On page 2, following section 5 add a new section as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. This 1973 act is necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

On page 1, section 2, line 19 after "Public Law 92-603" and before the period insert "and Public Law 93-66: PROVIDED, That the agreements between the department of social and health services and the United States department of health, education and welfare receive such legislative authorization and/or ratification as required by section 4 of this 1973 act"

On page 1, section 1, line 7 after "Public Law 92-603" and before the comma insert "and Public Law 93-66"

On page 1, section 3, line 24 after "Public Law 92-603" and before "to" insert "and Public Law 93-66"

On motion of Mr. Parker, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title after "RCW" and before the period, insert "; and declaring an emergency"

House Bill No. 705 was ordered engrossed.

On motion of Mr. Conner, the second reading was considered the third, and Engrossed House Bill No. 1075 was placed on final passage.

Representatives Parker and Morrison spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Parker yielded to question by Ms. Maxie.

Ms. Maxie: "In the interest of establishing the legislative intent of this bill, I have been requested by some of the senior citizens to pose several questions to Representative Parker, or whoever is sponsoring this bill, for the sole purpose of getting on the record the clear intention of the legislature, because there will be some problem in implementing this statute. The first question: Does this bill provide a general assistance payment equal to the present grant for those not eligible for supplemental security income after January 1, 1974?"

Mr. Parker: "Representative Maxie, in answer to your question, the amendment that was adopted that was sponsored by Representative Shinpoch and myself clearly states that our legislative intent is that if there were restrictive federal regulations that knocked some of these people off the rolls who are eligible now under the existing program, that they would be eligible for the general assistance grants under our present programs."

Ms. Maxie: "After January 1, 1974?"

Mr. Parker: "Yes."

Ms. Maxie: "The second question: Does this bill provide a state supplement to all supplemental security income recipients whether they go on assistance before or after January 1, 1974, which will guarantee at least no cut in the present grant level?"

Mr. Parker: "Representative Maxie, again in answer to your question: Under the program as outlined by the federal government, all people on the rolls prior to December 31, 1973, are grandfathered in at the existing level so they can have no decrease from what they had. They can be brought up higher, but there can be no decrease for those people. Those coming on after January 1, 1974--those levels are yet to be set by the department of social and health services, but as we stated earlier in the discussions on this, the federal government in some of the concessions they have made have freed enough money that I am sure all the people that will be coming on to this program will receive a payment grant level equal to or surpassing our present levels."

Ms. Maxie: "The next question, and the final one, is divided into three parts. First of all, how do eligibility requirement definitions affect those who are disabled as the result of drug addiction and alcoholism?"

Mr. Parker: "With regard to that, first of all, the amendment again by Representative Shinpoch and myself says that if the federal regulations are restrictive and that some of these people are knocked off, they are eligible for the general assistance grants. At the same time, the technical amendment to bring us into compliance with the vocational rehabilitation part of the federal act would apply here also, so these people would be taken care of under the program as outlined in House Bill No. 1075."

Ms. Maxie: "Fine, thank you. Will there be any possibility of redefinition which would make those so classified ineligible for supplemental security income?"

Mr. Parker: "Well, of course, the Congress could always pass a bill, but under those circumstances we have provided that the Legislative Budget Committee would have to ratify the agreement if we weren't in session, and that we would have the power if we were. So we have adequate protections to insure that no recipients in the state of Washington would be disadvantaged under the program."

Representatives Parker and Eikenberry spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Parker yielded to question by Mr. Savage.

Mr. Savage: "It is my understanding that supplements from the state would be added. The state would let the federal government know how much money we were going to make available, and they would get the entire amount in one check. Is that correct?"

Mr. Parker: "As we understand the federal government's intentions at this time, yes, that is correct. They would receive it all in one check."

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mr. Thompson, having voted on the prevailing side, moved that the House do now reconsider the vote by which ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 191 failed to pass the House.

Mr. Thompson spoke in favor of the motion.

The motion was carried on a rising vote.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Thompson, the House deferred reconsideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 191 on final passage, and the bill was ordered placed on tomorrow's third reading calendar.

THIRD READING

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 1026, by Representatives Van Dyk, North (Lois), Goltz, Kilbury, Douthwaite, Fortson, Charnley, Rabel, Lysen, Sommers and Kelley:

Providing for a state-wide system of unit pricing in grocery stores.

Representatives Curtis and Julin spoke in favor of the motion, and Representative Van Dyk spoke against it.

Mr. Curtis requested the right to close debate on the motion.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "I would like to read House Rule No. 48, in part, which says: 'A motion for suspension of the rules shall not be debatable, except, however, the mover of the motion may briefly explain the purpose of his motion, and one opponent to the motion may briefly explain his position.' We have had this on your motion, Mr. Curtis, so I am going to put your question before the House. There is no closing of debate."

The motion was lost on a rising vote.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Hansey: "Mr. Speaker, I believe we are considering at the present time Engrossed House Bill No. 1026. I have looked in my billbook, and I don't have it. I've looked in several others, and it does not seem to be in our billbooks. I think that for as important a measure as this, we should have an opportunity to at least see the measure. Engrossed House Bill No. 1026, I believe, would be in a blue form. It is not in any of the books."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Mr. Hansey, do you have House Bill No. 1026, with a House committee amendment?"

Mr. Hansey: "I have House Bill No. 1026 with one amendment, but I am not sure that is all of the amendments."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "That is the only amendment to the bill. When the bill passed the House with this one amendment, then it became an engrossed bill. The procedure is that when a bill is sent over to the Senate, it is typed to include the amendments, which makes it an engrossed bill. We have a copy of the engrossed bill on the desk if you would like to see it."

Representatives Van Dyk and Charette spoke in favor of passage of the bill, and Representative Curtis spoke against it.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 1026, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 54; nays, 42; not voting, 2.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. There is added to chapter 39.58 RCW a new section to read as follows:

When the commission determines that a loss has occurred at a savings and loan association, it shall as soon as possible make payment to the proper public officers of all funds subject to such loss, pursuant to the following procedures: (1) For the purposes of determining the sums to be paid, the supervisor of savings and loan associations or receiver shall, within twenty days after issuance of a restraining order or taking possession of any savings and loan association then qualified as a public depository, ascertain the amount of public funds on deposit therein as disclosed by its records and the amount thereof covered by deposit insurance and certify the amounts thereof to the commission and each such public depositor; (2) within ten days after receipt of such certification, each such public depositor shall furnish to the commission verified statements of its deposits in such depository as disclosed by its records; (3) upon receipt of such certificate and statements, the commission shall ascertain and fix the amount of such public deposits, net after deduction of any deposit insurance, and assess the same against all savings and loan associations then qualified as public depositories, as follows: First, against the depository in which the loss occurred, to the extent of the full value of collateral segregated pursuant to this chapter; Second, against all other savings and loan associations then qualified as public depositories in proportion to their then maximum liability; (4) assessments made by the commission shall be payable on the second business day following demand, and in case of the failure of any savings and loan association then qualified as a public depository so to pay, the commission shall forthwith take possession of the eligible collateral segregated by such depository pursuant to this chapter and liquidate the same for the purpose of paying such assessment; (5) upon receipt of such assessment payments, the commission shall reimburse the public depositors of the savings and loan depository in which the loss occurred to the extent of the depository's net deposit liability to them."

In line 1 of the title after "funds;" strike the remainder of the title and insert the following: "amending section 11, chapter 176, Laws of 1963 as amended by section 3, chapter 111, Laws of 1965 and RCW 32.12.100; amending section 1, chapter 193, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as amended by section 9, chapter 126, Laws of 1973 and RCW 39.58.010; amending section 12, chapter 193, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 39.58.120; and adding new sections to chapter 39.58 RCW."

Signed by Representatives Ceccarelli, Chairman; Gaspard, Vice Chairman; Bagnariol, Blair, Chatalas, Kelley, Luders, Moon, Pardini, Parker, Van Dyk.

MINORITY recommendation: Do not pass. Signed by Representatives Barden, Eikenberry.

To Committee on Rules for second reading.

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 457, by Representatives Bagnariol, Johnson and Gilleland:

Providing for payment for costs of relocating public sewer and water facilities located within the right of way of certain highways.

The bill was read the second time.

On motion of Mr. Perry, the second reading was considered the third, and House Bill No. 457 was placed on final passage.

Mr. Perry spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Perry yielded to question by Mr. Newhouse.

Mr. Newhouse: "Mr. Perry, I notice in the language, particularly in section 2, that it refers to a publicly-owned sewer or water utility. I'm not quite sure how to describe or how to define 'publicly-owned.' Why is it so written? Why could not a privately-owned, a group-owned, or some other type of utility be reimbursed for relocation?"

Mr. Perry: "In 1961 we passed this bill. Julia Butler Hansen passed a bill in this House (I think it was House Bill No. 425, at that time), which dealt with just exactly what you are talking about--the compensation or reimbursement of investor-owned utilities--all utilities that were disrupted by the construction of a highway. The Supreme Court subsequently said that that was lending the credit of the state to a private party and ruled it unconstitutional. That is why we have it this way."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 457, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 97; nays, 0; not voting, 1.

Voting yeas: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Bagnariol, Barden, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Benitz, Berentson, Blair, Bluechel, Brown, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Cunningham, Curtis, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Eikenberry, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Flanagan, Fortson, Freeman, Gaines, Gallagher, Garrett, Gaspard, Gilleland, Goltz, Hansen, Hansey, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jueling, Julin, Kelley, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kopet, Kraabel, Kuehnle, Laughlin, Leckenby, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, Matthews, Maxie, May, McCormick, Moon, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North F., North L., O'Brien, Pardini, Paris, Parker, Patterson, Perry, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Randall, Savage, Schumaker, Shinpoch, Smith, Smythe, Sommers, Swayze, Thumpson, Tilly, Valle, Van Dyk, Wanke, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, Zimmerman, and Mr. Speaker.

Not voting: Representative Kalich.

House Bill No. 457, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

HOUSE BILL NO. 487, by Representatives Johnson, Kalich and Ellis:

Redefining certain elements of a lottery in order to allow consumers to participate in various promotional schemes.

MOTION

On motion of Mrs. Wojahn, Second Substitute House Bill No. 487 was substituted for House Bill No. 487, and the second substitute bill was placed on the calendar for second reading.

MOTION

Mr. Kuehnle moved that the House defer consideration of Second Substitute House Bill No. 487, and it be ordered placed on tomorrow's second reading calendar.

Representatives Kuehnle and Wojahn spoke in favor of the motion, and the motion was carried.

HOUSE BILL NO. 616, by Representatives Hurley, Blair, May, Laughlin, Douthwaite, Van Dyk, Charnley, Thompson and Lysen:

Requiring the approval of the department of ecology when a highway project is to be constructed.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Charette, House Bill No. 616 was rereferred to the Committee on Rules.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1059, by Representatives Perry, Rabel, Sommers, North (Frances), Fortson, Valle, Eng, Johnson, Wojahn, McCormick, Maxie and North (Lois):

Establishing the Washington state women's council.

Committee on State Government recommendation: Majority, do pass with the following amendment:

On page 2, section 3, line 3 after "appointed for" strike "four-year" and insert "three-year"

The bill was read the second time.

On motion of Mr. Perry, the committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Perry, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 1, section 3, line 26 after "commencing" strike "July 1" and insert "October 1"

On page 3, section 11, line 14 after "effect" strike "July 1" and insert "October 1"

House Bill No. 1059 was ordered engrossed.

Mr. Perry moved that the second reading be considered the third, and Engrossed House Bill No. 1059 be placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Perry yielded to question by Mr. Pardini.

Mr. Pardini: "Mr. Perry, is there an appropriation in this bill to carry it out?"

Mr. Perry: "I don't see any appropriation."

Mr. Pardini: "That is why I am wondering whether we ought to let it get off second reading before we appropriate the money in order to carry out the intent of the act."

Mr. Perry: "I am probably not qualified. This is now acting through the Governor's office, and I think it is temporarily funded."

Mrs. Wojahn: "If I may, Representative Pardini, I would like to respond to your question. In addition to some appropriations, or some support from the Governor's office, this bill would permit the Women's Council to seek private foundation funds and other funds, but we need the statutory authority to do so and we could probably free some money to assist."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kopet yielded to question by Mr. Pardini.

Mr. Pardini: "Mr. Kopet, I will direct my question to you since Mr. Shinpoch isn't here. We have a fiscal note of some $84,000 to implement this. How much money did we give in the last budget for the Women's Council? Do you know?"

Mr. Kopet: "Not having a photographic memory, I think about $34,000. It was funded until the first of January of this coming year. I am sure to carry on the Council as it is, would require another $50,000 or $60,000 appropriation. I don't believe the money is available unless there is a subsequent appropriation. I would like to speak to Mrs. Wojahn's comments."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "This is all somewhat out of order at this time. We are on a motion to advance the bill to third reading. I did give Mr. Pardini the opportunity to ask a question."

Mr. Pardini: "I'm sorry, Mr. Speaker, but the reason I am doing this is that if it goes to third reading and we don't have an appropriation here, it is beyond our reach to add the appropriation to it. I am doing this as a friend of the bill, hoping to add an appropriation to it so that we can carry out the effect of the bill."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "The Speaker understands your motives and the Speaker is quite tolerant."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Perry: "Mr. Speaker, I made the motion, and are we about to act on the motion to advance the bill to third reading?"

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "You can withdraw your motion."

Mr. Perry: "I have no intention of withdrawing my motion. The situation seems obvious that the money is there to operate until January 1. I don't think this sets any sort of precedent. The Governor is operating the Department of Community Affairs with Mr. Hemstad without any money from this Legislature."

The motion by Mr. Perry was carried.

Representatives Perry and Wojahn spoke in favor of passage of the bill, and Representative Curtis spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mrs. Wojahn yielded to question by Mr. Morrison.

Mr. Morrison: "Representative Wojahn, some of us are a little concerned about the proliferation of some of these commissions and councils. I wonder if you could perhaps see the logic of the State Women's Council, which I believe will be created by this statute, being under the Human Rights Commission as opposed to a segment of the Office of the Governor?"

Mrs. Wojahn: "I would not be too receptive to that at this time, Representative Morrison, for the reason that the Human Rights Commission is burdened now with other area problems. I think that we need a separate identity, and I would be reluctant. Maybe two years from now it is possible, but I think now it should not be done. And I don't think it is going to be any more expensive handling it the way it is. One thing, the Women's Council is composed of only fifteen members as opposed to the Status of Women Commission that functioned in this state under former Governor Rosellini and then again under Governor Evans. That commission was composed of about 75 or 80, which was not a functioning and workable group. We have a small group that is efficiently working and I think we should remain and hold our status for at least two more years."

Representatives Morrison and Hayner spoke against passage of the bill, and Representative Perry closed debate, speaking again in favor of the bill.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 1059, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 65; nays, 31; not voting, 2.

House Joint Resolution No. 31, having received the constitutional majority was declared passed.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 41, by Representatives Brown, Charette, North (Lois) and Moon:

Amending the Constitution to permit a bill to take effect ninety days after the Governor's signature.

Committee on Constitution and Elections recommendation: Majority, do pass as amended. (For amendments, see Journal for second day, September 9, 1973, 2nd ex. sess.)

The resolution was read the second time.

On motion of Mr. King, the committee amendment was adopted.

House Joint Resolution No. 41 was ordered engrossed.

On motion of Mr. Conner, the second reading was considered the third, and Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 41 was placed on final passage.

Mr. Brown spoke in favor of passage of the resolution, and Mr. Leckenby spoke against it.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 41, and the resolution failed to pass the House by the following vote: Yeas, 61; nays, 37; not voting, 0.

Voting yea: Representatives Adams, Anderson, Bagnariol, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Blair, Bluechel, Brown, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Fortson, Gaines, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Hansen, Haussler, Hoggins, Jastad, Johnson, Kalich, Kelley, Kilbury, Knowles, Laughlin, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, Maxie, May, McCormick, Moon, North F., North L., O'Brien, Parker, Perry, Randall, Savage, Shinpoch, Smith, Smythe, Sommers, Thompson, Valle, Van Dyk, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, and Mr. Speaker.

Voting nay: Representatives Amen, Barden, Benitz, Berentson, Cunningham, Curtis, Eikenberry, Flanagan, Freeman, Garrett, Gilleland, Hansey, Hayner, Hendricks, Hurley, Jueling, Julin, King, Kopet, Kraabel, Kuehnle, Leckenby, Matthews, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, Pardini, Paris, Patterson, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Schumaker, Swayze, Tilly, Wilson, Zimmerman.

Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 41, having failed to receive the constitutional majority, was declared lost.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mr. King, having voted on the prevailing side, moved that the House do now reconsider the vote by which Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 41 failed to pass the House.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Pardini: "Mr. Speaker, will this vote require a majority or a two-thirds vote?"

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "A majority vote."

Mr. Pardini demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Mr. King that the House do now reconsider the vote by which Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 41 failed to pass the House, and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 63; nays, 35; not voting, 0.

Voting yea: Representatives Adams, Anderson, Bagnariol, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Blair, Bluechel, Brown, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Fortson, Gaines, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Hansen, Haussler, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Kalich, Kelley, Kilbury,

MOTION

Mr. Thompson moved that further consideration of Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 41 be deferred, and that it be placed on tomorrow's third reading calendar.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Julin: "Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the last vote was the motion to reconsider this matter immediately. That vote carried. The effect of this motion is to overrule that decision of the body and we are voting on the same issue twice."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "The vote that carried was to place Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 41 on third reading again with the same status as it had before the vote was taken that caused its failure. So by reconsideration, the bill went back on third reading. At that time the body had the decision whether to act again on final passage or to make some other motion. Mr. Thompson moved to defer further consideration on the bill until tomorrow. That is the question before you now."

Mr. Julin: "You left out the significant word. The motion said to reconsider immediately, and now we are overruling that decision."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "No, we are not. We did move to reconsider immediately, and it carried. That was one step which was accomplished."

The motion by Mr. Thompson was carried.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 446, by Representative Randall:

Pertaining to property taxes.

The bill was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Representatives Sommers and Swayze spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Swayze yielded to question by Mr. Eikenberry.

Mr. Eikenberry: "Representative Swayze, for the purpose of the record, would you state the intent of the language which you questioned: That is, the statement of the county being a taxing district and what effect that would have on the six percent ceiling?"

Mr. Swayze: "My objection was that an entire county in the bill is defined as a taxing district to which the bill is addressed. And then later language in the amendatory portion of the bill says that if any property within such taxing district has not been revalued in the reevaluation cycle as previously ordered by law, that then the lid will not apply to such entire taxing districts. I think the language still says that. I think that from a standpoint of legal language, it would still be possible legally to lift that lid on the portions of a particular county which have been previously revalued, but for all practical purposes, I have been convinced that since the assessment, the revaluations, the millages have already been fixed, and the levies have already been completed for those particular areas of the counties. I have been assured that there is no intent on the part of any county to go back and redo the millages and the levies on that property that has already been revalued for the one year for which this lid is lifted. I accept that assurance from those people in good faith, and hope that both the Department of Revenue and the local counties and the county assessors will follow that intent and really interpret and implement this bill in good faith and in the manner in which it is intended."

Mr. Eikenberry: "Thank you. In view of my experience, and interpretations by the Department of Revenue of the law, I believe your statement in the record could be very helpful."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 446, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 76; nays, 22; not voting, 0.

Voting yea: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Bagnariol, Bauer, Beck, Bender, Benitz, Berentson, Blair, Bluechel, Brown, Ceccarelli, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Flanagan, Fortson, Gaines, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Hansen, Hansey, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jueling, Kalich, Kelley, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kopet, Kraabel, Kuehnle, Laughlin, Luders, Martinis, Matthews, Maxie, May, McCormick, Moon, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North F., North L., O'Brien, Paris, Parker, Patterson, Perry, Rabel, Randall, Schumaker, Shinpoch, Smith, Smythe, Sommers, Swayze, Thompson, Valle, Van Dyk, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman, and Mr. Speaker.

Voting nay: Representatives Barden, Bausch, Charette, Conner, Cunningham, Curtis, Eikenberry, Freeman, Garrett, Gilleland, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Julin, Leckenby, Lysen, Pardini, Polk, Pullen, Savage, Tilly, Wilson.

Engrossed House Bill No. 446, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

Through an error I voted "No" on Engrossed House Bill No. 446. I wish the Journal to say that I intended to vote "Yes."

JOE D. HAUSSLER, 7th District.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

We, the undersigned members of the House of Representatives, voted for Engrossed House Bill No. 446, which lifted 106% revenue limit for taxing districts who had not had an opportunity to utilize the revenue generated through reevaluation. Due to the revenue figures submitted by the assessor of Whitman County which indicate a substantially smaller increase than the Department of Revenue estimates which would have been excessive.

OTTO AMEN, 9th District,
E. G. "PAT" PATTERSON, 9th District.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

I intended to vote "Aye" on Engrossed House Bill No. 446, but didn't become aware that I was inadvertently voting "Nay" until after the voting machine was locked.

WILLIAM M. POLK, 41st District.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Julin: "I call your attention to the provisions of Revised Rule 70 which we adopted. It says 'Provided that during the second extraordinary session of the forty-third legislature reconsideration can be had only on the day the vote to be reconsidered was taken.' In light of that rule, I ask the Chair whether or not Mr. Thompson's motion to reconsider tomorrow is in order?"

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Your question, Mr. Julin, is really out of order. Action has been taken by the body to defer action--to defer the bill until tomorrow. Your question in many respects isn't timely. I have already ruled on the fact that the vote was taken immediately on reconsideration, which is in order and according to our rules. I really don't understand why you are raising the question again. If you have a little time maybe after the session we could get together and talk about this."

Mr. Julin: "I believe the purpose of the rule change that was adopted by your majority was for the purpose of expediting the business of the House. This rule is there at your request, and it seems that we ought to abide by it. I am simply asking the Chair to rule on the applicability of that particular rule. I have not made a point of order, I am asking the Chair to rule."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Everything was in order. The reason this rule change was made, is that prior to this in our regular rules, adopted for the regular session, you could only reconsider on the next working day. You served noticed on one day, and on the next working day the motion was placed for reconsideration. So the change was made to reconsider immediately for the purpose of expediting our work. So this was done. The motion was made to reconsider the bill immediately. This action was taken and it had the approval of the majority of the body. So we were in order all the way, and the bill did come back for reconsideration at that time. On reconsideration, the object of it, of course, is to place it right back to where it was before the vote was taken. This was accomplished. Then the House decided to defer further consideration on it until tomorrow, so everything is according to our House rules."

THIRD READING

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 191, by Representative Randall:

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) stated the question before the House to be reconsideration of final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 191. (See yesterday's Journal for previous action.)

Not voting: Representative Bluechel.

Engrossed House Bill No. 191, having failed to receive the constitutional majority, was declared lost.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Charette: "There is a list of four bills to be referred from Rules to various committees. Would it be proper for me make that in one motion?"

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "If there are no objections, the motion would be in order."

MOTION

Mr. Charette moved that ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 14 be rereferred from the Committee on Rules to the Committee on Social and Health Services; ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 385 be rereferred from the Committee on Rules to the Committee on Agriculture; ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 530 from the Committee on Rules to the Committee on Agriculture; and HOUSE BILL NO. 1077 from the Committee on Rules to the Committee on Commerce.

To Committee on Ways and Means - Revenue.

The Speaker assumed the Chair.

SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker announced that he was about to sign:
HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 58.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Charette, the House recessed until 6:45 p.m.

EVENING SESSION

The House was called to order at 6:45 p.m. by the Speaker (Mr. Charette presiding). The Clerk called the roll and all members were present except Representative Lysen who was excused.

JOINT SESSION

The Sergeant at Arms of the House announced the arrival of the Senate at the bar of the House.

The Speaker (Mr. Charette presiding) invited the Senators to seats within the House and instructed the Sergeants at Arms of the Senate and the House to escort the President, President Pro Tempore, and Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate to seats on the rostrum beside the Speaker.

The Speaker (Mr. Charette presiding) turned the gavel over to the President of the Senate.

The Secretary of the Senate called the roll of the Senate, and all members were present.

The Clerk called the roll of the House and all members were present except Representative Lysen who was excused.

The President: "Honored members of the Legislature, ladies and gentlemen: The purpose of this joint session is to discuss the Northwest energy shortage. The President at this time should like to respectfully request of the Honorable Robert Perry, member of the House of Representatives, to introduce the first witness."

Representative Perry: "Thank you, Governor Cherberg. Fellow members, Senators and Representatives: Due to the unusual request of the Governor for emergency powers to avert a crisis or disaster in this energy area, after eight hours of intensive hearings between the Senate Transportation and Utilities Committee and the House Transportation and Utilities Committee, we felt that there wasn't any way that we could possibly--due to the short period of time that we are going to be in this session, and due to the scope of the powers asked for by the Governor--inform our fellow members as to the seriousness of the power crisis that is upon us. We had a meeting Wednesday, and we subsequently had one Friday night and Saturday night. And I want to thank all of the members of the Transportation and Utilities Committee who sat through that and who have again come this evening. I am sure that after the prominent panel of speakers are finished this evening (they will take about one hour to make this presentation) then there will be questions afterward with the permission of the President of the Senate. So without further ado, unless Senator Walgren has something to add, I would like to introduce Mr. Don Hodel who is Administrator of the Bonneville Power Administration."

Mr. Don Hodel: "Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, Mr. Speaker, Representative Perry, Senator Walgren, members of the Legislature: I can hardly say that it is a pleasure for me to be here tonight. I was sworn into this job as Administrator of Bonneville on December 1, 1972. Bonneville didn't start curtailing loads until December 4. And had somebody predicted that I would be here tonight in this position, I would have said 'You are the greatest prophet of doom and gloom ever seen on the face of the earth because it would take record setting low water in the Pacific Northwest to bring us to this state of affairs.' And we are there.

"During the spring, several times we had the opportunity to point out along the way that instead of the 90 million acre feet that we had anticipated the runoff would be this spring, it was dropping. Each month that our forecast was made, we dropped it, because the water in the rivers plus the rainfall and the snowfall that we could see ahead just wasn't adequate. As late as June, we were still anticipating a 77 million acre foot runoff. In fact as of July 31, we had a 70.7 million acre foot runoff which was one of the lowest of record.

"In July, after anticipating that we would conceivably be in the position of curtailing additional industrial loads in the Pacific Northwest by October or November, or September or October, if the water conditions remained bad, we found it necessary to add to the woes of the industrial customers in this region by curtailing their loads additionally over the April cutoffs, with which I am quite sure you are familiar because it occurred during the prior session. The effect of those curtailments, of our curtailments, has been a loss in the neighborhood of 1,100 jobs in this region.

"Now today, we are faced with a prospect, as we see it, as grim as any we have ever faced. I have asked that material be passed out to you which we have labeled: 'Fact Sheet Power Situation, August 31, 1973.' I do not intend to read through this paper. It speaks for itself. I would like to highlight certain aspects of it. The loads and resources picture as we see it, over the 20 1/2 month critical period which begins in mid-August, 1973, and ends at the end of April, 1975--that 20 1/2-month critical period finds this region normally requiring about 200 billion kilowatt hours of electricity to meet its loads. Our present estimates of the reservoir levels are that we are about 15 billion KWH short of the storage required. Now 85 percent of the load in this region is met by falling water--by electricity generated by falling water. Fifteen percent is met by other sources--coal, oil, natural gas and imports from steam plants and, of course, nuclear from the Hanford Reservation. This means that whereas in the rest of the country the President can provide immediate relief if he succeeds in changing some of the air quality standards that apply to coal-fired generation in the east, he cannot do the same thing in this region because we do not have an adequate thermal resource base to make that possible.

"The precipitation, snowpack and rainfall figures simply augment what I have said about the lowest rainfalls of record. Our reservoir capacity is 46 billion KWH worth of water. Normally at this time of year we should have 45 billion KWH in our reservoirs. We have 30 billion in them. Our deficiency, as I have indicated, is 15 billion KWH.

"I would just like to highlight that if we do not obtain a reduction in our loads and if our water conditions should improve so that they are as good as the worst prior year of record--if we can get up to that glorious state--we will find that we have by March of 1974 about a 3.2 billion KWH deficit and we will find ourselves about 30 percent of our firm load short of being able to meet our load. That is the equivalent of approximately 200,000 households of electricity for a full year's use.

"Now identifying in this paper other causes of the deficiencies, the effect on interruptable industry, the situation with regard to provisional energy, the changes in our firm load and power from outside the region (which I understand, should the decision be made to answer questions, I would be very happy to comment on those) I would like to draw your attention to some of these graphs and charts.

"The first one which is labeled 'January-July runoff at the Dalles in millions of acre feet' points out that 1963 was our median year. That was the midpoint in all of the years runoff that we have experienced. This year, 1973, as you see, is on this chart the sixth worst on record, and overall in 95 years represents the 10th worst runoff of record. That is what results in the situation which is pictured on the next chart. The status of the Pacific Northwest storage reservoirs as of September 1, 1973--they should be drawn down about one billion KWH from full. In fact they are 16 billion KWH from full and contain 30 billion KWH. Mind you we continue to have stream flow throughout the year, so that this storage is intended to augment the reducing stream flow as the precipitation that falls in the mountains takes the form of snow and is not available to us until the spring runoff.

"Now the next chart is a hydrograph of the natural stream flow at Grand Coulee. The heavy black line which only goes about as far as the 7th of September or so, represents this year's stream flow--natural stream flow at Grand Coulee. Of course, that has to be computed because now the stream flow at Coulee is regulated, but the natural stream flow at Coulee this year, as you can see, is below the lowest previous stream flow of record which is 1936-37. And in fact, it is because of that fact that we find ourselves 15 billion KWH short instead of the 13 billion that we were predicting as late as mid-August would be the case. Largely, that is a reduction in stream flow below even the lowest year of record.

"I have to say here we want to emphasize, and we try to time and again, that it is entirely possible that beginning tomorrow we could revert to average rainfall or median conditions or better than average conditions. And we are not in a position to predict that just because it has been this bad today that it is going to continue to be as bad.

"But before we take too much hope from that, I would remind you that on December 5, when I was complaining about having to call for cutbacks as soon after I was sworn into office as I was, somebody said to me 'Well, it can only go uphill from here.' It hasn't. And the Swedish experience in 1969-70 was that after a low runoff of record--one of their lowest runoffs of record--their hydrologist advised them there had never been, historically had never been, a cold-record-setting winter following that kind of a summer. Based on that, the Swedish government concluded they would not enter into a rigorous conservation curtailment and mandatory curtailment program. Instead of that they concluded it would be appropriate to gamble that the weather would improve. It didn't improve. They set a new record, having had therefore a cold spell following a low runoff. They found themselves faced with much more massive curtailments than would otherwise have been the case.

"In our case, our indications are that if we are to get through this winter with the 7 1/2 percent average load reduction that we have talked about--we need to start soon. Now is perhaps too strong a word, but soon. I have said for three weeks now that if the Defense Electric Power Administration existed today with the authority it had in 1952, we would be appealing to the federal government to issue mandatory curtailment orders in the Pacific Northwest. I think the situation is that serious. I think we will be accused of irresponsibility if we have not done something soon about this situation, if it turns out that we continue to set records.

"On the other hand, we all have to reckon with this fact: That if we curtail rigorously the loads in this region, and then nature blesses us with a good runoff, we will be accused of having cried 'wolf' one more time. I have no solution to offer you for that fact, except to say that I would rather be accused in a good water winter of having cried 'wolf' but gotten the job done, than to find ourselves in March this coming year faced with massive curtailments of the magnitude of 30 percent, and sit back and say (I visualize myself in front of the United States Senate committee on this rather than the state of Washington or the state of Oregon, but explaining to the Chairman of the Senate Interior Committee that) 'Yes, we saw the problem arising, sir, but as far as what we did about it--we just worried a lot.'

"Now the next chart shows the September to March runoff at The Dalles. The median, as you can see, was the 1938 year. Last year was not too far off the median. What happened to us, of course, we didn't get much snowfall. This year we don't know--we can't predict it, but as you can see, if we continued the same percentage below the previous year of record, we would find ourselves setting an all-time record for low runoff. That is the question mark at the far right of the chart.

"The next chart talks about the Pacific Northwest coordinated system--1973-74. We are talking about firm energy. The first line illustrates the loads, and you will notice that those loads grow on a monthly basis as we get into the colder period of the year. Our resources based on 1936-37 water (the lowest year of record) shows hydro resources by month. The next line shows our thermal or steam-generated resources by month. We total those and we find that by February, March and April, without some kind of cutback, and without an improvement in the water conditions, we are between 25 and 30 percent deficient in the month of March.

"And I must say again these are all assumptions. They are simply forecasts. I cannot predict the weather any more successfully than the long-range weather forecasters we have been paying good money to over the years.

"The last chart I have thrown in, somewhat gratuitously, simply to illustrate, I think, an important point. The kind of legislation which you are considering, which the state of Oregon has, which Idaho and Montana are considering, may not prove to be a one-shot proposition. What is not shown on this chart is that in 1973-74, the left hand side of the chart, we had forecasted surpluses. This year we had forecasted surpluses in the peaking capacity of 55 megawatts, in the average energy of 297 megawatts, whereas, in fact, we are facing nearly a thousand megawatt deficit--or a million kilowatt deficit. There is a present schedule listed here, and a present schedule with possible delays. If you look at the present schedule with possible delays, you will see that we are deficit both in energy and peaking capacity from now on. And I am advised today by the Washington Public Power Supply System that Hanford Plant No. 2, previously scheduled for September, 1977, will not be on line. It will be delayed a year, until September 1978 at best. That Washington Public Power Supply System No. 1 which is the rebuild of the Hanford N Reactor will be rescheduled shortly for September, 1981 instead of September, 1980. These represent one-year slippages. What I think I have to say is that realistically today, looking ahead, we have got to face the fact that the present schedule with possible delays is far more likely to be the real world of electric supply in this region than is the present schedule.

"Now these are alarming circumstances to all of us. Especially to those in the interconnected power system of this region. When we made our appeal, we found out that not every utility in the region followed suit. In fact, in December of 1972 when I made our appeal for Bonneville, there were a number of utilities that said (they were buying power from us at the time) their position was 'well, really that isn't our problem, that's Bonneville's problem.' We had a number of discussions following that period. And we looked into the realities of the interconnected systems and we learned one alarming situation, and that is this: That if Bonneville is short--everybody is short. If Washington Water Power, or Portland General Electric, or Idaho Power, or Chelan County PUD--and incidentally, I picked some systems there that are far from being short themselves--but if any single utility in this system is short, we are all short. Because we are interconnected, it is physically not feasible for us to go out and cut those lines with the adjacent utilities.

"I asked our engineering staff to make a study for me to find out if it would be possible to segregate our system from that of Portland General Electric Company when it appeared they would not get the Harborton Generators.

It now appears they will. I was advised it was technically not feasible for us to cut them off. We have spent years in this region trying to build a reliable power system, an integrated grid, and we have done it. So we all find ourselves in this thing together.

"I think there is one last thing I should comment on. Secretary Morton was here in the state of Washington just a couple of weeks ago--on August 18, as a matter of fact. At that time, in a press conference, the Secretary made this statement in response to the question of what about a mandatory curtailment program or curtailment instituted by the utilities. He said this: 'Whether BPA and the utilities acting in concert can and should undertake a broad-based curtailment program is open to question. Certainly our Constitution reserves certain rights to the individual states. And these presumably include state energy rights. It would, therefore, appear that any curtailment program devised by the utilities be approved, administered and enforced by the states in the region. If the states abdicate this responsibility or are unable to agree upon a uniform workable curtailment plan, I think it is inevitable that the federal government will step in.'

"I think it is appropriate to mention that last week Governor Love, who is now responsible for the energy programs of the administration, requested the Secretary of the Interior to establish an emergency contingency curtailment plan for the Pacific Northwest. And Friday I was supposed to be with Mr. Brazier and the members of the Public Utility Commissions of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana in Boise, but I remained in Portland to meet with two people sent up by the Department of Interior to look into a federal mandatory curtailment program. We argue that the Secretary's policy statement makes plain this is the responsibility of the states. But the federal government is taking this view, that it cannot be found wanting if it turns out this does not prove to be a suitable arrangement. Thank you."

The President: "The next speaker will be Mr. E. F. Timme, Director of Coordination, Northwest Power Pool, speaking on the subject 'Current Status: Northwest Power Pool Operations.' Mr. Timme."

Mr. E. F. Timme: "Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, Mr. Speaker, members of the Washington Legislature: As indicated in the introduction, I am Director of Coordination of the Northwest Power Pool. My function, along with that of my staff, is to coordinate the short-term operational planning and the coordinated operation of the Northwest Power Pool utilities in conjunction with the utilities. I might take just a moment to briefly review what the Northwest Power Pool is, because this has been a matter of confusion in the past few weeks.

"The Northwest Power Pool is made up of 18 major utilities or agencies throughout the Northwest. It consists of eight investor-owned systems, three federal agencies, three municipals, three public utility districts, and one provincial system in British Columbia. It covers a service area that includes all of the states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, part of northern California, a small part of northern Nevada, most of Utah, a small part of Wyoming, most of Montana, and the province of British Columbia.

"The shortage area that we are speaking to tonight consists of at least (and I say at least because this shortage area, or the region that is faced with this shortage area has not really been completely defined yet), but at least it consists of those systems serving Oregon, Washington, northern Idaho, western Montana, and part of southern Idaho.

"Another point that I would like to impress on you gentlemen and ladies: The interstate nature of the electric utility business here in the Northwest--all the major systems are either interstate as far as their service areas are concerned, or they are interstate as far as their contractual exchanges with other systems throughout the Northwest, and for that matter the entire western half of the United States.

"Now as far as the current situation, I can only confirm all of the comments that Don Hodel has made as to our current status. I have used somewhat different terms in describing the current shortage that we face as far as the deficiency in reservoir storage. Don referred to it as 15 billion kilowatt hours. We use a somewhat different term: Kilowatt months. And the equivalent figure is 20,700,000 kilowatt months. A kilowatt is 1,000 watts generated continuously for a full month. Last week in talking to the Western Conference of State Governments (not to sensationalize this by any means, but to try to impress on those present the size of this current deficiency) we compared it to shutting down the entire city of Seattle for a 24-month period. This is what this current deficiency is equivalent to in terms of electric load here in the Northwest.

"Now another measure that Don also referred to in his comments, and some of his charts, was the current level of the flow in Northwest streams. We assess this on a weekly basis, and for the week ending last Thursday, September 6, what we call the natural flow in all the rivers and streams in the Northwest was equivalent to 4 million kilowatts below the normal level for this first week in September.

"Now as to the future outlook: To the extent that subnormal precipitation should continue, to the extent that those limited thermal plants that we do have in the Northwest are limited by fuel, to the extent that existing plants such as Centralia or Hanford are limited in their operating capability, and to the extent that new plants such as Harborton, the combustion turbines that were supposed to have been installed on September 1st, to the extent that the Bridger Thermal Plant in western Wyoming, which will be used to serve the southern Idaho area, to the extent that Huntington Canyon in Utah that will be used to serve the Utah area, to the extent that any of these conditions occur, that any of these units are delayed and these other conditions occur, then we can expect a continuation of our present situation. And it possibly could be a continued deterioration. On somewhat the more optimistic side, if we can--if Mother Nature smiles on us in these coming fall months and provides about two or three times normal rainfall in October, November and December, this will go a long way toward helping to alleviate or delay any mandatory curtailments.

"Many of you may know the utilities have launched energy conservation programs throughout the Pacific Northwest. They have launched a voluntary curtailment program with all of their customers and are making personal contacts with their major customers, and we hope that this will bear fruit. However, we do not expect that all the voluntary curtailment that we can get will alleviate the necessity to have a mandatory curtailment plan to fall back on in case we need it. Thank you."

The President: "Thank you very much, Mr. Timme. Our next speaker will be Mr. Gordon Culp, Counsel for the Pacific Northwest Utilities Conference Committee. Mr. Culp."

Mr. Gordon Culp: "Mr. President, distinguished members of the Legislature: You have heard from the previous speakers a description of the physical problems that we face. More from a legal than perhaps a legislative standpoint, I think I can characterize it by saying that we have, as you can see, a present emergency and a potential disaster. Now, an emergency meaning we are so far behind where we should be that every day that extraordinary steps are not taken leaves a greater and greater chance that we would not be able to avoid a really disastrous cutback in electric service. As someone said, it is a little bit like the game of roulette. We can keep hoping that the weather will get better--wetter, in this case. Hoping that voluntary programs will work. And I suppose you can make the argument that the probabilities are whatever you would choose as to whether we would be able to avoid deep mandatory cuts. But like in a game of Russian roulette, where the odds are always six to one in the players' favor, the results are not thought to justify those odds in polite company, and I think the same thing is true here.

"We were faced in looking at this, to analyze as you have heard here, what kind of a system we are facing and how a standby mandatory program could be put into effect. First of all, as you have heard, it is and must be a regional problem. It cannot be made a state problem. The system doesn't work that way, and there is no way you can make it work that way. So we searched for ways to coordinate, or at least get parallel actions, in the various states that were necessary in order to have an effective program. The four states Mr. Timme mentioned. We looked at numerous possible federal methods of controlling this situation. As Mr. Hodel mentioned, some of them are looking at us. We also investigated that possibility. I can't say that we briefed every single part of the powers of the various federal agencies that might become involved because almost all of the utilities that we talked to and practically everyone else we talked to thought that for numerous reasons it would be advisable if this matter could be handled on a state level.

"So we searched for ways that a regional problem could be handled on a state level--pretty much dispensed with the idea of there being an interstate compact because of all the time-consuming and very unwieldy problems that go into putting into and managing an interstate compact. And although we need to have similar actions in all four states, I don't think it is true that you need to have identical legislation in all four states. However, there has to be some residue of state authority that can order these identical actions, in order to make it work. Now the reason for this is that electric service is provided under a host of different arrangements, and different jurisdictions. There are all kinds of different contracts. There are different agencies in different states that control how it is managed. In the state of Washington, for instance, you have about sixty percent of the consumers served by public agencies and only forty percent being regulated electric companies under the direct control of the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission. In other Northwest states that percentage is reversed--more than reversed. A high percentage are under regulated utility companies.

"So we suggested and have been trying to think through how we could get the common denominator and what we arrived at was to try to encourage similar powers in all four states, whereby some appropriate and effective state power could, in cooperation with the other three states, agree on and enforce a uniform regional program for mandatory curtailment if that became necessary.

"One of the most difficult points, and one that I am sure you will recognize as you get into the legislation itself on this matter, is the jurisdictional questions raised on all kinds of federal-state problems. Our good friend Mr. Hodel and the BPA have all kinds of contracts directly with some industrial users. They have contracts with utilities. We just have to have a way so that the very large amount of energy that is provided by the federal government can also come within this state regulation.

"In order to do that, we proposed a system where the curtailment programs would apply to the end user--not to the utilities where it may or may not be effective, depending on who their contracts are with, etc. But we perceive that all the end users within the state of Washington are within the police power of the state of Washington. The same being true in the other four states, and that if the curtailment plans could apply directly to the user, that we could have an effective method of regional curtailment. Now this doesn't mean that utilities won't have to help in this. They will. The Governor in this case, or a committee that is being discussed, or any state--whoever is administering this--is going to need advice from the utilities as to what is technically possible as far as cutting back electric usage. Some things, as equitable as they may sound, just physically cannot be done. And above all, an emergency measure such as this, has to be technically possible. If it falls apart, it falls apart--however good our intentions may be.

"One other thing is that the utilities have at their disposal, of course, a huge amount of information which is kept up in some cases daily, weekly, monthly. A large part of the information is computerized and their help will be needed on many of these things, but essentially as we have thought of this, we have thought of the utilities, carrying out the governmental orders, and using their ability to do so. But the orders have to come from the government--the state in this case. Now I don't want to dwell on this too much further. Another thing we thought was good, was that it should be a temporary measure--a clean measure. It is an emergency. We tried very hard not to get it wrapped up with other things which might not be as emergent, and to get over this problem which is a water problem now. As you have heard, when the falling water doesn't fall we have trouble and we have to deal with it. We have tried to keep this in a temporary measure--leaving it to the full session of the Legislature if in their wisdom, they choose to look into this matter further, to be able to do it when they have time to study it.

"Finally, the purpose, as far as the Pacific Northwest Utilities Conference Committee has worked on this--the purpose was and is to come out with a fair pattern of end use that will permit the usage to be reduced on as equitable a basis as possible to prevent a system failure. I say it has got to be as fair and as equitable and certainly that is the intent. We have to keep in mind that the whole purpose of this is to prevent a system failure. The ultimate of a system failure is a blackout, and the blackout we submit is the ultimate unfairness. So we have to be as fair as we can within the physical limitations of the system. And that is what our proposals are intended to do. Thank you very much."

The President: "Thank you very much, Mr. Culp. The next speaker will be the Honorable Don Brazier, Chairman of the Utilities and Transportation Commission, speaking on the subject 'The Role of the Executive Branch in Power Curtailment.'"

Mr. Donald Brazier: "Distinguished members of the Senate and House: I am Donald Brazier, Chairman of the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission. I am accompanied here this evening by my fellow commissioners, Francis Pearson and Elmer Huntley. We have been involved in and concerned with the impending electrical power shortage insofar as our duties encompass the regulation of the investor-owned utilities in our state for quite some time; especially since it became evident last winter that our snowpack was deficient to provide for normal hydroelectric generating requirements this impending winter, absent further substantial precipitation. Additionally, as a member of the Governor's Council on Energy Policy, I have, for the past several months, been conducting an investigation of the short-term petroleum and electricity crisis, as chairman of the task force assigned to that specific problem.

"I would, therefore, like tonight to discuss with you the activities to date of the Utilities and Transportation Commission and of the Governor's Office via the Energy Council in preparing for impending problems of electricity supply and to present some ideas of the possible state role in meeting this crisis in the months to come.

"The possibility of an electrical power shortage this coming winter became evident when we entered the spring of this year with a much lower snowpack and resultant lesser runoff than is normal. Over the course of the summer the situation has gradually deteriorated, as you have heard tonight from Mr. Hodel and Mr. Timme. In monitoring this deterioration the Utilities and Transportation Commission has worked closely with three investor-owned electric utilities subject to commission regulation, the Bonneville Power Administration (and with representatives of the publicly-owned utilities) in an effort to gather and analyze the relevant data so that we could immediately take the necessary steps to regulate the investor-owned utilities in a conservation procedure and advise the Governor and the Legislature of the necessity of developing contingency plans for energy conservation insofar as the unregulated public utilities are concerned.

"In addition, and very importantly, the commission has been concerned from the beginning that any effective state action to encourage, and if necessary, mandate conservation of electricity must be coordinated on a regional basis with our neighboring Northwest Power Pool states. Therefore, in monitoring the situation this summer we have been in continuing contact with the utility commissions of our neighbors, culminating last week in a two-day joint meeting in Boise, Idaho of the Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Washington commissions and their staffs to develop a unified approach in meeting our regional crisis. At this Boise meeting, the four commissions unanimously adopted a statement directed to their respective governors, asking for a regionally unified three-phase approach such as has already been implemented by Governor Evans in his executive order and proclamation of September 6th. The first phase is an immediate 10% reduction in all state and local government consumption of electricity. The second phase is an appeal by each governor to the citizens of his state to voluntarily curtail all nonessential consumption of electricity in their homes, businesses and factories.

"Lastly, phase three anticipates development by each state of a mandatory curtailment program to be implemented directly on the ultimate user of electricity, if the all-out voluntary program fails to adequately remove our deficit of power. It was recognized by all the commissions that each state must examine its own authority to implement such a mandatory program and obtain legislative directive if at all possible as soon as possible. The mechanics of a bill empowering mandatory curtailment is, of course, what you are concerned with in this legislative session.

"When it became evident late in August that a voluntary and contingent mandatory conservation program should be instituted at a state level, the governor's council on energy developed very similar recommendations to the Governor as those developed by the four state commissions. The council continues to gather and evaluate the constantly changing data from the utilities and the Bonneville Power Administration so that it may intelligently advise the Governor as the situation develops. Likewise, these recommendations are virtually identical to those adopted by the Council of State Governments at their session in Seattle last week.

"The Washington Utilities and Transportation

Commission also is continuing to work closely with our regulated utilities and the publicly-owned utilities in a spirit of cooperation so that if mandatory curtailment becomes a necessity, all concerned pull together to avoid serious impairment of our electric energy resource. In this regard, we are meeting with representatives of the investor-owned utilities to develop schedules and the accompanying technical data necessary to implement a curtailment program. As we approach the critical year-end period, we plan, in cooperation with the utility representatives, to have compiled all the technical and economic impact data necessary to implement curtailment if necessary pursuant to legislative direction. At the same time we will hopefully be able to coordinate our efforts and the overall efforts of the Governor and the state of Washington with our neighboring power pool states in order to assure and preserve the beneficial regional intertie system and to additionally insure that our efforts here are effective in reducing the overall regional load.

"While we may hope that drought conditions subside, and that voluntary efforts by the public to curtail usage and conserve energy are sufficient to avoid mandatory curtailment, we must be prepared for that contingency. Technical experts in all phases of the industry with whom we have been in contact uniformly agree that the current situation contains the distinct possibility of the need for mandatory curtailment authority. We are indeed hopeful that the Legislature will, through temporary legislation, make provision for the implementation of such curtailment, should it become necessary."

The President: "Thank you very much, Mr. Brazier. The President will now recognize Senator Nat Washington, who is President of the Western Conference, Council of State Governments, for remarks, following which members of the panel have agreed to entertain questions for a period of thirty minutes."

Senator Washington: "Mr. President and members of the Legislature: I am just going to speak briefly on the regional aspect of the power problem. Now, it is relatively easy for four state governors to get together and decide that they are going to have a common action. It probably isn't too hard for 15 to 20 Public Service Commission members to get together and decide they are going to have common action. But when you are dealing with four state legislatures, in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana--you are dealing with 512 legislators. So in order to get legislative action, the Council of State Governments felt there should be a regional conference of legislative leaders from these four states and representatives of the Governor's executive offices to try to come up with a legislative solution, because most of these problems could not be answered without legislative action.

"The utilities of the area, in cooperation with the Council of State Governments and with the states, came up with eight recommendations of what the legislation would have to comprise. And at the meeting in Seattle last Wednesday, the four states agreed that those were the criteria that should be adopted by all four states. They agreed that it had to be a regional problem--that it had to be met on a regional basis.

"The four states did add one additional criterion and that was that there had to be coordination between the states by the agency that would be acting as the curtailer in each state. And I think it is very important on page four of the bill that you will be considering that it does provide the Governor shall undertake all efforts that may be useful in coordinating similar electric power usage curtailments and/or allocation programs with other states. I know that the state of Oregon in particular is working in this direction. They already have legislation, but it doesn't go quite far enough. They will also probably have to call a special session. I can also say that the legislation that you will be presented with by the state of Washington meets all of the criteria, and hopefully, it will be the type of legislation that will act as the guide for all the other four states. Thank you very much."

The President: "Thank you very much, Senator Washington. Do any members of the House or the Senate have questions to be directed to a specific member of the panel?"

Representative Kelley: "Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I have a question of any of the members. Perhaps the gentleman who is the legal counsel or the first gentleman who spoke. The first gentleman who spoke would be sufficient. Mr. Hodel, my question--it has been asked on several occasions or has been indicated on several occasions that if we were to have voluntary cutbacks on the part of the private sector as opposed to the commercial sector, that this might be sufficient in and of itself to curtail the shortage which you gentlemen have spoken of tonight. What exactly is the nature of that? Would it be sufficient, in other words, if each individual householder, etc., were to cut back on his power during a major part of the day? Would that be sufficient to cut off or stem this crisis that you set forth for us?"

Mr. Hodel: "I think the statistics indicate that approximately half of the load in this region is industrial load. About 13 or 14 percent is commercial. The balance is residential. Now the size curtailment we are talking about--that would be roughly 35 to 37 percent--that should total nearly 100. Obviously, if all residential users or a significant percentage of residential users would get completely off the line--which is inconceivable, but if they would--yes, you could achieve the kind of cutbacks we are talking about. We are talking about--if we start now--approximately a 7 1/2 percent average cutback. That is across the board. Everybody cuts back 7 1/2 percent, effectively, starting now, and we continue to have this bad water situation, we will get through all right. If the industrial customers were expected to bear the entire brunt of it--if the industries in this region were to do all the cutting back--they would have to cut back fifteen percent across the board. If we put all of that on the residential consumers, it is something in excess of an average 15 percent curtailment. So if we just take the numbers by sector we can figure out that if we don't have a changed water situation, increasing amounts are required by decreasing sectors of the economy."

Mr. Kelley: "As part and parcel of that, do you have any statistics to indicate the percentage of excess use on the part of the private sector or the individual sector which might indicate that wise usage would give us a percentage figure that would fit into this scheme that you set forth?"

Mr. Hodel: "I am sorry, I really don't have any figures on what constitutes excess or waste usage. I think what that tends to be is very much an individual decision, when we are talking about the residential consumer. One thing I do understand is that in 1952 when the Defense Electric Power Administration ordered mandatory curtailment, they picked on the larger load--essentially the large commercial and industrial loads in the region as well as mandating curtailments of such things as display lighting and some city street lighting, etc. If you look at the residential consumer, I think you will find that in the Swedish experience there was fairly good indication that a five to seven percent reduction could be achieved with a massive, really a massive, national effort on the conservation program. They also, however, had some rather stringent incentives. The Defense Electric Power Administration was successful in 1952 while they operated--they didn't operate past Thanksgiving because the rains came and the problem was alleviated. But in 1952 their experience was that they achieved 70 percent of the curtailment they got through the mandatory cutback and thirty percent through voluntary cutbacks on the part of the people who were below the levels they had mandated off the line."

The President recognized Representative Morrison.

Representative Morrison: "Thank you, Mr. President. Perhaps this question might be best answered by Mr. Culp, since it relates to what might turn into a legal question, if in fact we do come up with some sort of a curtailment plan. The presentations this evening have been excellent, but they have been in the framework of billions of kilowatts. We represent people who know about 110 volts when you plug the plug in, in your household. A mandatory curtailment plan has to sooner or later spin back to that person who plugs into utilized electrical power. How does this come about? How can we legally say all dishwashers have to be turned off and this sort of thing? Is there any experience in any part of the country, since we notice in the east there has been reduced voltages which is a way of curtailing from the top as opposed to the actual consumer level?"

Mr. Culp: "Yes, first of all on the reduced voltage, I am told that won't work here to any real extent because the lines are too long here. To reduce the voltage, it takes more power to get it across, so you meet yourself coming around the corner. On your main question, there is no problem of telling people that they can only use the washing machine once every two days or fill it up each time. But enforcing it is quite another question. Your question is a good one, because it leads to the very difficult problem of making this work. As Don mentioned previously, in D.E.P.A. they picked larger-use customers--8,000 kilowatts a week is way more than any household could use, for the simple reason that that made it a manageable administrative problem. In terms of ordering a residential cutback, there is obviously nothing legally to prevent you from ordering that residential loads be cut back a certain amount. The possibilities of being able to police and enforce that are very, very difficult. I am told that in the age of computers it is possible. You could get some kind of a surveillance of it, but the history of it in other places has been that they have been forced not to go just into industry, but if it got to where the cuts had to be real deep, that they had to rely primarily on the larger customers in order to be able to enforce it."

Mr. Morrison: "One additional question, Mr. President. We talked about a present emergency, with the seven percent cut required, and a potential disaster of 30 percent. Now I am presuming if we achieve the 30 percent level that in fact we will have to call on household reductions? Mr. Hodel, perhaps you may want to take that one."

Mr. Hodel: "We are looking right now at the procedures that might be available to curtail--just plain physically curtail loads. We talk about two kinds of mandatory curtailment. The one where we talk about a percentage cutback, and in this case presumably you would be looking (and I am prejudging here what a responsible authority would do) but I think you would look probably at the larger loads and apply a percentage cutback to those and request voluntary assistance from the smaller loads. I am basing that on the experience of 1952. In the event you reach the time when you are physically incapable of meeting the load because you just plain run out of power instead of expecting you may run out of power, then really the utilities have no alternative but to cut off certain feeders. Just plain drop the lines, or turn off--open the circuits. In that case whatever load is on that line is off the line. We find a good number of our customers--we are presently running a survey--a good many of our customers find that they have what they call first-priority loads on every one of the feeders that we would ask them to drop. Whether it is a hospital, old folks home, or dairy (I pity the poor farmer with 200 cows to milk and no electricity these days--or should I say I pity the cows) but in any event every feeder we can identify may well have emergency loads on it or high priority loads. But when you reach the point where you simply don't have the power and you have to curtail, then what you have to do is go out and just plain disconnect. Then you have to go back and try to reconnect as your power supply grows again. In England what they did was rotate the outage. They allocated and they said: 'O.K., this district is off for a 3-hour period,' then this district and the first district will go back on, etc. That is a rather drastic step but that is what you do when you are a certain percentage flat short of being able to meet your load."

The President called on Representative Thompson.

Representative Thompson: "I have a question for Mr. Culp. Mr. Culp, if I may say so, it appears to be rather ironic that in the administration of this unpleasantness, the federal government is advocating state's rights. I didn't understand from your explanation whether this relegation is based on insurmountable constitutional federal-state relationships or frankly some kind of a cop-out. What I am saying is wouldn't the achievement of regional uniformity and coordination be best achieved by a federal act as it was formerly?"

Mr. Culp: "Well, I don't think it is a cop-out. It was different, depending on what act you are looking at. For instance, D.E.P.A. was the one that managed the cutback in 1952, but D.E.P.A. is founded on the Defense Production Act and its powers are based on war powers, and we don't have a war now, I'm told--this morning anyway. And the O.E.P. has certain other powers that we thought maybe come a little closer to meeting this situation. Well, O.E.P. in its original form was abolished the first of June, and its powers were distributed partially to G.S.A., partially to H.U.D. It is possible that the part that went to G.S.A. could be stretched to meet this situation, but the advice we got from the Governor's conference, people who looked into this extensively, was that it wasn't too likely because it again is disaster relief. The same hang-up that there is on the sort of standing gubernatorial powers. You wait for a disaster and then you can put it back together but it is hard to find the power to prevent one. So those are the main ones. The FTC--we looked into whether they could do it under their powers, but they don't have the right jurisdiction. There are numerous reasons, depending on what we looked at. Now Governor Love's office in the White House is looking at this, and I will be frank to say I don't know what his powers are. But it takes a Presidential declaration of the emergency or disaster or something, and I have not looked specifically as to whether he has the power. But, however, we looked at it--it seemed to those that I was talking to at least that if this could be done on a state level, as an exercise of the local police powers, that you could have a more efficient system and one that would probably better reflect what the local conditions were. For instance, D.E.P.A. was trying to keep war production going. Well, at that time it caused a lot of problems as to whether aluminum companies should be on the line while someone else was cut back, etc. I am not saying that is exactly the situation now, but at least everybody seemed to think that if it could be done on a state level it could be more precise."

The President recognized Representative Gallagher.

Representative Gallagher: "Thank you. I would like to direct this question to Mr. Culp. Mr. Culp, isn't it true that Puget Power has been advocating for the past two years a voluntary cutback in the use of power in their bulletins and notices that they send out, and at the same time the increase over the last year has been eleven percent by Puget Power?"

Mr. Culp: "I understand that is correct. I am just repeating what I have heard in the course of preparing this. I know they have had a program on for a considerable time, I believe for closer to three years. They have had a substantial program of advertising in newspapers, radio, etc., asking conservation of energy. It is right that their load has been growing, I believe, at a compounded rate of eleven percent per year."

The President recognized Representative Haussler.

Representative Haussler: "Thank you, Governor. I'd like to address this question to Mr. Timme. I know he can answer it, but I think it should be brought out. Now we have this Northwest Pool or Bonneville--we have contracts to furnish power to other areas of the west. Will these contracts have to be honored even under the scarcity of power we have now, and about how much do they amount to?"

Mr. Timme: "I think my first reaction to whether we start abrogating firm contracts is a somewhat qualified 'no' and the reason I say this is, if this was all going in one direction--if there was a net delivery out of the Pacific Northwest to other areas, then the curtailment of customers in the Northwest while continuing to deliver energy outside might be questioned more highly. However, at the present time, and for the immediate future we are about in a net balance--in other words we export energy to California. We import energy from the east--from Wyoming, from Utah, and from British Columbia, and the two just about balance out during the next 20 1/2-month period that we are looking at."

The President recognized Senator Metcalf.

Senator Metcalf: "My question is for Mr. Hodel, but any other member of the panel who has a comment, I would appreciate it. Is there any indication from a study of weather patterns that we might be entering a cycle of drought conditions that might mean a period of three or four more years of substantially subnormal precipitation?"

Mr. Hodel: "I suspect that Mr. Timme will have a comment on this question, too. The only indication I have is that in conversations with our weather forecasters, some experts have been predicting a dry spell--they say that this is the beginning of it. Some say it has come a year later than predicted. Some say it is a year earlier than predicted. Candidly, I would have to say the reason you have to have long-range weather forecasts is it would be terribly embarrassing to say you have made your plans on flipping a coin. Now Mr. Timme may have some more current data as to what our long-range forecasts are looking like."

Mr. Timme: "I don't think I can add anything as far as long-range forecasting, but I would point to our historical period, and that historical period covers 1929 through 1958--a thirty-year period. And the first four years of that historical period, 1929 to 1932, were almost the equivalent to this 2-year, or 20 1/2-month period that we are currently calling our critical period. There was very little difference between the two years and the four years. So in this relatively short period of time, forty years out of millions, there has been longer period of drought."

The President recognized Senator Whetzel.

Senator Whetzel: "I think this question is for Mr. Hodel. I notice in your fact sheet you discuss interruptable power. As I read the fact sheet, there apparently is still some interruptable power provided. Can you tell me whose responsibility it is to cut that, and if it is cut completely, what the consequences would be? What I have in mind is in terms of trying to develop a voluntary program with homeowners. If they are curtailing their power in order to provide interruptable power to industry, will this have some impact on the ability to persuade the public to adopt the voluntary program?"

Mr. Hodel: "To answer the last part first, I am sure it would have and will have. This statement with regard to interruptable industry on page two at the bottom begins with the statement that on October 1, 1972, Bonneville curtailed all of its service of interruptable power to the electro-process loads in the region. But at that time those industries were able to acquire either interruptable replacement energy--they were able to buy some power from Canada, some from California; they purchased part of the output from the Hanford plant. If you will recall there was a great hassle a couple of years ago over whether that plant should continue to operate. It was necessary to find utilities or industries or somebody who would pay part of the cost of reopening and maintaining that plant. In order to raise the money, we found the market for a billion kilowatt hours per year from the industrial customers in the region. That paid for that. So through those various kinds of arrangements they stayed on. Now the contract under which we sell to them--they buy the power but we don't guarantee that we will deliver it at any given time. So, in April we curtailed about 550,000 kilowatts of the power they had already bought. They were paying for it. We were taking it into our system and we stopped delivering it to them. Then in July, on July 20, we curtailed another 260,000 and some kilowatts of that kind of power. So that as of the end of summer, there was still about 260,000 kilowatts of what had been interruptable load on the line. But it was really not interruptable in the sense that the power they were buying was power they had drummed up and were shipping through our system to themselves. It wasn't our power in that sense. So those are not truly interruptable loads. Now the paper also reports that as of September 1, additional loads, part of that load was firmed up, and that was pursuant to long standing contracts we have had with them. Several years ago in our wisdom we saw that there might be a shortage up to September 1, 1973, and we therefore obtained the right to cut back our industrial customers out of their firm power more than we previously had. That right ran out September 1st so those contracts firmed up to some extent. But at this time there is no interruptable or surplus or secondary energy being sold to these customers. They are buying power from outside the region with which they keep part of what we call their interruptable supply--their interruptable loads on the line. And the consequences, I think, are spelled out here briefly, but not completely. At the bottom of page 2, the industry estimates that employment would decline by another 2,740 workers. That would assume that we further curtail them part of their firm power. The figure 2,740 does not just constitute the employment levels which would be lost by the curtailment of the 220-250 kilowatts they presently have of power from outside the Bonneville system."

The President recognized Representative Ceccarelli.

Representative Ceccarelli: "Thank you, Mr. President. This question is directed at Mr. Hodel and probably Mr. Brazier would like to comment. It has been brought out very evident both here this evening and before the committee that voluntary curtailment has been very ineffective. I believe in Austin, Texas, where they had a day and a half of electricity left, the people seemed to ignore it. In fact, in their program I think they only cut about six percent. There are some schools of thought that feel the only way to get someone to curtail power is to hit them in their pocketbook. I was wondering if you would respond to a fact that hasn't been brought out this evening that maybe a penalty charge for using over so many kilowatt hours in a week, or maybe a tax on it. How this would affect you department, Don--that is the utilities under your offices and whether we can do this or whether we can increase the rate, or what have you."

Mr. Hodel: "This, of course, is one of the problems we are always grappling with today. Bonneville has recently sent out a study of the impact of a rate increase on consumption. I think we are going to be roundly criticized for some of the conclusions in that report, but nonetheless it is our view. Price incentives were utilized in the Swedish shortage, but they were tremendous incentives. You are dealing there with a single national wholesale system and then distributing utilities that all get their power from the national system--considerably easier than the situation we have with multiple ownerships--different kinds of ownerships. In a state where you have regulated and nonregulated utilities, you have a complication resulting from rate differential between the two. I believe in Mr. Brazier's case he could order rates in the case of some utilities and not in others. When I have raised this question myself, I have been told that the inequities which are caused by attempting to impose those kinds of restraints--for instance, what is your base period? If in the intervening period of time, the family has had a considerable increase in income or members, or, for instance, since last year a new baby has joined the family, it is probable the electric consumption will be far greater because of drying diapers and washing, etc. The adjustments, the difficulty of those kinds of adjustments requiring a person by person assessment of whether this is a fair or unfair multiplication of the cost (and I should say the Swedish costs were something like one cent or one and a quarter cent a kilowatt hour--they went to a twenty-five cents per kilowatt hour--truly a penalty rate in order to get the consumption cutbacks they were seeking). It is very hard, I think, to apply those, but Mr. Brazier may wish to augment that."

Mr. Brazier: "I have been told that there are some large users who are under a penalty situation who might choose to just go ahead and pay the penalty and pass the price along in their products. Now, in this state, we have a rather unique situation in that as Mr. Hodel alluded (or maybe it was Mr. Culp) over 60 percent of our power is provided by publicly-owned energy--either municipals or P.U.D.'s who are managed and run by duly elected public bodies. The other forty percent are investor-owned, regulated by our commission. An equitable system which would apply across the board I don't think could in any way, even if it were developable, be worked out between now and next June 30th which is the period of time we are talking about in the context here this evening."

The President recognized Representative Schumaker.

Representative Schumaker: "Thank you Mr. President: I have a question for Mr. Hodel. Coming from the east side of Washington, one thing that has always been foremost in my mind is when we come down out of the mountains and hit the so-called west coast area, we are just simply blinded by an endless blaze of lights at night. Now I don't know how all this energy compares with what the few electrical plants--pardon me, not electrical plants, but what a few industries would consume. I note the emphasis has been placed on the consumption by industry. The reason this comes to me now is that we are having a tremendous battle in eastern Washington in the attempt to get one little plant established in eastern Washington to give us some employment and jobs and all I hear is don't shut off my deep freeze, don't shut off my porch light, and all these things. So I would like a few comments and information to give me some idea as to how this actually compares. We step down here out of the mountains and see this endless blaze of lights which I am sure goes completely down the coastline from Alaska to, I presume, the Panama Canal. Now I don't believe that we need all these lights burning at night. The industry isn't always running at night and there are neon signs and every type of sign in the world going almost night and day. We come down to Olympia and we see the capitol lights. We go to the highway building and every room in the highway building has been lit 24 hours a day. There are endless places where I think energy could be saved. And surely with millions of places like this, some of the savings should add up to enough to keep a few more industries going and the fellow who is worrying about keeping his deep freeze turned on if we keep shutting down industry, eventually won't have to worry about keeping his deep freeze on because there won't be a doggoned thing in it. Could you give me a little comparison?"

Mr. Hodel: "First, I should say that I have been accused of making somewhat the same remarks myself with regard to the priority question. Really what you are raising is the priority question. The question I have asked: Does it make any sense for us to keep the lights on in a fellow's house if he doesn't have a job with which to pay the electricity bill? The problem is that the readily identifiable loads that you are talking about, which I think many people might agree are unnecessary loads, probably don't in total add up to enough savings to take care of the shortage we are faced with today, but if we wait three months it most assuredly won't add up. I think street lighting in the region amounts on one-half of one percent. I think in the state of Oregon half of the freeway lights have been turned off. I notice as a response to the Governor's call in the Portland area, the major buildings which traditionally have had their lights on all night while the air conditioning runs in the summer have those lights off now. I notice the federal buildings are required now to do their cleaning during the daylight hours so they don't have to have crews in them at night. These are ways in which the kinds of lights you have identified are being turned down or turned off. Municipal street lighting ordinances are things which have to be dealt with at the municipal level so far. I guess the answer I would give is that I think you have identified the highly visible loads. If those highly visible loads stay on, I don't think we can expect a very strenuous public voluntary conservation program. Those loads should go off if we are going to get a good public response, which I still believe is possible. Good public response would go a long way toward avoiding the mandatory curtailment that would probably affect the larger loads--the industrial type load."

The President recognized Representative Douthwaite.

Representative Douthwaite: "Thank you, Mr. President. I think I know the answer to this, Mr. Hodel, but I would appreciate your confirmation. You say that we buy power from Wyoming, Utah, British Columbia and I think Nevada, and we sell it to California at present. My question is, have we made every effort to increase the amount of available power from these four states and have we made every effort to talk to California so we can stop shipping power to them during the same shortage? Have we really made an effort here, or were you really simply stating the facts?"

Mr. Hodel: "I believe we have made a very real effort. Three weeks ago we obtained permission from the Secretary of the Interior to purchase power at Bonneville--to purchase power at any place at any time at any price, and we put out an order to purchase power from all of these steam plants that exist in the Pacific Northwest. Now we found that out of 372,000 kilowatts of capacity--now I am talking about the Northwest first--out of 372,000 kilowatts of capacity, about 40,000 was on, and all we could buy was 12,000 additional. All the rest couldn't be operated because it was down for long-term maintenance. It didn't have an adequate fuel supply. The fuel they had had to be saved for the winter period because the plant could only operate for a few hours during the peak shortage or, say the coldest day of the year. Or they couldn't meet the air quality standards, or they couldn't meet the water quality standards, so what sounded like a dramatic announcement that we were prepared to buy power at any price at any time at any place didn't turn out to produce a heck of a lot. Since then we have managed to buy some additional amounts as the plants have been reworked and we helped find some fuel, etc. But in the case of California, Mr. Timme indicated what the situation was there. We are selling under the Canadian treaty arrangement. There is power being sent to California, which was purchased by California actually from the Canadians. Now that power we really don't have any hold over at this time. It is power which can be called back in the Northwest and in 1970 the utilities in this region did call it back on a five-year call back basis so that in 1975 that power will no longer be shipped to California. At the present time it is bound under contract. Out of the Centralia plant, 426,000 kilowatts were sold to the Central Valley Project which is a Bureau of Reclamation project in California. That was at that time deemed to be surplus to the region, and at the present time I can say we are exploring with the Department of Interior since we, Bonneville, are part of the Department of Interior, if we can do something with the Central Valley Project which will permit us to curtail that delivery to our sister agencies--keep it in the Northwest, make a payment in dollars instead of electricity for what we need down there. The problem may well be, however, that that power is presently being delivered to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, which serves the San Francisco area and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company is in very difficult circumstances itself. If we, by cutting that off, create a power shortage in San Francisco we have not solved our problem here either. Now with regard to the Canadian supply, we are buying whatever we can from Canada. They have limited amounts available. As far as from Montana and Wyoming is concerned, we have attempted to buy whatever is available. The problem there tends to be fuel supply as well as a certain amount of perhaps understandable provincialism which says why should we run our plants to serve loads in the Pacific Northwest when they've got plants they won't let operate to full capacity because of air quality standards. That is an argument that will go on in this country for some time. So I would say we really have made a strenuous effort and are continuing to make a strenuous effort to find power any way we can. One thing we have asked the department to explore is: 'Can oil be made available in California to operate if there is capacity there to produce some power for the Northwest.'

Whether we can meet their air quality standards is another problem we haven't surmounted yet."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Thompson, the Joint Session was dissolved.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2956, by Committee on Ways and Means (Originally sponsored by Senators Mardesich, Atwood and Durkan - by Executive request):

Authorizing expenditures by state agencies and offices.

MOTION

Mr. Charette moved that Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956 be made a special order of business for 2:00 p.m. today.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Charette yielded to question by Mr. Pardini.

Mr. Pardini: "Mr. Charette, this bill is the budget bill as most of the members know. We have it on our desks and several of us have been looking at it this morning. We want to go along with the special order of business. I would hope that if some members need an extra 15 minutes, 20 minutes or a half hour for amendments to this, that you would be flexible enough later on this afternoon to allow them that time."

Mr. Charette: "Mr. Pardini, we are always flexible. However, I would like to announce that it is our intention to knock-off here at approximately 11:00 for the purpose of allowing everyone to get a look at the budget, to hold caucuses and to prepare those amendments. Now I would hope that they would be done before that time, but I believe you know we are flexible, amenable, and very jolly."

Mr. Pardini: "I just wanted to see how you felt this morning, Bob."

The motion by Mr. Charette was carried.

SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 487, by Committee on Commerce (Originally sponsored by Representatives Johnson, Kalich and Ellis):

Changing the definitions relating to lotteries.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Charette, Second Substitute House Bill No. 487 was placed on today's second reading calendar immediately following House Bill No. 1121.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1121, by Representatives Bagnariol, Morrison, Thompson, Fortson, Beck, Ceccarelli and Douthwaite (by Washington State Teachers' Retirement System request):

Making certain changes in the teachers' retirement system.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Thompson, the House deferred consideration of House Bill No. 1121, and the bill was placed on today's second reading calendar following Senate Bill No. 2942.

SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 487, by Committee on Commerce (Originally sponsored by Representatives Johnson, Kalich and Ellis):

Changing the definitions relating to lotteries.

The bill was read the second time.

Mr. Charette moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 1, line 28 after "chapter" and before the period insert the following: "OR any corporation which has been incorporated under any act of the Congress of the United States of America and whose principal purposes are to furnish volunteer aid to members of the armed forces of the United States and also to carry on a system of national and international relief and to apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods, and other national calamities and to devise and carry on measures for preventing the same"

Representatives Charette and Kuehnle spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

The amendment by Mr. Charette was adopted.

Mrs. Wojahn moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 6, following line 17 add a new subsection to read as follows:

"(h) Furnishing proof of purchase if the proof required does not consist of more than the container of any product as packaged by the manufacturer, or a part thereof, provided that a facsimile of either is acceptable in lieu thereof."

Representatives Wojahn and Kuehnle spoke in favor of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mrs. Wojahn yielded to question by Mr. Curtis.

Mr. Curtis: "Representative Wojahn, I am sorry I have not had the opportunity to see your amendment prior to this morning. I wonder if--I understand what you are attempting to do, in that proof of purchase is--well, that you require in essence a container or facsimile thereof. But I wonder if in offering that amendment you gave any consideration to the problem confronted by the retailer who is denied access to a particular label or brand. I am thinking primarily of a private label, which we refer to as a private label. If I could illustrate it better for you--let's say that a manufacturer promotes a contest on his brand, his label. That label is available only in XYZ stores and not at any other stores. Is that then being fair to the other markets who are denied access and who cannot buy it because it is restricted only to a particular type of store? I am wondering how you get around that problem."

Mrs. Wojahn: "I would suggest that competition would get around the problem, Representative Curtis. It seems to me that if one store offered this, it wouldn't be long before other stores would be offering similar type proposals. I think that our retailers are sophisticated enough to answer that problem themselves, and I can't see that it would be any problem."

Mr. Curtis: "Well, I might submit then that it is a problem. I think you misunderstand the situation. It is simply this--various retailers cannot have access to certain label items. They are what we call private label, and only a particular type of supermarket can obtain that. Now if the contest is run on that label, then XYZ supermarket which is across the street from ABC supermarket has the competitive advantage over that one because ABC supermarket can't get it at all. And as such, I think the requirement that they offer proof of purchase in terms of the container or facsimile is unfair and covered elsewhere by simply a visit to the store, etc., without a purchase being required, is the thing that we should stay with, and as such, I oppose this amendment."

Mrs. Wojahn spoke again in favor of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Curtis yielded to question by Mr. Chatalas.

Mr. Chatalas: "Mr. Curtis, on this subject I don't see much difference between what you are talking about and having, let's say, two newspapers. One has a football guessers' contest, and the other one doesn't. But as long as the other one doesn't want to do that, then there's no other way except to buy that particular paper. The other one has the prerogative. They can have it or not. As far as these labels are concerned--the only reason they can't get them is because they chose to do business with certain manufacturers which nobody else has."

Mr. Curtis: "I am waiting for your question."

Mr. Chatalas: "I am asking you what is the difference?"

Mr. Curtis: "The difference is not so much from the standpoint of the consumer, but the business being placed in an unfair advantage. Mrs. Wojahn is correct when she says she doesn't understand the problem. It is a problem here. My concern is that the majority of the gigantic chain organizations who control their own private label, and can promote year in and year out, day in and day out, will offer such a competitive advantage to their chain members that the small independent retailer will be put at a decided competitive disadvantage, and that is my concern."

Mr. Chatalas spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

The amendment by Mrs. Wojahn was adopted on a rising vote.

Mr. Eng moved adoption of the following amendments:
On page 1, line 4 of the printed bill insert a new section to read as follows:

"Section 1. Section 1, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.010 are each amended to read as follows:

It is hereby declared to be the policy of the legislature, recognizing the close relationship between professional gambling and organized crime, to restrain all persons from seeking profit from professional gambling activities in this state; to restrain all persons from patronizing such professional gambling activities; to safeguard the public against the evils induced by common gamblers and common gambling houses engaged in professional gambling; and at the same time, both to preserve the freedom of the press and to avoid restricting participation by individuals in activities and social pastimes, which activities and social pastimes are more for amusement rather than for profit, do not maliciously affect the public, and do not breach the peace.

The legislature further declares that the raising of funds for the promotion of bona fide charitable or nonprofit organizations is in the public interest as is participation in such activities and social pastimes as are hereinafter in this chapter authorized.

The legislature further declares that the conducting of bingo, raffles, and amusement games and the operation of punch boards, pull tabs, games of Mah Jongg, and other social pastimes, when conducted pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto, are hereby authorized, as are only such lotteries for which no valuable consideration has been paid or agreed to be paid as hereinafter in this chapter provided.

All factors incident to the activities authorized in this chapter shall be closely controlled, and the provisions of this chapter shall be liberally construed to achieve such end."

Remember the remaining section consecutively.

On page 4, after line 33 and before line 1 on page 5, insert the following:

"Any device or equipment used in the playing of Mah Jongg shall not be included in the definition contained in this subsection."

On page 5, line 11 after "gambling" and before the period insert "except rooms or parlors where games of Mah Jongg are played"

On page 9, line 2 insert the following:

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.030 are each amended to read as follows:

The penalties provided for professional gambling in this chapter, shall not apply to bingo games, raffles, punch boards, pull-tabs, amusement games, or Mah Jongg games when conducted in compliance with the provisions of this chapter and in accordance with the rules and regulations of the commission.

Sec. 4. Section 7, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.070 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission shall have the following powers and duties:

(1) To authorize and issue licenses for a period not to exceed one year to bona fide charitable or nonprofit organizations approved by the commission meeting the requirements of this chapter and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto permitting said organizations to conduct bingo games, raffles, amusement games, games of Mah Jongg, and to utilize punch board and pull-tabs in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto and to revoke or suspend said licenses for violation of any provisions of this chapter or any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto: PROVIDED, That any license issued under authority of this section shall be legal authority to engage in the gambling activity for which issued throughout the incorporated and unincorporated areas of any county, unless a county, or any first class city located therein with respect to such city, shall prohibit such gambling activity: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the commission shall not deny a license to an otherwise qualified applicant in an effort to limit the number of licenses to be issued: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the commission or director shall not issue, suspend or revoke any license because of considerations of race, creed, color or national origin: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That the commission may authorize the director to temporarily issue or suspend licenses subject to final action by the commission;

(2) To authorize and issue licenses for a period not to exceed one year to any person, association or organization approved by the commission meeting the requirements of this chapter and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto permitting said person, association or organization to utilize punch boards and pull-tabs as a commercial stimulant and to operate rooms where Mah Jongg may be played, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto and to revoke or suspend said licenses for violation of any provisions of this chapter and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto: PROVIDED, That the commission shall not deny a license to an otherwise qualified applicant in an effort to limit the number of licenses to be issued: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the commission may authorize the director to temporarily issue or suspend licenses subject to final action by the commission;

(3) To establish a schedule of annual license fees for carrying on specific gambling activities upon the premises which shall provide to the commission not less than an amount of money adequate to cover all costs incurred by the commission relative to licensing under this chapter and the enforcement by the commission of the provisions of this chapter and rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto: PROVIDED, That all licensing fees shall be submitted with an application therefor and not less than fifty percent of any such license fee shall be retained by the commission upon the denial of any such license as its reasonable expense for investigation into the granting thereof.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection, raffles may be conducted by any bona fide charitable or nonprofit organization not more than once each year without payment of a license fee if such organization shall not receive in gross receipts therefrom an amount over five thousand dollars.

(4) To require that applications for all licenses contain such information as may be required by the commission: PROVIDED, That all persons having an interest in any gambling activity, or the building in which any gambling activity occurs, or the equipment to be used for any gambling activity, or participating as an employee in the operation of any gambling activity, shall be listed on the application for the license and the applicant shall certify on the application, under oath, that the persons named on the application are all of the persons known to have an interest in any gambling activity, building, or equipment by the person making such application: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the commission may require fingerprinting and background checks on any persons seeking licenses under this chapter or of any person holding an interest in any gambling activity, building or equipment to be used therefor, or of any person participating as an employee in the operation of any gambling activity;

(5) To require that any license holder maintain records as directed by the commission and submit such reports as the commission may deem necessary;

(6) To require that all income from bingo games, raffles, and amusement games be receipted for at the time the income is received from each individual player and that all prizes be receipted for at the time the prize is distributed to each individual player and to require that all raffle tickets be consecutively numbered and accounted for: PROVIDED, That in lieu of the requirements of this subsection, agricultural fairs as defined herein shall report such income not later than thirty days after the termination of said fair.

(7) To regulate and establish maximum limitations on income derived from bingo: PROVIDED, That in establishing limitations pursuant to this subsection the commission shall take into account (i) the nature, character and scope of the activities of the licensee; (ii) the source of all other income of the licensee; (iii) the percentage or extent to which income derived from bingo is used for charitable, as distinguished from nonprofit, purposes;

(8) To cooperate with and secure the cooperation of county, city and other local or state agencies in investigating any matter within the scope of its duties and responsibilities;

(9) In accordance with RCW 9.46.080, to adopt such rules and regulations as are deemed necessary to carry out the purposes and provisions of this chapter. All rules and regulations shall be adopted pursuant to the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.04 RCW;

(10) To set forth for the perusal of counties, city-counties, cities and towns, model ordinances by which any legislative authority thereof may enter into the taxing of any gambling activity authorized in RCW 9.46.030; and

(11) To perform all other matters and things necessary to carry out the purposes and provisions of this chapter."

Representatives Eng and Kuehnle spoke in favor of adoption of the amendments.

The amendments by Mr. Eng were adopted.

Mr. Kuehnle moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Kuehnle and Conner:

On page 9, following section 1, add a new section to read as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and to chapter 9.46 RCW a new section to read as follows:

In addition to other powers and duties under this chapter, and notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the commission may authorize and issue licenses for a period not to exceed one year to any organization, whether incorporated or otherwise, which the commission determines to be established for charitable, benevolent, eleemosynary, educational, civic, political, social, fraternal, athletic or agricultural purposes and which is operated primarily for purposes other than the operation of gambling activities as authorized under this chapter, and upon such commission determination, such organization shall be deemed a 'bona fide charitable or nonprofit organization' for the purposes of this chapter, and until the expiration of the aforesaid licensing period."

Representatives Kuehnle and Conner spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kuehnle yielded to question by Mr. Pullen.

Mr. Pullen: "Representative Kuehnle, would the state of Washington qualify under your amendment as a nonprofit organization?"

Mr. Kuehnle: "I would think the answer to the question would be 'no,' because it would not comply with all of the other stipulations--that being that the income would be used for charitable purposes and for the benefit of the members only and that type of thing. I think that hardly could be construed to mean the state of Washington."

Mrs. Hayner spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

The amendment by Representatives Kuehnle and Conner was adopted.

Mr. Kuehnle moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Kuehnle and Conner:

On page 9 add a new section following section 1 to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. Section 11, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.110 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislative authority of any county, city-county, city, or town, by local law and ordinance, and in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and rules and regulations promulgated hereunder, may provide for the taxing of any gambling activity authorized in RCW 9.46.030 within its jurisdiction, the tax receipts to go to the county, city-county, city, or town so taxing the same: PROVIDED, That the tax rate established by any county, except for any first class city located therein with respect to such city, shall constitute the tax rate throughout such county including both incorporated and unincorporated areas; FURTHER, That (1) punch boards and pull-tabs, chances on which shall only be sold to adults, which shall have a twenty-five cent limit on a single chance thereon, shall be taxed on a basis which shall reflect only the ((gross income)) anticipated gross receipts ((of the business in which the punch boards and pull-tabs are displayed)) from such punch boards and pull-tabs; and (2) no punch board or pull-tab may award as a prize upon a winning number or symbol being drawn the opportunity of taking a chance upon any other punch board or pull-tab; and (3) all prizes for punch boards and pull-tabs must be on display within the immediate area of the premises wherein any such punch board or pull-tab is located and upon a winning number or symbol being drawn, such prize must be immediately removed therefrom, or such omission shall be deemed a fraud for the purposes of this chapter; and (4) when any person shall win over five dollars in money or merchandise from any punch board or pull-tab, every licensee hereunder shall keep a public record thereof for at least ninety days thereafter containing such information as the commission shall deem necessary: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That taxation of bingo, raffles and amusement games shall never be in an amount greater than ten percent of the gross revenue received therefrom."

Mr. Kuehnle spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kuehnle yielded to question by Ms. Sommers.

Ms. Sommers: "I am very happy to see this amendment on here. I think it is a needed amendment, and I would just like to clarify, if we could, the meaning of the words 'anticipated gross receipts.' Do you understand it, Representative Kuehnle, to mean the maximum potential that could be received from the board?"

Mr. Kuehnle: "I appreciate the question because I think this does need clarification. It is very difficult to write language that is going to set forth in the statute exactly what we would like to have it accomplish. This was discussed at great length by the committee, the interim committee, etc. The thing that really we are trying to avoid is reporting on the part of these businesses--a lot of complicated reporting whereby they are taxed after the fact. For example, a city could choose to tax ten percent of the total dollar value of the board or ten percent of the actual take from the board, and this involves a lot of complicated bookkeeping which we would like to avoid. This, therefore, is the reason for the wording 'anticipated volume' so that the taxation would be done in advance. And I would encourage the gambling commission to further clarify this thing. The direction that those of us who have been involved in discussing it feel that it should go, is that you get an application from a little lunch counter out here that only has eight stools, and they are therefore probably going to have two or three punch boards. So you will call that Category A, and they are going to pay X number of dollars per year for a license. On the other hand, here is a large tavern over here with 100 stools, and you would anticipate that they would have 50 punch boards, so that would be Category C, and their tax would be 3-X. This, I think, is the intent of the thing and the reason for the language 'anticipated gross receipts'."

The amendment was adopted.

The Clerk read the following amendments by Representatives Kuehnle and Conner:

On page 1, following the enacting clause insert a new section as follows:

"Section 1. Section 1, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.010 are each amended to read as follows:

It is hereby declared to be the policy of the legislature, recognizing the close relationship between professional gambling and organized crime, to restrain all persons from seeking profit from professional gambling activities in this state; to restrain all persons from patronizing such professional gambling activities; to safeguard the public against the evils induced by common gamblers and common gambling houses engaged in professional gambling; and at the same time, both to preserve the freedom of the press and to avoid restricting participation by individuals in activities and social pastimes, which activities and social pastimes are more for amusement rather than for profit, do not maliciously affect the public, and do not breach the peace.

The legislature further declares that the raising of funds for the promotion of bona fide charitable or nonprofit organizations is in the public interest as is participation in such activities and social pastimes as are hereinafter in this chapter authorized.

The legislature further declares that the conducting of bingo, raffles, and amusement games and the operation of punch boards, pull tabs, social card games, and other social pastimes, when conducted pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto, are hereby authorized, as are only such lotteries for which no valuable consideration has been paid or agreed to be paid as hereinafter in this chapter provided.

All factors incident to the activities authorized in this chapter shall be closely controlled, and the provisions of this chapter shall be liberally construed to achieve such end."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively.

On page 3, section 1, beginning on line 30 after "insurance." add a new sentence as follows: "Engaging in 'social card games' shall not be deemed gambling for the purposes of this chapter."

On page 4, section 1, line 33 after "transporting." add a new sentence as follows: "Any device, mechanism, furniture or premises used for 'social card games' shall not be deemed gambling devices for the purposes of this chapter."

On page 5, section 1, line 13 after "gambling." add a new sentence as follows: "Premises used for 'social card games' shall not be deemed gambling premises for the purposes of this chapter."

On page 8, section 1 of the printed bill following subsection (17) add a new subsection as follows:

"(18) 'Social card game' shall mean any card game played upon the premises of, or under the authority of, a bona fide charitable or nonprofit organization in which success depends upon the knowledge, attention, experience, and skill of the player whereby the elements of chance in any such card game are overcome, improved, or turned to the advantage of said player, and in which no percentage of the money is returned to any individual or organization other than the participants."

On page 9, following section 1 of the printed bill, renumbered section 2, add two new sections as follows:

"Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature hereby authorizes bona fide charitable or nonprofit organizations to conduct bingo games, raffles, amusement games, and social card games, to utilize punch boards and pull-tabs, when licensed and conducted or operated pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto.

(2) The legislature hereby authorizes any person, association or organization to utilize punch boards and pull-tabs as a commercial stimulant when licensed and utilized or operated pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto.

(3) The legislature hereby authorizes the management of any agricultural fair as authorized under chapters 15.76 and 36.37 RCW to conduct amusement games when licensed and operated pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto as well as authorizing said amusement games as so licensed and operated to be conducted upon any property of a city of the first class devoted to uses incident to a civic center, worlds fair or similar exposition.

The penalties provided for professional gambling in this chapter, shall not apply to bingo games, raffles, punch boards, pull-tabs, amusement games, or social card games when conducted in compliance with the provisions of this chapter and in accordance with the rules and regulations of the commission.

Sec. 4. Section 7, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.070 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission shall have the following powers and duties:

(1) To authorize and issue licenses for a period not to exceed one year to bona fide charitable or nonprofit organizations approved by the commission meeting the requirements of this chapter and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto permitting said organizations to conduct bingo games, raffles, amusement games, and social card games, to utilize punch board and pull-tabs in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto and to revoke or suspend said licenses for violation of any provisions of this chapter or any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto: PROVIDED, That any license issued under authority of this section shall be legal authority to engage in the gambling activity for which issued throughout the incorporated and unincorporated areas of any county, unless a county, or any first class city located therein with respect to such city, shall prohibit such gambling activity: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the commission shall not deny a license to an otherwise qualified applicant in an effort to limit the number of licenses to be issued: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the commission or director shall not issue, suspend or revoke any license because of considerations of race, creed, color or national origin: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That the commission may authorize the director to temporarily issue or suspend licenses subject to final action by the commission;

(2) To authorize and issue licenses for a period not to exceed one year to any person, association or organization approved by the commission meeting the requirements of this chapter and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto permitting said person, association or organization to utilize punch boards and pull-tabs as a commercial stimulant in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto and to revoke or suspend said licenses for violation of any provisions of this chapter and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto: PROVIDED, That the commission shall not deny a license to an otherwise qualified applicant in an effort to limit the number of licenses to be issued: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the commission may authorize the director to temporarily issue or suspend licenses subject to final action by the commission;

(3) To establish a schedule of annual license fees for carrying on specific gambling activities upon the premises which shall provide to the commission not less than an amount of money adequate to cover all costs incurred by the commission relative to licensing under this chapter and the enforcement by the commission of the provisions of this chapter and rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto: PROVIDED, That all licensing fees shall be submitted with an application therefor and not less than fifty percent of any such license fee shall be retained by the commission upon the denial of any such license as its reasonable expense for investigation into the granting thereof.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection, raffles may be conducted by any bona fide charitable or nonprofit organization not more than once each year without payment of a license fee if such organization shall not receive in gross receipts therefrom an amount over five thousand dollars.

(4) To require that applications for all licenses contain such information as may be required by the commission: PROVIDED, That all persons having an interest in any gambling activity, or the building in which any gambling activity occurs, or the equipment to be used for any gambling activity, or participating as an employee in the operation of any gambling activity, shall be listed on the application for the license and the applicant shall certify on the application, under oath, that the persons named on the application are all of the persons known to have an interest in any gambling activity, building, or equipment by the person making such application: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the commission may require fingerprinting and background checks on any persons seeking licenses under this chapter or of any person holding an interest in any gambling activity, building or equipment to be used therefor, or of any person participating as an employee in the operation of any gambling activity;

(5) To require that any license holder maintain records as directed by the commission and submit such reports as the commission may deem necessary;

(8) To cooperate with and secure the cooperation of county, city and other local or state agencies in investigating any matter within the scope of its duties and responsibilities;

(9) In accordance with RCW 9.46.080, to adopt such rules and regulations as are deemed necessary to carry out the purposes and provisions of this chapter. All rules and regulations shall be adopted pursuant to the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.04 RCW;

(11) To perform all other matters and things necessary to carry out the purposes and provisions of this chapter."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Kuehnle: "With the permission of the House, may we handle the series of amendments except for the title amendment as one amendment?"

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Representative Kuehnle requests permission of the House that all of the amendments offered by himself and Representative Conner be considered as one amendment. Are there any objections? No objections--it is moved and seconded that all the amendments offered by Representatives Kuehnle and Conner be considered as one amendment. Is there any discussion?"

Mr. Kuehnle: "All of the amendments deal with the same subject and therefore it is appropriate that we discuss them as one, Mr. Speaker."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "It has been moved and seconded that all amendments be adopted as one amendment. Is there any discussion? Representative Kuehnle."

Mr. Kuehnle: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The topic of the amendments is that of social cardrooms, and the discussion will cover all of them as a matter of technicality. We have to get into four or five sections, but it is appropriate that they all be accepted or they all be rejected. Certainly there is no reason for dividing them and considering them separately."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "I've already placed the motion. We are now going to consider all the amendments as one amendment. The discussion is to adopt all your amendments in total."

Mr. Kuehnle: "The topic we are talking about is social card games."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "I've already put the motion twice, Mr. Kuehnle. We are now going to consider all your amendments as one amendment. The discussion now is to adopt all of your amendments in total."

Mr. Kuehnle: "Do you want then a discussion of the total package of amendments? I've said three times they relate to social card games."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Is there any discussion? As many in favor of adoption of all of the amendments, considered as one, say 'aye.' As many as are opposed, say 'nay.' The ayes have it. The motion is carried. Are there any further amendments? We have now a series of amendments to the title."

The Clerk read a title amendment by Mr. Eng.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Julin: "Mr. Speaker, with reference to the last motion, it was my understanding that what we just voted on was a motion to consider all of Representative Kuehnle's amendments as one. It was not a vote on the substance of those amendments. As I understand what we are now doing is to proceed to amend the title, saying that we have already adopted all of those amendments, and I don't believe that was the motion."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "I believe at first I asked if there were any objections to the consideration of all of Mr. Kuehnle's amendments as one. There weren't any objections, so then I put the motion. The motion was placed and we asked for discussion. We asked for discussion on all the amendments as one. And the House apparently by its action vote approved adoption of all the amendments as one amendment. You can move to reconsider if you want, if you voted on the prevailing side, or whatever you want to do."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Curtis: "I wonder if we could ask the Clerk to reread the motion that you put, as you stated it."

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mr. Kuehnle, having voted on the prevailing side, moved that the House do now reconsider the vote by which the last action prevailed.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Mr. Kuehnle, having voted on the prevailing side, now moves to reconsider the vote by which the last motion was adopted, approving several of his amendments as one."

The motion was carried.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) stated the question before the House to be the amendments to Second Substitute House Bill No. 487 by Representatives Kuehnle and Conner, which encompass seven pages.

Mr. Kuehnle spoke in favor of adoption of the amendments.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kuehnle yielded to question by Mr. Douthwaite.

Mr. Douthwaite: "Thank you, I haven't really had a chance to study this, but I do know that the Governor vetoed it last time. Would you explain again please what was the basis of his veto? Because unless it is significantly changed I think we might be wasting our time to do it again."

Mr. Kuehnle: "Well, Representative Douthwaite, I thought I explained that, or I attempted to. The way the language had been drafted originally, there was an intermix of language with regard to public cardrooms and social cardrooms, and it would have been virtually impossible to veto out the public cardrooms and leave the social cardrooms intact. I think maybe it could have been done but it would have left some serious question marks. And I am of the opinion that the Governor felt that rather than leaving those question marks, that the simplest thing to do was to take it out. Now by putting this section of it back in, it is very clearly restricted to nonprofit clubs and nobody makes any money off of it. All the club does is furnish the facility for its members if they want to have a bridge tournament or a cribbage game, or a poker game, as far as that is concerned. But there is no take--no participation by the house, and I think really all it does is statutorily say that which constitutionally you have every right to do anyway."

Mr. Pullen spoke against adoption of the amendments, and Mrs. Wojahn spoke in favor of their adoption.

The amendments by Representatives Kuehnle and Conner were adopted.

On motion of Mr. Eng, the following amendments to the title were adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title after "lotteries;" and before "amending" strike "and" and insert "amending section 1, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.010;"

On page 1, line 2 of the title after "RCW 9.46.020" and before the period insert "amending section 3, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.030; and amending section 7, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.070"

On motion of Mr. Kuehnle, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

In line 2 of the title after "9.46.020" and before the period insert "; amending sections 1, 3 and 7, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.010, 9.46.030 and 9.46.070; amending section 11, chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.110; and adding a new section to chapter 218, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and to chapter 9.46 RCW"

Second Substitute House Bill No. 487 was ordered engrossed.

On motion of Mr. Conner, the second reading was considered the third, and Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 487 was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kuehnle yielded to question by Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson: "Representative Kuehnle, on page 5, subsection (c), lines 29, 30 and 31 of the second substitute measure, where we are talking about coupons for entering contests, in any way would this language limit participation only within our state?"

Mr. Kuehnle: "I think the answer to your question is a definite 'no.' This thing has been discussed in committee at great length and the modification language that is contained in that section was simply striking the provision that limited those promotions to once a year and a period of not more than 90 days, which provision had made it impossible for Readers Digest contests and other similar contests to be carried on in this state as they are in other states. The problem that you are referring to, the language specifically states that the following activities do not constitute valuable consideration as an element of a lottery, and subsection (c) then says, 'Sending a coupon or entry blank by United States mail to a designated address in connection with a promotion conducted in this state.' That language is not intended to mean that it must be a promotion which originates in this state. It certainly can be a part of a promotion which is a nationwide contest and is carried on in this state."

Mrs. Johnson: "Thank you, Representative Kuehnle. I wanted to make certain that this idea is expressed on the floor of the House so that the legislative intent of entering into such type of promotional contests was not limited."

Representatives Kraabel and Pullen spoke against passage of the bill, and Representative Wojahn spoke in favor of it.

NOTION

Mr. Douthwaite moved that the House defer further consideration of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 487, and that it be placed on tomorrow's third reading calendar.

Mr. Douthwaite spoke in favor of the motion, and Mr. Charette spoke against it.

The motion by Mr. Douthwaite was lost.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Julin: "Mr. Speaker, under Rule 73, as I read it, it requires that the Sergeant at Arms would report the absent members and immediately proceed to bring the absent members before the body. I would ask as a general question of any member of the House if they know whether or not I am correct in my understanding that Representative Lysen is presently in Seattle addressing the Democratic Convention."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "I believe your remarks are out of order."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Representative Charette that the absent member be excused and the House proceed with business under the Call of the House, and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 72; nays, 25; not voting, 1.

Mr. Zimmerman moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On page 2, section 5, line 7 after "$" strike "500,000" and insert "250,000"

Mr. Zimmerman spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment, and Mr. Bagnariol spoke against it.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Newhouse: "If I understand correctly, there is more than one amendment on this subject, and it would be the normal procedure as I understand to vote on the greater change first."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "We are going to follow that procedure. We are going to have the higher figure first on all amendments."

Mr. Bagnariol concluded his remarks in opposition to the amendment by Mr. Zimmerman to the committee amendment, and Mr. Kopet spoke in favor of its adoption.

Mr. Pardini demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Thompson spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Zimmerman to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956, and the amendment to the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 36; nays, 61; not voting, 1.

Voting yea: Representatives Amen, Barden, Benitz, Blair, Brown, Cunningham, Curtis, Eikenberry, Flanagan, Freeman, Gallagher, Garrett, Gilleland, Hayner, Juelling, Julin, Kopet, Kraabel, Kuehnle, Leckenby, Matthews, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North L., Pardini, Paris, Patterson, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Schumaker, Swayze, Tilly, Wilson, Zimmerman.

Not voting: Representative Lysen.

Mr. Kuehnle moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956:

On page 2, section 5, line 8 following "General Fund Appropriation:" strike all material down to and including "$500,000" on line 13 and insert "For coordinating and analyzing the biological baseline studies which have been and are presently being conducted by all concerned groups relative to Washington state waters in which the greatest risk of damage from oil spills exists for the biennium ending June 30, 1975.....$150,000"

Representative Kuehnle spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives Bagnariol, Smith and Hansey spoke against it.

Mr. Pardini demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Bagnariol yielded to question by Mr. Leckenby.

Mr. Leckenby: "Representative Bagnariol, in the plan to appropriate this $500,000, is there a corresponding plan as to the work that is to be done--a definitive plan? Or is this just an amount of money that has been estimated to perform this work?"

Mr. Bagnariol: "I believe I would have to say (someone may have more details) that this is an estimate of what it would cost the department to complete their inventory."

Mr. Leckenby spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the committee amendment, and Mr. Moon spoke against it.

Mr. Lysen appeared at the bar of the House.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

It was noted that I was briefly absent from the House Chamber today. For the record, I was working on House Bill No. 519 which has just been passed out of the Senate Local Government Committee today. This bill is of highest importance to the residents of my district. I thought it was important that I be in attendance at that hearing held today in the Senate.

KING LYSEN, 31st District.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Kuehnle to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956, and the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 16; nays, 82; not voting, 0.

Voting yea: Representatives Amen, Benitz, Blair, Cunningham, Curtis, Flanagan, Hayner, Juelling, Kraabel, Kuehnle, Leckenby, Matthews, Morrison, Newhouse, Schumaker, Tilly.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Anderson, Bagnariol, Barden, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Berentson, Bluechel, Brown, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Eikenberry, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Fortson, Freeman, Gaines, Gallagher, Garrett, Gaspard, Gilleland, Goltz, Hansen, Hansey, Haussler, Hendricks, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Julin, Kalich, Kelley, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kopet, Laughlin, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, Maxie, May, McCormick, Moon, Nelson, North F., North L., O'Brien, Pardini, Paris, Parker, Patterson, Perry, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Randall, Savage, Shinpoch, Smith, Smythe, Sommers, Swayze, Thompson, Valle, Van Dyk, Warnke, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, Zimmerman, and Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Thompson moved adoption of the following amendment by Mr. Charette to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956:

On page 2, beginning on line 14 strike all of section 6.

Representatives Charette, May and Pardini spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Bagnariol: "Mr. Speaker, I would like to indicate that our staff has at no point made a recommendation on this particular issue."

Mr. Pardini concluded his remarks in favor of the amendment to the amendment.

Representatives Kopet and Ceccarelli spoke against adoption of the amendment by Mr. Charette to the committee amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Charette yielded to question by Mr. Julin.

Mr. Julin: "Representative Charette, you have referred to an agreement, and Representatives Kopet and Ceccarelli have indicated that this plan is in accordance with the general program of alcoholism. And yet what we are being asked to do by this particular appropriation is in effect to give legal status to an agreement that was entered into on August 14, 1973. Without asking you to identify the individual or parties, or in any way deal in personalities, I wonder if you could tell us basically what that agreement is so we will know if it is consistent with the legislation seeking to implement it."

Mr. Charette: "In answering your question, the agreement states (after the lawyers have finished with four 'whereases' and get past the 'now therefore' part) that the Department of Social and Health Services will enact rules and regulations pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW--the Administrative Procedure Act--to implement rules and regulations to provide for the expenditures by the department pursuant to chapter 155. Then it sets forth this distribution formula that I have talked about (that we presently have) and this agreement was signed by one legislator and a deputy secretary of the Department of Social and Health Services. The point I guess I am making is that if each member were to take the list, and even from the information I have, it can only tell you what your county is going to get under the new formula. And I don't think any legislator here knows what their county is presently getting or their program is getting. I must say also, in answer to your question, that this is the sort of thing that can possibly always happen in the legislative process if somebody doesn't catch it."

Mr. Julin: "Representative Charette, what is the urgency of implementing this new distribution formula for alcoholic programs, and can it reasonably wait until the January session?"

Mr. Charette: "In answer to the first question as to the urgency of implementing the new formula, I don't believe there is that much urgency. In answer to the second question, whether or not we should wait until January--at least in this person's opinion--yes."

Mr. Thompson spoke against adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Charette stated that with the agreement received from Representative Thompson, he would withdraw his amendment in order for Mr. Thompson to propose another amendment.

With the consent of the House, Mr. Charette withdrew his amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Charette yielded to question by Mr. Newhouse.

Mr. Newhouse: "Mr. Charette, if we do withdraw your amendment, and the proposed amendment by Mr. Thompson were to be adopted, could not that contract to which you referred still go into effect?"

Mr. Charette: "I can't answer the question that you have asked--could it go into effect. I think this would show the intent of the House if we adopt the amendment to appropriate $350,000. The money is going to go to the Department of Social and Health Services, and I would assume that there would be legislative input on this money, before it were dispersed."

Mr. Newhouse: "I am a little disturbed about the term 'legislative input' if it is to be one Senator."

Mr. Charette: "In further answer, Mr. Newhouse, I think the purpose in offering the amendment has now brought the problem out into the public view so to speak, and that the Department of Social and Health Services, particularly with the new administration, would not want to get into the bad graces of 98 members of the House of Representatives. And I think there will be more input than just the threats of one person in the legislature."

Mr. Barden moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956 by Representatives Barden, Freeman, Nelson, Pardini, Gilleland, Cunningham, Eikenberry, Polk, Brown, Wilson, Julin, Swayze, Morrison, Tilly and Jueling:

On page 1, line 15 insert the following:

"Sec. 2. Section 8, chapter 137, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

FOR THE PUBLIC DISCLOSURE COMMISSION

General Fund Appropriation: To administer the provisions of chapter 1, Laws of 1973 (Initiative 276) ; PROVIDED, That $50,000 shall be used to pay the salaries and expenses of investigative staff who shall investigate and make findings to the commission relative to complaints against candidates of violations of such act.....(492,832)242,832"
 Renumber the remaining sections consecutively

Mr. Barden spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment, and Mr. Bagnariol spoke against it.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Julin: "Mr. Speaker, I would like to know the status of Representative Charette's amendment and the proposed amendment thereto by Representative Thompson."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "It is in the process of being reproduced for distribution to the members."

Mr. Julin: "Is the present status that Representative Charette has withdrawn his amendment, and we will be returning to that with the proposed amendment by Mr. Thompson?"

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "That is right. We are in the process of putting it together now."

Mr. Pardini demanded an electric roll call on the amendment by Mr. Barden to the amendment, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. King spoke against adoption of the amendment by Mr. Barden and others to the committee amendment.

The Speaker assumed the Chair.

Representatives Julin and Brown spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Ms. Maxie spoke against it.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Representatives Barden and others to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956, and the amendment to the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 56; not voting, 0.

Voting yea: Representatives Barden, Berentson, Blair, Brown, Charnley, Cunningham, Curtis, Ehlers, Eikenberry, Erickson, Freeman, Gallagher, Garrett, Gaspard, Gilleland, Hansey, Hayner, Hendricks, Hoggins, Juelling, Julin, Kelley, Kopet, Kraabel, Leckenby, Lysen, Matthews, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North L., Pardini, Paris, Patterson, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Smythe, Swayze, Tilly, Wilson, Zimmerman.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson,

Bagnariol, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Douthwaite, Ellis, Eng, Flanagan, Fortson, Gaines, Goltz, Hansen, Haussler, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Kalich, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kuehne, Laughlin, Luders, Martinis, Maxie, May, McCormick, Moon, North P., O'Brien, Parker, Perry, Randall, Savage, Schumaker, Shipoch, Smith, Sommers, Thompson, Valle, Van Dyk, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, and Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Thompson moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956:

On page 2, section 6, lines 21 and 22 strike "departmental agreement as of August 14, 1973" and insert "the joint approval of the Senate and House Social and Health Services Committees"

Mr. Thompson spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Thompson yielded to question by Mr. Kopet.

Mr. Kopet: "A number of us would have preferred the Legislative Budget Committee, and I would like to ask this question: Do I have your assurance that the matter will be resolved in time for the counties to be able to fulfill their budget requirements as to the distribution of funds for this program?"

Mr. Thompson: "Well, I would deem that an essential requirement, Representative Kopet, and I am sure it would be recognized as such."

Mr. Pardini spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives Ceccarelli and Adams spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Thompson yielded to question by Mr. Julin.

Mr. Julin: "Representative Thompson, anticipating that you may prevail in this particular motion, although I would prefer, personally, to join with Representative Pardini in his proposed substitute therefor, I nonetheless, would like to have in the record that it is your intent and the intent of the legislature by your proposed amendment to negate and nullify and hold for naught the supposed agreement dated August 14, 1973, that is referred to in the bill now before us. Is that the intent of this amendment?"

Mr. Thompson: "Representative Julin, I think that would fully be the result of the adoption of this amendment. And since you referred to the proposal of Representative Pardini, let me respond by saying that the fact that this amount of money is in the budget bill is the result of Ways and Means action. Ways and Means considered the amount of money and they placed it in the budget bill. This assignment to the Social and Health Services Committee has to do with the formula distribution based on the health needs of the counties."

Mr. Julin: "Representative Thompson, you have indicated in response to my question that it would be the effect of this amendment to negate and hold for naught that agreement. I would like to be clear as far as the record is concerned, that it is also your intent as the sponsor of this particular amendment that that be the result, so that when we vote, we are voting in support of that intent."

Mr. Thompson: "It is my intent."

Mr. Williams spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Mr. Leckenby spoke in favor of it.

Mr. Luders demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The amendment by Mr. Thompson to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956 was adopted.

Mr. Hansey moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Hansey, Berentson and Goltz to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956:

On page 2, section 7, line 26 after "agreement" strike everything down to and including "Ferry" on line 30 and insert "between Wahkiakum County and the highway commission for the operation and maintenance of the Puget Island Ferry, $20,000; to the Whatcom County Board of Commissioners for the operation and maintenance of the Lummi Island Ferry, $10,000; and to the Skagit County Board of County Commissioners for the operation and maintenance of the Guemes Island Ferry, $10,000"

Representatives Hansey and Berentson spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives Perry and Thompson spoke against it.

Mr. Curtis demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Hansey spoke again in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Representatives Hansey, Berentson and Goltz to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956, and the amendment to the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 16; nays, 82; not voting, 0.

Voting yea: Representatives Berentson, Blair, Brown, Curtis, Fortson, Gilleland, Goltz, Hansey, Julin, Kraabel, Matthews, Moon, Polk, Schumaker, Van Dyk, Wilson.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson,

Bagnariol, Barden, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Cunningham, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Eikenberry, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Flanagan, Freeman, Gaines, Gallagher, Garrett, Gaspard, Hansen, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jueling, Kalich, Kelley, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kopet, Kuehne, Laughlin, Leckenby, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, Maxie, May, McCormick, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North F., North L., O'Brien, Pardini, Paris, Parker, Patterson, Perry, Pullen, Rabel, Randall, Savage, Shipoch, Smith, Smythe, Sommers, Swayze, Thompson, Tilly, Valle, Wanke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman, and Mr. Speaker.

On motion of Mr. Leckenby, the following amendment to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956 was adopted:

On page 3, section 10, line 23 after "sess." insert ": PROVIDED, That the superintendent of public instruction shall report on anticipated expenditures to the Legislative Budget Committee for approval prior to committing any of these funds."

On motion of Mr. Kopet, the following amendment by Representatives Kopet and Luders was adopted:

On page 3, line 24 of the printed committee amendment insert the following new section:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. FOR THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

General Fund Appropriation: To implement a training and informational program, during the biennium ending June 30, 1975, designed to train teachers, teacher representatives, superintendents, school board members, other administrators, and interested parties in the methods and procedures for using professional negotiations constructively.....$125,000"

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

Mr. Matthews moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Matthews, Newhouse and Kuehne to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956:

On page 4, section 12, line 5 after "Program" and before "$" insert ": PROVIDED, That on all informational material distributed by order of the State Fire Marshal or the State Insurance Commissioner, the signature or the name of the Insurance Commissioner shall not be larger than the smallest print on that material."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Bagnariol: "Mr. Speaker, I challenge the scope and object of this amendment to the budget bill."

The Speaker: "The Speaker needs further information. Is the budgetary matter we are talking about 'Fire Safety and Regulations Program?' Is the budget for the printing within that?"

Mr. Bagnariol: "Mr. Speaker, I would assume that the printing would come out of the total budget, but I really can't give you an actual answer."

The Speaker: "In light of that then, I guess the proviso in regards to the restriction on expenditure of any money within this provision would probably be in order. Therefore, you may proceed, Mr. Matthews."

Mr. Matthews spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

The amendment by Representatives Matthews, Newhouse and Kuehnle to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956 was adopted on a rising vote.

SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker announced that he was about to sign:
HOUSE BILL NO. 706.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Kelley: "My point of inquiry is whether or not, within the thrust, or at least the scope, of the last amendment we just passed, it would cover other offices such as, perhaps (just drawing one at random) the Secretary of State?"

The Speaker: "It is the Speaker's reading of the amendment that the amendment did not cover the Secretary of State. I don't know whether it was the side of the aisle the amendment came from, but it did not."

Mr. Goltz moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Goltz and Van Dyk to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956:

Beginning on page 15, line 19 strike all of sections 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19, and renumber the remaining sections consecutively

Mr. Goltz spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

MOTION

Mr. Shinpoch moved that the question be divided.

Mr. Shinpoch: "We have two basic subjects, and then there is one other subject that I think should be separate from that. I will take the third one first, which doesn't enter into the basic discussion we have today. I would like to set aside the $100,00 for research into burning grass as one item. The other two basic items under discussion are the proposed change from contract renewal date of one year to six months and the straight budgetary item that we propose to reduce in the second year of the biennium. I would move that we divide that into three pieces--that we discuss them separately so we can get some of the emotional issues out of it and deal more in the factual areas."

The Speaker: "If I understand your request for division, you are talking about the monetary reduction to the various schools, then the teachers' tenure."

Mr. Shinpoch: "Yes, there is a proviso in each one of the higher institutions that deals with the tenure problem but there are three changes in the appropriation--Western, Central and Eastern, and there is one separate item for $100,000 which is a redo of the same money--no money change."

The Speaker: "Representative Goltz, we had on the desk, prior to the placing of your amendment, an amendment which did a portion of what Representative Shinpoch is requesting. It is the one dealing with the teachers' tenure--the separate amendment. Because by mistake your amendment was placed first, we were going to allow this to be placed afterwards. But since the matter has been brought before the House, I would think probably the easiest way to handle this matter is if you would withdraw your amendment at this time. We will place the other amendment and then your amendment, since it strikes the whole matter and would also cover the same problem. But it would be a way of segregating these separate issues, if the House so desires."

Mr. Goltz: "Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House: It may be that I do not understand the amendatory process, but I would prefer to have the motion stand, and have the two go together. It seems to me that the issues are joined, in that they are both relating to the same subject, and I think they both need time. I think they are related in the solution to the problem. They are related in the problem. And I hope we can keep them together in this motion."

The Speaker: "I think, Representative Goltz, what I am telling you is that you are going to go all or nothing, if we go on this method--that I will have to make the ruling that the other matters--since your amendment was placed first and it dealt with striking, that it would not be in place to place the other amendment."

Mr. Goltz: "No, Mr. Speaker, I do not want to go double or nothing. I think these do stand on their merits, but I think they are closely related. If the question is to be divided, then I would urge that we vote them both down. Am I being asked to withdraw my motion, or divide the question?"

The Speaker: "I am saying that the motion to divide--we did have on the desk an amendment that should have been placed before yours technically. But since yours was placed, and it is a striking motion, technically, if anyone raises the point of order, we would not be able to place the other amendment."

Mr. Goltz: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I apologize to the members for this delay. I would like to withdraw the motion and place it behind the consideration of the motion which is to follow."

The Speaker: "If there is no objection, Mr. Goltz' amendment will be withdrawn at this time."

Mr. Patterson moved adoption of the following amendments by Representatives Patterson, Goltz, Charnley and Van Dyk to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956:

On page 16, line 13 following "legislature" strike all material through "1973" on line 25

On page 19, line 1 following "biennium" strike all material through "1973" on line 14

On page 19, line 30 following "agencies" strike all material through "1973" on page 20, line 10

On page 20, line 18 strike all of section 18 and renumber the remaining sections consecutively

On page 21, line 18 following "Appropriation" strike all language through "1973" on line 29

Mr. Patterson spoke in favor of the amendments.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Julin yielded to question by Mr. Patterson.

Mr. Patterson: "Representative Julin, having had an opportunity to look over these several proposed provisos, could you relate to the body what you would foresee as some of the legal implications in the language that has been used?"

Mr. Julin: "Representative Patterson, I would prefer to respond by just directing to one aspect of it. I do not know exactly what the various contracts provide, but I know that fundamentally if a contract is in existence now, and it has a provision that it cannot be canceled or terminated or otherwise modified without a one-year notice, it is my opinion that by this legislation to change from one year to six months it would be a retroactive modification of a contract and as such, I believe, would be unconstitutional under the doctrine of the Dartmouth College case."

Mr. Patterson continued speaking in favor of adoption of the amendments.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Patterson yielded to question by Mr. Curtis.

Mr. Curtis: "Representative Patterson, I am just concerned about one of the amendments which we are considering. Unless the sheet of paper I have is incorrect, the fifth one down reads, 'On page 20, line 18 strike all of section 18.' Now not only do you strike the new language--the proviso that you have stricken in all the others, but it appears to me that you are striking all of Evergreen College, and all their appropriation in there. Now, Representative Kuehnle would probably buy that, but is that what you intend to do, or am I incorrect on that?"

Mr. Patterson: "I did not understand it that way, Representative Curtis. I understand that the only thing dealing with Evergreen is the proviso on the enrollment figures."

The Speaker: "Representative Curtis, I think the effect of your inquiry in looking into the matter, means that if you strike that section, that language you are worried about is already the law, so therefore, if you strike the entire section, amending the existing law, it would still revert back to the former law. Therefore it wouldn't be applied."

Mr. Shinpoch spoke against adoption of the amendment to the committee amendment.

Mr. Chatalas demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Representatives Rabel, Kopet and Charnley spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the committee amendment, and Representatives Flanagan and Bagnariol spoke against its adoption.

On page 21 strike all material on lines 8 through 14.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Douthwaite: "Mr. Speaker, I understood that we had an amendment by Representative Goltz which starts on page 15, which should precede this amendment by Representative Julin."

The Speaker: "In consideration of Representative Goltz, we are going back to his amendment, but it is not perfected at this time. He had a change he wanted to consider, so we are proceeding."

Representatives Bagnariol and O'Brien spoke against adoption of the amendment by Mr. Julin to the committee amendment, and Mr. Pardini spoke in favor of it.

On page 33, section 22, line 12 after "Washington" and before "$" insert ": PROVIDED FURTHER, That the superintendent of public instruction shall report on anticipated expenditures to the Legislative Budget Committee prior to committing any of these funds"

Mr. Kopet spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment, and Mr. Shinpoch spoke against it.

Mr. Kopet spoke again in favor of the adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

The amendment by Mr. Kopet to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956 was lost on a rising vote.

Mr. Parker spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment, and Mr. Pullen spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Parker yielded to question by Mr. Zimmerman.

Mr. Zimmerman: "I just want to know--do you mean on the outside, or do you mean inside the pamphlet? Are you talking about on the outside alone?"

Mr. Parker: "I would say on any document."

Representatives Zimmerman, Kopet and Amen spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Parker spoke again in favor of its adoption.

The amendment by Mr. Parker to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956 was not adopted.

Mr. Goltz moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Goltz and Van Dyk:

Beginning on page 15, line 19 strike all of section 14

Beginning on page 17, line 4 following "UNIVERSITY" strike everything down to and including "1973" on page 18, line 4

Beginning on page 18, line 18, strike the balance of section 15

Strike sections 16, 17, 18 and 19 and renumber the remaining sections consecutively

Mr. Goltz spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment.

DIVISION OF QUESTION

On motion of Mr. Swayze, the question was divided.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the amendment to the amendment striking section 14.

Mr. Moon spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment, and Mr. Shinpoch spoke against it.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Van Dyk: "By dividing the question, aren't we essentially voting on the same subject that we had lost earlier in the debate?"

The Speaker: "We are checking on this as we go, section by section, and those areas affected, and the Speaker will rule which area has already been decided by the House. But on this particular one, there is a change on line 30. So therefore it is new matter. We are striking different matter so it encompasses this particular matter. So we will face each issue as we come to it."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Shinpoch: "Mr. Speaker, what is the change on line 30 of page 17?"

The Speaker: "Page 16, there is a change that was not considered in the other amendment on lines 29 and 30. (A very heavy change.)"

Mr. Douthwaite spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment, and Mr. Bagnariol spoke against it.

Mr. Van Dyk demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Bagnariol yielded to question by Mr. Patterson.

Mr. Patterson: "Is it your interpretation and understanding in the language used in the proviso, that it is mandatory that any future contracts that you would have with members of your faculty would include this six months termination statement? I am talking about the actual contract."

Mr. Bagnariol: "The way the language reads, '...regents shall adopt retrenchment procedures which assure that only six months advance notice shall be required for nonrenewal of faculty contracts...' So I would imagine that in the actual contract, that the regents would have the language which would allow them to give only six months notice. I don't read the language that says they would necessarily be required."

Mr. Patterson: "Then the language would appear in the contract. The reason I am bringing up the question is that if this language appears, I think you are putting the institutions in a position where it is going to be very difficult for them to have any top members of faculty, research faculty, what have you, that will sign a contract, come from another university--this will be the only state in the United States that will have this kind of language that basically says that you are accepting and signing a contract that we can terminate on six months notice. At the present time we really don't have any language that speaks to this question."

Mr. Bagnariol: "If you don't have that language now, I would anticipate that you might not need the language then. I can't envision that top professional people are that fearful of their abilities that they would not come to an institution if they were fearful that the tenure would be only six months instead of twelve. As Representative Shinpoch points out, it is actually in effect ten months from the time the notification would be given. To be honest, I have not seen a contract between the university and a college professor."

Mr. Patterson: "I am just trying to get into the record what the legislative intent is here, and as I read it, it shall require that this language would be in the contract."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Julin: "I believe at this time, on the present motion before us, we are voting on whether or not the language dealing with the six months notice of cancellation or renewal is applicable at the University of Washington. I believe I understood the Speaker to rule that on the basis of the prior vote, which failed 49 to 49, that the same issue as to the other institutions of higher learning will be out of order. So that a vote in favor of this particular restriction at this time will mean that the end product is that it applies only to the University of Washington, and we will not have an opportunity to vote on the same issue for all the other institutions. Am I correct in that?"

The Speaker: "Representative Julin, in checking through the various sections, it is my understanding now--unless I stand corrected later on--that there are changes in each one, so that each one will be considered. Upon this division being asked, this became a parliamentary problem, so we did check it. But unless our checking is inaccurate, we find that there is a difference in each one of the sections. So therefore, each one of the sections can be held that there have already been attempts made to strike the same. Therefore, we will be considering each one."

Mr. Julin: "Is the Speaker then ruling that the same motion will be considered available for consideration as part of Representative Goltz' motion, now divided, as to each one of these institutions of higher learning?"

The Speaker: "We have taken the meaning of the action of the House that they moved to divide. We are dividing all issues that we feel are separable."

Mr. Julin: "I understand, Mr. Speaker. I am simply concerned about whether or not at some point down the line here a point of order would be sustained that this particular amendment or subject matter would not be available as to each one of the institutions involved."

The Speaker: "Not to the Speaker's knowledge, in looking over the same. But I am not going to prejudge it, other than that I scanned them briefly with the Chief Clerk, and we think each one will be in order from our reading at the present time."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Newhouse: "Mr. Speaker, I am somewhat concerned in the discussion on this amendment that some people have said this is a six months notice of cancellation of contract, when the actual wording is six months notice of nonrenewal, and that is a very significant difference. A six months notice of cancellation would be very severe, but six months notice of nonrenewal is a very reasonable approach."

MOTION TO DIVIDE

Mr. Shinpoch moved that the question be further divided, beginning on page 16, line 26.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker: "The Speaker is ruling that the motion for a division by Representative Shinpoch is out of order because you can only divide the main question. And the main question would not be the section now since it is merely a subdivision of the main question. Therefore the motion for division is out of order."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment to strike section 14 by Representatives Goltz and Van Dyk to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956, and the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 48; nays, 49; not voting, 1.

Voting yea: Representatives Amen, Bauer, Benitz, Berentson, Blair, Bluechel, Brown, Charnley, Clemente, Curtis, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Gaines, Gallagher, Gilleland, Goltz, Hayner, Hoggins, Johnson, Kilbury, King, Kopet, Kraabel, Laughlin, Luders, Lysen, Matthews, Maxie, Moon, Morrison, Newhouse, North F., Pardini, Paris, Patterson, Pullen, Smith, Smythe, Sommers, Swayze, Valle, Van Dyk, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Anderson, Bagnariol, Barden, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Conner, Cunningham, Eikenberry, Flanagan, Fortson, Freeman, Garrett, Gaspard, Hansen, Hansey, Haussler, Hendricks, Hurley, Jastad, Juelling, Julin, Kalich, Kelley, Knowles, Kuehne, Leckenby, Martinis, May, McCormick, Nelson, North L., O'Brien, Parker, Perry, Polk, Randall, Savage, Schumaker, Shinpoch, Thompson, Tilly, Warnke, Wilson, and Mr. Speaker.

Not voting: Representative Rabel.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the amendment by Representatives Goltz and Van Dyk to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956, beginning on page 17, section 15, line 4, striking everything through page 18, line 4.

The amendment was carried on a rising vote.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mr. Perry, having voted on the prevailing side on the amendment beginning on page 15, line 19, striking section 14, moved that the House do now reconsider the vote by which the amendment failed.

Mr. Perry spoke in favor of the motion, and Mr. Kelley spoke against it.

Mr. Williams demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Pardini spoke in favor of the motion by Mr. Perry.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Julin: "In light of Representative Kelley's candid acknowledgment that there was some misunderstanding in his vote, I would like to have the Speaker state what the present posture of this bill is, insofar as the tenure provisions relating to the University of Washington and Washington State. My understanding is that at the present time, without the vote to reconsider, we have voted that the six months requirement will apply to the University of Washington and a different set of ground rules would apply to Washington State. And as a loyal Husky, I hope we can get back in the same ballgame, but I want to be sure we are clear when we vote this time."

REPLY BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker: "It is the Speaker's understanding that the present status of the bill is that the House refused to strike the new tenure provision for the University of Washington, thereby reducing it to six months. The House by its action on its vote on the Washington State University struck the new tenure provision reducing to six months--so they presently enjoy the past tenure position that they have enjoyed for years. So therefore, if you vote 'yea' on the motion to reconsider, to place the matter before you, you will then be in a position to reconsider whether or not you want the University of Washington to revert back to its former tenure position."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Kelley: "Mr. Speaker, I can see that we can create a real problem here if we continue with the procedure that we are going to follow here, because it is conceivable that we would kind of bootstrap the University of Washington into a position which would be the same as what we wrongfully (I believe) did for WSU. Is there a parliamentary manner whereby we could, by some means, put off the vote of Representative Perry, so that I may advance what I believe to be a more timely motion to reconsider the vote on WSU, which is in this instance, I believe, the mistaken vote before us and the source of the confusion."

REPLY BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker: "Representative Kelley, if the motion to reconsider, placed by Representative Perry is defeated, we would then proceed with other matters and it would be in order for somebody to place a motion to reconsider the vote by which the Washington State University amendment carried. So this is where it stands at the present time. If you vote 'yea,' then you are voting for a chance to restore the former tenure positions because then you would revote. If you vote 'no,' your former action by which you want different tenure positions established at the University of Washington would remain. Then if you wish to inflict these same provisions upon Washington State University, you would then reconsider your past vote (on which some members have expressed they were confused in voting). So that is the present status."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Luders: "If you will indulge a rather confused member. A few minutes ago you made a ruling relative to dividing the issue. At that time I believe what you said was you would take each university and college up in toto. And that means we do not have the option to vote for tenure, or against tenure, and then for the budget appropriation or against the budget appropriation, or the cuts in this case. Is this correct, Mr. Speaker?"

The Speaker: "Yes, because of the impossibility of dividing a sub-question."

Mr. Luders: "All right, so in each case then, if we vote for the new tenure posture, we are also then voting for the budget cuts. Is that right?"

The Speaker: "Yes, I would imagine that was the purpose of presenting the amendment in its original form."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Mr. Perry to reconsider the vote by which section 14 was deleted from the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956, and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 60; nays, 37; not voting, 1.

Voting yea: Representatives Amen, Bauer, Beck, Berentson, Blair, Bluechel, Brown, Charnley, Chatalas, Conner, Curtis, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Gaines, Gallagher, Gilleland, Goltz, Hansen, Hayner, Hendricks, Hoggins, Jastad, Johnson, Julin, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kopet, Kraabel, Laughlin, Luders, Lysen, Matthews, Maxie, McCormick, Moon, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North F., Pardini, Paris, Patterson, Perry, Polk, Pullen, Randall, Savage, Smith, Smythe, Sommers, Swayze, Valle, Van Dyk, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Anderson, Bagnariol, Barden, Bausch, Bender, Benitz, Ceccarelli, Charette, Clemente, Cunningham, Eikenberry, Flanagan, Fortson, Freeman, Garrett, Gaspard, Hansey, Haussler, Hurley, Jueling, Kalich, Kelley, Kuehnle, Leckenby, Martinis, May, North L., O'Brien, Parker, Schumaker, Shinpoch, Thompson, Tilly, Warnke, Wilson, and Mr. Speaker.

Not voting: Representative Rabel.

RECONSIDERATION

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the amendment by Representatives Goltz and Van Dyk to strike section 14 of the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Kelley: "I am sorry, and I beg the indulgence of the body, but Mr. Speaker, is it appropriate at this time to bring a previous motion to reconsider within parliamentary procedure?"

REPLY BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker: "Mr. Kelley, it would be the ruling of the Chair that we are just in our normal course of business, and if we could take Mr. Perry's former motion to reconsider, we can take anybody else's motion to reconsider at this time. Mr. Kelley, your motion to reconsider would be in order after the assembly acted on the motion that was placed before us at the present time. If you had moved prior to my stating that the amendment was before us, I imagine you could have made the motion."

Mr. Van Dyk demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Savage: "Mr. Speaker, we would have to assume this way that we would have to vote for this now to make it compatible with the previous amendment we adopted. If we were going to take that position there would be no use to reconsider the Kelley motion after this vote is taken if this carries. The only way you would need to consider the Kelley vote would be if this lost and you wanted to make the other one uniform with this."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Polk: "I was just noticing on the order of business card that has been placed on our desks among the privileged motions is the motion to reconsider. And if that is so, it would seem to me that Representative Kelley's motion has priority over the business at hand."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker: "Mr. Polk, your point is well taken. Since the motion to reconsider is a privileged motion, the next highest to the motion to adjourn, and the motion to adjourn can be placed at any time, I would have to reverse myself, and say that your motion was in order. Therefore it has been moved and seconded..."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Moon: "Which vote do we vote on first if Representative Kelley's motion prevails?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker: "It would be the Speaker's ruling that then we would revert back to the normal procedure of how we handle amendments, and we would go to Mr. Perry's motion first, and then we would proceed on into the next order of business, which by this particular set of occurrences would be the amendment regarding Washington State University."

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Charnley: "I would like you to make clear to me--when a motion such as Mr. Perry's has been made to reconsider, I feel--it is my question that we should immediately then consider the vote which we have just agreed to do. I question the action in which another motion to reconsider can be taken. I think we are still on the first motion to reconsider. I think that includes the motion to reconsider, does it not?"

The Speaker: "Mr. Charnley, I made the same error that you are now expressing to me. The motion to reconsider is a privileged motion. We are voting merely on the matter of reconsideration of the vote. They are two separate propositions, and that is where I went astray the first time."

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the motion by Mr. Kelley to reconsider the vote by which part of section 15 was stricken from the committee amendment.

Mr. Kelley spoke in favor of the motion.

MR. Goltz demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Mr. Kelley to reconsider the vote by which part of section 15 relating to WSU was stricken from the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956, and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 49; nays, 48; not voting, 1.

Voting yea: Representatives Adams, Anderson, Bagnariol, Barden, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Brown, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Clemente, Cunningham, Eikenberry, Flanagan, Fortson, Freeman, Garrett, Gaspard, Gilleland, Hansen, Hansey, Haussler, Hurley, Jastad, Jueling, Kalich, Kelley, Knowles, Kraabel, Leckenby, Martinis, May, McCormick, Moon, North L., O'Brien, Parker, Polk, Pullen, Randall, Savage, Shipoch, Thompson, Tilly, Warnke, Wilson, Wojahn, and Mr. Speaker.

Voting nay: Representatives Amen, Bauer, Benitz, Berentson, Blair, Bluechel, Charnley, Conner, Curtis, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Gaines, Gallagher, Goltz, Hayner, Hendricks, Hoggins, Johnson, Julin, Kilbury, King, Kopet, Kuehnle, Laughlin, Luders, Lysen, Matthews, Maxie, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North F., Pardini, Paris, Patterson, Perry, Schumaker, Smith, Smythe, Sommers, Swayze, Valle, Van Dyk, Williams, Zimmerman.

Not voting: Representative Rabel.

Mr. Kelley moved that the House do now consider the following amendment:

Beginning on page 17, line 4 following "UNIVERSITY" strike everything down to and including "1973" on line 4, page 18.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Pardini: "Mr. Speaker, prior to this time, you have already stated the ruling from the Chair that said we gave Mr. Kelley a rank for his motion for reconsideration. The ruling from the Chair at that time, less than five minutes ago, was that his was a privileged motion--that once we took that business up, we would then proceed to consider it section by section in the normal manner, treating section 14 first and then section 15."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker: "That is true, and that is still the order of business if the House does not carry this motion. But if the House carries the motion, it can, by a majority vote, proceed to handle section 15 first."

MOTION

Mr. Savage moved that the two amendments be taken together and voted on at the same time.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker: "Representative Savage, since the House has already moved by affirmative action to divide the question, I think that matter has been settled, so therefore, we are in the process of handling each question as ordered by the House."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Newhouse: "Mr. Speaker, my point of parliamentary inquiry goes back to Mr. Pardini's point of order. I suggest that by Rule 26, in which we must consider amendments section by section, it is different from setting bills in order on the calendar, when one may be set down by a majority vote. To contravene this rule would be a suspension of the rules and would require a two-thirds vote."

The Speaker: "Since we read the last line of the bill only, the entire bill is before us. We have as a matter of policy, gone first to committee amendments and then the others. So we handled this as a matter of policy, and I don't think it is a matter of rule. Therefore, I think the House through its majority rule can proceed to handle whatever portion of the bill they desire. If we had read it section by section, your point of order would have been well taken."

MOTION

Mr. Eikenberry moved that the rules be suspended and that the two motions concerning tenure at Washington State University and the University of Washington be considered together.

Representatives Eikenberry and Savage spoke in favor of the motion.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Goltz: "Is the Eikenberry motion subject to amendment? I would like to amend that the colleges go along with the universities and put all these motions together as we tried to in the original instance and treat them all alike."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Berentson: "Is it possible in combining the two motions that actually we would find ourselves in the position of reversing both, and be in the same position as we now find ourselves in that we did approve the amendment regarding Washington State, and the other failed. I think we would find that they are in a given position now and handling them together would evidently reverse that position, and I question whether we have accomplished anything."

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mr. Tilly, having voted on the prevailing side, moved that the House do now reconsider the vote by which the motion by Mr. Swayze to divide the amendment by Representatives Goltz and Van Dyk was carried.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Eikenberry: "There is a motion on the floor, Mr. Speaker, and I don't believe Mr. Tilly's motion would take precedence."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker: "The motion to reconsider is a privileged motion and of very high rank, whereas the other motions were of low rank. So the Speaker will rule that it is in order."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. King: "Mr. Speaker, the motion he wishes to reconsider is a procedural motion, which passed, and as a result of that procedural motion the floor has taken action. It would seem to me it would be too late to reconsider the procedural motion without going back through and working step by step, all the way back, on all the things we have done."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker: "At the present time, we are at the same stage of proceeding. We have both reconsidered, and the section is now before us in the same original position, Representative King. We have had a lot of action, but no movement."

Mr. King: "Mr. Speaker, the motions that are being reconsidered are in different directions. One of them passed. One of them failed."

The Speaker: "But they had the same effect that we now have before us--whether or not we are going to strike section 14, or whether or not we are going to strike part of section 15. So I would say the motion is in order, and the question before the House is whether or not you wish to reconsider the action of the House when they moved to divide the question."

Mr. Williams demanded an electric roll call on all the motions to follow relating to Mr. Goltz' original amendments.

With the consent of the House, it was so ordered.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the motion by Mr. Tilly to reconsider the motion by Mr. Swayze to divide the question.

Mr. Swayze spoke against the motion.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Bagnariol: "I would have supported what Representative Swayze was attempting to do with his motion, but I don't believe he accomplished that. I think what he accomplished was dividing the question of voting on each university separately, but as we get down to Central, Eastern and Western State Colleges, I don't believe we are in a position to divide the money from the tenure. If we were in that position, I would be happy to go along with it. But as I understand it, what your motion accomplished, was that we divided the question of these amendments by Representative Goltz, but we did not divide the subject matter. If you are right, Tom, we've gone through a lot of confusion for nothing."

The Speaker: "Were you asking a question of the Speaker?"

Mr. Bagnariol: "I am asking a question of the Speaker as to whether or not the motion by Representative Swayze divided the subject matter of tenure and money, or did it divide the amendment by Representative Goltz that we are voting on each university separately, but we will end up when we get down to the universities that have dollar impacts, being in a position of having to vote on the money and the tenure issue both at one time."

The Speaker: "Representative Bagnariol, in light of the Speaker's ruling that you cannot subdivide (in effect subdivide after you have divided) that is correct."

Mr. Goltz spoke in favor of the motion by Mr. Tilly.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Polk: "Mr. Speaker, if we bunch these together again, in what position do we have the University of Washington and WSU? Are we back where we started in the original text of the bill, or do we have one of them with one tenured position and one with the other?"

The Speaker: "Representative Polk, at the present time we are right back where we started, when we first started considering Representative Goltz' measure, except that the House has presently moved to divide. If the House reconsiders that motion, then the House has returned to the original position at which Mr. Goltz' amendment was placed before the body."

Mr. Polk: "Mr. Speaker, then do we have the bill back in the original text it was presented to us at that point?"

The Speaker: "Yes, with Representative Goltz' amendment pending."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Hansey: "Considering the fact then that there would be no division on it, would it then be possible to divide the provisos concerning the tenure separate from the dollars at that point, since there would no longer be a subdivision situation?"

The Speaker: "Representative Hansey, we did attempt to have that matter presented to us earlier, when the floor amendment by Representatives Patterson, Goltz, Charnley and Van Dyk was presented to us. At that time the House refused to remove the tenure provision from the entire amendment. Now we presently have before us an amendment to strike, which we normally do not place before us until after we have tried to perfect the section. Now since it is an amendment to an amendment, there is no amendatory process that I am aware of at the present time in which that situation could be clearly set forth."

Mr. Hansey: "We could no longer divide in that manner then?"

The Speaker: "No, we can't."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Amen: "Some of us are still not clear on going back to the original bill because one of the sections passed and one of them failed, and we have not taken any action on either one. How can we go back to the original measure that way?"

The Speaker: "Representative Amen, at the present time the House took three actions on the Goltz amendment. The first action was to divide. The second action was to defeat the amendment as regards the University of Washington. The third action was to approve the one regarding WSU. Then we turned around and did away with the second and third actions, so now we are back to the first action the House took as to whether or not we shall reconsider the motion to divide."

Mr. Amen: "Mr. Speaker, when did we do away with number two and three?"

The Speaker: "When we were moving to reconsider. One was a motion by Representative Perry. One was a motion by Representative Kelley. Both those motions to reconsider carried."

Mr. Flanagan spoke in favor of the motion to reconsider.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Mr. Tilly to reconsider the motion by Mr. Swayze (to divide the amendment by Representatives Goltz and Van Dyk to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956), and the motion to reconsider was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 84; nays, 13; not voting, 1.

Voting yea: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Bagnariol, Barden, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Benitz, Berentson, Bluechel, Brown, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Clemente, Cunningham, Curtis, Ehlers, Eikenberry, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Flanagan, Fortson, Freeman, Gaines, Gallagher, Garrett, Gaspard, Gilleland, Goltz, Hansen, Hansey, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Juelling, Julin, Kalich, Kelley, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kraabel, Laughlin, Leckenby, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, Maxie, May, McCormick, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North F., North L., O'Brien, Pardini, Paris, Parker, Patterson, Polk, Pullen, Randall, Savage, Shinoch, Smith, Smythe, Sommers, Thompson, Tilly, Valle, Van Dyk, Warnke, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, and Mr. Speaker.

Voting nay: Representatives Blair, Charnley, Conner, Douthwaite, Hoggins, Kopet, Kuehnle, Matthews, Moon, Perry, Schumaker, Swayze, Zimmerman.

Not voting: Representative Rabel.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the motion by Mr. Swayze to divide the amendment by Representatives Goltz and Van Dyk to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956.

Mr. Swayze spoke in favor of the motion, and Mr. Bagnariol spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Swayze yielded to question by Mr. Polk.

Mr. Polk: "Representative Swayze, from your remarks, I interpreted that to mean that you were attempting to divide this question with the first three items in one question, and the last item in a second question. Is that correct?"

Mr. Swayze: "No, that is not correct. I meant to divide it into four different parts of the motion. The amendment is four different parts, dealing with four different distinct sections and portions of the bill. That is really what I meant to divide. Now Representative Bagnariol's concern, and your concern, is what happens when we vote on the first three sections--understanding what we are voting on, on the tenure issue, and the first three portions all deal with the same subject. If we vote the same way, then everything is consistent for the state institutions. Then your concern is what happens when we get to the fourth part of the amendment, which is the motion to strike four sections, because those four sections deal both with tenure and with money. Now my point is that we have already ruled (in the defeat of the prior amendment on a tie vote) the issue as to tenure in those four sections. And that all that is left for us to decide then is the issue of whether we want to reduce the appropriations for those four state colleges. Or, in the alternative, we could have then further moved to divide that fourth portion of the amendment. The only problem is the Speaker has already ruled on a prior point of order that you can't divide after once dividing. Now I don't know whether that is correct, but that ruling came along later. But the original intent was to get a division of the tenure and money."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Polk: "Mr. Speaker, Representative Swayze pointed out that on a prior vote, we had rejected a portion of sections 16, 17, 18 and 19, and is saying that part of those sections has already been decided. That part is being referred to as the tenure portion of those four sections, and therefore, a vote on this final action, in Representative Goltz' motion, would only affect the money part. Now is that correct?"

The Speaker: "When we attempted to divide the question, which might have been the intent to separate the tenure from the money, because of the way the amendments were drawn, when you divided the question you still had to consider them both at the same time because they were not in separate sections--that particular question. They were within the same section. We were dealing with an amendment-to-the-amendment type of proposition. So the practical effect of Mr. Bagnariol's statement that although we desired to separate them, we did not do so, is true, in the Speaker's opinion, I would have to say."

Mr. Savage spoke against the motion to divide.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the reconsideration of the motion by Mr. Swayze to divide the amendment by Representatives Goltz and Van Dyk to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956, and the motion by Mr. Swayze was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 24; nays, 73; not voting, 1.

Voting yea: Representatives Barden, Benitz, Blair, Bluechel, Cunningham, Curtis, Douthwaite, Eikenberry, Freeman, Gaines, Hansey, Hoggins, Julin, Kopet, Kuehnle, Matthews, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, Pardini, Polk, Schumaker, Swayze, Zimmerman.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Bagnariol, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Berentson, Brown, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Ehlers, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Flanagan, Fortson, Gallagher, Garrett, Gaspard, Gilleland, Goltz, Hansen, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Juelling, Kalich, Kelley, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kraabel, Laughlin, Leckenby, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, Maxie, May, McCormick, Moon, North F., North L., O'Brien, Paris, Parker, Patterson, Perry, Pullen, Randall, Savage, Shinpoch, Smith, Smythe, Sommers, Thompson, Tilly, Valle, Van Dyk, Warnke, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, and Mr. Speaker.

Not voting: Representative Rabel.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the following amendment by Representatives Goltz and Van Dyk to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956:

Beginning on page 15, line 19 strike all of section 14.

Beginning on page 17, section 15, line 4, following "UNIVERSITY" strike everything down to and including "1973" on line 4, page 18

Beginning on page 18, line 18 strike the balance of section 15.

Strike sections 16, 17, 18 and 19 and renumber the remaining sections consecutively

The Speaker called on Mr. O'Brien to preside.

Mr. Shinpoch: "Mr. Speaker, I find myself in the peculiar position of not knowing exactly what we are voting on. Would the Chair explain--are we voting on the totality of all portions of Mr. Goltz' amendment?"

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "In reply to your inquiry, we are now voting on the complete amendment offered by Representative Goltz."

Mr. Shinpoch spoke in opposition to the amendment, and Mr. Moon spoke in favor of it.

The Speaker resumed the Chair.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Cunningham: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to ask a question if I may in the hopes that we can get this resolved. The amendment I have on my desk, that I think we are talking about, is an amendment to the Substitute Senate Bill, and I really think it should be an amendment to the House committee amendment to the engrossed bill. I would just like to clarify that."

The Speaker: "That is correct, Representative Cunningham. It was improperly presented."

Mr. Bagnariol spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representatives Kopet and Goltz spoke in favor of it.

Mr. Newhouse demanded the previous question.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Shinpoch: "Representative Kopet indicated that I made a misstatement. I would like to indicate to the body that I have checked that with the staff that compiled the figures. The local funds--what we are considering here--are net figures as they reported to the committee yesterday, and these do take into consideration the loss of local funds."

The demand for the previous question was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Representatives Goltz and Van Dyk to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956, and the amendment to the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 48; nays, 49; not voting, 1.

Voting yea: Representatives Amen, Bauer, Berentson, Blair, Bluechel, Brown, Charnley, Conner, Curtis, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Gaines, Gallagher, Goltz, Hansey, Hoggins, Johnson, Kilbury, King, Kopet, Kraabel, Kuehne, Laughlin, Luders, Lysen, Maxie, Moon, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, Paris, Patterson, Perry, Pullen, Savage, Schumaker, Smith, Smythe, Sommers, Swayze, Valle, Van Dyk, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Anderson, Bagnariol, Barden, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Benitz, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Clemente, Cunningham, Eikenberry, Flanagan, Fortson, Freeman, Garrett, Gaspard, Gilleland, Hansen, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hurley, Jastad, Juelling, Julin, Kalich, Kelley, Knowles, Leckenby, Martinis, Matthews, May, McCormick, North F., North L., O'Brien, Pardini, Parker, Polk, Randall, Shinpoch, Thompson, Tilly, Warnke, Wilson, and Mr. Speaker.

Not voting: Representative Rabel.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

Regarding the reductions in funding for three state colleges in ESSB 2956 there are two points I wish to enter in the House Journal. First, in calculating the local fund revenue losses due to reduced 1974-75 enrollments at the colleges, the House Appropriations Committee calculations recognized only that portion of local fund revenues in the instruction program. In reality, the colleges lose the entire amount of student operating fees for each student who does not enroll. These entire losses in local revenues have an impact on the colleges, above and beyond that portion recognized in the committee's calculations.

The second point is that these three colleges, Western Washington State College, Central Washington State College, and Eastern Washington State College, all have revenue losses in 1973-74 which are not recognized at all in the House Appropriation Committee's calculations. In short, it is my judgment that the reduction in state funding in ESSB 2956 should have recognized these two additional areas of local fund losses to the three colleges before reducing their state funding so severely.

JERRY C. KOPET, 6th District.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the committee amendment as amended to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956, and the amendment as amended was adopted.

Mr. Shinpoch moved adoption of the committee amendment to the title.

On motion of Mr. Benitz, the following amendment to the title amendment was adopted:

On page 38, line 5 after "(uncodified);" and before "amending" insert the following title amendment: "amending section 17, chapter 114, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. (uncodified);"

The amendment to the title, as amended, was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Charette, the second reading was considered the third, and Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956 as amended by the House was placed on final passage.

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease.
The Speaker called the House to order.

Mr. Bagnariol spoke in favor of final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956 as amended by the House.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956 as amended by the House, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 84; nays, 13; not voting, 1.

Voting Yeas: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Bagnariol, Barden, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Benitz, Berentson, Blair, Bluechel, Brown, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Cunningham, Curtis, Ehlers, Eikenberry, Ellis, Erickson, Flanagan, Fortson, Freeman, Gaines, Gallagher, Garrett, Gaspard, Gilleland, Hansey, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Juelling, Julin, Kalich, Kelley, Kilbury, Knowles, Kopet, Kraabel, Kuehne, Laughlin, Leckenby, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, Matthews, May, McCormick, Morrison, Newhouse, North P., North L., O'Brien, Pardini, Paris, Parker, Patterson, Polk, Pullen, Randall, Savage, Schumaker, Shinpoch, Smith, Smythe, Sommers, Swayze, Thompson, Tilly, Valle, Warnke, Wilson, Wojahn, Zimmerman, and Mr. Speaker.

Voting nay: Representatives Charnley, Douthwaite, Eng, Goltz, Hansen, Hoggins, King, Maxie, Moon, Nelson, Perry, Van Dyk, Williams.

Not voting: Representative Rabel.

Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956 as amended by the House, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Charette, the House advanced to the eleventh order of business.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Curtis: "Mr. Speaker, have we dispensed with the Call of the House?"

The Speaker: "No, we are still under the Call of the House, Representative Curtis."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Curtis, the House dispensed with further business under the Call of the House.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 14, by Representative Bluechel:

Providing for the practice of acupuncture under the supervision of a licensed physician.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. May, Substitute House Bill No. 14 was substituted for Engrossed House Bill No. 14, and the substitute bill was placed on the calendar for second reading.

Substitute House Bill No. 14 was read the second time.

On motion of Mr. Conner, the second reading was considered the third, and Substitute House Bill No. 14 was placed on final passage.

Representatives May, Bluechel, Savage and Valle spoke in favor of passage of the bill, and Representative Eng spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Bluechel yielded to question by Mr. Douthwaite.

Mr. Douthwaite: "Representative Bluechel, would you tell us what is going on at Standring Memorial Hospital? I understand that a large number of acupuncture operations have already been conducted there, and are continuing to go on. Would you explain? It seem to me on one hand we are saying it is illegal now, and on the other hand we are saying it is being conducted on a daily basis in rather large numbers."

Mr. Bluechel: "Standring Memorial Hospital is the only hospital at the present time that is practicing it on a relatively medium or large scale. As I understand it, this is an osteopathic hospital. They have a special permit from the Department of Licenses so that two acupuncturists may operate under the direct supervision of the physicians operating in Standring Hospital, and the permit was just reissued for another year--I believe it was in July or August."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 14, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 93; nays, 2; not voting, 3.

Not voting: Representatives Rabel, Shinpoch, Smith.

Substitute House Bill No. 14, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1121, by Representatives Bagnariol, Morrison, Thompson, Fortson, Beck, Ceccarelli and Douthwaite (by Washington State Teachers' Retirement System request):

Making certain changes in the teachers' retirement system.

The bill was read the second time.

On motion of Mr. Cunningham, the following amendment by Representatives Cunningham and Kopet was adopted:

On page 3, section 2, line 26 after "of" and before

"service" insert "such"

Mr. Cunningham moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Cunningham and Kopet:

On page 3, section 2, line 26 after "service" strike " , whether or not elected or appointed service, "

Mr. Cunningham spoke in favor of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Cunningham yielded to question by Mrs. Hurley.

Mrs. Hurley: "Could you explain that just a little bit further? Some of us are affected by this bill, and we would like to know what you consider to be superfluous language, and what the effect will be. I think probably you are able to explain it a little bit more fully."

Mr. Cunningham: "Thank you, Representative Hurley, I'll try. When we ended this amendment the first time, we left this off. Mr. Cameron's office came back and in talking with Representative Kopet and me felt that it was just that--absolutely superfluous. If you want to leave it in there, fine. If you don't--we think it cleans it up. We think it gives a little more logic to the sentence, and I think even grammatically, it helps. That's the best I can do, Margaret, I'm sorry."

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Morrison moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 4, section 2, line 3 after "exceed" insert "a maximum of sixty percent of"

Mr. Morrison spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Morrison yielded to question by Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson: "Representative Morrison, I knew yesterday that you were working on an amendment to propose in this very area. I think probably I would ask my question more for clarification than for a dissertation. Your amendment here, where you are going to insert a maximum of sixty percent, would apply (and, of course, you know I am a teacher-legislator, so I think I could ask this question being a typical example). This sixty percent limit would apply to my teaching credits, my compensation for my years in service, and it would apply to the years that I have been a teacher-legislator differently. In other words, the two percent formula for teachers' retirement would apply to my years of teaching service. The three percent would apply to my years as a teacher-legislator, and there would be a cap on each of these separately. Am I correct?"

Mr. Morrison: "Yes, that is correct."

Mrs. Johnson: "In other words, I am sure that you have worked through my earnings and my years of experience. I understood yesterday you were working on that, so you would have an idea of the accuracy of this kind of proposal. I, too, have worked through my years' earnings and my years of experience to date--those that probably have not served as long as a teacher may possibly receive from this legislature, then, some additional compensation for being a teacher-legislator. What about someone such as myself? Would there be additional compensation in my retirement because I am a teacher-legislator with this cap? That is my question."

Mr. Morrison: "Yes, there would additional compensation, recognizing the fact that your pension base would be an accumulative of both your legislative salary and the amount you actually receive as a teacher. I have learned in the last couple of days working on this that all of you who are serving in the legislature as teachers in fact do receive considerably less than you would if you were continuing straight through the year as teachers. So I think it is only fair that we add on the legislative amount in determining the base for your pension income. The only place that the sixty percent maximum, which is the question of the amendment before us, would apply is if you have served twenty years in the legislature as a combined legislator-teacher. Then at three percent per year, twenty years, you have served this sixty percent maximum figure."

Mrs. Johnson: "Did you also figure out the compensation for a legislator serving without any other public pension, and the additional amount of money that a teacher-legislator receives? I think I figured that out, and that for the years of service that I have been in the House of Representatives, if I had not been a teacher, my retirement would be $108, and under the formula which you propose here, my additional compensation on less earnings (if we might put it that way) would be about $41.50. Did you figure out that angle at all, Representative Morrison? I think what I am really saying is that I don't think it is the legislative intent not to at least recognize the fact that teacher-legislators have served in the legislature, as you said, with less earnings, and not receive compensation because of that factor."

Mr. Morrison: "I can't relate to the specific figures you mentioned, Representative Johnson; however, in every case (I think we took virtually every teacher-member of the House of Representatives) and at this time we found that depending upon the amount of salary (the salary level at which they were teaching before they entered the legislature) that they were, in fact, ahead. Some of you were just barely ahead of where you would have been if you had not entered the legislature and served under this combined category of teacher-legislator. So I can't relate to the figures you have mentioned. I think Representative Hoggins can attest to the fact that his pension benefits could perhaps come out $50 to $100 per year ahead of where he would be if he had just continued to serve as a teacher and not as a legislator."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Morrison yielded to question by Mr. Barden.

Mr. Barden: "Representative Morrison, it appears to me, and I hope that you can clarify this for me, that if your amendment were adopted, and we had two teachers who had taught for 35 years, one being a legislator and a teacher, and one not, that the nonlegislator-teacher could retire at 70 percent, and the legislator-teacher would be capped at 60 percent. Is that true?"

Mr. Morrison: "No, Representative Barden, because the same 60 percent limit exists within the teachers' retirement system itself. And perhaps this point is important and I want to make it to all of you, that the 60 percent limit--we have not just reached out and pulled it out of the air. I think when we merge all pension systems in the state--which I think is the long-range goal of this body, as you have expressed in several moves that particularly Representative Bagnariol and I have made--that we have said 60 percent is the maximum retirement figure, based on your two highest consecutive years of salary, and that should be enough. What we are doing, I think, is just preventing any sort of a future rip-off as we contemplate both teaching salaries and legislative salaries going up--as we try to keep this trimmed down in the future."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Morrison yielded to question by Mr. Luders.

Mr. Luders: "This is primarily, Representative Morrison, for clarification purposes because there is a lot of concern in the state of Washington about pensions and about rip-offs and that sort of thing. If these amendments by Representative Kopet and Representative Cunningham are adopted, and if the section then reads as amended, is there any rip-off for teacher-legislators built into this bill?"

Mr. Morrison: "Well, we have no definition of 'rip-off' within the act. I suppose the part that is under question is the fact that, yes, for teacher-legislators, and even persons under the PERS system, (I think I know of only one and that would be Senator Knoblauch who works for Pierce County--he is a member of the PERS system and is a county employee, and there is a combination of his salary with his legislative salary to combine for the base that his pension would be calculated on)--the same thing is true as far as teacher-legislators are concerned. However, when we go back and take into consideration the fact that teachers who are serving in the legislature lose their teachers' income, that to add it back in their legislative income is only fair--and I find as I pointed out to several of you, that there is only a very slight increase in pension amount for you over the amount you would receive if, in fact, you had chosen not to serve in the legislature. So the rip-off is really not there. In fact, if you wanted to say, 'Why not treat them separately? Let's have a teachers' retirement system and if I can teach and serve in the legislature at the same time, they should be totally separate'--then you are receiving a significantly reduced amount--significantly reduced under the proposal that is before us. So I have to say, in all fairness, that this represents a moderate way of saying you should not be penalized for serving in the legislature, but it could not be termed by anyone as being a 'rip-off'."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Morrison yielded to question by Mr. Pardini.

Mr. Pardini: "Representative Morrison, the comparisons we have been talking about allude to the present level of legislative salary--$3,600 plus the teachers' salary. And I recognize that most teachers suffer a financial loss because they do go off the payroll. However, in the unlikely event that Initiative 282 were to fail, and legislative salaries were to be increased substantially, and then combined with teachers' salaries, there would be a significant difference. But my question goes beyond that, in that any time we grant pension benefits, we grant a vesting which we cannot change at a future date. Do we run a risk there that even without Initiative 282, if the next session, or somewhere along the line, substantial adjustment would be made, then the combination of both salaries would really provide for a very, very decided advantage for the teacher-legislator in that we lock them in at this point in time."

Mr. Morrison: "Representative Pardini, if your question had been posed a couple of years ago, it might have expressed the concern that perhaps we should have measured at that time. Actually, the three percent formula is in effect now, and this cannot be taken away. However, the part of the formula that is important is the amendment that is before us right now as far as I am concerned, and that is the sixty percent limit which says that if these salaries go up, including legislators' salaries so the combination of the two does become a fairly good base upon which to apply a pension, that there will be a limit then which will be meaningful."

Mr. Pardini: "But doesn't the sixty percent limit only apply to maximum credit? Sixty percent of what?"

Mr. Morrison: "O.K. The formula is, years of service times three percent, applied to the two highest consecutive years of salary. So it is a combination of legislative salary and teachers' salary--those two combined. I am just saying that it should never be more than sixty percent. The only way you can get there is the teacher-legislators who serve in these halls for twenty years or more. So the sixty percent, I think, is an effective maximum and will not be achieved except for those persons who do serve here for many, many years. Understand that legislators, state elected officials, do not have this cap--that the three percent can continue to multiply for as many years as they are here, with no lid."

The amendment by Mr. Morrison to House Bill No. 1121 was adopted.

Mr. Brown moved adoption of the following amendment:
On page 7, section 5, line 16 strike all of section 5

Mr. Brown spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Mr. Bagnariol spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Bagnariol yielded to question by Mrs. Hurley.

Mrs. Hurley: "It is just a technical question, and I have often wondered this about retirement. When a teacher retires, does she retire under the current law, or is there some stipulation that would say that a teacher who has paid retirement in, say, since House Bill No. 419 passed last spring until this bill passes, would all those teachers have a right to come back for the 90 days, even though they retire after this bill passes? Do you understand what I mean? Well, maybe I can put it simpler: Do they retire under the bill that exists when they retire?"

Mr. Bagnariol: "Yes, you retire under the bill--whatever is in effect. You have a vested right in the retirement system at the time you actually retire."

Mrs. Hurley: "Now, Jack Cameron said to me yesterday that no benefits could be taken away that a teacher did have. A teacher at present does have the right to retire with only a 90-day provision, and this bill would take that privilege away, wouldn't it?"

Mr. Bagnariol: "I don't follow what you mean--that they retire with a 90-day provision."

Mrs. Hurley: "I'm sorry, they can come back in, with only 90 days service."

Mr. Bagnariol: "The interpretation I have had--the time of reentry would not necessarily be a vested right. The vesting under a pension system or the pension benefits actually paid (for example, the two percent formula, etc.) are vested rights that we cannot go back and take away--I think the legislature can change the reentry and those types of things in a pension plan."

Mrs. Hurley: "Mr. Cameron didn't mean this then. He just meant the monetary benefits."

Mr. Bagnariol: "Right."

Mr. Kopet spoke against adoption of the amendment by Mr. Brown.

The amendment was not adopted.

House Bill No. 1121 was ordered engrossed.

On motion of Mr. Conner, the second reading was considered the third, and Engrossed House Bill No. 1121 was placed on final passage.

Representatives Bagnariol, Morrison, Kuehnle and Pardini spoke in favor of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kuehnle yielded to question by Mr. Flanagan.

Mr. Flanagan: "Representative Kuehnle, as a result of your previous remarks and the fact that you are a member of the Public Pension Commission, I would like to ask what your analysis of this bill was, and what your recommendation was."

Mr. Kuehnle: "There has been no recommendation forthcoming from the Washington State Public Pension Commission on this bill. The form of the bill has only been presented, or in front of the Public Pension Commission for a matter of about thirty days, and there has been only one Public Pension Commission meeting during that period of time. We were in the process of studying the bill--in the process of analyzing the fiscal impact, but had not reached the point where a recommendation had been forthcoming from the Pension Commission."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Morrison yielded to question by Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown: "Representative Morrison, as between the two groups of teachers, (1) teachers who are currently employed, teaching this school year, who have never previously been in a retired status, and (2) teachers who are currently retired and drawing retirement benefits--does the provision of section 5 of this bill, relating to the 90 days or two years, relate equally to these two groups, or differently from one to the other?"

Mr. Morrison: "Representative Brown, I would indicate that I feel that it doesn't relate to the group presently on the job at all, because they are already qualified for the brand new benefits, and they have no reason to reinstate themselves as members of the retirement system for the purpose of increased benefits. Those previously retired have officially left the system. If they choose to be reinstated as per your action--the amendment you proposed, after the effective date of this act--they would have to go back to work for two years, which is something we believe does nothing but create equity with other state pension systems. Yes, there is a difference, but for those persons on the job now, they have no reason to be reinstated because they already have this carrot on the end of the stick."

Mr. Brown: "If I could just ask for a further subdivision of that question then, of those who are currently teaching, let's say if someone who retires next year, and five years later, let's say in 1980 wants to come back and teach to requalify, what would apply to him then?"

Mr. Morrison: "I think what this legislature is saying is that there should not be as liberal a provision as 90 days to qualify for some new level of benefits--that in fact, by the passage of House Bill No. 419 last time, we provided for a cost of living escalator. And so we will be automatically, without legislative action, updating pension benefits for those persons you are concerned about every year. So I think there will not be the great hue and cry to requalify for new benefits in the future. Yes, we are creating a difference. At some point in time, we have to draw the line and say 90 days is not long enough. You must come back for two years to requalify for new benefits, and the major point, with the automatic escalator, is that I don't think people will be coming back to qualify because their benefits will be automatically adjusted to offset increases in the cost of living."

Mr. Anderson spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 1121, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 94; nays, 4; not voting, 0.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Luders yielded to question by Mr. Leckenby.

Mr. Leckenby: "Representative Luders, I am sure that the Department of Ecology will be concerned about noise problems that occur in industry. We recently passed the new WISHA Act which provides that Labor and Industries conduct inspection and enforcement in industry beyond what has been done previously. My question is involved in the enforcement of this act in the area of industry. Will this require that the Department of Ecology set up regulations for industry and inspect those, or will they work through the Department of Labor and Industries, so that there is only one layer of government handling this problem within that particular area?"

Mr. Luders: "Representative, Leckenby, neither one will be the case because the scope of WISHA is specifically, by language, excluded in this bill, which means that as it applies to workmen performing their job in the factory, WISHA is the only governing level, and the State Department of Ecology would only be concerned as it affected people who were nonworkers in the area, but not on the job."

Mr. Leckenby: "Thank you. Can I ask one further question? On highways, and ferry docks, etc. we have noise problems. Will the state patrol have jurisdiction over enforcement of any regulations in these areas? Also I suppose, local police? Or will the Department of Ecology exercise control?"

Mr. Luders: "Basically, the Department of Ecology will exercise control, but in discussion in committee this was brought up and there will be cooperative efforts among the levels of government and the enforcement levels as the people become adequately trained."

Mrs. Wojahn spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Luders yielded to question by Mr. Schumaker.

Mr. Schumaker: "Representative Luders, am I correct in my interpretation in section 8 of this bill that the Department of Ecology shall not be entitled to exercise its rulemaking power with regard to recreational shooting as well as police and military and that type?"

Mr. Luders: "You are absolutely correct."

Providing for the emergency curtailment and/or allocation of electricity.

The bill was read the second time.

On motion of Mr. Berentson, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 5, section 8, beginning on line 7 after "governor," strike "may be specifically exempted by the governor" and insert "shall be exempted"

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Curtis: "Mr. Speaker, I believe I have an amendment to page 3, section 5, ahead of Representative Perry's amendment. It hasn't had a chance to be duplicated yet. May we come back and pick it up?"

The Speaker: "Yes, Representative Curtis."

Mr. Perry spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to page 5, section 8, and Mr. Swayze spoke against it.

Mr. Perry spoke again in favor of adoption of the amendment, and the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Curtis moved adoption of the following amendment to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2967:

On page 3, section 5, line 19 after "governor" and before "shall" insert "after consultation with the committee"

Mr. Curtis spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Perry and Pardini spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Perry yielded to question by Mr. Zimmerman.

Mr. Zimmerman: "Representative Perry, many of us were intrigued the other night hearing Senator Mardesich's possible suggestion that by voluntarily getting people to cut back, the job could be done without necessarily the Governor's need for any other real tough emergency actions. I don't see anything in here as far as his particular suggestion. Do you see it as a possibility, that under the authority that is granted here--this is a very broad-brush authority that you see in here--that that particular option in which he could suggest the cutting back to say 95 percent of present usage--back to say a year ago, or maybe even 95 percent of usage a year ago--that at that level they would be charged their regular rate of two cents a kilowatt hour, but that beyond that, beyond that level, people could be charged at the rate of $2.00 per kilowatt hour. (Those were his figures.) Do you see that possibility here--that the privilege is there if we wanted to do that, so there could be the voluntary financial incentive, rather than having to take mandatory curtailment?"

Mr. Perry: "In response to your question, Representative Zimmerman, we have gone over Senator Mardesich's proposal in depth. This worked in Sweden. Several months ago, in Texas, they intended to do just this. I don't know if you were listening at the hearing the other night when Senator Guess got the information from Texas by getting the Mayor out of bed. But the Office of Price Control constituted a rate increase above 5.5 percent so they couldn't do it. To get a handle on it, this means in our jargon, I think, that if we did this (and I have talked to some of the attorneys about it) first of all we have to do it in a separate act because the way we have to impose it would be as a tax."

Mr. Zimmerman: "Yes, I heard that conversation, but even the tax route--well, that would be a separate bill."

Mr. Perry: "I don't see how when we are talking about an emergency statute, and the other measure would be a penalty tax on use of energy above a certain amount, I don't see how you could mix the two statutes. You wouldn't have time to run around and penalize somebody."

Mr. Zimmerman: "You don't see that power in this bill?"

Mr. Perry: "No, this is straight emergency powers."

Mr. Zimmerman: "What is your reaction to that though, if there were a bill to come on that?"

Mr. Perry: "I think in the proviso here in this bill, that it has, with the adoption of Representative Berentson's amendment, four ex officio members, two from the Senate and two from the House. I think it is our purpose then to monitor this act, and to see whether what you are talking about can be done."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Charnley: "I was simply asking if the debate going on had anything to do with the amendment we are facing, but apparently the debate is finished."

The Speaker: "It was a little hard at times to follow."

Representatives Douthwaite, Leckenby and Gallagher spoke against adoption of the amendment, and Mr. Curtis spoke again in favor of adoption of his amendment.

The amendment by Mr. Curtis to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2967 was not adopted.

Mr. Pullen spoke in favor of adoption of the amendments, and Mr. Charette spoke against them.

Mr. Pullen spoke again in favor of the amendments.

The amendments by Mr. Pullen to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2967 were not adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Conner, the second reading was considered the third, and Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2967 as amended by the House, was placed on final passage.

Mr. Perry spoke in favor of passage of the bill, and Mr. Eikenberry spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Perry yielded to question by Mr. Julin.

Mr. Julin: "Representative Perry, this bill purports to give extraordinary powers to the Governor dealing with electric generation power in the state of Washington. I am concerned, and probably notwithstanding your answer, I will vote against this bill, but the basis of the problem is, as I understand it, a lack of water supply. Now a very substantial portion of the electric power generation in the state of Washington is in federally-owned facilities, or comes from power generating facilities owned by the federal government. If we are going to curtail electric power use by the device of stopping the generators and the power generating facilities to hold back the water, what percentage of that total generating capacity that we have in the state of Washington do we really have state authority over--inasmuch as I don't believe that the Governor, notwithstanding these broad powers, would be able to mandate that the federal government generating facilities be closed?"

Mr. Perry: "Representative Julin, let me respond to you in this fashion: Eighty-five percent of all the power generated in this power pool is generated by falling water. Eighty percent of all of that power is used between the states of Oregon and Washington. The other states that are in this compact--the states of Idaho, Montana, part of Wyoming, northern California, as well as British Columbia don't use any more than twenty percent of the power. Everything you have said is true. We have no control over the federal government. We do have control over the users. Oregon has substantially the same kind of an enactment, only dealing with the Public Service Commission. In January, I understand that they intend to strengthen their bill and add the same type of a situation we have. As a practical effect, and because the lawyers have told us very specifically in answering the question you have, we have absolutely no authority over the federal government. The federal government will however respect the Governor's order not to serve a customer, or in effect, the customer not to take the electricity, when the police powers of the state are invoked. I don't know how I can answer you any differently than that, because what you have said is true--that we have a second way to get about in handling it. As well as using eighty percent of the power, about sixty-eight percent of the eighty percent is used in Washington."

Representative Blair spoke against passage of the bill, and Representatives Savage, Barden, Kraabel, Bagnariol, Pardini, Gallagher, Haussler and Garrett spoke in favor of its passage.

Mr. Newhouse demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

Revising the law relating to industrial welfare.

The bill was read the second time.

Mr. Morrison moved adoption of the following amendments:

On page 4, line 19, section 6 after "49.46.020" insert "or the minimum wage as prescribed in 29 U.S.C. 206 (b), the minimum wage laws of the state of Washington and the United States respectively"

On page 9, line 9, section 15 after "49.46.020" insert "or the minimum wage as prescribed in 29 U.S.C. 206 (b), the minimum wage laws of the state of Washington and the United States respectively"

Mr. Morrison spoke in favor of the amendments.

Mr. Chatalas demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Savage spoke in favor of adoption of the amendments.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Morrison yielded to question by Mr. Perry.

Mr. Perry: "If, in the event that we pass the state minimum wage law, and there is existing the federal minimum wage law, where we blanket these people in in this fashion, we in effect are keeping their wages at what? Twenty cents an hour lower?"

Mr. Morrison: "Mr. Perry, that is not the intent of my amendment. My amendment is just to recognize that there were industries not covered by the state minimum wage, that, in fact, are covered by the federal minimum wage. Now, if I can revise the wording here so it guarantees you that--there was no intention to use the federal minimum wage which is now going to be lower than the state wage as a depressant on wage levels. It is just to make sure that all industries have the same treatment whether covered by state or federal law."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendments by Representative Morrison to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2463, and the amendments were lost by the following vote: Yeas, 38; nays, 58; not voting, 2.

I just wondered, is there not a viable alternative to the the route that is of concern to Representative Hurley. I am not familiar with what the alternatives might be."

Mr. Douthwaite: "Representative Julin, I know that you are competent to discuss this matter since you have studied this bill. I would like to ask you a question which has been put to me by a number of Seattle people. Will this bill allow the Highway Department to bypass the legal court appeal process, or to somehow weaken the shorelines hearing review procedures?"

Mr. Julin: "Well, Representative Douthwaite, in my opinion it will not. Our law generally provides that in a given case, on a case-by-case basis, if a litigant can persuade a superior court judge to enter an injunction on the merits of that particular case, then that judge can in such instance enjoin. What we have in the shoreline management act, however, is basically a statutory injunction that stays all action regardless of the merits of the case, and in effect operates to take away from the judge on an individual case the opportunity to review the merits of the case. An so that is what this is doing as far as the I-90 bridge is concerned, meaning that if a judge wants to enjoin, and he can be persuaded to do so, then that case will stand on its merit just like any other one would."

Mr. Polk spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Martinis yielded to question by Mr. Zimmerman.

Mr. Zimmerman: "One hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars--is it that quick and that easy? Is that how it comes? I would certainly appreciate a little more information. Perhaps Representative Martinis could give us a little more information. I certainly believe there is a need for the study of dogfish and certainly there is a shortage of food. But are we just going to go that quickly on $125,000, which seems to be a pretty heavy expense for a study. Do you want to elaborate just a moment?"

Mr. Martinis: "Was that a question by Representative Zimmerman, or did he just want me to elaborate further on the bill? Well, the bill does appropriate $125,000, but when the department has a shortage of these pellets to feed in our hatcheries, I think it is imperative that we develop a program that will pick up this shortage. When we have a shortage of fish it costs dollars. And when it comes to the overall hatchery program of the Department of Fisheries, certainly I agree with Representative Zimmerman that $125,000 is a lot of money. But when we are talking about the overall propagation of fish in the state of Washington, that really isn't very much money, Representative Zimmerman. If we are going to continue the fine hatchery programs that the Department of Fisheries and the Department of Game have started (and we are leaders in the United States on the artificial propagation of salmon, trout and steelhead) I think it is very imperative that we support the department with this problem."

Defining dependent child for purposes of aid to families with dependent children.

Representative Swayze spoke in favor of passage of the bill, and Representatives Savage and Maxie spoke against it.

Mr. Swayze spoke again in favor of the bill, and Mr. Eng spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Swayze yielded to question by Mr. King.

Mr. King: "The question will be in a couple of parts. The first question is: What is the difference in terms both of dollar amount and who would be eligible in terms of the ADC provisions that now exist and general assistance? Is there a difference in the total number of people affected? Is there a difference in the amount of support money they would be getting?"

Mr. Swayze: "I have asked those same fiscal questions in the last couple of days and have not received any satisfactory answers. Really, they just simply do not know whether there would be more fiscal impact of state dollars to educate everyone between 18 and 21 with federal matching funds, or whether it would be cheaper in state dollars to complete just high school and vocational programs with total state dollars. As far as I know, I haven't been able to determine any actual figures and any they would come out with, I am sure would just be guesses."

Mr. King: "The second question: I don't understand how you can avoid the constitutional question simply by shifting to a different fund. Isn't there still a question of the equal protection of the laws under general assistance as well as other areas?"

Mr. Swayze: "That constitutional question does remain, as to whether in any public assistance program or in any governmental program (and this issue was raised in the Illinois case) it is a violation of the equal protection clause to segregate high school and vocational programs from college programs. I didn't raise that in my argument because that constitutional question remains with us under our existing state law whether or not we pass this particular bill. So it has no impact on that particular constitutional question."

MOTION

Mr. King moved that the House defer further consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 1138, and the bill be ordered placed at the top of tomorrow's third reading calendar.

Mr. King spoke in favor of the motion, and Mr. Swayze spoke against it.

MOTION

Mr. Chatalas moved to amend Mr. King's motion and place Engrossed House Bill No. 1138 on the calendar following Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2603.

Mr. King stated he had no objection to the amendment to the motion.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) stated that with the consent of the House, Mr. King's motion would be amended as suggested by Mr. Chatalas.

The motion was carried.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Randall yielded to question by Mr. Hansey.

Mr. Hansey: "Representative Randall, this section deals with the payment of a B & O tax, and maybe I missed part of the committee meeting. I would like to have you explain what the justification was for exempting the sales of candy from the B & O tax. I can understand why we took the sales tax off of it to make it like food, but I don't understand why we are exempting it from the B & O tax."

Mr. Randall: "My response is that I think your reference is not proper. This is a use tax. It is not a B & O tax--it doesn't refer to B & O tax, but rather a use tax. I don't think B & O enters into this."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Yes."

RECONSIDERATION

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) stated the question before the House to be the following committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102:

On page 20, section 6, line 1 after "Code" strike "or (iii) other real property"

Ms. Sommers spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Conner demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Randall spoke in favor of adoption of the committee amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kuehnle yielded to question by Mr. Douthwaite.

Mr. Douthwaite: "I am frankly confused here--not being in the business of studying the federal schedule very much. Could you please tell us first what is covered in section 1231, and list some of the items, please, like land, house, trees, etc., if that applies. And secondly, what is meant by 'other real property,' so I know what I am voting on here."

Mr. Kuehnle: "I certainly don't hold myself as an expert on the federal income tax or the chapters contained therein, but I will try to give you my interpretation as I see it. Section 1221 essentially deals with personal property, and there are some exclusions from that personal property such as inventions and documents and this type of thing. But essentially, it does include real property, so that if you, Representative Douthwaite, owned a piece of land that you paid $10,000 for twenty years ago, and you sold it after the effective date of the act, you would only be taxed on the gain after the effective date of the act. If it were worth $50,000 as of the effective date you would be exempted from the gain from $10,000 to $50,000, because that was personal property that you owned. Section 1231 essentially deals with business property which would include trucks and tractors and equipment and business inventory. And that inventory could also include such things as the gravel in the ground or the ore in the mine, or even timber or a crop. It is an inventory. And so we are granting that exemption to business inventories under the personal property. The place we are getting hung up here then is the other property category, which is the only classification left really that isn't included in 1221 and 1231. It is that land held by a broker who is a dealer in land. And if we do not include the terminology 'other property,' we are then discriminating against him and we are saying, 'hey, everybody else in the world gets to establish a cost basis as of the effective date of the act, but a land dealer does not.' Also, I could go back to the piece of property that you owned that you paid $10,000 for twenty years ago and if, let's say it was worth $50,000 as of the effective date of the act, and then you sold it the next day, if you sold it in one chunk you would be exempt from that retroactive gain. But if you subdivided it into six pieces, you would then become a dealer, and you would then have to pay retroactively the tax on the gain from $10,000 to $50,000. Does that help?"

Mr. Douthwaite: "Yes, one thing remains unclear, if I may proceed. The 1974 point at which property begins to appreciate in value, and we are going to be taxing on the increased value, I think we all agree that we want to do that. Now you indicate, Mr. Kuehnle, that the other real property which we are worrying about--whether or not we will retain that--you indicate that the other real property is somehow beyond this protection, which is in HJR 37, which means it starts in 1974. As I understand HJR 37, all of our incremental income property here is considered to start in 1974. Now that would include other real property too, would it not?"

Mr. Kuehnle: "Well, I guess we have to go back to the constitutional amendment which talks about capital property, and I think there is no question in any of our minds but that the constitutional amendment says: 'In the case of capital property as defined by the legislature held by a taxpayer on the effective date of a state income tax act and disposed of after such effective date, such taxpayer shall be allowed to exclude from the computation of taxable income the amount of any gain attributable to a difference in value of such property occurring between the time of acquisition by the taxpayer and the effective date of such act.' So it says that that prior gain is excluded, but it refers to capital property as defined by the legislature, and that is what the harangue is about now--the definition of capital property as defined by the legislature. And the question is, are we going to exclude this one little section of capital property which is real estate, either owned by a dealer, or potentially you, in the case you might subdivide it later and sell it?"

Mr. Douthwaite: "Thank you very much. Therefore I conclude that we should refuse to accept the committee amendment, and leave the language as it is."

The Speaker assumed the Chair.

Mr. Moon spoke in favor of adoption of the committee amendment, and Representatives Bagnariol, Charette and Smith spoke against it.

Mr. Chatalas demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the reconsideration of adoption of the committee amendment to page 20, section 6, line 1, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102, and the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 20; nays, 74; not voting, 4.

Patterson, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Savage, Schumaker, Smith, Smythe, Swayze, Thompson, Tilly, Van Dyk, Wilson, Wojahn, Zimmerman, and Mr. Speaker.

Not voting: Representatives Anderson, Bluechel, Kopet, Perry.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mr. Brown, having voted on the prevailing side, moved that the House do now reconsider the vote by which the committee amendment to page 19, section 6, line 33 was adopted.

The motion was carried.

RECONSIDERATION

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the following amendment:

On page 19, section 6, line 33 after "Code" and before "(ii)" strike the comma and insert "or"

The committee amendment, on reconsideration, was lost.

On motion of Ms. Sommers, the following committee amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102 were adopted:

On page 28, section 8, line 26 insert a new subsection (h) following subsection (g) to read as follows:

"(h) Deduct one hundred percent of dividend income to the extent such income constitutes 'qualifying dividends' as defined in section 243 (b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code and eighty-five percent of other dividend income: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That the deduction provided herein shall be allowed only to the extent that the income of the payor corporation from which the dividend is paid has been included in taxable income and has been subject to the tax imposed by this title."

Renumber the remaining subsections consecutively and change all internal references accordingly

On page 34, section 12, line 14 after "the" strike "highest" and insert "applicable"

Ms. Sommers moved adoption of the following committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102:

On page 40, section 17, after line 18 insert a new subsection (3) to read as follows:

"(3) Except as hereinafter provided the tax imposed by this title shall not apply to foreign or alien insurers subject to the premium tax, to the extent imposed by RCW 48.14.020, holding valid certificates of authority issued by the insurance commissioner of this state: PROVIDED, That the provisions of this subsection shall not exempt any person engaging in the business of representing any insurer, whether as general or local agent, or acting as broker for one or more insurers."

Renumber the remaining subsections consecutively.

Ms. Sommers explained the effect of the committee amendment.

Representatives Charette and Julin spoke in favor of adoption of the committee amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Charette yielded to question by Mr. Blair.

Mr. Blair: "You spoke to us and told us that there is at present a premium tax on insurance companies, and you used the number 'two percent.' Am I correct in assuming that that two percent is in effect a B & O tax, or the equivalent of it? Is it two percent of the gross of the company so as not be confused with the six and one-half or eight percent of the income tax proposed?"

Mr. Charette: "Yes, you are correct. Foreign and alien insurance companies pay a two percent tax on premium. If they collect $100 in premium, they pay two dollars in tax. Now domestics pay one dollar. That is the ones that are in our state--they pay one dollar."

Ms. Sommers spoke against adoption of the amendment, and Mr. Pardini spoke in favor of it.

The committee amendment to page 40, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102, was adopted.

On motion of Ms. Sommers, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 45, section 24, line 3, after "Sections" strike "20 and 21" and insert "22 and 23"

On page 45, section 25, line 11 at the beginning of the line, strike "20" and insert "22"

Ms. Sommers moved adoption of the following committee amendment:

On page 45, immediately following section 25, add a new section as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. There is added to chapter 141, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and to chapter (___) RCW a new section as follows:

Any resident individual tenant who rents a dwelling unit located in this state, upon which property taxes are levied, shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Title of twenty dollars for the calendar year 1974; fifteen dollars for the calendar year 1975; ten dollars for the calendar year 1976; and five dollars for the calendar year 1977.

In the event a dwelling unit is not rented by the tenant taxpayer for a full calendar year the credit shall be that percentage of the applicable credit that the period of time it is occupied by the tenant taxpayer as a dwelling unit bears to a full calendar year.

In the event a dwelling unit is rented by more than one tenant taxpayer the tax credit shall be that percentage of the applicable credit that the rental payment by the tenant taxpayer bears to the total rental for the dwelling unit.

The term 'dwelling unit' means the tenant taxpayer's principal place of abode during the period of time for which he claims a credit and which contains facilities for sleeping and preparation of meals."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

Mr. Curtis moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On line 8 of the committee amendment after "1977" insert ": PROVIDED, That in the event that insufficient tax liability is incurred to fully utilize the tax credit provided herein there shall be a refund issued in the amount of the differential between the amount of credit actually used and the amount provided for"

Representatives Curtis and Sommers spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Curtis yielded to question by Mr. Kuehnle.

Mr. Kuehnle: "Representative Curtis, have you any idea or will you hazard a guess as to what the cost will be to the state of Washington for processing one of these applications for a return of $5.00?"

Mr. Curtis: "No, Representative Kuehnle. I can tell you that the fiscal impact of the amount of refunds has been estimated by Mr. Finkelstein of our staff at about $1 million to $1.2 million in terms of the impact there. I realize that is not your question. You are saying, 'What does it cost to process a warrant?' Frankly, if it is five bucks back to the lady on social security, I could care less what it costs, if she is going to get it."

Mr. Kuehnle spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

The amendment by Mr. Curtis to the committee amendment was adopted.

The Speaker stated that with the consent of the House, further consideration of the committee amendment would be deferred until an amendment by Representatives Cunningham and Barden to the committee amendment was printed and distributed.

Mr. Moon moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 19, section 6, line 19 after "1231" and before "of the" insert "(a),(b)(1)"

Mr. Moon spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Conner demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Kelley spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Moon yielded to question by Mr. Pardini.

Mr. Pardini: "Representative Moon, you are going to insert (a), (b) (1), and that is the nature of your amendment. Looking at it, I can't tell for sure what you are going to do. Would you tell me if those parentheses in this amendment are a restriction in a section of 1231 of the Internal Revenue Code?"

Mr. Moon: "I see the bill drafters drafted this amendment in error. I am glad you brought it to my attention."

With the consent of the House, Mr. Moon withdrew the amendment.

Mr. King moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 19, beginning on line 32, strike all the material down to and including "property" on page 20, line 1 and insert "a capital asset as defined in section 1221 of the Internal Revenue Code"

Mr. King spoke in favor of the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Julin: "Mr. Speaker, I believe this amendment deals with an amendment to the House Committee amendment that has already been adopted. I believe the proper procedure for Representative King, had he sought to make this amendment, was to move to amend the House committee amendment when we had it before us."

The Speaker: "Representative Julin, it is my understanding that the amendment is to the original verbiage that came over from the Senate. Therefore it would be a proper floor amendment to the bill. I understood the committee amendment was to strike out the language on the first line of page 20, so it would appear that the amendment is order."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Pardini: "There are also two other committee amendments dealing with page 19, on line 29 and line 33, and that issue has been before us prior to this time."

The Speaker: "Parts of it have, but not this particular matter. We went through the committee amendments first as we traditionally do, and now we are going back to the floor amendments. If we followed the rules, then we would intermingle the floor amendments with the committee amendments, but we have always given them precedence so people realize the difference."

Mr. King: "I understand that Representative Moon has his amendment perfected, and since it deals with an area that I am attempting to strike, the House ought to have the opportunity to perfect this matter before we vote on this amendment. I wonder if it would be possible to go ahead and consider his perfected amendment first?"

The Speaker: "You will then have to withdraw your amendment."

With the consent of the House, Mr. King withdrew his amendment.

The Speaker instructed the Clerk to read the amendment by Mr. Moon.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Pardini: "Have we not passed this section? I want to raise my point of order--I'm not sure where Representative Moon's amendment is coming, but I don't want to get squeezed out by not raising this question fast enough. Has Mr. Moon withdrawn his amendment?"

The Speaker: "Mr. Moon has withdrawn his amendment and resubmitted it in the same area. The very line we are on right now."

Mr. Pardini: "But Mr. King has an amendment."

The Speaker: "Mr. King asked that his amendment be withdrawn because he was striking the language, and Mr. Moon is attempting to perfect it. So we would consider that first, even though it comes a few words later."

The Clerk read the following amendment by Mr. Moon:
On page 19, section 6, line 19 after "1231" and before "of the" insert "(a), (b) (1)"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Swayze: "Here again, I don't see any such language on line 19."

The Speaker: "I'm sorry, it should have been line 33. It is the same amendment Mr. Moon attempted to present before, Representative Swayze. I guess he now has a little more confidence in it."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Pardini: "That is my point of order, Mr. Speaker. The amendment has been withdrawn once. We have gone past that point."

The Speaker: "I don't think the House has taken any action on it; therefore I think it could properly be brought before the House for action."

Mr. Moon moved adoption of the following amendment:
On page 19, section 6, line 33 after "1231" and before "of the" insert "(a), (b) (1)"

Representatives Moon and Randall spoke in favor of the amendment.

Mr. Conner demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Kuehnle spoke against adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Moon: "Representative Kuehnle is referring to section 3 of the IRS Code, and section 3 will be left in."

The Speaker: "Representative Moon, I think that is a matter of argument rather than a matter of point of order."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker: "Are you rising to a point of order, Representative Randall?"

Mr. Randall: "Maybe to a point of personal privilege. Representative Moon's amendment seeks to insert subsection (a), subsection (b) and subsection (1) after 1231. It inserts that language."

The Speaker: "That is a matter of correction, unless he is speaking beyond the scope of the amendment."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Moon: "My point of order is that Mr. Kuehnle is speaking beyond the scope and object of the amendment."

The Speaker: "With the consent of the House we will proceed to the next amendment and come back to this one after the Speaker has looked at the IRS regulations and has become a tax expert. So if there is no objection, we will proceed to the amendment not directly affected by this section.

"Representative Moon, Representative Kuehnle's remarks are within the scope of your amendment. Representative Kuehnle, if you will continue with your remarks."

Mr. Kuehnle concluded his remarks in opposition to the amendment.

Representatives Pardini and Charette spoke against adoption of the amendment by Mr. Moon.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Moon: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I think I would prefer to have this more as a point of personal privilege rather than remarks about this amendment. I think the last four or five or ten minutes has pointed out one of the real tragedies that we are confronted with in our legislative process. The special interests are able to hire the best tax attorneys, the best tax accountants, that money can buy. And they do. If they are not satisfied with one, they go to another. If they are not satisfied with either of those two, they go to another. And I certainly wouldn't criticize our legislative staff for their work--the many, many hours they have done on this--trying to help us legislators perfect this monstrosity (as I call it). But we can't do much more than just hire good generalists, and we hired some good generalists. We can't hire the real experts who are available to the private sector and to the special interests. We don't have that kind of money to hire them. We've got it I suppose, but it is pretty difficult to justify it to the general public. We have got to hire people who react, and react rapidly, and we hope that they react in the right direction for us. We have been working on this for several hours. We got the hard copy. We've got two or three staff members. I went to a staff member and I said 'This is an amendment I am concerned about. What can you do?' 'Well, I can take care of you after I take care of four or five other legislators that have already presented an amendment, and a problem to solve.' They don't have the opportunity to deliberate over this for weeks and weeks in advance about what is going to be put into this, and to correct the mistakes that some of us might think are in there. I don't know how we are going to solve this, but I think it is really regretful, and it is a real tragedy when the people of the state of Washington get taken, and I mean taken, by the big tax exemptions that are granted to these special interests. We spent quite a bit of time during the interim dealing with tax exemptions on the public service agencies, an area that takes a total of less than three percent of our total tax exemptions, and I am for this type of exemption. And what do we do? We don't spend much time looking at the other exemptions--the other ninety-seven percent exemptions--and then we go ahead and we get to an area where we have an opportunity to delete the privilege of a hundred percent depletion allowance, and we don't have time to prepare a proper amendment."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Julin: "Point of personal privilege."

The Speaker: "Will you state your point of personal privilege, and may I remind you of the three-minute rule."

Mr. Julin: "Yes, Mr. Speaker, I think there is implicit in Representative Moon's remarks a criticism of the caliber and quality of some of the professional staff that serves the state of Washington in the area of taxation. I believe that he is correct when he says the industry has the capability to hire experts. I, for one, believe we have equally qualified experts to advise us and they have been doing that in connection with this matter, regardless of what anyone might think about those experts' individual personal philosophy. I think they are a real expert staff and I just want to rise in their defense."

The Speaker: "Are there further remarks? Mr. Moon, I would hope we wouldn't get into a debate over the qualities of our staff. I happen to be one who is very proud of them, too."

Mr. Moon: "I think in my remarks I said we have a real high caliber staff and I appreciate all the work they do."

Mr. Pardini spoke against adoption of the amendment.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Moon to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102, and the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 25; nays, 64; not voting, 9.

Voting yea: Representatives Barden, Bausch, Bender, Blair, Charnley, Clemente, Cunningham, Ehlers, Eikenberry, Eng, Erickson, Gaspard, Goltz, Johnson, Kelley, King, Knowles, Lysen, Maxie, Randall, Shinpoch, Smith, Sommers, Valle, Williams.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Amen, Bagnariol, Bauer, Beck, Benitz, Berentson, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Conner, Curtis, Douthwaite, Ellis, Planagan, Fortson, Freeman, Gaines, Gallagher, Garrett, Gilleland, Hansen, Harsey, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Jueling, Julin, Kalich, Kilbury, Kraabel, Kuehne, Laughlin, Leckenby, Martinis, Matthews, May, McCormick, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North F., North L., O'Brien, Pardini, Paris, Parker, Patterson, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Savage, Schumaker, Swayze, Thompson, Tilly, Warnke, Wilson, Wojahn, Zimmerman, and Mr. Speaker.

Not voting: Representatives Anderson, Bluechel, Brown, Kopet, Luders, Moon, Perry, Smythe, Van Dyk.

Mr. King moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 19, beginning on line 32 strike all the material down to and including "property" on page 20, line 1 and insert "a capital asset as defined in section 1221 of the Internal Revenue Code"

Mr. King spoke in favor of the amendment and Mr. Pardini spoke against it.

Mr. Charette spoke against adoption of the amendment.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. King: "Mr. Speaker, point of personal privilege. I think all of the men involved in this exchange are honorable. The individual we talked with said that it was impossible to estimate that figure in a definitive way. I kept pushing him, and asked for a ball park area guess. He gave me the $50 million figure--he said, 'I think it will be higher than that, but I don't know.' So everybody is correct here. He is not going to say: 'This is exactly what the impact will be' because they don't know. They can't figure it. The whole concept of this bill is based on riding piggy-back on the federal income tax. And when, in one area, this particular area, you jump off that piggy-back, there is no way other than the ball park guess. That is what I was presenting, and that is what he told me would be a conservative ball park guess in this area."

Ms. Sommers spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Pardini: "My point of personal privilege, Mr. Speaker, is that Ms. Sommers has indicated to this body that I was attempting to be clever. I read the letter, and I think that if the transcript of my remarks were given back to this body, Ms. Sommers, and if you had listened carefully, my remarks would have been in two parts: One, the letter relating to Representative King's allegation of administrative difficulty. When I finished reading the letter, I then alluded to the fact that the department was concerned about the philosophical difference, and that is a question for us to decide, and not the Department of Revenue."

Mr. Kuehnle spoke against adoption of the amendment by Mr. King.

Mr. Conner demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. King to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102, and the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 36; nays, 58; not voting, 4.

Voting yea: Representatives Barden, Bauer, Bausch, Bender, Blair, Brown, Charnley, Clemente, Ehlers, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Fortson, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Haussler, Hoggins, Jastad, Johnson, Kelley, Kilbury, King, Kraabel, Lysen, Maxie, Moon, North F., Parker, Randall, Savage, Shipoch, Sommers, Valle, Williams, Wojahn.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Bagnariol, Beck, Benitz, Berentson, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Conner, Cunningham, Curtis, Douthwaite, Eikenberry, Flanagan, Freeman, Gaines, Garrett, Gilleland, Hansen, Hansey, Hayner, Hendricks, Hurley, Jueling, Julin, Kalich, Knowles, Kuehnle, Laughlin, Leckenby, Luders, Martinis, Matthews, May, McCormick, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North L., O'Brien, Pardini, Paris, Patterson, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Schumaker, Smith, Swayze, Thompson, Tilly, Van Dyk, Warnke, Wilson, Zimmerman, and Mr. Speaker.

Not voting: Representatives Bluechel, Kopet, Perry, Smythe.

Mr. Kelley moved adoption of the following amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102:

On page 20, section 6, line 1 after "property" insert the following ": PROVIDED, That capital property shall not include property which is sold or exchanged or disposed of by the taxpayer after January 1, 1974 if such taxpayer derived his principal source of income in any three successive years prior to January 1, 1974 from the sale, exchange or disposal of substantially the same type of property"

Representatives Kelley and Blair spoke in favor of the amendment, and Mr. Kuehnle spoke against it.

Mr. Kelley spoke again in favor of the amendment.

The amendment by Mr. Kelley was lost on a rising vote.

Mr. Leckenby moved adoption of the following amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102:

On page 25, section 7, line 28 after the period insert new subsections as follows:

"(i) Deduct interest to the extent allowable as an itemized deduction for federal income tax purposes pursuant to the provisions of section 163 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(j) Deduct charitable contributions to the extent allowable as an itemized deduction for federal income tax purposes pursuant to the provisions of section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(k) Deduct taxes to the extent allowable as an itemized deduction for federal income tax purposes pursuant to the provisions of section 164 of the Internal Revenue Code except taxes imposed on or measured by net income."

Renumber the remaining subsections consecutively

Mr. Leckenby spoke in favor of the amendment, and Mr. Smith spoke against it.

Mr. Conner demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Leckenby yielded to question by Mr. Kuehnle.

Mr. Kuehnle: "Do you have any idea, Representative Leckenby, what the fiscal impact of your amendment would be?"

Mr. Leckenby: "Well, we don't have all the figures, but there would be an economic impact of something over $80 million. It would be a favorable economic impact to the taxpayers of the state of Washington."

Ms. Sommers spoke against adoption of the amendment, and Mr. Julin spoke in favor of it.

Mr. Leckenby spoke again in favor of the amendment, and Mr. Smith spoke again in opposition to its adoption.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Zimmerman: "My point of order simply is that I have an amendment that is dealing with one part of it, and I wanted to be sure that it wouldn't be lost--in terms of whatever happens on this particular vote. If it fails, I will have a chance--if it passes it will be absorbed, right? I didn't want to be left out."

The Speaker: "Your amendment deals with one of the subsections. So we are handling the whole group. Then if that fails, we will go back and handle your subsection."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Leckenby to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102, and the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 36; nays, 58; not voting, 4.

Voting yea: Representatives Amen, Barden, Benitz, Berentson, Cunningham, Curtis, Eikenberry, Freeman, Garrett, Gilleland, Hansey, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hoggins, Juelling, Julin, Kraabel, Kuehne, Leckenby, Matthews, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North L., Pardini, Paris, Patterson, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Schumaker, Swayze, Tilly, Wilson, Zimmerman.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Anderson, Bagnariol, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Blair, Brown, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Flanagan, Fortson, Gaines, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Hansen, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Kalich, Kelley, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Laughlin, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, Maxie, May, McCormick, Moon, North F., O'Brien, Parker, Randall, Savage, Shinpoch, Smith, Sommers, Thompson, Valle, Van Dyk, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, and Mr. Speaker.

Not voting: Representatives Bluechel, Kopet, Perry, Smythe.

The Speaker called on Mr. O'Brien to preside.

Mr. Zimmerman moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Zimmerman and Flanagan to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102:

On page 25, section 7, after line 30 insert the following:

"(j) Deduct charitable contributions to the extent allowable as an itemized deduction for federal income tax purposes pursuant to the provisions of section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code."

Renumber the remaining subsections consecutively

Mr. Zimmerman spoke in favor of the amendment.

Mr. Julin demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Ms. Sommers spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Representatives Zimmerman and Flanagan to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102, and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 88; nays, 3; not voting, 7.

Voting yea: Representatives Amen, Anderson, Bagnariol, Barden, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Benitz, Berentson, Brown, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Cunningham, Curtis, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Eikenberry, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Flanagan, Freeman, Gaines, Gallagher, Garrett, Gaspard, Gilleland, Goltz, Hansen, Hansey, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Juelling, Julin, Kalich, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kraabel, Kuehnle, Laughlin, Leckenby, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, Matthews, Maxie, May, McCormick, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North F., North L., O'Brien, Pardini, Paris, Parker, Patterson, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Randall, Savage, Schumaker, Shipoch, Smith, Sommers, Swayze, Thompson, Tilly, Valle, Van Dyk, Warnke, Wilson, Wojahn, Zimmerman, and Mr. Speaker.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Blair, Fortson.

Not voting: Representatives Bluechel, Kelley, Kopet, Moon, Perry, Smythe, Williams.

Mr. Tilly moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Tilly and Julin to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102:

On page 34, section 12, line 20 after "income" strike "or losses" and insert "((or losses))"

Representatives Tilly and Sommers spoke in favor of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Barden moved adoption of the following amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102:

On page 45, after section 26, on line 14 add a new section to read as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. No county, charter county, city, town, or other political subdivision of the state of Washington shall impose and/or collect a tax upon or measured by net income."

Re-number the remaining sections consecutively.

Mr. Barden spoke in favor of the amendment, and Mr. Charette spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Barden yielded to question by Mr. Cunningham.

Mr. Cunningham: "Representative Barden, has anything come to light in the recent two months that would make you think that the way the law as now written if HJR 37 passes, that King County specifically could levy an income tax?"

Mr. Barden: "Representative Cunningham, in a speech before the Municipal League in Seattle, Eleanor Brand from the Senate Ways and Means Committee staff told the Municipal League and the audience, and subsequently reiterated her remarks before the House Ways and Means Committee, that King county, because it is a home rule charter county and the only one in the state of Washington, has through the implied rights of the home rule charter county provisions in the state Constitution, and in the city-county consolidation amendment to the state Constitution (HJR 21 that passed last year) the right, without statutory prohibition, to impose a county income tax because there is no statutory prohibition, and that the powers that King county has as a charter county extend to King county the authority to levy an income tax. This was further reiterated and reenforced a few moments ago by the Chairman of the House Local Government Committee, Representative Haussler, when he came over and talked to me about this proposed floor amendment. And so therefore, ladies and gentlemen of the House, if you do not want an income tax in a home rule charter county, if you want the voters in the home rule charter counties of this state to be confident that when they vote for this package this fall, they are not voting..."

INQUIRY BY SPEAKER

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Are you still replying to the question, or are you going off on other remarks?"

Mr. Barden: "I am trying to respond to Representative Cunningham. And so, Representative Cunningham, if you..."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "It appears to me that you got far afield from replying to Representative Cunningham."

Ms. Sommers spoke against adoption of the amendment by Mr. Barden.

Mr. Julin demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Barden yielded to question by Mr. Hansey.

Mr. Hansey: "Mr. Barden, you raised some questions in discussing your amendment here, which raised a serious question in my mind whether or not in the event HJR 37 passes this fall, whether or not this amendment passes, could the January session of the Legislature, under the terms of HJR 37, permit counties, cities and towns to implement an income tax in the future?"

Mr. Barden: "Unfortunately, Representative Hansey, the passage of this amendment would not prohibit the Legislature in January or any subsequent session from repealing the provision of this amendment and authorizing local governments under the authority of HJR 37 to levy an income tax, or school districts."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Barden to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102, and the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 38; nays, 54; not voting, 6.

Voting yea: Representatives Amen, Barden, Benitz, Berentson, Blair, Brown, Cunningham, Curtis, Eikenberry, Eng, Flanagan, Freeman, Garrett, Gilleland, Hansey, Hendricks, Hoggins, Jueling, Julin, Kraabel, Kuehnle, Leckenby, Lysen, Matthews, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, Pardini, Paris, Patterson, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Schumaker, Swayze, Warnke, Wilson, Zimmerman.

MOTION

Mr. Conner moved that Substitute House Bill No. 323 do pass the House notwithstanding the veto of the Governor.

Mr. Pardini demanded a Call of the House, and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll and all members were present except Representatives Bauer, Bluechel, Hendricks and Smythe.

On motion of Mr. Thompson, the absent members were excused and the House proceeded with business under the Call of the House.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) stated the question before the House to be the motion by Mr. Conner that Substitute House Bill No. 323 do pass the House notwithstanding the veto of the Governor.

Representatives Kelley and Fortson spoke in favor of the bill, and Mr. Swayze spoke against it.

Mr. Kelley spoke again in favor of Substitute House Bill No. 323.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Pardini: "Mr. Speaker, is Mr. Kelley allowed to speak twice on this issue under the rules adopted on the opening day of this session?"

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Your point is probably well taken. The rule also states '...not more than three minutes on the same subject without the consent of the House.' Your point of order is well taken. Mr. Kelley you have already spoken once--unless the House gave you additional permission, we would have to prohibit you from speaking any further."

MOTION

Mrs. Hurley moved that the House grant Mr. Kelley an additional three minutes.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Swayze: "Point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker. I was wondering if that motion takes a majority or a two-thirds vote?"

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "A majority vote."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Julin: "My recollection is that the rule we adopted on the suspension of the rules only related to the matter of the days upon which a bill should be considered. This is a suspension of the entire rules of the body, and I believe it still, notwithstanding that change, requires a two-thirds vote."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "It has been established that consent means a majority vote of the House. So the question before you is the motion by Representative Hurley that Representative Kelley be granted an additional three minutes to speak on the subject matter."

The motion by Mrs. Hurley was carried.

Mr. Kelley spoke again in favor of the motion to override the Governor's veto.

Mr. King spoke against the motion and Representatives Hansen and Bender spoke in favor of it.

Mr. Bauer appeared at the bar of the House.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Mr. Conner that Substitute House Bill No. 323 do pass the House notwithstanding the veto of the Governor, and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 70; nays, 25; not voting, 3.

I was in Superior Court, Thurston County, when the vote was taken to override the Governor's veto on Substitute House Bill No. 323, and could not be here to vote.

MOTION

Mr. Conner moved that House Bill No. 928 do pass the House notwithstanding the veto of the Governor.

Mr. Charette spoke in favor of the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Swayze: "Mr. Charette has far exceeded the three-minute limit."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "The point of order is well taken."

Representatives Pardini and Hurley spoke against the motion to override the Governor's veto.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Charette yielded to question by Mr. Williams.

Mr. Williams: "Representative Charette, do you have any information which would indicate that the Liquor Board does not act in a manner that complies with their own regulations?"

Mr. Charette: "Yes, Mr. Williams. In May of this year, the State Auditor released a report in which he noted that of the 900 restaurants holding Class H licenses, 67 of those restaurants were not complying. And in an article that appeared in the Daily Olympian on May 15, 1973, where the..."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Julin: "I don't believe the question and the response has any materiality at all to the question before this body."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "I believe he is in order. Go ahead, Representative Charette."

Mr. Charette: "Before I was interrupted, I was about to say that one of the members of the board, Mr. Eldridge, had been asked if this report were true, and he said that (and this is a quote) 'Although the above requirements have been set forth, licensees that do not comply with the board policy...' I'm sorry, I have to take that back since this goes in the Journal--this is State Auditor Graham's statement that they are not enforcing. But Mr. Eldridge said, and this is a quote, and I want you to know for sure that this is Mr. Eldridge's quote, not mine--'There are areas where we have made some exceptions primarily at the request of the local people.' Now continuing to quote Don Eldridge: 'Places like queer joints and black-frequented places where it is just impossible to get that kind of a ratio.' End quote, of Don Eldridge, member of the Liquor Control Board."

Mr. Julin spoke against the motion to override the veto of the Governor.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Pardini yielded to question by Mr. Hoggins.

Mr. Hoggins: "Mr. Pardini, do you know who the local people were, referred to in the remarks of Representative Charette?"

Mr. Pardini: "Mr. Hoggins, I am not familiar with the total quote of Mr. Eldridge which has been introduced here. I read it in the Seattle P.I. However, in conversation with Mr. Eldridge, it is my understanding that when he refers to the local people in that quote his reference is to the police and law enforcement officers charged with the responsibility of police protection in those areas."

Mr. Hoggins: "So he was doing this to help the law enforcement problem then?"

Mr. Pardini: "I believe so."

On page 6, section 5, line 12 after "percent" insert "from the immediately preceding school year's full time equivalent enrollment"

Representatives Kopet, Luders and Shinpoch spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Brown and Hoggins spoke against it.

The amendment by Representatives Kopet and Shinpoch to House Bill No. 1128 was adopted on a rising vote.

Mr. Conner demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Luders spoke against adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Shinpoch yielded to question by Mr. Douthwaite.

Mr. Douthwaite: "Mr. Shinpoch, would you clarify the effect of removing the proviso which starts on line 10, page 6?"

Mr. Shinpoch: "Thank you, Representative Douthwaite. If you take the converse of this, of course, the two percent--what it says is that we shall guarantee that their enrollment will not be less than ninety-eight percent, to kick in this clause. I believe that Seattle is somewhere around 95.8 percent this year. I read that figure a short time ago. I think it is 95.84 percent. It would still come under this. We are only covering five schools here, and for those five school districts, we are talking about $31.3 million."

Mr. Douthwaite: "Thank you, but I don't think that answers my question. The question is the impact of this proviso. But if you take the proviso out, if you are losing enrollment as Seattle is, the money you receive is based on the previous year's enrollment. Period. With this proviso in, it indicates that the amount you receive is reduced by one-half of the difference if you are below ninety-eight percent. I think you are not doing what you think you are doing."

Mr. Shinpoch: "I suppose that is always possible. Obviously, this section has more problems with it than anything else, if you look at the number of amendments on it. Almost all the time was spent on it in Ways and Means this morning. If the experts from the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction are correct, this particular proviso provides a base which guarantees 'X' amount of money. If you take that out, then they have their actual enrollment. I don't know how to tell you anything other than that."

Representatives Brown, King, Hoggins and Randall spoke against adoption of the amendment, and Representative Bagnariol spoke in favor of it.

Mr. Rabel demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Shinpoch: "Under our rules today, does the maker of the motion have an opportunity to close debate?"

The Speaker: "Only on the question of final passage, not on an amendment, Mr. Shinpoch."

MOTION

Mrs. Hurley moved that Representative Shinpoch be granted the opportunity to close debate.

The Speaker: "You would have to suspend the rules, Representative Hurley."

Mrs. Hurley: "Will Mr. Shinpoch yield to a question?"

The Speaker: "I'm sorry, the previous question has been demanded."

On motion of Mr. Conner, the second reading was considered the third, and Engrossed House Bill No. 1128 was placed on final passage.

Mr. Luders spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Luders yielded to question by Mr. Morrison.

Mr. Morrison: "Representative Luders, you indicated this morning in Ways and Means Committee certain figures that had been projected as far as the yield of HJR 37 if passed by the people. We have also heard there are not enough dollars there to support basic education. Would you please, for the record, indicate that according to the definition of basic education as included in this act, and the formula for distribution included therein, that there is or is not sufficient money to support basic K-12 education for a period of years ahead of us."

Mr. Luders: "Based upon the projected estimates by the Department of Revenue, there will be sufficient money derived from HJR 37 to fully fund education as embraced in this formula, and also there will be a surplus left over if the legislature decides in its wisdom to spend it on other state needs. This will not take up all of the revenue that will be derived from HJR 37 if it passes. So education will take up some. We are replacing the $444 million in special millages, but the legislature will have an opportunity to make some decisions as to what it wants to do with the remainder."

Representatives Polk, Shipoch, Warnke and Hoggins spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Mr. Luders spoke again in favor of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Perry yielded to question by Mr. Julin.

Mr. Julin: "Representative Perry, considering now the second committee amendment, do I understand that one of the thrusts of this measure if we pass it now would be that the State Highway Commission would be the determining body as to where these parking locations are to be?"

Mr. Perry: "No, that is not the thrust of the amendment. I think I might explain for the benefit of the members here in answer to your question, that last January in our highway budget, we appropriated money to obtain some park and ride lots. At that time there were 25 proposed park and ride lots in the highway budget. They were demonstrated to the members of the Transportation and Utilities Committee in the highway budget. They showed us where the lots were going to be. The members voted on that proposal and it subsequently got ready to be funded to buy the lots. A couple of weeks ago, Senator Durkan, Representative Bagnariol and myself attended a meeting with the Metropolitan Council people in Seattle. They proposed 50 parking lots. At that juncture, I said (and Mr. Andrews said), 'We don't know what you are doing here. What we did was appropriate money for 25 parking lots, and when we appropriate money in this legislature it has to be spent for what we appropriate it for--not for some other project.' That is my understanding at least, that I have with the Attorney General on this and several other matters that came up this way. This amendment merely says that when we give you money to buy a parking lot--that before you buy the parking lot: Number one, the Highway Commission has to know it is acceptable to the state system. You can't just put a park and ride lot anyplace you want because the main thrust of this is to get people to ride the metro buses but at the same time not to impede the state highway system. In other words, you have to have the concurrence of the Highway Commission saying that is not an inopportune spot as far as the Highway Department is concerned. It is not to keep them from buying wherever they want to buy, or to interfere unduly in their business, but it is to make sure our business in the state, the Highway Department's business, is expeditiously and effectively carried out."

Mr. Julin: "A further question, Representative Perry. Thank you for that answer, but would the practical operation of this bill be that any site selected for the park and ride system would then have to have the prior approval of the State Highway Commission before the funds can be expended for that purpose?"

Mr. Perry: "Yes."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 2642 as amended by the House, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 90; nays, 0; not voting, 8.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2947, by Judiciary Committee (Endorsed by Senators Atwood, Clarke, Bottiger, Van Hollebeke, Woodall, Francis, Dore and Twigg):

The bill was read the second time.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Swayze yielded to question by Mr. Tilly.

Mr. Tilly: "Representative Swayze, I have a letter from the Prosecuting Attorney of Chelan County regarding this bill. He is concerned with implementation on January 1st, that in our area we would not have a place to refer these mental patients. I didn't quite understand--are you saying that this bill does not implement?"

Mr. Swayze: "Well, this bill, as it stands here, makes some technical corrections in the bill itself--some adjustments in the bill which we can discuss. There are certain provisions in the bill which require local facilities to be provided. In fact, one of the major ones is that no longer on January 1st will persons who are going to have a commitment hearing--it is prohibited that they be held in jail. Now we were assured in the House Judiciary Committee, because this was a major concern, that there would be nonjail facilities available in every county by the implementation date. The chairman of the committee, Walt Knowles, asked the representatives of DSHS that question specifically and got a specific, direct answer 'yes' that there would be, in every county, proper facilities for these patients."

Mr. Tilly spoke against the bill.

Committee on Financial Institutions recommendation: Majority, do pass as amended. (For amendments, see Journal for third day, 2nd ex. sess., September 10, 1973.)

The bill was read the second time.

Mr. Ceccarelli moved adoption of the committee amendment beginning on page 1 of the bill.

Mr. Eikenberry moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On page 1, strike all of section 1 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 39.58 RCW a new section to read as follows:

A treasurer may invest public deposits with a qualified thrift depository after such depository has pledged and delivered to such treasurer, to guarantee the repayment of such public deposits, bonds and warrants which are the direct and general obligation of the state of Washington or of any city, town, county, school district, port district or any political subdivision of this state having the power to levy general taxes and on which there has not been a default in the payment of principal or interest: PROVIDED, That such segregation and pledge of securities shall have an aggregate market value of not less than the public deposit so secured."

Mr. Eikenberry spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

Mr. Conner demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Representatives Newhouse and Gaspard spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Mr. Eikenberry spoke again in favor of its adoption.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Eikenberry to the committee amendment to Engrossed House Bill No. 1047, and the amendment to the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 18; nays, 70; not voting, 10.

Voting yea: Representatives Amen, Bagnariol, Cunningham, Curtis, Eikenberry, Flanagan, Garrett, Gilleland, Hansen, Hansey, Hoggins, Juelling, Kopet, Polk, Pullen, Shinpoch, Van Dyk, Zimmerman.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Anderson, Barden, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Berentson, Blair, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Fortson, Freeman, Gaines, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Julin, Kalich, Kelley, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kraabel, Laughlin, Leckenby, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, Maxie, McCormick, Moon, Nelson, Newhouse, North F., North L., O'Brien, Paris, Parker, Patterson, Perry, Rabel, Randall, Savage, Schumaker, Smith, Sommers, Thompson, Tilly, Valle, Warnke, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, and Mr. Speaker.

On page 2, section 3, line 31 after "investment deposits" insert a period, strike the remainder of the section and insert "(: PROVIDED; That time deposits issued pursuant to this chapter shall bear interest at a rate which would not be in excess of one hundred percent of the average bill rate at the last U.S. treasury 91-day bill market auction or in excess of the maximum rate permitted by any applicable governmental regulation-))"

Mr. Douthwaite spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment, and Mr. Ceccarelli spoke against it.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker: "Representative Ceccarelli, please confine your remarks to the merits of the amendment."

Mr. Ceccarelli concluded his remarks in opposition to the amendment.

Mr. Conner demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Eikenberry spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Pardini yielded to question by Mr. Gaspard.

Mr. Gaspard: "Representative Pardini, one of the reasons for amending the bill the way we did to include all financial institutions--savings and loan and mutual savings banks--was to treat all financial institutions equally. And as I read Mr. Douthwaite's amendment, there could be a possibility of a discrepancy of interest rate. Could you comment on that?"

Mr. Pardini: "Representative Gaspard, I am reading it, and I am trying to read it as a technician. It would appear to me that there is a possibility that on amounts under $100,000, if this amendment were adopted, that the savings and loans and mutual savings banks could pay a slightly higher rate. I think it is a quarter of one percent under regulation 'Q,' and on amounts under $100,000 would have a competitive advantage over commercial banks. To further clarify, on amounts over $100,000, there are no limits at the present time and everyone then is in the same competitive situation."

Mr. Gaspard spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Mr. Douthwaite spoke again in favor of its adoption.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Douthwaite to the committee amendment to Engrossed House Bill No. 1047, and the amendment to the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 11; nays, 81; not voting, 6.

Voting yea: Representatives Charnley, Douthwaite, Johnson, Jueling, Lysen, North F., Shinpoch, Smith, Tilly, Valle, Williams.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Bagnariol, Barden, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Benitz, Berentson, Blair, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Cunningham, Curtis, Ehlers, Eikenberry, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Flanagan, Fortson, Freeman, Gaines, Gallagher, Garrett, Gaspard, Gilleland, Goltz, Hansen, Hansey, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Julin, Kalich, Kelley, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kopet, Kraabel, Laughlin, Leckenby, Luders, Martinis, Matthews, Maxie, May, McCormick, Moon, Nelson, Newhouse, North L., O'Brien, Paris, Parker, Patterson, Perry, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Randall, Savage, Schumaker, Sommers, Swayze, Thompson, Van Dyk, Warnke, Wilson, Wojahn, Zimmerman, and Mr. Speaker.

Not voting: Representatives Bluechel, Brown, Kuehne, Morrison, Pardini, Smythe.

Mr. Kopet moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On page 2, section 3, beginning on line 29 strike all the material down to and including "regulation." on page 3, line 3 and insert the following:

"The public deposit protection commission shall from time to time fix the rate of interest to be paid by qualified public depositories upon investment deposits: PROVIDED, That time deposits issued pursuant to this chapter shall bear interest at a rate which would not be in excess of one hundred percent of the average bill rate at the last U.S. treasury 91-day bill market auction for certificates of deposits having maturities of 120 days or less; or a rate not in excess of one hundred percent of the average bill rate at the last U.S. treasury 182-day bill market auction for maturities over 120 days or in excess of the maximum rate permitted by any applicable governmental regulation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is added to chapter 39.58 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The legislature, recognizing the substantial benefit to accrue to the state and its political subdivisions, declares it to be the public policy of this state to prefer in-state investment of all public funds available for investment. The public deposit protection commission shall publish from time to time, for the guidance of all public fund treasurers, appropriate criteria and instructions consistent with such public policy to promote and encourage such in-state investment."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

Mr. Kopet spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Mr. Newhouse spoke against it.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Blair: "Mr. Speaker, in looking very carefully at Representative Kopet's amendment, it strikes me that there are two sections which are basically dealing with completely separate issues, and I have a parliamentary inquiry I would like to direct to you, Mr. Speaker. Is it possible at this point in our proceedings to divide the question on this amendment by Representative Kopet, so that we vote on the two sections that he is inserting separately?"

The Speaker: "Representative Blair, in the Speaker's mind, these matters are so separate they probably should have been considered separately anyway. Therefore the Speaker will divide the question for you, since they are of such a nature they probably should be considered separately."

DIVISION OF QUESTION

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the amendment by Mr. Kopet to page 2, section 3, beginning on line 29 of the committee amendment.

Mr. Gaspard spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Ceccarelli yielded to question by Mr. Julin.

Mr. Julin: "Representative Ceccarelli, when we were dealing with the income tax measure, we went up and down, through and around and in between the Internal Revenue Code. We got all tangled up in it, and yet on a prior amendment you spoke the simple words, 'This industry is regulated by regulation "Q"' and you got an overwhelming vote. What is it that is so magic about that? I don't know what you are talking about."

Mr. Ceccarelli: "Regulation 'Q' is set forth by the federal government so that commercial banks and thrift institutions can pay up to the amount of pass book savings for interest."

Mr. Eikenberry spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

Mr. Conner demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Gaspard yielded to question by Mr. Kelley.

Mr. Kelley: "Representative Gaspard, what kind of services are we really talking about in reference to Representative Eikenberry's last remarks?"

Mr. Gaspard: "Again, to set this in perspective, relying on statistics from the quarter ending June 30, 1973, there are $555 million of public funds. Out of that $555 million, $183 million were in demand deposits, bearing no interest on them whatsoever. Now one of the reasons given against this bill is that it is going to eliminate some competition, and also that we are not going to get some services that the state now receives from commercial banks. These services are cashing of warrants, and this is reflected in the lower interest rate that the state receives for public funds. As you can see, $183 million not earning any interest at all certainly outweighs any amount of services that we should be paying for. What I think--let's bring this all out in the open--let's let our public funds earn the interest rates that the private sector will earn, in excess of what they are getting now. And if they have to, let them negotiate with the banks for these extra services. I say let's bring it out in the open."

Mr. Ceccarelli spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Barden: "Mr. Speaker, would Representative Gaspard yield to question?"

Mr. Gaspard refused to yield to question.

Representatives Barden and Zimmerman spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment.

Mr. Luders demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Kopet to page 2, line 29 of the committee amendment to Engrossed House Bill No. 1047, and the amendment to the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 24; nays, 67; not voting, 7.

Voting yea: Representatives Amen, Barden, Brown, Curtis, Eikenberry, Eng, Flanagan, Gilleland, Hansen, Hoggins, Jueling, Kopet, Kuehnle, Laughlin, Matthews, Maxie, Pullen, Randall, Schumaker, Shinpoch, Tilly, Van Dyk, Wilson, Zimmerman.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Anderson, Bagnariol, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Benitz, Berentson, Blair, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Ellis, Erickson, Fortson, Freeman, Gaines, Gallagher, Garrett, Gaspard, Goltz, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Julin, Kalich, Kelley, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kraabel, Leckenby, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, McCormick, Moon, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North F., North L., O'Brien, Paris, Parker, Patterson, Perry, Polk, Rabel, Savage, Smith, Sommers, Thompson, Valle, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, and Mr. Speaker.

Not voting: Representatives Bluechel, Cunningham, Hansey, May, Pardini, Smythe, Swayze.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the amendment by Mr. Kopet adding a new section 4 to the committee amendment to Engrossed House Bill No. 1047.

Representatives Kopet, Leckenby and Blair spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Ceccarelli spoke against it.

Mr. Conner demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Ceccarelli yielded to question by Mr. Bausch.

Mr. Bausch: "Dave, I am referring to the lines 'declares it to be the public policy of this state to prefer in-state investment of all public funds available for investment.' Realizing this may set up somewhat of a mandate or a legislative mandate to invest only in the state of Washington, I am interested to know--do the public funds invested in the banks of the state of Washington accrue a certain amount of interest--do they in turn then invest that money possibly again out of the state?"

Mr. Ceccarelli: "Yes."

Mr. Bausch: "We are being asked to invest our money in the state, but they in turn can go out of the state or whatever?"

Mr. Ceccarelli: "Yes, that is common knowledge. The real problem with putting this public policy (and really probably Representative Charette should be speaking to this since he did it so well in 1969) but when you put public policy in there, you are going to go to your county treasurer, or you are going to go to your port commission, or you are going to go to your PUD, and you are going to say: 'Why is it they are paying six percent interest outside the state on a treasury bond, and they are only paying four percent in the state of Washington? Why is it you are investing the money in the state of Washington? Why don't you go and get that extra two points?' And he is going to pull out the law and say, 'See right here, it says wherever possible the public policy shall be that we shall invest in-state.' And this is where he is going to have you, because he is going to have something to hang his hat on. And this is why we have defeated this type of amendment before in similar legislation, and this is why I would like to see this amendment defeated this evening. I think it is very dangerous, because if you are going to make those public servants responsive to the people, I think you have to start out very carefully. Especially when they are dealing with, as of this morning, $375 million of public funds in the state of Washington. That is no small matter, and that is why this whole country is shook up on financial institutions, and that's why our great Congressman from Texas, Wright Patman--when the bankers even his name they kind of shudder."

Representatives Bausch and Parker spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Barden spoke in favor of it.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Kopet adding a new section 4 to the committee amendment to Engrossed House Bill No. 1047, and the amendment to the amendment was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 39; nays, 53; not voting, 6.

Voting yea: Representatives Amen, Barden, Benitz, Berentson, Blair, Brown, Curtis, Eikenberry, Ellis, Eng, Flanagan, Freeman, Garrett, Gilleland, Hansey, Juelling, Julin, Kalich, Kilbury, Kopet, Kuehnle, Leckenby, Maxie, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North L., O'Brien, Paris, Pullen, Randall, Schumaker, Shipoch, Swayze, Tilly, Van Dyk, Wojahn, Zimmerman, and Mr. Speaker.

Voting nay: Representatives Adams, Anderson, Bagnariol, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Cunningham, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Erickson, Fortson, Gaines, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Hansen, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Kelley, King, Knowles, Kraabel, Laughlin, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, Matthews, McCormick, Moon, North F., Parker, Perry, Rabel, Savage, Smith, Sommers, Thompson, Valle, Warnke, Williams, Wilson.

Not voting: Representatives Bluechel, May, Pardini, Patterson, Polk, Smythe.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the committee amendment beginning on page 1 of the bill.

The committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Ceccarelli, the committee amendment to the title was adopted.

House Bill No. 1047 was ordered reengrossed.

On motion of Mr. Conner, the second reading was considered the third, and Reengrossed House Bill No. 1047 was placed on final passage.

Representatives Gaspard, Eikenberry and Lysen spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Reengrossed House Bill No. 1047, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 76; nays, 16; not voting, 6.

Not voting: Representatives Bluechel, Hansey, May, Pardini, Shinpoch, Smythe.

Reengrossed House Bill No. 1047, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

It is hereby declared to be the policy of this state that certain selected rivers of the state which, with their immediate environs, possess the aforementioned characteristics, shall be preserved in as near to free-flowing condition as possible, and that they and their immediate environs shall be preserved in as natural condition as practical.

The purpose of this 1973 act is to implement a policy and procedure for instituting a state wild, scenic and recreational rivers system, indicating the initial components of that system and prescribing a procedure by which additional components may be added to the system from time to time.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 43.30 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The committee shall also adopt management plans for protecting ecological, recreational, aesthetic, botanical, scenic, geological, hydrological, fish and wildlife, historical, cultural, archaeological and scientific features of the rivers designated in the system.

The committee shall have the right of final determination as to whether or not a river, designated by the legislature as eligible for consideration as part of the system, is to be a part of the system, and shall determine the boundaries which shall define the river area associated with any included river. In making such determination the committee shall define those portions of a river to be included in the system and the classification of the included portions or segments thereof as wild, scenic or recreational. With respect to the six rivers named in section 7 of this 1973 act, the committee shall make such determination within one year of the effective date of this 1973 act.

Before making a decision regarding portions of rivers to be included in the system, the classification of the segments of the included portions, or a variance in policy, the committee shall hold hearings in accord with chapter 34.04 RCW and shall hold at least one public hearing in the general locale of the river which is to be under consideration. The department shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the area which includes the river or rivers to be considered, a description, including a map showing such river or rivers, of the material to be considered at the public hearing. Such notice shall appear at least twice in the time period between two and four weeks prior to the public hearing.

Meetings of the committee shall be called by the chairman or by written petition signed by five or more of the committee members.

The committee shall recommend studies and from time to time through its chairman submit to the legislature proposals for additions to the state wild, scenic and recreational rivers system of river areas which fall within one or more of the descriptive classes set out in section 5 of this 1973 act. These proposals shall specify the class or classes of the proposed addition and shall be accompanied by a detailed report approved by the committee on the factors which, in the judgment of the committee, make the area a worthy addition to the system.

The department shall have the responsibility for coordinating the development of the system between affected state agencies and participating local governments, and shall develop and adopt rules and regulations, in accord with chapter 34.04 RCW, the administrative procedure act, for each portion of the system, which shall implement the committee's management policy. In developing rules and regulations for a specific river in the system the department shall hold at least one public hearing in the general locale of the river under consideration. The department shall cause a complete set of proposed rules and regulations to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the area which includes the river to be considered twice in the period of time between two and four weeks prior to the public hearing.

In addition to any other powers granted hereunder, the department in order to carry out the intent of this 1973 act is authorized, subject to majority approval of the committee, to purchase land in fee or any lesser right or interest in real property, including but not limited to public use and scenic easements and future development rights.

The department is further authorized to acquire by gift, devise, purchase, grant, dedication, or means other than eminent domain, the fee, an option to purchase, a right of first refusal or any other lesser right or interest in real property which shall be held and managed within a wild, scenic or recreational river area and accept grants, contributions, and appropriations from any agency, public or private, or individual for the purposes of this 1973 act.

The department is hereby vested with the power to obtain injunctions and other appropriate relief against violations of any provisions of this 1973 act and any rules and regulations adopted under section 4 of this 1973 act or agreements made under this 1973 act.

All state and local government agencies are hereby directed to pursue policies with regard to their respective activities, functions, powers and duties which are designed to conserve and enhance the conditions of rivers which have been included in the system, in accordance with the management policy and plans adopted by the committee, and in accordance with the rules and regulations adopted by the department for such rivers.

(b) has sufficient volume of water in normal years to permit kayaking, canoeing, boating, fishing and other water dependent recreational activities;

(c) has water which meets or is capable of meeting class AA extraordinary standards as defined by WAC 372-12-070 on the effective date of this 1973 act;

Providing funding for convention centers.

The bill was read the second time.

On motion of Mr. Conner, the second reading was considered the third, and Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2494 was placed on final passage.

Mr. Kilbury spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kilbury yielded to question by Mr. Douthwaite.

Mr. Douthwaite: "Representative Kilbury, will you tell us whether or not this is another rip-off from the state to support Expo '74 perhaps, or what are we about to be doing here, in more detail, please?"

Mr. Kilbury: "I can only speak, Representative Douthwaite, to the cost in revenue to third class counties. We had a bill in Local Government Committee which did this for third class counties. I think the amount of tax to be raised would amount to somewhere in the neighborhood of $300,000. Projecting this to all 39 counties, it would probably be in the neighborhood of two or three million dollars."

Mr. Douthwaite: "Does the state underwrite this financing from the counties in any way? Is the state incurring any obligations here, or is this all a county matter? Are there matching funds from the state?"

Mr. Kilbury: "No, there are no possibilities under this legislation that it be financed other than by the municipality which was involved."

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

September 15, 1973

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has concurred in the House amendment to SENATE BILL NO. 2942 on page 5 adding a new section 3, and asks the House to recede from its amendments to line 2 of the title, and to page 5, adding a new section 2, and said bill, together with the House amendments thereto, is herewith transmitted.

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

MOTION

Mr. Conner moved that the House refuse to recede from its amendments to line 2 of the title and to page 5 adding a new section 2, Senate Bill No. 2942, and ask the Senate to concur therein.

Representatives Parker and Matthews spoke in favor of the motion.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Matthews yielded to question by Mr. Kuehnle.

Mr. Kuehnle: "Representative Matthews, things are flying kind of fast and furiously, and I am sure a great many of us are confused, but if I remember correctly, the key to this thing was creating the proper definition for marijuana. Wasn't that the primary thrust of the bill? And then the thing we are considering here is actually a reduction of the penalties. I am very much concerned that we don't lose the bill--that it does clarify definitions as a result of the Florida decision where if we don't pass this thing extending the definitions, then we will be in the same position that Florida was, and we won't have any way of convicting some of these people."

Mr. Matthews: "You are right on the first part--that this does clarify the situation, including the whole species of cannabis--all of those different genera, under the species 'cannabis.' So that part is taken care of. However, the amendment that we are specifically in dispute over at this point is an amendment that has to do with negligent homicide. And under the controlled substances act, at the present time there is no possibility (the way it is written, statutorily) for an individual to be charged with negligent homicide while under the influence of a narcotic. And this clarifies that so now they can be charged with negligent homicide. I simply put that into the statute. So it is clarifying, and it does not reduce the penalty at all. It, in fact, puts that back into the law."

Mr. Kuehnle: "Do we have some reasonable assurance that if we stick to our position that the Senate will concur with our amendment and we won't lose our definitions?"

Mr. Matthews: "Yes, I think so at this time."

The motion by Mr. Conner was carried.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2978, by Senators Murray, Washington and Talley:

Establishing a program of baseline studies by the department of ecology.

The bill was read the second time.

On motion of Mr. Conner, the second reading was considered the third, and Senate Bill No. 2978 was placed on final passage.

Mr. Luders spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

On motion of Mr. Conner, the second reading was considered the third, and Senate Bill No. 2983 was placed on final passage.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

September 15, 1973

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate recesses from its position on the following amendments to ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 189:

In line 1 of the title, after "24A.41.130;" strike everything down to and including "(...);" on line 4

On page 2, section 1, line 29, beginning with "Notwithstanding" strike all the matter down to and including "years." on page 3, line 1

On page 3, line 2 strike all of section 2 and renumber the remaining sections consecutively

On page 4, section 3, line 5 after "after" and before the period strike "January, 1, 1975" and insert "July 1, 1974"

And adheres to its position on the amendment to line 8 of the title striking all material down to and including "70.35.070;" on line 16; and on page 8, section 9, line 7, after "one-" and before "cents" strike "((half)) quarter" and insert "half"

And once again asks the House to concur, and said bill, together with the amendments thereto, is herewith transmitted.

Bill Gleason, Assistant Secretary.

MOTION

Ms. Sommers moved that the House concur in the Senate amendments to line 8 of the title and to page 8, section 9, line 7, Engrossed House Bill No. 189.

MOTION

Mrs. North (Lois) moved that the House do not concur with the amendment regarding the T.B. millage.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "The positive motion--the motion to concur--was put first."

Ms. Sommers spoke in favor of the motion to concur in the Senate amendments.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Sommers yielded to question by Mr. Curtis.

Mr. Curtis: "I wonder if I could ask you to clarify this issue? As I understand it, reading from the message from the Senate, the Senate adheres to its position on the amendment to line 8 of the title, etc., and on page 8, section 9, line 7 after 'one-' and before 'cents' strike '((half)) quarter' and insert 'half.' Would you explain to us that amendment to which the Senate adheres and asks us to recede and the implications of the vote?"

Ms. Sommers: "When we amended House Bill No. 189, what we were trying to do was to proportionately reduce the statutory earmarked millage because we had cut the taxing districts by ten percent and what we were trying to do was to then cut by ten percent the earmarked funds. When the Senate amended this bill, they refused to cut the T.B. millage, and they refused to cut the mental health millage. Now when we dealt with this same issue yesterday, we accepted their refusal on the T.B. millage, for this reason: We had unfortunately reenacted old language which had been changed in the spring. When House Bill No. 189 was filed, apparently the Code Reviser didn't pick that up, and we did not reenact that old millage. There is another reason for receding from the T.B. millage. Those statutes are a labyrinth designed to let people who don't need all that T.B. money do other things with it, so that we are not tying the county funds up quite as badly as it looks at first glance. However, I hope that we can clean that up in January. Now for the second part of it, on the mental health, I would have preferred that they recede, but they didn't and I don't want to lose the rest of it. They did recede on the grandfather clause."

Mr. Curtis: "I realize that, Ms. Sommers. My question, and perhaps let me phrase it another way so I can get a positive 'yes' or 'no' answer: Does the Senate amendment on page 8, section 9, line 7 which strikes the word 'quarter' and inserts the word 'half' affect the money--what we know as T.B. money--for the T.B. districts? Does it not in effect raise it back to where it was so that proportionately T.B. districts are gaining what I would term (and I don't want to put words in your mouth as far as the answer is concerned), an unfair advantage or an unfair cut of the cut?"

Ms. Sommers: "That page, that is page 8, section 9, line 7 refers to the mental health-mental retardation money--not the T.B. money."

Mr. Curtis: "And it is in effect raising their allowance or their allotment?"

Ms. Sommers: "It proportionately raises their allowance, yes."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) stated the question before the House to be the motion by Ms. Sommers that the House concur in the Senate amendments to line 8 of the title, and page 8, section 9, line 7, Engrossed House Bill No. 189.

The motion was carried on a rising vote.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) stated the question before the House to be the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 189 as amended by the Senate.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

September 15, 1973

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate refuses to recede from its amendments to SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 221 to section 1, line 11, and to section 1, line 14, and asks the House to concur therewith, and said bill, together with the Senate amendments thereto, is herewith transmitted.

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

MOTION

Mr. Parker moved that the House concur in the Senate amendments to SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 221.

Representatives Parker and Knowles spoke in favor of the motion and Representatives Matthews, Swayze and Curtis spoke against it.

Mr. Conner demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Kelley spoke against the motion by Mr. Parker.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Knowles yielded to question by Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown: "Representative Knowles, in your remarks you stated that you agreed with Representative Swayze, but you thought it was better to have a bill. If it is really serving only to decrease the penalties, what purpose does having the bill serve?"

Mr. Knowles: "I think in committee it was pointed out that although there is a federal statute in this area, there has never been a conviction on it. The original bill just called for a felony. We tailored it to fit the federal penalties. I don't know if the federal government is not diligent, but there has never been a conviction, as we understand it, under the federal law. I might also point out that this dollar value is not absolute as to felony and gross misdemeanor. We had differing figures all the way up to something we passed in the House not too long ago, where smashing a window, if the value was $250, became a felony. So there is precedent in the law to have differing amounts where penalties for a felony or gross misdemeanor are concerned."

Mr. Parker spoke again in favor of the motion.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Mr. Parker that the House concur in the Senate amendments to Substitute House Bill No. 221, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 50; not voting, 4.

Voting yea: Representatives Adams, Anderson, Bagnariol, Bausch, Beck, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Conner, Douthwaite, Fortson, Gaines, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Haussler, Hendricks, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Kalich, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Luders, Martinis, Maxie, May, McCormick, Moon, North F., O'Brien, Parker, Perry, Randall, Savage, Shinpoch, Smith, Thompson, Valle, Van Dyk, Warnke, Williams.

Voting nay: Representatives Amen, Barden, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Berentson, Blair, Brown, Clemente, Cunningham, Curtis, Ehlers, Eikenberry, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Flanagan, Freeman, Garrett, Gilleland, Hansen, Hansey, Hayner, Hoggins, Juelling, Julin, Kelley, Kopet, Kraabel, Kuehnle, Laughlin, Leckenby, Lysen, Matthews, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North L., Pardini, Paris, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Schumaker, Sommers, Swayze, Tilly, Wilson, Wojahn, Zimmerman.

Not voting: Representatives Bluechel, Patterson, Smythe, and Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) stated that the House, by its action, insisted on its position with respect to the Senate amendments to Substitute House Bill No. 221.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2959, by Committee on Ways and Means (Originally sponsored by Senator Durkan):

Providing for a system of property tax exemptions.

The bill was read the second time.

The Clerk read the following amendments by Representatives Curtis, Haussler, Paris and Goltz:

On page 1, section 1, line 25 after "exceeding" strike "five" and insert "((five)) ten"

On page 2, section 1, line 5 after "with" strike "church,"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Curtis: "With the consent of the House I would like to withdraw both of those amendments on the desk and if I may, ask for a point of personal privilege."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Would you like to place a statement in the record?"

Mr. Curtis: "I would simply like to make a statement to the body, if I may."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Well, I suppose we have been a little bit liberal in this interpretation of personal privilege. No one has impugned your motives in any way, but go ahead."

Mr. Curtis: "I didn't mean to imply that, Mr. Speaker. Perhaps I could just ask your advice as to what is the proper way to do it then? I am sorry if I was in error in asking for a point of personal privilege. You are absolutely correct--no one has impugned my motives. What is the proper method?"

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Well, the proper way is to place a statement in the Journal, explaining your position, whatever it might be."

Mr. Curtis: "May I simply state it and request that it be placed in the Journal?"

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "You have that permission."

Mr. Curtis: "Very briefly--I'm sorry to make such a hassle out of it--the amendment has been withdrawn in the interest of not hanging paper on this bill and seeing it go, because all of us want to see it go. In addition to that, we have received assurances (those of us interested in the amendment) that the item will be studied between now and January. We will put a bill in, in January, and we have received every assurance that it will be heard. We appreciate that very much and therefore we are withdrawing the amendment."

Mr. Gaspard moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Beck, Adams, Wojahn, Kelley, Gaspard, Juelling, Swayze and Gallagher:

On page 7, section 5, line 20 after "profit" insert the following "together with all real and personal property of such associations used exclusively for the safekeeping, maintaining and exhibiting of such collections: PROVIDED, That to qualify for this exemption an organization must be organized and operated exclusively for artistic, scientific, historical, literary or educational purposes and receive a substantial part of its support (exclusive of income received in the exercise or performance by such organization of its purpose or function) from the United States or any state or any political subdivision thereof or from direct or indirect contributions from the general public"

Representatives Gaspard and Swayze spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Bagnariol spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Gaspard yielded to question by Mr. Newhouse.

Mr. Newhouse: "Representative Gaspard, it is not a trick question, but it seems to be somewhere in the back of my mind that the county commissioners have already taken the prerogative of exempting the Tacoma Museum under, I believe, the nature conservancy section that we passed some years ago. I admit that is a very remote section of the law, but I understand they are presently tax exempt. Is that correct?"

Mr. Gaspard: "Mr. Newhouse, to my understanding, the Tacoma Art Museum is going to be placed on the tax roll by the county assessor. I have not heard anything contrary to that."

Representatives Beck, Wojahn and Kelley spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Newhouse: "Because I raised the question, I have been advised that 'yes' I am partially correct. The exemption did exist under that nature conservancy provision, but we changed that statute some few months ago, and evidently the Pierce County Assessor is making an effort to place almost all of those properties on the rolls."

The amendment by Representative Beck and others to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2959 was adopted.

The Clerk read the following amendment by Representatives Sommers and Randall:

On page 13, after section 19, on line 31 add a new section to read as follows:

"Sec. 20. Section 20, chapter 288, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 67, Laws of 1973 ex. sess. and RCW 84.55.010 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as provided in RCW 84.55.020 through 84.55.050, the levy in 1973 and years subsequent thereto for a taxing district other than the state or a school district in any year shall be set so that the regular property taxes payable in the following year shall not exceed one hundred six percent of the amount of regular property taxes lawfully levied for such district in the highest of the three most recent years in which such taxes were levied for such district plus an additional dollar amount calculated by multiplying the increase in assessed value in that district resulting from new construction and improvements to property by the regular property tax levy rate of that district for the preceding year: PROVIDED, That if such taxing district is a county, or is located within a county or counties, in which the property is being revalued in accordance with a cyclical revaluation program commencing in or after 1969 pursuant to the requirements of RCW 84.41.030 and the revaluation of the property within such taxing district has not been fully completed prior to certification of the tax rolls for levies made in 1972, then the provisions of this section shall not be applicable for levies made in 1973 by those taxing districts in which all the property has not been valued or revalued: PROVIDED FURTHER, That if a taxing district has not levied in the three most recent years and elects to restore a regular property tax levy subject to applicable statutory limitations then such first restored levy shall be set so that the regular property tax payable shall not exceed the amount which could have been lawfully levied in ((1973)) the year in which the limitation imposed pursuant to this section becomes applicable, plus an additional dollar amount calculated by multiplying the increase in assessed value in the district since ((1973)) the year in which the limitation imposed pursuant to this section becomes applicable resulting from new construction and improvements to property by the property tax rate which is proposed to be restored, or the maximum amount which could be lawfully levied in the year such a restored levy is proposed: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That if the levy by a county is reduced from what it would otherwise be if this section did not exist, the levy limitations set forth in RCW 70.12.010, 70.32.010, 70.32.090, 70.33.040, 70.35.070, 71.20.110, and 73.08.080, as amended, shall be proportionately reduced."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively

With the consent of the House, Mr. Randall withdrew the amendment.

On motion of Mr. Conner, the second reading was considered the third, and Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2959 as amended by the House was placed on final passage.

Mr. Randall spoke in favor of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Randall yielded to question by Mr. Bausch.

Mr. Bausch: "In clarifying who we are talking about here on tax exempt status: We have a St. Placid's Priory High School here in Thurston County on about 80 acres, which deals with secondary education. It is supported in part by charities and for the most part by student fees and tuition. But the entire income is devoted exclusively to the educational process. (1) Would this be an example of those placed under tax exempt status under this bill? (2) Concerning the same, and some of those day care centers and some of the churches that have dealings with day care centers and have been placed on the rolls, for collection in 1974, the second part of my question would be: Would these organizations placed in this (if we have some hang-ups on this bill at a later date) have grounds for any retroactivity in that case?"

Mr. Randall: "The Senate Ways and Means staff, in anticipating just that, requested an Attorney General's opinion. It was the Attorney General's opinion that the answer to your first question was in the affirmative--that those tax exempt organizations that were put on the tax rolls this year for collection next year would have recourse. They would be entitled to be taken off the tax rolls, or not pay that tax. In the case of the second question, that these tax exempt entities that are now on the tax rolls for 1974 collection--they do have recourse, and the law provides for recourse to allow them to recover or contest any tax payment. This is a five-page answer to two simple questions. I think maybe I have left one part out--not only do they have recourse, they have bona fide action that they will, in fact, recover if they are duly qualified as a tax exempt organization."

Representatives Newhouse, Williams and Moon spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2959 as amended by the House, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 96; nays, 0; not voting, 2.

Voting yea: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Bagnariol, Barden, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Benitz, Berentson, Blair, Brown, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Cunningham, Curtis, Douthwaite, Ehlers, Eikenberry, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Flanagan, Fortson, Freeman, Gaines, Gallagher, Garrett, Gaspard, Gilleland, Goltz, Hansen, Hansey, Haussler, Hayner, Hendricks, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jueling, Julin, Kalich, Kelley, Kelley, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kopet, Kraabel, Kuehnle, Laughlin, Leckenby, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, Matthews, Maxie, May, McCormick, Moon, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North F., North L., O'Brien, Pardini, Paris, Parker, Patterson, Perry, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Randall, Savage, Schumaker, Shinpoeh, Smith, Sommers, Swayze, Thompson, Tilly, Valle, Van Dyk, Warnke, Williams, Wilson, Wojahn, Zimmerman, and Mr. Speaker.

Not voting: Representatives Bluechel, Smythe.

Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2959 as amended by the House, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) declared the House to be at ease.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) called the House to order.

DIVISION OF QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Tilly, the question was divided.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) stated the question before the House to be the motion that the House recede from its amendment to page 34, section 12, line 14.

The motion was carried.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) stated the question before the House to be the motion that the House recede from its amendment to page 34, section 12, line 20.

Representatives Tilly and Morrison spoke against the motion, and Mr. Charette spoke in favor of it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Julin yielded to question by Mr. Curtis.

Mr. Curtis: "Representative Julin, I wonder if you would comment on the intent of the House in including this language allowing the subchapter 'S' corporations to carry over their losses?"

Mr. Julin: "The question, as I understand it, Representative Curtis, is what was the intent of the House in adopting the amendment dealing with the losses of subchapter 'S' corporations. I am satisfied that the intent of the House was that we wanted this statute to be in a posture such that if a subchapter 'S' corporation does sustain a loss, that since the corporate entity itself is going to be paying taxes on any income, the individual stockholders would be entitled to claim the loss--their share of that subchapter 'S' corporation's loss on their own individual income tax returns. I can tell you that I have conferred with members of the Senate on this, and as Representative Charette has indicated there is some uncertainty in the language. But I would like to have this clearly in the record that I believe that the intent of the Senate and the intent of the House is identical in this regard, and that probably a more preferable language would be to amend this and insert language that would say you could deduct your share of any income and shall be entitled to deduct your share of any losses. That is the intent and I am satisfied that intent has been made a matter of record in the record of the Senate, and I want to be sure it is clear that it is the intent of this body, when I do urge you to recede, because that, I believe, will be consistent with what we are all trying to do."

Mr. Hansey demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Julin yielded to question by Mr. Flanagan.

Mr. Flanagan: "Inasmuch as this part of the bill deals with the definition of taxable income, which, if changed after HJR 37 passes, is subject to referendum of the people, then if we don't make the change now and try to make it at a later date, we are subject to referendum of the people. I believe this part of the bill deals with the definition of taxable income."

Mr. Julin: "Representative Flanagan, I am not satisfied that this section of the bill actually deals with what you would the call definition of taxable income. I think it deals with how you treat either income or losses and what I was trying to do was get in the Journal for the record as a clear indication to the Department of Revenue that it was the intent of the legislature that by receding from our position, we would be concurring with the Senate's intent that the individual stockholder in a subchapter 'S' corporation would be entitled to deduct on his own personal income tax return, his share of any losses sustained by a subchapter 'S' corporation."

Mr. Flanagan: "It seems to me that this part of the bill determines the income that is going to be taxable under the rates, and therefore is a part of the definition of taxable income and would be subject to referendum unless we clear it up now."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Mr. Randall that the House recede from its amendment to page 34, section 12, line 20, relating to subchapter "S" corporations, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102, and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 60; nays, 36; not voting, 2.

Voting yea: Representatives Adams, Anderson, Bagnariol, Bauer, Bausch, Beck, Bender, Ceccarelli, Charette, Charnley, Chatalas, Clemente, Conner, Ehlers, Ellis, Eng, Erickson, Fortson, Gaines, Gallagher, Gaspard, Goltz, Haussler, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Julin, Kalich, Kelley, Kilbury, King, Knowles, Kopet, Kraabel, Laughlin, Luders, Lysen, Martinis, Maxie, May, McCormick, Moon, North F., O'Brien, Parker, Perry, Randall, Savage, Schumaker, Shipoch, Smith, Sommers, Thompson, Valle, Van Dyk, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, and Mr. Speaker.

Voting nay: Representatives Amen, Barden, Benitz, Berentson, Blair, Brown, Cunningham, Curtis, Douthwaite, Eikenberry, Flanagan, Freeman, Garrett, Gilleland, Hansen, Hansey, Hayner, Hendricks, Jueling, Kuehnle, Leckenby, Matthews, Morrison, Nelson, Newhouse, North L., Pardini, Paris, Patterson, Polk, Pullen, Rabel, Swayze, Tilly, Wilson, Zimmerman.

Not voting: Representatives Bluechel, Smythe.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) stated the question before the House to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102 without certain House amendments.

ROLL CALL

MOTION

Mrs. Wojahn moved that the House concur in the Senate amendments to Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 487.

Representatives Kuehnle and Wojahn spoke in favor of the motion, and Representative Brown spoke against it.

Mr. Conner demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mrs. Wojahn yielded to question by Mr. Douthwaite.

Mr. Douthwaite: "The amendment on the first page, Representative Wojahn, down about three-quarters of the way--page 12, section 4, line 21, says 'PROVIDED FURTHER, That the commission or director shall not issue, deny, suspend or revoke any license because of the policies of any applicant with regard to race, creed, color...' I don't know, but it seems to me there must be some good reason for this, if the applicant has policies which are unlawful regarding racial or sex discrimination of some kind. Does this allow him to be somehow immune from the requirements to abide by the nondiscriminatory language which exist in the state law?"

Mrs. Wojahn: "In answer to your question, Representative Douthwaite, no, it does not. It simply does not permit the gambling commission to make that decision. This is the area in which the gambling commission may make errors on granting or not granting a license or in the area of rules and regulations, but they do not have the right to make a policy decision such as this, and it should not even enter this area. This is simply an attempt to preclude them because they apparently are getting into policy areas right now, and that is one of the reasons we are having problems with the bill."

Mr. Douthwaite: "To follow up a bit more, if, for example, an establishment prohibited the admission of people of English descent in their policies, this indicates then that we cannot do anything about that. This cannot be taken into consideration by the gambling commission, this type of racial discrimination?"

Mrs. Wojahn: "It isn't in their province right now. We think that they would be attempting to enter an area again of policy, in which they have no right to enter, and that is the only reason for this. This is a legislative prerogative, not an appointed commission prerogative."

Mr. Douthwaite: "Well, I think the answer to that is that the state has policies regarding racial discrimination of which most of us are very proud. And this looks like a loophole to get around such a policy, which I think smacks of something which perhaps comes from Mississippi or somewhere, and therefore I don't think I can support this amendment."

Representatives Conner and Kuehnle spoke in favor of the motion to concur in the Senate amendments to Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 487, and Representatives Kraabel, Pullen and Smith spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kuehnle yielded to question by Mrs. Hayner.

Mrs. Hayner: "Representative Kuehnle, I have a great deal of respect for your expertise in this field since I know that you were in on the drafting of this bill from the very beginning. I have some question about the extension of this veto power which you mentioned. Would you please direct me to the right section where that exists?"

Mr. Kuehnle: "Yes, Representative Hayner. The amendment is on the second page of this bundle of amendments I have. I presume it is in the same position on yours. It starts on page 13, section 4, line 5 after 'by the commission;' insert the following. (And incidentally there is a typographical error which we found just a little while ago and that will help clarify it for you, too, I think.) It now reads 'Any license to engage in any of the gambling activities authorized by section 9.46.030 RCW as now exists or is later amended issued under the authority of this section shall be the legal authority to engage in the gambling activity for which issued throughout the incorporated and unincorporated area of any county'--and here is where the three words are missing. Insert the words 'unless a county' and then continue with the language '...with respect to all areas within the county except a city located therein shall absolutely prohibit any or all gambling activities authorized by section 9.46.030.' So in essence what it now says is that the county governs the gambling activities within the county except that a city may prohibit gambling activities within the city. Frankly I would prefer that the language were a little clearer, but this was the result of an amendment to the gambling commission's amendment in the Senate, and we then have to go back to a definition of a city. And as nearly as I have been able to determine in rushing around here the last few minutes, a third class city, for example, goes down to a population of 1,500 people. Below that it is called a town. So the interpretation as best we understand it would be that a city may prohibit gambling even though the county opts for it."

Mrs. Hayner: "In other words, what you are saying is that the county may veto what has been authorized by the state, and then the city may veto the county."

Mr. Kuehnle: "The county may opt in favor of, but the city may opt against."

Mr. Ehlers spoke in favor of the motion by Representative Wojahn that the House concur in the Senate amendments, Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 487.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kuehnle yielded to question by Mr. Williams.

Mr. Williams: "In section 4 of the bill where it says the commission shall have certain powers, and then subsection (5) of that says that they may require that any license holder maintain records as directed by the commission and submit such reports that the commission may deem necessary--now the Senate amendment to that section says.. 'PROVIDED FURTHER, That with respect to the duly elected officers and directors of a bona fide charitable or nonprofit organization the commission shall not require any information beyond such current information as is normally required for purpose of identification...' Now earlier you said something about how you felt the commission itself had essential powers for controlling many aspects of this. Now wouldn't you say that that is a considerable limitation on their power to be able to safeguard the public in terms of who are officers, etc., of these charitable organizations?"

Mr. Kuehnle: "I am not sure that I can answer the question with a 'yes' or 'no.' I can only explain to you the rationale that was used by Senator Woodall in offering the amendment. The original language in the statute as we passed it in the last session required that all of the officers and all of the directors of any bona fide charitable, nonprofit institution provide a history--no excuse me, this isn't right. The rule that was adopted by the commission required that they provide information going back ten years relative to all of their employment, etc., with all of these directors. And--I think this is correct, I am going from memory--Senator Woodall and Senator Canfield and several others had serious objections which had been registered at the recent gambling commission meeting at SeaTac relative to the invasion of the privacy of the elected directors of the fair boards, etc., and they felt that current information was appropriate, but it was inappropriate to go back and ask for ten years of history of employment and financial activity."

Mr. Williams: "Well I think you have answered the question. I just brought up the point that it does say 'current information' which means at that point in time."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kuehnle yielded to question by Mrs. Lois North.

Mrs. North: "It has been brought out here in previous comments that the power of local determination for gambling has been greatly expanded in these proposed amendments. And Mr. Kuehnle did allude to it. I want to ask you about two sections. The first one is on the first page where it says 'On page 2, section 2, line 32. When you read down through the underlined words, that amendment is the same as the next one following. But it is the very last phrase that intrigues me. It is saying, in effect, that under these conditions gambling may be conducted, and the last phrase is '...or a community festival sponsored or approved by a city or town.' Mr. Kuehnle, you did tell us that below 1,500 it seems to fall in the realm of a town rather than being a city. My understanding would be an enormous broadening of local determination because in our original gambling bill, and correct me if I am in error on this, it was only first class cities that would have that option of choosing gambling or not to gamble. But this language opens it to every little collection of houses--be it a town, a city of any class, to decide what they are going to do. And they are not dependent upon the county, as long as they are gathered in some semblance of a city or a town. That is the first thing I want to ask you about. The last one--when you were discussing with Representative Hayner the language which is near the bottom here and it says again in very verbose language that really, again, any city or county can choose back and forth between them to decide what their gambling will and will not be. I look upon this as an enormous broadening of the powers of this bill, and I would appreciate your comments on that."

Mr. Kuehnle: "I will try. Referring to your first question, the language '...in connection with a civic center of a city of the first class, worlds fair or similar exposition approved by the Bureau of International Expositions at Paris, France, or a community festival sponsored or approved by a city or town.' This is exactly the language as was presented by the gambling commission through the Attorney General's Office, and the request was made for this clarifying language. This Senate amendment is precisely the language that was offered by the gambling commission through the Attorney General's Office. The reason for it, as was stated, is to permit the raffles and that type of thing, in conjunction with those expositions. I think you will find that if you check back, Representative North, that it does not allude to, for example, cardrooms and that type of thing. It alludes to amusement games and raffles, particularly raffles. I am not even sure that it gets into amusement games. As a matter of fact, the more I think about it, the more I think we are just talking about raffles because the commission explained to us, and I was present when the discussion took place and the amendment was proposed, that they really should not have issued a license for the Westport Salmon Derby or whatever it was down there, nor for the Seafair Salmon Derby. The language was unclear, and therefore they were asking for clarifying language. It really doesn't then directly relate to your second question. This first one does not give any city or town the opportunity to approve gambling activities. A city or a town may apply for a raffle license in conjunction with their fishing derby, and if the determination is made by the commission that it is a legitimate event, etc., then they may get that license. But it really doesn't relate to your second question in which veto powers were given to cities regardless of which direction the county went."

Mrs. North: "Representative Kuehnle, then that would be a tremendous expansion wouldn't it--in this last phrase that we are discussing? The amendment on the first page near the bottom which says the veto power or option in or out will be extended to any city or town no matter how large or small in this state. At least that would be the interpretation there."

Mr. Kuehnle: "I would say that it does extend the local option thing to cities, other than cities of the first class."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kuehnle yielded to question by Mr. Shinpoch.

Mr. Shinpoch: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I suspect that Representative Kuehnle is getting tired of being called upon but if I could ask you one more question to attempt to clarify in my mind the results of Representative North's question. Representative Kuehnle, my understanding of the bill as originally passed is that if the counties opted, only first class cities had the opportunity to opt out, if you were going to have gambling. And that we as a state had said gambling legal anywhere, but only the first class cities had an opportunity to opt out. Now what I read this to say is that the only broadening is that you have given the power to more cities to opt out of gambling if they so desire."

Mr. Kuehnle: "That is the interpretation I have. This amendment was Senator Bailey's amendment to the commission amendment. The commission amendment was asking for clarifying language, and I am of the opinion that Senator Bailey's amendment did just what you have expressed."

Mr. Shinpoch: "Thank you. I read this, really, as it doesn't broaden the powers at all. It gives the local option to not have gambling if they desired, which in effect tightens the law."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kuehnle yielded to question by Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson: "Representative Kuehnle, my question is directed a little differently from the local option concept. I read in about the middle of the section we have been discussing that they shall absolutely prohibit any or all gambling activities. My question then pertains to, could a county or a city opt some gambling activity, and prohibit other kinds of gambling activity? In other words, do they have an election as to the kind of activity there would be held within their jurisdiction?"

Mr. Kuehnle: "Yes."

and passed the bill with the above amendments.

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

September 15, 1973

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has concurred in the House amendments to ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2959, and passed the bill as amended by the House.

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

September 15, 1973

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 1128 with the following amendments:

On page 6, line 9 strike ", including special excess levies" and on line 10, after "instruction" and before the colon insert ", plus special excess levies"

On page 6, after "that" on line 21 strike all the matter down to and including the period on line 27 and insert "reduces the funds of such school districts to the state average for comparable districts: PROVIDED FURTHER, That for districts below the state average for comparable districts the state superintendent shall provide by rule and regulation a five-year plan that increases the funds of such school districts to the state average for comparable districts."

On page 16, following section 21, add a new section as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. The 1974 legislature, in the event HJR 37 is approved, shall amend said formula distribution to the various school districts, as provided in this act, to legislate state-wide teacher salary schedules."

and the same is herewith transmitted.

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

MOTION

Mr. Luders moved that the House concur in the Senate amendments to Engrossed House Bill No. 1128.

Representative Luders spoke in favor of the motion, and Representatives Pardini, Polk and Brown spoke against it.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Polk: "Mr. Speaker, I was just looking at the third amendment which has been transmitted to us. It is obviously faulty. I was standing in the Senate as they debated this amendment. The word 'shall' in the second line was changed to 'may' on the floor. The copy that was transmitted to us and signed by the Secretary of the Senate says 'shall' but it is obviously faulty."

The Speaker: "Representative Polk, there was a floor amendment changing 'shall' to 'may' so you might very well be correct. If this is a mistake, we will find out."

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease.
The Speaker called the House to order.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker: "Representative Polk, in answer to your inquiry, after playing the tape recording in the Senate, you are correct--that word should be 'may' in the third amendment rather than 'shall.' It should read: 'The 1974 legislature, in the event HJR 37 is approved, may (strike shall and insert may) amend said formula.'"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Luders yielded to question by Mr. Morrison.

Mr. Morrison: "Representative Luders, I notice within the second Senate amendment which you did discuss, this term 'comparable districts.' My question would be to you: Is comparable districts, or a limitation thereon, or a definition thereof, anywhere within this act?"

Mr. Luders: "No, there is no limitation on the amount of comparable districts that could be involved in this."

Mr. Morrison: "Therefore, it would be possible for the Superintendent of Public Instruction (I presume he is the one to determine comparable districts) to end up with an unlimited number of comparable districts?"

Mr. Luders: "That is correct, Representative Morrison."

Mr. Morrison: "Then very possibly we could have as many comparable districts--perhaps as many classifications as there are school districts within the state of Washington?"

Mr. Luders: "That is possible."

Mr. Morrison spoke against the motion to concur in the Senate amendments to Engrossed House Bill No. 1128, and Mr. Charette spoke in favor of the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Julin: "Representative Charette is an excellent salesman, but I think he is selling a product we are not really interested in buying tonight."

The Speaker: "I understand that, but I don't understand your point of order."

Mr. Julin: "Mr. Speaker, I believe Representative Charette's remarks strayed far afield and have no relationship to the matter of the merits of the measure now before us."

The Speaker: "Representative Julin, I would probably agree with you, but I thought Representative Pardini set the stage."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Pardini: "But I did it within the three-minute rule."

The Speaker: "Representative Pardini, I see you have been reading the rules. I think that would be an appropriate point of order. Could you conclude your remarks as quickly as possible, Representative Charette?"

Mr. Charette concluded his remarks in favor of the motion.

Representative King spoke in favor of the motion to concur in the Senate amendments to Engrossed House Bill No. 1128, and Representatives Freeman, Flanagan and Kraabel spoke against it.

Mr. Luders closed debate, speaking in favor of the motion.

Mr. Pardini demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES ON HOUSE BILLS
VETOED AND PARTIALLY VETOED

First Extraordinary Session - 1973

April 26, 1973

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to certain items, SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 53, entitled:

"An Act Relating to the taxation of property."

Substitute House Bill No. 53 enacts desirable amendments to the Open Space Law. In section 11 of the bill, a State Advisory Committee is created to assist the Department of Revenue in the determination of the annual rate of interest and in the promulgation of rules and regulations under the act. Half of this six-member committee are to be representatives of the agricultural business community and are appointed by the "Agricultural Commodity Council." However, there exists no such council having legal standing. As a result the agricultural representatives cannot be effectively appointed.

While I have no substantive disagreement with the concept of a State Advisory Committee, I have determined to veto that item in section 11 creating the State Advisory Committee. I have also vetoed related references to that committee in sections 10 and 17. When the Legislature returns in September, it may wish to recreate a State Advisory Committee having substantial representation from agricultural business and to provide a viable means for appointing such members.

With the exception of the items described above, the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval as to one item HOUSE BILL NO. 305 entitled:

"An Act relating to public assistance."

This act makes various amendments to the law establishing procedures for collection of support for dependent children supported by public assistance grants. This program is responsible for several million dollars in collections annually which are deposited in the state general fund.

Section 27 of this bill, which was not included in the original bill requested by the department of social and health services, would terminate the whole act, first adopted in 1971, on July 1, 1975. This act provides the whole basis for the very successful program in collection of delinquent support payments. It is neither necessary nor appropriate to terminate it in the foreseeable future.

Accordingly, I have determined to veto that item consisting of section 27. With that exception, House Bill No. 305 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

April 26, 1973

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval
SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 323 entitled:

"An Act Relating to controlled substances."

This bill would have created mandatory sentences for persons convicted of certain types of crimes involving sale of drugs. I am in full agreement that we need stiff penalties for certain offenders, especially where the offender has earned enormous sums from the sale of drugs. However, certain deficiencies in this act make it unacceptable. However, inasmuch as it would not have gone into effect until the second week of July, and since the legislature will have the opportunity to enact a new law in September, if the legislature does act in September only two months will be lost.

The whole structure of mandatory sentences needs a comprehensive investigation. To require them in all classified cases may well have the effect of not obtaining a conviction in some cases because it would be known that the defendant would have no hope of release prior to five years and there are many cases where that length of punishment, under all the circumstances, is inappropriate.

It should also be noted that this act would lower the penalty from ten years maximum to five years maximum for sale of a controlled substance classified in schedule I of the controlled substances act. Currently, sale of schedule I substances, which are also narcotics, results in a ten year maximum term. The language concerning maximum terms in section two would clearly make ambiguous what the correct law was for such cases. Moreover, subsection five of section two, though attempting a laudable purpose, clearly creates unintended consequences. This subsection would allow an addicted person to place himself in the custody of the department of social and health services and as long as no indictment or information had been filed prior to that time, such person would be immune from prosecution for prior offenses. Unfortunately, there is no language determining the length of time such a person would have to stay with the department. Consequently, if an individual felt he was about to be charged, he could theoretically go to the department, leave the next week and potentially be immune from prosecution. It is important

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval HOUSE BILL NO. 349 entitled:

"An Act Relating to fish."

This bill would allow commercially licensed troll vessels to use hand held sport fishing gear during the commercial season. In 1969 the legislature banned the use of sport gear for commercial salmon trolling, and that act was held constitutional by the State Supreme Court.
Experience over the years has clearly indicated that sport and commercial fishing should be kept separate to achieve orderly and well-managed fishing. Usage of sport gear for commercial fishing opens the door to numerous areas of potential abuse which includes facilitating the taking of fish in excess of the legal limit.

Accordingly, for the reasons set out above, I have determined to veto House Bill No. 349.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

April 26, 1973

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I return herewith, without my approval, HOUSE BILL
NO. 356 entitled:

"An Act Relating to legal holidays."

This bill provides that state employees will observe Memorial Day on the 30th of May, instead of the last Monday in May, and Veterans' Day on the 11th day of November instead of the fourth Monday in October.

If approved, House Bill No. 356 would create a situation where state and federal agencies would be unable to conduct business with each other on either the state or the federal holiday. The private sector would also be disrupted because some firms would close on the federal holiday, others would close on the state holiday. The disruptive impact on the functions of both government and private industry would be tremendous. In addition, many families would not be able to observe these two holidays together. I have already signed into law House Bill 117, Chapter 32 of the 1973 Regular Session, which sets school holidays to comply with federal legal holidays. Since House Bill 356 would require state employees to work on these federal holidays, many state employees would not be able to be with their families. Also there are many families where both the mother and father work, and it is very possible that their employers may not give them the same day off.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

that these difficulties and the whole issue of the validity of mandatory sentences be thoroughly reviewed in September.

Accordingly, for the reasons set out above, I have determined to veto Substitute House Bill No. 323.

April 25, 1973

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval as to two items SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 340 entitled:

"An Act Relating to tuberculosis hospitalization and control."

This bill generally revises the laws relating to tuberculosis treatment under the jurisdiction of the department of social and health services. In revising the bill as it passed through the legislative process, the effective date carried in section two was inadvertently allowed to remain in the bill. As originally drafted the bill would have become effective January 1, 1974, but that provision was deleted. However, the similar language in section two was not equally deleted. In order to maintain consistency, I have determined to veto this item in section two.

Section five of the bill, which does not relate to the department of social and health services, amends existing law to give the superintendent of the tuberculosis hospital in the Eastern Washington Tuberculosis Hospital District the same powers and duties as a local health officer. Currently, local health officers are responsible for carrying out programs to control tuberculosis and to identify and provide treatment for those persons determined to have tuberculosis. It is clear that such programs can best be carried out by those who are closest to the problem. To provide for overlapping or concurrent jurisdiction in this key area of disease control will add nothing to the continuing efforts to fight tuberculosis.

Accordingly, for the reasons set out above, I have determined to veto that item in section two and that item consisting of section five in Substitute House Bill No. 340. With those exceptions, the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

While it is recognized that many of our citizens desire to observe these holidays on the same day as they were observed in the past, such observance is in conflict with the Congressional determination that these holidays be observed on Mondays, thus giving many workers a three-day weekend. I believe it is important that we conform our observance of these holidays with that of the federal government. Without such conformity, there would be confusion and frustration among employees and employers alike.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

April 26, 1973

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to one section and one item, SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 445, entitled:

"An Act Relating to the law against discrimination."

This act provides that discrimination as a result of any sensory, physical or mental handicap, is a matter of state concern and one in which the Board Against Discrimination is empowered to investigate and to act. It is made an unfair labor practice for an employer to discriminate in hiring such an individual as a result of these factors, unless the factor involved would prevent the proper performance of the work to be performed.

In section 6 an employer is allowed to exclude or restrict participation of handicapped persons in certain insurance benefit programs. There is no definition of handicap and consequently this provision could be applied to many persons and not just to those persons to whom the bill was primarily directed. In addition, group policies ordinarily include handicapped persons and merely exclude the pre-existing conditions, and the premiums are little, if at all, higher. For these reasons I have determined to veto this item in section 6.

In section 7 the Commission is authorized to require a person filing a complaint of an alleged unfair labor practice based on a handicap to submit to medical or psychiatric examination before action on the complaint is taken. If needed, the Commission can adopt by rule and regulation procedures for examination of those filing complaints alleging an unfair labor practice based on a handicap. To suggest, as this provision would, that only the handicapped need be submitted to such examinations is unnecessary and inappropriate in this act.

With the exception of this one item in section 6 and section 7, I have approved the remainder of Substitute House Bill No. 445.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

April 26, 1973

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to one item, SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 498 entitled:

"An Act Adopting the supplemental budget."

This act, with the exception of one section, provides appropriations to reimburse belated claims and provide special relief. However, section three would require that within six weeks prior to the election in November, a copy of Substitute Senate Bill 2247 be mailed to each individual place of residence in the state. Substitute Senate Bill 2247 is the act which would implement a state income tax if the voters approve the required constitutional amendment at the next election. The appropriation provided for the mailing required in section three is $110,000.

For a number of years now the Secretary of State, pursuant to law, has mailed out a voter's pamphlet discussing the issues to be voted on at general elections. Just recently, I approved a bill passed by the legislature which would substantially expand the scope of the arguments for and against issues on the ballot. The voter's pamphlet is a more appropriate place to discuss the issues submitted to the people, and I am sure that extensive discussion of both the constitutional amendment and the implementing act will be provided in the pamphlet.

It should also be noted that the legislature, in its session in September, intends to undertake a full review of Substitute Senate Bill 2247. Consequently, any amendments made in September would not appear in copies of the bill mailed to the voters. Additionally, should any person desire a copy of the bill for review, it is readily available from the Office of the Secretary of State between now and the November election.

Accordingly, for the reasons set out above, I have determined to veto section three. With that exception, the remainder of Substitute House Bill No. 498 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

April 26, 1973

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 552 entitled:

"An Act Relating to health care."

This measure would have the effect of requiring that any contract for health insurance which provides indemnity to the contract holder must also make provision for covering services rendered by licensed podiatrists, chiropractors, optometrists and chiropodists.

regarding funds received and creates a new "Horse Racing Commission Revolving Fund." Creation of this fund and the procedures prescribed for its usage would seriously delay payment by the Commission to part-time employees hired for one two-day racing meet. More importantly, the budget act previously approved, makes an appropriation to the "Racing Commission Fund" which would no longer be available to the Commission under terms of section 7. It should also be noted that much of the language in section 7 is also in the budget act.

I am not opposed to the considerations that led to the enactment of sections 6 and 7, but to allow them to stand would effectively deprive the Commission of funding under existing mechanisms.

Accordingly, I have determined to veto those four items found in section 1, and consisting of sections 2, 6 and 7.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

April 25, 1973

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to two items, HOUSE BILL NO. 704, entitled:

"An Act Relating to state government; providing for the acquisition, construction, remodeling, furnishing and equipping of state buildings and facilities; providing for the financing thereof by the issuance of bonds; and declaring an emergency."

This bill authorizes the State Finance Committee to issue general obligation bonds in the amount of $27 million for the purposes of acquiring land and the planning, construction and remodeling of capitol office buildings, parking facilities, Governor's Mansion, legislative facilities, and executive office space for elective officials and other state agencies. This is desirable legislation which is required in order to allow the development of needed facilities for the executive and legislative branches of government.

As initially filed and pursuant to existing law the bill would have provided for administration of these planning, construction and remodeling funds by the Department of General Administration. However, as amended in the Senate, section 1 of the bill now provides that any planning, acquisition, construction, remodeling or furnishing of space for the Legislature by way of offices, committee rooms, hearing rooms and workrooms would have to be approved by the State Capitol Committee while the other nonlegislative projects would not be similarly controlled. This would mean that even the most minor of remodeling requirements for the Legislature would necessitate the prior approval of the State Capitol Committee. I find such

While similar provisions currently apply to many public employees, this act would affect private purchasers of health insurance within the state. While the legislature may legitimately provide for the scope of reimbursable services in health care contracts for public employees, which the legislature in whole or part funds, it is not that clear that an overriding public interest necessitates equivalent provision for the private sector.

Nonetheless, I note with interest the statement of recommendations of the Joint Executive Committees of the Washington State Medical Association and Washington Physicians Service, made May 21, 1972, which indicate that the executive committees were of the opinion that provision should be made for covering other health care services under the health care plans offered by Washington Physicians Service and county medical bureau contracts. In the event that these organizations do not in fact follow these recommendations, then legislation such as this may well be appropriate next year.

Accordingly, for the reasons set out above, I have determined to veto Engrossed House Bill No. 552.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

April 26, 1973

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to four items, HOUSE BILL NO. 590, entitled:

"An Act Relating to horse racing."

This act would make several changes in the laws relating to the Horse Racing Commission. Section 1 includes amendatory language which could be construed to mean that if an appointment is made to the Commission during the time the Legislature is not in session, so that appointment could be acted upon by the Senate, then such appointee cannot exercise his duties until the Legislature next convenes and the Senate confirms the appointment. Such a limitation would without question deter and inhibit the Commission's performance of its statutory duties. Consequently I have vetoed that item in section 1 creating that limitation.

Section 2 of this act would prohibit members of the Horse Racing Commission, among other things, from accepting breeder's awards from breeding associations. Such a restriction is unfounded and has no purpose or merit. The Commission has advised me that they will immediately adopt, by rule and regulation, the substance of this section with the exception of the prohibition on breeder's awards. I have therefore determined to veto that item consisting of section 2.

Sections 6 and 7 of this act would delete existing language regarding the Commission's responsibilities a requirement unreasonable and probably not really intended by the drafters of this amendment.

Under existing law the Department of General Administration has express responsibility to supervise the construction, repair and betterment of all capitol buildings. On the other hand, the State Capitol Committee is a policy-making body for capitol campus development which has not heretofore functioned as an administrative mechanism for the actual construction and remodeling of capitol facilities.

Accordingly, I have vetoed those items in section 1 and section 4 of House Bill No. 704 which would unnecessarily involve the State Capitol Committee in the administration of the capital funding authorized by this bill.

With these exceptions, the remainder of House Bill No. 704 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

April 26, 1973

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to certain items, SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 711 entitled:

"An Act Relating to gambling."

This bill, the first enactment pursuant to the authority of the Constitutional amendment approved at the last election, would provide for a gambling commission to approve and license, through the department of motor vehicles, activities permitted under this act. Counties, and cities of the first class, would have the authority to tax such activities and to prohibit them if they so choose. Activities allowed under this act include bingo and raffles conducted by charitable and nonprofit organizations, punch boards and pull-tabs, pin-ball machines which do not provide for a payoff and cardrooms and social card games.

I have determined to veto the items of this bill relating to cardrooms and social card games. It is clear from the last election that the people desire bingo and raffles. However, I believe that we should proceed to establish the gambling commission and allow it to gain experience in this area before moving further in the direction of allowing other activities.

Additionally, in the definition of gambling device there is included in several places the item "used in professional gambling." This could cause substantial enforcement problems in determining whether the devices prohibited are actually being used in professional gambling or not. Sufficient enforcement problems could result from allowing these items to remain such that I have determined they should be vetoed.

The definition of what constitutes a lottery includes certain exemptions from the definition of "valuable consideration." One of the exemptions is visitation to a place of business to obtain a coupon, entry blank or proof of purchase. The item referring to proof of purchase could insert into the exemption the additional condition of purchasing an item or several items with no limit on the amount. Clearly, this goes beyond the concept of defining a visit to a place of business as not being valuable consideration. Accordingly, I have determined to veto that item.

With the exceptions noted above, I have approved the remainder of Substitute House Bill No. 711.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

April 25, 1973

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to one item, HOUSE BILL NO. 720, entitled:

"An Act Relating to state government."

House Bill No. 720 provides for the creation of the Washington State Data Processing Authority. It is the purpose of this act to provide for the coordinated utilization of data processing equipment within state government. I am prepared to support this measure as part of the continuing efforts of the Legislature and the Executive to address the issues of effective and efficient use of data processing equipment.

Section 5 of House Bill 720 creates an eleven-member Data Processing Authority appointed by the Governor and to serve at his pleasure. However, that section then proceeds to describe who some of the members of the authority shall be. Not only is this language ambiguous, but the four state elected officials designated as members of the Data Processing Authority do not effectively represent these state agencies having the major data processing workloads. Accordingly, I have vetoed that item in section 5 which specifically designates the members to be appointed to the authority.

In recognition of the concerns and interests of elected officials, I intend to appoint the Lieutenant Governor to the Data Processing Authority. In addition, I intend to appoint the Code Reviser to represent legislative data processing activities and a representative for higher education. The remaining positions on the authority will be assigned to five representatives of state government and three representatives from the private sector.

With the exception of this item, the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

procedures under which it operates. The consequences of this bill, through various amendments to the liquor control statutes, are systematically to minimize or eliminate the discretionary authority of the Liquor Control Board and to restrict its jurisdiction to matters narrowly and explicitly related to management of liquor traffic.

While there may well be need for modernization of the liquor control statute, originally enacted in 1933 as the Steele Act, I am concerned that the amendments incorporated in House Bill No. 928 may go too far in tying the hands of the Liquor Control Board. By excessively restricting the authority of the Board this legislation could lead to poor practices and abuses in Class H license establishments.

If changes in the liquor statutes of the consequence of those included in House Bill No. 928 are to be made, this should occur only after wide public discussion and a substantial number of open hearings in view of the impact of such changes upon the public interest.

For the foregoing reasons, I have vetoed House Bill No. 928.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

TO THE HONORABLE
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I return herewith, without my approval as to one item, SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1005 entitled:

"An Act Relating to inheritance taxes."

This act would exempt from inheritance taxes certain pension benefits available, among others, to those employed in higher education. Senate Bill No. 2119 also makes provision for such exemptions but, in so doing, uses different language to amend the same section of law. In order to avoid the necessity of further amendment in the future to reconcile the conflicting language, an item in section one of Substitute House Bill No. 1005 must be deleted. Deleting this item will have no substantive effect in light of the provisions in Senate Bill 2119, which I have approved.

Accordingly, for the reasons set out above, I have determined to veto the one item in section one of Substitute House Bill No. 1005.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

TO THE HONORABLE
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to one item, HOUSE BILL NO. 901, entitled:

"An Act Relating to food fish and shellfish."

Section 2 of House Bill No. 901 contains multiple amendments to RCW 75.12.010 which pertains to commercial fishing activities. Under present law the Director of the Department of Fisheries has the discretionary authority to authorize commercial fishing in lower Puget Sound when he determines that a run of salmon cannot be feasibly and properly harvested in the usual manner and that such run of salmon may be in danger of being wasted. House Bill No. 901 would apparently mandate the Director whenever a surplus occurs to allow units of lawful gill net gear in the fishing areas south of the Initiative 77 line until the second Monday in September and thereafter both gill net and purse seine gear would be allowed at the Director's discretion.

The consequences of this amendment are unclear since the change in wording can be interpreted to mean that the Director is under a mandate to permit commercial fishing when there is a surplus run of salmon in all legal waters of Puget Sound south of the Initiative 77 line. Or, it can be interpreted to mean that the Director continues to have the discretion to authorize commercial fishing when a surplus run occurs but only in terminal areas, such as Carr Inlet.

Because of the ambiguity in the intent of this amendment and the certain controversy which it would create when the Director sought to meet the requirements of this section, I have determined to veto that item in lines 6 through 17 of page 3 of House Bill No. 901. As a result, the Director's present discretionary authority to act in this area will be maintained.

With the exception of that one item, the remainder of House Bill No. 901 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES ON HOUSE BILLS
VETOED AND PARTIALLY VETOED

Second Extraordinary Session - 1973

September 27, 1973

TO THE HONORABLE,
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval as to a number of items SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 487 entitled:

"An Act Relating to lotteries."

This bill contains a number of amendments to Substitute House Bill No. 711 passed by the Legislature during the First Extraordinary Session in 1973 and which consists of the first enactment in the area of gambling pursuant to the authority of the constitutional amendment approved by the voters in November, 1972.

It is unfortunate that the Legislature decided to deal with the subject of gambling during the short eight-day period of the September session. It is evident throughout this bill that the Legislature has not devoted enough time to study the many undesirable consequences arising out of gambling legislation that is not carefully drafted. While there is certainly considerable justification for truly social card games, what has been authorized in this bill is a wide-open and blatant form of professional gambling. Most important of all in Section 2(8) of the bill so-called "social card games" are declared not to be gambling for the purposes of the bill and are therefore activities totally beyond the control or influence of the State Gambling Commission. Thereafter in Section 2(18) a "social card game" is defined in such a fashion as to permit a professional gambler to set up operations in any club or any nonprofit organization in the State of Washington and to operate his game with a full "house" percentage to himself as long as he does not share that intake with the club or organization whose premises he uses. There is no limitation on the number or size of such operations or the type of person who would be allowed to conduct such operations in the bill. Our state would thereby be opened to all forms of card games associated with professional gambling, without any of the necessary controls by the state.

In approving SJR 5 in 1972, the people of this state gave clear indication that they favor gambling activities such as bingo, raffles and truly social card games. The Legislature was thereby mandated to enact a responsible bill by which the wishes of the people could be fulfilled. Again the Legislature has failed in that task by enacting so-called "social card games" provisions which go far beyond the responsible legislation that is required. I would urge the Legislature, if it truly wishes to fulfill the mandate given by the people, to commence at an early date, and in advance of the next legislative session, to draft and prepare the type of language that would allow our citizens to engage in truly social card games. I would not hesitate to approve such a bill, and I am certain that the law enforcement officials in this state would willingly accept such a bill. I will not hesitate, however, and I have not hesitated in the past, to veto bills that are hastily drafted and lacking due consideration of all possible consequences.

I have no objection to other forms of gambling such as Mah Jongg, but regrettably the provisions relating to Mah Jongg in this bill were so closely tied to the social card game provisions that they also suffer the adverse results of poor draftsmanship. I would again urge the Legislature to begin preparing language in consultation with law enforcement authorities and the State Gambling Commission to the end that Mah Jongg and other games may become permitted forms of gambling duly regulated by our Gambling Commission.

The bill contains two provisions, Section 4(4) and (5), and Section 8, which are desirable and necessary and which were in fact requested and drafted by the Gambling Commission. With the exception of those two provisions, I have determined to veto the rest of the bill in its entirety. The time has come for those individuals who have a sense of direction and responsibility to cooperate in producing responsible legislation aimed at answering the desires of our citizens, and further to see such legislation through the next session and prevent it from being burdened by either poorly drafted or irresponsible amendments.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS,
Governor.

TO THE HONORABLE
THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
(Through the Secretary of State)
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval as to certain items HOUSE BILL NO. 1128 entitled:

"An Act Relating to education."

This bill would implement a new state financial aid equalization formula for school districts in the event that HJR 37 is approved by the voters in November, 1973. Section 4 provides a formula upon which a district's entitlement to maintenance and operating funding would be determined by: (1) Certificated and classified personnel allocation; (2) salary costs based on a statewide pay differential table; and (3) nonemployee related costs such as books, supplies, equipment and utilities.

Section 5 of the bill contains the guarantee to the school districts that they will suffer no reduction in their dollar support level per enrolled pupil as a result of the passage of HJR 37. As enacted, however, the second proviso in Section 5 is in direct conflict with such guarantee and with the equalization formula set forth in Section 4. The proviso not only provides for the reduction of the amount of state aid to those districts which exceed the state average for comparable districts, but also dictates a nonformula approach to school district funding which totally ignores the cost characteristics of individual school districts and the concept of program equalization which are reflected in Section 4 and the balance of the act. In addition the proviso flies in the face of the declared intent of the act as stated in Section 2(2) which assures the citizens and school districts of this state that the per pupil support level will not be reduced upon the passage of HJR 37. In order to restore internal consistency within Section 5 and to preserve the original intent of the act, I have determined to veto the second proviso in Section 5, page 6, of the act, commencing at line 18 and ending on line 22.

Section 22 of the act purports to allow the 1974 Legislature in the event HJR 37 is approved to amend the formula in the act in order to legislate statewide teacher salary schedules. The language of this section is so worded that it has no legal effect whatsoever and adds nothing to the act. If the Legislature wishes to take up the subject of statewide teacher salary schedules in 1974, it has the absolute prerogative to do so and nothing in this act will or can dictate what action will be taken in 1974. Accordingly, I have determined to veto Section 22.

With the exception of the items described above, the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
