The Washington State Patrol Honor Guard presented the Colors. The National Anthem was performed by Sergeant Jeffery Eifert.

Father Louis Cunningham, Parochial Vicar, St. Michael's Parish of Olympia offered the invocation.

INVOCATION

Father Louis Cunningham: "The biblical understanding of the word 'memory' is much richer than we understand in the common usage. In the biblical context, memory means to remember and recall but also to preserve and to invoke. Memory in the bible refers to encounters and covenants which took place in the past and which were made present and brought to life today. Thus, as Catholics, the memorial of the Eucharist re-presents, it makes presents, the sacrifice of the Cross and applies its saving effects. Christ's action perpetuated until the end of the world, and its saving power applied to us and to our brokenness for our salvation.

Memory is an important aspect of human nature. Through memory, we recall and learn from the joys and the hopes, the griefs and the anxieties of past ages, proposing a way to progress for the common good. We must recognize that the experience of those that went before us are just as valid, true and real as our own experiences today, since they, too, lived out the human nature that we all share.

In this spirit of memorializing those women and men, our brothers and sisters of a common home, who have fought the good fight before us, let us take a moment to quiet our mortal flesh in silent attentiveness." [A moment of silence was observed.]

"We invoke the name of the Eternal One, the Consoler, the Absolute, the Beginning and the End, the One to whom all flesh must come with its burden of mortality.

That you here might attentively recall the memory of those who went before us to brighten the path of the future, so that you might even more assiduously respect the rights of each and establish human relationships with the harmony that promotes equity to persons and to the common good.

So, may it be. Peace to you on this blessed day, and to all who seek the Lord in simplicity of heart. Amen."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Keiser: "Honored Statewide Elected Officials, Justices of the Court and Members of the Legislature, Ladies and Gentlemen: The purpose of this Joint Session is to conduct a memorial service in memory of members of the legislature who have passed from among us. This has been our longstanding custom. For more than a century, the Senate and House have met, as we meet today, to pay special and fitting tribute to the lives and service of these valued public servants.

Despite the abundant work we have here before us, we pause upon this sad occasion and reflect upon the course that we have traveled and pay homage to the disappearing generations of men and women who aided in strengthening and multiplying the powers and opportunities, the pleasures and possibilities of the people who constitute this great state.

On behalf of the Senate and the House of Representatives, I would like to extend a warm welcome to the family members, friends and colleagues who have joined us today and to offer our deep sympathies."

Washington State Patrolman, Sergeant Jeffery Eifert, performed "Amazing Grace."

The President Pro Tempore introduced Deputy Speaker Pro Tempore Tina Orwall.

REMARKS BY THE DEPUTY SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

Deputy Speaker Pro Tempore Tina Orwall: "We gather today to commemorate the lives of the distinguished former governors, members of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives who have passed from among us.

The people of our state are grateful for their public service. The Sixty-Sixth Legislature conveys its respects to these deceased governors and legislators. They once sat in these chambers, answered roll calls on critical bills, attended committee meetings, and through it sought always to make our state a better place to live. While their journey in this life is complete, their achievements, public record, and valued service are recorded in the journals of the Senate and House, and are forever a permanent part of our state's history.

We express our sympathies to the families, friends and colleagues of these public servants. We also share with them on this memorable occasion the fond and happy memories of these governors and legislators. They leave a legacy of dedicated service that remains always in our hearts, our memories and the history of our state."

MEMORIAL PRAYER

Pastor Matthew Miles: “Let us pray. To Heavenly Father Lord thank you for the awesome opportunity to be able to recognize those who have gone before us. I pray Lord, that in this room today there are many that have known these people, Lord. Thank you for their testimony and their tenacious acts, Lord, faithfulness, perseverance, Lord, to liberty, truth, the American way. I pray Lord that as we remember the pioneer spirit of many of these that have gone before us we would not forget the paths that they have blazed. Lord I think through the Bible of memorials and it’s a reminder of where we have been but it is also a reminder of who’s gone before us. Lord, thank you for the testimonies of men and women that Lord have just blazed these trails. I pray Lord that, as we honor their legacy today, that those in this room, Lord, will be able to start to focus on their legacy. Be able to see those that are coming up behind them. And, Lord, that our great state, this great nation would continue to be one nation under God. In Jesus’ Name. Amen.

The Deputy Speaker Pro Tempore (Representative Orwall presiding) introduced Rabbi Yosef Schtroks, Director and Spiritual Leader of Chabad Jewish Center, Olympia, who offered the closing prayer.

CLOSING PRAYER

Rabbi Schtroks: “Regarding the loss of a loved one, Jewish wisdom often quotes the verse in Ecclesiastes, ‘Vehachai Yiten el libo’ – The living should take to heart.

Having gathered here today to memorialize the selfless men and women who dedicated their lives to public service on behalf of the citizens of this great state of Washington, let us reflect on what we can take to heart from the examples they set.

All human beings were created in the divine image, and while externally we may seem to have great differences, at our core we share a common bond. Thus, we can find relevant the loss of any individual, however it is surely so when we reflect on the passing of those who were communal representatives, our legislators who are no longer with us.

And therefore let us once more recall the words of the scripture ‘Vehachai Yiten el libo’ – The living should take to heart.

Let us reflect on the following insight, recounted by the great spiritual leader the Lubavitcher Rebbe Rabbi Menachem M. Schneerson of saintly memory on a number of occasions. ‘Free choice and the ability to do good is only the hands of those physically alive. Once someone has passed on, they are no longer able to perform those good deeds. It is only the good deeds that are performed in their memory that carry on their legacy.’

As we pray together, let us resolve to continue what these distinguished public servants have started. In the shadow of their legacy let us find tangible ways to use these legislative halls as a conduit to create a more kind, moral, just and ethical society throughout the state of Washington. We can be links in their chain to inspire the next generation of Washingtonians to live lives which are filled with doing for others, and pursuit of a higher purpose.

In the spirit of the joyous Jewish holiday Purim, which begins this evening, may God comfort all those who mourn, and bring joy to the grieving family members in the knowledge that the selfless toil of their loved ones will continue to live on through the work of the senators and representatives gathered here today.

May we very soon merit the fulfillment of the words of the prophet Isaiah, a time when 'death will be erased forever; and God, the Lord, will wipe the tears away from every face.' And let us say 'Amen.' "

The Deputy Speaker Pro Tempore (Representative Orwall presiding) thanked the President and the senate for their assistance and hospitality and retired from the chair.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Keiser: "Thank you, Speaker Orwall and members of the House of Representatives. Our deepest gratitude to all who have participated in the service today. Our special thanks to the members of the state patrol, members of the clergy and Senator Pedersen and his staff for their performance. We very much appreciate your participation. The President hopes that the loved ones of those we honor today will draw comfort from today's observance."
