall order one of the following which is reasonably likely to effectuate the purpose of the parole and to protect the public: (a) Continued supervision under the same conditions previously imposed; (b) intensified supervision with increased reporting requirements; (c) additional conditions of supervision authorized by this chapter; and (d) imposition of a period of ((partial)) confinement not to exceed thirty days in a facility operated by or pursuant to a contract with the state of Washington or any city or county for a portion of each day or for a certain number of days each week with the balance of the days or weeks spent under supervision.

(4) A parole officer of the department of social and health services shall have the power to arrest a juvenile under his or her supervision on the same grounds as a law enforcement officer would be authorized to arrest such person.

Sec. 72. Section 77, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.40.230 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Dispositions reviewed pursuant to RCW 13.40.160, as now or hereafter amended, shall be reviewed in the appropriate division of the court of appeals.

An appeal under this section shall be heard solely upon the record that was before the disposition court. No written briefs (~~shall~~) may be required, and the appeal shall be heard within thirty days following the date of sentencing and a decision rendered within fifteen days following the argument. The supreme court shall promulgate any necessary rules to effectuate the purposes of this section.

(2) To uphold a disposition outside the standard range, or which imposes confinement for a minor or first offender, the court of appeals must find (a) that the reasons supplied by the disposition judge are supported by the record which was before the judge and that those reasons clearly and convincingly support the conclusion that a disposition within the range, or nonconfinement for a minor or first offender, would constitute a manifest injustice, and (b) that the sentence imposed was neither clearly excessive nor clearly too lenient.

(3) If the court does not find subsection (2)(a) of this section it shall remand the case for disposition within the standard range or for community supervision without confinement as would otherwise be appropriate pursuant to this chapter.

(4) If the court finds subsection (2)(a) but not subsection (2)(b) of this section it shall remand the case with instructions for further proceedings consistent with the provisions of this chapter.

(5) Pending appeal, a respondent ~~((shall))~~ may not be committed or detained for a period of time in excess of the standard range for the offense(s) committed and ~~((shall))~~ may not be detained if a first or minor offender: PROVIDED, That if the order of the disposition court is below the standard range, the respondent shall be committed or detained for no longer than the term set by the disposition court.

~~(6) ((Dispositions imposed by the disposition court shall not be final until either the deadline for appeal pursuant to state law or supreme court rule has passed without an appeal being taken, or the court of appeals has issued its decision on the appeal.))~~ Appeal of a disposition under this section does not affect the finality or appeal of the underlying adjudication of guilt.

Sec. 73. Section 1, chapter 170, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 13.40.300 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In no case ~~((shall))~~ may a ~~((delinquent))~~ juvenile offender be committed by the juvenile court to the department of social and health services for placement in a juvenile correctional institution beyond the ~~((child's))~~ juvenile offender's twenty-first birthday. A ~~((delinquent))~~ juvenile ~~((shall))~~ may be under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court or the authority of the department of social and health services beyond the ~~((child's))~~ juvenile's eighteenth birthday only if ~~((the juvenile court has,))~~ prior to the juvenile's eighteenth birthday ~~((, found the juvenile to be delinquent and has extended the jurisdiction))~~:

(a) The juvenile court has committed the juvenile offender to the department of social and health services for a sentence consisting of the standard range of disposition for the offense and the sentence includes a period beyond the juvenile offender's eighteenth birthday; or

(b) The juvenile court has committed the juvenile offender to the department of social and health services for a sentence outside the standard range of disposition for the offense and the sentence includes a period beyond the ~~((child's))~~ juvenile's eighteenth birthday and the court by written order setting forth its reasons ~~((therefor))~~ extends jurisdiction of juvenile court over the juvenile offender for that period; or

(c) Proceedings are pending seeking the adjudication of a juvenile offense or seeking an order of disposition and the court by written order setting forth its reasons extends jurisdiction of juvenile court over the juvenile beyond his or her eighteenth birthday.

(2) In no event ~~((shall))~~ may the juvenile court have authority to extend jurisdiction over any ~~((delinquent))~~ juvenile offender beyond the juvenile~~((s))~~ offender's twenty-first birthday.

(3) Notwithstanding any extension of jurisdiction over a person pursuant to this section, the juvenile court has no jurisdiction over any offenses alleged to have been committed by a person eighteen years of age or older.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 74. There is added to chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and to chapter 13.40 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The provisions of RCW 10.01.040 apply to chapter 13.40 RCW.

Sec. 75. Section 9, chapter 291, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 1, chapter 172, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 26.32.090 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon the filing of a petition for adoption, the court shall cause an investigation of the propriety of the adoption to be made. The court shall appoint an approved agency or any qualified salaried court employee or any other suitable and proper person as next friend of the child to make such investigation. The investigation shall be made without expense to the petitioners. The investigator appointed by the court shall make a report in writing to the court within sixty days from the time of the the appointment unless further time be granted by the court. Such report shall be in writing and contain all reasonably available information concerning the physical and mental condition of the child, the religion of the child, if any, and if unknown, then the report shall designate unknown, the parents of the child, and the home environment, family life, health, facilities and resources of the petitioners, and any other facts and circumstances relating to the propriety and advisability of the adoption. Such report shall also include, where relevant, information on the child's special cultural heritage, including membership in any Indian tribe or band. Any preplacement report on the petitioner required by this chapter to be filed with the court shall be made available to the next friend; the next friend may in his discretion rely on its contents and adopt its recommendations and may incorporate the same in the report of the next friend.

When the object of the adoption proceeding is the petition of a parent to adopt the child of the other spouse, the report of the next friend shall be made within ten days of the date of appointment, unless such time is extended by the court, and in such cases the court may dispense with formal written report and require such information as the court deems necessary in the particular case as to the propriety of the adoption.

Sec. 76. Section 3, chapter 30, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 21, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 74.13.020 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in Title 74 RCW, child welfare services shall be defined as public social services including adoption services which strengthen, supplement, or substitute for, parental care and supervision for the purpose of:

(1) Preventing or remedying, or assisting in the solution of problems which may result in families in conflict, or the neglect, abuse, exploitation, or ((delinquency)) criminal behavior of children;

(2) Protecting and caring for homeless, dependent, or neglected children;

(3) Assisting children who are in conflict with their parents, and assisting parents who are in conflict with their children with services designed to resolve such conflicts;

(4) Protecting and promoting the welfare of children, including the strengthening of their own homes where possible, or, where needed;

(5) Providing adequate care of children away from their homes in foster family homes or day care or other child care agencies or facilities.

As used in this chapter, child means a person less than eighteen years of age.

Sec. 77. Section 17, chapter 172, Laws of 1967 as last amended by section 22, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 74.13.031 are each amended to read as follows:

The department shall have the duty to provide child welfare services as defined in RCW 74.13.020, and shall:

(1) Develop, administer, and supervise a plan that establishes, ((extends aid to)) aids, and strengthens services for the protection and care of homeless, runaway, dependent ((children)), or neglected children((; or juvenile offenders)).

(2) Investigate complaints of neglect, abuse, or abandonment of children by parents, ((guardians;)) legal custodians, or persons serving in loco parentis, and on the basis of the findings of such investigation, offer child welfare services in relation to the problem to such parents, ((guardians;)) legal custodians, or persons serving in loco parentis, and/or bring the situation to the attention of an appropriate court, or another community agency. If the investigation reveals that a crime may have been committed, the department shall notify the appropriate law enforcement agency.

(3) Offer, on a voluntary basis, crisis intervention to families who are in conflict. Private and public entities which intend to contract with the department to offer crisis intervention services shall provide, prior to entering into the contract, a written rationale for the service model or models to be offered by the agency, which shall include a description of the type of service or services to be offered, a service impact statement describing the anticipated effects of the types of services to be provided, and any evidence available to justify the service impact statement.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Is this bill in a shape that it can stand? It is not our intention to come back next year for a session and will this bill stand for two years as good legislation?"

Senator Hayner: "It is certainly far better legislation than we had before. It is not perfect. We will, I am sure, find some more bugs in it, but it will stand until the next time we meet I am sure."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2433, by Senators Day, Ridder and Shinpoch:
Revising the definition of unemployable persons.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 13, 1979.

SENATE BILL NO. 2433, revising the definition of unemployable persons (reported by Committee on Social and Health Services):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 2, line 10, after "security" insert ", by rule and regulation,"

On page 2, line 11, after "employment" insert "or work training"

On page 2, line 12, after "employment" insert ": PROVIDED, That the director of employment security shall promulgate rules and regulations setting forth those conditions or circumstances that constitute an obstacle preventing referral of a person to any employment opportunity"

Signed by: Senators Day, Chairman; Moore, Vice Chairman, Gould, Quigg, Talmadge, Vognild.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Day moved the committee amendments be considered and adopted simultaneously.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "Senator Day, I am a little concerned about the connotation of the word 'any' employment, which is both in your amendment and also in the change made in this bill. Now, does that any employment opportunity mean if there is a single opportunity that the particular infirmity would prevent him from being employed, that you were saying that then he is unemployable, or by the word 'any' do you mean that the infirmity is such that he could not be employed in any of many employable opportunities? I think that can be construed either way and I would like to know what the intent is?"

Senator Day: "The intent is the latter, Senator Clarke. That if he is totally unemployable so he could not take any employment opportunity because of, for example, let us say the man had a vision problem and he needed glasses.

"I might as well explain the bill. What the bill is intended to do . . ."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Day, I have been quickly scanning this bill and attempting to find where in the bill that it says the department of social and health must recognize the rules of employment security. Now, maybe it is in there, but I find it hard to understand and we have this difficulty with the department's frequently, one will adopt a rule or regulation that is contrary to what some other department is doing. Where does it say that social and health is bound by the rules as defined with employment security?"

Senator Day: "What we are doing is amending their own statute which refers to public assistance, defines the department of social and health services, defines the secretary, on the first page, and what we are doing is amending the definition in their department of unemployable to include the department of employment security and the rules drawn by the department of employment security, thereby those rules are applicable relative to employability by the department of social and health services."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, I think you are full of good intentions, but I do not think they are going to follow that. Let me give you an example."

Senator Day: "Of course, Senator, if they are not going to follow what we have put into the law relative to their own department, then you may be correct, but they will be violating this act if they do not."

Senator Rasmussen: Well, that is an easy answer, Senator Day, but what employment, to give you an example though, the social security many times do not recognize a disabled worker as being disabled under their rules, where industrial insurance does recognize them and so you have two different—one is federal agency, that is true, but here you have two state agencies and there is no absolute provision that they have to adopt the same rules as their guidelines. I think we are whistling in the wind."

Senator Day: "I will try once more, Senator. We are amending the law relative to the department of social and health services and on page two of the bill. Page one defines what public assistance is, defines what the department means, social and health services, defines the secretary instead of the director. It actually is clean up language and then we are amending their own directions here relative to general assistance, unemployable persons as far as department of social and health services is concerned now will include a definition and rules providing the support of that definition by the department of employment security."

"Now, it would seem plausible to me that if employment security writes these defining rules and regulations that they would be those that they would agree to themselves and then they are mandated in the law relative to DSHS. Thereby we have a standard for unemployable persons in the state instead of two standards where one department can send a person over as employable and the other department can say they are not and I think that it is an unfair thing the way it is and it must be rather frustrating. And, this should straighten it out."

The motion by Senator Day carried and the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Day, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2433 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Day, this is not in relation to the new material, Senator Day, this is in relation on page three, line twelve, 'provided, that in the opinion of three physicians the recipient will be unable to return to the home during his lifetime and the home is not occupied by a spouse, or dependent children or disabled sons or daughters'. My understanding in testimony before the ways and means committee, the department of social and health said that they were not enforcing this and in line with the Governor's suggestion that the home remain there in case the recipient should come back. Has that come up in your committee? Do you know if that has been amended out of the law?"

Senator Day: "No, I do not."

(3) Applications for certification of energy facilities made prior to ~~((July 15, 1977))~~ the effective date of this 1979 act, shall continue to be governed by the applicable provisions of law in effect on the day immediately preceding ~~((July 15, 1977))~~ the effective date of this 1979 act, with the exceptions of RCW 80.50.190 and 80.50.071 which shall apply to such prior applications and to site certifications prospectively from July 15, 1977.

(4) Applications for certification shall be upon forms prescribed by the council and shall be supported by such information and technical studies as the council may require."

Renumber the sections consecutively.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, I raise the Point of Order that the amendment expands the scope and object of the bill and may I speak to the motion?"

"Mr. President, the House Bill 328 is a bill to bring into conformity the Washington EFSEC Permit Law for the clean water discharge permit that is a federal permit which we are authorized to issue by our state energy site evaluation council. It is a very limited bill, very narrow in scope and that is its sole and entire object. The amendment is Senate Bill 2139, which has been heard twice in our committee. It still resides there. It deals with land use planning, with local veto authority, with resolutions of county commissioners and with zoning problems. It is an entirely different object and different scope entirely from the purpose of the very narrow bill, House Bill 328."

There being no objection, further consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 328, together with the amendment by Senators Odegaard, Goltz and Wilson and the Point of Order raised by Senator Bottiger, was ordered held pending a Ruling by the President.

SENATE RESOLUTION 1979-25

By Senators Lysen, Ridder, Talmadge, Van Hollebeke, Benitz, Hansen, Gaspard, Williams, Rasmussen, Woody, Talley, Peterson, Donohue, Vognilid and Morrison:

WHEREAS, There is no continuous railroad between Washington State, the Continental United States and Alaska; and

WHEREAS, The government of British Columbia, the Yukon Territory, and the State of Alaska have expressed great interest in such a route; and

WHEREAS, The long term economic benefits would be of tremendous value to the undeveloped regions of the Northwest; and

WHEREAS, The transport of agricultural products, timber, minerals and the development of tourism in these great northwest areas would be accomplished in an orderly manner with such a railroad; and

WHEREAS, There exists some preliminary planning for an international rail route which could be an alternative for the transport of crude oil to the Midwest, and thus relieve the pressure of greater sea-borne oil tanker traffic on Puget Sound; and

WHEREAS, The construction and operation of such a rail route will provide many permanent, productive jobs; and

WHEREAS, The addition of a rail route to the existing transportation routes will help to reduce the costs of product and materials throughout the area; and

WHEREAS, There are only about 900 miles of road bed to be completed to link up the 2,000 mile route; and

WHEREAS, The development of the western states of the United States was started when the rail lines were completed linking the new territories with the developed East; and

WHEREAS, The vigorous program and aggressive land acquisition furthering the rail line was accomplished in British Columbia during the early 1970's; and

WHEREAS, The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers has surveyed the remaining 900 miles of the proposed route; and

WHEREAS, Senator Warren G. Magnuson was a strong supporter of the railroad to Alaska as a young congressman in the 1930's and continues to support the rail route; and

WHEREAS, The Alaska Railroad between Anchorage and Fairbanks historically has needed a $2 to $3 million subsidy from the U. S. Railroad Administration, the completion of this connection between Canada and the lower forty-eight United States will help the Alaska Railroad become profitable;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Washington State Senate that the Congress of the United States be urged to enact laws which will allow the government of the United States to enter into agreements with Canada so that such a rail route can be constructed and operated for the benefits of the citizens of both countries.

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the Point of Order raised by Senator Bottiger, the President finds that Substitute House Bill No. 328 is a measure which makes energy facility site certification proceedings subjection the the national pollutant discharge elimination system.

These bills are the result of a computer run by the code reviser with respect to situations where powers have been granted to various types of agencies and those agencies have since been supplanted by agencies with other names and they have been given the same or identical powers and the fundamental purpose of these lengthy bills is to create a situation where all of these are consolidated and corrected."

Revising the laws against discrimination to include persons with physical handicaps.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

March 5, 1979.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 480, revising the laws against discrimination to include persons with physical handicaps (reported by Committee on Social and Health Services):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 7, line 16, after the period following "section" insert a new paragraph to read as follows:

"The insurance commissioner, under RCW 48.30.300, and the human rights commission, under chapter 49.60 RCW, shall have concurrent jurisdiction under this section and shall enter into a working agreement as to procedure to be followed in complaints under this section."

On page 7, line 34, after "law" and before the period insert "PROVIDED FURTHER, That behavior or actions constituting a risk to property or other persons can be grounds for refusal and shall not constitute an unfair practice."

Signed by: Senators Day, Chairman; Moore, Vice Chairman; Gould, Pullen, Quigg, Talmadge, Vognild.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Day moved adoption of the committee amendment to page 7, line 16.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "Senator Day, in the preparation of this committee amendment was there any discussion as to which body, the insurance commissioner or the human rights commission, would likely have the first responsibility of investigating a discrimination complaint and following through?"

Senator Day: "Yes, there certainly was. The human rights commission indicated that in situations like this, they develop work sharing agreements which would have the insurance commissioner's office take the initial responsibility for investigating and following through on a complaint, although the human rights commission would be aware of the action taken. It would probably be a rare instance in which they would feel it necessary to become more involved."

The motion by Senator Day carried and the committee amendment to page 7, line 16 was adopted.

On motion of Senator Day, the committee amendment to page 7, line 34 was adopted.

Senator Day moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, line 29, after "handicap" insert ", or the right to free choice of practitioners"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Day, do you know of any cases where the handicapped have been denied the right to the free choice of practitioners?"

Senator Day: "Well, certainly, there are a lot of these health care contracts where they are denied free choice of practitioners every day, Senator. They are not included in insurance contracts, both group and individual in this state guarantee free choice of practitioners. Health care contracts do not."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, now what will this amendment do?"

Senator Day: "It will just guarantee them free choice. It won't expand the contract, but what it will do is guarantee that if a contract covers the service, they will have free choice of who does the service, who performs the service. It is that simple."

Senator Rasmussen: "Is this a committee amendment?"

Senator Day: "No, this is my amendment."

Senator Rasmussen: "Is it a good amendment?"

Senator Day: "Yes, sir, or I would not put it up."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis: "Senator Day, does this expand the professions that would have to be included in health contracts?"

Senator Day: "This would expand in no way the health care contract. It would merely give the individual the right to choose who performs the service. Example: if vision care is in the contract, the person could go to either an optometrist or an ophthalmologist within the covenants of the contract."

Senator Lewis: "Within the covenants of the contract. If it required an ophthalmologist, then it would still be an ophthalmologist that they would have to choose, is that true?"

Senator Day: "Well, it would depend on the service. If the practitioner were licensed to perform the service, if both practitioners were licensed to perform the service then the person who had paid the premium could go to either one of the practitioners to have them perform the service. It is just that simple."

Senator Lewis: "Let me get to the bottom line. Does this make some chiropractors eligible to do service that they cannot now do under contract?"

Senator Day: "No, it merely says that if their services are covered by the contract that the patient has a choice of going to whomever he wants to have that service performed. But, it would not broaden the contract in any way."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lysen: "Senator Day, In the case of Group Health, do you have to go to the doctors who are employed by Group Health as the terms of joining. This is how HMO works. Would this allow members of Group Health to go outside the employees of Group Health to get services and require them to include that coverage in their contracts which they do not now cover?"

Senator Day: "This would do identically the same thing that happens relative to state contracts right now. For example, Health Maintenance Organization in Spokane which is comparable to Group Health, contracts with optometrists, chiropractors and podiatrists to handle services for the panel. In other words, it would be identical to what the state contracts presently are and that is under Group Health, under Washington Physician's Service or any of the rest of them."

Senator Lysen: "I think you have answered my question to the effect that this would give people who are in Group Health could then go and choose services from practitioners who are not members of the board of Group Health."

Senator Day: "They presently do that, it is presently mandated in all the state contracts and every political subdivision has this choice."

Senator Lysen: "But the patient himself does not have the choice. The patient must go to the employee unless it is a special situation where they do not have the particular physician or type of physician in the Group Health group."

Senator Day: "Of course, presently under the law, Group Health has to provide a choice of practitioner just the same as Washington Physician Service or New York Life would if it is a state or political subdivision. Now, what this would do is bring those other contracts in line with that contract, for handicapped people."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Walgren: "Mr. President, I wonder whether or not this might be beyond the scope and object of the bill and raise that as a point."

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Day, Engrossed House Bill No. 480, as amended by the Senate, together with the amendment by Senator Day and the Point of Order raised by Senator Walgren, was ordered held following consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 425.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 30, by Representatives Ehlers, Nelson (G.A.), Taller and Sanders:

Establishing a method by which certain criminal cost bills will be paid by the state.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 30 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 30 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Bausch, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Conner, Day, Donohue, Fleming, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Gould, Guess, Hansen, Hayner, Henry, Jones, Lewis, Lysen, Marsh, Matson, McDermott, Moore, Newschwander, North, Odegaard, Peterson, Pullen, Quigg, Rasmussen, Ridder, Scott, Sellar, Shinpoch, Talley, Talmadge, Van Hollebeke, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Walgren, Wanamaker, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, Woody—46.

Excused: Senators Keefe, Lee—2.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 30, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 425, by Committee on Judiciary (originally sponsored by Representatives Smith (R.) and Newhouse):

Permitting each county's superior court to authorize mandatory arbitration for civil actions less than ten thousand dollars.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Marsh, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 425 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Senator Marsh, the bill reads that civil actions in municipal or justice courts where the claim is in excess of ten thousand dollars, will be subject to mandatory arbitration. The point I would like clarified is just what does that mean? They must arbitrate, but is the arbitration binding in that case?"

Senator Marsh: "There is a right of appeal as you will note, Senator, in section five of the bill. Section five of the bill provides that 'following a hearing as prescribed by court rule, the arbitrator shall file his decision and award with the clerk of the superior court, together with proof of service thereof on the parties. Within twenty days after such filing, any aggrieved party may file with the clerk a written notice of appeal and request for a trial de novo in the superior court on all issues of law and fact. Such trial de novo shall thereupon be held, including a right to jury, if demanded.' As you know, Senator, a de novo trial is a new trial on all issues."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Senator Marsh, didn't we pass a bill increasing the jurisdiction of district courts in this area?"

Senator Marsh: "We did pass a bill earlier this session increasing the jurisdiction of district courts to three thousand immediately and then to five thousand in a two-year period. This does not have to do with the jurisdiction of district courts, however. This has to do with arbitration."

Senator Wilson: "I understand that, but to the extent that the jurisdiction of the district courts is increased there becomes less need for something like this, is that not true?"

Senator Marsh: "Well, that is partially true. It will be easier to get claims three thousand dollars and under heard in district court, but we are going to have a lot of claims between three thousand and ten thousand that it will be difficult to get a hearing on in the superior courts because of court congestion. This bill is designed to cut down on court congestion to make it easier to get civil claims heard. As you know, Senator, in the superior courts, criminal cases are heard first, and then if there is time we get down to the civil cases and, unfortunately the bill that we passed through here increasing the number of judges has not yet passed the House and so there is real need for this bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Marsh, on page one, line eleven, do you have the page, Senator Marsh?"

Senator Marsh: "I do, I do."

Senator Rasmussen: "It says 'arbitration where sale,' what type of relief is that?"

Senator Marsh: "The bill is incorrectly printed in the bills then on the floor here. The green Substitute House Bill No. 425, correctly spells it sole, intended to mean sole, I am pretty sure. I would ask the Secretary of the Senate to check the copy at the desk, is it not printed correctly on line eleven? The word before relief, is it not printed sole? The bill at the desk is correctly printed and the word should be sole."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator Marsh. Then, the other question I have in regards, it leaves it up to the supreme court, 'shall by rule adopt such procedures to implement mandatory arbitration of civil actions under this chapter.' 'The supreme court shall by rule adopt procedure to implement mandatory.' Why would they adopt mandatory?"

Senator Marsh: "Because this bill relates to mandatory arbitration. This bill in section one, Senator, says that if the superior court of a county by majority vote of the judges authorize mandatory arbitration, then it becomes effective. Now, this simply authorizes. It is an enabling act for superior court judges in various counties. It doesn't set out the rules and procedures that will be followed in arbitration. And, so if the superior court judges vote to have arbitration, then there needs to be a set of rules and it has been traditional in our state, for the supreme court to set the rules for all of our various civil actions. They set them not only for superior court, but also for district court and they also set them for the courts of appeal. This is just an extension of the judicial rule-making power."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, that is my concern. Apparently in all cases of ten thousand dollars, less than ten thousand dollars, they will have if the superior court of a locality, they will then have to go to mandatory arbitration and there will be, I presume, arbitrators appointed and who is going to pay the cost of that and how it will be allocated, or is that to become a cost of the county?"

Senator Marsh: "That is provided for in section six, which says, 'the supreme court may by rule provide for cost and reasonable attorney's fees that may be assessed against a party appealing from the award who fails to improve his position on the trial de novo.'"

Senator Rasmussen: "That is from the party appealing, but I guess my basic question, Senator Marsh, that is not being answered is I absolutely if the superior court, if I have a claim up to ten thousand dollars, I will be forced to accept arbitration."

Senator Marsh: "That is correct and you will also have an appeal de novo."

Senator Rasmussen: "Yes, but that gives me a double cost, where now I can go into the superior court, have my case tried, maybe get a jury trial, this will be doing away with jury trial and I have grave questions if it was less permissive so that both attorneys could agree to go to arbitration, that would be one thing. But, going to mandatory, that is something else again and it is taking the right that is granted now to civilians to go into court and be heard before a jury of his peers."

Senator Marsh: "Senator Rasmussen, I recall that you voted against increasing the number of superior court judges and at this point the bill providing for additional judges has not passed in the House and there is a real court congestion problem. This bill is designed to cut down on court congestion, provide a speedy way for cases to be heard without the formality of superior court procedures. And, you always have your right of appeal if you did not do well and this is going to be an experiment, if you will. We feel that it has worked well in other states where it has been tried and it is a recommendation of all those who have studied the court congestion problem."

Debate ensued.

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, members of the Senate and Senator Rasmussen, what we are looking to do here is to cut down the cost, cut down the delay and provide in many cases, better justice. Senator Rasmussen, if it is a big case, over ten thousand dollars, or if it is an amount not in dispute where the parties, for example, do not know what a jury would do, it cannot go to arbitration.

"Under current practices, just by leaving out a demand, you could avoid arbitration in this case without alleging how much you have been hurt and then asking a jury to find it, you can avoid the arbitration. Arbitrators can go out on the scene, look at let us say a landlord/tenant problem instead of trying a case in court as to how much damage was done by a tenant, the arbitrators go out and look and it would not necessarily be attorneys that were selected as arbitrators. You would select the arbitrator depending on his expertise. It might be a contractor would be a better arbitrator than a lawyer in a particular contract case. You do not have to have lawyers in arbitration, you can do it yourself. So, what we are trying to do is provide some justice for the smaller cases to avoid the necessity of the expense of a fullblown superior court trial."

MOTION

Senator Rasmussen moved that Substitute House Bill No. 425 be rereferred to the Committee on Rules.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 480, by Committee on Social and Health Services (originally sponsored by Representatives Adams, O'Brien, Whiteside, Eng, Maxie, May, Brekke, Winsley, Lux, North and Haley) (by Executive request):

Revising the laws against discrimination to include persons with physical handicaps.

The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 480, as amended by the Senate earlier today and the Point of Order raised by Senator Walgren on the following amendment by Senator Day:

On page 1, line 29, after "handicap" insert ", or the right to free choice of practitioners"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the Point of Order raised by Senator Walgren, the President finds that Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 480 is a measure which relates to denial of health care coverage to individuals on the basis of sensory, mental or physical handicap.

"The amendment proposed by Senator Day does not deal with the discriminatory denial of health care coverage but deals instead with health care service contract terms applicable to all persons covered by such contracts.

"The President therefore finds that the amendment expands the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken.

The amendment by Senator Day was ruled out of order."

On motion of Senator Day, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substituted House Bill No. 480, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "Senator Day, in section 1 . . . . 'health care contractors are allowed to deny or otherwise limit coverage to a person when the person because of a medical condition does not meet the essential eligibility requirements established by the health care service contractor for purposes of determining coverage for any person.' Is it your understanding of this section's intent that the reason for turning a person down would be because their medical condition would likely result in a high use and cost to the health care contractor?"

Senator Day: "That is correct, Senator Goltz. The medical condition or combination of medical or health conditions would mean a greater frequency of use or cost than the health care contractor could reasonably be expected to absorb even though he is in a tax exempt-tax free situation."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 480, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; excused, 2.

On motion of Senator Hansen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 617, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Goltz, you have very fine intent in this legislation. My concern is, supposing we are forming a local improvement district and it is going to be necessary to issue bonds. What will this do as far as the issuance of bonds? This would kind of cloud the ability to issue bonds?"

Senator Goltz: "I do not think this will cloud the ability to issue bonds at all. What it simply means is that a farmer who has his land in farmland would not be a part of the local improvement district. He would not be assessed. Therefore, the people who would benefit from that and who would be assessed would be known and the bonds would be sold in accordance with that information. I have given my answer, Senator Rasmussen."

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Goltz, we have passed many fine bills with good intentions, but I can see where an area that is, very badly needs improvement and because of several tracts that are now receiving this open space category and been approved by the assessors, that they would not join in in paying for these improvements that a majority of the people in the area probably need. And, let me go a step further, that would be forced on them by the department of ecology through their rules and regulations on the clean water act. Now, I do not think that this has been run by to have an opinion given on this by the Attorney General in that regard."

Senator Goltz: "Well, the assumption is in this bill, Senator Rasmussen, that a farmer who cannot use the improvements which are required of a local improvement district does not have to pay for those improvements. As a matter of fact, there are court cases recently where persons who are charged water fees, water charges to pay for local improvement districts when they are not hooked up to the sewer system, those have been refunded in Bellingham under a court order. So, I think we are moving in the direction of not requiring people to pay for these local improvement district assessments if they cannot, in fact, make use of those improvements."

(b) From any amount above the first five hundred thousand dollars, the licensee may retain ten percent of such gross receipts."

On page 5, line 25, after "Of the" strike "amount retained in subsection" and insert "amounts retained in subsections (1) and"

"; except that, all such increased revenue to the licensee to be utilized for purses will be in addition to and will not supplant the customary purse structure between race tracks and participating horsemen"

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk.

VITO T. CHIECHI, Chief Clerk.

MOTION

Senator Morrison moved the Senate do concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2275.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Odegaard: "Senator Morrison, as you know, some of us had a concern when this bill passed here originally about the loss of revenues not only to the state general fund, but also to the fairs throughout the state and I realize there is an additional number of racing days that would be allowed to help alleviate that problem. But, with the House amendments compared to the Senate version of this bill, will it mean less revenues to the state and to the fair funds, or more?"

Senator Morrison: "Actually, the House amendments, Senator Odegaard, do take additional money. However, the arguments here are the same as when the bill passed the Senate in the first place and that is without this total package that we are, in fact, going to potentially lose some tracks that have been operating at a loss for like the last ten, fifteen and in the case of Yakima, nineteen years. So, if we take the same annual gross as we have seen in the tracks over the last three years and the extra racing days authorized by the commission, we still see a net gain to the state over the next two years of over a million dollars. So, if we just stood still, yes, there would be a loss, but if the normal gross is there as it should be and Yakima Meadows is already running and the handle is up, it looks like this money will be more than replaced for both the fair fund, the international trade fair fund and the general fund."

Senator Odegaard: "Senator Morrison, still the comparison between the two proposals now, our version and the House version, does it end up meaning a loss of revenue to the funds?"

Senator Morrison: "The House version does, by the inclusion of extra money, some of this money for Longacres, is a greater loss than the version as passed in the Senate originally."

Senator Odegaard: "Do you have an idea of how much greater loss?"

Senator Morrison: "It would be half of one percent of a fifty-five million dollar handle, which would be two hundred seventy-five thousand dollars a year, but we think more than replaced in the horsemen in the wings and around the capitol today, feel that that would be more than replaced because of the higher quality of horses running, the greater tendency for bettors to come to this state and bet on horses that will be attracted here from other states. So, we are very confident that, while there is a loss on the face of this, that it will be more than replaced immediately."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Morrison, you are a very high quality Senator, but I do not know about the high quality horses. Did I understand you to say that the original figure we had was some seven hundred fifty-eight thousand dollars we were taking out of the general fund to pay to the tracks? Now, there will be an additional two hundred fifty thousand, or practically a million dollars going out to pay to keep these tracks in operation?"

Senator Morrison: "The figures as I have them, Senator Rasmussen, total up to six hundred and thirty-five thousand dollars a year as the fiscal impact of this bill if the whole world stood still. But, of course, we are convinced that it is going to continue to reflect the growth it has over the last many years."

Senator Rasmussen: "Maybe I am in error, the figure we had in ways and means was seven hundred and fifty-eight thousand dollars as the bill went out of here to the House. They have added an additional two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, so that would make it over a million dollars we are giving to the tracks then . . . if everything was as it was in 1978."

Senator Morrison: "That is true. We are not giving it to the tracks, the horsemen get most of it to encourage the growth of the industry in the state."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, I can think, Senator Morrison, of a lot of places I would rather put that million dollars than in the horsemen."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DAY

Senator Day: "Mr. President, in further answer to the good Senator from Pierce county, the amendments that the House put on gives nothing to Longacres race track. What they give it to, is they give it to the purse structure there for the Washington horsebreeders and I would submit to you that almost everyone of you except those of you who live in metropolitan areas have Washington horsebreeders in your area and they are a substantial contributor to the economy, as Senator Bottiger has said. And, so I think it should be clearly understood that the only thing the House amendment does to allow the horsebreeders to participate in this money for a purse structure up to the five hundred thousand dollar handle limit, which is exactly the way it applies to the other two tracks. Now, the other two tracks also have an allowance in there to help them over rough spots with some reconstruction and so forth. So, I think the bill is in good shape and it is a good bill now for the industry and for the horsebreeder."

The motion by Senator Morrison carried. The Senate concurred in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2275.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2275, as amended by the House, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 34; nays, 11; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 3.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE DEPARTMENT OF STATE
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

TO THE HONORABLE, THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE,

MR. PRESIDENT:

I, Bruce K. BRUCE K. CHAPMAN
Secretary of State.

Seal of the State of Washington

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

Office of the Governor.

The regular session of the 1979 Legislature adjourned SINE DIE March 8, 1979, pursuant to the mandate of Article II, Section 12 of the Washington State Constitution.

Although the members of the 46th Legislature endeavored to address, and did consider, many important issues in the regular 60-day session, the main concerns of the biennial budget for Fiscal Years 1979-81 remain to be addressed. Accompanying bond bills needed to finance many agencies and programs have yet to be acted upon. Executive and departmental request bills together with other important legislation need attention.

Much of this legislation has already received considerable committee action and study and thus a special session need not be a lengthy one. Accordingly, as I publicly announced March 9, 1979, a special session will be necessary to complete the needed business of the state.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Dixy Lee Ray, Governor of the State of Washington, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution, do hereby convene the Legislature of the State of Washington in extraordinary session in the Capitol at Olympia on the twenty-first day of March, A. D., 1979, at the hour of ten o'clock a.m. for the purposes stated herein.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the state of Washington to be affixed at Olympia, this twenty-first day of March, A. D., Nineteen Hundred and Seventy-nine.

DIXY LEE RAY
Governor of the State of Washington

By the Governor:
DONALD F. WHITING
Deputy Secretary of State
Seal of the State of Washington

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Office of the Governor, March 21, 1979.

MESSAGE TO THE SENATE

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

Since the end of the regular session of the 46th Legislature on March 8, I have reviewed the resulting legislation and evaluated the items that need further attention. As promised, I have prepared a list of several bills and issues that require action and are essential to our citizens.

BUDGETS

The two most important bills before you are the Capital Budget (HB 235) and the Operating Budget (HB 236) for the next biennium. Much excellent legislative work has already been done on these complex measures, especially within the House Appropriations Committee and the Senate Ways and Means Committee. These careful reviews will in general confirm my recommendations for the appropriate level of services to be provided within available resources for state government programs in the coming biennium; I am confident that final budget determinations are near at hand.

A most important budgetary issue to be resolved during the special session is the state's policy toward full funding of basic education. Once again I ask your support for my position that 100 percent funding is not only possible but necessary in the first year of the biennium. This will meet both the mandate of the court and deliver on our promise to provide tax relief to the property owner.

BOND AUTHORIZATIONS

Also before you are a number of bills sponsored at my request seeking bond authorizations for various capital improvements. They include funds for such projects as: a new 500 bed medium security adult corrections facility; construction of two group homes and improvements at Rainier School and Lakeland Village; expansion of municipal, industrial and agricultural water supply facilities; renovations of state owned buildings to provide handicapped access in compliance with federal mandates; salmon hatchery improvements; outdoor recreation improvements; badly needed office space for the Olympia Capital Campus; repairs and improvements of several facilities for higher education including health and safety improvements at the community colleges and expansions for vocational training programs at five campuses; a training center to serve the statewide needs of our volunteer firemen; and initial funding for the renovation and construction of local jails to meet minimum jail standards. All these requests are essential for the continuation of current programs and services to meet the needs of our growing population.

SENIOR CITIZENS

The quality of life of our senior citizens continues to be an extremely important concern. The legislature is to be commended for its accomplishments in this area during the regular session. There remain, however, three of my proposals that need your priority attention in the special session. These are:

The Senior Citizens Service Act (SB 2237, HB 491)

A reenactment of the Senior Citizens Service Act, which provides an appropriation of $13.6 million, should be the cornerstone of our efforts to serve the needs of our growing population of retired persons and to assure an acceptable level of quality in their lives. Reenactment of this legislation will enable us to continue the fine programs that were begun when the Federal Act was first passed in 1976.

Property Tax Exemption (SB 2374, HB 651)

Inflationary pressures on the costs of housing result in increasing property taxes that must be paid directly or indirectly (rents) by our citizens. These increases are especially burdensome to the elderly and others on fixed incomes. This bill is essential to provide the necessary property tax relief to the elderly to help enable them to stay in their homes if they are physically able to do so.

Pension Systems Adjustments (SHB 500, SSB 2240)

Increases in the costs of living have a serious impact on persons on fixed incomes. These bills provide cost of living increases to state employees in those state retirement systems that have lagged in such adjustments.

LOW INCOME CITIZENS

Inflationary pressure on the costs of housing adversely affect not only the retired, but all persons on limited or fixed incomes. To improve this situation for low income citizens, two proposals are before you:

Property Tax Relief (SJR 113, HJR 18)

An amendment to the State's Constitution is needed to provide property tax relief to low income home owners who are not retired. This question must be placed before the voters in the next general election. I urge your passage of this executive request legislation.

Housing Finance Commission (HB 20)

To assist low to moderate income persons to acquire suitable housing I have proposed the establishment of a Housing Finance Commission. The Commission would be authorized to issue tax free revenue bonds and pass the interest rate savings along to qualified buyers in the form of reduced interest rate mortgages. The right to adequate housing for all our citizens is a proper concern of the state. Let us step up to our responsibilities in this area with the passage of HB 20.

HEALTH

Your special consideration is requested in two areas that will significantly improve the health of our citizens:

Immunization of Children (HB 502, SB 2241)

In recent weeks, there has been an outbreak of measles in an area of King county; outbreaks previously have been reported in Pierce and other counties. It is clear that such outbreaks are preventable if an immunization program is established.

Please bring out this bill this session; we owe it to the children, our state's future generation.

Nursing Homes

Maintaining the quality of medical and supportive care provided by nursing homes should be a fundamental element in our program of support for the elderly, the sick, and the infirm. I was pleased to receive the bill dealing with certification of nursing assistants that you passed during the regular session. Remaining is a package of bills that I feel need to be resolved in the weeks ahead; the bills concern cost reimbursement, resident care standards, medical care fraud, and patient abuse.

GOVERNMENT

There are numerous issues discussed to date that concern the act and administration of governing. Of those, there are six areas which are of special importance:

The State Energy Office

Numerous audits and studies have shown the present shortcomings of the existing State Energy Office. All agree that it has suffered from weak management and unclear objectives. The need now is not to belabor what has passed, but to correct the weaknesses and prepare for an uncertain energy future. The functions of this office should be preserved and strengthened. I urge you, therefore, to continue to evaluate the need to find a proper organizational home for this office and to consider all alternatives. Whatever the final resolution, I further ask that the administration be provided adequate time, at least in the coming biennium, to make it successful. Constant meddling with the structure or mandates to this office within that time could only frustrate our efforts to strengthen its management and its performance.

Occupational Regulation (SHB 315)

The function of regulating certain occupations is basic to consumer protection in this state. But that power should be exercised in a manner that both protects the public interest and holds down the costs which ultimately pass to the consumer and taxpayer. By adopting a specific analytical review process prior to adding more regulation or licensing of an occupation, we can meet that objective. Your passage of SHB 315 will help assure that the legitimate needs of the consumer are protected rather than limiting entry and constraining competition among private service providers.

State Debt Limitations (SB 2176, HB 501)

One means of promoting fiscal responsibility by the state is to place a limit on the amount of debt service that may be obligated. These measures, which limit the total debt service to 7 percent of the mean of general state revenue of the three preceding years, are responsive to the growing demands for limitations on state expenditures. This limitation will maintain and improve the state's bond rating in order to lower interest payments on future state debt.

Personnel Appeals Board

As I stated in the "Report On My Second Year In Office," I believe that creation of a Personnel Appeals Board is necessary for the efficient, consistent, and equitable review of appeals from certain personnel actions. The dual responsibilities of the present Personnel Board makes timely action on appeals cases very difficult and I urge you to give creation of an Appeals Board special emphasis.

Governmental Liability Limitations (HB 493, SB 2246)

It has become increasingly apparent that there needs to be reform of our laws dealing with liability for certain tortious actions; an indication of this need is the number of bills that have been introduced concerning various aspects of both tort and product liability. As you review these matters and strive towards a doctrine that is reasonable and equitable, bear in mind the inequitable situation in which state and local governments have found themselves recently. A situation exists whereby a governmental unit found responsible for a minute portion of the fault or the damages may be required to pay 100 percent of the compensation. We continue to seek, for all governmental units, a reasonable limitation on their liability in three areas: highway design, licensing, and inspections. This is a matter of great importance to all governmental entities in the state and, therefore, to all taxpayers.

Growth Management

As our state continues to grow and develop, the myriad issues related to management of that growth at local levels becomes more important. Thus, as you deal with legislation affecting local governments and their ability to manage and function in a changing environment, I encourage you to bear in mind the observations and recommendations contained in the Report of the Executive Working Group on Growth Management. We must recognize the substantial impact our state's rapid growth is having and assure that all governmental entities have the authority and resources adequately to deal with it. To that end, this administration submitted HB 1119 to give the county governments such authority if they should choose to use it.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE

The final area that I wish to address is criminal justice. You are to be commended on the efforts and accomplishments made regarding juvenile justice during the regular session. Your passage of SSB 2768, which embodied several earlier bills, will result in more equitable handling of juveniles and improve administration of the Juvenile Justice Act of 1977.

LEGISLATIVE SESSION

In conclusion, I would like to express my gratitude that you have passed SJR 110, which will allow the voters of this state to decide whether regular annual sessions of the legislature are needed and appropriate. I am also confident that during this special session of the 46th Legislature, you can complete your work for 1979 in an efficient and expeditious manner.

Sincerely,
DIXY LEE RAY
Governor.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE:

I rise to oppose the passage of Senate Bill 2756 which would reverse the trend of full disclosure of public affairs. I ask the question, why should highway and ferry contracts and their financial details be exempt from the law? Is this a foot in the door for other agencies of government?

Will nursing homes, personal service contracts, public contracts with Boeing, the phone company, maybe even political campaigns will be exempt from public scrutiny?

The public demands full information. We need it to legislate. All of us here must disclose our financial affairs to stay in office.

Can we ask any less of those who would do business from the public treasury?

I ask you to vote against this regressive measure.

Signed/SENATOR KING LYSEN

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Donohue: "Senator McDermott, where does the marijuana come from?"

Senator McDermott: "The marijuana comes from the board of pharmacy and it is controlled through that agency of state government."

Senator Donohue: "So we are going to legally be shipping marijuana into the state. Is that right?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes. It is going to be confiscated marijuana that will be used in this."

Senator Donohue: "Confiscated?"

Senator McDermott: "And then controlled. . . ."

Senator Donohue: "So if there is no marijuana to confiscate then, of course, can't go ahead and use it. Is that correct? If our law enforcement does its job as relates to the law and not allow marijuana in the state then, of course, the whole thing is in trouble. Right?"

Senator McDermott: "It is certainly possible that there might be an absolute reduction in the illegal supply but I think that the use of this drug has been proven scientifically enough that should that occur, I think there would be a reason for providing it for cancer patients and people like that. It is used for the control of nausea for people that are having chemotherapy, radiation. . . ."

Senator Donohue: "I understand that, Senator. What you are really saying then is there a problem. There isn't enough marijuana confiscated to supply the demand, then we would be importing it from someplace else. Is that true? Is it possible that this is opening the gate to legalize marijuana say two years from now or four years from now in the state of Washington?"

Senator McDermott: "The answer to that question, obviously, Senator Donohue, is no but we are going to get this marijuana from the national institutes of health. They have supplies which they use now for study and they will give it to states that want to use it for therapeutic purposes."

Senator Donohue: "Will the confiscated marijuana used here be confiscated in the state of Washington or are there provisions in federal law to allow the shipment of marijuana across state borders?"

Senator McDermott: "I didn't hear the testimony on that bill in committee. You might ask one of the committee members who was there and heard the testimony, either Senator Moore or Senator Vognild may have the answer to that."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GOULD

Senator Gould: "If I may respond. In committee we amended the original bill to provide that the marijuana will be supplied through the federal government and it is marijuana they have grown and produced for research specifically. It is not confiscated. The original bill did have confiscated marijuana but we amended it so that it would be only marijuana that is grown for research by the federal government."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Donohue: "Senator Gould, is that grown in the state of Washington?"

Senator Gould: "No, not necessarily, that I know of."

Senator Donohue: "It is shipped into the state of Washington?"

Senator Gould: "That question was not asked. . . ."

Donator Donohue: "Where is it distributed from? What central agency?"

Senator Gould: "D.C., as far as I know."

Senator Donohue: "It is shipped from Washington, D.C.?"

Senator Gould: "Wherever the federal organization is."

Senator Donohue: "Do they have land back there they are growing marijuana on?"

Senator Gould: "I assume so . . . I didn't ask the question. . . ."

Senator Donohue: "I am just trying to get some answers to questions I had. . . ."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gould: "Senator McDermott, in the closing days of the first session we passed House Bill 259 which is essentially the same bill. Why is it necessary now to pass that . . . that one is on the Governor's desk at this point?"

Senator McDermott: "There was some confusion on the floor about whether or not that bill had been passed and that is why we are working on this bill. I thought it was House Bill 264. Actually Senator Day, who is chairman of this committee, was going to handle this bill and he is gone now and that is how it came up on the floor and I am sorry if there is confusion about it."

Senator Gould: "House Bill 259 — Controlled Substance Research — has been delivered to the Governor. It is my understanding, it is the same bill. I guess I am questioning whether we should be considering the same piece of legislation."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Donohue: "Senator Wilson, in section 3, the new section 3, as it relates to the primitive road system, is it possible that the county commissioners could, in fact, close an existing road that is being used today without a hearing?"

Senator Wilson: "Senator, the section 3 that you are referring to is in the original Senate Bill 2268. The substitute bill which is 98 in the floor book does not contain section 3. The primitive road feature was deleted."

Senator Donohue: "Okay. I understand."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Senator Vognild, I don't think anyone could quarrel with the intent of this bill. I am asking a question, I guess, on behalf of county auditors in sparsely settled rural areas where they are using schoolhouses, churches, private residences and almost any other kind of facility for polling places because those are the only buildings available.

"Now, are those auditors, under those circumstances, going to get into difficulty because of this bill, is my first question and second is, does section one authorize them to or compel them to spend public money, for example, providing a ramp attached to a private residence which will be used as a polling place?"

Senator Vognild: "I do not believe the bill compels them—the bill allows them, I believe, allows them to make minor, inexpensive modifications. Also in section two it will require the county auditor to make a report to the secretary of state which precincts do not have accessibility to handicapped and the auditor should indicate what efforts have been made. This should take any burden off of them. The fact that they have made an effort is all that the bill requests."

Senator Wilson: "Would you happen to know, Senator, if the state association of county auditors has taken any position on this bill?"

Senator Vognild: "They did not testify before committee on it."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2194, by Senators Ridder, Scott and Goltz:

Increasing dollar amount of capital construction projects of certain institutions of higher education before same have to be put out for public bid.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Goltz, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2194 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2194 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Goltz, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 1, line 10, strike "(1)".

On page 1, line 14, after "the" strike all the matter down to the comma on line 15 and insert "sum of ((ten)) seventeen thousand five hundred dollars".

On page 1, line 21, after "exceeds the" strike everything down to the comma on line 22 and insert "sum of ((ten)) seventeen thousand five hundred dollars".

On page 2, line 1, after "specifications" strike all the matter down to the colon on line 3.

On page 2, beginning on line 9, strike all the matter down to the comma on line 10, and insert "seventeen thousand five hundred dollars".

On page 2, beginning on line 26, strike all the matter down through "commerce." on line 32.

On page 2, line 36, strike "(1)"

On page 3, line 18, after "exceeds" strike all the matter down through "section" on line 19 and insert "five thousand dollars".

On page 3, line 23, after "specifications" strike all the matter down through "thereto" on line 25.

On page 3, beginning on line 32, strike all the matter down through "commerce." on page 4, line 2.

On page 3, beginning on line 29, strike all the matter down through "section" on line 30, and insert "five thousand dollars".

Senator Bluechel moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Bluechel and Guess:

On page 2, line 3 after "thereto" insert:

" : PROVIDED FURTHER, That for projects in which the estimated cost of building, construction, renovation, remodeling or demolition is less than seventeen thousand five hundred dollars, but more than ten thousand dollars, the boards of each such institution of higher education shall establish by resolution a procedure for securing telephone quotations from enough vendors to assure establishment of a competitive price and for awarding such contracts for purchase of materials, equipment or services to the lowest responsible bidder. Immediately after the contract is awarded, the telephone bid quotations obtained shall be recorded, open to public inspection, and shall be available by telephone inquiry. For projects in which the estimated cost is ten thousand dollars or less, the board may use the telephone bid procedure"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Guess, as I understand the bill, we are permitting the colleges to enter into contract do-it-themselves work programs like we did for county and cities under 'X' dollars.

"Now, your amendment negates that whole thing and says that if it is under 'X' dollars, the boards of such institutions of higher learning shall establish by resolution a procedure for securing telephone bids. Now we put everything they do back under bid."

Senator Guess: "Senator, I don't believe that is the case. If you will read it, in the first three lines there it says 'for projects which the estimated cost is less than seventeen-five but more than ten thousand'. It is just talking about that ten thousand to seventeen thousand bracket, now they establish the telephone procedure on. They have the manuals to cover that type work and this is a little bit of a different approach for a carte blanche seventeen thousand five hundred dollar by day labor forces and it does limit them. If it is over ten thousand dollars and going to seventeen-five, they can do it by the telephone bid and I think you will find it is less costly to do work that way."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "Senator Guess, you have used the words they 'can' and they 'may' and I believe that the word in the amendment says 'shall' and so I think what this does, it mandates it rather than make it permissive."

Senator Guess: "Senator, for those projects which the estimated cost of building construction is less than seventeen thousand five hundred dollars but more than ten thousand dollars, then they 'shall' establish by resolution a procedure for securing telephone quotations.

"It does put a ceiling there, Senator. They still do the work up to ten thousand dollars but between ten and seventeen thousand, they shall have the telephone procedures. I think you are correct there."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Guess, on page 1 of this bill, on line 28, it spells out 'the complete plans and specifications for such work shall be prepared'. That is no different from what you are proposing in your amendment on the other page other than you are allowing them to go to telephone bids."

Senator Guess: "That is correct. They still have to have the plans and specifications. This is the reason I say most of the institutions have their own construction pamphlet or booklet and they use the standard form either AIA or another of the standard trade forms so that they . . . Senator, it is very difficult for the work force on the campus to go into a classroom building and to do the job in accordance with every professor's demands. They have learned over a long period of time that they don't dare let that work force go without having plans and specifications. The cost of work would go out of reason if any professor could demand this type of partition or that type of partition so the main office prepares a plan as though the work was going to go out for bid anyway."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Clarke demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the amendment by Senators Bluechel and Guess.

ROLL CALL

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2905, by Senators Morrison and Ridder:
Modifying the licensing of electricians.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 19, 1979.

SENATE BILL NO. 2905, modifying the licensing of electricians (reported by Committee on Commerce):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 2, line 19, after "the" strike "act" and insert "trade"

On page 2, line 35, after "obtain" and before "an" insert "and be issued"

On page 8, line 8, strike "~~((or on other property owned by him))~~" and insert "or on other property owned by him"

Signed by: Senators Van Hollebeke, Chairman; Morrison, Quigg.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Van Hollebeke, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Morrison, the following amendments were considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 4, line 5, strike "If the noncertified individual" and insert "An individual with a current training certificate and who".

On page 4, line 7, after "or in" strike "a training program described in this chapter" and insert "a technical school program in the electrical construction trade in a school approved by the commission for vocational education".

On motion of Senator Van Hollebeke, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2905 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Senator Morrison, I would like to ask you a question coming from one rural area legislator to another. Is there anything in this bill which first of all would change the existing law with respect to the sort of 'handyman' in our part of the country who do their own wiring on their own places and their own farms? Secondly, would it change existing law at all with respect to the one-man small electrical contracting firms that are prevalent in our area? Thirdly, would it change the law to any extent with respect to young men or women around our neck of the woods that want to learn the trade?"

Senator Morrison: "Senator, I will try to recall your questions in the order you asked them. First of all, the bill in section seven does not change existing law by committee amendment. The words as the law exists now has been completely reinstated that anyone who wants to do work on their own residence or farm or place of business or on other property owned by that person is free to go ahead in spite of the provisions requiring licensed electricians to do virtually all other work so I feel that the same flexibility exists for Senator Bottiger and others to do the wiring on their own farm.

"Your other question was the one-horse contractor who has his own firm. He currently, of course, has to be licensed and will be a journeyman electrician himself just by virtue of his years of experience in the business. This bill would change the procedure for him to hire additional people and that they would have to be trained according to the dictates of this particular bill. But I think it is easier for training under this program than it has been in the past where they would have to go through an apprenticeship program that was approved by the union and others. Under this law, they can work for four years under the supervision of your contractor and then be licensed as a journeyman electrician so the certification procedure is spelled out right in here that I think improves the present process.

"As far as training opportunities for young people across the state, this bill does offer more alternatives than we currently have. It does provide the regular journeyman program that we have been concerned about for years where you train as an apprentice. It also provides that you can work for four years, as I have just described, under a journeyman electrician and then be certified yourself as a journeyman or you can have two years of work experience and two years experience training in a certified school as approved by the commission on vocational education.

"So I think we are opening up and providing opportunities in the electrical field for both certified journeymen and certified specialty electricians, cleaning up a lot of ambiguities in the law that was passed several years ago."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lysen: "Senator Morrison, after listening to debate here, it appears to me that possibly this bill should have been considered in the labor committee. It really sounds like it is a labor bill. I was wondering if you think that would have been appropriate?"

Senator Morrison: "I think that since we heard musicians' bills yesterday in labor committee that things are scrambled around, Senator Lysen. It could have been handled in either committee. Senator Van Hollebeke did an excellent job of handling this particular measure."

MOTION

Senator Wojahn moved that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2905 be rereferred to the Committee on Labor.

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Wojahn failed.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2905 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 3; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 2.

On motion of Senator Hansen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2504 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Benitz: "Senator Hansen, I observed in the press the last day or two that even this project, to be successful and be implemented, would take a vote of the people. That is not true, is it?"

Senator Hansen: "I do not believe so. I think that all it is is front money for some federal reclamation funds to enter into this field. The only project that is in here that would not take federal funds is that little Wenas irrigation district that has the dam condemned up there for unsafe conditions."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Morrison, when we originally put this package together we did not limit the use of these funds to agricultural waters. In other words, there was domestic water supply system availability as well in those bonds. In reading the statutes, my rough figures indicate there is about six of the sixteen million dollars not allocated within the language of section two. Is that money available for other potential projects?"

Senator Morrison relinquished to Senator Hansen.

Senator Hansen: "Yes, there is six million dollars for other water projects either municipal or irrigation projects in other areas."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Walgren, this is an excellent resolution. I have been scanning it very closely to see the Sine Die date. Did you forget the Sine Die date in this resolution? If so, do you wish an amendment?"

Senator Walgren: "No and no. Senator Rasmussen, as we have discussed, you and I personally and we have discussed in caucus and otherwise, the period of time for the final conclusion of this legislative session will depend upon these members here and the members over there in the House of Representatives.

"The essential items for the business to be conducted here in the remaining days of this session obviously is the budget and when there are twenty-five votes here on this floor and fifty votes on the other floor, that day will be Sine Die day."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Walgren, in the past we sometimes consider constitutional amendments after the apparent cutoff date because they take a two-thirds vote which is tantamount to a suspension of the rules. Would constitutional amendments be excluded under the terms of HCR 17."

Senator Walgren: "They would be excluded unless they are revenue-related or budget-related."

Mr. President: The Speakers have signed SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 115, and the same is herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk.
VITO T. CHIECHI, Chief Clerk.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Marsh, the Senate commenced consideration of Senate Bill No. 2481.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2481, by Senator Henry (by Washington State Patrol request):

Revising the law relating to spot checks by the state patrol.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Henry, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 2481 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator North: "Senator Henry, I am very much in sympathy with the main cause and purpose of this bill but I am concerned also about women who are driving alone at night who could be stopped under false pretenses by someone masquerading or pretending to be a member of the state patrol.

"Would you comment on what types of precautions are going to be taken to prevent this kind of thing from happening?"

Senator Henry: "We discussed this in committee with the chief of the patrol and because of the same fears that have been raised everytime we have had this spot check bill before us.

"Now, what they plan on doing is with flares, marked cars, proper lighting and so forth to pull them over ten or twelve at a time. There will be nobody pulled over individually and they will be pulled over in such areas as I mentioned either on the on ramps to the freeways, to be stopped there and checked, or in the weight control areas along the main highway. Obviously we can't go back to the old type of road blocks as we had prior to that because of our multi-lane highways. They do have a complete spot check bill in the state of Oregon and it is working very well."

Senator North: "So that an individual driving alone would not feel they are the one and only car being picked off to be checked on?"

Senator Henry: "Absolutely. There would never be less than ten or twelve at a time."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Henry, this is in a police magazine, the last issue of it, says the United States supreme court has under consideration a case that will test the powers of the police to enforce the law against the right of citizens to be protected against unreasonable search and seizures and it states where there were routine stops.

"I wonder if its worth the harassment to the ninety-nine percent of the people that are guilty of nothing, have no revoked licenses, are driving safely and are not drunk. It would seem that we are using a cannon to shoot at a mosquito and I just question the advisability.

"Now we have checks and we have routine stops during daylight hours when everybody can see who is stopping them and see the reason for it. I can think of the people that Senator North is speaking of. Women drivers out in the evening and they suddenly see a whole group of cars stopped and flashing lights and it would be the cause of accidents rather than actually preventing any accidents.

"Now there is nobody that is going to question the right to stop somebody that is drunk and wavering on the highway. But the fact that you are going to use this method is just going after unlicensed drivers, I think it is a little bit too much. I am in sympathy with what you express here but I am going to vote 'no' on the bill. I don't think we have the right to harass the citizens of the United States that are behaving in a legal, lawful manner to catch somebody else."

Senator Henry: "Well, I don't think your sympathy goes deep enough, Senator, if you are going to vote against this bill. However, anybody, and, of course, there will be plenty of publicity on this program, anybody that would pull over because there was one car setting there with a flashing light. I am talking about a lane that is outlined with flares and so forth and nobody that has other purposes on their minds and a spot check is going to put up a line of flares on the main highway because there are going to be too many patrolmen.

"What I am telling you is that we have about as many unlicensed drivers, or we have more unlicensed drivers than we have licensed automobiles in the state of Washington and conversely, I should say, we have more licensed automobiles than we have licensed drivers. The estimate has been all the way from one hundred to three hundred thousand people that are driving illegally. The only state trooper that we have that was made a quadriplegic by a driver was caused by a driver whose license had been revoked and obviously those that are flaunting the law are not going to come out during daylight hours. They come out after sundown because they know there is no method of checking them now. It is against the law and the old spot check law, you will recall, was repealed a number of years ago by a former attorney general by the name of Eastvold, I believe it was, who evidently got picked up in a spot check and didn't appreciate it."

Senator Rasmussen: "In answer to you, Senator, our experiences, our police department has in Tacoma is that those unlicensed drivers are not waiting until night to drive. They would drive during the daytime. I see no reason at all to harass the ninety-nine percent of the innocent public that do not want to be stopped — they are driving along, behaving themselves and do not want to be stopped for interrogation."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GUESS

Senator Guess: "I would like to reply to Senator Rasmussen, on that particular point. The number of people that are contacted, primarily the state patrol has found that they have to have most people on the highways at night or else they don't catch the unlicensed driver, the driver with the expired license.

"I have taken the opportunity on several occasions to ride with the state patrol and in every instance while we were on patrol have had calls for accidents and the majority of the cases, the person involved in the accident were unlicensed and I think this is a way that we can do as reasonable people. Now as long as they are going to use well-marked places — I used to have the same hang-ups as you have on being pulled off to the side of the highways by an unmarked car. This is not going to be that. They are going to have the lights on the top of the automobile, they are going to have the flare pots or the flares out and they are going to be cones so that they do let the people know that it is an official pullover. There is no way of stopping that person who is going to be pulled over just out of Vancouver on that highway, Senator Henry, north of town.

"I had a friend whose automobile was stopped. They took the money, the purse, the fur coat of the man's wife and then told them to go on their way. There is nothing going to stop that but this will help us get the unlicensed people off the highway."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Senator Henry, I might have missed this regarding these spot checks. When they do these spot checks and they have all these flares set forth and so on — when you say 'spot checks' — it is just that spot in the highway that they will pull everyone over? They will pick and choose automobiles?"

Senator Henry: "No. Ten or twelve at a time. They obviously couldn't stop the whole flow of traffic. . . ."

Senator Fleming: "What determinations will be made as to when they will stop these 'X' number of cars?"

Senator Henry: "The same determinations they are using now, Senator, in the daytime. They pull over a few cars and examine them but they obviously can't stop the whole flow of traffic."

Senator Fleming: "I don't know what that is."

Senator Henry: "You have been lucky. You haven't been stopped. I have."

Senator Fleming: "But I might be."

Senator Henry: "Then you had better have your license renewed."

Senator Fleming: "It isn't my license I am worried about."

"I understand what you are saying but I do have some of those concerns that Senator Rasmussen might have in terms of sometime the benefits that one would receive from a measure like this might not outweigh the other side of the issue and that is the harassment and the picking and choosing of people to stop at will."

Senator Henry: "They are not going to pick and choose them as individual cars. They will take a group of ten or twelve at a time and pull them into the area and ask for their driver's license and so forth. I think it is as simple a matter as this. We have estimates all the way from one hundred to three hundred thousand people driving with either revoked licenses or suspended licenses and some have no licenses at all. It is a question whether you want to get that type of person off the highway or get him a license or not."

"Now the case I mentioned in Vancouver, this man is a responsible citizen, he just does not believe in insurance. He has worked twenty-seven years for the Alcoa people down there. He has had three accidents since 1971. All of them his fault and he still has a suspended license. I don't know how he gets away with it. I think it is time we did something."

Senator Fleming: "I just have those concerns. And, as usual, I know, Senator, you are well intentioned but I do have some concerns."

Senator Henry: "The pathway to someplace is paved with ill intentions."

ROLL CALL

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2709, by Senator McDermott:
Relating to education.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McDermott, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2709 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2709 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

Senator Pullen moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Pullen, Hayner, Rasmussen, Moore, Benitz, Lewis and Donohue:

On page 6, beginning on line 21, strike all material through line 27.
Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Shinpoch: "Senator McDermott, in the bill that you prepared — on page 3, line 10, you struck 'and shall include career orientation' and in the comparison of basic education amendments that you passed out, you made a point to note that that had been struck. But in career education, in the WAC that defines career education, career education defines career orientation as a portion of career education which you apparently have struck in line 3. Can you tell me how that will work?"

Senator McDermott: "The actual process is that we pass a law and then after we pass a law, the executive departments for instance SPI, goes through the WAC procedure of changing it in response to the law. Since we presently have the words 'career orientation' in the law, it is understandable that they have a WAC dealing with that. If we take it out, they are going to have to take it out of the WAC. So I think the process will be, they will take the 'career orientation' out."

Senator Shinpoch: "Then I guess I would ask you, why did you put into the section on page 6, starting on line 21, it says, 'notwithstanding those definitions'. So irrespective of how it is defined, it looks to me like you have put a contradiction into your bill."

Senator McDermott: "It has been a great deal of confusion over the whole question of 'career orientation'. What does that mean? We took it out because the school directors and the SPI asked us to take it out because it has been a confusing area."

"'Career orientation' is not the same as 'career education'. 'Career orientation' means in the second grade you are talking about mathematics; maybe get a policeman to come in and talk about miles per hour; maybe you get a fireman to come in and talk about something; or a farmer or somebody else."

"It has been very difficult to calculate that in this whole thing so at the request of those agencies, we took it out."

Senator Shinpoch: "Senator McDermott, the problem . . . I assume you have read WAC 180.16.235 which 'career orientation' is a portion of 'career education' and the problem with your statement is that you have ruled out all of those definitions and even though you have taken out 'career orientation' by the language that you have on line 21, page 6, which Senator Pullen is proposing to strike, you have ruled out us looking at the language that you struck on 'career orientation' becomes meaningless then."

Senator McDermott: "I guess we will have to read the whole WAC provision for you. If you strike one part, Senator Shinpoch, you strike the words 'career orientation'. You leave in 'career awareness' and you leave in 'career exploration' and it is clear that under 'career education' in WAC 180.16.235 schools like Bethel can continue their program."

"The whole question of 'career orientation' — the reason it was taken out — if you read the language it says, 'shall mean learning experiences that emphasize the wide range of occupations available; worker characteristics, educational and training requirements; and relevancy of school subjects to the occupational areas and stress self-evaluation of interest, aptitudes and abilities and their application to various life styles'."

"Some people found that a little bit hard to interpret so we took it out but we left in 'career education' because we think that education ought to be tied to what you do when you get out of school and the whole thing is consistent. The 'career orientation' was very hard to interpret and we finally just decided, at the request of the SPI, to take it out."

The motion by Senator Pullen failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

The Secretary commenced reading an amendment by Senators Pullen, Hayner, Rasmussen, Moore, Benitz, Lewis and Donohue.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McDermott: "Mr. President, is this a perfecting amendment to the section that we just sought to strike? I think we are supposed to do perfecting amendments before we strike, if I understand the procedure."

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Pullen, the President believes that the remarks of Senator McDermott are essentially correct, however, the President is aware that inasmuch as both of the amendments are yours that you are advised that the procedure adopted would be permitted. The President did not realize the situation but does believe that in the sense of fairness that inasmuch as Senator Pullen was advised that the procedure would follow, the President would appreciate your permission to do so, Senator McDermott."

Senator McDermott indicated affirmatively.

President Cherberg: "Thank you, Senator McDermott."

Senator Pullen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 6, line 23, strike "an integral part of any" and after "as" insert:

"a fraction not to exceed 10 percent"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Shinpoch: "Senator McDermott, Senator Bottiger indicated that it was necessary to leave this in in order for his school district to be in compliance. Is there anywhere in the current law that allows this same type of thing? Are you moving this from somewhere or is this something new going into the law?"

Senator McDermott: "This is basically a flexibility amendment. One of the problems when we wrote the . . ."

Senator Shinpoch: "Is it new or is it current?"

Senator McDermott: "No, any language that is underlined like that is new but I assumed you asked me some other question as to why we put the new language in there. Obviously, the answer to it is yes, it is new."

Senator Shinpoch: "As I understand it, there were no school districts in Senator Bottiger's area that was out of compliance last time so I would assume that if this is new language, it is not currently in law. Then I would assume that it is not required in order for Senator Bottiger's district to be in compliance because they were obviously in compliance this year."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Shinpoch, the problem as it was explained to me and Senator Gould has told me that candidly she said it, you may be in another section is where the real problem is.

"As subsection (8) was explained to me because of the other language attempting to define the difference between 'basic skills' and 'academic skills' to require the carpenter that is teaching the course and the math teacher that comes in and teaches the angle courses to require them to keep the minutes time record of how many minutes that kid drove nails as opposed to how many minutes he kept track of angles and worked out his geometry problems and wrote his English paper to translate that into minutes, created a huge amount of paper work that subsection (8) as you redefined keeping track of time. Subsection (8) in these courses, you don't have to keep track of all of those times if you satisfy the SPI that it falls under subsection (8) as a combination of basic skills and career skills. That an evaluation of that course does not need to have the minute time-keeping records kept."

The motion by Senator Pullen failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

On motion of Senator McDermott, the following amendment by Senators McDermott, Jones, Hayner, Clarke and Henry was adopted:

On page 8, line 23, after "space" and before the period insert "PROVIDED FURTHER, That those school districts which have been found by the state board of education to be out of compliance with the basic education program requirements enumerated in RCW 28A.58.754 during the 1978 and 1979 school year shall be deemed to be in compliance if such districts are in compliance with those basic education program requirements enumerated in section 1 of this amendatory act"

On motion of Senator Woody, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 10, beginning on line 30, strike the underscored material down through "amended," and insert that language after "duties" on line 32.

Senator Woody moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 11, line 2, strike "school district board of directors" and insert "state board of education".

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Woody failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

Senator Pullen moved the following amendments by Senators Pullen and Benitz be considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 11, line 10, strike "((and))" and insert "and", and on line 11, after "RCW" strike "," and insert ". The legislature may appropriate funds"

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Pullen carried and the amendments were adopted on a rising vote.

There being no objection, Senator Marsh withdrew an amendment to page 11, after "RCW" striking a comma and inserting which was on the desk of the Secretary of the Senate.

On motion of Senator Marsh, the following amendments were considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 11, line 11, after "for" strike "the"

On page 11, line 16, strike "the"

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following amendment by Senators Talmadge and North was adopted:

On page 11, line 19, after "districts" insert ": PROVIDED, That those school districts with over 10,000 students in enrollment who experience greater than a 4 percent annual increase or decrease in enrollment shall submit to the superintendent of public instruction after public hearings a five-year projection of enrollment along with all actions the district proposes to undertake to reduce the impact of such enrollment fluctuations".

Senator Vognild moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Vognild, Pullen, Donohue, Day and Van Hollebeke:

On page 14, line 8, after "learning" insert ", and in no event shall they authorize the use of local or state funds to challenge, or to prepare to challenge, the legality or constitutionality of an initiative or referendum duly enacted by the electorate of the state"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gould: "Mr. President, this bill is a bill relating to education. We are now talking about matter of litigation and the use of taxpayers money for litigation. I would like a ruling from you if that is not beyond the scope and object of the bill."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Newschwander: "Senator Gould gave a speech before she made the motion."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The Senator's Point of Order is well taken."

Senators Day, Bausch and Pullen demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Senator Newschwander demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the amendment by Senators Vognild, Pullen, Donohue, Day and Van Hollebeke.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 30; nays, 13; excused, 6.

Voting yea: Senators Bausch, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Day, Donohue, Gallagher, Guess, Hansen, Henry, Jones, Lee, Lewis, Lysen, Marsh, Moore, Morrison, Newschwander, North, Odegaard, Pullen, Quigg, Rasmussen, Scott, Sellar, Talley, Van Hollebeke, Vognild, Wilson, Woody—30.

Voting nay: Senators Conner, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Gould, McDermott, Ridder, Shinpoch, Talmadge, von Reichbauer, Walgren, Williams, Wojahn—13.

Excused: Senators Benitz, Hayner, Keefe, Matson, Peterson, Wanamaker—6.

Senator McDermott moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators McDermott, Morrison and Gaspard:

On page 21, line 11 strike all of section 13 on page 21 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The superintendent shall determine the vehicle acquisition allocation in the following manner:

(1) (a) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall determine if a district's need for vehicles can best be served by overhaul of existing equipment to bring it up to good operating condition and current state and federal specifications. The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall reimburse the district for the cost of such overhaul: PROVIDED, That the amount of reimbursement shall not exceed that which the office of the superintendent of public instruction considers to be reasonable to cover the cost of the overhaul.

(b) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall determine if the district's need for vehicles can best be served by outright purchase and, in consultation with the district, which will be the most appropriate type of equipment for the district's needs. In considering the most appropriate vehicle all options and factors shall be considered, including new as opposed to used vehicles, vehicle sizes, fuel types, engine sizes, drive trains, expected vehicles life, availability of parts and services, and expected maintenance cost differentials. In determining vehicle size the superintendent will be guided by the student population forecast of the district. The interpretation of the criteria by the superintendent in designating the appropriate vehicle shall be uniform for all districts and shall be in conformance with categories and guidelines to be established by the superintendent. Thereafter the district shall prepare specifications describing the appropriate vehicle and call for competitive bids. The specification shall be written in a manner designed to produce maximum competition in bidding, using performance standards in lieu of design standards where necessary. In event the district wants to exceed the specifications for the appropriate vehicle, the specifications in excess of those for the appropriate vehicle shall be separately priced in the bid. The district will be responsible for the cost of specifications in excess of those for the appropriate vehicle.

Vehicles acquired by the districts pursuant to the provisions of this section will be expected to be operated by the districts not less than the number of years of depreciation now, or hereafter, assigned to the class of vehicles by the superintendent. Failure of the district to operate the vehicle for such a period due to poor driving practices, inadequate maintenance, or other reasons within the control of the district, shall cause the superintendent of public instruction to penalize the district in future grants by an amount equal to the original costs of the vehicle multiplied by the fraction of the depreciation period the vehicle failed to operate.

The sole criterion for determining which of the above options to pursue in acquiring transportation vehicles for a district shall be minimization of total long term costs, consistent with adequate provisions for safety. In computing long term costs, all capital and operating costs shall be taken into account.

The state's reimbursement to the district shall be limited to the least costly of options set forth in the procedure cited above in this section.

It shall be the responsibility of the school districts to properly maintain the transportation equipment acquired under the provisions of this section, such maintenance to be in accordance with the guidelines established by the office of superintendent of public instruction.

(2) The superintendent shall develop a depreciation schedule to reimburse districts for the cost of student transportation vehicles purchased during the school year. The schedule shall be adjusted annually for buses already on depreciation by the average purchase price paid for specific classes of appropriate vehicles during the past year. The schedule shall be written on the basis of the categories of student transportation vehicles, purchase price and the anticipated life of the vehicles, and shall include a factor recognizing the cost of depreciation to districts contracting with public or private carriers for student transportation services."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator McDermott, could you tell me what the difference is between this version of the transportation and the Senate version as in the original bill?"

Senator McDermott: "Essentially a major difference is that the original bill was in the hands of general services administration or the general administration. They would decide on what busses. We moved it to the SPI. We gave the SPI responsibility to go out and deal with the school districts and decide on what is the most appropriate bus. We gave him the flexibility to set up a number of categories. Most people talk in terms of probably seventy-five categories of bus from which districts will agree with the superintendent about which bus they need and will purchase it. They will front the money and we will pay them for the bus over the course of the depreciation of the bus.

"In addition to that, we will give them an escalator in terms of inflation so that when it comes necessary to replace the bus at the end of its depreciation schedule, they will have the money then again to front the next bus they want to buy."

Senator Bluechel: "Senator McDermott, the Senate philosophy, as we discussed in the joint caucus and in our own caucuses, was that we would figure basically the lump sum amount that would go to each school district for bussing and then do with as little interference as possible with rules and regulations. Does that still stand as the basis of the money that is going to be distributed the same as in the original bill?"

Senator McDermott: "We intend this to be as little bit of interference and bureaucratic nonsense as possible and that is why we tried to change it. We wanted local districts to have as much say as possible. We didn't want general administration to sit there, develop the category of busses, decide what people needed and send them out to them. We wanted it to be some kind of negotiation at the local level and it is for that reason we tried to get as much flexibility as we could."

Senator Bluechel: "Senator McDermott, you didn't answer the other part of the question. Is the dollar amount the same or approximately the same — figuring of the dollars — is that the same in both bills?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Odegaard: "Senator McDermott, in subsection (b) it says, 'the interpretation of the criteria by the superintendent in designating the appropriate vehicle shall be uniform for all districts and shall be in conformance with categories and guidelines to be established by the superintendent'. What is really meant by that word 'uniform'? There is something about that that bothers me a little bit if we are going to allow for some local flexibility. Could you explain what you mean by that?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes. What is intended here is that the superintendent would have, let us say seventy-five categories of different kinds of busses; some with gasoline engines; some with diesel; some carrying forty; some carrying sixty; some carrying twelve; all these categories would be there. He would negotiate with the local district and select the bus that they needed. Say they needed a forty-passenger gasoline bus, he would then give them a uniform treatment in terms of what he would agree to pay back in depreciation. There wouldn't be any special deals for this district or that district. If they bought a particular kind of bus, anybody who bought that particular kind of bus would get uniform reimbursement."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator McDermott, to make sure that we don't find a situation where all of the mechanical features of the busses are the same, I would like for you to explain to me if the local school districts that are in mountainous countries are going to have to take uniformly the same busses that those counties that have flatland areas. Is that the intention of the word 'uniform'?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Guess, no. If you will look at the same section that Senator Odegaard was talking about. In setting up categories and considering language of the bill, 'in considering the most appropriate vehicle all options and factors shall be considered, including new as opposed to used vehicles, vehicle sizes, fuel types, engine sizes, drive trains. . . . etc."

"What we are suggesting is that the superintendent is going to set up categories with those kinds of specs involved and it will be the reimbursement that will be uniform but we expect that there would be a particular kind of bus that would be appropriate, say in the Washtucna school district and one that would be appropriate in the Colville district and that they would be different kinds of vehicles and that the districts would have the freedom to choose which one would do the job for winter or for flatland or whatever."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Quigg: "Senator McDermott, do you think there is sufficient protection in the amendment to keep the state from buying a bus more than once through depreciation schedules, sales and so forth?"

Senator McDermott: "Sounds like a nursing home. Yes, I think there is."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Senator McDermott, as I understand it, the language in the bill before us told general services to establish various categories of busses and with respect to each category, it would establish a fair market value and that is the price that the state would be willing to reimburse the local districts for through depreciation payments. Then the local districts would select its bus, as it does now, and to the extent it fit into one of the categories, the state would provide reimbursement and to the extent the district was hanging surplus equipment on it, it would be up to the district to pay for the extra equipment. Is that about the process that is in the bill now?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes."

Senator Wilson: "Okay. Now as I understand your amendment, it would transfer the function of establishing categories and prices and so forth to the SPI but rather than the district then deciding which bus it wanted understanding that the state would only reimburse it up to the specified levels, the SPI will now come out to the local districts, will it not, and in effect participate in their decision and negotiate with the directors and in some cases argue against them with respect to the type of bus they would be desiring to acquire?"

Senator McDermott: "There would certainly be a negotiation process. I am not sure it would break down into argument but I think that it is reasonable for them to, once having set up the categories, to go out and talk to the district about what they intend to do with this particular bus; will it be for handicapped children; or will it be for general population or whatever, and to have a discussion with the district about why they need a particular bus. I think that to have another opinion is not a bad idea and it certainly, when we are paying the entire bill at the state level, at least we ought to have somebody going out and having that kind of discussion. This is, in my opinion, a better way to go since it gives that discussion, rather than having general administration that knows little or nothing about schools."

Senator Wilson: "I don't have any quarrel between general administration and SPI but it is the introduction of this unsolicited consultation from Olympia that I am talking about."

"I would like an answer to one other question and I am curious about it and that is why such a rather dramatic change in the bus acquisition procedure was developed after the bill had moved out of your committee?"

Senator McDermott: "In the sixty day session which recently ended in a flurry there were a lot of bills that we tried to get out of committee and into rules as quickly as possible and some of the fine work . . . we had a long discussion on this section in the committee with a lot of testimony and we didn't quite get it resolved but we had to get it into rules and so it got into rules without this amendment. This amendment would have been hung in committee if we had had another day."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Odegaard: "Senator McDermott, reading on a little further, I find it says, 'failure of the district to operate the vehicle for such a period due to poor driving practices, inadequate maintenance, or other reasons . . . shall cause the SPI to penalize the district in future grants'."

"Now, how is the SPI going to know if there are 'poor driving practices' unless they have investigators or whatever they might be, watching the drivers drive the busses?"

Senator McDermott: "I will be interested to see the WAC's which are drawn to implement that particular section of the bill. I don't know how that will be done. I think it will be very difficult to do and I am not sure how much that particular section will be used in the bill. Obviously there is some gross misuse of busses. They forget to change the oil or something. That kind of thing would be easy to document but driving practices, I think a little more difficult. Somebody who rides the brake or the clutch, it is a little bit hard to tell that from following them or something else so I think that is going to be hard to implement and I am not sure how they will do that in the WAC."

Further debate ensued.

(1) Whenever any person is detained for evaluation and treatment pursuant to this chapter, both he and, if possible, a responsible member of his immediate family, guardian, or conservator, if any, shall be advised as soon as possible in writing or orally, by the officer or person taking him into custody or by personnel of the evaluation and treatment facility where he is detained that unless he is released or voluntarily admits himself for treatment within seventy-two hours of the initial detention:

(a) That a judicial hearing in a superior court, either by a judge or court commissioner thereof, shall be held not more than seventy-two hours after the initial detention to determine whether there is probable cause to detain him after the seventy-two hours have expired for up to an additional (~~fourteen~~) twenty-one days without further automatic hearing for the reason that he is a mentally ill person whose mental disorder presents a likelihood of serious harm to others or himself or that he is gravely disabled;

(b) That he has a right to communicate immediately with an attorney; he has a right to have an attorney appointed to represent him before and at the probable cause hearing if he is indigent; and he has the right to be told the name and address of the attorney the mental health professional has designated pursuant to this chapter;

(c) That he has the right to remain silent and that any statement he makes may be used against him;

(d) That he has the right to present evidence and to cross-examine witnesses who testify against him at the probable cause hearing; and

(e) That he has the right to refuse medication beginning twenty-four hours prior to the probable cause hearing.

(2) When proceedings are initiated under RCW 71.05.150 (2), (3), or (4)(b), no later than twelve hours after such person is admitted to the evaluation and treatment facility the personnel of the evaluation and treatment facility or the designated mental health professional shall serve on such person a copy of the petition for initial detention and the name, business address, and phone number of the designated attorney and shall forthwith commence service of a copy of the petition for initial detention on said designated attorney.

(3) The judicial hearing described in subsection (1) of this section is hereby authorized, and shall be held according to the provisions of subsection (1) of this section and rules promulgated by the supreme court.

Sec. 6. Section 26, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 4, chapter 199, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.210 are each amended to read as follows:

Each person involuntarily admitted to an evaluation and treatment facility shall, within twenty-four hours of his admission, be examined and evaluated by a licensed physician and a mental health professional as defined in this chapter, and shall receive such treatment and care as his condition requires including treatment on an outpatient basis for the period that he is detained, except that, beginning twenty-four hours prior to a court proceeding, the individual may refuse all but emergency life-saving treatment, and the individual shall be informed at an appropriate time of his right to such refusal of treatment. Such person shall be detained up to seventy-two hours, if, in the opinion of the professional person in charge of the facility, or his professional designee, the person presents a likelihood of serious harm to himself or others, or is gravely disabled. A person who has been detained for seventy-two hours shall no later than the end of such period be released, unless referred for further care on a voluntary basis, or detained pursuant to court order for further treatment as provided in this chapter.

An evaluation and treatment center admitting any person pursuant to this chapter whose physical condition reveals the need for hospitalization shall assure that such person is transferred to an appropriate hospital for treatment. Notice of such fact shall be given to the court, the designated attorney, and the designated county mental health professional and the court shall order such continuance in proceedings under this chapter as may be necessary, but in no event may this continuance be more than (~~fourteen~~) twenty-one days.

Sec. 7. Section 28, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 5, chapter 199, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.230 are each amended to read as follows:

A person detained for seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment may be detained for not more than (~~fourteen~~) twenty-one additional days of either involuntary intensive treatment or of a less restrictive alternative to involuntary intensive treatment if the following conditions are met:

(1) The professional staff of the agency or facility providing evaluation services has analyzed the person's condition and finds that said condition is caused by mental disorder and either results in a likelihood of serious harm to the person detained or to others, or results in the detained person being gravely disabled and are prepared to testify those conditions are met; and

(2) The person has been advised of the need for voluntary treatment and the professional staff of the facility has evidence that he has not in good faith volunteered; and

(3) The facility providing intensive treatment is certified to provide such treatment by the department of social and health services; and

(4) The professional staff of the agency or facility or the mental health professional designated by the county has filed a petition for (~~fourteen~~) twenty-one day involuntary detention or a less restrictive alternative with the court. The petition must be signed either by two physicians or by one physician and a mental health professional who have examined the person. If involuntary detention is sought the petition shall state facts that support the finding that such person, as a result of mental disorder, presents a likelihood of serious harm to others or himself, or is gravely disabled and that there are no less restrictive alternatives to detention in the best interest of such person or others. If an involuntary less restrictive alternative is sought, the petition shall state facts that support the finding that such person, as a result of mental disorder, presents a likelihood of serious harm to others or himself, or is gravely disabled and shall set forth the less restrictive alternative proposed by the facility; and

(5) A copy of the petition has been served on the detained person, his attorney and his guardian or conservator, if any, prior to the probable cause hearing; and

(6) The court at the time the petition was filed and before the probable cause hearing has appointed counsel to represent such person if no other counsel has appeared; and

(7) The court has ordered a ((fourteen)) twenty-one day involuntary treatment after a probable cause hearing has been held pursuant to RCW 71.05.240.

Sec. 8. Section 29, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 16, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.240 are each amended to read as follows:

If a petition is filed for ((fourteen)) twenty-one day involuntary treatment, the court shall hold a probable cause hearing within seventy-two hours of the initial detention of such person. If requested by the detained person or his attorney, the hearing may be postponed for a period not to exceed forty-eight hours. The hearing may also be continued subject to the conditions set forth in RCW 71.05.210 or subject to the petitioner's showing of good cause for a period not to exceed twenty-four hours.

At the conclusion of the probable cause hearing, if the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that such person, as the result of mental disorder, presents a likelihood of serious harm to others or himself, or is gravely disabled, and, after considering less restrictive alternatives to involuntary detention and treatment, finds that no such alternatives are in the best interests of such person or others, the court shall order that such person be detained for involuntary treatment not to exceed ((fourteen)) twenty-one days in a facility certified to provide treatment by the department of social and health services. If the court finds that such person, as the result of a mental disorder, presents a likelihood of serious harm to others or himself, or is gravely disabled, but that treatment in a less restrictive setting than detention is in the best interest of such person or others, the court shall order an appropriate less restrictive course of treatment for not to exceed ((fourteen)) twenty-one days.

The court shall specifically state to such person and give such person notice in writing that if involuntary treatment beyond the ((fourteen)) twenty-one day period is to be sought, such person will have the right to a full hearing or jury trial as required by RCW 71.05.310.

Sec. 9. Section 30, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 17, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.250 are each amended to read as follows:

At the probable cause hearing the detained person shall have the following rights in addition to the rights previously specified:

- (1) To present evidence on his behalf;
- (2) To cross-examine witnesses who testify against him;
- (3) To be proceeded against by the rules of evidence;
- (4) To remain silent;
- (5) To view and copy all petitions and reports in the court file.

The physician-patient privilege shall be deemed waived in proceedings under this chapter when a court of competent jurisdiction in its discretion determines that it is unreasonable for the petitioner seeking ((fourteen)) twenty-one day involuntary treatment to obtain a sufficient evaluation of the detained person by a psychiatrist or psychologist or other health professional and such waiver is necessary in the opinion of the court to protect either the detained person or the public.

Whenever the physician-patient privilege is deemed waived pursuant to this section, the waiver shall be limited to the introduction of relevant and competent medical records or testimony of an evaluation or treatment facility or its staff, a facility of the department of social and health services or its staff, or a facility certified for ninety-day treatment by the department of social and health services or its staff for the purpose of meeting evaluation requirements contained in chapter 10.77 RCW and chapter 71.12 RCW: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That the physician-patient privilege shall not be waived if the physician specifically identifies himself to the detained person as one who is communicating with that person for treatment only: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That the privilege shall not extend to incident reports involving the detained person.

The record maker shall not be required to testify in order to introduce medical records of the detained person so long as the requirements of RCW 5.45.020 are met except that portions of the record which contains opinions as to the detained person's mental state must be deleted from such records unless the person making such conclusions is available for cross-examination.

Sec. 10. Section 31, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 18, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.260 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Involuntary treatment ordered at the time of the probable cause hearing shall be for no more than ~~((fourteen))~~ twenty-one days, and shall terminate sooner when, in the opinion of the professional person in charge of the facility or his professional designee, (a) the person no longer constitutes a likelihood of serious harm to himself or others, or (b) no longer is gravely disabled, or (c) is prepared to accept voluntary treatment upon referral, or (d) is to remain in the facility providing intensive treatment on a voluntary basis.

(2) A person who has been detained for ~~((fourteen))~~ twenty-one days of intensive treatment shall be released at the end of the ~~((fourteen))~~ twenty-one days unless one of the following applies: (a) Such person agrees to receive further treatment on a voluntary basis; or (b) such person is a patient to whom RCW 71.05.280 is applicable.

Sec. 11. Section 33, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 19, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.280 are each amended to read as follows:

At the expiration of the ~~((fourteen))~~ twenty-one day period of intensive treatment, a person may be confined for further treatment pursuant to RCW 71.05.320 for an additional period, not to exceed ninety days if:

(1) Such person has threatened, attempted, or inflicted physical harm upon the person of another or himself after having been taken into custody for evaluation and treatment, and, as a result of mental disorder presents a likelihood of serious harm to others or himself; or

(2) Such person was taken into custody as a result of conduct in which he attempted or inflicted physical harm upon the person of another or himself, and continues to present, as a result of mental disorder, a likelihood of serious harm to others or himself; or

(3) Such person ~~((is in custody because he))~~ has been determined to be incompetent and criminal charges have been dismissed pursuant to RCW 10.77.090(3), as now or hereafter amended, and has committed acts constituting a felony, and as a result of a mental disorder, presents a substantial likelihood of repeating similar acts. In any proceeding pursuant to this subsection it shall not be necessary to show intent, wilfulness, or state of mind as an element of the felony; or

(4) Such person is gravely disabled.

For the purposes of this chapter "custody" shall mean involuntary detention under the provisions of this chapter or chapter 10.76 RCW, uninterrupted by any period of unconditional release from a facility providing involuntary care and treatment.

Sec. 12. Section 34, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 6, chapter 199, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.290 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) At any time during a person's (~~fourteen~~) twenty-one day intensive treatment period, the professional person in charge of a treatment facility or his professional designee or the designated county mental health professional may petition the superior court for an order requiring such person to undergo an additional period of treatment. Such petition must be based on one or more of the grounds set forth in RCW 71.05.280.

(2) The petition shall summarize the facts which support the need for further confinement and shall be supported by affidavits signed by two examining physicians, or by one examining physician and examining mental health professional. The affidavits shall describe in detail the behavior of the detained person which supports the petition and shall explain what, if any, less restrictive treatments which are alternatives to detention are available to such person, and shall state the willingness of the affiant to testify to such facts in subsequent judicial proceedings under this chapter.

(3) If a person has been determined to be incompetent pursuant to RCW 10.77.090(3) as now existing or hereafter amended, then the professional person in charge of the treatment facility or his professional designee or the county designated mental health professional may directly file a petition for ninety day treatment under RCW 71.05.280(3). No petition for initial detention or (~~fourteen~~) twenty-one day detention is required before such a petition may be filed.

Sec. 13. Section 39, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 24, chapter 145, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.340 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When, in the opinion of the superintendent or the professional person in charge of the hospital or facility providing involuntary treatment, the committed person can be appropriately served by outpatient (~~care~~) treatment prior to or at the expiration of the period of commitment, (~~then such outpatient care may be required as a condition for early release for a period which, when added to the inpatient treatment period, shall not exceed the period of commitment~~) then outpatient treatment may be required for a period which shall not exceed ninety days. If the hospital or facility designated to provide outpatient (~~care~~) treatment is other than the facility providing involuntary treatment, the outpatient facility so designated must agree in writing to assume such responsibility. A copy of the conditions for early release shall be given to the patient, the designated county mental health professional in the county in which the patient is to receive outpatient treatment, and to the court of original commitment.

(2) The hospital or facility designated to provide outpatient (~~care~~) treatment or the secretary may modify the conditions for continued release when such modification is in the best interest of the person. Notification of such changes shall be sent to all persons receiving a copy of the original conditions.

(3) If a committed person refuses to accept any condition of outpatient treatment, the person is entitled to a prompt judicial hearing which shall be held within the period of court-ordered inpatient commitment, if possible, but in no event more than five days after the expiration of the period, during which time the person may continue to be detained. At the hearing, the sole question to be determined is the reasonableness of the required conditions. The court may strike any condition deemed by the court to be unreasonably burdensome or onerous or may order the unconditional release of the committed person.

(4) If the hospital or facility designated to provide outpatient (~~care~~) treatment, the designated county mental health professional or the secretary determines that a conditionally released person is failing to adhere to the terms and conditions of his release, ~~((and because of that failure has become a substantial danger to himself or other persons;))~~ then, upon notification by the hospital or facility designated to provide outpatient ~~((care))~~ treatment, or on his own motion, the designated county mental health professional or the secretary may order that the conditionally released person be apprehended and taken into custody and temporarily detained in an evaluation and treatment facility in or near the county in which he is receiving outpatient treatment until such time, not exceeding five days, as a hearing can be scheduled to determine whether or not the person should be returned to the hospital or facility from which he had been conditionally released. The designated county mental health professional or the secretary may modify or rescind such order at any time prior to commencement of the court hearing. The court that originally ordered commitment shall be notified within two judicial days of a person's detention under the provisions of this section, and the designated county mental health professional or the secretary shall file his petition and order of apprehension and detention with the court and serve them upon the person detained. His attorney, if any, and his guardian or conservator, if any, shall receive a copy of such papers as soon as possible. Such person shall have the same rights with respect to notice, hearing, and counsel as for an involuntary treatment proceeding, except as specifically set forth in this section and except that there shall be no right to jury trial. The issues to be determined shall be whether the conditionally released person did or did not adhere to the terms and conditions of his release; and, if he failed to adhere to such terms and conditions, whether the conditions of release should be modified or if the person meets applicable commitment standards under RCW 71.05.280 as now or hereafter amended, whether he should be returned to ((the facility)) inpatient treatment. Pursuant to the determination of the court upon such hearing, the conditionally released person shall either continue to be conditionally released on the same or modified conditions or shall be returned for involuntary treatment on an inpatient basis subject to release at the end of the ninety-day period ~~((for which he was committed for involuntary treatment;))~~ or otherwise in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. Such hearing may be waived by the person and his counsel and his guardian or conservator, if any, but shall not be waivable unless all such persons agree to waive, and upon such waiver the person may be returned for involuntary treatment or continued on conditional release on the same or modified conditions.

~~((4))~~ (5) The proceedings set forth in subsection ~~((3))~~ (4) of this section may be initiated by the designated county mental health professional or the secretary on the same basis set forth therein without requiring or ordering the apprehension and detention of the conditionally released person, in which case the court hearing shall take place in not less than fifteen days from the date of service of the petition upon the conditionally released person.

Upon expiration of the period of commitment, or when the person is released from outpatient ~~((care))~~ treatment, notice in writing to the court which committed the person for treatment shall be provided.

Sec. 14. Section 10, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 2, chapter 199, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.050 are each amended to read as follows:

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to limit the right of any person to apply voluntarily to any public or private agency or practitioner for treatment of a mental disorder, either by direct application or by referral. Any person voluntarily admitted for inpatient treatment to any public or private agency shall be released immediately upon his request. Any person voluntarily admitted for inpatient treatment to any public or private agency shall orally be advised of the right to immediate release and further advised of such rights in writing as are secured to them pursuant to this chapter and their rights of access to attorneys, courts, and other legal redress. Their condition and status shall be reviewed at least once each one hundred eighty days for evaluation as to the need for further treatment and/or possible release, at which time they shall again be advised or their right to release upon request: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That if the professional staff of any public or private agency or hospital regards a person voluntarily admitted who requests release as presenting, as a result of a mental disorder, an imminent likelihood of serious harm to himself or others, or is gravely disabled, they may detain such person for sufficient time to notify the designated county mental health professional of such person's condition to enable such mental health professional to authorize such person being further held in custody or transported to an evaluation and treatment center pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, which shall in ordinary circumstances be no later than the next judicial day: PROVIDED FURTHER, That if a person is brought to the emergency room of a public or private agency or hospital for observation or treatment and said person refuses voluntary admission and the professional staff of the public or private agency or hospital regards such person as presenting as a result of a mental disorder an imminent likelihood of serious harm to himself or others or is gravely disabled, they may detain such person for sufficient time to notify the designated county mental health professional of such person's condition to enable such mental health professional to authorize such person being further held in custody or transported to an evaluation treatment center pursuant to the conditions of this chapter, but which time shall be no more than six hours.

Sec. 15. Section 294, page 187, Laws of 1854 as last amended by section 7, chapter 13, Laws of 1965 and RCW 5.60.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A husband shall not be examined for or against his wife, without the consent of the wife, nor a wife for or against her husband without the consent of the husband; nor can either during marriage or afterward, be without the consent of the other, examined as to any communication made by one to the other during marriage. But this exception shall not apply to a civil action or proceeding by one against the other, nor to a criminal action or proceeding for a crime committed by one against the other, nor to a criminal action or proceeding for a crime committed by said husband or wife against any child of whom said husband or wife is the parent or guardian nor to a proceeding to involuntarily treat because of the spouse's alleged mental or physical condition: PROVIDED, That the spouse of the person sought to be detained under chapter 71.05 RCW may not be compelled to testify in such proceedings.

(2) An attorney or counselor shall not, without the consent of his client, be examined as to any communication made by the client to him, or his advice given thereon in the course of professional employment.

(3) A clergyman or priest shall not, without the consent of a person making the confession, be examined as to any confession made to him in his professional character, in the course of discipline enjoined by the church to which he belongs.

(4) A regular physician or surgeon shall not, without the consent of his patient, be examined in a civil action as to any information acquired in attending such patient, which was necessary to enable him to prescribe or act for the patient, but this exception shall not apply in any judicial proceeding regarding a child's injuries, neglect or sexual abuse, or the cause thereof.

(5) A public officer shall not be examined as a witness as to communications made to him in official confidence, when the public interest would suffer by the disclosure.

Sec. 16. Section 72.23.070, chapter 28, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 48, chapter 80, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 72.23.070 are each amended to read as follows:

Pursuant to rules and regulations established by the department, a public or private facility may receive any person who is a suitable person for care and treatment as mentally ill, or for observation as to the existence of mental illness, upon the receipt of a written application of the person, or others on his behalf, in accordance with the following requirements:

(1) In the case of a person eighteen years of age or over, the application shall be voluntarily made by the person;

(2) In the case of a person thirteen years of age or under, the application may be voluntarily made by his parents, or by the parent, limited guardian as authorized, guardian, or other person entitled to his custody. When such person is more than thirteen years of age, such application must be accompanied by the written consent, knowingly and voluntarily given, of the minor. All such voluntary applications to a public agency shall be reviewed by the county mental health professionals, who shall submit a written report and evaluation with recommendations to the superintendent of such facility to which such application is made stating whether treatment is necessary and proper on a voluntary basis and evaluating the reasons for voluntary commitment. Such person's condition and status shall be reviewed by the professional person in charge of the facility or his designee at least once each one hundred eighty days. A person under eighteen years of age received into a public facility as a voluntary patient shall not be retained after he reaches eighteen years of age, but such person, upon reaching eighteen years of age, may apply for admission into a public or private facility as a voluntary patient.

(3) No minor over thirteen years of age shall be involuntarily committed to a state or private facility for care and treatment as mentally disordered, or for observation as to the existence of mental disorder, except in accordance with the following requirements:

(a) The facility must be certified by the department of social and health services to provide evaluation and treatment to persons under eighteen years of age suffering from mental disorders: PROVIDED, That a physically separate and separately operated portion of a state hospital may be designated as an evaluation and treatment facility: PROVIDED FURTHER, That a facility which is part of, or a part of, or operated by, the department of social and health services or any federal agency will not require certification.

(b) A petition shall be filed with the juvenile court by the person's parent, parents, limited guardian as authorized, guardian, or by the juvenile court itself. The petition shall set forth the reasons why commitment is necessary and what alternative courses of treatment have been explored. The juvenile court shall then conduct a hearing, at which the person under eighteen years of age shall be represented by an attorney, to determine whether commitment is clearly in the best interests of the person sought to be committed, and that no less restrictive alternative exists: PROVIDED, That, if in the opinion of the designated county mental health professional a minor presents an imminent likelihood of serious harm to himself or others, he may be temporarily detained for up to seventy-two hours by a licensed facility pending petition to the juvenile court for further commitment.

(c) If the juvenile court determines that commitment is clearly necessary, it will issue an order approving such petition. If the juvenile court determines that a less restrictive alternative is desirable, it may order that alternatives be followed.

(d) If a person under the age of eighteen years is committed to a state or private facility pursuant to this section, the juvenile court recommending commitment shall require a report from the facility every one hundred eighty days that sets forth such facts as the juvenile court may require. Upon receipt of the report, the juvenile court shall undertake a review of the status of such person to determine whether or not it is still clearly in the best interests of the patient that he remain in the facility. If the juvenile court determines that further commitment is not clearly in the best interests of the patient, it shall order release upon such conditions as it deems necessary.

(e) Every person under the age of eighteen shall have all the rights provided for persons eighteen years of age or over under this chapter as now or hereafter amended except those rights specifically modified by this section: PROVIDED, That the juvenile court rather than the superior court shall be responsible for any proceedings. A voluntarily admitted minor over thirteen years of age shall have the right to release on the next judicial day from the date of request unless a petition is filed in juvenile court by the professional person in charge of the facility or his designee on the grounds that the juvenile is dangerous to himself or others or that it would be in the best interests of the juvenile that he remain in the facility. Furthermore, should the patient and his parent, parents, limited guardian as authorized, or guardian both request his release, he shall be immediately released unless the professional person in charge of the facility objects immediately in writing to the juvenile court on the grounds that the person is dangerous to himself or others and that it would not be in the patient's best interests to be released. Should this occur, the juvenile court shall hold a hearing on the issue within five judicial days and determine whether the person should be released.

(f) Nothing in this section shall prohibit the professional person in charge of the facility in which the person is being treated from releasing him at any time when, in the opinion of said professional person, further commitment would no longer be in the best interests of the patient.

Whenever a person is released by the professional person in charge of a facility under this section, said person shall, in writing, notify the juvenile court which committed the person for treatment.

(4) In the case of a person eighteen years of age or over for whom a limited guardian or guardian of the person has been appointed, such application shall be made by said limited guardian or guardian, when so authorized by proper court order in the limited guardianship or guardianship proceedings.

(5) Whenever any person of the age of eighteen years or more voluntarily presents himself to any state institution or facility for the treatment of the mentally ill, and such person declares or presents other evidence that he is mentally ill to the extent of endangering his own life or the lives of others, and that he wishes to commit himself for treatment, he shall be admitted to the facility or institution for observation and evaluation by a qualified mental health professional, and treatment as needed, for a period not less than seventy-two hours.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Clarke, Senate Bill No. 2415, as amended, was ordered held on the second reading calendar for Tuesday, March 27, 1979.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Walgren, the Senate commenced consideration of Senate Bill No. 2474.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2474, by Senators North and Bottiger:
Updating references to the state building codes.

REPORT OF STANDING

February 15, 1979.

SENATE BILL NO. 2474, updating references to the state building code (reported by Committee on Energy and Utilities):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment.

On page 2, add a new section following section 1 as follows:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. The state building code advisory council shall report to the legislature on January 12, 1981 their recommendations for thermal and lighting standards for residential, commercial and industrial construction."

Signed by: Senators Bottiger, Chairman; Hayner, Lewis, North, Woody.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Bottiger moved the committee amendment not be adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Bottiger, I have in my hand ASHRAE Standard 90-75, and after having thoroughly examined those standards that were proposed and adopted by the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating, and Air-conditioning Engineers, I find that there are several provisions in the standards which we don't build to in the state of Washington, at least in my particular area over in Eastern Washington. Some of those standards just won't fit.

"Do I understand from you that the amendment that we have on the desk will allow the advisory committee to alter the building code in order that we might adopt rules and regulations that will accommodate the best of construction conditions in Eastern Washington?

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, it is the intent in offering the floor amendment that I will ask that we adopt in a minute, that we get some input.

"Now for your information and the information of the Senate, the department of energy recognizes Senator Guess's concern and is currently making a study of how individual, regional climatic conditions might make a difference in the adoption of the actual ASHRAE standards and it is not the intent, in offering the floor amendment, that we bind our building code advisory committee to the ASHRAE 75 standards. I think there is a better way to do it. I think the department of energy recognizes that and we are looking for the time to put in an energy code that will meet the needs of the state of Washington not necessarily the entire United States."

Senator Guess: "There is one thing I would like to point out to you. In the lighting arrangements that are required, in some homes that are built with the number of windows in them that people like to have out here, the requirements are for a great deal more power in the kitchen area, for instance. The particular house that I have has lots of windows in it and I have approximately two hundred and ten watts of lighting. This would require that we have three hundred watts. Do you assure me that the building code that we adopt, or the advisory committee will be able to adopt, variances from that particular type of standard?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Guess, I can assure you that the advisory committee will probably move in the direction that you would desire and that I would desire and that they will negotiate with region ten for an adoption of a Washington efficiency standard that will, in your case, reduce the amount of consumption.

"Also another item that has come up since ASHRAE 75 was the use of neon as opposed to light globes, candescent light globes. Fluorescent lighting is much more efficient than heat resistant and there should be a recognition of that in the ASHRAE standards."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hansen: "Senator Bottiger, when we were hassling this bill back in 1975, there was a lot of controversy over summer homes and log cabins and things like this. Does our code still leave that section of our society out or does it cover them all now?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Hansen, since 1975 the federal government has recognized the error of their ways and the wisdom of ours and has gone to an efficiency standard as opposed to a cook book."

"Now, in other words, instead of R-19 insulation in the ceiling in an area that would be a waste, they have tended toward recognizing the climatic conditions and the alternate ways of reaching the standards by a model or a design standard as opposed to actual necessary inches of thickness of certain insulating material so they will allow you to do it in several ways as we did in House Bill 98."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, this 'shall take effect prior to June 30, 1980; and shall be presented to the Senate and House committees on energy and utilities at the time it is proposed as a draft rule'.

"I was wondering if you would consider an amendment after the word 'utilities' so it would read then . . . 'shall be presented to the Senate and House committees on energy and utilities for their approval at the time it is proposed as a draft rule'. This would give the committees the power to review and reject such as we have proposed in Senate Bill 3030."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Rasmussen, my concern is delegating rule-making authority to a standing committee. We have had before us the concept of allowing a committee to veto an agency rule and were that the decision, this bill would still come under the purview of any such act. But if we were to adopt your amendment, as I understand it, we would be faced with a legislative committee actually adopting or going into the rule-making authority.

"Now that might be a concept we would like to consider but I think we should do it very cleanly and after some thought.

"The way this is worded, that language was put in at the suggestion of the industry. What they would like is some place to complain in public, in front of a legislative committee, about a proposed draft and I agree with them and agreed to put that language in. That comes from the industry."

Senator Rasmussen: "I think it is a good provision but all it does is say that it will be submitted to the energy and utilities committees at the time it proposes a draft rule. It doesn't say what you are to do with it after they submit it to you."

Senator Bottiger: "The discussions we had with the industry were that if it were something very offensive, Senator Guess, Senator Williams, as an architect, would be on the phone calling saying 'this is terrible. We think it ought to be reworded'. We would hold a hearing and put it out in front of the public and the press about what the proposed rule would do. That was the industry's concept of that language."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Senator Bottiger, Senator Hansen asked a question regarding recreational cabins, summer homes. Your answer didn't sound responsive to that to me. You talked about climatic conditions and so forth and recognition of that. I didn't think you gave us any information regarding recreational part-time-use homes and if you could help a little on that, I would appreciate it."

Senator Bottiger: "In the discussion of House Bill 98, the question came up about say solid cedar wall homes and we wrote in from exemption language in House Bill 98. That language would have to be reviewed by the advisory committee but since that time the concept of the cook book approach to insulation has been changed so that you go to design. If you wanted to have a recreational home with all windows on one side, you might have to reduce the number of windows on the other three sides to meet the total exposure standards. Now that is called the 'design system' as opposed to 'cook book system'.

Senator Van Hollebeke: "There are no special provisions either in the existing code or in proposed changes here that would make exemptions for homes only intended to be used for summer weather, are there?"

Senator Bottiger: "Not that I know of right now but that is the kinds of thing that would . . . I just received a note from the staff and yes, there are different standards for summer homes under the federal regulation."

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried. The committee amendment was not adopted.

Senator Bottiger moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, following line 9, add a new section as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The state building code advisory council shall have authority to promulgate rules, pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW for the purpose of adopting a statewide thermal efficiency and lighting code to the extent necessary to comply with Title 10, Code of Federal Regulations, section 420.35. Such code shall take into account regional climatic conditions; shall take effect prior to June 30, 1980; and shall be presented to the Senate and House Committees on Energy and Utilities at the time it is proposed as a draft rule."

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2474 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Quigg: "Senator Bottiger, did you have an opportunity to discuss the input the building association and so forth would have that are familiar with the building practices in the various climatic areas of the state into the rules changes as they might affect energy."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Quigg, on the building advisory committee are two members of the industry and in addition I believe two other architects as well as some building code people from around the state. Some consumer affairs type and an addition with the floor amendment, for all practical purposes, the members of Senate and House energy and utilities committees so I am sure that all of those climatic conditions will be considered."

On motion of Senator Day, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 2753 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Day, the Governor has of course asked for and we have passed out of committee a bill that will require a one percent penalty for not paying a vendor within thirty days after the bill has been accepted. It just seems to be going the wrong direction. Here are vendors asking for one hundred and twenty days time to get their bills in. It doesn't seem like we are working the right direction. . . ."

Senator Day: "This is the opposite end of the thing. This is the time for the vendor to submit his bill properly after the service is provided. Now after he properly submits his bill then the thirty days is addressed to that aspect of it as far as payment. In other words, after he properly submits the bill, it gives the department the thirty days in which to pay the bill. In some instances, there was no time allotted for the department to pay those and they went on for months and months and months. So that is what that addresses to. This is addressed to giving a little leeway to the provider in case that a billing is missed or in the case I cited where there was a mistake and the billings were not properly submitted within the sixty day period.

"What this does is it extends that so they can find those mistakes and correct them within the billing period and not lose the money, Senator, to the vendor."

Senator Rasmussen: "My concern is that if you wait four months to submit your bill that by that time all records will be lost over in the department and it won't do any good."

Senator Day: "Hopefully they won't be lost."

Revising procedures relating to civil commitment.

The Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 2415. On Monday, March 26, 1979, the bill was amended and held for further consideration today.

Senator McDermott moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 4, line 13, after "disorder" strike the remainder of the subsection and insert: "is in danger of serious physical harm resulting from a failure to provide for his or her essential human needs of health or safety;"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talley: "Senator McDermott, we have a situation in this state which I think is very wrong. We get these people into our mental institutions. We keep them there for about six weeks and get them on drugs and get them so they are fairly calm, send them out in the general public. Say 'go home, take your medicine and be a good boy'. There is no outpatient clinic check on them, they don't do it and they do create a hazard. Will this take care of this situation?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes, I think it does, Senator Talley. I have worked in Seattle as the psychiatrist in the King county jail and some of the people you are talking about are the kinds of people who go in and out of hospitals and this would allow them to be civilly committed by taking away the word 'serious'.

"The word 'serious' has been the holdup in the court's mind. They have taken that word seriously and have not put people in until there was a showing of severe problems. By removing that you are allowing them to take into account people's needs for health and safety when it is obvious that there is a need.

"In addition, we are going to put money into the budget so that there will be treatment available for them both in outpatient clinics in the mental health centers and in the state hospitals and I think that is sufficient to care for this problem."

The motion by Senator McDermott failed and the amendment was not adopted.

Senator McDermott moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 5, line 26, after "harm" strike all the matter down to the semicolon on page 5, line 31.

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator McDermott failed and the amendment was not adopted.

There being no objection, an amendment by Senator McDermott to page 5, line 30 on the desk of the Secretary of the Senate was withdrawn.

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2415 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talley: "Senator McDermott, you feel there is sufficient money in the budget to provide outpatient care for these people?"

Senator McDermott: "One of my problems with this bill is that as we open up the section we are really opening up a much wider net, so to speak, and I am concerned that no one can, at this point, give us good estimates.

"Now we are putting quite an increase into the mental health budget but I am not really sure that it will cover all the people who will now fall under this bill. I hope so and I think we may be faced with a supplemental appropriation in 1980-1981. I think it is almost impossible for anyone to give a specific fiscal note that really answers your question."

Senator Talley: "Another question, Senator McDermott. Under this bill, if somebody is released from Western State and instructed to take his medication, should he be ordered to report to these clinics for a check and to see that he is taking medicine?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes. One of the sections of this bill that I hope Senator Talmadge will help me, one of these sections makes it possible for the superintendent of a hospital to require somebody to take medication and in fact to extend them for additional time, for ninety days beyond, when their commitment would be up under order to take the medication. So there is that kind of provision in here to order people, under the court, to take medication and to return them to the hospital if they don't take their medication."

Senator Talley: "Then they would, under this order, they would have to go in and be checked and see that they are doing it?"

Senator McDermott: "That is correct."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Donohue, with the creation of this board under this bill requires that the state hire new people to be the board members and all the secretarial help. What is the fiscal impact of the creation of this board?"

Senator Donohue: "The fiscal impact is around three hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The answer to your question is 'yes'. The Governor will appoint three people. Those three people will be either full time or part time and she will set the compensation. That is in the bill.

"In talking against the amendment, I have to explain a little bit. One of the big problems we have, Senator, is that we have about one hundred and fifty-three cases that are pending that the present appeals board, present board, has not been able to hear. It is contemplated that with full time, these people, or perhaps in the future, part time, that the new board members will be able to eliminate this problem and be able to hear those people who desire to appeal at a much better time frame. Under the present situation, they just cannot do it."

Senator Guess: "Senator, would it be . . . I suppose it is a little bit late . . . but I was wondering if you could have added one more person to the personnel board as we did the industrial appeals board several years ago to lighten the load or use the hearings officer rather than having the people on the board themselves hear the appeals?"

Senator Donohue: "This bill does provide that they can have hearing officers and I guess the issue is that most of the people that are presently on the personnel board, and I have talked to some of them, definitely say that this is a much better way to go to really handle the problems that are out there as it relates to the employees."

Senator Guess: "Although be it very expensive."

Senator Donohue: "I understand it is going to more expensive, yes, Senator."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gould: "Senator Donohue, you mentioned one hundred and fifty three cases. Do you know how many of those cases are under the department of personnel? Are they all under there or what percentage?"

Senator Donohue: "I think most of them are, Senator. I don't think there are too many appeals that are HEP board."

The motion by Senator Gould failed and the amendments were not adopted on a rising vote.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Jones, Senator Quigg was excused.

On motion of Senator Donohue, the following amendments by Senators Donohue and Rasmussen to the title were adopted:

Authorizing certain educational requirements for insurance agents and broker's licenses.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

March 22, 1979.

SENATE BILL NO. 2332, authorizing certain educational requirements for insurance agent's and broker's licenses (reported by Committee on Financial Institutions and Insurance):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

On page 2, line 8, after "commissioner" strike "may by regulation establish" and insert "shall by July 1, 1980, establish by regulation"

Debate ensued.

The motion carried and the amendment was adopted on a rising vote.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Wilson, Senator Lysen was excused.

On motion of Senator Bausch, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2332 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Senator Bausch, in the discussion of continuing education before the committee, did you get any indication that the department charged with the responsibility will get consideration to seminars that are conducted whether by proprietary or whether by private companies or private associations, whether or not they will be considered in the continuing education program for approval by the director?"

Senator Bausch: "That question was asked by a committee member and the answer was 'yes'."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "How about correspondence courses? Was that discussed?"

Senator Bausch: "I don't recall the correspondence as to whether or not that would be included in the program. I would assume yes but I am not positive on that."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "All right. We are going to try in the real estate license law, if we can get this through here, we are going to try . . . we are going to have that one included in, hopefully that will pass in the law . . ."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Odegaard: "Senator North, does this bill allow any kind of a grandfather clause? I cannot seem to find it in here if it does. It seems that in most kinds of legislation like this, we usually allow for some kind of a grandfather clause for the concern that Senator Williams brings out."

Senator North: "To my knowledge, no, there is no grandfather clause but you note this does not go into effect until July of 1980 at which time I would think in the course of hearings and the establishment of rules and regulations, there would be a great deal of input from the industry, from the insurance agents and brokers over the state. This would not be something just feebly entered into. It would be carefully weighed and thought through and I am sure there would be adequate time for the agents to make appropriate courses and to prepare themselves before their time has come up to be reexamined or to be relicensed."

"I can only say that in just about every walk of life today, techniques are changing so much; knowledge is changing so much that I just can't think of any job situation where you can go along and coast for forty years without going back and taking some extra courses and additional education. I can only say in the legislature every single person in this body stands the test every two years or four years. Either you have done your homework; you have kept up with things or you haven't or the voters are going to tell you so. I think this continuing education is a very reasonable requirement."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Donohue: "Senator North, I have a friend that he and his son operate a business together and the father who is about seventy-five years old and sort of crippled, very active in business however. He goes to the office every day. If this passes, are you saying that that individual maintain, to keep his license, is going to have to travel somewhere? He doesn't like to leave town in our little community. Is he going to have to drive someplace and travel and pick up fifteen hours to keep his license?"

Senator North: "I would assume that wouldn't be necessary. I will go back to my own Northwest Hospital Board. We have a continuing education requirement. We can meet that by reading articles in professional journals, by making reports, by continuing education courses that come through correspondence and I think that the thrust of Senator Wilson's amendment also pointing out that there are geographical barriers and there are physical differences and I think that the insurance commissioner will recognize him, particularly if people get their input into the insurance commissioner's office at the time he is drawing up the rules and regs."

Senator Donohue: "So what we are really requiring is that this elderly individual who has been in the insurance business for fifty years send a report into the insurance commissioner stating 'I have spent fifteen hours doing so' and the insurance commissioner will respond with another letter stating that you have qualified, you are okay, and you can continue to operate your business. Is that true?"

Senator North: "Senator Donohue, I cannot speak for the insurance commissioner. I assume he is a reasonable man . . ."

Senator Donohue: "I am trying to decide how to vote on the bill and I have already decided."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson: "Senator North, what is the fiscal impact of this measure?"

Senator North: "To my knowledge there is no fiscal note on this and this is something that the insurance commissioner will have to absorb in the budget and I don't think there is any fiscal impact."

Senator Peterson: "There has to be a fiscal impact whether the legislature picks it up or the insurance commissioner picks it up, there is a fiscal impact."

Senator North: "I think I would yield to a member of the committee on this because I am not a member as to whether the bill has a fiscal impact. The chairman is showing me . . . approximately fifty thousand per year."

Senator Peterson: "Does the bill say that impact . . ."

Senator North: "The insurance industry itself can assess themselves to cover this cost. The chairman was telling me that."

Senator Peterson: "Is that spelled out in the language of the bill?"

Senator North: "I don't see it."

Senator Peterson: "That is my question. In other words, we would have to appropriate the fifty thousand dollars somewhere in the budget to accommodate this measure."

REMARKS BY SENATOR JONES

Senator Jones: "In answer to your question . . . no. That question was specifically asked of the staff. They said they would absorb it in the budget of the insurance commissioner."

Senator Peterson: "It doesn't read that way, Senator."

Senator Jones: "There is no appropriation. You can hardly get it, right?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson: "Senator North, one further question. Couldn't the insurance commissioner accommodate what this bill addresses itself to without passing legislation?"

Senator North: "I think all executive branches have certain latitude to do things that they see are appropriate to their position. The point of the legislature is to express legislative intent. That is the reason the bill is before us. If we believe in continuing education, then we enact such language. If you don't, you don't."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: "I would like to make one answer to this, Mr. President. First, in response to Senator Peterson. Under the present law, all that the commissioner may do is require they pass a license. Now the change here is that he may, in addition to that, require certain continuing education. That should not have substantial impact because once he establishes the rules and regulations, I don't see how there is any additional work."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Clarke, I have an insurance company called Colonial Penn, great friend of we senior citizens. I have another one, Nationwide Insurance; another one, Bankers Trust, and innumerable others that I don't do business with and I am not sure I do business with all these, I would have to ask my wife. However, my question is this: Do I have to attend this continuing education course when I fill out those papers and get my insurance policy by mail or do they have to have the continuing education course or would it be the post office that would have to take the thirty? Seriously, now that we are writing insurance policies in plain English, I think we are going to see more and more where you fill out your own policy and you get a cheaper rate. What does continuing education do in this respect?"

Senator Clarke: "Senator, if you want to go the mail order route in insurance, in effect, with non-admitted companies, you probably will deserve what you get. If, however, you wish to rely on a knowledgeable professional to analyze your insurance needs and advise you and represent you as your insurance broker, then I would think you would want somebody that had some qualifications to perform that act."

Senator Rasmussen: "Further question, Senator Clarke. Would they, as a company, have to sign that all of their people had this course?"

Senator Clarke: "My recollection of the law is that any corporate agency must designate those people who are in effect authorized to act on behalf of the corporation and those particular persons must qualify."

Further debate ensued.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2332, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 30; nays, 17; excused, 2.

Modifying maximum size restrictions on motor vehicles.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Wanamaker, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 2341 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Shinpoch: "Senator Wanamaker, when we passed a law six weeks or so ago, we passed one in here that allowed us to change the manner in which you count the feet, the total number of feet. Is there anything in this that would extend the total for the tractor trailers?"

Senator Wanamaker: "No, it does not and that did not extend the feet. It just allowed a different configuration on the makeup of the tractor and . . ."

Senator Shinpoch: "I understand that. I think we did have a maximum of thirty-five feet. Now you have done forty here. Can we put two forties together along with a tractor, I guess, is my real question?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR HENRY

Senator Henry: "I am the prime sponsor of the bill, Senator. It does not extend the overall length that is now allowable. It changes the method of getting the permit and the same lengths they are now getting permits for."

Debate ensued.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2865, by Senators Odegaard, Ridder, Talmadge, Fleming, Peterson, Wilson, Goltz and Walgren: Regulating political advertising.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Woody, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2865 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2865 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

Senator Pullen moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Pullen and Lewis:

On page 2, line 2, after "affiliated" insert ": PROVIDED, That the political party may be identified by use of a generally recognized abbreviation".

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Odegaard, the thing that bothers me about the bill, now this is on page one, line twenty-eight . . . 'political advertising for the candidates for partisan political office shall identify clearly and conspicuously on the material'. We got into a big argument in the last campaign about the size of the words. What do you think and what would be the intent of those who drafted the bill as to the size of the type of the candidates versus the party affiliation?"

Senator Odegaard: "You mean that the size of type for the party should be larger or not than the candidate's name itself?"

Senator Guess: "I don't want some commission coming along and saying that the name of the party has got to be the exact same size and the same number of points as that of the candidate. I don't think that . . . ."

Senator Odegaard: "That was not my intent, Senator. It was just that it not be buried down at the bottom of an ad necessarily in the fine print which sometimes it might be.

"For example, in some cases it might be 'Rep' used as Republican and might also be running for representative and some people take that for representative and kind of miss the point that they might be Republican when it is down in the fine print like that. So long as it is clearly designated and it is easily seen but does not have to be of a larger size or as large as the candidate's type. That was not my intent."

Senator Guess: "A particular ad that we were concerned about had the man's name in approximately six inch high letters. The fact that he was a Republican was done in very thin type, not bold type at all and it was less than three-quarters of an inch high and sitting in the automobile and looking at the sign on the side of the road, it just looked like a blur to me down there at the bottom.

"This is the thing that the bill tried to address itself but does the bill go overboard or is it in balance now. This is what I would like . . . ."

Senator Odegaard: "I would hope that it would not be overboard and I am glad you asked the question to get this in the journal, the intent, that as long as it is reasonable and it is conspicuous and clear but not to be overboard and I would hope that the public disclosure commission would use good judgment in this matter."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Odegaard, in regards to lines 19 and 20 in which it states 'all political advertising whether relating to a candidate or ballot proposition'.

Does this mean on the outside of envelopes that you mail you have to have the party designation?"

Senator Odegaard: "I would think not, Senator Bluechel. The intent was not to include the envelopes but on the contents in the envelope."

The motion by Senator Pullen carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Wilson, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 2, line 6, before "political" insert "single piece of".

On motion of Senator Woody, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2865 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gould: "Senator Odegaard, I recall in the last campaign if someone had three or four pieces of material together in an envelope and mailed that out that if you had the name and address of the committee on one of the pieces of information that that was sufficient, at least that was the understanding I had. Does this mean that everything that is on a separate sheet of paper that is mailed out in one mailing must still have the name and address of the campaign or campaign manager?"

Senator Odegaard: "I would think, Senator Gould, that this would be whatever would be considered a reasonable kind of effort made by that campaign committee so that it is designated whoever received that in the envelope would know."

Senator Gould: "If I could ask another question then. How does this change the current law in that respect?"

Senator Odegaard: "The current law states, for example, the party designation should be clearly stated. It says nothing that it be conspicuously stated. Also it changes the penalty section away from the present criminal offense to a civil penalty through the PDC."

Senator Gould: "I am talking about line 19, subsection (2) . . . 'all political advertising' and so forth. . . . 'shall identify the candidate's political committee and giving name and address'. This is new language."

Senator Odegaard: "You are asking how that is in present law?"

Senator Gould: "Yes. How that differentiates from what we now have."

Senator Odegaard: "This is a substitute bill and maybe I could refer to the chairman of the committee as they studied that matter and could better answer that question."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOODY

Senator Woody: "In response to Senator Gould's question. The intent of our substitute bill was not to change the existing law in that regard. Of course, what we are doing is putting the decision-making and the enforcement authority concerning political advertising and what will and will not be acceptable within the confines of the law within the public disclosure commission so some of these kinds of decisions could be made by the public disclosure commission but if you are asking a question of intent, currently if you have one piece of literature in an envelope which is clearly designated as to party affiliation and you have also included several other pieces of material in the same envelope, you have been deemed to have conformed with the rules of the law so that would be fine. You could stipulate on one piece of an enclosure and not so on the others."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Morrison: "Senator Woody, in the new language in the bill on page 1, you provide that all political advertising shall include the name and so forth of the committee. Then there is a proviso that 'political signs need identify only the candidate and the party.' I am wondering what sort of signs you had in mind. Signs, I presume, include billboards, signs of all sizes."

Senator Woody: "We are talking most specifically in our committee discussion on this subject, we were talking about yard signs. The dimensions of the yard signs were not specifically stipulated."

Senator Morrison: "This doesn't say yard signs. I am a little concerned about the billboard and other things that could be construed as signs but in fact there is no identification of the office being sought or the committee paying for those signs."

Senator Woody: "You are correct. Currently in law nowhere is there the provision that the office sought must be identified."

Senator Morrison: "As far as you are concerned, the language of the bill would allow signs then of any size including billboards not to identify the sponsoring committee?"

Senator Woody: "That is right. To identify only the candidate and the party affiliation and that is as the current law is and our bill would not change it in that area."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Quigg: "Senator Woody, that discussion just brought to mind a situation that I see could possibly affect me and maybe some others here. That has to do with the corporate name and the candidate's name being displayed prominently throughout the district for reasons other than political advertising. In other words, do you see any problems of any overlap there with this legislation and those people that may have large heavy equipment or something of that nature running around with their names on it having to write Republican or Democrat on the side of their dump truck, for example?"

Senator Woody: "That was not the intent of the bill. No, Senator Quigg."

Senator Quigg: "So it would have to be political advertising and intended solely for that purpose?"

Senator Woody: "Exactly so."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HENRY

Senator Henry: "Just a word of warning in answer to Senator Gould's question. Sometimes you incorporate a number of pieces of advertising literature in one envelope but also it is not beyond the realm of possibility you might pass some of those out individually. So as one who has been in political campaigns for forty years, I would suggest that anything you might pass out individually as well as incorporate into an envelope that you comply with this particular section of the law."

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2865, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 39; nays, 8; excused, 2.

On page 1, line 9 add a new section 1 to read as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds that high tides and hurricane force winds on February 13, 1979, caused conditions resulting in the catastrophic destruction of the Hood Canal bridge on state route 104, a state highway on the federal-aid system; and, as a consequence, the state of Washington has sustained a sudden and complete failure of a major segment of highway system with a disastrous impact on transportation services between the counties of Washington's Olympic peninsula and the remainder of the state. The governor has by proclamation found that these conditions constitute an emergency. To minimize the economic loss and hardship to residents of the Puget Sound and Olympic peninsula regions, it is the intent of this act to authorize the department of transportation to undertake immediately all necessary actions to restore interim transportation services across Hood Canal and Puget Sound and upon the Kitsap and Olympic peninsulas. The department of transportation is directed to proceed with such actions in an environmentally responsible manner that would meet the substantive objectives of the state environmental policy act and the shorelines management act, and shall report all such actions taken and planned to be taken to the director of ecology. The exemptions from the state environmental policy act and the shorelines management act contained in sections 2 and 3 of this 1979 act are intended to approve and ratify the timely actions of the department of transportation taken and to be taken to restore interim transportation services without procedural delays.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

On page 6, section 2 of the printed bill, line 24, after "(xi)" strike "The" and insert "Any action commenced prior to February 13, 1981, pertaining to the"

On page 6, section 2, line 29 after "traffic" and before the period, insert "PROVIDED, That within six months after the new or reconstructed Hood Canal bridge is open to traffic, the department of transportation shall remove all dolphins, wingwalls, barges and piers constructed or assembled at the temporary ferry terminals to provide interim transportation services across Hood Canal."

Senator Lysen objected.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Bottiger.

The motion carried.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Bottiger, on page 3, there is a new language that says 'no public utility district created after the effective date of this 1979 act shall include any other public utility district within its boundaries, PROVIDED, That this paragraph shall not alter, amend or modify provisions of chapter 54.32'. Could you tell us what the reason for that is and as you are answering that, I wonder, are you saying there cannot be a statewide . . . does this preclude a countywide PUD such as King county taking in Seattle City Light or is this intended to prevent the formation of a statewide utility district which would include all the state, or what is the intention of this particular provision?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator McDermott, as I understand it, the problem that arises is if you have a PUD district in existence and a new one is created, it could include that existing PUD district.

"Now I would have to candidly admit I did not hear a lot of testimony or discussion about that language other than the problem that arose when there was an existing PUD within the territory of a proposed new PUD. What do you do in that situation and nobody had an answer. So the solution they came up with said that the new PUD must exclude the territory in which the existing PUD has already been formed, which makes sense to me. We obviously don't want two sets of PUD lines running down the street and creating . . . I guess you would have a choice of who to serve, but we get back to the inefficiency of multiple utility service on a particular area."

Senator McDermott: "To go on with it then, and as I look at 54.32, it says it is consolidation and annexation . . . the right of a countywide utility district to acquire distribution properties and it seems as though you can acquire, and I do not understand why it should be written in here. Then you have a provision in the law which allows them to do precisely what it sounds like they are excluding. There must be some reason for that language that does not immediately meet the eye. I do not understand what it is."

Senator Bottiger: "From what you have told me on that other statute, I would presume then that it could go countywide with a new PUD like Metro, like a Metro situation, and include other small PUD's but not create one inside another or another that encompasses an existing one which would create the multiplicity of service."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, I had that section marked also that Senator McDermott was asking you about. I do not propose holding the bill up but I would think you should check that out. I can see cases where you might have a sewer district, a water district, which are not authorized under public utility districts; they may want to include all of it in one, as Senator McDermott has suggested. Now there probably is an explanation why this is in here but it may be doing more harm than what we anticipate. I would urge it be checked before the House passes it."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Rasmussen, I will see that the staff gets the full explanation. The history of it is that the private utilities came in with the first sentence. The public utilities said, 'We will agree to that if you will put the proviso in,' and it made sense to me when I was listening to them argue back and forth that that would be the case.

"Now the language says that a new PUD cannot surround or swallow up an existing one. 54.32 allows the expanding by merger or joining of other utilities, so you take several small ones and put them together, and the staff, which just handed me a note, reminds me that that was the argument that was being used when the PUD's wanted that proviso in there so that they could still consolidate."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "Senator von Reichbauer, how would the state of Washington have access to profits made, let us say from a movie made in California, if the crime were committed in the state of Washington? How do we have an arm long enough to reach for those profits to benefit the victims of crime in Washington?"

Senator von Reichbauer: "If, for example, we were to have a criminal in the state of Washington who committed his crime in the state or who was incarcerated in our jail system, the money that he might try to seek or his agent might seek would have to be put into this fund. Our arm extends, or course, as it would in any civil action of this nature. If the individual was arrested in the state of Washington, he was incarcerated in the state prison system, either in the appeal process or had been convicted, he could not receive any funds for his crime. Now we have no effect, obviously if the gentleman is in San Quentin or in any other state prison, but if the crime was committed here and he was involved in our prison system, we have control over that fund, and that fund would be restricted by the department of labor and industries."

On page 2, after line 27, insert

"(2) Prior to commencement of construction the contractor or excavator shall provide notice of such scheduled commencement to all affected utilities either collectively through a one-number locater service where available or individually. Such notice shall provide sufficient lead time to allow the utilities to physically mark the locations of the underground utility facilities at the construction site, but in no event shall such notice be communicated to the affected utilities less than forty-eight hours prior to the scheduled date for commencement of construction."

Renumber subsequent subsection consecutively.

Senator Quigg moved the following amendments be considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 3, line 19 after "utility facilities" insert "and as a result of a failure to exercise reasonable care"

On page 3, lines 20 and 21, strike "and with a knowing, wilful disregard for the existence and location of those facilities"

On page 3, line 22, strike "triple" and insert "treble"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Quigg, how do you enforce this treble damages? Are you required to go to court to get the judgment?"

Senator Quigg: "Yes, sir, I imagine, particularly in your case in Tacoma right now, in your neck of the woods anyway, there is a case where the city of Tacoma, using information it got, I believe from the gas company, mislocated a line on their location in the street and the offset was exactly the opposite of what was shown on the marking. The contractor went to make an excavation in a clear area for another line and ended up digging up an existing line, hitting it right dead on, causing an interruption in service and causing the contractor and the city to both back off from the project, and compounding that service interruption, while the litigation began to find out just who was responsible for the dig up.

"I think that probably in your neck of the woods indicates as well as any the need for this kind of legislation that would make a contractor very, very careful, and also the person laying out that work could see that the work was laid out as best as possible and then executed with the best care that they can provide so that those dig ups be avoided and that service be maintained."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you."

The motion by Senator Quigg carried and the amendments were adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Senator Quigg, with respect to the amendment, the forty-eight hour notice amendment. The wording, it would appear to me, would permit a careless contractor to notify the utility late Friday afternoon. The forty-eight hours would extend over Saturday and Sunday, and Monday morning he could be at work."

Senator Quigg: "The present provisions are for a twenty-four hour notice and this extends that time out. I might also add, Senator Wilson, that this legislation would provide a pre-construction conference with the owner and the utilities people, so you are talking about a much more thorough pre-construction notification system than we are operating under now and that contractor, should he attempt to begin work beforehand and use this kind of a device that you are talking about to dig up utilities, I think he would find himself certainly not exercising reasonable care, if that was his intent to dig up the facilities. I would think he would be in deep trouble."

Senator Wilson: "You don't see any problem with that?"

Senator Quigg: "I see no problem with that."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Quigg, I am worried about the possible impact of this law on small cities and towns. What happens if a contractor fails to notify a city, for example, that he is going to dig in a certain area and then a utility line is dug up and damaged. What protection is there in here for the city and small towns?"

Senator Quigg: "Those protections are in the law presently. This does not speak to that situation where a contractor on his own digs up an underground utility. This law, for your situation, this is already in law and the contractor is responsible, so he is already in deep trouble at that stage presently."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GUESS

Senator Guess: "If I could add to that. Most all ordinances require that the permit be obtained and I do not know of any small town that already does not have the law that requires that the excavator has to get a permit, so I think it is taken in its stride."

On motion of Senator Quigg, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 3, after line 22, insert:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. The Washington State Utility Coordinating Council shall evaluate the effectiveness of the provisions of the act in carrying out the intent of the legislature and the Council shall report its findings along with any recommended amendments to the 1981 legislature."

Renummer subsequent sections consecutively.

On motion of Senator Quigg, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2666 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2676 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Rasmussen, I notice on the last page of the bill, page 5, there are some repealers. One of the repealers is 43.21H.030 which says, 'Nothing in this chapter shall in any way affect the specific statutory obligations of any agency: (1) To comply with environmental, social, health, safety, or other standards practice prescribed by law;'. Is there any part of this bill that is allowing state agencies to come out from under environmental impact statements or other parts of the law which affect the rest of the society?"

Senator Rasmussen: "No, Senator McDermott. If you will look on page 4, it specifically refers to it . . . 'an economic impact statement is required pursuant to current section 2 of this 1979 act'. This will make it part of the act that they have to give the economic impact along with the regular environmental impact that they file or a rule or regulation relating to that."

Senator McDermott: "Why are you repealing these particular sections of the law?"

Senator Rasmussen: "We are repealing the 1976 law and reinstituting it in this fashion. As you note that there are several new sections in here."

Senator McDermott: "It is a little bit hard to understand why we pass a law one year and then repeal it the next, isn't it?"

Senator Rasmussen: "1976 was some time ago."

Senator McDermott: "Oh yes, quite awhile ago. Yes."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOJAHN

Senator Wojahn: "Mr. President, in response to Senator McDermott, I think on your digest that is explained and there is a need for this bill because we cannot enforce the 1976 act because of an informal attorney general's decision and therefore this will plug that. It is a good bill."

Every loan or forbearance of money, goods, or thing in action shall bear interest at the rate of ((six)) eight percent per annum where no different rate is agreed to in writing between the parties. The discounting of commercial paper, where the borrower makes himself liable as maker, guarantor or indorser, shall be considered as a loan for the purposes of this ((act)) section."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Clarke: "Mr. President, the amendment may be perfectly all right but it is beyond the scope and object of this particular bill. I think this is an improper place. We have not had an opportunity to consider it. For that reason, I raise the question of scope and object."

RULING BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE HENRY

President Pro Tempore Henry: "The bill refers to time limits on judgments, when they will be effective. I see nothing in the bill that has anything to do with interest rates. Therefore, Senator Clarke, your Point of Order is well taken. The amendment is beyond the scope and object."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

On motion of Senator Lysen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2771 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Clarke, many times when a contractor has a contract and has prequalified with an agency, would this law in any way permit a person who is not actually involved in the administration of the contract to reveal the information to a party on the outside not a party to the contract?"

Senator Clarke: "Senator, I do not believe that that would be so because, number one, if under present law there is no requirement to disclose that information, the section I have just read specifically states that it will not change in any way the present law with respect to mandatory disclosure. And also, there is a provision in here which specifically provides that immunity under this section shall not apply to disclosure of trade secrets of a business entity. So I think the safeguards are pretty well included."

Senator Guess: "Thank you very much, Senator Clarke."

REMARKS BY SENATOR TALMADGE

Senator Talmadge: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I would concur in the remarks of Senator Clarke and point out an additional benefit to this bill. That is where many of us have had opportunities to discuss problems with various agencies with employees of those governmental agencies and this would provide an immunity against firing by those governmental agencies so that freer conversation with legislators could take place and I believe that is an additional benefit to this bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Henry: "Did I understand you to say that this immunity would apply to those who voluntarily gave information as to the breaking of a law?"

Senator Clarke: "That is my impression, yes. It says, a violation of any law, rule or regulation . . . so that if they voluntarily give that information it does not in any way obligate them so to do, but if they wish voluntarily to do so, they are relieved of civil liability as a result of such disclosure."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 2771, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; nays, 1; excused, 1.

My question is whether the judiciary committee requested such a note on this bill."

Senator Marsh: "No, the judiciary committee did not request a fiscal note on this bill. Senator Rasmussen, who is a well known conservative body, appeared before the committee and was very persuasive. He pleaded very eloquently the cause of jurors and the need to increase their compensation to twenty five dollars a day and we went along with his eloquence and plea.

"I think this is a bill that provides justice for those who have to serve as jurors and have the privilege of serving as jurors and I hope you will join us in supporting the bill."

Senator Day: "Yes, I believe that is the purpose of the bill. However, I could defer to Senator Hansen who is the prime sponsor and found the necessity for such a bill."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HANSEN

Senator Hansen: "At the present time it takes from thirty to sixty days for these cities and counties to go through vital statistics to get a death certificate or a birth certificate. The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Lysen moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Lysen and Fleming:

On page 1, line 13, after "January," strike "commonly known as Human Relations Day,"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Mr. President, perhaps the question is premature while we are discussing the amendment, but I would like to ask Senator Lysen if he could tell me what the fiscal impact of another holiday so shortly after the two weeks that the youngsters have been off for the Christmas holidays, if he has had a fiscal note to determine the price of having a day in the middle of January."

Senator Lysen: "Thank you, Senator Guess. I guess my response would be that I don't think you can make a fiscal note on the question of setting officially in the school holiday a symbol for young people of an American who has made a contribution."

Senator Guess: "You did not answer my question, Senator Lysen, I asked you a question of the fiscal note. You can separate emotions from fiscal. I am sure that anyone who has your acumen in the field of finance would certainly be able to tell me how much the cost of the teachers and the students being off from work and having to extend the school year by another day is going to be."

Senator Lysen: "Senator Guess, I have to humbly stand here and say that I don't measure up to yourself in that area. I would like to defer the question to Senator Fleming, however,"

Senator Guess: "Senator Fleming, could you tell me what the cost would be?"

Senator Fleming: "Senator Guess, I think we discussed this matter one other time several years ago when we passed this measure. This is a calendar shift in terms of one just as they are doing in Seattle when they had to be out of school because of the strike. They are making the day up, so it will be a shift of one day on the end of the school year rather than the day in January."

Senator Guess: "Senator Fleming, I would invite your attention to the copy . . . 390 in the manual . . ."

Senator Fleming: "I have it."

Senator Guess: "It says, beginning on line 10, 'the following are school holidays and the school shall not be taught these days'. Now it does not say anything about extending it. They do not extend the holidays for Washington's birthday, do they?"

Senator Fleming: "Senator Guess, the city of Seattle right now, and many of the parochial schools in Western Washington, have Martin Luther King's birthday as a school holiday. The school district of Seattle is still in attendance one hundred and eighty school days."

Senator Guess: "That is a different situation though, Senator. This says that schools shall not be taught on that day."

Senator Fleming: "It is not being taught on January 15 in the Seattle school district and they are still putting in one hundred and eighty days, none less or none more. That is what I am trying to explain to you. They are doing it presently now."

Senator Guess: "But that is their business. Here we are, we are dictating that they are going to have to put . . . I understand that Senator Donohue might have some figures on that."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Lysen: "I think that the discussion going on here is not pertinent to the amendment."

Senator Fleming: "Senator Guess, since I have the floor and was answering a question, it is my understanding with the school people, the WEA and others that are supporting this measure, that it would be handled the same way as it is in Seattle. It would not be any additional dollars. As a matter of fact, it might even save dollars because you will not have as much heat to use in June as you would in January."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DONOHUE

Senator Donohue: "Senator Fleming, that may be correct. I think, Senator Guess, the answer to the question would be, the way I read the bill, I believe that the law provides that we must have one hundred and eighty days of school. I think if you take away a day in January, you would have to add that day on. As far as teachers' salaries are concerned, they are paid on an annual basis, so I think the cost would probably be reflected mainly in maintenance and heat and that type of thing on that particular day."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling on the Point of Order presented by Senator Lysen, the President believes that the question is in order. Senator Guess, the President ruled that your question was in order."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Donohue, going on down into the bill, it says, 'PROVIDED, That no reduction from a teacher's time or salary shall be made by the reason of the fact that a school day happens to be on one of the days referred to in this section as a day which school shall not be taught'. All right. You are going to have to pay them then for that day."

Senator Donohue: "If I remember a previous discussion and I do not remember whether this was . . . it has been sometime ago, but I think I am correct in the fact that that teacher is being paid on an annual basis for so many working days. The money is distributed to him over a twelve-month period. So it would be my judgment, and I could be wrong, but it would be my judgment that he is going to be paid for one hundred and eighty working days whether it is one off in January or added on in June or July or whatever."

Senator Guess: "Senator, they are going to pay him but they are not going to teach. That is the point of my argument. I cannot remember how long ago it was that Mr. Lemon was here as the representative for the Spokane Chronicle and there was an amendment on the floor to put an extra holiday in for something else, I do not know what it was, and they went down and ran a fiscal note and it was going to cost about five million dollars and Mr. Lemon has been gone from here for about seven or eight years, so inflation, the cost is going to be at least ten million dollars."

REMARKS BY SENATOR FLEMING

Senator Fleming: "Senator Guess is good at doing this kind of thing and getting up on the floor and trying to run up a red flag. You are talking about a state holiday. Now if you want to change it and make a state holiday and the Senate is willing to go along with it, I will go along with you. But we are talking about a school holiday and the fact that you talked about, you stood up on this floor eight years ago and you mentioned that same thing and we corrected you then, that it was a state holiday that you were talking about and not a school holiday."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GASPARD

Senator Gaspard: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I would like to point out for Senator Guess that this law amends one section of the RCW's which relate to RCW 28A.02.061 which relates to school holidays. It has nothing to do with RCW 28A.01.020 which relates to the school year, and let me read that to you. 'The school year shall begin on the first day of September and end on the last day of August' and it has been amended since, so it will be strictly a calendar situation for local districts to negotiate."

The motion by Senator Lysen carried and the amendment by Senators Lysen and Fleming was adopted.

On motion of Senator McDermott, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2235 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Would Senator McDermott respond to a question, please?" Senator McDermott, as chairman of the Senate education committee and as a co-sponsor of this bill, could you help us clarify the proviso on line 23? My question concerns the one hundred and eighty day requirement. Will this bill result in one hundred and seventy-nine days or one hundred and eighty days as a teaching requirement?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Gaspard already referred to the section in the law which says the school year is required to be one hundred and eighty days and that the holidays are outside of that. This merely would mean a shift of one day back in the school year to be negotiated by the school board and teachers."

Senator Woody: "This would not require an additional day's holiday pay, since we are talking about an annual salary, right?"

Senator McDermott: "That is correct. Senator Donohue is correct. The teachers are paid on an annual salary and this does not require any additional pay. There will be no fiscal impact to this bill."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2235, and the bill failed to pass the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 22; nays, 23; absent or not voting, 2; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Bausch, Bottiger, Conner, Day, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Marsh, McDermott, Moore, North, Ridder, Shinpoch, Talley, Talmadge, Van Hollebeke, Vognild, Walgren, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, Woody—22.

Voting nay: Senators Benitz, Bluechel, Clarke, Donohue, Gallagher, Gould, Guess, Hansen, Jones, Lee, Lewis, Lysen, Matson, Morrison, Odegaard, Peterson, Pullen, Quigg, Rasmussen, Scott, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Wanamaker—23.

Absent or not voting: Senators Hayner, Henry—2.

Excused: Senators Keefe, Newschwander—2.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2235, having failed to receive the constitutional majority, was declared lost.

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator Lysen served notice that he would, at the proper time, move for reconsideration of the vote by which Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2235 failed to pass the Senate.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Walgren, the Senate commenced consideration of Senate Bill No. 2358.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2358, by Senators Woody, Jones, Wojahn, Clarke, Talmadge and Hayner: Standardizing election procedures for judicial office.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Woody, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2358 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2358 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Woody, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2358 was advanced to third reading; the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Senator Woody, as far as I can make out from the digest, justices of the supreme court and appeals court judges and so forth, if no more than one candidate has filed, then there will not be a primary and they will go directly on the general election. Is that correct?"

Senator Woody: "That is correct."

Senator Wilson: "Now with respect to the district court judges, if a candidate achieves a majority in the primary, then only that candidate's name appears on the general election ballot. My question is, does that aspect make this uniform with respect to the election of judges at other levels?"

Senator Woody: "Yes, it does, Senator Wilson, and that was the thrust of this bill, to create some judicial election uniformity."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Lewis, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2358, on third reading, was ordered held for further consideration following Senate Bill No. 2408.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2367, revising laws relating to use of certain areas for aquaculture (reported by Committee on Natural Resources):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

On motion of Senator Peterson, the committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Peterson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2367 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Peterson, there have been several bills before your committee, Senate Bill 2364 and House Bill 189 as a companion bill, that have to do with the dispute between DNR and the Kitsap county commissioners over the issuance of a clam dredging license at Agate Pass.

"I understand from reading this bill, I am not sure where these harbor areas are, so I would like you to tell us where it is that the department is considering issuing leases because I do not think that we ought to be involving ourselves in the business that is going on up in Kitsap county on this issue. I would like to be sure that this is not relative to that Kitsap county case which is before the hearing examiner of the shorelines hearing board."

Senator Peterson: "Senator, this excludes harbor lines. It does not take in harbor lines. It is exclusive of harbor lines, so in my judgment it would have no bearing. It is a separate issue. It is offshore of harbor lines."

Senator McDermott: "But I guess my question is, does this give them the ability to issue permits excluding any of the present state laws? For instance, SEPA or Shorelines Management Act? Does it reach beyond those laws or around those laws in any way?"

Senator Peterson: "Not to my knowledge. That was the purpose of the committee amendment. It goes into all navigable tidal waters but it does not go into harbor line area."

Relating to elections.

On motion of Senator Pullen, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2454 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2454 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Pullen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2454 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "Would Senator Pullen yield to a question? I think I really have two questions. The first one is, do the county officers or the county association members support this bill?"

Senator Pullen: "Yes."

Senator Goltz: "The second question is, is there a fiscal impact on local government relative to the increased responsibilities of county auditors and cities and towns?"

Senator Pullen: "If so, there would be a very minor one. I think Senator Lewis has a suggestion in that regard."

REMARKS BY SENATOR LEWIS

Senator Lewis: "Mr. President and Senator Goltz, I think the only fiscal impact would be the requirement was put in that registrars' locations be identified. And we left it up to local jurisdictions how they might identify, but that would be rather minimal, we suspect."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Senator, I missed part of the last exchange, but with respect to fiscal impact on local government, this bill deletes certain subsidies aimed at helping to convert systems, automatic voting systems, automated voter systems. Now, can you tell me what counties are being deprived of what funds under this provision in the bill?"

Senator Pullen: "Senator Wilson, you are talking about the subsidies to counties for the establishment of automated voter registration systems. None of them are deprived of funds because they have already been established in all the counties."

Senator Wilson: "Then why does it retain a subsidy for counties with less than 10,000 registered voters?"

Senator Pullen: "That is for maintenance, Senator Wilson."

Senator Wilson: "The larger counties will now pay for their maintenance but the smaller counties will be subsidized in that respect?"

Senator Pullen: "My understanding is that that is essentially correct, and as far as the larger counties are concerned, that it is no problem for them and that this was intended to be of some benefit to the smaller counties."

REMARKS BY SENATOR LEWIS

Senator Lewis: "Senator Wilson, just as a matter of reassurance, we had bipartisan work sessions with the counties' election officials in attendance and participating, as well as the secretary of state's office, and staff members, and the county officials and county auditor were in attendance and did agree these technical changes are minimal and they were very happy with them."

Establishing penalties for curfew violation by juveniles.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Marsh, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2495 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2495 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Odegaard: "With passage of the Substitute Senate Bill 2768, the major revisions in the juvenile code that we made now before the Governor for her signature, as I understand it, any child on the street in reasonable danger would be able to be picked up at any time. Any child that would be involved in disturbing the peace or any criminal activity that he might be involved in, he or she, that they could be picked up. I guess my question then is, is the setting of a specific hour for all to be off the streets necessary after passage of Senate Bill 2768?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Odegaard, the intent in introducing this bill, and in checking to make sure I was right with the chairman of the judiciary committee, this bill is not in conflict with the juvenile revision bill. This is a separate additional subject and what we are addressing here are curfews.

"We abolished curfews in the 1977 session and the purpose of the bill is to reintroduce them. Now the juvenile that is involved in some illegal activity at any time can be picked up. This bill allows a police officer to direct a juvenile to go home if they are abroad without permission of their parents, not in any . . . under age sixteen . . . and not with their guardian or without written permission, so I do not see that there is any conflict."

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2495 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Bottiger, I have a couple of questions about this bill, but the first one is, do you have some idea of what the fiscal impact of this is going to be?"

Senator Bottiger: "I do not believe there would be any fiscal impact. I think most of the kids under that age, if they know that the police officer is right, they will go home when he tells them to."

Senator McDermott: "So you are saying that there will be no fiscal impact to the county detention centers of this state by this bill?"

Senator Bottiger: "I cannot answer that, Senator. If kids refuse to obey police officers and are sent to detention centers, then there will be a fiscal impact, but I have got to presume that people will obey the law."

Senator McDermott: "My second question is, what would be acceptable proof of being over sixteen?"

Senator Bottiger: "I think that will have to be left to a case by case basis. Most kids are anxious to get their driver's licenses as soon as they are sixteen. If they do not have one, then they will have to have some other proof if they want to be out after these hours. And anybody who has a paper route and gets up before five o'clock and is out on the streets has to have in his pocket a note from his father or mother that he is a paper boy and that is the reason he is out."

Senator McDermott: "Senator, I do not know what time your paper boy comes in the morning but mine is there substantially after five."

Debate ensued.

REMARKS BY SENATOR ODEGAARD

Senator Odegaard: "Mr. President, I did not want to leave the implication with Senator Bottiger that I was for juveniles running around the streets after midnight, but I was concerned that there might be some conflict with the Senate Bill 2768 which we passed, because I thought that at any time any child on the street in reasonable danger could be picked up by police, and I would think that a child out after midnight under sixteen could be classified as being in reasonable danger. Senator Hayner says that is not true, the juvenile justice, that that was not included in that bill but I guess I still do not quite understand the difference."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HAYNER

Senator Hayner: "Mr. President and Senator Odegaard, they certainly could be picked up if in fact law enforcement felt that it was a runaway situation but that might not be the case, and I think this just works with the Juvenile Justice Act to reinforce it."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 2495, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bausch, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Conner, Day, Donohue, Fleming, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Gould, Guess, Hansen, Hayner, Henry, Jones, Lee, Lewis, Lysen, Marsh, Matson, McDermott, Moore, Morrison, Newschwander, North, Odegaard, Peterson, Pullen, Quigg, Rasmussen, Ridder, Scott, Sellar, Shinpoch, Talley, Talmadge, Van Hollebeke, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Walgren, Wanamaker, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, Woody—48.

Excused: Senator Keefe—1.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2495, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2727, By Senators Bausch, Clarke and Goltz (by Insurance Commissioner request):

Granting immunity to insurance companies which provide information on possible arson fires to investigating agencies.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Williams moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 3, line 26, insert:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. There is added to chapter 48.19 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) Every insurer shall make an experience-premium study on their records which collects data for at least the previous three years on premiums, losses, and reserves. This study is required only of insurers doing business with municipalities of the state and is limited to their experience with municipalities. The studies shall be made on a municipality by municipality basis.

(2) The data required under subsection (1) of this section and yearly supplements to the data shall be filed with the insurance commissioner at times determined by the commissioner. At the same time, the insurer shall send a copy of the data collected on an insured municipality to the insured municipality. The insurance commissioner shall compile such data and present it to the next session of the legislature.

This data may be made public, but the specific municipality to which the data refers shall only be available to the insurance commissioner, the legislature, and the specific municipality to which the data refers.

(3) As used in this section, "municipality" means each unit of local government, including cities and towns, counties, and special districts."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Clarke: "I raise the question of scope and object on the amendment. The bill is a very limited bill which was intended simply to assist in the prevention of arson. It has nothing whatsoever to do with premium records or anything of that nature, and I submit that the amendment is plainly beyond the scope and object of the bill."

At 1:55 p.m., there being no objection, the Senate was declared to be at ease. The President called the Senate to order at 2:12 p.m.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the Point of Order as raised by Senator Clarke, the President finds that Senate Bill 2727 is a measure which deals with reporting of destructive fires.

"The amendment proposed by Senator Williams deals with experience premium studies by insurers doing business with municipalities.

"The President therefore believes the amendment to be beyond the scope and object of the bill and the Point of Order as presented by Senator Clarke is well taken."

The amendment by Senator Williams was ruled out of order.

On motion of Senator Bausch, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 2727 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Is Senator Lysen's motion a suspension of the rules which takes a two-thirds vote?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In order for the measure to be considered today, it would take a two-thirds vote of the Senate to suspend the rules. The President believes that this should be handled in two motions in order to keep everything clarified in the minds of the members and the President's mind."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Walgren, further consideration of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2335 was postponed until Monday, April 2, 1979.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2532, by Committee on Social and Health Services (originally sponsored by Senator Day):

Relating to hospital districts.

The Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 2532. Earlier today, an amendment by Senators Jones, Fleming and McDermott was moved for adoption and a Point of Order was raised by Senator Guess on the amendment.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the Point of Order raised by Senator Guess, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 2532 is a measure which deals with the powers of public hospital districts.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Jones, Fleming and McDermott also deals with the powers of public hospital districts.

"The President therefore finds that the amendment does not expand the scope and object of the bill and that the Point of Order by Senator Guess is not well taken."

The amendment was ruled in order.

The motion by Senator Jones carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Day, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

In line 4 of the title after "70.44.060" and before the period insert "amending section 1, chapter 264, Laws of 1945 as amended by section 1, chapter 165, Laws of 1974 ex sess. and RCW 70.44.005; and creating a new section"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Walgren, there was a bill out here on aquaculture earlier and I asked some questions about the situation in Agate pass, which is between Kitsap county and . . . it is in Kitsap county in terms of the leases there. I wonder if section 2 that is here is intended to mean that after July 1, 1982, a lease that is in effect will no longer hold, or are you saying they cannot enter into any more leases after that point? Because it would seem to me that you could lease something on June 30 for the next twenty years at a particular rate and get around the provisions, if I do not understand this correctly."

Senator Walgren: "The intent of the bill, of course, is to limit the amount of money to six percent increase for new leases that would be entered into. That would come as a result of the reappraisal of the shorelines made by the department of natural resources which they now have to do under law at this particular time. I do not believe that it would have any affect upon negotiations made now and into the twenty years that you were talking about."

Senator McDermott: "So what you are saying is that if somebody wanted to get a favorable lease, they ought to get it between now and 1982 because at that point there may be a whole new policy. Is that what you are saying?"

Senator Walgren: "I certainly hope there are going to be some new policies in 1982 and that is the purpose of my suggestion for a joint committee or a select committee in the Senate to examine into those problems."

"I think that the department is substantially on the alert for any attempts along that way. I can assure you that the staff of both the department of natural resources and staff in the Senate have been working this problem substantially, and I might say that the department has responded to a lot of the concerns that we have had and tried to make some policy determinations, but they are well aware of the problem as it relates to leases and I certainly would be very much surprised if something as you suggest would occur."

Senator von Reichbauer: "It has no effect upon what they are doing in the State Register. We just feel that the language of the title of this bill, perhaps with a little amendment, which is the second amendment, will make sure that this proposed amendment, our first amendment, will qualify under the nature of this proposed bill.

"This proposal which has the unanimous support of the three commissioners on the pollution control board and the other agencies, is one brought about by a major concern that the cost that is being borne by the general public for the transcript of people who are appealing the action of the board.

"I know, I share your concern, Senator Rasmussen, with the high cost that the public would have to bear for these appeals. Moreover, if individuals who wish to appeal these actions of the agencies know that they will not have to pay for the transcripts, you can imagine how much the increase will be in terms of the individuals appealing the action of the pollution control board and other agencies."

"A couple of things came to mind and since I haven't read the bill itself and do not know the full import, I would like to know, first of all, does it apply to any religious ceremony that it would provide that they can use candles and would not have to come within other fire code regulations? Is that the idea? Is that one of the ideas?"

Senator Benitz: "Yes, the bill is very short and very simple and it just simply says that exempts hand-held lighted candles in religious ceremonies."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Now, many churches do that now. I used to light the candles myself and blow them out and I did all of those things I am concerned about and I held a lighted candle, I think over in the House ceremony commemorating the deceased members of the legislature. Do you know if it would apply to that ceremony? That was a religious ceremony."

Senator Benitz: "I feel it is a religious ceremony and if that is true it would exempt it at the present time unless the law is changed, I expect we have seen the last of those in the legislature."

Debate ensued.

On page 5, after line 15, strike all of section 4 and insert a new section as follows:

"Sec. 4. Section 11, chapter 337, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 88.16.155 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (~~The master of any vessel which employs a~~) Upon boarding a vessel for a pilotage assignment, every Washington licensed pilot shall certify on a form prescribed by the board of pilotage commissioners that the vessel complies with:

(a) Such provisions of the United States coast guard regulations governing the safety and navigation of vessels in United States waters, as codified in Title 33 of the code of federal regulations, as the board may prescribe; and

(b) The provisions of current international agreements governing the safety, radio equipment, and pollution of vessels and other matters as ratified by the United States Senate and prescribed by the board.

(2) The master of any vessel which employs a Washington licensed pilot shall be prepared to produce, and any Washington licensed pilot employed by a vessel shall request to see, certificates of the vessel which certify and indicate that the vessel complies with subsection (1) of this section and the rules of the board promulgated pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

(3) If the (~~master of a vessel which employs a~~) Washington licensed pilot cannot certify that the vessel complies with subsection (1) of this section and the rules of the board adopted pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the (~~master~~) pilot shall certify that:

(a) The master of the vessel has certified in writing to the board that the vessel will comply with subsection (1) of this section before the time the vessel is scheduled to leave the waters of Washington state; and

(b) The coast guard captain of the port was notified of the noncomplying items when they were determined; and

(c) The coast guard captain of the port has authorized the vessel to proceed under such conditions as prescribed by the coast guard pursuant to its authority under federal statutes and regulations.

(4) After the board has prescribed the form required under subsection (1) of this section, no Washington licensed pilot shall offer pilotage services to any vessel on which ~~((the master has failed to))~~ such pilot cannot make ((a)) the certification required by this section. If the ((master)) pilot fails to make a certification the pilot shall:

(a) Disembark from the vessel as soon as practicable; and

(b) Immediately inform the port captain of the conditions and circumstances by the best possible means; and

(c) Forward a written report to the board no later than twenty-four hours after disembarking from the vessel.

(5) Any Washington licensed pilot who offers pilotage services to a vessel on which the ~~((master))~~ pilot has failed to make a certification required by this section or the rules of the board adopted under this section shall be subject to RCW 88.16.150, as now or hereafter amended, and RCW 88.16.100, as now or hereafter amended.

(6) The board shall revise the requirements enumerated in this section as necessary to reflect changes in coast guard regulations, federal statutes, and international agreements. All actions of the board under this section shall comply with chapters 34.04 and 42.30 RCW. The board shall prescribe the time of and method for retention of forms which have been signed by the ~~((master))~~ pilot of a vessel in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(7) This section shall not apply to the movement of dead ships. The board shall prescribe pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, after consultation with the coast guard and interested persons, for the movement of dead ships and the certification process thereon."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Henry: "Senator Bottiger, you had a bill in the transportation committee, if I remember correctly, that you expected the pilots to certify whether or not the radio gear work was adequate. Does this do the same thing?"

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, it is a slightly different approach. What we are here asking the pilot to do is examine the master, as him, and then fill out the certificate for him so the pilot is signing off that the master represented to him that these safety devices were in good working order and that were available on the ship."

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, my question is similar to yours. Senator Bottiger, suppose a pilot asks this master and he says, 'Well, yes, everything is all right,' to the best of the ability, neither one of them can talk the language of the other one. Under this amendment as I read it, the pilot, if he says 'no' and they misunderstand each other, the pilot must disembark. What does the master of the ship do then, keep on going without a pilot?"

Senator Bottiger: "Oh, no, Senator. The pilot disembarks, notifies the Coast Guard. If you will look on the bottom of the handout, you will see the proposed pilot certificate, and I would suggest that the pilot can examine the radar which is right there on the deck, the gyrocompass, the rudder angle indicator, the fathom meter, the whistle, the magnetic compass and deviation tables, the wheelhouse and whether or not the wheelhouse is staffed by an officer or a helmsman, one of whom speaks English, he can ask them, and the local up-to-date charts and determine whether the wheelhouse is able to contact the engine room with communication. Now that is a pretty simple thing to do. I am sure not qualified to be a pilot but I think I could do that on my little boat or on a big ocean going tanker. If they don't do that, what do they do for their $80,000?"

Senator Rasmussen: "You asked me a question, Senator Bottiger. I was not satisfied with your answer, but supposedly they get that ship in safely to the best of their ability to the harbor wherever they may be going without running over any other ships. I am questioning whether what you are proposing here is practical."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, you and I come from an area where a ship came in that had all its vents painted shut and was waiting Los Angeles disaster and another ship got all the way to Anacortes refinery with no radios aboard. Now that pilot, I think, was in error in taking that ship. He should have notified the Coast Guard and got off and then that ship is now in violation of our standards and could not proceed further.

"I guess the question is, who do you want to do the checking to make sure that these vessels do not proceed into Washington waters unless they are safe."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Guess: "Mr. President, I will make the proper motion. I raise the question of scope and object on the amendment as presented by Senator Bottiger."

RULING BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE HENRY

President Pro Tempore Henry: "As much as I would like to buy your argument, Senator Guess, and dispose of this quickly. An act relating to pilotage amending the Laws of 35.77 etc., etc., I must find that it is within the scope and object of the bill. The question is now whether you want to adopt it or not."

The amendment was ruled in order.

The motion by Senator Bottiger was adopted on a rising vote.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

In the title, page 1, line 8, after "section" strike all down to the period and insert "11, chapter 337, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 88.16.155"

On motion of Senator Talley, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2108 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3118, the pending amendments by Senator Morrison and the Point of Order raised by Senator Bottiger.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the Point of Order raised by Senator Bottiger, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 3118 is a measure which revises state laws on elections.

"The amendments proposed by Senator Morrison also deals with the revision of state election laws. The President therefore finds that the proposed amendments do not expand the scope and object of the bill and that the Point of Order is not well taken."

The amendments were ruled in order.

Debate ensued.

Senator Peterson moved the amendments by Senator Morrison be laid upon the table.

Senator Lewis demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the motion by Senator Peterson that the amendments by Senator Morrison be laid upon the table.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. "Severability clause."

Remember the remaining section consecutively.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the following amendment to the amendment by Senator Woody was adopted:

After "Sec. 19." strike "Severability clause." and insert: "If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator North: "Senator Woody, if I am reading your amendment correctly, you would give any initiative petition that is in circulation only thirty days from the time at which the legislature adjourns in order to complete the gathering of the necessary number of signatures. Now if the legislature were to adjourn in April, April 20, 21, let's pick a date, that would mean the signatures would have to be completed, the drive would have to be over by May 20 or 21. Is that correct?"

Senator Woody: "That is correct, Senator North."

Debate ensued.

Senator Jones demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the amendment by Senator Woody as amended by Senator Bottiger.

ROLL CALL

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Guess, what is available if we use our common sense in the way of power generation. I am thinking possibly of two sites we have locked up on the Snake River for river rafting for some people and there is an additional site on the Columbia. What are those and what power generation would be available?"

Senator Guess: "Senator Rasmussen, I don't know exactly. I haven't taken the opportunity to sit down with the calculator and tell you exactly the untapped hydro potential. I have a feeling that the upstream and what is known as the high storage capabilities have not been utilized at all in the Columbia Basin system. There was a decided effort made in 1945 and 1946 to utilize the upstream storage as well as the downstream storage.

"At the time we were figuring on this, working in the Corps of Engineers down in Portland, Oregon, there was approximately 20 million acre feet of storage in the upper reaches of the Columbia Basin. They decided to go with the 20 million acres feet of storage in the Lower Basin plus the Canadian projects which have come on since that time but I would say that if we were to properly utilize the highest upstream storage, the remaining downstream storage and the pump storage, we could double the generating capacity that has been developed in the hydroelectric field in the state of Washington."

Senator Rasmussen: "What we have on line now could be doubled if we utilized all available resources."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator North: "Senator Gaspard, I see that there is an emergency clause on this bill. Could you explain to me the reason for this? The very last section."

Senator Gaspard deferred to Senator Bottiger.

Senator Bottiger: "Senator North, Seattle City Light and Tacoma City Light have been contracting with, I believe, the Kittitas irrigation district to put in that hundred megawatt plant that Senator Hansen mentioned to you and the sooner we get that on, I grant you it is only thirty, fifty days but the sooner they can begin construction on that the sooner we would have that capability on line. For that reason, it is an emergency. You and I have shared some figures that we will be talking about on energy day about how big the emergency is but the sooner this program could get in line the better off we would all be."

Senator North: "Okay. Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "Senator von Reichbauer, I notice that this bill establishes a reservation system. Now does that bill properly belong in the parks and recreation and if it goes to there, does that mean that you are going to be on a reservation after this bill goes through?"

Senator von Reichbauer: "If I go on a reservation and am allowed to fish like those on the reservation, I would be happy to go on a reservation."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Marsh, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3044, as amended, will be further considered following Senate Bill No. 2585.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Marsh, the Senate commenced consideration of Senate Bill No. 2585.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2585, by Senators Goltz, Clarke, Wilson and Lysen:

Continuing for two additional years the reciprocity program with British Columbia on tuition and fees in institutions of higher education including graduate students therein.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Goltz, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 2585 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Goltz, you are familiar with the enrollment at Western. What has been the experience up there on the number of Canadians we have registering at Western?"

Senator Goltz: "The number of Canadian students which have enrolled at Western has increased. I believe that the total number of full time Canadian students at Western is now 197 out of a total student body of 9,200 or something like that."

Senator Rasmussen: "The fee that we charge these students is the same as Western charges other students?"

Senator Goltz: "Yes, these students pay the residential fee for Washington students when they come to Washington, just as we pay the British Columbia fee when our students go there. It is true reciprocity in that sense.

"I think what we might want to do is to study in the next two years whether or not there is an uneven distribution between the two jurisdictions as the Oregon-Washington law provides. There would be a repayment for increased numbers from one jurisdiction to the other and I think that is something we ought to examine in the next two or three years."

Senator Rasmussen: "Further question. Do we extend this same reciprocity to Montana and Idaho?"

Senator Goltz: "We do not have reciprocity arrangements with any other jurisdiction now except Oregon, and that is a partial reciprocity involving only the counties along the Columbia river, on both sides of the Columbia river."

Senator Rasmussen: "And what you are now searching for for another two years is for more information?"

Senator Goltz: "That is correct."

Senator Rasmussen: "As to the students, you know the students in Washington but you do not know the number of our people who go up to Canada?"

Senator Goltz: "I think there are fewer U.S. students going to British Columbia universities than there are British Columbia students coming to Washington universities. I think that is quite clear but I think the exact numbers are unknown because in many cases a Washington student who takes residence in British Columbia giving his residence, they do not necessarily ask the question as to what his nationality is so I am not even sure they know how many of our students are in their universities."

Senator Rasmussen: "One more question. What is the difference between the resident and the nonresident tuition?"

Senator Goltz: "I am not sure. It is a substantial amount. I believe it is on the order of $1,000 a year."

REMARKS BY SENATOR NEWSCHWANDER

Senator Newschwander: "In answer, Senator Rasmussen, last week I heard Governor Ray make the statement that 357 Canadians come down to Western and I have heard two figures of 27 and 47 of our students go up there. So there is a difference of about 300 students, and what you look at what the state puts out above the tuition costs, you are looking at maybe several thousand dollars per student it is costing the state. Also, it is my understanding before we had this bill that British Columbia did not charge our students out-of-state tuition when they went up there so if that is true, it is a one-way street as far as I am concerned."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GOLTZ

Senator Goltz: "Mr. President, the point is that they do not charge an out-of-province tuition and we do not charge an out-of-state tuition for them, so reciprocity is on the same basis."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 2585, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 38; nays, 8; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Bausch, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Conner, Day, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Gould, Guess, Hansen, Hayner, Henry, Lee, Lewis, Lysen, Marsh, McDermott, Moore, Morrison, North, Odegaard, Peterson, Pullen, Quigg, Ridder, Shinpoch, Talley, Talmadge, Van Hollebeke, Vognild, Walgren, Wanamaker, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, Woody—38.

Voting nay: Senators Benitz, Jones, Matson, Newschwander, Rasmussen, Scott, Sellar, von Reichbauer—8.

Excused: Senators Donohue, Fleming, Keefe—3.

SENATE BILL NO. 2585, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3044, by Committee on Commerce (originally sponsored by Senator Van Hollebeke):

Relating to moorage.

The Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3044 as amended by Senator Van Hollebeke earlier today.

Senator Marsh moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, after line 18, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This chapter may be known and cited as the floating home landlord-tenant act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Every duty under this chapter and every act which must be performed as a condition precedent to the exercise of a right or remedy under this chapter imposes an obligation of good faith in its performance or enforcement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. For the purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Landlord" means the owner of a floating home moorage business and includes the agents of a landlord;

(2) "Floating home site" means a portion of a floating home moorage located over water designated or otherwise made available and intended by the owner as the moorage location of a floating structure, and its accessory buildings, constructed on a float or nonnavigable barge, the primary use of which is intended for the non-transient human habitation use of the occupants of the floating home. A navigable waterborne boat, ship, or vessel, regardless of size or propellant power, is not a floating home within the meaning and definition of floating home or accessory building(s) set forth in this chapter;

(3) "Floating home moorage" means any waterfront or wetland facility for the mooring, anchoring, or other securing of one or more floating homes, and the land and water premises on which the moorage is located, any portion of which is rented or held out for rent to others for the placement of one or more floating homes for the primary purpose of production of rental or moorage fee income to the lessor.

The definition of floating home moorage does not apply to those portions of real properties, waterfront, or wetland facilities used by a landlord for the placement of floating homes for the purpose of service, repair, storage without human habitation, use, or for day-to-day transient human habitation use for periods not to exceed thirty days of continuous duration where the transient day-to-day habitation is related to the purpose of service, repair, storage without human habitation use, or transient use;

(4) "Tenant" means any person, except a transient, who rents a floating home site;

(5) "Transient" means any person who rents a floating home site for a period of less than one month.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. This chapter regulates and determines legal rights, remedies, and obligations arising from any rental agreement between a landlord and a tenant regarding a floating home site. All such rental agreements shall be unenforceable to the extent of any conflict with any provision of this chapter. Chapter 59.12 RCW is applicable only in implementation of this chapter and not as an alternative remedy to this chapter, which shall be exclusive where applicable: PROVIDED, That RCW 59.12.090, 59.12.100, and 59.12.170 do not apply to any rental agreement included under this chapter. RCW 59.18.370 through 59.18.410 are applicable to any action of forcible entry or detainer or unlawful detainer arising from a tenancy under this chapter; and RCW 90.58.050 applies to floating home moorages and sites. Rentals of floating homes themselves are governed by the Residential Landlord-tenant Act, chapter 59.18 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) On and after September 30, 1979, no landlord may offer a floating home site for rent or moorage fee without offering to the prospective tenant a written rental agreement for a term of not less than one year. A prospective tenant who desires to occupy a floating home site for less than a term of one year or more may have the option to be on a month-to-month oral or written lease basis but must waive, in writing, the right to such one year or more term. Except pursuant to such waiver, no landlord shall allow a floating home to be moved into a floating home moorage in this state until a written rental or moorage fee agreement has been signed by the landlord and the tenant and a copy provided the tenant: PROVIDED, That if the landlord allows the tenant to move his or her floating home into a floating home moorage and a written rental or mortgage fee agreement has not been executed by the parties or the rental agreement or moorage agreement is silent as to the length of the term and no written waiver of the one-year term requirement has been executed, the term will be presumed to be for one year from the date of occupancy of the moorage site.

(2) The requirements of subsection (1) of this section do not apply if:

(a) The respective floating home moorage or respective part thereof has been acquired or is under imminent threat of condemnation for a public works project;

(b) An employer-employee relationship exists between the landlord and tenant; or

provided in subsection (1) of this section if the landlord during any such monthly tenancy acquires or is devised a fee or leasehold interest in the floating home moorage; whereby from the date of the acquisition or devise the landlord's fee or leasehold interest would enable a rental or moorage for a term of not less than one year.

(3) This section applies to any floating home site tenancy in existence prior to September 30, 1979, upon expiration of the term of any oral or written rental agreement governing the tenancy.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) Any rental agreement executed between the landlord and tenant shall contain:

(a) The terms for the payment of rent, including time, place, and person within the county of the floating home moorage to whom the rent or moorage fee shall be delivered, and any additional charges to be paid by the tenant. Additional charges that occur less frequently than monthly shall be itemized when billed to the tenant;

(b) Reasonable rules for applicable land or water guest parking or guest moorage, which shall be clearly stated;

(c) The rules and regulations of the floating home moorage;

(d) The name and address of the person who is the landlord. If the person does not reside in the county where the floating home moorage is located, there shall also be designated by name and address a person who resides in the county where the floating home moorage is located who is authorized to act as agent for the purposes of service of notice and process. If no designation is so made of a person to act as agent, then the person who is named by the landlord to whom rental payments are to be made or delivered within the county of the moorage shall be considered the agent; and

(e) The terms and conditions under which any deposit or portion thereof may be withheld by the landlord upon termination of the rental agreement if any moneys are paid to the landlord by the tenant as a deposit or as security for performance of the tenant's obligations in the rental agreement.

(2) Any rental agreement executed between the landlord and tenant shall not contain:

(a) Any provision which allows the landlord to charge a fee for guest parking or guest boat moorage unless a violation of the rules for guest parking or boat moorage occurs: PROVIDED, That a fee may be charged for guest parking or boat moorage which covers an extended period of time of twelve hours or more as defined in the rental agreement;

(b) Any provision which authorizes the towing or impounding of a vehicle or boat except upon notice to the owner thereof or the tenant whose guest is the owner or user of the vehicle or boat. "Vehicle" includes an automobile, truck, tractor, whether of the wheel or crawler type, and aircraft;

(c) Any provision which allows the landlord to increase the rent or alter the due date for rent payment during the term of the rental agreement: PROVIDED, That a rental agreement may include an escalation clause for a pro rata share of any increase in the floating home moorage's real property taxes or utility assessments or charges, over the base taxes or utility assessments or charges of the year in which the rental agreement took effect, if the clause also provides for a pro rata reduction in rent or other charges in the event of a reduction in real property taxes or utility assessments or charges, below the base year;

(d) Any provision by which the tenant agrees to waive or forego rights or remedies under this chapter; or

(e) Any provision allowing the landlord to charge an "entrance fee" or an "exit fee."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A landlord shall not:

(1) Deny any tenant the right to sell the tenant's floating home within a moorage or require the removal of the floating home from the moorage solely because of the sale thereof: PROVIDED, That:

(a) A rental agreement for a fixed term shall be assignable by the tenant to any person to whom the tenant sells or transfers title to the floating home, subject to the approval of the landlord after fifteen days' written notice to the landlord of such intended assignment and the landlord's right to require guarantee of the tenant for the balance of rentals or moorage fees to the end of the assigned term;

(b) The assignee of the rental agreement shall assume all the duties and obligations of the assignor for the remainder of the term of the rental agreement unless, by mutual agreement, a new rental agreement is entered into with the landlord; and

(c) The landlord shall approve or disapprove of the assignment of a rental agreement on the same basis that the landlord approves or disapproves of any new tenant; or

(2) Restrict the tenant's freedom of choice in purchasing goods or services but may reserve the right to approve or disapprove any exterior structural improvements to the floating home or to the floating home moorage site: PROVIDED, That door-to-door solicitation in the floating home moorage may be restricted in the rental agreement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Tenancy during the term of a rental agreement may be terminated by the landlord only for one or more the of following reasons:

(1) Substantial or repeated violation of the rules of the floating home moorage as established by the landlord at the inception of the tenancy or as assumed subsequently with the consent of the tenant. The tenant shall be given written notice of a fifteen-day period in which to comply or vacate. In the case of periodic rather than continuous violation, the notice shall specify that the same violation repeated shall result in termination;

(2) Nonpayment of rent or other charges specified in the rental agreement, upon five days written notice to pay rent and/or other charges or to vacate;

(3) Conviction of the tenant of a crime, commission of which has threatened or interfered with the health, safety, or welfare of the other floating home moorage tenants. The tenant shall be given written notice of a fifteen-day period following conviction, whether appealed, in which to vacate;

(4) Failure of the tenant, after receiving written notice of objection from the landlord, to abate a nuisance for which tenant or tenant's household members or guests are responsible in or about tenant's moorage site, causing substantial damage to the moorage property, or substantially interfering with the quiet and peaceful possession, safety, and enjoyment of other tenants and their properties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) Unless otherwise agreed, rental agreements shall be for a term of not less than one year. Any rental agreement for a term of one year and any rental agreement renewed for a six-month term shall be automatically renewed for one additional six-month term unless:

(a) Otherwise specified in the original written rental agreement; or

(b) The landlord notifies the tenant in writing three months prior to the expiration of the rental agreement or of any rental agreement renewed for a six-month term that it will not be renewed or will be renewed only with the changes contained in the notice.

A tenant shall notify the landlord in writing one month prior to the expiration of a rental agreement of an intention not to renew.

(2) Except as in this chapter provided for payment of rent or moorage fee, the tenant may otherwise terminate the rental agreement upon thirty days written notice whenever a change in the location, of not less than twenty miles ground distance each way from the leased site, of the tenant's employment requires a change in the tenant's residence, and shall not be liable for rental following the termination unless after due diligence and reasonable effort the landlord is not able to rent the floating home site at a fair rental or moorage fee. Unless otherwise defined in the rental agreement, fair rental or moorage fee as used in this subsection may not be less than eighty percent nor more than one hundred percent of the rental or moorage fee specified in the terminated agreement. If the landlord is not able to so rent the site, the tenant shall remain liable for the rental specified in the rental agreement until the site is rented or the original term or renewal thereof ends.

(3) Any tenant who is a member of the armed forces may terminate a rental agreement and payment of rent from date of vacating the site with less than thirty days notice if the tenant receives change of duty station orders which do not allow greater notice.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Structural or affixed moorage improvements, purchased and installed by a tenant on a floating home site, shall remain the property of the landlord and may not be removed or disposed of by the tenant prior to or at termination of the tenancy unless otherwise agreed to by the landlord: PROVIDED, That a tenant shall leave the floating home site in substantially the same or better condition than upon taking possession.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. In any action arising out of this chapter, the prevailing party shall be entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Venue for any action arising under this chapter shall be in the district or superior court of the county in which the floating home site is located.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. The provisions of this chapter shall not be construed so as to preempt any local ordinance which is not inconsistent with this chapter.

Sec. 15. Section 5, chapter 279, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 59.20.050 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) On and after September 21, 1977, no landlord may offer a mobile home lot for rent without offering to a prospective tenant a written rental agreement for a term of one year or more. A prospective tenant who desires to occupy a mobile home lot for other than a term of one year or more may have the option to be on a month to month basis but must waive, in writing, the right to such one year or more term. Except pursuant to such waiver, no landlord shall allow a mobile home to be moved into a mobile home park in this state until a written rental agreement has been signed by the landlord and the tenant and a copy provided for the tenant(;;): PROVIDED, That if the landlord allows the tenant to move his or her mobile home into a mobile home lot and a written rental agreement has not been executed by the parties or the rental agreement is silent as to the length of term and no written waiver of the one year term requirement has been executed, the term will be presumed to be for one year from the date of occupancy of the mobile home lot.

(2) The requirements of subsection (1) of this section shall not apply if:

- (a) The mobile home park or part thereof has been acquired or is under imminent threat of condemnation for a public works project, or
- (b) An employer-employee relationship exists between a landlord and tenant(;;).

(3) The provisions of this section shall apply to any tenancy in existence prior to September 21, 1977, upon expiration of the term of any oral or written rental agreement governing such tenancy.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. Sections 2 through 14 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 59 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "Senator Marsh, I note on page 12, section 13 does relate to mobile homes and as I recall the Mobile Home Act was a rather hotly debated issue. I do not recall whether there was any particular hearing on this section. In other words, it relates not only to these floating mobile homes but also you do amend the Mobile Home Act itself in section 14."

Senator Marsh: "I believe section 14 does not do as you state, Senator."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DAY

Senator Day: "I believe that Senator Clarke meant section 15 in that question, Senator Marsh. Section 14 is a new section. Section 15 is an amendment to the existing code relative to mobile homes and the substantive changes are on page 13 underlined, provided."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HAYNER

Senator Hayner: "Mr. President, I think maybe I could clarify that. We had a problem arise. It is true that this section on page 13 of the bill, this does deal with amending the Mobile Home Act and the reason for that is that we did not put any teeth into the Mobile Home Act as far as what would happen if the landlord of the lot did not offer a one year lease to the mobile home owners and they went to court and what happens? There were not teeth in it. So what this says, that if the landlord allows the tenant to move his mobile home into the mobile home lot and a written agreement has not been executed by the parties or the rental agreement is silent, then it will be assumed that there is a one year lease.

"I think that this clarifies and puts some teeth into the law as was indicated that it was necessary by one of the judges before whom this issue arose. I think we have just taken care of that."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Marsh, if a local jurisdiction such as a municipality has a stronger ordinance affecting floating homes, would this bill in any way preempt that local ordinance?"

Senator Marsh: "No, it would not, Senator. Section 14 specifically provides as follows: 'The provisions of this chapter shall not be construed so as to preempt any local ordinance which is not inconsistent with this chapter.' So the answer is no."

Senator McDermott: "Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Marsh carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Marsh, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

On page 1, on line 1 of the title, after "moorage;" insert "amending section 5, chapter 279, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 59.20.050; adding a new chapter to Title 59 RCW;"

On motion of Senator Van Hollebeke, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3044 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Quigg: "Senator Van Hollebeke, do you feel it is the intention of the bill to cause leases to be taken out by people involved in the marine construction for barges that might be moored for that purpose and involved in that activity?"

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Definitely the intention of the bill. The department of natural resources said they need the bill. They have also, incidentally, assured me that recreational vessels will not be affected by any action they will take. The Coast Guard, the Army Corps of Engineers, and so forth have all been advised of what we are doing. Nobody has raised any objections."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Marsh, a new section on page 8 . . . 'the landlord shall not deny any tenant the right to sell or to require the removal of a floating home from the moorage solely because of the sale'. The fact that a sale has been made does not give the landlord any right, but if the new purchaser of the floating home became an undesirable tenant by reason of poor upkeep and so forth, would the landlord then be allowed to require removal?"

Senator Marsh: "The landlord would if there were violations of the rules for the floating home moorage and certainly there is a provision at the end of the tenancy, the one year period or if it is on a six month extension or if it is on the month to month basis, at the end of the tenancy he would have the right to remove them without cause or cause."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Van Hollebeke, I am wondering, you spoke of a barge remaining in a fixed position thirty days or more. Does this same provision apply in Puget Sound?"

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Senator, I think the best answer I can give to your question is that all such questions have been resolved in the minds of the governing authorities that I have mentioned, the United States Coast Guard, the department of natural resources, the Corps of Engineers. They see no interference because of this in normal operation, commercial operation or recreational use of those waters."

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator, I am thinking of the port of Tacoma, off of the port of Tacoma, where frequently vessels are anchored for periods longer than that due to a shortage of cargo, not having any use for the particular ship at that time."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "I think I can answer the question you are getting to. It is a legitimate concern. The first four amendments we adopted were presented to me by a representative of the Washington Port Association. They feel that by amending the bill as we did they have everything necessary to continue operation as usual."

Senator Rasmussen: "Your answer is then that no, the department of natural resources would not be able to charge for vessels anchored in any navigable waters?"

Senator Van Hollebeke: "They would not do so."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you. With that answer, Senator Van Hollebeke, you have cleared up the matter if that is the intent of this legislation because Lake Washington is navigable waters and it would be the same as Puget Sound."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator, I want to apologize. I was off the floor trying to work on a nursing home problem and I was not in at the time that the amendment was adopted.

"It appears to me that we have adopted an amendment that has two parts which would be patently unconstitutional. This has to do with . . . 'this chapter shall be known as the floating home landlord tenant act' and yet in the back of the amendment we address the problem of the mobile home can be pulled into a park.

"Now it seems to me that, I think that everybody on this floor ought to be aware that we are actually committing an unconstitutional act where we say that if the landlord allows a tenant to move his or her mobile home into a mobile home lot with a written agreement and so forth. Would you care to comment on the procedure?"

Senator Van Hollebeke: "My chief counsel in this matter, the eminent attorney Senator Dan Marsh, I think drafted the title amendment, the new title amendment that was offered. I would certainly like to have it clarified. The title amendment ought to read to cover the subjects. We are talking about moorage of vessels, whether they have wheels or float."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MARSH

Senator Marsh: "Senator Guess, I believe all the sections relate to tenancies. It is true that one is a floating home tenancy and the other one is a mobile home tenancy, but I would just point out if what you state is really a problem, new section 17 is a severability clause so I think the court could hold that section 15 possibly would be unconstitutional or beyond the scope of the title if it agreed with your position, and still uphold the remainder of the bill relating to moorages and moorage floating home site tenancies."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GUESS

Senator Guess: "Senator, I was taught by my peers when I came into this body that you do not fly in the face of the constitutionality when it is as clear as this one appears to be. The Constitution is explicit that a bill shall have on subject, the subject shall be reflected in the title of the bill and here we are, we are confusing the code reviser at best and at worst we are committing an unconstitutional act and the status of the bill is before us on third reading and I would just like to point that out to the body."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3044 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 37; nays, 8; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 3.

"The superintendent shall determine the vehicle acquisition allocation in the following manner:

(1) By June 1st of each year, the superintendent shall develop preliminary categories of student transportation vehicles to ensure adequate student transportation fleets for districts. The categories shall include, but not be limited to, variables such as vehicle capacity, type of chassis, type of fuel, engine and body type, special equipment and life of vehicle. Such categories shall be developed in conjunction with the local districts and shall be applicable to the following school year. The categories shall be designed to produce minimum long range operating costs, including costs of equipment and all costs incurred in operating it. Each category description shall include the estimated state-determined purchase price, which shall be based on the anticipated market price. By July 15th of each year, the superintendent shall notify districts of the preliminary vehicle categories and state-determined purchase price for the ensuing school year. By October 15th of each year, the superintendent shall finalize the categories and the associated state determined purchase price and shall notify districts of any changes: PROVIDED, That while it is the responsibility of each district to select each student transportation vehicle to be purchased by the district, each district shall be reimbursed a sum equal only to the amount of the state-determined purchase price and inflation as recognized by the depreciation schedule established in this section as set by the superintendent for the category of vehicle purchased: PROVIDED FURTHER, That in event the vehicular requirements of the district, for reasons of safety, or in the interests of minimum long term operating costs, are not satisfied by the categories established by the superintendent, the district may petition the superintendent for the inclusion of additional equipment or specifications, setting forth the costs thereof, beyond those contemplated by categories of the superintendent, and if, in the opinion of the superintendent, the additional equipment or specifications are necessary for adequate safety or will reduce long term operating costs, including capital costs, the additional costs of such equipment may be included in the state-determined purchase price: PROVIDED FURTHER, That if after receiving competitive bids on a vehicle the lowest acceptable bid is in excess of the state-determined purchase price, the district may petition the superintendent to increase the state-determined purchase price for the category of vehicle for that district.

(2) The superintendent shall annually develop a depreciation schedule to reimburse districts for the cost of student transportation vehicles purchased during that school year. The schedule shall be written on the basis of the categories of student transportation vehicles, the state-determined purchase price and the anticipated life of the vehicles, and shall include factors recognizing inflation and the cost of depreciation to districts contracting with public or private carriers for student transportation services."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Wilson, Senator Talley was excused.

Senator Talmadge moved the following amendments be considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 1, line 19, after "residential" insert "or business"

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Talmadge failed and the amendments were not adopted.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 120 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Bottiger, one of the things in the caucus that we were undecided and I did not get a satisfactory answer. It provides a constitutional amendment permitting any county, city or town or quasi-municipal corporation."

Senator Bottiger: "That is a PUD. Elmhurst Light and Water, mutuals, co-ops and PUD's and REA's are quasi-municipal corporation."

Senator Guess: "Okay, now another question. Is the PUD or would a PUD be able to purchase and then sell in the place of the lumber yard down the street, and would they be able to stock the insulating materials, the storm windows, and set up shops in direct competition to the person that you normally go to . . . on the South Hill, for instance, we have a lumber yard where I got my materials when I built, and would this put the PUD or a quasi-governmental agency in direct competition to the people that I normally would buy my lumber and insulation from?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Guess, the constitutional amendment, if it were not for the implementing bill that is necessary to make the constitutional amendment effective, conceivably could do that. In the states that we have looked at, Oregon in particular, and in the private utility functions, they have gone to private contractors. They will lend the money to you to provide the funds on a competitive bid basis to have a contractor do the program. That is the intent of the bill that goes with the constitutional amendment."

Senator Guess: "I suppose we will have to talk about the bill that goes with that but I think if we lay it out and get our questions before we do. On line 29, page 1 of 2976, it says that they may sell, rent, lease equipment or facilities for compensation or otherwise."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, if we get to the bill I would be more than willing to entertain an amendment to the bill. This is the same bill we passed again last year and no objections came up in committee as to the same language, but if you would like to tighten that down, I would be more than willing to entertain that proposal. I would like to see the publics doing what the privates are doing."

Senator Guess: "But our feeling, at least my feeling in the caucus was that 120 will permit the PUD's to establish the stores to sell heat pumps, insulation, storm glass and things like that. Now if it could be tightened up where . . . you say 'purchase, install and sell or rent.' That bothers me a great deal. Now if you can convince me that . . ."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, at lunch let's you and I draft an amendment to the implementing bill because I obviously need the votes . . ."

MOTION

Senator Bottiger moved that Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 120 be held on third reading.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Marsh, the Senate commenced consideration of Senate Bill No. 2014.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2014, by Senator Rasmussen:
Regulating solar energy.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bottiger, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2014 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2014 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Wilson, Senator Hansen was excused.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2014 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Bottiger, you mentioned something that really hit me, that in the zoning you would require that there be a setback of thirty feet on the south side so that somebody could not put a house within thirty feet.

"I happen to sit in a residential area, fortunately, where the orientation is east and west so it would be no problem particularly there, but when you are in an area of development where the lots are running north and south, then this is going to mean if you have got a ten foot zone between your house and the lot line on the north side, then you are going to have to have a thirty-five foot setback on the south side?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Guess, this does not require anybody to do anything. In the plats that I looked at in New Mexico, the developers there had designed their development to protect solar rights. They did it on purpose and instead of using eight foot side yards like you and I are accustomed to, they made the side yard to the south thirty feet. Now that would be something a little unusual. I have never seen a Washington plat like that but they switched their lot size around. You and I would always think of seventy-five or one hundred foot frontage. They made the lot wider but not as deep and they did it for solar access. If a developer in Washington would like to use those kinds of ideas, this bill tells the local planning commission to at least consider it, and that is all it does."

Senator Guess: "If that is the explanation, then I think it is all right. Thank you."

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 541, updating the state building code (reported by Committee on State Government):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

On page 2, line 8, after "RCW 19.27.300." insert "The state building code advisory council shall report to the legislature by January 12, 1981, their recommendations for thermal and lighting performance and design standards for residential, commercial and industrial construction."

Signed by: Senators Rasmussen, Chairman; Shinpoch, Vice Chairman; Day, Gould, McDermott, Wanamaker.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 2, line 18, after "RCW." insert: "The state building code advisory council shall have authority to promulgate rules, pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, for the purpose of adopting a state-wide thermal efficiency and lighting code which complies with Title 10, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 420.35. Such code will take into account regional climatic conditions, shall take effect prior to June 30, 1980, and shall be presented to the senate and house committees on energy and utilities at the time it is proposed as a draft rule."

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 541, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

MOTIONS

Senator North moved that Substitute House Bill No. 541, as amended by the Senate, be held on third reading for Friday, April 6, 1979.

On motion of Senator Marsh, the Senate commenced consideration of Senate Bill No. 2980.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2980, by Senator Bottiger:

Relating to energy.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bottiger, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2980 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2980 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

Senator McDermott moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators McDermott, Quigg and Lysen:

On page 2, after line 32, insert the following:

"Sec. 2. Section 43.52.370, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 7, chapter 184, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 43.52.370 are each amended to read as follows:

The management and control of an operating agency shall be vested in a board of directors, herein sometimes referred to as the board. The legislative body of each member of an operating agency shall appoint a representative who may, at the discretion of the member and regardless of any charter or other provision to the contrary, be an officer or employee of the member, to serve on the board of the operating agency. In addition, the governor or the governor's designee shall serve without compensation on the board of directors of any operating agency comprised of ten or more public utility districts and two or more cities. Each representative shall have one vote and shall have, in addition thereto, one vote for each block of electric energy equal to ten percent of the total energy generated by the agency during the preceding year purchased by the member represented by such representative. The governor or the governor's designee shall serve as chairperson of the board and shall have one vote. Each member may appoint an alternative representative to serve in the absence or disability of its representative. Each representative shall serve at the pleasure of the member. The board of an operating agency shall elect from its members a president, vice president and secretary, who shall serve at the pleasure of the board. The president and secretary shall perform the same duties with respect to the operating agency as are provided by law for the president and secretary, respectively, of public utility districts, and such other duties as may be provided by motion, rule or resolution of the board. The board of an operating agency shall adopt rules for the conduct of its meetings and the carrying out of its business, and adopt an official seal. All proceedings of an operating agency shall be by motion or resolution and shall be recorded in the minute book which shall be a public record. A majority of the board members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. A majority of the votes which the members present are entitled to cast shall be necessary and sufficient to pass any motion or resolution: PROVIDED, That such board members are entitled to cast a majority of the votes of all members of the board. The members of the board of an operating agency may be compensated by such agency as is provided in RCW 43.52.290: PROVIDED, That the per diem compensation to any member shall not exceed five thousand dollars in any year."

Debate ensued.

Senator Guess moved that the amendment by Senators McDermott, Quigg and Lysen be laid upon the table.

The motion failed on a rising vote.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Senator McDermott, why do you feel it is necessary that the Governor's designee serve as chairman of this board? Now we have on the board an assembly of PUD commissioners and other locally selected officials and they may well have found among their number one person whom they think is most logically the chairman, who is the type of person who is knowledgeable and is able to keep the board working in harmony and by a majority vote these directors who really have the ultimate responsibility for all these plans have chosen this person to be their chairman.

"Now why do you think it is necessary then that Olympia should send somebody else in to serve as chairman and replace the person who had been selected by the directors, who bears a large share of the responsibility for the projects?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Wilson, I first of all must say I do not know who the chairman presently is. I have no personal feeling about any of the PUD commissioners who are on it. It was merely, I think, a statement by the legislature that we thought it was important enough to place the Governor or I would suppose she would pick the head of her energy office or somebody like that as her designee, to be the chairman. I do not think that it should be read as any kind of reflection on the members of that board, but it is rather a statement by the legislature that we want somebody there who represents the entire state."

MOTION

At 12:30 p.m., on motion of Senator Marsh, the Senate recessed until 1:30 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 1:30 p.m.

The Senate resumed consideration of the following bill:

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2980, by Committee on Energy and Utilities (originally sponsored by Senator Bottiger):

Relating to energy.

Prior to the noon recess, an amendment by Senators McDermott, Quigg and Lysen had been moved for adoption.

On motion of Senator Wilson, the following amendment to the amendment by Senators McDermott, Quigg and Lysen was adopted:

On page 2, line 2, after "designee" and before "shall have" on line 3, strike "shall serve as chairperson of the board and"

The motion by Senator McDermott failed and the amendment, as amended, was not adopted on a rising vote.

Senator Lysen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, after line 32 insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 43.52 RCW a new section to read as follows:

It shall be the duty of the Washington Public Power Supply System (WPPSS) and any other operating agency, to develop detailed plans and to submit such plans along with detailed operating reports of all joint enterprises to the legislature during each regular session. No project which has not been approved by the legislature shall have the participation of WPPSS or any other operating agency. On the effective date of this act, WPPSS and any other operating agency shall provide the legislature with information on its current bonded indebtedness and the estimated total indebtedness required to complete currently planned nuclear facilities. No further bonded indebtedness shall be incurred for the generation of energy based on nuclear fission, by WPPSS or any other operating agency, until the aggregate of all outstanding bonds is less than ten billion dollars or three-eighths of one percent of the aggregate of the value of the taxable property of the participating public utility districts and/or municipalities."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Lysen, my concern is, I think it was mentioned by Senator Benitz, in effect we would be telling these . . . the city of Tacoma, that has bought in a portion of these nuclear plants and Seattle, private utilities, that they would have to stop the projects if they exceeded this money amount?"

Senator Lysen: "Senator Rasmussen, what this requires, just let me comment on Senator Bottiger's comment. The three-eighths of one percent is already in statute and applies to the PUD's and municipals. They cannot go beyond that three-eighths of one percent of the total assessed valuation. WPPSS is outside that because it is a separate municipal corporation in which they participate.

"What I am doing is extending that rationale to the total as well as the individual parts of the joint operation agency. The $10 billion is the figure approximately where they are right now. I have not checked it. Maybe it is a billion one way or the other this week. It may have gone up another billion or two. What it says is that the legislature has to approve it and I would think if there is good reason and justification for the increases, which there are in many cases, we would approve it, and not be an obstructionist body, but if it is out of control and they do not justify what they are doing, then I think we should pull in on that purse string a little bit and make them toe the mark. There is nobody making them toe the mark right there. That is the problem. No elected officials. It is a giant public works project and everybody thinks there is no limit, the sky is the limit, and there is nobody there . . . like in private industry would be there controlling it. And that is the problem."

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Lysen failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

Senator Lysen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, after line 32 insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. In addition to any other powers and duties delegated under chapter 44.39 RCW, the joint committee on energy and utilities is hereby authorized and directed to review and investigate the structure, procedures, and policies of the Washington Public Power Supply System (WPPSS).

(1) For the purposes of this section only, the committee or any personnel acting under its direction shall have the authority to examine and inspect all properties, equipment, facilities, files, records, and accounts maintained or used by WPPSS; to administer oaths; to issue subpoenas; to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of any papers, books, accounts, documents, and testimony; and to cause the deposition of witnesses, either residing within or without the state, to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for taking depositions in civil actions in the superior courts.

In case of the failure of any person to comply with any subpoena issued in behalf of the committee, or on the refusal of any witness to testify to any matters regarding which he may be lawfully interrogated, it shall be the duty of the superior court of any county, or of the judge thereof, on application of the committee, to compel obedience by proceedings for contempt, as in the case of disobedience of the requirements of a subpoena issued from such court or a refusal to testify therein.

Each witness who appears before the committee by its order, other than a state official or employee, shall receive for his attendance the fees and mileage provided for witnesses in civil cases in courts of record, which shall be audited and paid upon the presentation of proper vouchers signed by such witness and approved by the chairman of the committee.

(2) The committee shall submit to the legislature at the next regular or special session a full and detailed report on its findings, including recommendations for legislation to assist WPPSS to efficiently supply the energy needed by its customers."

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Lysen failed and the amendment was not adopted.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the following amendments were considered and adopted simultaneously;

On page 1, line 20 delete ", engineering and":

On page 1, line 21 after "audits" insert "including design engineering analyses"

On page 1, line 30 strike "the net value of pending"

Senator Bottiger moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Bottiger and Odegaard:

On page 2, strike line 17 and "corporations," on line 18, and insert "44.28 RCW, the legislative budget committee"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis: "Senator Bottiger, as you have indicated, the state auditor has expressed some concern and I would appreciate it if you would address yourself to the question that I have related to duplication of auditing that would exist. If I understand it correctly, the state auditor still has to do his audit, and aren't we getting into a duplicate overlapping in part at least?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Lewis, Senator Shinpoch may also respond. I think the auditor is confused about what we are intending when we take him out of who this report is . . . I do not intend that he not do his dollar audit. It is not the purpose of the amendment to eliminate him from the dollar audit. The audit we are talking about is a management performance audit and the state auditor, to the best of my ability, has never got into that field before. I guess we are really talking about where we hire this high-priced person to check the performance audit material."

Senator Lewis: "Senator Bottiger, then do I understand that the independent auditor you are contemplating having do this service would not do the same fiscal audit or financial audit that the state auditor would do? Is that correct, he would not . . .?"

Senator Bottiger: "It was not my intent that he duplicate the state auditor's function of checking dollars."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Bottiger, as I see this now, you are substituting the state auditor and you are going to say that the legislative budget committee shall evaluate such management audits. Shouldn't you say 'management' and then take into consideration your amendment on the other side of the page and put the engineering audits in there, because by the previous amendment you already put 'including design and engineering analyses'?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Guess, I think to be super cautious we could do that but we refer to line 18, 'such management audits,' and when we go over to the preceding page we find 'management engineering analyses audits.' I do not think it is a problem."

Senator Guess: "By the fact that this is silent on the design engineering audits, somebody could not challenge you and say that you have got only the management audit to be taken into consideration?"

Senator Bottiger: "We are asking that independent auditor to submit this report in addition to the WPPSS Council, to the LBC and to the standing committees. It is that report and audit that we are talking about. I do not see the problem, Senator Guess. If you want to put 'design engineering analyses' . . . 'management and design engineering analyses' in there, I would have no objection."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis: "Senator Shinpoch, in fairness I think I should bring to the attention of the body one paragraph I would like to read from the letter from the office of the state auditor and have you respond to it if you would please."

"It is the next to the last paragraph which reads: 'The proposed amendment would establish a bad precedent of placing the LBC in an audit role of a local government which performs a purely proprietary or enterprise function as versus a governmental function.' Would you share with me your attitude about the LBC taking this new role?"

Senator Shinpoch: "Senator Lewis, relative to the LBC taking that role, their role is the performance audit. I think the more important thing and the thing that is not spoken of but is alluded to in that paragraph is for a number of years the elected state auditor, who does a good job in the financial area, has attempted to move into performance audits so that he could judge other elected officials' performance."

"I know that I have been one of those that has been active for a number of years of attempting to assure that we kept the state auditor doing fiscal audits, not performance audits. I think that the converse of this paragraph is that that would put the state auditor into judging other people's management, one elected official judging another elected official, and I think that that is probably wrong."

"The legislative budget committee, as you are aware, is a completely bipartisan joint committee of the House and Senate and they have been very diligent about staying out of politics. I think if you read the other side of that, that it is much more important than possibly this . . . I guess WPPSS you could call a local agency, but after we get through with the things that we have here today and they do affect us all over the state, it may not be near as local as it was after the bills that we pass after we get out of this session."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Did I understand Senator Bottiger, that you said that the state auditor is now required by law to audit and has been in and is doing auditing and blowing the whistle on some of the activities down there? He will still continue with this work?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Rasmussen, there is nothing in this bill that would in any way imply that Mr. Graham should not continue to do his fiscal audit. I cannot recall that he had anything to say wrong about WPPSS as far as dollar contracts are concerned."

Senator Rasmussen: "I think it was the disappearance of property and things down there."

Senator Bottiger: "That is right, Senator. There was some comment about theft on the site which, I am sure in all honesty, occurs on any building site."

Senator Rasmussen: "I would like to ask you one more question. In relation to this bill, if WPPSS says 'Phooey, we are not going to do it,' all you can do is request the siting committee remove the license?"

Senator Bottiger: "That would be a powerful request, Senator. Yes, I would say we probably could ask them to."

Senator Rasmussen: "But that is the only power you have under this legislation?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, that is a lot of power."

Senator Rasmussen: ". . . if they would do it, if they would remove the license."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Bottiger, we have not adopted the last amendment, right? I am getting ahead of you then. We put the LBC in in place of the state auditor and so the operating agency shall reimburse the LBC for all costs of furnishing such services. Isn't that somewhat of an open end book?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, I think Senator Odegaard made the comment the legislators that are elected govern and control that. If the LBC got out of hand and started running the bill way up, I am sure that the protest would be heard and the legislators involved would put an end to it."

Senator Guess: "If this is a government function, wouldn't it properly be the part of the state legislature to carry the cost of the LBC? I have never known a legislative body to be supported by a PUD or a private agency in this type of a manner. This seems to me to be highly irregular and not in keeping with the normal procedures. If we are doing this for the general good of the entire public, then I think that the state ought to pay the price of that and that line ought to be taken out entirely."

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the following amendments by Senators Bottiger and Odegaard were considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 2, lines 21 and 26 delete "state auditor" and insert "legislative budget committee".

On page 2, line 22, insert a period after "services" and delete the remainder of line 22 and all of lines 23 and 24.

On motion of Senator Guess, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 2, line 18, after "audits" insert "including design engineering analyses"

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2980 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Rasmussen, we have given, delegated to the LBC, a new series of powers here and I wonder if in your knowledge of the law, can you tell me whether or not the LBC has ever been given this type of a function and is it possible under the statutory language for the legislature to direct the LBC to take this far-reaching step without having further perfected the legislation that created the LBC?"

Senator Rasmussen: "I think that the state auditor is directed by law to do this. I do not think that there is any law that says that the LBC has the power to go into the private corporation. They can ask permission to review, and if they want, the private corporation wants to do that, or WPPSS, they can grant it to them. But we go further than that. We say that this private operating unit has to pay for that.

They do not have to pay for anything if they do not want to. They have their own separate operating board. City of Tacoma, City of Seattle, all the PUD's jointly. They are not going to agree to that."

ROLL CALL

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, this relates to machinery. It is not the intent that this would relieve any power company of taxes to put in turbine generators as a means of handling the peaking load?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, it has nothing to do with a power company. It has to do with a company not in the production of electricity, like Weyerhaeuser or somebody of that nature."

ROLL CALL

SENATE BILL NO. 2191.

MOTION

At 2:50 p.m., on motion of Senator Marsh, the Senate adjourned until 9:00 a.m., Friday, April 6, 1979.

Granting the power of eminent domain to certain energy facilities.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bottiger, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2494 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2494 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

Senator Odegaard moved the following amendments be considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 1, line 9, strike "energy facilities" and insert "transmission facilities and related facilities for the receipt and storage of crude petroleum or petroleum products"

On page 1, line 14, after "of" strike "energy" and insert "such"

On page 1, line 20, after "such" and before "facility" strike "energy"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator North: "Senator Odegaard, is the intent of this amendment to make it very clear that in no way would nuclear or thermal facilities be included?"

Senator Odegaard: "That is right, Senator North."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "In limiting it to the transmission facilities, would it affect the ability of the transmission pipeline company to build the docks that are necessary to land the oil?"

Senator Odegaard: "Senator Guess, I would not think so. I have worked with the Northern Tier Pipeline attorneys on this and I do not think they would have agreed to this if they thought there was a fear of that."

The motion by Senator Odegaard carried and the amendments were adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Wilson, Senator Henry was excused.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Bottiger, the language which we have just amended, in fact, that requires that all necessary expenses incurred in restoring such city street or county road to a suitable condition for travel and so on, the words 'necessary expenses', do you feel that that could also include the ability for the city or county to negotiate with the entity that is putting in the facility to actually do the restoration work itself in a single contract as is now done when you put in sewer lines and water lines and so on, because I know you have taken this work out of the telegraph utilities section?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Lee, I think that would be within the discretion of the county, the unit government involved, it might be a city, in their negotiations with the utility as to whether they would want it done by contract or the utility would include it in the contract that they have let with somebody else to restore the road. I think it could go either way."

Senator Lee: "I wanted to be sure that that was permitted. That you would not be required to have to have a second contractor come to fill in the holes as opposed to the one that has dug it in the first place."

Senator Bottiger: "I do not believe so."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2494, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 35; nays, 9; excused, 5.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, beginning on line 12, after "(2)" delete the language through line 19 and insert

"No application for certification pursuant to RCW Chapter 80.50 of a crude oil petroleum marine bulk receiving facility with related transmission pipelines which are designed to cross international borders of Washington State shall be accepted, considered, approved or certified while any application for certification of a crude petroleum marine bulk receiving facility with related transmission pipelines which are not designed to cross international borders of Washington State is before the Council or has been certified."

On motion of Senator Guess, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, after the "." on line 19, add:

"(3) In the event that the government of the United States chooses an alternate route for petroleum transmission facilities that is not located entirely within the United States, then the provisions of this 1979 act shall be null and void and of no further effect."

Senator Lysen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, line 20, insert:

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Jones: "I believe that this is beyond the scope and object of the measure. I think it is patently clear that it is beyond the scope and object and I am sure that you will rule favorably. I rest in your judgment, sir. I would never presume to direct you."

RULING AND REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Before ruling upon the Point of Order by Senator Jones, the President should like once more to reiterate that in dealing with points of order concerning scope and object and whereas the title is taken into consideration, the decision is based upon what the scope and object of the bill itself is all about. Many titles are all-embracing, for instance, title only bills.

"So therefore, in ruling upon the Point of Order as presented by Senator Jones, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill 2974 is a bill requiring oil transfer facilities to use domestic pipelines.

"Senator Lysen, the President believes that your amendment deals with labor relations and therefore is beyond the scope and object of the bill."

The amendment by Senator Lysen was ruled out of order.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2974 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2442 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2442 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2442 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 2442, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 2; excused, 5.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Benitz: "Last night it was my pleasure to act as a page for the mock session of the Senate pages, and I just want to report to the members of the Senate that they conducted themselves in the most respectable fashion, and if there are any of you that are worried about the future of our country as the youngsters take over, be assured we are in good hands. Their debate was to the point and it was very, very informative. I was very proud to be a part of it other than to state that they ran me up and down the stairs with messages to the gallery and locked the elevator. If I were a page and continued that long, I would need a pay raise."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lysen: "Senator Benitz, I would like to ask then how the amendments on the cost overruns on WPPSS came out in the mock session? I know that yesterday I had the unanimous support of all the pages in the chamber, although in fact I think I had more votes from the pages than I did from the members, so I was wondering how it came out in the mock session?"

Senator Benitz: "Strangely enough, Senator Lysen, their concern finally centered around a part of the bill that said . . . appropriated a certain amount of money, and the question was raised, what happens to that money if they do not spend all of it? So they came to me and seriously said, 'What do you do with these committees and these departments that do not spend all their money? What do they do with the money?' They were more interested in that. I told them it really had been a big problem in the legislature thus far."

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

April 6, 1979.

NORTHERN TIER PIPELINE APPLICATION CLARIFICATION

MEMBERS OF THE SENATE:

I would like to talk to you about Port Angeles, to speak to you on a subject matter of critical importance to the people of the Olympic Peninsula, the State and the Nation—the application primarily by Northern Tier Pipe company of their proposed oil port, tank farm and pipeline—with potential for major environmental impact.

Others today will remind you that a quality environment is not an abstract concept here, but an important element in our way of life. You will be reminded also, of the major impact that the arrival and unloading of large quantities of oil at Port Angeles and the transport of the oil by pipeline the entire length of Hood Canal could have on this quality environment.

The availability of Alaskan crude does not by any means remedy existing crude oil supply problems. The product itself is high viscosity, high sulphur product that is a refining problem, with a very high yield of residual fuel, with a much lower yield of gasoline which would require large volumes of light crude to blend-off tank bottoms.

The 700 page Arthur D. Little study prepared for the State Dept. of Ecology says oil spills here in Port Angeles might have worse consequences than spills occurring inside Puget Sound pointing out that in this area oil spills would be carried by strong currents onto the shorelines thus having a worse impact.

The report also offers these conclusions: Building a pipeline from Port Angeles along Hood Canal and around the Sound, crossing eight rivers and passing through unstable soil conditions to serve North Puget refineries and the midwest is not environmentally safer than having tankers service the refineries directly. The impact of the pipeline offsets the advantage of tankers staying out of Puget Sound. The impact of an oil port at Port Angeles and a pipeline would be much more detrimental to the City of Port Angeles as it now exists than to Cherry Point which already has two refineries.

The Federal Energy Agency and EPA study analysis tells us that a terminal at Port Angeles operating at capacity would increase the area's hydrocarbon levels, local sulfur dioxide emissions and nitrogen oxides and would be so severe as to make this site economically unattractive.

Previously, water pollution from oil spills was considered the most serious problem. They go on in their report to say that air pollution produced by tankers and oil tank farms "is essentially a brand new science and it wasn't ever studied until the impact statement for SOHIO at Long Beach, California."

They do not know what the impact of hydrocarbon emissions would be. I would like to suggest that your study include where the hydrocarbons would go after they were released and what would be most affected.

The study points out another disadvantage of a Port Angeles oil port would be the air currents that move pollutants eastward across Puget Sound and into Seattle's existing smog problem. In other sites, the emissions would drift away from people. Disposal of liquid oil wastes at Port Angeles will pose a serious logistics problem. It is impractical and illegal to dispose of these wastes except at existing refineries or waste oil processors.

Director of U. S. Bureau of Fish and Wildlife has stated opposition to an oil port.

The Hood Canal Environmental Council has expressed concern about the pipeline routing through unstable soil conditions along Hood Canal.

The original Oceanographic Commission of Washington study dealing with the siting of an oil port had a staff recommendation based on detailed professional scientific data in opposition to Port Angeles as such a site. The Commission in a purely political decision overturned that professional report.

The State Ecological Commission came out with a strong recommendation to the State Dept. of Ecology and their sentiment was clear—No oil transfer port at Port Angeles saying such a facility would require construction of a pipeline down Hood Canal—crossing a stream every two miles and a major river every four to fifteen miles and then eastward across the Cascades.

In spite of the research and debate during recent years, the number of alternatives and the variety and intensity of their impacts still are very complex. The problem that I have on this issue, as an elected official, is that different researchers have computed different risks and each uses his own set of assumptions and a different data base. A truly objective analysis was never done. The superport issue is like one of those "believe-or-not" optical illusions. The longer you look, the more things seem to change.

Northern Tier Pipeline Company has never sat down with State and local officials and laid out their program. We have never been told what the impact would be on local resources as they affect our already overcrowded state highway, county roads, and city streets, fire prevention, police protection, water, sewer, schools, power. By 1982 we will be anticipating an energy deficiency in this area. Two years ago we were told that power for the tank farm alone would boost county energy needs 43% higher than the level that Bonneville, which now supplies our area, can guarantee. Later, Northern Tier said they anticipated a load of about 130M KW hour annually. Then just Monday of this week they lowered their power demand to 33M stating that they would be operating at peak load only 15% of the time rather than at 95% as earlier stated. This could result in greatly increased power rates locally for both commercial and residential users and the taking of power away from future sawmills as well as existing jobs in our mills.

The point is this: a Port Angeles system may very well be economically infeasible for low throughputs.

The grand question in this whole debate on state oil transportation policy is whether the present and future levels of risk are acceptable or unacceptable. Let's know more about the threat to sea life. We're seeing more salmon and shellfish than we've seen in a long time. What is the impact of a super-port in our harbor on commercial and sports fishing? Potentially we are sacrificing one of our major industries.

I'm wondering about fresh-water supplies which they say the super-tankers would take on after they have discharged their oil cargoes. Port Angeles is already having enough trouble over its limited domestic water supply out of the Elwha River.

Port Angeles harbor is within three miles of Olympic National Park one of the last remaining Wilderness Parks in the United States. The Olympic Peninsula is one of the state's prime recreational areas and this environmental degradation would change the nature of the Olympic Peninsula recreational assets. We are told that tax income from such a facility would be small. Nothing has been made firm as to the costs involved to local government. Construction of an oil port would impose an enormous financial impact on North Peninsula communities. I've seen no indication from Northern Tier Pipeline Co. or elsewhere that our communities would receive substantial assistance needed to provide facilities such as roads, schools and other services a project of this magnitude would require.

Who are the customers for such a facility? Before N.T.P.C. goes to the bank for financing they've got to have their customers all signed up on the dotted line. You don't build a pipeline and then hope somebody's going to hook up to you. If a single port facility were built, the total capital investment would have to be recovered.

It is economic folly to locate a privately owned oil port in Port Angeles if it is correct that it would add 5 cents to the price of every gallon of gas. Washington refineries compete in the Northwest and other regional markets with products refined elsewhere. The ability of state refineries to recover the added costs of new terminal facilities is limited by these competitive conditions, which in turn, under certain conditions could affect the level of crude deliveries available to support the facility.

The FEA ranks tank farms and storage tanks as the third largest contributor to oil spilled into the marine environment on the West Coast.

The question that is not asked, and the one that should be, has to do with whether we need an oil port anywhere in the State of Washington.

What kind of additional risks are created by having the largest centralization of oil storage in the State of Washington?

While we have some obligation to share our resources with our sister states, we have every right and responsibility to demand the highest degree of protection available for our own environment, jobs and economic well-being. The evidence seems clear that oil-transshipment to the midwest would produce very few new jobs and would risk existing jobs. The Washington State Energy council findings of negative economic impact under these circumstances becomes a very important consideration. Oil companies have said that it is technically and economically unfeasible to refine Alaskan crude in Washington and to transship refined products to the midwest.

In light of the information, that there would be very limited additional tax base, few construction jobs and fewer additional operation jobs, oil trans-shipment from Port Angeles has no long-term economic benefit to the State of Washington.

Signed: SENATOR PAUL H. CONNER

MOTION

On motion of Senator Marsh, the Senate commenced consideration of Senate Joint Memorial No. 107.

SECOND READING

SENATE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 107, by Senator Bottiger:

Requesting that the Bonneville Power Administration be authorized to support pilot developmental plants.

The memorial was read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the rules were suspended, Senate Joint Memorial No. 107 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the memorial was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lysen: "Senator Bottiger, this memorial has nothing to do with the regional power bill for guaranteed purchase authority pending, which has been pending before the Congress for several years. This is strictly limited to a pilot program of a much smaller degree of . . .?"

Senator Bottiger: "No, Senator, I do not think that would be a fair or accurate statement. The meeting of the legislators have dealt with the Northwest power bill. Some versions of the Northwest power bill have Bonneville purchase authority and I think in all fairness that Bonneville in the development of these alternate fuel sources would be the developing agency and would be purchasing the power from them. There is no nuclear reactor in here, if that is your concern."

Senator Lysen: "Yes. My concern is that it be in the nature of a pilot project. I think this is a good measure but . . . the major generation sources of nuclear or coal or whatever would not be included in here. This is more wood wastes, biomass, wind, solar, co-generation-type activities. Is that right?"

Senator Bottiger: "Yes."

This chapter shall be construed to the end that deceptive practices and the commission of fraud or misrepresentation in the sale, purchase, or rental of real property and business opportunities in this state may be prohibited and prevented, and that only responsible, reliable, honest, and knowledgeable persons shall be permitted to engage in the sale, purchase, or rental of real property on behalf of others.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The minimum qualifications for a corporation or partnership to receive a broker's license are specified in this section.

(1) An officer in the corporation or a general partner in the partnership, as the case may be, shall be designated as the broker and shall hold a valid broker's license. The corporation or partnership and the designated broker are required to pay only a single license and license renewal fee.

(2) An inactive license may be renewed on the same terms and conditions as an active license, except the continuing education requirements, and failure to renew the license shall result in cancellation in the same manner as an active license. An inactive license may be placed in an active status upon completion of an application as provided by the director and upon compliance with this chapter and the rules adopted under this chapter.

(3) The provisions of this chapter relating to the denial, suspension, and revocation of a license are applicable to an inactive license as well as an active license, except that, when proceedings to suspend or revoke an inactive license have been initiated, the license shall remain inactive until the proceedings have been completed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A temporary broker's permit may, in the discretion of the director, be issued to a qualified representative of a deceased or incapacitated real estate broker or designated broker, or to a senior qualified salesperson in the office of the deceased or incapacitated broker or designated broker.

A temporary broker's permit issued under this section shall be for the purpose of completing the existing real estate transactions as recorded in the ledgers of the firm. The permit shall only be valid for a period of six months and may not be renewed or reissued.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. The director may issue a land development representative registration to any applicant upon application made by the employing real estate broker on a form provided by the director. To meet minimum qualifications for registration as a land development representative, an individual must:

(1) Be eighteen years of age or older;

(2) Be a resident of the state of Washington; and

(3) Furnish such proof as the director may require concerning the applicant's honesty, good reputation, and identification. Proof shall include, but is not limited to, fingerprints.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. The registration for a land development representative shall be issued to and retained by the employing broker and shall be displayed in the same manner as set forth in this chapter for licenses. A fee established by rule shall accompany each application for registration. Each registration shall be valid for a period of one year from date of issue or until employment with the broker is terminated, whichever occurs first. A registration may not be transferred to another broker, nor may a representative be registered to more than one broker at a time. On the termination of employment of a land development representative, the broker shall release and return the registration to the director.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. (1) The activity of a registered land development representative under this chapter shall be restricted to land developments and limited to:

(a) Disseminating information;

(b) Contacting prospective purchasers; and

(c) Transporting prospective purchasers to the land development site.

(2) This section shall not be construed to authorize any land development representative to:

(a) Engage in the selling of real estate;

(b) Negotiate for or bind the broker, seller, or purchaser in any agreement relating to the sale of real estate;

(c) Receive or handle funds;

(d) Assist in preparation of documentation attendant upon the sale of real estate; or

(e) Engage in any other conduct or activity requiring a license under this chapter except as provided by subsection (1) of this section.

(3) Full responsibility for the activities of the land development representative rests with the employing broker. The director may deny, suspend, or revoke the registration of any land development representative or the license of the employing broker for any violation of this chapter by the land development representative.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. (1) Responsibility for the conduct of any salesperson, associate broker, land development representative, or branch manager covered by this chapter, whether for his or her own account or the account of others, rests with the broker to which the person is licensed or registered.

In addition to the broker, the branch manager bears responsibility for the conduct of any salesperson, associate broker, or land development representative operating under the branch manager at a branch office.

(2) The designated broker is responsible for the real estate activities of the corporation or partnership licensed under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. The license of a real estate salesperson or associate real estate broker shall be retained at all times by the broker and, if the real estate salesperson or associate real estate broker ceases to represent the broker, the license shall cease to be in force. Notice of the termination shall be given by the broker to the director and the notice shall be accompanied by and include the surrender of the salesperson's or associate real estate broker's license. Alternatively, the branch manager at the branch office of the licensee may give the notice to the director.

Failure of a broker to promptly notify the director of the salesperson's or associate real estate broker's termination after demand by the terminating salesperson or associate real estate broker is grounds for suspension or revocation under section 29 of this act. Upon application of the salesperson or associate real estate broker and the payment of a fee established by rule, the director shall issue a new license for the unexpired term of the old license, if such salesperson or associate real estate broker is otherwise entitled thereto. When a real estate salesperson's or associate real estate broker's services are terminated by his or her broker for a violation of any of the provisions of section 29 of this act, a written statement of the facts in reference thereto shall be filed with the director by the broker within ten days of the termination.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. Every real estate broker or designated broker, except persons issued a nonresident broker license, shall establish and maintain an office in this state, accessible to the public during reasonable business hours, which shall serve as the broker's office for the transaction of business. The office shall be separate from any other real estate brokerage office. An office so established must comply with the zoning requirements of the city or county in which it is located. The broker shall prominently display the license of the broker and any associate brokers or salespersons.

The real estate broker shall keep adequate records of all real estate transactions handled by or through the broker. The records shall include, but are not limited to, a copy of the earnest money receipt and an itemization of the broker's receipts and disbursements for each transaction. These records and all other records required by this chapter shall be open to inspection by the director at any reasonable time.

The real estate broker shall deliver or cause to be delivered to all parties signing the same, at the time of signing, conformed legible copies or certified true copies of all earnest money receipts, listing agreements, closing statements, and other like or similar instruments signed by the parties.

The real estate broker shall keep separate real estate trust accounts on demand deposit in a recognized Washington state depository, in which shall be kept separate and apart and physically segregated from the broker's own funds all funds or moneys of clients which are being held by the broker pending the closing of a real estate or other transaction, or which have been collected for the client and are being held for disbursement for or to the client. The funds shall be deposited not later than the first banking day following receipt thereof.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. (1) A real estate broker may apply to the director for authority to establish one or more branch offices under the same name as the main office, or under a name or names different from that of the main office if the name or names are approved by the director. The real estate broker shall pay a fee, as established by rule, for the establishment of each branch office. The director shall issue a duplicate license for each branch office showing the location of the branch office. The duplicate license shall be prominently displayed in the office for which it was issued. The branch office shall have a branch manager who shall be an associate broker authorized by the broker or designated broker to perform the duties of a branch manager. The branch manager shall be responsible for all activities at the branch office and shall actively supervise the operation of the branch office.

(2) The branch office shall be clearly identified as a branch or division of the main office. A broker may not establish branch offices under more than three names. Both the name of the branch office and of the main office must clearly appear on the sign identifying the branch office and in any advertisement, on any letterhead of any stationery or any forms, and on any signs used by the real estate firm, on which the name of the branch office appears.

(3) A branch office license is not required where real estate sales activity is conducted on and limited to a particular subdivision, condominium development, or tract if the broker has a licensed office or branch office located within thirty-five miles of the subdivision, condominium development, or tract.

(4) A model house or mobile home may be used as a tract sales office or branch office for the transaction of business on the subdivision or tract during the period of sales at that particular subdivision or tract.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. Written notice shall be given to the director of any change of business location by a real estate broker, associate broker, salesperson, land development representative, or branch office. The broker or designated broker shall make application, on a form prescribed and furnished by the director, for relicensing at the new location. The application shall include the surrender of all licenses and a fee, as established by rule, for each license to be reissued.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. No license issued under this chapter authorizes any person other than the person to whom the license is issued to do any act by virtue thereof or to operate in any other manner than under his or her own name. However, a broker, associate broker, or salesperson may operate and advertise under a name other than the one under which the license is issued by obtaining the written consent of the director to do so.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. (1) A nonresident broker may apply for and be issued a nonresident broker's license upon compliance with this chapter. The applicant shall not maintain a definite place of business within this state, but shall retain in this state all funds arising from transactions within this state until such funds are distributed to the proper parties involved. A nonresident broker is subject to the requirements of this chapter relating to the handling and depositing of client funds.

The privileges accorded to a nonresident broker by this chapter apply only to a licensed real estate broker and only so long as the broker:

(a) Maintains an active place of business in the state of the broker's domicile;
 (b) Maintains a license in good standing in the state of domicile; and
 (c) Is domiciled in a state which extends similar recognition and courtesies to licensed real estate brokers of this state.

(2) Associate brokers and salespersons licensed to a nonresident broker who has been issued a nonresident broker's license may apply for and be issued a nonresident license in this state upon compliance with this chapter. The nonresident license may be retained during such time as the licensee continues to be licensed under the non-resident broker and so long as the salesperson or associate broker maintains a license in good standing under the same broker in the state of the broker's domicile.

The nonresident license of associate brokers and salespersons shall be retained at all times by the nonresident broker. If the nonresident licensee ceases to represent the broker, the nonresident license shall cease to be in effect. Written notice of the termination shall be mailed and postmarked by the next business day by the nonresident broker to the director. The notice shall be accompanied by and include the release of the license. If the license is not reactivated with a nonresident broker prior to the next renewal date, the license shall be canceled.

(3) A nonresident license issued under this section may be renewed on the same terms and conditions as an active resident license.

(4) The director may waive, for nonresident licenses, the examination and other qualifying requirements. An applicant for a nonresident license shall be licensed in a state having similar requirements and, under the laws of which, similar recognition and courtesies are extended to licensees of this state by mutual written agreement of the appropriate directors and commissions of the concerned states.

(5) The regulatory provisions of this chapter apply to all nonresident brokers, nonresident associate brokers, and nonresident salespersons performing real estate activities in this state.

(6) An applicant for a nonresident license shall irrevocably consent to having suits and actions commenced against the applicant in any county of this state in which the plaintiff may reside, and to service of any process or pleadings by delivery thereof to the director. The service shall be valid and binding upon the applicant. The consent shall be in the form prescribed by the director, acknowledged before a notary public, and, if the applicant is a corporation, accompanied by a certified copy of the resolution of the board of directors authorizing the execution of the consent. Any process or pleading so served upon the director shall be in duplicate. One copy shall be filed in the office of the director and one copy shall be immediately forwarded by registered mail to the applicant's office address given in the applicant's application. Service shall be deemed to have been made upon the applicant on the third day following the deposit of the copy in the mail.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. It is unlawful for any person to act as a real estate broker, associate real estate broker, or real estate salesperson without first obtaining a license therefor, and otherwise complying with this chapter.

No suit or action shall be brought for the collection of compensation for any acts or services as a real estate broker, associate real estate broker, or real estate salesperson, without alleging and proving that the plaintiff was a duly licensed real estate broker, associate real estate broker, or real estate salesperson prior to the time of offering to perform any such act or service or procuring any promise or contract for the payment of compensation for any such contemplated act or service.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. It is unlawful for a broker to pay any part of the broker's commission or other compensation to a person who is not a licensed real estate broker in a state of the United States or its possessions or a province of Canada, or to a real estate salesperson or associate broker not licensed to do business for the broker when the compensation was earned. It is unlawful for a salesperson or associate broker to pay any part of his or her commission or other compensation to any person, whether licensed or not, except through the licensee's broker.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. The director may, upon the director's own motion, and shall, upon verified complaint in writing by any person, investigate the actions of any person engaged in the business or acting in the capacity of a real estate broker, associate real estate broker, or real estate salesperson, regardless of whether the transaction was for the person's own account or in the person's capacity as a licensee. The director may suspend, revoke, or deny the license of any person. If the director finds that the public health, safety, or welfare imperatively requires emergency action, and incorporates a finding to that effect in the director's order, summary suspension of a license may be ordered pending proceedings for revocation or suspension. These proceedings shall be promptly instituted and determined.

The following are prohibited acts and practices and are grounds for suspending or revoking a license issued under this chapter or for denying an application for licensure under this chapter:

(1) Obtaining a license by means of fraud, misrepresentation, concealment, or through the mistake or inadvertence of the director;

(2) Violating any of the provisions of this chapter or any rules adopted under this chapter, or failing to meet the requirements for licensure set forth in this chapter;

(3) Being convicted in federal court or a court of this or any other state, of forgery, embezzlement, obtaining money under false pretenses, bribery, larceny, extortion, conspiracy to defraud, or any similar offense or offenses. For the purposes of this section, "being convicted" includes all instances in which a plea of guilty or nolo contendere is the basis for the conviction, and all proceedings in which the sentence has been deferred or suspended. A certified copy of the final decision of a court of competent jurisdiction in such matter shall be conclusive evidence in any hearing under this chapter;

(4) Making, printing, publishing, distributing, or causing, authorizing, or knowingly permitting the making, printing, publication, or distribution of false statements, descriptions, or promises of such character as to reasonably induce any person to act thereon, if the statements, descriptions, or promises purport to be made or to be performed by either the licensee or the licensee's principal and the licensee then knew or, by the exercise of reasonable care and inquiry, could have known, of the falsity of the statements, descriptions, or promises;

(5) Knowingly committing, or being a party to, any material fraud, misrepresentation, concealment, conspiracy, collusion, trick, scheme, or device;

(6) Acceptance of compensation by an associate real estate broker or a real estate salesperson, for performing any act or service governed by this chapter, from any person except the broker to whom the person was licensed when the compensation was earned;

MOTION

Senator Peterson moved Substitute Senate Bill No. 2316, together with the pending amendment by Senator Van Hollebeke, be held for further consideration on Monday, April 9, 1979.

Debate ensued.

There being no objection, the motion by Senator Peterson was withdrawn.

Senator Talmadge moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Senator Van Hollebeke:

Beginning on page 10, line 12 of the amendment, strike all of subsection (4).

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lysen: "When you included members of the Bar under the real estate license, did you consider architects, land surveyors and engineers, land engineers and so forth to qualify in the same way? Architects, as you know, deal with building and are quite knowledgeable in the area and maybe they should be included as well."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Is the question intended to be a serious one?"

Senator Lysen: "Absolutely."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "All right, thank you. Certainly they would be qualified to tell a lot more about the property than most lawyers about what kind of condition the real estate is in and if they had the 'as-builts' with them and every other drawing of what was done since then and the ability to analyze properly the materials and the conditions they are presently in as some architects do, they could do that. But they certainly would not, by their qualifications necessary to become an architect or engineer, both of which you referred to there, have the qualifications to sell real estate, deal in it, be the broker or agent, properly represent the parties and know the legal ramifications of what they are doing, Senator Lysen. They certainly would not know the legal ramifications of what they are doing as well as a lawyer.

"I am not quite sure that I see that your question goes to the point of this amendment."

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Talmadge failed and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Jones, Senator Matson was excused.

Senator Williams moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Senator Van Hollebeke:

On page 15, line 8 after "Sec. 12." strike everything down to and including "canceled." on line 29 and insert:

"No licensee shall have his license renewed a second time unless the licensee furnishes proof, as the director may require, that the licensee has completed thirty clock-hours of instruction in real estate courses approved by the director."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Williams, as I understand your amendment, it says that the second time that the licensee goes to get his license renewed, he must furnish proof of thirty clock hours of instruction. Can you imagine how much knowledge that you can impart in thirty clock hours of time to catch a man up on the industry after having been out, and why would it be necessary, do you suppose, to go back and pick up, as some of them want, ninety hours? Wouldn't it be a waste of time for the person and the department too to do the ninety hours though, if he has not been in the business, as I understand it?"

Senator Williams: "Senator Guess, my amendment does not deal at all with those inactive licenses. For people who have been out of the business. I have not touched the language that is in the bill before us in terms of continuing education for inactive licenses. This deals only with those people who are out there today in the business, an active license, selling real estate or brokers. This does not deal with those people that are away from the business for a while and then come back into it."

Senator Guess: "All right, but you say, 'renewed a second time.'"

Senator Williams: "Right. This is present law. This is what is occurring now. In other words, if you get a license now, within the next two times that you renew your license, you have to take thirty clock hours of continuing education. That is existing law, and that is what this amendment does is reinstates existing law."

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Williams carried and the amendment to the amendment by Senator Van Hollebeke was adopted on a rising vote.

Senator Day moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Senator Van Hollebeke:

On page 49, line 32, immediately following section 35 insert a new section to read as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 36. The director of the department of licenses shall from time to time establish the amount of all fees to be charged under this chapter. In fixing said fees the director shall, insofar as is practicable, fix the fees in such a manner that the income will match the anticipated expenses to be incurred in the administration of said chapter. All such fees shall be fixed by rule and regulation adopted by the director in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW: PROVIDED, That

(1) In no event shall the fee in the following cases be fixed at an amount less than five dollars or in excess of ten dollars:

- (a) Termination and reissue of a salesperson's or associate broker's license;
- (b) Establishment of a branch office;
- (c) Change of location;

(2) In no event shall the fee in the following cases be fixed at an amount less than fifteen dollars or in excess of thirty dollars:

- (a) Registration of a land development representative;

(3) The fee in the following cases shall be fixed at an amount of not less than twenty-five dollars but not in excess of fifty dollars:

- (a) Salesperson's annual license;
- (b) Salesperson's examination;

(4) The fee in the following cases shall be fixed at an amount of not less than forty dollars but not in excess of eighty dollars:

- (a) Broker's or associate broker's annual license;
- (b) Broker's examination;

(5) A delinquency charge of not to exceed fifty per centum shall be added to any annual license renewal fee which is received after the renewal date."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Day carried and the amendment to the amendment by Senator Van Hollebeke was adopted.

The motion by Senator Van Hollebeke carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

On motion of Senator Van Hollebeke, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

On page 1, on line 1 of the title, after "salespersons;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "adding new sections to chapter 18.85 RCW; creating a new section; repealing section 2, chapter 252, Laws of 1941, section 1, chapter 118, Laws of 1943, section 1, chapter 222, Laws of 1951, section 1, chapter 235, Laws of 1953, section 1, chapter 78, Laws of 1969, section 1, chapter 139, Laws of 1972 ex. sess., section 1, chapter 57, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess., section 1, chapter 370, Laws of 1977 ex. sess., section 68, chapter ... ## POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Donohue: "Senator, I have had some inquiries from my area, as relates to DNR land that has been logged, by a lot of people who would like to go in and take some of the residue, some of the limbs and those things that are there, for firewood. As you well know, on this energy thing.

"Is there anything in the bill that would allow more flexibility as it relates to rules and regs by the department, or if you want to create that, is it a good way to go and talk to the department and then have them be a little more liberal with their interpretation of the rules they have?"

Senator Peterson: "To my knowledge, there is nothing in the bill that increases that flexibility. They have that discretion under rules and regs right now and in most cases, to my knowledge, they are doing it.

"It would, however, permit them to selectively designate what they would cut down. In other words, if they logged off a forty acre tract and left six snags standing in that tract, it would certainly prevent a woodcutter from coming in there and utilizing that part of the wood, but as far as the rest of the slash, it would not have any effect."

Senator Donohue: "I was just wondering if this would be a good bill for an amendment to help that situation, because of my understanding, from a person that called me a couple of days ago said that the representatives of the department in that area stated that he could go in with his chain saw and cut up firewood after they had burned the pile of wood, and I wondered if this bill would help that situation. Evidently your answer is no."

Senator Peterson: "Rather than holding the bill over, I would rather address that in another manner. I have not been aware of any such problem as this where DNR has prohibited people from going in. If there is that type of a problem, certainly I do not think that the commissioner would be aware of it. It must be a local Senator Donohue: "Maybe you and I could go talk to him."

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 280, by Committee on Commerce (originally sponsored by Representatives Gallagher, Brown, Tilly and May):

Prohibiting advertisement of unlicensed contractors.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Morrison, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 280 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Morrison, in this measure, it requires that the contractor have his current registration number on all of his advertising cards and so forth. These are annual registrations?"

Senator Morrison: "As I understand, they are annual registrations."

Senator Rasmussen: "And do they always get the same number?"

Senator Morrison: "Senator Van Hollebeke, can you help us on this?"

Senator Van Hollebeke: "It is my understanding that they get the same number from year to year."

Senator Rasmussen: "Are you sure it is the same number?"

Senator Morrison: "We will guarantee it is the same number, Senator Rasmussen."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Senator Morrison, I am inquiring into the effective date of this act with respect to the likelihood that many contractors have quite a stockpile of advertising literature, letterheads and so on on hand and are they going to have to pay for imprinting a registration number or have to throw all that stuff away and replace it, or will they be permitted to exhaust their normal inventory of printed material before being required to comply with this act?"

Senator Morrison: "Senator Wilson, that was not discussed with the committee. I presume that the normal implementation of this act would allow some time before the law would go into effect. I think that it would not be too difficult for them if this concept is right to provide a rubber stamp and mark the stationery or anything of that type until they have exhausted the supply. Otherwise, it is a boon for the printing industry and I would think you would be all for it."

Senator Wilson: "That is why my question might surprise you, but I wonder if you agree with the principle of what I am trying to say. Senator Morrison, if in reply to a further question, we might make it a matter of legislative intent that contractors be permitted to exhaust their normal inventories of printed material before having to comply with the provisions of this act?"

Senator Morrison: "For the record, Senator Wilson, I think it is certainly advisable and I think would be the intent of the legislature that we allow a reasonable time for contractors to exhaust printed materials before this number would have to appear."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Mr. President, members and Senator Wilson, I raised that concern when the bill was originally brought to us and we think it can be appropriately worked out. The rubber stamp idea was given and I think it ought to be legislative intent that they exhaust present supplies so that we do not provide an unworkable work load for printing shops around the state. It is a bill that was very much sought by both the contracting unions and, that is, the construction trade unions and also by the contractors."

The scope of such hearing for the purposes of this section shall cover the issues of whether a law enforcement officer had reasonable grounds to believe the person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, whether the person was placed under arrest and whether he refused to submit to the test upon request of the officer after having been informed that such refusal would result in the revocation or denial of his privilege to drive. The department shall order that the revocation or determination that there should be a denial of issuance either be rescinded or sustained. Any decision by the department revoking a person's driving privilege shall be stayed and shall not take effect while a formal hearing is pending as herein provided or during the pendency of a subsequent appeal to superior court: PROVIDED, That this stay shall be effective only so long as there is no conviction for a moving violation or no finding that the person has committed a traffic infraction which is a moving violation during pendency of the hearing and appeal.

(5) If the revocation or determination that there should be a denial of issuance is sustained after such a hearing, the person whose license, privilege, or permit is so affected shall have the right to file a petition in the superior court of the county wherein he resides, or, if a nonresident of this state, where the charge arose, to review the final order of revocation or denial by the department in the manner provided in RCW 46.20.334.

(6) When it has been finally determined under the procedures of this section that a nonresident's privilege to operate a motor vehicle in this state has been revoked, the department shall give information in writing of the action taken to the motor vehicle administrator of the state of the person's residence and of any state in which he has a license.

Sec. 62. Section 27, chapter 121, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 36, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 46.20.311 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall not suspend a driver's license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways for a fixed period of more than one year, except as permitted under RCW 46.20.342. Whenever the license of any person is suspended by reason of a conviction, a finding that a traffic infraction has been committed, or pursuant to RCW 46.20.291, such suspension shall remain in effect and the department shall not issue to such person any new or renewal of license until such person shall pay a reinstatement fee of ten dollars and shall give and thereafter maintain proof of financial responsibility for the future as provided in chapter 46.29 RCW.

(2) Any person whose license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways has been revoked shall not be entitled to have such license or privilege renewed or restored unless the revocation was for a cause which has been removed, except that after the expiration of six months in cases of revocation for refusal to submit to a chemical test under the provisions of RCW 46.20.308 as now or hereafter amended, and in all other revocation cases after the expiration of one year from the date on which the revoked license was surrendered to and received by the department, such person may make application for a new license as provided by law together with an additional fee in the amount of ten dollars, but the department shall not then issue a new license unless it is satisfied after investigation of the driving ability of such person that it will be safe to grant the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways, and until such person shall give and thereafter maintain proof of financial responsibility for the future as provided in chapter 46.29 RCW.

Sec. 63. Section 36, chapter 121, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 29, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 46.20.329 are each amended to read as follows:

Any decision by the department suspending or revoking a person's driving privilege shall be stayed and shall not take effect while a formal hearing is pending as herein provided or during the pendency of a subsequent appeal to superior court: PROVIDED, That this stay shall be effective only so long as there is no conviction of a moving violation or a finding that the person has committed a traffic infraction which is a moving violation during pendency of hearing and appeal: PROVIDED FURTHER, That nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting the department from seeking an order setting aside the stay during the pendency of such appeal in those cases where the action of the department is based upon physical or mental incapacity, or a failure to successfully complete an examination required by this chapter.

A formal hearing shall be conducted by the director or by a referee or hearing board appointed by him from officers or employees of the department. Such referee or hearing board may be authorized by the director to make final determinations regarding the issuance, denial, or suspension, or revocation of a license.

wheelbase of not less than thirty-seven feet, and the weight upon two axles spaced less than seven feet apart shall not exceed thirty-three thousand six hundred pounds.

Such additional allowances shall be permitted by a special permit to be issued by the (~~(state highway commission)~~) department of transportation valid only on state primary or secondary highways authorized by the (~~(state highway commission)~~) department and under such rules, regulations, terms, and conditions prescribed by the (~~(state highway commission)~~) department. Permits may be issued at any time, but if issued after July 1st of any year the fee shall be thirty-seven dollars and fifty cents. If issued on or after October 1st the fee shall be twenty-five dollars, and if issued on or after January 1st the fee shall be twelve dollars and fifty cents. A copy of such special permit covering the vehicle involved shall be carried in the cab of the vehicle at all times. The vehicle covered by such canceled special permit shall not be eligible for a new special permit until thirty days after the cancellation of the special permit issued to said vehicle. The fee for such renewal shall be at the same rate as set forth in this section which covers the original issuance of such special permit. Each special permit shall be assigned to a three-axle truck tractor in combination with a two-axle pole trailer. When the (~~(highway commission)~~) department issues a duplicate permit to replace a lost or destroyed permit and where the (~~(highway commission)~~) department transfers a permit, a fee of five dollars shall be charged for each such duplicate issued or each such transfer.

Authorization of additional route or routes may be made at the discretion of the city or county by amending the original permit or by issuing a new permit. Said permits shall be issued on a yearly basis expiring on March 31st of each calendar year. Any person, firm, or corporation who uses any city street or county road for the purpose of transporting logs with weights authorized by state highway log tolerance permits, to reach or leave a state highway route, without first obtaining a city or county permit when required by the city or (~~(board of)~~) the county (~~(commissioners)~~) legislative authority shall be subject to the penalties prescribed by RCW 46.44.105. For the purpose of determining gross weight the actual scale weight taken by the officer shall be prima facie evidence of such total gross weight. In the event the gross weight is in excess of the weight permitted by law, the officer may, within his discretion, permit the operator to proceed with his vehicles in combination.

The chief of the state patrol, with the advice of the (~~(state highway commission)~~) department, may make reasonable rules and regulations to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of this section.

Sec. 77. Section 23, chapter 64, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 46.44.105 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (~~(Any person violating)~~) Violation of any of the provisions of RCW 46.44.042, 46.44.047, 46.44.090, 46.44.091, 46.44.095, and 46.44.041, or (~~(who fails)~~)

(2) In addition to the ((fines levied)) penalties imposed in subsection (1) of this section any person violating RCW 46.44.042, 46.44.047, 46.44.090, 46.44.091, 46.44.095, or 46.44.041 shall be ((fined)) assessed three cents for each pound of excess weight: PROVIDED, That upon a first violation in any calendar year, the court may suspend the ((fine)) penalty for five hundred pounds of excess weight for each axle on any vehicle or combination of vehicles, not to exceed a two thousand pound suspension. In no case shall the basic ((fine levied)) penalty assessed in subsection (1) of this section be suspended.

(3) Whenever any vehicle or combination of vehicles is involved in two violations of RCW 46.44.042, 46.44.047, 46.44.090, 46.44.091, 46.44.095, or 46.44.041 during any twelve month period, the court may suspend the certificate of license registration of the vehicle or combination of vehicles for not less than thirty days. Upon a third or succeeding violation in any twelve month period, the court shall suspend the certificate of license registration for not less than thirty days. ((For purposes of this section, bail forfeiture shall be given the same effect as a conviction:)) Whenever the certificate of license registration is suspended, the court shall secure such certificate and immediately forward the same to the director with information concerning the suspension.

(4) Any person ((convicted of violating)) found to have violated any posted limitations of a highway or section of highway shall be ((fined)) assessed a monetary penalty of not less than one hundred and fifty dollars, and the court shall in addition thereto upon second violation within a twelve month period involving the same power unit, suspend the certificate of license registration for not less than thirty days.

(5) Any police officer is authorized to require the driver of any vehicle or combination of vehicles to stop and submit to a weighing either by means of a portable or stationary scale and may require that such vehicle be driven to the nearest public scale. Whenever a police officer, upon weighing a vehicle and load, determines that the weight is unlawful, such officer may require the driver to stop the vehicle in a suitable location and remain standing until such portion of the load is removed as may be necessary to reduce the gross weight of the vehicle to such limit as permitted by law.

Any vehicle whose driver or owner represents that the vehicle is disabled or otherwise unable to proceed to a weighing location shall have its load sealed or otherwise marked by any police officer. The owner or driver shall be directed that upon completion of repairs, the vehicle shall submit to weighing with the load and markings and/or seal intact and undisturbed. Failure to report for weighing, appearing for weighing with the seal broken or the markings disturbed, or removal of any cargo prior to weighing shall be unlawful. Any person so convicted shall be fined five hundred dollars, and in addition the certificate of license registration shall be suspended for not less than thirty days.

(6) Any other provision of law to the contrary notwithstanding, justice courts having venue shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the superior courts for the imposition of any penalties authorized under this section.

(7) For the purpose of determining additional ~~((fines))~~ penalties as provided by subsection (2) of this section, "excess weight" shall mean the poundage in excess of the maximum gross weight prescribed by RCW 46.44.042 and 46.44.041 plus the weights allowed by RCW 46.44.047, 46.44.091, and 46.44.095.

(8) The basic ~~((fine))~~ penalty provided in subsection (1) of this section shall be distributed as prescribed in RCW 46.68.050: PROVIDED, That all fees, fines, forfeitures, and penalties collected or assessed by a justice court because of the violation of a state law shall be remitted as provided in chapter 3.62 RCW as it now exists or is later amended. For the purpose of computing the basic ~~((fines))~~ penalties and additional ~~((fines))~~ penalties to be imposed under the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of this section the convictions shall be on the same vehicle or combination of vehicles within a twelve month period under the same ownership.

(9) The additional ~~((fine))~~ penalty for excess poundage provided in subsection (2) of this section shall be transmitted by the court to the county treasurer and by him transmitted to the state treasurer for deposit in the motor vehicle fund: PROVIDED, That all fees, fines, forfeitures, and penalties collected or assessed by a justice court because of the violation of a state law shall be remitted as provided in chapter 3.62 RCW as it now exists or is later amended. It shall then be allocated annually on or before June 30th of each year in the amounts prescribed in RCW 46.68.100 as now or hereafter amended.

(10) Any state patrol officer or any weight control officer who shall find any person operating a vehicle or a combination of vehicles in violation of the conditions of a permit issued under RCW 46.44.037, 46.44.090, and 46.44.095 may confiscate such permit and forward the same to the state highway commission which may return it to the permittee or revoke, cancel, or suspend it without refund. The state highway commission shall keep a record of all action taken upon permits so confiscated, and if a permit shall be returned to the permittee the action taken by the commission shall be endorsed thereon. Any permittee whose permit is suspended or revoked may upon request receive a hearing before the commission or person designated by the commission. The commission after such hearing may reinstate any permit or revise its previous action.

Whenever the director may order the vehicle driver's license of any such person suspended, revoked, or canceled, or shall refuse the issuance of vehicle driver's license, such suspension, revocation, cancellation, or refusal shall be final and effective unless appeal from the decision of the director shall be taken as provided by law.

Revising the guidelines for decisions of boundary review boards.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Lewis moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Lewis, Day and Guess:

On page 1, after line 5, insert the following new sections:

"Section 1. Section 9, chapter 189, Laws of 1967 as last amended by section 1, chapter 127, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 36.93.090 are each amended to read as follows:

Notice shall also be given by publication in any newspaper of general circulation in the area of the proposed boundary change at least three times, the last publication of which shall be not less than five days prior to the date set for the public hearing. Notice shall also be posted in ten public places in the area affected for five days when the area is ten acres or more. When the area affected is less than ten acres, five notices shall be posted in five public places for five days. Dissenting members of the board shall have the right to have their written dissents included as part of the decision.

(5) Unanimous decisions of the hearing panel or a decision of a majority of the members of the board shall constitute the decision of the board and shall not be appealable to the whole board. Any other decision shall be appealable to the entire board within ten days. Appeals shall be on the record, which shall be furnished by the appellant, but the board may, in its sole discretion, permit the introduction of additional evidence and argument. Decisions shall be final and conclusive unless within ten days from the date of said action a governmental unit affected by the decision or any person owning real property or residing in the area affected by the decision files in the superior court a notice of appeal.

The filing of such notice of appeal within such time limit shall stay the effective date of the decision of the board until such time as the appeal shall have been adjudicated or withdrawn. On appeal the superior court shall not take any evidence other than that contained in the record of the hearing before the board.

(6) The superior court may affirm the decision of the board or remand the case for further proceedings; or it may reverse the decision if any substantial rights may have been prejudiced because the administrative findings, inferences, conclusions, or decisions are:

- (a) In violation of constitutional provisions, or
- (b) In excess of the statutory authority or jurisdiction of the board, or
- (c) Made upon unlawful procedure, or
- (d) Affected by other error of law, or
- (e) Unsupported by material and substantial evidence in view of the entire record as submitted, or
- (f) Arbitrary or capricious.

An aggrieved party may secure a review of any final judgment of the superior court by appeal to the supreme court or the court of appeals. Such appeal shall be taken in the manner provided by law for appeals from the superior court in other civil cases."

Renumber remaining sections consecutively.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Goltz: "Mr. President, I would like to raise the question of scope and object in regard to the amendment."

"Mr. President and members of the Senate, I would like to speak to this Point of Order. This bill, as it was sent over to us from the House, deals with a very narrow consideration of the protection of agricultural lands and puts the agricultural land issue before the boundary review board in making a decision relative to an annexation, and I think for that reason this amendment and maybe the other one are beyond the scope and object of the bill."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Wilson, House Bill No. 860, together with the pending amendment by Senators Lewis, Day and Guess and the Point of Order raised by Senator Goltz, was ordered held for further consideration following the noon recess.

On motion of Senator Walgren, the Senate commenced consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 962.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 962, by Committee on Natural Resources (originally sponsored by Representatives Schmitt and Wilson (by Department of Fisheries request):

Revising the laws relating to buy-back of fishing vessels.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, line 4, after "vessel" insert "PROVIDED FURTHER, That the price paid for licenses shall not be more than the price paid to the state for licenses"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Peterson, for a non-fisherman, I need some clarification. Senator Rasmussen has said that a license that originally sold for $200 is now going for $12,000 to $16,000. Is this true?"

Senator Peterson: "No, he inflated my figures somewhat there. I did not say that. The license that sold for $200 now in some cases on the open market is bringing $2,000."

Senator Guess: "Why is it that it is up ten times?"

Senator Peterson: "Over and above the price that the state issued the original license for, there are enough people desiring to get into the fisheries that they are willing to pay that price."

Senator Guess: "If a person buys a boat, how is he going to go and earn that money back unless he has a license?"

Senator Peterson: "He does not. That is the purpose of the buy-back program is to get these boats out of the fleet, if I understand your question correctly. That is the purpose of the program is to eliminate licenses and boats out of the fisheries."

Senator Guess: "Then why is there traffic in licenses?"

Senator Peterson: "I suppose it would be just like buying a diesel Rabbit. People are paying $5,000 more than the dealers got the price on the program for. I do not know that."

"The only thing is, Senator, if the program is going to function as it was designed to do originally and get these vessels out of the fishing fleet, then the only way we can do it is to be somewhere close to the existing market value for them. If that is the market value, certainly it is going to fluctuate, but in order for the state to continue the program, we would have to come somewhere close to providing the incentive for anybody to get rid of their boat or get out of the fishery. Many people want to. Some prefer not to. There is nothing mandatory in here. It is optional if they want to list their boat for sale."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "If a person lists his boat and sells his boat, does he automatically give up the license with the boat?"

Senator Peterson: "Yes. He is out of the fishery."

Senator Guess: "Then what becomes of the boat after the state bought it?"

Senator Peterson: "They auction them off."

Senator Guess: "Do they auction it to fishermen or do they auction it to non-fishermen?"

Senator Peterson: "Non-fishermen."

Senator Guess: "It doesn't make sense."

REMARKS BY SENATOR TALLEY

Senator Talley: "Senator Guess, it is something like the trucking business. You know, the less people in the business, the regulation protects them, the rates and so forth. If they deregulate trucks, what are you going to have? You do not know. It is the same way. We are trying to cut down the number of people fishing and the only way we can cut it down is get rid of those licenses, because once that license is bought and is done with, that man never goes fishing again or he never enters into the fishing business, but as you cut them down, it becomes more attractive to outsiders to try to buy a license from somebody that has a license. The same way with the trucking business. There is no use buying the trucking business if you do not get a license with it. The same way with the fishing business."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Talley, what you are saying is that the buy-back deal creates a monopoly so that the fishing license is worth more money."

Senator Talley: "It creates a monopoly in a way that we are trying to cut down the number of people fishing. It is being over-harvested and if we do not get some control of it, there is no one going to make any money. That is what the theory of the buy-back is, to cut down on the number of fishermen that are out there harvesting those fish."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Rasmussen, I hate to continue this but I now wonder what is the purpose of your amendment? Don't you want a monopoly made?"

Senator Rasmussen: "No, I do not want a monopoly made by the state where they are going to meet the commercial price, the going price, because of the monopoly that state has created, then they are forced to come in with state money or federal money that is allocated to the state to buy these licenses. Now the way the department is doing it by their rule and regulation, they have said 'We are going to meet the price out there on the market.' As Senator Peterson has said, they are going up and up and up, but the reason they are going up too is because—I talked to the fishermen. Immediately they got the offer of the $2,000 they said 'No, the state will pay me $2,000. I am going to put it up for sale for $2,500,' and the next time when the state offers $2,500 it will go back up again to $3,000, so that there is no limit."

Senator Guess: "What would your amendment do then?"

Senator Rasmussen: "My amendment would say that in regards to the license, that the state shall only pay for that license the same number of dollars that they paid the state. This week they paid the state $200 and renewed their license. Next week, under the way the department is operating, they sell that license for $2,000, a clear profit that they have made on just buying a license. Now as far as taking the boats off the water, that is what they should be using their money for. These poor fishermen that find it hard to make a living, they should buy the boat and the license and reserve the money for that purpose."

REMARKS BY SENATOR TALLEY

Senator Talley: "Under his theory, Senator, if you had a truck line you could sell your truck line and all you could get out of your operating rights was the license you paid the state each year for it. That is just exactly what it would be. The truck line would be worth nothing only for the price of equipment. We are trying to cut them down. The truck lines you said you have to sell, all you can get for your operating rights is your fees you pay the state. So that does not make very good sense, does it?"

Senator Guess: "Thank you, Senator."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lysen: "Senator Rasmussen, I think the intent of your amendment has merit that the fishermen should make their money catching fish, not on the trafficking in licensing, but my concern is, if you buy the license and the vessel, so if you freeze the price of the license to what you paid for it, then that will incorporate that into the price of the vessel and that is how they will get around your amendment. I think you have a serious loophole there."

Senator Rasmussen: "No, Senator Lysen. The state hires appraisers and in fact they hire two appraisers and pay them something like $50,000 a year to appraise the boats. These are regular boat appraisers. Then if the person that they are buying the boat back from, like I had a boat and the state would have it appraised, I would have it appraised, and then if we are not satisfied, they would have a third appraisal made. So that is the value of the boat and that is what the state would be paying, and we spent some two and a half million dollars doing that."

Senator Lysen: "You say the fact that some of these licenses are going for many thousands of dollars now would not be taken into consideration on that? I do not see how it could be avoided."

Senator Rasmussen: "They should not be taken into consideration because they have only paid the state $200 for the license. We do not want to be trafficking in licenses. We want to be spending that money buying back the boats and helping these fishermen out."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PETERSON

Senator Peterson: "Senator Rasmussen, it sounds to me like you made the best argument against your amendment. If we are not in a competitive position to purchase these licenses which forever will be out of the fishery, then there will not be any more out of the fishery, which entirely defeats the purpose. I urge that you not support this."

REMARKS BY SENATOR TALLEY

Senator Talley: "Under the last statement, Senator Rasmussen said . . . if we did not get the license, then what the heck do we want to keep buying the old boats for? If a fisherman had an old boat, he would sell it to the state and buy a new boat, if we do not have the license."

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Rasmussen, failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

There being no objection, the amendment by Senator Rasmussen on page 2, line 9 on the desk of the Secretary of the Senate was withdrawn.

On motion of Senator Peterson, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 962 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 962 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 2; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Conner, Day, Donohue, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Gould, Hansen, Hayner, Henry, Jones, Lee, Lewis, Lysen, Marsh, Matson, McDermott, Moore, Morrison, Newschwander, North, Odegaard, Peterson, Pullen, Quigg, Ridder, Scott, Sellar, Shinoch, Talley, Talmadge, Van Hollebeke, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Walgren, Wanamaker, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, Woody—44.

Voting nay: Senators Guess, Rasmussen—2.

Excused: Senators Bausch, Gallagher, Keefe—3.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 962, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

At 12:20 p.m., on motion of Senator Marsh, the Senate recessed until 2:00 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 2:00 p.m.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 860, by Representatives Van Dyken, Becker, Charnley, Zimmerman, Sherman, Rosbach and McGinnis:

Revising the guidelines for decisions of boundary review boards.

The time having arrived, the Senate resumed consideration of House Bill No. 860, the pending amendment by Senators Lewis, Day and Guess and the Point of Order raised by Senator Goltz.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the Point of Order raised by Senator Goltz, the President finds that House Bill No. 860 is a measure which deals with factors to be considered by boundary review boards in making their decisions and also with their goals and objectives.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Lewis, Day and Guess deals with the goals and objectives of boundary review boards.

"The President therefore finds that the proposed amendment does not expand the scope and object of the bill and that the Point of Order is not well taken."

The amendment was ruled in order.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Wilson, Senator von Reichbauer was excused.

On motion of Senator Wilson, the following amendments to the amendment by Senators Lewis, Day and Guess were adopted:

On line 28, strike "Fifteen" and insert "Ten"

On line 38, strike "fifteen" and insert "ten"

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Lewis, Day and Guess as amended by Senator Wilson.

Debate ensued.

Senator North moved the question be divided and section 1 be considered separately.

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator North carried on a rising vote.

Senator Lewis moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Lewis, Day and Guess:

On page 1, after line 5, insert the following new sections:

"Section 1. Section 9, chapter 189, Laws of 1967 as last amended by section 1, chapter 127, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 36.93.090 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever any of the following described actions are proposed in a county in which a board has been established, the initiators of the action shall file a notice of intention with the board, which may review any such proposed actions pertaining to:

(1) The creation, dissolution, incorporation, disincorporation, consolidation, or change in the boundary of any city, town, or special purpose district; or

(2) The assumption by any city or town of all or part of the assets, facilities, or indebtedness of a special purpose district which lies partially within such city or town; or

(3) The establishment of or change in the boundaries of a mutual water and sewer system or separate sewer system by a water district pursuant to RCW 57.08-.065; or

(4) The extension of permanent water or sewer service outside of its existing corporate boundaries by a city, town, or special purpose district.

The board's review of actions under subsections (3) and (4) of this section shall be limited to those instances where a governmental unit affected files a request for review pursuant to RCW 36.93.100(2) as now or hereafter amended.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Lewis, I have a bit of a question about your intent—well, not just the intent but the actual effect of where you are saying where a governmental unit affected filed. Now you mentioned counties, you have mentioned cities, as governmental units that are affected, and it occurs to me that there probably could be other governmental units that are affected, depending upon what the problem is. If there is a stream involved, it could possibly be a state itself or one of its units, the federal government, for example, if there is land involved in that case. I presume that even though you had mentioned only counties and cities that you, that the wording covers more than just those two. Or even a neighboring county."

Senator Lewis: "Senator, you are correct. It could be a water district and the language does, as you indicate, refer to any governmental unit affected. If any governmental unit affected, including a water district, would request a review by the boundary review board, then the boundary review board would enter into the problem."

Senator Lee: "And it might not necessarily be one that was actually within the boundaries of . . ."

Senator Lewis: "Affected. Those governmental units affected."

Senator Lee: "Directly or indirectly then, I suppose."

Senator Lewis: "The language does not say that. It says where a governmental unit affected files a request for a review."

Senator Lee: "So it could be either. Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator North: "Pursuing this question a little bit further, am I correct then that under this amendment a group of citizens could not request a review? It has to be done by a governmental unit?"

Senator Lewis: "On subsection (3) and (4) of this section, it should be limited to those instances where the governmental unit affected files a request for a review. Yes."

Senator North: "So that would effectively shut out a group of citizens then from requesting the review from the boundary review board? You would have to be a governmental unit?"

Senator Lewis: "When any of the following. . . . The board shall review and approve, disapprove or modify any of the actions within sixty days of filing of notice of intention, now ten percent of the registered voters residing within the area which is being considered for the proposed action . . . that is a different section. No, you are correct. It would be the governmental unit affected, the water district, the county or the city or whatever."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis: "Senator Bottiger, wouldn't the school district or the fire district be a governmental unit and if affected wouldn't that unit be able to request, according to this language, a review?"

Senator Bottiger: "I am not sure, the way I read your governmental unit affected, I am not sure who those people are. If it was broadly interpreted, you could conclude that those people could ask the boundary review board to look at it. If it was narrowly construed, it would be the water and sewer districts referred to in section 3 and 4 which the amendment speaks to in the first line."

Senator Lewis: "Certainly we intended to include counties and cities being able to make such requests as governmental units and that certainly should then include water districts, school districts, any governmental unit affected, would be the only interpretation I could see there so I do not think that would apply in the case you have described."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Lewis, Day and Guess beginning on page 1, following line 5 inserting new sections.

The motion by Senator Lewis failed on a rising vote.

There being no objection, the remaining amendments by Senators Lewis, Guess and Day were withdrawn.

Senator Marsh moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Marsh, Matson and Donohue:

On page 2, after line 21 add a subsection as follows:

(10) Provide reasonable assurance that the extension of municipal services and the additional payments to be made by the property owners of the area to be annexed in the form of taxes bear a reasonable relation to the value of the additional municipal services to be received. This objective shall apply only to cities with a population of 400,000 or more which initiates a resolution for annexation proceedings.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Ridder: "Before this bill was held over, I had indicated that I would raise the Point of Order on the scope and object of the amendment."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the Point of Order raised by Senator Ridder, the President finds that House Bill No. 860 is a measure which deals with factors to be considered by boundary review boards in making their decisions and also with their goals and objectives.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Marsh, Matson and Donohue deals with the goals and objectives of boundary review boards.

"The President therefore finds that the proposed amendment does not expand the scope and object of the bill and that the Point of Order is not well taken."

The amendment was ruled in order.

Debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Walgren, House Bill No. 860, together with the pending amendment by Senators Marsh, Matson and Donohue, was ordered held for Wednesday, April 11, 1979.

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 307, by Representatives Newhouse and Knowles:
Revising the criminal code.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

February 28, 1979.

HOUSE BILL NO. 307, revising the criminal code (reported by Committee on Judiciary):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

On page 6, line 14, after "intruders))" strike "other than a fenced area"

Signed by: Senators Marsh, Chairman; Talmadge, Vice Chairman; Gallaghan, Hayner, Jones, Woody.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Marsh, the committee amendment was adopted.

The Secretary of the Senate commenced reading the following amendment by Senators Pullen, Day, Vognild, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Morrison, Conner, Rasmussen, Lewis and Guess:

On page 7, after line 21, insert the following:

"Sec. 14. Section 9A.56.200, chapter 260, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9A.56.200 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person is guilty of robbery in the first degree if in the commission of a robbery or of immediate flight therefrom, he:

- (a) Is armed with a deadly weapon; or
- (b) Displays what appears to be a firearm or other deadly weapon; or
- (c) Inflicts bodily injury.

(2) Robbery in the first degree is a class A felony.

(3) Every person convicted of robbery in the first degree shall be confined for a mandatory minimum period of three years in a state correctional institution. No portion of this mandatory minimum sentence may be suspended or deferred by any court. The board of prison terms and paroles may set a period of confinement greater than three years, but the board shall not set a period of confinement of less than three years. A person sentenced pursuant to this provision shall not be released under any circumstances from the correctional institution prior to serving the entire three-year sentence. The department of social and health services shall not permit any such convicted person to participate in any work release or furlough program or to be released from the correctional institution for any reason during the three-year mandatory minimum period."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Marsh: "Mr. President, I raise the point of this amendment being beyond the scope and object of the bill. The bill does not have to do with mandatory minimum jail sentences and this amendment does, and therefore I respectfully suggest it is beyond the scope and object of the bill."

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Pullen, you have convinced the President. The President believes that House Bill 307 is a very broad bill and your amendment is just one more revision. Therefore, the point is not well taken."

The amendment was ruled in order.

MOTION

Senator Walgren moved that House Bill No. 307, together with the adopted committee amendment and the amendment by Senator Pullen and others, was ordered held for Wednesday, April 11, 1979.

SECOND READING

On page 6, after line 5, insert the following:

"Sec. 7. Section 1, chapter 56, Laws of 1907 as last amended by section 1, chapter 76, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 2.36.150 are each amended to read as follows:

- (3) Coroner's jurors shall receive (~~ten~~) twenty-five dollars;
- (4) Justice of the peace jurors shall receive (~~ten~~) twenty-five dollars:

PROVIDED, That a person excused from jury service at his own request shall be allowed not more than a per diem and such mileage, if any, as to the court shall seem just and equitable under all circumstances.

Sec. 8. Section 35.20.090, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 3, chapter 53, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and by section 3, chapter 248, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 35.20.090 are each amended and reenacted to read as follows:

In all civil cases and criminal cases where jurisdiction is concurrent with district courts as provided in RCW 35.20.250, within the jurisdiction of the municipal court, the plaintiff or defendant may demand a jury, which shall consist of six citizens of the state who shall be impaneled and sworn as in cases before district courts, or the trial may be by a judge of the municipal court. A defendant requesting a jury shall pay to the court a fee which shall be the same as that for a jury in justice court. Where there is more than one defendant in an action and one or more of them requests a jury, only one jury fee shall be collected by the court. Each juror shall receive twenty-five dollars for each day in attendance upon the municipal court, and in addition thereto shall receive mileage (~~(as provided by law)~~) at the rate determined under RCW 43.03.060. Trial by jury shall be allowed in criminal cases involving violations of city ordinances commencing January 1, 1972 unless such incorporated city affected by this chapter has made provision therefor prior to January 1, 1972."

Renumber the sections consecutively.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hayner: "Mr. President, I would challenge the scope and object of this amendment. It deals with the amount of money that the jury shall receive. It does not—this bill before us, Substitute House Bill 99 deals entirely with the selection of these prospective jurors, their qualifications and so forth. I think it is totally beyond the scope and object."

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President, in ruling upon the Point of Order presented by Senator Hayner, finds that Substitute House Bill No. 99 is a measure modifying the procedure for the selection of prospective jurors but also includes the provisions excluding jury compensation from being considered as wages subject to contribution and also deals with individuals who receive unemployment compensation and lose their benefits when they serve on juries. The President believes that because of these provisions that the Point of Order is not well taken and that the amendment does not expand the scope and object of the bill."

The amendment was ruled in order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hayner, Substitute House Bill No. 99, together with the pending amendment by Senator Rasmussen, was ordered held following consideration of the next two bills on today's calendar.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Walgren, the Senate commenced consideration of Senate Bill NO. 2979.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2979, by Senator Bottiger:
Relating to energy.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bottiger, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2979 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2979 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

Senator McDermott moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, after the enacting clause, insert the following additional section:

"Section 1. Section 12, chapter 45, Laws of 1970 ex. sess. as last amended by section 10, chapter 371, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 80.50.120 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Subject to the conditions set forth therein any certification shall bind the state and each of its departments, agencies, divisions, bureaus, commissions, boards, and political subdivisions, whether a member of the council or not, as to the approval of the environmental and ecological safeguards relating to the site and the construction and operation of the proposed energy facility.

(2) The certification shall authorize the person named therein to construct and operate the proposed energy facility subject only to the conditions set forth in such certification.

(3) The issuance of a certification shall be in lieu of any permit, certificate or similar document required by any department, agency, division, bureau, commission, board, or political subdivision of this state, whether a member of the council or not."

Remember the sections following consecutively, and correct internal references accordingly.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator McDermott, is this a very nicely couched way of putting more stumbling blocks in the way of the state of Washington having the sufficient energy that we need in the future?"

Senator McDermott: "No, Senator Guess, it is merely to clarify what the role of EFSEC is. When we set it up, we thought we were setting up a siting council that would determine the safest places to build facilities for energy production. We did not think that we were setting up a council that would determine whether there was necessity for it or not. So this is merely to clarify that the environmental and ecological concerns are the ones that are the purpose of this particular agency."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, there are two amendments on the floor and I would like to raise the same Point of Order as to scope and object on both of those amendments and speak to the point please.

"Mr. President, if the President will note the language of the bill, the bill pertains to a very, very narrow subject. The subject is a clean air permit. That is all it talks about. Whether or not the EFSEC in granting its certificate is also granting the federal clean air permit.

"This amendment and an amendment I will be offering to clarify the penalty language talks only about a federal clean air permit.

"Now Senator McDermott very expertly has injected in the two amendments he has offered the question of need. The whole certificate policy as to whether there is a need for energy. As I explained in the other caucus, the question of need is a regional question that is addressed in the federal northwest regional power bill that is currently pending before Congress who makes that overall region wide need question. By limiting, and that is what the first amendment does is limit the consideration of EFSEC board to environmental and ecological safeguards, we have left a hole now in where the issue of whether a plant should or should not be built. We have no place to handle it. As I explained in our caucus, currently that is done by the Governor in his signing of the EFSEC permit.

"Speaking to the Point of Order, the amendment therefore takes a bill pertaining to a clean water permit and changes it into a determination of whether or not there is need for electrical power."

MESSAGE FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

April 11, 1979.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE:

By action of the Legislature, today is Arbor Day, a time to pause to appreciate the full value of trees and make a special effort to perpetuate this renewable resource which is so valuable to our quality of life.

The custom of celebrating Arbor Day dates back to the fifth century when the people in a small Swiss town instituted a day of tree planting as an annual holiday. In the United States the 100th anniversary of Arbor Day was celebrated in 1972. In Washington in 1957, the Legislature designated the second Wednesday in April as Arbor Day.

In honor of our great forest resource each of you will find a seedling of Western Hemlock, which is our state tree, on your desk. Accompanying the tree are planting instructions and a brochure explaining Arbor Day. Also on your desk is the Arbor Week Proclamation of the Governor. I particularly commend to your attention her listing of benefits which we receive from our valuable forests.

This hemlock seedling was grown in a forest tree nursery owned by the State and operated by the Department of Natural Resources. Each year the state, federal and privately owned forest nurseries of Washington provide over 120 million seedlings to replant on over 150 thousand acres of the forest of the state.

By planting this seedling you affirm the spirit of Arbor Day and further enhance our heritage as the Evergreen State.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

April 11, 1979.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, Washington State has been richly endowed with abundant forests which give great beauty to our landscapes, refresh and renew our minds and bodies, and provide the habitat for a rich and abundant wildlife population; and

WHEREAS, Washington's renewable forests provide the raw material to sustain a major segment of our economic and employment base, as well as provide our housing and supply a host of other material needs; and

WHEREAS, Let us pause to appreciate the full value of the trees and make a special effort to perpetuate this resource which is so important to the quality of life of present and future Washington citizens.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Dixy Lee Ray, Governor of the State of Washington, do hereby proclaim the week of April 9-13, 1979, as in Washington State. I urge all citizens to give attention to this observance and support and take part in the protection, development and perpetuation of our forest resources by planting a tree for tomorrow. Take pride in assuring a green future for Washington as "The Evergreen State."

(2) The court may consider the notice of traffic infraction and any other written report made under oath submitted by the officer who issued the notice or whose written statement was the basis for the issuance of the notice in lieu of the officer's personal appearance at the hearing. The person named in the notice may subpoena witnesses, including the officer, and has the right to present evidence and examine witnesses present in court.

(3) The burden of proof is upon the state to establish the commission of the infraction by a preponderance of the evidence.

(4) After consideration of the evidence and argument the court shall determine whether the infraction was committed. Where it has not been established that the infraction was committed an order dismissing the notice shall be entered in the court's records. Where it has been established that the infraction was committed an appropriate order shall be entered in the court's records. A record of the court's determination and order shall be furnished to the department in accordance with RCW 46.20.270 as now or hereafter amended.

The person has fourteen calendar days from the date of the court's determination in which to give notice of an appeal. The decision of the superior court is subject only to discretionary review pursuant to Rule 2.3 of the Rules of Appellate Procedure.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) A hearing held for the purpose of allowing a person to explain mitigating circumstances surrounding the commission of an infraction shall be an informal proceeding. The person may not subpoena witnesses. The determination that an infraction has been committed may not be contested at a hearing held for the purpose of explaining mitigating circumstances.

(2) After the court has heard the explanation of the circumstances surrounding the commission of the infraction an appropriate order shall be entered in the court's records. A record of the court's determination and order shall be furnished to the department in accordance with RCW 46.20.270 as now or hereafter amended.

(3) There may be no appeal from the court's determination or order.

(5) Whenever a monetary penalty is imposed by a court under this chapter it is immediately payable. If the person is unable to pay at that time the court may, in its discretion, grant an extension of the period in which the penalty may be paid. If the penalty is not paid on or before the time established for payment the court shall notify the department of the failure to pay the penalty, and the department may not renew the person's driver's license until the penalty has been paid and the penalty provided in subsection (2) of this section has been paid.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. (1) An order entered after the receipt of a response which does not contest the determination, or after it has been established at a hearing that the infraction was committed, or after a hearing for the purpose of explaining mitigating circumstances is civil in nature.

(2) The court may include in the order the imposition of any penalty authorized by the provisions of this chapter for the commission of an infraction. The court may, in its discretion, waive, reduce, or suspend the monetary penalty prescribed for the infraction. At the person's request the court may order performance of a number of hours of community service in lieu of a monetary penalty, at the rate of the then state minimum wage per hour.

Sec. 15. Section 9, chapter 299, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 4, chapter 73, Laws of 1971 and RCW 3.30.090 are each amended to read as follows:

A violations bureau may be established by any city or district court having jurisdiction of traffic cases to assist in processing traffic cases. As designated by written order of the court having jurisdiction of traffic cases, specific offenses under city ordinance, county resolution, or state law may be processed by such bureau. Such bureau may be authorized to receive the posting of bail for such specified offenses, and, as authorized by the court order, to accept forfeiture of bail and payment of monetary penalties. The court order shall specify the amount of bail to be posted and shall also specify the circumstances or conditions which will require an appearance before the court. Such bureau, upon accepting the prescribed bail, shall issue a receipt to the alleged violator, which receipt shall bear a legend informing him of the legal consequences of bail forfeiture. The bureau shall transfer daily to the clerk of the proper department of the court all bail posted for offenses where forfeiture is not authorized by the court order, as well as copies of all receipts. All forfeitures or penalties paid to a violations bureau for violations of municipal ordinances shall be placed in the city general fund or such other fund as may be prescribed by ordinance. All forfeitures or penalties paid to a violations bureau for violations of state laws or county resolutions shall be remitted at least monthly to the county treasurer for deposit in the current expense fund. Employees of violations bureaus of a city shall be city employees under any applicable municipal civil service system.

Sec. 16. Section 32, chapter 299, Laws of 1961 and RCW 3.42.020 are each amended to read as follows:

Each justice court commissioner shall have such power, authority, and jurisdiction in criminal matters as the justices of the peace who appointed him possess and shall prescribe. Justice court commissioners shall not have power to hear and determine civil matters other than traffic infractions.

Sec. 17. Section 51, chapter 299, Laws of 1961 and RCW 3.50.020 are each amended to read as follows:

The municipal court shall have exclusive original criminal jurisdiction of all violations of city ordinances duly adopted by the city in which the municipal court is located and shall have original jurisdiction of all other actions brought to enforce or recover license penalties or forfeitures declared or given by such ordinances or by state statutes. The municipal court is empowered to forfeit cash bail or bail bonds and issue execution thereon; to hear and determine all causes, civil or criminal, including traffic infractions, arising under such ordinances and to pronounce judgment in accordance therewith.

Sec. 18. Section 52, chapter 299, Laws of 1961 and RCW 3.50.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Sec. 58. Section 1, chapter 1, Laws of 1969 as last amended by section 151, chapter 158, Laws of 1979 and RCW 46.20.308 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person who operates a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state shall be deemed to have given consent, subject to the provisions of RCW 46.61.506, to a chemical test or tests of his breath or blood for the purpose of determining the alcoholic content of his blood if arrested for any offense where, at the time of the arrest, the arresting officer has reasonable grounds to believe the person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The test or tests shall be administered at the direction of a law enforcement officer having reasonable grounds to believe the person to have been driving or in actual physical control of a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Such officer shall inform the person of his right to refuse the test, and of his right to have additional tests administered by any qualified person of his choosing as provided in RCW 46.61.506. The officer shall warn the driver that his privilege to drive will be revoked or denied if he refuses to submit to the test. Unless the person to be tested is unconscious, the chemical test administered shall be of his breath only: PROVIDED, That if an individual is under arrest for the crime of negligent homicide by motor vehicle as provided in RCW 46.61.520, or if an individual is under arrest for the crime of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs as provided in RCW 46.61.506, which arrest results from an accident in which another person has been injured and there is a reasonable likelihood that such other person may die as a result of injuries sustained in the accident, a breath or blood test may be administered without the consent of the individual so arrested. In such circumstances, the provisions of subsections (2) through (6) of this section shall not apply.

(2) Any person who is dead, unconscious, or who is otherwise in a condition rendering him incapable of refusal, shall be deemed not to have withdrawn the consent provided by subsection (1) of this section and the test or tests may be administered, subject to the provisions of RCW 46.61.506.

(3) If, following his arrest, the person arrested refuses upon the request of a law enforcement officer to submit to a chemical test of his breath, after being informed that his refusal will result in the revocation or denial of his privilege to drive, no test shall be given. The department of licensing, upon the receipt of a sworn report of the law enforcement officer that he had reasonable grounds to believe the arrested person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and that the person had refused to submit to the test upon the request of the law enforcement officer after being informed that such refusal would result in the revocation or denial of his privilege to drive, shall revoke his license or permit to drive or any nonresident operating privilege. If the person is a resident without a license or permit to operate a motor vehicle in this state, the department shall deny to the person the issuance of a license or permit for a period of six months after the date of the alleged violation, subject to review as hereinafter provided.

(4) Upon revoking the license or permit to drive or the nonresident operating privilege of any person, or upon determining that the issuance of a license or permit shall be denied to the person, as hereinbefore in this section directed, the department shall immediately notify the person involved in writing by personal service or by registered or certified mail of its decision and the grounds therefor, and of his right to a hearing, specifying the steps he must take to obtain a hearing. The person upon receiving such notice may, in writing and within ten days therefrom request a formal hearing. Upon receipt of such request, the department shall afford him an opportunity for a hearing as provided in RCW 46.20.329 and 46.20.332. The scope of such hearing for the purposes of this section shall cover the issues of whether a law enforcement officer had reasonable grounds to believe the person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, whether the person was placed under arrest and whether he refused to submit to the test upon request of the officer after having been informed that such refusal would result in the revocation or denial of his privilege to drive. The department shall order that the revocation or determination that there should be a denial of issuance either be rescinded or sustained. Any decision by the department revoking a person's driving privilege shall be stayed and shall not take effect while a formal hearing is pending as herein provided or during the pendency of a subsequent appeal to superior court: PROVIDED, That this stay shall be effective only so long as there is no conviction for a moving violation or no finding that the person has committed a traffic infraction which is a moving violation during pendency of the hearing and appeal.

(5) If the revocation or determination that there should be a denial of issuance is sustained after such a hearing, the person whose license, privilege, or permit is so affected shall have the right to file a petition in the superior court of the county wherein he resides, or, if a nonresident of this state, where the charge arose, to review the final order of revocation or denial by the department in the manner provided in RCW 46.20.334.

(6) When it has been finally determined under the procedures of this section that a nonresident's privilege to operate a motor vehicle in this state has been revoked, the department shall give information in writing of the action taken to the motor vehicle administrator of the state of the person's residence and of any state in which he has a license.

Sec. 59. Section 27, chapter 121, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 36, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 46.20.311 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall not suspend a driver's license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways for a fixed period of more than one year, except as permitted under RCW 46.20.342. Whenever the license of any person is suspended by reason of a conviction, a finding that a traffic infraction has been committed, or pursuant to RCW 46.20.291, such suspension shall remain in effect and the department shall not issue to such person any new or renewal of license until such person shall pay a reinstatement fee of ten dollars and shall give and thereafter maintain proof of financial responsibility for the future as provided in chapter 46.29 RCW.

(2) Any person whose license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways has been revoked shall not be entitled to have such license or privilege renewed or restored unless the revocation was for a cause which has been removed, except that after the expiration of six months in cases of revocation for refusal to submit to a chemical test under the provisions of RCW 46.20.308 as now or hereafter amended, and in all other revocation cases after the expiration of one year from the date on which the revoked license was surrendered to and received by the department, such person may make application for a new license as provided by law together with an additional fee in the amount of ten dollars, but the department shall not then issue a new license unless it is satisfied after investigation of the driving ability of such person that it will be safe to grant the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways, and until such person shall give and thereafter maintain proof of financial responsibility for the future as provided in chapter 46.29 RCW.

Sec. 60. Section 36, chapter 121, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 29, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 46.20.329 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon receiving a request for a formal hearing as provided in RCW 46.20.328, the department shall fix a time and place for hearing as early as may be arranged in the county where the applicant or licensee resides, and shall give ten days' notice of the hearing to the applicant or licensee, except that the hearing may be set for a different place with the concurrence of the applicant or licensee and the period of notice may be waived.

Any decision by the department suspending or revoking a person's driving privilege shall be stayed and shall not take effect while a formal hearing is pending as herein provided or during the pendency of a subsequent appeal to superior court: PROVIDED, That this stay shall be effective only so long as there is no conviction of a moving violation or a finding that the person has committed a traffic infraction which is a moving violation during pendency of hearing and appeal: PROVIDED FURTHER, That nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting the department from seeking an order setting aside the stay during the pendency of such appeal in those cases where the action of the department is based upon physical or mental incapacity, or a failure to successfully complete an examination required by this chapter.

A formal hearing shall be conducted by the director or by a referee or hearing board appointed by him from officers or employees of the department. Such referee or hearing board may be authorized by the director to make final determinations regarding the issuance, denial, or suspension, or revocation of a license.

Whenever the director may order the vehicle driver's license of any such person suspended, revoked, or canceled, or shall refuse the issuance of vehicle driver's license, such suspension, revocation, cancellation, or refusal shall be final and effective unless appeal from the decision of the director shall be taken as provided by law.

Revising the criminal code.

The Senate resumed consideration of House Bill No. 307. On Tuesday, April 10, 1979 the committee amendment was adopted. The Secretary on that day had commenced reading the following amendment by Senators Pullen, Day, Vognild, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Morrison, Conner, Rasmussen, Lewis and Guess:

"Sec. 14. Section 9A.56.200, chapter 260, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9A.56.200 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person is guilty of robbery in the first degree if in the commission of a robbery or of immediate flight therefrom, he:

- (a) Is armed with a deadly weapon; or
- (b) Displays what appears to be a firearm or other deadly weapon; or
- (c) Inflicts bodily injury.

(2) Robbery in the first degree is a class A felony.

(3) Every person convicted of robbery in the first degree shall be confined for a mandatory minimum period of three years in a state correctional institution. No portion of this mandatory minimum sentence may be suspended or deferred by any court. The board of prison terms and paroles may set a period of confinement greater than three years, but the board shall not set a period of confinement of less than three years. A person sentenced pursuant to this provision shall not be released under any circumstances from the correctional institution prior to serving the entire three-year sentence. The department of social and health services shall not permit any such convicted person to participate in any work release or furlough program or to be released from the correctional institution for any reason during the three-year mandatory minimum period."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct internal references accordingly.

On that day, Senator Marsh had raised a Point of Order. The amendment was ruled to be in order.

Senator Pullen moved adoption of the preceding amendment.

Senator Walgren moved the amendment by Senator Pullen and others be laid upon the table.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Walgren: "Senator Pullen, do you have any idea as to how many additional people would be incarcerated under your amendment during this next biennium?"

Senator Pullen: "Yes, I do have an idea, Senator Walgren."

Senator Walgren: "How many do you calculate that would be?"

Senator Pullen: "I think there would be a reduction. First of all, I should point out that most class A felons already are serving more than three years behind bars. This is because of the severity of a class A felony. My amendment would only deal with a few criminals that might be let loose due to a lenient judge or due to an error of the parole board or due to some mistake by the department of social and health services who might parole such a felon or let a felon loose because of work release.

"As you well know, Senator Walgren, being an expert member of this legislature and a very knowledgeable attorney, studies have been made by criminologists which clearly indicate that mandatory sentencing is a deterrent to crime."

Senator Walgren: "I do not think that this is responsive to the question, Mr. President."

President Pro Tempore Henry: "I could not decide whether it was a response to your question or the final argument on the bill. What was the figure? I missed that someplace. Five thousand or ten thousand?"

Senator Pullen: "It is difficult to be quantitative but I would say you could expect a reduction of about ten percent."

President Pro Tempore Henry: "A reduction?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Walgren: "Senator Pullen, further question then. Do I understand your amendment then is to result in fewer people being imprisoned?"

Senator Pullen: "That is correct because the professional criminal is very smart and knows that if he is going to be assured of being locked up, then he is going to go somewhere else where the pickings are easier."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Marsh: "Senator Donohue, several of us have been concerned about the fiscal impact of the Pullen amendment which would add these mandatory sentences and we requested that you have your staff estimate for us the number of new beds that would be required to accommodate these amendments. Can you give us that figure at this time?"

Senator Donohue: "The most recent figure I have, Senator, which is about ten minutes ago and the very hurried numbers that we came up with would be that in 1980 you would have to have ninety-six new beds; in 1981, one hundred and four; and in 1982, one hundred and fourteen. By 1982 you would have to have a total of about three hundred and fourteen new beds at a cost of about somewhere between twenty-four and thirty million dollars.

"The problem that I think that we have, we all recognize today, is the problem of overcrowded prisons. Senator Day's committee and the ways and means staff have been working to try and figure out what to do within the dollars available as it relates to different kinds of programs; new construction, new diversionary programs, and so forth. I think we have a pretty good program set out to present to both caucuses before this session is over as it relates to the budget.

"It would seem that Senator Pullen's amendment would, in fact, require that we come up and build another prison somewhere, and I am sure that Senator Pullen, although I have not heard him say so, knows exactly where that prison would be. I do not know whether that prison . . . whether you have determined where that would be, Senator, but I would like to hear you respond to that. Evidently there is someplace that you have in mind.

"So I think that first of all, we have to walk before we run, and I think the thing we have to do now is to take care of the terrific problem that we have out there now as relates to the numbers of people, the crowding and so forth. I have to agree with something that Senator Walgren said, Senator Pullen, and that is that there is not anybody on this floor that does not want to see that these people are put away and taken care of, and maybe a couple of years from now after we find out where we are as related to the population out there, that we could do something like this, and maybe at that time I would support that particular—that is if I am reelected back here—that I would support that kind of program, but I think right now, based upon our dollars, based upon our program that we are going to present to the caucuses, that this is an inappropriate time to pass amendments like this. They are too far-reaching with the problems we already have."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PULLEN

Senator Pullen: "Thank you, Senator Donohue, for your remarks in favor of my amendment. If I understand your remarks, you are saying that if these amendments are not adopted, then by 1980 there is going to be three hundred and fourteen bloodthirsty class A felons out on the streets."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Walgren, House Bill No. 307, as amended on Tuesday, April 10, 1979, together with the pending amendment by Senator Pullen and others, will be considered following Substitute House Bill No. 1018.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 298, by Committee on Ecology (originally sponsored by Representatives Valle, Chandler, Pruitt and Douthwaite):

Controlling vehicle emissions.

The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 298. On Tuesday, April 10, 1979, the committee amendments were adopted.

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, line 1, after "to" strike "motor vehicle emission control" and insert "air pollution".

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Bluechel: "Mr. President, I would challenge scope and object of the amendment by Senator Rasmussen. The bill is an act relating to motor vehicle emission controls, and by the very first line in the amendment by Senator Rasmussen, he changes it to an act relating to air pollution, and, I think, by the very start there we're saying that it is out of scope and object."

RULING BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE HENRY

President Pro Tempore Henry: "The President's ruling is that it does expand the scope and object of the bill."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

A state highway to be known as state route number 160 is established as follows:

Beginning at a junction with state route number 16 in the vicinity west of Port Orchard, thence northeasterly by way of Port Orchard to Harper and Point Southworth; also Beginning at the Fautleroy ferry terminal, thence northeasterly and easterly to a junction with state route number 5 in the vicinity of Spokane street."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Peterson: "Mr. President, on the basis of the previous remarks and the explanations of the amendment, I would raise the question of scope and object."

RULING BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE HENRY

President Pro Tempore Henry: "I think there is very little doubt as to the question of scope and object. The bill merely gives the transportation department the right to change some numbers on existing highways where alignment has been changed or two roads have been merged. Senator Talmadge's amendment would add additional roads to the system. It has been tried before. There is no statewide significance to it. Besides that, if it were adopted he would be in the category C with that particular road, where absolutely no funds for construction are available. Therefore, it is outside the scope and object."

The amendment was ruled out of order.

On motion of Senator Henry, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 380 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Excused: Senators Guess, Keefe, Newschwander—3.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 380, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 99, by Committee on Judiciary (originally sponsored by Representative Tilly) (by House Committee on Judiciary of 45th Legislature request):

Modifying the procedure for the selection of prospective jurors.

The Senate resumed consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 99: An amendment by Senator Rasmussen had been moved for adoption. An amendment by Senators Hayner and Woody to the amendment by Senator Rasmussen was adopted earlier today.

President Pro Tempore Henry declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Rasmussen as amended by Senators Hayner and Woody.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Odegaard: "Senator Rasmussen, I know you are one who likes local control and does not like the state and federal government mandating things. Wouldn't it be better if in your amendment we authorize the county government to increase the jury fees and that way they would be able to determine whether they had funds sufficient to pay for those rather than the state coming in and telling them they have to and then they might not really have the money to do it?"

Senator Rasmussen: "I would say so, Senator Odegaard, because for this reason; a person could be charged with the same charge and the county could decide we do not have enough money to pay the jurors this time or for another case, we do have it. There is no uniformity then in justice and I think it is important we have uniformity in the way justice is administered."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Rasmussen, what am I going to be able to tell my people when I get home and say that we increased the cost of operating the county by a million two hundred thousand dollars and did not give them any means to do it by?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Guess, I cannot argue with you on the amount of money because I do not know how many jury trials there are. I do know we have passed legislation which is going to reduce the jury trials considerably in this session, in allowing them to go to arbitration on cases and like that. However, you are going to be able to say the same thing to them—it is just one of the costs of having justice administered fairly in the state of Washington."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GUESS

Senator Guess: "I talked to the county commissioners before I came over here and I promised them I would do everything I could to not raise the cost of government without giving them the means whereby to meet that cost of government, so I hope that the body will take due consideration of the fact that it is going to be a tremendous increase in each one of the court house budgets and we are going to have to answer to it."

Further debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the following amendments by Senators Gaspard to the amendment by Senator Rasmussen were adopted:

On page 1, line 19 of the amendment, strike "shall" and insert "~~((shall))~~ may"

On page 1, line 20, after "~~((ten))~~" insert "up to" and after "dollars" insert "but in no case less than ten dollars"

On page 1, line 21 of the amendment, strike "shall" and insert "~~((shall))~~ may"

On page 1, line 24, strike "shall" and insert "~~((shall))~~ may" and after "~~((ten))~~" insert "up to" and after "dollars" on line 25, insert "but in no case less than ten dollars"

On page 2, line 23, strike "shall" and insert "~~((shall))~~ may" and before "~~twenty-~~" insert "up to" and after "dollars" insert "but in no case less than ten dollars"

The motion by Senator Rasmussen carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

Senator Talmadge moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 5, line 32, insert the following new section:

"Sec. 6. Section 1, chapter 38, Laws of 1973 as last amended by section 1, chapter 107, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 36.18.020 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((+7))~~ (18) No fee shall be collected when a petition for relinquishment of parental rights is filed pursuant to RCW 26.36.010."

Renumber remaining sections consecutively.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Marsh: "Mr. President, I raise the point of order that this amendment is beyond the scope and object of the bill. The bill, as introduced, had to do with selection of jurors and juror exemptions and it also had to do with the method of selection of jurors. It transferred the selection from the clerk or comptroller of each incorporated city to the county auditor's office, and I say that this is clearly beyond the scope and should be stricken."

RULING BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE HENRY

President Pro Tempore Henry: "Just to keep the record straight, Senator Marsh, your remarks about requiring a title amendment do not hold any water in this court of law. However, the bill does deal primarily with jury and jury selection, and Senator Talmadge, this just is not your lucky day. It is beyond the scope and object."

The amendment by Senator Talmadge was ruled out of order.

On motion of Senator Van Hollebeke, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 6 following section 8 add new sections to read as follows:

"Sec. 9. Section 72, page 235, Laws of 1854 as last amended by section 3, page 119, Laws of 1888 and RCW 12.050 are each amended to read as follows:

The justice shall write in a panel the names of eighteen persons, (~~citizens of the county~~) selected at random from persons registered as voters within the justice court district, from which the defendant, his agent, or attorney(;) must strike one name; the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, one; and so on alternately until each party shall have stricken six names, and the remaining six names shall constitute the jury to try such case; and if either party neglect or refuse to aid in striking the jury as aforesaid, the justice shall strike the name in behalf of such party.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. If any provision of this amendatory act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

On page 1, on line 8 of the title, after "2.36.120;" insert "amending section 1, chapter 56, Laws of 1907 as last amended by section 1, chapter 76, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 2.36.150; amending and reenacting section 35.20.090, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 3, chapter 53, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and by section 3, chapter 248, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 35.20.090;"

On motion of Senator Van Hollebeke, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 163 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "Senator Rasmussen, is this an additional bill being passed relative to the board of veterinary medical examiners, because you know, this session we have already passed one bill? What happens if there is a conflict in these two?"

Senator Rasmussen: "This is the Washington state veterinary association. It also includes—the board will terminate on June 30, 1983 and will be subject to the state sunset law."

Senator Day: "Mr. President, the question is, we passed a House bill this time, Senator, which reinstated the board which was lost through the court action. Now has this been checked to see if there is any conflict with that act that just reestablished the board?"

Senator Rasmussen: "The answer would be, Senator Day, no, it will be no conflict. It merely adds a lay member and it is my understanding that in 1978 the state supreme court ruled it is a delegation of legislative powers to a private association . . . appointment of members to a similar state board was invalid because it was not accompanied by sufficient standards or guidelines. Proponents believe that the reference to the list submitted by the association must be removed and a lay member should be added to the board to provide general public representation."

On motion of Senator Day, Substitute House Bill No. 163 was made a special order of business on third reading for this afternoon.

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In The President's opinion, it does not, Senator Pullen."

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 329, by Representatives McCormick, Martinis and Wilson:

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Talley, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 329 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator North: "Senator Talley, I have a letter here from the Washington roadside council and it raises a question in my mind. It deals with a Senate bill that we have already passed which is identical to this and which has already been signed by the Governor and is already in law and, of course, I am wondering why we are acting now on a House bill that is doing the same thing.

"But the point that is raised here, it says: 'Can you imagine a sign contributed or sponsored by Black Velvet liquor or Tareyton cigarettes with those words up to two feet by six feet sponsoring a message on a school bus shelter?' I would want to ask you, is this what we are doing with this bill?"

Senator Talley: "I do not think that is the intent. I think if you get much advertising like that they would repeal the bill and they would have no bill. I think they have got to use a little common sense and discretion on this."

Senator North: "I have no argument with the intent. I do think that is the will of the body, but is this bill written in such a way that this kind of thing can happen? I certainly want school children in a shelter from the rain but I do not want them standing there reading cigarette and liquor ads."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Walgren, Engrossed House Bill No. 329 was rereferred to the Committee on Rules.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talley: "Senator North did you vote for liquor ads on that last bill?"

Senator North: "I voted, Senator Talley, favorably on the Senate bill when it was before us and that is what is concerning me. We voted on February 19 and the letter I have here came March 22 and it concerns me very much if I voted 'yes' for this kind of legislation because that certainly was not my intent."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WANAMAKER

Senator Wanamaker: "In order to alleviate any fears of Senator North, this is under the control of the highway department that can specify what advertising can be put on, what size and the whole works, so I do not think the roadside council or you or anybody else should have any fears."

Is there any way that I can tell by looking at that number whether I get an A—one job, B—one job or D job? That would be important to me, a widow that wants to get a little carpenter work or roof put on or something done."

Senator Quigg: "Senator Rasmussen, if you surveyed the list of advertisers, let us say, in the classified section of the Tribune or some place and you ran down there and saw that some had numbers alongside of them and some did not, I would think that you as a widower or widow, particularly you as a widow, would be particularly concerned to see that you retained a contractor that was a licensed contractor, that took the time to get himself licensed, to see to it that he was involved in what consumer protection the state does provide for widows like yourself. And I think you would find that would provide a service and while it would not guarantee an A— job or even a C minus, at least you would have a little bit of screening going on ahead of time and probably save some of your time to go on and play bingo or something else rather than get involved with a contractor that is trying to take that last bit of the pension away from you."

Signed by: Senators McDermott, Chairman; Gaspard, Vice Chairman; Morrison, Ridder, Talmadge.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator McDermott, the committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator McDermott, the committee amendment to the title was adopted.

On motion of Senator McDermott, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 367, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator McDermott, can you tell me what the rationale is for the school board having the power to accredit private schools when we do not support them?"

Senator McDermott: "We have the responsibility of making sure that the program—maybe you had better tell me what part of the bill you are talking about."

Senator Guess: "I am just looking at the summary and it says: 'The bill authorizes accreditation by the state board of education for all schools that apply for such accreditation. Accreditation may be extended to both public and private schools."

Senator McDermott: "That has been in the law. It says 'may'. They may do it. They do not have to do it. If somebody applies to be accredited, the state may do it. It is not a mandatory thing. It does not change anything that is going on now."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hayner: "Senator McDermott, in view of the fact that we have passed the Basic Education Act and we are now amending it and this tells the school districts exactly what kind of courses they must offer, the time frames and much other information such as that, would you please explain to me why this bill is necessary, why we have to have accreditation at all?"

Senator McDermott: "I had some similar questions myself. I talked to the school directors' association about why they wanted it and they wanted it more than anything to just bring the whole system into one piece. Right now it is unclear as to who does accreditation of K through 8 and so this bill brings that in."

Senator Hayner: "Do you presume that there will be a fiscal impact of this? If all of the schools apply for this, for example, is the superintendent of public instruction's office going to then send someone out to be sure and they have to respond to a lot of questionnaires and that sort of thing?"

Senator McDermott: "I assume that if we pass 2709 or some version of that where we set up rules for the possibility of the state superintendent giving them the right to comply, the basis on which to comply with basic ed, I should think there would be no problem."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 367, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 29; nays, 18; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

On page 3, line 12, after "The" strike "victim" and insert "parties"

On page 3, line 17, after "officer" strike "shall, where circumstances permit," and insert "may"

On page 3, line 35, after "that" strike "the injured" and insert "either"

On page 4, line 3, after "person," strike "including the person's attorney" and insert "other than the attorney of a criminal defendant,"

On page 4, line 5, after "violence" and before the semicolon insert ": PROVIDED, That the court may order a criminal defense attorney not to disclose to his client the victim's location"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Day, today is an important day. This is new legislation. On page 1, line 25, it says, 'Furthermore, it is the intent of the legislature that criminal and civil laws be enforced without regard to whether persons involved were married, cohabitating or involved in a relationship.' I am confused."

Senator Day: "You are confused because you did not listen to my explanation of the amendment the committee put on. The first amendment strikes the word 'civil' in the very language that you read, so that is now reads: 'Furthermore, it is the intent of the legislature that criminal laws be enforced without regard to whether persons are married' etc. Consequently, it does not leave the inference that the state by saying civil laws condones cohabitation or people living under other arrangements. Does that make you feel better, Senator?"

Senator Rasmussen: "No, Senator Day. I am wondering what is a criminal relationship."

Senator Day: "It does not say criminal relationship. It says the intent of the legislature that criminal laws be enforced without regard to whether, regardless of what situation a person is in. Certainly we want the criminal laws enforced regardless, Senator, and that is what this now says, which should clear up your concern."

Senator Rasmussen: "Frankly, Senator Day, I am concerned that I might be involved in a relationship that might be determined as criminal and not know what it is."

Senator Day: "All this says is criminal laws are going to be upheld, Senator. It does not say anything about a criminal relationship."

Senator Rasmussen: "I think it is pretty broad."

Senator Day: "I will withhold the comment that flashed through my mind."

Permitting certain persons and institutions to prepare documents relating to the sale of property.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

April 5, 1979.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 481, permitting certain persons and institutions to prepare documents relating to the sale of property (reported by Committee on Financial Institutions and Insurance):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 3, beginning on line 3, strike all of section 3.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 1, line 4, after "RCW;" and before "and" strike "adding a new section to chapter 19.86 RCW;"

Signed by: Senators Bausch, Chairman; Bluechel, Clarke, Jones, von Reichbauer.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Bausch moved adoption of the committee amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Bausch, the explanation for the removal of that section, as I read it, comparing it to section 2 which provides the requirement that the purchaser be notified, that same requirement appears in section 3 at the bottom. As I understand that, you are removing from the chapter 19.86 which is the unfair and deceptive practices act, you are going to put that section in that act, and I need to know a little bit more about why it was considered vague and you say the attorney general's consumer fraud division appeared and testified in favor of removing it?"

Senator Bausch: "Briefly, yes, and then I will defer to Senator Clarke. It was felt that it was redundant and also that it gives them too many broad powers and they felt that it should be tightened up in behalf of the consumer."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: "Further answering, the bill as originally proposed, Senator Bottiger, would in effect have insulated all of those acts from the Consumer Protection Act and by removing this section, it simply leaves them within the Consumer Protection Act if, without this law, they would fall within it, so that was why the attorney general's office wanted it."

The motion by Senator Bausch carried and the committee amendment was adopted.

Senator Hayner moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Hayner and North:

On page 1, beginning on line 7, strike all of section 1.

Renumber remaining sections consecutively.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Hayner, I was looking through this bill quickly. I do not see massage parlors in here and our sheriff is after them in our county and if it was in there I would certainly go along with you in striking out this section. However, I was looking over on page 2, it says 'no person or entity makes an additional charge for the selection, preparation or completion of any such document or instrument.' My question is, that would be in line with the recent supreme court decision then, wouldn't it, what was it, Great Western, where they are charging for making out documents? This would permit them to make out necessary documents as long as they did not charge for them?"

Senator Hayner: "Yes. The Washington Bar Association v. the Great Western Savings and Loan said that they could not enter into agreements and charge for that. They could not draft legal instruments and charge for that where they were a part of that agreement. Now it was not before the supreme court, whether or not they could draft third party agreements between two other parties in which they might be interested in a very minor way. So that decision was not made by the supreme court in that case."

Senator Rasmussen: "My next question would be, there is nothing in here that prohibits any person from going to their own attorney and have the documents drawn?"

Senator Hayner: "No, there is not, and there is also nothing to prevent the bank from drafting an instrument and entering into an agreement with another party on that instrument as long as they do not charge a fee for it. That is what the supreme court says, and this bill does not change that."

Senator Rasmussen: "Then I fail to see why you want to take section 1 out."

Senator Hayner: "Section 2 says that—this bill also deals with third party instruments, Senator Rasmussen, and I think this goes far too far to say that it is in the public interest to let a group of people, many of whom have had no training in this field whatsoever, to draft third party instruments. Now if you and I want to enter into an instrument, we are certainly free to do that at any time, but when you are giving financial institutions the right to draft third party instruments and give these people the right to rely on them, that they are going to do such a great job, then you are going far beyond, I think, what is in the public interest."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Scott: "Now that three lawyers have stood up, I guess I can stand up. I find nothing in lines 8 through 28 on page 1 that people listed are all professionals in the field nor do I find a motive for them doing anything that they are not very familiar with. I do not think we are saying that lawyers are excluded as a matter of public policy in that deliberate sense. We are saying there is no reason why these people cannot do it. Now why can't they do it?"

Senator Hayner: "I guess that the reason I object to their doing it is because lawyers go to school for a minimum of seven years. They take a very difficult bar examination. In addition to that, they have continuing education which they have to do every year if they are going to maintain their license. I have to assume, on the basis of that, these legal instruments are not as simple as some of the nonprofessionals seem to think they are, and if you want me to relate a parade of horrors I can do so on some of these things which have happened by real estate people and others who have drafted these instruments without realizing the effect."

The motion by Senator Hayner carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Hayner, the following amendment by Senators Hayner and North was adopted:

On page 2, line 20, strike "including but not"

On motion of Senator Bausch, the committee amendment to the title was adopted.

On motion of Senator Bausch, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 481, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

(1) Every legislator and every committee of the legislature shall file with the commission quarterly reports listing the names, addresses, and salaries of all persons employed by the person or committee making the filing for the purpose of aiding in the preparation or enactment of legislation or the performance of legislative duties of such legislator or committee during the preceding quarter. (2) Unless authorized by subsection (3) of this section or otherwise expressly authorized by law, no public funds ~~((shall))~~ may be used directly or indirectly for lobbying: PROVIDED, This ~~((shall))~~ does not prevent officers or employees of an agency from communicating with a member of the legislature on the request of that member; or communicating to the legislature, through the proper official channels, requests for legislative action or appropriations which are deemed necessary for the efficient conduct of the public business or actually made in the proper performance of their official duties: PROVIDED FURTHER, That this subsection ~~((shall))~~ does not apply to the legislative branch.

(3) Any agency, not otherwise expressly authorized by law, may expend public funds for lobbying, but such lobbying activity shall be limited to (a) providing information or communicating on matters pertaining to official agency business to any elected official or officer or employee of any agency or (b) advocating the official position or interests of the agency to any elected official or officer or employee of any agency: PROVIDED, That public funds ~~((shall))~~ may not be expended as a direct or indirect gift or campaign contribution to any elected official or officer or employee of any agency. For the purposes of this subsection, the term "gift" ~~((shall))~~ means a voluntary transfer of any thing of value without consideration of equal or greater value, but ~~((shall))~~ does not include informational material transferred for the sole purpose of informing the recipient about matters pertaining to official agency business: PROVIDED FURTHER, That this section ~~((shall))~~ does not permit the printing of a state publication which has been otherwise prohibited by law.

(c) ~~((An itemized))~~ A listing of any special expenditures incurred by the agency primarily for such ((activities)) lobbying including but not limited to travel, consultant or other special contractual services, and brochures and other publications, the principal purpose of which is to influence legislation;

(d) For purposes of subsection (4) of this section the term "lobbying" does not include:

(D) Preparation or adoption of policy positions.

The statements shall be in the form and the manner prescribed by the commission and shall be filed within ~~((thirty days))~~ one month after the end of the quarter covered by the report.

(5) In lieu of reporting under subsection (4) of this section any county, city, town, municipal corporation, quasi municipal corporation, or special purpose district may determine and so notify the public disclosure commission, that elected officials, officers, or employees who on behalf of any such local agency engage in lobbying reportable under subsection (4) of this section shall register and report such reportable lobbying in the same manner as a lobbyist who is required to register and report under RCW 42.17.150 and 42.17.170. Each such local agency shall report as a lobbyist employer pursuant to RCW 42.17.180.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Woody, I just glanced at this bill and I have not had time to thoroughly study it. It kind of sneaked up on me. My question is, this will allow public bodies to spend money for pro or con against legislation?"

Senator Woody: "No, it will not. It simply allows them to make a public statement."

Senator Rasmussen: "In what manner do they make this public statement, by putting out circulars or putting an ad in the paper or just saying 'I do, this is good'?"

Senator Woody: "It allows them to make a public statement in a public meeting of which they have previously advertised that they will be addressing themselves to a specific ballot issue. They cannot expend any monies in support or opposition of a ballot measure."

Senator Rasmussen: "I am trying to get the intent on the record then, Senator Woody. It is the intent that they be not allowed to spend any money espousing their views, public money?"

Senator Woody: "That is right."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Woody, giving you a hypothetical and asking you to respond and perhaps making a slight statement that I hope, obviously, gets in the record. At the committee we discussed the question of whether one of us wrote a letter explaining the effects of a school levy, I think as some of us have done, explaining that the legislature intends to have a rollback in the budget and there would not be any free windfall. Could we write that letter on our stationery and if the group in support of the levy decided to reprint our letter, they would be permitted to do that and that would not be an infraction?"

Senator Woody: "Yes, that is correct because your letter would be in response to a specific inquiry and that language is in the bill."

"Section 1. Section 1, chapter 234, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 1, chapter 237, Laws of 1967 and RCW 34.04.010 are each amended to read as follows:

((For the purpose of this chapter:)) The definitions set forth in this section shall apply throughout this chapter, unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Agency" means any state board, commission, department, or officer, authorized by law to make rules or to adjudicate contested cases, except those in the legislative or judicial branches.

(2) "Rule" means any agency order, directive, or regulation of general applicability (a) the violation of which subjects a person to a penalty or administrative sanction; (b) which establishes, alters, or revokes any procedure, practice, or requirement relating to agency hearings; (c) which establishes, alters, or revokes any qualification or requirement relating to the enjoyment of benefits or privileges conferred by law; (d) which establishes, alters, or revokes any qualifications or standards for the issuance, suspension, or revocation of licenses to pursue any commercial activity, trade, or profession; or (e) which establishes, alters, or revokes any mandatory standards for any product or material which must be met before distribution or sale. The term includes the amendment or repeal of a prior rule, but does not include (i) statements concerning only the internal management of an agency and not affecting private rights or procedures available to the public, (ii) declaratory rulings issued pursuant to RCW 34.04.080, as now or hereafter amended, or (iii) speed restrictions for motor vehicles established by the state highway commission.

(3) "Contested case" means a proceeding before an agency in which an opportunity for a hearing before such agency is required by law or constitutional right prior or subsequent to the determination by the agency of the legal rights, duties, or privileges of specific parties. Contested cases shall also include all cases of licensing and rate making in which an application for a license or rate change is denied except as limited by RCW 66.08.150, or a license is revoked, suspended, or modified, or in which the granting of an application is contested by a person having standing to contest under the law or agency rules.

(4) "License" includes the whole or part of any agency permit, certificate, approval, registration, charter, or any form of permission required by law, including agency rule, to engage in any activity, but does not include a license required solely for revenue purposes.

(5) "Licensing" includes the agency process respecting the grant, denial, renewal, revocation, suspension, annulment, withdrawal, or modification of a license.

(6) "Rules review committee" or "committee" means either of the administrative rules review committees created pursuant to section 4 of this 1979 act for the purpose of selectively reviewing existing and proposed rules of state agencies.

Sec. 2. Section 3, chapter 237, Laws of 1967 as last amended by section 7, chapter 240, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 34.04.025 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Prior to the adoption, amendment, or repeal of any rule, each agency shall:

(a) File notice thereof with the code reviser in accordance with RCW 34.08.020(1) for publication in the state register, and with the secretary of the senate, the chief clerk of the house of representatives, and the rules review committees, and mail such notice to all persons who have made timely request of the agency for advance notice of its rule-making proceedings. Such notice shall also include (i) reference to the authority under which the rule is proposed, (ii) a statement of either the terms or substance of the proposed rule or a description of the subjects and issues involved, and (iii) the time when, the place where, and the manner in which interested persons may present their views thereon;

(b) Furnish to the legislature, along with the notice required by subsection (1)(a) of this section, a statement of the reasons supporting the proposed action;

(c) Afford all interested persons reasonable opportunity to submit data, views, or arguments, orally or in writing. In case of substantive rules, opportunity for oral hearing must be granted if requested by twenty-five persons, by a governmental subdivision or agency, by the rules review committees, or by an association having not less than twenty-five members.

(2) The agency shall make every effort to insure that the information on the proposed rule circulated pursuant to subsection (1)(a) of this section accurately reflects the rule to be presented and discussed at any oral hearing on such rule. Where substantial changes in the draft of the proposed rule are made after publication of notice in the register which would render it difficult for interested persons to properly comment on the rule without further notice, new notice of the agency's intended action as provided in subsection (1)(a) of this section shall be required.

(3) The agency shall consider fully all written and oral submissions respecting the proposed rule including those addressing the question of whether the proposed rule is within the intent of the legislature as expressed by the statute which the rule implements, and may amend the proposed rule at the oral hearing or adopt the proposed rule, if there are no substantial changes, without refileing the notice required by this section. Upon adoption of a rule, the agency, if requested to do so by an interested person either prior to adoption or within thirty days thereafter, shall issue a concise statement of the principal reasons for and against its adoption, incorporating therein its reasons for overruling the considerations urged against its adoption.

~~((2))~~ (4) No proceeding (shall) may be held on any rule until twenty days have passed from the distribution date of the register in which notice thereof was contained. The code reviser shall make provisions for informing an agency giving notice under subsection (1) of this section of the distribution date of the register in which such notice will be published.

~~((3))~~ (5) No rule hereafter adopted is valid unless adopted in substantial compliance with this section, (or, if) unless it is an emergency rule designated as such(;) and is adopted in substantial compliance with RCW 34.04.030, as now or hereafter amended. In any proceeding a rule cannot be contested on the ground of noncompliance with the procedural requirements of RCW 34.08.020(1), of this section, or of RCW 34.04.030, as now or hereafter amended, after two years have elapsed from the effective date of the rule.

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 234, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 8, chapter 240, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 34.04.030 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((1))~~ If the agency finds that immediate adoption or amendment of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observance of the requirements of notice and opportunity to present views on the proposed action would be contrary to the public interest, the agency may dispense with such requirements and adopt the rule or amendment as an emergency rule or amendment. The agency's finding and a (brief) concise statement of the reasons for its finding shall be incorporated in the emergency rule or amendment as filed with the office of the code reviser under RCW 34.04.040 and with the rules review committees. An emergency rule or amendment (shall) may not remain in effect for longer than ninety days after filing. This section does not relieve any agency from compliance with any law requiring that its permanent rules be approved by designated persons or bodies before they become effective.

~~((2) The emergency rule published in the register is solely to inform the public of its adoption, and nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the implementation of the rule upon its filing with the code reviser in accordance with RCW 34.04.040(2).)~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is added to chapter 34.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) In each house of the legislature there shall be a rules review committee. Each committee shall be bipartisan and shall consist of four members from each house of the state legislature. The members of the senate committee shall be appointed by the majority leader of the senate, and the members of the house committee shall be appointed by the speaker of the house. Not more than two members from each house shall be from the same political party. Each appointment to a committee shall be subject to approval by the caucus to which the appointed member belongs.

(2) The initial members of each committee shall be appointed as soon as possible after the effective date of this 1979 act, and shall serve until the next regular session of the legislature convenes. Thereafter members shall be appointed as soon as possible after the legislature convenes in regular session, and their terms shall extend until the legislature next convenes in regular session or until such members no longer serve in the legislature, whichever occurs first. Members may be reappointed to a committee.

(3) The majority leader of the senate shall appoint the chairperson of the senate committee from among committee membership. The speaker of the house shall appoint the chairperson of the house committee from among committee membership. Such appointments shall be made in January of each year as soon as possible after a legislative session convenes. If no session is convened, such appointments shall be made as soon as possible after the second Monday in January of each year.

(4) Vacancies on the committee shall be filled as soon as possible from the same political party as original appointments.

(5) Whenever the committees meet jointly pursuant to sections 5 through 7 of this 1979 act, the chairperson of the senate rules review committee shall preside over such joint meetings in odd-numbered years, and the chairperson of the house rules review committee shall preside over such joint meetings in even-numbered years.

(6) The committees shall adopt rules governing the conduct of their business, not in conflict with joint rules of the legislature or rules of the house and senate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. There is added to chapter 34.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Whenever a majority of the members of each review committee, meeting jointly, determine that a proposed rule is not within the intent of the legislature as expressed in the statute which the rule implements, the review committees shall give the affected agency written notice of their decision. The notice shall be given at least seven days prior to any hearing scheduled for consideration of or adoption of the proposed rule pursuant to RCW 34.04.025(1)(a)(iii) as now or hereafter amended. The notice shall include a statement of the review committees' joint findings and the reasons therefor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. There is added to chapter 34.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) All rules required to be filed pursuant to RCW 34.04.040, and emergency rules adopted pursuant to RCW 34.04.030 as now or hereafter amended, are subject to selective review by the legislature.

(2) If each rules review committee finds by a majority vote of its members in a joint meeting: (a) That an existing rule is not within the intent of the legislature as expressed by the statute which the rule implements, or (b) that the rule has not been adopted in accordance with all applicable provisions of law, the agency affected shall be notified of such finding and the reasons therefor. Within thirty days of the receipt of the rules review committees' notice the agency shall file notice of a hearing on the rule in question with the code reviser and mail notice to all persons who have made timely request of the agency for advance notice of its rule-making proceedings as provided in RCW 34.04.025, as now or hereafter amended. The agency's notice shall include the rules review committees' findings and reasons therefor, and shall be published in the Washington state register in accordance with the provisions of chapter 34.08 RCW.

(3) The agency shall consider fully all written and oral submissions respecting whether the rule in question is within the intent of the legislature as expressed by the statute which the rule implements and whether the rule was adopted in accordance with all applicable provisions of law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. There is added to chapter 34.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) Within seven days of an agency hearing held after notification of the agency by the rules review committees pursuant to section 5 or 6 of this 1979 act, the affected agency shall notify the committees of its action regarding a proposed or existing rule to which the committees objected. If the rules review committees determine, by a majority vote of their members in a joint meeting, that the agency has failed to provide for the required hearings or notice of its action to the committees, the committees may file notice of their objections, together with a concise statement of the reasons therefor, with the code reviser within thirty days of such determination.

(2) If the rules review committees find, by a majority vote of their members in a joint meeting, that the proposed or existing rule in question has not been modified, amended, withdrawn, or repealed by the agency so as to conform with the intent of the legislature, the rules review committees may, within thirty days from notification by the agency of its action, file with the code reviser notice of their objections together with a concise statement of the reasons therefor. Such notice and statement shall also be provided to the agency by the rules review committees.

(3) The code reviser shall publish the rules review committees' notice of objection and statement of the reasons therefor issued pursuant to subsection (1) or (2) of this section in the Washington state register and shall publish in the next supplement and compilation of the Washington Administrative Code a reference to the committees' objection and to the issue of the Washington state register in which the full text thereof appears.

(4) Such notice shall be removed from a rule published in the Washington Administrative Code if a subsequent adjudicatory proceeding determines that the rule is within the intent of the legislature or was adopted in accordance with all applicable laws, whichever was the objection of the rules review committees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. There is added to chapter 34.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) The committees may recommend to the legislature that the original enabling legislation serving as authority for the promulgation of any rule reviewed by the committees be amended or repealed in such manner as the committees deem advisable.

(2) The creation of the rules review committees does not preclude any standing committee of the legislature from conducting studies of agency rules, holding hearings on rules, providing staff assistance to the rules review committees, referring questionable rules to the rules review committees, or making recommendations to the legislature that the original enabling legislation for an agency be amended or repealed.

(3) The rules review committees shall report on their activities, including findings and recommendations with respect to rule-making procedures of state agencies and institutions of higher education, thirty days prior to the convening of the regular session of the legislature in 1981.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. There is added to chapter 34.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

It is the express policy of the legislature that establishment of procedures for review of administrative rules by the legislature and the notice of nonconformance required by sections 6(2) and 7(2) of this 1979 act in no way serves to establish a presumption as to the legality or constitutionality of a rule in any subsequent judicial proceedings interpreting such rules.

Sec. 10. Section 2, chapter 57, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as amended by section 42, chapter 169, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 28B.19.020 are each amended to read as follows:

The term includes the amendment or repeal of a prior rule but does not include rules, regulations, orders, statements, or policies relating primarily to the following: Standards for admission; academic advancement, academic credits, graduation and the granting of degrees; tuition and fees, scholarships, financial aids, and similar academic matters; employment relationships; fiscal processes; or matters concerning only the internal management of an institution and not affecting private rights or procedures available to the general public; and such matters need not be established by rule adopted under this chapter unless otherwise required by law.

Such notice shall also include (i) reference to the authority under which the rule is proposed, (ii) a statement of either the terms or substance of the proposed rule or a description of the subjects and issues involved, and (iii) the time when, the place where, and the manner in which interested persons may present their views thereon;

~~((2))~~ (4) No proceeding ~~((shall))~~ may be held on any rule until twenty days have passed from the distribution date of the register in which notice thereof was contained. The code reviser shall make provisions for informing an institution of higher education giving notice under subsection (1) of this section of the distribution date of the register in which such notice will be published.

~~((3))~~ (5) No rule adopted under this chapter is valid unless adopted in substantial compliance with this section, ~~((or, if))~~ unless it is an emergency rule designated as such(:) and is adopted in substantial compliance with RCW 28B.19.040, as now or hereafter amended. In any proceeding a rule cannot be contested on the ground of noncompliance with the procedural requirements of RCW 34.08.020(1), of this section, or of RCW 28B.19.040, as now or hereafter amended, after two years have elapsed from the effective date of the rule.

~~((4))~~ (6) When twenty days notice of intended action to adopt, amend, or repeal a rule has not been filed with the code reviser, as required by subsection ~~((2))~~ (4) of this section, the code reviser ~~((shall))~~ may not publish such rule, and such rule ~~((shall))~~ may not be effective for any purpose.

The time having arrived, the Senate resumed consideration of House Bill No. 860 and the following amendment by Senators Marsh, Matson and Donohue moved for adoption on Tuesday, April 10, 1979:

On page 2, after line 21 add a subsection as follows:

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Marsh, would you give me a definition for the word 'reasonable' please, as used in the phrase 'provide reasonable assurance'?"

Senator Marsh: "Generally speaking, when we talk about reasonable, it is what reasonable men would agree to. We talk about the reasonable prudent man rule, and I would think that reasonable there would be what a jury of contemporaries would decide to be reasonable. It is flexible and it depends on the circumstance."
