Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that there is an urgent need for retraining and reeducation of persons living in areas with high unemployment who have become unemployed due to large changes in the economy of our state and the demands of industry. The state through its agencies has a responsibility to assist in the retraining of unemployed citizens. (5) If an eligible person attends a vocational-technical institute instead of one of the community colleges under this section, the state board for community college education shall pay the vocational-technical institute a sum equivalent to that allocated for a person attending a community college under this section if funds are available under subsection (3) of this section. All persons applying for the program shall be given a list of the eligible community colleges and the vocational-technical institutes in the state and informed that they may attend either the community college or a vocational-technical institute. The state board for community college education shall administer the program under this section and shall submit a report on the program to the legislature by January, 1987.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The number of persons granted tuition and fee waivers under section 2 of this act shall not exceed two hundred full time equivalent students. The state board for community college education shall provide an equitable allocation of the waivers among the community
