I cannot help but feel that it is unjust and violative of the most fundamental principles of our form of government to permit a small group of people, such as 300 inhabitants, to incorporate and to include within such incorporation or annexation, without the consent of the owners of such areas, unlimited tracts of lands. To permit such action, to my mind, would permit a small minority to tax owners of large areas of land without their consent, and without representation in the city to be incorporated. I am also impressed by the fact that any action other than the action I am about to take, might seriously hamper the future development of the largest tract available to the Port of Tacoma for industrial development.

The majority of the Council of the City of Tacoma have asked me to veto sections 1, 2, and 3 of this bill. The Tacoma Labor Council, the Pierce County Commissioners, the Tacoma Real Estate Board, and the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Tacoma have unanimously recommended that I veto sections 1, 2, and 3. Let me stress again, that I recognize the problem involved in the consideration of this bill is by no means a one-sided one, and it is exactly for these considerations that I have urged the Legislature to pass Senate Bill No. 95 which creates a Joint Legislative Committee on urban area development. This Committee, I am sure, will give full consideration to the problem presented to us by the instant Act. For this reason I feel that pending a full and complete study by this Joint Legislative Committee, the interests of the State will be best served by leaving the law as it now stands, and by vetoing sections 1, 2, and 3.

Section 4 of this bill, as amended, merely restricts the jurisdiction of 4th class cities and towns bordering on lakes, sounds, or navigable waters, to the one square mile area.

Section 5 purports to validate annexations made during the past ten years by 4th class cities and towns which annexed areas exceeding one square mile. This validation is necessary because the Supreme Court sitting En banc in the case of Parosa vs. The City of Tacoma, and the Port of Tacoma vs. Harry Sprinkler, et al. (157 Washington Decisions, 307) declared a 1951 statute purporting to repeal the 1,000 acre limitation unconstitutional.

Section 6 merely follows the result reached by the Supreme Court with reference to its construction of section 1, chapter 109, Laws of 1951, in the above-captioned cases.

For the reasons indicated, sections 1, 2, and 3 of House Bill No. 455 are vetoed; the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

March 21, 1961.

To the Honorable,

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to one section, House Bill No. 458 entitled:

“Relating to state employees’ retirement system.”

This bill is approved with the exception of section 5 which is vetoed.

Section 5 in the original form of the bill contained several amendments to RCW 41.40.070. However, the Senate during the passage of this bill, struck each and every one of the amendments contained in the original bill so that in its final form, section 5 as passed by both Houses of the Legislature, restores the original language contained in RCW 41.40.070.

Senate Bill No. 288 amends the identical section; to wit: RCW 41.40.070 by allowing the State Employees’ Retirement System Board to invest retirement funds in motor vehicle fund warrants which are issued to pay the costs of acquisition of real property and property rights necessary for the improvement of the State highway system. By allowing retirement funds to be invested in such warrants, the Highway Commission is enabled to acquire rights of way up to six years prior to construction. Such allowance of prior acquisition will result in substantial savings to the State.

In order to make sure that the provisions contained in section 9 of Senate Bill No. 288 shall prevail, it is necessary to veto section 5 of this bill.

For the reasons indicated, section 5 is vetoed, and the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

March 21, 1961.

To the Honorable,
The House of Representatives of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to a certain section, House Bill No. 515 entitled:

“Relating to professional nurse licensing.”

I disapprove and veto section 2 of the bill.

The bill as a whole makes a number of desirable changes affecting the nursing profession.

The major purpose of the amendment contained in section 2 of the bill is to require me to appoint to the Board of Nursing, nominees selected initially by the Washington State Nurses Association. Increasingly, the Legislature is restricting appointments to various boards and commissions to lists initially selected by the profession involved. In the past, the appointments which I have made to the Washington State Board of Nursing have been accepted without criticism, and the members appointed by me to this board at my sole discretion, have served well.

I see no reason why a change should be made restricting this free choice on my part. If any person appointed by me to this board should render inadequate service, I will be held responsible for the actions of a member appointed by me. I therefore feel that my choice of appointments should remain free and unrestricted.

With the exception of section 2, which is vetoed, the remainder of House Bill No. 515 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

March 21, 1961.

To the Honorable,

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to one section, House Bill No. 693 entitled:

“Creating a committee to study salaries and establishing salaries for appointive state officials.”

This bill increases the Governor's Advisory Committee on salaries from 6 to 7 members. It authorizes the Committee to study the duties of the directors and assistant directors of the various code departments under the jurisdiction of the chief executive. It further authorizes the Committee to study the duties of the executive heads of the various commissions and committees of the State which are salaried. In addition, the Committee is empowered to study the duties of the various elected officials including those of the Supreme and Superior Court judges, and of the members of the Legislature. With reference to the members of the Supreme and Superior Courts, and to the members of the Legislature, the Committee is to report its recommendation to the Governor and to the Legislative Council with recommendations of salaries to be established for their respective positions. The bill further provides that the Governor and the Commissions, respectively, shall not exceed the recommendations of salaries made for any of the positions under the control of the Governor or under the control of each of the Commissions.

Section 11 of this bill amends RCW 14.04.040 which fixes the salary of the Director of Aeronautics. This identical section is being amended by House Bill No. 207 which fixes the maximum salary of the Director of Aeronautics at $9,500, and makes a change in the duties to be assigned by the Aeronautics Commissioner to the Director of Aeronautics.

In order to effectuate the intent of the Legislature relative to the change of duties imposed by House Bill No. 207 upon the Director of Aeronautics, it became necessary for me to veto section 11 of this bill.

For the reasons indicated, section 11 of this bill is vetoed, and the remainder of this bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

A REPORT TO THE THIRTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE
OF WASHINGTON ON FOOD FISHERIES OF WASHINGTON*Review of Fisheries Department Progress and Program Recommendations

During the interim between the 1959 and 1961 sessions of the Legislature, the members of the joint Senate and House Interim Fisheries Committee met upon several occasions with the staff of the Department of Fisheries; they met with members of the Oregon Legislature, conducted special hearings and investigated various operations of the Department of Fisheries.

Generally, it was found that the functions of the Department were carried out in a businesslike manner and that surprising progress had been made in the expansion of salmon hatchery operations. A 101 percent increase in hatchery-reared fish (over the average for the years of 1954 to 1956) during the past three years is a credit to the ambitious staff of the Fisheries Department and to Director Milo Moore for his special interest in the advancement of fish culture throughout the state.

The Department's program of fish farming has also shown promising results in providing a means of low-cost rearing of migrant-sized salmon. The Department appears handicapped to some extent in two phases of this work; one due to difficulties experienced in acquiring easements, rights of ways and outright purchases of property involving fish farm operations; and secondly, engineering and design work involving hydraulic controls for fish farm impoundments have presented problems requiring study and exacting surveys in construction. Twenty-two fish farms comprising 1,000 surface acres have been placed in operation the past three years. Over four million young salmon fry have been released from these impoundments. Marked fish returns are already showing in the catch of sport and commercial fishermen. It is expected that several of the newly constructed fish farms will provide good returns of spawning salmon for holding in ripening ponds for incubation and restocking the farm areas.

Plans the Department has for clam farming and to restock tideland deep-water areas with oysters and clams, and for conducting extensive bottom surveys off the coast of Washington merit the full consideration of the Legislature. It appears that a strip of bottom land between the 10- and 30-fathom mark from Tatoosh Island to the Columbia River has extensive ocean clam populations comparable to the beds off the Atlantic Coast. The possibility of exploiting the coastal area for clams, particularly for hardshell ocean clams, has already attracted the attention of several persons in the fishing industry. To properly manage these fisheries requires an extensive survey and sampling of bottom areas. It is recommended that the Department carry out the plans projected for this work.

It was also found that there are beds of hard-shelled clams in deep water in bays, inlets, coastal areas and passageways that are never harvested and that new types of mechanical means described as conventional, hydraulic drag and elevator dredges used along the Atlantic Coast are practical devices to harvest these clams.

The committee recommends that Chapter 79.20, Revised Code of Washington, dealing with oyster lands be amended to include provisions for leasing bottom areas for the harvest and cultivation of clams under the specific terms and conditions designated by the Director of Fisheries. It is recommended further that the Director of Fisheries shall have full authority in issuing temporary dredging permits in specifically described deep-water areas designated by the Director of Fisheries and the Commissioner of Public Lands as areas to be withheld from private lease and those which shall be held in reserve for strip farming under conditions specifically determined by the Director of Fisheries.

It is also recommended that all deep water areas approved and granted by the Commissioner of Public Lands and the Director of Fisheries for clam and oyster farm leases hereafter be subject to public bid with minimum prices and period of lease advertised in the lawfully prescribed manner.

It is recommended that all mechanical and drag clam and oyster dredges be licensed under Chapter 75.28, Revised Code of Washington, as follows:

|  | Annual license fee |
|--|---------------------------|
| Oyster power dredge .....                       | $25.00            |
| Hydraulic clam drag dredge .....                | $25.00            |
| Hydraulic elevator clam and oyster dredge ..... | $25.00            |
| Conventional pronged deep water clam drag ..... | $15.00            |

That all types of clam drags or dredges found to be destructive and harmful to clams through breakage or disturbing the bottom areas and affecting the small clams shall be rejected and refused a license by the Director and the use of the same shall be declared unlawful.

Regulations of the Director adopted for salmon conservation have (for most streams) provided increased escapement of salmon to the spawning grounds. Both sport and commercial fishing have been curtailed to provide spawn necessary to increase the salmon runs.

Little doubt exists that along with the increased effort of fishermen from Alaska to California to harvest Washington bred salmon and new dams inundating spawning grounds, further curtailment in coastwise utilization of these runs will become necessary.

It is also evident that the protection required for the overall management of silver and chinook salmon must be coordinated with Canada, Alaska, Oregon, Idaho and California. Steps now being taken by the Governor, Members of Congress, the Legislature and the Director of Fisheries give promise of high-level talks being successfully carried out to obtain these objectives. The new publication of the Department of Fisheries, "Fisheries—Volume III," amply sets forth the coastal fisheries problems requiring national and international consideration.

While it is found that the legislative acts and the Orders of the Director enacted in the interest of conservation are rigidly enforced, still there exists a continuing problem involving manpower and equipment to provide adequate patrol in all areas of the state. With added interest by fishermen in coastal fisheries, the area between Tatoosh Island and the Columbia River is most vulnerable to violators. The Department's 13-year old Seabee amphibious airplane (still flying in good condition) is long outdated for patrol along the coast. With only one engine to depend upon, safety factors preclude air patrol of the coastal area. The committee recommends this area be adequately patrolled by both air and by sea; that proposals to be submitted to the 1961 Legislature include a suitable two-motored amphibious plane and a combination patrol and research survey vessel capable of carrying out the program of bottom survey along the coast and patrol for enforcement of regulations for the area.

The committee, after reviewing the problems confronting the overall management of state fisheries, recommends that every effort be extended by the national administration to bring the control of Indian fisheries under a coordinated program. It is found that several formerly well-stocked streams are now barren of salmon due to unregulated Indian fisheries. It is also found that a majority of Indians living at or near such fishing areas are fully in sympathy with the state's program for stocking and management control to prevent overfishing. Yet, with the absence of any direct authority, the Indians, the State and the Federal Government are helpless to remedy the situation. The Indians appear more interested in preserving their full treaty rights (under the Stevens treaty 1857) than they do in maintaining the salmon runs as a continuing source of wealth to their people. Correction of this situation will require considerable effort and study on the part of the Federal Government. The Department has kept a good account of the status of all the state's Indian fisheries.

Research activities of the Department reveal work is under way that may lead to several new developments to aid fisheries. Some are as follows:

1. Tagging salmon intercepted along the coast to determine migration, origin and extent they are involved in the coastal and inshore fishery.
2. Statewide predator control program, including predator fish, black snails on salmon, and control of drills, starfish and other sea animals that destroy oysters and clams.
3. Control of water quality in fish farm areas through fertilization.
4. Development of artificial spawning channels and holding ponds to ripen and spawn salmon.
5. Artificial production of oyster and clam seed and introduction of new species.
6. Execution of a statewide stream count to record the number of spawning salmon in streams.

To coincide with the state effort to prove the value of environmentally controlled water areas for fish farms, it is recommended that the Department extend every effort to obtain Federal funds for the conversion of Dungeness Bay into a fully controlled fish farm and that the same be coordinated with Clallam County to establish a small boat harbor and open up the Dungeness Spit as a public recreation area. The Committee approves the Department's plans to establish this project under joint Federal-State sponsorship and control.

The committee recognizes a request by the Oregon Fish and Game Commission that the State of Washington establish a license for sport fishing, so that under concurrent jurisdiction of the Columbia River they can insist that all fishermen be either licensed by Oregon or Washington. The Committee suggests that this problem be given more study before making recommendations.

The Department has been asked by the Oregon Fish and Game Commission to reduce the daily sport salmon catch limit along the coast of Washington to two fish, to correspond with Oregon regulations they claim are necessary for conservation. The Washington Director contends that such a move would not contribute greatly to the overall conservation of the salmon stocks and recommends a more positive program be adopted, where necessary, in regulating the time of fishing by sportsmen and that further restrictions be placed upon sport fishing in streams at or near spawning areas. He stresses in particular the need for such regulations in the tributaries of the Columbia River above Bonneville dam. Similar regulations have already been placed into effect to protect salmon runs to most streams on the Washington side of the Columbia River. Ample authority has been provided by law for the Director to execute conservation regulations concurrent with Oregon or sooner if desired. It is found that the Oregon law providing for fixed outboard poles for all commercial salmon trollers has a definite advantage in segregating commercial trollers in sport fishing areas and provides for better enforcement.

Over the years the Committee has reviewed requests that the Department of Fisheries be reorganized (by Legislative Act) to a commission form of administration. Such requests have again come to the attention of the committee, all by sportsmen primarily interested in promoting additional restrictions upon commercial fishing to advance their special interests. Similar proposals have come from commercial resort operators and sport boat rental establishments who during the past two years objected strenuously to the Department's regulation preventing the taking of immature salmon.

A similar request of sportsmen and resort operators was made to the Committee to close (by Legislative Act) all commercial fishing for one-half mile around Whidbey Island. This request was later amended to include a one-mile corridor around the island where only sport fishermen could fish. It is recognized that existing treaties with Canada extend control of commercial salmon fishing operations along the west side of Whidbey Island to the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission for a major part of the fishing season.

In reviewing these situations involving conflicts between sport and commercial interests, it is the belief of the Committee that ample stocks of fish can be maintained provided all interests cooperate and work with the Department to build up the runs. The Committee finds that there is a great danger to the welfare of the resource where one class of fishermen desires to eliminate the other. Public use and utilization of our fisheries as a food has long been one of the prized benefits of this land.

It is doubtful that any state has so well adapted laws for the management of fisheries as has the State of Washington. A survey of commission fish and game agencies on the Pacific Coast reveals that considerable authority necessary to manage fisheries is retained by the legislature to secure the public interest from acts of the commission, and that a commission form of administration is often no less politically involved.

Under existing law all interests are to be equally considered in the interest of conservation. It is expected under Washington laws that all citizens will cooperate for the betterment of the resource as a whole and that the Director's orders for conservation will be directed to this end.

The Committee can see no justification to alter or change the existing authority for the management of state fisheries or to eliminate commercial fishing (except in the interest of conservation) in the one-mile corridor asked for around Whidbey Island.

The Committee, having studied the adverse effects the construction of the Nez Perce Dam would have on salmon runs of the Columbia River, advocates the withholding in granting approval of this project by the Federal Power Commission and recommends the establishment of the Salmon River as a salmon sanctuary as provided under Senate Bill 2586 or as amended, and that future power needs be provided through the building of the High Mountain Sheep dam—4 miles farther up the Snake River. The Committee further recommends the withholding of all new hydro-electric dam projects on the Columbia River watershed affecting the natural runs of salmon until a comprehensive water-use program for the river is established to secure a reasonable portion of the river system for the spawning and migrating of natural runs of salmon.

The matter of limiting the value of prizes awarded at sport salmon fishing derbies was also brought to the attention of the Committee. It was stated that where unlimited unregulated salmon fishing derbies are held the sport of fishing becomes a commercialized affair that tends to destroy the goodwill associated with the general rules applied to sport fishing in waters of the State of Washington. It was recommended that such events be held to one day affairs and the value of prizes limited to $200. The Committee believes this matter should be discussed further with sport fishermen and more precise information concerning fishing derbies be obtained from the Fisheries Department.

The Department has indicated the need for serious consideration of the use of barbless hooks in the catching of salmon, to make possible the release of immature salmon with reduced injury. The Committee finds that with the large number of undersize fish taking the same lures as the larger fish it would add greatly to the security and conservation of the stocks to employ the use of barbless hooks for all salmon fishing. The Committee agrees with the Director that a request be made to Washington sportsmen for voluntary use of barbless hooks for salmon fishing during the coming year.

The Department's Research section has completed the initial phases of pollution and shellfish studies authorized by the 1957 and 1959 sessions of the legislature and reports on certain phases are being prepared. A report entitled: "Toxic Effects of Organic and Inorganic Pollutants on Young Salmon and Trout" has been mimeographed for limited distribution until sufficient funds are provided for its official publication. Studies are now underway at the Point Whitney Laboratory to further investigate the condition factor of oysters and clams as they relate to dilutions of sulfite waste and other pulp and paper mill liquors. The Department is assisted in this work by the Laboratory of Radiation Biology at the University of Washington.

New fish farm sites

The following list contains the fish farm sites proposed for completion in the 1961-63 biennium. The Fisheries Interim Committee recommends, in view of the promising results shown so far by fish farms as a means of providing high volume salmon rearing at low cost, that the acquisition and construction of these proposed sites be given full consideration by the legislature.

Need to Replace Present Single-Engine Fisheries Patrol Plane With a New Twin-Engine Amphibian Plane

The present patrol plane is a single-engine Seabee amphibian aircraft purchased new in March, 1947 and has been in continuous service by Patrol Division. It will be 14 years old by March, 1961 and in its 15th year of service at the beginning of the coming biennium—July, 1961. The Seabee has over 2,400 flying hours logged as of August 1, 1960 and it is estimated that it will have at least 2,600 hours by July, 1961.

The age of this airplane makes it a hazard to operate. In addition, its small engine gives it limited maneuverability and versatility and with a single engine has no safety factor in case of engine failure.

The recommended replacement for the Seabee is a twin engine "Royal Gull" amphibian with two 340 hp supercharged Lycoming engines, which gives this plane excellent performance with a full load, including pilot and four passengers.

The excellent performance of the "Gull" gives it very good single-engine safety—that is, in case of engine failure this aircraft can be operated with complete safety on one engine and can maintain and gain altitude on one engine with a full load. The "Seabee" does not have this safety factor due to its single engine and if its engine stops it must come down immediately.

This has severely restricted our ability to maintain an aerial patrol of our coastal fisheries in the Pacific Ocean and over Puget Sound at night.

Another important safety factor of the "Gull" is its high rate of climb, with the ability to take off quickly and gain altitude rapidly. This will enable its use for stream surveys and spawning ground counts in mountainous areas instead of chartering planes for this work. The Seabee is not safe or practical for this type of flying due to its inability to climb quickly. This would save the Department at least $1,000 each year in charter fees for the above mentioned work.

The "Gull" will cruise approximately 75 m.p.h. faster than the "Seabee" permitting twice the area coverage during the same flying time and has a correspondingly greater cruising range without refueling.

The Committee feels that it is necessary to replace the 14 year old Seabee with a more efficient and safer ship. The cost of this new aircraft will be approximately $100,000 for its initial purchase, an amount which could be fairly amortized during a period of twelve to fifteen years. It is difficult, if not impossible, to put a dollars-and-cents value on the work this patrol plane would accomplish. It would unquestionably double the efficiency of aerial fisheries patrol. The airplane is the best and most efficient tool available for preventative enforcement as well as direct enforcement, and it is imperative that aerial patrol of our fishing areas be maintained at an even greater degree in the coming years.

Need for a 55-60 foot vessel for offshore patrol and research work

The lack of a suitable vessel large enough to patrol offshore waters in inclement weather has handicapped the efficient enforcement of regulations in coastal ocean waters. Work in ocean areas demands a vessel staunch enough to be able to stay at sea for extended periods, regardless of weather, and have a fuel capacity sufficient to permit this.

This vessel would also be adaptable for certain types of research work where the tagging of salmon and bottom fish are concerned and could be applied to sampling the sea in the study of ocean currents and chemistry. It could also be used in scouting areas for relay of information to fishermen. Its adaptability for research activities would eliminate the expenditure of several thousands of dollars each year for chartering fishing boats.

The Committee feels that such a vessel would be an immeasurable aid in the necessary activities of the Department and recommends its acquisition.

Advantages of maintaining privilege of purchasing needed items through the State of Washington Surplus Section under the Department of Civil Defense

This privilege is very advantageous to the Department in that substantial savings can be made on many needed items. For example, a fork lift truck with an acquisition value of $2,800 was purchased for $200. A diesel engine with spare parts with an acquisition value of $2,070 cost the Department $125 and a 1952 Jeep with an acquisition value of $1,987 cost $80. Savings of this sort are worthwhile and it is unanimously recommended that the Department carry on this type of purchasing on required items.

RECOMMENDED LEGISLATION

The Fisheries Code of the State of Washington defines and directs the authority of the Director of Fisheries whose duty is to "preserve, protect, perpetuate and manage the food fish and shellfish in the waters of the state and the offshore waters thereof to the end that such food fish and shellfish shall not be taken, possessed, sold or disposed of at such times and in such manner as will impair the supply thereof."

From time to time revisions of certain portion of the code are necessary to keep it current and effective in the face of the continued increasing demand for harvest of our fishery resource by all interests.

For this reason the House and Senate Interim Committee on Fisheries recommends that legislative action be taken at the 37th Legislative session on the items hereafter listed.

Statute Law to go into Fisheries Code

It is recommended that a law be provided that will prohibit aliens from fishing commercially in waters under the jurisdiction of the State of Washington. Canada now has a law that imposes severe fines on U. S. citizens who are caught fishing in Canadian waters, whether purposefully or inadvertently. This problem is particularly severe in the Strait of Juan de Fuca. Washington, on the other hand, has no similar powers to fine Canadians, but can only charge them with fishing without a license.

A proposed wording of a Washington State law is as follows: It shall be unlawful for any person who is not a citizen of the United States, or who is not a bona fide resident of the United States to fish for or take food fish or shellfish for commercial purposes from any of the waters or beaches of the State of Washington, and any person who violates the provisions of this section or who aids or abets or assists in such violation shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which the offense is committed for not less than six months or more than one year, or by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars or more than one thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Insert and add to the Revised Code of Washington under Chapter 75.04 the following definition:

75.04.120 "Primary Market Value"

"Primary market value" means the price per pound at which the food fish or shellfish is sold, without any deductions whatsoever for any purpose."

Justification: Administrative policy since 1949 in defining the term primary market value has viewed it as being the amount of money received by the fishermen for his food fish or shellfish. This necessitates allowing as deductions from the gross purchase value certain broker handling charges, freight charges and occasionally customs charges. Privilege fees to be paid are then computed on the basis of this reduced amount.

It is now recognized that the fisherman receives no tax savings from these allowable deductions since such costs usually are not involved in his sales of food fish and shellfish which are subject to catch fee assessments. Also the broker and freight charges are passed on to the fisherman in most instances and do not represent actual expenses of the buyer. Likewise, further study of the taxing statutes indicates that privilege and catch fees are to be computed on the cost of the food fish and shellfish to the buyer rather than on the revenue to the seller. The proceeds received by a fisherman from a customary sale in no way determines the actual primary market value of the food fish or shellfish being sold and should not be used as a basis for computing the amounts of privilege and catch fees to be paid the state.

Because the recommended definition is a distinct departure from the historic administrative definition and because it should cause a significant increase in tax revenue, we believe it should become a part of the state statutes.

The Revised Code of Washington is hereby amended to read as follows:

75.28.014—Application for licenses.

Deleted and repealed in its entirety.

Justification: Revised to do away with the February 1 deadline requirement for applying for salmon licenses. This provision does not aid the Department in any way; does not give us true advance data on the effort prior to the season and is a hardship on the industry at a time when their crews are scattered and agreements not firmed up for the season still five months away.

75.28.020—Qualifications for license—Oregon licenses recognized in concurrent waters.

All wording after "Provided" deleted and the following inserted:

That each and every license issued by the state of Oregon which is comparable and similar to a license provided for in this title shall be recognized as valid by this state in the concurrent waters of the Columbia River only, if such license is valid within the jurisdiction of the issuing state, and if the state of Oregon similarly recognizes as valid the comparable and similar license issued by this state.

Justification: Revised to conform to Oregon's concurrent fishing license laws. Oregon law recognizes only Washington gill net licenses for fishing or landing fee in Oregon's Columbia River district. Washington's present law recognizes all Oregon licensed fishermen landing fish in our state.

75.28.087—Owner's commercial license.

Amended to read as follows:

Every owner of a commercial fishing vessel shall obtain an annual commercial fishing license, not otherwise provided for in this chapter, for the taking of fish and shellfish within the state of Washington, provided that licensed oyster and clam farmers, and persons who have obtained commercial salmon fishing licenses for gill net gear are not subject to this section. The fees for commercial fishing licenses required in this section shall be in the amounts set forth in this chapter prescribed by the type gear employed in the taking of food fish and shellfish.

Justification: Revised to eliminate the requirement of a separate gill net license in the Columbia River district for each species being fished for. The Columbia River contains three major species other than salmon which are specifically fished for by gill net. This is not true in the other districts where the gill net is used only for salmon fishing. This revision is expected to restore the loss in annual revenue which occurs when many Columbia River gill net fishermen purchase single all-species Oregon licenses in preference to buying more than one Washington license for the same fishing privileges.

75.28.140—Gill net licenses.

Last sentence of the section deleted. "The incidental catch of sturgeon lawfully taken is permitted under the gill net license."

Justification: Relates to points mentioned under 75.28.087.

75.32.030—Canners, processors, dealers—Other than Columbia River district—Privilege fees.

Identifying title amended to read:

Canners, processors, dealers—((Other than Columbia River district—))
Privilege fees.

Section amended to read:

Canners, curers, freezers, wholesale dealers and retail dealers of food fish and shellfish, other than oysters, and manufacturers of food fish and shellfish byproducts, other than oyster byproducts, ((except those located within the Columbia River district)) shall pay a privilege fee equal to two percent of the primary market value on all fresh or frozen chinook and silver salmon which they receive, handle, deal in, or deal with as original receiver in the state, and they shall pay a privilege fee equal to one percent of the primary market value on all other fresh or frozen food fish and shellfish or part thereof, except oysters, which they receive, handle, deal in or deal with, as original receiver in the state: Provided, that any person or sales agency selling fresh or frozen food fish or shellfish previously landed in the state to others residing outside the state of Washington, shall be responsible for and shall pay the privilege taxes herein provided: Provided further, that privilege fees shall be paid on any bonuses, settlements, or the like, paid fishermen according to poundages shown on the fish receiving tickets issued them for their catches.

Justification: Revised to bring Washington Columbia River district under the same privilege tax structure as prevails in the Puget Sound, Grays Harbor and Willapa Harbor districts. We are being challenged on our dual tax structure and our legal advisors feel the challenges are valid.

The change from a poundage fee to a percentage ad valorem fee would in periods of high prices for fish, be a revenue measure. In many instances, the tax differential would draw landings to our side of the Columbia River as the percentage fee would be lower than Oregon's poundage fee.

As the statutes now read, we could lose our entire tax chapter in the code because of the two methods of assessing privilege taxes.

Also revised in order to establish in the statutes that privilege fees are to be paid on subsequent upward adjustments in the primary market value of food fish and shellfish handled and/or processed. Frequently the actual primary market value cannot be determined until the case pack or processed commodity is sold. Consequently for reporting purposes during the fishing season a company may use estimated prices per pound for evaluating its purchases of food fish and shellfish.

75.32.040—Canners, processors, dealers—Columbia River district.

Privilege fees.

Section amended to read in its entirety as follows with all other portions of the section having been deleted:

Canners, curers, freezers, retail dealers, wholesale dealers or fish byproducts manufacturers of food fish or shellfish located within the Columbia River district shall pay ((the following)) privilege fees on all fresh or frozen food fish, or parts thereof, including steelhead, and all fresh or frozen shellfish, or parts thereof, which they receive, handle, deal in or deal with as original receiver ((:)), as provided in RCW 75.32.030.

Justification: Relates to above; deletes wording relating to Columbia River.
75.32.070—Catch fees required—Exceptions.

Amended to read as follows:

A catch fee shall be paid by every person taking food fish or shellfish, or parts thereof, from the waters or beaches of this state for commercial purposes, and the fee shall be equal to two percent of the primary market value of all fresh or frozen chinook and silver salmon so taken, and one percent of the primary market value of all other species of food fish and shellfish, or parts thereof: Provided, that catch taxes shall not be paid by those taking shellfish from licensed oyster or clam farms ((nor by those taking food or shellfish from the waters of the Columbia River.)): Provided further, that catch fees shall be paid on any bonuses, settlements, or the like, paid fishermen according to poundages shown on the fish receiving tickets issued them for their catches.

Justification: Relates to above; deletes wording relating to Columbia River and establishes in the statutes that catch fees where applicable are to be paid on subsequent upward adjustments in the primary market value of food fish and shellfish taken and sold by fishermen.

75.32.090—Payment of privilege fees.

Identifying title amended to read as follows: ((Payment)) Remittance of privilege and catch fees.

This section amended to read as follows:

The privilege and/or catch fees herein provided for are due and payable in quarterly installments, and the fees accruing during each quarterly period shall become due on the first day of the month immediately following the end of the quarterly period, and shall be paid on or before the fifteenth day of that month.

The following shall constitute the quarterly period to be utilized:

- I. January, February, March;
- II. April, May, June;
- III. July, August, September;
- IV. October, November, December.

On or before the day payment is required as provided above the person paying the privilege and/or catch fees shall prepare a return under oath upon such forms and setting forth such information as the director may require, and transmit same to the director together with a remittance for the fees which are due. Any person, firm, business, corporation, cooperative, marketing association or the like that is subject at any time of the year to the privilege fee provision set forth in this chapter shall file a return each quarter whether or not any fees are due.

Privilege and/or catch fees payable on bonuses, settlements, or the like, shall become due and shall be remitted as provided in this section.

Justification: Revised to tie the remittance dates more closely to the work load periods of the fishing industry as well as to conform with reporting periods used by the State Tax Commission and other government agencies. It is understood that these arrangements would consolidate into a single month of each quarter the major government reports to be submitted by a business in the fishing industry, and thus should promote greater ease in the handling of them. Furthermore this quarterly system would allow the efficient interchange and utilization of information gathered by the tax and statistical staffs of this department.

75.32.100—Delinquent payments—Interest—Lien.

Identifying title amended to read as follows:

Delinquent payments—((Interest)) Penalties—Lien.

This section amended entirely to read as follows:

In the event payment of fees provided for under this chapter is not received by the fifteenth day of the month in which the fees become due, the fees shall become delinquent and the schedule of penalties stated below may be invoked. A return and/or remittance which is transmitted to the director by United States mail shall be deemed filed or received on the date shown by the post office cancellation mark stamped upon the envelope containing it.

The following shall be the schedule of penalties to be assessed for delinquent payments of such fees:

1. 16 through 30 days after due date—Add 10% of total fees due but not less than $1.00.
2. 31 through 60 days after due date—Add 20% of total fees due but not less than $2.00.
3. 61 through 90 days after due date—Add 25% of total fees due but not less than $3.00.
4. 91 days or more after due date—Add 25% of total fees due (but not less than $3.00) plus 8% interest per annum computed on the sum of the total fees due and the percentage penalty.

The delinquent fees together with the applicable penalties and accrued interest thereon shall constitute a first lien upon the cannery, packing plant, buildings, scows, boats, vehicles and other equipment used by the person or business owing the fees in the taking, handling, dealing in, dealing with or processing of food fish or shellfish.

Justification: This schedule of penalties is similar to that used by the State Tax Commission and its adoption should encourage more timely and accurate payments. This should also result in tax revenue being received throughout the biennium more closely to the estimated times of receipt. Likewise, there could be an incidental increase in revenue until the late filing of payments would become less prevalent than at present.

PROPOSED CLAM LEGISLATION

AN ACT relating to clam fishing; and adding a new chapter to Title 75 RCW.

Be it Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

SECTION 1. There is added to Title 75 RCW a new chapter which shall read as set forth in Sections 2 through 11 of this Act.

SECTION 2. The beds of all tidal waters lying below the line of the lower low tide which belong to or are held in trust by the state of Washington shall be subject to utilization for commercial cultivation and harvesting of clams. The Board of Natural Resources shall certify to the Director of Fisheries the areas of such beds that in the discretion of the Board of Natural Resources may best be utilized for the cultivation and harvesting of clams taking into consideration other commercial and private interests.

SECTION 3. The Director of Fisheries shall promulgate rules and regulations relating to, and manage and control under his direction the areas of beds of tidal waters lying below the line of the lower low tide certified to him by the Board of Natural Resources to insure the conservation, rehabilitation, SECTION 4. No person shall take clams from any beds of tidal waters lying below the line of the lower low tide regardless of whether or not such beds belong to or are held in trust by the State of Washington by means of any hydraulic or mechanically operated dredge or device without a valid annual license having been issued him therefor by the Director of Fisheries. Such licenses shall apply to the dredges or devices, and shall be transferable with the dredges and devices during the year for which they were issued. No license shall be issued to any person whose hydraulically or mechanically operated dredge or device has not been inspected or passed by the Director of Fisheries as being suitable for the purposes intended consistent with the purposes set forth in, and the rules and regulations issued pursuant to Section 3 of this act.

SECTION 5. Applications for the clam dredge or device licenses shall be made on forms provided by the Director of Fisheries. The fees for such licenses shall be $50.00 for each hydraulically operated dredge or device, and $15.00 for each mechanically operated dredge or device. All of such licenses shall expire on the thirty-first day of December of the year for which they were issued. Such licenses may be transferred without charge upon proper notification of transfer of the dredges or devices to the Director of Fisheries.

SECTION 6. No person shall harvest clams by use of any hydraulically or mechanically operated dredge or device within the areas certified to the Director of Fisheries by the Board of Natural Resources without a valid permit having been issued him therefor by the Director of Fisheries. SECTION 7. The Director of Fisheries may restrict the permits issued pursuant to Section 6 of this Act by conditions recited therein regulating the areas, times and manner of operation, and the amount of the harvest, consistent with the purposes set forth in, and the rules and regulations issued pursuant to Section 3 of this Act.

SECTION 8. The permits authorizing the harvesting of clams by use of dredges or devices shall apply to the person to whom they are issued and shall not be transferable. Application for such permits shall be made on forms provided by the Director of Fisheries. All of such permits shall expire on the thirty-first day of December of the year for which they were issued.

SECTION 9. The fee for such a permit shall be a sum of money equal to ten percent of total payment received by the permittee from the sale of the clams, or ten percent of the clams which the Director of Fisheries may withhold for seed purposes, harvested pursuant to the permit. Such payment, or the applicable portion thereof, shall be made to the Director of Fisheries, as harvested, or upon the consummation of each separate sale of clams harvested pursuant to the permit.

SECTION 10. All moneys collected by the Director of Fisheries pursuant to this Act shall be remitted by him for deposit in the general fund of the state treasury.

SECTION 11. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this Act, any rules or regulations issued hereunder, or any conditions of any permits issued hereunder shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. Upon conviction therefor the Director of Fisheries may cancel or revoke any license or permit issued pursuant to this Act to the person so convicted.

MINUTES OF LEGISLATIVE INTERIM FISHERIES COMMITTEE MEETINGS*Astoria, Oregon, November 9, 1959

Due to conflicts in Columbia River sport fishing regulations between the states of Washington and Oregon which led to the arrest of Washington citizens by Oregon enforcement agents, Governor Albert D. Rosellini requested the Washington Legislative Interim Fisheries Committee and the Washington Department of Fisheries to meet with Oregon officials to review the problem and recommend a solution. Subsequently a meeting was held in Astoria, Oregon on November 9, 1959 with the State of Oregon Legislative Interim Committee on Natural Resources, members of the Oregon Fish and Game Commissions and members of the Oregon State Police.

Members of the Washington Legislative Interim Fisheries Committee present were Senators Homer Nunamaker, Eugene Ivy and Don Talley, and Representatives Max Wedekind, Richard Ruoff, Chet King, and Dick Kink. The Fisheries Department was represented by Director Milo Moore.

After an opening address by Mayor Steinbock of Astoria and remarks by Senator Naterlin of Oregon, Director Milo Moore reviewed the general fishery situation in Washington regarding sport fishing regulations and associated problems, and recommended that in order to avoid incidents such as occurred last fall at the mouth of the Columbia River, a zone five miles on either side of the north and south jetties should be regarded as a sort of free area where citizens of both states could fish without regard to state boundaries.

It developed that the conflict had arisen due to three major problems: (1) a license is required in Oregon to take salmon with sports gear, but not in Washington; (2) the bag limit is two salmon in Oregon and three in Washington; and (3) Oregon is not authorized to grant charter licenses to non-residents. It was generally agreed that these differences in regulations should be ironed out and that the meeting had made a tremendous gain in reconciling differences between the two states.

Much constructive discussion by legislators of the two states followed touching on the problem of licensing Washington fishermen, sources of revenue for fisheries budgets of both states, the status of the steelhead trout in the Columbia River commercial fishery and the problem of the commercial sportsman.

The meeting concluded with the following summation by Representative Dick Kink of Bellingham: "The Game and Fish Commissions of Oregon and the Washington Department of Fisheries should get together and formulate suggestions to solve the conflict in regulating fishing at the mouth of the Columbia River and submit them to legislatures." He favored a reciprocity agreement at the mouth of the Columbia River five miles either way.

It was further decided that the two committees would meet again after the departments have made their suggestions.

Seattle, Washington, December 4, 1959

On December 4, 1959 the Committee met with the Fisheries Department to review the program and the progress of the department. Interim Committee members in attendance were Senators Homer Nunamaker and Representatives Max Wedekind, Dick Kink, and Richard Ruoff. The meeting was held at the Puget Sound Regional Office of the Fisheries Department at Salmon Bay, Seattle.

Director Moore presented a broad review of the fisheries situation in the State of Washington, pointing out the seriousness of the 12-mile territorial boundary proposal in regard to our fisheries economy, and advanced a new concept in proposing the cultivation of the ocean bottom along Washington's shallow coast line by dredging; the work to be done by the department's newly acquired shallow-draft vessel "Rhododendron". Other topics discussed by Moore included the long-standing problem of regulating the Indian fisheries throughout the state, new hatcheries being completed, salmon escape-ments, and two new films being completed.

Because of limitations in time, only a brief review of the work in progress was possible. Departmental division heads reported briefly on the most important phases of the work, such as the status of the fish farm program where considerable progress has been made and results appear quite favorable for substantial contributions from these natural rearing areas; importations of shellfish, such as abalone from California and quahogs from the Atlantic Coast, and cherrystone clams; artificial propagation of clams pointing toward a 3-5 million production each month; new control methods for starfish and predator crabs; rearing of clams and crabs in fish farms; and the overall budget picture.

The presentation by the department was very enlightening to the committee members who agreed that the program was progressing satisfactorily.

In executive session the Fisheries Committee agreed to send the following telegram to the State Department:

Mr. William C. Herrington
Special Assistant to the Under Secretary for Fish and Wildlife
Department of State
Washington, D. C.

The Washington State Legislative Interim Committee on Fisheries considers various aspects of negotiations pertaining to the Law of Sea Conference scheduled Spring of 1960 a possible threat to practical management and to the welfare of Washington fisheries. We believe it important for State Department to hold meetings on the Pacific Coast where all matters pertaining to this region under consideration may be discussed.

Interim Committee:

Seattle, Washington. January 17, 1960

The Department of Fisheries was host to a closed meeting called by the United States State Department to discuss preparations for the Geneva

Conference. Called by William C. Herrington, Special Assistant to the Undersecretary of State, for fisheries, the principal speaker was Capt. L. R. Hardy, from the Chief of Naval Operations office who said that America must resist a 12-mile limit or have her seapower around the world practically nullified.

The meeting was attended by Legislative Interim Fisheries Committee members Dick Kink of Bellingham, and Max Wedekind of Seattle. It afforded them the opportunity to become familiar with the considerations of the Federal government in regard to the problem of territorial limits.

Seattle, Washington. February 13, 1960

On February 13, 1960, Milo Moore, Director of Fisheries, called a public hearing to discuss the Geneva Conference with members of the Washington Legislative Interim Fisheries Committee and legislative and fisheries officials of the State of Oregon.

Members of the Washington Legislative Interim Fisheries Committee attending were Representatives Dick Kink and Max Wedekind and Senator John Papajani.

Fisheries officials of the two states urged a "no compromise stand" by the United States at the International Law of the Sea Conference in Geneva scheduled for April, 1960.

Seattle, Washington. March 5, 1960

The Committee met with the Fisheries Department to discuss current problems facing the Washington fishing industry, particularly in regard to the International Law of the Sea Conference scheduled for April, 1960 in Geneva.

Members in attendance were:

Senators Eugene Ivy and John Papajani, Representatives Chet King, Dick Kink, and Max Wedekind.

The Committee declared itself strongly opposed to any action at the International Law of the Sea Conference in Geneva which would affect the historic fishing rights of United States fishermen. It was emphasized that there should be no compromise on any territorial boundary since any extension of the 3-mile limit would seriously affect the abilities of U. S. fishermen in harvesting fish in which the nation, and particularly the State of Washington, has a vested interest.

Fisheries Director Milo Moore and members of his staff presented summaries of the Department's activities in fields of fish farming, regulations and enforcement and exploratory fishing. Discussions touched upon Canada's advantages in fishing in the Strait of Juan de Fuca with the present Bonilla-Tatoosh Line, a review of fish farm areas now in production, contemplated power dams on the Snake River, the Castile Falls fishway, commercial and sports fishing licenses, commercial fisheries privilege taxes, regulation hearings by the Department of Fisheries and deep sea clam explorations.

Bellingham, Washington. April 5, 1960

A subcommittee of the Legislative Interim Fisheries Committee held a public hearing in Bellingham on April 5, 1960, to collect facts on the proposal by the South Whidbey Island Chamber of Commerce for a recreational preserve around Whidbey Island. The meeting was attended by some hundred or more persons representing commercial and sports interests.

Members of the subcommittee attending were Senator Homer Nunamaker of Bellingham, and Representatives Dick Kink of Bellingham, and Max Wedekind of Seattle. After opening the meeting, Chairman Max Wedekind, requested Mr. Robert S. Robison, representing the Department of Fisheries' position on the proposal.

Mr. Robison informed the group that early last summer, 1959, the South Whidbey Island Chamber of Commerce requested the Department of Fisheries to consider a recreational preserve around Whidbey Island. The Department maintained that was not their prerogative to determine who shall or shall not fish in the area, but that it was a legislative matter since the proposal actually meant the closure of the area to commercial fishermen for the benefit of sport fishermen. The Department is only interested in perpetuating the runs of fish and to do this will take any regulatory measures necessary even if it means closing both commercial and sport fishing in an area.

Although not knowing the full text of the proposal, by the Whidbey Island Chamber of Commerce, the commercial groups went on record that such a proposal was not conservation; that sport fishermen would gain special privileges, and that the proposal was class legislation, and not in the best interests of the people of the State of Washington.

Representative Max Wedekind, Chairman of the subcommittee, reminded the Whidbey group they must supply the committee with facts to justify their proposal, and that these facts must support the principles of conservation and fisheries management. The Whidbey group refused to comment, but indicated that they would submit briefs to the committee within two weeks.

The Interim Fisheries subcommittee then stated that another hearing would be called when more facts were in hand, and that this hearing would be in the Fisheries Department Seattle office.

Westport, Washington. June 24, 1960

An open meeting of the Washington Legislative Fisheries Interim Committee was held on June 24, 1960, at 10 a.m. at Westport, Washington, Veterans' Hall.

Members of the committee present were Senators Homer Nunamaker and Representatives Chet King, John Papajani, Richard Ruoff and Max Wedekind. Approximately 200 people were in the audience.

Carl Clubb of the Westport Charter Boat Association and Chuck Newman, chairman of the Salmon Committee of the Washington State Sports Council, along with local representatives, gave a review of how they might help the department in improving fisheries, with particular emphasis given to the development of fish farms in the general area.

George Johansen, Alaska Fishermen's Union business agent, reviewed general problems affecting fisheries and international problems dealing with North Pacific High Seas fisheries operations.

The Westport Charter Boat Association and business men offered to help finance one fish farm to be selected in the area, and proposed that a salmon derby be carried out under their direction, with the profit to be applied to the fish farm for the propagation of fish.

A sport license for the taking of food fish was also proposed and a suggestion made that a fish tag costing 33 cents per tag be applied to each salmon landed to assist in the collection of revenue for the purpose of expanding salmon cultural operations.

The matter of adopting a commission form of management for fisheries was briefly discussed. A representative of Washington State Sports Council indicated that this group had favored such a plan.

The Department of Fisheries representative outlined a program for expanding fisheries propagation throughout the state to obtain increased escapement of spawning salmon and stressed the need to obtain coordination if fisheries management along the entire Pacific Coast is to adequately protect salmon resources. Remarks by fishermen indicated poor runs of salmon off the coast this season.

Seattle, Washington. August 17, 1960

A subcommittee of the Legislative Interim Fisheries Committee met with the Department of Fisheries at the Seattle Regional office to discuss preparation of the Committee's report to the 37th Legislature and proposed legislation to be recommended.

Members in attendance were Senators Eugene Ivy and Homer Nunamaker and Representative Max Wedekind, who acted as chairman.

As a result of the meeting the general form and contents of the Committee's Report were adopted and legislative changes in the Fisheries Code recommended by the Department of Fisheries were reviewed.

Director Moore outlined the needs of the Department for a new patrol airplane to replace the 13-year-old plane now being used and a 60-foot vessel for offshore patrol and research work. It was agreed that both items were completely justified.

Director Moore further informed the subcommittee of plans by Century 21-World's Fair group to build a portable fresh and marine fish exhibit that could be obtained by the Fisheries Department for subsequent exhibit use if monies were available. It was agreed that the full committee should look into this matter.

Olympia, Washington. December 2, 1960

The Washington Interim Legislative Committee met with the Oregon Legislative Interim Committee on Natural Resources and discussed matters of mutual interest relating to the concurrent fisheries jurisdiction on the Columbia River and particularly the sports salmon fishery off the mouth of the Columbia and coastal areas to the north and south.

Members of the Washington committee present were Senators Donald Talley, John Papajani, and Homer Nunamaker and Representatives Chet King, Richard Kink, Richard Ruoff and Max Wedekind. From Oregon were Senators Andrew J. Naterlin, Daniel A. Thiel and Walter C. Leth, Representatives Bill Bradley, Frank Weatherford, Charles Collins and L. C. Binford.

Sports salmon fishermen from Washington ran into difficulties in 1959 and 1960 when fishing in Oregon territorial waters without an Oregon salmon license which subjected them to arrest. The Oregon legislators suggested that Washington adopt legislation or regulations to:

1. Require a license to fish for salmon costing not less than that which Oregon requires, which is $5.00 for the season or $1.00 per day.
2. Require the same salmon bag and possession limits as in Oregon, which is two salmon 22" or over. (Washington regulations call for two salmon, 22" or over within the mouth of the Columbia, up to the lower end of Puget Sound, but allow three salmon, 20" or over in coastal waters.)

3. Adopt a reciprocal license agreement for those salmon waters of concurrent jurisdiction or where a river forms a boundary between the two states.

Much of the discussion at the meeting concerned the poor salmon runs of the past four years and the need for further regulations and a reduction of salmon landings among all fishermen in all areas.

Seattle, Washington. December 9 and 10, 1960

The Legislative Interim Fisheries Committee met in the conference room of the Seattle office of the Department of Fisheries, Friday, Dec. 9, and Saturday, Dec. 10, 1960, to hear suggestions from interested citizens and to discuss with Department personnel plans for the coming Legislature.

The Dec. 9 meeting was open to the public.

Present were Chairman Chet King, Raymond; Reps. Max Wedekind and Richard Ruoff, Seattle, and Richard Kink, Bellingham. Rep. Ruoff was not present Dec. 10.

Legislation was suggested to stop sport fishing for immature salmon during the winter months. Fisheries Director Milo Moore and the Washington State Sports Council were asked to submit recommendations for the closure dates. Committee Chairman Chet King said the committee "will do our best to get that type of legislation through." Rep. Max Wedekind said the committee can expect strong opposition from resort owners, which he described as a "selfish group."

John Lian of Seattle, a commercial salmon troller, demanded stricter regulations on sport fishing. He proposed an escape corridor for salmon from the Columbia River to Puget Sound, closing the entire shoreline to all types of fishing.

The committee took under consideration proposals for a salt water fishing license and to reduce the daily bag limit on ocean-caught salmon from three fish to two.

The oyster industry asked the committee to allocate funds to establish oyster farms to grow seed for the state. Coupled with the proposal was one for an oyster research program by the Department of Fisheries.

Committee members also were asked to support a request for funds for the department to participate in a Century 21 Exposition exhibit. Other funds for the exhibit would be provided by the fishing industry. Fisheries Director Milo Moore said the department should have $50,000 to $100,000 for the Century 21 project, saying it would be a real show and mean a lot to the whole state.

Chairman King said he was in sympathy with the proposal and that the committee would do everything possible to obtain the appropriation.

The Puget Sound Gillnetters' Association urged a bill giving the fisheries director authority to extend commercial net fishing in Puget Sound from November 30 to December 11. The November 30 deadline now is set by law.

The gillnetters also asked for removal of a 60-mile-long salmon preserve from Sail Rock in Neah Bay along the Strait of Juan de Fuca to Dungeness. The preserve extends three miles offshore. In its place the association proposed circular "no fishing" zones around the mouth of each stream in the existing preserve.

Fishing interests asked for a resolution calling on Congress to establish a salmon sanctuary on Idaho's Salmon River. The resolution would prohibit any dam construction on the Salmon River and any obstruction over 100 feet high on the Snake River downstream from its confluence with the Salmon River.

Joseph T. Mijich, attorney, who presented the resolution, said it is aimed squarely at preventing construction of the 700-foot-high Nez Perce dam on the Snake River.

At the Saturday meeting of the committee Fisheries Director Milo Moore said his department would submit a budget for the next biennium calling for an expansion of research, fish farming and patrol activities. He said he could not estimate the total budget because his recommendations still are under review by the governor's office.

Chairman King said the committee is eager to see the budget as soon as possible so committee members "can get behind the projects we like."

Moore said one essential need is the replacement of the department's aging one-engine amphibious plane with a twin-engined plane capable of safely carrying out patrols of the area between Tatoosh Island and the Columbia River. Moore said a combination patrol and research vessel capable of carrying out the program of bottom survey along the coast and patrol for enforcement in ocean waters was also an essential need.

Rep. Max Wedekind suggested enabling legislation to permit agencies such as the department of budget for depreciation of major equipment each year and thus build up a replacement fund. King agreed strongly.

"We are running a big business and we should follow business practices," Wedekind said.

Wedekind also suggested that the Interim Committee meet with the Oregon Interim Committee in Salem the first part of February, 1961, in regards to legislation introduced by each group on fisheries problems.

The Standard Oil Co. presented a request to set off explosive charges around Whidbey Island early in 1961 for underwater seismographic oil explorations. This proposal was referred to Director Moore and his staff.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the Legislative Interim Fisheries Committee is directed and empowered to investigate and make recommendations relative to the fisheries of the Columbia River Basin and elsewhere; and

WHEREAS, the Committee previously has opposed the construction of Nez Perce dam on the Snake River because of the disastrous effect it would have on the salmon runs of the Salmon River, which sustain important recreational and commercial fisheries in the State of Washington and off its coast;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That this Committee strongly endorse the concept of a Federal fish sanctuary for the Salmon River watershed, and ask that Congress enact legislation, during its next session, prohibiting the licensing or construction of any dam or other obstruction of any height on the Salmon River in Idaho, and prohibiting further the licensing or construction of any dam or other obstruction higher than one hundred feet on the Snake River downstream from its confluence with the Salmon River.

A BILL

To provide for the conservation of anadromous fish and spawning areas in the Salmon River, Idaho.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That in recognition of the fact that the Salmon River and its tributaries constitute one of the principal spawning areas of Pacific salmon and steelhead trout, it is the purpose of this Act to prohibit, unless future developments justify a change in this policy by the Congress of the United States, the authorization of any dams, reservoirs or other structures of any height on the Salmon River in Idaho, and any dams higher than 100 feet on the Snake River downstream from its confluence with the Salmon River.

SEC. 2. The Federal Power Commission shall not issue any permit, license, lease, or other authorization under the provisions of the Federal Power Act for any dam, reservoir, conduit, powerhouse or other works of any height on the Salmon River in Idaho, or for any dam higher than 100 feet on the Snake River downstream from its confluence with the Salmon River.

SEC. 3. The Secretary of the Interior shall report to the Congress any developments in fish conservation or fish passage at dams that in his opinion justify amending this Act.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING RELATING TO THE INDIAN FISHERIES OF THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST

. . . for the Interim Fisheries Committee and Indian tribes, drawn up by Fisheries Director Milo Moore at the suggestion of the Interim Committee.

WHEREAS: It is recognized, with the passage of time since the signing of the United States treaties with Pacific Indian Tribes in 1855-1857, the passing years brought many changes that have adversely affected the carrying out of the terms and conditions of the treaties. Originally, it was intended the agreements would protect the interests and rights of both Indians and white citizens. It is further recognized, with the increased development of the area, the increased population and progress in the advancement of the territory, that unsatisfactory relations have resulted over interpretations of the terms and conditions of the treaties dealing with fishing rights and that it is clearly evident that this lack of understanding with respect to fisheries has worked to the detriment of both Indians and white citizens; that fishing areas once abundantly stocked with salmon are now depleted, and that, with the signing of the treaty, stipulations and terms of the agreement thereafter precluded means to provide conservation of the resources; and that said conditions have impaired, at times, the good will and relations between the Indian people and white citizens, and with related government agencies responsible for maintaining the fisheries resources.

Therefore, be it resolved; that it is the general will and desire of all citizens, including people of the affected Indian tribes; that the Congress of the United States recognize this obligation to the nation to provide a more equitable understanding with the affected Indian tribes and the means of securing the fisheries interests involved under the terms of the treaties now in effect with the United States and Pacific Indian tribes.

It is further resolved; that a fisheries rehabilitation program be provided to replenish the stocks of salmon, clams, oysters and other species of fish where possible at Indian Reservation areas, and that such program to improve fisheries be carried out under arrangements between the Federal government, the State of Washington and the individual Indian tribes.

MESSAGE OF ALBERT D. ROSELLINI, GOVERNOR OF WASHINGTON, TO THE EXTRAORDINARY SESSION OF THE THIRTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE

Friday, March 10, 1961.

MR. PRESIDENT, MR. SPEAKER, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATURE:

This special session has been called to appropriate the money and levy the taxes necessary to carry on the functions of state government.

We must maintain the effectiveness of programs.

We must make certain that taxes are distributed fairly and do not oppress segments of our population or economy, or bring hardship to those least able to pay.

When the regular session began, I offered a budget which in my opinion was a plan that would provide the minimum amounts needed to operate state government for two years. Later a tax plan was presented which we believed was realistic and the fairest we could devise. I would like to make it clear now that my positions with regard to the budget and with regard to revenues have not changed.

But may I also make it clear that I am willing to consider adjustments. I will be stubborn about only one thing. I will not accept an unbalanced budget.

It is highly significant that we are meeting during a recession as severe as any of the past twenty years. The sag in the economy and employment has had a tremendous impact on the temper of the people and upon events of the regular session. However, it is well to remember that economists tell us the recession is temporary. Their optimism is well-founded, because we have an aggressive administration in Washington, D. C. May I emphasize that we are not planning programs for the next ninety days, but for the next two years.

I ask these questions. Is this the time to impose drastic cuts? Do we reduce the amounts spent to educate a child? Should we limit enrollments at our colleges and universities? Do we slow down the highway construction program? Should we reduce the level of care at our mental hospitals? Or cut the welfare program which cares for the less fortunate?

Is this the time to lose the faith and confidence of our teachers?

The decisions made in this extraordinary session could easily destroy their morale. We have already let educational standards slip. If the standards go any lower, it will take us years to recover and rebuild. This is not a problem that will go away if we ignore it.

I believe that the paramount duty before the state—more than ever before—is to provide adequately for education, for the schools and colleges preserve and advance the intellectual and moral values of our free society. They determine scientific and social progress and the opportunities of tomorrow.

I believe this is a time to go forward—not backward.

I believe it is imperative that we speed the construction of freeways, especially in metropolitan areas.

I believe it is urgent and a matter of good business that we refinance the Hood Canal Bridge and ferry system as embodied in Senate Bills 505 and 506 of the regular session.

And may I emphasize again that our cities need financial relief. A plan was presented which, if adopted, would broaden our tax base. It is now apparent that assistance to the cities is dependent on a broader tax base if the state is to give them direct aid. It is equally obvious that some means to increase their income is urgently needed and must be found.

In conclusion, may I say that it is also highly significant that we are meeting at a time when our nation is locked in deadly competition with the Communist conspiracy; and may I repeat something I said in my inaugural address:

"I pray that we shall receive the Divine guidance to meet the responsibilities which go with the liberty we enjoy."

"Will you yield, Mr. Nicholson?"

Mr. Nicholson:

"Yes."

Mr. Lewis:

"I have an amendment on the desk and I would like to ask you to withdraw your amendment in favor of mine. I think my amendment is superior to yours for the reason that I include an area which should properly be included in this type of amendment, the area of prescription drugs and medicine not included in your amendment."

Mr. Nicholson:

"My answer is this: When I prepared my amendment, I did consider essentially the same language as Mr. Lewis has suggested, but I saw a couple of complications. One is the definition of prescription drugs, which is language I don't know that we should have in our Constitution because these things change. The other is that your amendment has a reference to spiritous, malt, or vinous liquors, etc., which I think might raise an extraneous issue during the period of campaigning for and against the constitutional amendment, and I think we have to keep these things as simple as possible."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Beierlein, Litchman, and Goldmark arguing against adoption of the amendment, and Representative Nicholson arguing in favor of its adoption.

Mr. Gorton:

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Gorton, your amendment is in substance similar to the House Joint Resolution sponsored in 1957 by Julia Butler Hansen, one of our senators, and myself. If you and a number of your colleagues would go along with a move to suspend the rules for the purpose of returning to another portion of the bill to strike out the ten percent limitation on income tax, then I would continue my move for reconsideration of your proposed amendment."

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Klein, I don't think you have to have a suspension of the rules to strike out the ten percent limitation. You have fifty-nine votes. If you want to strike out the ten percent limitation and put this in, you can do so."

With the consent of the House, Mr. Klein withdrew his motion for reconsideration of the vote by which Mr. Gorton's amendment to House Joint Resolution No. 2 failed to be adopted.

"We have already considered two amendments that struck the entire paragraph. Mr. Cecil's amendment might be a good idea, but I think it is out of order at this time."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"It appears, Mr. Cecil, that Mr. Brink's point is well taken. The House by its action has indicated its desire to keep intact that first paragraph, so any amendment to that paragraph would be out of order."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Copeland:

"In accordance with Reed's Rule 142, I think that it might be possible to strike out the same words and insert other words, even though the body had decided negatively on striking the entire section."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I refer you to Reed's Rule 138 which more or less has been the determining factor on our motions to strike out and amend paragraphs. You have to offer amendments before the motion to strike the entire paragraph."

MOTION

Mr. Comfort moved that the rules be suspended and that Mr. Cecil be permitted to present his amendment to House Joint Resolution No. 2.

The motion was lost on a rising vote.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mr. Schaefer, having voted on the prevailing side, moved that the House do now reconsider the vote by which Mr. Comfort's motion to suspend the rules had failed to carry.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"If you will refer to Reed's Rule 204, it states: 'A motion to reconsider is applicable to almost all motions. The exceptions are, the motion to adjourn, to lay on the table when decided in the affirmative, suspension of rules, and the motion to reconsider itself.' Your motion to reconsider the motion to suspend the rules must be declared out of order."

House Joint Resolution No. 2 was ordered engrossed.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Litchman, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 2 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Goldmark?"

Mr. Goldmark:

"Yes."

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Goldmark, you made a statement that we could cut twenty million dollars off the budget in one area. Could you name that area?"

Mr. Goldmark:

"Dr. Adams, my statement was that if you were assuming that you wanted to stay within the existing revenue, that one person or another might say it was possible to cut here and there. I said this can be done, and the state can live through the next two years, but I said it would not be meeting what I feel is our obligation to the people of the state."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Adams, Evans, and Andersen (James A.), arguing against passage of the resolution, and Representatives Beck, Litchman, and Edwards speaking in favor of its passage.

Mr. Schaefer demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the final passage of Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 2.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 2, and the resolution failed to pass the House by the following vote: Yeas, 53; nays, 45; absent or not voting, 1.

Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 2, having failed to receive the constitutional two-thirds majority vote of the members elected, was declared lost.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

We have voted against Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 2 because we oppose the imposition of a graduated net income tax on the people of the state of Washington at this time. We believe that tax programs should be balanced so that the impact does not fall too heavily on a particular class of property or person. However, it is unfair to view state taxes or local taxes without reference to taxes imposed by the federal government. At the present time over two-thirds of the taxes paid by the citizens of this state are federal income taxes.

Some people believe that an income tax will relieve the tax burden on persons with low and medium incomes and will raise additional revenue from persons with high incomes. This isn't true. The impact of the income tax will be felt most heavily by the same people who pay the bulk of our sales taxes and property taxes. For example: the total amount of incomes of persons earning $10,000 or more each year is only $435,329,000, whereas the total income of person earning $10,000 or less each year is five billion dollars. No matter what tax rates are chosen, the only significant revenues to be derived from the income tax must be derived from those persons who produce the five billion dollars of available income. These facts even impelled the Democratic Lieutenant Governor to condemn the income tax proposal. He said, "The person earning $7,500 or less with a family to support is paying all of the taxes already that he can afford." We agree with this position.

We believe that the best way to produce revenues needed by the state is to concentrate on stimulating our state economy so that it will produce, out of existing taxes, the new money necessary to meet the needs of education and other essential state programs. In order to do this, we must halt the trend by which our general state government is increasing more rapidly than the state's population and the incomes of its citizens. Our economy will never expand to provide our needed new revenues if we continue to increase the cost of general government more rapidly than the ability of our citizens to pay for it. Our state has risen to seventh place among the states of the United States in per capita taxes paid at the state and local level, during a period when we have dropped from twelfth to thirteenth place in per capita net income. The solution to this problem does not lie in giving to the state legislature a new tax source which makes it easier to expand government more rapidly than we can afford to pay for it.

Some people have said that at least we should vote "Yes" on an income tax proposal in order to give the people of the state an opportunity to vote on it. We believe the Constitution requires that we vote our convictions and not propose any measure to the people unless we are endorsing its passage. We do not believe that the people of the state of Washington want a net income tax any more than we do. At the beginning of the regular session of this legislature we caused a questionnaire covering a number of vital state issues to be published in daily and weekly newspapers throughout the state. Nearly twenty thousand of these questionnaires were returned. One of the issues on the questionnaire related to a state income tax. Only nineteen percent of the people answering the questionnaire favored such a tax. We believe that we are following the wishes of our constituents by opposing this measure.

For these reasons we have voted "No" on the final passage of Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 2.

No funds shall be paid from this appropriation for county hospitals and county infirmaries unless such hospitals and infirmaries provide the department of public assistance with sufficient

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The word "agency" used herein shall mean and include every state government office, officer, each institution, whether educational, correctional or other, and every department, division, board and commission, except as otherwise provided in this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. In order to carry out the provisions of these appropriations and the state budget, the budget director, with the approval of the governor, may:

(1) Allot all or any portion of the funds herein appropriated, or included in the state budget, to the various agencies by such periods as he shall determine and may place any funds not so allotted in reserve available for subsequent allotment: Provided, That the budget director shall not alter allotment requests filed with him, nor shall he place in reserve any funds, for the following: Agencies headed by elective officials; University of Washington; Washington State University; Central Washington College of Education; Eastern Washington College of Education; Western Washington College of Education; Washington State Apple Advertising Commission; Washington State Fruit Commission; Washington Dairy Products Commission or any agricultural commodity commission created under the provisions of RCW 15.66; the legislative branch of state government including the legislative council, the legislative budget committee, the statute law committee, and any legislative interim committee; or the judicial branch of state government: Provided, however, That the aggregate of allotments for any agency shall not exceed the total of applicable appropriations and local funds available to the agency concerned. It shall be unlawful for any officer or employee to incur obligations in excess of approved allotments or to incur a deficiency and any obligation so made shall be deemed invalid. Nothing in this section or in chapter 328, Laws of 1959 shall prevent revision of any allotment when necessary to prevent the making of expenditures under appropriations in this act in excess of available revenues.

(2) Issue rules and regulations to establish uniform standards and business practices throughout the state service, including regulation of travel by officers and employees and the conditions under which per diem shall be paid, so as to improve efficiency and conserve funds.

(3) Prescribed procedures and forms to carry out the above.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. No part of the appropriations in this act may be used for increasing the salary of any position in the classified service unless each such position has been evaluated and classified according to the provisions of chapter 1, Laws of 1961.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Except as otherwise provided in this act, any receipts from federal or other sources or from gifts or grants in excess of those estimated in the budget may be received and allotted by the governor but in the event that receipts shall be less than those estimated in the budget from any source the appropriation shall be limited to the amount actually received and allotments made as provided in section 3. Whenever possible, the receipt of federal or other funds which are not anticipated by the governor's budget or the legislature shall be used to support regular programs instead of using appropriated funds. The governor's budget shall identify allotments made pursuant to this section and shall indicate whether and to what extent the budgets for future bienniums will require any state funds for the continuation of the activities supported by such allotments.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Agencies are authorized to make refunds of erroneous or excessive payments and in the case of other refunds, which may be provided by law, without express appropriation therefor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Whenever allocations are made from the governor's emergency appropriation to an agency which is financed by other than general fund moneys, the budget director may direct the repayment of such allocated amount to the general fund from any balance in the fund or funds which finance such agency. No appropriations shall be necessary to effect such repayment.

recipient whether the same be separate or community property or is held in joint tenancy, and no right of survivorship shall defeat such a claim."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"My point of order is that Mr. Clark's amendment to the amendment appears to amend the initiative on joint tenancy which was passed by the people, and therefore would require a two-thirds vote of both Houses. Specifically, this is changing the joint tenancy initiative so that a claim could be filed regardless of joint tenancy."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Williams:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Williams:

"The joint tenancy initiative provided that the rights of creditors shall not be derogated. This amendment states that the state is a creditor and therefore it does not conflict with the joint tenancy initiative."

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

I wish to be recorded as having voted "Yea." I was too tired to notice that I had inadvertently voted "Nay."

JOHN BIGLEY,
30th District.

For the record, I have voted against House Joint Resolution No. 2, and against the House committee amendment to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1, and I am voting against all tax bills before the extraordinary session of 1961.

I served on the subcommittee on appropriations, and on that committee there was no attempt on the part of the majority party to cut back on appropriations for departments of state government, institutions or welfare.

Some of us presented amendments in the committee and on the floor of the House which would have saved at least fifty million dollars. This would have balanced the budget.

I served on the subcommittee on education of the appropriations committee and was happy to join with Representative Klein in bringing up the education part of the amended budget. It is not as much as an educator would like to have for the quality of service that he would have for the children of the state. I do not think educators should be too unhappy with the amended part of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1 on education.

If I could vote for the education budget alone, I would do so. In good conscience, I cannot vote for the rest of the budget and not vote for new taxes.

I do not believe we need new taxes if we would honestly cut back parts of the budget that are "blown up" too high.

I, therefore, have to vote against the entire budget and all taxes in this extraordinary session of 1961.

AUDLEY F. MAHAFFEY
46th District.

We are gravely concerned about the increasing costs of general state government at a time when the ability of our citizens to pay these costs have been impaired by depressed economic conditions. We have noted that the number of state employees (outside of the field of education) has increased a staggering seventeen percent at a time when we have slipped from twelfth to thirteenth place among the states in per capita net income.

We support the appropriation for common schools and higher education contained in Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1 as amended by the House. The increase in this appropriation over the appropriation for the last biennium is fully justified by the vast influx of students in our state schools and institutions of higher education and by the need to provide increased salaries for teachers. However, we fear that the increased needs of education have been used as an excuse to make unjustified increases in expenditures for general government, and to make them appear to be minor when compared with increases in education.

We made a bona fide effort, when this bill was on second reading, to adopt amendments which would have maintained several areas of general government at the level of the last biennium with cost of living increases in salaries. These amendments were all rejected, so a number of other proposed amendments carrying out this philosophy were withdrawn in the interests of expediting the business of the House.

We also suggested amendments to provide needed reforms in the field of public assistance which would have produced substantial savings without reducing grants to deserving recipients. These amendments were also rejected.

As a result, tax increases will be necessary, not to support education, but to support other programs at a level our citizens cannot now afford. We do not believe education should be made the scapegoat for new taxes. We do not believe the House appropriation for education should be lowered in any overall compromise with the Senate.

To dramatize this position we have voted against Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1 as amended by the House.

RESOLUTIONS

Resolution to St. Patrick by Mr. O'May:

My name is John O'Brien, I'm Speaker of the House.
 And whin I bang the gavel, things get quiet as a mouse
 I go through all the motions, that appear upon the scene
 They range from purple cowsmilk, to tradin stamps so green.
 I walk up to the rostrum, say the clerk will call the roll
 He starts out with McAck-a-ly, and slowly marks the scroll
 I look up at the calendar, and shure it's Saint Pat's day
 And as I sat there dreamin, my thoughts are miles away.
 To an island green so far away, Ireland is its name
 From whence so many years ago, all my kinfolk came,
 McAdams and McAhlquist, The Anderson, Eric O. and Jim
 In my dreams I'm wonderin, how these Swedes got in.
 The clerk keeps callin out the names of Clark and Comfort, too
 Conner, O'Day and Farrington, all Irish names so true
 And as I sit there dreamin, it causes me to smile
 Dreamin of an old log shanty, there on Emerald's Isle.
 Gallagher, Gleason, Hurley are the ones he reads out next Mahaffey, McCormick, McDougall are read out of the text
 Morrissey, McElroy, McFadden more names he seems to drone
 O'Connell, O'Donnell, O'Litchman, he calls them one by one.
 Then came Smith, but not old Al, who lived in New York Town
 But Samuel J., of County King, and not of County Down
 And I just sit there dreamin, not thinkin of this place
 But dreamin of the ould home, tis such a pretty place.
 Leader O'Litchman looked at John, put his thumbs down for no
 The bell it rang, O'Brien sprang, lookin to and fro
 And whin he seen the orange lights, and not a one was green
 What an awful way he said today, to spoil an Irish dream.

On motion of Mr. Avey, the resolution was adopted.

Resolution by Committee on Agriculture:

Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the State of Washington, in legislative session assembled, that this body requests the Agriculture Subcommittee of the Legislative Council to make the following studies during the next biennium, and prepare a report which would include recommended legislation in those cases where legislation is deemed to be appropriate:

1. A study be made of the existing animal disease livestock diagnostic facilities in operation within our state, in the interests of protecting the health of livestock, and in the interests of controlling and helping to prevent the spread of infectious and contagious livestock diseases, and in the interests of eradicating livestock diseases which may be transmissible to human beings, such as tuberculosis and brucellosis.

2. That a study be made of Chapter 22.08, Terminal Warehouse and Commodity Inspection, and the department of agriculture's authority in the area of the handling, inspection, and storage of grain and related commodities, and in the area of licensing and bonding of grain warehouses, for the purpose of modernizing those laws and thereby making them more responsive to present needs, and that the committee work with representatives of the grain industry and the department of agriculture to determine what revisions may be needed.

3. A study be made of the need for House Bill 490, An Act relating to the Bargaining Processes in the Marketing of Agricultural Commodities; and that a recommendation of support or modification of the measure be submitted to the Council.

4. A study be made of food and feed stuff products to determine the extent of the residue problem resulting from the use of agricultural chemicals, and whether this problem has an effect upon the wholesomeness and purity of the foods and feed stuffs moving in commercial channels, and whether additional regulatory activities need to be developed in this field, and whether additional research in this area needs to be undertaken.

5. A study be made of state zoning laws, when those laws have an impact upon the uses made of productive agricultural land. This study should embrace such areas as the problems resulting from zoning adjacent to urban areas; the problems involved in urban encroachment upon production of agricultural lands; and whether existing laws are adequate to provide an acceptable balance between urban expansion on one hand, and agricultural utilization on the other.

6. A study be made of the antiquated horticulture code which the Department of Agriculture has been working on for four years, and which is badly in need of recodification in order to simplify and consolidate the patchwork of fifty years' endeavor to meet changing conditions.

On motion of Mr. Clark, the resolution was adopted.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Edwards.

Mr. Edwards:

This side has to do all the voting. Now, Mr. Clark, I supported this $130,000 in committee, and we all supported it. But how can the Department of Agriculture get the benefit of what we do in committee if you on the floor don't vote for it? It was up here yesterday, and none of you voted for it."

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized within the bar of the House three officers of the forthcoming Youth Legislature, Bill Almon, the Youth Governor; David Gresham, Lieutenant Governor; and Dean Uyeno, Speaker of the House, and appointed Representatives Metcalf, Taylor, Leibold, Cecil, Copeland, and Ahlquist as a special committee to escort them to places of honor on the rostrum.

The Speaker:

"I think it is only fitting and proper to hear from the Speaker of the House of the Youth Legislature. Mr. Speaker, I would like to turn the gavel over to you for a few moments and maybe you could give us a word of advice."

Speaker Uyeno:

"Thank you, Mr. O'Brien. I would like to thank the legislature for the opportunity to use the state buildings for our YMCA Youth Legislature. I think this will be a fine opportunity for the youth of the state to learn what actually goes on in the capitol. I hope that through the experience of being here, we can better prepare ourselves for adult leadership and citizenship. Thank you."

The Speaker:

"We would also like to have the Governor, Bill Almon, say a few words to us."

Governor Almon:

"Well, gentlemen, I would like to say 'ditto' to what Dean has said. Thank you very much for inviting us down to see what goes on. I wish more young people of the state had this opportunity, and I, too, would like to thank you for allowing us the use of these facilities for next month's youth session. We feel honored to be given permission to use the capitol building in which to hold our model legislature. Thank you very much."

The Speaker:

"Would the Lieutenant Governor like to say a few words to us?"

Lieutenant Governor Gresham:

"I will just second the remarks made by my colleagues. Probably, I should save mine for the Senate. We are all interested in seeing how you run the legislature, technically, so we had better let you get down to business."

The Speaker:

"Thank you very much. It is a real pleasure to have you here. I hope we can be a good example for your legislature next month. We will try to do that."

The special committee was requested to escort the members of the Youth Legislature from the rostrum. (Applause.)

TWELFTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

---

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
OLYMPIA, WASH., Tuesday, March 21, 1961.

The Speaker called the House to order at 11:00 a. m.

The Clerk called the roll and all members were present except Representatives Campbell, Cecil, Conner, and Nicholson. Representative Cecil was excused.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms color guard.

Prayer was offered by the Reverend Homer D. Kimmel of the Church of the Brethren of Lacey.

The reading clerk proceeded to read the journal of the proceedings of the previous day. On motion of Mr. Brink further reading was dispensed with and the journal was ordered to stand approved.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker:

"At this time, ladies and gentlemen of the House, it is my pleasure to bring to the rostrum one of the most able and respected members of the State Senate, Dr. David Cowen, who will present wrist watches to the pages of the House of Representatives. This is a custom Senator Cowen inaugurated some years ago, and I think it is a real tribute to him to be so considerate of the pages of the House."

The Speaker appointed Representatives Litchman and Copeland as a special committee to escort Senator Cowen to a place on the rostrum, and asked the House pages to step forward. Senator Cowen made the presentation of watches to the pages.

The Speaker:

"It is my honor and privilege, ladies and gentlemen of the House to present Senator Cowen."

Senator Cowen:

"Mr. Speaker, members of the House, it has been my good fortune during my fourteen regular sessions in the Washington state legislature to present watches to the pages of the Senate and the House. During the early part of my career, I furnished the uniforms for pages of the Senate and the House, until some few years ago when the state saw fit to purchase the uniforms. Personally, I am getting tired of looking at the same color of uniform in the Senate, and I anticipate in '63 to buy new uniforms for the Senate.

"I do this out of the good graces of my heart, because once upon a time I was a very poor lad and had to make my own way in this world of ours. I didn't have a father and there was a man who took me under his wing and started me on my way and on my career. I have always been grateful, not only to him, but to the Lord God Almighty Who has been so gracious to me and my family. I have always felt that if in any way I could do something for children, I would do my very best. I am sure the members of the Spokane delegation sitting in the House know I have tried to do all I could to fulfill my obligation toward the children and toward education in the city of Spokane.

"Ladies and gentlemen of the House, I wish you all the very best luck and I hope to see you all back in 1963. I want to thank you for the wonderful honor of permitting me to come to the Speaker's rostrum this morning. I asked the Speaker not to bring me up, but it is a great privilege to be here. Once again, good luck and God bless you in the years to come."

The Speaker recognized Mrs. Hurley.

Mrs. Hurley:

"Mr. Speaker, in the name of all the Representatives, and especially those from Spokane, I want to say a word of thanks for the wonderful tribute that Davey Cowen has given our pages. Senator, our pages have given us wonderful service this year. They have been respectful, cooperative, and helpful, and I am sure you have done more than anybody else could to make the pages next year follow their good example. As the mother of one of the pages, I know how thrilled they are today.

"Members of the House, Senator Cowen has done some wonderful things for people in Spokane, not only for the needy and poor who just don't know where to turn, but he has given from the generosity of his heart to anybody who comes. He has also done wonderful things for private education, which is in great need and can't turn to the state, but must turn to private industry and private individuals. Nobody can know all the kind and generous things Dr. Cowen has done. I want to say thank you very much, Dr. Cowen, and we are happy that you come from Spokane and are proud of you as our senior Senator."

Senator Cowen:

"Thank you, Mrs. Hurley."

The Speaker requested that the special committee escort Senator Cowen from the rostrum. (Applause.)

Mr. May:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is a table that the Democratic freshmen are presenting to our den mother, and underneath there is a picture of each one of the Democratic freshmen that would do justice to any post office. Without further ado, I wish to say this is a beautiful job resulting from two thousand years of work by the good Lord and Mother Nature and a lot of hours by our brother, Eric Anderson. We chipped in for the supplies, but he did the work and should get the credit. Without further ado, I would like to present it to you."

Mrs. Testu:

"God bless the freshmen. With apologies to Mr. May, I have written a little poem. I was going to give it to them, but I think I remember it.

"The freshmen, God bless 'em; may nothing distress 'em.
They're handsome and charming and gay.
And when we grow older, they seem to grow nobler,
But we'd have it no other way.
They fight for the needy; they never get greedy
For better promotion and pay.
May they always be fresh as today."

Mr. Clark:

"Mr. Speaker, may I ask Mr. Goldmark a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Goldmark?"

Mr. Goldmark:

"Yes."

Mr. Clark:

"How much does this bill bond our sales tax?"

Mr. Goldmark:

"I think the answer to your question is given on page 1, lines 9 and 10: $26,324,000."

Debate ensued, Representatives Goldmark and Smith speaking in favor of passage of the bill, and Representatives Clark and Beierlein speaking against its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Smith yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Smith, will you yield to a question?"

Mr. Smith:

"Yes."

Mr. Canfield:

"I expect to vote for this bill, Mr. Smith, but I would like to have you state to the House what the total amount of indebtedness will be when we get through the bond issues tonight?"

Mr. Smith:

"I couldn't give you the exact figure as of tonight. It fluctuates."

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5 as amended by the House.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5 as amended by the House, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 64; nays, 26; absent or not voting, 9.

"I wonder if Representative Goldmark would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Goldmark?"

Mr. Goldmark:

"I yield, Mr. Clark."

Mr. Clark:

"I would like an answer to Mr. Canfield's question. How much in bonds will this make the state, give two or three or ten million or so? What will the total bonded indebtedness be? Won't it be about $575 million?"

Mr. Goldmark:

"I think I might answer your question this way. It is my understanding that the amount of money required during each biennium for bond redemption is in the neighborhood of $40 million as against a revenue of $400 million. I don't think we are currently in a position of serious danger as far as the margin of reserve for the issue is concerned."

Debate ensued, Representatives Goldmark, Klein, Edwards, Perry, Leland, Canfield, and Hood speaking in favor of passage of the bill, and Representatives Clark and Hurley speaking against its passage.

On page 3, line 25, immediately following section 6, add two new sections as follows: "NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Section 15, chapter 234, Laws of 1959 and RCW 34.04.150 are each amended to read as follows:

"This chapter shall not apply to the state militia [, the liquor control board,] or the board of prison terms and paroles. The provisions of RCW 34.04.090 through 34.04.130 shall not apply to the board of industrial insurance appeals, the state board of equalization or the insurance commissioner or the state tax commission. The provisions of RCW 34.04.060, 34.04.070 and 34.04.080 shall not apply to the department of public assistance."

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. There is added to chapter 62, Laws of 1933 extraordinary session and to chapter 43.66 RCW a new section to read as follows:

"The decision of the board shall be conclusive unless reversed or modified on judicial review."

"Any decision of the board which suspends or cancels any license or permit may be stayed by the court upon such terms and conditions and for such period of time as to the court may appear equitable. No stay shall be granted until the party requesting it enters into a bond in such sum and with such surety or sureties as is satisfactory to the court."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. England would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. England?"

Mr. England:

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. England, I appear to be a little confused tonight. It seems we are considering Senate Bill No. 12, and possibly you are trying to tack on to this particular bill another law or another bill that has been under consideration previously. I can't see anything in your amendment which even pertains to a liquor revolving fund."

Mr. England:

"May I say, Mr. Litchman, that if we take the two sections of my amendment and put them into Senate Bill No. 12, it would be exactly the same bill as Senate Bill No. 320 of the regular session. I conferred with one of the Senators who sponsored not only Senate Bill No. 320 but also this bill, and he had no objection to this amendment going in."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to raise a point of order at this time."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Litchman:

"It seems to me that either Rule 82 or Rule 36 would be applicable here. I don't see any germaneness at all in Mr. England's worthwhile amendment. I'm sure it was made with good intent and it is a good measure by itself, but I don't see that it relates to the liquor revolving fund as such."

The Speaker:

"Mr. England, it appears rather difficult to determine how this amendment of yours fits into this bill. If you will read Rule 160 in Reed's it states that no motion or subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment. This bill pertains to the liquor revolving fund in part and in part to the administrative procedures and functions related to it, and I think the primary purpose is to put it in the general fund."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. England:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order. The title of Senate Bill No. 12 says it is an act relating to intoxicating liquor and providing for the control and regulation thereof. I believe my amendment pertains to intoxicating liquor and providing for the control and regulation thereof."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, you cited Reed's 160. However, I would suggest that 161 would also be applicable. I think it is quite clear that it is up to the body to decide whether or not it would be appropriate to adopt this amendment with respect to this act."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The primary purpose of this act is accounting of funds only. It has nothing to do with administrative or judicial review and appeals, as such. It appears that under Reed's interpretation of amendments and their germaneness, and our own House rules, that this amendment is out of order. I am going to rule this proposed amendment out of order."

On motion of Mr. Litchman, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. England:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Goldmark yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Goldmark, will you yield to a question?"

Mr. Goldmark:

"To the best of my ability."

Mr. England:

"Mr. Goldmark, it is my understanding that, first of all, this is in the liquor control fund and then it goes to the general fund and then back to the liquor control board. It is allocated money, an account within the general fund. Will there not be two sets of bookkeeping on this which we do not have as of today?"

Mr. Goldmark:

"I don't believe I could give an accurate answer to that."

Mr. England:

"Isn't it true this will cost the state additional money to administer it this way?"

Mr. Goldmark:

"I don't believe it would."

Debate ensued, Representatives Goldmark and Klein speaking in favor of passage of the bill, and Representative Adams speaking against its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe there is some misunderstanding about the matter raised by Mr. England. Mr. Marsh has been counsel on this matter and I would appreciate it if he would reply to Mr. England's question."

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Marsh?"

Mr. Marsh:

"Well, Mr. Speaker and members, of course there will have to be a double set of books. After all, the liquor control board has a proprietary function bringing in $30 million per year and they have to keep books. If they turn the funds over to the state treasurer, the treasurer will have to keep books. Both will have to be audited. It is a question of policy as to whether we wish to bring the liquor control board under the same standards as others. This is a matter of legislative policy."

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12 on final passage.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 55; nays, 40; absent or not voting, 4.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Avey, Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bernethy, Bigley, Bozarth, Brink, Brouillet, Burns, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Cecil, Chatalas, Conner, Day, DeJarnatt, Edwards, Epton, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldmark, Henry, Holmes, King, Kink, Klein, Leibold, Leland, Litchman, Mahaffey, Mardesich, Marsh, McCormick, Meyers, O'Donnell, Olsen, Poff, Pritchard, Ritner, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Testu, Wedekind, Williams, Wintler, Witherbee, Mr. Speaker—55.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Bergh, Braun, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, England, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, Kirk, Lybecker, May, McDougall, McElroy, Metcalf, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, Nicholson, O'Connell, Pence, Perry, Rickdall, Shropshire, Siler, Swayze, Uhlman, Wang—40.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Eldridge, Farrington, Lewis, McFadden—4.

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

THIRD READING OF BILLS

Senate Bill No. 19, by Senator Hallauer:

Modifying law relating to vital statistics.

On motion of Mr. Litchman, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and Senate Bill No. 19 was placed on final passage.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 19, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 88; nays, 4; absent or not voting, 7.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Avey, Backstrom, Beck, Bergh, Bernethy, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Cecil, Chatalas, Clark, Comfort, Conner, Copeland, Day, DeJarnatt, Edwards, England, Epton, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldmark, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Henry, Hood, Huntley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Leibold, Leland, Litchman, Lybecker, Mahaffey, Mardesich, Marsh, May, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Meyers, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, Nicholson, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Olson, Pence, Perry, Poff, Pritchard, Rickdall, Ritner, Sawyer, Schaefer, Shropshire, Siler, Swayze, Taylor, Testu, Wang, Wedekind, Williams, Wintler, Witherbee, Mr. Speaker—88.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Beierlein, Brink, Hurley, Uhlman—4.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Burns, Eldridge, Farington, Holmes, Lewis, McCormick, Smith—7.

Senate Bill No. 19, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives, that the state board of education is hereby requested to study the feasibility of providing state school building funds for renovation or modernization of school buildings and other school facilities and to submit a report thereon to the House of Representatives at the opening of the thirty-eighth legislature.

- (1) The procedures used to control pay levels;
- (2) The position classification system, to determine if there is standardization among the agencies and the classifications represent actual duties of the position;

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Campbell yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Campbell?"

Mr. Campbell:

"Yes."

Mr. Smith:

"Is there any provision for the Indian chiefs to participate in this study on the same level with the others?"

Mr. Campbell:

"I certainly assume, Mr. Smith, that all tribal leaders will be notified of the study and will be invited to participate and to give their suggestions."

The motion was carried, and the resolution was adopted.

Resolution by Representatives Flanagan and Cecil:

WHEREAS, Only about one-third of the sugar consumed in the United States is produced within the United States; and

WHEREAS, Recent political disturbances in foreign countries threaten a future stable supply of sugar for the United States consumers; and

WHEREAS, Many thousands of acres of the highest beet producing land in the United States are available in Eastern Washington for the production of sugar beets along with a strong desire by the farmers in this area to engage in the production of additional sugar beets; and

WHEREAS, The building of additional sugar factories will contribute greatly to the development of new reclamation areas not only in Washington but throughout the other Western States, will add millions of dollars of increased business volume, will cause increased employment, and will increase the value and amount of taxable property in this state; and

WHEREAS, The limitation upon increased sugar production in this state is the lack of sugar manufacturing capacity; and

WHEREAS, The present proposed twenty-one months extension of the Sugar Act now before the United States Senate will not enable sugar companies to make the large investments required for the building of sugar factories because it gives no assurance to any company that it could retain sugar beet acreage for a long enough period to justify such a capital investment;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That we, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington urge that United States Senators Warren G. Magnuson and Henry M. Jackson and the United States Senators from Texas and New Mexico do everything possible to provide for a nine months extension of the Sugar Act, with provision for a special sugar marketing allotment to any company willing to build a sugar plant, and with the understanding that during such nine months period a new Sugar Act will be enacted that will provide a larger share of the United States market for United States producers and sugar companies to enable them to make the necessary expansion in this industry;

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to Senators Warren G. Magnuson and Henry M. Jackson.

On motion of Mr. Flanagan, the resolution was adopted.

Resolution by Mr. Evans:

WHEREAS, This has already been the longest special session in recent years, and

WHEREAS, It is the duty and obligation of the governor to provide leadership and help to the legislature in problems relating to appropriations and taxation, and

WHEREAS, The governor has substituted press releases for effective leadership, and

WHEREAS, The governor has criticized budgets proposed in the legislature as too low without assuming the responsibility of recommending practical new or increased taxes, and

WHEREAS, The governor in his public statements has failed to distinguish between the essential services provided by the schools and institutions of higher learning, and the less important, but already better supported, fields of general government and public assistance, and

WHEREAS, This prolonged special session is costing the taxpayers of the state more than ten thousand dollars per day;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby calls on the governor, not for press releases, but either for recommendations as to cuts in his proposed budget which will permit a proper level of spending for schools and for institutions of higher learning without new taxes, or for specific new or increased taxes to support increased spending in nonessential areas of government.

MOTION

Mr. Holmes moved that the report of the Conference Committee on Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 1 be adopted.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Johnston:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to have restated what the proposition is we are talking about."

The Speaker:

"It is proposed to pass the resolution without the House amendments. The House amended it to include cities and towns. The Conference Committee apparently agreed that the resolution should be adopted without the House amendments and you are now approving the adoption of the Conference Committee report."

Mr. Johnston:

"Are there any conditions tied to that proposal?"

The Speaker recognized Mr. Holmes.

Mr. Holmes:

"Senate Joint Resolution No. 1, as you recall, proposes to place on the ballot the proposal that school districts of the state may have excess levies to run for four years, both for maintenance and operations and for capital improvements. The House amended it to include cities and towns. The Conference Committee, after several days' work, has finally decided that the best thing is for the House to recede from its amendments, and this decision was made with the assurance that if the House, in its wisdom, saw fit to introduce a joint resolution which would allow cities and towns to have four year levies, the Senate would support such a resolution."

MR. SPEAKER:

We, a majority of your Committee on Commerce and Manufacturing, to whom was referred Engrossed Senate Bill No. 37, relating to unfair trade practices, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do pass. J. BRUCE BURNS, Chairman,

P. J. "JIM" GALLAGHER, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: Richard "Dick" C. Cecil, A. E. Edwards, Avery Garrett, Dick J. Kink, Mark Litchman, Jr., W. L. "Bill" McCormick, Ann T. O'Donnell, Ray Olsen, Leonard A. Sawyer.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Rickdall:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Rickdall:

"Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Committee on Commerce and Manufacturing, I wish to call attention to the fact that we have held no hearings or meetings whatsoever on this bill, which involves a regimentation and control of industry and perhaps a little price fixing. Anything so far-reaching as this, I feel, should conform to House Rule No. 60 and to Rule 15, which states that the Chief Clerk shall post a notice of meeting. Nothing has been done in this connection."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I am going to rule that Mr. Rickdall's point is well taken. The committee will be required to hold a meeting on this particular bill."

MOTION

Mr. Harris moved that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 37 be rereferred from the Committee on Commerce and Manufacturing to the Committee on Judiciary-Civil.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Perry.

Mr. Perry:

"I would like to ask a point of parliamentary inquiry. How is it possible to rerefer this bill? It has never come out of committee, according to the action just taken by the Speaker."

The Speaker:

"On my ruling, I stated the full committee should meet on the bill. It appears that a majority of the membership should now determine which committee should act on it."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker again recognized Mr. Perry.

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, aren't we under the wrong order of business for this motion to take any type of precedence at all?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Perry, if you will read House Rule 60, it states in part: 'Provided, That a majority of the members elected to the house may require a committee to report a bill back to the house at any time.' This bill was reported out of committee. Then a point of order was raised as to whether the committee should meet. The bill was before us. I ruled that the committee should meet on the bill. The motion was subsequently made to refer it to another committee, and it now appears, from interpretation of our rules, it is up to the house membership to determine what action is to be taken."

Mr. Perry:

"We are under the fifth order of business, are we not, and would it not require a suspension of rules to entertain Mr. Harris' motion?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"This bill was reported out of committee and is now before you. I am going to rule the motion is in order."

Debate ensued, Representative Harris speaking in favor of his motion to rerefer Engrossed Senate Bill No. 37 to the Committee on Judiciary-Civil, and Representatives Burns, Litchman, and Uhlman speaking against the motion.

Mr. Litchman demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on Mr. Harris' motion to rerefer Engrossed Senate Bill No. 37 to the Committee on Judiciary-Civil, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 31; nays, 56; absent or not voting, 12.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Ackley, Ahlquist, Backstrom, Bergh, Bernethy, Chatalas, Conner, Farrington, Goldmark, Marde-sich, May, Pence—12.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Witherbee:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Brink yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Brink?"

Mr. Brink:

"Yes."

Mr. Witherbee:

"Do I understand, Mr. Brink, that you are going to have subsequent amendments: repealing portions of the act that are unconstitutional?"

Mr. Brink:

"Yes."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Wedekind:

"Mr. Speaker, I want to ask Mr. Brink a question."

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Brink?"

Mr. Brink:

"Yes."

Mr. Wedekind:

"I didn't hear you read the following provision: 'And Provided Further, That if such employee is employed as a master or member of a crew of a vessel (as used herein the term "vessel" includes but is not limited to barges), and whether or not during such employment the vessel is engaged or preparing to engage in navigation or trade or is commissioned or decommissioned, wages shall be paid at not less than the rate which will provide to the employee, for the period covered by the wage payment, wages equal to compensation at the hourly rate prescribed in this section for all hours during such period when he was actually on duty (including periods aboard the vessel when the employee was on watch or was, at the direction of a superior officer, performing work or standing by, but not including off-duty periods which are provided pursuant to the employment agreement).'"

Mr. Brink:

"Mr. Wedekind, I believe that provision you read is the same or similar to one in the original bill during the regular session, and it is not in this particular bill for two reasons. The first one is that this is only a wage bill and not an hour bill, and the second is that a person is exempted whose duties require him to sleep at his place of employment or otherwise spends a substantial time subject to call."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Brink yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Brink?"

Mr. Brink:

"Yes."

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Brink, a Senate amendment by Senator Elway has been adopted which appears to be identical to your subsection (m). Did you check into that at all?"

Mr. Brink:

"Yes. I would like to have Representative Gorton answer that."

Mr. Uhlman:

"Could I ask another question?"

Mr. Brink:

"Yes."

Mr. Uhlman:

"I was unable to catch all of the individuals who are exempted from this. Do I understand hospitals and nursing homes are both exempted under your amendment?"

Mr. Brink:

"That is correct."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Gorton.

Mr. Gorton:

"In answer to Mr. Uhlman's first question, the exemption provisions in the Senate amendments are in three separate sections and we are making a transfer to put them all in the same section. The one here is the same as Senator Elway's but his is in a different section."

Mr. Eldridge moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Mr. Brink:

On page 3 of the amendment, after subsection (m), insert a new subsection as follows:

"(n) any individual employed in a retail business employing less than twelve employees."

Debate ensued, Representative Eldridge speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives Brink and Witherbee speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Leland demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Eldridge to the amendment by Mr. Brink, and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted, by the following vote: Yeas, 32; nays, 57; absent or not voting, 10.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Anderson (Eric O.), Avey, Beck, Bergh, Bigley, Braun, Brink, Brouillet, Burns, Burtch, Campbell, Cecil, Chatalas, Comfort, Day, DeJarnatt, Edwards, England, Epton, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Gorton, Hawley, Henry, Holmes, Hood, Juel-ling, King, Kink, Kirk, Leibold, Litchman, Marsh, May, McCormick, McEl-roy, McFadden, Metcalf, Meyers, Nicholson, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Poff, Ritner, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Testu, Uhlman, Wede-kind, Witherbee, Mr. Speaker—57.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Ackley, Ahlquist, Backstrom, Bernethy, Conner, Farrington, Goldmark, Hurley, Klein, Mahaffey, —10.

Mrs. Epton moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Mr. Brink:

On page 3 of the amendment, after subsection (m), insert a new subsection as follows:

"(n) any individual engaged in performing services for a sheltered workshop as provided in RCW 28.10.070 or under sheltered work conditions."

Debate ensued, Representative Epton speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives Gorton and Witherbee speaking against its adoption.

With the consent of the House, Mrs. Epton withdrew her amendment to the amendment.

On motion of Mr. Adams, the following amendment to the amendment by Mr. Brink was adopted:

On page 3 of the amendment, in subsection (k), after "chapter 70.41 RCW" and before the semicolon, insert "or chapter 71.12 RCW"

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Brink adding a new section 2, as amended.

The motion was carried, and the amendment as amended was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Brink, the following amendment was adopted:

Following renumbered section 3, add a new section to read as follows:

"Sec. 4. Section 12, chapter 294, Laws of 1959 and RCW 49.46.120 are each amended, to read as follows:

"This chapter establishes a minimum standard for wages [hours,] and working conditions of all employees in this state, unless exempted herefrom, and is in addition to and supplementary to any other federal, state, or local law or ordinance, or any rule or regulation issued thereunder. Any standards relating to wages, hours, or other working conditions established by any applicable federal, state, or local law or ordinance, or any rule or regulation issued thereunder, which are more favorable to employees than the minimum standards applicable under this chapter, or any rule or regulation issued hereunder, shall not be affected by this chapter and such other laws, or rules or regulations, shall be in full force and effect and may be enforced as provided by law [ : Provided, That as to any employer and employment which is subject to the federal fair labor standards act, compliance with such act shall be deemed likewise to constitute compliance with RCW 49.46.010 (5) (e), 49.46.030, 49.46.050 and 49.46.070]."

On motion of Mr. Brink, the following amendment was adopted:

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

I voted "No" on Senate Bill No. 30 in order to be on a conference committee if one is appointed.

A few exemptions I did object to; however, I feel this is the best bill that could have been adopted under the circumstances during this special session.

DANIEL BRINK,
35th District.

I should like the record to show that I voted "No" on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 30 only in order to be eligible for appointment to a conference committee which may be appointed to work on the bill. I am firmly in favor of Senate Bill No. 30

House Bill No. 25 is a result of several years' work of numerous public and private agencies. The bill modernizes and improves many sections of our Juvenile Court Act. It also adds several new provisions to the Juvenile Code. I am sincerely convinced that the changes made are on the whole salutary, and that they will result in further improving our handling of juveniles.

Section 9 of House Bill No. 26 provides: 1, that in cases involving change of or deprivation of custody of children a jury trial shall be had; 2, that in addition to the writ of certiorari appeal shall lie in juvenile cases involving custody; and 3, that juveniles charged with violating provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code, or city ordinances pertaining to motor vehicles, shall be tried by a police court, justice court, or superior court, respectively, rather than in Juvenile Court.

Let me say at the outset, that I appreciate the well intentioned efforts of the members of the Legislature to curb through the provisions of section 9, certain tyrannical tendencies on the part of some of our juvenile courts which have been manifested in a few instances. However, I cannot conscientiously approve of the proffered remedies contained in section 9, because I do not believe it wise to "burn the barn to roast a pig."

It is my firm conviction that to permit section 9 to become law would constitute a step backward in the administration of justice for juveniles.

From times immemorial, down to the present day, matters concerning the custody of children have always been treated by our system of jurisprudence as being of equitable cognizance. Thus, in divorce cases where custody of children is often determined, no jury trial is allowed. Jury trials in custody cases would often prolong judicial proceedings in situations, where for the benefit of the children involved, speed of decision is of utmost importance. Take, for instance, the several cases of which all of us have become aware during recent years, where it had become necessary to deprive parents of custody forthwith in order that lifesaving medical treatment could be administered to a child. In addition, prolonged delays of decision in juvenile cases would necessarily result in undesirable, prolonged detention of juveniles. Furthermore, there exists a real danger that the publicity, and the formality of a jury trial might leave a child a victim of severe psychological trauma. Finally, jury trials in such cases would add considerably to the cost of administering the juvenile law thereby diverting funds which otherwise would be free to be devoted to the care or rehabilitation of young people.

Some of the reasons advanced against allowing trial by jury in juvenile cases obviously are also applicable to permitting juvenile traffic offenders to be tried in courts other than a juvenile court. In addition I should point out that juvenile courts have developed certain very successful correctional devices for juvenile traffic offenders such as requirements of attending traffic school and suspension of driver's permit in cases of offenses where the law pertaining to adults would not allow such suspension.

While I believe that there is some real merit in allowing the right of appeal in juvenile cases, it is highly questionable whether I can single out for purposes of veto, that portion of section 9 dealing with the right of appeal.

For the reasons indicated, section 9 is vetoed; the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, March 21, 1961.

To the Honorable, The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.
(Through the Secretary of State.)

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to one section, House Bill No. 57 entitled:

"An Act creating the Washington state arts commission and defining its powers and duties."

This bill creates a Washington State Arts Commission consisting of 21 members. During the past two years such a commission existed solely by virtue of executive action. I greatly appreciate the fact that the Legislature has recognized the merits of such a commission by granting it statutory existence. I would like to advise the members of the Legislature that the artists who have served in the past on this commission have done so at great personal sacrifice. They have served the State without receiving a per diem allowance, and without receiving even their actual traveling and other expenses incurred. Their collective wisdom and their recommendations have made all of us aware of the truism that "man does not live by bread alone".

We, in the State of Washington are greatly honored and justly proud of the fact that some of the greatest painters and poets and other artists of the nation reside in our State, or have been educated here.

This bill is approved with the exception of section 8 which provides that no funds from the Governor's emergency fund shall be expended in carrying out the provisions of this Act. I would like to call the attention of the members of the Legislature to the fact that only recently, President Kennedy honored one of the great poets of this nation by having him deliver a poem at his inauguration. There may be need to utilize a small sum from my emergency fund for the purpose of supplying to the Art Commission stationery, stamps, and the services of a part-time secretary. I believe the attitude of some of the Legislators in attempting to prevent me from utilizing a small amount from my emergency fund for the purposes indicated is shortsighted, and betrays a Philistine attitude unbecoming the representatives of a great state. By disallowing me to utilize a very small portion of state funds for the purpose indicated you would in effect put the artists into a position of a second class citizen. This I will not allow.

Let us be ever mindful that in centuries to come, when the labors of statesmen and legislators have become dust and ashes, the creative genius of our artists alone may survive. Let us, therefore, treat them with the respect that is due them by virtue of their creative ability.

For the reasons indicated, section 8 is vetoed. The remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, March 21, 1961.

To the Honorable, The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.
(Through the Secretary of State.)

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to one section, House Bill No. 693 entitled:

"An Act relating to state government; amending section 1, chapter 340, Laws of 1955, and RCW 43.03.028; amending section 1, chapter 224, Laws of 1937, as last amended by section 2, chapter 340, Laws of 1955, and RCW 43.03.040; amending section 3, chapter 340, Laws of 1955, and RCW 43.41.010; amending section 80.01.010, chapter 14, Laws of 1961 and RCW 80.01.010; amending section 3, chapter 97, Laws of 1933, as last amended by section 12, chapter 340, Laws of 1955, and RCW 43.78.070; amending section 3, chapter 215, Laws of 1957, and RCW 43.31.030; amending section 63, chapter 62, Laws of 1933, extraordinary session, as last amended by section 8, chapter 5, Laws of 1949, and RCW 43.66.010; amending section 51.52.010, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 and RCW 51.52.010; amending section 77.04.060, chapter 36, Laws of 1955, as amended by section 1, chapter 352, Laws of 1955, and RCW 77.04.060; amending section 12, chapter 247, Laws of 1951, as amended by section 31, chapter 172, Laws of 1957, and RCW 43.27.180; amending section 4, chapter 165, Laws of 1947, and RCW 14.04.040; amending section 5, chapter 271, Laws of 1947, as amended by section 3, chapter 391, Laws of 1955, and RCW 43.51.060; and amending section 2, chapter 110, Laws of 1947, and RCW 43.61.020."

This bill increases the Governor's Advisory Committee on salaries from 6 to 7 members. It authorizes the Committee to study the duties of the directors and assistant directors of the various code departments under the jurisdiction of the chief executive. It further authorizes the Committee to study the duties of the executive heads of the various commissions and committees of the State which are salaried. In addition, the Committee is empowered to study the duties of the various elected officials including those of the Supreme and Superior Court judges, and of the members of the Legislature. With reference to the members of the Supreme and Superior Courts, and to the members of the Legislature, the Committee is to report its recommendation to the Governor and to the Legislative Council with recommendations of salaries to be established for their respective positions. The bill further provides that the Governor and the Commissions, respectively, shall not exceed the recommendations of salaries made for any of the positions under the control of the Governor or under the control of each of the commissions.

Section 11 of this bill amends RCW 14.04.040 which fixes the salary of the Director of Aeronautics. This identical section is being amended by House Bill No. 207 which fixes the maximum salary of the Director of Aeronautics at $9,500, and makes a change in the duties to be assigned by the Aeronautics Commissioner to the Director of Aeronautics.

In order to effectuate the intent of the Legislature relative to the change of duties imposed by House Bill No. 207 upon the Director of Aeronautics, it became necessary for me to veto section 11 of this bill.

For the reasons indicated, section 11 of this bill is vetoed, and the remainder of this bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE
DEPARTMENT OF STATE
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

Olympia, Wash., March 22, 1961.

To the Honorable, The Speaker of the House of Representatives, The Legislature of the State of Washington, Olympia, Washington.

SIR:

I have the honor to transmit herewith pursuant to Section 12, Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Washington, for the consideration of the House of Representatives, the following bills passed by the House of Representatives and the State Senate at the Regular Legislative Session of 1961, and partially vetoed by the Governor, together with his veto message attached thereto.

They are Enrolled House Bills Nos. 247, 248, 458 and 515.

Respectfully,
VICTOR A. MEYERS,
Secretary of State.

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, March 21, 1961.

To the Honorable, The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.
(Through the Secretary of State.)

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to an item of one section, House Bill No. 247 entitled:

"An Act relating to milk and milk products used for animal food; providing penalties; and making an effective date."

At the present time the law requires that milk used for human consumption, or milk intended to be utilized in products used for human consumption, is produced under the most exacting standards of sanitation and care to avoid contamination of milk, milk products, and to prevent epidemics which might be caused through such contamination.

It has come to my attention that milk produced pursuant to lower standards of sanitation and care, and intended solely for the pet animal market, has on occasion been sold for human consumption and for the production of milk products intended for the human market.

The Department of Agriculture prepared the instant Act to avoid the evil of allowing milk proper for the animal market, to be utilized for human consumption. As a result, the health and welfare of our citizens will be protected in the future.

When this bill was considered by the Senate, the following amendment was adopted to section 17 of the Act:

" , and shall not apply to a gift or sale of raw milk by a farmer on his own premises to a person who brings his own container and takes it away."

This amendment in effect would seriously cripple the laudable purpose of the bill by allowing milk produced for the pet animal market to be sold for human consumption.

For the reasons indicated I veto the amendment made to section 17 of the Act. The remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, March 21, 1961.

To the Honorable, The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.
(Through the Secretary of State.)

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to one section, House Bill No. 248 entitled:

"An Act relating to the retirement system for supreme and superior court judges; amending section 3, chapter 229, Laws of 1937, as last amended by section 1, chapter 243, Laws of 1957, and RCW 2.12.030; and adding two new sections to chapter 229, Laws of 1937 and to chapter 2.12 RCW."

Section 1 of House Bill No. 248 makes a supreme court justice, or a judge of the superior court, eligible for retirement on a partial pension after 12 years of service, or after having reached the age of 70 years.

Section 2 allows judges after 18 years' service, 1/18th additional pension for each year served after 18 years up to a maximum of 75% of the salary received by a judge at the time of retirement.

Section 3 permits a widow who has been married for 3 years previous to the judge's retirement, to receive ½ of the pension of the retired judge. This section also strikes the provision which would have reduced pension benefits payable to a judge's widow by any amount received by the widow pursuant to O.A.S.I. or other state or Federal law. This section also allows the widow to receive one-half of the pension to which a judge, under this new bill, becomes entitled after having served 12 years on the bench, or after having reached the age of 70 years.

Believing as I do in a strong, independent, and adequately compensated judiciary, I commend the members of the Legislature in having made the improvements outlined in the preceding paragraphs. These improvements will unquestionably result in experienced judges remaining on the bench subsequent to the time when they would be entitled to retire. Thus, the State will benefit by being able to avail itself for a longer period of time, of the experience and wisdom that these judges have acquired after serving on the bench for 18 years. In addition, these provisions will result in economy because it costs less to keep on the bench an experienced judge, than to pay a retirement pension and at the same time replace the retired judge with a new one.

This bill is approved with the exception of section 4 which is vetoed. Section 4 provides that the pension of a retired judge shall be reduced by any amount received under social security. In the first place, I am convinced that section 4 is unconstitutional because the pension rights involved here are contractual in nature and become vested at the time a judge ascends to the bench. Thus the Legislature, with reference to all judges now serving, cannot constitutionally alter the provisions of the existing contract between the State and the members of the judiciary.

Secondly, I recognize that the contribution which the State makes to the judge's pension is really in the nature of compensation for services previously rendered for which full and adequate compensation was not received at the time of the rendition of the service. In order to attract in the future, able practitioners of the bar, it is necessary to provide adequate economic inducements. Many capable lawyers have refused to enter the judicial service because of the financial sacrifice involved. To compensate for these sacrifices, a system of liberal pensions is indispensable. The State of Washington permits all state employees to receive in addition to state retirement benefits, O.A.S.I. benefits. It would be discriminatory against the judges not to allow them to receive these benefits.

Thirdly, the contributions made by the judges to social security are made solely at their own expense. If the judges have elected to avail themselves of O.A.S.I. benefits, and are willing to pay for these benefits out of their own pockets, it would be unfair and discriminatory for you to deprive them of these benefits.

For the reasons indicated, I veto section 4. The remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, March 21, 1961.

To the Honorable, The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.
(Through the Secretary of State.)

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to one section, House Bill No. 458 entitled:

"An Act relating to the state employees' retirement system; amending section 1, chapter 274, Laws of 1947, as last amended by section 1, chapter 231, Laws of 1957, and RCW 41.40.010; amending sections 3, 4, and 7, chapter 274, Laws of 1947, and RCW 41.40.030, 41.40.040, and 41.40.065; amending section 8, chapter 274, Laws of 1947, as last amended by section 1, chapter 220, Laws of 1955, and RCW 41.40.070; amending section 20, chapter 274, Laws of 1947, as last amended by section 11, chapter 200, Laws of 1953, and RCW 41.40.190; amending section 23, chapter 274, Laws of 1947, as last amended by section 12, chapter 200, Laws of 1953, and RCW 41.40.220; amending section 26, chapter 274, Laws of 1947, as amended by section 13, chapter 200, Laws of 1953, and RCW 41.40.250; amending section 28, chapter 274, Laws of 1947, as last amended by section 1, chapter 201, Laws of 1953 and by section 14, chapter 200, Laws of 1953, and RCW 41.40.270; amending section 30, chapter 274, Laws of 1947, as last amended by section 6, chapter 277, Laws of 1955, and RCW 41.40.290; amending section 4, chapter 231, Laws of 1957 and RCW 41.40.361; amending section 38, chapter 274, Laws of 1947, as amended by section 26, chapter 240, Laws of 1949, and RCW 41.40.370; amending section 43, chapter 274, Laws of 1947, as last amended by section 19, chapter 200, Laws of 1953, and RCW 41.40.410; repealing sections 1 and 2, chapter 284, Laws of 1953, and RCW 41.40.085 and 41.40.087; repealing section 1, chapter 202, Laws of 1953, as amended by section 1, chapter 234, Laws of 1955, and RCW 41.32.495 and 41.40.127; repealing section 1, chapter 253, Laws of 1959, and RCW 41.32.496 and 41.40.127; and declaring an emergency."

This bill is approved with the exception of section 5 which is vetoed.

Section 5, in the original form of the bill contained several amendments to RCW 41.40.070. However, the Senate during the passage of this bill, struck each and every one of the amendments contained in the original bill so that in its final form, section

5 as passed by both Houses of the Legislature, restores the original language contained in RCW 41.40.070.

Senate Bill No. 288 amends the identical section; to wit: RCW 41.40.070 by allowing the State Employees' Retirement System Board to invest retirement funds in motor vehicle fund warrants which are issued to pay the costs of acquisition of real property and property rights necessary for the improvement of the State highway system. By allowing retirement funds to be invested in such warrants, the Highway Commission is enabled to acquire rights of way up to six years prior to construction. Such allowance of prior acquisition will result in substantial savings to the State.

In order to make sure that the provisions contained in section 9 of Senate Bill No. 288 shall prevail, it is necessary to veto section 5 of this bill.

For the reasons indicated, section 5 is vetoed, and the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, March 21, 1961.

To the Honorable, The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.
(Through the Secretary of State.)

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to a certain section, House Bill No. 515 entitled:

"An Act relating to nursing; and amending section 4, chapter 202, Laws of 1949 and RCW 18.88.030; amending section 5, chapter 202, Laws of 1949 and RCW 18.88.050; amending section 6, chapter 202, Laws of 1949 and RCW 18.88.060; amending section 8, chapter 202, Laws of 1949 and RCW 18.88.080; amending section 9, chapter 202, Laws of 1949 and RCW 18.88.090; amending section 10, chapter 202, Laws of 1949 and RCW 18.88.100; amending section 13, chapter 202, Laws of 1949 and RCW 18.88.130; amending section 14, chapter 202, Laws of 1949 and RCW 18.88.140; amending section 15, chapter 202, Laws of 1949 and RCW 18.88.150; amending section 16, chapter 202, Laws of 1949 and RCW 18.88.160; amending section 19, chapter 202, Laws of 1949 and RCW 18.88.190; amending section 20, chapter 202, Laws of 1949 and RCW 18.88.200; amending section 28, chapter 202, Laws of 1949 and RCW 18.88.280; and adding new sections to chapter 18.88 RCW."

I disapprove and veto section 2 of the bill.

The bill as a whole makes a number of desirable changes affecting the nursing profession.

The major purpose of the amendment contained in section 2 of the bill is to require me to appoint to the Board of Nursing, nominees selected initially by the Washington State Nurses Association. Increasingly, the Legislature is restricting appointments to various boards and commissions to lists initially selected by the profession involved. In the past, the appointments which I have made to the Washington State Board of Nursing have been accepted without criticism, and the members appointed by me to this board at my sole discretion, have served well.

I see no reason why a change should be made restricting this free choice on my part. If any person appointed by me to this board should render inadequate service, I will be held responsible for the actions of a member appointed by me. I therefore feel that my choice of appointments should remain free and unrestricted.

With the exception of section 2, which is vetoed, the remainder of House Bill No. 515 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE
DEPARTMENT OF STATE
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

Olympia, Wash., March 21, 1961.

To the Honorable, The Speaker of the House of Representatives, The Legislature of the State of Washington, Olympia, Washington.

SIR:

I have the honor to transmit herewith, pursuant to Section 12, Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Washington, for the consideration of the House of Representatives, a certified copy of Enrolled House Bill No. 455 which was passed by the House of Representatives and the State Senate at the Regular Session of the 1961 Legislature and partially vetoed by the Governor, together with his veto message attached thereto.

Respectfully,
VICTOR A. MEYERS,
Secretary of State.

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, March 20, 1961.

To the Honorable, The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.
(Through the Secretary of State.)

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to sections 1, 2, 3, House Bill No. 455 entitled:

"An Act relating to cities and towns; amending section 15, page 141, Laws of 1890 and RCW 35.21.010 and 35.27.020; amending section 1, chapter 111, Laws of 1909 and RCW 35.21.160; and repealing section 1, chapter 109, Laws of 1961."

This Bill as amended would permit, on original incorporation proceedings, cities of the 4th class to include within the area of proposed incorporation, practically unlimited territories within a county. The law dealing with the powers of 4th class cities, was originally passed during the 1889-1890 Legislative session (Chapter 7, section 15, page 141). It provides that cities of the 4th class upon original incorporation, or in annexation proceedings, cannot include more than one square mile of territory. This law likewise prohibits 4th class cities from including more than 20 acres of unplatted lands belonging to any one owner without the consent of such owner.

I am fully aware of the fact that the proponents of sections 1, 2, and 3 of this bill have many excellent arguments in favor why these sections should not be vetoed. Thus I sympathize with the view of the Fife School Districts which takes the position that if the City of Tacoma were to annex the area belonging to the Port of Tacoma, the tax base of the school district would be jeopardized. I also realize that there is some doubt as to whether or not by vetoing sections 1, 2, and 3 of this bill, section 5 thereof, validating previous annexations, can stand.

On the other hand, the Association of Washington Cities has recommended that I veto sections 1, 2, and 3. This Association to my mind is the most authoritative source of information available to me with reference to problems related to cities and towns.

I cannot help but feel that it is unjust and violative of the most fundamental principles of our form of government to permit a small group of people, such as 300 inhabitants, to incorporate and to include within such incorporation or annexation, without the consent of the owners of such area, unlimited tracts of lands. To permit such action, to my mind, would permit a small minority to tax owners of large areas of land without their consent, and without representation in the city to be incorporated. I am also impressed by the fact that any action other than the action I am about to take might seriously hamper the future development of the largest tract available to the Port of Tacoma for industrial development.

The majority of the Council of the City of Tacoma have asked me to veto sections 1, 2, and 3 of this bill. The Tacoma Labor Council, the Pierce County Commissioners, the Tacoma Real Estate Board, and the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Tacoma have unanimously recommended that I veto sections 1, 2, and 3. Let me stress again, that I recognize the problem involved in the consideration of this bill is by no means a one-sided one, and it is exactly for these considerations that I have urged the Legislature to pass Senate Bill No. 95 which creates a Joint Legislative Committee on urban area development. This Committee, I am sure, will give full consideration to the problem presented to us by the instant Act. For this reason I feel that pending a full and complete study by this Joint Legislative Committee, the interests of the State will be best served by leaving the law as it now stands, and by vetoing sections 1, 2, and 3.

Section 4 of this bill, as amended, merely restricts the jurisdiction of 4th class cities and towns bordering on lakes, sounds, or navigable waters, to the one square mile area.

Section 5 purports to validate annexations made during the past ten years by 4th class cities and towns which annexed areas exceeding one square mile. This validation is necessary because the Supreme Court sitting En banc in the case of Parosa vs. The City of Tacoma, and the Port of Tacoma vs. Harry Sprinker, et al (157 Washington Decisions, 307) declared a 1951 statute purporting to repeal the 1,000 acre limitation unconstitutional.

Section 6 merely follows the result reached by the Supreme Court with reference to its construction of section 1, chapter 109, Laws of 1951, in the above captioned cases.

For the reasons indicated, sections 1, 2, and 3 of House Bill No. 455 are vetoed; the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mrs. Hurley:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Beierlein a question, if I may."

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Beierlein?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"If I can."

Mrs. Hurley:

"Is it the usual thing for the Highway Department to cooperate with the insurance companies in this manner?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"The License Department, not the Highway Department. This would provide for a charge of one dollar for each time they give this information out and would provide a fund, in the estimation of the License Department, of about $250,000 per annum. They would charge a dollar and it costs them only about twenty-five cents, so they expect to realize about $225,000 that they would expend on driver-improvement programs."

Mrs. Hurley:

"I would like to ask one more question, if you please. It seems to me that the reason the insurance companies want this information is so they can cancel policies. Isn't that true?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"Well, this would also help give lower rates on insurance. They can get the information now in other ways, but this would provide a charge of a dollar. The department would give the driver record only, not the accident record. Now, the insurance policy is somewhat based upon the driving record."

Mrs. Hurley demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued, Representatives Beierlein, Hawley, Johnston, and Witherbee arguing in favor of adoption of the committee amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Hawley yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Hawley?"

Mr. Hawley:

"Yes."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Hawley, do you think it might be possible that insurance companies, as a condition for granting or renewing insurance policies, might require the applicants to sign the statements requesting that the companies be allowed to look at these files? Might that not become a standard practice?"

Mr. Hawley:

"I think if it was, Mr. Ackley, it would have to be approved by the Insurance Department. I am sure that these applications do have to have some standardization. I wouldn't say that it would become a requirement, but it is a possibility, yes."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Ackley and Klein speaking against adoption of the committee amendment, and Representatives Pritchard, Burch, Cecil, and Evans speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Beierlein a question."

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Beierlein?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"Yes."

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Beierlein, I am familiar with this area geographically but not too familiar with the traffic studies. Does this traffic study of the Naches tunnel include a study of the rebuilding of the roads leading to the Cascade tunnel? I am speaking specifically of the highway leading from Naches to the east portal of the tunnel, which is in no sense at the present time a heavy traffic road."

Mr. Beierlein:

"Yes, pretty much. They have taken all these things into consideration. The actual bonding would cover the tunnel and also thirty-three miles of highway leading to it, and they have estimated that the roads that would be necessary east and west of the tunnel would add a cost of perhaps four million dollars."

Mr. Moos demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Resolution by Representatives Nicholson and Bergh:

WHEREAS, The Puget Sound Naval Shipyard in Bremerton, Washington, is the Pacific Northwest's largest naval shore establishment and Washington state's second largest industrial installation both as to plant investment and number of civilians employed; and

WHEREAS, Puget Sound Naval Shipyard has earned universal identification with the progressive advance of Uncle Sam's new nuclear-missile Navy, employing a current work force of 9,200 men and women in a score of different trades and engineering, scientific and professional endeavors, all teamed to the buildup of our new Navy by new construction and conversion, as well as to regular ship overhaul and repair work; and

WHEREAS, In an era of rising shipbuilding costs, Puget Sound Naval Shipyard has achieved spectacular tax dollar savings without sacrifice of quality workmanship; and

WHEREAS, Recent examples of these economy producer achievements include savings of nearly $5,000,000 in the past two years alone, largely by management paring of operational costs and shipwork charges, as well as a successful incentive program for worker suggestions; and

WHEREAS, Specific examples include savings of $400,000 in the completion construction of the guided missile frigate King in late 1960; overhaul of the huge U.S.S. Lexington on the barest of budgets; direct savings of $200,000 on conversion of the cruiser Columbus to an all-guided missile warship in 1959 which saw "Operation Clean-Sweep," the controlled ripout of the ship's superstructure in record-breaking time; and the modernization of the supercarrier Coral Sea in 1960, a job officially pronounced "well done" at savings of over one million dollars;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That we, the members of the House of Representatives, today salute Puget Sound Naval Shipyard, its commander, Rear Admiral William A. Dolan, Jr., its management staff, and its 9,200 employees, for devotion to the highest standards of efficiency, and we join with them as they prepare to commemorate the 70th year of Puget Sound Naval Shipyard service to the fleet, a history of service out of which has emerged a naval shipyard whose successful yesterdays have come to insure the Navy's confidence in its tomorrows; and

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this Resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, to the Secretary of the Navy, to the Chief of the Navy Bureau of Ships, and to the Commander of the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard.

| NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The word "agency" used herein shall mean and includeevery state government office, officer, each institution, whether educational, correc-tional, or other, and every department, division, board and commission, except asotherwise provided in this act. |          |
| NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. In order to carry out the provisions of these appropriationsand the state budget, the budget director, with the approval of the governor, may:   |          |
| (1) Allot all or any portion of the funds herein appropriated, or included in thestate budget, to the various agencies by such periods as he shall determine and may  |          | place any funds not so allotted in reserve available for subsequent allotment: Provided, That the budget director shall not alter allotment requests filed with him, nor shall he place in reserve any funds, for the following: Agencies headed by elective officials; University of Washington; Washington State University; Central Washington College of Education; Eastern Washington College of Education; Western Washington College of Education; Washington State Apple Advertising Commission; Washington State Fruit Commission; Washington Dairy Products Commission or any agricultural commodity commission created under the provisions of RCW 15.66; the legislative branch of state government including the legislative council, the legislative budget committee, the statute law committee, and any legislative interim committee; or the judicial branch of state government: Provided, however, That the aggregate of allotments for any agency shall not exceed the total of applicable appropriations and local funds available to the agency concerned. It shall be unlawful for any officer or employee to incur obligations in excess of approved allotments or to incur a deficiency and any obligation so made shall be deemed invalid. Nothing in this section or in chapter 328, Laws of 1959 shall prevent revision of any allotment when necessary to prevent the making of expenditures under appropriations in this act in excess of available revenues.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provisions herein or of any other law the governor shall, when in his judgment the economic conditions of the state require that expenditures be curtailed and a more economical allotment of funds be made, conserve the moneys herein appropriated by directing adjustments in the size and composition of the staff of any agency other than those enumerated in subsection (1) of this section. Such adjustments shall be effected by the budget director pursuant to such rules and regulations as the state personnel board may prescribe to effectuate this purpose, and in any case where dismissals may be required as a result of the diminution of any agency's staff, persons over retirement age in the service of the state shall be reverted to retirement status before other staff reductions are made.

(3) Issue rules and regulations to establish uniform standards and business practices throughout the state service, including regulation of travel by officers and employees and the conditions under which per diem shall be paid, so as to improve efficiency and conserve funds.

(4) Prescribe procedures and forms to carry out the above.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. No part of the appropriations in this act may be used for increasing the salary of any position in the classified service unless each such position has been evaluated and classified according to the provisions of chapter 1, Laws of 1961.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Except as otherwise provided in this act, any receipts from federal or other sources or from gifts or grants in excess of those estimated in the budget may be received and allotted by the governor but in the event that receipts shall be less than those estimated in the budget from any source the appropriation shall be limited to the amount actually received and allotments made as provided in section 4. Whenever possible, the receipt of federal or other funds which are not anticipated by the governor's budget or the legislature shall be used to support regular programs instead of using appropriated funds. The governor's budget shall identify allotments made pursuant to this section and shall indicate whether and to what extent the budgets for future bienniums will require any state funds for the continuation of the activities supported by such allotments.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Agencies are authorized to make refunds of erroneous or excessive payments and in the case of other refunds, which may be provided by law, without express appropriation therefor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Whenever allocations are made from the governor's emergency appropriation to an agency which is financed by other than general fund moneys, the budget director may direct the repayment of such allocated amount to the general fund from any balance in the fund or funds which finance such agency. Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1 as amended by the Free Conference Committee, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

I voted against Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, because I feel that there is unconstitutional, unduly restrictive, substantive legislation, under the guise of provisos, included in the bill, particularly in the areas of public assistance and institutions. Further, I feel there were drastic, unsubstantiated cuts in public assistance, which might cause us to effect ratable reductions or cause a deficiency appropriation next session.

DANIEL BRINK,
35th District.

I voted for Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, even though I felt that the budget was too low for certain areas pertaining to schools, Secondly, I felt that the various provisions under the department of public assistance were ill-advised and contrary to the general policies of the Democratic party.

KEITH H. CAMPBELL,
5th District.

I voted against Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1, as amended by the Free Conference Committee because I feel that the allocation for education was not as adequate as was possible with $124,000,000 in new money.

JACK METCALF,
38th District.

I voted against Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1 (the budget) because in the section devoted to public assistance I feel that there is restrictive legislation which should not be included in an appropriation bill. The provisions which allow a social worker to determine that a person receiving public assistance could be moved from one part of the state to another against his or her will with a threat of denial of assistance is totally unwise and constitutionally questionable. The proviso which denies assistance to Indians in the budget bill violates the question of basic civil liberty and would tend to force persons to give up their personal sovereignty in exchange for bread and meat as does the previous portion dealing with moving an individual. I object to the section which deals with common law marriage in a way which is not really legal in this state. The approach to the vocational rehabilitation program is not proper in any way, and does not identify the amount each program is supposed to be allotted by the Legislature, and makes each program compete with the other for funds when there should be wholehearted cooperation. Finally, I object strenuously to the writing of legislation into the budget bill, especially when such legislation has failed to be passed through the normal channels where it could receive proper scrutiny. I do not believe this practice is good for the Democratic party or is in the interest of good government.

SAMUEL J. SMITH,
37th District.

Our views on the levels of expenditure in a proper budget were expressed during the debate on Senate Bill No. 1 on March 16. We do not object so much to the total of expenditures contained in the bill on which we have just voted as we do the distribution of those expenditures.

Education has been poorly treated in order to escape the necessity for proper public assistance reforms and cuts in general government. With these reforms and cuts, the additional $13,000,000 for public schools and $3,000,000 for higher education contained in the bill passed on March 16 could have been retained today without adding to the total of all appropriations.

Because education has been reduced in order to spend unnecessary millions for public assistance and general government, we have voted against this budget.

We, Republican members of the House of Representatives from Seattle, have voted against the omnibus appropriations bill (Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1 and the free conference report thereon) for the following reasons:

1. The allocation of state funds for education to the Seattle School District reduces Seattle's proportion of state financial aid given to all public schools. At the same time it increases funds for schools in school districts where property is assessed at lower levels than in King County. It simply aggravates a basic problem that has long existed in the matter of allocation of state funds favoring counties where property is assessed on a lower basis.

2. The University of Washington has not received an adequate share of the funds for higher education. It is the only state university or college in our state which will receive no money for support of its summer school program.

In spite of its greater proportion of graduate students receiving specialized training, the University of Washington will receive a far smaller amount per student than the other state university. This will almost certainly compel the university to raise its tuition fees.

3. The budget requires burdensome new taxes which, if the Republican programs for reductions and safeguards in other fields of state government had been adopted, would have been totally unnecessary.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, March 30, 1961.

To the Honorable, The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval as to one certain item, House Bill No. 24 entitled:

"An Act relating to civil actions and damages; creating a committee; making an appropriation; repealing chapter 97, Laws of 1961; and declaring an emergency."

The primary purpose of this bill is to repeal chapter 97, Laws of 1961, which would allow the imposition of punitive damages in legal actions involving the commission of intentional injuries and torts. In addition, this bill would create a committee to study the problem of punitive damages. The committee is required to make recommendations to the next Legislature.

It is my personal belief that chapter 97, Laws of 1961, would merit a tryout for a reasonable length of time. I am firmly convinced that the fears which have been expressed to me by Labor leaders, by members of the Press, Radio and Television, are greatly exaggerated. After all, laws allowing the imposition of punitive damages in one form or another are now in effect in over forty states. It is clear that the various organizations which have objected so bitterly to chapter 97, Laws of 1961, have been able to adjust satisfactorily to such laws in those states. Nevertheless, since both Houses of the Legislature saw fit to pass this bill by overwhelming majorities I feel obliged, reluctantly, to sign this bill with one exception.

Section 3 of the bill contains the following item:

"as follows: One member who shall represent organized labor; a member of the judicial council, selected by the chief justice; a member of the superior court judges association, selected by the president judge; a member of the Washington State Bar Association, selected by the president thereof; a member of the Allied Daily Newspapers of Washington, selected by the president thereof; and a member of the Washington State Association of Broadcasters, selected by the president thereof."

To permit this item to become law would force me to appoint as members of the committee, persons selected entirely by the organizations mentioned. No doubt you realize that I will be held responsible personally for the work of the committee. To impose such responsibility upon me without allowing me any choice whatsoever in making the appointments appears to me to be unfair and inequitable. I therefore, respectfully, must refuse to accede to such imposition. I want to make it clear that I will not buy "a pig in the poke."

While I intend to appoint the members of the study committee from the organizations mentioned in the item vetoed, I reserve the right to choose such members with-the foremost thought in mind of establishing on the committee, a well balanced view between proponents and opponents of punitive damages. Thus, the chances are that the study committee will bring in a report reflecting a just and equitable solution to the problem involved.

For the reasons indicated, the item quoted from section 3 is vetoed, and the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Brink, House Bill No. 24, partially vetoed by the Governor, together with the Governor's veto message, was referred to the Committee on Rules and Order.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Andersen (James A.).

Mr. Andersen:

"Mr. Speaker, would the Speaker explain the significance of what just transpired?"

The Speaker:

"Yes, the message and that portion of the act which was vetoed by the Governor was referred to the Committee on Rules and Order."

Mr. Andersen:

"Does this have any effect on any portion of the act other than the portion that has been vetoed?"

The Speaker:

"No."

In addition, the governor may receive and allot any federal funds made available for capital outlay at any one of the five institutions of higher education; provided that if any of the projects contained in this act qualify for such federal funds, the amount of state funds not required are hereby appropriated to projects in the 1963/65 capital program for that institution to be designated by the Governor on the basis of priority in the program and funds available on the advice of the governing board of the institution.

ROBERT M. SCHAEFER
KEITH H. CAMPBELL
STANLEY C. PENCE

Mr. Schaefer moved that the House adopt the report of the Free Conference Committee on Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Leland:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Schaefer yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Schaefer?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I certainly would."

Mr. Leland:

"On page 14, I note that they have left in the $500,000 to construct the addition to Roberts Hall, but have stricken the proviso. That proviso was to assure that the Bureau of Mines would be retained for the state on the campus. Would you explain for the record what assurance we have that the Bureau of Mines will, indeed, be kept and given adequate space?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"It was my understanding that one of the conditions for the Bureau of Mines remaining in the University of Washington was that this building would be built. If the building is being constructed, that provision has been fulfilled. The proviso was deleted so that the Bureau of Mines and the University will not be bound as to the entire space of this building. To give them some discretion in the matter, they thought it would be best for the conference committee to strike this proviso. However, in talking to the people representing the University, they have no intention of asking the Bureau of Mines to leave the University."

Mr. Leland:

"So that we may know who is speaking from the University, who made the pledge on behalf of the University?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I think it was Dr. Thieme."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Schaefer yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Schaefer?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I would be very happy to."

Mr. Andersen:

"I would like to make this more specific. I am very much concerned about striking this language. In fact, it is the only condition on which a number of us will go with the bill, that this particular station be kept where it is. May I ask this question specifically? Referring to page 14 of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2 as amended by the Free Conference Committee, it is the intent of the legislature under this bill that the Bureau of Mines be permitted to maintain the Northwest Experimental Station on the University of Washington campus in its present status?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I can assure you that the members of the Conference Committee from the House had the feeling—and had we not, we would still be in Free Conference—that they would agree to maintain that in its present status."

Mr. Andersen:

"The legislative intent is that it will be maintained?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"Yes."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Schaefer yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to another question, Mr. Schaefer?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"Yes."

Mr. Uhlman:

"The legislative intent and the intent of the committee, then, was that the University should not be hampered or pinned down as to the exact location, rather that they would be enabled to locate the Bureau of Mines on the campus where it would be best suited? Is that correct?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I can't speak as to the intent of the legislature because we haven't passed this bill yet. I can say that the intention of the Free Conference Committee in passing out this bill, which we hope is the intent of the legislature, is that the building will be constructed and one of its purposes will be to house the Bureau of Mines."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Schaefer yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Schaefer?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I will be happy to."

Mr. Canfield:

"I haven't had time yet to read this over. Have these columns been totaled?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"Yes, they have been."

Mr. Canfield:

"Could you give us the figures?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I think they are readily evident. We did not change the original bill except for one change on page 14, the construction of the Forest Products Laboratory, which changed the total on line 30 by raising it $500,000; and on the other, the park total is the same as it was before."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Leland:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. Schaefer would be good enough to yield to one final question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to another question, Mr. Schaefer?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I will be very happy to."

Mr. Leland:

"So that we may have it very clear, so that we may have it crystal clear, the purpose of the committee—and I am speaking now of the conference committee from the House—is that this appropriation of $500,000 is being made so that there will be money available to make certain that there is space available on the campus for the Bureau of Mines?"

Mr. Schaefer:

"I think that has been stated, yes."

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be Mr. Schaefer's motion that the House adopt the report of the Free Conference Committee on Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2.

The motion was carried, and the report of the Free Conference Committee on Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2 was adopted.

FINAL PASSAGE OF SENATE BILL AS AMENDED BY FREE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE ON HOUSE BILL PARTIALLY VETOED
Extraordinary Session—1961

March 30, 1961

To the Honorable,
The House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith without my approval as to one certain item, House Bill No. 24, entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to civil actions and damages; creating a committee; making an appropriation; repealing chapter 97, Laws of 1961; and declaring an emergency.”

The primary purpose of this bill is to repeal chapter 97, Laws of 1961, which would allow the imposition of punitive damages in legal actions involving the commission of intentional injuries and torts. In addition, this bill would create a committee to study the problem of punitive damages. The committee is required to make recommendations to the next Legislature.

It is my personal belief that chapter 97, Laws of 1961, would merit a tryout for a reasonable length of time. I am firmly convinced that the fears which have been expressed to me by Labor leaders, by members of the Press, Radio and Television, are greatly exaggerated. After all, laws allowing the imposition of punitive damages in one form or another are now in effect in over forty states. It is clear that the various organizations which have objected so bitterly to chapter 97, Laws of 1961, have been able to adjust satisfactorily to such laws in those states. Nevertheless, since both Houses of the Legislature saw fit to pass this bill by overwhelming majorities I feel obliged, reluctantly, to sign this bill with one exception.

Section 3 of the bill contains the following items:

“as follows: One member who shall represent organized labor; a member of the judiciary council, selected by the chief justice; a member of the superior court judges association, selected by the president judge; a member of the Washington State Bar Association, selected by the president thereof; a member of the Allied Daily Newspapers of Washington, selected by the president thereof; and a member of the Washington State Association of Broadcasters, selected by the president thereof.”

To permit this item to become law would force me to appoint as members of the committee, persons selected entirely by the organizations mentioned. No doubt you realize that I will be held responsible personally for the work of the committee. To impose such responsibility upon me without allowing me any choice whatsoever in making the appointments appears to me to be unfair and inequitable. I therefore respectfully, must refuse to accede to such imposition. I want to make it clear that I will not buy “a pig in the poke”.

While I intend to appoint the members of the study committee from the organizations mentioned in the item vetoed, I reserve the right to choose such members with the foremost thought in mind of establishing on the committee, a well-balanced view between proponents and opponents of punitive damages. Thus, the chances are that the study committee will bring in a report reflecting a just and equitable solution to the problem involved.

For the reasons indicated, the item quoted from section 3 is vetoed, and the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,

Governor.
