FIRST DAY

NOON SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Monday, January 14, 2013

At 12:00 noon, pursuant to law, the Senate of the 2013 Regular Session of the Sixty-Third Legislature of the State of Washington assembled in the Senate Chamber at the State Capitol. Lieutenant Governor Brad Owen, President of the Senate, called the Senate to order.

The Washington State Patrol Honor Guard consisting of Sergeant Ted Dehart, Olympia Criminal Investigation Division; Lieutenant Mike Turcott, Bremerton; Trooper Melissa Braaten, Homeland Security Division, Marysville; Trooper Jimmy Craig, North Seattle, Roanoke; Trooper Matt Fehler, Spokane Criminal Investigation Division and Trooper Chad Hoff, Special Operations Division presented the Colors.

The President led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Auburn Mountainview High School a cappella trio members Nicole Costa, Brandon Henderson and Taylor Liabraaten who performed the National Anthem under the direction of Ms. Karen Frerichs

Pastor Jon Sanne from the Calvary Chapel in Olympia offered the prayer.

The Washington State Patrol Honor Guard retired from the chamber.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "I think it would be appropriate that we recognize these phenomenal singers, the a capella group, and say 'Thank you' for the great job that they did. Most excellent, thank you very much. And just a reminder, members, that was Auburn Mountainview a capella trio and they are guests of Senator Fain's. Thank you, Senator Fain, for bringing them to us."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, we are here to do a lot of important work this session. It's always a privilege to be able to stand up here and preside before all of you. The President would like to welcome you back and welcome all the new members and wish you great luck in your deliberations for the future."

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Miss Macy Allaire, 2012 Lakefair Queen, who was seated at the rostrum.

With the permission of the Senate, business was suspended to allow Lakefair Queen Macy Allaire to address the Senate and welcome the senators to Olympia.

REMARKS BY MISS MACY ALLAIRE

Miss Macy Allaire: "Thank you for having me. Good afternoon everyone. I hope you're having a good morning so far.

As the reigning 2013 Capital Lakefair Queen, it is my pleasure and my privilege to welcome you to an exciting 2013 Senate session in Olympia, Washington. This is a big year for Washington as we recently passed laws that will create large changes for this state as well as welcoming in a new Governor. As a member of the Legislature you carry the weight and the well-being of everyone here in the state; children; businesses; disabled; retirees; workers; owners; consumers; victims; elderly; and the environment. It is your responsibility to regulate, to authorize, to prescribe, to provide, to sanction, to grant, to declare and to restrict certain elements for the well-being of the state as a whole. As you're representing the state here, I'm representing the Tumwater, Olympia, Lacey, Puget Sound area and the community. Capital Lakefair is a one-hundred percent, academic-based, community scholarship pageant. It is my privilege and honor to serve as Capital Lakefair's fifty-fifth Lakefair Queen. My school, Olympia High School, has not produced a Queen for the last eight years so I am proud to represent my school in this program. Capital Lakefair is more than rides and food and vendors. It is a community event in which people of all ages and backgrounds and various service clubs and organizations come together to celebrate our Puget Sound area. Lakefair generates a great amount of money which is then put towards numerous local non-profit organizations such as the Other Bank and the YWCA. Lakefair also puts money towards a royalty scholarship program by selecting a court of six girls from local high schools and later a Lakefair Queen. As a 2012 Lakefair Queen, I'm unconditionally gracious for receiving the highest royalty scholarship of five thousand dollars. Of course, this money isn't just given to us, the Capitalarian's make us work for our earnings. Capital Lakefair has given me opportunities and experiences I would not have had otherwise. The Royalty Court and I have spoken with thirteen local service organizations and had the opportunity to meet many community leaders as well as my privilege of speaking here today. This is not an experience I could of gained from my part-time jobs. It's programs like Capital Lakefair that provide opportunities for all areas of the community to come together and form relationships with one another that hold our region together. Olympia and the Puget Sound area is one of the most beautiful areas in this State of Washington and the Northwest region with its miles of beaches, local shops, extensive hiking and biking trails and friendly people. I hope that you enjoy your time here as much as I know that I do. Here's to a successful community-building 2013 Legislative Session. Thank you."

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Mr. Bob Barnes, Executive Director and Mrs. Serry Barnes, Capital Lakefair Royalty Chair, representatives of Capital Lakefair, the non-profit, volunteer, organization run by Capitalarians and the family of Miss Macy Allaire, 2012 Lakefair Queen: her father, Mr. Chuck Allaire; her mother, Mrs. Jane Allaire; her brother Charlie and sister Sally who were all present in the gallery.

RE: Resignation

RE: Resignation from the Washington State Senate as of June 30, 2012

Mr. Hoemann, please accept this letter as indication of my resignation to the Washington State Senate, effective the 31st day of May 2012.

Dear Governor Gregoire:

It has been with great pleasure and honor that I have been elected to serve the people of the 18th Legislative District in Southwest Washington over the last 17 years. However, given my choice to not seek re-election this fall I think that it would better serve my constituents to have, available to them, a member who has chosen to run and could provide greater continuity of service through the remainder of this year and beyond the fall elections.

After serving almost 14 years in the Legislature, I find that it is time for new challenges. I have served my community through the representation of the people of the fifth legislative district, and have found the work very rewarding. However, I am ready to move in a new direction, and I thank you for the exciting opportunity to serve on the Growth Management Hearings Board.

Thank you for your service and friendship these last many years.

My term as a member of the Growth Management Hearings Board begins on July 1. Therefore, pursuant to RCW 42.12.020, please accept my resignation from the Washington State Senate effective Saturday, June 30, 2012.

If you have any questions, or if I may provide any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH P. ZARELLI, State Senator, 18th Legislative District

Sincerely,

Re Resignation from the Washington State Senate

Dear Governor Gregoire:

I came to Olympia eight years ago to represent the people of the 26th Legislative District and work on issues of importance to them. Over the last eight years I've been proud to work on efforts to encourage economic development, to ensure our students get an education that will help them succeed, and to support military families and veterans, I am proud of our successes, and confident progress will continue.

Most of all, I am hopeful for my little girls, Sophie and Tess. I want a better future for them – where they can get a world-class education, where they can get a great job, and where they will share in all the opportunity our state and our nation can offer. That hope for them and for all families is what drove me to service in the Legislature. I've been privileged to work with you and the members of the Legislature to make progress on behalf of the children and families of our great state.

I am grateful to the citizens of the 26th district for giving me the opportunity to represent them. And I am grateful to the people of the 6th Congressional District for choosing me to represent them in the next session of the United States Congress. In order to fulfill my duties as a U. S. Representative, I am resigning from the Washington State Senate, pursuant to RCW 42.12.010, effective immediately.

It has been a great honor and privilege to serve my community in the Legislature.

Sincerely,
 DEREK KILMER, State Senator, 26th Legislative District

Secretary of State

The Sergeant at Arms escorted the newly elected members to their seat on the floor of the Senate.

The Secretary called the roll on the members elected to the Senate to fill unexpired terms and appointed to fill vacant seats: Senators Frockt and Smith.

The Sergeant at Arms escorted each of the members elected to fill unexpired terms and appointed to fill vacant seats to the rostrum of the Senate to receive their oath of office.

Associate Chief Justice Charles Johnson thereupon administered the oath of office to each member elected to fill unexpired terms and appointed to fill vacant seats.

The President presented each senator a certificate of election.

The Sergeant at Arms escorted each new senator to their seat on the floor of the Senate.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Mr. Secretary, thank you very much for assisting this with us today. I know you are a short-timer now but I give you the opportunity to say a few words, if you would like to."

REMARKS BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE SAM REED

Sam Reed: "Thank you. I will have a chance to speak tomorrow at the Joint Session but I did want to thank you senators and some of you former House members with whom I've worked over the last twelve years. I am deeply grateful for your fairness on both sides of the aisle. I felt that I've been treated, and my office has been treated, with great respect over the years. I appreciate your conscientiousness in the last four very difficult years but thank you very much. I've thoroughly enjoyed working with you. Thank you so much."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Frockt, the Senate advanced to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

Senator Frockt moved adoption of the following resolution:

SECTION I

OFFICERS-MEMBERS-EMPLOYEES

Duties of the President

Rule 1. 1. The president shall take the chair and call the senate to order precisely at the hour appointed for meeting, and, if a quorum be present, shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read. (See also Art. 3, Sec. 16, State Constitution.)

2. The president shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct within the chamber, legislative area, legislative offices or buildings, and legislative hearing and meeting rooms, shall order the sergeant at arms to suppress the same, and may order the arrest of any person creating any disturbance within the senate chamber. The use of cellular or digital telephones is prohibited within the senate chamber during floor session and within a hearing room during a committee hearing, and this prohibition shall be enforced in the same manner as any other breach of order and decorum.

3. The president shall have charge of and see that all officers and employees perform their respective duties, and shall have general control of the senate chamber and wings. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 10, State Constitution.)

4. The president may speak to points of order in preference to members, arising from the president's seat for that purpose, and shall decide all questions of order subject to an appeal to the senate by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the senate.

5. The president shall, in open session, sign all acts, addresses and joint resolutions. The president shall sign all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the senate, all of which shall be attested by the secretary. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 32, State Constitution.)

6. The president shall appoint all conference, special, joint and hereinafter named standing committees on the part of the senate. The appointment of the conference, special, joint and standing committees shall be confirmed by the senate. In the event the senate refuses to confirm any conference, special, joint or standing committee or committees, such committee or committees shall be elected by the senate.

7. The president shall, on each day, announce to the senate the business in order, and no business shall be taken up or considered until the order to which it belongs shall be declared.

8. The president shall decide and announce the result of any vote taken.

9. When a vote of the senate is equally divided, the lieutenant governor, when presiding, shall have the deciding vote on questions other than the final passage of a bill. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 10 and 22, State Constitution.)

President Pro Tempore

Rule 2. 1. Upon the organization of the senate the members shall elect one of their number as president pro tempore who shall have all the powers and authority and who shall discharge all the duties of lieutenant governor acting as president during the lieutenant governor's absence. The senate shall also elect a vice president pro tempore who will serve in the absence of the lieutenant governor and the president pro tempore. (See Art. 2, Sec. 10, State Constitution.)

2. In the absence of the president pro tempore, and vice president pro tempore, or with their consent, the president shall have the right to name any senator to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment, nor authorize the senator so substituted to sign any documents requiring the signature of the president.

Secretary of the Senate

Rule 3. 1. The senate shall elect a secretary, who shall appoint a deputy secretary, both of whom shall be officers of the senate and shall perform the usual duties pertaining to their offices, and they shall hold office until their successors have been elected or appointed.

2. The secretary is the Personnel Officer of the senate and shall appoint, subject to the approval of the senate, all other senate employees and the hours of duty and assignments of all senate employees shall be under the secretary's directions and instructions and they may be dismissed at the secretary's discretion.

3. The secretary of the senate, prior to the convening of the next regular session, shall prepare his office to receive bills which the holdover members and members-elect may desire to prefile commencing with the first Monday in December preceding any regular session or twenty days prior to any special session of the legislature.

Sergeant at Arms

Rule 4. 1. The senate shall elect a sergeant at arms who shall perform the usual duties pertaining to that office, and shall hold office until a successor has been elected.

2. The sergeant at arms shall not admit to the floor of the senate during the time the senate is not convened any person other than specifically requested by a senator, the president, or the secretary of the senate, in writing or when personally accompanied by a senator.

Subordinate Officers

Rule 5. The subordinate officers of the senate shall perform such duties as usually pertain to their respective positions in legislative bodies under the direction of the president, and such other duties as the senate may impose upon them. Under no circumstances shall the compensation of any employee be increased for past services. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 25, State Constitution.)

Employees

Rule 6. 1. No senate employee shall lobby in favor of or against any matter under consideration.

2. Senate employees are governed by joint rules and chapters 42.17 (the Public Disclosure Act) and 42.52 RCW (the Ethics in Public Service Act).

Conduct of Members and Officers

Rule 7. 1. Indecorous conduct, boisterous or unbecoming language will not be permitted in the senate at any time. The use of cellular or digital telephones is prohibited within the senate chamber during floor session and within a hearing room during a committee hearing.

2. In cases of breach of decorum or propriety, any senator, officer or other person shall be liable to such censure or punishment as the senate may deem proper, and if any senator be called to order for offensive or indecorous language or conduct, the person calling the senator to order shall report the language excepted to which shall be taken down or noted at the secretary's desk. No member shall be held to answer for any language used upon the floor of the senate if business has intervened before exception to the language was thus taken and noted.

3. If any senator in speaking, or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the senate, the president shall, or any senator may, call that senator to order, and a senator so called to order shall resume the senator's seat and not proceed without leave of the senate, which leave, if granted, shall be upon motion "that the senator be allowed to proceed in order," when, if carried, the senator shall speak to the question under consideration.

4. No senator shall be absent from the senate without leave, except in case of accident or sickness, and if any senator or officer shall be absent the senator's per diem shall not be allowed or paid,

FIRST DAY, JANUARY 14, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

and no senator or officer shall obtain leave of absence or be excused from attendance without the consent of a majority of the members present.

5. In the event of a motion or resolution to censure or punish, or any procedural motion thereto involving a senator, that senator shall not vote thereon. The senator shall be allowed to answer to such motion or resolution. An election or vote by the senate on a motion to censure or punish a senator shall require the vote of a majority of all senators elected or appointed to the senate. A vote to expel a member shall require a two-thirds concurrence of all members elected or appointed to the senate. All votes shall be taken by yeas and nays and the votes shall be entered upon the journal. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 9, State Constitution.)

OPERATIONS AND MANAGEMENT

Payment of Expenses - Facilities and Operations

Rule 8. 1. After the reorganization caucuses of the senate, the majority caucus shall designate four members and the minority caucus shall designate three members to serve on the facilities and operations committee. The chair of the majority caucus shall be the chair of the facilities and operations committee. The operation of the senate shall transfer to the newly designated members after the reorganization caucuses of the senate.

2. All necessary expenses of the senate incurred during the session shall be signed for by the secretary and approved by a majority of the committee on facilities and operations. The committee on facilities and operations shall carefully consider all items of expenditure ordered or contracted on the part of the senate, and report upon the same prior to the voucher being signed by the secretary of the senate authorizing the payment thereof. The committee on facilities and operations shall issue postage only as follows:

(a) To elected or appointed members of the senate in an amount sufficient to allow performance of their legislative duties.

(b) To the secretary of the senate in an amount sufficient to carry out the business of the senate.

Use of Senate Chambers

Rule 9. The senate chamber and its facilities shall not be used for any but legislative business, except by permission of the senate while in session, or by the facilities and operations committee when not in session.

Admission to the Senate

Rule 10. The sergeant at arms shall admit only the following individuals to the floor and adjacent areas of the senate for the period of time beginning one-half hour before convening and ending when the senate has adjourned or recessed for an hour or more:

- The governor and/or designees,
- Members of the house of representatives,
- State elected officials,
- Officers and authorized employees of the legislature,
- Honored guests being presented to the senate,
- Former members of the senate who are not registered lobbyists pursuant to chapter 42.17 RCW,

Representatives of the press,
Persons specifically requested by a senator to the president in writing or only as long as accompanied by a senator.

Printing of Bills

Rule 11. The number of bills printed and reprinted shall be at the discretion of the secretary of the senate, with the approval of the facilities and operations committee.

Furnishing Full File of Bills

Rule 12. Persons, firms, corporations and organizations within the state, desirous of receiving copies of all printed senate bills, shall make application therefor to the secretary of the senate. The bill clerk shall send copies of all printed senate bills to such persons, firms, corporations and organizations as may be ordered by the secretary of the senate. The secretary of the senate is authorized to recoup costs.

Regulation of Lobbyists

Rule 13. All persons who engage in lobbying of any kind as defined in chapter 42.17 RCW shall be subject to the rules of the senate and legislature when lobbying before the senate. Any person who fails to conform to the senate or joint rules may have their privilege to lobby and all other privileges revoked upon a majority vote of the committee on rules for such time as is deemed appropriate by the committee.

Any person registered as a lobbyist pursuant to chapter 42.17 RCW who intervenes in or attempts to influence any personnel decision of the senate regarding any employee may suffer an immediate revocation of all privileges before the senate or such other privileges and for such time as may be deemed appropriate by the senate committee on rules. This restriction shall not prohibit a registered lobbyist from making written recommendations for staff positions.

Security Management

Rule 14. The sergeant at arms may develop methods to protect the senate, including its members, staff, and the visiting public, by establishing procedures to curtail the use or possession of any weapon in a manner that is prohibited by law or by the rules of the Department of General Administration.

SECTION III

RULES AND ORDER

Time of Convening

Rule 15. The senate shall convene at 10:00 a.m. each working day, unless adjourned to a different hour. The senate shall adjourn not later than 10:00 p.m. of each working day. The senate shall recess ninety minutes for lunch each working day. When reconvening on the same day the senate shall recess ninety minutes for dinner each working evening. This rule may be suspended by a majority.

Quorum

Rule 16. A majority of all members elected or appointed to the senate shall be necessary to constitute a quorum to do business.

Less than a quorum may adjourn from day to day until a quorum can be had. (See Art. 2, Sec. 8, State Constitution.)

Order of Business

Rule 17. After the roll is called and journal read and approved, business shall be disposed of in the following order:

- FIRST. Reports of standing committees.
- SECOND. Reports of select committees.
- THIRD. Messages from the governor and other state officers.
- FOURTH. Messages from the house of representatives.
- FIFTH. Introduction, first reading and reference of bills, joint memorials, joint resolutions and concurrent resolutions.
- SIXTH. Second reading of bills.
- SEVENTH. Third reading of bills.
- EIGHTH. Presentation of petitions, memorials and floor resolutions.
- NINTH. Presentation of motions.

The order of business established by this rule may be changed and any order of business already dealt with may be reverted or advanced to by a majority vote of those present.

All questions relating to the priority of business shall be decided without debate.

Messages from the governor, other state officers, and from the house of representatives may be considered at any time with the consent of the senate.

Special Order

Rule 18. The president shall call the senate to order at the hour fixed for the consideration of a special order, and announce that the special order is before the senate, which shall then be considered unless it is postponed by a majority vote of the members present, and any business before the senate at the time of the announcement of the special order shall take its regular position in the order of business, except that if a cutoff established by concurrent resolution occurs during the special order, the senate may complete the measure that was before the senate when consideration of the special order was commenced.

Unfinished Business

Rule 19. The unfinished business at the preceding adjournment shall have preference over all other matters, excepting special orders, and no motion or any other business shall be received without special leave of the senate until the former is disposed of.

Motions and Senate Floor Resolutions (How Presented)

Rule 20. 1. No motion shall be entertained or debated until announced by the president and every motion shall be deemed to have been seconded. It shall be reduced to writing and read by the secretary, if desired by the president or any senator, before it shall be debated, and by the consent of the senate may be withdrawn before amendment or action.

2. The senate shall consider no more than one floor resolution per day in session: Provided, That this rule shall not apply to floor resolutions essential to the operation of the senate; and further Provided, That there shall be no limit on the number of floor resolutions considered on senate pro forma session days. Senate floor resolutions shall be acted upon in the same manner as motions. All senate floor resolutions shall be on the secretary's desk at least twenty-four hours prior to consideration. Members' names shall only be added to the resolution if the member signs the resolution. Members shall have until thirty minutes after the senate is convened the following day the senate is in a regular or pro forma session to add their names to the floor resolution. A motion may be made to close the period for signatures at an earlier time.

Precedence of Motions

Rule 21. When a motion has been made and stated by the chair the following motions are in order, in the rank named:

PRIVILEGED MOTIONS

- Adjourn, recess, or go at ease
- Reconsider
- Demand for call of the senate
- Demand for roll call
- Demand for division
- Question of privilege
- Orders of the day

INCIDENTAL MOTIONS

- Points of order and appeal
- Method of consideration
- Suspend the rules
- Reading papers
- Withdraw a motion
- Division of a question

SUBSIDIARY MOTIONS

- 1st Rank: To lay on the table
- 2nd Rank: For the previous question
- 3rd Rank: To postpone to a day certain
- To commit or recommit
- To postpone indefinitely
- 4th Rank: To amend

No motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely, being decided, shall again be allowed on the same day and at the same stage of the proceedings, and when a question has been postponed indefinitely it shall not again be introduced during the session.

A motion to lay an amendment on the table shall not carry the main question with it unless so specified in the motion to table.

At no time shall the senate entertain a Question of Consideration.

Voting

Rule 22. 1. In all cases of election by the senate, the votes shall be taken by yeas and nays, and no senator or other person shall

FIRST DAY, JANUARY 14, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

remain by the secretary's desk while the roll is being called or the votes are being counted. No senator shall be allowed to vote except when within the bar of the senate, or upon any question upon which he or she is in any way personally or directly interested, nor be allowed to explain a vote or discuss the question while the yeas and nays are being called, nor change a vote after the result has been announced. (See also Art. 2, Secs. 27 and 30, State Constitution.)

2. A member not voting by reason of personal or direct interest, or by reason of an excused absence, may explain the reason for not voting by a brief statement not to exceed fifty words in the journal.

3. The yeas and nays shall be taken when called for by one-sixth of all the senators present, and every senator within the bar of the senate shall vote unless excused by the unanimous vote of the members present, and the votes shall be entered upon the journal. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 21, State Constitution.)

When once begun the roll call may not be interrupted for any purpose other than to move a call of the senate. (See also Rule 24.)

4. A senator having been absent during roll call may ask to have his or her name called. Such a request must be made before the result of the roll call has been announced by the president.

5. The passage of a bill or action on a question is lost by a tie vote, but when a vote of the senate is equally divided, the lieutenant governor, when presiding, shall have the deciding vote on questions other than the final passage of a bill. (See also Art. 2, Secs. 10 and 22, State Constitution.)

6. The order of the names on the roll call shall be alphabetical by last name.

7. All votes in a committee shall be recorded, and the record shall be preserved as prescribed by the secretary of the senate. One-sixth of the committee may demand an oral roll call.

8. If a member of the majority is going to be absent due to a health matter or other emergency, then a member of the minority may publicly announce on the floor of the senate that he or she will cast votes as he or she believes the absent member would have voted in order to avoid results that would only occur because of the unanticipated absence.

Announcement of Vote

Rule 23. The announcement of all votes shall be made by the president.

Call of the Senate

Rule 24. Although a roll call is in progress, a call of the senate may be moved by three senators, and if carried by a majority of all present the secretary shall call the roll, after which the names of the absentees shall again be called. The doors shall then be locked and the sergeant at arms directed to take into custody all who may be absent without leave, and all the senators so taken into custody shall be presented at the bar of the senate for such action as the senate may deem proper.

One Subject in a Bill

Rule 25. No bill shall embrace more than one subject and that shall be expressed in the title. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 19, State Constitution.)

No Amendment by Mere Reference to Title of Act

Rule 26. No act shall ever be revised or amended by mere reference to its title, but the act revised or the section amended shall be set forth at full length. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 37, State Constitution.)

Reading of Papers

Rule 27. When the reading of any paper is called for, and is objected to by any senator, it shall be determined by a vote of the senate, without debate.

Any and all copies of reproductions of newspaper or magazine editorials, articles or cartoons or publications or material of any nature distributed to senators' desks must bear the name of at least one senator granting permission for the distribution. This shall not apply to materials normally distributed by the secretary of the senate or the majority or minority caucuses.

Comparing Enrolled and Engrossed Bills

Rule 28. Any senator shall have the right to compare an enrolled bill with the engrossed bill and may note any objections in the Journal.

SECTION IV
PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE
Rules of Debate

Rule 29. When any senator is about to speak in debate, or submit any matter to the senate, the senator shall rise, and standing in place, respectfully address the President, and when recognized shall, in a courteous manner, speak to the question under debate, avoiding personalities; provided that a senator may refer to another member using the title "Senator" and the surname of the other member. No senator shall impeach the motives of any other member or speak more than twice (except for explanation) during the consideration of any one question, on the same day or a second time without leave, when others who have not spoken desire the floor, but incidental and subsidiary questions arising during the debate shall not be considered the same question. A majority of the members present may further limit the number of times a member may speak on any question and may limit the length of time a member may speak but, unless a demand for the previous question has been sustained, a member shall not be denied the right to speak at least once on each question, nor shall a member be limited to less than three minutes on each question. In any event, the senator who presents the motion may open and close debate on the question.

Recognition by the President

Rule 30. When two or more senators rise at the same time to address the chair, the president shall name the one who shall speak first, giving preference, when practicable, to the mover or introducer of the subject under consideration.

Call for Division of a Question

Rule 31. Any senator may call for a division of a question, which shall be divided if it embraces subjects so distinct that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the senate; but a motion to strike out and insert shall not be divided.

Point of Order - Decision Appealable

Rule 32. Every decision of points of order by the president shall be subject to appeal by any senator, and discussion of a question of order shall be allowed. In all cases of appeal the question shall be: "Shall the decision of the president stand as the judgment of the senate?"

Question of Privilege

Rule 33. Any senator may rise to a question of privilege and explain a personal matter by leave of the president, but shall not discuss any pending question in such explanations, nor shall any question of personal privilege permit any senator to introduce any person or persons in the galleries. The president upon notice received may acknowledge the presence of any distinguished person or persons.

A question of privilege shall involve only subject matter which affects the particular senator personally and in a manner unique and peculiar to that senator.

Protests

Rule 34. Any senator or senators may protest against the action of the senate upon any question. Such protest may be entered upon the journal if it does not exceed 200 words. The senator protesting shall file the protest with the secretary of the senate within 48 hours following the action protested.

Adoption and Suspension of Rules

Rule 35. 1. The permanent senate rules adopted at the first regular session during a legislative biennium shall govern any session subsequently convened during the same legislative biennium. Adoption of permanent rules may be by majority of the senate without notice and a majority of the senate may change a permanent rule without notice at the beginning of any session, as determined pursuant to Article 2, Section 12 of the State Constitution. No permanent rule or order of the senate shall be rescinded or changed without a majority vote of the members, and one day's notice of the motion.

2. A permanent rule or order may be temporarily suspended for a special purpose by a vote of two-thirds of the members present unless otherwise specified herein. When the suspension of a rule is called, and after due notice from the president no objection is offered, the president may announce the rule suspended, and the senate may proceed accordingly. Motion for suspension of the rules shall not be debatable, except, the mover of the motion may briefly explain the purpose of the motion and at the discretion of the president a rebuttal may be allowed.

Previous Question

Rule 36. The previous question shall not be put unless demanded by three senators, and it shall then be in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?" When sustained by a majority of senators present it shall preclude all debate, except the senator who presents the motion may open and close debate on the question and the vote shall be immediately taken on the question or questions pending before the senate, and all incidental question or questions of order arising after the motion is made shall be decided whether on appeal or otherwise without debate.

Reconsideration

Rule 37. 1. After the final vote on any measure, before the adjournment of that day's session, any member who voted with the prevailing side may give notice of reconsideration unless a motion to immediately transmit the measure to the house has been decided in the affirmative. Such motion to reconsider shall be in order only under the order of motions of the day immediately following the day upon which such notice of reconsideration is given, and may be made by any member who voted with the prevailing side.

2. A motion to reconsider shall have precedence over every other motion, except a motion to adjourn; and when the senate adjourns while a motion to reconsider is pending or before passing the order of motions, the right to move a reconsideration shall continue to the next day of sitting. On and after the tenth day prior to adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article 2, Section 12, or concurrent resolution, or in the event that the measure is subject to a senate rule or resolution or a joint rule or concurrent resolution, which would preclude consideration on the next day of sitting a motion to reconsider shall only be in order on the same day upon which notice of reconsideration is given and may be made at any time that day. Motions to reconsider a vote upon amendments to any pending question may be made and decided at once.

Motion to Adjourn

Rule 38. Except when under call of the senate, a motion to adjourn shall always be in order. The name of the senator moving to adjourn and the time when the motion was made shall be entered upon the journal.

Yeas and Nays - When Must be Taken

Rule 39. The yeas and nays shall be taken when called for by one-sixth of all the senators present, and every senator within the bar of the senate shall vote unless excused by the unanimous vote of the members present, and the votes shall be entered upon the journal. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 21, State Constitution.)

When once begun the roll call may not be interrupted for any purpose other than to move a call of the senate. (See also Senate Rules 22 and 24.)

Reed's Parliamentary Rules

Rule 40. The rules of parliamentary practice as contained in Reed's Parliamentary Rules shall govern the senate in all cases to which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with the rules and orders of this senate and the joint rules of this senate and the house of representatives.

SECTION V

COMMITTEES

Committees - Appointment and Confirmation

Rule 41. The president shall appoint all conference, special, joint and standing committees on the part of the senate. The appointment of the conference, special, joint and standing committees shall be confirmed by the senate.

In the event the senate shall refuse to confirm any conference, special, joint or standing committee or committees, such committee or committees shall be elected by the senate.

The following standing committees shall constitute the standing committees of the senate:

Standing Committee	Total Membership
1. Agriculture, Water & Rural Economic Development	8
2. Commerce & Labor	8
3. Early Learning & K-12 Education	((14)) 12
((3. Economic Development, Trade & Innovation	9))
4. Energy, Environment & Telecommunications	((9)) 10
5. Financial Institutions((-Housing)) & Insurance	((7)) 8
6. Governmental Operations((-Tribal Relations & Elections))	((7)) 8
7. Health ((& Long Term)) Care	((9)) 10
8. Higher Education ((& Workforce Development))	((9)) 8
9. Human Services & Corrections	((7)) 8
10. (Judiciary) Law & Justice	((9)) 8
((11. Labor, Commerce & Consumer Protection	7
12. Energy,)) 11. Natural Resources & ((Marine Waters)) Parks	((7)) 8
((13.)) 12. Rules	((20)) 22 (plus the Lieutenant Governor)
13. Trade & Economic Development	8
14. Transportation	16
15. Ways & Means	((20)) 26

Each standing committee shall be cochaired, with one chair chosen by the majority caucus and one chair chosen by the minority caucus. Membership on each standing committee shall include equal representation from the majority caucus and the minority caucus.

Subcommittees

Rule 42. Committee chairs may create subcommittees of the standing committee and designate subcommittee chairs thereof to study subjects within the jurisdiction of the standing committee. The committee chair shall approve the use of committee staff and equipment assigned to the subcommittee. Subcommittee activities shall further be subject to facilities and operations committee approval to the same extent as are the actions of the standing committee from which they derive their authority.

Subpoena Power

Rule 43. Any of the above referenced committees, including subcommittees thereof, or any special committees created by the senate, may have the powers of subpoena, the power to administer oaths, and the power to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses in accordance with the provisions of chapter 44.16 RCW. The committee chair shall file with the committee on rules, prior to issuance of any process, a statement of purpose setting forth the name or names of those subject to process. The rules committee shall consider every proposed issuance of process at a meeting of the rules committee immediately following the filing of the statement with the committee. The process shall not be issued prior to consideration by the rules committee. The process shall be limited to the named individuals and the committee on rules may overrule the service on an individual so named.

Duties of Committees

Rule 44. The several committees shall fully consider measures referred to them.

The committees shall acquaint themselves with the interest of the state specially represented by the committee, and from time to time present such bills and reports as in their judgment will advance the interests and promote the welfare of the people of the state: PROVIDED, That no executive action on bills may be taken during an interim.

Committee Rules

Rule 45. 1. At least five days notice shall be given of all public hearings held by any committee other than the rules committee. Such notice shall contain the date, time and place of such hearing together with the title and number of each bill, or identification of the subject matter, to be considered at such hearing. By a majority vote of the committee members present at any committee meeting such notice may be dispensed with. The reason for such action shall be set forth in a written statement preserved in the records of the meeting.

2. No committee may hold a public hearing during a regular or extraordinary session on a proposal identified as a draft unless the draft has been made available to the public at least twenty-four hours prior to the hearing. This rule does not apply during the five days prior to any cutoff established by concurrent resolution nor does it apply to any measure exempted from the resolution.

3. During its consideration of or vote on any bill, resolution or memorial, the deliberations of any committee or subcommittee of the senate shall be open to the public. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct at any such deliberations, the chair shall order the sergeant at arms to suppress the same and may order the meeting closed to any person or persons creating such disturbance.

4. No committee shall amend a measure, adopt a substitute bill, or vote upon any measure or appointment absent a quorum. A committee may conduct a hearing absent a quorum. A majority of any committee shall constitute a quorum and committees shall be considered to have a quorum present unless the question is raised. Any question as to quorum not raised at the time of the committee action is deemed waived.

5. Bills reported to the senate from a standing committee must have a majority report, which shall be prepared upon a printed standing committee report form; shall be adopted at a regularly or specially called meeting during a legislative session and shall be signed by a majority of the committee; and shall carry only one of the following recommendations:

- a. Do pass;
- b. Do pass as amended;
- c. That a substitute bill be substituted therefor, and the substitute bill do pass; or
- d. Without recommendation.

In addition to one of the above-listed recommendations, a report may also recommend that a bill be referred to another committee.

6. A majority report of a committee must carry the signatures of a majority of the members of the committee. In the event a committee has a quorum pursuant to subsection 4 of this rule, a majority of the members present may act on a measure, subject to obtaining the signatures of a majority of the members of the committee on the majority report.

7. Any measure, appointment, substitute bill, or amendment still within a committee's possession before it has been reported out to the full senate may be reconsidered to correct an error, change language, or otherwise accurately reflect the will of the committee in its majority and minority reports to the full senate. Any such reconsideration may be made at any time, by any member of the committee, provided that the committee has not yet reported the measure, appointment, substitute bill, or amendment out to the full senate. Any such reconsideration made after a vote has been taken or signatures obtained will require a new vote and signature sheet. Any measure which does not receive a majority vote of the members present may be reconsidered at that meeting and may again be considered upon motion of any committee member if one day's notice of said motion is provided to all committee members. For purposes of this rule, a committee is deemed to have reported a measure, appointment, substitute bill, or amendment out when it has delivered its majority and minority reports to the senate workroom. After such delivery, the committee no longer has possession of the measure, appointment, substitute bill, or amendment and no further committee action, including reconsideration, may be taken.

8. Any member of the committee not concurring in the majority report may sign a minority report containing a recommendation of "do not pass" or "without recommendation," which shall be signed by those members of the committee subscribing thereto, and submitted with the majority report. Unless the signatory of a minority report expressly indicates a "do not pass" recommendation, the member's vote shall be deemed to be "without recommendation." In every case where a majority report form is circulated for signature, a minority report form shall also be circulated.

9. When a committee reports a substitute for an original bill with the recommendation that the substitute bill do pass, it shall be in order to read the substitute bill the first time and have the same ordered printed.

A motion for the substitution of the substitute bill for the original bill shall not be in order until the committee on rules places the original bill on the second reading calendar.

10. No vote in any committee shall be taken by secret ballot nor shall any committee have a policy of secrecy as to any vote on action taken in such committee.

11. All reports of standing committees must be on the secretary's desk one hour prior to convening of the session in order to be read at said session. During any special session of the legislature, this rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

Committee Meetings During Sessions

Rule 46. No committee shall sit during the daily session of the senate unless by special leave.

No committee shall sit during any scheduled caucus.

Reading of Reports

Rule 47. The majority report, and minority report, if there be one, together with the names of the signers thereof, shall be read by the secretary, unless the reading be dispensed with by the senate, and all committee reports shall be spread upon the journal.

Recalling Bills from Committees

Rule 48. Any standing committee of the senate may be relieved of further consideration of any bill, regardless of prior action of the committee, by a majority vote of the senators elected or appointed. The senate may then make such orderly disposition of the bill as they may direct by a majority vote of the members of the senate.

Bills Referred to Rules Committee

Rule 49. All bills reported by a committee to the senate shall then be referred to the committee on rules for second reading without action on the report unless otherwise ordered by the senate. (See also Rules 63 and 64.)

Rules Committee

Rule 50. The lieutenant governor shall be a voting member and the chair of the committee on rules. The committee on rules shall have charge of the daily second and third reading calendar of the senate and shall direct the secretary of the senate the order in which the bills shall be considered by the senate and the committee on rules shall have the authority to directly refer any bill before them to any other standing committee. Such referral shall be reported out to the senate on the next day's business.

FIRST DAY, JANUARY 14, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

The senate may change the order of consideration of bills on the second or third reading calendar.

The calendar, except in emergent situations, as determined by the committee on rules, shall be on the desks and in the offices of the senators each day and shall cover the bills for consideration on the next following day.

Employment Committee

Rule 51. The employment committee for committee staff shall consist of five members, three from the majority party and two from the minority party. The chair shall be appointed by the majority leader. The committee shall, in addition to its other duties, appoint a staff director for committee services with the concurrence of four of its members. All other decisions shall be determined by majority vote. The committee shall operate within staffing, budget levels and guidelines as authorized and adopted by the facilities and operations committee.

Committee of the Whole

Rule 52. At no time shall the senate sit as a committee of the whole.

The senate may at any time, by the vote of the majority of the members present, sit as a body for the purpose of taking testimony on any measure before the senate.

Appropriation Budget Bills

Rule 53. Reserved

SECTION VI
BILLS, RESOLUTIONS, MEMORIALS AND GUBERNATORIAL APPOINTMENTS

Definitions

Rule 54. "Measure" means a bill, joint memorial, joint resolution, or concurrent resolution.

"Bill" when used alone means bill, joint memorial, joint resolution, or concurrent resolution.

"Majority" shall mean a majority of those members present unless otherwise stated.

Prefiling

Rule 55. Holdover members and members-elect to the senate may prefile bills with the secretary of the senate on any day commencing with the first Monday in December preceding any session year; or twenty days prior to any special session of the legislature. Such bills will be printed, distributed and prepared for introduction on the first legislative day. No bill, joint memorial or joint resolution shall be prefiled by title and/or preamble only. (See also Rule 3, Sub. 3.)

Introduction of Bills

Rule 56. All bills, joint resolutions and joint memorials introduced shall be endorsed with a statement of the title and the name of the member introducing the same. Any member desiring to introduce a bill, joint resolution or joint memorial shall file the same with the secretary of the senate by noon of the day before the convening of the session at which said bill, joint resolution or joint memorial is to be introduced.

To be considered during a regular session, a bill must be introduced at least ten days before final adjournment of the legislature, unless the legislature directs otherwise by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, said vote to be taken by yeas and nays and entered upon the journal. The time limitation for introduction of bills shall not apply to substitute bills reported by standing committees for bills pending before such committees and general appropriation and revenue bills. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 36, State Constitution.)

Amendatory Bills

Rule 57. Bills introduced in the senate intended to amend existing statutes shall have the words which are amendatory to such existing statutes underlined. Any matter to be deleted from the existing statutes shall be indicated by setting such matter forth in full, enclosed by double parentheses, and such deleted matter shall be lined out with hyphens. No bill shall be printed or acted upon until the provisions of this rule shall have been complied with.

Sections added by amendatory bill to an existing act, or chapter of the official code, need not be underlined but shall be designated "NEW SECTION" in upper case type and such designation shall be underlined. New enactments need not be underlined.

When statutes are being repealed, the Revised Code of Washington section number to be repealed, the section caption and the session law history, from the most current to the original, shall be cited.

Joint Resolutions and Memorials

Rule 58. Joint resolutions and joint memorials, up to the signing thereof by the president of the senate, shall be subject to the rules governing the course of bills.

Senate Concurrent Resolutions

Rule 59. Concurrent resolutions shall be subject to the rules governing the course of bills and may be adopted without a roll call. Concurrent resolutions authorizing investigations and authorizing the expenditure or allocation of any money must be adopted by roll call and the yeas and nays recorded in the journal. Concurrent resolutions are subject to final passage on the day of the first reading without regard to Senate Rules 62, 63, and 64.

Committee Bills

Rule 60. Committee bills introduced by a standing committee during a legislative session may be filed with the secretary of the senate and introduced, and the signature of each member of the committee shall be endorsed upon the cover of the original bill.

Committee bills shall be read the first time by title, ordered printed, and referred to the committee on rules for second reading.

Committee Reference

Rule 61. When a motion is made to refer a subject, and different committees are proposed, the question shall be taken in the following order:

FIRST: A standing committee.
SECOND: A select committee.

Reading of Bills

Rule 62. Every bill shall be read on three separate days unless the senate deems it expedient to suspend this rule. On and after the tenth day preceding adjournment sine die of any session, or three days prior to any cut-off date for consideration of bills, as determined pursuant to Article 2, Section 12 of the Constitution or concurrent resolution, or during any special session of the legislature, this rule may be suspended by a majority vote. (See also Rule 59).

First Reading

Rule 63. The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full.

After the first reading, bills shall be referred to an appropriate committee pursuant to Rule 61.

Upon being reported back by committee, all bills shall be referred to the committee on rules for second reading, unless otherwise ordered by the senate. (See Rule 49.)

A bill shall be reported back by the committee chair upon written petition therefor signed by a majority of its members. The petition shall designate the recommendation as provided in Rule 45, Sub. 5.

No committee chair shall exercise a pocket veto of any bill.

Should there be a two-thirds majority report of the committee membership against the bill, a vote shall be immediately ordered for the indefinite postponement of the bill.

Second Reading/Amendments

Rule 64. Upon second reading, the bill shall be read section by section, in full, and be subject to amendment.

Any member may, if sustained by three members, remove a bill from the consent calendar as constituted by the committee on rules. A bill removed from the consent calendar shall take its place as the last bill in the order of consideration of bills on the second reading calendar.

No amendment shall be considered by the senate until it shall have been sent to the secretary's desk in writing and read by the secretary.

All amendments adopted on the second reading shall then be securely fastened to the original bill.

All amendments rejected by the senate shall be spread upon the journal, and the journal shall show the disposition of all amendments.

When no further amendments shall be offered, the president shall declare the bill has passed its second reading, and shall be referred to the committee on rules for third reading.

Third Reading

Rule 65. Bills on third reading shall be read in full by sections, and no amendment shall be entertained.

When a bill shall pass, it shall be certified to by the secretary, together with the vote upon final passage, noting the day of its passage thereon.

The vote must be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the senators voting for and against the same to be entered upon the journal and the majority of the members elected to the senate must be recorded thereon as voting in its favor to secure its passage by the senate.

Scope and Object of Bill Not to be Changed

Rule 66. No amendment to any bill shall be allowed which shall change the scope and object of the bill. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 38, State Constitution.) Substitute bills shall be considered amendments for the purposes of this rule. A point of order raising the question of scope and object may be raised at any time during consideration of an amendment prior to voting on the amendment. A proposed amendment to an unamended title-only bill shall be within the scope and object of the bill if the subject of the amendment fits within the language in the title.

Matters Related to Disagreement Between the Senate and House

Rule 67. When there is a disagreement between the senate and house on a measure before the senate, the senate may act upon the measure with the following motions which have priority in the following order:

To concur
To non-concur
To recede
To insist
To adhere

These motions are in order as to any single amendment or to a series of amendments. (See Reed's Rules 247 through 254.)

A senate bill, passed by the house with amendment or amendments which shall change the scope and object of the bill, upon being received in the senate, shall be referred to an appropriate committee and shall take the same course as for original bills, unless a motion to ask the house to recede, to insist or to adhere is made prior to the measure being referred to committee.

Bills Committed for Special Amendment

Rule 68. A bill may be committed with or without special instructions to amend at any time before taking the final vote.

Confirmation of Governorial Appointees

Rule 69. When the names of appointees to state offices are transmitted to the secretary of the senate for senate confirmation, the communication from the governor shall be recorded and referred to the appropriate standing committee.

FIRST DAY, JANUARY 14, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

The standing committee, or subcommittee, pursuant to rule 42, shall require each appointee referred to the committee for consideration to complete the standard questionnaire to be used to ascertain the appointee's general background and qualifications. The committee may also require the appointee to complete a supplemental questionnaire related specifically to the qualifications for the position to which he has been appointed.

Any hearing on a gubernatorial appointment, held by the standing committee, or subcommittees, pursuant to rule 42, shall be a public hearing. The appointee may be required to appear before the committee on request. When appearing, the appointee shall be required to testify under oath or affirmation. The chair of the committee or the presiding member shall administer the oath or affirmation in accordance with RCW 44.16. (See also Article 2, Sec. 6 of the State Constitution.)

Nothing in this rule shall be construed to prevent a standing committee, or subcommittee, pursuant to rule 42, upon a two-thirds vote of its members, from holding executive sessions when considering an appointment.

When the committee on rules presents the report of the standing committee before the senate, the question shall be the confirmation of the name proposed, and the roll shall then be called and the yeas and nays entered upon the journal. In the event a message is received from the governor requesting return of an appointment or appointments to the office of the governor prior to confirmation, the senate shall vote upon the governor's request and the appointment or appointments shall be returned to the governor if the request is approved by a majority of the members elected or appointed. (Article 13 of the State Constitution.)

Senators Frockt, McAuliffe, Hatfield and Murray spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

Senator Tom spoke against adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8602.

Senator Frockt demanded a roll call.

The President declared that one-sixth of the members supported the demand and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Frockt to adopt Senate Resolution No. 8602.

The Secretary called the roll on the motion by Senator Frockt to adopt Senate Resolution No. 8602 and the resolution was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 23; Nays, 25; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

Voting yea: Senators Billig, Chase, Cleveland, Conway, Darneille, Eide, Fraser, Frockt, Hargrove, Harper, Hasegawa, Hatfield, Hobbs, Keiser, Kline, Kohl-Welles, McAuliffe, Mullet, Murray, Nelson, Ranker, Rolfes and Shin

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Baumgartner, Becker, Benton, Braun, Carrell, Dammeier, Delvin, Ericksen, Fain, Hewitt, Hill, Holmquist Newbry, Honeyford, King, Litzow, Padden, Parlette, Pearson, Rivers, Roach, Schoesler, Sheldon, Smith and Tom

MOTION

Senator Fain moved adoption of the following resolution:

SECTION I

OFFICERS-MEMBERS-EMPLOYEES

Duties of the President

Rule 1. 1. The president shall take the chair and call the senate to order precisely at the hour appointed for meeting, and, if a quorum be present, shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read. (See also Art. 3, Sec. 16, State Constitution.)

2. The president shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct within the chamber, legislative area, legislative offices or buildings, and legislative hearing and meeting rooms, shall order the sergeant at arms to suppress the same, and may order the arrest of any person creating any disturbance within the senate chamber. The use of cellular or digital telephones is prohibited within the senate chamber during floor session and within a hearing room during a committee hearing, and this prohibition shall be enforced in the same manner as any other breach of order and decorum.

3. The president shall have charge of and see that all officers and employees perform their respective duties, and shall have general control of the senate chamber and wings. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 10, State Constitution.)

4. The president may speak to points of order in preference to members, arising from the president's seat for that purpose, and shall decide all questions of order subject to an appeal to the senate by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the senate.

5. The president shall, in open session, sign all acts, addresses and joint resolutions. The president shall sign all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the senate, all of which shall be attested by the secretary. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 32, State Constitution.)

6. The president shall appoint all conference, special, joint and hereinafter named standing committees on the part of the senate. The appointment of the conference, special, joint and standing committees shall be confirmed by the senate. In the event the senate refuses to confirm any conference, special, joint or standing committee or committees, such committee or committees shall be elected by the senate.

7. The president shall, on each day, announce to the senate the business in order, and no business shall be taken up or considered until the order to which it belongs shall be declared.

8. The president shall decide and announce the result of any vote taken.

9. When a vote of the senate is equally divided, the lieutenant governor, when presiding, shall have the deciding vote on questions other than the final passage of a bill. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 10 and 22, State Constitution.)

President Pro Tempore

Rule 2. 1. Upon the organization of the senate the members shall elect one of their number as president pro tempore who shall have all the powers and authority and who shall discharge all the duties of lieutenant governor acting as president during the lieutenant governor's absence. The president pro tempore shall serve as the vice chair of the committee on rules. The senate shall also elect a vice president pro tempore who will serve in the absence of the lieutenant governor and the president pro tempore. (See Art. 2, Sec. 10, State Constitution.)

2. In the absence of the president pro tempore, and vice president pro tempore, or with their consent, the president shall have the right to name any senator to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment, nor authorize the senator so substituted to sign any documents requiring the signature of the president.

3. A "majority caucus" is a caucus whose members constitute a majority of the senate and may include members from different political caucuses. The establishment of a majority caucus is evidenced by a majority of the members of the senate demonstrating the intent to caucus together and to lead the senate. Those members not part of the majority caucus constitute the minority caucus or caucuses.

2013 REGULAR SESSION

Secretary of the Senate

Rule 3. 1. The senate shall elect a secretary, who shall appoint a deputy secretary, both of whom shall be officers of the senate and shall perform the usual duties pertaining to their offices, and they shall hold office until their successors have been elected or appointed.

2. The secretary is the Personnel Officer of the senate and shall appoint, subject to the approval of the senate, all other senate employees and the hours of duty and assignments of all senate employees shall be under the secretary's directions and instructions and they may be dismissed at the secretary's discretion.

3. The secretary of the senate, prior to the convening of the next regular session, shall prepare his office to receive bills which the holdover members and members-elect may desire to prefile commencing with the first Monday in December preceding any regular session or twenty days prior to any special session of the legislature.

Sergeant at Arms

Rule 4. 1. ((The senate shall elect a sergeant at arms who shall perform the usual duties pertaining to that office, and shall hold office until a successor has been elected.)) The director of senate security shall perform the functions of the sergeant at arms for the senate.

2. The sergeant at arms shall not admit to the floor of the senate during the time the senate is not convened any person other than specifically requested by a senator, the president, or the secretary of the senate, in writing or when personally accompanied by a senator.

Subordinate Officers

Rule 5. The subordinate officers of the senate shall perform such duties as usually pertain to their respective positions in legislative bodies under the direction of the president, and such other duties as the senate may impose upon them. Under no circumstances shall the compensation of any employee be increased for past services. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 25, State Constitution.)

Employees

Rule 6. 1. No senate employee shall lobby in favor of or against any matter under consideration.

2. Senate employees are governed by joint rules and chapters 42.17 (the Public Disclosure Act) and 42.52 RCW (the Ethics in Public Service Act).

Conduct of Members and Officers

Rule 7. 1. Indecorous conduct, boisterous or unbecoming language will not be permitted in the senate at any time. The use of cellular or digital telephones is prohibited within the senate chamber during floor session and within a hearing room during a committee hearing.

2. In cases of breach of decorum or propriety, any senator, officer or other person shall be liable to such censure or punishment as the senate may deem proper, and if any senator be called to order for offensive or indecorous language or conduct, the person calling the senator to order shall report the language excepted to which shall be taken down or noted at the secretary's desk. No member shall be held to answer for any language used upon the floor of the senate if business has intervened before exception to the language was thus taken and noted.

3. If any senator in speaking, or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the senate, the president shall, or any senator may, call that senator to order, and a senator so called to order shall resume the senator's seat and not proceed without leave of the senate, which leave, if granted, shall be upon motion "that the senator be allowed to proceed in order," when, if carried, the senator shall speak to the question under consideration.

4. No senator shall be absent from the senate without leave, except in case of accident or sickness, and if any senator or officer shall be absent the senator's per diem shall not be allowed or paid, and no senator or officer shall obtain leave of absence or be excused from attendance without the consent of a majority of the members present.

5. In the event of a motion or resolution to censure or punish, or any procedural motion thereto involving a senator, that senator shall not vote thereon. The senator shall be allowed to answer to such motion or resolution. An election or vote by the senate on a motion to censure or punish a senator shall require the vote of a majority of all senators elected or appointed to the senate. A vote to expel a member shall require a two-thirds concurrence of all members elected or appointed to the senate. All votes shall be taken by yeas and nays and the votes shall be entered upon the journal. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 9, State Constitution.)

SECTION II

OPERATIONS AND MANAGEMENT

Payment of Expenses - Facilities and Operations

Rule 8. 1. After the reorganization caucuses of the senate, the majority caucus shall designate four members and the minority caucus shall designate three members to serve on the facilities and operations committee. The ~~(chair)~~ deputy leader of the majority caucus shall be the chair of the facilities and operations committee. The operation of the senate shall transfer to the newly designated members after the reorganization caucuses of the senate or at any time after the reorganization caucuses if a different caucus becomes the majority caucus.

2. All necessary expenses of the senate incurred during the session shall be signed for by the secretary and approved by a majority of the committee on facilities and operations. The committee on facilities and operations shall carefully consider all items of expenditure ordered or contracted on the part of the senate, and report upon the same prior to the voucher being signed by the secretary of the senate authorizing the payment thereof. The committee on facilities and operations shall issue postage only as follows:

(a) To elected or appointed members of the senate in an amount sufficient to allow performance of their legislative duties.

(b) To the secretary of the senate in an amount sufficient to carry out the business of the senate.

Use of Senate Chambers

Rule 9. The senate chamber and its facilities shall not be used for any but legislative business, except by permission of the senate while in session, or by the facilities and operations committee when not in session.

Admission to the Senate

Rule 10. The sergeant at arms shall admit only the following individuals to the floor and adjacent areas of the senate for the period of time beginning one-half hour before convening and ending when the senate has adjourned or recessed for an hour or more:

The governor and/or designees,
 Members of the house of representatives,
 State elected officials,
 Officers and authorized employees of the legislature,
 Honored guests being presented to the senate,
 Former members of the senate who are not registered lobbyists pursuant to chapter 42.17 RCW,
 Representatives of the press,
 Persons specifically requested by a senator to the president in writing or only as long as accompanied by a senator.

Printing of Bills

Rule 11. The number of bills printed and reprinted shall be at the discretion of the secretary of the senate, with the approval of the facilities and operations committee.

Furnishing Full File of Bills

Rule 12. Persons, firms, corporations and organizations within the state, desirous of receiving copies of all printed senate bills, shall make application therefor to the secretary of the senate. The bill clerk shall send copies of all printed senate bills to such persons, firms, corporations and organizations as may be ordered by the secretary of the senate. The secretary of the senate is authorized to recoup costs.

Regulation of Lobbyists

Rule 13. All persons who engage in lobbying of any kind as defined in chapter 42.17 RCW shall be subject to the rules of the senate and legislature when lobbying before the senate. Any person who fails to conform to the senate or joint rules may have their privilege to lobby and all other privileges revoked upon a majority vote of the committee on rules for such time as is deemed appropriate by the committee.

Any person registered as a lobbyist pursuant to chapter 42.17 RCW who intervenes in or attempts to influence any personnel decision of the senate regarding any employee may suffer an immediate revocation of all privileges before the senate or such other privileges and for such time as may be deemed appropriate by the senate committee on rules. This restriction shall not prohibit a registered lobbyist from making written recommendations for staff positions.

Security Management

Rule 14. The sergeant at arms may develop methods to protect the senate, including its members, staff, and the visiting public, by establishing procedures to curtail the use or possession of any weapon in a manner that is prohibited by law or by the rules of the Department of General Administration.

SECTION III RULES AND ORDER Time of Convening

Rule 15. The senate shall convene at 10:00 a.m. each working day, unless adjourned to a different hour. The senate shall adjourn not later than 10:00 p.m. of each working day. The senate shall recess ninety minutes for lunch each working day. When reconvening on the same day the senate shall recess ninety minutes for dinner each working evening. This rule may be suspended by a majority.

Quorum

Rule 16. A majority of all members elected or appointed to the senate shall be necessary to constitute a quorum to do business. Less than a quorum may adjourn from day to day until a quorum can be had. (See Art. 2, Sec. 8, State Constitution.)

Order of Business

Rule 17. After the roll is called and journal read and approved, business shall be disposed of in the following order:

- | | |
|----------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| FIRST. | Reports of standing committees. |
| SECOND. | Reports of select committees. |
| THIRD. | Messages from the governor and other state officers. |
| FOURTH. | Messages from the house of representatives. |
| FIFTH. | Introduction, first reading and reference of bills, joint memorials, joint resolutions and concurrent resolutions. |
| SIXTH. | Second reading of bills. |
| SEVENTH. | Third reading of bills. |
| EIGHTH. | Presentation of petitions, memorials and floor resolutions. |
| NINTH. | Presentation of motions. |

The order of business established by this rule may be changed and any order of business already dealt with may be reverted or advanced to by a majority vote of those present.

All questions relating to the priority of business shall be decided without debate.

Messages from the governor, other state officers, and from the house of representatives may be considered at any time with the consent of the senate.

Special Order

Rule 18. The president shall call the senate to order at the hour fixed for the consideration of a special order, and announce that the special order is before the senate, which shall then be considered unless it is postponed by a majority vote of the members present, and any business before the senate at the time of the announcement of the special order shall take its regular position in the order of business, except that if a cutoff established by concurrent resolution occurs during the special order, the senate may complete the measure that was before the senate when consideration of the special order was commenced.

FIRST DAY, JANUARY 14, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

To commit or recommit
 To postpone indefinitely
 4th Rank: To amend

Unfinished Business

Rule 19. The unfinished business at the preceding adjournment shall have preference over all other matters, excepting special orders, and no motion or any other business shall be received without special leave of the senate until the former is disposed of.

No motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely, being decided, shall again be allowed on the same day and at the same stage of the proceedings, and when a question has been postponed indefinitely it shall not again be introduced during the session.

Motions and Senate Floor Resolutions
 (How Presented)

A motion to lay an amendment on the table shall not carry the main question with it unless so specified in the motion to table.

Rule 20. 1. No motion shall be entertained or debated until announced by the president and every motion shall be deemed to have been seconded. It shall be reduced to writing and read by the secretary, if desired by the president or any senator, before it shall be debated, and by the consent of the senate may be withdrawn before amendment or action.

At no time shall the senate entertain a Question of Consideration.

Voting

2. The senate shall consider no more than one floor resolution per day in session: Provided, That this rule shall not apply to floor resolutions essential to the operation of the senate; and further Provided, That there shall be no limit on the number of floor resolutions considered on senate pro forma session days. Senate floor resolutions shall be acted upon in the same manner as motions. All senate floor resolutions shall be on the secretary's desk at least twenty-four hours prior to consideration. Members' names shall only be added to the resolution if the member signs the resolution. Members shall have until thirty minutes after the senate is convened the following day the senate is in a regular or pro forma session to add their names to the floor resolution. A motion may be made to close the period for signatures at an earlier time.

Rule 22. 1. In all cases of election by the senate, the votes shall be taken by yeas and nays, and no senator or other person shall remain by the secretary's desk while the roll is being called or the votes are being counted. No senator shall be allowed to vote except when within the bar of the senate, or upon any question upon which he or she is in any way personally or directly interested, nor be allowed to explain a vote or discuss the question while the yeas and nays are being called, nor change a vote after the result has been announced. (See also Art. 2, Secs. 27 and 30, State Constitution.)

Precedence of Motions

Rule 21. When a motion has been made and stated by the chair the following motions are in order, in the rank named:

2. A member not voting by reason of personal or direct interest, or by reason of an excused absence, may explain the reason for not voting by a brief statement not to exceed fifty words in the journal.

3. The yeas and nays shall be taken when called for by one-sixth of all the senators present, and every senator within the bar of the senate shall vote unless excused by the unanimous vote of the members present, and the votes shall be entered upon the journal. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 21, State Constitution.)

PRIVILEGED MOTIONS

- Adjourn, recess, or go at ease
- Reconsider
- Demand for call of the senate
- Demand for roll call
- Demand for division
- Question of privilege
- Orders of the day

When once begun the roll call may not be interrupted for any purpose other than to move a call of the senate. (See also Rule 24.)

4. A senator having been absent during roll call may ask to have his or her name called. Such a request must be made before the result of the roll call has been announced by the president.

INCIDENTAL MOTIONS

- Points of order and appeal
- Method of consideration
- Suspend the rules
- Reading papers
- Withdraw a motion
- Division of a question

5. The passage of a bill or action on a question is lost by a tie vote, but when a vote of the senate is equally divided, the lieutenant governor, when presiding, shall have the deciding vote on questions other than the final passage of a bill. (See also Art. 2, Secs. 10 and 22, State Constitution.)

6. The order of the names on the roll call shall be alphabetical by last name.

7. All votes in a committee shall be recorded, and the record shall be preserved as prescribed by the secretary of the senate. One-sixth of the committee may demand an oral roll call.

SUBSIDIARY MOTIONS

- 1st Rank: To lay on the table
- 2nd Rank: For the previous question
- 3rd Rank: To postpone to a day certain

8. If a member of the majority is going to be absent due to a health matter or other emergency, then a member of the minority may publicly announce on the floor of the senate that he or she will cast votes as he or she believes the absent member would have voted in order to avoid results that would only occur because of the unanticipated absence.

Announcement of Vote

Rule 23. The announcement of all votes shall be made by the president.

Call of the Senate

Rule 24. Although a roll call is in progress, a call of the senate may be moved by three senators, and if carried by a majority of all present the secretary shall call the roll, after which the names of the absentees shall again be called. The doors shall then be locked and the sergeant at arms directed to take into custody all who may be absent without leave, and all the senators so taken into custody shall be presented at the bar of the senate for such action as the senate may deem proper.

One Subject in a Bill

Rule 25. No bill shall embrace more than one subject and that shall be expressed in the title. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 19, State Constitution.)

No Amendment by Mere Reference to Title of Act

Rule 26. No act shall ever be revised or amended by mere reference to its title, but the act revised or the section amended shall be set forth at full length. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 37, State Constitution.)

Reading of Papers

Rule 27. When the reading of any paper is called for, and is objected to by any senator, it shall be determined by a vote of the senate, without debate.

Any and all copies of reproductions of newspaper or magazine editorials, articles or cartoons or publications or material of any nature distributed to senators' desks must bear the name of at least one senator granting permission for the distribution. This shall not apply to materials normally distributed by the secretary of the senate or the majority or minority caucuses.

Comparing Enrolled and Engrossed Bills

Rule 28. Any senator shall have the right to compare an enrolled bill with the engrossed bill and may note any objections in the Journal.

SECTION IV
PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE
Rules of Debate

Rule 29. When any senator is about to speak in debate, or submit any matter to the senate, the senator shall rise, and standing in place, respectfully address the President, and when recognized shall, in a courteous manner, speak to the question under debate, avoiding personalities; provided that a senator may refer to another member using the title "Senator" and the surname of the other member. No senator shall impeach the motives of any other member or speak more than twice (except for explanation) during the consideration of any one question, on the same day or a second time without leave, when others who have not spoken desire the floor, but incidental and subsidiary questions arising during the debate shall not be considered the same question. A majority of the members present may further limit the number of times a member may speak on any question and may limit the length of time a member may speak but, unless a demand for the previous question has been sustained, a member shall not be denied the right to speak at least once on each question, nor shall a member be limited to less than three minutes on each question. In any event, the senator who presents the motion may open and close debate on the question.

Recognition by the President

Rule 30. When two or more senators rise at the same time to address the chair, the president shall name the one who shall speak first, giving preference, when practicable, to the mover or introducer of the subject under consideration.

Call for Division of a Question

Rule 31. Any senator may call for a division of a question, which shall be divided if it embraces subjects so distinct that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the senate; but a motion to strike out and insert shall not be divided.

Point of Order - Decision Appealable

Rule 32. Every decision of points of order by the president shall be subject to appeal by any senator, and discussion of a question of order shall be allowed. In all cases of appeal the question shall be: "Shall the decision of the president stand as the judgment of the senate?"

Question of Privilege

Rule 33. Any senator may rise to a question of privilege and explain a personal matter by leave of the president, but shall not discuss any pending question in such explanations, nor shall any question of personal privilege permit any senator to introduce any person or persons in the galleries. The president upon notice received may acknowledge the presence of any distinguished person or persons.

A question of privilege shall involve only subject matter which affects the particular senator personally and in a manner unique and peculiar to that senator.

Protests

Rule 34. Any senator or senators may protest against the action of the senate upon any question. Such protest may be entered upon the journal if it does not exceed 200 words. The senator protesting shall file the protest with the secretary of the senate within 48 hours following the action protested.

Adoption and Suspension of Rules

Rule 35. 1. The permanent senate rules adopted at the first regular session during a legislative biennium shall govern any session subsequently convened during the same legislative biennium. Adoption of permanent rules may be by majority of the senate without notice and a majority of the senate may change a permanent rule without notice at the beginning of any session, as determined pursuant to Article 2, Section 12 of the State Constitution. No permanent rule or order of the senate shall be rescinded or changed without a majority vote of the members, and one day's notice of the motion.

FIRST DAY, JANUARY 14, 2013

2. A permanent rule or order may be temporarily suspended for a special purpose by a vote of two-thirds of the members present unless otherwise specified herein. When the suspension of a rule is called, and after due notice from the president no objection is offered, the president may announce the rule suspended, and the senate may proceed accordingly. Motion for suspension of the rules shall not be debatable, except, the mover of the motion may briefly explain the purpose of the motion and at the discretion of the president a rebuttal may be allowed.

Previous Question

Rule 36. The previous question shall not be put unless demanded by three senators, and it shall then be in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?" When sustained by a majority of senators present it shall preclude all debate, except the senator who presents the motion may open and close debate on the question and the vote shall be immediately taken on the question or questions pending before the senate, and all incidental question or questions of order arising after the motion is made shall be decided whether on appeal or otherwise without debate.

Reconsideration

Rule 37. 1. After the final vote on any measure, before the adjournment of that day's session, any member who voted with the prevailing side may give notice of reconsideration unless a motion to immediately transmit the measure to the house has been decided in the affirmative. Such motion to reconsider shall be in order only under the order of motions of the day immediately following the day upon which such notice of reconsideration is given, and may be made by any member who voted with the prevailing side.

2. A motion to reconsider shall have precedence over every other motion, except a motion to adjourn; and when the senate adjourns while a motion to reconsider is pending or before passing the order of motions, the right to move a reconsideration shall continue to the next day of sitting. On and after the tenth day prior to adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article 2, Section 12, or concurrent resolution, or in the event that the measure is subject to a senate rule or resolution or a joint rule or concurrent resolution, which would preclude consideration on the next day of sitting a motion to reconsider shall only be in order on the same day upon which notice of reconsideration is given and may be made at any time that day. Motions to reconsider a vote upon amendments to any pending question may be made and decided at once.

Motion to Adjourn

Rule 38. Except when under call of the senate, a motion to adjourn shall always be in order. The name of the senator moving to adjourn and the time when the motion was made shall be entered upon the journal.

Yeas and Nays - When Must be Taken

Rule 39. The yeas and nays shall be taken when called for by one-sixth of all the senators present, and every senator within the bar of the senate shall vote unless excused by the unanimous vote of the members present, and the votes shall be entered upon the journal. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 21, State Constitution.)

When once begun the roll call may not be interrupted for any purpose other than to move a call of the senate. (See also Senate Rules 22 and 24.)

Reed's Parliamentary Rules

Rule 40. The rules of parliamentary practice as contained in Reed's Parliamentary Rules shall govern the senate in all cases to which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with the rules and orders of this senate and the joint rules of this senate and the house of representatives.

SECTION V

COMMITTEES

Committees - Appointment and Confirmation

Rule 41. The president shall appoint all conference, special, joint and standing committees on the part of the senate. The appointment of the conference, special, joint and standing committees shall be confirmed by the senate.

In the event the senate shall refuse to confirm any conference, special, joint or standing committee or committees, such committee or committees shall be elected by the senate.

The following standing committees shall constitute the standing committees of the senate:

Standing Committee	Total Membership
1. Agriculture, Water & Rural Economic Development	((8)) 7

13. Trade & Economic Development	7
14. Transportation	16
15. Ways & Means	((20)) 23

Subcommittees

Rule 42. Committee chairs may create subcommittees of the standing committee and designate subcommittee chairs thereof to study subjects within the jurisdiction of the standing committee. The committee chair shall approve the use of committee staff and equipment assigned to the subcommittee. Subcommittee activities shall further be subject to facilities and operations committee approval to the same extent as are the actions of the standing committee from which they derive their authority.

Subpoena Power

Rule 43. Any of the above referenced committees, including subcommittees thereof, or any special committees created by the senate, may have the powers of subpoena, the power to administer oaths, and the power to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses in accordance with the provisions of chapter 44.16 RCW. The committee chair shall file with the committee on rules, prior to issuance of any process, a statement of purpose setting forth the name or names of those subject to process. The rules committee shall consider every proposed issuance of process at a meeting of the rules committee immediately following the filing of the statement with the committee. The process shall not be issued prior to consideration by the rules committee. The process shall be limited to the named individuals and the committee on rules may overrule the service on an individual so named.

Duties of Committees

Rule 44. The several committees shall fully consider measures referred to them.

The committees shall acquaint themselves with the interest of the state specially represented by the committee, and from time to time present such bills and reports as in their judgment will advance the interests and promote the welfare of the people of the state: PROVIDED, That no executive action on bills may be taken during an interim.

Committee Rules

Rule 45. 1. At least five days notice shall be given of all public hearings held by any committee other than the rules committee. Such notice shall contain the date, time and place of such hearing together with the title and number of each bill, or identification of the subject matter, to be considered at such hearing. By a majority vote of the committee members present at any committee meeting such notice may be dispensed with. The reason for such action shall be set forth in a written statement preserved in the records of the meeting.

2. No committee may hold a public hearing during a regular or extraordinary session on a proposal identified as a draft unless the draft has been made available to the public at least twenty-four hours prior to the hearing. This rule does not apply during the five days prior to any cutoff established by concurrent resolution nor does it apply to any measure exempted from the resolution.

3. During its consideration of or vote on any bill, resolution or memorial, the deliberations of any committee or subcommittee of the senate shall be open to the public. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct at any such deliberations, the chair shall order the sergeant at arms to suppress the same and may order the meeting closed to any person or persons creating such disturbance.

4. No committee shall amend a measure, adopt a substitute bill, or vote upon any measure or appointment absent a quorum. A committee may conduct a hearing absent a quorum. A majority of any committee shall constitute a quorum and committees shall be considered to have a quorum present unless the question is raised. Any question as to quorum not raised at the time of the committee action is deemed waived.

5. Bills reported to the senate from a standing committee must have a majority report, which shall be prepared upon a printed standing committee report form; shall be adopted at a regularly or specially called meeting during a legislative session and shall be signed by a majority of the committee; and shall carry only one of the following recommendations:

- a. Do pass;
- b. Do pass as amended;
- c. That a substitute bill be substituted therefor, and the substitute bill do pass; or
- d. Without recommendation.

FIRST DAY, JANUARY 14, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

In addition to one of the above-listed recommendations, a report may also recommend that a bill be referred to another committee.

Committee Meetings During Sessions

6. A majority report of a committee must carry the signatures of a majority of the members of the committee. In the event a committee has a quorum pursuant to subsection 4 of this rule, subject to the limitation of subsection 12 of this rule, a majority of the members present may act on a measure, subject to obtaining the signatures of a majority of the members of the committee on the majority report.

Rule 46. No committee shall sit during the daily session of the senate unless by special leave.

No committee shall sit during any scheduled caucus.

Reading of Reports

Rule 47. The majority report, and minority report, if there be one, together with the names of the signers thereof, shall be read by the secretary, unless the reading be dispensed with by the senate, and all committee reports shall be spread upon the journal.

7. Any measure, appointment, substitute bill, or amendment still within a committee's possession before it has been reported out to the full senate may be reconsidered to correct an error, change language, or otherwise accurately reflect the will of the committee in its majority and minority reports to the full senate. Any such reconsideration may be made at any time, by any member of the committee, provided that the committee has not yet reported the measure, appointment, substitute bill, or amendment out to the full senate. Any such reconsideration made after a vote has been taken or signatures obtained will require a new vote and signature sheet. Any measure which does not receive a majority vote of the members present may be reconsidered at that meeting and may again be considered upon motion of any committee member if one day's notice of said motion is provided to all committee members. For purposes of this rule, a committee is deemed to have reported a measure, appointment, substitute bill, or amendment out when it has delivered its majority and minority reports to the senate workroom. After such delivery, the committee no longer has possession of the measure, appointment, substitute bill, or amendment and no further committee action, including reconsideration, may be taken.

Recalling Bills from Committees

Rule 48. Any standing committee of the senate may be relieved of further consideration of any bill, regardless of prior action of the committee, by a majority vote of the senators elected or appointed. The senate may then make such orderly disposition of the bill as they may direct by a majority vote of the members of the senate.

Bills Referred to Rules Committee

Rule 49. All bills reported by a committee to the senate shall then be referred to the committee on rules for second reading without action on the report unless otherwise ordered by the senate. (See also Rules 63 and 64.)

Rules Committee

8. Any member of the committee not concurring in the majority report may sign a minority report containing a recommendation of "do not pass" or "without recommendation," which shall be signed by those members of the committee subscribing thereto, and submitted with the majority report. Unless the signatory of a minority report expressly indicates a "do not pass" recommendation, the member's vote shall be deemed to be "without recommendation." In every case where a majority report form is circulated for signature, a minority report form shall also be circulated.

Rule 50. The lieutenant governor shall be a voting member and the chair of the committee on rules. The president pro tempore shall be a voting member and the vice chair of the committee on rules. The committee on rules shall have charge of the daily second and third reading calendar of the senate and shall direct the secretary of the senate the order in which the bills shall be considered by the senate and the committee on rules shall have the authority to directly refer any bill before them to any other standing committee. Such referral shall be reported out to the senate on the next day's business.

The senate may change the order of consideration of bills on the second or third reading calendar.

9. When a committee reports a substitute for an original bill with the recommendation that the substitute bill do pass, it shall be in order to read the substitute bill the first time and have the same ordered printed.

The calendar, except in emergent situations, as determined by the committee on rules, shall be on the desks and in the offices of the senators each day and shall cover the bills for consideration on the next following day.

A motion for the substitution of the substitute bill for the original bill shall not be in order until the committee on rules places the original bill on the second reading calendar.

Employment Committee

10. No vote in any committee shall be taken by secret ballot nor shall any committee have a policy of secrecy as to any vote on action taken in such committee.

Rule 51. The employment committee for committee staff shall consist of five members, three from the majority party and two from the minority party. The chair shall be appointed by the majority leader. The committee shall, in addition to its other duties, appoint a staff director for committee services with the concurrence of four of its members. All other decisions shall be determined by majority vote. The committee shall operate within staffing, budget levels and guidelines as authorized and adopted by the facilities and operations committee.

11. All reports of standing committees must be on the secretary's desk one hour prior to convening of the session in order to be read at said session. During any special session of the legislature, this rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

12. When a standing committee is operated by cochairs, the committee may not vote upon any measure or appointment without the consent of each cochair.

Committee of the Whole

Rule 52. At no time shall the senate sit as a committee of the whole.

The senate may at any time, by the vote of the majority of the members present, sit as a body for the purpose of taking testimony on any measure before the senate.

Appropriation Budget Bills

Rule 53. Reserved

SECTION VI BILLS, RESOLUTIONS, MEMORIALS AND GUBERNATORIAL APPOINTMENTS

Definitions

Rule 54. "Measure" means a bill, joint memorial, joint resolution, or concurrent resolution.

"Bill" when used alone means bill, joint memorial, joint resolution, or concurrent resolution.

"Majority" shall mean a majority of those members present unless otherwise stated.

Prefiling

Rule 55. Holdover members and members-elect to the senate may prefile bills with the secretary of the senate on any day commencing with the first Monday in December preceding any session year; or twenty days prior to any special session of the legislature. Such bills will be printed, distributed and prepared for introduction on the first legislative day. No bill, joint memorial or joint resolution shall be prefiled by title and/or preamble only. (See also Rule 3, Sub. 3.)

Introduction of Bills

Rule 56. All bills, joint resolutions and joint memorials introduced shall be endorsed with a statement of the title and the name of the member introducing the same. Any member desiring to introduce a bill, joint resolution or joint memorial shall file the same with the secretary of the senate by noon of the day before the convening of the session at which said bill, joint resolution or joint memorial is to be introduced.

To be considered during a regular session, a bill must be introduced at least ten days before final adjournment of the legislature, unless the legislature directs otherwise by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, said vote to be taken by yeas and nays and entered upon the journal. The time limitation for introduction of bills shall not apply to substitute bills reported by standing committees for bills pending before such committees and general appropriation and revenue bills. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 36, State Constitution.)

Amendatory Bills

Rule 57. Bills introduced in the senate intended to amend existing statutes shall have the words which are amendatory to such existing statutes underlined. Any matter to be deleted from the existing statutes shall be indicated by setting such matter forth in full, enclosed by double parentheses, and such deleted matter shall be lined out with hyphens. No bill shall be printed or acted upon until the provisions of this rule shall have been complied with.

Sections added by amendatory bill to an existing act, or chapter of the official code, need not be underlined but shall be designated "NEW SECTION" in upper case type and such designation shall be underlined. New enactments need not be underlined.

When statutes are being repealed, the Revised Code of Washington section number to be repealed, the section caption and the session law history, from the most current to the original, shall be cited.

Joint Resolutions and Memorials

Rule 58. Joint resolutions and joint memorials, up to the signing thereof by the president of the senate, shall be subject to the rules governing the course of bills.

Senate Concurrent Resolutions

Rule 59. Concurrent resolutions shall be subject to the rules governing the course of bills and may be adopted without a roll call. Concurrent resolutions authorizing investigations and authorizing the expenditure or allocation of any money must be adopted by roll call and the yeas and nays recorded in the journal. Concurrent resolutions are subject to final passage on the day of the first reading without regard to Senate Rules 62, 63, and 64.

Committee Bills

Rule 60. Committee bills introduced by a standing committee during a legislative session may be filed with the secretary of the senate and introduced, and the signature of each member of the committee shall be endorsed upon the cover of the original bill.

Committee bills shall be read the first time by title, ordered printed, and referred to the committee on rules for second reading.

Committee Reference

Rule 61. When a motion is made to refer a subject, and different committees are proposed, the question shall be taken in the following order:

FIRST: A standing committee.
SECOND: A select committee.

Reading of Bills

Rule 62. Every bill shall be read on three separate days unless the senate deems it expedient to suspend this rule. On and after the tenth day preceding adjournment sine die of any session, or three days prior to any cut-off date for consideration of bills, as determined pursuant to Article 2, Section 12 of the Constitution or concurrent resolution, or during any special session of the legislature, this rule may be suspended by a majority vote. (See also Rule 59).

First Reading

Rule 63. The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full.

FIRST DAY, JANUARY 14, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

After the first reading, bills shall be referred to an appropriate committee pursuant to Rule 61.

the question of scope and object may be raised at any time during consideration of an amendment prior to voting on the amendment. A proposed amendment to an unamended title-only bill shall be within the scope and object of the bill if the subject of the amendment fits within the language in the title.

Upon being reported back by committee, all bills shall be referred to the committee on rules for second reading, unless otherwise ordered by the senate. (See Rule 49.)

Matters Related to Disagreement Between the Senate and House

A bill shall be reported back by the committee chair upon written petition therefor signed by a majority of its members. The petition shall designate the recommendation as provided in Rule 45, Sub. 5.

Rule 67. When there is a disagreement between the senate and house on a measure before the senate, the senate may act upon the measure with the following motions which have priority in the following order:

No committee chair shall exercise a pocket veto of any bill.

- To concur
- To non-concur
- To recede
- To insist
- To adhere

Should there be a two-thirds majority report of the committee membership against the bill, a vote shall be immediately ordered for the indefinite postponement of the bill.

These motions are in order as to any single amendment or to a series of amendments. (See Reed's Rules 247 through 254.)

Second Reading/Amendments

Rule 64. Upon second reading, the bill shall be read section by section, in full, and be subject to amendment.

Any member may, if sustained by three members, remove a bill from the consent calendar as constituted by the committee on rules. A bill removed from the consent calendar shall take its place as the last bill in the order of consideration of bills on the second reading calendar.

A senate bill, passed by the house with amendment or amendments which shall change the scope and object of the bill, upon being received in the senate, shall be referred to an appropriate committee and shall take the same course as for original bills, unless a motion to ask the house to recede, to insist or to adhere is made prior to the measure being referred to committee.

No amendment shall be considered by the senate until it shall have been sent to the secretary's desk in writing and read by the secretary.

Bills Committed for Special Amendment

All amendments adopted on the second reading shall then be securely fastened to the original bill.

Rule 68. A bill may be committed with or without special instructions to amend at any time before taking the final vote.

All amendments rejected by the senate shall be spread upon the journal, and the journal shall show the disposition of all amendments.

Confirmation of Governatorial Appointees

When no further amendments shall be offered, the president shall declare the bill has passed its second reading, and shall be referred to the committee on rules for third reading.

Rule 69. When the names of appointees to state offices are transmitted to the secretary of the senate for senate confirmation, the communication from the governor shall be recorded and referred to the appropriate standing committee.

Third Reading

Rule 65. Bills on third reading shall be read in full by sections, and no amendment shall be entertained.

The standing committee, or subcommittee, pursuant to rule 42, shall require each appointee referred to the committee for consideration to complete the standard questionnaire to be used to ascertain the appointee's general background and qualifications. The committee may also require the appointee to complete a supplemental questionnaire related specifically to the qualifications for the position to which he has been appointed.

When a bill shall pass, it shall be certified to by the secretary, together with the vote upon final passage, noting the day of its passage thereon.

Any hearing on a gubernatorial appointment, held by the standing committee, or subcommittees, pursuant to rule 42, shall be a public hearing. The appointee may be required to appear before the committee on request. When appearing, the appointee shall be required to testify under oath or affirmation. The chair of the committee or the presiding member shall administer the oath or affirmation in accordance with RCW 44.16. (See also Article 2, Sec. 6 of the State Constitution.)

The vote must be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the senators voting for and against the same to be entered upon the journal and the majority of the members elected to the senate must be recorded thereon as voting in its favor to secure its passage by the senate.

Scope and Object of Bill Not to be Changed

Rule 66. No amendment to any bill shall be allowed which shall change the scope and object of the bill. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 38, State Constitution.) Substitute bills shall be considered amendments for the purposes of this rule. A point of order raising

Nothing in this rule shall be construed to prevent a standing committee, or subcommittee, pursuant to rule 42, upon a two-thirds vote of its members, from holding executive sessions when considering an appointment.

When the committee on rules presents the report of the standing committee before the senate, the question shall be the confirmation of the name proposed, and the roll shall then be called and the yeas and nays entered upon the journal. In the event a message is received from the governor requesting return of an appointment or appointments to the office of the governor prior to confirmation, the senate shall vote upon the governor's request and the appointment or appointments shall be returned to the governor if the request is approved by a majority of the members elected or appointed. (Article 13 of the State Constitution.)

Senator Parlette spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

Senators Keiser, Conway, Kohl-Welles, Hargrove, Ranker and Murray spoke against adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8601.

Senator Frockt demanded a roll call.

The President declared that one-sixth of the members supported the demand and the demand was sustained.

The Secretary called the roll on the motion by Senator Fain to adopt Senate Resolution No. 8601 carried and the resolution was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 25; Nays, 23; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Baumgartner, Becker, Benton, Braun, Carrell, Dammeier, Delvin, Ericksen, Fain, Hewitt, Hill, Holmquist Newbry, Honeyford, King, Litzow, Padden, Parlette, Pearson, Rivers, Roach, Schoesler, Sheldon, Smith and Tom

Voting nay: Senators Billig, Chase, Cleveland, Conway, Darneille, Eide, Fraser, Frockt, Hargrove, Harper, Hasegawa, Hatfield, Hobbs, Keiser, Kline, Kohl-Welles, McAuliffe, Mullet, Murray, Nelson, Ranker, Rolfes and Shin

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ranker: "I just realized that with the last vote I just became 'ranking Ranker' so I would like to go over to the other side and try and fix this."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Murray: "Thank you Mr. President, several members from the other side came over and expressed their concern about this morning's comments. I wanted to express my appreciation for you coming over. So, you're all still invited to the wedding."

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The President declared the nominations for the office of President Pro Tempore of the Senate to be opened.

REMARKS BY SENATOR SCHOESLER

Senator Schoesler: "Thank you Mr. President, I would like to nominate Senator Sheldon to the office of President Pro Tempore. Twenty years ago last month I met Senator Sheldon for the first time. Over the last twenty plus years I've found someone who toured gold mines in Northeast Washington with us, The wheat industry and other agricultural industries of Eastern Washington. Someone who's worked on our state's energy policy from the local PUD level to regional power issues that impact every citizen and every job in the state of Washington. We've watched him as a leader in local government. We've watched him as a leader in the timber industry and jobs in general. Senator Sheldon brings this twenty plus years of experience to the senate and will make an excellent President Pro Tempore for this body. I urge your support."

REMARKS BY SENATOR TOM

Senator Tom: "Thank you Mr. President, I would like to second the nomination. Senator Sheldon makes a great choice. He is a Wharton grad. A very accomplish individual but also has a very unique background as far as not only does he understand the intellectual aspects of what we do but he also has the commonality as far as being involved in the logging community. So it's kind of a unique dynamic that you have there. For those of us who love to golf, here's a little tidbit on Senator Sheldon. A lot of us are hackers, Tim actually played collegiate golf so if you want a real golfer Tim's a real golfer. But I think he offers us a great avenue as far as where we are, what we're trying to accomplish and his respect for the institution. He's been here several years, a long time, and I think he will help us move forward and really bring that cooperation, bring that collaboration back to the senate. Thank you."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the nominations for the office of President Pro Tempore of the Senate were closed.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll of the electing of the President Pro Tempore and Senator Tim Sheldon was elected President Pro Tempore: Sheldon, 38; Nays, 10; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

REMARKS BY SENATOR SHELDON

Senator Sheldon: "Thank you. I very much appreciate your support. After being here twenty two years and it's great to follow in the direction, and I'll look to the big guy back here, my former Senator from the Thirty-fifth, our esteemed President Brad Owen who's done a wonderful job for us over the years. If I can do a job, when he's gone, anything like he has done I think I will succeed. Thank you."

The committee of honor escorted Senator Sheldon to his seat on the floor of the Senate.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

FIRST DAY, JANUARY 14, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

President Owen: "Senator Sheldon, the President hopes you screw up so they want me back. Not really."

ELECTION OF VICE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The President declared nominations to be open for the office of Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR SHELDON

Senator Sheldon: "Thank you Mr. President. Senator Shin is one of our longest serving members and one of our most distinguished. From a humble beginning and a wonderful person and personal story. Senator Shin is recognized throughout his district and throughout our state and in many other countries for all the good will he's brought. An emissary, I think, of trade and hope. He's the author of several books. He is esteemed person and a very good friend of mine and I hope that join me in voting for Paull Shin for Vice President Pro Tempore."

REMARKS BY SENATOR NELSON

Senator Nelson: "Thank you Mr. President. I would like to second the nomination of Senator Shin for Vice President Pro Tempore. We all know how well respected Senator Shin is in this body. Whether it is his work on higher education, economic development and trade, his work has benefited all the citizens of this state and in his ongoing role of Vice President Pro Tempore Senator Shin will continue to provide the Senate with leadership and statesmanship. For those observing these proceedings I also want to add a personal thank you to Senator Shin in addition to the work he does here in this chamber he reaches out to adoptees throughout the world. He has been changing the lives of so many children. Senator Shin is a statesman and a leader here and in the world at large and I second his nomination."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the nominations for the office of President Pro Tempore were closed.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and Senator Paull Shin was elected Vice President Pro Tempore: Yeas, 48; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

Voting Shin: Senators Bailey, Baumgartner, Becker, Benton, Billig, Braun, Carrell, Chase, Cleveland, Conway, Dammeier, Darneille, Delvin, Eide, Ericksen, Fain, Fraser, Frockt, Hargrove, Harper, Hasegawa, Hatfield, Hewitt, Hill, Hobbs, Holmquist, Newbry, Honeyford, Keiser, King, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Litzow, McAuliffe, Mullet, Murray, Nelson, Padden, Parlette, Pearson, Ranker, Rivers, Roach, Rolfes, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Smith and Tom

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President of the Senate appointed a committee of honor consisting of Senators Smith and Fraser to escort Senator Shin to the rostrum to receive his oath of office.

Associate Chief Justice Charles Johnson thereupon administered the oath of office to Senator Shin.

The President presented a certificate of election to Senator Shin.

REMARKS BY SENATOR SHIN

Senator Shin: "In humility I stand before you with a profound appreciation in my heart. I can't fathom and believe, can you imagine that an orphan boy in Korea, no schooling or even a grade school education being adopted by American soldier came to this country, started with the ABCs, GED and the Ph. D. Professor for thirty-one years. Now I've been in the Senate, legislature for eighteen years. Calling this, I don't know what to say. My heart is filled with emotion, with gratitude and all I can say thank you America and thank you. My father, Dr. Ray Paull, Amy dentist who, when I was crying in the mountains alone, hugged me and adopted me. Brought me to this country for education that I received and services I performed and all of you, the love and friendship I share with you. I will do best I can as you call me to do so and then but all I can say is that, thank you. Thank you very much."

The committee of honor escorted Senator Shin to his seat on the floor of the Senate.

ELECTION OF SECRETARY OF SENATE

The President declared nominations to be open for the office of Secretary of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR BENTON

Senator Benton: "Thank you Mr. President. I stand before my colleagues today to nominate for this position an extremely qualified candidate. Hunter Goodman is an accomplished attorney. He's worked in government at the local level and he's worked in government at the state level. Many of you know him as the Deputy or Assistant Attorney General but more importantly, and I think this is important for all the citizens of the state of Washington, Hunter also has private business background as the principal of an international freight forwarding company. He brings tremendous private business enterprise skills. Those coupled with his long service in government in terms of administration, brings to us I think one of the most qualified individuals we could find in terms of administrative skills to fulfill our goal of operating and running an efficient and effective Senate that adjourns on time. I'm happy to bring his nomination to you and I ask for your support for Hunter Goodman as the new Secretary of the Senate. Thank you Mr. President."

REMARKS BY SENATOR SHELDON

Senator Sheldon: "Thank you Mr. President. I rise to second the nomination of Hunter Goodman for office of the Secretary of the Senate. We're very familiar with Hunter. He's worked in the legislature, around the legislature for a while certainly and around the capital and most certainly as Attorney General Rob McKenna's legislative liaison and Deputy Chief of staff. We've gotten to know Hunter. He's done a really a great job. He has wonderful leadership skills and management skills and good relationships on both sides of the aisle and he'll do a wonderful job for us. Of course, we always say great things about people when they're nominated like this but I have to note though, maybe you don't know that Hunter was a running back for the University of Southern California Trojans and I had to wonder a little bit about that for a little while but then I got for Christmas a Husky highlight reel which I played over and over and I think I still feel comfortable so I urge you to vote for Mr. Hunter Goodman."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the nominations for the office of Secretary of the Senate were closed.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and Hunter Goodman was elected Secretary of the Senate: Goodman, 44; Nays, 1; Absent, 3; Excused, 0.

Voting Goodman: Senators Bailey, Baumgartner, Becker, Benton, Billig, Braun, Carrell, Chase, Cleveland, Conway, Dammeier, Darneille, Delvin, Eide, Ericksen, Fain, Fraser, Frockt, Hargrove, Harper, Hasegawa, Hatfield, Hewitt, Hill, Hobbs, Holmquist Newbry, Honeyford, King, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Litzow, Mullet, Padden, Parlette, Pearson, Ranker, Rivers, Roach, Rolfes, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Smith and Tom

Voting nay: Senator Nelson

Absent: Senators Keiser, McAuliffe and Murray

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President of the Senate appointed a committee of honor consisting of Senators Benton and Frockt to escort Hunter Goodman to the rostrum to receive his oath of office.

Associate Chief Justice Charles Johnson thereupon administered the oath of office to Hunter Goodman.

The President presented a certificate of election to Hunter Goodman.

The committee of honor escorted Hunter Goodman to his seat on the rostrum.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: "Mr. President, last Friday a man walked quietly out the door of the legislative building to begin a well-earned retirement. A man who spent a thirty year career here with the state senate and most recently served as Secretary of the Senate during the last eight years. He played an exceptionally critical role in the senate as our new Secretary of the Senate will. For those of you who are unfamiliar with his role, there's a reason why we elect such a person and there's a reason why they take an oath of office. This is a critical role as chief of administrative officer for the senate. A person responsible to make sure all the senate functions well and enables each Senator to live up to their oath of office to serve the citizens of the state. Tom Hoemann served with dedication, with intelligence, with an exceptional knowledge of the institution, with integrity, with a wonderful low-key administrative style that enabled him to work with everybody and deal with the myriad of unexpected circumstances that always come up in a legislative body. So I would like to clearly note that he served with distinction, with integrity, always lived up to the premise that the Secretary of the Senate serves the entire senate and I hope others join with me, I know many, everybody does, to wish him a very pleasant and wonderful retirement. Thank you."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Before the President recognizes, let me take care of one thing so that the Justice can go back to work in the Temple of Justice. Thank you very much for your patience and your job for us today."

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President of the Senate appointed a committee of honor consisting of Senators Padden and Harper to escort Associate Chief Justice Charles Johnson from the Senate Chamber.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Parlette: "Thank you Mr. President. I also would like to speak some good words about Tom Hoemann. He's been very helpful. As Ranking on the F&O Committee, he was always available for both the chair and also for me and I really appreciate it. The most painful thing I had to do was call him over a weekend and say 'I'm sorry Tom, but I'm moving in your office and you have until Monday morning to get out;' That was awful. Anyway, we will miss him, I know he has plans for retirement and he certainly has served us well. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Eide: "Well, I, too, would like to thank Tom Hoemann. I have been in leadership for sixteen years and for the last seven being the floor leader and this man that sat up at that rostrum was my life line. He was there at a moment's notice helping me look good on this floor. Number one, Tom Hoemann is way too young to retire because I think he's only a year or two older than I am. I just wanted to take this time for all of us, he's been here a very long time. Thirty years is a long time for someone to be in this institution. He will be sorely missed. And Tom I'm still going to call you."

MOTION

Senator Fain moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION
8600

By Senators Tom and Murray

BE IT RESOLVED, That a committee consisting of two members of the Senate be appointed by the President of the Senate to notify the Governor that the Senate is organized and ready to conduct business.

This measure would restate existing statutory requirements that legislative actions raising taxes must be approved by two-thirds legislative majorities or receive voter approval, and that new or increased fees require majority legislative approval.

Yes 1,892,969
No 1,069,083

Initiative Measure No. 1240

Initiative Measure No. 1240 concerns creation of a public charter school system.

This measure would authorize up to forty publicly-funded charter schools open to all students, operated through approved, nonreligious, nonprofit organizations, with government oversight; and modify certain laws applicable to them as public schools.

No 1,484,125

Referendum Measure No. 74

The legislature passed Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6239 concerning marriage for same-sex couples, modified domestic-partnership law, and religious freedom, and voters have filed a sufficient referendum petition on this bill.

This bill would allow same-sex couples to marry, preserve domestic partnerships only for seniors, and preserve the right of clergy or religious organizations to refuse to perform, recognize, or accommodate any marriage ceremony.

Approved 1,659,915
Rejected 1,431,285

Initiative Measure No. 502

Initiative Measure No. 502 concerns marijuana.

This measure would license and regulate marijuana production, distribution, and possession for persons over twenty-one; remove state-law criminal and civil penalties for activities that it authorizes; tax marijuana sales; and earmark marijuana-related revenues.

No 1,371,235

Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 8221

The Legislature has proposed a constitutional amendment on implementing the Commission on State Debt recommendations regarding Washington's debt limit.

This amendment would, starting July 1, 2014, phase-down the debt limit percentage in three steps from nine to eight

Senate Joint Resolution No. 8223

The Legislature has proposed a constitutional amendment on investments by the University of Washington and Washington State University.

This amendment would create an exception to constitutional restrictions on investing public funds by allowing these universities to invest specified public funds as authorized by the legislature, including in private companies or stock.

Approved 1,258,969
Rejected 1,602,785

Advisory Vote No. 1, Engrossed Senate Bill 6635

The legislature eliminated, without a vote of the people, a business and occupation tax deduction for certain financial institutions' interest on residential loans, costing $170,000,000 in its first ten years, for government spending.

Repealed 1,552,134
Maintained 1,175,863

Advisory Vote No. 2, Substitute House Bill 2590

The legislature extended, without a vote of the people, expiration of a tax on possession of petroleum products and reduced the tax rate, costing $24,000,000 in its first ten years, for government spending.

Maintained 1,207,812

I further certify that according to the provisions of RCW 29A.60.250, I have canvassed the returns of the ballots cast for all federal and statewide offices, and those legislative and judicial offices whose jurisdiction encompasses more than one county in the General Election held on the 6th day of November, 2012, as received from the County Auditors, and that the votes cast for candidates for these offices are as follows:

The total number of votes cast for the office of Governor in the November 6, 2012, General Election equals 3,079,639. In accordance with Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution and RCW 29A.72.150, the number of signatures of legal voters on a petition measure is determined by the total votes cast for the office of Governor at the preceding election. Signature petitions for initiatives must be equal to or exceed eight percent of and four percent of the votes cast for a referendum. To meet the eight percent requirement during the next four years, sponsors of initiative measures must submit a minimum of 246,372 valid signatures and to meet the four percent requirement, sponsors of referendum measures must submit a minimum of 123,186 valid signatures.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the State of Washington on this 8th day of January, 2013, at Olympia, the State Capital.

SAM REED, Secretary of State

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR PARTIAL VETO ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5978

March 30, 2012

To the Honorable President and Members, The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to Section 218, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 5978 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to medicaid fraud."

Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 5978 creates a new State Medicaid Fraud False Claims Act. The federal Deficit Reduction Act of 2005 provides that the federal government will give to the state ten percent of any funds recovered as part of Medicaid enforcement actions brought under a state law comparable to the federal False Claims Act.

The emergency clause in Section 218 providing for Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 5978 to take effect immediately is not necessary. The bill will be effective ninety days after the adjournment of the session at which it was enacted, which will be June 7, 2012. There is no need to provide an earlier effective date. The Legislature has not yet provided funding to implement the provisions of this bill; the Health Care Authority and the Attorney General's Office will need time to prepare for implementation; and the State can request federal approval under the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005 in a timely manner without the emergency clause.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Section 218 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 5978.

With the exception of Section 218, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 5978 is approved.

Respectfully submitted, Christine Gregoire, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR PARTIAL VETO ON SENATE BILL NO. 6159

March 30, 2012

To the Honorable President and Members, The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to Section 2, Senate Bill 6159 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to a business and occupation tax deduction for amounts received with respect to dispute resolution services."

Senate Bill 6159 allows dispute resolution centers to deduct amounts they receive as contributions from federal, state, and local government or nonprofit organizations from the measure of the business and occupation tax. Nonprofit organizations may also deduct from the measure of tax amounts received from federal, state, or local governments for distribution to a qualified dispute resolution center.

Section 2 would apply this deduction from the measure of the tax both prospectively and retroactively. The retroactive application of the bill would reward delinquent taxpayers, while those who paid on time would not receive a refund under the prohibition on the gift of state funds in Article VIII, Section 5 of the Washington Constitution, as interpreted by the Washington Supreme Court.

For this reason, I have vetoed Section 2 of Senate Bill 6159.

With the exception of Section 2, Senate Bill 6159 is approved.

Respectfully submitted, Christine Gregoire, Governor

FIRST DAY, JANUARY 14, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL
NO. 6263

March 30, 2012

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to Sections 5 and 6, Second Substitute Senate Bill 6263 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to facilitating marine management planning."

Sections 5 and 6 of the bill would establish the membership and duties of a new Washington State Coastal Solutions Council. Among other duties, this Council would provide a forum to seek consistency in state, local, and tribal policies concerning coastal waters issues; engage other governments on behalf of the state; and provide policy recommendations to the governor, the Legislature, and state and local agencies on specific coastal waters resource management issues.

It is unclear how the Council would exercise these substantial duties in relation to the agencies with jurisdiction, which could participate only as nonvoting members. While the Council would be located within the Governor's Office, the Council would determine its own membership and be an autonomous body. As we look to regain our strength in the post-recession economy, now is not the time to be creating new state commissions. I remain committed to an efficient, lean government that will better serve the citizens of this state.

I fully agree with the legislative intent to directly engage our coastal communities and give them a stronger voice in shaping their future. To that purpose, I will assign a representative from my office to actively participate in the existing Coastal Advisory Board convened by the Department of Ecology.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Sections 5 and 6 of Second Substitute Senate Bill 6263.

With the exception of Sections 5 and 6, Second Substitute Senate Bill 6263 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Christine Gregoire, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE
BILL NO. 6486

March 30, 2012

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to Section 2, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6486 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to collective bargaining for postdoctoral researchers at certain state universities."

Section 2 provides this act is null and void if specific funding is not provided in the omnibus appropriations act. A veto of this section is necessary to ensure collective bargaining rights for postdoctoral and clinical employees at the University of Washington and Washington State University. Further, if specific funding is not provided in the omnibus appropriations act, the administrative costs associated with the collective bargaining can be paid within existing funds or allocated to the funds that support the employees, many of which are not within the State General Fund.

For this reason, I have vetoed Section 2 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6486.

With the exception of Section 2, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6486 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Christine Gregoire, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON SUBSTITUTE SEATE BILL NO. 6508

March 30, 2012

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to Section 3, Substitute Senate Bill 6508 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to department of social and health services waivers of overpayment recoveries."

Section 3 requires the Office of Fraud and Accountability within the Department of Social and Health Services to collaborate with the Auditor's Office and the Department of Early Learning to identify, review, and provide the Legislature with recommendations for integrated monitoring and detection systems to prevent overpayments of public assistance. The Office of Fraud and Accountability was created for the specific purpose of focusing on the prevention and investigation of abuse and fraud in the use of public assistance benefits. To avoid diluting this focus, the Secretary of the Department of Social and Health Services should determine what resources of the Department are best used in advancing measures to prevent non-fraudulent overpayments of public assistance.

For this reason, I have vetoed Section 3 of Substitute Senate Bill 6508.

With the exception of Section 3, Substitute Senate Bill 6508 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Christine Gregoire, Governor

The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning, without my approval as to Sections 1020, 3017, 6001(5)(b), and 6002, Engrossed Senate Bill 6074 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to funding capital project.”

Section 1020, pages 16-18, Office of Financial Management, Loan Program Consolidation Board

This proviso creates a loan program consolidation board to recommend a plan to consolidate under a single financing authority all existing state lending programs, including infrastructure and student loan programs. There have been five prior studies reviewing consolidation of infrastructure programs within the last six years. The most recent study was completed by the Public Works Board following the 2011 legislative session and provides ample information for a potential consolidation. Additionally, I do not believe it is appropriate for student loan programs to be comingled with infrastructure programs targeted to local governments and community groups. The Student Achievement Council is tasked to convene a work group on the higher education loan program and can better focus on reforming that program to meet the needs of today’s students. For these reason, I have vetoed Section 1020.

Section 3017, page 36, and Section 6001(5)(b), page 55, State Parks and Recreation Commission, Lake Sammamish Concession and Event Facility

The State Parks and Recreation Commission is provided $1 million in general obligation bonds and authorization to enter into a certificate of participation financing contract for $ 2.1 million to build a concession and event facility at Lake Sammamish. It is not anticipated that the revenue initially generated by the event center will be adequate to cover the associated debt and operating costs. Additionally, other revenue generated by the State Parks and Recreation Commission is not stable enough to cover these costs if facility revenues are inadequate. For these reason, I have vetoed Section 3017 and Section 6001 (5)(b), but I encourage the commission to resubmit this project for consideration for the next supplemental capital budget if the revenue outlook improves.

Section 6002, pages 55-56, Department of Commerce

The Department of Commerce is directed to work with stakeholders to develop recommendations for a complete grant program to assist zoos, aquariums and technology and science centers in acquiring, constructing or rehabilitating their facilities. A funding mechanism for these organizations was the subject of legislation that failed to pass this session.

For this reason, I have vetoed Section 6002, but I encourage the organizations to continue to work with legislators, rather than the department, to address their concerns with developing a capital funding program for their facility needs.

Although I am approving the remainder of the capital budget, I am concerned about the long-term implications of over-approaching the State and Local Toxics Control Accounts, the Aquatic Lands Enhancement Account, and other natural resource accounts in both the capital and operating budgets. I have directed the Office of Financial Management to work with the Department of Ecology and the Recreation and Conservation Office to develop a plan to manage these accounts to prevent a cash deficit. However, there is a risk that lower revenue collections or accelerated project costs could create the need to suspend project to balance the accounts. While I value the economic activity and jobs that are created in the capital budget, I ask the Legislature to return to budgeting practices that result in sustainable capital plans with positive fund balances.

With the exception of Sections 1020, 3017, 6001(5)(b), and 6002, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6074 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Christine Gregoire, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO ON SECOND ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE
SENATE BILL NO. 6406

May 2, 2012

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to Sections 305 and 306 Second Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6406 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to modifying programs that provide for protection of the state’s natural resources.”

This bill streamlines regulatory programs for managing and protecting the state’s natural environment while increasing the sustainability of program funding and maintaining current levels of natural resource protection.

Section 301 of the bill requires the Department of Ecology to prepare rules to update the categorical exemptions for environmental review under the State Environmental Policy Act (SEPA), revise the SEPA environmental checklist, and improve integration of SEPA with the provisions of the Growth Management Act. In updating the checklist, Section 301(2)(c) of the bill directs the Department of Ecology to “not include any new subjects into the scope of the checklist, including climate change and greenhouse gases.”

I have been assured that the intent of this language is confined to its plain meaning: This subsection addresses only how the Department of Ecology may modify the environmental checklist in its update of WAC 197-11-960. This language does not impact in any way the scope of the environmental analysis required at the threshold determination stage of the SEPA process or the scope of the environmental analysis required in an environmental impact statement. Letters I have received from legislators involved in the drafting of this language confirm that the Legislature’s intent was to address only the scope of the environmental checklist and not to amend any substantive SEPA requirements.

FIRST DAY, JANUARY 14, 2013

This understanding and interpretation of the bill are set forth in letters to me from legislators directly involved in passage of the legislation, including an April 23, 2012, letter from Senator Sharon Nelson and Representative Dave Upthegrove, respective chairs of the Senate and House Environment Committees; an April 26, 2012, letter from Representatives Richard DeBolt, Joel Kretz, Bruce Chandler, Shelly Short, David Taylor, J. T. Wilcox, and Ed Orcutt; and an April 27, 2012, letter from Senators Jim Honeyford and Mark Schoesler.

This is also the understanding and interpretation set forth in an April 19, 2012, letter to me from Representative Joe Fitzgibbon, the prime sponsor of House Bill No. 2253, where this language first appeared. I have also received letters from stakeholders who participated in legislative proceedings related to this provision. These stakeholders include the Association of Washington Cities, Washington State Association of Counties, Futurewise, Association of Washington Business, and the Washington Chapter of the American Planning Association. These letters affirm that the intent of Section 301 was to eliminate existing duplication between state natural resource programs, and not to amend any substantive SEPA requirements. An April 20, 2012, joint letter from representatives of four environmental organizations notes that ESSB 6406 was the product of “a long and ultimately constructive negotiation amongst a diverse set of stakeholders,” including their organizations” People for Puget Sound, Washington Conservation Voters, the Washington Environmental Council, and Climate Solutions. This letter quotes the language of Section 301(2)(c)(ii) and states: “Throughout the bill negotiations, there was agreement amongst all parties that the intent of this subsection was to ensure simply that no new line items were added to the SEPA checklist in the process of the checklist update directed by section 301.” However, the letter indicates that after the passage of this bill by the Senate and House, advisers to these organizations raised concerns that the language could be read to make broader changes in SEPA law.

After careful review, I have concluded that these assurances that the Legislature did not intend to limit the scope of SEPA review of adverse effects of climate change and greenhouse gases are fully supported. Section 1 of the bill expresses the Legislature’s intent to maintain current levels of natural resource protection. Additionally, Section 301(2)(c) specifically references the environmental checklist found in WAC 197-11-960. The Legislature did not reference other steps in the SEPA process such as the threshold determination addressed in different sections of chapter 197-11 WAC. Nothing in the letters I have received or in the legislative discussion of this provision negates this understanding.

My action in approving Section 301 is taken with the intent that it will operate only to prohibit inclusion of any new subjects in the scope of the checklist, and that the subjects of climate change and greenhouse gases will be considered in the environmental analysis required at the threshold determination stage of the SEPA process and in the environmental analysis required in a SEPA environmental impact statement. After consulting legal advisers, it is my understanding that this is the proper reading of this section of the bill and that this understanding will be considered by the courts when ascertaining legislative intent, as outline in Lynch v. State, 19 Wn.2d 802 (1944). Without this understanding, I would have vetoed Section 301.

Concern has also been raised that there is a need for a meaningful civil enforcement capacity to support the state’s Hydraulic

2013 REGULAR SESSION

Project Approval (HPA) program. I share this concern and have asked the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife to clarify the current enforcement mechanisms through rule revision within the ongoing HPA rule update, and to implement an effectiveness survey to measure results.

I am also asking the Department to deliver the survey results to the Office of Financial Management, the Governor’s Office, and the Legislature, with the intent to inform actions needed to create a more effective civil enforcement HPA program.

Amendments to the bill in the final day of the 2012 1st Special Session removed the explicit authority for local governments to collect a fee to recover their costs for a SEPA environmental impact statement prepared in support of certain land use plans. However, remnants of the original fee proposal that are no longer meaningful were left in the bill. Section 305 allows local governments to recover the costs of a SEPA environmental impact statement for certain land use plans from either state funds or private donations. Local governments are already authorized to accept funding from these sources. Section 306 refers to fees that are no longer authorized in Section 305. These two sections of the bill have the potential to create confusion with the existing authorities of local governments.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Sections 305 and 306 of Second Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6406.

With the exception of Sections 305 and 306 of Second Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6406 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Christine Gregoire, Governor

MOTION

Senator Fain moved the vetoes and partial vetoes be held at the desk.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: “Thank you Mr. President. As we look around and visit the floor and all the offices, everything looks in place and orderly and tidy but the reason this is the case is because we had a small army of people during the last week helping with a lot of moves, there were many offices that moved, we switched sides on the floor, we switched caucus rooms. There were a lot of moves last week and it couldn’t of happened without the exceptional dedicated, hard work and very fast work of many people, I can’t name names but I’d at least like to identify there you might say their employment affiliation. Senate administrative office, Secretary of the Senates office, legislative support services, the administration section, the supply and operations sections, the technology section, our legislative service center, the computer support telecommunications support, information technology support, member offices, very many of them were involved, caucus staff and also would like to recognize the hard and dedicated work of state department of Enterprise Services, administrative staff managers, supervisors who played a key role in the very successful move. So, I would like to compliment everybody involved and thank everybody involved including members of the staff of offices that moved. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Parlette: “I would like to echo the good words of the Senator from the Twenty-Second District and say that in my own experience I could not believe it. If you had one of those huge recycle bins and you put it right outside your office, it was gone in a minute and brought back empty for you to do another one. So, everybody really did a great job and we should be thankful. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Tom: “thank you Mr. President. I am excited about the great opportunity that we have in front of us this session. It’s evident that there’s going to be issues that we disagree on but I think more importantly it’s the tone that we have set today, a tone of cooperation, a tone of collaboration. I want to thank Senator Murray and your caucus for the professionalism and the dignity that you’ve held this institution today in the manner we have gone about in this debate. You know, we have a lot of pressing issues in front of us if you look at as far as the joblessness, the education systems, the budget sustainability’s. It’s going to take all of us to move forward in a direction that our citizens expect us to go. It’s going to take all of us working side by side so that government functions for everyone. Albert Einstein was once asked ‘What is the most pressing question facing mankind today’ and his answer was kind of interesting, you would think Einstein one of the greatest minds of the twentieth century could of come up with a lot of different things but here was his answer, ‘Is the universe a friendly place?’ is the universe a friendly place, it is that tone that I hope that we can have in mind as we go forward this session, as we work on each other’s bills, as we work on those difficult issues. Can we make sure that this Senate is a friendly place because if we can we can do great things, we can do great things together and we can do great things for the people of this state. Thank you Mr. President.”

MOTION

At 2:57 p.m., on motion of Senator Fain, the Senate adjourned until 10:00 a.m. Tuesday, January 15, 2013.

2013 REGULAR SESSION

purpose of convening a Joint Session with the House of Representatives.

JOINT SESSION

Pursuant to House Concurrent Resolution 4402, the Speaker (Representative Moeller presiding) called the Joint Session to order. The Clerk called the roll of House members. The Clerk called the roll of the Senate members. The Speaker (Representative Moeller presiding) declared a quorum of the Legislature was present.

The Speaker (Representative Moeller presiding): "The first purpose of this Joint Session is to comply with the constitutional requirement of canvassing the vote for and against referenda and initiatives and for the constitutional elective officers."

The Speaker (Representative Moeller presiding) called on the Clerk to read the message from the Secretary of State.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE CANVASS OF THE RETURNS OF THE GENERAL ELECTION
HELD ON NOVEMBER 6, 2012

I, Sam Reed, Secretary of State of the State of Washington, do hereby certify that according to the provisions of RCW 29A.60.260, I have canvassed the returns of the 3,172,939 ballots cast by the 3,904,959 registered voters of the state for and against the initiatives, referenda, constitutional amendments, and advisory measures which were submitted to the vote of the people at the state general election held on the 6th day of November, 2012, as received from the County Auditors.

Initiative Measure No. 1185

Initiative Measure No. 1185 concerns tax and fee increases imposed by state government.

This measure would restate existing statutory requirements that legislative actions raising taxes must be approved by two-thirds legislative majorities or receive voter approval, and that new or increased fees require majority legislative approval.

No 1,069,083

Initiative Measure No. 1240

Initiative Measure No. 1240 concerns creation of a public charter school system.

This measure would authorize up to forty publicly-funded charter schools open to all students, operated through approved, nonreligious, nonprofit organizations, with government oversight; and modify certain laws applicable to them as public schools.

No 1,484,125

Referendum Measure No. 74

The legislature passed Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 6239 concerning marriage for same-sex couples, modified domestic-partnership law, and religious freedom, and voters have filed a sufficient referendum petition on this bill.

This bill would allow same-sex couples to marry, preserve domestic partnerships only for seniors, and preserve the right of clergy or religious organizations to refuse to perform, recognize, or accommodate any marriage ceremony.

Approved 1,659,915
Rejected 1,431,285

Initiative Measure No. 502

Initiative Measure No. 502 concerns marijuana.

This measure would license and regulate marijuana production, distribution, and possession for persons over twenty-one; remove state-law criminal and civil penalties for activities that it authorizes; tax marijuana sales; and earmark marijuana-related revenues.

No 1,371,235

Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 8221

The Legislature has proposed a constitutional amendment on implementing the Commission on State Debt recommendations regarding Washington's debt limit.

This amendment would, starting July 1, 2014, phase-down the debt limit percentage in three steps from nine to eight percent and modify the calculation date, calculation period, and the term general state revenues.

Approved 1,748,436
Rejected 1,031,039

Senate Joint Resolution No. 8223

The Legislature has proposed a constitutional amendment on investments by the University of Washington and Washington State University.

This amendment would create an exception to constitutional restrictions on investing public funds by allowing these universities to invest specified public funds as authorized by the legislature, including in private companies or stock.

Approved 1,258,969
Rejected 1,602,785

Advisory Vote No. 1, Engrossed Senate Bill 6635

The legislature eliminated, without a vote of the people, a business and occupation tax deduction for certain financial institutions' interest on residential loans, costing $170,000,000 in its first ten years, for government spending.

Repealed 1,552,134
Maintained 1,175,863

Advisory Vote No. 2, Substitute House Bill 2590

The legislature extended, without a vote of the people, expiration of a tax on possession of petroleum products and reduced the tax rate, costing $24,000,000 in its first ten years, for government spending.

Maintained 1,207,812

I further certify that according to the provisions of RCW 29A.60.250, I have canvassed the returns of the ballots cast for all federal and statewide offices, and those legislative and judicial offices whose jurisdiction encompasses more than one county in the General Election held on the 6th day of November, 2012, as received from the County Auditors, and that the votes cast for candidates for these offices are as follows:

The total number of votes cast for the office of Governor in the November 6, 2012, General Election equals 3,079,639. In accordance with Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution and RCW 29A.72.150, the number of signatures of legal voters on a petition measure is determined by the total votes cast for the office of Governor at the preceding election. Signature petitions for initiatives must be equal to or exceed eight percent of and four percent of the votes cast for a referendum. To meet the eight percent requirement during the next four years, sponsors of initiative measures must submit a minimum of 246,372 valid signatures and to meet the four percent requirement, sponsors of referendum measures must submit a minimum of 123,186 valid signatures.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the State of Washington on this 8th day of January, 2013, at Olympia, the State Capital.

SAM REED
 Secretary of State

The Speaker (Representative Moeller presiding): "In view of the election results previously read, certified to by the Secretary of State, the Joint Session now declares the following qualified citizens to be the duly elected constitutional officers of the State of Washington:

Jay Inslee, Governor;

 Kim Wyman, Secretary of State;
 Jim McIntire, State Treasurer;
 Troy Kelley, State Auditor;
 Bob Ferguson, Attorney General;
 Randy Dorn, Superintendent of Public Instruction;
 Mike Kreidler, Insurance Commissioner;
 Peter Goldmark, Commissioner of Public Lands."

The Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate signed the Certificates of Election for the duly elected constitutional officers.

The Speaker (Representative Moeller presiding), having discharged the constitutional requirement imposed upon the Speaker of the House, called upon President Owen to preside over the Joint Session.

President Owen: "This joint session has been convened to receive the State of the State message from Her Excellency, Governor Christine Gregoire."

The President appointed a committee of honor to escort the Chief Justice and the Justice of the State Supreme Court to the Philippe Goetschel of the Swiss Confederation; Honorary Consul Lars Jonsson of the Kingdom of Sweden; Honorary Consul Kim Nesselquist of the Kingdom of Norway; Honorary Consul Petra Walker of the Federal Republic of Germany; Honorary Consul Jack Cowan of the French Republic; Honorary Consul Pedro Augusto Leite Costa of the Federative Republic of Brazil; Honorary Consul Alexander Cocron of the Republic of Austria; Honorary Consul Franco Tesorieri of the Italian Republic; Honorary Consul Wayne Jehlík of the Czech Republic; and Director-General Chin Hsing (Andy Chin) of Taipei Economic and Cultural Office in Seattle.

The Sergeant at Arms of the House announced the arrival of Her Excellency Governor Christine Gregoire and her family at the Chamber doors. The committee of honor escorted Governor Gregoire and family to the rostrum and the family was introduced: First Gentleman Mike Gregoire, Michelle and Courtney Gregoire, Scott Lindsay and Audrey Christine Lindsay.

The President welcomed state officials and representatives from the State of Nevada as well as representatives from the Republic of Uzbekistan who were also present in the House gallery.

The flags were escorted to the rostrum by the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Post 318 Honor Guard, commanded by Ken Wojczynski. The President led the Joint Session in the Pledge of Allegiance. The National Anthem was performed by the Auburn High School Choir Chamber Quartet comprised of Mr. Marcoantonio Garcia, Mr. Ethan Hinze, Miss Linda Karout and Miss Morgan Warren and directed by Ms. Kandy Gilbert. The Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Post 318 Honor Guard retired from the Chamber.

The prayer was offered by Father Michael J. Ryan, formerly of St. Michael Parish, of Olympia.

Father Michael J. Ryan: "My friends, we read in the Hebrews Scriptures from the Prophet Micah, 'This is all that I ask of you, to do justice, to love tenderly and to walk humbly with your God.' My sisters and brothers, let us pray. Good and gracious God, we gather this day to ask your continual blessings on Governor Christine Gregoire as she passes the baton on to Governor-elect Jay Inslee. As she leaves after eight years of service, may she know our gratitude for the selfless ways in which she has led amidst great and unforeseen obstacles in our economy. She stood tall and continued to work tirelessly for the entire human family of the State of Washington. In her quiet wisdom, gentle care and compassion for the vulnerable, and those who were made to feel they are on the fringe of society, she gave them a sense of inclusion in the one human family. Her concern was for all the precious people of God that she was elected to serve. Bless her for the ways she insisted, from the young to the elders among us, would have opportunities to grow through education and public service. As a tribute to Christine Gregoire may all of us here strive to protect the beautiful creation that surrounds us and it is another sign that you, our God, is generous and gracious. Thanks too, today, to Secretary of State Sam Reed, State Auditor Brian Sonntag and Attorney General Rob McKenna and we conclude now with a blessing for Chris and for First Mike and for their daughters and for their son-in-law Scott and this beautiful granddaughter, and, for those that would like, I invite you extend an arm of blessing as we pray: 'May the Lord bless you and keep you, may the Lord let Gods' face shine upon you and be gracious to you and the Lord look upon you kindly and give you peace.' Amen."

HONORING STATE ELECTED OFFICIALS LEAVING OFFICE

President Owen: “As Washington’s 17th Attorney General, Rob McKenna served as the state’s chief legal officer, directing more than 500 attorneys and 700 professional staff providing legal services to state agencies, the Governor and Legislature. He served two terms, with clear priorities: making communities safer by leading the state in fighting methamphetamine and prescription drug abuse, gang violence, human trafficking, sexual predators and domestic violence; protecting consumers and businesses from identity theft, internet predators, fraud and high-tech crimes, and promoting integrity in government by defending the state’s laws; and implementing new performance management initiatives in his office and encouraging open access to government. Prior to being elected attorney general, Rob was a Metropolitan King County Councilman from 1995-2007. He practiced business and regulatory law at Perkins Coie from 1988-1996, after receiving his J.D. from the prestigious University of Chicago Law School in 1988, where he was a member of the Law Review. He earned a B.A. in Economics and a B.A. in International Studies, both with honors, from the University of Washington. Rob and his wife Marilyn have four beautiful children.”

Attorney General Rob McKenna: “Madam Governor, Mr. President, Mr. Speaker of the House, Members of the House and Senate, I am honored to be here today with so many distinguished and dedicated public servants. I am also honored by the presence here today of a number of outstanding legal professionals from the Washington Attorney General’s Office (AGO) who are with us in the gallery. It has been a tremendous privilege to serve for the past eight years as Attorney General for our great state, and as the leader of the best public law office in America. As all of us do, we in the Attorney General’s Office stand on the shoulders of those who came before us, building on the tradition of excellence in the provision of legal services to this state government, and to the people of Washington State. The 1100 attorneys, professional staff and support staff in our office handle over 20,000 court cases per year, including thousands of cases involving severely abused and neglected children, vulnerable adults, and victims of crime. We represent every agency of state government, from the largest DSHS, L&I, Ecology and Transportation, to the smallest. We provide them with legal counsel every day, and represent them in court thousands of times every year. The Washington AGO is recognized nationally as an outstanding law office, thanks to the tireless efforts of our staff. Over the past eight years, for example, we have won over 90 percent of our appellate cases, including all seven of the cases we have argued in the United States Supreme Court. We also represent the people of the State of Washington more directly in our role as the state’s Consumer Protection agency and anti-trust enforcement agency. In my two terms alone, we have successfully handled over 200,000 consumer complaints, brought enforcement actions against hundreds of companies that have unfairly and deceptively treated their customers, and gone after scammers of all descriptions from across the country. Thanks to this Legislature’s adoption of laws we have proposed, we have deployed new legal tools against 21st Century forms of fraud, going after spyware and malware purveyors, tackling identity theft, and teaching other state attorneys general offices how to do the same. We also have taken very seriously our role in protecting the public’s safety. We have successfully sought and obtained the legal commitment of sexually violent predators, including some of the most notorious in our state’s recent history. We have prosecuted dozens of violent felonies, stepping in where our county prosecutors have needed the state’s help, and we have assisted in solving many other new and cold-case crimes through our Homicide Investigations Tracking Unit. When four Lakewood police officers were brutally gunned down just after Thanksgiving a few years ago, our senior criminal investigator was on the scene that same morning, bringing to bear the resources of the ‘HITS’ Unit. When a state trooper was the victim of an attempted murder in Grays Harbor County, our Chief Deputy was in the local prosecutor’s office within 24 hours, and our office prosecuted the shooter to conviction in what proved to be a very challenging case. We also have sought to protect consumers, to enhance the public’s safety, and to support our law enforcement community, by offering our office’s ideas for strengthening our state’s laws in all these areas. Thanks to members of the legislature from both parties, and to Governor Gregoire, we have seen 45 bills written in the Attorney General’s Office become law, giving hope to survivors of domestic violence, providing new tools to consumers to avoid identity theft, and protecting children from the scourge of methamphetamine and from predators, among other measures we’ve proposed. In these and in many other ways as well, all of us in the Attorney General’s Office have sought to accomplish what all of you seek to accomplish every day when you come to work as leaders and public servants: To make a difference, to improve the lives of our fellow citizens, to leave this wonderful Evergreen State a little better than how we found it. I would like to thank all of you with whom I have been privileged to serve these past eight years, and especially the women and men of the Attorney General’s Office. It has been an extraordinary journey. Thank you all very, very much”.

On behalf of the people of the State of Washington and the Legislature, the President presented Attorney General Rob McKenna with a gift in gratitude for and recognition of his public service. The artwork, a rendering of the state capitol in glass, was created by local artist and former legislative and state employee Ms. Kim Merriman of Olympia, who was introduced and present in the gallery.

The President: “Next we have the opportunity to bid a fond farewell today to one of our state’s longest-standing elected officials, State Auditor Brian Sonntag. Mr. Sonntag was first elected to public office way back in 1978 as Pierce County Clerk, working as the administrative officer for the Superior Courts. He was elected to the office of Pierce County Auditor in 1986, an office his father, Jack W. Sonntag, had held for 21 years, from 1948 to 1969. Mr. Sonntag was elected Washington State Auditor on November 3, 1992. He has been re-elected every four years since then, most recently in 2008 with seventy percent of the vote. He has served our state with distinction and honor. We now turn Mr. Sonntag out to his private life, where he can have more time with his wife, Jann, their five sons and three grandchildren.”

State Auditor Brian Sonntag: “I often thought this would be a pretty good fit. I could get used to this. You know, I don’t get nervous talking to groups of people, or I haven’t until today. This is, this is a little daunting for me. ... No, this isn’t it. ... I, I’d feel better if you just come up here. I first wanted to introduce my wife Jann. I also would like to introduce my sister-in-law Alison Sonntag, who without her husband ... oh boy, stop ... my brother, Dick, I would have never even thought of embarking on a political career, so... My youngest son Michael is here today as is my daughter-in-law Dee who is married to my number two son, Joey, and my granddaughter, Jade. You know, our state’s founders were a bunch of populists who didn’t really like or trust government very much. They had some pretty good reasons too, at that time. They created a very independent check and balance on state and local government operations. They called it the Office of State Auditor and put it right smack in the Constitution. For this office, the only issue is accountability. It’s holding governments accountable to the people whom they work for. I define that as government being open, accessible, responsive and responsible, a government that listens to people and when it talks to them, tells them the truth. I think citizens certainly expect that and deserve nothing less from all of us. President Kennedy called public service, 'a noble profession and a high calling.' I have believed that my entire life. Like Governor Gregoire and like probably many of you here today, President Kennedy was a huge influence on me getting interested in public service at all. I was in the sixth grade when he came and spoke in Tacoma at Cheney Stadium. The ballpark was filled with students, high school and college students mostly. It was two months before he was killed but I got to go to the ballpark that day with my dad and listen to the President speak. He talked about the future. He talked about government not being a spectator sport. He talked about giving back and that has always meant so much to me. Those of us who the voters have hired are the holders of a trust, a fragile trust. We have an opportunity to serve the public. That opportunity comes with a responsibility, a responsibility, every day, to make a difference. I believe after 20 years as State Auditor, we have made a difference. We raised the visibility of this office so citizens could independently assess the stewardship of their government officials. We advocated for state employee whistleblowers and supported all state employees who are trying to make state government work better. We truly listened to citizens and helped connect them with their government. I'm proud that Governing Magazine credited us with what they described as a 'one-of-a-kind effort to bring citizens in the decision-making fold.' Not everyone thought that was such a swell idea but I'm glad we did. Open government is a deeply held value of mine and it must be for all of us in public office. Citizens must have clear and direct access to government meetings, actions and information. It's the foundation of our state government and government at all levels. When government's doors are open and elected officials remember who they work for citizens' trust and confidence in government will increase. I'm proud of the work of our office the financial compliance and performance audits we have done and also some of the broader issues we've looked at and reported on. Issues like underfunded liabilities, the state's financial systems, local governments at risk of financial sustainability and resizing state government's footprint. We've been able to do the work we do because of the talents and commitment of the employees in the State Auditor's Office, many of whom are here today and I'd like to recognize them and be recognized. I thank you so much. I'm so very blessed and thankful for the opportunity to serve the citizens of Washington, to have served with colleagues like these and others over the years and to have worked with some very wonderful people. Good luck to all of you and thanks for your service to our state".

SECOND DAY, JANUARY 15, 2013

On behalf of the people of the State of Washington and the Legislature, the President presented State Auditor Brian Sonntag with a gift of artwork created by Ms. Kim Merriman in gratitude for and recognition of his public service.

The President: "And last but not least, we thank Sam Summer Reed for his public service. Sam became Washington's 14th Secretary of State in 2000, and he certainly made his mark in elections history. Sam and Rob McKenna took the people's case for a wide open, Top-Two Primary to the United States Supreme Court, and won. Sam also is widely recognized for sweeping improvements to the voting process following Washington's contested 2004 gubernatorial race, the closest in U.S. history. Throughout Secretary Reed's past two terms in office, the Secretary has worked diligently to make Washington a more business-friendly state by allowing corporations to file electronically. Also in 2004, he launched the nation's first state government digital archives to rescue disappearing electronic history. Prior to his service as Secretary of State, Reed was elected Thurston County Auditor five times and served as the Assistant Secretary of State. Governor Dan Evans appointed Mr. Reed Director of the Urban Affairs Commission and the Constitutional Reform Commission. Sam, whose family lived in Washington in territorial days, grew up in Wenatchee and later moved to Spokane. He attended Washington State University where he earned a Bachelor's Degree in Social Studies and Master's Degree in Political Science. Secretary of State Sam Reed and his wife Margie make their home in Olympia and are looking forward to spending more time traveling and working on their backhand in tennis. They have two adult children, David and Kristen, and two grandchildren."

Sam Reed: "Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, Governor Gregoire, distinguished statewide elected officials, Chief Justice Madsen and members of the Supreme Court, legislators, family and friends, people of Washington and those watching us on TVW: I thank you and I bid you a fond farewell today. Unlike the Governor, I don't have a darling little granddaughter to show but I do have an ugly old valise. [Reading from the inside flap:] 'January 13, 1910, Sam Sumner,' My grandfather was sworn into the Washington State House of Representatives. This valise he bought to serve in the Washington State Legislature and gave this to me as a boy. It means a lot to me because he was the man who inspired me to public service. He really believed it was the highest calling. Our Sunday dinners in Wenatchee, I remember as a boy, he would give us a history lesson and a civics lesson. You know, for a little kid, you'd think this would be awfully boring but it wasn't. He really inspired us and inspired me, really, to public service. It has been an amazing ride for Margie and me – 45 years of public service for the State of Washington and for Thurston County and actually, another five years of public work, three in education and a couple others and 35 years as an elected official in county and state government! Nearly a lifetime ago, it seems, we came to Olympia from the apple orchards and from the Palouse of Eastern Washington to first teach and then to serve in government. We stayed to raise our family here and to heed the call of service. On even our hardest days, we never regretted that decision. My heart is full today as this Wenatchee boy reflects on the opportunity to be of service and to work with many of you in this room to make Washington a better, more responsive and just government worthy of her people. Whenever we saw a problem to fix or an opportunity to grasp, we went to work. In our better moments, all of us worked collaboratively across the aisle, with common purpose and with civility. Together, we saved the Washington State Library, the oldest cultural institution in Washington going back to 1853 and it has a unique collection in the world of Washington State and Territorial history. Together, we created the nation's first ground-up Digital Archives which now has three hundred million documents that are available to the public. Together, we handled the closest governor's race in America – do you remember that? Anyway, I sure remember that. The Court remembers that. Remember? First the Democrats sued me one week, then, the next week, the Republicans sued me and they had to hear both of them real fast. Afterwards, we had this challenge and a challenge, really, for all of you who were here back in 2005, because we had to rebuild public confidence after that. We ended up proposing extensive election reform and with your help, not only did we get it passed but, frankly, now we're the envy of the nation in terms of our election system in this state. Together also, we ramped up service to our job-creating corporations. We honored our history which means so much to me and so much, I have found, to most of you serving for Washington State. We had displays including women in government and the Suffrage Centennial in my office. We continue to look forward to the day when we have the Heritage Center which is a building for the Washington State Library, Washington State Archives right here on campus that welcomes and educates our visitors and provides a proper home for all our the public records and all our Library services and documents. Obviously, that was a shameless plug. Kim Wyman will carry it forward. I do want to thank my staff and there are a number of them up in the gallery. Would you please stand? I have really been blessed. I and many of you comment on this but I have been really been fortunate. I have such high-quality, bright, capable, articulate people who have worked with me. It's been one of the great joys of serving. I also want to thank my fellow statewides. We've had a good time, we've worked together so collaboratively and, really, it's just been, I think, one of the, again, things I've truly enjoyed about serving. I want to thank the legislators in both houses and both sides of the aisle. It would have been easy, particularly when we got on these election reform measures, to start getting partisan and, you know, going after one another but, instead, you worked together and most of those measures we managed to pass almost unanimously and that in itself was quite an accomplishment. I would also thank my family and friends for the support that made public service possible and enjoyable all these years. I brought my grandfather's briefcase along today as a poignant reminder of how we and our families influence each other. Sam Sumner, for whom I am named, was sworn in 100 years ago and his legacy later lived on in our community and in me personally. Politics is, and should be, a noble calling. I believe that. Although I am leaving public life, I am not leaving public service. I expect to be deeply engaged in volunteer working, mentoring and working as a private citizen on my signature issues of civility, bipartisanship and moderation. I feel confident we can look forward to bright and creative days ahead. I wish you well in your new session. House, Senate and new statewide elected officials: I know you are up to the task and the challenges that await you and I will be supporting from the sideline. Thank you so much. I have enjoyed serving. Thank you."

On behalf of the people of the State of Washington and the Legislature, the President presented Secretary of State Sam Reed with a gift of artwork created by Ms. Kim Merriman in gratitude for and recognition of his public service.

The President introduced Governor Christine Gregoire.

STATE OF THE STATE

Governor Christine Gregoire: "What a warm greeting. Thank you everyone. Before I begin, join me in remembering two distinguished legislators no longer with us. Senator Sid Snyder of Long Beach was an institution, a great and effective leader. He taught us how to listen, how to come together and how to get things done for the people of Washington. We will always remember Senator Sid Snyder. Senator Lorraine Wojahn of Tacoma was a woman who laid a path for all women to follow. She listened to the voiceless among us and she helped them: our children, the poor, the mentally ill, the disabled. We will always thank her for her service to our state. Let us remember Eva Santos, our Director of Human Resources. She brought so much to a life of public service: skill, compassion and integrity. We will miss Eva Santos. Let us also remember and honor Washington State Patrol Trooper Tony Radulescu. Last February, on a dark, rural road, Tony gave his life protecting all of us. We will never forget Tony's sacrifice on behalf of the people of the State of Washington. And this morning, let us remember the brave military men and women who gave their lives in service to our nation in the past year. We owe them and their families a debt of gratitude for their sacrifice that can never be repaid. I ask you to pause with me for a moment of silence and remembering all of these who have lost their lives but will forever be remembered."

The Joint Session observed a moment of silence in remembrance.

Governor Christine Gregoire: "Thank you. Good morning. Thank you, Father Mike, for starting us off with such an inspiring prayer. And thank you to the talented young singers from the Auburn High School Chamber Quartet: Linda Karout, Morgan Warren, Marcosantonio Garcia and Ethan Hinze. That was a beautiful rendition of our national anthem! You made Auburn High School proud and made this alum of Auburn High School proud. Thank you guys very much. Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Madame Chief Justice and distinguished justices of the court, honored officials, members of the Washington State Legislature, former governors, tribal leaders, local government officials, members of the Consular Association of Washington, my fellow citizens: Please, again, join me – and I want to take a moment, if I can, to give a big thanks to three wonderful public servants who I've had the privilege to serve with: Secretary of State Sam Reed, Attorney General Rob McKenna and State Auditor Brian Sonntag. Gentlemen, it has been a privilege to serve the people of this great state with you. Thank you for your years of dedicated service and congratulations. Let me introduce my family: my husband, Mike. How about a round of applause for Mike's eight years of volunteer work to better the lives of our military service men and women and our veterans? Who's the fellow in the gray suit? Why, that's former Gov. Mike Lowry, watching from the gallery. Also, my daughter, Michelle, a third-year law student at the University of Washington; our daughter, Courtney, and son-in-law, Scott Lindsay. And of course, the most important thing in my life right now, my two-month-old grandbaby, Audrey Christine Lindsay. It's true. We've already opened her GET account. We're a family of lawyers. We've found the perfect way to lull her to sleep. Turns out reading the Revised Code of Washington to babies does wonders in putting both parent and child to bed. As one chapter of our lives ends, another begins with the arrival of Audrey Christine. And let me tell you, there's nothing like changing diapers again to bring perspective to life. Being a grandmother is a great gift. To fall in love again and to remember what really matters. You know, the Executive Mansion was our home for eight years, and when I could, I slipped out the door and down the steps for a walk around our beautiful Capitol Campus. That was one time of my day that I could reflect. So today my last full day as Governor I invite you to come with me on my last walk to reflect on the state of the State of Washington what we accomplished this past eight years, and what we still must do to keep the state of our state strong. This particular morning, I see a woman in Beijing or Hyderabad, or Paris or Seoul. She works on a laptop that runs on Microsoft software. She sips a cup of Starbucks coffee. Her laptop ordered from Amazon was delivered to an airport via a Boeing 747. It was hauled to a warehouse on a Kenworth 18-wheeler built by our own Paccar. This woman happens to be a bio scientist. She's working with hundreds of others on a global health project maybe a malaria vaccine led by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation and PATH [Program for Appropriate Technology in Health] and our two great research universities, the University of Washington and Washington State University. Or maybe she just started a small life sciences company and is working with another start-up down in Vancouver on gene therapy for a rare disease. She also happens to be a healthy, discerning consumer, and in her bag is an apple, or bag of cherries, or bread made from Washington wheat or a bottle of fine wine for after work, all shipped through our ports from the orchards and the fields of Eastern Washington, the refrigerator of the world. On our walk this morning, I want to pause and say to you: Ladies and gentlemen, there is no other state in the nation, not one that has what the Great State of Washington has. There is no other state with our diversity of riches, our great outdoors and the promise they bring to our children and grandchildren. We are indeed very fortunate. A booming aerospace industry. Boeing just keeps winning orders for the 787, 737-MAX, the 737 and the 777. We landed the Air Force tanker contract and now let's make sure we do the same for the 777X! I'm counting on you guys to make sure that happens. Today we have the strongest, most integrated aerospace supply chain on earth with 50 percent more suppliers in the past eight years, 740 and rising. The aerospace sector puts 128,000 Washingtonians to work every day. But we won't rest on our laurels. Washington will always be the home to aerospace and the good-paying jobs that those companies bring. Along with aerospace, we have a software and IT presence that begins with Microsoft, Amazon, RealNetworks and T-Mobile, but in no way ends there. We are home to more than 4,000 companies all across Washington. The fact is, our software and IT sector encompasses a broader range of products and services than just about any state in the United States, and brings more than $30 billion in business a year. Along with software and IT, a life sciences sector that took off in Seattle but now stretches to the Tri-Cities, Spokane, Snohomish County and Vancouver. About 70 Washington cities are home to 480 life sciences companies and research organizations, including biotech, pharma and medical devices. All relieve suffering here and around the world, and today they provide nearly 35,000 good-paying Washington jobs. Along with life sciences, a global health presence powered by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, PATH, our research universities and nonprofits. Thank you for establishing the Life Sciences Discovery Fund. It has proven to be an essential tool in growing the industry, and I ask you to continue to support it. Along with global health: agriculture. Apples, potatoes, wheat, wine and dozens of other products are shipped all over the world, making agriculture our second-largest export after transportation equipment. This $46 billion industry exported $8.6 billion in products in the past 12 months. Ladies and gentlemen, that's a record! I've handed out cherries in South Korea, french fries in Vietnam and Almond Roca in Beijing. I've enjoyed being Promoter-in-Chief but I have to admit I won't miss being called the French Fry Lady! And along with all this, we have the Hanford Nuclear Reservation, the one-of-its-kind incubator not just for cleanup technology for the world, but for breakthroughs in everything from cancer treatment to an energy-saving electricity grid to scientists and engineers who are following the innovation of their Hanford forbearers and inventing first-time technology, this time to be used to clean up not just the Hanford site, but sites from England to Russia to Japan. It's very clear. No other state has what we have. So this morning, part way through our walk, I'm ready to report. The state of Washington is coming out of the Great Recession as a world leader in the economies of the 21st century industries that provide good jobs from Spokane to Seattle and from Bellingham to Vancouver. And despite the challenges ahead, I can say today that the state of our state is strong! We can say with confidence that in the past eight years, we have built the future of the Great State of Washington a future of promise and opportunity. On our walk, we now can see the magnificent Capitol dome in the distance and the marble building where you and I have worked together for the past eight years. I think everybody in this Chamber will agree: History will reflect that this was not just any eight years. You were not just any Legislature. And these were not just any times. You and I witnessed a historic economic crisis and with it, wrenching change in our economy and in our social fabric. But we didn't just witness it. We were called to confront it every day. And we did. Together, we served in good times and bad. And whatever the challenge, we took it on for the people of Washington State. Our biggest challenge started in 2008 when trouble hit trouble not seen since the Great Depression with revenue plunging quarter after quarter after quarter as if there were no bottom. In fact, revenue fell almost every quarter 13 of 16 until it finally stabilized last February. That was the longest string of revenue drops since the Economic and Revenue Forecast Council was created 28 years ago. You were tested. I was tested. This was not what I expected. It wasn't what anybody expected. But we stepped up. And together, we guided the state of Washington through the worst economic calamity since the Great Depression and we did it with our heads and our hearts. We did it with compassion. And we did it with our Washington values. So today, I thank you. You have much to do in the months ahead, but let's pause this morning and be grateful to each other for all we've accomplished together to build the future of Washington state. When I came into office in 2005, we were at the tail end of a recession. We were on the road to recovery from the impact of Initiative 695, the dot-com bust and 9-11. There was pent-up need for services, education, health care, our social safety net, the environment, transportation. Money is never unlimited. Even then, we had to make hard choices. Everybody was banging at the door. From the start, we said that just getting by isn't good enough. We wanted to do better for the people of our state. And we made the best decisions to build the future of Washington. The best decisions for our schoolchildren and our college students. I'm proud that in my first term, we invested more in education than at any other time in our history. We created the Department of Early Learning. The impact we make on our children will benefit our state for generations to come. Harvard has named our early learning program as the most innovative in the country. And we are one of just nine states to receive an Early Learning Race to the Top $60 million grant. We made the best decisions for our K-12 system, and despite the challenges we still face, our public schools are serving our kids in ways that this century demands if they are to succeed in the world economy. We put more money and muscle into science, technology, engineering and math, or STEM, so our children are ready for the jobs of the future. We are implementing a model evaluation system so our teachers can excel and win the confidence of parents. We have innovative schools with targeted, creative approaches to learning. We have Launch Year to prepare seniors for jobs or college. We have College Bound scholarships to give kids who do well in school and stay out of trouble a path to college. Let's build more schools and fewer prisons! We made the best decisions for our two- and four-year colleges to keep the doors open to more students and more opportunity. We increased enrollment in our community and technical colleges by 31,000 students and launched online learning. Today, we are building the workforce of tomorrow: Twenty-four of our colleges provide training for aerospace jobs. We provided branch campuses to serve more Washingtonians, and today the UW has campuses in Tacoma and Bothell. WSU has campuses in Vancouver, the Tri-Cities and Spokane, and offers four-year degrees at Everett Community College. We expanded enrollment at our universities, and today we are educating 12,000 more students a year. The bottom line: 50,000 more students are getting a college education because we believe in them and our future. We significantly increased financial aid for all our college students even in tough times. We created the Student Achievement Council to focus on our students' success from high school to higher education. We created a public-private partnership the Opportunity Scholarship so smart young people can afford a college education. The Great Recession has severely tested our higher education system. We had tuition increases because we had to. We had no choice. We had to maintain our values, quality and access. And we did. Now the challenge is clear. Our future is at stake. We must fully fund a seamless education system from early learning through higher education. We made the best decisions for transportation. In 2005, we passed a historic construction package, and voters ratified it because we made our case. And we have delivered on our promise. From the 2005 voter-endorsed gas tax we are close to completing all 421 statewide projects. Eighty-eight percent have been completed early or on time, and 91 percent are on or under budget. Those projects provided thousands of good-paying jobs at a time we needed them most. And importantly, those projects move millions of people every single day. They move moms and dads to work, their kids to school and soccer practice, and products to and from our thriving ports. We are building a world-class infrastructure. In 2015, we will open the two-mile-long tunnel under the heart of Seattle to replace the crumbling, dangerous Alaskan Way Viaduct and give Seattle a world-class waterfront. I'll be at the ribbon cutting with my granddaughter! We are building the new 520 Bridge across Lake Washington to replace the 50-year-old structure that could fall in the next bad windstorm. I'll be at that ribbon cutting too maybe with two grandchildren! Today, that part of our future that relies on passage over Snoqualmie Pass is faster and safer for freight and motorists. We have built half of Spokane's critical North-South Freeway. And we are on our way to building the new Columbia River Crossing to replace the current one built for horse and buggy. Ladies and gentlemen, within the past eight years, we undertook the largest transportation construction package in state history: more than $16 billion. And we – not the next big earthquake or windstorm – are knocking down the old Viaduct, the 520 Bridge and the Columbia River Crossing Bridge and building for our future. We made difficult decisions for our social safety net and health care. We were tested, but I believe we maintained the health and safety of our most vulnerable our seniors, our mentally ill, our developmentally disabled, and our abused and neglected children. We made sure every child in Washington has access to health care, certainly one of our proudest accomplishments. We have built one of the best long-term care systems in the nation, a system of choices for our seniors to live out their lives in dignity. AARP [Association of American Retired Persons] rates our system the second-best in the country. We just became the second state in the nation to assure better, safer health care for our poorest seniors and disabled. We will merge and manage their care under Medicare and Medicaid for better-quality care at a lower cost. In 2005, we set out to cut costs, increase access and provide higher-quality health care. We did, we are, and we lead the nation. While the vast majority of other states are struggling with rising Medicaid-inflation costs, our growth rate is projected to be minus one percent. You heard me right: minus one percent. We are employing evidence-based medicine to ensure better health outcomes for Washingtonians. And because we were already reforming health care, we are among the first states in the nation to implement the Affordable Care Act! This morning I ask you to embrace this historic opportunity to give every Washingtonian the health care coverage they deserve and you will save $140 million in the next biennium. Every Washingtonian deserves an open door to the doctor when they need one! We made the best decisions for public safety. Washingtonians have a right to be safe in their homes and on the streets. We took action in good times and bad, and the crime rate has fallen every year since I took office. Every jurisdiction now has the resources to verify that sex offenders are living where they say they are. We closed three prisons to make better use of space, and did it without letting the serious offenders walk free. We strengthened community supervision and now we concentrate on the offenders who are high risk to reoffend. And I'm proud to say the Washington State Patrol is ranked the best state law enforcement agency in the country. We made the best decisions for our economy. One in three jobs in our state depends on international trade. We sold, traded and created innovative partnerships through 12 trade missions. This fall, we became the first state to establish a sister-state relationship with an Indian state, Andhra Pradesh. China is now our number one trading partner, with Canada, Japan and Korea close behind. Trade with China alone has grown at an average rate of nearly 20 percent a year since 2000, even during the global downturn. In the past eight years, we have recruited and retained shippers at our ports, most recently Hanjin, Korea's largest container line, at the Port of Seattle. Our export of goods has grown 119 percent, from about $30 billion to $65 billion. Export of services is up by an additional $29 million. Make no mistake. Our trade economy kept us going through the hard times and it is our future. It unites Eastern and Western Washington, impacts every community and provides the jobs we need. We are the most trade-dependent state in the nation, and the fact is our work knows no boundaries. Like never before, we trade with the world! We made the best decisions for clean, renewable energy now and in the future. Our base is legacy hydropower. When I took office, we produced no wind power. Today we are among the top-five wind energy producers. We are pioneering the smart grid and have a strong presence in the solar power supply chain. Clean, renewable energy has been our unique history for 80 years. Today, we are number one in the nation in renewable energy. We made the best decisions for water. I believe a new era is finally here, when bitter wars over water are finally surrendering to partnerships that bring good, clean and new water to our farms, our fish and our growing cities. We've made the most progress with water in our history: more water to the Yakima Basin and our growing west side cities, innovative tools through water markets and banking to create flexibility, and protection for our fish-critical basins. Mark Twain said, 'Whiskey's for drinking and water's for fighting.' Well, no longer will our water policy be defined by who won and who lost. It's high time that we all win and we will! We made the best decisions for broadband. Today, 99 percent of Washingtonians have access to high-speed internet. We had a plan when the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act was looking to invest in broadband. Today we've been named the most-wired state in the nation. We made the best decisions to save the jewel and economic engine of Western Washington, our Puget Sound. We created a partnership among local, state and federal governments, tribes and stakeholders to get it done. We must meet our goal to make Puget Sound fishable, swimmable and diggable by 2020. Let's be the generation that saves Puget Sound! We made the best decisions to support our brave military men and women and veterans. In fact, you passed, and I signed, more legislation to help veterans than at any other time in our history! We are a step ahead in our efforts to make sure we keep Washington's second-largest employer, our United States military. I urge you to support our Washington Military Alliance and fund our proposal to maintain our military presence that adds $13 billion a year to our economy. We made the best decisions to reset and reform state government. Our challenges in the past eight years were unprecedented. We said we would not waste this crisis, and we did not. Together, we achieved landmark pension and debt service reforms that will lead to billions of dollars in future savings. Ladies and gentlemen, we are the envy of states around the country. Our public pension system is now rated one of the strongest in the nation. We helped employees and employers weather the recession. Together, we reformed our workers' compensation and unemployment insurance systems. We saved our businesses including small businesses billions of dollars in the years to come. We held workers' comp[ensation] rates flat again this year. And over the past eight years, we had little or no increases in workers' comp premiums. In two of those years, the Department of Labor and Industries returned $350 million. At the same time, we reformed the way we serve injured workers, and we're getting them back on the job faster or trained for new careers. While 36 states' funds are bankrupt, we have the most stable unemployment insurance (UI) trust fund in the nation and record-low UI rates. Together, we ripped out the walls and pulled up the floors to remodel our 123-year-old house of government. We consolidated and merged all or part of five agencies' back-office operations under one director at the new Department of Enterprise Services. This has already saved taxpayers $18 million and is expected to save another $27 million in the next biennium. We closed six institutions. The last time even one was closed was four decades ago. Since 2008, our general government workforce has shrunk by nearly 11 percent. The number of state employees is the lowest since 1996, and they serve 1 million more people. Our public servants have met the challenge and they have sacrificed with furloughs and pay cuts, with higher health care premiums and pension payments. They helped make my favorite four-letter word GMAP, for Government Management Accountability and Performance, successful. Now they're doing Lean management to serve Washingtonians in better and more efficient ways. Today let's recognize the caseworker called out at midnight to save a battered child, the snowplow driver clearing Snoqualmie Pass at 3 a.m., the agriculture inspector making sure our food is safe, the legislative lawyer who works through the night to get the bills just right, the person at the front desk whose phone is lit up all day long. Today I ask you to stand and join me in well-deserved recognition for our dedicated state employees! Finally, we made the best decision for our gay and lesbian citizens, and the people of Washington agreed. We clearly saw that separate but equal is not equal. We gave all couples the right to marry and to help us build a better Washington and a better world. I'm proud that our gay and lesbian couples became the first in the country to marry because their friends and neighbors stood up at the ballot box and said they should have that right. I'm proud that our citizens passed marriage equality by the widest margin of any state. And I'm proud of my daughters for showing the way and helping me realize that their generation understands that who you are is not about who you love. Thank you. So thanks for taking this walk with me today. It's my last one, and I appreciate your company. Tomorrow at noon, I will be the former Governor of the Great State of Washington. And you will be writing new history with Governor Jay Inslee. I know this won't surprise you but before I go, I have two recommendations for you about the future of the Great State of Washington. First, this Legislature must give our children what we were given: good schools, good teachers and the chance to be part of the world economy. We cannot falter. Education is the heart of everything we do and it is our future. Second, if education is the heart of our economic future, transportation is the backbone. Our state will remain strong only if our roads, highways, bridges and ferries are effectively getting our people to work and our goods to market. Remember our competition. China isn't waiting. India isn't waiting. Korea isn't waiting. We can't wait either. The decision of the Supreme Court in McCleary told us we are failing in our paramount duty. Our moral and legal responsibility is to give every child in Washington the chance for a good basic education, the same one you and I got. There is no free lunch. We cannot cut our way out of this. We cannot save our way out of this. To meet the McCleary ruling, we will need at least a $1 billion down payment in the next biennium and $3.4 billion by 2018. Today is the day. Now is the time. We must invest in our children and their future! We must also have the transportation infrastructure for our economic corridors to get employees to work and goods to market if we want to remain a vibrant economic competitor in the years to come. These projects and more demand funding: The Columbia River Crossing; Spokane's North-South Freeway. Snoqualmie Pass; State Route 167 between Tacoma and Puyallup; the 40-mile I-405 corridor; a new 144-car ferry; and I-5 at Joint Base Lewis-McChord. Freight-dependent businesses account for nearly 45 percent of our jobs. Companies move nearly $40 million worth of freight on our roads every single hour. We must maintain our very valuable transportation system, from highways and bridges to ferries and city streets. If we step up to our commitment to build a new Columbia River Crossing with Oregon this year, the federal government will too. I urge you to invest the $450 million to make certain that this critical West Coast economic corridor moves forward. Now is the time to build the future of Washington! In the end, these two challenges are only that challenges. You've met tougher ones in the past eight years, and you delivered for the people of Washington. I know you will deliver again. You will do what you always do. You will keep the state of our state strong! Finally, today, in my last appearance as governor I still feel the need to pinch myself a little to make sure the past eight years weren't just a dream. My mother was a short-order cook at the Rainbow Café in Auburn for so many years, a single mom who worked so hard and kept a watchful eye on her daughter, Chris O'Grady, sitting on a stool in the kitchen doing her homework. I always believed what my mom said. 'You can make it in America if you work hard enough. If you respect yourself and serve those around you. If you keep the faith and don't give up.' That's what I did. I was just a Washington girl who loved to play basketball, pick blueberries, ride horses in the summer. I was just a young Washington woman who became the first in her family to graduate from college. I was just a Washington woman who got that gift of education, who admired John F. Kennedy and who chose a career of public service as a clerk typist, a caseworker, an Assistant Attorney General, a Director of Ecology, an Attorney General and then the ultimate privilege: to serve as Governor of the state I love, the Great State of Washington. And on my last full day as Governor, I can speak from experience and say we still live in the greatest state in the nation and the greatest country in the world. Thank you to the people of Washington, for the pleasure of serving you. And thank you, ladies and gentlemen of the Legislature, for hearing me one last time. I appreciate it. I will miss governing and I will miss all of you. Please accept my deepest thanks for your public service. Farewell, God bless you and God bless the great State of Washington."

President Owen: "Thank you Governor for you very, very profound remarks. I can see why you are such an excellent politician, emphasized by a couple of our colleagues. For instance, Auditor Sonntag pulls out a grocery list during his remarks, as a prop. Okay. Sam Reed? A used up old briefcase. The Governor? A two-month old baby. Nice going. Governor you have been proven to be a very skilled mediator, a tough negotiator, and extremely effective leader in the toughest of times. We thank you very much and wish you all the best. Personally, I would like to thank you for your tremendous accessibility, your guidance and your friendship over the years that we've had. Thank you very much. We would also like to present you with a little remembrance of your time serving the great State of Washington.”

On behalf of the people of the State of Washington and the Legislature, the President presented Governor Christine Gregoire with a gift of artwork created by Ms. Kim Merriman in gratitude for and recognition of her public service.

The President called upon the committee of honor to escort Governor Gregoire and the Gregoire family from the House Chamber.

The President called upon the committee of honor to escort the statewide elected officials from the House Chamber.

The President called upon the committee of honor to escort the Chief Justice and the Justices of the Supreme Court from the House Chamber.

On motion of Representative Sullivan, the Joint Session was dissolved. The Speaker (Representative Moeller presiding) assumed the chair.

The Speaker (Representative Moeller presiding) called upon the Sergeant at Arms of the House and the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate to escort President of the Senate Brad Owen, President Pro Tempore Tim Sheldon, Senator Ed Murray and Senator Mark Schoesler and the Senate from the House Chamber.

The Senate was called to order at 12:22 p.m. by President Owen.

At 12:23 p.m., on motion of Senator Fain, the Senate adjourned until 10 :00 a.m., Wednesday, January 16, 2013.

The Sergeant at Arms of the House announced the arrival of His Excellency Governor Jay Inslee at the Chamber doors. The committee of honor escorted Governor Inslee to the rostrum and he was introduced.

The flags were escorted to the rostrum by the Washington State Patrol Honor Guard, commanded by Trooper Pete Stock. The President led the Joint Session in the Pledge of Allegiance. The National Anthem was performed by Miss Lena Hou, a fourth grade student from Sierra Heights Elementary School in Renton. The Washington State Patrol Honor Guard retired from the Chamber.

The prayer was offered by Reverend Dr. Dee Eisenhauer, Eagle Harbor Congregational Church of Bainbridge Island.

Reverend Eisenhauer: “Holy One, whom we call by many names, out of our separate paths we have converged in this place on this day of new beginnings. Call us out of our separateness, out of our parties and caucuses, out of our interest groups and districts. Help us, for this moment, to transcend all that divides us. Give us in these moments of prayer a spirit of true unity as we attune our souls to a Higher Power. God of Grace, we ... Amen.”

OATHS OF OFFICE

Governor Jay Inslee: “ ”

GOVERNOR’S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Governor Inslee: “Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Madam Chief Justice, distinguished Justices of the court, my fellow statewide elected officials, members of the Washington State Legislature, members of our armed forces and National Guard, members of the Consular Corps, Governor Mike Lowry and Governor Christine Gregoire and all of my fellow Washingtonians: This we know: Our world is changing faster and more dramatically than ever before. Once-in-a-lifetime events now seem to happen with startling regularity. We’ve seen the greatest financial crisis since the Great Depression, natural disasters fueled by climate change and unimaginable human tragedies, like Sandy Hook Elementary. But we also bear witness to rapid breakthroughs in technology, medicine and the fundamental understanding of our universe. Every day I am left in awe at how much we are able to achieve and heartbroken over the tragedies that we have had to endure. We truly live in extraordinary times. We also live in an extraordinary state, filled with extraordinary people. Where the world sees uncertainty, we Washingtonians see opportunity. And we all feel a profound responsibility to our children and our grandchildren. We have a spirit of innovation here in Washington that has changed the world, from aerospace to software to e-commerce. And you know what? We are not done. A new world economy is emerging from the depths of this recession. While its contours and relationships are not fully understood to us, understood to us, we do know two things: First: With our uniquely powerful fusion of values and talents, Washington state has the potential to lead the next wave of world changing innovations. Second: The world will not wait for us. We face fierce and immediate global competition for the jobs of tomorrow. Leading this next wave of growth is our opportunity, not our entitlement. We must move, swiftly and boldly, to put this recession behind us and bring forward a unique economic strategy that brings the best of Washington state to the world. As Franklin Delano Roosevelt said, ‘Never before have we had so little time in which to do so much.’ Today, I’d like to share my vision of our path ahead. I know that to achieve this vision we’ve all got to work together. Democrat and Republican, House and Senate, East and West, to answer the challenges of our age. I have represented both sides of our state, first as a state representative from Yakima Valley, then in Congress representing both Eastern and Western Washington. I want to thank the people of Washington for electing me to be your governor. I am truly humbled to represent all of Washington, and to deliver the change in Olympia all the people asked for me last November. Now I would like to do something very difficult to do as a University of Washington Husky, and that is to honor a Washington State Cougar. I would like to introduce all of you to my wife of 40 years, Trudi Inslee, a great Washington State Cougar. We met at Ingraham High School in 1966 and any who doubt the power of public education, it can create great marriages, I can tell you that. We raised our family in a century-old farmhouse in the Yakima Valley. I’d also like you to meet my three boys and their families: Connor; Joe; Jack and his wife, Megan; our grandson, Brody; and the newest Inslee, Zoe Ann. Hey Brody. This is a very special day for my family, all of our electeds’ families. And this is a very special time for many other families in our state for this reason. People all across Washington stood up for fairness and family in approving marriage equality last November. We should all be proud. The vote on Referendum 74 represents the best of who we are as a state. It should be an inspiration for the progress we can make always towards equality, always towards fairness, always towards justice all across of Washington. It has been an amazing journey for me and Trudi over the past year and a half, as we’ve traveled to all corners of the state. I am a fifth generation son of the state of Washington. I’m proud to have roots in this state that are as wide as they are deep. My family came to this state as fishermen and gold mining engineers. My grandmother raised four boys as a single mother working at Bartell’s drugstore. My uncles and cousins built the best airplanes in the world at Boeing, my dad was a biology teacher, a great biology teacher, and I am proud that my mom and dad worked to restore the alpine meadows of Mount Rainier. But I am mostly proud of the working people of Washington, and I believe I know their work. I’ve driven bulldozers in Bellevue, painted houses in Burien, I know the business end of a jackhammer, I’ve prosecuted drunk drivers and I raised hay in the Yakima Valley. Washington has welcomed many people to our great state from all points of the compass, but no matter when you and your family arrived here, in our souls all of us in Washington are pioneers. That is what makes us unique. We push the world forward. We take risks. We take pride in what we do and who we are. I look forward to a true partnership with Senate Majority Leader Rodney Tom and with Democratic Leader Ed Murray, and with House Speaker Frank Chopp and Minority Leader Richard DeBolt. I want us to collaborate early and often on a legislative agenda that benefits all of Washington. I want to work with every member of the Legislature, personally. Our economy draws its strength from a marketplace of ideas, and so should our state. I have called all of you in the Legislature already and I’m ready to begin this partnership. If you got a call from me in the last several weeks, that wasn’t a robocall. I need to talk to each one of you so we can work together to better the future of our state. When the people of Yakima sent me here to Olympia more than two decades ago, Washington had just completed its first century. I sat and listened as former Governor Booth Gardner presented us with a challenge heading into Washington’s second century. He said, ‘Either we respond to international competition, or we doom ourselves and our children to a dramatic slide to second-rate status in the world.’ We chose to answer this challenge with a unique formula for international success that has made us who we are today: the businesses, entrepreneurs, state government, all working together. Now it’s 24 years later. I have a new job, a new vantage point, and the world looks much different. A once-vibrant and growing state economy was brought low by the gross irresponsibility of those on Wall Street. As a result we have suffered four years of recession, with almost

THIRD DAY, JANUARY 16, 2013

300,000 people in Washington looking for work. Too many of our families are on the brink of losing their home. Parents lie awake at night wondering how they can provide for their children's future. But we do remain an optimistic state, a visionary state and an innovative state. Time has not dimmed and the recession has not diminished our thirst for innovation and our talent for technological growth. We are the most creative, entrepreneurial group of businessmen and women, scientists, educators and workers on the planet. Companies like Silicon Energy in Marysville are leading the world with some of the most durable solar cells ever built. Janicki Industries in Sedro Woolley is driving innovation in aerospace. Valve, a software company in Bellevue, has grown into a worldwide leader in interactive entertainment. And in Grays Harbor an across-the-board effort led to the re-opening of the paper mill last year, putting 175 people back to work making 100 percent recycled paper. I have this to say about Washington: Innovation is in our genes. We create. We invent. We build. So now we must go forward, with both high ambition and a recognition that the power of innovation will fuel the next wave of job growth in Washington. Make no mistake: Our top priority today, tomorrow, and every single day for the next four years, is jobs. We must build a working Washington, capable of sustained economic leadership in a rapidly changing world. During the campaign I put out a plan to get Washington back to work that grew to more than 100 points of action. My plan focuses on job growth in seven industry clusters: aerospace, life sciences, military, agriculture, information technology, clean energy technology and the maritime trades. These clusters represent both the present and the future key drivers of economic growth and job creation in our state. We must support innovators in these areas with incentives to take risks and bring ideas from dream to reality. I have proposed a tradable R and D [research and development] tax credit to help early-stage companies to develop and commercialize their idea. It's worked in other states, and it's something we can do this session. I will work with the Legislature to make it more desirable for small and medium-size businesses to hire more people and to do a better job commercializing the technologies developed in our world-class research institutions, connecting the dots from the classrooms to the laboratory to the marketplace. We've got to get that job done. No economic strategy would be complete without a transportation plan that facilitates this growth. This session I expect to work with stakeholders that have already committed to a bipartisan plan to build an infrastructure for the next generation. In the next 10 years, our population will grow by approximately three-quarters of a million people, but we will not add one more square inch of dirt. To honestly address our infrastructure, we've got to recognize that in transportation creativity is just as important as concrete. I want to turn our innovative spirit towards crafting a transportation package that includes roads, trains, light rail, buses, bike routes, pedestrian and every other mode of transportation. We need ways to free capacity for freight and commerce, and to fundamentally rethink how we do the business of transportation in our state and how we use our transportation infrastructure. If we're serious about long-term economic growth, innovation must become part of the very culture of Olympia. I heard a clear and powerful message on Election Day. The people of Washington State are tired of a state government that doesn't change with the times. They expect me, and all of us here, to be as innovative as the people we represent. Since the recession, the debate over the state budget seems to be stuck in the movie 'Groundhog Day.' We have the same arguments and we revisit the same untenable options. It's time we made it to a new day. Today we begin a multi-year effort to bring disruptive change to

2013 REGULAR SESSION

Olympia, starting with the very core of how we do business. With authentic, courageous leadership, we will bring the principles of Lean management to all of state government, following the lead of Boeing, Virginia Mason and a growing number of state and local governments. We will provide efficiency, effectiveness and transparency. Importantly, we will introduce performance metrics where it counts, giving us the data we need to fix what's broken, cut what we don't need and replace rhetoric with quantifiable results. But this effort is about more than measurement. It's about instituting a culture shift that will endure well beyond my administration. Moving forward, all state agencies will be rooted in the same three principles: First, we will measure success by the results we produce, not the money we put in. Second, we will know our customers and what they value. Third, every agency will adopt a unique process for continual improvement that engages our state employees. Change is coming to Olympia, and I want all state employees to be an active part in it. I know how much state employees have sacrificed. You've been on the front lines, figuring out how to do more with less during this recession just like every family in Washington right now. You will be empowered as change agents, and we will need your ingenuity and dedication more than ever. I am serious about reform. I will be taking action to transition to a results- and data-driven government, with continuous quality improvement, employee engagement and clear accountability. And to honestly address our budget problems, we must admit the difficult truth that the road to a balanced budget and a fully-funded educational system runs directly through health care reform. This means investing in preventative care and aligning incentives with patients to encourage healthy lifestyle choices. King County is already doing this, and it is working. We'll improve the health of all of us in Washington as we move from 'sick care' to the true health care system we deserve. We need to leverage our Medicaid and state employee health systems, and engage health care providers, carriers and community clinics, to find innovative payment models and health care delivery systems that incentivize quality over quantity, value over volume. Effectively implementing the Affordable Care Act will save us money by removing the hidden tax of hundreds of dollars paid monthly by all our state's insured citizens. We can do this for the health of our family and the health of our economy. When we make our health care system more efficient, we lower the cost of doing business in our state. The states that get this right will have a clear advantage in recruiting and retaining the jobs of tomorrow. This session, we must make sure Washington gets this right, first. And I look forward to working with you. Now, as we do this we must also protect the quality and choice that we expect from a health care system that works. For that reason, Washington women need the freedom and privacy to make the health care decisions that are best for themselves and their families. That's why I look forward to the Legislature sending the Reproductive Parity Act to my desk, which I will sign. Let's get this done. For Washington to be successful, our economy, our government and our schools must all work together, but before we continue, I want to take a moment to honor the courage and heroism of public school teachers, educators and all of our public employees. The tragedy at Sandy Hook Elementary School in Connecticut showed us all that our nation's educators put the welfare of their students above everything, even their own lives. You may have heard the story about the parent who was in the principal's office when the sounds of gunshots began. That parent said she ran to get under the nearest desk, as most people would have done, but the educators in the room ran another way. They ran toward the sound of the gunfire. They did not return. It is my fervent hope that the country sees the sacrifices made at this one school, in this one state, as entirely consistent with what teachers and educators do every day, in every school, protect the children in their care. We should honor them today. The tragedy at Sandy Hook was unimaginable, but, unfortunately, not unfamiliar. We have lost too many loved ones in Washington state: in a Seattle café, in Lakewood, at the Seattle Jewish Federation, in a house in Carnation, all victims of a lethal combination of untreated mental illness, evil intent and easy access to deadly weapons. Any failure to address this issue of violence in our communities and our schools this year will be intolerable, and in the coming weeks I will work with the Legislature to address this crisis responsibly. I don't have all the answers, but I know the sooner we reject the extremes and embrace common sense, the sooner we'll be able to get a public health solution to a public health crisis. And common sense tells us that this solution will involve mental health and keeping guns out of the wrong hands while respecting the right of my son to hunt and my uncle to defend his home. This is common sense. All of us have an obligation to provide for the well-being of our families, to ensure their safety and to make sure our children are prepared for the world. I am proud to live in a state where the education of our children is enshrined as the paramount duty of state government. I got my start in politics as a concerned parent, when Trudi and I led an effort with another couple in Selah, Washington to fund construction of a new high school. I'm inspired by the pockets of excellence I have seen in schools all across Washington. In Pasco, they've improved high school graduation rates through intervention teams they created. In Renton, they closed the achievement gaps with a world-class approach that demands continuous quality improvement in how we educate our children. I visited the TAF [Technology Access Foundation] Academy where, thanks to a unique public-private partnership, young students are applying the latest technological tools to solve real-world problems. Across our state we need this kind of real innovation, real reform using proven models and real accountability. We need to increase the emphasis on STEM education. Science, technology, engineering and math [STEM] are just as important to the next generation as the three R's were to my generation. They are the essential tools for success in this new economy. We need to invest more where we get the biggest return, in quality early learning programs. We need a system that aligns from early learning to K-12 [kindergarten to 12th grade] to our universities. Accountability must be present at every level. We should continue the progress we are making on improving the teacher and principal evaluation system, and make it a significant part of personnel decisions. And yes, we need to meet the funding obligations set out by the McCleary decision, but we cannot continue to allow funding debates to mask deeper problems in our schools that do demand innovation and reform. I want us to be able to look our children in the eyes, knowing that we honored our commitment to provide them with a world-class education through systemic, sustainable reform of our schools. It's also critical for us to preserve the leading role of our research institutions play in inventing the future, growing our economy and growing and creating jobs. While we do this, we can no longer accept the misalignment between what our schools teach and what skills our employers need. This is something I will act on immediately to sharpen the relationship between our schools and the economy they are preparing our young people to enter. It will be hard work, but it is required work if we want Washington to rise to the challenges the world will present us. There is no challenge greater for Washington, with more opportunity for job growth in Washington and more suited to our particular brand of genius and ingenuity, than leading the world's clean energy economy. It is clear to me that we are the right state, at the right time, with the right people. It's also clear to me that we face grave and immediate danger if we fail to act. Nine of 10 of the hottest years on record happened in the past decade. We've had epic flooding, searing drought, devastating wildfires, including last summer's fires in Central Washington and the rising tides along our coast. Our Pacific Northwest waters, including in Puget Sound, are becoming too acidic due to carbon pollution, forcing parts of our shellfish industry already to have had to move last year. In Eastern Washington, our long tradition of agriculture could be threatened if snowpack melts more rapidly. Water stored as snow is money in the bank for Washington's rural economies and the bank could fail if we don't act. As a parent and a grandparent, I cannot consciously accept the dangers of climate change for my family or yours. As a Governor, I can't afford to look the other way or point fingers or deny these realities and I cannot allow our state to miss this moment which is our destiny to lead the world in clean energy. All of us in Washington will have to square up to both our responsibility and our opportunity on climate change, and when we do, I'd like all of us to remember what Dr. Martin Luther King once said: 'The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy.' On climate change, we have settled the scientific controversy. That's resolved. What remains now is how we respond to the challenge. Now I know Washington can't solve this global problem alone, but we must embrace our role as first responders as our children's health is in clear and immediate danger. We must also embrace our role as entrepreneurs and pioneers, ensuring that economic solutions to climate change begin here. Companies in this state are already moving forward, and we will not hand over our destiny to lead the world in clean energy to any other state or to any other nation. You know, I hope to embrace all of us in this effort for this reason: we don't deny science in Washington; we embrace it. We do not follow technological innovation; we lead it. And we will not pass up a golden opportunity to create jobs across this state. We need these clean energy jobs that work for the long haul. These jobs will be in Bellingham at the Itec solar company, in Seattle at MacDonald-Miller, a great efficiency company, in Spokane at the McKinstry Company and at Boeing where we, today, are making the world's most fuel efficient jet. These jobs won't just fall into our laps. Washington has what it takes to win, but the clean energy race is highly competitive. Germany, China and California are not waiting. Neither should we. So over the next four years, we need to show our commitment with policies to promote economic growth, research and development on a clean energy program, to lock in the next wave of growth and opportunity for the next generation. I look forward to having a real dialogue with each and every one of you in the Legislature in the coming weeks on creating jobs, on educating our children, on changing how we do business in state government and on creating a culture of leading the world toward a clean energy economy. But as we move forward to determine what we will do, let's remember who we are as a state. Washington is a state that embraces all people for who they are. A state that allows all to love who they will. A state that is never content with today but is always leading the world in inventing tomorrow. A state whose very name commits itself to the preservation of its own beauty for its own grandchildren and its own great-grandchildren. The Evergreen State. Thank you. Now let's get to work. Thanks a lot."

Kim Wyman, Secretary of State

JOINT RESOLUTION NO JR2013-1

A Joint Resolution of the Pierce County Council and Kitsap County Board of Commissioners Appointing Nathan Schlicher to Represent Legislative District No. 26 in the Washington State Senate.

WHEREAS, a vacancy has been created in the 26th Legislative District, Washington State Senate, due to the resignation of Senator Derek Kilmer; and
WHEREAS, Legislative District No. 26 is a multi-jurisdictional District located partly in Pierce County and partly in Kitsap Count, and the Washington State Constitution, Article II, Section 15, provides that in the event of a multi-jurisdictional vacancy, that the vacancy shall be filled by joint action of the boards of county legislative authorities of the counties composing the joint district, and
WHEREAS, the Washington State Democratic Central Committee has submitted the names of three nominees for the vacancy in the Washington State Senate for consideration by the Pierce County Council and Kitsap County Board of Commissioners, and both the Councilmembers and Commissioners have met in a joint Special Meeting and have interviewed the nominees; Now, Therefore,
BE IT RESOLVED by the Pierce County Council and Kitsap County Board of Commissioners:

Section 1. Nathan Schlicher is one of three nominees recommended by the Washington State Democratic Central Committee, and is qualified to fill the vacancy in the Washington State Senate.

Section 2. Nathan Schlicher is hereby appointed to the Washington State Senate, Legislative District No. 26, to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Senator Derek Kilmer.

Section 3. The Clerks of the Council and Board of Commissioners are hereby directed to provide a copy of this Joint Resolution to the individual appointed, the Governor the State of Washington, and the Chair of the Washington State Democratic Central Committee.

JOINTLY ADOPTED this 17th day of January, 2013.

PIERCE COUNTY COUNCIL, Pierce County, Washington

KITSAP COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS, Kitsap County, Washington

Joyce, McDonald,
Chair of the Council
Josh Brown, Chair of the Board

SENATE RESOLUTION
8604

By Senators Fain, Rolfes, Eide, Billig, Hobbs, Carrell, Shin, Murray, Ranker, King, Benton, Mullet, Litzow, Hasegawa, Cleveland, Conway, Frockt, Keiser, Parlette, Fraser, Dammeier, Darneille, Smith, Kohl-Welles, Ericksen, Harper, Becker, Hargrove, Kline, Nelson, Chase, Hill, Schlicher, and Hatfield

WHEREAS, Today, the third Monday in January, we remember and honor the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who would become a beacon of hope for equality in our nation; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King used his gift of oratory to awaken America to the realities of life for many Americans and to make life better for all by encouraging change through nonviolent means; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King's steadfast faith encouraged others, as exemplified in his famous "I Have a Dream" speech, delivered 50 years ago this coming August 28th, in which he said, "With this faith we will be able to hew out of the mountain of despair a stone of hope"; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King's unwavering support for the principles of racial justice and social equality helped change America; and

WHEREAS, In his life, Dr. King called on others to make a personal commitment to serve humanity by helping the less fortunate, uniting as a global family, and acting with kindness and compassion; and

WHEREAS, Service is a powerful way to commemorate the words and deeds of Dr. King and to translate our reverence for his life and teachings into action to make our nation better; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King believed that a person's worth should not be measured by his or her color, culture, or class, but rather by his or her commitment to making life better for all through service rendered to each other;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate, on behalf of the people of the state of Washington, and in recognition of the courageous leadership and legacy of hope demonstrated by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., honors his memory by urging all citizens of our state to continue the legacy of Dr. King by treating all people as equal.

Senators Litzow, Shin, Frockt, Fraser, Tom, Kline, Conway and Hasegawa spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8604.

The motion by Senator Litzow carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Fain: "Thank you Mr. President. I just want to remind the body that the original plan was to go at ease for a moment prior to the State of the Judiciary but I would ask that members remain present and we'll go straight into that, with the permission of the President."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "That is what the plan is. Thank you."

The Sergeant at Arms of the Senate announced the arrival of the members of the House of Representatives at the Senate Chamber doors. The Sergeant at Arms of the Senate and the Sergeant at Arms of the House escorted Deputy Speaker Pro Tempore of the House, the Honorable Tina Orwall, House Majority Floor Leader Tami Green and House Assistant Republican Floor Leader Matt Shea to seats at the rostrum. The members of the House of Representatives were invited to seats within the Chamber.

JOINT SESSION

Pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8400, the President called the Joint Session to order. The Secretary called the roll of the members of the Senate. The Secretary called the roll of the members of the House of Representatives. The President declared that a quorum of the Legislature was present.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "This joint session has been convened to receive the State of the Judiciary message from the Honorable Barbara Madsen, Chief Justice of the Washington State Supreme Court."

The President appointed a committee of honor to escort the Justices of the State Supreme Court to the Senate Chamber: Representatives Holy and Stonier; Senators Frockt and Pearson.

The President appointed a committee of honor to escort the statewide elected officials to the Senate Chamber: Representatives Farrell and Scott; Senators Bailey and Nelson.

The President appointed a committee of honor to advise the Honorable Barbara Madsen, Chief Justice of the Washington State Supreme Court, that the joint session had assembled and to escort her to the Senate Chamber: Representatives Goodman and Nealey; Senators Chase and Padden.

The Sergeant at Arms of the Senate announced the arrival of the Justices of the State Supreme Court at the Chamber doors. The committee of honor escorted the Justices of the State Supreme Court to the front of the Chamber and they were introduced: Justice Charles W. Johnson, Justice Susan Owens, Justice Mary E. Fairhurst, Justice Debra L. Stephens, Justice Charlie K. Wiggins, Justice Steven Gonzalez and Justice Sheryl Gordon-McCloud.

The Sergeant at Arms of the Senate announced the arrival of the statewide elected official at the Chamber doors. The committee of honor escorted the statewide elected official to the front of the Chamber and he was introduced: State Auditor Troy Kelley.

The Sergeant at Arms of the Senate announced the arrival of the Honorable Barbara Madsen, Chief Justice of the Washington State Supreme Court, at the Chamber doors. The committee of honor escorted the Honorable Barbara Madsen, Chief Justice of the Washington State Supreme Court, to the rostrum of the Senate.

The Washington State Patrol Honor Guard consisting of Lieutenant Mike Turcott and Sergeant Ted DeHart presented the Colors. The President led the Joint Session in the Pledge of Allegiance. The Washington State Patrol Honor Guard retired from the Chamber. The prayer was offered by Rabbi Seth Goldstein of Temple Beth Hatfiloh, Olympia.

Rabbi Goldstein: "Source of all Life and Blessing: We ask that your blessing descend upon this body. May all those who assemble here be endowed with a mind of wisdom and a heart of compassion. May the spirit of goodness fill their souls and may they continue to see one another and the people they serve as full, whole human beings, created in the divine image and worthy of love and respect. And on this day when we focus on the judiciary, we ask for blessing not only for those who are charged with making the laws, but those who are charged with their interpretation and application. May all those who serve in the judiciary be blessed with a sense of fairness and of justice, of equality and of service, of righteousness and of peace. We are mindful of that universal charge we find in Scripture, in the book of Deuteronomy: tzedek tzedek tirdof—justice, justice shall you pursue. It is asked, 'Why is the word 'justice' repeated?' One interpretation is that this verse first teaches that our desired outcome is justice—justice must be the goal of a well-ordered society. The repetition of the word implies that not only must our goal be justice, but the path to justice—the process by which we achieve justice in our society—must also be just. We are blessed that our system of government allows for the separation of powers, provides for the orderly execution of justice and establishes a dynamic system of legal interpretation. May this continue to be so. And may all those who serve the public good, in any capacity, from any place, find favor in Your eyes and may the work of their hands benefitting the people of our state and country long endure. Amen.”

The President welcomed and introduced the Honorable Barbara Madsen, Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY

Chief Justice Barbara Madsen: “Thank you Mr. President, Speaker Chopp, elected officials, members of the House and Senate, fellow justices and judges, ladies, and gentlemen. Let me add my welcome to all of you new legislators and to those of you who have changed houses. I had the chance to meet many of you over the last week or so, either swearing you or dancing at the Ball with you, or celebrating the Temple of Justice’s birthday with you. For those of you I have not yet met, I do look forward to meeting all you as the course of this legislative session runs. Whatever the occasion to bring us together, I believe that time spent getting to know one another is time well spent.

I am honored to be here today, along with my colleagues on the Washington Supreme Court, to deliver this report on the state of Washington’s judiciary. As many of you know, our court system operates through a system of trial courts and appellate courts. Many of the leaders of our court associations are with us today, in the gallery. I would like to take a moment to introduce them: in particular, Presiding Chief Judge Christine Quinn-Brintnall from the Court of Appeals, Division Two in Tacoma; Benton/Franklin County Superior Court Judge Craig Matheson, president of the Superior Court Judges’ Association of Washington; Judge Sara Derr from Spokane County District Court, president of the District and Municipal Court Judges’ Association and she’s with us as well. These judges are joined by members of the Board for Judicial Administration, that’s the policy-setting board for the courts. I am very proud of these judges and the people they represent who work in our court system. I would like to have them stand up, members of the Board for Judicial Administration. And I’d like to single out, Judge Chris Wickham who is my co-chair. Thank you Judge Wickham. Judge Wickham is a Superior Court judge here in Thurston County. And we have the administrative heads of our three agencies with us as well: The Washington State Court Administrator who heads the Administrative Office of the Courts, Callie Dietz; the Executive Director of the Office of Civil Legal Aid, Jim Bamberger; and the Director for the Office of Public Defense, Joanne Moore. It is no secret that we are experiencing very challenging times here in our state and in our nation. I have not spoken to anyone who is predicting that you will have an easy session this year. I think you will be spending long days and late nights in Olympia.

As the spokesperson for the courts, I also feel a great weight on my shoulders. Even in the best of times, our divided government requires careful leadership in each branch. As you begin this legislative session, I know that many of you are thinking about the issue of divided government. The gray areas around the edges of our respective powers can give rise to debate and even disagreement about the areas of authority in which each of the branches operate. Such debate and disagreement is healthy – indeed I think this is a part of the checks and balances that our founders intended. Even in a divided government, the branches are meant to work together. As many of you know, this is the 100th anniversary of the Temple of Justice. The Temple, which is home to the Supreme Court, was the first building on our capitol campus. If you look at the campus from Budd Inlet, you will see that the Temple appears to blend into the capitol building – and together, the Temple and the Capitol are covered by one dome. In designing the capitol group in this way, the architects were intending to make a statement to reflect the reality that, together, the three branches form one government. As the legislature and the governor, the judiciary also has a role to play. I want to assure all of you that the courts are committed to working with all of you on matters of common interest and concern within the limits of our branch’s authority.

Unlike the legislature and the governor, our courts generally operate under the radar screen. More than two million individual civil and criminal cases are filed every year in our trial courts. Thousands of cases are decided in our appellate courts every year. We have one constitutional duty. That is to fairly, effectively, and timely adjudicate the civil and criminal disputes that come before us.

At a judge’s swearing-in a few weeks ago, I heard a story from John Ladenburg, who is formerly the Pierce County Executive. John was telling us that he was on a trade mission to China along with Microsoft, Amazon, and some other U.S. companies. According to John, one of the delegates asked a Chinese government minister what he thought was needed to attract new businesses to China. His answer: ‘Lawyers.’ You might laugh – you might clap! The Washington delegation laughed. But when they laughed, according to John, the minister became incensed. He said, ‘Without lawyers there are no courts. Without courts there is no legal system. Without a legal system there is no protection. There are no commercial laws. You do not understand the advantage you have in your country. You have the rule of law. Your courts protect people and their property. That makes all the difference.’ Now, lest you think I am claiming all the credit for the courts, I believe that it is the legislature, the executive, and the courts working together that provide the kind of environment that is necessary for individuals and businesses to grow and prosper. Even with its flaws, our system is the envy of the world.

We know that the law is complex. Cases are complex. And disagreements are predictable. Cases like McCleary that address school funding, and the pending case of League of Education Voters which involves a challenge to restrictions on the power of the legislature to tax, these will always provoke controversy. That comes with the constitutional responsibility placed on courts. But it’s how we work together to meet the very complex and difficult challenges that will determine the future for the public that we all serve. Last week, we heard comments from outgoing Governor Gregoire and newly-elected Governor Inslee. Though their plans for meeting the future differed, the common theme was the same: We are all facing significant challenges maybe now more than ever as year upon year of economic difficulties continue.

I recently learned that the Chinese symbol for crisis is a combination of two concepts, opportunity and danger. The opportunity is to redefine how we deliver services to the public. The danger is in failing to adapt.

The extensive budget cuts of the past four years have required the courts to become creative and to be innovators. And we’re committed to continue looking for new, efficient processes to help us fulfill our responsibility to deliver justice. Though being the Chief does carry its challenges, the position also gives me a bird’s eye view of the tremendous job that our courts are doing to innovate in these tough budget times. I want to mention just a few of these creative solutions: At the Administrative Office of the Courts, we have created online education that allows judges and court personnel to stay current with changes in law and practices while reducing or eliminating travel costs and time away from court.

We are also modernizing our aging computer systems by looking at commercial, off-the-shelf products to meet the growing demands of technology in courts throughout our state.

Local courts are also working in innovative ways to help curb costs and improve service. Pierce County juvenile courts, just one example, have reduced the ‘failure to appear’ rates and detention rates by implementing a two-tiered warrant system, by calling and even conducting home visits to remind juveniles that they have to be in court, and using a continuum of alternatives to detention. This strategy is one of six that Pierce County has implemented to reduce racial and ethnic disparities in their juvenile court system. The result has been a 47% decrease in detention from 2007 to 2011.

In Seattle Municipal Court, my old alma mater, the probation department has formed a partnership with social work programs at three schools: Seattle University, the University of Washington, and the University of Southern California. Volunteers and interns from these schools have a wide range of experience and are placed in positions in anything from answering phones to assisting with assessments and collecting program data. Last year, volunteers gave nearly 16,000 hours of service. In Kitsap County District Court, the judges began transitioning to an electronic filing system, which has resulted in 80% reduction in supplies, copy machines contracts, forms, filing cabinets, and so on, as well as a 23% reduction in staffing. In King County, eight municipal courts, led by Tukwila Municipal Court, have pioneered a system for scheduling and sharing precious interpreter resources. This has reduced cost and increased availability of translators. And right here in Thurston County, the judges are developing a risk assessment tool for domestic violence defendants. Through the Washington Supreme Court Gender and Justice Commission we hope to make that tool available to judges across the state.

In this vein, we are also exploring ways to foster regional courts. District and municipal courts are where most citizens impact the justice system, and we need to foster an approach that best serves the public. More than 170 municipalities now contract with district or municipal courts. It is imperative that we examine the most efficient and cost effective method of providing judicial services to everyone coming to court in Washington State. More and more, community leaders are interested in exploring cooperative arrangements for the delivery of court services. Thanks to a grant from the State Justice Institute, we are currently exploring a concept that is broadly described as regional courts. Combined courts can contribute to better court performance, customer service, and fiscal efficiency. We want to work with you on this important court reform.

Along with the Temple of Justice centennial, this year is also the 50th anniversary of the United States Supreme Court’s decision in Gideon v. Wainwright. As Justice Hugo Black wrote in that ground breaking decision, ‘Lawyers in criminal courts are necessities, not luxuries.’ We can be proud that long before the United States Supreme Court expressed that belief, our legislature acted to guarantee the right to counsel in Washington State. Recently, however, we have learned that in areas of our state, the promise of access to effective assistance of counsel guaranteed by both the constitution and the legislature has not been met. Public trust and confidence in our criminal justice system depends on people knowing and believing they are being treated fairly and that their rights are being protected. A conviction may have a lifetime of consequences-including the ability to get a job, an apartment, a student loan. A conviction may separate a family or mean losing the custody of a child. As judges, it is our duty to ensure not just the presence of counsel, but effective counsel. And it takes time to be effective. As far back as 2004, the Blue Ribbon Panel on Criminal Defense concluded that the standards for public defense services enacted in RCW 10.101 were being ignored in many jurisdictions and that the lack of enforceable standards, especially case load standards, ‘jeopardizes the ability of even the most dedicated defenders to provide adequate representation.’ After more than a year of debate, a four-month public comment period, and intense internal discussion, the Washington Supreme Court recently adopted indigent defense certification, which requires development of case load standards. But adopting the court rules is just the beginning. Now, attorneys, trial judges, and administrators must work together to find the best ways to implement certification in their courts.

We know that some legislators have concerns about how this will impact local communities but, through the Office of Public Defense, we are committed to working with cities and counties to help design workable systems. Last December, the Supreme Court ordered the Office of Public Defense to prepare a new report on how the standards and attorney certification rules were being implemented across the state. The report is due this March and will focus on how jurisdictions are working with attorney case loads and methods for addressing them successfully and with creativity. The case load limits do not become effective under our rules until October of 2013.

I want to mention also one other new initiative that the Office of Public Defense is undertaking. Because of its great success with the Parents Representation Program, you in this legislature have asked the office to take on the enormous task of reforming defense of sexually violent predators. I have no doubt that the Office of Public Defense will exercise the same scrupulous care in evaluating the most efficient and cost-effective ways of delivering services to this population that it has exercised in all of its innovative programs. We look forward to working with you on this important initiative.

Another challenge facing the branch is to effectively address racial disparities in our court system. The Washington State Center for Court Research, which operates within the judicial branch, has been hard at work collecting and sharing data on a statewide level and county-by-county. The specific details at the county and court level will help us determine the causes for disproportionality and will guide us in finding solutions. Based on data gathered so far, the task force has submitted a number of recommendations for action by the Supreme Court, for judicial branch agencies, for the different court levels, and for our justice partners, including law schools and law enforcement agencies. We need to examine the causes of disproportionality and work toward solutions. We know that ‘Justice is the Guardian of Liberty.’ These words are etched on the facade of the United States Supreme Court. It will take all of us working together to ensure that justice is equally applied. We will be asking for your help as we meet this challenge.

Likewise, we must recognize that not all people who use our court systems are able to speak English. Seventy-eight different languages were interpreted in Washington trial courts in 2012, and King County keeps a running tally that shows that they have provided interpreters for 130 different languages. However, our state has certified and registered interpreters in 35 languages, meaning that we are not able to ensure meaningful access for persons speaking many of the languages in our courts. Legal proceedings, with their technical language and complex processes, are confusing enough when you understand English. But just imagine walking into a high stakes situation where you don't understand a word of what was going on. As Washington's diversity continues to grow, the need for interpreters is exploding. With limited resources, we must find a way to provide interpreter services in the most efficient and effective ways possible. That is why the Supreme Court included in the budget submission to the legislature a request for funding for a pilot program for video remote interpreting. Reducing both the cost and time of travel can better focus the scarce resources where they belong. We need your help in finding a solution. We also recognize that the Great Recession has caused a host of profound legal problems for low-income Washingtonians. In 2011 alone, more than a quarter of a million calls were placed to our statewide legal aid hotline. Demand for help is particularly high in recession-sensitive areas of law such as housing, foreclosure, help with governmental support programs, domestic violence, and family safety issues. In Washington, legal aid is delivered through an innovative public private partnership. State funding supports our nationally recognized statewide legal aid provider-the Northwest Justice Project-but also 17 local volunteer legal aid programs. I'm very proud of the thousands of volunteer attorneys across the state who together delivered nearly 60,000 hours of free legal aid, worth more than $10 million to over 20,000 individuals and families. But deep federal budget cuts have crippled legal aid. There are only 87 state-funded legal aid attorneys left to meet the needs of more than 1.8 million low-income people who are eligible for state-funded civil legal aid. Today, there is one legal aid attorney serving all of Clallam and Jefferson Counties; one legal aid attorney serves all of Southeast Washington, from Walla Walla to Clarkston; and one legal aid lawyer serves all low-income people in Grays Harbor and Pacific Counties. In our urban areas, it's not much better. There are more than 22,000 eligible clients for every single state-funded legal aid attorney. Legal aid helps to resolve cases quickly and often keeps cases out of court – and if they are in court, often helps to resolve them more quickly. Legal aid is a smart and cost-effective investment. The legal aid system, as administered by our Office of Civil Legal Aid, has received strong bipartisan support from this legislature in years past. For this, the judicial branch is grateful. But we need your continuing support to meet the civil justice needs of our state's poorest residents.

TENTH DAY, JANUARY 23, 2013

Finally, I would like to address the critical challenges that we face in keeping our courthouses safe for thousands of attorneys, jurors, court staff, litigants and members of the public. As Judge David Edwards of Grays Harbor County can attest, this is a challenge in every local jurisdiction. He is a shining example of courage in what can only be described as a terrifying ordeal that occurred in his courthouse. Given Judge Edwards' experience, the recent attack on Judge Brett Buckley at his home here in Olympia, the multiple bomb threats in courthouses throughout Washington just last month, we know that courthouse security is a continuing challenge that needs to be resolved quickly. We are truly blessed in each situation that I've mentioned, there was not a tragic ending. But hoping that this remains the case is not a policy. At a fundamental level, our democracy is dependent on a judicial branch that can decide disputes in safety. No one should be afraid to walk into a courthouse. In 2012, the security staff at Spokane County District Court confiscated over 1,000 handguns, 9,000 knives, 80 tasers, 1,700 razor blades, 1,100 cans of mace and hundreds of other items that could be used as weapons. In courts without security, these items are entering our courthouses every day. The reality is that at any given time, people who are charged with violent crimes or who are engaged in intensely emotional situations are all together in the same place. Simply hoping that nothing bad happens is no longer good enough.

As we look back on an extraordinarily challenging year, Washington can be proud of its judiciary and its ability to adapt, modernize, and innovate. But this is just the beginning. We will continue to devise innovative and cost efficient ways to ensure that all persons-including the most vulnerable in our society-are provided with fair and timely justice and that they have their day in court in a modern and technologically-advanced court system. With the leadership of the Board for Judicial Administration, the efforts of our exceptional judges and court staff, I am confident we will continue to turn the challenges we face into opportunities to transform the court system today and in the future. We will continue to balance the scales so that we can adapt to fiscal realities and never stray from our constitutional mission. The pursuit of justice is what this court system is all about-from its inception two centuries ago to this very day and in all the years to come. I want to thank you for the warm welcome that you have given to me and my fellow justices, and I wish you all well during the upcoming session. Thank you."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Chief Justice, we appreciate very much your very profound comments and your commitment and spirit of unity and cooperation of the Legislature. As well as we want to thank the courts throughout the state for their incredible efforts to be more efficient and effective through the creative concepts that they have developed. Thank you very much for that information."

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

CERTIFICATION OF INITIATIVE TO THE LEGISLATURE NO. 517

Pursuant to Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution, RCW 29A.72.230, and WAC 434-379-010, the Office of the Secretary of State has caused the signatures submitted in support of Initiative to the Legislature No. 517 to be examined in the following manner:

1. It was determined that 346,906 signatures were submitted by the sponsors of the initiative. A random sample of 10,606 signatures was taken from those submitted;
2. Each sampled signature was examined to determine if the signer was a registered voter of the state, if the signature was reasonably similar to the one appearing on the record of that voter, and if the same signature appeared more than once in the sample. We found 9,122 valid signatures, 1,459 signatures that were invalid and 25 pairs of duplicated signatures in the sample;
3. We calculated an allowance for the chance error of sampling (57) by multiplying the square root of the number of invalid signatures by 1.5;
4. We estimated the upper limit of the number of signatures on the initiative petition which were invalid (49,596) by dividing the sum of the number of invalid signatures in the sample and allowance for the chance of error of sampling by the sampling ratio;
5. We determined the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the petition (56,157) by subtracting the sum of the number of signatures required by Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution (241,153) and the estimate of the upper limit of the number of invalid signatures on the petition from the number of signatures submitted;
6. We determined the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample (52) by multiplying the square of the sampling ratio by the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the initiative petition;
7. We determined the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample (41) by subtracting 1.65 times the square root of the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample from the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample; and

8. The number of pairs of signatures in the sample is less than the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample.

Therefore, I hereby declare Initiative to the Legislature No. 517 to contain sufficient signatures.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Seal of the State of Washington this 23rd day of January, 2013.

MARK NEARY
Deputy Secretary of State

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate advanced to the fourth order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, all measures listed on the Introduction and First Reading report were referred to the committees as designated with the exception of Senate Bill No. 5426 which was referred to the Committee on Financial Institutions, Housing & Insurance.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Miss Abby Lohman, the 2012-2013 Washington State of Skagit County Dairy Ambassador, who was seated at the rostrum.

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to allow Dairy Ambassador Abby Lohman.

REMARKS BY MISS ABBY LOHMAN

Miss Abby Lohman: "Good morning. My name is Abby Lohman. I am 19 years old and I was raised on my family's two-hundred acre seed crop farm in Edison, Washington. I have been involved in the dairy industry since before I was strong enough to hold a calf's milk bottle. To this day I'm still a proud, 'Ambassador for Milk' in the dairy industry. Milk is the most highly regulated food in the United States and that regulation begins on the farm itself. Dairy farmers are held to strict standards when it comes to animal well-being, labor, milk safety and environmental stewardship. Dairy farmers take great pride in following sustainable farming practices. Not only to protect their businesses but because it's the right thing to do. Dairy farmers are committed to supporting and raising healthy environments and healthy communities. One prominent way dairy farmers ensure their farming practices are compliant with strict environmental standards is our dairy nutrient management plans which are required and tailored to each farm's unique needs and characteristics. Dairy farmers have been proactive and innovative in utilizing waste by recycling high quality fertilized for crops, compost, energy and other uses. Proper waste management not only protects water quality but promotes the health and well-being of our animals. Dairy farms also create thousands of acres of habitat for wild life, particularly for migrating water fowl such as trumpeter swans and snow geese that frequent the Skagit Valley where I'm from. Ninety-eight percent of farms in this country are family owned. They have been passed down for generations. While dairy farmers use many time-tested traditional farming practices, new innovations and technologies are embraced and implemented in our ever evolving world. Beside environmental stewardship, the dairy industry plays an important economic role in the state of Washington, contributing 2.3 billion dollars in economic benefits a year. We invite you to get to know us and visit our family dairy farms, especially as you consider voting on items that could significantly impact us. Thank you for the opportunity to speak with you this morning. I hope to see you at a local agriculture event or family dairy farm in the future and invite you to the rotunda at noon to enjoy some delicious ice cream. Thank you."

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced the remaining representatives of the Washington State Dairy Women's Ambassador Program: Alternate Dairy Ambassadors Miss Jennifer Callanan, King-Pierce Counties, and Miss Elizabeth Beck, Lewis County, who were seated at the

The President also welcomed and introduced County and regional Dairy Ambassadors: Whatcom County Dairy Ambassador Miss Rebecca Steiger, Miss Lily Kroontje and Miss Mary Kahle, Alternates; Skagit County Dairy Ambassador Miss Samantha Mesman; Snohomish County Dairy Ambassador Miss Shana Morcom and Miss Haley Grillo, Alternate; King-Pierce Counties Dairy Ambassador Miss Annie Birkliid and Miss Samantha Lanting, Alternate; Lewis County Dairy Ambassador Miss Jennifer Swenson; Inland Northwest Dairy Ambassador Miss Alayna Loveall; and Mid-Columbia Dairy Ambassador Olivia Zurcher who were present in the gallery.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Becker: "I'd like to address the ambassadors. Thank you Mr. President. I really wanted to say thank you to the current Ambassador, the Dairy Ambassador. It is such a privilege to see you here. I know I've talked for the last few years but I grew up in Enumclaw on a dairy farm and when you're talking about dairies it brings back all sorts of memories for me. It's the time when dairy farms were a lot smaller and I can remember running out and getting the cows and my horse and the cow knocking me off my horse and things like that, but being in 4-H and living and breathing the dairy industry for all the years that I did, it was a remarkable way to grow up. I want to thank you. One of the other things that I had the privilege to do a few years GO and I'll never forget IT was to be a judge for the Dairy Ambassador position. It was like interviewing all sorts people that all had skills and abilities and desires to succeed like I've never seen before. It was one of the hardest things that I ever did but one of the most enjoyable. So, to this day, I believe that everybody should drink milk and to this day I drink milk every day and it is a wholesome way of life. It is an awesome way that you will now represent the state in your role and I thank you very much."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: "Well thank you Mr. President. I stand and recognize the women behind you there and the contribution they are making to the dairy industry being from Yakima County being one of the largest, is the largest dairy producing county in the state. Also want to mention that my wife was once a dairy princess so you may be a legislator or a wife of a legislator in the future. Thank you."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Becker, the President doesn't drink a lot of milk but he does believe that ice cream is an essential food group."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, Senate Rule 20 was suspended for the remainder of the day to allow consideration of additional floor resolutions.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Senate Rule 20 limits consideration of floor resolutions not essential to the operation of the Senate to one per day during regular daily sessions.

WHEREAS, Taiwan is the world's eighteenth largest economy, one of the key trading partners of the United States, and the two-way trade volume between the United States and Taiwan reached sixty-seven billion two hundred million dollars in 2011; and

WHEREAS, The state of Washington and Taiwan have enjoyed a long and mutually beneficial partnership that promises further growth based on strong bilateral trade, the exchange of education and culture, scientific and technological innovation, and tourism; and

WHEREAS, The United States officially included Taiwan in its visa waiver program, allowing its residents to travel to the United States for tourism or business stays of ninety days or less without obtaining a visa with the purpose of increasing tourism, business, and the exchange of ideas; and

WHEREAS, Taiwan is Washington's ninth largest export consumer with the trade volume from Washington to Taiwan totaling one billion nine hundred twenty million dollars, and with major products including aircraft, wheat, iron, steel, electric machinery, and industrial machinery; and

WHEREAS, Taiwan's strong economy and dedication to democratic freedoms for its people will continue with the support of the people of the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, Taiwan is tied economically to our shared responsibility to address climate change; and

WHEREAS, Taiwan, as a willing and contributing member of the world community, has made countless contributions of technical and financial assistance in the aftermath of hurricane Katrina and other natural disasters worldwide; and

WHEREAS, The contributions made by the people of Taiwan, the Honorable Ma Ying-jeou, and the institutions and businesses of Taiwan deserve praise from the state of Washington;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate reaffirm its commitment to the strong relationship between the state of Washington and Taiwan and support Taiwan's meaningful participation in international organizations as well as encouraging continued discussions that may lead to increased trade; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Director General of the Taipei Economic and Cultural Office in Seattle.

Senators Shin, Delvin, Honeyford, Fraser, Ericksen, Kohl-Welles, Benton and Roach spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8611.

The motion by Senator Shin carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Director-General Chin Hsing (Andy Chin) and Director Richard Lin of the Taipei Economic and Cultural Office in Seattle who were present in the gallery and recognized by the Senate.

MOTION

Senator Honeyford moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION 8610

By Senators Honeyford, Becker, Bailey, Pearson, Padden, Braun, Fain, Smith, Rivers, Parlette, Tom, Carrell, Baumgartner, Schoesler, Dammeier, King, Litzow, Ericksen, Sheldon, Roach, Hill, Holmquist Newbry, Hewitt, Hargrove, Delvin, Nelson, Conway, Keiser, Benton, Hatfield, Murray, Ranker, and Fraser

WHEREAS, Senator Bob Morton served the 7th legislative district with distinction for twenty-two years, first in the Washington State House of Representatives from 1991 through 1994, and then in the Senate from 1995 through 2013; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton tirelessly traveled one of the farthest distances to represent his constituents in Olympia, but was happiest when he returned home to the scenic 7th legislative district and his beautiful wife Linda; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton came to elected office with a diverse professional background including experience working as a Methodist minister, farmer, logger, and bush pilot in Alaska; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton continued to fill in at local churches as a preacher during his time in the legislature and officiated at several weddings, including for legislative staff and lobbyists; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton often lead the opening prayer in the Senate chambers with ecumenical grace; and

WHEREAS, This great institution affectionately refers to him as its "Minister of Agriculture"; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton was extremely well liked and respected not only by his faithful constituents and staff, but by Senators on both sides of the aisle, as they recall how he was the consummate gentleman who was respectful of all viewpoints and always made people around him smile; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton fought passionately for his district which also led him on one occasion to be gavelled down by the President of the Senate for blowing a railroad whistle on the Senate floor when he thought he was being railroaded by legislation; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton was a careful reader of bills, once raising a question on the floor whether a bill provision was more appropriately labeled as an "exemption" or an "exception"; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton's policy ideas generated his name in a clue on the game show Jeopardy and most recently in Time Magazine; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton has been a mentor and friend to many staff in the legislature, including one of his former legislative assistants, Cathy McMorris Rodgers, who is now the United States Representative for the 5th congressional district and the highest ranking Republican woman in Congress serving as the Chair of the House Republican Conference; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton dedicated his service in the legislature to natural resource issues serving as Chair of the Natural Resources, Energy & Water Committee and Chair of the Agriculture & Environment Committee; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton spearheaded efforts to protect water rights for agricultural use, to develop a statewide plan to preserve the health of our forests, and to defend livestock from wild animal predation; and

WHEREAS, In 2006, Senator Morton was instrumental in the passage of historical water legislation seeking out new water supplies through the construction of new storage facilities and conservation measures; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton was known for carrying around a seven foot tall pole that depicted the flow of the Columbia River which he presented to Governor Gregoire as a gift at the bill signing ceremony for the 2006 water legislation; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton was known for compiling and distributing an annual salmon report with the goal of achieving a balance between the delicate environmental needs of salmon and the important economic needs and recreational activities of humans; and

WHEREAS, Senator Morton has made the decision to retire, leaving an indelible mark on Olympia and this great institution. He will be greatly missed by all of us who know and love him;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the members and staff of the Washington State Senate offer their best wishes for a happy and fulfilling retirement and our deepest gratitude to Senator Bob Morton; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Senator Bob Morton.

Senators Honeyford, Fraser, Schoesler and Hargrove spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hewitt: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, when I first came here thirteen years ago, I kind of looked around for a mentor and decided, because Senator Morton was such a held in high esteem, we shared a cubicle next to each other over in the INB Building, that he would be my mentor. I thought.' You know anything that he does I would be very safe and I can follow his lead.' Well, I signed a letter that had something to do with a French chef because Bob had signed the letter and I thought, 'This is going to be safe.' This will be ok. It's nice that we have a French chef downstairs and if Bob likes it I'm going to like it to. Probably the largest mistake I've made in the thirteen years that I've been here because remember that went United States-wide, Fox news covered it, and we were in trouble and I thought, 'My God I'll never get elected again because I'm supporting this French chef downstairs.' Anyway Bob, my highlight with you I think was that trip to Alaska where we got in that jet sled of yours, that eighteen foot jet sled and drove for eleven hours solid. Left at eleven in the morning and got there at ten-thirty, eleven o'clock at night. Thank god they had long days because it was quite an experience. All the way Bob was keeping track of how much gas we were using because gas stations are not prevalent when you get back in the tundra, right. I mean we drove one hundred eighty miles back in this river and Bob was always calculating the gasoline that we burned and how much we have left and how many gallons he's going to have to get back to get more gas. It was phenomenal for me to watch that as a younger person then. What a wonderful experience that was to get to see all that wildlife and seriously was one of the, by the way it was my first trip to Alaska ever too, so it was marvelous to do that but to drive in little boat with Linda, his wife, and the three of us and listen to that roar for eleven hours it was absolutely wonderful. I'm going to miss you not only as a colleague but I'm going to miss you as a person. You are a very outstanding person. I think all of us really hold you in high esteem. I'm happy for you because I kind of feel the new life you have. There is life after. I think you're going to enjoy that. You're going to enjoy your first trip to Mexico in the winter time for many, many years. So Bob, we all love you and God Bless you."

2013 REGULAR SESSION

Senators Ranker, Shin and Sheldon spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8610.

The motion by Senator Honeyford carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "President Owen: "Senator I would be remiss if I didn't offer you the opportunity to respond to these comments and share some thoughts with us. The microphone is yours."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MORTON

Senator Morton: "Thank you Mr. President. How much time do you give me?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "They have not instituted the three minute rule yet so ..."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MORTON

Senator Morton: "Oh my, that's a lot of ground to cover ..."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MORTON

Senator Morton: "In the experiences that we have shared together. We have been richly blessed. It would not have been possible, however, without my wife Linda. And also because of you. Many of you are still here, We have survived quite a bit in the last twenty years. Surprising how fast it has gone for me. Now I'd also like to have you thank those who have put up with my shenanigans and yours during the last few years and that's my family. I won't name them all off Mr. President, it would take too long but they're up there to my left, left hand corner waving their hands at you to say thank you to all of you. Thank you very much. Without their patience and their support many of the things that we accomplished would not have been accomplishable. Mr. President, there is a lot of information that I'd love to share with you. As elected officials, we're very challenging times that we are in and as I look at those whom I know, here in front of me, I am confident of the direction that you're moving in will be a good one. I talked yesterday with both of your leaders and I was encouraged. Now, they've got to have your backing as you know but I also look at the rest of you, who are new to me, I am encourage so don't let me down. We are blessed with challenges in a wonderful age and we have a God to guide us and being able to fulfill not what we think is best but which the Creator has sent us to determine. So, I wish you well and I thank you from the bottom of my heart. And from my family, who are probably much like yours, and the sprouting of young people who are going to live the results of what we leave them with it new laws, codes and recommendations. We still are America and we still are in the pursuit of the happiness for our people and we still have the opportunities to fulfill what God anticipates for us to accomplish. God Bless."

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

CERTIFICATION OF INITIATIVE TO THE LEGISLATURE
NO. 522

Pursuant to Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution, RCW 29A.72.230, and WAC 434.379.010, the

NINETEENTH DAY, FEBRUARY 1, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

Office of the Secretary of State has caused the signatures submitted in support of Initiative to the Legislature No. 522 to be examined in the following manner:

1. It was determined that 353,331 signatures were submitted by the sponsors of the initiative. A random sample of 10,762 signatures was taken from those submitted;
2. Each sampled signature was examined to determine if the signer was a registered voter of the state, if the signature was reasonably similar to the one appearing on the record of that voter, and if the same signature appeared more than once in the sample. We found 9,503 valid signatures, 1,241 signatures that were invalid and 18 pairs of duplicated signatures in the sample;
3. We calculated an allowance for the chance error of sampling (53) by multiplying the square root of the number of invalid signatures by 1.5;
4. We estimated the upper limit of the number of signatures on the initiative petition which were invalid (42,479) by dividing the sum of the number of invalid signatures in the sample and allowance for the chance of error of sampling by the sampling ratio;
5. We determined the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the petition (69,699) by subtracting the sum of the number of signatures required by Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution (241,153) and the estimate of the upper limit of the number of invalid signatures on the petition from the number of signatures submitted;
6. We determined the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample (65) by multiplying the square of the sampling ration by the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the initiative petition;
7. We determined the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample (51) by subtracting 1.65 times the square root of the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample from the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample; and
8. The number of pairs of signatures in the sample is less than the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample.

Therefore, I hereby declare Initiative to the Legislature No. 522 to contain sufficient signatures.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the State of Washington this 31st day of January, 2013.

KIM WYMAN, Secretary of State

MOTION

Senator Hargrove moved adoption of the following resolution:

8608

By Senators Hargrove and Hatfield

WHEREAS, The 2012 Montesano High School football team withstood adversity in many forms during an improbable eleven-week run leading to the team's third state championship; and

WHEREAS, The Montesano High School football team was beset by the challenges of inexperience and graduation in the opening weeks of the 2012 season, resulting in a 1-2 start and the end of a forty-game league winning streak; and

WHEREAS, A fire at the historic Jack Rottle Stadium grandstands on the night of September 16, 2012, forced the Montesano High School football team to play all but one of its remaining home games on the road; and

WHEREAS, The Montesano players and coaches responded like true champions, winning eleven consecutive games including a 43-28 win over the second-ranked Royal Knights to win the school's third 1A state championship; and

WHEREAS, The Montesano High School football team's season is a testament to the fruits of hard work, determination, and sacrifice; and

WHEREAS, The Montesano High School football team members' efforts on the field were mirrored by their success in the classroom, where team members achieved a cumulative 3.5 grade point average and 2012 1A Football State Academic Championship;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honor the tremendous achievement of the Montesano High School football team on its success on the field and in the classroom; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That Coach Terry Jensen and his staff be commended for their guidance and leadership in helping to shape this group of young men into champions; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the City of Montesano be commended for its support and dedication to its sons during their pursuit of a state championship; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Montesano High School, the Aberdeen Daily World, and Montesano Vidette newspapers.

NINETEENTH DAY, FEBRUARY 1, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

Senators Hargrove and Hatfield spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8608.

The motion by Senator Hargrove carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed members and coaches of the Montesano High School Bulldog Football Team who were seated in the gallery.

MOTION

Senator Hewitt moved adoption of the following resolution:

8612

By Senators Hewitt, Tom, Schoesler, Parlette, Rivers, Fain, King, Becker, Holmquist Newbry, McAuliffe, Dammeier, Bailey, Kohl-Welles, Hill, Frockt, Fraser, Rolfes, Benton, Chase, Braun, and Kline

WHEREAS, Jerome Delvin has served the 8th legislative district with distinction for eighteen years, first in the House of Representatives for ten years, and then in the Senate for eight; and

WHEREAS, Senator Delvin protected his community by serving as a Richland police officer for twenty-eight years; and

WHEREAS, Senator Delvin's passionate views on serving his community are evident in his leadership as the President of the International Law Enforcement Foundation, a member of the Board of Directors of the Boys and Girls Club, and as a member of the National D.A.R.E. Officers Association; and

WHEREAS, Senator Delvin has been a true champion in protecting Washington's children against exploitation and predators by increasing criminal penalties, clarifying the legal definition of sexually inappropriate behavior, supporting a package of nine bills related to human trafficking, and personally sponsoring two bills during the 2012 legislative session; and

WHEREAS, Senator Delvin is a man of true convictions who has tirelessly fought for a common sense approach to the environment, been an advocate for clean and safe nuclear energy, and refused to ever drink the Kool-Aid; and

WHEREAS, Senator Delvin's actions in the Senate have benefited the developmentally disabled community with funding and by making various programs readily available for those in need; and

WHEREAS, Senator Delvin, while in the House of Representatives, sponsored two bills ensuring the teaching of the United States and Washington Constitutions, thus educating Washington's children about the foundations of our state and country; and

WHEREAS, Senator Delvin forged many working relationships across the aisle, most notably as part of a dynamic duo with Senator Kohl-Welles, on many issues ranging from human trafficking to medical marijuana; and

WHEREAS, Senator Delvin earned many prestigious awards throughout his life, including the Distinguished Community Service Award for ARC of the Tri-Cities, the Order of Merit from the Peruvian National Police, and most significantly, for saving a woman's life, for which he was awarded the Richland Police Department's Outstanding Commendation; and

WHEREAS, Senator Delvin has traveled internationally, climbed Manaslu in the Nepalese Himalayas, the world's eighth highest peak, and promoted Washington's agriculture and jobs all around the world; and

WHEREAS, Senator Delvin made history when he became the first unofficial chair of the Cigar Caucus; and

WHEREAS, Senator Delvin will be fondly remembered for his quick humor, friendly disposition, and ability to bring levity to even the most tense situations; and

WHEREAS, Senator Delvin's wife of fifteen years, Josie, will be looking forward to spending time with her husband and watching TV in their side-by-side Barcaloungers; and

WHEREAS, Senator Delvin will be leaving the Senate to better serve Benton County as a commissioner and will be deeply missed in the Senate;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honor and recognize Senator Delvin's devout dedication to the citizens of Washington State and the Tri-Cities; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Washington State Senator Jerome Delvin.

Senators Hewitt, Shin, Roach, Holmquist Newbry, Hargrove, Conway, Becker, Murray, Benton and Kohl-Welles spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Parlette: "Senator Delvin, I will miss your sense of humor. We had the respectful workplace training, I let it be very clear with all of my members, let it be known, that all members had to attend. Who didn't show up? Senator Delvin. I gave direction to somebody, 'Please call his office and make sure he gets here.' He showed up and then the next day in caucus he stood up and he said, 'I must be honest, I was going to wear a tee shirt but I decided after the respectful workplace training, what it said on the back would not be appropriate so I changed my mind.' So I appreciate your attendance for that. Most of all I appreciate Jerome's direct, sincere, consistent honesty. It takes courage to say things sometimes that nobody else has the courage to say and Jerome is honest and he has the courage. I will really miss you. Thank you."

Senators Eide, Schoesler and Kline spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8612.

The motion by Senator Hewitt carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Delvin: "Thank you Mr. President. First as, Janea said, I couldn't of done this all this time without my wife, Josie. Who I love dearly, who has been there for me for a lot of tough times. It is bitter sweet that I'm leaving but I think I'm going out on my own terms. You know when I decided that it was time. The opportunity came and I chose to run for the commissioner. Someone else I have to who's been with me, I told her we don't hug, that's my assistant Jeri May whose been with me sixteen years now and, you all know, once you have an LA that's good and you know I get more compliments on her than I do back in the district. You know you have a good LA, you got to support that LA and she's been a dear and she's been there for a lot of tough times and I really appreciate that Jeri, really appreciate that. All of you, you know, gotten to have some really good friends when we've traveled but working, working on issues. I always told myself you know this place is bigger than you are as an individual but, you know, you can be successful, you can get things done by relationships. I always tell new members, you know, you got to build those relationships because that's important. You got to be able to have a cigar or an espresso or a drink after hours and sit down and bond and appreciate the perspectives that everyone else has, that they bring to this institution. Yeah, I guess from being a police officer for so many years, you know, levity sometimes is a good way to break up a tense moments because as a police officer you learn that. You learn sometimes, especially if it's a domestic violence, sometimes you know a little joke now and then can break the tension and also it can piss off the people to though. But, so, I guess that's me. I'm just going to miss everyone here, you know, the experiences I've had. I mean how many people get to fly off an aircraft carrier? You know you can do that as a legislator, you know, if you're at the time with Ralph Munro or something. All the opportunities I've had. You know, I was offered yeah, you need to bring, you know, Tom Fitzsimmons shouldn't come back. You know, I said, 'Show me the money. Show me the money.' You know, no one ever came up with any money and that was spending a tent with him, sometimes, four days in a row, you know, in a snow storm. He did pull me out of a crevasse. I've never forgiven him for that so, I really appreciate that. Just all the good times, Mr. President, with you on some trips and but it's just been a, I can't complain one bit. You know the staff that I've been fortunate to work with too, that staff all of our committees. They are professional. They're excellent. The caucus and the nonpartisan staff. I mean just truly some great people here that I'll certainly miss. But, you know, I will be coming back here as a County Commissioner with my hand out for, you know, more authority and money. You know, I'll be telling you, 'What were you thinking when you passed this one? You know. So, I'll be gracing your doorsteps now and then. Also let me, with the press, I'll end with the press. You know, some of you guys I've known for a long time, you know, and I really respect you, like Eric and Peter Callaghan and John Stang. He's been around for a long time you know, I really appreciate you guys have a job to do. Always, sometimes referred to as the evil necessary for this place but you need to. The latest one. I want you to know, I have two cell phones now. I have two cell phones and I am proud to have two cell phones. But, you know, you have to do what you need to do to bring the press but I thought of some other things but I won't say those about the press. I'll be nice to you all. Well, wait a minute, it's my turn to take a dig at you all. You know, now I have to comply with this open meeting act thing you know, I can't talk to another commissioner because that's considered as a meeting. You know I get that and that's fine but some of this stuff recently just I don't know if that one AP reporter is here but I had one phone call and one email about the article about cell phones but once I explained it they were all good with it. So, you know, some of you guys were awful upset about that. You know, get used to that. It happens every year. They go searching for you know. I've has it for travel before but I think once you explain it to your constituents they get that. So, thank you for highlighting those nice things about us here, appreciate that. But, for all of you, good-bye. I'll be back. You know, it's really been an honor and privilege to serve with all of you and get to know all of you even though maybe we didn't agree sometimes but I'm really going to miss this place and all of you and your all in my prayers. Thank you very much Mr. President."

Amending provisions governing structured settlements by removing age barriers and clarifying legislative intent.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Holmquist Newbry, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5127 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5127 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Hobbs moved that the following amendment by Senator Hobbs and others be adopted:

On page 1, line 5, strike all of section 1 and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 51.04.063 and 2011 1st sp.s. c 37 s 302 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding RCW 51.04.060 or any other provision of this title, beginning on January 1, 2012, an injured worker who is at least fifty-five years of age on or after January 1, 2012, fifty-three years of age on or after January 1, 2015, ~~((or))~~ fifty years of age on or after January 1, 2016, forty-five years of age on or after January 1, 2018, or forty years of age on or after January 1, 2020, may choose from the following: (a) To continue to receive all benefits for which they are eligible under this title, (b) to participate in vocational training if eligible, or (c) to initiate and agree to a resolution of their claim with a structured settlement.

(2)(a) As provided in this section, the parties to an allowed claim may initiate and agree to resolve a claim with a structured settlement for all benefits other than medical. Parties as defined in (b) of this subsection may only initiate claim resolution structured settlements if at least one hundred eighty days have passed since the claim was received by the department or self-insurer and the order allowing the claim is final and binding. All requirements of this title regarding entitlement to and payment of benefits will apply during this period. All claim resolution structured settlement agreements must be approved by the board of industrial insurance appeals.

(b) For purposes of this section, "parties" means:

(i) For a state fund claim, the worker, the employer, and the department. The employer will not be a party if the costs of the claim or claims are no longer included in the calculation of the employer's experience factor used to determine premiums, if they cannot be located, are no longer in business, or they fail to respond or decline to participate after timely notice of the claim resolution settlement process provided by the board and the department.

(ii) For a self-insured claim, the worker and the employer.

(c) The claim resolution structured settlement agreements shall:

(i) Bind the parties with regard to all aspects of a claim except medical benefits unless revoked by one of the parties as provided in subsection (6) of this section;

(ii) Provide a periodic payment schedule to the worker equal to at least twenty-five percent but not more than one hundred fifty percent of the average monthly wage in the state pursuant to RCW 51.08.018, except for the initial payment which may be up to six times the average monthly wage in the state pursuant to RCW 51.08.018;

(iii) Not set aside or reverse an allowance order;

(iv) Not subject any employer who is not a signatory to the agreement to any responsibility or burden under any claim; and

(v) Not subject any funds covered under this title to any responsibility or burden without prior approval from the director or designee.

(d) For state fund claims, the department shall negotiate the claim resolution structured settlement agreement with the worker or their representative and with the employer or employers and their representative or representatives.

(e) For self-insured claims, the self-insured employer shall negotiate the agreement with the worker or their representative. Workers of self-insured employers who are unrepresented may request that the office of the ombudsman for self-insured injured workers provide assistance or be present during negotiations.

(f) Terms of the agreement may include the parties' agreement that the claim shall remain open for future necessary medical or surgical treatment related to the injury where there is a reasonable expectation such treatment is necessary. The parties may also agree that specific future treatment shall be provided without the application required in RCW 51.32.160.

(g) Any claim resolution structured settlement agreement entered into under this section must be in writing and signed by the parties or their representatives and must clearly state that the parties understand and agree to the terms of the agreement.

(h) If a worker is not represented by an attorney at the time of signing a claim resolution structured settlement agreement, the parties must forward a copy of the signed agreement to the board with a request for a conference with an industrial appeals judge. The industrial appeals judge must schedule a conference with all parties within fourteen days for the purpose of (i) reviewing the terms of the proposed settlement agreement by the parties; and (ii) ensuring the worker has an understanding of the benefits generally available under this title and that a claim resolution structured settlement agreement may alter the benefits payable on the claim or claims. The judge may schedule the initial conference for a later date with the consent of the parties.

(i) Before approving the agreement, the industrial appeals judge shall ensure the worker has an adequate understanding of the agreement and its consequences to the worker.

(j) The industrial appeals judge may approve a claim resolution structured settlement agreement only if the judge finds that the agreement is in the best interest of the worker. When determining whether the agreement is in the best interest of the worker, the industrial appeals judge shall consider the following factors, taken as a whole, with no individual factor being determinative:

(i) The nature and extent of the injuries and disabilities of the worker;

(ii) The age and life expectancy of the injured worker;

(iii) Other benefits the injured worker is receiving or is entitled to receive and the effect a claim resolution structured settlement agreement might have on those benefits; and

(iv) The marital or domestic partnership status of the injured worker.

(k) Within seven days after the conference, the industrial appeals judge shall issue an order allowing or rejecting the claim resolution structured settlement agreement. There is no appeal from the industrial appeals judge's decision.

(l) If the industrial appeals judge issues an order allowing the claim resolution structured settlement agreement, the order must be submitted to the board.

(3) Upon receiving the agreement, the board shall approve it within thirty working days of receipt unless it finds that:

(a) The parties have not entered into the agreement knowingly and willingly;

(b) The agreement does not meet the requirements of a claim resolution structured settlement agreement;

(c) The agreement is the result of a material misrepresentation of law or fact;

(d) The agreement is the result of harassment or coercion; or

(e) The agreement is unreasonable as a matter of law.

(4) If a worker is represented by an attorney at the time of signing a claim resolution structured settlement agreement, the parties shall submit the agreement directly to the board without the conference described in this section. The requirements of a claim resolution structured settlement agreement for the purposes of subsection (3) of this section do not include the determination under subsection (2)(j) of this section if a worker is represented by an attorney at the time of signing a claim resolution structured settlement agreement.

(5) If the board approves the agreement, it shall provide notice to all parties. The department shall place the agreement in the applicable claim file or files.

(6) A party may revoke consent to the claim resolution structured settlement agreement by providing written notice to the other parties and the board within thirty days after the date the agreement is approved by the board.

(7) To the extent the worker is entitled to any benefits while a claim resolution structured settlement agreement is being negotiated or during the revocation period of an agreement, the benefits must be paid pursuant to the requirements of this title until the agreement becomes final.

(8) A claim resolution structured settlement agreement that meets the conditions in this section and that has become final and binding as provided in this section is binding on all parties to the agreement as to its terms and the injuries and occupational diseases to which the agreement applies. A claim resolution structured settlement agreement that has become final and binding is not subject to appeal.

(9) All payments made to a worker pursuant to a final claim resolution structured settlement agreement must be reported to the department as claims costs pursuant to this title. If a self-insured employer contracts with a third-party administrator for claim services and the payment of benefits under this title, the third-party administrator shall also disburse the structured settlement payments pursuant to the agreement.

(10) Claims closed pursuant to a claim resolution structured settlement agreement can be reopened pursuant to RCW 51.32.160 for medical treatment only. Further temporary total, temporary partial, permanent partial, or permanent total benefits are not payable under the same claim or claims for which a claim resolution structured settlement agreement has been approved by the board and has become final.

(11) Parties aggrieved by the failure of any other party to comply with the terms of a claim resolution structured settlement agreement have one year from the date of failure to comply to petition to the board. If the board determines that a party has failed to comply with an agreement, they will order compliance and will impose a penalty payable to the aggrieved party of up to twenty-five percent of the monetary amount unpaid at the time the petition for noncompliance was filed. The board will also decide on any disputes as to attorneys' fees for services related to claim resolution structured settlement agreements.

(12) Parties and their representatives may not use settlement offers or the claim resolution structured settlement agreement process to harass or coerce any party. If the department determines that an employer has engaged in a pattern of harassment or coercion, the employer may be subject to penalty or corrective action, and may be removed from the retrospective rating program or be decertified from self-insurance under RCW 51.14.030."

Senators Hobbs, Nelson and Rolfes spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Senators Sheldon, Holmquist Newbry, Becker, Baumgartner and Honeyford spoke against adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Hobbs and others on page 1, line 5 to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5127.

The motion by Senator Hobbs failed and the amendment was not adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

Senator Holmquist Newbry moved that the rules be suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5127 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill be placed on final passage.

Senator Frockt objected to the motion by Senator Holmquist Newbry to suspend the rules to expedite the readings of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5127.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5127 was deferred and the bill held its place on the days calendar.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5112, by Senators Holmquist Newbry, Sheldon, Braun and Hewitt

Granting scheduling authority for qualified retrospective rating plan employers and groups.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Hewitt moved that the rules be suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5112 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill be placed on final passage.

Senator Frockt objected to the motion by Senator Holmquist Newbry to suspend the rules to expedite the readings of Senate Bill No. 5112.

MOTION

Senator Fain moved that further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5112 be deferred and that the measure hold its place on the day's calendar.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Benton: "“Point of clarification, Mr. President: We are not moving to third reading and voting on the bill for what reason?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

NINETEENTH DAY, FEBRUARY 1, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

President Owen: "It is not the President's place to tell you what reason."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Benton: "I don't know. Was there an objection to going to the third reading?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "There was an objection."

There being no objection, the President declared further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5112 deferred and the measure held its place on the day's calendar.

LETTER OF RESIGNATION

January 25, 2013

Governor Jay Inslee
PO Box 40002
Olympia, WA 98504

Re: Resignation from the Washington State Senate as of February 3, 2013

Dear Governor Inslee:

It has been my honor to serve the 8th Legislative District since my election to the House of Representatives in November of 1994 and my later appointment to the State Senate in May of 2004. It is with a humble heart and great anticipation that I am giving notification of my resignation as a member of the Washington State Legislature. I pray that I was able to serve my district and this great state by giving back as much as I have received.

I decided that I could better fight for the priorities of the Tri-Cities on a local level and was elected Benton County Commission in November of 2012. I was sworn in on December 27, 2012. Therefore, pursuant to RCW 42.12.020, please accept my resignation from the Washington State Senate effective Sunday, February 3, 2013.

I wish you God's speed and much success in your new role as Governor.

Cordially yours,
JEROME DELVIN, State Senator
8th Legislative District

Cc:
Secretary of the Senate, Hunter Goodman
Senator Rodney Tom, Coalition Majority Leader
Senator Mark Schoesler, Republican Leader
Senator Ed Murray, Democratic Leader

BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
BENTON COUNTY WASHINGTON

Resolution No. 2013 060

BEFORE THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF
BENTON COUNTY, WASHINGTON

IN THE MATTER OF APPOINTMENT OF SHARON
BROWN AS STATE SENATOR FOR DISTRICT 8.

WHEREAS, Senator Jerome Delvin resigned his position as State Senator for District 8; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Benton County Commissioners are required by law to make an appointment to fill the vacated position; and

WHEREAS, the Board has reviewed all candidates and feels Sharon Brown would be the best candidate to fill the vacated position; NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Benton County Commissioners that Sharon Brown is hereby appointed in accordance with the Washington State Constitution, Article 2, Section 15, to serve until the next general election as State Senator for District 8.

Dated this 28th Day of January 2013

Shon Small, Chairman of the Board
Jerome Delvin, Chairman Pro Tem
James Beaver, Member

BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
BENTON COUNTY

February 5, 2013

Hunter Goodman
Secretary of the Senate
PO Box 40482
Olympia, WA 98504

Dear Secretary Goodman:

The three Benton County Commissioners from the 8th Legislative District met in Kennewick, Washington at 2:30 p.m. on January 28, 2013 to interview candidates for Senator Jerome Delvin's open Senate seat.

Commissioners present: Chairman Shon Small, Commissioner James Beaver, and Commissioner Jerome Delvin.

Two candidates (Larry Haler and Sharon Brown) selected by the Republican Precinct Committee Officers of the 8th Legislative District and presented to Benton County by the Washington State Republican Party were present at the meeting and one candidate (Brad Klippert) was present by teleconference. Following interviews, Sharon Brown was selected as Senator Jerome Delvin's successor by the following vote:

AYE: 3
NAY: 0
ABSTAIN: 0
ABSENT: 0

A copy of Ms. Brown's resume is enclosed, along with a copy of Benton County Resolution No. 2013—6- appointing Sharon Brown as State Senator for District 8.

Please let us know if you need anything further.

Sincerely,

TWENTY SECOND DAY, FEBRUARY 4, 2013

MOTION

Senator Benton, having voted on the prevailing side, gave notice of reconsideration of the vote by which Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5127 passed the senate.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Since we have most of the members here and the new members particularly, the President would do a clarification: It's quite often said that you may not mention the other house. You can mention the other house. They are going to have a party, great group of people what you cannot do in debate is mention the actions on a measure so that it would affect how you vote or how the outcome of that measure would be in this body. So mentioning the other house is allowed, mentioning the actions of the other house and how it would affect your legislation is not allowed."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fain: "Just want to remind members, as we move through this week and into the next, that our new members will be doing their maiden speeches and so I want to remind those members to contact my office to have those scheduled. Also to remind members that the niceness of your gift is proportional to the number of times that you speak prior to giving us a gift so I'm very looking forward to Senator Hasegawa's gift."

MOTION

At 2:09 p.m., on motion of Senator Fain, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon Tuesday, February 5, 2013.

BRAD OWEN, President of the Senate

On motion of Senator Fain, Senate Rule 20 was suspended for the remainder of the day to allow consideration of additional floor resolutions.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Senate Rule 20 limits consideration of floor resolutions not essential to the operation of the Senate to one per day during regular daily sessions.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate advanced to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

Senator Benton withdrew the notice of reconsideration of the vote by which Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5127 passed the senate, given the previous day.

MOTION

Senator Benton moved adoption of the following resolution:

8614

By Senator Benton

WHEREAS, One hundred two years ago on this day, February 6, Ronald Wilson Reagan was born in Tampico, Illinois; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan understood the engine of the private sector, having worked as an actor, radio broadcaster, and television host; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan believed in the value of self-deprecating humor in political life, once remarking, "The best minds are not in government. If any were, business would hire them away"; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan realized his Presidential duty to communicate openly with the American people and spoke with honesty, grace, and humility; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan boldly invoked the theme of American greatness in his speeches, and referred to America as a "shining city on the hill"; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan was a loving and devoted husband, taking time out of his busy schedule as President to write love notes to his wife, Nancy; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan's top policy issue was defeating communism, as he bravely challenged the Soviet Premier in Berlin by saying, "Mr. Gorbachev, tear down this wall"; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan was mindful of every threat to America and brought about the downfall of the Soviet Union, ending the Cold War; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan determined that one key to a prosperous economy was a low tax rate and implemented the biggest tax cut in United States history at the time; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan was an advocate for freedom and a true believer in the American dream, once observing that, "We have every right to dream historic dreams and after all why shouldn't we believe that? We are Americans"; and

WHEREAS, In these troubling economic times, it is imperative to remember Ronald Reagan, as Margaret Thatcher reminds us, ". . . we have one beacon to guide us that Ronald Reagan never had, we have his example";

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honor and cherish the life and work of President Ronald Wilson Reagan.

Senators Benton, Schoesler, King, Honeyford, Padden, Shin, Rolfes and Kohl-Welles spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8614.

WHEREAS, Not all women and girls win championships or trophies, but still compete to the best of their abilities and give their all, sometimes suffering career-ending injury or even death in competition, the state recognizes the valiant efforts of all women and girl athletes in this state, especially athletes such as young Jacoby Miles who was paralyzed during gymnastics practice in November; and

WHEREAS, The National Girls and Women In Sport Coalition, established in 1987, declared February 6, 2013, to be National Girls and Women in Sports Day; and

WHEREAS, These women and many more not mentioned here are sterling examples of what is possible through hard work, focus, and determination;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honor Washington girls and women in sports on February 6, 2013, and encourage others to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies and activities; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to all of the aforementioned athletes and their respective institutions.

Senators Kohl-Welles and Dammeier spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8615.

The motion by Senator Kohl-Welles carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced: Miss Kevelyn Richards, Seattle University swim team member; Craig Nisgor, Seattle University Head Women's swim coach; Roxanne Levenson, Seattle University Associate Athletic Director/Senior Woman Administrator; and Kyle Scholzen, Seattle University Assistant Sports Information Director who were present in the gallery and recognized by the Senate.

The President welcomed and introduced Oly Rollers roller derby team members: Sassy, Tannibal Lector; Lil' Tonka; Dainty Disaster; Misty Miyagi; Snickerbrutal; Blasian Invasion; AnaConda; and Whamsday Addams who were present in the gallery and recognized by the Senate.

The President welcomed and introduced former Senator Ken Jacobsen, lifetime advocate for women's equality in sports, who was present in the gallery and recognized by the Senate.

The President welcomed and introduced the reigning Miss Auburn 2013, Miss Victoria Knight, guest of Senator Fain. Miss Knight is a graduate of Governor John R. Rogers High School in Puyallup, former Miss Daffodil Princess and Miss Washington's Outstanding Teen 2008. Miss Knight is a junior at the University of Washington-Tacoma and co-founded the charitable organization Queens for A Cure in 2009 a benefit pageant for the Susan G. Komen for the Cure organization, raising awareness of breast cancer and funds for breast cancer research.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fain: "Yes, I rise because I gave a little bit of issue with some of our incoming freshman that many of them had a lot to say prior to their first speech and I wanted to compliment the good member from the Twenty-Fifth District because I believe that his honoring of women in sports today actually qualifies as his first speech. I have a feeling we may be hearing from him again in a moment and so I just wanted to thank him for heeding my advice to get on with it and share the better part of your district with all of us and we look forward to hearing that. So, I for one, would like to welcome Senator Dammeier to the State Senate.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Tom: “Well, living on the east side I always here these radio commercials and one of the traditions in the senate after your first speech you give a gift to the senate members here on the floor. When I’m listening to the radio I always here Puyallup is where you get cars so I’m really looking forward to the incredible gifts from our generous member from the Twenty-Fifth District. Senator Dammeier is going to make a great senator. He is replacing an incredible friend of mine, a team mate I would say in Senator Kastama. You have a great tradition to hold in that district and we look forward to working with you, in, one, your strong support of education and, secondly, the strong family values that you bring with your passion not only for your family but the families in your community. Welcome to the Senate.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: “Well thank you Mr. President. Regarding the previous speaker and the new senator’s gift I don’t ask for a set of keys to a car like the previous speaker but knowing that the new member served on the Goodwill Board of Directors I hope that he didn’t take that role literally in shopping for our gifts. While I realized that he supplements his own wardrobe by cutting to the front of the line at the Goodwill store, I hope that we don’t get that and I also hope that he rises above the agricultural commodity of rhubarb in the gift. We learned long ago that Pierce County were the top producers of rhubarb. It’s out of season and not really here for us and it’s a little early for daffodils from Pierce County so I hope somewhere between rhubarb and daffodils and the keys to cars in Puyallup we will find an appropriate gift for this body.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Dammeier: “Thank you Mr. President. I think that the good gentleman from the forty-eighth may have mistaken me for Oprah Winfrey there for a second. Having gone to the Naval Academy I must admit the hazing here is far less than that which I experienced there and since it is we are honoring women in sports I feel compelled to point out that Senator Braun’s daughter is a track athlete at the United States Naval Academy as we speak. So, Mr. President, I was a little bit torn as to what would be an appropriate gift to provide the Senate in celebration of my inaugural speech here but I thought I’d been hearing a lot recently about how senators are extremely hungry and don’t have time to satisfy their hunger. So what I thought I would do would share with this body one of the favorite food groups from my home town and that is some fresh hot fair scones today. I realize I am walking a fine line here with the President because it is food on the floor and I want the President to know that I am respectful of his rule of no food on the floor but I’m hoping that the members can restrain from eating the food on the floor and being subject to your wrath Mr. President but that will be on them. Thank you very much Mr. President.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator Dammeier, the President is a great fan of Puyallup fair scones and as long as one makes it up this way he is willing to suspend his own rule of decorum for this moment in time and allow the members if they so desire to eat their scones on the floor.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hewitt: “Thank you Mr. President. This is my thirteenth year in the legislature and I’m just now starting to understand the reason we don’t get along in this state. The good senator from the forty-eighth said he’s from the east side. He is definitely not from the east side. He does not resemble anyone from the east side. He doesn’t think like anyone from the east side, He is not from the east side Mr. President. I could name the senators in this body that are from east side. He is not from the east side and I just wanted to make that point clear. Senator Tom, you are not from the east side.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Benton: “Mr. President, I want to point out to the good senator from the twenty-fifth is well prepared today, obviously. We are receiving his wonderful gift here on the very same day he’s made his maiden speech. I just wanted to point out his timeliness is very much appreciated and I’m hoping that Senator Hasegawa will take note of Senator Dammeier’s punctuality in terms of the gift. It’s been, I think, three weeks now since were subjected to the screeching of the good senator and as a result of listening to that we are supposed to be receiving a gift and we have yet to receive that gift and I think that gift needs to have compounding interest added to it the longer we wait to receive it. So, I see that he’s conveniently not in his seat to hear this talk but I’m sure that his colleagues will pass our concerns along to him. Thank you Mr. President.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “The President has located him in the back couch there. That’s Senator Hasegawa right back there.”

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Darneille: "Mr. President, with your indulgence, I'd just like to tell you that I'm very moved by the previous speaker and so this being the occasion of my first floor speech I wonder if I might also talk a little about the Twenty-seventh district while I'm standing?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "No. Senator, I'm just kidding. If it's pertinent to the bill, we'd love to hear your comments."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DARNEILLE

Senator Darneille: "It's actually pertinent to the action here today on the floor Mr. President. Thank you for your indulgence."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Very good."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Darneille: "We had a resolution earlier on the floor regarding President Reagan's legacy and I too wanted to speak but that resolution got passed me before I could because now I have with me my gift from my district that I wanted to give to all of you, it is, it starts with jelly beans and it is an homage, if you will, to bi-partisanship and to President Reagan's well-published love for jelly beans. The jelly beans themselves are jelly bellies. There are, indeed, forty-nine flavors of jelly bellies. So I thought it also very symbolic of our gathering here today that there are, in fact, forty-nine of us so there forty-nine flavors of us I guess. I have also attached to each of my packets of jelly beans a playing card. Now, I don't think that there are gamblers here. It's not that kind of a card but it's actually a unique card to my district. These are cards that are done by artists in my district. They have self-published all of these. These are called the Tacoma Washington playing cards. Each of the cards is different and depicts artistic or photographic renderings of sights in my district. So, they're all unique; Java Jive; Pt. Defiance Park; The Art Museum; Bridge of Glass; many, many reasons for all of you, as you're driving by on the freeway through Tacoma and thinking that that is what Tacoma is, need to pull off at exit 133 and really see my district. So, as these come around, they'll each have a different card of course and two of you, completely random-Senator Tom, I know you won't get one of these-but there are two jokers in the deck and so I hope that those of you that do receive the jokers know that you will receive a full deck of the cards. So, these are actually great artistic works. They show great diversity of my district and I hope that you will enjoy them very much. I will need some help handing them out so I don't know what the procedure is for doing that but hope you'll all come to the Twenty-seventh district. Thank you very much."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Darneille, the President is just working really hard to figure out how we've stretched this into a discussion about milk?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR DARNEILLE

Senator Darneille: "I said I was very mooved."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5139.

ROLL CALL

WHEREAS, These recognized leaders in state, regional, and national preparedness, who reside in nearly every legislative district throughout Washington, volunteer their time and put personal lives aside when the needs of the people of Washington state arise; and

WHEREAS, The Guard always answers the state's call in response to all emergency efforts and to protect lives and property; and

WHEREAS, The Washington Army and Air National Guard continue to provide critical mission support to Operation Enduring Freedom around the world to include Afghanistan, Kuwait, the Philippines, and the Horn of Africa, as well as supporting Federal mission requirements throughout the continental United States; and

WHEREAS, The Guard continues to train and prepare for both natural disasters and threats to our national security; and

WHEREAS, The Guard continues to promote positive lifestyles and activities for Washington's youth through involvement in and support of highly effective drug prevention programs with school-aged children and community-based organizations and the continued success and ongoing work of the invaluable Washington Youth Academy; and

WHEREAS, The Guard continues to actively participate in the state's counterdrug efforts by providing soldiers, airmen, and specialized equipment to over thirty-four local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies and community-based and other organizations; and

WHEREAS, The Guard adds value to communities by opening its Readiness Centers for public and other community and youth activities use. The Guard continues to build upon these Readiness Centers and Armories throughout the state to enhance education, add to quality of life, and increase economic vitality;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate express its thanks and appreciation to the devoted families and dedicated employers of our Washington National Guard soldiers and airmen for their support, without whom the Guard's missions could not be successful; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Senate recognize the value and dedication of a strong Washington National Guard to the viability, economy, safety, security, and well-being of this state, both through the outstanding performance of its state emergency and disaster relief mission, and through the continued benefit to local communities by the presence of productively employed, drug-free, well-equipped, and trained Guard units and the readiness centers and armories that house them; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to The Adjutant General of the Washington National Guard, the Governor of the State of Washington, the Secretaries of the United States Army and Air Force, and the President of the United States.

Senators Hobbs, King, Shin and Conway spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8613.

The motion by Senator Hobbs carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: "I would just like to say welcome to Senator Pearson to the Washington State Senate."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Pearson: "Thank you Mr. President and thank you all. I would like to acknowledge what's on your table. This was put together by, if you look at the items, they're items throughout the state of Washington. Carolyn Eslick from my district in Sultan has a company called Grow Washington and these are products and actually, when I, went to her some of the people that make these products were very excited that they're coming before all of you here and I hope that you know these are all locally grown products. I have no, I heard that there is soap and I'm not trying to insult anybody saying they smell or anything like that but all kinds of things in here. I hope you enjoy and if there are businesses in your district, please visit them because they are very excited. Thank you Mr. President."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Pearson, I don't see anything."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hargrove: "Well, I'd like to welcome Senator Pearson to the Senate. It's nice to finally have somebody here that has a bigger neck than I have. I've gotten lots of comments from your caucus saying how they're glad you're here to protect them from me so that it even things out. I wanted to know, however, are there some of those dog bones in here that you were talking about? I'm looking forward to that. Anyway, welcome."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ranker: "I want to welcome the good Senator from the Thirty-ninth whose taken over a past jurisdiction that is mine that is very near and dear to me, Natural Resources. I think your tenure in the last few weeks as chair of that very important jurisdiction has been fascinating from hearing bills about killing wolves, to stealing bills that should be in other jurisdictions, to just a wonderful, wonderful plethora of brand new remarkable ideas. I am very pleased to see you in that jurisdiction but most of all I'm pleased because the shininess coming off the top of your head makes the President a little less visible sometimes, so, thank you for that. I know that will cost me something Mr. President. In all seriousness Mr. Chair, welcome to the Senate. It's great to have you hear and I really appreciate your thoughtfulness with the issues and your willingness to hear all sides of points of views and I think that's going to carry you a long way. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Baumgartner: "I would also like to welcome the good Senator to this august body. He's a true gentleman. I think he's going to be a superstar talent here and we're just very, very pleased that he is here. I'm also very happy for a couple of other reasons which, as the good Senator Hargrove having a bigger neck, I'm sure that his head is still smaller. Also when I first showed up in this body Senator Hargrove grabbed my arm and said something about my scrawny biceps and I'm just glad our team has somebody that can power lift Senator Hargrove should we need to. Welcome."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Shin: "I've known Senator Kirk for many, many years. Tuesday morning devotionals. I've learned to love him and respect him and all the things too but you know what? His wife is much, much prettier than he is. You're a very lucky man."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Roach: "Thank you. Well, I wanted to tell the good Senator from actually Aberdeen, Hoquiam area. Where did he go? There two reasons that a man may have a big neck. Senator Pearson is a weight lifter. So he can bench press over three hundred pounds, we just talked about it today and for those of you that have big necks for other reasons we all have to work about that. We should join him in the gym. But when you go by his office at the end of the day he's got a pair of shorts on, he's going out to work out and I appreciate the good example that you are. It didn't help that my daughter-in-law does this. I didn't follow the example, but you're going out every day may help. Thanks so much and great to have you here."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kline: "You know the members may not know this but Senator Pearson and I share constituents. It's not because of re-districting but in the correctional institution in Monroe we have a number of constituents who are common, you might say. Unfortunately, due to antiquated laws of our own, they can't vote. But with that I know that given his committee assignments and mine we are going to continue to work for those mutual constituents and do a very good job across the aisle. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hobbs: "I'd like to thank and welcome Senator Pearson coming to this body. I know that Senator Hargrove is pleased too because now, finally, he can start his troll caucus so he's really happy about that. I do question his fiscal conservatism.

2013 REGULAR SESSION

I was talking to the Senate Cafeteria and they told me since he's been here they've had to increase their food orders by twenty percent so they may have to charge us more. Thank you for coming here."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5077, by Senators Kohl-Welles, Holmquist Newbry and Keiser

Making technical corrections to certain gender-based terms.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Kohl-Welles, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5077 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5077 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

Senator Kohl-Welles spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Padden: "Would the lady from the Thirty-sixth district yield to a question? Senator, I just wondered, did you read all four hundred seventy four pages of this bill?"

Senator Kohl-Welles: "I did not have to read all four hundred seventy some pages of this bill because I have great faith in the Code Reviser's Office but what I did read was the two and a half page list of the actual terms that are being amended, being changed. For example; dairy man is changed to dairy farmer."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5077.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5077 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; Nays, 0; Absent, 1; Excused, 0.

Concerning the enforcement of speed limits on roads within condominium associations.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bailey, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5113 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senator Bailey spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5113.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5113 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 49; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Baumgartner, Becker, Benton, Billig, Braun, Brown, Carrell, Chase, Cleveland, Conway, Dammeier, Darneille, Eide, Ericksen, Fain, Fraser, Frockt, Hargrove, Harper, Hasegawa, Hatfield, Hewitt, Hill, Hobbs, Holmquist, Newbry, Honeyford, Keiser, King, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Litzow, McAuliffe, Mullet, Murray, Nelson, Padden, Parlette, Pearson, Ranker, Rivers, Roach, Rolfes, Schlicher, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Smith and Tom

SENATE BILL NO. 5113, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: "Would the kind lady from the Tenth district yield to a question or two? Senator Bailey, been very busy lately with affairs of the majority caucus and I haven't had time to study legislation as closely as I should have. Having worked with you on the other side of the rotunda, I came up with several questions I should have asked before I voted on this bill. First, does it have an emergency clause? Second, is there anything to do with gain sharing? Third, was there anything in this bill related to retire-rehire policies?"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Conway: "I want to welcome Senator Bailey. Senator Bailey and I worked for years on the pension policy together and Senator Schoesler brought that up. We called her 'EC Bailey' for Emergency Clause Bailey, alright. You know it's great to have her with us to continue our work. She's been a great partner on pension policy issues on the select committee and also, incidentally, a great participant on the Select Committee on Veterans and Military Affairs. Welcome. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Chase: "Well, I would like to extend my welcome also to Senator Bailey and second some of the comments that Senator Schoesler made. You know, I used to sit across the floor from Senator Bailey and she was up on every single bill that ever went through there asking those very same questions and I, Mr. President, had intended to ask her some questions about this homeowner bill and I, against my better judgment, decided to join in with you passing this bill and welcome you. I look forward in working with you again."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Becker: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, I have to tell you I think each and every person out here has a different style of communication and a different speed. When I met Barbara, Senator Bailey, I heard this woman that talks slow and here I am la la la and Barbara, Senator Bailey, is just this slow talking, southern lady. It is so much fun to sit and listen to you, number one, but listen to the thinking that goes behind that slow speech. I totally appreciate you. I have totally enjoyed you and I welcome you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kohl-Welles: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, there's been a lot going on in the senate over the last four weeks and I have changed committees from chairing the Senate Labor and Commerce Committee and now I'm ranking member on the Higher Education Committee and regardless of all the issues that have come up, where there's been some disagreement in our Senate I'd like to say it's been a real pleasure working with Senator Bailey. She is now Chair of the Higher Education Committee and I'm the Ranking Minority Member and I don't believe there could be anybody better with whom to work. She's been so gracious and has been working in a bipartisan way, collaboratively, and I think it's just wonderful she's in the position."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator King: "Well, I would like to welcome the good Senator Bailey to this floor and I would like to say to you that if we could find more bills that we could get Senator Bailey and Senator Kohl-Welles to talk on, we would only pass half the bills out of here that we normally would."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Parlette: "Well, I know there is a good Senator, on the opposite side of the aisle, that does like everything to be gender-neutral, but I have to tell you it's wonderful to have another women in our caucus."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ericksen: "Well, thank you Mr. President. I would like to welcome the good Senator here to join us in this body. Served many years with her in the house and a wonderful person and every chamber needs a little bit of southern charm and southern spirit in their midst. If you haven't had a chance yet, you need to call up Senator Bailey's cell phone and listen all the way to the end of the message. You get there and you hear that that's been there the entire time I've have known you, in that great voice, saying 'Go out there and make it a great day.' It's a great message so I really hope you'll listen all the way through it the next time you call Senator Bailey and hear her message. The other thing that I want to stress, I know that this chamber is all about gender equity and neutrality, I'd like to say the way that we treated the gentleman from the Thirty-ninth, compared to the way the good gentle lady from the tenth shows a very big difference in how we treat our members here on the floor so I'm not sure how Kirk should feel about that with the treatment of him today."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Darneille: "Both the previous new freshman in our body, came into the house the same year I did so I've known

TWENTY SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 8, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

Senator Bailey for twelve years and I just want to warn everyone here as you're doing your bill drafts there's just one small little thing Senator Bailey requests of you and that is to resist the temptation to place an emergency clause on any bill. I'm very happy that we're here together and we worked well. We worked dates many times for the across-the-aisle dinners in the house and since she's half my size I could peer over her at every chance but I'm, very much am happy that you're here with me. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Bailey: "Well, first of all let me say thank you to the comments that were made. I do speak a little slower at times but if you get me riled up you'll find out that I can also speak very fast and some of you have actually have heard that before. I want to talk though, today about the gift that I am giving each of you from the Tenth district and, if you will indulge me Mr. President, I want to take this body on a bit of a journey. In the tenth district. If you notice it on your gift there is a small ferry boat, Mr. Chairman of the transportation system, which is very important to our district. So when you first arrive on south Whidbey Island, you've just gotten off the ferry, you make your way up the Island, you're going to come past other places like Langley and Coupeville and on then to Oak Harbor where you'll also find a little goodie in this bag from Oak Harbor from a place called Seabolts Restaurant. Seabolts is one of the larger groups, restaurant and actually producer of smoked salmon. They, without giving too much commercial, they also ship all over the country and outside of the country. Very well known. I would invite you to enjoy that piece of salmon that's in this. You would also note in your card the ferry boat actually I bought from Oak Harbor and with the help of one our merchants there in Oak Harbor. Then you travel on across Deception Pass bridge which is, Mr. President there's a picture of Deception Pass bridge on your little note that you will find tucked in your goodie bag, and take a view there and then work your way on Highway 20 over to Skagit Valley where Deception Pass Bridge, the picture there in your mind is only surpassed by the picture you'll see in Skagit Valley where the tulips grow. It's a wonderful, wonderful beautiful place. As you come down then Highway I-5 towards, back toward your destination, wherever that might be, you'll also come upon a little sign that says Stanwood, Camano Island. I would invite you to go to Camano Island and you will find in your goodie bad a little bag of coffee from Camano Island Roasters, who have been very good to us here at the legislature in some of our international trade trips that we've made by supplying some items for us to take with us. It's a wonderful district, full of lots of things to see and I am absolutely thrilled and very humbled and privileged to be able to represent them here in the State Senate. If that's not enough, when you leave my district right at the edge of the district there's a little place called Angle of the Wind's Casino so you can stop there, some of you, fill your cup that they gave you and if it's raining outside you can still use the umbrella to get back to your car and on your way home. Please come see my district. I thank you so much. This is really such a privilege to be able to serve in this body. Thank you Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Carrell: "Well, looking at the gifts we've received and the comments by Senator Tom the other day about Senator Dammeier, 'Where's the car?' We're progressively getting better and better gifts. So I'm really looking forward to the next couple senators that will be introducing themselves on the floor of the Senate."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Benton: "Just a reminder, Mr. President, we are still waiting for one Senator's gift and I have to point out to him the stakes are rising. He better hurry up or he might find himself in great debt to try to keep up. So, the early bird catches the worm, Senator Hasegawa."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5110, by Senators Tom, Murray, Hill and McAuliffe

Regarding local government purchasing. Revised for 1st Substitute: Concerning local government purchasing of supplies, materials, or equipment.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Tom, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5110 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5110 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Tom moved that the following amendment by Senator Tom and others be adopted:

On page 2, beginning on line 17, strike all of subsection (3)(a) and insert the following:

"(a) "Tax revenue" means sales taxes that units of local government impose upon the sale of supplies, materials, or equipment from the supplier to units of local government, and business and occupation taxes that units of local government impose upon the supplier that are measured by the gross receipts of the supplier from the sale."

Senators Tom and Hasegawa spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Tom and others on page 2, line 17 to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5110.

The motion by Senator Tom carried and the amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Tom, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5110 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senator Tom spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hatfield, Senator Hobbs was excused.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hasegawa: "Since everybody seems to be keeping track of the number of times I'm standing here, I thought I would roll my congratulations into Senators Pearson, Bailey and Mullet into this minority response on 5110 so it doesn't run up my tally count. Thank you for the point of personal privilege Mr. President. This is really a great little bill, it's going to do a lot to help our small businesses in our communities or medium size or whose ever contracting to the...Was I out of order? He doesn't, gavel yet me so...

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "I'm not sure that's allowed. Go ahead."

Senator Hasegawa: "Thank you for the latitude Mr. President. No this really is a good bill that's going to help local government stimulate the economies within their jurisdictions and I'm surprised we haven't been doing this all along. So, we concur with this. Thanks."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5110.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5110 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Baumgartner, Becker, Benton, Billig, Braun, Brown, Carrell, Chase, Cleveland, Conway, Dammeier, Darneille, Eide, Ericksen, Fain, Fraser, Frockt, Hargrove, Harper, Hasegawa, Hatfield, Hewitt, Hill, Holmquist Newbry, Honeyford, Keiser, King, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Litzow, McAuliffe, Mullet, Murray, Nelson, Padden, Parlette, Pearson, Ranker, Rivers, Roach, Rolfes, Schlicher, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Smith and Tom

Excused: Senator Hobbs

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5110, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5104, by Senators Mullet, Frockt, Hatfield, Litzow, Ericksen, Fain and Kohl-Welles

Placing epinephrine autoinjectors in schools.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Mullet moved that the following amendment by Senator Mullet be adopted:

On page 3, line 17, after "(c)" insert "School employees, except those licensed under chapter 18.79 RCW, who have not agreed in writing to the use of epinephrine autoinjectors as a specific part of their job description, may file with the school district a written letter of refusal to use epinephrine autoinjectors. This written letter of refusal may not serve as grounds for discharge, nonrenewal of an employment contract, or other action adversely affecting the employee's contract status.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Mullet on page 3, line 17 to Senate Bill No. 5104.

The motion by Senator Mullet carried and the amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mullet, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5104 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senator Mullet spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Mullet, the President would respectfully point out Rule 29 to you that says, 'When any Senator is about to speak and debate or submit any matter to the Senate, the Senator shall rise, and standing in place, respectfully address the President.' I did notice that I was staring mostly at your back."

Senator Litzow spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

REMARKS BY SENATOR FAIN

Senator Fain: "Thank you Mr. President, I'd like to suspend whatever rule that is required so that Senator Hasegawa may not speak more than once for the remainder of the legislative session."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "I think that is the new Hasegawa rule."

Senators Hasegawa and McAuliffe spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5104.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5104 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Baumgartner, Becker, Benton, Billig, Braun, Brown, Carrell, Chase, Cleveland, Conway, Dammeier, Darneille, Eide, Ericksen, Fain, Fraser, Frockt, Hargrove, Harper, Hasegawa, Hatfield, Hewitt, Hill, Holmquist Newbry, Honeyford, Keiser, King, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Litzow, McAuliffe, Mullet, Murray, Nelson, Padden, Parlette, Pearson, Ranker, Rivers, Roach, Rolfes, Schlicher, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Smith and Tom

Excused: Senator Hobbs

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5104, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Mullet: "So the Fifth district is, they're helping me out, I like it. So the fifth district, I'm from Issaquah it's famous for a lot of things, Snoqualmie Falls is one of the top five tourist attractions in the state and when we have paragliding off of Tiger Mountain and we also have the best pizza restaurant in the State of Washington along with the best ice cream store in the State of Washington. Many people travel from across the state to visit these locations. So as the gift for this body, pizza doesn't travel very well, ice cream does. I did some research. Ben & Jerry's Ice Cream has some flavors based on famous celebrities so I wanted to find a flavor that would reflect my Republican colleagues in the Senate Chamber so I did some research and I found a show that's called the Colbert Report, I guess, and its hosted by Steven Colbert who seems to have ideology that match a lot of the Republican Party and he has his ice cream flavor, 'AmeriCone Dream' and so at the conclusion of this I will be scooping 'AmeriCone Dream' for everyone in the Republican Caucus. For my Democratic counterparts, the flavor I found is actually a flavor that kind of connects with I-502, that recently passed and it was Jimmy Fallon's flavor 'Late Night Snack' which is officially the cone that he invented while he was high in college. The 'AmeriCone Dream' is vanilla-based, fudged covered waffle cones. 'Late Night Snack' is also vanilla-based, chocolate covered potato chips. Some of you may be wondering why you're not able to eat ice cream as your listening to me right now. Our office did contact the President and we were informed that this body is rich in history and tradition and the rules are not to be broken. Food is not allowed on the floor and as we did our staff research he is correct that this is very unusual. We had to go all the way back to the time, there was a legendary Senator from the Twenty-fifth, I think he's name was Dammeier, who was allowed to break those rules and that was, it was February 6, 2013. Very long ago. So I did respect that this doesn't get broken but at the conclusion of this, outside the senate floor, I will be happy to scoop your ice cream."

TWENTY SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 8, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Mullet, the reason the President had denied your request to have ice cream on the floor was the members have a habit of leaving their gifts on their desks and I was afraid how that might turn out."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Sheldon: "Well thank you Mr. President. I had to rise quickly after I heard our new senator's speech. I certainly want to welcome him to the senate but I can tell you right now he has broken many rules right away. Now, first of all, he's unabashedly plugging his own business on the floor which is just isn't done. And for an individual who has the Olympic Mountain Ice Cream Company in their district is most famous in Washington state. I really think he should have checked with some other members before he made that personal plug. Of course, when you are elected to the senate and that's a great thing for you and come into this body, and of course, you make your first speech and there's two things that you first learn. Now, first of all, you have not got the secret hand shake yet I can tell you that. You probably will not after that opening speech. And the second thing that we do is, of course, the background check. You know that's always done and I've gotten some results back here. Of course, you have quite a business background and some other things but I do have an email here from the King County Health Department. They've some inspections in your district and they said that you might want to give them a call very, very quickly. Welcome to the State Senate."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hewitt: "Well, we've heard about the new senator breaking the rules. I actually have one that goes a little bit further than that. As you all know my wife runs the fairgrounds in Walla Walla and she has fifty amp plugs everywhere out there. She does not get her electricity free. She has to actually buy that from the power companies. A couple of years ago there was a red Tesla parked in one of the spots, one of these fifty amp spots, taking the electricity out of the fairgrounds without permission and it disturbed me, actually, because I thought that was like stealing gasoline. Most of us get to steal gasoline, others get to steal electricity. So I wrote the number, the license of this red Tesla down and I think I've run down who this Tesla belongs too. And I'm just wondering if the good Senator from the Fifth and the color of your face be the reaction here Senator. Do you live at 3129 NE Harining Street, Issaquah, Washington? My wife actually has something for you. It's called a receipt and now that we know who it belongs too we'll make sure it gets delivered to the right place. Welcome Senator."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dammeier: "Would the gentleman from the Fifth district yield to a question? Senator Mullet, I just want to make sure, did you check for food allergies of the members before you decided to provide us ice cream?"

Senator Mullet: "And I have no epi-pens, obviously. It's not allowed yet. That's why I announced the contents."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Frockt: "Well, I too want to welcome our friend, my friend Mark Mullet to the senate. I have couple points of advice, first of all Mark, when you offer an amendment, you have to speak to the amendment. We just adjourned sine die. I don't know if you guys noticed that. Second thing I want to say, Mark is known as, well-known as a good moderate. Just to show you how moderate he was, I have child with a peanut allergy and I was very excited about this bill. When he came to me my first reaction was, 'Well why don't we just ban peanuts?' Mark said, 'No, no, no, that goes too far David.' So, we've done a good piece of public policy here. We are very excited to have Mark. He's a great guy. All of you are going to have a great time working with him and I just want to say welcome to the senate and look forward to it."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Tom: "Well, I just want to welcome the good member to the true, east-side coalition. Now I do have to admit, on his last bill, I had several members from the other east side coalition come up to me, maybe this is just because he's a Telsa kind of guy, wondering what a yuppie-pen was."

MOTION

At 12:09 p.m., on motion of Senator Fain, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Monday, February 11, 2013.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, all measures listed on the Introduction and First Reading report were referred to the committees as designated.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate advanced to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

Senator Shin moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION
8603

By Senators Shin, Chase, Hobbs, McAuliffe, Pearson, and Harper

WHEREAS, Homelessness is a painful reality for over twenty-three thousand people in Washington state; and

WHEREAS, The causes for homelessness range from poverty, mental illness, domestic violence, aging out of the foster care system, and substance abuse; and

WHEREAS, On any given night there are an estimated two thousand three hundred individuals who are homeless in Snohomish county alone; and

WHEREAS, February 11th marks the date of housing and homelessness advocacy day for organizations in Snohomish county and across the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, In 2009 the Snohomish county homeless policy task force organized the first Project Homeless Connect as part of the ongoing effort to help the homeless; and

WHEREAS, Project Homeless Connect is a one-day event that provides a central location for those in need to access goods and services; and

WHEREAS, In 2012, fifty-seven nonprofit, for-profit, and governmental organizations participated in Project Homeless Connect with the help of over five hundred staff and volunteers; and

WHEREAS, This event served over one thousand two hundred people in 2012 by providing goods and services including housing, dental, medical, vision, haircuts, pet care, clothing, backpacks, hot lunches, bus tickets, veterans, hearing, mental health, legal, employment, and education goods and services; and

WHEREAS, This event leveraged its six thousand dollar budget into more than two hundred twenty-five thousand dollars of staff and volunteer time and donated goods and services;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate recognize and commend the hard work and contributions made by the people and organizations that make Project Homeless Connect a continued success; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Housing Consortium of Everett and Snohomish County.

Senators Shin, McAuliffe, Schlicher and Pearson spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8603.

The motion by Senator Shin carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Schlicher just for your information, since you did ask, Rule 29 as I stated earlier does suggest, not only suggest but tells you that you will address your remarks to the President. However, I will tell the members here that the very distinguished and highly-regarded and respected Senator, Senator Bob Morton of the Seventh district, who sat where you sit would stand up and he would address the President and ask my permission or he would say, 'Pardon me Mr. President,' or he would say, 'if I may.' The President recognizes that, although I do love to listen to your big speeches and have you address me, that your remarks are better spent given to the members of the senate and so any of those approaches would be respected and honored by the President-which you didn't do."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Darneille: "Thank you. You know, this is the first floor speech of our most junior member as recognized and I have just a couple of concerns. He's a fellow Pierce County senator and so I have to give him all due respect for joining our delegation. But I do have one complaint and it has to do, Mr. President, with the fact that I think all of us now suffer from great inferiority complexes. The good Senator is both a doctor and a lawyer and he has 2.5 children which is exactly the national average. I just can't imagine what could be more perfect than that but I want to quickly move on so that the forty-seven other people don't actually say that they are more perfect than that but I do have one other concern, it has to do with the name itself that we call this good senator. Schlicher, Senator Schlicher Senator Schlicher, Senator Schlichler, Senator Snickers I heard. You know when a word has the letters 'ich' and there pronounced 'ick' there's a great deal of confusion Mr. Speaker, Mr. President. Twelve years of bad training, but I have to say that my name is Darneille and it has an 'eille' at the end and it is quite confusing to people how to pronounce my name. So, now I am very happy that I have the second-most difficult name to pronounce in Washington State Senate this year and I just wanted to comment that Senators Tom and Chase and Brown and Shin, they just have no idea what life is like having a very difficult to pronounce name. So, I'm sure we're all delighted in having the good senator with us and he responds to virtually to any pronunciation to his name so I think we're all good. I am very happy that he's here."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Becker: "Thank you. Well, senator Delly, manelli, Namelli and Senator Schlicher, it's been quite interesting trying to say your name but I grew up with the name of Randi and you may be able to say the name but most of you may spell it wrong. So, it's those things, when we come to names, it's really interesting how we all think about that it may be easier, it may be hard but it's just something that I thought I would share. It's Randi with an 'i.'"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schlicher: "Thank you Mr. President. If I may address the august body behind me. Thank you Mr. President. Well, that was meek and tame. I expected worse from you all. Such good material. I want to distribute to you my gifts from the district and a little kind a plethora. Well done Mr. President. [Music begins] I expected that at some point. Well, to the beat of the music here you know."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "It's the 'Doogie Houser' theme song, in case you didn't know."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schlicher: "Thank you Mr. President. I may not be old enough to remember the show but I hear it's got re-runs. Maybe you can tell me sometime how it was."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Maybe not."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schlicher: Maybe not. Well, anyways included in your gift bag is a little tour of the Twenty-sixth district. What the cup is, is from the city of Gig Harbor, a picturesque little town on the other side of that green bridge that has a toll attached to it. So, we want to invite you to Gig Harbor to see our picturesque town that has been called one of the most livable cities and to offset your tolls and encourage you to visit one of our local proprietors is one of our gift cards to Cutters Point, a local artist and coffee roaster and shop. We encourage you to come out to the district,

TWENTY NINTH DAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

there is one in Lacey as well so, should you choose not to come all the way to the good city of Gig Harbor. Additionally, there's some salt water taffy that represents the shore lines of our district from Key Peninsula to Port Orchard to Bremerton, this is from a local Port Orchard business and I hope you enjoy it. Additionally, you'll see the lone sailor pen which represents the military service of our district. As you know we have Kitsap Base Bangor in our city in Bremerton, Naval Base Kitsap. I remember it as PSN as always, growing up in Bremerton. The lone sailor pen is reflection of a copy of the statute that is in downtown Bremerton. It's marker, significance is representing the service and the lives of those that have committed to defend our freedom and our opportunity to gather in this place to make the laws of the land. So, from me to you, a little gift and I appreciate the gentle-natured ribbing. My rib back to all of you; I knew this place needed a doctor, I just didn't realize it was a psychiatrist that you all needed. And with that Mr. President, I rest."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Schlicher."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schlicher: "I know that we got you one and I hope that the Pages will be soon bringing one up to the good President for his enjoyment. Having noticed the failure of prior presenters to appropriately do so, we made sure that we had you covered Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fain: "Thank you Mr. President, as the former youngest member of this body I congratulate you. I'm happy to be an old timer now so... That whole year and a half that separates us."

MOTION

BRAD OWEN, President of the Senate

HUNTER GOODMAN, Secretary of the Senate

THIRTY FIRST DAY

MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wednesday, February 13, 2013

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Owen. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present with the exception of Senator Carrell.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Padden: "Mr. President, my vote on Substitute Senate Bill No. 5381 in the Ways & Means Committee yesterday was a yes vote, 'do pass.' The majority of the committee cast a vote to advance the bill without recommendation. This bill deals with cell phone usage for state employees and I am a co-sponsor of the bill and wanted to go on record as casting a yes vote. Our rules and procedures make that difficult to do electronically, in fact almost impossible, so I'm doing this via point of personal privilege which will also be in the journal. Hopefully we will look at perhaps changing our rules or at least examining it in the future. Thank you very much Mr. President."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Message received."

MOTION

There being no objection, the Senate advanced to the first order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, all measures listed on the Introduction and First Reading report were referred to the committees as designated with the exception of Senate Bill No. 5741 which was referred to the Committee on Trade & Economic Development; and Senate Bill No. 5760 which was referred to the Committee on Natural Resources & Parks.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate advanced to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

Senator Fraser moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION
8616

By Senators Fraser, Parlette, Kohl-Welles, Keiser, Bailey, Rivers, Becker, Frockt, Hargrove, Hill, Fain, Sheldon, Hewitt, Hobbs, Hasegawa, Honeyford, Harper, Holmquist Newbry, Dammeier, Murray, Chase, Shin, Darneille, Carrell, Mullet, Nelson, Cleveland, Hatfield, Kline, McAuliffe, Schlicher, Eide, Pearson, Billig, Brown, Smith, Braun, Padden, Ericksen, Conway, and King

WHEREAS, 2013 marks the 100th year since women began serving in the Washington State Legislature, the next major historic step in equality after Washington women won the vote in 1910; and

WHEREAS, Frances Axtell Cleveland from Whatcom County and Nena Jolidan Croake from Pierce County were the first women to be elected to the Washington House of Representatives in 1913; and

WHEREAS, Reba Hurn from Spokane County was the first woman to be elected to the Washington State Senate in 1923; and

WHEREAS, A total of 253 women have been elected to the Washington State Legislature over the past 100 years, about 8.5% of the total individuals who have served; and

WHEREAS, Women from both caucuses have held important leadership roles as Vice President Pro Tempore, majority and minority leaders, chairs of virtually all committees, and caucus chairs; and

WHEREAS, Washington state has long been a national leader in the percentage of women serving in the legislature and in advancing women's rights in many other ways; and

WHEREAS, Many women legislators have moved from the Legislature to be elected to the United States House and Senate, including Representative Catherine May Bedell, Representative Julia Butler Hansen, Representative Maria Cantwell, Senator Linda Smith, Representative Jolene Unsoeld, Representative Cathy McMorris Rogers, and Senator Patty Murray; and to be elected to state-wide offices including Senator Pearl Wanamaker, Superintendent of Public Instruction; Representative Belle Reeves, Secretary of State; and Representative Jennifer Belcher, Commissioner of Public Lands; and

WHEREAS, Over the past 100 years, women have made significant marks on the history of the state and the legislative process through their hard work, effective leadership, broad influence, and valuable perspectives;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honor the legacy of women legislators in service to the State of Washington and applaud their role in our democratic process over the past 100 years.

Senators Fraser and Parlette spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President may have given the wrong directive recently because a couple of people have done the same thing. It is not necessary to ask for a point of personal privilege on a resolution."

Senators Eide, King, Billig, Kohl-Welles, Ericksen, Chase, Padden and McAuliffe spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8616.

The motion by Senator Fraser carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President would like to note that the rule about eating on the floor, of course, is suspended today even though it is not Valentine's Day. I nearly was thrown out of the house when I suggested that cookies may not have to be made since we would not be on the floor tomorrow. So, just for your enjoyment and just to give you a little idea what you're dealing with: ten pounds of flour, two dozen eggs, six pounds of butter, four pounds of brown sugar, four pounds of white sugar, six twenty-four ounce bags of chocolate chips, three whatever pound bags of walnuts and ten hours in the kitchen. So, enjoy."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Billig: "Thank you Mr. President and thank you for the cookies and thank you for having the Spokane Indians hat up on your podium. I thought I should explain why everybody has those on their desks. As is the tradition in the Senate, when a senator gives their first speech we give a gift to our colleagues and to the President. We're a citizen legislature and we all have other jobs or other parts of our life. And the other part of my life is that I'm the co-owner of the Spokane Indians Professional Baseball team and have served as the (general) Manager and President of that team over the last twenty years. So, a gift from my district and it's actually right on the border of my district and Senator Padden's district. And actually Senator Padden's been a great supporter of youth baseball in our community and certainly appreciate his service. So, there's two parts to the gift. The first is a Spokane Indians baseball and then the other part is the Spokane Indians cap. We were the first professional sports team, first Indian-named sports teams to work with our local tribes to create a logo and identity, we actually have two logos. One is in English and one is in Salish, the Spokane Tribe of Indians language. We have the English version on the desks but I have the Salish version here if anybody's interested. I hope you enjoy. The one last thing, in case there's anybody that wants to throw baseballs at me, I also have a hard hat version that I'll be wearing for the rest of the day. Thank you."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President is not suspending the no throwing baseballs in the chamber, however."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: "Thank you Mr. President. First of all thank you for the dispensation to eat the cookies. They're very good. Give thanks to your wife. Secondly, for Senator Billig with his gifts I'm a little concerned about the out-sourcing. I noticed that the cap 'Made in China, baseball made in China.' I think we could have some improvement there Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Frockt: "Thank you Mr. President, and we all know that we are the most trade-dependent state in the country. I wanted to just welcome Senator Billig to the Senate. I had the pleasure of coming in, two years ago, to the House with him and I think our paths had been different but both led us here to the senate and I am really excited to work with him. I think a great legislator. Really going to do amazing things here. We have a personal connection. Andy's first cousin was one of my wife's closest friends in college and we didn't know each twenty years ago when our wives, well, my wife and his first cousin were close friends. Our paths have led here today and we have become great friends since then. I think all of you who don't have not had a chance to work yet with Senator Billig will find him to be someone open, thoughtful, wanting to reach out and find common ground. Also you know, someone who when necessary will also make his point, as I think we've seen. But we need to welcome him and I know he's going to make a great member of this body. So, welcome Andy."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator King: "Well, I too would like to welcome the good gentleman. He's been a great addition to the Transportation Committee. I just think that's there's only one piece of advice that I would give him. Find something else to talk about between or besides north/south, we'll probably do alright."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Keiser: "Thank you Mr. President. Please thank Linda for the wonderful cookies as well. I want to congratulate the good senator from Spokane for hitting a home run and to know that it's important not to get three strikes here or to, What's it called? Whiffle ball, but most important is the strategy of good baseball. Strategy and baseball go hand in hand and that's what happens on the floor in this august body as well and I know we're going to get to that ninth inning eventually."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Padden: "I also want to thank you for those delicious cookies. I wanted to welcome Senator Billig as a fellow Spokane County Legislator and I know I speak for the other members of the delegation, want to welcome you to the senate. I feel a little funny welcoming you because I haven't been here all that long myself but one thing that I've noticed so far with Senator Billig is how cautious he is on signing on bills or even sponsoring bills. So, that's probably a good quality that many of us could emulate. Sometimes there's probably too many bills here. But Senator Billig is a very hard worker obviously we share a great love for the game of baseball and the Spokane Indians franchise has been voted time and time again for one of the best franchises in all of minor league baseball, so, we want to make sure he continues to work hard doing that job. Thank you very much. Welcome to the Senate."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fain: "Thank you Mr. President. I too want to welcome the good senator from the Third district here. Appreciate his unique words here on the floor of the senate. Clearly he came up with those all by himself which is important as he's reminded us before in committee."

MOTION

At 10:33 a.m., on motion of Senator Fain, the Senate was declared to be at ease subject to the call of the President.

The Senate was called to order at 11:23 a.m. by President Owen.

At 10:33 a.m., on motion of Senator Fain, the Senate was declared to be at ease subject to the Call of the President for the purpose of caucuses to be followed by a joint session with the House of Representatives.

The Senate was called to order at 11:23 a.m. by President Owen.

The Sergeant at Arms of the Senate announced the arrival of the members of the House of Representatives at the Senate Chamber doors. The Sergeant at Arms of the Senate and the Sergeant at Arms of the House escorted Speaker Pro Tempore of the House, the Honorable Jim Moeller to a seat at the rostrum. The members of the House of Representatives were invited to seats within the Chamber.

JOINT SESSION

Pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8400, the President called the Joint Session to order. The Secretary called the roll of the members of the Senate. The Secretary called the roll of the members of the House of Representatives. The President declared that a quorum of the Legislature was present.

THIRTY FIRST DAY, FEBRUARY 13, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

The President welcomed and introduced the statewide elected officials who were present at the rostrum: The Honorable Jay Inslee, Governor; The Honorable Jim McIntire, State Treasurer; Justice Mary Fairhurst, Justice Debra Stephens and Justice Sheryl Gordon McCloud of the Washington State Supreme Court.

The Washington State Patrol Honor Guard consisting of Sergeant Jason Greer; Lieutenant Johnny Alexander; Trooper Pete Stock; Trooper Greg Marek; and Trooper Makala Morgan presented the Colors.

Lieutenant Tim Coley of the Washington State Patrol performed the National Anthem.

The President welcomed and introduced the statewide elected officials who were present at the rostrum: The Honorable Jay Inslee, Governor; The Honorable Jim McIntire, State Treasurer; Justice Mary Fairhurst, Justice Debra Stephens and Justice Sheryl Gordon McCloud of the Washington State Supreme Court.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Honored members of the Legislature, Ladies and Gentlemen, the purpose of this Joint Session is to conduct a memorial service in memory of departed former members of the legislature. This has been our longstanding custom. For more than a century the Senate and House have met as we meet today, to pay special and fitting tribute to the lives and service of these valued public servants, and to express our sympathies to their families and friends.

On behalf of the Senate and the House of Representatives, I would like to extend a warm welcome to the family members, friends and colleagues who are with us today.”

The President called upon the Speaker Pro Tempore Moeller to preside over the Joint Session.

Rabbi Bogomilsky: “Almighty God, we gather here today to pay respectful tribute to dear friends, family members and colleagues who have served as legislators for this great state of Washington and who have passed to your sheltering presence. May their families and friends know no more harm or sorrow. May they receive their rich reward for their days, months and years of dedicated service towards assuring and promoting the well-being, peace and tranquility of all the citizens of our great state. Almighty God, in the book of Genesis you have legislated human kind, since the times of Adam and Eve and Noah and his family, to establish a just and fear government. A government dedicated to the protecting the weak, champion the rights of the down trodden and uplifting the lives of all and, as citizens of our great country, we proudly proclaim our commitment to this system of justice in the ‘Pledge of Alliance.’ One nation under God, with liberty and justice for all. The bible teaches us that when we establish just and moral laws we are doing God’s work. As we read in Psalms 111, ‘The work of his hands or truth and justice. All his precepts are sure. They are established for ever and ever. They are done in truth and uprightness.’ Indeed, the job of our dedicated legislators demands both humility and strength. The willingness to compromise while simultaneously maintaining the highest of moral standards. In the words of the Prophet Isaiah, ‘Learn to do well; Seek justice; Relieve the preset, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.’ We beseech you dear God, Master of the universe, send your divine inspiration and blessings to their noble colleagues, our elected officials, who selflessly serve the public. May these great men and women be blessed with the wisdom to know the path that will find favor in your eyes and to have the compassion and courage and conviction to follow that course, regardless of any pressure or difficulties that may arise. Merciful God, grant each member of this august body, good health and compassionate wisdom. May they and their families be blessed with kindness, graciousness and peace and let us all say, ‘Amen.’”

REMARKS BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

Mr. Speaker (Representative Moeller presiding): “We gather today to pay tribute to the contributions of the distinguished former members of the Washington State Senate and House of Representatives who have passed from among us. The people of our state are grateful for their service.

The Sixty-Third Legislature conveys its respects for these deceased legislators. They once sat in these chambers, answered roll calls on critical bills, attended committee meetings and through it sought always to make our state a better place to live. While their journey in this life is complete, their achievements, public record and valued service are recorded in the journals of the Senate and House and are forever a permanent part of our state’s history.

We express our sympathies to the families, friends and colleagues of these public servants. We also share with them on this memorial occasion, the fond and happy memories of these legislators. They leave a legacy of dedicated service that remains always in our hearts, our memories and the history of our state.”

Speaker Pro Tempore Moeller and the President called the roll of the deceased former members of the Senate and the House of Representatives. The deceased former members were memorialized by the Governor, the senators and representatives and assisted by candle lighters: Miss Emily Grubbs, Senate Page and Mr. Zach Barker, House Page.

The Speaker (Representative Moeller presiding) welcomed and introduced Reverend Aaron Williams, Mount Zion Baptist Church of Seattle who offered the Memorial Prayer.

Reverend Williams, "God of our weary years, God of our silent tears, Thou who has brought us thus far on the way, Thou who has by Thy I might, led us into the light, keep us forever in the path that we pray. Father, as we pause to remember the lives of those who have gone before us, we know that whenever You want to accomplish something in the world. You take an idea and wrap it in human flesh. We want to thank for the men and women whom You have sent our way to accomplish great things in the State of Washington and these United States of America. We thank You for the investment of their time and talents and their tireless commitment to make a difference for the betterment of all people. Our lives have been enriched and blessed beyond measure as a result of their work and diligence. For their work has not gone unnoticed nor has it been done in vain. We thank You for the many lives that they have touched and the polices and bills they have fought for, to get passed through these chambers. Their voices will be missed but not forgotten. We thank You for their families who are still here with us. We ask that You will continue to comfort and strengthen them as they continue to live out their lives and continue the legacy of their loved ones. As we ponder over the lives of these great men and women who have transitioned into eternity where there is neither Democrat nor Republican, where there is neither rich nor poor, that place where there is no debt ceiling or fiscal cliff, that place where we will study politics and study war no more. That place where Job declared that, 'The wicked shall cease from troubling, and the weary shall be at rest.' As we await that day when the final roll call will be made, may we live out the rest of our days in the spirit and conviction of those sacred words of Micah 6:8, 'He has told you O man, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, to love kindness and to walk humbly with your God?' Lord, may we strive as public servants to do the work of justice and loving kindness and walk humbly with You oh God. We ask all of these things of you Father in the mighty matchless and marvelous name of Jesus. Amen."

The Speaker (Representative Moeller presiding) introduced the North Thurston High School Jazz Choir, directed by Mrs. Rachel Landowski, who performed "Carpenters of God" by Vijay Singh.

The Speaker (Representative Moeller presiding) welcomed and introduced Reverend Kojo Kakhira of the Buddhist Temple, Tacoma who offered the Closing Prayer.

Reverend Kakhira: "Every life is interconnected and resonates to each other. This moment we share is a precious gift, given by those whom we remember and honor today. We share this moment and we share their life.

Buddha said, 'The action of benefitting others brings true happiness.' Those whom we honor today contributed much by dedicating themselves in serving for the betterment of our lives and communities.

Let us keep their legacies and continue forward in the same spirit.

As the sun shines upon the earth awakening into the growth the seeds that lie dormant in the soil, may the Light of Truth cast its splendor upon the minds and hearts that they may continue to guide this State of Washington, Nation, and the world with great wisdom and deep compassion.

May the same Light shine upon us all, giving us the insight to realize that all in One, All is one.

In Oneness of all forms of life, let us continue to strive for the wellbeing, not only for ourselves, but also, for all people and forms.

THIRTY FIRST DAY, FEBRUARY 13, 2013

Representative Hans Dunshee performed “The Skye Boat Song” on the Scottish pipes from rear of the Chamber

The Speaker (Representative Moeller presiding) returned the gavel to the President Owen to preside over the Joint Session.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Thank you Mr. Speaker and thank you to member of our memorial committee. Our deepest gratitude to all who have participated in this service today. Special thanks, of course, to the members of the Washington State Patrol who always do a magnificent job for us. We are very proud of them. Our participating clergy, thank you for being with us and making this special today. As well as, of course, the North Thurston High School Jazz Choir which did a magnificent job with ‘Carpenters of God.’ The President does hope that the loved ones of those we honor today will draw comfort from today’s observance and recognize that we will not forget our fellow colleagues that have served before us to make this state the great state that it is.”

MOTION

Senator Fain moved that all measures listed on the Introduction and First Reading report be referred to the committees as designated.

REMARKS BY SENATOR FROCKT

Senator Frockt: "Thank you Mr. President. We have concerns that Senate Bill No. 5798 is now the third version of this bill has been introduced has not yet been scheduled for a hearing. We think this is a very important health care related bill. Other similar bills have been heard in other committees. We are not going to object today to the referral to this committee. It is our understanding that there will be, has been assurances made, that if the version of this bill comes to the senate from the other body that it will get a hearing. We, of course, have no guarantee that that will happen from the other body. So we have concerns. We would continue to request that this bill be given a hearing and, therefore, I just wanted to put that on the record Mr. President, based on the assurances that we have been given."

REMARKS BY SENATOR FAIN

Senator Fain: Thank you Mr. President. In responding to the gentleman's statement, the bill in question were to come from the other body will receive a hearing in the Senate Health Care Committee. I appreciate the comments by the good Senator."

The motion by Senator Fain carried by voice vote and the measures listed were referred to the committees as designated.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate advanced to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

Senator Hasegawa moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION
8618

By Senators Hasegawa, Conway, Ranker, Hobbs, Kohl-Welles, Dammeier, Fraser, Braun, Roach, Hill, Rolfes, Harper, Murray, Nelson, Shin, Kline, and Schlicher

WHEREAS, Seventy one years ago, on February 19, 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued Executive Order 9066, which authorized the forced assembly, evacuation, and internment of approximately 13,000 Japanese-Americans residing in the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, The order for assembly and detention at Camp Harmony on the Puyallup Fairgrounds in Puyallup, Washington, prior to evacuation and subsequent internment caused Japanese-Americans from the state of Washington to lose millions of dollars in property and assets, to suffer immeasurable physical and psychological damage, and to be deprived of their constitutional liberties without due process of law; and

WHEREAS, The alleged purpose of this drastic course of action was to prevent Japanese-Americans, all of whom were deemed disloyal and untrustworthy, from committing acts of espionage and sabotage against the United States during the period of its involvement in World War II; and

WHEREAS, In 1943, an overwhelming number of Japanese-Americans from the state of Washington responded to questions of their loyalty and patriotism by volunteering from within barbed wire camps to serve in the United States Army, amassing a battle record that is unmatched in United States military history with seven Presidential Unit Citations, 21 Medals of Honor, 29 Distinguished Service Crosses, 1 Distinguished Service Medal, 588 Silver Stars, more than 4,000 Bronze Stars, 22 Legion of Merit Medals, 15 Soldier's Medals, 9,486 Purple Hearts, and a total of 16 decorations from France and Italy; and

WHEREAS, A few equally patriotic Japanese-Americans, like Minoru Yasui, Fred Korematsu, and University of Washington student Gordon Hirabayashi who passed away on January 2, 2012, were willing to face imprisonment to seek justice by challenging the constitutionality of the evacuation and internment orders; and

WHEREAS, Through the fact-finding work of the Commission on Wartime Relocation and Internment of Civilians, the United States Congress later found "there was no military or security reason for the internment" of individuals of Japanese ancestry, it "was caused by racial prejudice, war hysteria, and a failure of political leadership;" and

WHEREAS, In 1976 President Gerald Ford formally rescinded Executive Order 9066 saying, "I call upon the American people to affirm with me this American Promise--that we have learned from the tragedy of that long-ago experience forever to treasure liberty and justice for each individual American, and resolve that this kind of action shall never again be repeated;" and

WHEREAS, In 1988 President Ronald Reagan signed the Civil Liberties Act apologizing to the survivors of internment camps saying, "what is most important in this bill has less to do with property than with honor. For here we admit a wrong; here we reaffirm our commitment as a nation to equal justice under the law.;" and

WHEREAS, In 2010, the United States Congress recognized the unparalleled record of Nisei soldiers by authorizing the creation of "a single gold medal of appropriate design to the 100th Infantry Battalion, the 442nd Regimental Combat Team, and the Military Intelligence Service, United States Army" and, in November 2011, President Barack Obama bestowed this highest civilian honor on these units collectively; and

WHEREAS, Throughout Washington state, survivors of the European and Asian battlefields of World War II and of American internment camps continue to live their golden years quietly, in unassuming contrast to their extraordinary acts of patriotism and valor;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate, along with the people of Washington, pause to acknowledge the seventy-first anniversary of the signing of Executive Order 9066, the seventieth anniversary of the establishment of the 442nd Regimental Combat Team, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the signing of the Civil Liberties Act, and to recognize the Japanese-American internees and World War II veterans from the state of Washington, to honor their patience, heroism, sacrifice, and loyalty, and to remember the lessons and blessings of liberty and justice for all; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Nisei Veterans Committee, the Military Intelligence Service - Northwest Association, the Japanese-American Citizens League, the Japanese Cultural & Community Center of Washington State, and the Wing Luke Museum of the Asian Pacific American Experience.

THIRTY THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

Senators Hasegawa, King, Hobbs, Brown, Murray, Rolfes, Conway, Fraser, Pearson, Kohl-Welles, Honeyford and Schlicher spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8618.

The motion by Senator Hasegawa carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced members and representatives of the Nisei Veterans Committee, Seattle including, Vice-Commander Allen Nakamoto and Chaplain Sam Mitsui who were seated in the gallery.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed representatives of the Seattle Chapter of the Japanese American Citizens League, the nation's oldest and largest Asian American civil rights organization, and representatives of Nikkei Concerns, an organization which provides health and related services in a traditional atmosphere to primarily elderly Nikkei (Japanese) in the Pacific Northwest, who were all present in the gallery.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced participants in the Japanese Queen Scholarship Organization of Washington, 2012: Queen Yuna Marie Nishimoto; First Princess and Miss Tomodachi Taryn Lee Imanishi; and Princess Nicole Ruriko Lee who were present in the gallery.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President welcomed and introduced former Senator George Fleming who served south Seattle from 1971 through 1990 and sponsored Senate Bill 3163, an act relating to war reparations, during his tenure and was present in the gallery. The President noted that Senator Fleming set several records during his days as a University of Washington football player – one lasting for decades before it too, finally, fell."

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Ms. Toshiko Hasegawa, the youngest daughter of Senator Hasegawa, who was present in the gallery.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hasegawa: "Thank you Mr. President, as you know my first speech has been going on for about a month and a day now. I finally have the occasion to offer my appreciation to you all for having suffered through my lengthy first speeches that's lasted over a month and a day. So, you know, Renton which is the heart of my district, started off as a coal mining town and so, as a token of my appreciation to you all, I have lumps of coal. These are diamonds in the rough. All you have to do is, which we all know how to put pressure on things to get it done. I'm sure we can put enough pressure on these to create fine jewels. But, do not despair, the Eleventh district is probably the most strategically important transportation district in the Pacific Northwest because the district stretches from the cranes of the Port of Seattle all the way through the intermodal rail hubs. It's the intersection of major interstate, commerce. It's where the warehousing and manufacturing and industrial centers are in south Seattle and south central King County. So, as everybody's been keeping tally and you expected my seat mate back here to present you with a car from Puyallup, I imagine you were probably expecting maybe a 737 Max or something from Renton. Well I can't afford that but in your gift bags that are being distributed there's a little airplane eraser. I don't know if that counts. So, add that to the mix. There is a, in recognition of the internationalism of the Eleventh district, there's a little red envelope. In Chinese tradition, they offer red envelopes for good fortune and it's, you just put a little token of money in it so that's to wish you all good fortune for the coming year. There are also a few chocolates from Seattle Chocolate company which is located in Tukwila, Washington. And you will find a bag of Starbucks coffee which is enough to brew you one little pot at least. I didn't want to go broke on, but you were expecting much so hopefully much will be given. There's also, maybe I should of given this to you before you had to suffer through my speech, but a bottle of fine imported Sake handpicked by the owner of Uwajimaya which is within my, an Asian grocery store, which is in my district. Along with some of Japanese milk candy. Then to top it off, Boeing Field is in my district. It used to heart of the district now it's on the periphery of it but you know every 737, formally 757, that were built out of the Renton plant had to go through Boeing Field before it was, they were shipped off to their customers. Well, you know you all did a fantastic job of helping us build the Museum of Flight at the sound end of Boeing Field and, through the graciousness of the Museum of Flight, you'll also find two passes to the Museum of Flight in the district which is actually pretty valuable but I would like to thank Bonnie Dunbar, who is the former Executive Director there. She is a local astronaut from Sunnyside, actually, who has been on five space shuttle missions and helped me get those for you. But, what I wanted to say about that was you all funded, you passed a resolution a few years ago that was a Joint Memorial to Congress, normally we just call them Christmas letters, letters to Santa but this one actually returned a benefit because we actually did get a space shuttle training unit and you all also voted to provide funding to help build the enclosure there. It's a beautiful facility. I really hope you, it's amazing to see even when you're driving past in front, the space shuttle behind this glass wall inside the building that you all help build. So, in recognition of this, I'm getting the cut signal, so when I spoke to the bill on the House floor I got to say, 'Kapla', 'live long and prosper,' and 'make it so,' and I would like to repeat that in the Senate because I want to be the first to speak Klingon on the Senate floor. Thank you very much."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: "Thank you. First to the members of the body, our side has a new Floor Leader. If I was the Floor Leader, already I would of revoked Rule 29, long ago today. Seeing the new gentleman here and finally getting the gifts, Mr. President, I thought he was part of Senator Padden's class last year he gave so many speeches. I was going over and thinking about the good Senator and I saw the coal and I was so happy to see he's endorsed more coal trains coming to our ports. The enlightened attitude of new freshman senators is always very welcome. And going through the gifts it reminded me of when new banks used to open. They always had many small gifts for their new depositor's. Well, knowing his interest in banking, I think he's already found ideas for the gifts for his bank he wants to create. So, in closing Mr. President. I would offer this to the gentleman from the Eleventh district, the key to my twenty-one years of political success is brevity. Please use it."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hargrove: “Well thank you Mr. President. Well, first of all one of the Senate Rules says that the number of gifts needs to be in proportion to the number of speeches and so, even though we got a whole lot of gifts here, by my calculation. You’re still short by the length of the speech so we need a few more. The next thing is we are very concerned about accuracy and this is not Klingon. Its Vulcan. You must not be a Trekkie. That’s all I can say there. The last thing is, we really appreciate the coal and looking for the diamond in it. I’m sure we’ll be looking for the diamond in you for some time. But you know we know it’s in there some place and we really appreciate coming to the senate and looking forward to working with you. Welcome.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Sheldon: “Thank you Mr. President. I too want to rise and welcome Senator Hasegawa to the floor of the Senate. I enjoyed your resolution and, like every organization, we have a budget. And the senate has a very tight budget and I just wanted to warn any member, if you ever make a motion to have any remarks by Senator Hasegawa spread upon the journal we are going to create several new jobs and bust the budget here in the senate.”

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced former Governor Mike Lowry who was seated in the gallery.

MOTION

Excused: Senators Harper and Shin

SENATE BILL NO. 5161, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Braun: "Thank you Mr. President. With your permission I would like to turn and address my fellow senators? Thank you for the warm welcome to the State Senate. I'm pleased to be here and I'm pleased to present gifts to each of you and in doing so to introduce you to the Twentieth legislative district. My first gift is being delivered as we speak and it's a small sampler of genuine Chehalis flood water and mud. So, just to alleviate any concerns that the President might have, it's not for consumption. It is, however, very powerful. In fact, used in the appropriate quantities, it will completely shut down I-5. I present this to you as a means of thanking you for the support the legislature has provided as we work towards a long term solution to the flooding in the Chehalis River basin. This is a problem we've struggle with for over a hundred years and thanks to your support and the work of elected officials and tribal officials and citizens throughout the basin, we're on a path to solving this problem permanently. I ask you for your continued support as we work through this next phase. There's also a gift bag coming around and it contains three gifts from three great family companies in my district and I'd like to talk about each of them briefly. The first one is small company and from them, the company is Chehalis Mints and I present a small box of their world famous mints. Chehalis Mints is a very small company. It started in 1994 by Mike and Sue Schofield and it's run almost entirely by three people; Jennifer, Sue and Jeff Schofield. The mint is grown in Eastern Washington and it is converted to essential oil by I. P. Callison & Sons, another great company started in Chehalis. The mint is then mixed with gourmet chocolate to make butter mints, milk chocolate mints and dark chocolate mints. Each candy is hand poured, hand wrapped and hand packaged and I commend them to you. The next company is a medium sized company and I present a ball cap and a key chain. This is my own family's company, established in Chehalis in 1986. We build specialty emergency vehicles such as ambulances, rescue vehicles and command vehicles. Over the last twenty six years, we've grown from four employees to one hundred fifty employees. The best employees in the Northwest I might add. We proudly serve over a hundred public and private customers throughout the western United States, Alaska and Hawaii and nearly two hundred customers right here in our great state of Washington. If you look carefully, you'll see our vehicles in your own communities reliably serving your friends, families and neighbors when they need it most. A and finally, the large company, I don't think the goods have shown up yet, I'd like to present a certificate for a box of frozen vegetables from National Frozen Foods. I would have presented the actual box but I understand that, from the earlier ruling, that, Mr. President, you have a particular opposition to frozen foods on the floor. Instead the box will be delivered to your individual offices. National Frozen Foods has been bringing the highest quality Northwest foods and vegetables or fruits and vegetables to the nation since 1912. They originally started in Chehalis. They are now headquartered in Seattle and have operations throughout the state, including Chehalis. They offer repackaging of retail and food service poly bags, bulk food service cases and bulk industrial totes. They produce about one hundred ten million pounds annually and, at their Chehalis facility, they have four freezing tunnels, forty five tons per hour capacity, they have organic certification, ninety million pounds of cold storage capacity and packaging operations of two hundred million pounds of annual capacity. Again, I thank you for the warm welcome. I look forward to working with each of you. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Chase: "Thank you Mr. President. I would like to point out that my colleague, Senator Braun, delivered your package first. I believe he is attempting to curry some special favor with giving you that sack which I still haven't received. Thank you for coming for eventually for this gift and welcome to the Senate."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President would note an irony today or whatever the word is, I'm not sure. Normally I get it last but today I received a lump of coal first and I did receive dirty muddy flood water first. I don't know if there is a message there but..."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Holmquist Newbry: "Thank you Mr. President. I just wanted to welcome the new Senator from the Twentieth district, Senator John Braun. I think he's not a typical freshman, to the point here that he was such a pro here with his maiden bill and maiden speech that many of us were unaware that he is a freshman. Sitting with him on the committee that he chairs the Economic Development Committee as well as Vice Chairs with me, the Commerce and Labor Committee, I can just say is a breath of fresh air. You have a savvy common sense, business sense as well as a demeanor that is going to bring a lot to this body and we welcome you whole-heartedly."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Carrell: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, I'm looking at this bottle and there's always a question. I'm looking at the level of the liquid in there and some people ask, 'Is it half empty or is it half full?' The question I always ask myself, 'Is it drinkable and after shaking this, I know the answer.'"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: "I've heard the young gentleman's remarks today and I heard and I heard them and I heard them. After his election I went and visited him at his company and I've had him in leadership meetings, committee meetings, caucus meetings and every other meeting. He's said more in one floor speech than he had since I met him. And as the gentle lady from the Thirteenth district spoke and I thought about it. And the part about the three hundred Spartans in his floor speech, doesn't it remind you of Harold Hochstatter? I really didn't know that Harold Hochstatter had come back to us in a new form because only Harold could of recited that so eloquently. So, now that we know you can speak, eloquently, and please, feel free to do so again."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: "I'm trying to figure out the significance of this. We've been in committee. We heard of the millions of dollars they want in the Chehalis Basin for flood control and I've had a visit from the good senator. So, I don't know if it's a gift or non-gift but I didn't receive any of that dirty flood water, so, I'm trying to figure out what the importance of that is. Thank you Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Becker: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, I really welcome Senator Braun to this body. You know if you drive down the freeway going through Chehalis you will notice Braun Enterprises, I believe it is, on the left hand side going south. It's pretty impressive but I have to tell you I'm really glad. I've been around that district a lot and I have traveled from one end to the other and I'm glad you gave us the dirty water because there is a another big thing that is in his district and it's the Centralia Cattle Auction and it could have been something else. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Dammeier: "I hope to rise in support of my good colleague from the Twentieth being a fellow Naval Officer and served in the Submarine Navy. However, I have a question of rule interpretation for the President. I realize that the good senator is new to the legislative body but he may not be aware of the rule about impugning others. And Mr. President, when he got up and said that his employees are the absolute best in the Northwest, the employees that work for a company that I am part of felt impugned and I personally was insulted. Mr. President so I would appreciate your admonishing the good senator from the Twentieth about such in bold statements."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "I'll take it under consideration. I think the rule is insulting you, not the employees, and then I'll still take it under consideration."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fain: "I was just thinking back with all of these great new freshman that have joined, excuse me, first-year legislators, my apology Senator Kohl-Welles, that have joined this body and then I thought back to when Senator Litzow and Senator Hill, Baumgartner and myself were new and came in. We probably spoke of a grand total of about between four and five minutes collectively between the three of us on the floor the entire first year we were here and it worked out really well for us. So, that's just a piece of advice that I might pass on our very precocious new members."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Parlette: "Thank you Mr. President. I would like to welcome all of you to join the Majority Caucus room, if you would like. Today is my assistant's Shiloh's last day after serving ten years with me after serving as an intern in the year 2003. Please join me. Thank you."

MOTION

At 12:08 p.m., on motion of Senator Fain, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Monday, February 18, 2013.

SENATE RESOLUTION 8619

By Senators Chase, McAuliffe, Keiser, Fraser, Kohl-Welles, Hobbs, and Mullet

WHEREAS, Civic education is the foundation for an educated citizenry and a representative democracy; and

WHEREAS, In order to adequately prepare our state's youth for meaningful participation in our democratic institutions and processes, it is important to have strong educational resources aimed at teaching students and the public about the fragile nature of our Constitution; and

WHEREAS, Civic education is part of the fabric of our country and is important for students in our public schools; and

WHEREAS, Civic education is a vital tool to promote greater understanding of the legislative process and the role of legislators in a representative democracy; and

WHEREAS, By gathering educators in the state capitol, we recognize the value of civic education in Washington State and establish a forum for civic educators across the state to collaborate with legislators and other supporters; and

WHEREAS, Many organizations such as the Legislative Youth Advisory Council, We the People Foundation, Washington Media Association, Washington State Council of Social Studies, 4-H Know Your Government, YMCA Youth & Government, Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Office of the Secretary of State, Washington State Historical Society, Legislative Scholars Program, and Service Learning of Washington are dedicated to making civic education a priority for Washington State and its citizens; and

WHEREAS, The contributions of committed teachers, principals, community leaders, parents, state employees, and volunteers help accomplish the goal of these laudable organizations to create an engaged citizenry; and

WHEREAS, The Washington State Senate recognize Donetta Elsasser of Touche, Washington; Brandon Bouge of Spokane, Washington; Kelly Clark of Seattle, Washington; Karin Ashabraner of Gig Harbor, Washington; Lisa Browitt of Cle Elum, Washington; Stephen Cowdrey of Asotin, Washington; Scott Darby of Graham, Washington; Steven Cross of Marysville, Washington as nominees for Washington State Legislature's 2013 Civic Educator of the Year Award; and

WHEREAS, The Washington State Senate recognize Web Hutchins of Seattle, Washington; and Tuck Gionet of Snohomish, Washington as Winners of the 2013 Civic Educator of the Year Award;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That on February 18, 2013, the Washington State Senate honor civic education and recognize the responsibility of civic educators across the state to serve and inform all Washingtonians; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honor, thank, and celebrate the civic educators of the state.

Senator Chase spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8619.

The motion by Senator Chase carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

Senator Schoesler moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION 8605

By Senators Hatfield and Schoesler

WHEREAS, The 4-H Youth Development Program of Washington State University Extension has helped the young people in Washington develop essential life skills since it was established in 1902; and

WHEREAS, The program centers on teaching young people to become productive members of society by fostering citizenship, science, math and technology literacy, health and wellness, communication, and decision-making skills; and

WHEREAS, Over ninety thousand young people and eight thousand adult volunteers throughout Washington participated in 4-H Youth Development Programs in 2012; and

THIRTY SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2013

WHEREAS, These programs helped participants learn about a wide variety of subjects including science, family living, applied arts, and government activism; and

WHEREAS, These programs work with traditional community clubs and reach youth through urban groups, special interest groups, nutrition programs, after school programs, camping, and interagency learning experiences; and

WHEREAS, More than three hundred 4-H members from around the state are currently visiting the State Capitol as part of an annual statewide educational program titled "4-H Know Your Government"; and

WHEREAS, The 4-H Know Your Government Program focused this year on the United States judicial system and how it works interactively with the executive and legislative branches of government; and

WHEREAS, 4-H will continue its dedication to empower young people to become active global citizens and realize the value, significance, and responsibility of taking part in local, regional, state, national, and international community issues;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate recognize the 4-H Youth Development Program for its many contributions to the youth of Washington and the betterment of our communities; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Pat BoyEs, the State 4-H Director for the Washington State University Extension 4-H Youth Development Program.

Senators Schoesler and Becker spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Smith: "Thank you Sir. So, the Pages are passing out a token of my appreciation for your indulgence in allowing me to speak for the first time. These are items that do come from my home district but there a little bit unusual. There were some recommendations that I had from a number of people in my district, one of which was that I bring each one of the senators one of our rare grey wolves. That could have accomplished addressing several different issues but I felt that might break the decorum rules of the chamber so I decided to pass on that. What we do have here are a number of items people might not associate with our district. First of all we do have some locally roasted coffee. We do not raise the beans but I do know these people. They're good friends of mine. The Crandalls work with a broker that only seeks to work directly with growers people who are engaged in moral and ethical behavior in their home countries. I like that. Also, we have a sampling from Spo-candy. Also that Spokane is a larger part of our district, I hope you enjoy that. I would not recommend eating the wood pellets unless you have a severe problem, well, we won't talk about that but what they do is give a nod to the fact, in my district, the timber industry is incredible. I do believe that in the future we will be looking more and more to the timber industry for energy instead of merely building homes. Finally the last part, is the paper bag itself. Which, in Pend Oreille County, we do have a strong pulp and paper industry working with the latest technology to have environmentally sound and efficient ways of producing that product. I would simply also, in this as one final point, I would like to say for me and my family the fact that I am sitting in this seat is an incredible step. My grandmother also served in the Idaho State Legislature and it was a long run for our family to be involved in this way again and I do appreciate the support and the encouragement that I have received from my colleagues up to this point. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ericksen: "Well, I just wanted to say, welcome to the senate to the good gentleman from Eastern Washington. It's a pleasure to have you here, to serve on the Transportation Committee with you and also help you get that first bill out of our committee, dealing with the very wood pellets that he's passing out today. It was a phenomenal story, but he was too humble in his opening speech. When he was actually talking about the wolf issue from over in his district because you'll notice that today the good gentleman from the Fortieth district is not here, not on the floor with us today. So, while he wasn't able to get the wolves on the floor with us I do believe you did relocate some to Orcas Island to keep the good senator happy. I think that's where he's at today is now dealing with his own wolf problem over on Orcas Island."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kline: "Thank you Mr. President. I have the benefit of working on the Natural Resources and Parks Committee with our new member and I want to tell you he actually does get the bills rolling with a lot the help from the Chair which I noticed because I'm definitely kept awake and alert during these meetings. You never know what might happen. Those of you who have been here for years know that, as they say in the programs. 'My name is Adam and I am an addict.' The substance you see here is my substance and if any of you tea-drinking liberals or for that matter other friends decide you don't need this little eight ounces of heaven well then just send it over my way. Thank you."

(1) Effective June 1, 2015, all state agencies, to the extent determined practicable by the rules adopted by the department of commerce pursuant to RCW 43.325.080, are required to satisfy one hundred percent of their fuel usage for operating publicly owned vessels, vehicles, and construction equipment from electricity or biofuel. Compressed natural gas, liquefied natural gas, or propane may be substituted for electricity or biofuel if the department of commerce determines that electricity and biofuel are not reasonably available.

(2)(a) Effective June 1, 2018, all local government subdivisions of the state, to the extent determined practicable by the rules adopted by the department of commerce pursuant to RCW 43.325.080, are required to satisfy one hundred percent of their fuel usage for operating publicly owned vessels, vehicles, and construction equipment from electricity or biofuel. The department of commerce shall convene an advisory committee of representatives of local government subdivisions and representatives from organizations representing each local government subdivision to work with the department to develop the rules.

(b) The following are exempt from this requirement: (i) Transit agencies using compressed natural gas on June 1, 2018(~~are exempt from this requirement~~), and (ii) engine retrofits that would void warranties. Nothing in this section is intended to require the replacement of equipment before the end of its useful life. Compressed natural gas, liquefied natural gas, or propane may be substituted for electricity or biofuel if the department of commerce determines that electricity and biofuel are not reasonably available.

(c) Rules adopted pursuant to RCW 43.325.080 must provide the authority for local government subdivisions to elect to exempt police, fire, and other emergency response vehicles, including utility vehicles frequently used for emergency response, from the fuel usage requirement in (a) of this subsection.

(3) In order to phase in this transition for the state, all state agencies, to the extent determined practicable by the department of commerce by rules adopted pursuant to RCW 43.325.080, are required to achieve forty percent fuel usage for operating publicly owned vessels, vehicles, and construction equipment from electricity or biofuel by June 1, 2013. Compressed natural gas, liquefied natural gas, or propane may be substituted for electricity or biofuel if the department of commerce determines that electricity and biofuel are not reasonably available. The department of enterprise services, in consultation with the department of commerce, shall report to the governor and the legislature by December 1, 2013, on what percentage of the state's fuel usage is from electricity or biofuel.

(4) Except for cars owned or operated by the Washington state patrol, when tires on vehicles in the state's motor vehicle fleet are replaced, they must be replaced with tires that have the same or better rolling resistance as the original tires.

(5) By December 31, 2015, the state must, to the extent practicable, install electrical outlets capable of charging electric vehicles in each of the state's fleet parking and maintenance facilities.

(6) The department of transportation's obligations under subsection (3) of this section are subject to the availability of amounts appropriated for the specific purpose identified in subsection (3) of this section.

(7) The department of transportation's obligations under subsection (5) of this section are subject to the availability of amounts appropriated for the specific purpose identified in subsection (5) of this section unless the department receives federal or private funds for the specific purpose identified in subsection (5) of this section.

(8) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Battery charging station" means an electrical component assembly or cluster of component assemblies designed specifically to charge batteries within electric vehicles, which meet or exceed any standards, codes, and regulations set forth by chapter 19.28 RCW and consistent with rules adopted under RCW 19.27.540.

(b) "Battery exchange station" means a fully automated facility that will enable an electric vehicle with a swappable battery to enter a drive lane and exchange the depleted battery with a fully charged battery through a fully automated process, which meets or exceeds any standards, codes, and regulations set forth by chapter 19.28 RCW and consistent with rules adopted under RCW 19.27.540."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5121, by Senators Carrell, Benton, Becker, Bailey, Litzow, Roach and Honeyford

Concerning the effect of zoning ordinances on hobby vehicle restoration.

The measure was read the second time.

Senator Carrell moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Carrell and Fraser be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 46.55.010 and 2005 c 88 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The definitions (~~set forth~~) in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(1) "Abandoned vehicle" means a vehicle that a registered tow truck operator has impounded and held in the operator's possession for one hundred twenty consecutive hours.

(2) "Immobilize" means the use of a locking wheel boot that, when attached to the wheel of a vehicle, prevents the vehicle from moving without damage to the tire to which the locking wheel boot is attached.

(3) "Abandoned vehicle report" means the document prescribed by the state that the towing operator forwards to the department after a vehicle has become abandoned.

(4) "Impound" means to take and hold a vehicle in legal custody. There are two types of impounds--public and private.

(a) "Public impound" means that the vehicle has been impounded at the direction of a law enforcement officer or by a public official having jurisdiction over the public property upon which the vehicle was located.

(b) "Private impound" means that the vehicle has been impounded at the direction of a person having control or possession of the private property upon which the vehicle was located.

(5) "Junk vehicle" means a vehicle certified under RCW 46.55.230 as meeting at least three of the following requirements:

(a) Is three years old or older;

(b) Is extensively damaged, such damage including but not limited to any of the following: A broken window or windshield, or missing wheels, tires, motor, or transmission;

(c) Is apparently inoperable;

(d) Has an approximate fair market value equal only to the approximate value of the scrap in it.

(6) "Master log" means the document or an electronic facsimile prescribed by the department and the Washington state patrol in which an operator records transactions involving impounded vehicles.

(7) "Registered tow truck operator" or "operator" means any person who engages in the impounding, transporting, or storage of unauthorized vehicles or the disposal of abandoned vehicles.

(8) "Residential property" means property that has no more than four living units located on it.

(9) "Suspended license impound" means an impound ordered under RCW 46.55.113 because the operator was arrested for a violation of RCW 46.20.342 or 46.20.345.

(10) "Tow truck" means a motor vehicle that is equipped for and used in the business of towing vehicles with equipment as approved by the state patrol.

(11) "Tow truck number" means the number issued by the department to tow trucks used by a registered tow truck operator in the state of Washington.

(12) "Tow truck permit" means the permit issued annually by the department that has the classification of service the tow truck may provide stamped upon it.

(13) "Tow truck service" means the transporting upon the public streets and highways of this state of vehicles, together with personal effects and cargo, by a tow truck of a registered operator.

(14) "Unauthorized vehicle" means a vehicle that is subject to impoundment after being left unattended in one of the following public or private locations for the indicated period of time:

(a) Public locations:

(i) Constituting an accident or a traffic hazard as defined in RCW 46.55.113 Immediately

(ii) On a highway and tagged as described in RCW 46.55.085 24 hours

(iii) In a publicly owned or controlled parking facility, properly posted under RCW 46.55.070 Immediately

(b) Private locations:

(i) On residential property Immediately

(ii) On private, nonresidential property, properly posted under RCW 46.55.070 Immediately

(iii) On private, nonresidential property, not posted 24 hours

(15) "Collector vehicle" has the same meaning as provided in RCW 46.04.126.

Sec. 2. RCW 46.55.240 and 2010 c 161 s 1122 and 2010 c 8 s 9064 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) A city, town, or county that adopts an ordinance or resolution concerning unauthorized, abandoned, or impounded vehicles shall include the applicable provisions of this chapter.

(a) A city, town, or county may, by ordinance, authorize other impound situations that may arise locally upon the public right-of-way or other publicly owned or controlled property.

(b) A city, town, or county ordinance shall contain language that establishes a written form of authorization to impound, which may include a law enforcement notice of infraction or citation, clearly denoting the agency's authorization to impound.

(c) A city, town, or county may, by ordinance, provide for release of an impounded vehicle by means of a promissory note in lieu of immediate payment, if at the time of redemption the legal or registered owner requests a hearing on the validity of the impoundment. If the municipal ordinance directs the release of an impounded vehicle before the payment of the impoundment charges, the municipality is responsible for the payment of those charges to the registered tow truck operator within thirty days of the hearing date.

(d) The hearing specified in RCW 46.55.120(2) and in this section may be conducted by an administrative hearings officer instead of in the district court. A decision made by an administrative hearing officer may be appealed to the district court for final judgment.

(2)(a) A city, town, or county may adopt an ordinance, consistent with this subsection (2), establishing procedures for the abatement and removal as public nuisances of junk vehicles or parts thereof from private property. Costs of removal may be assessed against the registered owner of the vehicle if the identity of the owner can be determined, unless the owner in the transfer of ownership of the vehicle has complied with RCW 46.12.650, or the costs may be assessed against the owner of the property on which the vehicle is stored. A city, town, or county may also provide for the payment to the tow truck operator or wrecker as a part of a neighborhood revitalization program.

(b) Prior to removing a junk vehicle, a city, town, or county must provide the property owner at least thirty days to produce evidence establishing that the vehicle:

(i) Is one of three or fewer collector vehicles that are being actively restored or are being used to supply parts for a collector vehicle that is being actively restored; and

(ii) Is not visible from the street or other public or private property.

(c) If the property owner establishes the elements in (b) of this subsection by a preponderance of the evidence, the vehicle may not be removed as a junk vehicle under this section. To establish the elements in (b) of this subsection, the property owner may, without limitation, present:

(i) Evidence of active, recent restoration work on the vehicle, including receipts or other pertinent evidence;

(ii) Evidence that the property owner has a valid current registration or certificate of title for the vehicle; or

(iii) Evidence that the vehicle has a collector vehicle license plate under RCW 46.18.220 or a horseless carriage license plate under RCW 46.18.255.

(d) This subsection (2) does not prohibit a city, town, or county from enacting, enforcing, or maintaining an ordinance, development regulation, zoning regulation, or official control, policy, or administrative practice to otherwise regulate restoration of collector vehicles.

(3) Ordinances pertaining to public nuisances shall contain:

(a) A provision requiring notice to the last registered owner of record and the property owner of record that a hearing may be requested and that if no hearing is requested, the vehicle will be removed;

(b) A provision requiring that if a request for a hearing is received, a notice giving the time, location, and date of the hearing on the question of abatement and removal of the vehicle or part thereof as a public nuisance shall be mailed, by certified mail, with a five-day return receipt requested, to the owner of the land as shown on the last equalized assessment roll and to the last registered and legal owner of record unless the vehicle is in such condition that identification numbers are not available to determine ownership;

(c) A provision that the ordinance shall not apply to:

(i) A vehicle or part thereof that is completely enclosed within a building in a lawful manner where it is not visible from the street or other public or private property ~~((~~☞~~))~~;

(ii) A collector vehicle that is one of three or fewer collector vehicles that are being actively restored or are being used to supply parts for a collector vehicle that is being actively restored, and is not visible from the street or other public or private property; or

(iii) A vehicle or part thereof that is stored or parked in a lawful manner on private property in connection with the business of a licensed dismantler or licensed vehicle dealer and is fenced according to RCW 46.80.130;

(d) A provision that the owner of the land on which the vehicle is located may appear in person at the hearing or present a written statement in time for consideration at the hearing, and (i) deny responsibility for the presence of the vehicle on the land, with his or her reasons for the denial((-), or (ii) provide evidence that the vehicle is a collector vehicle that is one of three or fewer collector vehicles that are being actively restored or are being used to supply parts for a collector vehicle that is being actively restored, and is not visible from the street or other public or private property;

(e) A provision that if it is determined at the hearing under (d) of this subsection that the vehicle was placed on the land without the consent of the landowner and that he or she has not subsequently acquiesced in its presence, then the local agency shall not assess costs of administration or removal of the vehicle against the property upon which the vehicle is located or otherwise attempt to collect the cost from the owner;

~~((~~☞~~))~~ (f) A provision that after notice has been given of the intent of the city, town, or county to dispose of the vehicle and after a hearing, if requested, has been held, the vehicle or part thereof shall be removed at the request of a law enforcement officer with notice to the Washington state patrol and the department of licensing that the vehicle has been wrecked. The city, town, or county may operate such a disposal site when its governing body determines that commercial channels of disposition are not available or are inadequate, and it may make final disposition of such vehicles or parts, or may transfer such vehicle or parts to another governmental body provided such disposal shall be only as scrap.

(4) A registered disposer under contract to a city or county for the impounding of vehicles shall comply with any administrative regulations adopted by the city or county on the handling and disposing of vehicles."

Senator Roach: "Thank you Mr. President, members of the senate. Well, I would like to compliment the good senator from the Thirty-Second District who today made front page lines for her very bipartisan effort to protect the safety of young children should they come across a fire arm and not know what to do. Senator Chase, to show you how grateful I am for the fact that you're out there on this issue helping to help children, I have provided each of you at your floor desks with two of the coloring books that the National Rifle Association does provide and take at them you'll see the safety that is encouraged. Just like we encourage kids if they are crossing the street to you know look both ways and if they somehow their clothing is on fire you drop and you roll. When you, if they should come across a fire arm, you stop. You don't touch it. You go tell an adult and that's the content of these booklets and I just wanted to commend the good Senator for her efforts and her ability to put down partisanship in this to protect the children of the state of Washington, our grandchildren, our children and those yet to come. Thank you very much Senator.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Chase: “I would like to thank the good Senator for acknowledging the importance of making sure that our children are safe around fire arms. I want you to know that I did use it with my grandson, it did work. He was in a home one time, he was like six years old and saw an unlock gun case and he came to his mother and said, ‘Mom, there is an unlocked gun case there.’ It works. Thank you very much.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Padden: “Just an announcement. There will be a meeting of the Senate Law & Justice Committee at 1:30 in Hearing Room 2 in the Cherberg Building.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Roach: “Yes, there is a Governmental Operations Committee that will be in Hearing Room 2 at 1:00 for very short. We’re going to do a couple of gubernatorial appointments and a gubernatorial request bill. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Holmquist Newbry: “Just wanted to say that there will not be a Commerce & Labor Committee meeting. Have a great weekend.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fain: “I just wanted to say that, on behalf of the body, we wanted to thank you for presiding in the first time over a day in which we were working bills. You did a fantastic job.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Senator Sheldon: “Senator Fain, I want to respond and let the body know that I’m only receiving a training wage for the day. So, thank you for your low expectations and high confidence.”

MOTION

At 12:14 p.m., on motion of Senator Fain, the Senate was declared to be at ease subject to the call of the President for the purpose of reading in reports later in the day.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Fain: "Well, for many years now, I've served on this august body and now as the Floor leader I'm not actually allowed to leave the floor during the time because things go hay wire when I leave the floor so I'm stuck here. One of the very, very important rules of this body that the Lieutenant Governor in serving as President always makes sure that is followed. It is very important rule of decorum,-which is no food or beverages are allowed on the senate floor and I'm looking around and I'm seeing all your well hydrated smiling faces and it's really making me think that we need to have a rule change so I don't just, I guess that's just, that's just me. It's Friday."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore: "And I'm seeing cell phones out there too."

MOTION

At 3:36 p.m., on motion of Senator Fain, the Senate adjourned until 10:00 a.m. Monday, February 25, 2013.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5053, by Senators Harper, Tom, Roach, Murray, Kohl-Welles, Eide, Carrell and Shin

Modifying vehicle prowling provisions.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Harper moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Harper and Padden be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 9A.52.100 and 2011 c 336 s 376 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person is guilty of vehicle prowling in the second degree if, with intent to commit a crime against a person or property therein, he or she enters or remains unlawfully in a vehicle other than a motor home, as defined in RCW 46.04.305, or a vessel equipped for propulsion by mechanical means or by sail which has a cabin equipped with permanently installed sleeping quarters or cooking facilities.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, vehicle prowling in the second degree is a gross misdemeanor.

(3) Vehicle prowling in the second degree is a class C felony upon a third or subsequent conviction of vehicle prowling in the second degree. A third or subsequent conviction means that a person has been previously convicted at least two separate occasions of the crime of vehicle prowling in the second degree.

(4) Multiple counts of vehicle prowling (a) charged in the same charging document do not count as separate offenses for the purposes of charging as a felony based on previous convictions for vehicle prowling in the second degree and (b) based on the same date of occurrence do not count as separate offenses for the purposes of charging as a felony based on previous convictions for vehicle prowling in the second degree.

Sec. 2. RCW 9.94A.515 and 2012 c 176 s 3 and 2012 c 162 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 84.36.480 and 1984 c 220 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((The following property shall be exempt from taxation:))~~ (1) Except as provided otherwise in subsection (3) of this section, the real and personal property of a nonprofit fair association that sponsors or conducts a fair or fairs ((which)) that is eligible to receive support from ((revenues collected pursuant to RCW 67.16.100)) the fair fund, as created in RCW 15.76.115 and allocated by the director of the department of agriculture, is exempt from taxation. To be exempt under this ((section)) subsection (1), the property must be used exclusively for fair purposes, except as provided in RCW 84.36.805. However, the loan or rental of property otherwise exempt under this section to a private concessionaire or to any person for use as a concession in conjunction with activities permitted under this section shall not nullify the exemption if the concession charges are subject to agreement and the rental income, if any, is reasonable and is devoted solely to the operation and maintenance of the property.

(2) Except as provided otherwise in subsection (3) of this section, the real and personal property purchased or acquired from a county by a nonprofit fair association and used for fair purposes is exempt from taxation. Such property must have been used previously by the county for fair purposes.

(3) A nonprofit fair association with real and personal property having an assessed value of more than fifteen million dollars is not eligible for the exemption under this section.

Sec. 2. RCW 84.36.805 and 2006 c 319 s 1 and 2006 c 226 s 3 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) In order to qualify for an exemption under this chapter, the nonprofit organizations, associations, or corporations must satisfy the conditions in this section.

(2) The property must be used exclusively for the actual operation of the activity for which exemption is granted, unless otherwise provided, and does not exceed an amount reasonably necessary for that purpose, except:

(a) The loan or rental of the property does not subject the property to tax if:

(i) The rents and donations received for the use of the portion of the property are reasonable and do not exceed the maintenance and operation expenses attributable to the portion of the property loaned or rented; and

(ii) Except for the exemptions under RCW 84.36.030(4), 84.36.037, 84.36.050, and 84.36.060(1) (a) and (b), the property would be exempt from tax if owned by the organization to which it is loaned or rented;

(b) The use of the property for fund-raising activities does not subject the property to tax if the fund-raising activities are consistent with the purposes for which the exemption is granted.

(3) The facilities and services must be available to all regardless of race, color, national origin or ancestry.

(4) The organization, association, or corporation must be duly licensed or certified where such licensing or certification is required by law or regulation.

(5) Property sold to organizations, associations, or corporations with an option to be repurchased by the seller ~~((shall))~~ does not qualify for exempt status. This subsection does not apply to property sold to a nonprofit entity, as defined in RCW 84.36.560(7), by:

(a) A nonprofit as defined in RCW 84.36.800 that is exempt from income tax under ~~((section))~~ 26 U.S.C. Sec. 501(c) of the federal internal revenue code;

(b) A governmental entity established under RCW 35.21.660, 35.21.670, or 35.21.730;

(c) A housing authority created under RCW 35.82.030;

(d) A housing authority meeting the definition in RCW 35.82.210(2)(a); or

(e) A housing authority established under RCW 35.82.300.

(6) The department ~~((shall))~~ must have access to its books in order to determine whether the nonprofit organization, association, or corporation is exempt from taxes under this chapter.

(7) This section does not apply to exemptions granted under RCW 84.36.020, 84.36.032, 84.36.250, ~~((and))~~ 84.36.260, and 84.36.480(2)."

Nick Co: "Thank you Mr. President. Good afternoon. My name is Nicholas Co and I am an Eagle Scout, Boy Scout Troops 609 in Issaquah Washington. I and twenty one Eagle Scouts are here today representing the six Boy Scout Councils in our state. Collectively we are here today to present the annual Report to the State of Washington. This past year nearly sixty seven thousand young people in Washington State participated in Scouting programs through the mentorship of more than twenty-thousand adult volunteers. Of these Scouts twenty four thousand four hundred and sixty nine attending camp and a record of one thousand three hundred forty achieved the pinnacle of Scouting by earning the rank of Eagle in our state last year. The Boy Scouts of America was founded on the premise, to be a good citizen you must do for others. Since its inception Scouts and volunteers have committed to serving others at all times with enthusiasm and conviction. Over the years Scouts have worked diligently to protect the environment and learn the value of 'leave no trace.' Through these and many other efforts the Boy Scouts of America has established a tradition of service. In 2012 Washington Scouts and volunteers donated more than three hundred thirty four thousand hours of community service to our state. This volunteer time is valued at nearly 7.3 billion dollars. By continuing to

SENATE RESOLUTION 8620

By Senators Mullet, Fain, Ranker, Billig, Frockt, Murray, Kohl-Welles, Roach, and Fraser

WHEREAS, The students of Tahoma High School who are enrolled in the program known as “We The People: The Citizen and Constitution” have exhibited exceptional knowledge of the Constitution of the United States and the lessons taught by our forefathers; and

WHEREAS, On Saturday, January 11, 2013, the state We The People competition was won by the team from Tahoma High School, making it the school's eighteenth state championship; and

WHEREAS, From April 26 to 29, 2013, these students will represent their state at the twenty-sixth anniversary We The People National Finals in Washington, D.C., where they will aspire to uphold the standards of excellence for which Tahoma High School is known; and

WHEREAS, These students have immersed themselves in the United States Constitution and Bill of Rights, and their extraordinary understanding of the country's founding documents and principles and formidable debate skills have inspired those who have watched them progress to the level of state champions; and

WHEREAS, The Tahoma team is coached by Gretchen Wulffing, who was named Washington's Civic Educator of the Year in 2011 and who continues to impress upon her students the importance of learning about American constitutional democracy and the contemporary relevance of the nation's founding documents and principles; and

WHEREAS, These students and their advisor were aided by countless hours of help from We The People alumni, former students who helped prepare this year's debaters by volunteering as guest judges; and

WHEREAS, Since the creation of We The People in 1987, nearly thirty million students and ninety thousand teachers from across the country have participated in enhancing civic education; and

WHEREAS, Studies have shown that eighty percent of high school seniors in this program are registered to vote, compared to an average of thirty-seven percent among other high school seniors, proof that We The People promotes a greater interest in participating in government; and

WHEREAS, Tahoma High School has a distinguished record in competitions at the national level, having placed fourth in the nation in 2000, capturing the Western Regional Award in 2002 and 2008, taking the top Unit Two in the Nation Award in 2003, and placing in the top ten in 2012;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate honor these “warriors of the Constitution”: Noah Adam, Christina Adamson, Alissa Bates, Joel Christensen, Rachele Frets, Jessica Glassner, Mitchell Halbert, Tabitha Kim, Timothy Lamb, Molly Lathrop, Trenton Lawrence, Nicole Lindblom, Dessa Meehan, Matthew Milburn, Dakota-Storm Nichols, Erika Nist, Sorina Pitts, Angela Rocchi, Niribili Sarmah, Jacob Seely, Miranda Smith, Carter Stoddard, Ashley Taylor, Kendall von Michalofski, William Wheeler, Taylor White, and Bridget Wulffing; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the members of Tahoma High School's We The People team, team advisor Gretchen Wulffing, and the principal of Tahoma High School, Terry Duty, to convey the respect of this body for a job well done and to wish them success in their endeavors.

Senators Mullet, Fain, Brown and Keiser spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8620.

The motion by Senator Mullet carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced members of the Tacoma High School “We The People” program who were seated in the gallery.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hewitt: “Thank you Mr. President, well, I do believe that that was Senator Brown’s, I think that was a floor speech, I’m not so sure. That’s got to be probably the shortest floor speech I’ve ever heard but maybe that matches her stature. I’m not sure about that either. Senator, it’s nice to have you here. I have to tell you, you are a couple of steps up from the last Senator we had from Eighth District and it’s very nice. I think most of us are very happy. You’re very scurryish’, if that’s a word. You’ve been very busy around here. You have more bills out of Rules already than I have and I have been here for a dozen years. I don’t know how this all happens but it does. It’s fun to watch you. You’ve hit the road running. You’re doing very, very well, but I got to tell you again, that’s the shortest floor speech I’ve ever heard for a first speech. That’s a nice sound coming out of very nice young-looking lady but I’m confused why you had to bring the Bishop here with you today. I don’t know if you have some things you want to confess and maybe there’s some other people on the floor want to confess with you but anyway it’s nice to see the Bishop here supporting you and part of your family. Thank and welcome to the Senate, I’m sure you’re going to do very, very well. Thank you Mr. President.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: “Thank you Mr. President. I too would like to welcome the new Senator and I’m pleased that she is fitting in to Senate culture so well, so early with a short speech. May you keep it up. Thank you.”

FORTY FIFTH DAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2013
 PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

2013 REGULAR SESSION

The measure was read the second time.

Senator Schoesler: “Not only was I impressed by the brevity of the new member’s speech, I’m also impressed by the fact that she is vertically challenged like the gentleman from the Sixteenth District and myself.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hargrove, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5235 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hargrove spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Senator Brown: “I thank the good Senators that abut my district and I am going to be dispersing here, shortly, gifts from my district and in those bags you’re going to find, first and for most, you’ve heard a lot of media about the Hanford Nuclear site, so the number one item you’re going to find are some spent fuel rods from the nuclear site. I thought you guys would really enjoy that. And while we’re on the topic of glowing, like we do here in the Senate, you’re also going to have beer from the Ice Harbor Brewery. The Ice Harbor Brewery was started by two gentleman that used to work at the Hanford site. And also we have a bottle of Cabernet Franc from Kestrel Vintners. It’s a wonderful, wonderful vintage and it’s a wonderful wine and I thank the good ladies from Kestrel, Felicia and Cat for bringing those to us. Although the winery is no longer in my district the grapes were born when it was in my district. We also have Wine Away just in case you have any problems with that bottle of wine. So enjoy your gifts from the Eighth Legislative District and it is truly an honor to be here and serve with all of you. Thank you.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5235.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5235 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 49; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

SENATE BILL NO. 5335, by Senators Dammeier, Eide, King, Hobbs and Fain

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate reverted to the sixth order of business.

Modifying the boundaries of certain heavy haul corridors.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The measure was read the second time.

Senator Sheldon: “Well, thank you Mr. President. While the gifts are being passed out, I had to make an observation about our newest Senator, Senator Brown from the Eighth District, Tri-Cities area particularly. I sit next to Senator Brown on the Energy, Environment & Telecommunication’s Committee and I had one observation that I’ve developed over the past couple of weeks. Senator Brown has absolutely the best posture of any Senator that I’ve ever served with. So, you, as the President, can observe everyone in the floor very easily and as you go through this session if you find anyone that has better posture that is sitting more erect, more ready to go, more attentive than Senator Brown please point that person out. Thank you Mr. President.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Dammeier, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5335 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5449, by Senators Parlette, Keiser, Becker, Bailey, Dammeier, Frockt, Ericksen and Schlicher

Addressing the Washington state health insurance pool.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Parlette, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5449 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5449 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Parlette moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Parlette and Keiser be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The federal patient protection and affordable care act of 2010, P.L. 111-148, as amended, prohibits the imposition of any preexisting condition coverage exceptions in the individual market for insurance coverage beginning January 1, 2014. The affordable care act also extends opportunities for individuals to enroll in comprehensive coverage in a health benefit exchange beginning January 1, 2014. The legislature finds that some individuals may still be barred from enrolling in the new comprehensive coverage options and it is the intent of the legislature to continue some limited access to the Washington state health insurance pool for a transitional period, and to provide for modification to the pool to reflect changes in federal law and insurance availability.

Sec. 2. RCW 48.41.060 and 2011 c 314 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The board shall have the general powers and authority granted under the laws of this state to insurance companies, health care service contractors, and health maintenance organizations, licensed or registered to offer or provide the kinds of health coverage defined under this title. In addition thereto, the board shall:

(b) Obtain from a member of the American academy of actuaries, who is independent of the board, a certification that the standard health questionnaire meets the requirements of (a) of this subsection;

(c) Approve the standard health questionnaire and any modifications needed to comply with this chapter. The standard health questionnaire shall be submitted to an actuary for certification, modified as necessary, and approved at least every thirty-six months unless at the time when certification is required the pool will be discontinued before the end of the succeeding thirty-six month period. The designation and approval of the standard health questionnaire by the board shall not be subject to review and approval by the commissioner. The standard health questionnaire or any modification thereto shall not be used until ninety days after public notice of the approval of the questionnaire or any modification thereto, except that the initial standard health questionnaire approved for use by the board after March 23, 2000, may be used immediately following public notice of such approval;

(d)) Establish appropriate rates, rate schedules, rate adjustments, expense allowances, claim reserve formulas and any other actuarial functions appropriate to the operation of the pool. Rates shall not be unreasonable in relation to the coverage provided, the risk experience, and expenses of providing the coverage. Rates and rate schedules may be adjusted for appropriate risk factors such as age and area variation in claim costs and shall take into consideration appropriate risk factors in accordance with established actuarial underwriting practices consistent with Washington state individual plan rating requirements under RCW 48.44.022 and 48.46.064;

FORTY FIFTH DAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

~~((e))~~ (b)(i) Assess members of the pool in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and make advance interim assessments as may be reasonable and necessary for the organizational or interim operating expenses. Any interim assessments will be credited as offsets against any regular assessments due following the close of the year.

(ii) Self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements are subject to assessment under this subsection only in the event that assessments are not preempted by the employee retirement income security act of 1974, as amended, 29 U.S.C. Sec. 1001 et seq. The arrangements and the commissioner shall initially request an advisory opinion from the United States department of labor or obtain a declaratory ruling from a federal court on the legality of imposing assessments on these arrangements before imposing the assessment. Once the legality of the assessments has been determined, the multiple employer welfare arrangement certified by the insurance commissioner must begin payment of these assessments.

(iii) If there has not been a final determination of the legality of these assessments, then beginning on the earlier of (A) the date the fourth multiple employer welfare arrangement has been certified by the insurance commissioner, or (B) April 1, 2006, the arrangement shall deposit the assessments imposed by this subsection into an interest bearing escrow account maintained by the arrangement. Upon a final determination that the assessments are not preempted by the employee retirement income security act of 1974, as amended, 29 U.S.C. Sec. 1001 et seq., all funds in the interest bearing escrow account shall be transferred to the board;

~~((f))~~ (c) Issue policies of health coverage in accordance with the requirements of this chapter;

~~((g))~~ (d) Establish procedures for the administration of the premium discount provided under RCW 48.41.200(3)(a)(iii);

~~((h))~~ (e) Contract with the Washington state health care authority for the administration of the premium discounts provided under RCW 48.41.200(3)(a) (i) and (ii);

~~((i))~~ (f) Set a reasonable fee to be paid to an insurance producer licensed in Washington state for submitting an acceptable application for enrollment in the pool; and

~~((j))~~ (g) Provide certification to the commissioner when assessments will exceed the threshold level established in RCW 48.41.037.

(2) In addition thereto, the board may:

(a) Enter into contracts as are necessary or proper to carry out the provisions and purposes of this chapter including the authority, with the approval of the commissioner, to enter into contracts with similar pools of other states for the joint performance of common administrative functions, or with persons or other organizations for the performance of administrative functions;

(b) Sue or be sued, including taking any legal action as necessary to avoid the payment of improper claims against the pool or the coverage provided by or through the pool;

(c) Appoint appropriate legal, actuarial, and other committees as necessary to provide technical assistance in the operation of the pool, policy, and other contract design, and any other function within the authority of the pool; and

(d) Conduct periodic audits to assure the general accuracy of the financial data submitted to the pool, and the board shall cause the pool to have an annual audit of its operations by an independent certified public accountant.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed to require or authorize the adoption of rules under chapter 34.05 RCW.

Sec. 3. RCW 48.41.100 and 2011 c 315 s 5 and 2011 c 314 s 15 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) The following persons who are residents of this state are eligible for pool coverage:

(i) ~~((Any person who provides evidence of a carrier's decision not to accept him or her for enrollment in an individual health benefit plan as defined in RCW 48.43.005 based upon, and within ninety days of the receipt of, the results of the standard health questionnaire designated by the board and administered by health carriers under RCW 48.43.018;~~

(ii) Any person who continues to be eligible for pool coverage based upon the results of the standard health questionnaire designated by the board and administered by the pool administrator pursuant to subsection (3) of this section;

(iii) Any person who resides in a county of the state where no carrier or insurer eligible under chapter 48.15 RCW offers to the public an individual health benefit plan other than a catastrophic health plan as defined in RCW 48.43.005 at the time of application to the pool, and who makes direct application to the pool)) Any resident of the state not eligible for medicare coverage or medicaid coverage, and residing in a county where an individual health plan other than a catastrophic health plan as defined in RCW 48.43.005 is not offered to the resident at the time of application to the pool, whether through the health benefit exchange operated pursuant to chapter 43.71 RCW or in the private insurance market, and who makes application to the pool for coverage prior to December 31, 2017;

(ii) Any resident of the state not eligible for medicare coverage, enrolled in the pool prior to December 31, 2013, shall remain eligible for pool coverage except as provided in subsections (2) and (3) of this section through December 31, 2017;

~~((iv))~~ (iii) Any person becoming eligible for medicare before August 1, 2009, who provides evidence of (A) a rejection for medical reasons, (B) a requirement of restrictive riders, (C) an up-rated premium, (D) a preexisting conditions limitation, or (E) lack of access to or for a comprehensive medicare supplemental insurance policy under chapter 48.66 RCW, the effect of any of which is to substantially reduce coverage from that received by a person considered a standard risk by at least one member within six months of the date of application; and

~~((v))~~ (iv) Any person becoming eligible for medicare on or after August 1, 2009, who does not have access to a reasonable choice of comprehensive medicare part C plans, as defined in (b) of this subsection, and who provides evidence of (A) a rejection for medical reasons, (B) a requirement of restrictive riders, (C) an up-rated premium, (D) a preexisting conditions limitation, or (E) lack of access to or for a comprehensive medicare supplemental insurance policy under chapter 48.66 RCW, the effect of any of which is to substantially reduce coverage from that received by a person considered a standard risk by at least one member within six months of the date of application;

~~((vi))~~ Any person under the age of nineteen who does not have access to individual plan open enrollment or special enrollment, as defined in RCW 48.43.005, or the federal preexisting condition insurance pool, at the time of application to the pool is eligible for the pool coverage).

(b) For purposes of (a)~~((iv))~~(iv) of this subsection (1), a person does not have access to a reasonable choice of plans unless the person has a choice of health maintenance organization or preferred provider organization medicare part C plans offered by at least three different carriers that have had provider networks in the person's county of residence for at least five years. The plan options must include coverage at least as comprehensive as a plan F medicare supplement plan combined with medicare parts A and B. The plan options must also provide access to adequate and stable provider networks that make up-to-date provider directories easily accessible on the carrier web site, and will provide them in hard copy, if requested. In addition, if no health maintenance organization or preferred provider organization plan includes the health care provider with whom the person has an established care relationship and from whom he or she has received treatment within the past twelve months, the person does not have reasonable access.

(2) The following persons are not eligible for coverage by the pool:

(a) Any person having terminated coverage in the pool unless (i) twelve months have lapsed since termination, or (ii) that person can show continuous other coverage which has been involuntarily terminated for any reason other than nonpayment of premiums. However, these exclusions do not apply to eligible individuals as defined in section 2741(b) of the federal health insurance portability and accountability act of 1996 (42 U.S.C. Sec. 300gg-41(b));

(b) Inmates of public institutions and those persons who become eligible for medical assistance after June 30, 2008, as defined in RCW 74.09.010. However, these exclusions do not apply to eligible individuals as defined in section 2741(b) of the federal health insurance portability and accountability act of 1996 (42 U.S.C. Sec. 300gg-41(b));

~~(c) Any person who resides in a county of the state where any carrier or insurer regulated under chapter 48.15 RCW offers to the public an individual health benefit plan other than a catastrophic health plan as defined in RCW 48.43.005 at the time of application to the pool and who does not qualify for pool coverage based upon the results of the standard health questionnaire, or pursuant to subsection (1)(a)(iv) of this section).~~

(3) When a carrier or insurer regulated under chapter 48.15 RCW begins to offer an individual health benefit plan in a county where no carrier had been offering an individual health benefit plan:

(a) If the health benefit plan offered is other than a catastrophic health plan as defined in RCW 48.43.005, any person enrolled in a pool plan pursuant to subsection (1)(a)(~~(iii)~~) (i) of this section in that county shall no longer be eligible for coverage under that plan pursuant to subsection (1)(a)(~~(iii)~~) (i) of this section ~~(but may continue to be eligible for pool coverage based upon the results of the standard health questionnaire designated by the board and administered by the pool administrator. The pool administrator shall offer to administer the questionnaire to each person no longer eligible for coverage under subsection (1)(a)(iii) of this section within thirty days of determining that he or she is no longer eligible;~~

~~(b) Losing eligibility for pool coverage under this subsection (3) does not affect a person's eligibility for pool coverage under subsection (1)(a)(i), (ii), or (iv) of this section); and~~

~~((e))~~ (b) The pool administrator shall provide written notice to any person who is no longer eligible for coverage under a pool plan under this subsection (3) within thirty days of the administrator's determination that the person is no longer eligible. The notice shall: (i) Indicate that coverage under the plan will cease ninety days from the date that the notice is dated; (ii) describe any other coverage options, either in or outside of the pool, available to the person; and (iii) describe the ~~((procedures for the administration of the standard health questionnaire to determine the person's continued eligibility for coverage under subsection (1)(a)(ii) of this section; and (iv) describe the))~~ enrollment process for the available options outside of the pool.

((4) The board shall ensure that an independent analysis of the eligibility standards for the pool coverage is conducted, including examining the eight percent eligibility threshold, eligibility for medicaid enrollees and other publicly sponsored enrollees, and the impacts on the pool and the state budget. The board shall report the findings to the legislature by December 1, 2007.))

Sec. 4. RCW 48.41.160 and 2007 c 259 s 27 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) On or before December 31, 2007, the pool shall cancel all existing pool policies and replace them with policies that are identical to the existing policies except for the inclusion of a provision providing for a guarantee of the continuity of coverage consistent with this section. As a means to minimize the number of policy changes for enrollees, replacement policies provided under this subsection also may include the plan modifications authorized in RCW 48.41.100, 48.41.110, and 48.41.120.

(2) A pool policy shall contain a guarantee of the individual's right to continued coverage, subject to the provisions of subsections (4) ~~((and)), (5), (7), and (8))~~ of this section.

(3) The guarantee of continuity of coverage required by this section shall not prevent the pool from canceling or nonrenewing a policy for:

(a) Nonpayment of premium;

(b) Violation of published policies of the pool;

(c) Failure of a covered person who becomes eligible for medicare benefits by reason of age to apply for a pool medical supplement plan, or a medicare supplement plan or other similar plan offered by a carrier pursuant to federal laws and regulations;

(d) Failure of a covered person to pay any deductible or copayment amount owed to the pool and not the provider of health care services;

(e) Covered persons committing fraudulent acts as to the pool;

(f) Covered persons materially breaching the pool policy; or

(g) Changes adopted to federal or state laws when such changes no longer permit the continued offering of such coverage.

(4)(a) The guarantee of continuity of coverage provided by this section requires that if the pool replaces a plan, it must make the replacement plan available to all individuals in the plan being replaced. The replacement plan must include all of the services covered under the replaced plan, and must not significantly limit access to the kind of services covered under the replacement plan through unreasonable cost-sharing requirements or otherwise. The pool may also allow individuals who are covered by a plan that is being replaced an unrestricted right to transfer to a fully comparable plan.

(b) The guarantee of continuity of coverage provided by this section requires that if the pool discontinues offering a plan: (i) The pool must provide notice to each individual of the discontinuation at least ninety days prior to the date of the discontinuation; (ii) the pool must offer to each individual provided coverage under the discontinued plan the option to enroll in any other plan currently offered by the pool for which the individual is otherwise eligible; and (iii) in exercising the option to discontinue a plan and in offering the option of coverage under (b)(ii) of this subsection, the pool must act uniformly without regard to any health status-related factor of enrolled individuals or individuals who may become eligible for this coverage.

(c) The pool cannot replace or discontinue a plan under this subsection (4) until it has completed an evaluation of the impact of replacing the plan upon:

(i) The cost and quality of care to pool enrollees;

(ii) Pool financing and enrollment;

(iii) The board's ability to offer comprehensive and other plans to its enrollees;

(iv) Other items identified by the board.

In its evaluation, the board must request input from the constituents represented by the board members.

(d) The guarantee of continuity of coverage provided by this section does not apply if the pool has zero enrollment in a plan.

(5) The pool may not change the rates for pool policies except on a class basis, with a clear disclosure in the policy of the pool's right to do so.

(6) A pool policy offered under this chapter shall provide that, upon the death of the individual in whose name the policy is issued, every other individual then covered under the policy may elect, within a period specified in the policy, to continue coverage under the same or a different policy.

FORTY FIFTH DAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

(7) All pool policies issued on or after January 1, 2014, must reflect the new eligibility requirements of RCW 48.41.100 and contain a statement of the intent to discontinue the pool coverage on December 31, 2017, under pool nonmedicare plans.

(8) Pool policies issued prior to January 1, 2014, shall be modified effective January 1, 2013, consistent with subsection (3)(g) of this section, and contain a statement of the intent to discontinue pool coverage on December 31, 2017, under pool nonmedicare plans.

(9) The pool shall discontinue all nonmedicare pool plans effective December 31, 2017.

Sec. 5. RCW 48.41.240 and 2012 c 87 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The board shall review populations that may need ongoing access to coverage through the pool, with specific attention to those persons who may be excluded from or may receive inadequate coverage beginning January 1, 2014, such as persons with end-stage renal disease or HIV/AIDS, or persons not eligible for coverage in the exchange.

(2) If the review under subsection (1) of this section indicates a continued need for coverage through the pool after December 31, 2013, the board shall submit recommendations regarding any modifications to pool eligibility requirements for new and ongoing enrollment after December 31, 2013. The recommendations must address any needed modifications to the standard health questionnaire or other eligibility screening tool that could be used in a manner consistent with federal law to determine eligibility for enrollment in the pool.

(3) The board shall complete an analysis of current pool assessment requirements in relation to assessments that will fund the reinsurance program and recommend changes to pool assessments or any credits against assessments that may be considered for the reinsurance program. The analysis shall recommend whether the categories of members paying assessments should be adjusted to make the assessment fair and equitable among all payers.

(4) The board shall report its recommendations to the governor and the legislature by December 1, 2012.

(5) The board shall revisit the study of eligibility completed in 2012 with another review of the populations that may need ongoing access to coverage through the pool, to be submitted to the governor and legislature by November 1, 2015. The eligibility study shall include the nonmedicare populations scheduled to lose coverage and medicare populations, and consider whether the enrollees have access to comprehensive coverage alternatives that include appropriate pharmacy coverage. The study shall include recommendations to address any barriers in eligibility that remain in accessing other coverage such as medicare supplemental coverage or comprehensive pharmacy coverage, as well as suggestions for financing changes and recommendations on a future expiration of the pool.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Sections 2 and 3 of this act take effect January 1, 2014."

Senator Keiser spoke in favor of adoption of the striking amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Parlette and Keiser to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5449.

The motion by Senator Parlette carried and the striking amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

There being no objection, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "pool;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 48.41.060, 48.41.160, and 48.41.240; reenacting and amending RCW 48.41.100; creating a new section; and providing an effective date."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Parlette, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5449 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators Parlette, Keiser and Darneille spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

8624

By Senators Brown, Kohl-Welles, Roach, Schlicher, Hatfield, Becker, Holmquist Newbry, Eide, Conway, and Fraser

WHEREAS, The Washington State Senate recognize extraordinary merit and achievement in all forms of endeavors; and

WHEREAS, The Seattle Seahawks thrilled fans by finishing the 2012 season with an overall record of 11-5, including a perfect 8-0 record on their home field in 2012; and

WHEREAS, The Seahawks advanced to the playoffs winning the NFC wild card round and representing the city admirably in the NFC divisional round; and

WHEREAS, The Seahawks have inspired their fans with their commitment to community and tenacity of play, inspiring the spirit of the "12th Man" to reach every part of this great state and each Seahawks fan across the country, and leading the "12th Man" to be the loudest fans in the league producing more opponent false starts than any other fan base since 2005; and

WHEREAS, The Seahawks achieved amazing team and individual accomplishments in the 2012 season with six Pro Bowl selections and four All-Pro selections; and

WHEREAS, Though one of the youngest teams in the league, the Seahawks showed great poise throughout the season that was demonstrated by players that placed second in defensive Rookie of the Year honors, third in offensive Rookie of the Year honors, and by setting the rookie quarterback record for touchdown passes in a single season; and

WHEREAS, The Seahawks defense was the number one ranked scoring defense in the NFL, and the offense set single-season records during the regular season for total rushing yards, average rushing yards, and per-carry average; and

WHEREAS, The Seahawks inspired the "12th Man" on and off the field through its civic work with the Seattle Seahawks Charitable Foundation; and

WHEREAS, The Seahawks Charitable Foundation and Spirit of 12 Partners, including the Russell Okung's UP Foundation, the Trufant Family Foundation, the Marshawn Lynch Fam 1st Family Foundation, and the Michael Robinson's Excel 2 Excellence Foundation, embody the team's commitment to the Pacific Northwest community and its fans; and

WHEREAS, Coach Pete Carroll has been an incredible leader by guiding the Seahawks to an overall winning record since joining the team in 2010 and working with youth in our communities through the formation of A Better Seattle, a partnership to help create a culture of safety and peace while reducing violence in our communities;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate congratulate the Seattle Seahawks on their outstanding success on the field and commend Seahawks players and management for their support of community activities and charitable causes; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Seattle Seahawks Football Team. Go Hawks.

Senators Brown and Hargrove spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8624.

The motion by Senator Brown carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President is greatly honored to be able to introduce this amazing man. Let me tell you a little bit about the coach. He's the eighth; he joined the Seattle Seahawks January 11 bringing eighteen years of NFL experience and nineteen years of college experience. He was head coach at University of Southern Cal between 2001-2009 and much to the dismay of the Huskies and the Cougars he led the Trojans to seven consecutive PAC 10 titles and two national championships. In 2003 he helped develop A Better LA, a non-profit group working to reduce gang violence by empowering change in individuals in communities and in 2009 received a Crystal Heart Award from the SC School of Social Work for those efforts. Based on a model of A better LA, Pete Carroll created A Better Seattle, a 2011 partnership with the YMCA of Greater Seattle and the Seattle Youth Violence Prevention Initiative. Coach Carroll and his wife Glenna have three children, one grandson and a granddaughter. It is a great honor for the President to be able to introduce to you Coach Pete Carroll."

REMARKS BY PETE CARROLL

Pete Carroll: "Thank you very much. Thank you Senator Brown. I just want to start off by saying I know we have a really exciting football team and all. We're led by a very exciting football player Russell Wilson and I think, I don't care if you've been in five terms, you better watch out, he's coming for your job. There's nothing to stop this guy and we're so thrilled to be part of representing the Twelfth man and I know representing your constituents. This is an extraordinary area, the energy; the love of supporting their teams as well as just having this pioneer spirit that's so cool about being in the Northwest is really something. I'm really proud to be part of it and having a blast doing it. Could you imagine. Look where I am. I can't believe I'm here today so I did the preliminary work on the other end of the building okay with the Democrats/Republicans but now that we're here with you guys at the Senate, this is big time isn't it? Yeah it is isn't it. I'm in deep trouble over there now. We're fired up about football but we're here for a different reason today and I've been given this opportunity to come and tell you a little story and give you a little background on some work that we've done that really does reach out to your world. It was years ago in SC when, the second year I think at the Trojans driving in on a Monday morning on Notre Dame week and I heard a report on the radio where four kids got killed in the streets over the weekend. That same news report going down Figueroa Avenue right down through South Central every day, I got the report that in related incidences three more kids were killed from what had happened over the weekend. And then by Thursday eleven kids had been killed in retaliation's and I had an old friend that some of you may know Lou Tice who ran the Pacific Institute here for years and has been a great friend over the years and we always wanted to do something significant and we said call each other. So, I said 'Lou the kids are dying in the streets of Los Angeles at such an alarming rate we got to do something.' He said 'Ok, I'm in' didn't take any more than that and from that thought and that affirmation we put a meeting out that we were going to talk about youth violence and what's going on in LA. I mean we didn't know anything, I mean I didn't know a thing what was going on. I didn't have a clue but we did a pretty good job of broadcasting that we were going to have a meeting right there on campus. We made a time and a date, people started showing up and we received the media, the Mayor, I loved that Maxine Waters showed up, people from all walks of the community that were involved, to Chief of Police department, the Sheriff's Department, probation, community based organizations, there were people from everywhere. They just jammed in a room and we started talking about the problems and what's going on and really just convened on the issue. What came from that was an energy that has allowed us to create A Better LA and the organization down there, you know the foundation that would just help in aid in work. Really we saw our focus going towards the outreach workers in the community. All of the people that were involved I asked them that night, I don't know if you going to help us or not but whatever you say you're going to do, do it and if you're not going to do something just please stay out of our way because we got something special here that's going to happen if we just stay together. From that first night and the nights that followed and the efforts that occurred we saw this tremendous connection occur where the Sheriff's Department was talking to the police, the police was talking to the probation and the organizations that had been just dying for some kind of recognition were now talking to the Mayor's office and there was a dialogue of common language that kind of resulted out of that, that started a momentum that followed a destitute time, where LA police and Sheriff's Department has said we can't solve the problem, we can't arrest our way out of this, we're not getting it done. We connected outreach work with law enforcement and all of the other organizations that do this marvelous work in just a way that the language was created and a dialogue has stood till today and we've seen tremendous, tremendous turns in what's going on in Los Angeles. Los Angeles is a monster of a job. At the point where we started there was ninety six thousand registered gang members and think of all the ones that weren't. There was so many people that were involved there, it was a staggering number but a tremendous movement has occurred. So, that took place and we're excited about it and thrilled. We did it in this fashion. We realized by talking to the kids in the streets really that's where the story is being told, they knew that they were either going to die or go to jail and they lived a life of this hopelessness and had nowhere to turn to avoid that mentality and I heard time and time again and it finally hit me that that's the vision the kids hold, they don't have a chance of doing anything but that because vision is so powerful. And our job became to help people sculpt and shape a vision of hope of some fashion to give them a chance and a plan to get out. We realized through our coaching that once you create a vision for an individual or for a team or for an organization or the Twelfth man and everybody joins on board and understands what that vision is, our job then becomes to stay in connection with that vision. When we do that manifest happens right before your eyes and we've seen it happen that time and time again and here we are now in Seattle. I hope that maybe somebody would say you know coach you did that thing down in LA, what do you think about it up here, would it work? Well, we always wanted to create a model that could be transferable, that we could show that there is a way to get this done. So when that happened the Chief of Police and the Sheriff's Department they came to us and they said, 'We're interested. What's going on?' We found a young man Kevin Griffin who worked for the Seahawks, I don't know where Kevin is now, but he's in the building somewhere here. Kevin has been an extraordinary factor who has worked out of the Seahawks office so the NFL backed up our mission here. Steve Ballmer and Connie Ballmer decided that this was something they wanted to be involved with and they made a statement from the private sector that we would support. Well, we found that the YMCA was already supporting a group called 'Alive and Free' that has been doing marvelous outreach work but it also connected us with the Y and so we took this model of the NFL private sector, the YMCA and also with the corporate help that we've received created a beautiful model here in Seattle to really even take it a step further than what had happened in Los Angeles. LA has continued to be supportive and we exchange groups and we teach, we bring people down there, we bring people up here so all that we've learned in the past is shared here. That's why A Better LA, A Better Seattle is connected and we hope to continue to spread the model. We're not just in Seattle. We're spreading out to the surrounding areas. We just heard today from Eastern Washington needs help. We'll listen to everybody and help everybody we can. In an effort to help kids live a safer life and to help them get home and show up to their mom and dad when they get home after school. In that effort by quelling the youth issues that occur we can make communities more thriving, more safe and more prosperous and just as they should be. We're trying to do the right thing and we have found a really cool model to do this and it works and it's at hand and it's already happening in your area. We're here today to say we need your help. The big step, that's why I'm so thrilled to be here, the big step for us in California is we need to get to the next level because private funding won't get it done. We need state support and we're going to need federal support as well. Well, we just heard two weeks ago from the President, he just talked exactly about creating the ladder that kids could climb for opportunity to get out of their issues. Well, he's talking about exactly what we're talking about. Here's where it really hits home. If we do a great job here in Washington you can be the first state that sets in the motion how this problem can be dealt with and really it's not something we can't understand. It's done one person at a time. One person talking to one kid sitting on a park bench helping them create a vision of hope that would not have happened otherwise and then it's the next one and then you reach into a family, you're saving lives directly and you're also saving communities and we're saving the state millions and millions of dollars as well. It's extraordinary, its staggering how much it cost to process a gang order in LA, you'd be shocked. It's a million to million and half a person, it's extraordinary amount of funds that go out, by spending money we'll save an extraordinary amount in just the work that we do. That's a financial way of looking at it but really we're doing wonderful work. So, we're here to make a call to you, wherever you can help us we want to help us. If you say you're going to help us then do it and if you can't, just sit back and let us do the good stuff we're going to do and don't get in our way because we're going to do something great. I'm thrilled to be here. Thank you so much for this opportunity to speak to you and I hope we'll do a lot of great things in the future. Thank you. Go Hawks."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ericksen: "Thank you Mr. President. I just wanted to announce to the members here today that tomorrow morning at 8:00 a.m. the Energy, Environment & Telecommunications Committee will be holding a briefing on the situation over at Hanford regarding the leaking tanks. So, if anybody would like to join us for that briefing it will be 8:00 a.m. tomorrow over in Senate Hearing Room 1."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kohl-Welles: "Thank you Mr. President. Given our guests being here today representing the Seahawks, I would like to acknowledge that former and late Senator Alex Deccio was a real leader here in our legislature. He and I were kind of a tag team in getting the legislation through to have a measure sent to the ballot for the voters to determine whether there would be a new Seahawks Stadium. It was one of the most challenging bills, as those of you who will remember, who were here at that time, there was a lot of back and forth. I had been on the Kingdome Task Force that made the recommendation to provide for a measure to have a new stadium being constructed. Former Senator Luke Esser and I went to the Super Bowl the year when the Seahawks were in it as did a couple of House members and it's really been exciting, I believe it's really paid off. I frequently think of Senator Deccio and all he put into that challenge. Thank you Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator King: "I would just like to point out to the body that the Sun Dome is still standing. Thank you."

MOTION

MOTION

Senator Honeyford moved adoption of the following resolution:

8621

By Senators Honeyford, Baumgartner, Parlette, Hewitt, Bailey, Rivers, Becker, Smith, Dammeier, Conway, Rolfes, Mullet,

King, Braun, Shin, Schoesler, Padden, Hobbs, Hatfield, Benton, Fraser, Cleveland, Ericksen, Brown, Chase, Fain, Nelson, Billig, Pearson, Holmquist Newbry, Harper, Litzow, and Hill

WHEREAS, The Civil Air Patrol was born on December 1, 1941, just days before the attack on Pearl Harbor, for the purposes of liaison flying and interdiction of infiltrators on the east coast and the southern border of the United States, and the Civil Air Patrol insignia, a red three-bladed propeller in the Civil Defense white-triangle-in-blue-circle, began appearing everywhere; and

WHEREAS, When German submarines began to prey on American ships, the Civil Air Patrol's mission grew to include a 1,000-member coastal patrol, 64 of whom died in service and 26 of whom were lost at sea; and

WHEREAS, After Civil Air Patrol planes were issued bombs and depth charges in response to a crew watching in vain as a grounded sub off Cape Canaveral, Florida, escaped before the military arrived, the Civil Air Patrol Coastal flew 24 million miles and found 173 subs, attacked 57, hit 10, and sank two; and

WHEREAS, By presidential executive order, the Civil Air Patrol became an auxiliary of the Army Air Force on April 28, 1943, and some months later the Germans withdrew coastal U-boat operations "because of those damned little red and yellow airplanes"; and

WHEREAS, The Civil Air Patrol went on to target-towing operations, courier service for the Army, liaison and cargo flights between war plants, and southern border patrol against enemy infiltrators crossing from Mexico, and air, search and rescue, and nonflying Civil Air Patrol members guarded airfields and trained a rapidly growing corps of Civil Air Patrol cadets; and

WHEREAS, During the postwar years, the Civil Air Patrol was put to work in search and rescue missions, saving the United States millions of dollars in operational costs, because there was no other organization with the equipment and training to continue this vital job as military aircraft was far too expensive to operate and flew too fast to accurately spot downed planes and personnel; and

WHEREAS, During floods and other natural disasters, the Civil Air Patrol has flown vital serum and vaccines to areas unreachable by heavier aircraft, and ground teams have helped in the evacuation of cities and towns; and

WHEREAS, In 2012, over one hundred air crews from three Civil Air Patrol regions began conducting a post-Hurricane Sandy aerial photo mission, the largest in Civil Air Patrol history, covering more than 300 miles of coastline from Cape Cod, Massachusetts to Cape May, New Jersey, and taking more than 120,000 photos for the Federal Emergency Management Agency, which used the images for damage assessment; and

WHEREAS, Civil Air Patrol members from three counties in Indiana assisted the Federal Emergency Management Agency alongside neighbors, citizen volunteers, and emergency response workers throughout the night and into the daylight hours, searching vehicles and outdoor areas for victims after a rash of tornadoes devastated the area in 2011; and

WHEREAS, The Civil Air Patrol has a cadet program with over 26,000 young people between the ages of 12 and 20, one of its major attractions being the aerospace program which provides both classroom and practical instruction in flight and rocketry, and each cadet is offered the opportunity to participate in orientation flights in both powered and glider aircraft, while learning search and rescue techniques and many other valuable skills, with an emphasis on military history, leadership, and service to others both within the squadron and the community as a whole; and

WHEREAS, On May 18, 1980, when Mt. St. Helens in Washington state exploded, devastating approximately 150 square miles and triggering massive mud flows, floods, and ash fall, the Civil Air Patrol quickly responded to the county sheriff's request for help by establishing a 24-hour headquarters, aiding search and rescue missions, updating weather advisories, and assisting in ash cleanup; and

WHEREAS, Today's Civil Air Patrol continues its service and commitment to our state and country with three primary missions: Aerospace Education, Cadet Programs, and Emergency Services; and

WHEREAS, In Washington state alone, the Civil Air Patrol is composed of approximately 800 senior members and approximately 730 cadets, who in 2011 flew their eleven aircraft 2,578.8 hours in service to our state, at a value of 3 million dollars in volunteer hours, and, primarily for cadet aerospace education, their Washington state gliders flew 658 sorties;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington state Senate recognize the Washington state wing of the Civil Air Patrol for its courageous and unwavering dedication to our citizens; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Civil Air Patrol Wing Commander, Colonel David Lehman, and to Civil Air Patrol Colonel Theodore Tax.

Senators Honeyford, Cleveland, Shin and Smith spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8621.

The motion by Senator Honeyford carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President is greatly honored to be able to recognize a number of people that are here with the Civil Air Patrol. First off, we had additional Color Guard members that joined us this morning that were not able to do the Color Guard but have brought dignity and honor to many events around the state. They are seated in the back and they are with us today. In addition we have other representatives in the back and in our gallery today from the Civil Air Patrol from Lewis County, Overlake, Olympia and Yakima that we would like to recognize as well. Would you all please stand and be recognized by the Senate? And the Color Guard team had left before I could acknowledge but you did a great job, very dignified. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Cleveland: "Thank you Mr. President. Well today is the occasion of my first floor speech and before I present the customary gift and explain it to you from my district. I want to briefly share a little bit with you about my district. The Forty-Ninth Legislative District encompasses Vancouver as well as parts of Clark County and our area is often referred to as the cradle of the Pacific Northwest due to the fact that Fort Vancouver is the oldest non-native settlement in the Pacific Northwest, serving as headquarters for the Hudson's Bay Company beginning in 1825. Since being the anchor for the settlement of the Pacific Northwest our community has been the site of many other firsts. From the establishment of the first hospital by Mother Joseph in 1858 today known as PeaceHealth Southwest Medical Center; to the soldiers who served our country based at Vancouver Barracks including General Ulysses S. Marshall Grant, General O. O. Howard and General George C. Marshall that today is the center piece of our city known as Officers Row and the Fort Vancouver National Historic Reserve; to the vital role that our community played in World War II, as a major ship building center at Kaiser Shipyards and, as we know, part of the beginning of Kaiser Pelmanente. We are rich in history and we value that history. My district also has a very proud aviation history and is the home of one of the oldest continuing operated airports in the nation, Pearson Airpark which was the site of the landing of the first transpolar flight in 1937. Today Vancouver is our fourth largest city in the state and our community sits on the shores of the Columbia River and continues to be a hub of commerce & trade. I am extremely proud to represent the Forty-Ninth Legislative District. We lovingly refer to has America's Vancouver, my birthplace and my home so I hope you enjoy the gifts that I present to you today. These gifts are aimed at your health and your well-being. They highlight just a few of the tremendous businesses that we have in my community because if there's one thing that I've learned in my few short weeks is that we work very long days. There's very little time to devote to our health and wellness so I do hope you enjoy these gifts. I thank you for welcoming me to the Senate. I am very much looking forward to our work together. Thank you."

2013 REGULAR SESSION

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Chase: "I would like to extend my welcome to Senator Cleveland and I know that Senator Cleveland thinks that the Senate is a sand box and so we know have our little pails and our shovels. I think we'll all get along and we're very pleased to have you here."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: "Thank you Mr. President. I feel honored the Senator would use her maiden speech to honor the Civil Air Patrol and because of that I will no offer no disparaging comments."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Conway: "Thank you Mr. President. Also, want to welcome Senator Cleveland to this lovely chamber but I was thinking here from bags to buckets. We must be sinking."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Smith: "So I would like to point out, as a resident of Colville, that there is some question within the state as to when the first fort was officially established. There are many who would suggest that Fort Colville was in fact the first fort, the first official military fort to be established within the State of Washington. I will humbly submit to my friend across the aisle and perhaps we will speak of this some other time."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kline: "Thank you. I notice that for the first time we have in our gifts a first aid kit. Now clearly the new member anticipates what it's like to be in the minority here and for this we thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator King: "Well, I too would like to welcome the good Senator to the senate. We've had several conversations in regards to a little bridge down in her area and those conversations will continue. But she, also serves with her in the Transportation Committee, she's been a great addition and very much look forward to working with her through this session and the coming years so welcome."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, I too would like to welcome Senator Cleveland, my new side by side seat mate. Glad to see your desk is in order and you know how to work your microphone really well and it's especially nice you're using your first speech to stimulate discussion about the history of the State of Washington. I think that is great and while there may be debate over which fort was the first one and there was some in South Puget Sound too. There's no doubt yours was the biggest."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Eide: "Well, the young lady must not know how to count because I'm the only one that didn't get a bucket. I don't know what it is about this seat but I've had to go a searching a couple times with a couple of you members and I take names. By the way, I love your bridge. Thank you Mr. President."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Cleveland, the President did recognize that you did talk about, something about the bucket for health and I'm thrilled to find that eating at Burgerville is considered healthy."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Cleveland: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, comfort is most certainly part of health and that is where the Burgerville spread comes in."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: "Well, thank you Mr. President. Well, I have a different point of personal privilege. We got on the topic of history here and I would like to note that today is an historic day. It is the anniversary of the Nisqually Earthquake so it was, well I'm pleased to report that this building is much safer than it used to be and our presiding officer did preside over a big commission that did improve, a number of our members did, that improved the stability of the dome that actually rose up to zero gravity and started to move. We were in session that day, pieces started falling down from the ceiling. We were in caucus and for the interest of members who are newer, the two caucuses that time had the same caucus rooms we now have so we just go back and forth over time. But I do have some snap shots at my desk that I took of the damage if anybody would like to see them your welcome. Thank you Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: "Well, I noticed there's an argument about the first fort in the State of Washington and who claims it. A lot of people don't know, in fact most people don't know about a block house that was built in 1808 in Senator Hargrove's district and this was a block house built by Russians and they had a ship called the Nicolai that came south and their intent was to colonize, plant the flag and claim Washington territory area as a part of Russia but because of the shipwreck and the conflicts that they had with the Indian'. That did not occur. Otherwise we might have been speaking Russian today."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Eide: “Thank you. Well, it is indeed a historic day because I remember the day of the Nisqually Earthquake.

It happened to be my twenty-fifth wedding anniversary and today is my thirty-seventh wedding anniversary. So, I just wanted to say, so needless to say it’s an anniversary I will never forget it was our twenty-fifth. But I just want to say I love you baby because I know he’s watching this morning. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Shin: Well, Senator Eide was bragging about thirty-seventh wedding anniversary. We’re celebrating a fiftieth wedding anniversary this year and my wife is dreaming and planning for a long cruise into the Pacific Ocean. The reason I stand up is because the young folks behind us. I saw them this morning, brought tears to my eyes. They are our future. They’re training now to defend this country freedom and the value of which it stands for. Publically I want to thank them for your dreams and your future and may your futures be peaceful and humbling for you. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kohl-Welles: “Thank you Mr. President. I believe I stood up on this day, this anniversary of the Nisqually Earthquake for quite a few years but I was the only one in the Senate Chamber at that time. We were all in our caucuses and I came out to make a phone call. There weren’t even any people here from our staff up at the rostrum. I experienced some really severe earthquakes in California and I always thought the place I would most not want to be when an earthquake struck was right here and when that happened and I was totally alone it was truly terrifying. It is important to remember there were over a thousand people in the building at that time. And, of course, we all rushed out and no one was seriously injured or fortunately no one was killed here. It was something that gives us all pause I believe and it’s important to remember how close a huge tragedy was averted and I will always remember coming back into the building when it was dark later in the day, in the evening and rescuing Senator Edie’s flowers and taking them out of the building. To this day I still take my purse around with me because with most people we were trapped outside without coats on a very, very cold day, without keys with nothing for hours and hours and then taking part of the adjournment of the Senate out by the bus stop right outside where the Lieutenant Governor adjourned the session. It was pretty memorable, we learned a lot through that and I think the caucuses and members became closer as we held the Senate in the Senate Hearing Room 4 for the remainder of that session. We couldn’t help but be closer as we were physically. I think we should reflect on that sometimes about the collegiality and the importance of that when we are working on public policy efforts. Thank you.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate reverted to the seventh order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Rivers, Senators Hill and Honeyford were excused.

SENATE RESOLUTION 8627

By Senators Kohl-Welles, Ericksen, Hatfield, Ranker, Hargrove, Darneille, Murray, Cleveland, Shin, Hewitt, Schlicher, Keiser, Padden, Fraser, Bailey, Conway, Rivers, Harper, and Roach

WHEREAS, The Washington state commercial fishing fleet begins leaving in March for the Pacific and Alaskan waters, and the Blessing of the Fleet will occur March 3, 2013, at Fisherman's Terminal in Ballard; and

WHEREAS, This is the 85th year that the Ballard First Lutheran Church has held the blessing and the 17th year that Pastor Erik Wilson Weiberg has offered the blessing; and

WHEREAS, The Washington state commercial fishing fleet begins leaving Blaine waters in May, and this is the 30th year that the Blessing of the Fleet will occur in Blaine Harbor, this year at Blaine Boating Center on May 5, 2013; and

WHEREAS, The Washington state commercial fishing fleet begins leaving Bellingham waters in May, and the Blessing of the Fleet will occur at Zuanich Point Park in Squaticum Harbor, May 11, 2013; and

WHEREAS, The Washington state commercial fishing fleet is one of the world's largest distant water fleets; and

WHEREAS, The commercial fishing industry directly and indirectly employs thousands of people and is one of the largest industries in Washington state; and

WHEREAS, The harvest annually contributes significantly to the Washington state economy; and

WHEREAS, The life of a fisher is fraught with danger and hardship that most people will never face; and

WHEREAS, Strength and courage are requirements for anyone who chooses to work on the sea, braving the elements in order to harvest the ocean's resources; and

WHEREAS, The men and women who work on fishing boats, at times in dangerous circumstances, deserve our admiration, thanks, and, when tragedy strikes, our remembrance; and

WHEREAS, Too often fishers lose their lives, devastating not only the close-knit community of fishing families in our region, but also our entire state;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate extend its condolences to the families and friends of all our fishers who have lost their lives at sea, wish the entire commercial fishing fleet a safe and prosperous season, and express its hope that all of our fishers will return home safely to their families, friends, and communities.

SENATE RESOLUTION

By Senators Darneille, Kline, Eide, Fraser, Conway, Shin, Honeyford, Sheldon, Parlette, Benton, Keiser, McAuliffe, Kohl-Welles, Chase, Schoesler, Hargrove, and Roach

WHEREAS, Senator Lorraine Wojahn served faithfully and well the people of Tacoma and the 27th Legislative District in the Washington State Legislature for 32 years, serving in the House of Representatives from 1969 to 1976 and serving in the Senate from 1977 to 2001; and

WHEREAS, Senator Wojahn was a strong and sometimes fierce voice for the poor, disabled, and most vulnerable; and

WHEREAS, She embodied the ethic of public service and exemplified the philosophy of helping people help themselves; and

WHEREAS, While serving as a Representative, Wojahn led the way in consumer protection efforts and social health concerns with legislation that required bacon packages to provide a clear window to display all sides of the product; and

WHEREAS, Senator Wojahn was a role model for women and broke barriers in the Washington State Legislature as one of only six women Senators when she was elected to the Senate in 1976; and

WHEREAS, She became the first woman ever to serve on the Senate Rules Committee, the first woman and non-attorney to be appointed to the Washington State Judicial Council, and the first woman President Pro Tempore of the Senate to preside Sine Die; and

WHEREAS, Senator Wojahn was a constant advocate for women's rights. She aided the passage of the Equal Rights Amendment, sponsored legislation allowing women to obtain credit on their own, created the displaced homemaker act, and fought to end domestic violence against women and children; and

WHEREAS, Legislation sponsored by Senator Wojahn led to the creation of the Department of Health; and

WHEREAS, Public health was of great importance to Senator Wojahn at a time when it was often overlooked by others. Senator Wojahn was determined and successful at raising public awareness to preventable health threats such as osteoporosis, fetal alcohol syndrome, the need for childhood immunizations, and mental health parity; and

WHEREAS, During her long Senate career, she was known for having the "fastest gavel in the West" when presiding as Senate President Pro Tempore; and

WHEREAS, Senator Wojahn loved her district and saw a great potential in the opportunities to revitalize and rebuild the economy in Tacoma and Pierce County to the benefit of all Washingtonians; and

WHEREAS, Senator Wojahn was influential in saving Union Station in Tacoma with the assistance of then Congressman Norm Dicks; and

WHEREAS, Senator Wojahn was instrumental in gaining state financial support for the creation of the University of Washington Tacoma campus and the Washington State History Museum, and she saved other historic buildings in downtown Tacoma from demolition; and

WHEREAS, Senator Wojahn was a very proud lifetime member of the Pierce County YWCA and served on the board of directors for Allenmore Hospital, the Washington State Historical Society, and the Boy's and Girl's Clubs of Tacoma - Pierce County, among others;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate honor and memorialize the life and legislative career of Senator R. Lorraine Wojahn for her unflinching commitment, advocacy, and focus which made her one of the most respected and influential state legislators within the last 50 years; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Senator Wojahn's son, Mark Wojahn, to convey the respect of this body for a career committed to serving the 27th District and the people of the State of Washington.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 9.68A.090 and 2006 c 139 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, a person who communicates with a minor for immoral purposes, or a person who communicates with someone the person believes to be a minor for immoral purposes, is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

(2) A person who communicates with a minor for immoral purposes is guilty of a class C felony punishable according to chapter 9A.20 RCW if the person has previously been convicted under this section or of a felony sexual offense under chapter 9.68A, 9A.44, or 9A.64 RCW or of any other felony sexual offense in this or any other state or if the person communicates with a minor or with someone the person believes to be a minor for immoral purposes, including the purchase or sale of commercial sex acts and sex trafficking, through the sending of an electronic communication.

(3) For the purposes of this section, "electronic communication" has the same meaning as defined in RCW 9.61.260.

Sec. 2. RCW 9.68A.100 and 2010 c 289 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person is guilty of commercial sexual abuse of a minor if:

(a) He or she pays a fee to a minor or a third person as compensation for a minor having engaged in sexual conduct with him or her;

(b) He or she pays or agrees to pay a fee to a minor or a third person pursuant to an understanding that in return therefore such minor will engage in sexual conduct with him or her; or

(c) He or she solicits, offers, or requests to engage in sexual conduct with a minor in return for a fee.

(2) Commercial sexual abuse of a minor is a class B felony punishable under chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(3) In addition to any other penalty provided under chapter 9A.20 RCW, a person guilty of commercial sexual abuse of a minor is subject to the provisions under RCW 9A.88.130 and 9A.88.140.

(4) Consent of a minor to the sexual conduct does not constitute a defense to any offense listed in this section.

(5) For purposes of this section, "sexual conduct" means sexual intercourse or sexual contact, both as defined in chapter 9A.44 RCW.

Sec. 3. RCW 9.68A.101 and 2012 c 144 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person is guilty of promoting commercial sexual abuse of a minor if he or she knowingly advances commercial sexual abuse or a sexually explicit act of a minor or profits from a minor engaged in sexual conduct or a sexually explicit act.

(2) Promoting commercial sexual abuse of a minor is a class A felony.

(3) For the purposes of this section:

(a) A person "advances commercial sexual abuse of a minor" if, acting other than as a minor receiving compensation for personally rendered sexual conduct or as a person engaged in commercial sexual abuse of a minor, he or she causes or aids a person to commit or engage in commercial sexual abuse of a minor, procures or solicits customers for commercial sexual abuse of a minor, provides persons or premises for the purposes of engaging in commercial sexual abuse of a minor, operates or assists in the operation of a house or enterprise for the purposes of engaging in commercial sexual abuse of a minor, or engages in any other conduct designed to institute, aid, cause, assist, or facilitate an act or enterprise of commercial sexual abuse of a minor.

(b) A person "profits from commercial sexual abuse of a minor" if, acting other than as a minor receiving compensation for personally rendered sexual conduct, he or she accepts or receives money or other property pursuant to an agreement or understanding with any person whereby he or she participates or will participate in the proceeds of commercial sexual abuse of a minor.

FIFTIETH DAY, MARCH 4, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

(c) A person "advances a sexually explicit act of a minor" if he or she causes or aids a sexually explicit act of a minor, procures or solicits customers for a sexually explicit act of a minor, provides persons or premises for the purposes of a sexually explicit act of a minor, or engages in any other conduct designed to institute, aid, cause, assist, or facilitate a sexually explicit act of a minor.

(d) A "sexually explicit act" is a public, private, or live photographed, recorded, or videotaped act or show intended to arouse or satisfy the sexual desires or appeal to the prurient interests of patrons and for which something of value is given or received.

(e) A "patron" is a person who pays or agrees to pay a fee to another person as compensation for a sexually explicit act of a minor or who solicits or requests a sexually explicit act of a minor in return for a fee.

(4) Consent of a minor to the sexually explicit act or sexual conduct does not constitute a defense to any offense listed in this section.

(5) For purposes of this section, "sexual conduct" means sexual intercourse or sexual contact, both as defined in chapter 9A.44 RCW.

Sec. 4. RCW 9.68A.102 and 2007 c 368 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person commits the offense of promoting travel for commercial sexual abuse of a minor if he or she knowingly sells or offers to sell travel services that include or facilitate travel for the purpose of engaging in what would be commercial sexual abuse of a minor or promoting commercial sexual abuse of a minor, if occurring in this state.

(2) Promoting travel for commercial sexual abuse of a minor is a class C felony.

(3) Consent of a minor to the travel for commercial sexual abuse, or the sexually explicit act or sexual conduct itself, does not constitute a defense to any offense listed in this section.

(4) For purposes of this section, "travel services" has the same meaning as defined in RCW 19.138.021.

Sec. 5. RCW 9.68A.103 and 2007 c 368 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person is guilty of permitting commercial sexual abuse of a minor if, having possession or control of premises which he or she knows are being used for the purpose of commercial sexual abuse of a minor, he or she fails without lawful excuse to make reasonable effort to halt or abate such use and to make a reasonable effort to notify law enforcement of such use.

(2) Permitting commercial sexual abuse of a minor is a gross misdemeanor.

(3) Consent of a minor to the sexually explicit act or sexual conduct does not constitute a defense to any offense listed in this section.

Sec. 6. RCW 9A.40.100 and 2012 c 144 s 2 and 2012 c 134 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) A person is guilty of trafficking in the first degree when:

(i) Such person:

(A) Recruits, harbors, transports, transfers, provides, obtains, buys, purchases, or receives by any means another person knowing, or in reckless disregard of the fact, that force, fraud, or coercion as defined in RCW 9A.36.070 will be used to cause the person to engage in forced labor, involuntary servitude, a sexually explicit act, or a commercial sex act, or that the person has not attained the age of eighteen years and is caused to engage in a sexually explicit act or a commercial sex act; or

(B) Benefits financially or by receiving anything of value from participation in a venture that has engaged in acts set forth in (a)(i)(A) of this subsection; and

(ii) The acts or venture set forth in (a)(i) of this subsection:

(A) Involve committing or attempting to commit kidnapping;

(B) Involve a finding of sexual motivation under RCW 9.94A.835;

(C) Involve the illegal harvesting or sale of human organs; or

(D) Result in a death.

(b) Trafficking in the first degree is a class A felony.

(2)(a) A person is guilty of trafficking in the second degree when such person:

(i) Recruits, harbors, transports, transfers, provides, obtains, buys, purchases, or receives by any means another person knowing, or in reckless disregard of the fact, that force, fraud, or coercion as defined in RCW 9A.36.070 will be used to cause the person to engage in forced labor, involuntary servitude, a sexually explicit act, or a commercial sex act, or that the person has not attained the age of eighteen years and is caused to engaged in a sexually explicit act or a commercial sex act; or

(ii) Benefits financially or by receiving anything of value from participation in a venture that has engaged in acts set forth in (a)(i) of this subsection.

(b) Trafficking in the second degree is a class A felony.

(3)(a) A person who is either convicted or given a deferred sentence or a deferred prosecution or who has entered into a statutory or nonstatutory diversion agreement as a result of an arrest for a violation of a trafficking crime shall be assessed a (~~three~~) ten thousand dollar fee.

(b) The court shall not reduce, waive, or suspend payment of all or part of the fee assessed in this section unless it finds, on the record, that the offender does not have the ability to pay the fee in which case it may reduce the fee by an amount up to two-thirds of the maximum allowable fee.

(c) Fees assessed under this section shall be collected by the clerk of the court and remitted to the treasurer of the county where the offense occurred for deposit in the county general fund, except in cases in which the offense occurred in a city or town that provides for its own law enforcement, in which case these amounts shall be remitted to the treasurer of the city or town for deposit in the general fund of the city or town. Revenue from the fees must be used for local efforts to reduce the commercial sale of sex including, but not limited to, increasing enforcement of commercial sex laws.

(i) At least fifty percent of the revenue from fees imposed under this section must be spent on prevention, including education programs for offenders, such as john school, and rehabilitative services, such as mental health and substance abuse counseling, parenting skills, training, housing relief, education, vocational training, drop-in centers, and employment counseling.

(ii) Revenues from these fees are not subject to the distribution requirements under RCW 3.50.100, 3.62.020, 3.62.040, 10.82.070, or 35.20.220.

(4) If the victim of any offense identified in this section is a minor, force, fraud, or coercion are not necessary elements of an offense and consent to the sexually explicit act or commercial sex act does not constitute a defense.

(5) For purposes of this section(~~(3)~~):

(a) "Commercial sex act" means any act of sexual contact or sexual intercourse, both as defined in chapter 9A.44 RCW, for which something of value is given or received by any person; and

(b) "Sexually explicit act" means a public, private, or live photographed, recorded, or videotaped act or show intended to arouse or satisfy the sexual desires or appeal to the prurient interests of patrons for which something of value is given or received.

Sec. 7. RCW 9A.44.020 and 1975 1st ex.s. c 14 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In order to convict a person of any crime defined in this chapter it shall not be necessary that the testimony of the alleged victim be corroborated.

(2) Evidence of the victim's past sexual behavior including but not limited to the victim's marital history, divorce history, or general reputation for promiscuity, nonchastity, or sexual mores contrary to community standards is inadmissible on the issue of credibility and is inadmissible to prove the victim's consent except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, but when the perpetrator and the victim have engaged in sexual intercourse with each other in the past, and when the past behavior is material to the issue of consent, evidence concerning the past behavior between the perpetrator and the victim may be admissible on the issue of consent to the offense.

(3) In any prosecution for the crime of rape, trafficking pursuant to RCW 9A.40.100, or any of the offenses in chapter 9.68A RCW, or for an attempt to commit, or an assault with an intent to commit any such crime evidence of the victim's past sexual behavior including but not limited to the victim's marital behavior, divorce history, or general reputation for promiscuity, nonchastity, or sexual mores contrary to community standards is not admissible if offered to attack the credibility of the victim and is admissible on the issue of consent, except where prohibited in the underlying criminal offense, only pursuant to the following procedure:

(a) A written pretrial motion shall be made by the defendant to the court and prosecutor stating that the defense has an offer of proof of the relevancy of evidence of the past sexual behavior of the victim proposed to be presented and its relevancy on the issue of the consent of the victim.

(b) The written motion shall be accompanied by an affidavit or affidavits in which the offer of proof shall be stated.

(c) If the court finds that the offer of proof is sufficient, the court shall order a hearing out of the presence of the jury, if any, and the hearing shall be closed except to the necessary witnesses, the defendant, counsel, and those who have a direct interest in the case or in the work of the court.

(d) At the conclusion of the hearing, if the court finds that the evidence proposed to be offered by the defendant regarding the past sexual behavior of the victim is relevant to the issue of the victim's consent; is not inadmissible because its probative value is substantially outweighed by the probability that its admission will create a substantial danger of undue prejudice; and that its exclusion would result in denial of substantial justice to the defendant; the court shall make an order stating what evidence may be introduced by the defendant, which order may include the nature of the questions to be permitted. The defendant may then offer evidence pursuant to the order of the court.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit cross-examination of the victim on the issue of past sexual behavior when the prosecution presents evidence in its case in chief tending to prove the nature of the victim's past sexual behavior, but the court may require a hearing pursuant to subsection (3) of this section concerning such evidence.

Sec. 8. RCW 9A.44.128 and 2012 c 134 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purposes of RCW 9A.44.130 through 9A.44.145, 10.01.200, 43.43.540, 70.48.470, and 72.09.330, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Business day" means any day other than Saturday, Sunday, or a legal local, state, or federal holiday.

(2) "Conviction" means any adult conviction or juvenile adjudication for a sex offense or kidnapping offense.

(3) "Disqualifying offense" means a conviction for: Any offense that is a felony; a sex offense as defined in this section; a crime against children or persons as defined in RCW 43.43.830~~((5))~~ (7) and 9.94A.411(2)(a); an offense with a domestic violence designation as provided in RCW 10.99.020; permitting the commercial sexual abuse of a minor as defined in RCW 9.68A.103; or any violation of chapter 9A.88 RCW.

(4) "Employed" or "carries on a vocation" means employment that is full time or part time for a period of time exceeding fourteen days, or for an aggregate period of time exceeding thirty days during any calendar year. A person is employed or carries on a vocation whether the person's employment is financially compensated, volunteered, or for the purpose of government or educational benefit.

(5) "Fixed residence" means a building that a person lawfully and habitually uses as living quarters a majority of the week. Uses as living quarters means to conduct activities consistent with the common understanding of residing, such as sleeping; eating; keeping personal belongings; receiving mail; and paying utilities, rent, or mortgage. A nonpermanent structure including, but not limited to, a motor home, travel trailer, camper, or boat may qualify as a residence provided it is lawfully and habitually used as living quarters a majority of the week, primarily kept at one location with a physical address, and the location it is kept at is either owned or rented by the person or used by the person with the permission of the owner or renter. A shelter program may qualify as a residence provided it is a shelter program designed to provide temporary living accommodations for the homeless, provides an offender with a personally assigned living space, and the offender is permitted to store belongings in the living space.

(6) "In the community" means residing outside of confinement or incarceration for a disqualifying offense.

(7) "Institution of higher education" means any public or private institution dedicated to postsecondary education, including any college, university, community college, trade, or professional school.

(8) "Kidnapping offense" means:

(a) The crimes of kidnapping in the first degree, kidnapping in the second degree, and unlawful imprisonment, as defined in chapter 9A.40 RCW, where the victim is a minor and the offender is not the minor's parent;

(b) Any offense that is, under chapter 9A.28 RCW, a criminal attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit an offense that is classified as a kidnapping offense under this subsection; and

(c) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for: An offense for which the person would be required to register as a kidnapping offender if residing in the state of conviction; or, if not required to register in the state of conviction, an offense that under the laws of this state would be classified as a kidnapping offense under this subsection.

(9) "Lacks a fixed residence" means the person does not have a living situation that meets the definition of a fixed residence and includes, but is not limited to, a shelter program designed to provide temporary living accommodations for the homeless, an outdoor sleeping location, or locations where the person does not have permission to stay.

(10) "Sex offense" means:

(a) Any offense defined as a sex offense by RCW 9.94A.030;

(b) Any violation under RCW 9A.44.096 (sexual misconduct with a minor in the second degree);

(c) Any violation under RCW 9A.40.100(1)(a)(ii)(B) (trafficking);

(d) Any violation under RCW 9.68A.090 (communication with a minor for immoral purposes);

~~((d))~~ (e) A violation under RCW 9A.88.070 (promoting prostitution in the first degree) or RCW 9A.88.080 (promoting prostitution in the second degree) if the person has a prior conviction for one of these offenses;

~~((e))~~ (f) Any gross misdemeanor that is, under chapter 9A.28 RCW, a criminal attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit an offense that is classified as a sex offense under RCW 9.94A.030 or this subsection;

FIFTIETH DAY, MARCH 4, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

~~((f))~~ (g) Any out-of-state conviction for an offense for which the person would be required to register as a sex offender while residing in the state of conviction; or, if not required to register in the state of conviction, an offense that under the laws of this state would be classified as a sex offense under this subsection;

~~((e))~~ (h) Any federal conviction classified as a sex offense under 42 U.S.C. Sec. 16911 (SORNA);

~~((h))~~ (i) Any military conviction for a sex offense. This includes sex offenses under the uniform code of military justice, as specified by the United States secretary of defense;

~~((i))~~ (j) Any conviction in a foreign country for a sex offense if it was obtained with sufficient safeguards for fundamental fairness and due process for the accused under guidelines or regulations established pursuant to 42 U.S.C. Sec. 16912.

(11) "School" means a public or private school regulated under Title 28A RCW or chapter 72.40 RCW.

(12) "Student" means a person who is enrolled, on a full-time or part-time basis, in any school or institution of higher education.

Sec. 9. RCW 9A.44.150 and 2005 c 455 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) On motion of the prosecuting attorney in a criminal proceeding, the court may order that a child under the age of ~~((ten))~~ fourteen may testify in a room outside the presence of the defendant and the jury while one-way closed-circuit television equipment simultaneously projects the child's testimony into another room so the defendant and the jury can watch and hear the child testify if:

(a) The testimony will:

(i) Describe an act or attempted act of sexual contact performed with or on the child witness by another person or with or on a child other than the child witness by another person;

(ii) Describe an act or attempted act of physical abuse against the child witness by another person or against a child other than the child witness by another person; ~~((or))~~

(iii) Describe a violation of RCW 9A.40.100 (trafficking) or any offense identified in chapter 9.68A RCW (sexual exploitation of children); or

(iv) Describe a violent offense as defined by RCW 9.94A.030 committed against a person known by or familiar to the child witness or by a person known by or familiar to the child witness;

(b) The testimony is taken during the criminal proceeding;

(c) The court finds by substantial evidence, in a hearing conducted outside the presence of the jury, that requiring the child witness to testify in the presence of the defendant will cause the child to suffer serious emotional or mental distress that will prevent the child from reasonably communicating at the trial. If the defendant is excluded from the presence of the child, the jury must also be excluded;

(d) As provided in ~~((subsection (1))~~(a) and (b) of this subsection, the court may allow a child witness to testify in the presence of the defendant but outside the presence of the jury, via closed-circuit television, if the court finds, upon motion and hearing outside the presence of the jury, that the child will suffer serious emotional distress that will prevent the child from reasonably communicating at the trial in front of the jury, or, that although the child may be able to reasonably communicate at trial in front of the jury, the child will suffer serious emotional or mental distress from testifying in front of the jury. If the child is able to communicate in front of the defendant but not the jury the defendant will remain in the room with the child while the jury is excluded from the room;

(e) The court finds that the prosecutor has made all reasonable efforts to prepare the child witness for testifying, including informing the child or the child's parent or guardian about community counseling services, giving court tours, and explaining the trial process. If the prosecutor fails to demonstrate that preparations were implemented or the prosecutor in good faith attempted to implement them, the court shall deny the motion;

(f) The court balances the strength of the state's case without the testimony of the child witness against the defendant's constitutional rights and the degree of infringement of the closed-circuit television procedure on those rights;

(g) The court finds that no less restrictive method of obtaining the testimony exists that can adequately protect the child witness from the serious emotional or mental distress;

(h) When the court allows the child witness to testify outside the presence of the defendant, the defendant can communicate constantly with the defense attorney by electronic transmission and be granted reasonable court recesses during the child's testimony for person-to-person consultation with the defense attorney;

(i) The court can communicate with the attorneys by an audio system so that the court can rule on objections and otherwise control the proceedings;

(j) All parties in the room with the child witness are on camera and can be viewed by all other parties. If viewing all participants is not possible, the court shall describe for the viewers the location of the prosecutor, defense attorney, and other participants in relation to the child;

(k) The court finds that the television equipment is capable of making an accurate reproduction and the operator of the equipment is competent to operate the equipment; and

(l) The court imposes reasonable guidelines upon the parties for conducting the filming to avoid trauma to the child witness or abuse of the procedure for tactical advantage.

The prosecutor, defense attorney, and a neutral and trained victim's advocate, if any, shall always be in the room where the child witness is testifying. The court in the court's discretion depending on the circumstances and whether the jury or defendant or both are excluded from the room where the child is testifying, may remain or may not remain in the room with the child.

(2) During the hearing conducted under subsection (1) of this section to determine whether the child witness may testify outside the presence of the defendant and/or the jury, the court may conduct the observation and examination of the child outside the presence of the defendant if:

(a) The prosecutor alleges and the court concurs that the child witness will be unable to testify in front of the defendant or will suffer severe emotional or mental distress if forced to testify in front of the defendant;

(b) The defendant can observe and hear the child witness by closed-circuit television;

(c) The defendant can communicate constantly with the defense attorney during the examination of the child witness by electronic transmission and be granted reasonable court recesses during the child's examination for person-to-person consultation with the defense attorney; and

(d) The court finds the closed-circuit television is capable of making an accurate reproduction and the operator of the equipment is competent to operate the equipment. Whenever possible, all the parties in the room with the child witness shall be on camera so that the viewers can see all the parties. If viewing all participants is not possible, then the court shall describe for the viewers the location of the prosecutor, defense attorney, and other participants in relation to the child.

(3) The court shall make particularized findings on the record articulating the factors upon which the court based its decision to allow the child witness to testify via closed-circuit television pursuant to this section. The factors the court may consider include, but are not limited to, a consideration of the child's age, physical health, emotional stability, expressions by the child of fear of testifying in open court or in front of the defendant, the relationship of the defendant to the child, and the court's observations of the child's inability to reasonably communicate in front of the defendant or in open court. The court's findings shall identify the impact the factors have upon the child's ability to testify in front of the jury or the defendant or both and the specific nature of the emotional or mental trauma the child would suffer. The court shall determine whether the source of the trauma is the presence of the defendant, the jury, or both, and shall limit the use of the closed-circuit television accordingly.

(4) This section does not apply if the defendant is an attorney pro se unless the defendant has a court-appointed attorney assisting the defendant in the defense.

(5) This section may not preclude the presence of both the child witness and the defendant in the courtroom together for purposes of establishing or challenging the identification of the defendant when identification is a legitimate issue in the proceeding.

(6) The Washington supreme court may adopt rules of procedure regarding closed-circuit television procedures.

(7) All recorded tapes of testimony produced by closed-circuit television equipment shall be subject to any protective order of the court for the purpose of protecting the privacy of the child witness.

(8) Nothing in this section creates a right of the child witness to a closed-circuit television procedure in lieu of testifying in open court.

(9) The state shall bear the costs of the closed-circuit television procedure.

(10) A child witness may or may not be a victim in the proceeding.

(11) Nothing in this section precludes the court, under other circumstances arising under subsection (1)(a) of this section, from allowing a child to testify outside the presence of the defendant and the jury so long as the testimony is presented in accordance with the standards and procedures required in this section.

Sec. 10. RCW 9A.82.010 and 2012 c 139 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context requires the contrary, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1)(a) "Beneficial interest" means:

(i) The interest of a person as a beneficiary under a trust established under Title 11 RCW in which the trustee for the trust holds legal or record title to real property;

(ii) The interest of a person as a beneficiary under any other trust arrangement under which a trustee holds legal or record title to real property for the benefit of the beneficiary; or

(iii) The interest of a person under any other form of express fiduciary arrangement under which one person holds legal or record title to real property for the benefit of the other person.

(b) "Beneficial interest" does not include the interest of a stockholder in a corporation or the interest of a partner in a general partnership or limited partnership.

(ii) Unlicensed practice of a profession or business, as defined in RCW 18.130.190(7);

(jj) Improperly obtaining financial information, as defined in RCW 9.35.010;

(kk) Identity theft, as defined in RCW 9.35.020;

(ll) Unlawful shipment of cigarettes in violation of RCW 70.155.105(6) (a) or (b);

FIFTIETH DAY, MARCH 4, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

(mm) Unlawful shipment of cigarettes in violation of RCW 82.24.110(2);

(nn) Unauthorized sale or procurement of telephone records in violation of RCW 9.26A.140;

(oo) Theft with the intent to resell, as defined in RCW 9A.56.340;

(pp) Organized retail theft, as defined in RCW 9A.56.350;

(qq) Mortgage fraud, as defined in RCW 19.144.080;

(rr) Commercial sexual abuse of a minor, as defined in RCW 9.68A.100; (~~oe~~)

(ss) Promoting commercial sexual abuse of a minor, as defined in RCW 9.68A.101; or

(tt) Trafficking, as defined in RCW 9A.40.100, promoting travel for commercial sexual abuse of a minor, as defined in RCW 9.68A.102, and permitting commercial sexual abuse of a minor, as defined in RCW 9.68A.103.

(5) "Dealer in property" means a person who buys and sells property as a business.

(6) "Debtor" means a person to whom an extension of credit is made or a person who guarantees the repayment of an extension of credit or in any manner undertakes to indemnify the creditor against loss resulting from the failure of a person to whom an extension is made to repay the same.

(7) "Documentary material" means any book, paper, document, writing, drawing, graph, chart, photograph, phonograph record, magnetic tape, computer printout, other data compilation from which information can be obtained or from which information can be translated into usable form, or other tangible item.

(8) "Enterprise" includes any individual, sole proprietorship, partnership, corporation, business trust, or other profit or nonprofit legal entity, and includes any union, association, or group of individuals associated in fact although not a legal entity, and both illicit and licit enterprises and governmental and nongovernmental entities.

(9) "Extortionate extension of credit" means an extension of credit with respect to which it is the understanding of the creditor and the debtor at the time the extension is made that delay in making repayment or failure to make repayment could result in the use of violence or other criminal means to cause harm to the person, reputation, or property of any person.

(10) "Extortionate means" means the use, or an express or implicit threat of use, of violence or other criminal means to cause harm to the person, reputation, or property of any person.

(11) "Financial institution" means any bank, trust company, savings and loan association, savings bank, mutual savings bank, credit union, or loan company under the jurisdiction of the state or an agency of the United States.

(12) "Pattern of criminal profiteering activity" means engaging in at least three acts of criminal profiteering, one of which occurred after July 1, 1985, and the last of which occurred within five years, excluding any period of imprisonment, after the commission of the earliest act of criminal profiteering. In order to constitute a pattern, the three acts must have the same or similar intent, results, accomplices, principals, victims, or methods of commission, or be otherwise interrelated by distinguishing characteristics including a nexus to the same enterprise, and must not be isolated events. However, in any civil proceedings brought pursuant to RCW 9A.82.100 by any person other than the attorney general or county prosecuting attorney in which one or more acts of fraud in the purchase or sale of securities are asserted as acts of criminal profiteering activity, it is a condition to civil liability under RCW 9A.82.100 that the defendant has been convicted in a criminal proceeding of fraud in the purchase or sale of securities under RCW 21.20.400 or under the laws of another state or of the United States requiring the same elements of proof, but such conviction need not relate to any act or acts asserted as acts of criminal profiteering activity in such civil action under RCW 9A.82.100.

(13) "Real property" means any real property or interest in real property, including but not limited to a land sale contract, lease, or mortgage of real property.

(14) "Records" means any book, paper, writing, record, computer program, or other material.

(15) "Repayment of an extension of credit" means the repayment, satisfaction, or discharge in whole or in part of a debt or claim, acknowledged or disputed, valid or invalid, resulting from or in connection with that extension of credit.

(16) "Stolen property" means property that has been obtained by theft, robbery, or extortion.

(17) "To collect an extension of credit" means to induce in any way a person to make repayment thereof.

(18) "To extend credit" means to make or renew a loan or to enter into an agreement, tacit or express, whereby the repayment or satisfaction of a debt or claim, whether acknowledged or disputed, valid or invalid, and however arising, may or shall be deferred.

(19) "Traffic" means to sell, transfer, distribute, dispense, or otherwise dispose of stolen property to another person, or to buy, receive, possess, or obtain control of stolen property, with intent to sell, transfer, distribute, dispense, or otherwise dispose of the property to another person.

(20)(a) "Trustee" means:

(i) A person acting as a trustee under a trust established under Title 11 RCW in which the trustee holds legal or record title to real property;

(ii) A person who holds legal or record title to real property in which another person has a beneficial interest; or

(iii) A successor trustee to a person who is a trustee under (a)(i) or (ii) of this subsection.

(b) "Trustee" does not mean a person appointed or acting as:

(i) A personal representative under Title 11 RCW;

(ii) A trustee of any testamentary trust;

(iii) A trustee of any indenture of trust under which a bond is issued; or

(iv) A trustee under a deed of trust.

(21) "Unlawful debt" means any money or other thing of value constituting principal or interest of a debt that is legally unenforceable in the state in full or in part because the debt was incurred or contracted:

(a) In violation of any one of the following:

(i) Chapter 67.16 RCW relating to horse racing;

(ii) Chapter 9.46 RCW relating to gambling;

(b) In a gambling activity in violation of federal law; or

(c) In connection with the business of lending money or a thing of value at a rate that is at least twice the permitted rate under the applicable state or federal law relating to usury.

Sec. 11. RCW 13.34.132 and 2011 c 309 s 28 are each amended to read as follows:

A court may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed if the following requirements are met:

(1) The court has removed the child from his or her home pursuant to RCW 13.34.130;

(2) Termination is recommended by the department or the supervising agency;

(3) Termination is in the best interests of the child; and

(4) Because of the existence of aggravated circumstances, reasonable efforts to unify the family are not required. Notwithstanding the existence of aggravated circumstances, reasonable efforts may be required if the court or department determines it is in the best interests of the child. In determining whether aggravated circumstances exist by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence, the court shall consider one or more of the following:

(a) Conviction of the parent of rape of the child in the first, second, or third degree as defined in RCW 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, and 9A.44.079;

(b) Conviction of the parent of criminal mistreatment of the child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.42.020 and 9A.42.030;

(c) Conviction of the parent of one of the following assault crimes, when the child is the victim: Assault in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.011 and 9A.36.021 or assault of a child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.120 or 9A.36.130;

(d) Conviction of the parent of murder, manslaughter, or homicide by abuse of the child's other parent, sibling, or another child;

(e) Conviction of the parent of trafficking, or promoting commercial sexual abuse of a minor when the victim of the crime is the child, the child's other parent, a sibling of the child, or another child.

(f) Conviction of the parent of attempting, soliciting, or conspiring to commit a crime listed in (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this subsection;

~~((#))~~ (g) A finding by a court that a parent is a sexually violent predator as defined in RCW 71.09.020;

~~((#))~~ (h) Failure of the parent to complete available treatment ordered under this chapter or the equivalent laws of another state, where such failure has resulted in a prior termination of parental rights to another child and the parent has failed to effect significant change in the interim. In the case of a parent of an Indian child, as defined in RCW 13.38.040, the court shall also consider tribal efforts to assist the parent in completing treatment and make it possible for the child to return home;

~~((#))~~ (i) An infant under three years of age has been abandoned;

~~((#))~~ (j) Conviction of the parent, when a child has been born of the offense, of: (A) A sex offense under chapter 9A.44 RCW; or (B) incest under RCW 9A.64.020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. This act takes effect August 1, 2013."

Senator Padden spoke in favor of adoption of the striking amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kohl-Welles: "Will the sponsor of the amendment, Senator Padden yield to a question? Senator Padden, what is the intent and the effect of the proposed striking amendment to the committee substitute to this bill?"

Senator Padden: "Thank you Senator Kohl-Welles. The changes in the striking amendment are intended simply to clarify language and make technical corrections to the committee substitute.

Both internal and external references and definitions are harmonized in the amendment to eliminate possible confusion.

Language is added that clarifies that the crimes of trafficking and commercial sexual abuse of a minor are aggravating factors for termination of parental rights. The amendment also removes language that may have unintentionally limited the sex offenses that can currently be used as aggravating circumstances sufficient to order the termination of parental rights.

And finally, the section regarding patronizing a prostitute is removed. The committee substitute included unneeded references which may have unintentionally limited the charging discretion of a prosecuting attorney."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Padden and Kohl-Welles to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5669.

The motion by Senator Padden carried and the striking amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

There being no objection, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "trafficking;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 9.68A.090, 9.68A.100, 9.68A.101, 9.68A.102, 9.68A.103, 9A.44.020, 9A.44.128, 9A.44.150, 9A.82.010, and 13.34.132; reenacting and amending RCW 9A.40.100; prescribing penalties; and providing an effective date."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Padden, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5669 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators Padden and Kohl-Welles spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5669.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5578, by Senators Fraser, Carrell, Padden, Darneille, Harper, Pearson, Hargrove and Kline

Exempting certain family day care providers who have been operating for at least five years from any requirement to have a high school diploma or equivalent education.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator McAuliffe moved that the following striking amendment by Senator McAuliffe be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. It is the intent of the legislature to encourage all family day care providers to join the early achievers program, Washington state's quality rating and improvement system. Provider advancement in the levels of the early achievers program also signifies that provider practices will lead to improved quality of services and child outcomes. While the legislature recognizes that achieving an early achievers program level two demonstrates that a provider has laid the foundation for further advancement, the legislature hopes that providers are able to advance to higher levels on the early achievers pathway in order to increase professionalism and achieve better long-term outcomes for children in care.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 43.215 RCW to read as follows:

A family day care provider who as of the effective date of this section has been licensed in operation for five years or longer and against whom there has not been a complaint that resulted in an enforcement action is exempt from any requirement to have a high school diploma or equivalent education until March 31, 2017, however by March 31, 2017, the family day care provider must either achieve a high school diploma or equivalent or meet the minimum education requirement by joining the early achievers program, Washington state's quality rating and improvement system."

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "providers;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "adding a new section to chapter 43.215 RCW; and creating a new section."

Senators McAuliffe and Fraser spoke in favor of adoption of the striking amendment.

Senators Padden and Carrell spoke against adoption of the striking amendment.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5578 was deferred and the bill held its place on the second reading calendar.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5305, by Senators Becker, Schlicher, Kline, Dammeier, Delvin, Ericksen, Parlette and Carrell

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Billig: "Thank you, I wanted to just take a moment to congratulate the Gonzaga University. Men's and Women's basketball teams for their phenomenal season. Gonzaga which is based right in the heart of Third Legislative District in Spokane really had a terrific year in many ways and particularly want to recognize the Men's Basketball team. Not only ranked number one in the country for the first time in school history but for the first time in the history of the state of Washington. Certainly a significant accomplishment there. And it's a big year for Gonzaga also that they're celebrating their one hundred twenty-fifth anniversary. So congratulations all the way around not just for the athletics but for all they do for the Spokane community and our whole state. I wish the Gonzaga teams good luck in the WCC and the NCAA tournaments. Go Zags. Thank you."

Senator Ranker: "Thank you Mr. President, so I will take the question. Sorry, about that Senator Sheldon, I just get nervous when you stand up and ask me about a question. The last time I did that things got really bad. Not your fault though. That is not the intent of the bill and I do not believe states that. I believe what the bill does as it takes out the date certain so that basically now that if you are in possession of shark fins you are breaking the law."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5081.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate advanced to the seventh order of business.

The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5723 which had been deferred earlier in the day.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of parliamentary inquiry raised by Senator Frockt concerning the number of votes necessary to pass Substitute Senate Bill 5723, the President finds and rules as follows:

Substitute Senate Bill 5723 is a measure that permits enhanced raffles for a narrow group of nonprofits. While raffles are allowed under current law, the operations are quite limited. There are strict limits on the types of drawings that may be offered as well as restrictions on the method of sales and administration of raffles.

In contrast, the enhanced raffles authorized in Substitute Senate Bill 5723 would allow a non-profit to contract with other licensees to operate the enhanced raffles. Participants may purchase enhanced raffle tickets in a variety of different ways. Certain purchasers may participate in 'early bird' raffles, and may be eligible to win additional prizes for referring other purchasers to the raffle organizers, (refer a friend drawings) or for buying multiple numbers of tickets (multiple ticket drawings).

Taken individually, each of these changes may not constitute an expansion of gambling. However, when viewed collectively, they work together to create a significantly different type of raffle. The President would like to caution the body that a procedural change or an operational change to a current form of gambling will not necessarily indicate an expansion of gambling.

In this case, the new games, new sales methods and changes in administration, taken collectively, so change the form of current raffles that the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill 5723 authorizes a new form of gambling. Therefore, the President rules that a sixty percent majority (thirty votes) is required on final passage in accordance with Article II, Section 24 of the State Constitution."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5723.

Requirements for complete meals shall be the same as those adopted by the board in rules pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW for a spirits, beer, and wine restaurant license authorized by RCW 66.24.400."

WITHDRAWAL OF AMENDMENT

FIFTY FIRST DAY, MARCH 5, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

On motion of Senator Holmquist Newbry, the amendment by Senator Holmquist Newbry and others on page 1, line 8 to Senate Bill No. 5607 was withdrawn.

MOTION

Senator Ericksen moved that the following striking amendment by Senator Ericksen and others be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 66.24 RCW to read as follows:

(1) There is a theater license to sell beer, including strong beer, wine, spirits, or all, at retail, for consumption on theater premises, which contain no more than one hundred twenty seats per screen. Such license may be issued only to theaters also maintained in a substantial manner as a place for preparing, cooking, and serving of complete meals and provide tabletop accommodations for in-theater dining. Requirements for complete meals shall be the same as those adopted by the board in rules pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW for a spirits, beer, and wine restaurant license authorized by RCW 66.24.400. The annual fee is four hundred dollars for a beer, wine, and spirits theater license.

(2) If the theater premises is to be frequented by minors, an alcohol control plan must be submitted to the board at the time of application. The alcohol control plan must be approved by the board, and be prominently posted on the premises, prior to minors being allowed.

(3) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "Alcohol control plan" means a written, dated, and signed plan submitted to the board by an applicant or licensee for the entire theater premises, or rooms or areas therein, that shows where and when alcohol is permitted, where and when minors are permitted, and the control measures used to ensure that minors are not able to obtain alcohol or be exposed to environments where drinking alcohol predominates.

(b) "Theater" means a place of business where motion pictures or other primarily nonparticipatory entertainment are shown.

(4) The board must adopt rules regarding alcohol control plans and necessary control measures to ensure that minors are not able to obtain alcohol or be exposed to areas where drinking alcohol predominates. All alcohol control plans must include a requirement that any person involved in the serving of beer, wine, and/or spirits must have completed a mandatory alcohol server training program.

(5)(a) A licensee that is an entity that is exempt from taxation under Title 26 U.S.C. Sec. 501(c)(3) of the federal internal revenue code of 1986, as amended as of January 1, 2013, may enter into arrangements with a beer, wine, or spirits manufacturer, importer, or distributor for brand advertising at the theater or promotion of events held at the theater. The financial arrangements providing for the brand advertising or promotion of events may not be used as an inducement to purchase the products of the manufacturer, importer, or distributor entering into the arrangement and such arrangements may not result in the exclusion of brands or products of other companies.

(b) The arrangements allowed under this subsection (5) are an exception to arrangements prohibited under RCW 66.28.305. The board must monitor the impacts of these arrangements. The board may conduct audits of a licensee and the affiliated business to determine compliance with this subsection (5). Audits may include, but are not limited to: Product selection at the facility; purchase patterns of the licensee; contracts with the beer, wine, or spirits manufacturer, importer, or distributor; and the amount allocated or used for beer, wine, or spirits advertising by the licensee, affiliated business, manufacturer, importer, or distributor under the arrangements.

(6) The maximum penalties prescribed by the board in WAC 314-29-020 relating to fines and suspensions are double for violations involving minors or the failure to follow the alcohol control plan with respect to theaters licensed under this section.

Sec. 2. RCW 66.20.300 and 2011 c 325 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Unless the context clearly requires otherwise,))~~ The definitions in this section apply throughout RCW 66.20.310 through 66.20.350 unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Alcohol" has the same meaning as "liquor" in RCW 66.04.010.

(2) "Alcohol server" means any person who as part of his or her employment participates in the sale or service of alcoholic beverages for on-premise consumption at a retail licensed premise as a regular requirement of his or her employment, and includes those persons eighteen years of age or older permitted by the liquor laws of this state to serve alcoholic beverages with meals.

(3) "Board" means the Washington state liquor control board.

(4) "Training entity" means any liquor licensee associations, independent contractors, private persons, and private or public schools, that have been certified by the board.

(5) "Retail licensed premises" means any:

(a) Premises licensed to sell alcohol by the glass or by the drink, or in original containers primarily for consumption on the premises as authorized by this section and RCW 66.20.310, 66.24.320, 66.24.330, 66.24.350, 66.24.400, 66.24.425, 66.24.450, 66.24.570, ~~(and)~~ 66.24.610, and section 1 of this act;

(b) Distillery licensed pursuant to RCW 66.24.140 that is authorized to serve samples of its own production;

(c) Facility established by a domestic winery for serving and selling wine pursuant to RCW 66.24.170(4); and

(d) Grocery store licensed under RCW 66.24.360, but only with respect to employees whose duties include serving during tasting activities under RCW 66.24.363.

Sec. 3. RCW 66.20.310 and 2011 c 325 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) There ~~((shall be))~~ is an alcohol server permit, known as a class 12 permit, for a manager or bartender selling or mixing alcohol, spirits, wines, or beer for consumption at an on-premises licensed facility.

(b) There ~~((shall be))~~ is an alcohol server permit, known as a class 13 permit, for a person who only serves alcohol, spirits, wines, or beer for consumption at an on-premises licensed facility.

(c) As provided by rule by the board, a class 13 permit holder may be allowed to act as a bartender without holding a class 12 permit.

(2)(a) Effective January 1, 1997, except as provided in (d) of this subsection, every alcohol server employed, under contract or otherwise, at a retail licensed premise ~~((shall))~~ must be issued a class 12 or class 13 permit.

(b) Every class 12 and class 13 permit issued ~~((shall))~~ must be issued in the name of the applicant and no other person may use the permit of another permit holder. The holder ~~((shall))~~ must present the permit upon request to inspection by a representative of the board or a peace officer. The class 12 or class 13 permit ~~((shall be))~~ is valid for employment at any retail licensed premises described in (a) of this subsection.

(c) Except as provided in (d) of this subsection, no licensee holding a license as authorized by this section and RCW 66.20.300, 66.24.320, 66.24.330, 66.24.350, 66.24.400, 66.24.425, 66.24.450, 66.24.570, 66.24.600, ~~(and)~~ 66.24.610, and section 1 of this act may employ or accept the services of any person without the person first having a valid class 12 or class 13 permit.

(d) Within sixty days of initial employment, every person whose duties include the compounding, sale, service, or handling of liquor (~~shall~~) must have a class 12 or class 13 permit.

(e) No person may perform duties that include the sale or service of alcoholic beverages on a retail licensed premises without possessing a valid alcohol server permit.

(3) A permit issued by a training entity under this section is valid for employment at any retail licensed premises described in subsection (2)(a) of this section for a period of five years unless suspended by the board.

(4) The board may suspend or revoke an existing permit if any of the following occur:

(a) The applicant or permittee has been convicted of violating any of the state or local intoxicating liquor laws of this state or has been convicted at any time of a felony; or

(b) The permittee has performed or permitted any act that constitutes a violation of this title or of any rule of the board.

(5) The suspension or revocation of a permit under this section does not relieve a licensee from responsibility for any act of the employee or agent while employed upon the retail licensed premises. The board may, as appropriate, revoke or suspend either the permit of the employee who committed the violation or the license of the licensee upon whose premises the violation occurred, or both the permit and the license.

(6)(a) After January 1, 1997, it is a violation of this title for any retail licensee or agent of a retail licensee as described in subsection (2)(a) of this section to employ in the sale or service of alcoholic beverages, any person who does not have a valid alcohol server permit or whose permit has been revoked, suspended, or denied.

(b) It is a violation of this title for a person whose alcohol server permit has been denied, suspended, or revoked to accept employment in the sale or service of alcoholic beverages.

(7) Grocery stores licensed under RCW 66.24.360, the primary commercial activity of which is the sale of grocery products and for which the sale and service of beer and wine for on-premises consumption with food is incidental to the primary business, and employees of such establishments, are exempt from RCW 66.20.300 through 66.20.350, except for employees whose duties include serving during tasting activities under RCW 66.24.363."

Beginning on page 1, line 9, strike all of section 2 and insert the following:

"Sec. 2. RCW 28A.410.035 and 1990 c 90 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

To receive initial certification as a teacher in this state after August 31, 1991, an applicant shall have successfully completed a course on issues of abuse. The content of the course shall discuss the identification of physical abuse, emotional abuse, sexual abuse, and substance abuse(~~(?)~~); commercial sexual abuse of a minor, as defined in RCW 9.68A.100; sexual exploitation of a minor, as defined in RCW 9.68A.040; information on the impact of abuse on the behavior and learning abilities of students(~~(?)~~); discussion of the responsibilities of a teacher to report abuse or provide assistance to students who are the victims of abuse(~~(?)~~); and methods for teaching students about abuse of all types and their prevention."

Senator Kohl-Welles spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Honeyford: "Would the Senator from the Thirty-Sixth District yield to a question? As I read this it says 'To receive an initial certification as a teacher in this state after August 31, 1991 the applicant shall have successfully competed' and on.' Is this going to be retroactive?'"

FIFTY FIRST DAY, MARCH 5, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

Senator Kohl-Welles: "No, and that's not a new part of the legislation Senator Honeyford. The underlying part is what this amendment does. And so currently those individuals who are seeking to be certified school employees are required to have training and that's been in place since 1991. This amendment just adds an additional part to that training requirement."

Senator Honeyford: "So it's not retroactive?"

Senator Kohl-Welles: "No."

Senator Litzow spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Kohl-Welles and Litzow on page 1, line 9 to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5563.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, all measures listed on the Introduction and First Reading report were referred to the committees as designated with the exception of House Bill No. 1592 which was referred to the Committee on Financial Institutions, Housing & Insurance.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate advanced to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

Senator Honeyford moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION
8617

By Senators Honeyford, Hasegawa, Hatfield, Brown, Hobbs, Shin, Schoesler, Conway, King, and Holmquist Newbry

WHEREAS, The State of Washington has previously recognized the proud history of Filipino-Americans; and

WHEREAS, The earliest documented proof of Filipino presence in the continental United States was the date of October 18, 1587, when the first "Luzones Indios" set foot in Morro Bay, California; and

WHEREAS, The Filipino-American National Historical Society recognizes the year of 1763 as the date of the first permanent Filipino settlement in the United States in St. Malo Parrish, Louisiana; and

WHEREAS, Washington State contributed to this history with the recognition of the 1888 documents of Port Blakely on Bainbridge Island, Washington, at the time the largest lumber mill in the world, as listing a "Manilla," the first known employee from the Philippines in the Pacific Northwest; and

WHEREAS, These events set in motion the focus on the story of our nation's past from a new perspective by concentrating on the economic, cultural, social, and other notable contributions that Filipino-Americans have made in countless ways toward the development of the United States; and

WHEREAS, Efforts must continue to promote the study of Filipino-American history and culture, as mandated in the mission statement of the Filipino-American National Historical Society; and

WHEREAS, It is imperative for Filipino-American youth to have positive role models to instill in them the importance of education, complemented with the richness of their ethnicity and the value of their legacy; and

WHEREAS, Washington State is home to Filipinos, one of the largest Asian/Pacific Islander populations found in the state, and is the location of historic Filipino-American communities; and

WHEREAS, Filipinos have served with special distinction in all of the United States military branches; and

WHEREAS, The United States and the Republic of the Philippines continue to hold a special bond; and

WHEREAS, The national office of the Filipino-American National Historical Society is located in the city of Seattle, Washington;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honor October 2013 as Filipino-American history month and recognize October 2013 as the 426th anniversary of the presence of Filipinos in the United States and as a significant time to study the advancement of Filipino-Americans in the history of the State of Washington; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Rey Pascua, President of the Filipino-American Community of the Yakima Valley for further distribution to the Filipino-American National Historical Society, to Asian and Pacific Islander organizations, to other historical societies and government entities, and to the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Senator Honeyford spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8617.

The motion by Senator Honeyford carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Mr. David Della and other representatives of the Filipino community who were seated in the gallery and recognized by the Senate.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rivers: "Thank you Mr. President. It is my honor to introduce to this fine body a most excellent student from the University of Washington, Tacoma who is also my Intern who is gracing the rostrum today. Rosemary Delgado who has worked so hard for me and who puts up with me and I am very grateful for her presence in my office."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Roach: "Well, I too have an honor this week. My granddaughter, ah, she's just dying, Emily Arras. Emily, can you stand up for us? ..."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Oh, poor girl, telling her to stand up."

Senator Roach: "I know. Well not 'poor girl' because I'm her grandma. Let's get that straight."

President Owen: "No, no because you're making her stand up."

Senator Roach: "Emily, wave your hand. I'm the greatest grandmother. And you want a Christmas present? That's what I thought. Emily is an outstanding student and soccer player. She's fourteen. She's the daughter of my only daughter. I have four sons but I have a daughter. Emily is the number one grandchild, number one of sixteen. What a wonderful girl. High values, hard-working, a lot like her mother, I think, in many ways. Thank you, Emily, for putting up with this. I appreciate it. Thank you, Mr. President and members of the Senate, I hope you'll welcome her here."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Of course, now we expect great things out of her while she's here of course."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Shin: "Thank you Sir. I just walked in and I wasn't here prepared to greet this delegation, friends from Filipino American community. Historically, the United States relations with Philippines goes back, way back into the nineteen century. It is through the efforts and assistance alliance between the United States and Philippines were able to much, much prevent the World War to become bigger. Also the Filipinos provided their bases for the American naval stations there. They helped us to also bring us a victory. For that reason the United States and the Filipinos and the theme was 'tangere me nech' which means 'touch me not.' Spanish colonialism became much worse so that they worked towards independence and the United States helped them to gain independence. Today, we're still the best friends. So I want to thank the Filipino American community, friends there, who are here and am honored to sponsor this legislation to congratulate them. Thank you Mr. President."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, Senator Bailey was excused.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate reverted to the seventh order of business.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Litzow: "Thank you Mr. President. Today we are going to be running a number of education bills and I think as everybody sees on their desks, there's an apple. The apple is from Rosemary McAuliffe and myself and it's more of a symbol that we may not agree how to get there, we're all here with the same goal. How do we make more kids successful? How do we increase the graduation rate and do we close the opportunity gap? Unfortunately there is no silver bullet and obviously there is no perfect legislation but I'd like to thank Senator McAuliffe and the rest of the Education Committee for their efforts and ideas to get us closer to those ideals. So, thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McAuliffe: "Thank you Mr. President, so, I think I want to recognize the efforts of our Senate Chair, Senator Litzow who has worked diligently with many of our members of the Education Committee to help us to have a non-partisan committee. Education is non-partisan. Our children are non-partisan and what we all hope for is their future. Help them to become successful. One of the particular bills that I want to recognize today for his efforts is the Senator from the Twenty-fifth district. Actually him and I worked together on one of the bills that you'll hear today and I want to say how much I appreciate that effort. So, it's Education Day, let's roll it."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5587, by Senators Litzow, Dammeier, Rivers, Fain and Tom Concerning student assessments.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Dammeier, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5587 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5587 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Dammeier moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Dammeier and McAuliffe be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the superintendent of public instruction was authorized to align the state essential academic learning requirements for mathematics, reading, writing, and communication with the common set of standards for students in grades kindergarten through twelve, known as the common core state standards, which were developed by a multistate consortium in which Washington took part. The legislature further finds that Washington has joined one of two multistate consortia using a federal grant to develop new language arts and math assessments in grades three through eight and grade eleven that are, among other factors, aligned with the common core state standards and test college and career readiness at the high school level. The legislature further finds that the assessments are required to be ready for use by the 2014-15 school year. The legislature intends to make changes to the assessment system in order to use the consortia-developed assessments for both high school graduation and to meet the federal accountability requirements. As the state transitions from the current assessments to the consortia-developed assessments the legislature intends that both the current tenth grade assessments and the consortia-developed assessments may be used for high school graduation purposes by the graduating classes of 2016 and 2017. Beginning with the graduating class of 2018, students must meet the state standards on the consortia-developed assessments to earn the certificate of academic achievement and graduate from high school.

Sec. 2. RCW 28A.655.061 and 2011 1st sp.s. c 22 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The high school assessment system shall include but need not be limited to the statewide student assessment, opportunities for a student to retake the content areas of the assessment in which the student was not successful, and, if approved by the legislature pursuant to subsection (10) of this section, one or more objective alternative assessments for a student to demonstrate achievement of state academic standards. The objective alternative assessments for each content area shall be comparable in rigor to the skills and knowledge that the student must demonstrate on the statewide student assessment for each content area.

(2) Subject to the conditions in this section, a certificate of academic achievement shall be obtained (~~by most students at about~~

~~the age of sixteen~~)) and is evidence that the students have successfully met the state standard in the content areas included in the certificate. With the exception of students satisfying the provisions of RCW 28A.155.045 or 28A.655.0611, acquisition of the certificate is required for graduation from a public high school but is not the only requirement for graduation.

(3) Beginning with the graduating class of 2008 through the graduating class of 2015, with the exception of students satisfying the provisions of RCW 28A.155.045, a student who meets the state standards on the reading, writing, and mathematics (~~content areas of the~~) high school statewide student assessment shall earn a certificate of academic achievement. Beginning with the graduating class of 2018, a student who meets the state standards on the English language arts and revised mathematics high school statewide assessments shall earn a certificate of academic achievement. The graduating classes of 2016 and 2017 must meet the requirements in accordance with RCW 28A.655.066. If a student does not successfully meet the state standards in one or more content areas required for the certificate of academic achievement, then the student may retake the assessment in the content area (~~up to four times~~) at least twice a year at no cost to the student. If the student successfully meets the state standards on a retake of the assessment then the student shall earn a certificate of academic achievement. Once objective alternative assessments are authorized pursuant to subsection (10) of this section, a student may use the objective alternative assessments to demonstrate that the student successfully meets the state standards for that content area if the student has taken the statewide student assessment at least once. If the student successfully meets the state standards on the objective alternative assessments then the student shall earn a certificate of academic achievement.

(4) Beginning with the graduating class of 2015, a student must meet the state standards in science in addition to the other content areas required under subsection (3) of this section on the statewide student assessment or the objective alternative assessments in order to earn a certificate of academic achievement.

(5) The state board of education may not require the acquisition of the certificate of academic achievement for students in home-based instruction under chapter 28A.200 RCW, for students enrolled in private schools under chapter 28A.195 RCW, or for students satisfying the provisions of RCW 28A.155.045.

(6) A student may retain and use the highest result from each successfully completed content area of the high school assessment.

(7) School districts must make available to students the following options:

(a) To retake the statewide student assessment (~~up to four times~~) at least twice a year in the content areas in which the student did not meet the state standards if the student is enrolled in a public school; or

(b) To retake the statewide student assessment (~~up to four times~~) at least twice a year in the content areas in which the student did not meet the state standards if the student is enrolled in a high school completion program at a community or technical college. The superintendent of public instruction and the state board for community and technical colleges shall jointly identify means by which students in these programs can be assessed.

(8) Students who achieve the standard in a content area of the high school assessment but who wish to improve their results shall pay for retaking the assessment, using a uniform cost determined by the superintendent of public instruction.

(9) Opportunities to retake the assessment at least twice a year shall be available to each school district.

(10)(a) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall develop options for implementing objective alternative assessments, which may include an appeals process for students' scores, for students to demonstrate achievement of the state

academic standards. The objective alternative assessments shall be comparable in rigor to the skills and knowledge that the student must demonstrate on the statewide student assessment and be objective in its determination of student achievement of the state standards. Before any objective alternative assessments in addition to those authorized in RCW 28A.655.065 or (b) of this subsection are used by a student to demonstrate that the student has met the state standards in a content area required to obtain a certificate, the legislature shall formally approve the use of any objective alternative assessments through the omnibus appropriations act or by statute or concurrent resolution.

(b)(i) A student's score on the mathematics, reading or English, or writing portion of the SAT or the ACT may be used as an objective alternative assessment under this section for demonstrating that a student has met or exceeded the state standards for the certificate of academic achievement. The state board of education shall identify the scores students must achieve on the relevant portion of the SAT or ACT to meet or exceed the state standard in the relevant content area on the statewide student assessment. A student's score on the science portion of the ACT or the science subject area tests of the SAT may be used as an objective alternative assessment under this section as soon as the state board of education determines that sufficient data is available to identify reliable equivalent scores for the science content area of the statewide student assessment. After the first scores are established, the state board may increase but not decrease the scores required for students to meet or exceed the state standards.

(ii) A student who scores at least a three on the grading scale of one to five for selected AP examinations may use the score as an objective alternative assessment under this section for demonstrating that a student has met or exceeded state standards for the certificate of academic achievement. A score of three on the AP examinations in calculus or statistics may be used as an alternative assessment for the mathematics portion of the statewide student assessment. A score of three on the AP examinations in English language and composition may be used as an alternative assessment for the ~~((writing))~~ English language arts portion of the statewide student assessment. A score of three on the AP examinations in English literature and composition, macroeconomics, microeconomics, psychology, United States history, world history, United States government and politics, or comparative government and politics may be used as an alternative assessment for the ~~((reading))~~ English language arts portion of the statewide student assessment. A score of three on the AP examination in biology, physics, chemistry, or environmental science may be used as an alternative assessment for the science portion of the statewide student assessment.

(11) By December 15, 2004, the house of representatives and senate education committees shall obtain information and conclusions from recognized, independent, national assessment experts regarding the validity and reliability of the high school Washington assessment of student learning for making individual student high school graduation determinations.

(12) To help assure continued progress in academic achievement as a foundation for high school graduation and to assure that students are on track for high school graduation, each school district shall prepare plans for and notify students and their parents or legal guardians as provided in this subsection. Student learning plans are required for eighth grade students who were not successful on any or all of the content areas of the state assessment during the previous school year or who may not be on track to graduate due to credit deficiencies or absences. The parent or legal guardian shall be notified about the information in the student learning plan, preferably through a parent conference and at least annually. To the extent feasible, schools serving English language learner students and their parents shall translate the plan into the primary language of the family. The plan shall include the following information as applicable:

- (a) The student's results on the state assessment;
- (b) If the student is in the transitional bilingual program, the score on his or her Washington language proficiency test II;
- (c) Any credit deficiencies;
- (d) The student's attendance rates over the previous two years;
- (e) The student's progress toward meeting state and local graduation requirements;
- (f) The courses, competencies, and other steps needed to be taken by the student to meet state academic standards and stay on track for graduation;
- (g) Remediation strategies and alternative education options available to students, including informing students of the option to continue to receive instructional services after grade twelve or until the age of twenty-one;
- (h) The alternative assessment options available to students under this section and RCW 28A.655.065;
- (i) School district programs, high school courses, and career and technical education options available for students to meet graduation requirements; and
- (j) Available programs offered through skill centers or community and technical colleges, including the college high school diploma options under RCW 28B.50.535.

Sec. 3. RCW 28A.655.066 and 2011 c 25 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) In consultation with the state board of education, the superintendent of public instruction shall develop statewide end-of-course assessments for high school mathematics that measure student achievement of the state mathematics standards. The superintendent shall take steps to ensure that the language of the assessments is responsive to a diverse student population. The assessments shall be implemented statewide in the 2010-11 school year.

(b) The superintendent shall develop end-of-course assessments for the first year of high school mathematics that include the standards common to algebra I and integrated mathematics I and for the second year of high school mathematics that include the standards common to geometry and integrated mathematics II. The assessments under this subsection (1)(b) shall be used to demonstrate that a student meets the state standard on the mathematics content area of the high school ~~((Washington))~~ statewide student assessment ~~((of student learning))~~ for purposes of RCW 28A.655.061.

(c) The superintendent of public instruction shall also develop subtests for the end-of-course assessments that measure standards for the first two years of high school mathematics that are unique to algebra I, integrated mathematics I, geometry, and integrated mathematics II. The results of the subtests shall be reported at the student, teacher, school, and district level. These end-of-course assessments shall not be administered and shall not be used for state or federal accountability after the 2014-15 school year.

(2) For the graduating classes of 2013 and 2014 and for purposes of the certificate of academic achievement under RCW 28A.655.061, a student may use: (a) Results from the end-of-course assessment for the first year of high school mathematics or the results from the end-of-course assessment for the second year of high school mathematics; or (b) results from a high school mathematics retake assessment.

(3) ~~((Beginning with))~~ The graduating class of 2015 ~~((and))~~, for purposes of the certificate of academic achievement under RCW 28A.655.061, ~~((the mathematics content area of the Washington assessment of student learning))~~ shall be assessed using the end-of-course assessment for the first year of high school mathematics plus the end-of-course assessment for the second year of high school mathematics, ~~((~~or~~))~~ results from a high school mathematics retake assessment for the end-of-course assessments in which the student did not meet the standard, or an approved alternative assessment.

(4) As the state transitions from the reading and writing assessments to the comprehensive English language arts assessment and from the end-of-course mathematics assessments to a comprehensive mathematics assessment, the graduating classes of 2016 and 2017, for purposes of the certificate of academic achievement under RCW 28A.655.061 may be assessed using:

(a) The end-of-course assessment for the first year of high school mathematics plus the end-of-course assessment for the second year of high school mathematics, the new comprehensive mathematics assessment, the appropriate retake assessment, or an approved alternative assessment; and

(b) The reading and writing assessment or the comprehensive English language arts assessment, a retake, or an approved alternative.

(5) All of the objective alternative assessments available to students under RCW 28A.655.061 and 28A.655.065 shall be available to any student who has taken the ~~((sequence of))~~ end-of-course assessment~~((s))~~ once but does not meet the state mathematics standard on the ~~((sequence of))~~ end-of-course assessment~~((s))~~.

~~((~~5~~))~~ (6) The superintendent of public instruction shall report at least annually or more often if necessary to keep the education committees of the legislature informed on each step of the development and implementation process under this section.

Sec. 4. RCW 28A.655.070 and 2008 c 163 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The superintendent of public instruction shall develop essential academic learning requirements that identify the knowledge and skills all public school students need to know and be able to do based on the student learning goals in RCW 28A.150.210, develop student assessments, and implement the accountability recommendations and requests regarding assistance, rewards, and recognition of the state board of education.

(2) The superintendent of public instruction shall:

(a) Periodically revise the essential academic learning requirements, as needed, based on the student learning goals in RCW 28A.150.210. Goals one and two shall be considered primary. To the maximum extent possible, the superintendent shall integrate goal four and the knowledge and skill areas in the other goals in the essential academic learning requirements; and

(b) Review and prioritize the essential academic learning requirements and identify, with clear and concise descriptions, the grade level content expectations to be assessed on the ~~((Washington))~~ statewide student assessment ~~((of student learning))~~ and used for state or federal accountability purposes. The review, prioritization, and identification shall result in more focus and targeting with an emphasis on depth over breadth in the number of grade level content expectations assessed at each grade level. Grade level content expectations shall be articulated over the grades as a sequence of expectations and performances that are logical, build with increasing depth after foundational knowledge and skills are acquired, and reflect, where appropriate, the sequential nature of the discipline. The office of the superintendent of public instruction, within seven working days, shall post on its web site any grade level content expectations provided to an assessment vendor for use in constructing the ~~((Washington))~~ statewide student assessment ~~((of student learning))~~.

(3)(a) In consultation with the state board of education, the superintendent of public instruction shall maintain and continue to develop and revise a statewide academic assessment system in the content areas of reading, writing, mathematics, and science for use in the elementary, middle, and high school years designed to determine if each student has mastered the essential academic learning requirements identified in subsection (1) of this section. In accordance with RCW 28A.655.071, by the 2014-15 school year, an English language arts assessment and the mathematics assessment shall be created. School districts shall administer the assessments under guidelines adopted by the superintendent of public instruction. The academic assessment system may include a variety of assessment methods, including criterion-referenced and performance-based measures.

(b) Effective with the 2009 administration of the Washington assessment of student learning and continuing with the statewide student assessment, the superintendent shall redesign the assessment in the content areas of reading, mathematics, and science in all grades except high school by shortening test administration and reducing the number of short answer and extended response questions.

(4) If the superintendent proposes any modification to the essential academic learning requirements or the statewide assessments, then the superintendent shall, upon request, provide opportunities for the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate to review the assessments and proposed modifications to the essential academic learning requirements before the modifications are adopted.

(5) The assessment system shall be designed so that the results under the assessment system are used by educators as tools to evaluate instructional practices, and to initiate appropriate educational support for students who have not mastered the essential academic learning requirements at the appropriate periods in the student's educational development.

(6) By September 2007, the results for reading and mathematics shall be reported in a format that will allow parents and teachers to determine the academic gain a student has acquired in those content areas from one school year to the next.

(7) To assist parents and teachers in their efforts to provide educational support to individual students, the superintendent of public instruction shall provide as much individual student performance information as possible within the constraints of the assessment system's item bank. The superintendent shall also provide to school districts:

(a) Information on classroom-based and other assessments that may provide additional achievement information for individual students; and

(b) A collection of diagnostic tools that educators may use to evaluate the academic status of individual students. The tools shall be designed to be inexpensive, easily administered, and quickly and easily scored, with results provided in a format that may be easily shared with parents and students.

(8) To the maximum extent possible, the superintendent shall integrate knowledge and skill areas in development of the assessments.

(9) Assessments for goals three and four of RCW 28A.150.210 shall be integrated in the essential academic learning requirements and assessments for goals one and two.

(10) The superintendent shall develop assessments that are directly related to the essential academic learning requirements, and are not biased toward persons with different learning styles, racial or ethnic backgrounds, or on the basis of gender.

(11) The superintendent shall consider methods to address the unique needs of special education students when developing the assessments under this section.

(12) The superintendent shall consider methods to address the unique needs of highly capable students when developing the assessments under this section.

FIFTY SECOND DAY, MARCH 6, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

(13) The superintendent shall post on the superintendent's web site lists of resources and model assessments in social studies, the arts, and health and fitness.

Sec. 5. RCW 28A.655.071 and 2010 c 235 s 601 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) By August 2, 2010, the superintendent of public instruction may revise the state essential academic learning requirements authorized under RCW 28A.655.070 for mathematics, reading, writing, and communication by provisionally adopting a common set of standards for students in grades kindergarten through twelve. The revised state essential academic learning requirements may be substantially identical with the standards developed by a multistate consortium in which Washington participated, must be consistent with the requirements of RCW 28A.655.070, and may include additional standards if the additional standards do not exceed fifteen percent of the standards for each content area. ~~((However, the superintendent of public instruction shall not take steps to implement the provisionally adopted standards until the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate have an opportunity to review the standards.~~

~~—(2) By January 1, 2011, the superintendent of public instruction shall submit to the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate:~~

~~—(a) A detailed comparison of the provisionally adopted standards and the state essential academic learning requirements as of June 10, 2010, including the comparative level of rigor and specificity of the standards and the implications of any identified differences; and~~

~~—(b) An estimated timeline and costs to the state and to school districts to implement the provisionally adopted standards, including providing necessary training, realignment of curriculum, adjustment of state assessments, and other actions.~~

~~—(3) The superintendent may implement the revisions to the essential academic learning requirements under this section after the 2011 legislative session unless otherwise directed by the legislature.)~~

(2) The superintendent of public instruction, in consultation with the state board of education, shall modify and implement statewide student assessments developed with a multistate consortium in English language arts and mathematics. The assessments must be implemented in the 2014-15 school year. Beginning with the graduating class of 2018, the English language arts and mathematics assessments or approved alternatives are required for graduation from a public high school in accordance with RCW 28A.655.061. The English language arts and mathematics assessments must be comprehensive assessments and not end-of-course assessments.

Sec. 6. RCW 28B.105.010 and 2007 c 214 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The GET ready for math and science scholarship program is established. The purpose of the program is to provide scholarships to students who achieve level four on the mathematics or science portions of the ~~((tenth grade Washington))~~ high school statewide student assessment ~~((of student learning))~~ or achieve a score in the math section of the SAT or the math section of the ACT that is above the ninety-fifth percentile, major in a mathematics, science, or related field in college, and commit to working in mathematics, science, or a related field for at least three years in Washington following completion of their bachelor's degree. The program shall be administered by the nonprofit organization selected as the private partner in the public-private partnership.

(2) The total annual amount of each GET ready for math and science scholarship may vary, but shall not exceed the annual cost of resident undergraduate tuition fees and mandatory fees at the University of Washington. An eligible recipient may receive a GET ready for math and science scholarship for up to one hundred eighty quarter credits, or the semester equivalent, or for up to five years, whichever comes first.

(3) Scholarships shall be awarded only to the extent that state funds and private matching funds are available for that purpose in the GET ready for math and science ~~((scholarship))~~ scholarship account established in RCW 28B.105.110.

Sec. 7. RCW 28B.105.030 and 2007 c 214 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An eligible student is a student who:

(a) Is eligible for resident tuition and fee rates as defined in RCW 28B.15.012;

(b) Achieved level four on the mathematics or science portion of the ~~((tenth grade Washington))~~ high school statewide student assessment ~~((of student learning))~~ or achieved a score in the math section of the SAT or the math section of the ACT that is above the ninety-fifth percentile;

(c) Has a family income at or below one hundred twenty-five percent of the state median family income at the time the student applies for a GET ready for math and science scholarship and for up to the two previous years;

(d) Has declared an intention to complete a qualified program or qualified major or has entered a qualified program or declared a qualified major at an institution of higher education;

(e) Has declared an intention to work in a mathematics, science, or related field in Washington for at least three years immediately following completion of a bachelor's degree or higher degree.

(2) An eligible recipient is an eligible student who:

(a) Has been awarded a scholarship in accordance with the selection criteria and process established by the ~~((board))~~ student achievement council and the program administrator;

(b) Enrolls at an institution of higher education within one year of graduating from high school;

(c) Maintains satisfactory academic progress, as defined by the institution of higher education where the student is enrolled;

(d) Takes at least one college-level mathematics or science course each term since enrolling in an institution of higher education; and

(e) Enters a qualified program or qualified major no later than the end of the first term in which the student has junior level standing.

Sec. 8. RCW 28B.105.060 and 2007 c 214 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall:

(1) Notify elementary, middle, junior high, high school, and school district staff and administrators, and the children's administration of the department of social and health services about the GET ready for math and science scholarship program using methods in place for communicating with schools and school districts; and

(2) Provide data showing the race, ethnicity, income, and other available demographic information of students who achieve level four of the math and science ~~((Washington))~~ high school statewide student assessment ~~((of student learning))~~ in the tenth grade~~((:))~~; compare those data with comparable information on the tenth grade student population as a whole~~((:))~~; and submit a report with the analysis to the committees responsible for education and higher education in the legislature on December 1st of even-numbered years."

Senators Dammeier and McAuliffe spoke in favor of adoption of the striking amendment.

MOTION

Senator Rolfes moved that the following amendment by Senator Rolfes to the striking amendment be adopted:

On page 1, after line 26 of the amendment, insert the following:
"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 28A.655 RCW to read as follows:

(1) At the beginning of each school year, school districts must notify parents and guardians of enrolled students from eighth through twelfth grade about each standardized test that is required by the school district, state, or federal government. The notification must include the following:

- (a) The subject areas covered by each assessment;
- (b) When each assessment will be administered and the length of time of each test;
- (c) Which assessments will be required for graduation and what options students have to meet graduation requirements if they do not pass a given assessment;
- (d) Whether the results of the assessment will be used for program placement or grade-level advancement;
- (e) When the assessment results will be released to parents or guardians and whether there will be an opportunity for parents and teachers to discuss strategic adjustments; and
- (f) Whether the assessment is required by the school district, state, federal government, or more than one of these entities.

(2) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall provide to school districts regularly updated information necessary for the district to notify parents of the information, including any changes occurring through legislative or federal action, or both, that will affect current or future assessments."

Re-number the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 14, line 2 of the title amendment, after "28B.105.060;" insert "adding a new section to chapter 28A.655 RCW;"

WITHDRAWAL OF AMENDMENT

On motion of Senator Rolfes, the amendment by Senator Rolfes on page 1, line 26 to the striking amendment to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5587 was withdrawn.

MOTION

Senator Rolfes moved that the following amendment by Senators Rolfes and Rivers to the striking amendment be adopted:

On page 11, after line 27 of the amendment, insert the following:
"NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 28A.320 RCW to read as follows:

(1) At the beginning of each school year, school districts must notify parents and guardians of enrolled students from eighth through twelfth grade about each student assessment required by the state, the minimum state-level graduation requirements, and any additional school district graduation requirements. The information may be provided when the student is enrolled, contained in the student or parent handbook, or posted on the school district's web site. The notification must include the following:

- (a) When each assessment will be administered;
- (b) Which assessments will be required for graduation and what options students have to meet graduation requirements if they do not pass a given assessment;
- (c) Whether the results of the assessment will be used for program placement or grade-level advancement;
- (d) When the assessment results will be released to parents or guardians and whether there will be an opportunity for parents and teachers to discuss strategic adjustments; and
- (e) Whether the assessment is required by the school district, state, federal government, or more than one of these entities.

(2) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall provide information to the school districts to enable the districts to provide the information to the parents and guardians in accordance with subsection (1) of this section." Re-number the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Senators Rolfes and Rivers spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the striking amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Rolfes and Rivers on page 11, after line 27 to the striking amendment to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5587.

(1) The office of the superintendent of public instruction must establish interagency agreements with the department of social and health services, the department of services for the blind, and any other state agency that provides high school transition services for students with disabilities. The purpose of the interagency agreements is to foster effective multiagency collaboration to provide transition services for students with disabilities age fourteen through twenty-one, or through high school graduation, whichever occurs first. Interagency agreements are also intended to streamline services and programs, promote efficiencies, and establish a uniform focus on improved outcomes related to self-sufficiency. This subsection does not require transition services plan development in addition to what exists on the effective date of this section.

(2) The office of the superintendent of public instruction must collaborate with the professional educator standards board to build into existing and ongoing educator requirements that special education teachers and school psychologists receive training to be appropriately prepared to address the transition needs of students with disabilities.

(3) To the extent that data is available through data-sharing agreements established by the education data center under RCW 43.41.400, the education data center must monitor the following outcomes for students with disabilities after high school graduation:

(a) The number of students who, within one year of high school graduation:

(i) Enter integrated employment paid at the greater of minimum wage or competitive wage for the type of employment, with access to related employment and health benefits; or

(ii) Enter a postsecondary education or training program focused on leading to integrated employment;

(b) The wages and number of hours worked per pay period;

(c) The impact of employment on any state and federal benefits for individuals with disabilities;

(d) Indicators of the types of settings in which students who previously received transition services primarily reside;

(e) Indicators of improved economic status and self-sufficiency;

(f) Data on those students for whom a postsecondary or integrated employment outcome does not occur within one year of high school graduation, including:

(i) Information on the reasons that the desired outcome has not occurred;

(ii) The number of months the student has not achieved the desired outcome; and

(iii) The efforts made to ensure the student achieves the desired outcome.

(4) To the extent that the data elements in subsection (3) of this section are not available to the education data center through data-sharing agreements, the office of the superintendent of public instruction must attempt to collect the data through a single communication after the student's graduation.

FIFTY SECOND DAY, MARCH 6, 2013

SENATE RESOLUTION
8630

By Senator Schoesler

WHEREAS, The State of Washington has a long history of agricultural sustainability and the production of many highly valued crops; and

WHEREAS, Washington is home to a forty-six billion dollar food and agriculture industry that has played a significant role in creating one hundred sixty thousand jobs and currently stands at over thirteen percent of the state's economy; and

WHEREAS, Washington agriculture maintains a strong national and global trade presence and is a national leader in exporting highly sought products to the world's largest foreign markets; and

WHEREAS, The agricultural industry has demonstrated its continuous dedication to domestic trade and local development by providing its abundant products to wholesale and retail markets around the country while also sustaining strong community markets and working to provide nutritious food to assist Washington's most vulnerable citizens; and

WHEREAS, The food processing industry is a vital component of agriculture and works in tandem with farmers to extend the shelf life of Washington's food and ensure that domestic and international consumers receive attractive, marketable, and safe food products from the state's agricultural industry; and

WHEREAS, High-quality agricultural research has provided leadership in discovering and applying knowledge that contributes to a safe and abundant food, fiber, and energy supply while enhancing the sustainability of agricultural and natural resource systems; and

WHEREAS, The importance of a positive governmental relationship with the agricultural community was recognized from Washington's earliest days as a territory, with agricultural laws passed during the Territorial Assembly's first session in 1854; and

WHEREAS, In 1913, the Department of Agriculture was created to implement laws and regulations and facilitate the growth of the agricultural industry in Washington State; and

WHEREAS, After a century, the Department of Agriculture continues to be relevant in response to the changing needs of the state and the agricultural community by including responsibilities that provide solutions to modern day industry challenges and embracing continuous quality improvement principles and respect for people in order that the citizens and agricultural industry across the state receive a high return on their investment;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the members of the Washington State Senate hereby recognize and commend the partnership between the agricultural industry and the Department of Agriculture and their collective commitment to ensure the health and safety of Washington's citizens, crops, livestock, and environment; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the members of the Washington State Senate acknowledge the extraordinary history and heritage of the Department of Agriculture and join it in celebrating its one hundredth anniversary on June 10, 2013, which honors the Department and the agricultural community for their service to the state's citizens, economy, and environment.

Senators Schoesler, Honeyford and Hatfield spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8630.

The motion by Senator Schoesler carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced representatives of the Department of Agriculture who were seated in the gallery.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Benton: "Thank you Mr. President. Members and colleagues, you received today, there on your desks or in your office, a survey from me asking you for your feedback and your input on a number of different senate services that are provided. It would greatly, your responses are going to be shared with the entire F & O Committee. The intent behind the survey is try to do a better job in the areas that you think we need to do a better job, whatever areas those might be. So, I just want to impress upon colleagues to please take the few moments, maybe ten minutes tops that it takes to complete that, get it back to us and we will provide you and the Committee and anybody that would like a summary of those results. It's hard for stay on course or correct course in any organization if you're not soliciting feedback from the people that operate within that organization. So, this is an attempt to try to get your feedback on what you think and what you feel that we're doing well in or what we're not doing well in. And so I want to encourage you to take a few moments to share with me your thoughts on the things that you're interested in. Thank you Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: "Thank you Mr. President, I haven't really looked through the questionnaire, speaking on the questionnaire. As a member of the Senate Facilities and Operations Committee and actually the Ranking Member for the Democratic side. I'd just like to notify the senate members that this is not a questionnaire from the F & O Committee. This, the F & O Committee has not met since mid-January and the F & O Committee has not met on this questionnaire. We've never talked about it and so I think it should be treated as a questionnaire from a member. I personally do not think that the title of a Chair should be used unless your acting in the capacity as Chair, where you've talked to the members of the committee. So, I think this should be taken as a request from one member. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Roach: "Thank you Mr. President. I would like to inform the body that as Chair of the Governmental Operations Committee, I don't ask every member of the Committee nor do I ask every member of my caucus before I set agendas and move forward on certain issues. If you're the Chair, you're the Chair. You're chair, you don't necessarily have to, you are charged with leading. I don't know about the questionnaire but I welcome it. There's some new things that are going on here that are costing the taxpayer's money that I certainly don't support and I'm looking forward to handing the questionnaire back in. I think when a person's a Chair, we all understand what that means and I think trivial remarks about it really don't help the body. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: "Thank you Mr. President, I would like to note that this is an administrative committee as opposed to a policy committee and the questionnaire was not developed on a bi-partisan basis."

MOTION

MOTION

Senator Litzow moved that the following striking amendment by Senator Litzow be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 28A.150.520 and 2005 c 12 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

To the extent funds are available, public school districts must comply with high-performance public ((building(s))) buildings requirements under RCW 39.35D.010, 39.35D.020, 39.35D.040, 39.35D.060, and 28A.150.530.

Sec. 2. RCW 28A.210.080 and 2007 c 276 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The attendance of every child at every public and private school in the state and licensed day care center shall be conditioned upon the presentation before or on each child's first day of attendance at a particular school or center, of proof of either (a) full immunization, (b) the initiation of and compliance with a schedule of immunization, as required by rules of the state board of health, or (c) a certificate of exemption as provided for in RCW 28A.210.090. The attendance at the school or the day care center during any subsequent school year of a child who has initiated a schedule of immunization shall be conditioned upon the presentation of proof of compliance with the schedule on the child's first day of attendance during the subsequent school year. Once proof of full immunization or proof of completion of an approved schedule has been presented, no further proof shall be required as a condition to attendance at the particular school or center.

(2)(a) Beginning with sixth grade entry, every public and private school in the state shall provide parents and guardians with access to information about meningococcal disease and its vaccine at the beginning of every school year. Providing online access to the information satisfies the requirements of this section unless a parent or guardian specifically requests information to be provided in written form. The information about meningococcal disease shall include:

(i) Its causes and symptoms, how meningococcal disease is spread, and the places where parents and guardians may obtain additional information and vaccinations for their children; and

(ii) Current recommendations from the United States centers for disease control and prevention regarding the receipt of vaccines for meningococcal disease and where the vaccination can be received.

(b) This subsection shall not be construed to require the department of health or the school to provide meningococcal vaccination to students.

(c) The department of health shall prepare the informational materials and shall consult with the office of superintendent of public instruction.

(d) This subsection does not create a private right of action.

(3)(a) Beginning with sixth grade entry, every public school in the state shall provide parents and guardians with access to information about human papillomavirus disease and its vaccine at the beginning of every school year. Providing online access to the information satisfies the requirements of this section unless a parent or guardian specifically requests information to be provided in written form. The information about human papillomavirus disease shall include:

(i) Its causes and symptoms, how human papillomavirus disease is spread, and the places where parents and guardians may obtain additional information and vaccinations for their children; and

(ii) Current recommendations from the United States centers for disease control and prevention regarding the receipt of vaccines for human papillomavirus disease and where the vaccination can be received.

(b) This subsection shall not be construed to require the department of health or the school to provide human papillomavirus vaccination to students.

(c) The department of health shall prepare the informational materials and shall consult with the office of the superintendent of public instruction.

(d) This subsection does not create a private right of action.

(4) Private schools are required by state law to notify parents that information on the human papillomavirus disease prepared by the department of health is available.

Sec. 3. RCW 28A.300.118 and 2000 c 126 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Beginning with the 2000-01 school year, the superintendent of public instruction shall notify senior high schools and any other public school that includes ninth grade of the names and contact information of public and private entities offering programs leading to college credit, including information about online advanced placement classes, if the superintendent has knowledge of such entities and if the cost of reporting these entities is minimal.

(2) Beginning with the 2000-01 school year, each senior high school and any other public school that includes ninth grade shall publish annually and deliver to each parent with children enrolled in ninth through twelfth grades, information concerning the entrance requirements and the availability of programs in the local area that lead to college credit, including classes such as advanced placement, running start, tech-prep, skill centers, college in the high school, and international baccalaureate programs. The information may be included with other information the school regularly mails to parents. In addition, each senior high school and any other public school that includes ninth grade shall enclose information of the names and contact information of other public or private entities offering such programs, including online advanced placement programs, to its ninth through twelfth grade students if the school has knowledge of such entities.

(3) This section is suspended until July 1, 2015.

Sec. 4. RCW 28A.300.150 and 2006 c 263 s 705 are each amended to read as follows:

The superintendent of public instruction shall collect and disseminate to school districts information on child abuse and neglect prevention curriculum and shall adopt rules dealing with the prevention of child abuse for purposes of curriculum use in the common schools. The superintendent of public instruction and the departments of social and health services and ~~((community, trade, and economic development))~~ commerce shall share relevant information. Providing online access to the information satisfies the requirements of this section unless a parent or guardian specifically requests information to be provided in written form.

Sec. 5. RCW 28A.300.160 and 1995 c 399 s 21 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall be the lead agency and shall assist the department of social and health services, the department of ~~((community, trade, and economic development))~~ commerce, and school districts in establishing a coordinated primary prevention program for child abuse and neglect.

(2) In developing the program, consideration shall be given to the following:

(a) Parent, teacher, and children's workshops whose information and training is:

(i) Provided in a clear, age-appropriate, nonthreatening manner, delineating the problem and the range of possible solutions;

(ii) Culturally and linguistically appropriate to the population served;

(iii) Appropriate to the geographic area served; and

(iv) Designed to help counteract common stereotypes about child abuse victims and offenders;

(b) Training for school age children's parents and school staff, which includes:

(i) Physical and behavioral indicators of abuse;

(ii) Crisis counseling techniques;

(iii) Community resources;

(iv) Rights and responsibilities regarding reporting;

(v) School district procedures to facilitate reporting and apprise supervisors and administrators of reports; and

(vi) Caring for a child's needs after a report is made;

(c) Training for licensed day care providers and parents that includes:

(i) Positive child guidance techniques;

(ii) Physical and behavioral indicators of abuse;

(iii) Recognizing and providing safe, quality day care;

(iv) Community resources;

(v) Rights and responsibilities regarding reporting; and

(vi) Caring for the abused or neglected child;

(d) Training for children that includes:

(i) The right of every child to live free of abuse;

(ii) How to disclose incidents of abuse and neglect;

(iii) The availability of support resources and how to obtain help;

(iv) Child safety training and age-appropriate self-defense techniques; and

(v) A period for crisis counseling and reporting immediately following the completion of each children's workshop in a school setting which maximizes the child's privacy and sense of safety.

(3) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall not require annual training under subsection (2) of this section. The office of the superintendent of public instruction may consider offering training every four years, except for new employees who shall receive training within the first year of their hire date. School districts are encouraged to work with private or nonprofit entities that have the ability to provide the appropriate training for staff in accordance with this section.

(4) The primary prevention program established under this section shall be a voluntary program and shall not be part of the basic program of education.

~~((4))~~ (5) Parents shall be given notice of the primary prevention program and may refuse to have their children participate in the program.

Sec. 6. RCW 28A.300.405 and 2000 c 210 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Consistent with the legislative findings in RCW 28A.300.390, the legislature shall establish the Washington civil liberties public education program. The program provides grants for the purpose of establishing a legacy of remembrance as part of a continuing process of recovery from the World War II exclusion and detention of individuals of Japanese ancestry. The program is created to do one or both of the following:

~~((1))~~ (a) Educate the public regarding the history and the lessons of the World War II exclusion, removal, and detention of persons of Japanese ancestry through the development, coordination, and distribution of new educational materials and the development of curriculum materials to complement and augment resources currently available on this subject matter; and

~~((2))~~ (b) Develop videos, plays, presentations, speaker bureaus, and exhibitions for presentation to elementary schools, secondary schools, community colleges, and to other interested parties.

(2) This section is suspended until July 1, 2015.

Sec. 7. RCW 28A.300.410 and 2000 c 210 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The superintendent of public instruction shall allocate grants under the program established in RCW 28A.300.390 through 28A.300.415 from private donations or within amounts appropriated for this specific purpose. The grants shall be awarded on a competitive basis.

(2) The superintendent of public instruction may contract with independent review panelists and establish an advisory panel to evaluate and make recommendations to the superintendent of public instruction based on grant applications.

(3) The superintendent of public instruction shall select grant recipients from applicants who meet all of the following criteria:

(a) The capability to administer and complete the proposed project within specified deadlines and within the specified budget;

(b) The experience, knowledge, and qualifications necessary to conduct quality educational activities regarding the exclusion and detention of Japanese-Americans during World War II;

(c) Projects that relate the Japanese-American exclusion and detention experience with civil rights included in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution so that this event may be illuminated and understood in order to prevent similar violations of civil rights in the future;

(d) Projects that are designed to maximize the long-term educational impact of this chapter;

(e) Projects that build upon, contribute to, and expand upon the existing body of educational and research materials on the exclusion and detention of Japanese-Americans during World War II; and

(f) Projects that include the variety of experiences regarding the exclusion and detention of Japanese-Americans and its impact before, during, and after World War II including those Japanese-Americans who served in the military and those who were interned in department of justice camps.

(4) Applicants for grants under the program are encouraged to do each of the following:

(a) Involve former detainees, those excluded from the military area, and their descendants in the development and implementation of projects;

(b) Develop a strategy and plan for raising the level of awareness and understanding among the American public regarding the exclusion and detention of Japanese-Americans during World War II so that the causes and circumstances of this and similar events may be illuminated and understood;

(c) Develop a strategy and plan for reaching the broad, multicultural population through project activities;

(d) Develop local and regional consortia of organizations and individuals engaged in similar educational, research, and development efforts;

(e) Coordinate and collaborate with organizations and individuals engaging in similar educational, research, and development endeavors to maximize the effect of grants;

(f) Utilize creative and innovative methods and approaches in the research, development, and implementation of their projects;

(g) Seek matching funds, in-kind contributions, or other sources of support to supplement their proposal;

(h) Use a variety of media, including new technology, and the arts to creatively and strategically appeal to a broad audience while enhancing and enriching community-based educational efforts;

(i) Include in the grant application, scholarly inquiry related to the variety of experiences and impact of the exclusion and detention of persons of Japanese ancestry during World War II; and

(j) Add relevant materials to or catalogue relevant materials in libraries and other repositories for the creation, publication, and distribution of bibliographies, curriculum guides, oral histories, and other resource directories and supporting the continued development of scholarly work on this subject by making a broad range of archival, library, and research materials more accessible to the American public.

(5) The superintendent of public instruction may adopt other criteria as it deems appropriate for its review of grant proposals. In reviewing projects for funding, scoring shall be based on an evaluation of all application materials including narratives, attachments, support letters, supplementary materials, and other materials that may be requested of applicants.

(6)(a) In the review process, the superintendent of public instruction shall assign the following order of priority to the criteria set forth in subsection (3) of this section:

(i) Subsection (3)(a) through (d) of this section, inclusive, shall be given highest priority; and

(ii) Subsection (3)(e) ~~((through (and)))~~ and (f) of this section, inclusive, shall be given second priority.

(b) The superintendent of public instruction shall consider the overall breadth and variety of the field of applicants to determine the projects that would best fulfill its program and mission. Final grant awards may be for the full amount of the grant requests or for a portion of the grant request.

(7) The superintendent of public instruction shall determine the types of applicants eligible to apply for grants under this program.

(8) The office may accept gifts, grants, or endowments from public or private sources for the program and may spend any gifts,

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 7, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

grants, or endowments or income from public or private sources according to their terms.

(9) Except to the extent private funds are available, this section is suspended until July 1, 2015.

Sec. 8. RCW 28A.300.520 and 2009 c 578 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The superintendent of public instruction shall review current policies and assess the adequacy and availability of programs targeted at children who have a parent who is incarcerated in a department of corrections facility. The superintendent of public instruction shall adopt policies that support the children of incarcerated parents and meet their needs with the goal of facilitating normal child development, including maintaining adequate academic progress, while reducing intergenerational incarceration.

(2) To the extent funds are available, the superintendent shall conduct the following activities to assist in implementing the requirements of subsection (1) of this section:

(a) Gather information and data on the students who are the children of inmates incarcerated in department of corrections facilities; and

(b) Participate in the children of incarcerated parents advisory committee and report information obtained under this section to the advisory committee.

(3) This section is suspended until July 1, 2015.

Sec. 9. RCW 28A.640.020 and 1994 c 213 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The superintendent of public instruction shall develop ~~((regulations))~~ rules and guidelines to eliminate sex discrimination as it applies to public school employment, counseling and guidance services to students, recreational and athletic activities for students, access to course offerings, and in textbooks and instructional materials used by students.

(a) Specifically with respect to public school employment, all schools shall be required to:

(i) Maintain credential requirements for all personnel without regard to sex;

(ii) Make no differentiation in pay scale on the basis of sex;

(iii) Assign school duties without regard to sex except where such assignment would involve duty in areas or situations, such as but not limited to a shower room, where persons might be disrobed;

(iv) Provide the same opportunities for advancement to males and females; and

(v) Make no difference in conditions of employment including, but not limited to, hiring practices, leaves of absence, hours of employment, and assignment of, or pay for, instructional and noninstructional duties, on the basis of sex.

(b) Specifically with respect to counseling and guidance services for students, they shall be made available to all students equally. All certificated personnel shall be required to stress access to all career and vocational opportunities to students without regard to sex.

(c) Specifically with respect to recreational and athletic activities, they shall be offered to all students without regard to sex. Schools may provide separate teams for each sex. Schools which provide the following shall do so with no disparities based on sex: Equipment and supplies; medical care; services and insurance; transportation and per diem allowances; opportunities to receive coaching and instruction; laundry services; assignment of game officials; opportunities for competition, publicity and awards; scheduling of games and practice times including use of courts, gyms, and pools: PROVIDED, That such scheduling of games and practice times shall be determined by local administrative authorities after consideration of the public and student interest in attending and participating in various recreational and athletic activities. Each school which provides showers, toilets, or training room facilities for athletic purposes shall provide comparable facilities for both sexes. Such facilities may be provided either as separate facilities or shall be scheduled and used separately by each sex.

The superintendent of public instruction shall also be required to develop a student survey to distribute every three years to each local school district in the state to determine student interest for male/participation in specific sports.

(d) Specifically with respect to course offerings, all classes shall be required to be available to all students without regard to sex: PROVIDED, That separation is permitted within any class during sessions on sex education or gym classes.

(e) Specifically with respect to textbooks and instructional materials, which shall also include, but not be limited to, reference books and audio-visual materials, they shall be required to adhere to the guidelines developed by the superintendent of public instruction to implement the intent of this chapter: PROVIDED, That this subsection shall not be construed to prohibit the introduction of material deemed appropriate by the instructor for educational purposes.

(2)(a) By December 31, 1994, the superintendent of public instruction shall develop criteria for use by school districts in developing sexual harassment policies as required under (b) of this subsection. The criteria shall address the subjects of grievance procedures, remedies to victims of sexual harassment, disciplinary actions against violators of the policy, and other subjects at the discretion of the superintendent of public instruction. Disciplinary actions must conform with collective bargaining agreements and state and federal laws. The superintendent of public instruction also shall supply sample policies to school districts upon request.

(b) By June 30, 1995, every school district shall adopt and implement a written policy concerning sexual harassment. The policy shall apply to all school district employees, volunteers, parents, and students, including, but not limited to, conduct between students.

(c) School district policies on sexual harassment shall be reviewed by the superintendent of public instruction considering the criteria established under (a) of this subsection as part of the monitoring process established in RCW 28A.640.030.

(d) The school district's sexual harassment policy shall be conspicuously posted throughout each school building, and provided to each employee. Employees may be provided the policy online. A copy of the policy shall appear in any publication of the school or school district setting forth the rules, ~~((regulations))~~ procedures, and standards of conduct for the school or school district.

(e) Each school shall develop a process for discussing the district's sexual harassment policy. The process shall ensure the discussion addresses the definition of sexual harassment and issues covered in the sexual harassment policy.

(f) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall not require annual training to address the policies of this section. Training may be offered every four years, except for new employees who shall receive training within the first year of their hire date.

(g) "Sexual harassment" as used in this section means unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, sexually motivated physical contact, or other verbal or physical conduct or communication of a sexual nature if:

(i) Submission to that conduct or communication is made a term or condition, either explicitly or implicitly, of obtaining an education or employment;

(ii) Submission to or rejection of that conduct or communication by an individual is used as a factor in decisions affecting that individual's education or employment; or

(iii) That conduct or communication has the purpose or effect of substantially interfering with an individual's educational or work performance, or of creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive educational or work environment.

Sec. 10. RCW 28A.655.061 and 2011 1st sp.s. c 22 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The high school assessment system shall include but need not be limited to the statewide student assessment, opportunities for a student to retake the content areas of the assessment in which the student was not successful, and, if approved by the legislature pursuant to subsection (10) of this section, one or more objective alternative assessments for a student to demonstrate achievement of state academic standards. The objective alternative assessments for each content area shall be comparable in rigor to the skills and knowledge that the student must demonstrate on the statewide student assessment for each content area.

(2) Subject to the conditions in this section, a certificate of academic achievement shall be obtained by most students at about the age of sixteen, and is evidence that the students have successfully met the state standard in the content areas included in the certificate. With the exception of students satisfying the provisions of RCW 28A.155.045 or 28A.655.0611, acquisition of the certificate is required for graduation from a public high school but is not the only requirement for graduation.

(3) Beginning with the graduating class of 2008, with the exception of students satisfying the provisions of RCW 28A.155.045, a student who meets the state standards on the reading, writing, and mathematics content areas of the high school statewide student assessment shall earn a certificate of academic achievement. If a student does not successfully meet the state standards in one or more content areas required for the certificate of academic achievement, then the student may retake the assessment in the content area up to four times at no cost to the student. If the student successfully meets the state standards on a retake of the assessment then the student shall earn a certificate of academic achievement. Once objective alternative assessments are authorized pursuant to subsection (10) of this section, a student may use the objective alternative assessments to demonstrate that the student successfully meets the state standards for that content area if the student has taken the statewide student assessment at least once. If the student successfully meets the state standards on the objective alternative assessments then the student shall earn a certificate of academic achievement.

(4) Beginning with the graduating class of 2015, a student must meet the state standards in science in addition to the other content areas required under subsection (3) of this section on the statewide student assessment or the objective alternative assessments in order to earn a certificate of academic achievement.

(5) The state board of education may not require the acquisition of the certificate of academic achievement for students in home-based instruction under chapter 28A.200 RCW, for students enrolled in private schools under chapter 28A.195 RCW, or for students satisfying the provisions of RCW 28A.155.045.

(6) A student may retain and use the highest result from each successfully completed content area of the high school assessment.

(7) School districts must make available to students the following options:

(a) To retake the statewide student assessment up to four times in the content areas in which the student did not meet the state standards if the student is enrolled in a public school; or

(b) To retake the statewide student assessment up to four times in the content areas in which the student did not meet the state standards if the student is enrolled in a high school completion program at a community or technical college. The superintendent of public instruction and the state board for community and technical colleges shall jointly identify means by which students in these programs can be assessed.

(8) Students who achieve the standard in a content area of the high school assessment but who wish to improve their results shall pay for retaking the assessment, using a uniform cost determined by the superintendent of public instruction.

(9) Opportunities to retake the assessment at least twice a year shall be available to each school district.

(10)(a) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall develop options for implementing objective alternative assessments, which may include an appeals process for students' scores, for students to demonstrate achievement of the state academic standards. The objective alternative assessments shall be comparable in rigor to the skills and knowledge that the student must demonstrate on the statewide student assessment and be objective in its determination of student achievement of the state standards. Before any objective alternative assessments in addition to those authorized in RCW 28A.655.065 or (b) of this subsection are used by a student to demonstrate that the student has met the state standards in a content area required to obtain a certificate, the legislature shall formally approve the use of any objective alternative assessments through the omnibus appropriations act or by statute or concurrent resolution.

(b)(i) A student's score on the mathematics, reading or English, or writing portion of the SAT or the ACT may be used as an objective alternative assessment under this section for demonstrating that a student has met or exceeded the state standards for the certificate of academic achievement. The state board of education shall identify the scores students must achieve on the relevant portion of the SAT or ACT to meet or exceed the state standard in the relevant content area on the statewide student assessment. A student's score on the science portion of the ACT or the science subject area tests of the SAT may be used as an objective alternative assessment under this section as soon as the state board of education determines that sufficient data is available to identify reliable equivalent scores for the science content area of the statewide student assessment. After the first scores are established, the state board may increase but not decrease the scores required for students to meet or exceed the state standards.

(ii) A student who scores at least a three on the grading scale of one to five for selected AP examinations may use the score as an objective alternative assessment under this section for demonstrating that a student has met or exceeded state standards for the certificate of academic achievement. A score of three on the AP examinations in calculus or statistics may be used as an alternative assessment for the mathematics portion of the statewide student assessment. A score of three on the AP examinations in English language and composition may be used as an alternative assessment for the writing portion of the statewide student assessment. A score of three on the AP examinations in English literature and composition, macroeconomics, microeconomics, psychology, United States history, world history, United States government and politics, or comparative government and politics may be used as an alternative assessment for the reading portion of the statewide student assessment. A score of three on the AP examination in biology, physics, chemistry, or environmental science may be used as an alternative assessment for the science portion of the statewide student assessment.

(11) By December 15, 2004, the house of representatives and senate education committees shall obtain information and conclusions from recognized, independent, national assessment experts regarding the validity and reliability of the high school Washington assessment of student learning for making individual student high school graduation determinations.

((12) To help assure continued progress in academic achievement as a foundation for high school graduation and to assure that students are on track for high school graduation, each school district shall prepare plans for and notify students and their parents or legal guardians as provided in this subsection. Student learning plans are required for eighth grade students who were not successful on any or all of the content areas of the state assessment during the previous school year or who may not be on track to graduate due to credit deficiencies or absences. The parent or legal guardian shall be notified about the information in the student learning plan, preferably through a parent conference and at least annually. To the extent feasible, schools serving English language learner students and their parents shall translate the plan into the primary language of the family. The plan shall include the following information as applicable:

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 7, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

- (a) The student's results on the state assessment;
- (b) If the student is in the transitional bilingual program, the score on his or her Washington language proficiency test II;
- (c) Any credit deficiencies;
- (d) The student's attendance rates over the previous two years;
- (e) The student's progress toward meeting state and local graduation requirements;
- (f) The courses, competencies, and other steps needed to be taken by the student to meet state academic standards and stay on track for graduation;
- (g) Remediation strategies and alternative education options available to students, including informing students of the option to continue to receive instructional services after grade twelve or until the age of twenty-one;
- (h) The alternative assessment options available to students under this section and RCW 28A.655.065;
- (i) School district programs, high school courses, and career and technical education options available for students to meet graduation requirements; and
- (j) Available programs offered through skill centers or community and technical colleges, including the college high school diploma options under RCW 28B.50.535.)

Sec. 11. RCW 39.35D.040 and 2011 c 99 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) All major facility projects of public school districts receiving any funding in a state capital budget must be designed and constructed to at least the LEED silver standard or the Washington sustainable school design protocol. To the extent appropriate LEED silver or Washington sustainable school design protocol standards exist for the type of building or facility, this subsection applies to major facility projects that have not received project approval from the superintendent of public instruction prior to: (a) July 1, 2006, for volunteering school districts; (b) July 1, 2007, for class one school districts; and (c) July 1, 2008, for class two school districts.

(2) Public school districts under this section shall: (a) Monitor and document appropriate operating benefits and savings resulting from major facility projects designed and constructed as required under this section for a minimum of five years following local board acceptance of a project receiving state funding; and (b) report annually to the superintendent of public instruction. The form and content of each report must be mutually developed by the office of the superintendent of public instruction in consultation with school districts.

(3) The superintendent of public instruction shall consolidate the reports required in subsection (2) of this section into one report and report to the governor and legislature by September 1st of each even-numbered year beginning in 2006 and ending in 2016. In its report, the superintendent of public instruction shall also report on the implementation of this chapter, including reasons why the LEED standard or Washington sustainable school design protocol was not used as required by RCW 39.35D.020(5)(b). The superintendent of public instruction shall make recommendations regarding the ongoing implementation of this chapter, including a discussion of incentives and disincentives related to implementing this chapter.

(4) The superintendent of public instruction shall develop and issue guidelines for administering this chapter for public school districts. The purpose of the guidelines is to define a procedure and method for employing and verifying compliance with the LEED silver standard or the Washington sustainable school design protocol.

(5) The superintendent of public instruction shall utilize the school facilities advisory board as a high-performance buildings advisory committee comprised of affected public schools, the superintendent of public instruction, the department, and others at the superintendent of public instruction's discretion to provide advice on implementing this chapter. Among other duties, the advisory committee shall make recommendations regarding an education and training process and an ongoing evaluation or feedback process to help the superintendent of public instruction implement this chapter.

(6) For projects that comply with this section by meeting the LEED silver standard, the superintendent of public instruction must credit one additional point for a project that uses wood products with a credible third-party sustainable forest certification or from forests regulated under chapter 76.09 RCW, the Washington forest practices act. For projects that qualify for this additional point, and for which an additional point would have resulted in formal certification under the LEED silver standard, the project must be deemed to meet the requirements of subsection (1) of this section.

(7) School districts are required to comply with this section only to the extent federal or state funds are available.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

- (1) RCW 28A.210.130 (Immunization program--Superintendent of public instruction to provide information) and 1990 c 33 s 197 & 1985 c 49 s 4;
- (2) RCW 28A.220.050 (Information on proper use of left-hand lane) and 1986 c 93 s 4;
- (3) RCW 28A.220.080 (Information on motorcycle awareness) and 2007 c 97 s 4 & 2004 c 126 s 1;
- (4) RCW 28A.220.085 (Information on driving safely among bicyclists and pedestrians) and 2008 c 125 s 4;
- (5) RCW 28A.230.150 (Temperance and Good Citizenship Day--Aids in programming) and 1969 ex.s. c 223 s 28A.02.090;
- (6) RCW 28A.300.280 (Conflict resolution program) and 1994 sp.s. c 7 s 611; and
- (7) RCW 28A.320.185 (School gardens or farms) and 2008 c 215 s 7.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Sections 3 and 6 through 8 of this act expire July 1, 2015.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Baumgartner, Becker, Benton, Brown, Carrell, Ericksen, Hewitt, Holmquist Newbry, Honeyford, Padden, Parlette, Pearson, Schoesler, Sheldon and Smith

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5332, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5332, by Senators Roach, Nelson, Rolfes, Conway, Fain and Delvin

Modifying the percentage of votes required to approve benefit charges for fire protection districts. Revised for 1st Substitute: Modifying the percentage of votes required to continue benefit charges for fire protection districts.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Benton, I don't know if it's worth spending any time on but to me semantics have some importance in this process. We use this term 'adopted.' You're not adopting the substitute. Merely what you're doing is saying is your saying is, you're going to consider this bill instead of the original bill. Until the bill is passed it's not adopted."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Roach, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5332 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5332 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Roach, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5332 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators Roach, Mullet and Hasegawa spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Senator Ericksen spoke against passage of the bill.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5105, by Senators Dammeier, Harper and Pearson

Asserting conditions under which the department of corrections provides rental vouchers to a registered sex offender. Revised for 2nd Substitute: Addressing conditions under which the department of corrections provides rental vouchers to an offender.

The measure was read the second time.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Benton: "Is the substitute bill, was the substitute adopted in the committee or did we adopt the substitute here on the floor?"

MOTION

On motion of Senator Dammeier, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5105 was not substituted for Senate Bill No. 5105 and the second substitute bill was not adopted by a voice vote.

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The committee adopts it as a recommendation to the floor, then the floor adopts the substitute. When I say adopt the substitute they place it before you."

MOTION

Senator Dammeier moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Carrell, Dammeier and Darneille be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 9.94A.729 and 2011 1st sp.s. c 40 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) The term of the sentence of an offender committed to a correctional facility operated by the department may be reduced by earned release time in accordance with procedures that shall be developed and adopted by the correctional agency having jurisdiction in which the offender is confined. The earned release time shall be for good behavior and good performance, as determined by the correctional agency having jurisdiction. The correctional agency shall not credit the offender with earned release credits in advance of the offender actually earning the credits.

(b) Any program established pursuant to this section shall allow an offender to earn early release credits for presentence incarceration. If an offender is transferred from a county jail to the department, the administrator of a county jail facility shall certify to the department the amount of time spent in custody at the facility and the amount of earned release time. The department may approve a jail certification from a correctional agency that calculates earned release time based on the actual amount of confinement time served by the offender before sentencing when an erroneous calculation of confinement time served by the offender before sentencing appears on the judgment and sentence.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Benton: "Ok, we've adopted it here on the floor?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Yes."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5332.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5332 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 33; Nays, 16; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

Voting yea: Senators Billig, Braun, Chase, Cleveland, Conway, Dammeier, Darneille, Eide, Fain, Fraser, Frockt, Hargrove, Harper, Hasegawa, Hatfield, Hill, Hobbs, Keiser, King, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Litzow, McAuliffe, Mullet, Murray, Nelson, Ranker, Rivers, Roach, Rolfes, Schlicher, Shin and Tom

(2) An offender who has been convicted of a felony committed after July 23, 1995, that involves any applicable deadly weapon enhancements under RCW 9.94A.533 (3) or (4), or both, shall not receive any good time credits or earned release time for that portion of his or her sentence that results from any deadly weapon enhancements.

(3) An offender may earn early release time as follows:

(a) In the case of an offender convicted of a serious violent offense, or a sex offense that is a class A felony, committed on or after July 1, 1990, and before July 1, 2003, the aggregate earned release time may not exceed fifteen percent of the sentence.

(b) In the case of an offender convicted of a serious violent offense, or a sex offense that is a class A felony, committed on or after July 1, 2003, the aggregate earned release time may not exceed ten percent of the sentence.

(c) An offender is qualified to earn up to fifty percent of aggregate earned release time if he or she:

(i) Is not classified as an offender who is at a high risk to reoffend as provided in subsection (4) of this section;

(ii) Is not confined pursuant to a sentence for:

(A) A sex offense;

(B) A violent offense;

(C) A crime against persons as defined in RCW 9.94A.411;

(D) A felony that is domestic violence as defined in RCW 10.99.020;

(E) A violation of RCW 9A.52.025 (residential burglary);

(F) A violation of, or an attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy to violate, RCW 69.50.401 by manufacture or delivery or possession with intent to deliver methamphetamine; or

(G) A violation of, or an attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy to violate, RCW 69.50.406 (delivery of a controlled substance to a minor);

(iii) Has no prior conviction for the offenses listed in (c)(ii) of this subsection;

(iv) Participates in programming or activities as directed by the offender's individual reentry plan as provided under RCW 72.09.270 to the extent that such programming or activities are made available by the department; and

(v) Has not committed a new felony after July 22, 2007, while under community custody.

(d) In no other case shall the aggregate earned release time exceed one-third of the total sentence.

(4) The department shall perform a risk assessment of each offender who may qualify for earned early release under subsection (3)(c) of this section utilizing the risk assessment tool recommended by the Washington state institute for public policy. Subsection (3)(c) of this section does not apply to offenders convicted after July 1, 2010.

(5)(a) A person who is eligible for earned early release as provided in this section and who will be supervised by the department pursuant to RCW 9.94A.501 or 9.94A.5011, shall be transferred to community custody in lieu of earned release time;

(b) The department shall, as a part of its program for release to the community in lieu of earned release, require the offender to propose a release plan that includes an approved residence and living arrangement. All offenders with community custody terms eligible for release to community custody in lieu of earned release shall provide an approved residence and living arrangement prior to release to the community;

(c) The department may deny transfer to community custody in lieu of earned release time if the department determines an offender's release plan, including proposed residence location and living arrangements, may violate the conditions of the sentence or conditions of supervision, place the offender at risk to violate the conditions of the sentence, place the offender at risk to reoffend, or present a risk to victim safety or community safety. The department's authority under this section is independent of any court-ordered condition of sentence or statutory provision regarding conditions for community custody;

(d) If the department is unable to approve the offender's release plan, the department may do one or more of the following:

(i) Transfer an offender to partial confinement in lieu of earned early release for a period not to exceed three months. The three months in partial confinement is in addition to that portion of the offender's term of confinement that may be served in partial confinement as provided in RCW 9.94A.728(5);

(ii) Provide rental vouchers to the offender for a period not to exceed three months if rental assistance will result in an approved release plan. ~~((The))~~ A voucher must be provided in conjunction with additional transition support programming or services that enable an offender to participate in services including, but not limited to, substance abuse treatment, mental health treatment, sex offender treatment, educational programming, or employment programming;

(e) The department shall maintain a list of housing providers that meets the requirements of section 2 of this act. A rental voucher may only be paid to a housing provider on the department's list;

(f) For each offender who is the recipient of a rental voucher, the department shall ~~((include, concurrent with the data that the department otherwise obtains and records, the housing status of the offender for the duration of the offender's supervision))~~ gather data as recommended by the Washington state institute for public policy in order to best demonstrate whether rental vouchers are effective in reducing recidivism.

(6) An offender serving a term of confinement imposed under RCW 9.94A.670(5)(a) is not eligible for earned release credits under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 72.09 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A housing provider may be placed on a list with the department to receive rental vouchers under RCW 9.94A.729 in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(2) The department shall give preference to housing providers that provide a small, family oriented, living environment. For living environments with between four and eight beds, or a greater number of individuals if permitted by local code, the department shall provide transition support that verifies an offender is participating in programming or services including, but not limited to, substance abuse treatment, mental health treatment, sex offender treatment, educational programming, development of positive living skills, or employment programming. In addition, when selecting housing providers, the department shall consider the compatibility of the proposed offender housing with the surrounding neighborhood and underlying zoning. The department shall adopt procedures to limit the concentration of housing providers who provide housing to sex offenders in a single neighborhood or area.

(3)(a) The department shall provide the local law and justice council or other designated county authority, and a city's chief law enforcement officer if such housing is located within a city, with notice any time a housing provider or new housing location is added to the list within that county.

(b) The notice shall include a community impact statement that has been developed in collaboration with the county and city local governments. The community impact statement shall include the number and location of other special needs housing in the neighborhood and a review of services and supports in the area to assist offenders in their transition. When developing the community impact statement, the department shall utilize information gathered and provided by the local government to the extent that it is available.

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 7, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

(4) If a certificate of inspection, as provided in RCW 59.18.125, is required by local regulation and the local government does not have a current certificate of inspection on file, the local government shall have ten business days from the later of (a) receipt of notice from the department as provided in subsection (3) of this section; or (b) from the date the local government is given access to the dwelling unit to conduct an inspection or reinspection to issue a certificate. This section is deemed satisfied if a local government does not issue a timely certificate of inspection.

(5)(a) If, within ten business days of receipt of a notice from the department of a new location or new housing provider, the county or city determines that the housing is in a neighborhood with an existing concentration of special needs housing, including retirement homes, assisted living, emergency or transitional housing, or adult family homes, the county or city may request the new location or new housing provider be removed from the list.

(b) This subsection does not apply to housing providers approved by the department to receive rental vouchers on the effective date of this section.

(6) The county or city may at any time request a housing provider be removed from the list if it provides information to the department that:

(a) It has determined that the housing does not comply with state and local fire and building codes or applicable zoning and development regulations in effect at the time the housing provider first began receiving housing vouchers; or

(b) The housing provider is not complying with the provisions of this section.

(7) After receiving a request to remove a housing provider from the county or city, the department shall immediately notify the provider of the concerns and request that the provider demonstrate that it is in compliance with the provisions of this section. If, after ten days' written notice, the housing provider cannot demonstrate to the department that it is in compliance with the reasons for the county's or city's request for removal, the department shall remove the housing provider from the list.

(8) An appointed or elected public official, public employee, or public agency as defined in RCW 4.24.470, or units of local government and its employees, as provided in RCW 36.28A.010, are immune from civil liability for damages for assisting a housing provider in the removal of an offender from the premises as provided in this section.

(9) A housing provider who provides housing pursuant to this section is not liable for civil damages arising from the criminal conduct of an offender to any greater extent than a regular tenant, and no special duties are created under this section."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Litzow and Tom on page 1, line 1 to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5329.

The motion by Senator Litzow carried and the amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

Senator Billig moved that the following striking amendment by Senator Billig be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that in 2010 an accountability system was created for the Washington public schools, which was to be implemented in two phases. The first phase used federal guidelines to designate the persistently lowest-achieving schools that were eligible for federal Title I funds to apply for a federal school improvement grant to implement federal intervention strategies to improve student performance. The system was initially voluntary but a required action process was to begin in 2011. The legislature further finds that under the required action process four of the persistently lowest-achieving schools that were on a downward trend were offered the opportunity to use the federal school improvement grants to take required actions. The legislature further finds that the Renton and Onalaska school districts show promising improvement that other districts can build upon. The legislature intends to implement phase two of the accountability process beginning in the 2013-14 school year with the ten most persistently lowest-achieving schools.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 28A.657 RCW to read as follows:

(1) By June 1, 2013, the office of the superintendent of public instruction must identify the ten most persistently lowest-achieving schools using the student results on the statewide reading and mathematics assessments.

(2) A school district with at least one school identified as one of the ten most persistently lowest-achieving schools shall be designated as a required action district.

(3) The superintendent of public instruction shall provide each required action school district superintendent with written notice by certified mail or personal service of the identification of the school within the district as one of the most persistently lowest-achieving schools causing the district to be designated a required action district.

(4) A district designated as a required action district must notify all parents of students attending a school identified as one of the most persistently lowest-achieving schools in the district, the designation of the district as a required action district, and the process for complying with the requirements in RCW 28A.657.040 through 28A.657.100.

(5) Each required action district designated under this section must follow the process and comply with the requirements in RCW 28A.657.040 through 28A.657.100.

Sec. 3. RCW 28A.657.050 and 2012 c 53 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The local district superintendent and local school board of a school district designated as a required action district must submit a required action plan to the state board of education for approval. Unless otherwise required by subsection (3) of this section, the plan must be submitted under a schedule as required by the state board. A required action plan must be developed in collaboration with administrators, teachers, and other staff, parents, unions representing any employees within the district, students, and other representatives of the local community. The superintendent of public instruction shall provide a district with assistance in developing its plan if requested. The school board must conduct a public hearing to allow for comment on a proposed required action plan. The local school district shall submit the plan first to the office of the superintendent of public instruction to review and approve that the plan is consistent with federal guidelines. After the office of the superintendent of public instruction has approved that the plan is consistent with federal guidelines, the local school district must submit its required action plan to the state board of education for approval.

(2) A required action plan must include all of the following:

(a) Implementation of one of the four federal intervention models required for the receipt of a federal school improvement grant, for those persistently lowest-achieving schools that the district will be focusing on for required action. However, a district may not establish a charter school under a federal intervention model without express legislative authority, unless the district is designated a required action district in accordance with section 2 of this act. If a required action district chooses to establish a charter school as the intervention model, then the charter school that is established counts towards the maximum number of charter schools that may be established in accordance with RCW 28A.710.150. The intervention models are the turnaround, restart, school closure, and transformation models. The intervention model selected must address the concerns raised in the academic performance audit and be intended to improve student performance to allow a school district to be removed from the list of districts designated as a required action district by the state board of education within three years of implementation of the plan;

(b) Submission of an application for a federal school improvement grant or a grant from other federal funds for school improvement to the superintendent of public instruction, except that a district designated as a required action district in accordance with section 2 of this act shall receive the state funds appropriated for this purpose;

(c) A budget that provides for adequate resources to implement the federal model selected and any other requirements of the plan;

(d) A description of the changes in the district's or school's existing policies, structures, agreements, processes, and practices that are intended to attain significant achievement gains for all students enrolled in the school and how the district intends to address the findings of the academic performance audit; and

(e) Identification of the measures that the school district will use in assessing student achievement at a school identified as a persistently lowest-achieving school, which include improving mathematics and reading student achievement and graduation rates as defined by the office of the superintendent of public instruction that enable the school to no longer be identified as a persistently lowest-achieving school.

(3)(a) For any district designated for required action, the parties to any collective bargaining agreement negotiated, renewed, or extended under chapter 41.59 or 41.56 RCW after June 10, 2010, and for a school district designated a required action district in accordance with section 2 of this act after the effective date of this section, must reopen the agreement, or negotiate an addendum, if needed, to make changes to terms and conditions of employment that are necessary to implement a required action plan. For any district applying to participate in a collaborative schools for innovation and success pilot project under RCW 28A.630.104, the parties to any collective bargaining agreement negotiated, renewed, or extended under chapter 41.59 or 41.56 RCW after June 7, 2012, must reopen the agreement, or negotiate an addendum, if needed, to make changes to terms and conditions of employment that are necessary to implement an innovation and success plan.

(b) If the school district and the employee organizations are unable to agree on the terms of an addendum or modification to an existing collective bargaining agreement, the parties, including all labor organizations affected under the required action plan, shall request the public employment relations commission to, and the commission shall, appoint an employee of the commission to act as a mediator to assist in the resolution of a dispute between the school district and the employee organizations. Beginning in 2011, and each year thereafter, mediation shall commence no later than April 15th. All mediations held under this section shall include the employer and representatives of all affected bargaining units.

(c) If the executive director of the public employment relations commission, upon the recommendation of the assigned mediator, finds that the employer and any affected bargaining unit are unable to reach agreement following a reasonable period of negotiations and mediation, but by no later than May 15th of the year in which mediation occurred, the executive director shall certify any disputed issues for a decision by the superior court in the county where the school district is located. The issues for determination by the superior court must be limited to the issues certified by the executive director.

(d) The process for filing with the court in this subsection (3)(d) must be used in the case where the executive director certifies issues for a decision by the superior court.

(i) The school district shall file a petition with the superior court, by no later than May 20th of the same year in which the issues were certified, setting forth the following:

(A) The name, address, and telephone number of the school district and its principal representative;

(B) The name, address, and telephone number of the employee organizations and their principal representatives;

(C) A description of the bargaining units involved;

(D) A copy of the unresolved issues certified by the executive director for a final and binding decision by the court; and

(E) The academic performance audit that the office of the superintendent of public instruction completed for the school district in the case of a required action district, or the comprehensive needs assessment in the case of a collaborative schools for innovation and success pilot project.

(ii) Within seven days after the filing of the petition, each party shall file with the court the proposal it is asking the court to order be implemented in a required action plan or innovation and success plan for the district for each issue certified by the executive director. Contemporaneously with the filing of the proposal, a party must file a brief with the court setting forth the reasons why the court should order implementation of its proposal in the final plan.

(iii) Following receipt of the proposals and briefs of the parties, the court must schedule a date and time for a hearing on the petition. The hearing must be limited to argument of the parties or their counsel regarding the proposals submitted for the court's consideration. The parties may waive a hearing by written agreement.

(iv) The court must enter an order selecting the proposal for inclusion in a required action plan that best responds to the issues raised in the school district's academic performance audit, and allows for the award of a federal school improvement grant or a grant from other federal or state funds for school improvement to the district from the office of the superintendent of public instruction to implement one of the four federal intervention models. In the case of an innovation and success plan, the court must enter an order selecting the proposal for inclusion in the plan that best responds to the issues raised in the school's comprehensive needs assessment. The court's decision must be issued no later than June 15th of the year in which the petition is filed and is final and binding on the parties; however the court's decision is subject to appeal only in the case where it does not allow the school district to implement a required action plan consistent with the requirements for the award of a federal school improvement grant or other federal or state funds for school improvement by the superintendent of public instruction.

(e) Each party shall bear its own costs and attorneys' fees incurred under this statute.

(f) Any party that proceeds with the process in this section after knowledge that any provision of this section has not been complied with and who fails to state its objection in writing is deemed to have waived its right to object.

(4) All contracts entered into between a school district and an employee must be consistent with this section and allow school districts designated as required action districts to implement one of the four federal models in a required action plan.

Sec. 4. RCW 28A.657.050 and 2010 c 235 s 105 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The local district superintendent and local school board of a school district designated as a required action district must submit a required action plan to the state board of education for approval. Unless otherwise required by subsection (3) of this section, the plan must be submitted under a schedule as required by the state board. A required action plan must be developed in collaboration with administrators, teachers, and other staff, parents, unions representing any employees within the district, students, and other representatives of the local community. (4) All contracts entered into between a school district and an employee must be consistent with this section and allow school districts designated as required action districts to implement one of the four federal models in a required action plan.

Sec. 5. RCW 28A.657.090 and 2010 c 235 s 109 are each amended to read as follows:

A school district must implement a required action plan upon approval by the state board of education. The office of ~~((the))~~ the superintendent of public instruction must provide the required action district with technical assistance and federal school improvement grant funds or other federal funds for school improvement, if available, or state funds, to implement an approved plan. The district must submit a report to the superintendent of public instruction that provides the progress the district is making in meeting the student achievement goals based on the state's assessments, identifying strategies and assets used to solve audit findings, and establishing evidence of meeting plan implementation benchmarks as set forth in the required action plan.

Sec. 6. RCW 28A.657.100 and 2010 c 235 s 110 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The superintendent of public instruction must provide a report twice per year to the state board of education regarding the progress made by all school districts designated as required action districts.

(2) The superintendent of public instruction must recommend to the state board of education that a school district be released from the designation as a required action district after the district implements a required action plan for a period of three years; has made progress, as defined by the superintendent of public instruction, in reading and mathematics on the state's assessment over the past three consecutive years; and no longer has a school within the district identified as persistently lowest-achieving. The state board shall release a school district from the designation as a required action district upon confirmation that the district has met the requirements for a release.

(3) If the state board of education determines that the required action district has not met the requirements for release, the ~~((district remains in required action and must submit a new or revised plan under the process in RCW 28A.657.050))~~ office of the superintendent of public instruction shall review the actions taken in accordance with the required action process and create a new three-year plan with the school district board of directors to be implemented by the office of the superintendent of public instruction using a management structure chosen by the superintendent of public instruction.

(4) If at the end of the three-year plan instituted in accordance with subsection (3) of this section the state board of education determines that the required action district has not made sufficient improvement as determined by the office of the superintendent of public instruction, the school must be closed and the students assigned to another school, unless there is no viable option to accommodate the students due to lack of capacity or inability to provide equitable access to educational programs and services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The sum of ten million dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2014, from the general fund to the office of the superintendent of public instruction for equal distribution to each of the ten school districts identified in section 2 of this act to implement this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Section 3 of this act expires June 30, 2019.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Section 4 of this act takes effect June 30, 2019.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Section 2 of this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

SENATE BILL NO. 5138, by Senators Parlette and Hargrove

On motion of Senator Hewitt, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5774 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Creating a council on state debt. Revised for 1st Substitute: Addressing the management of state debt.

Senators Hewitt and Conway spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Parlette, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5138 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5138 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Parlette moved that the following striking amendment by Senator Parlette be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that Washington state uses debt financing to meet many of its essential capital and transportation needs. This debt capacity is limited by the amount of discretionary state government operating and transportation revenues available to repay the debt. A comprehensive approach to manage the state's debt capacity will help guide Washington's policymakers' choices about the amounts, types, and uses of debt financing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 39.42 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The state finance committee shall advise and make recommendations to the governor and the legislature on the levels and types of state debt to be authorized to fund essential capital and transportation projects while protecting the state's credit rating, maintaining financial market access, and also preserving future budgetary flexibility.

(2) The state finance committee's recommendations must take at least the following into consideration:

(a) The overall amount of all types of debt issued by or on behalf of the state as reflected in the debt affordability study prepared annually by the state treasurer; and

(b) The impact of planned and proposed debt issuance on the state's ability to access the bond market and the cost of those borrowings.

(3) On or before November 1st of each year, they must recommend the following:

(a) The level of various purpose general obligation debt service payments as a percentage of general state revenue;

(b) The level of various purpose general obligation debt to be authorized for the following biennium when taking into account:

(i) Capital needs for that biennium;

(ii) Projected capital needs reflected in the ten-year capital project plan;

(iii) Debt capacity with respect to the constitutional debt limit for that biennium;

(iv) Projected constitutional debt capacity for the following four biennia; and

(v) The economic, revenue, and interest rate forecast;

(c) The amount of other methods of financing, including but not limited to limited obligation debt backed by specific revenues and debt issued pursuant to chapter 39.94 RCW, that is available to fund capital projects when taking into account the factors set forth in (b) of this subsection;

(d) The level of motor vehicle fuel tax general obligation debt service payments as a percentage of current and projected motor vehicle fuel tax revenues, taking into consideration the amount directed to local governments, the amounts needed to pay current debt service, and any other amounts directed to any other lawful source;

(e) The level of motor vehicle fuel tax general obligation debt to be authorized for the following biennium when taking into account:

(i) The transportation needs for the following biennium according to the transportation plan;

(ii) The projected transportation needs as reflected in the transportation plan; and

(iii) The motor vehicle fuel tax capacity available when taking into consideration the amount directed to local governments, the amounts needed to pay current debt service, and any other amounts directed to any other lawful purposes;

(f) The amount of other methods of financing, including but not limited to limited obligation bonds and financings authorized under chapter 47.29 RCW, available to fund transportation projects when taking into account the factors set forth in (e) of this subsection. A maximum level of debt to be authorized in any bond authorization bill required under section 7 of this act for capital projects; and

(g) A maximum level of debt to be authorized in any bond authorization bill required under section 7 of this act for transportation projects.

(4) The state finance committee must evaluate and include in its recommendations, the following:

(a) The combined impact of issuing the proposed debt as identified in the capital plan and transportation plan on the state's cost of capital;

(b) The combined impact of issuing the proposed debt as identified in the capital plan and the transportation plan on the general fund and the motor vehicle fund; and

(c) The percentage of general state revenues and motor vehicle fuel tax revenues to be obligated to the payment of debt service when taking into consideration all relevant factors.

Sec. 3. RCW 43.88.030 and 2006 c 334 s 43 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The director of financial management shall provide all agencies with a complete set of instructions for submitting biennial budget requests to the director at least three months before agency budget documents are due into the office of financial management. The budget document or documents shall consist of the governor's budget message which shall be explanatory of the budget and shall contain an outline of the proposed financial policies of the state for the ensuing fiscal period, as well as an outline of the proposed six-year financial policies where applicable, and shall describe in connection therewith the important features of the budget. The biennial budget document or documents shall also describe performance indicators that demonstrate measurable progress towards priority results. The message shall set forth the reasons for salient changes from the previous fiscal period in expenditure and revenue items and shall explain any major changes in financial policy. Attached to the budget message shall be such supporting schedules, exhibits and other explanatory material in respect to both current operations and capital improvements as the governor shall deem to be useful to the legislature. The budget document or documents must not set forth a proposal that relies on an amount of state debt that exceeds the bond authorization bill required under section 7 of this act. The budget document or documents shall set forth a proposal for expenditures in the ensuing fiscal period, or six-year period where applicable, based upon the estimated revenues and caseloads as approved by the economic and revenue forecast council and caseload forecast council or upon the estimated revenues and caseloads of the office of financial management for those funds, accounts, sources, and programs for which the forecast councils do not prepare an official forecast. Revenues shall be estimated for such fiscal period from the source and at the rates existing by law at the time of submission of the budget document, including the supplemental budgets submitted in the even-numbered years of a biennium. However, the estimated revenues and caseloads for use in the governor's budget document may be adjusted to reflect budgetary revenue transfers and revenue and caseload estimates dependent upon budgetary assumptions of enrollments, workloads, and caseloads. All adjustments to the approved estimated revenues and caseloads must be set forth in the budget document. The governor may additionally submit, as an appendix to each supplemental, biennial, or six-year agency budget or to the budget document or documents, a proposal for expenditures in the ensuing fiscal period from revenue sources derived from proposed changes in existing statutes.

The budget document or documents shall also contain:

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 7, 2013

2013 REGULAR SESSION

(a) Revenues classified by fund and source for the immediately past fiscal period, those received or anticipated for the current fiscal period, and those anticipated for the ensuing biennium;

(b) The undesignated fund balance or deficit, by fund;

(c) Such additional information dealing with expenditures, revenues, workload, performance, and personnel as the legislature may direct by law or concurrent resolution;

(d) Such additional information dealing with revenues and expenditures as the governor shall deem pertinent and useful to the legislature;

(e) Tabulations showing expenditures classified by fund, function, and agency;

(f) The expenditures that include nonbudgeted, nonappropriated accounts outside the state treasury;

(g) Identification of all proposed direct expenditures to implement the Puget Sound water quality plan under chapter 90.71 RCW, shown by agency and in total; and

(h) Tabulations showing each postretirement adjustment by retirement system established after fiscal year 1991, to include, but not be limited to, estimated total payments made to the end of the previous biennial period, estimated payments for the present biennium, and estimated payments for the ensuing biennium.

(2) The budget document or documents shall include detailed estimates of all anticipated revenues applicable to proposed operating or capital expenditures and shall also include all proposed operating or capital expenditures, including debt service required to be paid from any fund for bonds, including payment requirements on projects financed by other methods for the full term of the financing. The total of beginning undesignated fund balance and estimated revenues less working capital and other reserves shall equal or exceed the total of proposed applicable expenditures. The budget document or documents shall further include:

(a) Interest, amortization and redemption charges on the state debt;

(b) Payments of all reliefs, judgments, and claims;

(c) Other statutory expenditures;

(d) Expenditures incident to the operation for each agency;

(e) Revenues derived from agency operations;

(f) Expenditures and revenues shall be given in comparative form showing those incurred or received for the immediately past fiscal period and those anticipated for the current biennium and next ensuing biennium;

(g) A showing and explanation of amounts of general fund and other funds obligations for debt service for bonds and payment requirements for projects financed by other methods for the full term of the financing and any transfers of moneys that otherwise would have been available for appropriation;

(h) Common school expenditures on a fiscal-year basis;

(i) A showing, by agency, of the value and purpose of financing contracts for the lease/purchase or acquisition of personal or real property for the current and ensuing fiscal periods; and

(j) A showing and explanation of anticipated amounts of general fund and other funds required to amortize the unfunded actuarial accrued liability of the retirement system specified under chapter 41.45 RCW, and the contributions to meet such amortization, stated in total dollars and as a level percentage of total compensation.

(3) The governor's operating budget document or documents shall reflect the statewide priorities as required by RCW 43.88.090.

(4) The governor's operating budget document or documents shall identify activities that are not addressing the statewide priorities.

(5) A separate capital budget document or schedule shall be submitted that will contain the following:

(a) A statement setting forth a long-range facilities plan for the state that identifies and includes the highest priority needs within affordable spending levels;

(b) A capital program consisting of proposed capital projects for the next biennium and the two biennia succeeding the next biennium consistent with the long-range facilities plan. Inasmuch as is practical, and recognizing emergent needs, the capital program shall reflect the priorities, projects, and spending levels proposed in previously submitted capital budget documents in order to provide a reliable long-range planning tool for the legislature and state agencies;

(c) A capital plan consisting of proposed capital spending for at least four biennia succeeding the next biennium, including debt service required to be paid from any fund for bonds and payment requirements for projects financed by other methods for the full term of the financing;

(d) A strategic plan for reducing backlogs of maintenance and repair projects. The plan shall include a prioritized list of specific facility deficiencies and capital projects to address the deficiencies for each agency, cost estimates for each project, a schedule for completing projects over a reasonable period of time, and identification of normal maintenance activities to reduce future backlogs;

(e) A statement of the reason or purpose for a project;

(f) Verification that a project is consistent with the provisions set forth in chapter 36.70A RCW;

(g) A statement about the proposed site, size, and estimated life of the project, if applicable;

(h) Estimated total project cost;

(i) For major projects valued over five million dollars, estimated costs for the following project components: Acquisition, consultant services, construction, equipment, project management, and other costs included as part of the project. Project component costs shall be displayed in a standard format defined by the office of financial management to allow comparisons between projects;

(j) Estimated total project cost for each phase of the project as defined by the office of financial management;

(k) Estimated ensuing biennium costs;

(l) Estimated costs beyond the ensuing biennium, including debt service required to be paid from any fund for bonds and payment requirements for projects financed by other methods for the full term of the financing;

(m) Estimated construction start and completion dates;

(n) Source and type of funds proposed;

(o) Estimated ongoing operating budget costs or savings resulting from the project, including staffing and maintenance costs;

(p) For any capital appropriation requested for a state agency for the acquisition of land or the capital improvement of land in which the primary purpose of the acquisition or improvement is recreation or wildlife habitat conservation, the capital budget document, or an omnibus list of recreation and habitat acquisitions provided with the governor's budget document, shall identify the projected costs of operation and maintenance for at least the two biennia succeeding the next biennium. Omnibus lists of habitat and recreation land acquisitions shall include individual project cost estimates for operation and maintenance as well as a total for all state projects included in the list. The document shall identify the source of funds from which the operation and maintenance costs are proposed to be funded;

(q) Such other information bearing upon capital projects as the governor deems to be useful;

(r) Standard terms, including a standard and uniform definition of normal maintenance, for all capital projects;

(s) Such other information as the legislature may direct by law or concurrent resolution.

For purposes of this subsection (5), the term "capital project" shall be defined subsequent to the analysis, findings, and recommendations of a joint committee comprised of representatives from the house capital appropriations committee, senate ways and means committee, legislative evaluation and accountability program committee, and office of financial management.

(6) No change affecting the comparability of agency or program information relating to expenditures, revenues, workload, performance and personnel shall be made in the format of any budget document or report presented to the legislature under this section or RCW 43.88.160(1) relative to the format of the budget document or report which was presented to the previous regular session of the legislature during an odd-numbered year without prior legislative concurrence. Prior legislative concurrence shall consist of (a) a favorable majority vote on the proposal by the standing committees on ways and means of both houses if the legislature is in session or (b) a favorable majority vote on the proposal by members of the legislative evaluation and accountability program committee if the legislature is not in session.

Sec. 4. RCW 43.88.031 and 1991 c 284 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

A capital appropriation bill shall include the estimated (~~general fund~~) debt service costs from all funds associated with new capital appropriations contained in that bill for the biennia in which the appropriations occur and for the (~~succeeding two biennia~~) full term of the financing.

Sec. 5. RCW 39.42.070 and 2009 c 500 s 1 and 2009 c 479 s 24 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

~~((On or after the effective date of this act,))~~ The treasurer shall compute general state revenues for the (~~three~~) six fiscal years immediately preceding (~~such date~~) the effective date of this section and shall determine the arithmetic mean thereof. As soon as is practicable after the close of each fiscal year thereafter, he or she shall do likewise. In determining the amount of general state revenues, the treasurer shall include all state money received in the treasury from each and every source (~~whatsoever except~~), including moneys received from ad valorem taxes levied by the state and deposited in the general fund in each fiscal year, but not including: (1) Fees and other revenues derived from the ownership or operation of any undertaking, facility or project; (2) moneys received as gifts, grants, donations, aid or assistance or otherwise from the United States or any department, bureau or corporation thereof, or any person, firm or corporation, public or private, when the terms and conditions of such gift, grant, donation, aid or assistance require the application and disbursement of such moneys otherwise than for the general purposes of the state of Washington; (3) moneys to be paid into and received from retirement system funds, and performance bonds and deposits; (4) moneys to be paid into and received from trust funds (~~including but not limited to moneys received from taxes levied for specific purposes~~) and the several permanent funds of the state and the moneys derived therefrom but excluding bond redemption funds; (5) moneys received from taxes levied for specific purposes and required to be deposited for those purposes into specified funds or accounts other than the general fund; and (6) proceeds received from the sale of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness. Upon computing general state revenues, the treasurer shall make and file in the office of the secretary of state, a certificate containing the results of such computations. Copies of said certificate shall be sent to each elected official of the state and each member of the legislature. The treasurer shall, at the same time, advise each elected official and each member of the legislature of the current available debt capacity of the state, and may make estimated projections for one or more years concerning debt capacity.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 43.08 RCW to read as follows:

Each year, the treasurer shall cause to be published a debt affordability study that provides an assessment of the state's current debt portfolio and an analysis of the impact of future debt issuance. The study must include but is not limited to: An overview of the state's outstanding and projected debt; the structure of the debt portfolio; the state's credit rating and peer analysis; the cost of existing debt; sources of funds for interest, principal, or lease payments; and the purposes for which debt instruments and financing contracts are issued. To assist with this work, the office of the state treasurer shall convene and staff a work group to include staff from the fiscal committees of the state house of representatives and state senate and the office of financial management. A copy of the debt affordability study shall be provided to the governor, the legislature, and the state finance committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 43.88 RCW to read as follows:

To the extent any budget document or documents set forth a proposal to issue debt, the governor shall also cause to be prepared a bond authorization bill that reflects the amount and type of debt proposed to be issued. In preparing the bond authorization bill, the governor shall take into consideration the state finance committee's recommendations with respect to the level of debt to be issued and not exceed such recommendations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The following act or parts of acts are each repealed:

- (1) 2011 1st sp.s. c 46 s 1 (uncodified); and
- (2) 2011 1st sp.s. c 46 s 2 (uncodified)."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5843, by Senators Tom, Billig, Hill, Hobbs, Murray, Darneille, Kohl-Welles, Conway and Frockt

Strengthening the review of the legislature's goals for tax preferences by requiring that every new tax preference provide an expiration date and statement of legislative intent.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Tom moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Tom and Billig be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the tax code of Washington state includes tax preferences enacted to achieve a variety of policy goals for the public interest. To measure the effectiveness of a specific tax preference in meeting these goals, the legislature has adopted processes and accountability measures, including such requirements as a tax exemption study in RCW 43.06.400, review by the citizen commission for performance measurement of tax preferences in chapter 43.136 RCW, and taxpayer reporting in chapter 82.32 RCW. In order to make policy choices going forward regarding the best use of limited state resources, the legislature concludes that it is necessary to articulate the legislative intent for each tax preference and enact an expiration date where applicable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 43.135 RCW to read as follows:

(1) For any bill introduced in either the house of representatives or the senate that adopts a new tax preference or expands or extends an existing tax preference, the bill must include legislative intent provisions, establishing the policy goals and any related metrics that might provide context and/or data for purposes of reviewing the preference under chapter 43.136 RCW.

(2) For purposes of this section, "tax preference" has the same meaning as in RCW 43.136.021.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 82.02 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The legislature must include an expiration date on any applicable tax preference taking effect on or after July 1, 2013.

(2) "Applicable tax preference," for purposes of this section, means any tax preference except for those that clarify an ambiguity or correct a technical inconsistency."

Senators Tom and Billig spoke in favor of adoption of the striking amendment.

Senator Hasegawa spoke against adoption of the striking amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Tom and Billig to Senate Bill No. 5843.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate advanced to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5577, by Senator Carrell

Protecting public employees who act ethically and legally.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Carrell, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5577 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5577 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Carrell moved that the following amendment by Senators Carrell and Darneille be adopted:

On page 10, line 35, after "if the" strike "auditor" and insert "ethics board"

On page 13, line 33, after "if the" strike "auditor" and insert "ethics board"

On page 14, after line 28, insert the following:

"Sec. 14. RCW 42.40.020 and 2008 c 266 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, the terms defined in this section shall have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Auditor" means the office of the state auditor.

(2) "Employee" means any individual employed or holding office in any department or agency of state government.

(3) "Good faith" means the individual providing the information or report of improper governmental activity has a reasonable basis in fact for reporting or providing the information. An individual who knowingly provides or reports, or who reasonably ought to know he or she is providing or reporting, malicious, false, or frivolous information, or information that is provided with reckless disregard for the truth, or who knowingly omits relevant information is not acting in good faith.

(4) "Gross mismanagement" means the exercise of management responsibilities in a manner grossly deviating from the standard of care or competence that a reasonable person would observe in the same situation.

(5) "Gross waste of funds" means to spend or use funds or to allow funds to be used without valuable result in a manner grossly deviating from the standard of care or competence that a reasonable person would observe in the same situation.

(6)(a) "Improper governmental action" means any action by an employee undertaken in the performance of the employee's official duties:

(i) Which is a gross waste of public funds or resources as defined in this section;

(ii) Which is in violation of federal or state law or rule, if the violation is not merely technical or of a minimum nature;

(iii) Which is of substantial and specific danger to the public health or safety;

(iv) Which is gross mismanagement; or

(v) Which prevents the dissemination of scientific opinion or alters technical findings without scientifically valid justification, unless state law or a common law privilege prohibits disclosure. This provision is not meant to preclude the discretion of agency management to adopt a particular scientific opinion or technical finding from among differing opinions or technical findings to the exclusion of other scientific opinions or technical findings. Nothing in this subsection prevents or impairs a state agency's or public official's ability to manage its public resources or its employees in the performance of their official job duties. This subsection does not apply to de minimis, technical disagreements that are not relevant for otherwise improper governmental activity. Nothing in this provision requires the auditor to contract or consult with external experts regarding the scientific validity, invalidity, or justification of a finding or opinion.

(b) "Improper governmental action" does not include personnel actions, for which other remedies exist, including but not limited to employee grievances, complaints, appointments, promotions, transfers, assignments, reassignments, reinstatements, restorations, reemployments, performance evaluations, reductions in pay, dismissals, suspensions, demotions, violations of the state civil service law, alleged labor agreement violations, reprimands, claims of discriminatory treatment, or any action which may be taken under chapter 41.06 RCW, or other disciplinary action except as provided in RCW 42.40.030.

(7) "Public official" means the attorney general's designee or designees; the director, or equivalent thereof in the agency where the employee works; an appropriate number of individuals designated to receive whistleblower reports by the head of each agency; or the executive ethics board.

(8) "Substantial and specific danger" means a risk of serious injury, illness, peril, or loss, to which the exposure of the public is a gross deviation from the standard of care or competence which a reasonable person would observe in the same situation.

(9) "Use of official authority or influence" includes threatening, taking, directing others to take, recommending, processing, or approving any personnel action such as an appointment, promotion, transfer, assignment including but not limited to duties and office location, reassignment, reinstatement, restoration, reemployment, performance evaluation, determining any material changes in pay, provision of training or benefits, tolerance of a hostile work environment, or any adverse action under chapter 41.06 RCW, or other disciplinary action.

(10)(a) "Whistleblower" means:

(i) An employee who in good faith reports alleged improper governmental action to the auditor or other public official, as defined in subsection (7) of this section, initiating an investigation by the auditor under RCW 42.40.040; or

(ii) An employee who is perceived by the employer as reporting, whether they did or not, alleged improper governmental action to the auditor or other public official, as defined in subsection (7) of this section, initiating an investigation by the auditor under RCW 42.40.040.

(b) For purposes of the provisions of this chapter and chapter 49.60 RCW relating to reprisals and retaliatory action, the term "whistleblower" also means:

(i) An employee who in good faith provides information to the auditor or other public official, as defined in subsection (7) of this section, in connection with an investigation under RCW 42.40.040 and an employee who is believed to have reported asserted improper governmental action to the auditor or other public official, as defined in subsection (7) of this section, or to have provided information to the auditor or other public official, as defined in subsection (7) of this section, in connection with an investigation under RCW 42.40.040 but who, in fact, has not reported such action or provided such information; ~~((or))~~

(ii) An employee who in good faith identifies rules warranting review or provides information to the rules review committee, and an employee who is believed to have identified rules warranting review or provided information to the rules review committee but who, in fact, has not done so; or

(iii) Any person who is a state employee and who files an ethics complaint as defined in chapter 42.52 RCW."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Senators Carrell and Darneille spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Carrell and Darneille on page 10, line 35 to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5577.

The motion by Senator Carrell carried and the amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

There being no objection, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 3 of the title, after "42.52.420," strike "and 42.52.460" and insert "42.52.460, and 42.40.020"

MOTION

On motion of Senator Carrell, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5577 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators Carrell and Darneille spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5577.
