~~((If the sentence of confinement is in excess of twelve months but not in excess of three years:))~~ No more than the final ~~((three))~~ six months of the sentence may be served in partial confinement designed to aid the qualified offender, as determined by the department of corrections, in finding work and reestablishing him or herself in the community~~((: if the sentence of confinement is in excess of three years, no more than the final six months of the sentence may be served in such partial confinement))~~;

(5) The governor may pardon any offender;

(6) The department of corrections may release an offender from confinement any time within ten days before a release date calculated under this section; and

(7) An offender may leave a correctional facility prior to completion of his sentence if the sentence has been reduced as provided in RCW 9.94A.160.

Sec. 4. Section 17, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 and RCW 9.94A.170 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A term of confinement ordered in a sentence pursuant to this chapter shall be tolled by any period of time during which the offender has absented him or herself from ((supervision)) confinement without the prior approval of the entity in whose custody the offender has been placed. A term of partial confinement shall be tolled during any period of time spent in total confinement pursuant to a new conviction or pursuant to sanctions for violation of sentence conditions on a separate felony conviction.

(2) A term of supervision ordered in a sentence pursuant to this chapter shall be tolled by any period of time during which the offender has absented him or herself from supervision without prior approval of the entity under whose supervision the offender has been placed.

(3) For confinement sentences, the date for the tolling of the sentence shall be established by the entity responsible for the confinement. For sentences involving supervision, the date for the tolling of the sentence shall be established by the court, based on reports from the entity responsible for the supervision.

Sec. 5. Section 20, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 12, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.200 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If an offender violates any condition or requirement of a sentence, the court may modify its order of judgment and sentence and impose further punishment in accordance with this section.

(2) If an offender fails to comply with any of the requirements or conditions of a sentence the following provisions apply:

(a) The court, upon the motion of the state, or upon its own motion, shall require the offender to show cause why the offender should not be punished for the noncompliance. The court may issue a summons or a warrant of arrest for the offender's appearance;

(b) If the court finds that the violation has occurred, it may order the offender to be confined for a period not to exceed sixty days for each violation, and may (i) convert a term of partial confinement to total confinement, (ii) convert community service obligation to total or partial confinement, or (iii) convert monetary obligations, except restitution and the crime victim penalty assessment, to community service hours at the rate of the state minimum wage for each hour of community service. Any time served in confinement awaiting a hearing on non-compliance shall be credited against any confinement order by the court; and

(c) If the court finds that the violation was not willful, the court may modify its previous order regarding payment of fines or other monetary payments and regarding community service obligations.

(3) Nothing in this section prohibits the filing of escape charges if appropriate.

Sec. 6. Section 9, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 21, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.380 are each amended to read as follows:

For sentences of nonviolent offenders for one year or less, the court shall consider and give priority to available alternatives to total confinement and shall state its reasons if they are not used.

These alternatives include the following sentence conditions that the court may order as substitutes for total confinement: (1) One day of partial confinement or eight hours of community service may be substituted for one day of total confinement; (2) the community service conversion is limited to two hundred forty hours or thirty days. The conversion of total confinement to partial confinement may be applied to all sentences of one year or less, including those for violent offenses. Community service hours must be completed within the period of community supervision or a time period specified by the court, which shall not exceed twenty-four months, pursuant to a schedule determined by the department.

Sec. 7. Section 22, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.383 are each amended to read as follows:

On all sentences of confinement for one year or less the court may impose up to one year of community supervision. ~~((For confinement sentences, unless otherwise ordered by the court, the period of community supervision begins at the date of release from confinement. For non-confinement sentences, the period of community supervision begins at the date of entry of the judgment and sentence.))~~ An offender shall be on community supervision as of the date of sentencing. However, during the time for which the offender is in total or partial confinement pursuant to the sentence or a violation of a sentence, the period of community supervision shall toll.

Sec. 8. Section 11, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as last amended by section 28, chapter 257, Laws of 1986 and RCW 9.94A.400 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, whenever a person is to be sentenced for two or more current offenses, the sentence range for each current offense shall be determined by using all other current and prior convictions as if they were prior convictions for the purpose of the offender score: PROVIDED, That if the court enters a finding that some or all of the current offenses encompass the same criminal conduct then those current offenses shall be counted as one crime. Sentences imposed under this subsection shall be served concurrently.

Consecutive sentences may only be imposed under the exceptional sentence provisions of RCW 9.94A.120 and 9.94A.390(2)(e) or any other provision of RCW 9.94A.390.

(b) Whenever a person is convicted of three or more serious violent offenses, as defined in RCW 9.94A.330, arising from separate and distinct criminal conduct, the sentence range for the offense with the highest seriousness level under RCW 9.94A.320 shall be determined using the offender's criminal history in the offender score and the sentence range for other serious violent offenses shall be determined by using an offender score of zero. The sentence range for any offenses that are not serious violent offenses shall be determined according to (a) of this subsection. All sentences imposed under (b) of this subsection shall be served consecutively to each other and concurrently with sentences imposed under (a) of this subsection.

(2) Whenever a person while under sentence of felony commits another felony and is sentenced to another term of imprisonment, the latter term shall not begin until expiration of all prior terms.

(3) Subject to subsections (1) and (2) of this section, whenever a person is sentenced for a felony that was committed while the person was not under sentence of a felony, the sentence shall run concurrently with any felony sentence which has been imposed by any court in this or another state or by a federal court subsequent to the commission of the crime being sentenced unless the court pronouncing the current sentence expressly orders that they be served consecutively.

(4) Whenever any person granted probation under RCW 9.95.210 or 9.92.060, or both, has the probationary sentence revoked and a prison sentence imposed, that sentence shall run consecutively to any sentence imposed pursuant to this chapter, unless the court pronouncing the subsequent sentence expressly orders that they be served concurrently.

(5) However, in the case of consecutive sentences, all periods of total confinement shall be served before any partial confinement, community service, community supervision, or any other requirement or conditions of any of the sentences. If two or more sentences that run consecutively include periods of community supervision, the aggregate of the community supervision period shall not exceed twenty-four months.

Sec. 9. Section 1, chapter 6, Laws of 1973 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 9.91.120 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person who resells food stamps manufactured under the food stamp program established pursuant to RCW 74.04.500, 74.04.505 and 74.04.510, or food purchased therewith, and any person who knowingly purchases such resold stamps or food, shall (1) if the face value of the stamps or food transferred ~~((be one))~~ is two hundred and fifty dollars or more, be guilty of a ~~((gross misdemeanor))~~ class C felony as defined in RCW 9A.20.021 and (2) if the face value of the stamps or food transferred ~~((be))~~ is less than ~~((one))~~ two hundred and fifty dollars, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor as defined in RCW 9A.20.021.

Sec. 10. Section 3, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as last amended by section 23, chapter 257, Laws of 1986 and RCW 9.94A.320 are each amended to read as follows:

E2SSB 5659 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Ways & Means: Providing for services for the protection of children. Reported by Committee on Human Services

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 31, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 as last amended by section 10, chapter 257, Laws of 1985 and RCW 13.32A.170 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The court shall hold a fact-finding hearing to consider a proper petition and may approve or deny alternative residential placement giving due weight to the intent of the legislature that families ~~(absent compelling reasons to the contrary, shall remain together and that parents have the right to place reasonable rules and restrictions upon their children)~~ have the right to place reasonable restrictions and rules upon their children, appropriate to the individual child's developmental level. The court may appoint legal counsel and/or a guardian ad litem to represent the child and advise parents of their right to be represented by legal counsel. The court may approve an order stating that the child shall be placed in a residence other than the home of his or her parent only if it is established by a preponderance of the evidence that:

(a) The petition is not capricious;

(b) The petitioner, if a parent or the child, has made a reasonable effort to resolve the conflict;

(c) The conflict which exists cannot be resolved by delivery of services to the family during continued placement of the child in the parental home; and

(d) Reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home.

The court may not grant a petition filed by the child or the department if it is established that the petition is based only upon a dislike of reasonable rules or reasonable discipline established by the parent.

(2) The order approving out-of-home placement shall direct the department to submit a disposition plan for a three-month placement of the child that is designed to reunite the family and resolve the family conflict. Such plan shall delineate any conditions or limitations on parental involvement. In making the order, the court shall further direct the department to make recommendations, as to which agency or person should have physical custody of the child, as to which parental powers should be awarded to such agency or person, and as to parental visitation rights. The court may direct the department to consider the cultural heritage of the child in making its recommendations.

(3) The hearing to consider the recommendations of the department for a three-month disposition plan shall be set no later than fourteen days after the approval of the court of a petition to approve alternative residential placement. Each party shall be notified of the time and place of such disposition hearing.

(4) If the court approves or denies a petition for an alternative residential placement, a written statement of the reasons shall be filed. If the court denies a petition requesting that a child be placed in a residence other than the home of his or her parent, the court shall enter an order requiring the child to remain at or return to the home of his or her parent.

(5) If the court denies the petition, the court shall impress upon the party filing the petition of the legislative intent to restrict the proceedings to situations where a family conflict is so great that it cannot be resolved by the provision of in-home services.

(6) A child who fails to comply with a court order directing that the child remain at or return to the home of his or her parent shall be subject to contempt proceedings, as provided in this chapter, but only if the noncompliance occurs within ninety calendar days after the day of the order.

Sec. 2. Section 30, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 13.34.020 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature declares that for the purposes of this chapter the paramount goal of the juvenile court is the best interests of the child. For purposes of this section, "the best interests of the child" include but are not limited to considerations of safety, but do not include factors relating to socioeconomic status. The legislature further declares that the family unit is a fundamental resource of American life which should be nurtured. Toward the continuance of this principle, the legislature declares that the family unit should remain intact ((in the absence of compelling evidence to the contrary)) unless a child's right to conditions of basic nurture, health, or safety is jeopardized. When the rights of basic nurture, physical and mental health, and safety of the child and the legal rights of the parents are in conflict, the rights and best interests of the child should prevail.

Sec. 3. Section 31, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 2, chapter 311, Laws of 1983 and RCW 13.34.030 are each amended to read as follows:

For purposes of this chapter:

(1) 'Child' and 'juvenile' means any individual under the age of eighteen years;

(2) 'Dependent child' means any child:

(a) Who has been abandoned; that is, where the child's parent, guardian, or other custodian has evidenced either by statement or conduct, a settled intent to forego, for an extended period, all parental rights or all parental responsibilities despite an ability to do so;

(b) Who is abused or neglected as defined in chapter 26.44 RCW by a person legally responsible for the care of the child;

(c) Who has no parent, guardian, or custodian (~~willing and~~) capable of adequately caring for the child, such that the child is in circumstances which constitute a danger of substantial damage to the child's psychological or physical development; or

(d) Who is developmentally disabled, as defined in RCW 71.20.016 and whose parent, guardian, or legal custodian together with the department determines that services appropriate to the child's needs can not be provided in the home. However, (a), (b), and (c) of this subsection may still be applied if other reasons for removal of the child from the home exist.

Sec. 4. Section 34, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 5, chapter 95, Laws of 1984 and by section 3, chapter 188, Laws of 1984 and RCW 13.34.060 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) A child taken into custody pursuant to RCW 13.34.050 or 26.44.050 shall be immediately placed in shelter care. A child taken by a relative of the child in violation of RCW 9A.40.060 or 9A.40.070 shall be placed in shelter care only when permitted under RCW 13.34.055. "Shelter care" means temporary physical care in a facility licensed pursuant to RCW 74.15.030 or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to that section. Whenever a child is taken into such custody pursuant to this section, the supervising agency may authorize evaluations of the child's physical or emotional condition, routine medical and dental examination and care, and all necessary emergency care. In no case may a child who is taken into custody pursuant to RCW 13.34.055, 13.34.050, or 26.44.050 be detained in a secure detention facility. No child may be held longer than seventy-two hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, after such child is taken into custody unless a court order has been entered for continued shelter care. The child and his or her parent, guardian, or custodian shall be informed that they have a right to a shelter care hearing. The court shall hold a shelter care hearing if one is requested.

(2) The juvenile court counselor assigned to the matter shall make all reasonable efforts to advise the parents, guardian, or legal custodian of the time and place of any shelter care hearing, request that they be present, and inform them of their basic rights as provided in RCW 13.34.090.

(3) At the commencement of the shelter care hearing the court shall advise the parties of their basic rights as provided in RCW 13.34.090 and shall appoint counsel pursuant to RCW 13.34.090 if counsel has not been retained by the parent or guardian and if the parent or guardian is indigent, unless the court finds that the right to counsel has been expressly and voluntarily waived.

(4) The court shall examine the need for shelter care. All parties have the right to present testimony to the court regarding the need or lack of need for shelter care.

(5) The juvenile court probation counselor shall submit a recommendation to the court as to the further need for shelter care, except that such recommendation shall be submitted by the department of social and health services in cases where the petition alleging dependency has been filed by the department of social and health services, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

(6) The court shall release a child alleged to be dependent to the care, custody, and control of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian unless the court finds there is reasonable cause to believe that:

(a) Reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home; and

(b)(i) The child has no parent, guardian, or legal custodian to provide supervision and care for such child; or

(ii) The release of such child would present a serious threat of substantial harm to such child; or

((e)) (iii) The parent, guardian, or custodian to whom the child could be released is alleged to have violated RCW 9A.40.060 or 9A.40.070.

If the court does not release the child to his or her parent, guardian, or legal custodian, the court shall order continued shelter care or order placement with another suitable person, and the court shall set forth its reasons for the order.

(7) An order releasing the child on any conditions specified in this section may at any time be amended, with notice and hearing thereon, so as to return the child to shelter care for failure of the parties to conform to the conditions originally imposed.

(8) A shelter care order issued pursuant to this section may be amended at any time with notice and hearing thereon. The shelter care decision of placement shall be modified only upon a showing of change in circumstances. No child may be detained for longer than thirty days without an order, signed by the judge, authorizing continued shelter care.

Sec. 5. Section 40, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as amended by section 45, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 and RCW 13.34.120 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) To aid the court in its decision on disposition, a social study, consisting of a written evaluation of matters relevant to the disposition of the case, shall be made by the person or agency filing the petition. The study shall include all social records and may also include facts relating to the child's cultural heritage, and shall be made available to the court. The court shall consider the social file and social study at the disposition hearing in addition to evidence produced at the fact-finding hearing. At least ten working days before the disposition hearing, the department shall mail to the parent and his or her attorney a copy of the agency's social study and proposed service plan, which shall be in writing or in a form understandable to the parents or custodians. In addition, the department shall provide an opportunity for parents to review and comment on the plan at the community service office. If the parents disagree with the agency's plan or any part thereof, the parents shall submit to the court at least twenty-four hours before the hearing, in writing, or signed oral statement, an alternative plan to correct the problems which led to the finding of dependency. This section shall not interfere with the right of the parents or custodians to submit oral arguments regarding the disposition plan at the hearing.

(2) In addition to the requirements set forth in subsection (1) of this section, a predisposition study to the court in cases of dependency alleged pursuant to RCW 13.34.030(2) (b) or (c) shall contain the following information:

(a) A statement of the specific harm or harms to the child that intervention is designed to alleviate;

(b) A description of the specific programs, for both the parents and child, that are needed in order to prevent serious harm to the child; the reasons why such programs are likely to be useful; the availability of any proposed services; and the agency's overall plan for ensuring that the services will be delivered;

(c) If removal is recommended, a full description of the reasons why the child cannot be protected adequately in the home, including a description of any previous efforts to work with

A petition seeking termination of a parent and child relationship may be filed in juvenile court. Such petition shall conform to the requirements of RCW 13.34.040 (~~as now or hereafter amended~~) and shall allege:

(1) That the child has been found to be a dependent child under RCW 13.34.030(2); and

(2) That the court has entered a dispositional order pursuant to RCW 13.34.130; and

(3) That the child has been removed or will, at the time of the hearing, have been removed from the custody of the parent for a period of at least six months pursuant to a finding of dependency under RCW 13.34.030(2); and

(4) That the services ordered under RCW 13.34.130 have been offered or provided and all necessary services, reasonably available, capable of correcting the parental deficiencies within the foreseeable future have been offered or provided; and

(5) That there is little likelihood that conditions will be remedied so that the child can be returned to the parent in the near future; and

(6) That continuation of the parent and child relationship clearly diminishes the child's prospects for early integration into a stable and permanent home;

(7) In lieu of the allegations in subsections (1) through (6) of this section, the petition may allege that the child was found under such circumstances that the ~~(identity and)~~ whereabouts of the child's parent are unknown and no ~~(parent has claimed)~~ person has acknowledged paternity or maternity and requested custody of the child within two months after the child was found.

Sec. 7. Section 47, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as amended by section 48, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 and RCW 13.34.190 are each amended to read as follows:

After hearings pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, the court may enter an order terminating all parental rights to a child if the court finds that:

(2) Such an order is in the best interests of the child.

Sec. 8. Section 1, chapter 13, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 1, chapter 97, Laws of 1984 and RCW 26.44.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The Washington state legislature finds and declares: The bond between a child and his or her parent, custodian, or guardian is of paramount importance, and any intervention into the life of a child is also an intervention into the life of the parent, custodian, or guardian; however, instances of nonaccidental injury, neglect, death, sexual abuse and cruelty to children by their parents, custodians or guardians have occurred, and in the instance where a child is deprived of his or her right to conditions of minimal nurture, health, and safety, the state is justified in emergency intervention based upon verified information; and therefore the Washington state legislature hereby provides for the reporting of such cases to the appropriate public authorities. It is the intent of the legislature that, as a result of such reports, protective services shall be made available in an effort to prevent further abuses, and to safeguard the general welfare of such children (~~- PROVIDED, That such~~). The protective services shall have as its paramount goal the best interests of the child. For purposes of this section, 'the best interests of the child' include but are not limited to considerations of safety, but do not include factors relating to socioeconomic status. When the rights of basic nurture, mental and physical health, and safety of the child and the rights of the parents are in conflict, the rights of the child shall prevail. Reports shall be maintained and disseminated with strictest regard for the privacy of the subjects of such reports and so as to safeguard against arbitrary, malicious or erroneous information or actions: PROVIDED FURTHER, That this chapter shall not be construed to authorize interference with child-raising practices, including reasonable parental discipline, which are not proved to be injurious to the child's health, welfare and safety.

Adult dependent persons not able to provide for their own protection through the criminal justice system shall also be afforded the protection offered children through the reporting and investigation requirements mandated in this chapter.

Sec. 9. Section 2, chapter 13, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 2, chapter 97, Laws of 1984 and RCW 26.44.020 are each amended to read as follows:

Sec. 10. Section 3, chapter 13, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 1, chapter 145, Laws of 1986 and RCW 26.44.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When any practitioner, professional school personnel, registered or licensed nurse, social ((worker)) service counselor, psychologist, pharmacist, ((or)) licensed or certified child care providers or their employees, employee of the department, or juvenile probation officer has reasonable cause to believe that a child or adult dependent person has suffered abuse or neglect, he shall report such incident, or cause a report to be made, to the proper law enforcement agency or to the department as provided in RCW 26.44.040. The report shall be made at the first opportunity, but in no case longer than forty-eight hours after there is reasonable cause to believe that the child or adult has suffered abuse or neglect.

(3) The department, upon receiving a report of an incident of abuse or neglect pursuant to this chapter, involving a child or adult dependent person who has died or has had physical injury or injuries inflicted upon him other than by accidental means or who has been subjected to sexual abuse, shall report such incident in writing to the proper law enforcement agency.

(4) Any law enforcement agency receiving a report of an incident of abuse or neglect pursuant to this chapter, involving a child or adult dependent person who has died or has had physical injury or injuries inflicted upon him other than by accidental means, or who has been subjected to sexual abuse, shall report such incident in writing as provided in RCW 26.44.040 to the proper county prosecutor or city attorney for appropriate action whenever the law enforcement agency's investigation reveals that a crime may have been committed. The law enforcement agency shall also notify the department of all reports received and the law enforcement agency's disposition of them.

(5) Any county prosecutor or city attorney receiving a report under subsection (4) of this section shall notify the victim, any persons the victim requests, and the local office of the department, of the decision to charge or decline to charge a crime, within five days of making the decision.

(6) The department may conduct ongoing case planning and consultation with those persons or agencies required to report under this section and with designated representatives of Washington Indian tribes if the client information exchanged is pertinent to cases currently receiving child protective services or department case services for the developmentally disabled. Upon request, the department shall conduct such planning and consultation with those persons required to report under this section, with consultants designated by the department, if the department determines it is in the best interests of the child or developmentally disabled person. Information considered privileged by statute and not directly related to reports required by this section shall not be divulged without a valid written waiver of the privilege.

(7) Any case referred to the department by a physician licensed under chapter 18.57 or 18.71 RCW on the basis of an expert medical opinion that child abuse, neglect, or sexual assault has occurred and that the child's safety will be seriously endangered if returned home, the department shall file a dependency petition unless a second practitioner believes that such expert medical opinion is incorrect. If a physician finds that a child has suffered abuse or neglect but that such abuse or neglect does not constitute imminent danger to the child's health or safety, and the department agrees with the physician's assessment, the child may be left in the parents' home while the department proceeds with reasonable efforts to remedy parenting deficiencies.

(8) Persons or agencies exchanging information under subsection (6) of this section shall not further disseminate or release the information except as authorized by state or federal statute. Violation of this subsection is a misdemeanor.

(9) Upon receiving reports of abuse or neglect, the department or law enforcement agency may interview children. The interviews may be conducted on school premises, at day-care facilities, at the child's home, or at other suitable locations outside of the presence of parents. Parental notification of the interview shall occur at the earliest possible point in the investigation that will not jeopardize the safety or protection of the child or the course of the investigation. Prior to commencing the interview the department or law enforcement agency shall determine whether the child wishes a third party to be present for the interview and, if so, shall make reasonable efforts to accommodate the child's wishes.

(10) Upon receiving a report of incidents, conditions, or circumstances of child abuse and neglect, the department shall have access to all relevant records of the child in the possession of mandated reporters and their employees.

The department shall report to the ways and means committees of the senate and house of representatives on the use of the tool by December 1, 1988. The report shall include recommendations on the continued use and possible expanded use of the tool.

(1) In any judicial proceeding in which it is alleged that a child has been subjected to child abuse or neglect, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for the child; PROVIDED, That the requirement of a guardian ad litem shall be deemed satisfied if the child is represented by counsel in the proceedings.

(2) At any time prior to or during a hearing in such a case, ~~((when the court finds upon clear, cogent and convincing evidence that an incident of child abuse or neglect has occurred:))~~ the court may, on its own motion, or the motion of the guardian ad litem, or other parties, order the examination by a physician, psychologist or psychiatrist, of any parent or child or other person having custody of the child at the time of the alleged child abuse or neglect, if the court finds such an examination is necessary to the proper determination of the case. The hearing may be continued pending the completion of such examination. The physician, psychologist or psychiatrist conducting such an examination may be required to testify ~~((in the dispositional hearing))~~ concerning the results of such examination and may be asked to give his opinion as to whether the protection of the child requires that he not be returned to the custody of his parents or other persons having custody of him at the time of the alleged child abuse or neglect. Persons so testifying shall be subject to cross-examination as are other witnesses. No ~~((testimony))~~ information given at any such examination of the parent or any other person having custody of the child may be used against such person in any subsequent criminal proceedings against such person or custodian concerning the abuse or neglect of the child.

(3) A parent or other person having legal custody of a child alleged to be a child subjected to abuse or neglect shall be a party to any proceeding that may as a practical matter impair or impede such person's interest in custody or control of his or her child.

Sec. 12. Section 6, chapter 35, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as last amended by section 3, chapter 269, Laws of 1986 and RCW 26.44.070 are each amended to read as follows:

The department shall maintain a central registry of reported cases of child abuse or abuse of an adult dependent person and shall adopt such rules and regulations as necessary in carrying out the provisions of this section. Those persons or agencies exempted by this section from the confidentiality of the records of the registry shall not further disseminate or release such information so provided to them and shall respect the confidentiality of such information, and any violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor.

In accordance with procedures and rules developed by the department, the child protective services section may notify any board of licensing or school administration when a member, licensee, or employee has been reported to the central registry as an adjudicated or admitted perpetrator of child abuse or neglect. The information placed in the central registry or its replacement must be made available to licensing boards and/or school administrations upon request following notification as required by the child protective services section. Unless the victim of the child abuse or neglect, or the victim's parent, guardian, or other person legally responsible for the victim's welfare consents to the disclosure of the victim's name and address, such information shall not be contained in the information provided by the department.

Sec. 13. Section 3, chapter 172, Laws of 1967 as last amended by section 5, chapter 188, Laws of 1984 and RCW 74.15.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Such investigation shall include an examination of the child abuse and neglect register established under chapter 26.44 RCW on all agencies seeking a license under this chapter. MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

"Sec. 1. Section .19.03, chapter 79, Laws of 1947 and RCW 48.19.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Rates shall be used, subject to the other provisions of this chapter, only if made in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) In the case of insurances under standard fire policies and that part of marine and transportation insurances not exempted under RCW 48.19.010, manual, minimum, class or classification rates, rating schedules or rating plans, shall be made and adopted; except as to specific rates on inland marine risks individually rated, which risks are not reasonably susceptible to manual or schedule rating, and which risks by general custom of the business are not written according to manual rates or rating plans.

(2) In the case of casualty and surety insurances:

(a) The systems of expense provisions included in the rates for use by any insurer or group of insurers may differ from those of other insurers or groups of insurers to reflect the requirements of the operating methods of any such insurer or group with respect to any kind of insurance, or with respect to any subdivision or combination thereof for which subdivision or combination separate expense provisions are applicable.

(b) Risks may be grouped by classifications for the establishment of rates and minimum premiums. Classification rates may be modified to produce rates for individual risks in accordance with rating plans which establish standards for measuring variations in hazards or expense provisions, or both. Such standards may measure any differences among risks that can be demonstrated to have a probable effect upon losses or expenses.

(3) Due consideration in making rates for all insurances shall be given to:

(a) ~~Past and prospective loss experience within ((and outside)) this state((-and in the case of rates for fire insurance, to the loss experience of insurers as to insurance against fire during a period of not less than the most recent five-year period for which such experience is available)) for a period of not less than five years, except for private passenger auto which shall be for a period of not less than three years. If the information is not available or is not statistically credible, an insurer may use loss experience for those states which the commissioner finds are~~ likely to produce experience similar to that which would reasonably be expected to be produced in this state.

- (b) Conflagration and catastrophe hazards, where present.
 - (c) A reasonable margin for underwriting profit and contingencies.
 - (d) Dividends, savings and unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers.
 - (e) All other relevant factors within and outside this state.
- (4) In addition to other factors required by this section, rates filed by an insurer on its own behalf may also be related to the insurer's plan of operation and plan of risk classification.
- (5) Except to the extent necessary to comply with RCW 48.19.020 uniformity among insurers in any matter within the scope of this section is neither required nor prohibited.

Sec. 2. Section .19.04, chapter 79, Laws of 1947 as amended by section 14, chapter 32, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. and RCW 48.19.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every insurer shall, before using, file with the commissioner every manual of classifications, manual of rules and rates, and every rating plan as to surety insurances, and every rating schedule, minimum rate, class rate, and rating rule as to other insurances, and every modification of any of the foregoing which it proposes. The insurer need not so file any rate on individually rated risks as described in subdivision (1) of RCW 48.19.030; except that any such specific rate made by a rating organization shall be filed.

(2) Every such filing shall state its proposed effective date and shall indicate the character and extent of the coverage contemplated. ~~((When)) A filing ((is not)) shall be accompanied by ((the information upon which the insurer supports such filing, and the commissioner does not have sufficient information to determine whether the filing meets the requirements of this chapter, he may require the insurer to furnish the information upon which it supports the filing)) sufficient supporting information to enable the commissioner to determine whether the filing meets the requirements of this chapter. An insurer ((may)) or rating organization shall offer in support of any filing;~~

(a) ~~((the)) Its experience ((or judgment of the insurer or rating organization making the filing)) within the state of Washington;~~

(b) Its experience in other states reasonably expected to produce results similar to Washington;

(c) Its judgment;

(d) The experience of other insurers or rating organizations((:)); or

~~((c)) (e) Any other factors which the insurer or rating organization deems relevant. A filing and any supporting information shall be open to public inspection only after the filing becomes effective.~~

(3) When a filing is not accompanied by the information upon which the insurer supports the filing, and the commissioner does not have sufficient information to determine whether the filing meets the requirements of this chapter, the commissioner may require the insurer to furnish the information upon which it supports the filing;

(4) Where a filing is required no insurer shall make or issue an insurance contract or policy except in accordance with its filing then in effect, except as is provided by RCW 48.19.090.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

SB 5739

Prime Sponsor, Senator Vognild: Revising requirements for escrow agents for bonds and errors and omissions policies. Reported by Committee on Financial Institutions & Insurance

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 5, chapter 153, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 1, chapter 70, Laws of 1979 and RCW 18.44.050 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) of this section, at the time of filing an application as an escrow agent, or any renewal or reinstatement thereof, the applicant shall satisfy the director that it has obtained ~~(the following as evidence of financial responsibility:~~

~~(1) A fidelity bond providing coverage in the aggregate amount of two hundred thousand dollars covering each corporate officer, partner, escrow officer, and employee of the applicant engaged in escrow transactions; and~~

~~(2)) an errors and omissions policy issued to the escrow agent providing coverage in the minimum aggregate amount of fifty thousand dollars or, alternatively, cash or securities in the principal amount of fifty thousand dollars deposited in an approved depository on condition that they be available for payment of any claim payable under an equivalent errors and omissions policy in that amount and pursuant to rules and regulations adopted by the department for that purpose.~~

~~((For the purposes of this section, a "fidelity bond" shall mean a primary commercial blanket bond or its equivalent satisfactory to the director and written by an insurer authorized to transact surety business in the state of Washington. Such bond shall provide fidelity coverage~~

for any fraudulent or dishonest acts committed by any one or more of the employees or officers as defined in the bond, acting alone or in collusion with others. Said bond shall be for the sole benefit of the escrow agent and under no circumstances whatsoever shall the bonding company be liable under the bond to any other party. The bond shall name the escrow agent as obligee and shall protect the obligee against the loss of money or other real or personal property belonging to the obligee, or in which the obligee has a pecuniary interest, or for which the obligee is legally liable or held by the obligee in any capacity, whether the obligee is legally liable therefor or not. The bond may be canceled by the insurer upon delivery of thirty days' written notice to the director and to the escrow agent; (2) The director may waive the requirement that an applicant meet the requirements of subsection (1) of this section, based on a finding pursuant to the guidelines found in section 6 of this act. A waiver of the requirement to maintain an errors and omissions policy may be granted for a period of one year. A licensed escrow agent who has previously been granted a waiver by the director may petition for a renewal of such waiver by filing written application with the director.

(3) For the purposes of this section, an 'errors and omissions policy' shall mean a group or individual insurance policy satisfactory to the director and issued by an insurer authorized to transact insurance business in the state of Washington. Such policy shall provide coverage for unintentional errors and omissions of the escrow agent and its employees, and may be canceled by the insurer upon delivery of thirty days' written notice to the director and to the escrow agent.

(4) Except as provided in RCW 18.44.360 and subsection (2) of this section, ~~((the fidelity bond and))~~ the errors and omissions policy required by this section shall be kept in full force and effect as a condition precedent to the escrow agent's authority to transact escrow business in this state, and the escrow agent shall supply the director with satisfactory evidence thereof upon request.

Sec. 2. Section 13, chapter 153, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 9, chapter 156, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 18.44.130 are each amended to read as follows:

The revocation, suspension, surrender or expiration of an escrow agent's certificate shall not impair or affect preexisting escrows accepted by the agent prior to such revocation, suspension, surrender or expiration; PROVIDED, That the escrow agent shall within five work days provide written notice to all principals of such preexisting escrows of the agent's loss of registration. The notice shall include as a minimum the reason for the loss of registration, the estimated date for completing the escrow ~~((and the condition of the agent's bond and whether it is in effect or whether notice of cancellation has been given))~~. The notice shall afford the principals the right to withdraw the escrow without monetary loss.

Sec. 3. Section 30, chapter 156, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 18.44.360 are each amended to read as follows:

The director shall, within thirty days after the written request of the escrow commission, hold a public hearing to determine whether ~~((the fidelity bond and/or))~~ the errors and omissions policy specified in RCW 18.44.050 as now or hereafter amended is reasonably available to a substantial number of certificated escrow agents. If the director determines and the insurance commissioner concurs that such ~~((bond and/or))~~ policy is not reasonably available, the director shall waive the requirements for such ~~((bond and/or))~~ policy for a ~~((fixed))~~ period of ~~((time not to exceed ninety days after the next regular session of the legislature))~~ one year.

Sec. 4. Section 31, chapter 156, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 18.44.370 are each amended to read as follows:

After a written determination by the director, with the consent of the insurance commissioner, that ~~((the fidelity bond and/or))~~ the errors and omissions policy required under RCW 18.44.050 as now or hereafter amended is cost-prohibitive, or after a determination as provided in RCW 18.44.360 that such ~~((bond or))~~ policy is not reasonably available, upon the request of an association comprised of certificated escrow agents, the director, with the consent of the insurance commissioner, may authorize such association to organize a mutual corporation pursuant to chapter 24.06 RCW, exempt from the provisions of Title 48 RCW, for the purpose of insuring or self-insuring against claims arising out of escrow transactions, if, in the director's judgment, there is a substantial likelihood that the corporation will operate for the benefit of the public and if the corporation shall have established rules, procedures, and reserves which satisfy the director that it will operate in a financially responsible manner which provides a substantial probability that it shall be able to pay any claims made against the corporation, up to the limits of financial responsibility as provided in RCW 18.44.050, as now or hereafter amended. The director, with the consent of the insurance commissioner, may limit the authority of the corporation to the insuring or self-insuring of claims which would be within the coverage specified in RCW 18.44.050. The director, with the consent of the insurance commissioner, may revoke the authority of the corporation to transact insurance or self-insurance if he determines, pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, that the corporation is not acting in a financially responsible manner or for the benefit of the public. ~~((Any corporation established pursuant to this section shall cease to exist, except for the payment of incurred claims, ninety days after the next regular session of the legislature unless extended by law for an additional fixed period of time;))~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 18.44 RCW to read as follows:

The following criteria will be considered by the director when deciding whether to grant a licensed escrow agent a waiver from the errors and omissions policy requirement under RCW 18.44.050:

- (1) Whether the director has determined pursuant to RCW 18.44.360 that an errors and omissions policy is not reasonably available to a substantial number of licensed escrow agents;
- (2) Whether purchasing an errors and omissions policy would be cost-prohibitive for the licensed escrow agent requesting the exemption;
- (3) Whether a licensed escrow agent has wilfully violated the provisions of chapter 18.44 RCW, which violation thereby resulted in the termination of the agent's certificate, or engaged in any other conduct resulting in the termination of the escrow certificate;
- (4) Whether a licensed escrow agent has paid claims directly or through an errors and omissions carrier, exclusive of costs and attorney fees, in excess of ten thousand dollars in the calendar year preceding the year for which the waiver is requested;
- (5) Whether a licensed escrow agent has paid claims directly or through an errors or omissions insurance carrier, exclusive of costs and attorney fees, totaling in excess of twenty thousand dollars in the three calendar years preceding the calendar year for which the exemption is requested; and
- (6) Whether the licensed escrow agent has been convicted of a crime involving honesty or moral turpitude.

These criteria are not intended to be a wholly inclusive list of factors to be applied by the director when considering the merits of a licensed escrow agent's request for a waiver of the required errors and omissions policy.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 18.44 RCW to read as follows:

The director shall, within thirty days following submission of a written petition for waiver of the insurance requirements found in RCW 18.44.050, issue a written determination granting or rejecting an applicant's request for waiver.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 18.44 RCW to read as follows:

Upon granting a waiver of insurance requirements found in RCW 18.44.050, the director shall issue a certificate of waiver, which certificate shall be mailed to the escrow agent who requested the waiver.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 18.44 RCW to read as follows:

Upon determining that a licensed escrow agent is to be denied a waiver of the errors and omissions policy requirements of RCW 18.44.050, the director shall within thirty days of the denial of an escrow agent's request for same, provide to the escrow agent a written explanation of the reasons for the director's decision to deny the requested waiver.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 18.44 RCW to read as follows:

Nothing in RCW 18.44.050 and sections 5 through 8 and 10 of this act shall be construed as prohibiting a person applying for an escrow license from applying for a certificate of waiver of the errors and omissions policy requirement when seeking an escrow license.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 18.44 RCW to read as follows:

ESSB 5838 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Commerce & Labor: Regulating sales of health studio memberships. Reported by Committee on Commerce & Labor

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. The legislature finds that there exist in connection with a substantial number of contracts for health studio services certain practices and business methods which have worked undue financial hardship upon some of the citizens of the state and that existing legal remedies are inadequate to correct existing problems in the industry. The legislature declares that it is a matter of public interest that the citizens of our state be assured reasonable protection when contracting for health studio services.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter:

(1) 'Business day' means any day except a Sunday or a legal holiday.

(2) 'Buyer' or 'member' means a person who purchases health studio services.

(3) 'Health studio' includes any person or entity engaged in the sale of instruction, training, assistance or use of facilities which purport to assist patrons to improve their physical condition or appearance through physical exercise, body building, weight loss, figure development, or any other similar activity. For the purposes of this chapter, 'health studio' does not include: (a) Public common schools, private schools approved under RCW 28A.02.201, and public or private institutions of higher education; (b) persons providing professional services within the scope of a person's license under Title 18 RCW; (c) bona fide nonprofit organizations which have been granted tax-exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service, the functions of which as health studios are only incidental to their overall functions and purposes; (d) a person or entity which offers physical exercise, body building, figure development or similar activities as incidental features of a plan of instruction or assistance relating to diet or control of eating habits; and (e) bona fide nonprofit corporations organized under chapter 24.03 RCW which have members and whose members have meaningful voting rights to elect and remove a board of directors which is responsible for the operation of the health club and corporation.

(4) 'Health studio services' means instruction, services, privileges, or rights offered for sale by a health studio. 'Health studio services' do not include: (a) instruction or assistance relating to diet or control of eating habits not involving substantial on-site physical exercise, body building, figure development, or any other similar activity; (b) recreational or social programs which either involve no physical exercise or exercise only incidental to the program; or (c) written agreements which entitle a buyer to instruction or the use of existing facilities for a period of ninety days or less.

(5) 'Initiation or membership fee' means a fee paid either in a lump sum or installments on a one-time basis when a person first joins a health studio for the privilege of belonging to the health studio.

(6) 'Special offer or discount' means any offer of health studio services at a reduced price or without charge to a prospective member.

(7) 'Use fees or dues' means fees paid on a regular periodic basis for use of a health studio. This does not preclude prepayment of use fees at the buyer's option.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) Each health studio shall prepare and provide to each prospective buyer a written comprehensive list of all membership plans of health studio services offered for sale by the health studio. The list shall contain a description and the respective price of each membership plan of health studio services offered.

(2) A health studio is prohibited from selling a membership plan of health studio services not included in the list.

(3) A health studio is prohibited from making a special offer or offering a discount unless such special offer or discount is made in writing and available to all prospective members: PROVIDED, That a special offer or discount offered to groups need not be available to all similarly-situated prospective members.

(4) A health studio is prohibited from making any misrepresentation to any prospective buyer or current member regarding qualifications of staff, availability or quality of facilities or services, or results obtained through exercise, body building, figure development, or weight loss programs, or the present or maximum number of customers who may contract to use the facilities or services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A contract for the sale of health studio services shall be in writing. A copy of the contract, as well as the rules of the health studio if not stated in the contract, shall be given to the buyer when the buyer signs the contract.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A contract for health studio services shall include all of the following:

(1) The name and address of the health studio facilities operator;

(2) The date the buyer signed the contract;

(3) A description of the health studio services and general equipment to be provided, or acknowledgement in a conspicuous form that the buyer has received a written description of the health studio services and equipment to be provided. If any of the health studio services or equipment are to be delivered at a planned facility, at a facility under construction, or through substantial improvements to an existing facility, the description shall include a date for completion of the facility, construction, or improvement. Health studio services must begin within twelve months from the date the contract is signed unless the completion of the facility, construction, or improvement is delayed due to war, or fire, flood, or other natural disaster;

(4) A statement of the duration of the contract. No contract for health studio services may require payments or financing by the buyer over a period in excess of thirty-six months from the date of the contract, nor may any contract term be measured by or be for the life of the buyer;

(b) If the buyer moves his or her permanent residence to a location more than twenty-five miles from the health studio or an affiliated health studio offering the same or similar services and facilities at no additional expense to the buyer and the buyer cancels after one year from signing the contract if the contract extends for more than one year. The health studio may require reasonable evidence of relocation;

(c) If a contract extends for more than one year or requires payment of an initiation or membership fee, in which case the buyer may cancel the contract for any reason upon thirty days' written notice to the health studio;

(e) If a facility, construction, or improvement is not completed by the date represented by the contract;

(f) If the contract for health studio services was sold prior to the opening of the facility, the buyer may cancel within the first five business days the facility opens for use of the buyer and the health studio begins to provide the agreed upon health studio services;

(8) Clauses explaining the buyer's right to a refund and relief from future payment obligations after cancellation of the contract;

(9) A provision under a conspicuous caption in capital letters and boldface type stating substantially the following:

The notice must be mailed to (insert name and mailing address of health studio). If you cancel within the three days, the health studio will return to you within thirty days all amounts you have paid.'

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. After receipt of a written notice of cancellation, the health studio shall provide a refund to the buyer within thirty days. The health studio may require the buyer to return any membership card or other materials which evidence membership in the health studio. The buyer is entitled to a refund and relief from future obligations for payments of initiation or membership fees and use fees or dues as follows:

(1) The buyer is entitled to a refund of the unused portion of any prepaid use fees or dues and relief from future obligations to pay use fees or dues concerning use after the date of cancellation.

(2) If a contract includes a one-time only initiation or membership fee and the buyer cancels pursuant to section 5(7)(a) of this act, the buyer is entitled to a pro rata refund of the fee less a predetermined amount not to exceed one-half of the initial initiation or membership fee if the contract clearly states what percentage of the fee is nonrefundable or refundable.

(3) If a contract includes a one-time only initiation or membership fee and the buyer cancels pursuant to section 5(7) (b) or (c) of this act, the buyer is entitled to a pro rata refund of the fee less a predetermined amount not to exceed one-half of the initial initiation or membership fee unless the contract clearly states that the initiation or membership fee is nonrefundable, and the clause is separately signed by the buyer.

(4) If a contract includes a one-time only initiation or membership fee and the buyer cancels pursuant to section 5(7)(d) of this act, the buyer is entitled to a pro rata refund of the fee.

(5) If a contract includes a one-time only initiation or membership fee and the buyer cancels pursuant to section 5(7) (e) or (f) of this act, the buyer is entitled to a full refund of the fee.

If a buyer is entitled to a pro rata refund under this section, the amount shall be computed by dividing the contract price by the number of weeks in the contract term and multiplying the result by the number of weeks remaining in the contract term.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) All moneys paid to a health studio prior to the opening of the facility shall immediately be deposited in a trust account of a federally insured financial institution located in this state. The trust account shall be designated and maintained for the benefit of health studio members. Moneys maintained in the trust account shall be exempt from execution, attachment, or garnishment. A health studio shall not in any way encumber the corpus of the trust account or commingle any other operating funds with trust account funds. Withdrawals from the trust account shall be made no sooner than thirty days after the opening of the entire facility.

(2) The health studio shall within seven days of the first deposit notify the office of the attorney general in writing, of the name, address, and location of the depository and any subsequent change thereof.

(3) The health studio shall provide the buyer with a written receipt for the money and shall provide written notice of the name, address, and location of the depository and any subsequent change thereof.

(4) The health studio shall maintain a record of each trust account deposit, including the name and address of each member whose funds are being deposited, the amount paid and the date of the deposit. Upon request of the attorney general's office, upon five days' notice, such records shall be produced for inspection.

(5) If prior to the opening of the facility the status of the health studio is transferred to another, any sums in the trust account affected by the transfer shall simultaneously be transferred to an equivalent trust account of the successor, and the successor shall promptly notify the buyer and the office of the attorney general of the transfer and of the name, address, and location of the new depository.

(6) The buyer's claim to any money under this section is prior to that of any creditor of the health studio, including a trustee in bankruptcy or receiver.

(7) After the health studio receives a notice of cancellation of the contract, or if the health studio fails to open a facility at the stated date of completion and if the buyer so requests, then the health studio shall provide a refund within thirty days.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The requirements of section 7 of this act do not apply to any health studios which, prior to any preopening sales, have provided a bond guaranteeing the completion or opening of any facility for which contracts for health studio services were sold prior to the opening of the facility. The bond shall be drawn upon a surety in the amount of one hundred fifty thousand dollars, running to the state of Washington. An action on the bond may be brought by the office of the attorney general or by any buyer of a contract for health studio services sold prior to the opening of the facility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Failure to furnish a bond as required by section 8 of this act or to maintain a trust account as required by section 7 of this act shall constitute a class C felony punishable as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A health studio shall not request a buyer to waive any provision of this chapter. Any contract for health studio services which does not comply with the provisions of this chapter or in which a buyer waives any provision of this chapter is void and unenforceable as contrary to public policy.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A violation of this chapter constitutes an unfair or deceptive act or practice and is a per se violation of the consumer protection act, chapter 19.86 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Buyers who prevail in any cause of action under this chapter are entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The provisions of this chapter are cumulative and nonexclusive and do not affect any other remedy available at law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any contracts for health studio services entered into before the effective date of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. Sections 1 through 14 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 19 RCW."

SSB 5854 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Financial Institutions: Providing for regulation of retirement care communities. Reported by Committee on Financial Institutions & Insurance

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the 'continuing care retirement community act.'

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The legislature finds that continuing care retirement communities can provide a valued option in meeting long-term residential, social, and health needs for many of Washington's senior citizens. However, consumers in Washington and nationwide have encountered serious, documented problems in dealing with some retirement communities, generally stemming from long-term financial instability of the community, or insufficient disclosure to consumers. Because existing law does not provide for financial oversight or disclosure, the legislature has determined that any entity offering continuing care contracts should be certified and regulated in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Commissioner' means the insurance commissioner.

(2) 'Continuing care contract' means a contract to provide a person, for the duration of such person's life or for a term in excess of one year, shelter along with nursing, medical, health-related, or personal care services, which is conditioned upon the transfer of property, the payment of an entrance fee to the provider of such services, or the payment of periodic charges for the care and service involved. A continuing care contract is not excluded from this definition because the contract is mutually terminable or because shelter and services are not provided at the same location.

(3) 'Department' means the department of social and health services.

(4) 'Member' means an individual who has signed a continuing care contract with a retirement community.

(5) 'Nursing, medical, health-related, or personal care services' includes, but is not limited to, nursing home care, home health services or assistance with activities of daily living.

(6) 'Provider' means a retirement community as defined in subsection (7) of this section.

(7) 'Retirement community' means a person, association, or organization of any kind which provides, or proposes to provide, shelter and services pursuant to a continuing care contract.

(8) 'Shelter' means lodging with or without meals.

(9) 'Waiting list deposit' means a fee, whether refundable or not, which a provider requires of an individual seeking to become a member as a condition of being placed on a waiting list of those seeking a continuing care contract with a provider.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) After December 30, 1988, no person, association, or organization may enter into a continuing care contract as a provider except pursuant to this chapter.

(2) Prior to offering for sale continuing care contracts, a provider must possess a permit to market contracts or a final certificate of authority, which permit or certificate has been issued by the department pursuant to section 10(4) of this act.

(3) Providers offering continuing care contracts must possess a final certificate of authority issued by the department pursuant to section 10(4) of this act prior to starting construction of new facilities or prior to making existing facilities available for occupancy.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. (1) There shall be a program for the regulation of retirement communities within the department.

(2) In carrying out responsibilities under this chapter, the department shall have powers of rule-making, investigation, and enforcement including the following:

(a) Adoption of application forms and data requirements for permits to market contracts and for final certificates of authority for continuing care providers;

(b) Subpoena of records and witnesses;

(c) Issuing cease and desist orders, and seeking injunctive action in a court of competent jurisdiction;

(d) Examination and audit of records, including field audits and on-site inspections;

(e) Suspension, limitation, or revocation of any permit to market contracts or final certificate of authority upon written findings of fact by the department that the provider has:

(i) Willfully violated any provision of this chapter or of any rule, regulation, or order adopted hereunder;

(ii) Failed to file a disclosure statement, continuing care contract, or other document or data as required by this chapter;

(iii) Failed to deliver to current or prospective members the disclosure statements required by this chapter;

(iv) Delivered to current or prospective members a disclosure statement which makes an untrue statement, or omits a material fact, which the provider, at the time of the delivery of the disclosure statement, had actual knowledge or should reasonably have known was a misstatement or omission; or

(v) Failed to comply with the terms of a cease and desist order;

(f) Adoption of such rules as are deemed necessary for the administration of this chapter. In developing initial rules, the department shall seek the advice of representatives of both nonprofit and proprietary retirement communities, organizations, and agencies representing aging consumers including current members of retirement communities, the attorney general's consumer and fair business practices staff, and others as deemed appropriate;

(g) Any other powers expressly conferred or reasonably inferred from provisions of this chapter.

(3) Findings of fact in support of the suspension, limitation, or revocation of a permit or certificate under subsection (2)(e) of this section shall be accompanied by a concise and explicit statement of the underlying facts supporting the findings.

(4) If the department finds good cause to believe that the provider has been guilty of a violation for which revocation could be ordered under subsection (2)(e) of this section, the department may first issue a cease and desist order. If the cease and desist order is not or cannot be effective in remedying the violation, the department may, after notice and hearing, order that the certificate of authority be revoked and surrendered. Such a cease and desist order may be appealed to a court of competent jurisdiction.

(5) The department shall comply with the provisions of chapter 34.04 RCW in exercising any power authorized by this chapter.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. (1) Rules and regulations that determine the form of continuing care contracts, and such matters of content as are specified in subsection (4) of this section, shall be promulgated by the department.

(2)(a) No provider shall enter into or renew a continuing care contract after December 30, 1988, unless the contract form has been approved by the department.

(b) The forms of all continuing care contracts in effect on December 30, 1988, shall be submitted to the department, but do not require approval by the department for the duration of their effective periods.

(3) All contracts shall be written in plain English.

(4) All contracts entered into or renewed following December 30, 1988, shall contain at least the following provisions:

(a) A contract cover sheet which summarizes provisions and facilitates comparisons with other continuing care contracts. The department shall specify by rule the format of the cover sheet and other contract form requirements including size of type;

(b) A list of all services to be provided, including the extent and limitations of all service benefits with particular attention to the nature and duration of health and nursing care benefits, and the boundaries between services provided under the terms of the contract and services which are not covered;

(c) Specification of all fees, charges, and other transfers of property which will be imposed, including the amount of any initial payment(s), and the initial amounts of all periodic payments, and a description of all methods by which the provider may change or add fees;

(d) Specification of the circumstances under which members will be permitted to remain in the retirement community if unable to pay fees, including any use of benevolent funds and any circumstances under which continuation of services would require the member to use public assistance or medicaid funds;

(e) A statement in a prominent location that a continuing care contract may involve significant financial risk;

(f) Identification of the specific living unit initially contracted for, and description of all provisions governing issues of tenancy including transfers among living units, reoccupancy of units after an illness or other absence, and what will happen, in cases of dual tenancy, if one of the two residents dies, withdraws, is dismissed, or needs to be transferred to a health facility;

(g) Description of all procedures by which a member may be evicted or otherwise required to leave a residence unit, or the contract terminated by the provider. Dismissal and contract termination shall be limited to good cause as defined in rule. Eviction or other retaliation against a member due to complaints against the provider shall be contractually prohibited;

(h) A clear statement of all rights of cancellation by the member;

(i) Description of all refund policies, including those pertaining to situations where the member has canceled the contract during the cooling-off period or probationary period, has withdrawn at a later time, has been dismissed, or has died;

(j) A cooling-off period of not under seven days from the date the continuing care contract is signed, during which time the new member may cancel without cause with a full refund, less reasonable costs determined in accordance with rules adopted by the department.

(k) A probationary period of not under ninety days from the date the member is permitted to take occupancy, during which time the new member may cancel without cause with a full refund, less reasonable costs determined in accordance with rules adopted by the department. The provider may require by contract a thirty-day written notice from members requesting cancellation during the probationary period. The contract shall state the date by which notice of cancellation must be received. Additionally, contracts shall provide for a full refund less reasonable costs in the event the member dies before the date the member is permitted to take occupancy;

(l) Specification of whether or not the contract creates a property interest, and, if so, the exact nature of that interest;

(m) A guarantee that members have the right to organize a resident council, including the right to collectively represent the concerns of members in dealings with the retirement community's administration, as provided in section 14 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) Waiting list deposits shall be the subject of a separate formal contract between the retirement community and a person seeking to become a member which specifies at least: The amount of the deposit; the amount refundable in the event the application is withdrawn, rejected, or accepted; the maximum time in which a refund will be made; and what interest will be paid on the applicant's funds, if any.

(2) Waiting list deposit contract forms shall be subject to prior approval by the department. On or after December 30, 1988, a contract form used without the prior approval of the department shall render a contract entered into on such unapproved form voidable at the option of the person seeking to become a member.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The provider shall maintain at the retirement community for inspection by any person, and shall distribute to a prospective member prior to entering into a continuing care or waiting list contract, a document approved by the department pursuant to section 10(4) of this act that discloses the following:

(1) The names, business addresses, legal/corporate forms, experience in establishing or operating retirement communities, nursing homes, or other health facilities, and other existing and proposed retirement community properties, of the provider and of each individual constituting, owning an interest in, serving on the governing board of, or managing the continuing care retirement community. In the case of a nonprofit corporation, the provisions of federal, state, and local laws under which nonprofit status is claimed shall be disclosed.

(2) With respect to any person named in subsection (1) of this section:

(a) A description of the business experience of such person, if any, in the operation or management of retirement communities, nursing homes, or other health-related facilities;

(b) The identity of any business or professional service entity in which such person has a ten percent or greater ownership, or beneficial interest, and which the provider will employ to provide goods, services, or any other thing of value in excess of five hundred dollars within any year, and a description of the goods, services, and other things of value and the anticipated costs thereof to the provider;

(c) A statement as to whether any such person has been convicted of a crime or been a party to any civil action claiming fraud, embezzlement, fraudulent conversion, or misappropriation of property which resulted in a judgment against said person for damages, or enjoining any such activity, and whether any such person has had any state or federal licenses or permits suspended or revoked in connection with any business activities because of fraud, embezzlement, fraudulent conversion, or misappropriation of property.

(3) Whether the provider is, or is affiliated with, a religious, charitable, or other organization, and the extent, if any, to which any such affiliated organization is responsible for any financial service liabilities of the provider.

(4) If the retirement community is to be or is operated by a manager, the following additional information shall be supplied in the disclosure statement:

(a) A copy of the agreement currently in effect or to be entered into between the provider and said manager for the operation of the retirement community;

(b) The fees or any other compensation anticipated to be paid by the provider to the manager for the operation of the retirement community;

(c) The method by which the manager was or will be chosen to manage the retirement community and, if the manager will be or was chosen because of a condition in a mortgage commitment to the provider, the identity of the mortgagee requiring the condition in the commitment.

(5) A description of all services provided or proposed by the retirement community under its continuing care contracts, including the extent to which nursing, medical, health-related, or personal care is furnished, the present or proposed charges of all services, and a description of any services made available by the provider at an additional charge beyond initial and periodic fees in the contract.

(6) A description of how contractually guaranteed services will be provided in the event that the provider's own services or facilities are unavailable or full.

(7) The location and description of both existing and proposed properties and services provided under the continuing care contract. To the extent that any of these services are not yet available, disclosure shall include estimated completion date or dates; a statement as to whether or not construction has begun; and enumeration of any contingencies subject to which construction may be deferred, including, in the case of a proposed retirement community, final certification by the department pursuant to section 10(4) of this act.

(8) A description of all fees required of residents, including initial and periodic charges; apartment resale fees, and special service fees; all methods by which the provider may adjust fees; the history of fee increases for at least five years for the provider, if in operation, and for any other retirement communities which the provider or manager operates; the circumstances under which members will be permitted to remain in the retirement community, including any use of benevolent funds, if the member is unable to pay charges; whether continuation of services may in any circumstances require the member to use public assistance or Medicaid funds; and the method of calculating fees that will be charged if the member marries while in the retirement community. If it is clear, based upon actuarial review, that fees will need to increase substantially to maintain solvency of the retirement community, the anticipated amounts and timing of such increases shall be disclosed.

(9) A description of health and financial conditions required to be accepted as a member and to continue membership, including provisions for any changes in these conditions between the date the continuing care contract is executed and the date the member occupies a living unit. Disclosure shall include requirements for entry of a spouse to the facility, and the consequences to the member if the spouse does not meet these requirements.

(10) All provisions for contract cancellation and refunds which are included in the continuing care contract or the waiting list deposit contract.

(11) The conditions under which a living unit occupied by a resident may be made available by the provider to another resident other than on the death of the resident executing the continuing care agreement.

(12) Income statements for the three most recent fiscal years of the provider, or such shorter period of time as the provider shall have been in existence, and certified financial statements of the provider including a balance sheet and income statement as of the end of the provider's most recent fiscal year. If the provider's fiscal year ended more than ninety days prior to the date the application is filed, an interim uncertified financial statement also shall be included as of a date not more than ninety days prior to the date the disclosure document is filed with the department pursuant to this section or section 9 of this act.

(13) A statement of any changes in operations or management that are expected to substantially affect financial position over the next three years, or a statement that no significant changes in financial position are expected in the next three years.

(14) If operation of the retirement community has not begun, a statement of the anticipated sources and application of funds to be used in the purchase or construction and startup of the retirement community; a description of any mortgage, loan, or other long-term financing and its terms and conditions; an estimate of the total entrance fees to be received from members at or prior to the commencement of operations; and an estimate of any startup losses.

(15) Professional summaries of accounting, audit, and actuarial opinions received by the provider or other developer as part of professional accounting and actuarial studies or reports, and a statement that the full text of such summaries, studies, or reports is available on request.

(16) The general nature of any anticipated cost-shifting and cross-subsidization among members.

(17) A copy of the form or forms of contracts for continuing care used or to be used by the provider, and information on contract term and renewability.

(19) Any other information necessary to understand the nature of the agreement and the risks involved in membership.

(20) A list of the regulatory agencies with responsibility over various aspects of retirement community operation, and their areas of responsibility.

(21) A statement on the cover page of the disclosure statement in a prominent location and type face that certification of the retirement community does not constitute approval, recommendation, or endorsement of the retirement community by the department or the commissioner, nor does such certification evidence the accuracy or completeness of the information set forth in the disclosure statement.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. (1) The provider shall annually file with the department, within four months following the end of the provider's fiscal year, unless such time shall be extended by the written consent of the department, an annual disclosure statement which shall contain a statement setting forth, as of the end of such fiscal year, any material changes in the information required by section 8 of this act for initial disclosure.

(2) From the date an annual disclosure statement is filed until the date the next succeeding disclosure form is filed with the department, a copy of the current annual disclosure statement shall be provided to all prospective members prior to the provider accepting part or all of any application or entry fee, or execution of any continuing care contract, whichever first occurs.

(3) In addition to filing the annual disclosure statement, the provider must amend its currently filed disclosure statements at any other time if an amendment is necessary to prevent the initial disclosure statement and annual disclosure statement from containing any material misstatement of fact, or omitting to state a material fact required to be stated therein. The provider may combine the initial and annual disclosure documents into an updated initial disclosure statement subject to approval by the department. Any such amendment or amended disclosure statement must be filed with the department and is subject to all the requirements of this chapter.

(4) Every time a disclosure statement is amended, all members shall be given a summary of the changes and informed of their right to inspect the full document at the retirement community.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. (1) The application for a permit to market contracts shall be filed with the department by the provider on forms prescribed by the department and shall include:

(a) Such actuarial, demographic, financial, and other reasonably related information as the department deems necessary in order to demonstrate the likely financial and actuarial feasibility of the project. Such information shall include:

(i) A feasibility study and financial plan based on marketing analysis, relevant literature, experience of other similar retirement communities, and specific actuarial study which meets requirements to be specified by rule by the department; and

(ii) An actuarial opinion, written and signed by a qualified actuary as defined by the department, which indicates the likely feasibility of the project based on the feasibility study and financial plan referenced in (a)(i) of this subsection and the specimen contract referenced in (c) of this subsection.

(b) An escrow plan which:

(i) Identifies escrow agents;

(ii) Includes a copy of executed escrow agreements;

(iii) States the anticipated application of all escrow funds;

(iv) Safeguards all deposits received from members or prospective members, including initial membership fees;

(v) Identifies conditions under which each escrow shall be released; and

(vi) Complies with all requirements established by rule by the department.

(c) A specimen continuing care contract which meets the requirements of section 6 of this act and is actuarially consistent with the feasibility study referenced in (a)(i) of this subsection.

(d) A specimen waiting list deposit contract which meets the requirements of section 7 of this act.

(e) An initial disclosure statement which meets the requirements of section 8 of this act.

(2) The application for a final certificate of authority shall be filed with the department by the provider on forms prescribed by the department and shall include:

(a) A final feasibility study and financial plan which includes such actuarial, demographic, financial, and other reasonably related information as the department deems necessary in order to reach final approval, based on likely actual membership as indicated by individuals who have paid subscription deposits and/or have signed continuing care contracts.

(b) A final escrow plan and initial disclosure statement with any revisions needed to meet all requirements of subsection (1) (a) and (b) of this section.

(c) The continuing care contract form and waiting list deposit contract form, with any revisions needed to meet all requirements of sections 6 and 7 of this act and, in the case of the continuing care contract, to be actuarially consistent with the final feasibility study referenced in (a) of this subsection.

(3) The department may determine that certain of the requirements of subsections (1)(a) and (2)(a) of this section are inapplicable to specific retirement community projects which have demonstrated that they present minimal actuarial risk. Minimal actuarial risk shall be defined by the department and shall include a project without an initial fee which has minimal future obligations not offset by future revenues.

(4) Upon receipt of a complete application for a permit to market contracts, or a final certificate of authority, in proper form, the department shall, within ten business days, issue a notice of filing to the provider-applicant. Within a period ordinarily not to exceed sixty days of the notice of filing, the department shall enter an order issuing the permit or certificate, or rejecting the application. Grounds for rejection include, but are not limited to, failure to demonstrate financial and actuarial feasibility to the satisfaction of the department or failure to submit the information required by the department under this chapter.

(5) If the department determines that any of the requirements of this act have not been met, the department shall notify the applicant that the application must be corrected in such particulars as designated by the department within a period, not under thirty days, to be established by rule. If the requirements are not met within the time allowed, the department may enter an order rejecting the application which shall include the finding of fact upon which the order is based and which shall not become effective until twenty days after the end of the foregoing thirty-day period.

(6) A retirement community in operation on the effective date of this section must obtain a final certificate of authority, but is exempt from the requirement to obtain a permit to market contracts.

(7) If the department determines that a retirement community in operation on the effective date of this section has financial or actuarial problems which preclude issuance of a final certificate of authority, the department may issue a transitional certificate which specifies a plan of correction and which is good for the period of the remedial actions as specified by the department. The plan of correction shall be developed by the retirement community and requires approval by the department.

(8) If the department determines that the plan of correction has been carried out satisfactorily, the department shall issue a final certificate of authority.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 11. The department shall establish by rule application fees for review of applications under section 10 (1) and (2) of this act, and annual review fees for all retirement communities, not to exceed the reasonable costs of carrying out the department's responsibilities under this chapter. The department may establish by rule different fees for varieties of retirement communities requiring different levels of financial and actuarial oversight.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 12. (1) Providers shall not commingle donor-restricted funds, including resident benevolent funds and any personal funds held for individual members, with other funds. Donor-restricted funds shall be used only for the purposes specifically stated.

(2) Providers shall at all times secure their future service obligations not offset by future revenues through some combination of:

- (a) Designated reserves;
- (b) Reinsurance, such as stop loss insurance;
- (c) Bonding;
- (d) Escrow accounts;

(e) Contractually mandated purchase by members of group long-term care insurance which has been approved by the commissioner pursuant to section 21 of this act; or

(f) The unencumbered fair market value of the real property on which the retirement community is situated, as determined by the assessor of the county in which such real property is located: PROVIDED, That within ten years of the effective date of this section at least fifty percent of the reserves required by this section are to be in the form of an approved asset as described in (a) through (e) of this subsection.

(3) Providers shall conduct or obtain actuarial review and opinion as necessary pursuant to rules established by the department.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 13. The department shall establish rules to ensure that all refundable waiting list deposits and initial fees, including subscription fees, received by providers are maintained in escrow. These rules shall include conditions for release of escrow funds which distinguish between those funds received prior to completion of construction of facilities, and those funds received after facilities are in operation but prior to the date a member is permitted to occupy a living unit.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 14. (1) Retirement community members have the right to organize a resident council, including the right to collectively represent the concerns of members in dealings with the retirement community administration.

(2) The administration of each operating retirement community shall meet at least quarterly with the resident council, if one exists, or with interested members if there is no resident council.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) Retirement communities shall submit copies of all advertising and promotional material to the department. Advance approval of such material by the department is not required. The department shall have the power to order cessation of unfair or deceptive claims.

(2) All written promotional material shall include a statement that the disclosure statements required under sections 8 and 9 of this act are available on request from the retirement community.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. The legislature declares that the purchase of continuing care contracts and the exercise of rights under such contracts vitally affect the public interest. Any violation of this act is an unfair method of competition and an unfair or deceptive act or practice in the conduct of a trade or commerce, as specifically contemplated by RCW 19.86.020, and is a violation of the consumer protection act, chapter 19.86 RCW. Any person injured as a result of a violation of a provision of this act shall be entitled to maintain an action pursuant to chapter 19.86 RCW against the provider or other person who violated a provision of this act and shall be entitled to all of the rights and remedies afforded by chapter 19.86 RCW. Any successful claimant under this section shall also be entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. The department shall maintain comparable data on retirement community services, benefits, charges, and financial status for use by consumers. The department may require all providers to submit summary information in a consistent form specified by the department. However, the department may withhold from public inspection information on financial status, or any examination or investigation, for so long as the department deems it advisable to protect the financial stability of the retirement community.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. (1) Nothing contained in this chapter shall alter any other statutory obligation of the department of social and health services, or any rule or regulation promulgated thereunder, including, but not limited to, obligations under the following:

- (a) Chapter 18.20 RCW (boarding homes);
- (b) Chapter 18.51 RCW (nursing homes);
- (c) Chapter 43.190 RCW (long-term care ombudsman program);
- (d) Chapter 70.38 RCW (health planning and resources development);

- (l) Chapter 74.46 RCW (nursing home auditing and cost reimbursement act of 1980).

(2) All benefits promised in continuing care contracts must be consistent with state licensing and other regulatory requirements for the facilities and service entities by which these benefits are to be provided.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. Criminal penalties:

(1) Any person who, as a provider, willfully and knowingly violates any provision of this chapter, or any rule or order under this chapter, shall, upon conviction, be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, or to imprisonment for not more than two years or both, for each violation.

(2) The department may refer such evidence as is available concerning violations of this chapter or of any rule or order hereunder to the attorney general, or the proper county attorney who may, with or without such a reference, institute the appropriate criminal proceedings under this chapter.

(3) Nothing in this chapter limits the power of the state to punish any person for any conduct which constitutes a crime under any other statute.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. (1) Upon request by the department, the commissioner shall provide the department with actuarial and other technical assistance in carrying out the department's responsibilities under this chapter, including, but not limited to, assistance in reviewing submissions by applicants and making recommendations concerning:

(a) Rules necessary to implement this chapter, including rules related to:

(i) Submission of information by providers pursuant to sections 10 (1) and (2), 12 (2) and (3), and 17 of this act; and

(b) Whether applications for permits to market contracts, and certificates of authority, submitted under section 10 (1) and (2) of this act, are sufficiently complete and specific to support actuarial analysis, and if not, what deficiencies exist;

(c) Whether the continuing care contract proposed by a provider is sufficiently specific as to definitions of benefits, fees, charges and refunds to support actuarial analysis, and if not, what areas of ambiguity exist;

(d) The adequacy of reserves and charges, as proposed by a provider, to meet obligations of the retirement community, with respect to the provider's qualifications for a permit to sell continuing care contracts, its qualifications for a certificate of authority, or its continuing operation;

(e) Whether a particular retirement community should undertake a new actuarial financial review pursuant to section 12(3) of this act;

(f) Whether disclosure statements filed by a retirement community pursuant to sections 8 and 9 of this act are consistent with other filings and actuarial findings, with regard to:

(ii) Whether professional summaries of actuarial opinions, which have been submitted by the retirement community as part of disclosure statements, are consistent with the full actuarial studies on which they are based; and

(iii) The general nature of future cost-shifting and cross-subsidization among members. Recommendations on this point need not include quantitative analysis of the amounts of such shifts and subsidies;

(g) Whether a specific retirement community presents minimal actuarial risk pursuant to section 10(3) of this act;

(h) Whether a retirement community in operation on the effective date of this section has at that time serious actuarial problems, and, if so, what elements in a plan of correction, pursuant to section 10(6) of this act, are indicated by actuarial problems; and

(i) Whether assumptions underlying studies and other filings submitted to the department by a retirement community are consistent with generally accepted morbidity and mortality experience of that retirement community's own population or of appropriate comparison populations.

(2) The commissioner shall bill the department no less frequently than annually for the actual costs of providing assistance pursuant to this section.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 21. A new chapter is added to Title 48 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Every retirement community shall offer an opportunity to participate in a group long-term care supplementary insurance plan, which has been approved by the commissioner for this purpose, to each member whose continuing care contract has one or more of the following features:

(a) Nursing home care is not a contractual benefit;

(b) Nursing home care is a contractual benefit, but is subject to limitations on duration which are unrelated to medical need;

(c) Nursing home care is a contractual benefit, but the contract specifies a higher fee for members using nursing home care, immediately or after a limited period of coverage at the same fee, than is specified for like members not using nursing home care.

(2) The commissioner shall specify by rule the requirements for group long-term care insurance plans for use as described in subsection (1) of this section. These requirements shall include:

(a) That the plan offer benefits which supplement those of the continuing care contract so that total combined coverage for nursing home care equals or exceeds a level of coverage to be specified by the commissioner in rules. These rules shall include specification of required duration of care, benefit amounts, and any limitations on gate requirements and preexisting condition exclusions which the commissioner deems necessary.

(b) Coordination of benefits to avoid duplication in the group plan of benefits covered by the continuing care contract, by medicare, or by other coverage.

(c) Provisions to ensure that the amount charged to a member for supplemental long-term care insurance shall not exceed the premiums charged by the insurer, as computed at the time the charge to the member is determined.

(3) The commissioner shall have the authority to waive requirements of this section if it is determined that group supplementary long-term care insurance plans meeting the requirements of subsection (2) of this section are not reasonably available for purchase.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 22. Sections 1 through 20 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 70 RCW.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 23. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 24. There is appropriated from the general fund to the department of social and health services for the biennium ending June 30, 1989, the sum of dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to carry out the purposes of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 25. This act shall take effect on July 1, 1988. By July 1, 1988, the department of social and health services and the insurance commissioner shall have adopted all rules as are necessary to ensure that this act is implemented on its effective date."

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. Washington state has been the victim of seismic events of deadly and destructive intensity, and there is scientific consensus that earthquakes capable of causing loss of life and damage to property will continue to occur. Modern design and construction techniques make it possible for structures to withstand earthquakes of greater force than was formerly possible. The legislature believes it is necessary for the health, safety, and welfare of the citizens of the state to inventory public buildings to assess their ability to withstand earthquakes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. As used in sections 3 through 6 of this act:

(1) 'Department' means the department of community development.

(2) 'Public buildings' means publicly owned or operated schools, universities, colleges, office buildings, hospitals, fire stations, police stations, and correctional facilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Subject to appropriation, the department shall initiate an inventory of public buildings with priority on the seismic zone of highest risk. The inventory shall contain an assessment of the physical condition of the public buildings to determine insofar as possible whether they would be a danger to public safety in the event of an earthquake. As part of the inventory, the department shall also estimate the cost of repair or replacement.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. If possible, the department shall use existing data and coordinate with federal, state, and local governmental agencies in order to conduct the inventory under section 3 of this act in an efficient manner.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. The department may contract with or employ such technical personnel as necessary to implement section 3 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. The department shall report its findings and recommendations under section 3 of this act to the governor and the legislature by May 30, 1989. An interim progress report shall be made by the department to the governor and the legislature by May 30, 1988.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 43.63A RCW to read as follows:

The department shall carry out the following activities, subject to state appropriation, in order to provide current life and property saving information to the citizens of the state:

(1) Gather, interpret, and develop material on the impacts of seismic occurrences, relying to the extent possible on existing material, including the 1986 report of the Washington state seismic safety council;

(2) Disseminate informational materials targeted to specific user groups on ways they can protect themselves, protect those for whom they are responsible, and protect property in case of a seismic event.

The department shall report its findings and recommendations under this section annually to the governor and the legislature.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 43.63A RCW to read as follows:

In order to carry out chapter 43.— RCW (sections 1 through 6 of this act) and section 7 of this act, the department may establish an advisory group as a seismic safety task force.

Members of the group shall receive no compensation, but any legislative members shall be reimbursed for travel expenses under RCW 44.04.120 and nonlegislative members shall be reimbursed for travel expenses under RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. Sections 1 through 6 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 43 RCW.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. The sum of dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary is appropriated to the department of community development from the general fund for the biennium ending June 30, 1989, for the purposes of this act."

SSB 5941 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Parks & Ecology: Revising provisions on hazardous waste. Reported by Committee on Environmental Affairs

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the proper handling and disposal of hazardous waste in the state is of paramount importance and necessary to (1) prevent creation of new contaminated hazardous waste sites and to afford the greatest protection to the citizens of the state, and (2) manage wastes in accordance with state priorities established in chapter 70.105 RCW. The legislature further finds that in order to continue receiving federal moneys for cleanup of the state's worst contaminated sites it is in the state's best interest to begin addressing the need for additional capacity for the disposal, treatment, recycling, reduction, and incineration of hazardous wastes in the state. The legislature recognizes that the federal government has given states until October 17, 1989, to develop adequate capacity to handle hazardous waste generated in the state in the next twenty years or risk losing entitlement to federal superfund moneys which would burden the state with enormous cleanup and cleanup administration costs. The legislature further recognizes that additional hazardous wastes will be created in coming years because of an accelerated federal superfund program, a growing state hazardous waste site cleanup effort and recent changes in federal law. In the interest of insuring that federal funds will not be lost and hazardous waste is disposed of in the safest and most environmentally appropriate way, the legislature finds it necessary for the department of ecology to begin addressing the future hazardous waste disposal needs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The department of ecology shall identify methods of providing needed hazardous waste capacity. In conducting this task, the agency shall:

(1) Identify the feasibility of disposing of those wastes generated in the state including consideration of types of wastes generated, disposal methods allowed by law, priorities set forth in chapter 70.105 RCW, and the total cost of disposal of Washington wastes;

(2) Identify opportunities to enter into compacts or agreements with other states to handle hazardous waste generated in Washington;

(3) Assess the resources and statutory authority needed to enter into agreements with private contractors to develop hazardous waste management facilities on private and public land;

(4) Identify strategies to expedite permitting of facilities determined to be needed in the state;

(5) Investigate methods used by other states and countries to address hazardous waste disposal issues;

(6) Analyze the feasibility of providing incentives, including financial, for treatment, storage, disposal, recycling, and incineration facility construction; and

(7) Identify other methods to effectively address hazardous waste management capacity.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. In identifying ways of providing needed capacity, the department of ecology shall consult with (1) representatives of the waste treatment and disposal industry; (2) representatives from large and small industries that generate toxic metal solutions and residuals, corrosives, inorganic residuals and sludges, cleanup residuals, and other types of waste the agency deems appropriate; and (3) representatives of the environmental community including recycling organizations and public interest groups.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The department of ecology shall base its findings and conclusions on information collected from hazardous waste and moderate-risk waste generators, transporters, and from handlers who reduce, recycle, reuse, store, treat, incinerate, stabilize, and landfill these wastes. The department is hereby authorized to collect this information from such businesses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The department shall report its conclusions and recommendations to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature by December 15, 1987. The report shall include (1) a recommendation on how the state can best accomplish the requirement to ensure the availability of adequate hazardous waste facilities by October 1989 and (2) a status report of the state and local hazardous waste plans required by chapter 70.105 RCW, including an identification of the assistance the department has provided to local governments in developing these plans.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Nothing in this act shall be construed as interfering with the processing of applications currently underway for siting and constructing of hazardous waste facilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 70.105 RCW to read as follows:

The department may charge fees to applicants in an amount sufficient to cover the costs of processing applications for the siting and construction of hazardous waste facilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. There is appropriated from the general fund to the department of ecology for the biennium ending June 30, 1989, the sum of forty-nine thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to carry out the purposes of section 2 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

ESB 5972 Prime Sponsor, Senator Bottiger: Limiting liability of persons involved in professional peer review bodies for health care professionals. Reported by Committee on Judiciary

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds the assurance of quality and cost-effectiveness in the delivery of health care can be assisted through the review of health care by health care providers. It also recognizes that some peer review decisions may be based on factors other than competence or professional conduct. Although it finds that peer review decisions based on matters unrelated to quality and utilization review need redress, it concludes that it is necessary to balance carefully the rights of the consuming public who benefit by peer review with the rights of those who are occasionally hurt by peer review decisions based on matters other than competence or professional conduct.

The legislature intends to foreclose federal antitrust actions to the extent Parker v. Brown, 317 U.S. 341 (1943), allows and to permit only those actions in sections 2 and 3 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Pursuant to P.L. 99-660 Sec. 411(c)(2), Title IV of that act shall apply in Washington state as of the effective date of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) This section shall provide the exclusive remedy for any action taken by a professional peer review body of health care providers as defined in RCW 7.70.020, that is found to be based on matters not related to the competence or professional conduct of a health care provider.

(2) Actions shall be limited to appropriate injunctive relief, and damages shall be allowed only for lost earnings directly attributable to the action taken by the professional review body, incurred between the date of such action and the date the action is functionally reversed by the professional peer review body.

(3) Reasonable attorneys' fees and costs as approved by the court shall be awarded to the prevailing party, if any, as determined by the court.

(4) The statute of limitations for actions under this section shall be one year from the date of the action of the professional review body.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Nothing in this chapter limits or repeals any other immunities conferred upon participants in the peer review process contained in any other state or federal law.

Sec. 5. Section 4, chapter 300, Laws of 1986 and RCW 70.41.200 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every hospital shall maintain a coordinated program for the identification and prevention of medical malpractice. The program shall include at least the following:

(a) The establishment of a quality assurance committee with the responsibility to review the services rendered in the hospital in order to improve the quality of medical care of patients and to prevent medical malpractice. The committee shall oversee and coordinate the medical malpractice prevention program and shall insure that information gathered pursuant to the program is used to review and to revise hospital policies and procedures. At least one member of the committee shall be a member of the governing board of the hospital who is not otherwise affiliated with the hospital in an employment or contractual capacity;

(b) A medical staff privileges sanction procedure through which credentials, physical and mental capacity, and competence in delivering health care services are periodically reviewed as part of an evaluation of staff privileges;

(c) The periodic review of the credentials, physical and mental capacity, and competence in delivering health care services of all persons who are employed or associated with the hospital;

(d) A procedure for the prompt resolution of grievances by patients or their representatives related to accidents, injuries, treatment, and other events that may result in claims of medical malpractice;

(e) The maintenance and continuous collection of information concerning the hospital's experience with negative health care outcomes and incidents injurious to patients, patient grievances, professional liability premiums, settlements, awards, costs incurred by the hospital for patient injury prevention, and safety improvement activities;

(f) The maintenance of relevant and appropriate information gathered pursuant to (a) through (e) of this subsection concerning individual physicians within the physician's personnel or credential file maintained by the hospital;

(g) Education programs dealing with patient safety, injury prevention, staff responsibility to report professional misconduct, the legal aspects of patient care, improved communication with patients, and causes of malpractice claims for staff personnel engaged in patient care activities; and

(h) Policies to ensure compliance with the reporting requirements of this section.

(2) Any person who, in substantial good faith, provides information to further the purposes of the medical malpractice prevention program or who, in substantial good faith, participates on the quality assurance committee shall not be subject to an action for civil damages or other relief as a result of such activity.

(3) Information and documents, including complaints and incident reports, created, collected, and maintained about health care providers arising out of the matters that are ~~(subject to evaluation)~~ under review or have been evaluated by a review committee conducting quality assurance reviews are not subject to discovery or introduction into evidence in any civil action, and no person who was in attendance at a meeting of such committee or board shall be permitted or required to testify in any civil action as to the content of such proceedings. This subsection does not preclude: (a) in any civil action, the testimony of any person concerning the facts which form the basis for the institution of such proceedings of which the person had personal knowledge acquired independently of such proceedings; (b) in any civil action by a health care provider regarding the restriction or revocation of that individual's clinical or staff privileges, introduction into evidence information collected and maintained by quality assurance committees regarding such health care provider; ~~(or)~~ (c) in any civil action, disclosure of the fact that staff privileges were terminated or restricted, including the specific restrictions imposed, if any; or (d) in any civil action, discovery and introduction into evidence of the patient's medical records required by regulation of the department of social and health services to be made regarding the care and treatment received.

Failure of a hospital to comply with this subsection is punishable by a civil penalty not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars.

(6) Violation of this section shall not be considered negligence per se.

MOTION

Ms. Brough moved that the Committee on Judiciary be relieved of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5089, and that the bill be placed at the top of the day's second reading calendar.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Brough, I'm going to rule your motion out of order for the following reasons: House Rule 25(D) says "...Provided, That a majority of the members elected to the house may require a committee to report a bill back to the house during the order of business at which it may be considered." I'm ruling that the "it" refers to the motion. When I look at Rule 15, about orders of business, I suppose that it would be possible to rule that the fourth, fifth and sixth would be proper. However, when I look at the eighth order of business, it says "Floor Resolutions and Motions". What you've done is place a motion. The Speaker is ruling that those motions will be in order during the eighth order of business for reasons of order and certainty in this process.

The House resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5594.

(3) Be canceled, nonrenewed, or segregated at the time of rating solely on the grounds of the age or the deterioration of the mental or physical health of the covered person;

(4) Exclude or limit coverage for preexisting conditions for a period of more than one year prior to the effective date of the policy or contract or more than six months after the effective date of the policy or contract;

(5) Differentiate benefit amounts on the basis of the type or level of nursing home care provided;

(6) Contain a provision establishing any new waiting period in the event an existing policy or contract is converted to a new or other form within the same company;

(7) Contain a provision that conditions the availability or amount of policy or contract benefits upon the insured's or beneficiary's admission and stay in a hospital for a period of time greater than three days. No policy or contract issued or renewed on or after January 1, 1989, may contain a provision that conditions the availability or amount of policy or contract benefits upon the insured's or beneficiary's admission and stay in a hospital unless the insurer, contractor, or health maintenance organization proves to the commissioner's satisfaction that such a provision is actuarially necessary and that alternative methods of controlling benefit utilization are unavailable, impractical, or would result in significant increase in cost to the insured or beneficiary. In no case may the commissioner approve of a hospitalization requirement greater than three days.

Representatives Lux and Winsley spoke in favor of adoption of the amendments to the committee amendments, and they were adopted.

Mr. Lux moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Lux and Locke to the committee amendments:

On page 22, line 33 of the amendment, after "insurance," insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Persons seeking to purchase coverage in various classes of property and casualty insurance have experienced major problems due to the lack of availability of such insurance. The legislature finds that the availability of property and casualty insurance is critical to the economy of the state of Washington and its unavailability threatens to weaken the economy of the state and undermine the financial stability of its citizens.

Sections 15 through 18 of this act are intended to assist in reducing the problems of property and casualty insurance unavailability by authorizing the commissioner to establish joint underwriting associations when the commissioner finds that a class or classes of property and/or casualty insurance is not generally available in the admitted market.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 48.22 RCW to read as follows:

Unless the context requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout sections 16 through 18 of this act.

(1) 'Association' means a joint underwriting association established under section 16 of this act.

(2) 'Casualty insurance' means those types of insurance set forth in RCW 48.11.070 but does not include liability insurance coverage for day-care operations, private passenger automobiles, environmental pollution hazards, or workers' compensation.

(3) 'Property insurance' means those types of insurance set forth in RCW 48.11.040.

(4) 'Insurer' means those persons set forth in RCW 48.01.050.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A new section is added to chapter 48.22 RCW to read as follows:

If the commissioner finds that a class or classes of property and/or casualty insurance is not reasonably available in this state from insurers possessing certificates of authority to do business in this state, the commissioner may establish such joint underwriting associations as are necessary to provide such class or classes of insurance through policies of insurance affording reasonable coverage.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 48.22 RCW to read as follows:

Any association established by the commissioner under section 16 of this act shall consist of all insurers possessing a certificate of authority permitting the sale in this state of any of the classes of property and/or casualty insurance to be provided by the association. Exclusion or withdrawal from an association may be permitted by the commissioner upon a demonstration by the insurer of hardship threatening the financial solvency of the insurer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 48.22 RCW to read as follows:

Any plan of operation established by the commissioner under section 16 of this act shall be designed to permit an association to operate as close to a break-even point as is practical. The commissioner may require association members to pay, by reasonable assessments or fees, any costs or expenses of the association, to commence and continue operation, above the amount of premium received by the association."

Mr. Lux spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the committee amendment, and Representatives Zellinsky and Chandler spoke against it.

The Speaker resumed the Chair.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Lux yielded to question by Mr. Sanders.

Mr. Sanders: Representative Lux, in your new Section 18 you say that these joint associations should be designed to permit to operate as close to a break-even point as is possible. Would that include a profit for the insurance companies when you say break-even point?

Mr. Lux: As I understand it, Representative Sanders, the Insurance Commissioner, by prior approval, OK's the rates, and the rates do have to meet certain standards so there are adequate reserves and adequate surpluses to make their commitment. This provides for that, and obviously there is a profit in there. The overhead in the insurance business is about 34-36 percent, and that is all woven into this.

Representatives Sanders and Winsley spoke against adoption of the amendment to the committee amendments, and Mr. Locke spoke in favor of it. Mr. Lux spoke again in favor of adoption.

A division was called.

The county treasurer shall be the receiver and collector of all taxes extended upon the tax rolls of the county, whether levied for state, county, school, bridge, road, municipal or other purposes, and also of all fines, forfeitures or penalties received by any person or officer for the use of his or her county. NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. (1) The legislature finds that businesses and organizations providing services to children or developmentally disabled persons need adequate information to determine which employees or licensees to hire or engage. Therefore, the Washington state patrol criminal identification system may disclose, upon the request of a business or organization as defined in section 1 of this act, a prospective employee's record for convictions of offenses against persons, adjudications of child abuse in a civil action, and disciplinary board final decisions. When necessary, applicants may be employed on a conditional basis pending completion of such a background investigation.

(2) The legislature also finds that the state board of education may request of the Washington state patrol criminal identification system information regarding a certificate applicant's record for convictions under subsection (1) of this section.

(3) The legislature also finds that law enforcement agencies, the office of the attorney general, prosecuting authorities, and the department of social and health services may request this same information to aid in the investigation and prosecution of child and adult abuse cases and to protect children and adults from further incidents of abuse.

(4) The legislature further finds that the department of social and health services, when considering persons for state positions directly responsible for the care, supervision, or treatment of children or the developmentally disabled or when licensing or authorizing such persons or agencies pursuant to its authority under chapter 74.15 RCW, must consider the information listed in subsection (1) of this section. However, when necessary, persons may be employed on a conditional basis pending completion of the background investigation. The state personnel board shall adopt rules to accomplish the purposes of this subsection as it applies to state employees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) A business or organization shall not make an inquiry to the Washington state patrol under section 2 of this act or an equivalent inquiry to a federal law enforcement agency unless the business or organization has notified the applicant who has been offered a position as an employee or volunteer that an inquiry may be made.

(2) A business or organization shall require each applicant to disclose to the business or organization whether the applicant has been:

(d) Found in any disciplinary board final decision to have sexually abused or exploited any minor or to have physically abused any minor.

The disclosure shall be made in writing and signed by the applicant and sworn under penalty of perjury. The disclosure sheet shall specify all crimes against persons as defined in section 1 of this act.

(3) The business or organization shall pay such reasonable fee for the records check as the state patrol may require under section 5 of this act.

(4) The business or organization shall notify the applicant of the state patrol's response within ten days after receipt by the business or organization. The employer shall provide a copy of the response to the applicant and shall notify the applicant of such availability.

(5) The business or organization shall use this record only in making the initial employment or engagement decision. Further dissemination or use of the record is prohibited. A business or organization violating this subsection is subject to a civil action for damages.

(6) An insurance company shall not require a business or organization to request background information on any employee before issuing a policy of insurance.

(7) The business and organization shall be immune from civil liability for failure to request background information on a prospective employee or volunteer unless the failure to do so constitutes gross negligence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. An individual may contact the state patrol to ascertain whether that same individual has a civil adjudication, disciplinary board final decision, or conviction record. The state patrol shall disclose such information, subject to the fee established under section 5 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) After January 1, 1988, and notwithstanding any provision of RCW 43.43.700 through 43.43.810 to the contrary, the state patrol shall furnish a transcript of the conviction record, disciplinary board final decision, or civil adjudication record pertaining to any person for whom the state patrol or the federal bureau of investigation has a record upon the written request of:

(a) The subject of the inquiry;

(b) Any business or organization for the purpose of conducting evaluations under section 2 of this act;

(c) The department of social and health services;

(d) Any law enforcement agency, prosecuting authority, or the office of the attorney general; or

(e) The department of social and health services for the purpose of meeting responsibilities set forth in chapter 74.15 RCW. However, access to conviction records pursuant to this subsection (1)(e) does not limit or restrict the ability of the department to obtain additional information regarding conviction records and pending charges as set forth in RCW 74.15.030(2)(b).

After processing the request, if the conviction record, disciplinary board final decision, or adjudication record shows no evidence of a crime against persons, an identification declaring the showing of no evidence shall be issued to the applicant by the state patrol and shall be issued within fourteen days of the request. Possession of such identification shall satisfy future background check requirements for the applicant.

(2) The state patrol shall by rule establish fees for disseminating records under this section to recipients identified in subsection (1)(a) and (b) of this section. The state patrol shall also by rule establish fees for disseminating records in the custody of the national crime information center. The fees shall cover, as nearly as practicable, the direct and indirect costs to the state patrol of disseminating the records: PROVIDED, That no fee shall be charged to a nonprofit organization, including school districts and educational service districts, for the records check.

(3) No employee of the state, employee of a business or organization, or the business or organization is liable for defamation, invasion of privacy, negligence, or any other claim in connection with any lawful dissemination of information under sections 1 through 6 of this act or RCW 43.43.760.

(4) Before the effective date of this act, the state patrol shall adopt rules and forms to implement this section and to provide for security and privacy of information disseminated under this section, giving first priority to the criminal justice requirements of this chapter. The rules may include requirements for users, audits of users, and other procedures to prevent use of civil adjudication record information or criminal history record information inconsistent with this chapter.

(5) Nothing in sections 1 through 6 of this act shall authorize an employer to make an inquiry not specifically authorized by this chapter, or be construed to affect the policy of the state declared in chapter 9.96A RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The supreme court shall by rule require the courts of the state to notify the state patrol of any dependency action under RCW 13.34.030(2)(b) or domestic relations action under Title 26 RCW in which the court makes specific findings of physical abuse or sexual abuse or exploitation of a child.

(2) The department of licensing shall notify the state patrol of any disciplinary board final decision that includes specific findings of physical abuse or sexual abuse or exploitation of a child.

(3) When a business or an organization terminates, fires, dismisses, fails to renew the contract, or permits the resignation of an employee because of crimes against persons, and if that employee is employed in a position requiring a certificate or license issued by a licensing agency such as the state board of education, the business or organization shall notify the licensing agency of such termination of employment.

Sec. 7. Section 23, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 and RCW 9.94A.230 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every offender who has been discharged under RCW 9.94A.220 may apply to the sentencing court for a vacation of the offender's record of conviction. If the court finds the offender meets the tests prescribed in subsection (2) of this section, the court may clear the record of conviction by: (a) Permitting the offender to withdraw the offender's plea of guilty and to enter a plea of not guilty; or (b) if the offender has been convicted after a plea of not guilty, by the court setting aside the verdict of guilty; and (c) by the court dismissing the information or indictment against the offender.

(2) An offender may not have the record of conviction cleared if: (a) There are any criminal charges against the offender pending in any court of this state or another state, or in any federal court; (b) the offense was a violent offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030; (c) the offense was a crime against persons as defined in section 1 of this 1987 act; (d) the offender has been convicted of a new crime in this state, another state, or federal court since the date of the offender's discharge under RCW 9.94A.220; ~~((c))~~ (e) the offense is a class B felony and less than ten years have passed since the date the applicant was discharged under RCW 9.94A.220; and ~~((e))~~ (f) the offense was a class C felony and less than five years have passed since the date the applicant was discharged under RCW 9.94A.220.

(3) Once the court vacates a record of conviction under subsection (1) of this section, the fact that the offender has been convicted of the offense shall not be included in the offender's criminal history for purposes of determining a sentence in any subsequent conviction, and the offender shall be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offense. For all purposes, including responding to questions on employment applications, an offender whose conviction has been vacated may state that the offender has never been convicted of that crime. Nothing in this section affects or prevents the use of an offender's prior conviction in a later criminal prosecution.

The superintendent of public instruction shall act as the administrator of any such rules and regulations and have the power to issue any certificates or permits and revoke the same in accordance with board rules and regulations.

Sec. 9. Section 1, chapter 152, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. as last amended by section 7, chapter 201, Laws of 1985 and RCW 43.43.700 are each amended to read as follows:

The section shall keep a complete record and index of all information received in convenient form for consultation and comparison.

The section shall obtain from whatever source available and file for record the fingerprints, palmprints, photographs, or such other identification data as it deems necessary, of persons who have been or shall hereafter be lawfully arrested and charged with, or convicted of any criminal offense. The section may obtain like information concerning persons arrested for or convicted of crimes under the laws of another state or government.

The section shall also contain like information concerning persons, over the age of eighteen years, who have been found, pursuant to a dependency proceeding under ~~((chapter 13.34 RCW in which the person was a party, to have sexually molested, sexually abused, or sexually exploited a child))~~ RCW 13.34.030(2)(b) to have physically abused or sexually abused or exploited a child.

Upon application, the section shall furnish to criminal justice agencies, or to the department of social and health services, hereinafter referred to as the 'department', a transcript of the criminal offender record information or dependency record information available pertaining to any person of whom the section has a record.

For the purposes of RCW 43.43.700 through 43.43.800 the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings:

'Criminal offender record information' includes, and shall be restricted to identifying data and public record information recorded as the result of an arrest or other initiation of criminal proceedings and the consequent proceedings related thereto. 'Criminal offender record information' shall not include intelligence, analytical, or investigative reports and files.

'Criminal justice agencies' are those public agencies within or outside the state which perform, as a principal function, activities directly relating to the apprehension, prosecution, adjudication or rehabilitation of criminal offenders.

~~((Applications for information shall be by a data communications network used exclusively by criminal justice agencies or the department or in writing and information applied for shall be used solely in the due administration of the criminal laws or for the purposes enumerated in RCW 43.43.760(3).))~~

The section may refuse to furnish any information pertaining to the identification or history of any person or persons of whom it has a record, or other information in its files and records, to any applicant if the chief determines that the applicant has previously misused information furnished to such applicant by the section or the chief believes that the applicant will not use the information requested solely for the purpose of due administration of the criminal laws or for the purposes enumerated in RCW 43.43.760(3). The applicant may appeal such determination and denial of information to the advisory council created in RCW 43.43.785 and the council may direct that the section furnish such information to the applicant.

PART IV ABATEMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 401. Every building or unit within a building used for the purpose of unlawfully manufacturing, delivering, selling, storing, or giving away any controlled substance as defined in chapter 69.50 RCW, legend drug as defined in chapter 69.41 RCW, or imitation controlled substances as defined in chapter 69.52 RCW, and every building or unit within a building wherein or upon which such acts take place, is a nuisance which shall be enjoined, abated, and prevented, whether it is a public or private nuisance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 402. Any complaint filed under this chapter shall be verified or accompanied by affidavit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 403. Upon a sufficient showing on a motion for a temporary restraining order or a preliminary injunction, the court shall grant such preliminary equitable relief as is necessary to prevent the continuance or recurrence of the nuisance pending final resolution of the matter on the merits.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 404. No temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction may issue under this chapter except upon the giving of security by the applicant, in such sum as the court deems proper, for the payment of such costs and damages as may be incurred or suffered by any party who is found to have been wrongfully restrained or enjoined. No security may be required of the state of Washington, municipal corporations, or political subdivisions of the state of Washington.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 405. An action under this chapter shall have precedence over all other actions, except prior matters of the same character, criminal proceedings, election contests, hearings on temporary restraining orders and injunctions, and actions to forfeit vehicles used in violation of the uniform controlled substances act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 406. (1) If the complaint under this chapter is filed by a citizen, it shall not be dismissed by the citizen for want of prosecution except upon a sworn statement made by the citizen and the citizen's attorney, if the citizen has one, setting forth the reasons why the action should be dismissed, and by dismissal ordered by the court.

(2) In case of failure to prosecute the action with reasonable diligence, or at the request of the plaintiff, the court, in its discretion, may substitute any other citizen consenting thereto for the plaintiff.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 407. If the existence of the nuisance is established in the action, an order of abatement shall be entered as part of the final judgment in the case. Plaintiff's costs in the action, including those of abatement, are a lien upon the building or unit within a building, except as provided in section 411 of this act. The lien is enforceable and collectible by execution issued by order of the court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 408. An intentional or wilful violation of a restraining order, preliminary injunction, or order of abatement under this chapter is punishable as a contempt of court by a fine of not less than two hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than one nor more than six months, or by both.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 409. Any final order of abatement issued under this chapter shall:

(1) Direct the removal of all items subject to seizure and forfeiture pursuant to RCW 69.50-.505 from the building or unit within a building, and direct their disposition pursuant to the forfeiture provisions of RCW 69.50.505;

(2) Provide for the immediate closure of the building or unit within a building against its use for any purpose, and for keeping it closed for a period of one year unless released sooner as provided in this chapter; and

(3) State that while the order of abatement remains in effect the building or unit within a building shall remain in the custody of the court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 410. In all actions brought under this chapter, the proceeds and all moneys forfeited pursuant to the forfeiture provisions of RCW 69.50.505 shall be applied as follows:

(1) First, to the fees and costs of the removal and sale;

(2) Second, to the allowances and costs of closing and keeping closed the building or unit within a building;

(3) Third, to the payment of the plaintiff's costs in the action; and

(4) Fourth, the balance, if any, to the owner of the property.

If the proceeds of the sale of items subject to seizure and forfeiture do not fully discharge all of the costs, fees, and allowances, the building or unit within a building shall then also be sold under execution issued upon the order of the court, and the proceeds of the sale shall be applied in like manner.

No building or unit within a building may be sold pursuant to this section unless the court finds and concludes that the owner of the building or place had actual or constructive knowledge or notice of the existence of the nuisance, however, this shall not be construed as limiting or prohibiting the entry of any final order of abatement providing for the immediate closure of the building or unit within a building pursuant to this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 411. (1) If the court finds and concludes that the owner of the building or unit within a building had no actual or constructive knowledge of the existence of the nuisance, has not been guilty of any contempt of court in the proceedings, will immediately abate any such nuisance that may exist at the building or unit within a building and prevent it from being a nuisance within a period of one year thereafter, the court shall, if satisfied of the owner's good faith, order the building or unit within a building to be delivered to the owner, and the order of abatement cancelled so far as it may relate to the property.

(2) The release of property under this chapter does not release it from any judgment, lien, penalty or liability to which it may be subject, except as provided in subsection (1).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 412. Whenever the owner of a building or unit within a building upon which the act or acts constituting the contempt have been committed, or the owner of any interest therein, has been guilty of a contempt of court, and fined in any proceedings under this chapter, the fine is a lien upon the building or unit within a building to the extent of his or her interest in it. The lien is enforceable and collectible by execution issued by order of the court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 413. The abatement of a nuisance under this chapter does not prejudice the right of any person to recover damages for its past existence.

(2) Owner's policy. Such owner's policy of liability insurance:

(a) Shall designate by explicit description or by appropriate reference all vehicles with respect to which coverage is to be granted by the policy; and

(b) Shall insure the person named therein and any other person, as insured, using any such vehicle or vehicles with the express or implied permission of such named insured, against loss from the liability imposed by law for damages arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of such vehicle or vehicles within the United States of America or the Dominion of Canada, subject to limits exclusive of interest and costs, with respect to each such vehicle as follows: Twenty-five thousand dollars because of bodily injury to or death of one person in any one accident and, subject to said limit for one person, fifty thousand dollars because of bodily injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident, and ~~(ten)~~ twenty-five thousand dollars because of injury to or destruction of property of others in any one accident.

(3) Operator's policy. Such operator's policy of liability insurance shall insure the person named as insured therein against loss from the liability imposed upon him by law for damages arising out of the use by him of any motor vehicle not owned by him, within the same territorial limits and subject to the same limits of liability as are set forth above with respect to an owner's policy of liability insurance.

(4) Required statements in policies. Such motor vehicle liability policy shall state the name and address of the named insured, the coverage afforded by the policy, the premium charged therefor, the policy period, and the limits of liability, and shall contain an agreement or be endorsed that insurance is provided under the policy in accordance with the coverage defined in this chapter as respects bodily injury and death or property damage, or both, and is subject to all the provisions of this chapter.

(5) Policy need not insure workers' compensation, etc. Such motor vehicle liability policy need not insure any liability under any workers' compensation law nor any liability on account of bodily injury or death of an employee of the insured while engaged in the employment, other than domestic, of the insured, or while engaged in the operation, maintenance, or repair of any such vehicle nor any liability for damage to property owned by, rented to, in charge of, or transported by the insured.

(6) Provisions incorporated in policy. Every motor vehicle liability policy is subject to the following provisions which need not be contained therein:

(a) The liability of the insurance carrier with respect to the insurance required by this chapter becomes absolute whenever injury or damage covered by said motor vehicle liability policy occurs; said policy may not be canceled or annulled as to such liability by any agreement between the insurance carrier and the insured after the occurrence of the injury or damage; no statement made by the insured or on his behalf and no violation of said policy defeats or voids said policy.

(b) The satisfaction by the insured of a judgment for such injury or damage shall not be a condition precedent to the right or duty of the insurance carrier to make payment on account of such injury or damage.

(c) The insurance carrier may settle any claim covered by the policy, and if such settlement is made in good faith, the amount thereof is deductible from the limits of liability specified in subdivision (b) of subsection (2) of this section.

(d) The policy, the written application therefor, if any, and any rider or endorsement which does not conflict with the provisions of this chapter constitutes the entire contract between the parties.

(7) Excess or additional coverage. Any policy which grants the coverage required for a motor vehicle liability policy may also grant any lawful coverage in excess of or in addition to the coverage specified for a motor vehicle liability policy, and such excess or additional coverage is not subject to the provisions of this chapter. With respect to a policy which grants such excess or additional coverage the term "motor vehicle liability policy" applies only to that part of the coverage which is required by this section.

(8) Reimbursement provision permitted. Any motor vehicle liability policy may provide that the insured shall reimburse the insurance carrier for any payment the insurance carrier would not have been obligated to make under the terms of the policy except for the provisions of this chapter.

(9) Proration of insurance permitted. Any motor vehicle liability policy may provide for the prorating of the insurance thereunder with other valid and collectible insurance.

(10) Multiple policies. The requirements for a motor vehicle liability policy may be fulfilled by the policies of one or more insurance carrier which policies together meet such requirements.

(11) Binders. Any binder issued pending the issuance of a motor vehicle liability policy is deemed to fulfill the requirements for such a policy.

(12) 'Prior system' means a system in which a person had previous membership but is no longer making member contributions.

(13) 'Service' means the same as it may be defined in each respective system. For the purposes of section 3 of this act, military service granted under RCW 41.40.170(3) or 43.43.260 may only be based on service accrued under chapter 41.40 or 43.43 RCW, respectively.

(14) 'System' means the retirement systems established under chapters 41.28, 41.32, 41.40, 41.44, and 43.43 RCW. The inclusion of an individual first class city system is subject to the procedure set forth in section 6 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) Those persons who are dual members on or after July 1, 1988, shall not receive a retirement benefit from any prior system while dual members without the loss of all benefits under this chapter. Retroactive retirement in any prior system will cancel membership in any subsequent systems except as allowed under RCW 41.04.270 and will result in the refund of all employee and employer contributions made to such systems.

(2) If a member has withdrawn contributions from a prior system, the member may restore the contributions, together with interest since the date of withdrawal as determined by the system, and recover the service represented by the contributions. Such restoration must be completed within two years of establishing dual membership or prior to retirement, whichever occurs first.

(3) A member of the retirement system under chapter 41.32 RCW who is serving in office pursuant to Article II or III of the state Constitution may, notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 41.40.120(4), within one year from the effective date of this section make an irrevocable election to become a member of the retirement system under chapter 41.40 RCW. A member who makes this election shall receive service credit under chapter 41.32 RCW for all prior and future periods of employment which are, or otherwise would be, credited under chapter 41.32 RCW. Such a member who established membership under chapter 41.32 RCW prior to June 30, 1977, shall be granted membership under chapter 41.40 RCW as if he or she had been a member of that system prior to June 30, 1977.

All contributions credited to such member under chapter 41.32 RCW for service now to be credited in the retirement system under chapter 41.40 RCW shall be transferred to the system and the member shall not receive any credit nor enjoy any rights under chapter 41.32 RCW for those periods of service.

(4) Any service accrued in one system by the member shall not accrue in any other system.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) As used in this section, the percentage factor to be used in calculating a benefit under chapter 41.28 RCW shall be determined using only the service earned in a retirement system created under that chapter.

(2) The service retirement allowances to be paid to a dual member upon retiring from the current system because of service shall be the sum of:

(a) The service retirement allowance received under the current system as a result of multiplying the current system average final compensation by the percentage factor of the current system and the service earned under the current system; and

(b) The sum of the respective service retirement allowances received under prior systems as a result of multiplying each prior system's average final compensation by the percentage factor of that prior system and the service earned under that prior system.

(3) Eligibility to receive a service benefit under this chapter shall be based on (a) the criteria of any system in which dual membership is held, and (b) the dual member's combined systems' service. The service retirement allowances from a system which, but for this chapter, would not be allowed to be paid at this date based on the dual member's age shall be either actuarially adjusted from the earliest age upon which the combined service would have made such dual member eligible in that system, or the dual member may choose to defer the benefit until fully eligible.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) The retirement allowances calculated under section 3 of this act shall be paid separately by each respective current and prior system. Any deductions from such separate payments shall be according to the provisions of the respective systems.

(2) Postretirement adjustments, if any, shall be applied by the respective systems based on the payments made under subsection (1) of this section.

(3) If a dual member dies in service in any system, the surviving spouse shall receive the same benefit from each system that would have been received if the member were active in the system at the time of death based on service actually established in that system.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A person who was eligible to establish membership under RCW 41.40.120(3) prior to October 1, 1977, but failed to do so by that date, is authorized to elect to do so as if such election had been made prior to that date. Such an election must be made not later than June 30, 1988, and all other terms and conditions of RCW 41.40.120(3) shall apply.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A system authorized under chapter 41.28 RCW may petition the legislature for coverage under the provisions of this chapter by the adoption of a resolution by majority vote of those elected or appointed to the legislative body of the respective first class city. This resolution may not be adopted until a public hearing has been held on the proposed entry into coverage under this chapter. If adopted, the resolution shall be transmitted prior to January 1, 1988, to the director and to the joint committee on pension policy created in chapter ... (HB 358), Laws of 1987. The system shall be included only after the legislature enacts legislation specifically including the system under the coverage of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The benefit granted by this chapter shall not result in a total benefit less than would have been received absent such benefit. The total sum of the retirement allowances received under this chapter shall not exceed the smallest amount the dual member would receive if all the service had been rendered in any one system.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The benefits provided under sections 1 through 7 of this act are not provided to employees as a matter of contractual right and the legislature retains the right to alter or abolish these benefits at any time prior to a member's retirement.

Sec. 9. Section 1, chapter 105, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 29, Laws of 1980 and RCW 41.04.270 are each amended to read as follows:

(2) Nothing in this section is intended to apply to (a) any retirement system except those listed in RCW 41.50.030 and ~~((the retirement systems of first class cities))~~ chapter 41.28 RCW, or (b) a dual member as defined in section 1 of this 1987 act.

ESSB 5377 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Human Services & Corrections: Creating a department of public health and environment. Reported by Committee on Ways & Means/Appropriations

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments by Committee on Ways & Means/Appropriations and without amendments by Committee on Health Care:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds and declares that the economic and social vitality of the state are dependent on a healthy and productive population. It further finds that preservation of health requires action by government to promote healthful ways of life, to prevent disease and injury, and to preserve the environment and reduce or eliminate risks and hazards to health. It recognizes that while the activities and policies of many state and local governmental agencies have an impact upon health and the environment, there is a need for a single department of state government with primary responsibility for the preservation of health and the environment. The legislature further declares it to be the policy of this state, that it is a fundamental and inalienable right of the people of the state of Washington to live in a healthful and pleasant environment. The legislature further recognizes that as the population of our state grows, the need to provide for our increasing industrial, agricultural, residential, social, recreational, economic, and other needs will place an increasing responsibility on all segments of our society to plan, coordinate, restore, and regulate the utilization of our natural resources in a manner that will protect and conserve our clean air, our pure and abundant waters, and the natural beauty of the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. In recognition of the responsibility of state government to carry out the policies set forth in section 1 of this act, it is the purpose of this chapter to establish a single state agency with the authority to manage and develop our air and water resources in an orderly, efficient, and effective manner and to carry out a coordinated program of pollution control involving these and related land resources. It is the further purpose of this chapter to focus state policy and mobilize and coordinate state efforts to preserve and promote the health of the people of the state, and a safe and nurturing environment in which to live. The department shall provide leadership and coordination in identifying and resolving threats to the environmental health by:

- (1) Developing intervention strategies;
- (2) Strengthening the state and local governmental partnership in providing public and environmental protection;
- (3) Providing expert advice to the executive and legislative branches of state government;
- (4) Providing active and fair enforcement of regulation;
- (5) Working with other federal, state, and local agencies and facilitating their involvement in planning and implementing environmental health preservation measures; and
- (6) Carrying out such other actions as may be appropriate to this purpose.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the economy of the state of Washington more than that of any other state in the union is dependent on foreign trade, particularly with Pacific Rim countries. If Washington's status as a leading state in international trade is to be maintained and strengthened, students of this state need to be better prepared. The legislature also finds that parents and our public education system can work cooperatively to prepare our children as they begin to face complex questions of world order and stability. It is, therefore, the intent of the legislature to provide students with enhanced opportunities to increase their awareness of and understanding about other nations and the relationships of those countries with Washington state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The superintendent of public instruction shall establish an advisory committee to advise the superintendent on international education issues as such issues relate to the development of model curriculum or curriculum guidelines for grades kindergarten through twelve. The advisory committee shall be of such size as determined by the superintendent of public instruction. The superintendent of public instruction is encouraged to include teachers; administrators; multicultural curriculum specialists; representatives of private enterprise; representatives of foreign trade or policy organizations, representatives of local and state ethnic minority groups, associations, or agencies; and representatives of cultural associations.

(2) The superintendent of public instruction shall establish a working committee to develop international education model curriculum or curriculum guidelines. The working committee shall follow the same procedures as those established by the superintendent of public instruction for the implementation of RCW 28A.03.425. Upon completion, the model curriculum or curriculum guidelines shall be made available for consideration and use by school districts.

(3) In cooperation with the advisory committee, the superintendent of public instruction shall conduct a study of the feasibility of establishing an international education curriculum resource center and submit a report to the legislature including findings and recommendations by January 1, 1988.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) Amounts appropriated by the legislature to implement this chapter shall be used solely for grants to selected school districts for purposes of developing and implementing international education programs. State-level administration and development of such programs shall be conducted using existing staff and resources of the office of the superintendent of public instruction. The grants shall be in such amounts as determined by the superintendent of public instruction. The sum of all grants awarded shall not exceed the amount appropriated by the legislature for such purposes.

(2) The grant program shall center on the use of the international education model curriculum or curriculum guidelines developed in section 2 of this act. Districts may use the international education model curriculum or curriculum guidelines developed under section 2 of this act as a guideline for creating their own model curriculum for participation in the grant program.

(3) School districts may apply singularly or a group of school districts may apply together to participate in the program.

(4) School districts applying for the international education grant program shall submit a plan which includes:

(a) Participation by the school district in both the model curriculum or curriculum guidelines development activities and the grant program activities provided for by this chapter;

(b) The application or intent to conduct a foreign language program including either Japanese or Mandarin Chinese beginning in the ninth grade;

(c) A staff in-service training program addressing the implementation of international education curriculum;

(d) A goal to enlist participation where possible by private enterprise, cultural and ethnic associations, foreign trade or policy organizations, the local community, exchange students and students who have participated in exchange programs, and parents;

(e) Evaluation of the pilot program.

(5) To the extent possible, selected school districts shall represent the various geographical locations, school or school district sizes, and grade levels in the state.

(6) By January 1, 1988, the superintendent of public instruction shall select five school district grantees for the program. The program shall be implemented beginning with the 1988-89 school year.

(7) The program in international education shall be considered a social studies offering for the purpose of RCW 28A.05.060(1).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The superintendent of public instruction shall adopt rules under chapter 34.04 RCW to carry out the purposes of sections 1 through 3 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The superintendent of public instruction shall submit a report to the legislature, including its findings and specific recommendations evaluating the progress of the grant program, by January 1, 1991.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Sections 1 through 5 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 28A RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

(3) Sections 1 through 16 and 26 of this act apply to all dissolution orders incident to a decree of divorce, dissolution, or legal separation whether entered before or after the effective date of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Nothing in sections 1 through 16 of this act limits the use of any and all civil and criminal remedies against an obligor to enforce the obligations of a dissolution order.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) A proceeding to enforce a duty of spousal maintenance or a property division obligation by means of a mandatory benefits assignment order may be commenced by an obligee:

(a) By filing a petition for an original action; or

(b) By motion in an existing action or under an existing cause number.

(2) Venue for the action is in the superior court of the county of the state of Washington where the obligee resides or is present, where the obligor resides, or where the prior dissolution order was entered.

(3) The court retains continuing jurisdiction under sections 1 through 16 and 26 of this act until all duties of spousal maintenance and all property settlement obligations of the obligor, including arrearages, with respect to the obligee have been satisfied.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) Every court order or decree establishing a spousal maintenance obligation or property division obligation may state that if any such payment is more than fifteen days past due and the total of such past due payments is equal to or greater than one hundred dollars or if the obligor requests a withdrawal of accumulated contributions from the department of retirement systems, the obligee may seek a mandatory benefits assignment order without prior notice to the obligor. Failure to include this provision does not affect the validity of the dissolution order.

(2) If the dissolution order under which the obligor owes the duty of spousal maintenance or a property division obligation is not in compliance with subsection (1) of this section or if the obligee cannot show that the obligor has approved or received a copy of the court order or decree that complies with subsection (1) of this section, then notice shall be provided to the obligor at least fifteen days before the obligee seeks a mandatory benefits assignment order. The notice shall state that, if a spousal maintenance or property division payment is more than fifteen days past due and the total of such past due payments is equal to or greater than one hundred dollars or if the obligor requests a withdrawal of accumulated contributions from the department of retirement systems, the obligee may seek a mandatory benefits assignment order without further notice to the obligor. Service of the notice shall be by personal service, or by any form of mail requiring a return receipt. The notice requirement under this subsection is not jurisdictional.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) An obligee who wishes to be notified by the department of retirement systems if the obligor seeks a withdrawal of accumulated contributions shall submit such a request to the department in writing on a form supplied by the department. The request shall be filed by certified or registered mail and shall include the obligee's address and a copy of the dissolution order requiring the spousal maintenance or property division obligation owed.

(2) The department shall thereafter promptly send notice to the obligee at the address provided in subsection (1) of this section when the obligor applies for a withdrawal of accumulated contributions. The department shall not process the obligor's request for a withdrawal of accumulated contributions sooner than seventy-five days after sending the notice to the obligee.

(3) The department may pay directly to an obligee who has not obtained a mandatory benefits assignment order all or part of the accumulated contributions withdrawn by an obligor if, and only if the dissolution order filed with the department pursuant to subsection (1) of this section includes a provision that states in substantially the following form:

'At such time as (the obligor) requests a withdrawal of accumulated contributions as defined in section 1 of this act, the department of retirement systems shall pay to (the obligee) dollars from such accumulated contributions or percentage of such accumulated contributions (whichever is provided by the court).'

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) A petition or motion seeking a mandatory benefits assignment order in an action under section 4 of this act may be filed by an obligee if the obligor is more than fifteen days past due in spousal maintenance or property division obligation payments and the total of such past due payments is equal to or greater than one hundred dollars or if the obligor requests a withdrawal of accumulated contributions from the department of retirement systems. The petition or motion shall include a sworn statement by the obligee, stating the facts authorizing the issuance of the mandatory benefits assignment order, including:

(a) That the obligor, stating his or her name, residence, and social security number, (i) is more than fifteen days past due in spousal maintenance payments or property division obligation payments and that the total of such past due payments is equal to or greater than one hundred dollars, or (ii) has requested a withdrawal of accumulated contributions from the department of retirement systems;

(b) A description of the terms of the dissolution order requiring payment of spousal maintenance or a property division obligation and the amount, if any, past due;

(c) The name of the public retirement system or systems from which the obligor is currently receiving periodic retirement benefits or from which the obligor has requested a withdrawal of accumulated contributions; and

(d) That notice has been provided to the obligor as required by section 5 of this act.

(2) If the court in which a mandatory benefits assignment order is sought does not already have a copy of the dissolution order in the court file, then the obligee shall attach a copy of the dissolution order to the petition or motion seeking the mandatory benefits assignment order.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Upon receipt of a petition or motion seeking a mandatory benefits assignment order that complies with section 7 of this act, the court shall issue a mandatory benefits assignment order in as provided in section 10 of this act, including the information required in section 9 (1)(a) or (2)(a) of this act, directed to the department of retirement systems, and commanding the department to answer the order on the forms served with the order that comply with section 12 of this act within twenty days after service of the order upon the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) (a) The mandatory benefits assignment order in section 8 of this act directed at periodic retirement benefits shall include:

(i) The maximum amount of current spousal maintenance or property division obligation, if any, to be withheld from the obligor's periodic retirement benefits each month;

(ii) The total amount of the arrearage judgments previously entered by the court, if any, together with interest, if any; and

(iii) The maximum amount to be withheld from the obligor's periodic retirement payments each month to satisfy the arrearage judgments specified in (a)(i) of this subsection.

(b) With respect to such a mandatory benefits assignment order, the total amount to be withheld from the obligor's periodic retirement payments each month shall not exceed fifty percent of the disposable benefits of the obligor or the maximum amount allowed by 15 U.S.C. Sec. 1673, whichever is less.

(c) Except as otherwise required by federal law, fifty percent of the disposable benefits of the obligor are exempt, and may be disbursed by the department to the obligor.

(2)(a) A mandatory benefits assignment order in section 8 of this act directed at a withdrawal of accumulated contributions shall include:

(i) The property division interest, if any, of the obligee in the obligor's accumulated contributions, established by the dissolution order, which interest shall be stated as either a dollar amount or a percentage amount in the mandatory benefits assignment order;

(ii) The total amount of the arrearage judgments for spousal maintenance payments or property division payments entered by the court, if any, together with interest, if any; and

(iii) The amount to be withheld from the obligor's withdrawal of accumulated contributions to satisfy the property division interest and the arrearage judgments specified in (a) (i) and (ii) of this subsection;

(b) With respect to such a mandatory benefits assignment order, the total amount to be withheld from the obligor's withdrawal of accumulated contributions may be up to one hundred percent of the disposable benefits of the obligor.

(3) If an obligor is subject to two or more mandatory benefits assignment orders on account of different obligees and if the nonexempt portion of the obligor's benefits is not sufficient to respond fully to all the mandatory benefits assignment orders, the department shall apportion the obligor's nonexempt disposable benefits among the various obligees in equal shares to the extent permitted by federal law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The mandatory benefits assignment order shall be substantially in the following form:

Obligor

The above-named obligee claims that the above-named obligor is more than fifteen days past due in spousal maintenance or property division obligation payments and that the total amount of such past due payments is equal to or greater than one hundred dollars or that the obligor has requested a withdrawal of accumulated contributions from the department of retirement systems. The amount of the accrued past due spousal maintenance or property division obligation debt as of this date is dollars. If the obligor is receiving periodic retirement payments from the department, the amount to be withheld from the obligor's benefits to satisfy such accrued spousal maintenance or property division obligation is dollars per month and the amount to be withheld from the obligor's benefits to satisfy current and continuing spousal maintenance or property division obligation is per month. If the obligor has requested a withdrawal of accumulated contributions from the department, the amount to be withheld from the obligor's benefits to satisfy such accrued spousal maintenance or property division obligation is dollars and the amount to be withheld from the obligor's benefits to satisfy the obligee's property division interest in the obligor's accumulated contributions is ... percent of the disposable benefits or is dollars.

You are hereby commanded to answer this order by filling in the attached form according to the instructions, and you must mail or deliver the original of the answer to the court, one copy to the obligee or obligee's attorney, and one copy to the obligor within twenty days after service of this benefits assignment order upon you.

(1) If you are currently paying periodic retirement payments to the obligor, then you shall do as follows:

- (a) Withhold from the obligor's retirement payments each month the lesser of:
 - (i) The sum of the specified arrearage payment amount plus the specified current spousal maintenance or property division obligation amount; or
 - (ii) Fifty percent of the disposable benefits of the obligor or the maximum amount allowed by federal law, whichever is less.
- (b) The total amount withheld above is subject to the mandatory benefits assignment order, and all other sums may be disbursed to the obligor.

You shall continue to withhold the ordered amounts from nonexempt benefits of the obligor until notified by a court order that the mandatory benefits assignment order has been modified or terminated. You shall promptly notify the court if and when the obligor is no longer receiving periodic retirement payments from the department of retirement systems.

You shall deliver the withheld benefits to the clerk of the court that issued this mandatory benefits assignment order each month, but the first delivery shall occur no sooner than twenty days after your receipt of this mandatory benefits assignment order.

(2) If you are not currently paying periodic retirement payments to the obligor but the obligor has requested a withdrawal of accumulated contributions, then you shall do as follows:

- (a) Withhold from the obligor's benefits the sum of the specified arrearage payment amount plus the specified property division interest amount, up to one hundred percent of the disposable benefits of the obligor.

(b) The total amount withheld above is subject to the mandatory benefits assignment order, and all other sums may be disbursed to the obligor.

You shall mail a copy of this order and a copy of your answer to the obligor at the mailing address in the department's files as soon as is reasonably possible. This mandatory benefits assignment order has priority over any assignment or order of execution, garnishment, attachment, levy, or similar legal process authorized by Washington law, except for a wage assignment order for child support under chapter 26.18 RCW or order to withhold or deliver under chapter 74.20A RCW.

NOTICE TO OBLIGOR: YOU HAVE A RIGHT TO REQUEST A HEARING IN THE SUPERIOR COURT THAT ISSUED THIS MANDATORY BENEFITS ASSIGNMENT ORDER, TO REQUEST THAT THE COURT QUASH, MODIFY, OR TERMINATE THE MANDATORY BENEFITS ASSIGNMENT ORDER.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (1) The director or the director's designee shall answer an order by sworn affidavit within twenty days after the date of service. The answer shall state whether the obligor receives periodic payments from the department of retirement systems, whether the obligor has requested a withdrawal of accumulated contributions from the department, whether the department will honor the mandatory benefits assignment order and if not, the reasons why, and whether there are other current court or administrative orders on file with the department directing the department to withhold all or a portion of the obligor's benefits.

(2) (a) If any periodic retirement payments are currently payable to the obligor, the funds subject to the mandatory benefits assignment order shall be withheld from the next periodic retirement payment due twenty days or more after receipt of the mandatory benefits assignment order. The withheld amount shall be delivered to the clerk of the court that issued the mandatory benefits assignment order each month, but the first delivery shall occur no sooner than twenty days after receipt of the mandatory benefits assignment order.

(b) The department shall continue to withhold the ordered amount from nonexempt benefits of the obligor until notified by the court that the mandatory benefits assignment order has been modified or terminated. If the department is initially unable to comply, or able to comply only partially, with the withholding obligation, the court's order shall be interpreted to require the department to comply to the greatest extent possible at the earliest possible date. The department shall notify the court of changes in withholding amounts and the reason for the change. When the obligor is no longer eligible to receive funds from one or more public retirement systems the department shall promptly notify the court.

(3)(a) If no periodic retirement payments are currently payable to the obligor but the obligor has requested a withdrawal of accumulated contributions, the funds subject to the mandatory benefits assignment order shall be withheld from the withdrawal payment. The withheld amount shall be delivered to the clerk of the court that issued the mandatory benefits assignment order.

(b) If the department is unable to comply fully with the withholding obligation, the court's order shall be interpreted to require the department to comply to the greatest extent possible.

(4) The department may deduct a processing fee from the remainder of the obligor's funds after withholding under the mandatory benefits assignment order, unless the remainder is exempt under section 9 of this act. The processing fee may not exceed (a) twenty-five dollars for the first disbursement made by the department to the superior court clerk; and (b) six dollars for each subsequent disbursement to the clerk.

(5) A court order for spousal maintenance or a property division obligation governed by sections 1 through 16 or 26 of this act shall have priority over any other assignment or order of execution, garnishment, attachment, levy, or similar legal process authorized under Washington law, except for a mandatory wage assignment for child support under chapter 26.18 RCW, or an order to withhold and deliver under chapter 74.20A RCW.

(6) If the department, without good cause, fails to withhold funds as required by a mandatory benefits assignment order issued under section 8 of this act, the department may be held liable to the obligee for any amounts wrongfully disbursed to the obligor in violation of the mandatory benefits assignment order. However, the department shall under no circumstances be held liable for failing to withhold funds from a withdrawal of accumulated contributions unless the mandatory benefits assignment order was properly served on the department at least thirty days before the department made the withdrawal payment to the obligor. If the department is held liable to an obligee for failing to withhold funds as required by a mandatory benefits assignment order, the department may recover such amounts paid to an obligee by thereafter either withholding such amounts from the available nonexempt benefits of the obligor or filing a legal action against the obligor.

(7) If the department complies with a court order pursuant to sections 1 through 16 of this act, neither the department, its officers, its employees, nor any of the retirement systems listed in RCW 41.50.030 may be liable to the obligor for wrongful withholding.

(8) The department may combine amounts withheld from various obligors into a single payment to the superior court clerk, if the payment includes a listing of the amounts attributable to each obligor and other information as required by the clerk.

(9) The department shall mail to the obligor at the obligor's last known mailing address appearing in the department's files copies of the mandatory benefits assignment order and the department's answer within twenty days after receiving the mandatory benefits assignment order.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 12. The answer of the department shall be made on forms, served on the director with the mandatory benefits assignment order, substantially as follows:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 13. (1) Service of the mandatory benefits assignment order on the department is invalid unless it is served with four answer forms in substantial conformance with section 12 of this act, together with stamped envelopes addressed to, respectively, the clerk of the court where the order was issued, the obligee's attorney or the obligee, and the obligor at the last mailing address known to the obligee. The obligee shall also include an extra copy of the mandatory benefits assignment order for the department to mail to the obligor. Service on the department shall be in person or by any form of mail requiring a return receipt.

(2) On or before the date of service of the mandatory benefits assignment order on the department, the obligee shall mail or cause to be mailed by certified or registered mail a copy of the mandatory benefits assignment order to the obligor at the obligor's last mailing address known to the obligee; or, in the alternative, a copy of the mandatory benefits assignment order shall be served on the obligor in the same manner as a summons in a civil action on, before, or within two days after the date of service of the order on the department. This requirement is not jurisdictional, but if the copy is not mailed or served as this subsection requires, or if any irregularity appears with respect to the mailing or service, the superior court, in its discretion, may quash the mandatory benefits assignment order, upon motion of the obligor promptly made and supported by an affidavit showing that the obligor has been prejudiced due to the failure to mail or serve the copy.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 14. In a hearing to quash, modify, or terminate the mandatory benefits assignment order, the court may grant relief only upon a showing that the mandatory benefits assignment order causes extreme hardship or substantial injustice. Satisfaction by the obligor of all past due payments subsequent to the issuance of the mandatory benefits assignment order is not grounds to quash, modify, or terminate the mandatory benefits assignment order. If a mandatory benefits assignment order has been in operation for twelve consecutive months and the obligor's spousal maintenance or property division obligation is current, the court may terminate the order upon motion of the obligor unless the obligee can show good cause as to why the mandatory benefits assignment order should remain in effect.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. In any action to enforce a dissolution order by means of a mandatory benefits assignment order pursuant to sections 4 through 14 and 26 of this act, the court may award costs to the prevailing party, including an award for reasonable attorneys' fees consistent with RCW 26.09.140. An obligor shall not be considered a prevailing party under this section unless the obligee has acted in bad faith in connection with the proceeding in question. This section does not authorize an award of attorneys' fees against the department of retirement systems or any of the retirement systems listed in RCW 41.50.030.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. Notwithstanding RCW 2.10.180(1), 2.12.090(1), 41.26.180(1), 41.32.590(1), 41.40.380(1), and 43.43.310(1), the department of retirement systems may make direct payments of benefits to a spouse or ex spouse pursuant to court orders or decrees entered before the effective date of this act that complied with all the requirements in RCW 2.10.180(1), 2.12.090(2), 41.26.180(3), 41.32.590(3), 41.40.380(3), 43.43.310(2), and 41.04.310 through 41.04.330, as such requirements existed before the effective date of this section.

(4) Deductions made in the past from retirement benefits are hereby expressly recognized, ratified, and affirmed. Future deductions may only be made in accordance with this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A new section is added to chapter 41.24 RCW to read as follows:

(1) If the state board or the secretary makes payments to a spouse or ex spouse to the extent expressly provided for in any court decree of dissolution or legal separation or in any court order or court-approved property settlement agreement incident to a court decree of dissolution or legal separation, it shall be a sufficient answer to any claim of a beneficiary against the state board, the secretary, or the fund for the state board or secretary to show that the payments were made pursuant to a court decree.

(2) All payments made to a nonmember spouse or ex spouse pursuant to RCW 41.24.240 shall cease upon the death of such a nonmember spouse or ex spouse. Upon such a death, the state board and the secretary shall pay to the member his or her full monthly entitlement of benefits.

The governor may ~~((provide for))~~ propose orderly liquidation of the ~~((currently existing))~~ anticipated cash deficit over a period of one or more fiscal periods, if, in ~~((his))~~ the governor's discretion, such manner of liquidation would best serve the public interest.

Sec. 5. Section 43.88.110, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 4, chapter 215, Laws of 1986 and RCW 43.88.110 are each amended to read as follows:

This section sets forth the expenditure programs and the allotment and reserve procedures to be followed by the executive branch for public funds. Allotments of an appropriation for any fiscal period shall conform to the terms, limits, or conditions of the appropriation.

(1) The director of financial management shall provide all agencies with a complete set of instructions for preparing a statement of proposed expenditures at least thirty days before the beginning of a fiscal period. The set of instructions need not include specific appropriation amounts for the agency.

(2) Within forty-five days after the beginning of the fiscal period or within forty-five days after the governor signs the omnibus biennial appropriations act, whichever is later, all agencies shall submit to the governor a statement of proposed expenditures at such times and in such form as may be required by the governor. If at any time during the fiscal period the governor ~~((shall ascertain that estimated revenues for the applicable period will be less than the respective appropriations))~~ projects a cash deficit as defined by RCW 43.88.050, the governor shall make across-the-board reductions in allotments so as to prevent ~~((the making of expenditures in excess of estimated revenues))~~ a cash deficit, unless the legislature has directed the liquidation of the cash deficit over one or more fiscal periods. Except for the legislative and judicial branches and other agencies headed by elective officials, the governor shall review the statement of proposed expenditures for reasonableness and conformance with legislative intent. Once the governor approves the statements of proposed expenditures, further revisions shall be made only at the beginning of the second fiscal year and must be initiated by the governor. However, changes in appropriation level authorized by the legislature, changes required by across-the-board reductions mandated by the governor, and changes caused by executive increases to spending authority may require additional revisions. Revisions shall not be made retroactively. Revisions caused by executive increases to spending authority shall not be made after June 30, 1987. However, the governor may assign to a reserve status any portion of an agency appropriation withheld as part of across-the-board reductions made by the governor and any portion of an agency appropriation conditioned on a contingent event by the appropriations act. The governor may remove these amounts from reserve status if the across-the-board reductions are subsequently modified or if the contingent event occurs. The director of financial management shall enter approved statements of proposed expenditures into the state budgeting, accounting, and reporting system within forty-five days after receipt of the proposed statements from the agencies. If an agency or the director of financial management is unable to meet these requirements, the director of financial management shall provide a timely explanation in writing to the legislative fiscal committees.

(3) It is expressly provided that all agencies shall be required to maintain accounting records and to report thereon in the manner prescribed in this chapter and under the regulations issued pursuant to this chapter. Within ninety days of the end of the fiscal year, all agencies shall submit to the director of financial management their final adjustments to close their books for the fiscal year. Prior to submitting fiscal data, written or oral, to committees of the legislature, it is the responsibility of the agency submitting the data to reconcile it with the budget and accounting data reported by the agency to the director of financial management. The director of financial management shall monitor agency expenditures against the approved statement of proposed expenditures and shall provide the legislature with quarterly explanations of major variances.

(4) The director of financial management may exempt certain public funds from the allotment controls established under this chapter if it is not practical or necessary to allot the funds. Allotment control exemptions expire at the end of the fiscal biennium for which they are granted. The director of financial management shall report any exemptions granted under this subsection to the legislative fiscal committees.

Sec. 6. Section 43.88.120, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 10, chapter 138, Laws of 1984 and RCW 43.88.120 are each amended to read as follows:

Each agency engaged in the collection of revenues shall prepare ~~((statements of revenue collections and estimates))~~ estimated revenues and estimated receipts for the current and ensuing biennium and shall submit the ~~((statements and))~~ estimates to the director of financial management and the director of revenue at times and in the form specified by the directors, along with any other information which the directors may request.

A copy of such ~~((collection reports and))~~ revenue estimates shall be simultaneously submitted to the economic and revenue forecast work group when required by the office of the economic and revenue forecast council.

Sec. 7. Section 43.88.140, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 9, chapter 270, Laws of 1981 and RCW 43.88.140 are each amended to read as follows:

The authority to incur liabilities under all appropriations shall lapse at the end of the fiscal period for which the appropriations are made ~~((to the extent that they have not been expended or lawfully obligated)).~~ Cash disbursements for liabilities incurred under an appropriation shall not be made later than one month after the end of the fiscal period for which the appropriation is made.

Sec. 8. Section 2, chapter 83, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 43.88.260 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It shall be unlawful for any agency head or disbursing officer to incur any cash deficiency ~~((and))~~ in any public fund or account during a fiscal period, except as authorized under this section.

(2) The director of financial management may authorize a temporary cash deficiency in a public fund. Each authorization shall distinctly specify the fund, the maximum amount of cash deficiency which may be incurred, and the maximum time period during which the cash deficiency may continue. Each authorization shall expire at the end of each fiscal biennium unless renewed by the director of financial management. The director of financial management shall report each authorization and renewal to the legislative fiscal committees.

(3) Any appointive officer or employee violating the provisions of this section shall be subject to summary removal.

(4) Nothing in this section permits the expenditure of moneys in excess of an applicable appropriation.

Sec. 9. Section 33, chapter 7, Laws of 1983 as last amended by section 85, chapter 57, Laws of 1985 and RCW 82.32.400 are each amended to read as follows:

The revenue accrual account is hereby created in the state treasury. At the close of each fiscal biennium, the state treasurer shall transfer the balance in the basic account of the state general fund, other than amounts reappropriated for the next fiscal biennium, to this account. Moneys in this account may only be spent after appropriation by statute for the purpose of decreasing the unfunded liability of a state retirement system (~~(or, during the 1983-1985 fiscal biennium, for the purpose of discharging obligations which the legislature determines are correctly chargeable to a prior biennium)~~). All earnings of investments of balances in the revenue accrual account shall be credited to the basic account of the general fund.

Sec. 10. Section 82.32.090, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 23, chapter 3, Laws of 1983 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 82.32.090 are each amended to read as follows:

If payment of any tax due is not received by the department of revenue by the due date, there shall be assessed a penalty of five percent of the amount of the tax; and if the tax is not received within thirty days after the due date, there shall be assessed a total penalty of ten percent of the amount of the tax; and if the tax is not received within sixty days after the due date, there shall be assessed a total penalty of twenty percent of the amount of the tax. No penalty so added shall be less than two dollars.

~~(If payment of any tax is received within the first ten days of the month next succeeding the month in which the tax is payable, the amount of such payment shall be credited to, and shall be treated for all purposes as having been collected during, the fiscal year which includes the month preceding the month in which such due date falls. Effective June 30, 1985, and thereafter if the payment of any tax is received during the first ten days in July, the amount of such payment shall be credited to, and shall be treated for all purposes as having been collected during, the preceding fiscal year:))~~

If a warrant be issued by the department of revenue for the collection of taxes, increases, and penalties, there shall be added thereto a penalty of five percent of the amount of the tax, but not less than five dollars.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the aggregate of penalties imposed under this chapter for failure to file a return, late payment of any tax, increase, or penalty, or issuance of a warrant shall not exceed twenty-five percent of the tax due, or seven dollars, whichever is greater.

Sec. 11. Section 1, chapter 138, Laws of 1984 as amended by section 2, chapter 112, Laws of 1986 and RCW 82.01.120 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The director shall employ an economic and revenue forecast supervisor to supervise the preparation of all economic and revenue forecasts. As used in this section and RCW 82.01.125 and 82.01.130, 'supervisor' means the economic and revenue forecast supervisor. Approval by an affirmative vote of at least five members of the economic and revenue forecast council is required for any decisions regarding employment of the supervisor. Employment of the supervisor shall terminate after each term of three years, unless the supervisor is reappointed by the director and approved by the economic and revenue forecast council for another three years. The supervisor shall employ staff sufficient to accomplish the purposes of this section.

(2) Four times each year the supervisor shall prepare, subject to the approval of the economic and revenue forecast council under RCW 82.01.130(2):

(a) An official state economic and revenue forecast;

(b) An unofficial state economic and revenue forecast based on optimistic economic and revenue projections; and

(c) An unofficial state economic and revenue forecast based on pessimistic economic and revenue projections.

(3) The supervisor shall submit forecasts prepared under this section, along with any unofficial forecasts provided under RCW 82.01.130(3), to the governor and the legislature on or before November 20th, February 20th in the even-numbered years, March 20th in the odd-numbered years, June 20th, and September 20th. All forecasts shall include both estimated receipts and estimated revenues in conformance with generally accepted accounting principles as provided by RCW 43.88.037.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Section 43.88.040, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 and RCW 43.88.040 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

2SSB 5654 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Ways & Means: Revising provisions relating to criminal sentencing. Reported by Committee on Ways & Means/Appropriations

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments by Committee on Ways & Means/Appropriations and without amendments by Committee on Judiciary:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*Sec. 1. Section 11, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 34, chapter 257, Laws of 1986 and RCW 9.94A.110 are each amended to read as follows:

Before imposing a sentence upon a defendant, the court shall conduct a sentencing hearing. The sentencing hearing shall be held within forty court days following conviction. Upon the motion of either party for good cause shown, or on its own motion, the court may extend the time period for conducting the sentencing hearing. The court shall order the department to complete a presentence report for the purpose of offender management before imposing a sentence upon a defendant who has been convicted of a felony sex offense. The department shall give priority to presentence investigations for sex offenders. The court shall consider the presentence reports, if any, including any victim impact statement and criminal history, and allow arguments from the prosecutor, the defense counsel, the offender, the victim, the survivor of the victim, or a representative of the victim or survivor, and an investigative law enforcement officer as to the sentence to be imposed. If the court is satisfied by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant has a criminal history, the court shall specify the convictions it has found to exist. All of this information shall be part of the record. Copies of all presentence reports presented to the sentencing court and all written findings of facts and conclusions of law as to sentencing entered by the court shall be sent to the department by the clerk of the court at the conclusion of the sentencing and shall accompany the offender if the offender is committed to the custody of the department. Court clerks shall provide, without charge, certified copies of documents relating to criminal convictions requested by prosecuting attorneys.

Sec. 2. Section 12, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 20, chapter 257, Laws of 1986 and by section 4, chapter 301, Laws of 1986 and RCW 9.94A.120 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2), (5), and (7) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than three years, and shall not be eligible for furlough, work release or other authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility during such minimum three year term except for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility. The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender refrain from committing new offenses. The sentence may also include up to two years of community supervision, which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions, may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(b) Undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;

(c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;

(d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer ~~((of))~~ prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;

(e) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer; or

(f) Pay a fine and/or accomplish some community service work.

(6) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or a fine. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(7) (a) When an offender is convicted of a sex offense other than a violation of RCW 9A.44.040 or RCW 9A.44.050 and has no prior convictions for a sex offense or any other felony sexual offenses in this or any other state, the sentencing court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine whether the defendant is amenable to treatment.

After receipt of the reports, the court shall then determine whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sexual offender sentencing alternative. If the court determines that both the offender and the community will benefit from use of this provision, the court shall then impose a sentence within the sentence range and, if this sentence is less than six years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and place the offender on community supervision for up to two years. As a condition of the suspended sentence, the court may impose other sentence conditions including up to six months of confinement, not to exceed the sentence range of confinement for that offense, crime-related prohibitions, and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(ii) Undergo available outpatient sex offender treatment for up to two years, or inpatient sex offender treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment;

(iii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer ~~((of))~~ prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;

(iv) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;

(v) Pay a fine, accomplish some community service work, or any combination thereof; or

(vi) Make recoupment to the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime.

If the offender violates these sentence conditions the court may revoke the suspension and order execution of the sentence. All confinement time served during the period of community supervision shall be credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

(b) When an offender ~~((is convicted of))~~ commits any felony sexual offense ~~((and is sentenced))~~ on or after July 1, 1987, and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, request the department of corrections to evaluate whether the offender is amenable to treatment and the department may place the offender in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department.

If the offender completes the treatment program before the expiration of his term of confinement, the department of corrections may request the court to convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and to place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer ~~((of))~~ prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- (iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of his community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of his community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

Nothing in (b) of this subsection shall confer eligibility for such programs for offenders convicted and sentenced for a sexual offense committed prior to July 1, 1987.

After June 30, 1993, (b) of this subsection shall cease to have effect.

~~((c)) Whenever a court sentences a person convicted of a sex offense committed after July 1, 1986, to a term of confinement of more than one year, including a sentence under (b) of this subsection, the court may also order, in addition to the other terms of the sentence, that the offender, upon release from confinement, serve up to two years of community supervision. The conditions of supervision shall be limited to:~~

- ~~(i) Crime-related provisions;~~
- ~~(ii) A requirement that the offender report to a community corrections officer at regular intervals; and~~
- ~~(iii) A requirement to remain within or without stated geographical boundaries.~~

~~The length and conditions of supervision shall be set by the court at the time of sentencing. However, within thirty days prior to release from confinement and throughout the period of supervision, the length and conditions of supervision may be modified by the sentencing court, upon motion of the department of corrections, the offender, or the prosecuting attorney. The period of supervision shall be tolled during any time the offender is in confinement for any reason. In no case may the period of supervision, in combination with the other terms of the offender's sentence, exceed the statutory maximum term for the offender's crime, as set forth in RCW 9A.20.021.~~

~~If the offender violates any condition of supervision, the sentencing court, after a hearing conducted in the same manner as provided for in RCW 9.94A.200, may order the offender to be confined for up to sixty days in the county jail at state expense from funds provided for this purpose to the department of corrections. Reimbursement rates for such purposes shall be established based on a formula determined by the office of financial management and reestablished each even-numbered year. An offender may be held in jail at state expense pending the hearing, and any time served while awaiting the hearing shall be credited against confinement imposed for a violation. Even after the period of supervision has expired, an offender may be confined for a violation occurring during the period of supervision. The court shall retain jurisdiction for the purpose of holding the violation hearing and imposing a sanction.~~

~~(8) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days. Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.~~

~~(9) If a sentence imposed includes a fine or restitution, the sentence shall specify a reasonable manner and time in which the fine or restitution shall be paid. In any sentence under this chapter the court may also require the offender to make such monetary payments, on such terms as it deems appropriate under the circumstances, as are necessary (a) to pay court costs, including reimbursement of the state for costs of extradition if return to this state by extradition was required, (b) to make recoupment of the cost of defense attorney's fees if counsel is provided at public expense, (c) to contribute to a county or interlocal drug fund, and (d) to make such other payments as provided by law. All monetary payments shall be ordered paid by no later than ten years after the date of ~~((the))~~ judgment ~~((of conviction))~~ and sentence. The offender's compliance with payment of monetary obligations shall be supervised by the department. The rate of payment shall be determined by the court or, in the absence of a rate determined by the court, the rate shall be set by the department.~~

An offender's default in the payment of restitution, fines, and other monetary obligations imposed under this chapter, or any installment thereof, may be collected by any means authorized by law for the enforcement of a judgment. Judgments for monetary obligations under this chapter are and may be made liens upon the property of the offender in the same manner and with like effect as judgments in civil actions.

(10) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(11) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, ~~((restitution or fines))~~ or court-imposed monetary obligations shall be under the supervision of the secretary of the department of corrections or such person as the secretary may designate and shall follow implicitly the instructions of the secretary ~~((including))~~ related to reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, ~~((and))~~ notifying the community corrections officer ~~((of))~~ prior to any change in the offender's address or employment.

(12) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(13) A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.400(1) and (2) governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and may be appealed by the defendant or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.210(2) through (6).

(14) The court shall order restitution whenever the offender is convicted of a felony that results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property, whether the offender is sentenced to confinement or placed under community supervision, unless extraordinary circumstances exist that make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment. The court shall set forth the extraordinary circumstances in the record if it does not order restitution.

Sec. 3. Section 15, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 8, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.150 are each amended to read as follows:

No person serving a sentence imposed pursuant to this chapter shall leave the confines of the correctional facility or be released prior to the expiration of the sentence except as follows:

(1) The terms of the sentence may be reduced by earned early release time in accordance with procedures developed and promulgated by the department. The earned early release time shall be for good behavior and good performance, as determined by the department. In no case shall the aggregate earned early release time exceed one-third of the sentence;

(2) An offender may leave a correctional facility pursuant to an authorized furlough or leave of absence. In addition, offenders may leave a correctional facility when in the custody of a corrections officer or officers;

(3) The governor, upon recommendation from the clemency and pardons board, may grant an extraordinary release for reasons of serious health problems, senility, advanced age, extraordinary meritorious acts, or other extraordinary circumstances;

(4) ~~((If the sentence of confinement is in excess of twelve months but not in excess of three years.))~~ No more than the final ~~((three))~~ six months of the sentence may be served in partial confinement designed to aid the qualified offender, as determined by the department of corrections, in finding work and reestablishing him or herself in the community ~~((if the sentence of confinement is in excess of three years, no more than the final six months of the sentence may be served in such partial confinement))~~;

(5) The governor may pardon any offender;

(6) The department of corrections may release an offender from confinement any time within ten days before a release date calculated under this section; and

(7) An offender may leave a correctional facility prior to completion of his sentence if the sentence has been reduced as provided in RCW 9.94A.160.

Sec. 4. Section 17, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 and RCW 9.94A.170 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A term of confinement ordered in a sentence pursuant to this chapter shall be tolled by any period of time during which the offender has absented him or herself from ((supervision)) confinement without the prior approval of the entity in whose custody the offender has been placed. A term of partial confinement shall be tolled during any period of time spent in total confinement pursuant to a new conviction or pursuant to sanctions for violation of sentence conditions on a separate felony conviction.

(2) A term of supervision ordered in a sentence pursuant to this chapter shall be tolled by any period of time during which the offender has absented him or herself from supervision without prior approval of the entity under whose supervision the offender has been placed.

(3) For confinement sentences, the date for the tolling of the sentence shall be established by the entity responsible for the confinement. For sentences involving supervision, the date for the tolling of the sentence shall be established by the court, based on reports from the entity responsible for the supervision.

Sec. 5. Section 11, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.195 are each amended to read as follows:

If an offender violates any condition or requirement of a sentence, a community corrections officer may arrest or cause the arrest of the offender without a warrant, pending a determination by the court. If there is reasonable cause to believe that an offender has violated a condition or requirement of the sentence, an offender may be required to submit to a search and seizure of the offender's person, residence, automobile, or other personal property. A community corrections officer may also arrest an offender for any crime committed in his or her presence. The facts and circumstances of the conduct of the offender shall be reported by the community corrections officer, with recommendations, to the court.

If the community corrections officer has reasonable cause to believe that an offender has committed a violent offense, an offense involving a deadly weapon, or any felony violation of the uniform controlled substances act, the community corrections officer may arrest and detain or cause the arrest and detention of the offender for up to five working days in order to investigate the facts and circumstances. The department shall compensate the local jurisdiction at the office of financial management's adjudicated rate, in accordance with RCW 70.48.440.

If a community corrections officer arrests or causes the arrest of an offender under this section, the offender shall be confined and detained in the county jail of the county in which the offender was taken into custody, and the sheriff of that county shall receive and keep in the county jail, where room is available, all prisoners delivered to the jail by the community corrections officer, and such offenders shall not be released from custody on bail or personal recognizance, except upon approval of the court, pursuant to a written order.

Sec. 6. Section 20, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 12, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.200 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If an offender violates any condition or requirement of a sentence, the court may modify its order of judgment and sentence and impose further punishment in accordance with this section.

(2) If an offender fails to comply with any of the requirements or conditions of a sentence the following provisions apply:

(a) The court, upon the motion of the state, or upon its own motion, shall require the offender to show cause why the offender should not be punished for the noncompliance. The court may issue a summons or a warrant of arrest for the offender's appearance;

(b) If the court finds that the violation has occurred, it may order the offender to be confined for a period not to exceed sixty days for each violation, and may (i) convert a term of partial confinement to total confinement, (ii) convert community service obligation to total or partial confinement, or (iii) convert monetary obligations, except restitution and the crime victim penalty assessment, to community service hours at the rate of the state minimum wage for each hour of community service. Any time served in confinement awaiting a hearing on non-compliance shall be credited against any confinement order by the court; and

(c) If the court finds that the violation was not willful, the court may modify its previous order regarding payment of fines or other monetary payments and regarding community service obligations.

(3) Nothing in this section prohibits the filing of escape charges if appropriate.

Sec. 7. Section 9, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 21, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.380 are each amended to read as follows:

For sentences of nonviolent offenders for one year or less, the court shall consider and give priority to available alternatives to total confinement and shall state its reasons if they are not used.

These alternatives include the following sentence conditions that the court may order as substitutes for total confinement: (1) One day of partial confinement or eight hours of community service may be substituted for one day of total confinement; (2) the community service conversion is limited to two hundred forty hours or thirty days. The conversion of total confinement to partial confinement may be applied to all sentences of one year or less, including those for violent offenses. Community service hours must be completed within the period of community supervision or a time period specified by the court, which shall not exceed twenty-four months, pursuant to a schedule determined by the department.

Sec. 8. Section 22, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.383 are each amended to read as follows:

On all sentences of confinement for one year or less the court may impose up to one year of community supervision. ~~((For confinement sentences, unless otherwise ordered by the court, the period of community supervision begins at the date of release from confinement. For non-confinement sentences, the period of community supervision begins at the date of entry of the judgment and sentence.))~~ An offender shall be on community supervision as of the date of sentencing. However, during the time for which the offender is in total or partial confinement pursuant to the sentence or a violation of a sentence, the period of community supervision shall toll.

Sec. 9. Section 11, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as last amended by section 28, chapter 257, Laws of 1986 and RCW 9.94A.400 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, whenever a person is to be sentenced for two or more current offenses, the sentence range for each current offense shall be determined by using all other current and prior convictions as if they were prior convictions for the purpose of the offender score: PROVIDED, That if the court enters a finding that some or all of the current offenses encompass the same criminal conduct then those current offenses shall be counted as one crime. Sentences imposed under this subsection shall be served concurrently. Consecutive sentences may only be imposed under the exceptional sentence provisions of RCW 9.94A.120 and 9.94A.390(2)(e) or any other provision of RCW 9.94A.390.

The sentence range for any offenses that are not serious violent offenses shall be determined according to (a) of this subsection. All sentences imposed under (b) of this subsection shall be served consecutively to each other and concurrently with sentences imposed under (a) of this subsection.

(2) Whenever a person while under sentence of felony commits another felony and is sentenced to another term of imprisonment, the latter term shall not begin until expiration of all prior terms.

(3) Subject to subsections (1) and (2) of this section, whenever a person is sentenced for a felony that was committed while the person was not under sentence of a felony, the sentence shall run concurrently with any felony sentence which has been imposed by any court in this or another state or by a federal court subsequent to the commission of the crime being sentenced unless the court pronouncing the current sentence expressly orders that they be served consecutively.

(4) Whenever any person granted probation under RCW 9.95.210 or 9.92.060, or both, has the probationary sentence revoked and a prison sentence imposed, that sentence shall run consecutively to any sentence imposed pursuant to this chapter, unless the court pronouncing the subsequent sentence expressly orders that they be served concurrently.

(5) However, in the case of consecutive sentences, all periods of total confinement shall be served before any partial confinement, community service, community supervision, or any other requirement or conditions of any of the sentences. If two or more sentences that run consecutively include periods of community supervision, the aggregate of the community supervision period shall not exceed twenty-four months.

In no event shall the price charged the various state departments, commissions, institutions, boards, and officers exceed those established by the Porte Publishing Company's Franklin Printing Catalogue for similar and comparable work. All bills for printing, ruling, binding, and other work done or for supplies furnished (~~by the state printing plant~~) shall be certified (~~and sworn to~~) by the public printer or private enterprise submitting such bills.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. H. Sommers yielded to question by Mr. Lux.

Mr. Lux: Representative Sommers, is it possible that if an agency or the Legislature didn't get its work prepared in a timely manner, then they could use the excuse not to use the state facilities, but to go to private printers if they weren't following good practice in getting their material ready in time?

Ms. Sommers: This amendment would allow any state agency to go directly outside and, although I do not believe it is the mover's intent, I believe that it would also eliminate any competitive process. We don't have a competitive process now when we go to the State Printer, and by making this change, without imposing a competitive process, I am afraid that that is what this amendment does. So it would open the door and I urge rejection of the amendment.

A division was called.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 70.105 RCW to read as follows:

Any person who purchases property who had no reason to know of the existence of the hazardous waste on the property is not liable for the costs of cleaning up the hazardous wastes.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 90.48 RCW to read as follows:

Any person who purchases property who had no reason to know of the existence of the hazardous costs on the property is not liable for the costs of cleaning up the hazardous wastes."

POINT OF ORDER

Ms. Rust: Mr. Speaker, I wish that you would make a ruling on the scope and object of this amendment.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: The Speaker has examined the original Senate Bill No. 5072 and the proposed amendment. I find that Senate Bill No. 5072 is a bill that gives the Department of Ecology the authority to administer all the provisions of the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Statute. The amendment which is labelled 341 offered by Representative Day adds a new section that relieves from liability people who have purchased property and would have no idea of the liability. I find that the amendment offered is intended to expand not to perfect the bill. Your point is well taken and the amendment is outside the scope and object of the bill.

Mr. Todd moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Todd and Rust:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 43.21A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The legislature finds that there are a significant number of federal facilities operating within this state which may contribute to environmental contamination such that public health and the economy of this state could be adversely affected. The legislature further finds that state and federal environmental protection programs have not been consistently applied to or complied with by the federal government such that it is now necessary to undertake a special effort to identify those areas where environmental laws and standards should be applied and take actions to ensure that they are.

(2) The department shall use all available means consistent with federal law to apply and enforce state and federal environmental laws and standards as to all federal facilities operating within this state.

(3) The department shall prepare a written report and submit it to the standing committees on environment and energy of the legislature during January of each year which describes the major federal facilities operating within this state and whether they are in compliance with federal and state environmental laws.

(4) For the purposes of this section, 'environmental laws' means those laws deemed applicable by the department which shall include at least the National Environmental Policy Act (P.L. 91-190), the Clean Air Act (P.L. 91-604, 95-95), the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (P.L. 92-500, 95-217), the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (P.L. 94-580), the Toxic Substances Control Act (P.L. 94-469), the Safe Water Drinking Act (P.L. 93-523), the Comprehensive Environmental response, Compensation, and Liability Act (P.L. 96-510), and the concomitant state laws."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Lewis: Mr. Speaker, I'd like a ruling on whether or not this amendment violates House Rule 12(E).

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Lewis, again having examined the same bill, I find that the bill still deals with authorizing the Department of Ecology to enforce the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act. Amendment 327, while part of it clearly would be in the scope and object of this bill, also includes additional powers for the Department of Ecology to include the National Environmental Policy Act, the Clean Air Act and the Federal Water Pollution Control Act. Again, the amendment does not perfect the bill and goes beyond the original scope and object of the bill. I find your point to be well taken. The amendment is outside the scope and object of the bill.

On motion of Mr. Appelwick, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Rust and Allen spoke in favor of passage of the bill, and Ms. Walker spoke against it. Ms. Rust spoke again in favor of passage, and Ms. Walker again opposed it.

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 80.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) If a utility seeks to sell or market the name, address, telephone number, or zip code of any of its residential customers, the utility shall annually file a list containing those names, addresses, telephone numbers, and zip codes with the utility and transportation commission. The utility must then inform its customers that it intends to sell or market the information by prominently displaying a notice on the customer's bill. The notice must appear once per year, or at the time a ratepayer subscribes for service. The notice must also include a way in which the customer may contact the utility if the customer does not want the information marketed by the utility and wants the information removed from any marketed materials."

Renumber the sections consecutively.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Madsen: Mr. Speaker, I'd like to ask you to rule on the scope and object of the amendment.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Madsen, the Speaker has examined the bill and the amendment that you have asked me to rule on. The bill is "An Act Relating to distribution of information filed with the utilities and transportation commission...." The title of the act describes clearly, in this case, the intent of the bill; it limits what the Utilities and Transportation Commission can do with information given to them.

The amendment expands the original scope of the bill to limit utilities, not a governmental agency but utilities, in what they can do with that information. I therefore find the amendment is outside the scope and object of the bill; your point is well taken.

On motion of Mr. Appelwick, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Mr. Todd spoke against passage of the bill.

POINT OF ORDER

Ms. Brough: I have a question about the subject that is being addressed by the current speaker. I don't believe that it's the subject matter before us.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Mr. Todd, would you please restrict your comments to the bill before us?

Representatives Nelson and Barnes spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5679, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 96; nays, 2.

"Sec. 6, Section 4, chapter 77, Laws of 1963 as last amended by section 18, chapter 2, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. and RCW 18.27.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each applicant shall, at the time of applying for or renewing a certificate of registration, file with the department a surety bond issued by a surety insurer who meets the requirements of chapter 48.28 RCW in a form acceptable to the department running to the state of Washington if a general contractor, in the sum of six thousand dollars; if a specialty contractor, in the sum of four thousand dollars, conditioned that the applicant will pay all persons performing labor, including employee benefits, for the contractor, will pay all taxes and contributions due to the state of Washington, and will pay all persons furnishing labor or material or renting or supplying equipment to the contractor and will pay all amounts that may be adjudged against the contractor by reason of negligent or improper work or breach of contract in the conduct of the contracting business. A change in the name of a business or a change in the type of business entity shall not impair a bond for the purposes of this section so long as one of the original applicants for such bond maintains partial ownership in the business covered by the bond.

(2) Any contractor registered as of the effective date of this 1983 act who maintains such registration in accordance with this chapter shall be in compliance with this chapter until the next annual renewal of the contractor's certificate of registration. At that time, the contractor shall provide a bond, cash deposit, or other security deposit as required by this chapter and comply with all of the other provisions of this chapter before the department shall renew the contractor's certificate of registration.

(3) Any person, firm, or corporation having a claim against the contractor for any of the items referred to in this section may bring suit upon such bond in the superior court of the county in which the work is done or of any county in which jurisdiction of the contractor may be had. The surety issuing the bond shall be named as a party to any suit upon the bond and shall be liable for court costs in the same manner as any other party to the suit. Action upon such bond or deposit shall be commenced by filing the complaint with the clerk of the appropriate superior court within one year from the date of expiration of the certificate of registration in force at the time the claimed labor was performed and benefits accrued, taxes and contributions owing the state of Washington became due, materials and equipment were furnished, or the claimed contract work was completed. Service of process in an action upon such bond shall be exclusively by service upon the department. Three copies of the complaint and a fee of ten dollars to cover the handling costs shall be served by registered or certified mail upon the department at the time suit is started and the department shall maintain a record, available for public inspection, of all suits so commenced. Service is not complete until the department receives the ten-dollar fee and three copies of the complaint. Such service shall constitute service on the registrant and the surety for suit upon the bond and the department shall transmit the complaint or a copy thereof to the registrant at the address listed in his application and to the surety within forty-eight hours after it shall have been received.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3) of this section, the surety upon the bond shall not be liable in an aggregate amount in excess of the amount named in the bond nor for any monetary penalty assessed pursuant to this chapter for an infraction. The surety upon the bond may, upon notice to the department and the parties, tender to the clerk of the court having jurisdiction of the action an amount equal to the claims thereunder or the amount of the bond less the amount of judgments, if any, previously satisfied therefrom and to the extent of such tender the surety upon the bond shall be exonerated but if the actions commenced and pending at any one time exceed the amount of the bond then unimpaired, claims shall be satisfied from the bond in the following order:

(a) Labor, including employee benefits;

(b) Claims for breach of contract by a party to the construction contract;

(c) Material and equipment;

(d) Taxes and contributions due the state of Washington;

(e) Any court costs, interest, and attorney's fees plaintiff may be entitled to recover.

(5) In the event that any final judgment shall impair the liability of the surety upon the bond so furnished that there shall not be in effect a bond undertaking in the full amount prescribed in this section, the department shall suspend the registration of such contractor until the bond liability in the required amount unimpaired by unsatisfied judgment claims shall have been furnished. If such bond becomes fully impaired, a new bond must be furnished at the increased rates prescribed by this section as now or hereafter amended.

(6) In lieu of the surety bond required by this section the contractor may file with the department a deposit consisting of cash or other security acceptable to the department.

(7) Any person having an unsatisfied final judgment against the registrant for any items referred to in this section may execute upon the security held by the department by serving a certified copy of the unsatisfied final judgment by registered or certified mail upon the department within one year of the date of entry of such judgment. Upon the receipt of service of such certified copy the department shall pay or order paid from the deposit, through the registry of the superior court which rendered judgment, towards the amount of the unsatisfied judgment. The priority of payment by the department shall be the order of receipt by the department, but the department shall have no liability for payment in excess of the amount of the deposit.

(1) Congress has permitted the states to authorize what would otherwise be exempt military pensions to be considered as part of community property settlements. Community property settlements, judgments, or decrees that became final on or after June 25, 1981, and before February 1, 1983, shall, upon the filing of a petition for modification of decree of dissolution to reconsider division of military retirement pay, be reconsidered by the court and may be modified to include a division of military retirement compensation payable on or after February 1, 1983, in a manner consistent with federal law and the law of this state as it existed before June 26, 1981, and as it has existed since February 1, 1983.

(2) Modification of community property settlements, judgments, or decrees under this section may be granted whether the property settlement, judgment, or decree expressly reserved the military retirement pay issue for further determination, omitted any reference to military retirement pay, or assumed in any manner, implicitly or otherwise, that military retirement pay, divisible as community property before June 25, 1981, and on or after February 1, 1983, was not, as of the date the property settlement, judgment, or decree became final, divisible community property. For purposes of a modification of a community property settlement, judgment, or decree under this subsection, military retirement pay may be included in the community property division.

(3) Any proceeding brought pursuant to this section shall be brought before July 1, 1988.*

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Padden: I'd like a ruling on scope and object, Mr. Speaker.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Padden, the Speaker has examined Senate Bill No. 5080. Senate Bill No. 5080 deals with the subject of exempting pensions from the private sector from the claims of creditors. The amendment deals with the subject of a window period for decreeing military pensions to be part of the community property. I find your point to be well taken. The amendment is not within the scope and object of the original bill.

With the consent of the House, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Haugen yielded to question by Ms. Miller.

Ms. Miller: Would you explain to us in a little more detail what exactly this amendment will do?

Ms. Haugen: This grants the authority of boards to unilaterally review water and sewer extensions exceeding these capacities. This is a compromise amendment which maintains the authority of the boards to initiate the review of utility expansions that could have a significant impact on a given area. This pipe is very big; I understand that it is like a major sewer line that would go out.

The legislature further finds that state and federal environmental protection programs have not been consistently applied to or complied with by the federal government such that it is now necessary to undertake a special effort to identify those areas where environmental laws and standards should be applied and take actions to ensure that they are.

(2) The department shall use all available means consistent with federal law to apply and enforce state and federal environmental laws and standards related to hazardous wastes as to all federal facilities operating within this state.

(3) The department shall prepare a written report and submit it to the standing committees on environment and energy of the legislature during January of each year which describes the major federal facilities operating within this state and whether they are in compliance with federal and state environmental laws."

POINT OF ORDER

Ms. Allen: I would like to ask the Speaker to rule on the scope and object of this amendment.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Allen, the Speaker has examined Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5071 and the amendment offered by Representative Todd. The title of the bill is an act relating to dangerous wastes; by definition that can include hazardous waste. Section 2 provides that the Department of Ecology may regulate all hazardous wastes, including those composed of both radioactive and hazardous components that have since not been preempted by federal law. The amendment clarifies and directs the Department to enforce state and federal environmental laws related to hazardous wastes on federal reservations. I find that your point is not well taken and that the amendment is within the scope and object of the original bill.

Mr. Todd spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the committee amendment.

'Nonliquor products' shall also include all fruit juices, vegetable juices, and other beverages except bottled water, spirituous, malt or vinous liquors or carbonated beverages, whether liquid or frozen.'

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Vekich: Mr. Speaker, I believe the amendment is beyond the scope and object of the bill.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Vekich, the Speaker has examined Substitute Senate Bill No. 5212 and the amendment on which you've asked me to rule on scope and object. The original bill allows the liquor control board to issue a temporary retail or wholesale license to a transferee to continue the operation of the premises during the period a transfer application is pending -- a fairly narrow intent of this bill, a fairly narrow problem we're trying to fix. The amendment expands the license activities of those licensees to include food and nonfood business. The Speaker finds that your point is well taken, that the amendment is outside the scope and object of the original bill.

The Clerk read the following amendment by Representatives Schoon and Vekich:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 66.28 RCW to read as follows:

Notwithstanding RCW 66.28.010, persons licensed as wine wholesalers under RCW 66.24-.200 and persons licensed as beer wholesalers under RCW 66.24.250 may sell at wholesale nonliquor food products on thirty-day credit terms to persons licensed as retailers under this title, but complete and separate accounting records shall be maintained on all sales of nonliquor food products to ensure that such persons are in compliance with RCW 66.28.0293.

For the purposes of this section, 'nonliquor food products' shall include bottled water, carbonated beverages and all other food products for human consumption as defined in RCW 82.08.0293.

Sec. 3. Section 1, chapter 182, Laws of 1986 and RCW 82.08.0293 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The tax levied by RCW 82.08.020 shall not apply to sales of food products for human consumption.

'Food products' include cereals and cereal products, oleomargarine, meat and meat products including livestock sold for personal consumption, fish and fish products, eggs and egg products, vegetables and vegetable products, fruit and fruit products, spices and salt, sugar and sugar products, coffee and coffee substitutes, tea, cocoa and cocoa products.

'Food products' include milk and milk products, milk shakes, malted milks, and any other similar type beverages which are composed at least in part of milk or a milk product and which require the use of milk or a milk product in their preparation.

'Food products' include all fruit juices, vegetable juices, and other beverages except bottled water, spirituous, malt or vinous liquors or carbonated beverages, whether liquid or frozen. For the purposes of section 13 of this 1987 act, 'food products' includes bottled water and carbonated beverages.

'Food products' do not include medicines and preparations in liquid, powdered, granular, tablet, capsule, lozenge, and pill form sold as dietary supplements or adjuncts. The exemption of 'food products' provided for in this subsection shall not apply: (a) When the food products are furnished, prepared, or served for consumption at tables, chairs, or counters or from trays, glasses, dishes, or other tableware whether provided by the retailer or by a person with whom the retailer contracts to furnish, prepare, or serve food products to others, except for food products furnished as meals (i) under a state administered nutrition program for the aged as provided for in the Older Americans Act (P.L. 95-478 Title III) and RCW 74.38.040(6) or (ii) which are provided to senior citizens, disabled persons, or low-income persons by a not-for-profit organization organized under chapter 24.03 or 24.12 RCW, or (b) when the food products are ordinarily sold for immediate consumption on or near a location at which parking facilities are provided primarily for the use of patrons in consuming the products purchased at the location, even though such products are sold on a 'takeout' or 'to go' order and are actually packaged or wrapped and taken from the premises of the retailer, or (c) when the food products are sold for consumption within a place, the entrance to which is subject to an admission charge, except for national and state parks and monuments.

(2) Subsection (1) of this section notwithstanding, the retail sale of food products is subject to sales tax under RCW 82.08.020 if the food products are sold through a vending machine, and in this case the selling price for purposes of RCW 82.08.020 is fifty-seven percent of the gross receipts. This subsection does not apply to hot prepared food products, other than food products which are heated after they have been dispensed from the vending machine.

For tax collected under this subsection, the requirements that the tax be collected from the buyer and that the amount of tax be stated as a separate item are waived."

On motion of Mr. Schoon, the amendment was withdrawn.

POINT OF ORDER

Ms. Niemi: Mr. Speaker, I request a ruling on scope and object.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: The Speaker has examined Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5401. The bill does several things, but I have turned straight to Section 13 in which certain medical procedures cannot be authorized under a power of attorney, including therapy and other procedures given for the purposes of inducing convulsions, surgeries solely for the purposes of psychosurgery and sterilization. This amendment simply adds the question of abortion to that list of procedures which cannot be authorized by the power of attorney. Representative Niemi, I find that your point is not well taken and that this is within the scope and object of this bill and, in particular, this section of the bill.

Mr. Padden moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

Strike everything after line 4 of the amendment and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 2, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that adult persons have the fundamental right to control the decisions relating to the rendering of their own ((medical)) health care, including the decision to have life-sustaining procedures withheld or withdrawn in instances of a terminal condition.

The legislature further finds that modern medical technology has made possible the artificial prolongation of human life beyond natural limits.

The legislature further finds that, in the interest of protecting individual autonomy, such prolongation of life for persons with a terminal condition may cause loss of patient dignity, and unnecessary pain and suffering, while providing nothing medically necessary or beneficial to the patient.

The legislature further finds that there exists considerable uncertainty in the medical and legal professions as to the legality of terminating the use or application of life-sustaining procedures where the patient has voluntarily and in sound mind evidenced a desire that such procedures be withheld or withdrawn.

In recognition of the dignity and privacy which patients have a right to expect, the legislature hereby declares that the laws of the state of Washington shall recognize the right of an adult person to make a written directive, commonly known as a living will, instructing such person's physician to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining procedures in the event of a terminal condition.

The legislature further recognizes that a person in a terminal condition may not have executed such a written directive and that therefore there is a need to establish a means of authorizing the withholding or withdrawing of life-sustaining procedures in the absence of a written directive.

The legislature further recognizes that in the absence of controversy, the court is normally not the proper forum in which to make decisions regarding life-sustaining procedures.

To avoid needless suffering and loss of dignity and to avoid treatment that is not desired by a person in a terminal condition, the legislature declares this chapter to be in the interest of the public health and welfare.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 70.122 RCW to read as follows:

This chapter shall not be construed as providing the exclusive means by which individuals, their legal representatives or next of kin as identified in section 5(2) of this act, may make decisions regarding their health treatment nor limiting the means provided by existing case law.

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.020 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions contained in this section shall apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Attending physician' means the physician selected by, or assigned to, the patient who has primary responsibility for the treatment and care of the patient.

(2) 'Directive' means a written document voluntarily executed by the declarer in accordance with the requirements of RCW 70.122.030.

(3) 'Health facility' means a hospital as defined in RCW ~~((70.36.020(7) or))~~ 70.41.020(2), a nursing home as defined in RCW ~~((70.36.020(8)))~~ 18.51.010, or a home health agency or hospice agency as defined in RCW 70.126.010.

(4) 'Life-sustaining procedure' means any medical or surgical procedure ~~((or intervention which utilizes))~~ that uses mechanical or other artificial means to sustain, restore, or ~~((supplant))~~ replace a vital function, which, when applied to a qualified patient, would serve only to artificially prolong ~~((the moment of death and where, in the judgment of the attending physician, death is imminent whether or not such procedures are utilized))~~ life. 'Life-sustaining procedure' shall not include the administration of medication or the performance of any medical or surgical procedure or the provision of nutrition and hydration for comfort care deemed necessary to alleviate pain.

(5) 'Physician' means a person licensed under chapters 18.71 or 18.57 RCW.

(6) 'Qualified patient' means a patient diagnosed and certified in writing to be afflicted with a terminal condition by two physicians one of whom shall be the attending physician, who have personally examined the patient. If no family member is involved, three physicians shall diagnose and certify in writing that the patient is afflicted with a terminal condition.

(7) 'Terminal condition' means ~~((an incurable))~~ a condition caused by injury, disease, or illness, ((which, regardless of the application of life-sustaining procedures, would) that, within reasonable medical judgment, ((produce)) is incurable and will cause death, and where the application of life-sustaining procedures serve only to postpone the moment of death ((of the patient)).

(8) 'Adult person' means a person ~~((attaining))~~ who has attained the age of majority as defined in RCW 26.28.010 and 26.28.015.

Sec. 4. Section 4, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any adult person may execute a directive directing the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures in a terminal condition. The directive shall be signed by the declarer in the presence of two witnesses not related to the declarer by blood or marriage and who would not be entitled to any portion of the estate of the declarer upon declarer's decease under any will of the declarer or codicil thereto then existing or, at the time of the directive, by operation of law then existing. In addition, a witness to a directive shall not be the attending physician, an employee of the attending physician or a health facility in which the declarer is a patient, or any person who has a claim against any portion of the estate of the declarer upon declarer's decease at the time of the execution of the directive. The directive, or a copy thereof, shall be made part of the patient's medical records retained by the attending physician, a copy of which shall be forwarded to the health facility upon ~~((the withdrawal of life-~~ sustaining procedures)) admission. If a person has been diagnosed as pregnant and that diagnosis is known to the attending physician, then the directive shall have no force and effect during the course of the pregnancy. The directive ((shall)) may be essentially in the following form, but in addition may include other specific directions:

(a) If at any time I should have an incurable injury, disease, or illness certified to be a terminal condition by two physicians, and where the application of life-sustaining procedures would serve only to artificially prolong ~~((the moment of my death and where my physician determines that my death is imminent whether or not life-sustaining procedures are utilized))~~ my life, or I am in a terminal condition in which I have been certified by two physicians as having no reasonable probability of recovery from a comatose or persistent vegetative state, I direct that such procedures be withheld or withdrawn, and that I be permitted to die naturally.

(b) In the absence of my ability to give directions regarding the use of such life-sustaining procedures, it is my intention that this directive shall be honored by my family and physician(s) as the final expression of my legal right to refuse medical or surgical ~~((treatment))~~ procedures and I accept the consequences ~~((from))~~ of such refusal.

(c) If I have been diagnosed as pregnant and that diagnosis is known to my physician, this directive shall have no force or effect during the course of my pregnancy.

(d) I understand the full import of this directive and I am emotionally and mentally competent to make this directive.

(2) Prior to effectuating a directive the diagnosis of a terminal condition, including a detailed description of the diagnostic criteria used, by two physicians shall be ~~((verified))~~ entered in writing, attached to the directive, and made a permanent part of the patient's medical records.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 70.122 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Life-sustaining procedures as defined in RCW 70.122.020 that would otherwise be applied to a qualified patient may be withheld or withdrawn according to subsections (2), (3), and (4) of this section if:

(a) The qualified patient is incapable of expressing his or her wishes as to the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures;

(b) It is determined by the attending physician that the qualified patient has a terminal condition as defined in RCW 70.122.020(7); and

(c) There is certification in writing of such qualified patient's terminal condition by at least one additional physician with relevant qualifications, consulting specifically to assess the terminal condition after having personally examined the patient.

(2) If a qualified patient's condition has been determined to meet the conditions set forth in subsection (1) of this section and no directive has been executed according to RCW 70.122.030, life-sustaining procedures may be withheld or withdrawn upon the direction and under the supervision of the attending physician after the physician has obtained authorization from a member of one of the following classes of persons in the following order of priority:

(a) The appointed guardian of the qualified patient, if any;

(b) The individual, if any, to whom the qualified patient has given a durable power of attorney that encompasses the authority to make health care decisions pursuant to section 13 of this act;

(c) The qualified patient's spouse;

(d) Children of the qualified patient who are at least eighteen years of age;

(e) Parents of the qualified patient;

(f) Adult brother(s) and sister(s) of the qualified patient;

(g) Adult niece(s) and nephew(s) of the qualified patient.

If the physician seeking authority to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining procedures from a qualified patient makes reasonable efforts to locate and secure authorization from a competent person in the first or succeeding class and finds no such person available, authorization may be given by any person in the next class in the order of descending priority. However, no person under this section shall have the power to authorize the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures from a qualified patient, (i) if a person of higher priority under this section has refused to give such authorization, or (ii) if there are two or more individuals in the same class and the decision is not unanimous among all available members of that class.

(3) Before any person described in subsection (2) of this section authorizes the physician to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining procedures from a qualified patient, he or she must first determine in good faith that the qualified patient, if competent, would choose to forego life-sustaining procedures. If such a determination cannot be made, the decision to authorize the physician to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining procedures may be made only after determining that foregoing life-sustaining procedures are in the qualified patient's best interests.

(4) If none of the persons described in subsection (2) of this section are available, then life-sustaining procedures may be withheld or withdrawn from a qualified patient upon the direction and under the supervision of the attending physician only after the attending physician determines in good faith that the conditions set forth in subsections (1) and (3) of this section have been met.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. If any terminally ill hospitalized patient indicates by words, actions or in writing that he or she wishes to die at home in dignity with his or her family and the family concurs, the hospital must discharge him or her immediately. The hospital and physician shall not be liable for claims arising from such discharge.

Sec. 7. Section 6, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.050 are each amended to read as follows:

No family member or physician or health facility (~~((which))~~) that, acting in good faith in accordance with the requirements of this chapter, (~~((causes the withholding or withdrawal of))~~) and having documentation by two physicians of a terminal condition or three physicians where no family members are involved, withholds or withdraws life-sustaining procedures from a qualified patient, shall be subject to civil liability (~~((therefrom))~~) unless otherwise negligent. No (~~((icensed))~~) health personnel, acting under the direction of a physician, who participates in good faith in the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall be subject to any civil liability unless otherwise negligent. No physician, or health facility or its agents, or (~~((icensed))~~) health personnel acting under the direction of a physician, who participates in good faith in the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall be guilty of any criminal act or of unprofessional conduct. No family member who acts in good faith in accordance with the requirements of this chapter and participates in a decision to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining procedures from a qualified patient shall be subject to criminal or civil liability.

Sec. 8. Section 7, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Prior to (~~((effectuating a))~~) the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures from a qualified patient pursuant to the directive, the attending physician shall make a reasonable effort to determine that the directive complies with RCW 70.122.030 and, if the patient is mentally competent, that the directive and all steps proposed by the attending physician to be undertaken are currently in accord with the desires of the qualified patient.

(2) The directive shall be conclusively presumed, unless revoked, to be the directions of the patient regarding the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures. No physician, and no (~~((icensed))~~) health personnel acting in good faith under the direction of a physician, shall be criminally or civilly liable for failing to effectuate the directive of the qualified patient pursuant to this subsection. (~~((if the physician refuses to effectuate the directive, such physician shall make a good faith effort to transfer the qualified patient to another physician who will effectuate the directive of the qualified patient.))~~) Any person or health facility that chooses not to comply with the directive shall immediately take all reasonable steps to transfer care of the qualified patient to another physician, health care provider, or health facility. Any person whose conscience does not allow them to participate in the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures shall be unconditionally protected for nonnegligent acts against any disciplinary action including, but not limited to, licensing, hiring, promotion, health facility privileges, and transfers.

Sec. 9. Section 10, chapter 112, Laws of 1979 and RCW 70.122.080 are each amended to read as follows:

The act of withholding or withdrawing life-sustaining procedures from a qualified patient, when done pursuant to a directive described in RCW 70.122.030 ((and which causes the death of the declarer)) or the procedures authorized in this chapter, shall not be construed to be an intervening force or to affect the chain of proximate cause between the conduct of (~~((any person))~~) anyone that placed the declarer in a terminal condition and the death of the declarer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 70.122 RCW to read as follows:

This chapter shall not be construed as requiring a physician, registered nurse, or licensed practical nurse, or a physician's trained mobile technician or paramedic certified pursuant to RCW 18.71.205, or an emergency medical technician certified pursuant to RCW 18.73.110 to provide futile treatment. A physician licensed under chapter 18.71 RCW, an osteopathic physician licensed under chapter 18.57 RCW, or a registered nurse licensed under chapter 18.88 RCW may make the determination and pronouncement of death.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 11.94 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A principal may empower his or her attorney-in-fact to make health care decisions on the principal's behalf, without limiting the powers otherwise granted by this durable power of attorney, by inclusion of the following words, or of other language showing a similar intent: 'This durable power of attorney includes but is not limited to authorization: (a) To consent to medical and surgical care and nontreatment; (b) to consent to the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures; (c) to consent to the admission to a medical, nursing, residential, or a similar facility; and (d) to enter into agreements for my care.' The principal's physicians, the employees of such physicians, or the owners, administrators, or employees of the health facility in which the principal resides, may not act as attorneys-in-fact for the principal unless related to the principal by marriage or family ties.

(2) The authorization in subsection (1) of this section to consent to the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures may be exercised only following the unanimous concurrence of the principal's attending physician and at least one other physician, after having personally examined the principal, that the principal has a terminal condition as defined in RCW 70.122.020(7).

(3) The authorization given the attorney-in-fact under this section shall not include the following:

- (a) Therapy or other procedure given for the purpose of inducing convulsion;
- (b) Surgery solely for the purpose of psychosurgery;
- (c) Commitment to or placement in a mental health treatment facility, except pursuant to the provisions of chapter 71.05 RCW;
- (d) Sterilization; and
- (e) Abortion.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 11.94 RCW to read as follows:

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to condone, authorize, or approve mercy killing, or to permit any affirmative or deliberate act or omission to end life other than the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures pursuant to a durable power of attorney for health care so as to permit the natural process of dying.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 11.94 RCW to read as follows:

The durable power of attorney provided for under this chapter shall continue in effect until revoked or terminated by the principal, by a court-appointed guardian, or by court order.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 11.94 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A durable power of attorney executed pursuant to chapter 11.94 RCW before the effective date of this section that specifically authorizes an attorney-in-fact to make decisions relating to the health care of the principal shall be deemed valid, except for the exemptions provided for in section 11(3) of this act.

(2) Nothing in this chapter affects the validity of a decision made under a durable power of attorney executed pursuant to chapter 11.94 RCW before the effective date of this section.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

April 8, 1987

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has adopted:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4415,

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER (MR. O'BRIEN PRESIDING)

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) announced he was signing:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4415.

Representative Hargrove appeared at the bar of the House.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) declared the House to be at ease.

The House was called to order at 9:30 a.m. by the Speaker.

Representatives Day, Meyers, Todd and Wineberry appeared at the bar of the House.

JOINT SESSION

The Sergeants at Arms of the Senate and the House announced the arrival of the Senate at the bar of the House.

The Speaker instructed the Sergeants at Arms to escort the President of the Senate, John A. Cherberg to the rostrum.

The Speaker instructed the Sergeants at Arms to escort the Senators to seats on the floor of the House.

The Speaker: It is a pleasure for me to give you the gavel to preside over this joint session, Governor Cherberg. In doing so, I wish to remind all of those present today that the purpose for this occasion originated in the House of Representatives. We are proud that one of our members, Representative John L. O'Brien, originated the idea for the Washington State Medal of Merit and was prime sponsor of the bill establishing this recognition. For that reason all of us in the House feel that it is particularly appropriate that we should be hosts for this initial presentation ceremony. We welcome you, Governor Cherberg, our colleagues from the Senate, state elected officials, members of the Supreme Court, medal recipients and all other guests who are with us today.

The Speaker presented the gavel to President Cherberg.

President Cherberg: The purpose of the Joint Session is to present the first-ever Washington State Medal of Merit to the four most deserving Washington State citizens who have been distinguished by exceptionally meritorious conduct in performing outstanding services to the people and State of Washington.

The President of the Senate appointed Representatives Doty and Wineberry and Senators Wojahn and Newhouse to escort Governor Booth Gardner from the State Reception Room to a seat on the rostrum.

The President of the Senate appointed Representatives Wang and Nealey and Senators Hayner and Warnke to escort Justice James Dolliver from the State Reception Room to a seat on the rostrum.

The President of the Senate introduced Governor Booth Gardner.

Governor Gardner: It is my pleasure to present the Merit Award today to Orville A. Vogel. For almost fifty years Mr. Vogel has been Washington's leading agricultural commodity expert and our leading agricultural commodity has been soft white wheat. For fifty years it has set economic stability in many regions of the state and, in more personal terms, a stable livelihood for countless Washington farmers. One person--one person did more to develop this crop and was a major contributor to our economy than any other single individual--Dr. Orville Vogel. Professor, wheat breeder, research scientist, equipment inventor, through countless scientific and humanitarian endeavors, he has had a huge impact on the quality of life in our state and around the world. Among his many successful projects, he led the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Washington State University research teams to develop the first commercially successful semi-dwarf wheat variety in Washington State and in North America. This breakthrough has boosted Pacific Northwest wheat yield by twenty-five percent, breaking all world wheat yields. His pioneering work made a major contribution to the Green Revolution for which Dr. Norman Borlaug received the Nobel Peace Prize in 1970.

In this case, Dr. Vogel's contributions went beyond wheat breeding. He is also a noted inventor. His special research plot planters and harvesters have automated the cultural practices of plant breeding. His work continues even in retirement. In 1980, Dr. Vogel launched the Orville A. Vogel Wheat Research Fund and has helped to raise more than $500,000 for research to expand crop yields. It has not gone without notice.

In 1977 he received the National Medal of Science from President Ford and in 1977 he received from his alma mater, Washington State University, the Distinguished Alumnus Award. It is appropriate today to honor this man with our state's highest award. Dr. Vogel has done so much for the State of Washington and so much to feed the world that anything that we can give him is, indeed, very small thanks for a job well done. May we have a round of applause for Dr. Vogel.

Governor Gardner presented the Medal of Merit to Dr. Orville A. Vogel.

Dr. Vogel: Mr. Governor, members of the legislature, honored guests, ladies and gentlemen: It is indeed a humbling experience to be a representative of a team effort of the United States Department of Agriculture and Washington State University to grow and develop wheat that is more nearly produced to take the applicability of a climate and soil. This honor has been the result of something we discovered and were cognizant of thirty years ago as a result of twenty-five years of experience and work before this time. This would not have been possible if it had not been for this body, the State Legislature, that provided WSU with the constant upgrading of facilities, technical expertise and a willingness to let us, the team members, experiment through trial and error to come up with the kind of wheat that now represents in practical production nearly as high as our climate and soil will permit.

So much for the past; my concern is for the future. With the reduction of federal support for wheat variety development, it is imperative that Washington, through its representatives, through its growers, through its research staff, through its administration, see to it that there is an ever-continuing research supporting the new development of new varieties to meet the monstrosly increased numbers of hazards. These are soil micro biological; they are weather hazards and above all, EPA or people hazards. A wheat grower now, as compared to one fifty years ago, has so many restrictions and so many hazards and such a low price that if this state is going to be profitably producing wheat, it will be the result of new research or technically oriented research in the future and because I believe so firmly in that, my wife and I, as has been pointed out, started an endowment. The endowment presently has a market value of $615,000. It has deferred gifts such as trusts and bonds worth several million more, so maybe twenty years from now the Vogel Wheat Research Fund will be producing $100,000 or more annually for research. This sounds big, but actually, it is a drop in the bucket compared to the kind of research and teaching that is necessary to maintain our level and our leadership in the development of agricultural products. Wheat is only one. Thank you.

The President of the Senate introduced Joseph E. King, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Speaker: It is with a great deal of honor that I would like to introduce to you today a native of Washington--Wapato, Washington--Dr. Lester Sauvage, who has so much improved the quality of life in the State of Washington. In 1961, Dr. Sauvage pioneered successfully the coronary bypass surgery, now the most frequently performed heart surgery in the world. A graduate of St. Louis University School of Medicine, Dr. Sauvage entered private practice in Seattle in 1959. He founded the Bob Hope International Heart Research Institute in '61 and has served as the director since that time. Through his work at the Institute, Dr. Sauvage has been instrumental in sharing his micro biological procedure and research with surgeons throughout the world. To date, surgeons from fourteen countries have completed scholarships at the Institute. Dr. Sauvage and the Institute have been credited with advancing cardio-vascular surgery and patient care, advancing the development of artificial heart valves and developing an improved line of artificial arteries. I think we might have a legislator or Senator in the back row that has benefited from some of Dr. Sauvage's techniques. While his interest in surgical research has been a strong motivating force in his life, Dr. Sauvage is also an active well-known cardio-vascular surgeon. His surgical caseload numbers almost 300 people a year.

As is often the case with people with Type A personalities, Dr. Sauvage sharing and time commitments carry over to an extensive community involvement. He is a past Jefferson Award winner; has received awards from the National Conference of Christians and Jews, the Wright Foundation and the Seattle Rotary Club. It is with a great deal of privilege that we honor you today with the Washington Medal of Merit.

The Speaker presented the Medal of Merit to Dr. Sauvage.

Dr. Sauvage: Speaker King, Governor Gardner, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, Senators and Representatives, honored guests: I think I'm the only one here who wonders the reason why he is here. I know why the other people are here and to be in such company really astounds me. I wasn't going to question, however, because I relish the opportunity to be here. I mean, who wouldn't? I think it might be of some interest to you wonderful people out here for giving your time and effort to run this state, and most of you do it with relatively little thanks--you can ask the Governor--if it weren't for you folks, nothing would happen. The reason I am here is because of a lot of people. I get the credit for a lot of things that might pass as judge. As I look back over the years I can remember when we would have been out of business if it hadn't been for this gentleman who is right behind me here, Senator Magnuson. We couldn't get money for research. Senator Magnuson was the one who got money so that our work could continue.

It has gotten today, from the standpoint of The National Institution of Health, that it is very difficult to get money and we've gone more and more toward asking people as opposed to government, but in the early days, there is no question, I would have never been here with you today if it had not been for Senator Magnuson. I wish to publicly again thank you, Senator Magnuson.

Also, Dorothy Bullitt has been a strong supporter of our work. I would like to say for just a moment in terms of--people ask me, "Where does Mr. Hope enter into the work that you are connected with?" Mr. Hope is an amazing gentleman. All I can say is: What a man. He has taken a position of leadership with respect to our work and is putting his money behind it; he's putting his prestige behind it and this will become increasingly apparent in the next year. What are the objectives of the Hope Institute? There are two. They are very simple. To help, along with others. The University of Washington is a wonderful example of where marvelous work is going on--Russell Ross and others at the University of Washington.

We have our role to play, too. It's to add to that sum total of human knowledge that's going to help people avoid becoming patients. We're talking about a deadly epidemic. Half of us in this room are going to die of heart and blood vessel disease. That equals that due to all other causes of death put together. We're not talking about something that happens to somebody else out there, we're talking about something that will take half of us in this room. Strokes that kill, you know, late, but they cripple long before they call us in death. Heart attacks account for about a million deaths per year. Aneurysms, difficulty with extremities. We can make a difference. I do believe that by the year 2000, major advances can be made that are going to drop this terrible toll.

The second object of the Hope Heart Institute is to help add to that knowledge that is going to decrease the percentage of people who must have one operation, who have to have another--and another and another. It has become a way of life for a lot of people to have to pay that annual visit to the operating room. At least twenty percent of cardio-vascular surgery being done today is reoperative surgery and it's getting larger all the time. What's the future? The future is in education and if we're going to make a major difference in terms of the instance of people getting heart and blood vessel disease, it's going to have to start in childhood, in instructing children. Take smoking, for example. In our age group there aren't a whole lot of people who are smoking, but you go to the high schools and it's very, very high. The whole cigarette industry is focusing on the high school students. We need education, and I'm sure that with continued research that this battle is going to be won by the year 2000 in terms of heart and blood vessel disease. People think I'm a bit peculiar and they're right. I ask my patients: "What do you want to live longer for?" And I ask each of you that. Why do you want to live longer? I ask myself this and I think it's a pertinent question for all of us in our materialistic society to ask ourselves. I think this is part of the heart too. If we're talking about having people live longer instead of having them die with a nice heart attack when they are age 70, we need to start thinking. If we are going to remove these premature causes of death, either by removing heart disease and removing cancer and if you stop and think of it for a moment, if we got rid of all heart and blood vessel disease, people would live on an average ten years longer. That's all. If you got rid of all cancer, people would live on an average four years longer. You see? We are still going to come to that natural termination. It is high time that in most other things, we begin to think in terms of how we are going to speak to the inspirational aspects of life that enable people to look down that hallway toward the transition to eternity--I'm speaking from a philosophical standpoint that really embraces the five great religions of mankind because there is more that unites us than separates us--to help people as St. Francis of Assisi said, "Lord, help me to become an instrument of Thine ministry." I think that as we help people live longer, it is my firm conviction that we cannot help people find happiness with advancing years without a sense of generic spirituality. I think in our materialistic society that we need to give importance to that.

I, again, wish to thank you for having honored me in a way that is a high point of my life. Thank you.

The President of the Senate introduced Justice James Dolliver.

Justice Dolliver: There is a charming story told that in the 19th Century a visitor to London inquired about the great architect Wren and looked around and said, "Where are the monuments to Christopher Wren in your city?" And the person responded by looking at him and said, "If you would seek his monument, look around you." Indeed, if one would seek the monuments to Dorothy Bullitt, one would look around the history of the State of Washington nearly since its beginning, because she was born in the family home on Queen Anne Hill in the year 1892 and her career has nearly spanned the statehood of our state. If one looks at the cultural, to the business, to the civic history of the State of Washington, one must indeed see the monument to Dorothy Bullitt.

In 1932 she took over the family's business interests and in 1947 she, with some associates, founded the enterprise which is best known in our community as KING Broadcasting. Since that day, KING has purchased interests all over the state. She has a number of other business interests as well. From all this she has received a substantial number of honors. KING Broadcasting has received the George Foster Peabody Award for Youth and Children, the Thomas A. Edison Award for stations that best serve young people.

Outside of her business interests, she has been an extraordinarily active person in the community. For many years she served on the Board of Regents of the University of Washington and in 1983 she received the University of Washington Recognition Award. She has had a number of honorary degrees and awards from a variety of groups in our community. She was named Seattle's Woman of Achievement by the Seattle Business and Professional Women's Club. She was named Seattle's First Citizen by the Seattle Real Estate Board in 1959 and was named the Pioneer Woman Broadcaster by the state chapter of the American Women in Radio and TV.

Numerous charities which she has endowed throughout the state have made this state the kind of good state it is in which to live. I mention one in particular. Not too many years ago she endowed a Chair in History at the University of Washington, which has been held by such distinguished persons as Professor Commager and Professor Freidel. It is my pleasure today to introduce to you, to receive on behalf of her grandmother, this Award of Merit, her granddaughter and namesake, Dorothy Bullitt.

Dorothy Bullitt: I suspect you all thought I got a facelift. Thank you all. Thank you, Governor and Justice Dolliver. My grandmother regrets being unable to attend today--sort of, because she is relieved she doesn't have to do this sort of thing anymore. She asked me to thank you all and to let you know she appreciates the recognition that this award implies.

The last time I represented my grandmother at an award ceremony was in 1969 when she was awarded the Citizen of the Year Award by the Seattle Board of Realtors. I was four at the time and I crawled under the table. I promise I won't do that today. The four people who are being honored here today have each made a large and valuable contribution to the citizens of the state. Each have led a very different kind of life. My grandmother's life has spanned most of the state's history and her efforts on behalf of the citizens extend back to the early part of this century. An example of her civic contributions in the years before her interest in broadcasting, where most of you are familiar with her achievements, was in the 1930s when she served as the Chairman of the State Relief Commission. Senator Magnuson and I were talking about it beforehand, by coincidence. That commission was set up during the depression to provide federal funds to projects intended to provide work for the unemployed. The commission's responsibility was to determine which projects were appropriate to fund and which were not. In her capacity as Chairman of that commission she signed many documents, one of which authorized something called an Irrigation Project in eastern Washington. That turned out to be the Grand Coulee Dam.

We're not in a depression anymore and we don't need any more dams on the Columbia River, we all know that, but those issues have been replaced by new ones and the communities' needs are ongoing and they are never ending. My grandmother recognized that and she took responsibility seriously as a citizen to help address the communities' needs. By doing so she created a life that is worth emulating and I'm proud to be her granddaughter and I'm proud to share her name and I'm proud to accept this award on her behalf. Thank you.

President Cherberg: I am indeed honored and proud to have the privilege of introducing our good friend, "Maggie." Many of us individuals have served in the Legislature, some going on for laudable careers in public service, but Senator Warren G. Magnuson is truly in a class by himself. His forty-eight years of public service have yet to be equaled. His forty-four years in the Congress is a record only a half-dozen in the history of our nation have achieved. His twenty-five years service as Chairman of a major committee in the United States Senate has a record no other member has equaled. A number of laws and programs now in the United States Code with his name, his imprint, is another unequalled record. Behind all those records, there is even more. There is a quality of public service that may never be equaled: What he did to help protect the environment; what he did to help protect consumers in the marketplace; what he did to promote economic development; what he did to reopen trade and commerce with the People's Republic of China; what he did to bring water to over a million acres of arid land in eastern Washington; what he did to foster educational broadcasting; what he did to preserve television channels for public television; what he did to open college doors with student loans; what he did to help others find the cures to dread diseases; what he did to help others push out the frontiers of basic scientific discovery for what we know it today. That list could go on and on. There are two common threads, protecting the national heritage we all should enjoy while we preserve it for those to come, and compassion for those among us who may need a helping hand. People throughout the world live longer, live better because of the things that Senator Magnuson did during his years of public service. And billions of those people will never know of this champion from the State of Washington and what he did for them. We, in Washington State, have been especially blessed to have had Senator Magnuson serve as long and so well for us. Many of us are even more blessed to have known him as a friend, a true friend for all seasons. The one, the only, "Maggie."

Senator Magnuson: Governor Gardner, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen: Thank you, John, for that generous introduction. I sorely wish my mother and father were alive to witness this. My father would have enjoyed it; my mother wouldn't have believed it. It's so true. Dr. (Sauvage), I thank you for your kind remarks, too.

I am unaccustomed to speaking to legislators lately, but this award, of course, has several meanings for me. Fifty-four years ago I sat in this body in an outside seat in the second row. A lot of water has gone over the dam since then. It was the beginning of a long career for me, a career which spanned fifty years and all but two of those years have been as a legislator. I cherish those years and I'm glad for this honor here today. I deeply appreciate it.

In two years this state will celebrate its 100th Anniversary. Governor, I suspect you are making preparations for it now. It's inconceivable to me that I have served in public office one-half of those hundred years--fifty long years and all but two of them in a legislative body. I can understand and I know well the trials and tribulations that legislators go through. That was an historic session in '54 when I served down here. Times were bad all over. This state had a thirty-nine percent unemployment rate. That was just common. There were a lot of marches on Olympia, but they were hunger marches--people actually hungry, coming to the legislature for help. We met that challenge like you folks are meeting the challenge here today. We had a sixty-day session in those days and we tried to run a lot of legislation to work out the problems of the times. We stopped the clock and went on, but the Supreme Court, I guess, caught us at that and we can't do that anymore. It's great pride that I have for this body.

We established--Mrs. Bullitt was instrumental in this--the first WPA project in the whole United States, and we established an old-age pension system and that was the beginning of what is now Social Security. I had the advantage that I introduced the Old Age Pension bill, it's a hard thing to believe, but it's true. In those days there were county poor houses. How many remember county poor houses? The popular song of the day was, "Over the Hill to the Poor House." Well, we abolished the poor houses and made the start of Social Security. I remember Franklin D. Roosevelt once introducing me after I had gone to Congress. He said, "Here's the young man who started the WPA Projects in the United States." It wasn't quite true. And so we move along. I started a career from that second row seat in Washington that lasted half a century.

I think I can speak to you people as friends and colleagues. I sometimes wonder if you think like I thought on many occasions as a legislator, "Is it all worthwhile? Are there any rewards for being a legislator?" You're sort of lost in the shuffle sometimes. Well, there is a great reward. There's a great reward in the satisfaction that you are contributing to the welfare and the community, the state and the nation. You sometimes wonder what's happening now. We had to make some tough decisions in those days and you are asked to make them now. All legislators are important. We don't have hunger marches anymore, but you do have a lot of people who are hungry. You've had some unemployment marches; there are lot of people who are still unemployed. I know you have goals and aims. It's great to be an American as I look at this body. It's great to be a citizen of this country. It's greater to be a resident of the State of Washington and be so honored as I am today. God speed your endeavors, and I know that you have the satisfaction of knowing deep down that you are making a great contribution to the welfare of this state and this nation. I thank you for this award from the bottom of my heart. Thanks.

Revising provision relating to ferry employees' compensation.

The bill was read the second time. On motion of Mr. Appelwick, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Walk yielded to question by Ms. Schmidt.

Ms. Schmidt: In simple terms, does this language mean that ferry employees will pay for the excess cost of their benefit package out of salaries only once?

Mr. Walk: Yes. If through collective bargaining, ferry employees have given up available salary increases in the amount of the excess cost of their benefits, compared to benefits for other state employees, the foregone salary increase will continue to pay for that excess cost, with no further impact on salaries. If on the other hand, the excess cost of ferry employee benefits increases in the future, the increase in the differential will be deducted from future salary increases.

Ms. Schmidt: Will benefit levels and salary adjustments be calculated for individual employees or by a collective bargaining unit?

Mr. Walk: By collective bargaining unit. The benefit package and the impact on salary base will be consistent within each collective bargaining unit.

Ms. Schmidt: Doesn't this bill just clarify the legislative intent of current law to treat ferry employee compensation in a manner consistent with other state employees?

Mr. Walk: That is correct. This bill changes language in the current law which could be easily misinterpreted to require ferry employees to pay for the excess cost of their benefit packages out of salaries more than once.

HOUSE BILL NO. 527, by Representatives Locke, Silver, Grimm and Holland; by request of Governor Gardner

Adopting the 1987-89 omnibus appropriations act.

The bill was read the second time.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Ballard: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, this side of the aisle plans on offering a relatively limited number of amendments today. Some of them will be some small additions to the budget, and some will be small take-aways from the budget. However, we wanted to make the point that our objective is that our last amendment will address exactly what our purpose is. And that is, that we have a budget that is within existing revenues. And it is our purpose as we offer the amendatory process today to reach that goal. Thank you.

On motion of Mr. Grimm, Substitute House Bill No. 527 was substituted for House Bill No. 527 and the substitute bill was placed on the calendar for second reading.

Substitute House Bill No. 527 was read the second time.

*NEW SECTION, Sec. 111. FOR THE ADMINISTRATOR FOR THE COURTS

General Fund Appropriation $

The appropriation in this section is subject to the following conditions and limitations: The appropriation is provided solely for the administrator for the courts to contract for the performance of a two-year demonstration project to determine the effectiveness of alternative dispute resolution using the model center approach adopted by the legislature in chapter 7.75 RCW. The project shall be conducted in King and Snohomish counties by centers established under chapter 7.75 RCW as nonprofit corporations having broadly representative boards of directors and which are organized exclusively, as set forth in their articles of incorporation and bylaws, for the resolution of disputes and whose plans of operation have been approved pursuant to RCW 7.75.020 before the effective date of this section. The project shall be conducted in accordance with chapter 7.75 RCW. The focus of the project shall be to provide an alternative forum for the resolution of disputes for the purposes of reducing social tensions which lead to crime, promoting lasting settlements in which all parties to a dispute can be winners, settling disputes more quickly and less expensively than through the judicial process, and helping to reduce congestion in the court systems as contemplated in the court improvement act of 1984. Seventy-five thousand dollars of the appropriation shall be made available for a project in Snohomish county subject to commitments from Snohomish county and the city of Everett to each match the state appropriation. Seventy-five thousand dollars of the appropriation shall be made available for a project in King county subject to commitments from King county and the city of Seattle to each match the state appropriation. The state administrator for the courts shall submit a report to the judiciary committees of the senate and the house of representatives on the results of the project by December 1, 1989."

INCOME TAX

NEW SECTION. Sec. 501. DEFINITIONS. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Adjusted gross income' means adjusted gross income as determined under the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) 'Department' means the state department of revenue.

(3) 'Individual' means a natural person.

(4) 'Internal Revenue Code' means the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and amendments thereto, as existing on January 1, 1987.

(5) 'Person' includes individuals, partnerships, firms, companies, fiduciaries, estates, trusts, and any other group or combination acting as a unit, but does not include corporations.

(6) 'Resident' includes:

(a) An individual who is domiciled in this state unless the individual (i) maintains no permanent place of abode in this state, (ii) does maintain a permanent place of abode elsewhere, and (iii) spends in the aggregate not more than thirty days of the taxable year in this state; or who is not domiciled in this state but maintains a permanent place of abode in this state and spends in the aggregate more than one hundred eighty-three days of the taxable year in this state;

(b) The estate of a decedent who at the time of death was domiciled in this state;

(c) A trust created by a will of a decedent who at the time of death was domiciled in this state; and

(d) An irrevocable trust, the grantor of which was domiciled in this state at the time the trust became irrevocable. For purposes of this subsection (d), a trust is irrevocable to the extent that the grantor is not treated as the owner thereof under sections 671 through 679 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(7) 'S corporation' means an S corporation as defined in section 1361 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(8) 'Taxable income' means federal base income as modified under section 505 of this act.

(9) 'Taxable year' means the taxpayer's taxable year as defined under the Internal Revenue Code.

(10) 'Taxpayer' means a person receiving income subject to tax under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 502. TAX IMPOSED. A tax is imposed at the rate of one percent on all taxable income received by individuals, estates, and trusts, for each taxable year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 503. CREDIT FOR INCOME TAXES DUE ANOTHER JURISDICTION. (1) A resident individual, estate, or trust is allowed a credit against the tax imposed under this chapter for the amount of any income tax imposed by another state, foreign country, or political subdivision thereof on income taxed under this chapter, subject to the following conditions:

(a) The credit is allowed only for taxes imposed by the other jurisdiction on net income from sources within that jurisdiction.

(b) The amount of the credit shall not exceed the smaller of:

(i) The amount of tax paid to the other jurisdiction on net income from sources within the other jurisdiction; or

(ii) The amount of tax due under this chapter multiplied by a fraction. The numerator of the fraction is the portion of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income subject to tax in the other jurisdiction. The denominator of the fraction is the taxpayer's taxable income. The fraction shall never be greater than one.

(2) If, in lieu of a credit similar to the credit allowed under subsection (1) of this section, the laws of the taxpayer's place of residence contain a provision exempting a resident of this state from liability for the payment of income taxes on income earned for personal services performed in that place, then the director is authorized to enter into a reciprocal agreement with that place providing a similar tax exemption for its residents on income earned for personal services performed in this state.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 504. DUAL RESIDENCE. If an individual is regarded as a resident both of this state and another jurisdiction for personal income tax purposes, the department shall reduce the tax on that portion of the taxpayer's income which is subjected to tax in both jurisdictions solely by virtue of dual residence, if the other taxing jurisdiction allows a similar reduction. The reduction shall equal the lower of the two taxes applicable to the income taxed twice multiplied by a fraction. The numerator of the fraction is the tax imposed by this state on the income taxed twice. The denominator of the fraction is the tax imposed by both jurisdictions on the income taxed twice. The fraction shall never be greater than one.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 505. TAXABLE INCOME MODIFICATIONS. In computing taxable income, modifications shall be made to the taxpayer's adjusted gross income as required under this section, unless the modification has the effect of duplicating an item of income or deduction.

(1) To adjusted gross income, add income which has been excluded under section 103 of the Internal Revenue Code in computing adjusted gross income, except interest on obligations of the state of Washington or political subdivisions of the state of Washington. However, the amount added under this subsection shall be reduced by related expenses not deducted in computing adjusted gross income because of section 265 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) To adjusted gross income, add income which has been deducted under sections 404(a)(9) or 408 of the Internal Revenue Code in computing adjusted gross income.

(3) To adjusted gross income, add interest from federal obligations which is exempt from federal income taxation.

(4) From adjusted gross income, deduct, to the extent included in adjusted gross income, income derived from obligations of the United States which this state is prohibited by federal law from subjecting to a net income tax. However, the amount deducted under this section shall be reduced by any expense, including amortizable bond premium, incurred in the production of such income to the extent the expense has been deducted in calculating adjusted gross income.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 506. TAX RETURNS FOR FRACTIONAL YEAR. If the first taxable year of any taxpayer with respect to which a tax is imposed by this chapter ends before December 31st of the calendar year in which this chapter becomes effective (referred to in this section as a fractional taxable year), the taxable income for the fractional taxable year shall be the taxpayer's taxable income for the entire taxable year, adjusted by one of the following methods, at the taxpayer's election:

(1) The taxable income shall be multiplied by a fraction. The numerator of the fraction is the number of days in the fractional taxable year. The denominator of the fraction is the number of days in the entire taxable year.

(2) The taxable income shall be adjusted, in accordance with rules of the department, so as to include only such income and be reduced only by such deductions as can be clearly determined from the permanent records of the taxpayer to be attributable to the fractional taxable year.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 507. APPORTIONMENT AND ALLOCATION OF INCOME. (1) For resident individuals all income shall be apportioned and allocated to this state except income which is apportioned or allocated to another state under RCW 82.56.010.

(2) For nonresident individuals, all income shall be apportioned and allocated to this state if it is not apportioned or allocated to another state under RCW 82.56.010 and is received:

(a) For the rendition of personal services in this state;

(b) As a result of the ownership or disposition of any interest in real or tangible personal property located in this state; or

(c) As a distributive share of the net profits of any unincorporated or S corporation activities conducted in this state.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 508. PARTNERSHIPS AND S CORPORATIONS. (1) Partnerships are not subject to tax under this chapter. Partners are subject to tax in their separate or individual capacities.

(2) S corporations are not subject to tax under this chapter. Shareholders of S corporations are subject to tax in their separate or individual capacities.

(3) The taxable incomes of partners shall be computed by including a share of the modifications under section 505 of this act and the credit allowed under section 503 of this act, if the modification or credit relates to the income of the partnership. Each partner's share of a modification or credit is the amount of modification or credit multiplied by a fraction. The numerator of the fraction is the partner's distributive share of partnership income. The denominator of the fraction is the total partnership income. The fraction shall never be greater than one.

(4) The taxable incomes of shareholders shall be computed by including a share of the modifications under section 505 of this act and the credit allowed under section 503 of this act, if the modification or credit relates to the income of the S corporation. Each shareholder's share of a modification or credit is the amount of modification or credit multiplied by a fraction. The numerator of the fraction is the shareholder's pro rata share of S corporation income. The denominator of the fraction is the total S corporation income. The fraction shall never be greater than one.

(5) As used in this section:

(a) 'Shareholder' means a shareholder of an S corporation.

(b) 'S corporation income' includes both distributed and undistributed federal taxable income of the S corporation.

(c) 'Pro rata share' means pro rata share as determined under section 1366(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 509. ESTATES, TRUSTS, AND BENEFICIARIES. (1) The taxable incomes of estates, trusts, and beneficiaries thereof shall be computed by including a share of the modifications under section 505 of this act and the credit allowed under section 503 of this act, if the modification or credit relates to the income of the estate or trust. Each taxpayer's share of a modification or credit is the amount of modification or credit multiplied by a fraction. The numerator of the fraction is the taxpayer's share of the distributable net income of the estate or trust. The denominator of the fraction is the total distributable net income of the estate or trust. The fraction shall never be greater than one.

(2) As used in this section, 'distributable net income' means distributable net income as defined in the Internal Revenue Code. If the estate or trust has no federal distributable net income, the term means the income of the estate or trust which is distributed or is required to be distributed during the taxable year under local law or the terms of the estate or trust instrument.

(3) Any portion of a modification which is not included in calculating the taxable incomes of the beneficiaries shall be included in calculating the taxable income of the trust or estate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 510. EMPLOYER WITHHOLDING—REQUIREMENTS. (1) Every employer making a payment of wages or salaries earned in this state, regardless of the place where the payment is made, shall deduct and withhold a tax as prescribed in tables adopted by the department by rule. The tables shall reasonably reflect the annual tax liability of the employee under this chapter. Every employer making such a deduction and withholding shall furnish to the employee a record of the amount of tax deducted and withheld from the employee on forms provided by the department.

(2) If the employee is a resident of this state and earns income from personal services entirely performed in another state which imposes an income tax on the income, and the employer withholds income taxes under the laws of the state in which the income is earned, the employer is not required to withhold any tax imposed by this chapter on the income if the laws of the state in which the income is earned allow a similar exemption for its residents who earn income in this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 511. LIABILITY OF EMPLOYER FOR TAX WITHHELD. Any person required to deduct and withhold the tax imposed by this chapter is liable for the payment of the amount deducted and withheld to the department, and is not liable to any other person for the amount of tax deducted and withheld under this chapter. The amount of tax so deducted and withheld shall be held to be a special fund in trust for this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 512. WITHHOLDING BY GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY. If the employer is the United States, a foreign country, or this state or any political subdivision thereof, or an agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing, then the return of the amount deducted and withheld upon any wages or salaries may be made by any officer of the employer having control of the payment of the wages and salaries or appropriately designated for that purpose.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 513. CREDIT FOR TAX WITHHELD—HOW CLAIMED. The amount deducted and withheld as tax under sections 510 through 512 of this act during any taxable year shall be allowed as a credit against the tax imposed for the taxable year by this chapter. If the tax liability of any individual shown by the return is less than the total amount of the credit which the individual is entitled to claim under this section, the individual is entitled to a refund in the amount of the excess of the credit over the tax otherwise due. If any individual entitled to claim a credit under this section is not otherwise required by this chapter to file a return, a refund may be obtained in the amount of the credit by filing a return, with applicable sections completed, to claim the refund. No credit or refund is allowed under this section unless the credit or refund is claimed on a return filed for the taxable year for which the amount was deducted and withheld.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 514. METHOD OF ACCOUNTING. (1) A taxpayer's method of accounting for purposes of the tax imposed under this chapter shall be the same as the taxpayer's method of accounting for federal income tax purposes. If no method of accounting has been regularly used by a taxpayer for federal income tax purposes, tax due under this chapter shall be computed by a method of accounting which in the opinion of the department fairly reflects income.

(2) If a person's method of accounting is changed for federal income tax purposes, it shall be similarly changed for purposes of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 515. JOINT RETURN. (1) If neither spouse is required to file a federal income tax return for the taxable year, a joint return may be filed under this chapter under the same conditions under which a joint return may be filed for purposes of the federal income tax.

(2) If the federal income tax liabilities of both spouses are determined on a joint federal return for the taxable year, they shall file a joint return under this chapter unless one spouse is a resident and the other is a nonresident.

(3) If the federal income tax liability of either spouse is determined on a separate federal return for the taxable year, they shall file separate returns under this chapter.

(4) If one spouse is a resident and the other is a nonresident, they shall file separate returns under this chapter, unless they elect to determine their tax liabilities under this chapter on a joint return as if they were both residents and:

(a) Their federal tax liability for the taxable year was determined on a joint federal return;

(b) Neither spouse has filed a federal income tax return for the taxable year and they would be permitted to file a joint federal return for the taxable year.

(5) In any case in which a joint return is filed under this section, the liability of the husband and wife is joint and several, unless the spouse is relieved of liability under section 6013 of the Internal Revenue Code.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 516. RECORDS—RETURNS. (1) Every taxpayer and every person required to collect the tax imposed under this chapter shall keep records, render statements, make returns, file reports, and perform other acts, as the department requires by rule. Each return shall be made under penalty of perjury and on forms prescribed by the department. The department may require other statements and reports be made under penalty of perjury and on forms prescribed by the department. The department may require any taxpayer and any person required to collect the tax imposed under this chapter to furnish to the department a correct copy of any return or document which the taxpayer has filed with the internal revenue service or received from the internal revenue service.

(2) All books and records and other papers and documents required to be kept under this chapter are subject to inspection by the department at all times during business hours of the day.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 517. SERVICE OF PROCESS. (1) Any person who incurs tax liability under this chapter and who removes from this state or conceals his or her whereabouts shall be considered to appoint the secretary of state of this state as the person's agent for service of process or notice in any judicial or administrative proceeding under this chapter. This process or notice shall be served by the department on the secretary of state by leaving at the office of the secretary of state, at least fifteen days before the return day of the process or notice, a certified copy thereof and by sending to the person, by registered or certified mail, a certified copy with an endorsement thereon of the service upon the secretary of state, addressed to the person at the person's last known address.

(2) Service of process or notice in the manner and under the circumstances provided in this section is of the same force and validity as if served upon the person personally within this state. Proof of this service may be made in any judicial or administrative proceeding by the affidavit of the authorized agent of the department who made the service, with a copy of the process or notice that was so served attached to the affidavit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 518. ESTIMATION AGREEMENTS. The department may reasonably estimate the items of business or nonbusiness income of a taxpayer having an office within the state and one or more other states or foreign countries which may be apportioned or allocated to the state and may enter into estimation agreements with such taxpayers for the determination of their liability for the tax imposed by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 519. PROVISIONS OF INTERNAL REVENUE CODE CONTROL. (1) To the extent possible without being inconsistent with this chapter, all of the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code relating to the following subjects apply to the taxes imposed under this chapter:

(a) Time and manner of payment of tax imposed under this chapter, including tax withheld under sections 510 through 512 of this act.

(b) Periods of limitation upon assessment and collection of taxes. However, if a taxpayer fails to report a change or correction increasing the taxpayer's federal taxable income, or fails to report a change or correction which is treated as if it were a deficiency for federal income tax purposes, an assessment may be made at any time within one year of the date on which the department first learns of the change or correction.

- (c) Interest for underpayments and overpayments.
- (d) Liability of transferees.
- (e) Closing agreements and compromises.
- (f) Deficiency procedures, except that the state board of tax appeals shall review deficiencies under chapter 82.03 RCW.
- (g) Penalties and additions for failure to timely file returns or pay taxes.
- (h) Timing, amount, and manner of payment of estimated tax payments.
- (i) Time and manner of making returns, verification of returns, and the time when a return is deemed filed.

(j) Powers of the secretary of the treasury, exercised under this chapter by the department, to prepare and execute returns, to prescribe forms, to enforce collection of the tax through liens and seizure of property, and to impose penalties.

(2) The department by rule may provide modifications and exceptions to the provisions listed in subsection (1) of this section if reasonably necessary to facilitate the prompt, efficient, and equitable collection of tax under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. RULES. The department may adopt rules under chapter 34.04 RCW for the administration and enforcement of this chapter. The rules, to the extent possible without being inconsistent with this chapter, shall follow the Internal Revenue Code, and the regulations and rulings of the United States treasury department with respect to the federal income tax. The department may adopt as a part of these rules any portions of the Internal Revenue Code and treasury department regulations and rulings, in whole or in part.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. REFUNDS OF OVERPAYMENTS—OTHER ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS. (1) The department shall refund all taxes and penalties improperly paid or collected.

(2) RCW 82.32.110, 82.32.120, 82.32.130, 82.32.320, 82.32.330, 82.32.340, and 82.32.380 apply to the administration of the taxes imposed under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. CRIMES. (1) Any person who knowingly attempts to evade or defeat the tax imposed under this chapter or payment thereof is guilty of a class C felony as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(2) Any person required to collect tax imposed under this chapter who knowingly fails to collect, truthfully account for, or pay over the tax is guilty of a class C felony as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(3) Any person who knowingly fails to pay tax, pay estimated tax, make returns, keep records, or supply information, as required under this chapter, is guilty of a gross misdemeanor as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. JUDICIAL REVIEW OF CLAIM FOR REFUND. Any person having filed a claim for refund or credit on any tax, penalty, or other sum collected under this chapter may, within the applicable period of limitation provided in section 519(1)(b) of this act, sue for a refund or credit on the tax, penalty, or other sum in the superior court of Thurston county. All procedures and rights of appeal governing other civil actions apply to these proceedings.

This section does not apply to any tax payment which has been the subject of an appeal to the state board of tax appeals with respect to which a formal hearing has been held.

Sec. 5. Section 1, chapter 32, Laws of 1985 as amended by section 119 of this 1987 act and RCW 82.08.020 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) There is levied and there shall be collected a tax on each retail sale in this state equal to (~~six and five-tenths~~) five and four-tenths percent of the selling price.

(2) The tax imposed under this chapter shall apply to successive retail sales of the same property or services.

(3) The rate provided in this section applies to taxes imposed under chapter 82.12 RCW as provided in RCW 82.12.020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. NONSEVERABILITY. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances shall likewise be held invalid.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. REPEALER. Sections 101 through 308 of this act, chapter -- (SHB 404), Laws of 1987 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. CODIFICATION—CAPTIONS. Sections 501 through 523 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 82 RCW.

Section captions constitute no part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Sections 501 through 526 of this act shall take effect January 1, 1988.*

On page 37, line 10, strike "This act is" and insert "Sections 101 through 409 of this act are"

NEW SECTION. Sec. 605. Sections 501 through 528 of this act shall be submitted to the people for their adoption and ratification, or rejection, at the next succeeding general election to be held in this state, in accordance with Article II, section 1 of the state Constitution, as amended, and the laws adopted to facilitate the operation thereof.

Representatives Nelson, Todd, Barnes and K. Wilson spoke in favor of adoption of the amendments. Mr. S. Wilson spoke against them.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Ms. Brough: How many votes will it take to confirm these amendments?

The Speaker: Representative Brough, the answer to your question is a majority of those present.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Nelson yielded to question by Ms. Brough.

Ms. Brough: Representative Nelson, thank you for yielding. Reading the explanation of your proposal, having not had time to read the proposal in its entirety, I see that there's a statement that you make if the vote of the people fails, the taxes under Substitute House Bill No. 404 remain in place. Could you tell me where in these amendments that is stated?

Mr. Nelson: If you look in Section 526, you'll find it.

Ms. Brough: I'm sorry, but I don't find in reading the repealer for Sections 101 through 308, that it has anything to do with the intention of the proposed package if the voters do not support this income tax. I also don't see a section in here that requires a vote of the public. OK, thank you, on page 37. Could you explain the repealers to me in more detail? Where does it state that the taxes under this proposal stay in place if the public rejects the income tax?

Mr. Nelson: In answer to your question about how the act stays in effect, you have to read Section 526 together with Section 605.

Representative Lewis demanded an oral roll call vote, and the demand was sustained.

Representatives Lux, Allen and Barnes spoke in favor of adoption of the amendments, and Mr. Appelwick spoke against them.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendments by Representative Nelson and others to Substitute House Bill No. 404, and the amendments were not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 19; nays, 78; excused, 1.

Mr. Appelwick spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Representative Lewis demanded an oral roll call vote, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. B. Williams spoke against passage of the bill, and Mr. Todd spoke in favor of it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Appelwick yielded to question by Mr. Todd.

Mr. Todd: Representative Appelwick, you and I have been working on business taxes for the last couple or three years, and what I'd like to ask you is what are your priorities for the interim as it relates to business tax reform and tax reform in general.

Mr. Appelwick: It would be my intention over the interim to address five major policy areas. One, to look for statutory reform that will allow us in a significant way to reduce the sales tax in this state. A second, to prepare a well thought-out constitutional amendment to give us a better tax system. Thirdly, to articulate a clear policy that would facilitate start-up businesses, so that those who wish to start within the state, or to move in, would have a conducive climate to do so. Fourthly, to get a well-articulated policy on how we would tax trade and interstate commerce to stimulate those ventures. And fifthly, to revisit our policy overall on how we would tax nonprofit organizations to make sure that those that are not taxed are appropriately so.

Representative Todd spoke again in favor of the bill, and Representatives Schoon and Silver spoke against it. Representative Bristow spoke in favor of it.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 404, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 55; nays, 42; excused, 1.

Excused: Representative Chandler - 1.

Ms. Brough: I believe that Representative Bumgarner had already started to address the issue at hand, so that it was too late for another representative to call scope and object point of order.

SPEAKER'S RULING (MR. O'BRIEN PRESIDING)

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): It appears that Representative Braddock was on his feet asking for attention on a point of order. I'm going to rule that the point of order has to be determined before debate will be continued.

Representative Bumgarner, this act pertains to the medical disciplinary board, and you have an amendment dealing with the department of licensing regulating fees of all professions. From that standpoint it appears that this amendment is out of order; it is not germane to the subject matter which we are considering, impaired physicians under the dominion of control of the disciplinary board. The amendment is out of order.

POINT OF ORDER

Ms. Niemi: I request a ruling on scope and object on the Committee on Ways & Means amendment.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Niemi, the Speaker has examined Substitute Senate Bill No. 5206 and the Ways & Means Committee amendment. The bill deals with the creation of new judgeships. When a new judgeship is created the clerical support is assumed to go with it. I find that the Ways & Means Committee amendment is within the scope and object. Your point of order is not well taken.

The committee amendment by the Committee on Ways & Means was adopted.

Mr. Armstrong moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment by the Committee on Judiciary:

On page 1, after line 34, insert the following:

"Sec. 3, Section 3, chapter 259, Laws of 1957 as amended by section 1, chapter 132, Laws of 1981 and RCW 2.56.030 are each amended to read as follows:

The administrator for the courts shall, under the supervision and direction of chief justice:

(1) Examine the administrative methods and systems employed in the offices of the judges, clerks, stenographers, and employees of the courts and make recommendations, through the chief justice, for the improvement of the same;

(2) Examine the state of the dockets of the courts and determine the need for assistance by any court;

(3) Make recommendations to the chief justice relating to the assignment of judges where courts are in need of assistance and carry out the direction of the chief justice as to the assignments of judges to counties and districts where the courts are in need of assistance;

(10) Submit annually, as of February 1st, to the chief justice and the judicial council, a report of the activities of the administrator's office for the preceding calendar year;

(11) Administer programs and standards for the training and education of judicial personnel;

(12) Examine the need for new superior court and district judge positions under a weighted caseload analysis that takes into account the time required to hear all the cases in a particular court and the amount of time existing judges have available to hear cases in that court. The results of the weighted caseload analysis shall be reviewed by the board for judicial administration and the judicial council, both of which shall make recommendations to the legislature by January 1, 1989. It is the intent of the legislature that weighted caseload analysis become the basis for creating additional district court positions, and recommendations should address that objective; and
