Introduction

This Legislative Handbook of the Sixty-fifth Legislature for the 2018 session contains pictures of and biographical material on statewide elected officials and members of the Senate and House of Representatives. Additionally, there are sections of the handbook on Americans with Disabilities Act, how a bill becomes law, parking and tour information, and a campus map.

This handbook is prepared by the Senate and the House of Representatives to assist those interested in becoming better acquainted with their statewide elected officials, legislators and the legislative process in our state.

State Elected Officials

JAY INSLEE
Governor

Jay Inslee is a fifth-generation Washingtonian who grew up in the Seattle area. His father, Frank, was a high school teacher and coach. His mother worked as a sales clerk at Sears & Roebuck. Jay worked his way through college and graduated from the University of Washington with a degree in economics before earning his law degree at Willamette University. He and his wife, Trudi, then moved to Selah where Jay worked as a prosecutor and they raised their three sons.

Jay first became involved in public service in 1985 when he and Trudi helped lead the effort to build a new public high school in Selah. Motivated to fight against proposed funding cuts for rural schools, Jay went on to represent the 14th Legislative District in the state House of Representatives. He continued serving communities in the Yakima Valley when he was elected to Congress in 1992. The Inslees later moved back to the Puget Sound area where Jay was elected to Congress in 1998, serving until 2012.

Jay and Trudi are proud grandparents of three. Besides writing and illustrating books for his grandchildren and sketching scenes from around Washington, Jay is an avid cyclist and charter member of Hoopaholics.

During his time in Congress, Jay became known as a forward-thinking leader, especially on issues of clean energy and the environment. He co-wrote a book, "Apollo's Fire: Igniting America's Clean-Energy Economy," about the job-creating potential of the clean tech industry. As governor, Jay's top priority is growing Washington's innovative industries such as clean energy, IT and life sciences, and strengthening existing industries such as aerospace, agriculture, maritime and military. Since 2013, Washington has experienced a seven-year low in unemployment rates, record exports and notable growth in Washington's key industries.

To continue growing these industries, Jay knows we must strengthen our schools so we can better equip our children to compete for these good-paying jobs. And we must bring a new culture of efficiency and performance to state government to more efficiently serve the people and businesses throughout Washington state.

State Elected Officials

CYRUS HABIB

Lt. Governor

Democrat. Lieutenant Governor Habib was born in Baltimore, Maryland, and moved with his family to Washington State at the age of eight. He grew up in east King County and graduated from the Bellevue International School before attending Columbia University, Oxford University as a Rhodes Scholar, and Yale Law School.

After receiving his law degree, Lieutenant Governor Habib returned to Washington State to practice law at Perkins Coie, the region's largest law firm, where he helped startup technology companies raise venture capital funds and license their software.

Before being elected as Washington State's 16th Lieutenant Governor in 2016, Cyrus Habib represented east King County in the Washington state Senate, where he served as Democratic Whip and a member of the Democratic leadership team. Prior to that, he served as a member of the state House of Representatives. Passionate about the intersection of law, technology, and economic development, Lieutenant Governor Habib fought for innovative policy solutions to help small businesses gain access to capital, ensure companies like Uber and Lyft could operate in Washington with appropriate safety regulations, and expand access to government for Washington residents by allowing for the submission of prerecorded remote testimony on legislation. He has been recognized by Governing Magazine for his bipartisan approach to government.

A three-time cancer survivor, Lieutenant Governor Habib has been fully blind since age eight. His parents immigrated to the U.S. from Iran before he was born, and he is both the first and only Iranian-American official to hold statewide elected office in the United States. The Washington Post has named him one of the top 40 rising political stars under the age of 40.

Lieutenant Governor Habib serves on the boards of a number of nonprofit organizations, including the historic 5th Avenue Theatre. Named Professor and Distinguished Lawmaker in Residence at Seattle University Law School in 2013, Lieutenant Governor Habib currently teaches courses on legislative procedure and intellectual property rights. A practicing Catholic, Lieutenant Governor Habib attends St. James Cathedral in Seattle, Washington.

KIM WYMAN

Secretary of State

Republican. Kim Wyman is Washington's 15th Secretary of State. First elected in 2012, she is the second female Secretary of State in Washington history. She was re-elected to a new four-year term in November 2016. Prior to being elected Secretary of State, Kim served as Thurston County Elections Director for nearly a decade and was elected County Auditor in 2001.

Kim is a graduate of California State University, Long Beach and holds a Master's Degree in Public Administration from Troy State University. She was awarded an Honorary Doctorate in Leadership from City University, Seattle in 2015.

Secretary Wyman was selected as an Aspen Institute Rodel Fellow in 2013. She serves as the Board Chair for the Jennifer Dunn Leadership Institute, Co-Chair of the Council of State Governments Overseas Voting Initiative and Co-Chair of Rock the Vote's Corporate Civic Responsibility Program.

Kim is a member of the Lacey Rotary Club, serves on the boards of the Washington State Historical Society, the YMCA Youth and Government Program and TVW, and takes part in numerous civic activities.

Secretary Wyman leads one of the most diverse offices in state government. She promotes civility and civic engagement and is committed to connecting people with their government. Kim enjoys mentoring students and participates in leadership development organizations. She is an advocate for our military service members, veterans and their families.

Kim and her husband John came to Washington when he was assigned to the 2nd Ranger Battalion at Fort Lewis after being stationed in Ansbach, Germany. The Wymans reside in Thurston County with their two children.

State Elected Officials

DUANE A. DAVIDSON

State Treasurer

Republican. Duane Davidson was elected as Washington State Treasurer in 2016. Prior to that, Duane Davidson took office as Benton County Treasurer in 2003, and was re-elected in 2014 to his fourth term. He is a Certified Public Accountant and keeps his license current.

He is currently serving his second term as President for the Washington State Association of County Treasurers (WSACT) and previously served as Treasurer for that organization. He has also served on the Audit, Legislative and Website committees as well as being the historian/ archivist for WSACT.

Duane is the past-President for two separate Kiwanis Clubs in the Tri-Cities and currently the Treasurer for the Kiwanis Club of Tri Cities Industry Foundation. He has served as a Church Speaker for Gideon International and as Church Treasurer.

He served as the Chief Financial Accountant for Benton County immediately before his election to County Treasurer. Duane was previously an auditor for the Washington State Auditor's Office where he served as the Assistant Audit Manager in the Tri-Cities and was also in charge of the Walla Walla regional offices.

Duane was born and raised in Carnation, WA. He graduated from Tolt High School then started his undergraduate education at Bellevue Community College. After transferring to Central Washington University in Ellensburg he received a Bachelor of Science in Accounting.

PAT MCCARTHY

State Auditor

Democrat. McCarthy was elected State Auditor in November 2016. She is the first woman to hold the office in state history. McCarthy is proud to lead a statewide team of professional auditors who provide a clear window into tax-funded operations.

McCarthy is passionate about making our state a better place to live as well as restoring faith in government through transparency and integrity. Her determination is reflected in her three decades of public service.

During her 12 years on the Tacoma School Board, including two terms as president, McCarthy led the effort to create the first public School of the Arts in Washington. She also served as an administrator and advisor for the Interdisciplinary Arts and Sciences Program at the University of Washington Tacoma.

In 2002, McCarthy was elected Pierce County Auditor. In 2009, she took office as the first woman Pierce County Executive. Her position included terms as chair of Sound Transit and president of the Puget Sound Regional Council.

Auditor McCarthy and her husband, John, live in Tacoma. They have four adult children and eleven grandchildren, all of whom make western Washington their home.

State Elected Officials

BOB FERGUSON Attorney General

Democrat. Bob Ferguson is Washington State's 18th Attorney General. As the state's chief legal officer, Bob is committed to protecting the people of Washington against powerful interests that don't play by the rules. Bob is focused on standing up for consumers and defending taxpayers, supporting law enforcement to keep our communities safe, protecting our environment, and advocating for our veterans and military families. He is a fourth-generation Washingtonian, a graduate of the University of Washington and New York University law school, and serious Husky fan.

Bob began his legal career in Spokane. He clerked for two federal judges before returning to Seattle to join Preston, Gates, and Ellis [now K&L Gates] where his civil litigation practice included work on behalf of taxpayers, corporations and small businesses. He was elected to the King County Council in 2003 where he served for nine years before being elected Attorney General in 2012.

Bob and his wife, Colleen, are the proud parents of 8-year-old twins, Jack and Katie.

CHRIS REYKDAL Superintendent of Public Instruction

Non-partisan. Chris Reykdal, the youngest of eight children, was born and raised in Snohomish. He graduated summa cum laude from Washington State University with a bachelor's degree in social studies and earned a master's degree in public administration from the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. He coached both youth and adult soccer for several years, volunteered as a local city planning commissioner and served as a trustee for the College Spark Washington Foundation for six years.

His professional career has been devoted to public education. Chris has worked as a high school history teacher, local school board member, state legislator, and budget and education policy executive for our state's community and technical college system.

In November 2016, Chris was elected as Washington's 16th state superintendent. His goals are to build broad coalitions that will close the opportunity gaps for some students, expand technical education opportunities and decrease our reliance on standardized tests that label our students.

Chris and his wife, Kim, live in historic Tumwater with their two children, Carter and Kennedy.

State Elected Officials

HILARY S. FRANZ

Commissioner of Public Lands

Democrat. Hilary S. Franz was sworn in as Washington's 14th Commissioner of Public Lands on January 11, 2017.

Prior to being elected Commissioner, Franz was executive director of Futurewise, an organization committed to implementing smart, sustainable land use and transportation policies. In this role, she brought together local governments, non-profit organizations and citizen groups to blend land use with environmental protection and stronger local economies.

She served four years on the Bainbridge Island city council, where she developed nationally-recognized environmental and energy policies and programs with diverse coalitions of public and private stakeholders.

In addition, Franz has served on numerous state and regional boards and commissions, working to strengthen and protect both the environment and local economies.

She holds a bachelor's degree from Smith College and a juris doctor from Northeastern University Law School.

Commissioner Franz is married with three sons.

MIKE KREIDLER

Insurance Commissioner

Democrat. Mike Kreidler is Washington's eighth insurance commissioner. A former member of Congress, he was first elected as insurance commissioner in 2000. He was re-elected to a fifth term in 2016.

A doctor of optometry with a master's degree in public health from UCLA, Kreidler practiced at Group Health Cooperative in Olympia for 20 years. He also served 16 years in the Washington State Legislature. He served as a member of the Northwest Power Planning Council and as regional director for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

He retired as a lieutenant colonel from the Army Reserves with 20 years of service.

He is a staunch advocate for consumer protection and as a fair and balanced regulator. He earned the "Excellence in Consumer Advocacy Award" from consumer advisors to the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

From the boardroom of his local school district to the state Legislature and halls of Congress, Kreidler has represented Washingtonians for more than 40 years.

WILCOX, J.T.

Republican Floor Leader

Republican. J.T. is serving his fourth term representing the 2nd Legislative District, which includes rural Southeast Pierce and Thurston counties. He is a graduate of Washington State University, where he earned his Bachelor’s degree in History. For 23 years, he was employed at his fourth-generation family business, Wilcox Farms, which was established by his great-grandfather in 1909. He started out working in the family business by feeding calves, and finished his career there as Chief Financial Officer. J.T. and his wife, Kathy — a 6th grade teacher — have three children and reside near Yelm.

Representatives

WYLIE, SHARON

Democrat. Elected in 2011, Sharon represents the 49th Legislative District, including Vancouver west of Interstate 205, and Hazel Dell. She has 30 years of experience in government relations, management and project development, and is a trained Next Generation Facilitator with the National Institute for Civil Discourse. Her accomplishments also include organizing a farmers market, developing a rape crisis center and serving two terms in the Oregon Legislature. She regularly volunteers in her community for housing, arts and environmental organizations, and is an avid backpacker and oil painter. Sharon lives in Vancouver with her husband of 39 years. She has grown twin daughters and two grandchildren.

YOUNG, JESSE

Republican. Jesse Young represents the 26th Legislative District. He is serving his third term in the House. He brings an innovative and unique skillset to the Legislature. Raised in Tacoma's Hilltop neighborhood, Jesse's childhood was marked by periods of homelessness and poverty. Through hard work, Jesse went on to become valedictorian at Woodrow Wilson High School and named a Washington State Scholar. He then graduated from the University of Notre Dame and earned a Bachelor's degree in Management Information Systems. He currently works as a technology consultant. Jesse, and his wife Jennie, have five children and live in Gig Harbor.

House Administration

DEAN, BERNARD Chief Clerk

Bernard Dean was elected Chief Clerk in 2017. He previously served as Deputy Chief Clerk from 2007 through 2016. Bernard first joined the House staff in 2000 as a Senior Fiscal Analyst for the Appropriations Committee, where he worked on corrections, health care, and human services issues. Prior to working for the House, Bernard worked as a Budget Manager for the Department of Corrections, where he was responsible for directing the development and administration of program operating budgets. He also previously served as Policy Research Manager for the Sentencing Guidelines Commission. Bernard earned a Master of Arts in Political Science from Washington State University. He has one daughter attending college in Georgia.

SNELL, NONA Deputy Chief Clerk

Nona Snell was appointed Deputy Chief Clerk in 2017. She first joined House staff in 2005 as a Fiscal Analyst for the Appropriations Committee. Nona moved on to staff the Capital Budget Committee and eventually became Staff Coordinator. Before coming back to the House, Nona was Policy Director for the Washington State Treasurer and the Senior Budget Assistant to the Governor for the capital budget. She attended Washington State University and earned a Master of Public Administration degree from The Evergreen State College.

Americans with Disabilities Act

Assistance For Persons With Disabilities

The Washington State Legislature is committed to making legislative activities and facilities accessible to all people. To meet this goal, the Legislature has taken steps to ensure that individuals with disabilities have full access to legislative activities, programs, and services.

Barrier-Free Access

All legislative buildings have designated disabled parking and entrance ramps to provide easy access. Each building on the campus has at least one door that is accessible by wheelchair. Legislative hearing rooms in the Chergberg and O'Brien buildings are accessible to persons using wheelchairs. Each hearing room has an accessible entrance and a designated wheelchair seating area. If additional assistance is required, please contact the appropriate Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) coordinator listed below.

Auxiliary Aids For Communication

TTY Hotline:

The Legislature has TTY service. This service allows persons who are deaf or hard-of-hearing to communicate with legislators and staff about matters before the Legislature, scheduling, bill information, etc. For information or to leave a message, call the following number:

Legislative TTY1-800-833-6388

State Telephone Relay Service:

As an alternative to the Legislature's TTY number, any legislative number can be reached directly by dialing:

State Telephone Relay Service (voice)1-800-833-6384

or State Telephone Relay Service (TTY).....1-800-833-6388

Assistive Listening Devices in Hearing Rooms and Chambers:

Assistive listening devices are available by request and may be used at any seat in the Hearing Rooms, select conference rooms, and public galleries in the House and Senate Chambers. Headsets with induction neck-loops are available for persons who use hearing aids and cochlear implants with a "T" switch. Ask your audiologist whether your hearing aid or cochlear implant has a "T" switch (telecoil) and how to use it with an assistive listening headset. Requests for headsets and neck-loops should be directed to Senate or House Security staff.

Interpreters and Readers:

The Legislature will provide sign language interpreters and readers when appropriate and with advance notice. If you need a sign language interpreter or reader, please contact one of the appropriate ADA coordinators.

Documents in Alternative Formats:

Legislative documents can be made available in alternate formats (large print or braille) upon request. If you need a document in an alternate format, please contact one of the appropriate ADA Coordinators. Please give as much advance notice as possible, as it may take a significant turnaround time to meet certain requests.

Comments/Concerns

The Washington Legislature would like to hear from you if you have comments or concerns relating to services we provide to persons with disabilities. If you have comments or complaints, please feel free to contact the appropriate ADA Coordinator.

ADA Coordinators

The Senate and House of Representatives ADA coordinators provide assistance if questions or concerns arise and coordinate the implementation of the ADA.

Kyle Overmiller, House ADA Coordinator (360) 786-7271

Christina Brickey, Senate ADA Coordinator (360) 786-7189

How a Bill Becomes a Law

1. A bill may be introduced in either the Senate or House of Representatives, but the procedure by which a bill becomes a law is much the same, wherever the bill originates.
The bill is introduced in the Senate or the House by a member, or members, of that body. After the bill is filed with the Secretary of the Senate or Chief Clerk of the House, it is given a number and, it is read the first time by title only in open session and referred to a standing committee.
2. The committee studies the bill and often holds public hearings on it. The committee will then meet to consider the information it has gathered. It may approve the bill with or without amendments, draft a new bill on the same subject incorporating the desired changes, or take no action.
3. The committee is now ready to report back to the Senate or the House. If the majority is in favor of the bill as introduced or with certain amendments, the chair recommends the bill for passage. The committee report is read in open session of the Senate or the House, and the bill is then referred to the Rules Committee.
4. After the bill has been recommended for passage by the standing committee to which it was originally referred, the Rules Committee can either place it on the second reading calendar for debate before the entire body, or take no action.
5. When the bill appears on the calendar for second reading, it is subject to amendment. It is then returned to the Rules Committee where it must receive a favorable vote before being placed on the third reading calendar for final passage. This referral to Rules is often bypassed by vote of the Senate or the House and the bill placed on final passage immediately following its second reading. Depending upon the degree of controversy, debate may last a few minutes to several hours or even several days.
6. After passing in the Senate or the House, the bill will go through an almost identical procedure in the other body.
If the bill is passed by the other body, but is amended, the originating body must concur on the amendments. If the change in the bill is not accepted, it may be returned for reconsideration of the amendments. If the amendments are not rescinded, a conference committee may be requested on the differences.
7. If the conference committee cannot agree, a conference committee may be appointed with power to rewrite the amendment or even write an entirely new bill. When the conferees reach agreement, they report to their respective houses. Their report is either accepted or rejected without any changes.
8. If the report is accepted by both houses, the bill is signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House in open sessions of each body, and then is sent for the Governor's signature.
9. Within five days, if the Legislature is still in session, or 20 days after its adjournment, the Governor may sign the bill or veto all or any section of it. The Legislature can override the veto by a two-thirds vote of both houses. If the Governor fails to act on the bill, it becomes law without a signature.

Visitors Tour Information

The Department of Enterprise Services State Capitol Visitor Services Program provides general public and specialized educational tours to school groups, constituent visitors and guests, community organizations and the visiting public. The Tour Office will coordinate with the legislator's office when scheduling visiting constituent groups. When school groups are scheduled to tour the capitol during session, the Tour Office will notify legislative offices of any visiting groups from their district and reserve a time for the legislator to meet with them.

Tour requests from constituents usually come directly to the Tour Office. However, many times the request comes first to the legislator, who will then call the Tour Office with the name of the group and a contact phone number.

Free guided public tours of the Washington State Legislative Building are offered seven days a week between the hours of 10:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m. Monday – Friday, and 11:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m. on weekends and holidays. Tours begin every hour on the hour and are one hour in length. Public tours begin in the main entrance foyer, located just inside the main entrance doors of the Legislative Building. The Legislative Building is closed on Thanksgiving, the day after Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's Day.

Free public tours of the Governor's Residence are available most Wednesdays by reservation. Morning and afternoon tours are available, but tour dates and times can vary from week to week. Maximum group size is limited to 20 and each tour lasts one hour. Photo ID is required.

Visitors are welcome to take a self-guided tour of the Legislative Building and the campus grounds. Complimentary building brochures are available at the Tour Information Desk, located in the main entrance foyer of the Legislative Building and at the Visitor Services Office located on the first floor of the Legislative Building in Room 111.

The Washington State Capitol Tour Office accepts reservations for group tours year round. Please visit the Visitor Services website at www.des.wa.gov to complete an online group tour request form or call the Tour Office at 360-902-8880 between 7:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m. Monday – Friday for information about current tour offerings and availability, visitor parking, and accommodation or special needs assistance.
