DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life. Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights. Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good. He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained, and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them. He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places, unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the meantime exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary powers.

He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies, without the Consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation: For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us: For protecting them by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States: For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world: For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent: For depriving us in many cases of the benefits of Trial by Jury: For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offenses: For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies: For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments: For suspending our own Legislatures and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated Government hereby declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolution and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions. In every stage of these Oppressions We have petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms. Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people. Nor have We been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

We, THEREFORE, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions do, in the Name, and by authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be, Free and Independent States: that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.

COMPLETE TEXT CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

PREAMBLE

We, the People of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I

Section 1

1. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a congress of the United States, which shall consist of a senate and house of representatives.

Section 2

1. The house of representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several states; and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislature.

2. No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

3. Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand; but each State shall have at least one representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three; Massachusetts, eight; Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, one; Connecticut, five; New York, six; New Jersey, four; Pennsylvania, eight; Delaware, one; Maryland, six; Virginia, ten; North Carolina, five; South Carolina, five; and Georgia, three.

4. When vacancies happen in the representation from any State, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

5. The house of representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

[Art. 1]

Section 3

1. The senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each State, chosen by the legislature thereof, for six years; and each senator shall have one vote.

2. Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year, of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen, by resignation or otherwise, during the recess of the legislature of any State, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

3. No person shall be a senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

4. The vice-president of the United States shall be president of the senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided.

5. The senate shall choose their other officers, and also a president pro tempore, in the absence of the vice-president, or when he shall exercise the office of president of the United States.

6. The senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the president of the United States is tried, the chief justice shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

7. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust, or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law.

Section 4

1. The times, place, and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the legislature thereof; but the congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators.

2. The congress shall assemble at least once in every year; and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.*

* See Amendment XX.

Section 5

1. Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

2. Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

3. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may, in their judgment, require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

4. Neither house, during the session of congress, shall without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

Section 6

1. The senators and representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall, in all cases except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

2. No senator or representative shall during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased, during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

Section 7

1. All bills for raising revenues shall originate in the house of representatives; but the senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills.

2. Every bill which shall have passed the house of representatives and the senate shall, before it become a law, be presented to the president of the United States; if he approve, he shall sign it; but, if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated; who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such consideration, two-thirds of the house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and, if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all such cases, the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the president within ten days (Sunday excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the congress, by their adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

3. Every order, resolution or vote, to which the concurrence of the senate and house of representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment), shall be presented to the president of the United States; and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him; or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the senate and house of representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

Section 8

The congress shall have power:

1. To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises; to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States.

ARTICLE II—LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

Sec. 1. Legislative Powers, Where Vested—The leg-islative authority of the State of Washington shall be vested in the legislature, consisting of a senate and house of representatives, which shall be called the legislature of the State of Washington, but the people re-serve to themselves the power to propose bills, laws, and to enact or reject the same at the polls, independent of the legislature, and also reserve power, at their own option, to approve or reject at the polls any act, item. section or part of any bill, act or law passed by the legislature.

(a) Initiative: The first power reserved by the people is the initiative. Ten per centum, but in no case more than fifty thousand, of the legal voters shall be required to propose any measure by such petition, and every such petition shall include the full text of the measure so proposed. [Note: Signature requirements superseded by Art. 2, Sec. 1(A), AMENDMENT 30.] Initiative petitions shall be filed with the secretary of state not less than four months before the election at which they are to be voted upon, or not less than ten days before any regular session of the legislature. If filed at least four months before the election at which they are to be voted upon, he shall submit the same to the vote of the people at the said election. If such petitions are filed not less than ten days before any regular session of the legislature, he shall transmit the same to the legislature as soon as it convenes and organizes. Such initiative measure shall take precedence over all other measures in the legislature except appropriation bills and shall be either enacted or rejected without change or amendment by the legislature before the end of such regular session. If any such initiative measure shall be enacted by the legislature it shall be subject to the referendum petition, or it may be enacted and referred by the legislature to the people for approval or rejection at the next regular election. If it is rejected or if no action is taken upon it by the legislature before the end of such regular session, the secretary of state shall submit it to the people for approval or rejection at the next ensuing regular general election. The legislature may reject any measure so proposed by initiative petition and propose a different one dealing with the same subject, and in such event both measures shall be submitted by the secretary of state to the people for approval or rejection at the next ensuing regular general election. When conflicting measures are submitted to the people the ballots shall be so printed that a voter can express separately by making one cross (X) for each, two preferences, first, as between either measure and neither, and secondly, as between one and the other. If the majority of those voting on the first issue is for neither, both fail, but in that case the votes on the second issue shall nevertheless be carefully counted and made public. If a majority voting on the first issue is for either, then the measure receiving a majority of the votes on the second issue shall be law.

(b) Referendum: The second power reserved by the people is the referendum, and it may be ordered on any act, bill, law, or any part thereof passed by the legislature, except such laws as may be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, support of the state government and its existing public institutions, either by petition signed by the required percentage of the legal voters, or by the legislature as other bills are enacted. Six per centum, but in no case more than thirty thousand, of the legal voters shall be required to sign and make a valid referendum petition. [Note: Signature requirements superseded by Art. 2, Sec. 1(A), AMENDMENT 30.]

(c) No act, law, or bill subject to referendum shall take effect until ninety days after the adjournment of the session at which it was enacted. No act, law, or bill approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon shall be amended or repealed by the legislature within a period of two years following such enactment. But such enactment may be amended or repealed at any general regular or special election by direct vote of the people thereon. [Note: Subdivision (c) is expressly superseded by Art. 2, Sec. 41, AMENDMENT 26.]

(d) The filing of a referendum petition against one or more items, sections or parts of any act, law or bill shall not delay the remainder of the measure from becoming operative. Referendum petitions against mea-sures passed by the legislature shall be filed with the secretary of state not later than ninety days after the final adjournment of the session of the legislature which passed the measure on which the referendum is de-manded. The veto power of the governor shall not ex-tend to measures initiated by or referred to the people. All elections on measures referred to the people of the state shall be had at the biennial regular elections, except when the legislature shall order a special election. Any measure initiated by the people or referred to the people as herein provided shall take effect and become the law if it is approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon: Provided, That the vote cast upon such question or measure shall equal one-third of the total votes cast at such election and not otherwise. Such measure shall be in operation on and after the thirtieth day after the election at which it is approved. The style of all bills proposed by initiative petition shall be: "Be it enacted by the people of the State of Washington." This section shall not be construed to deprive any member of the legislature of the right to introduce any measure. The whole number of electors who voted for governor at the regular gubernatorial election last preceding the filing of any petition for the initiative or for the referendum shall be the basis on which the number of legal voters necessary to sign such petition shall be counted. All such petitions shall be filed with the sec-retary of state, who shall be guided by the general laws in submitting the same to the people until additional legislation shall especially provide therefor. This section is self-executing, but legislation may be enacted especially to facilitate its operation.

The legislature shall provide methods of publicity of all laws or parts of laws, and amendments to the Constitution referred to the people with arguments for and against the laws and amendments so referred, so that each voter of the state shall receive the publication at least fifty days before the election at which they are to be voted upon. [Note: This paragraph is expressly superseded by Art. 2, Sec. 1(e), AMENDMENT 36.]

The secretary of state shall send one copy of the publication to each individual place of residence in the state and shall make such additional distribution as he shall determine necessary to reasonably assure that each voter will have an opportunity to study the measures prior to election. These provisions supersede the provisions set forth in the last paragraph of section 1 of this article as amended by the seventh amendment to the Constitution of this state. DR. ARTHUR S. BEARDSLEY LAW LIBRARIAN AND PROFESSOR OF LAW UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON Member of the Seattle Bar

Washington has had two constitutional conventions. The first one convened at Walla Walla in June, 1878. It was a very small body composed of only fifteen men, but representative of the Territory's best intellect. Their labors continued over a period of forty days and produced a draft of a proposed constitution unequaled by that of any state. While the proceedings of this convention were never printed, they can be found in the columns of the Walla Walla Bulletin for that month and the original draft may be found in the office of the Secretary of State. The proceedings have been reprinted with notes by Dean John T. Condon and Professor Edmund Meany of the University of Washington. When presented to Congress, this constitution was rejected and statehood postponed for another eleven years.

Just prior to the convening on July 4th of the Constitutional Convention of 1889, Mr. W. Lair Hill, a prominent attorney both of Oregon and California, code writer of Oregon, former editor of the Portland, Oregon, Oregonian, a new resident of Seattle and soon to be the compiler of Washington's first state code, prepared, at the request of the Oregonian, the draft of a model state constitution. Copies were placed on the desks of the members of the Constitutional Convention of 1889 and were used as the working basis upon which to build the constitution for the new state of Washington. While it is difficult to measure the extent of its influence, it is evident that it was not small.

This second constitutional convention met in Olympia pursuant to an enabling act passed by Congress on February 22, 1889. It was in session until August 22, 1889. The membership of the convention consisted of seventyfive delegates chosen by the people of the Territory of Washington at an election held May 14, 1889, under Section 3 of the Enabling Act. They represented twentyfour nativities, partly as follows: Missouri 10, Ohio 8, New York 7, Illinois 7, Maine 6, Pennsylvania 4, Kentucky 4, Indiana 3, Michigan 3, Tennessee 2, and North Carolina, Massachusetts, Washington, Wisconsin, Connecticut, Iowa, Nebraska, and California each 1.

Judge John P. Hoyt was chosen as its president. The personnel of the convention included many very distinguished citizens including three future justices of the supreme court, a future governor, a future United States Senator, several future superior court judges. By occupations there were 22 lawyers, 15 farmers, 6 physicians, 5 merchants, 5 bankers, 4 stockmen, 3 teachers, 4 millmen and loggers, 1 preacher, 1 surveyor, 1 fisherman, and 1 engineer. Their average age was 45 years. The constitution presented by these delegates was

The constitution presented by these delegates was ratified by the people at an election held on October 1, 1889, and on November 11, 1889, in accordance with Section 8 of the Enabling Act, the President of the United States proclaimed the admission of the State of Washington into the Union. The Constitution of Washington was the result of a study of the constitutions of many states. The constitutions of Oregon and California influenced it the most; but a considerable number of its sections show similar and identical language taken from the constitutions of Wisconsin, Missouri, Colorado. and Indiana. A lesser number of sections show the influence of the constitutions of Illinois, Pennsylvania, Texas, and Ohio. Altogether provisions from twenty-three state constitutions were copied into the final draft.

The influence of the Hill model draft was extensive. Much of this draft came from Oregon, which in turn had been taken heavily from the constitution of Indiana. In addition to Oregon, Mr. Hill borrowed from California and Wisconsin. It is probable that the members of the constitutional convention used the Hill draft as a basis of their study and modified its provisions as they progressed with the work. The proposed Constitution of 1878 was of much aid to them also. Even Mr. Hill copied from it in the preparation of his model draft.

A study of the various sections of the Constitution of Washington as finally adopted shows somewhat the rollowing conclusions:

State
Constitution
or Proposed	Ide n tical
Draft	Sec tion	Section
Hill	. 51	46
California	. 45	45
Oregon	. 23	37
Wisconsin		17
Proposed 1878	. 19	30
Indiana	. 7	10
Colorado	. 8	15
Missouri	. 3	18
Illinois	6	14
Pennsylvania	. 7	6
Texas		7
United States	. 7	17
Ohio	. 1	7

It should be noted, however, that there must be an overlapping of sections between states, as for example, certain sections as finally drafted might be the identical language of Hill, California, and Oregon; or a similarity of language of sections taken from Oregon, Indiana, and Wisconsin. The table clearly shows the relative influence of the constitutions and proposed drafts which are the sources of its provisions.

Section 8—First Election

Many states have provisions of this kind. Naturally, they vary greatly. Colo. and Hill, similar in part.

ARTICLE VII—REVENUE AND TAXATION

Note: It is evident that the Committee on Revenue and Taxation studied very carefully the constitutions of many states as is shown by the fact that they have borrowed a sentence from one state and a part of a sentence from some other state. It will be impossible to show where they secured some provisions, such as that (Sec. 2) requiring the assessment to be according to "the value of the property in money." It is also difficult to understand why they did not choose a plan of classification for property, or to define property, or to provide for taxation of intangibles, when so many states' constitutions presented such examples and when other states preparing constitutions at the same time chose them.

FORTY-FIRST LEGISLATURE 1969

Chief Clerk to Call to Order

Rule 1. Custom, so prevalent and so ancient as to have the force of law, has made it the duty of the chief clerk of the previous assembly to call the session to order and to conduct the proceedings generally until a speaker is chosen.

The secretary of state furnishes to the clerk a certified statement of the names of the members elect, which is read by the clerk. The roll is called and the oath of office is administered to the members by a justice of the supreme court. The members rise and are sworn. After adoption of temporary rules, the assembly then proceeds to the election of its officers.

Election of Speaker, Chief Clerk and Sergeant at Arms

Rule 2. The house shall elect the following officers at the commencement of each regular session: Its presiding officer, who shall be styled speaker of the house, a speaker pro tempore, who shall serve in absence or in case of the inability of the speaker, a chief clerk of the house, and a sergeant at arms. An assistant chief clerk may be elected on any legislative day. Such officers shall hold office during all sessions until the convening of the succeeding regular session.

In all elections by the legislature the members shall vote viva voce and their vote shall be entered on the journal.

(c) The speaker shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting.

(d) The speaker shall have a general direction of the house chamber.

(e) He shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment.

Members of the Rules and Administration Committee will be selected in the same manner and same ratio as provided above, and the speaker will serve as chairman of the Rules and Administration Committee.

Interim committee memberships will be elected by the respective caucuses, unless otherwise provided by law, on a basis of statutory and geographical representation; otherwise, the same ratio between the parties will prevail in the caucus election of interim committee members.

Patronage will be divided proportionately by the party caucuses, following as closely as possible the ratio between the parties.

(g) In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the house chamber and legislative areas, the speaker (or chairman of the whole house) shall have the power to order the same to be cleared. (h) He shall designate the persons who shall act as reporters for the public press.

Incidental Motions

Points of order and appeal Method of consideration Suspend the rules Reading papers Withdraw a motion Division of a question

No motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit, to postpone indefinitely, being decided, shall again be allowed on the same day and at the same stage of the proceedings, and when a question has been postponed indefinitely it shall not again be introduced during the session. The motion to postpone indefinitely may be made at any stage of the bill except when on first reading.

A motion to lay an amendment on the table shall not carry the main question with it unless so specified in the motion to table.

Without Debate

Rule 48. A motion to adjourn, to take a recess, to lay on the table and a call for the previous question shall be decided without debate.

All incidental questions of order arising after a motion is made for either of the questions named in this rule and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

A motion for suspension of the rules shall not be debatable, except, however, the mover of the motion may briefly explain the purpose of his motion, and one opponent to the motion may briefly explain his position.

Recognition of Speaker

Rule 49. When any member is about to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the house he shall rise from his seat, respectfully address himself to Mr. Speaker, pause until recognized, shall confine himself to the question under debate, and avoid personalities; and no member shall impugn the motive of any member's vote or argument.

Order of Speaking

Rule 50. When two or more members arise at once, the speaker shall name the one who is to speak.

Right of Members to Speak

Rule 51. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the house: Provided, That the chairman of the committee or the mover of the question may close the debate except as provided in Rule 55: Provided further, That no member shall speak longer than ten minutes without consent of the house.

After the fiftieth day no member shall speak more than once on the same question without leave of the house: Provided, That the chairman of the committee or the mover of the question, may close the debate except as provided in Rule 55: Provided further, That no member shall speak more than three minutes without the consent of the house.

Exception to Words Spoken in Debate

Rule 52. If any member be called to order for words spoken in debate the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to and they shall be taken down in writing at the clerk's table, and no member shall be held to answer or be subject to the censure of the house for words spoken in debate if any other member has spoken before exception to them shall have been taken.

Transgression of Rules—Appeal

Rule 53. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the house, the speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down unless permitted to explain; and the house shall, if appealed to, decide the case without debate; if there be no appeal, the decision of the chair shall be submitted to.

If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, and the case shall require it, he shall be liable to the censure of the house.

Withdrawal of Motion, Bill, Etc.

Rule 54. After a motion is stated by the speaker, or a bill, memorial, resolution, petition or remonstrance is read by the clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the house, but may be withdrawn by consent of the house at any time before decision or amendment.

Previous Question

Rule 55. The previous question upon all recognized motions or amendments which are debatable may be ordered by two-thirds of the members present, and shall have the effect of cutting off all debate and bringing the house to a direct vote upon the motion or amendment on which it has been ordered: Provided, however, That one of the sponsors of a bill, memorial, or resolution, or, in his stead, the chairman of the committee, when the measure is on final passage or when the motion to postpone indefinitely is pending, may have the privilege of closing debate after the previous question has been ordered.

Putting the Motion Ending Debate

say 'Aye'; as many as are opposed will say 'No'." The results of the motion are as follows: If determined in the negative, the consideration goes on as if the motion had never been made; if decided in the affirmative, the presiding officer, without debate, proceeds to put the question. If an adjournment is had after the previous

If an adjournment is had after the previous question is ordered, the motion or proposition on which the previous question was ordered shall be put to the house immediately following the approval of the journal on the next working day, thus making the main question privileged over all other business, whether new or unfinished.

Reading of a Paper

Rule 57. When the reading of any paper is called for, and is objected to by any member, it shall be determined by a vote of the house.

Order of Questions

Rule 58. All questions, whether in committee or in the house, shall be propounded in the order in which they are named, except that in filling blanks the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

Motion to Adjourn

Rule 59. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when the house is voting or is working under call of the house; but this rule shall not authorize any member to move an adjournment when another member has the floor.

Division of Points in Debate

Rule 60. Any member may call for a division of a question, which shall be divided if it embraces subjects so distinct that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the house; but a motion to strike out and to insert shall not be divided. The rejection of a motion to strike out and to insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and to insert a different proposition.

Putting of Question

Rule 61. Questions shall be put in this form, to-wit: "As many as are in favor of (as the question shall be) say 'Aye';" and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "as many as are opposed say 'No'."

Decorum of Members

Rule 62. While the speaker is putting the question, no member shall walk across or out of the house; nor when a member is speaking shall any member entertain private discourse or pass between the speaking member and the rostrum.

Question of Privilege

Rule 63. Any member may rise to a question of privilege and explain a matter personal to himself by leave of the speaker, but he shall not discuss any pending question in such explanations.

Members to Vote

Rule 64. Every member who was in the house when the question was put shall give his vote unless the house for special reasons shall excuse him.

All motions to excuse a member shall be made before the house divides or before the call for yeas and nays is commenced; and any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief and verbal statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

Voting Within Bar Only

Rule 65. Upon a division and count of the house on the question, no member outside the bar of the house shall be counted.

Change of Vote—Private Interest

Rule 66. When the electric roll call machine is used, no member shall be allowed to vote or change his vote after the speaker has locked the roll call machine. When the oral roll call is used, no member shall be allowed to change his vote after the result has been announced. No member shall vote on any question in the event of which he is immediately or particularly interested,* or in any case when he is not within the bar of the house before the last name was called, unless by unanimous consent; and when any member shall ask leave to vote, the speaker shall propound to him the question, "Were you within the bar of the house when the last name was called?"

*A member who has a private interest in any bill or measure proposed or pending before the legislature shall disclose the fact to the house of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon. (See also Constitution, Art. 2, Sec. 30.)

Clerk's Desk During Voting

Rule 67. No member or other person shall visit or remain by the clerk's desk while the yeas and nays are being called.

Yeas and Nays

Rule 68. Upon the final passage of any bill, memorial or resolution, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and shall be recorded by the electric voting system: Provided, however, That an oral roll call shall be ordered when demanded by one-sixth of the members present. The speaker shall vote when the yeas and nays are called for, his name being called last.

When the vote is by electric voting machine or by oral roll call on any question it shall be entered upon the journal of the house.

Tie Vote, Question Loses

Rule 69. In case of an equal division, the question shall be lost.

If the speaker is in doubt, or if division is called for, the house shall divide.

Reconsideration

Rule 70. Notice of a motion for reconsideration on the final passage of bills may be made only on the day the vote to be reconsidered was taken.

A motion to reconsider can be made only by a member voting on the prevailing side.

An affirmative or negative vote on the final passage of bills may be reconsidered only on the next working day after such vote has been taken: Provided, That after the fiftieth day reconsideration can be had only on the day the vote to be reconsidered was taken.

When a motion to reconsider has been carried, its effect shall be to place the original question before the house in the exact position it occupied before it was voted upon.

A motion to reconsider can be decided only once when decided in the negative.

Call of the House

Rule 71. One-sixth of the members present may demand a call of the house at any time before the house has divided or the voting has commenced by yeas and nays.

Doors to Be Closed

Rule 72. A call of the house being ordered, the sergeant at arms shall close and lock the doors, and no member shall be allowed to leave the chamber: Provided, That the Committee on Rules and Administration shall be allowed to meet, upon request of the speaker, in the Rules and Administration Committee room while the house stands at ease: And provided further, That the speaker may, at his discretion, permit members to use such portions of the fourth floor as may be properly secured.

Sergeant at Arms to Bring in the Absentees

Rule 73. The clerk shall call a roll of the members immediately and note the absentees, whose names shall be read and entered upon the journal in such manner as to show who are absent with leave and who are absent without leave.

The clerk shall furnish the sergeant at arms with a list of those who are absent without leave, and the sergeant at arms shall proceed to bring in such absentees; but arrests of members for absence shall not be made unless ordered by a majority of the members present.

House Under Call; Raising Call

Rule 74. While the house is under a call, no business shall be transacted except to receive and act on the report of the sergeant at arms; and no other motion shall be in order except a motion to proceed with business under the call of the house, a motion to suspend further proceedings under the call of the house, or a motion to excuse absentees, any of which motions shall be determined by viva voce vote unless a roll call is demanded by one-sixth of the members present. The motion to suspend further proceedings under the call or to excuse absent members shall not be adopted unless a majority of all members elected to the house vote in favor thereof.

Call of House Raised When Absentees Return

Rule 75. When the sergeant at arms shall make a report showing that all who were absent without leave are present the call of the house may be dispensed with; or the house may proceed under the call, on a majority vote of the members elected, with its regular business.

Parliamentary Rules

Rule 76. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Reed's Parliamentary Rules shall govern all cases in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the house.

Appeal from Decision of Chair

Rule 77. The decision of the chair may be appealed from by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once unless by leave of the house. In all cases of appeal the question shall be: "Shall the decision of the chair stand as the judgment of the house?"

Veto Bills—Two-thirds Present to Pass— No Reconsideration

Rule 78. The veto message of the governor accompanying any bill passed by the legislature, together with the bill vetoed, shall be read in the house. It shall then be in order to proceed to the reconsideration of the bill, refer it, lay it on the table, or postpone its consideration to a day certain.

The merits of the bill may be debated before the vote is taken, but the vote on a vetoed bill cannot be reconsidered.

In case of a bill containing several sections or items, one or more of which has been objected to by the governor, each section or item so objected to shall be voted upon separately by the house.

Action by the house upon all vetoed bills shall be endorsed upon the bill and certified by the speaker.

Vetoed bills originating in the house which have not been passed notwithstanding the veto of the governor shall remain in the custody of the officers of the house until the close of the session, after which they shall be filed with the secretary of state.

notice of a committee meeting may be considered at that meeting except upon the vote of a majority of the entire membership of the committee to consider another bill. A majority recommendation of a committee must be signed by a majority of the entire membership of the committee in a regularly called meeting before a bill, memorial or resolution may be reported out. Majority recommendations of a committee can only be "do pass", "do pass as amended", or that "the attached substitute bill be substituted therefor and that the substitute bill do pass". Minority reports, "do not pass" or "without recommendation", may be submitted with the majority report. Members of the committee not concurring in the majority report may prepare a written minority report containing a different recommendation, which shall be signed by those members of the committee subscribing thereto. State of Washington HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

A Brief Summary of the Rules

For the convenience of the members

FOREWORD

Parliamentary rules are designed solely for the uniform, orderly and expeditious conduct of deliberative bodies. The parliamentary system is necessary to avoid confusion and chaos-a system which will permit an assemblage to accomplish in the best possible manner the work for which it has been called. In conducting the business of the House of Representatives. we have, first, the Rules of the House which provide generally for organization and for the quick transaction of business necessary to a short sixtyday session. Secondly, we have "Reed's Parliamentary Rules" which apply to all parliamentary questions not covered specifically by the house rules. The two together completely cover every situation that may arise in conducting the proceedings of the house and its committees.

Parliamentary procedure to many is a maze of intricate and entangling motions and the new member usually approaches the problem with apprehension, and occasionally with an inferiority, due to inexperience, that requires time and study to overcome.

To assist the new members and to refresh the memories of the re-elected members, there follows a summary of the more commonly used rules, including the proper wording of the more common motions. A careful study of and frequent reference to this brief should enable the new members particularly to quickly "feel at home" on the floor and in the committee rooms of our distinguished House of Representatives.

Rank of Motions, Debate and Nondebatable Motions

No motion shall be entertained or debated until stated by the speaker. (House Rule 47.)

After a motion is stated by the speaker, or a bill, memorial or resolution is read by the clerk, it is in possession of the house, but may be withdrawn by consent of the house, before decision of the house. (House Rule 55.)

When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but the following, in the rank named:

Privileged Motions

Adjourn Adjourn to a time certain Recess to a time certain Reconsider Demand for division Question of privilege Orders of the day

Subsidiary Motions

First rank—Question of consideration Second rank—To lay on the table Third rank—For the previous question Fourth rank—To postpone to a day certain To commit or recommit To postpone indefinitely

The previous question may be ordered by a two-thirds vote of members present upon all recognized motions or amendments which are debatable. Cuts off debate. Brings direct vote. (House Rule 56.)

If an adjournment is had after a previous question is ordered, the question on which the previous question has been ordered is the first order of business after approval of the journal on the next working day. (House Rule 57.)

The vote on the final passage of bills can only be reconsidered on the next working day after the vote to be reconsidered has been taken; EX-CEPT after the fiftieth day, when reconsideration of the vote on the final passage of bills can be taken only on the same day.

When a motion to reconsider carries, it shall place before the house the original question, in exact position it occupied before originally voted upon. (House Rule 71.)

The reconsideration of motions that do not pertain to the final passage of bills must be made the same day on which the motion to be reconsidered was carried.

Any motion to reconsider can be made only by a member voting on the prevailing side.

Motions to Postpone Indefinitely:

A motion to postpone indefinitely, having been decided in the negative, shall not be allowed again on the same day, or at the same stage of the bill or proposition. (House Rule 48.)

When indefinitely postponed, a bill, memorial or resolution shall not be acted upon again during session. (House Rule 48).

A motion to indefinitely postpone may be made at any stage of the bill except when on first reading. (House Rule 48.)

A member shall rise (from his own seat) when about to make a motion or to speak in debate. Address "Mr. Speaker" and wait until recognized. When given the floor, he shall make his motion, or, if speaking in debate, he shall confine his remarks to the question before the house. He must avoid personalities. (House Rule 50.)

A member called to order shall immediately sit, unless allowed to explain. If no appeal, the decision of the chair is final. If appealed, the house will decide without debate. (House Rule 54.)

See "Exception to words spoken in debate." (House Rule 53.)

When two or more members arise at once, the speaker shall name the one who is to speak. (House Rule 51.)

No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the house, except chairman of the committee, or mover of the question, who may close debate: Provided, That no member shall speak longer than ten minutes without consent of the house. (House Rule 52.)

After 50th day, no member shall speak more than once except as above, nor longer than three minutes. (House Rule 52.)

While speaker is putting question, no member shall walk across or out of the house. (House Rule 63.)

While member is speaking, no other member shall entertain private discourse, or pass between speaking member and the chair. (House Rule 63.)

Every member who shall be in the house when the question is put shall give his vote, unless for special reasons the house shall excuse him. (House Rule 65.)

No member shall absent himself from service of the house, except with leave from the speaker, or on account of sickness. (House Rule 17.)

A member who has a private interest in any bill or measure proposed or pending before the legislature shall disclose the fact to the house of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon. (State Constitution.) (House Rule 67.)

No member shall be allowed to change his vote after the result has been announced. (House Rule 67.)

No member shall be allowed to vote if he is not within the bar of the house before last name is called, except with unanimous consent of the house. (House Rule 67.)

No member of the legislature shall be liable in any civil action or criminal prosecution whatever, for words spoken in debate. (State Constitution.) Any standing rule of order, or business, may be temporarily suspended by a two-thirds vote of members present. (House Rule 89.)

The decision of the speaker may be appealed from by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once * * * * *. (House Rule 78.)

Appeals from the decision of the speaker in calling a member to order are not debatable. (House Rule 54.)

Motions From the Floor (Correct Form)

A member must rise (from his own seat) when about to make a motion or to speak in debate. Address "Mr. Speaker" and pause until recognized by the speaker. Parliamentary practice DOES NOT permit a member the right to make a motion, or to speak, until given the floor by the presiding officer. Therefore, a motion is not in possession of the house and cannot be acted upon unless the maker has been recognized.

The following are examples of the proper form of motions and inquiries from the floor:

To Dispense With the Reading of the Journal

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that further reading of the journal be dispensed with, and that the journal of the preceding day's business be ordered approved.

To Adopt a Floor Resolution

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that the resolution be adopted.

Personal Privilege

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I rise to a question of personal privilege.

Point of Order

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I rise to a point of order.

Question of Consideration

Mr. Speaker: * * * * On that (motion, bill, resolution or amendment) I raise the question of consideration.

(This question is not debatable. Sec. 110—Reed's.)

Parliamentary Inquiry

Point of Information

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I rise to a point of information. (What are we voting upon? What is the motion before the house? etc., etc.)

To Ask a Member a Question

To Divide the Question

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that the question be divided: (i.e., that the authorization of the special committee be acted upon first, and that the expenditures authorized be acted upon secondly.)

To Adopt a Committee Report

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that the report of the committee on, on House Bill No....., be adopted.

To Order the Previous Question

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that the previous question be ordered. (This motion is not debatable.) (A two-thirds vote of members present is required to order the previous question.) (House Rule 56.)

To Demand a Roll Call on Any Motion

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I demand a roll call on the motion. (The speaker will then ask if the demand is sustained, and if one-sixth of the members present rise, the demand will have been sustained, and the speaker will order the clerk to call the roll on the motion.)

To Indefinitely Postpone

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that House Bill No. be indefinitely postponed.

(This motion opens the whole question to debate, and the motion is decided on a voice vote, unless one-sixth of the members present demand a roll call. (State Constitution). Once a bill, memorial, joint or concurrent resolution has been indefinitely postponed, it can never again be acted upon during the session.) (House Rule 48.)

To Lay on the Table

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that (the motion, the bill, the amendment) be laid on the table.

(This motion is not debatable. However, when a bill or proposition is laid on the table the matter is only temporarily disposed of, and under the proper order of business, a motion to take from the table may be made at any time.)

A motion to lay an amendment on the table shall not carry the main question with it unless so specified in the motion to table. (House Rule 48.)

To Change the Order of Business

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that the house revert to the fourth order of business for the purpose of making a motion. (or) I move that the house revert to the fifth order of business for the purpose of receiving a standing committee report. (or) I move that the house advance to the ninth order of business to consider the calendar of the day.

(These motions are not a suspension of the rules, but merely a change in the order of one rule. Therefore, a majority vote of those present will carry the motion. Sec. 259—Reed's.)

To Appeal From a Decision of the Speaker

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I appeal from the decision of the speaker. (All appeals are debatable, EXCEPT an appeal after a member is called to order, which is decided without debate.)

To Demand a Call of the House

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I demand a call of the house. (The speaker will then ask if the demand is sustained. If one-sixth of the members present rise, the demand is sustained and the speaker will order the sergeant at arms to lock the doors. The clerk will call the roll, and the sergeant at arms will be instructed to bring in the absent members.)

To Proceed With Business Under the Call

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that the house proceed with business under the call of the house. (or) I move that the absent members be excused and that the house proceed with business under the call of the house. (or) I move that Mr. (or Messrs.) be excused and that the house proceed with business under the call of the house.

To Dispense With the Call of the House

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that further proceedings under the call of the house be dispensed with.

(A motion to recess or to adjourn is never in order when the house is operating under a call of the house.)

To Advance a Bill From First Reading

(A motion to suspend the rules requires a twothirds vote of those present to carry.)

To Advance a Bill From Second Reading

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that the rules be suspended, that House Bill No. be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and that the bill be placed on final passage.

(When this motion is carried, the bill is on final passage and the merits of the bill are open to debate.) (If this motion is not carried, the bill automatically goes to the Rules and Administration Committee to be placed on the third reading calendar at a later date.)

(A motion to suspend the rules requires a twothirds vote of those present to carry.)

To Adopt an Amendment

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that the amendment be adopted. (or) I move that the amendment to the amendment be adopted. (or) I move that the committee amendment to Section 2, lines 10 and 11, be adopted.

To Place a Bill on Final Passage When on Third Reading

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that the rules be suspended, that the second reading be considered the third, and that House Bill No. be placed on final passage.

(This motion, if carried, merely eliminates the third reading of the bill. If the motion is not carried, the rules provide that the bill must be read the third time in full; and then the bill is automatically on final passage.) (In either case, the merits of the bill are open to debate.)

(A motion to suspend the rules requires a twothirds vote of those present to carry.)

To Return a Bill to Second Reading

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that the rules be suspended and that House Bill No. be returned to second reading for the purpose of amendment.

(A motion to suspend the rules requires a twothirds vote of those present to carry.)

To Pass a Vetoed Bill

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that House Bill No. do pass the house, notwithstanding the veto of the governor.

(To pass a bill over the veto of the governor, a two-thirds vote of the members present is required.) (State Constitution.)

To Sustain a Veto

Mr. Speaker: * * * * I move that vetoed House Bill No. be indefinitely postponed (or) be laid on the table (or) be referred to the Committee on
