Subject: To the Washington State Retirement board

CAUTION:External email.

Just today the State unemployment board raised the unemployment benefits to a maximum of $1295 per week. They are getting paid NOT TO WORK. That's $67,340 per year. Average retiree pay is $27240. I guess the unemployed re more important than plan 1 retirees. There are 1000s f jobs for them but they just want to sick the state coffers dry and let plan 1 retirees die.

I am so disgusted with the state retirement board playing with retirees lives. Just think they will be retired someday, but on plan 2 and guaranteed a cola every year.
