VETO MESSAGE ON 2SHB 3115

March 30, 2006

To the Honorable Speaker and Members,
The House of Representatives of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Section 5, Second Substitute House Bill No. 3115 entitled:

Section 5 of the bill creates a statutory duty for the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS) to disclose information to care providers regarding a dependent child's behavioral and emotional problems or regarding whether a dependent child is "sexually reactive." The duty to share this information is not limited to only that information known to the DSHS. Moreover, the term "sexually reactive" is not defined in this bill or in existing statutes. The lack of clarity regarding what specific information is to be shared and the absence of a key definition might result in misunderstandings between the DSHS and care providers. This, in turn, might result in inadequate supervision of children or unnecessary litigation.

I am directing the DSHS, however, to develop policies to implement the intent of Section 5. The DSHS policies are to specify what types of information must be shared with care providers, when the information is to be shared, and the manner in which the information is to be shared. The policies should include definitions of key terms. The DSHS' duty to share information should not be limited to only that information known at the time of placement. Rather, the DSHS should share information, consistent with the criteria outlined in policy, on an on-going basis.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Section 5 of Second Substitute House Bill No. 3115.

With the exception of Section 5, Second Substitute House Bill No. 3115 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Christine O. Gregoire
Governor

Recognizing the safety of child protective, child welfare, and adult protective services workers.

(DIGEST AS ENACTED)

Finds that employees of the department of social and health services who provide child protective, child welfare, and adult protective services are sometimes faced with highly volatile, hostile, and/or threatening situations during the course of performing their official duties.

Finds that the work group convened by the department of social and health services pursuant to chapter 389, Laws of 2005, has made various recommendations regarding policies and protocols to address the safety of workers.

Declares an intent to implement the work group's recommendations for statutory changes in recognition of the sometimes hazardous nature of employment in child protective, child welfare, and adult protective services.

Provides that, in recognition of the hazardous nature of employment in child protective, child welfare, and adult protective services, the legislature hereby provides a supplementary program to reimburse employees of the department, for some of their costs attributable to their being the victims of assault while in the course of discharging their assigned duties. This program shall be limited to the reimbursement provided in this act.

Provides that an employee is only entitled to receive the reimbursement provided in this act if the secretary of social and health services, or the secretary's designee, finds that each of the following has occurred: (1) A person has assaulted the employee while the employee was in the course of performing his or her official duties and, as a result thereof, the employee has sustained demonstrated physical injuries which have required the employee to miss days of work;

(2) The assault cannot be attributable to any extent to the employee's negligence, misconduct, or failure to comply with any rules or conditions of employment; and

(3) The department of labor and industries has approved the employee's workers' compensation application pursuant to chapter 51.32 RCW.

Requires the department of social and health services to report to the governor and the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 2006, on the implementation of those recommendations contained in the department's October 2005 report entitled child protective services - staff safety.

Allowing smoking in long-term care facilities.

Provides that smoking by residents living in assisted living facilities, veterans' homes, boarding homes, nursing homes, and adult family homes is permitted in a designated smoking area if the home or facility meets the following standards: (1) No designated smoking area may be located in a common area including, but not limited to, entrances, lobbies, hallways, dining rooms, activity rooms, and meeting rooms, where employees, visitors, or nonsmoking residents are required to enter or pass through for work, visits, or services.

(2) An indoor designated smoking area must be separated by a floor to ceiling physical barrier from adjacent nonsmoking areas. The smoking area must be identified clearly with signs. The facility or home must maintain sufficient negative air pressure in the designated smoking area to prevent smoke from migrating into nonsmoking areas. The enclosed smoking area must have a ventilation or filter system or both that meets the permissible indoor air exposure limits for vapor phase nicotine and carbon monoxide, as measured by the stricter of the standards set by the United States department of labor, occupational safety and health administration, the Washington state department of labor and industries, or the Washington state department of health. Facilities and homes whose designated smoking areas met these standards as they existed before the enactment of Initiative Measure No. 901 may continue to use those designated smoking areas. The department of labor and industries and the department of health may review existing rules and adopt new rules if needed to better protect staff, visitors, and nonsmoking residents from second-hand smoke.

(3) An outdoor designated smoking area must be covered and protected from inclement weather, clearly identified with signs, and reachable by a nonhazardous pathway. The outdoor designated smoking area may be located no closer than fifteen feet from entrances, exits, open windows, and ventilation intakes that serve an enclosed nonsmoking area. The outdoor area must be enclosed on at least two sides to minimize smoke infiltration into the home or facility, and must have an outdoor filter system to absorb smoke when the smoking area is in use.

(4) Prospective employees and residents must be informed as to whether the home or facility has a designated smoking area. No employee may be required to enter a designated smoking area while someone is smoking there. Cleaning and maintenance of the designated smoking area must not occur when smokers are present. Persons under the age of eighteen are prohibited from entering or performing any duties in a designated smoking area.

HB 3135 by Representatives Hinkle, Schual-Berke, Holmquist, Shabro, and Schindler

Revising provisions relating to actions for injuries resulting from health care.

Provides that, in an action or arbitration for damages for injury or death occurring as a result of providing health care, or arranging for the provision of health care, whether brought under chapter 7.70, 4.20, or 4.24 RCW, or any other applicable law, the total amount of noneconomic damages that may be awarded to the claimant shall not exceed one million dollars unless the injury or death resulted from an act or omission that constituted gross negligence, or that was reckless, willful or wanton, or intentional, in which case there is no limitation on the amount of noneconomic damages that may be awarded to the claimant.

Creates the indigent emergency medical care account in the custody of the state treasurer. The account shall receive deposits of excess awards of noneconomic damages as provided in this act.

Provides that expenditures from the account may be used only to provide grants to health care facilities that provide emergency room health care services. The department shall distribute the funds under a formula that provides a relatively larger share of the available funding to health care facilities that serve a disproportionate share of low-income and medically indigent patients with emergency room health care services. Any residue in the account shall accumulate in the account and shall not revert to the general fund at the end of the biennium. Costs incurred by the department in administering the account shall be paid from the account.

Provides that an attorney may not contract for or collect a contingency fee for representing a person in connection with an action for damages for injury or death occurring as a result of providing health care or related services, or the arranging for the provision of health care or related services, that exceeds twenty percent of the amount recovered.

Declares that the limitation in this provision applies whether the recovery is by judgment, settlement, arbitration, mediation, or other form of alternative dispute resolution.

Provides that, for purposes of this act, "recovered" means the net sum recovered after deducting any disbursements or costs incurred in connection with the arbitration, litigation, or settlement of the claim. Costs of medical care incurred by the plaintiff and the attorney's office overhead costs or charges are not deductible disbursements or costs for such purposes.

Companion Bill: 6459

Supporting community-based health care solutions.

Finds that: (1) Despite sustained efforts at the federal and state level, too many people in Washington remain without access to appropriate health care. Particularly alarming is the increase in the number of small business employees who are uninsured. Without a health home, many low-income and other vulnerable populations are left to inefficiently navigate a fragmented treatment system that fails to support their long-term well-being.

(2) In recent years, numerous community-based organizations have emerged around the state to address health care concerns at a local level. Through innovation and public/private collaboration, they have demonstrated great success and show even greater promise in improving health care access for local residents. Less remote than state and federal agencies, these organizations have built on local relationships to increase the availability and affordability of services, and coordinate care, making efficient use of a wide variety of community resources to meet community needs.

(3) Many of these organizations have relied on grants from the healthy communities access program, an initiative of the United States department of health and human services that provided funding and technical assistance to support collaborative efforts at the local level to coordinate and strengthen health services for the uninsured and underinsured. The program, however, was recently discontinued, placing these local efforts at risk.

Declares that it is therefore the intent of the legislature to enhance and support the development of collaborative community-based organizations working at the local level to increase access to health care for Washington residents.

Provides that, by July 1, 2008, the board shall provide the governor and the legislature with an evaluation of the community health care collaborative grant program, describing the organizations and programs funded and the results achieved. Particularly successful programs shall be highlighted with recommendations on whether, and how, the programs could be replicated statewide. The evaluation shall also summarize any recommendations from the participating organizations regarding ways to improve the grant program and for the state to otherwise support community-based organizations working to improve access to health care for Washington residents, including any changes in state statutes or regulations.

Appropriates the sum of three million one hundred thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated from the general fund to the health care authority for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2007, to carry out the purposes of this act. No more than one hundred thousand dollars may be used by the health care authority for administrative expenses associated with the program.

Creating provisions relating to asbestos liability.

Finds that the number of asbestos-related claims has increased significantly in recent years and threatens the continued viability of one or more uniquely situated companies that have not ever manufactured, sold, or distributed asbestos or asbestos products, and are liable only as successor corporations. This liability has created an overpowering public necessity to provide an immediate, remedial, legislative solution.

Declares an intent that the cumulative recovery by all asbestos claimants from innocent successors be limited, and intends to simply change the form of asbestos claimants' remedies without impairing their substantive rights, and finds that there are no alternative means to meet this public necessity.

Finds that public interest as a whole is best served by providing relief to these innocent successors, so that they may remain viable and continue to contribute to this state.

Concerning investigations of child abuse.

(SEE ALSO PROPOSED 1ST SUB)

Finds that judicial interpretation of child abuse investigation statutes has imposed potentially irreconcilable duties on the department of social and health services and governmental entities that are obligated to investigate child abuse and neglect referrals. Courts have ruled that investigators of child abuse allegations have the obligation to protect children by removing them from unsafe homes but also have ruled that these same statutes establish an equal duty to protect the family unit, even where the parent is the alleged abuser.

Finds that concerns about tort liability arising from these conflicting duties impair investigators' ability to perform their statutory obligations. While recognizing the rights of parents and the importance of the family unit, the legislature finds that the paramount purpose of chapter 26.44 RCW is to benefit children. When the child's interests of basic nurture, physical and mental health, and safety conflict with the parents' interests, the interests of the child should prevail. In conducting investigations under this chapter, appropriate placement of the child during or immediately after the investigation shall be the department's paramount concern.

Declares that the legislature expressly intends to: (1) Overrule Tyner v. DSHS and other cases in which the courts have held that this chapter creates an implied right of action for parents or other caretakers who are alleged abusers;

(2) Codify the portions of the holdings in M.W. v. DSHS and Roberson v. Perez that tort liability arising out of this chapter is confined to the initial placement decision and not the manner in which the investigation was conducted;

(3) Have the interests of the parents protected through the judicial review and other procedures established pursuant to RCW 26.44.100 through 26.44.125 and chapter 13.34 RCW.

Declares that the duty to conduct a reasonable investigation of child abuse or neglect upon a referral runs only to children who are the subject of a referral under chapter 26.44 RCW and is limited to the duty to act reasonably when making a placement decision during or immediately following the investigation.

VETO MESSAGE ON EHB 3159

March 30, 2006

To the Honorable Speaker and Members,
The House of Representatives of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Sections 14 and 15, Engrossed House Bill No. 3159 entitled:

Sections 14 and 15 of this bill provide a sales and use tax exemption on material used to package canned salmon. That material includes items that affix the label to the labeled product, or items that become a component of the label, such as clear wrap, boxes, tape, box labels, glue, and ink.

With the exception of materials used to pack fresh perishable horticultural products for farmers, custom packers are consumers of packing materials and the purchase or use of such materials is subject to the retail sales and use tax. Consequently, I am concerned with providing a sales and use tax exemption for packing materials used by persons subject to the preferential rate for canned salmon. Such persons are custom packers. Providing a limited exemption for these materials sets a precedent for other custom packers who desire similar sales and use tax exemptions.

The 2005 tax breaks for the fruit and vegetable processors were enacted to help an industry that was in obvious trouble and in need of temporary aid to help turn around the industry's fortunes. That legislation was not intended to create a template for getting tax breaks for other industries. Rather, it was intended to help a Washington industry in dire straits. Washington's seafood processing industry appears to be healthy and does not need this kind of help from the state.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Sections 14 and 15 of Engrossed House Bill No. 3159.

With the exception of Sections 14 and 15, Engrossed House Bill No. 3159 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Christine O. Gregoire
Governor

HB 3160 by Representatives Hudgins, Conway, Chase, and Simpson

Requiring disclosure of information regarding work done for the state.

(SEE ALSO PROPOSED 1ST SUB)

Declares an intent to change requirements related to disclosure of information about state contracts that are performed, in whole or in part, at locations outside the United States.

HB 3160-S by House Committee on Commerce & Labor (originally sponsored by Representatives Hudgins, Conway, Chase, and Simpson)

Requiring the disclosure of state outsourcing.

(DIGEST OF PROPOSED 1ST SUBSTITUTE)

Declares that it is essential that the legislature and state agencies spend tax dollars in a manner that is both responsible and consistent with the economic interests of the state and the nation. The legislature and state agencies should, therefore, consider indirect benefits that may be achieved when entering into contracts for public works, personal services, purchased services, information services, and highway design and construction. Such benefits include, but are not limited to, job creation, capital investment, and economic stimulus.

Provides that, for purposes of RCW 39.29.008, 41.06.142, and 43.19.1911, "offshore outsourcing information" means records of: (1) The locations, by country, in which work under a personal service, purchased service, or civil service contract, or any subcontract under such a contract, is performed outside the United States;

(2) The nature of the work performed under a personal service, purchased service, or civil service contract, or any subcontract under such a contract, outside the United States; and

(3) The percentage of work performed under a personal service, purchased service, or civil service contract, or any subcontract under such a contract, outside the United States.

Eliminating the state sales tax on construction labor and services in counties where housing is not affordable for first-time buyers.

Finds that the state sales tax on construction labor and services contributes to the high cost of housing in many Washington counties, and that eliminating this tax will reduce housing prices. The legislature also recognizes that the Washington state tax structure study committee suggested that exempting construction labor from the state sales tax would improve economic vitality and harmonize Washington's sales tax provisions with other nearby states.

Declares an intent to make housing more affordable for first-time home buyers in counties where housing is currently not affordable for first-time home buyers. The legislature intends to do this by eliminating the state sales tax on construction labor and services in counties where the first-time buyer housing affordability index demonstrates that housing is not affordable for first-time home buyers.

Consolidating statewide freight mobility planning and administration into the freight mobility strategic investment board.

Finds that: (1) Washington state is uniquely positioned as a gateway to the global economy. As the most trade-dependent state in the nation, per capita, Washington's economy is highly dependent on a freight mobility network that efficiently moves goods. Agricultural products compose a significant portion of the goods moved over the state's freight mobility network.

(2) The agricultural industry is a vital state economic interest. Once food and agricultural products have been processed, packaged, and shipped, the overall economic impact is estimated at thirteen percent of the state's total economy.

(3) A coordinated and comprehensive state policy on freight mobility is needed to facilitate freight movement to local, national, and international markets. Currently, the administration of freight mobility is conducted under two separate state entities: The department of transportation and the freight mobility strategic investment board.

Provides that, in order to provide a more coordinated and comprehensive state policy on freight mobility and increase coordination with the agricultural industry, it is the intent of the legislature that statewide freight mobility planning and administration be combined into one entity, the freight mobility strategic investment board, and that the membership of the freight mobility strategic investment board include the director of the department of agriculture or his or her designee.

Provides that all powers, duties, and functions of the department pertaining to freight rail mobility as described in this act are transferred to the board. The department's rail engineering and environmental services functions shall remain within the department.

HB 3227-S by House Committee on Commerce & Labor (originally sponsored by Representative Conway)

(DIGEST OF PROPOSED 1ST SUBSTITUTE)

Declares that it is in the public interest to ensure a reasonable rate of compensation for log harvesting and log hauling services and enacts this chapter to create a process whereby a system of rate setting through collective bargaining is established between large commercial landowners and log harvesters and log haulers.

Provides that, to establish rates of compensation for log harvesting and log hauling services, harvesters and haulers may join together and form cooperative associations to meet, confer, share information, and take other collective action as may be intended to support their participation in the processes contemplated by this chapter leading to the approval of rates by the utilities and transportation commission.

Provides that, in approving rates with respect to any given forest landowner, the utilities and transportation commission must consider the following criteria. Rates need not be unitary and may take into account variations in these criteria with respect to different portions of the subject land or operations thereon: (1) The harvester's or hauler's costs, including, but not limited to, wages, overhead, fuel, insurance including health insurance, pensions or other retirement costs, and the cost of replacing equipment;

(2) Environmental and highway laws or rules;

(3) The impact of the award on the competitive position of the landowner in the market area or competing market areas;

(4) A fair return on investment for all parties;

(5) The species of tree, type of machinery, topography of the site to be harvested, and method of tree harvesting involved;

(6) The amount of hauling conducted on private roads and the amount of hauling conducted on public roads including travel time from the hauling site to the delivery site and the conditions of the road; and

(7) Safety considerations.

(SEE ALSO PROPOSED 1ST SUB)

Finds that some students will take longer to meet the state's on track to graduate with their peers should be provided an appropriate learning environment. The continued education of these students remains the paramount duty of the state of from high school with their peers.

Requires the state board of education to develop and propose a

Providing remedies for persons wrongfully convicted and imprisoned.

Declares an intent that persons who can demonstrate that they were wrongfully convicted be able to recover damages.

Provides that, in light of the substantial burden of proof that must be carried by such persons, it is the intent of the legislature that the court, in exercising its discretion as permitted by law regarding the weight and admissibility of evidence submitted under this act, may, in the interest of justice, give due consideration to difficulties of proof caused by the passage of time, the death or unavailability of witnesses, the destruction of evidence, or other factors not caused by such persons or those acting on their behalf.

VETO MESSAGE ON EHB 3261

March 29, 2006

To the Honorable Speaker and Members,
The House of Representatives of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Sections 1 and 3, Engrossed House Bill No. 3261 entitled:

The Indeterminate Sentencing Review Board (ISRB) is experiencing an increased caseload with the 2001 addition of indeterminate sentencing for sex offenders. New board members will be needed in the future. However, they are not critically needed at this time. In order for the ISRB to run efficiently with its current and projected caseloads, its current staffing and technology limits need to be improved before it adds new board members.

An emergency clause is also unnecessary. Because it is already the practice of the ISRB to provide victims the ability to participate in its hearing process, victims will not be harmed by any delay in enactment. The ISRB is fully supportive of the amendment to Chapter 9.95.420 RCW, and has agreed to comply with the requirements of the amendment in the interim before this bill takes effect.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Sections 1 and 3 of Engrossed House Bill No. 3261.

With the exception of Sections 1 and 3, Engrossed House Bill No. 3261 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Christine O. Gregoire
Governor

Authorizing the establishment of annexation capital facilities districts.

Finds that it is in the interests of the people of the state of Washington to be able to establish annexation capital facilities districts as municipal corporations and independent taxing units to facilitate the annexation of unincorporated areas that lie within designated urban growth areas.

Declares an intent that these municipal corporations act in cooperation with an annexing city and the county or counties in which they are located in order to facilitate annexation by cooperating in the construction, improvement, operation, and maintenance of capital facilities within the district. This authority is intended to work in conjunction with the authority granted under chapter . . . (House Bill No. . . . (H-4482.1/06)), Laws of 2006 to apply real estate excise tax revenues to other costs of annexation.

Provides that this act takes effect July 1, 2006, only if chapter . . . (House Bill No. . . . (H-4482.1/06)), Laws of 2006 is signed by the governor. If chapter . . . (House Bill No. . . . (H-4482.1/06)), Laws of 2006 is not signed by the governor by July 1, 2006, this act is null and void.

Authorizing the use of real estate excise taxes to offset costs of annexation.

Finds that it is in the interests of the people of the state of Washington to facilitate the annexation of unincorporated areas that lie within designated urban growth areas. This act is intended to permit cities to apply real estate excise tax revenues that would otherwise be restricted to capital purposes to offset the costs associated with such annexations. This authority is intended to work in conjunction with the establishment of an annexation capital facilities district under House Bill No. . . . (2006).

Authorizes the legislative authority of any city for which an annexation capital facilities district has been established under chapter 35.-- RCW (H-4485/06), to apply all or a portion of the revenues received from the tax imposed under RCW 82.46.010 to the costs of annexation identified in an annexation cost study completed under RCW 82.46.010(1). The total amount of revenues applied to annexation costs shall not exceed the amount dedicated to capital purposes by the annexation facilities district under chapter 35.-- RCW (H-4485/06).

Declares that this act takes effect July 1, 2006, only if chapter . . . (House Bill No. . . . (H-4485/06)), Laws of 2006 is signed by the governor. If chapter . . . (House Bill No. . . . (H-4485/06)), Laws of 2006 is not signed by the governor by July 1, 2006, this act is null and void.

Changing provisions relating to condemnation proceedings.

Recognizes that in condemnation proceedings individual property owners are often severely disadvantaged in trying to compete with the resources available to many of the entities, both governmental and corporate, that possess the power of eminent domain.

Finds that individual property owners are often effectively coerced into selling their property because they cannot afford to contest a condemnation proceeding. The legislature further finds that the current law does not properly encourage entities with the power of eminent domain to exercise that power as sparingly as possible.

Declares an intent to provide property owners with the possibility of more realistic reimbursement of costs they may incur in responding to a threatened condemnation of their property, and to require the exploration of alternatives to condemnation before the power of eminent domain is used.

Creating a task force to study voting rights and restrictions of felons.

Finds that: (1) The system for determining how, when, and where former felons have their right to vote restored is contributing to uncertainty about the validity of the election process, and local county clerks and auditors find it impossible to access clear information about this determination;

(2) Washington currently denies the right to vote to all persons who have been convicted of an infamous crime and who have not fully completed all conditions of their sentence, including full payment of their legal financial obligations;

(3) Responsibility for monitoring compliance with the various conditions of the sentence is placed at various times with the department of corrections, the county clerk, and the sentencing judge; and

(4) The current system for determining when the right to vote has been restored takes away time from the other important duties of the county clerks, county auditors, and secretary of state's staff.

Declares an intent to study the issue of establishing a standard for restricting and restoring the voting rights of felons that will provide clear information about the status of former felon voting rights to all state and local election officials.

Concerning records in criminal investigations.

Finds that many businesses, associations, and organizations providing goods and services to the public or conducting other activity in Washington, or otherwise affecting residents of Washington now operate nationally or globally and often maintain their business records in a location outside the state of Washington.

Declares that the ability of law enforcement and the criminal justice system to effectively perform their duties to the public often depends upon law enforcement, prosecutors, and criminal defense attorneys being able to obtain and use records relevant to crimes that affect Washington's citizens, businesses, associations, organizations, and others who provide goods or services, or conduct other activity in Washington.

(SUBSTITUTED FOR - SEE 2ND SUB)

Finds that nitrogen is an important factor in creating low-dissolved oxygen in Hood Canal. The legislature further finds that inputs of nitrogen to Hood Canal from on-site sewage systems are uncertain due to insufficient data and studies. Therefore, the legislature finds that improved data on the contribution of nitrogen from on-site sewage systems to Hood Canal would allow stakeholders to focus and prioritize resources.

Directs the Puget Sound action team and the Hood Canal coordinating council to contract for a study in the Hood Canal to:
 (1) Improve data and knowledge of the loading of nitrogen from on-site sewage systems to ground water;

(2) Determine the local scale efficiency of nitrogen removal from on-site sewage systems; and

(3) Improve data and knowledge of the loading of nitrogen from all ground water sources to Hood Canal.

Requires the Puget Sound action team and the Hood Canal coordinating council to report their findings and recommendations to the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 2007.

Appropriates the sum of six hundred thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2007, from the general fund to the Puget Sound action team for the purposes of this act.

Transferring operating funds to the public works assistance account.

Declares that the public works board has determined that legislative actions in the 2005 session that diverted funds from the public works assistance account to other priorities, including job development through infrastructure improvements and assistance to local governments, has resulted in decisions to reduce maximum loan limits and has limited the number of projects that may be funded through the public works trust fund program. Therefore, it is the intent of the legislature to provide funding over three biennia to the public works assistance account in order to replace funds diverted from the account by previous actions.

Provides that, beginning July 1, 2006, for six fiscal years through June 30, 2012, the state treasurer shall transfer the sum of twenty-five million dollars each fiscal year from the state general fund to the public works assistance account established in RCW 43.155.050, for a total of one hundred fifty million dollars.

Reviewing existing health care coverage statutory requirements.

(AS OF HOUSE 2ND READING 2/14/06)

Finds and declares that there has been an ongoing controversy over the costs and benefits of existing health care coverage statutory requirements and their effect on health care insurance costs. It is for this reason that an unbiased, independent actuarial study of existing health care coverage statutory requirements needs to be conducted.

Declares that it is not the intent of the legislature to take any actions in relation to the findings of the study until they can be reviewed and analyzed by the legislature, in consultation with the office of the insurance commissioner, health care providers, health carriers, and health care purchasers.

Directs the office of the insurance commissioner to contract for an actuarial review and analysis of existing health care coverage statutory requirements. The office of the insurance commissioner shall: (1)(a) Contract with a qualified independent and impartial entity that has not taken a public position in the past on the merits or consequences of the adoption of health care coverage statutory requirements; and

(b) Conduct the analysis in two phases:

(i) The first phase of the analysis shall review statutes that mandate that health carriers provide benefits for certain conditions or services, and that require health carriers to offer certain services as an option for individuals or groups purchasing a health benefit plan. For each mandate or requirement, the analysis must address:

(A) The cost of including the mandate or requirement in health benefit plans, and the impact that covering the mandate or requirement has on the utilization of other health services, expressed as a net premium cost or savings per member per month;

(B) A review of available evidence related to the clinical and cost-effectiveness of the mandate or requirement; and

(C) An assessment of whether market demand has already resulted in inclusion of the mandate or requirement in a significant number of health benefit plans in states that do not have such a mandate or requirement; and

(ii) The second phase of the analysis must analyze a sample of at least ten health conditions or chronic illnesses that are prevalent among residents of Washington state. For each health condition or chronic illness, the analysis must include an assessment of the comparative cost and treatment outcomes of treatment provided by health care providers for whom primary treatment of the condition or illness is within their scope of practice.

(2) Submit an interim report on the first phase of the analysis to the governor and appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 2006, and a final report by December 1, 2007. The report may include recommendations related to additional issues that should be addressed in the second phase of the analysis.

(3) Submit an interim report on the second phase of the analysis to the governor and appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 2007, and a final report by December 1, 2008.

HB 3319 by Representatives Grant, Armstrong, and Newhouse

Creating exemptions from the Washington clean indoor air act.

Recognizes the will of the people strongly expressed by passage of Initiative Measure No. 901 to prohibit smoking in many places. A clear message was sent that people do not want to be exposed unwillingly to second-hand smoke.

Finds that other states that have passed smoking bans have provided exceptions for key establishments and settings.

Finds that since Initiative Measure No. 901 exempted private offices and the people that work in them from the initiative, other exemptions should be created.

Provides that no person may smoke in a public place or in any place of employment except in a cigar bar, retail tobacco shop, private club, theatrical production site, or designated smoking area in a long-term care facility, licensed by the department under this act.

Directs the department to issue a transferable license for a cigar bar, retail tobacco shop, private club, theatrical production site, or designated smoking area in a long-term care facility, if the applicant pays any applicable fee established by the department and shows to the satisfaction of the department that the establishment is, and has been since January 1, 2004, a cigar bar, retail tobacco shop, private club, theatrical production site, or designated smoking area in a long-term care facility, as defined in RCW 70.160.020.

Provides that smoking by residents living in long-term care facilities is permitted in a designated smoking area that meets the following standards: (1) The designated smoking area cannot be located in a common area, including but not limited to entrances, lobbies, hallways, dining rooms, activity rooms, or meeting rooms, where employees, visitors, or nonsmoking residents are required to enter or pass through for work, visits, or services.

(2) An indoor designated smoking area must be enclosed and separately ventilated as defined in RCW 70.160.020. The indoor area must meet the stricter of any applicable indoor air exposure limits set by the department of labor and industries or the department of health for vapor phase nicotine and carbon monoxide.

(3) An outdoor designated smoking area must be covered and protected from inclement weather, identified with signs, and reachable by a nonhazardous pathway. The outdoor area may be located no closer than fifteen feet from entrances, exits, operable windows, and ventilation intakes that serve an enclosed nonsmoking area. The outdoor area must be closed on at least one side to minimize smoke infiltration into the facility and must have an outdoor filter system to help absorb smoke when the outdoor smoking area is in use.

(4) Prospective employees and residents must be informed as to whether the facility has a designated smoking area. No employee may be required to enter a designated smoking area while in use. Cleaning and maintenance of the designated smoking area may not occur when smokers are present. Persons under the age of eighteen are prohibited from entering or performing any duties in a designated smoking area.

(5) The department of labor and industries and the department of health may adopt rules as needed to implement this act.
