FIRST DAY, FIRST SPECIAL SESSION, NOVEMBER 29, 2007

2007 1ST SPECIAL SESSION

FIRST DAY, FIRST SPECIAL SESSION*MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Thursday, November 29, 2007

The Senate of the 2007 First Special Session of the Sixtieth Legislature of the state of Washington was called to order at 8:00 a.m. by Lieutenant Governor Brad Owen, President of the Senate. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present with the exception of Senator Regala.

The Sergeant at Arms Color Guard consisting of Pages Mara Machulsky and Judi Orr, presented the Colors. Pastor Betty Hatter of City of Truth Ministries offered the prayer.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, in accordance with Article II, Section 12 (Amendment 68) of the Washington State Constitution, the Legislature adjourned its 2007 regular session April 22, 2007, the 105th day of the session; and

WHEREAS, Initiative 747, relating to limitations on property taxes was ruled unconstitutional by the Washington State Supreme Court on November 8, 2007; and

WHEREAS, local taxing districts, cities, counties and the state are in the process of adopting budgets and establishing property tax levies for the residents of our state; and

WHEREAS, property taxpayers deserve consistency in the administration and collection of taxes by all levels of government in the State of Washington;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Christine O. Gregoire, Governor of the State of Washington, by virtue of the authority vested in me by Article II, Section 12 (Amendment 68) and Article II, Section 7 of the Washington State Constitution, do hereby convene the Washington State Legislature in Special Session in the Capitol at Olympia on Thursday, November 29, 2007, at 8:00 a.m., for a period of not more than one day for the sole purpose of enacting legislation regarding limitations on and the administration of property taxes in the State of Washington.

Signed and sealed with the official seal of the state of Washington this 20th day of November, A. D., Two Thousand and Seven at Olympia, Washington.

MESSAGE FROM GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON SENATE BILL NO. 5313

April 18, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning without my approval as to Section 2, Senate Bill No. 5313 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to establishing the retirement age for members of the Washington state patrol retirement system."

This bill will help the Washington State Patrol retain its experienced troopers. When the bill was moving through the legislature, they were concerned that a trooper may turn 60 years old between July 1, 2007 the first day this bill could be effective, and the standard effective date, which is 90 days after a bill is signed into law. The Washington State Patrol has since determined that no troopers will turn 60 years old during this period of time, and that no trooper will face the mandatory retirement age prior to the effective date of this bill. The emergency clause is therefore unnecessary.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Section 2 of Senate Bill No. 5313.

With the exception of Sections 2, Senate Bill No. 5313 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE
SENATE BILL NO. 5930

May 2, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Sections 59 and 74, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5930 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to providing high quality, affordable health care to Washingtonians based on the recommendations of the blue ribbon commission on health care costs and access."

I am pleased to support Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5930, an act relating to providing high quality, affordable health care to Washingtonians based on the recommendations of the Blue Ribbon Commission on Health Care Costs and Access.

Section 59 of the bill establishes a nine-member board charged with designing and managing the Washington Health Insurance Partnership (WHP). This section duplicates a comparable board established under Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1569, which passed during the 2007 legislative session. Section 74 of this bill is an emergency clause, and would allow certain sections of the bill to become effective on July 1. Section 74 is not essential to the proper and timely implementation of the bill.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Sections 59 and 74 of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5930.

With the exception of Sections 59 and 74, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5930 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE
BILL NO. 6001

May 3, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Section 6, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6001 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to mitigating the impacts of climate change."

FIRST DAY, FIRST SPECIAL SESSION, NOVEMBER 29, 2007

2007 1ST SPECIAL SESSION

Section 6 of this bill is unnecessary. It was inserted when the bill contemplated minor adjustments to the Energy Facility Site Evaluation Council's permit process. But those adjustments were ultimately removed from the bill. The Governor currently has ample existing authority without Section 6.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Section 6 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6001.

With the exception of Section 6, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6001 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE
SENATE BILL NO. 5923

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Section 11, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5923 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to aquatic invasive species enforcement and control."

Aquatic invasive species pose significant risks to the marine and fresh waters of the state. It is imperative that we continue to prevent their introduction, as they are extremely difficult and costly to eradicate once established. This bill provides the clear policy, the compliance programs and the necessary funding to ensure our success in this effort.

However, I am vetoing Section 11 of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5923 which would permanently establish the Ballast Water Work Group and significantly expand its duties. The Work Group has been an excellent source of expertise and advice but it is not currently in the position to take on all of the responsibilities outlined in the bill. In addition, we have in place the Washington Invasive Species Council to provide policy direction, planning and coordination for addressing invasive species in the state.

I appreciate the need for cooperation and support from many stakeholders and agencies in order to succeed with this program. I understand that Director Koenings will establish advisory and technical groups, as needed, to implement this bill and will work closely with the Invasive Species Council to coordinate our state response to the threat of invasive species.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Section 11 of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5923.

With the exception of Section 11, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5923 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5108

May 8, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Sections 6 and 7, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5108 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to farmland preservation."

This bill creates the Office of Farmland Preservation. Sections 6 and 7 are overly broad and do not appear to be related to the underlying bill, as it prohibits the use of eminent domain by governmental entities for wetland mitigation purposes on agricultural land. Furthermore, if enacted, Section 6 and 7 create unintended and undesirable consequences to numerous transportation and development projects across the state, including the ability to meet state and federal permit requirements to continue dredging of the lower Columbia River.

I understand that the Army Corp of Engineers, state agencies, Port officials, local legislators and Southwest Washington families are meeting to explore alternative to condemnation for mitigation related to the Columbia Deepening Project. This is a much more productive avenue than the provisions Sections 6 and 7 provide.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Sections 6 and 7 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5108.

With the exception of Sections 6 and 7, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5108 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5320

May 8, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Section 5, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5320 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to creating an office of public guardianship as an independent agency of the judiciary."

I am a strong proponent of government management accountability and performance. To this extent, I believe we must be judicious in the creation of new boards and commissions. This bill calls for the creation of a 17 member advisory committee to the new Office of Public Guardianship.

The creation of the Office of Public Guardianship does not necessitate creating a 17 member Advisory Committee. The Office is created within the Administrative Offices of the Courts and the director is selected by, and serves at the pleasure of, the Supreme Court. These entities are capable of providing adequate oversight of the Office and performing the duties outlined in the bill for the advisory committee.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Section 5 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5320.

With the exception of Section 5, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5320 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5718

May 8, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,

FIRST DAY, FIRST SPECIAL SESSION, NOVEMBER 29, 2007
The Senate of the State of Washington

2007 1ST SPECIAL SESSION
BILL NO. 6023

Ladies and Gentlemen:

May 8, 2007

I am returning, without my approval as to Sections 15 and 16, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5718 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to penalties for engaging in the commercial sexual abuse of minors."

The language establishing funding priorities for the Prostitution Prevention and Intervention Account (Account) in sections 15 and 16 could present technical challenges if funding is ever appropriated for the specific purposes. The Account was created in 1995 and has had very little historical activity. Funding is not provided in either this legislation or in the legislative budget. The Legislature could provide specific direction when or if specific funding is ever provided.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Sections 15 and 16 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5718.

With the exception of Sections 15 and 16, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5718 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE
BILL NO. 5774

May 8, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Sections 6 and 7, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5774 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to revising background check processes."

Sections 6 and 7 of this bill establishes a work group, to be convened by the Department of Social and Health Services. The work group's responsibilities include reviewing current laws, rules and practices with respect to sharing confidential information, analyzing how state agencies use background check information to make employment decisions, and examining the need for and feasibility of verifying citizenship or immigration status of persons for whom background checks are required. The work group is to complete an interim report by December 1, 2007, and provide a final report to the Legislature and the Governor by July 1, 2008. The duties of this work group would be redundant with the work completed by the Joint Task Force on Criminal Background Check Processes, which ended two and a half years of work last December.

Furthermore, the 2007-2009 operating budget as passed by the Legislature does not contain funding to support the operations of the contemplated work group.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Sections 6 and 7 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5774.

With the exception of Sections 6 and 7, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5774 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE

To the Honorable President and Members
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Sections 9, 10, 11 and 13, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6023 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the Washington assessment of student learning."

Sections 1 through 7 of this bill provide for the adjustment of high school assessment provisions related to state high school graduation requirements. These include specific changes related to mathematics and science, as well as the addition of several alternative assessments and modifications of two other alternative assessments. Section 8 expands the provision of diagnostic assessments to assist students in developing the skills required to be demonstrated on state assessments. Section 12 creates an advisory committee to identify curricula that will assist in preparing students for the state assessment system.

Section 9 of this bill directs the State Board of Education, in consultation with the Superintendent of Public Instruction, to study, examine and recommend changes to the high school assessments in mathematics and science, focusing on replacement of the current assessments with specifically identified end-of-course assessments. The study's recommendation topics and timelines are structured to point to implementing end-of-course assessments as the predetermined outcome. For this reason, I am vetoing Section 9.

However, I am well aware of the strong legislative interest in this subject, specifically related to mathematics and science assessments. I have asked the State Board of Education to conduct a broad, objective study of end-of-course assessments. In the course of this study they will examine the various end-of-course assessment systems used by other states; their purposes; the subjects assessed and how they align with state standards, curriculum, and instruction; whether the exams are used singly or in combination with other assessments for graduation decision purposes; how the exams integrate with an entire assessment system (all grades and subject); implementation issues; costs and lessons learned. Additionally, OSPI will ask potential test vendors to provide information regarding cost and technical aspects of implementing end-of-course assessments and that information will be shared with the State Board. The State Board of Education will provide recommendations based upon their study and present the study information and recommendations by January 15, 2008.

Section 10 of this bill provides for the implementation of appeals panels in each education service district for students who have not been successful in meeting state standards through the high school assessment system. The appeals criteria specified in the legislation does not relate to the student's knowledge and skill of the state standards. Therefore, I do not support this activity. Additionally, I am concerned that such a system will not yield consistent results from appeals board to appeals board.

Section 11 of this bill sets forth the threshold for student English skills required for participation in the state assessment system, with the exception that meeting standards through the state assessment system remains a requirement for high school graduation. However, in practice, the provision of excusing students from the assessments has no effect since the federal statute sets requirements for student participation for federal accountability purposes. When the federal statutes are changed, state participation requirements will be adjusted. While this provision is well-meaning, having it in statute will be confusing to students and parents.

Section 13 of this bill is an emergency clause. I am vetoing Section 13, as the issues in this legislation do not rise to the level of an emergency that requires the immediate revision of state laws.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Sections 9, 10, 11 and 13 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6023.

With the exception of Sections 9, 10, 11 and 13, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6023 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE
SENATE BILL NO. 5841

May 9, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Sections 6 and 7, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5841 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to enhancing student learning opportunities and student achievement."

Sections 1 through 5 of this bill addresses changes to the basic education act goals and authorizes new programs to further student learning opportunities. Specifically, all day kindergarten, primary grade foundational programs, English language learners, and community learning opportunities are addressed. Each of the new programs are provided with implementing resources in the biennial operating budget.

Sections 6 and 7 of the bill, however, cannot be implemented. Those sections create a new career pathways program and a world languages supervisor within the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI). Neither the program nor the OSPI supervisor were provided with financial support in the biennial operating budget. Additionally, a proposed duty supervisor to implement memoranda of understanding with ministries of education in other countries and conduct other related activities raises concerns about proper international relations protocol.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Sections 6 and 7 of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5841.

With the exception of Section 6 and 7, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5841 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL
NO. 5955

May 9, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

2007 1ST SPECIAL SESSION

I am returning, without my approval as to Sections 3 through 6, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5955 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to educator preparation, professional development, and compensation."

Sections 3 through 6 of this bill provide for the creation of a math, science and targeted secondary reading initiative. Section 3 describes the initiative's tiered support system that provides resources and intervention to schools and districts on a grant basis depending on levels of need. Section 4 outlines specific activities. Section 5 addresses distribution of targeted assistance funds. And, Section 6 identifies certain duties of participating Education School Districts. While provisions of the initiative are well-meaning, no funding was provided for their implementation.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Sections 3 through 6 of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5955.

With the exception of Sections 3 through 6, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5955 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE
SENATE BILL NO. 6117

May 11, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Section 4, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6117 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to reclaimed water."

Section 4 of this bill would establish procedures for determining when a water reuse project would impair existing water rights, and would change the standard for mitigating any such impairment. Based on legal advice, I believe this section could have unintended consequences to existing water rights. The remainder of Section 4 of the bill would also create a new task force to address the state's water reuse program including water right impairment issues.

I have vetoed Section 4 of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6117 because of that portion of it that changes the standard for mitigating impairment of existing water rights.

Section 3 of the bill establishes new requirements for considering reclaimed water during watershed planning and land use decisions, which will eventually need to be harmonized with other statutes in order to ensure effective implementation. I believe this work is still needed and important to accomplish. Accordingly, I am directing the Department of Ecology to work with legislative leadership to address water right impairment from water reuse projects, reclaimed water planning and other issues raised in Sections 3 and 4 of the bill and to provide a report and recommendations to the Governor and appropriate standing committees of the legislature by December 31, 2007.

With the exception of Section 4, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6117 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

FIRST DAY, FIRST SPECIAL SESSION, NOVEMBER 29, 2007
PARTIAL VETO ON SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL
NO. 5790

2007 1ST SPECIAL SESSION

May 14, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Section 8, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5790 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to skill centers."

Sections 1 through 7 of this bill provide for further development of skill center programs, program access for additional students, state level coordination of the skill center program, and a funding formula for the programs.

Section 8 of this bill amends RCW 84.52.068, which specifies the amount of property tax revenues deposited into the Student Achievement Account. The Superintendent of Public Instruction is directed to ensure that skill centers receive moneys generated by skill center students.

The Student Achievement Fund was created by Initiative 728 in 2000. School districts receive allocations from this fund based on the number of students enrolled in the district. The amount to be allocated per student is specified in RCW 28A.505.220. One source of funding for this allocation is a deposit of state property tax revenues. RCW 84.52.068 specifies the amount of property tax revenues per student to deposit into the Student Achievement Fund. Because the property tax deposit is less than the total per student allocation from the Student Achievement Fund, other sources of revenue are also used to ensure full funding for the allocations.

Although the intent of Section 8 is to ensure that skill centers receive their share of the total Student Achievement Fund allocation, the provision relates to the property tax deposit only. The language of the section therefore fails to accomplish its intended goal.

For this reason, I have vetoed Section 8 of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5790.

With the exception of Section 8, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5790 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON SENATE BILL NO. 5272

May 15, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Section 7, Senate Bill No. 5272 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the administration of fuel taxes."

This bill eliminates current statutory language from state motor vehicle and special fuel tax statutes declaring that motor vehicle and special fuel taxes are imposed on the end user. It also authorizes the Governor, or the gubernatorial designee, to enter into fuel tax compact agreements with federally recognized tribes operating or licensing retail stations on reservations or trust lands.

Section 7 of the bill limits the handling loss for fuel to licensed suppliers and licensed importers. Without Section 7, fuel distributors retain the handling loss that had been available to them prior to the passage of this legislation. The handling loss allowance is provided as an offset for evaporation and shrinkage that occurs in the transfer of fuel from the terminal racks to fuel tank trucks.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Section 7 of Senate Bill No. 5272.

With the exception of Section 7, Senate Bill No. 5272 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE
BILL NO. 6099

May 15, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Sections 4 and 5, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6099 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the state route number 520 bridge replacement and HOV project."

This bill is an important step in making progress on the replacement of the State Route 520 bridge. The bill declares that the bridge should be replaced with four general purpose lanes and two high occupancy vehicle lanes. It also creates a mediation process for resolving concerns regarding community impact caused by the bridge replacement.

Section 4 of this bill permits the project's mediator to ask an engineering firm to conduct an independent review of tubes and tunnels under Lake Washington, a partial tunnel from Interstate 5 to the west end of the SR 520 bridge, and a proposal to move SR 520 from its current alignment through the Arboretum. The bill requires that the mediator submit a report to the Joint Transportation Committee and the Governor regarding the results of the independent review by September 1, 2007.

I have decided to veto Section 4 due to the permissive nature of the bill language and the insufficient amount of time available to conduct the independent design review. Instead, the contract for the mediator will require the mediator to ask an engineering firm to conduct an independent review of the three alternative designs for the project, rather than simply permitting the mediator to conduct the review. Additionally, the contract will require completing of the independent review by December 1, 2007. Mandating the review while providing additional time for the work will provide sufficient time for an engineering firm to perform a thorough review of the proposed alternative designs.

Section 5 of the legislation prohibits any on-site construction of the SR520 project. This section has good intentions, but could inadvertently prevent the Department of Transportation (Department) from moving forward on projects outside of the actual bridge replacement. While I have vetoed Section 5, I am directing the Department not to commence any bridge construction until the mitigation and finance plans are submitted to the Governor and Legislature by 2008.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Sections 4 and 5 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6099.

With the exception of Sections 4 and 5, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6099 is approved.

Respectfully,
ERIK POULSEN, 34th Legislative District

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6156

October 16, 2007

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Tom Hoemann
Secretary of the Senate
Legislative Building Room 309
416 Sid Snyder Avenue SW
Olympia, WA 98504

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Dear Mr. Hoemann:

I am returning, without my approval as to Sections 1 and 2, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6156 entitled:

On October 15, 2007, the King County Council appointed Joe McDermott to the vacancy in the 34th District of the State Senate created by the resignation of Erik Poulsen. A copy of the motion appointing Senator McDermott and the Oath of Office are attached for your convenience.

"AN ACT Relating to State Government."

Sincerely yours,
Anne Noris
Clerk of the Council

This bill allows for the creation of Community Preservation and Development Authorities, specifically creates a Pioneer Square-International District Community Preservation and Development Authority within the city of Seattle, and establishes a method for creating additional such authorities. I strongly support the efforts of local communities to influence development of their own areas and believe this is one good way to accomplish that.

KING COUNTY COUNCIL SIGNATURE REPORT
KING COUNTY, WASHINGTON

Motion 12609

Sections 1 and 2 provide the legislative intent and findings in addition to the definitions for this act. I am concerned that these sections of the bill are overly broad and may lead to unintended consequences regarding public projects across our state. I do not believe that vetoing these sections will in any way hinder the creation of the Pioneer Square-International District Community Preservation and Development Authority provided for in Section 8. If the Legislature chooses to revisit this legislation with an eye toward expanding it beyond the Pioneer Square-International District Community Preservation and Development Authority, then I will work with interested members of the Legislature to improve this act.

(2) The term "real property" shall also include a mobile home which has substantially lost its identity as a mobile unit by virtue of its being fixed in location upon land owned or leased by the owner of the mobile home and placed on a foundation (posts or blocks) with fixed pipe, connections with sewer, water, or other utilities. Senator Eide spoke in favor of the point of order.
Senator Benton spoke against the point of order.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Eide that Amendment 2 is beyond the scope and object of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6178, the President finds and rules as follows:

Substitute Senate Bill 6178 relates to providing a property tax deferral for low-income families. In so doing, the bill utilizes, among other provisions, definitions in RCW 84.36.383 to determine eligibility.

Amendment 2 changes this same RCW to add additional categories relating to medical costs in determining eligibility. While it may be permissible to change the low-income definitions or eligibility found in the substitute bill, the amendment goes beyond the object of the underlying measure by changing this definition not only for this particular measure, but also for other programs. In so doing, the amendment would impermissibly expand the coverage of the underlying bill to include programs not otherwise affected by the substitute bill.

The President therefore finds that the amendment does change the scope and object of the bill, and the point of order is well-taken."

The regular property tax levy for each taxing district other than the state may be set at the amount which would be allowed otherwise under this chapter if the regular property tax levy for the district for taxes due in prior years beginning with 1986 had been set at the full amount allowed under this chapter including any levy authorized under RCW 52.16.160 that would have been imposed but for the limitation in RCW 52.18.065, applicable upon imposition of the benefit charge under chapter 52.18 RCW. To set a regular property tax levy at the increased amount authorized under this section, a taxing district must submit an authorizing proposition to the voters for approval by a majority of the voters of the taxing district voting on the proposition. The proposition shall be voted on at an election held not more than twelve months prior to the date in which the proposed regular property tax is to be levied.

The purpose of this section is to remove the incentive for a taxing district to maintain its tax levy at the maximum level permitted under this chapter, and to protect the future levy capacity of a taxing district that reduces its tax levy below the level that it otherwise could impose under this chapter, by removing the adverse consequences to future levy capacities resulting from such levy reductions."

On page 2, line 18, at the beginning of section 3, strike "This act applies" and insert "Sections 1 and 2 of this act apply"

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "No. 747", strike the remainder of the title and insert "and requiring voter approval for the use of banked levy capacity; amending RCW 84.55.0101 and 84.55.092; reenacting and amending RCW 84.55.005; creating a new section; and declaring an emergency."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Eide: "I believe this amendment is outside the scope and object."

Senator Eide spoke in favor of the point of order.
Senator Benton spoke against the point of order.

MOTION

At 4:36 p.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate was declared to be at ease subject to the call of the President.

The Senate was called to order at 5:34 p.m. by President Owen.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Eide that Amendment 6 is beyond the scope and object of House Bill 2416, the President finds and rules as follows:

House Bill 2416 relates to providing a one percent annual limit on property tax increases. Amendment 6 would require voter approval for use of what is commonly known as banked levy capacity.

The President reminds the body that it is the text and subject matter of the bill before us which is controlling for a scope and object analysis, not the subjective intent of the various drafters. With this in mind, the President concedes that the two issues may be arguably related as a matter of policy analysis, but the bill before us enacts no law with respect to banked levy capacity.

The President therefore finds that the amendment does change the scope and object of the bill, and the point of order is well-taken.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Prentice, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 2416 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators Prentice, Benton, Carrell and Kilmer spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Senator Hargrove spoke on final passage of the bill.

Senators Kohl-Welles and Kline spoke against passage of the bill.

Senator Prentice again spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of House Bill No. 2416.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 2416 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 39; Nays, 9; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Benton, Berkey, Brandland, Brown, Carrell, Delvin, Eide, Franklin, Fraser, Hargrove, Hatfield, Haugen, Hewitt, Hobbs, Holmquist, Honeyford, Kastama, Kauffman, Keiser, Kilmer, King, Marr, McAuliffe, McCaslin, Morton, Oemig, Parlette, Pflug, Prentice, Rasmussen, Roach, Rockefeller, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Stevens, Swecker, Tom and Zarelli - 39

Voting nay: Senators Fairley, Jacobsen, Kline, Kohl-Welles, McDermott, Murray, Pridemore, Spanel and Weinstein - 9

Excused: Senator Regala - 1

HOUSE BILL NO. 2416, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, House Bill No. 2416 was immediately transmitted to the House of Representatives.

SECOND READING

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 8410, by Senators Brown and Parlette

Adjourning SINE DIE.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, the rules were suspended, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8410 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, every year at the beginning of the session we are privileged to have with us to give a welcome from this community, the Lakefair Queen. This year's Lakefair Queen is Maria Anne Noonan and she is accompanied by the 2008 Lakefair President Bob Barnes and First Vice President Jan Meyers. Also with her today we'd like to welcome in our gallery Pat Noonan, her father; Kelly Noonan, her mother; Brenna Noonan, her sister; Mariann Noonan, her grandmother; Julee Durham, a friend; and Verna Munroe a friend. Welcome to all of you. Ladies and Gentlemen please help me welcome the Lakefair Queen, Maria Noonan."

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to allow Lake Fair Queen, Maria Anne Noonan to address the Senate.

REMARKS BY MARIA ANNE NOONAN

Maria Anne Noonan: "Good afternoon ladies and gentlemen. My name is Maria Anne Noonan and I'm honored to be this year's Capital Lakefair Queen. I'd like to welcome you all and thank you. I also want to thank you for providing me with the opportunity to speak to you on such a great occasion. It is a true honor and privilege. Recently Washington State was struck with a devastating weather disaster causing a state of emergency to be declared. I've seen first hand the loss and devastation to properties, communities and families. This disaster hit me at a very personal level. Sandbagging to protect houses in my own community during the hours of the storm. Going to every store, shop, restaurant and deli noticing the donation boxes and I along with others put food and money in those at every opportunity. Later going to Rochester and cleaning up and rebuilding homes and giving a hope to the flood families was nothing less than inspirational. These experiences and opportunities made me realize how important flood control and disaster relief programs are especially to our state. During Hurricane Katrina and 9-11, we all made statements that it would be more helpful if the crisis were closer. We can not get much closer to crisis than right in your own backyard. Our state holds true to that promise by family, friends, neighbors and complete strangers rising to the occasion in reaching out. For without that more lives would have been lost. When I had the chance to help in my fire cadet program driving utility rig from scene to scene sandbagging and making sure homes were ok, I realized how important it is to help those who help us. Even as a little girl I always wanted to be a firefighter like my dad. Serving others is what my future career field is all about. Now being the age I am and having the chance to actually be involved I realize more than ever how much we're able to deal and how often we are called upon to assist others. I'm not talking about only firefighters, I'm speaking all public service groups such as the police, EMS, teachers, doctors and even senators. I believe it is important for everyone to take a moment to help their community in any way possible. We need to show our appreciation for the beautiful city that we reside in. Consequently, I want to thank you all for reaching out and making our cities even better while extending and improving our wonderful state of Washington. We're all in this together and I believe every citizen in our community can learn a lesson from you. 'Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful citizens can change the world. Indeed, it's the only thing that ever has.' This quote is stated by renowned anthropologist Margaret Mead. My hope is not only for you but for everyone else as well. Remember, dreams really do come true. Thank you again for the opportunity to present my speech. I hope you all have a wonderful year."

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Mr. Samuel Green, Washington State's Poet Laureate, who was seated at the rostrum.

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to allow Washington State Poet Laureate Samuel Green to address the Senate.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President introduced Samuel Green's wife Sally who was seated at the rostrum and Kris Tucker, the Executive Director of the Washington States Arts Commission.

REMARKS BY SAMUEL GREEN

Samuel Green: "Mr. President, members of the Senate, guests. It's such an honor to be here. I spend a great deal of my time traveling from place to place teaching poetry. You spend your's moving among your constituents keeping in touch. No doubt many of you have stopped to get a bite to eat before moving on to another meeting at some fast food place. I was doing just that once, eating Chinese food in a supermarket on the Kitsap Peninsula hoping for enough strength to get me through two classes of seventh graders when I noticed an elderly man come to the door in the arm of a much younger woman, his daughter I thought. She patted him, excuse me, she led him to a table and helped him sit down, patted him fondly on the shoulder and went off. He was wearing a tweed jacket with a handkerchief in the breast pocket and I wrote this poem of a record of what happened next.

FIRST DAY, JANUARY 14, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Brown: “Thank you Mr. President. Well, I wanted to say a big welcome to everyone. To you Mr. President, thank you for being back with again this session and to all the Senate staff both those at the rostrum and those who have been working behind the scenes to prepare the chamber for our arrival. We’re back, for better or worse. To all my forty-eight colleagues as well, welcome back. In particular to the Senators who are new with us this session, Senator King and Senator McDermott, welcome to both of you. This session will not be quite as short as the special session that you experienced with us but we hope it will be a very productive session. I just want to say on behalf of those Senators who are grappling right now in their districts with the aftermath of the storm and flood damage that our hearts go out to you and to your constituents and that we do plan to announce very soon a process, a Senate work group that all Senators will be invited to participate in. It will be headed by Senator Fraser in which we can bring our concerns and ideas forward so that we can get on top of being able to provide some assistance in this very short session. Again, welcome to all and hopes for a very productive session.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, the Senate advanced to the third order of business.

rest of the nation and the world what deliberate bodies can do and be when they come together on one accord with the cause of humanity.

STATE OF THE STATE

Governor Gregoire: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, distinguished justices of the court, honored officials, members of the Washington State Legislature, Former Governors, Tribal leaders, Local Government officials, members of the Consular Association of Washington, my fellow citizens:

The Supreme Court Justices arrived, were escorted to the Floor of the House Chamber and were introduced: Chief Justice Gerry L. Alexander, and Justices Charles W. Johnson, Barbara A. Madsen, Richard B. Sanders, Tom Chambers, Susan J. Owens, Mary Fairhurst, James Johnson and Debra Stephens.

Good evening. It is an honor once again to stand before you and talk about the state of this great state. In the past three years, we have tackled tough problems and made great progress to improve the lives of Washingtonians, and we are not done.

The State elected officials arrived, were escorted to the floor of the House and were introduced: Secretary of State Sam Reed, State Treasurer Mike Murphy, State Auditor Brian Sonntag, Attorney General Rob McKenna, Superintendent of Public Instruction Terry Bergeson, Commissioner of Public Lands Doug Sutherland and Insurance Commissioner Mike Kreidler.

I'm mindful tonight that our greatest civil rights leader -- Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. -- was born 79 years ago today. This is an especially auspicious day for me to share with you the hope and optimism I feel for Washington. A state where we know we are better because of diversity and where we value equality in the same spirit as Dr. King.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President introduced special guests present in the galleries: Former Governor Mike Lowry; Brian Cladoosby, chairman of the Swinomish Tribe; Mel Sheldon, chairman of the Tulalip Tribes; Gregory Abrahamson, vice chair of the Spokane Tribe; Pearl Capoeman-Baller, former President of the Quinault Indian National; John Landenburg, Pierce County Executive; and former Representative John Lovick, Snohomish County Sheriff.

Thank you, Reverend McKinney, for starting us off this evening with the opening prayer. We are honored to have you here.

And thank you Sarah (Samuelson) for the outstanding national anthem. I've known Sarah since she was a little girl. I'm proud of you, Sarah.

My husband Mike is with me tonight. Mike's not only a great husband, my best friend, and a great dad, he's been a great partner in the progress we have made. I'd also like to introduce Mike's mother, Mary Gregoire, his brother Denny, Denny's wife, Barb, and their family.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President introduced the members of the Consular Corps: Shauna MacNeil, Consul of Canada; Jorge Gilbert, Consul of Chile; Frank Brozovich, Consul of Croatia; Petra Walker, Consul of Germany; Helen Szablya, Consul of Hungary and Vice President of the Consular Association of Washington; Mitsunori Namba, Consul General of Japan; Chanh Kwon, Consul General of the Republic of Korea; Stephen Zirschky, Consul of Latvia; Victor Lapatinskas, Consul of Lithuania; Roberto Caldera, Acting Consul of Mexico; Kim Nesselquist, Consul of Norway; Miguel Angel Velasquez, Consul of Peru; Vladimir Volnov, Consul General of the Russian Federation; Philippe Goetschel, Consul of Switzerland; Robert Goff, Consul of Uganda; Gary Furlong, Consul General of Uzbekistan; Robert Chen, Director General, Taipei Economic and Cultural Office.

Mike has promoted children's and family literacy by visiting each of our 39 counties to read to third graders in more than 60 schools. The kids enjoy the book Mike reads -- The True Story of the Three Little Pigs. In the book, the Big Bad Wolf puts such a spin on things to defend himself. He explains that all he was doing was trying to borrow a cup of sugar for his dear old Granny's birthday cake. But the media blew everything out of proportion with all that huff, and puff, and big bad wolf stuff. Next thing you know -- the wolf will be opposed to pork barrel politics.

Governor Christine Gregoire and her husband Mike Gregoire arrived, were escorted to the Rostrum and were introduced.

Mike's other passion is helping veterans. His focus is contagious, and I believe we've passed more legislation to assist veterans than at any time in state history. Please give a hand to Mike and yourselves for all we've done to serve those who served us so bravely and so well. I've also been proud to hear Mike, a Vietnam combat veteran, remind people that it is very important to welcome home our troops, thank them, and show our respect for them. We all know the sacrifices they have made.

The flags were escorted to the rostrum by the Washington State Patrol Color Guard commanded by Sergeant John Sager. The National Anthem was sung by Sarah Samuelson. The President led the Chamber in the Pledge of Allegiance. The prayer was given by Reverend Samuel B. McKinney.

Thank you Mike. But most of all, thank you servicemen and women.

Right now, our other job is preparing for Courtney's August wedding. 'Preparing for' doesn't quite capture it. Did you know, for example, that if you go to a wedding store in Seattle, you will find 70 thick binders to leaf through just to choose the absolutely perfect wedding invitations? I looked at these binders and thought, 'couldn't we just have her text-message her friends instead?'

Reverend McKinney: "Let us pray. On this special day, O God, when we gather to hear the state address by our governor, remembering that this is also the 79th birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., we ask you blessings upon all that shall be said and done here this day and that will take place within life of this body. We pray that we will be concerned not only about the haves but the have nots in society. May we show equal concern for the least and the last and the lost and the left out and the left behind and the led down and the locked in and the locked up and the locked out in society. May this be a productive session of our legislature. May the State of Washington signal to the

Being the mother of the bride is hard work, but don't get me wrong -- it's also fun.

And lest I forget, we don't have to worry about daughter Michelle during all this. She graduated last spring and is fulfilling every parent's dream. She has a job!

In the last year, 50,000 Washington men and women served our nation in Afghanistan, Iraq, and other parts of the world. To those who returned home, we welcome you back and we thank you for your service. For those now serving, we pray for your safety and wish you God speed on your return home.

SECOND DAY, JANUARY 15, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

Sadly, 95 Washington men and women have died in combat in Afghanistan and Iraq. In the last year, Mike and I attended 16 funerals for our fallen heroes. We share the grief of their families. Please join me in a moment of silence for our servicemen and women who have died or were wounded, and for their families.

Now I would like to introduce you to some very special guests.

In the first dark days of December, the lives and livelihoods of thousands of our Southwest Washington friends and neighbors were literally washed or blown away by floods and hurricane force winds. Sadly, some lost their lives, despite the best efforts of the first responders, who were nothing short of heroic.

Amid all the pain and suffering, something remarkable happened – something that will forever touch me deeply.

In an outpouring of compassion that amazed even the most experienced emergency workers, people around Washington donated time, money, equipment, and labor to storm stricken families. To give you an idea of the kindness and generosity in our state, I invited 12 individuals tonight, who represent thousands of our friends and neighbors who responded so well in those dark and troubled times.

Elaine Lawler -- a tireless volunteer from Adna;

Lieutenant Scott Barton -- the United States Coast Guard from Port Angeles;

Debbie Campbell – executive director of the United Way of Lewis County;

Doug Jackson -- President of TransAlta in Centralia;

Specialist Erik Tollestrup -- Army National Guard from Bremerton;

Grays Harbor County Sheriff Mike Whelan;

Kim Michel – Washington Emergency Management;

Major Chris Panush -- Air National Guard from Boistfort;

Will Keepers -- Department of Transportation in Chehalis;

Sergeant Jeffery Speer -- Washington State Patrol in Chehalis;

Steve Sheary -- Line Foreman from Pacific PUD in Raymond;

Pastor Bob Rorabaugh -- Northshore Baptist Church in Bothell.

Let me also thank all the legislators in this chamber who worked so hard to help the people of their districts through this tragedy. Please join me in a heartfelt round of applause for all these Washingtonians, and the thousands just like them, who reached out to help storm victims begin to repair their shattered lives. These special people represent the compassion as well as the special spirit of Washingtonians.

Our communities in Southwest Washington have suffered a tragedy, so I'm asking this Legislature to reach out to them with some much needed help on their road to recovery. And I'm asking all Washingtonians to keep them in their thoughts and prayers, and keep up the help and support.

Of all the wonderful things I've learned as Governor, the most important is that you – the people of Washington – make our state what it is today. You have this spirit – this knack for problem solving and innovation. You don't just talk about problems; you get things done to build a better future for our families. I see it everywhere. I see it now in the rain and mud of Lewis County and the wind-ravaged landscapes of Grays Harbor.

You know, our work here in Olympia isn't nearly as hard as the work of our families at home. Raising a family. Running a business. Protecting the environment. Farming the land. Keeping loved ones safe. Getting a good job. Providing health care to the family and helping a neighbor. Those are the tough jobs. Our job here in Olympia is to offer help where needed to allow the spirit of our people to flourish.

And we are doing our job! We have rejected politics as usual, we have knocked down government barriers, and we have provided real change to help people. As a result, the state of our state is strong. By unleashing the strength of our people and staying true to our values, we will make Washington even stronger in 2008. Tonight I want to share with you and the people of Washington the successes we've had, the doors we have opened, and the work still to be done.

Just three years ago, when I came to office, Washington was struggling with $2.2 billion shortfall that threatened to halt any progress on needs from education to health care. Those were tough times, indeed. But we have met the challenges head on, made the tough decisions, and adopted fiscally prudent and economically sound policies for our families, our communities, and our future. Today, I am proud to stand before you and report that we have turned things around and made real progress.

In the past three years, we have spent wisely and carefully to give our kids a better education, make families healthier and safer, and helped bring family-wage jobs to this state. And we have done all that while turning a huge budget deficit into a huge surplus. Here in Washington, I'm proud to say our state has taken steps to equip our economy to face whatever the future holds.

The collapse of the housing market in other states is affecting the market here too. But I'd say to those folks wanting to buy a house -- our economy is strong. For those Washingtonians who are in fear of losing their homes, I'd say, let's do something about it now, and come up with ways to help keep you in your homes! And watch out for the flim-flam artists. I know of a Federal Way family who recently learned the hard way. They were approached by a so-called "mortgage rescue" company, and wound up with even higher payments and eventually lost their home. The couple was suddenly homeless, living in their car, and they had to send their three kids to relatives in another state because they couldn't care for them. Let's not leave this session without helping them and others like them.

I'll say it again. Our families have a tough job, and I am proud of the fact that we have forced government to behave just as families must do to manage their households. We have recorded a very important first – the first constitutionally protected Rainy Day Fund in Washington history. And in 2006, we set aside one of the largest budget reserves in state history. Speaking of the Rainy Day Fund – partly because of it, our bond rating was just raised. Our higher rating can lower borrowing costs for such things as schools and prisons. National rating agencies are seeing what we already know. We are making progress by spending wisely and prudently.

Speaking of our hard working families, after the Supreme Court overturned the one percent cap on annual property tax increases, I asked you to come back in special session to reinstate the cap. Thank you for your prompt action. We helped preserve the American Dream of home ownership for families all across this state!

Washington's good business climate is one of the main reasons that Fortune magazine just recently declared Washington the fourth best state in the nation to start a small business. The fact is, we have made the changes needed to dramatically turn our state's economy around and make it one of the strongest in the nation. My supplemental budget takes care to maintain our solid financial condition. I propose to spend $266 million to make people safer, protect our most vulnerable, help people pull their lives back together after the December storms, and preserve the dream of home ownership for more families. At the same time, I ask you to leave $1.2 billion in savings. Media across the state have called my budget frugal. It is. Just like families, we are making wise investments for the future and saving for less prosperous times. For too long, state government spent in the good times, and then made painful cuts when the economy slowed. We are getting off that roller coaster, and we're making progress!

I know first hand what Washington families want. When I was growing up, the restaurant where my Mom worked was going through hard times. The owner said he couldn't pay Mom – but said if she would just keep working, things would turn around and he would pay her. After a few weeks, Mom showed up for work and found the front door padlocked. The restaurant was out of business and she was out two-weeks pay and unemployed. That was a hard time for us because we were living paycheck to paycheck.

SECOND DAY, JANUARY 15, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

So I understand! I know what a steady paycheck means for Washington's hardworking families. Here in Olympia, we have helped working families by making sure government is a partner, not a barrier, to creating more good jobs in this state. Forbes magazine, the flagship of American business media, recently highlighted how we are breaking down barriers by cutting red tape and paperwork, starting one-stop licensing, and providing small business help. That's just one of the reasons Forbes now ranks us among the five best states to do business in the country!

You know, sometimes that means something as simple as talking to people in Plain English. Let me give you an example. Imagine you're sitting at your kitchen table reading the following letter from the Department of Labor and Industries. "We have been notified that you did not receive the State of Washington warrant listed on the attached Affidavit of Lost or Destroyed Warrant Request for Replacement form F242." Does anyone know what that means? Today that letter has been rewritten, and here's what it says: "Have you cashed your L&I check yet?" That's an example of our Plain Talk program where we are making government communicate in a way you and I can understand. What a concept!

Sometimes Washington businesses need a helping hand with foreign trade. I have traveled thousands of miles on trade missions to help open up markets for our products and recruit new businesses. I've put on aprons in stores from Mexico to South Korea to sell Washington cherries, French fries, and apples, and I've hoisted a glass of Washington wine to promote tourism in our wine country. Working together, we've increased exports from Washington by 50 percent. In the past 12 months, we have exported $47 billion worth of great Washington products. Here at home, I not only see our creative spirit, but we are busy nurturing it, from green industries to global health. We have thrown out the old economic-development model and moved it into communities where the next big thing just might be born tomorrow. We are seeing exciting new growth in innovative businesses -- from solar energy components in Moses Lake to medical technology in Seattle and Spokane, to carbon dioxide-free motors made in Kennewick. In Grays Harbor, local people are writing a story of innovation and regeneration with the birth of new industries. Tell me this -- back in the 1980s when the timber industry faced multiple challenges -- who would have imagined Grays Harbor County would pick itself up and make itself a center for clean energy solutions that will transform our world?

Now that's the special spirit of Washington! Washington entrepreneurs also need skilled workers. We're providing those workers through greater training and education opportunities. The bottom line: we've created 218,000 new jobs in the last three years. That, my friends, is the population of Tacoma and Moses Lake combined. The unemployment rate this year was the lowest in Washington state history. That's right -- we've gone from one of the highest unemployment rates to the lowest in just three years.

How's that for progress? To continue our progress, we must never accept the status quo. That's why I appreciated your bipartisan support in breaking a 30-year stalemate to supply water to farms, fish and communities in Eastern Washington. Thank you, folks, on both sides of the aisle. A new solution to protect the Odessa aquifer is the first major result of our work. Water tables have been dropping seven feet a year -- putting at dire risk $600 million a year in revenue and 7,500 jobs. A month ago, I reached an agreement that will provide the first significant delivery of new water in the Columbia Basin in 30 years. That's progress, and we did it together through bipartisan cooperation for the sake of Washingtonians!

I hear from working moms and dads all the time that without health care, they fear their families are just one serious injury or illness away from bankruptcy. And they're right! The wealthiest nation in the world must relieve some of this fear and suffering. But since we aren't getting the help we need from Washington, D.C., we are doing what we can ourselves -- the Washington Way.

Like providing health insurance to kids. Three years ago we were cutting health insurance for kids. We now cover 84,000 more kids and are on our way to covering all children by 2010. Thank you for your continued support to provide health insurance to kids.

Why is this so important? Because as any mom or dad knows, healthy kids do better in school and in life. And health insurance helps keep kids out of emergency rooms where costs are much higher to taxpayers. Fundamentally, it's our moral obligation to provide health care to the children of our state when their families can't provide it! Last session you approved a package of health care bills I sent to you. I am pleased to say we are seeing real results. The state's new, free drug discount card has saved more than 70,000 people an average of $33 per prescription, and an overall savings for them of more than $2 million. I hear from people all around the state about what a difference this discount card makes. People like Valerie Questad of Wenatchee are benefiting. Here is what Valerie wrote:

"Thank you, Thank you, Thank you. I got the card quickly and had to use it for another round of antibiotics today. It would have cost me $92.08 -- more than I had. But with the card I paid $13.72! I feel better already!"

When our loved ones are sick and vulnerable, we need to know they are in good hands. I am asking you to provide funding and legislation to protect our loved ones and ensure competent, qualified health care professionals are serving them. We need national criminal background checks for all out-of-state applicants who want to be licensed health care providers in Washington. We need more timely investigations of complaints against health care providers to make sure our loved ones are in safe hands. Almost 30 percent of hospitalizations among senior citizens could be prevented if you approve a new, on-line data base so doctors and pharmacists know all prescription drugs the patient is receiving. And we can address the nursing shortage in our state this year by training more nurses in hospitals to help patients and create more good, skilled nursing jobs.

Indeed, one of our biggest jobs is to make our people safe, and we're making real progress.

All of us were deeply saddened by the murder of 12 year old Zena Linnik from Tacoma last summer. I promised her parents we would act to prevent future tragedies. And act I did, in several ways.

I launched Operation Crackdown. For the first time, the state provided funding so that local law enforcement can partner with the Department of Corrections and track down and arrest sex offenders in violation of their parole. In the first two weeks alone, we arrested 50 sex offenders. I used my emergency fund to implement electronic monitoring for Level 3 sex offenders because I believe strongly that law enforcement must know where high-risk offenders are at all times. And by next year, we will have built nearly 4,000 prison beds, which represent the biggest prison expansion in state history.

At the same time, we are working very hard to keep former inmates from returning to prison through our Offender Re-entry Initiative of last year. We need to better inform Washington families about where sex offenders are living, and automatically e-mail families if a sex offender moves into their neighborhood.

We also need to expand and continue Operation Crackdown and require DNA samples from every single sex offender in our state. As Kitsap County Prosecutor Russ Hauge said, we will never be entirely free from the scourge of sexual predators. But we must -- and we will -- do everything in our power to provide law enforcement and prosecutors the support they need to protect children like 12-year-old Zena Linnik and their families.

I'm counting on approval of my proposal to improve safety on our college campuses. If we need more convincing, it came with the severe beating of a young woman on the University of Washington's Greek Row last week.

I also urge you to approve my proposal authorizing law enforcement to set up court-approved checkpoints to prevent fatalities like the 251 lives lost in 2006 to drunk driving. That's 251 preventable deaths. We can protect privacy rights and prevent drunk driving. We can join 39 other states, some of which have seen as much as a 24 percent decline in drunken driving deaths with sobriety checkpoints.

SECOND DAY, JANUARY 15, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

Wouldn't it be great if we could build more schools, not prisons?

Every child in Washington should have a chance at a good, rewarding life. And that has to start with a good education. Talk about progress! We are creating a world-class, learner-focused, seamless education system that gives our kids a chance to get a good job. Three years ago, voter-approved initiatives to cut class sizes and increase teacher pay were shelved. But when I took office, we took them off the shelf, and we're investing in smaller classes, paying more to keep and attract our great teachers, and setting high standards for our schools. The chance of a better life shouldn't be limited to those lucky or rich enough to have early learning opportunities. We've helped thousands more children attend preschool and all-day kindergarten so they get the foundation needed to succeed in school, the job, their community, and life. As parents, we already know that the most important influence on student learning is the quality of the teacher. We've invested in teacher-excellence and it's working. More than 1,800 Washington teachers now have national certification, which is recognized as the best measure of teacher effectiveness. Only four other states had more new certified teachers than Washington last year. A record number will go through the certification process this year, and next year we expect a near doubling of national certified teachers. Speaking of excellence, did you know the 2007 National Teacher of the Year is Andrea Peterson, a music teacher at Monte Cristo Elementary in Granite Falls? Andrea's success isn't only about making great music. She uses music to help kids learn English, math and other skills. She uses rap music to help students learn about the Constitution. Now, there's a teacher! And there's a woman who has Washington's special spirit of innovation!

Not everyone wants to go to college, and we are providing the opportunity for these students to flourish. Our Running Start for the Trades Program is working. By connecting motivated high-school kids to the trades, we are increasing graduation rates, preparing kids for a good career, and meeting the need for these high-demand, good-paying jobs. Kids like Ricardo Rodriguez. During high school he started attending the New Market Skills Center in Tumwater with an eye toward an apprenticeship in the building trades. Ricardo says he hated high school, but all he knew how to do was flip burgers. Now he's learning to be a builder to earn a family wage! We are helping thousands more kids succeed and making our workforce strong. In the last three years we have nearly doubled the number of apprenticeships to 14,500.

Now, that's progress!

For college-bound kids, we're opening the doors wider. We're making room. And we are making college more affordable by increasing the number of scholarships, and offering financial aid to more students. Let's make sure every young person in Washington knows that if they work hard, they will have the chance to compete with anyone, anywhere in the world, for jobs in the new global economy found right here in Washington.

As we commute to those jobs, we know our highways have big challenges. But we are making progress. At the end of 2004, just 12 highway construction projects were completed. Three years later, we have completed 128 highway construction projects – from the Tacoma Narrows Bridge to the widening project on I-405, and from a new State Route 17 Interchange in Moses Lake to new lanes to speed up traffic on State Route 543 at the Canadian Border in Bellingham. Ninety one percent of them were on time and nearly as many on budget.

It might not get the ink, but that's real progress!

The tragic bridge collapse in Minneapolis was a wake-up call to this nation. Prime exhibits in Washington are the viaduct in Seattle and the 520 bridge. We need to take them down, not leave it to Mother Nature! We have begun construction on the most vulnerable portion of the viaduct and we expect removal of the south structure within three years. I announced our plan last week to build a new 520 Bridge. It's time. There is nothing to it but to do it. And do it we will. In Spokane, people have been waiting for a new North-South Corridor. With the people of Spokane, I'm committed to finding a new way to fund that project and make it happen. And I'm working closely with Oregon Governor Ted Kulongoski to jointly build a new Columbia River Crossing between Vancouver and Portland. And we are on our way to building new ferries to ensure the safety of our ferry passengers. With our robust growth and employment, we won't solve our transportation problems overnight. Sometimes we forget that in the old days the federal government paid for 90 percent of our roads and bridges. Those days are gone.

But we're making progress to address congestion, to maintain the roads we have, and to do it all with safety utmost in mind. As we witnessed with the flooding and recent closure of I-5, we know about the dire threats posed by global warming. I believe we have a moral responsibility to protect our planet, and provide a cleaner, more sustainable world. The federal government continues to drag its feet, but we will lead. We're already driving private investment in renewable energy, energy efficiency, alternative fuels, and green buildings. We're among the fastest growing wind-power generators in the country, behind only California and Texas, and we have the largest biofuels plant in the country in Hoquiam. We are witnessing significant investments in solar manufacturing – particularly in our rural communities. Renewable Energy Corporation in Moses Lake makes a component of solar technology and employs 250 people! We're saving our planet and creating green-collar jobs. Now that's progress in a state and world that needs to reduce greenhouse gases and save our planet for our children and grandchildren.

Each of us can do our part. Small steps by a lot of people mean big change. To many of us, Puget Sound is quality of life. It's why we live here. It's also a $20 billion economic engine for our state. But toxic hot spots, storm water, leaking septic tanks, and other pollution sources are threatening it. Today we have something we didn't have three years ago -- a results-driven effort already working on the ground, and now the federal government as a new partner to begin the clean up of Puget Sound. Thank you to our delegation, especially Congressman Norm Dicks for securing $20 million in federal funding to help restore the Sound.

As I look back, and more importantly, as I look forward – I know we are making tremendous progress to keep Washington the place to thrive and raise a family. Jack Farris, President of the Washington Biomedical and Biotechnical Association, once said, "I'm working on the most exciting issues, in the most exciting place in the world, at the best time in history." I share Jack's optimism and enthusiasm, but I'd change his quote just a bit. Washington has the most remarkable people, ready for the most exciting opportunities, at any time in state history. We're come a long way, from tough times and dour prophecies, to put our state back on track toward a safe, prosperous, healthy future.

But believe me, we're not done yet! Claiming victory now would diminish the challenges ahead, and we are not going to turn back. Let's continue to work as partners with and for the great people of this state. Let's give a well-deserved rest to partisanship and politics and replace them with progress and prosperity. Let's build on the spirit of Washington's people.

God Bless you all, and God Bless the Great State of Washington."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Franklin: "Today is the approaching birthday holiday of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and I would like to say a few words to the, my colleagues and the audience about this wonderful person. There is of course little doubt in my mind that I'm standing here today and so are many of you because of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Unremitting determination, to see America live up to her full potential. As his birthday draws near I find myself reflecting on his legacy. A legacy not exclusive to any race, class, geographic region. Newsweek magazine called him and I quote 'a prophet, our own Gandhi who led the nation out of darkness of Jim Crow.' Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate these students who are sitting here in our chambers today were not here in the sixties. They too must learn about what took place that changed our nation and this is history. To me, he was a bridge builder. A modern day Moses who believed democracy transformed from thin paper to thick action. It is the greatest form of government, our democracy the longest living democracy in the world. The Martin Luther King Jr. holiday, ladies and gentlemen, serves as a reminder that through acts of service, compassion and citizen involvement, the global community benefits not just us but the global community. Groups that were once unable to benefit from America prosperity were given the opportunity to assume the American dream. We of course must keep the doors of opportunity wide open for all. For these young people who sit up in the gallery to pursue but not only to pursue but to achieve that American dream and that American dream Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen is a good paying job, education, participation and the electoral process and also home ownership, there's much, much more. It has been forty years. Forty years, it doesn't seem possible. Forty years coming this April since Dr. King left us suddenly but he left a mark on America. Dr. King even though his legacy lives on it certainly would be unwise for us to think that we have fulfilled his vision of a safe and inclusive America. We must continue to teach our children to denounce all forms of discrimination and not to be afraid to extend a hand of friendship to others who are different or perceived to be different. They must also know about the men, women and children regardless of race who sacrifice their lives during the civil rights movement in order that all of us and these young people sitting in the gallery and those of us who serve, our brave men and women, who can participate in the American dream. They must also know about all that has taken place. That is the great way to honor Dr. King not only today but everyday. As policymakers ladies and gentlemen, and my colleagues in this chamber as policy makers let us make sure the concerns of all of our citizens not just a few but all of our citizens are addressed. We must not forget service to community is a part of Dr. King's legacy. As public servants we must never forget that we are here to serve. That is what Dr. Martin Luther King was all about. It was service to the community. Together we can not only dream but we can work to accomplish our goals. We can see and participate in what Dr. King, a courageous, leader was really sacrificing his life and he did it for you and me and every day I think I'm standing on the shoulders of my forefathers, foremothers and Dr. King so let us pass it on. Let us pass it on to this generation who you look beautiful, this generation who will be tomorrow's leaders and too the brave men and women in the audience, let's pass it on. To Dr. King and the brave men and women who gave so much, who gave so much for all of us. We honor Dr. King today and we honor you for being here. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Benton: "Thank you Mr. President. I'm always moved by Senator Franklin's oratory skills and it reminded me and I just wanted to share with you the many, many wonderful speeches that Dr. King gave during his life time. There is one piece or one sentence that I've tried very hard to live my life by and whether I'm hiring someone to work for me or whether I'm helping my children choose their friends and that's this, I hope that I get at least close to right and I think we've come a long way in America and we're achieving this, I still think we have a way to go but I think it's important to remember this and it's just a great legacy that Dr. King has left and that is that we hope to someday arrive at a point in this great nation where you can judge, man or woman, paraphrasing a little bit, not by the color of their skin but by the content of their character. I think that's something that we all should strive to do. Thank you Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Prentice: "Thank you Mr. President. This is one of those times that I wish Reverend Martin Luther King were here because we are also still in some very troubled times. We need that kind of leadership, remember first of all the first message of his was a non violent message. It's so easy when you're lashed at to lash back and think of the courage that it took those people who were registering voters. He's not in the room but Senator from the thirty-seventh district was one of those, the risk of his life, he was part of the training group of those three that were buried. He drives me nuts at times but I always remember what the core of that young man is, is that, it was that early in his life he was part of that group when times were so dangerous but I think where we really would need Dr. King is now. Think about the changes that have occurred since then because this country is also worked itself up into a frenzy because the inevitability of people of my skin color eventually becoming the majority. People are lashing out and my message has always been calm down, bless them that curse you. Remember that, a soft answer still turneth away wrath, but one of the things that those of us who are here who are darker skin color also know that, this in these halls, we have been regarded by the content of our character and that's what one of the things that make me so proud to be part of this group because this is how America should be. So, we have to take into mind never forget the message that he brought to us. Thank you. Now, you also don't know that the senator from the twenty-ninth have been friends for over forty years. I know it's hard to imagine that we've been around that long but and she has never changed, she's always had that strong core. It's been a privilege to know you, Senator."

FIFTH DAY, JANUARY 18, 2008

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Shin: "Thank you Mr. President. I too rise in support of Senator Rosa Franklin in her speech. 1962 steps of the Capitol Building when he said 'I have a dream' that some day my four children will not be judged by the color of their faces but by their content of their character. From then civil rights movement started again as a result most of us today are being benefitted by. The reason I stand before you is not to thank Reverend Martin Luther King alone, I thank you very much and I remember that, but a really short announcement. As you perhaps know, last Saturday we had a, thanks to you we passed a Korean Americans American Day bill last year and first in celebration Korean Americans from all over our state from Spokane to the Vancouver to Bellingham to Seattle area all over. Three-thousand six hundred people came, assembled in the capitol rotunda. We started with honor guard, first laying of wreath to the Korean War Veterans Memorial there and we marched to the capitol building and we stood. This is what we expressed to veterans and military people, thank you for your contribution in preserving freedom for our mother land. To the legislators, thank you for allowing us to immigrate to this country, opportunity and enduring freedom. To an incredible teachers and professors, thank you for teaching our children. To business folks, thank you for giving us jobs. We came as a stranger but today we are part of a family and we want to join you serving together to pay back the blessings we have received. Was amazing celebration, the choir that was there echoed all throughout the capitol building and I want to thank those of you who participated in this ceremony also thank you especially for all of you that passed this legislation unanimously from the Senate and the House. Thus has become a law. Thank you Mr. President."

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

President Owen: "Before we move to the next order the President would like to introduce a good friend of his that is sitting up here with him today. He is Keith Renfrew. Mr. Renfrew is a community activist. He's treasurer of Washington State Mentors Board which are pioneers of mentoring in Washington State and the President happens to be the Chair or Co-Chair of the Washington State Mentors. Mr. Renfrew is also chair person of Communities of Schools program in Renton, did an incredible job there. He managed Renton Family Services which is a non-profit service organization and helped start a clothing bank in Renton. With him today is his wife Kristine Renfrew in the gallery and Tom Panella who's Deputy Director of Washington State Mentors. President is going to take kind of a little executive privilege here because tomorrow is Mentoring Day here at the capital and I would like ask my friend if he would just make a couple of comments for us with your indulgence. Mr. Renfrew."

REMARKS BY KEITH RENFREW

Keith Renfrew: "Good morning. It's really a privilege to be here this morning and I want to thank Lt. Governor, you Senators, Pages, the young students that are here, all of you, for giving me the opportunity to say a few words. I was in public education for about thirty-five years and during that time I had the opportunity to work with a number of different students. Some that were able to matriculate through the general education program with no problems, others had difficulties.

TENTH DAY, JANUARY 23, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

During that time it was my responsibility to make sure that they had an appropriate programs. There seemed to be one thing missing though as we were moving along in that process and I never could figure out what it was until the latter part of my career and I think I found at least an answer and that is mentoring. That's a one-to-one relationship with a caring adult. The particular program that I've been in they've been school based and the person meets with the young person one hour a week. You think well, one hour a week, is that enough? It seems to be and it's amazing the changes I have seen in young people in that period of time. There's no stigma of a negative nature with mentoring as with some other kinds of programs. It is all positive. I've gone into buildings where mentors are and the young people will come up to me and say 'Do you have a mentor for me?' Which we do believe that all us at some time or other have had a mentor and it's been an important thing in our lives. I had the opportunity when I was with the Renton School District to meet a person that had an impact upon me about relationships and the interesting part about it is that person probably has no idea that they had impact on me that they did. They taught about a relationship and how to develop a relationship and one of the things I'd like to do this morning is I would like to honor that person who is one of your senators, Senator Margarita Prentice. Would you join me in giving her a hand please? She didn't know that was coming. She came out and talked to me for a few minutes and I told her 'I can't talk to you because what I'm going to say to you I'm going to say in there so but thank you Margarita.' That learning about relationships and I've carried that on through my career and it's been very important and she reiterated that again out there and shows us how dedicated she really is. As mentioned, tomorrow we're going to have recognition here in the rotunda and it's going to be at 9:00 and all of you that can actually make it in there, I know you're very, very busy but if you get an opportunity please do come there. We're going to be recognizing various programs that have done an excellent job in the whole mentoring area. With that I know that I was suppose to have two minutes and I've probably exhausted my two minutes but again thank you very much for your time and attention to this. One other thing is that when mentoring comes before you one thing I ask of you, please give it your careful attention. Thank you very much."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you Mr. President. Today is Potato Day and out in the rotunda you'll enjoy Skagit Valley red potatoes. So go out and say thank you to the potato farmers and enjoy Skagit Valley red potatoes. First time we've ever done that and I think that's wonderful, so today's Potato Day in Olympia."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Haugen: "Thank you Mr. President. The part that grows the potatoes, there's also a few potato patches in the fortieth also but I want to share with you why these potatoes are so special. There are red potatoes growing in Eastern Washington and other areas of the state too. The ones that are grown in Skagit County have very red skins because of the condition of the soil, which is some of the best soil in the world. In fact, if you were to visit Skagit County you'd want to eat that soil because it's so good. But I will tell that one of the things that really heartening to us who have potatoes growing in our districts, is the fact that the Asian community has found that potatoes are also good for them so we're really delighted to see that potatoes are taking off across this world not only in Skagit Valley but also in other parts. We from the Norwegian country, from the Scandinavian countries and the Irish countries have always eaten potatoes and it is really good to see that others have become enlightened also."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Prentice: "Thank you Mr. President. I would just like to inform people that potatoes in American diets are a very good source of vitamin C. Ordinarily you don't think of that, you think of citrus or fruits but the quantities we eat potatoes in assures us that we have adequate vitamin C. In fact the absence of them often could lead to acacorabutic disease that means scurvy. Also, potatoes themselves are not fattening. It's the stuff that you put on them and French fries of course are heavily loaded with fat and salt and I will ignore the fact that you think we don't grow potatoes where I live, Mr. President."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3 This chapter applies to an anatomical gift or amendment to, revocation of, or refusal to make an anatomical gift, whenever made.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4 Subject to section 8 of this act, an anatomical gift of a donor's body or part may be made during the life of the donor in the manner provided in section 5 of this act by:

(1) The donor, if the donor is an adult or if the donor is a minor and is:

(a) Emancipated; or

(b) Authorized under state law to apply for a driver's license because the donor is at least fifteen and one-half years old;

(2) An agent of the donor, unless the power of attorney for health care or other record prohibits the agent from making an anatomical gift;

(3) A parent of the donor, if the donor is an unemancipated minor; provided, however, that an anatomical gift made pursuant to this subsection shall cease to be valid once the donor becomes either an emancipated minor or an adult; or

(4) The donor's guardian.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5 (1) A donor may make an anatomical gift:

(a) By authorizing a statement or symbol indicating that the donor has made an anatomical gift to be imprinted on the donor's driver's license or identification card;

(b) In a will;

(c) During a terminal illness or injury of the donor, by any form of communication addressed to at least two adults, at least one of whom is a disinterested witness; or

(d) As provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(2) A donor or other person authorized to make an anatomical gift under section 4 of this act may make a gift by a donor card or other record signed by the donor or other person making the gift or by authorizing that a statement or symbol indicating that the donor has made an anatomical gift be included on a donor registry. If the donor or other person is physically unable to sign a record, the record may be signed by another individual at the direction of the donor or other person and must:

TWELFTH DAY, JANUARY 25, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(a) Be witnessed by at least two adults, at least one of whom is a disinterested witness, who have signed at the request of the donor or the other person; and

(b) State that it has been signed and witnessed as provided in (a) of this subsection.

(3) Revocation, suspension, expiration, or cancellation of a driver's license or identification card through which an anatomical gift has been made does not invalidate the gift.

(4) An anatomical gift made by will takes effect upon the donor's death whether or not the will is probated. Invalidation of the will after the donor's death does not invalidate the gift.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6 (1) Subject to section 8 of this act, a donor or other person authorized to make an anatomical gift under section 4 of this act may amend or revoke an anatomical gift by:

(a) A record signed by:

(i) The donor;

(ii) The other person; or

(iii) Subject to subsection (2) of this section, another individual acting at the direction of the donor or the other person if the donor or other person is physically unable to sign; or

(b) A later-executed document of gift that amends or revokes a previous anatomical gift or portion of an anatomical gift, either expressly or by inconsistency.

(2) A record signed pursuant to subsection (1)(a)(iii) of this section must:

(a) Be witnessed by at least two adults, at least one of whom is a disinterested witness, who have signed at the request of the donor or the other person; and

(b) State that it has been signed and witnessed as provided in (a) of this subsection.

(3) Subject to section 8 of this act, a donor or other person authorized to make an anatomical gift under section 4 of this act may revoke an anatomical gift by the destruction or cancellation of the document of gift, or the portion of the document of gift used to make the gift, with the intent to revoke the gift. The donor or other person shall notify the Washington organ procurement organization of the destruction or cancellation of the document of gift for the purpose of removing the individual's name from the organ and tissue donor registry created in RCW 68.50.635 (as recodified by this act). If the Washington state organ procurement organization that is notified does not maintain a registry for Washington residents, it shall notify all Washington state procurement organizations that do maintain such a registry.

(4) A donor may amend or revoke an anatomical gift that was not made in a will by any form of communication during a terminal illness or injury addressed to at least two adults, at least one of whom is a disinterested witness.

(5) A donor who makes an anatomical gift in a will may amend or revoke the gift in the manner provided for amendment or revocation of wills or as provided in subsection (1) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7 (1) An individual may refuse to make an anatomical gift of the individual's body or part by:

(a) A record signed by:

(i) The individual; or

(ii) Subject to subsection (2) of this section, another individual acting at the direction of the individual if the individual is physically unable to sign;

(b) The individual's will, whether or not the will is admitted to probate or invalidated after the individual's death; or

(c) Any form of communication made by the individual during the individual's terminal illness or injury addressed to at least two adults, at least one of whom is a disinterested witness.

(2) A record signed pursuant to subsection (1)(a)(ii) of this section must:

(a) Be witnessed by at least two adults, at least one of whom is a disinterested witness, who have signed at the request of the individual; and

(b) State that it has been signed and witnessed as provided in (a) of this subsection.

(3) An individual who has made a refusal may amend or revoke the refusal:

(a) In the manner provided in subsection (1) of this section for making a refusal;

(b) By subsequently making an anatomical gift pursuant to section 5 of this act that is inconsistent with the refusal; or

(c) By destroying or canceling the record evidencing the refusal, or the portion of the record used to make the refusal, with the intent to revoke the refusal.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in section 8(8) of this act, in the absence of an express, contrary indication by the individual set forth in the refusal, an individual's unrevoked refusal to make an anatomical gift of the individual's body or part bars all other persons from making an anatomical gift of the individual's body or part.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8 (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (7) of this section and subject to subsection (6) of this section, in the absence of an express, contrary indication by the donor, a person other than the donor is barred from making, amending, or revoking an anatomical gift of a donor's body or part if the donor made an anatomical gift of the donor's body or part under section 5 of this act or an amendment to an anatomical gift of the donor's body or part under section 6 of this act.

(2) A donor's revocation of an anatomical gift of the donor's body or part under section 6 of this act is not a refusal and does not bar another person specified in section 4 or 9 of this act from making an anatomical gift of the donor's body or part under section 5 or 10 of this act.

(3) If a person other than the donor makes an unrevoked anatomical gift of the donor's body or part under section 5 of this act or an amendment to an anatomical gift of the donor's body or part under section 6 of this act, another person may not make, amend, or revoke the gift of the donor's body or part under section 10 of this act.

(4) A revocation of an anatomical gift of a donor's body or part under section 6 of this act by a person other than the donor does not bar another person from making an anatomical gift of the body or part under section 5 or 10 of this act.

(5) In the absence of an express, contrary indication by the donor or other person authorized to make an anatomical gift under section 4 of this act, an anatomical gift of a part is neither a refusal to give another part nor a limitation on the making of an anatomical gift of another part at a later time by the donor or another person.

(6) In the absence of an express, contrary indication by the donor or other person authorized to make an anatomical gift under section 4 of this act, an anatomical gift of a part for one or more of the permitted purposes is not a limitation on the making of an anatomical gift of the part for any of the other purposes by the donor or any other person under section 5 or 10 of this act.

(7) If a donor who is an unemancipated minor dies, a parent of the donor who is reasonably available may revoke or amend an anatomical gift of the donor's body or part.

(8) If an unemancipated minor who signed a refusal dies, a parent of the minor who is reasonably available may revoke the minor's refusal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9 (1) Subject to subsections (2) and (3) of this section and unless barred by section 7 or 8 of this act, an anatomical gift of a decedent's body or part may be made by any member of the following classes of persons who is reasonably available, in the order of priority listed:

(a) An agent of the decedent at the time of death who could have made an anatomical gift under section 4(2) of this act immediately before the decedent's death;

TWELFTH DAY, JANUARY 25, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(b) The spouse, or domestic partner registered as required by state law, of the decedent;

(c) Adult children of the decedent;

(d) Parents of the decedent;

(e) Adult siblings of the decedent;

(f) Adult grandchildren of the decedent;

(g) Grandparents of the decedent;

(h) The persons who were acting as the guardians of the person of the decedent at the time of death; and

(i) Any other person having the authority under applicable law to dispose of the decedent's body.

(2) If there is more than one member of a class listed in subsection (1)(a), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), or (h) of this section entitled to make an anatomical gift, an anatomical gift may be made by a member of the class unless that member or a person to which the gift may pass under section 11 of this act knows of an objection by another member of the class. If an objection is known, the gift may be made only by a majority of the members of the class who are reasonably available.

(3) A person may not make an anatomical gift if, at the time of the decedent's death, a person in a prior class under subsection (1) of this section is reasonably available to make or to object to the making of an anatomical gift.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10 (1) A person authorized to make an anatomical gift under section 9 of this act may make an anatomical gift by a document of gift signed by the person making the gift or by that person's oral communication that is electronically recorded or is contemporaneously reduced to a record and signed by the individual receiving the oral communication.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) of this section, an anatomical gift by a person authorized under section 9 of this act may be amended or revoked orally or in a record by any member of a prior class who is reasonably available. If more than one member of the prior class is reasonably available, the gift made by a person authorized under section 9 of this act may be:

(a) Amended only if a majority of the reasonably available members agree to the amending of the gift; or

(b) Revoked only if a majority of the reasonably available members agree to the revoking of the gift or if they are equally divided as to whether to revoke the gift.

(3) A revocation under subsection (2) of this section is effective only if, before an incision has been made to remove a part from the donor's body or before transplant procedures have begun on the recipient, the procurement organization, transplant hospital, or physician or technician knows of the revocation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11 (1) An anatomical gift may be made to the following persons named in the document of gift:

(a) For research or education: A hospital; an accredited medical school, dental school, college, or university; or an organ procurement organization;

(b) Subject to subsection (2) of this section, an individual designated by the person making the anatomical gift if the individual is the recipient of the part;

(c) An eye bank or tissue bank.

(2) If an anatomical gift to an individual under subsection (1)(b) of this section cannot be transplanted into the individual, the part passes in accordance with subsection (7) of this section in the absence of an express, contrary indication by the person making the anatomical gift.

(3) If an anatomical gift of one or more specific parts or of all parts is made in a document of gift that does not name a person described in subsection (1) of this section but identifies the purpose for which an anatomical gift may be used, the following rules apply:

(a) If the part is an eye and the gift is for the purpose of transplantation or therapy, the gift passes to the appropriate eye bank.

(b) If the part is tissue and the gift is for the purpose of transplantation or therapy, the gift passes to the appropriate tissue bank.

(c) If the part is an organ and the gift is for the purpose of transplantation or therapy, the gift passes to the appropriate organ procurement organization as custodian of the organ.

(d) If the part is an organ, an eye, or tissue and the gift is for the purpose of research or education, the gift passes to the appropriate procurement organization.

(4) For the purpose of subsection (3) of this section, if there is more than one purpose of an anatomical gift set forth in the document of gift but the purposes are not set forth in any priority, the gift must be used for transplantation or therapy, if suitable. If the gift cannot be used for transplantation or therapy, the gift may be used for research or education.

(5) If an anatomical gift of one or more specific parts is made in a document of gift that does not name a person described in subsection (1) of this section and does not identify the purpose of the gift, the gift may be used only for transplantation or therapy, and the gift passes in accordance with subsection (7) of this section.

(6) If a document of gift specifies only a general intent to make an anatomical gift by words such as "donor," "organ donor," or "body donor," or by a symbol or statement of similar import, the gift may be used only for transplantation or therapy, and the gift passes in accordance with subsection (7) of this section.

(7) For purposes of subsections (2), (5), and (6) of this section the following rules apply:

(a) If the part is an eye, the gift passes to the appropriate eye bank.

(b) If the part is tissue, the gift passes to the appropriate tissue bank.

(c) If the part is an organ, the gift passes to the appropriate organ procurement organization as custodian of the organ.

(8) An anatomical gift of an organ for transplantation or therapy, other than an anatomical gift under subsection (1)(b) of this section, passes to the organ procurement organization as custodian of the organ.

(9) If an anatomical gift does not pass pursuant to subsections (1) through (8) of this section or the decedent's body or part is not used for transplantation, therapy, research, or education, custody of the body or part passes to the person under obligation to dispose of the body or part.

(10) A person may not accept an anatomical gift if the person knows that the gift was not effectively made under section 5 or 10 of this act or if the person knows that the decedent made a refusal under section 7 of this act that was not revoked. For purposes of this subsection (10), if a person knows that an anatomical gift was made on a document of gift, the person is deemed to know of any amendment or revocation of the gift or any refusal to make an anatomical gift on the same document of gift.

(11) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (1)(b) of this section, nothing in this chapter affects the allocation of organs for transplantation or therapy.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12 (1) A document of gift need not be delivered during the donor's lifetime to be effective.

(2) Upon or after an individual's death, a person in possession of a document of gift or a refusal to make an anatomical gift with respect to the individual shall allow examination and copying of the document of gift or refusal by a person authorized to make or object to the making of an anatomical gift with respect to the individual or by a person to which the gift could pass under section 11 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13 (1) When a hospital refers an individual at or near death to a procurement organization, the organization shall make a reasonable search of the records of the department of licensing and any donor registry that it knows exists for the geographical area in which the individual resides to ascertain whether the individual has made an anatomical gift.

(2) A procurement organization must be allowed reasonable access to information in the records of the department of licensing to ascertain whether an individual at or near death is a donor.

(3) When a hospital refers an individual at or near death to a procurement organization, the organization may conduct any reasonable examination necessary to ensure the medical suitability of a part that is or could be the subject of an anatomical gift for transplantation, therapy, research, or education from a donor or a prospective donor. During the examination period, measures necessary to ensure the medical suitability of the part may not be withdrawn unless the hospital or procurement organization knows that the individual expressed a contrary intent.

(4) Unless prohibited by law other than this chapter, at any time after a donor's death, the person to which a part passes under section 11 of this act may conduct any reasonable examination necessary to ensure the medical suitability of the body or part for its intended purpose.

(5) Unless prohibited by law other than this chapter, an examination under subsection (3) or (4) of this section may include an examination of all medical records of the donor or prospective donor.

(6) Upon the death of a minor who was a donor or had signed a refusal, unless a procurement organization knows the minor is emancipated, the procurement organization shall conduct a reasonable search for the parents of the minor and provide the parents with an opportunity to revoke or amend the anatomical gift or revoke the refusal.

(7) Upon referral by a hospital under subsection (1) of this section, a procurement organization shall make a reasonable search for any person listed in section 9 of this act having priority to make an anatomical gift on behalf of a prospective donor. If a procurement organization receives information that an anatomical gift to any other person was made, amended, or revoked, it shall promptly advise the other person of all relevant information.

(8) Subject to sections 11(9), 21, and 22 of this act, the rights of the person to which a part passes under section 11 of this act are superior to the rights of all others with respect to the part. The person may accept or reject an anatomical gift in whole or in part. Subject to the terms of the document of gift and this chapter, a person that accepts an anatomical gift of an entire body may allow embalming, burial, or cremation, and use of remains in a funeral service. If the gift is of a part, the person to which the part passes under section 11 of this act, upon the death of the donor and before embalming, burial, or cremation, shall cause the part to be removed without unnecessary mutilation.

(9) Neither the physician who attends the decedent at death nor the physician who determines the time of the decedent's death may participate in the procedures for removing or transplanting a part from the decedent.

(10) A physician or technician may remove a donated part from the body of a donor that the physician or technician is qualified to remove.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14 When English is not the first language of the person or persons making, amending, revoking, or refusing anatomical gifts as defined in this act, organ procurement organizations are responsible for providing, at no cost, appropriate interpreter services or translations to such persons for the purpose of making such decisions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15 Each hospital in this state shall enter into agreements or affiliations with procurement organizations for coordination of procurement and use of anatomical gifts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16 (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) of this section, a person who, for valuable consideration, knowingly purchases or sells a part for transplantation or therapy if removal of a part from an individual is intended to occur after the individual's death is guilty of a class C felony under RCW 9A.20.010.

(2) A person may charge a reasonable amount for the removal, processing, preservation, quality control, storage, transportation, implantation, or disposal of a part.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17 A person who, in order to obtain financial gain, intentionally falsifies, forges, conceals, defaces, or obliterates a document of gift, an amendment or revocation of a document of gift, or a refusal is guilty of a class C felony under RCW 9A.20.010.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18 (1) A person who acts in accordance with this chapter or with the applicable anatomical gift law of another state, or attempts in good faith to do so, is not liable for the act in a civil action, criminal prosecution, or administrative proceeding.

(2) Neither the person making an anatomical gift nor the donor's estate is liable for any injury or damage that results from the making or use of the gift.

(3) In determining whether an anatomical gift has been made, amended, or revoked under this chapter, a person may rely upon representations of an individual listed in section 9(1)(b) through (g) of this act relating to the individual's relationship to the donor or prospective donor unless the person knows that the representation is untrue.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19 (1) A document of gift is valid if executed in accordance with:

(a) This chapter;

(b) The laws of the state or country where it was executed; or

(c) The laws of the state or country where the person making the anatomical gift was domiciled, has a place of residence, or was a national at the time the document of gift was executed.

(2) If a document of gift is valid under this section, the law of this state governs the interpretation of the document of gift.

(3) A person may presume that a document of gift or amendment of an anatomical gift is valid unless that person knows that it was not validly executed or was revoked.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20 (1) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Advance health care directive" means a power of attorney for health care or a "directive" as defined in RCW 70.122.020.

(b) "Declaration" means a record signed by a prospective donor specifying the circumstances under which a life support system may be withheld or withdrawn from the prospective donor.

(c) "Health care decision" means any decision made regarding the health care of the prospective donor.

(2) If a prospective donor has a declaration or advance health care directive, and the terms of the declaration or directive and the express or implied terms of a potential anatomical gift are in conflict with regard to the administration of measures necessary to ensure the medical suitability of a part for transplantation or therapy, the prospective donor's attending physician and the prospective donor shall confer to resolve the conflict. If the prospective donor is incapable of resolving the conflict, an agent acting under the prospective donor's declaration or directive, or, if none or the agent is not reasonably available, another person authorized by law other than this chapter to make health care decisions on behalf of the prospective donor, shall act for the donor to resolve the conflict. The conflict must be resolved as expeditiously as possible. Information relevant to the resolution of the conflict may be obtained from the appropriate procurement organization and any other person authorized to make an anatomical gift for the prospective donor under section 9 of this act. Before resolution of the conflict, measures necessary to ensure the medical suitability of the part may not be withheld or withdrawn from the prospective donor if withholding or withdrawing the measures is not contraindicated by appropriate end-of-life care.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21 (1)(a) A coroner or medical examiner shall cooperate with procurement organizations, to the extent that such cooperation does not prevent, hinder, or impede the timely investigation of death, to facilitate the opportunity to recover anatomical gifts for the purpose of transplantation or therapy. However, a coroner or medical examiner may limit the number of procurement organizations with which he or she cooperates.

(b) The coroner or medical examiner may release the initial investigative information to the tissue or organ procurement organization for the purpose of determining the suitability of the potential donor by those organizations. The information released for this purpose shall remain confidential. The coroner or medical examiner is not liable for any release of confidential information by the procurement organization.

(2)(a) Procurement organizations shall cooperate with the coroner or medical examiner to ensure the preservation of and timely transfer to the coroner or medical examiner any physical or biological evidence from a prospective donor that the procurement organization may have contact with or access to that is required by the coroner or medical examiner for the investigation of death.

(b) If the coroner or medical examiner or a designee releases a part for donation under subsection (4) of this section, the procurement organization, upon request, shall cause the physician or technician who removes the part to provide the coroner or medical examiner with a record describing the condition of the part, biopsies, residual tissue, photographs, and any other information and observations requested by the coroner or medical examiner that would assist in the investigation of death.

(3) A part may not be removed from the body of a decedent under the jurisdiction of a coroner or medical examiner for transplantation, therapy, research, or education unless the part is the subject of an anatomical gift, and has been released by the coroner or medical examiner. The body of a decedent under the jurisdiction of the coroner or medical examiner may not be delivered to a person for research or education unless the body is the subject of an anatomical gift. This subsection does not preclude a coroner or medical examiner from performing the medicolegal investigation upon the body or relevant parts of a decedent under the jurisdiction of the coroner or medical examiner.

(4) If an anatomical gift of a part from the decedent under the jurisdiction of the coroner or medical examiner has been or might be made, but the coroner or medical examiner initially believes that the recovery of the part could interfere with the postmortem investigation into the decedent's cause or manner of death, the collection of evidence, or the description, documentation, or interpretation of injuries on the body, the coroner or medical examiner may consult with the procurement organization or physician or technician designated by the procurement organization about the proposed recovery. After consultation, the coroner or medical examiner may release the part for recovery.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22 This chapter is subject to the laws of this state governing the jurisdiction of the coroner or medical examiner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23 In applying and construing this uniform act, consideration must be given to the need to promote uniformity of the law with respect to its subject matter among states that enact it.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24 This chapter modifies, limits, and supersedes the federal electronic signatures in global and national commerce act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 7001 et seq.) with respect to electronic signatures and anatomical gifts, but does not modify, limit, or supersede section 101(a) of that act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 7001), or authorize electronic delivery of any of the notices described in section 103(b) of that act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 7003(b)).

Sec. 25 RCW 1.50.010 and 1998 c 59 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Organ donor" means an individual who makes an anatomical gift as specified in (~~RCW 68.50.530(+)~~) chapter 68.-- RCW (sections 1 through 24 of this act).

(2) "Organ procurement organization" (~~means any accredited or certified organ or eye bank~~) has the same meaning as in section 2 of this act.

(3) "Person" means a person specified in (~~RCW 68.50.550~~) section 9 of this act.

Sec. 26 RCW 46.12.510 and 2003 c 94 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

An applicant for a new or renewed registration for a vehicle required to be registered under this chapter or chapter 46.16 RCW may make a donation of one dollar or more to the organ and tissue donation awareness account to promote the donation of organs and tissues under the provisions of the uniform anatomical gift act, (~~RCW 68.50.520 through 68.50.630~~) chapter 68.-- RCW (sections 1 through 24 of this act). The department shall collect the donations and credit the donations to the organ and tissue donation awareness account, created in RCW 68.50.640 (as recodified by this act). At least quarterly, the department shall transmit donations made to the organ and tissue donation awareness account to the foundation established for organ and tissue donation awareness purposes by the Washington state organ procurement organizations. All Washington state organ procurement organizations will have proportional access to these funds to conduct public education in their service areas. The donation of one or more dollars is voluntary and may be refused by the applicant. The department shall make available informational booklets or other informational sources on the importance of organ and tissue donations to applicants.

The department shall inquire of each applicant at the time the completed application is presented whether the applicant is interested in making a donation of one dollar or more and shall also specifically inform the applicant of the option for organ and tissue donations as required by RCW 46.20.113. The department shall also provide written information to each applicant volunteering to become an organ and tissue donor. The written information shall disclose that the applicant's name shall be transmitted to the organ and tissue donor registry created in RCW 68.50.635 (as recodified by this act), and that the applicant shall notify a Washington state organ procurement organization of any changes to the applicant's donor status.

All reasonable costs associated with the creation of the donation program created under this section must be paid proportionally or by other agreement by a Washington state organ procurement organization.

For the purposes of this section, "reasonable costs" and "Washington state organ procurement organization" have the same meaning as defined in (~~RCW 68.50.530~~) section 2 of this act.

MOTION

Senator Pflug moved to defer further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5657.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Benton: "Thank you Madam chair. The gentle lady from the Fifth District has made a motion that further consideration of the bill be deferred. Apparently we are debating that bill or that motion, wasn't aware that debate was allowed on a motion to defer but maybe it is. I'd like to know if we're going to continue to debate that or if we're going to actually take action on the good Senator's motion?"

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Pflug to defer further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5657.

The motion by Senator Pflug failed by voice vote.

REMARKS BY SENATOR PFLUG

Senator Pflug: "Thank you Madam President. I would like to note for the record that it was inappropriate to allow the majority to debate the motion to defer which is not a debatable motion and not to allow the minority to debate the motion to defer. Therefore, I would like to take a moment to point out that the good Senator's comments about there being nothing new in a fifteen page amendment which starts out with new section 1, new section 2, new section 3, new section 4, new section 5, new section 6, new section 7, new section 8, continues to new section 9, new section 10, new section 11, new section 12, new section 13, new section 14, new section 15, new section 16, new section 17, new section 18, new section 19, new section 20, new section 21, new section 22, new section 23, new section 24, new section 25, new section 27, new section 28, 29 30, ya, that's all the new sections and then one more amendment. That is hardly called 'not new.' Further, I would point out that while the good chair says, 'This has all been worked out; I would like to know who 'we' is. Whose we. Kemosabe because I haven't seen this before. I was unaware that anybody had an objection with the bill that was passed out earlier this week. I was not included in it. The chair has not spoken to me about this amendment or any of the discussions or any of the problems that we supposedly had. This is clearly an abuse of the process. It's clearly abuse of the good faith of the minority in allowing this bill to come forward early without due consideration of this amendment and I am extremely frustrated by that. I have no idea whether or not we should recommend adoption of this fifteen page amendment or not because we haven't seen it before. The chair's explanation was, to summarize, the people who had objections, we've worked out those objections. She didn't tell us what the objections were or how they were worked out. So the body is voting completely blind and on partisan lines here because we have no information. I think that's really poor. It's going to look really poor, I think, to the public too."

REMARKS BY SENATOR KEISER

Senator Keiser: "Thank you Madam President. well, since the good Senator from the Fifth District does not understand the bill before us or the bill that's been worked on I think it would be fine to sit down and go through it word by word and make sure that all parties understand each word and we have no confusion about this bill which will save lives because every day eighteen people die waiting for organ transplants."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PFLUG

Senator Pflug: "Thank you Madam Chair, or Madam President. I appreciate the good lady's willingness to defer action on this. I didn't appreciate the suggestion that somehow fifteen people were going to die while we debated, while we took the time to read the bill."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5657 was deferred and the bill held its place on the second reading calendar.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUEST

The President introduced Miss. Kalin Fohn, the Washington State Dairy Ambassador.

REMARKS BY KALIN FOHN

Kalin Fohn: "Honorable Lieutenant Governor, Senate members and guests: What is a dairy farmer? A dairy farmer is an executive with a corner office overlooking the lagoon, a purchasing agent in a beat up baseball cap, a personal director of cows and employees, a dietitian for animals. A production expert and a manager battling a cost price squeeze but more importantly a dairy farmer is a father and mother determined to secure the future of the dairy industry for generations to come. Washington is fortunate to have four-hundred eighty-five dedicated dairy farmers that continually provide reliable and safe dairy products. Our dairy farmers directly employ twelve thousand, six-hundred and fifty individuals and contribute 1.5 billion dollars to the economic output annually. Farmers don't

NEW SECTION. Sec. 37 (1) Subject to section 8 of this act, a donor or other person authorized to make an anatomical gift under section 4 of this act may amend or revoke an anatomical gift by:

(a) A record signed by:

(b) State that it has been signed and witnessed as provided in (a) of this subsection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 39 (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (7) of this section and subject to subsection (6) of this section, in the absence of an express, contrary indication by the donor, a person other than the donor is barred from making, amending, or revoking an anatomical gift of a donor's body or part if the donor made an anatomical gift of the donor's body or part under section 5 of this act or an amendment to an anatomical gift of the donor's body or part under section 6 of this act.

(3) If a person other than the donor makes an unrevoked anatomical gift of the donor's body or part under section 5 of this act or an amendment to an anatomical gift of the donor's body or part under section 6 of this act, another person may not make, amend, or revoke the gift of the donor's body or part under section 10 of this act.

(4) A revocation of an anatomical gift of a donor's body or part under section 6 of this act by a person other than the donor does not bar another person from making an anatomical gift of the body or part under section 5 or 10 of this act.

(5) In the absence of an express, contrary indication by the donor or other person authorized to make an anatomical gift under section 4 of this act, an anatomical gift of a part is neither a refusal to give another part nor a limitation on the making of an anatomical gift of another part at a later time by the donor or another person.

(6) In the absence of an express, contrary indication by the donor or other person authorized to make an anatomical gift under section 4 of this act, an anatomical gift of a part for one or more of the permitted purposes is not a limitation on the making of an anatomical gift of the part for any of the other purposes by the donor or any other person under section 5 or 10 of this act.

(7) If a donor who is an unemancipated minor dies, a parent of the donor who is reasonably available may revoke or amend an anatomical gift of the donor's body or part.

(8) If an unemancipated minor who signed a refusal dies, a parent of the minor who is reasonably available may revoke the minor's refusal.

(2) If there is more than one member of a class listed in subsection (1)(a), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), or (h) of this section entitled to make an anatomical gift, an anatomical gift may be made by a member of the class unless that member or a person to which the gift may pass under section 11 of this act knows of an objection by another member of the class. If an objection is known, the gift may be made only by a majority of the members of the class who are reasonably available.

(3) A person may not make an anatomical gift if, at the time of the decedent's death, a person in a prior class under subsection (1) of this section is reasonably available to make or to object to the making of an anatomical gift.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 41 (1) A person authorized to make an anatomical gift under section 9 of this act may make an anatomical gift by a document of gift signed by the person making the gift or by that person's oral communication that is electronically recorded or is contemporaneously reduced to a record and signed by the individual receiving the oral communication.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) of this section, an anatomical gift by a person authorized under section 9 of this act may be amended or revoked orally or in a record by any member of a prior class who is reasonably available. If more than one member of the prior class is reasonably available, the gift made by a person authorized under section 9 of this act may be:

(a) Amended only if a majority of the reasonably available members agree to the amending of the gift; or

(b) Revoked only if a majority of the reasonably available members agree to the revoking of the gift or if they are equally divided as to whether to revoke the gift.

(3) A revocation under subsection (2) of this section is effective only if, before an incision has been made to remove a part from the donor's body or before transplant procedures have begun on the recipient, the procurement organization, transplant hospital, or physician or technician knows of the revocation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 42 (1) An anatomical gift may be made to the following persons named in the document of gift:

(a) For research or education: A hospital; an accredited medical school, dental school, college, or university; or an organ procurement organization;

(2) If an anatomical gift to an individual under subsection (1)(b) of this section cannot be transplanted into the individual, the part passes in accordance with subsection (7) of this section in the absence of an express, contrary indication by the person making the anatomical gift.

(3) If an anatomical gift of one or more specific parts or of all parts is made in a document of gift that does not name a person described in subsection (1) of this section but identifies the purpose for which an anatomical gift may be used, the following rules apply:

(a) If the part is an eye and the gift is for the purpose of transplantation or therapy, the gift passes to the appropriate eye bank.

(b) If the part is tissue and the gift is for the purpose of transplantation or therapy, the gift passes to the appropriate tissue bank.

(c) If the part is an organ and the gift is for the purpose of transplantation or therapy, the gift passes to the appropriate organ procurement organization as custodian of the organ.

(d) If the part is an organ, an eye, or tissue and the gift is for the purpose of research or education, the gift passes to the appropriate procurement organization.

(4) For the purpose of subsection (3) of this section, if there is more than one purpose of an anatomical gift set forth in the document of gift but the purposes are not set forth in any priority, the gift must be used for transplantation or therapy, if suitable. If the gift cannot be used for transplantation or therapy, the gift may be used for research or education.

(5) If an anatomical gift of one or more specific parts is made in a document of gift that does not name a person described in subsection (1) of this section and does not identify the purpose of the gift, the gift may be used only for transplantation or therapy, and the gift passes in accordance with subsection (7) of this section.

(6) If a document of gift specifies only a general intent to make an anatomical gift by words such as "donor," "organ donor," or "body donor," or by a symbol or statement of similar import, the gift may be used only for transplantation or therapy, and the gift passes in accordance with subsection (7) of this section.

(7) For purposes of subsections (2), (5), and (6) of this section the following rules apply:

(a) If the part is an eye, the gift passes to the appropriate eye bank.

(b) If the part is tissue, the gift passes to the appropriate tissue bank.

(c) If the part is an organ, the gift passes to the appropriate organ procurement organization as custodian of the organ.

(8) An anatomical gift of an organ for transplantation or therapy, other than an anatomical gift under subsection (1)(b) of this section, passes to the organ procurement organization as custodian of the organ.

(9) If an anatomical gift does not pass pursuant to subsections (1) through (8) of this section or the decedent's body or part is not used for transplantation, therapy, research, or education, custody of the body or part passes to the person under obligation to dispose of the body or part.

(10) A person may not accept an anatomical gift if the person knows that the gift was not effectively made under section 5 or 10 of this act or if the person knows that the decedent made a refusal under section 7 of this act that was not revoked. For purposes of this subsection (10), if a person knows that an anatomical gift was made on a document of gift, the person is deemed to know of any amendment or revocation of the gift or any refusal to make an anatomical gift on the same document of gift.

(11) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (1)(b) of this section, nothing in this chapter affects the allocation of organs for transplantation or therapy.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 43 (1) A document of gift need not be delivered during the donor's lifetime to be effective.

(2) Upon or after an individual's death, a person in possession of a document of gift or a refusal to make an anatomical gift with respect to the individual shall allow examination and copying of the document of gift or refusal by a person authorized to make or object to the making of an anatomical gift with respect to the individual or by a person to which the gift could pass under section 11 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 44 (1) When a hospital refers an individual at or near death to a procurement organization, the organization shall make a reasonable search of the records of the department of licensing and any donor registry that it knows exists for the geographical area in which the individual resides to ascertain whether the individual has made an anatomical gift.

(2) A procurement organization must be allowed reasonable access to information in the records of the department of licensing to ascertain whether an individual at or near death is a donor.

(3) When a hospital refers an individual at or near death to a procurement organization, the organization may conduct any reasonable examination necessary to ensure the medical suitability of a part that is or could be the subject of an anatomical gift for transplantation, therapy, research, or education from a donor or a prospective donor. During the examination period, measures necessary to ensure the medical suitability of the part may not be withdrawn unless the hospital or procurement organization knows that the individual expressed a contrary intent.

(4) Unless prohibited by law other than this chapter, at any time after a donor's death, the person to which a part passes under section 11 of this act may conduct any reasonable examination necessary to ensure the medical suitability of the body or part for its intended purpose.

(5) Unless prohibited by law other than this chapter, an examination under subsection (3) or (4) of this section may include an examination of all medical records of the donor or prospective donor.

(6) Upon the death of a minor who was a donor or had signed a refusal, unless a procurement organization knows the minor is emancipated, the procurement organization shall conduct a reasonable search for the parents of the minor and provide the parents with an opportunity to revoke or amend the anatomical gift or revoke the refusal.

(7) Upon referral by a hospital under subsection (1) of this section, a procurement organization shall make a reasonable search for any person listed in section 9 of this act having priority to make an anatomical gift on behalf of a prospective donor. If a procurement organization receives information that an anatomical gift to any other person was made, amended, or revoked, it shall promptly advise the other person of all relevant information.

(8) Subject to sections 11(9), 21, and 22 of this act, the rights of the person to which a part passes under section 11 of this act are superior to the rights of all others with respect to the part. The person may accept or reject an anatomical gift in whole or in part. Subject to the terms of the document of gift and this chapter, a person that accepts an anatomical gift of an entire body may allow embalming, burial, or cremation, and use of remains in a funeral service. If the gift is of a part, the person to which the part passes under section 11 of this act, upon the death of the donor and before embalming, burial, or cremation, shall cause the part to be removed without unnecessary mutilation.

(9) Neither the physician who attends the decedent at death nor the physician who determines the time of the decedent's death may participate in the procedures for removing or transplanting a part from the decedent.

(10) A physician or technician may remove a donated part from the body of a donor that the physician or technician is qualified to remove.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 45 When English is not the first language of the person or persons making, amending, revoking, or refusing anatomical gifts as defined in this act, organ procurement organizations are responsible for providing, at no cost, appropriate interpreter services or translations to such persons for the purpose of making such decisions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 46 Each hospital in this state shall enter into agreements or affiliations with procurement organizations for coordination of procurement and use of anatomical gifts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 47 (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) of this section, a person who, for valuable consideration, knowingly purchases or sells a part for transplantation or therapy if removal of a part from an individual is intended to occur after the individual's death is guilty of a class C felony under RCW 9A.20.010.

(2) A person may charge a reasonable amount for the removal, processing, preservation, quality control, storage, transportation, implantation, or disposal of a part.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 48 A person who, in order to obtain financial gain, intentionally falsifies, forges, conceals, defaces, or obliterates a document of gift, an amendment or revocation of a document of gift, or a refusal is guilty of a class C felony under RCW 9A.20.010.

2008 REGULAR SESSION

NEW SECTION. Sec. 49 (1) A person who acts in accordance with this chapter or with the applicable anatomical gift law of another state, or attempts in good faith to do so, is not liable for the act in a civil action, criminal prosecution, or administrative proceeding.

(2) Neither the person making an anatomical gift nor the donor's estate is liable for any injury or damage that results from the making or use of the gift.

(3) In determining whether an anatomical gift has been made, amended, or revoked under this chapter, a person may rely upon representations of an individual listed in section 9(1)(b) through (g) of this act relating to the individual's relationship to the donor or prospective donor unless the person knows that the representation is untrue.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 50 (1) A document of gift is valid if executed in accordance with:

(a) This chapter;

(b) The laws of the state or country where it was executed;

or

(c) The laws of the state or country where the person making the anatomical gift was domiciled, has a place of residence, or was a national at the time the document of gift was executed.

(2) If a document of gift is valid under this section, the law of this state governs the interpretation of the document of gift.

(3) A person may presume that a document of gift or amendment of an anatomical gift is valid unless that person knows that it was not validly executed or was revoked.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 51 (1) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Advance health care directive" means a power of attorney for health care or a "directive" as defined in RCW 70.122.020.

(b) "Declaration" means a record signed by a prospective donor specifying the circumstances under which a life support system may be withheld or withdrawn from the prospective donor.

(c) "Health care decision" means any decision made regarding the health care of the prospective donor.

(2) If a prospective donor has a declaration or advance health care directive, and the terms of the declaration or directive and the express or implied terms of a potential anatomical gift are in conflict with regard to the administration of measures necessary to ensure the medical suitability of a part for transplantation or therapy, the prospective donor's attending physician and the prospective donor shall confer to resolve the conflict. If the prospective donor is incapable of resolving the conflict, an agent acting under the prospective donor's declaration or directive, or, if none or the agent is not reasonably available, another person authorized by law other than this chapter to make health care decisions on behalf of the prospective donor, shall act for the donor to resolve the conflict. The conflict must be resolved as expeditiously as possible. Information relevant to the resolution of the conflict may be obtained from the appropriate procurement organization and any other person authorized to make an anatomical gift for the prospective donor under section 9 of this act. Before resolution of the conflict, measures necessary to ensure the medical suitability of the part may not be withheld or withdrawn from the prospective donor if withholding or withdrawing the measures is not contraindicated by appropriate end-of-life care.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 52 (1)(a) A coroner or medical examiner shall cooperate with procurement organizations, to the extent that such cooperation does not prevent, hinder, or impede the timely investigation of death, to facilitate the opportunity to recover anatomical gifts for the purpose of transplantation or therapy. However, a coroner or medical examiner may limit the number of procurement organizations with which he or she cooperates.

(b) The coroner or medical examiner may release the initial investigative information to the tissue or organ procurement organization for the purpose of determining the suitability of the potential donor by those organizations. The information released for this purpose shall remain confidential. The coroner or medical examiner is not liable for any release of confidential information by the procurement organization.

(2)(a) Procurement organizations shall cooperate with the coroner or medical examiner to ensure the preservation of and timely transfer to the coroner or medical examiner any physical or biological evidence from a prospective donor that the procurement organization may have contact with or access to that is required by the coroner or medical examiner for the investigation of death.

(b) If the coroner or medical examiner or a designee releases a part for donation under subsection (4) of this section, the procurement organization, upon request, shall cause the physician or technician who removes the part to provide the coroner or medical examiner with a record describing the condition of the part, biopsies, residual tissue, photographs, and any other information and observations requested by the coroner or medical examiner that would assist in the investigation of death.

(3) A part may not be removed from the body of a decedent under the jurisdiction of a coroner or medical examiner for transplantation, therapy, research, or education unless the part is the subject of an anatomical gift, and has been released by the coroner or medical examiner. The body of a decedent under the jurisdiction of the coroner or medical examiner may not be delivered to a person for research or education unless the body is the subject of an anatomical gift. This subsection does not preclude a coroner or medical examiner from performing the medicolegal investigation upon the body or relevant parts of a decedent under the jurisdiction of the coroner or medical examiner.

(4) If an anatomical gift of a part from the decedent under the jurisdiction of the coroner or medical examiner has been or might be made, but the coroner or medical examiner initially believes that the recovery of the part could interfere with the postmortem investigation into the decedent's cause or manner of death, the collection of evidence, or the description, documentation, or interpretation of injuries on the body, the coroner or medical examiner may consult with the procurement organization or physician or technician designated by the procurement organization about the proposed recovery. After consultation, the coroner or medical examiner may release the part for recovery.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 53 This chapter is subject to the laws of this state governing the jurisdiction of the coroner or medical examiner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 54 In applying and construing this uniform act, consideration must be given to the need to promote uniformity of the law with respect to its subject matter among states that enact it.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 55 This chapter modifies, limits, and supersedes the federal electronic signatures in global and national commerce act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 7001 et seq.) with respect to electronic signatures and anatomical gifts, but does not modify, limit, or supersede section 101(a) of that act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 7001), or authorize electronic delivery of any of the notices described in section 103(b) of that act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 7003(b)).

The written information shall disclose that the applicant's name shall be transmitted to the organ and tissue donor registry created in RCW 68.50.635 (as recodified by this act), and that the applicant shall notify a Washington state organ procurement organization of any changes to the applicant's donor status.

All reasonable costs associated with the creation of the donation program created under this section must be paid proportionally or by other agreement by a Washington state organ procurement organization.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, the Senate advanced to the seventh order of business.

THIRD READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5261, by Senate Committee on Health & Long-Term Care (originally sponsored by Senators Keiser, Franklin, Kohl-Welles, Fairley and Kline).

Granting the insurance commissioner the authority to review individual health benefit plan rates.

The bill was read on Third Reading.

Senator Keiser spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Schoesler: "Recently the voters enacted Initiative 960 which requires OFM to perform fiscal analysis and provide public notice on measures which impose taxes or fees. This measure allows the Insurance Commissioner to increase health benefit plan rates. Regardless of whether this authority characterizes a tax or fee, this language should trigger OFM's duties under I-960. It is true that this measure was introduced last year prior to the enactment of I-960. I-960 requires, however, OFM to perform fiscal analysis and provide public notice at key points along the legislature's consideration of a tax or fee measure. This present floor action certainly could qualify as one of these key points. Because OFM has not provided proper fiscal analysis and public notice on this measure, I believe that the bill is not properly before us and I respectfully request a ruling thereon."

Senate Brown spoke against the parliamentary inquiry.

MOTION

At 10:47 a.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate was declared to be at ease subject to the call of the President.

The Senate was called to order at 11:44 a.m. by President Owen.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling on the inquiry raised by Senator Schoesler as to the application of Initiative Number 960 to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 5261, the President finds and rules as follows:

I-960 contains many provisions, but, for purposes of my analysis, its major sections may be properly segregated as conferring obligations on two branches of government: First, the Office of Financial Management, as part of the executive branch, is charged with providing certain fiscal analysis and public notice when a bill imposes a tax or a fee. Second, I-960 imposes certain obligations upon the Legislature, requiring supermajority votes on and referral to the voters of particular measures under certain circumstances relating to the imposition of tax increases. In this particular case, Senator Schoesler is challenging OFM's determination that this measure is neither a tax nor a fee, and therefore those provisions of I-960 which require OFM to perform fiscal analysis and provide public notice are not triggered.

The President reminds the body that he provides parliamentary rulings, not legal advice. While the President can properly rule on those provisions of I-960 which affect this body and the votes required for a particular measure under consideration, he has no authority to decide the propriety of actions taken by coordinate branches of government. The President renders no opinion as to whether OFM should have applied the mandates of I-960 to this particular bill; instead, under long-established precedent with respect to comity, he defers to OFM's judgment that it has complied with its obligations under I-960. It is not the role of the presiding officer to second-guess the legal judgments of another branch of government.

The President wishes to make clear that he is deferring to OFM's judgment only with respect to its determination of its own duties under I-960; he reserves the right to independently determine whether a measure is a tax or fee for purposes of the ultimate vote needed in this chamber, and need not defer to OFM's prior opinion on this subject with respect to such a ruling. In such a case, his judgment will be independent from that of OFM, and he will analyze each measure on its own merits, irrespective of prior OFM action.

In this particular case, Senator Schoesler's inquiry related to whether or not OFM should have provided fiscal analysis and public notice under I-960. Because it is not the President's role to make a determination as to the legal obligations of a coordinate branch of government, the President finds that this measure is properly before the body for consideration, and Senator Schoesler's point is not well-taken."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5261.

Senators Pflug, Roach, Parlette and Carrell spoke against passage of the bill.

Senators Marr, Hobbs, Franklin and Keiser spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

WHEREAS, January 11th has been designated a National Day of Human Trafficking Awareness by the United States Congress; and

WHEREAS, In 1948, President Harry Truman signed a bill into law, declaring February 1st, National Freedom Day, and the day was chosen because it was on that day in 1865 when President Abraham Lincoln signed the Thirteenth Amendment to the Constitution, outlawing slavery; and

WHEREAS, Washington state has been in the forefront, nationally, in the fight against human trafficking; and

WHEREAS, The widespread media coverage of the murders of two Washington mail-order brides, Susanna Blackwell from the Philippines and Anastasia King from Kyrgyzstan, by their husbands, and the forced servitude of Helen Clemente, also from the Philippines, brought to the public's attention one facet of the much larger and more insidious phenomenon of human trafficking; and

WHEREAS, A conference on human trafficking was held at the University of Washington in 2001, spearheaded by then-state representative Velma Veloria, University of Washington Center for Research on Women Executive Director Sutapa Basu, and various organizations in the Asia-Pacific Islanders community; and

WHEREAS, Organizations like the Tronie Foundation, founded by Trong and Rani Hong, themselves victims of human trafficking, operate in Washington state to give a voice and support to victims of human trafficking; and

WHEREAS, In 1998, former state Senator and Congresswoman, Linda Smith, established Shared Hope International, a nonprofit organization with the mission of rescuing and restoring victims of sex trafficking; and

WHEREAS, Through legislation introduced by former state representative Velma Veloria and former senator Jeralita Costa, the Washington state task force against the trafficking of persons was created in 2002, the first of its kind in the nation; and

EIGHTEENTH DAY, JANUARY 31, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

WHEREAS, That same year, Washington was the first state in the nation to pass the mail-order bride act, which requires international matchmaking agencies to provide, upon request, criminal and marital background information on Washington state residents using the agency to meet prospective brides in other countries; and

WHEREAS, In 2003, Washington became the first state to criminalize trafficking and to extend protections to mail-order brides; and

WHEREAS, In 2005, Washington again led all other states in establishing protocols for providing services to victims of trafficking, and in providing funds for legal aid to undocumented aliens who are victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, or human trafficking; and

WHEREAS, In 2006, Washington became only the second state in the nation after Hawaii to place restrictions on sex tourism, and it provided funding for the Washington State Task Force Against the Trafficking of Persons to resume its work for two more years to develop recommendations leading to the creation of a Comprehensive Response to Human Trafficking; and

WHEREAS, Victims of human trafficking need support in order to escape and recover from the physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual trauma associated with their victimization; and

WHEREAS, Human traffickers use many physical and psychological techniques to control their victims, including the use of violence or threats of violence against the victim or the victim's family, isolation from the public, isolation from the victim's family and religious or ethnic communities, language and cultural barriers, shame, control of the victim's possessions, confiscation of passports and other identification documents, and threats of arrest, deportation, or imprisonment if the victim attempts to reach out for assistance or leave; and

WHEREAS, The United States was founded on principles of protecting individual freedom; there is a national and state imperative to eliminate human trafficking, including early or forced marriage, commercial sexual exploitation, forced labor, labor obtained through debt bondage, involuntary servitude, slavery, and slavery by descent;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate recognize those people and organizations, including Trong and Rani Hong, the Tronic Foundation, former senator Linda Smith and Shared Hope International, former state representative Velma Veloria, former state senator Jeralita Costa, the Washington state task force against the trafficking of persons, and the community organizations and nongovernmental organizations that fight daily against the scourge of human trafficking, and encourage others to observe the National Day of Human Trafficking Awareness with appropriate ceremonies and activities to combat human trafficking; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the department of community, trade, and economic development office of crime victims advocacy, to former state representative Velma Veloria, to former state senator Jeralita Costa, to Dr. Sutapa Basu, Executive Director of the University of Washington Center for Research on Women, to the Washington state task force against the trafficking of persons, to Trong and Rani Hong and the Tronic Foundation, and to former state senator and congresswoman Linda Smith and Shared Hope International.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

2008 REGULAR SESSION

Senator Sheldon: "Mr. President, I just think I'd be remiss, it's been two weeks since a tragic event in Moses Lake. A mentor to me, a real pioneer in public power, Vera Claussen lost her life in a residential house fire. Vera Claussen served public power for forty-seven years. She really was a pioneer. She of, course, was a Commissioner in Grant County PUD. She was a, also worked for the Public Utility District Association and was an executive board member for Energy Northwest. When I joined Energy Northwest she was very kind to me, told me the ropes, taught me a lot of things about public power. I think she was a woman very much before her time, really a pioneer, also was very much recognized for the American Public Power Association but I just wanted to rise and recognize her and make that point. What an inspiration she was to all of us. She retired in 2006 and was able to, I think, receive some of the accolades from her peers and others that knew her well. She did die in a tragic fire she last, two weeks ago in Grant County and that was very sad."

Senator Kohl-Welles: "Thank you Mr. President. Last week on Friday we ran out of time to have adoption of the Senate Resolution No. 8713 that had to do with human trafficking. We did have this in Pro Forma Session yesterday at which time we had former Representative Velma Veloria and former Senator Jeralita Costa in the gallery with us as well as Rani Hong who has today announced at a press conference that we had this morning of a new shelter for victims of trafficking that will be opening up. The obvious location is not being disclosed but it is Western Washington. First in the state and likely the one of the very first in the whole country. It will be called Nells home. This is a very important issue as we addressed with today being

2008 REGULAR SESSION

National Day of Freedom. Two weeks ago today, for the first time, we had the National Day of Trafficking Awareness that was proclaimed by the United States Congress. What is important to recognize is not only have we led the way in the United States, our state has the led the way with former Representative Veloria, former Senator Costa but also former State Senator Linda Smith, also former Congresswoman Smith her herself had opened an organization, Shared Hope International, to help rescue victims, child victims in particular of prostitution and trafficking in the South East Asia area. We were the first state in the country to have a task force developed, Anti Trafficking Task Force back in 2002. This came about as a result of a lot of work by members of the legislature but most importantly members in the community, victim advocacy groups, particularly those in the Asian Pacific Islander community because of two murders of mail-order brides, Anastasia King from Kurdistan and Susan Blackwell from the Philippines. We have led the way ever since being the first state in the country to criminalize trafficking, the first state in the country to provide protections, to what have been called mail-order brides. We've had three iterations of a state task force against trafficking. We were also the first state in the country to establish protocols through an integrated partnership among policy makes, those in the criminal justice system, law enforcement, prosecutors, victim advocacy groups to deliver services in a coordinated way for victims of trafficking. The current task force on trafficking anti-trafficking efforts will be issuing it's recommendations to the legislature very soon. They are meeting to finalize those. We have a lot more that we need do. We're equal distance between Europe and Asia, we're the closest port to Asia and unfortunately the United State is the destination country for the real evils, evils of people being trafficked, against their will or being coursed. This is something we will continue to work on. I salute this Senate for all that has been done and I look forward to bringing with Senator Swecker additional legislation next year. Thank you."

Senator Brandland spoke against passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hargrove: "As I read this bill, it says that it allows the homeowner to sue a contractor for violating the contractor's duty of reasonable care in the construction of the home. If this bill passes, will a person who files a claim be able to recover for pain and suffering, mental anguish, or punitive damages, or is the person's claim limited to economic damages?"

Senator Weinstein: "No. This bill follows the common law, which allows for the recovery of economic damages only, and Senators Honeyford, Holmquist, Schoesler and Stevens spoke against passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pflug: "Ok so, does this Senate Bill No. 6385 create an opportune, a new cause action against a previous homeowner of the building or a subcontractor involved in the construction?"

Senator Weinstein: "Construction professionals that work on homes can be liable if they violate a duty of reasonable care. Last year's bill, the warranty bill, was very extensive and this bill is a two sentence bill and I want to leave some of it's interpretation to the courts to do consistent with the common law over the centuries. So, a lot of it will have to be interpreted by the court."

Senator Pflug: "But probably a subcontractor, what about a homeowner, a previous homeowner?"

Senator Weinstein: "Previous homeowner that did what? They had to do construction work?"

Senator Pflug: "If they hired someone to do construction would they also potentially be liable?"

Senator Weinstein: "No."

Senator Pflug: "If they did it themselves they might be liable."

Senator Weinstein: "If they did it themselves they could potentially be liable and that's what the court would say."

Senator Pflug: "My final question, does it apply to contractors who do business in Washington even if they are not licensed in Washington?"

Senator Weinstein: "Absolutely. Licensed, unlicensed, absolutely."

CONDITIONAL COMMUTATION OF THOMAS W. MEGGYSEY

To All To Whom These Presents Shall Come, Greetings:

WHEREAS, on the night of July 26, 1995, Mr. Meggyesy attended a party at his neighbor's apartment. Both Mr. Meggyesy and his neighbor were drinking significantly throughout the evening. At some point that evening, the two men got into a verbal and physical altercation. Mr. Meggyesy left, but he returned shortly thereafter with a gun. Mr. Meggyesy knocked on the door and, as it opened, shot his neighbor in the abdomen, narrowly missing his heart.

WHEREAS, on December 7, 1995, Mr. Meggyesy was convicted of First Degree Assault and sentenced to 93 months, plus 60 months for a gun enhancement. He does not have any prior convictions.

WHEREAS, while appealing his conviction, Mr. Meggyesy was released from prison on bond for over two years. During that time, Mr. Meggyesy married, purchased a home, and had no encounters with the law. On April 6, 1998, Mr. Meggyesy lost his appeal and returned to prison. Since being incarcerated, Mr. Meggyesy has served his time as a model citizen. He has maintained an infraction free record, taken advantage of programming opportunities and tutored other inmates. As a result of his conduct, Mr. Meggyesy has earned the maximum amount of good time.

WHEREAS, Mr. Meggyesy's health is deteriorating and his elbow, back and knees have been hurting because of his years as a contractor and football player. After his release, Mr. Meggyesy's health care needs will be covered through his wife's medical insurance.

WHEREAS many family members, friends, employers, and former customers and co-workers wrote or spoke on Mr. Meggyesy's behalf. The supporters expressed that they are committed to helping support him whenever he is released. The Snohomish County Prosecutor's Office took no position on the clemency petition, and no one submitted materials opposing Mr. Meggyesy's petition.

WHEREAS, I have reviewed all pertinent facts and circumstances surrounding this matter, the circumstances of the crime, and the favorable recommendation of the Washington State Clemency and Pardons Board and, in light of the foregoing, I have determined that the best interests of justice will be served by this action.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Christine O. Gregoire, by virtue of the power vested in me as Governor of the State of Washington, hereby grant to Thomas W. Meggyesy a Conditional Commutation of the remainder of his sentence subject to the following conditions, all of which commence as of the date of this document:

- 1) He shall not commit any gross misdemeanors or felonies for 5 years;
- 2) He shall not possess any firearms for 10 years;
- 3) He shall not have any contact with the victim for 10 years; and
- 4) He must successfully complete an alcohol treatment and anger management program within 12 months of the granting of this Conditional Commutation.

PROVIDED that in the event Mr. Meggyesy is convicted of any offense classified as a gross misdemeanor or felony in the state of Washington or violates any condition of this commutation as determined by the Governor following his release, the Conditional Commutation is revoked without notice and the sentence of the court reinstated, whereupon Mr. Meggyesy will be immediately returned to the Washington Corrections Center or any such facility as the Secretary of Corrections deems appropriate. The Department of Corrections shall provide a written report to the Clemency and Pardons Board regarding the violation of this Conditional Commutation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Washington to be affixed at Olympia on this 11th day of April, A.D., two thousand and seven.

IRENEO PARRILLA

To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come, Greetings:

WHEREAS, Ireneo Parrilla is a 49 year old legal resident of Filipino descent. Mr. Parrilla is married with four children. His wife and children are all U. S. citizens. As the primary wage earner for his family, he has worked as a registered surgical nurse in the U.S. and overseas for over 20 years. He has no prior convictions.

WHEREAS, in December of 2000, Mr. Parrilla and his young son attended a party. While at the party, an intoxicated Mr. Parrilla inappropriately touched an eight year old girl. He was subsequently charged with and plead guilty to the misdemeanor offense of Communication with a Minor for Immoral Purposes. Mr. Parrilla pled guilty rather than drag the victim and his family through a trial. According to Mr. Parrilla, his criminal defense attorney failed to advise him that pleading guilty could result in deportation under federal immigration law.

WHEREAS, after he served his sentence and completed Alcohol and Drug Information School in January 2003, the U. S. Department of Homeland Security initiated deportation proceedings against Mr. Parrilla. Since August 18, 2003, Mr. Parrilla has been incarcerated, subject to deportation proceedings, and was eventually deported. He could have returned to the Philippines on his own volition, but chose to remain in prison in order to defend against the deportation and remain in the U. S. with his family. Mr. Parrilla exhausted judicial and immigration process, leaving a gubernatorial pardon as his only remedy.

WHEREAS, Mr. Parrilla has accepted responsibility and shown remorse for his criminal actions. He has compellingly demonstrated his commitment to rejoin and support his family and to continue to serve Washington State as an experienced surgical nurse. Two of his Children, who have lived in the U. S. all of their lives, expressed profound concern with the impact of their father's deportation. Along with his handwritten petition, Mr. Parrilla submitted over 125 signatures of support.

WHEREAS, Mr. Parrilla's case presents a conflict between state and federal classifications over the same crime. Washington State's criminal code classifies "Communication with a Minor for Immoral Purposes" as a misdemeanor, while federal immigration law classifies it as a deportable crime of "moral turpitude." Mr. Parrilla's representation that his defense attorney failed to advise him on the status of federal immigration law was un rebutted. Given the potential for permanent separation from his family, the fact that Mr. Parrilla pled guilty is suggestive of inadequate counsel.

WHEREAS, the Board found deportation for a misdemeanor disproportionate punishment, particularly in light of the significant disruption the deportation would have to the Parrilla family. Second, the Board considered Mr. Parrilla's decision to remain incarcerated for more than three years, when the original sentence was only 90 days, sufficient punishment. Third, the Board found significant Mr. Parrilla's differences in communication and legal understanding. As a result of these reasons, the Board recommended that the Governor pardon Mr. Parrilla.

WHEREAS, I have reviewed all pertinent facts and circumstances surrounding this matter, the circumstances of the crime, and the favorable recommendation of the Washington State Clemency and Pardons Board. In light of the foregoing, I have determined that the best interests of justice will be served by this action.

NOW, THEREFORE, I Christine O. Gregoire, by virtue of the power vested in me as Governor of the State of Washington, hereby grant to Ireneo Parrilla this full and unconditional pardon of his conviction of Communication with a Minor for Immoral Purposes so that he may live with his family in the United States.

WHEREAS, upon the Department of Corrections termination of supervision, notice was sent to Ms. Tugade stating she had not completed all her community service hours, prompting a hearing before the King County Superior Court. Without written proof of completion, the court ordered eight hours of jail time in lieu of community service completion. This order was issued on a Friday. On the subsequent Monday, Ms. Tugade presented written proof of her completion of community service hours to the court via the public defender's agency. While the agency submitted a proposed order striking the jail time, it did not ask the court to issue a Certificate of Discharge.

SENATE BILL NO. 6357, by Senators Kohl-Welles, Keiser, Regala, Kline, Murray, Fairley, McDermott, Hargrove, McCaslin, Tom, Marr and Rasmussen

Regarding service of process in domestic violence cases.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Kline moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Kline and Kohl-Welles be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 63 Recent tragic events have demonstrated the need to find ways to make legal protections for domestic violence victims more accessible. On March 6, 2007, Rebecca Jane Griego, an employee at the University of Washington, had obtained a temporary protection order against the man who eventually shot her and then himself in a murder-suicide on April 2, 2007. However, because her stalker had evaded the police and service of process, Ms. Griego had to return to court numerous times and did not have the opportunity to have a hearing for a permanent protection order. Under current court rules, which vary by court, if a process server fails to serve process after an unspecified number of times, process may be served by publication or by mail. Establishing greater uniformity in the service of process of petitions for orders for protection or modifications of protection orders in domestic violence cases may help to protect the safety of future domestic violence victims.

Sec. 64 RCW 26.50.050 and 1995 c 246 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon receipt of the petition, the court shall order a hearing which shall be held not later than fourteen days from the date of the order. The court may schedule a hearing by telephone pursuant to local court rule, to reasonably accommodate a disability, or in exceptional circumstances to protect a petitioner from further acts of domestic violence. The court shall require assurances of the petitioner's identity before conducting a telephonic hearing. Except as provided in RCW 26.50.085 and 26.50.123, personal service shall be made upon the respondent not less than five court days prior to the hearing. If timely personal service cannot be made, the court shall set a new hearing date and shall either require an additional attempt((s)) at obtaining personal service or permit service by publication as provided in RCW 26.50.085 or service by mail as provided in RCW 26.50.123. The court shall not require more than two attempts at obtaining personal service and shall permit service by publication or by mail unless the petitioner requests additional time to attempt personal service. If the court permits service by publication or by mail, the court shall set the hearing date not later than twenty-four days from the date of the order. The court may issue an ex parte order for protection pending the hearing as provided in RCW 26.50.070, 26.50.085, and 26.50.123.

Sec. 65 RCW 26.50.130 and 1984 c 263 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon application with notice to all parties and after a hearing, the court may modify the terms of an existing order for protection.

(2) Except as provided in RCW 26.50.085 and 26.50.123, personal service shall be made upon the nonmoving party not less than five court days prior to the hearing to modify.

(a) If timely personal service cannot be made, the court shall set a new hearing date and shall either require an additional attempt at obtaining personal service or permit service by publication as provided in RCW 26.50.085 or service by mail as provided in RCW 26.50.123.

(b) The court shall not require more than two attempts at obtaining personal service and shall permit service by publication or by mail unless the moving party requests additional time to attempt personal service.

(c) If the court permits service by publication or by mail, the court shall set the hearing date not later than twenty-four days from the date of the order permitting service by publication or by mail.

(3) In any situation where an order is terminated or modified before its expiration date, the clerk of the court shall forward on or before the next judicial day a true copy of the modified order or the termination order to the appropriate law enforcement agency specified in the modified or termination order. Upon receipt of the order, the law enforcement agency shall promptly enter it in the law enforcement information system."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Schoesler: "Would the gentleman from the 4th District yield to a question? Senator McCaslin, as I look across the floor today, is Senator Deccio absent or excused?"

Senator McCaslin: "I have a story to tell you Senator and just prior to coming on the floor I learned this so if I botch it up it's my fault because I just heard it approximately twenty-five minutes ago. The gentleman sitting there, it's going to shock you, is really Senator Deccio. I have to tell you the story that I heard. You know Alex. He was always negotiating on something. So Alex, Senator Deccio, went through the state of Washington negotiating with surgical doctors, cosmetic surgeons, getting the best deal. I'm told, I don't know if the source is reliable, it cost one-hundred fifty-thousand in the capital budget and seven bills on last year's calendar. The problem was the surgeon he hired was hard of hearing and what Senator Deccio told him was 'I want to look like James Vest.' Who was an old time actor, very handsome gentleman. Well, the guy couldn't hear. He thought he said 'James West' so as a result Senator Deccio, who is now going by Curtis King, looks like James West. I didn't get to him before the first or second caucus and I did lean over to him one day, I was heading for the water fountain, and I said 'Do you know we've had a conference among us Senators that you look like James West? Jim West? Senator West. Took a few seconds and he looked up at me and he said, 'I didn't know he was that handsome.' So anyway we have a conceited man, who obviously can read because he read his first speech. He didn't ask permission either, of the President, which is another foul. Anyway, Alex, it's good to see you. You look a lot better. It was worth the one-hundred and fifty thousand I assure you."

Senator Schoesler: "Senator McCaslin, one follow-up question on that plastic surgery? Did Senator Deccio retain his legendary smell for pork?"

Senator McCaslin: "Absolutely, absolutely. So stand back Democrats, here he comes again."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator King: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, I very much appreciate everyone's patience and willingness to put up with my lack of public speaking ability. But as a means to try and kind of make up for all of those things and all of my deficiencies, I have a gift that I would like to present to each of you that will be delivered to your office. Somewhere here I think I have one, anyway hopefully it will look like this if it's any good. It consists of a maple cheese board with a knife, and it has products that are made in the Yakima Valley attached that includes juices and fruit roll ups from Tree Top. Chips from Seneca Foods, mixed pepper jelly, now if you have never had mixed pepper jelly, you have a treat in store for you and I was kind because it comes in mild, and it comes in very, very hot and believe me I was tempted with the very, very hot but I got just kind of the middle of the road for you. Then I also have in there a really unique product. It's called Jumping Jack popcorn and there's an older couple in Selah that developed this product and it's actual corn on the cob that has been dried and you take it, put it in a bowl, cover it and microwave and it pops right off the cob and it's very good. So, anyway, I hope that you enjoy those products. I want to say thank you for the reception, the very warm reception and welcome that you all have given me. I appreciate that very much and I'm extremely honored to be serving in the Senate with each of you. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hewitt: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, I was almost buying in on the story that this was Senator Deccio but after seeing such a nice gift I know it's not true because he was never that generous."

MOTION

At 4:25 p.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate was declared to be at ease subject to the call of the President.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Benton: "Would Senator Kohl-Welles yield to a question? Thank you Senator, I was just looking over the bill report and my question is. I'm not sure that I understand all of it because I didn't serve on that committee. Under this bill would this change, I guess my question is, can I quit a job for the sole purpose of going into one of these apprenticeship programs, voluntarily quit work, and collect unemployment while I am in the apprenticeship program?"

Senator Kohl-Welles: "Senator Benton, that could happen if you were to quit your job, I'm assuming not as a State Senator however. However, this would have to be part of an approved program by the state apprenticeship and training counsel number one, number 2, the Employment Security Department would have the authority to determine if in fact this was an approved program and that this individual should be eligible for that. There are safe guards in place. My understanding is the way this has worked in the past and we'd like it to do so again. It's for those individuals who are making very low wages are trying to improve themselves can be more contributing our economy and to our society. They also are training for needed positions that we expect will be once there will be a high turnover for so I think it's a very important program, not only for that individual but also for our economy and our work force."

(b) A pedophile is a person who has fantasies, urges, or behaviors that involve sexual activity with a child; and

(c) When a person acts on a pedophilic urge, he or she has committed a criminal act against the most vulnerable segment of our society, children. The main method for preventing pedophilia is avoiding situations that may promote pedophilic acts.

(1) Every person who knowingly publishes information relating to the location of children or a place where children regularly gather, or the specific time and location in which children or a particular child may be found, or the personal information of a child, for the purpose of arousing or gratifying the sexual desire of any person, is guilty of a gross misdemeanor. It is a defense to a charge against an internet service provider or social networking site that the internet service provider or social networking site had only constructive knowledge and not actual knowledge.

(2) It is not a defense to prosecution under this section that the information includes a specific disclaimer of intention to incite a sexual offense against a child if it is clear from the overall character of the communication that its purpose is to promote the commission of a sexual offense against a child.

(1) Whenever it appears that any person is committing or has committed any act that constitutes a violation of section 2 of this act, the prosecuting attorney or the parents or guardian of any child harmed by an alleged violation of section 2 of this act may initiate a civil proceeding in superior court to enjoin such violation, and may petition the court to issue an order for the discontinuance of the publication of the information in violation of section 2 of this act.

(2) An action under this section shall be brought in the county in which the violation is alleged to have taken place, and shall be commenced by the filing of a verified complaint, or shall be accompanied by an affidavit.

(3) If it is shown to the satisfaction of the court, either by verified complaint or affidavit, that a person is committing or has committed any act that constitutes a violation of section 2 of this act, the court may issue a temporary restraining order to abate and prevent the continuance or recurrence of the act. (4) The court may issue a permanent injunction to restrain, abate, or prevent the continuance or recurrence of the violation of section 2 of this act. The court may grant declaratory relief, mandatory orders, or any other relief deemed necessary to accomplish the purposes of the injunction. The court may retain jurisdiction of the case for the purpose of enforcing its orders.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4 A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The parents or guardian of any child whose personal information is published in violation of section 2 of this act and who suffers damages as a result of such conduct may bring a cause of action against the person who published such information, for actual damages sustained and reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

(2) If a court has found that any person has engaged in any act that constitutes a violation of section 2 of this act the court shall award liquidated damages to the child whose personal information is published in violation of section 2 of this act in the amount of ten thousand dollars for each violation.

(5) Upon expiration of the twenty-year lease, the city may enter into a new lease for the use of state-owned aquatic lands or vacate the lands as agreed to in the expiring lease. #### MOTION

MOTION

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1 The legislature finds and declares that there is a paramount concern that the right of the people to obtain access to health care in all its facets should be preserved and enhanced. The legislature also finds that the establishment of a medical home is an effective way to improve quality of care and reduce unnecessary administrative costs in the delivery of care. The legislature further finds that the unique characteristics of eye care and the structure of insurance coverage relating to medical eye care and vision only services create confusion among enrollees of health plans and create inefficiencies in the delivery of medical eye care, and that creating a primary care medical home relationship for eye care patients will improve the quality of care and reduce the cost of eye care. It is the intent of the legislature to eliminate unnecessary burdens faced by patients needing medical eye care services. It is, therefore, declared to be in the public interest that health plans covering primary medical eye care conform to certain minimum requirements.

Sec. 2 RCW 48.43.005 and 2007 c 296 s 1 and 2007 c 259 s 32 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

regional support networks or counties, the secretary shall endeavor to site one in an urban and one in a rural regional support network or county; and to site them in counties other than those selected pursuant to RCW 70.96A.800, to the extent necessary to facilitate evaluation of pilot project results. Within funds provided for this specific purpose, the secretary may contract with additional regional support networks or counties to provide integrated crisis response and involuntary treatment pilot programs to adults.

(2) The regional support networks or counties shall implement the pilot programs by providing integrated crisis response and involuntary treatment to persons with a chemical dependency, a mental disorder, or both, consistent with this chapter. The pilot programs shall:

(a) Combine the crisis responder functions of a designated mental health professional under chapter 71.05 RCW and a designated chemical dependency specialist under chapter 70.96A RCW by establishing a new designated crisis responder who is authorized to conduct investigations and detain persons up to seventy-two hours to the proper facility;

(b) Provide training to the crisis responders as required by the department;

(c) Provide sufficient staff and resources to ensure availability of an adequate number of crisis responders twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week;

(d) Provide the administrative and court-related staff, resources, and processes necessary to facilitate the legal requirements of the initial detention and the commitment hearings for persons with a chemical dependency;

(e) Participate in the evaluation and report to assess the outcomes of the pilot programs including providing data and information as requested;

(f) Provide the other services necessary to the implementation of the pilot programs, consistent with this chapter as determined by the secretary in contract; and

Sec. 5 RCW 70.96B.050 and 2007 c 120 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When a designated crisis responder receives information alleging that a person, as a result of a mental disorder, chemical dependency disorder, or both, presents a likelihood of serious harm or is gravely disabled, the designated crisis responder may, after investigation and evaluation of the specific facts alleged and of the reliability and credibility of any person providing information to initiate detention, if satisfied that the allegations are true and that the person will not voluntarily seek appropriate treatment, file a petition for initial detention. Before filing the petition, the designated crisis responder must personally interview the person, unless the person refuses an interview, and determine whether the person will voluntarily receive appropriate evaluation and treatment at either an evaluation and treatment facility, a detoxification facility, or other certified chemical dependency provider.

(2)(a) An order to detain to an evaluation and treatment facility, a detoxification facility, or other certified chemical dependency provider for not more than a seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment period may be issued by a judge upon request of a designated crisis responder: (i) Whenever it appears to the satisfaction of a judge of the superior court, district court, or other court permitted by court rule, that there is probable cause to support the petition, and (ii) that the person has refused or failed to accept appropriate evaluation and treatment voluntarily.

(b) The petition for initial detention, signed under penalty of perjury or sworn telephonic testimony, may be considered by the court in determining whether there are sufficient grounds for issuing the order.

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(c) The order shall designate retained counsel or, if counsel is appointed from a list provided by the court, the name, business address, and telephone number of the attorney appointed to represent the person.

(3) The designated crisis responder shall then serve or cause to be served on such person, his or her guardian, and conservator, if any, a copy of the order to appear, together with a notice of rights and a petition for initial detention. After service on the person, the designated crisis responder shall file the return of service in court and provide copies of all papers in the court file to the evaluation and treatment facility or secure detoxification facility and the designated attorney. The designated crisis responder shall notify the court and the prosecuting attorney that a probable cause hearing will be held within seventy-two hours of the date and time of outpatient evaluation or admission to the evaluation and treatment facility, secure detoxification facility, or other certified chemical dependency provider. If requested by the detained person or his or her attorney, the hearing may be postponed for a period not to exceed forty-eight hours. The court may be continued subject to the petitioner's showing of good cause for a period not to exceed twenty-four hours. The person may be accompanied by one or more of his or her relatives, friends, an attorney, a personal physician, or other professional or religious advisor to the place of evaluation. An attorney accompanying the person to the place of evaluation shall be permitted to be present during the admission evaluation. Any other person accompanying the person may be present during the admission evaluation. The facility may exclude the person if his or her presence would present a safety risk, delay the proceedings, or otherwise interfere with the evaluation.

(4) The designated crisis responder may notify a peace officer to take the person or cause the person to be taken into custody and placed in an evaluation and treatment facility, a secure detoxification facility, or other certified chemical dependency provider. At the time the person is taken into custody there shall commence to be served on the person, his or her guardian, and conservator, if any, a copy of the original order together with a notice of detention, a notice of rights, and a petition for initial detention.

Sec. 6 RCW 70.96B.100 and 2005 c 504 s 211 are each amended to read as follows:

~~(If a person is detained for additional treatment beyond fourteen days under RCW 70.96B.090, the professional staff of the agency or facility may petition for additional treatment under RCW 70.96A.140.)~~ (1) A person detained for fourteen days of involuntary chemical dependency treatment under RCW 70.96B.090 shall be released from involuntary treatment at the expiration of the period of commitment unless the professional staff of the agency or facility files a petition for additional period of involuntary treatment under RCW 70.96A.140, or files a petition for sixty days less restrictive treatment under this section.

(2) A petition for less restrictive treatment must be filed at least three days before expiration of the fourteen-day period of intensive treatment, and comport with the rules contained in RCW 70.96B.090(2). The petition shall state facts that support the finding that the person, as a result of a chemical dependency, presents a likelihood of serious harm or is gravely disabled, and that continued treatment pursuant to a less restrictive order is in the best interest of the person or others. At the time of filing such a petition, the clerk shall set a time for the person to come before the court on the next judicial day after the day of filing unless such appearance is waived by the person's attorney.

(3) At the time set for appearance the detained person must be brought before the court, unless such appearance has been waived and the court shall advise him or her of his or her right to be represented by an attorney. If the detained person is not represented by an attorney, or is indigent or is unwilling to retain an attorney, the court shall immediately appoint an attorney to represent him or her. The court shall, if requested, appoint a reasonably available licensed physician, psychologist, or psychiatrist, designated by the detained person to examine and testify on behalf of the detained person.

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2008

(4) The court shall conduct a hearing on the petition for sixty days less restrictive treatment on or before the last day of the confinement period. The burden of proof shall be by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence and shall be upon the petitioner. The person shall be present at such proceeding, which shall in all respects accord with the constitutional guarantees of due process of law and the rules of evidence pursuant to RCW 71.05.360 (8) and (9). Involuntary treatment shall continue while a petition for less restrictive treatment is pending under this section.

(5) The court may impose a sixty-day less restrictive order if the evidence shows that the person, as a result of a chemical dependency, presents a likelihood of serious harm or is gravely disabled, and that continued treatment pursuant to a less restrictive order is in the best interest of the person or others. The less restrictive order may impose treatment conditions and other conditions which are in the best interest of the patient and others. A copy of the less restrictive order shall be given to the patient, the designated crisis responder, and any program designated to provide less restrictive treatment. A program designated to provide less restrictive treatment and willing to supervise the conditions of the less restrictive order may modify the conditions for continued release when the modification is in the best interests of the patient, but must notify the designated crisis responder and the court of such modification.

(6) If an outpatient treatment program approved by the court and willing to supervise the conditions of the less restrictive order or the designated crisis responder determines that the respondent is failing to adhere to the terms of the less restrictive order, or that substantial deterioration in the patient's functioning has occurred, then the designated crisis responder shall notify the court of original commitment and request a hearing to be held no less than two and no more than seven days after the date of the request to determine whether or not the person should be returned to more restrictive care. The designated crisis responder may cause the person to be immediately taken into custody of the secure detox pending the hearing if the alleged noncompliance causes an imminent risk to the safety of the person. The designated crisis responder shall file a petition with the court stating the facts substantiating the need for the hearing along with the treatment recommendations. The patient shall have the same rights with respect to notice, hearing, and counsel as for the original involuntary treatment proceedings. The issues to be determined at the hearing are whether the conditionally released patient did or did not adhere to the terms and conditions of his or her release to less restrictive care or that substantial deterioration of the patient's functioning has occurred and whether the condition of release should be modified or the person should be returned to a more restrictive setting. The hearing may be waived by the patient and his or her counsel and his or her guardian or conservator, if any, but may not be waived unless all such persons agree to the waiver. If court finds in favor of the petitioner, or the person waives a hearing, the court may order the person to be committed to secure detox for fourteen days of involuntary chemical dependency treatment, or may order the patient to be returned to less restrictive treatment on the same or modified conditions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7 A new section is added to chapter 70.96B RCW to read as follows:

(1) A person committed for fourteen days of involuntary chemical dependency treatment under this chapter has a right to refuse antipsychotic medication unless it is determined that the failure to medicate may result in a likelihood of serious harm or substantial deterioration and there is no less intrusive course of treatment than medication in the best interest of that person.

(2) The department shall adopt rules to carry out the purposes of this chapter. These rules shall include:

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(a) An attempt to obtain the informed consent of the person prior to administration of antipsychotic medication;

(b) For short-term treatment up to fourteen days, the right to refuse antipsychotic medications unless there is an additional concurring medical opinion approving medication;

(c) Administration of antipsychotic medication in an emergency and review of this decision within twenty-four hours. An emergency exists if the person presents an imminent likelihood of serious harm, and medically acceptable alternatives to administration of antipsychotic medications are not available or are unlikely to be successful; and in the opinion of the physician, the person's condition constitutes an emergency requiring the treatment be instituted prior to obtaining a second medical opinion;

(d) Documentation in the medical record of the physician's attempt to obtain informed consent and the reasons why antipsychotic medication is being administered over the person's objection or lack of consent.

(3) A person committed pursuant to this chapter may refuse psychiatric medication twenty-four hours before a court hearing as provided in RCW 71.05.210.

MOTION

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1 RCW 13.34.215 and 2007 c 413 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A child may petition the juvenile court to reinstate the previously terminated parental rights of his or her parent under the following circumstances:

(a) The child was previously found to be a dependent child under this chapter;

(b) The child's parent's rights were terminated in a proceeding under this chapter;

(c) The child has not achieved his or her permanency plan within three years of a final order of termination ~~(, or if the final order was appealed, within three years of exhaustion of any right to appeal the order terminating parental rights);~~ and

(d) ~~(Absent good cause;)~~ The child must be at least twelve years old at the time the petition is filed. Upon the child's motion for good cause shown, or on its own motion, the court may hear a petition filed by a child younger than twelve years old.

(2) A child seeking to petition under this section shall be provided counsel at no cost to the child.

(3) The petition must be signed by the child in the absence of a showing of good cause as to why the child could not do so.

(4) If, after a threshold hearing to consider the parent's apparent fitness and interest in reinstatement of parental rights, ~~(it appears)~~ the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the best interests of the child may be served by reinstatement of parental rights, the juvenile court shall order that a hearing on the merits of the petition be held.

(5) The court shall give prior notice for any proceeding under this section, or cause prior notice to be given, to the department, the child's attorney, and the child. The court shall also order the department to give prior notice of any hearing to the child's former parent whose parental rights are the subject of the petition, any parent whose rights have not been terminated, the child's current foster parent, relative caregiver, guardian or custodian, and the child's tribe, if applicable.

(6) The juvenile court shall conditionally grant the petition if it finds by clear and convincing evidence that the child has not achieved his or her permanency plan and is not likely to imminently achieve his or her permanency plan and that reinstatement of parental rights is in the child's best interest. In determining whether reinstatement is in the child's best interest the court shall consider, but is not limited to, the following:

(a) Whether the parent whose rights are to be reinstated is a fit parent and has remedied his or her deficits as provided in the record of the prior termination proceedings and prior termination order;

(b) The age and maturity of the child, and the ability of the child to express his or her preference;

(c) Whether the reinstatement of parental rights will present a risk to the child's health, welfare, or safety; and

(d) Other material changes in circumstances, if any, that may have occurred which warrant the granting of the petition.

(7) In determining whether the child has or has not achieved his or her permanency plan or whether the child is likely to achieve his or her permanency plan, the department shall provide the court, and the court shall review, information related to any efforts to achieve the permanency plan including efforts to achieve adoption or a permanent guardianship.

(8)(a) If the court conditionally grants the petition under subsection (6) of this section, the case will be continued for six months and a temporary order of reinstatement entered. During this period, the child shall be placed in the custody of the parent. The department shall develop a permanency plan for the child reflecting the plan to be reunification and shall provide transition services to the family as appropriate.

(b) If the child must be removed from the parent due to abuse or neglect allegations prior to the expiration of the conditional six-month period, the court shall dismiss the petition for reinstatement of parental rights if the court finds the allegations have been proven by a preponderance of the evidence.

(c) If the child has been successfully placed with the parent for six months, the court order reinstating parental rights remains in effect and the court shall dismiss the dependency.

(9) After the child has been placed with the parent for six months, the court shall hold a hearing. If the placement with the parent has been successful, the court shall enter a final order of reinstatement of parental rights, which shall restore all rights, powers, privileges, immunities, duties, and obligations of the parent as to the child, including those relating to custody, control, and support of the child. The court shall dismiss the dependency and direct the clerk's office to provide a certified copy of the final order of reinstatement of parental rights to the parent at no cost.

(10) The granting of the petition under this section does not vacate or otherwise affect the validity of the original termination order.

~~((+0))~~ (11) Any parent whose rights are reinstated under this section shall not be liable for any child support owed to the department pursuant to RCW 13.34.160 or Title 26 RCW for the time period from the date of termination of parental rights to the date parental rights are reinstated.

~~((+1))~~ (12) A proceeding to reinstate parental rights is a separate action from the termination of parental rights proceeding and does not vacate the original termination of parental rights. An order granted under this section reinstates the parental rights to the child. This reinstatement is a recognition that the situation of the parent and child have changed since the time of the termination of parental rights and reunification is now appropriate.

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

~~((12))~~ (13) This section is retroactive and applies to any child who is under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court at the time of the hearing regardless of the date parental rights were terminated.

(14) The state, the department, and its employees are not liable for civil damages resulting from any act or omission in the provision of services under this section, unless the act or omission constitutes gross negligence. This section does not create any duty and shall not be construed to create a duty where none exists. This section does not create a cause of action against the state, the department, or its employees concerning the original termination.

Sec. 2 RCW 13.34.065 and 2007 c 413 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) When a child is taken into custody, the court shall hold a shelter care hearing within seventy-two hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. The primary purpose of the shelter care hearing is to determine whether the child can be immediately and safely returned home while the adjudication of the dependency is pending.

(b) Any parent, guardian, or legal custodian who for good cause is unable to attend the shelter care hearing may request that a subsequent shelter care hearing be scheduled. The request shall be made to the clerk of the court where the petition is filed prior to the initial shelter care hearing. Upon the request of the parent, the court shall schedule the hearing within seventy-two hours of the request, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. The clerk shall notify all other parties of the hearing by any reasonable means.

(2)(a) The department of social and health services shall submit a recommendation to the court as to the further need for shelter care in all cases in which it is the petitioner. In all other cases, the recommendation shall be submitted by the juvenile court probation counselor.

(b) All parties have the right to present testimony to the court regarding the need or lack of need for shelter care.

(c) Hearsay evidence before the court regarding the need or lack of need for shelter care must be supported by sworn testimony, affidavit, or declaration of the person offering such evidence.

(3)(a) At the commencement of the hearing, the court shall notify the parent, guardian, or custodian of the following:

(i) The parent, guardian, or custodian has the right to a shelter care hearing;

(ii) The nature of the shelter care hearing, the rights of the parents, and the proceedings that will follow; and

(iii) If the parent, guardian, or custodian is not represented by counsel, the right to be represented. If the parent, guardian, or custodian is indigent, the court shall appoint counsel as provided in RCW 13.34.090; and

(b) If a parent, guardian, or legal custodian desires to waive the shelter care hearing, the court shall determine, on the record and with the parties present, whether such waiver is knowing and voluntary. A parent may not waive his or her right to the shelter care hearing unless he or she appears in court and the court determines that the waiver is knowing and voluntary. Regardless of whether the court accepts the parental waiver of the shelter care hearing, the court must provide notice to the parents of their rights required under (a) of this subsection and make the finding required under subsection (4) of this section.

(4) At the shelter care hearing the court shall examine the need for shelter care and inquire into the status of the case. The paramount consideration for the court shall be the health, welfare, and safety of the child. At a minimum, the court shall inquire into the following:

(a) Whether the notice required under RCW 13.34.062 was given to all known parents, guardians, or legal custodians of the child. The court shall make an express finding as to whether the notice required under RCW 13.34.062 was given to the parent, guardian, or legal custodian. If actual notice was not given to the parent, guardian, or legal custodian and the whereabouts of such person is known or can be ascertained, the court shall order the supervising agency or the department of social and health services to make reasonable efforts to advise the parent, guardian, or legal custodian of the status of the case, including the date and time of any subsequent hearings, and their rights under RCW 13.34.090;

(b) Whether the child can be safely returned home while the adjudication of the dependency is pending;

(c) What efforts have been made to place the child with a relative;

(d) What services were provided to the family to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home;

(e) Is the placement proposed by the agency the least disruptive and most family-like setting that meets the needs of the child;

(f) Whether it is in the best interest of the child to remain enrolled in the school, developmental program, or child care the child was in prior to placement and what efforts have been made to maintain the child in the school, program, or child care if it would be in the best interest of the child to remain in the same school, program, or child care;

(g) Appointment of a guardian ad litem or attorney;

(h) Whether the child is or may be an Indian child as defined in 25 U.S.C. Sec. 1903, whether the provisions of the Indian child welfare act apply, and whether there is compliance with the Indian child welfare act, including notice to the child's tribe;

(i) Whether, as provided in RCW 26.44.063, restraining orders, or orders expelling an allegedly abusive ~~((parent))~~ household member from the home of a nonabusive parent, guardian, or legal custodian, will allow the child to safely remain in the home;

(j) Whether any orders for examinations, evaluations, or immediate services are needed. ~~((However;))~~ The court may not order a parent to undergo examinations, evaluation, or services at the shelter care hearing unless the parent agrees to the examination, evaluation, or service;

(k) The terms and conditions for parental, sibling, and family visitation.

(5)(a) The court shall release a child alleged to be dependent to the care, custody, and control of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian unless the court finds there is reasonable cause to believe that:

(i) After consideration of the specific services that have been provided, reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home; and

(ii)(A) The child has no parent, guardian, or legal custodian to provide supervision and care for such child; or

(B) The release of such child would present a serious threat of substantial harm to such child, notwithstanding an order entered pursuant to RCW 26.44.063; or

(C) The parent, guardian, or custodian to whom the child could be released has been charged with violating RCW 9A.40.060 or 9A.40.070.

(b) If the court does not release the child to his or her parent, guardian, or legal custodian, and the child was initially placed with a relative pursuant to RCW 13.34.060(1), the court shall order continued placement with a relative, unless there is reasonable cause to believe the health, safety, or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or that the efforts to reunite the parent and child will be hindered. The relative must be willing and available to:

(i) Care for the child and be able to meet any special needs of the child;

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(ii) Facilitate the child's visitation with siblings, if such visitation is part of the supervising agency's plan or is ordered by the court; and

(iii) Cooperate with the department in providing necessary background checks and home studies.

(c) If the child was not initially placed with a relative, and the court does not release the child to his or her parent, guardian, or legal custodian, the supervising agency shall make reasonable efforts to locate a relative pursuant to RCW 13.34.060(1).

(d) If a relative is not available, the court shall order continued shelter care or order placement with another suitable person, and the court shall set forth its reasons for the order. If the court orders placement of the child with a person not related to the child and not licensed to provide foster care, the placement is subject to all terms and conditions of this section that apply to relative placements.

(e) Any placement with a relative, or other person approved by the court pursuant to this section, shall be contingent upon cooperation with the agency case plan and compliance with court orders related to the care and supervision of the child including, but not limited to, court orders regarding parent-child contacts, sibling contacts, and any other conditions imposed by the court. Noncompliance with the case plan or court order is grounds for removal of the child from the home of the relative or other person, subject to review by the court.

(f) Uncertainty by a parent, guardian, legal custodian, relative, or other suitable person that the alleged abuser has in fact abused the child shall not, alone, be the basis upon which a child is removed from the care of a parent, guardian, or legal custodian under (a) of this subsection, nor shall it be a basis, alone, to preclude placement with a relative under (b) of this subsection or with another suitable person under (d) of this subsection.

(6)(a) A shelter care order issued pursuant to this section shall include the requirement for a case conference as provided in RCW 13.34.067. However, if the parent is not present at the shelter care hearing, or does not agree to the case conference, the court shall not include the requirement for the case conference in the shelter care order.

(b) If the court orders a case conference, the shelter care order shall include notice to all parties and establish the date, time, and location of the case conference which shall be no later than thirty days before the fact-finding hearing.

(c) The court may order another conference, case staffing, or hearing as an alternative to the case conference required under RCW 13.34.067 so long as the conference, case staffing, or hearing ordered by the court meets all requirements under RCW 13.34.067, including the requirement of a written agreement specifying the services to be provided to the parent.

(7)(a) A shelter care order issued pursuant to this section may be amended at any time with notice and hearing thereon. The shelter care decision of placement shall be modified only upon a showing of change in circumstances. No child may be placed in shelter care for longer than thirty days without an order, signed by the judge, authorizing continued shelter care.

(b)(i) An order releasing the child on any conditions specified in this section may at any time be amended, with notice and hearing thereon, so as to return the child to shelter care for failure of the parties to conform to the conditions originally imposed.

(ii) The court shall consider whether nonconformance with any conditions resulted from circumstances beyond the control of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian and give weight to that fact before ordering return of the child to shelter care.

(8)(a) If a child is returned home from shelter care a second time in the case, or if the supervisor of the caseworker deems it necessary, the multidisciplinary team may be reconvened.

(b) If a child is returned home from shelter care a second time in the case a law enforcement officer must be present and file a report to the department.

Sec. 3 RCW 13.34.136 and 2007 c 413 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the home, a permanency plan shall be developed no later than sixty days from the time the supervising agency assumes responsibility for providing services, including placing the child, or at the time of a hearing under RCW 13.34.130, whichever occurs first. The permanency planning process continues until a permanency planning goal is achieved or dependency is dismissed. The planning process shall include reasonable efforts to return the child to the parent's home.

(2) The agency supervising the dependency shall submit a written permanency plan to all parties and the court not less than fourteen days prior to the scheduled hearing. Responsive reports of parties not in agreement with the supervising agency's proposed permanency plan must be provided to the supervising agency, all other parties, and the court at least seven days prior to the hearing.

The permanency plan shall include:

(a) A permanency plan of care that shall identify one of the following outcomes as a primary goal and may identify additional outcomes as alternative goals: Return of the child to the home of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian; adoption; guardianship; permanent legal custody; long-term relative or foster care, until the child is age eighteen, with a written agreement between the parties and the care provider; successful completion of a responsible living skills program; or independent living, if appropriate and if the child is age sixteen or older. The department shall not discharge a child to an independent living situation before the child is eighteen years of age unless the child becomes emancipated pursuant to chapter 13.64 RCW;

(b) Unless the court has ordered, pursuant to RCW 13.34.130(~~(4)~~) (5), that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, what steps the agency will take to promote existing appropriate sibling relationships and/or facilitate placement together or contact in accordance with the best interests of each child, and what actions the agency will take to maintain parent-child ties. All aspects of the plan shall include the goal of achieving permanence for the child.

(i) The agency plan shall specify what services the parents will be offered to enable them to resume custody, what requirements the parents must meet to resume custody, and a time limit for each service plan and parental requirement.

(ii) Visitation is the right of the family, including the child and the parent, in cases in which visitation is in the best interest of the child. Early, consistent, and frequent visitation is crucial for maintaining parent-child relationships and making it possible for parents and children to safely reunify. The agency shall encourage the maximum parent and child and sibling contact possible, when it is in the best interest of the child, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement. Visitation shall not be limited as a sanction for a parent's failure to comply with court orders or services where the health, safety, or welfare of the child is not at risk as a result of the visitation. Visitation may be limited or denied only if the court determines that such limitation or denial is necessary to protect the child's health, safety, or welfare. The court and the agency should rely upon community resources, relatives, foster parents, and other appropriate persons to provide transportation and supervision for visitation to the extent that such resources are available, and appropriate, and the child's safety would not be compromised.

(iii) A child shall be placed as close to the child's home as possible, preferably in the child's own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child's or parents' well-being.

(iv) The plan shall state whether both in-state and, where appropriate, out-of-state placement options have been considered by the department.

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(v) Unless it is not in the best interests of the child, whenever practical, the plan should ensure the child remains enrolled in the school the child was attending at the time the child entered foster care.

(vi) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall provide all reasonable services that are available within the agency, or within the community, or those services which the department has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services; and

(c) If the court has ordered, pursuant to RCW 13.34.130~~((4))~~ (5), that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to achieve permanency for the child, services to be offered or provided to the child, and, if visitation would be in the best interests of the child, a recommendation to the court regarding visitation between parent and child pending a fact-finding hearing on the termination petition. The agency shall not be required to develop a plan of services for the parents or provide services to the parents if the court orders a termination petition be filed. However, reasonable efforts to ensure visitation and contact between siblings shall be made unless there is reasonable cause to believe the best interests of the child or siblings would be jeopardized.

(3) Permanency planning goals should be achieved at the earliest possible date, preferably before the child has been in out-of-home care for fifteen months. In cases where parental rights have been terminated, the child is legally free for adoption, and adoption has been identified as the primary permanency planning goal, it shall be a goal to complete the adoption within six months following entry of the termination order.

(4) If the court determines that the continuation of reasonable efforts to prevent or eliminate the need to remove the child from his or her home or to safely return the child home should not be part of the permanency plan of care for the child, reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child.

(5) The identified outcomes and goals of the permanency plan may change over time based upon the circumstances of the particular case.

(6) The court shall consider the child's relationships with the child's siblings in accordance with RCW 13.34.130(3).

(7) For purposes related to permanency planning:

(a) "Guardianship" means a dependency guardianship or a legal guardianship pursuant to chapter 11.88 RCW or equivalent laws of another state or a federally recognized Indian tribe.

(b) "Permanent custody order" means a custody order entered pursuant to chapter 26.10 RCW.

(c) "Permanent legal custody" means legal custody pursuant to chapter 26.10 RCW or equivalent laws of another state or a federally recognized Indian tribe.

Sec. 4 RCW 26.44.063 and 2000 c 119 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It is the intent of the legislature to minimize trauma to a child involved in an allegation of sexual or physical abuse. The legislature declares that removing the child from the home or the care of a parent, guardian, or legal custodian often has the effect of further traumatizing the child. It is, therefore, the legislature's intent that the alleged ~~((offender))~~ abuser, rather than the child, shall be removed or restrained from the ~~((home))~~ child's residence and that this should be done at the earliest possible point of intervention in accordance with RCW 10.31.100, ~~((13.34.130))~~ chapter 13.34 RCW, this section, and RCW 26.44.130.

(2) In any judicial proceeding in which it is alleged that a child has been subjected to sexual or physical abuse, if the court finds reasonable grounds to believe that an incident of sexual or physical abuse has occurred, the court may, on its own motion, or the motion of the guardian ad litem or other parties, issue a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction restraining or enjoining the person accused of committing the abuse from:

(a) Molesting or disturbing the peace of the alleged victim;

(b) Entering the family home of the alleged victim except as specifically authorized by the court;

(c) Having any contact with the alleged victim, except as specifically authorized by the court;

(d) Knowingly coming within, or knowingly remaining within, a specified distance of a specified location.

(3) If the caretaker is willing, and does comply with the restraining order entered pursuant to this section, uncertainty that the alleged abuser has in fact abused the alleged victim shall not, alone, be a basis to remove the alleged victim from the caretaker, nor shall it be considered neglect.

(4) In issuing a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction, the court may impose any additional restrictions that the court in its discretion determines are necessary to protect the child from further abuse or emotional trauma pending final resolution of the abuse allegations.

~~((4))~~ (5) The court shall issue a temporary restraining order prohibiting a person from entering the family home if the court finds that the order would eliminate the need for an out-of-home placement to protect the child's right to nurturance, health, and safety and is sufficient to protect the child from further sexual or physical abuse or coercion.

~~((5))~~ (6) The court may issue a temporary restraining order without requiring notice to the party to be restrained or other parties only if it finds on the basis of the moving affidavit or other evidence that irreparable injury could result if an order is not issued until the time for responding has elapsed.

~~((6))~~ (7) A temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction:

(a) Does not prejudice the rights of a party or any child which are to be adjudicated at subsequent hearings in the proceeding; and

(b) May be revoked or modified.

~~((7))~~ (8) The person having physical custody of the child shall have an affirmative duty to assist in the enforcement of the restraining order including but not limited to a duty to notify the court as soon as practicable of any violation of the order, a duty to request the assistance of law enforcement officers to enforce the order, and a duty to notify the department of social and health services of any violation of the order as soon as practicable if the department is a party to the action. Failure by the custodial party to discharge these affirmative duties shall be subject to contempt proceedings.

~~((8))~~ (9) Willful violation of a court order entered under this section is a misdemeanor. A written order shall contain the court's directive and shall bear the legend: "Violation of this order with actual notice of its terms is a criminal offense under chapter 26.44 RCW, is also subject to contempt proceedings, and will subject a violator to arrest."

~~((9))~~ (10) If a restraining order issued under this section is modified or terminated, the clerk of the court shall notify the law enforcement agency specified in the order on or before the next judicial day. Upon receipt of notice that an order has been terminated, the law enforcement agency shall remove the order from any computer-based criminal intelligence system.

Sec. 5 RCW 74.13.031 and 2007 c 413 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

The department shall have the duty to provide child welfare services and shall:

(1) Develop, administer, supervise, and monitor a coordinated and comprehensive plan that establishes, aids, and strengthens services for the protection and care of runaway, dependent, or neglected children.

(2) Within available resources, recruit an adequate number of prospective adoptive and foster homes, both regular and specialized, i.e. homes for children of ethnic minority, including Indian homes for Indian children, sibling groups, handicapped and emotionally disturbed, teens, pregnant and parenting teens, and annually report to the governor and the legislature concerning the department's success in: (a) Meeting the need for adoptive and foster home placements; (b) reducing the foster parent turnover rate; (c) completing home studies for legally free children; and (d) implementing and operating the passport program required by RCW 74.13.285. The report shall include a section entitled "Foster Home Turn-Over, Causes and Recommendations."

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2008

(3) Investigate complaints of any recent act or failure to act on the part of a parent or caretaker that results in death, serious physical or emotional harm, or sexual abuse or exploitation, or that presents an imminent risk of serious harm, and on the basis of the findings of such investigation, offer child welfare services in relation to the problem to such parents, legal custodians, or persons serving in loco parentis, and/or bring the situation to the attention of an appropriate court, or another community agency(~~(- PROVIDED, That)~~). An investigation is not required of nonaccidental injuries which are clearly not the result of a lack of care or supervision by the child's parents, legal custodians, or persons serving in loco parentis. If the investigation reveals that a crime against a child may have been committed, the department shall notify the appropriate law enforcement agency.

(4) Offer, on a voluntary basis, family reconciliation services to families who are in conflict.

(5)(a) Monitor out-of-home placements(~~(- on a timely and routine basis;))~~ and conduct face-to-face meetings with children in out-of-home care and their caregivers on a monthly basis to assure the safety, well-being, and quality of care being provided is within the scope of the intent of the legislature as defined in RCW 74.13.010 and 74.15.010(~~(- and annually submit a report measuring the extent to which the department achieved the specified goals to the governor and the legislature))~~).

(b) Within existing funds for this purpose, when a child's case is being managed under a contract between the department and a private agency that has been accredited by a national child welfare accrediting entity, the private agency shall conduct the monthly face-to-face meetings with the child and the child's caregiver. The agency shall provide the department with a written report of the meeting within fifteen days of the meeting. In these cases, the department need only have a face-to-face meeting with the child and the child's caretaker on a quarterly basis.

(6) Have authority to accept custody of children from parents and to accept custody of children from juvenile courts, where authorized to do so under law, to provide child welfare services including placement for adoption, to provide for the routine and necessary medical, dental, and mental health care, or necessary emergency care of the children, and to provide for the physical care of such children and make payment of maintenance costs if needed. Except where required by Public Law 95-608 (25 U.S.C. Sec. 1915), no private adoption agency which receives children for adoption from the department shall discriminate on the basis of race, creed, or color when considering applications in their placement for adoption.

(7) Have authority to provide temporary shelter to children who have run away from home and who are admitted to crisis residential centers.

(8) Have authority to purchase care for children; and shall follow in general the policy of using properly approved private agency services for the actual care and supervision of such children insofar as they are available, paying for care of such children as are accepted by the department as eligible for support at reasonable rates established by the department.

(9) Establish a children's services advisory committee which shall assist the secretary in the development of a partnership plan for utilizing resources of the public and private sectors, and advise on all matters pertaining to child welfare, licensing of child care agencies, adoption, and services related thereto. At least one member shall represent the adoption community.

(10)(a) Have authority to provide continued foster care or group care as needed to participate in or complete a high school or vocational school program.

(b)(i) Beginning in 2006, the department has the authority to allow up to fifty youth reaching age eighteen to continue in foster care or group care as needed to participate in or complete a posthigh school academic or vocational program, and to receive necessary support and transition services.

(ii) In 2007 and 2008, the department has the authority to allow up to fifty additional youth per year reaching age eighteen to remain in foster care or group care as provided in (b)(i) of this subsection.

(iii) A youth who remains eligible for such placement and services pursuant to department rules may continue in foster care or group care until the youth reaches his or her twenty-first birthday. Eligibility requirements shall include active enrollment in a posthigh school academic or vocational program and maintenance of a 2.0 grade point average.

(11) Refer cases to the division of child support whenever state or federal funds are expended for the care and maintenance of a child, including a child with a developmental disability who is placed as a result of an action under chapter 13.34 RCW, unless the department finds that there is good cause not to pursue collection of child support against the parent or parents of the child. Cases involving individuals age eighteen through twenty shall not be referred to the division of child support unless required by federal law.

(12) Have authority within funds appropriated for foster care services to purchase care for Indian children who are in the custody of a federally recognized Indian tribe or tribally licensed child-placing agency pursuant to parental consent, tribal court order, or state juvenile court order; and the purchase of such care shall be subject to the same eligibility standards and rates of support applicable to other children for whom the department purchases care.

Notwithstanding any other provision of RCW 13.32A.170 through 13.32A.200 and 74.13.032 through 74.13.036, or of this section all services to be provided by the department of social and health services under subsections (4), (6), and (7) of this section, subject to the limitations of these subsections, may be provided by any program offering such services funded pursuant to Titles II and III of the federal juvenile justice and delinquency prevention act of 1974.

(13) Within amounts appropriated for this specific purpose, provide preventive services to families with children that prevent or shorten the duration of an out-of-home placement.

(14) Have authority to provide independent living services to youths, including individuals who have attained eighteen years of age, and have not attained twenty-one years of age who are or have been in foster care.

(15) Consult at least quarterly with foster parents, including members of the foster parent association of Washington state, for the purpose of receiving information and comment regarding how the department is performing the duties and meeting the obligations specified in this section and RCW 74.13.250 and 74.13.320 regarding the recruitment of foster homes, reducing foster parent turnover rates, providing effective training for foster parents, and administering a coordinated and comprehensive plan that strengthens services for the protection of children. Consultation shall occur at the regional and statewide levels.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6 A new section is added to chapter 74.15 RCW to read as follows:

To be eligible for placement in a HOPE center, a minor must be either a street youth, as that term is defined in this chapter, or a youth who, without placement in a HOPE center, will continue to participate in increasingly risky behavior. Youth may also self-refer to a HOPE center. Payment for a HOPE center bed is not contingent upon prior approval by the department.

Sec. 7 RCW 74.15.240 and 1999 c 267 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

To be eligible for placement in a responsible living skills program, the minor must be dependent under chapter 13.34 RCW and must have lived in a HOPE center or in a secure crisis residential center. However, if the minor's caseworker determines that placement in a responsible living skills program would be the most appropriate placement given the minor's current circumstances, prior residence in a HOPE center or secure crisis residential center before placement in a responsible living program is not required. Responsible living skills centers are intended as a placement alternative for dependent youth that the department chooses for the youth because no other services or alternative placements have been successful. Responsible living skills centers are not for dependent youth whose permanency plan includes return to home or family reunification."

MOTION

Senator Regala moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Hargrove, Regala and Stevens be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1 RCW 43.43.753 and 2002 c 289 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that recent developments in molecular biology and genetics have important applications for forensic science. It has been scientifically established that there is a unique pattern to the chemical structure of the deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA) contained in each cell of the human body. The process for identifying this pattern is called "DNA identification."

The legislature further finds that DNA databases are important tools in criminal investigations, in the exclusion of individuals who are the subject of investigations or prosecutions, and in detecting recidivist acts. It is the policy of this state to assist federal, state, and local criminal justice and law enforcement agencies in both the identification and detection of individuals in criminal investigations and the identification and location of missing and unidentified persons. Therefore, it is in the best interest of the state to establish a DNA database and DNA data bank containing DNA samples submitted by persons convicted of felony offenses and other crimes as specified in RCW 43.43.754. DNA samples necessary for the identification of missing persons and unidentified human remains shall also be included in the DNA database.

The legislature further finds that the DNA identification system used by the federal bureau of investigation and the Washington state patrol has no ability to predict genetic disease or predisposal to illness. Nonetheless, the legislature intends that biological samples collected under RCW 43.43.754, and DNA identification data obtained from the samples, be used only for purposes related to criminal investigation, identification of human remains or missing persons, or improving the operation of the system authorized under RCW 43.43.752 through 43.43.758.

Sec. 2 RCW 43.43.754 and 2002 c 289 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A biological sample must be collected for purposes of DNA identification analysis from:

(a) Every adult or juvenile individual convicted of a felony (~~stalking under RCW 9A.46.110, harassment under RCW 9A.46.020, communicating with a minor for immoral purposes under RCW 9.68A.090, or adjudicated guilty of an equivalent juvenile offense must have a biological sample collected for purposes of DNA identification analysis in the following manner~~), or any of the following crimes (or equivalent juvenile offenses):

Assault in the fourth degree with sexual motivation (RCW 9A.36.041, 9.94A.835)

Communication with a minor for immoral purposes (RCW 9.68A.090)

Custodial sexual misconduct in the second degree (RCW 9A.44.170)

Failure to register (RCW 9A.44.130)

Harassment (RCW 9A.46.020)

Patronizing a prostitute (RCW 9A.88.110)

Prostitution (RCW 9A.88.030)

Sexual misconduct with a minor in the second degree (RCW 9A.44.096)

Stalking (RCW 9A.46.110)

Violation of a sexual assault protection order granted under chapter 7.90 RCW; and

(b) Every adult or juvenile individual who is required to register under RCW 9A.44.130.

(2) If the Washington state patrol crime laboratory already has a DNA sample from an individual for a qualifying offense, a subsequent submission is not required to be submitted.

(3) Biological samples shall be collected in the following manner:

(a) For persons convicted of ((such offenses)) any offense listed in subsection (1)(a) of this section or adjudicated guilty of an equivalent juvenile offense who do not serve a term of confinement in a department of corrections facility, and do serve a term of confinement in a city or county jail facility, the city or county shall be responsible for obtaining the biological samples ((either as part of the intake process into the city or county jail or detention facility for those persons convicted on or after July 1, 2002, or within a reasonable time after July 1, 2002, for those persons incarcerated before July 1, 2002, who have not yet had a biological sample collected, beginning with those persons who will be released the soonest).

(b) The local police department or sheriff's office shall be responsible for obtaining the biological samples for:

(i) Persons convicted of ((such offenses)) any offense listed in subsection (1)(a) of this section or adjudicated guilty of an equivalent juvenile offense who do not serve a term of confinement in a department of corrections facility, and do not serve a term of confinement in a city or county jail facility ((~~the local police department or sheriff's office is responsible for obtaining the biological samples after sentencing on or after July 1, 2002~~)); and

(ii) Persons who are required to register under RCW 9A.44.030.

(c) For persons convicted of ((such offenses)) any offense listed in subsection (1)(a) of this section or adjudicated guilty of an equivalent juvenile offense, who are serving or who are to serve a term of confinement in a department of corrections facility or a department of social and health services facility, the facility holding the person shall be responsible for obtaining the biological samples ((either as part of the intake process into such facility for those persons convicted on or after July 1, 2002, or within a reasonable time after July 1, 2002;)). For those persons incarcerated before ((July 1, 2002)) the effective date of this section, who have not yet had a biological sample collected, ((beginning with)) priority shall be given to those persons who will be released the soonest.

((2)) (4) Any biological sample taken pursuant to RCW 43.43.752 through 43.43.758 may be retained by the forensic laboratory services bureau, and shall be used solely for the purpose of providing DNA or other tests for identification analysis and prosecution of a criminal offense or for the identification of human remains or missing persons. Nothing in this section prohibits the submission of results derived from the biological samples to the federal bureau of investigation combined DNA index system.

((3)) (5) The ((director of the)) forensic laboratory services bureau of the Washington state patrol ((shall perform)) is responsible for testing performed on all biological samples that are collected under subsection (1) of this section, to the extent allowed by funding available for this purpose. The director shall give priority to testing on samples collected from those adults or juveniles convicted of a felony or adjudicated guilty of an equivalent juvenile offense that is defined as a sex offense or a violent offense in RCW 9.94A.030. Known duplicate samples may be excluded from testing unless testing is deemed necessary or advisable by the director.

((4)) This section applies to all adults who are convicted of a sex or violent offense after July 1, 1990, and to all adults who were convicted of a sex or violent offense on or prior to July 1, 1990, and who are still incarcerated on or after July 25, 1999. This section applies to all juveniles who are adjudicated guilty of a sex or violent offense after July 1, 1994, and to all juveniles who were adjudicated guilty of a sex or violent offense on or prior to July 1, 1994, and who are still incarcerated on or after July 25, 1999. This section applies to all adults and juveniles who are convicted of a felony other than a sex or violent offense, stalking under RCW 9A.46.110, harassment under RCW 9A.46.020, or communicating with a minor for immoral purposes under RCW 9.68A.090, or adjudicated guilty of an equivalent juvenile offense, on or after July 1, 2002, and to all adults and juveniles who were convicted or adjudicated guilty of such an offense before July 1, 2002, and are still incarcerated on or after July 1, 2002;)) (6) This section applies to all adults and juveniles who:

(a) Are convicted or adjudicated guilty of an offense listed in subsection (1)(a) of this section on or after the effective date of this section and to all adults and juveniles who were convicted or adjudicated guilty of such an offense before the effective date of this section, and who are still incarcerated on or after the effective date of this section; or

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(b) Are currently required to register under RCW 9A.44.130, whether convicted before, on, or after the effective date of this section.

~~((5))~~ (7) This section creates no rights in a third person. No cause of action may be brought based upon the noncollection or nonanalysis or the delayed collection or analysis of a biological sample authorized to be taken under RCW 43.43.752 through 43.43.758.

~~((6))~~ (8) The detention, arrest, or conviction of a person based upon a database match or database information is not invalidated if it is determined that the sample was obtained or placed in the database by mistake, or if the conviction or juvenile adjudication that resulted in the collection of the biological sample was subsequently vacated or otherwise altered in any future proceeding including but not limited to posttrial or postfact-finding motions, appeals, or collateral attacks.

Sec. 3 RCW 43.43.7541 and 2002 c 289 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pflug: "Would Senator Spanel yield to a question? So I had a really an amazing day a couple of years ago when I was in my little boat off Cattle Pass, southwest tip of San Juan Island, southeast tip of San Juan Island and I was in just a little bay. We had been fishing, got tired of fishing and the boat was in neutral and so I fell asleep on the bow of the boat. I'd been napping for a little while in the sun when I was awakened by the breaching of a whale. So there was now a whole pod of whales right around me feeding so, under this bill, what am I suppose to do? Senator Spanel: "I would say, sit tight." It would seem to me like I wouldn't want to get out but would I be liable for having failed to see them coming under water?"

Senator Spanel: "I don't think a person who is using common sense would consider that you were the cause of that. You said you were surrounded by whales. That's very different from you coming from the outside cause if you were coming from the outside you probably could not have gotten in the middle of where they were. You would have also had your boat in neutral I presume too."

Senator Pflug: "Yeah, I was floating there with the tide."

Senator Spanel: "I think you'd be ok."

~~((1) The certificate of capital authorization shall be approved on a first-come, first-served basis.~~

~~(2) Those projects that do not receive approval in one authorization period shall have priority the following biennium should the project be resubmitted.))~~

(a) A certificate of capital authorization is only required for capital expenditures exceeding the expenditure minimum as defined in RCW 70.38.025.

((The department shall establish rules for determining what constitutes an emergency.)) Projects shall be considered on an emergency basis if the construction or renovation must be completed as soon as possible to:

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY, FEBRUARY 16, 2008

so this is a good faith question. What body of government decides where we are going to be putting these stops. I mean how do I know that is just isn't where you want them. You say in front of a house of a disabled person, well, does that mean if they don't have a safe spot in front of their home they would have to go some...? I'm not sure how this is going to be executed."

Senator Haugen: "Well, actually it's going to be our very safe bus drivers and all of our transit districts. It's not going to be willy nilly. They are going to pick people up everywhere. They won't be stopping where there is no shoulders but I will say that in some areas in the state of Washington there are some shoulders. There's some areas where people can get on and they don't have to go down to another spot which may be far away, but, believe me, this is done in a very safe manner. This is being done right today. All this does is authorize them. Perhaps your system, which is probably a big system, doesn't respond like the rest of our very small systems who really know the people. They arrange to pick them up. So, I don't think you're going to see it happening willy nilly across the state. I urge your support."

MOTION

MOTION

Senator Murray moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Jacobsen and Haugen be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 18 It is the intent of the legislature that this act increase the tools available to the state's largest urban area to increase pedestrian and driver safety. More than six hundred pedestrians have been killed on Washington state streets and roadways in the past eight years. The city of Seattle experiences more than four hundred collisions involving pedestrians each year, and an average of six pedestrian fatalities a year. Excessive driver speed is often cited as a factor in traffic fatalities.

The state's largest urban area is encouraged to use traffic safety cameras for the purpose of detecting speeding violations at locations with the highest pedestrian, bicycle, and vehicular traffic accident history.

Sec. 19 RCW 46.63.170 and 2007 c 372 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The use of automated traffic safety cameras for issuance of notices of infraction is subject to the following requirements:

(a) The appropriate local legislative authority must first enact an ordinance allowing for their use to detect one or more of the following: Stoplight, railroad crossing, or school speed zone violations, or speed violations on arterial streets in cities with a population over five hundred thousand only. At a minimum, the local ordinance must contain the restrictions described in this section and provisions for public notice and signage. Cities and counties using automated traffic safety cameras before July 24, 2005, are subject to the restrictions described in this section, but are not required to enact an authorizing ordinance.

(b) Use of automated traffic safety cameras is restricted to two-arterial intersections, railroad crossings, ~~(and)~~ school speed zones, and arterial streets in cities with a population over five hundred thousand only.

(c) Automated traffic safety cameras may only take pictures of the vehicle and vehicle license plate and only while an infraction is occurring. The picture must not reveal the face of the driver or of passengers in the vehicle.

(d) A notice of infraction must be mailed to the registered owner of the vehicle within fourteen days of the violation, or to the renter of a vehicle within fourteen days of establishing the renter's name and address under subsection (3)(a) of this section. The law enforcement officer issuing the notice of infraction shall include with it a certificate or facsimile thereof, based upon inspection of photographs, microphotographs, or electronic images produced by an automated traffic safety camera, stating the facts supporting the notice of infraction. This certificate or facsimile is prima facie evidence of the facts contained in it and is admissible in a proceeding charging a violation under this chapter. The photographs, microphotographs, or electronic images evidencing the violation must be available for inspection and admission into evidence in a proceeding to adjudicate the liability for the infraction. A person receiving a notice of infraction based on evidence detected by an automated traffic safety camera may respond to the notice by mail.

(e) The registered owner of a vehicle is responsible for an infraction under RCW 46.63.030(1)(e) unless the registered owner overcomes the presumption in RCW 46.63.075, or, in the case of a rental car business, satisfies the conditions under subsection (3) of this section. If appropriate under the circumstances, a renter identified under subsection (3)(a) of this section is responsible for an infraction.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all photographs, microphotographs, or electronic images prepared under this section are for the exclusive use of law enforcement in the discharge of duties under this section and are not open to the public and may not be used in a court in a pending action or proceeding unless the action or proceeding relates to a violation under this section. No photograph, microphotograph, or electronic image may be used for any purpose other than enforcement of violations under this section nor retained longer than necessary to enforce this section.

(g) All locations where an automated traffic safety camera is used must be clearly marked by placing signs in locations that clearly indicate to a driver that he or she is entering a zone where traffic laws are enforced by an automated traffic safety camera.

(h) If a county or city has established an authorized automated traffic safety camera program under this section, the compensation paid to the manufacturer or vendor of the equipment used must be based only upon the value of the equipment and services provided or rendered in support of the system, and may not be based upon a portion of the fine or civil penalty imposed or the revenue generated by the equipment.

(2) Infractions detected through the use of automated traffic safety cameras are not part of the registered owner's driving record under RCW 46.52.101 and 46.52.120. Additionally, infractions generated by the use of automated traffic safety cameras under this section shall be processed in the same manner as parking infractions, including for the purposes of RCW 3.46.120, 3.50.100, 35.20.220, 46.16.216, and 46.20.270(3). However, the amount of the fine issued for an infraction generated through the use of an automated traffic safety camera shall not exceed the amount of a fine issued for other parking infractions within the jurisdiction.

(3) If the registered owner of the vehicle is a rental car business, the law enforcement agency shall, before a notice of infraction being issued under this section, provide a written notice to the rental car business that a notice of infraction may be issued to the rental car business if the rental car business does not, within eighteen days of receiving the written notice, provide to the issuing agency by return mail:

(a) A statement under oath stating the name and known mailing address of the individual driving or renting the vehicle when the infraction occurred; or

(b) A statement under oath that the business is unable to determine who was driving or renting the vehicle at the time the infraction occurred because the vehicle was stolen at the time of the infraction. A statement provided under this subsection must be accompanied by a copy of a filed police report regarding the vehicle theft; or

(c) In lieu of identifying the vehicle operator, the rental car business may pay the applicable penalty.

Timely mailing of this statement to the issuing law enforcement agency relieves a rental car business of any liability under this chapter for the notice of infraction.

(4) Nothing in this section prohibits a law enforcement officer from issuing a notice of traffic infraction to a person in control of a vehicle at the time a violation occurs under RCW 46.63.030(1) (a), (b), or (c).

(5) For the purposes of this section, "automated traffic safety camera" means a device that uses a vehicle sensor installed to work in conjunction with an intersection traffic control system, a railroad grade crossing control system, or a speed measuring device, and a camera synchronized to automatically record one or more sequenced photographs, microphotographs, or electronic images of the rear of a motor vehicle at the time the vehicle fails to stop when facing a steady red traffic control signal or an activated railroad grade crossing control signal, or exceeds a speed limit (~~(in a school speed zone)~~) as detected by a speed measuring device."

MOTION

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1 The legislature finds that there are many working adults in Washington that need additional postsecondary educational opportunities to further develop their employability. The legislature further finds that many of these people postpone or call off their personal educational plans because they are busy working and raising their families. Because the largest portion of our workforce over the next thirty years is already employed but in need of skill development, and because many low-wage, low-skilled, and mid-skilled individuals cannot take advantage of postsecondary educational opportunities as they currently exist, the legislature intends to identify and test additional postsecondary educational opportunities tailored to make postsecondary education accessible to working adults through the use of campuses extended to include workplace-based educational offerings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2 A new section is added to chapter 28C.18 RCW to read as follows:

(1) To the extent funds are available for this purpose, the board shall identify and evaluate current national private employer workplace-based educational programs with distance learning components provided by public colleges and universities. The evaluation shall include:

- (a) A review of the literature and direct surveys of practitioners about promising practices and net impact analysis;
- (b) An initial determination of feasibility based on targeted populations served, subject matter, and level of education;
- (c) An overview of technological considerations and adult learning strategies for distribution of learning to employer sites; and
- (d) An overview of cost factors, including shared costs or co-investments by public and private partners.

(2) The board shall report the results of the study and evaluation to appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 2008.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3 A new section is added to chapter 28C.18 RCW to read as follows:

(1) To the extent funds are available for this purpose, the board shall use a matching fund strategy to select and evaluate up to eight pilot projects operated by Washington institutions of higher education. By September 2008, the board shall select up to eight institutions of higher education as defined in RCW 28B.92.030 including at least four community or technical colleges to develop and offer a pilot project providing employer workplace-based educational programs with distance learning components. The board shall convene a task force that includes representatives from the state board for community and technical colleges and the higher education coordinating board to select the participant institutions. At a minimum, the criteria for selecting the educational institutions shall address:

- (a) The ability to demonstrate a capacity to make a commitment of resources to build and sustain a high quality program;
- (b) The ability to readily engage faculty appropriately qualified to develop and deliver a high quality curriculum;
- (c) The ability to demonstrate demand for the proposed program from a sufficient number of students within its service area to make the program cost-effective and feasible to operate; and
- (d) The identification of available employers under subsection (3) of this section that demonstrate willingness to host an on-site program either because they demand the level of education proposed within the program or because they expect to accrue benefits of improved worker retention and productivity from employee engagement in higher education.

(2) Institutions of higher education may submit an application to become a pilot college under this section. An institution of higher education selected as a pilot college shall develop the curriculum for and design and deliver courses. However, the programs developed under this section are subject to approval by the state board for technical and community colleges under RCW 28B.50.090 and by the higher education coordinating board under RCW 28B.76.230.

(3) By September 2008, the board, in cooperation with the state board for community and technical colleges and the higher education coordinating board, shall select employers with the ability to offer employment and workplace-based educational programs with distance learning components in cooperation with the institutions selected under subsection (1) of this section. The selection criteria shall address:

- (a) Access to educational coursework and educational advice and support for entry-level and semi-skilled workers, including paid and unpaid release time, and adequate classroom space that is equipped appropriately for the selected technological distance learning methodologies to be used;
  - (b) On-site promotion and encouragement of worker participation, including employee orientations, peer support and mentoring, educational tutoring, and career planning;
  - (c) Allowance of a reasonable level of worker choice in the type and level of coursework available;
  - (d) Commitment to work with college partner to ensure the relevance of coursework to the skill demands and potential career pathways of the employer host site and other participating employers; and
  - (e) Willingness to participate in an evaluation of the pilot to analyze the net benefit to the employer host site, other employer partners, the worker-students, and the colleges.
- (4) In firms with union representation, the establishment of a labor-management committee to oversee design and participation shall be mandatory.
- (5) Joint applications from institutions of higher education and private employers shall be encouraged.

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2008

(6) The board shall evaluate the pilot project and report the outcomes to students and employers by December 1, 2012.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4 A new section is added to chapter 28C.18 RCW to read as follows:

SENATE BILL NO. 6776, by Senators Kline, Roach, Fraser, Fairley and Swecker

Modifying state whistleblower protections.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Kline, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6776 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6776 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1 The legislature finds and declares that government exists to conduct the people's business, and the people remaining informed about the actions of government contributes to the oversight of how the people's business is conducted. The legislature further finds that many public servants who expose actions of their government that are contrary to the law or public interest face the potential loss of their careers and livelihoods.

It is the policy of the legislature that employees should be encouraged to disclose, to the extent not expressly prohibited by law, improper governmental actions, and it is the intent of the legislature to protect the rights of state employees making these disclosures. It is also the policy of the legislature that employees should be encouraged to identify rules warranting review or provide information to the rules review committee, and it is the intent of the legislature to protect the rights of these employees.

This act shall be broadly construed in order to effectuate the purpose of this act.

Sec. 2 RCW 42.40.020 and 1999 c 361 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, the terms defined in this section shall have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Abuse of authority" means an arbitrary or capricious exercise of, or willful failure to exercise, power that adversely affects the rights of any person or that results in personal gain or advantage to himself, herself, or preferred other persons.

(2) "Auditor" means the office of the state auditor.

~~((2))~~ (3) "Employee" means any individual employed or holding office in any department or agency of state government.

~~((3))~~ (4) "Good faith" means the individual providing the information or report of improper governmental activity has a reasonable basis in fact for reporting or providing the information. ~~((communication))~~ information. ("Good faith" is lacking when the employee knows or reasonably ought to know that the report is malicious, false, or frivolous.) An individual who knowingly provides or reports malicious, false, or frivolous information, or information that is provided with reckless disregard for the truth, or who knowingly omits relevant information is not acting in good faith.

~~((4))~~ (5) "Gross mismanagement" means the arbitrary or capricious exercise of management responsibilities in a manner grossly deviating from the standard of care or competence that a reasonable person would observe in the same situation.

(6) "Gross waste of funds" means to spend or use funds or to allow funds to be used without valuable result in a manner grossly deviating from the standard of care or competence that a reasonable person would observe in the same situation.

~~((5))~~ (7)(a) "Improper governmental action" means any action by an employee undertaken in the performance of the employee's official duties:

(i) Which is ~~((a))~~ a gross waste of public funds or resources as defined in this section;

(ii) Which is in violation of federal or state law or rule, if the violation is not merely technical or of a minimum nature; ~~((or))~~

(iii) Which is of substantial and specific danger to the public health or safety;

~~((iv))~~ (iv) Which is gross mismanagement;

~~((v))~~ (v) Which is an abuse of authority; or

~~((vi))~~ (vi) Which prevents the dissemination of scientific opinion or alters technical findings without scientifically valid justification, unless state law or a common law privilege prohibits disclosure. This provision is not meant to preclude the discretion of agency management to adopt a particular scientific opinion or technical finding from among differing opinions or technical findings to the exclusion of other scientific opinions or technical findings. Nothing in this subsection prevents or impairs a state agency's or public official's ability to manage its public resources or its employees in the performance of their official job duties. This subsection does not apply to de minimis, technical disagreements that are not relevant for otherwise improper governmental activity. Nothing in this provision requires the auditor to contract or consult with external experts regarding the scientific validity, invalidity, or justification of a finding or opinion.

(b) "Improper governmental action" does not include personnel actions, for which other remedies exist, including but not limited to employee grievances, complaints, appointments, promotions, transfers, assignments, reassignments, reinstatements, restorations, reemployments, performance evaluations, reductions in pay, dismissals, suspensions, demotions, violations of the state civil service law, alleged labor agreement violations, reprimands, claims of discriminatory treatment, or any action which may be taken under chapter 41.06 RCW, or other disciplinary action except as provided in RCW 42.40.030.

~~((6))~~ (8) "Public official" means the attorney general or his or her designee or designees; the director, or equivalent thereof in the agency where the employee works; an appropriate number of individuals designated to receive whistleblower reports by the head of each agency; or the executive ethics board.

~~((9))~~ (9) "Substantial and specific danger" means a risk of serious injury, illness, peril, or loss, to which the exposure of the public is a gross deviation from the standard of care or competence which a reasonable person would observe in the same situation.

~~((7))~~ (10) "Use of official authority or influence" includes threatening, taking, directing others to take, recommending, processing, or approving any personnel action such as an appointment, promotion, transfer, assignment including but not limited to duties and office location, reassignment, reinstatement, restoration, reemployment, performance evaluation, determining any material changes in pay, provision of training or benefits, tolerance of a hostile work environment, or any adverse action under chapter 41.06 RCW, or other disciplinary action.

~~((8))~~ (11) "Whistleblower" means an employee who in good faith reports, or is perceived by the employer as reporting, whether they did or not, alleged improper governmental action to the auditor or other public official, as defined in subsection (8) of this section, initiating an investigation under RCW 42.40.040. For purposes of the provisions of this chapter and chapter 49.60 RCW relating to reprisals and retaliatory action, the term "whistleblower" also means: (a) An employee who in good faith provides information to the auditor or other public official, as defined in subsection (8) of this section, in connection with an investigation under RCW 42.40.040 and an employee who is believed to have reported asserted improper governmental action to the auditor or other public official, as defined in subsection (8) of this section, or to have provided information to the auditor or other public official, as defined in subsection (8) of this section, in connection with an investigation under RCW 42.40.040 but who, in fact, has not reported such action or provided such information; or (b) an employee who in good faith identifies rules warranting review or provides information to the rules review committee, and an employee who is believed to have identified rules warranting review or provided information to the rules review committee but who, in fact, has not done so.

Sec. 3 RCW 42.40.030 and 1995 c 403 s 510 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An employee shall not directly or indirectly use or attempt to use the employee's official authority or influence for the purpose of intimidating, threatening, coercing, commanding, influencing, or attempting to intimidate, threaten, coerce, command, or influence any individual for the purpose of interfering with the right of the individual to: (a) Disclose to the auditor (or representative thereof) or other public official, as defined in RCW 42.40.020, information concerning improper governmental action; or (b) identify rules warranting review or provide information to the rules review committee.

(2) Nothing in this section authorizes an individual to disclose information otherwise prohibited by law, except to the extent that information is necessary to substantiate the whistleblower complaint, in which case information may be disclosed to the auditor or public official, as defined in RCW 42.40.020, by the whistleblower for the limited purpose of providing information related to the complaint. Any information provided to the auditor or public official under the authority of this subsection may not be further disclosed.

Sec. 4 RCW 42.40.040 and 1999 c 361 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(1)(a) In order to be investigated, an assertion of improper governmental action must be provided to the auditor or other public official within one year after the occurrence of the asserted improper governmental action. The public official, as defined in RCW 42.40.020, receiving an assertion of improper governmental action must report the assertion to the auditor within fifteen calendar days of receipt of the assertion. The auditor retains sole authority to investigate an assertion of improper governmental action including those made to a public official. A failure of the public official to report the assertion to the auditor within fifteen days does not impair the rights of the whistleblower.

(b) Except as provided under RCW 42.40.910 for legislative and judicial branches of government, the auditor has the authority to determine whether to investigate any assertions received. In determining whether to conduct either a preliminary or further investigation, the auditor shall consider factors including, but not limited to: The nature and quality of evidence and the existence of relevant laws and rules; whether the action was isolated or systematic; the history of previous assertions regarding the same subject or subjects or subject matter; whether other avenues are available for addressing the matter; whether the matter has already been investigated or is in litigation; the seriousness or significance of the asserted improper governmental action; and the cost and benefit of the investigation. The auditor has the sole discretion to determine the priority and weight given to these and other relevant factors and to decide whether a matter is to be investigated. The auditor shall document the factors considered and the analysis applied.

(c) The auditor also has the authority to investigate assertions of improper governmental actions as part of an audit conducted under chapter 43.09 RCW. The auditor shall document the reasons for handling the matter as part of such an audit.

(d) Except as provided under RCW 42.40.910, the auditor also has the authority to investigate, within available resources, reports of improper governmental activities made by whistleblowers to any public official pursuant to RCW 42.40.050.

(2) Subject to subsection (5)(c) of this section, the identity or identifying characteristics of a whistleblower is confidential at all times unless the whistleblower consents to disclosure by written waiver or by acknowledging his or her identity in a claim against the state for retaliation. In addition, the identity or identifying characteristics of any person who in good faith provides information in an investigation under this section is confidential at all times, unless the person consents to disclosure by written waiver or by acknowledging his or her identity as a witness who provides information in an investigation.

(3) Upon receiving specific information that an employee has engaged in improper governmental action, the auditor shall, within ~~((five))~~ fifteen working days of receipt of the information, mail written acknowledgement to the whistleblower at the address provided stating whether a preliminary investigation will be conducted. For a period not to exceed ~~((thirty))~~ sixty working days from receipt of the assertion, the auditor shall conduct such preliminary investigation of the matter as the auditor deems appropriate.

(4) In addition to the authority under subsection (3) of this section, the auditor may, on its own initiative, investigate incidents of improper state governmental action.

(5)(a) If it appears to the auditor, upon completion of the preliminary investigation, that the matter is so unsubstantiated that no further investigation, prosecution, or administrative action is warranted, the auditor shall so notify the whistleblower summarizing where the allegations are deficient, and provide a reasonable opportunity to reply. Such notification may be by electronic means.

(b) The written notification shall contain a summary of the information received and of the results of the preliminary investigation with regard to each assertion of improper governmental action.

(c) In any case to which this section applies, the identity or identifying characteristics of the whistleblower shall be kept confidential unless the auditor determines that the information has been provided other than in good faith. If the auditor makes such a determination, the auditor shall provide reasonable advance notice to the employee.

(d) With the agency's consent, the auditor may forward the assertions to an appropriate agency to investigate and report back to the auditor no later than sixty working days after the assertions are received from the auditor. The auditor is entitled to all investigative records resulting from such a referral. All procedural and confidentiality provisions of this chapter apply to investigations conducted under this subsection. The auditor shall document the reasons the assertions were referred.

(6) During the preliminary investigation, the auditor shall provide written notification of the nature of the assertions to the subject or subjects of the investigation and the agency head. The notification shall include the relevant facts and laws known at the time and the procedure for the subject or subjects of the investigation and the agency head to respond to the assertions and information obtained during the investigation. This notification does not limit the auditor from considering additional facts or laws which become known during further investigation.

~~((7))~~(a) If it appears to the auditor after completion of the preliminary investigation that further investigation, prosecution, or administrative action is warranted, the auditor shall so notify the whistleblower, the subject or subjects of the investigation, and the agency head and either conduct a further investigation or issue a report under subsection ~~((10))~~ (9) of this section.

(b) If the preliminary investigation resulted from an anonymous assertion, a decision to conduct further investigation shall be subject to review by a three-person panel convened as necessary by the auditor prior to the commencement of any additional investigation. The panel shall include a state auditor representative knowledgeable of the subject agency operations, a citizen volunteer, and a representative of the attorney general's office. This group shall be briefed on the preliminary investigation and shall recommend whether the auditor should proceed with further investigation.

(c) If further investigation is to occur, the auditor shall provide written notification of the nature of the assertions to the subject or subjects of the investigation and the agency head. The notification shall include the relevant facts known at the time and the procedure to be used by the subject or subjects of the investigation and the agency head to respond to the assertions and information obtained during the investigation.

~~((8))~~ (7) Within sixty working days after the preliminary investigation period in subsection (3) of this section, the auditor shall complete the investigation and report its findings to the whistleblower unless written justification for the delay is furnished to the whistleblower, agency head, and subject or subjects of the investigation. In all such cases, the report of the auditor's investigation and findings shall be sent to the whistleblower within one year after the information was filed under subsection (3) of this section.

~~((9))~~ (8)(a) At any stage of an investigation under this section the auditor may require by subpoena the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of documentary or other evidence relating to the investigation at any designated place in the state. The auditor may issue subpoenas, administer oaths, examine witnesses, and receive evidence. In the case of contumacy or failure to obey a subpoena, the superior court for the county in which the person to whom the subpoena is addressed resides or is served may issue an order requiring the person to appear at any designated place to testify or to produce documentary or other evidence. Any failure to obey the order of the court may be punished by the court as a contempt thereof.

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(b) The auditor may order the taking of depositions at any stage of a proceeding or investigation under this chapter. Depositions shall be taken before an individual designated by the auditor and having the power to administer oaths. Testimony shall be reduced to writing by or under the direction of the individual taking the deposition and shall be subscribed by the deponent.

(c) Agencies shall cooperate fully in the investigation and shall take appropriate action to preclude the destruction of any evidence during the course of the investigation.

(d) During the investigation the auditor shall interview each subject of the investigation. If it is determined there is reasonable cause to believe improper governmental action has occurred, the subject or subjects and the agency head shall be given fifteen working days to respond to the assertions prior to the issuance of the final report.

~~((+))~~ (9)(a) If the auditor determines there is reasonable cause to believe an employee has engaged in improper governmental action, the auditor shall report, to the extent allowable under existing public disclosure laws, the nature and details of the activity to:

(i) The subject or subjects of the investigation and the head of the employing agency; ~~(and)~~

(ii) If appropriate, the attorney general or such other authority as the auditor determines appropriate;

(iii) Electronically to the governor, secretary of the senate, and chief clerk of the house of representatives; and

(iv) Except for information whose release is specifically prohibited by statute or executive order, the public through the public file of whistleblower reports maintained by the auditor.

(b) The auditor has no enforcement power except that in any case in which the auditor submits an investigative report containing reasonable cause determinations to the agency, the agency shall send its plan for resolution to the auditor within fifteen working days of having received the report. The agency is encouraged to consult with the subject or subjects of the investigation in establishing the resolution plan. The auditor may require periodic reports of agency action until all resolution has occurred. If the auditor determines that appropriate action has not been taken, the auditor shall report the determination to the governor and to the legislature and may include this determination in the agency audit under chapter 43.09 RCW.

~~((+))~~ (10) Once the auditor concludes that appropriate action has been taken to resolve the matter, the auditor shall so notify the whistleblower, the agency head, and the subject or subjects of the investigation. If the resolution takes more than one year, the auditor shall provide annual notification of its status to the whistleblower, agency head, and subject or subjects of the investigation.

~~((+2))~~ (11) Failure to cooperate with such audit or investigation, or retaliation against anyone who assists the auditor by engaging in activity protected by this chapter shall be reported as a separate finding with recommendations for corrective action in the associated report whenever it occurs.

(12) This section does not limit any authority conferred upon the attorney general or any other agency of government to investigate any matter.

Sec. 5 RCW 42.40.070 and 1989 c 284 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

A written summary of this chapter and procedures for reporting improper governmental actions established by the auditor's office shall be made available by each department or agency of state government to each employee upon entering public employment. Such notices may be in agency internal newsletters, included with paychecks or stubs, sent via electronic mail to all employees, or sent by other means that are cost-effective and reach all employees of the government level, division, or subdivision. Employees shall be notified by each department or agency of state government each year of the procedures and protections under this chapter.

Sec. 6 RCW 42.40.050 and 1999 c 283 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Any person who is a whistleblower, as defined in RCW 42.40.020, and who has been subjected to workplace reprisal or retaliatory action is presumed to have established a cause of action for the remedies provided under chapter 49.60 RCW.

(b) For the purpose of this section, "reprisal or retaliatory action" means, but is not limited to, any of the following:

~~((+))~~ (i) Denial of adequate staff to perform duties;

~~((+))~~ (ii) Frequent staff changes;

~~((+))~~ (iii) Frequent and undesirable office changes;

~~((+))~~ (iv) Refusal to assign meaningful work;

~~((+))~~ (v) Unwarranted and unsubstantiated letters of reprimand or unsatisfactory performance evaluations;

~~((+))~~ (vi) Demotion;

~~((+))~~ (viii) Denial of promotion;

~~((+))~~ (x) Dismissal;

~~((+))~~ (xi) Denial of employment;

~~((+))~~ (xii) A supervisor or superior behaving in or encouraging coworkers to behave in a hostile manner toward the whistleblower; ~~(and)~~

~~((+))~~ (xiii) A change in the physical location of the employee's workplace or a change in the basic nature of the employee's job, if either are in opposition to the employee's expressed wish;

(xiv) Issuance of or attempt to enforce any nondisclosure policy or agreement in a manner inconsistent with prior practice; or

(xv) Any other action that is inconsistent compared to actions taken before the employee engaged in conduct protected by this chapter, or compared to other employees who have not engaged in conduct protected by this chapter.

(2) The agency presumed to have taken retaliatory action under subsection (1) of this section may rebut that presumption by proving by a preponderance of the evidence showing that there have been a series of documented personnel problems or a single, egregious event, or that the agency action or actions were justified by reasons unrelated to the employee's status as a whistleblower and by showing that improper motive was not a substantial factor.

(3) Nothing in this section prohibits an agency from making any decision exercising its authority to terminate, suspend, or discipline an employee who engages in workplace reprisal or retaliatory action against a whistleblower. However, the agency also shall implement any order under chapter 49.60 RCW (other than an order of suspension if the agency has terminated the retaliator).

Sec. 7 RCW 49.60.230 and 1993 c 510 s 21 and 1993 c 69 s 11 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Who may file a complaint:

(a) Any person claiming to be aggrieved by an alleged unfair practice may, personally or by his or her attorney, make, sign, and file with the commission a complaint in writing under oath or by declaration. The complaint shall state the name of the person alleged to have committed the unfair practice and the particulars thereof, and contain such other information as may be required by the commission.

(b) Whenever it has reason to believe that any person has been engaged or is engaging in an unfair practice, the commission may issue a complaint.

(c) Any employer or principal whose employees, or agents, or any of them, refuse or threaten to refuse to comply with the provisions of this chapter may file with the commission a written complaint under oath or by declaration asking for assistance by conciliation or other remedial action.

(2) Any complaint filed pursuant to this section must be so filed within six months after the alleged act of discrimination except that complaints alleging an unfair practice in a real estate transaction pursuant to RCW 49.60.222 through 49.60.225 must be so filed within one year after the alleged unfair practice in a real estate transaction has occurred or terminated and a complaint alleging whistleblower retaliation must be filed within two years.

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(3) On or before the third Monday in January of each year, the commission shall report to the governor and the legislature the number of retaliation reports it has received in the past year, the number of such reports that were substantiated, and the number of such cases still under consideration as well as how long each unresolved case has been under consideration. This information shall also be posted for public review on the agency web site.

Sec. 8 RCW 49.60.250 and 1993 c 510 s 23 and 1993 c 69 s 14 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) In case of failure to reach an agreement for the elimination of such unfair practice, and upon the entry of findings to that effect, the entire file, including the complaint and any and all findings made, shall be certified to the chairperson of the commission. The chairperson of the commission shall thereupon request the appointment of an administrative law judge under Title 34 RCW to hear the complaint and shall cause to be issued and served in the name of the commission a written notice, together with a copy of the complaint, as the same may have been amended, requiring the respondent to answer the charges of the complaint at a hearing before the administrative law judge, at a time and place to be specified in such notice.

(2) The place of any such hearing may be the office of the commission or another place designated by it. The case in support of the complaint shall be presented at the hearing by counsel for the commission: PROVIDED, That the complainant may retain independent counsel and submit testimony and be fully heard. No member or employee of the commission who previously made the investigation or caused the notice to be issued shall participate in the hearing except as a witness, nor shall the member or employee participate in the deliberations of the administrative law judge in such case. Any endeavors or negotiations for conciliation shall not be received in evidence.

(3) The respondent shall file a written answer to the complaint and appear at the hearing in person or otherwise, with or without counsel, and submit testimony and be fully heard. The respondent has the right to cross-examine the complainant.

(4) The administrative law judge conducting any hearing may permit reasonable amendment to any complaint or answer. Testimony taken at the hearing shall be under oath and recorded.

(5) If, upon all the evidence, the administrative law judge finds that the respondent has engaged in any unfair practice, the administrative law judge shall state findings of fact and shall issue and file with the commission and cause to be served on such respondent an order requiring such respondent to cease and desist from such unfair practice and to take such affirmative action, including, (but not limited to) hiring, reinstatement or upgrading of employees, with or without back pay, an admission or restoration to full membership rights in any respondent organization, or to take such other action as, in the judgment of the administrative law judge, will effectuate the purposes of this chapter, including action that could be ordered by a court, except that damages for humiliation and mental suffering shall not exceed ~~((ten))~~ twenty thousand dollars, and including a requirement for report of the matter on compliance. Relief available for violations of RCW 49.60.222 through 49.60.224 shall be limited to the relief specified in RCW 49.60.225.

(6) If a determination is made that retaliatory action, as defined in RCW 42.40.050, has been taken against a whistleblower, as defined in RCW 42.40.020, the administrative law judge may, in addition to any other remedy, require restoration of benefits, back pay, and any increases in compensation that would have occurred, with interest; impose a civil penalty upon the retaliator of up to ~~((three))~~ five thousand dollars; and issue an order to the state employer to suspend the retaliator for up to thirty days without pay. At a minimum, the administrative law judge shall require that a letter of reprimand be placed in the retaliator's personnel file. No agency shall issue any nondisclosure order or policy, execute any nondisclosure agreement, or spend any funds requiring information that is public under the public records act, chapter 42.56 RCW, be kept confidential; except that nothing in this section shall affect any state or federal law requiring information be kept confidential. All penalties recovered shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the general fund.

(7) The final order of the administrative law judge shall include a notice to the parties of the right to obtain judicial review of the order by appeal in accordance with the provisions of RCW 34.05.510 through 34.05.598, and that such appeal must be served and filed within thirty days after the service of the order on the parties.

(8) If, upon all the evidence, the administrative law judge finds that the respondent has not engaged in any alleged unfair practice, the administrative law judge shall state findings of fact and shall similarly issue and file an order dismissing the complaint.

(9) An order dismissing a complaint may include an award of reasonable attorneys' fees in favor of the respondent if the administrative law judge concludes that the complaint was frivolous, unreasonable, or groundless.

(10) The commission shall establish rules of practice to govern, expedite, and effectuate the foregoing procedure.

(11) Instead of filing with the commission, a complainant may pursue arbitration conducted by the American arbitration association or another arbitrator mutually agreed by the parties, with the cost of arbitration shared equally by the complainant and the respondent.

MOTION

Senator Honeyford moved that the following amendment by Senator Honeyford be adopted.

On page 5, after line 34, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 4 (1) The legislature finds that many sewage treatment facilities in the Puget Sound watershed manage excess capacity not by building extra containment facilities or minimizing passive introductions, but by allowing raw and untreated human sewage and storm drain collections to flow directly into the Puget Sound. This practice, although destructive to the Puget Sound's ecosystem, is a legal activity and an accepted practice under the national pollution discharge elimination system permit held by most sewage treatment facilities.

(2) The legislature further finds that recent years have brought with them significant investments in the health of Puget Sound, both by the state, federal government, tribal governments, nonprofit organizations, and the business community. These investments have come in the form of policy initiatives, financial contributions, and countless hours of volunteer labor.

(3) The legislature further finds that although sewage treatment facilities may be technically allowed to discharge untreated sewage into the Puget Sound, that does not mean that the entities responsible for the facilities should be entitled to receive recognition as a Puget Sound partner, and the benefits that come with the designation, while actively embracing policies that result in a significant undermining of the investments made to restore the health of Puget Sound.

(4) Therefore, it is the intent of the legislature to avoid the creation of a mechanism that rewards sewage treatment facilities for operating in a way that is destructive to the health of Puget Sound, and to send a strong message to sewage treatment facilities that there is a difference between how they are legally permitted to operate and how they should choose to operate as good neighbors to a treasured and imperiled aquatic ecosystem.

Sec. 5 RCW 90.71.340 and 2007 c 341 s 16 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature intends that fiscal incentives and disincentives be used as accountability measures designed to achieve consistency with the action agenda by:

(a) Ensuring that projects and activities in conflict with the action agenda are not funded;

(b) Aligning environmental investments with strategic priorities of the action agenda; and

(c) Using state grant and loan programs to encourage consistency with the action agenda.

(2) The council shall adopt measures to ensure that funds appropriated for implementation of the action agenda and identified by proviso or specifically referenced in the omnibus appropriations act pursuant to RCW 43.88.030(1)(g) are expended in a manner that will achieve the intended results. In developing such performance measures, the council shall establish criteria for the expenditure of the funds consistent with the responsibilities and timelines under the action agenda, and require reporting and tracking of funds expended. The council may adopt other measures, such as requiring interagency agreements regarding the expenditure of provided or specifically referenced Puget Sound funds.

(3) The partnership shall work with other state agencies providing grant and loan funds or other financial assistance for projects and activities that impact the health of the Puget Sound ecosystem under chapters 43.155, 70.105D, 70.146, 77.85, 79.105, 79A.15, 89.08, and 90.50A RCW to, within the authorities of the programs, develop consistent funding criteria that prohibits funding projects and activities that are in conflict with the action agenda.

(4)(a)(i) The partnership shall develop a process and criteria by which entities that consistently achieve outstanding progress in implementing the action agenda are designated as Puget Sound partners.

(ii) No public entity may be named a Puget Sound partner if that entity operates a sewage treatment system and:

(A) Has as a condition of its national pollution discharge elimination system permit, or other government approval of its operations, a provision to discharge untreated sewage into the Puget Sound during storm events; and

(B) Has actually discharged more than one million gallons of untreated sewage in any one hour, either lawfully or unlawfully, into the Puget Sound within the previous five years.

(b) State agencies shall work with the partnership to revise their grant, loan, or other financial assistance allocation criteria to create a preference for entities designated as Puget Sound partners for funds allocated to the Puget Sound basin, pursuant to RCW 43.155.070, 70.105D.070, 70.146.070, 77.85.130, 79.105.150, 79A.15.040, 89.08.520, and 90.50A.040. This process shall be developed on a timeline that takes into consideration state grant and loan funding cycles.

(5) Any entity that receives state funds to implement actions required in the action agenda shall report biennially to the council on progress in completing the action and whether expected results have been achieved within the time frames specified in the action agenda."

Concerning homeowners' associations.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fraser, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6745 was not substituted for Senate Bill No. 6745 and the substitute bill was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Fraser moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Fraser, Haugen and Weinstein be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

2008 REGULAR SESSION

"Sec. 1 RCW 64.38.005 and 1995 c 283 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The intent of this chapter is to provide consistent laws regarding the formation and legal administration of homeowners' associations. Unless otherwise provided in this chapter, this chapter applies to all homeowners' associations in the state, regardless of when the declaration was recorded or the association was established.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

An obligation of good faith is imposed in the performance and enforcement of all contracts and duties governed by this chapter and in all other transactions involving declarants, associations, and their members.

For purposes of this section, "good faith" means honesty in fact and the observance of reasonable standards of fair dealing.

"Sec. 3 RCW 64.38.010 and 1995 c 283 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

For purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Homeowners' association" or "association" means a corporation, unincorporated association, or other legal entity, each member of which is an owner of residential real property located within the association's jurisdiction, as described in the governing documents, and by virtue of membership (~~or ownership of property~~), the owner is obligated to pay (~~real property taxes, insurance premiums, maintenance costs, or for improvement of real property other than that which is owned by the member~~) assessments pursuant to the governing documents. "Homeowners' association" does not mean an association created under chapter 64.32 or 64.34 RCW.

(2) "Governing documents" means the declaration, articles of incorporation, bylaws, (~~plat, declaration of covenants, conditions, and restrictions~~;) rules and regulations of the association, or other written instrument by which the association has the authority to exercise any of the powers provided for in this chapter or to manage, maintain, or otherwise affect the property under its jurisdiction.

(3) "Board of directors" or "board" means the body, regardless of name, with primary authority to manage the affairs of the association.

(4) "Common areas" means property owned, or otherwise maintained, repaired or administered by the association.

(5) "Common expense" means the costs incurred by the association to exercise any of the powers provided for in this chapter.

(6) "Residential real property" means any real property, the use of which is limited by law, covenant or otherwise to primarily residential or recreational purposes.

(7) "Assessment" means all sums chargeable by the association against a lot including, without limitation:

(a) Regular and special assessments for common expenses, charges, and fines imposed by the association;

(b) Interest and late charges on any delinquent account; and

(c) Costs of collection, including reasonable attorneys' fees, incurred by the association in connection with the collection of an owner's delinquent account.

This subsection (7) supersedes any inconsistent provision in the governing documents.

(8) "Bylaws" means the code adopted for the regulation or management of the internal affairs of the association, irrespective of the designated name of that code. If an association is incorporated under Title 23 or 24 RCW, "bylaws" means the definition assigned to "bylaws" in the act pursuant to which the association is incorporated.

(9) "Community" means residential real property that is subject to a declaration under which an association is established for governance of the community.

(10) "Cooperative" means a community in which the residential real property is owned by an association where each of those members is entitled, by virtue of his or her ownership interest in the association, to exclusive possession of a portion of the property.

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(11) "Declarant" means any person who executes as a declarant a declaration or succeeds to the rights of a declarant pursuant to an instrument recorded in the real property records of every county in which any portion of the community is located.

(12) "Declaration" means the declaration of covenants, conditions, and restrictions or any other document, however denominated, that is recorded in every county in which any portion of the community is located and that provides for the establishment of an association to govern the community. In the case of a cooperative, "declaration" means the document or documents, however denominated, that create the cooperative housing association that owns the residential real property comprising the cooperative, whether or not the document or documents are recorded.

(13) "Lot" means a physical portion of a community designated for separate ownership or occupancy and designated for residential use, the boundaries of which are described in the real property records of every county in which any portion of the community is located. Within a cooperative, "lot" means that portion of the community designated for exclusive possession by a member of the cooperative's association. "Lot" does not mean an apartment created under chapter 64.32 RCW or a unit created under chapter 64.34 RCW.

(14) "Owner" means a declarant or other person who owns a lot, but does not include a person who has an interest in a lot solely as security for an obligation. Under a real estate contract, "owner" means the vendee, not the vendor.

(15) "Person" means a natural person, corporation, partnership, limited partnership, trust, government subdivision or agency, or other legal entity.

(16) "Rules" means the rules, regulations, and policies, irrespective of their designated name, that are adopted by the members of the board of an association in accordance with the governing documents and that supplement, but do not contradict or contravene, the governing documents.

Sec. 4 RCW 64.38.015 and 1995 c 283 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The membership of an association at all times shall consist exclusively of the owners of all real property over which the association has jurisdiction, both developed and undeveloped or, in the case of a cooperative, the members of the association who by virtue of their ownership interest in the association have exclusive possession of a lot.

Sec. 5 RCW 64.38.020 and 1995 c 283 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(3) Hire and discharge or contract with managing agents and other employees, agents, and independent contractors;

(4) Institute, defend, or intervene in litigation or administrative proceedings in its own name on behalf of itself or two or more owners on matters affecting the homeowners' association, but not on behalf of owners involved in disputes that are not the responsibility of the association;

(5) Make contracts and incur liabilities;

(6) Regulate the use, maintenance, repair, replacement, and modification of common areas;

(7) Cause additional improvements to be made as a part of the common areas;

(8) Acquire, hold, encumber, and convey in its own name any right, title, or interest to real or personal property;

(9) Grant easements, leases, licenses, and concessions through or over the common areas and petition for or consent to the vacation of streets and alleys;

(10) Impose and collect any payments, fees, or charges for the use, rental, or operation of the common areas;

(11) Impose and collect charges for late payments of assessments ~~((and, after notice and an opportunity to be heard by the board of directors or by the representative designated by the board of directors and in accordance with the procedures as provided in the bylaws or rules and regulations adopted by the board of directors, levy reasonable fines in accordance with a previously established schedule adopted by the board of directors and furnished to the owners for violation of the bylaws, rules, and regulations of the association));~~

(12) Take enforcement action with respect to any violation of the governing documents;

(13) After notice and an opportunity to be heard by the board of directors or by the representative designated by the board of directors, and in accordance with the procedures provided in the governing documents, levy reasonable fines in accordance with a previously established schedule adopted by the board of directors and furnished to the owners for violations of the governing documents;

(14) Exercise any other powers conferred by the declaration, articles, or bylaws;

~~((13))~~ (15) Exercise all other powers that may be exercised in this state by the same type of ~~((corporation))~~ legal entity as the association, provided those powers do not conflict with any duties imposed on an association in this chapter; and ~~((14))~~ (16) Exercise any other powers necessary and proper for the governance and operation of the association.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

- (vi) Any other information reasonably requested by the seller on behalf of the mortgagees of prospective buyers.

The association may charge a fee for photocopying costs not to exceed fifteen cents per page for providing any of the documents required to be disclosed in this subsection. The duty to provide copies of documents that are recorded in the recording office of the county in which the lot is located is satisfied if the association identifies in the resale certificate a link to a web site in which copies of the recorded documents can be obtained. The duty to provide copies of documents that are publicly available on the association's web site is satisfied if the association identifies in the resale certificate a link to its web site. The duty to provide copies of the documents required to be disclosed in this subsection is satisfied if the association provides the documents via compact disc or other electronic storage device or via electronic transmission to an email address that the seller who requests the issuance of a resale certificate shall provide to the association.

(3)(a) The association, within ten days after a request by a seller, and subject to the seller's payment of a reasonable fee not to exceed one hundred fifty dollars, shall furnish to the seller a resale certificate signed by an officer or authorized agent of the association and containing the information necessary to enable the seller to comply with this section.

(b) The association may charge a seller a nominal fee for updating a resale certificate within six months of the seller's request.

(4) The seller shall sign the resale certificate, but the seller is not liable to the buyer for any erroneous information provided by the association and included in the resale certificate unless, and to the extent, the seller had actual knowledge of the erroneous information.

(5) The resale certificate is not required in real property transfers that occur between commercial buyers and sellers or those transfers listed in RCW 64.06.010.

(6) The resale certificate must be attached to the seller disclosure statement required under RCW 64.06.020 unless the buyer has waived the right to receive a seller disclosure statement as provided under chapter 64.06 RCW.

(7) The timing of delivery of the seller's disclosures to the buyer under this section is governed by RCW 64.06.030. A buyer may rescind an agreement for the purchase and sale of a lot in accordance with RCW 64.06.030, and the buyer has the rights and remedies provided in RCW 64.06.070.

(8) The fee set forth in subsection (3)(a) of this section may be adjusted for inflation based on the consumer price index applicable to the geographic area in which the lot is located.

(9) An association may require the seller to obtain a signed acknowledgement from the buyer affirming that any disclosed information will not be disclosed to third parties unless such disclosure is related to the decision to purchase the lot.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided under subsection (2) of this section, a seller must furnish to a purchaser before the execution of any contract for sale of residential real property in which the lot is subject to this chapter the following notice:

"BY PURCHASING THE RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY THAT IS THE SUBJECT OF THIS AGREEMENT, YOU WILL BECOME A MEMBER OF A HOMEOWNERS'

2008 REGULAR SESSION

ASSOCIATION THAT GOVERNS THE COMMUNITY IN WHICH THE PROPERTY IS LOCATED. THE ASSOCIATION MAY MAINTAIN AND REPAIR COMMON AREAS, RESTRICT THE USE OF YOUR PROPERTY, COLLECT DUES, AND APPROVE OR DISAPPROVE BUILDING PLANS. UNLESS YOU WAIVE YOUR RIGHT IN WRITING, YOU ARE ENTITLED TO RECEIVE FROM THE SELLER AS PART OF THE DISCLOSURE STATEMENT REQUIRED UNDER CHAPTER 64.06 RCW A CERTIFICATE SIGNED BY AN OFFICER OR AUTHORIZED AGENT OF THE HOMEOWNERS' ASSOCIATION DISCLOSING CERTAIN FINANCIAL AND OTHER INFORMATION ABOUT THE ASSOCIATION."

(2) The notice is not required in real property transfers that occur between commercial buyers and sellers or those transfers listed in RCW 64.06.010.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Within thirty days after adoption by the board of directors of any proposed regular or special budget of the association, the board shall set a date for a meeting of the owners to consider adoption of the budget no less than ten and no more than sixty days after the mailing of the summary of the proposed regular or special budget. Notwithstanding any contrary provision in the governing documents, the board must allow members to vote on the issue of ratifying the budget either by mail-in ballot or at the meeting, in person or by proxy. Unless the proposed budget is rejected at that meeting by a majority of all the votes in the association, or any larger percentage specified in the governing documents, the proposed budget is ratified and approved whether or not there is a quorum at the meeting. If the proposed budget is rejected or the required notice is not provided, the periodic budget last adopted by the owners shall be continued until the owners adopt a subsequent budget proposed by the board of directors.

(2) To the extent authorized in the declaration, an association's lien rights may include liens to secure payment of fines validly imposed.

(3) A lien for unpaid assessments and the personal liability for the payment of assessments is extinguished unless proceedings to enforce the lien or collect the debt are instituted within six years after the amount of the assessments sought to be recovered becomes due.

(4) This section applies retroactively to any governing documents in effect on the effective date of this section.

(5) This section supersedes any provisions of the governing documents that are inconsistent with this section. All such inconsistent provisions of the governing documents are void and unenforceable.

Sec. 14 RCW 64.38.035 and 1995 c 283 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A meeting of the association must be held at least once each year.

(2) Special meetings of the association may be called by the president, a majority of the board of directors, or by owners having ~~((ten))~~ five percent of the votes in the association and must be held at a reasonable time and at a reasonable place. Any business may be placed on the agenda for a special meeting as long as the business does not conflict with this chapter or the association's governing documents. If the special meeting is called by the members, the members may determine the business to be placed on the agenda. The board may also place business on the special meeting agenda. This subsection supersedes any inconsistent provisions of the governing documents or other applicable statute.

(3) Not less than ~~((fourteen))~~ ten nor more than sixty days in advance of any meeting, the secretary or other officers specified in the bylaws shall cause notice to be hand-delivered or sent prepaid by first-class United States mail to the mailing address of each owner or to any other mailing address designated in writing by the owner. The notice of any meeting shall state the time and place of the meeting and the business to be placed on the agenda by the board of directors for a vote by the owners, including the general nature of any proposed amendment to the articles of incorporation, bylaws, any budget or changes in the previously approved budget that result in a change in assessment obligation, and any proposal to remove a director.

~~((2) Except as provided in this subsection, all meetings of the board of directors shall be open for observation by all owners of record and their authorized agents. The board of directors shall keep minutes of all actions taken by the board, which shall be available to all owners. Upon the affirmative vote in open meeting to assemble in closed session, the board of directors may convene in closed executive session to consider personnel matters; consult with legal counsel or consider communications with legal counsel; and discuss likely or pending litigation, matters involving possible violations of the governing documents of the association, and matters involving the possible liability of an owner to the association. The motion shall state specifically the purpose for the closed session. Reference to the motion and the stated purpose for the closed session shall be included in the minutes. The board of directors shall restrict the consideration of matters during the closed portions of meetings only to those purposes specifically exempted and stated in the motion. No motion, or other action adopted, passed, or agreed to in closed session may become effective unless the board of directors, following the closed session, reconvenes in open meeting and votes in the open meeting on such motion, or other action which is reasonably identified. The requirements of this subsection shall not require the disclosure of information in violation of law or which is otherwise exempt from disclosure.))~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

Except as provided in this section, all meetings of the board of directors shall be open for observation by all owners of record and their authorized agents. The board of directors shall keep minutes of all actions taken by the board, which must be available to all owners. Upon the affirmative vote in open meeting to assemble in closed session, the board of directors may convene in closed executive session to consider personnel matters; consult with legal counsel or consider communications with legal counsel; and discuss likely or pending litigation, matters involving possible violations of the governing documents of the association, and matters involving the possible liability of an owner to the association. The motion must state specifically the purpose for the closed session. Reference to the motion and the stated purpose for the closed session must be included in the minutes. The board of directors shall restrict the consideration of matters during the closed portions of meetings only to those purposes specifically exempted and stated in the motion. A motion, or other action adopted, passed, or agreed to in closed session may not become effective unless the board of directors, following the closed session, reconvenes in open meeting and votes in the open meeting on such motion, or other action that is reasonably identified. This section does not require the disclosure of information in violation of law or that is otherwise exempt from disclosure. This section supersedes any conflicting provisions in Title 23 or 24 RCW or in the association's governing documents.

Sec. 16 RCW 64.38.040 and 1995 c 283 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the governing documents specify a ~~((different))~~ smaller percentage, a quorum is present throughout any meeting of the association if the owners to which ~~((thirty-four))~~ twenty-five percent of the votes of the association are allocated are present in person or by proxy at the beginning of the meeting.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

For declarations that exist before the effective date of this section:

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(1) If a declaration requires more than seventy-five percent of the votes in the association to approve any amendment to the declaration, the association shall, if so directed by owners holding at least sixty-seven percent of the votes in the association, bring an action in superior court for the county, which any portion of the real property subject to the declaration is located, to reduce the percentage of votes required to amend the declaration. The owners' decision to bring an action may, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the declaration, be made by votes cast at a meeting of the association duly called or by written consent, or by both. The action shall be an in rem declaratory judgment action whose title shall be the description of the property subject to the declaration.

(2) If the court finds that the percentage of votes set forth in the declaration is an unreasonable burden on the ability of the owners to amend the declaration and of the association to administer the property under its jurisdiction, the court shall enter an order striking the percentage of votes from the declaration and substituting the percentage of votes that the court determines to be appropriate in the circumstances. The court shall not mandate approval of less than sixty-seven percent of the votes in the association to amend any provision of the declaration.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, declarations recorded after the effective date of this section can be amended with the approval of at least sixty-seven percent of the total votes in the association, or any larger percentage specified in the declaration.

(2) A declarant may unilaterally amend the declaration, but only if the right to amend is clearly stated in the declaration and if the amendment:

(a) Subjects additional property to the declaration pursuant to a plan of expansion set forth in the declaration;

(b) Withdraws property from the declaration, if the withdrawal is allowed under the terms of the declaration and if the property to be withdrawn is not owned by any third party;

(c) Brings any provision of the declaration into compliance with any applicable statute, rule, regulation, or judicial determination;

(d) Enables any title insurance company to issue title insurance coverage for the lots;

(e) Enables any institutional or governmental lender, purchaser, insurer, or guarantor of mortgage loans, to make, purchase, insure, or guarantee mortgage loans for the lots; or

(f) Satisfies the requirements of any local, state, or federal governmental agency.

The amendment shall not adversely affect the title to any lot unless the owner of the affected lot consents to it in writing.

(3) The declaration may require all or a specified number or percentage of the eligible mortgagees who hold first lien security interests encumbering lots to approve specified actions of the owners or association as a condition to the effectiveness of those actions, but a requirement for approval may not operate to:

(a) Deny or delegate control of the general administrative affairs of the association by the owners or board of directors;

(b) Prevent the association or board of directors from commencing, intervening in, or settling any litigation or proceeding; or

(c) Prevent any insurance trustee or the association from receiving and distributing any insurance proceeds.

For purposes of this subsection, "eligible mortgagee" means the holder of a mortgage on a lot that has filed with the secretary of the association a written request for copies of notices of any action by the association that requires the consent of mortgagees that includes the lot number and address of the property subject to the mortgage. If an eligible mortgagee fails to respond to a request for approval within thirty days following the association's issuance of a notice requesting such approval, the eligible mortgagee's approval is deemed granted.

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(4) The declaration may permit the association's members to approve an amendment through a combination of votes conducted during meetings or through a written consent process.

(5) The declaration may require that to be effective all declaration amendments must be signed by one or more officers of the association, or if applicable, by the declarant. To be effective, all declaration amendments must be acknowledged and recorded in each county in which any portion of the property is located.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

An action to challenge the validity of a declaration amendment adopted by the association under this chapter and after the effective date of this section may not be brought more than one year after the amendment is recorded.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

(1) This section applies to associations in which the declaration or the bylaws authorize only the board of directors to adopt, amend, or rescind bylaws and to do so without a vote of the members and, with respect to those associations, to all bylaws adopted or amended by the board of directors after the effective date of this section.

(2) A bylaw adopted, amended, or rescinded by the board of directors shall not be valid or enforceable until it is ratified by the association's members as set forth in this subsection:

(a) The board of directors shall submit all bylaws adopted, amended, or rescinded by the board to a vote of the members. The vote must be held at the next regularly scheduled annual meeting of the association, or at a special meeting held before the next annual meeting.

(b) The notice of the annual or special meeting must include the text of any existing bylaw that the board has approved for amendment or rescission, and the text of any new or amended bylaw approved by the board.

(c) Unless the governing documents specify a longer advance notice period for a meeting, notice of the meeting, at which the proposed bylaw change will be voted upon, must be provided at least ten days in advance of the meeting and shall not be given more than sixty days in advance of the meeting.

(d) The proposed bylaw change is deemed approved and ratified by the members unless a majority of all the votes in the association vote at the meeting, in person or by proxy, to reject the bylaw change approved by the board.

(3) All bylaw changes ratified by the members in accordance with this section take effect the day after the annual or special meeting at which they were ratified.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

For rules, or amendments to rules, adopted after the effective date of this section:

(1) A rule adopted by the board is valid and enforceable if all the following requirements are satisfied:

(a) The rule is in writing;

(b) The rule is required by law or, within the authority of the board, conferred by law or by the declaration;

(c) The rule is consistent with the governing documents; and

(d) The rule is adopted or amended in substantial compliance with the requirements of this chapter.

(2) Except for emergency rules, the board of directors must provide the association's members with notice and an opportunity to comment on any proposed new or amended rule before the board is authorized to adopt or enforce that rule. For purposes of this section, an "emergency rule" is a rule that is necessary for the immediate preservation of health and safety or a rule that sets forth specific rights or obligations affecting the association or its members under state statutes or administrative rules. Emergency rules become effective immediately, subject to the members' right to request a ratification vote under subsection (3) of this section.

(3) Except for emergency rules, rules adopted by the board of directors following notice and an opportunity for comment become effective thirty days after notice of the rules is provided to the members in the manner authorized by the governing documents, unless a written petition signed by twenty percent of the total votes in the association is submitted to the board within that thirty-day period requesting a ratification vote on the proposed rule. If a ratification vote is requested, the association shall use the following process for the ratification vote:

(a) The board of directors must submit the rules on which a ratification vote has been requested to a vote of the members. The vote must be conducted at the next regularly scheduled annual meeting of the association, or at a special meeting held before the next annual meeting.

(b) The notice of the meeting, at which the ratification vote will be conducted, must include the text of the proposed rules.

(c) Unless the governing documents specify a longer advance notice period for an association meeting, notice of the meeting, at which the ratification vote will be conducted, must be provided at least ten days in advance of the meeting and shall not be provided more than sixty days in advance of the meeting.

(d) The proposed rule change is deemed approved and ratified by the members, unless a majority of all the votes in the association vote at the meeting, in person or by proxy, to reject the rule change approved by the board.

(e) All rule changes ratified by the members in accordance with this section take effect on the original effective date or later effective date established by the board.

(4) The board of directors is not required to use the following optional rule-making process. However, use of this process establishes compliance with the requirements of subsection (1) of this section. For purposes of this section, "rule change" means the adoption or amendment of a rule by the board.

(a) The board shall give notice of a proposed rule change to the owners. The notice must include the following information: (i) The text of the proposed rule change; (ii) a description of the purpose and effect of the proposed rule change; and (iii) the deadline for submission of a comment on the proposed rule change.

(b) For a period of at least thirty days following actual or constructive delivery of a notice of a proposed rule change, the board shall accept written comments from owners on the proposed rule change.

(c) The board shall consider any comments it receives and make a decision on a proposed rule change at a board meeting. Except for emergency rules, a decision on a rule may not be made until after the comment submission deadline.

(d) The board shall give notice of a rule change to the owners. The notice must set out the text of the rule change and state the date the rule change takes effect. Except for emergency rules, the date the rule change takes effect must not be less than thirty days after notice of the rule change is provided in the manner authorized in the governing documents.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Requestor" means the party requesting mediation.

(b) "Request" means a request for mediation.

(c) "Recipient" means the party that receives the request for mediation.

(2) For disputes that arise after the effective date of this section and do not apply to any judicial or other legal proceedings pending before the effective date of this section:

(a) With the exception of the claims listed in (b) of this subsection, disputes between owners or between owners and their association that involve the governing documents must be submitted to mediation before any party may pursue the claim through court proceedings.

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(b) The following categories of claims are exempt from the prelitigation mediation requirement under (a) of this subsection:

(i) Claims in which the statute of limitations will soon expire, except that any party to the lawsuit may file a motion with the court requesting that the judge order the parties to mediate before allowing them to proceed with the lawsuit and temporarily stay the litigation proceedings pending the outcome of mediation;

(ii) Claims for injunctive relief, except that any party to the lawsuit may file a motion with the court requesting that the judge order the parties to mediate before allowing them to proceed with the lawsuit and temporarily stay the litigation proceedings pending the outcome of mediation;

(iii) Claims for declaratory judgment;

(iv) Claims related to assessments, or the collection of assessments, or to foreclosures;

(v) Claims for defects in construction of homes and other improvements, whether individually owned or part of the common areas;

(vi) Claims that involve parties who are not subject to the association's governing documents;

(vii) Claims between members of the association that are unrelated to the association's governing documents;

(viii) Claims or issues that have been the subject of a previous mediation request, response, or mediation conference under this section within twelve months of the date of the most recent request, response, or mediation conference, whichever is sooner.

(c) Unless another reasonable alternative dispute resolution process is set forth in the declaration or adopted by a majority vote of the nondeclarant members of the association, the following procedures in this subsection govern the mediation of disputes under this chapter:

(i) The party requesting mediation must submit a request for mediation to the other parties;

(ii) The request may be made in any medium, provided that the requestor can prove the request was received by the recipient;

(iii) Mediation must be conducted by one mediator, unless the parties agree otherwise;

(iv) Unless all parties to the mediation agree otherwise, the mediation conference must be held within ninety days of the date the request is received by all recipients;

(v) The request for mediation must: State the issues that the requestor wishes to mediate; certify that the requestor is willing to meet in good faith; and propose a mediator and provide full contact information (name, address, telephone and fax numbers, and e-mail address) for the proposed mediator;

(vi) The recipients must respond to the requestor no later than thirty days after the request is received by all recipients. The response may be made in any medium as long as the recipient can prove that the response was received by the requestor;

(vii) If the recipient agrees to mediate, the response must include a statement of any additional issues that the recipient wishes to mediate, a statement of whether the mediator proposed by the requestor is acceptable to the recipient and, if not, a proposed alternative mediator and that mediator's contact information. If the recipient declines to mediate, the response must indicate this decision and include a statement of the reasons that the recipient declines to mediate;

(viii) The requestor must reply to the recipient's response within fifteen days of receipt. If the response identifies additional issues that the recipient wishes to address at mediation, the reply must state whether the requestor agrees to mediate those issues. If the requestor does not agree to mediate those issues, the reply must indicate this decision and include a statement of the reasons that the requestor declines to mediate the issues identified by the recipient. A requestor's refusal to mediate the issues identified in the reply is subject to (e) of this subsection;

(ix) If the recipient has proposed an alternative mediator, the reply must state whether the alternative mediator is acceptable to the requestor. If the alternative mediator is not acceptable, the requestor must contact the two proposed mediators within fifteen days of delivering the reply and request that the mediators choose a third person who is available within the time frame required in this section to act as mediator;

(x) The mediator may be an attorney or judge. The mediator's primary function is to assist the parties in communicating with one another and to find ways to resolve the disputed issues by agreement.

(d) Either the recipient or the requestor can decline mediation. If mediation is declined, or a party fails to participate in a scheduled mediation conference, the other party may proceed with filing a legal action. In such a case, the court may:

(i) Enter an order compelling the parties to participate in a mediation conference if the court determines that mediation would be productive or useful; and

(ii) Impose appropriate remedies for a party's unjustified failure to mediate claims subject to mandatory mediation requirements imposed under this section including, without limitation, requiring that party to pay all mediation fees and costs charged by the mediator, reimburse the plaintiff for the costs of filing suit, reimburse the plaintiff for process of service costs, and reimburse the plaintiff for some or all of the plaintiffs' attorneys' fees and costs.

This subsection (2)(d) supersedes any inconsistent provisions in an association's governing documents. The standard of review of a trial court's decision under this section is abuse of discretion.

(e) Unless the parties agree otherwise, the fees and costs of mediation must be shared equally by all parties to the mediation. For purposes of this subsection (2)(e), "fees and costs of mediation" means only those fees and costs charged by the mediator or mediation service and does not include investigation costs or fees paid to an attorney to represent a party to the mediation. If the mediator requires prepayment of all or a portion of the anticipated fees and costs, all parties to the mediation must comply with this requirement. An association may not condition mediation on a member's payment of any charges, costs, or fees.

(3) This section does not limit any party's right to seek relief in a court of competent jurisdiction after the mediation requirements in this section have been met.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

Unless the governing documents permit or require other methods for providing notice, all notices required under this chapter or the governing documents must be delivered or sent by first-class mail postage prepaid to the mailing address of each owner, but not for a shorter time period for providing notice than is required under RCW 64.38.035.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided under subsection (2) of this section, in a transaction for the sale of a lot that is subject to this chapter, the seller shall furnish to a buyer a homeowners' association information pamphlet that is identical, in form and substance, to the following:

"FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

ABOUT HOMEOWNERS' ASSOCIATIONS

Buying a home is a big investment. Homeownership frequently includes automatic membership in a homeowners' association (HOA). There are rights and obligations that come with being a member of an HOA. The information below attempts to give you a basic understanding of what membership in an HOA may involve. To better understand what membership in a particular HOA might involve, you should review that HOA's governing documents and consider seeking the assistance of legal counsel to answer any questions you may have.

(1) WHAT IS AN HOA?

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

Washington law defines an HOA as a legal entity in which each member is an owner of residential property that is subject to the HOA's jurisdiction as a result of certain recorded governing documents. The law governing homeowners' associations, chapter 64.38 RCW, provides more information in this regard.

(2) WHAT ARE THE GOVERNING DOCUMENTS OF AN HOA?

The principal governing document of an HOA is often known as the Declaration of Covenants, Conditions, and Restrictions and Easements (CCRs). Other important HOA documents may include Articles of Incorporation, Bylaws, Rules, and Policies.

(3) WHAT SERVICES AND AMENITIES ARE PROVIDED BY HOAs?

The services and amenities provided by HOAs vary greatly from community to community. These may include common areas such as a swimming pool, tennis court, playground, trails, community center, or even a golf course. Some HOAs provide landscaping services for homeowners, and some even paint and maintain the exterior of homes.

(4) WHAT OBLIGATIONS DOES AN HOA HAVE?

Each HOA is different, but the most common HOA roles include maintaining common areas and amenities, administering and enforcing use and architectural restrictions, adopting budgets, and collecting assessments.

(5) AM I REQUIRED TO BE A MEMBER OF THE HOA?

Generally, the governing documents for an HOA make membership mandatory for all owners within the community. The HOA's governing documents are essentially a legally binding contract between the owner/members and the association. If you have questions about your legal rights and obligations as a member of the HOA, you should consult an attorney.

(6) HOW DOES MEMBERSHIP IN AN HOA AFFECT THE OWNERSHIP OF MY HOME?

By virtue of your membership in an HOA, you will have various rights and obligations as described in the governing documents. These may include restrictions on the use of your property, architectural controls on future improvements of your property, and the obligation to pay assessments, also known as dues, to the HOA.

(7) WHO IS IN CHARGE OF AN HOA?

HOAs are typically governed by a board of directors or board of trustees elected by the homeowners. The board's responsibilities and power depend upon the HOA's governing documents.

(8) HOW DOES THE HOA ENFORCE THE GOVERNING DOCUMENTS?

The governing documents of an HOA typically give it wide-ranging powers to enforce its covenants, rules, and policies. This may include the power to file a lawsuit for damages or injunctive relief or fine an owner who does not comply with the restrictions.

(9) WHAT HAPPENS IF I DO NOT PAY MY HOA ASSESSMENTS?

The governing documents likely give your HOA the power to place a lien on your home or take other legal action if you fail to pay properly levied assessments. If you do not pay your assessments on time, this might result in the foreclosure of your home by the HOA.

(10) WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN AN HOA AND A CONDOMINIUM ASSOCIATION?

A condominium association is a specialized type of homeowners' association. A condominium association is created under different statutes than those that apply to HOAs. Unless your governing documents state that your community is a condominium created pursuant to the Washington Condominium Act, chapter 64.34 RCW, or the Horizontal Property Regimes Act, chapter 64.32 RCW, it is not a condominium.

(11) WHAT HAPPENS IF ONE OF THE COMMON AREAS OF MY HOA MUST BE REPAIRED OR REPLACED?

Well-managed HOAs will normally include an amount for reserves in their annual budgets. In this way, a portion of the assessments you pay is set aside and builds up over time to pay for expensive repairs or replacements. You should review the HOA's financial statements to determine if this is true for your HOA.

(12) WHAT IS THE AMOUNT OF THE ASSESSMENTS THAT CAN BE CHARGED BY MY HOA?

If you are a new buyer, you are entitled to a resale certificate that will provide this information. Otherwise, this information should be provided to you as part of the HOA's annual budget process. If you have questions, you should consult the HOA's manager or a member of its board of directors.

(13) CAN ASSESSMENTS BE INCREASED?

Typically, the governing documents allow for assessments to be adjusted based on the HOA's annual budget. The law governing homeowners' associations requires that an HOA's annual budget be ratified by its members. This is a good opportunity to ask questions as to how budget changes will affect your assessments.

(14) CAN MY HOA RESTRICT THE TYPES OF IMPROVEMENTS I CAN MAKE TO MY HOME?

Depending on your governing documents, your HOA may have certain architectural or design guidelines and restrictions. If it does, there may be restrictions on the exterior appearance of your home, and you may be required to submit plans and specifications for approval before you make any changes to the exterior or build any additions or other structures.

(15) WHAT TYPES OF USE RULES MIGHT AFFECT MY HOME?

The HOA's governing documents may contain rules relating to trees, landscaping, pets, satellite dishes, clotheslines, fences, parking, home businesses, rental of homes, and other issues. You should carefully read the governing documents to understand the nature of these restrictions.

(16) AS A MEMBER OF AN HOA, CAN I RENT MY HOME?

The answer to this question depends on the governing documents for the particular community. Some governing documents prohibit all rentals, some limit the number of homes that can be rented at any time, while others have no restrictions on leasing.

(17) WHEN DOES MY HOA MEET?

In Washington state, HOAs must hold a meeting of the membership at least once each year. Notice of the date and time of the meeting must be provided to you by the officers of the association. Your HOA's board will likely meet more often. If you would like information concerning the board's meeting schedule, you should consult the HOA's manager or a member of the board.

(18) CAN I ATTEND THE REGULAR MEETINGS OF MY HOA'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS?

Board meetings are generally open to members of the HOA to observe, but not to participate in. The law governing homeowners' associations permits a board to consider certain sensitive topics in private (executive session), and to exclude HOA members from that part of the board's meeting. Review the HOA's governing documents, particularly its bylaws, to determine your rights.

(19) AS A MEMBER OF AN ASSOCIATION, CAN I OBTAIN COPIES OF THE HOA'S RECORDS?

The law governing homeowners' associations provides that the records of the HOA must be made available for review by owners during normal business hours at the office of the HOA or its managing agent.

(20) HOW CAN I DETERMINE WHETHER THE HOA OF WHICH I AM CONSIDERING BECOMING A MEMBER FACES ANY SERIOUS FINANCIAL PROBLEMS?

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2008

2008 REGULAR SESSION

As a purchaser of a home within an HOA, you are entitled to receive a resale certificate that will provide you with information regarding the financial condition of the HOA and whether it is involved in any litigation. However, you should also ask the seller questions to get a clear picture of the HOA's financial condition.

(21) DO THE BENEFITS OF BELONGING TO AN HOA OUTWEIGH THE BURDENS?

This is a question you should consider when the home you want to buy is part of an HOA. Some of the typical benefits and burdens are described above. Studying the governing documents for the community in which you are considering purchasing a home is an important step. Consider exploring this question with your seller, real estate professional, attorney, and other advisors. You may also wish to speak with neighboring homeowners about the community and the HOA."

(2) The homeowners' association information pamphlet is not required in real property transfers that occur between commercial buyers and sellers or those transfers listed in RCW 64.06.010.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Subject to subsection (2) of this section, the declaration may provide for a period of declarant control of the association, during which period a declarant or persons designated by the declarant may (a) appoint and remove the officers and members of the board of directors or (b) veto or approve a proposed action of the board or association. A declarant's failure to veto or approve the proposed action in writing within thirty days of written notice of the proposed action is deemed an approval of the proposed action by the declarant.

(2) Regardless of any period provided in the declaration, a period of declarant control terminates no later than the earliest of: (a) Sixty days after conveyance of seventy-five percent of the lots that may be created to lot owners other than a declarant; (b) two years after the last conveyance or transfer of record of a lot except as security for a debt; (c) two years after any development right to add new lots was last exercised; or (d) the date on which the declarant records an amendment to the declaration, pursuant to which the declarant voluntarily surrenders the right to further appoint and remove officers and members of the board of directors. A declarant may voluntarily surrender the right to appoint and remove officers and members of the board of directors before termination of the period of declarant control, but in that event the declarant may require, for the duration of the period of declarant control, that specified actions of the association or board of directors, as described in a recorded instrument executed by the declarant, be approved by the declarant before they become effective.

(3) No later than sixty days after conveyance of twenty-five percent of the lots that may be created to lot owners other than a declarant, at least one member and at least twenty-five percent of the members of the board of directors must be elected by lot owners other than the declarant. No later than sixty days after conveyance of fifty percent of the lots that may be created to lot owners other than a declarant, at least thirty-three and one-third percent of the members of the board of directors must be elected by lot owners other than the declarant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

Owners may vote in person or by proxy or by any other method permitted by their governing documents or the law applicable to the association's legal entity.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27 A new section is added to chapter 64.38 RCW to read as follows:

(1) For the purposes of this section, "land use approval organization" means any legal entity, except for the original declarant or grantor, that does not meet the definition of an association under this chapter but asserts the authority to:

(a) Approve construction of structures on residential real property;

(b) Regulate the use of such residential real property; or
(c) Grant or deny variances from any requirements pertaining to such residential real property.

(2) A land use approval organization may not exercise any authority over residential real property unless:

(a) The membership of the organization is open to the owners of all real property subject to its authority;

(b) The membership of the organization elects the organization's board of directors; and

(c) The board of directors conducts periodic open membership meetings.

(3) The board of directors of a land use approval organization shall exercise the degree of care and loyalty required of an officer or director of a corporation organized under chapter 24.03 RCW.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Swecker: "Well, I just want to take this opportunity to thank these gentleman personally. I represent Lewis County and parts of Thurston County that were flooded and I can tell you the Monday morning of the flood event we had such a deluge of water come down the Chehalis River from the hurricane that occurred in the upper watershed that none of us anticipated how quickly we were going to be putting people at risk and how difficult it was going to be to get to them. Having been a helicopter pilot in the Army I think I was one of the first to seize on the idea that we needed some helicopter support and I started making phone calls. Once I finally got through I was informed within five minutes that helicopters were on their way. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Haugen: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, these fine young men come from my area. I represent Whidbey Island and I represent that really outstanding naval base. I want to tell that over the years during my political career I've seen men from US Navy Whidbey rescue many people. They've rescued people off mountains. They've rescued people off the sea. They use to do it a whole more than they do now but I can tell you living in an area where you can depend on these young outstanding pilots to be there in a crisis really means a lot to the people in the area. Our military base is really an outstanding base because it really is a part of our community. These young men who serve on this base and women they actually reach out in this community and serve it in many ways. We're just so fortunate to have this installation in our area but more than anything else we're really fortunate to have young men like this who are risking their lives daily for all of us. Not only in Iraq and other places around the world but here right in the state of Washington and I want to say thank you. I'm really proud to be your Senator."

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 29 (1) The legislature recognizes that the profound implications of a changed climate will affect the peoples, institutions, and economies of Washington. While no single local government can substantially influence greenhouse gas emissions or climate change trends, the legislature recognizes that the state, including its local governments and residents, must do its part to reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

(2) The legislature further recognizes that: (a) Patterns of land use development significantly influence transportation-related greenhouse gas emissions; (b) fossil fuel-based transportation is the largest source of greenhouse gas emissions in Washington; and (c) the state and its residents will not achieve emission reductions established in RCW 80.80.020 without a significant decrease in transportation emissions. To this end, the legislature finds that local land use and state and local transportation plans should be developed to: Minimize greenhouse gas emissions associated with new development and transportation improvements; and reduce overall greenhouse gas emissions in accordance with RCW 80.80.020.

(3) The legislature finds that comprehensive land use plans of local governments can be a significant tool for meaningfully addressing these difficult issues. The legislature recognizes that locally adopted plans should: (a) Minimize land use patterns that increase vehicle usage; (b) encourage compact communities, in-filling, denser development, linkages with transit options, and other practices that reduce the number of vehicle miles traveled; and (c) encourage green jobs and the provision of affordable housing in areas near employment and service centers.
