MOTION

SENATE RESOLUTION
8706

By Senators Hasegawa, Hobbs, Brown, Ranker, Billig, Saldaña, Wagoner, Kuderer, Conway, and Takko

WHEREAS, Seventy-six years ago, on February 19, 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued Executive Order 9066, which deprived all Japanese-Americans of their constitutional liberties without due process of law, and which authorized the United States military to forcibly remove and incarcerate more than 120,000 persons of Japanese ancestry from the West Coast, including 13,000 Japanese-American residents of Washington State; and

WHEREAS, The first civilian evacuation order gave Japanese-Americans from Bainbridge Island less than one week to leave behind homes, personal belongings, farms, businesses, friends, and family, allowed them only two suitcases of personal belongings, and transported them to hastily constructed detention centers, like Camp Harmony located in the horse stalls on the grounds of the Washington State Fair in Puyallup where they were held until more permanent concentration camps could be built in more remote locations, like Hunt, Idaho (Minidoka) and Tule Lake, California, which is where most Japanese-Americans from the Puget Sound region were held; and

WHEREAS, This drastic course of action allegedly aimed to prevent acts of espionage and sabotage by Japanese-Americans who were deemed untrustworthy and disloyal to the United States even though no evidence was ever presented to support such distrust; and

WHEREAS, On March 23, 1943, the War Department organized a segregated unit of Japanese-Americans, and, from within those American concentration camps where they and their families were incarcerated, surrounded by barbed wire and armed guards, thousands responded to questions of their loyalty and patriotism by volunteering to serve in the segregated Army unit known as the 442nd Regimental Combat Team, which went on to amass a battle record unmatched in United States military history earning 7 Presidential Unit Citations, 21 Medals of Honor, 29 Distinguished Service Crosses, a Distinguished Service Medal, 588 Silver Stars, more than 4,000 Bronze Stars, 22 Legion of Merit Medals, 15 Soldier's Medals, 9,486 Purple Hearts, and a total of 16 decorations from the governments of France and Italy; and

WHEREAS, Equally loyal and patriotic Japanese-Americans fought to protect our constitutional rights and liberties through dissent, like Minoru Yasui, Fred Korematsu, and University of Washington student Gordon Hirabayashi who was arrested, convicted, and imprisoned for defying the military curfew on select civilians and challenging the constitutionality of the exclusion and incarceration orders; and

WHEREAS, Korematsu and Hirabayashi were eventually awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom for their principled actions and sacrifices; and

military or security reason for the internment" of persons of Japanese ancestry, but instead found the denial of constitutional rights "was caused by racial prejudice, war hysteria, and a failure of political leadership"; and

WHEREAS, In 1976, President Gerald Ford rescinded Executive Order 9066 saying, "I call upon the American people to affirm with me this American Promise—that we have learned from the tragedy of that long-ago experience forever to treasure liberty and justice for each individual American, and resolve that this kind of action shall never again be repeated"; and

WHEREAS, In 1979, newly elected Washington State Congressman Mike Lowry introduced H.R. 5977 which would become The Civil Liberties Act of 1988 when signed 10 years later by President Ronald Reagan who said, "So what is most important in this bill has less to do with property than with honor, for here, we admit a wrong. Here we reaffirm our commitment as a nation to equal justice under the law"; and

WHEREAS, In 2010, the United States Congress recognized the unparalleled record of Nisei soldiers by awarding the Congressional Gold Medal to the 100th Infantry Battalion, the 442nd Regimental Combat Team, who fought in Europe, and the Military Intelligence Service (MIS) of the U.S. Army who fought in the Pacific Theater as interpreters and code breakers; and

WHEREAS, Throughout Washington State, survivors of the European and Asian Pacific battlefields of World War II and of American incarceration camps continue to live their golden years in quiet contrast to their extraordinary acts of patriotism, conscience, and valor;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That on this 76th Anniversary of the signing of Executive Order 9066, the Senate, along with the people of Washington State, pause to acknowledge and reflect on the significance of Executive Order 9066 and its effect in denying constitutional freedoms and protections. We also reflect on our democracy's greatness in recognizing the need to correct this failure, and the need for constant vigilance to protect our constitutional rights and freedoms; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Senate recognize the Japanese-American internees, constitutional protectors, and World War II veterans from the State of Washington, honor their patience, heroism, sacrifice, and loyalty, and remember the lessons, rights, and responsibilities that come with the phrase, "liberty and justice for all"; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Nisei Veterans Committee, the Military Intelligence Service-Northwest Association, the Japanese-American Citizens League National and Seattle Chapter, the Japanese Cultural & Community Center of Washington State, the Japanese American National Museum, and the Wing Luke Museum of the Asian Pacific American Experience.

Senators Hasegawa, Hobbs, Brown, Rolfes, Zeiger, Chase and Fortunato spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8706.

The motion by Senator Hasegawa carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Rolfes moved that the following striking floor amendment no. 496 by Senator Rolfes be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 54.16 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Broadband" means networks of deployed telecommunications equipment and technologies necessary to provide high-speed internet access and other advanced telecommunications services.

(b) "Inadequate" means internet retail service that does not meet one hundred percent of the standards detailed in the service level agreement.

(c) "Partnership payment structure" means a group of or individual property owners who agree to pay a term payment structure for infrastructure improvements to their property.

(d) "Petition" means a formal written request for retail internet service by property owners on the public utility district broadband network.

(e) "Service level agreement" means a standard agreement, adopted during an open public meeting, between the retail internet service provider and the public utility that describes the required percentage of broadband download and upload speed and system availability, customer service, and transmission time.

(2) Any public utility district that, as of the effective date of this section, provides only water, sewer, and wholesale telecommunications services in a county with an area less than five hundred square miles and is located west of the Puget Sound may provide end-user internet services to end users on the public utility district's broadband network located within the public utility district boundaries only when all of the existing providers of end-user internet service on the public utility district's broadband network cease to provide end-user service or provide inadequate end-user service as determined in the manner prescribed by this section.

(3) Upon receiving a petition meeting the requirements of subsection (4) of this section, a public utility district board of commissioners may hold up to three meetings to:

(a) Verify the signature or signatures of the property owners on the petition and certify the petition;

(b) Determine and submit findings that the retail internet service available to the petitioners served by the public utility district's broadband network is either nonexistent or inadequate as defined in the service level agreement adopted by the commissioners for all existing internet service providers on the public utility district's broadband network; and

(c) By resolution, authorize the public utility district to provide retail internet service to end users on the public utility district's broadband network.

(4) A petition meets the requirements of subsection (3) of this section if it is delivered to a public utility district board of commissioners, declares that the signatories on the public utility district's broadband network have no or inadequate retail internet service providers, requests the public utility district to provide the retail internet service, and is signed by one of the following:

(a) A majority of a group, including homeowners' associations, of any geographical area within the public utility district, who have developed a partnership payment structure to finance broadband deployment with the public utility district; or

(b) Any individual who has developed a partnership payment structure to finance broadband deployment with the public utility district.

(5) For the purposes of this section, the adequacy of retail internet service is determined by measuring retail internet service to end users on the public utility district's broadband network and comparing it with service standards in the public utility district service level agreement used for all public utility district network providers. Measurement of the existing retail internet service provider's service must be quantified by measuring the service with speed and capacity devices and software. Additionally, a retail internet service provider may submit its own assessment of its service level for consideration by the commission within thirty days of the first meeting conducted under subsection (3) of this section.

(6) The commissioners of a public utility district may by resolution authorize the public utility district to provide or contract for provision of internet services to end users on the public utility district's broadband network when it is determined that no service or inadequate service exists for the individual or petitioners identified in subsection (4) of this section.

(7)(a) Except as provided in subsection (8) of this section, in case of failure to reach an agreement on the adequacy of retail internet service, the commissioners must request an appointment of an administrative law judge under Title 34 RCW to hear the dispute.

(b) The commissioners must provide a written notice, together with a copy of the dispute, and may require the disputing parties to attend a hearing before the administrative law judge, at a time and place to be specified in the written notice.

(c) The place of any such hearing may be the office of the commissioners or another place designated by the commissioners. The disputed information must be presented at the hearing.

(d) Upon review and consideration of all of the evidence, the administrative law judge must determine if the retail internet service is inadequate or nonexistent as defined in this section. Upon making a determination, the administrative law judge must state findings of fact and must issue and file a determination with the commissioners.

(8) If a provider of end-user service is a company regulated by the utilities and transportation commission, the company may choose to have the commission resolve disputes concerning the service level agreement under the process established in RCW 54.16.340. For the purposes of this subsection, "company" includes subsidiaries or affiliates.

(9) Any public utility district providing cable television service under this section must secure a cable television franchise, pay franchise fees, and any applicable taxes to the local cable franchise authority as required by federal law.

(10) Except as provided in subsection (8) of this section, nothing in this section may be construed or is intended to confer upon the utilities and transportation commission any authority to exercise jurisdiction over locally regulated utilities.

(11) All rates for retail internet services offered by a public utility district under this section must be fair and nondiscriminatory, except the public utility district may set tiers of service charges based on service demands of the end user, including commercial and residential rates.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 34.12 RCW to read as follows:

When requested by the public utility district commissioners, the chief administrative law judge shall assign an administrative law judge to conduct proceedings under section 1 of this act."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 79.10 RCW under the subchapter heading "general provisions" to read as follows:

(1) Subject to the availability of amounts appropriated for this specific purpose, the department must evaluate the department's lands portfolio and revenue streams, management practices, and transaction processes, and develop options and recommendations designed to ensure the state's fiduciary duty is being met and increase the amount and stability of revenue from state lands and state forestland over time. The evaluation must seek to account for the volatility of forest product markets and consider ways to mitigate the impact of market downturns on its revenues.

(a) The evaluation must specifically include an analysis of options that would leverage the earning potential for high value, low performing portions of state lands, with suggested legislative recommendations to enhance revenue generation from these types of lands, including transitioning lower performing assets to higher revenue production.

(b) The evaluation must develop alternatives and recommendations relating to fully addressing the existing arrearage volume, including annual updates to the appropriate committees of the legislature on specific progress towards meeting, and the updated timeline to fully address, this shortfall within the ten-year time frame identified by the board of natural resources in November 2017.

(c) The evaluation must evaluate and develop alternatives and recommendations relating to calculating and addressing arrearage, with a particular focus on ensuring the stability of revenue from state lands and state trust lands over time.

(d) The evaluation must include an assessment of factors that restrict the department from prudent management and revenue production.

(e) Regarding state forestlands, the evaluation must specifically include an analysis of options and recommendations for:

(i) The creation of a unitary trust for the revenue derived from state forestlands. The evaluation must include methods for allocating disbursements to the benefiting counties, and include consultation with the affected counties and their association;

(ii) Any alternative management focus, such as returning the lands to the counties for their management, leasing the lands to private timber investment management organizations, and transition of lands into higher revenue producing assets; and

(iii) Any other options for legislative consideration.

(2) The department must develop methods or tools to estimate the current asset value of state lands and state forestlands, as defined in RCW 79.02.010. The methods should be designed to be as accurate and resource efficient as possible and be designed to allow repeated estimates over time. The methods must allow for the segregation of different asset classes, and at a minimum allow for the tracking values over time for the following: Forestland, irrigated agricultural land, nonirrigated agricultural land, and commercial real estate land. The department may recommend other asset classes to track in addition to those listed.

(3) The department may utilize the services of a contractor for any portion of the evaluation, analysis, and tool and method development required by this section.

(4) The department must provide a final report to the appropriate committees of the senate and house of representatives by June 30, 2020, that includes the evaluation, analysis, and tools and methods required by this section. The department must provide progress reports by December 1, 2018, and December 1, 2019.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) Within existing appropriations, the department of natural resources must prepare an evaluation of leases and easements of state-owned aquatic lands for industrial and commercial uses in existence on January 1, 2018, except leases for purposes of marinas and moorage. The evaluation must include:

(a) A summary of each lease and easement, including lease term, rental rate, and use conditions;

(b) A listing of annual revenues obtained from each lease and easement;

(c) A summary of the methods or formula used to value and establish payment for each type of lease and easement;

(d) A summary description of inspection and monitoring efforts completed over the previous ten years relating to compliance with the terms of the lease or easement as well as compliance with all applicable water quality and other local, state, or federal environmental, public health, and safety standards;

(e) A summary description of the applicable requirements for inspection and monitoring under the terms of the leases and easements as well as other applicable local, state, and federal regulatory requirements;

(f) A summary description of the lease and easement compliance activities performed by the department to ensure the protection of the state's aquatic resources, consistent with RCW 79.105.010, is maintained.

(2) The department of natural resources must submit the evaluation, including any recommendations for legislative or administrative actions, to the appropriate policy and fiscal committees of the senate and house of representatives by December 1, 2018."

President Habib: "The consequences are the Senator will act as though, we will call the Senator's name again, the President will call the Senator's name again at the end of the roll call and have them physically appear so as to ensure that Senator Padden, though your voice is quite distinctive, it could be that a Joe Pesci sound-alike standing in the wings voted with your vote and would disenfranchise the good people of the 4th Legislative District. So, we would hate for that to happen."

by 2027. The work group must:

(ii) Improve racial and ethnic equity in educational outcomes;

(iii) Ensure access to consistent and accurate annual educational outcomes data;

(iv) Address system barriers such as data sharing;

(vi) Detail a support structure that will ensure that educational records, educational needs, individualized education programs, credits, and other records will follow children and youth when they transition from district to district or another educational program or facility;

(vii) Explore the option of creating a specific statewide school district that supports the needs of and tracks the educational progress of children and youth in foster care and children and youth experiencing homelessness; and

(viii) Identify where opportunities exist to align policy, practices, and supports for students experiencing homelessness and foster students; and

(f) Outline which recommendations can be implemented using existing resources and regulations and which require policy, administrative, and resource adjustments.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Becker: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, I just want to say 'Happy Anniversary' to my husband. It is a very personal day today, but since I have been in the Senate I have not spent but one day with him on our anniversary. And this happens to be our forty-fifth anniversary and I think it is something that I am pretty proud of and proud that I've married a man that I have been able to love for forty-five years. Not many people can say that anymore, I think. You know, I met him on a blind date. My roommate introduced me to him and we played spoons and he cheated and I thought he was a really bad person. But, I will tell you on another date, and we were done with our date and I had to go out on one of my flights, because at the time I was a stewardess, and my car broke down and I called him and he came immediately and helped me and I think that's the day I totally fell in love with him. Because it was pouring down rain and he got me there to work on time. My little sister used to hate him because he didn't take me enough places, well he has made up for that. And my family, it was funny because in my family, Mr. President, it seemed like no matter who I brought home, no matter what age I was, they weren't good enough. And this one, well I told my parents he was good enough. And so we have two daughters and we have three grandchildren, two young men and one six year old, phenomenally smart young granddaughter and so I think I have to share he bought me this lovely bouquet of flowers and I forgot to bring them in today because I was enjoying them when I got ready for work in my fifth-wheel this morning. But it is really a neat thing, we had a wedding at our house and we all had to dance and whoever they named off for what year, how many years you've been in your relationship of marriage, we were the second to the longest, in staying on the floor. And somebody beat us, they were like five years more than us, so marriage is a very important thing to me and when we take our vows, my husband and I swore to those vows and to my knowledge we both have been very truthful to those vows and so I just want to say Mr. President my husband would not cheat on anybody, nor would he lie to anybody so I believe him immensely. It's just a really neat thing and it's really fun to talk about him in such a positive light because a lot of times I just get mad at him. He doesn't move fast enough for me, you know when we are building a fence, 'Come on Bob, hurry up', when we were doing the siding on our house, 'Come on Bob, We've got three boards up to your one' you know, but you know what, it's okay. Forty-five years is a pretty neat thing to celebrate. And we dated for three years before that, so I figure we've got forty-eight years under our belt, so thank you Mr. President. Bob Becker, I love you. I'll love you to the day I die and I am so glad we got to meet, get married, have a family, and actually celebrate forty-five years, even if we are not together today. Thank you Mr. President."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Habib: "It is possible, I don't know, I am speculating. It is possible Senator Becker that you got married the day Steve Hobbs came into this world. I am not sure. I don't know how old he is. It could be.

Anyone watching as part of Capitol Classroom, all the young people out there that are thinking you are going to become politicians one day, consider wedding dates between May and December. That is a public announcement for TVW."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: "Earlier today in a lighter moment I suggested that Bob Becker should get a sympathy card, but that's teasing aside. Bob, having visited, is a remarkable man and I can't think of anything better than a man who has stayed with such a wonderful woman for forty-five years."

The department of commerce shall provide the work group's report to the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 2019. As part of the report, the work group must consider the reduction in utility income associated with different levels of net metering and the increase necessary in retail electric rates to affected rate classes to recoup that income. The work group must specifically evaluate the effect of needed changes to electric rates on low-income customers. The work group should evaluate the differences in income and rate effects among different types of utilities: Consumer-owned and investor-owned; many customers and few customers; and urban, suburban, and rural utilities. Based on this information, the work group must report a range of potential net-metering policies and the impact of those policies to each identified type of utility. The work group may identify a preferred net metering policy applicable to all utilities in the state or a set of policies applicable to each type of utility. The work group shall also provide an inventory of other state's net metering laws and assess their applicability to the circumstances of different types of utilities in Washington state.

"Sec. 7. RCW 80.60.020 and 2007 c 323 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An electric utility:

(a) Shall offer to make net metering available to eligible customers-generators on a first-come, first-served basis until the cumulative generating capacity of net metering systems equals 0.25 percent of the utility's peak demand during 1996. On January 1, 2014, the cumulative generating capacity available to net metering systems will equal ~~((0.5))~~ four percent of the utility's peak demand during 1996. Not less than one-half of the utility's 1996 peak demand available for net metering systems shall be reserved for the cumulative generating capacity attributable to net metering systems that generate renewable energy;

(b) Shall allow net metering systems to be interconnected using a standard kilowatt-hour meter capable of registering the flow of electricity in two directions, unless the commission, in the case of an electrical company, or the appropriate governing body, in the case of other electric utilities, determines, after appropriate notice and opportunity for comment:

(i) That the use of additional metering equipment to monitor the flow of electricity in each direction is necessary and appropriate for the interconnection of net metering systems, after taking into account the benefits and costs of purchasing and installing additional metering equipment; and

(ii) How the cost of purchasing and installing an additional meter is to be allocated between the customer-generator and the utility;

(c) Shall charge the customer-generator a minimum monthly fee that is the same as other customers of the electric utility in the same rate class, but shall not charge the customer-generator any additional standby, capacity, interconnection, or other fee or charge unless the commission, in the case of an electrical company, or the appropriate governing body, in the case of other electric utilities, determines, after appropriate notice and opportunity for comment that:

(i) The electric utility will incur direct costs associated with interconnecting or administering net metering systems that exceed any offsetting benefits associated with these systems; and

(ii) Public policy is best served by imposing these costs on the customer-generator rather than allocating these costs among the utility's entire customer base.

(2) If a production meter and software is required by the electric utility to provide meter aggregation under RCW 80.60.030(4), the customer-generator is responsible for the purchase of the production meter and software.

Sec. 8. RCW 80.60.030 and 2007 c 323 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Consistent with the other provisions of this chapter, the net energy measurement must be calculated in the following manner:

(1) The electric utility shall measure the net electricity produced or consumed during the billing period, in accordance with normal metering practices.

(2) If the electricity supplied by the electric utility exceeds the electricity generated by the customer-generator and fed back to the electric utility during the billing period, the customer-generator shall be billed for the net electricity supplied by the electric utility, in accordance with normal metering practices.

(3) If electricity generated by the customer-generator exceeds the electricity supplied by the electric utility, the customer-generator:

(a) Shall be billed for the appropriate customer charges for that billing period, in accordance with RCW 80.60.020; and

(b) Shall be credited for the excess kilowatt-hours generated during the billing period, with this kilowatt-hour credit appearing on the bill for the following billing period.

(4) If a customer-generator requests, an electric utility shall provide meter aggregation.

(a) For customer-generators participating in meter aggregation, kilowatt-hours credits earned by a net metering system during the billing period first shall be used to offset electricity supplied by the electric utility.

(b) Not more than a total of one hundred kilowatts shall be aggregated among all customer-generators participating in a generating facility under this subsection.

(c) Excess kilowatt-hours credits earned by the net metering system, during the same billing period, shall be credited equally by the electric utility to remaining meters located on all premises of a customer-generator at the designated rate of each meter.

(d) Meters so aggregated shall not change rate classes due to meter aggregation under this section.

(5) On ~~((April 30th))~~ March 31st of each calendar year, any remaining unused kilowatt-hour credit accumulated during the previous year shall be granted to the electric utility to be used to assist qualified low-income residential customers of the electric utility in paying their electricity bills, without any compensation to the customer-generator.

Sec. 9. RCW 82.16.090 and 1988 c 228 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Any customer billing issued by a light or power business or gas distribution business that serves a total of more than twenty thousand customers and operates within the state shall include the following information:

(1) The rates and amounts of taxes paid directly by the customer upon products or services rendered by the light and power business or gas distribution business; ~~((and))~~

(2) The rate, origin and approximate amount of each tax levied upon the revenue of the light and power business or gas distribution business and added as a component of the amount charged to the customer. The work group should evaluate the differences in income and rate effects among different types of utilities: Consumer-owned and investor-owned; many customers and few customers; and urban, suburban, and rural utilities. Based on this information, the work group must report a range of potential net-metering policies and the impact of those policies to each identified type of utility. The work group may identify a preferred net metering policy applicable to all utilities in the state or a set of policies applicable to each type of utility. PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hawkins: "Well I would just like to wish two happy birthdays: One, to President Lincoln, because it is President Lincoln's birthday today and also as I learned from a floor speech a couple of days ago, also our very own Senator Hobbs birthday. Happy Birthday Senator Hobbs."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: "Well thank you. I thought it was time that we honor a great American. And on this 209th anniversary of Lincoln's birthday, I think he deserves our remembrance and our thanks. And some of the things you may wonder if he is still relevant 209 years later and so I would like to share a story that I heard about Lincoln and it seems that Hugh McCullough who served as Lincoln's Secretary of the Treasury once came with a delegation of New York bankers and as the party filed into the room he said to the president in a low voice, 'These bankers have come to see me about our new loan, as bankers they are obliged to hold our national securities. I can vouch for their patriotism and loyalty for the good book says where the treasure is there will also be the heart' and Mr. Lincoln or President Lincoln replied, 'There is another text Mr. McCullough, I remember that might equally apply, where the carcass is, there will be the vultures gathered together'. And you may even know that Lincoln questioned his own relevance in future generations and when the President began his dedication of the National Cemetery at Gettysburg he humbly declared 'The world will little note nor long remember what we say here' and how wrong he was. You know the Gettysburg Address, we remember those words, we remember his actions, he didn't simply want to win a war or save the union no more than saving the union he was instrumental in saving the soul of our nation. And I really believe that deserves a great deal of thanks. And he put it so simply, a nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are equal, all men are equal, and Lincoln was a trained lawyer, but his words never bore the shame or legalese, his detest of slavery can be summarized best with his address to an Indiana regiment when he declared, 'When I hear anyone arguing for slavery, I feel a strong impulse to see it tried on him personally, that would be fun to see', despite the rebellion, despite the spilled blood, or perhaps because of it, Lincoln planned for a post-Civil War peace that would have been conducted with malice towards none and charity to all. He was an extraordinary man and I am sure he would be surprised today if he alive at how well his words are remembered. We remember the Gettysburg Address because in just over two minutes and ten seconds, Lincoln was able to return America to the principal articulated in our Declaration of Independence. He gave definition, a new birth of freedom, bring true equality to all of our citizens and in doing so he brought us closer to the fulfilling the promise of our founding, and for that we owe him our remembrance and thanks. Thank you Mr. President."

THIRTY SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 12, 2018

2018 REGULAR SESSION

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Becker: "Thank you Mr. President. Well I too, and I thank Senator Hawkins and Senator Honeyford for talking about President Lincoln's birthday and I also wanted to say that it is kind of a remarkable day. When I was first elected my husband and I took a trip back to Michigan and coming back we stopped at Wild Turkey Campground and camped. And some people told us about Springfield, Illinois where the museum is for President Abraham Lincoln and so we took a detour and went over there and spent the entire day and we probably could have spent two or three days going through that. And it went through, kind of like a roadway of his life and it started out with showing the family in the cabin and everything, and then him in law school, and him running for election, loosing, and running again. Then going through all of his main things, writing all of the legislation to free the slaves. His commitment to freeing all of the people who were in slavery in the south. And all the battles. We think that right now in this part of our history we are the only ones that fight, oh my goodness, it showed you fighters and people screaming and all the slanderous activities that were happening. And yet President Lincoln stood strong to free the slaves in the south. And there was a civil war, he did live to the end of the civil war, the history books back there were amazing but it is his birthday and I am disappointed but I am glad that two of our senators brought up his birthday so that we could actually talk about it. An impressive person. I think that he held honor and truth to be dear to his heart and I think that each and every one of us would do well, and I am not saying we don't, but to hold honor and truth near and dear to our heart. If you ever get a chance go back visit the museum and you will experience something that is quite remarkable. Thank you Mr. President."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Habib: "Given the late hour, I would ask members to keep your points of personal privilege to matters that pertain to your participation in the Senate or if they are relevant, truly relevant to the work we are doing. We are here late at night and I have as much respect for President Lincoln as anybody, I would be happy to sit in any pro forma and hear a resolution in his honor. Tomorrow we will have the opportunity to honor a wonderful Washingtonian, Governor Spellman. We want to have the time to be able to do that. Tonight we need to continue and move legislation."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 6229, by Senators Van De Wege, Chase, Conway, Wellman, Hasegawa, Saldaña, Keiser, Hunt and Kuderer

Requiring employers to provide exclusive bargaining representatives reasonable access to new employees for the purposes of presenting information about their exclusive bargaining representative.

The measure was read the second time.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fain: "Thank you Mr. President. I was listening to the remarks of the President a few moments ago and I was trying to think to myself of what part of the little red book the President was speaking from, and I could not come up with a passage especially in light of the amendment to the rules that were adopted at the beginning of the year that eliminated the provision that had some, that addressed what could be spoken to in points of personal privilege, and so Mr. President I was hoping you could inform us in which rule you were interpreting."

President Habib: "It is also the President's prerogative to rule points of personal privilege as dilatory if they are being used to impede the work of the Senate under rule 49, Senator. And so, my hope was not to have to do that, I did allow these two speakers to put forward their points of personal privilege, which were on the unfortunate passing of our sixteenth president, some 150 years ago. And so I did allow that personal privilege for those two senators, but if that were to continue it would begin to appear as though members were seeking at this late hour to impede the work of the Senate. We've today had the tremendous opportunity to honor Senator Becker's marriage, we've talked about Senator Hobbs' birthday, certainly we will have the very sacred opportunity tomorrow to recognize Governor Spellman's service, we had obviously Senator Gorton on Friday. It's important to do these things but I think everyone agrees right now, none of us are here because we enjoy working late into the night. We have bills to pass. If there is more to say about President Lincoln, I am sure a resolution could be arranged. Now, Senator Fain did you have another point?"

Senator Fain: "No, I just wanted to appreciate your long winded response. It gave me an opportunity to get organized."

President Habib: "Even I didn't hit the three minute mark Senator Fain."
