To whom it may concern,

We're contacting you regarding a very regrettable episode of your podcast. We learned of a guest you recently interviewed and were shocked and appalled by the slanderous, false statements about a delegate we recently commissioned to liaison with us. That delegate is Anthony Bosworth.

The Coalition of Western States (COWS) has worked tirelessly to seek intervention on behalf of the Hammonds to avoid them returning to prison. Furthermore, since the Malheur Wildlife Refuge takeover on January 2nd, we have worked diligently with legislators, citizens, and community leaders, and corresponded with the FBI to seek a peaceful resolution so that we could preserve life, bring an end to that chapter, and prepare for the battlefield of the courts, the legislatures, and the court of public opinion.

Anthony Bosworth was instrumental in facilitating the safe passage of all who wished to leave the Refuge after Lavoy Finicum was killed. At our request, he facilitated discussions between FBI negotiators, legislators within COWS, and patriots at the Refuge.

The notion that he was part of an elaborate operation to undermine and divide the patriots by the federal government, or anyone else, is appalling. We consider Anthony Bosworth to be an asset to the Coalition of Western States who is a patriot of the highest caliber, and to be candid, we're very suspicious of the motives of the individual you had on as your guest who insinuated and accused Mr. Bosworth of the most heinous betrayal of his fellow countrymen.

Mr. Bosworth continues to hold our trust and we hold him in the highest esteem. Our hope is that you will make the proper corrections to your investigative story in which he was so maliciously maligned. He is highly regarded patriot by us, and one who has repeatedly earned and reaffirmed our confidence.

I hope that we can correct this unfortunate episode and put it behind us so that we all together can move forward in the case of freedom and liberty.

Very Sincerely,

Rep. Matt Shea (WA)

Chairman
