Ralph Munro, Secretary of State

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Honored members of the Senate and ladies and gentlemen. The President wishes to correct an error. Whereas this fine gentleman on the rostrum is one of the most noted people in the State of Washington, I think that he certainly deserves an introduction to those who may not know Chief Justice William H. Williams. This man's life reads like the All American Boy, Dick Armstrong. He grew up in the Spokane public schools. After graduating from high school, he attended the University of Idaho where he studied political science and during this time his education was interrupted by World War II and Bill Williams enlisted and served with great honor in the Air Force as a bomber pilot. Upon his return to the University of Idaho, he became the scourge of all Idaho's opponents in football. He was known as the Hillard Rifle because of the great accuracy and veracity and propulsion of the perfect pass. In fact, I truly believe had not the Chief Justice been born a few years too early that he would chase Zorn and Krieg off the Seahawks squad and lead the Seahawks to the Super Bowl. Bill was sworn in this morning as Chief Justice of the finest Supreme Court in the country, and I do request that you all join with me in warmly greeting the Chief Justice and giving him our very best wishes. How about a standing ovation?"

REMARKS BY CHIEF JUSTICE WILLIAMS

Chief Justice Williams: "Thank you, Governor Cherberg, for that very nice introduction. Those days you referred to are dim in my memory of those many years ago, but thank you very much. I've been looking forward to coming over here and performing this function, which I have performed before. This is the third year in a row that I have done it and I have enjoyed it very much and I am looking forward now to swearing in all the new members to the State Senate. Thank you very much."

The Acting Secretary called the roll of the following reelected Senators and all were present: Max E. Benitz, Alan Bluechel, George Fleming, H. A. "Barney" Goltz, Sam C. Vognild, Peter von Reichbauer, Al Williams.

On the ill-fated day of Friday, the 13th of February, 1981, we had a change of leadership. We had the stationery all printed, so it is my pleasure to place in nomination the name of Barney Goltz, so he can use the stationery he had. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GASPARD

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the nominations for President Pro Tempore were closed.

May I say, Barney, that I found the experience to be most pleasant and inspirational and that I am looking forward with great interest to working with you once again. You have the heartiest congratulations of the members of the Senate and of the President, along with our best wishes for your continued success.

"May I say to you, Senator Guess, I should like to express my deepest appreciation to you for the wonderful manner in which you conducted the Office of the President Pro Tempore. You did a wonderful job in one of the most trying and difficult sessions in the history of modern time. Sam, it was a true pleasure working with you and I am very grateful for the tremendous cooperation and support you gave me.

"The President believes it is certainly fitting and proper at this time to ask the very charming and gracious wife of Senator Goltz, Marguerite Goltz, to please stand and be recognized.

"The President also believes it is in order and proper and fitting for a very dear friend, Dorothy Guess, to be recognized. Thank you very much."

ELECTION OF VICE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The President declared nominations to be open for the office of Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR McDERMOTT

Senator McDermott: "Mr. President and members of the Senate. It is a pleasure to place the name of Senator Slim Rasmussen in nomination for Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate. A few minutes ago, Slim leaned over and said 'please make it short.' I said 'well, I'll have to tell the truth.' A few years ago when I came to the Senate, an old member said to me, 'there is one person you should get to know in the Senate and that is Slim.' He has records in his basement that could tell you why everything has happened back to the year one and on the odd days when Barney Goltz and Governor Cherberg aren't here, the Senate will be in good hands if you elect Slim as Vice President Pro Tempore."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the nominations for Vice President Pro Tempore were closed.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Honored members of the Senate and ladies and gentlemen. What do you say about Slim Rasmussen? It is one of the few times in my life that I am stumped. I think that they must have thrown the mold away when Slim came along. At any rate, Slim, heartiest congratulations. I think you are one of the finest and maybe the finest Senator to ever serve in the Washington State Senate. You are indefatigable, persevering and determined, to say the least."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Mr. President, and thank you all for your vote. I only hope that I can serve with the same dedication, humility and sincerity that my predecessor did and will do. He has been a great help to all of us--Senator Clarke--and I appreciate the beautiful escort that I had excluding Senator Clarke. I thought I wasn't going to get that escort for a while. Thank you, Mr. President, for remembering me."

ELECTION OF THE SECRETARY OF THE SENATE

The President declared nominations to be open for the office of Secretary of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR MOORE

Senator Moore: "Mr. President and fellow members. I am placing in nomination the name of Sid Snyder. I have to tell you that if I had been half as successful in everything that I've tried as Sid Snyder has in everything that he has tried, I would really be pleased with myself. He has been a very successful person in public service. He has been successful in business and I can truthfully say in all the years that I have known him that he has never hurt anyone."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I rise to second the nomination of Sid Snyder. Truthfully, in taking the opportunity to second the nomination, I wanted to tell you that I have served many, many years with Sid Snyder--both when we worked in the House and when we worked in the Senate. I want to say that as the person that did nominate him, Senator Moore, also served with this person in the House and he knows how much work there is involved, and he did an excellent job when he was there. So I urge you all to give Sid Snyder a resounding vote and I know you will."

REMARKS BY SENATOR JONES

Senator Jones: "Mr. President, I, too, would like to add to the nomination of Sid Snyder as Secretary of the Senate. As we all know, he served during our term as the majority and I believe did a more than creditable job in both instances and it is my pleasure to add the present minority's well wishes and good feelings toward Sid Snyder."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, nominations for Secretary of the Senate were closed.

ROLL CALL

Excused: Senator Conner - 1.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators Owen and Fuller as a committee of honor to escort Sid Snyder to the rostrum.

Chief Justice William H. Williams of the Washington State Supreme Court administered the oath of office to Sid Snyder.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Honored members of the Senate, ladies and gentlemen. At the start of the 39th Legislature, January 11, 1965, a beloved and most distinguished member of the Senate, The Honorable Marshall Neill, gave a graphic description of the Office of Secretary of the Senate, which puts the office in the proper perspective.

"Senator Neill emphasized that your office as Senator, the office of President Pro Tempore, my office as President are all political offices, but the person who serves as Secretary of the Senate and keeps the wheels of the state operating and makes the administrative machinery go is not exactly a political office. That person serves all of us, either Republican or Democrat.

"I am sure that you will agree with Senator Neill's remarks and also agree that Sid Snyder more than fulfills his oath of office and has truly earned the respect, the admiration and affection of all of us fortunate enough to be associated with Sid Snyder.

Sid, won't you please say a few words?"

REMARKS BY SID SNYDER

Sid Snyder: "Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, Governor, I certainly appreciate those kind words and the kind words from the people on both sides of the aisle who nominated and seconded my nomination. I do deem this a high privilege and honor to be Secretary of the Senate and I hope that I can carry out and perform my duties as Governor Cherberg has just described.

"I don't know. After reading the morning paper, I think probably the best advice I could get was from what my horoscope said. It said 'some dating plans may be changed; Make sure you make yourself clear in talks with others; Minor misunderstandings could occur.'

"Thank you very kindly."

ELECTION OF SERGEANT AT ARMS

The President declared nominations to be open for the office of Sergeant at Arms of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR HURLEY

Senator Hurley: "Mr. President, I nominate Ole Scarpelli as Sergeant at Arms of the Senate. Ole will give efficient, polished, dignified, dedicated, cheerful, responsible service, not only to the members of this body, but to the whole legislative system. In the tradition of the Senate, all of this, I promise. I also anticipate that he will even improve on that tradition as the session progresses. It is my great pleasure to nominate my friend, Ole, as Sergeant at Arms of the Senate."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I wish to second the nomination of Ole Scarpelli as Sergeant at Arms. This is a job, as with all other jobs that the office of the Senate has, that requires integrity. It is also a job that requires a person that can protect those of us who are weak and want to talk to lobbyists sometimes. He can direct the lobbyist in a different direction. It is very important that we have a Sergeant at Arms that is firm in his belief that the Senators are entitled to think just for a few minutes without having to think with the lobbyists. So I urge you to support the nomination of Ole Scarpelli, a man of great dedication to work. He will put in the long hours that are necessary and he will also protect the integrity of the Senate."

REMARKS BY SENATOR SELLAR

Senator Sellar: "Mr. President, I, too, would like to take the opportunity to second that nomination of Ole. We on this side of the aisle have always been very impressed with the integrity and service that he gives the Washington State Senate and it gives me great pleasure to second that nomination."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, nominations for Sergeant at Arms of the Senate were closed.

ROLL CALL

The Acting Secretary called the roll and Orlando Scarpelli was elected Sergeant at Arms of the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; excused, 01.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Craswell, Deccio, Fleming, Fuller, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Haley, Hansen, Hayner, Hemstad, Hughes, Hurley, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Quigg, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Sellar, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vogndil, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody, Zimmerman - 48.

Excused: Senator Conner - 1.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators Peterson and Jones as a committee of honor to escort Orlando Scarpelli to the rostrum.

Chief Justice William H. Williams of the Washington State Supreme Court administered the oath of office to Orlando Scarpelli.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Honored members of the Senate, ladies and gentlemen. Before I begin my prepared remarks, I would like to say something. I've have the great privilege of knowing Ole for--oh I would guess thirty-five years. During that course of time, Ole and I have been through some very trying circumstances and in other occasions some joyous circumstances, but the principle thing I want to say is that in that course of time, I have found many, many qualities in Ole that are really highly desirable. He is honest, loyal, vigorous, aggressive, industrious, and well I can't say enough good things about Ole Scarpelli.

"However, his finest and best feature is his beautiful and gracious wife, Esther Scarpelli, and then his two beautiful daughters, Barbara and Joan. I think the entire Scarpelli Mafia is up there, too. Won't all the Scarpelli's stand up please?"

"This is a great moment in the lives of the Scarpelli family, Ole, and you and they have every right to take great pride in your election today to one of the most important offices in the Washington State Senate. Heartiest congratulations and best wishes for your continued success, Ole.

"Now, how about a few remarks?"

REMARKS BY ORLANDO SCARPELLI

Orlando Scarpelli: "Mr. President, honorable and distinguished Senators, thank you for your vote of confidence. I pledge to serve you to the best of my ability. Thank you."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President would like to advise Ole that when he was coaching football if you received a vote of confidence it meant you were on your way out."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Thank you ever so much, Chief Justice Williams, for being with us today. This man carries class with him every place he goes. You added a great deal of class to us and we are very grateful to you. We appreciate your endeavors and all the hard work you put in here today and we hope you come back again soon and often. Thank you very much."

GOVERNOR'S STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

Governor Spellman: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the legislature, distinguished Chief Justice and members of the Supreme Court, distinguished elected officials, ladies and gentlemen, my fellow Washingtonians: I take particular pleasure today in welcoming the new members of the House and Senate. Great things are expected of you and I am certain that you will meet that challenge. I pledge both you and your colleagues my full support, my time and cooperation, in reaching the goals that the people have in this state.

"We are convened in difficult times under the most critical domestic conditions ever experienced in the state of Washington and under an unmistakable mandate from the people to turn the facilities and powers of government toward the relief and solution of those economic, social, and political problems that can be relieved and solved by legislation and by administration.

"We who have been chosen to carry out this mandate are confronted with a great responsibility, but it is reassuring and inspiring to realize that the responsibility is no greater than the opportunity. It will help if we, in our minds and in our hearts, minimize the responsibility and glorify the opportunity--the opportunity to help those who have been deprived of gainful employment.

"It is true, of course, that the restoration of prosperity, as that term is commonly understood, depends on the rest of the country, if not on the other countries of the world, but in the meantime, we in Washington have certain positive duties and responsibilities to recognize and to discharge. We have the positive duty to help ourselves, to manifest faith in ourselves, faith in our commonwealth, and faith in our future. We have the positive responsibility to put our state in the best possible fiscal order so that we may be in the proper position to join the national march of progress to the inevitable turn of the economic tide.

"Fortunately, while it may be difficult for a single state to create and maintain a distinct and a superior industrial and cultural order, Washington has the materials and the tools and the people with which to work, to work out a modern and measurably superior economic and social structure. Surely Washington is a land of plenty. Surely with such resources as we have at hand we need only the spirit to seek, the determination to build, the genius to create and the readiness to cooperate toward a common development."

"Do you think that I have overstated the situation? I doubt that I have. But let the record show that those words were first spoken fifty years ago in these chambers, on January 11, 1933, by Governor Clarence D. Martin, to the 23rd Legislature.

"The days of the 47th session, the last two years, were not typical times for the people and for their decision-makers. The people in particular have suffered greatly in this state. Businesses have suffered. At the time I took office, and many of you took office two years ago, we inherited a state that had been pretending for a long time that there would be no tomorrow. I am reminded of the parable of the grasshopper and the ant--the state spent a good deal of time out playing in the sunshine and not storing up anything for that rainy day. Well, today did come, and it was a sobering time. We had no money in the bank and had made no provisions for such times. Never again should the state go through that type of syndrome. We extended programs in those years, reduced the base of revenues, spent surpluses and entered this depression, recession, flat on our back as a state. That should never be allowed to occur again. I think that must be one of the goals of this session.

"We have, throughout that 47th session and to date, seen plummeting revenues, hundreds of millions of dollars of revenues that were projected that did not come in. The legislature was forced to make very difficult decisions. Tax rates were repeatedly raised and deep cuts were made, and still the revenues did not come up. They didn't remain steady. They have continued to drop. There have been difficult decisions made to hold the system together: the educational system, the institutions, and those vital social programs so necessary at a time like this.

"The hardships that have been felt in the last two years have been broadly shared. The legislature itself has had an all-time record, six sessions in that period--how well you know it--and worked hard late nights to get the business of the people done. Local government has suffered along with state government. The state employees, who have a very high calling to serve the people, doing those jobs that no one in the private sector wants to do or can make a profit from, have borne more than their share of this suffering. I want to publicly thank them and tell them of my determination that we are going to keep the state employees who are here employed because they are necessary to provide those services.

"The citizens, of course, have suffered time after time with declining personal revenues, with loss of jobs, with all of the inconveniences and terrible tragedies that come from such an economic time.

"Now this 48th Legislature convenes, as Clarence Martin said, '... in difficult times under the most critical domestic conditions.' We are all aware of the conditions in the affairs of the state. This is the worst and the longest recession, if it can be called a recession, since World War II, and the highest unemployment since the Great Depression. A full quarter of a million people in the state of Washington are on the lists of the unemployed. There are more, but there are a quarter of a million on the list. Almost half of those people received no unemployment compensation because they were not insured under the program. Their families and those individuals are suffering terribly.

"We have inherited a Washington Public Power Supply System problem that is consuming our energies and our minds in trying to come up with answers. It is an overriding concern, an area of chaos. If there is appropriate legislative action that can be taken to assist at a given time, certainly I will ask for it, and I know that you will cooperate in doing that.

"What we see around us at this point, as Clarence Martin saw fifty years ago, is a global depression. Our big businesses suffer and employees are laid off. Small businesses are suffering and reserves are gone. State government directly feels the impact of the drop in the level of transactions by small and big businesses. Our revenue shortfalls are a barometer directly reflecting the transactions made in the private sector and they are way, way down.

"Unfortunately, there has been no drop in demand for the services of state government. Our product is still in demand. It is more in demand now than it is in normal times. As I said before, it is necessary for us to do those jobs that cannot be done in the private sector because nobody can make a profit providing those services.

"Indeed, we have difficult problems to face, but the spirit of cooperation within this government that came to a zenith in the special session last summer is still alive. If we will maintain that spirit, I am confident this will be remembered as a very good session in hard times. I pledge you my total efforts and support to achieve that goal.

"The 48th Legislature convenes facing an immediate $135 million shortfall. It is the latest of a long series of shortfalls. We have, for the past two years, cut repeatedly to meet those shortfalls. We have increased the rates of revenues, but the revenues have always come in in smaller amounts.

"There remain today less than six months in this biennium. After all of the cuts, there is no time for solutions other than revenue solutions. The educational system, the social system, is on the ropes now and simply cannot get by with less than the meager amount that is left in the budget. It must be funded and it must be funded immediately. It cannot be funded with gimmicks. It must be funded in this biennium and not by repeating the mistakes of the past, by somehow trying to bump it over to the next one. We need quick, decisive action. Then we should get on with the business of setting the course for the new biennium, the following two years.

"Let there be no doubt where I stand on the critical issues that are confronting this session. My program is before you on your desks in detail--in the budget documents, in the executive request bills. I would like to briefly discuss this with you.

"Let there be no doubt about where I stand on education. It is the best-spent dollar the State of Washington spends. You will never see a recession when education is not needed. It is needed more in a recession than in good times, and you will never see prosperity unless there is a sustained dedication and commitment to education in this state, to the skills and the talents necessary to meet the challenges of the modern world. Basic education simply must be fully funded. Higher education must be rebuilt to the quality necessary to provide those skills so that we may be competitive within the country and in the world. We must have increased enrollments. We must have adequate funding. This is a problem not only in this state, but also in the nation. The lamp of education is flickering. I am not prepared to watch it go out, and neither are you. This time we turn the spigot (whatever it is on a lamp) and turn the wick up a little bit and let a little brightness come. The budget that is before you does that and it is time we did that. It is an investment in the future.

"Let there be no doubt in your minds about where I stand on social services. Those services in place in the State of Washington are more needed now than they have been in fifty years. I will not go in great lengths through the trauma, the tragedy, that exists. We must restore additional dollars to those programs to meet the needs of today. That is spelled out in the budget.

"Let there be no doubt about the correctional needs of this state. We cannot wish problems away. We cannot wish there were not prisoners in our jails. There is no projection by any source that indicates that we do not need the jails, the prisons presently planned to be built. They must be built. The facilities are necessary and it is necessary to have industries within the prisons. It is necessary to have education within the prisons. That cannot be done in the current overcrowding of almost catastrophic proportion. Now, some people think we are putting everybody in jail and they say, 'Well, couldn't we ease up a bit?' The fact of the matter is the national average is that about fifty percent of those convicted of crimes go to prison. In the State of Washington, eighty percent go into alternative programs and twenty percent go to prison, and we still have this problem. So, I want to emphasize to you, unless we continue on the course that you set in the last session, we can be facing the potential of an Attica or a New Mexico. That simply is not an option we should ever undertake.

"Let there be no doubt about my position on pensions. This administration inherited a very sick pension system. You, and the others who were here in the last two years, helped to increase the ratio of funding. We must do so again. Again, there is no substitute for paying the bills. If those pensions are going to be paid when the people retire in the years to come, you have to pay in the money now, every year, just like they do on your private insurance policy. No gimmicks, no deferrals, each biennium you must pay the bills of this biennium before this biennium is over and then fully fund them again in the next biennium.

"Let there be no doubt about my position on the 25th month. It has got to go. It was another one we inherited. The 25th month, which, as you will recall, pretends there are 25 months in a two-year period and is actually not just a thirty-day month or a thirty-one-day month, it is a forty-day month. For forty days no revenues come in at the beginning of the biennium. I think it's time we end that dream, which has become a real nightmare to state government. It's time we dispel that fiction and look at the stark reality. The state will not be fiscally sound until we have removed that. The budget that I suggest buys back twenty of those forty days. I hope, by the end of this biennium, our economy will be strong enough so we can buy back the remaining twenty.

"Let there be no doubt about where we should be going on redistricting. I think the events of the last two years have shown us that it is a technical and not a political problem. The courts have, in effect, deflated the political football. I think it is time to pass that deflated football to an independent commission to do the technical task. I suggest that problem should be done by constitutional means. It is about time.

"Let there be no doubt about where I stand on the environment. Together with the people, the environment of this state is our greatest asset. Upon it depends our business, our economy and our life style. The businesses we are seeking want to come here because this is where their people want to live. There will be before you a SEPA bill -- State Environmental Policy Act bill. Two years ago, you created a committee to study that problem and the committee has worked very hard for two years and has come up with a unanimous bill. It has said the environment shall remain inviolable, and it has said we can do so by refining some of the bureaucratic roles. I think the thoughtfulness of two years of work by a committee representing all points of view requires your adoption, and not getting involved in another two years of amending and attempting to come up with a different product. Something that has been worked out that hard deserves an early consideration and your adoption.

"With regard to that I have to say, you will have my thorough cooperation in every area in which you are engaged.

"Now, I have recommended a number of executive request bills to you. They are before you and they reflect some of the principle goals of this administration.

"First is the Housing Finance Commission. That should be passed as soon as possible. It will assist our depressed housing, timber and real estate industries. It will help to provide affordable housing that is so needed by the people of this state. It will do so without creating a bureaucracy, without expending state funds, and without jeopardizing the future of the State of Washington. If it is delayed, the federal program may go away; and we will not be able to talk about it in the future.

"Secondly, there is a need for a rewriting of the state energy code to conserve energy in the construction of new buildings, both private homes and commercial buildings. Meeting the model standards that are being set by the Regional Power Council, we can save dollars for homeowners, for ratepayers--in many cases up to half the dollars--by an adequate conservation program. We can conserve the energy that is needed in this state for jobs. It will create jobs in the process. I might add.

"We must strengthen our drunk-driving laws. Many of you have suggested programs to do that, and I thank you. I hope that you will act on them soon and firmly. Carnage on the highway simply must be stopped. We did well last year in terms of past performances, but still, in December, forty people were killed. Totals represent not just statistics, but lives and permanent injuries. It is essential that that be done. I think the public is ready for such legislation. They are demanding it.

"In terms of transportation, if we are to maintain sufficient and uninterrupted service to commuters on our ferries system, we simply must pass the legislation that passed the Senate the last time through. We can't forget history; we can't pretend that this state has not had a history of collective bargaining over the years. It is a strong part of the private sector. Nor can we ignore the fact that a service like that must go on uninterrupted.

"It is important that you urge Congress to ratify the low-level nuclear compact that has been approved by the State of Washington and its neighboring states. We've hammered it out, and we are the only region in the United States to have done so. It is important that Congress adopt that, and then get on with the business of requiring the other regions of the United States to dispose of their own wastes instead of sending them to us. I would appreciate your help on that.

"There is no more profound need in this state than for jobs and economic development. You, each caucus and each House, have packages. I have a package. What we are trying to do is provide jobs--and it seems to me in the current situation--we need some jobs now, yet we always think futuristically about this--we need some retraining now to suit people in the types of industries that are emerging in our state. We need education in all levels, both academic--don't forget the academic--and vocational, technical and engineering. We, in essence, need the skills to be competitive in the modern world with the other nations in the world, and certainly in the United States.

"My 1983-85 budget proposals support these goals which I've outlined to you. But how do we pay for it? I've told you what the program is; how do we pay for it? Certainly not with gimmicks. I think that every lightbulb has been snatched. Not with higher taxes; the economy will not support that at this time. We should, and we must for the next biennium, extend the current taxes that have been enacted over the last two years. We must replace, with an optional tax, the grocery tax. That isn't going to come back. We've all agreed to that a long time ago.

"I think we should immediately begin the work of broadening the tax base, closing the loopholes. The biggest loophole that every Governor who stood at this podium--with the exception of one, I think, in modern history--has recommended is the extension of sales' taxes to the services in addition to the goods. That will broaden the tax base. It is equitable. I've heard some people say it's hard. First of all, it's fair. Why should one transaction be taxed and another not? Who ever said it was going to be easy? What tax is easy? It's fair; it broadens the base; it addresses the basic need of the state, and funds the programs. I urge you not to brush it aside because you haven't been able to do it in the past. Give it your real effort this time. I think it can be done. It really should be done.

Income tax will come up during this session. It isn't going to come up until we have dealt with problems of the supplemental, the need for revenues to get through the next less-than six months. It shouldn't come up for any final disposition until we have figured out how we're going to fund the budget that you approve for the next biennium and provide revenues, hopefully broad-based revenues, to support that budget for the next biennium. Certainly the work of the Tax Advisory Commission should be and will be put into a bill. That bill will be put before you. It will have my serious work and consideration, together with yours, to see if we can get it passed. In essence--and I think you all know, and if you don't you should--it is not a new tax or a new level of taxes. It is not a tax increase. It is an alternative form of raising the revenues for the plan that you will adopt in this session. That's the only way the Tax Commission has recommended it, and that's the only way I think you will find the votes to get two-thirds of each House. It is certainly the only proposal the people of this state would give serious consideration. Those are the guidelines, and I'll work with you on that. I think, clearly, there must be constitutional lids in order for such a proposal to have serious consideration.

I mentioned awhile ago the cooperation that became apparent in the summer session. I want to thank each of you for that--those of you who were here. For the first time, across the aisle, between the Houses, people started to manifest good faith and put aside the rancor and the partisanship and do the work. I am pleased that people and leadership at this point were members of the group that met regularly during that special session and learned to respect one another. I think that can bear great fruit in this session, and it should. I would urge you to do everything possible to keep that spirit of cooperation alive. I can personally assure you that I shall.

I will continue to carry out my program of making legislators the first persons on my priority list during this session. You are the people that have my time, individually or in groups. I will cooperate with you. I will meet with you. I will share ideas with you, and I think there is reason to be optimistic that we can get our job done responsibly. As I said earlier, people will look back on this as a very good session in a very tough time.

The Speaker last week--I heard and I think a couple of you heard--referred to a basic definition of the blues, as it is reflected in all the songs, all the blues songs. He said the blues always say essentially this: Yesterday was awful, tomorrow's going to be great. Unfortunately, it's today. And that's where we are. These have been hard times, but they are not the time to put aside our strong faith in this state and in the future.

With resources superior to those of any other equal area, with a population that is as enterprising as it is courageous, with a climate that commends itself to all who experience it occupying a position at the gateway of the Oriental and the Occidental commerce of the future, there is no reason why the state of Washington should not, in the near future, take rank among the most prominent states in the Union; or why our people should not enjoy the priceless blessings of prosperity, health and happiness.

Those words weren't spoken today, or fifty years ago. They were spoken almost ninety-five years ago by the state's first Governor to the first legislative session, Elisha P. Ferry, in November of 1889. What he said holds true today, many times over. He had the vision and the foresight to see what could occur in this state. It has occurred, and we have a bright future as a state.

People want to live here. Corporations want to settle here. We have seen rapid growth, even in tough times, of high technology within this state. It is the fastest-growing industry in this state and it should be encouraged.

We are still planting trees in the State of Washington. That timber is still worth something and will be very important in the future of the world. Our fish are still in the ocean and we should make sure there are more of them because it's an important industry in this state. Our educational institutions have been through a couple of tough years. They shouldn't be allowed to suffer longer because they are fundamental to achieving this future of the state.

"Our Director of Agriculture was talking to the freshmen, as I recall, and he said something I hadn't heard before. I'll share it with the rest of you. He said that the farmers in the State of Washington are lean, hungry and very efficient compared to the rest of the United States. They have grown up with that tradition because they not only had to grow the crop that grows more efficiently, but they also had to add a lot of transportation charges on to take it to the markets of the United States. That has changed. The markets for our agricultural products are to the west, to the rim of the Pacific. We are closer than any other part of the United States to those new markets. Our farmers are closer, our industries are closer, our educational institutions are closer. The opportunities are limitless. We are sitting in the pivotal point of our world at a critical time with the greatest opportunity. It is important that we not allow the temporary tough times to diffuse the educational and social programs that will hold this state together until we reach that future. We are on the launching pad. Let's not blow out the fuse now.

"I wish you God speed in your deliberations."

WHEREAS, The City of Ephrata, Washington, was successful in entering a contest for $468,000 of U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development funds for developing a renewable resource energy conservation program in 1980; and

WHEREAS, An innovative energy program was developed in cooperation with the Grant County Commissioners, Grant County Housing Authority and the State Energy Office with the able assistance of others which results in extraction of heat from eighty-four degree city water sources and allows the water to be returned to the city drinking water system; and

WHEREAS, This innovative geothermal system will be dedicated on January 19, 1983, culminating a cooperative, novel and worthy project;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Washington State Senate assembled in Olympia at this Forty-eighth Legislature, That we acknowledge the accomplishments, hard work and determination of the City of Ephrata, its citizens and officials, together with the Grant County Commission, Grant County Housing Authority, the faculty, staff and students of the Oregon Institute of Technology, State Energy Office, Washington's Congressional delegation, and the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and all others involved, for their dedication towards proving that alternative, renewable energy projects can be developed and successful while assisting in achieving our goals of conserving other precious energy resources; and

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, I would ask that Senator Hansen furnish follow-up material on this resolution. We are all for the concept, but it really doesn't give us the information we need to know clearly what the project is about--and I am mindful of a certain windmill project where we were taking advantage of our natural resources--spent about 30 million and I don't know if we are going to spend another 30 million trying to make it work. That was the three windmills that were going to generate so much electricity, so I would like to have some follow-up material on this, so we will know what the results are."

RULE ((65)) 59. Committee bills introduced by a standing committee may be filed with the secretary of the senate and introduced, and the signature of each member of the committee shall be endorsed upon the cover of the original bill.

Committee bills shall be read the first time by title, ordered printed, and referred to the committee on rules for second reading.

COMMITTEE REFERENCE

RULE ((66)) 60. When a motion is made to refer a subject, and different committees are proposed, the question shall be taken in the following order:

~~((FIRST: The committee of the whole senate;~~

~~SECOND: A standing committee;~~

~~THIRD: A select committee.))~~

FIRST: A standing committee.

SECOND: A select committee.

READING OF BILLS

RULE ((67)) 61. Every bill shall be read on three separate days unless the senate deems it expedient to suspend this rule. ~~((PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That))~~ On and after the tenth day preceding adjournment sine die of any ((regular) session, as determined pursuant to Article 2, Section 12 of the Constitution or concurrent resolution, this rule may be suspended by a majority vote. (See also Rule 58).

FIRST READING

RULE ((68)) 62. The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full.

After the first reading, bills shall be referred to an appropriate ~~((standing))~~ committee pursuant to Rule 60.

Upon being reported back by committee, all bills shall be referred to the committee on rules for second reading, unless otherwise ordered by the senate. (See Rule ((51))49.)

A bill shall be reported back by the committee ~~((chairperson))~~ chairman upon written petition therefor signed by a majority of its members. The petition shall designate the recommendation as provided in Rule ((47))45, Sub. 4.

No committee ~~((chairperson))~~ chairman shall exercise a pocket veto of any bill.

Should there be a two-thirds majority report of the committee membership against the bill, a vote shall be immediately ordered for the indefinite postponement of the bill.

RULE ((69)) 63. Upon second reading, the bill shall be read section by section, in full, and be subject to amendment.

Any member may, if sustained by three members, remove a bill from the consent calendar as constituted by the committee on rules. A bill removed from the consent calendar shall take its place as the last bill in the order of consideration of bills on the second reading calendar.

No amendment shall be considered by the senate until it shall have been sent to the secretary's desk in writing and read by the secretary.

All amendments adopted on the second reading shall then be securely fastened to the original bill.

All amendments rejected by the senate shall be spread upon the journal, and the journal shall show the disposition of all amendments.

((HOUSE AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILLS))

MATTERS RELATED TO DISAGREEMENT BETWEEN THE SENATE AND HOUSE

RULE ((72)) 66. When there is a disagreement between the senate and house on a measure before the senate, the senate may act upon the measure with the following motions which have priority in the following order:

To concur

To non-concur

To recede

To insist

To adhere

These motions are in order as to any single amendment or to a series of amendments.

(See Reed's Rules 247 through 254.)

A senate bill, passed by the house with amendment or amendments which shall change the scope and object of the bill, upon being received in the senate, shall be referred to appropriate committee and shall take the same course as for original bills the event a scope and object ruling results in a measure being referred to committee, a motion to ask the house to recede, to insist or to adhere shall be in order on the same day upon which the scope and object ruling resulted in the measure being referred to committee.

BILLS COMMITTED FOR SPECIAL AMENDMENT

RULE ((73)) 67. A bill may be committed with or without special instructions to amend at any time before taking the final vote.

CONFIRMATION OF GUBERNATORIAL APPOINTEES

The standing committee, or subcommittees, pursuant to rule 42, shall hold a public hearing on the appointment. The appointee ((shall)) may be required to

The ~~((chairperson))~~ chairman of the ~~((standing))~~ committee or the presiding member shall administer the oath in accordance with RCW 44.16. (See also Article 2, Sec. 6 of the State Constitution.)

Nothing in this rule shall be construed to prevent a standing committee, or subcommittee, pursuant to rule 42, upon a two-thirds vote of its members, from holding executive sessions when considering an appointment.

When the committee on rules presents the report of the standing committee before the senate, the question shall be the confirmation of the name proposed, and the roll shall then be called and the yeas and nays entered upon the journal,~~((PROVIDED, That))~~ In the event a message is received from the governor requesting return of an appointment or appointments to the office of the governor prior to confirmation, the senate shall vote upon the governor's request and the appointment or appointments shall be returned to the governor if the request is approved by a majority of the senators elected. (Article 13 of the State Constitution.)

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "As a matter of parliamentary inquiry and perhaps Senator Goltz might want to comment, also. I take it that we, at this time, would have the opportunity of presenting and having argument on various amendments and that following the procedure of whether the amendments are adopted or not adopted, the entire resolution would then be again up for discussion on the floor."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The resolution is open to amendments, Senator Clarke."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: "Following the argument on amendments and then on final passage, it would be subject to arguments on both sides after the proposed amendments have been disposed of?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Yes, Senator."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "I have a question on the last paragraph of Subsection 8, Rule 22, Senator Goltz, in which the recording of votes in committee is somewhat unclear. My question would be, should we read this as two parts? All votes in committee should be recorded and then that the preservation of those records shall be as prescribed by the Secretary of the Senate?"

Senator Goltz: "Yes, that is a very good question, Senator Newhouse, and one that I think should be clarified. It is not the intention of this rule that committees would have to have a recorded roll call vote on each measure or amendment brought before the committee. The meaning of this rule is that in the committee, when the committee takes an action, whether it be by voice vote or hand raised vote, it is the intent of this rule to have in the records a statement by the chairman who interprets that vote, so that the vote itself will be recorded.

"This is important in the matter of trying to trace the history of legislation and the meaning of legislation through the legislature, and sometimes a defeated motion adds as much to the interpretation and the knowledge of that bill as a passed motion. I hope that I have answered the first part of your question. The second part, the preservation as prescribed by the Secretary of the Senate, I think, will require this body to ask the Secretary of the Senate, when this passes, to develop a method by which these records are preserved.

"The previous rule had a preservation provision that they be kept for a period of four years. We simply are offering the Secretary of the Senate, the flexibility of developing a system where the records will be maintained in a manner adequate to meet the provision of this rule."

Senator Newhouse: "A further question then, Senator Goltz. You are striking in this proposed amendment to our rules the right of the minority of one-sixth to demand that the individual votes of members on an issue be recorded. Is that your intent? Should we not leave that right to the minority?"

Senator Goltz: "I believe, and someone may have to correct me, but I believe there also is a provision in other rules which will allow for the demand of the roll call. I would have to make a reference to Reed's, but I believe there is already a rule which allows for a minority to demand a roll call vote in a committee."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Lee moved adoption of the following amendment:
On page 23, line 609, after "senate" insert "or joint committees"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Bottiger, just so we can take you up on your offer, when would those joint rules probably be considered by this body?"

Senator Bottiger: "I have asked Senator Goltz to act as a representative of the Senate to meet with somebody from the House and I guess I would have to ask him how he is coming on that. I don't know if they have met yet."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GOLTZ

Senator Goltz: "I would expect that the joint rules would be ready for consideration by the Senate next week."

REMARKS BY SENATOR LEE

Senator Lee: "Thank you, Senator Goltz. With that sort of assurance, Mr. President, presuming I am still recognized, I would withdraw the amendment."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "If there is no objection, the amendment is withdrawn."

MOTION

Senator Haley moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Haley, Hemstad and Pullen:

On page 14, line 412, after "senate" and before the period insert ". One-sixth of the committee may demand an oral roll call"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Bluechel: "Mr. President, I have an amendment which pertains to these same rules. Could you clarify whether there would be any conflict if Senator Haley's amendment is adopted? We are talking about two different areas, but please clarify the order."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President does not believe there is a conflict, Senator Bluechel, but the President believes that the suggestion by the Secretary of the Senate to consider your amendment first would be in order."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Haley, Hemstad and Pullen.

The motion by Senator Haley carried on a rising vote and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bluechel, the following amendment by Senators Bluechel, Hayner and Goltz was adopted:

On page 14, Rule 22, beginning on line 411, strike the underscored material, down through "senate" on line 412, and insert: "All votes in a committee shall be recorded, and the record shall be preserved as prescribed by the secretary of the senate"

MOTION

Senator Hemstad moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Hemstad, Hayner, and Clarke:

On page 28, line 718, after "~~committee~~;) strike all material down to and including "elected." on page 29, line 727, and insert:

~~((APPROPRIATION-BUDGET BILLS"~~

~~RULE 58. Omnibus appropriation bills shall be considered in committee of the whole senate, and no change in the amount appropriated shall be made outside of the committee of the whole.~~

~~No amendment to the omnibus appropriations bill, commonly known as the budget or supplemental budget, adding any new item, or items, thereto not incorporated in the bill as reported by the ways and means committee, shall be adopted except by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the senators elected.))"~~

Debate ensued.

Senator Bluechel demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senators Hemstad, Hayner and Clarke.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Hemstad failed and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 23; nays, 25; absent, 01; excused, 00.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Clarke, Craswell, Deccio, Fuller, Guess, Haley, Hayner, Hemstad, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Pullen, Quigg, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 23.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Hansen, Hughes, Hurley, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vogndild, Warnke, Wojahn, Woody - 25.

Absent: Senator Williams - 1.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 9, line 292, after "shall" and before "bring" insert "without permission of the senate"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Goltz, I read in the newspaper that Mayor Royer of Seattle flew down here, because he didn't have time to travel by car, to attend the State Finance Committee hearing. At that time, it also said, he was accompanied by his bodyguard. Now, I don't know if that is a private bodyguard or whether it is a fireman or a policeman that he takes off the force there in Seattle to bodyguard him, but apparently he brought him with him.

"Now if that gentleman was not a law enforcement officer and Mayor Royer, who may be carrying a gun himself—I don't know—if he needs a bodyguard, he probably is carrying a gun. What I am wondering is, if Mayor Royer, with his bodyguard, wanted to enter this sacred chamber, would we then have to move to suspend the rules the way it is drafted now? Or if the way that Senator Pullen proposes in his amendment, the Secretary of the Senate could prescribe that?"

Senator Goltz: "Senator Rasmussen, in either case, whether the Pullen amendment carried or whether the present rule that I referred to carried, permission of the Senate would be required. Nobody is giving that to anybody else. It would be my interpretation that if a bodyguard comes to the Legislature, he is a law enforcement officer and he would be entitled to carry that. He obviously has a law enforcement officer credential.

"We simply do not want, I think, under this rule change to have people appear here with guns and other dangerous weapons as though this is a place where that kind of intimidation behavior is allowable."

MOTION

At 12:26 p.m., on motion of Senator Bottiger, the Senate adjourned until 11:00 a.m., Thursday, January 20, 1983.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.
SIDNEY R. SNYDER, Secretary of the Senate.

Modifications of a plan by the reconvened commission, or any amendment to the modification by the legislature, shall be accomplished in the same manner as provided for decennial redistricting. The legislature shall enact laws establishing additional procedures for such a reconvened commission."

On page 2, line 28, after "(8)", strike all material down to and including "first." on page 3, line 3, and insert: "Unless amended within thirty days during the next regular or special session by a two-thirds vote of the members elected or appointed in each house of the legislature, the redistricting plan approved by the commission or as modified by a reconvened commission, shall constitute the state districting law."

On page 3, line 7, after "(10)", strike all material down to and including "section." on line 14.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Senator Metcalf: "Mr. President, would the passage of the Hemstad-Talmadge amendments now preclude or eliminate the possibility of considering any other of the amendments that are before the body?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "It may preclude some, but the President would have to review the situation and give you a definite answer."

FURTHER REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Metcalf, and other honored members. The only proposed amendment on the desk that it would preclude is the one on page 3, line 10, strike 'and congressional.' Your amendments would be in order."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Mr. President, you indicated that one of the amendments on the desk that would be precluded was one of the ones I had offered. My amendment is actually several amendments dealing with the issue of congressional redistricting. I have no objection to the Hemstad-Talmadge amendments being considered first, as long as the other aspects of my amendments could later be considered."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Pullen, one of your amendments, the amendment on page 3, line 10, strike 'and congressional,' would be precluded by the Senator Hemstad and Senator Talmadge amendments. Your other three amendments would be in order."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senators Hemstad and Talmadge.

The motion by Senator Hemstad carried and the amendments were adopted.

MOTION

Senator Metcalf moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, line 12, after "district" insert ", and shall be drawn so that every precinct shall be wholly within a single legislative or congressional district."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "Thank you, Mr. President. I am merely going to voice an inquiry that Senator Metcalf may answer. It would seem to me that the concept which he is proposing would more properly be included in the statute if it is a desirable enactment, because I conceive of a possible situation where it is in the Constitution that there could be existing precincts, which in effect, should be reallocated or split.

"I am wondering, Senator, if it wouldn't be more proper to put something like that in the statute, rather than putting it in cement in the Constitution which would mean, in effect, that you could not make a change which would interfere with existing precincts. I just have some apprehension that that kind of situation might develop sometime."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Metcalf.

The motion by Senator Metcalf failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved the following amendments be considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 1, line 7, after "3" strike "and Article XXVII, section 13"

On page 1, line 11, strike "and congressional"

On page 3, line 5, strike "congressional and"

The motion by Senator Pullen failed and the amendments were not adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge the following amendments, the first by Senator Talmadge and the second by Senator Hemstad, were considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 3, line 15, strike "their" and insert "its"

On page 1, line 13, after "follows:" strike "Each" and insert "The legislative"

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 103 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Senator Hemstad, in the original version of Senate Joint Resolution No. 103, there was language on page 2, starting on line 6, down through line 9, that indicates 'no district may be drawn to purposely dilute the voting strength of any language or racial minority group--the commission's plan shall not be drawn to purposely favor any political party, incumbent, or other person or group.' In committee, you amended that language and left the language in 'the commission's plan shall not be drawn to purposely favor or discriminate against any political party or groups.'

"I guess my question is, I would like to know the intent of that language and whether, in fact, we are indeed allowing the commission to dilute the voting strength of a language or racial minority group?"

Senator Hemstad: "Senator Fleming, in response to your query, it was my intent in offering the amendment, striking that sentence from the language of the original proposed resolution, in order to make clear that not only is there concern about the problem about dilution, but there is also concern about the problem of packing.

"That is to say, there can be a concerted intent to harm the interests of a defined minority interest by either diffusing their vote through multiple districts or concentrating their vote into a single district. As the decades go by, looking at now a standard that will be in place, presumably at least, for the next generation in this state, it seems to me, it would work to the disinterest of the minority groups to have as a standard in the Constitution, a requirement that the vote of the minority groups could not be diluted--which would actually be able to be interpreted as requiring that a minority group would be required to be placed wherever possible into a single legislative or congressional district. In many circumstances, that could act to their disinterest."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 103, and the resolution passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 05; absent, 00; excused, 00.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Boltiger, Clarke, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, Fleming, Fuller, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Hansen, Hayner, Hemstad, Hughes, Hurley, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Quigg, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Sellar, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody, Zimmerman - 44.

Voting nay: Senators Bluechel, Guess, Haley, Metcalf, Pullen - 5.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 103, having received the constitutional two-thirds majority, was declared passed.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3112, by Senators Talmadge, Hemstad, Woody, Hughes, Gaspard, Vognild, Bender, Rinehart, Granlund and McManus Enacting the Washington State Redistricting Act.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3112 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3112 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Vognild moved the following amendment by Senators Vognild, Talmadge and Craswell be adopted:

On page 4, line 27, after "subdivisions" insert "and areas recognized as communities of interest"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Vognild, one of the problems, and I happen to live in an area where the city is divided into three districts--Kirkland. The big problem there is finding the right numbers. Now, what you are saying by this, in every case as I would interpret it, is that no city or town or the surrounding community could be separated in redistricting. That is what could be construed by your amendment. Now, is that mathematically possible?

"Let's take the city of Seattle as suggested here. They cannot be separated and yet if you draw any congressional district in the city of Seattle, it doesn't fit. The population size is either over or under, but more importantly for most of the suburban cities, this particular clause would create enormous difficulties on a strictly mathematical basis of making it work out.

"Could you answer what your intent is in something like that? Are you intending to include communities with core suburban areas which have a community of interest which cannot be separated?"

Senator Vognild: "Senator Bluechel, the answer to your question, community of interest, in my opinion, can be areas within areas. When you talk about the downtown area of Seattle, for example, you have communities of interest within the city of Seattle. What I am attempting to do is to say that when it is consistent with the numbers that you have mentioned, and it is not always possible and I think we all recognize that, but when consistent with the population figures, that communities of interest should be maintained inasmuch as possible."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Vognild, Talmadge and Craswell.

The motion by Senator Vognild carried and the amendment was adopted on a rising vote.

MOTIONS

On page 6, line 8, strike "an amended" and insert "a modified"

On page 6, line 31, strike "amending" and insert "modifying"

On page 7, line 17, after "(4)" strike all material down to and including "amendment to the" on line 36 and insert: "The commission shall complete the modification to the redistricting plan as soon as possible, but no later than sixty days after the effective date of the legislation reconvening the commission. At least three of the voting members shall approve the modification to the redistricting plan.

(5) Following approval of a modification to the redistricting plan by the commission, the legislature has the next thirty days during any regular or special session to amend the commission's modification. Any amendment by the legislature must be approved by an affirmative vote in each house of two-thirds of the members elected or appointed thereto. No amendment by the legislature may include more than two percent of the population of any legislative or congressional district contained in the commission's modification.

On page 8, line 9, strike "an amendment" and insert "a modification"

Senator Talmadge moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 8, after line 20, insert the following:

Renumber the sections following consecutively, and correct internal references accordingly.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "I just want some clarification, Senator Talmadge. Did you say that this repeals the present redistricting act?"

Senator Talmadge: "Yes, it does, Senator."

Senator Metcalf: "This repeals the present redistricting act passed in 1981?"

Senator Talmadge: "Excuse me, not this particular amendment. Substitute Senate Bill No. 3112, in section 16, does repeal the remainder of the redistricting act, because the court in the decision, apparently found a great portion of that act to be unconstitutional, and we have already adopted a commission process in the amendment and this bill would substitute, except where the amendment that we have before us, for the bill that was adopted in 1982."

Senator Metcalf: "To continue my questioning, this bill as written does or does not tamper with the 1981 legislative redistricting? Does it or doesn't it repeal?"

Senator Talmadge: "No, it doesn't repeal the legislative redistricting. It simply deals with the congressional lines that were drawn, is my understanding."

Senator Metcalf: "Congressional redistricting? You said that the redistricting bill of 1981 was repealed and I want to know or make very clear."

Senator Talmadge: "My understanding is that it deals solely and exclusively with the congressional redistricting, Senator."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Talmadge.

The motion by Senator Talmadge carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following title amendment was adopted:

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, with the risk of being redundant, I will do it on this bill and I will do it on the next one, too. I would like to ask Senator Hemstad a question.

"Senator Hemstad, in regard to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3112, I ask the same question as I asked before, and I think it is okay to reference your remarks to Engrossed Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 103, in regards to getting the intent on this measure. I will do the same on the next bill."

Senator Hemstad: "Senator Fleming, I reference my remarks with regard to Engrossed Substitute Joint Resolution No. 103, in responding to what I believe is essentially the same question you asked of me there. My answer would be the same."

ENGROSSED SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 105, having received the constitutional two-thirds majority, was declared passed.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3106, by Senators Talmadge, Granlund, Hemstad, Deccio and McCaslin

Increasing penalties for vehicular homicide and vehicular assault.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following Committee on Judiciary amendments were considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 1, line 19, after "injury", strike "received" and insert "~~((received))~~ proximately caused"

On page 10, line 17, after "to", strike "negligent" and insert "~~((negligent))~~ vehicular"

Senator Talmadge moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, line 8, after ";", add "or"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Talmadge, a week ago a young lady with two children ran a stop light and crashed into a bus in the city of Tacoma. I presume she was paying attention to the children or something else. She wasn't drunk or on drugs. Would this be classed as vehicular assault? Now, there were serious injuries and I am wondering if—obviously, it wasn't done under anything other than inadvertence—would they be prosecuted on the charge of vehicular assault?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, I don't know specifically about how the prosecutor will go about charging it, but I can tell you that there are different standards of conduct. There is negligence and I think inadvertence in a situation like that might more likely amount to nothing more than negligence. Then there is recklessness. It is a different standard; it is a higher standard of culpability that the law imposes. You have to be engaging in an act that is beyond the boundary of just normal negligence, I guess I would have to say.

"I think in your situation, I would find it difficult to believe that conduct would be reckless, if it was just the inadvertence that you describe. If the individual was bobbing and weaving through traffic and operating a vehicle at one-hundred ten miles an hour, I think that kind of conduct would be reckless when they ran into the bus."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Talmadge.

The motion by Senator Talmadge carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Talmadge, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3106 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Vognild, Senator McDermott was excused.

On motion of Senator Peterson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3076 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Peterson, is there anything in this measure that would prohibit the county from putting weight load limits on during road breakups as the result of weather?"

Senator Peterson: "There are no exceptions in the bill that would allow this. I am certain that it would pertain to garbage haulers, as well as fuel haulers and other necessary public services."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GUESS

Senator Guess: "May I add to that response from Senator Peterson? Senator Bottiger, the counties or local agencies still retain, under 46.44.080--local regulations--where they may by reason of rain, snow, traumatic or other conditions, make weight limitations at the proper time by proper passing of the ordinances."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kiskaddon: "Senator Peterson, you said that the tire sizes would be larger if there was more weight. Would that make it possible so that there would be no more damage to roads? I am concerned that county roads and roads around, with these extra weights, may actually be destroyed and hurt. Wouldn't you think it would be enough to say that the increased tire sizes would solve the problem?"

Senator Peterson: "Well, every individual case would have to rest on its own merit. Certainly, increased tire sizes would minimize the damage that you are concerned with. In certain cases where there is asphalt that is already deteriorated to any extent, I expect that it may have some effect. The safeguard is that the tire sizes will be increased to the maximum weight-carrying capacity."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3076.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "Senator Peterson, this is not a question for the record, but simply for information to help me understand the bill. How are the infraction notices to be maintained? When we had this bill before us before, we were concerned about the record keeping that would be required to bring the notice of infraction and failure to respond to the attention of the Licensing Department. As far as I can tell, just by glancing at the language in the bill, this does not provide a system by which those records are to be kept."

Senator Peterson: "The information that we had in committee was that with the computerized mechanism that the Department of Licensing now has, the infractions are maintained in the Olympia office and it is just a matter of pushing a button."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3122.

(1) For the remainder of the biennium ending on June 30, 1983, the governor shall reduce the general fund allotments of moneys appropriated to the agencies over which the governor has allotment revision authority to implement the following leave-without-pay requirements.

Leave without pay shall be taken by employees during the final four months of the biennium on the basis of gross annual salary, according to the following schedule:

(a) Those employees whose gross annual earnings are $16,000 or more shall take four days of leave without pay; and

(b) Those employees whose gross annual earnings are less than $16,000 shall not be required to take any leave without pay.

(2) Elected state officials shall also implement this section within their respective agencies. This section does not apply to the public school employees under contract, faculty at state institutions of higher education, or direct service delivery staff at state institutions.

On page 3, beginning on line 22, after "(1)", strike all material through "expended" on line 23, and insert "The governor shall expend from the governor's emergency fund the sum of one hundred twenty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be required, for the use of the department of natural resources"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "First of all, Senator McDermott, I guess I want to be sure there is $120,000 in the fund by the time this bill gets to the Governor's desk, so that that emergency fund can be used."

Senator McDermott: "I was just going to walk off the floor to find the exact figure, but my understanding is that the figure is around $500,000 still left in the Governor's fund. We have, so far, left that fund alone, because you never know when an emergency like Mount St. Helens or whatever may come up, but the decision to use it for this purpose, I think, is as reasonable as any."

Senator Goltz: "The second question I have, Senator McDermott, is the Governor's emergency fund is a general fund appropriation and if the Governor's emergency fund is not expended, that money would revert to the general fund at the conclusion of the biennium. Is that correct?"

Senator McDermott: "That is correct."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the three amendments by Senator Lee.

The motion by Senator Lee carried and the amendments were adopted.

MOTION

"The legislature recognizes that the local economies of many communities are heavily dependent on the timber and fishing industries of the state. The legislature also recognizes that the current economic recession has created extraordinarily high rates of unemployment in these communities. Therefore, the intent of section 16 of this act is to provide the director of fisheries with the funds to undertake and implement enhancement projects, including the administrative costs, which will:

(1) Improve the streams and rivers of this state which are important to the success of the state's natural stocks of salmon;

(2) Create employment opportunities for the citizens of those communities in which unemployment rates are high as a result of unemployment in the timber and fishing industries;

(3) Provide maximum utilization of existing salmon stocks; and

(4) Develop ~~((and implement))~~ mini-modular mobile hatchery complexes on rehabilitated streams."

Renumber the remaining sections accordingly.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Quigg: "Senator Thompson, on sub (4)--the mini-modular mobile hatchery complexes on rehabilitated streams--the words 'and implement' are stricken and reads 'develop mini-modular mobile hatchery complexes on rehabilitated streams.' Why has the language been stricken?"

Senator Thompson: "It is simply superfluous. The term 'implement' appears in the paragraph above and would apply in that subsection, as well. It just eliminates redundancy."

Senator Quigg: "So, it is not the intention of the amendment to eliminate the implementation of that hatchery?"

Senator Thompson: "Absolutely not."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Thompson and Zimmerman.

The motion by Senator Thompson carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

General Fund Appropriation	$	((275,867,000))
		278,472,000
Accident Fund Appropriation	$	1,027,000
Medical Aid Fund Appropriation	$	1,027,000
University of Washington Building Account Appropriation	$	48,304,000
Total Appropriation	$	((326,225,000))

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) $1,600,000 is provided solely for family medicine education.

(2) It is the intent of the legislature that instructional and student services related allotments not be transferred to administrative programs. Therefore, a maximum of $51,831,000 of the state general fund appropriation may be expended on the primary support (04) and institutional support (08) programs.

(3) $2,805,000 from the state general fund is provided to offset a projected shortfall in revenues to the University of Washington building account from the sale of timber on University of Washington trust lands. To the extent that the shortfall is less than was projected by the department of natural resources in its January, 1983 revised revenue forecast, moneys from this appropriation shall revert to the general fund.

(4) It is the intent of the legislature, by this 1983 amendment to this section, to reduce the funds available to the university's police department by $200,000, effective April 1, 1983. The savings shall be achieved by a 50% reduction in staff levels.

MOTION

Senator Lee moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 5, beginning on line 6, strike all of section 18.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, I would like somebody to answer a question of fiscal responsibility that has been bothering me. Possibly, Senator McDermott or Senator Lee could answer. Seven million from the state's general fund is provided to offset a projected shortfall in revenue. What bothers me--I remember a timber bill that we had last session which allowed the cancellation of major timber contracts and mostly it was the bigger lumber companies that had these contracts. I am wondering if this seven million dollar shortfall is related to that timber release bill, and then also if the county of Skamania wins their lawsuit which they have filed against that legislation, claiming it is unconstitutional, if we will get this seven million dollar shortfall back?"

"Senator McDermott, do you have the answer? Was that where we got our fiscal irresponsibility in the first place?"

Senator McDermott: "Well, Senator Rasmussen, a number of things have happened to our economy. The national administration believed that by putting people out of work, we could fix everything. It turns out that unemployment is not working. Now, we are not cutting any trees, so that is one source. The second source is the cancellation of all those contracts. That is a partial answer to your question. If Skamania wins its lawsuit, we may pick up some money, but I don't think we are going to pick it up before June 30, so we really need to put the money in the budget now."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Vognild demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

When tangible personal property is rented or leased under circumstances that the consideration paid does not represent a reasonable rental for the use of the articles so rented or leased, the "selling price" shall be determined as nearly as possible according to the value of such use at the places of use of similar products of like quality and character under such rules as the department of revenue may prescribe;

(2) "Seller" means every person making sales at retail or retail sales to a buyer or consumer, whether as agent, broker, or principal; will not apply with respect to the use of any article of tangible personal property purchased, extracted, produced or manufactured outside this state until the transportation of such article has finally ended or until such article has become commingled with the general mass of property in this state. This tax shall apply to the use of every article of tangible personal property, including property acquired at a casual or isolated sale, and including byproducts used by the manufacturer thereof, except as hereinafter provided, irrespective of whether the article or similar articles are manufactured or are available for purchase within this state. Except as provided in RCW 82.12.0252, payment by one purchaser or user of tangible personal property of the tax imposed by chapter 82.08 or 82.12 RCW shall not have the effect of exempting any other purchaser or user of the same property from the taxes imposed by such chapters. The tax shall be levied and collected in an amount equal to the value of the article used by the taxpayer multiplied by the rate in effect for the retail sales tax under RCW 82.08.020, as now or hereafter amended, in the county in which the article is used.

This section includes, among others, and without limiting the scope hereof (whether or not title to materials used in the performance of such business passes to another by accession, confusion or other than by outright sale), persons engaged in the business of rendering any type of service which does not constitute a "sale at retail" or a "sale at wholesale." The value of advertising, demonstration, and promotional supplies and materials furnished to an agent by his principal or supplier to be used for informational, educational and promotional purposes shall not be considered a part of the agent's remuneration or commission and shall not be subject to taxation under this section.

Sec. 7. Section 3, chapter 130, Laws of 1975--'76 2nd ex. sess. as last amended by section 2, chapter 35, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. and RCW 82.04.2901 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) From and after the first day of March, 1983, there is levied and shall be collected from every person for the act or privilege of engaging in business activities, as a part of the tax imposed by the provisions of RCW 82.04.220 through 82.04.240, inclusive, and RCW 82.04.255 through 82.04.280, inclusive, an additional tax equal to thirty-two percent multiplied by the tax payable under the provisions of RCW 82.04.220 through 82.04.240, inclusive, and RCW 82.04.255 through 82.04.280, inclusive.

(2) To facilitate collection of this additional tax, the department of revenue is authorized to adjust the basic rates of persons to which this section applies in such manner as to reflect the amount to the nearest one-thousandth of one percent of the additional tax hereby imposed, adjusting ten-thousandths equal to or greater than five ten-thousandths to the greater thousandth.

Sec. 8. Section 82.48.030, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 3, chapter 9, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 82.48.030 are each amended to read as follows:

The amount of the tax imposed by this chapter for each calendar year shall be ~~((fifteen))~~ fifty dollars for each single engine aircraft, and ~~((twenty-five))~~ eighty dollars for each multi-engine aircraft, irrespective of make, type, year of manufacture or any other type of classification; PROVIDED, That the calendar year shall be divided into twelve parts corresponding to the months of the calendar year and the excise tax upon an aircraft registered for the first time in this state after the last day of any month shall only be levied for the remaining months of the calendar year including the month in which the aircraft is being registered: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the minimum amount payable shall be three dollars.

An aircraft shall be deemed registered for the first time in this state when such aircraft was not previously registered by this state for the year immediately preceding the year in which application for registration is made.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. An excise tax is imposed for the privilege of using a vessel for which registration is required under chapter 88.____ RCW (sections 15 through 23 of this act), except vessels covered by a dealer's registration number under this chapter. The annual amount of the excise tax is one percent of fair market value, as determined under this chapter, or five dollars, whichever is greater.

The excise tax upon a vessel registered for the first time in this state shall be imposed for a twelve-month period, including the month in which the vessel is registered, unless the director of licensing extends or diminishes vessel registration periods for the purpose of staggered renewal periods under section 19 of this act. A vessel is registered for the first time in this state when the vessel was not registered in this state for the immediately preceding registration year, or when the vessel was registered in another jurisdiction for the immediately preceding year. The excise tax on vessels required to be registered in this state on the effective date of this section shall be paid by June 30, 1983.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The excise tax imposed under this chapter is due and payable to the department of licensing or its agents at the time of registration of a vessel. The department of licensing shall not issue or renew a registration for a vessel until the tax is paid in full.

The excise tax collected under this chapter, except any tax imposed under section 13 of this act, shall be deposited in the general fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The department of revenue shall prepare at least once each year a depreciation schedule for use in the collection of the excise tax imposed by this chapter. The schedule shall be based upon information available to the department of revenue pertaining to the current fair market value of vessels. The excise tax imposed shall be based on the latest purchase price and year of purchase of the vessel. The latest purchase price is the consideration, whether money, credit, rights, or other property expressed in terms of money, paid or given or contracted to be paid or given by the purchaser to the seller for the vessel. The purchase price must be a reasonable representation of the fair market value of the vessel.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Whenever a person applies for registration of a vessel acquired by lease or by gift or which is sold or acquired under conditions wherein the purchase price does not represent the true value of the vessel, the value of the vessel shall be determined as nearly as possible according to such guidebooks, listings, or other information as the department of licensing may have available.

If the vessel is homemade, a notarized declaration shall be made by the owner. The department of revenue shall appraise the vessel to establish the value of the vessel for excise tax purposes when it appears that the declared value does not represent the true value of the vessel.

The owner of a vessel may apply to the department for a refund of state taxes or fees erroneously paid under this chapter. The application must be made within one year from the date on which the taxes or fees were paid.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) Any county and any cities within the county may, by interlocal agreement under chapter 39.34 RCW, and by ordinance or resolution, impose an excise tax upon the privilege of using a vessel taxable under section 9 of this act which is moored or stored in the county if the population of the unincorporated areas of the county together with the population of the cities which are parties to the agreement equal or exceed two-thirds of the total population of the county. The annual amount of the tax shall not exceed one-half of one percent of the fair market value of the vessel per calendar year or part thereof, as determined under section 11 of this act.

(2) The excise tax under this section for a vessel registered within one month after the date the owner acquired the vessel shall be prorated for the remaining months of the calendar year, including the month in which the vessel is registered if the vessel was not registered in this state for the immediately preceding calendar year.

(3) The excise tax imposed under this section is due and payable to the department of licensing, or its agents, at the time of registration of a vessel.

(4) The moneys collected under this section shall be distributed monthly to parties to the interlocal agreement according to the terms of the agreement. Moneys collected under this section shall be used only for administration and enforcement of this chapter, boating safety, search and rescue operations concerning boating, and boating patrols.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. There is added to chapter 84.36 RCW a new section to read as follows:

All ships and vessels registered in the state under chapter 88.____ RCW (sections 15 through 23 of this act) are exempt from all ad valorem taxes beginning with 1983 assessments for taxes due and payable in 1984.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Vessel" means every watercraft used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on the water, other than a seaplane.

(3) "Dealer" means a person, partnership, association, or corporation engaged in the business of selling vessels at wholesale or retail in this state.

(4) "Department" means the department of licensing.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 16. Except as provided in this chapter, no person may own or operate any vessel on the waters of this state unless the vessel has been registered and displays a registration number and a valid decal in accordance with this chapter.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 17. Vessel registration is required under this chapter except for the following:

(1) Vessels owned and operated by the United States, another state, or a political subdivision thereof;

(2) Vessels owned and operated by this state, or by any municipality or political subdivision thereof;

(3) Vessels owned by a resident of a country other than the United States or Canada if the vessel is not physically located upon the waters of this state for a period of more than sixty days;

(4) Vessels owned by a resident of another state or a Canadian province if the vessel is registered in accordance with the laws of the state or province in which the owner resides, but only to the extent that a similar exemption or privilege is granted under the laws of that state or province for vessels registered in this state: PROVIDED, That any vessel which is validly registered in another state or a Canadian province and which is physically located in this state for a period of more than sixty days is subject to registration under this chapter;

(5) Vessels used as a ship's tender or lifeboat;

(6) Vessels that are exempt under RCW 84.36.080;

(7) Vessels under sixteen feet in length or whose primary propulsion is human power;

(8) Vessels which are not required to be registered with the United States coast guard under volume 33, part 173, of the code of federal regulations, in effect on March 1, 1983;

(9) Vessels used exclusively for commercial fishing purposes; and

(10) Vessels which have or are required to have a valid marine document as a vessel of the United States and which are primarily engaged in commerce.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 18. The department shall provide for the issuance of vessel registrations and may appoint agents for collecting fees and issuing registration numbers and decals. Fees for vessel registrations collected by the director shall be deposited in the general fund.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 19. Application for a vessel registration shall be made to the department or its authorized agent in the manner and upon forms prescribed by the department. The application shall state the name and address of each owner of the vessel and such other information as may be required by the department, shall be signed by at least one owner, and shall be accompanied by a vessel registration fee of six dollars per year and the excise tax imposed under chapter 82, RCW (sections 9 through 13 of this act). Any fees required for licensing agents under RCW 46.01.140 shall be in addition to the six-dollar annual registration fee.

Upon receipt of the application and the registration fee, the department shall assign a registration number and issue a decal for each vessel. The registration number and decal shall be affixed to the vessel in a manner prescribed by the department. A valid decal affixed as prescribed shall indicate compliance with the annual registration requirements of this chapter.

The vessel registrations and decals are valid for a period of one year, except that the director of licensing may extend or diminish vessel registration periods, and the decals therefor, for the purpose of staggered renewal periods. For registration periods of more or less than one year, the department may collect prorated annual registration fees and excise taxes based upon the number of months in the registration period. Vessel registrations are renewable every year in a manner prescribed by the department upon payment of the vessel registration fee and excise tax. Upon renewing a vessel registration, the department shall issue a new decal to be affixed as prescribed by the department.

A person acquiring a vessel from a dealer or a vessel already validly registered under this chapter shall, within fifteen days of the acquisition or purchase of the vessel, apply to the department or its authorized agent for transfer of the vessel registration, and the application shall be accompanied by a transfer fee of one dollar.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 20. (1) Each dealer of vessels in this state shall register with the department in the manner and upon forms prescribed by the department. Upon receipt of a dealer's application for registration and the registration fee provided in subsection (2) of this section, the dealer shall be registered and a registration number assigned.

(2) The registration fee for dealers shall be twenty-five dollars per year, and the fee shall cover all vessels owned by the dealer for sale and not rented on a regular commercial basis by the dealer. Rented vessels shall be registered separately under sections 16 through 19 of this act.

(3) Dealer registration numbers are nontransferable.

(4) Section 16 of this act does not apply to any dealer or employee or prospective customer of the dealer with respect to any vessel covered by the dealer's registration number and used for a business purpose of the dealer, such as a demonstration vessel or for purposes of testing or making repairs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. The department may adopt rules under chapter 34.04 RCW to implement this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. Any person charged with the enforcement of this chapter may request for inspection the certificate of registration from any vessel owner or operator to ascertain the legal and registered ownership of such vessel. Failure to provide such certificate for inspection upon the request of any person charged with enforcement of this chapter constitutes a violation of this chapter and subjects the person requested to produce such document to the penalties provided by section 23 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. (1) A violation of this chapter is a misdemeanor punishable only by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars per vessel for the first violation. Subsequent violations in the same year are subject to the following fines:

(a) For the second violation, a fine of two hundred dollars per vessel;

(2) Moneys collected under this section shall be used by the jurisdiction collecting the fine exclusively for law enforcement purposes.

(3) All law enforcement officers shall have the authority to enforce this chapter within their respective jurisdictions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. If the credit exceeds the 1983 state excise tax, the excess shall be credited against the 1984 state excise tax.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. Sections 9 through 13 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 82 RCW. Sections 15 through 23 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 88 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. This act shall not be construed as affecting any existing right acquired, or liability or obligation incurred under the sections amended in this act, nor any rule, regulation, or order adopted, nor any proceeding instituted, under those sections.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. (1) There is appropriated from the general fund to the department of licensing for the remainder of the biennium ending June 30, 1983, the sum of two hundred twenty-one thousand four hundred twenty-five dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to carry out the purposes of sections 9 through 24 of this act.

(2) There is appropriated from the general fund to the department of revenue for the remainder of the biennium ending June 30, 1983, the sum of twelve thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to carry out the purposes of sections 9 through 24 of this act.

The department of revenue and the department of licensing shall immediately take necessary steps to ensure that all sections of this act are properly implemented on their effective dates. The additional taxes imposed under this act shall take effect on the dates designated in this act notwithstanding the date this act becomes law under Article III, section 12 of the state Constitution."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "Senator, naturally we were led to believe that our amendments should be prepared to the substitute bill. If you have now changed your mind, that would necessitate our amendments being prepared in a different manner. I assume you would give us adequate time in which to redraft the appropriate amendments."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Clarke, you were given the striking amendment earlier today, or your staff was. At that time, I indicated that this would go on a title only bill or as an amendment on Senate Bill No. 3258. Now, it is obvious that the amendment prepared to this amendment should be in order, and should be prepared. I don't understand what is the need of redrafting anything and at worst, it would be a page and line. Even if there is more than one amendment, it should not take very long to change the page and line."

Senator Clarke: "Senator Bottiger, then what you are doing is assuring us that you will give us the usual cooperation and, in effect, perfecting our various amendments, if perfection is necessary, and that we will be given adequate opportunity to have all of our amendments given due consideration?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, we will stay here through the dinner hour and we will work until 10:00 o'clock. We would like to get this measure out of here. I think the amendments that are worthy amendments can be offered and hopefully, we can proceed."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "Senator McDermott, the committee labored long and hard on a bill and then the motion at the end of the committee was that there would be a substitute bill instead of the committee amendments that were prepared and passed in the committee.

"Now, we have a senate amendment here. Is this the bill now as it was amended in the committee? This bill now is what came out of the committee, is that correct?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Metcalf, perhaps I should describe the senate amendment. I see that your side's amendments are beginning to appear. It might be helpful.

"The bill that is before us at the moment is the Governor's tax bill which was voted down in committee very resoundingly. We worked then on an amendment which would raise the sales tax 1.3 cents on a dollar and a 25% B & O. We are not going to consider that amendment now. The amendment which is before you does the following things: It increases the sales tax by 1.3 cents; it raises the B & O tax on services from 1.07% to 2%; it increases the B & O surcharge from 7% to 32% on business categories except services and retailers; it provides for an exemption for the retailers along the Oregon border, so that they do not have to face the sales tax increase, but imposes upon them a 25% increase in the B & O. Anybody who is on the Oregon border will pay a 25% B & O increase, but will not pay the sales tax. It also implements a 1% excise tax on boats which we considered in committee and it also increases the aircraft excise tax from $15 to $25 on single engine planes and $50 up to $80 on multiple engine planes. Some parts of that you have heard in committee. The differences are in relationship to trying to deal with the problem on the Oregon border."

Senator Metcalf: "Thank you, Senator McDermott. Then the only change from what passed out of committee appears then to be the change relative to the Oregon border situation?"

Senator McDermott: "The other change is increasing the B & O tax on services from 1.07% to 2%. We took the Governor's proposal to put a sales tax on services and listened to testimony one evening for three hours and decided that that was not a workable idea and so decided to impose the B & O tax on services, which most of the people in the service industries suggested was a fairer way to go and a much easier way to handle from a business standpoint. So, we chose that route to impose the sales tax on service."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the Senate returned to the sixth order of business.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 3258 and the pending amendment by Senator McDermott.

Senator Quigg moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Quigg, Craswell, Lee, Metcalf and McCaslin to the McDermott amendment:

On page 23, after line 16, insert the following:

*NEW SECTION, Sec. 30. The purpose of section 12 of this 1983 act is to remove the retail sales and use tax on the sale and use of food, effective March 1, 1983.

Sec. 12, Section 48, chapter 35, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately, except that sections 28, 29, and 30 of this act shall take effect on May 1, 1982, sections 33 and 34 of this act shall take effect on ((July)) March 1, 1983, and sections 35 through 38 of this act shall take effect on January 1, 1983.

Sections 28 and 29 of this act shall expire on July 1, 1983. The additional taxes imposed under this act shall take effect on the dates designated in this act notwithstanding the date this act becomes law under Article III, section 12 of the state Constitution."

Renumber the sections consecutively.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sellar: "Senator McDermott, you said that the people said they wanted the sales tax on food until June 30. Did you agree with the people?"

Senator McDermott: "I thought it would have been a much better alternative to put a corporate profits tax on and take it off right now."

Senator Sellar: "You didn't agree with them?"

Senator McDermott: "I didn't agree with them."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Quigg, I would like to set the record straight. Being a freshman, you know, it is hard to know who to believe here, because there are so many folks talking. Of course, they all have all kinds of degrees and a poor country boy like myself, I just don't know what to do. So I would like to know, Senator Quigg, are you trying to shoot a hole in the budget?"

Senator Quigg: "No, no, Senator McCaslin, what I am trying to do is patch a hole in the budget, because a lot of families around the State of Washington get tired of seeing legislators performing with what appears to be a lot of wax in their ears. I am glad to see you are cleaning yours and I am sure you will be with me on this amendment."

Senator McCaslin: "I sure will be."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Quigg demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senators Quigg, Craswell, Lee, Metcalf, and McCaslin to the McDermott amendment.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Quigg failed and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 21; nays, 27; absent, 00; excused, 01.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Clarke, Craswell, Deccio, Fuller, Guess, Haley, Hayner, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Pullen, Quigg, Sellar, Zimmerman - 21.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Hansen, Hemstad, Hughes, Hurley, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody - 27.

Excused: Senator von Reichbauer - 1.

MOTION

Senator McDermott moved the following amendments to the McDermott amendment be considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 4, line 19 of the amendment, after "on" insert "or included within a standard metropolitan statistical area, as determined by the United States Census Bureau, located wholly or partially in"

On page 8, line 1, after "on" insert "or included within a standard metropolitan statistical area, as determined by the United States Census Bureau, located wholly or partially in"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Senator Zimmerman, I did not hear--recognizing what this amendment is trying to do and that is, it is trying to give relief to those counties that you represent close to Portland, which do not have a sales tax--this is trying to relieve those merchants of the burden of the sales tax. I did not hear whether you were supporting that effort or whether you were against that effort?"

Senator Zimmerman: "I am reaching out for dear Klickitat."

Senator Fleming: "But, do you support this amendment?"

Senator Zimmerman: "I find it flawed. I can't support a flawed amendment."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Benitz: "Senator McDermott, I heard you name several counties on the coast. What about poor little Franklin County? Is it included in that, since Benton County is a border county?"

Senator McDermott: "No, I told you the counties that this amendment covers. As you know, Pasco is not adjacent to Portland and these are the counties which are adjacent to Portland."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hemstad: "At this point, Senator McDermott, I guess I am confused. You had mentioned Skamania, Clark and Cowlitz Counties were those that would be included. So then, Benton and Franklin are also included, are they not, since they comprise an SMSA and border on Oregon? Aren't Benton and Franklin included in the reduction in the sales tax that this amendment and this bill permit?"

Senator McDermott: "They are not."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hemstad: "As I read this amendment, in addition to Skamania, Clark and Cowlitz, Walla Walla, Klickitat, Benton and Franklin are all included in the amendment, and I guess I would have to look at a map to recall whether there are other counties that border on Oregon. I guess Asotin and Garfield would also be included. All right, any border county, plus any county that is part of an SMSA. That is quite different from that which Senator McDermott described.

"I think we had better know what the fiscal impact of this is now, in what is going to be seven or eight or nine counties, rather than just the three that he mentioned. Would Senator McDermott care to respond to that?"

Senator McDermott: "To close debate on this question, I am not sure whether I am witnessing real inability to read the amendment or whether I am witnessing an old legislative trick of creating confusion. I learned from some old masters like Senator Rasmussen and a few others that one of the best ways to try and kill something is to confuse people.

"If you read this amendment, it says that border counties means those counties physically bordering on or included within a standard metropolitan statistic area as determined by the U.S. Census Bureau, located wholly or partially in a state which does not impose a retail sales. The reason that this applies only to Portland, is because the Portland SMSA is in a state that does not have a sales tax.

"I misspoke before. Richland, Pasco and Kennewick are SMSAs, but they are located in a state that does have a sales tax and therefore, this does not apply to them. We deliberately wrote it this way because that is where the impact is the greatest and where we felt that it was most important to protect people, because of the enormous impact of Portland on this area."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Clarke demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendments by Senator McDermott to the McDermott amendment.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator McDermott carried, and the amendments to the amendment were adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 26; nays, 22; absent, 00; excused, 01.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Clarke, Craswell, Deccio, Fuller, Guess, Haley, Hayner, Hemstad, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Pullen, Quigg, Sellar, Zimmerman - 22.

Excused: Senator von Reichbauer - 1.

MOTION TO LIMIT DEBATE

Senator Bottiger moved, pursuant to Rule 29 of the Senate Rules, that the limitations thereon and the number of times and the length that the members may speak, be invoked.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Bottiger, I am surprised. We are operating in the dark of night and now you want to put a gag rule on us."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, if you read the rule, it says three minutes and everybody gets to speak once."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Quigg: "Senator Pullen, it sounds to me that from what you have just said, Rule 29 is in effect, then, isn't it?"

Senator Pullen: "Yes, Rule 29 is always in effect."

Senator Quigg: "Then really, his motion was unnecessary."

Senator Pullen: "Absolutely."

MOTION

Senator Fleming moved to amend Senator Bottiger's motion to limit each member to one three-minute speech on each subject or motion that comes before the Senate for the remainder of the evening, except that the mover of the motion or the sponsor of a bill or amendment may have the privilege of closing debate, and also that members be prohibited from yielding time to another member.

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Fleming, the President believes that the provisos that you suggested are included within Rule 29."

Further debate ensued.

The tax hereby imposed shall be paid by the buyer to the seller, and each seller shall collect from the buyer the full amount of the tax payable in respect to each taxable sale in accordance with the schedule of collections adopted by the department pursuant to the provisions of RCW 82.08.060. The tax required by this chapter, to be collected by the seller, shall be deemed to be held in trust by the seller until paid to the department, and any seller who appropriates or converts the tax collected to his own use or to any use other than the payment of the tax to the extent that the money required to be collected is not available for payment on the due date as prescribed in this chapter shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

In case any seller fails to collect the tax herein imposed or having collected the tax, fails to pay it to the department in the manner prescribed by this chapter, whether such failure is the result of his own acts or the result of acts or conditions beyond his control, he shall, nevertheless, be personally liable to the state for the amount of the tax.

Where a buyer has failed to pay to the seller the tax imposed by this chapter and the seller has not paid the amount of the tax to the department, the department may, in its discretion, proceed directly against the buyer for collection of the tax, in which case a penalty of ten percent may be added to the amount of the tax for failure of the buyer to pay the same to the seller, regardless of when the tax may be collected by the department; and all of the provisions of chapter 82.32 RCW, including those relative to interest and penalties, shall apply in addition; and, for the sole purpose of applying the various provisions of chapter 82.32 RCW, the fifteenth day of the month following the tax period in which the purchase was made shall be considered as the due date of the tax.

Sec. 5. Section 82.08.120, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 51, chapter 278, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 82.08.120 are each amended to read as follows:

Whoever, excepting as expressly authorized by this chapter, refunds, remits, or rebates to a buyer, either directly or indirectly and by whatever means, all or any part of the tax levied by this chapter, or makes in any form of advertising, verbal or otherwise, any statements which might infer that he is absorbing the tax or paying the tax for the buyer by an adjustment of prices, ~~((or at a price including the tax;))~~ or in any other manner whatsoever shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The violation of this section by any person holding a license granted by the state or any political subdivision thereof shall be sufficient grounds for the cancellation of the license of such person upon written notification by the department of revenue to the proper officer of the department granting the license that such person has violated the provisions of this section. Before any license shall be canceled hereunder, the licensee shall be entitled to a hearing before the department granting the license under such regulations as the department may prescribe."

SECOND MORNING SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 9:00 a.m.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McDermott, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 3258 and the pending amendment by Senator McDermott, deferred February 8, 1983.

On motion of Senator McDermott, the following amendment to the McDermott amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 32, before "The", insert "(a)"

Senator Bluechel moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Zimmerman, Bauer, McCaslin, and Patterson to the McDermott amendment:

On page 7, line 11, add a new section to read as follows:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Any resident of a border county and the member of his or her immediate family, shall be entitled to a partial exemption from the tax levied by RCW 82.08.020 and RCW 82.12.020. The exemption shall be one hundred dollars for each two thousand dollars of purchases on which the person or members of his or her immediate family has paid the tax imposed by RCW 82.08.020 or RCW 82.12.020. The person shall apply within two years of making such purchases to the department for a refund of the exempt amount, and shall furnish receipts and other documentation as the department may require. For purposes of this section, the term "immediate family" means persons related by blood or marriage to the person applying for the refund, if such related persons share the same household."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator McDermott, did I hear you correctly? That we had taken care of the border counties? I would like to remind you that Spokane is a border county."

Senator McDermott: "Senator Guess, I suppose my tongue wasn't quite perfectly in gear and I should have said, we have dealt with the most pressing problem, which is the Portland area."

Senator Guess: "I would still remind you, Senator, that the people in Spokane County will pay something in the order of 15.6 million dollars of additional sales tax and they are not going to be excused of that. Whereas, those people in the Vancouver area that pay the equal amount of money are going to be excused, so there is no justice in this bill."

Senator McDermott: "Sometimes, Senator Guess, justice is in the eye of the beholder. Those of us in King County who border on Puget Sound are going to pay the full load, also. I think that we tried to deal with a very great inequity between the Oregon border which has no sales tax and the Portland TV and newspapers which advertise in the Vancouver area, which puts a tremendous impact on the business community. We looked to the future for doing tax reform that the people of this state feel is the right thing to do."

Debate ensued.

Senator Bluechel demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senators Zimmerman, Bauer, McCaslin and Patterson to the McDermott amendment.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Bluechel failed and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 21; nays, 25; absent, 02; excused, 01.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Bluechel failed and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 23; nays, 25; absent, 00; excused, 01.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Clarke, Craswell, Deccio, Fuller, Guess, Haley, Hayner, Hemstad, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Pullen, Quigg, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 23.

Excused: Senator Rasmussen - 1.

MOTION

Senator Lee moved adoption of the following amendment to the McDermott amendment:

On page 8 of the amendment, on line 20 strike "~~((one)) two~~ percent" and insert "one percent on all persons whose income is exclusively from commissions and two percent on all other persons"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Quigg: "Senator McDermott, what is the impact of this tax rate increase on the Avon, Amway, and Tupperware people that Senator Lee mentioned? Evidently, since she does not have a fiscal note, I am sure you do. You seemed to have studied this so thoroughly. What is the impact on these small business entrepreneurs?"

Senator McDermott: "I passed out a sheet which shows the revenue impact. It is 41.4 million dollars in this biennium on those people who are covered."

Senator Quigg: "I am talking about those people specifically, Senator, within that particular group. Evidently, you have developed this carefully. You might want to let all those folks know around the state that take time out of their lives to provide services and products to their neighbors and their friends and these kinds of small businesses just exactly what the impact is on them, so we know that this is a thoughtful process and just not legislation from the back of a galloping horse. What is the impact, Senator?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Quigg, I don't think the impact is going to be very pleasant on anybody. It is going to be unpleasant for everybody."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Moore: "Senator Lee, I notice in this amendment, the word 'commission'--'exclusively from commissions.' Now, what is your concept of commissions?"

Senator Lee: "My concept is that the State Department of Revenue would use the same definition of commissions that they have used at least for the last fifteen or sixteen years. The word 'commission' appears throughout half a dozen of the various sections on the Business and Occupation Tax. Yet, they do not have a specific definition for commission in the definition section, which means they are using a standard definition that can be found in the dictionary or is used by the IRS.

"That is the reason that a definition for a commission, up to this point, in the application of our tax system, and using that very word in Section 82.04.255, when they are talking about real estate brokers, no one ever felt there was any need for any special definition. The generally applied one understood by persons in the tax field was appropriate."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Bluechel demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Lee to the McDermott amendment.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Lee failed and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted, the President voting 'nay,' by the following vote: Yeas, 24; nays, 24; absent, 00; excused, 01.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hemstad: "Senator McDermott, have you written the budget that reflects the spending levels that you and others have so persuasively argued that needs to be adopted?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Hemstad, what the issue before us is, is solving the supplemental budget problem of the state of Washington. You left us a problem. You refused to face the realities of the financial state of the state of Washington for eighteen months. You know that is a rhetorical question.

"I am sure that sometimes when an attorney asks a question, he already knows the answer, so I am not going to give you the answer. You can give the answer to that kind of question. The fact is that the people on your side of the aisle do not want to deal with the issue. We get a continuing stream of amendments, but we have a promise of not vote one. There is no resolve on that side to face the fact that you left a problem. Luckily, the people threw you out. Otherwise, you would have to be standing here being responsible, but instead what we get are the amendments and the rhetorical questions."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "I recognize your concerns, Senator Hemstad, and I listened very attentively to Senator Hayner. Are you insinuating that Idaho does not have taxes--that they don't have a B & O--that they don't have sales tax--that they don't have a corporate income tax? Are you insinuating that and have you taken the time to see whether the over-all tax structure and property tax is better, in fact, they decide to move to Idaho?"

Senator Hemstad: "Senator Fleming, in response to your question, the tax levels in this state, on a per-capita basis, put us at twenty-first and Idaho at about forty-first in the country. So yes, over-all their tax system, at least on a per-capita basis, is substantially lower than ours. Now, presumably their service levels are lower, too, but there is a straight, clear obvious trade off that can be made for that beef packer sitting over there in Wallula."

Senator Fleming: "So what you are saying is that the corporate income tax is a lot better for these people than the B & O tax?"

Senator Hemstad: "I can't answer that with specificity, but I do know that their over-all tax level on them and their employees is lower there than it is here."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Bluechel demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Hayner to the McDermott amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Shipoch: "Senator Newhouse, my question, and really a serious question, is that if we leave this tax like it is and it is so onerous on business, would that mean that we would not have to handle the disposal of any additional low level waste in our state?"

Senator Newhouse: "Senator, I think it would probably be better for the purposes of this budget if we didn't get into that argument. I am not sure. There are obviously three or four places around the country that handle low level waste. It is not a hazardous type thing. You get more radiation, perhaps, from having an X-ray taken than you would from handling this stuff. It is very low level. It is not the hazardous type.

"As a matter of fact, from my business, I think that the chemicals that are shipped down to Oregon are far more hazardous than this low level waste, which we dispose of in Washington."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Talmadge: "A point of order, Mr. President, with respect to Rule 29 of the Senate. As I recall, that rule indicates that no member may involve personalities in the course of that member's remarks or impugn the motives of another member. I suppose we could talk about certain members out here who were defeated in the last election or we could talk about the election results at the polls of last November, but that has not been done to my knowledge, and it should not be done, I suspect, out here on the floor. I certainly hope that we don't simply make it impugn Senator McDermott day or impugn Senator McDermott night. My good friend, Senator McDermott, should not have to go through that kind of process each time coming from the remarks from someone across on that side of the aisle."

For the purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Value of the article used" shall mean the consideration, whether money, credit, rights, or other property except trade-in property of like kind, expressed in terms of money, paid or given or contracted to be paid or given by the purchaser to the seller for the article of tangible personal property, the use of which is taxable under this chapter. The term includes, in addition to the consideration paid or given or contracted to be paid or given, the amount of any tariff or duty paid with respect to the importation of the article used. In case the article used is acquired by lease or by gift or is extracted, produced, or manufactured by the person using the same or is sold under conditions wherein the purchase price does not represent the true value thereof, the value of the article used shall be determined as nearly as possible according to the retail selling price at place of use of similar products of like quality and character under such rules and regulations as the department of revenue may prescribe.

In the case of articles manufactured or produced by the user and used in the manufacture or production of products sold or to be sold to the department of defense of the United States, the value of the articles used shall be determined according to the value of the ingredients of such articles.

(2) "Use," "used," "using," or "put to use" shall have their ordinary meaning, and shall mean the first act within this state by which the taxpayer takes or assumes dominion or control over the article of tangible personal property (as a consumer), and include installation, storage, withdrawal from storage, or any other act preparatory to subsequent actual use or consumption within this state;

(3) "Taxpayer" and "purchaser" include all persons included within the meaning of the word "buyer" and the word "consumer" as defined in chapters 82.04 and 82.08 RCW;

"Consumer," in addition to the meaning ascribed to it in chapters 82.04 and 82.08 RCW insofar as applicable, shall also mean any person who distributes or displays, or causes to be distributed or displayed, any article of tangible personal property, except newspapers, the primary purpose of which is to promote the sale of products or services."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Hemstad, would you agree with me that recreational vehicles and automobiles are both personal property?"

Senator Hemstad: "Yes, and if I can pursue that a bit further. Automobiles are personal property, but of course they get taxed for a very specific use, namely its relationship to the transportation system and the highway fund and they are taxed for a direct use. I would say that I would support a proposal that taxed boats on the same basis, but that is not the case here. This is going into the general fund with general distribution just like any other tax source."

The department of revenue shall report to the legislature by January 1, 1984, the amount of such surplus, if any, and the number of days reduced pursuant to this action."

Renumber remaining sections accordingly and correct any internal references.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator McDermott, this seems like a pretty good amendment to me, but I was wondering what would happen if we had a sufficient surplus to pay back the entire twenty-fifth month and then had some additional monies beyond that. What would happen to those additional monies?"

Senator McDermott: "Well, Senator, we are only raising a hundred and ninety million dollars between now and the end of the biennium. The likelihood of us raising enough to replace the three hundred million that the twenty-fifth month requires, I think, is fairly slim. This also applies to the next biennium, and at that point, there would be a surplus in the latter part of 1985, so we would then have to deal with that in the next legislative session."

Senator Jones: "Mr. President, just a point of information. POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Much has been said and I will certainly not try to repeat. I think that some of us are not voting for this particular package, simply on the basis that we have not seen that two-year budget that has had so much discussion this morning and in the days previously. Secondly, we have not heard any willingness to consider any of the potential savings that will be forthcoming, at least addressed by this body. Third, the proposals to concern themselves about the jobs of aluminum workers and some of the other folks that are truly--what could have been helped, could have been touched on--were ignored.

"The inequities that you heard over and over again--the discussion of inequities and the potential for challenge. Senator Newhouse alluded to the combining of appropriations sections in a revenue bill--the potential for savings--so I do want to ask for the record and get some response on this.

"Senator McDermott, if he is here or someone could answer for him, on page 5, where it says 'for the purpose of determining the applicable rate under this section, "border counties" means those counties physically bordering on or included within a metropolitan statistical area' and so forth. Does that mean that in the exemption that applies to Clark, Skamania and Cowlitz--and I need to get a clarification for the other border counties--that they will pay the increased Business and Occupation Tax?

"As I read it, the increase to the retailers--the Business and Occupation Tax--on the border, will be raised on the entire border, while benefiting just the three counties, and I wonder if that is the correct interpretation?"

Senator McDermott: "That is not the intent."

Further debate ensued.

Senators Bottiger, Peterson and Shinpoch demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3258.

Now, who is the third party in the case where the Department sues?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, they are authorized to do that now. The present law is that if the employee does not make an election to proceed with a lawsuit himself or herself against a third party, who is not the employer or not a fellow employee of that injured worker, then the Department or the self-insured employer automatically become the beneficiaries of the lawsuit and can bring it. It is something that the Attorney General's Office does all the time right now, bringing lawsuits against third party wrongdoers."

Senator Guess: "Senator, let me give you an illustration. In the case of a dam, where the general contractor is covered by industrial insurance, the electrical subcontractor is covered by industrial insurance, and yet because the electrical subcontractor's man left the manhole cover off a manhole and the general contractor's man stepped into the manhole and received an injury, then the individual who was injured, sued the electrical contractor and under the third party, he collected a million some odd thousand dollars.

"I thought the trend of this bill was to say that that worker who had collected already from the general contractor, or his account, had to repay to the state the amount of money he got from the electrical subcontractor. What you are doing now, you are saying that the state can sue the electrical contractor even though the electrical contractor was covered?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, in that kind of situation, under present law, without regard to this bill, if the employee decided not to proceed and there is a sequence laid out in the law as it now stands—if the employee chose not to proceed, then the Department of Labor and Industries, or if it is a self-insured employer, the self-insured employer would have the right to bring action on behalf of the employee and recover against the third party. That's the law now, and this bill does not affect that at all.

"It is not intended to. It is intended to affect the kind of situation, in your example, where the employee was partially at fault. The Department simply says, 'we don't compromise the lien, you have to pay us the whole amount of what the employee has received from the state.' The problem is that if the employee is partially at fault, there is the comparative negligence statute. It makes it practically impossible for the parties to arrive at a settlement, because of that refusal to compromise the lien. This basically allows that."

Senator Guess: "Is this not, though, when you allow the Department to sue the electrical subcontractor? In this case, is it not swapping dollars from one pocket to another, because both of the parties were covered by the Department of Labor and Industries? Now, the Department is going to sue one account to put into another account. Is this what is going to happen?"

Senator Talmadge: "No, because there would not be a situation where a third party is covered by industrial insurance. They are a separate wrongdoer under the circumstance. The more traditional kind of situation would be where you are on the job site and the employee is injured because of--say, product liability on the part of a manufacturer, who is separate from the whole situation. Under those circumstances, if it were not a work-place injury, that manufacturer would be responsible for the injury to the employee, notwithstanding. It is simply a recognition of the possibility that there is a third party out there who has the responsibility under tort principles to pay somebody who is injured, while at the same time allowing us to recover under the lien that we established since the first day of the Industrial Insurance Act of 1912."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "A couple of questions, Senator Talmadge. Doesn't a worker now have the right, under Worker's Compensation, to waive any benefits if he sues his employer?"

Senator Talmadge: "A worker can not waive the benefits of the Industrial Insurance Act, but under the Act, the worker cannot sue the employer. The employer is absolutely immune from suits by the employee. There is a recent case in which I was involved, which reaffirmed that principle. It says that an employee cannot sue his or her employer."

Senator Deccio: "The other question that I have--the background synopsis says 'a worker is prohibited from suing his or her employer or co-worker for causing injuries.' If an employee can sue a co-worker, doesn't that negate the whole basis of Worker's Comp? If Worker's Comp does replace the necessity of having to sue in the event of an injury, that injury whether payment is made, is not dependent on being victorious in a lawsuit?"

Senator Talmadge: "I agree, Senator, and this is exactly what is in the act. You cannot sue a fellow employee. That is not allowed. A third party is someone who is not the employer or not a fellow employee. They have to be someone independent of the employment relationship, between the employee and the employer or the fellow worker."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3127.

If the agent is a county auditor, the retained dollar shall be paid to the county treasurer and credited to the county current expense fund. The department shall not issue or renew a registration for a vessel unless the tax due under chapter 82, RCW (sections 16 through 20 of this act) has been paid. Vessel registration fees and taxes collected by the department shall be deposited in the state general fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (1) Application for a vessel registration shall be made to the department or its authorized agent in the manner and upon forms prescribed by the department. NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The department shall adopt rules under chapter 34.04 RCW to implement this chapter. The department shall adopt by rule a vessel numbering system which conforms to the standard numbering system for vessels set forth in volume 33, part 174, of the code of federal regulations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Any person charged with the enforcement of this chapter may request for inspection the certificate of registration from any vessel owner or operator to ascertain the legal and registered ownership of such vessel. Failure to provide such certificate for inspection upon the request of any person charged with enforcement of this chapter constitutes a violation of this chapter and subjects the person requested to produce such document to the penalties provided by section 15 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) A violation of this chapter is a misdemeanor punishable only by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars per vessel for the first violation. Subsequent violations in the same year are subject to the following fines:

(2) The excise tax for a vessel registered within one month after the date the owner acquired the vessel shall be prorated for the remaining months of the calendar year, including the month in which the vessel is registered if the vessel was not registered in this state for the immediately preceding calendar year.

(3) The excise tax imposed under this chapter is due and payable to the department of licensing or its agents at the time of registration of a vessel.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 17. The department of revenue shall prepare at least once each year a depreciation schedule for use in the determination of fair market value for the excise tax imposed by this chapter. The schedule shall be based upon information available to the department of revenue pertaining to the current fair market value of vessels. The fair market value of a vessel for the purposes of the excise tax imposed by this chapter shall be based on the original purchase price depreciated according to the year of purchase of the vessel. The original purchase price is the consideration, whether money, credit, rights, or other property expressed in terms of money, paid or given or contracted to be paid or given by the purchaser to the seller for the vessel. The purchase price must be a reasonable representation of the fair market value of the vessel.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 18. (1) If the original purchase price is not known, the owner may have the county assessor appraise the vessel, which value shall be used if less than the value established by the department of revenue.

(2) If the vessel is homemade, a notarized declaration of fair market value shall be made by the owner. The department of revenue shall appraise the vessel to establish the value of the vessel for excise tax purposes when it appears that the declared value does not represent the true fair market value of the vessel.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 19. Any vessel owner may appeal the fair market value of the owner's vessel established by the department of revenue to the board of equalization of the county in which the owner resides or in which the vessel is berthed.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 20. The following are exempt from the tax imposed under this chapter:

(1) Vessels exempt from the registration requirements of chapter 88, RCW (sections 7 through 15 of this act);

(2) Vessels engaged in commerce as determined by the rules and regulations of the Internal Revenue Service;

(3) Vessels with a fair market value of five thousand dollars or less; and

(4) Vessels owned and held for sale by a dealer, but not rented on a regular commercial basis.

Sec. 21. Section 84.36.080, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 84.36.080 are each amended to read as follows:

All ships and vessels (~~taxable in the state of Washington;~~) which are primarily engaged in (~~interstate~~) commerce(~~foreign commerce or commerce between ports of the state of Washington and the high seas;~~) shall be and are hereby made exempt from all ad valorem taxes, except taxes levied for any state purpose.

The tax shall be collected for each calendar year by the director of licensing, and must be paid during the month of January, except that the tax for 1983 is due on the effective date of this 1983 section. No additional tax shall be imposed under this chapter upon any aircraft upon the transfer of ownership thereof, if the tax imposed by this chapter with respect to such aircraft has already been paid for the year in which transfer of ownership occurs. ~~((A penalty of five dollars shall be levied against all aircraft not timely registered))~~ A violation of this chapter is a misdemeanor punishable as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

Sec. 26. Section 82.48.030, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 3, chapter 9, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 82.48.030 are each amended to read as follows:

The amount of the tax imposed by this chapter for each calendar year or part thereof shall be ~~((fifteen dollars for each single engine aircraft, and twenty-five dollars for each multi-engine aircraft, irrespective of make, type, year of manufacture or any other type of classification))~~ one percent of the fair market value of the aircraft as determined under this chapter. PROVIDED, That the calendar year shall be divided into twelve parts corresponding to the months of the calendar year and the excise tax upon an aircraft registered for the first time in this state after the last day of any month shall only be levied for the remaining months of the calendar year including the month in which the aircraft is being registered: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the minimum amount payable shall be three dollars.

An aircraft shall be deemed registered for the first time in this state when such aircraft was not previously registered by this state for the year immediately preceding the year in which application for registration is made.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. There is added to chapter 82.48 RCW a new section to read as follows:

After consultation with the department of licensing, the department of revenue shall prepare at least once each year a schedule for use in the collection of the excise tax imposed under this chapter. The schedule shall be based upon available information pertaining to the fair market value of aircraft. Aircraft shall be classified into a convenient number of classes on the basis of price, make, type, year of manufacture, or any other reasonable basis, and the rate of tax prescribed in RCW 82.48.030 shall be applied to the value of aircraft within the classes as thus determined. In determining fair market value, the department of revenue may use any guidebook, report, or compendium of recognized standing in the aircraft industry. The schedule shall show, so far as possible, the amount of excise tax for aircraft within each class and shall sufficiently describe the aircraft included within each class to enable the department of licensing and its agents to ascertain readily the amount of tax applicable to any particular aircraft.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. There is added to chapter 82.48 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Whenever a person applies for a registration for an aircraft which does not appear on the schedule, the applicant shall apply to the county assessor of the applicant's county for computation of the amount of excise tax due. Upon application, the assessor shall appraise the aircraft at its fair market value based on any guidebook, report, or compendium of recognized standing in the aircraft industry, ascertain the amount of excise tax by applying to the appraisal the rate of the tax under this chapter, and give the applicant a certificate showing the excise tax due under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. Taxes paid under chapter 82.48 RCW before April 1, 1983, for calendar year 1983 shall be allowed as a credit against tax due under RCW 82.48.030 for the same aircraft.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. There is added to chapter 82.32 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The revenue accrual account is hereby created in the state general fund. At the close of each fiscal biennium, the state treasurer shall transfer the balance in the state general fund to this account. Moneys in this account may only be spent after appropriation by statute for the purpose of reducing the period after the close of a biennium during which accrued revenue may be credited back to that biennium. If the balance of the account exceeds the amount necessary for the previously stated purpose, moneys in the account may be spent after appropriation by statute for the purpose of decreasing the unfunded liability of a state retirement system.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. This act shall not be construed as affecting any existing right acquired, or liability or obligation incurred under the sections amended in this act, nor any rule, regulation, or order adopted, nor any proceeding instituted, under those sections.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 32. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. (1) The sum of seventy-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated from the general fund to the department of revenue for the biennium ending June 30, 1983, to carry out the purposes of sections 7 through 23 of this act.

(2) The sum of seventy-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated from the general fund to the department of revenue for the biennium ending June 30, 1983, to carry out the purposes of sections 25 through 29 of this act.

(3) The sum of one hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated from the general fund for the biennium ending June 30, 1983, to the department of licensing for the purposes of sections 7 through 23 of this act.

Sec. 34. Section 82.08.050, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 7, chapter 299, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 82.08.050 are each amended to read as follows:

The tax hereby imposed shall be paid by the buyer to the seller, and each seller shall collect from the buyer the full amount of the tax payable in respect to each taxable sale in accordance with the schedule of collections adopted by the department pursuant to the provisions of RCW 82.08.060. The tax required by this chapter, to be collected by the seller, shall be deemed to be held in trust by the seller until paid to the department, and any seller who appropriates or converts the tax collected to his own use or to any use other than the payment of the tax to the extent that the money required to be collected is not available for payment on the due date as prescribed in this chapter shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

In case any seller fails to collect the tax herein imposed or having collected the tax, fails to pay it to the department in the manner prescribed by this chapter, whether such failure is the result of his own acts or the result of acts or conditions beyond his control, he shall, nevertheless, be personally liable to the state for the amount of the tax.

The amount of tax, until paid by the buyer to the seller or to the department, shall constitute a debt from the buyer to the seller and any seller who fails or refuses to collect the tax as required with intent to violate the provisions of this chapter or to gain some advantage or benefit, either direct or indirect, and any buyer who refuses to pay any tax due under this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The tax required by this chapter to be collected by the seller shall be stated separately from the selling price ~~((and for purposes of determining the tax due from the buyer to the seller and from the seller to the department)), unless the seller elects to include the tax in the selling price and clearly informs the purchaser that the tax is included, and the price list, advertisements, sales document, contract, or other agreement between the parties sets forth the current tax rate. If the seller does not so elect, it shall be conclusively presumed that the selling price quoted in any price list, advertisements, sales document, contract or other agreement between the parties does not include the tax imposed by this chapter.~~

Where a buyer has failed to pay to the seller the tax imposed by this chapter and the seller has not paid the amount of the tax to the department, the department may, in its discretion, proceed directly against the buyer for collection of the tax, in which case a penalty of ten percent may be added to the amount of the tax for failure of the buyer to pay the same to the seller, regardless of when the tax may be collected by the department; and all of the provisions of chapter 82.32 RCW, including those relative to interest and penalties, shall apply in addition; and, for the sole purpose of applying the various provisions of chapter 82.32 RCW, the fifteenth day of the month following the tax period in which the purchase was made shall be considered as the due date of the tax.

Sec. 35. Section 82.08.120, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 51, chapter 278, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 82.08.120 are each amended to read as follows:

Whoever, excepting as expressly authorized by this chapter, refunds, remits, or rebates to a buyer, either directly or indirectly and by whatever means, all or any part of the tax levied by this chapter, or makes in any form of advertising, verbal or otherwise, any statements which might infer that he is absorbing the tax or paying the tax for the buyer ~~((by an adjustment of prices, or at a price including the tax, or))~~ in any ~~((other))~~ manner whatsoever shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: PROVIDED, That this section shall not be construed to require the seller to state the tax imposed under this chapter separately from the selling price if the buyer is informed as required under RCW 82.08.050. The violation of this section by any person holding a license granted by the state or any political subdivision thereof shall be sufficient grounds for the cancellation of the license of such person upon written notification by the department of revenue to the proper officer of the department granting the license that such person has violated the provisions of this section. Before any license shall be canceled hereunder, the licensee shall be entitled to a hearing before the department granting the license under such regulations as the department may prescribe.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 36. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions. Sections 1 through 6, and 30 through 36 of this act shall take effect March 1, 1983. Sections 7 through 14, 17 through 21, and 24 through 30 of this act shall take effect April 1, 1983. Sections 15 and 16 of this act shall take effect May 1, 1983. Sections 21 and 22 of this act shall take effect January 1, 1984, for taxes due in 1984 and thereafter. The department of revenue and the department of licensing shall immediately take necessary steps to ensure that all sections of this act are properly implemented on their effective dates. The additional taxes imposed under this act shall take effect on the dates designated in this act notwithstanding the date this act becomes law under Article III, section 12 of the state Constitution."

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Tuesday, February 15, 1983

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Deccio, Quigg and Rasmussen. On motion of Senator Bluechel, Senators Deccio and Quigg were excused. On motion of Senator Vognild, Senator Rasmussen was excused.

The Sergeant at Arms Color Guard, consisting of Pages Lori Binder and Troy Longwith, presented the Colors.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President announced the presence in the Senate Chamber of Sister Anne Hayes, a native of County Down, Ireland, and presently administrator of St. John's Hospital, Longview, Washington. Accompanying Sister Anne were Sister Eileen Rahal and Mr. Ed Mahn of the St. John's Hospital staff. The President appointed Senators Hurley, Jones, Clarke, Fuller, Moore, McManus, and Shinpoch to escort the honored guests to the rostrum.

Sister Anne Hayes, a guest of Senator Alan Thompson, offered the morning prayer.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Zimmerman: "Mr. President, I want just a point of personal privilege about the Irish and others. The Lieutenant Governor, by my name, was not certain that I had any Irish background and I wanted to point out that my mother was Scotch-Irish. Because my father had a German name, but was Swiss, there are some confusions. Having been born in a hospital operated by the Sisters of Mercy in Valley City, North Dakota, and having one parent Presbyterian and one an Evangelical, there was some mixture. My middle name being Samuel is always looked upon as being a bit Jewish.

"So, consequently, I just wanted you to know that we were in Dublin this past year and had a wonderful time visiting David Rice, a former Father from the State of Washington. Please do not hold it against us Zimmerman Irishmen, despite it only being a quarter Irish. Certainly, having been on the hospital board in Longview, at the time several years back before Senator Alan Thompson was a member of the legislature, and serving on the other hospital board in Longview, I am pleased to be able to greet these folks. I won't hold it against you, Mr. Speaker, for this inadvertent oversight."

The committee of honor escorted the guests from the Senate Chamber and the committee was discharged.

SECOND READING

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 107, by Senators Williams, Benitz, Goltz, Quigg, McManus, Hemstad, Moore, Hurley, Fleming, Hayner, Jones, Bottiger, Fuller and Deccio

Calling for resolution of the WPPSS financial situation.

The resolution was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Williams, the following Committee on Energy and Utilities amendment was adopted:

On page 2, line 26, strike "public utilities which are"

On motion of Senator Williams, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 107 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Williams, you know in the last session of the legislature, many of us had a concern about the bill that purported to expand the executive board of WPPSS to include designees of the Governor of the state of Washington--concerns on the grounds that this could, in fact, be an involvement of the state of Washington and an extension of the full faith and credit and taxing power of the state to the debt of WPPSS. Is not this kind of resolution an indication on an official level--a policy indication--that we are implicitly extending the full faith and credit of the state of Washington and the taxing power of the state of Washington to the WPPSS debt in general, and to the proposed resolution of the debt in particular?"

Senator Williams: "Senator Talmadge, I personally do not believe so. However, the decision we made last year when we passed the board bill that allowed the Governor to make three appointments on that board, we did debate quite a bit--the implications of whether that put the state more into the responsibility and liability for WPPSS--as opposed to what it had been. Many of us voted against that bill, using that as one of the reasons.

"However, ultimately I presume that you, as an attorney, would understand that it will be the courts that make that final judgment as to whether we have acquired additional liability and responsibility or not. This particular resolution does not take any position as Senator Rasmussen indicated earlier--does not take position at all in regard to what the solutions should be. It may very well be that the fault does take place. However, this offers or suggests another path--or another path during this process in which the Governor of this state, as the logical representative of all the citizens of the state, because ultimately we probably all will be affected. It suggests that the Governor is the most likely person to sit at the head of the table in terms of bringing negotiators together. But it is my opinion that this resolution does not, in any way, affect the state's responsibility or bring it more into a liability position than it has in the past."

Further debated ensued.

MOTIONS

Senator Vognild moved that the rules be suspended and that Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 107 be returned to second reading for purpose of an amendment.

Senator Hayner demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 107 was deferred.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

February 15, 1983

Mr. President:

The House has refused to recede from its amendments to ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 3258 and asks the Senate for a conference thereon, and the Speaker has appointed as members of the Conference Committee: Representatives Grimm, Sommers and a member of the minority party yet to be named.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Newhouse: "Mr. President, under the rules of this body for all these many years and practice and precedent, we have never had a conference committee request between the two bodies without joint rules. I suggest that the request of the House is out of order, entirely improper, and we cannot respond to such a request without a concurrent resolution between the two bodies providing for joint rules and a procedure for conference reports."

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, notwithstanding Senator Newhouse's remarks, there have, in fact, been many occasions on which the House has proceeded under Reed's Rule No. 243 to grant the powers of conference. In fact, the last time that we did it, the most recent time was in 1977, involved the school apportionment formula.

"We will be passing out on your desk copies of some rather note-worthy remarks that I am sure Senator Clarke will remember, when Senator Grant raised a point of order very similar to Senator Newhouse's, and Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, at that time, ruled on the matter. In fact, there is ample precedence for the House to proceed under Reed's Rule 243, which, in fact and at that time, according to Senator Clarke's remarks, are that none of the rules of the Senate apply when we operate under Reed's Rule 243. In fact, all of the rules which are inconsistent with Reed's 243 are inapplicable.

"We will pass out Senator Clarke's remarks in support of that position, so that we can all remember with clarity. I think the point of order is not well taken."

Senator Newhouse: "I will quote from Rule 40 for Senator Bottiger--'The rules of parliamentary practice as contained in Reed's Parliamentary Rules shall govern the senate in all cases to which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with the rules and orders of this senate and the joint rules of this senate and the house of representatives.' Then cite back to Rule 22, particularly for instance, (7)--'No floor vote may be taken on any free conference committee report.' I think that by practice and by rule, our Senate Rules prevail and only when Senate Rules are silent, do we go to Reed's Rules."

The President Pro Tempore asked the Secretary to read the following from the Senate Journal of June 20, 1977:

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Grant: "I raise the point of order that the consideration of the free conference report is in violation of Rule 12 of the Joint Rules. I understand that the Joint Rules have not been adopted but I also understand, Mr. President, that you have been ruling in accordance with the Joint Rules of the past session which provide in Rule 12 that a report of a free conference committee shall be read in full in each house and that the House and Senate shall have thirty-six hours from the time of receipt in the house originating the conference request to consider reports from a free conference committee.

"Mr. President, we received this report about an hour ago. That is far short of thirty-six hours and I should suggest to the members of the Senate that although this may be a very worthwhile report, that this is a rather ridiculous hour to consider such a far-reaching measure. We have been here for--how many days? Too many days. One hundred and sixty days now, and the question of a definition of basic education has been one that we have had before us for a considerable period of time. However, the question is a serious one and one that I think members should have an opportunity to consider fully, all members, not six conferees. I have objected to this process in the past with regard to the budget and the manner in which it has been presented and certainly that question has not as yet been resolved, but I should think that the members of the Senate, which is considered to be the deliberative body, would take the time to give this their full consideration. I would not object tomorrow. I would not hold to a thirty-six hour rule, but I should think that we should have had these copies in caucus. We should have had the opportunity to discuss the formulas, the staffing, the course offerings in our common school system, before we take action on a measure as important as this. I know, Mr. President, that rules have not been adopted.

"I should like to call to mind your past rulings wherein you have ruled that the rules that have been in effect in the past have been the rules by which you have operated. If we do not go by this one, then there is no procedure for conference or free conference or any other rule with regard to differences between the houses, and I would ask that you rule that this particular measure not be considered at this time because of Rule 12."

MOTION

Senator Clarke: "I move that there be a suspension of any rule that may be deemed to exist without conceding that there is such a rule, and that the matter be now considered and I would like to speak upon that motion, in answer to the remarks of Senator Grant.

"He is quite correct in stating that this is one of the important matters for consideration by this legislature. However, I think he knows as well as every Senator on the floor that substantially everyone has been rather closely following the developments of the negotiation with respect to the attempt to define basic education. He also knows, or should have known, that the matter was presented in detail this evening before a joint caucus. Joint caucuses are rather unusual things, because normally each party holds its own caucus, but here the matter is a nonpartisan matter. It is a matter of importance to the public and was thoroughly discussed in joint caucus. I submit that no good end whatsoever would be achieved by delaying this for another day. It would simply contribute to a further unnecessary delay of a session which we very definitely hope is drawing to a close. Now the body has the right to make its determination and I have, as Senator Grant knows, joined in urging that there be some sort of rules that would be applicable until such time as we have formalized our Joint Rules. So certainly this body, if it so desires, and I urge that it do so, can by a two-thirds vote elect to consider the matter because if we did have rules, those could be suspended by a two-thirds vote. I would suggest that the President put a motion with the idea of getting a two-thirds concurrence for consideration."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MARDESICH

Senator Mardesich: "I would simply challenge the requirement for a two-thirds vote. There are no rules in order, and a motion to suspend is not necessary. A mere motion to consider is the proper motion and with Senator Clarke's concurrence, I would hope that motion be put."
Debate ensued.

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: "I would withdraw the motion and I think that the vote will show that we will have a two-thirds majority in any event, but I have concurred with Senator Mardesich that we do not at this time actually have any rules that need suspending."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "Members of the Senate, in this Forty-Fifth Session the President has been guided by the Senate Rules that were in existence in the Forty-Fourth prior to the adoption of rules for this session. The President has no precedent to guide him as to the situation involving Joint Rules. Therefore, in the absence of Joint Rules and in the interest of expediting the business of the Senate, the President rules that Substitute House Bill 960 is properly before the Senate. Therefore, the point of order is not well taken."

The Point of Order raised by Senator Grant was ruled out of order."

Following the reading from the Senate Journal of June 20, 1977, the President Pro Tempore announced that the Senate would resume consideration of the Message from the House and the consideration of appointment of a conference committee on Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3258.

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: "Yes, Mr. President, I do recall the situation which has just been read and would respectfully call your attention to a very substantial difference between that situation and the situation we presently have. That is that while we do not have Joint Rules, we do have Rules of the Senate. I will wait your ruling on the Point of Order and then I would like to make a Parliamentary Inquiry."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "The President believes that in the absence of Joint Rules, there is sufficient parallel circumstances to say that the Ruling by the President previously cited, is applicable in this particular instance. Therefore, in the absence of Joint Rules and in the interest of expediting the business of the Senate, the President rules that the Message from the House is properly before the Senate and the Point of Order is not well taken."

The Point of Order raised by Senator Newhouse was ruled out of order.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "Since we have no Joint Rules, what rules then will apply with respect to the Conference Committee and the Conference Committee Reports? That is, if they are not covered by the Senate Rules?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "Under Rule 40 of the Senate Rules, it says that-- 'The rules of parliamentary practice as contained in Reed's Parliamentary Rules shall govern the Senate in all cases to which they are applicable'--and the rule that would apply would be the rule on page 159 of Reed's Rules, Rule No. 240, relative to conferences."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "Mr. President, I would take it then that Rule 22, No. 7, page 12, of the Senate Rules which do relate to the procedure with respect to free conference reports would still apply in that the rule that you just read states that Reed's Rules apply except as to situations which are covered by existing Senate Rules."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Bottiger: "A point of order. Senator Clarke is asking the President to rule on things that are not before the body. The only issue before the body now is whether the Senate has the authority to respond to the House request for a conference. The motion has been made, I believe, and if not, I make it that the Senate grant the powers of conference on Senate Bill No. 3258. That is the only issue before the body and not the report or anything else."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "With respect to the conference committee--"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "Senator Clarke, if I may interrupt you just for a moment. With respect to your first inquiry, I believe that Senator Bottiger's remarks are well taken."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "Very well. My second parliamentary inquiry is this--how do we determine the number of conferees that should be appointed?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "Under Rule 240, the number of conferees are not specifically specified for each occasion, so it is up to the body. Inasmuch as the House has established a Conference Committee of three, presumably it would be consistent if this body were to select three conferees."

Senator Clarke: "There is, however, no rule and what in substance you are stating, it is up to this body to determine the number?"

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "That is correct."

MOTION

Senator Bottiger moved that the request of the House for a conference on Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3258 be granted and that the Senate appoint three members to the Conference Committee.

Debate ensued.

Senators Bottiger, Shinpoch and Peterson demanded the previous question.

Senator Hayner demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

On motion of Senator Williams, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3256 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "I was wondering why we don't take up the Constitutional Amendment first, Senator Williams. It would seem to me that what would go in the implementing bill would be defined by what the Constitutional Amendment says, and since we have not yet perfected the language of the Constitutional Amendment, I was curious why we were taking up the implementing bill first?"

Senator Williams: "Senator Pullen, I had no particular preference on that. This is simply the way the bills came up on the calendar. We are not aware of any particular amendments to perfect the Constitutional Amendment at this time. If there are, we would be happy to do so."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3256.

MOTION

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of House Bill No. 147.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of House Bill No. 147, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; nays, 00; absent, 00; excused, 03.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3203, by Senators Peterson, Bender, Haley, Hemstad, Talmadge and Deccio (by Legislative Transportation Committee request)

Requiring child restraints in motor vehicles.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Peterson, the following Committee on Transportation amendment was adopted:

On page 2, line 6, strike all material through "guardian," on line 7 and insert: "(3) Failure to comply with the requirements of this section shall not constitute negligence by a parent or legal guardian; nor shall failure to use a child restraint system be admissible as evidence of negligence in any civil action."

On motion of Senator Peterson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3203 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Peterson, would the terms of this particular bill also apply to pregnant women?"

Senator Peterson: "Pregnant women are not listed in the bill, Senator Pullen."

Senator Pullen: "Well, would you object to having this bill returned to second reading, so that I could offer an amendment to that effect?"

Senator Peterson: "No, I would object to that. I think that is a separate matter. This is a child restraint measure that we have worked on for several years and if you want to make pregnant women wear seat belts, I think that should be addressed separately rather than with child restraints."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Peterson, the bill reads that after a receipt of a traffic violation notice, that if you present proof of acquisition--this does not require that you then present proof of purchase? You may go over to your neighbor and borrow an approved child restraint seat and take it in. Where do you take it--to the police judge--and then they will relieve you of that fine?"

Senator Peterson: "Well, I suspect that is essentially correct, Senator, but it does require proof of obtaining the child restraint. Whether it is borrowed or whether it is purchased is a little bit difficult to ascertain. I don't know if you bought your necktie or whether somebody loaned it to you for today's session, but it would be the same thing.

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, ordinarily people give me neckties, but my concern was to make it clear that acquisition did not require purchase. I think the bill has improved much in that respect, but if I can borrow the seat when I want to go down and get that thirty dollar ticket taken off, that is very important."

Senator Peterson: "Well, the fact remains, Senator, that the burden of responsibility lies upon the guardian or parent. I think that is sufficient. I don't think you can tighten this up much further without jeopardizing its passage. So, I would suggest that we proceed."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Peterson, maybe this has been answered before. If it has, I missed it. On page 1, lines 17 and 18, it says--'shall have the child properly secured in a manner approved by the State Commission on Equipment' and then it goes on to say--'even though a separate child passenger restraint device is considered the ideal method of protection, a properly adjusted and fastened federally approved seal belt is deemed sufficient to meet the requirements' and it goes on. Which is going to be required--the mechanism approved by the State Commission on Equipment or the federally approved seat belt?"

Senator Peterson: "The Commission would approve the device for those one and under. After the age of one--from one to five--any federally approved seat belt mechanism would be considered legal. From up to one year of age, it would be an approved child restraint system approved by the Commission."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, Senator Woody was excused.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

February 18, 1983

Mr. President:

Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Conference Committee, to whom was referred ENGROSSED SENATE BILL No. 3258, modifying taxes ('81-'83 Biennium), have had the same under consideration, and we are unable to agree and respectfully request the powers of Free Conference.

Signed by Senators McDermott and Gaspard; Representatives Grimm and Sommers.

MOTION

Senator Bottiger moved that the request by the Conference Committee for the powers of Free Conference on Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3258 be granted.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "I would like to ask the President under what rules a power of Free Conference can now be granted. We were told last night that we were reverting to Reed's Rules, and I don't see in Reeds any differentiation as to whether or not powers of Free Conference must be granted separately."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Honored members of the Senate. Referring to the point presented by Senator Newhouse, the President states that Reed's Rules provides for the granting of a conference or a free conference committee. The Senate and House created a Conference Committee that has not come to an agreement and has requested the powers of Free Conference. This is provided for in Reed's Rule No. 242, and the President believes that this process may expedite the business of both of the two houses. Therefore, the President rules that the motion is in order."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Bottiger that the Senate grant the powers of Free Conference on Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3258.

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and the powers of Free Conference were granted on Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3258.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Talmadge, will you restate your remarks? You say that the employer does not have to know of the first injury in order to receive second injury benefits. In other words, he is not charged for the second injury?"

Senator Talmadge: "That's correct, Senator. Let me give you an example. The employee has an injury with another employer some years ago and is thirty percent disabled and is adjudged to be that by the Department of Labor and Industries. That employee applies for a new position with a second employer--doesn't tell the second employer of the existence of that previous disability--and becomes injured on the job with the second employer. Now, the second employer would like to have his industrial experience adjusted by the fact that they hired this previously handicapped employee, but the Department says 'no, because you didn't specifically know of the existence of this disability.' If the employee were to say 'I had a disability' and the employer knew it, they would get coverage. It doesn't make any sense, really."

THE DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL AND HEALTH SERVICES

The appropriations made by this act to the department of social and health services are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) The department of social and health services shall not initiate any new services which will incur general fund state expenditures beyond those authorized by appropriation.

(2) Funds appropriated by this act to the department of social and health services shall be allotted and expended reflecting the legislative intent of this act. Within the specific limitations in this act, the department of social and health services may modify allotments after the initial three months of the biennium with the approval of the office of financial management in consultation with the committees on ways and means of the senate and house of representatives ((: PROVIDED, That because substantial uncertainty continues to exist as to actual federal revenues available to the department of social and health services and because major changes in federal entitlement programs affecting income maintenance, community social services, and medical assistance programs may have significant effects on caseloads and expenditures in those programs, allotment modifications may include transfers between programs in sections 49, 50, 51, 53, 54, and 55 of chapter 340, Laws of 1981)). Transfers between or within programs may occur notwithstanding any limitation, condition, or proviso in sections 49 through 59, chapter 340, Laws of 1981 as amended by chapter 14, Laws of 1981 2nd ex. sess.; chapter 50, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess.; and chapter 11, Laws of 1982 2nd ex. sess. Each transfer must maximize services provided under all programs, taking into account actual program workloads.

(3) The department of social and health services may seek and receive additional federal funds not included in this act, subject to approval of the office of financial management, provided that such funding does not require additional expenditure of state funds.

(4) In anticipation of significant reductions in federal support for social service, public health, and Title XIX programs, the legislature has reduced the state's dependency on federal entitlement programs within the income maintenance, medical assistance, and social service programs. However, additional federal reductions may require further reductions to all human service programs. To ensure that the loss of federal funds does not result in an accelerated expenditure of state funds, the following requirements are placed on the department of social and health services:

((†)) The department shall prepare a contingency expenditure plan to reflect anticipated loss of federal funds. NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. An excise tax is imposed for the privilege of using a vessel for which registration is required under chapter 88. RCW (sections 14 through 22 of this act), except vessels covered by a dealer's registration number under this chapter. The annual amount of the excise tax is one percent of fair market value, as determined under this chapter, or five dollars, whichever is greater.

The excise tax upon a vessel registered for the first time in this state shall be imposed for a twelve-month period, including the month in which the vessel is registered, unless the director of licensing extends or diminishes vessel registration periods for the purpose of staggered renewal periods under section 18 of this act. A vessel is registered for the first time in this state when the vessel was not registered in this state for the immediately preceding registration year, or when the vessel was registered in another jurisdiction for the immediately preceding year. The excise tax on vessels required to be registered in this state on the effective date of this section shall be paid by June 30, 1983.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The excise tax imposed under this chapter is due and payable to the department of licensing or its agents at the time of registration of a vessel. The department of licensing shall not issue or renew a registration for a vessel until the tax is paid in full.

The excise tax collected under this chapter shall be deposited in the general fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The department of revenue shall prepare at least once each year a depreciation schedule for use in the determination of fair market value for the purposes of this chapter. The schedule shall be based upon information available to the department of revenue pertaining to the current fair market value of vessels. The fair market value of a vessel for the purposes of this chapter shall be based on the most recent purchase price depreciated according to the year of the most recent purchase of the vessel. The most recent purchase price is the consideration, whether money, credit, rights, or other property expressed in terms of money, paid or given or contracted to be paid or given by the purchaser to the seller for the vessel.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) If a vessel has been acquired by lease or gift, or the most recent purchase price of a vessel is not known to the owner, the department of revenue shall appraise the vessel before registration.

(2) If after registration the department of revenue determines that the purchase price stated by the owner is not a reasonable representation of the true fair market value of a vessel at the time of purchase, the department of revenue shall appraise the vessel.

(3) If a vessel is homemade, the owner shall make a notarized declaration of fair market value. The fair market value of the vessel for the purposes of this chapter shall be the declared value, unless after registration the department of revenue determines that the declared value is not a reasonable representation of the true fair market value of the vessel in which case the department of revenue shall appraise the vessel.

(4) If the department of revenue appraises a vessel, the fair market value of the vessel for the purposes of this chapter shall be the appraised value. If the vessel has been registered before appraisal, the department of revenue shall refund any overpayment of tax to the owner or notify the owner of any additional tax due. The owner shall pay any additional tax due within thirty days after notification by the department.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 13. (1) Any vessel owner disputing an appraised value under section 12 of this act may petition for a conference with the department as provided under RCW 82.32.160, or for reduction of the tax due as provided under RCW 82.32.170.

(2) Any vessel owner having received a notice of denial of a petition or a notice of determination made for the owner's vessel under RCW 82.32.160 or 82.32.170 may appeal to the board of tax appeals as provided under RCW 82.03.190. In deciding a case appealed under this section, the board of tax appeals may require an independent appraisal of the vessel. The cost of the independent appraisal shall be apportioned between the department and the vessel owner as provided by the board.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 14. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Vessel" means every watercraft used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on the water, other than a seaplane.

(2) "Owner" means a person who has a lawful right to possession of a vessel by purchase, exchange, gift, lease, inheritance, or legal action whether or not the vessel is subject to a security interest.

(3) "Dealer" means a person, partnership, association, or corporation engaged in the business of selling vessels at wholesale or retail in this state.

(4) "Department" means the department of licensing.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 15. Except as provided in this chapter, no person may own or operate any vessel on the waters of this state unless the vessel has been registered and displays a registration number and a valid decal in accordance with this chapter.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 16. Vessel registration is required under this chapter except for the following:

(1) Vessels owned and operated by the United States, another state, or a political subdivision thereof;

(2) Vessels owned and operated by this state, or by any municipality or political subdivision thereof;

(3) Vessels owned by a resident of a country other than the United States or Canada if the vessel is not physically located upon the waters of this state for a period of more than sixty days;

(4) Vessels owned by a resident of another state or a Canadian province if the vessel is registered in accordance with the laws of the state or province in which the owner resides, but only to the extent that a similar exemption or privilege is granted under the laws of that state or province for vessels registered in this state: PROVIDED, That any vessel which is validly registered in another state or a Canadian province and which is physically located in this state for a period of more than sixty days is subject to registration under this chapter;

(5) Vessels used as a ship's tender or lifeboat;

(6) Vessels under sixteen feet in length or whose primary propulsion is human power;

(7) Vessels which are temporarily in this state undergoing repair or alteration and vessels which are designed and used exclusively for racing;

(8) Vessels used exclusively for commercial fishing purposes; and

(9) Vessels which have or are required to have a valid marine document as a vessel of the United States and which are primarily engaged in commerce.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 17. The department shall provide for the issuance of vessel registrations and may appoint agents for collecting fees and issuing registration numbers and decals. Fees for vessel registrations collected by the director shall be deposited in the general fund.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 18. Application for a vessel registration shall be made to the department or its authorized agent in the manner and upon forms prescribed by the department. The application shall state the name and address of each owner of the vessel and such other information as may be required by the department, shall be signed by at least one owner, and shall be accompanied by a vessel registration fee of six dollars per year and the excise tax imposed under chapter 82.____ RCW (sections 9 through 13 of this act). Any fees required for licensing agents under RCW 46.01.140 shall be in addition to the six-dollar annual registration fee.

Upon receipt of the application and the registration fee, the department shall assign a registration number and issue a decal for each vessel. The registration number and decal shall be affixed to the vessel in a manner prescribed by the department. A valid decal affixed as prescribed shall indicate compliance with the annual registration requirements of this chapter.

The vessel registrations and decals are valid for a period of one year, except that the director of licensing may extend or diminish vessel registration periods, and the decals therefor, for the purpose of staggered renewal periods. For registration periods of more or less than one year, the department may collect prorated annual registration fees and excise taxes based upon the number of months in the registration period. Vessel registrations are renewable every year in a manner prescribed by the department upon payment of the vessel registration fee and excise tax. Upon renewing a vessel registration, the department shall issue a new decal to be affixed as prescribed by the department.

A person acquiring a vessel from a dealer or a vessel already validly registered under this chapter shall, within fifteen days of the acquisition or purchase of the vessel, apply to the department or its authorized agent for transfer of the vessel registration, and the application shall be accompanied by a transfer fee of one dollar.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 19. (1) Each dealer of vessels in this state shall register with the department in the manner and upon forms prescribed by the department. Upon receipt of a dealer's application for registration and the registration fee provided in subsection (2) of this section, the dealer shall be registered and a registration number assigned.

(2) The registration fee for dealers shall be twenty-five dollars per year, and the fee shall cover all vessels owned by the dealer for sale and not rented on a regular commercial basis by the dealer. Rented vessels shall be registered separately under sections 15 through 18 of this act.

(3) Dealer registration numbers are nontransferable.

(4) Section 15 of this act does not apply to any dealer or employee or prospective customer of the dealer with respect to any vessel covered by the dealer's registration number and used for a business purpose of the dealer, such as a demonstration vessel or for purposes of testing or making repairs.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 20. The department may adopt rules under chapter 34.04 RCW to implement this chapter.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 21. Any person charged with the enforcement of this chapter may request for inspection the certificate of registration from any vessel owner or operator to ascertain the legal and registered ownership of such vessel. Failure to provide such certificate for inspection upon the request of any person charged with enforcement of this chapter constitutes a violation of this chapter and subjects the person requested to produce such document to the penalties provided by section 22 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 22. (1) A violation of this chapter is a misdemeanor punishable only by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars per vessel for the first violation. Subsequent violations in the same year are subject to the following fines:

(a) For the second violation, a fine of two hundred dollars per vessel;

(b) For the third and successive violations, a fine of four hundred dollars per vessel.

(2) Moneys collected under this section shall be used by the jurisdiction collecting the fine exclusively for law enforcement purposes.

(3) All law enforcement officers shall have the authority to enforce this chapter within their respective jurisdictions.

Sec. 23. Section 84.36.080, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 84.36.080 are each amended to read as follows:

All ships and vessels (~~taxable in the state of Washington, engaged in interstate commerce, foreign commerce or commerce between ports of the state of Washington and the high seas;~~) which are exempt from excise tax under subsections (8) and (9) of section 16 of this 1983 act shall be and are hereby made exempt from all ad valorem taxes, except taxes levied for any state purpose.

Sec. 24. Section 84.36.090, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 84.36.090 are each amended to read as follows:

All ships and vessels (~~taxable in the state~~), other than those (~~taxable~~) partially exempt under RCW 84.36.080 and those described in RCW 84.36.079, are exempt from all ad valorem taxes (~~except taxes levied for any state purpose and twenty percent of taxes levied for all other purposes~~).

NEW SECTION, Sec. 25. Property taxes paid for a vessel for 1983 shall be allowed as a credit against tax due under section 9 of this act for the same vessel.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 26. Sections 14 through 22 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 88 RCW. Sections 9 through 13 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 82 RCW.

Sec. 27. Section 82.48.020, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 240, chapter 158, Laws of 1979 and RCW 82.48.020 are each amended to read as follows:

An annual excise tax is hereby imposed for the privilege of using any aircraft in the state. A current certificate of air worthiness with a current inspection date from the appropriate federal agency and/or the purchase of aviation fuel shall constitute the necessary evidence of aircraft use or intended use. The tax shall be collected for each calendar year by the director of licensing, and must be paid during the month of January, except that the tax for 1983 is due on the effective date of this 1983 section. No additional tax shall be imposed under this chapter upon any aircraft upon the transfer of ownership thereof, if the tax imposed by this chapter with respect to such aircraft has already been paid for the year in which transfer of ownership occurs. (~~A penalty of five dollars shall be levied against all aircraft not timely registered~~) A violation of this chapter is a misdemeanor punishable as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

Sec. 28. Section 82.48.030, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 3, chapter 9, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 82.48.030 are each amended to read as follows:

The amount of the tax imposed by this chapter for each calendar year or part thereof shall be ~~((fifteen dollars for each single engine aircraft, and twenty-five dollars for each multi-engine aircraft, irrespective of make, type, year of manufacture or any other type of classification))~~ one percent of the fair market value of the aircraft as determined under this chapter: PROVIDED, That the calendar year shall be divided into twelve parts corresponding to the months of the calendar year and the excise tax upon an aircraft registered for the first time in this state after the last day of any month shall only be levied for the remaining months of the calendar year including the month in which the aircraft is being registered: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the minimum amount payable shall be three dollars.

An aircraft shall be deemed registered for the first time in this state when such aircraft was not previously registered by this state for the year immediately preceding the year in which application for registration is made.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. There is added to chapter 82.48 RCW a new section to read as follows:

After consultation with the department of licensing, the department of revenue shall prepare at least once each year a schedule for use in the collection of the excise tax imposed under this chapter. The schedule shall be based upon available information pertaining to the fair market value of aircraft. Aircraft shall be classified into a convenient number of classes on the basis of price, make, type, year of manufacture, or any other reasonable basis, and the rate of tax prescribed in RCW 82.48.030 shall be applied to the value of aircraft within the classes as thus determined. In determining fair market value, the department of revenue may use any guidebook, report, or compendium of recognized standing in the aircraft industry. The schedule shall show, so far as possible, the amount of excise tax for aircraft within each class and shall sufficiently describe the aircraft included within each class to enable the department of licensing and its agents to ascertain readily the amount of tax applicable to any particular aircraft.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. There is added to chapter 82.48 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Whenever a person applies for a registration for an aircraft which does not appear on the schedule, the applicant shall apply to the county assessor of the applicant's county for computation of the amount of excise tax due. Upon application, the assessor shall appraise the aircraft at its fair market value based on any guidebook, report, or compendium of recognized standing in the aircraft industry, ascertain the amount of excise tax by applying to the appraisal the rate of the tax under this chapter, and give the applicant a certificate showing the excise tax due under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. Taxes paid under chapter 82.48 RCW before June 30, 1983, for calendar year 1983 shall be allowed as a credit against tax due under RCW 82.48.030 for the same aircraft.

Sec. 32. Section 82.32.090, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 8, chapter 172, Laws of 1981 and RCW 82.32.090 are each amended to read as follows:

If payment of any tax due is not received by the department of revenue by the due date, there shall be assessed a penalty of five percent of the amount of the tax; and if the tax is not received within thirty days after the due date, there shall be assessed a total penalty of ten percent of the amount of the tax; and if the tax is not received within sixty days after the due date, there shall be assessed a total penalty of twenty percent of the amount of the tax. No penalty so added shall be less than two dollars.

If payment of any tax is received within the first ten days of the month next succeeding the month in which the tax is payable, the amount of such payment shall be credited to, and shall be treated for all purposes as having been collected during, the fiscal year which includes the month preceding the month in which such due date falls. Effective June 30, 1985, and thereafter if the payment of any tax is received during the first ~~((twenty-five))~~ ten days in the month in which the tax is payable, the amount of such payment shall be credited to, and shall be treated for all purposes as having been collected during, the fiscal year which includes the month preceding the month in which such due date falls.

If a warrant be issued by the department of revenue for the collection of taxes, increases, and penalties, there shall be added thereto a penalty of five percent of the amount of the tax, but not less than five dollars.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the aggregate of penalties imposed under this chapter for failure to file a return, late payment of any tax, increase, or penalty, or issuance of a warrant shall not exceed twenty-five percent of the tax due, or seven dollars, whichever is greater.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. There is added to chapter 82.32 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The revenue accrual account is hereby created in the state general fund. At the close of each fiscal biennium, the state treasurer shall transfer the balance in the state general fund to this account. Moneys in this account may only be spent after appropriation by statute for the purpose of decreasing the unfunded liability of a state retirement system.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 34. This act shall not be construed as affecting any existing right acquired, or liability or obligation incurred under the sections amended in this act, nor any rule, regulation, or order adopted, nor any proceeding instituted, under those sections.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 35. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 36. (1) The sum of twelve thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated from the general fund to the department of revenue for the biennium ending June 30, 1983, to carry out the purposes of sections 9 through 25, and 27 through 31 of this act.

(2) The sum of two hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated from the general fund for the biennium ending June 30, 1983, to the department of licensing for the purposes of sections 9 through 25 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 37. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect March 1, 1983, except as follows:

(1) Sections 9 through 22, and 25 through 31 of this act shall take effect June 30, 1983.

(2) Sections 23 and 24 of this act shall take effect January 1, 1984, for taxes first due in 1984 and thereafter.

REPORT OF FREE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

MINORITY REPORT

February 18, 1983

Mr. President:

Mr. Speaker:

We, a Minority, of your Free Conference Committee, to whom was referred ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 3258, modifying taxes ('81-'83 biennium), have had the same under consideration, and we recommend that the Free Conference Committee Report be not adopted.

Signed by Senator Hayner and Representative Gary Nelson.

MOTION

Senator McDermott moved that the Senate adopt the Free Conference Majority Committee Report on Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3258.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator McDermott, in examining section 27, having to do with the excise tax on the privilege of using an aircraft in the state, I am bothered that we might perhaps require a license for a transient aircraft in the state of Washington. It states--'the privilege of using an aircraft in the state shall bear the excise tax--A current certificate of air worthiness with a current inspection date from the appropriate federal agency or'--and this is what bothers me--'the purchase of aviation fuel shall constitute the necessary evidence of the aircraft use or intended use.' Does that subject those people who come into the state as transients to pay a 1% excise tax on the value of that aircraft or is it an ambiguous clause in the bill?"

Senator McDermott: "I think Senator Bottiger might be better able to answer that question."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, perhaps because I was one of the drafters of the original act in 1967, the answer is clearly 'no,' if that aircraft is registered in another state."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator McDermott, in the sections referring to a differential per border counties in the Portland area, during the four month period when the sales tax on food is still in effect, will that assessment of a B & O tax on retailers in those counties replace the revenue that would have been levied if a sales tax were on those sales? Would Clark County, for instance, pay as much total revenue to the state in the combination of sales tax and B & O tax as they would be if they were applied the tax rates of the other counties?"

Senator McDermott: "The answer to that is 'no.'"

Senator Newhouse: "So they will get the advantage of lower taxes being paid by citizens of the counties across the border from Portland?"

Senator McDermott: "I am not sure if your question is a serious one, or if you are confused. The way it operates is that the increase which is contemplated in this bill, in section 6, raises the sales tax 1.1%. That would not apply in the four counties. The retailers there would pay an increased B & O in lieu of that increase in sales tax."

Senator Newhouse: "That is my question--the 'in lieu of' will compensate so that the state will not lose money by the differential?"

Senator McDermott: "No, it is not an exact one for one exchange."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator McDermott, the sales tax is taken off of food in two ways by the voters and also the cut-off date on June 30. Have you not, in fact, because you raised the B & O tax--which the suppliers to all the grocery stores will have to pay--and in order to recoup the increased cost because of the B & O tax to suppliers, the prices will have to go up, so that they can retain their margin. Have you not, in fact, raised the price of groceries to the poor and the elderly and the needy, that all of you said was such a cruel tax? Won't the price of those groceries go up in order for the retailer to recoup his increase from his supplier?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Deccio, I don't remember ever saying that this was a fair tax structure that we had in this state. The inequities, the unfairness are so patent to everybody on this floor. I think the question is more rhetorical than real. Clearly, what we are doing here today is not something that anybody likes, but we are trying to fairly spread the problem so that everybody pays their fair share in the state."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Senator Talmadge, I heard the remarks of Senator Newhouse and he was alluding to the border tax and how unfair it was and probably something about the constitutionality of it and I know you have had some contact with the Attorney General's Office on that matter."

Senator Talmadge: "In response to your question, Senator Fleming, I think Representative Bob Williams, in the House, had requested an opinion of Attorney General Ken Eikenberry. In a letter dated February 14, 1983, from Attorney General Eikenberry to Representative Williams, it was the opinion of the Office of the Attorney General that the border county provision contained in Substitute Senate Bill No.

3258 was, in fact, constitutional--not violative of the uniformity clause in the constitution which applies only to ad valorem property taxes, and not violative of equal protection.

"I think Senator Newhouse's question, perhaps, was fishing around for a notion that there was not a rational connection between the policy enunciated in the bill and the mechanism for doing it, which is the standard for equal protection. Unfortunately, I think, the letter from Phillip Austin, the Assistance Attorney General in Ken Eikenberry's Office, seems to indicate that there is, in fact, a rational connection between the proposal for the border counties and the policy of attempting to give those retailers some assistance, given the problem that they have with the huge metropolitan area of Portland and the absence of a sales tax in the state of Oregon."

Further debate ensued.

Senators Bottiger, Fleming and Conner demanded the previous question.

Senator Bluechel demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on shall the main question be now put.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the demand for the previous question was sustained by the following vote: Yeas, 26; nays, 20; absent, 00; excused, 03.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Hansen, Hughes, Hurley, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody - 26.

Excused: Senators Barr, McCaslin, Quigg - 3.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator McDermott that the Free Conference Committee Majority Report be adopted.

The motion by Senator McDermott carried and the Free Conference Committee Majority Report was adopted.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3258, as amended by the Free Conference Committee.

Debate ensued.

Senators Bottiger, Hughes and Vognild demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3258, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 25; nays, 21; absent, 00; excused, 03.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Hansen, Hughes, Hurley, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody - 25.

Excused: Senators Barr, McCaslin, Quigg - 3.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 3258, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

Friday, February 18, 1983

I voted "no" on the tax package (SB 3258) for the following reasons:

1. The proposed tax increases are permanent and carry through the 1983-85 biennium.

2. The budget for the two-year period has not yet been determined - so it becomes a "blank check."

3. State sales taxes originally were scheduled to be reduced from 5.4% to 4.5% on July 1, 1983. Now the rate would remain 5.4% permanently.

4. The $1.8 billion increase could have a very adverse effect on the state's economic recovery, because taking $500 million out of the economy equals 60,000 minimum wage jobs.

5. With 28% unemployed in Skamania, 22.6% unemployed in Klickitat, and 10.6% unemployed in Clark County, we need jobs, not taxes.

6. Border county retailers are the only retailers who will pay a 357% increase in the B & O surtax. The rate goes from 7% to 32%. Grocers and other retailers would pay $488,000 for the B & O tax increase between March 1 and June 1 of 1983. This could close some businesses.

7. Some industries, such as aluminum, are in deep financial trouble and any additional taxes could close them, causing more unemployment.

In summary, we must deal with the immediate financial crisis, not the two-year problem; we must do this with the least impact on job producers; we must build confidence in the economic system; and we must avoid driving up revenues ahead of deciding budgets.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Just for the record, I wanted to clarify one point. Is there anything in this bill which prohibits a home owner from raising the thermostat on the hot water heater, if that home owner should so desire?"

Senator Rinehart: "There is not."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Rinehart, on page 2, line 6, it indicates that the water heater shall be set by the owner or agent at a temperature not higher than 120 degrees. Well, when a new tenant moves into an apartment, he must go into the water heater and reset it to a temperature no higher than 120 degrees, as I read that section. Then further down on line 14--"nothing in this section shall prohibit an owner of an owner-occupied residential unit or a resident of a leased or rented residential unit from readjusting the temperature setting after occupancy." This would indicate, Senator Rinehart, that any tenant that moves in may set that temperature control to any setting he wants after he has moved in. Then the owner of a 200-unit or 300-unit apartment complex would have to go in and examine and adjust, probably, every temperature setting in that apartment complex, to make sure that it was back down to 120 degrees. This would seem to me to be a lot of work. Is this what you intend in this bill?"

Senator Rinehart: "Senator Rasmussen, I believe you have the sequence reversed. The first thing that occurs is when the tenant moves in--that is the point at which the heater is set at 120 degrees. After that time, if the occupant chooses to change it, then it is up to him and it can stay that way. The landlord has no further liability nor responsibility to either monitor or change."

Senator Rasmussen: "But, it would indicate that when that tenant moves out-- and the average length of a stay of a tenant usually is about a year at the most-- then the landlord has to go back in and check that water heating setting."

Senator Rinehart: "Senator Rasmussen, I believe that is comparable to the landlord also being responsible to check the smoke alarm and I assume he could do both functions and perhaps some other things at the same time."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3277.

"We are assembled here today to pay tribute to lives and services of distinguished former members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Washington who have passed from among us during the past two years. On behalf of the people of our state, the Forty-Eighth Legislative Session conveys its respect to these deceased legislators who once sat in the Chambers of the House and Senate as we are doing today, answering roll calls on sometimes critical measures, attending committee meetings and, above all else, serving to the best of their abilities to make our state a better and more enjoyable place to live for their constituencies. While they have passed to the Great Beyond, their achievements, records and valued services have been recorded in the Journals of the Senate and House and are acknowledged forever more, a permanent part of the history of the State of Washington. We express our sympathies to the bereaved families and their friends and also share with them on this memorable occasion, the fond and happy memories of these former legislators who served beyond the call of duty and responsibilities, and who truly loved their state. They have left a legacy of dedicated service that will remain always in our hearts. I will now call the roll of former members."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3042, by Senators Bottiger, McDermott, Goltz, Bauer, Vognild, Gaspard, Talmadge, Rinehart, Wojahn, Lee and Warnke

Regulating labor relations in institutions of higher education.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gaspard, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3042 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3042 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Hurley moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Hurley, Owen, Rasmussen, McCaslin and Craswell:

On page 9, after line 18, insert: NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. The right of employees to engage in any strike, work slowdown or stoppage is prohibited. Where an employee organization or exclusive bargaining representative wilfully disobeys a lawful order of enforcement by a superior court or wilfully offers resistance to such order, whether by strike or otherwise, the punishment for each day that such contempt persists, may be a fine fixed in the discretion of the court in an amount not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars per day."

Renumber remaining sections accordingly.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Hurley, is it your intent that the two hundred fifty dollar maximum fine apply solely to the bargaining unit or would it apply to each employee in the bargaining unit or could it apply to each employee in the bargaining unit?"

Senator Hurley: "I would hope that it would. Not being a lawyer, or not having drawn it up myself, I would not be able to say, but I would hope that it would do that. Maybe it isn't clear. It isn't."

Senator Pullen: "Is there a reason why two hundred fifty dollars was selected? Senator Guess has indicated that he thinks that it might be too small. I think I have seen some public employee bargaining units strikes in the past where judges have ordered a work stoppage and have levied fines of a thousand or ten thousand dollars per day. This amendment, as I read it, would limit it to two hundred fifty dollars. Is that correct? Is there some logic why two hundred fifty dollars was selected?"

Senator Hurley: "Well, the main logic, I think, was that it was drawn up in a great hurry and the second logic is that two hundred fifty dollars is quite a penalty if it is going to be imposed for every day and I would think that it would deter a person from striking."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Bottiger, under this bill, would not the faculty be under tenure and be under the continuing contract law and those other items that are now granted to K-12?"

Senator Bottiger: "Well, Senator Deccio, unless I am mistaken, there is a world of difference between the tenure laws that apply to higher education and the continuing contract law that applies to K-12. You have different probationary periods. K-12 is kind of automatic if you have been there a year, whereas, in colleges you have to be voted tenure. They are not alike at all that I know of."

Senator Deccio: "This bill would not change that?"

Senator Bottiger: "It has nothing to do with K-12 nor with the tenure act."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Hemstad, under the common law of our state, are strikes by public employees now prohibited?"

Senator Hemstad: "Senator Pullen, it is my understanding that under common law of the state of Washington, strikes by public employees are illegal."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "Senator Hurley, would you be receptive to an oral amendment which would put a period after 'court' and strike the remainder of the amendment down through 'day,' which would leave the amount of the penalty to be entirely to the discretion of the court?"

Senator Hurley: "Yes, I would accept that."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Clarke, the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Hurley, Owen, Rasmussen, McCaslin and Craswell was adopted:

On line 12 of the amendment, after "court", strike the remainder of the amendment down through "day"

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Goltz, as the bill is drafted and if the faculties are to enter into collective bargaining, do you believe that the question of tenure would be on the bargaining table?"

Senator Goltz: "I believe that the answer to that is, that it is entirely possible that the question of tenure would be on the bargaining table."

Senator Hurley demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment, as amended, was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 23; nays, 24; absent, 02; excused, 00.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Clarke, Craswell, Deccio, Fuller, Guess, Haley, Hayner, Hemstad, Hurley, Jones, Kiskaddon, McCaslin, Metcalf, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Quigg, Rasmussen, Sellar, von Reichbauer - 23.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Hansen, Hughes, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Peterson, Pullen, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wozahn, Woody - 24.

Absent: Senators Lee, Zimmerman - 2.

MOTION

Senator Craswell moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Craswell, Hurley, Patterson, Guess and Rasmussen:

On page 5, line 31, after "Sec. 6.", insert "In order to foster meaningful collective bargaining, units must be structured so as to avoid fragmentation whenever possible. A bargaining unit shall include all employees, as defined in this chapter, who are employed by each community college district or state college or university."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Senator Gaspard, I am wondering, without this amendment, could we have the kind of situation where one bargaining unit within a college or university could strike and create a situation that might shut down the whole college or university? How many bargaining units would we potentially have within a college or university?"

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Woody, the intent of the legislation is to have as much community interest as possible. I don't think we are going to get into a situation where we have the faculty for the college of liberal arts forming one unit and the faculty for engineering forming another unit. Under the direction that is given by the legislation to the PERC board, I don't think they could find in such a manner.

"If you look at the criteria that is set down in the PERC board to consider in their hearings in a dispute, I don't see that possibility happening. I don't see that we are going to have the fragmentation that some people are worried about. In collective bargaining statutes across the country, this has not become a particular problem at all and I don't think it will be here because of the situation of the PERC board being involved."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "As I read your amendment, the first sentence in the amendment is contradicted by the second sentence. The first sentence says that we will have to avoid as much fragmentation whenever possible. The second sentence says that the bargaining unit shall include all employees.

"In other words, there is no room for fragmentation whatsoever. If you were to leave off the second sentence and have an amendment which would read only 'that in order to foster meaningful collective bargaining, units must be structured as to avoid fragmentation whenever possible.' That is a guideline that I could support, because it seems to me that PERC would be guided by that. But your second sentence doesn't make any separation of units at all, so I cannot support your amendment in its present form. I don't know whether I have asked you a question or not."

Senator Craswell: "I didn't hear the question, but I think that if anything should be changed, it probably should be the words 'whenever possible' because I see what you are getting at. The intent was to eliminate fragmentation and so I would say that if there was any change, it should be to eliminate 'whenever possible.'"

Senator Bluechel demanded a roll call and it was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment was not adopted, the President voting nay, by the following vote: Yeas, 24; nays, 24; absent, 01; excused, 00.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Clarke, Craswell, Deccio, Fuller, Guess, Haley, Hemstad, Hurley, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, Metcalf, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Quigg, Rasmussen, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 24.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Hansen, Hughes, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Peterson, Pullen, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognlid, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody - 24.

Absent: Senator Hayner - 1.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hemstad, the following amendment by Senators Hemstad, Lee and Goltz was adopted:

On page 7, line 30, after "(g)", strike the remainder of the section through page 8, line 1, and insert the following:

"Where only one employee organization has qualified under (c) or (e) of this subsection, the representation election ballot shall contain a choice for that employee organization and a choice for no representation. The representation election shall be determined by the majority of the valid ballots cast.

(h) Where two or more employee organizations have qualified under (c) or (e) of this subsection, the representation election shall consist of two questions. The first ballot shall contain choices for and against organization of the bargaining unit under this chapter. The second ballot, to be counted only if the results of the first ballot indicate that organization of the bargaining unit has been chosen on a majority of the valid ballots cast, shall contain choices for each of the employee organizations qualifying under (c) or (e) of this subsection. The second ballot shall be determined by the majority of the valid ballots cast: That where there are three or more choices on the ballot and none of the choices receives the vote of a majority of the valid ballots cast, a run-off election shall be conducted between the two choices receiving the highest and second highest numbers of votes."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hemstad, the following amendment by Senators Hemstad and Clarke was adopted:

On page 9, after line 18, insert:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Nothing in this act shall authorize the right to strike."
Renumber remaining sections.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "I would appreciate it if I could have some help from Senator Gaspard or someone else. What I am having trouble with is the definition section as to what an employee is that is covered under the act. I was trying to draft an amendment that would speak to the teaching faculties--that they would be the bargaining unit--and I am having trouble with the definition. For example, what is a supervisor--whether they would be included as faculty? These are the exempted categories under the definition of the institution. I am not trying to belabor or delay. I would like to have an opportunity to draft a proper amendment for this bill that deals with the collective bargaining rights of teaching faculty and people engaged in the teaching process."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Gaspard, on page 2, Section 3, sub-section 1 of the bill, employee is defined as 'any employee of the employer, but shall not include the chief executive or administrative officers of the institution of higher education, confidential employees, casual employees, supervisors or employees subject to chapter 28B.16 RCW.' Could you tell me what employees are subject to chapter 28B.16 RCW, as well as what is meant by a casual employee and a confidential employee?"

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Pullen, in this section, we tried to point out who would be obvious employees that would be excluded from this and you mentioned the supervisors and confidential employees and so on. When there is a question that arises on the appropriateness of an employee, we do give the discretion for PERC to make that determination--whether or not that employee should be in or out of the bargaining unit--so they will be able to do that in their hearing process."

Senator Pullen: "Well, they will only be able to do that within the framework that the law allows. I am trying to decide what framework is established here. I guess I still would like to know which employees are subject to chapter 28B.16 RCW; what is intended by the prime sponsor of the bill; what is intended to be a casual employee and what is intended to be a confidential employee?"

"For purposes of determining legislative intent, I would be very interested in that definition. Otherwise, I think Senator Patterson's comments are very valid and maybe we need a few minutes to determine that."

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Pullen, staff has just informed me that the RCW reference that you mentioned is the classified employees under higher education."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, I am not going to turn down Senator Patterson's request for a delay for drafting an amendment. His reputation is well known for being constructive and helping to solve the problems of the state."

MOTION

At 12:15 p.m., on motion of Senator Shinpoch, the Senate recessed until 1:30 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 1:30 p.m.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3042.

MOTION

Senator Patterson moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Patterson, Hurley, Craswell, Owen and Guess:

On page 6, line 4, after "avoided," insert "All employees who are tenured or eligible to seek or be awarded tenure shall be considered a single bargaining unit at each institution of higher education."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "As I read your proposed amendment, you are including all of those persons who are tenured or eligible to seek tenure to be awarded tenure as members of a single bargaining unit. Are you proposing then, in this amendment, that all employees who are not tenured and who are not eligible to seek or be awarded tenure, that they shall be considered in a single bargaining unit?"

Senator Patterson: "Not at all, Senator. This is to establish the faculty that are tenured as a bargaining unit. Now, this does not preclude those that are not encompassed in this amendment from seeking to be a unit unto themselves. Now, I don't understand bargaining like maybe some of you do, but that is the way that I would interpret this."

Senator Goltz: "Well, you have made my point, I think. What you were proposing to be an attempt to avoid fragmentation has now created a fragment of non-tenured--non-eligible for tenure faculty--who must or who can become a unit unto themselves, and I think you have made my point."

Senator Patterson: "Well, I believe, Senator Goltz, that I have also made my point and that is the lion share of an institution of higher learning is composed of tenured faculty. That is what they all seek. It is an international system in higher education. Tenure has been accepted and it has been adopted by every institution that I have any knowledge of and that's what makes up a university--the tenured faculty of that university. If they choose to go the route of collective bargaining, then they should be the ones that make the decision."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hemstad the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Patterson, Hurley, Craswell, Owen and Guess was adopted:

On line 3 of the amendment, strike "considered a single" and insert "included in the same"

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment, as amended, by Senators Patterson, Hurley, Craswell, Owen and Guess.

Senator Bluechel demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Patterson carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 25; nays, 24; absent, 00; excused, 00.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Clarke, Craswell, Deccio, Fuller, Guess, Haley, Hayner, Hemstad, Hurley, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, Metcalf, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Pullen, Quigg, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 25.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Hansen, Hughes, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Peterson, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody - 24.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3042 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3042.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

February 23, 1983

Mr. President:

The House has passed:

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 1075, and the same is herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, the Senate advanced to the fifth order of business.

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING OF HOUSE BILL

EHB 1075 by Representative Grimm

Relating to revenue and taxation.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 1075 was advanced to second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 1075 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

REMARKS BY SENATOR McDERMOTT

Senator McDermott: "Mr. President and members of the Senate. The bill we have here is the one we have argued at some length on the floor--or at least parts of it. This essentially is the sections of the revenue package from Senate Bill No. 3258, which the Governor vetoed. We have added cut-offs for the thirtieth of June, 1983.

"We are passing this bill because those of us on this side of the aisle believe that the people of the state are entitled to a stable government whose actions are predictable in schools, in universities, in homes for the retarded, in mental hospitals, and so forth. The people of this state do not deserve the chaos that they have had for the last two years. It mystifies me why we are going through this exercise, because the Governor, himself, proposed a budget for the next biennium of 8.1 billion dollars. We placed on his desk yesterday--or last week, actually--and until about three o'clock yesterday, he had on his desk enough money to fund his budget.

"We also put in there about a quarter of a billion dollars to pay back the 25th month and another quarter of a billion dollars or so to adequately fund the pension system, as the state actuary has suggested we should. The bill we passed was a great step toward fiscal solvency for the state of Washington. For reasons which are totally beyond my ability to understand, the Governor decided he would go back to a budget level of 7.5 billion dollars--nearly six hundred million dollars below the level that he, himself, proposed to us.

"Now, he clearly thinks we are going to take another tax vote--sometime between here and the end of the session, but we put the money on his desk once. I am not sure that you can always count on people to do something twice. If you take the budget which we have been living on for the last two years and take the existing commitments forward, it takes 7.5 billion dollars. The things that no longer have money are restorations in basic education, the fifty-five million, which he asked for; in handicapped education, the twenty-five million, that he asked for; in transportation, forty million--"

POINT OF ORDER

President Cherberg: "For what purpose does Senator Clarke rise?"

Senator Clarke: "A point of order, Mr. President. We are talking about a bill that is before us for passage, as I understand it--not the portion that the Governor vetoed. I think the remarks should be confined to the matter which is before the Senate."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The measure is on final passage, Senator Clarke, and the President believes that Senator McDermott is presenting his arguments as to the passage or non-passage of the bill."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Mr. President, I think the speaker ought to be able to explain what the difference is between the bill that left here and the difference in the bill that we are voting on now."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President believes that is what Senator McDermott is attempting to do."

FURTHER REMARKS BY SENATOR MCDERMOTT

Senator McDermott: "Members of the Senate, the bill which we are passing today provides seven and one-half billion dollars in the next biennium, with no changes. So, the Governor has now said that the level that is acceptable to him is seven and one-half billion dollars, providing no salary increase in the next biennium--which would be 54.8 million dollars more--no insurance increases--no recognition of problems of increased case loads in the mental hospitals--in the prisons. We are going to come again to this floor to deal with exactly the issues that we dealt with last Friday. There is no reason to be taking this vote, except one. That is, the people do not understand partisan wrangling. What they want is a stable government and we will give the people that, but there is going to be another argument over the same issues--a useless argument. I urge you to vote this and get it out of here."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HAYNER

Senator Hayner: "Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. I agree with you. We need a stable government and that is why we are going to provide a substantial number of votes for this bill here today, which takes care of the problems of this biennium. And then, we can handle, in an orderly manner, the problem of the budget--where is the money going to go--where do we need the money. We are going to go to Ways and Means and have the various departments and agencies tell us what their problem is and then, in an orderly manner, we are going to pass a budget and to follow a revenue package to go along with it.

"I think you have very well stated, Senator McDermott, that this bill does bring in one billion, two hundred million. The bill that we passed several days ago brings in one billion, two hundred million more for the next biennium than we presently have, which is up at eight billion dollars. We want to spread the burden of the cost of government over all of our citizens and, obviously, it is not a happy situation. To have it on business is not a happy situation and it is not a happy situation to have it on individuals. But, as we all know, in the bill passed, forty-one percent of it is paid by business, too. This places it on the businesses for only a four-month period, because after all, businesses are where the jobs are--jobs. We are concerned about the people of this state and we are taking care of this problem right now and we are glad to help you do that."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 1075.

Revising laws governing labor relations for ferry workers.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Vognild, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3108 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3108 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Newhouse, the following amendment by Senators Newhouse, Vognild and Craswell was adopted:

On page 4, beginning on line 2, after "include", strike all the material down to and including "and" on line 4.

On motion of Senator Vognild, the following amendments were considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 23, after line 15 insert the following:

"Sec. 24. Section 47.60.310, chapter 13, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 137, chapter 3, Laws of 1983 and RCW 47.60.310 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department is further directed to conduct such review by soliciting and obtaining expressions from local community groups in order to be properly informed as to problems being experienced within the area served by the Washington state ferries. In order that local representation may be established, the department shall give prior notice of the review to the legislative authority ((of each county wherein a terminal of the Washington state ferries is located and the legislative authority of any other county adjacent to Puget Sound or the Strait of Juan de Fuca which by resolution has notified the department of its intent to participate in the reviews)) of Clallam, Island, Jefferson, King, Kitsap, Pierce, San Juan, Skagit, and Snohomish counties.

(2) Each such county legislative authority ((is hereby directed to)) shall appoint a committee to consist of ((no more than)) five members to serve as an advisory committee to the department or its designated representative in such review.

(3) The members of each county ferry advisory committee shall be appointed for four-year terms. The initial terms shall commence on July 1, 1982, and end on June 30, 1986. (4) The committees to be appointed by the county legislative authorities shall serve without fee or compensation. ((It is not the intent of RCW 47.60.290 through 47.60.310 that any powers or duties now prescribed and delegated to the department shall be assumed by any other board or committee.))"

On page 25, line 11, after "RCW 47.60.310," insert "elected by the members thereof, and two representatives of employees of the ferry system appointed by mutual agreement of all of the unions representing ferry employees."

MOTION

Senator Craswell moved the following amendments by Senators Craswell, Owen, McCaslin and von Reichbauer be considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 4, line 25, after "act", strike all material down to and including "organization" on line 28.

On page 5, after line 7, insert the following:

"(c) To require ferry system management to obtain employees by referral from a hiring hall operated by or participated in by a labor organization;"

Renumber the remaining subsections consecutively.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hemstad: "Senator Bottiger, in the hiring hall arrangement as it applies to the Ferry System, are the referrals that are made from the hiring hall translated into permanent positions with the Ferry System?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, they may or may not be. In different cases, at least when I wrote the budget for the transportation system, they had temporary workers. They hired people for a week or a day or the job ended up being permanent. It would be just like in the construction industry. It depends on how long the job is going to take. Obviously, you have some summer-only employment in the Ferry System and I presume as the decline occurred in the fall, that person would be laid off."

Senator Hemstad: "But of the various kinds of permanent positions within the system, then does it not follow that many, if not most of them come through the hiring hall mechanism?"

Senator Bottiger: "As I understand existing practices, they all do."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Clarke demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendments by Senators Craswell, Owen, McCaslin and von Reichbauer.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Craswell failed and the amendments were not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 21; nays, 26; absent, 00; excused, 02.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Clarke, Craswell, Deccio, Fuller, Guess, Haley, Hayner, Hemstad, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Pullen, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 21.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Conner, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Hansen, Hughes, Hurley, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Peterson, Quigg, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody - 26.

Excused: Senators Metcalf, Sellar - 2.

MOTION

Senator Craswell moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Craswell, Owen, McCaslin and von Reichbauer:

On page 6, line 26, insert the following new subsection and renumber the remaining subsections accordingly:

"(5) Every person employed by the Washington state ferry system on the effective date of this 1983 act, and every new employee hired thereafter, shall, as a condition of their employment or continued employment, sign a pledge in a form prescribed by the secretary of transportation, that they will not initiate or participate in a strike or work stoppage or other acts prohibited by subsection (1) of this section. Any individual employee violating this pledge shall be immediately terminated from employment with the Washington state ferries and shall for five years thereafter be ineligible for employment with the state of Washington."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Vognild, as I understand your earlier remarks, you are opposed to any language in a bill that prohibits an individual from exercising his rights to go on strike? Is that correct?"

Senator Vognild: "Well, Senator, I guess you could twist my words that way if you wanted. I didn't think I said that. What I think I said is that I am opposed to anything that denies an individual the right to control their own life. If that individual--for their personal reasons--has a single entity--not a joint operation--an individual person--makes the decision that they do not want to work for the ferry system, and maybe three years later, they come back and ask for a job--decide they want to. I think they are exercising their personal right. Under this language, I am fearful that that would not be the case and they would be deemed to have created a one-person strike. I have never heard of one, but I think that is what they would be deemed to have created--a one-person strike--therefore penalized--and on that I am concerned."

Senator Pullen: "You do agree that Section 5 of the bill now does prohibit a one-person strike? In other words, Section 5 of the bill says 'it is unlawful for any ferry system employee to participate in a strike or work stoppage.' That would include a single individual, the way I read that language."

Senator Vognild: "Senator, I am not familiar with the court decisions. I have never run across that particular thing before. I guess I would have to say that if one person walked off in the middle of a shift or something, that a court might construe that to be a strike."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Craswell, Owen, McCaslin and von Reichbauer.

The motion by Senator Craswell failed on a rising vote.

MOTION

Senator Craswell moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Craswell, Owen, McCaslin and von Reichbauer:

On page 6, after line 31, insert a new subsection as follows:

"(7) Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter 88.04 RCW and chapter 88.08 RCW, the department of transportation shall promulgate rules and regulations allowing vessels, as defined in RCW 88.04.300, as well as other watercraft, to engage in emergency passenger service on the waters of Puget Sound in the event ferry employees engage in a work slowdown or stoppage. Such emergency rules and regulations shall allow emergency passenger service on the waters of Puget Sound within seventy-two hours following a work slowdown or stoppage. Such rules and regulations that are promulgated shall give due consideration to the needs and the health, safety and welfare of the people of the state of Washington."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Vognild: "Senator Craswell, I have two questions. Number one, do you intend this to be a temporary type of service in the event of illegal strike or work slow down?"

Senator Craswell: "Absolutely."

Senator Vognild: "Number two, do you intend that these mosquito fleets--I believe you called them--that they will conform to the safety regulations in regard to the safety of the passengers during the times that they are operating?"

Senator Craswell: "Yes, it would take about three years to certify them under the normal procedures. It was our intent that the Department of Transportation should take a look at them and make sure that they are fine for temporary use--keeping in mind the health and safety of the people who are riding them. We think on a temporary basis that that would be adequate."

Senator Vognild: "Senator, I need to pursue it a little bit further then. What I am thinking of here is not terms of certification, but in terms of adequate fire protection, adequate life savers--this type of thing. Is that your intent?"

Senator Craswell: "Certainly, we are looking at that type of adequate protection. Yes, and I think the Department of Transportation would be, too."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Craswell, Owen, McCaslin and von Reichbauer.

The motion by Senator Craswell carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

Senator Craswell moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Craswell, McCaslin and Owen:

On page 9, line 21, after "budget," insert:

"Nor shall such agreement or award grant salary and compensation increases from any fund source whatsoever in excess of the amount and or percentage as shall be provided for ferry employees as set forth in the state operating appropriations act or transportation budget in effect at the time the compensation is payable."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Vognild, as you well know, we spent many weeks in going over the ferry commission bill. This was the main point that I think that both you and I addressed or hoped to address. I am having a little trouble with the amendment. Could you identify what this would do--the way the bill is now drafted? Would this, in any way, really affect what we were both striving for and that was to have legislative control over the dollar amount that would be available for the system through our Appropriations Act? Does this amendment do violence to that concept? I am really seeking information and your opinion."

Senator Vognild: "Well, Senator, I am not sure. This is the first time I have seen this language and I have tried to sort it out as rapidly as possible. What I believe I see is that it says here--'no agreement shall grant salary and compensation increases from any fund source whatsoever in excess of the amount and or percentage as shall be provided for ferry employees as set forth in the state operating appropriations act.' What I am reading here is that the state budget--the transportation budget, apparently, will have to contain language which indicates exactly what the salary and compensation for the ferry workers for the next two years will be.

"I guess in terms of what we were trying to accomplish, I am a little concerned that it might bind the state--if you will--to more costs than we anticipated from tax dollars. I can visualize here that this will nullify the pro-rata or reduction section that is in this bill. In doing so, if the state sets the salaries and how much they are going to spend, and then the money is not generated through the fare box as we anticipate under the pro-rata, I presume that the state operating general fund would be responsible for it. I think that is exactly opposite of what we tried to do."

Senator Patterson: "I think you have described, maybe, the concern that I have. We do have a mechanism in the bill now, which puts on the table the total dollars that the system is going to operate under and the wages for the employees have to fall under that total dollar amount. Are you suggesting then, that in the Transportation Budget Act, if we were to authorize, for example--for other state employees, say a five percent salary factor--that we would also have to address that in the Transportation Budget Act, rather than having it bargained under the total? Is that what you are suggesting?"

Senator Vognild: "Senator, that is what I believe that this does. I believe that the transportation budget would have to project a total budget, in regards to the operation of the ferries, including whatever salaries might be there. Then, if the money wasn't generated, I believe the state general fund would be responsible. Under the bill, we have set it up so that whatever proportion--roughly 40%, I believe--of the total operating budget that is taken from tax dollars into ferry operation, is the total obligation of the state's tax-payers."

Senator Patterson: "That was my understanding, too, and I just wanted a clarification."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Craswell, McCaslin and Owen.

The motion by Senator Craswell failed on a rising vote and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3108 was deferred.

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, the Senate returned to the first order of business.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3117, by Senators Thompson, Zimmerman and Bauer

Regulating substances containing toxic vapors or fumes.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following Committee on Judiciary amendment was adopted:

On page 2, line 28, after "person", strike "under eighteen years of age" and insert "((under ~~eighteen years of age~~))"

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3117 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Talmadge, if I were to send my ten year old son down to get some glue for his model airplane-making and he bought it from one of these merchants and then he, in turn, gave it to one of his buddies that sniffs glue, what kind of legal hazards would this merchant get into by selling this glue?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, I think--under present law, and I think under the law the way the bill now reads--the merchant would not be in jeopardy unless he understood that the first person to whom he sold the glue was going to use it for the purpose of inhaling the fumes and getting a high, or was going to distribute it to people for that purpose--unless he knew it specifically, in other words."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, I wanted that on the record, so that anybody that sold glue would know that they would not be legally responsible, even though it passes through their store and into the hands of somebody that did sniff glue."

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, the specific problem is not so much with respect to glue, because that is already a violation. The problem is the list of materials that are in Section 1 of the bill. All of those substances have, also, toxic vapors associated with them and cause problems for those inhaling them. The intent of the bill is not so much with glue as it is to incorporate those other substances that have these toxic vapors associated with them into the law as it now relates for glue."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3117.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3022, by Senators Talmadge, Hemstad and Hughes (by Department of Labor and Industries request)

Clarifying the Crime Victim Compensation Act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3022 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3022 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Woody moved the following amendments by Senators Woody and Talmadge be considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 2, beginning on line 2, after "a", strike all material down to and including "crime" on line 3, and insert "criminal act"

On page 2, beginning on line 8, after "the", strike all material down to and including "crime" and insert "criminal act"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Woody, for clarification, could you distinguish the difference between a crime and a criminal act?"

Senator Woody: "Yes, Senator Pullen, the change effectively draws a line of distinction between misdemeanors and felonies. Presently, misdemeanors are not subject to the criminal or the crime victim compensation fund penalty. By retaining the language, we would also retain that practice. The magistrate's association is concerned about court congestion and they felt that if the twenty-five dollar assessment was not on misdemeanors--such as walking a dog in a park or picnicking illegally--you would have more people going to court instead of forfeiting bail and therefore, contribute to congestion in the court."

Senator Pullen: "As I understand it, you are saying the word 'crime' does not include misdemeanors and the word 'criminal act' does? Is that correct?"

Senator Woody: "That was the understanding that our staff had."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Senator Talmadge, I had a constituent whose son was walking his dog. He normally keeps the dog on leash all day--and normally when he brings the dog back--he lets the dog loose and the dog runs into the yard. This particular morning, the dog ran the other way. His tags had fallen off and because of some problems--they were going to sell the dog--they hadn't replaced the tags. The dog was apprehended and so this individual was fined ninety-three dollars because of the leash law. He indicated that fifty dollars of that fine is supposed to go toward the victim's compensation. Now, I don't see this as a crime against a person--or what have you--and I am wondering, if in fact, this is a quirk in the law. Would this particular amendment resolve that?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, this particular amendment should resolve that problem. The intent is to make sure that it is a criminal act as defined under the RCW and as far as I know, we have no state statute that involves the leash law or felony dog-walking or anything like that."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senators Woody and Talmadge.

The motion by Senator Woody carried and the amendments were adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 2, line 9, after "(4)", strike "Notwithstanding any other provision of law" and insert "~~(Notwithstanding any other provision of law)~~ Except as provided in subsection (5)

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 3, line 28, after "assessments", insert "and interest"

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following amendments were considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 1, on line 26, after the comma at the end of the line, insert "section 2, chapter ... (SB No. 3106), Laws of 1983."

On page 9, after line 14, insert:

"Sec. 4. Section 2, chapter 122, Laws of 1973 1st. ex. sess. as last amended by section 2, chapter 156, Laws of 1980 and RCW 7.68.020 are each amended to read as follows:

The following words and phrases as used in this chapter have the meanings set forth in this section unless the context otherwise requires.

(1) "Department" means the department of labor and industries.

(2) "Criminal act" means an act committed or attempted in this state which is punishable as a felony or gross misdemeanor under the laws of this state: PROVIDED, That the operation of a motor vehicle, motorcycle, train, boat or aircraft in violation of law does not constitute a "criminal act" unless (a) the injury or death was intentionally inflicted ((or)); (b) the operation thereof was part of the commission of another non-vehicular criminal act as defined in this section ((:)); or (c) the death or injury was the result of operation of a motor vehicle and a conviction of vehicular homicide under RCW 46.61.520 or vehicular assault under section 2, chapter ... (SB No. 3106), Laws of 1983, has been obtained: PROVIDED FURTHER: (a) That neither an acquittal in a criminal prosecution nor the absence of any such prosecution is admissible in any claim or proceeding under this chapter as evidence of the noncriminal character of the acts giving rise to such claim or proceeding, except as provided for in subsections (c) and (d) above; (b) that evidence of a criminal conviction arising from acts which are the basis for a claim or proceeding under this chapter is admissible in such claim or proceeding for the limited purpose of proving the criminal character of the acts; (c) that acts which, but for the insanity or mental irresponsibility of the perpetrator, would constitute criminal conduct are deemed to be criminal conduct within the meaning of this chapter.

(3) "Victim" means a person who suffers bodily injury or death as a proximate result of a criminal act of another person, the victim's own good faith and reasonable effort to prevent a criminal act, or his good faith effort to apprehend a person reasonably suspected of engaging in a criminal act. For the purposes of receiving benefits pursuant to this chapter, "victim" is interchangeable with "employee" or "workman" as defined in chapter 51.08 RCW as now or hereafter amended.

(4) "Child," "accredited school," "dependent," "beneficiary," "average monthly wage," "director," "injury," "invalid," "permanent partial disability," and "permanent total disability" have the meanings assigned to them in chapter 51.08 RCW as now or hereafter amended.

(5) "Gainfully employed" means engaging on a regular and continuous basis in a lawful activity from which a person derives a livelihood.

(6) "Private insurance" means any source of recompense provided by contract available as a result of the claimed injury or death at the time of such injury or death, or which becomes available any time thereafter.

(7) "Public insurance" means any source of recompense provided by statute, state or federal, available as a result of the claimed injury or death at the time of such injury or death, or which becomes available any time thereafter."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 8, after "7.68.080", insert "and amending section 2, chapter 122, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 2, chapter 156, Laws of 1980 and RCW 7.68.020"

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3022 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Talmadge, you say there seems to be enough money to cover the victims of crimes that are not covered by other insurance?"

Senator Talmadge: "Yes."

Senator Patterson: "The vehicular assault, as I understand it--if you have insurance--the victims in that case would be covered by a separate insurance policy. I am wondering whether or not we are not expanding it a little bit far, in that there may not be enough money if you open it up to those areas that are not covered by other insurance."

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, that was a concern that we had in thinking about an amendment that included vehicular homicide and vehicular assault. The experience across the state has been that with respect to negligent homicide, I believe that may, in fact, now be covered already under the act. Vehicular assault is the new part of it. That vehicular assault crime is something that we would anticipate, based on our examination of Senate Bill No. 3106, and the counterpart bill from the House--would not be something that happens with great frequency.

"It would be there and, in fact, there would probably be a slight increase in the number of claims, because of the existence of that crime, but not such a great increase that it would bankrupt the fund or cause any substantial adverse fiscal experience from what we can see."

Senator Patterson: "How much money do we really have in there at the present time? What would you anticipate this new schedule would generate in that fund for compensation to the victims?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, I am not certain, absolutely, what the crime victim's assessment brings into the fund. What has been represented to me by the Department of Labor and Industries is that with the assessment that we are now making, that we have a surplus in the fund. We are handling the cost of the compensation of the victims of crime under the bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hayner: "Our experience with the crime victim's law as it was originally passed and finally repealed was that it was going to be extremely costly to the general fund in the way that it was originally written. I assume that from what you have said that you agree that this should not come out of the general fund--that it should be supported by special assessments on the criminal?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, what I believe or what I feel about how it should happen is probably irrelevant, given the fact that the law, as it now stands requires that the compensation fund be filled by the assessments against the criminals. I think the principal concern that we have is whether or not the program is being funded and from what Labor and Industries says, it is being funded and that is the only concern that we have--that's the victims of crime."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3022.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3022, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 00; absent, 00; excused, 05.

On motion of Senator Peterson, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3067 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Quigg: "My question, Senator Hansen, is what impact this would have on the purchase on fuel for off-shore fishing? Presently, vessels moored in the coast of Washington will go all the way to Astoria to fuel, because of the tax problems we have. Will this have an impact on those at all?"

Senator Hansen: "I believe that this will solve that problem, if they are on tax exemptions for what they use for out of state waters. Yes, it would be the same impact as on the truckers."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3067.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3107, by Senators Talmadge, Hemstad, Granlund, Shinpoch, Wojahn, Deccio, McCaslin and Barr

Strengthening laws against drunk driving.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, Senate Bill No. 3107 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3107 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Pullen moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Pullen, Haley, Moore, Peterson, Goltz, Wojahn, Benitz, Rasmussen, Thompson, Fuller, Woody and McDermott:

On page 2, line 31, after "arrested", insert ": PROVIDED, That an involuntary blood test may be administered only after securing a warrant: PROVIDED FURTHER, That such warrant may be secured via telephone or radio"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Pullen, I would like to give you this scenario to see if you don't agree that your amendment would create a problem. An accident victim is rushed to a hospital and in the course of cross-matching the blood, a sample is taken for that purpose. In that test, it reveals that there is an alcohol content--the person is then charged and convicted of drunk driving. However, no warrant was obtained. Have you now found an escape for that person from the conviction?"

Senator Pullen: "I would say no more so than in any other provision of law. In similar instances, we may be dealing with crimes of murder or robbery or burglary and during the investigation of those crimes, evidence is sometimes uncovered that may or may not relate to a kind that is suspected. All that I am saying is that this crime should be treated no differently than any other crime. The crime of vehicular assault or negligent homicide should be no different than any other crime.

"We put this into law in this particular bill and in other bills that are in the legislature. It just seems to me that if we are going to apply the Constitution equally, we should apply it equally to all kinds. So, it would have no more impact in the crime that you indicate than in any other criminal example."

Further debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Vognild: "Mr. President, a point of parliamentary inquiry. I have an amendment on page one which is being reproduced and distributed. Will it still be legitimately before us?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "Yes, that amendment will be considered when it is before us."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Pullen, Haley, Moore, Peterson, Goltz, Wojahn, Benitz, Rasmussen, Thompson, Fuller, Woody and McDermott.

The motion by Senator Pullen failed on a rising vote and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Metcalf moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 5, line 34, after "dollars." insert:

"Sec. 4. Section 1, chapter 8, Laws of 1982 and RCW 46.20.435 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon determining that a person is operating a motor vehicle without a valid driver's license in violation of RCW 46.20.021 or with a license that has been expired for ninety days or more, or with a suspended or revoked license in violation of RCW 46.20.342 or 46.20.420, or of driving while under the influence in violation of RCW 46.61.502, or of being in actual physical control of a motor vehicle in violation of RCW 46.61.504, or other violation of the laws of the state of Washington or the equivalent county or municipal ordinance that includes the use of alcohol and/or drugs and the operation of a motor vehicle within this state, a law enforcement officer may immediately impound the vehicle which the person is operating.

(2) If the driver of the vehicle is the owner of the vehicle, the department shall not release the vehicle impounded under subsection (1) of this section until the owner of the vehicle:

(a) Establishes to the department that any penalties, fines, or forfeitures owed by the person driving the vehicle when it was impounded have been satisfied; and

(b) Pays to the person who impounded and stored the vehicle the reasonable costs of such impoundment and storage.

(3) If the driver of the vehicle is not the owner of the vehicle, the driver shall be responsible for any penalties, fines, or forfeitures owed or due and for the costs of impoundment and storage. The vehicle shall be released to the owner upon proof of such ownership.

(4) The department shall adopt such rules as are necessary for the administration of this section."

Renumber remaining sections accordingly.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Metcalf, I want to make sure of one possible constitutional problem. If the drunk driver is driving someone else's car, is there a provision in your amendment to make sure that the proper owner of the car doesn't end up losing his car and the proper owner of the car can get his car back?"

Senator Metcalf: "Senator Pullen, this came up when we debated the original bill last year which allows the impoundment under cases of a license that had been revoked or suspended. The answer is that, of course, the law enforcement officer may immediately impound. The other side of the coin is that if this law would make it a little bit—so that the owner would be a little bit less willing to loan the car to someone that might be a questionable driver. I think that maybe it would have a good effect, but, in fact, the officer has the option. It says 'may immediately impound.'

Further debate ensued.

Senator Metcalf demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Metcalf.

"Sec. 5, Section 3, chapter 1, Laws of 1969 as last amended by section 5, chapter 176, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 46.61.506 are each amended as follows:

(1) Upon the trial of any civil or criminal action or proceeding arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving or in actual physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, if the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time alleged as shown by chemical analysis of his blood, breath, or other bodily substance is less than ((0-10)) 0.08 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it is evidence that may be considered with other competent evidence in determining whether the person was under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug.

(2) Percent by weight of alcohol in the blood shall be based upon milligrams of alcohol per one hundred cubic centimeters of blood. The foregoing provisions of this section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether the person was under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug.

(3) Chemical analysis of the person's blood or breath to be considered valid under the provisions of this section of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 shall have been performed according to methods approved by the state toxicologist and by an individual possessing a valid permit issued by the state toxicologist for this purpose. The state toxicologist is directed to approved satisfactory techniques or methods, to supervise the examination of individuals to ascertain their qualifications and competence to conduct such analyses, and to issue permits which shall be subject to termination or revocation at the discretion of the state toxicologist.

(4) When a blood test is administered under the provisions of RCW 46.20.308, the withdrawal of blood for the purpose of determining its alcoholic content may be performed only by a physician, a registered nurse, or a qualified technician. This limitation shall not apply to the taking of breath specimens.

(5) The person tested may have a physician, or a qualified technician, chemist, registered nurse, or other qualified person of his own choosing administer a chemical test or tests in addition to any administered at the direction of a law enforcement officer. The failure or inability to obtain an additional test by a person shall not preclude the admission of evidence relating to the test or tests taken at the direction of a law enforcement officer.

(6) Upon the request of the person who shall submit to a chemical test or tests at the request of a law enforcement officer, full information concerning the test or tests shall be made available to him or his attorney."

Re-number remaining sections accordingly.

On page 7, line 25, after "~~suspended~~:" insert:

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Vognild: "Senator Talmadge, since the heavy push on drunk driving, many bus companies have been doing, I think, a service and also a good business by chartering busses and taking people to football games and taking them to various functions. Generally, at that time, they do serve beer or wine and sometimes hard liquor in the bus. As I read your amendment, I don't think you have quite handled that area, or do you feel that you did?"

Senator Talmadge: "That is already in the bill, Senator. It is on page 8, lines 19 and 20, (4) which states 'this section does not apply to a public conveyance that has been commercially chartered for group use.' That is the football game, the Husky bus--that sort of thing."

The fact that any person charged with a violation of this section is or has been entitled to use ~~((such))~~ the drug under the laws of this state shall not constitute a defense against any charge of violating this section. No person may be convicted under this section if, prior to being pursued by a law enforcement officer, he has moved the vehicle safely off the roadway.

Sec. 8. Section 3, chapter 1, Laws of 1969 as last amended by section 5, chapter 176, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 46.61.506 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon the trial of any civil or criminal action or proceeding arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug in the second degree or in actual physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, if the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time alleged as shown by chemical analysis of ~~((his))~~ the person's blood, breath, or other bodily substance is less than ~~((0.10))~~ 0.08 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it is evidence that may be considered with other competent evidence in determining whether the person was under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug.

(2) Upon the trial of any civil or criminal action or proceeding arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug in the first degree, if the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time alleged as shown by chemical analysis of that person's blood, breath, or other bodily substance is less than 0.13 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it is evidence that may be considered with other competent evidence in determining whether the person was under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug.

(3) Percent by weight of alcohol in the blood shall be based upon milligrams of alcohol per one hundred cubic centimeters of blood. The foregoing provisions of this section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether the person was under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug.

~~((3))~~ (4) ~~Chemical analysis of the person's blood or breath to be considered valid under the provisions of this ((section or RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504)) chapter or the equivalent county or municipal ordinance that involves the use of alcohol or drugs and the operation of a motor vehicle within this state, shall have been performed according to methods approved by the state toxicologist and by an individual possessing a valid permit issued by the state toxicologist for this purpose. The state toxicologist is directed to approve satisfactory techniques or methods, to supervise the examination of individuals to ascertain their qualifications and competence to conduct such analyses, and to issue permits which shall be subject to termination or revocation at the discretion of the state toxicologist.~~

~~((4))~~ (5) When a blood test is administered under the provisions of RCW 46.20.308, the withdrawal of blood for the purpose of determining its alcoholic content may be performed only by a physician, a registered nurse, or a qualified technician. This limitation shall not apply to the taking of breath specimens.

~~((5))~~ (6) The person tested may have a physician, or a qualified technician, chemist, registered nurse, or other qualified person of his own choosing administer a chemical test or tests in addition to any administered at the direction of a law enforcement officer. The failure or inability to obtain an additional test by a person shall not preclude the admission of evidence relating to the test or tests taken at the direction of a law enforcement officer.

~~((6))~~ (7) Upon the request of the person who ~~(shall)~~ submits to a chemical test or tests at the request of a law enforcement officer, full information concerning the test or tests shall be made available to him or his attorney."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Metcalf, you seem to have a good innovative idea here, but I wanted to understand what the differences in the penalties are for the first degree and the second degree offense? Could you clarify what the differences in the penalties are? I am particularly interested in what impact there would be on the one day mandatory jail sentence for driving while intoxicated."

Senator Metcalf: "The penalty is three days in jail. We all know that jail time is not the real factor in this—just to get their attention. There is no reason to send people to jail for long periods under this circumstance, but the other thing is that the fine is about triple."

Senator Pullen: "To clarify, is there a jail penalty if you have a blood alcohol content of .08 to .12 percent?"

Senator Metcalf: "Yes, that is the present law and that doesn't change that."

Senator Pullen: "What would the penalty be in terms of jail time if you had a .13 percent or higher?"

Senator Metcalf: "Three days. Present law is one day. If it was .13 or higher, it would be three days."

Debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senator Metcalf.

The motion by Senator Metcalf failed and the amendments were not adopted.

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: "Thank you Mr. President. Following up on Senator Rasmussen's suggestion, I have placed an amendment on the desk which I hope will be shortly distributed, and which I would urge you to consider instead of the Pullen amendment. I would like to call your attention to the Talmadge amendment. After the word 'without' in the third line, strike the balance and insert 'in lieu thereof', so it would read 'without discrimination as to any element which does not relate to the crime.' Now, this, in substance, is what we are talking about and when we get into all of these shopping lists and so forth, I think we simply confuse the issue--rather than clarify it. I would hope that you would defeat the Pullen amendment and give consideration to my amendment which is along the lines suggested by Senator Rasmussen."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "A point of parliamentary inquiry. It would seem to me that if the Pullen amendment to the Talmadge amendment were adopted, then the Clarke amendment, being a striking amendment, would also take out the Pullen amendment. Is that correct?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President believes that your remarks are correct, Senator Pullen. However, the Senator should have the right to try to perfect the bill by amendment."

Senator Pullen: "Thank you Mr. President. I would still urge a 'yes' vote on my amendment and then I am going to support the Clarke amendment which I think gets the right language in there and satisfies some of his correct concerns. I do believe that it would be proper to perfect this first and particularly since we have had so much debate on this particular item. Then when we adopt the Clarke amendment, which I hope we will, we will strike out all reference to the shopping list."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Pullen to the Talmadge amendment.

Senator Pullen demanded a roll call and the demand was not sustained.

The motion by Senator Pullen failed on a rising vote and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Clarke to the Talmadge amendment.

The motion by Senator Clarke carried and the amendment to the amendment was adopted.

Debate ensued.

Senator Fleming demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "This is a roll call on the motion to reconsider, so a 'yes' vote would be to reconsider and a 'no' vote would be to not reconsider?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "A vote 'yes' would be to reconsider and a vote 'no' would be not to reconsider.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3414 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "My concern, Senator Talmadge, is that there may be other errors such as Senator Bottiger has picked up--in what has not been added or has been neglected. Will there be someone in the interim, between now and July 1, 1984, reviewing to see that we don't make that type of error?"

Senator Talmadge: "Yes, Senator Newhouse, there is a Commission. The Commission continues in existence first of all and in the bill that is coming after this one--Senate Bill No. 3416--there is provision for a study of the impact of these sentencing guidelines on local capacity. I know the inadvertence that you talked about is something that the Commission will be looking at in conjunction with the local jail problem."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hansen: "Senator Talmadge, I am very much concerned with statements that you made of lessening the crimes against property. How many times would anybody have the right to break and enter your home or my home before we could bring suit to put him away where he belongs, for breaking onto our property? My prosecuting attorney says it takes nine times to make him an habitual criminal before you can put him away for this offense.

"I think about the second time I caught him on the premises, I would be using a shotgun, and I wouldn't have to worry anymore. I am disturbed to think that we are lessening the crime against property for the protection of our property. I think we all have the right in the world--and I hate to see us go down this road, if this is the direction you are going."

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Hansen, I think your concern is a legitimate one. Let me offer some of the policy reasons why the Sentencing Guidelines Commission proposed what it proposed. I believe Senator Hemstad can fill in where I have missed or where I have left any gaps.

"I think the idea, basically, is that we have a prison system right now that is at one-hundred thirty percent of its capacity. The idea that the Commission had was to increase the penalty for those people who were the most violent--those people who commit homicides--those people who commit rape--those people who commit assaults--are actually going to do more time in prison than they do under present law. For those people who commit property offenses--don't believe that they are not going to pay a penalty for their property offense--they are going to do, possibly, jail time in the local jail. They are going to have to do restitution. There may be probationary programs in the community to which they can be sentenced by the trial court judge.

"If they have a criminal history of doing property offenses, ultimately, they are going to go to the prison system. The question, I guess, is whether or not you want to have the prisons be available for the most violent of people that we have in our society, or whether for the first-time property offender, you want him to go to Walla Walla or Monroe, or someplace like that.

"Recognizing that yours is a very, very legitimate concern, I believe that the problem is handled. It is handled in the sense that they will do time--possibly in the local jail. If the judge feels the circumstances are so aggravated that that person should go to a penitentiary, the judge can find, basically, what is a manifest injustice--issue written findings as to why this person should go to the penitentiary and send him there, if they think that is appropriate.

"I suspect, under some circumstances, that is going to happen. Basically, the idea is to deal with it in the way that it is drawn up in the Sentencing Guidelines Commission recommendation. These people will not get off. In some instances, they may not go to the penitentiary, but they are going to pay a serious penalty, nonetheless."

Further debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Vognild, Senator McDermott was excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3414.

- (4) Section 4, chapter 228, Laws of 1982 and RCW 9.95.410."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Talmadge: "Mr. President, I raise the question of scope and object with respect to this amendment. It relates to a section of the RCW that is not being addressed in the original bill. It relates to an issue that is now presently in our criminal justice system about prison capacity and so forth. The bill that is before us relates to the future and does not take effect until July of 1984. It was designed to be some technical amendments to the Sentencing Guidelines Commission Act, basically. The amendment that we have before us relates to something entirely different."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, I would like to remind Senator Talmadge on his scope and object that he doesn't want to narrow the field too much. The fact that you are amending a section that doesn't happen to be in the bill--you may want to do that in some future time and an adverse ruling now would tie your hands, Senator Talmadge. I would hope that the President takes that into consideration."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PULLEN

Senator Pullen: "Mr. President, Senator Talmadge is correct on one point. The repealer clauses that are put in my amendment should take effect immediately and I will offer that technical correction. Thank you, Senator Talmadge, for noting that and correcting that.

"As far as the scope and object is concerned, the President has made rulings of this type on these broad criminal justice bills many times in the past and has always ruled correctly. I have watched your rulings for several years now, in this area, and I am convinced that this is no different than many other bills we have had before us of this type. Notice the title of the bill is 'An Act Relating to Crimes and Punishment.' The only time the code reviser uses an act relating to crimes and punishment is when he specifically has the broadest possible criminal justice bill before him. Just taking a look at some of the sections we have in here--broad sentencing discussion--we deal with specific crimes in the bill--we deal with sentences that the court can impose--we deal with the make-up of the Sentencing Guidelines Commission--we deal with departure of standards. Really, we deal with even deadly weapons in the bill. It certainly is the broadest criminal justice bill that we have had before us in a long time and I would say virtually any amendment dealing with law and order or criminal justice would be in the scope and object of this particular bill."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Talmadge has raised the point that the amendment changes the scope and object of the bill."

Whenever the jail population of a county exceeds the established maximum capacity as defined by the state jail commission, the overcrowding committee may meet forthwith and examine the current population of the county jail for the purpose of determining eligibility for early release of persons incarcerated in the jail. The committee may recommend to the county prosecuting attorney and the superior and district courts of the county the names of those persons who could have their sentences shortened through the use of good time, alternatives to sentencing, and other methods.

Such rules may limit the use of common areas by pets; may stipulate type of pets allowed, may require the removal of a pet whose conduct or condition is determined to be a threat or a nuisance to other occupants, or a violation of health laws; protect the animals' right to humane treatment; and other rules as needed including designation of pet and non-pet areas.

The housing authority may choose either to relieve a tenant from liability for damages to the premises caused by a pet or may require a special pet damage deposit. Except for damage deposit conditions, a housing authority shall not permit different terms for tenancy based upon the presence or absence of a pet which otherwise meets the rules and regulations established by the housing authority."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Lee, if my mother-in-law would like to keep a gerbil in the nursing home, could she do it under this bill?"

Senator Lee: "In the particular section that relates to the access to pets in the nursing home, itself, she probably would not be able to keep one in her own room. A gerbil is a rodent and that is the problem with those particular animals. In some of the therapy that has been done in mental hospitals, and so on, they have had guinea pigs, but even in those cases, they have gone back to the more traditional kinds of pets.

"The experience has been that the kind of therapy that really means something--in other words, a pet that is very responsive like a cat is--will purr--or a dog will lick your hand and so on. It is the kind of thing that provides the therapy, and not just the fact that it is a furry little thing."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3059.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3059, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 30; nays, 13; absent, 02; excused, 04.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Goltz, the following amendments were considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 1, beginning on line 25, strike all of subsection (4) and insert "(4) "Geothermal heat" means the natural thermal energy of the earth and the medium by which such energy is extracted from the earth, including gases or liquids, but excluding oil, hydrocarbon gas, or other hydrocarbon substances."

On motion of Senator Williams, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3224 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Goltz, I am looking at the digest. It would appear that the bondholders may bring suit against any municipality which fails to pay into a special fund created for the payment of revenue bonds and warrants, that amount which is obligated itself to pay in the ordinance or resolution creating the fund. This does not restrict this to just a heating district, apparently. It is the municipality, itself, that will be liable for all of these costs and they won't be related to revenue bonds. In effect, they may make them a general obligation bond by that provision being put in here."

Senator Goltz: "Only by a vote of the people would this be true, Senator Rasmussen."

Senator Rasmussen: "Only by a vote of the people--the general obligation bonds can be issued, but they may proceed on revenue bonds without a vote of the people. Is this correct, then?"

Senator Goltz: "It is correct. They would be able by the legislative authority to issue bonds. The authority given for heating districts, in this respect, is no different from the authority given to municipalities for all other types of utilities. This would be the same with water and so on."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3224.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Owen, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3169 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Owen, what is the increase for the resident permit for sheep and moose or what is the present fee?"

Senator Owen: "They are all listed in the calendar on what they were and what they are changed to."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, it indicates that the sheep and the moose stamp fees are increased and it just lists the resident and nonresident, which are the same. Is it doubling for the sheep and leaving the moose as the same?"

Senator Owen: "The sheep is changed from resident--$35.00 to resident--$75.00, and the moose is left the same. The nonresident sheep is changed from $35.00 to $300.00 and the nonresident moose is changed from $100.00 to $300.00."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Owen, I notice the brief title of this bill is making various housekeeping changes in the game laws. Senator Rasmussen has raised some questions that would suggest that perhaps all the changes are not exactly housekeeping changes. Could you explain the rationale as to why the sheep and moose licenses are increased? I know that sometimes there is a very good rationale for increasing the fees. I was just curious what the rationale might be in this particular bill."

Senator Owen: "Thank you, Senator Pullen. If you notice, that actually for resident, there is only one change and that change is in the area of sheep. The Department evidently felt that the rate should be more consistent--the fees should be more consistent with the other big game animals on these specific areas--and they felt that the nonresident rates were far too low compared to what other states are charging for nonresident--and the availability for the number of game.

"These changes were not opposed by anybody--by the sports' clubs or anybody. They were all supported and moved through the committee quite easily. There was no opposition to any of the changes, so evidently the sporting community thought that the rates were reasonable, also."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3169.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3174, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3130, by Senators Talmadge, Hemstad and Woody

Awarding attorneys fees in frivolous actions or defenses and to prevailing parties acting as private attorneys general.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following Committee on Judiciary amendment was adopted:

On page 1, after line 16, strike the remainder of the bill and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The law revision commission shall conduct a study to analyse and evaluate the issues involved in enacting legislation to allow attorneys' fees to a prevailing party who acts as a private attorney general. The commission shall report its findings and recommendations, including proposed legislation, to the legislature prior to January 1, 1984."

MOTION

Senator Talmadge moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, after line 16, insert a new paragraph as follows:

"The provisions of this section apply unless otherwise specifically provided by statute."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "This may be an entirely different subject and not related at all, but I had to question because, as you know, the Indians have asked for the State of Washington to pay 4.7 million dollars in the Boldt decision for court costs and attorneys fees. Would this bill or the amendment, in anyway, have anything to do with that issue?"

Senator Talmadge: "No."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Talmadge.

The motion by Senator Talmadge carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, on line 3 of the title, strike "and" and after "RCW" insert "; and creating a new section"

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3130 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

On motion of Senator Bluechel, Senator Quigg was excused.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Talmadge, as you know, in the proposed SEPA bill, the language is somewhat different and it would be my intent to preserve that language because it is agreed upon. Would this, in any way, involve that language or, specifically, is the floor amendment here designed to keep that language of SEPA as is, should the bill pass?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, thank you. The floor amendment was designed to deal with two specific situations--the possible adoption of Senate Bill No. 3006, with its specific provision relating to frivolous lawsuits, and also to deal with the situation of the Court of Appeals. The various divisions of the Court of Appeals have a court rule coming down from statute that provides for the authorization of sanctions against a party bringing a frivolous appeal. Both of these situations are designed to be dealt with by the amendment and it is my understanding, that with the adoption of the amendment, we would not affect the provision in Senate Bill No. 3006--should it be adopted by this body."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3130.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3130, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; nays, 00; absent, 00; excused, 03.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, Fleming, Fuller, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Haley, Hansen, Hayner, Hemstad, Hughes, Hurley, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Sellar, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody, Zimmerman - 46.

Excused: Senators Bauer, Patterson, Quigg - 3.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 3130, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, Senate Bill No. 3519 was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, the Senate advanced to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3098, by Senators Bauer, Zimmerman and Thompson

Providing for filling county freeholder vacancies.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Thompson, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3098 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3098 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3098.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3098, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 00; absent, 05; excused, 00.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, Fleming, Fuller, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Haley, Hansen, Hayner, Hemstad, Hughes, Hurley, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Williams, Wojahn, Woody, Zimmerman - 44.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3250, by Senators Peterson, Patterson and Vognild (by Department of Transportation request)

Establishing prequalifying procedures for ferry contractors.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Peterson, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3250 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

On motion of Senator Bluechel, Senator Fuller was excused.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Peterson, does this prequalification extend to repair work or only to new construction?"

Senator Peterson: "Most of the repair work is done within the Department. I don't think the bill went that far. That question has not arisen. It is prequalification on construction and most of the repair work is done within the system under present methods of repair."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, the reason I was wondering was that minorities and womens' business groups might find it hard to prequalify and I don't know how far you were extending this. Under major construction, I can understand. A New Orleans firm, that did previously, they were prequalified."

Senator Peterson: "This is to take care of that problem, Senator Rasmussen. Relative to repair, I would suspect that they would fall under existing statutes anyway, as far as being eligible."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Bill No. 3250.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 3250, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 00; absent, 04; excused, 01.

Excused: Senator Fuller - 1.

SECOND READING

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 112, by Senators Williams, Fuller, Talmadge, Bauer, McManus, Hansen, Moore, McDermott, Benitz and Woody Allowing the state to provide financing for energy conservation.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Williams, Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 112 was substituted for Senate Joint Resolution No. 112 and the substitute resolution was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Pullen, the following amendment was adopted:
On page 1, line 18, after "charge back", insert "to the recipient"

MOTION

On motion of Senator Williams, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Resolution No. 112 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Williams, does this open the door for the PUDers to loan their credit, which is pretty skinny at the time? What I am thinking about is a reconstruction of an aluminum plant--for instance Chelan PUD--could they loan their credit for the reconstruction of a plant either in Wenatchee or at Spokane? If the aluminum company were to borrow money from them, could they rebuild a plant in Spokane? It would be for the purpose of reducing the power. The new techniques or the reduction of bulk sites are far more efficient today than they were a number of years ago."

Senator Williams: "Senator, first of all, this is not mandatory. It is a voluntary program on the part of the PUD's or the public entities. I personally--without looking at the implementing legislation that we passed earlier related to this constitutional amendment--would say that would be stretching the loaning of the credit as envisioned for the purposes of either this constitutional amendment or the implementing legislation that we passed earlier. I suspect that even if it were possible, that that would be stretching the intent of this as well as the resources of a PUD--beyond what I think would be acceptable, to the ratepayers, in that particular PUD."

Senator Guess: "Well, the provisions are definitely there. They can loan to a corporation and it can be used for conservation or a more efficient use of energy. Certainly, it would be far more efficient use of energy if they were rebuilding a pipeline, for instance."

Senator Williams: "Senator, I can't give you a definitive answer on that right at the moment. I will check the implementing legislation and try and give you an answer."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Williams, on line 21,--'except as to bonds and loans issued prior to January 1, 2005, this section shall expire on January 1, 2005.' What type of bonds are contemplated will be issued and who will be issuing the bonds? The state already has two and a half billion dollars worth of bonds authorized and only so far it can issue a billion, two hundred thousand. The rest of it is standing there that we can't issue because we are up to the limit. What type of bonds now are they going to issue on this proposal?"

Senator Williams: "Senator, the language of the constitutional amendment says 'that the instrument shall end its credit financed by the issuance of debt instruments secured solely by revenue.' In other words, they may be bonds, or they may be whatever. They are issued by the particular utility, not by the state of Washington."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, that brings me up to line 8--'notwithstanding sections 5 and 7 of this Article, the state and any county, city, town, quasi municipal corporation, municipal corporation, or political subdivision of the state which is engaged in the sale or distribution of energy.' That would kind of indicate that we are going to take over WPPSS and operate that and then the state would be developing energy. Is that what your intent is--that when we take over WPPSS, that the state would then issue bonds and become an operating agency?"

Senator Williams: "No, Senator, that is not the intention at all."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, the line here says that--'the state.'"

Senator Williams: "The reason that 'state' is in there is that at some point and time--and there is a bill before the legislature now--there is a statewide conservation program which would be additional implementing legislation, if in fact, we wanted the state to have a conservation program. There is no intent, whatsoever, to use this mechanism to fund or support or in any way bail out WPPSS."

Senator Rasmussen: "But it is drawn broad enough, so that if the people adopt it, the state would become an operating agency."

Senator Williams: "I suspect that it would not, because this relates to conservation measures, not to the construction of new large-scale facilities such as WPPSS or any other new energy production facility."

Further debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 112, and the resolution passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 33; nays, 15; absent, 01; excused, 00.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Fleming, Fuller, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Haley, Hansen, Hayner, Hemstad, Hughes, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody, Zimmerman - 33.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, Clarke, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, Guess, Hurley, McCaslin, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Sellar, Vognlid - 15.

Absent: Senator Quigg - 1.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Concurrent Resolution No. 107 and the following pending amendment by Senators McDermott and Hughes, deferred February 18, 1983.

On page 1, line 26, after "community," strike everything down through "problem:" on line 29.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators McDermott and Hughes. Senator Williams had demanded a division when the pending amendment was considered earlier. Senator McDermott demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Senators McDermott and Hughes and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 19; nays, 29; absent, 00; excused, 01.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Conner, Fleming, Gaspard, Hughes, Hurley, McCaslin, McDermott, Metcalf, Owen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognlid, Warnke, Wojahn - 19.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Craswell, Deccio, Fuller, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Haley, Hansen, Hayner, Hemstad, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McManus, Moore, Newhouse, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Williams, Woody, Zimmerman - 29.

Excused: Senator Quigg - 1.

MOTION

Senator McDermott moved the following amendments by Senators McDermott and Hughes be considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 2, line 17, after "That", strike everything down through "support of"

On page 2, line 19, after "Council," strike "is" and insert "are"

On page 2, line 27, after "System", strike everything down through "Washington," on page 28.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Williams, would you view this resolution as ordering the Governor to convene a meeting?"

Senator Williams: "Senator, I am looking for the language. The language suggests that we are calling on the Governor to take the lead in organizing negotiations. It does suggest that the Governor, when it seems appropriate, would call the parties to the table in hopes that negotiation, as opposed to continued litigation, would prevail. So, in essence, we are asking that the Governor take the lead in organizing those negotiations."

Senator Rasmussen: "Is there anything, Senator Williams, in the existing law, to your knowledge, that would prevent the Governor from doing this without a resolution, and would this, in effect, be having the legislative ordering the executive to do something?"

Senator Williams: "There isn't, to my knowledge, anything in the law that would prevent the Governor from doing so on his own volition. Since the resolution does not order the Governor to do anything, it is simply a statement of policy on the part of the legislature and it is our suggestion that he do so."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Moore: "I have my own definition that I have in the back of my mind someplace as to what 'intimately involved' means. Now, when we talk about the public sector, I wonder just what do we mean by intimately involved?"

Senator Hayner: "You may not think I have used that word properly, but I think that whenever the Governor of this state takes on any problem of the people, he becomes intimately involved with it and that is exactly what he is here. He is very concerned. He has spent a great deal of time trying to analyze what we should do and I think that the remarks of Senator Bottiger were very appropriate."

Further debate ensued.

Senator McDermott demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senators McDermott and Hughes.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator McDermott failed and the amendments were not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 20; nays, 29; absent, 00; excused, 00.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Conner, Fleming, Gaspard, Hughes, Hurley, McCaslin, McDermott, Metcalf, Moore, Owen, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Warnke, Wojahn - 20.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Craswell, Deccio, Fuller, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Haley, Hansen, Hayner, Hemstad, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McManus, Newhouse, Patterson, Peterson, Quigg, Sellar, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Williams, Woody, Zimmerman - 29.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Pullen, Talmadge and Rasmussen:

On page 2, line 16, insert:

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That nothing contained in this resolution shall be construed as obligating the state of Washington to assume any portion of, or any responsibility for, the debts of the Washington Public Power Supply System; and"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Pullen, there are a lot of facets in the definition of the term 'state of Washington.' What is your definition of what 'the state of Washington' means in your amendment?"

Senator Pullen: "This amendment means 'the state of Washington' as controlled by the three major branches of the state of Washington--the legislative branch, the executive branch and the judicial branch. It does not imply any of the subdivisions of the state of Washington, such as municipal corporations."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Pullen, Talmadge and Rasmussen.

The motion by Senator Pullen carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Williams, the rules were suspended, Reengrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 107 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

Senator Pullen: "Senator McDermott, on page 2, where it discusses the make-up of the commission, it says that 'there shall be one representative of a company employing fewer than one hundred persons.' Can you tell me approximately what percentage of the companies in the state employ fewer than one hundred persons? What I am trying to get at is--perhaps there are many, many companies that employ fewer than ten persons--or fewer than five persons. A hundred persons seems to me to be a pretty big company. I am fearful that if we appointed one representative from a company with--say ninety-five persons employed at that company--we are really eliminating representation from most of the companies in the state which employ fewer than five or ten persons. I was trying to get a feeling for what percentage of the companies in the state employ a hundred persons."

Senator McDermott: "I don't know the answer to your question, Senator Pullen, but our intention here is to have a small business representative on the commission. We don't want it to be just big business and what they have organized. We wanted to have small business input and that is the real point of this."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute House Concurrent Resolution No. 6, as amended by the Senate.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "We thought this bill was on second reading and had an amendment that was a simple amendment dealing with the subject that Senator Pullen has discussed, mainly that it should be returned to a point where those businesses with fifty employees or less should be included. Now, Senator Bottiger has indicated his willingness to consider that.

"Senator Bottiger, I would like to ask you if you are considering the fact that when that appointment would be made--would you be willing to recognize that most of the businesses of this state do fall under fifty employees--as far as numbers are concerned--and therefore, do deserve very strongly an opportunity to be represented on the commission?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Zimmerman, I have already indicated to the small business group that I would recommend and ask them and would seek some advice on a small business representative. I, personally, don't know where you put the division line, but I would concur with the remarks of Senator Pullen that the majority of the jobs come from those organizations--employer firms--that employ around fifty and they should be represented. The magic number of one hundred was selected. It could have been seventy-five, it could have been fifty, but it will be a small business representative."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute House Concurrent Resolution No. 6, as amended by the Senate, and the resolution passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 36; nays, 13; absent, 00; excused, 00.

President Cherberg: "Senator Rasmussen, Senator Bottiger's point is well taken. Would you please refrain from reading?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, I thank God I have the ability to read. Some people don't. I would point out, Mr. President, that I am not reading the article. I am quoting from the article. I could give Senator Bottiger the article to read, but I don't know whether he would or not."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Very well, Senator. You may quote."

Further debate ensued.

Senators Bottiger, Gaspard and Wojahn demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

On page 4, line 35, after "governor", insert "with the consent of the senate."

MOTION

Senator Fleming moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 5, line 33, after "chapter", insert ": PROVIDED, That this power to issue bonds shall cease to exist on June 30, 1986, unless extended by law for an additional fixed period of time"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hayner: "Senator Fleming, if this commission were to issue the maximum amount of bonds that were permitted by the federal regulations, how much would they actually issue in a period from now until 1986?"

Senator Fleming: "From now until the end of this year, we would be able to issue up to two hundred thirty-six million. That formula is changed each year based upon, over the nation, what has been done. The indication is that if the program continues it would be a like amount next year."

Senator Hayner: "So, what you are saying is, that in '83, '84, '85, and half of '86, it would probably be in the neighborhood of eight hundred fifty to nine hundred million dollars?"

Senator Fleming: "Based upon a formula, it could be just slightly more or it could be slightly less, but there is a particular formula that they go by, based upon what has happened the previous year."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Fleming, that previous section that you amended that provides that we have perpetual existence of a corporation--which, of course, we do--but the information is that the ceiling on the amount of tax exempt bonds that the state can issue for single family dwellings is two hundred thirty million, but that there is no limit for multiple family dwellings. This commission could issue an unlimited amount of bonds for multiple family, but for single family, they would be limited to two hundred thirty million."

Senator Fleming: "I stand corrected. Senator Hayner, I am sorry. Two hundred thirty million is for the single family dwelling. There is no limit, by federal law, as to what you could issue in multiple."

Senator Rasmussen: "So, Senator Hayner, you are correct. That could go far beyond the billion dollar mark if they so desire. There is only that limit on single family housing. I don't know what the distinction would be--probably duplexes or four-plexes--or the sky is the limit. It should be known as the blue sky law."

REMARKS BY SENATOR FLEMING

Senator Fleming: "Senator Hayner, there is a provision in here that this commission report back on a regular basis to the legislature and to the Governor. If there is something that has taken place that is a little out of line, at least we will have the ability to deal with that, I think."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HAYNER

Senator Hayner: "Just to pursue this a bit further. I understand that there, also, is a provision in federal law that you can issue non-exempt bonds if you decide to and that would be in competition with private enterprise. Is that correct?"

Senator Fleming: "That is correct, but the correct thing that you also said is that this is not the public housing project that was alluded to by some of the members on the floor--that are against the measure. These mortgages will be issued through those same institutions that you are talking about. They are not going to be issued by us. They will go through the same process and the people who buy the houses, their payments on their mortgages will go to pay off the bonds to the bondholder."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, I raise a point of order that Senator Bottiger and Senator Fleming wanted one speech--no more than three minutes--and I hope the President will watch that, because I detect in back of me an inclination to want to get up more than once. I didn't say how far back, George."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Thank you, Senator Rasmussen, for reminding the President of the adoption of Senator Bottiger's motion."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Fleming.

The motion by Senator Fleming carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 6, line 31, after "of", strike the balance of subsection (3) through "handicapped" and insert "poor or infirm"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Pullen, you quoted a section in the Constitution that related to using the state's money for the poor and infirm. What was that section?"

Senator Pullen: "That is Article VIII, Section 7 of the State Constitution which reads 'No county, city, town or other municipal corporation shall hereafter give any money, or property, or loan its money, or credit to or in aid of any individual, association, company or corporation, except for the necessary support of the poor and infirm--'"

Senator Rasmussen: "A further question, Senator Pullen. On the Hospital Commission ruling by the Supreme Court, did they, possibly, base their interpretation of allowing the Hospital Commission to issue bonds because it was for the aid of the infirm that were in the hospitals?"

Senator Pullen: "That is very possible, Senator Rasmussen. Furthermore, the Hospital Commission is far, far different than the commission that is being set forth in this bill. This bill sets forth much broader responsibilities than the Hospital Commission has, and even if the Hospital Commission was real constitutional, I can certainly see where this one is not."

Senator Rasmussen: "Because this bill is drawn too broadly?"

Senator Pullen: "Oh yes, much too broadly."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senator Pullen.

The motion by Senator Pullen failed and the amendments were not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Rasmussen and Pullen:

On page 6, line 35, strike subsections (5) and (6), and renumber remaining subsections.

Debate ensued.

Senator Rasmussen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senators Rasmussen and Pullen.

MOTION

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 9, line 7, strike subsection (7) and renumber.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Fleming, if you would look at line 13.--'the commission may own, lease, clear, (repeats 'clear'), construct, reconstruct, rehabilitate, repair, manage, maintain, operate, assign, or encumber the properties.' I don't know what they are going to clear, except that they build a housing project and nobody would live in it. Then, they would have to bulldoze it down. Is that the way you read it?"

Senator Fleming: "No, Senator Rasmussen. It might very well be a piece of land that is not ready for housing construction and so in preparation of the disposition of that, they would be able to do that, but not in terms of going in and clearing out houses and what have you. This is a short period of time where these things would be in their preparation. In case there were foreclosures or whatever, it is to make sure that you have the right kind of security for these bonds that you have out there."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Rasmussen and Pullen.

The motion by Senator Rasmussen failed and the amendment was not adopted.

On page 10, after line 8, insert the following new section:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) The commission shall adopt rules to provide for the selection of underwriters. The rules shall provide for the creation of a roster of underwriters whom the commission believes possess the requisite special expertise and professional standing to provide bond marketing services which would be accepted by bondholders and other members of the financial community, and which would be in furtherance of the public interest in marketing the commission's bonds at the lowest possible costs. Any underwriter may apply to have its name placed on the roster, but may not be placed on the roster unless it demonstrates to the commission's satisfaction that it meets the requirements of this section.

(2) Whenever the commission decides that it needs the services of an underwriter, it shall provide all underwriters on the roster with a notice of its intentions and shall invite each of them to submit to the commission an itemization of its fees and other charges for providing underwriting services on the issue. The itemization shall be by categories designed by the commission. The commission shall have wide discretion in selecting the underwriter it considers to be most appropriate to provide the services, but in the exercise of this discretion the commission shall consider the underwriter's fees and other charges and the public interest in achieving savings in the total costs of underwriting services."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct internal references in section 27 and other sections.

Absent: Senators Bottiger, Hayner - 2.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 13, section 14, line 26, after "only" insert "statewide municipal corporation that serves as a"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Fleming, I wanted to clarify subsection (d), which in the bill now reads 'the commission constitutes the only housing finance agency of the state of Washington.' My fear is that with that language as it now reads, we could be eliminating other housing finance agencies--both public and private that now exist. You made reference to the Internal Revenue Code and I am trying to understand what it is in the Internal Revenue Code that would preclude us from adding the words 'statewide municipal corporation that served as a'--before 'housing finance agency' so that we clarify that we are constituting only one statewide housing finance agency and that we are not eliminating any private or public housing finance agencies that now exist. Can you tell me why the Internal Revenue Code would preclude having those words?"

Senator Fleming: "Senator Pullen, I was just saying that I think that you are one of the few that seems to be confused here. Most of the people that were involved in the drafting of this measure--and others--recognize what we have here. The Department of Social and Health Services is an agency of the state of Washington. OFM is another agency of the state of Washington. It does not say other public or private housing that happens to be doing business in the state. It says 'the housing finance agency of the state of Washington' and this is the only one that I will know, if we create it."

Senator Pullen: "Well, Senator Fleming, are there or are there not local housing finance agencies in Tacoma and Seattle and elsewhere? Is that or is that not true?"

Senator Fleming: "I think the answer to your own question--there are local agencies."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Rasmussen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Pullen failed and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 18; nays, 28; absent, 03; excused, 00.

Voting yea: Senators Benitz, Clarke, Craswell, Deccio, Fuller, Guess, Haley, Hansen, Hurley, McCaslin, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Patterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Sellar, von Reichbauer - 18.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, Bauer, Bender, Bluechel, Conner, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Hemstad, Hughes, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McDermott, McManus, Owen, Peterson, Quigg, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognilid, Williams, Wojahn, Woody, Zimmerman - 28.

Absent: Senators Bottiger, Hayner, Warnke - 3.

MOTIONS

Senator Williams moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 10, after line 8, insert the following new section:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9 (1) The commission shall adopt rules to provide for the selection of bond counsel. The rules shall provide for the creation of a roster of attorneys whom the commission believes possess the requisite special expertise and professional standing to provide bond counsel opinions which would be accepted by the underwriters, bondholders and other members of the financial community, and which would be in furtherance of the public interest in obtaining the lowest possible interest rate on the bonds issued by the commission. Any attorney may apply to have his name placed on the roster, but may not be placed on the roster unless he demonstrates to the commission's satisfaction that he would issue the kind of opinions required by this section.

(2) Whenever the commission decides that it needs the services of a bond counsel, it shall provide all attorneys on the roster with a notice of its intentions. The commission shall have wide discretion in selecting the attorney it considers to be the most appropriate to provide the bond counsel services.

(3) Once selected, bond counsel shall submit a fee schedule for services on the issue. The commission shall proceed to negotiate fees to provide services in the best interest of the public at the most reasonable costs attainable. If the commission and bond counsel fail to reach agreement, bond counsel shall be discharged and the commission shall select and negotiate with the next most appropriate bond counsel. This process of selection shall be repeated until agreement is reached."

Renumber remaining sections consecutively and correct internal references in section 27 and other sections.

On motion of Senator Williams, the following amendment to his amendment was adopted.

In line 2 of subsection (3), after "services", strike "on the issue"

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the amendment, as amended, by Senator Williams.

The motion by Senator Williams carried on a rising vote and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fleming, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3245 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Senator Talmadge, thank you. Senators Pullen and Rasmussen have questioned the constitutionality of this legislation. In your opinion, does this bill violate Article VIII, Section 7, or any other constitutional provisions?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, I had an opportunity to review the case of Health Care Facilities Authority vs. Spellman--Wn 2nd, 68--and in so reading, the Washington State Supreme Court, in that case, laid out five criteria for whether or not bond issuances of this variety met the constitutional test.

"First, no money comes from the public treasury--as is the case here; second, the bond proceeds never enter the public treasury--as is the case here; third, repayments of the bonds do not pass through the public treasury--as is the case here; fourth, the bonds are not state debts--as is the case here; and fifth, and finally, although the bonds sales are enabled by a public body, the money is not acquired either for or from the general public--as is the case here.

"It would be my conclusion, and I am sure that this is an issue that may be considered by others and perhaps by the court itself--that the bill as it now stands does not violate the constitutional section."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Fleming, during all the debate, I started to read the bill for the first time, having not served on the two committees that have been before us in the Senate. I am reading from the public policy purpose statement in the very beginning, wherein it places major emphasis on the Washington economy and I guess that is what this bill is suppose to do. It is to stimulate our economy in the timber products area and it goes over on the other side of the second page and says that it is also a primary purpose of this chapter to encourage the use of Washington State forest products in residential construction. Is there anything in the bill that will direct those that will be in the business of construction to use Washington timber products?"

Senator Fleming: "No."

Senator Patterson: "Thank you. I just want to relate some of the discussions that we have had in a committee that I serve on--Natural Resources--where we are expressing a great deal of concern about the market for Washington lumber and timber products. One thing that has been brought up is that we have a situation existing where 35% of the timber being cut and used for exports by the Provincial government to the north is being consumed by the domestic market of the United States. It is in direct competition, because it is subsidized. They can sell it at a lot less price than our people--our own producers--our own lumber mills--can get for the same quality product.

"Now, I have to submit to you that I don't think we ought to deceive anyone, that if the primary purpose of this legislation is to improve the lumber market and the timber market of the state of Washington, this bill does not do it. You might as well take it out as the primary purpose section, because it will not do it. It will not require preferential bidding as far as state products are concerned unless there is something in this that directs that question. I just want to point that out.

"The second question, Senator Fleming, if you would let me continue. Would you respond to the fiscal note? I would like to know exactly how much of a fiscal obligation that we are taking over in the passing of this legislation."

Senator Fleming: "Senator, two things. First of all what you are asking me to do in this bill--this is just a statement--and what you are asking me to do in this bill is something unconstitutional. We can't do that. Most of the people that are doing the work on I-90--those contractors--the major contractors--are not from this state. We cannot do that.

"Secondly, in terms of the fiscal note, there is no fiscal note. We keep trying to indicate--early on, from '74, when we first started with the housing bill--right on through, people were squawking about a state bureaucracy that we were creating. Under the Hospital Commission, all they have, I think, is a secretary and one other person. That expense was borne by the private sector when they put their bond together. That was the part of the expense. So, there is no fiscal note, because there are no state employees involved in this process."

Senator Patterson: "But, it does say in our summarization, that there is a statement available. Does that statement say there is no fiscal impact on the state of Washington treasury?"

Senator Fleming: "That is my understanding--that the statement says that there is no fiscal impact, because there are no state dollars being spent."

Senator Patterson: "Does the fiscal statement that is supposed to be available say that?"

Senator Fleming: "I can't answer that. I was told that it said that there is no fiscal impact. My understanding is that there is no fiscal impact."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Clarke, concerning the question that you were talking to me about some time ago. In section 20--'property tax exemption, the real and personal property, the state housing finance commission established by this chapter are exempt from taxation.' Does this also include the B & O tax, along with the property tax?"

Senator Clarke: "It is my recollection that there is another section of the bill which also excludes that type of tax, but I can't answer that question without examining the bill."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3245.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3245, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 35; nays, 14; absent, 00; excused, 00.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bluechel, Bottiger, Conner, Deccio, Fleming, Fuller, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Haley, Hemstad, Hughes, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McDermott, McManus, Moore, Owen, Peterson, Quigg, Rinehart, Sellar, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody, Zimmerman - 35.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, Benitz, Clarke, Craswell, Guess, Hansen, Hayner, Hurley, McCaslin, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Pullen, Rasmussen - 14.

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3245, having received the constitutional majority was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, the Senate advanced to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3051, by Senators Hansen and Barr

Modifying the laws governing transportation or confining animals.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Hansen, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3051 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3051 and the second substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Hansen, the rules were suspended, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3051 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Senator Hansen, is this the bill we passed that made it against the law to have an animal or dog, to be specific, in the back of an open pickup truck?"

Senator Hansen: "This is the bill that they passed the regulations to on carrying a dog in the back of a pickup."

Senator Fleming: "Now, is this bill amending that law so that it is no longer illegal or is it still the same way?"

Senator Hansen: "It would be up to the law enforcing to prove that that dog was being transported in a cruel and unreasonable manner. In other words, putting the dog in jeopardy or putting people in jeopardy."

Senator Fleming: "That part I was not worried about. I guess the part I was worried about--I think we passed a law that said in an open pickup. It could be somewhat dangerous if a dog jumped out of that pickup in front of another car and created an accident or something of that nature. I thought we made it unlawful for someone to carry--not in terms of cruelty, but in terms of safety--unlawful to carry a dog in an open pickup."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "Senator Barr, you are on the Agriculture Committee and what, now, is your opinion relative to carrying a dog in the back of a pickup truck? This is a very common practice and a lot of people out there want to know."

Senator Barr: "I would be glad to answer that question, because really it is very clear in the statute where it says 'this section shall not by itself prohibit the transportation of a domestic animal in the rear portion of a pickup truck or similar vehicle.' I might go ahead and add that the wording in this measure, now, was a compromise between the Humane Society and the people who were not satisfied with the way the previous legislation had been interpreted. This is a compromise measure and it is a good measure and I would encourage a 'yes' vote on this by the body."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3051.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3051, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; nays, 01; absent, 03; excused, 00.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bottiger, Clarke, Conner, Craswell, Fleming, Fuller, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Haley, Hansen, Hayner, Hemstad, Hughes, Hurley, Jones, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McManus, Metcalf, Moore, Newhouse, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Sellar, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody, Zimmerman - 45.

Voting nay: Senator Bluechel - 1.

Absent: Senators Deccio, Owen, Quigg - 3.

SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3051, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3124, by Senators McManus and Deccio (by Office of Financial Management request)

Modifying provisions relating to the Washington health care facilities authority.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McManus, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3124 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3124 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator McManus, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3124 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Senator McManus, I had a chance to look at this bill and I wasn't sure whether it should be on the consent calendar. You said it is a house-keeping measure?"

Senator McManus: "That was my understanding."

Senator Fleming: "This is not the measure that would allow nursing homes to issue industrial revenue bonds?"

Senator McManus: "No, it has nothing to do with that."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator McManus, with respect to the change on page 4 of this bill, which describes a participant--this non-profit organization that you referred to, who, to be specific, would be covered by that section--just out of curiosity?"

Senator McManus: "Well, I think this is concerning organizations that are providing health care that are not for profit organizations like home health care agencies. I believe that is the conceptual design behind including them--community based organizations."

Senator Talmadge: "That would be just one example. Are there other examples of organizations that might be covered by this act?"

Senator McManus: "Well, at this point, to be honest with you, I can't think of other kinds, but there are a number of health clinics and local health programs that are community based that are non-profit, tax exempt community organizations that I believe that the Authority wants to have covered. They are kind of extensions."

Senator Talmadge: "This authority was specifically requested by the agency?"

Senator McManus: "Yes, it was."

Senator Thompson: "I can't think of many examples, Senator Pullen. I think it would be difficult for someone who isn't within three hundred feet of the directly affected property, because it could establish as that."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Thompson, in rural areas with very small water mains and roads and things like that--as I am sure you are aware--if a large subdivision comes in and the people in the neighborhood want to present the case of loss of water pressure, loss of fire protection, road problems, traffic problems--would they have to live within three hundred feet to be able to present that?"

Senator Thompson: "Senator Bottiger, I think you have answered Senator Pullen's question. Ramifications of that magnitude, I think, would be clearly recognized as substantially giving them standing."

SENATE BILL NO. 3151, by Senators Thompson, Hayner, Bauer and Barr

Allowing counties to employ special attorneys.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3151 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3151 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Thompson, it indicates that it would be unlawful for the legislative authority to hire an attorney to represent them. It is my understanding that the prosecuting attorney can hire as many special attorneys as he wants without any authority from anybody other than himself. Why do you restrict the legislative authority? They should have the right to have an attorney and I know from my service on the county, the county legislative councils do need an attorney of their own to help in their drafting and to review legislation separate from the prosecuting attorney's office."

Senator Thompson: "Senator Rasmussen, the prosecuting attorney is limited to the extent in which he can retain attorneys in his office by his budget. I am a little confused as to the purpose of your questioning, but the county commissioners rely on the prosecuting attorney's office to provide them with civil counsel. Some counties would prefer to retain counsel other than that from the prosecuting attorney's office, but they are prevented from doing so freely. The act before you would simply open it up a bit more and make it somewhat easier for that arrangement to take place."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, I would want to open it up some more. Would you mind if I held this bill for a day until we can prepare an amendment?"

Senator Thompson: "Senator Rasmussen, I would oppose that, as would the Association of Prosecuting Attorneys. I think it is reasonable to have a limitation on the constitutional charge to this office and I favor the position represented by this bill--in the substitute form."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3151 was deferred for four bills.

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, Senate Bill No. 3222 will hold its place on tomorrow's second reading calendar.

On motion of Senator Granlund, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 2, beginning on line 36, strike all of section 3 and renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

On motion of Senator Thompson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3161 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

On motion of Senator Bluechel, Senator Haley was excused.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Granlund, does this bill still contain the authority for the issue of general obligation bonds?"

Senator Granlund: "Yes, that still is a possibility."

Senator Rasmussen: "You have in mind then, Senator Granlund, that you are going to issue general obligation bonds which will be spread over the county?"

Senator Granlund: "No, no--just the special districts that will be within the special districts lines that will be drawn. Now, this cannot come about until a public hearing to show support of having those lines drawn. No taxation, whatsoever, can come about until it has gone on the ballot."

Senator Rasmussen: "And this will be county roads and bridges in general?"

Senator Granlund: "Yes, and it could be a partnership between the city and the county, also, with the affirmation of the city council involved."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Granlund, in section 5, it says 'as authorized by the voters that the property within the district may be assessed in excess of one percent limitation for a period of one year.' Now, what I am wondering is, how can you issue forty-five year bonds and pay them back with only one-year authorization? Is there some other provision in this law that would allow that?"

Senator Granlund: "Senator Guess, I think the section that you are referring to would be a levy--a type of levy. I don't think this would be the g.o. bonds that I had spoken of earlier."

Senator Guess: "Then you could start a special project and get it started in the service districts, but then county general obligation bonds would carry the rest of the bonding costs? Is that the way it would work, Senator Granlund?"

Senator Granlund: "As I understand it, that would be one of the options. Yes."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Rasmussen moved that Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3161 be referred to the Committee on Transportation.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Zimmerman, how are you going to pay for a forty-year bond when you can only vote the special levy according to that section of the law that I quoted to Senator Granlund--for only one year? I would cite to you that it says 'in accordance with Article VII, section 2(b), and if you go to 2(b), you will find out it is a one-year levy.'"

Senator Zimmerman: "As I understand it, it is the same general obligation law that applies in terms of counties as a whole. It is not changing the general obligation law. It is merely saying that it can be applied to a limited area, but I don't think there is any difference in the way it would apply under any general obligation procedure--this particular proposal. It is simply taking a limited part of a county, which is set up with specific boundaries that then would be involved in the voting on it and the actual financing of it."

Senator Guess: "This is getting more confusing to me as we go on here. What I am trying to get over and ask you is--a special district is established--you have a vote--and you start the bond issue. The bonds will be for forty-five years, but they don't have the way of coming back or having the bond year for longer than one year. Therefore, does the rest of the county, without having voted upon this, then be saddled with picking up the general obligation bonds?"

Senator Thompson: "May I address your point, Senator Guess? The authority, under this act, does exist for special levies--voter approved. It also exists for the approval of general obligation bonds by the voters of the district to be paid for by voters--property owners of the district--not of the county as a whole."

Senator Guess: "Senator Thompson, the law is unclear to me as to the way it is drafted. The people in the special district can levy upon themselves a one-year period, but out of that--that starts the process. Then, the county authority could issue bonds up to forty years, according to the next section. The question that I am raising is--how are you going to pay for forty-year bonds with a one-year authority?"

Senator Thompson: "Because they are a greater authority than that, Senator Guess. The authority for the bonding is set forth in section 5, paragraph 2. As I read it, it is similar to the authority that exists in county government, generally, for the issuance of voter approved general obligation bonds."

Senator Guess: "O.K., it says in sub (2)--'it then has to be done in accordance with the Constitution, Article VII, Section 7, 2(b).' All right, 2(b) says that by a three-fifths vote of the people, any taxing district may authorize by law the issuance of general obligation bonds for capital purposes."

Senator Thompson: "The taxing district."

Senator Guess: "The taxing district can do that?"

Senator Thompson: "This would be a taxing district."

Senator Guess: "The payment for the special district would only come from that particular area?"

Senator Thompson: "Yes, Senator."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "Senator Thompson, calling your attention to section 4, on page 5.--'the service district may, upon receiving voter approval as provided in this section, levy and collect an excise tax on the privilege of living in its boundaries sufficient to fund its activities and facilities.' Then on lines 13, 14, 18 and 19, you provide that this tax shall be a lien on property and on line 31, it says ad valorem property tax levy. To me, an excise tax and an ad valorem tax on property are two very different kinds of animal. I would like an explanation of what this thing is. Is it an excise tax or an ad valorem tax on property?"

Senator Thompson: "Senator Clarke, I am going to yield to Senator Granlund, who has dealt with this question of the excise tax."

Senator Granlund: "Senator Clarke, if you look in your book, I believe you are looking at the original bill. We are dealing with the proposed substitute bill. The excise tax has been taken out of this bill. We are dealing with an ad valorem tax. We have struck the one section, with that amendment."

Senator Clarke: "The amendment strikes it?"

Senator Granlund: "Yes."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, further consideration of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3161 was deferred.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3124, which had been placed on third reading and deferred during the morning session.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator McManus, does the amendment in section 3 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3124, in any way, expand the authority of the Washington

Health Care Facilities Authority to issue bonds for the benefit of nursing homes or home health providers?"

Senator McManus: "Thank you, Senator Talmadge. No, it does not. We have carefully researched this since this morning and we are all in agreement now that this amendment changes the definition of the participants to include nonprofit affiliates acting on behalf of currently eligible public or private nonprofit health care providers. As with the current law, bond money can only be expended for nonprofit health care facilities, excluding nursing homes or other facilities primarily offering domiciliate care. This morning, I inadvertently referred to home health care agencies--they will not be a part of this bill. It does not include them. These organizations have to be affiliated with hospitals--basically for the most part--which are going to take advantage of these health care facilities bonds. I hope this clears that matter up."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McManus, would you tell us what affiliated groups that you have in mind that are to come under the tent of the Health Care Facilities--the Health Commission?"

Senator McManus: "Yes, I will, Senator Rasmussen. I have here a statement that has been prepared for the Office of Financial Management from the law offices of Riddell, Williams, Bullitt and Walkinshaw of Seattle, Washington. The statement reads--"The amendment to the bill was carefully worded by reference to regulations promulgated pursuant to the Securities Act of Washington, so as to make clear that the only eligible affiliated parties will be non-profit corporations which directly or indirectly control, are controlled by or under common control with the primary health care provider (See WAC 460 10A 050). This would bring in only holding companies, subsidiaries or sister corporations within the same hospital system." I hope that clarifies this matter for you."

Senator Rasmussen: "Holding companies? Would you define what holding companies you are going to bring in? Holding companies can have--as you well know--large number of affiliates. I am very curious why we should be taking in holding companies under this health care facilities--and the privilege of issuing tax exempt bonds. I know that you mean well, but I would just like to know, particularly, what holding companies that they are referring to."

Senator McManus: "As I understand it, this amendment was put in and offered by the Office of Financial Management because there are a few hospitals around that are already taking advantage and eligible to take advantage of these bonds, but that are involved in holding companies that own the hospitals or own certain groups of hospitals. I am thinking of one--probably the Virginia Mason complex, which I think, is seven or eight or nine different hospitals in a holding company. This merely clarifies that organization--that legal entity, so that they are not precluded from taking advantage of what is already legal. That is the concept."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3124.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3124, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 02; absent, 01; excused, 02.

(a) One classified staff unit per each three certificated staff units determined under subsection (3) (a), (c), and (d) of this section;

(b) One classified staff unit for each sixty full time equivalent vocational students enrolled; and

(6) The superintendent of public instruction shall distribute a maximum of $565,000 outside of the basic education allocation to school districts for fire protection districts at a rate of $1.00 per year for each student attending a school located in an unincorporated area within a fire protection district as mandated by RCW 52.36.020; a maximum of $280,000 for the 1981-82 school year, and a maximum of $285,000 for the 1982-83 school year.

(7) The general fund—state appropriation contained in this section includes all funds received by the state pursuant to Title 16, section 500, United States Code (federal forest funds) which are distributed to the general fund for the benefit of public schools in accordance with RCW 36.33.110. (8) The superintendent of public instruction may distribute a maximum of $250,000 for school district emergencies outside of the basic education allocation.

(9) Not more than ~~$(4,518,000)~~ 5,951,000 of the appropriation contained in this section shall be expended for districts which experience an enrollment decline in the 1981-82 school year from the 1980-81 base enrollment level and in the 1982-83 school year from the 1981-82 base enrollment level. The superintendent of public instruction shall distribute funds based on certificated staff units in the 1981-82 and 1982-83 school years to such districts on the basis of current school year enrollment plus one quarter of the amount of the enrollment decline from the prior school year level. The superintendent of public instruction, in ascertaining the full time equivalent enrollment under this section for any school district declining in enrollment at a rate of at least four percent, or three hundred full time equivalent students, whichever is less, from the immediately preceding school year, shall increase the enrollment as otherwise herein computed by twenty-five percent of the full time equivalent pupil enrollment loss from the previous school year.

(10) No cash balances or cash reserves of any school district may be confiscated by the state nor used as a local revenue deduction when apportionment funds from this section are distributed to school districts.

(11) The disbursements to local school districts from the appropriations in this section are subject to reductions under section 83 of this 1982 act.

Sec. 26. Section 92, chapter 340, Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 74, chapter 50, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

(b) That part of insurance benefits granted employees that are in excess of:

(i) $121 per full time equivalent staff unit in 1981-82 shall constitute a portion of the salary increase specified in LEAP Document 4: PROVIDED, That if insurance benefits granted employees in 1980-81 were in excess of $121 per full time equivalent staff unit then only that part granted to employees for 1981-82 in excess of the 1980-81 level shall constitute a portion of the salary increase specified in LEAP Document 4.

(ii) $137 per full time equivalent staff unit in 1982-83 shall constitute a portion of the salary increase specified in LEAP Document 4: PROVIDED, That if insurance benefits granted employees in 1981-82 were in excess of $137 per full time equivalent staff unit then only that part granted to employees for 1982-83 in excess of the 81-82 level shall constitute a portion of the salary increase specified in LEAP Document 4.

(c) Increments granted by school districts to certificated staff shall constitute salary increase only to the extent that the aggregate of increments granted by a district in accordance with its salary schedule exceeds the aggregate of increments which are provided pursuant to LEAP Document 1.

(8) A district shall not be in violation of this section or chapter 16, Laws of 1981, as a result of corrections to the reported staff mix data in the 1980-81, 1981-82, or 1982-83 school years as long as the average salary for the 1981-82 and 1982-83 school year, respectively, does not exceed the average salary that would have been generated through consistent application of the incorrect base salary and staff mix in the 1981-82 and 1982-83 school year, respectively.

(9) The 1982-83 salary increase shall be effective on June 30, 1983, and shall be allocated by the superintendent of public instruction as specified in LEAP Document 2.

(10) A maximum of $451,000 shall be distributed to those school districts which after May 19, 1981, and prior to December 1, 1981, incurred a contractual obligation to pay any employee or employee group a salary increase (~~during the 1982-83 school year~~) after August 31, 1982, and prior to June 30, 1983, and such obligation cannot be revoked or otherwise avoided by unilateral action of such districts: PROVIDED, That the total salary increase obligation is within the limits prescribed by LEAP Document 2: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the portion of salary increase funds provided to each qualifying district shall be distributed in the same proportion to the total provided herein as its irrevocable salary increase obligation is in proportion to the total irrevocable salary increase obligation of all qualifying districts: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the determination of revocability or avoidability of the obligation for purposes of receipt of the funds provided under this subsection shall be the sole and final determination of the state attorney general after reviewing the contract regardless of what may be determined by an arbitrator or court as to the school district's obligation to its employees.

MOTION

Senator McDermott moved that the Report of the Free Conference Committee on Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3100 be adopted.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McDermott,--'PROVIDED FURTHER, That $150,000 of this amount is transferred to the organized crime prosecution revolving fund.' Do we have that fund at the present time or is it created by this bill?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Rasmussen, I don't find it in the bill, but we do already have that fund."

Senator Rasmussen: "We just don't have any money in it?"

Senator McDermott: "This is correct."

Senator Rasmussen: "The other question for somebody that doesn't know as much as we do here on the Senate floor. It indicates that the Department of Agriculture shall not expend any state general fund moneys for the aerial spraying of hard chemicals. A hard chemical--is that something to dissolve with water or diesel fuel or is that something identified with pesticides--between hard and soft chemicals--and which is the most dangerous?"

Senator McDermott: "It is a term of art clearly understood by the Department of Agriculture and includes carbaryl, which is the main chemical that is used in fighting the gypsy moth. They understand that term."

Senator Rasmussen: "You doctors do."

Senator McDermott: "So do farmers. I see Senator Hansen with a smile on his face. He knows."

Senator Rasmussen: "The other thing is that this is only general fund money. If the federal Department of Agriculture should wish to come in and spray--I understand they are very concerned with this gypsy moth--they would be allowed to do it but not use state funds?"

Senator McDermott: "Under the new federalism, I think it is quite unlikely that the federal Department of Agriculture would begin spraying in the state of Washington."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator McDermott, under section 31--'any state employee whose annual salary'--I would just like to know, by definition, what is included as a state employee under this section? In other words, would a superintendent of a school district be included?"

Senator McDermott: "The intent of this section was to deal with those employees covered by the PERS system in the general government department. We did not intend this as a school district question, since those salaries are set by boards of directors. Most of us on this side believe that local control ought to prevail in the school districts and so we did not try and overrule the decision of school districts in terms of superintendents' salaries. It is, perhaps, something we ought to look at, but not something that we intended in this section."

Senator Patterson: "That is the reason I raised the question. There is going to be a matter of interpretation if this becomes law--as to exactly the state employees that would have their salaries reduced. I think there ought to be some clarification, because if you are suggesting that a school board has jurisdiction over the salary of superintendents--and I agree with that--I would suggest that a board of regents would have jurisdiction over the salary of their president, for example, and other administrators. I raise the question only for clarification purposes. Is your interpretation that this state employee would include a president of a college whose salary might be higher than the range established here?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes."

Senator Patterson: "Even though their salaries are established by a separate board?"

Senator McDermott: "The laws governing higher education are in Title 28B, RCW, and we make the decision about what happens to salaries in those areas. We put the money out to the universities for salaries, but there is not an established legal responsibility like school districts to set salaries for superintendents, so I would think that the president would be covered by this section."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hemstad: "Senator McDermott, I am interested in the thrust and purpose of section 32. Specifically, sub (2), of section 32--in the definition of 'lapse' which then excepts from the requirement of the lapsing of funds the appropriations in sections 2 and 3. I read sections 2 and 3 and I see that they relate to the appropriations for the house and the senate. If those funds are not lapsed, by what standards, then, will those funds that are not lapsed be able to be expended?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Hemstad, as bills come in for legislative things, whether it be for paper or paper clips--if they come in after the end of the biennium, they can be paid under this, and that is what this is really about."

Senator Hemstad: "Why wouldn't that be able to be covered in the next biennial budget?"

Senator McDermott: "Because the expenses accrued to this legislature ought to be paid out of this legislature. We will have to make another appropriation for the next biennium based upon what we expect to be spent in the next biennium."

Senator Hemstad: "Doesn't the twenty-fifth month and the opportunity for accounting back from the prior biennium cover all of that?"

Senator McDermott: "The twenty-fifth month was, basically, a revenue gimmick started in 1971. Our intention is to make the legislature solvent. This language will allow us to do that."

Senator Hemstad: "Let me speak further to the point. I don't understand why every other agency in state government appropriations will lapse, but not those of the house and senate, which I think should be considered and dealt with under the same standards as any other agency of state government."

"The only question I am left with is puzzlement as to why this specific exception for appropriations to the legislature--apparently, as I would read it then--without any standards as to how those appropriations can subsequently be used. If I am wrong in that interpretation of the meaning of this language, I would surely like to have someone clarify it for me and for anyone else that would have that same question."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator McDermott, I have a concern about the language relating to transfer authority contained in this bill. As you know, a number of us have had concerns about giving to agency heads the authority to transfer dollars between programs within that agency. Could you speak first for the reason for that transfer authority here and second, whether or not we can expect that any such transfer authority will appear here in the 1983-85 biennial budget?"

Senator McDermott: "The language appears in this bill, primarily because as we have gotten down to the last four months of this biennium, there is a little bit of money left in one program and not enough in another program and it is very difficult--in fact they are still revising the estimates on case loads in some programs in DSHS--so we gave--for this very limited four-month period--a full authority to transfer money--a very small amount of money considered the basic appropriation for the Department of Social and Health Services. There, absolutely, will not be this kind of transfer language in the next budget."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kiskaddon: "Senator McDermott, I read in the paper a while back that in California they had a med fly, and Governor Brown, at that time, sort of dragged his feet and didn't do anything about it. Finally, they ended up doing the spraying, because it was disastrous to the state. I am a little concerned as we take a look at the problem up here as to whether we may not be actually cutting off what may turn out to be something that really needs to be done in a short time.

"Could you, one hundred percent, assure me that we have alternate methods that would make sure that this problem would not get out of hand or to the point to where we are going to tie the hands of the Department and everyone to potentially use this? Are you absolutely sure that we cannot solve the problem without it?"

Senator McDermott: "I presume that is a serious question, but you know Lloyds of London wouldn't give you that kind of guarantee. There are alternative methods. I think yesterday morning's P.I. had an article about an alternative method of use of a biological agent as opposed to using the hard chemical. I think the evidence is that it is equally effective and less hazardous to human beings. I think that is the basis for this. Maybe, Senator Rinehart wants to speak on the issue. That is my basic understanding of why the people in the Ravenna area in Seattle and at least one part of Tacoma are willing to have an alternative method of use. This provision does not prevent ground spraying of hard chemicals, nor does it prevent aerial spraying of biological agents which are, apparently, equally effective on the gypsy moth."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion to adopt the Report of the Free Conference Committee on Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3100.

The motion by Senator McDermott carried and the Report of the Free Conference Committee was adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hayner: "Senator McDermott, I am still concerned about the gypsy moth. I wonder if you consulted with the Department of Agriculture before you made this decision or was it on the basis of the editorial that appeared in the P.I.--that you made the decision as to how it could be taken care of?"

Senator McDermott: "Well, I would defer to Senator Rinehart on this issue."

Senator Rinehart: "Yes, there has been consultation with the Department of Agriculture. I have attended a number of hearings on this subject. If you will notice, those words are carefully crafted, so that there are other means of handling the problem of the gypsy moth. The body of scientific information has been presented by constituents and extracted, somewhat reluctantly, from the Department. The point of contention--that means other than the aerial spraying of densely populated areas is the most rational approach. Never before has carbaryl been sprayed from the air in a densely populated area. That has been the recommendation of the Department of Agriculture and this is a response to say that is not an acceptable recommendation, but it does not rule out a number of other reasonable approaches to control the gypsy moth."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3100, as amended by the Free Conference Committee.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3100, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 28; nays, 19; absent, 00; excused, 02.

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3100, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, having received the constitutional majority was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3266, by Senators Williams, Benitz, Talmadge, Bender, Thompson, Moore, Bauer, Woody and Hurley

Modifying requirements for WPPSS executive board membership.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Williams, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3266 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3266 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Williams, the rules were suspended. Substitute Senate Bill No. 3266 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Williams, I notice that the executive board has already adopted this as part of their rules and operational procedures. What I am asking is whether it is necessary that we put it into law? In order for it to be effective in their behalf, I would like to know why it is necessary to put it into law?"

Senator Williams: "Senator, the reason for putting it into law is to insure that, at some future date, the board might change its mind and readopt different rules. There was a certain amount of consideration to allowing a member of the executive board to remain in spite of--perhaps losing an election or something like that. There was some consideration of that and the board finally did adopt rules like this. However, we feel that it is necessary to have legislation that states this, so that the board may not change its mind at some future time."

Senator Patterson: "May I continue then? Senator, is there anything wrong with the board that is set up outside the jurisdiction, basically of this legislative body, in changing their mind on their procedures once they find that something may or may not be workable? Isn't that a better way--to let that agency board do their business in the most effective way--rather than having to comply with state law? This is the point I am making. I am, basically, not in opposition, but I sometimes feel that we spend too much time trying to get into the internal workings of boards and commissions and what have you, that have been set up to carry out the state's policy. That is my only comment. I would think we should have less regulation."

Senator Williams: "In responding to the question that was raised. The reason for doing this and insuring that it happens this way is that the intent of the legislature in forming that board could be for this. Right now, that board has eleven members. Five members come from the board, three members are appointed by that board, and three members are appointed by the Governor. Without this kind of rule or legislation, it is possible that five of those members--those five inside members--could--some of them could--lose an election and so forth. If the executive board continued to allow those people to sit on the board, you would then force the legislative intent that five members have to come from that board. It would reduce that number of members. So, that is why it is necessary."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3266.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3266, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 01; absent, 01; excused, 03.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3266, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

Declaring economic development programs with nonprofit corporations to be a public purpose for cities and counties.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Thompson, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3276 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3276 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Fleming, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3276 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Fleming--Senate Bill No. 3276--will that allow the loaning of public monies--loaning the credit of the cities and counties to these economic development programs? These are nonprofit groups, are they not?"

Senator Fleming: "These are nonprofit."

Senator Rasmussen: "That would allow the counties and cities to loan the credit?"

Senator Fleming: "The counties and cities are able to aid in financial support of various nonprofit organizations, whether it is involved in housing or whatever it is. This, specifically, will allow them to participate in economic development activities."

Senator Rasmussen: "What particular organization do you have in mind?"

Senator Fleming: "Well, for instance, Pierce County and Thurston County have just formed Economic Councils, and there is the Economic Development Council of Puget Sound--and there are about eight or nine others--county-wide or multi-county economic development nonprofit organizations that are involved in marketing to bring in new businesses in the state and to diversify the economy in those areas--just as Cowlitz County and so forth."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3276.

ROLL CALL

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3442 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Talmadge, does the Judicial Council study any other methods? I understand in some countries you shake hands and say good-bye and in other countries, you take your paddle and leave--and in effect, you are up the creek without a paddle. I am not opposed to the bill, but marriage is serious and should be a binding agreement. We are making it so easy that they don't even have to appear in court--just write a letter and say 'we have agreed' and the marriage is over.

"At the times when I have appeared in court--when they have had these hearings, the court commissioner can go through fifty or a hundred of them, but at least they do have to appear in court. It gives them a little sense that they are doing something serious. Some are laughing when they come into court and are laughing when they leave. Some are sad, but it has a little effect of making them think a little bit--for maybe the next time around. I don't know what the solution is, but we are making the dissolution of marriage--what should be a sacred thing--very easy. I don't know if the Judicial Council has explored that or not."

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, I detect a question in there somewhere. I think the question is--did the Judicial Council look at this with some seriousness--and, in fact, they did. They recognize the concern that many people would express that this makes the dissolution act a little bit simpler--a little bit easier to do and would somehow encourage dissolution of marriage.

"The fact of the matter is none of those things are true. I have some confidence in the Judicial Council and, certainly, Professor Rieke, who is an expert in this subject and who was the draftsman of the original dissolution act. The fact of the matter is, out there with the twenty-eight thousand to thirty thousand dissolutions filed each and every year in this state, people are going through the ritual that you are talking about in court. Whether that makes sense to continue in cases where people are in agreement, I think not.

"We are making it serious for those people, because they have to indicate that they have agreed as to the division of property--if property is at issue. They have to agree to the custody of the children--if that is at issue. They have to agree to maintenance--if that is at issue. I think that when you start looking at those kinds of issues, it is a very, very serious process. While I agree with you as to the sacredness of the marital vow, I think this is simply a recognition that we have a court system that is being inundated by these kinds of actions. This is a little bit simpler way of handling them and I don't think it makes any kind of inducement to dissolution."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bluechel, Senator von Reichbauer was excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3442.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3442, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; nays, 02; absent, 01; excused, 01.

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3205 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Hansen, would tansy ragwort, also, be considered one of the noxious weeds?"

Senator Hansen: "Yes, tansy ragwort is a noxious weed. From the hunters that leave the coast and bring their hay over into the Blue Mountains, we now have an infestation of tansy ragwort on the east side in the Blue."

Senator Pullen: "Is it anticipated that the noxious weeds would be eradicated through spraying? Would that be the principal way?"

Senator Hansen: "Yes."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Shinpoch, I note some language in this bill that says that this fund shall not be subject to appropriation and I am just wondering in view of your consistent position in the past--that all monies collected for the state should be subject to appropriation for the purpose for which they were raised, do you have any problem with that section in this bill?"

Senator Shinpoch: "I always have problems with non-appropriated funds."

Senator Patterson: "But you are willing to go along with this one?"

Senator Shinpoch: "I wasn't indicating that I was going to vote for this bill."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bender: "Senator Hansen, I would like to discuss a little bit about the policy in tracking this bill. I would like to know why Senate Bill No. 3205 didn't go to the Transportation Committee, since it deals with increasing the vehicle license fee?"

Senator Hansen: "Senator Peterson and I had a discussion and he said it was all right as it passed out of the Agriculture Committee. He had no objection to it not coming to the Transportation Committee, since it was loaded enough. I wanted to add one other thing.

"The Sportsman's Council from the King County area helped put this bill together. When they were asked to crawl underneath their vehicles and take a look at the weeds that were picked up by their vehicles to be spread to other areas, is when they became conscious of the problem and said--'yes, we have to do something.' The Sportsman's Council out of King County is backing this bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Hansen, it does not say in here how the areas will be sprayed. Will they spray from the air?"

Senator Hansen: "It will be either air or ground spraying, whichever is most applicable to that area."

Senator Guess: "Senator Hansen, there is one other question, will they use Tordon?"

Senator Hansen: "No, they don't use Tordon."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3205, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 28; nays, 21; absent, 00; excused, 00.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

Mr. President and Fellow Senators:

In the interest of making a more deliberate decision in the Senate confirmation process, I am, respectfully, requesting being excused from roll call votes on gubernatorial appointees. After we have had a reasonable period to note the performance record on the job, I am choosing to withhold my vote, perhaps until we have seen a year or thereabout, of satisfactory work by each appointee.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Lee, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 3655 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "My question is a technical one. I think--'the ways fees are determined by most of the insurance carriers is on the usual and customary basis.' That is--what is the usual and customary fee in the community for a given procedure? Is it your intention, by this bill, to make the payment to podiatrists more than the usual and customary fee for the entire medical community for a given procedure?"

Senator Shinpoch: "Candidly, I never thought of the question and certainly was not my intent. I suspect that the fee is probably less from the podiatrist than it is with a medical doctor, but I am not sure of that. Having gone through a series of doctor and hospital bills the last portion of last year, I did not find any procedure in the hospital or medical doctor or a test requested by a medical doctor that was not paid for in full by the insurance companies--other than my deductible. Maybe the question by Senator Guess on why I have three policies--maybe this is one of the reasons--so that I can get my doctor's bills paid."

Senator McDermott: "Well, let me carry on. The reason that I asked the question is that philosophically, I think many of us have in the past endorsed the concept of nurses doing medical care or health care--which is a better term--and psychologists delivering mental health care and the broadening of the base from which people can receive health care--I think is a good general philosophy. The reason I asked the question is the cost question and that is--if there is no intention to raise the podiatrist's fee above what is usual and customary for an orthopedic surgeon or general surgeon and whoever might provide that same service--that ingrown toenail--the surgery you are describing, if that is not the intention, then I think this is a good bill. I will support it on that basis.

"But if the intention is to some way change the usual and customary fee that is paid for a particular procedure in the community, and require that insurance companies or physician associations or whatever to pay a higher fee, I think it would be a bad bill. On the basis of your answer, I am going to support the bill."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wojahn: "Senator McManus, you have talked about not providing services under this bill as being patently discriminatory. Well, according to my digest here--I always understood that Group Health Cooperative was a group of medical doctors--and I observed that under the terms of the bill that Group Health Cooperative is excluded from paying for this service and I wondered why?"

Senator McManus: "That's a very good question, Senator Wojahn. I struggled with that question myself. I had a long discussion with the people from Group Health to try and understand why we were accepting Group Health Cooperative. The only conclusion I could reach--and I am not firmly convinced on this one myself--is that Group Health Cooperative does represent a really totally closed plan. People who go into Group Health are going into it with the understanding that it is a kind of unique situation. They are prepared to do that--give and take. However, if I had my druthers, I would place Group Health in this position, as well."

Senator Wojahn: "I appreciate your answer, Senator McManus, but pursuing that just a little bit, because I am still a little confused. Under the medical service plans--and I presume they are included here--I am excluding the indemnity type companies where there is a co-pay--where you share the costs before you can even get any payment at all--you pay a threshold amount and then you pay a deductible after that.

"I could understand why podiatry would fit into that. Under your medical service plans--and apparently Group Health, also--they are semi-closed and they pay all of the costs. Under medical service and the contracts that I have seen, all costs are paid, regardless, and there is no deductible and no threshold. They don't always include everything. I think some medical service does not include medicine--some do and some don't. I am still very confused by this bill and I really don't see how I can support it without those questions being answered."

On motion of Senator McDermott, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4000 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Lee, I, too, was fascinated by the Governor's proposal to switch his sales tax on professional services over to a cash accrual basis. Could you distinguish for me the difference between this proposal and a six percent B & O tax on professional services?"

Senator Lee: "The difference between a business and occupation tax and a sales tax is considerable. A sales tax is something that is added onto a bill and is paid by a consumer. In nearly all the cases--except for the one case that Senator Bottiger mentioned--which is travel agents--these are the kinds of businesses, who in fact, bill consumers. That is a bill that goes to them and they can add on the bottom line whatever the amount of the sales tax is.

"A business and occupation tax, regardless of its rate, is something that is on the gross proceeds of a business. It is not added on as a line item, per se, to the customer. For that reason, it is something that has to come out of the overhead. If it is the kind of business, in fact, that cannot increase its prices in order to take care of that additional overhead--then, of course, we have a great problem that arises. If it can increase its prices, of course, it will do so. I think that is one of the reasons that Senator Bottiger mentioned the one that he felt was inappropriate, because it comes to a travel agent or whether it is a manufacturer's representative or anyone else--who in fact--has a commission. There isn't any way they can change that. It simply has to come out of their hide and that is always true of the business and occupation tax for that particular group of businesses."

Further debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4000.

WHEREAS, The various departments, agencies, boards, commissions, councils, bureaus, and offices of the state produce a considerable number of reports, pamphlets, manuals, and other publications; and

WHEREAS, While some of these reports, pamphlets, manuals, and publications are of value to state and local government and the public at large, a great many of those publications serve little purpose; and

WHEREAS, Only the most useful of these publications should be printed and distributed at public expense, but one report that is of considerable interest and utility to the state legislature is no longer published and distributed in a form or quantity that is useful to the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, This report is the state employee salary report of the Department of Personnel, which is now presented to the Legislature as a thick computer printout, hard to read and awkward to use instead of its previous format as a typeset volume of convenient size that was much more useable; and

WHEREAS, Only three of these computer printouts are transmitted to the Senate, making them very difficult to obtain when needed; and

WHEREAS, Fifty and four-tenths percent of all budgeted funds of state government are spent on employee salaries; and

WHEREAS, The Senate requires ready access to the information contained in the salary report of the Department of Personnel;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate of the State of Washington, That the Department of Personnel is hereby directed to publish the salary report in typeset form in a size convenient for use by people and transmit a sufficient quantity of the report to the Senate so that the members and staff may better use the information contained in it.

MOTION

On page 1, line 27, after "transmit" strike "a sufficient quantity" and insert "three hundred copies"

Senator Woody moved adoption of the following amendment to the Rasmussen amendment to the resolution:

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Shinpoch moved that further consideration of Senate Resolution No. 1983-9 be deferred.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Jones: "We have reached that limit?"

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "We have exceeded that limit."

Debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Peterson: "A parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. After the last motion, discussion has ensued. What is the procedure now? The motion by Senator Shinpoch to delay action is before us--rather than the vote on the amendment?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "That is correct."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Shinpoch to defer consideration of Senate Resolution No. 1983-9.

The motion by Senator Shinpoch failed and the Senate continued consideration of Senate Resolution No. 1983-9.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the Woody amendment to the Rasmussen amendment.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Rasmussen.

The motion by Senator Rasmussen carried and the amendment was adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Rasmussen, I have just checked and the cost of three hundred copies would be $4,000. The Department of Personnel, whose budget Senator McDermott examined--at least I am told--does not have the $4,000. Would you object if, somehow, the legislature paid for this? I am just trying to be responsible. We may be able to scrape up the money."

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, in answer to your question, the date on this letter is February 16 and it was addressed to you. You have a copy of it. This indicates and I repeat the cost--'1981, $3,038--estimated cost for this year would be $3,500.' I move that we get on with the resolution and forget this fiddling around with a few dollars that don't amount to anything in the cost of operating the state."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of Senate Resolution No. 1983-9, as amended.

The motion by Senator Rasmussen carried and the resolution, as amended, was adopted.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3497, by Senators Vognild, Guess, Wojahn, Peterson and Bender

Requiring certain propane fueled vehicles to bear a placard to that effect.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Peterson, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3497 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3497 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Peterson, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3497 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Peterson, as I read this bill, it would indicate that if you were driving a taxi or driving some other vehicle that had been reworked to take propane or natural gas, that you would have to have a placard on the car."

Senator Peterson: "You are right, Senator Rasmussen. Senator Vognild, I am sure, will answer your question in presenting the bill to us, as the prime sponsor. I would prefer to defer to Senator Vognild."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, as Chairman of the Transportation Committee, I was asking you as to what size the placard would be? You are prohibited from having them either in the rear window or windshield by the present traffic code. I am concerned with that and will move over to Senator Vognild and ask him further questions."

Senator Peterson: "Senator, this was discussed and aired in the Senate Transportation Committee. The size of the decal and the practicality will be determined by the Traffic Safety Commission."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Vognild, how much more dangerous are these liquids than gasoline? Most of the flaming car crashes that we have are caused by ruptured gas tanks and we have had many bad ones here just recently. I am wondering—it wouldn't seem to me that propane or natural gas would be as dangerous as gasoline. Propane, of course, sinks down. Natural gas goes up. Either one of them, in the ratings that I have read, are no more hazardous than gasoline for explosive power. Can you explain that?"
