Interstate Transportation Equipment

(Sales/Use Tax Exemption)

JLARC Staff Recommends "Continue"

Because the public policy purpose of increasing the competitive advantage of Washington transportation equipment industries is being met.

Citizen Commission Endorses and Adds:

Because the interstate use threshold is less for motor vehicles than for other equipment used in interstate commerce...

The Legislature should consider whether to increase the qualifying threshold for motor vehicles by reviewing whether [all interstate transportation equipment should have the same qualifying threshold].

Food Processors

(B&O Tax Exemptions and Sales and Use Tax Deferral)

JLARC Staff Recommends "Allow to Expire"

Because the public policy objective of creating and retaining quality jobs is not being fully achieved, and the B&O tax exemption was intended to be temporary.

Citizen Commission Endorses with Comments:

The Commission... acknowledges that the Department of Agriculture provided correspondence to the Commission indicating they disagreed with the JLARC recommendation. (Same comment for all 4 reviews.)

Instate Portion of Interstate

Transportation (PUT Deduction)

JLARC Staff Recommends "Legislature should impose the public utility tax"

Instate Portion of Interstate Transportation (PUT Deduction) (continued)

Citizen Commission Does Not Endorse and Adds:

- · Although the preference is no longer constitutionally necessary, taxpayers have structured competitive activities relying on the preference.
- · Commission recommends OFM, DOR, or the Revenue Forecast Council be directed to conduct an economic impact study on the competitiveness of affected taxpayers.
- · The study should identify policy options such as defining the tax base and restructuring the public utility tax.
- If no legislative action has been taken by the end of 2012 Session, Commission will consider scheduling the preference for another review.

Shipments to Ports (PUT Deduction)

JLARC Staff Recommends "Re-examine/Clarify Intent"

Because the original public policy objective to comply with the U.S. Constitution is no longer applicable. However, changes made in 1949 and 1967 suggest Legislature had additional, unidentified objectives.

Citizen Commission Endorses with Comments:

The Commission suggests the Legislature re-examine the intent in conjunction with the economic impact study recommended for the other two public utility tax preferences.

Labor/Services to Construct and Repair Public Roads (Sales Tax Exemption)

JLARC Staff Recommends:

"Continue"

Because preference is meeting public policy objective of reducing costs for local road construction and repair.

"Re-examine/ Clarify Intent" Does the Legislature want to continue subjecting state road construction/repair to sales tax?

Citizen Commission Endorses and Adds:

 Circumstances have changed regarding the exclusion of state-owned roads from this tax preference and the exclusion may no longer serve its original purpose. The Legislature should consider revising the statute to extend the tax preference to apply to labor and services for construction and repair of state-owned roads.

Bailed Property Consumed in R&D

(Use Tax Exemption)

JLARC Staff Recommends "Re-examine/Clarify Intent"

Because the public policy objectives are unclear and ambiguous, with no clarity or restrictions as to intended beneficiaries or qualifying tangible personal property.

Citizen Commission Endorses with Comments:

The Commission... recommends the Legislature should consider whether the Department of Revenue's interpretation of the existing statute results in fairness or competitive impacts.
