CHAPTER 1
[Initiative Measure No. 276]
DISCLOSURE--CAMPAIGN FINANCING--LOBBYING--RECORDS

AN ACT Relating to campaign financing, activities of lobbyists, access to public records, and financial affairs of elective officers and candidates; requiring disclosure of sources of campaign contributions, objects of campaign expenditures, and amounts thereof; limiting campaign expenditures; regulating the activities of lobbyists and requiring reports of their expenditures; restricting use of public funds to influence legislative decisions; governing access to public records; specifying the manner in which public agencies will maintain such records; requiring disclosure of elective officials' and candidates' financial interests and activities; establishing a public disclosure commission to administer the act; and providing civil penalties.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

Section 1. DECLARATION OF POLICY. It is hereby declared by the sovereign people to be the public policy of the State of Washington:

(1) That political campaign and lobbying contributions and expenditures be fully disclosed to the public and that secrecy is to be avoided.

(2) That the people have the right to expect from their elected representatives at all levels of government the utmost of integrity, honesty and fairness in their dealings.

(3) That the people shall be assured that the private financial dealings of their public officials, and of candidates for those offices, present no conflict of interest between the public trust and private interests.

(4) That our representative form of government is founded on a belief that those entrusted with the offices of government have nothing to fear from full public disclosure of their financial and business holdings, provided those officials deal honestly and fairly with the people.

(5) That public confidence in government at all levels is essential and must be promoted by all possible means.

(6) That public confidence in government at all levels can best be sustained by assuring the people of the impartiality and honesty of the officials in all public transactions and decisions.

(7) That the concept of attempting to increase financial participation of individual contributors in political campaigns is encouraged by the passage of the Revenue Act of 1971 by the Congress of the United States, and in consequence thereof, it is desirable to have implementing legislation at the state level.

(8) That the concepts of disclosure and limitation of election campaign financing are established by the passage of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 by the Congress of the United States, and in consequence thereof it is desirable to have implementing legislation at the state level.

(9) That small contributions by individual contributors are to be encouraged, and that not requiring the reporting of small contributions may tend to encourage such contributions.

(10) That the public's right to know of the financing of political campaigns and lobbying and the financial affairs of elected officials and candidates far outweighs any right that these matters remain secret and private.

(11) That, mindful of the right of individuals to privacy and of the desirability of the efficient administration of government, full access to information concerning the conduct of government on every level must be assured as a fundamental and necessary precondition to the sound governance of a free society.

The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to promote complete disclosure of all information respecting the financing of political campaigns and lobbying, and the financial affairs of elected officials and candidates, and full access to public records so as to assure continuing public confidence in fairness of elections and governmental processes, and so as to assure that the public interest will be fully protected.

Sec. 17. REPORTING BY LOBBYISTS. (1) Any lobbyist registered under section 15 of this act and any person who lobbies shall file with the commission periodic reports of his activities signed by both the lobbyist and the lobbyist's employers. The reports shall be made in the form and manner prescribed by the commission. They shall be due quarterly and shall be filed within thirty days after the end of the calendar quarter covered by the report. In addition to the quarterly reports, while the legislature is in session, any lobbyist who lobbies with respect to any legislation shall file interim weekly periodic reports for each week that the legislature is in session, which reports need be signed only by the lobbyist and which shall be filed on each Tuesday for the activities of the week ending on the preceding Saturday.

(2) Each such quarterly and weekly periodic report shall contain:

(a) The totals of all expenditures made or incurred by such lobbyist or on behalf of such lobbyist by the lobbyist's employer during the period covered by the report, which totals shall be segregated according to financial category, including food and refreshments; living accommodations; advertising; travels; telephone; contributions; office expenses, including rent and the salaries and wages paid for staff and secretarial assistance, or the proportionate amount thereof, paid or incurred for lobbying activities; and other expenses or services: PROVIDED HOWEVER, that unreimbursed personal living and travel expenses of a lobbyist not incurred directly or indirectly for any lobbying purpose need not be reported: and PROVIDED FURTHER, that the interim weekly reports of legislative lobbyists for the legislative session need show only the expenditures for food and refreshments; living accommodations; travel; contributions; and such other categories as the commission shall prescribe by rule. Each individual expenditure of more than fifteen dollars for entertainment shall be identified by date, place, amount, and the names of all persons in the group partaking in or of such entertainment including any portion thereof attributable to the lobbyist's participation therein but without allocating any portion of such expenditure to individual participants.

(b) In the case of a lobbyist employed by more than one employer, the proportionate amount of such expenditures in each category incurred on behalf of each of his employers.

(1) Every legislator and every committee of the Legislature shall file with the commission quarterly reports listing the names, addresses, and salaries of all persons employed by the person or committee making the filing for the purpose of aiding in the preparation and enactment of legislation during the preceding quarter. The reports shall be made in the form and the manner prescribed by the commission and shall be filed between the first and tenth days of each calendar quarter.

(2) Unless expressly authorized by law, no state funds shall be used directly or indirectly for lobbying: PROVIDED, this shall not prevent state officers or employees from communicating with a member of the legislature on the request of that member; or communicating to the legislature, through the proper official channels, requests for legislative action or appropriations which are deemed necessary for the efficient conduct of the public business or actually made in the proper performance of their official duties: PROVIDED FURTHER, that this subsection shall not apply to the legislative branch.

(3) Each state agency which expends state funds for lobbying pursuant to an express authorization by law or whose officers or employees communicate to members of the legislature on request of any member or communicate to the legislature requests for legislation or appropriations shall file with the commission quarterly statements providing the following information for the quarter just completed:

(c) In the case of any communications to a member of the legislature in response to a request from the member, the name of the member making the request and the nature and subject of the request.

The statements shall be in the form and the manner prescribed by the commission and shall be filed within thirty days after the end of the quarter covered by the report.

(4) The provisions of this section shall not relieve any state officer or any employee of a state agency from complying with other provisions of this act, if such officer or employee is not otherwise exempted.

Sec. 20. GRASS ROOTS LOBBYING CAMPAIGNS. (1) Any person who has made expenditures, not reported under other sections of this act, exceeding five hundred dollars in the aggregate within any three month period or exceeding two hundred dollars in the aggregate within any one month period in presenting a program addressed to the public, a substantial portion of which is intended, designed, or calculated primarily to influence legislation shall be required to register and report, as provided in subsection (2), as a sponsor of a grass roots lobbying campaign.

(2) Within thirty days after becoming a sponsor of a grass roots lobbying campaign, the sponsor shall register by filing with the commission a registration statement, in such detail as the commission shall prescribe, showing:

(a) The sponsor's name, address, and business or occupation, and, if the sponsor is not an individual, the names, addresses and titles of the controlling persons responsible for managing the sponsor's affairs.

(b) The names, addresses, and business or occupation of all persons organizing and managing the campaign, or hired to assist the campaign, including any public relations or advertising firms participating in the campaign, and the terms of compensation for all such persons.

(c) The names and addresses of all persons contributing to the campaign, and the amount contributed by each contributor.

(d) The purpose of the campaign, including the specific legislation, rules, rates, standards or proposals which are the subject matter of the campaign.

(3) Every sponsor who has registered under this section shall file monthly reports with the commission, which shall be filed by the tenth day of the month for the activity during the preceding month. The reports shall update the information contained in the sponsor's registration statement and in prior reports and shall show contributions received and totals of expenditures made during the month, in the same manner as provided for in the registration statement.

(4) When the campaign has been terminated, the sponsor shall file a notice of termination with the final monthly report, which notice shall state the totals of all contributions and expenditures made on behalf of the campaign, in the same manner as provided for in the registration statement.

Sec. 21. EMPLOYMENT OF LEGISLATORS, ATTACHES, OR STATE EMPLOYEES; STATEMENT, CONTENTS AND FILING. If any person registered or required to be registered as a lobbyist under this act employs, or if any employer of any person registered or required to be registered as a lobbyist under this act, employs any member of the legislature, or any member of any state board or commission, or any employee of the legislature, or any full-time state employee, if such new employee shall remain in the partial employ of the State or any agency thereof, then the new employer shall file a statement under oath with the commission setting out the nature of the employment, the name of the person to be paid thereunder, and the amount of pay or consideration to be paid thereunder. The statement shall be filed within fifteen days after the commencement of such employment.

Sec. 22. EMPLOYMENT OF UNREGISTERED PERSONS. It shall be a violation of this act for any person to employ for pay or any consideration, or pay or agree to pay any consideration to, a person to lobby who is not registered under this act except upon condition that such person register as a lobbyist as provided by this act, and such person does in fact so register as soon as practicable.

Sec. 23. DUTIES OF LOBBYISTS. A person required to register as a lobbyist under this act shall also have the following obligations, the violation of which shall constitute cause for revocation of his registration, and may subject such person, and such person's employer, if such employer aids, abets, ratifies or confirms any such act, to other civil liabilities, as provided by this act:

(1) Such persons shall obtain and preserve all accounts, bills, receipts, books, papers, and documents necessary to substantiate the financial reports required to be made under this act for a period of at least six years from the date of the filing of the statement containing such items, which accounts, bills, receipts, books, papers and documents shall be made available for inspection by the commission at any time: PROVIDED, that if a lobbyist is required under the terms of his employment contract to turn any records over to his employer, responsibility for the preservation of such records under this subsection shall rest with such employer.

(2) In addition, a person required to register as a lobbyist shall not:

(a) Engage in any activity as a lobbyist before registering as such;

(b) Knowingly deceive or attempt to deceive any legislator as to any fact pertaining to any pending or proposed legislation;

(e) Exercise any undue influence, extortion, or unlawful retaliation upon any legislator by reason of such legislator's position with respect to, or his vote upon, any pending or proposed legislation.

CHAPTER III. REPORTING OF ELECTED OFFICIALS FINANCIAL AFFAIRS

the consideration given or performed in exchange for such compensation; and

(h) A list, including legal descriptions, of all real property in the State of Washington, the assessed valuation of which exceeds two thousand five hundred dollars in which any direct financial interest was acquired during the preceding calendar year, and a statement of the amount and nature of the financial interest and of the consideration given in exchange for such interest; and

(i) A list, including legal descriptions, of all real property in the State of Washington, the assessed valuation of which exceeds two thousand five hundred dollars in which any direct financial interest was divested during the preceding calendar year, and a statement of the amount and nature of the consideration received in exchange for such interest, and the name and address of the person furnishing such consideration; and

(j) A list, including legal descriptions, of all real property in the State of Washington, the assessed valuation of which exceeds two thousand five hundred dollars in which a direct financial interest was held: PROVIDED, that if a description of such property has been included in a report previously filed, such property may be listed, for purposes of this provision, by reference to such previously filed report;

(k) A list, including legal descriptions, of all real property in the State of Washington, the assessed valuation of which exceeds five thousand dollars, in which a corporation, partnership, firm, enterprise or other entity had a direct financial interest, in which corporation, partnership, firm or enterprise a ten percent or greater ownership interest was held; and

(1) Such other information as the commission may deem necessary in order to properly carry out the purposes and policies of this act, as the commission shall by rule prescribe.

An amount of stock may be reported by number of shares instead of by market value. No provision of this subsection shall be interpreted to prevent any person from filing more information or more detailed information than required.

(3) Elected officials and candidates reporting under this section shall not be required to file the statements required to be filed with the Secretary of State under R.C.W. 42.21.060.

CHAPTER IV. PUBLIC RECORDS.

Sec. 25. DUTY TO PUBLISH PROCEDURES. (1) Each state agency shall separately state and currently publish in the Washington Administrative Code and each local agency shall prominently display and make available for inspection and copying at the central office of such local agency, for guidance of the public:

(a) descriptions of its central and field organization and the established places at which, the employees from whom, and the methods whereby, the public may obtain information, make submittals or requests, or obtain copies of agency decisions;

(b) statements of the general course and method by which its operations are channeled and determined, including the nature and requirements of all formal and informal procedures available;

(c) rules of procedure;

(d) substantive rules of general applicability adopted as authorized by law, and statements of general policy or interpretations of general applicability formulated and adopted by the agency; and

(e) each amendment or revision to, or repeal of any of the foregoing.

(2) Except to the extent that he has actual and timely notice of the terms thereof, a person may not in any manner be required to resort to, or be adversely affected by, a matter required to be published or displayed and not so published or displayed.

Sec. 26. DOCUMENTS AND INDEXES TO BE MADE PUBLIC. (1) Each agency, in accordance with published rules, shall make available for public inspection and copying all public records. To the extent required to prevent an unreasonable invasion of personal privacy, an agency shall delete identifying details when it makes available or publishes any public record; however, in each case, the justification for the deletion shall be explained fully in writing.

(2) Each agency shall maintain and make available for public inspection and copying a current index providing identifying information as to the following records issued, adopted, or promulgated after June 30, 1972:

(a) final opinions, including concurring and dissenting opinions, as well as orders, made in the adjudication of cases;

(b) those statements of policy and interpretations of policy, statute and the Constitution which have been adopted by the agency;

(c) administrative staff manuals and instructions to staff that affect a member of the public;

(d) planning policies and goals, and interim and final planning decisions;

(e) factual staff reports and studies, factual consultant's reports and studies, scientific reports and studies, and any other factual information derived from tests, studies, reports or surveys, whether conducted by public employees or others; and

(f) correspondence, and materials referred to therein, by and with the agency relating to any regulatory, supervisory or enforcement responsibilities of the agency, whereby the agency determines, or opines upon, or is asked to determine or opine upon, the rights of the state, the public, a subdivision of state government, or of any private party.

(3) An agency need not maintain such an index, if to do so would be unduly burdensome, but it shall in that event:

(a) issue and publish a formal order specifying the reasons why and the extent to which compliance would unduly burden or interfere with agency operations; and

(b) make available for public inspection and copying all indexes maintained for agency use.

(4) A public record may be relied on, used, or cited as precedent by an agency against a party other than an agency and it may be invoked by the agency for any other purpose only if--

(a) it has been indexed in an index available to the public; or

(b) parties affected have timely notice (actual or constructive) of the terms thereof.

(5) This act shall not be construed as giving authority to any agency to give, sell or provide access to lists of individuals requested for commercial purposes, and agencies shall not do so unless specifically authorized or directed by law.

Sec. 27. FACILITIES FOR COPYING. Public records shall be available to any person for inspection and copying, and agencies shall, upon request for identifiable records, make them promptly available to any person. Agency facilities shall be made available to any person for the copying of public records except when and to the extent that this would unreasonably disrupt the operations of the agency.

Sec. 28. TIMES FOR INSPECTION AND COPYING. Public records shall be available for inspection and copying during the customary office hours of the agency: PROVIDED, that if the agency does not have customary office hours of at least thirty hours per week, the public records shall be available from nine o'clock a.m. to noon and from one o'clock p.m. to four o'clock p.m. Monday through Friday, excluding legal holidays, unless the person making the request and the agency or its representatives agree on a different time.

Sec. 29. PROTECTION OF PUBLIC RECORDS. Agencies shall adopt and enforce reasonable rules and regulations, consonant with the intent of this act to provide full public access to official records, to protect public records from damage or disorganization, and to prevent excessive interference with other essential functions of the agency. Such rules and regulations shall provide for the fullest assistance to inquirers and the most timely possible action on requests for information.

Sec. 30. CHARGES FOR COPYING. No fee shall be charged for the inspection of public records. Agencies may impose a reasonable charge for providing copies of public records and for the use by any person of agency equipment to copy public records, which charges shall not exceed the amount necessary to reimburse the agency for its actual costs incident to such copying.

Sec. 31. CERTAIN PERSONAL AND OTHER RECORDS EXEMPT. (1) The following shall be exempt from public inspection and copying:

(a) Personal information in any files maintained for students in public schools, patients or clients of public institutions or public health agencies, welfare recipients, prisoners, probationers or parolees.

(b) Personal information in files maintained for employees, appointees or elected officials of any public agency to the extent that disclosure would violate their right to privacy.

(c) Information required of any taxpayer in connection with the assessment or collection of any tax if the disclosure of the information to other persons would violate the taxpayer's right to privacy or would result in unfair competitive disadvantage to such taxpayer.

(d) Specific intelligence information and specific investigative files compiled by investigative, law enforcement and penology agencies, and state agencies vested with the responsibility to discipline members of any profession, the non-disclosure of which is essential to effective law enforcement or for the protection of any person's right to privacy.

(e) Information revealing the identity of persons who file complaints with investigative, law enforcement or penology agencies, except as the complainant may authorize.

(f) Test questions, scoring keys, and other examination data used to administer a license, employment or academic examination.

(g) Except as provided by chap. 8.26 R.C.W., the contents of real estate appraisals, made for or by any agency relative to the acquisition of property, until the project is abandoned or until such time as all of the property has been acquired, but in no event shall disclosure be denied for more than three years after the appraisal.

(h) Valuable formulae, designs, drawings and research data obtained by any agency within five years of the request for disclosure when disclosure would produce private gain and public loss.

(i) Preliminary drafts, notes, recommendations, and intraagency memorandums in which opinions are expressed or policies formulated or recommended except that a specific record shall not be exempt when publicly cited by an agency in connection with any agency action.

(j) Records which are relevant to a controversy to which an agency is a party but which records would not be available to another party under the rules of pretrial discovery for causes pending in the superior courts.

(2) The exemptions of this section shall be inapplicable to the extent that information, the disclosure of which would violate personal privacy or vital governmental interests, can be deleted from the specific records sought. No exemption shall be construed to permit the nondisclosure of statistical information not descriptive of any readily identifiable person or persons.

(3) Inspection or copying of any specific records, exempt under the provisions of this section, may be permitted if the superior court in the county in which the record is maintained finds, after a hearing with notice thereof to every person in interest and the agency, that the exemption of such records, is clearly unnecessary to protect any individual's right of privacy or any vital governmental function.

(4) Agency responses refusing, in whole or in part, inspection of any record shall include a statement of the specific exemption authorizing the withholding of the record (or part) and a brief explanation of how the exemption applies to the record withheld.

Sec. 32. PROMPT RESPONSES REQUIRED. Responses to requests for records shall be made promptly by agencies. Denials of requests must be accompanied by a written statement of the specific reasons therefor. Agencies shall establish mechanisms for the most prompt possible review of decisions denying inspection, and such review shall be deemed completed at the end of the second business day following the denial of inspection and shall constitute final agency action for the purposes of judicial review.

Sec. 33. COURT PROTECTION OF RECORDS. The examination of any specific record may be enjoined if, upon motion and affidavit, the superior court for the county in which the movant resides or in which the record is maintained, finds that such examination would clearly not be in the public interest and would substantially and irreparably damage any person, or would substantially and irreparably damage vital governmental functions.

Sec. 34. JUDICIAL REVIEW OF AGENCY ACTIONS. (1) Upon the motion of any person having been denied an opportunity to inspect or copy a public record by an agency, the superior court in the county in which a record is maintained may require the responsible agency to show cause why it has refused to allow inspection or copying of a specific record or class of records. The burden of proof shall be on the agency to establish that refusal to permit public inspection and copying is required.

(2) Judicial review of all agency actions taken or challenged under Sections 25 through 32 of this act shall be de novo. Courts shall take into account the policy of this act that free and open examination of public records is in the public interest, even though such examination may cause inconvenience or embarrassment to public officials or others. Courts may examine any record in camera in any proceeding brought under this section.

(3) Any person who prevails against an agency in any action in the courts seeking the right to inspect or copy any public record shall be awarded all costs, including reasonable attorney fees, incurred in connection with such legal action. In addition, it shall be within the discretion of the court to award such person an amount not to exceed twenty-five dollars for each day that he was denied the right to inspect or copy said public record.

CHAPTER V. ADMINISTRATION AND ENFORCEMENT

Sec. 35. COMMISSION--ESTABLISHED--MEMBERSHIP. There is hereby established a "Public Disclosure Commission" which shall be composed of five members who shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate. All appointees shall be persons of the highest integrity and qualifications. No more than three members shall have an identification with the same political party. The original members shall be appointed within sixty days after the effective date of this act. The term of each member shall be five years except that the original five members shall serve initial terms of one, two, three, four and five years, respectively, as designated by the governor. No member of the commission, during his tenure, shall (1) hold or campaign for elective office; (2) be an officer of any political party or political committee; (3) permit his name to be used, or make contributions, in support of or in opposition to any candidate or proposition; (4) participate in any way in any election campaign; or (5) lobby or employ or assist a lobbyist. No member shall be eligible for appointment to more than one full term. A vacancy on the commission shall be filled within thirty days of the vacancy by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and the appointee shall serve for the remaining term of his predecessor. A vacancy shall not impair the powers of the remaining members to exercise all of the powers of the commission. Three members of the commission shall constitute a quorum. The commission shall elect its own chairman and adopt its own rules of procedure in the manner provided in chap. 34.04 R.C.W. Any member of the commission may be removed by the governor, but only upon grounds of neglect of duty or misconduct in office.

Members shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for necessary traveling and lodging expenses actually incurred while engaged in the business of the commission as provided in chap. 43.03 R.C.W.

Sec. 36. COMMISSION--DUTIES. The commission shall:

(1) Develop and provide forms for the reports and statements required to be made under this act:

(2) Prepare and publish a manual setting forth recommended uniform methods of bookkeeping and reporting for use by persons required to make reports and statements under this act;

(3) Compile and maintain a current list of all filed reports and statements;

(4) Investigate whether properly completed statements and reports have been filed within the times required by this act;

(5) Upon complaint or upon its own motion, investigate and report apparent violations of this act to the appropriate law enforcement authorities;

(6) Prepare and publish an annual report to the governor as to the effectiveness of this act and its enforcement by appropriate law enforcement authorities; and

(7) Enforce this act according to the powers granted it by law.

Sec. 37. COMMISSION--ADDITIONAL POWERS. The commission is empowered to:

(1) Adopt, promulgate, amend and rescind suitable administrative rules and regulations to carry out the policies and purposes of this act;

(2) Prepare and publish such reports and technical studies as in its judgment will tend to promote the purposes of this act, including reports and statistics concerning campaign financing, lobbying, financial interests of elected officials, and enforcement of this act;

(3) Make from time to time, on its own motion, audits and field investigations;

(4) Make public the fact that an alleged or apparent violation has occurred and the nature thereof;

(5) Administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memorandums or other records which the commission deems relevant or material for the purpose of any investigation authorized under this act, or any other proceeding under this act;

(6) Adopt and promulgate a Code of Fair Campaign Practices;

(7) Relieve, by published regulation of general applicability, candidates or political committees of obligations to comply with the provisions of this act relating to election campaigns, if they have not received contributions nor made expenditures in connection with any election campaign of more than one thousand dollars; and

(8) Enact regulations prescribing reasonable requirements for keeping accounts of and reporting on a quarterly basis costs incurred by state agencies, counties, cities and other municipalities and political subdivisions in preparing, publishing and distributing legislative information. The term "legislative information," for the purposes of this subsection, means books, pamphlets, reports and other materials prepared, published or distributed at substantial cost, a substantial purpose of which is to influence the passage or defeat of any legislation. The state auditor in his regular examination of each agency under chap. 43.09 R.C.W. shall review such regulations, accounts and reports and make appropriate findings, comments and recommendations in his examination reports concerning those agencies.

(9) The commission, after hearing, by order may suspend or modify any of the reporting requirements hereunder in a particular case if it finds that literal application of this act works a manifestly unreasonable hardship and if it also finds that such suspension or modification will not frustrate the purposes of the act. Any such suspension or modification shall be only to the extent necessary to substantially relieve the hardship. The commission shall act to suspend or modify any reporting requirements only if it determines that facts exist that are clear and convincing proof of the findings required hereunder. Any citizen shall have standing to bring an action in Thurston County Superior Court to contest the propriety of any order entered hereunder within one year from the date of the entry of such order.

Sec. 38. SECRETARY OF STATE, ATTORNEY GENERAL--DUTIES. (1) The secretary of state, through his office, shall perform such ministerial functions as may be necessary to enable the commission to carry out its responsibilities under this act. The office of the secretary of state shall be designated as the place where the public may file papers or correspond with the commission and receive any form or instruction from the commission.

(2) The attorney general, through his office, shall supply such assistance as the commission may require in order to carry out its responsibilities under this act. The commission may employ attorneys who are neither the attorney general nor an assistant attorney general to carry out any function of the attorney general prescribed in this section.

Sec. 39. CIVIL REMEDIES AND SANCTIONS. (1) One or more of the following civil remedies and sanctions may be imposed by the court order in addition to any other remedies provided by law:

(a) If the court finds that the violation of any provision of this act by any candidate or political committee probably affected the outcome of any election, the result of said election may be held void and a special election held within sixty days of such finding. Any action to void an election shall be commenced within one year of the date of the election in question. It is intended that this remedy be imposed freely in all appropriate cases to protect the right of the electorate to an informed and knowledgeable vote.

(b) If any lobbyist or sponsor of any grass roots lobbying campaign violates any of the provisions of this act, his registration may be revoked or suspended and he may be enjoined from receiving compensation or making expenditures for lobbying: PROVIDED, however, that imposition of such sanction shall not excuse said lobbyist from filing statements and reports required by this act.

(c) Any person who violates any of the provisions of this act may be subject to a civil penalty of not more than ten thousand dollars for each such violation.

(d) Any person who fails to file a properly completed statement or report within the time required by this act may be subject to a civil penalty of ten dollars per day for each day each such delinquency continues.

(e) Any person who fails to report a contribution or expenditure may be subject to a civil penalty equivalent to the amount he failed to report.

(f) The court may enjoin any person to prevent the doing of any act herein prohibited, or to compel the performance of any act required herein.

Sec. 40. ENFORCEMENT. (1) The attorney general and the prosecuting authorities of political subdivisions of this state may bring civil actions in the name of the state for any appropriate civil remedy, including but not limited to the special remedies provided in Section 39.

(2) The attorney general and the prosecuting authorities of political subdivisions of this state may investigate or cause to be investigated the activities of any person who there is reason to believe is or has been acting in violation of this act, and may require any such person or any other person reasonably believed to have information concerning the activities of such person to appear at a time and place designated in the county in which such person resides or is found, to give such information under oath and to produce all accounts, bills, receipts, books, papers, and documents which may be relevant or material to any investigation authorized under this act.

(3) When the attorney general or the prosecuting authority of any political subdivision of this state requires the attendance of any person to obtain such information or the production of the accounts, bills, receipts, books, papers, and documents which may be relevant or material to any investigation authorized under this act, he shall issue an order setting forth the time when and the place where attendance is required and shall cause the same to be delivered to or sent by registered mail to the person at least fourteen days before the date fixed for attendance. (5) In any action brought under this section, the court may award to the state all costs of investigation and trial, including a reasonable attorney's fee to be fixed by the court. If the violation is found to have been intentional, the amount of the judgment, which shall for this purpose include the costs, may be trebled as punitive damages. If damages or treble damages are awarded in such an action brought against a lobbyist, the judgment may be awarded against the lobbyist, and the lobbyist's employer or employers joined as state-wide general election shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November of each year: PROVIDED, That the state-wide general election held in odd-numbered years shall be limited to (1) city, town, and district general elections as provided for in RCW 29.13.020, or as otherwise provided by law; (2) the election of state and county officers for the remainder of any unexpired terms as provided for in Article II, section 15, Article III, section 10, and Article IV, sections 3 and 5 of the state Constitution; (3) the election of county officers in any county governed by a charter containing provisions calling for general county elections at this time; and (4) the approval or rejection of state measures, including proposed constitutional amendments, matters pertaining to any proposed constitutional convention, initiative measures and referendum measures proposed by the electorate, referendum bills, and any other matter provided by the legislature for submission to electorate: PROVIDED FURTHER, That this section shall not be construed as fixing the time for holding primary elections, or elections for the recall of county, city, town, or district officers; nor special elections to fill vacancies ((in any state office, or)) in the membership of either branch of the congress of the United States: PROVIDED ((FURTHER)) HOWEVER, That the board of county commissioners may, if they deem an emergency to exist, call a special county election at any time by presenting a resolution to the county auditor at least forty-five days prior to the proposed election date. Such county special election shall be noticed and conducted in the manner provided by law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 9, Laws of 1965 and to chapter 29.13 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The county auditor shall apportion the state's share of such expenses when prorating election costs as provided under RCW 29.04.020 and 29.13.045 and shall file such expense claims with the state auditor. The state auditor shall compile such claims for presentation to the next succeeding legislature in the same manner as other legislative relief claims.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is added to chapter 9, Laws of 1965 and to chapter 29.13 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(2) No more than two candidates have filed a declaration of candidacy for a single non-partisan office to be filled.

In either event, the officer with whom the declarations of candidacy were filed shall immediately notify all candidates concerned and the names of the candidates that would have been printed upon the September primary ballot, but for the provisions of this section, shall be printed as nominees for the positions sought upon the November general election ballot.

"Election" used alone means a general election except where the context indicates that a special election is meant or included. "Election" used without qualification never means a primary. ("Election" does not include a municipal election.)

In addition to the above, for the purpose of this chapter, the term "primary" means the ((state)) primary elections held on the third Tuesday in September of ((the even-numbered)) each year. The term "election" means the ((state)) general elections held on the first Tuesday following the first Monday in November of ((the even-numbered and the odd-numbered years: PROVIDED; HOWEVER; That the absentee ballots for service voters of such odd-numbered year election shall be restricted to state measures being submitted for approval or rejection)) each year.

For the purpose of this paragraph, a notice mailed at least seventy-two hours prior to the date of the meeting shall constitute sufficient notice.

At its organization meeting, the county central committee shall elect a chairman and vice chairman who must be of opposite sexes; it shall also elect a state committeeman and a state committeewoman.

Sec. 6. Section 29.42.040, chapter 9, Laws of 1965 and RCW 29.42.040 are each amended to read as follows:

Any member of a major political party who is a registered voter in the precinct may upon payment of a fee of one dollar file his declaration of candidacy with the county auditor for the office of precinct committeeman of his party in that precinct. When elected he shall serve so long as he remains an eligible voter in that precinct and until his successor has been elected at the next ensuing state general election in the even-numbered year.

Sec. 7. Section 29.42.050, chapter 9, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 2, chapter 32, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 29.42.050 are each amended to read as follows:

The statutory requirements for filing as a candidate at the primaries shall apply to candidates for precinct committeeman except that the filing period for this office alone shall be extended to and include the Friday immediately following the last day for political parties to fill vacancies in the ticket as provided by RCW 29.18.150, and the office shall not be voted upon at the primaries, but the names of all candidates must appear under the proper party and office designations on the ballot for the general November election for each even-numbered year and the one receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected: PROVIDED, That to be declared elected, a candidate must receive at least ten percent of the number of votes cast for the candidate of his party receiving the greatest number of votes in his precinct. Any person elected to the office of precinct committeeman who has not filed a declaration of candidacy shall pay the fee of one dollar to the county auditor for a certificate of election. The term of office of precinct committeeman shall be for two years, commencing upon completion of the official canvass of votes by the county canvassing board of election returns. Should any vacancy occur in this office by reason of death, resignation, or disqualification of the incumbent, or because of failure to elect, the respective county chairman of the county central committee shall be empowered to fill such vacancy by appointment: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That in legislative districts having a majority of its precincts in a class AA county, such appointment shall be made only upon the recommendation of the legislative district chairman: PROVIDED, That the person so appointed shall have the same qualifications as candidates when filing for election to such office for such precinct:

PROVIDED FURTHER, That when a vacancy in the office of precinct committeeman exists because of failure to elect at a state general election, such vacancy shall not be filled until after the organization meeting of the county central committee and the new county chairman selected as provided by RCW 29.42.030.

Sec. 8. Section 29.80.010, chapter 9, Laws of 1965 and RCW 29.80.010 are each amended to read as follows:

((There shall be mailed by the secretary of state to all voters of the state)) As soon as possible prior to each state general election at which federal or state officials are to be elected, the secretary of state shall publish and mail to each individual place of residence of the state a candidates' pamphlet containing photographs and campaign statements of eligible nominees who desire to participate therein; PROVIDED, That in odd-numbered years no candidate's pamphlet shall be published.

(1) A person is eligible to petition for an occupational driver's license if he has been convicted of an offense relating to motor vehicles, other than negligent homicide or manslaughter, for which suspension or revocation of his driver's license is mandatory: PROVIDED, That notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 46.20.270, if such person declares at the time of conviction his intent to so petition, the court may stay the effect of such mandatory suspension or revocation for a period not to exceed thirty days to allow the making of such petition.

(2) A petitioner for an occupational driver's license is eligible to receive such license only if:

(a) Within one year immediately preceeding the present conviction he has not been convicted of any offense relating to motor vehicles for which suspension or revocation of a driver's license is mandatory; and

(b) He is engaged in an occupation or trade which makes it essential that he operate a motor vehicle; and

(5) The director shall cancel an occupational driver's license upon receipt of notice that the holder thereof has been convicted of operating a motor vehicle in violation of its restrictions, or of an offense which pursuant to chapter 46.20 RCW would warrant suspension or revocation of a regular driver's license. CHAPTER 17

UNIFORM MANAGEMENT OF INSTITUTIONAL FUNDS

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. DEFINITIONS. As used in this chapter:

(1) "Institution" means an incorporated or unincorporated organization organized and operated exclusively for educational, religious, charitable, or other eleemosynary purposes or a governmental organization to the extent that it holds funds exclusively for any of these purposes;

(2) "Institutional fund" means a fund held by an institution for its exclusive use, benefit or purposes, but does not include (a) a fund held for an institution by a trustee which is not an institution, or (b) a fund in which a beneficiary which is not an institution has an interest other than possible rights which could arise upon violation or failure of the purposes of the fund;

(3) "Endowment fund" means an institutional fund, or any part thereof, which is not wholly expendable by the institution on a current basis under the terms of the applicable gift instrument;

(4) "Governing board" means the body responsible for the management of an institution or of an institutional fund;

(5) "Historic dollar value" means the fair value in dollars of an endowment fund at the time it first became an endowment fund, plus the fair value in dollars of each subsequent donation to the fund at the time it is made, plus the fair value in dollars of each accumulation made pursuant to a direction in the applicable gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The determination of historic dollar value made in good faith by the institution is conclusive;

(6) "Gift instrument" means a will, deed, grant, conveyance, agreement, memorandum, writing, or other governing document (including the terms of any institutional solicitations from which an institutional fund resulted) under which property is transferred to or held by an institution as an institutional fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. APPROPRIATION OF APPRECIATION. The governing board may appropriate for expenditure for the uses and purposes for which an endowment fund is established so much of the net appreciation, realized and unrealized, in the fair value of the assets of an endowment fund over the historic dollar value of the fund as is prudent under the standard established by section 5 of this act. This section does not limit the authority of the governing board to expend funds as permitted under other law, the terms of the applicable gift instrument, or the character of an institution.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. INVESTMENT AUTHORITY. In addition to an investment otherwise authorized by law or by the applicable gift instrument, and without restriction to investments a fiduciary is authorized to make, the governing board (subject to any specific limitations set forth in the applicable gift instrument or in applicable law other than law relating to investments a fiduciary is authorized to make) may:

(1) Invest and reinvest an institutional fund in any real or personal property deemed advisable by the governing board, whether or not it produces a current return, including mortgages, stocks and bonds, debentures, and other securities of profit or nonprofit corporations, shares in or obligations of associations, partnerships, or individuals, and obligations of any government or subdivision or instrumentality thereof;

(2) Retain property contributed by a donor to an institutional fund for as long as the governing board deems advisable;

(3) Include all or any part of an institutional fund in any pooled or common fund maintained by the institution; and

(4) Invest all or any part of an institutional fund in any other pooled or common fund available for investment, including shares or interests in regulated investment companies, mutual funds, common trust funds, investment partnerships, real estate investment trusts, or similar organizations in which funds are commingled and investment determinations are made by persons other than the governing board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. DELEGATION OF INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT. Except as otherwise provided by the applicable gift instrument or by applicable law relating to governmental institutions or funds, the governing board may:

(1) Delegate to its committees, to officers or employees of the institution or the fund, or to agents (including investment counsel) the authority to act in place of the board in investment and reinvestment of institutional funds;

(2) Contract with independent investment advisors, investment counsel or managers, banks, or trust companies, so to act; and

(3) Authorize the payment of compensation for investment advisory or management services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. STANDARD OF CONDUCT. In the administration of the powers to appropriate appreciation, to make and retain investments, and to delegate investment management of institutional funds, members of a governing board shall exercise ordinary business care and prudence under the facts and circumstances prevailing at the time of the action or decision, and in so doing they shall consider long and short term needs of the institution in carrying out its educational, religious, charitable, or other eleemosynary purposes, its present and anticipated financial requirements, expected total return on its investments, price level trends, and general economic conditions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. RELEASE OF RESTRICTIONS ON USE OR INVESTMENTS. (1) A restriction on the use or investment of an institutional fund imposed by the applicable gift instrument may be released, entirely or in part, by the governing board with the written consent of the donor.

(2) If consent of the donor cannot be obtained by reason of the death, disability or unavailability, or impossibility of identification of the donor, upon application of the governing board, a restriction on the use or investment of an institutional fund imposed by the applicable gift instrument may be released, entirely or in part, by order of the superior court after reasonable notice to the attorney general and an opportunity for him to be heard, and upon a finding that the restriction on the use or investment of the fund is obsolete, inappropriate or impracticable. A release under this subsection may not change an endowment fund to a fund which is not an endowment fund.

(3) A release under this section may not allow a fund to be used for purposes other than the educational, religious, charitable, or other eleemosynary purposes of the institution affected.

(4) The provisions of this section do not limit the application of the doctrine of cy pres.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. SEVERABILITY. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. UNIFORMITY OF APPLICATION AND CONSTRUCTION. This chapter shall be applied and construed to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law with respect to the subject of this chapter among those states which enact it.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. SHORT TITLE. This chapter may be cited as the "Uniform Management of Institutional Funds Act".

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Section headings as used in this chapter do not constitute any part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Sections 1 through 11 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 24 RCW.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

Section 1. Section 10, chapter 152, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and RCW 43.43.745 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It shall be the duty of the sheriff or director of public safety of every county, of the chief of police of each city or town, or of every chief officer of other law enforcement agencies operating within this state, to record the fingerprints of all persons held in or remanded to their custody when convicted of any crime as provided for in RCW 43.43.735 for which the penalty of imprisonment might be imposed and to disseminate and file such fingerprints in the same manner as those recorded upon arrest pursuant to RCW 43.43.735 and 43.43.740.

(2) Every time the secretary authorizes a furlough as provided for in ((REW 72.66.020)) section 3 of this 1973 amendatory act the department of social and health services shall notify, forty-eight hours prior to the beginning of such furlough, the section that the named prisoner has been granted a furlough, the place to which furloughed, and the dates and times during which the prisoner will be on furlough status. In the case of an emergency furlough the forty-eight hour time period shall not be required but notification shall be made as promptly as possible and before the prisoner is released on furlough. No city, town, county, or local law enforcement authority or other agency thereof may require that a convicted felon entering, sojourning, visiting, in transit, or residing in such city, town, county, or local area report or make himself known as a convicted felon or make application for and/or carry on his person a felon identification card or other registration document. Nothing herein shall, however, be construed to prevent any local law enforcement authority from recording the residency and other information concerning any convicted felon or other person convicted of a criminal offense when such information is obtained from a source other than from such requirement which source may include any officer or other agency or subdivision of the state.

INTERSTATE PAROLE AND PROBATION HEARING PROCEDURES

AN ACT Relating to interstate parole and probation hearing procedures; adding a new chapter to Title 9 RCW; and declaring an effective date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to Title 9 RCW a new chapter to read as set forth in sections 2 through 6 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Where supervision of a parolee or probationer is being administered by this state pursuant to RCW 9.95.270, the interstate compact for the out-of-state supervision of parolees and probationers, the appropriate interstate compact administrative authorities in this state shall notify the compact administrator of the sending state whenever, in their view, consideration should be given to retaking or reincarceration for a parole or probation violation. Prior to the giving of any such notification, a hearing at or near the site of the alleged violation shall be held in accordance with this act within a reasonable time, unless such hearing is waived by the parolee or probationer. The purpose of such hearing shall be to determine whether there is probable cause to believe that the parolee or probationer has committed a violation of a condition of parole or probation, and if so, whether or not there is reason to believe that the violation or violations are of such a nature that revocation of parole or probation should be considered. The appropriate officer or officers of this state shall, as soon as practicable following termination of any such hearing, report, through the interstate compact administrator's office, to the sending state, furnish a copy of the summary and digest of the hearing, and may, in addition, make recommendations, with reasons, regarding the disposition to be made of the parolee or probationer by the sending state. Pending any proceeding pursuant to this section, the appropriate officers of this state may take custody of and detain the parolee or probationer involved for a period not to exceed ten days prior to the hearing and, if it appears to the hearing officer or officers that retaking or reincarceration is likely to follow, for such reasonable period after the hearing or waiver as may be necessary to arrange for the retaking or reincarceration.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Any hearing pursuant to this chapter may be before the administrator of the interstate compact for the out-of-state supervision of parolees and probationers, a deputy of such administrator, or any other person or persons authorized pursuant to the laws of this state to hold preliminary hearings or hear cases involving alleged parole or probation violation, except that no hearing officer shall be the person or direct supervisor of the person making the allegation of violation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. With respect to any hearing pursuant to this chapter, the parolee or probationer:

(1) Shall have reasonable notice in writing of the nature and content of the allegations to be made, including notice that its purpose is to determine whether there is probable cause to believe that he has committed a violation of a condition of parole or probation, and if so, whether or not there is reason to believe that the violation or violations are of such a nature that revocation of parole or probation should be considered.

(2) Shall be permitted to consult with any persons whose assistance he reasonably desires, prior to the hearing.

(3) Shall have the right to confront and examine any persons who have made allegations or given evidence against him, unless the hearing officer determines, on a reasonable basis, that such confrontation would present a substantial present or subsequent danger of harm to such person or persons in which case a written general summary of the evidence, without disclosure of the identity of the witness, shall be provided to the parolee or probationer who shall have the opportunity to present evidence relevant to or controverting any information contained in the summary.

(4) May admit, deny or explain the violation alleged and may present proof, including affidavits and other evidence, in support of his contentions. A record of the proceedings shall be made, and preserved for no less than ninety days.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. In any case of alleged parole or probation violation by a person being supervised in another state pursuant to the interstate compact for the out-of-state supervision of parolees and probationers, any appropriate judicial or administrative officer or agency in another state is authorized to hold a hearing on the alleged violation, which hearing shall be substantially similar to the hearing required by section 4 of this act. Upon receipt of the record of a parole or probation violation hearing held in another state pursuant to a statute substantially similar to this act, such record shall have the same standing and effect as though the proceeding of which it is a record was had before the appropriate officer or officers of this state. Should any recommendations be contained in or accompany the record, such recommendations shall be considered by the appropriate officer or officers of this state in making disposition of the matter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. This act shall take effect on July 1, 1973.

Passed the Senate February 15, 1973.

Passed the House February 23, 1973.

Approved by the Governor March 6, 1973.

Section 1. Section 6, chapter 229, Laws of 1937 as last amended by section 6, chapter 30, Laws of 1971 and by section 8, chapter 81, Laws of 1971 and RCW 2.12.060 are each reenacted to read as follows:

For the purpose of providing moneys in said judges' retirement fund, concurrent monthly deductions from judges' salaries and portions thereof payable from the state treasury and withdrawals from the general fund of the state treasury shall be made as follows: Six and one-half percent shall be deducted from the monthly salary of each justice of the supreme court, six and one-half percent shall be deducted from the monthly salary of each judge of the court of appeals, and six and one-half percent of the total salaries of each judge of the superior court shall be deducted from that portion of the salary of such justices or judges payable from the state treasury; and a sum equal to six and one-half percent of the combined salaries of the justices of the supreme court, the judges of the court of appeals, and the judges of the superior court shall be withdrawn from the general fund of the state treasury. NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This 1973 act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

RCW 2.12.060 was amended twice during the 1971 session, each without reference to the other.

1971 c 30 was enacted primarily to include the court of appeals within the judges' retirement system provided for in chapter 2.12 RCW.

1971 c 81 was enacted primarily to change the names of "judges" of the supreme court to "justices" of the supreme court. Although these amendments do not appear to be in conflict, a possible conflict occurred in the wording used to provide for deduction from the salaries of judges of the court of appeals for the retirement fund.

1971 c 30 sec. 6 uses ", six and one-half percent shall be deducted from the monthly salary of each judge of the court of appeals,".

1971 c 81 sec. 8 uses ", six and one-half percent of the total salaries of each judge of the court of appeals,".

The administrator for the courts has advised that administratively the language contained in 1971 c 30 sec. 6 is followed by his office.

It is the purpose of this bill to resolve the possible conflict by reenacting the language contained in 1971 c 30 sec. 6.

Passed the House February 8, 1973.

Passed the Senate February 22, 1973.

Approved by the Governor March 6, 1973.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

RCW 36.18.020 [pertaining to fees of clerks of the superior courts] was amended twice during the 1972 extraordinary session, each without reference to the other.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 18.53 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The legislature finds and declares that the costs of health care to the people are rising disproportionately to other costs and that there is a paramount concern that the right of the people to obtain access to health care in all its facets is being impaired thereby. For this reason, the reliance on the mechanism of insurance, whether profit or nonprofit, is the only effective manner in which the large majority of the people can attain access to quality health care, and it is therefore declared to be in the public interest that health care insurance be regulated to assure that all the people have access to health care rendered by whatever means, and to the greatest extent possible. This 1973 act, prohibiting discrimination against the legally recognized and licensed profession of optometrists, is necessary in the interest of the public health, welfare and safety.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 18.53 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the state and its political subdivisions shall accept the services of licensed optometrists for any service covered by their licenses with relation to any person receiving benefits, salaries, wages, or any other type of compensation from the state, its agencies or subdivisions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is added to chapter 18.53 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The state and its political subdivisions, and all officials, agents, employees, or representatives thereof, are prohibited from in any way discriminating against licensed optometrists in performing and receiving compensation for services covered by their licenses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is added to chapter 18.53 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the state and its political subdivisions, and all officials, agents, employees, or representatives thereof, are prohibited from entering into any agreement or contract with any individual, group, association, or corporation which in any way, directly or indirectly, discriminates against licensed optometrists in performing and receiving compensation for services covered by their licenses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. There is added to chapter 18.53 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, for the purpose of sections 1 through 4 and 6 of this 1973 act it is immaterial whether the cost of any policy, plan, agreement, or contract be deemed additional compensation for services, or otherwise.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. There is added to chapter 18.53 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Sections 1 through 5 of this 1973 act shall apply to all agreements, renewals, or contracts issued on or after the effective date of this 1973 act.

ex. sess. and RCW 28A.58.515 and declaring an emergency.
BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

Section 1. Section 28A.58.450, chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as amended by section 13, chapter 34, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.58.450 are each amended to read as follows:

Every board of directors determining that there is probable cause or causes for a teacher, principal, supervisor, superintendent, or other certificated employee, holding a position as such with the school district, hereinafter referred to as "employee", to be discharged or otherwise adversely affected in his contract status, shall notify such employee in writing of its decision, which notification shall specify the probable cause or causes for such action. Such notices shall be served upon that employee personally, or by certified or registered mail, or by leaving a copy of the notice at the house of his or her usual abode with some person of suitable age and discretion then resident therein. Every such employee so notified, at his or her request made in writing and filed with the chairman of the board or secretary of the board of directors of the district within ten days after receiving such notice, shall be granted opportunity for hearing ((before the board of directors of the district,)) to determine whether or not there is sufficient cause or causes for his or her discharge or other adverse action against his contract status. In the request for hearing, the employee may request either an open or closed hearing. The board upon receipt of such request shall call the hearing to be held within ten days following the receipt of such request, and at least three days prior to the date fixed for the hearing shall notify such employee in writing of the date, time and place of the hearing. The hearing shall be open or closed as requested by the employee, but if the employee fails to make such a request, the board or its hearing officer may determine whether the hearing shall be open or closed. The board may employ as a hearing officer any person not currently employed by the district to conduct on its behalf any hearing required by this section, who shall transmit to the board a record of the proceedings together with his recommended findings of fact and conclusions of law, and an advisory recommended decision for the board's final disposition. The board or its hearing officer may reasonably regulate the conduct of the hearing. The employee may engage such counsel and produce such witnesses as he or she may desire. The board of directors, within ((five)) ten days following the conclusion of such hearing, shall notify such employee in writing of its final decision. Any decision to discharge or to take other adverse action against such employee shall be based solely upon the cause or causes for discharge specified in the notice of probable cause to the employee and established by a preponderance of the evidence at the hearing to be sufficient cause or causes for discharge or other adverse action against his contract status.

In the event any such notice or opportunity for hearing is not timely given by the district, or in the event cause for discharge or other adverse action is not established by a preponderance of the evidence at the hearing, such employee shall not be discharged or otherwise adversely affected in his contract status for the causes stated in the original notice for the duration of his or her contract.

If such employee does not request a hearing as provided herein, such employee may be discharged or otherwise adversely affected as provided in the notice served upon the employee.

Sec. 2. Section 16, chapter 15, Laws of 1970 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.67.070 are each amended to read as follows:

No teacher, principal, supervisor, superintendent, or other certificated employee, holding a position as such with a school district, hereinafter referred to as "employee", shall be employed except by written order of a majority of the directors of the district at a regular or special meeting thereof, nor unless he is the holder of an effective teacher's certificate or other certificate required by law or the state board of education for the position for which the employee is employed.

The board shall make with each employee employed by it a written contract, which shall be in conformity with the laws of this state, and limited to a term of not more than one year. Every such contract shall be made in triplicate, one copy to be retained by the school district superintendent or secretary, one copy to be retained, after having been approved and registered, by the intermediate school district superintendent, and one copy to be delivered to the employee thereafter. No contract shall be offered by any board nor approved and registered by the intermediate school district superintendent for the employment of any teacher who has previously signed a contract to teach for that same term in another school district of the state of Washington unless such teacher shall have been released from his obligations under such previous contract by the board of directors of the school district to which he was obligated. Any contract signed in violation of this provision shall be void.

Every board of directors determining that there is probable cause or causes that the employment contract of an employee should not be renewed by the district for the next ensuing term shall notify that employee in writing on or before April 15th preceding the commencement of such term of that determination of the board of directors, which notification shall specify the cause or causes for nonrenewal of contract. Such notice shall be served upon the employee personally, or by certified or registered mail, or by leaving a copy of the notice at the house of his or her usual abode with some person of suitable age and discretion then resident therein. Every such employee so notified, at his or her request made in writing and filed with the chairman or secretary of the board of directors of the district within ten days after receiving such notice, shall be granted opportunity for hearing (~~before the board of directors of the district,~~) to determine whether or not the facts constitute sufficient cause or causes for nonrenewal of contract. In the request for hearing, the employee may request either an open or closed hearing. Such board upon receipt of such request shall call the hearing to be held within ten days following the receipt of such request, and at least three days prior to the date fixed for the hearing shall notify the employee in writing of the date, time and place of the hearing. The hearing shall be open or closed as requested by the employee, but if the employee fails to make such a request, the board or its hearing officer may determine whether the hearing shall be open or closed.

The board may employ as a hearing officer any person not currently employed by the district to conduct on its behalf any hearing required by this section, who shall transmit to the board a record of the proceeding together with his recommended findings of fact and conclusions of law, and an advisory recommended decision for the board's final disposition. The board or its hearing officer may reasonably regulate the conduct of the hearing. The employee may engage such counsel and produce such witnesses as he or she may desire. The board of directors, within (~~five~~) ten days following the conclusion of such hearing, shall notify the employee in writing of its final decision either to renew or not to renew the employment of the employee for the next ensuing term. Any decision not to renew such employment contract shall be based solely upon the cause or causes for nonrenewal specified in the notice of probable cause to the employee and established by a preponderance of the evidence at the hearing to be sufficient cause or causes for nonrenewal. If any such notification or opportunity for hearing is not timely given by the district, the employee entitled thereto shall be conclusively presumed to have been reemployed by the district for the next ensuing term upon contractual terms identical with those which would have prevailed if his employment had actually been renewed by the board of directors for such ensuing term.

Sec. 3. Section 18, chapter 34, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.58.515 are each amended to read as follows:

In lieu of requesting a hearing before the board of directors or its designated hearing officer pursuant to the provisions of RCW 28A.58.450 and 28A.67.070, an employee may elect to appeal the action of the board directly to the superior court of the county in which the school district is located by serving upon the clerk of the school board and filing with the clerk of the superior court a notice of appeal within ten days after receiving the notification of the action of the board. The notice of appeal shall set forth in a clear and concise manner the action appealed from. The superior court shall determine whether or not there was sufficient cause for the action of the board of directors and shall base its determination solely upon the cause or causes stated in the notice of the employee. BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

Section 1. Section 4, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as last amended by section 2, chapter 2, Laws of 1970 ex. sess. and RCW 50.04.030 are each amended to read as follows:

"Benefit year" with respect to each individual, means the fifty-two consecutive week period beginning with the first day of the calendar week with respect to which the individual files an application for an initial determination and thereafter the fifty-two consecutive week period beginning with the first day of the calendar week with respect to which the individual next files an application for an initial determination after the ~~((termination))~~ expiration of his last preceding benefit year: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That ~~((an individual's benefit year is not established unless the determination shows the applicant to have met the wage and employment conditions fixed by law as the minimum for the receipt of benefits: PROVIDED; FURTHER, That))~~ the foregoing limitation shall not be deemed to preclude the establishment of a new benefit year under the laws of another state pursuant to any agreement providing for the interstate combining of employment and wages and the interstate payment of benefits.

An individual's benefit year shall be extended to be fifty-three weeks when at the expiration of fifty-two weeks the establishment of a new benefit year would result in the use of a quarter of wages in the new base year that had been included in the individual's prior base year.

No benefit year will be established unless it is determined that the individual earned wages in "employment" during his base year of not less than the "qualifying annual wage" computed for the calendar year preceding the last June 30th immediately preceding his benefit year and either had "employment" in not less than sixteen weeks of his base year in each of which he earned the "qualifying weekly wage" computed for the second calendar year preceding the calendar year in which each such week ends or had "employment" in not less than six hundred hours of his base year: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That a benefit year cannot be established if the base year wages include wages earned prior to the establishment of a prior benefit year unless the individual earned wages in "employment" during the last two quarters of the new base year of not less than six times the weekly benefit amount computed for his new benefit year.

As the change contained in the third paragraph of this section relating to the weeks worked qualification would invalidate basic data upon which benefit qualification determinations must be made the satisfaction of the weeks worked requirement will require as to base year weeks ending in the second two quarters of 1972 that the individual will have earned not less than the "qualifying weekly wage" computed for the calendar year 1971. Nothing in this paragraph or in the preceding paragraph shall be deemed to justify or support the redetermination of any monetary determination denying the establishment of a benefit year made prior to the effective date of this 1973 amendatory act.

If the wages of an individual are not based upon a fixed duration of time or if the individual's wages are paid at irregular intervals or in such manner as not to extend regularly over the period of employment, the wages for any week shall be determined in such manner as the commissioner may by regulation prescribe. Such regulation shall, so far as possible, secure results reasonably similar to those which would prevail if the individual were paid his wages at regular intervals.

Sec. 2. Section 19, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as amended by section 6, chapter 265, Laws of 1951 and RCW 50.04.180 are each amended to read as follows:

The term "employment" shall not include service performed by an individual in the employ of his or her spouse, ~~((or by a child~~ under the age of twenty-one in the employ of his father or mother)) nor shall it include service performed by an unmarried individual under the age of eighteen years in the employ of his or her parent or step-parent.

Sec. 3. Section 6, chapter 2, Laws of 1970 ex. sess. and RCW 50.04.355 are each amended to read as follows:

On or before the fifteenth day of June of each year an "average annual wage" ~~((and))~~, an "average weekly wage", a "qualifying annual wage", and a "qualifying weekly wage" shall be computed ~~((for the preceding calendar year))~~ from information for the preceding calendar year reported by all employers as defined in RCW 50.04.080 on employers' contribution reports (including corrections thereof) filed within three months after the close of that year. The "average annual wage" is the quotient derived by dividing total remuneration reported by all employers by the average number of workers reported for all months if the result is not a multiple of one dollar, and rounding the result to the next lower multiple of one dollar. The "average annual wage" thus obtained shall be divided by fifty-two and ~~((rounded))~~ if the result is not a multiple of one dollar, rounding the result to the next lower multiple of one dollar to determine the "average weekly wage". The "qualifying annual wage" shall be computed by multiplying the "average annual wage" by fifteen percent and if the result is not a multiple of fifty dollars, rounding the result to the next lower multiple of fifty dollars. The "qualifying weekly wage" shall be computed by multiplying the "average weekly wage" by fifteen percent and if the result is not a multiple of one dollar, rounding the result to the next lower multiple of one dollar.

Sec. 4. Section 60, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as last amended by section 27, chapter 199, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 50.16.010 are each amended to read as follows:

There shall be maintained as special funds, separate and apart from all public moneys or funds of this state an unemployment compensation fund and an administrative contingency fund, which shall be administered by the commissioner exclusively for the purposes of this title, and to which RCW 43.01.050 shall not be applicable. The unemployment compensation fund shall consist of

- (1) all contributions and payments in lieu of contributions collected pursuant to the provisions of this title,
- (2) interest earned upon any moneys in the fund,
- (3) any property or securities acquired through the use of moneys belonging to the fund,
- (4) all earnings of such property or securities,
- (5) any moneys received from the federal unemployment account in the unemployment trust fund in accordance with Title XII of the social security act, as amended,

(6) all money recovered on official bonds for losses sustained by the fund,

(7) all money credited to this state's account in the unemployment trust fund pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, ((and))

(8) all money received from the federal government as reimbursement pursuant to section 204 of the federal-state extended compensation act of 1970 (84 Stat. 708-712; 26 U.S.C. Sec. 3304), and
(9) all moneys received for the fund from any other source.

All moneys in the unemployment compensation fund shall be commingled and undivided.

The administrative contingency fund shall consist of all interest on delinquent contributions collected pursuant to this title after June 20, 1953, all fines and penalties collected pursuant to the provisions of this title, and all sums recovered on official bonds for losses sustained by the fund: PROVIDED, That all fees, fines, forfeitures and penalties collected or assessed by a justice court because of the violation of a state law shall be remitted as provided in chapter 3.62 RCW as now exists or is later amended. The amount in this fund in excess of one hundred thousand dollars on the close of business of the last day of each calendar quarter shall be immediately transferred to this state's account in the unemployment trust fund. Moneys available in the administrative contingency fund shall be expended upon the direction of the commissioner, with the approval of the governor, whenever it appears to him that such expenditure is necessary for:

(a) The proper administration of this title and no federal funds are available for the specific purpose to which such expenditure is to be made, provided, the moneys are not substituted for appropriations from federal funds which, in the absence of such moneys, would be made available.

(b) The proper administration of this title for which purpose appropriations from federal funds have been requested but not yet received, provided, the administrative contingency fund will be reimbursed upon receipt of the requested federal appropriation.

Sec. 5. Section 62, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as last amended by section 1, chapter 201, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 50.16.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Moneys shall be requisitioned from this state's account in the unemployment trust fund solely for the payment of benefits and repayment of loans from the federal government to guarantee solvency of the unemployment compensation fund in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commissioner, except that money credited to this state's account pursuant to section 903 of the social security act,

V as amended, shall be used exclusively as provided in RCW 50.16.030(5). The commissioner shall from time to time requisition from the unemployment trust fund such amounts, not exceeding the amounts standing to its account therein, as he deems necessary for the payment of benefits for a reasonable future period. Upon receipt thereof the treasurer shall deposit such moneys in the benefit account and shall issue his warrants for the payment of benefits solely from such benefits account.

(2) Expenditures of such moneys in the benefit account and refunds from the clearing account shall not be subject to any provisions of law requiring specific appropriations or other formal release by state officers of money in their custody, and RCW 43.01.050, as amended, shall not apply. All warrants issued by the treasurer for the payment of benefits and refunds shall bear the signature of the treasurer and the countersignature of the commissioner, or his duly authorized agent for that purpose.

(3) Any balance of moneys requisitioned from the unemployment trust fund which remains unclaimed or unpaid in the benefit account after the expiration of the period for which sums were requisitioned shall either be deducted from estimates for, and may be utilized for the payment of, benefits during succeeding periods, or, in the discretion of the commissioner, shall be redeposited with the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America to the credit of this state's account in the unemployment trust fund.

(4) Money credited to the account of this state in the unemployment trust fund by the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, may be requisitioned and used for the payment of expenses incurred for the administration of this title pursuant to a specific appropriation by the legislature, provided that the expenses are incurred and the money is requisitioned after the enactment of an appropriation law which:

(a) specifies the purposes for which such money is appropriated and the amounts appropriated therefor,

(b) limits the period within which such money may be obligated to a period ending not more than two years after the date of the enactment of the appropriation law, and

(c) limits the amount which may be obligated during a twelve-month period beginning on July 1st and ending on the next June 30th to an amount which does not exceed the amount by which (i) the aggregate of the amounts credited to the account of this state pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, during the same twelve-month period and the ~~((fourteen))~~ twenty-four preceding twelve-month periods, exceeds (ii) the aggregate of the amounts obligated pursuant to RCW 50.16.030 (4), (5) and (6) and charged against the amounts credited to the account of this state during any of such (~~fifteen~~) twenty-five twelve-month periods. For the purposes of RCW 50.16.030 (4), (5) and (6), amounts obligated during any such twelve-month period shall be charged against equivalent amounts which were first credited and which are not already so charged; except that no amount obligated for administration during any such twelve-month period may be charged against any amount credited during such a twelve-month period earlier than the (~~fourteenth~~) twenty-fourth preceding such period: PROVIDED, That any amount credited to this state's account under section 903 of the social security act, as amended, which has been appropriated for expenses of administration, whether or not withdrawn from the trust fund shall be excluded from the unemployment compensation fund balance for the purpose of experience rating credit determination.

(5) Money credited to the account of this state pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, may not be withdrawn or used except for the payment of benefits and for the payment of expenses of administration and of public employment offices pursuant to RCW 50.16.030(4), (5) and (6).

(6) Money requisitioned as provided in RCW 50.16.030 (4), (5) and (6) for the payment of expenses of administration shall be deposited in the unemployment compensation fund, but until expended, shall remain a part of the unemployment compensation fund. The commissioner shall maintain a separate record of the deposit, obligation, expenditure and return of funds so deposited. Any money so deposited which either will not be obligated within the period specified by the appropriation law or remains unobligated at the end of the period, and any money which has been obligated within the period but will not be expended, shall be returned promptly to the account of this state in the unemployment trust fund.

Sec. 6. Section 68, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as last amended by section 4, chapter 2, Laws of 1970 ex. sess. and RCW 50.20.010 are each amended to read as follows:

An unemployed individual shall be eligible to receive waiting period credits or benefits with respect to any week in his eligibility period only if the commissioner finds that (1) he has registered for work at, and thereafter has continued to report at, an employment office in accordance with such regulation as the commissioner may prescribe, except that the commissioner may by regulation waive or alter either or both of the requirements of this subdivision as to individuals attached to regular jobs and as to such other types of cases or situations with respect to which he finds that the compliance with such requirements would be oppressive, or would be inconsistent with the purposes of this title;

(2) he has filed an application for an initial determination and made a claim for waiting period credit or for benefits in accordance with the provisions of this title;

(3) he is able to work, and is available for work in any trade, occupation, profession, or business for which he is reasonably fitted. To be available for work an individual must be ready, able, and willing, immediately to accept any suitable work which may be offered to him and must be actively seeking work pursuant to customary trade practices and through other methods when so directed by the commissioner or his agents; and

(4) he has been unemployed for a waiting period of one week;

(5) he has within his base year

(a) had both employment in not less than sixteen weeks, in each of which he earned not less than fifteen percent of the "average weekly wage" rounded to the next lower multiple of one dollar, and earned total wages of not less than fifteen percent of the "average annual wage" rounded to the next lower multiple of fifty dollars; or, in the alternative,

(b) had not less than six hundred hours of employment, and earned total wages of not less than fifteen percent of the "average annual wage" rounded to the next lower multiple of fifty dollars: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That if the base year wages of the individual's current benefit year, for any benefit year beginning after July 3, 1974, include wages earned prior to the establishment of a prior benefit year, the individual shall not be eligible for benefits, unless, in addition to the other requirements of this section, he has earned wages in the last six months of his base year equal to at least six times the weekly benefit amount to which he would otherwise have been entitled: PROVIDED FURTHER, That for benefit years beginning prior to July 4, 1974, any unemployed individual who earned wages of not less than fifteen percent of the "average annual wage" for calendar year 1969 in his base year shall be deemed to have met the eligibility requirements of this subsection.

If the wages of an individual are not based upon a fixed duration of time or if the individual's wages are paid at irregular intervals or in such manner as not to extend regularly over the period of employment, the wages for any week shall be determined in such manner as the commissioner may by regulation prescribe. Such regulation shall, so far as possible, secure results reasonably similar to those which would prevail if the individual were paid his wages at regular intervals).

An individual's eligibility period for regular benefits shall be coincident to his established benefit year. An individual's eligibility period for additional or extended benefits shall be the periods prescribed elsewhere in this title for such benefits.

Sec. 7. Section 2, chapter 1, Laws of 1971 and RCW 50.22.010 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

(1) "Extended benefit period" means a period which:

(a) Begins with the third week after whichever of the following weeks occurs first:

(i) a week for which there is a national "on" indicator, or

(ii) a week for which there is a state "on" indicator:

PROVIDED, That, as there was a state "on" indicator for the week which was three weeks prior to October 11, 1970, an extended benefit period began on that date.

(b) Ends with the third week after the first week for which there is both a national "off" indicator and a state "off" indicator: PROVIDED, That no extended benefit period shall last for a period of less than thirteen consecutive weeks, and further that no extended benefit period may begin by reason of a state "on" indicator before the fourteenth week after the close of a prior extended benefit period which was in effect with respect to this state: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That prior to January 1, 1972, an extended benefit period may become effective and be terminated in this state solely by reason of a state "on" and a state "off" indicator, respectively.

(2) There is a "national 'on' indicator" for a week if the United States secretary of labor determines that for each of the three most recent calendar months ending before such week, the rate of insured unemployment (seasonally adjusted) for all states equaled or exceeded four and five-tenths percent.

(3) There is a "national 'off' indicator" for a week if the United States secretary of labor determines that for each of the three most recent calendar months ending before such week, the rate of insured unemployment (seasonally adjusted) for all states was less than four and five-tenths percent.

(4) There is a "state 'on' indicator" for this state for a week if the commissioner determines, in accordance with the regulations of the United States secretary of labor, that for the period consisting of such week and the immediately preceding twelve weeks, the rate of insured unemployment (not seasonally adjusted) as determined under the provisions of subsection (6) of this section:

(a) equaled or exceeded one hundred twenty percent of the average of such rates for the corresponding thirteen-week period ending in each of the preceding two calendar years, and

(b) equaled or exceeded four percent.

(5) There is a "state 'off' indicator" for this state for a week if the commissioner determines, in accordance with the regulations of the United States secretary of labor, that for the period consisting of such week and the immediately preceding twelve weeks, the rate of insured unemployment (not seasonally adjusted) as determined under the provisions of subsection (6) of this section was either:

(a) Less than one hundred twenty percent of the average of such rates for the corresponding thirteen-week period ending in each of the preceding two calendar years; or

(b) Less than four percent.

(6) "Rate of insured unemployment", for purposes of subsections (4) and (5) of this section, means the percentage derived by dividing the average weekly number of individuals filing claims in this state for weeks of unemployment with respect to the most recent thirteen-consecutive-week period, as determined by the commissioner on the basis of his reports to the United States secretary of labor; by the average monthly employment covered under this title for the first four of the most recent six completed calendar quarters ending before the end of such thirteen-week period.

(7) "Regular benefits" means benefits payable to an individual under this title or, under any state law (including benefits payable to federal civilian employees and to ex-servicemen pursuant to 5 U.S.C. chapter 85) other than extended benefits or additional benefits.

(8) "Extended benefits" means benefits (including benefits payable to federal civilian employees and to ex-servicemen pursuant to 5 U.S.C. chapter 85) other than emergency benefits payable to an individual under the provisions of this chapter for weeks of unemployment in his eligibility period.

(9) "Additional benefits" are benefits other than regular benefits or extended benefits. ((The term includes benefits paid or payable pursuant to RCW 50:20-427 for weeks ending prior to October 14, 1970 and emergency benefits as provided for in this chapter.

{40} "Emergency benefits" are additional benefits payable only during the emergency benefit period. The entitlement and eligibility criteria for such benefits are contained in RCW 50:22-080.

{44} "Emergency benefit period" is the only period during which emergency benefits are payable. It is coincident to that extended benefit period which began on October 14, 1970, but in no event shall such emergency benefit period extend beyond October 27, 1971.

{42}) {10} "Eligibility period" of an individual means the period consisting of the weeks in his benefit year which begin in an extended benefit period that is in effect in this state and, if his benefit year ends within such extended benefit period, any weeks thereafter which begin in such period.

((43}) {11} "Exhaustee" means an individual who, with respect to any week of unemployment in his eligibility period:

(a) Has received, prior to such week, all of the regular benefits that were ((available)) payable to him under this title or any other state law (including dependents' allowances and regular benefits payable to federal civilian employees and ex-servicemen under 5 U.S.C. chapter 85) in his current benefit year that includes such week ((: PROVIDED, That for the purposes of this subparagraph, an individual shall be deemed to have received all of the regular benefits that were available to him although, as a result of a pending appeal with respect to wages and/or employment that were not considered in the original monetary determination in his benefit year, he may subsequently be determined to be entitled to more regular benefits)); or

(b) ((His benefit year having expired prior to such week, has no, or insufficient, wages and/or employment on the basis of which he could establish a new benefit year that would include such week; and

(c) Has no rights to allowances or unemployment benefits, as the case may be, under the railroad unemployment insurance act, the trade expansion act of 1962, or the automotive products trade act of 1965 and such other federal laws as are specified in regulations issued by the United States secretary of labor; and

(d) Has not received and is not seeking unemployment benefits under the employment security law of the Virgin Islands or of Canada, but if he is seeking such benefits and the appropriate agency finally determines that he is not entitled to benefits under such law, he is an exhaustee:))

Has received, prior to such week, all of the regular benefits that were available to him under this title or any other state law (including dependents' allowances and regular benefits available to federal civilian employees and ex-servicemen under 5 U.S.C. chapter 85) in his current benefit year that includes such week, after the cancellation of some or all of his wage credits or the total or partial reduction of his rights to regular benefits: PROVIDED, That, for the purposes of (a) and (b), an individual shall be deemed to have received in his current benefit year all of the regular benefits that were payable to him, or available to him, as the case may be, even though (i) as a result of a pending appeal with respect to wages or employment, or both, that were not included in the original monetary determination with respect to his current benefit year, he may subsequently be determined to be entitled to more regular benefits; or (ii) by reason of the seasonal provisions of another state law, he is not entitled to regular benefits with respect to such week of unemployment (although he may be entitled to regular benefits with respect to future weeks of unemployment in the next season, as the case may be, in his current benefit year), and he is otherwise an exhaustee within the meaning of this section with respect to his right to regular benefits under such state law seasonal provisions during the season or off season in which that week of unemployment occurs; or (iii) having established a benefit year, no regular benefits are payable to him during such year because his wage credits were canceled or his right to regular benefits was totally reduced as the result of the application of a disqualification; or

(c) His benefit year having ended prior to such week, he has insufficient wages or employment, or both, on the basis of which he could establish in any state a new benefit year that would include such week, or having established a new benefit year that includes such week, he is precluded from receiving regular benefits by reason of the provision in RCW 50.04.030 which meets the requirement of section 3304(a)(7) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, or the similar provision in any other state law; and

(d) (i) Has no right for such week to unemployment benefits or allowances, as the case may be, under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, the Trade Expansion Act of 1962, and such other federal laws as are specified in regulations issued by the United States secretary of labor; and

(ii) has not received and is not seeking for such week unemployment benefits under the unemployment compensation law of the Virgin Islands or Canada, unless the appropriate agency finally determines that he is not entitled to unemployment benefits under such law for such week.

((14)) (12) "State law" means the unemployment insurance law of any state, approved by the United States secretary of labor under section 3304 of the internal revenue code of 1954'.

Sec. 8. Section 120, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 and RCW 50.32.040 are each amended to read as follows:

In any proceeding before an appeal tribunal involving a dispute of an individual's initial determination, all matters covered by such initial determination shall be deemed to be in issue irrespective of the particular ground or grounds set forth in the notice of appeal.

In any proceeding before an appeal tribunal involving a dispute of an individual's claim for waiting period credit or claim for benefits, all matters and provisions of this title relating to the individual's right to receive such credit or benefits for the period in question shall be deemed to be in issue irrespective of the particular ground or grounds set forth in the notice of appeal.

In any proceeding before an appeal tribunal involving an individual's right to benefits, all parties shall be afforded an opportunity for hearing after not less than seven days' notice. This provision supersedes the twenty-day notice provision of RCW 34.04.090 as to such cases.

In any proceeding involving an appeal relating to benefit determinations or benefit claims, the appeal tribunal, after affording the parties reasonable opportunity for fair hearing, shall render its decision affirming, modifying, or setting aside the determination or decisions of the unemployment compensation division. The parties shall be duly notified of such appeal tribunal's decision together with its reasons therefor, which shall be deemed to be the final decision on the initial determination or the claim for waiting period credit or the claim for benefits unless, within ten days after the date of notification or mailing, whichever is the earlier, of such decision, further appeal is perfected pursuant to the provisions of this title relating to review by the commissioner.

Sec. 9. Section 21, chapter 3, Laws of 1971 and RCW 50.44.040 are each amended to read as follows:

The term "employment" as used in RCW 50.44.010, 50.44.020 and 50.44.030 shall not include service performed:

(1) In the employ of (a) a church or convention or association of churches, or (b) an organization which is operated primarily for religious purposes and which is operated, supervised, controlled, or principally supported by a church or convention or association of churches; or

(5) As part of an unemployment work-relief or work-training program assisted or financed in whole or in part by a federal agency or an agency of a state or political subdivision thereof, by an individual receiving such work-relief or work-training; (~~or an agency of a state or political subdivision thereof, by an individual receiving such work-relief or work-training;~~) or

(6) For a hospital in a state prison or other state correctional institution by an inmate of the prison or correctional institution; or

(7) In the employ of a hospital, if such service is performed by a patient of such hospital; or

(8) In the employ of a school, college, or university, if such service is performed (a) by a student who is enrolled and is regularly attending classes at such school, college, or university, or (b) by the spouse of such a student, if such spouse is advised, at the time such spouse commences to perform such service, that (i) the employment of such spouse to perform such service is provided under a program to provide financial assistance to such student by such school, college, or university, and (ii) such employment will not be covered by any program of unemployment insurance; or

Sec. 11. Section 24, chapter 3, Laws of 1971 and RCW 50.44.070 are each amended to read as follows:

In the discretion of the commissioner, any nonprofit organization that elects to become liable for payments in lieu of contributions shall be required within thirty days after the effective date of its election, to execute and file with the commissioner a surety bond approved by the commissioner or it may elect instead to deposit with the commissioner money or securities. The determination made pursuant to this subsection shall be based on payroll information, employment experience, and such other factors as the commissioner deems pertinent.

(2) Any bond deposited under this section shall be in force for a period of not less than two taxable years and shall be renewed with the approval of the commissioner, at such times as the commissioner may prescribe, but not less frequently than at two-year intervals as long as the organization continues to be liable for

If the bond is to be increased, the adjusted bond shall be filed by the organization within thirty days of the date notice of the required adjustment was mailed or otherwise delivered to it. Failure by any organization covered by such bond to pay the full amount of payments in lieu of contributions when due, together with any applicable interest and penalties provided for in this title, shall render the surety liable on said bond to the extent of the bond, as though the surety was such organization.

(3) Any deposit of money or securities in accordance with this section shall be retained by the commissioner in an escrow account until liability under the election is terminated, at which time it shall be returned to the organization, less any deductions as hereinafter provided. The commissioner may deduct from the money deposited under this section by a nonprofit organization or sell the securities it has so deposited to the extent necessary to satisfy any due and unpaid payments in lieu of contributions and any applicable interest and penalties provided for in this act. Disposition of income from securities held in escrow shall be governed by the applicable provisions of the state law.

(4) If any nonprofit organization fails to file a bond or make a deposit, or to file a bond in an increased amount or to increase or make whole the amount of a previously made deposit, as provided under this section, the commissioner may terminate such organization's election to make payments in lieu of contributions and such termination shall continue for not less than the four-consecutive-calendar-quarter period beginning with the quarter in which termination becomes effective: PROVIDED, That the commissioner may extend for good cause the applicable filing, deposit or adjustment period by not more than thirty days.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

- (1) Section 8, chapter 1, Laws of 1971 and RCW 50.22.070; and
(2) Section 9, chapter 1, Laws of 1971 and RCW 50.22.080.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Sections 7, 8, 10, 11, and 12 of this 1973 amendatory act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately. Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 9 of this 1973 amendatory act shall take effect on July 1, 1973.

Passed the House February 19, 1973.

Passed the Senate February 28, 1973.

Approved by the Governor March 8, 1973, with the exception of Section 5 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State March 8, 1973.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to a certain item House Bill No. 436 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to unemployment compensation."

Section 5 of this bill amends RCW 50.16.030 allowing the Employment Security Department to avail itself of certain credits in the unemployment compensation fund provided that such credits were given within the past 25 as opposed to 15 years. It was necessary that this particular provision be enacted prior to legislative action on the balance of House Bill 436 in order to implement the pay increases provided for Employment Security employees in the supplemental budget. That provision was introduced and passed as Senate Bill 2618 and is now chapter 6, Laws of 1973. The language of chapter 6, Laws of 1973, is a slightly later and improved version of the material in section 5. Retention of the material in section 5 would be duplicative therefore I deem it appropriate to veto section 5 of this bill.

The remainder of House Bill No. 436 is approved."

(5) Provide for appropriate reporting procedures by employers with respect to such information relating to conditions of employment which will assist in achieving the objectives of this act;

(6) Provide for the frequency, method, and manner of the making of inspections of work places without advance notice; and,

(7) Provide for the publication and dissemination to employers, employees, and labor organizations and the posting where appropriate by employers of informational, education, or training materials calculated to aid and assist in achieving the objectives of this chapter.

(8) Provide for the establishment of new and the perfection and expansion of existing programs for occupational safety and health education for employers and employees, and, in addition institute methods and procedures for the establishment of a program for voluntary compliance solely through the use of advice and consultation with employers and employees with recommendations including recommendations of methods to abate violations relating to the requirements of this chapter and all applicable safety and health standards and rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to the authority of this chapter;

(9) Provide for the adoption of safety and health standards requiring the use of safeguards in trenches and excavations and around openings of hoistways, hatchways, elevators, stairways, and similar openings;

(10) Provide for the promulgation of health and safety standards requiring the use of safeguards for all vats, pans, trimmers, cut off, gang edger, and other saws, planers, presses, formers, cogs, gearing, belting, shafting, coupling, set screws, live rollers, conveyors, mangles in laundries, and machinery of similar description, which can be effectively guarded with due regard to the ordinary use of such machinery and appliances and the danger to employees therefrom, and with which the employees of any such work place may come in contact while in the performance of their duties and prescribe methods, practices, or processes to be followed by employers which will enhance the health and safety of employees in the performance of their duties when in proximity to machinery or appliances mentioned in this subsection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Each employer:

(1) Shall furnish to each of his employees a place of employment free from recognized hazards that are causing or likely to cause serious injury or death to his employees: PROVIDED, That no citation or order assessing a penalty shall be issued to any employer solely under the authority of this subsection except where no applicable rule or regulation has been adopted by the department covering the unsafe or unhealthful condition of employment at the work place; and

(2) Shall comply with the rules, regulations, and orders promulgated under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The director, or his authorized representative, in carrying out his duties under this chapter, upon the presentation of appropriate credentials to the owner, manager, operator, or agent in charge, is authorized:

(1) To enter without delay and at all reasonable times the factory, plant, establishment, construction site, or other area, work place, or environment where work is performed by an employee of an employer; and

(2) To inspect, survey, and investigate during regular working hours and at other reasonable times, and within reasonable limits and in a reasonable manner, any such work place and all pertinent conditions, structures, machines, apparatus, devices, equipment, and materials therein, and to question privately any such employer, owner, operator, agent, or employee.

(3) In making inspections and making investigations under this chapter the director may require the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of evidence under oath. Witnesses shall be paid the same fees and mileage that are paid witnesses in the superior courts. In the case of contumacy, failure, or refusal of any person to obey such an order, any superior court within the jurisdiction of which such person is found, or resides, or transacts business, upon the application of the director, shall have jurisdiction to issue to such person an order requiring such person to appear to produce evidence if, as, and when so ordered, and to give testimony relating to the matter under investigation or in question, and any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by said court as a contempt thereof.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) Any employer may apply to the director for a temporary order granting a variance from any safety and health standard promulgated by rule or regulation under the authority of this chapter. Such temporary order shall be granted only if the employer files an application which meets the requirements of subsection (2) of this section and establishes that the employer is unable to comply with a safety or health standard because of the unavailability of professional or technical personnel or of materials and equipment needed to come into compliance with the safety and health standard or because necessary construction or alteration of facilities cannot be completed by the effective date of such safety and health standard, that he is taking all available steps to safeguard his employees against the hazards covered by the safety and health standard, and he has an effective program for coming into compliance with such safety and health standard as quickly as practicable. Any temporary order issued under the authority of this subsection shall prescribe the practices, means, methods, operations, and processes which the employer must adopt and use while the order is in effect and state in detail his program for coming into compliance with the safety and health standard. Such a temporary order may be granted only after notice to employees and an opportunity for a hearing upon request of the employer or any affected employee. The name of any affected employee requesting a hearing under the provisions of this subsection shall be confidential and shall not be disclosed without the consent of such employee. The director may issue one interim order to be effective until a determination is made or a decision rendered if a hearing is demanded. No temporary order may be in effect for longer than the period needed by the employer to achieve compliance with the standard, or one year, whichever is shorter, except that such an order may be renewed not more than twice, so long as the requirements of this subsection are met and if an application for renewal is filed at least ninety days prior to the expiration date of the order. No renewal of a temporary order may remain in effect for longer than one hundred eighty days.

(2) An application for a temporary order under this section shall contain:

(a) A specification of the safety and health standard or portion thereof from which the employer seeks a variance;

(b) A representation by the employer, supported by representations from qualified persons having first hand knowledge of the facts represented, that he is unable to comply with the safety and health standard or portion thereof and a detailed statement of the reasons therefor;

(c) A statement of the steps the employer has taken and will take, with specific dates, to protect employees against the hazard covered by the standard;

(d) A statement as to when the employer expects to be able to comply with the standard or portion thereof and what steps he has taken and will take, with dates specified, to come into compliance with the standard; and

(e) A certification that the employer, by the date of mailing or delivery of the application to the director, has informed his employees of the application by providing a copy thereof to his employees or their authorized representative by posting a copy of such application in a place or places reasonably accessible to all employees or by other appropriate means of notification and by mailing a copy to the authorized representative of such employees; the application shall set forth the manner in which the employees have been so informed. The application shall also advise employees and their employee representatives of their right to apply to the director to conduct a hearing upon the application for a variance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Any employer may apply to the director for an order for a variance from any rule or regulation establishing a safety and health standard promulgated under this chapter. Affected employees shall be given notice of each such application and in the manner prescribed by section 8 of this act shall be informed of their right to request a hearing on any such application. The director shall issue such order granting a variance, after opportunity for an inspection, if he determines or decides after a hearing has been held, if request for hearing has been made, that the applicant for the variance has demonstrated by a preponderance of the evidence that the conditions, practices, means, methods, operations, or processes used or proposed to be used by such applicant employer will provide employment and places of employment to his employees which are as safe and healthful as those which would prevail if he complied with the safety and health standard or standards from which the variance is sought. The order so issued shall prescribe the conditions the employer must maintain, and the practices, means, methods, operations, and processes which he must adopt and utilize to the extent they differ from the standard in question. At any time after six months has elapsed from the date of the issuance of the order granting a variance upon application of an employer, employee, or the director on his own motion, after notice has been given in the manner prescribed for the issuance of such order may modify or revoke the order granting the variance from any standard promulgated under the authority of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A representative of the employer and a representative employee authorized by the employees of such employer shall be given an opportunity to accompany the director, or his authorized representative, during the physical inspection of any work place for the purpose of aiding such inspection. Where there is no authorized employee representative, the director or his authorized representative shall consult with a reasonable number of employees concerning matters of health and safety in the work place. The director may adopt procedural rules and regulations to implement the provisions of this section: PROVIDED, That neither this section, nor any other provision of this chapter, shall be construed to interfere with, impede, or in any way diminish the right of employees to bargain collectively with their employers through representatives of their own choosing concerning wages or standards or conditions of employment which equal or exceed those established under the authority of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Each employee shall comply with the provisions of this chapter and all rules, regulations, and orders issued pursuant to the authority of this chapter which are applicable to his own actions and conduct in the course of his employment. Any employee or representative of employees who in good faith believes that a violation of a safety or health standard, promulgated by rule under the authority of this chapter exists that threatens physical harm to employees, or that an imminent danger to such employees exists, may request an inspection of the work place by giving notice to the director or his authorized representative of such violation or danger. Any such notice shall be reduced to writing, shall set forth with reasonable particularity the grounds for the notice, and shall be signed by the employee or representative of employees. A copy of the notice shall be provided the employer or his agent no later than at the time of inspection, except that, upon the request of the person giving such notice, his name and the names of individual employees referred to therein shall not appear in such copy or on any record published, released, or made available pursuant to any provision of this chapter. If upon receipt of such notification the director determines that there are reasonable grounds to believe that such violation or danger exists, he shall make a special inspection as soon as practicable, to determine if such violation or danger exists. If the director determines there are no reasonable grounds to believe that a violation or danger exists, he shall notify the employer and the employee or representative of the employees in writing of such determination.

Prior to or during any inspection of a work place, any employee or representative of employees employed in such work place may notify the director or any representative of the director responsible for conducting the inspection, in writing, of any violation of this chapter which he has reason to believe exists in such work place. The director shall, by rule, establish procedures for informal review of any refusal by a representative of the director to issue a citation with respect to any such alleged violation, and shall furnish the employee or representative of employees requesting such review a written statement of the reasons for the director's final disposition of the case.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. If upon inspection or investigation the director or his authorized representative believes that an employer has violated a requirement of section 6 of this act, or any safety or health standard promulgated by rule adopted by the director, or the conditions of any order granting a variance pursuant to this chapter, he shall with reasonable promptness issue a citation to the employer. Each citation shall be in writing and shall describe with particularity the nature of the violation, including a reference to the provisions of the statute, standard, rule, regulation, or order alleged to have been violated. In addition, the citation shall fix a reasonable time for the abatement of the violation. The director may prescribe procedures for the issuance of a notice in lieu of a citation with respect to de minimis violations which have no direct or immediate relationship to safety or health. Each citation, or a copy or copies thereof, issued under the authority of this section and section 13 of this act shall be prominently posted, at or near each place a violation referred to in the citation occurred or as may otherwise be prescribed in regulations issued by the director. The director shall provide by rule for procedures to be followed by an employee representative upon written application to receive copies of citations and notices issued to any employer having employees who are represented by such employee representative. Such rule may prescribe the form of such application, the time for renewal of applications, and the eligibility of the applicant to receive copies of citations and notices. No citation may be issued under this section or section 13 of this act after the expiration of six months following a compliance inspection, investigation, or survey revealing any such violation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) If upon inspection or investigation, the director, or his authorized representative, believes that an employer has violated a requirement of section 6 of this act, or any safety or health standard promulgated by rules of the department, or any conditions of an order granting a variance, which violation is such that a danger exists from which there is a substantial probability that death or serious physical harm could result to any employee, the director or his authorized representative shall issue a citation and may issue an order immediately restraining any such condition, practice, method, process, or means in the work place. Any order issued under this section may require such steps to be taken as may be necessary to avoid, correct, or remove such danger and prohibit the employment or presence of any individual in locations or under conditions where such danger exists, except individuals whose presence is necessary to avoid, correct, or remove such danger or to maintain the capacity of a continuous process operation in order that the resumption of normal operations may be had without a complete cessation of operations, or where a cessation of operations is necessary, to permit such to be accomplished in a safe and orderly manner. In addition, if any machine or equipment, or any part thereof, is in violation of a requirement of section 6 of this act or any safety or health standard promulgated by rules of the department, and the operation of such machine or equipment gives rise to a substantial probability that death or serious physical harm could result to any employee, and an order of immediate restraint of the use of such machine or equipment has been issued under this subsection, the use of such machine or equipment is prohibited, and a notice to that effect shall be attached thereto by the director or his authorized representative.

(2) Whenever the director, or his authorized representative, concludes that a condition of employment described in subsection (1) of this section exists in any work place, he shall promptly inform the affected employees and employers of the danger.

(3) At any time that a citation or a citation and order restraining any condition of employment or practice described in subsection (1) of this section is issued by the director, or his authorized representative, he may in addition request the attorney general to make an application to the superior court of the county wherein such condition of employment or practice exists for a temporary restraining order or such other relief as appears to be appropriate under the circumstances.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. (1) If after an inspection or investigation the director or his authorized representative issues a citation under the authority of sections 12 or 13 of this act, the department, within a reasonable time after the termination of such inspection or investigation, shall notify the employer by certified mail of the penalty to be assessed under the authority of section 18 of this act and shall state that the employer has fifteen working days within which to notify the director that he wishes to appeal the citation or assessment of penalty. If, within fifteen working days from the communication of the notice issued by the director the employer fails to notify the director that he intends to appeal the citation or assessment penalty, and no notice is filed by any employee or representative of employees under subsection (3) of this section within such time, the citation and the assessment shall be deemed a final order of the department and not subject to review by any court or agency.

(2) If the director has reason to believe that an employer has failed to correct a violation for which a citation has been issued within the period permitted in the citation for its correction, which period shall not begin to run until the entry of a final order in the case of any appeal proceedings under this section initiated by the employer in good faith and not solely for delay or avoidance of penalties, the director shall notify the employer by certified mail of such failure to correct the violation and of the penalty to be assessed under section 18 of this act by reason of such failure, and shall state that the employer has fifteen working days from the communication of such notification and assessment of penalty to notify the director that he wishes to appeal the director's notification of the assessment of penalty. If, within fifteen working days from the receipt of notification issued by the director the employer fails to notify the director that he intends to appeal the notification of assessment of penalty, the notification and assessment of penalty shall be deemed a final order of the department and not subject to review by any court or agency.

(3) If any employer notifies the director that he intends to appeal the citation issued under either section 12 or 13 of this act or notification of the assessment of a penalty issued under subsections (1) or (2) of this section, or if, within fifteen working days from the issuance of a citation under either section 12 or 13 of this act any employee or representative of employees files a notice with the director alleging that the period of time fixed in the citation for the abatement of the violation is unreasonable, the director may reassume jurisdiction over the entire matter, or any portion thereof upon which notice of intention to appeal has been filed with the director pursuant to this subsection. If the director reassumes jurisdiction of all or any portion of the matter upon which notice of appeal has been filed with the director, any redetermination shall be completed and corrective notices of assessment of penalty, citations, or revised periods of abatement completed within a period of fifteen working days, which redetermination shall then become final subject to direct appeal to the board of industrial insurance appeals within fifteen working days of such redetermination with service of notice of appeal upon the director. In the event that the director does not reassume jurisdiction as provided in this subsection, he shall promptly notify the state board of industrial insurance appeals of all notifications of intention to appeal any such citations, any such notices of assessment of penalty and any employee or representative of employees notice of intention to appeal the period of time fixed for abatement of a violation and in addition certify a full copy of the record in such appeal matters to the board. The director shall adopt rules of procedure for the reassumption of jurisdiction under this subsection affording employers, employees, and employee representatives notice of the reassumption of jurisdiction by the director, and an opportunity to object or support the reassumption of jurisdiction, either in writing or orally at an informal conference to be held prior to the expiration of the fifteen day period. A notice of appeal filed under this section shall stay the effectiveness of any citation or notice of the assessment of a penalty pending review by the board of industrial insurance appeals, but such appeal shall not stay the effectiveness of any order of immediate restraint issued by the director under the authority of section 13 of this act. The board of industrial insurance appeals shall afford an opportunity for a hearing in the case of each such appellant and the department shall be represented in such hearing by the attorney general and the board shall in addition provide affected employees or authorized representatives of affected employees an opportunity to participate as parties to hearings under this subsection. The board shall thereafter make disposition of the issues in accordance with procedures relative to contested cases appealed to the state board of industrial insurance appeals.

Upon application by an employer showing that a good faith effort to comply with the abatement requirements of a citation has been made and that the abatement has not been completed because of factors beyond his control, the director after affording an opportunity for a hearing shall issue an order affirming or modifying the abatement requirements in such citation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) Any person aggrieved by an order of the board of industrial insurance appeals issued under subsection (3) of section 14 of this act may obtain a review of such order in the superior court for the county in which the violation is alleged to have occurred, by filing in such court within thirty days following the communication of the board's order or denial of any petition or petitions for review, a written notice of appeal praying that the order be modified or set aside. A copy of such notice of appeal shall be forthwith transmitted by the clerk of the court to the board of industrial insurance appeals and to all parties to the proceedings before the board, and thereupon the board shall file in the court the complete record of the proceedings. Upon such filing the court shall have jurisdiction of the proceeding and of the question determined therein, and shall have power to grant such temporary relief or restraining order as it deems just and proper, and to make and enter upon the pleadings and the record of proceedings a decree affirming, modifying, or setting aside in all or in part, the decision of the board of industrial insurance appeals and enforcing the same to the extent that such order is affirmed or modified. The commencement of appellate proceedings under this subsection shall not, unless ordered by the court, operate as a stay of the order of the board of industrial insurance appeals. No objection that has not been urged before the board shall be considered by the court, unless the failure or neglect to urge such objection shall be excused because of extraordinary circumstances. The findings of the board or hearing examiner where the board has denied a petition or petitions for review with respect to questions of fact, if supported by substantial evidence on the record considered as a whole, shall be conclusive. If any party shall apply to the court for leave to adduce additional evidence and shall show to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for the failure to adduce such evidence in the hearing before the board, the court may order such additional evidence to be taken before the board and to be made a part of the record. The board may modify its findings as to the facts, or make new findings, by reason of additional evidence so taken and filed, and it shall file such modified or new findings, which findings with respect to questions of fact are supported by substantial evidence on the record considered as a whole, shall be conclusive, and its recommendations, if any, for the modification or setting aside of its original order. Upon the filing of the record with it, the jurisdiction of the court shall be exclusive and the judgment and decree shall be final, except as the same shall be subject to review by the supreme court. Appeals filed under this subsection shall be heard expeditiously.

(2) The director may also obtain review or enforcement of any final order of the board by filing a petition for such relief in the superior court for the county in which the alleged violation occurred. The provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall govern such proceeding to the extent applicable. If a notice of appeal, as provided in subsection (1) of this section, is not filed within thirty days after service of the board's order, the board's findings of fact, decision, and order or the examiner's findings of fact, decision, and order when a petition or petitions for review have been denied shall be conclusive in connection with any petition for enforcement which is filed by the director after the expiration of such thirty day period. In any such case, as well as in the case of an unappealed citation or a notification of the assessment of a penalty by the director, which has become a final order under subsection (1) or (2) of section 14 of this act upon application of the director, the clerk of the court, unless otherwise ordered by the court, shall forthwith enter a decree enforcing the citation and notice of assessment of penalty and shall transmit a copy of such decree to the director and the employer named in the director's petition. In any contempt proceeding brought to enforce a decree of the superior court entered pursuant to this subsection or subsection (1) of this section the superior court may assess the penalties provided in section 18 of this act, in addition to invoking any other available remedies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. (1) No person shall discharge or in any manner discriminate against any employee because such employee has filed any complaint or instituted or caused to be instituted any proceeding under or related to this chapter, or has testified or is about to testify in any such proceeding or because of the exercise by such employee on behalf of himself or others of any right afforded by this chapter.

(2) Any employee who believes that he has been discharged or otherwise discriminated against by any person in violation of this section may, within thirty days after such violation occurs, file a complaint with the director alleging such discrimination. Upon receipt of such complaint, the director shall cause such investigation to be made as he deems appropriate. If upon such investigation, the director determines that the provisions of this section have been violated, he shall bring an action in the superior court of the county wherein the violation is alleged to have occurred against the person or persons who is alleged to have violated the provisions of this section. If the director determines that the provisions of this section have not been violated, the employee may institute the action on his own behalf within thirty days of such determination. In any such action the superior court shall have jurisdiction, for cause shown, to restrain violations of subsection

(1) of this section and order all appropriate relief including rehiring or reinstatement of the employee to his former position with back pay.

(3) Within ninety days of the receipt of the complaint filed under this section, the director shall notify the complainant of his determination under subsection (2) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. (1) In addition to and after having invoked the powers of restraint vested in the director as provided in section 13 of this act the superior courts of the state of Washington shall have jurisdiction upon petition of the director, through the attorney general, to enjoin any condition or practice in any work place from which there is a substantial probability that death or serious physical harm could result to any employee immediately or before the imminence of such danger can be eliminated through the enforcement procedures otherwise provided by this chapter. Any order issued under this section may require such steps to be taken as may be necessary to avoid, correct, or remove such danger and prohibit the employment or presence of any individual in locations or under conditions where such danger exists, except individuals whose presence is necessary to avoid, correct, or remove such danger or to maintain the capacity of a continuous process operation to resume normal operation without a complete cessation of operations, or where a cessation of operations is necessary, to permit such to be accomplished in a safe and orderly manner.

(2) Upon the filing of any such petition the superior courts of the state of Washington shall have jurisdiction to grant such injunctive relief or temporary restraining order pending the outcome of enforcement proceedings pursuant to this chapter, except that no temporary restraining order issued without notice shall be effective for a period longer than five working days.

(3) Whenever and as soon as any authorized representative of the director concludes that a condition or practice described in subsection (1) exists in any work place, he shall inform the affected employees and employers of the danger and may recommend to the director that relief be sought under this section.

(4) If the director arbitrarily or capriciously fails to invoke his restraining authority under section 13 of this act or fails to seek relief under this section, any employee who may be injured by reason of such failure, or the representative of such employees, may bring an action against the director in the superior court for the county in which the danger is alleged to exist for a writ of mandamus to compel the director to seek such an order and for such further relief as may be appropriate or seek the director to exercise his restraining authority under section 13 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. (1) Any employer who wilfully or repeatedly violates the requirements of section 6 of this act, or any safety and health standard promulgated under the authority of this chapter, of any existing rule or regulation governing the conditions of employment promulgated by the department, or of any order issued granting a variance under sections 8 or 9 of this act may be assessed a civil penalty not to exceed ten thousand dollars for each violation.

(2) Any employer who has received a citation for a serious violation of the requirements of section 6 of this act, of any safety or health standard promulgated under the authority of this chapter, of any existing rule or regulation governing the conditions of employment promulgated by the department, or of any order issued granting a variance under sections 8 or 9 of this act as determined in accordance with subsection (6) of this section, shall be assessed a civil penalty not to exceed one thousand dollars for each such violation.

(3) Any employer who has received a citation for a violation of the requirements of section 6 of this chapter, of any safety and health standard promulgated under this chapter, or any existing rule or regulation governing the conditions of employment promulgated by the department, or of any order issued granting a variance under sections 8 or 9 of this act, where such violation is specifically determined not to be of a serious nature as provided in subsection (6) of this section, may be assessed a civil penalty not to exceed one thousand dollars for each such violation, unless such violation is determined to be de minimus.

(4) Any employer who fails to correct a violation for which a citation has been issued under sections 12 or 13 of this act within the period permitted for its correction, which period shall not begin to run until the date of the final order of the board of industrial insurance appeals in the case of any review proceedings under this chapter initiated by the employer in good faith and not solely for delay or avoidance of penalties, may be assessed a civil penalty of not more than one thousand dollars for each day during which such failure or violation continues.

(5) Any employer who violates any of the posting requirements of this chapter, or any of the posting requirements of rules promulgated by the department pursuant to this chapter related to employee or employee representative's rights to notice, including but not limited to those employee rights to notice set forth in sections 8, 9, 12, 13, 22(1) and 24(2) of this act, shall be assessed a penalty of not to exceed one thousand dollars for each such violation. Any employer who violates any of the posting requirements for the posting of informational, educational, or training materials under the authority of section 5(7) of this act, may be assessed a penalty of not to exceed five hundred dollars for each such violation.

(6) For the purposes of this section, a serious violation shall be deemed to exist in a work place if there is a substantial probability that death or serious physical harm could result from a condition which exists, or from one or more practices, means, methods, operations, or processes which have been adopted or are in use in such work place, unless the employer did not, and could not with the exercise of reasonable diligence, know of the presence of the violation.

(7) The director, or his authorized representatives, shall have authority to assess all civil penalties provided in this section, giving due consideration to the appropriateness of the penalty with respect to the number of affected employees of the employer being charged, the gravity of the violation, the size of the employer's business, the good faith of the employer, and the history of previous violations.

(8) Civil penalties imposed under this chapter shall be paid to the director for deposit in the supplemental pension fund established by RCW 51.44.033. Civil penalties may be recovered in a civil action in the name of the department brought in the superior court of the county where the violation is alleged to have occurred, or the department may utilize the procedures for collection of civil penalties as set forth in RCW 51.48.120 through 51.48.150.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. (1) Any person who gives advance notice of any inspection to be conducted under the authority of this chapter, without the consent of the director or his authorized representative, shall, upon conviction be guilty of a gross misdemeanor and be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both.

(2) Whoever knowingly makes any false statement, representation, or certification in any application, record, report, plan, or other document filed or required to be maintained pursuant to this chapter shall, upon conviction be guilty of a gross misdemeanor and be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than six months or by both.

(3) Any employer who wilfully and knowingly violates the requirements of section 6 of this act, any safety and health standard promulgated under this chapter, any existing rule or regulation governing the safety and health conditions of employment and adopted by the director, or any order issued granting a variance under sections 8 or 9 of this act and that violation caused death to any employee shall, upon conviction be guilty of a gross misdemeanor and be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months or by both; except, that if the conviction is for a violation committed after a first conviction of such person, punishment shall be a fine of not more than twenty thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both.

(4) Any employer who has been issued an order immediately restraining a condition, practice, method, process, or means in the work place, pursuant to section 13 or 17 of this act, and who nevertheless continues such condition, practice, method, process, or means, or who continues to use a machine or equipment or part thereof to which a notice prohibiting such use has been attached, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both.

(5) Any employer who shall knowingly remove, displace, damage, or destroy, or cause to be removed, displaced, damaged, or destroyed any safety device or safeguard required to be present and maintained by any safety or health standard, rule, or order promulgated pursuant to this act, or pursuant to the authority vested in the director under RCW 43.22.050 shall, upon conviction, be guilty of a misdemeanor and be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred fifty dollars or by imprisonment for not more than ninety days, or by both.

(6) Whenever the director has reasonable cause to believe that any provision of this section defining a crime has been violated by an employer, the director shall cause a record of such alleged violation to be prepared, a copy of which shall be referred to the prosecuting attorney of the county wherein such alleged violation occurred, and the prosecuting attorney of such county shall in writing advise the director of the disposition he shall make of the alleged violation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. All information reported to or otherwise obtained by the director, or his authorized representative, in connection with any inspection or proceeding under the authority of this chapter, which contains or which might reveal a trade secret shall be considered confidential, except that such information may be disclosed to other officers or employees concerned with carrying out this chapter, or when relevant in any proceeding under this chapter. In any such proceeding the director, the board of industrial insurance appeals, or the court shall issue such orders as may be appropriate to protect the confidentiality of trade secrets.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. The director is authorized to conduct, either directly or by grant or contract, research, experiments, and demonstrations as may be of aid and assistance in the furtherance of the objects and purposes of this chapter. The director, in his discretion, is authorized to grant a variance from any rule or regulation or portion thereof, whenever he determines that such variance is necessary to permit an employer to participate in an experiment approved by the director, which experiment is designed to demonstrate or validate new and improved techniques to safeguard the health or safety of employees. Any such variance shall require that all due regard be given to the health and safety of all employees participating in any experiment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. (1) Each employer shall make, keep, and preserve, and make available to the director such records regarding his activities relating to this chapter as the director may prescribe by regulation as necessary or appropriate for the enforcement of this chapter or for developing information regarding the causes and prevention of occupational accidents and illnesses. In order to carry out the provisions of this section such regulations may include provisions requiring employers to conduct periodic inspections. The director shall also issue regulations requiring that employers, through posting of notices or other appropriate means, keep their employees informed of their protections and obligations under this chapter, including the provisions of applicable safety and health standards.

(2) The director shall prescribe regulations requiring employers to maintain accurate records, and to make periodic reports of work-related deaths, and of injuries and illnesses other than minor injuries requiring only first aid treatment and which do not involve medical treatment, loss of consciousness, restriction of work or motion, or transfer to another job.

(3) The director shall issue regulations requiring employers to maintain accurate records of employee exposures to potentially toxic materials or harmful physical agents which are required to be monitored or measured. Such regulations shall provide employees or their representatives with an opportunity to observe such monitoring or measuring, and to have access to the records thereof. Such regulations shall also make appropriate provisions for each employee or former employee to have access to such records as will indicate his own exposure to toxic materials or harmful physical agents. Each employer shall promptly notify any employee who has been or is being exposed to toxic materials or harmful physical agents in concentrations or at levels which exceed those prescribed by any applicable safety and health standard promulgated under this chapter and shall inform any employee who is being thus exposed of the corrective action being taken.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. The director is authorized to adopt by rule any provision reasonably necessary to enable this state to qualify a state plan under section 18 of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (Public Law 91-596, 84 STAT. 1590) to enable this state to assume the responsibility for the development and enforcement of occupational safety and health standards in all work places within this state subject to the legislative jurisdiction of the state of Washington. The director is authorized to enter into agreement with the United States and to accept on behalf of the state of Washington grants of funds to implement the development and enforcement of this chapter and the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. (1) The director in the promulgation of rules under the authority of this chapter shall establish safety and health standards for conditions of employment of general and/or specific applicability for all industries, businesses, occupations, crafts, trades, and employments subject to the provisions of this chapter, or those that are a national or accepted federal standard. In adopting safety and health standards for conditions of employment, the director shall solicit and give due regard to all recommendations by any employer, employee, or labor representative of employees.

(2) Any safety and health standard adopted by rule of the director shall, where appropriate, prescribe the use of labels or other forms of warning to insure that employees are apprised of all hazards to which they may be exposed, relevant symptoms, and appropriate emergency treatment, and proper conditions and precautions of safe use or exposure. Where appropriate, such rules shall so prescribe suitable protective equipment and control or technological procedures to be used in connection with such hazards and shall provide for monitoring or measuring employee exposure at such locations and intervals, and in such manner as may be reasonably necessary for the protection of employees. In addition, where appropriate, any such rule shall prescribe the type and frequency of medical examinations or other tests which shall be made available, by the employer or at his cost, to employees exposed to such hazards in order to most effectively determine whether the health of such employees is adversely affected by such exposure. In the event that such medical examinations are in the nature of research, as determined by the director, such examinations may be furnished at the expense of the department. The results of such examinations or tests shall be furnished only to the director, other appropriate agencies of government, and at the request of the employee to his physician.

(3) Whenever the director adopts by rule any safety and health standard he may at the same time provide by rule the effective date of such standard which shall not be less than thirty days, excepting emergency rules, but may be made effective at such time in excess of thirty days from the date of adoption as specified in any rule adopting a safety and health standard. Any rule not made effective thirty days after adoption, having a delayed effectiveness in excess of thirty days, may only be made upon a finding made by the director that such delayed effectiveness of the rule is reasonably necessary to afford the affected employers a reasonable opportunity to make changes in methods, means, or practices to meet the requirements of the adopted rule. Temporary orders granting a variance may be utilized by the director in lieu of the delayed effectiveness in the adoption of any rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. (1) In carrying out his responsibilities for the development of a voluntary compliance program under the authority of section 5 (8) of this act and the rendering of advisory and consultative services to employers, the director may grant an employer's application for advice and consultation, and for the purpose of affording such consultation and advice visit the employer's work place. Such consultation and advice shall be limited to the matters specified in the request affecting the interpretation and applicability of safety and health standards to the conditions, structures, machines, equipment, apparatus, devices, materials, methods, means, and practices in the employer's work place. The director in granting any requests for consultative or advisory service may provide for an alternative means of affording consultation and advice other than on-site consultation.

(2) The director, or his authorized representative, may make recommendations regarding the elimination of any hazards disclosed within the scope of the on-site consultation. No visit to an employer's work place shall be regarded as an inspection or investigation under the authority of this chapter, and no notices or citations shall be issued, nor, shall any civil penalties be assessed upon such visit, nor shall any authorized representative of the director designated to render advice and consult with employers under the voluntary compliance program have any enforcement authority: PROVIDED, That in the event an on-site visit discloses a serious violation of a health and safety standard as defined in section 18 (6) of this act, and the hazard of such violation is either not abated by the cooperative action of the employer, or, is not subject to being satisfactorily abated by the cooperative action of the employer, the director shall either invoke the administrative restraining authority provided in section 13 of this act or seek the issuance of injunctive process under the authority of section 17 of this act or invoke both such remedies.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed as providing immunity to any employer who has made application for consultative services during the pendency of the granting of such application from inspections or investigations conducted under section 7 of this act or any inspection conducted as a result of a complaint, nor immunity from inspections under section 7 of this act or inspections resulting from a complaint subsequent to the conclusion of the consultative period. This section shall not be construed as requiring an inspection under section 7 of this act of any work place which has been visited for consultative purposes. However, in the event of a subsequent inspection, the director, or his authorized representative, may in his discretion take into consideration any information obtained during the consultation visit of that work place in determining the nature of an alleged violation and the amount of penalties to be assessed, if any. Such rules and regulations to be promulgated pursuant to this section shall provide that in all instances of serious violations as defined in section 18(6) of this act which are disclosed in any consultative period, shall be corrected within a specified period of time at the expiration of which an inspection will be conducted under the authority of section 7 of this act. All employers requesting consultative services shall be advised of the provisions of this section and the rules adopted by the director relating to the voluntary compliance program. The director may provide by rule for the frequency, manner, and method of the rendering of consultative services to employers, and for the scheduling and priorities in granting applications consistent with the availability of personnel, and in such a manner as not to jeopardize the enforcement requirements of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. In furtherance of the objects and purposes of this chapter, the director shall develop and maintain an effective program of collection, compilation, and analysis of industrial safety and health statistics. The director, or his authorized representative, shall investigate and analyze industrial catastrophies, serious injuries, and fatalities occurring in any work place subject to this chapter, in an effort to ascertain whether such injury or fatality occurred as the result of a violation of this chapter, or any safety and health standard, rule, or order promulgated pursuant to this chapter, or if not, whether a safety and health standard or rule should be promulgated for application to such circumstances. The director shall adopt rules relating to the conducting and reporting of such investigations. Such investigative report shall be deemed confidential and only available upon order of the superior court after notice to the director and an opportunity for hearing: PROVIDED, That such investigative reports shall be made available without the necessity of obtaining a court order, to employees of governmental agencies in the performance of their official duties, to the injured workman or his legal representative or his labor organization representative, or to the legal representative or labor organization representative of a deceased workman who was the subject of an investigation, or to the employer of the injured or deceased workman or any other employer or person whose actions or business operation is the subject of the report of investigation, or any attorney representing a party in any pending legal action in which an investigative report constitutes relevant and material evidence in such legal action.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. The department shall be the sole and paramount administrative agency responsible for the administration of the provisions of this chapter, and any other agency of the state or any municipal corporation or political subdivision of the state having administrative authority over the inspection, survey, investigation, or any regulatory or enforcement authority of safety and health standards related to the health and safety of employees in any work place subject to this chapter, shall be required, notwithstanding any statute to the contrary, to exercise such authority as provided in this chapter and subject to interagency agreement or agreements with the department made under the authority of the interlocal cooperation act (Chapter 39.34 RCW) relative to the procedures to be followed in the enforcement of this chapter: PROVIDED, That in relation to employers using or possessing sources of ionizing radiation the department of labor and industries and the department of social and health services shall agree upon mutual policies, rules, and regulations compatible with policies, rules, and regulations adopted pursuant to chapter 70.98 RCW insofar as such policies, rules, and regulations are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

GROUND WATERS--REDEFINED

AN ACT Relating to water rights; amending section 3, chapter 263, Laws of 1945 and RCW 90.44.035; and adding a new section to chapter 263, Laws of 1945 and to chapter 90.44 RCW.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 263, Laws of 1945 and to chapter 90.44 RCW a new section to read as follows:

It is the purpose of this 1973 amendatory act to state as well as reaffirm the intent of the legislature that "ground waters," as defined in chapter 263, Laws of 1945, means all waters within the state existing beneath the land surface, and to remove any possible ambiguity which may exist as a result of the dissenting opinion in State v. Ponten, 77 Wn.2d 463 (1969), or otherwise, with regard to the meaning of "ground waters" in the present wording of RCW 90.44.035. The definition set forth in section 2 of this 1973 amendatory act accords with the interpretation given by all of the various administrative agencies having responsibility for administration of the act since its enactment in 1945.

Sec. 2. Section 3, chapter 263, Laws of 1945 and RCW 90.44.035 are each amended to read as follows:

All ((bodies of)) watersg that exist beneath the land surface ((and that there saturate the interstices of rocks or other materials--that is, the waters of underground streams or channels, artesian basins, underground reservoirs, lakes or basins, whose existence or whose boundaries may be reasonably established or ascertained--)) or beneath the bed of any stream, lake or reservoir, or other body of surface water within the boundaries of this state, whatever may be the geological formation or structure in which such water stands or flows, percolates or otherwise moves, are defined for the purposes of this chapter as "ground waters." There is recognized a distinction between: (1) Water that exists in underground storage owing wholly to natural processes; for the purposes of this chapter such water is designated as "natural ground water." (2) Water that is made available in underground storage artificially, either intentionally, or incidentally to irrigation and that otherwise would have been dissipated by natural waste; for the purposes of this chapter such water is designated as "artificially stored ground water."

MOTOR VEHICLE FUEL TAX--DIRECTOR--DEPARTMENT DUTIES TRANSFER

AN ACT Relating to motor vehicle fuel tax; amending section 82.36.060, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.36.060; amending section 82.36.070, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 3, chapter 79, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 82.36.070; amending section 82.36.270, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 4, chapter 153, Laws of 1967 and RCW 82.36.270; and amending section 82.36.306, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.36.306.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

Section 1. Section 82.36.060, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.36.060 are each amended to read as follows:

Every person, before becoming a distributor or continuing in business as a distributor, shall make an application to the ((director)) department for a license authorizing the applicant to engage in business as a distributor. Applications for such licenses shall be made to the ((director)) department on forms to be furnished by ((him)) the department, and shall be accompanied by a fee of ten dollars.

Before granting any license authorizing any person to engage in business as a distributor, the ((director)) department shall require applicant to file with ((him)) the department, in such form as shall be prescribed by the ((director)) department, a corporate surety bond duly executed by the applicant as principal, payable to the state and conditioned for faithful performance of all the requirements of this chapter, including the payment of all taxes, penalties, and other obligations arising out of this chapter. The total amount of the bond or bonds, required of any distributor shall be fixed by the ((director)) department and may be increased or reduced by the ((director)) department at any time subject to the limitations herein provided. In fixing the total amount of the bond or bonds required of any distributor, the ((director)) department shall require a bond or bonds equivalent in total amount to twice the estimated monthly excise tax determined in such manner as the ((director)) department may deem proper. If at any time the estimated excise tax to become due during the succeeding month amounts to more than fifty percent of the established bond, the ((director)) department shall require additional bonds or securities to maintain the marginal ratio herein specified or shall demand excise tax payments to be made weekly or semimonthly to meet the requirements hereof.

In lieu of a bond in excess of five thousand dollars the distributor may file with the ((director)) department a property statement setting forth a complete description of all his property and the values thereof, and showing the amount of any indebtedness or encumbrance thereon to the end that the ((director)) department may ascertain whether or not the distributor can be compelled to respond in twice the amount of the taxes due or to become due hereunder. If the ((director)) department determines that the distributor can be compelled to respond in twice the amount of the tax ((he)) the department may accept such statement in lieu of a bond in excess of five thousand dollars. The ((director)) department may at any time demand from the distributor a new property statement and may at any time if ((he)) the department deems the property of the distributor insufficient to secure the payment of twice the amount of the taxes require the distributor to furnish a bond in such amount as will secure the payment of twice the amount of the taxes.

The total amount of the bond or bonds required of any distributor shall never be less than five thousand dollars nor more than fifty thousand dollars.

No recoveries on any bond or the execution of any new bond shall invalidate any bond and no revocation of any license shall effect the validity of any bond but the total recoveries under any one bond shall not exceed the amount of the bond.

In lieu of any such bond or bonds in total amount as herein fixed, a distributor may deposit with the state treasurer, under such terms and conditions as the ((director)) department may prescribe, a like amount of lawful money of the United States or bonds or other obligations of the United States, the state, or any county of the state, of an actual market value not less than the amount so fixed by the ((director)) department.

Any surety on a bond furnished by a distributor as provided herein shall be released and discharged from any and all liability to the state accruing on such bond after the expiration of thirty days from the date upon which such surety has lodged with the ((director)) department a written request to be released and discharged, but this provision shall not operate to relieve, release, or discharge the surety from any liability already accrued or which shall accrue before the expiration of the thirty day period. The ((director)) department shall promptly, upon receiving any such request, notify the distributor who furnished the bond; and unless the distributor, on or before the expiration of the thirty day period, files a new bond, or makes a deposit in accordance with the requirements of this section, the ((director)) department shall forthwith cancel the distributor's license. Whenever a new bond is furnished by a distributor, the ((director)) department shall cancel his old bond as soon as ((he)) the department and the attorney general are satisfied that all liability under the old bond has been fully discharged.

The ((director)) department may require a distributor to give a new or additional surety bond or to deposit additional securities of the character specified in this section if, in ((his)) its opinion, the security of the surety bond theretofore filed by such distributor, or the market value of the properties deposited as security by the distributor, shall become impaired or inadequate; and upon the failure of the distributor to give such new or additional surety bond or to deposit additional securities within ((ten)) thirty days after being requested so to do by the ((director)) department, the ((director)) department shall forthwith cancel his license.

Sec. 2. Section 82.36.070, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 3, chapter 79, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 82.36.070 are each amended to read as follows:

The application in proper form having been accepted for filing, the filing fee paid, and the bond or other security having been accepted and approved, the ((director)) department shall issue to the applicant a license to transact business as a distributor in the state, and such license shall be valid until canceled or revoked.

The license so issued by the ((director)) department shall not be assignable, and shall be valid only for the distributor in whose name issued.

The ((director)) department shall keep and file all applications and bonds with an alphabetical index thereof, together with a record of all licensed distributors.

Each distributor shall be assigned a license number upon qualifying for a license hereunder, and the ((director)) department shall issue to each such licensee a license certificate which shall be displayed conspicuously by the distributor at his principal place of business ((in this state)). The ((director)) department shall also issue separate license cards for each bulk storage plant operated by such distributor. Such license cards shall indicate the number so assigned the distributor, the location of the storage plant for which the card is used, and such other information as the ((director)) department may prescribe. The license card shall be conspicuously displayed at each bulk storage plant to which it is assigned, and it shall be unlawful for any distributor to operate or maintain a bulk storage plant in this state for the purpose of storing motor fuel without displaying such license card as herein provided. Bulk plant licenses shall be continuing until canceled or revoked. The distributor shall report on forms prescribed by the ((director)) department any change in the number or capacity of bulk storage plants operated or maintained at the time such change occurs.

In the event an application for a license to transact business as a distributor is filed by any person whose license has heretofore been canceled for cause by the ((director)) department, or if the ((director)) department is of the opinion that the application is not filed in good faith, or that the application is filed by some person as a subterfuge for the real person in interest whose license has heretofore been canceled for cause, the ((director)) department, after a hearing, of which the applicant shall be given five days' notice in writing and at which the applicant may appear in person or by counsel and present testimony, may refuse to issue such a person a license to transact business as a distributor.

Sec. 3. Section 82.36.270, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 4, chapter 153, Laws of 1967 and RCW 82.36.270 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person desiring to claim a refund shall obtain a permit from the ((director)) department by application therefor on such form as ((he)) the department shall prescribe, which application shall contain, among other things, the name and address of the applicant, the nature of the business and a sufficient description for identification of the machines or equipment in which the motor vehicle fuel is to be used, for which refund may be claimed under the permit. The permit shall bear a permit number and all applications for refund shall bear the number of the permit under which it is claimed. The ((director)) department shall keep a permanent record of all permits issued and a cumulative record of the amount of refund claimed and paid thereunder. Such permit shall be obtained before or at the time that the first application for refund is made under the provisions of this chapter. ((At the time of filing an application for a refund permit, the applicant shall pay to the director a permit fee of one dollar, which shall be deposited in the motor vehicle fund.)) All permits shall expire on the thirtieth day of November of every even-numbered year.

Sec. 4. Section 82.36.306, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.36.306 are each amended to read as follows:

If any person who purchases motor vehicle fuel exclusive of tax under the provisions of RCW ((82.36.235 and)) 82.36.305 uses or permits such fuel to be used for purposes other than marine use as set forth in this chapter, he shall immediately become liable for the motor vehicle fuel tax imposed thereon and shall for a period of five years thereafter become ineligible for any permit under RCW 82.36.270. The foregoing remedies shall be cumulative and no action taken pursuant thereto shall relieve any person from the penal provisions of this chapter.

The ((director)) department is hereby empowered with full authority to promulgate rules and regulations and to prescribe forms necessary for the enforcement of the provisions relating to such sales and use of motor vehicle fuel. This shall include authority to require distributors and dealers to color motor vehicle fuel so sold with a coloring matter to be prescribed and furnished without cost by the ((director)) department. It shall be unlawful to use or to permit the use of the fuel so colored for any purpose other than that provided under RCW ((82:36:235 and)) 82.36.305. The ((director)) department, in order to ascertain whether the fuel so colored has been unlawfully used, may take samples of fuel from fuel tanks of motor vehicles and conduct such other examinations as ((he)) it may deem necessary.

[Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2342]

SCHOOL DISTRICTS--ELDERLY--NONPROFIT

MEAL PROGRAMS

AN ACT Relating to school districts; amending section 28A.58.136, chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.58.136; adding a new section to chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and to chapter 28A.58 RCW; and creating a new section.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds that many elderly persons suffer dietary deficiencies and malnutrition due to inadequate financial resources, immobility, lack of interest due to isolation and loneliness, and characteristics of the aging process, such as physiological, social, and psychological changes which result in a way of life too often leading to feelings of rejection, abandonment, and despair. There is a real need as a matter of public policy to provide the elderly citizens with adequate nutritionally sound meals, through which their isolation may be penetrated with the company and the social contacts of their own. It is the declared purpose of this 1973 amendatory act to raise the level of dignity of the aged population where their remaining years can be lived in a fulfillment equal to the benefits they have bestowed, the richness they have added, and the great part they have played in the life of our society and nation.

Sec. 2. Section 28A.58.136, chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.58.136 are each amended to read as follows:

The directors of any school district may establish, equip and operate lunchrooms in school buildings for pupils, certificated and noncertificated employees, and for school or employee functions: PROVIDED, That the expenditures for food supplies shall not exceed the estimated revenues from the sale of lunches, federal lunch aid, Indian education fund lunch aid, or other anticipated revenue, including donations, to be received for that purpose: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the directors of any school district may provide for the use of kitchens and lunchrooms or other facilities in school buildings to furnish meals to elderly persons at cost as provided in section 3 of this 1973 amendatory act. Operation for the purposes of this section shall include the employment and discharge for sufficient cause of personnel necessary for preparation of food or supervision of students during lunch periods and fixing their compensation, payable from the district general fund, or entering into agreement for the preparation and service of food by a private agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is added to chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and to chapter 28A.58 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The board of directors of any school district may establish or allow for the establishment of a nonprofit meal program for feeding elderly persons residing within the area served by such school district using school facilities, and may authorize the extension of any school food services for the purpose of feeding elderly persons, subject to the following conditions and restrictions:

(1) The charge to such persons for each meal shall not exceed the actual cost of such meal to the school.

(2) The program will utilize methods of administration which will assure that the maximum number of eligible individuals may have an opportunity to participate in such a program, and will coordinate, whenever possible, with the local area agency on aging.

(3) Any non-profit meal program established pursuant to this act may not be operated so as to interfere with the normal educational process within the schools.

(4) No school district funds may be used for the operation of such a meal program.

Sec. 12. Section 81.80.270, chapter 14, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 12, chapter 210, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 81.80.270 are each amended to read as follows:

No permit issued under the authority of this chapter shall be construed to be irrevocable. Nor shall such permit be subject to transfer or assignment except upon a proper showing that property rights might be affected thereby, and then in the discretion of the commission(~~7~~ and upon the payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars).

No person, partnership or corporation, singly or in combination with any other person, partnership or corporation, whether a carrier holding a permit or otherwise, or any combination of such, shall acquire control or enter into any agreement or arrangement to acquire control of a common or contract carrier holding a permit through ownership of its stock or through purchase, lease or contract to manage the business, or otherwise except after and with the approval and authorization of the commission: PROVIDED, That upon the dissolution of a partnership, which holds a permit, because of the death, bankruptcy, or withdrawal of a partner where such partner's interest is transferred to his spouse or to one or more remaining partners, or in the case of a corporation which holds a permit, in the case of the death of a shareholder where a shareholder's interest upon death is transferred to his spouse or to one or more of the remaining shareholders, the commission shall transfer the permit to the newly organized partnership which is substantially composed of the remaining partners, or continue the corporation's permit without making the proceeding subject to hearing and protest. In all other cases any such transaction either directly or indirectly entered into without approval of the commission shall be void and of no effect, and it shall be unlawful for any person seeking to acquire or divest control of such permit to be a party to any such transaction without approval of the commission.

Every carrier who shall cease operation and abandon his rights under the permits issued him shall notify the commission within thirty days of such cessation or abandonment, and return to the commission the identification cards issued to him.

The transfer described in any such application shall be approved if it appears from the application or from any hearing held thereon or from any investigation thereof that the proposed transferee is fit, willing and able properly to perform the services authorized by the permit to be transferred and to conform to the provisions of this chapter and the requirements, rules and regulations of the commission thereunder, otherwise the application shall be denied.

(2) Temporary continuance of motor carrier operations without prior compliance with the provisions of this section will be recognized as justified by the public interest in cases in which the personal representatives, heirs or surviving spouses of deceased persons desire to continue the operations of the carriers whom they succeed an interest subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe.

In case of temporary continuance under this section the successor shall immediately procure insurance or deposit security as required by RCW 81.80.190.

Immediately upon any such temporary continuance of motor carrier operations and in any event not more than thirty days thereafter the successor shall give notice of the succession by written notice to the commission containing such information as the commission shall prescribe.

~~((The commission shall collect the following miscellaneous fees from steamboat companies:))~~ Any application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity ~~((, or to amend certificate, fifty dollars;))~~ or amendment thereof, or application to sell, lease, mortgage, or transfer a certificate of public conveyance and necessity or any interest therein, ~~((ten dollars))~~ shall be accompanied by such filing fee as the commission may prescribe by rule: PROVIDED, That such fee shall not exceed two hundred dollars.

Whether or not any person or corporation is conducting business requiring operating authority, or has performed or is performing any act requiring approval of the commission without securing such approval, shall be a question of fact to be determined by the commission. Whenever the commission believes that any person or corporation is engaged in operations without the necessary approval or authority required by any provision of this Title, it may institute a special proceeding requiring such person or corporation to appear before the commission at a location convenient for witnesses and the production of evidence and bring with him books, records, accounts and other memoranda, and give testimony under oath as to his operations or acts, and the burden shall rest upon such person or corporation of proving that his operations or acts are not subject to the provisions of this chapter. The commission may consider any and all facts that may indicate the true nature and extent of the operations or acts and may subpoena such witnesses and documents as it deems necessary.

After having made the investigation herein described, the commission is authorized and directed to issue the necessary order or orders declaring the operations or acts to be subject to, or not subject to, the provisions of this Title. In the event the operations or acts are found to be subject to the provisions of this Title, the commission is authorized and directed to issue cease and desist orders to all parties involved in the operations or acts.

In proceedings under this section no person or corporation shall be excused from testifying or from producing any book, waybill, document, paper or account before the commission when ordered to do so, on the ground that the testimony or evidence, book, waybill, document, paper or account required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to penalty or forfeiture; but no person or corporation shall be prosecuted, punished or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any account, transaction, matter or thing concerning which he shall under oath have testified or produced documentary evidence in proceedings under this section: PROVIDED, That no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for any perjury committed by him in his testimony.

Approved by the Governor March 19, 1973, with the exception of two items in Section 2 and all of Section 9 which are vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State March 19, 1973.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith, without my approval as to two items and one section, Engrossed House Bill 262 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to state institutions."

Engrossed House Bill 262 creates a Board of Trustees for the State School for the Blind. The Board will be able to provide useful assistance to the School for the Blind and to the Department of Social and Health Services in improving the programs offered the students at the school.

The bill provides for seven members appointed by the

Veto
Message

Governor and four ex-officio members. The members appointed by the Governor must be selected from a list of nominees submitted by a nominating committee in accordance with section 9 of the bill.

Veto
Message

The nominating committee created by section 9 includes the superintendent of the state school for the blind, the secretary of the department of social and health services and the president of the parent-teacher association of the blind school. There is no requirement that more than seven nominees be submitted for the Governor's consideration.

This method of selecting the members of the Board of Trustees is excessively restrictive and does not assure that there will be an opportunity for adequate representation of those interested in the needs of the students at the School for the Blind and the interest of the general public.

Accordingly, I have determined to veto section 9 of the bill and those items in section 2 of the bill which refer to the nominating procedure contained in section 9. With the exception of section 9 and two items in section 2, I have approved the remainder of Engrossed House Bill 262."

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds that the initiative process reserving to the people the power to propose bills, laws and to enact or reject the same at the polls, independent of the legislature, is finding increased popularity with citizens of our state. The exercise of this power concomitant with the power of the legislature requires coordination to avoid the duplication and confusion of laws. This legislation is enacted especially to facilitate the operation of the initiative process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 9, Laws of 1965 and to chapter 29.79 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Upon receipt of any petition proposing an initiative to the people or an initiative to the legislature, and prior to giving a serial number thereto, the secretary of state shall submit a copy thereof to the office of the code reviser and give notice to the petitioner of such transmittal. Upon receipt of the measure, the assistant code reviser to whom it has been assigned may confer with the petitioner and shall within ten working days from receipt thereof review the proposal for matters of form and style, and such matters of substantive import as may be agreeable to the petitioner, and shall recommend to the petitioner such revision or alteration of the measure as may be deemed necessary and appropriate. The recommendations of the reviser's office shall be advisory only, and the petitioner may accept or reject them in whole or in part. The code reviser shall issue a certificate of review certifying that he has reviewed the measure for form and style and that the recommendations thereon, if any, have been communicated to the petitioner, and such certificate shall issue whether or not the petitioner accepts such recommendations. Within fifteen working days after notification of submittal of the petition to the reviser's office, the petitioner, if he desires to proceed with his sponsorship, shall file the measure together with the certificate of review with the secretary of state for assignment of serial number and the secretary of state shall thereupon submit to the reviser's office a certified copy of the measure filed. Upon submitting the proposal to the secretary of state for assignment of a serial number the secretary of state shall refuse to make such assignment unless the proposal is accompanied by a certificate of review.

STATE TREASURER--FUND INVESTMENTS--TIME DEPOSITS

AN ACT Relating to state government; adding a new chapter to Title 43 RCW; and prescribing an effective date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds that a procedure should be established for the management of short term treasury surplus funds by the state treasurer in order to insure a maximum return while they are on deposit in public depositories. The objectives of this procedure are to minimize noninterest earning demand deposits and provide fair compensation to banks for services rendered to the state through the investment of state funds in time deposits.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. After the effective date of this act, the state treasurer shall limit surplus funds held as demand deposits to an amount necessary for current operating expenses including direct warrant redemption payments, investments and revenue collection. The state treasurer may hold such additional funds as demand deposits as he deems necessary to insure efficient treasury management.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Funds held in public depositories not as demand deposits as provided in section 2 of this act, shall be available for a time certificate of deposit investment program according to the following formula: The state treasurer shall apportion to all participating depositories an amount equal to five percent of the three year average mean of general state revenues as certified in accordance with Article VIII, section 1(b) of the state Constitution, or fifty percent of the total surplus treasury investment availability, whichever is less. Within thirty days after certification, those funds determined to be available according to this formula for the time certificate of deposit investment program shall be deposited in qualified public depositories. These deposits shall be allocated among the participating depositaries on a basis to be determined by the state treasurer. The formula so devised shall be a matter of public record giving consideration to, but not limited to deposits, assets, loans, capital structure, investments or some combination of these factors.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Except as provided in sections 2 and 3 of this act, nothing in this chapter shall be construed as a limitation upon the powers of the state treasurer to determine the amount of surplus treasury funds which may be invested in time certificates of deposit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The state treasurer shall devise the necessary formulae and methodology to implement the provisions of this chapter. Periodically, but at least once every six months, the state treasurer shall review all rules and shall adopt, amend or repeal them as may be necessary. These rules and a list of time certificate of deposit allocations shall be published in the treasurer's monthly financial report as required under the provisions of RCW 43.08.150.

to monopolize or to attempt to monopolize the savings and loan business in any part of the state of Washington, unless he also finds that the anticompetitive effects of the proposed acquisition are clearly outweighed in the public interest by the probable effect of the acquisition in meeting the convenience and needs of the community to be served;

(2) The poor financial condition of any acquiring party might jeopardize the financial stability of the savings and loan association being acquired or might prejudice the interests of the savings account holders, borrowers, or stockholders of the savings and loan association or is not in the public interest;

[Second Substitute House Bill No. 176]

PUBLIC UNIFORMED EMPLOYEES--LABOR NEGOTIATIONS-- ARBITRATION

AN ACT Relating to public employees; amending section 3, chapter 108, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 41.56.030; amending section 11, chapter 215, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 41.56.420; and adding new sections to chapter 41.56 RCW.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The intent and purpose of this 1973 amendatory act is to recognize that there exists a public policy in the state of Washington against strikes by uniformed personnel as a means of settling their labor disputes; that the uninterrupted and dedicated service of these classes of employees is vital to the welfare and public safety of the state of Washington; that to promote such dedicated and uninterrupted public service there should exist an effective and adequate alternative means of settling disputes.

Sec. 2. Section 3, chapter 108, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 41.56.030 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter:

(1) "Public employer" means any officer, board, commission, council, or other person or body acting on behalf of any public body governed by this chapter as designated by RCW 41.56.020, or any subdivision of such public body.

(2) "Public employee" means any employee of a public employer except any person (a) elected by popular vote, or (b) appointed to office pursuant to statute, ordinance or resolution for a specified term of office by the executive head or body of the public employer, or (c) whose duties as deputy, administrative assistant or secretary necessarily imply a confidential relationship to the executive head or body of the applicable bargaining unit, or any person elected by popular vote or appointed to office pursuant to statute, ordinance or resolution for a specified term of office by the executive head or body of the public employer.

(3) "Bargaining representative" means any lawful organization which has as one of its primary purposes the representation of employees in their employment relations with employers.

(4) "Collective bargaining" means the performance of the mutual obligations of the public employer and the exclusive bargaining representative to meet at reasonable times, to confer and negotiate in good faith, and to execute a written agreement with respect to grievance procedures and collective negotiations on personnel matters, including wages, hours and working conditions, which may be peculiar to an appropriate bargaining unit of such public employer, except that by such obligation neither party shall be compelled to agree to a proposal or be required to make a concession unless otherwise provided in this chapter.

(5) "Department" means the department of labor and industries.

(6) "Uniformed personnel" means (a) law enforcement officers as defined in RCW 41.26.030 as now or hereafter amended, of cities with a population of fifteen thousand or more or law enforcement officers employed by the governing body of AA counties or (b) fire fighters as that term is defined in RCW 41.26.030, as now or hereafter amended.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is added to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Negotiations between representatives of the public employer and uniformed personnel shall be commenced at least five months prior to the submission of the budget to the legislative body of the public employer. If after a forty-five day period of negotiation between representatives of the public employer and uniformed personnel, an agreement has not been concluded, then an impasse is declared to exist, and either party may voluntarily submit the matters in dispute to mediation, as provided for in RCW 41.56.100. If the parties have still not reached agreement after a ten day period of mediation, a fact-finding panel shall be created in the following manner: Each party shall appoint one member within two days; the two appointed members shall then choose a third member within two days who shall act as chairman of the panel. If the two members so appointed cannot agree within two days to the appointment of a third member, either party may request, and the department shall name a third member who shall be chairman of the fact-finding panel and who may be an employee of the department. The panel shall begin hearings on the matters in dispute within five days of the formation of the fact-finding panel and shall conclude such hearings and issue findings of fact and recommendations to the parties within thirty days of the date upon which hearings were commenced.

Reasonable notice of such hearings shall be given to the parties who shall appear and be heard either in person or by counsel or other representative. Hearings shall be informal and the rules of evidence prevailing in judicial proceedings shall not be binding. Minutes of the proceedings shall be taken. Any oral or documentary evidence and other data deemed relevant by the panel may be received in evidence. The panel shall have the power to administer oaths, require the attendance of witnesses, and the production of such books, papers, contracts, agreements, and documents as may be deemed by the panel material to a just determination of the issues in dispute and to issue subpoenas. Costs of each party's appointee shall be paid by the party, and the costs of proceedings otherwise shall be borne by the department.

In making its findings, the fact-finding panel shall be mindful of the legislative purpose enumerated in section 1 of this 1973 amendatory act and as additional standards of guidelines to aid it in developing its recommendations, it shall take into consideration those factors set forth in section 5 of this 1973 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is added to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

If an agreement has not been reached within forty-five days after mediation and fact-finding has commenced, an arbitration panel shall be created in the following manner: Each party shall submit a list of three persons to the director, who shall then name one from each list as members to the panel, all within two days. The two appointed members shall utilize one of the two following options in the appointment of the third member, who shall act as chairman of the panel: (1) By mutual consent, the two appointed members may jointly request the department, and the department shall appoint a third member within two days of such request. Costs of each party's appointee shall be borne by each party respectively; other costs of the arbitration proceedings shall be borne by the department; or (2) The two appointed members shall choose a third member within two days. The costs of each party's appointee shall be borne by each party respectively, and the costs of the proceedings otherwise shall be shared equally between the parties.

If the two members so appointed under alternative (2) cannot agree within two days to the appointment of a third member, either party may apply to the superior court of the county where the labor disputes exist and request that the third member of the panel be appointed as provided by RCW 7.04.050. The panel thus composed shall be deemed an agency of the director and a state agency for the purposes of this 1973 amendatory act. The panel shall hold hearings on the matters in dispute within five days after the formation of the arbitration panel and take oral or written testimony.

Reasonable notice of such hearings shall be given to the parties who shall appear and be heard either in person or by counsel or other representative. Hearings shall be informal and the rules of evidence prevailing in judicial proceedings shall not be binding. A recording of the proceedings shall be taken. Any oral or documentary evidence and other data deemed relevant by the panel may be received in evidence. The panel shall have the power to administer oaths, require the attendance of witnesses, and the production of such books, papers, contracts, agreements and documents as may be deemed by the panel material to a just determination of the issues in dispute and to issue subpoenas. If any person refuses to obey such subpoena or refuses to be sworn to testify, or any witness, party or attorney of a party is guilty of any contempt while in attendance at any hearing held hereunder, the panel may invoke the jurisdiction of the superior court in the county where a labor dispute exists and such court shall have jurisdiction to issue an appropriate order. Any failure to obey such order may be punished by the court as a contempt thereof.

The hearing conducted by the panel shall be concluded within twenty days of the time of commencement and, within fifteen days after conclusion of the hearings, the chairman shall make written findings of fact and a written determination of the dispute based upon the issues presented, a copy of which shall be mailed or otherwise delivered to the employees' negotiating agent or its attorney or other designated representative and to the employer or the employer's attorney or designated representative. The decision made by the panel shall be final and binding upon both parties, subject to review by the superior court upon the application of either party solely upon the question of whether the decision of the panel was arbitrary or capricious.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. There is added to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

In making its determination, the panel shall be mindful of the legislative purpose enumerated in section 1 of this 1973 amendatory act and as additional standards or guidelines to aid it in reaching a decision, it shall take into consideration the following factors:

(a) The constitutional and statutory authority of the employer.

(b) Stipulations of the parties.

(c) Comparison of the wages, hours and conditions of employment of the uniformed personnel of cities and counties involved in the proceedings with the wages, hours, and conditions of employment of uniformed personnel of cities and counties respectively of similar size on the west coast of the United States.

(d) The average consumer prices for goods and services, commonly known as the cost of living.

(e) Changes in any of the foregoing circumstances during the pendency of the proceedings.

(f) Such other factors, not confined to the foregoing, which are normally or traditionally taken into consideration in the determination of wages, hours and conditions of employment.

(g) Findings of fact made by the fact-finder pursuant to section 3 of this 1973 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. There is added to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

During the pendency of the proceedings before the arbitration panel, existing wages, hours and other conditions of employment shall not be changed by action of either party without the consent of the other but a party may so consent without prejudice to his rights or position under this 1973 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. There is added to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

If the representative of either or both the uniformed personnel and the public employer refuse to submit to the procedures set forth in sections 3 and 4 of this 1973 amendatory act, the parties, or the department on its own motion, may invoke the jurisdiction of the superior court for the county in which the labor dispute exists and such court shall have jurisdiction to issue an appropriate order. A failure to obey such order may be punished by the court as a contempt thereof. A decision of the arbitration panel shall be final and binding on the parties, and may be enforced at the instance of either party, the arbitration panel or the department in the superior court for the county where the dispute arose.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. There is added to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The right of uniformed employees to engage in any strike, work slowdown or stoppage is not granted. Where an organization, recognized as the bargaining representative of uniformed employees subject to this chapter, as amended by this 1973 amendatory act, wilfully disobeys a lawful order of enforcement by a superior court pursuant to sections 7 and 8 of this 1973 amendatory act, or wilfully offers resistance to such order, whether by strike or otherwise, the punishment for each day that such contempt persists, may be a fine fixed in the discretion of the court in an amount not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars per day. Where an employer wilfully disobeys a lawful order of enforcement by a superior court pursuant to section 7 of this 1973 amendatory act or wilfully offers resistance to such order, the punishment for each day that such contempt persists may be a fine, fixed at the discretion of the court in an amount not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars per day to be assessed against the employer.

Sec. 9. Section 11, chapter 215, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 41.56.420 are each amended to read as follows:

The committee shall study the operation of chapter 108, Laws of 1967 extraordinary session, relating to public employees collective bargaining, including an evaluation of the collective bargaining practices and procedures of uniformed personnel, and review the efficacy of RCW 28.75.130 (28B.16.130), 41.06.340, 41.56.140 through 41.56.190 and 41.56.400 through 41.56.420 or any part thereof as a means of furthering and improving management relationships within public service. The committee shall submit its report to the governor and the state legislature, with a copy to the legislative council, prior to the convening of any regular session of the legislature, or to any special session if the committee deems it appropriate. The report shall contain specific recommendations as to necessary or desirable changes, if any, in the law, and shall also include any proposed legislation necessary to implement the recommendations of the committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. There is added to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The provisions of this 1973 amendatory act relating to uniformed personnel are intended to be additional to other remedies and shall be liberally construed to accomplish their purpose. If any provision of this 1973 amendatory act conflicts with any other statute, ordinance, rule or regulation of any public employer as it relates to uniformed employees, the provisions of this 1973 amendatory act shall control.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. There is added to chapter 41.56 RCW a new section to read as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. In addition to any other powers which it may now have, each municipality shall have the following powers:

(1) To acquire, whether by construction, purchase, devise, gift or lease, or any one or more of such methods, one or more facilities which shall be located within, or partially within the municipality;

(2) To lease, lease with option to purchase, sell or sell by installment sale, any or all of the facilities upon such terms and conditions as the governing body may deem advisable but which shall at least fully reimburse the municipality for all debt service on any bonds issued to finance the facilities and for all costs incurred by the municipality in financing and operating the facilities and as shall not conflict with the provisions of this chapter;

(3) To issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring or improving any facility or facilities or refunding any bonds issued for such purpose and to secure the payment of such bonds as provided in this chapter. Revenue bonds may be issued in one or more series or issues where deemed advisable, and each such series or issue may have the same or different maturity dates, interest rates, priorities on revenues available for payment of such bonds and priorities on security available for assuring payment thereof, and such other differing terms and conditions as are deemed necessary and are not in conflict with the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) All bonds issued by a municipality under the authority of this chapter shall be secured solely by revenues derived from the lease or sale of the facility. Bonds and interest coupons issued under the authority of this chapter shall not constitute nor give rise to a pecuniary liability of the municipality or a charge against its general credit or taxing powers. Such limitation shall be plainly stated upon the face of each of such bonds.

(2) The bonds referred to in subsection (1) of this section, may (a) be executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, (b) be in such form and denominations, (c) be of such tenor, (d) be in registered or bearer form either as to principal or interest or both, and may provide for conversion between registered and coupon bonds of varying denominations, (e) be payable in such installments and at such time or times not exceeding forty years from their date, (f) be payable at such place or places, (g) bear interest at such rate or rates as may be determined by the governing body, payable at such place or places within or without this state and evidenced in such manner, (h) be redeemable prior to maturity, with or without premium, and (i) contain such provisions not inconsistent herewith, as shall be deemed for the best interest of the municipality and provided for in the proceedings of the governing body whereunder the bonds shall be authorized to be issued.

(3) Any bonds issued under the authority of this chapter, may be sold at public or private sale in such manner and at such time or times as may be determined by the governing body to be most advantageous. The municipality may pay all expenses, premiums and commissions which the governing body may deem necessary or advantageous in connection with the authorization, sale and issuance thereof from the proceeds of the sale of said bonds or from the revenues of the facilities.

(4) All bonds issued under the authority of this chapter, and all interest coupons applicable thereto shall be investment securities within the meaning of the uniform commercial code and shall be deemed to be issued by a political subdivision of the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The principal of and interest on any bonds issued under the authority of this chapter (a) shall be secured by a pledge of the revenues derived from the sale or lease of the facilities out of which such bonds shall be made payable, (b) may be secured by a mortgage covering all or any part of the facilities, (c) may be secured by a pledge or assignment of the lease of such facilities, or (d) may be secured by a trust agreement or such other security device as may be deemed most advantageous by the governing body.

(2) The proceedings under which the bonds are authorized to be issued under the provisions of this chapter, and any mortgage given to secure the same may contain any agreements and provisions customarily contained in instruments securing bonds, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, provisions respecting (a) the fixing and collection of rents for any facilities covered by such proceedings or mortgage, (b) the terms to be incorporated in the lease of such facilities, (c) the maintenance and insurance of such facilities, (d) the creation and maintenance of special funds from the revenues of such facilities, and (e) the rights and remedies available in the event of a default to the bondholders or to the trustee under a mortgage or trust agreement, all as the governing body shall deem advisable and as shall not be in conflict with the provisions of this chapter: PROVIDED, That in making any such agreements or provisions a municipality shall not have the power to obligate itself except with respect to the facilities and the application of the revenues therefrom, and shall not have the power to incur a pecuniary liability or a charge upon its general credit or against its taxing powers.

(3) The proceedings authorizing any bonds under the provisions of this chapter and any mortgage securing such bonds may provide that, in the event of a default in the payment of the principal of or the interest on such bonds or in the performance of any agreement contained in such proceedings or mortgage, such payment and performance may be enforced by mandamus or by the appointment of a receiver in equity with power to charge and collect rents and to apply the revenues from the facilities in accordance with such proceedings or the provisions of such mortgage.

(4) Any mortgage made under the provisions of this chapter, to secure bonds issued thereunder, may also provide that, in the event of a default in the payment thereof or the violation of any agreement contained in the mortgage, the mortgage may be foreclosed and the mortgaged property sold under proceedings in equity or in any other manner now or hereafter permitted by law. Such mortgage may also provide that any trustee under such mortgage or the holder of any of the bonds secured thereby may become the purchaser at any foreclosure sale if the highest bidder therefor. No breach of any such agreement shall impose any pecuniary liability upon a municipality or any charge upon their general credit or against their taxing powers.

(5) The proceedings authorizing the issuance of bonds hereunder may provide for the appointment of a trustee or trustees for the protection of the holders of the bonds, whether or not a mortgage is entered into as security for such bonds. Any such trustee may be a bank with trust powers or a trust company and shall be located in the United States, within or without the state of Washington, shall have the immunities, powers and duties provided in said proceedings, and may, to the extent permitted by such proceedings, hold and invest funds deposited with it in direct obligations of the United States, obligations guaranteed by the United States or certificates of deposit of a bank (including the trustee) which are continuously secured by such obligations of or guaranteed by the United States. Any bank acting as such trustee may, to the extent permitted by such proceedings, buy bonds issued hereunder to the same extent as if it were not such trustee. Said proceedings may provide for one or more co-trustees, and any co-trustee may be any competent individual over the age of twenty-one years or a bank having trust powers or trust company within or without the state. The proceedings authorizing the bonds may provide that some or all of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds, the revenues of any facilities, the proceeds of the sale of any part of a facility, of any insurance policy or of any condemnation award be deposited with the trustee or a co-trustee and applied as provided in said proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Prior to the issuance of the bonds authorized by this chapter, the municipality may lease the facilities to a lessee or lessees under an agreement providing for payment to the municipality of such rentals as will be sufficient (a) to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds issued to finance the facilities, (b) to pay the taxes on the facilities, (c) to build up and maintain any reserves deemed by the governing body to be advisable in connection therewith, and (d) unless the agreement of lease obligates the lessees to pay for the maintenance and insurance of the facilities, to pay the costs of maintaining the facilities in good repair and keeping the same properly insured. Subject to the limitations of this chapter, the lease or extensions or modifications thereof may contain such other terms and conditions as may be mutually acceptable to the parties, and notwithstanding any other provisions of law relating to the sale of property owned by municipalities, such lease may contain an option for the lessees to purchase the facilities on such terms and conditions with or without consideration as may be mutually acceptable to the parties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Any bonds issued under the provisions of this chapter and at any time outstanding may at any time and from time to time be refunded by a municipality by the issuance of its refunding bonds in such amount as the governing body may deem necessary but not exceeding an amount sufficient to refund the principal of the bonds to be so refunded, together with any unpaid interest thereon and any premiums and commissions necessary to be paid in connection therewith: PROVIDED, That an issue of refunding bonds may be combined with an issue of additional revenue bonds on any facilities. Any such refunding may be effected whether the bonds to be refunded shall have then matured or shall thereafter mature, either by sale of the refunding bonds and the application of the proceeds thereof for the payment of the bonds to be refunded thereby, or by exchange of the refunding bonds for the bonds to be refunded thereby: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the holders of any bonds to be so refunded shall not be compelled without their consent to surrender their bonds for payment or exchange except on the terms expressed on the face thereof. Any refunding bonds issued under the authority of this chapter shall be subject to the provisions contained in section 5 of this 1973 act and may be secured in accordance with the provisions of section 6 of this 1973 act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The proceeds from the sale of any bonds issued under authority of this chapter shall be applied only for the purpose for which the bonds were issued: PROVIDED, That any accrued interest and premium received in any such sale shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or the interest on the bonds sold: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That if for any reason any portion of such proceeds shall not be needed for the purpose for which the bonds were issued, then such unneeded portion of said proceeds shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or the interest on said bonds. The cost of acquiring or improving any facilities shall be deemed to include the following: The actual cost of acquiring or improving real estate for any facilities; the actual cost of construction of all or any part of the facilities which may be constructed, including architects' and engineers' fees, all expenses in connection with the authorization, sale and issuance of the bonds to finance such acquisition or improvements; and the interest on such bonds for a reasonable time prior to construction, during construction, and for a time not exceeding six months after completion of construction.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The facilities shall be constructed, reconstructed, and improved and shall be leased, sold or otherwise disposed of in the manner determined by the governing body in its sole discretion and any requirement of competitive bidding, lease performance bonds or other restriction imposed on the procedure for award of contracts for such purpose or the lease, sale or other disposition of property of a municipality is not applicable to any action taken under authority of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Upon request by a municipality or by a user of the facilities the department of ecology may in relation to chapter 54, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and this 1973 act issue its certificate stating that the facilities (1) as designed are in furtherance of the purpose of abating, controlling or preventing pollution, and/or (2) as designed or as operated meet state and local requirements for the control of pollution. This section shall not be construed as modifying the provisions of RCW 82.34.030; chapter 70.94 RCW; or chapter 90.48 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as a restriction or limitation upon any powers which a municipality might otherwise have under any laws of this state, but shall be construed as cumulative.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. If any provision of this 1973 act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this 1973 act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. All acquisitions by port districts pursuant to RCW 53.08.040 may, at the option of a port commission, be deemed to be made under this 1973 act, or under both: PROVIDED, That nothing contained in this 1973 act shall impair rights or obligations under contracts entered into before the effective date of this 1973 act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. Section 2, chapter 54, Laws of 1972

ex. sess. and RCW 43.21A.065 are each hereby repealed.

Passed the Senate February 13, 1973.

Passed the House February 28, 1973.

Approved by the Governor March 19, 1973, with the exception of subsections (1)(b)(i) through (1)(b)(iv) of section five which are vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State March 20, 1973.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to a certain item in Senate Bill No. 2213 entitled:

"AN ACT Regulating the practice of nursing."

This act comprehensively reformulates the law relating to the regulation of nursing practice. This legislation has the effect of bringing the law up to date with many currently accepted nursing practices and building into the administrative processes sufficient flexibility to meet future needs of the profession.

Veto
Message

Part of the basis of increased flexibility results from extending the authority and responsibility of the state board of nursing. That board shall consist of seven members and includes six nurses and one public member. In section five, subsection (1)(b)(i) through subsection (1)(b)(iv), the act details at considerable length the qualifications required of individual nurse members of the board. Without these subsections, there remain the requirements that nurse members be licensed under the act, have five years of practice and have actively practiced within two years of appointment. The further detailing of requirements in subsections (1)(b)(i) through (1)(b)(iv) of section five could unduly restrict representation on the board and therefore not serve the best interests of the people or the profession. Accordingly, I have determined to veto that portion of section five.

Message

With the exception of subsections (1)(b)(i) through (1)(b)(iv) of section five, I have approved Senate Bill No. 2213."

(4) From a parent who has been found by a court of competent jurisdiction, upon notice as herein provided to such parent, to have deserted or abandoned such child under circumstances showing a wilful substantial lack of regard for parental obligations;

(5) From a ~~((father))~~ parent of an illegitimate child who prior to entry of the interlocutory decree of adoption has not contested the proposed adoption after having been provided with notice of a hearing on an adoption petition pursuant to the notice provisions of section 6 of this 1973 amendatory act.

abandonment or neglect to provide for his family, the mother shall have authority to make such surrender, and in case of the death or legal incapacity of a mother, or her abandonment of such child, then the father shall have authority to make such surrender.

(3) In all cases where the person or persons legally authorized to make such surrender are not known, any judge of superior court may cause a notice of hearing to be published in any newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county, and if he deems it best for such orphan, homeless, neglected or abused child, he may surrender it to any benevolent or charitable society incorporated under the laws of Washington and having for its object the care of such children.

(4) In cases where the child to be surrendered is illegitimate and is surrendered in writing by either parent, but not both parents, then the court shall hold a hearing on the surrender in the manner provided under section 8 of this 1973 amendatory act, and if the parent who has not agreed to the surrender in writing does not contest the surrender at such hearing, then such parent shall be deemed to have surrendered the child and the court shall authorize the surrender. This subsection shall not apply to or bar surrenders authorized under subsection (2) of this section.

(5) When any child shall have been surrendered in accordance with any of the preceding clauses and such child shall have been accepted by such society, then, (but not otherwise), the rights of its natural parents or of the guardian of its person (if any) shall cease and such corporation shall become entitled to the custody of such child, and shall have authority to care for and educate such child or place it either temporarily or permanently in a suitable private home in such manner as shall best secure its welfare. Such corporation shall have authority when any such child has been surrendered to it in accordance with any of the preceding provisions, and it is still in its control, to consent to its adoption under the laws of Washington. The custody or control of any such child by any such corporation or by any other corporation, institution, society or person may be inquired into, and, in the discretion of the court, terminated at any time by the superior court of the county where the child may be, upon the complaint of any person, and a showing that such custody is not in the interest of the child.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. There is added to chapter 49, Laws of 1903 and to chapter 26.37 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) Whenever one parent, but not both parents, of an illegitimate child surrenders the child in writing pursuant to subsection (4) of section 7 of this 1973 amendatory act, the surrender shall not be valid unless a petition for surrender is granted by the court in conformity with the provisions of this section. The court shall grant such petition if the parent who did not provide the surrender in writing fails to contest the petition at the hearing held thereon.

(2) Where the court has reason to believe or suspect that any person not before the court is or might be the parent of such child, the court shall direct the clerk to issue the notice prescribed in subsection (4) of this section to such person. The notice required under this subsection shall be served in the manner provided by law for the service of summons upon the person entitled thereto at least ten days prior to the hearing. In the event that a person entitled to notice under this subsection is a nonresident of the state or cannot after diligent search be found within the state, then:

(a) If the last known place of residence of such person is known, a copy of the notice shall be deposited in the post office, postage prepaid, directed to such person at his last known place of residence.

(b) If the last known place of residence of such person is not known then notice shall be made by publication in the manner required under subsection (3) of this section and as prescribed under subsection (4) of this section.

(3) Notice by publication shall be made in every case, except where service of the notice has been made on a person who either:

(a) acknowledges that he is a parent and the court finds him to be a parent, or

(b) has been found to be the father pursuant to chapter 26.24 RCW.

In addition, the court may require notice by publication whenever the court believes such notice might be necessary to protect the validity of adoption proceedings and any decree of adoption. Whenever notice by publication is required, the court shall direct the clerk to publish the notice in a legal newspaper printed in the county, qualified to publish summons, once a week for three consecutive weeks, the first publication of said notice to be at least twenty-four days prior to the date fixed for the hearing. The notice shall be in the form prescribed under subsection (4) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. There is added to chapter 26.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The parents of an illegitimate child shall have primary rights to the custody of such child. Between the parents of an illegitimate child, that parent who is the more fit from the standpoint of furthering the child's welfare shall have the superior right to custody. In any dispute between the natural parents of an illegitimate child and person or persons who have (1) commenced adoption proceedings or who have been granted an order of adoption, and (2) pursuant to court order or placement by the department of social and health services or licensed agency have had actual custody of the child for a period of one year or more before court action is commenced by the natural parent or parents, the court shall consider the best welfare and interests of the child, including the child's need for situation stability, in determining the matter of custody, and the parent or person who is more fit shall have the superior right to custody.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. There is added to chapter 291, Laws of 1955 and to chapter 26.32 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Where a natural parent (or parents) of an illegitimate child successfully petitions to have the adoption of the child set aside, the parent shall be liable to the adoptive parents (or parent) for their direct and indirect costs in supporting such child.

The term "direct and indirect costs" as used in this section shall include both actual expenditures and the value of services rendered by the adoptive parents in caring for the child.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. There is added to chapter 291, Laws of 1955 and to chapter 26.32 RCW a new section to read as follows:

In each action brought by a natural parent (or parents) of an illegitimate child to set aside the adoption of the child, no hearing or trial on the merits of the action shall be conducted until such time as the natural parent (or parents) posts a bond equal to one hundred dollars for each period of thirty days which the adoptive parents (or parent) had custody of the child. Such bond shall be used to satisfy the adoptive parents' right under section 10 of this 1973 amendatory act to compensation for support in the event the adoption is set aside.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. This 1973 amendatory act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. If any provision of this 1973 amendatory act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

Passed the Senate March 2, 1973.

Passed the House February 28, 1973.

Approved by the Governor March 20, 1973, with the exception of Section 11 which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State March 20, 1973.

Veto Overriden by Senate April 7, 1973.

Veto Overriden by House April 14, 1973.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section Senate Bill No. 2459 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to domestic relations."

This bill creates rights and processes relating to the custody of children, which recognizes that neither parent may be absolutely barred from custody of a child.

The necessity for this legislation arises from the decisional law of the U. S. Supreme Court, which has held that the fact of nonmarriage between parents is not sufficient grounds to deny a father all chance of having custody of his children.

As a direct consequence of the decision of the Supreme Court, fathers must now be given adequate notice of proceedings, within the meaning of the due process clause of the Constitution, when their illegitimate children are put up for adoption. Failure to give such notice can mean that adoptive parents may lose their child at some point in the future if the parent who was not notified attacks the adoption in court. The processes and procedures provided for in this act are designed to render as secure as possible any adoption which is finalized in a legal manner.

Section ten of the act further provides that a parent who successfully attacks an adoption to obtain custody of the adoptive child must pay the adoptive parents all direct and indirect costs of child support which the adoptive parents had previously incurred. Section eleven provides that, before a natural parent may file suit to obtain custody of his child from adoptive parents, he must file a bond in the amount of $100 a month for every month the adoptive parents had custody of the child, such bond to be security for any damages which might be adjudged under section ten. Section eleven clearly discriminates against those persons who have insufficient resources to obtain the bond, preventing those persons from even getting into a court to test the merits of their claim. The random impact of such a provision, denying only those who have limited resources full access to the courts, deters the basic function of the judicial system, to decide the issues of a law suit on its merits. Accordingly, I have determined to veto section eleven for the reasons set forth above.

With the exception of section eleven, I have approved Senate Bill No. 2459."

Note: Secretary of the Senate's letter informing the Secretary of State that the Legislature has overridden the Governor's partial veto is as follows:

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. In order to protect the public health and to conserve and protect the water resources of the state, it is necessary to provide for the classifying of all domestic wastewater treatment plants; to require the examination and certification of the persons responsible for the supervision and operation of such systems; and to provide for the promulgation of rules and regulations to carry out this chapter.

(6) "Operator" means an individual employed or appointed by any county, sewer district, municipality, public or private corporation, company, institution, person, or the state of Washington who is designated by the employing or appointing officials as the person on-site in responsible charge of the actual operation of a waste treatment plant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. As provided for in this chapter, the operator in responsible charge of the day-to-day operation of a waste treatment plant shall be certified. When a waste treatment plant is normally operated for more than one shift, the man responsible for each shift operation shall also be certified. Operating personnel not required to be certified by this chapter are encouraged to become certified hereunder on a voluntary basis.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The director, with the approval of the board, shall adopt and enforce such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the administration of this chapter. The rules and regulations shall include, but not be limited to, provisions for the qualification and certification of operators for different classifications of waste treatment plants.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The director shall classify all waste treatment plants with regard to the size, type, and other conditions affecting the complexity of such treatment plants and the skill, knowledge, and experience required of an operator to supervise the operation of such facilities to protect the public health and the State's water resources.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The director is authorized when taking action pursuant to sections 4 and 5 of this 1973 act to consider generally applicable criteria and guidelines developed by a nationally recognized association of certification authorities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this chapter, a board of examiners for wastewater operator certification shall be appointed. This board may serve in a common capacity for the certification of both water and wastewater plant and system operators. (2) Certificates, in appropriate classifications, shall be issued to persons certified by a governing body or owner to have been the operator in responsible charge of a waste treatment plant on the effective date of this 1973 act. A certificate so issued will be valid only for the existing plant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The issuance and renewal of a certificate shall be subject to the following conditions:

(1) A certificate shall be issued if the operator has satisfactorily passed a written examination, or has met the requirements of section 8 of this 1973 act, and has met the requirements specified in the rules and regulations as authorized by this chapter, and has paid the department an application fee of ten dollars.

(2) The term for all certificates shall be from the first of January of the year of issuance until the thirty-first of December of the same year. Every certificate shall be renewed annually upon the payment of a five dollar renewal fee and satisfactory evidence presented to the director that the operator demonstrates continued professional growth in the field.

(3) An individual who fails to renew the certificate before the end of certification year, upon notice by the director shall have his certificate suspended for thirty days. If, during the suspension period, the renewal is not completed, the director shall give notice of revocation to the employer and to the operator and the certificate will be revoked ten days after such notice is given. An operator whose certificate has been revoked must reapply for certification and will be requested to meet the requirements of a new applicant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The director may, with the recommendation of the board and after a hearing before the same, revoke a certificate found to have been obtained by fraud or deceit, or for gross negligence in the operation of a waste treatment plant, or for violating the requirements of this chapter or any lawful rule, order or regulation of the department. No person whose certificate is revoked under this section shall be eligible to apply for a certificate for one year from the effective date of this final order or revocation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. To carry out the provisions and purposes of this chapter, the director is authorized and empowered to:

(5) Establish adequate fiscal controls and accounting procedures to assure proper disbursement of and accounting for funds appropriated or otherwise provided for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. On and after one year following the effective date of this 1973 act, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, municipal corporation, or other governmental subdivision or agency to operate a waste treatment plant unless the operator of the plant or system is duly certified by the director under the provisions of this chapter or any lawful rule, order, or regulation of the department. BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

Section 1. Section 1, chapter 183, Laws of 1949 as last amended by section 1, chapter 167, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 49.60.010 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter shall be known as the "law against discrimination". It is an exercise of the police power of the state for the protection of the public welfare, health and peace of the people of this state, and in fulfillment of the provisions of the Constitution of this state concerning civil rights. The legislature hereby finds and declares that practices of discrimination against any of its inhabitants because of race, creed, color, ~~((or))~~ national origin, sex, marital status or age are a matter of state concern, that such discrimination threatens not only the rights and proper privileges of its inhabitants but menaces the institutions and foundation of a free democratic state. A state agency is herein created with powers with respect to elimination and prevention of discrimination in employment, in credit and insurance transactions, in places of public resort, accommodation or amusement, and in real property transactions because of race, creed, color, ~~((or))~~ national origin, sex, marital status or age; and the board established hereunder is hereby given general jurisdiction and power for such purposes.

Sec. 2. Section 12, chapter 183, Laws of 1949 as amended by section 2, chapter 37, Laws of 1957 and RCW 49.60.020 are each amended to read as follows:

The provisions of this chapter shall be construed liberally for the accomplishment of the purposes thereof. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be deemed to repeal any of the provisions of any other law of this state relating to discrimination because of race, color, creed, ~~((or))~~ nation origin, sex, marital status or age, other than a law which purports to require or permit doing any act which is an unfair practice under this chapter. Nor shall anything herein contained by construed to deny the right to any person to institute any action or pursue any civil or criminal remedy based upon an alleged violation of his civil rights. ~~((However, the election of a person to pursue such a remedy shall preclude him from pursuing those~~ administrative remedies created by this chapter.)

Sec. 3. Section 2, chapter 183, Laws of 1949 as last amended by section 2, chapter 167, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 49.60.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The right to be free from discrimination because of race, creed, color, ~~((or))~~ national origin, or sex is recognized as and declared to be a civil right. This right shall include, but not be limited to:

~~((3))~~ (c) The right to engage in real estate transactions without discrimination;

(d) The right to engage in credit or insurance transactions without discrimination;

(2) Any person deeming himself injured by any act in violation of this chapter shall have a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin further violations, to recover the actual damages sustained by him, or both, together with the cost of suit including a reasonable attorney's fees or any other remedy authorized by this chapter or the United States Civil Rights Act of 1964; and

(3) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, any act prohibited by this chapter which is committed in the course of trade or commerce in the state of Washington as defined in the Consumer Protection Act, chapter 19.86 RCW, shall be deemed an unfair practice within the meaning of RCW 19.86.020 and subject to all the provisions of chapter 19.86 RCW as now or hereafter amended.

[House Bill No. 48]

PROBATE--DISCLAIMER OF INTEREST--WILLS, TRUST, INTESTACY

AN ACT Relating to interests passing by will, trust instrument, intestate succession or under powers of appointment; and adding new sections to chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and to Title 11 RCW as a new chapter.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 145, Laws of 1945 and to Title 11 RCW a new chapter to read as set forth in sections 2 through 10 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. As used in this section, unless otherwise clearly required by the context:

(1) "Beneficiary" means and includes any person entitled, but for his disclaimer, to take an interest: By intestate succession, devise, legacy, or bequest; by succession to a disclaimed interest by will, trust instrument, intestate succession, or through the exercise or nonexercise of a testamentary or other power of appointment; by virtue of a renunciation and election to take against a will; as beneficiary of a testamentary or other written trust; pursuant to the exercise or nonexercise of a testamentary or other power of appointment; as donee of a power of appointment created by testamentary or trust instrument; or otherwise under a testamentary or trust instrument or community property agreement; or by right of survivorship.

(2) "Interest" means and includes the whole of any property, real or personal, legal or equitable, or any fractional part, share or particular portion or specific assets thereof, or any estate in any such property, or power to appoint, consume, apply or expend property or any other right, power, privilege or immunity relating thereto.

(3) "Disclaimer" means a written instrument which declines, refuses, releases, renounces or disclaims an interest which would otherwise be succeeded to by a beneficiary, which instrument defines the nature and extent of the interest disclaimed thereby and which must be signed, witnessed and acknowledged by the disclaimant in the manner provided for deeds of real estate, and also a written instrument which exercises a power to invade the corpus or principal of an estate or trust when such exercise has the effect of terminating an interest which could otherwise be succeeded to by a beneficiary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A beneficiary may disclaim any interest in whole or in part, or with reference to specific parts, shares or assets thereof, by filing a disclaimer in court in the manner provided in sections 4 and 5 of this act. A guardian, executor, administrator or other personal representative of the estate of a minor, incompetent or deceased beneficiary, if he deems it in the best interests of those interested in the estate of such beneficiary and of those who take the beneficiary's interest by virtue of the disclaimer and not detrimental to the best interests of the beneficiary, with or without an order of the probate court, may execute and file a disclaimer on behalf of the beneficiary within the time and in the manner in which the beneficiary himself could disclaim if he were living, of legal age and competent. A beneficiary likewise may execute and file a disclaimer by agent or attorney so empowered.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Such disclaimer shall be filed at any time after the creation of the interest, but in all events within the later of six months from the effective date of this act or six months after the death of the person by whom the interest was created or from whom it is or, but for the disclaimer would be received, or, if the disclaimant is not finally ascertained as a beneficiary or his interest has not become indefeasibly fixed both in quality and quantity as of the death of such person, then such disclaimer shall be filed not later than six months after the event which causes or, but for the disclaimer, would cause him so to become finally ascertained and his interest to become indefeasibly fixed both in quality and quantity.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Such disclaimer shall be effective upon being filed with the clerk of the court of which the estate of the person by whom the interest was created or from whom it would have been received is, or has been, administered or, if no probate administration has been commenced, then with the clerk of the court of any county provided by law as the place for probate administration of the estate of such person, where it shall be indexed under the name of the decedent in the probate index upon payment of a fee of two dollars. A copy of the disclaimer shall be delivered or mailed by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested to the representative, trustee or other person having legal title to, or possession of, the property in which the interest disclaimed exists, and no such representative, trustee or person shall be liable for any otherwise proper distribution or other disposition made without actual knowledge of the disclaimer, or in reliance upon the disclaimer and without actual knowledge that said disclaimer is barred as provided in section 7 of this act. If an interest in or relating to real estate is disclaimed, the original of the disclaimer, or a copy of the disclaimer certified as true and complete by the clerk of the court wherein the same has been filed, shall be recorded in the office of the auditor in the county or counties where the real estate is situated and shall constitute notice to all persons only from and after the time of such recording.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Unless the person by whom the interest was created or from whom it would have been received has otherwise provided by will or other appropriate instrument with reference to the possibility of a disclaimer by the beneficiary, the interest disclaimed shall descend, be distributed or otherwise be disposed of in the same manner as if the disclaimant had died immediately preceding the death or other event which causes him to become finally ascertained as a beneficiary and his interest to become indefeasibly fixed both in quality and quantity and in any case, the disclaimer shall relate for all purposes to such date, whether filed before or after such death or other event. However, one disclaiming an interest in a nonresiduary gift, devise or bequest shall not be excluded, unless his disclaimer so provides, from sharing in a gift, devise or bequest of the residue even though, through lapse, such residue includes the assets disclaimed. An interest of any nature in or to the estate of an intestate may be declined, refused or disclaimed as herein provided without ever vesting in the disclaimant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The right to disclaim otherwise conferred by this act shall be barred if the beneficiary is insolvent at the time of the event giving rise to the commencement of the six months period within which the disclaimer must be filed. Any voluntary assignment or transfer of, or contract to assign or transfer, an interest in real or personal property, or written waiver of the right to disclaim the succession to an interest in real or personal property, by any beneficiary, or any sale or other disposition of an interest in real or personal property pursuant to judicial process, made before he has filed a disclaimer, as provided in section 5 of this act, bars the right otherwise conferred on such beneficiary to disclaim as to such interest.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The right to disclaim granted by section 3 of this act exists regardless of any limitation imposed on the interest of the disclaimant in the nature of an express or implied spendthrift provision or similar restriction. A disclaimer, when filed as provided in section 5 of this act, or a written waiver of the right to disclaim, shall be binding upon the disclaimant or beneficiary so waiving and all parties thereafter claiming by, through or under him, except that a beneficiary so waiving may thereafter transfer, assign or release his interest if such is not prohibited by an express or implied spendthrift provision.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. This act shall not abridge the right of any person, apart from this act, under any existing or future statute or rule of law, to disclaim any interest or to assign, convey, release, renounce or otherwise dispose of any interest.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Any interest which exists on the effective date of this act but which has not then become indefeasibly fixed both in quality and quantity, or the taker of which has not then become finally ascertained, may be disclaimed after the effective date of this act in the manner provided in sections 4 and 5 of this act.

PROPERTY TAXES--VEHICLE, AIRCRAFT
PARTS--EXEMPTION

AN ACT Relating to revenue and taxation; amending section 1, chapter 124, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 84.36.300; and adding a new section to chapter 84.36 RCW.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 84.36 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The legislature hereby finds and declares that to promote the policy of a free and uninhibited flow of commerce as established by federal constitutional and legislative dictate, it is desirable to exempt from property taxation, according to the provisions of section 2 of this 1973 amendatory act, certain parts and equipment coming into the state of Washington to be placed in vehicles which are then transferred to the possession of out-of-state owners. The legislature further recognizes that the temporary existence of these parts and equipment within the state justifies a tax exempt status which serves to encourage the manufacture and assemblage of vehicles within the state thereby promoting increased economic activity and jobs for our residents.

Sec. 2. Section 1, chapter 124, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 84.36.300 are each amended to read as follows:

There shall be exempt from taxation a portion of each separately assessed stock of merchandise, as that word is defined in this section, owned or held by any taxpayer on the first day of January of any year computed by first multiplying the total amount of that stock of such merchandise, as determined in accordance with RCW 84.40.020, by a percentage determined by dividing the amount of such merchandise brought into this state by the taxpayer during the preceding year for that stock by the total additions to that stock by the taxpayer during that year, and then multiplying the result of the latter computation by a percentage determined by dividing the total out-of-state shipments of such merchandise by the taxpayer during the preceding year from that stock (and regardless of whether or not any such shipments involved a sale of, or a transfer of title to, the merchandise within this state) by the total shipments of such merchandise by the taxpayer during the preceding year from that stock. As used in this section, the word "merchandise" means goods, wares, merchandise or material which were not manufactured in this state by the taxpayer and which were acquired by him (in any other manner whatsoever, including manufacture by him outside of this state) for the purpose of sale or shipment in substantially the same form in which they were acquired by him within this state or were brought into this state by him. Breaking of packages or of bulk shipments, packaging, repackaging, labeling or relabeling shall not be considered as a change in form within the meaning of this section. A taxpayer who has made no shipments of merchandise, either out-of-state or in-state, during the preceding year, may compute the percentage to be applied to the stock of merchandise on the basis of his experience from March 1 of the preceding year to the last day of February of the current year, in lieu of computing the percentage on the basis of his experience during the preceding year. The rule of strict construction shall not apply to this section.

All rights, title or interest in or to any aircraft parts, equipment, furnishings, or accessories (but not engines or major structural components) which are manufactured outside of the state of Washington and are owned by purchasers of the aircraft constructed, under construction or to be constructed in the state of Washington, and are shipped into the state of Washington for installation in or use in connection with the operation of such aircraft shall be exempt from taxation prior to and during construction of such aircraft and while held in this state for periods preliminary to and during the transportation of such aircraft from the state of Washington.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

Section 1. Section 2, chapter 125, Laws of 1971 ex.sess. and RCW 87.03.820 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever as the result of abandonment of an irrigation district right of way real property held by an irrigation district is to be sold or otherwise disposed of, notice shall be given to the owners of lands adjoining that real property and such owners shall have a ~~((preference))~~ right of first refusal to ~~((the))~~ purchase ~~((of))~~ at the appraised price all or any part of the real property to be sold or otherwise disposed of which adjoins or is adjacent to their land.

Real property to be sold or otherwise disposed of under this section shall have been first appraised by the county assessor or by a person designated by him.

Notice under this section shall be sufficient if sent by registered mail to the owner, and at the address, as shown in the tax records of the county in which the land is situated. Notice under this section shall be in addition to any other notice required by law.

After sixty days from the date of sending of notice, if no applications for purchase have been received by the irrigation district or other person or entity sending notice, the ~~((preference))~~ rights of first refusal of owners of adjoining lands shall be deemed to have been waived, and the real property may be sold or otherwise disposed of.

If two or more owners of adjoining lands apply to purchase the same real property, or apply to purchase overlapping parts of the real property, the respective rights of the applicants may be determined in the superior court of the county in which the real property is situated; and the court may divide the real property in question between some or all of the applicants or award the whole to one applicant, as justice may require.

Any sale or other disposal of real property pursuant to chapters 87.52, 87.53, and 87.56 RCW shall be made in accordance with the requirements of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 58.17 RCW a new section to read as follows:

appropriate legislative authority. Compliance with the requirements of this section together with all other applicable provisions of this chapter shall be a prerequisite, within the expressed purpose of this chapter, to any sale, lease, or development of land in this state.

(3) The stock of a subsidiary of an insurer shall be valued on the basis of the ((value of only such of the assets of such subsidiary as would constitute lawful investments for the insurer if acquired or held directly by the insurer)) greater of (a) the value of only such of the assets of such subsidiary as would constitute lawful investments for the insurer if acquired or held directly by the insurer or (b) such other value determined pursuant to rules and cumulative limitations which shall be promulgated by the commissioner to effectuate the purposes of this chapter.

Sec. 2. Section .13.01, chapter 79, Laws of 1947 and RCW 48.13.010 are each amended to read as follows:

(2) Any particular investment of a domestic insurer held by it on the effective date of this code and which was a legal investment immediately prior thereto, shall be deemed a legal investment hereunder.

(3) The eligibility of an investment shall be determined as of the date of its making or acquisition.

(4) Except as to RCW 48.13.360, this chapter applies only to domestic insurers.

Sec. 3. Section .13.16, chapter 79, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 7, chapter 241, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 48.13.160 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An insurer may own and invest or have invested in its home office and branch office buildings any of its funds in aggregate amount not to exceed ten percent of its assets unless approved by the commissioner, or if a mutual or reciprocal insurer not to exceed ten percent of its assets nor such amount as would reduce its surplus, exclusive of such investment, below fifty thousand dollars unless approved by the commissioner.

(2) An insurer may own real property acquired in satisfaction or on account of loans, mortgages, liens, judgments, or other debts previously owing to the insurer in the course of its business.

(3) An insurer may invest or have invested in aggregate amount not exceeding three percent of its assets in the following real property, and in the repair, alteration, furnishing, or improvement thereof:

(a) Real property requisite for its accommodation in the convenient transaction of its business if approved by the commissioner.

(b) Real property acquired by gift or devise.

(c) Real property acquired in exchange for real property owned by it. If necessary in order to consummate such an exchange, the insurer may put up cash in amount not to exceed twenty percent of the fair value of its real property to be so exchanged, in addition to such property.

(d) Real property acquired through a lawful merger or consolidation with it of another insurer and not required for the purposes specified in subsection (1) and in paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of this section.

(e) Upon approval of the commissioner, in real property and equipment incident to real property, requisite or desirable for the protection or enhancement of the value of other real property owned by the insurer.

(4) A domestic life insurer with assets of at least twenty-five million dollars and at least ten million dollars in capital and surplus, and a domestic property and casualty insurer with assets of at least seventy-five million dollars and at least thirty million dollars in capital and surplus, or, if a mutual or reciprocal property or casualty insurer, at least thirty million dollars in surplus, may, in addition to the real property included in subsections (1), (2) and (3) of this section, own such real property other than property to be used primarily for agricultural, horticultural, ranch, mining, recreational, amusement, or club purposes, as may be acquired as an investment for the production of income, or as may be acquired to be improved or developed for such investment purpose pursuant to an existing program therefor, subject to the following limitations and conditions:

(a) The cost of each parcel of real property so acquired under this subsection (4), including the estimated cost to the insurer of the improvement or development thereof, when added to the book value of all other real property under this subsection (4), together with the admitted value of all common stock, then held by it, shall not exceed twenty percent of its admitted assets or fifty percent of its surplus over the minimum required surplus, whichever is greater, as of the thirty-first day of December next preceding; and

(b) The cost of each parcel of real property so acquired, including the estimated cost to the insurer of the improvement or development thereof, shall not exceed as of the thirty-first day of December next preceding, four percent of its admitted assets.

(c) Indirect or proportionate interests in real estate held by a domestic life insurer through any subsidiary shall be included in proportion to such insurer's interest in the subsidiary in applying the limits provided in subsection (4).

Sec. 4. Section .13.22, chapter 79, Laws of 1947 as amended by section 18, chapter 190, Laws of 1949 and RCW 48.13.220 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) After satisfying the requirements of RCW 48.13.260, an insurer may invest any of its funds in common shares of stock in solvent United States corporations that qualify as a sound investment; except, that as to life insurers such investments shall further not aggregate an amount in excess of fifty percent of the insurer's surplus over its minimum required surplus.

(2) The insurer shall not invest in or loan upon the security of more than ten percent of the outstanding common shares of any one such corporation, subject further to ((amount invested as limited by)) the aggregate investment limitation of RCW 48.13.030. ((This limitation shall not apply to investment in the securities of any subsidiary corporation of the insurer which is engaged exclusively in a kind of business properly incidental to the insurance business of the insurer.))

(3) The limitations of subsection (2) of this section shall not apply to investment in the securities of any subsidiary corporations of the insurer which are engaged or organized to engage exclusively in one or more of the following businesses:

(a) Acting as an insurance agent for its parent or for any of its parent's insurer subsidiaries or affiliates;

(b) Investing, reinvesting, or trading in securities or acting as a securities broker or dealer for its own account, that of its parent, any subsidiary of its parent, or any affiliate or subsidiary;

(c) Rendering management, sales, or other related services to any investment company subject to the Federal Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended;

(d) Rendering investment advice;

(e) Rendering services related to the functions involved in the operation of an insurance business including, but not limited to, actuarial, loss prevention, safety engineering, data processing, accounting, claims appraisal, and collection services;

(f) Acting as administrator of employee welfare benefit and pension plans for governments, government agencies, corporations, or other organizations or groups;

(g) Ownership and management of assets which the parent could itself own and manage: PROVIDED, That the aggregate investment by the insurer and its subsidiaries acquired pursuant to this paragraph shall not exceed the limitations otherwise applicable to such investments by the parent;

(h) Acting as administrative agent for a government instrumentality which is performing an insurance function or is responsible for a health or welfare program;

(i) Financing of insurance premiums;

(j) Any other business activity reasonably ancillary to an insurance business;

(k) Owning a corporation or corporations engaged or organized to engage exclusively in either, or both (i) owning an insurer or insurers to the extent permitted by this chapter, or (ii) one or more of the businesses specified in paragraph (a) through (k) of this subsection inclusive.

(4) No acquisition of a majority of the total outstanding common shares of any corporation shall be made pursuant to this section unless a notice of intention of such proposed acquisition shall have been filed with the commissioner not less than ninety days, or such shorter period as may be permitted by the commissioner, in advance of such proposed acquisition, nor shall any such acquisition be made if the commissioner at any time prior to the expiration of the notice period finds that the proposed acquisition is contrary to law, or determines that such proposed acquisition would be contrary to the best interests of the parent insurer's policyholders or of the people of this state. The following shall be the only factors to be considered in making the foregoing determination:

(a) The availability of the funds or assets required for such acquisition;

(b) The fairness of any exchange of stock, assets, cash, or other consideration for the stock or assets to be received;

(c) The impact of the new operation on the parent insurer's surplus and existing insurance business and the risks inherent in the parent insurer's investment portfolio and operations;

(d) The fairness and adequacy of the financing proposed for the subsidiary;

(e) The likelihood of undue concentration of economic power;

(f) Whether the effect of the acquisition may be substantially to lessen competition in any line of commerce in insurance or to tend to create a monopoly therein; and

(g) Whether the acquisition might result in an excessive proliferation of subsidiaries which would tend to unduly dilute management effectiveness or weaken financial strength or otherwise be contrary to the best interests of the parent insurer's policyholders or of the people of this state. At any time after an acquisition, the commissioner may order its disposition if he finds, after notice and hearing, that its continued retention is hazardous or prejudicial to the interests of the parent insurer's policyholders. The contents of each notice of intention of a proposed acquisition filed hereunder and information pertaining thereto shall be kept confidential, shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be made public unless after notice and hearing the commissioner determines that the interests of policyholders, stockholders, or the public will be served by the publication thereof.

(5) A domestic insurance company may, provided that it maintains books and records which separately account for such business, engage directly in any business referred to in paragraphs (d), (e), (h), and (j) of subsection (3) of this section either to the extent necessarily or properly incidental to the insurance business the insurer is authorized to do in this state or to the extent approved by the commissioner and subject to any limitations he may prescribe for the protection of the interests of the policyholders of the insurer after taking into account the effect of such business on the insurer's existing insurance business and its surplus, the proposed allocation of the estimated cost of such business, and the risks inherent in such business as well as the relative advantages to the insurer and its policyholders of conducting such business directly instead of through a subsidiary.

Sec. 5. Section .13.29, chapter 79, Laws of 1947 and RCW 48.13.290 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any ineligible personal property or securities (~~lawfully~~) acquired by an insurer (~~which it could not otherwise have invested in or loaned its funds upon at the time of such acquisition, shall be disposed of by the insurer within one year from date of acquisition, unless within such period the security has attained to the standard for eligibility. The commissioner, upon application and proof that forced sale of any such property or security would be against the best interests of the insurer, may extend the disposal period for an additional reasonable time~~) may be required to be disposed of within the time not less than six months specified by order of the commissioner, unless before that time it attains the standard of eligibility, if retention of such property or securities would be contrary to the policyholders or public interest in that it tends to substantially lessen competition in the insurance business or threatens impairment of the financial condition of the insurer.

(2) (~~While any such property or security remains so ineligible it shall not be allowed as an asset of the insurer.~~) Any prohibited personal property or securities acquired by an insurer shall be disposed of forthwith or within any period specified by order of the commissioner.

(3) (~~Any ineligible property or security unlawfully acquired by an insurer shall be disposed of forthwith, and for failure so to do within thirty days after order of the commissioner requiring such disposal, the commissioner may revoke or suspend the insurer's certificate of authority.~~) Any property or securities ineligible only because of being excess of the amount permitted under this chapter to be invested in the category to which it belongs shall be ineligible only to the extent of such excess.

(~~4~~) For the purposes of subsection {3} of this section, an investment otherwise eligible shall not be deemed ineligible for the reason that it is in excess of the amount permitted under this chapter to be invested in the category of investments to which it belongs; and any such excess investment shall be disposed of within the time prescribed in subsection (4) of this section.)

For the protection of applicants and recipients, the department and the county offices and their respective officers and employees are prohibited, except as hereinafter provided, from disclosing the contents of any records, files, papers and communications, except for purposes directly connected with the administration of the programs of this title. In any judicial proceeding, except such proceeding as is directly concerned with the administration of these programs, such records, files, papers and communications, and their contents, shall be deemed privileged communications and except for the right of any individual to inquire of the office whether a named individual is a recipient of welfare assistance and such person shall be entitled to an affirmative or negative answer. [House Bill No. 34]

VOTER REGISTRATION--VOTER CARDS

AN ACT Relating to registration of voters; amending section 29.07.010, chapter 9, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 4, chapter 202, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 29.07.010; adding a new section to chapter 9, Laws of 1965 and RCW 29.07; and repealing section 29.07.040, chapter 9, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 6, chapter 202, Laws of 1971, 1st ex. sess. and RCW 29.07.040.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

Section 1. Section 29.07.010, chapter 9, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 4, chapter 202, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 29.07.010 are each amended to read as follows:

In all counties the county auditor shall be the chief registrar of voters for every precinct within the county. He shall appoint a deputy registrar for each precinct or for any number of precincts and shall appoint city or town clerks as deputy registrars to assist in registering voters residing in cities, towns, and rural precincts within the county. In addition, he shall appoint the precinct committeemen elected or appointed pursuant to the provisions of RCW 29.42.050 as deputy registrars to assist in registering voters.

A deputy registrar shall be a registered voter and, except for city and town clerks and precinct committeemen, shall hold office at the pleasure of the county auditor.

The county auditor shall be the custodian of the official registration records of each precinct within that county. The expenses of registration shall be apportioned between the county and cities or towns therein in the same manner as provided in RCW 29.07.030.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 9, Laws of 1965 and RCW 29.07 a new section to read as follows:

The county auditor shall acknowledge each new voter registration by sending to the voter, by first class non-forwardable mail, a card identifying his current precinct and containing such other information as may be prescribed by the secretary of state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Section 29.07.040, chapter 9, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 6, chapter 202, Laws of 1971, 1st ex. sess. and RCW 29.07.040 are each repealed.

Passed the House March 7, 1973.

Passed the Senate March 7, 1973.

Approved by the Governor March 20, 1973, with the exception of Section one and Section three which are vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State March 20, 1973.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to certain sections House Bill No. 34 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to registration of voters."

This bill, in section one, would require that all precinct committeemen be appointed deputy registrars for the purpose of registering voters. The mandatory nature of the language means that each precinct would automatically have two registrars. Additionally, there is no limitation restricting such appointees to their own precinct, as a consequence of which precinct committeemen could register a person anywhere in the county. This very large number of deputy registrars, circulating any place in a county, could create administrative chaos for county auditors. The very large number of deputy registrars could easily cause numerous late filings of registrations and create other erroneous registrations, the only result of which would be to disenfranchise the voter.

Veto
Message

Veto
Message

In 1965 the Legislature passed House Bill No. 378, which required the appointment of permanent registration officers in each legislative district of each first-class city who would specifically represent each major political party. At that time I indicated that the intrusion of partisan politics into voter registration programs and the administrative burden of the additional registrars was sufficient reason to disapprove the measure.

Section three of this bill repeals the statute allowing and providing for compensation of deputy registrars. For the reasons cited above, I have determined to veto section one, and inasmuch as section three is directly related to section one, I have determined to veto that also.

With the exception of sections one and three, I have approved the remainder of House Bill No. 34."

Passed the House March 3, 1973.

Passed the Senate February 27, 1973.

Approved by the Governor March 20, 1973, with the exception of a certain item in Section 1 and Section 2 which are vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State March 20, 1973.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith, without my approval as to certain items, House Bill No. 489 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to public employment."

This bill amends the state civil service law and the state higher education personnel law to provide that upon the request of a certified bargaining unit representative, the director of personnel will hold an election to determine if a majority of persons within the bargaining unit, who vote at such elections, desire to require membership in the certified exclusive bargaining organization, as a condition of employment. If the vote is in favor of requiring such membership, all members of the bargaining unit must join within 30 days. Further elections to remove the membership requirement may be held no more than once a year and upon petition of thirty percent of the membership of the bargaining unit.

It is not normally appropriate to allow a person to in effect cast a negative vote on an issue by failing to vote at all. However, in this case, the question of whether or not an individual bargaining unit shall adopt a mandatory membership requirement is of such critical importance that it should be clear that a majority of the membership of that bargaining unit is in favor of such action before it occurs. Accordingly, I have determined to veto those items, as they appear in sections one and two, which allow less than a majority of the total membership of a bargaining unit to adopt mandatory membership requirements as a condition of employment.

With the exception of those items, I have approved the remainder of House Bill No. 489.

It is declared to be the public policy of the state of Washington to maintain the highest possible standards to insure the purity of all waters of the state consistent with public health and public enjoyment thereof, the propagation and protection of wild life, birds, game, fish and other aquatic life, and the industrial development of the state, and to that end require the use of all known available and reasonable methods by industries and others to prevent and control the pollution of the waters of the state of Washington. Consistent with this policy, the state of Washington will exercise its powers, as fully and as effectively as possible, to retain and secure high quality for all waters of the state. The state of Washington in recognition of the federal government's interest in the quality of the navigable waters of the United States, of which certain portions thereof are within the jurisdictional limits of this state, proclaims a public policy of working cooperatively with the federal government in a joint effort to extinguish the sources of water quality degradation, while at the same time preserving and vigorously exercising state powers to insure that present and future standards of water quality within the state shall be determined by the citizenry, through and by the efforts of state government, of the state of Washington.

(1) Whenever, in the opinion of the ((commission)) department, any person shall violate or is about to violate the provisions of this chapter, or fails to control the polluting content of waste discharged or to be discharged into any waters of the state, the ((commission)) department shall notify such person of its determination by registered mail. Such determination shall not constitute an order or directive under RCW 90.48.135. Within thirty days from the receipt of notice of such determination, such person shall file with the ~~((commission))~~ department a full report stating what steps have been and are being taken to control such waste or pollution or to otherwise comply with the determination of the ~~((commission))~~ department. Whereupon the ~~((commission))~~ department shall issue such order or directive as it deems appropriate under the circumstances, and shall notify such person thereof by registered mail.

(2) Whenever the department deems immediate action is necessary to accomplish the purposes of chapter 90.48 RCW, it may issue such order or directive, as appropriate under the circumstances, without first issuing a notice or determination pursuant to subsection (1) of this section. An order or directive issued pursuant to this subsection shall be served by registered mail or personally upon any person to whom it is directed.

Sec. 3. Section 1, chapter 71, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 13, chapter 13, Laws of 1967 and RCW 90.48.160 are each amended to read as follows:

The department may, through the adoption of rules, eliminate the permit requirements for disposing of wastes into publicly operated sewerage systems for:

The ~~((commission))~~ department of ecology is hereby designated as the State Water Pollution Control Agency for all purposes of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act as it now exists ~~((or shall hereafter be amended))~~ and is hereby authorized to participate fully in the programs of the act as well as to take all action necessary to secure to the state the benefits and to meet the requirements of that act. The powers granted herein include, among others, and notwithstanding any other provisions of chapter 90.48 RCW or otherwise, the following:

(1) Complete authority to establish and administer a comprehensive state point source waste discharge or pollution discharge elimination permit program which will enable the department to qualify for full participation in any national waste discharge or pollution discharge elimination permit system and will allow the department to be the sole agency issuing permits required by such national system operating in the state of Washington subject to the provisions of section 5(2) of this 1973 amendatory act. Program elements authorized herein may include, but are not limited to: (a) Effluent treatment and limitation requirements together with timing requirements related thereto; (b) applicable receiving water quality standards requirements; (c) requirements of standards of performance for new sources; (d) pretreatment requirements; (e) termination and modification of permits for cause; (f) requirements for public notices and opportunities for public hearings; (g) appropriate relationships with the secretary of the army in the administration of his responsibilities which relate to anchorage and navigation, with the administrator of the environmental protection agency in the performance of his duties, and with other governmental officials under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act; (h) requirements for inspection, monitoring, entry, and reporting; (i) enforcement of the program through penalties, emergency powers, and criminal sanctions; (j) a continuing planning process; and (k) user charges.

(2) The power to establish and administer state programs in a manner which will insure the procurement of moneys, whether in the form of grants, loans, or otherwise; to assist in the construction, operation, and maintenance of various water pollution control facilities and works; and the administering of various state water pollution control management, regulatory, and enforcement programs.

The appropriate modifications as authorized in this 1973 amendatory act are designed to avoid duplication and other wasteful practices and to insure that the state permit program contains all required elements of and is compatible with the requirements of any national permit system.

(2) Permits for thermal power plants subject to chapter 80.50 RCW shall be issued by the thermal power plant site evaluation council: PROVIDED, That such permits shall become effective only if the governor approves an application for certification and executes a certification agreement pursuant to said chapter. The council shall have all powers necessary to establish and administer a point source discharge permit program pertaining to such plants, consistent with applicable receiving water quality standards established by the department, and to qualify for full participation in any national waste discharge or pollution discharge elimination permit system. The council and the department shall each adopt, by rules, procedures which will provide maximum coordination and avoid duplication between the two agencies with respect to permits in carrying out the requirements of this act including, but not limited to, monitoring and enforcement of certification agreements, and in qualifying for full participation in any such national system.

Passed the House March 6, 1973.

Passed the Senate March 1, 1973.

Approved by the Governor March 20, 1973, with the exception of Section six which is vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State March 20, 1973.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section House Bill No. 594 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to water pollution control."

Actions of the electorate and elected officials over the past several decades, especially the last six years, have shown the dedication of the State of Washington to a policy of attaining and retaining high quality for its waters. Passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 594 continues the state's dedication to the extinguishment of water pollution from its boundaries by accepting the challenge of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972 which was passed late last year. I am, therefore, most pleased to sign Engrossed House Bill No. 594.

Message

One of the principal reasons for the passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 594 at this time is to insure that the State of Washington is in a posture which allows the state to administer the sole waste discharge permit system operating within its boundaries through the operation of such a permit program as a part of the National Pollution Discharge Elimination System established by section 402 of the new Federal Act. An examination of that act, as it pertains to the criteria to be utilized by the administrator of the United States Environmental Protection Agency in approving requests by states to operate these programs within the national system reveals an ambiguity in the criteria in respect to problems of nonpoint sources of pollution. To eliminate any possibility that Engrossed House Bill No. 594 is deficient in providing statutory authority to state government to satisfy the criteria for approval of the state permit program under the national system, I have determined it advisable to veto section 6 of Engrossed House Bill No. 594 which provides that the act does not authorize the Department of Ecology to regulate forest practices on forest lands to protect water quality.

In removing this section, I was aware of the discussions presently being carried on in the legislature pertaining to regulation of forest practices. A bill to control forest practices is needed. I am both hopeful and confident that the legislature can develop a bill which will provide for water quality and point and non-point pollution sources regulation programs under our pollution control agency to continue, while at the same time allowing any new program pertaining to forest management regulation to be conducted by the Department of Natural Resources. I am further confident that the two programs can be administered in a coordinated manner to insure that no undue burdens are placed on forest land owners.

With the exception of section six, I have approved Engrossed House Bill No. 594."

CHAPTER 5

[Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2113]

WASHINGTON STATE HOSPITAL COMMISSION

AN ACT Relating to hospital health care services; establishing a hospital commission; adding a new chapter to Title 70 RCW; defining crimes and prescribing penalties.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to Title 70 RCW a new chapter to read as set forth in sections 2 through 23 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The primary purpose of this chapter is to promote the economic delivery of high quality and effective hospital health care services to the people by establishing a hospital commission with authority over financial disclosure and budget and prospective rate review and other related matters, which will assure all purchasers of hospital health care services that total hospital costs are reasonably related to total services, that hospital rates are reasonably related to aggregate costs, and that such rates are set equitably among all purchasers of these services without undue discrimination.

The legislature finds and declares that rising hospital costs are a vital concern to the people of this state because of the danger which is posed that hospital and health care services are fast becoming out of the economic reach of the majority of our population. It is further declared that health care is a right of the people and one of the primary purposes for which governments are established, and it is, therefore, essential that an effective cost control program be established which will both enable and motivate hospitals to control their spiraling costs. It is the legislative intent, in pursuance of this declared public policy, to provide for uniform measures on a state-wide basis to control hospital costs without the sacrifice of quality of service.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. As used in this chapter:

(1) "Commission" means the hospital commission of the state of Washington as created by this chapter;

(2) "Consumer" means any person whose occupation is other than the administration of health activities or the providing of health services, who has no fiduciary obligation to a health facility or other health agency, and who has no material financial interest in the rendering of health services;

(3) "Hospital" means any health care institution which is required to qualify for a license under RCW 70.41.020(2); or as a psychiatric hospital under chapter 71.12 RCW, but shall not include any health care institution conducted for those who rely primarily upon treatment by prayer or spiritual means in accordance with the creed or tenets of any church or denomination.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is hereby created a hospital commission, which shall be a separate and independent commission of the state. The commission shall be composed of five members appointed by the governor, and generally representative of the public as consumers, labor, business, and hospitals, and shall be individuals concerned with the delivery of quality health care; but in no event shall more than two members have any fiduciary obligation to a health facility or other health agency, nor any direct financial interest in the rendering of health services. In cases when proposed rate increases for osteopathic hospitals are to be considered, the representative of osteopathic hospitals on the technical advisory committee shall replace a hospital representative on the commission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Members of the commission shall serve for four-year terms and shall require senate confirmation. No member shall serve on the commission for more than two consecutive terms. A vacancy shall be filled by appointment for the remainder of the unexpired term and the initial appointments and vacancies shall not require senate confirmation until the legislature next convenes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The member representing consumers of health care services shall serve as chairman. The commission shall elect from its members a vice-chairman biennially. Meetings of the commission shall be held as frequently as its duties require. The commission shall keep minutes of its meetings and adopt procedures for the governing of its meetings, minutes, and transactions.

Three members shall constitute a quorum, but a vacancy on the commission shall not impair its power to act. No action of the commission shall be effective unless three members concur therein.

The members of the commission shall receive no compensation but shall be reimbursed for their expenses while attending meetings of the commission in the same manner as legislators engaged in interim committee business as in RCW 44.04.120.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The commission shall appoint a full time executive director and a deputy director and confidential secretary who shall be exempt from the civil service law, chapter 41.06 RCW and who shall perform the duties delegated by the commission. The executive director shall be the chief administrative officer of the commission and shall be subject to its direction.

The secretary of the department of social and health services shall employ and furnish such other staff as are necessary to fulfill the responsibilities and duties of the commission, such staff to be subject to the civil service law, chapter 41.06 RCW, and under the supervision of the commission and its executive director. In addition, the commission may contract with third parties for services necessary to carry out its activities where this will promote economy, avoid duplication of effort, and make best use of available expertise.

Any such contractor or consultant shall be prohibited from releasing, publishing, or otherwise using any information made available to it under its contractual responsibility, without specific permission of the commission.

The commission may apply for and receive and accept grants, gifts, and other payments, including property and service, from any governmental or other public or private entity or person, and may make arrangements as to the use of these receipts, including the undertaking of special studies and other projects relating to hospital health care costs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. In order to assist the commission in carrying out its duties, the governor shall appoint a technical advisory committee, hereinafter referred to as "committee", which shall consist of eleven members as follows:

(1) One member who shall be a certified public accountant licensed pursuant to chapter 18.04 RCW and who shall be knowledgeable in the financial affairs of hospitals.

(2) One member who shall be a health care practitioner licensed under the laws of this state and who shall be knowledgeable in hospital administration.

(3) Five members who shall be representative of the interest of investor-owned, district, not-for-profit, osteopathic, and university hospitals.

(4) One member who shall be representative of consumers of health care.

(5) One member who shall be the secretary of the department of social and health services, or his designee, to provide continuing liaison, data and support from those functions of the department which may affect the responsibilities of the commission.

(6) One member who shall be the director of the planning and community affairs agency, or his designee, to provide continuing liaison with the planning efforts of the comprehensive health planning council.

(7) One member of the commission, elected by the commission.

The members shall serve concurrently and shall have four-year terms. Any vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the governor and an appointee selected to fill such vacancy shall hold office for the balance of the term for which his predecessor was appointed. The committee shall elect from its members a chairman and a vice-chairman to serve concurrently with the chairman. The executive director of the commission shall act as executive secretary to the committee, and the commission shall otherwise offer such staff services and supplies as the committee may require to carry out its responsibilities.

The committee shall meet on call of the chairman of the commission, or on request of a majority of the commission. Members of the committee shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for their expenses in the same manner as members of the commission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The committee shall have the duty upon the request of the commission to consult with and make recommendations to the commission:

(1) On matters of policy;

(2) On rules and regulations proposed by the commission to implement this act;

(3) On analyses and studies of hospital health care costs and related matters which may be undertaken by the commission; and

(4) On such other matters as the commission may refer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. To further the purposes of this chapter, the commission may create committees from its membership, and may create such ad hoc advisory committees in specialized fields, related to the functions of hospitals, as it deems necessary, to supplement the resources provided by the technical advisory committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (1) The commission, after study and in consultation with advisory committees, if any, shall establish by the promulgation of rules and regulations pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW, a uniform system of accounting and financial reporting, including such cost allocation methods as it may prescribe, by which hospitals shall record their revenues, expenses, other income, other outlays, assets and liabilities, and units of service. All hospitals shall adopt the system for their fiscal year period to be effective at such time and date as the commission shall direct. In determining the effective date for reporting requirements, the commission shall be mindful both of the immediate need for uniform hospital reporting information to effectuate the purposes of this chapter and the administrative and economic difficulties which hospitals may encounter in conversion, but in no event shall such effective date be later than two and one-half years from the date of the formation of the commission.

(2) In establishing such accounting systems and uniform reporting procedures, the commission shall take into consideration:

(a) Existing systems of accounting and reporting presently utilized by hospitals;

(b) Differences among hospitals according to size; financial structure; methods of payment for services; and scope, type, and method of providing services; and

(c) Other pertinent distinguishing factors.

(3) The commission shall, where appropriate, provide for modification, consistent with the purposes of this chapter, of reporting requirements to correctly reflect these differences among hospitals, and to avoid otherwise unduly burdensome costs in meeting the requirements of the uniform system of accounting and financial reporting.

(4) The accounting system, where appropriate, shall be structured so as to establish and differentiate costs incurred for patient-related services rendered by hospitals, as distinguished from those incurred with reference to educational research and other nonpatient-related activities including but not limited to charitable activities of such hospitals.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) Each hospital shall file annually with the commission after the close of the fiscal year:

(a) A balance sheet detailing the assets, liabilities, and net worth of the hospital;

(b) A statement of income and expenses;

(c) Such other reports of the costs incurred in rendering services as the commission may prescribe.

(2) Where more than one licensed hospital is operated by the reporting organization, the information required by this section shall be reported for each hospital separately.

(3) The commission shall require certification of specified financial reports by the hospital's certified public accountant, and may require attestation as to such statements from responsible officials of the hospital that such reports have to the best of their knowledge and belief been prepared in accordance with the prescribed system of accounting and reporting.

(4) All reports, except privileged medical information, filed under this chapter shall be open to public inspection.

(5) The commission shall have the right of inspection of hospital books, audits, and records as reasonably necessary to verify hospital reports.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) The commission shall from time to time undertake analyses and studies relating to hospital health care costs and to the financial status of any hospital or hospitals subject to the provisions of this chapter, and may publish and disseminate such information as it deems desirable in the public interest. It shall further require the filing of information concerning the total financial needs of each hospital and the resources available or expected to become available to meet such needs, including the effect of proposals made by area-wide and state comprehensive health planning agencies.

(2) The commission shall also prepare and file such summaries and compilations or other supplementary reports based on the information filed with the commission hereunder as will advance the purposes of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. The commission shall prepare and, prior to each legislative session beginning in January, transmit to the governor and to members of the legislature an annual report of commission operations and activities for the preceding fiscal year. This report shall include a compilation of all summaries and reports required by this chapter, together with such findings and recommendations as the commission deems necessary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. From and after a date not less than twelve months but not more than twenty-four months after the adoption of the uniform system of accounting and financial reporting required by section 11 of this 1973 act, as the commission may direct, the commission shall have the power to initiate such reviews or investigations as may be necessary to assure all purchasers of hospital health care services that the total costs of a hospital are reasonably related to the total services offered by that hospital, that the hospital's aggregate revenues as expressed by rates are reasonably related to the hospital's aggregate costs; and that rates are set equitably among all purchasers or classes of purchasers of services without undue discrimination or preference.

In order to properly discharge these obligations, the commission shall have full power to review projected annual revenues and approve the reasonableness of rates proposed to generate that revenue established or requested by any hospital subject to the provisions of this chapter. No hospital shall charge for services at rates other than those established in accordance with the procedures established hereunder.

In the interest of promoting the most efficient and effective use of hospital health care service, the commission may promote and approve alternative methods of rate determination and payment of an experimental nature that may be in the public interest and consistent with the purposes of this chapter.

For the purposes of the Federal Economic Stabilization Act of 1970, as now or hereafter amended, the commission shall serve as the state agency responsible for recommending increases in rates for hospital and related health care institutions to the federal price commission or its successor: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That in cases where the rates of nursing homes or similar health institutions are subject to federal review the members of the commission representing hospitals shall not sit in the proceedings nor vote, and the governor shall appoint an ad hoc member representing nursing homes or similar health institutions in lieu thereof, who shall have the same powers as the other members with respect to such federal review only.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. To properly carry out its authority the commission shall:

(1) Immediately upon the effective date of this 1973 act begin to compile all relevant financial and accounting data in order to have available the statistical information necessary to properly conduct rate review and approval. Such data shall include necessary operating expenses, appropriate expenses incurred for rendering services to patients who cannot or do not pay, all properly incurred interest charges, and reasonable depreciation expenses based on the expected useful life of the property and equipment involved. The commission shall define and prescribe by rule and regulation the types and classes of charges which cannot be changed except as provided by the procedure contained in section 17 of this 1973 act and it shall also obtain from each such hospital a current rate schedule as well as any subsequent amendments or modifications of that schedule as it may require.

(2) Permit any nonprofit hospital subject to the provisions of this chapter to charge reasonable rates which will permit the hospital to render effective and efficient service in the public interest and on a solvent basis.

(3) Permit any proprietary profit-making hospital subject to the provisions of this chapter to charge reasonable rates which will permit the hospital to render effective and efficient service in the public interest and which includes an allowance for a fair return to stockholders based upon actual investment or the fair value of the investment, whichever is less.

(4) Take into account, in the determination of reasonable rates under this section for each hospital, the recommendations of appropriate area-wide and state comprehensive health planning agencies to ensure compliance with Washington comprehensive health planning law, chapter 70.38 RCW.

(5) Permit, in considering a request for change in or initiating a review of rate schedules or other charges, any hospital subject to the provisions of this chapter to charge rates which will in the aggregate produce sufficient total revenue for the hospital to meet all of the reasonable obligations specified in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. From and after the date determined by the commission pursuant to section 15 of this 1973 act, no hospital subject to the provisions of this chapter shall change or amend that schedule of rates and charges of the type and class which cannot be changed without prior approval of the commission, except in accordance with the following procedure:

(1) Any request for a change in rate schedules or other charges must be filed in writing in the form and content prescribed by the commission and with such supporting data as the hospital seeking the change deems appropriate. Unless the commission orders otherwise as provided for in subsection (4) of this section, no hospital shall establish such changes except after notice to the commission of at least thirty days from the time the rate is intended to go into effect. Upon receipt of notice, the commission may suspend the effective date of any proposed change. In any such case a formal written statement of the reasons for the suspension will be promptly submitted to the hospital. Unless suspended, any proposed change shall go into effect upon the date specified in the application.

(2) In any case where such action is deemed necessary, the commission shall promptly, but in any event within thirty days, institute proceedings as to the reasonableness of the proposed changes. The suspension may extend for a period of not more than thirty days beyond the date the change would otherwise go into effect: PROVIDED, That should it be necessary, the commission may extend the suspension for an additional thirty days. After the expiration of ninety days from the date the rate is intended to go into effect the new rate will go into effect, if the commission does not approve, disapprove, or modify the request by that time.

(3) Such proposed changes shall be considered at a public hearing, the time and place of which shall be determined by the commission. The hearing shall be conducted by the commission. Evidence for and against the requested change may be introduced at the time of the hearing by any interested party and witnesses may be heard. The hearing may be conducted without compliance with formal rules of evidence.

(4) The commission may, in its discretion, permit any hospital to make a temporary change in rates which shall be effective immediately upon filing and in advance of any review procedure when it deems it in the public interest to do so. Notwithstanding such temporary change in rates, the review procedures set out in this section shall be conducted by the commission as soon thereafter as is practicable.

(5) Every decision and order of the commission in any contested proceeding shall be in writing and shall state the grounds for the commission's conclusions. The effects of such orders shall be prospective in nature.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. The commission shall biennially prepare a budget which shall include its estimated income and expenditures for administration and operation for the biennium, to be submitted to the governor for transmittal to the legislature for approval.

Expenses of the commission shall be financed by assessment against hospitals in an amount to be determined biennially by the commission, but not to exceed four one-hundredths of one percent of each hospital's gross operating costs to be levied and collected from and after July 1, 1973 for the provision of hospital services for its last fiscal year ending on or before June 30th of the preceding calendar year. Budgetary requirements in excess of that limit may be financed by a general fund appropriation by the legislature. All moneys collected are to be deposited by the state treasurer in the hospital commission account in the general fund which is hereby created.

Any amounts raised by the collection of assessments from hospitals provided for in this section which are not required to meet appropriations in the budget act for the current fiscal year shall be available to the commission in succeeding years.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. In addition to the powers granted to the commission elsewhere in this chapter, the commission may:

(1) Adopt, amend, and repeal rules and regulations respecting the exercise of the powers conferred by this chapter, subject to the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW applicable to the promulgation of rules and regulations.

(2) Hold public hearings, conduct investigations, and subpoena witnesses, papers, records, and documents in connection therewith. The commission may administer oaths or affirmations in any hearing or investigation.

(3) Exercise, subject to the limitations and restrictions herein imposed, all other powers which are reasonably necessary or essential to carry out the expressed objects and purposes of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. Any person aggrieved by a final determination of the commission as to any rule, regulation, or determination under the provisions of this chapter shall be entitled to an administrative hearing and judicial review in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. Every person who shall violate or knowingly aid and abet the violation of this chapter or any valid orders, rules, or regulations thereunder, or who fails to perform any act which it is herein made his duty to perform shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Following official notice to the accused by the commission of the existence of an alleged violation, each day upon which a violation occurs shall constitute a separate violation. Any person violating the provisions of this chapter may be enjoined from continuing such violation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. If any provision of this 1973 act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. Consistent with the purposes enumerated in section 2 of this 1973 act, the provisions of this chapter shall be liberally construed, and shall not be limited by any rule of strict construction.

Washington utilities and transportation commission or the public utility commissioner of Oregon, hereinafter called "regulated utilities", for the undivided ownership of nuclear and other thermal power generating plants and facilities, and transmission facilities including, but not limited to, related transmission facilities, hereinafter called "common facilities", and for the planning, financing, acquisition, construction, operation and maintenance thereof. It shall be provided in such agreements that each city ((or)), public utility district, or joint operating agency shall own a percentage of any common facility equal to the percentage of the money furnished or the value of property supplied by it for the acquisition and construction thereof and shall own and control a like percentage of the electrical output thereof.

Each participant shall defray its own interest and other payments required to be made or deposited in connection with any financing undertaken by it to pay its percentage of the money furnished or value of property supplied by it for the planning, acquisition and construction of any common facility, or any additions or betterments thereto. The agreement shall provide a uniform method of determining and allocating operation and maintenance expenses of the common facility.

Each city, public utility district, joint operating agency and regulated utility participating in the ownership or operation of a common facility shall pay all taxes chargeable to its share of the common facility and the electric energy generated thereby under applicable statutes as now or hereafter in effect.

In carrying out the powers granted in this chapter, each such city ((or)), public utility district, or joint operating agency shall be severally liable only for its own acts and not jointly or severally liable for the acts, omissions or obligations of others. No money or property supplied by any such city ((or)), public utility district, or joint operating agency for the planning, financing, acquisition, construction, operation or maintenance of any common facility shall be credited or otherwise applied to the account of any other participant therein, nor shall the undivided share of any city ((or)), public utility district, or joint operating agency in any common facility be charged, directly or indirectly, with any debt or obligation of any other participant or be subject to any lien as a result thereof. No action in connection with a common facility shall be binding upon any public utility district ((or)), city, or joint operating agency unless authorized or approved by resolution or ordinance of its governing body.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The legislature finds that the immediate planning, financing, acquisition and construction of electric generating and transmission facilities as provided in sections 1 through 6 of this 1973 amendatory act is a public necessity to meet the power requirements of the public utility districts, cities, joint operating agencies and regulated utilities referred to in sections 1 through 6 of this 1973 amendatory act and the inhabitants of this state; further that such public utility districts, cities, joint operating agencies and regulated utilities are ready, willing and able to undertake such planning, financing, acquisition and construction of said electric generating and transmission facilities immediately upon the passage of sections 1 through 6 of this 1973 amendatory act. This 1973 amendatory act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

Section 1. Section 36.21.011, chapter 4, Laws of 1963 as last amended by section 2, chapter 85, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 36.21.011 are each amended to read as follows:

Any assessor who deems it necessary to enable him to complete the listing and the valuation of the property of his county within the time prescribed by law, (1) may appoint one or more well qualified persons to act as his assistants or deputies who shall not engage in the private practice of appraising within the county in which he is employed without the written permission of the county assessor filed with the county auditor; and each such assistant or deputy so appointed shall, under the direction of the assessor, after taking the required oath, perform all the duties enjoined upon, vested in or imposed upon assessors, and (2) may contract with any persons, firms or corporations, who are expert appraisers, to assist in the valuation of property.

To assist each assessor in obtaining adequate and well qualified assistants or deputies, the state department of personnel, after consultation with the Washington state association of county assessors, the Washington state association of counties, and the department of revenue, shall establish by July 1, 1967, and shall thereafter maintain, a classification and salary plan for those employees of an assessor who act as appraisers. If an assessor intends to put such plan into effect in his county, he shall inform the department of revenue and the board of county commissioners of this intent in writing. The department of revenue and the board may thereupon each designate a representative, and such representative or representatives as may be designated by the department of revenue or the board, or both, shall form with the assessor a committee. CHAPTER 12

LAND DEVELOPMENT ACT

AN ACT Relating to the regulation of the sale of lands; creating a new chapter in Title 58 RCW; and prescribing penalties.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds and declares that the sale and offering for sale of land or of interests in associations which provide for the use or occupancy of land touches and affects a great number of the citizens of this state and that full and complete disclosure to prospective purchasers of pertinent information concerning land developments, including any encumbrances or liens which might attach to the land and the physical characteristics of the development as well as the surrounding land, is essential. The legislature further finds and declares that a program of state registration and of publication and delivery to prospective purchasers of a complete and accurate public offering statement is necessary in order to adequately protect both the economic and physical welfare of the citizens of this state. It is the purpose of this chapter to provide for a reasonable program of state registration and regulation of the sale and offering for sale of any interest in significant land developments within or without the state of Washington, so that the prospective purchasers of such interests might be provided with full, complete, and accurate information of all pertinent circumstances affecting their purchase.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Blanket encumbrance" shall mean a trust deed, mortgage, mechanic's lien, or any other lien or encumbrance, securing or evidencing the payment of money and affecting the land to be developed or affecting more than one lot or parcel of developed land, or an agreement affecting more than one such lot or parcel by which the developer holds said development under option, contract, sale, or trust agreement. The term shall not include taxes and assessments levied by a public authority.

(2) "Director" means the director of the department of motor vehicles or his authorized designee.

(5) "Disposition" includes any sale, lease, assignment, or exchange of any interest in any real property which is a part of or included within a development, and also includes the offering of property as a prize or gift when a monetary charge or consideration for whatever purpose is required in conjunction therewith, and any other transaction concerning a development if undertaken for gain or profit.

(6) "Offer" includes every inducement, solicitation, or media advertisement which has as a principal aim to encourage a person to acquire an interest in land.

(7) "Hazard" means all existing or proposed unusual conditions relating to the location of the development, noise, safety, or other nuisance which affect or might affect the development.

(8) "Person" means an individual, corporation, government or governmental subdivision or agency, business trust, estate, trust, partnership, unincorporated association, two or more of any of the foregoing having a joint or common interest, or any other legal or commercial entity.

(9) "Purchaser" means a person who acquires or attempts to acquire or succeeds to any interest in land.

(10) "Residential buildings" shall mean premises that are actually intended or used as permanent residences of the purchasers and that are not devoted exclusively to any other purpose.

(a) By a purchaser of developed lands for his own account in a single or isolated transaction;

(b) If fewer than ten separate lots, parcels, units, or interests in developed lands are offered by a person in a period of twelve months;

(c) If each lot offered in the development is five acres or more;

(d) On which there is a residential, commercial, or industrial building, or as to which there is a legal obligation on the part of the seller to construct such a building within two years from date of disposition;

(e) To any person who acquires such lot, parcel, unit or interest therein for the purpose of engaging in the business of constructing residential, commercial, or industrial buildings or for the purpose of resale or lease or other disposition of such lots to persons engaged in such business or businesses;

(f) Any lot, parcel, unit or interest if the development is located within an area incorporated prior to the effective date of this 1973 act;

(g) Pursuant to court order; or

(h) As cemetery lots or interests.

(2) Unless the method of disposition is adopted for the purpose of evasion of this chapter, the provisions of this chapter shall not apply to:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Unless the development or the transaction is exempt by section 3 of this 1973 act:

(1) No person may offer or dispose of any interest in a development located in this state, nor offer or dispose of in this state any interest in a development located without this state prior to the time the development is registered in accordance with this chapter.

evidence of title acceptable to the agency;

(7) Copies of the instruments which will be delivered to a purchaser to evidence his interest in the development and of the contracts and other agreements which a purchaser will be required to agree to or sign;

(6) A statement of any hazard on or around the development;

(7) Additional information required by the director to assure full and fair disclosure to prospective purchasers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Upon receipt of an application for registration in proper form, the director shall immediately initiate an examination to determine that the following requirements are satisfied:

(1) The developer can convey or cause to be conveyed the interest in a development offered for disposition if the purchaser complies with the terms of the offer, and when appropriate, that release clauses, conveyances in trust, or other safeguards have been provided;

(2) The developer has complied with all local health and planning, and state and local subdivision requirements;

(3) The advertising material and the general promotional plan are not false, misleading, or deceptive, afford full and fair disclosure, and comply with the standards prescribed by the director in its rules and regulations;

(4) The developer has not, or if a corporation, its officers, directors, and principals have not, been convicted of a crime involving land dispositions or any aspect of the land sales business in this state, the United States, or any other state or foreign country within the past ten years and has or have not been subject to any injunction or administrative order or judgment entered under the provisions of RCW 19.86.080 or 19.86.090 involving a violation or violations of the provisions of RCW 19.86.020 within the past ten years restraining a false or misleading promotional plan involving land dispositions;

(5) The public offering statement requirements of this chapter have been satisfied.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) Upon receipt of the application for registration in proper form, the director shall issue a notice of filing to the applicant. Within thirty days from the date of notice of filing for an in-state development or sixty days for an out-of-state development, the director shall enter an order registering the development or rejecting the registration. If no order of rejection is entered within thirty days from the date of notice of filing for an in-state development or sixty days for an out-of-state development, the land shall be deemed registered unless the applicant has consented in writing to a delay.

(2) If the director affirmatively determines, upon inquiry and examination that the requirements of section 8 of this 1973 act have been met, he shall enter an order registering the development and shall designate the form of the public offering statement.

(3) If the director determines upon inquiry and examination that any of the requirements of section 8 of this 1973 act have not been met, the director shall notify the applicant that the application for registration must be corrected in the deficiencies specified. If the requirements for correction are not met, the director shall enter an order rejecting the registration which shall include the findings of fact upon which the order is based. The order rejecting the registration shall not become effective for twenty days during which time the applicant may petition for reconsideration and shall be entitled to a hearing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) Any development registered under the Interstate Land Sales Full Disclosure Act (82 Stat. 590-599; 15 U.S.C. Sec. 1701-1720) shall, at the developer's request, be registered under this chapter if the developer:

(a) Files with the director a copy of his federal statement of record and property report and copies of all papers, documents, exhibits, and certificates he has filed with or received from the federal government in regard to his federal registration; and

(b) Complies with the provisions of section 18 of this 1973 act, dealing with blanket encumbrances.

Where a developer satisfies items (a) and (b) above, the federal property report for the development shall qualify and be accepted as the public offering statement under this chapter.

(2) State registration under this section shall only be valid and current so long as:

(a) The developer's federal registration is valid and current; and

(b) The director is promptly advised of any change in the developer's federal registration and is promptly provided with copies of all papers, documents, exhibits and certificates relating to the development which the developer has filed with or received from the federal government subsequent to the date on which his federal registration was granted.

(3) Except as provided otherwise in this subsection, the provisions of this chapter shall apply to developments registered under this section. Sections 6 through 9 and sections 11 through 13 of this 1973 act shall not apply to developments having a valid and current registration under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. If the developer registers an additional development to be offered for disposition, he may consolidate the subsequent registration with any earlier registration offering a development for disposition under the same promotional plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The developer shall immediately report to the director any material changes in the information contained in his application for registration. No change in the substance of the promotional plan or plan of disposition or completion of the development may be made after registration without notifying the director and without making appropriate amendment of the public offering statement. A public offering statement is not current unless it incorporates all amendments.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. No portion of the public offering statement form may be underscored, italicized, or printed in larger or heavier or different color type than the remainder of the statement unless the director so requires.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. The public offering statement shall not be used for any promotional purposes. It may not be distributed to prospective purchasers before registration of the development and may be distributed afterwards only when it is used in its entirety. No person may advertise or represent that the state of Washington or the director, the department, or any employee thereof approves or recommends the development or disposition thereof.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) If it appears to the director at any time that a public offering statement currently in effect includes any statement that is false, misleading, or deceptive, the director may, after notice and after opportunity for hearing (at a time fixed by the director) within fifteen days after such notice, issue an order suspending the public offering statement. When such statement has been amended in accordance with such order, the director shall so declare and thereupon the order of suspension shall cease to be effective.

(2) The director is hereby empowered to make an examination in any case to determine whether an order should issue under subsection (1) of this section. In making such examination, the director or anyone designated by the director shall have access to, and may demand the production of any books and papers of, and may administer oaths and affirmations to, and may examine, the developer, any agents, or any other person, in respect to any matter relevant to the examination. If the developer or any agents shall fail to cooperate, or shall obstruct or refuse to permit the making of an examination, such conduct shall be proper ground for the issuance of an order suspending the developer's public offering statement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A copy of the public offering statement issued on land within a development covered by this chapter shall be given by the director, upon oral or written request, to any member of the public.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A copy of the public offering statement issued on land within a development covered by this chapter shall be given by the developer or his agents or salesmen, upon oral or written request, to every adult or head of a family who visits the site of a development as a prospective purchaser.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. It shall be unlawful for the developer to make a sale of lots or parcels within a development which is subject to a blanket encumbrance which does not contain, within its terms or by supplementary agreement, a provision which shall unconditionally provide that the purchaser of a lot or parcel encumbered thereby can obtain the legal title, or other interest contracted for, free and clear of the lien of such blanket encumbrance upon compliance with the terms and conditions of the purchase, unless the developer shall elect and comply with one of the following alternative conditions:

(1) The developer shall deposit in an escrow depository acceptable to the director: In cases where the blanket encumbrance does not provide for partial release, all or such portions of the money paid or advanced by the purchaser on any such lot or parcel within said development as the director shall determine to be sufficient to protect the interest of the purchaser; or in cases where the blanket encumbrance provides for partial releases thereof which are not unconditional, the developer shall deposit, at such time as the balance due to the developer from such purchasers is equal to the sum necessary to procure a release of such lots or parcels contracted for from the lien of such blanket encumbrance, all of the sums thereafter received from such purchasers until either:

(a) A proper release is obtained from such blanket encumbrance;

(b) Either the developer or the purchaser defaults under the sales contract and there is a forfeiture of the interest of the purchaser or there is a determination as to the disposition of such moneys, as the case may be; or

(c) The developer orders a return of such moneys to such purchaser.

(2) The title to the development is held in trust under an agreement of trust acceptable to the director until the proper release of such blanket encumbrance is obtained.

(3) A bond to the state of Washington or such other proof of financial responsibility is furnished to the director for the benefit and protection of purchasers of such lots or parcels in such an amount and subject to such terms, as may be approved by the director, which shall provide for the return of moneys paid or advanced by any purchaser on account of a sale of any such lot or parcel if a proper release from such blanket encumbrance is not obtained: PROVIDED, That if it should be determined that such purchaser, by reason of default, or otherwise, is not entitled to the return of such moneys or any portion thereof, such bond or other proof of financial responsibility shall be exonerated to the extent and in the amount thereof. The amount of the bond or other proof of financial responsibility may be increased or decreased or a bond may be waived from time to time as the director shall determine.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. No person shall publish in this state any advertisement concerning a development subject to the registration requirements of this chapter after the director finds that the advertisement contains any statements that are false, misleading, or deceptive and so notifies the person in writing. Such notification may be given summarily without notice or hearing. At any time after the issuance of a notification under this section the person desiring to use the advertisement may in writing request the order be rescinded. Upon receipt of such a written request, the matter shall be set down for hearing to commence within fourteen days after such receipt unless the person making the request consents to a later date. After such hearing, which shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW, the director shall determine whether to affirm and to continue or to rescind such order and shall have all powers granted under such act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. (1) The director may:

(a) Make necessary public or private investigations within or outside of this state to determine whether any person has violated or is about to violate this chapter or any rule, regulation, or order hereunder, or to aid in the enforcement of this chapter or in the prescribing of rules and forms hereunder;

(b) Require or permit any person to file a statement in writing, under oath or otherwise as the director determines, as to all facts and circumstances concerning the matter to be investigated.

(2) For the purpose of any investigation or proceeding under this chapter, the director or any officer designated by rule may administer oaths or affirmations, and upon his own motion or upon request of any party may subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any matter which is relevant to the investigation, including the existence, description, nature, custody, condition, and location of any books, documents, or other tangible things and the identity and location of persons having knowledge or relevant facts, or any other matter reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of material evidence.

(3) Upon failure to obey a subpoena or to answer questions propounded by the investigating officer and upon reasonable notice to all persons affected thereby, the director may apply to the superior court for an order compelling compliance.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, all proceedings under this chapter shall be in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. (1) If the director determines after notice and hearing that a person has:

- (a) Violated any provision of this chapter;
- (b) Directly or through an agent or employee engaged in any false, deceptive, or misleading advertising, promotional, or sales methods to offer or dispose of an interest in developed lands;
- (c) Made any substantial change in the plan of disposition and completion of the development subsequent to the order of registration without obtaining prior written approval from the director;
- (d) Disposed of any interest in a development required to be registered under this chapter which has not been so registered with the director;
- (e) Violated any lawful order, rule or regulation of the director;

he may issue an order requiring the person to cease and desist from the unlawful practice and to take such affirmative action as in the judgment of the director will carry out the purposes of this chapter.

(2) If the director makes a finding of fact in writing that the public interest will be irreparably harmed by delay in issuing an order, he may issue a temporary cease and desist order. Prior to issuing the temporary cease and desist order, the director whenever possible by telephone or otherwise shall give notice of the proposal to issue a temporary cease and desist order to the person. Every temporary cease and desist order shall include in its terms a provision that upon request a hearing will be held to determine whether or not the order becomes permanent.

(3) If it appears that a person has engaged or is about to engage in an act or practice constituting a violation of a provision of this chapter, or a rule or order hereunder, the director, with or without prior administrative proceedings, may bring an action in the superior court to enjoin the acts or practices and to enforce compliance with this chapter or any rule, regulation, or order hereunder. Upon proper showing, injunctive relief or temporary restraining orders shall be granted, and a receiver or conservator may be appointed. The director shall not be required to post a bond in any court proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. (1) A registration may be revoked after notice and hearing upon a written finding of fact that the developer has:

(d) Repeatedly failed to perform any stipulation or agreement made with the director as an inducement to grant any registration, to reinstate any registration, or to approve any promotional plan or public offering statement;

(e) Made intentional misrepresentations or concealed material facts in an application for registration.

Findings of fact, if set forth in statutory language, shall be accompanied by a concise and explicit statement of the underlying facts supporting the findings.

(2) If the director finds after notice and hearing that the developer has been guilty of a violation for which revocation could be ordered, he may issue a cease and desist order instead of ordering revocation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. In any suit by or against a developer involving his development, the developer promptly shall furnish the director notice of the suit and copies of all pleadings. This section shall not apply where the director is a party to the suit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. Proceedings for judicial review shall be in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. (1) The commission by any person of an act or practice prohibited by this chapter is hereby declared to be an unfair act or practice or unfair method of competition in the conduct of trade or commerce for the purpose of the application of the Consumer Protection Act, chapter 19.86 RCW, as now or hereafter amended.

(2) The director may refer such evidence as may be available to him concerning violations of this chapter or of any rule or regulation adopted hereunder to the attorney general or the prosecuting attorney of the county wherein the alleged violation arose, who may, in their discretion, with or without such a reference, in addition to any other action they might commence, bring an action in the name of the state against any person to restrain and prevent the doing of any act or practice prohibited by this chapter: PROVIDED, That this chapter shall be considered in conjunction with chapters 9.04 and 19.86 RCW, as now or hereafter amended, and the powers and duties of the attorney general and the prosecuting attorney as they may appear in the aforementioned chapters, shall apply against all persons subject to this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. Dispositions of an interest in a development are subject to this chapter, and the superior courts of this state have jurisdiction in claims or causes of action arising under this chapter, if:

- (1) The interest in a development offered for disposition is located in this state;
- (2) The developer maintains an office in this state; or

CHARITABLE FUND SOLICITATION-- REGULATION

AN ACT Relating to the solicitation of funds for charity; adding a new chapter to Title 19 RCW; providing penalties; and prescribing effective dates.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The purpose of this chapter is to protect the general public and public charity in the state of Washington; to require full public disclosure of facts relating to persons and organizations who solicit funds from the public for public charitable purposes, the purposes for which such funds are solicited, and their actual uses; and to prevent deceptive and dishonest statements and conduct in the solicitation of funds for or in the name of charity.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Charitable organization" means: (a) Any benevolent, philanthropic, patriotic, eleemosynary, education, social, recreation, fraternal organization, or any other person having or purporting to have a charitable nature; and (b) which solicits or solicits and collects contributions for any charitable purpose. "Charitable" shall have its common law meaning unless the context in which it is used clearly requires a narrower or a broader meaning.

(2) "Contribution" means the donation, promise or grant, for consideration or otherwise, of any money or property of any kind or value which contribution is wholly or partly induced by a solicitation. Reference to dollar amounts of "contributions" or "solicitations" in this chapter means in the case of payments or promises to pay for merchandise or rights of any description, the value of the total amount paid or promised to be paid for such merchandise or rights, and not merely that portion of the purchase price to be applied to a charitable purpose.

(3) "Compensation" means salaries, wages, fees, commissions, or any other remuneration or valuable consideration.

(4) "Director" means the director of the department of motor vehicles.

(5) "Direct gift" shall mean and include an outright contribution of food, clothing, money, credit, property, financial assistance or other thing of value to be used for a charitable or religious purpose and for which the donor receives no consideration or thing of value in return.

(6) "Parent organization" means that part of a charitable organization which coordinates, supervises, or exercises control over policy, fund raising, or expenditures, or assists or advises one or more chapters, branches, or affiliates of such organization in the state of Washington.

(7) "Person" means an individual, organization, group, association, partnership, corporation, or any combination thereof.

(8) "Professional fund raiser" means any person who, for compensation, plans, conducts, or manages any drive or campaign in this state for the purpose of soliciting contributions for or on behalf of any charitable organization or charitable purpose, or who engages in the business of or holds himself out to persons in this state as independently engaged in the business of soliciting contributions for such purposes, or the business of planning, conducting, managing, or carrying on any drive or campaign in this state for such solicitations: PROVIDED, That the following persons shall not be deemed professional fund raisers or professional solicitors: (a) Bona fide officer or employee of a charitable organization which maintains a permanent establishment in the state of Washington; who is employed and engaged as such officer or employee principally in connection with activities other than soliciting contributions or managing the solicitation of contributions and whose salary or other compensation is not computed on funds raised or to be raised; (b) a clergyman of a religious corporation exempt under the provisions of section 3 of this 1973 act.

(9) A "professional solicitor" means a person other than a professional fund raiser who is employed for compensation by any person or charitable organization to solicit contributions for charitable purposes from persons in this state.

(10) "Sale and benefit affair" shall mean and include, but not be limited to, athletic or sports event, bazaar, benefit, campaign, circus, contest, dance, drive, entertainment, exhibition, exposition, party, performance, picnic, sale, social gathering, theater, or variety show which the public is requested to patronize or attend or to which the public is requested to make a contribution for any charitable or religious purpose connected therewith.

(11) "Solicitation" means any oral or written request for a contribution, including the solicitor's offer or attempt to sell any property, rights, services, or other thing in connection with which:

(a) Any appeal is made for any charitable purpose; or

(b) The name of any charitable organization is used as an inducement for consummating the sale; or

(c) Any statement is made which implies that the whole or any part of the proceeds from the sale will be applied toward any charitable purpose or donated to any charitable organization.

The solicitation shall be deemed completed when made, whether or not the person making it receives any contribution or makes any sale.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Except as otherwise specifically provided in other sections of this chapter, this chapter shall not apply to the following:

(1) Any organizations which are organized and operated principally for charitable or religious or educational purposes, other than the raising of funds, when the solicitation of contributions is confined to the membership of the organization and when the solicitation is managed and conducted solely by officers and members of such organizations who are unpaid for such services.

The term "membership" shall not include those persons who are granted membership upon making a contribution as the result of a solicitation.

(2) Persons requesting any contributions for the relief of named individuals:

(a) When the solicitation is managed and conducted solely by persons who are unpaid for such services and;

(b) When the contributions collected do not exceed the two thousand dollars in any six month period; and

(c) When all of the contributions collected, without any deductions whatsoever except for the actual cost of a banquet, dance, or similar social gathering, are turned over to the named beneficiary or beneficiaries.

(3) Any charitable organization which does not solicit and collect contributions in this state in excess of two thousand dollars in any six month period if all such fund raising functions are carried on by persons who are unpaid for their services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Any charitable organization which ceases to be exempt under the provisions of section 3 of this 1973 act shall register, within thirty days after the date the charitable organization ceases to be exempt, with the director as required under section 6 of this 1973 act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A professional fund raiser is not exempted from any provision of this chapter solely by reason of his acting for an organization exempted under the provisions of section 3 of this 1973 act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, no person may solicit contributions on behalf of any charitable organization from persons in this state by any means whatsoever prior to the time the charitable organization is registered in accordance with this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. An application for registration of a charitable organization, as provided by section 6 of this 1973 act, shall be filed as prescribed by rules and regulations which the director may adopt and shall contain the following documents and information:

(4) The location of the organization's financial records in the state of Washington;

(5) Methods by which solicitation will be made, including a statement as to whether such solicitation is to be conducted by voluntary unpaid solicitors, by paid solicitors, or both, and a narrative description of the promotional plan together with copies of all advertising material which has been prepared for public distribution by any means of communication and any location of any telephone solicitation facilities;

(12) An irrevocable appointment of the director to receive service of any lawful process in any noncriminal proceeding arising under this chapter against the applicant or his personal representative;

(13) Whether the organization is authorized by any other governmental authority to solicit contributions and whether it is or has ever been enjoined by any court from soliciting contributions;

(14) Such other information as may be reasonably required, by the director, in the public interest or for the protection of contributors.

If there is any change, while any application is pending, in fact, policy, or method that would alter the information given in the application, the applicant shall notify the director in writing thereof within five days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays after such change.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The registration statement, and any other documents prescribed by the director, shall be signed under oath by the president, or other authorized officer, and the chief fiscal officer of the charitable organization. Such registration shall be effective for the period requested by the charitable organization in its registration statement but such period shall not exceed one year. The director may adopt regulations providing for the annual renewal of registrations by charitable organizations having continuing or annually recurring fund raising campaigns. Renewals shall be accompanied by such information as may be required to bring the registration statement up to date.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Where any chapter, branch, affiliate, or area division of a charitable organization is supervised and controlled by a superior or parent organization which is incorporated, qualified to do business, or doing business within this state such chapter, branch, affiliate, or area division shall not be required to register under section 6 of this 1973 act if the superior or parent organization files a registration statement, on behalf of its subsidiary, in addition to or as a part of its own registration statement. Where a registration statement has been filed by a superior or parent organization, on behalf of such subsidiary organization, it shall file any reports required of the subsidiary organization, under this chapter, in addition to or as part of its own report, but the accounting information so required shall be set forth separately and not in consolidated form with respect to every such chapter, branch, affiliate, or division which solicits, collects, or expends more than four thousand dollars in any fiscal year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Upon receipt of an application in the proper form for registration, the director shall immediately initiate an examination to determine that:

(1) The cost of solicitation for direct gifts shall not exceed twenty percent of the total gross amount to be raised or for sale and benefit affairs shall not exceed fifty-five percent of the total gross amount to be raised; and of this fifty-five percent, not more than twenty percent shall be paid for all wages, fees, commissions, salaries, and emoluments paid or to be paid to all salesmen, solicitors, collectors, and professional fund raisers. If it appears that the cost of soliciting will exceed the percentages listed above, and except for that, the registration would otherwise be granted, the director may enter an order registering the charitable organization, upon a showing that special reasons make a cost higher than twenty percent or said fifty-five percent, or said twenty percent, respectively, reasonable in the particular case;

(2) The charitable organization has complied with all local governmental regulations which apply to soliciting for or on behalf of charitable organizations;

(3) The advertising material and the general promotional plan are not false, misleading, or deceptive and its rules and regulations, which the director may adopt, comply with the standards prescribed by the director and which afford full and fair disclosure;

(4) The charitable organization has not, or if a corporation, its officers, directors, and principals have not, been convicted of a crime involving solicitations for or on behalf of a charitable organization in this state, the United States, or any other state or foreign country within the past ten years and has not been subject to any permanent injunction or administrative order or judgment, under the provisions of RCW 19.86.080 or 19.86.090, involving a violation or violations of the provisions of RCW 19.86.020, within the past ten years, or of restraining a false or misleading promotional plan involving solicitations for charitable organizations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (1) Upon receipt of the application for registration, in proper form, the director shall issue a notice of filing to the applicant. Within thirty days from the date of the notice of filing, the director shall enter an order registering the charitable organization or rejecting the registration. If no order of rejection is entered within thirty days from the date of notice of filing, the charitable organization shall be deemed registered unless the applicant has consented, in writing, to a delay.

(2) If the director affirmatively determines, upon inquiry and examination that the requirements of section 10 of this 1973 act have been met he shall enter an order registering the charitable organization.

(3) If the director determines, upon inquiry and examination, that any of the requirements of section 10 of this 1973 act have not been met, the director shall notify the applicant that the application for registration must be corrected in the deficiencies specified. If the requested corrections are not complied with, the director shall enter an order rejecting the registration, such order shall include the findings of fact upon which the order is based. The order rejecting the registration shall not become effective for twenty days during which time the applicant may petition for reconsideration and shall be entitled to a hearing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) Any charitable organization mentioned under section 3(3) of this 1973 act:

(a) Before conducting any solicitation give written notice to the director stating its intention to solicit funds, the basis of its exemption, the purpose of such solicitation, the approximate percentage of collections, after deductions for expenses, to be actually devoted to that purpose, and when and in what area or areas such solicitation will be conducted. Written notice shall be given to the director by the organization, or by someone in its behalf, at least three days in advance of such solicitation, and if it is sent by registered or certified mail such notice shall be deemed given when deposited in the United States mail. The notice requirement of this section shall constitute a registration statement which shall be construed as registration under the provisions of this chapter.

(b) In the event that any organization, under this section, solicits and collects funds in excess of five hundred dollars during any year, such organization shall file a short form report conforming to the provisions of section 13 of this 1973 act. The director may require the furnishing of any further details as may be necessary for complete reporting and disclosure within the purposes of this section.

(2) No fees shall be collected in connection with any notice, registration, or report filed under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) When the filing of a short form report is required, the form of the report shall be substantially as follows:

CHARITABLE SOLICITATIONS

(2) The short form report shall be signed by the officer or employee who regularly keeps the books or records of the organization. The signature shall be a certification of the correctness of the report. The report shall be filed with the director by the organization required to file the same within ninety days after the close of its fiscal year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A registration filed with the director by a charitable organization, under the provisions of this chapter, shall be kept current during its effective term by the charitable organization, professional fund raiser, or professional solicitor. Such current status shall be maintained by the filing of amendments with the director, in the form prescribed by him, within ten days after any material change in the information previously furnished to the director.

The following changes shall be construed as material for the purposes of this section:

(1) Any change in the name of the organization.

(2) Any addition or substitution in the names of its salaried or otherwise compensated directors, trustees, other officers, key personnel, or professional fund raisers; or any change in the reported addresses or duties of the officers or individuals who keep the records or are in custody of the contributions.

(5) Any change in other facts which are declared material by rule or regulation of the director.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The director shall establish and maintain a register or registers of charitable organizations and persons who have registered under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. Registration under this chapter shall not be deemed to constitute endorsement, by the state of Washington, of any charitable organization so registered and no person or charitable organization shall intentionally claim or infer, directly or indirectly any such endorsement by reason of its registration.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. The registration and all information, documents, and reports filed with the director under this chapter are matters of public record and shall be, subject to reasonable regulation, open to public inspection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. Every person soliciting contributions for or on behalf of a charitable organization which is required to file or have filed in its behalf a registration statement, under this chapter, shall have readily available for prospective contributors an identification card which shall include the following information in legible form:

(1) The name of the charitable organization for which the contributions are solicited.

(2) A statement that the charitable organization has filed a registration statement with the director and the date such registration was filed.

(3) Such other information, from the registration statement, as may be required by reasonable rule or regulation of the director for the protection of the public.

The director may prescribe the form of such identification card. The card shall be exhibited to any person from whom a contribution is requested or, on demand, to any police or law enforcement officer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. Every person employed or retained as a professional fund raiser or professional solicitor by or for a charitable organization shall file with the director a valid registration or renewal of such registration. Applications for such registration shall be in writing, under oath, and in the form prescribed by the director. The form shall require information as to the identity and previous related activities of the registrant as may be necessary or appropriate for the public interest or for the protection of contributors. In addition, a professional fund raiser shall file, at the time of making application, with and have approved by the director a surety bond executed by the applicant as principal in the amount of five thousand dollars with one or more sureties whose liability in the aggregate as such sureties will at least equal the said sum. The bond shall run to the director for the use of the state and to any person who may have a cause of action against the obligor of said bond for any malfeasance or misfeasance in the conduct of such solicitation. Registration, when effected, shall be for a period of one year, or any part thereof, expiring on the last day of December and may be renewed for additional periods unless rejected for legally sufficient cause or for failure to file the bond prescribed in this section. The additional periods shall be for not more than one calendar year or such shorter period as the director may prescribe by regulation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. Charitable organizations and professional fund raisers, required to be registered under this chapter, shall maintain accurate, current, and readily available books and records at their usual business locations, as designated in the registration statement filed with the director, until at least three years shall have elapsed following the effective period to which they relate.

All contracts between professional fund raisers and charitable organizations shall be in writing and true and correct copies of such contracts or records thereof shall be kept on file in the various offices of the charitable organization and/or professional fund raiser for a three-year period as provided in this section. Such records and contracts shall be available for inspection and examination by the director. A copy of such contract or record shall be mailed to or filed with the director by the charitable organization or professional fund raiser, within ten days, following receipt of a written demand therefor from the director.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. (a) Within ninety days following the close of its fiscal year every charitable organization which is required to file a registration statement under section 6 of this 1973 act and which has received contributions during the previous fiscal year shall file with the director a financial statement, verified by an independent public accountant, containing, but not limited to, the following information:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. No person who is required to register under this chapter shall knowingly use the name of any other person for the purpose of soliciting contributions from persons in this state without the written consent of such other person: PROVIDED, That such consent may be deemed to have been given by anyone who is a director, trustee, other officer, employee, agent, professional fund raiser, or professional solicitor of such person registering under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. No charitable organization, professional fund raiser, or other person soliciting contributions for or on behalf of a charitable organization shall use a name, symbol, or statement so closely related or similar to that used by another charitable organization or governmental agency that the use thereof would tend to confuse or mislead the public.

At any time after the issuance of a notification under this section the person desiring to use the advertisement may, in writing, request the order be rescinded. Upon receipt of a written request the matter shall be set for a hearing to commence within fourteen days following receipt of the request unless the person making the request consents to a later date. (3) Upon failure to obey a subpoena or to answer questions propounded by the investigating officer, and upon reasonable notice to all persons affected thereby, the director may apply to the superior court for an order compelling compliance.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, all proceedings under this chapter shall be in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW.

Every temporary cease and desist order shall include in its terms a provision that upon request a hearing will be held to determine whether or not the order becomes permanent.

(3) If it appears that a person has engaged or is about to engage in an act or practice constituting a violation of a provision of this chapter, or a rule or order hereunder, the director, with or without prior administrative proceedings, may bring an action in the superior court to enjoin the acts or practices and to enforce compliance with this chapter or any rule, regulation, or order hereunder. Upon proper showing injunctive relief or temporary restraining orders shall be granted and a receiver or conservator may be appointed. The director is not required to post a bond in any court proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. (1) A registration may be revoked, following notice and hearing, upon a written finding of fact that the charitable organization, professional fund raiser or professional solicitor has:

(a) Failed to comply with the terms of a cease and desist order;

(b) Been convicted in any court, subsequent to the filing of the application for registration, for a crime involving fraud, deception, false pretense, misrepresentation, false advertising, or dishonest dealing in charity solicitation;

The court may in its discretion award reasonable attorney's fees to the state out of any funds so recovered.

Any person, firm, or corporation, public or private, obligated to take suppression action on any forest fire shall, under the provisions of this section, be entitled to reimbursement for reasonable costs incurred thereby, subject to the following:

(1) If the fire is started in the course of or as a result of a land clearing, right of way clearing, or landowner's operation, the person, firm, or corporation conducting such operation shall supply at his expense the manpower and equipment under his control ~~((;))~~ and reasonably available until midnight on the day on which the fire started, after which time he shall supply, at his expense, only the manpower and equipment which were within a one-half mile radius of the point of origin of such fire, but in any case never less than five men and one suitable bulldozer, or other equipment accepted by the department as equivalent, unless, in the opinion of the department, ~~((fewer men are))~~ less is needed for the purpose of suppressing the same. If he has no men or equipment within the said one-half mile he shall pay to the department the equivalent of the minimum requirement. If after midnight of the day on which the fire started, additional manpower and equipment are necessary, in the opinion of the department, he shall supply the manpower and equipment under his control outside such one-half mile radius, if reasonably available, but he shall be reimbursed for such manpower and equipment as provided herein;

(2) Where a fire, which occurred in the course of or as a result of a land clearing, right of way clearing, or landowners operation, and which fire had previously been suppressed, rekindles, the operator shall be required to supply at his expense the same manpower and equipment which were required of him at the time of the original fire.

(3) Claims for reimbursement shall be submitted within a reasonable time to the department which shall, upon verifying the amounts therein and the necessity therefor, authorize payment at such rates as established by the department for wages and equipment rental;

~~((3))~~ (4) No reimbursement provided herein shall be allowed to a person, firm, or corporation negligently responsible for the starting or existence of any fire for which costs may be recoverable by the department pursuant to law.

Reimbursement of emergency fire costs incurred or approved by the department in suppressing a forest fire may be paid from the appropriate contingency account as provided therein. Such payment shall be without restriction to the right of the department to recover costs pursuant to the provisions of RCW 76.04.390 as now or hereafter amended or other laws but any such recovery by the department shall be returned into the account from which it was spent, less reasonable costs of collection.

Sec. 4. Section 8, chapter 207, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 76.04.515 are each amended to read as follows:

There is created a landowner contingency forest fire suppression account which shall be a separate account in the general fund. This account shall be for the purpose of paying emergency fire costs incurred or approved by the department in the suppression of forest fires. When a determination is made that the fire was started by other than a participating landowner operation, moneys expended from this account in the suppression of such fire shall be recovered from the general contingency forest fire suppression account. Moneys spent from this account shall be by appropriation. The department shall transmit to the state treasurer for deposit in the landowner contingency forest fire suppression account any moneys paid out of said account which are later recovered, less reasonable costs of recovery, which moneys may be expended for purposes set forth herein during the current biennium, without reappropriation.

This account shall be established and renewed by a special forest fire suppression account assessment paid by participating forest landowners at rates to be established by the department, but not to exceed five cents per acre per year for such period of years as may be necessary to establish and thereafter reestablish a balance in said account of one million dollars. The assessments with respect to forest lands in western and eastern Washington may differ to equitably distribute the assessment based on emergency fire suppression cost experience necessitated by participating landowner operations. Amounts assessed for this account shall be a lien upon the forest lands with respect to which the assessment is made, and may be collected as directed by the department in the same manner as forest patrol assessments. This account shall be held by the state treasurer who is authorized to invest so much of said account as is not necessary to meet current needs. Any interest earned on moneys from said account shall be deposited in and remain a part of the account, and shall be computed as part of the same in determining the balance thereof. Interfund loans to and from this account are authorized at the then current rate of interest as determined by the state treasurer, provided that the effect of the loan is considered for purposes of determining the assessments. Payment of emergency costs from this account shall in no way restrict the right of the department to recover costs pursuant to RCW 76.04.390 as now or hereafter amended, or other laws.

When the department determines that a forest fire was started in the course of or as a result of a participating landowner operation, it shall notify ((any person, firm, or corporation, public or private, in whose operation the fire started, and)) the forest fire advisory board of such determination. Such determination shall be final, unless, within ninety days of such notification, ((the person, firm, or corporation notified, or)) the forest fire advisory board or any interested party, serves a request for a hearing before the department. Such hearing shall constitute a contested case under chapter 34.04 RCW and any appeal therefrom shall be to the superior court of Thurston county.

Any bonds issued for refunding purposes may be delivered in exchange for the outstanding bonds being refunded or may be sold in ((the manner provided by law for the sale by the public body of bonds of the type being refunded)) such manner and at such price as the governing body may in its discretion determine advisable.

Sec. 3. Section 5, chapter 138, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 39.53.040 are each amended to read as follows:

Bonds may be refunded hereunder or under any other law of this state which authorizes the issuance of refunding bonds when the holders thereof voluntarily surrender them for exchange or payment, or, if they mature or are subject to redemption prior to maturity within fifteen years from the date of the refunding bonds. In any advance refunding plan under this chapter the governing body shall provide irrevocably in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the advance refunding bonds for the redemption of the bonds to be refunded (~~within~~) not later than six months from the date they are first subject to redemption at par or fifteen years from the date of issuance of the refunding bonds, whichever is sooner.

The ordinance authorizing the issuance of advance refunding bonds pursuant to this chapter shall contain a provision that such bonds shall be subject to redemption not later than five years from date of such bonds or six months after the first date on which the bonds to be refunded may be redeemed, whichever is later. If more than one issue or series of bonds are being refunded by a single issue or series of advance refunding bonds, such advance refunding bonds must be subject to redemption not later than five years from date of issue or six months after the first date on which the series or issue of bonds being refunded having the latest first redemption date may be redeemed. The governing body may fix any redemption premium or premiums as it may in its discretion determine advisable.

Sec. 4. Section 7, chapter 138, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 39.53.060 are each amended to read as follows:

Prior to the application of the proceeds derived from the sale of advance refunding bonds to the purposes for which such bonds shall have been issued, such proceeds, together with any other funds the governing body may set aside for the payment of the bonds to be refunded, may be invested and reinvested only in ~~the~~ government obligations ~~of the United States of America~~ maturing or having guaranteed redemption prices at the option of the holder at such time or times as may be required to provide funds sufficient to pay principal, interest and redemption premiums, if any, in accordance with the advance refunding plan. To the extent incidental expenses have been capitalized, such bond proceeds may be used to defray such expenses.

Sec. 5. Section 8, chapter 138, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 39.53.070 are each amended to read as follows:

The governing body may contract with respect to the safekeeping and application of the advance refunding bond proceeds and other funds included therewith and the income therefrom including the right to appoint a trustee which may be any trust company or state or national bank having powers of a trust company within or without the state of Washington. The governing body may provide in the refunding plan that until such moneys are required to redeem or retire the general obligation or revenue bonds to be refunded, the refunding bond proceeds and other funds, and the income therefrom shall be used to pay and secure the payment of the principal of and interest on the advance refunding bonds. The governing body may additionally pledge for the payment of such revenue refunding bonds any revenues which might legally be pledged for the payment of revenue bonds of the issuer of the type being refunded. Provisions must be made by the governing body for moneys sufficient in amount to accomplish the refunding as scheduled.

Sec. 6. Section 11, chapter 138, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 39.53.100 are each amended to read as follows:

((When funds and investments and the known earned income therefrom in amounts sufficient to pay the principal of and interest and any premium on general obligation bonds to be refunded as they become due at their respective maturities or at the date fixed for redemption have been irrevocably pledged to the general obligation bonds to be refunded; such bonds shall not constitute an indebtedness of the public body within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory debt limitation)) In computing indebtedness for the purpose of any constitutional or statutory debt limitation there shall be deducted from the amount of outstanding indebtedness the amounts of money and investments credited to or on deposit for general obligation bond retirement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The state may issue general obligation bonds to refund any special revenue obligations of the state at or prior to the date they mature or are subject to redemption.

CHAPTER 31
[House Bill No. 300]
MUTUAL SAVINGS BANKS-- LENDING AUTHORITY

AN ACT Relating to mutual savings banks; amending section 32.20.280, chapter 13, Laws of 1955, as amended by section 7, chapter 55, Laws of 1969 and RCW 32.20.280; amending section 6, chapter 80, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 6, chapter 222, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 32.20.330; and adding new sections to chapter 13, Laws of 1955 and to chapter 32.20 RCW.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 13, Laws of 1955 and to chapter 32.20 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The legislature finds there is a shortage of adequate housing in a suitable environment in many parts of this state for people of modest means, which shortage adversely affects the public in general and the mutual savings banks of this state and their depositors. The legislature further finds that the making of loans or investments to alleviate this problem which may provide a less than market rate of return and entail a higher degree of risk than might otherwise be acceptable, will benefit this state, the banks, and their depositors.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 13, Laws of 1955 and to chapter 32.20 RCW a new section to read as follows:

In addition to the portions of its funds permitted to be invested in real estate loans under RCW 32.20.250 as limited by RCW 32.20.410 and in loans for home or property repairs, alterations, appliances, improvements, or additions, home furnishings, for installation of underground utilities, for educational purposes, for mobile homes used or to be used for permanent or semi-permanent housing, or for nonbusiness family purposes under RCW 32.20.400, a mutual savings bank may invest not to exceed five percent of its funds in loans and investments made after the effective date of this

1973 amendatory act as follows:

(1) Loans for the rehabilitation, remodeling, or expansion of existing housing, if it is arranged that the loan proceeds will be used for such purpose. Such loans may be secured by second mortgages, shall require the payment of principal and interest in annual, semiannual, quarterly or monthly payments at a rate which if continued would repay the loan in full in not more than fifteen years, and shall be in a principal amount not to exceed nine thousand five hundred dollars per living unit for single family housing or seven thousand five hundred dollars per living unit for multi-family housing.

(2) Loans in connection with, or participation in:

(a) Housing programs of any agency of federal, state or local government; and

(b) Housing programs of any nonprofit, union, community, public, or quasi-public corporation or entity.

Such housing must be made available to all without regard to race, creed, sex, color, or national origin.

(3) Loans for purchasing or constructing factory built housing, including but not limited to mobile homes used or to be used for permanent or semi-permanent housing, where the principal balance of any such loan does not exceed in the case of a new mobile home one hundred percent of the manufacturer's invoice price of such mobile home (including any equipment installed by the manufacturer, or installed or to be installed by the dealer); or in the case of a used mobile home, one hundred percent of the wholesale value of such used mobile home (including any installed equipment) as established in the dealer's market. The loan shall be secured by a first mortgage on the real estate, except that no real estate mortgage need be obtained if provision satisfactory to the bank is made for removal of the mobile home or other housing in the event of default and realization on the security.

(4) In mobile home chattel paper which finances the acquisition of inventory by a mobile home dealer if the inventory is to be held for sale in the ordinary course of business by the mobile home dealer, the monetary obligation evidenced by such chattel paper is the obligation of the mobile home dealer and the amount thereof does not exceed the amount allowed to be loaned on such mobile homes under subsection (3) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is added to chapter 13, Laws of 1955 and to chapter 32.20 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Subject to the limits hereinafter set forth, a mutual savings bank may expend its funds for the improvement for public use of privately owned land as parks or recreation areas, including but not limited to "vest pocket" parks, provided that the owner of such land will:

(1) Permit public use thereof for a period of at least eighteen months or for such longer period and subject to such other requirements as the bank may impose; and

(2) At or before the end of public use, permit the removal of all such improvements which in the bank's judgment reasonably may be accomplished.

As used in this section, "public use" means use without regard to race, creed, sex, color, or national origin. The amount expended hereunder and under RCW 32.12.070(2)(d) in any calendar year shall not exceed one-half of one percent of the net earnings of bank for the preceding year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is added to chapter 13, Laws of 1955 and to chapter 32.20 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Loans or investments made under this 1973 amendatory act may provide a less than market rate of return and entail a higher degree of risk than might otherwise be acceptable to the general market, so long as the board of trustees of the bank determines the loan or investment may be beneficial to the community where made, without the need to show a direct corporate benefit, and so long as any private individual who benefits is not, and is not related to any person who is, an officer, employee, or trustee of the bank. It is hereby recognized that the mutual savings banks of the state of Washington and their depositors are affected adversely by the absence of adequate low-cost housing and environmental developments and improvements within the communities they serve and the state of Washington.

The amount a mutual savings bank may invest under this 1973 amendatory act during any twelve month period at less than a market rate of return shall not exceed two percent of the total principal amount of all real estate loans made by the bank during the preceding twelve months.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. There is added to chapter 13, Laws of 1955 and to chapter 32.20 RCW a new section to read as follows:

A mutual savings bank may invest its funds in first mortgages on single family residences, which loans are insured in whole or in part by an insurance company authorized to do business in the state of Washington and in the business of insuring real estate mortgages. Except as provided in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, the provisions of RCW 32.20.250 shall apply to such loans:

(1) Any loan so insured may exceed ninety percent of the value of the real estate, including improvements, but shall not exceed ninety-five percent of such value.

(2) The terms of payment and the ultimate maturity of such loan may exceed the limits as set forth in RCW 32.20.250.

Sec. 6. Section 32.20.280, chapter 13, Laws of 1955, as amended by section 7, chapter 55, Laws of 1969 and RCW 32.20.280 are each amended to read as follows:

A mutual savings bank may invest its funds in real estate as follows:

(1) A tract of land whereon there is or may be erected a building or buildings suitable for the convenient transaction of the business of the savings bank, from portions of which not required for its own use revenue may be derived: PROVIDED, That the cost of the land and building or buildings for the transaction of the business of the savings bank shall in no case exceed ((thirty)) fifty percent of the guaranty fund, undivided profits, reserves, and subordinated securities of the savings bank, except with the approval of the supervisor; and before the purchase of such property is made, or the erection of a building or buildings is commenced, the estimate of the cost thereof, and the cost of the completion of the building or buildings, shall be submitted to and approved by the supervisor. "The cost of the land and building or buildings" means the amounts paid or expended therefor less the reasonable depreciation thereof taken by the bank against such improvements during the time they were held by the bank.

(2) Such lands as shall be conveyed to the savings bank in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business.

(3) Such lands as the savings bank shall purchase at sales under judgments, decrees, or mortgages held by it.

All real estate purchased by any such savings bank, or taken by it in satisfaction of debts due it, under this section, shall be conveyed to it directly by name, and the conveyance shall be immediately recorded in the office of the proper recording officer of the county in which such real estate is situated.

Every parcel of real estate purchased or acquired by a savings bank under this section, shall be sold by it within five years from the date on which it was purchased or acquired, or in case it was acquired subject to a right of redemption, within five years from the date on which the right of redemption expires, unless:

(1) There is a building thereon occupied by the savings bank and its offices, or

(2) The supervisor, on application of the board of trustees of the savings bank, extends the time within which such sale shall be made.

Sec. 7. Section 6, chapter 80, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 6, chapter 222, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 32.20.330 are each amended to read as follows:

A mutual savings bank may invest not to exceed fifteen percent of its funds in such interest bearing obligations issued, guaranteed or assumed by corporations commonly accepted as industrial corporations or engaged in communications, transportation, furnishing utility or telephone services, manufacturing, mining, merchandising or commercial financing, incorporated under the laws of the United States, or any state thereof, or the District of Columbia, or the Dominion of Canada, or any province thereof, as mature within thirty years from the time of the investment, subject to the following conditions:

general application, it shall be an unfair or deceptive act or practice or an unfair method of competition and therefor unlawful and a violation of this chapter for any person to:

(a) Restrict or inhibit the right of the franchisees to join an association of franchisees.

(d) Sell, rent, or offer to sell to a franchisee any product or service for more than a fair and reasonable price.

(e) Obtain money, goods, services, anything of value, or any other benefit from any other person with whom the franchisee does business on account of such business unless such benefit is disclosed to the franchisee.

(f) If the franchise provides that the franchisee has an exclusive territory, which exclusive territory shall be specified in the franchise agreement, for the franchisor or subfranchisor to compete with the franchisee in an exclusive territory or to grant competitive franchises in the exclusive territory area previously granted to another franchisee.

(i) Refuse to renew a franchise without fairly compensating the franchisee for the fair market value, at the time of expiration of the franchise, of the franchisee's inventory, supplies, equipment, and furnishings purchased from the franchisor, and good will, exclusive of personalized materials which have no value to the franchisor, and inventory, supplies, equipment and furnishings not reasonably required in the conduct of the franchise business: PROVIDED, That compensation need not be made to a franchisee for good will if (i) the franchisee has been given one year's notice of nonrenewal and (ii) the franchisor agrees in writing not to enforce any covenant which restrains the franchisee from competing with the franchisor: PROVIDED FURTHER, That a franchisor may offset against amounts owed to a franchisee under this subsection any amounts owed by such franchisee to the franchisor.

(j) To terminate a franchise prior to the expiration of its term except for good cause. Good cause shall include, without limitation, the failure of the franchisee to comply with lawful material provisions of the franchise or other agreement between the franchisor and the franchisee and to cure such default after being given written notice thereof and a reasonable opportunity, which in no event need be more than thirty days, to cure such default, or if such default cannot reasonably be cured within thirty days, the failure of the franchisee to initiate within thirty days substantial and continuing action to cure such default: PROVIDED, That a franchisor may terminate a franchise without giving prior notice or opportunity to cure a default if the franchisee (i) is adjudicated a bankrupt or insolvent; (ii) makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors or similar disposition of the assets of the franchise business; (iii) voluntarily abandons the franchise business; or (iv) is convicted of or pleads guilty or no contest to a charge of violating any law relating to the franchise business. Upon termination for good cause, the franchisor shall purchase from the franchisee at a fair market value at the time of termination, the franchisee's inventory and supplies, exclusive of (i) personalized materials which have no value to the franchisor; (ii) inventory and supplies not reasonably required in the conduct of the franchise business; and (iii), if the franchisee is to retain control of the premises of the franchise business, any inventory and supplies not purchased from the franchisor or on his express requirement: PROVIDED, That a franchisor may offset against amounts owed to a franchisee under this subsection any amounts owed by such franchisee to the franchisor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. In developing the program set forth in section 3 of this act, the department shall, to the extent possible, and consistent with federal law, enlist the services of persons receiving grants under the provisions of RCW 74.08 and RCW 74.12 to carry out the services enumerated under section 2 herein. AN ACT Relating to alien banks; amending section 30.40.020, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 6, chapter 136, Laws of 1969 and RCW 30.40.020; amending section 30.04.290, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 1, chapter 20, Laws of 1961 and RCW 30.04.290; adding a new chapter to Title 30 RCW; and prescribing penalties.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The purpose of this chapter is to establish a legal and regulatory framework for operation by alien banks in the state of Washington that will:

(1) Create a financial climate which will benefit the economy of the state of Washington;

(2) Provide a well regulated and supervised financial system to assist the movement of foreign capital into Washington state for the support and diversification of the local industrial base;

(3) Assist the development of the economy of the state of Washington without disrupting business relationships of state and federal financial institutions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. For the purposes of this chapter, the following terms shall be defined as follows:

(1) "Alien bank" means a bank organized under the laws of a foreign country and having its principal place of business in that country, the majority of the beneficial ownership and control of which is vested in citizens of countries other than the United States of America.

(2) "Office" means a branch or agency of an alien bank carrying on business in this state pursuant to this chapter.

(3) "Branch" means an office of an alien bank that is exercising the powers authorized by section 11 of this 1973 amendatory act.

(4) "Agency" means an office of an alien bank that is exercising the powers authorized by section 18 of this 1973 amendatory act.

(5) "Bureau" means an alien bank's operation in this state exercising the powers authorized by section 23 of this 1973 amendatory act.

(6) "Supervisor" means the supervisor of banking of the state of Washington.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. An alien bank shall not establish and operate an office or bureau in this state unless it is authorized to do so by the supervisor and unless it first complies with all of the provisions of this chapter and then only to the extent expressly permitted by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. An alien bank shall not be permitted to have more than one office in this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. An alien bank shall not take over or acquire an existing federal or state-chartered bank, trust company, mutual savings bank, savings and loan association, or credit union or any branch of any such bank, trust company, mutual savings bank, savings and loan association, or credit union in this state; nor shall any designee, officer, agent or employee of an alien bank serve on the board of directors of any federal or state bank, trust company, savings and loan association, or credit union, or the board of trustees of a mutual savings bank.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. An alien bank shall not hereafter open an office in this state until it has met the following conditions:

(1) It has filed with the supervisor an application in such form and containing such information as shall be prescribed by the supervisor.

(2) It has designated the supervisor by a duly executed instrument in writing, its agent, upon whom process in any action or proceeding arising out of a transaction with the Washington office may be served. Such service shall have the same force and effect as if the alien bank were a Washington corporation and had been lawfully served with process within the state. The supervisor shall forward by mail, postage prepaid, a copy of every process served upon him under the provisions of this subdivision, addressed to the manager or agent of such bank at its office in this state.

(3) It has allocated and assigned to its office within this state paid-in capital of not less than two hundred thousand dollars or such larger amounts as the supervisor in his discretion may require.

(4) It has filed with the supervisor a letter from its chief executive officer guaranteeing that the alien bank's entire capital and surplus is and shall be available for all liabilities and obligations of its office doing business in this state.

(5) It has paid the fees required by law and established by the supervisor pursuant to RCW 30.08.095.

(6) It has received from the supervisor his certificate authorizing the transaction of business in conformity with this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The capital allocated as required in section 6 (3) of this 1973 amendatory act shall be maintained within this state at all times in cash or in supervisor approved interest bearing bonds, notes, debentures, or other obligations of the United States or of any agency or instrumentality thereof, or guaranteed by the United States; or of this state, or of a city, county, town, or other municipal corporation, or instrumentality of this state or guaranteed by this state. Such capital shall be deposited with a bank qualified to do business in and having its principal place of business within this state. Such bank shall issue a written receipt addressed and delivered to the supervisor reciting that such deposit is being held for the sole benefit of the United States domiciled creditors of such alien bank's Washington office and that the same is subject to his order without offset for the payment of such creditors. For the purposes of this section, the term "creditor" shall not include any other offices, branches, subsidiaries, or affiliates of such alien bank. Subject to the approval of the supervisor, reasonable arrangements may be made for substitution of securities. So long as it shall continue business in this state in conformance with this chapter and shall remain solvent, such alien bank shall be permitted to collect all interest and/or income from the assets constituting such allocated capital.

Should any securities so depreciate in market value and/or quality as to reduce the deposit below the amount required, additional money or securities shall be deposited promptly in amounts sufficient to meet such requirements. The supervisor may make an investigation of the market value and of the quality of any security deposited at the time such security is presented for deposit or at any time thereafter. The supervisor may make such charge as may be reasonable and proper for such investigation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Every alien bank maintaining an office in this state shall keep the assets of its Washington office entirely separate and apart from the assets of its other operations as though the Washington office was conducted as a separate and distinct entity. Every such alien bank shall keep separate books of account and records for its Washington office and shall observe with respect to such office the applicable requirements of this chapter and the applicable rules and regulations of the supervisor. The United States domiciled creditors of such alien bank's Washington office shall be entitled to priority with respect to the assets of its Washington office before such assets may be used or applied for the benefit of its other creditors or transferred to its general business.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The supervisor may give or withhold his approval of an application by an alien bank to establish an office in this state at his discretion. His decision shall be based on the information submitted to his office in the application required by section 6 of this 1973 amendatory act and such additional investigation as the supervisor deems necessary or appropriate. Prior to granting approval to said application, he shall have ascertained to his satisfaction that all of the following are true:

(1) the proposed location offers a reasonable promise of adequate support for the proposed office;

(2) the proposed office is not being formed for other than legitimate objects;

(3) the proposed officers of the proposed office have sufficient banking experience and ability to afford reasonable promise of successful operation;

(4) the reputation and financial standing of the alien bank is such as to command the confidence and warrant belief that the business of the proposed office will be conducted honestly and efficiently in accordance with the intent and purpose of this chapter, as set forth in section 1 of this 1973 amendatory act;

(5) the principal purpose of establishing such office shall be within the intent of this chapter.

The supervisor shall not grant an application for an office of an alien bank unless the law of the foreign country under which laws the alien bank is organized permits a bank with its principal place of business in this state to establish in that foreign country a branch, agency or similar operation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. If the supervisor approves the application, he shall notify the alien bank of his approval and shall file certified copies of its charter, certificate or other authorization to do business with the secretary of state and with the recording officer of the county in which the office is to be located. Upon such filing, the supervisor shall issue a certificate of authority stating that the alien bank is authorized to conduct business through a branch or agency in this state at the place designated in accordance with this chapter. Each such certificate shall be conspicuously displayed at all times in the place of business specified therein.

The office of the alien bank must commence business within six months after the issuance of the supervisor's certificate: PROVIDED, That the supervisor for good cause shown may extend such period for an additional time not to exceed three months.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. An approved branch of an alien bank may carry on only the following types of activities:

(1) Deposits. (a) The branch may solicit, receive, or accept money or its equivalent on deposit as a regular business from the following customers:

(i) Corporations, partnerships, or other business organizations, the majority of the beneficial ownership of which is owned by persons of a country other than the United States and who are not residents of the United States, and any subsidiary or affiliate owned or controlled by such an organization;

(ii) Corporations organized under the laws of a state other than this state which have not obtained a certificate of authority to transact business in this state pursuant to chapter 23A.32 RCW.

(iv) Any other person, if the deposit is to be transmitted abroad, or is to provide collateral or payments for extensions of credit by the branch, or represents proceeds of collections abroad which are to be used to pay for goods exported or imported or for other direct costs of export/import, or represents proceeds of the extension of credit by the branch;

(v) The government of the country in which the alien bank is incorporated;

(vi) Other banks;

(vii) Any other persons, provided that the aggregate of deposits from such persons shall not exceed twenty percent of the aggregate of deposits accepted pursuant to this section.

(b) A branch may accept demand deposits, time deposits, and savings deposits from the customers specified in this section only upon the same terms and conditions (including nature and extent of such deposits, withdrawal, and the payment of interest thereon) that banks organized under the laws of this state and insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation may accept such deposits. Such deposits shall be subject to RCW 30.20.010 through 30.20.035, as now or hereafter amended. The branch shall maintain reserves or minimum available funds in this state for such deposits to the same extent that reserves or minimum available funds must be maintained by banks organized under the laws of this state.

(2) Loans. A branch shall have the power to make loans and guarantee obligations subject to the following limitations:

(a) Customers. Loans or guarantees shall be restricted to the following types of customers:

(ii) Corporations organized under the laws of a state other than this state which have not obtained a certificate of authority to transact business in this state pursuant to chapter 23A.32 RCW;

(iii) Natural persons who are citizens of a country other than the United States and are not residents of the United States;

(iv) Persons engaged in the international movement of goods and services.

(b) Purpose. Loans and guarantees may be made only for the following purposes:

(i) With respect to customers specified in subsection (2) (a) (i), (ii), and (iii) of this section, for the financing of the international movement of goods and services and for all operational needs including working capital and short-term operating needs and for the acquisition of fixed assets.

(ii) With respect to customers specified in subsection (2) (a) (iv) of this section, for the financing of the international movement of goods and services, and construction of facilities located and operations conducted outside of this state.

(iii) Nothing herein shall permit a branch to make consumer loans to individuals.

(c) Amount. A branch shall be subject to the same loan limitations that apply to banks organized under the laws of this state; however, the base for computing the applicable loan limitation shall be the entire capital and surplus of the alien bank.

(3) Other activities. A branch of an alien bank in this state shall have the power to carry out these other activities:

(a) Borrow funds from banks and other financial institutions;

(b) Buy and sell foreign exchange;

(c) Receive checks, bills, drafts, acceptances, notes, bonds, coupons, and other securities for collection abroad and collect such instruments in the United States for customers abroad;

(e) Act as paying agent for securities issued by foreign governments or other organizations organized under foreign law and not qualified under the laws of the United States, or any state or the District of Columbia to do business in the United States;

(f) In order to prevent loss on debts previously contracted a branch may acquire shares in a corporation: PROVIDED, That the shares are disposed of as soon as practical but in no event later than two years from the date of acquisition;

(g) Issue letters of credit and create acceptances;

(h) In addition to the powers and activities expressly authorized by this section, a branch shall have the power to carry on such additional activities which are necessarily incidental to the activities expressly authorized by this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A branch shall not commence to transact in this state the business of accepting deposits or transact such business thereafter unless it has met the following requirements:

(1) It has obtained federal deposit insurance corporation insurance covering its eligible deposit liabilities within this state, or in lieu thereof, made arrangements satisfactory to the supervisor for maintenance within this state of additional capital equal to not less than ten percent of its deposit liabilities. Such additional capital shall be deposited in the manner provided in section 7 of this 1973 amendatory act.

(2) It holds in this state currency, bonds, notes, debentures, drafts, bills of exchange, or other evidences of indebtedness or other obligations payable in the United States or in United States' funds or, with the approval of the supervisor, in funds freely convertible into United States' funds, in an amount not less than one hundred eight percent of the aggregate amount of liabilities of such alien bank payable at or through its office in this state. When calculating the value of the assets so held, credit shall be given for the amounts deposited pursuant to sections 6(3) and 12(1) of this 1973 amendatory act.

If deposits are not insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation, then that fact shall be disclosed to all depositors pursuant to rules and regulations of the supervisor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The supervisor may take possession of the office of an alien bank for the reasons stated and in the manner provided in chapter 30.44 RCW. Upon the supervisor taking such possession of a branch, no deposit liabilities of which are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation, the amounts deposited pursuant to section 12(1) of this 1973 amendatory act shall thereupon become the property of the supervisor, free and clear of any and all liens and other claims, and shall be held by him in trust for the United States domiciled depositors of the office in this state of such alien bank. Upon obtaining the approval of the superior court of Thurston county, the supervisor shall reduce such deposited capital to cash and as soon as practicable distribute it to such depositors.

If sufficient cash is available, such distribution shall be in equal amounts to each such depositor: PROVIDED, That no such depositor receives more than the amount of his deposit or an amount equal to the maximum amount insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation, whichever is less. If sufficient cash is not available, such distribution shall be on a pro rata basis to each such depositor: PROVIDED, That no such depositor receives more than the maximum amount insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation. If any cash remains after such distribution, it shall be distributed pro rata to those depositors whose deposits have not been paid in full: PROVIDED, That no depositor receives more than the amount of his deposit. For purposes of this section, the term "depositor" shall not include any other offices, subsidiaries or affiliates of such alien bank.

The term "deposit" as used in this section shall mean the unpaid balance of money or its equivalent received or held by the branch in the usual course of its business and for which it has given or is obligated to give credit, either conditionally or unconditionally to a demand, time or savings account, or which is evidenced by its certificate of deposit, or a check or draft drawn against a deposit account and certified by the branch, or a letter of credit or traveler's checks on which the branch is primarily liable.

Claims of depositors and creditors shall be made and disposed of in the manner provided in chapter 30.44 RCW in the event of insolvency or inability of the bank to pay its creditors in this state. The capital deposit of the bank shall be available for claims of depositors and creditors. The claims of depositors and creditors shall be paid from the capital deposit in the following order or priority:

(3) Such as it shall purchase at sale under judgments, decrees, liens or mortgage foreclosures, against securities held by it.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. If the supervisor approves the application, he shall notify the alien bank of his approval and shall file certified copies of its charter, certificate, or other authorization to do business with the secretary of state and with the recording officer of the county in which the bureau is to be located. A bureau in this state may provide information about services offered by the alien bank, its subsidiaries and affiliates and may gather and provide business and economic information. A bureau may not take deposits, make loans or transact other commercial or banking business in this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. The supervisor is empowered to examine the bureau operations of an alien bank whenever he deems it necessary. The supervisor shall collect from such alien bank the estimated actual cost of such examination.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. AN ACT Relating to public contracts; adding new sections to Title 39 RCW; adding new sections to chapter 60.28 RCW; setting an effective date and declaring an emergency.

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to Title 39 RCW a new section to read as follows:

All invitations for bid proposals for public construction projects issued by the state of Washington, its authorities or agencies, or any political subdivision of the state, shall set forth in the contract documents to the extent they are reasonably obtainable by the public awarding authority those provisions of federal, state and local statutes, ordinances and regulations dealing with the prevention of environmental pollution and the preservation of public natural resources that affect or are affected by the projects. If the successful bidder must undertake additional work due to the enactment of new or the amendment of existing statutes, ordinances, rules or regulations occurring after the submission of the successful bid, the awarding agency shall issue a change order setting forth the additional work that must be undertaken, which shall not invalidate the contract. The cost of such a change order to the awarding agency shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the contract for change orders or force accounts or, if no such provision is set forth in the contract, then the cost to the awarding agency shall be the contractor's costs for wages, labor costs other than wages, wage taxes, materials, equipment rentals, insurance, and subcontracts attributable to the additional activity plus a reasonable sum for overhead and profit: PROVIDED, That such additional costs to undertake work not specified in the contract documents shall not be approved unless written authorization is given the successful bidder prior to his undertaking such additional activity. NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to Title 39 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Section 1 shall take effect in ninety days but shall not apply to any contract awarded pursuant to an invitation for bids issued on or before the date it takes effect, or to any persons or bonds in respect of any such contract.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is added to chapter 60.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) If any delay in issuance of notice to proceed or in construction following an award of any public construction contract is primarily caused by acts or omissions of persons or agencies other than the contractor and a preliminary, special or permanent restraining order of a court of competent jurisdiction is issued pursuant to litigation and the appropriate public contracting body does not elect to delete the completion of the contract or order funds reserved paid to the contractor as provided by RCW 60.28.010(3) and 60.28.070 respectively, the appropriate contracting body will issue a change order or force account directive to cover reasonable costs incurred by the contractor as a result of such delay. These costs shall include but not be limited to contractor's costs for wages, labor costs other than wages, wage taxes, materials, equipment rentals, insurance, bonds, professional fees, and subcontracts, attributable to such delay plus a reasonable sum for overhead and profit.

In the event of a dispute between the contracting body and the contractor, arbitration procedures may be commenced under the applicable terms of the construction contract, or, if the contract contains no such provision for arbitration, under the then obtaining rules of the American Arbitration Association.

If the delay caused by litigation exceeds six months, the contractor may then elect to terminate the contract and to delete the completion of the contract and receive payment in proportion to the amount of the work completed plus the cost of the delay. Amounts retained and accumulated under RCW 60.28.010 shall be held for a period of thirty days following the election of the contractor to terminate. Election not to terminate the contract by the contractor shall not affect the accumulation of costs incurred as a result of the delay provided above.

(2) This section shall not apply to any contract awarded pursuant to an invitation for bid issued on or before the effective date of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If any provision or part of this 1973 act shall be judged to be invalid or unconstitutional, such adjudication shall not affect the validity of any provision or part of this 1973 act not adjudged invalid or unconstitutional.

VOTE COUNTING CENTERS--

LOCATION

AN ACT Relating to elections; and amending section 27, chapter 109, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 29.34.160.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

Section 1. Section 27, chapter 109, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 29.34.160 are each amended to read as follows:

The county auditor shall determine the location of each vote tallying system under his jurisdiction and the number of ballot card precincts assigned to each. Such facility shall be known as the "counting center" and may be located wherever ((within the county)) in the judgment of the county auditor best serves the voters((: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That such counting center be within twenty-five miles of the county seat of such county)).

The procedure for picking up voted ballot cards at the respective polling places, the delivery of same to the counting centers, and the procedure at the counting centers shall include but not be limited to the following provisions:

(1) On the day of the election and at the direction of the county auditor, a representative of each major political party shall together stop at each polling place and pick up one or more metal boxes, previously sealed by the precinct election officers, and containing the voted ballot cards for the delivery of same to the counting center. There may be as many as two such stops at each polling place provided that the first stop is not made prior to 2:00 p.m. and the second stop is made after the polls have been closed to voting.

(2) All proceedings at the counting center shall be under the direction of the county auditor and under the observation of two election officers, who shall not be of the same political party. After the polls have been closed to voting, such proceedings shall be open to the public, but no persons except those employed and authorized for the purpose shall touch any ballot card or ballot container. If upon breaking the seals and opening the containers, it is found that any ballot is damaged or defective so that it cannot properly be counted by the automatic tabulating equipment, a true duplicate copy shall be made of the damaged ballot in the presence of witnesses and substituted for the damaged ballot. All such damaged ballots shall be kept by the county auditor until sixty days after the primary or election concerned.

The ballot cards picked up during the polling hours may subsequently be counted before the polls have closed: PROVIDED, That all such election returns must be held in secrecy in the same manner as the count of paper ballots during polling hours as provided by RCW 29.54.030. Any person revealing any election returns to unauthorized persons prior to the close of the polls shall be subject to the same penalties as provided by RCW 29.54.035;

(3) The secretary of state shall prescribe rules and regulations for the testing of the vote tallying system prior to the day of the election to ascertain that the equipment will correctly count the votes cast for all offices and on all measures. However, such test shall be observed by at least two election officers, who shall not be of the same political party, and shall be open to representatives of the political parties, candidates, the press and the public. The test shall be conducted by processing a pre-audited group of ballots so punched or marked as to record a predetermined number of valid votes for each candidate and on each measure, and shall include for each office one or more ballots which have votes in excess of the number allowed by law in order to test the ability of the automatic tabulating equipment to reject such votes. If any error is detected, the cause therefor shall be ascertained and corrected and an errorless count shall be made before the automatic tabulating equipment is approved. The test shall be repeated immediately before the start of the official count of the ballots in the same manner as set forth above.

On the day of the election, two election officers, not of the same political party, shall be stationed at the counting center throughout the official count. Such persons, upon mutual agreement, may request that the tabulating equipment be stopped as many as three times during the official count so that the accuracy of the proceedings can be again verified at such unscheduled stops by the count of the pre-audited group of ballots.

(4) The returns printed by the automatic tabulating equipment, to which has been added the count of write-in and absentee votes, shall constitute the official returns of each precinct or election district.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 33, Laws of 1955 and to chapter 30.24 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Within the standards of judgment and care established by law, and subject to any express provisions or limitations contained in any particular trust instrument, guardians, trustees and other fiduciaries, whether individual or corporate, are authorized to invest the principal of trust funds to acquire and retain policies of life insurance made upon the life of any person for whose benefit the fiduciary holds property or made upon the life of another in whose life such person has an insurable interest, the policy and the proceeds or avails thereof to be the property of the fiduciary.

The purpose of this section is to affirm that certain policies of life insurance are among the investments authorized for fiduciaries, but without creating any inference that a policy of life insurance is preferable to other authorized investments in a particular instance.

Whenever power or authority to direct or control the acts of a trustee or the investments of a trust is conferred directly or indirectly upon any person other than the designated trustee of the trust, such person shall be deemed to be a fiduciary and shall be liable to the beneficiaries of said trust and to the designated trustee to the same extent as if he were a designated trustee in relation to the exercise or nonexercise of such power or authority.

But no person shall procure or cause to be procured any insurance contract upon the life or body of another individual unless the benefits under such contract are payable to the individual insured or his personal representatives, or to a person having, at the time when such contract was made, an insurable interest in the individual insured.

(2) If the beneficiary, assignee or other payee under any contract made in violation of this section receives from the insurer any benefits thereunder accruing upon the death, disablement or injury of the individual insured, the individual insured or his executor or administrator, as the case may be, may maintain an action to recover such benefits from the person so receiving them.

(3) "Insurable interest" as used in this section and in RCW 48.18.060 includes only interests as follows:

(a) In the case of individuals related closely by blood or by law, a substantial interest engendered by love and affection; and

(b) in the case of other persons, a lawful and substantial economic interest in having the life, health or bodily safety of the individual insured continue, as distinguished from an interest which would arise only by, or would be enhanced in value by, the death, disablement or injury of the individual insured.

(c) An individual heretofore or hereafter party to a contract or option for the purchase or sale of an interest in a business partnership or firm, or of shares of stock of a close corporation or of an interest in such shares, has an insurable interest in the life of each individual party to such contract and for the purposes of such contract only, in addition to any insurable interest which may otherwise exist as to the life of such individual.

(d) A guardian, trustee or other fiduciary has an insurable interest in the life of any person for whose benefit the fiduciary holds property, and in the life of any other individual in whose life such person has an insurable interest.

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 69.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For the purpose of this 1973 act:

(1) "Perishable packaged food goods" means and includes all foods and beverages, except alcoholic beverages, frozen foods, fresh meat, poultry and fish and a raw agricultural commodity as defined in this chapter, intended for human consumption which are canned, bottled, or packaged other than at the time and point of retail sale, which have a high risk of spoilage within a period of thirty days, and as determined by the director of the department of agriculture by rule and regulation to be perishable.

(2) "Pull date" means the latest date a packaged food product shall be offered for sale to the public.

(3) "Shelf life" means the length of time during which a packaged food product will retain its safe consumption quality if stored under proper temperature conditions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 69.04 RCW a new section to read as follows:

All perishable packaged food goods with a projected shelf life of thirty days or less, which are offered for sale to the public after January 1, 1974 shall state on the package the pull date. The pull date must be stated in day, and month and be in a style and format that is readily decipherable by consumers. No perishable packaged food goods shall be offered for sale after the pull date, except as provided in section 3 of this 1973 act.

[Senate Bill No. 2309]

BONDS AUTHORIZED

AN ACT Relating to state government; providing for the acquisition, construction, remodeling, furnishing, and equipping of state buildings and facilities; providing for the financing thereof by the issuance of bonds; making an appropriation; and declaring an emergency.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds that an expansion of the state pavilion at Expo '74 initially authorized for construction by the 1971 legislature is consistent with the purposes of the exposition and the needs of the state of Washington in order that the facility produced will both more adequately serve the state during the exposition and as a permanent structure for the benefit of the state afterwards.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. For the purpose of providing additional space for the Washington State Pavilion at Expo '74 as determined to be necessary by the Expo '74 commission, including the planning, acquisition, construction, remodeling and equipping, together with all improvements and enhancements of said project, the state finance committee is authorized to issue general obligation bonds of the state of Washington in the sum of two million nine hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be required, to finance the projects defined in this act and all costs incidental thereto. Such bonds shall be paid and discharged within thirty years of the date of issuance in accordance with Article VIII, section 1 of the state Constitution.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The issuance, sale and retirement of said bonds shall be under the supervision and control of the state finance committee. The committee is authorized to prescribe the form, terms, conditions, and covenants of the bonds, the time or times of sale of all or any portion of them, and the conditions and manner of their sale, issuance and redemption. None of the bonds authorized in this act shall be sold for less than the par value

The committee may provide that the bonds, or any of them, may be called prior to the maturity date thereof under such terms, conditions, and provisions as it may determine and may authorize the use of facsimile signatures in the issuance of such bonds and notes, if any. Such bonds shall be payable at such places as the committee may provide.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. At the time the state finance committee determines to issue such bonds or a portion thereof, it may, pending the issuing of such bonds, issue, in the name of the state, temporary notes in anticipation of the money to be derived from the sale of the bonds, which notes shall be designated as "anticipation notes". Such portion of the proceeds of the sale of such bonds that may be required for such purpose shall be applied to the payment of the principal of and interest on such anticipation notes which have been issued. The proceeds from the sale of bonds authorized by this act and any interest earned on the interim investment of such proceeds, shall be deposited in the state building construction account of the general fund in the state treasury and shall be used exclusively for the purposes specified in this act and for the payment of expenses incurred in the issuance and sale of the bonds. The Expo '74 commission is hereby authorized to acquire property, real and personal, by lease, purchase condemnation or gift to achieve the objectives of chapters 1, 2, and 3, Laws of 1971 ex. sess., and this act. The commission is further directed pursuant to RCW 43.19.450 to utilize the department of general administration services to accomplish the purposes set forth herein.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The principal proceeds from the sale of the bonds or notes deposited in the state building construction account of the general fund shall be administered by the Expo '74 commission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The state building bond redemption fund, 1973-A, is hereby created in the state treasury, which fund shall be exclusively devoted to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds authorized by this act. The state finance committee, shall, on or before June 30th of each year, certify to the state treasurer the amount needed in the ensuing twelve months to meet such bond retirement and interest requirements and on July 1st of each year the state treasurer shall deposit such amount in the state building bond redemption fund, 1973-A, from any general state revenues received in the state treasury and certified by the state treasurer to be general state revenues. Bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall state that they are a general obligation of the state of Washington, shall pledge the full faith and credit of the state to the payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon and shall contain an unconditional promise to pay such principal and interest as the same shall become due. The owner and holder of each of the bonds or the trustee for the owner and holder of any of the bonds may by a mandamus or other appropriate proceeding require the transfer and payment of funds as directed herein.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The legislature may provide additional means for raising moneys for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds authorized herein, and this act shall not be deemed to provide an exclusive method for such payment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The bonds authorized in this act shall be a legal investment for all state funds or funds under state control and for all funds of any other public body.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. There is hereby appropriated to the Expo '74 commission from the state building construction account of the general fund the sum of two million nine hundred thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary to accomplish the purposes of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government, and its existing public institutions and shall take effect immediately.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. As used in this chapter:

(1) "Criminally insane" means any person who has been acquitted of a crime charged by reason of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, and thereupon found to be a substantial danger to himself or other persons and in need of further control by the court or other persons or institutions. No condition of mind proximately induced by the voluntary act of a person charged with a crime shall be deemed a mental disease or defect excluding responsibility.

(2) "Indigent" means any person who is financially unable to obtain counsel or other necessary expert or professional services without causing substantial hardship to himself or his family.

(3) "Secretary" means the secretary of the department of social and health services or his designee.

(4) "Department" means the state department of social and health services.

(5) "Treatment" means any currently standardized medical or mental health procedure including medication.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) At any and all stages of the proceedings pursuant to this chapter, any person subject to the provisions of this chapter shall be entitled to the assistance of counsel, and if the person is indigent and unable to retain counsel the court shall appoint counsel to assist him. A person may waive his right to counsel only following a specific finding by the court that he is competent to so waive. In making such findings, the court shall be guided but not limited by the following standards: Whether the person attempting to waive the assistance of counsel, does so understanding:

- (a) The nature of the charges;
- (b) The statutory offense included within them;
- (c) The range of allowable punishments thereunder;
- (d) Possible defenses to the charges and circumstances in

(e) All other facts essential to a broad understanding of the whole matter.

(2) Whenever any person is subjected to a mental status examination pursuant to any provision of this chapter, he may retain an expert or professional person to participate in the examination in his behalf. In the case of a person who is indigent, either the court or the secretary shall upon his request assist the person in obtaining an expert or professional person to participate in the examination or hearing on his behalf. An expert or professional person obtained by an indigent person pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall be compensated for his services out of funds of the department, in an amount determined by it to be fair and reasonable.

(3) Whenever any person has been committed under any provision of this chapter, or ordered to undergo alternative treatment following his acquittal of a crime charged by reason of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, such commitment or treatment cannot exceed the maximum possible penal sentence for any offense charged. If at the end of that period the person has not been finally discharged and is still in need of commitment or treatment, civil commitment proceedings may be instituted, if appropriate.

(4) Any time the defendant is being examined by court appointed experts or professional persons pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, he shall be entitled to have his attorney present. If the defendant is indigent and unable to retain counsel, the court upon the request of the defendant shall appoint counsel to assist the defendant. The defendant may refuse to answer any question if he believes his answers may tend to incriminate him or form links leading to evidence of an incriminating nature.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) Evidence of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility is not admissible unless the defendant, at the time of arraignment or within ten days thereafter or at such later time as the court may for good cause permit, files a written notice of his intent to rely on such a defense.

(2) Mental disease or defect excluding responsibility is a defense which the defendant must establish by a preponderance of the evidence.

(3) When the defendant is acquitted on the grounds of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, the verdict and judgment shall so state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Whenever the issue of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility has been raised by the defendant, the court shall instruct the jury to return a verdict in substantially the following form:

- | | answer |
|---|-----------|
| | yes or no |
| 1. Did the defendant commit the crime charged? | ----- |
| 2. If your answer to number 1 is yes, do you acquit him because of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility? | ----- |
| 3. If your answer to number 2 is yes, is the defendant a substantial danger to himself or others and in need of control by the court or other persons or institutions? | ----- |

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. No person who lacks the capacity to understand the proceedings against him or to assist in his own defense as a result of mental disease or defect shall be tried, convicted, or sentenced for the commission of an offense so long as such incapacity continues.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) Whenever a defendant has pleaded not guilty by reason of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, or there is reason to doubt his fitness to proceed as a result of mental disease or defect, the court on its own motion or on the motion of any party shall appoint, or shall request the secretary to designate, at least two qualified experts or professional persons, one of whom shall be approved by the prosecuting attorney, to examine and report upon the mental condition of the defendant. For purposes of the examination, the court may order the defendant committed to a hospital or other suitable facility for a period of time necessary to complete the examination, but not to exceed fifteen days.

(2) The court shall direct that a qualified expert or professional person retained by the defendant be permitted to witness the examination authorized by subsection (1) of this section, and that he shall have access to all information obtained by the court appointed experts or professional persons. The defendant's expert or professional person shall have the right either to join in the report filed by the court appointed experts or professional persons authorized by subsection (1) of this section, or to file his own separate report following the guidelines of subsection (3) of this section. If the defendant is indigent, the court shall upon the request of the defendant assist him in obtaining a duly qualified expert or professional person to participate in the examination on the defendant's behalf.

- (3) The report of the examination shall include the following:
- (a) A description of the nature of the examination;
 - (b) A diagnosis of the mental condition of the defendant;
 - (c) If the defendant suffers from a mental disease or defect, an opinion as to his capacity to understand the proceedings against him and to assist in his own defense;

(d) If the defendant has indicated his intention to rely on the defense of irresponsibility pursuant to section 3 of this act, an opinion as to the extent he lacked capacity either:

(i) To know or appreciate the nature and consequences of such conduct; or

(ii) To know or appreciate the criminality of such conduct;

(e) When directed by the court, an opinion as to the capacity of the defendant to have a particular state of mind which is an element of the offense charged;

(f) An opinion as to whether the defendant is a substantial danger to himself or others and is in need of control by the court or other persons or institutions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. When the defendant wishes to be examined by a qualified expert or professional person of his own choice such examiner shall be permitted to have reasonable access to the defendant for the purpose of such examination, as well as to all relevant medical and psychological records and reports.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. If the report filed pursuant to section 6 of this act finds that the defendant at the time of the criminal conduct charged did not have capacity to either (1) know or appreciate the nature and consequence of such conduct; or (2) know or appreciate the criminality of such conduct, the defendant, upon notification to the prosecuting attorney, may move that a judgment of acquittal on the grounds of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility be entered. If the court, after a hearing on the motion, is satisfied that such impairment was sufficient to exclude responsibility, the court shall enter judgment of acquittal on the grounds of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility. If the motion is denied, the question shall be submitted to the trier of fact in the same manner as all other issues of fact.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) If at any time during the pendency of an action and prior to judgment, the court finds following a report as provided in section 6 of this act, that the defendant is incapable of understanding the proceedings against him or assisting in his own defense, the court shall order the proceedings against him be stayed, except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, and may commit the defendant to the custody of the secretary, who shall place such defendant in an appropriate facility of the department for evaluation and treatment, or the court may alternatively order the defendant to undergo evaluation and treatment at some other facility, or under the guidance and control of some other person, until he has regained the competency necessary to understand the proceedings against him and assist in his own defense, but in any event, for no longer than a period of ninety days. If during the ninety day period, the court on its own motion, or upon application of the secretary, the prosecuting attorney, or the defendant, finds by a preponderance of the evidence, after a hearing, that the defendant is now able to understand the proceedings against him and assist in his own defense, the proceedings shall be resumed.

(2) If at the end of the ninety day period the court finds that the defendant is not able to understand the proceedings against him and assist in his own defense, the court shall have the option of extending the order of commitment or alternative treatment for an additional ninety day period, but it must at the time of extension set a date for a prompt hearing to determine the defendant's competency if the defendant has not been judged competent to proceed before the expiration of the second ninety day period. The defendant, his attorney, the prosecutor, or the judge shall have the right to demand that the competency hearing at the end of the ninety day extension period be before a jury. If no demand is made, the hearing shall be before the court. The sole issue to be determined at such a hearing is whether the defendant has the competency to understand the proceedings against him and to assist in his own defense.

(3) If the jury or court, as the case may be, finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant is unable to understand the proceedings against him and assist in his own defense, the charges shall be dismissed without prejudice, and either civil commitment proceedings shall immediately be instituted, if appropriate, or the court shall order the release of the defendant: PROVIDED, That if the jury or court, as the case may be, also finds by a preponderance of the evidence that, on or before ninety days from the expiration date of the second ninety day period, the defendant will be so improved as to be able to understand the proceedings against him and assist in his own defense, the court shall extend the order of commitment or alternative treatment for a period no longer than an additional ninety days and shall also order that if the defendant has not been judged competent to proceed and has not been brought to trial on or before the end of said additional ninety day period, then at the end of said period, upon providing notice to the court, but without further order of the court, either civil commitment proceedings shall immediately be instituted, if appropriate, or the defendant shall be released.

(4) If the jury or the court, as the case may be, finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant has regained the ability to understand the proceedings against him and to assist in his own defense, the criminal proceedings shall be resumed.

(5) The fact that the defendant is unfit to proceed does not preclude any pretrial proceedings which do not require the personal participation of the defendant.

(6) A defendant receiving medication for either physical or mental problems shall not be prohibited from standing trial, if the medication either enables him to understand the proceedings against him and to assist in his own defense, or does not disable him from so understanding and assisting in his own defense.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. At any proceeding held pursuant to this chapter:

(1) Experts or professional persons who have reported pursuant to this chapter may be called as witnesses. Both the prosecution and the defendant may summon any other qualified expert or professional persons to testify, but no one who has not examined the defendant outside of court shall be competent to testify to an expert opinion with respect to the mental condition or responsibility of the defendant, as distinguished from the validity of the procedure followed by, or the general scientific propositions stated by, another witness.

(2) Experts or professional persons who have examined the defendant and who have been called as witnesses concerning his mental condition shall be permitted to make a statement as to the nature of his examination, his diagnosis of the mental condition of the defendant at the time of the commission of the offense charged and his opinion as to the extent, if any, the defendant lacked capacity either (1) to know or appreciate the nature and consequence of such conduct; or (2) to know or appreciate the criminality of such conduct. He shall be permitted to make any explanation reasonably serving to clarify his diagnosis and opinion and may be cross-examined as to any matter bearing on his competency or credibility or the validity of his diagnosis or opinion.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. If a defendant charged with a crime is acquitted by reason of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, and it is found that he is not a substantial danger to himself or other persons, and not in need of control by the court or other persons or institutions, the court shall direct his release. If it is found that the defendant is a substantial danger to himself or others and in need of control by the court or other persons or institutions, the court may order his hospitalization or may order alternative treatment pursuant to the terms of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The secretary shall forthwith provide adequate care and individualized treatment at one or several of the state institutions or facilities under his direction and control wherein persons committed as criminally insane may be confined. Such persons shall be under the custody and control of the secretary to the same extent as are other persons who are committed to his custody, but such provision shall be made for their control, care, and treatment as is proper in view of their condition. In order that the secretary may adequately determine the nature of the mental illness of the person committed to him as criminally insane, and in order for the secretary to place such individuals in a proper facility, all persons who are committed to the secretary as criminally insane shall be promptly examined by qualified personnel in such a manner as to provide a proper evaluation and diagnosis of such individual. Any person so committed shall not be discharged from the control of the secretary save upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction made after a hearing and judgment of discharge.

Whenever there is a hearing which the committed person is entitled to attend, the secretary shall send him in the custody of one or more department employees to the county where the hearing is to be held at the time the case is called for trial. During the time he is absent from the facility, he shall be confined in a facility designated by and arranged for by the department, and shall at all times be deemed to be in the custody of the department employee and provided necessary treatment. If the decision of the hearing remits the person to custody, the department employee shall forthwith return him to such institution or facility designated by the secretary. If the state appeals an order of discharge, such appeal shall operate as a stay, and the person in custody shall so remain and be forthwith returned to the institution or facility designated by the secretary until a final decision has been rendered in the cause. If the state does not appeal, the order of discharge shall be sufficient acquittal to the secretary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Either party to the cause may have the evidence and all of the matters not of record in the cause made a part of the record by the certification of a statement of facts or bill of exceptions as in other cases. If an appeal should not be taken, such statement of facts or bill of exceptions shall remain on file in the office of the clerk of the court where the cause was tried, and if an appeal be taken, the statement of facts or bill of exceptions shall be returned from the court of appeals or the supreme court to the court where the cause was tried when the court of appeals or the supreme court shall have rendered its final judgment in the cause.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Each patient committed to a hospital or other facility or conditionally released pursuant to this chapter shall have a current examination of his mental condition made by one or more experts or professional persons at least once every six months. The patient may retain, or if he is indigent and so requests, the court may appoint a duly qualified expert or professional person to examine him, and such expert or professional person shall have access to all hospital records concerning the patient. The secretary, upon receipt of the periodic report, shall provide written notice to the court of commitment of compliance with the requirements of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) Persons examined pursuant to section 14 of this act may make application to the secretary for conditional release. The secretary shall, after considering the reports of experts or professional persons conducting the examination pursuant to section 14 of this act, forward to the court the person's application for conditional release as well as his recommendations concerning the application and any proposed terms and conditions upon which he believes the person can be conditionally released. Conditional release may also contemplate partial release for work, training, or educational purposes.

(2) The court, upon receipt of an application for conditional release with the secretary's recommendation for conditional release, shall within thirty days schedule a hearing. The court may schedule a hearing on applications recommended for disapproval by the secretary. The prosecuting attorney shall represent the state at such hearings and shall have the right to have the patient examined by an expert or professional person of his choice. If the patient is indigent, and he so requests, the court shall appoint a duly qualified expert or professional person to examine the patient on his behalf. The issue to be determined at such a hearing is whether the person may be released conditionally without substantial danger to himself or other persons and is not in need of further control by the court or other persons or institutions. The court, after hearing, shall rule on the secretary's recommendations, and if it disapproves of said recommendations, may do so only on the basis of substantial evidence. The court, prior to conditional release, may modify the suggested terms and conditions on which the person is to be conditionally released. Pursuant to the determination of the court after hearing, the committed person shall thereupon be released on such conditions as the court determines to be necessary, or shall be remitted to the custody of the secretary.

(3) A recommendation by the secretary pursuant to this section that the person should not be conditionally released does not preclude such person from applying for a writ of habeas corpus on the issue of whether he may be released without substantial danger to himself or other persons and is not in need of further control by the court or other persons or institutions, where no hearing has been held pursuant to subsection (2) of this section.

(4) Any person, whose application for conditional release has been denied, may reapply after a period of six months from the date of denial.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. When a conditionally released person is required by the terms of his conditional release to report to a physician, probation officer, or other such person on a regular or periodic basis, the doctor, probation officer, or other such person shall monthly, or as otherwise directed by the court, submit to the court, the secretary, the institution from which released, and to the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the person was committed, a report stating whether the person is adhering to the terms and conditions of his conditional release.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. As funds are available, the secretary may provide payment to a person conditionally released pursuant to section 16 of this act, consistent with the provisions of RCW 72.02.100 and 72.02.110, and may adopt rules and regulations to do so.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. Each person conditionally released pursuant to section 16 of this act shall have his case reviewed by the court which conditionally released him no later than one year after such release and no later than every two years thereafter, such time to be scheduled by the court. Review may occur in a shorter time or more frequently, if the court, in its discretion, on its own motion, or on motion of the person, the secretary or the prosecuting attorney, so determines. The sole question to be determined by the court is whether the person shall continue to be conditionally released. The court in making its determination shall be aided by the periodic reports filed pursuant to sections 14 and 17 of this act, and the opinions of the secretary and other experts or professional persons.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. (1) Any person submitting reports pursuant to section 17 of this act, the secretary, or the prosecuting attorney may petition the court to, or the court on its own motion may schedule an immediate hearing for the purpose of modifying the terms of conditional release if the petitioner or the court believes the released person is failing to adhere to the terms and conditions of his conditional release or is in need of additional care and treatment.

(2) If the prosecuting attorney, the secretary, or the court, after examining the report filed with them pursuant to section 17 of this act, or based on other information received by them, reasonably believes that a conditionally released person is failing to adhere to the terms and conditions of his conditional release, and because of that failure he has become a substantial danger to himself or other persons, the secretary may order that the conditionally released person be apprehended and taken into custody until such time as a hearing can be scheduled to determine the facts and whether or not the patient should be rehospitalized. The court shall be notified before the close of the next judicial day of a patient's apprehension. Both the prosecuting attorney and the patient shall have the right to request an immediate mental status examination of the patient. In the case of a patient who is indigent, the secretary shall, upon request of the patient, assist him in obtaining a duly qualified expert or professional person to conduct the examination.

(3) The court, upon receiving notification of the patient's apprehension, shall promptly schedule a hearing. The issue to be determined is whether the conditionally released person did or did not adhere to the terms and conditions of his release, is likely to harm himself or other persons if not hospitalized or whether the conditions of release should be modified. Pursuant to the determination of the court upon such hearing, the conditionally released person shall either continue to be conditionally released on the same or modified conditions or shall be rehospitalized subject to release only in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. (1) If the secretary determines, after such investigation as he may deem necessary, that a patient committed as criminally insane pursuant to this chapter may be finally discharged without substantial danger to himself or other persons and is not in need of further control by the court or other persons or institutions, he shall make application to the court for the final discharge.

(2) The court, upon receipt of the application for final discharge, shall within forty-five days order a hearing. Continuance of the hearing date shall only be allowed for good cause shown. The prosecuting attorney shall represent the state, and shall have the right to have the patient examined by an expert or professional person of his choice. If the patient is indigent, and he so requests, the court shall appoint a duly qualified expert or professional person to examine the patient on his behalf. The hearing shall be before a jury if demanded by either the patient or the prosecuting attorney. The issue to be determined at such a hearing is whether the person may be finally discharged without substantial danger to himself or others and is not in need of further control by the court or other persons or institutions.

(3) Nothing contained in this chapter shall prohibit the patient from petitioning by writ of habeas corpus for final discharge. The issue to be determined on such proceeding is whether the patient is a substantial danger to himself or other persons and is not in need of further control by the court or other persons or institutions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. Any person involuntarily detained, hospitalized, or committed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall have the right to adequate care and individualized treatment. The person who has custody of the patient or is in charge of treatment shall keep records detailing all medical, expert, and professional care and treatment received by a committed person, and shall keep copies of all reports of periodic examinations of the patient that have been filed with the secretary pursuant to this chapter. All records and reports made pursuant to this chapter, shall be made available only upon request, to the committed person, to his attorney, to his personal physician, to the prosecuting attorney, to the court or other expert or professional persons who, upon proper showing, demonstrate a need for access to such records.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. No person confined pursuant to this chapter shall be incarcerated in a state correctional institution or facility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. Either party may appeal to the court of appeals the judgment of any hearing held pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. The procedure on appeal shall be the same as in other cases.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. Nothing in this chapter shall prohibit a person presently committed from exercising a right presently available to him for obtaining release from confinement, including the right to petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. Notwithstanding any provision of the revised code of Washington to the contrary, the department shall be responsible for all costs relating to the evaluation and treatment of persons committed to it pursuant to any provisions of this chapter, and the logistical and supportive services pertaining thereto. Reimbursement may be obtained by the department pursuant to RCW 71.02.380.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. (1) Any acts done before the effective date of this act and any proceedings then pending and any constitutional right or any action taken in any proceeding pending under statutes in effect prior to the effective date of this act are not impaired by this chapter.

(2) This chapter shall also apply to persons committed under prior law as incompetent to stand trial or as being criminally insane and to any proceedings in court then pending or thereafter commenced regardless of when the proceedings were commenced, except to the extent that in the opinion of the court, the former procedure should continue to be made applicable in a particular case in the interest of justice or because of infeasibility of application of the procedures of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or its application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. Sections 1 through 27 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 10 RCW, and shall be considered the successor chapter to chapter 10.76 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. The following acts or parts of acts are each hereby repealed:

CHAPTER 120
[Substitute Senate Bill No. 2407]
WASHINGTON HIGHER EDUCATION ASSISTANCE AUTHORITY

AN ACT Relating to higher education; creating the Washington higher education assistance authority and setting out its powers, duties and functions; adding new sections to chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and to Title 28B RCW as a new chapter thereof; making an effective date; and declaring an emergency.
BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. AUTHORITY CREATED. There is hereby created a corporate governmental agency of the state, constituting a public corporation and governing instrumentality, which shall be known as the "Washington State Higher Education Assistance Authority".

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. PURPOSE OF AUTHORITY. The purpose of the authority shall be to assist needy and disadvantaged persons to pursue a post-secondary education by purchasing loans made by banking and educational institutions to such persons to help them meet the rising costs of such education, thereby encouraging those institutions to make such loans, and increasing the supply of moneys available therefor. The legislature hereby finds and determines that it is in the public interest and essential to the welfare and well-being of the inhabitants of the state and to the proper growth and development of the state to encourage and assist every student who has the desire and capacity to pursue a post-secondary education. It is hereby further found and determined that the rising costs to students of post-secondary education are placing the goal of such study beyond the financial reach of a growing proportion of our potential student population, particularly those young men and women who are needy and disadvantaged, with a consequent irreparable loss to the state of valuable talents vital to its welfare. It is, therefore, found and determined that the authority created by section 1 of this 1973 act is a proper and effective means of meeting this fiscal crisis in post-secondary education, which is contrary to the general welfare of the inhabitants of the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. DEFINITIONS. As used in this chapter, the following words and terms shall have the following meanings, unless the context shall clearly indicate another or different meaning or intent:

wherever located, and (b) who demonstrates to the authority the financial inability, either through his parents, family and/or personally, to meet the total cost of board, room, books, tuition and fees and incidental expenses for any semester or quarter.

(8) The term "federal guaranteed loan program" shall mean the program for the insurance by the federal government of loans to students, enacted by the higher education act of nineteen hundred sixty-five, as amended, and all rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, or any successor legislation thereto providing for similar federal insurance of student loans.

Prior to the appointment of the student representative the governor shall consult with elected student government officers. The six additional members shall have four year terms except for the two students who shall serve for two years: PROVIDED, That the initial terms of the additional members, except for student members, shall be staggered so that terms shall be for one year, two years, three years, and four years respectively: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the initial terms of the student members shall be staggered so that terms shall be for one year and two years respectively: PROVIDED FURTHER, That a student member's term of office shall be terminated if said student member ceases to be enrolled in a post-secondary educational institution during said term of office.

(2) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary provided in this chapter, the authority may, subject to the provisions of the federal guaranteed loan program, forgive or suspend all or part of the payment of any loan pursuant to such rules or regulations as the authority shall prescribe: PROVIDED, That the authority shall not so forgive or suspend any such payment, unless it shall, on behalf of the borrower and on such terms and conditions as it shall deem proper, set apart and apply an amount equal to the payment so forgiven or suspended from available funds of the authority not required by the terms of any bond resolution for the payment of principal of or interest on bonds payable during the current state fiscal year or the current operating expenses of the authority.

(3) Any person otherwise qualifying for a loan from a bank, pension fund, credit union, post-secondary educational institution or the commission shall not be disqualified by reason of his being under the age of majority. For the purposes of applying for, receiving and repaying such a loan, any such person shall be deemed to have full legal capacity to act, and shall have all the rights, powers, privileges and obligations of a person of full age with respect thereto. In no event shall lack of legal capacity to act by reason of nonage be a defense to an action or claim based upon a loan made by a bank, pension fund, credit union, post-secondary educational institution or the commission, or upon a loan held by the authority.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. BONDS AND NOTES OF THE AUTHORITY. (1) The authority shall have the power and is hereby authorized from time to time to issue its negotiable bonds and notes in conformity with the applicable provisions of the uniform commercial code in such principal amounts as, in the opinion of the authority, shall be necessary to provide sufficient funds for achieving the corporate purposes thereof, including the purchase of loans as provided in this chapter, the payment of interest on bonds and notes of the authority, establishment of reserves to secure such bonds and notes, and all other expenditures of the authority incident to and necessary or convenient to carry out its corporate purposes and powers.

investment and payment of any moneys of or due to the authority;

(D) limitations on the purpose to which the proceeds of sale of any issue of such bonds then or thereafter to be issued may be applied;

(E) limitations on the issuance of additional bonds, the terms upon which additional bonds may be issued and secured, and upon the refunding of outstanding or other bonds;

(H) vesting in a trustee or trustees such properties, rights, powers and duties in trust as the authority may determine, which may include any or all of the rights, powers and duties of the trustee appointed pursuant to section 9 of this 1973 act, in which event the provisions of such section authorizing appointment of a trustee shall not apply; or limiting or abrogating the right of the holders of bonds to appoint a trustee under such section or limiting the rights, duties and powers of such trustee;

(I) defining the acts or omissions to act which shall constitute a default in the obligations and duties of the authority and providing for the rights and remedies of the holders of bonds in the event of such default: PROVIDED, That such rights and remedies shall not be inconsistent with the general laws of this state and other provisions of this chapter; and

(J) any other matters of like or different character, which in any way affect the security and protection of the bonds and the rights of the holders thereof.

(5) The authority is authorized to provide for the issuance of its bonds for the purpose of refunding any bonds of the authority then outstanding, including the payment of any redemption premiums thereon and any interest accrued or to accrue to the redemption date next succeeding the date of delivery of such refunding bonds. The proceeds of any such bonds issued for the purpose of so refunding outstanding bonds shall be forthwith applied to the purchase or retirement of such outstanding bonds or the redemption of such outstanding bonds on the redemption date next succeeding the date of delivery of such refunding bonds and may, pending such application, be placed in escrow to be applied to such purchase or retirement or redemption on such date. Any such escrowed proceeds, pending such use, may be invested and reinvested only in obligations of or guaranteed by the state or the United States of America, maturing at such time or times as shall be appropriate to assure the prompt payment, as to principal, interest and redemption premium, if any, on the outstanding bonds to be so refunded by purchase, retirement or redemption, as the case may be. The interest, income and profits, if any, earned or realized on any such investment may also be applied to the payment of the outstanding bonds to be so refunded by purchase, retirement or redemption, as the case may be. After the terms of the escrow have been fully satisfied and carried out, any balance of such proceeds and interest, if any, earned or realized on the investments thereof may be returned to the authority for use by it in any lawful manner. All such bonds shall be issued and secured and shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter in the same manner and to the same extent as any other bonds issued pursuant to this chapter.

(6) The authority is authorized to issue negotiable bond anticipation notes and may renew the same from time to time but the maximum maturity of such notes, including renewals thereof, shall not exceed seven years from the date of issue of such original notes. Such notes shall be payable from any moneys of the authority available therefor and not otherwise pledged or from the proceeds of sale of the bonds of the authority in anticipation of which they were issued. The notes may be issued for any corporate purpose of the authority. The notes shall be issued in the same manner as the bonds and such notes and the resolution or resolutions authorizing the same may contain any provisions, conditions or limitations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this subdivision, which the bonds or a bond resolution of the authority may contain. Such notes may be sold at public or private sale. In case of default on its notes or violation of any obligations of the authority to the noteholders, the noteholders shall have all the remedies provided herein for bondholders. Such notes shall be as fully negotiable as the bonds of the authority.

(7) It is the intention of the legislature that any pledge of earnings, revenues or other moneys made by the authority shall be valid and binding from the time when the pledge is made; that the earnings, revenues or other moneys so pledged and thereafter received by the authority shall immediately be subject to the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery thereof or further act, and that the lien of any such pledge shall be valid and binding as against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract or otherwise against the authority irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. Neither the resolution nor any other instrument by which a pledge is created need be recorded.

(8) Neither the members of the authority nor any person executing the bonds or other obligations shall be liable personally on the bonds or other obligations or be subject to any personal liability or accountability by reason of the issuance thereof.
