In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the State of Washington, the day and date first above written.

WILL D. JENKINS,
Secretary of State.

The roll of members-elect as certified by the Secretary of State was called and all members answered to their names except Messrs. Andrews, Barkhuff, Earles, Howell, Jerard, O'Brien, and Shaw.

Mr. Rundle appointed Representatives Brown, Conway, and Easterday as a committee to escort Chief Justice Reavis within the bar to administer the oath of office to the members-elect, whereupon Chief Justice Reavis administered the oath of office to the members of the House.

Mr. Easterday, of Pierce County, nominated Mr. R. B. Albertson, of King County, for speaker.

Mr. Moore nominated Mr. H. D. Merritt, of Spokane County, for speaker.

Mr. Albertson received 56 votes as follows: Messrs. Allen, Barclay, Bishop, Bostwick, Britton, Brown C. G., Brown Edward, Buck, Burch, Bush, Chalmers, Chrisman, Comstock, Copeland, Corey, Corliss, Davis, Dawes, Dow, Durham, Easterday, Ehrlich, Fairchild, Falknor, Ferguson, Geyer, Gorham, Gunderson, Harrison, Hastings, Ingraham, Jones, Kimball, Lewis McCoy, McNicol, Merrill, Merritt, Morgan, Nesbitt, Mr. Merritt received 16 votes, as follows: Messrs. Albertson, Anderson, Badger, Barron, Bowne, Cameron, Goodwin, Johnson, LaWall, Milam, Miles, Miller, Moore, Puckett, Raymer, and Waters.

Not voting: Mr. Conway.

Mr. Albertson was declared elected.

Chief Justice Reavis administered the oath of office to speaker-elect Albertson. In accepting the speakership, Mr. Albertson said:

"I feel that I should set the example of brevity in addressing the House at the opening of a session peculiarly dedicated to the business of the people. For the first time since the State of Washington was emblazoned on the flag we are permitted to approach the work of a legislative session unhampered by the distractions of a senatorial contest. Never before in the history of our young state have the conditions been so auspicious for a prompt and intelligent discharge of the high trust committed to our keeping. The experience of six biennial sessions has served to point out many of the pitfalls of the past and to furnish a guide for their avoidance in the future. The new problems presented by the unfolding of a commonwealth, rich beyond compare in natural resources, are made clearer in the light of our cultivated perceptions. Standing as we do, on the threshold of a new century, it is for us to gather wisdom from the past and to catch inspiration from the smiling future. But it is not for me to point out to this body the responsibilities that rest upon us or the manner in which they should be met. I am here as your most obedient servant, not to declare any policy of my own, but to register your sovereign will. I would be lost to all sensibility if I failed to express at this time my deep appreciation of the honor conferred upon me by your grace. I am the more sensible of the compliment received as I bear in mind the distinguished merit of the gentlemen who have so courteously contended for this mark of your consideration. To be called upon to preside over the deliberations of the House of Representatives of the great State of Washington is an honor of which any man may well be proud. It will be my constant aim to attest my appreciation by the faithful discharge of the responsible duties that rest upon me. I cannot hope to be entirely free from error in the administration of the office to which I have been called, but I am encouraged to undertake the task from my confident expectation that I shall at all times receive your courteous and charitable consideration. If I know my own heart, it is my deep desire to be fair and impartial as your presiding officer, and to promote the public interests by every exertion of which I am capable. Thanking you again for this evidence of your confidence and good will, I am now prepared to take the official oath and enter upon the performance of my high trust."

Mr. Britton nominated Mr. E. D. Cowen, of Pierce county, for chief clerk. On motion of Mr. Dawes, of King, the acting clerk was instructed to record the unanimous vote of the House for Mr. Cowen for chief clerk.

The following communication from the Secretary of State was read:

STATE OF WASHINGTON, DEPARTMENT OF STATE, OLYMPIA, January 14, 1901.

To the Honorable Chief Clerk, House of Representatives:

Sir—On the long folder in the Sixth Biennial Report of the Secretary of State, a copy of which is herewith handed you, will be found an abstract of the vote of the election held November 6, 1900. When you come to canvass the vote for state officers you will find discrepancies between the figures given in this printed abstract and the totals shown in the returns by county auditors. These discrepancies are the result of inaccurate footings by the county auditors. We had from them duplicate returns and very carefully verified all footings. In this work the greatest care was exercised and we are sure that the figures in the printed abstract are correct. We call your attention to this at this time in order that the official canvass as announced may be accurate. A comparison between the footings in the returns and the footings in the abstract will show where these errors occur and we would suggest that in such cases the auditor's footings be verified.

Very respectfully,

WILL D. JENKINS, Secretary of State.

By H. ALLING, Chief Clerk.

The following resolution from the Senate was received:

Be it Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That a committee of two from the Senate and three from the House, be appointed to notify the Governor that the Legislature is in session and will be pleased to receive any communications which he may desire to make to them.

On vote, the resolution passed.

On motion of Mr. Falknor, the House adjourned until tomorrow.

To the Honorable Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR—Section 12 of article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Washington provides that bills vetoed by the Governor after the adjournment of the Legislature shall be transmitted by the Secretary of State to the Legislature at its next session.

Pursuant to this provision, I beg to report to the House of Representatives of the State of Washington, that section 1 of House bill No. 439, of the session of 1899, entitled "An act amending an act entitled 'An act to provide for the assessment and collection of taxes in the State of Washington,'" was vetoed by the Governor. The bill, with this exception, was approved and made a part of the file of enrolled bills in this office.

If an adjournment is had after the previous question is ordered the subject comes up the first thing after the reading of the journal the next day, and the previous question still operates, making the main question privileged over all other business, whether new or unfinished. It shall only be admitted when demanded by two-thirds of the members present, and until it is decided shall preclude all amendments and further debate on the main question. On a motion for the previous question, and prior to the seconding of the same, a call of the House shall be in order, but after a majority shall have seconded such motion, no call shall be in order prior to the decision of the main question.

RULE 26. When a motion has once been made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member of the prevailing side to move for reconsideration thereof, on the same day or next working day thereafter.

DIVISION OF QUESTIONS.

RULE 27. A division cannot be demanded as a right by any member. It must be made pursuant to a motion stating precisely the division asked for, which motion can be amended. The presiding officer can decide, subject to an appeal to the House, that the division proposed cannot be made. Otherwise it is submitted to the House and decided by it.

AMENDMENTS.

RULE 28. No motion or proposition on a subject shall be admitted under color of amendment, if different from that under consideration. No bill or resolution shall at any time be amended by annexing thereto or incorporating any bill or resolution pending before the House.

RULE 29. No amendment shall be received to a bill on its third reading, but it may be referred or recommitted for the purpose of amendment. A bill may be recommitted at any time before its passage.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS AND RESOLUTIONS.

RULE 30. Petitions, memorials and other papers addressed to the House may be presented by the speaker or any member, and shall not be debated or decided on the day of their being first read unless the House shall direct otherwise, but they may be referred to the committee having the subject-matter thereof under consideration, or may lie on the table, to be taken up in the order in which they are presented.
BILLS, JOINT AND CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS.

RULE 31. Any member desiring to introduce a bill shall first obtain the floor and state that he desires to introduce a bill, and if entitled to do so, the bill shall be sent to the clerk's desk to be numbered, and all bills shall be read in the order in which they are numbered by the clerk, but no bill shall be read a first time until every member present entitled to introduce a bill has had an opportunity to do so unless otherwise ordered by the House.

RULE 32. All bills introduced in this House, which are intended to amend existing statutes, shall have the words which are amendatory to such existing statute underlined or underscored, so that in the printed bills which are presented for the perusal of the members, such new or amendatory matter shall be easily discerned.

RULE 33. Every bill shall be read on three several days unless the House shall deem it expedient to suspend this rule. The first reading shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full. All bills shall be printed unless otherwise ordered by the House, and be referred to committee after first reading. Bills shall pass to second reading when reported back by the committee. Each amendment made by a committee to a bill shall be in writing on a separate slip of paper, and shall be securely attached to the original bill by a paper fastener. The report of the committee shall also contain a statement of all amendments agreed to by the committee. Any committee report on a bill not conforming with this rule shall be returned by the chief clerk of the House to the committee for a compliance with this rule without further order by the House. Upon second reading, bills shall be read section by section in full, and be subject to amendment. No amendment shall be considered by the House until it shall have been sent to the desk in writing and have been read by the clerk. All amendments adopted on second reading shall be securely attached to the original bill by a paper fastener.

Amendments rejected by the House shall be passed to the journal clerk, and the journal shall show the disposition of such amendments. When no further amendments shall be offered, the speaker shall declare that the bill has passed its second reading. The bill, with the amendments, if there be any attached thereto, shall be sent to the Committee on Engrossed and Enrolled Bills, which committee shall see that all amendments are properly engrossed upon the original bill, and the bill returned to the chief clerk before the opening of the House on the next succeeding day, and the bill shall then come up in the regular order for a third reading. Bills on third reading shall be read in full by sections. The only question on the third reading of a bill shall be upon its passage, and no amendment shall be entertained. No bill introduced "by request" shall be printed until after the committee to which said bill has been referred has acted and reported upon the same.

RULE 34. A bill may be advanced on the calendar by a vote of three-fifths of all members present voting in the affirmative; and the question shall be, "Shall the bill be advanced on the calendar?"
RULE 35. All joint or concurrent resolutions shall be acted upon the same as bills, unless otherwise ordered by a majority of the House.

RULE 36. When a bill shall pass, it shall be certified to by the clerk, together with the vote upon final passage, noting the day of its passage at the foot thereof.

RULE 37. On the final passage of every bill the ayes and noes shall be taken and entered upon the journal.

RULE 38. No engrossed bill, memorial or joint resolution shall be sent to the Senate until one day after its passage without special instructions by the House. That in the event of committees having a number of bills on the same subject, of which none can be agreed upon by the committee, and it is their wish to present a different bill upon the same subject, such bill must be reported to the House and accepted before any of the other bills can be recommended for indefinite postponement.

AYES AND NOES.

RULE 39. Upon the passage of any question the vote shall be taken by ayes and noes, and shall be entered upon the journal of the House, when demanded by one-sixth of the members present. The speaker shall vote when the ayes and noes are called for, his name being called last, and in case of an equal division the question shall be lost.

VOTING.

RULE 40. No member shall vote on any question in the event of which he is immediately or particularly interested, or in any case when he was not within the bar of the House before the last name was called, unless by unanimous consent; and when any member shall ask leave to vote, the speaker shall propound to him the question, "Were you within the bar when the last name was called?"

RULE 41. Upon a division and a count of the House on any question, no member without the bar shall be counted.

DUTIES OF MEMBERS.

RULE 42. While the speaker is putting the question no member shall walk across or out of the house; nor when a member is speaking shall any member entertain private discourse or pass between him and the chair.

RULE 43. Every member who shall be in the house when the question was put shall give his vote unless the house for special reasons shall excuse him. All motions to excuse a member shall be made before the house divides or before the call for ayes and noes is commenced; and any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief and verbal statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

RULE 44. No member shall absent himself from the service of the house unless he shall have leave or be sick and unable to attend.

RULE 45. No person shall be allowed to smoke in the hall or lobby thereof during the session or recess.
COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE HOUSE.

RULE 46. In forming a committee of the whole House the speaker having the chair shall call upon some member to preside, who shall be addressed as “Mr. Chairman.”

RULE 47. Upon a bill committed to a committee of the whole House, the bill shall be read and debated by clauses, leaving the preamble to be last considered. The body of the bill shall not be defaced or interlined, but all amendments (noting the page and line) shall be duly entered by the clerk on a separate paper, as the same shall be agreed to by the committee and so reported to the house. After a report, the bill shall again be subject to be debated and amended by clauses before a question to engross it be taken.

RULE 48. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed in a committee of the whole House so far as they may be applicable, but no member shall be recognized a second time until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

VETOES.

RULE 49. The veto message of the Governor accompanying any bill passed by the House of Representatives, other than as provided in joint rule No. 9, shall be immediately read, together with the bill vetoed. It shall then be in order to proceed to the reconsideration of the bill, or to postpone its consideration to a day certain. A veto message and a bill, or the message alone, may be referred, and the bill may be laid on the table. The main question in the consideration of a vetoed bill is, “Shall the bill pass notwithstanding the veto of the Governor?” If two-thirds of the members present vote aye, the bill shall be sent to the Senate, together with the message of the Governor, for its action. The merits of the bill may be debated before the vote is taken, but the vote on a vetoed bill cannot be reconsidered.

The following is the Governor's address:

SECOND INAUGURAL MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR JOHN R. ROGERS.

STATE OF WASHINGTON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
OLYMPIA, January 16, 1901.

Gentlemen of the Senate and of the House of Representatives:

Called a second time to the high and honorable position of Governor, I should be ungrateful indeed did I not express my gratitude to the people of the State of Washington for honors conferred. In return it is my highest ambition to be able to serve them worthily and to retire at the close of my term with their good opinion still retained.

Perhaps I may be permitted, at this time, to say that during the four years that are past, I have steadily kept in view the general public welfare. Doubtless particular persons and localities at times may have thought that their peculiar interests were not favored as they should have been, and yet I am conscious of no dereliction of duty. In a government of the majority, peculiar and special interests must always be subordinated to the general welfare. That the general and public good has been subserved, the passage of events has shown. No state in the American Union occupies today a higher or prouder position, at home or abroad. The laws are executed with promptness and dispatch. No riot or occurrence of public disorder has stained our records. Order prevails and will prevail. Should disorder at any time appear the state is prepared to repress it at once. A foreign war found Washington one of the first among the states to respond to the call of the President of the United States for military aid. Since my last communication to the Legislature our volunteers have returned home to meet the welcoming plaudits of a grateful people. They were met at Seattle by the Commanding General of the armies of the United States, who, in company with myself, boarded their ship as she sailed into the harbor. Afterwards, at the old university grounds, they were received by General Miles and others, the General paying them the high honor of an address of welcome, in which he publicly thanked them for services well rendered. Our public credit is established. No state enjoys a better reputation in this regard. The state debt has been reduced and put in a way of complete extinction, if the present economical management is continued. A plain statement of facts, furnished from the records of the State Auditor's office, will serve to emphasize this.
STATE DEBT.

Four years ago the total state debt was $2,176,347.64. This in spite of the fact that our State Constitution, in the most explicit terms, forbids any indebtedness in excess of $400,000. Of this total debt, $1,777,918.03 was in the form of general fund warrants. These, with the military fund warrants, amounting to $98,429.61, called for eight per cent. interest, or a total of $150,000, in interest per annum, approximately. Warrants were two and a half years in arrears, so that on each dollar used by the state in the conduct of its business, twenty per cent. in interest was paid. The business man possessed of assets equal in value to those of the State of Washington, who should conduct his business in such a manner, would certainly be benefited by the appointment of a guardian.

During the past eight years there has been paid, as interest, on state indebtedness, mostly to brokers and dealers in warrants, the enormous sum of $918,712.36. Almost a million of dollars of the taxpayers' hard-earned money has thus been taken for a purpose which admits of no return. Horace Greeley said, many years ago, that the only difference between successful and unsuccessful men in the ordinary business of life was simply that one class paid interest on money and the other received it. Under a properly organized system the state should pay no interest. It should be put, by its legislators, in the successful class. It should do business for cash. To compel its taxpayers to contribute enormous sums for the support of curb-stone brokers is a flagrant misuse of the powers of government.

During the past four years, whatever it has been possible to do in decreasing the burdens of government has been attempted, with gratifying results. The total outstanding indebtedness has been reduced from $2,176,347.64, in 1897, to $1,392,659.66, on January first 1901, and of this latter amount $730,000 in the permanent school fund, have, under the law of 1899, been used by the state in the payment of general fund warrants and the issuance of three and one-half per cent. state bonds, which, in lieu of cash expended for this purpose, are placed in the permanent school fund. On general fund warrants thus redeemed, bearing interest at eight per cent., there has been a direct and positive saving of four and one-half per cent.; and as the three and one-half per cent. accruing upon these bonds is added to the permanent school fund there has been a practical saving of all interest charges upon nearly three-quarters of a million dollars. Interest charges have been still further reduced by a reduction of the rate paid, from eight to five per cent. Instead of more than two millions of dollars of indebtedness, the greater part bearing interest at eight per cent., as was the case four years ago, the following exhibit will show the condition of the state debt on January 1, 1901:

An examination of the above exhibit will show that unproductive interest charges have been reduced from $150,000 per annum, as stated by Gov. McGraw in his message of 1897, to about $30,000 per annum at the present time.

MANAGEMENT OF PUBLIC FUNDS.

Among the causes leading to an improved condition of the state's finances must be named the enactment of the Revenue Law of 1897. This has been found most efficient. The issuance of delinquent tax certificates, bearing fifteen per cent. interest, operates to induce prompt payment of taxes, and while the penalty for non-payment may appear somewhat harsh, it may be stated as a settled fact that men will not pay taxes so long as it is profitable not to pay. He who obeys the law suffers no harm, and as there can be no effective law without penalty, so a sufficient penalty is necessary for the creation of an effective law. In my opinion, a good law should not be tampered with.

The Belford law of 1899, calling for the investment of moneys in the permanent school fund in outstanding general fund warrants, is also to be credited with saving to the state large sums of interest. To secure the execution of this law I was obliged to institute a suit in the Supreme Court. Judge James Wickersham, of Tacoma, appearing in my behalf in the case of the State of Washington, ex rel. Patrick H. Winston, Attorney General vs. John R. Rogers, Governor, et al. This was an application to restrain the defendants from issuing a state bond for sale to the permanent school fund. As Judge Wickersham made no charge for legal services I consider it simply a matter of justice that he here receive honorable mention as having rendered the state a valuable service. The case will be found in volume 21, Washington Reports.

These facts are well known to investors and to those prominent in commercial matters. The large taxpayer carefully and rigidly scrutinizes the manner in which his contribution to the public expenses is handled. Partisan politics is to him a matter of immaterial consequence compared to the business-like conduct of state affairs. He is ever ready to endorse, without regard to the political party with which he is nominally affiliated, the statement of Thomas Jefferson, that "the art of government is simply the art of being honest." And these things, having to do with the public purse, are of immense and far-reaching importance in a young and growing commonwealth where every effort is wisely and properly made to attract and bring among us, as permanent residents, the wiser and better classes of immigrants. Our growing young state, advancing by leaps and bounds, in population, wealth and commercial importance, must do nothing that can in any manner shake the confidence in our governmental and financial stability of those who, caring little for partisan politics, are intensely interested in the wise and prudent management of the public funds and the successful and honorable conduct of public affairs.

THE BLIGHT OF PARTISANSHIP.

It has been said, and repeated in various quarters, that in order to secure for the political party represented by the majority in these chambers, certain appointments, placed by the Constitution, by express provision, and by implication, in the hands of the Governor, the Legislature will endeavor to make appointments by statute. That, forgetting the precedents of the past, and the plain provisions of our form of government, divided as it is into three independent branches, it will endeavor to over-ride and nullify a co-ordinate department of government. But although this has been broached in quarters considered by many as prominent, I do not, for an instant, credit the announcement. But the other day, in the state of Kentucky, the American people were treated to a rare spectacle of republican degeneracy, which the men of Washington are too wise to imitate. The governor of that state, in command of the militia, chased the members of the state legislature, in tumultuous disorder, about the streets of Frankfort, that he might prevent a meeting. A republican governor, of manifest imperialistic tendencies, was attempting for the time at least, to destroy the time-honored American form of government and nullify and render useless a co-ordinate department of state authority. The American people are yet in love with our peculiar form of government, sanctioned as it is by a century and a quarter of glorious record. They do not favor its partial nullification by insidious methods, and in succeeding elections always make amends for the mistakes of over-anxious politicians. The voters are never long in doubt, and, spite of the outcries of miscreants who may control the partisan press, well know how to make attempting nullifiers very unnecessary.

The veriest tyro in politics is aware that our distinctive American form of government, in both state and nation, is composed of three co-ordinate and independent departments. He is also aware that the appointing power is an executive and not a legislative function. Each department is supreme within certain constitutional limits. Under constitutional provisions similar to ours it has become fixed as a settled principle that no one of these departments can override or destroy the power or functions of another. To establish this a long line of authorities might be quoted. I desire, however, at this time, simply to call attention to a plain fact instantly apparent to careful observers wherever found.

PUBLIC EDUCATION.

Upon one subject Americans are agreed. Public education is universally believed in and supported. How best to secure the purposes of education may possibly cause a division of opinion and yet even here differences should not be great. Our state constitution provides as follows:

ARTICLE IX. SECTION 1. "It is the paramount duty of the state to make ample provision for the education of all children residing within its borders, without distinction or preference on account of race, color, caste or sex."

SECTION 2. "The legislature shall provide for a general and uniform system of public schools. The public school system shall include common schools, and such high schools, normal schools and technical schools as may hereafter be established. But the entire revenue derived from the common school fund, and the state tax for common schools, shall be exclusively applied to the support of the common schools."
It is here clearly and plainly set forth that it is the paramount duty of the state to give every child resident within its borders an opportunity to obtain that education which is absolutely necessary to enable him to live a useful and honored life. The claims of what is called higher education will be ably and elaborately set forth by enthusiastic and interested parties, and to these you will be forced to listen. The State of Washington has now five institutions of learning dependent upon state appropriations for support. The University of Washington, at Seattle; the Washington Agricultural College and School of Science, at Pullman; and three State Normal Schools. All these are in a most flourishing condition. Their wants are large and their expectations great. If the founders of our state had, in the beginning, established in some central place one State University, with Normal and Agricultural Departments, there could have been gathered together in one all these several institutions with great advantage to all and large saving to the taxpayer. Had this been done it would have then cost less money to transport all pupils to and from their homes, and furnish them with free board and lodging during their collegiate terms, than, under the present plan, to continue the multiplication of costly edifices and the duplication of expensive faculties.

Professor Ely, in one of his works on Political Economy, instances the State of Ohio as showing the folly of divided effort. "The State of Ohio," says he, "has thirty-five different colleges, no one of which is of great importance or is scarcely known outside its borders. If all the energy, money and enthusiasm necessary to keep the breath of life in these separate institutions had been devoted to one, the state would have possessed a college of which, not only the State of Ohio, but the whole country, would have been proud." In Washington, as well as in Ohio, effort has been divided, and the policy of still further division appears to be in favor. My predecessor in office, as well as myself, endeavored to stem the tide by veto, but without avail. We now have three state normal schools; one at Cheney, for the eastern portion of the state; one at Ellensburg, for the central, and one at New Whatcom, for the Northwest. Another, for the Southwest will undoubtedly be called for in the near future. These institutions are now permanent fixtures, and must be provided for. The school at New Whatcom has been particularly successful in attracting a large clientage, and, because of the large numbers in attendance, has already exhausted its appropriation, and you will be asked, at an early day, to come to its relief. The building as originally planned, was not completed, and should now be finished by the addition of an auditorium, or assembly hall, without which it is practically impossible to properly conduct the school. For the particular claims of these different institutions, I refer you to the statements made by the several Boards of Regents and Trustees having charge. But, whatever is done for the support of higher education—and it must not be neglected—the common schools should receive your earnest and careful attention, for here nine-tenths of our boys and girls are to receive all the schooling they will ever know. To neglect the common schools would be to neglect your paramount duty as conservators of the public weal.

Under the law, as it now stands, a state tax not exceeding four mills upon the dollar is levied, sufficient to produce eight dollars for each child of school age in the state. This is the state tax for the support of common schools. Before the claims of higher education are so much as discussed the law should be amended by substituting six mills for four mills, and ten dollars for eight dollars. I hope this legislature will not adjourn without increasing the efficiency and the usefulness of the common schools.

A system of traveling libraries has been adopted in some of the eastern states that has proven of great and lasting value. I should be glad to see it adopted here. A comparatively small amount—say $300 for each county—will supply a small circulating library, say fifteen volumes, in a strong wooden case, for each school in the county; these volumes to be in charge of the county superintendent and circulated from one school to another throughout the county. Each scholar would thus have the benefit of quite a large library. A taste for good reading would thus almost inevitably be acquired and vast and almost incalculable good be done and the character of the future men and women of this state be elevated to a higher plane.

PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS.

The state eleemosynary, reformatory and penal institutions, with the exception of the School for Defective Youth, at Vancouver, were placed by law, enacted in 1897, under the control of a State Board of Audit and Control, thus replacing five separate Boards of Trustees, in the management of these institutions. Many improvements have been made and large savings effected as a result. This is in line with advanced thought in other states. Wisconsin was the first, I believe, to adopt the plan. Other states have followed. At the present time the State of Iowa has, I am convinced, the best law of this character, to which the attention of legislators is called. The law creating our State Board of Audit and Control should be so amended as to include the School for Defective Youth, at Vancouver. As at present constituted, the Board of Control consists of the Governor and five appointees, all of whom, with one exception, serve without pay, other than traveling expenses. As it is almost impossible to secure that close and careful attention to details which is essential from gentlemen who receive no pay for services rendered, even though these are men of the highest character and attainments, I recommend that the Iowa law be followed and our board of six be reduced to three, appointed by the Governor, each to receive a salary of $2,000 per annum. In Iowa the salary is $3,000 per annum. This board, thus constituted, should be a non-partisan board, not more than two of whom should belong to the same political party. The Governor should not be a member. He has troubles of his own and duties sufficient to otherwise occupy his time. It should also be provided, as in the Iowa law, that appointments made in the several institutions should not be political appointments. The board should appoint the superintendent of each institution, and the superintendent of each institution should have sole power to appoint those under him and power to summarily discharge for cause. A non-partisan board of this character, composed of careful business men, giving their entire time and attention to these matters, will be able to still further improve the service and reduce the cost to the taxpayers. These institutions compel the expenditure of large sums of money which should be curtailed, if possible. Our penitentiary, as an example, is a very expensive institution. Strong, lusty convicts, burglars and house-breakers, should be made to earn at least the money it costs to keep them. Now it costs more than $1,000 a week to board them. In some states convicts are made a source of profit. And this is done in the well-ordered Vermont State Prison, where convicts are given greater privileges than ours enjoy. The last report of the Wisconsin State Board of Control showed that it was able to turn back into the state treasury $75,000, appropriated for the conduct of state institutions. Good business men on our Board of Control ought to be able to still further reduce, in future years, the very large sum you will be called upon to appropriate for the support of these institutions.

A board of visitors for each institution, to serve without pay, composed of our best and most philanthropic citizens, who would visit these institutions and make reports to the Governor for publication; the boards to be modeled after the national boards of visitors appointed by the President for the West Point Military Academy and the Naval Academy, at Annapolis, has been proposed by Bishop Barker, and has met with favor in distinguished quarters. I heartily commend the suggestion.

I append a tabulated statement showing the very large per capita saving already effected by the State Board of Audit and Control, as compared with expenditures made under a former administration. Regarding the following tabulated statement, showing in the aggregate an enormous difference, the claim will be made, as it was during the campaign, that a large amount of maintenance funds was used for permanent improvements during the McGraw administration, and that this has not been the case during the past four years. In relation to this it may be said that the large expenditures for improvements from maintenance funds were made during the Ferry administration, when the institutions were being established and greatly enlarged. It is true that a larger amount was expended for permanent improvements during the McGraw administration than during the past three and a half years, at some of the institutions, but not enough to make any marked change in the per capita cost. As an offset for this, however, it must be admitted that the cost of almost all supplies has steadily advanced during the present term, and that practically everything purchased has been at a larger cost than that paid during the four years just preceding.

In the comparison instituted the term of three and a half years is used, for the reason that the State Board of Control has not existed for the full term of four years, and expenditures for the last quarter were not fully made up at the time this exhibit was prepared.

Total: $232,364.18

That the above large sum, in addition to what has been expended, would have been called for under the old management, unprejudiced observers will readily admit. The showing made, however, is in line with what has been accomplished by boards of control in other states.

HALL AT SOLDIERS' HOME.

At the Soldiers' Home, an Assembly Hall should be built in order that the inmates may have a place of sufficient size in which to hold public meetings, hear lectures or engage in public amusements. Without such a place time must hang heavy on the hands of the old veterans there assembled.

U. S. PENITENTIARY.

On the admission of this state into the Union there was donated to it from the United States, the sum of $30,000, for the erection of a State Penitentiary. Some $4,000 of this was expended by a former United States administration in the purchase of 40 acres of land adjoining the penitentiary grounds at Walla Walla, but nothing further was ever done to obtain the use of the balance of this fund. After a great deal of tiresome correspondence with the Department of the Interior at Washington, during the last three years, I have at last been enabled to secure for the state the construction of an additional wing to the State Prison at Walla Walla, at the cost of the United States. Plans have been approved, the contract let by the Interior Department, and the walls are now nearing completion.

A FARM HOSPITAL.

The increasing number of insane at the Hospitals will shortly require additional buildings. I am confident that it will be far better to construct a third Hospital or Asylum, at some central place, where good farming land can be obtained, than to add expensive wings to either the Medical Lake or the Steilacoom Hospitals. To the new location, which might well be in the Yakima Valley, only those who are able to work need be taken. At the two Hospitals now in use there are some hundreds of men who are capable of performing a good deal of labor. Doubtless it would be vastly better for them to be employed in some healthful outdoor work. Many are thus employed now, but the character of the soil at both Medical Lake and at Steilacoom is not favorable to profitable agriculture. In other states great account is made of the labor of those inmates able to work. This is mostly made use of in agricultural employments.

I suggest, therefore, that it might be a happy solution of this problem for the state to obtain, somewhere in the Yakima valley, a large farm near the railroad, covered by a gravity water system, upon which economical buildings, for the care of able-bodied men patients, and such as could be trusted to work, could be constructed, and where a system of farming might be carried on, embracing a dairy, where could be made the butter and cheese consumed by all the state institutions; a dryer, where could be dried all the fruit used; and a canning establishment, where could be canned all the fruit and vegetables used at all the state institutions. This farm annex should not be under the care of a physician. Some competent business man would render far better service as manager.
Upon the farm could be raised all the vegetables required for canning, as well as the potatoes, etc., which could be used; the feed for the cows, a large proportion of the pork, if not all of it; the fruit to be canned and dried, besides great quantities of fruits and vegetables, to be shipped in carload lots, during the fruit season, to all the various state institutions, which would furnish to the inmates of all these institutions and the help employed, healthful and desirable food. Besides this, broom corn could be raised which could be shipped to the Reform School, where a broom factory might be established. Among other savings there would be a saving in the construction of the buildings, as buildings for the class of patients that would be sent to this rural retreat would not need to be so costly as those necessary for the care of the hopelessly insane. But for this purpose rich farming lands are needed. The state has already had too many barren and unsuitable tracts "unloaded" upon its taxpayers.

OCCUPATION FOR INMATES OF THE REFORM SCHOOL.

At the State Reform School, at Chehalis, are about 125 boys and about 40 girls, mostly strong and lusty. Something should be done at once to furnish these boys and girls with useful occupation. I cannot, at this time, suggest anything better than a broom factory; but something along this line should be done at once. Properly handled, these inmates could be made to pay their way, and it would be a god-send to them personally, and of great assistance to their future well being, if they were made to do it. If this Legislature authorizes me to appoint such a Board of Control as I have suggested, I can assure you that this matter will be attended to.

THE RAILWAY QUESTION.

What is known with us as the railway question is simply one phase of the greatest question of modern times; the question of the exchange among men of the products of labor, whether of hand or brain. It lies at the very base of civilization itself. If we view that condition of society in which each man hunts his own food, makes his own weapons and builds his own habitation, we are at once aware that barbarism must prevail. Civilization, according to Adam Smith, the founder of political economy, begins with the division of labor. Men devote their energies to specialized products. Instantly this is done, exchange becomes a most vital and necessary matter. To civilized man it is the question of existence. In the past we can see that the advance of nations has kept pace with their ability to exchange ideas, services and products. Where this has been comparatively free they have gone forward. Where it has not, progress has been prevented and man hindered in his work of subduing for himself all the forces of nature, which is the ultimate goal of existence upon this earth. Whatever assists in this is in the interest of man and aids in the progress of the race. Whatever retards or hampers it is a hindrance to man's upward course. And, we are able to see that all the great inventions, which, like gifts from above, have lifted man from the darkness of the past, have all, without exception, operated in one way and only one. They have enabled men more freely to exchange each with the other. Today, all the wonders of steam and electricity follow in the same line as so many direct and powerful aids in the exchange among men of the products of labor. A thousand years ago our fathers in England, France and Germany, were mere slaves of the soil, forbidden to leave the land upon which they were born. They could not travel or exchange with others the products of their labor. The establishment of "The King's Highway" was the first step in rolling away the night of "The Dark Ages." Men began to be able to exchange. But they were not yet free. Tribute was demanded. And then, as now, and always, he who pays tribute is never entirely free.

To-day our King's Highway is the iron rail. The use of steam in the transportation of men and the products of mind and muscle has done as much to advance the race as did the institution of the public highway so many centuries ago. Man has gone forward. Civilization has advanced, but men are not yet free. Tribute is still demanded. The Barons of to-day live and fatten, as did their progenitors of an earlier time, by the exaction of tribute upon exchange. It is ours to deliberate upon the situation as it confronts us at this hour.

No member of this legislature desires to do an unjust act. Railway companies are creations of law. They are possessed of certain legal rights. These must be respected. But the railway companies should also be made to respect the rights of the citizen. Freight charges are onerous, and, in some cases, unjust. Both political parties are on record, and have promised to reduce these rates. Former legislatures have so far failed to perform solemn promises in this regard. Will this body likewise fail? Or will it attempt to keep the promise to the public ear while it breaks it to the heart by the passage of a specious and deceptive act intended for the time to fool the voters? The people cannot be long deceived.

There is but one way in which this matter can be successfully handled. It is by the creation of a properly constituted railway commission. It should consist of three competent, just and qualified men. No more than two of these should belong to the same political party. It should be a non-partisan body. They should be appointed by the Governor, and be removable at will. To them should be committed the power to make rates and to enforce them, subject to appeal to the courts. Just, honorable and careful men, constituting a board of railway commissioners, will be able to give that careful attention to the matter in hand which will result, as it has in other states, in removing all cause of complaint, either on the part of the people or the railways. During the short time in which the Legislature is in session it is impossible for it to formulate a rate law which cannot be overthrown by the courts almost in the twinkling of an eye. If the commission makes a mistake in ruling it can make a new rule at once. The legislature meets but once in two years. Two-thirds of the states have railway commissions. Some are of value, others are not. Perhaps I should say that most railway commissions are practically inoperative or of little worth.
Two points are essential to the existence of an effective railway commission. First: It must have sufficient power granted to it by legislative authority. It must not be emasculated and then asked to perform the work of men. Secondly: It must be removable at will, without the farce of a trial. Obviously, no removal would take place as the result of a trial. It must not feel itself too secure in its tenure of office. Then relief can be obtained. I hope that this legislature will not insult the intelligence of the people of this state by attempting to add to the already too large number in other states, of incompetent or ineffective railway commissions. The men who compose this commission must give their whole time and attention to the business intrusted to their hands. And they must be capable and efficient men to be successful, even then, in the arduous task which will fall to their share. Such men can earn good salaries, and would be entitled to them. Better a thousand times to have no commission, and no law upon the subject, than to be taxed for the support of a body of men unable, or unwilling, to do the work assigned them.

Three courses are open to the Legislature of Washington in this matter, and but three. First: It can pass an effective law, containing the essential provisions pointed out. Secondly: It can attempt to deceive, by the passage of a bill for the creation of a commission, which it is known beforehand will be unable, or unwilling, to do the work which the people demand. Thirdly: It can do as other bodies convened in these chambers have done before: Acknowledge itself unfaithful by doing nothing. We shall see what it will do.

FREE PASSES.

I renew the recommendation made to the legislatures of 1897 and 1899, regarding the giving and acceptance of free passes by transportation companies. It was then said:

"Section 89. of article 2 of the State Constitution, stipulates that: 'It shall not be lawful for any person holding public office in this state to accept or use a pass, or to purchase transportation from any railroad, or other corporation, other than as the same may be purchased by the general public, and the legislature shall pass laws to enforce this provision.' Section 20, of article 12 of the constitution provides as follows:

"No railroad or other transportation company shall grant free passes or sell tickets or passes at a discount, other than as sold to the public generally, to any member of the legislature, or to any person holding public office in this state. The legislature shall pass laws to carry this provision into effect.

"The legislature has never passed the necessary laws to enforce the provisions of the constitution, and hence they have been practically inoperative. No time should be lost in providing by law that corporations issuing free passes and officials accepting them shall be properly punished."

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

A properly organized military force, for use in case of last resort, is essential to the preservation of public order and must always be at hand even though never used. The National Guard of Washington, in the late war with Spain, showed itself composed of valiant men who deserved well of the state. Since the sending out of the state of the First Washington Volunteers, a new National Guard has been created. We have now one full regiment of infantry, consisting of three battalions of four companies each. This regiment, under Colonel Weisenburger, is fully organized and is an effective force. In addition, we have two companies of infantry, unattached; one battery without guns, drilling as infantry, and one troop of cavalry.

The military code of this state should be amended and the present force somewhat reduced in size and made to consist of one regiment of infantry, one troop of cavalry and one battery of artillery, to be stationed at Seattle. We have no need of a brigade organization, nor of a separate medical department. The medical officers should be a part of the regimental organization. Not a larger, but a better organized and equipped force, should be our aim. I renew the recommendation made two years ago, that the salary of the Adjutant General be raised to $2,000. That the guard be brought up to a previously unattained state of discipline and efficiency, much hard work needs to be done by the Adjutant General's department, and that a competent man may be retained in this office, it becomes necessary to pay a good salary. Four years ago there was a debt of $98,429.61 in military fund warrants, which stood against this department. At the present time there is a surplus of $28,529.52 in this fund.

At the time of the organization of the First Washington Volunteers, U. S. Army, a number of men volunteered for service in the U. S. Army, who were not accepted by the U. S. Surgeon. These men were not called for by the state, or by its Governor. Members of the National Guard were simply given permission by the Governor to enlist in the U. S. Army. When they went on board the cars at home they were under the care and control, and at the cost, of the U. S. Government. They were never ordered out by the Governor in state service. The state had no need of their services. Some hardship, in individual instances, was experienced by those who failed to pass the Surgeon; and, although these men have no legal claim upon the state, I recommend that those who volunteered and were rejected, and can prove attendance by company officers, be paid a reasonable compensation for time lost. Transportation and subsistence was paid by the U. S. Government.

MINING CORPORATIONS.

The laws regulating the formation of companies organized for mining purposes should be so amended as to provide for the publication of reports from each company showing its condition and prospects. It ought not to be possible for swindlers to organize, under the laws of this state, for the express purpose of defrauding an unsuspecting public. Publicity is a remedy for much evil of this character.

PAROLE LAW

The Legislature of 1899 enacted what is known as "The Parole Law," which has been found well adapted to the purpose had in view, to-wit: Aiding and assisting convicts in the penitentiary, who do not belong to the criminal classes, and who may give promise of restoration to good citizenship. Much discussion has been had in the public press relating to penology and the management of criminals. I am convinced that our law, which was modeled largely after that of Michigan, is a step in the right direction. It provides for substantially the English "ticket-of-leave" system, which has been found to work well in actual practice. During the last two years the law has been cautiously administered and sixteen criminals liberated on parole. In all these cases, with two exceptions, the law was found to serve an admirable purpose. One attempted to escape and was remanded to serve out his full term, all good time allowances being taken away. One escaped out of the state, leaving, it is thought, upon a foreign-bound vessel, from the harbor of Seattle. He had served ten full years, his original sentence being for twenty years. Substantially, those paroled are in the position of "trusties" outside prison walls, subject to instant apprehension and imprisonment for infraction of rules, which are herewith appended. The law, as it now stands, should be amended as follows: After the word "murder," in the first section, should be added the words, "in the first degree."

GOVERNOR'S RULES FOR THE PAROLE OF PRISONERS.

1. It will be the duty of the warden of the State Penitentiary to make selections from inmates of the penitentiary whom he deems proper subjects for parole. Before recommending such parole he shall ascertain as much of the character and history of each convict, previous to his conviction, as possible; and such other information as may be deemed necessary to determine the propriety of issuing a parole.

2. Before any convict is paroled employment must be procured for him at some legitimate industry, and some person must agree to act as his first friend and adviser. His proposed friend must be a reputable citizen of the state, whose ability to supervise the conduct of the convict while on parole shall be certified to by some person of good standing known to the Governor. Such first friend shall agree to employ him, aid him in securing employment, or take a friendly interest in him while engaged in an occupation or business of his own, and shall agree to report any absence from work, or tendency to evil associations, and to certify to the monthly report required of the convict.

3. It shall be the duty of the warden of the State Penitentiary to submit the name of any person who offers to act as a first friend for a convict, to the sheriff or clerk of the county where such person resides, asking his opinion as to his being a proper person for such trust.

4. The warden of the State Penitentiary shall forward his recommendation to the Governor on the 15th of each month. Each recommendation shall be separate and shall include all information and papers connected with the application.

5. The employment of attorneys, by prisoners, will be discouraged; but communication by letter, of friends giving information, will be received and given such consideration as they are entitled to.

6. No prisoner can be paroled until he has served one full year of the term for which he was sentenced.

7. No prisoner can be paroled who has served a previous term in the State Penitentiary, or in any other prison or penitentiary.

8. No prisoner will be paroled who has violated any of the prison rules during the year preceding his application for parole.

9. No prisoner can be paroled who is not recommended by the warden of the State Penitentiary.

10. Paroled prisoners must provide transportation to the place of their employment.

11. No prisoner under parole will be permitted to leave the State of Washington until his final discharge.

12. No prisoner will be paroled until the Governor is satisfied that he will conform to the rules and regulations governing the conduct of paroled prisoners.

13. Every paroled prisoner shall be liable to be retaken and again confined within the enclosure of the prison for any reason that shall be satisfactory to the Governor, and at his sole discretion, until he receives his final discharge through the warden.
14. Paroles will be granted only in those instances where, in the opinion of the Governor, the past history of the convict, the active interest promised by friends concerned in his reformation, and for like considerations, the case presented seems a proper one for executive consideration.

15. The Governor has, under the law, power to make all needed rules and regulations governing the conduct of paroled prisoners.

16. The warden of the State Penitentiary shall keep watch over all paroled prisoners and report to the Governor any case which requires return to the penitentiary.

RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE CONDUCT OF PRISONERS ON PAROLE.

Rule 1. The paroled prisoner shall proceed at once to the place of employment provided for him and there remain.

Rule 2. In case he finds it necessary to change his employment or residence, he shall first obtain written consent of the Governor through the warden of the penitentiary.

Rule 3. He shall, on the first day of each month, until his final discharge, transmit to the warden of the State Penitentiary a report of himself, stating whether he has been constantly at work during the preceding month, and if not, why not. How much he has earned and how much he has expended, together with a general statement as to his surroundings and prospects, which report must be endorsed by his employer or some other suitable citizen designated by the Governor.

Rule 4. He shall in all respects conduct himself honestly, avoid evil associations, the use of intoxicating liquors, and in general pursue the course of a law-abiding citizen.

Rule 5. As soon as possible after reaching his destination he shall report to his employer, showing his parole and at once enter upon the employment provided for him.

Rule 6. He shall, while on parole, remain in the legal custody and under the control of the Governor of the state.

Rule 7. A convict on parole will receive the benefit of "good time" and suffer the same forfeitures, under the statute, as if he were within the prison enclosure.

Rule 8. If he fails to report to the warden on the first of each month, or is guilty of doing any act prohibited by these rules, he will be subject to return to the prison.

Rule 9. If he fails to return to the prison enclosure, when required by the Governor to do so, or if he makes his escape while on parole, he will be treated in all respects as an escaped convict.

Rule 10. No paroled prisoner need fear or hesitate to freely communicate with the warden of the prison from which he was paroled in case he becomes unable to labor by reason of sickness, or otherwise.

STATE CAPITOL.

The question of the erection of a State Capitol is again to be presented to the legislature. On this, it may be said, without contradiction from any source; that if the state possessed the necessary funds with which a suitable building could be constructed, no question would arise among members regarding the urgency and the necessity of such action as would result in the early completion of a building to be devoted to state purposes. But, the state does not possess these funds. It has no moneys not called for in the payment of obligations previously entered into. It is in honor bound to liquidate its indebtedness. This indebtedness is even now far in excess of the $400,000, which is our legal limit. This excess is really an unauthorized and an illegal liability which former legislators have imposed upon the rate-payers. But while technically illegal every patriotic Washingtonian desires it paid to the last farthing. A moral responsibility rests upon us which with our people is as binding as a legal one. Interest upon this debt must also be paid. And, although interest payments have, for the time, been largely reduced, it certainly is incumbent upon us to proceed with extreme caution in the creation of additional illegal indebtedness which must some day be paid to the last dollar. The demands to be made upon this body for appropriations for absolutely necessary purposes, which cannot be put off or denied, will be enormous. These engagements previously entered into will call for greater sums than have ever been appropriated in this state. Absolutely necessary appropriations must be made; they cannot be refused.

The state has from the general government a grant of 132,000 acres of wild lands, donated for the purpose of aiding in the erection of public buildings at the state capital. But this donation is unproductive. It is agreed that these lands cannot now be sold. Regarding their future value a great difference of opinion prevails. Much of this land, in eastern Washington is practically valueless. Some timber land in western Washington is said to be valuable. It lies, however, for the most part, in, at present, inaccessible locations. The largest amount is found within the Olympic Reserve, in the foothills of the Olympic mountains. The timber could only be obtained with great difficulty, which reduces its present value to a nullity. As the matter now stands, the state can only build by the creation of a debt, the interest upon which, at least, must be paid by the taxpayers, from year to year. Eight years ago, when the value of real property in Washington was at least twice that of today, an attempt was made to build a costly and ornate state capitol. An appropriation was made from "The Capitol Building Fund"—which had no existence, commissioners were appointed to serve at good salaries; plans procured and a foundation completed. The foundation was paid for by the issuance of less than $48,000 in warrants. In all, nearly $100,000, in warrants, have been issued, bearing eight per cent. interest. These, with accruing interest, amount to some $150,000, and this amount is annually increased by nearly $8,000 in interest due. No dollar of this issue has ever been paid, or is likely to be, very soon, at least, and the holders of these warrants are writing beseeching letters to the executive asking that he recommend their payment from the public funds. Sooner or later these warrants, drawn upon a mock fund, must be paid, if the lands cannot be sold. Eight years ago it was thought they might become immediately available, but that time appears now even farther away than then.

Spite of this specimen of inefficient management, by which the commission has already incurred a liability of twice as much, for interest and "services" as its foundation is worth, it is gravely proposed to proceed with the erection of a million-dollar structure by making use of the same brilliant financial methods. In this manner, two millions, for "services" and interest, could readily be "absorbed." But, adopting the views of even the most rosy-hued optimist regarding the future value of the capitol grant, it still must be said that wild lands do not increase in value, while the property of the state, with the rapidity with which interest on money mounts up. All experience has shown that after public lands are sold to private individuals they sometimes become valuable, not often before.

Two years ago it was said that if a state capitol was immediately desired a proposition to purchase the Thurston county court house might be successfully managed. This is a beautiful building, centrally located, costing $150,000. The state holds, in the permanent school fund, $150,000 of Thurston county warrants. An exchange of paper might transfer the title; $100,000 carefully expended, would build an addition to the rear, in the same general style of architecture, containing comfortable quarters for the State Legislature.

The whole matter of capitol construction, which in the past has given rise to so many contentions, is commended to your careful consideration.

PUBLIC EXPOSITIONS.

During the coming summer the great Pan-American Exposition is to be held at Buffalo, N. Y. It is to be a noble affair. The advantages accruing from state representation will doubtless be eloquently set forth by interested parties. These should be studied and carefully scrutinized.

During the summer of 1903 there is to be held a Centennial exhibition at Saint Louis, Missouri, of the wonderful advances made during the last century in the territory comprised within the "Louisiana Purchase," bought from France by President Jefferson in 1803. You will probably be asked to take some preparatory steps in this matter during the present session of the Legislature.

In 1905 our sister state of Oregon, is to hold, in the city of Portland, a Centennial exposition celebrating the Lewis and Clark expedition of 1805. Doubtless a kindly resolution upon this matter would very much please our neighbors on the other side of the Columbia.

RE-APPORTIONMENT.

One of the most perplexing questions with which you will have to deal will arise from the various and conflicting claims and interests involved in re-districting the state for legislative and congressional purposes. Without attempting to interfere, save in a strictly constitutional manner, with the peculiar province of the legislative department of government, I shall be permitted to observe that, in my opinion, each organized county, without regard to population, should be permitted to have at least one representative in the House of Representatives. To deprive the small counties of this privilege would cause some injustice and much ill-feeling.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion I hope that the sessions of this body may be characterized by universal good feeling and an earnest attempt to advance the welfare of our young and growing commonwealth, and that the doings of the Seventh Legislature may redound to the honor and fame of the State of Washington.

The following communication was received from the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

OLYMPIA, WASH., January 18, 1901.

To the Honorable Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives of Washington:

GENTLEMEN—It is with sincere regret that I feel called upon to notify you that the financial situation in my office is extremely embarrassing, and that immediate relief in the way of an appropriation to enable me to proceed with the legitimate work of the office is imperative.

The record work of the office is very badly behind, and should be brought up at once; the appropriations for postage and expressage has long since been exhausted, as has also the appropriations for clerk hire. In order to give you a clearer insight into the situation, I embrace as a part of this communication a verbatim copy of a letter of Hon. Frank J. Browne, my immediate predecessor, setting forth in detail the facts which I wish to state:

Hon. R. B. Bryan, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Olympia, Washington:

MY DEAR MR. BRYAN—The need of the superintendent's office for relief by means of legislative appropriation is set forth by the following facts:

The clerical funds of the office have long since been exhausted, and services have been rendered without pay by the following named persons:

Mrs. Clara Van Etten, stenographer, 2 months at $75 per month.................. $150.00
C. A. Noble, one-half month, clerical work............................................. 37.50
Mrs. A. B. Wood.................. 40 days' service at $3 per day................. 120.00
Mrs. Barbee.............................................................. 7 " " " .................. 21.00
Julia P. Day.................. 12 " " " .................. 36.00
Rose Gallimore.................. 28 " " " .................. 84.00
J. C. McKee.................. 22 " " " .................. 66.00
Sara Troy.................. 30 " " " .................. 90.00
H. I. Karshner.................. 22 " " " .................. 66.00
Veronique Marsan.................. 22 " " " .................. 66.00
Frances Sylvester.................. 14 " " " .................. 42.00
Jennie Stalmaker.................. 25 " " " .................. 75.00
Bessie F. Curry.................. 17 " " " .................. 51.00
N. P. Express Company................. .......................... 58.00
Postage paid by Superintendent.................................................. 50.00

Total.............................................................................. $1,012.50
In addition to these items you will take into consideration the expense of issuing the certificates granted on the February examination, which will approximate $250; also the salary of your stenographer up to April 1, when the regular appropriation will be available, two and one-half months.

You will also take into account sufficient appropriation to give a constant clerical force until the record books which you so admirably provided in your previous administration, are brought up to date. All money used for this purpose before April 1, 1901, must be included in the relief bill. The work which ought to be provided for without delay is the immediate printing of the biennial report for '99-'00, much of which is yet to be prepared when help is provided: also a permanent record of examinations held during the past four years. It is evident to you from personal inspection that the legislature has heretofore embarrassed this office by placing upon it constantly increasing burdens without taking into account the actual amount of assistance required. The prompt performance of all the duties prescribed by law and a sense of public good, has been impossible, and I hope you may be able to induce the Appropriation Committee to make a personal investigation of the office so as to have personal knowledge of its needs. I stand ready at all times to aid you in any way you see fit to suggest.

Very truly,

FRANK J. BROWNE.

This is simply the indebtedness of the office at this date. In addition to this sum, the following amounts should be embraced in the relief bill, in order that I may be able to bring up the delinquent records and transact the current business of the office in a business-like manner:

For payment of clerical help to April 1, 1901 $600 00
Salary of stenographer and typewriter $162 50
For services of special assistants to examine manuscripts for February examinations $250 00
For postage and expressage to April 1, 1901 $50 00

Total $1,062 50

I will also say that, owing to my inability to secure the services of a suitable deputy at the wages authorized by the last Legislature, ex-State Superintendent Browne has kindly consented to remain with me a few days in that capacity, and if there is any desire on the part of the Legislature to investigate the affairs and the conduct of the office, he will gladly explain everything in connection with these matters.

I protest that I have no disposition to “bleed” the state in asking for unnecessary appropriations, and that I ask only such relief as is absolutely necessary in order to put the records of the office in proper shape, and keep them so. I will also state that I believe it will be apparent to any one who will take the trouble to inform himself in regard to the amount of work necessary to be done in this office, that the appropriations heretofore made have been entirely inadequate, and that the amounts now solicited for the relief of the office are not unreasonable.

Very respectfully,

R. B. BRYAN,
Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Referred to the Appropriations Committee.

Under a suspension of the rules, on motion of Mr. Chalmers, Mr. Sims was named as an additional member of the Committee on Horticulture.

VETO MESSAGE, HOUSE BILL No. 193.

The Honorable House of Representatives of the State of Washington, House of Representatives, Olympia, Washington:

GENTLEMEN—I am unable to approve of House bill No. 193. This bill, although entitled "An act to provide for the adoption and use of school text-books in all school districts including or included within cities and towns maintaining high schools," should have been entitled: "An act increasing the number, variety and cost of school text-books to be used in the State of Washington." To promote this latter purpose the bill is unquestionably well adapted. Although doubtless it was honestly supported by many sincere men, those upon the watch tell me that the book companies unquestionably made use of money in an illegal manner to facilitate its passage through the legislature. This, of itself, was sufficient to arouse suspicion.

The constitution of the State of Washington provides:

SEC. 2. "The legislature shall provide for a general and uniform system of public schools."

In pursuance of this end had in view the legislature has provided for a uniform standard for the qualifications of teachers, for collecting and distributing a state school tax and for adopting and enforcing a state course of study for the common schools. Evidently uniformity of textbooks is essentially a part of the constitutional requirement. The books used in the public schools form the course of study to be followed. If the state is required to adopt a general and uniform course of study it must necessarily follow that it should also adopt uniform text-books adapted to that course. In no other way could such a course of study be enforced.

If each city and town adopts books independently and without regard to those in use in other cities and towns, a great variety of books will result, and every pupil who may change residence will lose both the cost of exchanging books and also the loss of time and energy required in adapting himself to new conditions. A new teacher, a new book and a new course of study will inevitably entail serious loss to the great number of parents and pupils who by the exigencies of fortune may be compelled to migrate from place to place.

Uniformity of text-books tends to decrease the number of books to be purchased. Under the provisions of this bill each town will be subject to the temptation insidiously presented by smooth-tongued "book agents" of buying every new book published under the guise of "keeping up with the times." But in reality by means of the peculiar qualities of the aforesaid book agent, the local school authorities can be induced to make purchases to gratify those who have wares to sell. Under the provisions of this bill should it become a law, the state would be quickly covered by a horde of peripatetic philosophers bent upon increasing the difficulties of those who now find it sufficiently difficult to buy school books for their children. Nor is this difficulty a suppositious one. The legislature of 1897 was called upon to deal with the evil and a law was passed preventing directors from purchasing school supplies, maps, etc., without the consent of the county superintendent.

That the above ideas are in harmony with the progressive educational thought of the day may be seen by reference to the report of the recent educational commission of the city of Chicago. This board says:

"The board of education should give careful consideration to the very general complaint of the loss of time and the waste of effort in schools due to the needless repetition of subjects in the different grades and to a consequent loss of intellectual power in the child which results in spending eight years on a course of study which might fairly in many cases be covered in much less. In consideration of the above the superintendent and his assistants should be instructed carefully to consider and to revise the course of study in order that the work of each grade may be simpler, more progressive and better unified. The superintendent will find that more text-books are now required than are necessary for school purposes and a condition results which imposes improper expense on the pupil."

The bill under consideration, if enacted into law, would have a marked effect upon the financial side of the book question. Uniformity of text-books manifestly decreases the total sales and thereby saves the public very unnecessary expenditure. To increase expenditure in this direction is one of the main objects of some of the promoters of this bill. But, in addition to the decrease of sales, uniformity preserves in one contract the business of the entire state, and under the laws of business life the larger the contract the better the terms can be made with publishers.
If uniformity is destroyed, which this bill proposes, each town will contract for its own books; and prices will have a tendency to increase over such prices as would be submitted for the business of the whole state. It is estimated that about five-eighths of the pupils in the public schools in this state reside in towns and cities having high schools. This would leave subject to state uniformity but three-eighths in the country schools. The operation of the provisions of the bill if made into law, would be manifestly to the disadvantage of the country districts, as the rural districts would suffer from the effect of bids made under unfavorable circumstances. Thus, both town and country would be compelled to make unnecessary expenditure for books. And this expense will be increased also, from the fact that it is more expensive to publishers and agents to place their books properly before the commissions of all the towns in the state than to canvass one board for the state. And all this increased expense must, inevitably, fall upon the patrons of the schools.

As further showing the bad character of the legislation proposed, it may be noted that the bill proposes to make each district coming under its provisions maintain action against any publisher for violation of a contract entered into. Under the present law, the state enforces contracts against any violation on the part of a publisher, and the district is not required to expend its meagre funds in litigation. The publisher has every motive for living up to his contract with the state. His business with the entire state is jeopardized by dereliction on his part. Under the proposed law, each district must maintain action against the publisher, and it is well known that the cost of litigation can not be borne by districts already overburdened by debt, and a publisher inclined to be unscrupulous could furnish poorly bound books or old editions printed from plates long since supplanted by revised and newer editions, and the district could not afford to enforce the contract by expensive litigation. In exchanging books, too, under the provisions of this law, it is not probable that anything could be obtained in exchange for the school books supplanted.

For these, and other reasons not necessary at this time to be mentioned, the bill is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted.

John R. Rogers, Governor.

The Governor's veto was sustained.

Those who voted to pass the bill notwithstanding the veto were: Yeas o.

Those absent or not voting were: Messrs. Bishop, Conway, Goodwin, Howell, Merrill, and Merritt—6.

Prior to the call of the roll, members explained their votes as follows:

Mr. Lewis: The members of the majority have decided to vote “nay” on this bill. Not because they wish to be considered as sustaining the reasons for the Governor’s veto, but they find that the matter comes to them entirely new and they have not the time to give it proper consideration, unless it be discussed from day to day in the House. There is no opportunity to refer it to the Committee on Revenue and Taxation under the rules of this House. Certain members of the majority have introduced bills embodying the same measures, or similar ones, but with certain amendments and improvements suggested during the past two years. The republican majority pledges itself to give these measures right-of-way and preference wherever possible.

Mr. Wilson: I arise for the purpose of making an explanation in regard to my vote. I was a member of the House two years ago and I voted for this measure. It seems to me that unless I make some explanation of it, it will seem strange that I am now voting to sustain the veto. The measure was introduced by Mr. McDonald, of King, and every one knows that he was a Democrat, as he reiterated it on the floor of this House every day, and the measure that he introduced at that time included only the schools of Spokane, Seattle and Tacoma, those districts to furnish the pupils with books. I object to the language used in the veto where the Governor states that money was used in the passage of this bill. I state further, that the only reason I support the veto now is that I expect there will be a better measure introduced at this session, which, I trust, will become a law of the State of Washington.

Mr. Falknor: I wish to explain my vote on this matter. I voted for the passage of this bill two years ago, but the conditions have changed since then. The educational profession throughout the state are not satisfied. This bill is no longer satisfactory, and other laws are being prepared and will be in-introduced, which are much better than this law. For that reason I will vote to sustain the Governor's veto. I resent that part of the message where he accuses the Legislature of 1899 of the use of money in the passage of this bill.

Mr. Dawes: I shall, at the proper time, record my vote in favor of sustaining the action of the Governor in relation to the several bills now under consideration. At this time, I desire to give the reasons for my proposed action. Since coming here we have been extremely busy, organizing and preparing for the work of the session. We have not had time to give these bills and the veto messages of the Governor that consideration which their importance demands. At a caucus of the republican members of this House, it was determined to sustain the position of the Governor, not because we believed him right, but because we were anxious to expedite business, and because it was explained to that caucus that bills covering every proposition excepted to by the Governor had been prepared, and in due time would be introduced. Our caucus delegated Mr. Lewis, and Mr. Wilson, to represent the position of the majority on these bills and veto messages, and give the reasons therefor. That position has been stated, and the reasons therefor have been given. I stand with the majority, but I want also to say in my individual capacity, that I resent the action of the Governor in attributing to the republican House of 1899 the base motives which he asserts influenced its action.

Mr. Fairchild: I desire to have the journal show that on the call of his bill I shall vote no. I protest vigorously against the language contained in the veto message, and, particularly, that part which reflects upon the integrity of the last House of Representatives. If the matter was simply to be left in the shape as to whether this was to become a law my vote should be aye, but as a bill is to be introduced covering practically the same ground, but reaching further, I vote no.

Mr. Jones: Speaking for the members of the House, I wish to say that we have come here with the understanding that this is to be a business session. The great majority of this House are new members. The matters are of general interest. Our own committees have been appointed, and we will be able to give this subject better attention by and through our own committees. I shall also ask to be recorded as voting no, as sustaining the veto.
Mr. Easterday: I would be derelict in duty, indeed, and indifferent to the fair fame of the legislators and the people of this state, if I did not at this time enter my protest against the language of the Governor. I am in favor of the substance of the bill, but not the form of it. I will vote no to sustain the Governor's veto, trusting that the bill may come before us in new form.

VETO MESSAGE, HOUSE BILL No. 486.

STATE OF WASHINGTON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
OLYMPIA, March 15, 1899.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington:

GENTLEMEN—I am unable to approve House bill No. 486, entitled "An act to suppress and punish persons stealing rides on cars, engines and trains; and defining negligence relative thereto, and authorizing trainmen to arrest and prosecute offenders against this act."

The policy outlined in this bill appears to me to be revolutionary and vicious. The railroad companies have their remedy in the courts. Usually they are not slow to take advantage of this fact; but to constitute all trainmen as special officers of the law would practically end in making railroad companies, through their agents and employees, the sole judges and executors of the law herein proposed. While the railroad companies are entitled to the protection of the law I can not think that they should be permitted to exercise its functions through their employes in a class of cases where they themselves are specially interested.

For these and other reasons, which will readily suggest themselves, I feel obliged to withhold my approval and veto the bill.

Respectfully submitted. J. R. ROGERS, Governor.

The Governor's veto was sustained.

Those who voted to pass the bill despite the Governor's veto were: Yeas o.

Those who were absent or not voting were: Messrs. Bishop, Conway, Howell, Merrill, Merritt, Morgan, and Ulmer—7.

Prior to the call of the roll the members explained their vote as follows:

Mr. Burch: I don't understand exactly what this proposition of the majority is. Is it going to come up again—the same bill? I am going to vote no against this bill, simply because I don't like the bill.

Mr. Lewis: I wish the journal to show my vote on this bill; that is I vote no for practically the same reasons given previously.

Mr. Edward Brown: I think this is a very vicious bill. I wish to record my vote against it. I voted against it two years ago.

VETO MESSAGE, HOUSE BILL No. 531.

STATE OF WASHINGTON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, OLYMPIA, March 18, 1899.

To the Honorable the House of Representatives of the State of Washington:

GENTLEMEN—I am unable to approve House bill No. 531, entitled "An act amending an act entitled 'An act to provide for the assessment and collection of axes in the State of Washington,' approved March 15, 1897, and providing for the extension and completion of the tax rolls by the assessor and making him clerk of the board of equalization, and declaring an emergency."

I cannot believe that the change in methods proposed by this bill is in line with a careful and just public policy. A similar bill was vetoed by my predecessor, Governor John H. McGraw, and his veto, as remembered, was based upon the fact that in his judgment it was an interference with a careful and proper management of affairs.

The auditor is one of the principal officers employed in a fiduciary capacity. Under the existing law he is called upon and has abundant time to examine fully the work of the assessor. It passes in review before him. I do not believe it to be good policy nor to the best interest of the community that a single man or single set of men be intrusted with the power and responsibility of making assessments and without permanent check follow up the work by extending the rolls until they are delivered to the treasurer for collection. It is true the bill provides for the turning over of the rolls to the auditor on the first Monday in December to remain in his hands for one week and then to be turned over to the treasurer with a warrant from the auditor, who knows absolutely nothing about the correctness of the work, authorizing the treasurer to proceed with the collection of taxes. This is mere formality, no sufficient time being afforded the auditor for examination.

The system now in vogue may be described as a double entry system; a system of necessary and very proper checks and balances being maintained. The plan proposed by this bill may be called the single entry system, turning as it does the whole matter over to one official.
There could be no saving under the system proposed and in the opinion of competent judges it would be likely to lead to serious disagreement in the very important matters connected with assessment and collection of taxes.

For these reasons the bill is hereby returned without my approval.

Respectfully submitted.

JOHN R. ROGERS, Governor.

The Governor's veto was sustained.

Those who voted to pass the bill despite the veto were:

Yeas o.

Those absent or not voting were: Messrs. Buck, Chrisman, Conway, Gunderson, Howell, McCoy, Merrill, Merritt, and Thompson—9.

Prior to the call of the roll, the members explained their vote as follows:

Mr. Tucker: I wish to call the attention of the house to this bill particularly. As I understand it, this bill was introduced at the instance of an assessors' convention and is a very meritorious measure, and in voting no to sustain the Governor's veto, I want to have the understanding as suggested by Mr. Lewis, that a measure of the right kind, with a few corrections and amendments will be introduced soon, and I hope it will pass.

Mr. Comstock: There is much in this bill to commend it, I think. Of course, there might be some amendments made to it to improve it. I vote to sustain the veto, in the hope that some other bill will be introduced later.

Mr. Lewis: I vote to sustain this veto for the same reasons and with the understanding, as heretofore given in reference to House bill No. 193.
VETO SECTION 1, HOUSE BILL No. 439.

Section 1 of this act I cannot approve. It specifically exempts from taxation some of the best paying property in the state, declaring that it "shall not be listed for the purpose of, or subject to taxation in this state, such vessels not being deemed property within this state." Clearly this is not only unconstitutional but opposed to a just public policy. This section differs from section 3 of the former law which it proposed to amend, only in the provision objected to. For this reason the said section 1 is vetoed.

J. R. ROGERS.

The veto of the Governor was sustained.

Those voting to pass section 1, House bill No. 439, notwithstanding the veto were: Yeas 0.

Those absent or not voting were: Messrs. Buck, Chrisman, Conway, Falknor, Gunderson, Howell, McCoy, Merrill, Merritt, Sims, Thompson, and White — 12.

VETO SECTION 18, HOUSE BILL No. 472.

Section 18 of this bill is amended to correspond to the provisions of House bill 193, and is objected to for the same reasons offered against that bill. It furthermore has amended the present law which provides for contracting with publishers for text books for a period of five years, by changing the period to two years. This change necessarily makes the contract of less value to the publisher, and precludes the possibility of favorable exchange of books and reasonable retail prices to the public.

J. R. ROGERS.

The veto of the Governor was sustained.

Those who voted to pass section 18 of House bill No. 472, notwithstanding the veto, were: Yeas 0.

Those voting nay were: Messrs. Allen, Anderson, Andrews, Badger, Barclay, Barkhuff, Barron, Bishop, Bostwick, Bowne, Britton, Brown C. G., Brown Edward, Burch, Bush, Cameron, Chalmers, Comstock, Copeland, Corey, Corliss, Davis, Dawes,

Those absent or not voting were: Messrs. Buck, Chrisman, Conway, Falknor, Gunderson, Howell, McCoy, Merrill, Merritt, and Thompson—10.

To the members of the Senate and House of Representatives in session assembled at Olympia, Washington.

We address this memorial:

WHEREAS, There is a bill now pending before the House of Representatives in Washington, D. C., known as the "River and Harbor Bill," which bill appropriates certain funds for the improvement of rivers and harbors in the United States; and

WHEREAS, It is desirous to add to that bill an appropriation for the construction of a canal known as the "Dalles-Celilo canal" around certain unnavigable rapids in the Columbia river; and

WHEREAS, The construction of said canal would be of vast benefit to eastern Washington; and

WHEREAS, The time is short in which action upon this matter can be taken:

Therefore, we, your petitioners, respectfully pray that there may be telegraphed to the congressional delegation from the State of Washington, viz.: Hon. A. G. Foster, Hon. George Turner, Hon. W. L. Jones, and Hon. Frank W. Cushman, a memorial from our body, requesting that they use their immediate influence in securing an appropriation to be used for the construction of said "Dalles-Celilo canal," for which we, your petitioners, shall ever pray.

Dated this 11th day of January, A. D. 1901, at Spokane, Washington.

In witness whereof, we, the president and secretary, hereunto subscribe our names and affix the corporate seal of said Spokane Chamber of Commerce.

W. E. HAWLEY, Secretary.
E. D. OLMSTER, President.

The following Senate joint memorial from the Oregon Legislature was referred to the Committee on Memorials:

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America:

Your memorialists, the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Oregon, respectfully represent:

That there is now pending before the Congress of the United States a STATE OF WASHINGTON.

bill for an act which provides in effect and substance that the supervision and control of the United States forest reserves shall be withdrawn from the Department of the Interior, where the same is now reposed, and placed in the Department of Agriculture.

That for many years past there has been within the State of Oregon a forest reserve known as the "Cascade Forest Reserve," comprising several millions of acres of forest lands, and your memorialists represent that the administration of the affairs thereof by the Department of the Interior has been eminently satisfactory to those whose interests are most affected and such supervision and control of said reserve has been so administered during such time as to fully accomplish the purpose and spirit of the acts and proclamations relating to forest reserves.

That the Cascade Forest Reserve embraces numberless acres of luxurious grazing lands which have been utilized for stock grazing purposes ever since the first settlement of the State of Oregon.

That your memorialists are advised that the Department of Agriculture is adverse to the present system of grazing of stock in the forest reserves, though the same works no injury to the timber therein.

That to withdraw the privilege of grazing in the forest reserve would be a most serious and injurious blow to one of the most important industries of the State of Oregon, viz.: The stock raising industry.

That your memorialists protest against any law or rule which tends or promises to deprive the farming and stock raising population of Oregon of the privileges heretofore enjoyed by them, and under expectation of the continuation of which they have settled in a country far distant from railroads and markets and there established homes and farms.

That your memorialists protest against any law or rule that will withdraw the direct supervision of the forest reserves from forest officers demonstrated to be able, efficient and practical, and place it in hands unknown and untried and recommended only by their theoretical learning.

Wherefore, your memorialists protest against any departure from present laws and conditions, and the Senators and Representatives of the State of Oregon are requested to use their utmost endeavors to prevent the same.

House concurrent resolution No. 4, thanking Hon. James Wickersham for having appeared on behalf of the state in the case of P. H. Winston vs. John R. Rogers, was referred to the Committee on Memorials.

PETITION.

STEVENVON, WASH., January 9, 1901.

To the Honorable Legislative Assembly of the State of Washington:

We, the board of county commissioners of Skamania county, Washington, respectfully represent; that there is an urgent necessity for the construction of a public wagon road along the north bank of the Columbia river, to connect the eastern and western portion of the state; that the citizens of this county at their own expense have now built the most extensive bridges needed on such road, but are unable to complete it; that proposed road would greatly increase the value of state lands in this and neighboring counties: Therefore in view of the foregoing facts, we earnestly beg the Legislative Assembly to appropriate enough moneys to open a road sufficiently for wagon travel, and your petitioners will ever pray.

GEORGE MILLER, Chairman.

E. H. PRINDLE.

L. T. SMITH.

ELECTION CONTEST, ALLEN VS. DURHAM.

OLYMPIA, WASH., January 24, 1901.

MR. SPEAKER:

Your Committee on Privileges and Elections, to whom was submitted the matter of the election contest between Wilford Allen as contestant, and E. J. Durham as contestee, beg leave to make the following report, to-wit:

1. The committee met in the committee rooms on Monday evening, January 21, 1901, in the equity court room of the court house of Thurston county and proceeded with the examination of the matters involved in said contest. The contestee filed a motion to dismiss for the reasons set up in the motion, which said motion is hereto attached and made a part hereof, which motion was overruled by unanimous vote of the committee.

2. The contestee then filed a demurrer to the petition in this cause, which demurrer is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and said demurrer was overruled by vote of the committee.

3. Contestee then filed his answer to the petition in writing, which is hereto attached and made a part hereof.

4. The contestant then filed his reply to the answer of contestee, which is hereto attached and made a part hereof.

The following issues were raised by the pleadings in this cause, to-wit:

1. Whether the votes alleged in the petition marked by a cross opposite the designation "Democratic Party," and also with a cross opposite the name of Wilford Allen only, among the Representative candidates, should have been counted, and whether such votes were cast as alleged in the petition.

2. Whether the students of the Agricultural College and School of Science living in the dormitory of such school, were entitled to vote at the election.

The contestant submitted a proposition by which a determination of this case could be arrived at without the necessity of the committee incurring the expense of taking the testimony of the different students, necessitating a commission, by which he admitted that the testimony of the three students, whose testimony is herewith submitted, as to their residence and right to vote, would be the testimony of the balance of the students who did vote at the election, and that if the committee should determine that such voters were not qualified electors, then the candidate would admit that enough votes were cast for Wilford Allen that were not cast for E. J. Durham to offset the votes which contestant claims should have been counted for him and which were not so counted.
The said stipulation above referred to is hereto attached and made a part hereof.
Both parties hereto being represented by counsel, Thomas Neill apppearing for contestant and J. N. Pickrell appearing for the contestee.
After hearing the evidence submitted of all the parties, counsel for the contestee filed another motion to dismiss this contest for the reasons set up in said motion, which said motion is hereto attached and made a part hereof.
After hearing arguments of counsel, the committee herewith makes the following recommendation:
1. That the said contest be dismissed. That the said contestee be allowed to retain his seat as Representative in this House, from the seventh representative district, all of which, together with all of the pleadings, papers and the testimony taken in the case are herewith respectfully submitted.

N. W. BUSH, Chairman.
We concur in the above report: R. B. Wilson, H. A. Fairchild, Stephen
E. Barron, F. D. Shaw, G. B. Gunderson, R. W. Jones, W. L. Thomp­
The report was adopted.
Mr. Durham offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Washington now assembled:

That, whereas, in the contest of the election of E. J. Durham as Representative from the Seventh Legislative District of the State of Washington, Wilford Allen, the contestant having acted in good faith and with the best of motives and having lost in his contention; That the said Wilford Allen, be paid mileage and per diem from the convening of the Legislature to and including this date at the same rate as paid Representatives.

The House adjourned at 11:50 o'clock A. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The speaker called the House to order at 2 o'clock P. M.
The roll call showed all members present except Messrs.
Andrews, Goodwin, Philbrick, Earles, and Howell who were excused.
COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

STATE OF WASHINGTON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
OLYMPIA, January 23, 1901.

The Honorable the House of Representatives of the State of Washington:

GENTLEMEN—In accordance with section 11, article 3, of the constitution, I hereby transmit a list of pardons, commutations and remissions of fines granted by me up to the present time, which have not been heretofore reported.

During the last two years, 286 convicts have served out their full terms and been discharged by expiration of sentence imposed. Out of this number 27, or less than one in ten, have, upon recommendation of the warden of the penitentiary, been restored to citizenship. In the opinion of the warden, the small number thus favored gave substantial evidence of reformation and were thus aided in a return to honest citizenship.

The most painful duty devolving upon the Governor is that of hearing and deciding applications for pardon. Only a fraction of the applications made have been successful. Following will be found a history of each case in which clemency has been exercised.

Very respectfully,
J. R. ROGERS, Governor.

PARDONS AND COMMUTATIONS GRANTED.

CHASE, THEODORE F.—Sentenced from Spokane county, March, 1895, to imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for a term of ten years for the crime of grand larceny. The amount of property involved was small, and it would appear that the sentence was excessive. Commutation recommended by the State Board of Pardons and by numerous county officials. Sentence commuted to six and a half years sentence time, August 3, 1899.

NORRIS, ALBERT.—Sentenced from Whatcom county, December 1, 1893, to imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for a term of twelve years for the crime of burglary. The amount of property involved in this case was under $500. The trial judge and prosecuting attorney recommended a commutation on the ground that the sentence imposed was excessive and had been made so for an example. Also recommended by the prosecuting witness and members of the trial jury. Sentence commuted to eight years sentence time, June 29, 1899.

JAMESON, C. E.—Sentenced from King county, December 4, 1897, to imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for a term of two years for the crime of obtaining money under false pretenses. Had served his sentence with the exception of three months. Commutation recommended by the warden of the State Penitentiary, under the provisions of section 2, chapter LXXIV, Session Laws of 1897, page 202. Sentence commuted to one year and nine months actual imprisonment, August 8, 1899.

ADAMS, AUGUST.—Sentenced from Spokane county, February 25, 1899, to imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for a term of one year for the crime of stealing cattle. There was considerable doubt regarding the identity of the cattle stolen. The owner had not seen them since they were calves, and could not positively identify the cattle as his own. On this account pardon was recommended by the trial judge, prosecuting attorney and numerous county officials. Pardon granted August 14, 1899.

WILLIAMS, THOMAS.—Sentenced from King county, March 3, 1894, to imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for a term of ten years for the crime of robbery. Williams had relatives in Scotland who desired to have him returned to his birthplace. They satisfied the warden of the State Penitentiary that Williams would be returned to Scotland if he was pardoned. Williams had served five and a half years of his sentence. With the above understanding Williams was released. Pardon recommended by the trial judge, prosecuting attorney and citizens. Pardon granted October 31, 1899.
RYDE, THOMAS.—Sentenced from Walla Walla county, April 29, 1899, for a term of one year in the State Penitentiary for the crime of forgery. Ryde performed valuable service in the office of the warden of the State Penitentiary. After serving all but three months of his sentence the warden of the Penitentiary recommended a commutation under the provisions of chapter LXXIV, Session Laws of 1897, page 202. Three months commutation granted January 20, 1899.

CARRUTHERS, CHARLES.—Sentenced in Stevens county, June 13, 1899, for a term of one year in the county jail, for the crime of obtaining money under false pretenses. Carruthers, while under the influence of liquor, signed a negotiable instrument upon which he obtained money from a saloon keeper with which to obtain more liquor. Upon examination it was found that the paper was worthless and his representations false. Carruthers was a man of considerable education and talent, and was of great service to the county officials of Stevens county while confined in the county jail, doing valuable work for them. After serving nine months of his sentence pardon was asked for. Recommended by the trial judge, prosecuting attorney and all county officers. Pardon granted March 16, 1900.

BERGH, MICHAEL C.—Sentenced from Pierce county, July 15, 1899, for a term of one year in the county jail for the crime of obtaining money under false pretenses. Bergh was a farmer. He endorsed a paper upon which he obtained money. He claimed that he did not understand the nature of the transaction and made restitution of the money when he discovered that it was illegally obtained. After serving nine months in the county jail pardon was asked for. Recommended by the trial judge, prosecuting attorney, sheriff, warden of the State Penitentiary and citizens. Pardon granted March 24, 1899.

SMITH, JAMES M.—Sentenced from Yakima county, December 21, 1899, for a term of two years in the State Penitentiary, for the crime of forgery. Smith obtained but a small amount of money by his crime, and had never before been convicted of an offense. After serving nearly all his sentence, executive clemency was asked for. Recommended by the trial judge, prosecuting attorney, sheriff, warden of the State Penitentiary and citizens. Pardon granted April 27, 1900.

BRADLEY, S. G.—Sentenced in Pierce county, June 28, 1899, for a term of one year in the county jail of Pierce county, for the crime of grand larceny. Bradley was convicted of having assisted others in stealing some copper wire. He was a young man, uneducated, and not at all bright. After serving eleven months of his sentence, pardon was asked for. Recommended by the trial judge, prosecuting attorney, sheriff and numerous citizens. Pardon granted May 21, 1900.

THOMPSON, ANDREW F.—Sentenced in Lewis county, April 23, 1900, to pay a fine of $5 and the costs of the court, amounting to $114.40, for the crime of assault. In default of the payment of the fine, Thompson was confined in the county jail. Thompson, who is a cripple, became involved in a quarrel with his younger brother regarding some property which had belonged to their parents. During the progress of the quarrel he threatened to strike his brother, and made a movement as if intending to do so. The jury decided that he was guilty of a technical assault. After his conviction, his mother died, and from evidence which appeared in the probate court of Lewis county, Thompson had provocation for the quarrel, his brother having swindled his parents out of their home. After serving twenty-two days in the county jail, and being unable to pay his fine, pardon was asked for. Recommended by the trial judge, who stated that the assault was of a technical nature, and brought about by extreme aggravation. Pardon granted May 29, 1900.

BISHOP, J. F.—Sentenced in Pierce county, October 8, 1899, for a term of one year in the county jail, for the crime of embezzlement. Bishop served eight months of his sentence, and had been a good prisoner. Pardon was asked for by Hon. Wilson R. Gay, United States district attorney, and Hon. Robert Watchorn, agent United States treasury department, on the ground that Bishop should be released in order to give testimony in the matter of illegal importation of Japanese laborers. Bishop had been employed by persons who were engaged in bringing contract laborers into the country from Japan, and his testimony was considered of value by the U. S. authorities. Pardon granted June 5, 1900.

BLEY, ENO.—Sentenced from Walla Walla county December 4, 1888, for a term of twenty years in the State Penitentiary for the crime of manslaughter. Bley was released from the Penitentiary on parole and had served one year as a paroled prisoner, during which time he had obeyed all the rules governing the parole of prisoners. Upon this showing pardon was asked for. Recommended by trial judge, county officials and numerous citizens. Pardon granted July 2, 1900.

Krug, Adolph.—Sentenced from King county March 26, 1894, to imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for a term of seven years for the crime of using public money unlawfully. Krug, after serving a large portion of his sentence was released on parole. He served one year as a paroled prisoner and during that time lived up to all the rules governing paroled prisoners, and upon this record he based an application for pardon. Recommended by the prosecuting attorney, warden of the State Penitentiary and numerous citizens. Pardon granted July 2, 1900.

Baily, Harry B.—Sentenced in Spokane county May 22, 1900, to imprisonment in the county jail of Spokane county for the term of six months for the crime of receiving stolen property. The amount of property involved was very small. Baily had served two months in the county jail previous to receiving his sentence and had served two months of his sentence when pardon was asked for. He was suffering with tuberculosis of the glands of the neck and the county physician was of the opinion that he should be liberated in order to secure proper treatment. Pardon recommended by the trial judge, assistant prosecuting attorney, sheriff, county physician and assistant county physician. Pardon granted July 16, 1900.

Allen, Jack.—Sentenced in Thurston county to imprisonment in the county jail for a term of sixty days and to pay the cost of prosecution amounting to $18.05, for the crime of indecent exposure. Allen had served 46 days in the county jail under said sentence. It appeared from the certificate of the county physician that Allen was afflicted with a loathsome and infectious disease which made it dangerous to keep him in the county jail. If he should be kept in the county jail there was danger of it becoming so contaminated as to make it unsafe to imprison others there. Allen promised to leave the state and remain away forever if released. Pardon recommended by the trial judge, prosecuting attorney and county physician. Pardon granted July 17, 1900.

Murphy, James.—Sentenced from King county July 13, 1893, to imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for a term of fifteen years for the crime of murder in the second degree. Murphy, after serving one year and eleven months sentence time, was granted a new trial. The new trial resulted in the same verdict as the former trial. As Murphy had already served one year and eleven months for the same crime under his first sentence, the State Board of Audit and Control, having the management of the State Penitentiary, passed a resolution recommending that the Governor commute the sentence of said Murphy so as to allow him for the one year and eleven months he had already served. Sentence so commuted July 28, 1900. Murphy still remains in prison.

Talmadge J. L.—Sentenced from Skagit county to imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for a term of one year and a half for the crime of larceny by embezzlement. The amount of property involved in the case was small. Talmadge had never before been convicted of a crime. During his term of imprisonment he filled a position of responsibility in the office of the warden. After serving a considerable portion of his sentence pardon was asked for. Recommended by the trial judge, prosecuting attorney, warden of the State Penitentiary and numerous citizens. Commuted to one year sentence on August 5, 1900.

McCauley, J. W.—Sentenced from Pierce county to imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for a term of three years, ten months and eleven days, for the crime of using public money unlawfully. McCauley had been released from the State Penitentiary under the provisions of the parole law. At the time commutation was asked for he had served nine months as a paroled prisoner and had, during that time, lived up to all the rules and regulations of the parole law. Pardon recommended by the trial judge, numerous county officials and reputable citizens. Sentence commuted to three years, nine months and eleven days, which would release McCauley on October 25, 1900. Commutation granted September 10, 1900.

Grayson, Lester.—Sentenced from Columbia county to imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for a term of six months, for the crime of burglary. Mr. Merritt read the following communication from the ex-Secretary of State, Will D. Jenkins, which was ordered placed on file, to accompany the resolution:

OLYMPIA, WASH., January 25, 1901.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Washington:

GENTLEMEN — Under the provisions of our laws, insurance companies are required to pay a tax of two per cent. on their net premiums collected annually from policy holders in this state. Companies must file a sworn statement by February 15th, showing the total premiums collected and losses paid during the year ending December 31st, preceding, and the tax upon such premiums, less losses, are due and payable before March 1st of each year. All this seems plain enough, but a consideration of the method of determining what should be reported as premiums and what should be reported as losses admits of diverse as well as honest differences of opinion.

After the reports of Washington business had been filed last year and the two per cent. tax had been paid in conformity with law, the insurance department began a careful investigation of the various reports which resulted in discovering that some of the fire insurance companies, because of a lack of uniformity in the method of determining losses, had duplicated their losses in some instances, thus making it appear that the fire losses in this state were greater than they actually were. It must not be concluded, however, that this was intentional on the part of the companies, for in numerous instances companies paid more taxes than justice and equity demanded that they should pay.

The whole difficulty arose over the question as to whether the companies should take into consideration re-insurance premiums and re-insurance losses. Some of the trouble, too, might justly be charged to the indefiniteness of the blanks furnished by the insurance department to the companies upon which to make their reports. An illustration may serve to make clear how the duplication of losses came about. Assume that a company insures the capitol building for $5,000. Not desiring to carry all the risk, it re-insures half of the policy, or $2,500 in another company, allowing such company half the premium. Assume further that the building burned, and at the end of the year in reporting losses the first company reports a loss of $5,000 and a re-insuring company reports a loss of $2,500. Now this is unjust because the actual fire loss was $5,000 while the reports would indicate a loss of $7,500. In this way the losses were duplicated in the sum of $78,000. There does not seem to have been any error in reporting premiums, the whole difficulty being in regard to losses.

Finding the facts as above stated I directed the deputy Insurance Commissioner to proceed to San Francisco to confer with the managers. of various insurance companies and to effect a settlement along just and equitable lines. This he did by collecting additional taxes from those companies whose reported losses were too high, and by reimbursing out of the funds thus collected those companies whose reported losses were too low. Following are the amounts collected and paid out:

Total additional taxes collected ........................................ $1,791.75
Total amount returned to those companies which had overpaid, 550.86
Balance ................................................................. $1,240.89
Less expense of collecting ............................................. 100.00
Net balance belonging to state ........................................ $1,140.89

I beg, therefore, to inform your honorable bodies that I have in my possession, subject to your orders, the sum of $1,140.89, and I suggest that you direct me to pay this money into the State Treasury as of December 31, 1900, crediting the insurance department therefor.

This method of dealing with this matter seemed necessary for the reason that all the remittances of money herewith accounted for were not received until a few days after the expiration of my term of office, and for the further reason that, since this transaction was in a degree unusual, I desired the approval of the Legislature in regard to my acts in this matter. Very respectfully, WILL D. JENKINS, Former Insurance Commissioner.

The following House concurrent resolution No. 9, by Mr. Edward Brown, was referred to the Committee on Memorials:

Be it Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, That our Senators in Congress be instructed to use all honest endeavors in passing the bill known as the Grout law.

The following House concurrent resolution No. 10, by Mr. Merritt, was referred to the Committee on Insurance:

WHEREAS, A communication from the ex-Secretary of State and ex-officio State Insurance Commissioner, shows that he has $1,140.89 belonging to the state collected by the insurance department, after the taxes of 1900 had been accounted for; and

WHEREAS, The said insurance department is entitled to the commendation of the Legislature for the very able and complete manner in which this matter has been conducted: Therefore,

Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, That in accordance with the recommendation of the ex-Secretary of State, that the said ex-Secretary of State and State Insurance Commissioner be and he is hereby instructed to deposit in the state treasury the sum of eleven hundred forty dollars and eighty-nine cents ($1,140.89), as of December 31, 1900, for credit of the insurance department.

Resolved, further, That the commendation of the Legislature be, and the same is hereby tendered to the said insurance department, and his acts in the premises are hereby approved.
By unanimous consent, Mr. Falknor introduced the following resolution, which was adopted.

"Resolved, That reports of all standing committees recommending the indefinite postponement of bills be received, and the bill be placed upon second reading together with said report."

To the Legislature of the State of Washington:

We hail with satisfaction the fact that both of the great political parties of the nation, in their platforms in the last campaign declared in favor of reclamation of arid America in order that settlers might build homes on the public domain, and to that end we urge upon Congress that national appropriations commensurate with the magnitude of the problem should be made for the preservation of the forests, and the reforestation of denuded areas as natural storage reservoirs, and for the construction by the national government, as a part of its policy of internal improvements, of storage reservoirs and other works for flood protection, and to save for use in aid of navigation and irrigation the waters which now run to waste, and for the development of artesian and subterranean sources of water supply.

The water of all streams should forever remain subject to public control, and the right to the use of water for irrigation should inhere in the land irrigated and beneficial use be the basis, the measure and the limit of the right.

The work of building the reservoirs necessary to store the floods should be done directly by the government under existing statutes relating to the employment of labor and hours of work, and under laws that will give to all American citizens fair and equal opportunity to get, first, employment and then a home on the land.

We commend the efficient work of the various bureaus of the national government in the investigation of the physical and legal problems and other conditions relating to irrigation, and in promoting the adoption of more effective laws, customs and methods of irrigated agriculture, and urge upon Congress the necessity of providing liberal appropriations for this important work.

House joint memorial No. 4, by Mr. Edward Brown:

To the Honorable Senators and members of the House of Representatives of the United States from the State of Washington:

We, your memorialists, the Legislature of the State of Washington, respectfully represent that the Nooksack river emptying into Bellingham Bay, Puget Sound, has one of the most extensive agricultural valleys in Western Washington; and

Whereas, The obstructions in the mouth of the river do much damage to farmers in said valley by causing the river to overflow over much of said valley, and also prohibiting the removal of valuable timber from the foothills:

Now, we, your memorialists, therefore pray, that you will use your honest endeavor to secure the removal of the said obstructions at as early a date as possible.

Referred to the Committee on Memorials.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Lewis introduced the following memorial of the King County Bar Association:

SEATTLE, WASH., January 21, 1901.

To the Legislature of the State of Washington:

This memorial on behalf of the King County Bar Association respect­fully represents:

At a meeting of the Association attended by over one hundred lawyers in active practice in this county, held in the court house on January 12, 1901, we, the undersigned, were appointed a committee to consider and report upon the state of business pending in the Supreme Court. At an adjourned meeting in the same place held on January, 19, 1901, the committee's report was considered by the association and unanimously adopted. A duplicate original of it is hereto annexed and made a part of this memorial. The association directed the committee to advise you of its views and its action, and to solicit your early consideration of a proper measure for the relief of the Supreme Court and of the litigants whose cases are before it. Very respectfully.

Referred to Judiciary Committee.

REPORT ON CONDITION OF BUSINESS IN THE SUPREME COURT.

SEATTLE, WASH., January 19, 1901.

To the King County Bar Association, Seattle:

GENTLEMEN—Your committee appointed at the meeting held on January 12, 1901, to consider and report upon the condition of the busi­ness pending in the Supreme Court of Washington, and whether the same calls for action by the Legislature at its present session, begs to report:

First. Owing to the existence of exceptional conditions, the decision of causes in the Supreme Court has for three years past steadily fallen behind the ordinary pace in the judicial determination of controversies. At present there are more than one hundred cases which were argued and submitted at various times from one to three years ago, and which are still undecided; while the steady accession of new cases absorbs the attention and energies of the court, leaving the judges no leisure to take up, consider and decide the belated cases. In this condition of affairs there is no prospect that these cases can in any considerable number be reached and passed upon this year or next year. Important interest and rights are involved in many of them; and in all of them the respective parties are entitled to a speedy determination of their claims. The failure to accord such determination constitutes virtually a denial of justice, and is pro tanto a collapse of one of the three co-ordinate branches of the state government.

Second. The Supreme Court is unable to afford relief from this great injustice to litigants. Its present working force is inadequate to the task. Without an increase of that force the delayed cases will remain undecided, and in many instances the fruits of judgments once valuable will be lost forever. The only visible remedy lies in an increase of the working force of the court; and the Legislature alone can grant this. The addition of two judges to the court would enable it, in the next eighteen months, to dispose of all cases now awaiting its action, and would place its business in such forward condition that the five judges provided for in the constitution would thereafter be able to do the work of the court with reasonable promptness. Your committee therefore recommends that this association memorialize the Legislature to enact a law empowering and directing the Governor to nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint two judges of the Supreme Court, for such limited term as shall seem advisable. This recommendation, we are satisfied, will meet the hearty concurrence of the honorable members of the Supreme Court, who are themselves naturally and specially desirous of some speedy relief to disappointed and injured parties litigant. Your committee further recommends that this association co-operate with other bar associations, in placing this matter before the Legislature for early action.

Respectfully submitted.

John P. Hoyt,
J. B. Metcalfe,
J. T. Ronald,
John Arthur,
John H. Powell.

House joint memorial No. 5, by Mr. Hastings:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled:

Your memorialists, the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Washington, respectfully pray such action by your honorable body as will cause the speedy construction of a lighthouse on Deception Island, near the west entrance of Deception pass, at the head of the Straits of San Juan de Fuca, and the entrance to the Straits of Rosario.

The importance of this light is shown by the report on commerce and navigation of the United States, in the fact that the increase of commerce in these waters, and in the fact that several regular lines of steamers, carrying United States mails, and many steamers and sail vessels carrying freight and passengers traverse these waters and this deceptive pass daily. Population, commerce and trade are rapidly increasing, and the erection of this guide and safeguard is therefore almost indispensable to life and property.

For these and other reasons, your early and favorable action is most earnestly requested. And your memorialists will forever pray.

PETITIONS.

The following from the Seattle Kennel Club was referred to the Committee on Dairy and Live Stock:

SEATTLE, WASH., January 25, 1901.

The attention of the Seattle Kennel Club has been called to House bill No. 22, now before the State Legislature, a copy of this bill being attached hereto. The intent of this bill is to provide by general tax on dogs a fund to reimburse owners of domestic animals for the loss or injury to such animals by dogs. It is assumed that the operation of the proposed law is designed especially for the protection of sheep. This purpose is of course laudable. We call your attention to the fact that in the city of Seattle there is a city tax or license in practically the same amount as that specified in the proposed act. We would also point out that in this city (and we presume in others of the first class) few if any domestic animals (other than cats) are kept and that consequently such dogs as there may be in such cities are no menace to farm animals and should not properly be taxed for the purpose set forth in the bill under consideration. The Seattle Kennel Club is organized for the purpose of encouraging the breeding of thorough-bred dogs, and as residents of this city are already paying a city tax, we believe that an additional state tax would be unjust and burdensome. In view of the facts set forth above, this club respectfully petitions the Honorable Legislature that the act referred to be amended in either of the two ways enumerated as follows, to-wit:

1st. That the said act be amended to exempt from the operation of same, cities of the first class in which a city tax or license is levied equal in amount to that proposed in said act; or

2nd. That the word "shall" in first line of section 2 be changed to read "may."

These suggestions are respectfully made by authority of the directors of this club.

Respectfully, SEATTLE KENNEL CLUB, By J. REDELSHEIMER, President.

By Mr. Tucker:

Resolved, That a committee of three from the State Penitentiary Committee, to be chosen by the chairman of the said Penitentiary Committee, forthwith visit said state institution and report the condition of same to this House.

PETITIONS.

To the Honorable, the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Your petitioners represent that cougars, panthers, mountain lions, wild cats, black and grey wolves, coyotes exist in such numbers in various parts of the State of Washington, and cause such great destruction of sheep, cattle and poultry that, in many places, it is almost impossible to profitably raise such animals and fowls, and in all places, except within the cities and towns of this state, there is more or less loss, even in thickly settled communities, from this cause. While the Sheep Grower's Association of this state have particularly taken this matter in hand, the small farmers engaged in poultry raising and in the raising of cattle and sheep on a small scale, are deeply interested in protection from the noxious animals as the larger sheep growers, and whereas, the present law confining the allowance of bounties by county commissioners, has been inadequate to bring about the destruction of these animals.

The undersigned respectfully ask this Legislature to pass a bill, which is to be introduced in the Senate by Hon. Herbert Baker, and introduced in the House by Hon. Nelson Rich, providing for a state bounty upon the scalps of such animals, and for an emergency clause, that such animals may be destroyed this spring.

Referred to the Committee on Game and Game Fish.

STATEMENT ACCOMPANYING REMONSTRANCES AGAINST DIVISION OF YAKIMA COUNTY.

At the election of 1900, there were cast in the precincts proposed to be cut off, on the bases of the vote for president 429 votes as follows: Alder Creek, 25 votes; Bed Rock, 15 votes; Kiona, 71 votes; Kennewick, 50 votes; Mabton, 48 votes; Sunnyside, 119 votes; Prosser, 117 votes; total, 445.

Remonstrances from those various people are signed by the following number; Bed Rock, 10; Kiona, 57; Sunnyside, 276; Mabton, 44; total, 387.

In addition to this, remonstrances have been signed at Kennewick. This shows an overwhelming majority of the votes in the territory proposed to be cut off as opposed to county division. You will observe that in Sunnyside, the number of remonstrators are much larger than the votes cast at the last election. This is accounted for because of the increase of the population within the last year, and many people being residents of that precinct, but not having resided long enough in the state to vote. Sunnyside precinct has increased more than any precinct in the county.

In addition to the above remonstrances are inclosed from Zillah precinct, a small portion of which is included in the boundaries of the proposed new county, but just exactly what percentage we cannot say. Zillah, however, is the adjoining precinct to Sunnyside, and the interest of those people are identical. The Zillah remonstrances contain 234 names. What is said of the increase of Sunnyside precinct also applies —13 to Zillah. Parker precinct is the next precinct above Zillah, and the signatures there number 26.

No remonstrances are sent from any portion of the county above Union Gap. The people are a unit above that point against division, and, as will be observed, there is an overwhelming majority opposed to it even in the territory proposed to be cut off.

Total number in district remonstrating 670.

We, the undersigned electors and tax payers of the county of Yakima, State of Washington, residing in Bed Rock precinct of said county, protest against the division of said Yakima county on the lines proposed by bill now before your honorable body, or on any other lines, deeming such action unwise and inexpedient at this time.

[Signed]: J. L. Wilson, and many others.

Mr. Burch moved that the foregoing be referred to a special committee of three, to be appointed by the chair, for the purpose of ascertaining how many of the signers thereof reside in the places designated in the remonstrance.

The motion prevailed.

On motion of Mr. Bush, the House having consented to the appointment of the committee by the speaker pro tem., he named Messrs. Nesbitt, Ingraham and Rich.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

The committee appointed to investigate the penitentiary at Walla Walla, reported as follows:

OLYMPIA, WASH., February 14, 1901.

MR. SPEAKER:

We, your committee appointed for the purpose of investigating the needs of the State Penitentiary, in conjunction with a like committee appointed by the president of the Senate, hereby beg leave to report as follows:

We, your committee, upon the 8th day of February, A. D. 1901, proceeded upon our mission, and arrived at the penitentiary of the State of Washington, situated at Walla Walla, upon the 10th inst. The entire committee being in attendance. We carefully investigated in detail the entire working and administration of the said penitentiary, and found everything being operated in a very commendable manner. The sanitary condition of said penitentiary is excellent. The discipline is highly commendable; the health of the prisoners we found to be maintained to a degree far in excess of the remainder of the community. A careful investigation of the wing built by the money—$6000 in amount—which was appropriated by this Legislature two years ago, we found to be very laudibly expended. It is a highly necessary and most convenient adjunct of the said institution. Previous to its erection the prisoners had been fed in small tin pans which were passed through a wicket into each respective cell. The pans had become rusty and corroded, and the victuals would be spilled around on the floor, greatly injuring the health of the prisoners. It was almost impossible to keep a careful supervision upon the disposal of the food thus served. Under the present circumstance the dining hall is well equipped. The prisoners are permitted to sit at a table, where they have the use of modern earthenware, knives, forks, etc. And the food which they receive is continually under the supervision of an overseer. The discipline maintained during the entrance, the stay, and the exit from the said dining-room is as near a degree of perfection as can be obtained. The present method is far superior to the previous ways.

We investigated the wing built by the federal government, and find that said wing will be a great relief to the present condition of the said penitentiary. The building of the said dining hall and of the said federal wing is placing a burden upon the electrical machinery more than it is competent to discharge. The present electric plant was one which was purchased at the founding of the said institution, and at this time the institution has far outgrown its capacity. There are five, fifteen hundred candle power lights in the dining room. In order to operate these lights it is now necessary to shut off two hundred and fifty, sixteen candle power lights in other portions of the building, which is highly improper and dangerous to the management. When the new federal wing is completed it will require about one hundred, sixteen candle power lights to light the same, and all of these lights must be turned off when those in the dining room are being used.

Therefore, we earnestly recommend that the request of the warden for an appropriation of six thousand dollars for the purchase and installing of a new engine and dynamo for the purpose of enlarging the electrical appliances, be granted.

We, your committee, furthermore, find upon investigation that the farm maintained upon the ground of the institution, on account of a failure of an appropriation to maintain the same is much in need of repair. We find that the water and sewer pipes which have been for years in the ground and which were not properly put in in the first place are continuously breaking and causing trouble and must be repaired at a great expense, and for this and other necessary improvements, we earnestly recommend the appropriation of the sum of five thousand dollars. We, your committee, carefully investigated the water supply of the institution. We find that the said institution is at this time supplied with water which is pumped from a large well upon the grounds. The supply of this well is adequate for the actual necessities of the building but not sufficient for the purpose of supplying water for the garden maintained by the institution.

We furthermore find that the pumping of the water from the said well is decidedly expensive.

After investigation, we, your committee, have arrived at the conclusion that the appropriation of $2,500 for the purpose of boring an artesian well would be money well spent, and earnestly request that the same be appropriated for that purpose.

We, your committee, find that for the moral and educational advancement of the inmates of this institution there is nothing that could be more potent for good than the maintenance of a library consisting of wholesome books and for the purpose of establishing this adjunct we earnestly recommend that the sum of $250 be appropriated.

The number of inmates in the said institution at the time of the visit of your committee was 442. The warden in his report of the estimated necessities in the way of maintenance for the ensuing two years is based upon an average of 450 inmates; these figures compared with those of two years ago when the actual population was 300 and the estimate of the warden was based upon 350 inmates, for which number he estimated an appropriation of $110,000 as necessary for maintenance, and the Legislature appropriated for the said use the sum of $100,000 leaving a deficiency of $12,500, for which sum this Legislature was compelled to make a deficiency appropriation.

Now, comparing the status of the institution with that of two years ago we are constrained to report that we think $140,000 is the lowest that the institution may consistently ask for as a maintenance fund for the ensuing two years, and, therefore, respectfully recommend that the sum of $140,000 be appropriated for that purpose.

We, your committee, consider that it is far better to appropriate the full sum required as maintenance rather than to appropriate a lesser sum which will only necessitate a deficiency appropriation two years hence.

Respectfully submitted.

GRANT COPELAND, Chairman.

The report was referred the Committee on Appropriations.

VETO MESSAGE, HOUSE BILL No. 101.

STATE OF WASHINGTON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
OLYMPIA, WASH., February 25, 1901.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

GENTLEMEN—I herewith return without my approval, House bill No. 101, entitled "An act to amend an act to regulate the practice of medicine and surgery, and to license physicians and surgeons, to punish all people violating the provisions of this act, and to repeal all laws in conflict therewith, and declaring an emergency, approved April 10, 1890."

This bill appears to be an attempt to prevent the practice of the art of healing by the graduates of a new school of practitioners known as "osteopaths" who do not prescribe medicine to be taken into the stomach, and to prevent the use of the title of "doctor" by members of this school. It is objected to by them, and by a large and apparently growing class of our best and most intelligent citizens, that the enactment into law of these provisions, would be an unwarranted interference with the constitutional right of the citizens to teach and proclaim truths regarded as of the utmost importance to the well being of society. Such vital truths the graduates of this new school claim to be in possession of, and to be able to substantiate by the most convincing proofs. They argue that if their faith is founded upon a fallacy or falsehood that it must shortly fall of its own inherent weakness, and ask merely a trial that their theories may be subjected to the most searching tests. To this, the believers in free government can only reply, that if it can be shown that their teachings are not inimical to the public welfare they should not be denied the opportunity to announce their discoveries. We cannot suppose that all of truth has yet become known, or that wisdom will die with us. Truth is eternal and progressive, and new truths have always risen from without the specially favored circles of recognized belief. Always it has been decried and persecuted. Galileo recanted it is true, but the truth he taught still lives. Luther, the poor and friendless monk of Erfurt, launched a truth upon the world, and thrones and dynasties still totter with the resulting conflict. Harvey, the discoverer of the circulation of the blood, was denounced and decried with utmost bitterness by the medical fraternity. Jenner, the originator of vaccination, was regarded as little better than a criminal by orthodox physicians of his time. Indeed, it is undeniably true, that the practice of medicine and the art of healing has advanced only by the innovations of those who were looked upon with extreme disfavor by members of the regular schools. Truth is mighty and will prevail. God forbid that we of Washington should attempt to stay its progress. The word "doctor" means, primarily, a teacher—in the dictionary—it should mean that in practice. One of the greatest, possibly the greatest, evil of our times, is the indiscriminate use of drugs, narcotics, intoxicants. It threatens the ruin of the race. Already our jails, our hospitals and our prisons are filled with a crowd of degenerates who form only a part of the ever increasing army of unfortunates, infirm of will and purpose, threatening by their weakness and consequent criminality the very existence of civilization itself. The nursery, the recruiting ground of this horde of "ne'er do wells" is found in the abuse of powerful agents sold by the druggists and prescribed by physicians. No license protects, or can protect, us from this fruitful source of moral and social ill. The physician of the regular school called to prescribe, must prescribe. Some drug must be administered. Possibly it may be harmless, usually in cases not really needing medication it is an alcoholic stimulant intended to make the patient "feel better" for the time, or a narcotic to deaden sensation and soothe an excitable condition. Here is the origin of a frightful evil. Among the ancient Romans, the wife who drank wine was regarded as a criminal and treated as such. Even in that far off time they had discovered that tippling mothers meant the production of future drunkards. And yet in our day physicians of the bluest blood and the highest attainments are guilty of poisoning the springs of life. The contents of the drug store are perhaps more dangerous to the future well being of the race than those of the saloon. "Dope fiends" are thus created by the thousands. Morphine powders administered to parents bring forth their natural fruit even to the third and fourth generation of descendants.

Thus, a great evil threatens us; druggists and physicians know its source and lament the ever increasing demand for narcotics and intoxicants. The wise among them do not themselves partake. Everybody knows that the lawyer who pleads his own case has a fool for a client and object lessons are not wanting in proof of the opinion that the physician who takes his own pills, or the saloon keeper who drinks his own whiskey will shortly heed an urgent call to go hence and be here no more.

If the Osteopaths can show a better way and deliver us, even in the smallest degree, from enormous, admitted and increasing evils let us not deny them the poor boon of the title of Teacher, or Doctor.

Respectfully submitted. JOHN R. ROGERS, Governor.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

We, your committee, elected to proceed to the insane asylums of Steilacoom and Medical Lake to visit and investigate and report to this body, will report as follows:

We visited the Steilacoom Asylum on February 12th, first visiting the wards which we found in good condition, the male wards, or south wing, being capable of holding thirty or more patients. The north wing, for females, is overcrowded, twenty being compelled to sleep in the dormitory in the basement temporarily. The patients seem to be well fed and clothed and cared for as to their physical condition. We think that in so far as their medical treatment is concerned, there is room for improvement in specializing their diseases. This cannot be done at Steilacoom, with the large number of inmates, without adding another assistant physician to the staff. We recommend that this be done.
The bakery is in very bad shape on account of the oven being burned out and ready to fall down at any time. The scullery kitchen is too small to meet the demands of the institution. The laundry is in too close proximity to the kitchen, and should be put in a separate building apart from the other buildings. The engine room is in good condition; we, however recommend an appropriation for the purpose of covering the steam pipes.

We find the dynamo is too small to furnish the required light for the buildings and recommend that the appropriation of six thousand dollars asked for that purpose be allowed. The appropriation of seven thousand dollars for pump line and stand pipe should be allowed for the reason that it will give better fire protection, better water system for use in the buildings, for irrigating purposes, and for the ever increasing demands of the institution.

The barns are old and in poor condition, but will serve the purpose of the institution for two years more. The cows, horses and vehicles are in fair condition.

Whereas, it costs $6,000 for butter, $9,000 for beef, $3,000 for feed, $2,000 for hay and a large amount for vegetables for the institution and roots for stock per annum;

We, therefore, recommend purchase of the Shannon farm, which can be run in connection with the institution with profit to the state and great benefit to the patients.

We visited Medical Lake Insane Asylum on February 18, 1901, arriving there about noon. First visiting the dining room where the patients were eating the noon meal, which consisted of bread, potatoes boiled with jackets on, beef hash, pickles and water, which we considered not good rations for insane patients and not a proper variety. We next visited the wards after having to wait for two hours, and found them in fairly good condition. The closets were not as clean as they should be kept in an institution of this kind.

We next visited the kitchen, engine room, bakery and laundry which we found in good condition. The out buildings, barn and stock, had a general thrifty appearance and we note the advantage of this institution in having good farming land in connection therewith. The orchard, berry patch and farm are in excellent condition, which is commendable. The sewerage of the institution is in exceedingly bad condition, and if not remedied at once, will be a source of disease among the inmates, as well as those living around Medical Lake. The Medical Lake authorities have begun legal action in regard to this matter, as there is great danger of the waters of Medical Lake becoming infected from the cesspools. We recommend the construction of a drain from the building sufficiently large, say 20 inches in diameter, to run in a southwesterly direction to the brow of the hill to connect within the open drain to Little Medical Lake. This drain could be tapped for irrigating purposes as it crosses the farm, and made to irrigate the berry patch and alfalfa land.
We recommend the purchase of the four hundred feet of lake front north of the hundred feet owned by the institution. We recommend that the stewart move his family to some dwelling outside of the asylum, and the rooms now occupied by them to be converted into a ward for patients, thus lessening the demand for a new wing. Inasmuch as wood costs $4 per cord, and as it requires nearly 2,500 cords per year, costing nearly $10,000, we consider it more economic and would recommend the use of coal as fuel. We deplore the system that prevails of requiring the employees to contribute to the campaign fund of the party under which they are working. We recommend that the supply of beef for the Eastern Washington Hospital for the Insane be bought by contract to be let to the lowest bidder, as there has been considerable complaint in regard to the present system.

The general condition of the Medical Lake Asylum, excepting the farm, shows to us that there is a lack of executive ability on the part of the superintendent. Under the present system of auditing and control, these institutions cannot be conducted as they should be, and we would recommend that a local board of trustees, of three members from the two dominating political parties be created to act with the State Board of Audit and Control.

J. M. P. CHALMERS, M. D.,
Chairman.

FRED. W. COMBSTOCK,
J. H. CORLISS.

Mr. Wilson moved that future debate be limited to five minutes.

Mr. Raymer moved to amend the motion by making it ten minutes.

The motion to amend the motion was lost.

The original motion was adopted.

STATE OF WASHINGTON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, OLYMPIA, March 4, 1901.

To the honorable, the Senate of the State of Washington:

GENTLEMEN—I herewith return, without my approval, Senate bill No. 9, entitled "An act to re-district and re-apportion the members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Washington."

The increase in membership of the state legislature, numbering twenty-two, provided for in this bill, will largely add to the cost of governing the state and materially augment the difficulties incident to legislation. The increase in legislative membership is entirely disproportionate to our population and wealth when compared with that of other states, far exceeding ours in these particulars, and in my opinion is unnecessary and uncalled for the people.

And even more serious objection is the fact that the allotment of senators and representatives made is not in accordance with the population of the state, as required by the constitution, the apportionment made giving certain parts and portions of the state undue advantage and restricting others, in the matter of legislative membership, thus vitiating at the very fountain head of law the equity of future legislation in the State of Washington.

Respectfully submitted. JOHN R. ROGERS, Governor.

Notwithstanding the veto of the Governor, the bill passed the House: Yeas 57, nays 21, absent or not voting 2.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

OLYMPIA, WASH., March 14, 1901.

To the honorable the House of Representatives of Washington:

GENTLEMEN—As Governor of the State of Washington and chairman of the State Board of Audit and Control, I feel it my duty to again respectfully call your attention to the absolute needs of the state penal, reformatory and eleemosynary institutions.

The rapid growth of our state has resulted in a large increase in the number of inmates at each of these institutions. The persons therein confined are the wards of the state, and the constant increase in numbers makes it necessary to appropriate larger sums at each session of the legislature for their proper care and maintenance.

I sincerely hope that your honorable body will not, during the closing hours of the session, lose sight of the necessity of making proper provision for the care of these unfortunates. In my judgment it is bad policy for the state to be called upon to make deficiency appropriations at each succeeding session of the legislature, and I hope that this will be avoided by proper provision being made at this time for the maintenance of these institutions.

Respectfully,

J. R. ROGERS, Governor.

The communication was placed on file.

EXTRAORDINARY SESSION.

SPECIAL MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR ROGERS TO THE LEGISLATURE.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

A grave question has presented itself which has constrained me to call you together in extra session. This question is nothing less than the proper enforcement and execution of law. Statute law, it appears to me, should simulate, as far as possible, the divine law, or the law of nature. Punishment should follow the infraction of law, in extreme cases, as inflexibly and relentlessly as the coming of day and night. The only ground upon which we can properly stand in the infliction of penalties is the protection of society. And this is instinctively and perhaps unconsciously generally recognized. Where punishment does not follow the commission of heinous crime disrespect for law and its enforcement becomes universal and the people are prone to take the execution of law into their own hands. This is held to be anarchy, or the absence of law. Instances of this are familiar to us all. The only remedy is the prompt infliction by society, through its constituted authorities, of proper and condign punishment. The force of law consists in its penalties. It may be said with truth that without penalties laws have no proper existence. Capital punishment I believe to be necessary, in extreme cases, for the proper protection of society. Statistics, apparently reliable, are quoted to show that in the United States the sentence of imprisonment for life means, in actual practice, only an incarceration of eight and a fraction years. New trials, technicalities, legal quibbles and pardons interfere to prevent the infliction of penalties necessary to the protection of society. In the case of a convicted murderer now awaiting execution, the criminal, starting from Victoria, told a number of people that he was going to Tacoma to take the life of a woman who had been his wife. He followed her into a crowded restaurant, where she was earning an honest living as cashier, and, spite of her screams and implorations for mercy, shot her to death. Able attorneys have thus far saved his life and it is hoped, I presume, to still further prolong his existence, by resort to further quibbles and technicalities. Having been incarcerated for some time the question is now raised whether he is not insane, and therefore not amenable to the law. If adjudged insane and confined in an asylum, when cured of his insanity, he would probably be liberated, when he might again become insane, commit other crimes and this process be continued indefinitely. Other murderers in this state are awaiting your action with mingled hope and fear. The situation as it presents itself to us, involves grave responsibilities. A mawkish sentimentality is abroad in the land. Its effects are seen in the non-enforcement of law and the consequent increase of crime. The people of the State of Washington look to you for such a deliverance as will assure them of whatever protection the law can afford. I am convinced that you have the will and the ability to completely satisfy their earnest hopes and expectation.

The constitution of this state provides:

Article III, section 7: The Governor may, on extraordinary occasions, convene the Legislature by proclamation, in which shall be stated the purposes for which the Legislature is convened.

Convinced that an extraordinary occasion, within the meaning of the constitution, exists, I have called you together. The supreme court was asked to take up the matters referred to and pass upon them. The law passed at the last session of the Legislature provided a different mode of procedure in the execution of criminals from that which had previously prevailed. The court was asked to state, practically, what the law now is, to what cases it applies and what the new law would be after the 13th instant when it went into effect. The court declined to do this. I was advised that there was a division of opinion among the justices of the supreme court regarding these matters, and a possibility existed that at some future time, a decision might be rendered which would have the effect to prevent the execution of men guilty of capital crimes. At least six and perhaps more of these cases are now before the courts. In the opinion of all qualified to judge the only remedy for this anomalous condition of affairs, was the immediate assembling of your honorable body that you might take immediate action in this emergency. The responsibility is now yours. I look with confidence to your action. But one feeling pervades the majority. You desire to uphold the majesty of the law and to justify the expectations of our communities.

The extraordinary occasion, on account of which you have been summoned, has been stated. The question has arisen whether, in the event of your assembling under this call, other business could not be taken up and other legislation effected. Upon this question our best legal minds are divided; and while I do not wish to attempt to impose my opinions upon you, I may possibly be allowed to suggest that it will not be well to add further possible legal complications to those now existing. Once before, since the organization of this state, an extra session was called. At that time, although Governor Ferry gave it as his opinion that the Legislature was competent to take up other business than that embraced in the call, this was not done. The Legislature confined itself to matters embraced within the call. A precedent was thus established which, in my opinion, should not be departed from. The matter is, however, left to your superior judgment and consideration.

In conclusion, I hope that the deliberations of your honorable body may be characterized by entire harmony, and that the exalted position our state now holds in public estimation may be maintained with honor and that dignity sustained which hinges upon the prompt enforcement of law. Respectfully submitted,

JOHN R. ROGERS, Governor.

On dissolution of the joint session, the house was called to order, and Speaker Albertson announced the re-appointment of the House committees of the previous session.

The following communication from the Secretary of State was read:

SPECIAL ORDER.

The hour having arrived, House bill No. 82, with the Governor's veto, was taken up for consideration. The veto message was read as follows:

GOVERNOR'S VETO.

STATE OF WASHINGTON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, OLYMPIA, March 23, 1901.

Hon. S. H. Nichols, Secretary of State.

SIR,—I herewith transmit for the purpose of filing in your office, House bill No. 82, which I am unable to approve.

The object sought to be attained by the passage of this bill is the destruction of state uniformity in the selection of text books for use in the common and graded schools of the state. It is claimed by the advocates of this measure that the selections made by the State Board of Education, for five year terms, in 1895 and in 1900, were not well adapted and in fact were bad. Therefore, it is claimed, that the particular, difficult and responsible duty of selecting text books to be used by the children of this state should be turned over to the heterogenous collection of school officers in the thirty-six counties of the state. Thus providing thirty-six different opportunities for book agents and companies to impose thirty-six different selections of books upon a suffering public. Possibly three or four counties might secure better books than those now in use but it is extremely probable that thirty out of thirty-six would not. Already I am in receipt of a telegram from a great Chicago book house asking whether the bill under discussion will be approved. The wolf is preparing to descend upon the fold. Some of the selections made under the terms of this bill would undoubtedly, however hardly it might bear upon the children compelled to study them, afford laughter and scorn for both gods and men. I cannot think it my duty to approve so heartless a scheme.

The law as amended at the recent session of the Legislature provides for the addition to the State Board of Education, for the purpose of the selection of text books at the next selection to be made of the six superintendents of schools in the six largest cities of the state, thus making a board of eleven which it would appear should be exceptionally well fitted for the purpose had in view. Now, if the next Legislature should provide that the school districts of the state be divided into two classes, namely: Those that maintain a high school and those that do not, and provide, likewise, that the very competent board of selection referred to might select books suitable for the two classes of districts, if thought advisable, all difficulties arising might be removed and the unseemly spectacle of thirty-six counties ravaged by smooth-tongued and unscrupulous book agents be avoided.

The step which it is proposed to take in this bill is not only, in my opinion, a step backward, but it is also in direct opposition to the mandates of the fundamental law of the state. Sections 1 and 2, of article 9, of the state constitution, are as follows:

Article IX, section 1. “It is the paramount duty of the state to make ample provision for the education of all children residing within its borders, without distinction or precedence on account of race, color, caste or sex.”

Section 2. “The Legislature shall provide for a general and uniform system of public schools. The public school system shall include common schools, and such high schools and normal schools and technical schools as may hereafter be provided. But the entire revenue derived from the common school fund, and the state tax for common schools, shall be exclusively applied to the support of the common schools.”

It is openly stated by those who favor this bill that it is their intention to do away with state uniformity in school instruction, thus turning over the country schools to their own devices and taking from them the support and protection of state authority and assistance. I believe the motive and attempt to be unwise and ill advised. It should be the care and the desire of the state authorities to raise to a higher plane the methods of instruction employed in the common and graded schools.
where nine-tenths of our boys and girls are to obtain all the instruction they will ever receive, rather than to attempt to turn them back in the matter of text books to methods employed fifty years ago.

For those reasons the bill is hereby disapproved.

J. R. ROGERS, Governor.

House bill No. 82 was read by sections and passed the House notwithstanding the Governor's veto by the following vote: Yeas 43, nays 17, absent or not voting 20.

Those who voted nay were: Messrs. Anderson, Badger, Barron, Bowne, Britton, Brown Edward, Copeland, LaWall, Merrill, Merritt, Miles, Miller, Moore, O'Brien, Raymer, Rosenhaupt, and Waters—17.
