RESOLUTION

Resolution by Mr. Litchman:

BE IT RESOLVED, That the rules which governed the House of Representatives during the Thirty-sixth Legislative Session of 1959 be adopted by this House as temporary rules until permanent rules be adopted, and that the Committee on Rules and Order be authorized and directed to formulate the permanent rules of the House for the present session, and that the Committee on Rules and Order act jointly with a like committee from the Senate to formulate joint rules.

On motion of Mr. Litchman, the resolution was adopted.

Nominations for Speaker of the House were declared to be in order.

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Beierlein.

Mr. Beierlein:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Honorable Judge Finley of the Supreme Court, my distinguished colleagues, ladies and gentlemen:

"This is indeed a tense moment as we are here assembled today to organize this House. We stand on the threshold of the thirty-seventh session. We face enormous problems, and I am sure it is apparent to Republicans and Democrats alike that we face a great challenge in the next sixty days, a challenge that will require the best efforts of everyone here.

"We must provide essential services without placing undue hardships upon the taxpayers, and at the end of the session leave here with a balanced budget.

"Therefore, it is of the utmost importance that we choose today the ablest and most competent people to lead us through this session.

"I will place in nomination the name of a man who is eminently qualified to fill this important position as Speaker of the House, a man who has served as a member of this House for many years. He has been chosen three times as the Speaker of the House. He is experienced; his rulings are fair and impartial; but above all, above and beyond all this, he possesses the rarest of human qualities—that of greatness.

"I now have the privilege, and I assure you it is indeed an honor, to place in nomination the name of a longtime, loyal friend, John L. O'Brien."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Goldmark.

Mr. Goldmark:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Chief Justice Finley, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"It gives me great pleasure to rise to second the nomination of John O'Brien. I think all of you who have served in this House before are aware with what distinction John has served as a presiding officer in this house. His rulings are fair. All the proceedings are conducted in good spirit. We have no bitterness. We are able to work together as a group. This, of course, is a very important characteristic.

"I would like to supplement Mr. Beierlein's remarks on Mr. O'Brien's qualifications a little further. You will recall that in the last session this legislature had one of the most difficult financial problems that any legislature, in this state anyway, has ever faced. We had many conflicting points of view. We had a lot of hard and difficult decisions to make. And yet we made those decisions, and we made them with only a few days of special session time. And if the House will permit me to compliment the previous House, I think the important factor in moving the business of the house forward time after time was the decision of the Speaker last session. This, I think, speaks better than any words I could offer as testimony to the ability of John O'Brien to lead this House in the job before us."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Brink.

Mr. Brink:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Chief Justice Finley, ladies and gentlemen of this House:

"It is with great honor that I also rise to second the nomination of John L. O'Brien. We are here to consider a multitude of problems, problems that probably started back home in each one of our districts. We are all here to work out a program for this state which we can take back with us and of which we will be proud. To do so, however, requires that we have leadership. Perhaps we are all leaders in our own way, but there is an outstanding leadership that we must have here.

"John O'Brien has presided over us with fairness and integrity in the past. I don't think anyone can question his responsibility to the people of the state of Washington—his deep sense of responsibility. I look forward to this session with great anticipation, confident that John will again be able to lead us toward putting together the various ideas we have and aid us in formulating a program for the state."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Gorton.

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Chief Justice Finley, members of the House:

"We are told that in the 1960's we are faced with the challenge of a new frontier. For that challenge, I should like to nominate for Speaker of the House a strong, new leader.

"This member combines the vigor of youth with mature judgment. He has great intelligence, tempered by fairness. He is strong in his own views but has never failed to be willing to listen to those of others.

"He has served his Country as an officer in the United States Navy for three years during World War II and again for almost two years during the Korean War, when he served on the staff of Admiral Joy at Panmunjom.

"He begins his third brilliant term in this House as the secretary of the interim committee on highways and is now without a superior in knowledge, skill, and wisdom in that most vital and nonpartisan area of our efforts.

"This member is from the Forty-third District. He is respected on both sides of this aisle and I present to you in nomination for Speaker the name of Daniel J. Evans."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mrs. Kirk.

Mrs. Kirk:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Chief Justice Finley of the Supreme Court, ladies and gentlemen:

"I rise to second the nomination of Mr. Daniel Evans for Speaker of the House of Representatives."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Edwards.

Mr. Edwards:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Mr. Chief Justice, my fellow legislators:

"I have been here since 1933. This is my twenty-eighth year, and I have seen Speakers come and go. We have been very fortunate in this state of ours. We have had wonderful Speakers of this assembly, ladies and gentlemen. Although we have had some of the greatest men in the nation right here, I want to assure you that the man whose name I am going to mention, who has served now for three sessions, has come up to the level of our very best speakers in the State of Washington, and he has risen above that level. Ladies and gentlemen, I hope you can see your way clear to vote for the best man for the State of Washington, the best man for the benefit of our schools, and for the whole state. I give you the name of our ex-Speaker, John O'Brien, to be re-elected Speaker of the House unanimously."

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Sawyer.

Mr. Sawyer:

"Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"It is with deep pleasure at this time that I rise to second the nomination of John O'Brien. I think we all know John's record in the past. We all realize he is a very capable leader of the Democratic party. I think that John will be able to bring complete harmony to the party, so we can go ahead and do the great task we have before us. It is with a great amount of pleasure that I second the nomination of John O'Brien." (Applause.)

On motion of Mr. Litchman, the nominations for Speaker of the House of Representatives were closed.

The Clerk called the roll, and Mr. O'Brien was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives by the following vote: Mr. O'Brien, 58; Mr. Evans, 40; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting for Mr. O'Brien were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Avey, Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bernethy, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brink, Brouillet, Burns, Burtch, Campbell, Cecil, Chatalas, Conner, Day, DeJarnatt, Edwards, Epton, Evans, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldmark, Henry, Holmes, Hurley, King, Kink, Klein, Leibold, Litchman, Mardesich, Marsh, May, McCormick, McElroy, McFadden, Meyers, Nicholson, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Perry, Poff, Ritner, Sawyer, Schaefer, Smith, Taylor, Testu, Uhlman, Wedekind, Witherbee—58.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Farrington—1.

The Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, I move that the vote for Mr. O'Brien as Speaker of the House be made unanimous.

"May I interject a few remarks?

"Ladies and gentlemen of the House, I think we all know that there has been in the past few days some discussion over the Speakership of the House. I am glad to see that has been resolved to the extent that it has, and, in speaking directly to John, I know that you will rule, as Speaker of this House, with impartiality, with fairness, and with the ability to recognize both the majority and minority, so that each can be heard in this legislature of ours.

"If I may take a moment, although it is not right on this subject, I think it is a place for me to tell a little about how I think a minority should act, since we are about to make this motion unanimous. I believe there are many things that are for the good of the state that are not partisan. We in the Republican party intend not only to help you in the majority but to provide some leadership to bring about the things that are for the good of the state. When we get to an issue that affects our party platform and where we differ, we will fight you with everything we have, and we will put forward a Republican program in a manner which we think will be progressive and positive. We hope you will listen to it and maybe occasionally buy it.

"So I look forward to an interesting session and salute you, Mr. O'Brien, as the new Speaker." (Applause.)

The motion of Mr. Evans carried, and Mr. O'Brien was unanimously elected Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Chief Clerk appointed Representatives Beirlein and Olsen to escort Mr. O'Brien to the rostrum where the Honorable Robert C. Finley, Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to him.

The Speaker assumed the chair.

The Speaker addressed the House with the following remarks:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Honorable Chief Justice Finley, members of the House of Representatives:

"I want to thank each and every one of you for re-electing me to this high office. With the office there are tremendous responsibilities—probably more this time than ever in the past.

"It is rather unique, in one way, for all of us to assemble here from various parts of the state with our own ideas of state government, from different environments and occupations, and then to evolve ourselves into a working unit. However, this is a vital part of our legislative procedure. On occasions, we will have to compromise our opinions on various matters; and I sincerely hope that in the ensuing days we will do that. When we have issues—partisan issues—as I know we will, we should keep our discussions on a high level and avoid personalities.

"To the new members, please feel free any time to come into the Speaker's office. We will have an orientation session where you will be shown our method of procedure, which we hope will be helpful to you. To those members who have been here many times, let me say I certainly want to cooperate with you to the best of my ability. The last few days, as Mr. Evans has stated, have been rather unusual in the annals of electing a Speaker, but I suppose all of these things make life a little more interesting. But now we have closed ranks, and we have a tremendous task in meeting our responsibilities to the people of the State of Washington to whom we want to be fully responsible. Again, thank you very much." (Applause.)

The Speaker called for nominations for Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives.

The Speaker recognized Mrs. Henry.

Mrs. Henry:

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"It gives me great pleasure to rise today to place before this body the name of a woman as candidate for Speaker Pro Tem. In the past a woman has held this position, and I would like to state that I see no reason to break that precedent. The lady whose name I would like to place before this body has won the love and respect of her district, the Thirty-fourth District in King County. She has been re-elected for eight consecutive sessions and has seen service on Rules, Highways, and the other major committees. She has been a former national committeewoman for her party. At this time, I would like to place in nomination the name of Jeanette Testu as Speaker Pro Tem."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Uhlman.

Mr. Uhlman:

"Mr. Speaker and fellow members of this House:

"I would like to second the nomination of Representative Testu. I think she has demonstrated her conscientious and capable attitude here in the past sessions. When I was a freshman legislator in the last session, she was of immeasurable help to me, as I am sure she will be to other freshmen this session. As a second termmer this time, I take great pleasure in seconding the nomination of Jeanette Testu."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Leland.

Mr. Leland:

"Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley, and friends who are going to work together in the coming sixty days:

"It is with pleasure that we on the Republican side of the aisle bring to your attention and place in nomination the name of someone in whom we have great confidence, and, I am sure, in whom you have great confidence. This lady has served the state, her community, and this body with great distinction. She is a most charming lady and a most capable individual, and her tact, her wit, her wisdom, and her charm give to us who have the opportunity of working with her the knowledge of just how gracious a lady she really is. It is with great humility and great pleasure that we place in nomination our distinguished colleague from this side of the aisle, Frances Swayze from Tacoma."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Jueling.

Mr. Jueling:

"Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley, ladies and gentlemen of the legislature:

"It is my great privilege to second the nomination of Frances Swayze from the Twenty-sixth District. She has brought great credit to her district, the legislature, and the State of Washington. She has keen political acumen. She has determination. She has fairness. She has dedication. It is my great pleasure to second the nomination of Frances Swayze."

The motion of Mrs. Swayze carried and Mrs. Testu was unanimously elected Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Wedekind and Campbell to escort Mrs. Testu to the rostrum, where the Honorable Robert C. Finley, Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to her.

The Speaker recognized Mrs. Testu.

Mrs. Testu:

"Mr. Speaker, Honorable Chief Justice Finley, members of the House of Representatives:

"I just want to say thank you for this great honor and responsibility. I will continue to strive to keep the respect of my colleagues. Thank you."

The Speaker called for nominations for the office of Chief Clerk.

The Speaker recognized Mr. Bernethy.

Mr. Bernethy:

"Mr. Speaker, Justice Finley, and ladies and gentlemen of the House of Representatives:

"Once again I rise to place in nomination a very close friend of mine whom you all know. He has been Chief Clerk of this House of Representatives for nearly thirty years. Since 1933, he has missed only one session. He has done a marvelous job, and to the new members I want to say he will be always ready to help you with your problems. To the old members of the House of Representatives I don't have to say too much about Si's ability and what he can do as Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives. Once again I want to say it is a great pleasure and honor for me to place in nomination the name of my friend, Si Holcomb, for Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives."

The Speaker recognized Mrs. Hurley.

Mrs. Hurley:

"Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"It is a real pleasure for me to second the nomination of the most capable and the most experienced Chief Clerk this House of Representatives has ever known. For many years Si Holcomb has served the legislature and the State of Washington with honor and distinction. His re-election today will continue a record of service unequalled in any state of the nation. I am honored to second the nomination of Si Holcomb for the position of Chief Clerk."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Canfield.

Mr. Canfield:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley, distinguished ladies and gentlemen of this House:

"Two years ago, it was my privilege to stand before this body and speak for our membership in seconding the nomination of S. R. Holcomb for Chief Clerk of this House. The members of this House are addressed to the responsibility of conserving and advancing the interests of the State of Washington. It is the special duty of the Chief Clerk to handle the multitudinous and intricate details, not only in the session, but in the interim as well. Si Holcomb is eminently qualified for this position by his ability, his long experience, by his personal courtesy, and by his efficiency. Knowing that Si Holcomb will record a true and accurate history of this session, we gladly second his nomination to the important office of Chief Clerk of this Thirty-seventh legislative session."

I don't think there is any doubt of his ability to keep the galleries clear when we want them that way. It is with a great deal of pleasure that I place in nomination the name of Elmer Hyppa. If there is any doubt, I refer you to his campaign pamphlet which states, 'I feed good.'"

The Speaker recognized Mr. Harris.

Mr. Harris:

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Pritchard:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Brink yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Does Mr. Brink yield to the question?"

Mr. Brink:

"Yes, I yield."

Mr. Pritchard:

"I would like to ask Mr. Brink if the Governor is asking for this. Mr. Edwards indicated the Governor, or his team, isn't asking for this raise. I would like to ask you if the Governor is asking for this increase?"

Mr. Brink:

"In answer to your question, I have not spoken to the Governor directly. I know the same people who advised him during the last session not to veto are retaining the same position. Some of his advisers felt that the salary of $22,500 was appropriate and were asking that he not veto. They are the same ones who talked to me about it this time. I have not talked with the Governor directly. You could ask the Governor, however."

Mr. Evans then read the Explanation of Vote.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

We Republican members of the House of Representatives have voted to override the governor's veto of that portion of House Bill No. 698 passed in the 1959 session which would have increased the salary of the governor from $15,000 to $22,500 per year.

In our opinion, the office of governor of the state of Washington should command a salary in accordance with the provisions of House Bill No. 698.

We believe that the governor agrees with this and did so at the time he vetoed his own salary increase in 1959. His veto distorted the salary scales of state officials when compared with the governor's salary. The veto was obviously dictated by partisan political considerations. It would be a natural inclination to let the governor suffer the adverse effect of this political act, since he has reaped whatever benefits that may have resulted from it.

However, we believe the issue of the governor's salary and that of other state officials should be approached without regard to the particular individual who may enjoy an increase in salary. We further believe the salary for this position must be one that will attract high calibre individuals as candidates.

These considerations have caused us to vote to override this veto.

Bless our state with loyal citizens, sound learning, and honorable industry. Save our community from misunderstanding, petty jealousies, and confusion; from selfish pride and false security. Grant to these our legislators the knowledge to see and the courage to do what is right and just, so that they may use their talents, intelligence, integrity and strength for the glory of God and the good of all our people.

"May Almighty God set and keep His protecting hand over our distinguished Governor and the dedicated officials of the State of Washington.

"Let all of us, in our efforts to make this a better state, take to ourselves the prayer of St. Francis of Assisi—so loved by all men—and pondering on it, make it our prayer:

"'Lord, make me an instrument of Your peace. Where there is hatred, let me sow love; where there is injury, pardon; where there is doubt, faith; where there is despair, hope; where there is darkness, light; and where there is sickness, joy. O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; to be understood as to understand; to be loved as to love; for it is in giving that we receive; it is in pardoning that we are pardoned; and it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.' Amen."

MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR ALBERT D. ROSELLINI TO THE LEGISLATURE

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley, state elective officials, Father Evoy, Dr. Uphoff, Honorable Senators and Representatives, ladies and gentlemen:

"It is with deep emotion and a profound feeling of appreciation that I appear before you today to take the oath of office as Governor of Washington and to fulfill a constitutional responsibility to present this message from the executive to the legislative branch of state government. In this inaugural address I would like to express my thanks and my welcome to all of you—the members of the Legislature, distinguished jurists, elective officials, department heads, state employees, guests, and to the general public.

"May I take a moment to also express my gratitude for the great honor which you have bestowed on me and my family. To have been twice elected governor of this great state is an inspiration. My family and I appreciate the many generousities and courtesies which made my first term so gratifying and so memorable.

"I want to take a moment also to add a word of tribute to our new State Insurance Commissioner Emeritus. I want to pay tribute to a man who is retiring after long and honorable service to the people of Washington. An ex-lumber inspector, a Navy worker in World War I, a former real estate operator and insurance broker, a man who has been prominent in many civic duties, William A. Sullivan has given the people of this state devoted service. Billy Sullivan, as we affectionately know him, came to Washington State in his early thirties. He has been Insurance Commissioner for the past twenty-eight years. I know that you all join me in paying tribute to his honesty and integrity and in wishing him many years of happy retirement.

"The State of Washington has been moving ahead for four years. In some areas the progress has been spectacular. We must continue to go forward. But before I begin to spell out a program of action, let us try to fit our objectives here into a larger picture, as I feel we should.

"We live in one of the finest democracies mankind has ever known. Because our people were free and because we cherished the ideals of liberty, equality and justice, we were able to unlock great human resources—the talents and abilities of men and women from all parts of the earth. America has demonstrated that man's greatest resource is man himself. We have tried to make it possible for each individual to develop his capacities and character to the fullest. Because we believe in the individual's rights, dignity and capabilities, our society, in spite of its lingering imperfections, has become the envy of the free world.

"Today I know we all recognize our nation is locked in a struggle for survival with the Soviet Union, a nation whose aims are directly opposed to these ideals of freedom. What we do here has a direct bearing on that struggle. I think sometimes we tend to discount the impact of activities at the state level of government and to believe that the moves made here are minor when compared with the actions of the Congress and the President of the United States. We need to remind ourselves time and again during this session that the levels of support we establish here for the various programs of state government will vitally influence the destiny of the United States. We set the levels for our schools. These schools preserve and advance the intellectual and moral values of our free society. They also determine the scientific advancement, the social progress, and the growing opportunities of tomorrow. The highways we build move goods and people at an ever increasing volume. The laws passed here create a climate that affects our industrial growth and the number of jobs available to our people.

"Education clearly has become the focal point for public endeavor. Russia's scientific advances have made America more aware of the acute need for quality in education. It is difficult now, I believe, to find a citizen who is not concerned about educational excellence. More than ever before the public is ready to face its financial responsibilities to teachers and education generally. The phenomenal growth of our schools has placed us in a desperate position in the matter of finding good teachers. The State Board of Education has reported that 2,576 teachers have left the profession since last year. The number of teachers needed each fall as replacements and to take care of added enrollment is far greater than the total number turned out by all the colleges in the state. Some of the most critical areas are those of science, mathematics and foreign languages. The demand is up for well-trained persons. Many teachers with specialized scientific training have left our schools for higher paying jobs in private industry. In addition, at the secondary and junior college levels we face the greatest building problem our state has ever known. Census data show Washington's population has increased 20 percent since 1950, but during the same period school enrollment jumped 62 percent. Ten years ago there were 403,893 children in our public schools. Today there are 652,994. There will be 42,300 additional pupils in the schools of the state of Washington within the next biennium. A recent research report indicates that more than a quarter of a million Washington school children are in overcrowded classes. Many classrooms built to accommodate classes of 25 or 30 now have 35 or more children crammed into them. The past legislature at my recommendation provided for a citizens' review of education. We can be proud of the results that we have achieved as the result of that study. Some of the recommendations made in the citizens' report merit special consideration. One of these is that kindergartens be integrated with the public schools as the first level of instruction and that the same financial support be given as to other grade levels. I definitely recommend that state aid of kindergartens be provided for at this session of the legislature. The orderly expansion of the junior college program is urgent. Existing state colleges cannot cope with the swelling tide of enrollments. The college age group will increase by 73 percent by 1970. Two or more districts should be permitted to cooperate in providing funds for the construction and operation of a new junior college. I firmly believe the State Board of Education should select sites solely on the basis of educational need. I have reviewed some of the problems of education. My specific recommendations will be made Friday in the budget message. It is unfortunate that we must deal with the problems of education in the shadow of an archaic state constitution which limits the tax program to makeshift solutions. We need a tax structure for school support that can grow with the state. The modernization of our constitution is of paramount importance in meeting the needs of education. I therefore urge you to consider the advisability of a constitutional convention.

"When I took office about four years ago in January 1957, we faced an overwhelming task in correcting shocking conditions in the state's institutions. After years of mismanagement and neglect, institutional standards had collapsed. The morale of employees, inmates and patients was at a low ebb. In this, as in other areas of neglect, we were required to expend large sums and tremendous effort. Today the institutions perform the functions an informed citizenry should expect. Forestry camps and youth guidance centers are providing rehabilitation for young offenders. The 'bucket cells' are gone from the state penitentiary. Both Northern State and Western State Hospitals are once again accredited by the national medical associations. We expect Eastern State Hospital to be reaccredited shortly. The dungeons are gone from Green Hill school. And better care is being given to the mentally retarded. In penal institutions the emphasis has been on rehabilitation. As a result there are probably 10 percent fewer men today who return to a life of crime after release from prison. In our mental hospitals, improved treatment has reduced the average stay of patients and, in turn, is reducing the demand for bed space. In work with the mentally retarded Washington is now receiving national recognition. In the field of adult correction the present aim is to reduce overcrowding and accelerate rehabilitation. The state must construct a third prison unit of the 'medium security' type with a reception-diagnostic center. Vocational and academic training must be expanded in the immediate future. Further advances are planned through the increased use of honor farms and forestry camps. In the field of mental health the prime objective is better service for an expanding population. We have many plans for this which I won't take time to outline to you today, but they will be submitted during the course of the session. With respect to the mentally retarded we plan a specialized service for children with more than one handicap and to increase the guidance services available to their parents. Increased emphasis must be placed on research. The number of beds must be expanded further to care for youngsters currently on the waiting list. Treatment for juvenile delinquents must be made more effective and facilities more adequate. As many of you know, we have acquired Cushman Indian Hospital at no cost. It is being converted to a centrally-located diagnostic-treatment center. Additional facilities must be made available to house the aggressive, psychopathic delinquent.

"I think we all recognize that Washington state is becoming increasingly dependent upon highways. Good roads encourage economic growth. More miles of highways have been built during the current administration than during any comparable period. In urban areas new highways are being built at an unprecedented rate. We must make the construction of freeways through large cities the number one priority. At the same time rural areas where good roads are so important must not be neglected. We also need: The extension of four lanes from Cle Elum to Moses Lake through Ellensburg and Vantage. Four lanes from Moses Lake to Ritzville and from the end of the Ritzville freeway to Spokane. Construction of the Spokane freeway. Four lanes from Ellensburg through Yakima down to the Umatilla bridge. Other highway projects which should have top priority are the North Cross state highway, the Hanford road and the Naches tunnel. The tunnel will be of great economic benefit to large areas east and west of the Cascades. We must also complete: Four lanes from Olympia to Aberdeen and into Shelton. The Raymond-Tokeland road. The road from Megler to Knappton, and we must rebuild Highway 12 between Cathlamet and Longview. State highway 8 must be modernized through Clark, Skamania, Benton and Yakima counties. We must build the Lyons ferry route to connect Walla Walla with the Columbia Basin, improve the road from Spokane to Pullman, and complete the Tiger road in Stevens and Pend Oreille counties. These are some of the more important main roads, but we must also be conscious of the needs of access roads to recreation areas to stimulate the developments of areas and resorts. For example, we must facilitate the quick construction of Crystal Mountain road and improve the highway from Tacoma to Mount Rainier. Negotiations are underway with Oregon to see if the Astoria-Megler bridge can be built as a joint venture. This project I feel must be pursued. This list of aims stretches far beyond the two years immediately ahead and is admittedly ambitious. But the future demands ambition and progress. The quicker these roads and bridges can be built, the less they are likely to cost. In order to assure more equitable representation on the highway commission for the various parts of the state, I will offer a bill to raise the number of commission members from five to seven. The measure will stipulate that one member shall be appointed from each congressional district and that not more than four members shall be from the same political party.

"Our state has many barriers to transportation. A number of waterways have been surmounted by large, modern bridges built with tax money and open to travel without tolls. Other crossings, however, have required toll charges so that pressing transportation problems could be met earlier than would have been possible otherwise. To meet these needs we pioneered in the use of floating concrete spans for long water crossings. Our first venture was the Lake Washington bridge. It was eminently successful. We are happy that after many blockades we are well on our way with the construction of a new Lake Washington bridge. Our second venture in a floating crossing got underway about four years ago. This was the Hood Canal bridge. It posed new problems. It is over tidewater and is more exposed. Storm damage and unusual and unforeseen problems have caused delay and extra cost. This delay and expense is unfortunate, but certainly not disastrous. Great need and economic advantages justify the immediate completion of the bridge. I will offer a series of recommendations on this and other facets of Toll Bridge Authority operations, including the reorganization of the Toll Bridge Authority. These recommendations will provide for better policy direction in the future. They include—a special short-range financial assistance for the bridge and a refinancing plan to lower all interest costs considerably and repay the short-range assistance. We will also offer a long-range program to solve Puget Sound transportation problems in a way that will lower tolls and ferry rates and encourage development of the area. Details of this plan will be transmitted to you in bill form within a few days.

"To raise the levels of performance and efficiency in government we must constantly strive to recruit, train, and keep competent employees. Such a program in a long run saves money. The state, however, competes with private industry for qualified employees. To meet this competition the Legislature at the 1959 session authorized salary increases based on a 1958 survey. A second study conducted this past year by the Salary Advisory Committee again reflects the necessity of an increase. In my budget message I will propose pay raises for state employees.

"I will request the means to set up a special management unit with a staff of specialists in the Central Budget Agency. The purpose of this unit will be to continue to develop good management procedures and more efficient practices in government.

"The most important matter to come before you in the field of public assistance will be the coordination of our state medical care program with the new federal legislation. Washington state now enjoys one of the best medical care plans for older persons. Nevertheless, the federal program offers opportunities to improve this care, and we should take advantage of the federal legislation wherever possible. In the early part of my administration the Governor's Council on Aging was established to advise and recommend policies. This group has filled a vital need, and now I ask that statutory provisions be made for its continued operation. It is becoming increasingly difficult for persons over forty-five to find jobs. I strongly recommend the approval of legislation to insure fair and equal opportunity of employment for persons over forty-five. It has been demonstrated repeatedly that this state does not want lien laws or ratable reductions. I ask you to reject legislation of this nature. We must continue adequate grants to our senior citizens. The serious fiscal situation should not be permitted to threaten their welfare. In that connection, I recommend that you memorialize Congress to pass legislation which would permit senior citizens to supplement their grants with reasonable earnings.

"There has long been a need to reorganize our justice courts. Legislation designed to do this has been considered by the Legislative Council. I recommend you approve its proposals.

"Election laws: State election laws should receive objective, nonpartisan study with the aim of revision. In my opinion, the residency requirement with respect to presidential elections should be reduced. Regulations should permit voter registration by mail with careful precautions against fraud and heavy penalties for violation. A citizen's entire paper ballot should not be discarded when he makes a solitary error and votes for more candidates than the number indicated for a single office. I feel that polls should remain open longer to enable more people to participate in the constitutional right of voting. I recommend a general review of these laws. I also recommend that you memorialize Congress to pass legislation to grant the right to vote for President and Vice President of the United States to the District of Columbia residents.

"I am concerned about our fisheries resource. The runs of all five species of salmon have declined and forced severe restrictions on fishing along the Pacific Coast. Our state alone is not responsible for the trend, nor can we alone reverse it. To meet this emergency our hatcheries have more than doubled the output of young salmon. Fish farms have been developed to provide low-cost rearing. Programs have been coordinated with the federal government and cooperation sought with Canada and other coastal states. Much progress is being made. With the continued cooperation of sports and commercial interests we can rebuild this resource. This will take time, aggressive action, and money. The salmon fishery, because of its economic importance, must be restored.

"Four years ago we recognized agriculture's contribution to the economy, and the State Department of Agriculture began to work closely with commodity groups. This cooperation led to recodification of farm laws. Both producers and consumers benefited. Through its work with farm groups the department continues to effect solutions to problems. For example, proposals will be offered at this Legislature to deal with the sale of agricultural chemicals. Our state is among the leaders in this extremely complex field.

"But the most pressing problem is that of declining farm income. Our producers need new marketing tools to strengthen their bargaining power in the market place. This need is urgent because of the challenge to the 1955 Agricultural Marketing Act which may jeopardize the work of commodity commissions. I urge you to consider farm marketing proposals with great care.

"We all recognize, I think, that the welfare of the state depends upon its industries, and even more upon the welfare of its wage earners. When the state of Washington exercised its police and sovereign power to deprive injured workers and their dependents of their common law rights to sue in the courts, the state became obligated to keep its workmen's compensation law payments abreast of current economic conditions. Most pressing is the need for a drastic increase in the partial permanent disability payments to seriously injured workers. The present system of paying a small lump sum of cash which is soon spent for a serious injury which frequently impairs a worker's earning power the rest of his life never was just and equitable. Now it is disgracefully outmoded and archaic. A program of partial permanent pensions that would encourage employers to restore their injured workers' earning power is both humane and economically feasible. Properly conceived and executed such a program of partial permanent disability pensions could change our present industrial insurance program from one of merely doling out dollars as compensation to a real workmen's restoration program. It would serve as a model to the nation and do so with a minimum of additional cost. I am encouraged in this belief by the splendid job that some of our most physically hazardous industries are already doing in restoring their own injured workers to suitable jobs.

"Adherence to sound insurance principles has placed Washington in the enviable position of having one of the nation's most solvent unemployment funds.

"The fact that our program is already among the best should not deter us from making changes which will improve it and benefit our economy. However, any change must not alter the basic intent of the program, which is the prompt payment of adequate benefits to eligible claimants. Nor should any change destroy the solvency of our fund or damage the insurance principles upon which the program is based. Today many states are faced with insolvency in their unemployment compensation programs because changes in their laws have been made without due regard for these insurance principles. In general, we must be certain that any revisions in our employment security laws represent true progress—true improvement.

"In 1956 and again in 1958 we in this state were plagued by initiative campaigns to enact 'right-to-work' laws. These campaigns did much harm to labor-management relationships in our state. I urge this session to memorialize Congress to repeal Section 14-b of the Taft-Hartley Law, which permits states to enact such legislation.

"Great strides have been made in the civil rights area since the Omnibus Civil Rights Bill was passed in 1957. The educational and conciliation efforts of the Washington State Board Against Discrimination have brought decided improvement. It has been heartening to see many employers cooperate in an effort to provide equality of opportunity in employment. But discrimination in housing remains a critical problem. Several states have sought to break through this barrier by enacting legislation covering all housing and to make certain that those who deal in real estate make their properties available to all who can pay. Unequal housing opportunities result in segregated schools, higher police and welfare costs, and a general denial of equal opportunity to minority citizens. These conditions reflect poorly on our state. The entire world is watching the United States and its treatment of minorities. Complacency is inexcusable. I will submit a bill to end discrimination in housing in the state of Washington.

"One of our main problems is to create new jobs and attract a diversity of industries. To promote this economic growth the Department of Commerce and Economic Development was established at my suggestion four years ago. The department since has been praised highly by industrial and labor leaders and has become somewhat of a model in many states of the nation. The Legislative Council has labored hard on proposals to aid the work of the department. I commend these proposals for your careful consideration. A statewide, private organization could be of help in financing new ventures. Enabling legislation will be submitted to permit this. May I urge also that you give careful thought to the role and future of small business in the state of Washington. The small businessman deserves greater attention.

"We need a simple legal structure to permit orderly growth of cities and suburbs. This expansion is creating pressing problems. Cities need revenues. County governments find it difficult to cope with the problems of spreading suburbs. Our annexation laws are archaic. Some date back to 1890. Our cities also need help in planning for economic development. Three years ago a limited program was started under the new Department of Commerce and Economic Development. Since then 34 cities, counties or areas have been assisted, and a total of $380,032 in federal matching funds have been obtained through the Department of Commerce and Economic Development. Prospects are for an increase in this aid during the coming biennium. The work relates economic growth to such factors as land use, transportation, zoning, population studies, planning for parks and schools, and surveys of industrial prospects.

I request that a Division of Local Affairs be created within the Department of Commerce and Economic Development to give this work more attention. I also ask this Legislature to create an interim committee on urban area government to tackle the problems confronting local government. To perform its task well the interim committee will need strong citizen subcommittees. It is estimated that 40 million dollars is taken annually from consumers in this state by fraudulent, deceptive, and unfair commercial practices. Measures will be introduced to correct this situation. Consider them with the utmost care. It is fitting that I commend Attorney General John J. O'Connell and his staff for their work in this area. I have appointed a Citizens' Advisory Council on Consumer Protection to assist them.

"Next year Century 21, one of the greatest scientific expositions the world has seen, will open. The fact that this exposition has international approval and the active help of the federal government is most significant. Excellent progress has been made. The state's coliseum is nearly completed. In 1962 the attention of the world will be focused on Washington state. The benefits will be lasting, especially to our tourist industry. It is within our power to become one of the great tourist destinations with both summer and winter resorts. Century 21 is a major steppingstone to this objective. It also will give our adult population and our school children an intimate knowledge of the scientific revolution. The educational benefits, I am sure, will be tremendous.

"We embarked four years ago on a program to acquire additional park sites. In the past two years alone we have acquired more than 10,000 acres. However, many of these sites are undeveloped. Others need to be expanded or improved. These parks have been a key factor in our growth as a vacation state. This past summer because of heavy attendance we were forced to turn away many tourists. We must correct this situation, and we must also encourage the development of private facilities. We must also assure easy and permanent access to our public lands and waters.

"I have touched briefly on tourism and its importance. Mount Rainier is one of our greatest tourist attractions. Present facilities at Paradise Valley are inadequate and old. A project of utmost importance to the tourist industry is the construction of overnight facilities in Mount Rainier National Park. The long battle to obtain a hotel and related facilities must be renewed with vigor, and certainly with the cooperation, which we are having, of course, with our congressional delegation in Washington, D. C.

"In conclusion, I again urge you to relate what we do here to the welfare of our country. I urge you to reject the sense of frustration that has convinced some people that the upward progress of this state has hit a plateau because of the serious fiscal situation. We can solve these problems if we will but relate them to the philosophy which made this country strong. We can solve them if we will rise above selfish interests and the narrow demands of local loyalties. We must go forward. A new administration in Washington, D. C., promises to revive a sense of national purpose and to move with bold, imaginative strokes. America is going to move ahead. Four years ago in Washington state we launched an era of progress. We have provided new revenues for our growing schools and colleges. We have built highways at the fastest rate in our history. We completely revamped our state institutions. In the next sixty days we must consolidate these gains and continue our progress.

"I pray that we shall receive the Divine guidance to meet the responsibilities that go with the liberty we enjoy." (Applause.)

A benediction was offered by Dr. Robert Uphoff, District Superintendent of the Seattle District of the Methodist Church:

"Let us unite in prayer.

'God, our help in ages past, our hope in years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blasts and our eternal home,
Under the shadow of Thy throne still may we dwell secure;
Sufficient is Thine arm alone, and our defense is sure.'

"In this moment of rededication, we invoke Thy blessing upon Governor Albert Rosellini and his staff, as they assume again the reins of government of our great state of Washington. Grant unto them the Divine Wisdom that will enable them to make those decisions which are for the welfare of the people of our state. Grant unto them the courage to stand for the things they believe are right against all of the pressures of self-seeking and partisan groups. Grant unto them the humility to accept the guidance and advice of those whose concern is the development of the whole personality. Grant unto them the integrity of soul that will keep them ever leading the people in ideals and spiritual standards.

"May these words, our Father, ever dwell in their hearts as they face the difficult task of the administration of this state.

'Breathe on me, breath of God; fill me with life anew,
That I may love what Thou dost love and do what Thou wouldst do.
Breathe on me, breath of God, until my heart is pure,
Until with Thee I will one will to do and to endure.
Breathe on me, breath of God, until I'm wholly Thine,
'Til all this earthly part of me glows with Thy fire divine.'

"Now may the blessing of God the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit abide with each of you forever. Amen."

BUDGET MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR ALBERT D. ROSELLINI TO THE LEGISLATURE

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Honorable Senators and Representatives, ladies and gentlemen:

"Two days ago I briefed you on those measures which I believe should be the major aspirations of government. Today we deal a little more in specifics. This budget message contains refinements of established programs. It encompasses research vital to education and government generally. It fulfills what we feel to be the minimum demand for services from the state of Washington. As you consider this matter, you have two choices: You can balance the budget without any new taxes; or you can meet the requirements of education and government generally, and balance the budget by increasing revenue. While the final choice is yours, I prefer and recommend the latter course. I propose to sustain our past achievements. I intend to meet squarely the educational requirements of our children. I have estimated the need and I recommend measures to satisfy the need. The responsibility rests with the Legislature. Only you, as you know, can appropriate; and only you, as you know, can tax. I am determined to work with you until a satisfactory budget becomes law.

"What is the fiscal picture? Two factors, I should point out, are impoverishing the general fund. One is unexpected. The other has more than a decade of precedent. The first is a period of economic recession, stringently affecting some of our basic industry. The other factor is the progressively mounting cost of education. This winter's business decline is not unique in our corner of the nation. It is being, and has been, felt across the breadth of America. Not only has it attacked the purses of industry and the pockets of workmen, but also, as all of you can realize, the treasuries of state governments. Many states are boosting taxes, or contemplating deficit spending, or sharply crimping projects and programs. In this state, employment reached all-time highs on several consecutive months in 1960. But unemployment, I feel, also has been very high. The recession, I feel, can be traced directly to eight years of uncompromising national policies. Defense employment was reduced. Last year, the market for wood products and construction virtually was broken. The blow of high interest rates and tight mortgage money stunned our plywood and homebuilding industries. The slowdown is touching every community throughout the state of Washington.

"We feel the effects of a general recession—declining department store sales, sluggish bank transactions, increased caseloads in public assistance, and decrease in tax collections. Revenues, principally from the sales tax, began slipping behind our estimates late last summer. Trends that were established then are now established facts. Our income this biennium will be $15 million lower than we anticipated. Nevertheless, I will not request deficiency appropriations in agencies where I have statutory authority to control expenditures. Last month I insisted again that every penny in expenditures in state government be watched. I ordered all reserves frozen, except in real emergencies. This is consistent with the restraint my administration has practiced in money matters.

"When the 1959 Legislature convened, our state was emerging from a recession. There was a deficiency of $25 million in general assistance. Today's recession is causing extra demand on general assistance and aid to dependent children. Nevertheless, we will not spend beyond available funds. This, I might point out, is a contrast to many legislative sessions where public assistance deficiencies were serious and controversial problems that all of us, as members of the legislature, had to face every two years.

"The downward spiral of tax revenues has dictated many last-minute budget revisions. Programs I had hoped to support have been delayed, simply because we will not have enough money. The agencies of government submitted down-to-earth budgets this fall. But I was forced to trim more than $60 million from their requests. I cut the requests in general government—including the elective offices—by $3 million. I cut $24.6 million from requests for health and hospitals. The public safety request was reduced 91 percent. More than $8 million was removed from the initial budget of natural resources and recreation. I allowed increases only for operating present programs, not new programs but present programs, at current prices and population demands. I permitted limited additions to a few departmental budgets, but only where we had saved money through new efficiency.

"Generally, we can predict that present income will expand 10 percent during the 1961-63 biennium. Revenue growth will occur with the natural growth of the state, even under deflationary pressures. With one exception, the budget I request will not exceed the projected income.

"The exception is education. Even if the economy were good and tax receipts were matching highest predictions, school budgets still could outstrip income. Government will cost 10 percent more. Education will cost at least 26.5 percent more under the budget for education that we are submitting. For at least 12 years, we have seen the costs of education advancing rapidly. During the past six years, the education appropriation has increased an average of 30 percent each biennium. Six years ago, it increased $61.4 million. Four years ago, the increase was $100.3 million. In 1959, it increased $75.2 million. The ensuing two years will be little different. I have budgeted an increase of $114.5 million for education. It exceeds general fund revenue by $57.8 million. Basically, there are two causes for this needed addition. First, educational costs are mounting twice as fast as the state's normal growth of income. Second, unfortunately, local governments are providing a smaller and smaller share.

"The problem of education is a common problem. In the final analysis, each citizen of the state must share in resolving it. As legislators and governor, we have been entrusted by the people with seeking the solution. We need more money to pay for education. We can balance the budget without raising taxes, but I say it would be only at the expense of education. You may sit through this session, and end it, without raising taxes, if that is what your constituents want. The authority certainly is yours. The responsibility is also yours. But if that is your choice, I can only point out to you that our schools will suffer and our children will suffer also.

"And I think it is well that we think of the consequences, as I am sure you will as you deliberate during the next fifty or fifty-five days. You would have to refuse salary increases to all scholastic employees, as well as all other state employees, if you follow that course. Or, you would have to fire 4,500 teachers to provide increased salaries for the others. If you do not raise the revenue for education, the number of children in each classroom will increase 20 percent. Or, nearly 10,000 new students would be turned away from our schools of higher education. The capital budget contains 298 projects in 127 school districts. Nothing could be built if you hold the line on education. Eliminating the improvements in our institutions would not save the money needed for education, nor will cuts in our program for economic development. General fund appropriations for agriculture, general administration, labor and industries, licenses, the tax commission, natural resources, budget, the supreme court and the elective offices together are less than the extra money necessary for schools.

"I have carefully reviewed the statements of both common schools and colleges and universities. I applied the same criterion for trimming their requests which I used for the other agencies. I consider my budget for schools at an absolute minimum. I am asking $553.7 million for public schools, colleges, and universities and other education. In this biennium, 53.57 percent of the general fund was earmarked for education. For the next biennium, education will take 56.76 percent of the general fund. I want to continue the existing standards of education and accommodate the huge influx of students. I ask for teacher salary increases of $540 the first year of the biennium and $325 the second year. Teachers' pay must be returned to its traditional rank among the top ten states in the nation.

"Underwriting education has become more and more a financial burden for the state. The trends we have seen since the late 1940's will not change. The state's financial headache is accentuated by the unrealistic property valuations, which are the basis of local collections. The legislature is caught in the gulf between greater need for education and less supply from the districts. Local governments in many states contribute more than twice as much proportionally to common schools than do those in Washington. I repeat: The authority and responsibility is with us here in this chamber. Our schools will become inadequate unless we raise revenues. I cannot recommend cuts in other programs to provide the money.

"Under my proposed budget the general fund expenditures are $975.5 million. Existing revenues will yield $917.7 million. The difference is $57.8 million. It is needed primarily for education.

"Let's talk a little bit about revenue. Developing revenue and passing a balanced budget is a joint responsibility of the governor and the legislature. The problem of educational costs will not end with this session. The perplexing financial questions will be waiting in Olympia every other January for the next 10 years. Each legislature will find the general fund expending larger and larger percentages for education. Two years ago the Tax Advisory Council said a broader tax base is inevitable. We may raise revenue by an income tax, the property tax or excise taxes. I ask this legislature to submit an income tax proposal to the people. A graduated net income tax comes closest to a long-range solution. The revenue would grow with the state. An income tax would enable us to eliminate the sales tax on food items and medicine, or permit a general reduction of the sales tax to three percent. It would put an end to the business and occupation tax. However, I know we all realize, the constitutional restriction on an income tax may delay additional money needed for schools in this biennium. The legislature has two other alternatives. It could raise the sales tax or the business and occupation tax rates. I very strongly recommend against this. These are regressive taxes, which I feel have reached a saturation point. We should actually work toward the day when we can replace them. Left for your decision is the question of imposing other excise taxes or adjusting the property taxes. Each is a potential producer of revenue. My staff has researched the revenue possibilities. We will furnish the legislative committee the best advice available on the legal and monetary aspects of the revenue suggestions.

"The legislature may take my plans apart and reassemble them, or it may construct a plan of its own. This is your responsibility, of course. This is your authority. However, I will not accept an unbalanced budget nor a budget geared for deficiency appropriations. We must remain at the task until we are successful.

"I want to talk for a moment about the cities of the state of Washington. Financial relief is a requirement for cities as much as it is for the state. The cities are in need of help. They are asking for five percent of the sales tax. They are entitled to relief from this legislature. I believe that they actually should receive the dollar equivalent of the five percent that they are asking. A reasonable means to meet their request would be to remove the state pre-emption of certain tax fields. I strongly urge the legislature to consider city governments and to provide means of enabling them to secure the approximately $20 million which they are seeking.

"The agency budgets for the ensuing biennium continue the policies which we have established. They are workable and moderate, yet they make our theme of progress endure. The budgets maintain present levels. They have been estimated, however, to include the increased costs of doing business. Our personnel agencies surveyed prevailing wage rates in industry and other units of government. An 8.8 percent salary increase would place state employees on comparable levels with others. Because of pressures on the general fund, I believe it will be best to delay the adjustment until the second year of the biennium. The increases will amount to about $5 million. Budget programs are arranged in twelve major categories. There are outstanding features in each agency budget. Some of them follow the recommendations of the Legislative Council, the Legislative Budget Committee, and the Governor's Expenditures Advisory Council. Your questions will be welcome either in my office or in the Central Budget Agency. Please feel free to call on us.

"In conclusion, may I say that during the next two months, the legislature will set the course for our state in the next two years. I emphasize again the importance of providing for education. The constitution says education is the paramount duty of state government. My budget proposals have been carefully considered. I believe they are conservative. I would strike a balance between those services which the people demand and their reluctance to foot the bill. The amazing surge in the population of youngsters may have caused fiscal anxiety. But we cannot turn from our responsibility. Those of us in public office must be guided by the collective conscience of the people we serve. I am certain you will fulfill your duty and I pledge to fulfill mine."
(Applause.)

The Lieutenant Governor instructed the special committee to come forward and escort Governor Rosellini from the rostrum to his office.

The special committee thereupon escorted the Governor from the House chamber. (Applause.)

Resolution by Mr. Evans:

WHEREAS, Governor Albert D. WHEREAS, The Governor estimates that existing revenue sources will only provide $97,700,000 additional to meet these proposed increased expenditures; and

WHEREAS, The Governor has proposed that this thirty-seventh Legislature increase the tax burden on the people of this state by $57,800,000 during the next biennium; and

JOINT SESSION

The Sergeant at Arms of the House announced the arrival of the Senate at the bar of the House.

The Speaker invited the Senators to seats within the House, and instructed the Sergeants at Arms of the Senate and the House to escort the Lieutenant Governor to a seat on the rostrum.

The Lieutenant Governor (President of the Senate) presided.

The Lieutenant Governor called the joint session to order.

The Lieutenant Governor announced that the joint session was called for the purpose of receiving a progress report on the Century 21 project from Mr. Edward E. Carlson, Chairman of the Century 21 Commission, and Mr. Jay Rockey, Public Relations Director of Century 21.

The Lieutenant Governor:

"It is my pleasure, at this time, to present Mr. Carlson, who is an internationally known business executive with his primary interest being the hotel business. He is a civic leader of many years standing in his home community of Seattle, Washington. For the past several years, he has been chairman of the Century 21 Commission and has been one of the guiding forces in the destiny of that particular project.

"It is only fitting and proper at this time to remark that the report that Mr. Carlson will give you this evening is on six years of industrious and zealous work on the part of a great many people. Present this evening are two of the pioneers in this momentous project. The President would like to ask Mr. Ray Olsen, who initiated the legislation to put this project on the road several years ago, to stand. (Applause.) The President would also like to have Mr. Al Rochester stand. Mr. Rochester is one of the people responsible for the origin of this project and is Executive Director of Century 21. (Applause.) There are, of course, many other people present this evening who have taken a large part in the success of this project.

"Mr. Carlson has worked industriously on this project. He is a very busy man, and it is surprising to many of us that he is able to devote as much time to this project as he has. I think any more remarks on my part are superfluous. At this time, ladies and gentlemen, may I introduce Mr. Ed Carlson." (Applause.)

Mr. Carlson:

(During the following presentations, illustrative slides and films were shown.)

"Thank you, Mr. President. It is a distinct pleasure for me to have the honor of addressing you this evening. I am here as the spokesman for my associates on the State Century 21 Commission, and the story you will hear represents a progress report on a project to which the Commission members have given unselfishly of their time and energy during this biennium. Ours is a project which began in these chambers in 1955, and which will be one of the most memorable events in the history of the West; Century 21 Exposition. We call it America's Space Age World's Fair.

"Actually, the story of this massive undertaking began more than 50 years ago, in 1909, when the people of the State of Washington pushed back enough fir trees to find room for the amazingly successful Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. This took place on land that now is part of the University of Washington. In an era when transportation was a problem at best, the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition attracted nearly 4 million people in 137 days! Mrs. J. E. Chilberg, widow of the president of the A-Y-P, recounted the other day in a letter some of the thrilling memories of that Exposition such as the visits of President Taft, Charles Evans Hughes, and others. It was quite a day for our state!

"Let's take a look at some of the attractions that made the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition popular. There was the Alaska Building, featuring in its vast exhibits a million dollar bar of gold, and its twin, the Hawaiian Building. The Forest Industry combined a mighty effort to present the Forestry Hall, a tribute to an industry that has developed to this day. No exposition is complete without a crowd, and scenes like this were duplicated many times. A real crowd-pleaser was the Pay Streak, and I'm always amazed how many of our citizens fondly remember this section of A-Y-P. A great day, to be sure.

"In these Chambers in 1955 a resolution was introduced by Representative Olsen in the House, and by Senators Goodloe and Riley in the Senate, creating a Commission to study feasibility of a 50-year anniversary of the A-Y-P Exposition, in 1959. This occurred after then-Councilman Alfred R. Rochester had indicated to the Legislature that the Seattle City Council had voted unanimously to consider such a World's Fair. The first Legislative Commission was appointed, and $5,000 was made available for necessary expenses. We worked patiently during the following biennium to determine the answers to these important questions: One, was such a project economically feasible? Two, how much land was needed? Three, how long would it take to plan and develop such a program? Four, how much would it cost?

"Concurrently with our own studies, the City of Seattle was undertaking a project to expand their civic center site, and in November of 1956 approved a $7,500,000 bond issue to move ahead with vast developments of the civic center site. The use of these existing city and state buildings and land later came to play an important role in the development of this program.

"Subsequently, the World's Fair Commission recommended to the 1957 session of the Legislature that a "Festival of the West" be held, representing many of the important factors of the Festival of Britain which had been so successful in downtown London immediately after World War II. The Commission said it should be a 'jewel box exposition' in character, that the effort should be made to work in conjunction with the Seattle development, and that we should pay close attention to the important ramifications of international cooperation. During that session the Legislature made available a $7,500,000 bond issue and authorized the creation of a nonprofit corporation to manage and promote the exposition. The Legislature further provided that the commission should work in close harmony with the Department of Commerce and Economic Development, and that a state board of trustees should be created. During that two-year period Governor Albert Rosellini invited 70 leaders of business, labor, industry, and community organizations across the state to serve as trustees. Today that group numbers 133.

"To sum up, at the conclusion of the 1957 session we had $7,500,000 from the State of Washington and the possible use of an additional $7,500,000 allotted by the City of Seattle if the program could be properly coordinated. Then Ewen C. Dingwall, who had been named by the City of Seattle and the State of Washington as a full-time director, Public Relations manager James Faber, and your Chairman went to Washington, D. C. to determine the possibility of securing federal legislation and funds to have a major exposition in the State of Washington. We were well received in Washington and made numerous calls, but were discouraged until a particular meeting was arranged for us by Senator Magnuson. This meeting was with the Chairman of the National Science Foundation and began as 'just another lead' in trying to secure reaction to a World's Fair in Seattle. It developed at that meeting, however, that a number of the leading scientists in the United States felt strongly that this nation should host a World's Fair of Science in 1961. We were in what has become known as the 'Post-Sputnik era.' United States' prestige in science was at a low ebb. We pressed this point hard, feeling that this might well be the breakthrough that we needed. Two weeks later on a Saturday evening, Senator Magnuson, Mr. Dingwall, and I met with fifteen of the top scientists of the United States and discussed in detail the thought of the United States hosting a World's Fair of Science. It was the unanimous concurrence of those eminent leaders that such a program was desirable. Then events began to move faster, resulting in a $9,000,000 appropriation by Congress. By then momentum had developed, momentum which would never have been possible without the wonderful bipartisan cooperation of the entire congressional delegation and friends in the administration, and the tenacious leadership of our senior Senator.

"This appropriation from the federal government, the largest ever granted for a domestic program, called for an exhibit so complex that we were obliged to delay our exposition until 1962 to provide adequate planning and construction time. This development gave us much greater strength, because now the participants were the State of Washington, the federal government, the City of Seattle, and the business community of the State. This great strength of Century 21 Exposition is evidenced in its present financial commitment of $60 million, a figure that will undoubtedly top $80 million eventually.

"Another great milestone in the development of Century 21 occurred recently when the Bureau of International Expositions in Paris formally approved the Exposition and authorized its member nations to participate. Not only has this approval greatly enhanced the prestige of the State of Washington in Europe, but it has given us greater assurance of participation by the bureau's thirty member nations. Only one other world's fair in this nation has ever received the official blessing of this international group.

"The mention of the B.I.E. brings up Century 21's efforts to tell the story of the Pacific Northwest, State of Washington, and the exposition all around the world. Believe me, this has been a constant crusade and almost every foreign contact, especially in Europe, has begun with a geography lesson. The Russians asked our representatives, 'Where is Seetul?' It had to be explained that Washington state was not on the banks of the Potomac. I tell you this to underline the fact that Century 21 has developed into a worldwide operation, carrying the story of our state to the far corners of the globe. As an example, our Paris office has exhibited the Century 21 story in trade fairs all over Europe. In Southeast Asia our Manila representative calls on heads of government to discuss Century 21 participation. Another office in Tokyo coordinates the exposition's affairs in that region, and recently got an assist from your colleague, Senator Riley. The job goes on in Washington, D. C., too, as Senators Magnuson and Jackson host a Burmese group. The Exposition also maintains an office in Athens and reports the government of Greece among its 'sales' to date. Back home we told the Century 21 story to President Eisenhower, and then left it to Alfred Rochester, executive director of the Commission, to give a progress report to another Century 21 supporter, President-elect Kennedy. We began construction of the state coliseum building last May, and Governor Rosellini officiated with a countdown from Cape Canaveral. As construction progressed Commission members frequently were on the scene. Here, Representative Testu, Senator Knoblauch, and Victor Rosellini surveyed construction. The Century 21 buildings being prepared through funds of the Seattle bond issue came to the attention of commission members Kreager and Braman as designs were studied. Lieutenant Governor Cherberg and Senator Bargreen reviewed some of the Exposition's national advertising and promotion. Senators Gallagher and Friese, also Commission members, checked a similar campaign. Commission member C. C. Dill in Spokane checked plans for the U. S. Science Pavilion with the Eastern Washington firm that last week submitted low bid to build the giant structure at Century 21. Representatives Olsen and Mahaffey, showed an artist's conception of opening day at the fair, which was among a steady flow of progress pictures, as Representative Sawyer is shown reviewing. At our annual meeting recently, several members of the original commission gathered with current members to review our over-all site model. And I might add here that through the good services of Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, Speaker O'Brien, Mr. Ernest Dore, and others, we will display this large model of Century 21 for the next several weeks in the reception room of this building. It will be on display tonight after this session. We hope you all have a chance to inspect it.

"As chairman of the Commission, I should also like to acknowledge some of the others who have been carrying the Century 21 story around the nation and the world. Joe Gandy, as President of the Corporation, has given greatly of talent and energy. Likewise, have the officers of Century 21 Corporation and the many others of the steering committee, who have provided their talents and business leadership to make the Century 21 Corporation an effective partner with the state commission in this development. And we must also acknowledge the wholehearted cooperation of the City of Seattle and city councils all across the State who, as did Spokane's just recently, have publicly endorsed the Exposition and its role in state development. Some of our finest boosters are those involved in the Century 21 state beautification program, which was planned so all of our communities could set the stage for our millions of 1962 visitors by 'putting our best foot forward.' Here are the winners of last summer's beautification competition, representing Reardan, Woodland, Bellingham, and other progressive communities of the state. We have staged major press and exhibitor presentations in New York and San Francisco, in addition to our regular rounds of contacts. In New York a former resident of our state, Chet Huntley, narrated the Exposition story for three hundred guests. Noted designer Donald Deskey, whose firm is developing the interior of the outstanding state coliseum at Century 21, also was on hand. Eastern Washington was represented at this event by Spokane's Patrice Munsel, who was greeted with a Century 21 corsage by Mr. Dingwall. In San Francisco, Nobel prize winner, Dr. Glenn Seaborg, the tall fellow here, and Joe Gandy spoke to 200 guests, and are pictured along with some of the rest of us who were on the program. Dr. Seaborg is one of our group of scientific advisors on the Century 21 National Science Planning Board. And just yesterday, Dr. Seaborg was appointed by President-elect Kennedy as head of the Atomic Energy Commission.

"A feature of these programs in other cities has been a visual preview of the Exposition; that is, a tour of Century 21. We thought you would like to see this show, which tonight will be narrated by our public relations director, Jay Rockey."

Mr. Rockey:

"As Mr. Carlson mentioned, we have made presentations about our State and Century 21 to countless groups, but we recently prepared a rather formal presentation for large groups in New York City and in San Francisco. Within the next two weeks we will do the same in Chicago and Los Angeles. Rather than prepare a special preview of the 'World of Century 21' for the members of Legislature, we felt you might like to see the story much as we have presented it in other cities. And so tonight, we plan to take you on an advanced 'tour' of Century 21 Exposition to give you a visual and verbal preview of this great international event which will take place in the State of Washington in 1962. But first let me give you a quick rundown on the setting, the Pacific Northwest, the State of Washington, and the busy City of Seattle. Most of us need little introduction to the Pacific Northwest and we know, as this map shows, why that region is rapidly acquiring major worldwide responsibilities. Its natural harbors are essential ports on the waterway to Japan and, indeed to the entire Pacific basin. The Pacific Northwest is also the focal point for every major international air route over the north pole.

"If you haven't been to the State of Washington you've missed something important in life. Holiday Magazine described Washington as 'the United States' most beautiful corner' and it most certainly is. Millions of people visit the State of Washington each year even without a great international exposition to attract them, simply to enjoy its over-abundance of space, beauty, and opportunities for recreation. But just because Washington is a great place to relax in, don't assume the state itself is on vacation. Far from it. Washington is one of the fastest growing, most energetic states in the West, second only to California in population, retail sales, capital investment, and industrial output. Washington's productive breadbasket, atomic energy plants, and vast new hydro-electric installations are further expanding the state's industrial and economic output. The growth potential of its market puts Washington among the top ten states of the nation. And as for dynamic spirit, well, there's no place quite like it. The story about the way Century 21 mushroomed from an idea for a regional fair to the reality of an international space-age exposition is pretty typical of the way things happen in Washington State. Take Seattle. It's a young city, an energetic city, an expanding city, with a million people and one of the finest natural ocean ports in the world. Steamship lines, transcontinental railroads, and nine major airlines weld her markets to the world.

"Something important is happening there these days. On this tract, just one mile north of Seattle's busy downtown business area, a new kind of international exposition is rising from the ground. The Century 21 Exposition is going to be, literally, the first 'space-age' world's fair. Built around the theme 'Man in the Space Age,' it will present to the people of America and the world a scientific vision of how man may live and travel in the space-high years of the 21st century.

"Before we begin our tour of the Exposition grounds, let's take a brief look at the overall plan. The 74-acre site is divided into five separate worlds of Century 21, each, from a different viewpoint, the life and work of 'Man in the Space Age.' These are the World of Science, the World of Century 21, and World of Commerce and Industry, the World of Art, and the World of Entertainment. Well, that's enough time on the general background and theme of Century 21.

"Let's begin our tour in downtown Seattle, about a mile from the fair site. In keeping with the space-age spirit of the Exposition, we'll make the trip to the grounds on the only modern, full-scale, monorail train in the world. This hyper-modern system of rapid transit is being financed and constructed by Alwac International of Sweden. The monorail is being built especially for Century 21 Exposition, at a cost of more than four million dollars, and may well remain as permanent transit. Not only will it provide a major box office attraction, it already is capturing the attention of the world's transit authorities as they seek to solve mounting problems of metropolitan transportation. You may be familiar with the monorail at Disneyland, where it is one of the most popular scenic rides. Unlike the Disneyland version, however, the Century 21 monorail will be an actual full-scale transit system, capable of carrying 8,000 people an hour from the center of Seattle to the Exposition grounds, a distance of more than one mile in just 96 seconds.

"Reaching the Exhibition grounds, visitors will disembark at the monorail terminal, near the 'World of Science' and 'World of Domestic Commerce and Industry.' A good place to begin a Century 21 visit is in the 'World of Science,' the core of which is the dramatically beautiful United States Science Pavilion, designed by Minoru Yamasaki of Detroit and Naramore, Bain, Brady, and Johanson of Seattle. The five arching towers which rise at the entrance to the pavilion are intended to symbolize man's eternal reaching upward toward greater knowledge of the universe in which he lives. The United States Science Pavilion itself is larger than the American exhibit at the World's Fair in Brussels. It is a complex of five permanent buildings around a central court which contains large reflecting pools with fountains and floating gardens. Inside the Science Pavilion we will see what the White House has described as 'the most extensive science exhibits ever assembled.' Highlight of these exhibits will be the Boeing Airplane Company's radically new version of a planetarium, a 'Space-arium' where visitors will experience the thrill of a simulated ride through space. This daring innovation already has attracted the attention of leaders in the space field and may well be a permanent attraction and the prototype for all major planetariums of the future. Themes for the exhibits in the Science Pavilion have been developed by two groups composed of many of the Nation's leading scientists who have met periodically in Seattle and in Washington, D. C. The science exhibits themselves are being designed by the firm of Walter Dorwin Teague and by Charles Eames, world-renowned names in the design field. Altogether the Science Pavilion will represent a nine-million-dollar investment by the United States government, the largest single amount ever appropriated by Congress for any domestic exposition. Participation in the 'World of Science' is being developed by the Department of Commerce.

'Leaving the 'World of Science,' we enter the broad and colorful thoroughfares of the 'World of Domestic Commerce and Industry.' Here we can see how modern industrial technology applies the basic discoveries of science to the practical tasks of everyday life and work. Some participants have their own specially designed buildings, such as this hydro-electric exhibit dramatically portraying the role of hydro-power in the next century. It is a joint $500,000 investment by public and private power groups in the Pacific Northwest. Some companies are presenting their exhibits in other buildings, such as this, which are being prepared for them.

'Just a short stroll away from the 'World of Commerce and Industry,' is the 'Gayway' and the 'World of Entertainment,' eight acres devoted not to science, not to the 'World of Tomorrow' but to the pursuit of good, old fashioned fun. Among the facilities of the 'World of Entertainment' is an existing 12,000 seat stadium for major outdoor spectacles. An international competition currently is being held to design a unique $250,000 fountain in this area, paid for by the City of Seattle.

'From the 'World of Entertainment,' it is only a step to the 'World of Art.' The 40,000 square foot Art Exhibition Hall will present a magnificent panorama of painting and sculpture, from the Renaissance to the art of the Space Age. Even now, several of the world's leading art museum authorities are making arrangements for great masterpieces to be loaned to the Century 21 Exhibit to make it one of the greatest collections ever seen in the West.

'A 3,000 seat concert hall and a new small theater offer theatrical productions from all over the world, while the adjacent 5,500 seat arena features sports and theatrical programs. These several buildings, some of which already exist are being remodeled, form the core of the Seattle Civic Center and represent a current investment of nearly $10 million by that city.

'Now let's make our way along one of the gay 'Boulevards of the World,' an international boulevard this time, featuring the colorful shops, exotic bazaars, and restaurants of participating countries from all over the world. Altogether, the various 'Boulevards of the World' occupy 18 acres of the fair site and are on the principal concession area of the Exposition.

'From the fascinating boulevards it is but a short stroll to the nearby international section of the 'World of Commerce and Industry.' Here, the nations of the world display their outstanding achievements in commerce and industry, and their plans for meeting the challenges and problems of the Space Age.

'Just across the way from the 'World of Commerce and Industry' is the tremendous Theme Building of the Exposition, the Coliseum Century 21. The coliseum is being financed by the host state of Washington, part of a seven and one-half million dollar bond issue. After Century 21, it will be sold to the city of Seattle for conversion to an 18,000 seat sports and convention coliseum for the Pacific Northwest. Designed by Architect Paul Thiry of Seattle, this structure will be eleven stories high at its center and will cover almost four acres without a single interior support. It will be the only building of its kind in the country, and is now more than 40 percent completed. The emphasis in this environment is on the pressing need of man for better ways to do his work, to use his leisure, and to get from place to place. The internationally known New York design firm of Donald Deskey & Associates is developing the dramatic interior of the coliseum. Relying on a unique modular structural system, shown here as a cutaway, Deskey takes unorthodox but proven engineering concepts to develop this cluster-like structural system inside the Coliseum, through which visitors will move to experience an integrated exhibition of life in the next century.

'And now, for a final bit of sightseeing, let us pay a visit to the spectacular 550-foot 'Space Tower,' the Eiffel Tower of Century 21 Exposition. Financed and built by private capital at a cost of two and a half million dollars, this, too, will be permanent after Century 21 Exposition. If you haven't visited the various restaurants and the boulevards, we might stop for dinner in the revolving restaurant at the pinnacle of this unique tower, the tallest eating place of its kind in the world. Reaching the top of the 'Space Tower' by outdoor elevators walled with clear plastic, we can gaze out at an unrestricted, ever-ever changing, 360-degree view of the whole fabulous Puget Sound region.

'There you have the view from Century 21. I've had to skip over the high points and leave a good deal unsaid, but as you can see, it's going to be quite an event, not just for the Pacific Northwest, but for America and the world. Yes, something important is happening in the State of Washington. An eighty-million dollar world's fair is being built, financed by federal, state and city governments, and by private industry, to provide the most exciting, the most dramatic and one of the most important international expositions ever held. Three important major buildings already exist on the fair site. Construction has started on others. Preparations are well underway to accommodate the millions of fair visitors who are expected in the State of Washington in 1962. And during 1962, this 'jewel box exposition' will be a showcase of science and the Space Age, a platform for peace for the peoples of the West and of the world. It will be a glittering projection of the world of tomorrow, unfolded against a backdrop of man's achievements since the dawn of the Space Age.

"Today, man's eye is on the Space Age. He looks to the years ahead and the miles above. And this is the theme of Century 21 Exposition."

Mr. Carlson:

"It is a pleasing experience to be able to report to you tonight on this program which was triggered in these Chambers six years ago, and to show you the integrated development of a Space Age World's Fair. But let us now talk finances. Where does Century 21 money come from? Well, the city of Seattle is involved with an amount approaching $12 million. The State of Washington, as I have mentioned, has provided seven and one-half million dollars. Of this, however, a substantial amount will be recovered by the state from the City of Seattle, which plans to purchase the State Coliseum after the Exposition. The federal government has appropriated $9 million, of a total authorization of $12 million, for development of the Science Pavilion. The monorail, which has received so much publicity, is independently financed and represents an expenditure of approximately $4,200,000. The Space Tower is financed by private capital and represents an expenditure in excess of two and one-half million dollars. The business community of the Seattle area has underwritten more than three million dollars of financing for pre-opening expenses, and currently is involved in a drive to raise an additional one and one-half million dollars. Some of Century 21's exhibitors will build their own buildings, and others will lease space in buildings now being prepared.

"At the present time, a great many U. S. industries and corporations are participating, such as the Bell Telephone System, General Electric Company, Crown-Zellerbach, Seattle-First National Bank, National Cash Register, Aluminum Company of America, Boeing Airplane Company, U. S. Plywood, Reynolds Metals, Scott Paper, Weyerhaeuser, Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical, St. Regis Paper, Johnson's Wax, General Insurance, and most of the major utilities of the Northwest.

"In the foreign field, an intense selling job also is underway. You will see many nations represented at Century 21. A few of them are Yugoslavia, Greece, Ivory Coast, the Cameroons, Japan, Viet Nam, Tunisia, Canada, as well as France, Germany, and the other nations of the European economic community in a joint participation.

"We are setting our sights on April 21 of this year. That's just one year in advance of opening day. We hope to have the bulk of our major exhibitor sales completed by April 21. As you saw in the slide presentation, a good share of our construction is already underway. Within the next sixty days, all major construction will be moving.

"All of this, obviously, will have an economic impact on the State of Washington. For one thing, by spring construction projects on the exposition grounds will total something like $30 million in value. Employment in all fields is expected to build up to twenty-five hundred persons at the exposition grounds just prior to opening day, with the employment totaling around two thousand persons during the Exposition. This employment during the six-month Fair will result in a payroll of some $3½ million. Over and above all this, we estimate that the purchase of operating supplies and services before and during the Exposition will reach $3 million, and will be purchased mostly within this state.

"Century 21 also means more tourists to the State of Washington, tourists who bring fresh money into the area. It has been estimated in government that the exposition will keep the tourist an extra two days, which means an extra dividend to businesses all over the Northwest, and particularly in Washington State. I should reiterate here that our whole concept of promoting Century 21 Exposition involves asking people to come to our World's Fair as an important part of their complete Washington State vacation. And this is no act of charity; this is a necessity! Our best promotion will encourage visitors to make Century 21 the highlight of a 'Grand Tour.' Thus, even when they arrive at the Exposition, and most of them will have to pass through a large part of the state to do so, they will be encouraged by displays to stay longer with us in the Evergreen State.

"I do not have to point out the resultant benefits not only to businesses, but to the state in the form of taxes on motor fuels and other items necessary to the traveller. But there are other benefits, too, less tangible and more of a long-term nature. Century 21 is adding to the prestige of Washington State in all corners of the world. We are telling the story of this area to countless people in every nation. There, and in other states of the Union, we are helping create for our state a reputation as the most dynamic state of the West! And the state with the greatest potential for development. Century 21 also is a common project for our state's citizens, and as such helps weld us into a statewide community. And, with the great emphasis on science at the exposition, it will attract attention to our already-growing scientific community, as evidenced by developments at Hanford, at our two great state universities, at Boeing Airplane Company, and other noted organizations. And, lastly, Dr. Glenn Seaborg, the Nobel Prize winner whom I mentioned earlier, points to Century 21 Exposition as a scientific inspiration for young people and for the public in general. That is perhaps most important of all of these benefits. You and I, every one of us, has a part in developing a project of lasting significance to mankind.

"Tonight, we of the commission, on behalf of all who have carried this program forward, respectfully report to you on our progress since 1955. We hope you like it. And we hope you will take the time to inspect our display in the reception room.

"Our deepest thanks to Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, to Speaker O'Brien, and to you all for making this presentation possible. We hope you share with us the firm belief that Century 21 will be a milestone in the growth of our state that will benefit generations to come, just as the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, in its own way, left a lasting heritage." (Applause.)

The Lieutenant Governor:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Carlson, and you, Mr. Rockey. Yours has been a spectacular and skillful presentation, and holds great promise for the State of Washington and the Pacific Northwest."

On motion of Mr. Litchman, the joint session was dissolved.

The Speaker directed the Sergeants at Arms of the Senate and House to escort the Senators and the Lieutenant Governor back to the Senate chamber. The House resumed its session.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed within the bar of the House the Honorable Herbert Brooks, member of Parliament, British Columbia, and requested that the Sergeant at Arms conduct him to a seat on the rostrum beside the Speaker.

Mr. Speaker:

"At this time, I would like to present the Honorable Herbert Brooks, member of Parliament, British Columbia."

Mr. Brooks:

"Mr. Speaker and friends, first of all I want to thank the people here for the wonderful hospitality that they have extended to me. It is going to be very difficult to go back into the political fray in British Columbia after the treatment I have received here.

"It has been extremely interesting to watch your proceedings and try to understand the background of some of your rules and regulations, because I believe there are a good many things that we in British Columbia have in common with the state of Washington. In fact, we have found in some of the discussions and conferences we have had with the state of Alaska that there are many areas in which we could cooperate, including a marine highway network from Victoria to Haines, Alaska, which is in the promotional stage at the present time. We find also that being situated between Alaska and the state of Washington with the economies running north and south, there are many fields of cooperation and many fields in which understanding will be required. All too often in this day and age we know we have our own problems. The problems of interrelated nations are only minutes and hours apart, and the sooner we can realize what makes each other tick and what our related problems are and have an understanding, the sooner we can cooperate to our mutual benefit.

"I hope and trust that any of you who have the opportunity will visit us in Victoria, and any time that we have anything that we can elucidate or help each other on, that you will feel free to call on us above the border as your neighbors." (Applause.)

Inasmuch as the Democratic party has been attacked and, in fact, condemned for criticizing the former president in his career in office, I suggest that the Clerk read the resolution as it would be, if amended, because I am taking offense at what the other side is saying, I personally am very much in favor of commending President Eisenhower for the work he has done. #### EXPLANATION OF VOTE

In voting to reject Representative Evans' resolution thanking and congratulating President Eisenhower as amended by the Democratic majority, I did so to honor this great American and not dishonor his record of unselfish service to the American people. I believe that President Eisenhower has played the leading role in leading this country and the United Nations into an era of world peace by personifying to the world the American desire for worldwide peace and economic prosperity, by demonstrating that this country can enjoy both peace and prosperity, for promoting confidence in the competence of state and local governments to administer a greater share of the affairs of our people, and for making great strides towards realizing the goals of Abraham Lincoln for the social equality of our people.

When the Democratic majority voted by amendment to strip Representative Evans' resolution of these foregoing objectives and achievements so nobly personified by President Eisenhower's life-long record of endeavor, there was no other course I could choose other than to reject the Democratic-amended resolution which so violated its original concept, content, theme, and spirit.

ALFRED E. LELAND.

As to your inquiry, a majority of the members of the House may act to rerefer a bill from one committee to another committee. In further comment, we are still on the first reading of bills. #### MOTIONS

On motion of Mr. Witherbee, the Committee on Industrial Insurance was granted authority to use the House chamber for a public hearing on House Bill No. 50 Thursday evening, January 26, 1961.

Mr. Cecil moved that the Washington state flag on the wall at the back of the rostrum be replaced by a new one.

Debate ensued.

REQUEST FOR INFORMATION

Mr. Eldridge:

"Mr. Speaker, point of information. I am wondering if this isn't the original flag that was used in the old building. Perhaps Mr. Holcomb can give us its history. I think it would be too bad to remove the flag if it is of historical significance."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Holcomb informs me this flag is the one which was moved from the old legislative building."

Mr. Eldridge:

"In that case, I urge you to vote against the motion."

The motion was lost.

MOTIONS

It was moved by Mr. Copeland that House Bill No. 274 be rereferred from the Committee on Rules and Order to the Committee on Ways and Means, Subcommittee on Appropriations.

It was moved by Mr. Litchman that the House defer further consideration of House Bill No. 274, and that the bill be placed at the end of today's first reading of bills.

The Speaker (Mr. Mardesich presiding):

"There is a motion before the House that the bill be rereferred. If you wish to comment on the motion before the House, you may do so."

Debate ensued, Representative Litchman arguing against the motion by Mr. Copeland to rerefer House Bill No. 274 to the Committee on Rules and Order, and Representative Copeland arguing for the motion.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Walla Walla yield to a question?"

The Speaker (Mr. Mardesich presiding):

"Will the gentleman yield?"

Mr. Copeland:

"Yes."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Copeland, I don't know what the bill is about. Please explain in detail as to why you are making the motion and who has approved this motion."

Mr. Copeland:

"You have a two-part question, Mr. Litchman. I hardly think it is necessary to explain. First of all, it is a committee bill, which has to be introduced before this group before it can be acted upon. Obviously, the Appropriations Subcommittee needs to look at this since it carries an appropriation, and the only way you can have it introduced so the Appropriations Subcommittee will have an opportunity to study it is in this manner, as it would be referred to Rules if we were to take the normal course of business. We are not in any way, shape, or form trying to pull a fast maneuver. This is a perfectly legitimate bill and is being handled properly. Twenty-one members of this House have already signed it. We would just like to have it in Appropriations where it belongs."

Mr. Brink:

"Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Douglas-Okanogan yield to a question?"

The Speaker (Mr. Mardesich presiding):

"Mr. Bozarth, will you yield to a question?"

Mr. Bozarth:

"Yes."

Mr. Brink:

"Does this motion have your approval as chairman of the Agriculture Committee?"

Mr. Bozarth:

"Yes, indeed it does. The only reason I didn't make it myself is that I happened to be called out when it came up."

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be Mr. Copeland's motion that House Bill No. 274 be rereferred from the Committee on Rules and Order to the Committee on Ways and Means, Subcommittee on Appropriations.

The motion was carried.

The Speaker:

"Mr. Taylor, will you yield?"

Mr. Taylor:

"Yes, I will yield."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Taylor, would this cost us any money? I am not familiar with the bill at all. Perhaps you would explain."

Mr. Taylor:

"Mr. Litchman, evidently you aren't paying attention. No, Mr. Litchman."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Brink:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Taylor yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Taylor?"

Mr. Taylor:

"Yes."

Mr. Brink:

"In reading the first page, I note that cities may by reference adopt rules and regulations of administrative agencies. I was wondering if this includes those with a criminal penalty, so that the act might not be constitutional. I agree with the purpose of the act completely. It would save money by cutting down on printing, for one thing. I wonder if this has been considered by the committee."

Mr. Taylor:

"I will refer your question to our chairman, Mr. Ackley."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Brink, ladies and gentlemen, the present law permits adoption of ordinances, statutes, and codes by reference. Many of those statutes, codes, and ordinances do have penalties. This bill that is before you would enlarge the permission to adopt by reference rules and regulations that have been adopted by a state board, commission, department, officer, or state agency authorized to make regulations. Some of these regulations do carry penalties. Some do not. This act is principally directed to adoption of such things as building codes, plumbing regulations, electrical regulations, and things like that, which are voluminous, and which, under the present law, would have to be published and posted by the city, which would require extreme expense. As a matter of fact, in some cases the city has not adopted some code because they couldn't afford to publish it. Some of them run to more than one volume, which would require many thousands of dollars to publish if the present law were to be complied with. This bill would allow three copies to be placed in the office of the city clerk with notice to be given, rather than publishing the regulations in full. I think, in practice, there is little fear that the cities would prescribe penalties unknown to the members of the industry who are familiar with the state codes which apply to them."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ahlquist:

"Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Lewis yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Siler?"

Mr. Siler:

"Yes."

Mr. Ahlquist:

"Will the application of the proposal as outlined in this bill necessitate the creation of districts, or are they going from farm to farm or open space, or how would it be handled?"

Mr. Siler:

"I don't see how it can necessitate districts, Mr. Ahlquist. As I understand it, it will be handled in the same manner as control of other types of animals, through the department as they desire, but I don't know that there will be any effort to set up districts."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Mardesich:

"Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Siler?"

Mr. Siler:

"Yes."

Mr. Mardesich:

"Is there any indication on the part of the department as to the cost of carrying out this program?"

Mr. Siler:

"No appropriation comes with this bill, and we understand it will be handled through the appropriation to the department. The department is empowered to cooperate with other divisions of government, federal, state, and local, for money to handle this cost."

Further debate ensued, Representative Nicholson arguing in favor of the passage of the bill.

"Will Mr. Evans yield to a question?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes."

Mr. Rickdall:

"Do you have any information, Mr. Evans, as to how much this would mean to the State of Washington?"

Mr. Evans:

"If the federal government gives up this one penny and it is enacted by this legislature, it would mean approximately nine and a half million dollars a year which would be brought into the state."

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Joint Memorial No. 8, and the memorial passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 79; nays, 3; absent or not voting, 17.

RESOLUTION

Resolution by Representative Evans:

WHEREAS, Governor Albert D. Rosellini has submitted a budget to this thirty-seventh legislature calling for general fund expenditures of $57,800,000 in excess of anticipated revenues; and

WHEREAS, The governor stated in his budget message that "Developing revenue and passing a balanced budget is a joint responsibility of the governor and the legislature"; and

WHEREAS, This is the twenty-third day of the regular session and the governor has failed to recommend to the legislature any specific sources of revenue or areas in which savings can be effected in order to balance the budget; and

WHEREAS, The legislature wishes to avoid the expense of a special session, which will be necessary unless the governor quickly assumes his responsibility to submit specific proposals to the legislature for effecting savings and raising needed revenue; and

WHEREAS, Leaders in the field of education, including the superintendent of public instruction and the president of the University of Washington have indicated that the requests contained in the governor's budget will not be sufficient to meet the needs of education during the ensuing biennium so that the legislature may be required to raise more revenue than requested by the governor in order to meet these needs; and

WHEREAS, Legislators have noted that retail purchases in the State of Washington declined last year at a time when such purchases were increasing in neighboring states causing the legislators to become even more reluctant to impair the buying power of the general public by imposing additional taxes on consumers; and

WHEREAS, Legislators are deeply concerned about improving the business climate of this state in order to attract new industries and as a result are reluctant to impose additional taxes on industries,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That Governor Albert D. Rosellini is hereby requested to make specific recommendations to the legislature as soon as possible regarding the reductions in expenditures and the increases in taxes which the governor would favor in order to adequately meet the needs of education and to balance the budget within the remaining thirty-seven days of the regular session.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives of the State of Washington be, and he hereby is, authorized and directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to Governor Albert D. Rosellini.

The gentlemen who are with us this evening are present in a true spirit of cooperation to explain firsthand the situation existing in education and the means whereby this situation can be resolved to the satisfaction of all. This joint session is a remarkable tribute to our esteemed and respected guests, to the members of the legislature, and especially to our type of government which permits and fosters such an occasion."

WHEREAS, Governor Albert D. Rosellini has submitted a budget to this thirty-seventh Legislature calling for general fund expenditures of $57,800,000 in excess of anticipated revenues; and

WHEREAS, The governor stated in his budget message that "Developing revenue and passing a balanced budget is a joint responsibility of the governor and the legislature"; and

WHEREAS, This is the twenty-third day of the regular session and the governor has failed to recommend to the Legislature any specific sources of revenue or areas in which savings can be effected in order to balance the budget; and

WHEREAS, The Legislature wishes to avoid the expense of a special session, which will be necessary unless the governor quickly assumes his responsibility to submit specific proposals to the Legislature for effecting savings and raising needed revenue; and

WHEREAS, Leaders in the field of education, including the superintendent of public instruction and the president of the University of Washington have indicated that the requests contained in the governor's budget will not be sufficient to meet the needs of education during the ensuing biennium so that the Legislature may be required to raise more revenue than requested by the governor in order to meet these needs; and

WHEREAS, Legislators have noted that retail purchases in the State of Washington declined last year at a time when such purchases were increasing in neighboring states causing the legislators to become even more reluctant to impair the buying power of the general public by imposing additional taxes on consumers; and

WHEREAS, Legislators are deeply concerned about improving the business climate of this state in order to attract new industries and as a result are reluctant to impose additional taxes on industries,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That Governor Albert D. Rosellini is hereby requested to make specific recommendations to the Legislature as soon as possible regarding the reductions in expenditures and the increases in taxes which the governor would favor in order to adequately meet the needs of education and to balance the budget within the remaining thirty-seven days of the regular session.

RECONSIDERATION

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the resolution by Mr. Evans.

Mr. Litchman demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued, Representative Pritchard arguing for adoption, and Representatives Sawyer and Edwards arguing against adoption of the resolution.

Representative Kink demanded the previous question and the demand was not sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Canfield and Morrissey arguing in favor of adoption of the resolution, and Representatives Witherbee and Klein arguing against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Litchman yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Litchman?"

Mr. Litchman:

"Yes, I will yield."

Mr. Andersen:

"It is obvious from the course of the debate that a number on both sides of the aisle are vitally concerned about this question of taxation and where, if any, new taxes are going to be imposed. Now, Mr. Sawyer has stated here on the floor of the House that we are going to hear the governor's tax recommendation sometime in the future. My question is addressed to you as majority floor leader. Will you, Mr. Litchman, state here and now before this assemblage the specific date on which we will have the governor's tax recommendation? If you will so state, I and a number of others on this side will change our vote on this proposition."

Mr. Litchman:

"In answer, Representative Andersen, to your question, I cannot give you a definite date. I believe you know the expression of our party, and that is that we, too, are interested in hearing from the governor. Demands have been made upon the governor, and the major reason for reconsideration of this particular resolution is to give the governor a little more time in which to make specific recommendations. Frankly, in the opinion of the majority, many of the people on this side who went along with you yesterday failed to give the governor adequate time. Demands have been made, and I assure you the governor will come up with specific recommendations. If he does not, he will hear from us as well as you."

Mr. Olsen demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the adoption of the resolution by Mr. Evans.

The Clerk called the roll and the resolution was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 56; absent or not voting, 2.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Eldridge, England, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Johnston, Jueling, Kirk, Leland, Lewis, Lybecker, Mahaffey, McDougall, Metcalf, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, Pence, Perry, Pritchard, Rickdall, Shropshire, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Williams, Wintler—41.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Ackley, Anderson (Eric O.), Avey, Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bernethy, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brink, Brouillet, Burns, Burch, Campbell, Cecil, Chatalas, Conner, Day, DeJarnatt, Edwards, Epton, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldmark, Henry, Holmes, Hurley, King, Kink, Klein, Leibold, Litchman, Mardesich, Marsh, May, McCormick, McElroy, McFadden, Meyers, Nicholson, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Poff, Ritner, Sawyer, Schaefer, Taylor, Testu, Uhlman, Wedekind, Witherbee, Mr. Speaker—56.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Farrington, Smith—2.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

My reason for changing my vote on the resolution presented by Representative Evans was that it became a party issue, but I am still of the opinion that the resolution was meritorious.

CHET KING,
ROBERT BERNETHY.

considered the third, and Substitute House Bill No. 152 was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representatives Beierlein and Huntley arguing in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Edwards:

"Mr. Speaker, will my friend, Representative Beierlein, yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Beierlein?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"Yes."

Mr. Edwards:

"Joe, this will amount to a couple of million dollars. Who is going to pay for it, we or you?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"The motor vehicle funds."

Further debate ensued, Representative Testu arguing against passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mrs. Swayze:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Beierlein yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Beierlein?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"Yes, I will."

Mrs. Swayze:

"I agree with your remarks on motor vehicles, but on page 6, I note that there are set up in the department of general administration nine new assistant directors.
Can you tell me what the salary of an assistant director is?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"Mrs. Swayze, these are presently in existence in the license department for the various divisions. I couldn't tell you what the salaries are. We are simply trying to transfer the functions of these various divisions into general administration."

Mrs. Swayze:

"I understand that, Mr. Beierlein, but I believe that in the license department they are called supervisors. Isn't there a difference in salaries between supervisors and assistant directors?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"Not necessarily. This simply gives it a different title."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Harris:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Beierlein yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Beierlein?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"I will try."

Mr. Harris:

"You state this is a very important piece of legislation, and I recognize it to be that. Could you advise me what is wrong with the way it is being operated now?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"You have to go back twenty years or more. One of the complaints is that the department of licenses has been the dumping ground of all the political parties and the patronage. A second complaint concerns the source of funds. Both those interested in the general fund and the motor vehicle funds have complained that too much of their money is being used to support the license department. Professor Brown of the University of Washington with his staff made a thorough study of this four years ago and came up with a long report and definite recommendations that we should set up a separate motor vehicle department. All the highway user groups feel this would be a more efficient way to handle it. I feel it is a very important move and an important step forward."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. King:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Beierlein yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Beierlein?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"Yes."

Mr. King:

"Did I understand you to say this is a housekeeping bill and the money would come from the motor vehicle funds? How much is it going to cost to do the house-cleaning?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"I don't know, Mr. King. Of course, there will be some expense, but all the equipment and records will go along with the new department."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Burns:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Beierlein yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Beierlein?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"Yes."

Mr. Burns:

"Was the director of the department of licenses consulted on this? Does she favor it?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"Well, we didn't do that two years ago. She has been invited to all of our hearings throughout the four years and has appeared once or twice, as I remember. Her staff has been there and have had a free opportunity to speak. Whether or not she is sold on this, I don't know. We have consulted with the governor and at first, frankly, he was not sold, but when we explained the public demand for it and the statewide support, the governor said that, of course, he was willing to accede to the wishes of the people. I have not talked to Louise Taylor about the substitute bill."

Further debate ensued, Representative Evans speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

MOTION

Mr. Nicholson moved that the House defer further consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 152, and that the bill retain its place on the following day's third reading calendar.

Debate ensued, Representative Nicholson arguing in favor of adoption of the motion, and Representative Beierlein arguing against adoption of the motion.

The motion was lost.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Anderson (Eric O.), Bernethy, Brouillet, Burns, Comfort, Day, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Gleason, Hurley, King, Kink, Mardesich, Nicholson, Perry, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Testu, Uhlman, Wintler—21.

Debate ensued, Representatives Beierlein and McDougall speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Brink:

"Mr. Speaker, would Representative McDougall yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. McDougall?"

Mr. McDougall:

"I will."

Mr. Brink:

"How many other states have reciprocity so that if the license is taken here, the other state is notified and it is marked on their records?"

Mr. McDougall:

"I am not familiar with the states that utilize this particular system."

Mr. Brink:

"May I ask another question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. McDougall?"

Mr. McDougall:

"I will."

Mr. Brink:

"This will require a person in California or Oregon who did part of his business in this state and maybe had a residence in each state to give up his other license if he applied for one in Washington?"

Mr. McDougall:

"That is true."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Beierlein yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Beierlein?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"Yes, Mr. Andersen."

Mr. Andersen:

"Some questions were just asked Mr. McDougall. I would like to ask you the same questions posed by Mr. Brink."

Mr. Beierlein:

"In regard to reciprocity, we have a western policy organization consisting of thirteen states, and in most areas, including this one, we have reciprocal agreements, although they are not yet legally adopted. In the whole matter of vehicle laws, we are working toward a uniform code. I think that we will get cooperation on this particular matter from any of the thirteen states."

Mr. Andersen:

"Do you know with how many other states we have reciprocity?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"Not definitely."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Beierlein yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Beierlein?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"Yes."

Mr. Perry:

"If a teamster were holding chauffeur licenses in several states and it was in the nature of his work to travel from state to state, or in the case of the construction industry there are many transients who work in various states which requires them to hold several operator licenses—what is the definition of operator's license?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"The state of Washington has no chauffeur's licenses, although some states do. If he had a valid license from Arizona or California, I believe that would be valid in Washington for temporary operation."

Mr. Perry:

"Will this adversely affect such a man's ability to make a living?"

Mr. Beierlein:

"I don't think so."

Mr. Perry:

"This is a point I would really like to have explained."

Mr. Beierlein:

"This is a point which was not completely explored. It might be an area where study might be needed."

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 161, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 59; nays, 32; absent or not voting, 8.

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

We, the undersigned members of the House of Representatives, have voted against HJM 7, which requests that the Congress of the United States repeal section 14-b of the Taft-Hartley Act. Section 14-b permits the people of each state to determine for themselves whether or not union shop contracts will be valid in that state.

Several states have adopted so-called "Right to Work" laws which make it unlawful to negotiate or enforce union shop contracts in those states. Such a law twice has been proposed to the people of Washington by initiative. We actively opposed each of those initiatives; and we oppose any further attempt to pass "Right to Work" legislation in this state, either through the legislature or by initiative.

However, HJM 7 involves more than the "Right to Work" issue. It involves the right of free people in every state to determine their own public policy. We oppose any attempt by the legislature of the State of Washington or the Federal Congress to abridge this right.

"Right to Work" measures present a fundamental issue of public policy, which each state must decide for itself. If we are to preserve for this legislature and for our citizens the right to determine the public policy of this state, we must support this same right for others, even though we disagree with the policies they adopt.

For these reasons we have voted against HJM 7.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Pritchard:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if I might ask Mr. Evans a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Evans?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes."

Mr. Pritchard:

"Is this five and a half million dollars to be used to pay for the disaster up there? Just what exactly does it cover?"

Mr. Evans:

"You are correct. The five and a half million dollars is to pay for the disaster that has occurred to the Hood Canal bridge. It is supposed to cover the cost not only of terminating the original contract for the construction of the bridge but also to pay for the storm damage and the repairs that were subsequently ordered. There is a contingency item of about $350,000 included to take care of items that have not as yet been settled between the contractor and the state. Those items total about $217,000, liability for which has not been determined. All this will do is take care of the most specific problems related to the disaster to the Hood Canal bridge. Not one penny goes to the basic problem of trying to solve the financial difficulties connected with the ferry system and the bridge."

Mr. Pritchard:

"Even if we had not had the disaster, would we have needed some money?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes, we will need a substantial amount of money to refinance this entire ferry system and bridge project, not counting the disaster and assuming everything had gone according to schedule. According to studies produced four years ago and information right up to a month or less ago, we were assured that the ferry system and the Hood Canal bridge were going along all right. Then a further report was produced and sent to the Toll Bridge Authority by the same people who had made the original report. This later report indicated that not only were ferry revenues going to be lower than originally estimated but that the expenses of the ferry system would be substantially higher. The combination of these two things make the amount available to debt service much lower than had previously been predicted and we will be faced with providing subsidies of approximately a million dollars a year. This assumes that we will continue the Puget Sound stabilization fund of about $400,000 a biennium which has been authorized for the last four years."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Hawley:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Evans yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to another question?"

Mr. Evans:

"Yes."

Mr. Hawley:

"Does this amount include the original disaster when the pontoons sank?"

Mr. Evans:

"No. As I said, the liability for the sinking of the two pontoons, which occurred several years ago near the beginning of the construction, has not been determined as yet. The cost of those two pontoons is close to a million dollars. The contractor and the state are now engaged in conferences, trying to determine liability. The state, through its attorneys, admits no liability as to the sinking of the pontoons. This will undoubtedly require litigation."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Huntley and Nicholson speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 154, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 95; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 4.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Copeland:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Copeland:

"The previous question had not been ordered, and it was certainly in order to move that an electric roll call be ordered, but does ordering an electric roll call have the same effect as moving the previous question?"

The Speaker:

"No, it doesn't take the same position. I asked if there were any remarks and there weren't any. Mr. Litchman then demanded an electric roll call. This is a question of orderly procedure."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Smith:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point."

Mr. Smith:

"At the time you recognized Mr. Litchman, there were two other persons on the floor waiting to make comments. I certainly want to comment myself."

The Speaker:

"Then why did seventeen members sustain Mr. Litchman?"

Mr. Smith:

"They didn't understand what Mr. Litchman was doing."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Copeland:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Copeland:

"The motion to have an electric roll call requires that one-sixth of the body sustain the motion. Now if we are to substitute this motion for one which would require the previous question, we would substitute seventeen members for sixty-six, and I feel that before debate could be terminated, a motion to move the previous question would be in order and it should not be replaced with a demand for an electric roll call."

The Speaker:

"Your point is not well taken. That isn't the issue. It is just a question of orderly procedure. The Speaker had no intention of cutting off debate, but it was just a question of the gentleman from King rising and asking for an electric roll call, and the House was rather silent on debate at that time."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"It is in the jurisdiction of the Speaker to make a decision in all of these matters. Apparently you wish to discuss it, and if that is what the House wishes, the question is before you."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ahlquist:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Representative Moos a question, if he would yield."

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Moos?"

Mr. Moos:

"I will yield."

Mr. Ahlquist:

"Representative Moos, does this apply to these mobile killing plants, wherein the killer has a truck and goes out to the ranches and oftentimes will kill an animal and maybe sell a portion to a friend in town?"

Mr. Moos:

"It is my understanding, Mr. Ahlquist, it does not. It came up in committee. There is a problem in that area. I would like to direct your question to Mr. Siler, who has made a thorough study of that."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Siler.

Mr. Siler:

"Ladies and gentlemen, this was taken care of in the last session because there were those who saw the problem and that exemption was made. This does not in any way apply to these operators. It applies only to the smaller operators, who are better equipped really to do this job but who were denied the privilege of operating in their own slaughterhouses. It does not apply to the operators you mentioned."

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 320, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 94; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 5.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Avey, Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bernethy, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brink, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Cecil, Chatalas, Clark, Copeland, Day, DeJarnatt, Edwards, Eldridge, England, Epton, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldmark, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Henry, Holmes, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Leibold, Leland, Lewis, Litchman, Lybecker, Mahaffey, Mardesich, Marsh, May, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Meyers, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, Nicholson, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Pence, Perry, Poff, Pritchard, Rickdall, Ritner, Schaefer, Shropshire, Siler, Smith, Swayze, Taylor, Testu, Uhlman, Wang, Wedekind, Williams, Wintler, Witherbee, Mr. Speaker—94.

Engrossed House Bill No. 326, by Representatives Epton, Johnston, and Leibold:

Providing for support in day training centers of mentally or physically deficient acceptable in state residential schools.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Litchman, the rules were suspended and Engrossed House Bill No. 326 was returned to second reading for the purpose of making an amendment.

On motion of Mrs. Epton, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

In lines 13 and 14 of the title, after "payments therefor;" strike "making an appropriation;"

Engrossed House Bill No. 326 was ordered re-engrossed.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mrs. Epton yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mrs. Epton?"

Mrs. Epton:

"Yes."

Mr. Canfield:

"I had put on my desk this morning a mimeographed sheet which I believe you had prepared. Yesterday you had an amendment striking the appropriation from the bill, but this definitely calls for an appropriation in the supplemental budget. My question is: Why did you remove the appropriation from the bill and then come asking for this supplemental budget?"

Mrs. Epton:

"Mr. Canfield, I removed it from the bill because the bill inadvertently went to Rules instead of the Appropriations Committee and, traditionally, when this is done, the amount would have to be voted at the time the supplemental budget is before us. It will either be successfully defended or not at that time. It will be left to your judgment what to do with it. The bill as it stands without an appropriation is good legislation, and I hope it will be approved when it gets back to third reading."

MOTION

Mr. Mahaffey moved that Re-engrossed House Bill No. 326 be rereferred to the Committee on Ways and Means, Subcommittee on Appropriations.

Debate ensued, Representatives Mahaffey and Copeland arguing in favor of adoption of the motion, and Representatives Day, Epton, Edwards, and Johnston arguing against it.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Mahaffey:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. I refrained from talking about the merits when I presented the motion and I don't think there should be argument in favor of the bill. We are talking about the matter of this bill's going to Appropriations."

The Speaker:

"It more or less opens up the whole question, Mr. Mahaffey. Continue, Mr. Johnston."

Representative Johnston completed his remarks.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Eldridge:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Edwards yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Edwards?"

Mr. Edwards:

"Yes."

Mr. Eldridge:

"Mr. Edwards, do you think the Appropriations Subcommittee should take a look at this bill?"

Mr. Edwards:

"As it is now, the appropriation has been taken off from the bill and from the title, and the Appropriations Subcommittee has no more to do with it."

Mr. Eldridge:

"Mr. Speaker, a further question of Mr. Edwards. Mr. Edwards, it has been my impression from serving on Appropriations for four sessions that, regardless of whether the bill specifically states that an appropriation is necessary, when the intent of a bill indicates additional funds would be necessary, it would seem that it should go back to Appropriations for consideration."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Edwards, you don't have to answer that question. It seems to me this is a matter to be determined by the House and not by the committee chairman."

Mr. Litchman demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be Mr. Mahaffey's motion to refer Re-engrossed House Bill No. 326 to the Committee on Ways and Means, Subcommittee on Appropriations.

The motion was lost on a rising vote.

MOTION

Mr. Litchman moved that the rules be suspended, the bill be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and Re-engrossed House Bill No. 326 be placed on final passage.

The motion was carried on a rising vote.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be Re-engrossed House Bill No. 326 on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representatives Epton and Lewis arguing in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, will the lady from Spokane yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mrs. Epton?"

Mrs. Epton:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Adams:

"How long will a family have to be a resident before they will qualify under this bill? Is there a residence clause at all?"

Mrs. Epton:

"The same residence requirements apply under this act as apply generally for admission to institutions. Those residence requirements are already established in the law."

Mr. Adams:

"Do you recall what that is?"

Mrs. Epton:

"Yes, it is one year, but in practice you might say the department has been favoring those with longer residence, because of the extreme pressure of the waiting list."

Further debate ensued, Representative Adams arguing against passage of the bill, and Representatives Testu and Johnston arguing in favor of its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mrs. Epton yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mrs. Epton?"

Mrs. Epton:

"Yes."

Mr. Evans:

"Mrs. Epton, after listening to arguments for and against the bill, I am inclined to vote for it. I think it is a good example of returning control to local level and letting the parents help out when they can. I noticed, in reading your resume of the bill, that in the case of parents who have children in a state institution, the state can make no charge for this care. Is that correct?"

Mrs. Epton:

"That is true at the present time."

Mr. Evans:

"I wonder if you would agree that it might also be a good thing to extend to parents who are able to help the privilege of helping support their children who are in state institutions?"

Mrs. Epton:

"Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, this point that Mr. Evans has just asked about is embodied in a separate bill which will very shortly be introduced."

Further debate ensued, Representative Ackley speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Johnston yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Johnston, will you yield?"

Mr. Johnston:

"I will try to, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Johnston, do you feel that this bill, without any appropriation at all, would still be a good, operative piece of legislation?"

Mr. Johnston:

"Yes, I do."

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be Re-engrossed House Bill No. 326 on final passage.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Re-engrossed House Bill No. 326, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 87; nays, 5; absent or not voting, 7.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Ackley, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Anderson (Eric O.), Avey, Backstrom, Beck, Beierlein, Bergh, Bernethy, Bigley, Bozarth, Braun, Brink, Brouillet, Burtch, Campbell, Canfield, Cecil, Chatalas, Clark, Copeland, Day, DeJarnatt, Edwards, Eldridge, England, Epton, Evans, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Gleason, Goldmark, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Henry, Holmes, Hood, Hurley, Johnston, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Klein, Leibold, Leland, Lewis, Litchman, Lybecker, Mardesich, Marsh, May, McCormick, McDougall, McElroy, McFadden, Metcalf, Meyers, Moos, Morrissey, Newschwander, Nicholson, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Olsen, Pence, Perry, Poff, Pritchard, Rickdall, Ritner, Schaefer, Shropshire, Smith, Taylor, Testu, Uhlman, Wang, Wedekind, Williams, Wintler, Witherbee, Mr. Speaker—87.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Huntley, Mahaffey, Siler, Swayze—5.

The Speaker observed within the bar of the House Mr. Arthur J. Sexauer, President of the Fairbanks, Alaska Chamber of Commerce, representing Governor Egan of Alaska, and appointed Representatives King and Kink to conduct him to a seat on the rostrum beside the Speaker.

The Speaker:

"I have the honor and privilege to present to you Mr. Arthur J. Sexauer, President of the Fairbanks Chamber of Commerce."

Mr. Sexauer:

"Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is my personal privilege to be here today to address you, and I would like to read a resolution passed in the House of Representatives of the Alaska State Legislature.

"Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives in Second Legislature, First Session Assembled:

'WHEREAS, The University of Washington won a tremendous victory over the University of Minnesota in the 1961 Rose Bowl football classic; and

'WHEREAS, An Alaskan Golden Statehood Dollar was used as the "toss coin" to determine the opening kickoff of that historic contest; and

'WHEREAS, This Alaska-Washington effort emphasizing the cordial relations of the two sister states of the Northwest brought further favorable publicity to the Pacific Northwest; and

'WHEREAS, It is the desire of the Alaska Legislature to foster this friendship and continuing good relations;

'Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives in Second Legislature, First Session assembled that the coach and members of the football team of the University of Washington are hereby commended on their magnificent victory which has brought additional recognition to the merits and accomplishments of the Pacific Northwest.'

"And I, as personal envoy of the legislature and Governor Egan, have brought each one of you today a coin exactly like the one that was flipped at the Rose Bowl game, and the Sergeant at Arms has assured me that he would distribute them for me.

"I might add that I don't think I could have caused much more consternation at the Olympic Hotel in Seattle with this parka than if I had carried a lighted bomb through the lobby. There were two gentlemen who followed me out of the elevator this morning, and one looked at me with an expression of complete surprise and disbelief, and said to the other, 'It must be a wandering polar bear.' The parka, for your information, is a wolf parka and is valued at approximately $350.00.

Jackson of King county to the rostrum. The Speaker appointed Representatives Wedekind and Bernethy to escort Representative Testu to the rostrum.

The Speaker:

"It is my honor to present to you former member, Mr. Jackson."

Mr. Jackson:

"Mr. Speaker and members of the House of Representatives, I consider it a great honor to be permitted to come and speak before you today. I remember my own experiences in the legislature, and I regard them as the highest and finest experiences of my life. I remember introducing one bill in my first session to create a reformatory. It was established at Monroe. I was asked to act as chairman of the commission to select the site, and was later a member of the board of managers for six years. We had $30,000 to pay for the site and $20,000 to operate for two years. Things have changed; you couldn't do that today. You have to have a lot more money to establish an institution, as you will notice when you face that.

"But I am here for a special purpose today. As you probably know, I used to make gavels. I don't do it any more, but I have a good friend, Mr. J. W. Wheeler, who in his free enterprise shop makes many gavels. I have one here today. My wife and I read each morning a lesson, and yesterday morning's lesson spoke of Jesus being asked by James and John, His apostles, if they might sit at His right hand and left hand in His kingdom. He said, 'This is not mine to give.' But the best thing He said was that if we would be first, we must be the servant of all. We have exemplifications of that throughout the world today, and you have it right here in your Speaker, who has served the public and served his district and you for many years.

"We have it in our Speaker Pro Tem, who has served, I believe, some fifteen sessions, regular and extra, and has served her district well. I would like to present this gavel to her because it is a symbol of her office, a symbol of her service, a symbol of the fact that she has been so highly respected and esteemed that she has been elected to this important office. Therefore, it is with a great deal of pleasure and pride that today I present this gavel to you, Mrs. Testu."

Mrs. Testu:

"Thank you, Mr. Jackson. This is a great and unexpected honor. I hope I will always keep your respect. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"This is a very nice tribute which has been paid to Mrs. Testu. We wish to thank you, Mr. Jackson, for your thoughtfulness. We deeply appreciate your interest."

The Speaker requested that the special committee escort Mrs. Testu back to her desk.

"Representative Litchman, I would like to ask you, if I may, would this bill prohibit what is being done in Washelli, for instance, where separate plots are set aside for veterans, Jewish people, Catholics, and so on?"

Mr. Litchman:

"Representative Canfield, I don't know that I can answer your question properly. We talked with the people from Washelli and other cemeteries. The cemetery, of course, does not wish to interfere with private rights and those contracts entered into years ago. The Cemetery Association in Seattle and King county has complied with the tenor of this law for a number of years, and they are actually providing burial lots without discrimination at this time, but they have set aside the old sections so as not to interfere with the contractual relationship entered into years ago. It is my understanding there is no segregation of burial plots in the new sections. To answer your question more specifically, to my knowledge this will not interfere with the prior rights of contract. As far as the military is concerned, there is no discrimination shown there to my knowledge. The colored people are buried alongside the whites, and the various creeds and colors are mixed."

The Speaker called the House to order at 10:00 a. m.

The Clerk called the roll and all members were present except Representatives Bigley, Brouillet, Conner, Farrington, McCormick, Morrissey, and Sawyer. Representatives Brouillet, Farrington, Morrissey, and Sawyer were excused.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Ackley, House Bill No. 441 was rereferred from the Committee on Cities and Counties to the Committee on Judiciary-Civil.

RESOLUTIONS

Resolution by Representatives Eldridge and Henry:

WHEREAS, Tomorrow is not only the one hundred and fifty-second anniversary of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, but it is also the fiftieth and golden birthday of Representative Ralph LINCOLN Rickdall, and

WHEREAS, Appropriate recognition has been made of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, but no notice has been given to the birthday of Representative Ralph LINCOLN Rickdall, a very popular member of this House,

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the members of this House do most heartily wish Representative Ralph LINCOLN Rickdall many happy returns of the day.

On motion of Mr. Eldridge, the resolution was adopted.

Resolution by Representative Evans:

WHEREAS, The members of the legislature wish to avoid the needless expense of a special session; and

WHEREAS, Such a special session will be difficult to avoid unless the legislature has at least a week in which to devote its attention exclusively to appropriation and revenue bills; and

WHEREAS, The committee on rules and order traditionally introduces a concurrent resolution fixing the last days for considering bills not involving appropriations or revenue;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the State of Washington urges its committee on rules and order to introduce a concurrent resolution providing (1) after midnight on Monday the 27th day of February, 1961, the fiftieth day of the session, neither the House nor the Senate will consider bills other than bills originating in the other House or appropriation and revenue bills, and (2) that after midnight on the 2nd day of March, 1961, the fifty-third day of the session, the House and Senate will consider only appropriation and revenue bills and matters pertaining to the interim and to the closing of the business of the thirty-seventh session of the legislature.

Mr. Evans moved adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Mardesich demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Brink demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Evans:

"Under Rule 40, I ask for the privilege of closing debate."

The Speaker:

"I think if you will read Rule 40, you will find it pertains to final passage of bills. It appears that House Rule 40 does not apply to a floor resolution or a motion. You will note it states, in part: 'Provided, however, That one of the sponsors of a bill, memorial, or resolution, or, in his stead, the chairman of the committee, when the measure is on final passage or when the motion to postpone indefinitely is pending, may have the privilege of closing debate after the previous question has been ordered.' It appears to the Speaker that a motion does not come in the same category as a concurrent resolution or joint resolution."

Mr. Evans:

"I think that Rule 40 says 'sponsors of a bill, memorial, or resolution.' It doesn't define what kind of resolution. I think this qualifies as a resolution."

The Speaker:

"It also refers to final passage, which would mean either a concurrent or joint resolution. It appears it would not include a simple motion like this."

Mr. Evans:

"Further point of inquiry, Mr. Speaker. Wouldn't this be considered a resolution on final passage?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"This is not in that category of final passage. A joint or concurrent resolution goes through first, second, and third readings, and has probably been in committee—has followed through our regular procedure. This is just a simple floor resolution and would be considered in the category of a written motion."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Evans:

"Am I to understand that Rule 40 would not apply in the case of any resolution introduced from the floor?"

The Speaker:

"Floor resolutions are not stipulated in the rules."

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of Mr. Evans' resolution.

The Clerk called the roll, and the resolution was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 37; nays, 54; absent or not voting, 8.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Eldridge, England, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hood, Huntley, Johnston, Jueling, Leland, Lewis, Lybecker, Mahaffey, McDougall, Metcalf, Moos, Morphis, Newschwander, Pence, Pritchard, Rickdall, Shropshire, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Williams, Wintler—37.

Any duly registered voter, who expects to attend a new or minor party convention on the same day that primary elections are held shall be entitled to an absentee ballot pursuant to the provisions of this chapter for the limited purpose of voting for candidates for nonpartisan offices, primary elections for which are being held on the same day as the new or minor party convention: Provided, That the duplicate certificate provided for in RCW 29.36.020 and the absentee ballot issued shall be stamped or have plainly marked thereon "Minor Party Absentee" and no such ballot shall be valid if voted for candidates other than those seeking nomination to nonpartisan offices: Provided further, That upon the listing of persons casting absentee ballots as provided in RCW 29.36.095, it shall be noted that such person cast a minor party absentee ballot."

"Can't delegates to a minor party convention, even though held on primary election day, if they are registered voters, take out an absentee ballot under our present laws? They don't have to indicate what party they belong to."

Mr. Ackley:

"Under our present laws, those who are participants in minor party conventions vote on the primary through the conventions, and that is the only way they vote in the primaries."

Mr. Evans:

"Is there anything in the present law to prevent a person who is going to be a delegate to a minor party convention from requesting an absentee ballot?"

Mr. Ackley:

"They would be voting twice. There is a specific provision in the law. They must take their choice of voting in the primaries or, if it is a minor party, of voting through their convention."

Further debate ensued, Representative Holmes speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Ackley yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Ackley?"

Mr. Ackley:

"Yes."

Mr. Eldridge:

"Mr. Ackley, would this mean that each county would have to print an additional ballot of just nonpartisan nominees?"

Mr. Ackley:

"The bill specifically provides that the regular absentee ballot be used. Each county will have to buy a rubber stamp and stamp on the regular absentee ballot that this is a minor party ballot and is to be used only for nonpartisan offices."

The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Ackley, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Klein:

"Calling your attention directly to the language that refers to an advertisement 'which expresses, directly or indirectly, any limitation, specification, or discrimination' respecting individuals between the ages of 45 and 65, 'or any intent to make any such limitation, specification, or discrimination,' would I be guilty of one of these unfair practices if I were to advertise for help in my office, perhaps on a part-time basis, where I specified that they be over 65, or would I have to advertise without reference to age? Could I advertise for a person beyond retirement age, or would that be also an indirect reference to age and maybe come under unfair practice?"

Mr. Smith:

"The same question was asked two years ago and you can find the answer in the journal; I am not sure at what page. First of all, those persons over 65 are not covered by the act, and secondly, the courts of New York and New Jersey and Philadelphia have held that a person may advertise using the words 'recent college graduate' or 'past retirement' so that a person could get their message over in that way."

"Because of the fact I just recently ruled that a suspension of the rules is required to rerefer a bill, after it is reported out of committee, to another committee, before it goes to Rules Committee, using as a basis Rule 78, I will call to the attention of the House that we have had in the past a gentleman's agreement that any bill that carries an appropriation may be rereferred to the Appropriations Committee without a suspension of the rules. I am making this statement so that the House may know why we permit bills to go to Appropriations after being reported out of committee, although Rule 78 does state: 'Upon being reported back by committee, all bills shall go to the Rules Committee unless there shall be a two-thirds majority report against a bill, in which case a vote shall be called for immediately upon the indefinite postponement of the bill.'"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker (Mr. Mardesich presiding):

"At this time I think we should recognize a point of order which has been raised by implication. If we strike section 9, it appears the House has taken a negative action and discarded the whole section and no further amendments will follow. If Mr. Brink wishes to make his amendment, I think it would be wise to consider that amendment first. I assume Mr. Campbell would be willing to withdraw his motion so the House could take action on Mr. Brink's amendment."

With the consent of the House, Mr. Campbell withdrew his motion to adopt the committee amendment to page 10.

Mr. Brink moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 10, section 9, lines 8 and 9, after "right to" strike "a jury trial and appeal to the supreme court the same as jury trials and" and insert "an appeal to the supreme court in the same manner as"

Debate ensued, Representative Brink arguing in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Gorton arguing against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if the gentleman from King, Mr. Brink, will yield to several questions?"

The Speaker (Mr. Mardesich presiding):

"Will Mr. Brink yield?"

Mr. Brink:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Litchman:

"Briefly, would you explain the basic difference in philosophy between the juvenile courts and criminal courts of our state?"

Mr. Brink:

"I don't see that this is the problem before us in this amendment. I don't mind yielding to questions on the amendment. If you can point out to us why there should not be an appeal from a decision of a juvenile court, which is a superior court, I would be more than happy to try at least to explain the philosophy. There is a different philosophy and this is why I feel we should not have a jury trial which would tend to hamstring the operation of the court, but as to why there should not be an appeal, I don't see the relevance of the question."

Mr. Litchman:

"Do you know how many states of the Union have a right of appeal from juvenile decisions rather than some quick and immediate procedure such as a right of certiorari? Your answer is 'No'?"

Mr. Brink:

"Right."

Mr. Litchman:

"Thirdly, what is the difference between appeal and certiorari in our state, not only regarding the time of appeal before the supreme court would hear it, but also with regard to whether the record, the statement of facts, in effect, would go up in either case?"

Mr. Brink:

"In certiorari, the appeal will get there quicker; it will be placed on the calendar faster. This does not mean the supreme court judges are going to decide any faster. The statement of facts can go in in either instance. However, certiorari is ordinarily a review of things as a matter of law or procedure rather than on the merits."

The Speaker resumed the Chair.

Debate ensued, Representative Litchman arguing against adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Pritchard moved that House Bill No. 26 be rereferred to the Committee on Judiciary-Criminal.

Debate ensued, Representatives Pritchard and Hurley arguing in favor of the motion, and Representatives Campbell and Smith arguing against the motion.

Mr. Pritchard's motion was lost.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of Mr. Brink's amendment to House Bill No. 26.

The motion was carried on a rising vote, and the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Litchman moved that further consideration of House Bill No. 26 be deferred, and the bill retain its place on Friday's second reading calendar.

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Bigley yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Bigley?"

Mr. Bigley:

"I yield."

Mr. Comfort:

"Would this place a mandatory duty upon the department to increase personnel in any respect?"

Mr. Bigley:

"You mean the amendment itself?"

Mr. Comfort:

"The effect of the amendment."

Mr. Bigley:

"The effect of the amendment would not, no."

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Bigley yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to another question?"

Mr. Bigley:

"I will."

Mr. Comfort:

"Does this differ in some regard from the amendment proposed in committee?"

"If we pass the act and in the future a man decides he is going to do a public service and make an airport available for the public in an area where the taxes might be $1,200 or $2,000 or $6,000, are you sure we are not going to have a lot of airports in undeveloped areas?"

Mr. Avey:

"Let me say that the taxes are only exempt on the runway and taxi strip, which is free for public use. We don't pay property taxes on highways and things like that. I think it is a good bill. It will not take too much off the tax rolls and I don't think it will be abused in any way."

Mr. Nicholson:

"Representative Goldmark, granting the desirability of providing for airstrips, isn't it true that whenever you exempt somebody from taxes, you are putting a greater burden of taxes on the rest of us?"

Mr. Goldmark:

"The answer to that question is yes, but that doesn't mean we don't make some exemptions."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Ahlquist:

"Mr. Speaker, would Representative Goldmark answer a question for me?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to another question, Mr. Goldmark?"

Mr. Goldmark:

"Will this exempt those airports which are presently developed and are used for noncommercial flying, private airports, or used for schools under various rules and regulations where students learn to fly for which the operator receives an income, and wherein he stores the planes owned by individuals for which he receives a fee, or where he runs a repair shop. In other words, would this exempt a noncommercial, privately owned, operating airport?"

Mr. Goldmark:

"It is my understanding, and I hope Mr. Avey will correct me if I am wrong, that it only exempts the runways and taxi strips and would not exempt the land on which hangars, rented equipment, shops, administration buildings, or anything of that nature were situated; and it was only on condition that these be made open to the public."

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed within the bar of the House a distinguished visitor, Dexter J. Kerstetter, accompanied by Justice of the Supreme Court, Robert T. Hunter, and appointed Representatives Beck and Wang to escort them to the rostrum.

The Speaker:

"At this time, it is my great honor and pleasure to present to you Judge Robert Hunter."

Judge Hunter:

"Mr. Speaker, members of the House of Representatives, it is my extreme pleasure to participate with the honorable members of this House in extending recognition, deserved recognition, to the Congressional Medal of Honor holder, Dexter J. Kerstetter, a resident of the state of Washington from Bremerton. I hold in my hand the original citation that was given by the President of the United States, Harry S. Truman, in 1945 to Dexter J. Kerstetter, which it is my privilege to read to you at this time.

"THE WHITE HOUSE, WASHINGTON

"The President of the United States takes pleasure in awarding the MEDAL OF HONOR to

"PRIVATE FIRST CLASS DEXTER J. KERSTETTER, Co. C, 130TH INFANTRY, UNITED STATES ARMY, for service as set forth in the following

"CITATION:

"Private Kerstetter was with his unit near Galiano, Luzon, Philippine Islands, on 13 April 1945 in a dawn attack against hill positions approachable only along a narrow ridge paralleled on each side by steep cliffs which were heavily defended by enemy mortars, machine guns and rifles in well-camouflaged spider holes and tunnels leading to caves. When the leading element was halted by intense fire that inflicted five casualties, Private Kerstetter passed through the American line with his squad. Placing himself well in advance of his men, he grimly worked his way up the narrow, steep hogback, meeting the brunt of enemy action. With well-aimed shots and rifle grenade fire, he forced the Japs to take cover. He left the trail and, moving down a cliff that offered only precarious footholds, dropped among four Japs at the entrance to a cave, fired his rifle from his hip and killed them all. Climbing back to the trail, he advanced against intense enemy machine gun, rifle and mortar fire to silence a heavy machine gun by killing its crew of four with rifle fire and grenades. He expended his remaining ammunition and grenades on a group of approximately twenty Japs, scattering them, and returned to his squad for more ammunition and first aid for his left hand, which had been blistered by the heat from his rifle. Re-supplied, he guided a fresh platoon into a position from which a concerted attack could be launched, killing three hostile soldiers on the way. In all, he dispatched sixteen Japs that day. The hill was taken and held against the enemy's counterattacks, which continued for three days. Private Kerstetter's dauntless and gallant heroism was largely responsible for the capture of this key enemy position, and his fearless attack in the face of great odds was an inspiration to his comrades in their dangerous task.

"(Signed) HARRY TRUMAN."

The Speaker:

"If you will recall, members of the House, the other day we passed Senate Joint Resolution No. 26 recognizing Mr. Kerstetter's great accomplishment in the service of our country. At this time, I would like to present to you Mr. Kerstetter."

Mr. Kerstetter:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is a great pleasure to be here today. This honor is something I am really going to remember. It is with humility that I receive this honor from you people. I have just been back to Washington, D. C., to attend the inauguration. I had a wonderful time there and met the President and his wife and our Vice President and his wife. It was a memorable trip. Again, may I say it is a great honor to be here." (Applause.)

The Speaker instructed the special committee to escort Mr. Kerstetter and Judge Hunter from the House chamber.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Andersen (James A.):

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Campbell yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Campbell?"

Mr. Campbell:

"Yes."

Mr. Andersen:

"You mentioned the other day that the supreme court was going to promulgate rules relative to providing for a speedy right of appeal. Could you give me any idea how long it will be until they change the rules as anticipated?"

Mr. Campbell:

"Mr. Speaker, in answer to Representative Andersen's question, the supreme court, through its chief justice, has indicated that a ruling will be adopted giving preferential setting to appeal cases of this nature, but they haven't as yet adopted the rule and I don't know what the rule will be. We shouldn't rely on the possibility of preferential setting for appeals on custody cases to be the answer to our problem."

Mr. Andersen:

"Mr. Speaker, I have one more question. Mr. Campbell, would you explain to me exactly where we are procedurally as far as this motion and these amendments are concerned? I am just a little bit at sea, and I would like to know what the effect of my vote is going to be."

Mr. Campbell:

"I think Representative Brink should be given the chance to explain further what he is trying to do."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Brink.

Mr. Brink:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I think there has been some confusion, particularly as to where we are procedurally. This morning there was an agreement among a few of us that we would add to the right of appeal the writ of certiorari. It would be at the election of the appellant. Two days ago, we did not adopt the proposed committee amendment striking the entire section. An amendment which I offered, striking the jury trial and leaving in the right of appeal, was adopted. The motion before you is to not adopt the committee amendment, because to do that would also strike the right of appeal, which we voted on favorably. If you vote 'yea' you leave in the right of appeal and you will have an opportunity to pass later on another amendment to add the writ of certiorari."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Burns:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Brink yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to another question, Mr. Brink?"

Mr. Brink:

"I will try."

Mr. Burns:

"Has the supreme court given a ruling that when you have the right of appeal a writ of certiorari will not lie?"

Mr. Brink:

"It is probable the writ of certiorari will not lie where there is a right to appeal unless expressly provided in the statute. The writ is provided where there is no other remedy, but it is an extraordinary writ, as you well know, and is only used in a few cases. You must show real abuse by the lower court, and this is very difficult to do."

Mr. Burns:

"The other amendment to be offered will give both remedies, appeal and certiorari?"

Mr. Brink:

"That is correct."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Campbell and Marsh speaking in favor of adoption of the motion, and Representative Litchman speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Cecil demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be Mr. Brink's motion to not adopt the committee amendment to page 10, striking section 9.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Brink yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Brink?"

Mr. Brink:

"Yes."

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Brink, is there any danger, if we adopt your amendment, that the court would interpret that it is the father, mother, guardian, or custodian, who is an habitual drunkard and who is in danger of being brought up to lead an idle, dissolute, or immoral life?"

Mr. Brink:

"We were concerned about that, but we thought the comma took care of it."

Mr. Brink's motion carried, and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Brink, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 3, section 1, lines 14 and 15, after "beverage," strike "or who uses tobacco in any form," and insert "[or who uses tobacco in any form,]"

On page 12, section 14, line 7, after "provisions of sections" strike "9 and 10" and insert "10 and 11"

With the consent of the House, Mr. Gorton moved the adoption of the following grammatical corrections as an amendment to the bill:

On page 2, section 1, line 24, after "of" and before "parents or" strike "its" and insert "[its] his"; and after "part of" strike "its" and insert "[its] his"

On page 2, section 1, line 25, after "or care" and before "may be" strike "it" and insert "[it] he"

Amend the committee amendment to page 8, section 7, line 9 as follows: Where "or contribute to its support," appears, after "to" and before "support" strike "its" and insert "his"

"I notice you are referring back to the requirements of section 1. Will the bill with the amendment you propose still permit a licensed practical nurse who does not have a certificate to administer drugs?"

Mr. Adams:

"With or without the amendment, there is an interval of time up to April 1, 1963, during which licensed practical nurses will be permitted to administer medication without a certificate. "Yes, sir."

Mr. Cecil:

"Dr. Adams, about what percentage in the nursing field would Mr. Ackley's amendment affect?"

Mr. Adams:

"Well, I think this depends somewhat on what you regard as the nursing field. As far as these girls are concerned, my off-the-cuff estimate is that it would involve probably thirty to thirty-five percent of their activities. I am just guessing about that."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Reed's Rule 136 states as follows: 'If the amendment is decided in the affirmative, then the words inserted can not any of them be stricken out, except with other words, and then only when, with the other words, they constitute a new proposition. These limitations rest upon the idea that when an assembly has come to a conclusion, that conclusion is not to be questioned. Otherwise nothing would stay done.' It appears that if you wish to insert some new material, you will have to go back and reconsider all of these amendments that have been adopted and strike the amendments, and then perhaps you could come forth with your amendment. You are, with your amendment, actually striking out amendments previously adopted by the House. On that basis, this proposed amendment would be out of order unless you went through the customary procedure of reconsideration."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, point of inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point."

Mr. Evans:

"It seems to me this amendment would be in order in that he has stricken words with other words and his amendment constitutes an entirely new proposition. I think in that sense it would be in order."

The Speaker:

"The Rule also states further, 'when an assembly has come to a conclusion, that conclusion is not to be questioned.'"

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Morphis.

Mr. Morphis:

"Mr. Speaker, point of information."

The Speaker:

"State your point."

House Bill No. 342, by Representatives Poff, Testu, and Hood:

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Litchman, the House deferred consideration of House Bill No. 342, and the bill was ordered placed at the end of today's second reading calendar.

House Joint Memorial No. 16, by Representatives Brink, Litchman, and Anderson (Eric O.) (by executive request):

Requesting Congress to incorporate medical care into social security system.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mrs. Gleason, having voted on the prevailing side, moved that the House do now reconsider the vote by which the amendment to the second committee amendment was adopted by the House on Saturday.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Gorton:

"A motion to reconsider two days later is out of order. The only House rule permitting consideration on the next working day is on final passage of the bill. Otherwise, Reed's permits a motion to reconsider only on the same day. Moreover, no notice was given of any motion to reconsider."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"House Joint Memorial No. 16 was deferred Saturday, and the motion was made that it retain its place on the second reading calendar for today. When that motion was made, it left the bill just where it was, on second reading. Therefore, the bill is before you just as it was on Saturday. Reed's also states the motion to reconsider may be made any time the body sits. This memorial is just as it was on Saturday. The motion to reconsider by someone on the prevailing side is in order."

Debate ensued, Representative Gleason speaking in favor of her motion to reconsider.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, point of information. Are we voting now on reconsideration of the amendment or voting on the amendment itself?"

The Speaker:

"The motion is to reconsider the amendment to the amendment which was adopted. That is the question before you now."

Further debate ensued, Representative Adams speaking against the motion to reconsider.

Mr. Litchman demanded a call of the House, and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll and all members were present except Representatives Andersen (James A.), Farrington, Mardesich, and McCormick.

On motion of Mr. Litchman, the absent members were excused and the House proceeded under the call of the House.

Mr. McCormick appeared at the bar of the House.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry. Would you please explain to which of the amendments Mrs. Gleason's motion to reconsider refers?"

The Speaker:

"It is on page 1, line 24, the amendment to the amendment, striking the word 'solely' and inserting 'principally'."

Further debate ensued, Representative Pritchard speaking against the motion to reconsider.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point."

Mr. Litchman:

"I do not believe the gentleman is speaking on the amendment or the amendment to the amendment. He seems to be digressing into various procedures on the floor. I think he should confine himself, Mr. Speaker, to the question that is before us."

The Speaker:

"We are in the process of reconsidering the amendment to the amendment. It would be well if you made your remarks germane to the amendment."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Evans:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Evans:

"I think you have ruled several times this session that a motion to reconsider opens the entire question to debate. I think that is what Mr. Pritchard is doing."

The Speaker:

"That is a question of interpretation, of course. You have the floor, Mr. Pritchard."

Representative Pritchard concluded his remarks.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the motion to reconsider the vote by which the amendment to the committee amendment to page 1, line 24, was adopted by the House.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Evans:

"Isn't it necessary when considering a series of amendments to reverse the order by which they were adopted? The last thing we adopted was the amendment as amended."

The Speaker:

"Mrs. Gleason moved to reconsider the amendment to the amendment. That motion carried. The question before you now is relative to page 1, line 24, the material there, and the principal thing involved is the word 'solely' which was stricken and 'principally' which was inserted. We have that amendment to the amendment. That part of it is now being considered."

Mr. Evans:

"I realize that, but the last thing we passed on Saturday was the amendment as amended."

The Speaker:

"The procedure is to act on the amendment to the amendment. Then after that we act on the committee amendment."

Mr. Litchman demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll, and the amendment to the committee amendment to page 1, line 24, was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 45; nays, 51; absent or not voting, 3.

Mr. Clark:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Burtch a question."

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Burtch?"

Mr. Burtch:

"Yes."

Mr. Clark:

"I am a little at loss on this. Is it contemplated in this program that we are memorializing Congress to pay for medical care for those of us who are past sixty-five and who will be on OASI, regardless of whether we have paid anything into the fund or not?"

Mr. Burtch:

"I don't believe that is contemplated. However, I am not an expert on social security. If it is contemplated, I am sure they have it figured out actuarially."

I would like to move that this bill, House Bill No. 370, be rereferred to the Committee on Higher Education and Libraries."

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"My point of order is that Mr. Conner argued the motion before making it."

"Your point is well taken. Mr. Conner did present his argument first. I will rule the motion out of order the way it was presented. That will not stop someone else from making a similar motion."

Mr. King:

"Mr. Speaker, will Dr. Adams yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield, Mr. Adams?"

Mr. Adams:

"Yes."

Mr. King:

"Dr. Adams, the bill states 'at the scene of emergency.' Would you define who is going to tell whether it is an emergency or not? Suppose I have an attack of appendicitis at home. Is that classed as an emergency?"

Mr. Adams:

"That wouldn't be classed as 'scene of emergency.' If you had an attack at home, you would call your own physician and he would then continue to take care of you and would enjoy no immunity. This is in case you are going down the road and run off the highway, and I come along a moment or two later and see you there. That is the type of emergency we are talking about."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Litchman and Klein speaking in favor of the motion.

Mr. Copeland demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Burns:

"Mr. Speaker, will Dr. Adams yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Dr. Adams?"

Mr. Adams:

"Yes."

Mr. Burns:

"Isn't it true that in most of the emergency situations you speak of on the highway the emergency care is rendered by the ambulance driver or by the attendant with him?"

Mr. Adams:

"That is quite true because that is part of his job. Most of them have some first aid training, and we passed a bill here not long ago giving them other opportunities to get better first aid training. Nevertheless, I don't think the situation is such that you necessarily need to extend that immunity to them. They aren't in the same situation."

Further debate ensued, Representative McFadden arguing against adoption of the amendment, and Representative Klein arguing for its adoption.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Johnston:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"It is up to the body to determine whether or not an amendment is out of order at this time. The House can also make any necessary changes in the title. I am going to rule the amendment is in order."

Debate ensued, Representative Uhlman speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Johnston:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Johnston:

"I think the amendment is frivolous and not germane to the bill."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"It appears to the Speaker that your amendment is out of order, Mr. Uhlman. It is a different subject matter. This bill pertains to emergency care rendered by physicians, surgeons, and osteopaths. I will rule your amendment is out of order."

Mr. Harris moved the adoption of the following amendment:

The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted.

Mr. Holmes move that House Bill No. 208 be rereferred to the Committee on Medicine, Dentistry, and Drugs.

Debate ensued, Representatives Holmes and Litchman speaking in favor of the motion, and Representatives Johnston and McFadden speaking against the motion.

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, will Dr. Adams yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Dr. Adams?"

Mr. Adams:

"Yes, I will try to answer your question."

Mr. Ackley:

"As the bill is written, is there anything in it that would exclude from the provisions of this bill medical care rendered in an emergency ward in a hospital?"

Mr. Adams:

"Yes, I think there is. When you see a patient in the emergency ward of a hospital as a member of that staff, it is your duty to continue to care for that patient until someone else takes over or he no longer needs treatment. I don't think seeing a patient in an emergency ward would come under this act."

Further debate ensued, Representative Ackley speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Kink demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be Mr. Witherbee's amendment to section 1, lines 6 and 7.

The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted.

Mr. Klein moved the adoption of the following amendment:

In section 1, line 8, after "result of any" strike the remainder of lines 8 and 9 through the word "care" and insert "negligence, gross negligence, wanton misconduct, intentional wrong, or wrong constituting a criminal act"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Johnston:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Johnston:

"I don't think the amendment suggested by Mr. Klein is germane. I think it is frivolous. It attempts to provide that a doctor shall not be liable for criminal misconduct, which in itself is ridiculous."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Klein, what is the purpose of your amendment?"

Mr. Klein:

"I am attempting to amend the act so the body can see the legal significance of it. This amendment clarifies the act and shows the different degrees of acts or omissions for which they might otherwise have been sued."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. Johnston, I am going to let the judgment of the body determine whether or not this amendment is germane."

Debate ensued, Representatives Burns and Comfort speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Adams speaking against its adoption.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point."

"Mr. Speaker, I believe we just voted on an amendment similar to this. I don't believe it is germane to the bill at this time."

Debate ensued, Representatives Ackley and Comfort speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Adams and Epton speaking against the adoption.

The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I am going to rule your motion out of order, Mr. Uhlman. I don't think it would be wise for a committee to sit while we are under call of the House."

SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker announced that he was about to sign: Senate Joint Resolution No. 1.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Litchman.

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, and ladies and gentlemen of the House, today on George Washington's birthday, it is fitting and proper that his namesake, the State of Washington, give the opportunity to vote for President of the United States to the residents of the District of Columbia, Washington, D. C. It is difficult for many of us to believe that citizens of the United States living in Washington, D. C., have been disenfranchised from the day of the inception of the Constitution in 1776. Senate Joint Resolution No. 1, which passed the Senate and the House unanimously, will, if adopted by two-thirds of the States, allow the residents of Washington, D. C., to vote for the President of the United States. The citizens of Washington, D. C., have never had the right to vote on anything. They pay all their local taxes. They pay all federal taxes. They share in fighting the wars. Furthermore, the incidence rate per capita of the residents of Washington, D. C., was greater than any other state or territory in the Country. On election day, however, the citizens of Washington, D. C., must sit at home. I think it is fitting and proper today, now that our Speaker has signed this Senate Joint Resolution No. 1, to bestow on our namesake, Washington, D. C., and the citizens therein the right to vote for President. I think it is a wonderful tribute and memorial indeed to the former, great President, the first President of the United States, President Washington, on his birthday."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Lewis yield to a question?"

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Lewis?"

Mr. Lewis:

"Yes."

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Lewis, did the people in Thurston county have a right to vote on whether or not these rate increases would be imposed upon them?"

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. Burtch, of course, the people did not have the right to vote, for the simple reason that all private power companies are regulated and the rates are set by the Public Service Commission."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Burtch:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Lewis yield to another question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to another question, Mr. Lewis?"

Mr. Lewis:

"I will try to."

Mr. Burtch:

"Would the rate increases go into effect if the people had a right to vote, particularly in view of the fact this same company reduced its rates in other areas?"

Mr. Lewis:

"This is like asking which one of us is going to be the first one to the moon. As far as rate increases are concerned, I think this would put private and public power up to the choice of the people. The rates would be reflected in a condemnation proceeding where the people had a right to vote. These rates would, of course, be of interest to the people. As it stands now, they have no voice whatsoever."

Further debate ensued, Representative Lewis speaking against adoption of the amendment.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted against Mr. Schaefer's amendment to make House Bill No. 197 apply only to counties in which the state capitol is located, for the reason that the whole bill is bad legislation and should not be forced upon any county in the state.

MEMORIAL TRIBUTE

Representative Kirk

It is most fitting that we have a national holiday commemorating the immortal name of George Washington who was "First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen." This day is also well chosen to memorialize those who have served their respective legislative districts in this beautiful capitol and to chart the course of lawmaking in this our great state of Washington.

By happy coincidence, a namesake of our first President was available in the person of State Senator Nat Washington whom we heartily thank for his inspirational account and tribute to our great hero.

Thanks, too, for the beautiful rendition sung by Dwyla Donohue, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Dewey Donohue, and by the fine choir of Central Washington College of Education, a recent champion in national competition.

We, with their relatives and friends here assembled, now pay tribute to past legislators recently deceased, who only a short time ago were our colleagues. We honor them for sincere efforts in behalf of the public interest of our state, having fought the good fight and having made their contributions to good government.

In tribute to the memories of these distinguished former members of the Senate and House who have passed from among us, we present our memorials, and I ask my fellow colleagues to bring the flower of Love and Memory. As I call their names I will state the year they started their service in the Legislature.

IN MEMORIAM

In tribute to the memories of these distinguished former members of the Senate and House who have passed from among us, we, the memorialists of the Thirty-seventh Session, convey the respects of the Washington State Legislature, and present our memorials to be preserved in the Book of Memory in the custody of the Secretary of State:

I believe in the prerogative granted us by the voters to come over here and vote and act in the way we promised them we would do. In all justice to them, and in all justice to our own stand and our own integrity and our own honesty, I believe we should be permitted by the Democratic party to do this. I believe also that we should be permitted by our Democratic state leaders to do this. I can't help but object to criticism on the floor of the House before everybody. I am a sponsor of this bill. #### EXPLANATION OF VOTE

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"It has always been the procedure to consider the amendments as they come to the desk."

Further debate ensued, Representative Copeland speaking in favor of his motion.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Amendments are for the purpose of changing the bill in one way or another according to the decision of the body. One amendment could, of course, affect the language of the bill materially. I believe that the only course we can follow is to take the amendments in the order they are placed here, and therefore, your motion would be out of order, Mr. Copeland."

Mr. Marsh moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 3, immediately following the old section 3, being renumbered section 2, add a new section to read as follows:

"Yes, I will."

"How long has the public utility district been established in Thurston county, and would the adoption of this preclude an election in Thurston county, as we understand the intent of the bill?"

Mr. Lewis:

"The public utility district has been established for 22 years in Thurston county and this provision would not preclude an election here. This just applies to new districts being formed."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Leland:

"Mr. Speaker, I have one other question which perhaps Mr. Marsh could answer."

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to question, Mr. Marsh?"

Mr. Marsh:

"Yes."

Mr. Leland:

"How would this apply to King county, for example? Within the county there is no operating PUD, but under the present law I believe an outside PUD in an outside county could come in. Would this apply to that?"

Mr. Marsh:

"It would affect you in King county. If in some other area a new public utility district was formed, it would have six years in which to get into business, so to speak. If within that six years they came into your district, they would be in the clear. But that isn't the way they are set up. They are set up within their own district."

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the adoption of Mr. Gorton's amendment to Mr. Marsh's amendment adding a new section 3.

I would like to ask Mr. McFadden if he thinks this is a part of the Democratic platform?"

"That is a good question. As pointed out, my amendment is a good amendment. Mr. Perry has told me it is a good amendment. Other proponents of the bill have pointed out it is a good amendment, and so have other able people on the floor. While it is a good amendment, it needs a little treatment here and there. "Mr. Evans, are you saying your motives have been impugned?"

Mr. Evans:

"I think they have been. Certainly, twenty-five minutes—"

The Speaker:

"An amendment to the amendment is being offered here now, and if you wish to speak on that, you may do so. But unless your motives have been impugned, I don't think you should use personal privilege to enter into a discussion of some kind. I think that is out of order."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Evans:

"This amendment deals with a definition of working time. I think Mr. Klein is going far afield."

"Well, Mr. Speaker, one of the prior speakers spoke about the total amount of money involved in this thing. I think we should give the people some idea of how much is really at stake. I think they far underestimate the amount involved."

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Andersen:

"My point of order is that I object to the gentleman arguing with the Chair."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Reed's Section 216 refers to relevancy in debate as follows:

"All debate should be relevant and confined to the subject of debate . . .

"Although the distinction can be stated thus sharply in words, it is often difficult to rule upon it in practice. To discuss an amendment involves more or less the main question, as does also a motion to commit; yet discussion of the main question in its relations to an amendment and in its relations to a motion to commit are very different from a discussion of the main question pure and simple. Nevertheless, a patient presiding officer and a good-natured assembly can do much to confine debate to its proper channels.'

"I think we should try to hold the debate to proper channels and keep as closely as possible to the subject matter under debate."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Schaefer, King, Holmes, and Ackley speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

"Yes."

"It has been told to me, and I have no way of verifying how correct it is, that utility trucks of Puget Sound Power and Light bore bumper strips in behalf of certain anti-PUD candidates. Would you shed some light on whether or not that is true?"

Mr. Lewis:

"As far as I know, I can't recall seeing any bumper strips on any Puget Sound trucks."

Further debate ensued, Representative Lewis speaking against adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Brink speaking for its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Mardesich:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. Garrett would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Garrett?"

Mr. Garrett:

"Yes."

Mr. Mardesich:

"I wonder if you would have any objection to amending your motion to read the Committee on Rules and Order rather than the Committee on Constitution, Elections, and Apportionment? I might explain why I make this suggestion or ask this question. I think it is apparent that after the House took a little time to deliberate the other day, they were able to achieve something by way of compromise. If the bill is put in Constitution, Elections, and Apportionment, it is going to take a certain amount of time to get the bill back into Rules and then onto the floor again; whereas, if it goes into Rules, and if the proponents and opponents are able to reach a compromise solution, then it is just one step out to the floor, thus saving the loss of possibly two days. I wonder if you would be willing to amend the motion with that thought in mind?"

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. Mardesich, are you making that suggestion in the form of an amendment?"

Mr. Mardesich:

"I could make it in that form, or you could make the change yourself."

Mr. Garrett:

"I think that is really a prerogative of the House. If they would like the motion to be amended, I am sure it would be in order, and I believe that would be the proper process."

Mr. Mardesich:

"If you would make the change, it would avoid another vote."

With the consent of the House, Mr. Garrett withdrew his motion to re-refer House Bill No. 197 to the Committee on Constitution, Elections, and Apportionment.

Mr. Garrett moved that House Bill No. 197 be rereferred to the Committee on Rules and Order.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Canfield:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Mardesich yield to a question, please?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Mardesich, will you yield to a question?"

Mr. Mardesich:

"I yield."

Mr. Canfield:

"What do you have in mind as to the status of this bill if it is rereferred to Rules? Will it come out on second reading for this same procedure again, or will it be passed to third reading?"

Mr. Mardesich:

"No, it would still be on second reading. The same would be true if it went to Constitution, Elections, and Apportionment."

Mr. Copeland demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the motion by Mr. Garrett that House Bill No. 197 be rereferred to the Committee on Rules and Order.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Ahlquist, Andersen (James A.), Bergh, Canfield, Clark, Comfort, Copeland, Day, Eldridge, England, Epton, Evans, Flanagan, Folsom, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Hood, Huntley, Hurley, Johnston, Juelling, Kink, Kirk, Leibold, Leland, Lewis, Lybecker, Mahaffey, May, McCormick, Metcalf, Moos, Morphis, Morrissey, Newschwander, Nicholson, Pence, Perry, Pritchard, Rickdall, Sawyer, Shropshire, Siler, Swayze, Wang, Williams—49.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Farrington—1.

Mr. Perry moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Mr. Holmes, adding a new section 5 to House Bill No. 197:

In the new section 5, strike all of subsection (1) and (2) and insert the following:

"(1) Any company engaged in the electric business in this state as a public utility and subject to regulation as to rates and services by the Washington State Public Service Commission, any public utility district, or any association receiving financial contributions from Public Utility Districts, or any officer, agent or employee of any such company, district, or association receiving financial contributions from Public Utility Districts, to loan or expend any monies or cause any personnel or property of such company, district or association to be used directly or indirectly in connection with any such election; or

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Perry's amendment appears to strike Mr. Holmes' entire amendment and to be a substitute amendment. There are additional amendments on the desk which are proper amendments to Mr. Holmes' amendment."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Ackley is in error. The first three lines of Mr. Holmes' amendment remain as they were in the original. It is only after the third line that there is a striking situation."

The Speaker:

"This is an amendment to the amendment."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Ackley:

"Mr. Speaker, there are additional amendments on the desk which amend Mr. Holmes' amendment. Mr. Perry's amendment strikes a substantive portion of Mr. Holmes' amendment. It strikes portions which are amended by amendments on the desk and these amendments cannot be considered if Mr. Perry's amendment comes first."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Holmes' amendment is pending. From what the Chief Clerk tells me, Mr. Perry's amendment was here before the other amendments."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Goldmark:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order."

The Speaker:

"State your point of order."

Mr. Goldmark:

"Mr. Speaker, as I understand the rules, if we consider an amendment to strike all those sections and refuse to strike them, then the sections can no longer be amended. As I understand it, the friends of those sections have an opportunity to perfect them by amendment before considering an amendment to strike."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I do not believe there is any priority on that basis. The priority occurs in our method of presentation here. It is up to the House to be aware of what may occur if this amendment is adopted."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Goldmark:

"Mr. Speaker, point of parliamentary inquiry."

The Speaker:

"State your point of parliamentary inquiry."

Mr. Goldmark:

"If Mr. Perry's amendment is an amendment to an amendment, then we can't offer amendments to his amendment if I understand the rule. I would like to refer you, Mr. Speaker, to Reed's Rule 144, which says that before a motion is made to strike, the friends of the paragraph have a right to perfect it by amendment."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The Speaker will rule that under the existing circumstances Mr. Perry's amendment is in order."

MOTIONS

Mr. McFadden moved that the House dispense with the call of the House.

Mr. Copeland demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The only motion that would now be in order is a motion to excuse the absent members and proceed with business under the call of the House. The motion by Mr. Eldridge is out of order."

MOTION

Mr. Eldridge moved that the absent members be excused and the House proceed with business under the call of the House.

The motion was lost on a rising vote.

Mr. King and Mr. Beierlein appeared at the bar of the House.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed in the south gallery seventy-two students from the Bellingham High School, accompanied by their instructors, Miss Mary Knibbs and Mrs. Helen Chapman, and asked them to stand and be recognized.

The Speaker observed in the south gallery members of the Parent-Teacher Association from the 44th District, and asked them to stand and be recognized.

The Speaker observed in the north gallery sixty-five students from the West High School in Bremerton, accompanied by Mr. Broetje and Miss Dent, and asked them to stand and be recognized.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Litchman, the absent members were excused and the House proceeded with business under the call of the House.

Mr. Ahlquist and Mr. Copeland appeared at the bar of the House.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be Mr. Klein's motion that the House reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 339 failed to pass the House.

Debate ensued, Representatives Klein and Litchman speaking in favor of the motion to reconsider, and Representative Johnston speaking against the motion.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Mr. Johnston would yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Johnston?"

Mr. Johnston:

"I yield."

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Johnston, would you mind looking at RCW 2.36.070, with the consent of the House, and would you tell the members of the House whether we are affecting, at all, the qualifications of jurors?"

Mr. Johnston:

"Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a basic Magna Charta principle for the selection of jurors. It is my opinion that this bill would amend the RCW section referred to so that there would be no way for anybody to apply this section. These are the tests that are being used now. It is my considered opinion that if we adopt House Bill No. 339, we will simply have no one who can qualify under this test of qualifications, Mr. Litchman. If we adopt House Bill No. 339, we would, in effect, bring everything in conflict therewith. In other words, the judge would be confronted with a procedure for selecting jurors that would be in conflict with this RCW provision."

Further debate ensued, Representative Litchman arguing in favor of the motion to reconsider, and Representative Johnston arguing against the motion.

Mr. Olsen demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Schaefer demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Mr. Klein that the House reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 339 had failed to pass, and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 54; nays, 43; absent or not voting, 2.

MOTION

Mr. Moos moved that House Bill No. 339 be referred to study by the Judicial Council.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"That motion is out of order, Mr. Moos. We do not have the authority to act on a pending bill in this manner by referring it to an agency outside of the legislature."

Further debate ensued, Representative Klein speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

Mr. Olsen demanded the previous question, and the demand was not sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Pritchard, Andersen (James A.), Adams, and Shropshire arguing against passage of the bill, and Representative Ackley arguing for its passage.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 197 on second reading.

House Bill No. 197, by Representatives Lewis, Hurley, and Garrett:

Relating to public utility districts.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the amendment by Mr. Perry to the amendment by Mr. Holmes adding a new section 5 to House Bill No. 197.

Mr. Litchman demanded a call of the House and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll, and all members were present.

On motion of Mr. Litchman, the House proceeded with business under the call of the House.

Mr. Copeland demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued, Representative Perry speaking in favor of the adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Cecil:

"Mr. Speaker, would Representative Perry yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Perry?"

Mr. Perry:

"Yes."

Mr. Cecil:

"Mr. Perry, would you condemn all labor just because of the actions of Dave Beck?"

Mr. Perry:

"That is a fair question. I am glad Mr. Cecil asked that, and I would answer in this manner: Laws are not made for individuals. They are made for a purpose. The purpose of the law which we are attempting to make now is that no individual is infallible. I disagree with some of the restrictive labor laws and feel they were made and adjudicated rather hastily, but there was cause in some areas for complaint. What I am saying to you now is that under the existing laws in this state, there is no public scrutiny of the dealings of these organizations. I am not condemning the PUD movement, but I am saying that they certainly need more scrutiny when they are dealing with hundreds of millions of dollars of public funds."

Further debate ensued, Representative Gorton speaking in behalf of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Goldmark speaking against the amendment to the amendment.

With the consent of the House, Mr. Perry withdrew his amendment to the amendment.

Mr. Perry moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Mr. Holmes adding a new section 5 to House Bill No. 197:

In the new section 5, strike all of subsection (1) and (2) and insert the following:

"(1) Any company engaged in the electric business in this state as a public utility and subject to regulation as to rates and services by the Washington state public service commission, any public utility district, or any association receiving financial contributions from public utility districts, or from privately-owned public utilities, or any officer, agent or employee of any such company, district, or association receiving financial contributions from public utility districts, or from privately-owned public utilities, to loan or expend any money or cause any personnel or property of such company, district or association to be used directly or indirectly in connection with any such election; or

Mr. Copeland demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued, Representatives Perry, Lewis, Clark, and Comfort speaking in behalf of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives Ackley, Burtch, and Klein speaking against adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Klein:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Comfort yield to a question?"

The Speaker:

"Will you yield to a question, Mr. Comfort?"

Mr. Comfort:

"Yes."

Mr. Klein:

"I would ask Mr. Comfort whether he and his colleagues would consent to putting the proviso in Mr. Holmes' amendment back in?"

Mr. Comfort:

"Mr. Speaker, I can't speak for the proponents of this bill, as you well know, because I was not sold on this bill, and offered to the so-called compromise group an amendment on behalf of others interested in a certain area that was adopted by this House. I don't feel I should speak for this group. If you want my personal opinion as an individual member of the House, I would say, no, let's get on with the business and take things in order as they come. The first thing to do is have a good, clean provision such as we have in Mr. Perry's amendment. If I felt the proponents of the former amendments had been in good faith in attempting to draft enforceable provisions, my answer might have been different; but, unfortunately, I must confess I do not feel the former amendments were offered in good faith. I do feel Mr. Perry's amendment is."

Mr. Morphis demanded the previous question, and the demand was not sustained.

On motion of Mr. Huntley, Mr. Farrington was excused for reasons of health from further proceedings under the call of the House.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Harris, Hurley, Clark, Moos, McCormick, and Day speaking in behalf of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives Witherbee, Klein, Ackley, and Cecil speaking against the amendment to the amendment.
