Introduction

This Legislative Handbook of the Fifty-fourth Legislature contains pictures and biographical material on state elected officials and members of the Senate and House of Representatives. Additionally, there are sections of the handbook on Americans with Disabilities Act, how a bill becomes law, parking and tour information, and a campus map.

This handbook is prepared by the Senate and the House of Representatives to assist those interested in becoming better acquainted with their statewide elected officials, legislators and the legislative process in our state.
State Capitol Parking Information

There are six parking locations available to visitors at the Capitol:

1. Visitor Information Center Parking. Located at the Visitor Information Center at 14th and Capitol Way. There is a $.50 per hour charge. The phone number is (360) 586-3460.

2. North and South Diagonal Parking. Located along the North and South Diagonal roads on the Capitol Campus. There is a $.50 per hour charge. South Diagonal parking is not available for public parking during legislative session.

3. General Administration Parking Garage (upper level) off of 11th Avenue. There is a $.50 per hour charge.

4. Visitor Natural Resources Building. Entry is from Washington and 11th. $.50 per hour charge.

5. The Satellite Visitor Parking Lot at Jefferson Street and 16th Avenue (access at Jefferson). Parking is metered and there is a free shuttle bus to the legislative campus which runs every ten minutes, Monday through Friday. Wheelchair accessible. During interim, this parking lot is designated as leased parking only.

State Elected Officials

Mike Lowry
Governor

Democrat. Mike Lowry was born on March 8, 1939, in the Whitman County town of St. John, Washington where the Lowry family homesteaded in 1882. Lowry graduated from Enidcott High School in 1957 and from Washington State University in 1962.

Lowry was elected to the King County Council in 1975 and became chair in 1977. He also served as president of the Washington State Association of Counties. In 1978, he was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives where he was re-elected four times serving a total of 10 years. After leaving Congress, Lowry taught government at Seattle University’s Institute for Public Service.

In November 1992, Mike Lowry was elected the 20th governor of the state of Washington. He is the first governor in Washington’s history to succeed a governor of the same party.

Governor Lowry’s goals for his administration include: streamlining state government by merging agencies, cutting state travel expenditures, reducing equipment purchases and eliminating and consolidating numerous boards and commissions; improving the efficiency and effectiveness of regulatory programs; containing health care costs and assuring affordable health care for all of the state’s citizens; promoting world trade opportunities; enhancing our natural resources and protecting our environment; and investing in our most precious resource — our children. The Governor’s Youth Agenda is recognized across the state as the first serious attempt to get at the roots of youth violence. As violent crime, pregnancy and drug use among our state’s young people continue to increase, the Governor has targeted more prevention and education services for children and families, while cracking down on hardened criminals.

Governor Lowry and his wife, Mary, have been married for 26 years. Their daughter, Diane, is a college student.
JOEL PRITCHARD
Lieutenant Governor

RALPH MUNRO
Secretary of State
Republican. First elected in 1980, serving fourth term as 13th Secretary of State of Washington. Born and raised on Bainbridge Island. Graduate of Western Washington University. Was Special Assistant to Gov. Dan Evans and Washington’s first volunteer coordinator. Served as Director of Guardianship Program at the Foundation for the Handicapped; founded several organizations for the disabled. Active in elections reform, voter outreach, historic preservation, environmental protection and international trade development. Munro, his wife, Karen, and son, George, make their home in Olympia.

 DANIEL K. GRIMM
State Treasurer

BRIAN SONNTAG
State Auditor
Democrat. He was elected in 1992 as Washington’s ninth auditor. Under his leadership, the State Auditor’s Office has emerged as a strong advocate for greater government accountability. He serves on the Washington Performance Partnership Council and state Productivity Board. Brian began public service in 1972 when he joined the Pierce County Clerk’s Office, supervising several departments within the office. In 1978, he was elected County Clerk. Eight years later, Brian was elected County Auditor. He attended Tacoma Community College and the University of Puget Sound, and completed a graduate program in public affairs at the University of Washington. His personal interests include baseball, weight lifting, music and coaching youth baseball and basketball.

Visitors Tour Information
Tour Guide program was initiated to benefit both the legislator and the constituent.
Busy legislators frequently find it difficult to be on hand to greet guests arriving from the “home” district. The Tour Office will assign a staff member to meet the tourists and welcome them in the name of the district legislator. Arrangements will be made for a time and place for the legislator to speak with the group or the individual guest. Seating space will be reserved in the House and Senate galleries. Tourists may be escorted to places of interest on the Capitol Campus: State Library, Temple of Justice, and State Museum. Appointments can be made to visit the offices of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Treasurer, Auditor, and Secretary of State.
Requests from constituents often come directly to the Tour Guide Office which then informs the legislators from the district. Many times the request comes first to the legislator who will then call the office with the name of the group and a contact phone number.

How A Bill Becomes A Law

1. A bill may be introduced in either the Senate or House of Representatives, but the procedure by which a bill becomes a law is much the same, wherever the bill originates.

In this story, the bill is introduced in the Senate by a member, or members, of that body. After the bill is filed with the Secretary of the Senate, it is given a number and, unless a majority demands it be read in full, it is read the first time by title only in open session of the Senate. It is then referred to a standing committee of the Senate.

2. The committee studies the bill and often holds public hearings on it. The committee will then meet to consider the information it has gathered. It may approve the bill with or without amendments, draft a new bill on the same subject incorporating the desired changes, or take no action.

3. The committee is now ready to report back to the Senate. If the majority is in favor of the bill as introduced or with certain amendments, the chair recommends the bill for passage. The committee report is read in open session of the Senate, and the bill is then referred to the Rules Committee.

4. After the bill has been recommended for passage by the standing committee to which it was originally referred, the Rules Committee can either place it on the second reading calendar for debate before the entire body, or take no action.

5. When the bill appears on the calendar for second reading, it is subject to amendment. It is then returned to the Rules Committee where it must receive a favorable vote before being placed on the third reading calendar for final passage. This referral to Rules is often bypassed by vote of the Senate and the bill placed on final passage immediately following its second reading. Depending upon the degree of controversy, debate may last a few minutes to several hours — or even several days.

6. After passing in the Senate, the bill will go through an almost identical procedure in the House.

If the bill is passed by the House, but is amended by that body, the Senate must concur in the amendments. If the Senate does not accept the change in the bill, a conference committee may be requested on the differences.

7. If the conference committee cannot agree, a conference committee may be appointed with power to rewrite the amendment or even write an entirely new bill. When the conference reaches agreement, they report to their respective houses. Their report is either accepted or rejected without any changes.

8. If the report is accepted by both houses, the bill is signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House in open sessions of each body, and then is sent for the governor's signature.

9. Within five days, if the Legislature is still in session, or 20 days after its adjournment, the governor may sign the bill or veto all or any section of it. The Legislature can override the veto by a two-thirds vote of both houses. If the governor fails to act on the bill, it becomes law without a signature.

State Elected Officials

CHRISTINE O. GREGOIRE
Attorney General
Democrat. Serving her first term. Lifelong resident of Washington. Raised in Auburn. A graduate of the University of Washington, she received her law degree from Gonzaga Law School. She became an Assistant Attorney General in 1977 and in 1981 became a Senior Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Spokane office. She later became the first woman to serve as Deputy Attorney General. In 1988 she was appointed Director of the Washington State Department of Ecology where she served on the Puget Sound Water Quality Authority. Chris and her husband, Mike, have two daughters and live in Olympia.

JUDITH A. BILLINGS, J.D.

Americans With Disabilities Act

Assistance For Persons With Disabilities

The Washington State Legislature is committed to making legislative activities and facilities accessible to all people. To meet this goal, the Legislature has taken steps to ensure that individuals with disabilities have full access to legislative activities, programs, and services. The legislature would like to hear from you if you have comments or concerns relating to services we provide to persons with disabilities. Please feel free to contact the appropriate ADA coordinator.

Barrier-Free Access

All legislative buildings have designated disabled parking and entrance ramps to provide easy access. Each building on the campus has at least one door that is accessible by wheelchair. Legislative hearing rooms in the Cherberg and O'Brien buildings are accessible to persons using wheelchairs. Each hearing room has an accessible entrance and a designated wheelchair seating area. If additional assistance is required, please contact the appropriate Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) coordinator listed below.

Auxiliary Aids For Communication

Telecommunications Device for the Deaf (TDD):
The Legislature has TDD service. This service allows persons who are deaf or hard of hearing to communicate with legislators and staff about matters before the Legislature, scheduling, bill information, etc. For information or to leave a message, call the following number:

Legislative TDD: 1-800-635-9993

State Telephone Relay Service:

As an alternative to the Legislature's TDD number, any legislative number can be reached directly by dialing:

State Telephone Relay Service (voice): 1-800-633-6334

or State Telephone Relay Service (TDD): 1-800-633-6338

Assistive Listening Devices in Hearing Rooms:

Legislative hearing rooms are equipped with assistive listening systems. These systems allow hard of hearing persons to amplify hearing proceedings through the use of special head phones. For meetings in the Cherberg and O'Brien buildings, head phones can be checked out at the security offices on the first floor of each building.

Interpreters and Readers:

The Legislature will provide sign language interpreters and readers when appropriate and with advance notice. If you need a sign language interpreter or reader, please contact the appropriate staff person or ADA coordinator.

Documents in Alternative Formats:

Legislative documents can be made available in alternate formats (large print, braille, and audiotape) upon request. If you need a document in an alternate format, contact the appropriate staff person or ADA coordinator. Please give as much advance notice as possible, as it may take significant turn-around time to meet certain requests.

ADA Coordinators:

The Senate and House ADA coordinators provide assistance if questions or concerns arise and coordinate the implementation of the ADA.

Myrna Bebee and Liz Mattos, Senate ADA Coordinators
Office of the Secretary of the Senate (360) 786-7750

Ken Conte, House ADA Coordinator
Office of Program Research (360) 786-7101

Americans With Disabilities Act

Assistance For Persons With Disabilities

The Washington State Legislature is committed to making legislative activities and facilities accessible to all people. To meet this goal, the Legislature has taken steps to ensure that individuals with disabilities have full access to legislative activities, programs, and services. The Legislature would like to hear from you if you have comments or concerns relating to services we provide to persons with disabilities. Please feel free to contact the appropriate ADA coordinator.

Barrier-Free Access

All legislative buildings have designated disabled parking and entrance ramps to provide easy access. Each building on the campus has at least one door that is accessible by wheelchair. Legislative hearing rooms in the Cherberg and O’Brien buildings are accessible to persons using wheelchairs. Each hearing room has an accessible entrance and a designated wheelchair seating area. If additional assistance is required, please contact the appropriate Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) coordinator listed below.

Auxiliary Aids For Communication

Telecommunications Device for the Deaf (TDD):
The Legislature has TDD service. This service allows persons who are deaf or hard of hearing to communicate with legislators and staff. To meet this goal, the Legislature has installed Telecommunications Device for the Deaf (TDD) equipment in all legislative offices.

Barrier-Free Access

All legislative buildings have designated disabled parking and entrance ramps to provide easy access. Each building on the campus has at least one door that is accessible by wheelchair. Legislative hearing rooms in the Cherberg and O’Brien buildings are accessible to persons using wheelchairs. Each hearing room has an accessible entrance and a designated wheelchair seating area. If additional assistance is required, please contact the appropriate Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) coordinator listed below.

Assistive Listening Devices in Hearing Rooms:
Legislative hearing rooms are equipped with assistive listening systems. These systems allow hard of hearing persons to amplify their hearing through the use of special headphones. For meetings in the Cherberg and O’Brien buildings, headphones can be checked out at the security offices on the first floor of each building.

Interpreters and Readers:
The Legislature will provide sign language interpreters and readers when appropriate and with advance notice. If you need a sign language interpreter or reader, please contact the appropriate staff person or ADA coordinator.

Documents in Alternative Formats:
Legislative documents can be made available in alternate formats (large print, braille, and audio tape) upon request. If you need a document in an alternate format, contact the appropriate staff person or ADA coordinator. Please give as much advance notice as possible, as it may take significant turn-around time to meet certain requests.

ADA Coordinators:
The Senate and House ADA coordinators provide assistance if questions or concerns arise and coordinate the implementation of the ADA.

How A Bill Becomes A Law

1. A bill may be introduced in either the Senate or House of Representatives, but the procedure by which a bill becomes a law is much the same, wherever the bill originates.

   In this story, the bill is introduced in the Senate by a member, or members, of that body. After the bill is filed with the Secretary of the Senate, it is given a number and, unless a majority demands it be read in full, it is read the first time by title only in open session of the Senate. It is then referred to a standing committee of the Senate.

2. The committee studies the bill and often holds public hearings on it. The committee will then meet to consider the information it has gathered. It may approve the bill with or without amendments, draft a new bill on the same subject incorporating the desired changes, or take no action.

3. The committee is now ready to report back to the Senate. If the majority is in favor of the bill as introduced or with certain amendments, the chair recommends the bill for passage. The committee report is read in open session of the Senate, and the bill is then referred to the Rules Committee.

4. After the bill has been recommended for passage by the standing committee to which it was originally referred, the Rules Committee can either place it on the second reading calendar for debate before the entire body, or take no action.

5. When the bill appears on the calendar for second reading, it is subject to amendment. It is then returned to the Rules Committee where it must receive a favorable vote before being placed on the third reading calendar for final passage. This referral to Rules is often bypassed by vote of the Senate and the bill placed on final passage immediately following its second reading. Depending upon the degree of controversy, debate may last a few minutes to several hours — or even several days.

6. After passing in the Senate, the bill will go through an almost identical procedure in the House.

   If the bill is passed by the House, but is amended by that body, the Senate must concur in the amendments. If the Senate does not accept the change in the bill, a conference committee may be requested on the differences.

7. If the conference committee cannot agree, a conference committee may be appointed with power to rewrite the amendment or even write an entirely new bill. When the conference reaches agreement, they report to their respective houses. Their report is either accepted or rejected without any changes.

8. If the report is accepted by both houses, the bill is signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House in open session of each body, and then is sent for the governor's signature.

9. Within five days, if the Legislature is still in session, or 20 days after its adjournment, the governor may sign the bill or veto all or any section of it. The Legislature can override the veto by a two-thirds vote of both houses. If the governor fails to act on the bill, it becomes law without a signature.
JOEL PRITCHARD
Lieutenant Governor

RALPH MUNRO
Secretary of State
Republican. First elected in 1980, serving fourth term as 13th Secretary of State of Washington. Past President of the National Association of Secretaries of State. Lifelong resident of Washington; born and raised on Bainbridge Island. Graduate of Western Washington University. Special Assistant to Gov. Dan Evans and Washington’s first volunteer coordinator. Served as Director of Guardianship Program at the Foundation for the Handicapped; founded several organizations for the disabled. DANIEL K. GRIMM
State Treasurer

BRIAN SONNTAG
State Auditor
Democrat. He was elected in 1992 as Washington’s ninth auditor. Under his leadership, the State Auditor’s Office has emerged as a strong advocate for greater government accountability. He serves on the Washington Performance Partnership Council and state Productivity Board. Brian began public service in 1972 when he joined the Pierce County Clerk’s Office, supervising several departments within the office. In 1978, he was elected County Clerk. Eight years later, Brian was elected County Auditor. He attended Tacoma Community College and the University of Puget Sound, and completed a graduate program in public affairs at the University of Washington. His personal interests include baseball, weight lifting, music and coaching youth baseball and basketball.

visitors Tour Information

Tour Guide program was initiated to benefit both the legislator and the constituent.
Busy legislators frequently find it difficult to be on hand to greet guests arriving from the “home” district. The Tour Office will assign a staff member to meet the visitors and welcome them in the name of the district legislator. Arrangements will be made for a time and place for the legislator to speak with the group or the individual guest. Seating space will be reserved in the House and Senate galleries.
Visitors may be escorted to places of interest on the Capitol Campus: State Library, Temple of Justice, and State Museum. Appointments can be made to visit the offices of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Treasurer, Auditor, and Secretary of State.
Requests from constituents often come directly to the Tour Guide Office which then informs the legislators from the district. Many times the request comes first to the legislator who will then call the office with the name of the group and a contact phone number.
All state buildings are open Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

State Elected Officials

Mike Lowry
Governor

Democrat. Mike Lowry was born on March 8, 1939, in the Whitman County town of St. John, Washington where the Lowry family homesteaded in 1882. Lowry graduated from Endicott High School in 1957 and from Washington State University in 1962. Lowry was elected to the King County Council in 1975 and became chair in 1977. He also served as president of the Washington State Association of Counties. In 1978, he was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives where he was re-elected four times serving a total of 10 years. After leaving Congress, Lowry taught government at Seattle University’s Institute for Public Service.

In November 1992, Mike Lowry was elected the 20th governor of the state of Washington. He is the first governor in Washington’s history to succeed a governor of the same party.

Governor Lowry’s goals for his administration include: streamlining state government by merging agencies, cutting state travel expenditures, reducing equipment purchases and eliminating and consolidating numerous boards and commissions; improving the efficiency and effectiveness of regulatory programs; containing health care costs and assuring affordable health care for all of the state’s citizens; promoting world trade opportunities; enhancing our natural resources and protecting our environment; and investing in our most precious resource — our children. The Governor’s Youth Agenda is recognized across the state as the first serious attempt to get at the roots of youth violence. As violent crime, pregnancy and drug use among our state’s young people continue to increase, the Governor has targeted more prevention and education services for children and families, while cracking down on hardened criminals.

Governor Lowry and his wife, Mary, have been married for 26 years. Their daughter, Diane, is a college student.
State Capitol Parking Information
