(8) 'Motor fuel retailer' means a person, firm, or corporation that resells motor fuel entirely at one or more retail motor fuel outlets pursuant to a motor fuel franchise entered into with a refiner-supplier.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. It is unlawful for any motor fuel refiner-supplier to discriminate in price between motor fuel retailers for purchases of motor fuel of like grade and quality, where the effect of the discrimination may be substantially to injure, destroy, or prevent competition with any retailer who receives the benefit of the discrimination, or with the customers of either retailer. Nothing in this section prevents differentials which make only due allowance for differences in the cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which the fuel is sold to motor fuel retailers. Upon proof being made of discrimination under this section, the burden of rebutting the prima facie case thus made by showing justification is upon the refiner-supplier.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Notwithstanding the terms of any motor fuel franchise, a motor fuel refiner-supplier shall not absolutely prohibit or unreasonably withhold its consent to any sale, assignment, or other transfer of the motor fuel franchise by a motor fuel retailer to a third party without fairly compensating the motor fuel retailer for the fair market value, at the time of expiration of the franchise, of the motor fuel retailer's inventory, supplies, equipment, and furnishings purchased from the motor fuel refiner-supplier, and good will, exclusive of personalized materials which have no value to the motor fuel refiner-supplier, and inventory, supplies, equipment, and furnishings not reasonably required in the conduct of the franchise business. A motor fuel refiner-supplier may offset against amounts owed to a motor fuel retailer under this section any amounts owed by the motor fuel retailer to the motor fuel refiner-supplier.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Notwithstanding the terms of any motor fuel franchise, no motor fuel refiner-supplier may prohibit or prevent the sale, assignment, or other transfer of the motor fuel franchise to a corporation in which the motor fuel retailer has a controlling interest if the motor fuel retailer offers in writing personally to guarantee the performance of the obligations under the motor fuel franchise.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Notwithstanding the terms of any motor fuel franchise, the interest of a motor fuel retailer under such an agreement shall be considered personal property and shall devolve on the death of the motor fuel retailer to a designated successor in interest of the retailer, limited to the retailer's spouse, adult child, or adult stepchild or, if no successor in interest is designated, to the retailer's spouse, if any. The designation shall be made, witnessed in writing by at least two persons, and delivered to the motor fuel refiner-supplier during the term of the franchise. The designation may be revised at any time by the motor fuel retailer and shall be substantially in the following form:

'I (motor fuel retailer name) at the service station located at , in the City of , Washington, designate as my successor in interest under section 4 of this act and as my alternate successor if the originally designated successor is unable or unwilling so to act. I so specify this day of , 19.'

The motor fuel refiner-supplier shall assist the designated successor in interest temporarily in the day-to-day operation of the service station to insure continued operation of the service station.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Notwithstanding the terms of any motor fuel franchise, the retailer shall be given the right of first refusal to purchase the real estate and/or improvements owned by the refiner-supplier at the franchise location, and at least thirty days' advance notice within which to exercise this right, prior to any sale thereof to any other buyer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Notwithstanding the terms of any motor fuel franchise, no motor fuel refiner-supplier may:

(1) Require any retailer to meet mandatory minimum sales volume requirements for fuel or other products unless the refiner-supplier proves that its price to the retailer has been sufficiently low to enable the retailer reasonably to meet the mandatory minimum.

(2) Alter or require the retailer to consent to the alteration of, any provision of the franchise during its effective term without mutual consent of the retailer.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. It is unlawful for any person in connection with the offer, sale, or purchase of any franchise directly or indirectly:

(1) To sell or offer to sell a franchise in this state by means of any written or oral communication which includes an untrue statement of a material fact or omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made in light of the circumstances under which they were made not misleading.

(2) To employ any device, scheme, or artifice to defraud.

(3) To engage in any act, practice, or course of business which operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon any person.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Without limiting the other provisions of this chapter, the following specific rights and prohibitions shall govern the relation between the motor fuel refiner-supplier and the motor fuel retailers:

(1) The parties shall deal with each other in good faith.

(2) For the purposes of this chapter and without limiting its general application, it shall be an unfair or deceptive act or practice or an unfair method of competition and therefore unlawful and a violation of this chapter for any person to:

(a) Require a motor fuel retailer to purchase or lease goods or services of the motor fuel refiner-supplier or from approved sources of supply unless and to the extent that the motor fuel refiner-supplier satisfies the burden of proving that such restrictive purchasing agreements are reasonably necessary for a lawful purpose justified on business grounds, and do not substantially affect competition: PROVIDED, That this provision shall not apply to the initial inventory of the franchise. In determining whether a requirement to purchase or lease goods or services constitutes an unfair or deceptive act or practice or an unfair method of competition the courts shall be guided by the decisions of the courts of the United States interpreting and applying the anti-trust laws of the United States.

(b) Discriminate between motor fuel retailers in the charges offered or made for royalties, goods, services, equipment, rentals, advertising services, or in any other business dealing, unless and to the extent that the motor fuel refiner-supplier satisfies the burden of proving that any classification of or discrimination between motor fuel retailers is reasonable. is based on franchises granted at materially different times and such discrimination is reasonably related to such difference in time or on other proper and justifiable distinctions considering the purposes of this chapter, and is not arbitrary.

(c) Sell, rent, or offer to sell to a motor fuel retailer any product or service for more than a fair and reasonable price.

(d) Require motor fuel retailer to assert to a release, assignment, novation, or waiver which would relieve any person from liability imposed by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) Any person who sells or offers to sell a franchise in violation of this chapter shall be liable to the motor fuel retailer or motor fuel refiner-supplier who may sue at law or in equity for damages caused thereby for rescission or other relief as the court may deem appropriate. In the case of a violation of section 8 of this act rescission is not available to the plaintiff if the defendant proves that the plaintiff knew the facts concerning the untruth or omission or that the defendant exercised reasonable care and did not know or if he had exercised reasonable care would not have known of the untruth or omission.

(2) The suit authorized under subsection (1) of this section may be brought to recover the actual damages sustained by the plaintiff: PROVIDED, That the prevailing party may in the discretion of the court recover the costs of said action including a reasonable attorneys' fee.

(3) Any person who becomes liable to make payments under this section may recover contributions as in cases of contracts from any persons who, if sued separately, would have been liable to make the same payment.

(4) A final judgment, order, or decree heretofore or hereafter rendered against a person in any civil, criminal, or administrative proceedings under the United States anti-trust laws, under the Federal Trade Commission Act, or this chapter shall be regarded as evidence against such person in any action brought by any party against such person under subsection (1) of this section as to all matters which said judgment or decree would be an estoppel between the parties thereto.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The pendency of any civil, criminal, or administrative proceedings against a person brought by the federal or Washington state governments or any of their agencies to enforce the anti-trust laws, the Federal Trade Commission Act, or any federal or state act related to anti-trust laws or to franchising, or under this chapter shall toll the limitation of this action if the action is then instituted within one year after the final judgment or order in such proceedings: PROVIDED, That said limitation of actions shall in any case toll the law so long as there is actual concealment on the part of the person.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Any motor fuel retailer who is injured in his or her business by the commission of any act prohibited by this chapter, or any motor fuel retailer injured because of his or her refusal to accede to a proposal for an arrangement which, if consumated, would be in violation of this chapter may bring a civil action in superior court to enjoin further violations, to recover the actual damages sustained by him or her, or both, together with the costs of the suit, including reasonable attorney's fees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) The attorney general may bring an action in the name of the state against any person to restrain and prevent the doing of any act herein prohibited or declared to be unlawful. The prevailing party may in the discretion of the court recover the costs of such action including a reasonable attorneys' fee.

(2) Nothing in this chapter limits the power of the state to punish any person for any conduct which constitutes a crime by statute or at common law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. In any proceeding under this chapter, the burden of proving an exception or an exemption from definition is upon the person claiming it. Any condition, stipulation or provision purporting to bind any person acquiring a franchise at the time of entering into a franchise or other agreement to waive compliance with any provision of this chapter or any rule or order hereunder is void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The provisions of this chapter apply to any motor fuel franchise or contract entered into or renewed on or after the effective date of this act between a motor fuel refiner-supplier and a motor fuel retailer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. The Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW, shall wherever applicable herein govern the rights, remedies, and procedures respecting the administration of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. It is the intent of the legislature that this chapter be interpreted consistent with chapter 19.100 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. This chapter shall be liberally construed to effectuate its beneficial purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. This chapter shall be known as the 'Dealer Bill of Rights Act.'

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. The Washington state attorney general shall conduct a study to determine whether motor fuel refiner-suppliers are injuring competition from motor fuel retailers by charging retailers that sell products under their trademark, prices for motor fuel which equal or exceed the prices charged for motor fuel in the same geographic market to retail customers at retail motor fuel outlets operated by company personnel, a subsidiary company, or commissioned or contract agents. The attorney general shall report his findings and recommendations to the legislature by December 1, 1986. Periodic reports shall be submitted to the legislative transportation committee. For the purposes of this study, the attorney general is authorized to use all of the civil investigative demand powers enumerated in RCW 19.86.110, subject to the procedures and requirements specified in RCW 19.86.110: PROVIDED. That disclosure of documentary material, answers to written interrogatories, or transcripts of oral testimony produced pursuant to a demand, or the contents thereof, to members of the legislature and legislative staff shall not require a court order unless the documentary material, answers to written interrogatories, or transcripts of oral testimony are identified at the time they are furnished as containing trade secrets. When seeking a court order allowing disclosure of material containing trade secrets, the attorney general shall give reasonable notice of such proceeding to the party furnishing the material.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. To carry out this act, the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated to the office of attorney general from the motor vehicle fund for the biennium ending June 30, 1987.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. Sections 1 through 19 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 19 RCW.

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:
NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 16.08 RCW to read as follows:
Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout sections 2 through 7 of this act.
(1) 'Animal control authority' means a local government entity having responsibility for enforcement of animal control laws and for the shelter and welfare of animals, and means the county's chief law enforcement officer with respect to any area not served by such an entity.

(2) 'Enclosure' means a fence, dwelling, or other method of confinement, which fence, dwelling, or method of confinement is adequate to keep the dog within the enclosed area, has a conspicuous sign indicating that there is a vicious dog within the enclosure, and is adequate to prevent the entry of young children.

(3) 'Leashed' means the condition under which a dog is secured by a chain, strap, or other device held by the keeper and which method of security is adequate to control the dog and prevent it from wandering.

(4) 'Muzzled' means the condition in which a dog's jaws are adequately held together by a device designed to prevent the dog from biting.

(5) 'Provoked' or 'provocation' has its customary meaning, except that a person will not be considered to have provoked a dog or engaged in conduct constituting provocation if the person acted reasonably in attempting to protect his or her property or to prevent bodily injury.

(6) 'Vicious dog' means:

(a) Any dog that unprovoked has bitten a human being, either on public or private property;

(b) Any dog with a propensity, tendency, or disposition to attack unprovoked, to cause injury, or to otherwise endanger the safety of human beings;

(c) Any dog trained for dog fighting.

For purposes of section 6 of this act, 'vicious dog' means a dog which bites or kills any farm animal or domestic animal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 16.08 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) of this section, each animal control authority shall confiscate, and promptly destroy in an expeditious and humane manner, any vicious dog within its jurisdiction if the dog is outside of an enclosure without being leashed and muzzled.

(2) The authority may permit the keeper to retain the dog if each of the following occur:

(a) The keeper requests that he or she be permitted to retain the dog; (b) the authority believes that the keeper did not know or have reason to know that the dog was vicious; and (c) the destruction of the dog is not required under section 4 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 16.08 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any keeper of a vicious dog who fails to confine the dog to an enclosure at any time while the dog is not leashed and muzzled is guilty of a misdemeanor. This subsection only applies if, at the time of the keeper's failure, the keeper knew or had reason to know that the dog was a vicious dog.

(2) Any keeper of a vicious dog who fails to confine the dog to an enclosure at any time while the dog is not leashed and muzzled is guilty of a crime under this subsection if, as a result of such failure, the dog bites any person. Except as provided under subsection (3) of this section, this crime is punishable as a gross misdemeanor. This subsection only applies if, at the time of the keeper's failure, the keeper knew or had reason to know that the dog was a vicious dog. This subsection does not apply if the person bitten provoked the dog.

(3) Any person who has a previous conviction under subsection (1) of this section and who is subsequently convicted under subsection (2) of this section is guilty of a class C felony under chapter 9A.20 RCW for such subsequent conviction. Any person who has a previous conviction under subsection (2) of this section and who is subsequently convicted again under subsection (2) of this section is guilty of a class B felony under chapter 9A.20 RCW for such subsequent conviction.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 16.08 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Each animal control authority shall promptly, expeditiously, and humanely destroy any dog within its jurisdiction, regardless of whether the dog is within the definition of 'vicious dog' provided in section 1 of this act, if the dog:

(a) Has severely bitten or maimed any child under the age of ten years; or

(b) Without provocation, has bitten or maimed any person.

(2) The word 'maim' has its customary definition, but a bite injury will not be excluded from this definition merely because it can be corrected by restorative surgery.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 16.08 RCW to read as follows:

In any civil action brought by or on behalf of a person bitten by a dog and in which damages are awarded for injuries resulting from the dog bite, the following rules apply:

(1) If damages for the injuries are awarded, the court shall award the person his or her court costs and reasonable attorney's fees. However, this subsection does not apply if the damages awarded are not at least twenty percent greater than the highest amount offered by the defendant as a settlement; and

(2) In addition to the person's general and special damages awarded, an amount equal to double such damages, but not exceeding ten thousand dollars, shall be awarded if the trier of fact finds that:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 16.08 RCW to read as follows:

In any civil action in which the owner of a farm animal or a domestic animal, such as a dog or cat, recovers damages for losses resulting from a vicious dog biting or killing such animal, the court shall award attorney’s fees and costs to the owner if the trier of fact finds that the biting or killing occurred on the property of the owner and that the losses would not have occurred had the dog been confined to an enclosure or kept leashed when not so confined. The court shall award such fees and costs regardless of whether the keeper of the dog had any prior knowledge that the dog was a vicious dog. This section does not apply if the damages awarded are not at least twenty percent greater than the highest amount offered as a settlement by the defendant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 16.08 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Sections 1 through 6 of this act do not apply to any dog which is used and owned by a law enforcement agency.

Sec. 8. Section 9, chapter 114, Laws of 1982 and RCW 16.52.117 are each amended to read as follows:

(c) The training of dogs or the use of equipment in the training of dogs for any purpose not prohibited by law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

ESSB 4630 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Judiciary: Revising provisions relating to civil actions. Reported by Committee on Judiciary

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment: Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:
The legislature finds that counties, cities, and other governmental entities are faced with increased exposure to lawsuits and awards and dramatic increases in the cost of insurance coverage. These escalating costs ultimately affect the public through higher taxes, loss of essential services, and loss of the protection provided by adequate insurance. In order to improve the availability and affordability of quality governmental services, comprehensive reform is necessary.

The legislature also finds comparable cost increases in professional liability insurance. Escalating malpractice insurance premiums discourage physicians and other health care providers from initiating or continuing their practice or offering needed services to the public and contribute to the rising costs of consumer health care. Other professionals, such as architects and engineers, face similar difficult choices, financial instability, and unlimited risk in providing services to the public.

The legislature also finds that general liability insurance is becoming unavailable or unaffordable to many businesses, individuals, and nonprofit organizations in amounts sufficient to cover potential losses. High premiums have discouraged socially and economically desirable activities and encourage many to go without adequate insurance coverage.

Therefore, it is the intent of the legislature to reduce costs associated with the tort system, while assuring that adequate and appropriate compensation for persons injured through the fault of others is available.

PART I

ACCELERATED WAIVER OF PHYSICIAN-PATIENT PRIVILEGE

A husband shall not be examined for or against his wife, without the consent of the wife, nor a wife for or against her husband without the consent of the husband; nor can either during marriage or after, be without the consent of the other, examined as to any communication made by one to the other during marriage. But this exception shall not apply to a civil action or proceeding by one against the other, nor to a criminal action or proceeding for a crime committed by one against the other, nor to a criminal action or proceeding against a spouse if the marriage occurred subsequent to the filing of formal charges against the defendant, nor to a criminal action or proceeding for a crime committed by said husband or wife against any child of whom said husband or wife is the parent or guardian, nor to a proceeding under chapter 71.05 RCW: PROVIDED, That the spouse of a person sought to be detained under chapter 71.05 RCW may not be compelled to testify and shall be so informed by the court prior to being called as a witness.

2. An attorney or counselor shall not, without the consent of his client, be examined as to any communication made by the client to him, or his advice given thereon in the course of professional employment.

3. A clergyman or priest shall not, without the consent of a person making the confession, be examined as to any confession made to him in his professional character, in the course of discipline enjoined by the church to which he belongs.

4. A (regular) physician or surgeon or osteopathic physician or surgeon shall not, without the consent of his patient, be examined in a civil action as to any information acquired in attending such patient, which was necessary to enable him to prescribe or act for the patient. (but this exception shall not apply in any judicial proceeding regarding a child's injuries, neglect or sexual abuse, or the cause thereof) except as follows:

(a) In any judicial proceedings regarding a child's injury, neglect, or sexual abuse or the cause thereof; and

(b) Ninety days after filing an action for personal injuries or wrongful death, the claimant shall be deemed to have waived the physician-patient privilege with respect to the same or similar condition at issue in the action. There shall be no ex parte contact with such physician without at least five days' written notice to the patient.

PROVIDED, HOWEVER, THAT the plaintiff shall not be entitled to such attorney fee unless he obtains, exclusive of costs, a judgment in the sum of twenty-five dollars or more. Costs shall include attorneys’ fees as provided in chapter 4.84 RCW.

Sec. 208. Section 1, page 176, Laws of 1885 as last amended by section 1, chapter 48, Laws of 1895 and RCW 4.84.020 are each amended to read as follows:

(3) If a judgment for periodic installments is to be entered under subsection (1) of this section, the court prior to entry of judgment shall request each party to submit a proposal for periodic payment of such future damages to compensate the claimant. Proposals shall include the following provisions: The name of the recipient or recipients of the payments, the dollar amount of the payments, the intervals between payments, the number of payments or the period of time over which the payments shall be made, modification for hardship or unforeseen circumstances, posting of adequate security, payment of interest, and any other factor the court deems relevant under the circumstances. After each party has submitted a proposal, the court shall select the proposal which, in the discretion of the court and the interests of justice, best provides for the future needs of the claimant.

(4) On the effective date of this section, the minimum amount referenced in subsection (1) of this section shall be one hundred thousand dollars. On July 1, 1987, and on July 1 of each year thereafter, the office of the administrator for the courts shall adjust the minimum amount in accordance with the change in the federal consumer price index during the previous year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 802. (1) As a condition of entering a judgment for periodic installments of future damages under section 801 of this act, the court may require a judgment debtor who has not made adequate provision for payment of periodic installments to post security sufficient to assure full payment of such future damages.

(2) If the court determines that a judgment debtor has not made adequate provision for payment of periodic installments and is unable to post security sufficient to assure full payment of the future damages, then the court may enter a judgment for the lump sum of the damages, past and future, incurred by the plaintiff against the judgment debtor.

(3) Upon satisfaction of the judgment for periodic installments, the security, or so much as remains, shall be ordered returned to the judgment debtor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 803. If at any time following entry of judgment for periodic installments under section 801 of this act, a judgment debtor fails for any reason to make a payment in a timely fashion according to the terms of the judgment, the judgment creditor may petition the court which rendered the original judgment for an order requiring payment by the judgment debtor of the outstanding payments in a lump sum. In calculating the amount of the lump sum judgment, the court shall total the remaining periodic payments due and owing to the judgment creditor, and shall not convert these amounts to their present value. The court shall also require the payment of interest on the outstanding judgment and shall award the petitioner reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 804. In cases in which future damages are payable in periodic installments under this chapter:

(1) Unless otherwise agreed between the parties, the liability for payment of any installments for medical or other costs of health care or noneconomic loss not yet due at the death of the judgment creditor terminates upon the death of the person; and

(2) The portion of any periodic payment allocatable to loss of future earnings shall not be reduced or terminated by reason of the death of the judgment creditor, but shall be considered part of the estate of the judgment creditor. In such cases, the court which rendered the original judgment may, upon petition of any party in interest, convert those portions of such periodic payments allocatable to the loss of future earnings to a lump sum by calculating the present value of such payments in order to assist in the settlement of the estate of the judgment creditor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 805. (1) If, at any time after entry of judgment, a judgment creditor or successor in interest can establish that the continued payment of the judgment in periodic installments will impose a severe hardship, the court may, in its discretion, order that the remaining payments or a portion thereof shall be made to the judgment creditor in a lump sum. The court shall, before entering such an order, consider the following: (a) Whether unanticipated and substantial medical or other needs have arisen that warrant the payment of the remaining payments, or a portion thereof, in a lump sum; (b) whether ordering such a lump sum payment would impose an unreasonable financial burden on the judgment debtor or debtors; (c) whether ordering such a lump sum payment will accommodate the future medical and other needs of the judgment creditor; and (d) whether ordering such a lump sum payment would further the interests of justice.

(2) If a lump sum payment is ordered by the court, such lump sum shall be calculated on the basis of the present value of remaining periodic payments, or portions thereof, that are converted into a lump sum payment. The remaining future periodic payments, if any, shall be reduced accordingly.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 806. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to limit the right of a plaintiff, defendant or defendants, and any insurer to settle claims as they consider appropriate and in their complete discretion.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 807. Sections 801 through 806 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 4 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 808. Sections 801 through 807 of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of sections 801 through 807 of this act shall be null and void.

(Except when an amendment provides for authorized but unissued shares as permitted in this title)) No ((increase of authorized)) issuance of capital stock shall be valid, until the amount thereof shall have been ((subscribed and)) actually paid in and a certificate of increase is received from the supervisor. No reduction of the capital stock shall be made to an amount less than is required for capital; (not be valid; nor warrant the cancellation of stock certificates; nor diminish the personal liabilities of the stockholders until such reduction has been approved by the supervisor; nor shall any reduction relieve any stockholder from any liability of the corporation incurred prior thereto)) by the supervisor. No amendment shall be made whereby a bank becomes a trust company unless such bank shall first receive permission from the supervisor.

Banks having authorized but unissued stock shall disclose on all statements of condition the amount of authorized stock and the amount of issued and paid in stock, as certified by the supervisor. The supervisor shall certify to each bank having authorized but unissued stock the amount of its issued and paid in capital stock and this amount shall be used in all statements of condition and in computing the capital of the bank for purposes of determining loan or investment limits ((and branching powers)) until a new certificate is issued by the supervisor. In cases where a bank issues authorized but unissued stock as permitted by this title, a new certificate need not be requested upon each stock issue. However, if the bank so requests and the supervisor approves, a certificate of issued and paid in capital stock shall be issued by the supervisor. A new certificate must be requested at such time as any increase of paid in capital stock represents five percent of the authorized capital stock and at such time as there is no remaining authorized but unissued stock.

Every bank and trust company shall be managed by not less than five directors. ((Excepting that a bank having a capital of fifty thousand dollars or less may have only three directors)) who need not be residents of this state. Directors shall be elected by the stockholders and hold office for ((one-year)) such term as is specified in the articles of incorporation, not exceeding three years, and until their successors are elected and have qualified. In the first instance the directors shall be those named in the articles of incorporation and afterwards, those elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders to be held at least once each year on a day to be specified by the bank's or trust company's bylaws ((but not later than May 15th of each year)). The directors shall meet at least once each month and whenever required by the supervisor. A majority of the then serving board of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. At all stockholders' meetings, each share shall be entitled to one vote, unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise. Any stockholder may vote in person or by written proxy. Immediately upon election, each director shall take, subscribe, swear to, and file with the supervisor an oath that he will, so far as the duty devolves upon him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of such corporation and will not knowingly violate or willingly permit to be violated any provision of law applicable to such corporation ((and that he is the beneficial owner in good faith of the number of shares of stock required by this section, and that the same is fully paid, is not hypothecated or in any way pledged as security for any loan or debt)). Vacancies in the board of directors shall be filled by the board.

Sec. 31. Section 30.12.020, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 9, chapter 136, Laws of 1969 and RCW 30.12.020 are each amended to read as follows:

All meetings of the stockholders of any bank or trust company, except organization meetings, and meetings held with the consent of all stockholders, must be held in the ((town or city)) county in which the head office or any branch of the corporation is located. Meetings of the directors of any bank or trust company may be held either within or without this state. Every such corporation shall keep ((a book)) records in which shall be recorded the names and residences of the stockholders thereof, the number of shares held by each, ((when each person becomes a stockholder)) and also the transfers of stock, showing the time when made, the number of shares and by whom transferred. In all actions, suits and proceedings, said ((book)) records shall be prima facie proof of the facts shown therein. All of the corporate books, including the certificate book, stockholders' ledger and minute book or a copy thereof shall be kept at the corporation's principal place of business ((and not elsewhere)). Any books, record, and minutes may be in written form or any other form capable of being converted to written form within a reasonable time.

(Whenever in the opinion of the supervisor the condition of any bank or trust company is such that any transfer of the capital stock of such bank or trust company would be detrimental to the interests of its depositors, the supervisor may, by written order served upon the directors of such bank or trust company, direct that no transfer of stock shall be made until further order of the supervisor.)

NEW SECTION. Sec. 32. A new section is added to chapter 30.12 RCW to read as follows:

Any person who has been a shareholder of record at least six months immediately preceding his or her demand or who is the holder of record of at least five percent of all the outstanding shares of a bank or trust company, upon written demand stating the purpose thereof, has the right to examine, in person, or by agent or attorney, at any reasonable time or times, for any proper purpose, the bank or trust company's minutes of the proceedings of its shareholders, its shareholder records, and its existing publicly available records. The person is entitled to make extracts therefrom, except that the person is not entitled to view or make extracts of any portion of minutes that refer or relate to information which is confidential.

Any officer or agent who, or a bank or trust company that, refuses to allow any such shareholder or his or her agent or attorney, to examine and make extracts from its minutes of the proceedings of its shareholders, record of shareholders, or existing publicly available books and records, for any proper purpose, shall be liable to the shareholder for actual damages or other remedy afforded the shareholder by law.
It is a defense to any action for penalties under this section that the person suing therefor has, within two years: (1) Sold or offered for sale any list of shareholders for shares of such bank or trust company or any other bank or trust company; (2) aided or abetted any person in procuring any list of shareholders for any such purpose; (3) improperly used any information secured through any prior examination of existing publicly available books and records, or minutes, or record of shareholders of such bank or trust company or any other bank or trust company; or (4) not acted in good faith or for a proper purpose in making his or her demand.

Nothing in this section impairs the power of any court of competent jurisdiction, upon proof by a shareholder of proper purpose, irrespective of the period of time during which the shareholder has been a shareholder of record, and irrespective of the number of shares held by him or her, to compel the production for examination by the shareholder of the existing publicly available books and records, minutes, and record of shareholders of a bank or trust company.

Upon the written request of any shareholder of a bank or trust company, the bank or trust company shall mail to the shareholder its most recent financial statements showing in reasonable detail its assets and liabilities and the results of its operations. As used in this section, ‘shareholder’ includes the holder of voting trust certificates for shares.

Sec. 33. Section 30.12.030, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 and RCW 30.12.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise permitted by the supervisor under specified terms and conditions, the board of directors of each bank and trust company shall direct and require good and sufficient surety company fidelity bonds issued by a company authorised to engage in the insurance business in the state of Washington to all active officers and employees, whether or not they draw salary or compensation, which bonds shall provide for indemnity to such bank or trust company, on account of any losses sustained by it as the result of any dishonest, fraudulent or criminal act or omission committed or omitted by them acting independently or in collusion or combination with any person or persons. Such bonds may be individual, schedule or blanket form, and the premiums therefor shall be paid by the bank or trust company.

(2) The said directors shall also direct and require suitable insurance protection to the bank or trust company against burglary, robbery, theft and other similar insurance hazards to which the bank or trust company may be exposed in the operations of its business on the premises or elsewhere.

The said directors shall be responsible for prescribing at least once in each year the amount or penal sum of such bonds or policies and the sureties or underwriters thereon, after giving due consideration to all known elements and factors constituting such risk or hazard. Such action shall be recorded in the minutes of the board of directors and therealter be reported to the supervisor and be subject to his approval.

Sec. 34. Section 30.12.050, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 and RCW 30.12.050 are each amended to read as follows:

A director, officer, employee or other agent of any bank shall not purchase, or be interested in the purchase, directly or indirectly, of any of its assets without the previous written consent of ((the supervisor and of)) a majority of ((the)) disinterested directors of the bank; PROVIDED, That if the fair market value of the asset or assets exceed ten thousand dollars, not less than ten days’ prior notice of the sale shall be given to the supervisor. ((Whoever knowingly does or participates or aids in the doing of any act in violation of this section shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor and be punished accordingly, and also shall forfeit to the state double the amount of any loss suffered by the bank or trust company on account of the unlawful purchase, the recovery to be one-half for the use of the bank or trust company and the rest for the use of the state.))

Sec. 35. Section 30.12.110, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 and RCW 30.12.110 are each amended to read as follows:

((Every)) No officer, director, agent, employee or stockholder of any bank or trust company (who) shall, directly or indirectly, receive a bonus, commission, compensation, remuneration, gift, speculative interest or gratuity of any kind from any person, firm or corporation other than the bank or as allowed by section 36 of this 1986 act for granting, procuring or endeavoring to procure, for any person, firm or corporation, any loan by or out of the funds of such bank or trust company or the purchase or sale of any securities or property for or on an account of such bank or trust company or for granting or procuring permission for any person, firm or corporation to overdraw any account with such bank or trust company(()). Any person violating this section shall be guilty of a (((felony))) gross misdemeanor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 36. A new section is added to chapter 30.12 RCW to read as follows:

(1) If a transaction is fair to a corporation at the time it is authorized, approved, or ratified, the fact that a director or an officer had a direct or indirect interest in the transaction is not grounds for either invalidating the transaction or imposing liability on the director or officer.

(2) In any proceeding seeking to invalidate a transaction with the corporation in which a director or an officer had a direct or indirect interest in a transaction with the corporation, the person asserting the validity of the transaction has the burden of proving fairness unless:
(a) The material facts of the transaction and the director's or officer's interest was disclosed or known to the board of directors, or a committee of the board, and the board or committee authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction; or

(b) The material facts of the transaction and the director's or officer's interest was disclosed or known to the shareholders entitled to vote, and they authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction.

(3) For purposes of this section, a director or an officer of a corporation has an indirect interest in a transaction with the corporation if:

(a) Another entity in which the director or officer has a material financial interest, or in which such person is a general partner, is a party to the transaction; or

(b) Another entity of which the director or officer is a director, officer, or trustee is a party to the transaction, and the transaction is or should be considered by the board of directors of the corporation.

(4) For purposes of subsection (3)(a) of this section, a transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified only if it receives the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors on the board of directors or on the committee who have no direct or indirect interest in the transaction. If a majority of the directors who have no direct or indirect interest in the transaction vote to authorize, approve, or ratify the transaction, a quorum is present for the purpose of taking action under this section. The presence of, or a vote cast by, a director with a direct or indirect interest in the transaction does not affect the validity of any action taken under subsection (3)(a) of this section if the transaction is otherwise authorized, approved, or ratified as provided in that subsection.

(5) For purposes of subsection (3)(b) of this section, a transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified only if it receives the vote of a majority of shares entitled to be counted under this subsection. All outstanding shares entitled to vote under this title or the articles of incorporation are entitled to be counted under this subsection except shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or an officer who has a direct or indirect interest in the transaction. Shares owned by or voted under the control of an entity described in subsection (3)(a) of this section shall not be counted to determine whether shareholders have authorized, approved, or ratified a transaction for purposes of subsection (3)(b) of this section. The vote of the shares owned by or voted under the control of a director or an officer who has a direct or indirect interest in the transaction and shares owned by or voted under the control of an entity described in subsection (3)(a) of this section, however, shall be counted in determining whether the transaction is approved under other sections of this title and for purposes of determining a quorum.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 37. A new section is added to chapter 30.12 RCW to read as follows:

Subject to any restrictions in its articles of incorporation and in accordance with and subject to the provisions of RCW 30.08.036, the board of directors of a bank or trust company may grant options entitling the holders thereof to purchase from the corporation shares of any class of its stock. The instrument evidencing the option shall state the terms upon which, the time within which, and the price at which such shares may be purchased from the corporation upon the exercise of such option. If any such options are granted by contract, or are to be granted pursuant to a plan, to officers or employees of the bank or trust company, then the contract or the plan shall require the approval, within twelve months of its approval by the board of directors, of the holders of a majority of its voting capital stock. Subsequent amendments to any such contract or plan which do not change the price or duration of any option, the maximum number of shares which may be subject to options, or the class of employees eligible for options may be made by the board of directors without further shareholder approval.

Subject to any restrictions in its articles of incorporation, the board of directors of a bank or trust company shall have the authority to enter into any plans or contracts providing for compensation for its officers and employees, including, but not being limited to, incentive bonus contracts, stock purchase or bonus plans and profit sharing plans.

Such regulations and any amendments thereto shall be posted in a conspicuous place in a room where the ((savings account)) deposit business of ((any such)) the bank or trust company shall be transacted and shall ((be)) remain available to depositors upon request. All such rules and regulations and all amendments thereto from time to time in effect shall be binding upon all depositors. At the option of the bank, a passbook shall be issued to each savings account depositor, or a ((ledger)) record maintained in lieu of a passbook ((covering such deposits in which shall be entered each deposit by and each payment to such depositor, and no payment or checks...)} rules and regulations and shall be enforceable and amendable in the same manner as pro-

If this period of one hundred twenty days shall elapse without the board making a finding as prescribed in RCW 36.93.150, the proposal shall be deemed approved unless the board and the person who submitted the proposal agree to an extension of the one hundred twenty day period.

Sec. 7. Section 11, chapter 189, Laws of 1967 as amended by section 42, chapter 195. Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 36.93.110 are each amended to read as follows:

"In case of annexation to a city or a town:) Where ((the)) an area proposed for annexation is less than ten acres and less than ((eight hundred thousand)) two million dollars in assessed valuation, the chairman of the review board may by written statement declare that review by the board is not necessary for the protection of the interest of the various parties, in which case the board shall not review such annexation."
Subject to RCW 35.02.170, modification of the proposal by adjusting boundaries to add or delete territory: PROVIDED, That any proposal for annexation by the board shall be subject to RCW 35.21.010 and shall not add additional territory, the amount of which is greater than that included in the original proposal: PROVIDED FURTHER, That such modifications shall not interfere with the authority of a city, town, or special district to require or not require preannexation agreements, covenants, or petitions;

If the signatures cannot be secured then the proposal may be submitted to a vote of the people, as required by law.

When the board, after due proceedings held, disapproves a proposed action, such proposed action shall be unavailable, the proposing agency shall be without power to initiate the same or substantially the same as determined by the board, and any succeeding acts intended to or tending to effectuate that action shall be void, but such action may be reinitiated after a period of twelve months from date of disapproval and shall again be subject to the same consideration.

The board shall not modify or deny a proposed action unless there is evidence on the record to support a conclusion that the action is inconsistent with one or more of the objectives under RCW 36.93.180. Notice shall also be posted in ten public places in the area affected for five days when the area is ten acres or more. When the area affected is less than ten acres, five notices shall be posted in five public places for five days. ((If the board after such hearing shall determine to modify the proposal by adding territory, then the board shall set a date, time and place for an additional hearing on the modification, for which notice shall be given as provided in this subsection:)) Notice as provided in this subsection must include any territory which the board has determined to consider adding in accordance with RCW 36.93.150(2).

A verbatim record shall be made of all testimony presented at the hearing and upon request and payment of the reasonable costs thereof, a copy of the transcript of such testimony shall be provided to any person or governmental unit.

Indicate whether the proposed change is approved, rejected or modified and, if modified, the terms of such modification. The written decision need not include specific data on every factor required to be considered by the board, but shall indicate that all standards were given consideration. Dissenting members of the board shall have the right to have their written dissents included as part of the decision.

(5) Unanimous decisions of the hearing panel or a decision of a majority of the members of the board shall constitute the decision of the board and shall not be appealable to the whole board. Any other decision shall be appealable to the entire board within ten days. Appeals shall be on the record, which shall be furnished by the appellant, but the board may, in its sole discretion, permit the introduction of additional evidence and argument. Decisions shall be final and conclusive unless within ten days from the date of said action a governmental unit affected by the decision or any person owning real property or residing in the area affected by the decision files in the superior court a notice of appeal.

The filing of such notice of appeal within such time limit shall stay the effective date of the decision of the board until such time as the appeal shall have been adjudicated or withdrawn. On appeal the superior court shall not take any evidence other than that contained in the record of the hearing before the board.

(6) The superior court may affirm the decision of the board or remand the case for further proceedings; or it may reverse the decision if any substantial rights may have been prejudiced because the administrative findings, inferences, conclusions, or decisions are:

2SSB 3487 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Energy & Utilities: Requiring guidelines for state agencies to implement energy conservation procedures. Reported by Committee on Energy & Utilities

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

1. Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

(1) Capital investments in energy conservation in buildings can produce significant reductions in energy use, reducing the need to import or extract fossil fuels and lowering the cost of operating buildings.

(2) The state of Washington has an obligation to operate state buildings efficiently and to implement all cost-effective energy conservation measures so that citizens are assured that public funds are spent wisely and so that citizens have an example of the savings possible from energy conservation.

(3) The state has completed energy consumption and walk-through surveys of its buildings and other facilities and has established a schedule for technical assistance studies which is the basis for implementing energy conservation measure installations to meet the milestones in RCW 43.19.680. However, there is uncertainty that the milestones will be met.

(4) The potential savings from energy conservation can be more readily realized by explicitly considering conservation measures and procedures in the state's budgeting and long-range planning process.

Sec. 2. Section 5, chapter 172, Laws of 1980 as last amended by section 1, chapter 313, Laws of 1983 and RCW 43.19.680 are each amended to read as follows:

1. Upon completion of each walk-through survey required by RCW 43.19.675, the director of general administration or the agency responsible for the facility if other than the department of general administration shall implement energy conservation maintenance and operation procedures that may be identified for any state-owned facility. These procedures shall be implemented as soon as possible but not later than twelve months after the walk-through survey.

FORTY-SEVENTH DAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1986 745
(2) By December 31, 1981, for the capitol campus the director of general administration, in cooperation with the director of the state energy office, shall prepare and transmit to the governor and the legislature an implementation plan.

(3) By December 31, 1983, for all other state-owned facilities, the director of general administration in cooperation with the director of the state energy office shall prepare and transmit to the governor and the legislature an implementation plan. This submission shall contain the energy conservation measures planned for installation during the ensuing biennium. Priority considerations for scheduling technical assistance studies shall include but not be limited to a facility’s energy efficiency, responsible agency participation, comparative cost and type of fuels, possibility of outside funding, logistical considerations such as possible need to vacate the facility for installation of energy conservation measures, coordination with other planned facility modifications, and the total cost of a facility modification, including other work which would have to be done as a result of installing energy conservation measures. Energy conservation measure acquisitions and installations shall be scheduled to be twenty-five percent complete by June 30, 1985, or at the end of the capital budget biennium which includes that date, whichever is later, fifty-five percent complete by June 30, 1989, or at the end of the capital budget biennium which includes that date, whichever is later, eighty-five percent complete by June 30, 1993, or at the end of the capital budget biennium which includes that date, whichever is later, and fully complete by June 30, 1995, or at the end of the capital budget biennium which includes that date, whichever is later. Each state agency shall implement energy conservation measures with a payback period of twenty-four months or less that have a positive cash flow in the same biennium.

For each biennium until all measures are installed, the director of general administration shall report to the governor and legislature installation progress, measures planned for installation during the ensuing biennium, and changes, if any, to the technical assistance study schedule. This report shall be submitted by December 31, 1984, or at the end of the following year whichever immediately precedes the capital budget adoption, and every two years thereafter until all measures are installed. The office of financial management shall indicate which of the measures in the foregoing report are included in the biennial budget request and the total cost to accomplish those measures which are not included.

(4) The director of general administration shall adopt rules to facilitate private investment in energy conservation measures for state-owned buildings consistent with state law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) The office of financial management shall develop policy guidelines for state agencies to use in budgeting for and implementing energy conservation maintenance and operation procedures and energy conservation measures, including those mandated under RCW 43.19.680:

(2) The guidelines shall require that agencies budget for the timely implementation of cost-effective measures and procedures or explain why any measures or procedures should not be funded;

(3) In developing the guidelines the office of financial management shall ensure that to the extent possible the budget process shall allow state agencies implementing energy conservation to retain the resulting cost savings for other purposes, including further energy conservation; and

(4) The office of financial management shall consult with the state energy office and the department of general administration, as necessary, to administer this section properly. The office of financial management shall establish the guidelines by December 31, 1986.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The state energy office shall provide the office of financial management with energy consumption data necessary to implement section 3 of this act. Facilities or the agencies responsible for them shall report accurate monthly energy consumption and cost figures for all fuels to the state energy office quarterly, including any changes in total space served or facility operations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Sections 3 and 4 of this act are each added to chapter 43.41 RCW. * On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "agencies:" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 43.19.680; adding new sections to chapter 43.41 RCW; and creating a new section."

ESSB 4465 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Judiciary: Modifying provisions relative to use of deadly force. Reported by Committee on Judiciary

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 9A.16.010, chapter 260, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9A.16.010 are each amended to read as follows:

In this chapter, unless a different meaning is plainly required:

(1) 'Necessary' means that no reasonably effective alternative to the use of force appeared to exist and that the amount of force used was reasonable to effect the lawful purpose intended.

(2) 'Dangerous felony' means any felony or equivalent juvenile offense under the laws of this state or any other state or federal jurisdiction which involves:

(a) The use or attempted use of force causing death or serious physical injury to another; or

(b) The use or attempted use of force creating a substantial risk of death or serious physical injury to another; or

(c) A threat, express or implied, including but not limited to the display of a deadly weapon, which places a person in reasonable fear of death or serious physical injury to himself or herself or another or in fear that he or she or another person will be kidnapped.

(3) 'Deadly force' means the intentional application of force through the use of firearms or any other means reasonably likely to cause death or serious physical injury.

Sec. 2. Section 9A.16.040, chapter 260, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9A.16.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Homicide or the use of deadly force is justifiable when committed by a public officer or person acting under his command and in his aid; in the following cases:

(((t1))) (a) When a public officer is acting in obedience to the judgment of a competent court(t1); or (((t2))) (b) When (necessary) necessarily used by a peace officer to overcome actual resistance to the execution of the legal process, mandate, or order of a court or officer, or in the discharge of a legal duty.

(3) When necessary in retaking an escaped or rescued prisoner who has been committed; arrested for; or convicted of a felony; or in arresting a person who has committed a felony and is fleeing from justice; or in attempting, by lawful ways or means, to apprehend a person for a felony actually committed; or in lawfully suppressing a riot or preserving the peace.)) (c) When necessarily used by a peace officer or person acting under the officer’s command and in the officer’s aid:

(i) To arrest or apprehend a person who the officer reasonably believes has committed, has attempted to commit, is committing, or is attempting to commit a dangerous felony;

(ii) To prevent the escape of a person from a federal or state correctional facility or in retaking a person who escapes from such a facility; or

(iii) To prevent the escape of a person from a county or city jail or holding facility if the person has been arrested for, charged with, or convicted of a dangerous felony; or

(iv) To lawfully suppress a riot if the actor or another participant is armed with a deadly weapon.

(2) In considering whether to use deadly force under subsection (1)(c) of this section, to arrest or apprehend any person for the commission or attempted commission of a dangerous felony, the peace officer must have probable cause that the suspect, if not apprehended, poses a threat of serious physical harm to the officer or a threat of serious physical harm to others. Among the circumstances which may be considered by peace officers as a ‘threat of serious physical harm’ are the following:

(a) The suspect threatens a peace officer with a weapon or displays a weapon in a manner that could reasonably be construed as threatening; or

(b) There is probable cause to believe that the suspect has committed any crime involving the infliction or threatened infliction of serious physical harm.

Under these circumstances deadly force may also be used if necessary to prevent escape from the officer, where, if feasible, some warning is given.

(3) A public officer or peace officer shall not be held criminally liable for using deadly force without malice and with a good faith belief that such act is justifiable pursuant to this section.

This section shall not be construed as:

(a) Meeting the permissible use of force by a person acting under the authority of RCW 9A.16.020 or 9A.16.050; or

(b) Preventing a law enforcement agency from adopting standards pertaining to its use of deadly force that are more restrictive than this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The legislature recognizes that RCW 9A.16.040 establishes a dual standard with respect to the use of deadly force by peace officers and private citizens, and further recognizes that private citizens’ permissible use of deadly force under the authority of RCW 9.01.200, 9A.16.020, or 9A.16.050 is not restricted and remains broader than the limitations imposed on peace officers.

Each of the following acts or practices is ((hereby declared)) unlawful:

1. To cause or permit to be advertised, printed, displayed, published, distributed, broadcasted, televised, or disseminated in any manner whatsoever, any statement or representation with regard to the sale or financing of a vehicle which is false, deceptive, or misleading, including but not limited to the following:
   a. That no down payment is required in connection with the sale of a vehicle when a down payment is in fact required, or that a vehicle may be purchased for a smaller down payment than is actually required;
   b. That a certain percentage of the sale price of a vehicle may be financed when such financing is not offered in a single document evidencing the entire security transaction;
   c. That a certain percentage is the amount of the service charge to be charged for financing, without stating whether this percentage charge is a monthly amount or an amount to be charged per year;
   d. That a new vehicle will be sold for a certain amount above or below cost without computing cost as the exact amount of the factory invoice on the specific vehicle to be sold;
   e. That a vehicle will be sold upon a monthly payment of a certain amount, without including in the statement the number of payments of that same amount which are required to liquidate the unpaid purchase price.
2. To incorporate within the terms of any purchase and sale agreement any statement or representation with regard to the sale or financing of a vehicle which is false, deceptive, or misleading, including but not limited to terms that include as an added cost to the selling price of a vehicle an amount for licensing or transfer of title of that vehicle which is not actually due to the state, unless such amount has in fact been paid by the dealer prior to such sale.
3. To set up, promote, or aid in the promotion of a plan by which vehicles are to be sold to a person for a consideration and upon further consideration that the purchaser agrees to secure one or more persons to participate in the plan by respectively making a similar purchase and in turn agreeing to secure one or more persons likewise to join in said plan, each purchaser being given the right to secure money, credits, goods, or something of value, depending upon the number of persons joining the plan.

(4) To commit, allow, or ratify any act of "bushing" which is defined as follows: Taking from a prospective buyer of a vehicle a written order or offer to purchase, or a contract document signed by the buyer, with which:

(a) Is subject to the dealer's, or his authorized representative's future acceptance, and the dealer fails or refuses within forty-eight hours, exclusive of Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, and prior to any further negotiations with said buyer, to deliver to the buyer either the dealer's signed acceptance or all copies of the order, offer, or contract document together with any initial payment or security made or given by the buyer, including but not limited to money, check, promissory note, vehicle keys, a trade-in, or certificate of title to a trade-in; or

(b) Permits the dealer to renegotiate a dollar amount specified as trade-in allowance on a vehicle delivered or to be delivered by the buyer as part of the purchase price, for any reason except substantial physical damage or latent mechanical defect occurring before the dealer took possession of the vehicle and which could not have been reasonably discoverable at the time of the taking of the order, offer, or contract; or

(c) Fails to comply with the obligation of any written warranty or guarantee given by the dealer requiring the furnishing of services or repairs within a reasonable time.

(5) To commit any offense relating to odometers, as such offenses are defined in RCW 46.37.540, 46.37.550, 46.37.560, and 46.37.570. A violation of this subsection is a class C felony punishable under chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(6) For any vehicle dealer or vehicle salesman to refuse to furnish, upon request of a prospective purchaser, the name and address of the previous registered owner of any used vehicle offered for sale.

(7) To commit any other offense under RCW 46.37.423, 46.37.424, or 46.37.425.

(8) To commit any offense relating to a dealer's temporary license permit, including but not limited to failure to properly complete each such permit, or the issuance of more than one such permit on any one vehicle.

(9) For a dealer, salesman, or mobile home manufacturer, having taken an instrument or cash 'on deposit' from a purchaser prior to the delivery of the bargained-for vehicle, to commingle said 'on deposit' funds with assets of the dealer, salesman, or mobile home manufacturer instead of holding said 'on deposit' funds as trustee in a separate trust account until the purchaser has taken delivery of the bargained-for vehicle. Failure, immediately upon receipt, to endorse 'on deposit' instruments to such a trust account, or to set aside 'on deposit' cash for deposit in such trust account, and failure to deposit such instruments or cash in such trust account by the close of banking hours on the day following receipt thereof, shall be evidence of intent to commit this unlawful practice: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That a motor vehicle dealer may keep a separate trust account which equals his customary total customer deposits for vehicles for future delivery.

(10) For a dealer or manufacturer to fail to comply with the obligations of any written warranty or guarantee given by the dealer or manufacturer requiring the furnishing of goods and services or repairs within a reasonable period of time, or to fail to furnish to a purchaser, all parts which attach to the manufactured unit including but not limited to the undercarriage, and all items specified in the terms of a sales agreement signed by the seller and buyer.

(11) Being a manufacturer, other than a motorcycle manufacturer governed by chapter 46.94 RCW, to:

(a) Coerce or attempt to coerce any vehicle dealer to order or accept delivery of any vehicle or vehicles, parts or accessories, or any other commodities which have not been voluntarily ordered by the vehicle dealer: PROVIDED, That recommendation, endorsement, exposition, persuasion, urging, or argument are not deemed to constitute coercion;

(b) Cancel or fail to renew the franchise or selling agreement of any vehicle dealer doing business in this state without fairly compensating the dealer at a fair going business value for his capital investment which shall include but not be limited to tools, equipment, and parts inventory possessed by the dealer on the day he is notified of such cancellation or termination and which are still within the dealer's possession on the day the cancellation or termination is effective; if: (i) The capital investment has been entered into with reasonable and prudent business judgment for the purpose of fulfilling the franchise; and (ii) said cancellation or nonrenewal was not done in good faith. Good faith is defined as the duty of each party to any franchise to act in a fair and equitable manner towards each other, so as to guarantee one party freedom from coercion, intimidation, or threats of coercion or intimidation from the other party: PROVIDED, That recommendation, endorsement, exposition, persuasion, urging, or argument are not deemed to constitute a lack of good faith.

(c) Encourage, aid, abet, or teach a vehicle dealer to sell vehicles through any false, deceptive, or misleading sales or financing practices including but not limited to those practices declared unlawful in this section;
If the dealer complies with other sections of chapter 46.70 RCW.

Within sixty days following the written notification of the cancellation or nonrenewal, the director shall revoke or refuse to issue a vehicle dealer's license to a new franchisee.

A civil action brought in the superior court pursuant to the provisions of this section must be filed no later than one year following the alleged violation of this chapter. A person recovering judgment or whose claim has been dismissed with prejudice under said Federal Automobile Dealer Franchise Act, 15 United States Code Sections 1221-1225, may bring a civil action in the superior court to enjoin further violations, to recover the actual damages sustained by him together with the costs of the suit, including a reasonable attorney's fees.

A new section is added to chapter 46.70 RCW to read as follows:

Any person who is injured in his business or property by a violation of this chapter, or any person so injured because he refuses to accede to a proposal for an arrangement which, if consummated, would be in violation of this chapter, may bring a civil action in the superior court to enjoin further violations, to recover the actual damages sustained by him together with the costs of the suit, including a reasonable attorney's fees.

(3) A person who requests continued participation in their employer's health plan may be required to pay for such participation. However, such payment shall not exceed the rate, cost, or premium that is calculated for an active employee under the same plan. If the utilization of health plan benefits by those continuing participation in the health plan causes a greater than ten percent increase in the active employee rate or cost for the plan, then the rate or cost for those continuing participation in the health plan shall be adjusted to cover the costs in excess of the ten percent increase. However, no provision of this subsection shall be deemed to require any employer who is currently paying for all or part of a health plan for their retired and disabled employees and their eligible dependents from discontinuing those payments.

(4) When a person or his or her spouse continuing participation under a health plan becomes eligible for federal medicare, then health plan participation shall be terminated and the person or his or her spouse shall have the option of participating in a supplemental plan provided by the employer. Any payment required of the person or his or her spouse shall be modified to reflect cost differences between the health plan and the supplemental plan.

(5) Payments for continued participation in a former employer's health plan may be assigned to the underwriter of the health plan from public pension benefits or may be paid to the former employer, as determined by the former employer, so that an underwriter of the health plan that is an insurance company, health care service contractor, or health maintenance organization shall not be required to accept individual payments from persons continuing participation in the employer's health plan.

(6) There shall be a one time initial open enrollment period from May 1, 1986, to June 30, 1986. An employer shall not be required to permit a person to participate in the health plan if the person is responsible for a lapse in coverage under the plan. In addition, an employer shall not be required to permit a person to participate in the employer's health plan if the employer offered continued participation in a health plan with substantially similar benefits and at substantially the same price as that plan provided for active employees and the person failed to enroll in that plan at the time the person was retired or disabled.

(7) If a person continuing participation in the former employer's health plan has other medical coverage as a result of that person's employment or that person's spouse's employment, the other medical coverage shall be the primary coverage for purposes of coordination of benefits as provided for in the former employer's health plan.

(8) If an eligible dependent's continued participation in a health plan was permitted because of the person's relationship to a retired or disabled employee of the employer providing the health plan and the retired or disabled employee dies, then that eligible dependent shall be permitted to continue participation in the health plan for a period of not less than six months after the death of the retired or disabled employee.

(9) An employer may offer one or more health plans different from that provided for active employees and designed to meet the needs of persons requesting continued participation in the employer's health plan. These health plans for continued participation shall be provided at a rate, cost, or premium which does not exceed that provided for active employee health.
plans. An employer, in designing or offering continued participation in a health plan, may utilize terms or conditions necessary to administer such plans to the extent such terms and conditions do not conflict with this section.

(10) If an employer changes the underwriter of a health plan, the replaced underwriter has no further responsibility or obligation to persons who continued participation in a health plan of the replaced underwriter. However, the employer shall permit such persons to participate in any new health plan.

(11) The benefits granted pursuant to this section shall not be considered a matter of contractual right. Should the legislature revoke or change or a county, municipality, or other political subdivision of the state change any benefits granted under this section, an affected person shall not be entitled thereafter to receive the benefits as a matter of contractual right.

(12) Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to affect any health plan contained in a collective bargaining agreement in existence as of the effective date of this act. However, any plan contained in future collective bargaining agreements shall conform to the provisions of this section. In addition, nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to affect any health plan contract or policy in existence as of the effective date of this act, except any renewal of the contract or policy shall conform to the provisions of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Participation in the health plans provided under section 4 of this act shall take effect January 1, 1987, for all self-insured plans and for all plans renewed on or after September 1, 1986. Participation in health plans provided under section 4 of this act which are renewed after the effective date of this act but prior to September 1, 1986, shall take effect on the date the plan is next renewed, but in no case later than January 1, 1988.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Sections 4 and 5 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

1. The governing bodies of counties and cities may amend the codes enumerated in RCW 19.27.031 as they apply within their respective jurisdictions, but the amendments shall not result in a code that is less than the minimum performance standards and objectives contained in the state building code. No amendment to a code enumerated in RCW 19.27.031 that affects single family or multifamily residential buildings shall be effective unless the amendment is approved by the building code council under RCW 19.27.074(1)(b). Any county or city amendment to a code enumerated in RCW 19.27.031 which is approved under RCW 19.27.074(1)(b) shall continue to be effective after any action is taken under RCW 19.27.074(1)(a) without necessity of reapproval under RCW 19.27.074(1)(b) unless the amendment is declared null and void by the council at the time any action is taken under RCW 19.27.074(1)(a) because such action in any way altered the impact of the amendment.

2. Except as permitted or provided otherwise under this section, the state building code shall be applicable to all buildings and structures including those owned by the state or by any governmental subdivision or unit of local government.

3. 5. No provision of the uniform fire code concerning roadways shall be part of the state building code: PROVIDED, That this subsection shall not limit the authority of a county or city to adopt street, road, or access standards.

6. The provisions of the state building code are preempted by any physical standards adopted by the state jail commission under RCW 70.48.050 when the code provisions relating to the installation or use of sprinklers in the cells conflict with the standards and the secure and humane operation of jails.

Sec. 7. Section 3, chapter 76, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. as amended by section 2. chapter 144.

The state building code (advisory) council shall promulgate rules, pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, for the purpose of adopting a revised state code. The revised code shall be designed to achieve reductions in energy consumption relative to buildings constructed to comply with the state energy code. June 30, 1980 edition, as amended. The council shall follow the legislature's guidelines set forth in this section to design a revised code which requires new buildings to meet a certain level of energy efficiency, but allows flexibility in building design and construction within that framework. The revised code shall take into account regional climatic conditions and shall be designed according to the following guidelines:

(a) For new electric resistance heated residential buildings, the code shall be designed to achieve energy savings equivalent to savings achieved in typical buildings constructed with:

(i) Ceilings insulated to a level of R-38, except single rafter or joist vaulted ceilings may be insulated to a level of R-50 (R value includes insulation only);

(ii) Walls insulated to a level of R-19 (total assembly);

(iii) Floors over unheated spaces insulated to a level of R-19 for areas with six thousand or less annual heating degree days and to a level of R-25 for areas with more than six thousand annual heating degree days (R value includes insulation only);

(iv) Double glazed windows with tested R values not less than 1.79 when tested according to the procedures of the American architectural manufacturers association; and

(v) In areas with more than six thousand annual heating degree days a maximum of seventeen percent of the floor area in glazing; in areas with six thousand or less annual heating degree days a maximum of twenty-one percent of the floor area in glazing. Throughout the state for the purposes of determining equivalent thermal performance, the maximum glazing area shall be fifteen percent.

(b) For new residential buildings which are space-heated with other fuels, the code shall be designed to achieve energy savings equivalent to savings achieved in typical buildings constructed with:

(i) Ceilings insulated to a level of R-30 (R value includes insulation only);

(ii) Walls insulated to a level of R-19 (total assembly);

(iii) Floors over unheated spaces insulated to a level of R-19 (R value includes insulation only);

(iv) Double glazed windows with tested R values not less than 1.40 when tested according to the procedures of the American architectural manufacturers association; and

(v) In areas with more than six thousand annual heating degree days a maximum of seventeen percent of the floor area in glazing; in areas with six thousand or less annual heating degree days a maximum of twenty-one percent of the floor area in glazing. Throughout the state for the purposes of determining equivalent thermal performance, the maximum glazing area shall be fifteen percent.

(c) For new nonresidential buildings, the code shall be designed to achieve a ten percent reduction in energy consumption relative to buildings constructed to comply with the state energy code, June 30, 1980 edition, as amended.

(2) In developing the revised code, the council shall consider possible health and respiratory problems caused by insulating buildings so tightly that the rate of air exchange is significantly retarded, thereby concentrating toxic pollutants at unhealthy high levels.

(3) The council shall publish the revision as proposed rules pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW and provide for the rules to become effective January 1, 1986. All cities, towns, and counties shall enforce the revised state energy code not later than April 1, 1986.

Sec. 8. Section 5, chapter 144, Laws of 1985 and RCW 19.27A.050 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, references to the state building code ((advisory)) council shall be construed to include any successor agency.

ESB 4564 Prime Sponsor, Senator Vognild: Authorizing municipal corporations and political subdivisions to establish accident and tort liability funds.

Reported by Committee on Local Government

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. In addition to, in combination with, or in lieu of liability insurance, every municipality may create a tort liability fund upon which the treasurer shall draw warrants for the full amount of any settled claim or judgment, including interest and costs, against the municipality or its officers and employees on account of personal injuries, property damage, or death suffered by any person as a result of any tortious acts of the municipality. If such a fund is created, the fund, applicable insurance coverage, and reserves set aside to cover insurance deductibles, shall be the exclusive sources for the payment of settled claims or judgments resulting from tortious acts of said municipality, its officers and employees, or both, when acting within the scope of their authority.

For purposes of this section and sections 2 and 3 of this act, 'municipality' includes every county, city, town, school district, special purpose district, municipal corporation, and quasi-municipal corporation in the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A tort liability fund may be created as, or converted to, a cumulative reserve fund subject to the restrictions of a cumulative reserve fund created by a city or town under RCW 35.21.070.

A municipality that creates a tort liability fund under sections 1 through 3 of this act shall maintain an amount of money in the fund which, in combination with supplemental security for its tort liability, shall be equal to at least one million dollars. This supplemental security includes: (1) Letters of credit; (2) a pledge to issue councilmanic general obligation bonds, if the municipality possesses the authority to issue general obligation bonds, which pledge shall have the same effect on its indebtedness limitation as if the bonds were actually issued; (3) the amount of liability insurance coverage for the first million dollars of potential liability; (4) the amount of liability coverage under a self-insurance pool adopted pursuant to chapter 48.62 RCW for the first million dollars of potential liability; and (5) money placed into another fund to be used exclusively as coverage for deductibles on liability insurance coverage or self-insurance pool coverage.

However, the municipality may gradually accumulate this one million dollar amount in the fund or as supplemental security as follows: The initial amount when the fund is created shall be at least two hundred thousand dollars; at the beginning of the second year at least four hundred thousand dollars shall be accumulated; at the beginning of the third year at least six hundred thousand dollars shall be accumulated, at the beginning of the fourth year at least eight hundred thousand dollars shall be accumulated; and at the beginning of the fifth year at least one million dollars shall be accumulated.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. In the event a final judgment or settlement is presented for payment that exceeds applicable insurance coverage, reserves set aside to cover insurance deductibles, and money available in the tort liability fund, the municipality shall file with the superior court a financial report of tort liability fund as a part of the action in which the judgment has been rendered or settlement reached. The financial report shall recite all warrants issued or anticipated to be issued from the fund in the current fiscal year and the next succeeding fiscal year, including interest on the subject judgment or settlement. The filing of the financial report shall stay all further execution, collection, mandamus, or other proceedings on the judgment or settlement against the municipality or its officers’ and employees’ personal or community assets. Within thirty days from the filing of the treasurer’s report, the governing body of the municipality shall prepare a payment plan to satisfy the judgment or settlement, including interest thereon. The plan shall be filed with the superior court on or before the thirty-first day after the financial report is filed. The plan shall include:

(1) Financial background, such as:
   (a) Tort liability funding for the current fiscal year and the next fiscal year including the judgment or settlement, and interest thereon;
   (b) Budget appropriations and revenue levels for the current year and any anticipated changes in the next succeeding year;
   (c) Any general fund reserves;
   (d) Any general fund real and personal property that may be surplus to current needs;
   (e) Any unlevied revenue sources, such as utility taxes, business and occupation taxes, sales taxes, and real property taxes;
   (f) General obligation indebtedness;
   (g) Other bonded indebtedness; and
   (h) Other information related to the financial condition of the municipality; and
(2) A payment schedule for the judgment or settlement, and interest thereon, which may include periodic payments over a period not exceeding twenty years; and
(3) Such other information as will assist the court in issuing an order approving a payment plan as provided in this section.

Following filing of the payment plan, any party may move that the superior court enter an order approving the payment plan, or modifying and approving the payment plan, which order shall require that the municipality include the payment schedule approved in the plan in future appropriations to the liability fund. The order shall be entered upon a finding that the plan provides adequate compensation for the needs of the party in whose favor the judgment has been entered, taking into consideration other available resources to the party, while providing for the current and future financial integrity of the municipality and its ability to maintain public service levels during the payment period. Entry of the order shall bar further proceedings for collection on the judgment or settlement against either the municipality or its officers’ and employees’ personal or community assets: provided that either party may move to modify said order upon a showing of change of conditions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Sections 1 through 3 of this act are each added to chapter 4.96 RCW.

(1) 'Agency' means the state radiation control agency as defined in chapter 70.98 RCW.
(2) 'Carrier' means and includes common, private, and contract carriers.
(3) 'Person' means an individual, partnership, joint venture, private or public corporation, association, firm, public service company, political subdivision, municipal corporation, government agency, public utility district, or any other entity, public or private, however organized.
(4) 'Radioactive material' means any of the materials, including radioactive waste, defined and regulated as radioactive materials by federal department of transportation regulations as found in 49 C.F.R. Sec. 173.
(6) 'Secretary' means the secretary of the agency, as defined in subsection (1) of this section.
(7) 'Transportation' means the transport within the borders of the state of radioactive material destined for or derived from any location, and any loading, unloading, or storage incident to such transport, but does not include permanent storage or disposal of the material.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) No person may transport within the state of Washington any radioactive material designated by rule by the secretary, except radioactive material transported to or from hospitals or other medical facilities and materials not hazardous to health, without first obtaining a permit from the agency. The secretary shall consider the impact on human health from the transportation of radioactive materials and the type of packaging within which those materials are contained prior to designation by rule. The permit shall be available for examination and shall be displayed in accordance with rules adopted by the agency.

(2) Applications for a permit under this section shall be made in a form and manner prescribed by rule by the secretary. The application shall include:
(a) A description of the kind and, to the extent feasible, quantity and type of radioactivity of the material to be transported as well as the behavior and nature of the material under adverse circumstances;
(b) A description of the mode of transportation and, to the extent feasible, the route or routes to be taken and the schedule;
(c) A description of all violations, other than minor infractions, by the applicant of local, state, or federal regulations within the past year related to radioactive materials transportation;

(f) Any other information required by the secretary to evaluate the application.

(3) The secretary shall collect a fee on a quarterly or semiannual basis from all applicants for permits under this section in an amount determined by rule by the secretary. The fee set shall be in an amount sufficient to fund the activities specified in this subsection but in no event shall the amounts collected exceed what is necessary to fund those activities. Moneys collected from this fee may be used for the following:

(a) The costs of performing the duties of the agency under this chapter;

(b) The additional cost of state patrol enforcement of compliance for all carriers of radioactive materials designated by the secretary under this chapter and chapter 46.48 RCW and rules adopted pursuant thereto after the expenditure of funds distributed pursuant to RCW 70.98.085;

(c) The cost of the utilities and transportation commission enforcement for terminal inspections of radioactive materials designated by the secretary under this chapter and chapter 81.80 RCW and rules adopted pursuant thereto;

(d) Expenses incurred by the state and local governmental units in responding to any radioactive material transportation accidents; and

(e) Costs for the training of state and local officials, including fire fighters, police officers, and other emergency response personnel, to respond to radioactive materials transportation accidents. This training shall be provided to the extent possible at existing training centers in this state including the fire fighters training center in North Bend.

(4) The secretary shall issue a permit only if the application demonstrates that the proposed transportation complies with this chapter and all other applicable state and federal statutes and rules. The permit may be issued on a quarterly or semiannual basis.

Permits issued under this section may be subject to any reasonable conditions imposed by the secretary and shall be effective for such period as determined by the secretary.

(5) The secretary is authorized to suspend or revoke any permit if it is determined that any provision of the permit requirements have been violated or if the driver, owner, lessee, or custodian of a permitted vehicle has been convicted of two or more violations under section 13 of this act within a calendar year. If the secretary has reasonable cause to believe that there exists any immediate danger to the public health, safety, welfare, or environment, the secretary may issue an emergency order suspending any permit granted under this chapter for a reasonable period not to exceed fourteen days.

(6) All money collected under this section shall be deposited in the radioactive materials enforcement and emergency response fund in the state treasury. Moneys in the fund shall be spent pursuant to appropriation and only for the purposes enumerated in subsection (3) of this section.

(7) No moneys may be spent under this chapter for equipment purchases for local government.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) Interested state agencies and local government agencies in whose jurisdiction the route or routes of proposed shipments may be located may request from the secretary information contained in the permits about proposed shipments.

(2) The secretary may place reasonable conditions on the permit based on comments received from the agencies notified under subsection (1) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) The agency shall be the agency in the state primarily responsible for responding to all accidents and incidents involving radioactive materials. All actions taken by the agency shall be consistent with the comprehensive emergency management plan adopted by the department of emergency management.

(2) This section shall not be construed to amend or alter the responsibility of the Washington state patrol or other designated incident command agency to provide immediate response to accidents or incidents involving the transportation of radioactive materials pursuant to chapter 70.136 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) A person obtaining a permit under section 2 of this act shall establish and maintain records, make any reports, and provide any information as the secretary may by rule require to assure compliance with the conditions of the permit or other state or federal statutes or rules affecting the transportation of radioactive materials designated by rule by the secretary and submit the reports and make the records and information available at the request of the secretary or the secretary's designee.

(2) The secretary may authorize any employee or agent of the secretary to enter upon, inspect, and examine, at reasonable times and in a reasonable manner for the purpose of administration or enforcement of this chapter and the rules adopted thereunder, the records and property of persons within this state who have applied for permits under section 2 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. All motor carriers of radioactive waste entering the state are required to enter the state through one of only two allowable ports of entry. These ports of entry are located on Interstate 90 approximately one-half mile west of the Idaho state line, in Spokane county, and on Washington state route number 14 approximately one mile north of the Oregon state line, in Benton county. The state patrol may, on application, authorize the use of other ports of entry under such circumstances as it deems fit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Within the state of Washington, all motor carriers of radioactive materials designated by the secretary shall submit to a comprehensive safety and permit inspection. The inspection shall ensure compliance with this chapter and all applicable state and federal statutes and regulations. The inspection shall occur no earlier than twenty-four hours before transport for radioactive materials originating within the state or at the ports of entry designated under section 6 of this act for radioactive materials originating from outside the state. No interstate or intrastate motor carrier of radioactive waste may enter the commercial low-level Hanford radioactive waste disposal site without displaying a certification of inspection. The chief of the Washington state patrol shall prepare and furnish such certificate of inspection forms and any other forms deemed necessary to assure compliance. The comprehensive safety and permit inspection shall be conducted by members of the Washington state patrol for highway inspections or the Washington utilities and transportation commission for terminal inspections.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Officers of the Washington state patrol have the authority to immobilize, impound, or otherwise direct the disposition of motor vehicles transporting radioactive materials if the officer determines that the motor vehicle or the operation thereof is unsafe and if the immobilization, impoundment, or disposition is otherwise appropriate under rules adopted by the state patrol.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The state patrol shall adopt rules to establish reasonable standards for the designation, operation, and use of areas for the parking of motor vehicles transporting radioactive materials. This requirement shall not prevent the state patrol from designating a 'safe haven' area due to exigent circumstances. The designation of these areas shall be made with the concurrence of the local fire department or the fire protection district in which the proposed safe haven is located. If there is no local fire department or fire protection district, the designation shall be made with the concurrence of the county sheriff.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The secretary, the attorney general, or any appropriate prosecuting attorney may commence and prosecute in superior court a civil enforcement action against a person who is alleged to have violated this chapter or any permit, standard, regulation, condition, or requirement which has become effective pursuant to this chapter. Such actions may be for appropriate relief or remedies specified in this chapter or any other applicable law. The secretary is not required to initiate or prosecute an administrative action before commencing and prosecuting a civil action.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The secretary, the attorney general, or any appropriate prosecuting attorney, for the purposes contemplated by this chapter, upon probable cause to believe that a violation of this chapter has occurred, may apply to the superior court for the county in which the violation is believed to have occurred for a subpoena to compel the attendance of witnesses and to compel the production of pertinent books, payrolls, accounts, papers, records, documents, and testimony. The court shall issue a subpoena upon a finding of probable cause and shall enforce refusal to testify or to produce subpoenaed items with contempt sanctions. Subpoenas shall be served and witness fees and mileage paid as allowed in civil cases in the superior courts of this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The remedies specified in this section are cumulative and nonexclusive.

(a) A person who makes a false statement or representation in any application, label, manifest, record, report, permit, or other document filed, maintained, or used for the purpose of complying with this chapter is liable for a civil penalty not less than three hundred dollars, nor to exceed ten thousand dollars, for each separate violation.

(b) A person who violates this chapter or any permit, standard, rule, condition, or requirement issued or promulgated pursuant to this chapter is liable for a civil penalty not less than three hundred dollars, not to exceed ten thousand dollars, for each separate violation.

(c) A person who violates this chapter or any permit, standard, rule, condition, or requirement issued or promulgated pursuant to this chapter may be assessed for:

The state's costs for any nonroutine investigations, inspections, monitoring, or surveys that lead to evidence of the violation;

The state's costs, including the reasonable value of attorneys' services, for preparing and litigating the case; and

The state's cost for impounding, storing, and disposing of contaminated property.

Moneys recovered under subsection (1) of this section shall be paid into the radioactive materials enforcement and emergency response fund created under section 2 of this act.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) A person who knowingly makes a false statement or representation in a permit application under section 2 of this act is guilty of a gross misdemeanor and is subject to a fine of not more than five thousand dollars or imprisonment not to exceed one year, or both, for each violation.

(2) A person who knowingly violates any permit issued under section 2 of this act is guilty of a gross misdemeanor and is subject to a fine of not more than five thousand dollars or imprisonment not to exceed one year, or both, for each violation.

(4) A person convicted of a second offense under this chapter within a period of five years is guilty of a class C felony punishable under chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(5) A criminal action under this section may be commenced and prosecuted by the attorney general or any appropriate prosecuting attorney. The secretary is not required to initiate or prosecute an administrative or civil action before the attorney general may commence and prosecute a criminal action under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, a person who has suffered actual damages from an alleged violation of a permit, standard, rule, condition, requirement, or order that has become effective pursuant to this chapter, may commence a civil action on that person's own behalf against the person alleged to have committed the violation.

(2) No action may be commenced under subsection (1) of this section if the secretary, the attorney general, or a prosecuting attorney has commenced and is diligently prosecuting an administrative, civil, or criminal action to require compliance with the law. Further, no action may be commenced under subsection (1) of this section unless the plaintiff has given the agency sixty days' notice and substantial evidence of the violation on which the citizen's action is based. However, if the secretary, the attorney general, or a prosecuting attorney commences an action in a court of the state, an interested person may intervene as provided in the superior court civil rules of procedure.

(3) In an action under this section, the secretary, the attorney general, or a prosecuting attorney may intervene as a matter of right.

(4) When issuing any final order in an action brought under this section, the court may award costs of litigation, including reasonable attorney and expert witness fees, to a prevailing party if the court determines such an award is appropriate, except that the state shall not be required to pay such costs in a citizen suit in which the state has become a party.

(5) This section does not restrict any right which a person or class of persons may have under any other statute or the common law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The secretary shall prepare and submit to the energy and utilities committees of the legislature and the governor on January 1 of each year a comprehensive report on the transportation of radioactive materials in this state and provide an evaluation of the adequacy of the agency's and local government's emergency response capability to any accidents involving radioactive materials. The report shall include but need not be limited to:

(1) A brief description and compilation of any accidents and casualties or incidents in the state involving the transportation of radioactive waste or other radioactive materials as designated by the secretary;

(2) Other statistical data regarding the shipment of radioactive materials, including a summary of the permit system instituted by the secretary and the use of moneys collected from the permit;

(3) A description of costs of the personnel required to administer the provisions of this chapter and the relationship of the fees generated by application of the provisions of this chapter to these costs;

(4) A personnel plan for reducing the costs of the personnel required to administer the provisions of this chapter if there is a reduction in the fees generated;

(5) A summary of outstanding problems confronting the agency in the administration of this chapter; and

(6) Such recommendations for additional legislation as the secretary considers necessary or appropriate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. The secretary may establish a committee of state and local officials and interested citizens to advise the secretary on issues relating to the transportation of radioactive materials.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. All requirements imposed by this chapter must be consistent with all applicable federal statutes, the rules of the federal department of transportation and the nuclear regulatory commission, and any other applicable rules promulgated by a federal agency or department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to amend or alter the liability of transporters of radioactive materials for operational expenses and emergency purchases incurred by state or local governments in responding to nuclear incidents as provided in state law, including the provisions of RCW 4.24.460.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. This chapter is not intended to affect any state law in effect on the effective date of this act or intrude upon the duties and responsibilities of any state officer with respect to matters related to this chapter, but in the case of any conflict relating to the transportation of radioactive materials, this chapter shall control.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. The secretary shall seek federal financial assistance for activities undertaken pursuant to this chapter as may be available under federal law, including the hazardous materials transportation act of 1974 (P.L. 93-633) and the nuclear waste policy act of

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. If any provision of this chapter or its application to any person or

(1) It is unlawful for any person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other entity to engage in, conduct, or carry on the business of installing or maintaining wires or equipment to convey electric current, or installing or maintaining equipment to be operated by electric current as it pertains to the electrical industry, without having an unrevoked, unsuspended, and unexpired electrical contractor license, issued by the department in accordance with this chapter. All electrical contractor licenses expire on the thirty-first day of December following the day of their issue. Application for an electrical contractor license shall be made in writing to the department, accompanied by the required fee. The application shall state the name and address of the applicant; in case of firms or partnerships, the names of the individuals composing the firm or partnership; in case of corporations, the names of the managing officials thereof; the location of the place of business of the applicant and the name under which the business is conducted; and whether a general or specialty electrical contractor license is sought and, if the latter, the type of specialty. Electrical contractor specialties include, but are not limited to: Residential, domestic appliances, pump and irrigation, limited energy system, signs, and nonresidential maintenance. A general electrical contractor license shall grant to the holder the right to engage in, conduct, or carry on the business of installing or maintaining wires or equipment to carry electrical current, and installing or maintaining material to fasten or insulate such wires or equipment to be operated by electric current, in the state of Washington. A specialty electrical contractor license shall grant to the holder a limited right to engage in, conduct, or carry on the business of installing or maintaining wires or equipment to carry electrical current, and installing or maintaining equipment; or installing or maintaining material to fasten or insulate such wires or equipment to be operated by electric current in the state of Washington as expressly allowed by the license.

(2) The application for a contractor license shall be accompanied by a bond in the sum of three thousand dollars with the state of Washington named as obligee in the bond, with good and sufficient surety, to be approved by the department. The bond shall at all times be kept in full force and effect, and any cancellation or revocation thereof, or withdrawal of the surety therefrom, suspends the license issued to the principal until a new bond has been filed and approved as provided in this section. Upon approval of a bond, the department shall on the next business day deposit the fee accompanying the application in the electrical license fund and shall file the bond in the office. The department shall upon request furnish to any person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other entity a certified copy of the bond upon the payment of a fee that the department shall set by rule. The fee shall cover but not exceed the cost of furnishing the certified copy. The bond shall be conditioned that in any installation or maintenance of wires or equipment to convey electrical current, and equipment to be operated by electrical current, the principal will comply with the provisions of this chapter and with any applicable electrical ordinance, building code, or regulation of a city or town adopted pursuant to RCW 19.28.010(2) that is in effect at the time of entering into a contract. The bond shall be conditioned further that the principal will pay for all labor, including employee benefits, and material furnished or used upon the work, taxes and contributions to the state of Washington, and all damages that may be sustained by any person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other entity due to a failure of the principal to make the installation or maintenance in accordance with this chapter or any applicable ordinance, building code, or regulation of a city or town adopted pursuant to RCW 19.28.010(2). In lieu of the surety bond required by this section, the license applicant may file with the department a cash deposit or other negotiable security acceptable to the department. If the license applicant has filed a cash deposit, the department shall deposit the funds in a special trust savings account in a commercial bank, mutual savings bank, or savings and loan association and shall pay annually to the depositor the interest derived from the account.

(3) The department shall issue general or specialty electrical contractor licenses to applicants meeting all of the requirements of this chapter. The provisions of this chapter relating to the licensing of any person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other entity including the requirement of a bond with the state of Washington named as obligee therein and the collection of a fee therefor, are exclusive, and no political subdivision of the state of Washington may require or issue any licenses or bonds or charge any fee for the same or a similar purpose. It is unlawful to use metal studs imbedded within the tire between April 1st and November 1st. The state department of transportation may, from time to time, determine additional periods in which the use of tires with metal studs imbedded therein is lawful.

(3) The state department of transportation and local authorities in their respective jurisdictions may issue special permits authorizing the operation upon a highway of traction engines or tractors having movable tracks with transverse corrugations upon the periphery of the movable tracks or farm tractors or other farm machinery, the operation of which upon a highway would otherwise be prohibited under this section.

(4) Tires with metal studs imbedded therein may be used between November 1st and April 1st upon school buses and fire department vehicles, any law or regulation to the contrary notwithstanding.

The state ((commission on equipment)) patrol shall promulgate rules and regulations setting forth requirements of safe operating condition of tires capable of being employed by a law enforcement officer by visual inspection of tires mounted on vehicles including visual comparison with simple measuring gauges. These rules shall include effects of tread wear and depth of tread.

A tire shall be considered unsafe if it has:

1. Any ply or cord exposed either to the naked eye or when cuts or abrasions on the tire are probed; or
2. Any bump, bulge, or knot, affecting the tire structure; or
3. Any break repaired with a boot; or
4. A tread depth of less than 2/32 of an inch measured in any two major tread grooves at three locations equally spaced around the circumference of the tire, or for those tires with tread wear indicators, a tire shall be considered unsafe if it is worn to the point that the tread wear indicators contact the road in any two major tread grooves at three locations equally spaced around the circumference of the tire; or
5. A legend which indicates the tire is not intended for use on public highways such as, 'not for highway use' or 'for racing purposes only'; or
6. Such condition as may be reasonably demonstrated to render it unsafe; or
7. If not matched in tire size designation, construction, and profile to the other tire and/or tires on the same axle.

No person, firm, or corporation shall sell any vehicle for use on the public highways of this state unless the vehicle is equipped with tires that are in compliance with the provisions of this section. If the tires are found to be in violation of the provisions of this section, the person, firm, or corporation selling the vehicle shall cause such tires to be removed from the vehicle and shall equip the vehicle with tires that are in compliance with the provisions of this section.

It is a traffic infraction for any person to operate a vehicle on the public highways of this state, or to sell a vehicle for use on the public highways of this state, which is equipped with a tire or tires in violation of the provisions of this section or the rules and regulations promulgated by the state ((commission on equipment)) patrol hereunder: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That if the violation relates to items (1) to (7) inclusive of this section then the condition or defect must be such that it can be detected by a visual inspection of tires mounted on vehicles, including visual comparison with simple measuring gauges.

SSB 4590 Prime Sponsor. Committee on Governmental Operations: Revising provisions relating to local government investments. Reported by Committee on Ways & Means MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments and without Committee on Local Government amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The purpose of this chapter is to enable political subdivisions to participate with the state in providing maximum opportunities for the investment of surplus public funds consistent with the safety and protection of such funds. The legislature finds and declares that the public interest is found in providing maximum prudent investment of surplus funds, thereby reducing the need for additional taxation. The legislature also recognizes that not all political subdivisions are able to maximize the return on their temporary surplus funds. The legislature therefore provides in this chapter a mechanism whereby political subdivisions may, at their option, utilize the resources of the state treasurer's office to maximize the potential of surplus funds while ensuring the safety of public funds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section shall apply throughout this chapter."
NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. Local governments may not invest in repurchase agreements, nor have their money invested in repurchase agreements, unless the local government or its agent takes possession of the securities to be repurchased, or a third party holds the securities in trust for the local government.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. 'Local government official' means any officer or employee of a political subdivision who has been designated by statute or by local charter, ordinance, or resolution as the officer having the authority to invest the funds of the political subdivision. However, the county treasurer shall be deemed the only local government official for all political subdivisions for which the county treasurer has exclusive statutory authority to invest the funds thereof.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. 'Funds' means public funds under the control of or in the custody of any local government official by virtue of the official's authority that are not immediately required to meet current demands.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. There is created a trust fund in the state treasury to be known as the public funds investment account. All moneys remitted by local government officials under this chapter shall be deposited in this account. The earnings on any balances in the public funds investment account shall be credited to the public funds investment account, notwithstanding RCW 43.84.090.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. If authorized by local ordinance or resolution, a local government official may place funds into the public funds investment account for investment and reinvestment by the state treasurer in those securities and investments set forth in RCW 43.84.080 and chapter 39.58 RCW. The state treasurer shall invest the funds in such manner as to effectively maximize the yield to the investment pool. In investing and reinvesting moneys in the public funds investment account and in acquiring, retaining, managing, and disposing of investments of the investment pool, there shall be exercised the judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing which persons of prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of the funds considering the probable income as well as the probable safety of the capital.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The state treasurer's office is authorized to employ such personnel as are necessary to administer the public funds investment account. The bond of the state treasurer as required by law shall be made to include the faithful performance of all functions relating to the investment pool.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The state treasurer shall by rule prescribe the time periods for investments in the investment pool and the procedure for withdrawal of funds from the investment pool. The state treasurer shall prorate such other rules as are deemed necessary for the efficient operation of the investment pool. The rules shall also provide for the administrative expenses of the investment pool, including repayment of the initial administrative costs financed out of the appropriation included in this act, to be paid from the pool's earnings and for the interest earnings in excess of the expenses to be credited or paid to the political subdivisions participating in the pool. The state treasurer may deduct the amounts necessary to reimburse the treasurer's office for the actual expenses the office incurs and to repay any funds appropriated and expended for the initial administrative costs of the pool. Any credits or payments to political subdivisions shall be calculated and made in a manner which equitably reflects the differing amounts of the political subdivisions' respective deposits in the investment pool fund and the differing periods of time for which the amounts were placed in the investment pool: PROVIDED. That the appropriated start-up costs of the pool must be repaid by June 30,1989.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The state treasurer shall keep a separate account for each political subdivision having funds in the investment pool. Each separate account shall record the individual amounts deposited in the investment pool, the date of withdrawals, and the earnings credited or paid to the political subdivision. The ((director of financial)) risk management office shall report on request to the legisla­ture on the status of the tort claims revolving fund, all payments made therefrom, all reim­bursements made therefrom, and the identity of agencies and departments of state government whose operations and activities give rise to liability((including those agencies and departments over which he does not have authority to revise allotments under chapter 43.86 RCW)).

The ((director of financial)) risk management office shall adopt rules ((and regulations)) governing the procedures to be followed in making payment from the tort claims revolving fund((c)). The office of financial management shall adopt rules governing the procedures to be (Claims shall conform to the tort claim filing requirements in RCW 4.92.100 as now or hereafter amended:) The (director of financial) risk management office shall recommend to the legislature whether the claim should be approved. If the legislature approves the claim, the department shall pay it from moneys appropriated for that purpose.

(2) If a claim for damages under RCW 77.12.270 has been refused or has not been settled and paid by the commission within one hundred twenty days of the filing of the claim, either the claimant or the commission may serve upon the other personally or by registered mail a notice of intent to arbitrate. ((c))) (g) Increments granted by school districts to certificated staff shall constitute salary increase in the year in which the increments are given by a district to the extent only that the aggregate of increments granted by a district exceeds the amount of the district's increments calculated using the formula adopted by the superintendent of public instruction for the classified increment mix factor.

(g) Districts may elect an alternate measure of salary compliance for classified staff by comparing base salaries of 1986-87 staff to the imputed base that was or would have been paid the same staff in the same positions during 1985-86 if the districts electing this alternative certify by board resolution that any amount in excess of state-funded salary levels in each year henceforward is solely a district obligation created through local district personnel policies and salary schedule placements, and that the effect shall neither incur nor imply any current or future funding obligation by the state.

(3)(a) A maximum of $450,000 of the appropriation in this section is provided to fund the conversion from LEAP Document 7 to revised LEAP Document 7, effective September 1, 1986. The superintendent of public instruction shall distribute these moneys to fund increases in salary costs and incremental fringe benefits resulting from using revised LEAP Document 7 to calculate allocations for certificated and classified staff units as in section 501 of this 1986 act.

(5) Whenever used in a reasonable and moderate manner by a parent or his authorized agent, a guardian, master, or teacher in the exercise of lawful authority, to restrain or correct his child, ward, apprentice, or scholar;

(6) Whenever used by a carrier of passengers or the carrier's authorized agent or servant, or other person assisting them at their request in expelling from a carriage, railway car, vessel, or other vehicle, a passenger who refuses to obey a lawful and reasonable regulation prescribed for the conduct of passengers, if such vehicle has first been stopped and the force used is not more than is necessary to expel the offender with reasonable regard to the offender's personal safety;

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Tilly: "Representative Braddock, the other night in Ways & Means Committee, we had a similar amendment that was passed. I'm confused. What's the difference between what we did then and this massive change?"

Mr. Braddock: "There are two differences. One is that we found in research that the cuts changing from the 15% cut to the 20% cut on the judicial information system (a 20% cut was in our proposal) that that money was put into crime victims and criminal justice training. What this amendment does is decrease the amount of that. We won't take it all out of the judicial information system. We do not take such a drastic cut, plus the amendment addresses the possibility of a bill passing. The bill has passed out of the Senate which would provide additional money into the system through a surcharge on traffic fines. If that bill makes it through this house—that's House Bill 1869 as amended by the Senate—then the public safety and education appropriation will revert."

Mr. Tilly: "If the bill doesn't pass, then were will that shortage be made up, Representative Braddock?"

Mr. Braddock: "The shortage will be made up in a similar fashion but not as drastic a cut as in the judicial information system."

Mr. Tilly spoke against the amendments, and Mr. Braddock spoke again in favor of them.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Addison yielded to question by Mr. Smitherman.

Mr. Smitherman: "Representative Addison, on the way you have put this program together, I was just wondering, is this a voluntary or mandatory program?"

Mr. Addison: "The RCW has the various rules and guidelines that are applied and I would remind you of what I said before: That for a member of a household who is between the ages of 18 and 60 years old, who is not a parent of a child under 6, and various other requirements—in other words, if they are taking care of someone who is incapacitated—this is a mandatory program they are asked to participate in. It's the mandatory part of the program that has made it so successful. It's the mandatory part of the program that has, for instance in the food stamp program, mainly been directed at males who are 25 years of age and older. In those situations we find that a third of them drop out of the program when they are asked to work in the program."

Mr. Smitherman: "In terms of job skills, do these jobs that the people are undertaking provide them with real skills so that they can continue on to make good living wages? I heard talk about community services, and that's laudable, but on the other hand, are they being provided with the real skills that will enable them to carry on in a real job in the future?"

Mr. Addison: "That's a good question and I think the answer is yes. We have asked the department not to provide simply make-work time, but jobs and, in fact, one of the real successes was the gentleman in the Moses Lake CSO who was working for the sheriff's department over there and has done an outstanding job for them. They have asked him if he would like to go to school to become a deputy sheriff. He is now training and will become a deputy sheriff in Moses Lake.

> (1) For the purposes of section 503 of this act and this section, the following conditions and limitations apply:

> (a) 'LEAP Document 7' means the computer tabulation of 1984-85 derived base salaries for basic education certified staff and 1984-85 average salaries for basic education classified staff, as developed by the legislative evaluation and accountability program committee on April 11, 1985.

> (b) Revised LEAP Document 7 means the computer tabulation of certificated and classified derived base salaries as developed by the legislative evaluation and accountability program committee on February 27, 1986.
(c) For the purposes of the appropriation in section 501 of this 1986 act, each district's average basic education certificated salary allocation shall be the district's certificated derived base salary shown on LEAP Document 7, multiplied by the district's prior year staff mix factor calculated using LEAP Document 1.

((c)(d)) (d) For the purposes of the appropriation in section 501 of this 1986 act, each district's average basic education classified salary allocation for both the 1985-86 and 1986-87 school years shall be the district's classified derived base salary multiplied by the district's prior year classified increment mix factor, as specified in this section. For the 1985-86 school year, the classified derived base salary for each district shall be the average classified salary specified for each district in LEAP Document 7 divided by the 1984-85 classified increment mix factor for each district calculated according to the formula used by the superintendent of public instruction in the 1984-85 school year. By December 1, 1985, the superintendent of public instruction shall provide to the legislative evaluation and accountability program committee the appropriate data with which to modify LEAP Document 7 to reflect the classified derived base salary for use in the 1986-87 school year.

(ii) The district's actual 1985-86 classified derived base salary, without such adjustments.

A district may elect this option only if its board of directors has certified by resolution that any resulting difference between actual and state-funded salary levels in each year hereafter is solely a district obligation, and that the effect shall neither incur nor imply any current or future funding obligation by the state.

(3)(a) A maximum of $650,000 of the appropriation in this section is provided to fund the conversion from LEAP Document 7 to revised LEAP Document 7, effective September 1, 1986. NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 28A.03 RCW to read as follows:

Sections 2 through 8 of this act may be known and cited as the Washington award for excellence in education program act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 28A.03 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The superintendent of public instruction shall establish an annual award program for excellence in education to recognize teachers, principals, school district superintendents, and school boards for their leadership, contributions, and commitment to education. The program shall recognize annually:

(a) Three teachers from each congressional district of the state. One individual must be an elementary level teacher, one must be a junior high or middle school level teacher, and one must be a secondary level teacher:
(b) Three principals from each congressional district of the state. One individual must be an elementary building principal, one must be a junior high or middle school building principal, and one must be a secondary building principal;

c) One school district superintendent from the state; and

d) One school district board of directors from the state.

Not more than three teachers and three principals from each congressional district and one superintendent and one school board from the state may be recognized and receive awards in any school year.

(2) The awards for teachers and principals shall include certificates presented by the governor and the superintendent of public instruction at a public ceremony or ceremonies in appropriate locations.

(3) In addition to certificates under subsection (2) of this section, awards for teachers and principals shall include:

(a) A waiver of tuition and fees under section 6 of this act and a stipend not to exceed one thousand dollars to cover costs incurred in taking courses for which the tuition and fees have been waived under this subsection and section 6 of this act. The stipend shall not be considered compensation for the purposes of RCW 28A.58.095; or

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The award for teachers under the Washington award for excellence in education program shall be named the 'Christa McAuliffe Award. in honor and memory of Sharon Christa Corrigan McAuliffe.' As the first teacher and private citizen selected nationally to voyage into space, Christa McAuliffe exemplified what is exciting and positive about the teaching profession. Her contributions within the scope of the nation's education system helped to show that education can and should be a vital and dynamic experience for all participants. Christa McAuliffe's chosen profession encompasses learning by discovery and her desire to make new discoveries was reflected by her participation in the nation's space program.

The selection of Christa McAuliffe as the first teacher in space was directly linked to Washington state in that superintendent of public instruction Dr. Frank Brouillet both appointed and served as a member of the national panel which selected Christa McAuliffe.

The tragic loss of the life of Christa McAuliffe on the flight of the space shuttle Challenger on January 28, 1986, will be remembered through the legacy she gave to her family, friends, relatives, students, colleagues, the education profession, and the nation: a model example of striving toward excellence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The awards for the superintendent and school board shall include:

(1) Certificates presented by the governor and the superintendent of public instruction at a public ceremony or ceremonies in appropriate locations;

(2) A grant to the superintendent not to exceed one thousand dollars, which grant shall be awarded under the provisions of section 8 of this act; and

(3) A grant to the school board not to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars, which grant shall be awarded under section 8 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 28A.03 RCW to read as follows:

These rules shall include establishing the selection criteria for the Washington award for excellence in education program. The superintendent of public instruction is encouraged to consult with teachers, principals, superintendents, and school board members in developing the selection criteria. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 2(1) (a) and (b) of this act, such rules may allow for the selection of individuals whose teaching or administrative duties, or both, may encompass multiple grade level or building assignments, or both.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 28B.15 RCW to read as follows:

In order to help meet the rapidly growing need for child care and in order to utilize all available resources, it is the policy of the state of Washington to permit the use of public school facilities for the provision of child care. Child care programs provided under this chapter at the discretion of school districts are optional programs which do not fall within the state's educational duties established by Article IX of the state Constitution.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definition in this section applies throughout this chapter.

'Child care program' means the nonresidential care and supervision of minors before, during, and after school hours, and during nonschool days and may include planned educational activities with an emphasis upon developmental skills. However, such program shall not include the care and supervision, during school hours, of students enrolled in the common school program.

School districts establishing a child care program after the effective date of this act shall conduct a study designed to assess the need for and the availability of both public and private child care services within the school district's jurisdiction before establishing a child care program. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as requiring school districts to provide day care services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. For the child care program under section 3 of this act, the board of directors of a school district may:

(1) Fix reasonable charges for the maintenance and operation of child care programs and may fix the charges either at a uniform rate or at a variable rate based on the ability of the parents of the children enrolled in the programs to pay the charges;

(2) Contract with private entities or public agencies under chapter 39.34 RCW or with both and employ necessary personnel for all or part of the management and operation of child care programs. When a school district board of directors chooses to contract with other private or public agencies pursuant to this section, the child care programs so established shall be located at such points as the board of directors deems suitable for the convenience of the public;

(3) Remodel, renovate, otherwise improve, and maintain surplus school facilities for the purposes of child care programs and no state school construction funds may be used for the construction of child care facilities;

(4) Transport minors enrolled in child care programs to and from program sites using district-owned transportation vehicles or may contract for transportation services, or both and charge a fee in an amount sufficient to reimburse the district for the actual per seat cost of providing such transportation;

(5) Supplement fee revenues, gifts and grants with taxes levied pursuant to RCW 84.52.053 through 84.52.054 to the extent approved by the electorate of the school district and necessary to meet the full direct and indirect costs of child care programs;
(6) May receive such gifts, grants, and endowments from public or private sources as may be made from time to time, in trust or otherwise, for the use and benefit of the purposes of the child care programs and expend the same or any income therefrom according to the terms of the gifts, grants, or endowments: and

(7) Otherwise perform and provide for such other functions and activities as are necessary and incidental to the maintenance and operation of safe, healthful, efficient, and prudently managed child care and preschool programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Child care programs provided for by school districts under this chapter shall comply with personnel, facility, program, health, and safety requirements established by the department of social and health services under chapter 74.15 RCW and the rules adopted under chapter 74.15 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Child care programs authorized in sections 1 through 5 of this act shall not be considered part of basic education.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. This chapter may be known and cited as the Washington partnership for innovation act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The legislature finds that the diversification of the state's economic base and the reduction of unemployment is one of its highest priorities. The state economy is highly susceptible to fluctuations in the United States economy and is experiencing its highest rates of unemployment since the great depression. One of the key avenues to diversify the economy is to assist in the development of businesses and the generation of new products which can be traded outside of the state's borders. Entrepreneurs represent a valuable state resource which, if provided capital and technical assistance, can contribute to long-term job generation. The private sector has substantial expertise to identify emerging companies and potential marketable products. The state finds it a public purpose to work as a partner with private investors to locate and provide financial assistance to worthy entrepreneurs for early state development of new products and companies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. As used in this chapter, the following terms have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) 'Department' means the department of revenue.

(2) 'Enterprise' means a small business that is primarily located and operated in Washington and that is or proposes to be engaged in this state in research and development.
in commercial product development, or in manufacturing, technology, or the production of goods and services with high potential for expansion and trade outside the state's borders.

(3) 'Professional investor' means any person, partnership, corporation, licensee under the federal small business investment act of 1958 (15 U.S.C. Sec. 661 et seq.), or other entity whose resources are primarily dedicated to investing in product development, managing venture capital funds, and the development of new successful companies and whose net worth exceeds five hundred thousand dollars.

(4) 'Qualified security' means any note, stock, treasury stock bond, debenture, evidence of indebtedness, certificate of interest or participation in any profit-sharing agreement, preorganization certificate or subscription, transferable share, investment contact, certificate of deposit for a security, certificate of interest or participation in a patent or application therefor, or in royalty or other payments under such a patent or application, or, in general, any interest in instrument commonly known as a 'security' or any certificate for, receipt for, guarantee of, or option, warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase any of the foregoing.

(5) 'Seed capital' means financing that is provided for the initial development, refinement, testing, marketing, and commercialization of a product, service, or process to an enterprise with a high potential for long-term commercial sales and that is provided before any substantial commercial sales have been made by the enterprise of the product or service being developed.

(6) 'Small business' means any business that has fewer than fifty full-time employees or its equivalent.

(7) 'Venture capital' means risk money invested in companies with a clear potential for growth in sales.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. This chapter shall serve as a resource to worthy entrepreneurs to provide needed seed capital in the early development stages of a product or service. The primary emphasis of this chapter, is to generate new, successful commercial products in cases where capital is currently not adequately available. It is the intent of this chapter to provide companies with a source of seed capital which shall be invested for a minimum of five years. This chapter shall encourage the investment in companies and innovators in all of the geographic regions in the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 48.14 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Subject to the limitations provided in this section, a tax credit is allowed against any taxes imposed upon any insurer under RCW 48.14.020(1) and (2) equal to the amount that is invested by the insurer in a professional investor and that is used as seed capital in accordance with chapter 84.-- RCW (sections 11 through 14 and 16 through 21 of this act).

(2) The maximum amount of tax credit for taxes owed under RCW 48.14.020(1) and (2) is the difference between the amount of tax owed by the insurer under RCW 48.14.020(1) and (2), including any amount that may be credited pursuant to this section, and the amount of tax that would be owed by the insurer under RCW 48.14.020(1) and (2), including any amount that may be credited pursuant to this section, if the tax rate under that section were one and nine-tenths of the taxable amount: PROVIDED, That any insurer which is subject to the provisions of RCW 48.14.040 shall be allowed a tax credit under this section in an amount not to exceed the difference between the amount of tax paid without a tax credit pursuant to this section and the amount of tax that would be paid if the tax rate paid by the insurer were reduced by fifteen one-hundredths percent.

(3) To receive a tax credit under this section, the insurer and the professional investor shall jointly submit an application to the department of revenue as provided in section 6 of this act. The department of revenue shall grant the credit when the investment is made if it determines that the application meets the requirements of section 6 of this act. The department of revenue shall not base its decision to grant or deny an application on the worth of the investment. The department of revenue shall give notice of action on the tax credit application to the insurer and the insurance commissioner within thirty days from receipt of an application.

(4) Tax credits approved under subsection (3) of this section may be used by the insurer under RCW 48.14.020(1) and (2) after the date of the investment upon which the credit is based. All of the credit shall be used within three years of the date of the investment, provided that the investment made under this section is still invested in the enterprise.

(5) This section shall expire January 1, 1992.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. An application for a tax credit pursuant to section 5 of this act shall be filed with the department by the insurer and the professional investor. The application shall include the following information:

(3) A statement that the investment in any one enterprise does not exceed two hundred thousand dollars during any one year;
(4) A statement that the enterprise, through its course of development, has no access to adequate seed capital by virtue of the early stage of the product, service, or process development and is in need of seed capital to improve the commercial value of the product:

(5) A statement that the enterprise has not generated more than one million dollars in gross commercial sales in the current calendar year or previous calendar years from the product or service in which an investment is sought, excluding sales from prototypes or market testing:

(6) A statement that the investment in the enterprise is for a Washington company:

(7) A statement that the investment will not result in the professional investor acquiring a controlling interest in the enterprise, except upon the occurrence of insolvency, bankruptcy, or dissolution of the enterprise.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. The department shall report annually to the governor and legislature on tax credits and seed capital investments made under this chapter including but not limited to the amount of investments made, the amount of tax credits granted, types of products invested in, and the locations of the enterprises.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. Decisions on investments in qualified securities shall at all times be within the sole discretion of the professional investor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. No credit may be granted for investments made after December 31, 1988.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. The department shall adopt rules to implement this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. This chapter shall expire January 1, 1992.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 36.32 RCW to read as follows:
The legislative authority of any noncharter county with a population greater than three hundred thousand may, by resolution of the county commissioners, be increased to five members, each member to be nominated at a primary election solely by the qualified electors of their legislative authority districts. Three members of the five-member county legislative authority shall constitute a quorum to do business.

After the approval of such a resolution, the county shall, as provided in this section, be divided into five legislative authority districts, so that each district shall comprise as nearly as possible one-fifth of the population of the county. No two members of the existing county legislative authority may, at the time of the designation of such districts, permanently reside in one of the five districts. The division of the county into five districts shall be accomplished as follows:

1. The county legislative authority shall, within ninety days of the adoption of the resolution creating the five-member legislative authority, adopt a resolution creating the districts.

2. If the county legislative authority has failed to create the districts within the ninety-day period, the prosecuting attorney of the county shall petition the superior court of the county to appoint a referee to designate the five commissioner districts. Any petition requesting that such an election be held shall be submitted to the county auditor for verification of the signatures thereon. Within no more than thirty days after the submission of the petition, the auditor shall determine if the petition contains the requisite number of valid signatures. The auditor shall certify whether or not the petition has been signed by the requisite number of county voters and forward such petition to the county legislative authority. If the petition has been signed by the requisite number of county voters, the county legislative authority shall submit such a proposition to the voters for their approval or rejection at the next general election held at least sixty days after the proposition has been certified by the auditor.

If the proposition receives majority voter approval, the size of the county legislative authority shall be increased to five positions, three of which shall constitute a quorum to do business.

The two newly-created positions shall be filled at elections to be held in the next year. The county shall, as provided in this section, be divided into five legislative authority districts, so that each district shall comprise as nearly as possible one-fifth of the population of the county. No two members of the existing county legislative authority may, at the time of the designation of such districts, permanently reside in one of the five districts. The division of the county into five districts shall be accomplished as follows:

(4) Subject to any right of the bank to apply the credit to an obligation of the customer, credit given by a bank for an item in an account with its customer becomes available for withdrawal as of right when

On page 8, after line 14, insert the following:

"Sec. 9. Section 3, chapter 77, Laws of 1941 and RCW 16.08.060 are each amended to read as follows:

Proof of provocation of the attack by the injured person shall be a complete defense to an action for damages. However, for purposes of this section, a child under the age of six years is incapable of provocation, and there is a rebuttable presumption that a child between the age of six years, inclusive through fourteen years, inclusive, is incapable of provocation."

Renumber the sections consecutively.

Mr. Vekich spoke in favor of the amendments to the committee amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Vekich yielded to question by Ms. Long.

Ms. Long: "Representative Vekich, you said that the amendment is not aimed at any particular breed of dog. Would you tell me what subsection (b), line 19, page 2 means? It says, 'Any dog with a propensity, tendency or disposition to attack unprovoked, to cause injury, or to otherwise endanger the safety of human beings....' What does that mean and how would that be determined?"

Mr. Vekich: "For one thing, it would be a question of fact being recorded to determine propensity to be vicious. In the past history of the dog, if there is any intent and knowledge on the owner's part that the dog is a problem, and it would have to be a previous problem, that would qualify as a propensity. Perhaps there had been a bite in the past or inability to get along with other animals. Perhaps dog fights, any number of things can lead to propensity."

Ms. Long: "If I understand you correctly, you are saying that when this bill started out it was directed at pit bulls, that the intent is to say that if there is a pit bull dog that has not done the things you have just mentioned, then it would not be a dog that was considered vicious?"

Mr. Vekich: "That's correct. We could not find that pit bulls were more vicious or less vicious, based on the evidence presented to us, than any other particular breed or type. They are a type of dog, not a breed of dog."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Vekich yielded to question by Mr. Zellinsky.

Mr. Zellinsky: "Representative Vekich, I've been pretty upset all day since I got to caucus today and you made your presentation of this most serious legislation. If you read through this, it says 'vicious' and 'harbor a vicious dog,' and 'kill' and all these other things. I've got a little part-poodle at home and if a child came into my yard and my little dog, which I dearly love, nipped at this little child under six, would that mean that somebody could come and take my dog and have it put to sleep?

Mr. Vekich: "Representative Zellinsky, it is my understanding of the bill, and again I was not the author of this bill, I'm merely offering it to the floor, but I would like to say that it is my understanding of the bill that it must be a bite of a very severe nature, one that I doubt that your particular type of dog could inflict."

Representatives Zellinsky, Nealey and Barrett opposed the amendments to the amendment, and Mr. Lundquist spoke in favor of them.

MOTION

Mr. Lundquist moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On page 2, following line 21 insert:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A fleet shall qualify for centennial plates to be issued in consecutive order if available. A fleet shall be defined for purposes of the RCW as a group of five vehicles or more registered in the same name and whose owner has been assigned a fleet identifier code by the department of licensing." Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

Mr. Lundquist spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment.
Ms. Schmidt: "Representative Lundquist, in your definition of a fleet you discussed trucks. Would this also include a fleet of cars?"

Mr. Lundquist: "My understanding of this is that it will include any vehicle that is engaged in that kind of an operation. For instance, a logging company may have two or three logging trucks, may have several gravel trucks, may have two or three pickups and a couple of trucks. They would all qualify under the fleet."

Ms. Schmidt: "But would a company that only operates a fleet of cars also qualify?"

Mr. Lundquist: "My understanding is that they would."

Ms. Schmidt: "Have you discussed this amendment with the Department of Licensing in light of the fact that we are almost out of numbers as far as the sequence available to us in the current numbering system?"

Mr. Lundquist: "In terms of the sequential numbers, I have not discussed that with the Department of Licensing. I have discussed the reduction of the number from twenty-five to five with the Department of Licensing. They are indicating that they would prefer that we drop from twenty-five to fifteen. Dropping from twenty-five to fifteen does not provide relief to the kind of people who have been complaining to me about the size of fleets."

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

The committee amendment as amended was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Wineberry, the committee amendment to the title of the bill was adopted.

On motion of Mr. J. King, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the committee amendment as amended.

Mr. Nealey moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Nealey, Baugher and Brooks to the committee amendment:
On page 2, after line 25 insert a new paragraph to read as follows:

“A dog shall not be considered a vicious dog under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this subsection if the dog is or was used on a farm for the purpose of herding or protecting animals and if the only reason for otherwise considering the dog a vicious dog is based on the fact that the dog has nipped a person on a limb while the person was on the farm. This exception only applies so long as the keeper of the dog posts a conspicuous sign which is located in the area where visitors to the farm would normally park their vehicles and which warns them of the presence of a dog that will bite.”

Representatives Nealey and Vekich spoke in favor of the amendment to the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY
Mr. Vekich yielded to question by Mr. Madsen.

Mr. Madsen: “Representative Vekich, the focus of this bill is to make the owner a little bit more liable for his dog’s actions. Under this particular amendment, by putting up a sign—the act of putting up a sign—does that, in fact, set me up legally to say that I do have a vicious dog and my liability becomes a little bit more heavy?”

Mr. Vekich: “The intent of the sponsor of the bill, or the sponsor of the amendment anyway, is that your liability would be decreased because you are exercising due care and caution and being a responsible dog owner.”

Mr. Madsen opposed the amendment to the amendment and Mr. Nealey spoke again in favor of it.

The amendment to the committee amendment was adopted.

Representatives Vekich, Doty and Lundquist spoke in favor of the committee amendment as amended, and Mr. Bond spoke against it.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Barrett: "I would challenge this amendment on the basis of scope and object."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "The Speaker has looked at the title of the bill and the committee amendment. It is a skillful job, but the committee amendment deals with the licensing and process by which we are going to regulate or license auctioneers. The amendment by Representative Wang deals not with licensing or regulating auctioneers, but rather with the product of motion pictures, under the motion picture competition act and deals with the auctioning of a product or a service. In the view of the Speaker, this floor amendment broadens the scope and object of the committee amendment and the title. Your point is well taken, Representative Barrett."

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the committee amendment as amended.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Representative Betrozoff and others to Reengrossed Senate Bill No. 4875, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 53; excused, 2.

On page 1, line 3 of the title after "43.51 RCW," insert "and" and on line 4 after "section" strike everything down to and including "people" on line 5.

On motion of Mr. J. King, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Ms. Belcher spoke in favor of passage of the bill, and Mr. S. Wilson opposed it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Belcher yielded to question by Mr. Tilly.

Mr. Tilly: "Representative Belcher, on page 2 of the bill it talks about the governor appointing the head of Transportation, the head of Game and the head of Parks. On line 28 it says, 'The commission may delegate to the director additional duties and powers necessary and appropriate to carry out this title.' This is the section that relates to the Department of Game. My question is that it seems to me that the commissioner has got some extra power, this particular commission, to give their director more duties and responsibilities, so is the director working for the commission or is he or she working for the governor? It's confusing to me."

Ms. Belcher: "I think, clearly, the intent of this bill is that the director would be appointed by the governor. The commission would retain its policy-making authority and that would include their ability to delegate any authority they wanted to the director."

Mr. Tilly: "Does that also apply to the Parks and Recreation Commission and to the Department of Transportation?"

Ms. Belcher: "I don't have the bill in front of me, Representative Tilly, so I can't tell you that's the express language that's in the bill, but my assumption would be that each of those commissions, retaining all of their policy-making authority, would have the authority to delegate if they so chose."

Representatives Tilly, Schmidt and B. Williams spoke against passage of the bill, and Mr. J. King spoke in favor of it.

Mr. Padden demanded an oral roll call vote and the demand was sustained.

Representatives Prince, C. Smith, Silver and Long spoke against passage of the bill.

Mr. Crane demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Reengrossed Senate Bill No. 4875 as amended by the House, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 51; nays, 45; excused, 2.

Reengrossed Senate Bill No. 4875 as amended by the House, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTIONS

On motion of Mr. J. King, Reengrossed Senate Bill No. 4875 as amended by the House was ordered transmitted immediately to the Senate.
On motion of Mr. J. King, the House dispensed with further business under the Call of the House.

The House reverted to the fifth order of business.

The appropriations in this section are provided for the management and support of the marine transportation division of the department of transportation and for the operation, maintenance, and capital improvements of the Washington state ferry system. The appropriations are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) The Puget Sound reserve account appropriation is provided to carry out RCW 47.60.420.

(2) The Puget Sound ferry operations account appropriation is provided for the operation and maintenance of the Washington state ferries, supplementing revenues available from the Washington state ferry system. The Puget Sound ferry operations account appropriation includes up to $((14,500,000)) 16,385,000 transferred from the Puget Sound capital construction account in accordance with RCW 47.60.505. To the extent that revenue collections exceed that amount assumed in this act the transfer authority authorized in this subsection shall be reduced by a like amount. If the elimination of the sales tax on fuel consumed by the marine division is not enacted by July 1, 1986, then the transfer authority authorized in this subsection shall be increased by $1,005,000.

(3) The Puget Sound capital construction account appropriation is provided for improving the Washington state ferry system, including, but not limited to, vessel acquisition, vessel construction, major and minor vessel improvements, and terminal construction and improvements. The appropriation of state funds from the Puget Sound capital construction account contains $20,000,000 of the proceeds from the sale of bonds authorized by RCW 47.60.560: PROVIDED, That the transportation commission in consultation with the legislative transportation committee may authorize the use of current revenues available to the Puget Sound capital construction account in lieu of bond proceeds for any part of the state appropriation.

(4) It is the intent of the legislature that the Puget Sound capital construction account appropriation is provided to carry out the projects presented to the transportation committees of the senate and house of representatives. The department of transportation shall consult with the legislative transportation committee prior to revising the programming of these projects or adding new projects. The department of transportation shall implement the terminal projects as delineated in 1986 Supplemental Budget Request for Marine Division Capital Construction Program (dated January 16, 1986) as presented to the joint house and senate transportation committees in accordance with state procurement regulations. Should the commission determine it is not feasible to refurbish the ferry "Rhododendron", and with the approval of the legislative transportation committee, the capital appropriation of $2,500,000 provided for that purpose.
Laws of 1977 and RCW 43.10.100 are each amended to read as follows:

(5) Savings realized in marine operations as of the end of the fiscal period shall be placed into reserve status and no expenditure shall be made from that reserve without consulting with the legislative transportation committee and obtaining the approval of the office of financial management pursuant to RCW 43.88.110.

(6) ((The results of the passenger-only ferry study using leased vessels shall be reported to the legislative transportation committee during the 1986 regular session of the legislature.)) Prior to the implementation of any passenger-only project, the department of transportation shall request approval from the legislative transportation committee. If the project is not implemented, then $560,000 of the moneys appropriated in this section for that purpose shall not be expended for any other purpose.

(7) The traditional and customary ferry transportation service supported by these appropriations shall receive priority in the implementation of all directives contained in this section. It is the intent of the legislature that the motor vehicle fund appropriation—state of $1,140,000 contained in this section shall be expended exclusively for the support of costs associated with EXPO '86 services. Any additional costs associated with the EXPO '86 services shall be funded by fare revenue generated from EXPO '86 traffic. The marine division shall provide the legislative transportation committee with a monthly financial report concerning the status of the EXPO '86 services.

(8) Pursuant to the limitations authorized in RCW 47.64.180(1), for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1986, none of the Puget Sound ferry operations account appropriation, the Puget Sound capital construction account appropriations, or moneys in the ferry system, 1963, revolving fund may be expended to effect an increase in the base salaries for ferry employees, as ferry employee is defined in RCW 47.64.011(5), or to effect an increase in insurance benefits for any ferry employee, except as may be required by state or federal law.

(9) Pursuant to the limitations authorized in RCW 47.64.180(1), for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1987, no more than $1,135,000 of the Puget Sound ferry operations account appropriation, the Puget Sound capital construction account appropriations, or moneys in the ferry system, 1963, revolving fund may be expended to effect an increase in the base salaries for ferry employees or to effect an increase in insurance benefits for ferry employees. The amount determined for base salary increases shall be reduced by the amount by which the ferry system's contribution for employees' and dependents' insurance and health care plans exceeds what is provided for other state agencies, as specified in RCW 47.64.270.

(10) After all possible internal management economies have been achieved, if an operating budget deficit still exists, the transportation commission is authorized to request authority from the legislative transportation committee to effect an interfund loan from the motor vehicle fund to the Puget Sound ferry operations account for some or all of the deficit as authorized by the legislative transportation committee: PROVIDED, That any amount loaned to the Puget Sound ferry operations account shall be repaid to the motor vehicle fund from ferry system operating revenues collected in the 1987-89 biennium.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The transportation commission shall provide a detailed analysis of feasible alternatives that will achieve a long-range balance between funding requirements of the marine division's operating and capital programs and funding sources. The commission also shall identify the alternative that it believes should be implemented and the rationale for its choice. The analysis and the commission's recommended alternative shall be submitted to the legislative transportation committee and the office of financial management no later than September 1, 1986.

If the commission's recommendation includes changes in the funding sources for the marine division, it shall provide an assessment of the impact such changes will have on other state-funded transportation programs.

On page 2, after line 8, insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The legislature finds that growth of the state's population and economy places increasingly greater demands on available water resources, including this state's ground water supplies. The legislature also finds that chapter 90.44 RCW, popularly known as the Ground Water Code of 1945, protects the public welfare by providing an orderly system of rights to the beneficial use of water based upon the 'first in time is first in right' principle of the prior appropriation doctrine. The purpose of sections 4 and 5 of this act is to provide remedies to protect the right of a holder of a senior right to ground water to a safe sustaining yield of water.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 90.44 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The remedies to protect the right of the holder of a senior water right to a safe sustaining yield of water include protection of the availability of water in the well or wells used to exercise that senior water right, without the wells or withdrawal works being significantly modified. That availability is protected against interruption or other interference caused by either: (a) The water works of, or the water withdrawal activities of, a person or persons exercising junior rights to ground water; or (b) any other activities of a person or persons that do not directly involve the exercise of a more senior right to water. Junior rights to ground water are those established subsequently to a senior right under the prior appropriation doctrine upon which this chapter is based.

(2) The holder of a senior water right is entitled to adequate compensation whenever the water works or water withdrawal activities of a person or persons exercising junior rights to ground water cause such an interruption or interference in that availability of water. Adequate compensation for the loss of that availability will be made if the holder of the senior right is provided with:

(a) An amount equivalent to the increased costs reasonably incurred by or reasonably to be incurred by the holder of the senior water right in securing and using water, to the full extent of the senior right, as a result of losing the availability protected by subsection (1) of this section. The full extent of the senior right includes any conditions that applied to the right such as the quantity and quality of the water, the location of use, and time of use;

(b) The delivery of water to the holder of the senior right. To quality as compensation, the water delivered must be of a quantity equal to and a quality equivalent to that of the senior right. The delivery must also be under such conditions, including but not limited to timing and location, as applied to the senior right without increased costs being incurred by the senior rightholder; or

(c) The payment of just compensation pursuant to the exercise of eminent domain if the holder of the junior rights has been granted the power of eminent domain.

(3) In lieu of the forms of compensation provided by this section, the holder of the senior right to ground water may freely enter contractual agreements establishing other compensation.

(4) In any civil action brought under this section, if the court believes the legal remedies are inadequate or excessively harsh, it may provide such equitable relief as it believes appropriate. The court shall also provide such emergency relief as is appropriate for the protection of ground water rights.

(5) The department of ecology shall not enforce the remedies provided under this section. It is intended that such remedies will be privately enforced by the holders of senior water rights. In considering an application filed after the effective date of this section for a permit under this chapter, the department shall decide the application as if this section were never enacted. However, the department shall place on each permit granted after the effective date of this section a notation conditioning the permit on the holder's compliance with the remedy provisions of this section. Whenever the court finds that a permit holder is unable or unwilling to cure the holder's noncompliance with such provisions, the court shall issue an order revoking the permit and serve a copy of its order on the department. The order shall become effective on the day it is served on the department.

(6) The statutory remedies provided under this section apply only against interruption or interference caused by the exercise of junior water rights for which permits have been issued after the effective date of this section or which have been otherwise perfected after the effective date of this section. These statutory remedies may not be applied against interruption or interference caused by the exercise of water rights existing prior to the effective date of this section. Nothing in this section expands, prohibits, or restricts in any manner whatsoever any powers of the judiciary to devise, provide for, and enforce remedies designed to protect senior water rights existing prior to the effective date of this section from interruption or interference caused by the exercise of junior water rights also existing prior to the effective date of this section.

Sec. 5. Section 7, chapter 263, Laws of 1945 and RCW 90.44.070 are each amended to read as follows:

No permit shall be granted for the development or withdrawal of public ground waters beyond the capacity of the underground bed or formation in the given basin, district, or locality to yield such water within a reasonable or feasible pumping lift in case of pumping developments, or within a reasonable or feasible reduction of pressure in the case of artesian developments. (The supervisor of water resources)) Except as provided otherwise in section 4 of this 1986 act, the director of ecology shall have the power to determine whether the granting of any (each) permit will injure or damage any vested or existing right or rights under prior permits and may in addition to the records of his office, require further evidence, proof, and testimony before granting or denying any such permits.

The granting of a permit by the director does not relieve the recipient of the permit of any liability for injuring or damaging vested or existing rights to water.

In multi-aquifer systems, the director may require, as permit conditions, the casing and sealing of wells or other construction techniques to: (1) Protect the use of the uppermost aquifer or aquifers of the system by persons with senior rights to ground water, or (2) protect the use of waters from the uppermost aquifer or aquifers for future domestic or similar uses, traditionally involving shallower wells, that the director finds to be vital for the support of future development of the overlying land.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 90.44 RCW to read as follows:

(1) This section contains remedies designed to protect the holder of a ground water right against activities that cause damage or injury by adversely affecting the quality of the water for the use or uses to which the ground water right pertains. Any holder of a ground water right who sustains any damage or injury, whether to property or person, which is caused by activities that decrease the quality of the water for the use or uses to which the ground water right pertains, shall be entitled to recover full compensation for such damage or injury from the person or persons responsible for or conducting the activities. This subsection shall not affect or impair any other rights or remedies, whether prescribed by statute or case law, to recover compensation or obtain other relief for damage or injury caused by the impairment of water quality.

(2) In the case of saltwater intrusion caused by the overuse of a freshwater aquifer, the department shall preserve the rights of senior appropriators to fresh water by reducing the withdrawals authorized for the holders of junior water rights in a manner consistent with the prior appropriation system of rights.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 90.44 RCW to read as follows:

In any civil action brought under section 4 or 6 of this act, the court may award attorney's fees to the prevailing party. The amount of fees awarded shall be reasonable and shall be fixed by the court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 90.44 RCW to read as follows:

Any person who provides compensation under section 4 or 6 of this act shall provide notice thereof to the department of ecology. The notice shall be on a form prescribed by the department and shall be sufficient to show the amount and nature of the compensation and any change in the water rights involved.

Sec. 9. Section 14, chapter 233, Laws of 1967 and RCW 90.14.140 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For the purposes of this chapter 'sufficient cause' shall be defined as the nonuse of all or a portion of the water by the owner of a water right for a period of five or more consecutive years where such nonuse occurs as a result of:

(((1))) (a) Drought, or other unavailability of water;

(((2))) (b) Active service in the armed forces of the United States during military crisis;

(((3))) (c) Nonvoluntary service in the armed forces of the United States;

(((4))) (d) The operation of legal proceedings;

(((5))) (e) Federal laws imposing land or water use restrictions, or acreage limitations, or production quotas;

The Speaker (Mr. O’Brien presiding) stated the question before the House to be the Point of Order by Representative Barrett on the committee amendment.

SPEAKER’S RULING

The Speaker (Mr. O’Brien presiding): “ESSB 4463 is an act relating to the promotion of Washington products and it sets up a program for the Department of Trade and Economic Development for their purpose. The committee amendment repeals three sections of chapter 39.24 RCW. These sections deal with the purchase preference by state and local governments of fuels mined or produced in Washington State. It appears that this amendment is inconsistent and incompatible with the act. Under Reed’s Rule 161, a question of this nature is up to the body to decide. So I will let the body determine whether or not they wish to adopt or not adopt this amendment.”

Mr. McMullen spoke in favor of the committee amendment, and Mr. Schoon opposed it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Niemi yielded to question by Ms. Winsley.

Ms. Winsley: "Representative Niemi, I understand from the committee amendment that this would apply to future labor negotiations and that employees and the employer could sit down and negotiate on whether or not they want to offer insurance for psychiatrists or psychologists or mental health centers. Doesn't your amendment, in effect, sort of gut the committee amendment?"

Ms. Niemi: "I don't think so. As a matter of fact, I don't think it applies at all to the future. All my amendment does is make sure that the bill does not apply to any past agreement. It has no effect on past agreements. It says nothing about future agreements, whether they can or cannot be bargained."

The amendments to the committee amendment were adopted.

On motion of Mr. Appelwick, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

(1) Contracts for public improvements or work, other than for professional services, by the state, or any county, city, town, district, board, or other public body, herein referred to as "public body", shall provide, and there shall be reserved by the public body from the moneys earned by the contractor on estimates during the progress of the improvement or work, a sum not to exceed five percent, said sum to be retained by the state, county, city, town, district, board, or other public body, as a trust fund for the protection and payment of any person or persons, mechanic, subcontractor or materialman who shall perform any labor upon such contract or the doing of said work, and all persons who shall supply such person or persons or subcontractors with provisions and supplies for the carrying on of such work, and the state with respect to taxes imposed pursuant to Title 82 RCW which may be due from such contractor. Every person performing labor or furnishing supplies toward the completion of said improvement or work shall have a lien upon said moneys so reserved: PROVIDED, That such notice of the lien of such claimant shall be given in the manner and within the time provided in RCW 39.08.030 as now existing and in accordance with any amendments that may hereafter be made thereto: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the board, council, commission, trustees, officer or body acting for the state, county or municipality or other public body: (a) at any time after fifty percent of the original contract work has been completed, if it finds that satisfactory progress is being made, may make any of the partial payments which would otherwise be subsequently made in full; but in no event shall the amount to be retained be reduced to less than five percent of the amount of the moneys earned by the contractor: PROVIDED, That the contractor may request that retainage be reduced to one hundred percent of the value of the work remaining on the project; and (b) thirty days after completion and acceptance of all contract work other than landscaping, may release and pay in full the amounts retained during the performance of the contract (other than continuing retention of five percent of the moneys earned for landscaping) subject to the provisions of RCW 60.28.020.

(2) The moneys reserved under the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, at the option of the contractor, shall be:

(a) Retained in a fund by the public body until thirty days following the final acceptance of said improvement or work as completed;

(b) Deposited by the public body in an interest bearing account in a bank, mutual savings bank, or savings and loan association, not subject to withdrawal until after the final acceptance of said improvement or work as completed, or until agreed to by both parties: PROVIDED, That interest on such account shall be paid to the contractor;

(c) Placed in escrow with a bank or trust company by the public body until thirty days following the final acceptance of said improvement or work as completed. When the moneys reserved are to be placed in escrow, the public body shall issue a check representing the sum of the moneys reserved payable to the bank or trust company and the contractor jointly. Such check shall be converted into bonds and securities chosen by the contractor and approved by the public body and such bonds and securities shall be held in escrow. Interest on such bonds and securities shall be paid to the contractor as the said interest accrues.

(3) The contractor or subcontractor may withhold payment of not more than five percent from the moneys earned by any subcontractor or sub-subcontractor or supplier contracted with by the contractor to provide labor, materials, or equipment to the public project. Whenever the contractor or subcontractor reserves funds earned by a subcontractor or sub-subcontractor or supplier, the contractor or subcontractor shall pay interest to the subcontractor or sub-subcontractor or supplier at a rate equal to that received by the contractor or subcontractor from reserved funds.

(4) With the consent of the public body the contractor may submit a bond for all or any portion of the amount of funds retained by the public body in a form acceptable to the public body. Such bond and any proceeds therefrom shall be made subject to all claims and liens and in the same manner and priority as set forth for retained percentages in this chapter. The public body shall release the bonded portion of the retained funds to the contractor within thirty days of accepting the bond from the contractor. Whenever a public body accepts a bond in lieu of retained funds from a contractor, the contractor shall accept like bonds from any subcontractors or suppliers from which the contractor has retained funds. The contractor shall then release the funds retained from the subcontractor or supplier to the subcontractor or supplier within thirty days of accepting the bond from the subcontractor or supplier.

(5) If the public body administering a contract, after a substantial portion of the work has been completed, finds that an unreasonable delay will occur in the completion of the remaining portion of the contract for any reason not the result of a breach thereof, it may, if the contractor agrees, delete from the contract the remaining work and accept as final the improvement at the stage of completion then attained and make payment in proportion to the amount of the work accomplished and in such case any amounts retained and accumulated under this section shall be held for a period of thirty days following such acceptance. In the event that the work shall have been terminated before final completion as provided in this section, the public body may thereafter enter into a new contract with the same contractor to perform the remaining work or improvement for an amount equal to or less than the cost of the remaining work as was provided for in the original contract without advertisement or bid. The provisions of this chapter 60.28 RCW shall be deemed exclusive and shall supersede all provisions and regulations in conflict herewith.

(6) Whenever the department of transportation has contracted for the construction of two or more ferry vessels, thirty days after completion and final acceptance of each ferry vessel, the department may release and pay in full the amounts retained in connection with the construction of such vessel subject to the provisions of RCW 60.28.020: PROVIDED, That the department of transportation may at its discretion condition the release of funds retained in connection with the completed ferry upon the contractor delivering a good and sufficient bond with two or more sureties, or with a surety company, in the amount of the retained funds to be released to the contractor, conditioned that no taxes shall be certified or claims filed for work on such ferry after a period of thirty days following final acceptance of such ferry; and if such taxes are certified or claims filed, recovery may be had on such bond by the department of revenue and the materialmen and laborers filing claims.

(7) (On projects commenced after June 7, 1984, the trust fund established pursuant to subsection (1) of this section may be reserved for the protection of the owner or owners of such public improvements when specifically required by regulations of the farmers home administration for the provision of grant or loan funds administered by that agency) Contracts on projects funded in whole or in part by Farmers Home Administration and subject to Farmers Home Administration regulations shall not be subject to subsections (1) through (6) of this section.

Ms. Rust moved adoption of the committee amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Rust yielded to question by Mr. Tilly.

Mr. Tilly: "Representative Rust, it seems to me that this right-to-know act is the one that caused the Department of Labor and Industries to send people bills this last for fall for little tiny amounts—seventy-five cents. I got a lot of nasty letters over that bill we passed last time. Is this going to eliminate that problem?"

Ms. Rust: "Yes, it will."

Mr. Tilly: "Is there a minimum of employees or are they still going to bill you?"

Ms. Rust: "I think you are really talking about third reading. We are on the amendment now, but the only employers to have the standard industrial classification will pay the fee and if they have under five employees, they will pay no fee."

The committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Appelwick, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Rust, Lewis and Allen spoke in favor of passage of the bill, and Representatives Schoon and Chandler opposed it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Nealey: "Representative Chandler, on this last mail-out that was made for seventy-five cents that infuriated the farmers and people, especially who only had one or two employees, and, as the former speaker said, it cost $2.50 to mail out that billing. That didn’t make much sense and I think the people in the country really were disappointed in what state government does. I am asking you if there is any provision in this bill that they would mail this fee out with the regular letter instead of making a special mail-out that costs more money than they take in?"

Mr. Chandler: "I don’t believe there is any provision in there to state that. Representative Nealey, but if there was I would question whether or not it would be done that way. I think maybe its additional fee is to make up for the mistake that they did and it cost them last year on it."

Mr. G. Nelson spoke against passage of the bill.

The legislature finds that more than 700,000 of our citizens die each year from heart attack and stroke, a greater number of deaths than is caused by any other illness; that research has identified saturated fats as a major cause contributing to heart disease and stroke; that public health officials and medical authorities have urged the general public to moderate their intake of saturated fats; that recent studies have shown that many restaurants, particularly fast food restaurants, use highly saturated fats, such as beef tallow, in the preparation of deep fried foods; that restaurants do not disclose in their menus or otherwise routinely disclose the kind of fat used in their fried foods; and that requiring such disclosure would enable consumers, particularly consumers with histories or family histories of heart disease or stroke, to make more intelligent decisions with respect to the foods they consume, decisions more consistent with their long term health. Therefore, the legislature enacts this law requiring all restaurants serving deep fried foods to disclose to consumers the kind of fat or fats used to prepare the foods. and if the director finds it in the interest of public health, the extent to which the fat or fats are saturated. Any deep fried foods sold or offered for sale in violation of this section or the rules adopted hereunder shall be deemed to be misbranded for the purposes of this chapter. For purposes of this section, the word ‘restaurants’ shall be broadly construed to mean any commercial food service establishment that prepares deep fried foods and sells the same, whether on or off the premises, to consumers of such foods."

(2) If it be determined by the department that the tax reported by any special fuel dealer or special fuel user is deficient it shall proceed to assess the deficiency on the basis of information available to it and there shall be added to this deficiency a penalty of two percent of the amount of the deficiency.

(3) If any special fuel dealer or special fuel user, whether or not he is licensed as such, fails, neglects, or refuses to file a special fuel tax report, the department shall, on the basis of information available to it, determine the tax liability of the special fuel dealer or the special fuel user for the period during which no report was filed, and to the tax as thus determined, the department shall add the penalty and interest provided in subsection (2) of this section. An assessment made by the department pursuant to this subsection or to subsection (2) of this section shall be presumed to be correct, and in any case where the validity of the assessment is drawn in question, the burden shall be on the person who challenges the assessment to establish by a fair preponderance of the evidence that it is erroneous or excessive as the case may be.

(4) If any special fuel dealer or special fuel user shall establish by a fair preponderance of evidence that his failure to file a report or pay the proper amount of tax within the time prescribed was due to reasonable cause and was not intentional or willful, the department may waive the penalty prescribed in subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section.

(5) If any special fuel dealer or special fuel user shall file a false or fraudulent report with intent to evade the tax imposed by this chapter, there shall be added to the amount of deficiency determined by the department a penalty equal to twenty-five percent of the deficiency, in addition to the penalty provided in subsection (2) of this section and all other penalties prescribed by law.

(6) Any fuel tax, penalties, and interest payable under this chapter shall bear interest at the rate of one percent per month, or fraction thereof, from the first day of the calendar month after the amount or any portion thereof should have been paid until the date of payment: PROVIDED, That the department may waive the interest when it determines that the cost of processing the collection of the interest exceeds the amount of interest due.

(7) Except in the case of a fraudulent report or of neglect or refusal to make a report, every deficiency shall be assessed under subsection (2) of this section within three years from the twenty-fifth day of the next succeeding calendar month following the reporting period for which the amount is proposed to be determined or within three years after the return is filed, whichever period expires the later.

(8) Any special fuel dealer or special fuel user against whom an assessment is made under the provisions of subsections (2) or (3) of this section may petition for a reassessment thereof within thirty days after service upon the special fuel dealer or special fuel user of notice.
thereof. If such petition is not filed within such thirty day period, the amount of the assessment becomes final at the expiration thereof.

If a petition for reassessment is filed within the thirty day period, the department shall reconsider the assessment and, if the special fuel dealer or special fuel user has so requested in his petition, shall grant such special fuel dealer or special fuel user an oral hearing and give the special fuel dealer or special fuel user ten days' notice of the time and place thereof. The department may continue the hearing from time to time. The decision of the department upon a petition for reassessment shall become final thirty days after service upon the special fuel dealer or special fuel user of notice thereof.

Every assessment made by the department shall become due and payable at the time it becomes final and if not paid to the department when due and payable, there shall be added thereto a penalty of ten percent of the amount of the tax.

(9) Any notice of assessment required by this section shall be served personally or by mail: if by mail, service shall be made by depositing such notice in the United States mail, postage prepaid addressed to the special fuel dealer or special fuel user at his address as the same appears in the records of the department.

(10) Any licensee who has had their special fuel user license, special fuel dealer license, special fuel supplier license, or combination thereof revoked shall pay a one hundred dollar penalty prior to the issuance of a new license.

(11) Any person who, upon audit or investigation by the department, is found to have not paid special fuel taxes as required by this chapter shall be subject to cancellation of all vehicle registrations for vehicles utilizing special fuel as a means of propulsion. Any unexpired Washington tonnage on the vehicles in question may be transferred to a purchaser of the vehicles upon application to the department who shall hold such tonnage in its custody until a sale of the vehicle is made or the tonnage has expired.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

(Per a motion made later in the day, all debate made on this bill has been inserted in the Journal.)

Mr. McMullen: "The purpose of this amendment is to place a statute of limitations for eight years for -- if I could use the term -- baby doctors. We’ve all read and are all fully aware of the problem that OB and GYN doctors are having with their long tail, their twenty-six year long tail for their exposure. We have a husband-and-wife team in Sedro Woolley that were recruited because we were short of this specialty. They came to Sedro Woolley on the promise that the community would back them. Their insurance premiums will be approaching $70,000 next year for the two of them. This is totally beyond the realm of economic ability to handle the premiums. If we bring the statute of limitations down to eight years for prenatal and birth care, we will then bring in predictability and certainty into the insurance writing business for this type of medical care, and I believe that by doing this, we will bring the cost down considerably for OB/GYN professions and I believe this is an amendment that we should adopt at this time."

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Ms. K. Wilson: "Mr. Speaker, if we adopt this amendment, can we adopt another amendment regarding the same thing?"

Mr. Speaker: "Representative Wilson, it’s a hypothetical situation and I’m sure we’re going to have a lot of these before this evening is out. I will deal with that when I see that or if I see that."

Mr. Bristow: "This amendment is inconsistent with provisions later in a striking amendment which will follow. I urge you to vote ‘no’ on the amendment."

Mr. Ballard: "I would also urge a ‘no’ vote on the amendment."

Mr. Appelwick: "Over the past year, and going into this session, one of the real problems where the documented evidence is real clear that the insurance industry, or at least the premiums they set, are way out of line in the area of obstetrics and gynecology. Before you, you have an amendment that deals in a rifle-shot fashion with a very specific documented problem and is not overly broad; it does not interfere with the rest of the tort system. This is much better than the proposal that is in the striking amendment to follow. I urge your adoption of it."

Mr. J. King: "What we have here is a test. There's been no explanation offered, the original amendment put forward, argument goes, and you've heard it before on the floor of this House—‘It’s a bad amendment. Vote ‘no’.’ We talked here last year about a big ugly bear is chomping around. We’re going to find out right now with this amendment if the people are willing to listen to reason and vote on this, or whether they are going to clap their hands over their eyes, poke their fingers in their ears and vote blindly on a subject they don’t know a lot about. Please support this amendment."

Mr. G. Nelson: "There should have been some additional explanation of this amendment. If one looks to the bottom of this page, you will see that it’s also beginning on page 27 of the original amendment, striking all of section 907 of the amendment to the Judiciary Committee amendment. That particular striking action now removes the protection of members of boards of directors or other governing bodies of public or private hospitals. I’m not so sure that was the intention of the mover of this amendment, but it really does it to all of those board of director folks that are trustees and trying to administer the hospitals in the state of Washington. We ought to vote this amendment down. I think that for as far as it went with what the maker of the amendment had in mind, he accurately portrayed what his version of what action perhaps should be given in the way of protecting some of the OBs in the state, but it went far beyond what I think the intent is. It deserves a ‘no’ vote.

Mr. McMullen: “I’ve not been here that long, but I certainly understand the old idea of ‘trust me and follow me,’ and I think the Representative from the 7th District has been acting in good faith these many weeks and still is acting in good faith, but my concern is the document that we are going to totally adopt down the road, hit the bar an hour ago. It hit the bar an hour ago because, it was explained in caucus, when the OPR staff gave their version of these particular items to some high-powered, high-priced attorneys outside this body to work on, they came back and it left a grievous hole in it and it had to be amended. Up to that point, we were all listening, we were all assuming that this document said certain things and all of a sudden, it had a hole in it and had to be corrected. It’s been sitting up there for an hour. How many people have read it?

“This amendment is not inconsistent with the other amendment because the other amendment has an eight-year statute of limitations for all doctors. All doctors, not just baby doctors, all doctors. You and I have a twenty-one year statute of limitations if we go out here and negligently run a stop sign and hit a car with a child in it. We have a twenty-one year statute of limitations. We are going to take doctors in their economic status and the way the rest of the world treats them, and I hold them in very high esteem, and give them an eight-year statute of limitations, lower than anybody else. That’s what the amendment down the road does. You know what else it does? You might want to take a look at it before you turn around and say we’re just going to adopt something else down the road. We don’t know what all the changes have been yet. This is just an effort by poor country lawyer from Sedro Woolley to try and find an effort, a way into the middle ground of this. We’ve heard the people talk on both sides and there was no solution. This is one of a series of amendments which I hope will come up with a solution...”

The Speaker advised Representative McMullen that his time had expired.

With the consent of the House, Mr. McMullen was allowed more time.

Mr. McMullen: “The point I was trying to make is that when we came into the session, there was a ‘coalition package.’ If you recall that coalition package, it never mentioned relief for doctors in this arena. Not at all. Then in discussions, we came up with the fact that the baby doctors are having a severe problem now, so this amendment tries to address that problem. What you have been asked to accept blindly down the road is an amendment for all doctors. It wasn’t even requested and we’re going to give the coalition all doctors. I feel strongly that when people cannot agree and you are forced to choose one side or the other, then it’s fine and dandy to make a commitment, but I would also suggest that if legitimate compromise is being offered, a legitimate effort is being made to resolve the situation, that people who say they are going to be bound by their words, regardless of what the amendment may be, and not read the future amendment, I think you are doing a disservice to your constituents. I hope you would take the time to individually search your conscience and see if this particular amendment is indeed a fair amendment and adopt it.”

A division was called.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendments by Representatives McMullen and Niemi to page 1 of the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630, and the amendments were not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 57; excused, 1.

Excused: Representative van Dyke - 1.

Mr. McMullen moved adoption of the following amendments by Representatives McMullen and Niemi to the committee amendment:

On page 1 of the amendment after line 4, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 4.56 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In an action based on fault seeking damages for personal injury or property damage in which a verdict or award for future economic damages of at least one hundred thousand dollars is made, the court or arbitrator shall, at the request of a party, enter a judgment which provides for the periodic payment in whole or in part of the future economic damages. With respect to the judgment, the court or arbitrator shall make a specific finding as to the dollar amount of periodic payments intended to compensate the judgment creditor for the future economic damages.

(2) Prior to entry of judgment, the court shall request each party to submit a proposal for periodic payment of future economic damages to compensate the claimant. Proposals shall include provisions for: The name of the recipient or recipients of the payments, the dollar amount of the payments, the interval between payments, the number of payments or the period of time over which the payments shall be made, modification for hardship or unforeseen circumstances, posting of adequate security, and any other factor the court deems relevant under the circumstances. After each party has submitted a proposal, the court shall select the proposal which in the discretion of the court and the interests of justice best provides for the future needs of the claimant and enter judgment according to the proposal selected.

(3) If the court enters a judgment for periodic payments and any security required by the judgment is not posted within thirty days, the court shall enter a judgment for the payment of future damages in a lump sum.

(4) If at any time following entry of judgment for periodic payments, a judgment debtor fails for any reason to make a payment in a timely fashion according to the terms of the judgment, the judgment creditor may petition the court for an order requiring payment by the judgment debtor of the outstanding payments in a lump sum. In calculating the amount of the lump sum judgment, the court shall total the remaining periodic payments due and owing to the judgment creditor converted to present value. The court may also require payment of interest on the outstanding judgment.

(5) Upon the death of the judgment creditor, the court which rendered the original judgment may, upon petition of any party in interest, modify the judgment to award and apportion the unpaid future damages. Money damages awarded for loss of future earnings shall not be reduced or payments terminated by reason of the death of the judgment creditor.

(6) Upon satisfaction of a periodic payment judgment, any obligation of the judgment debtor to make further payments shall cease and any security posted pursuant to this section shall revert to the judgment debtor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Section 5, chapter 56, Laws of 1975-76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 4.56-.240 are each repealed."

Beginning on page 5 of the amendment, after line 24, strike all the material down to and including "chapter." on page 6, line 29

Remumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 21 of the amendment, after line 3, strike all the material down to and including "repealed." on line 7

Remumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Beginning on page 21 of the amendment, after line 20, strike all the material down to and including "involved." on page 22, line 27

Remumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 26 of the amendment, after line 8, strike all the material down to and including "action." on line 34

Remumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Mr. McMullen: "This amendment -- I might remind the body that the first thing we are supposed to do is perfect any amendment before we strike it and that's the purpose of these amendments, to perfect the existing amendment, the committee amendment. This amendment is word-for-word from the proposal by the Representative from the 7th District. Word-for-word. I believe it is a better form than the committee amendment and therefore, I am asking you to adopt this amendment."

Mr. Bristow: "I guess I need to say that I disagree with my colleague from the 40th District. I think this is inappropriate and I ask you to vote 'no' on the amendment."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. McMullen yielded to question by Mr. G. Nelson.

Mr. G. Nelson: "Representative McMullen, we still have another action within this amendment beyond what you have described thus far. I would like to have you describe to the body on amendment 622, toward the bottom of the page where you are striking Section 202 from the Judiciary Committee amendment to the bill. I would be pleased to hear exactly what it is in the way of intent as to why you are striking that section."

Mr. McMullen: "As I mentioned, my intention is to try to perfect the committee amendment. The committee amendment, among other things, contains offers of settlement which the language from the soon-to-be propounded amendment as we understand does not contain. Therefore, it is entirely consistent with the following amendment from the Representative from the 7th District. Therefore, both the additional language and the ensuing language are identical with the Bristow amendment."

Mr. Ballard: "Urging you to vote no; it is not the same as the amendment that is following. It does not give discretion to the court to alter proposals. Vote 'no.'"

The amendments to the amendment were not adopted.

The Clerk read the following amendments by Representatives McMullen and Niemi to the committee amendment:

On page 1 of the amendment after line 4, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, a member of the board of directors or an officer of any nonprofit corporation is not civilly liable for any act or omission in the course and scope of his or her official capacity unless the act or omission constitutes gross negligence.

(2) Nothing in this section shall limit or modify in any manner the duties or liabilities of a director or officer of a corporation to the corporation or the corporation's shareholders."

On page 1 of the amendment, after line 4, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 48.22 RCW to read as follows:

The commissioner shall by regulation require insurers authorized to write casualty insurance in this state to form a market assistance plan to assist persons and other entities unable to purchase casualty insurance in an adequate amount from either the admitted market or nonadmitted market.

For the purpose of this section, a market assistance plan means a voluntary mechanism by insurers writing casualty insurance in this state in either the admitted or nonadmitted market to provide casualty insurance for a class of insurance designated in writing to the plan by the commissioner.

The bylaws and method of operation of any market assistance plan shall be approved by the commissioner prior to its operation.

A market assistance plan shall have a minimum of twenty-five insurers willing to insure risks within the class designated by the commissioner. If twenty-five insurers do not voluntarily agree to participate, the commissioner may require casualty insurers to participate in a market assistance plan as a condition of continuing to do business in this state. The commissioner shall make such a requirement to fulfill the quota of at least twenty-five insurers. The commissioner shall make his or her designation on the basis of the insurer's premium volume of casualty insurance in this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 48.19 RCW to read as follows:

The commissioner shall, in reviewing a casualty rate filing, determine in accordance with sound and reliable actuarial principles whether this act requires an insurer to grant its policyholders a credit in such casualty rate filing. Upon determining that data in support of such a credit is actuarially credible, the commissioner shall approve or disapprove such casualty rate filing in accordance therewith. The commissioner shall not approve any casualty rate that is inadequate, excessive, or unfairly discriminatory."
NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The commissioner shall, as chairman of the tort reform study commission, require the task force to study the effectiveness of joint underwriting authorities throughout the United States to specifically determine:

(1) The price as it relates to a filed Insurance Services Organization rate;
(2) The solvency of such mechanisms;
(3) The effect it has on the admitted market;
(4) The effect it has on the nonadmitted market;
(5) The effect or availability on the voluntary market; and
(6) What effect it has on lines or classes of insurance not designated.

On page 1 of the amendment, after line 4, insert the following:

(3) No defendant shall be liable to any claimant in an action for personal injury or property damage for noneconomic losses exceeding the average annual wage multiplied by sixty percent of the life expectancy of the claimant as calculated under subsection (b) of this section.

In applying the limits of this subsection, claims for loss of consortium, loss of society and companionship, and destruction of the parent-child relationship which are asserted by one who did not actually sustain bodily injury shall be added to any claims for noneconomic damages sustained by a claimant who did incur bodily injury.

(a) For purposes of determining noneconomic losses, no calculation for persons age sixty years or older shall be based on a life expectancy of less than fifteen years.

(b) The office of the administrator of the courts shall develop and publish annually the schedule for noneconomic damages utilizing the life expectancy tables adopted by the Washington state insurance commissioner.

On page 10 of the amendment beginning on line 2 strike all the material down to and including on page 11, line 27.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 30 of the amendment, line 2, after ‘209’ strike ‘303.’
On page 30 of the amendment, line 9, after ‘210,’ strike ‘304.’

With the consent of the House, Mr. McMullen withdrew the amendments.

Mr. McMullen moved adoption of the following amendments by Representatives McMullen and Niemi to the committee amendment:

On page 1, after line 4 insert the following:

Sec. 1. Section 11, chapter 27, Laws of 1981 and RCW 4.22.030 are each amended to read as follows:

If more than one person is liable to a claimant on an indivisible claim for the same injury, death or harm, the liability of such persons shall be joint and several, except that a person whose percentage of fault is less than allocated to the claimant is liable to the claimant for no more than three times that person's own percentage of the damages, not to exceed the total amount of damages awarded by the trier of fact.

On page 11 of the amendment after line 27 strike everything down to and including ‘V’ on page 12, line 8.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Mr. McMullen: ‘This is the attempt to find a resolution to the ‘joint and several’ problem which was the last hold-up in trying to resolve this entire tort reform problem. I could use the analysis from where the state of Washington is coming, in my opinion. on ‘joint and several’ is retained from an old, old system where if the plaintiff was one percent at fault, that plaintiff could not even get in the courtroom doors. We’ve gone clear to the present state of affairs in ‘joint and several’. I feel that the state of Washington has gone by a pendulum swing from a one, clear to a
I sincerely feel that we ought to bring that pendulum back. This obviously is not the position of the trial lawyers; none of my amendments are the position of the trial lawyers. They are not at all in accord with what I am offering today. This is a good faith effort to resolve this. This amendment I submit brings that pendulum back to about a six. The amendment which will be offered later on by Representative Bristow, in my opinion, takes us back to about a two, back to the dark ages where the entire trial will be by the defense trying to find the plaintiff wrong, even one percent, rather than to fully evaluate the damages. This amendment is addressing those concerns of the counties and municipalities, where for a five percent negligent standard, they happen to have been brought in for a deep pocket. This says if the plaintiff is more negligent than those counties and municipalities, then his or her recovery is limited to three times the percentage allotted to the county or municipality. I feel this is a fair appraisal and I would hope you will adopt this amendment."

Mr. Bristow: "This is an inconsistent and inappropriate amendment and I urge you to vote no.

Mr. Ballard: "Urging a 'no' vote on the amendment; a 'no' vote.

A division was called.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendments by Representatives McMullen and Niemi to page 1 of the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630, and the amendments were not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 35; nays, 62; excused, 1.

Excused: Representative van Dyke - 1.

Mr. P. King moved adoption of the following amendments by Representatives P. King and Wang to the committee amendment:

On page 1 of the amendment, after line 4, insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 19.03, chapter 79, Laws of 1947 and RCW 48.19.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Rates shall be used, subject to the other provisions of this chapter, only if made in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) In the case of insurances under standard fire policies and that part of marine and transportation insurances not exempted under RCW 48.19.010, manual, minimum, class or classification rates, rating schedules or rating plans, shall be made and adopted; except as to specific rates on inland marine risks individually rated, which risks are not reasonably susceptible to manual or schedule rating, and which risks by general custom of the business are not written according to manual rates or rating plans.

(2) In the case of casualty and surety insurances:

(a) The systems of expense provisions included in the rates for use by any insurer or group of insurers may differ from those of other insurers or groups of insurers to reflect the requirements of the operating methods of any such insurer or group with respect to any kind of insurance, or with respect to any subdivision or combination thereof for which subdivision or combination separate expense provisions are applicable.

(b) Risks may be grouped by classifications for the establishment of rates and minimum premiums. Classification rates may be modified to produce rates for individual risks in accordance with rating plans which establish standards for measuring variations in hazards or expense provisions, or both. Such standards may measure any differences among risks that can be demonstrated to have a probable effect upon losses or expenses.

(3) Due consideration in making rates for all insurances shall be given to:

(a) Past and prospective loss experience within and outside this state(....end); PROVIDED, That, in the case of rates for fire insurance, due consideration shall be given to the loss experience of insurers as to insurance against fire during a period of not less than the most recent five-year period for which such experience is available. In addition, casualty rates and rating schedules shall be supported, whenever possible, by loss experience for this state. If such information is not available or is not statistically credible, an insurer may use loss experience from the state of Idaho, Montana, and Oregon in support of a rate filing or rating schedule. Loss experience from states other than Washington, Idaho, Montana, and Oregon may be used in support of a rate filing or rating schedule only after it has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the loss experience from those states is either not available or is not statistically credible.

(b) Conflagration and catastrophe hazards, where present.

(c) A reasonable margin for underwriting profit and contingencies.

(d) Dividends, savings and unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers.

(e) All other relevant factors within and outside this state.

(4) In addition to other factors required by this section, rates filed by an insurer on its own behalf may also be related to the insurer's plan of operation and plan of risk classification.

(5) Except to the extent necessary to comply with RCW 48.19.020 uniformity among insurers in any matter within the scope of this section is neither required nor prohibited.

(6) No filing pursuant to the requirements of this chapter may be made which would constitute more than a fifteen percent increase over the rate in use one year before the date of filing; PROVIDED. That upon a finding that this limitation would operate to require actuarially unsound insurance practices, the commissioner may waive the limitation. No insurance company may cancel a policy as the result of this limitation.

On page 22, beginning on line 28, strike all material through line 30 on page 25
Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

Mr. P. King: "This amendment, if you look at it, isn't going to be in the Bristow striking amendment, so I ask you to pay attention. This is something you can take back home to your voters and say that you did something about insurance rate increases. This puts back up in the language before the Bristow striking amendment, the limitation of fifteen percent and also puts the experience rating for Washington insurers. As you know, and many have been told over and over again, our rates are based on national rates; they are not based on Washington experience. Many other states have punitive damages. This would just make that playing field level for Washington, so we would get the benefits of our experience here in the state. I urge the adoption. There will be not another chance to vote on this because the Bristow striking amendment will probably go through. I urge you to take this back home to your voters."

Mr. Bristow: "I think this insurance issue will be more appropriately covered in subsequent amendments as we perfect the committee amendment, so I will urge you to vote 'no' on this amendment."

Mr. Ballard: "Vote 'no' on the amendment. Vote 'no.'"

Mr. P. King: "Don't listen to that. The fact of the matter is that is not going to be brought up. This is your last chance to do something for the ratepayers in your district. Vote 'yes' on this."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendments by Representatives
P. King and Wang to page 1 of the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630, and the amendments were not adopted by the following vote:
Yees, 38; nays, 59; excused.

Mr. P. King moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives
P. King and Wang to the committee amendment:

On page 1 of the amendment, after line 4, insert the following:
"Sec. 1. Section 1, chapter 26, Laws of 1975 as amended by section 2, chapter 147, Laws of 1983 and RCW 4.56.115 are each amended to read as follows:

Judgments founded on the tortious conduct of the state of Washington or of the political subdivisions, municipal corporations, and quasi municipal corporations of the state, whether acting in their governmental or proprietary capacities, shall bear interest from the date of filing of the action upon which the judgment is based at the maximum rate permitted under RCW 19.52.020 on the date of filing. PROVIDED, That in any case where a court is directed on review to enter judgment on a verdict or in any case where a judgment entered on a verdict is wholly or partly affirmed on review, interest on the judgment or on that portion of the judgment affirmed shall date back to and shall accrue from the date the verdict was rendered.

Mr. P. King: "This is another one that isn’t going to be in the Bristow striking amendment and I urge you to consider it. This is really a business amendment. What it says is that you get interest from the time you file your lawsuit. So if you are in a business lawsuit and you have to wait around for four years to get your judgment, you don’t get that money that you would have incurred on the judgment between the four years and if it goes for appeal it might go three or four years beyond that, so seven years without interest on a business judgment that you could have had. This is just a matter of fairness. This is making the playing field a little level, getting it back where it should have been a long time ago. I urge your support and don’t listen to this..."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Barrett: "For the second time, the speaker has made reference to other arguments, which have been made or will be made, in a very derogatory manner."

The Speaker: "Representative Barrett, you perhaps anticipated what he was going to say and I did not hear him say—he did not complete the sentence. He didn’t get an opportunity. Perhaps he’d like to complete the sentence and maybe you will have a point."

Mr. P. King: "I think the other argument was a little bit felonious and I was worried about their comments."

Mr. Bristow: "I would like to assure my colleague from the 44th District that we mean him no harm and would ask you to vote against this inappropriate amendment."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Representatives P. King and Wang to page 1 of the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote:

Yeas, 46; nays, 51; excused, 1.

Excused: Representative van Dyke - 1.

Mr. P. King moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On page 1 of the amendment, after line 4, insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. Limitations on noneconomic damages shall not be applicable under any provisions of this act when the following actions seeking damages for personal injury or death are involved:

(1) Limitations do not apply to actions for the loss of both parents by a minor claimant.

(2) Limitations do not apply to actions in which the claimant’s injuries have resulted in the loss of both arms.
(3) Limitations do not apply to actions in which the claimant's injuries have resulted in the complete loss of sight in both eyes.

(4) Limitations do not apply to actions in which the claimant's injuries have rendered the claimant paraplegic.

(5) Limitations do not apply to actions in which the claimant's injuries have rendered the claimant quadriplegic.

(6) Limitations do not apply to actions in which the claimant's injuries resulted from the escape of a convict.

(7) Limitations do not apply to actions in which the claimant's injuries have resulted in permanent sexual dysfunction.

(8) Limitations do not apply to actions in which the claimant's injuries resulted from the negligent failure of a law enforcement agency to respond to a call.

(9) Limitations do not apply to actions in which the claimant's injuries resulted from rape.

(10) Limitations do not apply to actions for the loss of a mother by a child under five years of age.

(11) Limitations do not apply to actions in which the claimant's injuries resulted from asbestosis.

(12) Limitations do not apply to actions in which the claimant's injuries resulted from toxic poisoning.

(13) Limitations do not apply to actions in which the claimant has no children and, as a result of the injuries, is physically unable to procreate or bear children.

(14) Limitations do not apply to actions in which the claimant's injuries resulted from the actions of a person driving or in physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

(15) Limitations do not apply to actions in which the claimant is a victim of AIDS incurred from causes other than homosexual acts.

Mr. P. King: "This amendment is really in response to a lot of correspondence that we've had here from organizations like MADD and SADD and all those other groups and women's groups and so on. Really, you can go through the list here and there are quite a few. I don't think anybody here wants to be on record as voting to have these people limited in their rights. Really, it is a sad situation to limit somebody when a drunk driver smashes into somebody, and here we are limiting their recovery; or a certain woman is raped and many of you read that letter that we received from the psychologists the other day about a woman who was raped and where they had her rights limited. I urge you strongly to support this. Take these poor people out. Listen to your constituents and vote the right way."

Mr. Bristow: "I think this body, as we move to truly perfect this bill, will show that our hearts are in the right place. I think this is an attempt to do damage to this bill and I would urge you to vote against this amendment."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Representative P. King to page 1 of the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 34; nays, 63; excused, 1.

Excused: Representative van Dyke - 1.

Mr. Wang moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Wang, Niemi and Dellwo to the committee amendment:

On page 5, beginning on line 8 strike all of Part II, sections 201 through 210.

Mr. Wang: "This amendment is the same as the Padden amendment which was withdrawn. This is the first of a series of several amendments which have been prepared which adopts coalition language and attempts to perfect the committee amendment which is before us. The coalition has not opposed, as I understand it—-I talked to the gentleman from the 7th District—the coalition is not opposed to this language. I would hope this will be the first amendment to be adopted here in an attempt to perfect the bill before us. The issue of what this amendment would do would be to strike the provisions currently in the bill which deal with offers of settlement. When we first started to respond to this problem last fall, this was one of the alternatives that I was considering in terms of introducing—proposing—some provisions dealing with offers of settlement in which attorney fees could be paid by the losing party under certain circumstances. This would be, however, a major shift in the whole philosophy of jurisprudence of going from one party paying to the other party paying for attorney fees. The problems are that it really leads to an inequity in many situations. For example, if you've got one defendant who is insured and, on the other hand, the person is a very poor person who is a plaintiff, the incentive is all there; the plaintiff has nothing to lose and the incentive is there for the plaintiff not to settle. On the other hand, going the other way, if you've got a middle class plaintiff, the plaintiff has a lot to lose and an attorney would almost have to advise the person to accept whatever settlement there was even if it's not a fair settlement, because the person can't afford to hold out. The offers of settlement provision that were in the committee proposal are well-intentioned, but they are not going to work and they are going to leave some inequities. I would hope that you would join me in supporting this amendment which simply strikes that, consistent with the coalition proposal and consistent with making the language conform with the coalition proposal without attempting to insert language in the gap at page 1, line 6. This puts the language in the text of the bill. I would urge your support.

Mr. Padden: "Also urging your support of the amendment, this was offered in the Judiciary Committee and lost on a tie vote, but I think, as far as I know, there is no real support among either defense of plaintiff bar for this. It is not in the striking amendment that is coming because it is recognized as being unworkable. The offers of settlement that we have now in current law, pertain to offers under $7500.00 and are meant to keep the smaller cases out of the courts. I think there is widespread opposition to abandoning that and I would simply urge that you vote 'yes.'"

Mr. Bristow: "I certainly don't object to this truly perfecting amendment and I urge you to vote your conscience.*

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Wang moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Wang, Locke and Dellwo to the committee amendment:

-NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:
  The court shall, upon petition by a named party in any tort action, except those provided for in RCW 7.70.070, determine the reasonableness of that party's attorneys' fees. The court shall take into consideration the following:
  1. The time and labor required, the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved, and the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly;
  2. The likelihood, if apparent to the client, that the acceptance of the particular employment will preclude other employment by the lawyer;
  3. The fee customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services;
  4. The amount involved and the results obtained;
  5. The time limitations imposed by the client or by the circumstances;
  6. The nature and length of the professional relationship with the client;
  7. The experience, reputation, and ability of the lawyer or lawyers performing the services;
  8. Whether the fee is fixed or contingent;
  9. Whether the fixed or contingent fee agreement was in writing and whether the client was aware of his or her right to petition the court under this section.

-NEW SECTION. Sec. 202. Section 201 of this act applies to agreements for attorney's fees entered into after the effective date of this section.*

Mr. Wang: "This also would give the coalition version in dealing with attorney fees. It places it in the committee amendment language. The concept here is to require a court to review what reasonable attorney fees would be in a court situation upon the request of the party to the case. There is not the thirty-day limitation that's in the committee language and this allows for a petition by the party as opposed to the party's attorney. It's perfecting language identical to the coalition language and I would urge your support of it."

Mr. Bristow: "Here, again, is another perfecting amendment which I can't object to and I urge you to vote your conscience."

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Locke moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Locke, Wang and Dellwo to the committee amendment:

On page 11 of the committee amendment, after line 26, insert the following:

LIMITATION ON NONECONOMIC DAMAGES
NEW SECTION. Sec. 401. A new section is added to chapter 4.56 RCW to read as follows:
(1) As used in this section, the following terms have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise.
(a) 'Economic damages' means objectively verifiable monetary losses, including medical expenses, loss of earnings, burial costs, loss of use of property, cost of replacement or repair, cost of obtaining substitute domestic services, loss of employment, and loss of business or employment opportunities.
(b) 'Noneconomic damages' means subjective, nonmonetary losses, including, but not limited to pain, suffering, inconvenience, mental anguish, disability or disfigurement incurred by the injured party, emotional distress, loss of society and companionship, loss of consortium, injury to reputation and humiliation, and destruction of the parent-child relationship.
(c) 'Bodily injury' means physical injury, sickness, or disease.
(d) 'Average annual wage' means the average annual wage in the state of Washington as determined under RCW 50.04.355.

(2) In no action seeking damages for personal injury or death may a claimant recover a judgment for noneconomic damages exceeding an amount determined by multiplying 0.43 by the average annual wage and by the life expectancy of the person incurring noneconomic damages. For purposes of determining the maximum amount allowable for noneconomic damages, a claimant's life expectancy shall not be less than fifteen years. The limitation contained in this subsection applies to all claims for noneconomic damages made by a claimant who incurred bodily injury. Claims for loss of consortium, loss of society and companionship, destruction of the parent-child relationship, and all other derivative claims asserted by persons who did not sustain bodily injury are to be included within the limitation on claims for noneconomic damages arising from the same bodily injury.

(3) If a case is tried to a jury, the jury shall not be informed of the limitation contained in subsection (2) of this section."

Renumber the parts and sections following consecutively, and correct internal references accordingly.

Mr. Locke: "This is again an attempt to perfect the committee amendment to make it as close as possible to the coalition version. This language was taken verbatim from the coalition package. I urge your adoption."

Mr. Bristow: "There is certainly no way that we can object to this amendment."

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Sayan moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On page 12, line 2 after "several" strike everything through line 7 and insert "$ Subject to the limits established in this section a defendant whose percentage of fault is determined to be less than the fault attributable to the claimant shall not be required to pay an amount greater than twice the damages attributable to the defendant. A defendant whose percentage of fault is greater than that attributable to the claimant shall not be required to pay an amount greater than three times the damage attributable to the defendant.""

Mr. Sayan: "This is a good-faith effort to perfect the amendment and simply provide for a more equitable distribution on the basis of percentage of claim, and it puts a cap on the deep pocket and also provides that the plaintiff has some relief. Unfortunately in 1973 when this legislation was passed originally, this kind of idea was overlooked and this brings it back toward equity in the litigation. I urge its adoption."

Mr. Bristow: "We have no position on this amendment. It would be stricken by the striking amendment and language along this subject would be reinserted."
The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Locke moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Locke, Wang and Dellwo to the committee amendment:

On page 11 of the committee amendment, beginning on line 29, strike all of section 401 and insert the following:

"Sec. 401. Section 11, chapter 27, Laws of 1981 and RCW 4.22.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsections (2) and (4) of this section, if more than one person is liable to a claimant on an indivisible claim for the same injury, death or harm, the liability of such persons shall be joint and several.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, a person whose percentage of fault is less than that allocated to the claimant is liable to the claimant only for the person’s own percentage of the damages.

(3) Subsection (2) of this section does not apply to:

(a) A cause of action involving a violation of any state or local law relating to solid wastes, hazardous wastes or substances, air, water, or high or low level radioactive wastes or substances;

(b) A cause of action involving the manufacture or marketing of a product causing injury to the claimant that cannot be attributed to the conduct of a particular defendant and in which the conduct of all defendants is simultaneous in time or poses substantially the same risk of harm to the claimant. The fault of each defendant in such a cause of action shall be determined on a market-share basis; or

(c) A cause of action arising under Title 51 RCW.

(4) The state or a county, city, town, municipal corporation, quasi-municipal corporation, special district, or other governmental entity that is liable on a claim is liable only for the entity’s own percentage of fault.

(5) In an action in which a right of contribution exists under RCW 4.22.040, the court shall determine, upon a motion made not later than one year after judgment is entered, whether all or part of a liable party’s share of the judgment is uncollectible. If the court so finds, it shall reallocate the uncollectible amount among all other parties who were allocated a percentage of fault, including a claimant at fault, according to the ratios of their respective percentages of fault. In determining whether a share is uncollectible, the court shall consider the current and future availability and extent of resources from which collection might be made, the current and future ability of the party seeking reallocation to collect the share, and the reasonableness of the efforts made by the party seeking reallocation to collect the share. The party whose share is reallocated is nonetheless subject to contribution and to any continuing liability to the claimant on the judgment."

Mr. Appelwick: "The joint/several proposal has been much debated and there seems to be the core of what everybody is being so protective of. The proposal that the coalition has put forth is defective in several regards. The amendment before you put the combination of the Oregon approach, which says you have joint and several liability unless the plaintiff is more negligent than the defendant. It further adds what was previously the Locke amendment which, in case one of those jointly and severally liable defendants is negligent and is insolvent, that insolvent party’s loss is apportioned between the plaintiff and the defendant in relative proportion to where they are. The criticism of the existing tort law is that it’s unfair because when someone is insolvent, the other defendant bears the whole risk of loss from that insolvency. If that’s true, then the joint and several proposal that is being advanced in the striking amendment by the gentlemen from the 7th and 12th, is equally unfair and is equally ridiculous because it shifts the total risk of loss to the plaintiff whenever the plaintiff has even one percent of negligence involved in the case. What we are proposing is that this be apportioned between the defendant and the plaintiff who is not insolvent in relative proportion to their fault. In addition, the amendment says that municipal governments are always only severally liable. I mentioned the baby doctor problem before, where the obstetricians and gynecologists had a real problem, for all those people who are driven to support this amendment to take care of local government, this does it much better; much more straightforward without any exception than does the striking amendment you are talking about. There is a further concern in the amendment, and that is you require in the the striking amendment, the defense of the empty chair. It totally undercuts settlement and that fact and that problem do not exist in this amendment. This is a much better approach and I urge your support for it."
Mr. Padden: "I also urge support. I guess I have some concerns on this. I basically favor the language that currently is in the House Judiciary Committee amendment which is the Oregon language, pure and simple. This provides additional protection to some municipalities that I think goes beyond the committee amendment, but I think it is far, far more preferable than what is in the striking amendment to come, which does away with joint and several, and I think will produce some really harsh results in the real world. This approach will take care of those extreme examples of somebody who is five percent at fault, and yet is paying one hundred percent of the damages. It is especially protective of the municipalities in the state, so I would urge it and ask you to consider it as a worthy alternative to the proposal that is in coalition."

Mr. Bristow: "In the proposal that, I guess, has become affectionately known as the coalition provision, in the case of an innocent injured party involved with a suit involving municipalities, that innocent injured party could recover in full, so the flaw to me in this amendment is that an injured innocent party involved in a lawsuit with a municipality could not recover in full if the defendant were insolvent. I just hope that you will seriously consider that implication as you vote on this measure."

Mr. McMullen: "On a scale of one to ten, as I mentioned before, this comes back to about a five. It's a further swing even yet. What I would ask you to do is compare this to the coming coalition proposal. The coming coalition proposal, if you read it carefully, says to the defense attorney, 'Your job is to go into court and do nothing but find the plaintiff one percent liable.' That's to get out of joint and several. That's all they have to do. Therefore, the defense, rather than talking about how the accident happened or talking about damages or anything else, their first charge is to find the plaintiff one percent negligent. Also, if you take a look at the coming proposal, it talks about releasing entities immune from action. Remember that proposal also sets an eight-year statute of limitations for all doctors, unlike anybody else; so, if a doctor and somebody else is involved in a lawsuit and the lawsuit is brought in the ninth year, the doctor is immune. The doctor can then come into court and say it was all his fault and take one hundred percent of the blame and the other wrongful party gets ten percent. How do you go after a doctor who admits total liability in a lawsuit in order to protect some other body? I don't think people have sat down and thought of the ramifications of what that coalition proposal means. It will handicap the juries. It will handicap the injured parties and it will be a field day for defense lawyers. I think this is a fair and just allocation and I urge you to adopt this amendment."

Mr. Wang: "I would also urge your support for this proposal. I think that the discussion by the gentleman from the 7th District also points to some of the fairness that can be found in this proposal. The example would be what happens if the plaintiff is not at all at fault. Under the coalition proposal you still have the deep pocket. Municipal government would still be entirely liable and you still would have the inequities and the criticisms of the current system of joint and several liability. Under this proposal, it would solve that problem. This proposal would say that the local government or state government, whatever governmental entity it is, would be liable only for the portion of fault they have. It would solve that deep pocket problem. More importantly though, this proposal deals with the problem of trial tactics that otherwise you would get into, which the gentleman from the 40th District referred to. The situation in which it is easy to try to find even one percent fault on the part of the plaintiff and, indeed, defense attorneys would naturally, of course, try to find one percent fault because once they did that, then you've got a problem with eliminating joint and several liability just by finding one percent fault. You can find one percent fault so easily comparatively. You can do it in the form of a taillight that is out. We're talking about a whole range of things. We're talking about your basic car crash, your simple little fender-bender, everything; we're not talking about just million dollar medical malpractice cases. We're talking about the little fender-benders also. This is going to cause all kinds of problems and all kinds of difficulties with trial tactics. I would urge you to consider and support this proposal."
Mr. Appelwick: "Just briefly, you know in the negotiations that went on, the coalition rejected the version that didn't have the municipal liability. I think that argument's a red herring. You need to understand that the number of current lawsuits in which the plaintiff has some liability and whom you will cut off from having access to joint several liability far exceeds the number where you will have—there will be immunity for municipal plaintiff by the governmental immunity. You are clearly cutting off people who have bodily injury or property damage from recovering that loss under this proposal. If you reject this amendment and adopt the coalition striking amendment, there is no doubt in my mind, and there shouldn't be in yours, that that's the harm you will inflict."

Mr. Ballard: "Urging you to vote against the amendment, the red herring is, quite frankly, that we are talking about one percent all the time, in the real world that just simply doesn't happen in the court. Prior to 1973, we talked about bringing it back to equal, prior to 1973 this simply didn't exist. I would urge you to reject this amendment and support the coalition amendment."

Mr. Padden: "Just to point out that we are not dealing here with the coalition amendment. We're dealing with the Judiciary Committee amendment and we're trying to perfect that amendment to make it a worthy amendment. You still will have an opportunity to vote for or against the coalition striking amendment later on. This certainly is closer to the coalition amendment than what is in the bill right now. With that supposition, I think we should vote for the amendment."

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Locke moved adoption of the following amendments by Representatives Locke, Wang and Dellwo to the committee amendment:

- On page 12, line 13 after "a" insert "complete"
- On page 12, after line 23 insert the following:

  Sec. 502. Section I, chapter 80, Laws of 1971 as amended by section I, chapter 56, Laws of 1975-76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 4.16.350 are each amended to read as follows:

  Any civil action for damages for injury occurring as a result of health care, which is provided after June 25, 1976, against:

  (I) A person licensed by this state to provide health care or related services, including, but not limited to, a physician, osteopathic physician, dentist, nurse, optometrist, podiatrist, chiropractor, physical therapist, psychologist, pharmacist, optician, physician's assistant, osteopathic physician's assistant, nurse practitioner, or physician's trained mobile intensive care paramedic, including, in the event such person is deceased, his estate or personal representative;

  (2) An employee or agent of a person described in subsection (1) of this section, acting in the course and scope of his employment, including, in the event such employee or agent is deceased, his estate or personal representative; or

  (3) An entity, whether or not incorporated, facility, or institution employing one or more persons described in subsection (1) of this section, including, but not limited to, a hospital, clinic, health maintenance organization, or nursing home; or an officer, director, employee, or agent thereof acting in the course and scope of his employment, including, in the event such officer, director, employee, or agent is deceased, his estate or personal representative:

  based upon alleged professional negligence shall be commenced within three years of the act or omission alleged to have caused the injury or condition, or one year of the time the patient or his representative discovered or reasonably should have discovered that the injury or condition was caused by said act or omission, whichever period expires later, except that in no event shall an action be commenced more than eight years after such act or omission: PROVIDED, That the time for commencement of an action is tolled upon proof of fraud, intentional concealment, or the presence of a foreign body not intended to have a therapeutic diagnostic purpose or effect.

  For purposes of this section, notwithstanding RCW 4.16.190, the knowledge of a custodial parent or guardian shall be imputed to a person under the age of eighteen years. Any action not commenced in accordance with this section shall be barred (C: PROVIDED, That the limitations in this section shall not apply to persons under a legal disability as defined in RCW 4.16.190)."

Mr. Locke: "This is another attempt to perfect the committee amendment to bring it closer in line with the so-called coalition version. This adopts the coalition proposal of the statute of limitations, saying that the knowledge of the parents is attributed to the child so that the lawsuit would have to be brought within the statute of limitations regardless of the age of the child, that a parent would have to bring it. It would effectively cut down the number of lawsuits and would force parents to exercise their parental responsibilities in doing what is best for the child. I urge your adoption of this amendment."

Mr. McMullen: "I think I can predict the outcome of some of these amendments, but I would just like to remind you of what you are doing here. This, in essence, is a three-year statute of limitations on a birth case. Three years, when the parents for reasons of religion, for reasons of lack of knowledge, for reasons for living up-river in the state of Washington, for reasons that they trust their doctors, don't file a lawsuit within three years. They come into court and they face their own doctor saying, 'I told them that there was a problem during delivery and they just didn't hear me.' Now that makes a three-year statute of limitations. At the most, we're going to go eight. I offered eight for baby doctors earlier, but this is down to three years. We're taking away the rights of minors and we're saying that the parents know about that. The doctors said they knew about it, and they have a three-year statute of limitations. Three years—they don't even have time to start talking and walking and go through tests to see if there is something wrong with them, and we're going to just say 'tough.' Now, if you want to go ahead and vote for it, I suppose you are going to, but I want you to know what you are voting for. I urge you to oppose this amendment."

The amendment was not adopted.

Mr. Appelwick moved adoption of the following amendments to the committee amendment:

On page 16 of the amendment beginning on line 16 strike everything through "year." on page 17, line 31 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 801. (1) In an action for personal injuries, wrongful death, or property damage in which a verdict or award of future damages is in excess of the amount established under subsection (4) of this section, the court shall, at the request of a party, enter a judgment for periodic installments of such future damages as provided in this chapter.

(2) The court shall enter judgment in lump sum for past damages, noneconomic damages, attorney fees, if any, costs, and litigation expenses of the plaintiff.

(3) If a judgment for periodic installments is to be entered under subsection (1) of this section, the court prior to entry of judgment shall request each party to submit a proposal for periodic payment of such future damages to compensate the claimant. Proposals shall include the following provisions:

(a) The name of the recipient or recipients of the payments, the dollar amount of the payments:

(b) The intervals between payments:

(c) The number of payments or the period of time over which the payments shall be made;

(d) Modification for hardship;

(e) Posting of adequate security:

(f) Payment of interest; and

(g) Any other factor the court deems relevant under the circumstances.

After each party has submitted a proposal, the court shall select, modify, or develop a payment plan which, in the discretion of the court and the interests of justice, best provides for the future needs of the claimant. Any proposal for periodic installments of ten years or more approved by the court must guarantee payments for a minimum of ten years.

(4) On the effective date of this section, the minimum amount referenced in subsection (1) of this section shall be one hundred thousand dollars. On July 1, 1987, and on July 1 of each year thereafter, the office of the administrator for the courts shall adjust the minimum amount in accordance with the change in the federal consumer price index during the previous year."

On page 19 of the amendment, beginning on line 5, strike everything through "creditor." on line 32, and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 804. In cases in which future damages are payable in periodic installments under this chapter:

(1) Unless otherwise agreed between the parties, payment of future medical damages shall continue to be paid to the estate of the judgment creditor only for as long as necessary to enable the estate to satisfy medical expenses of the judgment creditor that were due and owing at the time of death, which resulted from the injury for which damages were awarded, and do not exceed the dollar amount of the total payments for such future medical damages outstanding at the time of death. PROVIDED, That the balance of the ten-year guarantee provided for in section 401 of this act shall not be reduced or terminated by reason of the death of the judgment creditor, but shall be considered part of the estate of the judgment creditor; and

(2) The portion of any periodic payment allocable to loss of future earnings shall not be reduced or terminated by reason of the death of the judgment creditor, but shall be considered part of the estate of the judgment creditor. In such cases, the court which rendered the original judgment may, upon petition of any party in interest, convert those portions of such periodic payments allocatable to the loss of future earnings to a lump sum by calculating the present value of such payments in order to assist in the settlement of the estate of the judgment creditor."

On page 19 of the amendment, beginning on line 33, strike everything through "accordingly." on page 20, line 33, and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 805. (1) If, at any time after entry of judgment, a judgment creditor or successor in interest can establish that the continued payment of the judgment in periodic installments will impose a hardship, due to a substantial change of circumstances not provided for in the payment plan under section 401 of this act, the court may, in its discretion, order that the remaining payments or a portion thereof shall be made to the judgment creditor in a lump sum. The court shall, before entering such an order, consider the following: (a) Whether unanticipated and substantial medical or other needs have arisen that warrant the payment of the remaining payments, or a portion thereof, in a lump sum; (b) whether ordering such a lump sum payment would impose an unreasonable financial burden on the judgment debtor or debtors; (c) whether ordering such a lump sum payment will accommodate the future medical and other needs of the judgment creditor; and (d) whether ordering such a lump sum payment would further the interests of justice.

(2) If a lump sum payment is ordered by the court, such lump sum shall be calculated on the basis of the present value of remaining periodic payments, or portions thereof, that are converted into a lump sum payment. The remaining future periodic payments, if any, shall be reduced accordingly."

Mr. Appelwick: "These three amendments together are the proposal on periodic payments and this is the language as it was perfected in negotiations between the coalition representative and others who have met over the past week and a half. The approach in this, of course, is to get people together to see if we could avoid this lengthy process today. We talked about if this were a piece of the proposal, what language could we agree on to be perfecting. All of the amendments I am offering today came through that process. They don't come from any place else; from all the parties at the table, this was good language. For the periodic here provides for a lump sum up front for noneconomic damages, they have a guarantee of payments of ten years or more in the installment plan, they have a threshold of $100,000 that's in the coalition version. They have the federal CPI inflator for subsequent years and they have something that's missing in the other one, and that is the statutory right of modification if it gets changed for some unforeseen circumstances. That is, if something happens down the road and the plan that has been entered won't work, you have the right under statute to go to the court and ask to have that modified. The coalition didn't adopt that language and I don't frankly know why. It says that the plan itself may provide some modifications, but frankly, just think of all the mistakes that we found in this bill that is being drafted today by competent attorneys downstairs. There are glitches all over the place and if your plan comes through and the other side is drafting it and the court fixes it, and doesn't put in the modification provision or forgets to even reference it, you are out in the cold. This is a cleanup that is important to protect people who have very large losses, obviously, because they are way above the threshold, who are put on installments or periodic payment, and it's important statutory protection to give these people who have been harmed. I urge your support."

The amendments were adopted.

Mr. Sayan moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On page 21, after line 7 insert:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 807. A new section is added to chapter 4.56 RCW to read as follows:

(1) As used in this section, the following terms have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(a) 'Economic damages' means objectively verifiable monetary losses, including medical expenses, loss of earnings, burial costs, loss of use of property, cost of replacement or repair, cost of obtaining substitute domestic services, loss of employment, loss of business or employment opportunities, and reasonable attorney fees."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct internal references accordingly.

Mr. Sayan: "I think the interesting thing here for the body is that if we realize as lay persons and not as those who are members of the bar, when you figure doctors and out-of-pocket expense, when you pay a special witness to a court, it’s an out-of-pocket expense. I do not understand why we consider paying an attorney to be not an out-of-pocket expense. In fact, it is an out-of-pocket expense. Why should then, an individual who wins an award be required to subtract from that award to pay an out-of-pocket expense? How does it, somehow in the mystical world of law, become a noneconomic damage when everything else you pay out-of-pocket is an economic damage? My amendment simply seeks to provide protection for the plaintiff. There are plaintiffs who have won an award, who end up having to pay expenses out of pocket. They didn’t win anything; they won an award and that left them holding an empty sack. This protects the defendant by separating reasonable attorney fees from pain and suffering and allows the jury to recognize the difference. Finally, it protects the attorneys by providing reasonable attorney fees. There are attorneys who have anticipated a return from their efforts, only to find that they have an adverse result in court. This would insure that reasonable attorney fees, as economic expenses, are provided. It’s unfortunate that we couldn’t come together with all the parties to discuss these issues. Unfortunately the process didn’t lend itself to that and, I’m sure, you are going to hear those speeches later on today. I urge your adoption of this amendment.”

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Locke moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Locke, Wang and Dellwo to the committee amendment:

On page 21, beginning on line 21 strike everything through page 22, line 27 and insert the following:

“NEW SECTION. Sec. 901. A new section is added to chapter 5.40 RCW to read as follows:
A breach of a duty imposed by statute, ordinance, or administrative rule shall not be considered negligence per se, but may be considered by the trier of fact as evidence of negligence; however, any breach of duty as provided by statute, ordinance, or administrative rule relating to electrical fire safety, the use of smoke alarms, or driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, shall be considered negligence per se.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 902. A new section is added to chapter 5.40 RCW to read as follows:
It is a complete defense to an action for damages for personal injury or wrongful death that the person injured or killed was under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug and that such condition contributed more than fifty percent to his or her injuries or death. If the amount of alcohol in a person’s blood is shown by chemical analysis of his or her blood, breath, or other bodily substance to have been 0.10 percent or more by weight of alcohol in the blood, it is conclusive proof that the person was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 903. A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:
A member of the board of directors or a superintendent of any school district is not civilly liable for any act or omission in the course and scope of his or her official capacity unless the act or omission constitutes gross negligence.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct internal references accordingly.

Mr. Locke: “Again, this is a perfecting amendment to the committee amendment to bring it in line with the various elements of the coalition package, merely saying that mere violation of an ordinance or statute is not negligence automatically, that if the plaintiff was a drunk and that person contributed to more than fifty percent of his or her own injuries and it immunizes school board members and school superintendents unless they were grossly negligent.”

Mr. Padden: “This also eliminates the mandatory arbitration provision from the committee amendment which is not part of the striking amendment to come. The committee amendment as it is now raises the limits of mandatory arbitration from $25,000 to $100,000. It just recently has been raised from $15,000 to $25,000, and we don’t feel that is necessary. I would urge your support of the amendment.”

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Wang moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Wang, Locke and Dellwo to the committee amendment:

On page 25 of the committee amendment, line 28 after “filing” and before the period insert “: PROVIDED. That upon a finding that this limitation would operate to require actuarially unsound insurance practices, the commissioner may waive the limitation.”
Mr. Wang: "This provides some flexibility in the insurance provisions of the existing committee amendment which is before us. This provides, where the fifteen percent lid on premium rates of insurance applies, this would allow for some changes to that lid where it would otherwise be actuarially unsound. It would give some needed cushion while still providing protection to the consumer to avoid excessive rate changes in insurance."

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Appelwick moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 27 of the amendment beginning on line 35, strike everything through "jury." on page 28, line 14 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 908. A new section is added to chapter 4.44 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In an action for damages for personal injury, wrongful death, or damage to property, the court shall instruct the jury that if the jury finds a verdict awarding damages, it shall in its verdict specify the damages that have been incurred prior to the verdict and amounts intended to compensate for damages to be incurred in the future. Specification of damages shall include each category of damages considered by the jury.

(2) A party entering into a release, covenant not to sue, or similar agreement entered into by a claimant and a person liable for damages for personal injury, wrongful death, or damage to property, shall include in the agreement a specification of damages for the amount to be paid under the agreement. The agreement shall include specification of damages that have been incurred prior to the agreement and amounts intended to compensate for damages to be incurred in the future, and shall include each category of damages considered by the parties to the agreement. The agreement shall be filed with the clerk of the court."

Mr. Appelwick: "The committee amendment has a very good provision which requires itemized verdicts. Part of the problems in the debate that has ensued over the past week is that all of the rhetoric about how high the pain and suffering awards have been as compared to economic damages. One of the problems in actual practice is that the insurance industry does not like to break down their awards and tell you how much they are giving in terms of pain and suffering, because of the preferential value. I think if we could have this debate based on fact of what is filed in litigation and in what my amendment adds, what is filed in those out of court settlements, then we could have true data on this issue. I urge you to adopt this amendment which will require itemized verdicts and itemized settle agreements to be made a public record, so that you could base, in the future, on not simply supposition, but based in truly fact on what is going on in real practice."

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Padden moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Padden and Hargrove to the committee amendment:

On page 29 of the amendment, after line 36, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 911. A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:

No person may maintain a cause of action or receive an award of damages based on the claim that but for the negligent conduct of another, he or she would have been aborted. This section, however, does not affect rights or duties of parents or health care providers regarding the receiving or giving of information necessary for an informed consent to an abortion procedure."

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct internal references accordingly.

Mr. Padden: "One of the big complaints, and I think this is a justifiable complaint regarding our system, is the effect it has had on the medical community, especially the OB/GYN area. One of the things that causes medical malpractice insurance premium rates to go up is new causes of action. In this state, as a result of the Harbeson v. Parke-Davis case, there was a new cause of action that came about in 1983. It was an action for wrongful birth and wrongful life. I would just like quote briefly from the court decision there. At that time, the Washington State Supreme Court stated, 'Are these developments the first step toward a facist-Orwellian societal attitude of genetic purity or Huxley's Brave New World, or do they provide positive benefits to individual families and all society by avoiding the vast emotional and economic costs of defective children?" The court then indicated that we hold that parents have the right to prevent the birth of a defective child, and the health care provider, a duty relative to that right. The court then went on to indicate that the injury is, in fact, the birth itself. Other states have restricted this cause of action on wrongful life and wrongful birth. I believe the state of Idaho has, and along with their statute of limitations, an eight-year statute of limitations. The information that I have is that the malpractice insurance premiums there for OB/GYNs are about $12,000 a year less than in our state. This bill passed out of the House Judiciary Committee on a 15 to 2 vote in 1983. I would strongly urge you to support this amendment and I feel that without it, and under current law, that as a result of the Harbeson case, a physician can be liable on three different separate series of liability: Failure to diagnose and inform; the performance of an abortion if the mother did not wish to have an abortion, doing such a procedure to be sure the child's right not to be born are protected; and failure to abort and be subject to the child's right to sue for wrongful life. Clearly, this is something that has been supported by the Washington State Medical Association, by their delegates. I would urge your support. I feel very badly that, despite requests, this was not included in the coalition striking amendment, because it would go a long way to help insure our society that they are going to have adequate obstetrical care. I urge your support.

Mr. Armstrong: "I rise in opposition to this amendment and to say that the coalition was correct not to include this amendment in the coalition proposal. No one says by saving this right of action, that a child should not live or should not have been born. The only thing that denial of this amendment says is that when parents have the incredible expense of a Down's syndrome child or a child otherwise born with less than it should have, that the parents will be assisted in paying for the hundreds of thousands of dollars that it costs to raise the child who does turn out to have a birth defect. I urge that you defeat this amendment."

Mr. Hargrove: "The flip side of the argument that was just made is that the doctors, in order to avoid sharing in the expense of this Down's syndrome or retarded child, will be required to suggest or require that the parents have an abortion instead of putting themselves in the liability in that situation. I think we all recognize that medicine is an art and not a science. It is extremely difficult, even with the current state of the art and all the science we have available, to predict all of the birth defects before birth and to insure against this liability. I hope we don't have a situation in the future where doctors feel compelled, in order to avoid the chance of liability in this area, to recommend abortion for their patients even when they only have the slightest suspicion that there might be something wrong with that unborn child. I would urge your support for this amendment."

Mr. Wang: "I would urge your opposition to this amendment. The Harbeson case, which has been referred to, is a case which has generated a lot of misunderstanding and a lot of emotional furor. The facts of the case were that a doctor was—the patient came up and asked the doctor if the medicine was okay to use. I'm pregnant, is this medicine okay to use? The doctor failed to check. The doctor gave the wrong information and prescribed the medicine which led to birth defects. It's a very simple case from that standpoint and it does not require abortion or anything of that sort. It simply says that under those kinds of fact situations, of course, the doctor should be liable for not checking, for ignoring the literature, ignoring the warnings of prescribing medicine. This amendment would preclude that kind of liability, which I believe is a very reasonable liability to attach. The amendment is intended to get at that one case and I think it is a very reasonable case. I would not adopt this amendment."

Mr. Bond: "Very briefly, I think it is necessary to straighten the situation out here a little bit. We are not talking about malpractice on somebody, the problem is that the injury is the birth itself. That's what we are talking about, so I don't think anybody should be confused about that."

A division was called.
FIFTY-THIRD DAY. MARCH 6, 1986 1055

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Representatives Padden and Hargrove to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630, and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 47; nays, 50; excused, 1.

Excused: Representative van Dyke - 1.

Mr. Padden moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On page 29 of the amendment, after line 36, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 91

1. A new section is added to chapter 4.56 RCW to read as follows:

(a) 'Economic damages' means objectively verifiable monetary losses, including medical expenses, loss of earnings, burial costs, loss of use of property, cost of replacement or repair, cost of obtaining substitute domestic services, loss of employment, and loss of business or employment opportunities.

(b) 'Noneconomic damages' means subjective, nonmonetary losses, including, but not limited to pain, suffering, inconvenience, mental anguish, disability or disfigurement incurred by the injured party, emotional distress, loss of society and companionship, loss of consortium, injury to reputation and humiliation, and destruction of the parent-child relationship.

(c) 'Bodily injury' means physical injury, sickness, or disease, including death.

(2) In any action based on fault seeking damages for personal injury or property damage, the claimant is entitled to recover noneconomic losses.

(3) In no action seeking damages for personal injury or property damage may a claimant recover damages for noneconomic losses exceeding four hundred thousand dollars except in extraordinary circumstances in which application of that limit would constitute an inequitable and unreasonably severe hardship on the claimant. In applying the limits of this subsection, claims for loss of consortium, loss of society and companionship, and destruction of the parent-child relationship which are asserted by one who did not actually sustain bodily injury shall be added to any claims for noneconomic damages sustained by a claimant who did incur bodily injury."

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Locke: "Mr. Speaker, I believe we adopted House floor amendment 610 which would conflict with this amendment. I would ask for your ruling on the situation where you have two inconsistent amendments to a bill."

SPEAKER’S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative Locke, the Speaker would note Reed's Rule 161. 'An amendment may be inconsistent or incompatible with the words left in the bill, or with other amendments already adopted, but that is for the assembly to decide, and not for the presiding officer. For him to pass upon such a question would be very embarrassing to the assembly... and it certainly would be in this case. '...So, also, the question of constitutionality is not for him to decide. Incompatibility, inconsistency, and unconstitutionality are matters of argument.' I find your point of order not well taken."

Mr. Padden: "I know you are all anxiously awaiting to see what this amendment is. It's another approach to dealing with the cap. It's an approach that, I think, is a more viable approach and a more constitutionally sound approach although, of course, that's always open to argument. What this does is put a cap on the non-economic damages of $400,000 across the board, so this is simply not an age discrimination type of approach. Also, what it does, it allows some discretion. I think it is generally accepted, the more discretion that is maintained with the trier of fact—the judge or the jury—the more likely we are going to have a sound constitutional bill. In that regard, it has an escape clause and I'd like to read from that portion of the amendment. It says, "...except in extraordinary circumstances in which application of that limit would constitute an inequitable and unreasonably severe hardship on the claimant." So, as much as we have adopted an emergency escape hatch on the cap on the insurance premiums, this would allow that here also, but would have a flat $400,000 cap on noneconomic damages across the board. I strongly urge your support for this approach."

Mr. Bristow: "This body has already adopted a much more appropriate and thoughtful amendment dealing with this subject. I would strongly urge you to defeat this amendment."

The amendment was not adopted.

Mr. Bristow moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Bristow and Ballard to the committee amendment:

On page 2 of the amendment, after line 33, strike all material down through "affected." on page 30, line 15 and insert the following:

*PART I

ACCELERATED PHYSICIAN-PATIENT PRIVILEGE

Sec. 101. Section 294, page 187, Laws of 1854 as last amended by section 1, chapter 56, Laws of 1982 and RCW 5.60.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A husband shall not be examined for or against his wife, without the consent of the wife, nor a wife for or against her husband without the consent of the husband: nor can either during marriage or afterward, be without the consent of the other, examined as to any communication made by one to the other during marriage. But this exception shall not apply to a civil action or proceeding by one against the other, nor to a criminal action or proceeding for a crime committed by one against the other, nor to a criminal action or proceeding against a spouse if the marriage occurred subsequent to the filing of formal charges against the defendant. nor to a criminal action or proceeding for a crime committed by said husband or wife against any child of whom said husband or wife is the parent or guardian, nor to a proceeding under chapter 71.05 RCW. PROVIDED, That the spouse of a person sought to be detained under chapter 71.05 RCW may not be compelled to testify and shall be so informed by the court prior to being called as a witness.

(2) An attorney or counselor shall not, without the consent of his client, be examined as to any communication made by the client to him, or his advice given thereon in the course of professional employment.

(3) A clergyman or priest shall not, without the consent of a person making the confession, be examined as to any confession made to him in his professional character, in the course of discipline enjoined by the church to which he belongs.

(4) A ((regular)) physician or surgeon or osteopathic physician or surgeon shall not, without the consent of his patient, be examined in a civil action as to any information acquired in attending such patient, which was necessary to enable him to prescribe or act for the patient, ((but this exception shall not apply in any judicial proceeding regarding a child's injuries, neglect or sexual abuse, or the cause thereof)) except as follows:

(a) In any judicial proceedings regarding a child's injury, neglect, or sexual abuse or the cause thereof: and

(b) Within ninety days of filing an action for personal injuries or wrongful death, the claimant shall elect whether or not to waive the physician-patient privilege. If the claimant does not waive the physician-patient privilege, the claimant may not put his or her mental or physical condition or that of his or her decedent or beneficiaries in issue and may not waive the privilege later in the proceedings. Waiver of the physician-patient privilege for any one physician or condition constitutes a waiver of the privilege as to all physicians or conditions, subject to such limitations as a court may impose pursuant to court rules.

(5) A public officer shall not be examined as a witness as to communications made to him in official confidence, when the public interest would suffer by the disclosure.

*PART II

ATTORNEYS' FEES

NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:

The court shall, upon petition by a named party in any tort action, except those provided for in RCW 7.70.070, determine the reasonableness of that party's attorneys' fees. The court shall take into consideration the following:

(1) The time and labor required, the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved, and the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly;

(2) The likelihood, if apparent to the client, that the acceptance of the particular employment will preclude other employment by the lawyer;
(3) The fee customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services;

(4) The amount involved and the results obtained;

(5) The time limitations imposed by the client or by the circumstances;

(6) The nature and length of the professional relationship with the client;

(7) The experience, reputation, and ability of the lawyer or lawyers performing the services;

(8) Whether the fee is fixed or contingent;

(9) Whether the fixed or contingent fee agreement was in writing and whether the client was aware of his or her right to petition the court under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 202. Section 201 of this act applies to agreements for attorney's fees entered into after the effective date of this section.

PART III

LIMITATION ON NONECONOMIC DAMAGES

NEW SECTION. Sec. 301. A new section is added to chapter 4.56 RCW to read as follows:

(1) As used in this section, the following terms have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Economic damages" means objectively verifiable monetary losses, including medical expenses, loss of earnings, burial costs, loss of use of property, cost of replacement or repair, cost of obtaining substitute domestic services, loss of employment, and loss of business or employment opportunities.

(b) "Noneconomic damages" means subjective, nonmonetary losses, including, but not limited to pain, suffering, inconvenience, mental anguish, disability or disfigurement incurred by the injured party, emotional distress, loss of society and companionship, loss of consortium, injury to reputation and humiliation, and destruction of the parent-child relationship.

(c) "Bodily injury" means physical injury, sickness, or disease, including death.

(d) "Average annual wage" means the average annual wage in the state of Washington as determined under RCW 50.04.355.

(2) In no action seeking damages for personal injury or death may a claimant recover a judgment for noneconomic damages exceeding an amount determined by multiplying 0.43 by the average annual wage and by the life expectancy of the person incurring noneconomic damages, as the life expectancy is determined by the life expectancy tables adopted by the insurance commissioner. For purposes of determining the maximum amount allowable for noneconomic damages, a claimant's life expectancy shall not be less than fifteen years. The limitation contained in this subsection applies to all claims for noneconomic damages made by a claimant who incurred bodily injury. Claims for loss of consortium, loss of society and companionship, destruction of the parent-child relationship, and all other derivative claims asserted by persons who did not sustain bodily injury are to be included within the limitation on claims for noneconomic damages arising from the same bodily injury.

(3) If a case is tried to a jury, the jury shall not be informed of the limitation contained in subsection (2) of this section.

PART IV

APPORTIONMENT OF DAMAGES

NEW SECTION. Sec. 401. A new section is added to chapter 4.22 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In all actions involving fault of more than one entity, the trier of fact shall determine the percentage of the total fault which is attributable to every entity which caused the claimant's damages, including the claimant or person suffering personal injury or incurring property damage, defendants, third-party defendants, entities released by the claimant, entities immune from liability to the claimant and entities with any other individual defense against the claimant. Judgment shall be entered against each defendant except those who have been released by the claimant or are immune from liability to the claimant or have prevailed on any other individual defense against the claimant in an amount which represents that party's proportionate share of the claimant's total damages. The liability of each defendant shall be several only and shall not be joint except:

(a) A party shall be responsible for the fault of another person or for payment of the proportionate share of another party where both were acting in concert or when a person was acting as an agent or servant of the party.

(b) If the trier of fact determines that the claimant or party suffering bodily injury or incurring property damages was not at fault, the defendants against whom judgment is entered shall be jointly and severally liable for the sum of their proportionate shares of the claimant's total damages.

(2) If a defendant is jointly and severally liable under one of the exceptions listed in subsections (1)(a) or (1)(b) of this section, such defendant's rights to contribution against another jointly and severally liable defendant, and the effect of settlement by either such defendant, shall be determined under RCW 4.22.040, 4.22.050, and 4.22.060.

(3)(a) Nothing in this section affects any cause of action relating to hazardous wastes or substances or solid waste disposal sites.

(b) Nothing in this section shall affect a cause of action arising from the tortious interference with contracts or business relations.
(c) Nothing in this section shall affect any cause of action arising from the manufacture or marketing of a fungible product in a generic form which contains no clearly identifiable shape, color, or marking.

Sec. 402. Section 11, chapter 27, Laws of 1981 and RCW 4.22.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided in section 401 of this 1986 act, if more than one person is liable to a claimant on an indivisible claim for the same injury, death or harm, the liability of such persons shall be joint and several.

Sec. 403. Section 4, chapter 85, Laws of 1977 ex. sess., as last amended by section 5, chapter 218, Laws of 1984 and RCW 51.24.050 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If the injured worker or beneficiary elects to seek damages from the third person, any recovery made shall be distributed as follows:

(a) The costs and reasonable attorneys' fees shall be paid proportionately by the injured worker or beneficiary and the department and/or self-insurer;

(b) The injured worker or beneficiary shall be paid twenty-five percent of the balance of the award: PROVIDED, That in the event of a compromise and settlement by the parties, the injured worker or beneficiary may agree to a sum less than twenty-five percent;

(c) The department and/or self-insurer shall be paid the balance of the recovery made, but only to the extent necessary to reimburse the department and/or self-insurer for compensation and benefits paid:

(i) The department and/or self-insurer shall bear its proportionate share of the costs and reasonable attorneys' fees incurred by the worker or beneficiary to the extent of the benefits paid or payable under this title: PROVIDED, That the department or self-insurer may require court approval of costs and attorneys' fees or may petition a court for determination of the reasonableness of costs and attorneys' fees.

(ii) The sum representing the department's and/or self-insurer's proportionate share shall not be subject to subsection (1) (d) and (e) of this section.

(d) Any remaining balance shall be paid to the injured worker or beneficiary;

(e) Thereafter no payment shall be made to or on behalf of a worker or beneficiary by the department and/or self-insurer for such injury until the amount of any further compensation and benefits shall equal any such remaining balance. Thereafter, such benefits shall be paid by the department and/or self-insurer to or on behalf of the worker or beneficiary as though no recovery had been made from a third person;

(f) If the employer or a co-employee are determined under section 401 of this 1986 act to be at fault. (c) and (e) of this subsection do not apply and benefits shall be paid by the department and/or self-insurer to or on behalf of the worker or beneficiary as though no recovery had been made from a third person.

(2) The recovery made shall be subject to a lien by the department and/or self-insurer for its share under this section.

(3) The department or self-insurer has sole discretion to compromise the amount of its lien. In deciding whether or to what extent to compromise its lien, the department or self-insurer shall consider at least the following:

(a) The likelihood of collection of the award or settlement as may be affected by insurance coverage, solvency, or other factors relating to the third person;

(b) Factual and legal issues of liability as between the injured worker or beneficiary and the third person. Such issues include but are not limited to possible contributory negligence and novel theories of liability; and

(c) Problems of proof faced in obtaining the award or settlement.

(4) In the case of an employer not qualifying as a self-insurer, the department shall make a retroactive adjustment to such employer’s experience rating in which the third party claim has been included to reflect that portion of the award or settlement which is reimbursed for compensation and benefits paid and, if the claim is open at the time of recovery, applied against further compensation and benefits to which the injured worker or beneficiary may be entitled.

(5) In an action under this section, the self-insurer may act on behalf and for the benefit of the department to the extent of any compensation and benefits paid or payable from state funds.

(6) It shall be the duty of the person to whom any recovery is paid before distribution under this section to advise the department or self-insurer of the fact and amount of such recovery, the costs and reasonable attorneys' fees associated with the recovery, and to distribute the recovery in compliance with this section.

(7) The distribution of any recovery made by award or settlement of the third party action shall be confirmed by department order, served by registered or certified mail, and shall be subject to chapter 51.52 RCW. In the event the order of distribution becomes final under chapter 51.52 RCW, the director or the director's designee may file with the clerk of any county within the state a warrant in the amount of the sum representing the unpaid lien plus interest accruing from the date the order became final. The clerk of the county in which the warrant is filed shall immediately designate a superior court cause number for such warrant and the clerk shall

(8) THE DIRECTOR, OR THE DIRECTOR’S DESIGNEE, MAY ISSUE TO ANY PERSON, FIRM, CORPORATION, MUNICIPAL CORPORATION, POLITICAL SUBDIVISION OF THE STATE, PUBLIC CORPORATION, OR AGENT OF THE STATE, A NOTICE AND ORDER TO WITHHOLD AND DELIVER PROPERTY OF ANY KIND IF HE OR SHE HAS REASON TO BELIEVE THAT THERE IS IN THE POSSESSION OF SUCH PERSON, FIRM, CORPORATION, MUNICIPAL CORPORATION, POLITICAL SUBDIVISION OF THE STATE, PUBLIC CORPORATION, OR AGENT OF THE STATE, PROPERTY WHICH IS DUE, OWING, OR BELONGING TO ANY WORKER OR BENEFICIARY UPON whOM A WARRANT HAS BEEN SERVED BY THE DEPARTMENT FOR PAYMENTS DUE TO THE STATE. THE NOTICE AND ORDER TO WITHHOLD AND DELIVER SHALL BE SERVED BY THE SHERIFF OF THE COUNTY OR BY THE SHERIFF’S DEPUTY, OR ANY AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF THE DIRECTOR. ANY PERSON, FIRM, CORPORATION, MUNICIPAL CORPORATION, POLITICAL SUBDIVISION OF THE STATE, PUBLIC CORPORATION, OR agent OF THE STATE UPON WHOM SERVICE HAS BEEN MADE SHALL ANSWER THE NOTICE WITHIN TWENTY DAYS EXCLUSIVE OF THE DAY OF SERVICE, UNDER OATH AND IN WRITING, AND SHALL MAKE TRUE ANSWERS TO THE MATTERS INQUIRED OF IN THE NOTICE AND ORDER TO WITHHOLD AND DELIVER. IN THE EVENT THERE IS IN THE POSSESSION OF THE PARTY NAMED AND SERVED WITH SUCH NOTICE AND ORDER, ANY PROPERTY WHICH MAY BE SUBJECT TO THE CLAIM OF THE DEPARTMENT, SUCH PROPERTY SHALL BE DELIVERED FORTHWITH TO THE DIRECTOR OR THE DIRECTOR’S AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE UPON ORDER. IF THE PARTY SERVED AND NAMED IN THE NOTICE AND ORDER FAILS TO ANSWER THE NOTICE AND ORDER WITHIN THE TIME PRESCRIBED IN THIS SECTION, THE COURT MAY, AFTER THE TIME TO ANSWER SUCH ORDER HAS EXPIRED, RENDER JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT AGAINST THE PARTY NAMED IN THE NOTICE FOR THE FULL AMOUNT CLAIMED BY THE DIRECTOR IN THE NOTICE TOGETHER WITH COSTS. IN THE EVENT THAT A NOTICE TO WITHHOLD AND DELIVER IS SERVED UPON AN EMPLOYER AND THE PROPERTY FOUND TO BE SUBJECT THERETO IS WAGES, THE EMPLOYER MAY ASSERT IN THE ANSWER TO ALL EXEMPTIONS PROVIDED FOR BY CHAPTER 7.33 RCW TO WHICH THE WAGE EARNER MAY BE ENTITLED.

PART V

PROVIDED, That the time for commencement of an action is tolled upon proof of fraud, intentional concealment, or the presence of a foreign body not intended to have a therapeutic diagnostic purpose or effect.
For purposes of this section, notwithstanding RCW 4.16.190, the knowledge of a custodial parent or guardian shall be imputed to a person under the age of eighteen years. This subsection applies to agreements entered into after the effective date of this 1986 section.

The phrase "substantial completion of construction" shall mean the state of completion reached when an improvement upon real property may be used or occupied for its intended use. Any cause of action which has not accrued within six years after such substantial completion of construction, or within six years after such termination of services, whichever is later, shall be barred: PROVIDED, That this limitation shall not be asserted as a defense by any owner, tenant or other person in possession and control of the improvement at the time such cause of action accrues. A member of the board of directors or a superintendent of any school district is not civilly liable for any act or omission in the course and scope of his or her official capacity unless the act or omission constitutes gross negligence.

A member of the board of directors or officer of any nonprofit corporation is not civilly liable for any act or omission in the course and scope of his or her official capacity unless the act or omission constitutes gross negligence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 901. A new section is added to chapter 5.40 RCW to read as follows:

A breach of a duty imposed by statute, ordinance, or administrative rule shall not be considered negligence per se, but may be considered by the trier of fact as evidence of negligence; however, any breach of duty as provided by statute, ordinance, or administrative rule relating to electrical fire safety, the use of smoke alarms, or driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, shall be considered negligence per se.

The commissioner shall by regulation require insurers authorized to write casualty insurance to provide market assistance plans to assist persons and other entities unable to purchase casualty insurance in an adequate amount from either the admitted market or non-admitted market.

For the purpose of this section, a market assistance plan means a voluntary mechanism by insurers writing casualty insurance in this state in either the admitted or nonadmitted market to provide casualty insurance for a class of insurance designated in writing to the plan by the commissioner.

The bylaws and method of operation of any market assistance plan shall be approved by the commissioner prior to its operation.

A market assistance plan shall have a minimum of twenty-five insurers willing to insure risks within the class designated by the commissioner. If twenty-five insurers do not voluntarily agree to participate, the commissioner may require casualty insurers to participate in a market assistance plan as a condition of continuing to do business in this state. POINT OF ORDER

Mr. P. King: "Mr. Speaker, according to our rules here that we have adopted, the Permanent Rules of the House of Representatives, Rule 25 (D)(6) says that if the amendment would be adopted, the bill should be referred to the Ways and Means Committee or the Transportation Committee as appropriate. Could I have a ruling on that?"

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative King, the Speaker has ruled previously on issues and will do so later, on bills on the calendar. The Speaker has ruled previously that when we are going through second reading, our rules reads. Rule 25 (D)(6), 'All bills having a direct negative revenue impact or a direct appropriation of fifty thousand dollars or more shall be referred to the ways and means committee or transportation committee as appropriate before their final passage.' There are two issues before us, Representative King, at this time is that the Speaker is not going to rule on this until later, but note that it says a direct appropriation, or a direct negative revenue impact. Secondly, and most directly to the question now before us, is that the Speaker has ruled previously and rules also today, that when the issue is on second reading, it is not appropriate because it reads 'before final passage.' When we get to third reading and final passage, the Speaker will entertain your point of order. Your point is not well taken."
Mr. Bristow: "This is the direction that we have been heading, as we have worked long and hard for the past months to truly deal with our liability insurance crisis. I think that there has been a great deal of work done, a lot of thought and interest and concern shared over this issue. You are going to hear a lot of speeches on what might be considered negative aspects of this, but I think as we ponder and review this amendment, you will come to the same conclusion that I have, that this is a fair, just and appropriate proposal. I think now, as we have spent some time looking at perfecting amendments, that you will join me in voting for this amendment."

Mr. Armstrong: "I speak to oppose this amendment. Joint and several liability is the largest difference between the coalition proposal and this amendment and the alternative reform proposal which is before you. Joint and several liability is the question whether a victim of injury gets his or her whole award when there are multiple defendants and one goes broke. The alternative reform proposal which I think you should prefer to the coalition amendment, the victim would collect only the defendant percentage share from the defendant less liable or from a public defendant. In the coalition proposal, in contrast, the injured victim collects his whole award only if that victim was zero percent at fault. There are not many zero percentage fault cases on behalf of plaintiffs now. The first offense and the defense will set out to prove if there is some percentage fault on the injured claimant. It's going to be like rape has been, you're the victim and then the process makes you the victim of the process as well. The attack is going to be on the injured claimant rather than a rational inquiry into who was responsible and to what percentage. Take the asbestosis victim; it is a true example, because Johns-Manville has gone broke and is leaving people where there are multiple defendants in situations where they cannot collect from the person, company in this case, primarily liable. In every case, the defense presents the argument that the injured asbestosis victim somehow is negligent—they smoke, they didn't wear the mask, they knew there was asbestos there and that it was dangerous. In those cases, those injured victims of asbestosis will only receive ten to fifteen percent of the whole award necessary for his medical and living expenses for his life and that will be from the installment contract. That's only ten to fifteen percent of even the economic damages. The average working person, under the coalition proposal, will not get his necessary medical and living expenses. Then, where will he go?"

Mr. Wang: "Urging your opposition to the amendment before us. We have gone through a process, perhaps a bit laboriously, but we have gone through a process which has given us a choice. We have a meaningful choice before us. What I would like to do is just take a minute to walk through what is identical in the committee amendment and the Bristow amendment. There are provisions for waivers in both. The provisions for offers of settlement, attorney fees, caps, felonies, indemnification, builder immunities, periodic payments, mandatory arbitration of negligence per se, school board, other directors—all those things are identical in the two bills that are before us in the Bristow amendment and in the committee amendment. There are two major differences. The gentleman from the 36th District referred to one them. the joint and several provision. The other provisions are in the insurance area. There are a number of things which are in the committee bill which are not in the Bristow bill and I think those items will offer real relief on the insurance side of the equation, the insurance side of the problem. There are provisions for considering instate experience and the effects of instate experience on insurance premiums in the committee amendment and not in the Bristow amendment. We do not have punitive damages in this state. Let's take advantage of that for insurance premiums. There are provisions for limiting the rise of insurance premiums. It's limited to fifteen percent in the committee amendment, but not in the Bristow amendment. There are also provisions for settlement conferences, for itemized verdicts, for prejudgment interest, provisions which will help expedite and make a real difference in the settlement process and in the process of trying to avoid some of these excessive litigations and additional costs. I really think we do have a meaningful choice to make here. It has been painful for me to propose some of the things that are currently before us in the committee amendment, nevertheless I've done it on the basis of good faith that we can come up with a choice..."
and offer a meaningful choice to this body, so that we do not have to have the Bristow amendment as the only choice before us. The major differences, again, are insurance and joint and several liability. I would urge you to consider dealing with the problem of insurance by rejecting the Bristow amendment and keeping the language before us.”

Mr. Brooks: “I think this is a really giant step forward to meet the problem. Not the whole way, but a good measure in the right direction. We’re not going to solve all the insurance problems tonight; that’s another part of this process; however, if we have done nothing else tonight, we have made—if we pass the Bristow amendment—we will have made obstetrical care in this state affordable again. With the long tail that you have heard about so often in this discussion, for twenty-six years cut back to eight years and with the resulting premium drop that will come from that one stroke alone, it will allow many of the obstetricians who have already had to leave their practices, come back in. The ladies in the northern part of this state will no longer have to go to Canada to have their babies, and those who were less fortunate will get good prenatal care now rather than having to show up on the doorsteps of the ER with no prenatal care at all and the unwanted, very expensive babies for the state to take care of. I strongly urge you to help us take this step forward and vote for the amendment.”

Ms. Niemi: “By voting for this amendment you are, as many people have said, making major changes in the law. You are also saying that you doubt the fairness of the jury system. For whatever reason you are voting for a conglomeration of laws in one amendment, that I believe will be difficult—if not impossible—to apply in the court process. I firmly believe that no malpractice rates will decrease. I also firmly believe that you will be cutting off the rights of injured parties. Lastly, as you may notice, no one spoke of any of the content of the Bristow amendment. Among other things, you are going to be voting for a change in the labor and industry laws which will add approximately one million dollars to our labor and industry costs every year. It will raise rates; it will add to attorney fees, which I’m sure you didn’t really intend, but it will. It will dramatically change the labor and industry system. All of this in a law that will also take away peoples’ rights. I realize that everyone has made up their minds, but I hope you will think long and hard over what you are doing to the tort system in this state.”

Ms. Leonard: “I don’t have any answers, but I do have a couple of things I want to say. First of all, through the perfecting of amendments, we have taken care of—in the original amendment—we have taken care of the people in medicine; we’ve taken care of the people in the cities, the administration of the cities; we’ve taken care of all those people we want to take care of. My major concern is, if this amendment that we are voting on right now passes, the only people we are not taking care of are the people in our communities. I talked to the mayor of my larger city in my district yesterday, and I had talked to her last week, and she indicated to me that my city council tried seven times to make a motion to support the coalition provision, and she said all seven motions died for lack of a second. When she asked the council, ‘Are you telling me that you really don’t want to support the coalition position?’ and she said it doesn’t show in the record, but they all nodded. So, I said to her that one of the major problems is that we are getting all this pressure from people who really don’t know what’s in any of the things we are being told to support—this position or that position—and I have a lot of concern about this. I’m not an attorney. I’m doing my best to find out from attorneys, including my own daughter who is an attorney, what these various proposals say and I’m getting some good answers and I’m getting some not-so-good answers. I guess at this point what I am trying to do is make the best decision for all the people concerned. It’s my understanding that if we vote ‘no’ on this amendment, we will get almost all the same language, but we will also be protecting the people in our communities by the joint and several language in the perfected amendment from the committee. I urge you to vote ‘no’ on this amendment and then vote ‘yes’ on the perfected amendment from the committee.”
Mr. Ballard: "I'm supporting the amendment. There are two issues we need to talk about, that's the availability of insurance and the affordability. There's probably not an issue that we are going to talk about this session that affects so many people in the state of Washington in such a dramatic manner—in goods, in costs of services, having doctors available, all kinds of issues. We have worked very hard on bringing together a package that does protect the rights of the people, not only in making sure they are taken care of, but making sure they have insurance, making sure they are covered. Most of you, if not all of you, have received summaries and explanations and comparisons. We have been very careful to try to get those out. Two issues I would like to talk about that I think are important: Joint and several. We're talking about an issue here in which someone who is not at fault, an injured party, does not change anything. The other part of the issue is where the injured party has contributed to their own problem. We always say the city or the county or the insurance company has the deep pocket and it really doesn't cost anybody anything and it's really free money and nobody pays for it. If it's your home and it's worth $100,000, and you don't have any insurance and you are only liable for a $10,000 loss and the other pocket which is liable for $90,000 doesn't have anything, that means that you lose everything you own. That affects people. I think we should be keenly aware of that. The other issue we have talked about is noneconomics. The top of noneconomic is $573,000. People say that may not be enough. We've talked about the minimum. The minimum is $117,000. Now what does that mean in the real world? That's happened in the state of Washington in the last two years. The average settlement on noneconomic is $350,000. In the last two years there has been under a dozen cases—and I think the number is about half that—in which there has been settlements of over $250,000. A handful in two years, so I don't see the major problem here. We're taking care of people. In fact, the lid is high over. We have talked with a lot of people who are involved in this. It would have been very simple to draft a lot of areas that make sure the rights of people are protected. We think we have a good workable document and we would urge your support."

Mr. Wineberry: "I rise to ask your rejection of the amendment; basically, because of one fundamental reason. Insurance premiums have no direct correlation with joint and several liability. Not one study that has been issued, by any other state for that matter or any entity within this state, has proved otherwise. Washington is certainly not the first state to grapple with this very important issue of joint and several liability that also includes such doctrines as contributory negligence and comparative negligence. As a matter of fact, one of the more recent studies that just came about in North Carolina that grappled with the same issue a few years ago, they appointed a legislative research commission which prepared a comprehensive report on the subject of comparative negligence. This study included a section on the findings of the commission concerning the effects of comparative negligence, for example, on liability insurance costs. Questions were sent to insurance companies. Questionnaires were sent to insurance companies in thirty-five states that had adopted the doctrine and twenty-four states responded. The overwhelming response from the insurance commissioners nationwide to the committee's questionnaire indicated that, in their opinion, comparative negligence had no effect whatsoever on insurance premiums in their states. Commissioners in several other states indicated that they did not have any data upon which to base an estimate or opinion. Thus, the committee was unable to find any strong evidence to support the contention that insurance rates would increase substantially as a result of the adoption of a comparative negligence system. The case that the study concluded with was that there was no correlation. Of course, no hard evidence to support the widely held belief that is espoused by supporters of this amendment that the introduction and application of comparative negligence would produce an increase in liability insurance costs. I submit to you that the study conducted by North Carolina and many other states has arrived at the same conclusion that we, too, have in our study and close analysis of this very important issue—there is no correlation. I urge your rejection of this amendment."

Mr. Armstrong: "The average working person in the asbestosis victim case, under the coalition proposal, who does not get his necessary medical and living expenses because of the joint and several provision, which provides that the Johns-Manville asbestos manufacturer will not have to pay anything, has to get that money from somewhere and you know where the average working person goes when they can't find help or money; they go to medicaid, they go to medicare, they go to public assistance. This is not taking costs off insurers: this is a cost shift, ladies and gentlemen, to the public sector. For the benefit of whom? For the benefit of negligent people. For the benefit of the installer of that asbestos. For the benefit of engineers. For the benefit of lawyers. For the benefit of doctors and those people are well-to-do people. So it is a cost shift from people who don't have much money to people who have quite a bit and can afford to insure. The additional beneficiary is insurance company shareholders and they have the money to take care of themselves. I would urge you to vote against this coalition proposal."

Mr. Padden: "I just want to talk on one issue. We've already heard enough about joint and several and I won't mention my views on that. but with regard to the caps that are on there, I certainly hope that we will see insurance premiums come down if something is passed through here; but I'm not convinced that the caps are really going to result in lessening of insurance premiums. Certainly, there are going to be some big awards that are going to be cut off in noneconomic damages. On the other hand, you are going to have a lot more, numerous, smaller awards that are going to rise up toward that cap level and a major P.O. of an insurance company told me he didn't think it would make any change. Certainly juries, if they feel something has been done, will have a certain amount of discretion to decide what is a noneconomic damage and what is an economic damage, so there, too, there is obviously a chance that the caps won't do quite what they said. While we hope they are beneficial, I don't think there is evidence to substantiate that. For that and other reasons. I am going to have to urge a 'no' vote on this amendment."

Mr. Dellwo: "I, too, urge your opposition of this amendment. I'm sure you recognize, or at least hope you do, that we—in our amendment—tried truly to perfect this document. There is no conspiracy or effort to undercut or effort to eliminate it. We recognized that something was going to be passed. In looking at the document, we found some problems with it, but we tried to correct them, tried to add some other amendments that would, in fact, go somewhere toward the purpose and that was to lower the premiums as well as protect the innocent. You've already heard some of the flaws, the terrible flaws in the insurance section. You can't correct that. If this passes that is how it is going; it is not going to be corrected in the Senate. It will be concurred in; you know that. You also see the other defects that were spoken about in the joint and several as well as in the other changes that we have made. It is a flawed document. We have tried, and I believe succeeded in, perfecting the committee amendment and I would encourage you to support that. The ones that will succeed, the ones that will benefit if we pass this amendment, the one that is before us now, will be the negligent, not the injured."

Mr. McMullen: "Today is the 150th anniversary of the Alamo. and I think I hear the Santa Ana bugle. It only hurts when I laugh because I don't think people have looked at this thing enough to realize what they are going to vote for. We've heard a lot of philosophicals. Look at some of the small things. Don't try to kid yourselves that this is a fair compromise. Ours tried to be fair; we would have worked with anybody to be fair, but this is not fair. One example: We're going to put a cap on damages, but we aren't going to tell the jury about it. We can't tell the jury about it in this version. Why? Do you know why insurance companies want this provision in here? Right now, when three economists testify for the plaintiff and for the defendant, one says economic damages are $100,000 and one says economic damages are a quarter of a million dollars. The jury can't decide which it will be, the escape is to the nonspecified damages, general damages. they agree on that, they don't have to agree on it, but we are going to pull the wool over their eyes; we're aren't going to tell them that when they do that, tough, the judge is going to cut that out. The second thing in this bill, and I guess this is what hurts as much as any of it. I've heard an awful lot of remarks about trial lawyers the last couple of weeks. I've never had a case that would be affected by this and I never will, but I've heard all the remarks and then we go in here and add a new cause of action. Look at page
It says that the injured party must make an election within ninety days whether or not to waive the physician–patient privilege. Do you know what happens if the plaintiff’s attorney forgets to make that election on the ninetieth day? On the ninety-first day they are out of court because it may never be waived again. They are out of court on that action. The only action now is to sue their lawyer, so you are taking a cause of action against trial lawyers. Take another look at this on page 7. You are going to tell the small businessmen that they can’t be sued under Title 51—the state industrial—or protected, but under this section they are going to be hauled into court; they are going to be required to testify and going to be assigned a percentage of fault by a judge and jury for all the public to see. They are immune, they can’t be sued, but they can be right there in the papers and talked about—their percentage of liability. You know, in the amending process, I talked about the statute of limitations on doctors. This is really a Christmas present. This wasn’t part of the coalition package to begin with and then we started talking about the problem with OB/GYNs and to work on it, and all of a sudden all doctors are protected and all the OB/GYNs have an effective three-year statute of limitations. You go home and tell your OB/GYN doctors what a great job you have done for them, more than they ever imagined or hoped for or asked for, and then tell all those people who are pregnant or have just had children—

The Speaker informed Representative McMullen that his time had expired.

Mr. Appelwick: "Let me highlight some of the defects in here. The committee amendment as it has been perfected and is before you, doesn’t have two defects as the Bristow amendment has. Two that are very important. The Bristow amendment provides more protection for me, as a business owner, if somebody interferes with my business relations than it does for me or my wife or my children if they are injured, maimed, crippled in a car accident where I, as the driver, have been one percent, two percent negligent, but less negligent than the other people who caused that accident and that injury. Less protection! That’s a fact. That’s no exaggeration; that’s no story; that’s no stringing-out amendment; that’s the fact. The other fact is this bill was written very craftily by the drafters. I commend them. What they have done is write a situation so that where you have multiple defendants, no plaintiff in his right mind is ever going to enter a settlement with one of those defendants, because no defendant in his right mind is ever going to enter a settlement. The stakes are too high. If you settle with one party, that defendant won’t want to settle because under this bill he is still going to have to be in court to defend himself and be represented by counsel. The plaintiff won’t settle because he’s still got to be in there and defend not only his own position and make his case and carry the burden of proof against all of the defendants that are in court, but he has also got to bring in the person he settled with and represent that person’s interest in court to be sure that he doesn’t get double-hit by the way the court assesses the liability. The current system doesn’t have those inequities. The committee amendment that is before you does not. You are building in new ways in which you put immense burdens on an injured party to recover. It is a fact and if you are doing that knowingly, I’m embarrassed for you. If you are doing that unknowingly, now is the time to stop. read the bill. think about it and reconsider whether or not you support this amendment. It earnestly will hurt plaintiffs that are injured and will have to rely on this law in the future—"

Mr. Barnes: “I think I am, and perhaps a lot of you are, sitting here being somewhat intimidated by the great knowledge from the lawyers on this, but maybe it takes a layman to kind of stand back and look and see just what is fair in this court system. I got involved about eight years ago when I started working on this problem, in that case, on the product liability system, and I learned about joint and several liability. I’ve been impressed ever since then, but one of our problems is getting worse and worse, and we’re going to have to do something about it, and that is joint and several liability concept, because in that concept it allows one person to be held liable for another person’s fault to some extent, and to a great extent if that person has some fault. This is what is going to make insurance difficult to obtain. A person who, perhaps, runs a wholesale shop and accepts things from a manufacturer and sells them to a retailer, maybe will have a little bit of fault because he is in that fault chain, but he could be very careful and safe, but he is exposed to the liability which could be caused by anyone else in that chain, therefore, an insurance company is going to look at him and say, 'Yes, you are very safe; you're not very much at fault, but I can't insure you because you're standing the risk of the liability from someone else.' It might be quite gray. This, the Bristow/Ballard amendment, does take a sort of compromise step toward starting to correct that joint and several liability problem. The bill as it is written is a compromise on that compromise. I think we had better stick with the Ballard/Bristow amendment.

Representative McMullen was extended additional time.

Mr. McMullen: "In lay terms, if you adopt this amendment, you are going to have to go home and tell all the people that finally get to school and finally tested and find out that there may be something wrong with them, that you have enacted a three-year statute of limitations for wrongful birth. If you are prepared to do that and tell your businessmen they can be hauled into court and have their liability spread in the public record, then I urge you to adopt this. For me, I'm going to vote no."

Mr. Locke: "I think that the committee amendment as perfected this evening is the superior document and I want to thank the proponents of the striking amendment or the Ballard/Bristow amendment for accompanying us and allowing us an opportunity to perfect it, allowing us an opportunity to oppose your particular amendment. Nevertheless, to put up a viable option and also to give us an opportunity to be on record as supporting some of those elements which are in the so-called coalition package that we can, in good conscience, support. It was interesting this evening that one of the coalition amendments that we offered to try and make the committee amendment much more closer to the coalition package, was defeated by this body and that dealt with the statute of limitations as relates to children. What you have done and what is now in the coalition package, is that all lawsuits must be brought within three years after the act occurred or one year after the act was discovered whichever is later, but in no case after eight years. That is really a fundamental change, and what you are asking or what you are saying is that children must give up their rights to a lawsuit later on, and you are saying to the parents that if you didn't exercise your right as a parent within three years or within one year after you discovered the defect, you are forever barred from filing a lawsuit. If that child should later grow up and realize what his or her parents did, she or he is out the window and cannot sue. That's one major difference. The other major difference deals with the waiver of the doctor/patient privilege. Under the committee amendment, it is waived only with respect to the conditions that relate to the lawsuit. However, under the coalition package, once a lawsuit is filed, the doctor/patient privilege is forever waived and as to all conditions, even if they do not relate to the condition being sued. There are a host of differences within—between the committee amendment as perfected and the coalition package, but I don't think anyone really understands these differences, and I really object to the way that this coalition amendment has been put together. I really think it needs more time and study; we do need tort reform, but this is not the way to do it. I urge rejection of the proposed amendment."

A division was called.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Representatives Bristow and Ballard to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630, and the amendment to the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 65; nays, 32; excused, 1.

D. Niemi, Nutley, O’Brien, Padden, Sayan, Schmidt, Sutherland, Todd, Unsoeld, Vekich, Wang, Wineberry, and Mr. Speaker — 32.

Excused: Representative van Dyke — 1.

MOTION

Mr. Appelwick moved that all House debate on Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630 be spread on the Journal.

Mr. Barrett spoke against the motion.

A division was called.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the motion to spread debate on Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630 on the Journal, and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 53; nays, 44; excused, 1.

Excused: Representative van Dyke — 1.

Mr. Appelwick moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On page 30 of the amendment, after line 15 insert the following:

"sec. 913. Section 1, chapter 80, Laws of 1971 as amended by section 1, chapter 56, Laws of 1975–76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 4.16.350 are each amended to read as follows:

Any civil action for damages for injury occurring as a result of health care which is provided after June 25, 1976 against:

(1) A person licensed by this state to provide health care or related services, including, but not limited to, a physician, osteopathic physician, dentist, nurse, optometrist, podiatrist, chiropractor, physical therapist, psychologist, pharmacist, optician, physician’s assistant, osteopathic physician’s assistant, nurse practitioner, or physician’s trained mobile intensive care paramedic, including, in the event such person is deceased, his estate or personal representative;

(2) An employee or agent of a person described in subsection (1) of this section, acting in the course and scope of his employment, including, in the event such employee or agent is deceased, his estate or personal representative; or

(3) An entity, whether or not incorporated, facility, or institution employing one or more persons described in subsection (1) of this section, including, but not limited to, a hospital, clinic, health maintenance organization, or nursing home; or any officer, director, employee, or agent thereof acting in the course and scope of his employment, including, in the event such officer, director, employee, or agent is deceased, his estate or personal representative;

based upon alleged professional negligence shall be commenced within three years of the act or omission alleged to have caused the injury or condition, or one year of the time the patient or his representative discovered or reasonably should have discovered that the injury or condition was caused by said act or omission, whichever period expires later, except that in no event shall an action be commenced more than eight years after said act or omission. Any action not commenced in accordance with this section shall be barred. PROVIDED, That the limitations in this section shall not apply to persons under a legal disability as defined in RCW 4.16.190.

(4)(a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, the limitations in this section shall not apply to persons under a legal disability as defined in RCW 4.16.190;

(b) An action based on alleged professional negligence in the treatment of a person during that person’s birth or the prenatal treatment relating to the birth shall be commenced within eight years of the act or omission alleged to have caused the injury or condition.”

Mr. Appelwick: "Earlier there was an amendment by the gentleman from the 40th District which dealt with the eight-year statute of limitations on birth injuries, and the gentleman from the 21st District pointed out that it also did some other things that confused people. I want there to be no doubt in light of the adoption of the Bristow/Ballard amendment, that we have addressed the obstetric-gynecology problem. I don’t read the amendment that has been adopted the way some others do. I don’t think it assures that the eight-year statute is taken care of, and the rea­son I offer this amendment, nothing else but statute, no other purpose, is to be sure that we have done the rifle shot that takes care of that problem. After all, it was that problem and municipal liability, that brought all of this to us in the first place and I think it’s only fair that we address it. To the extent that some of the language is inconsistent, the fact that this comes later will only add to—will not repeal the more elaborate section that is set out in the bill. I urge your support.”

Mr. Bristow: “I ask that you vote no on this amendment. I believe it is inappro­priate and unnecessary.”

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Representative Appelwick to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630, and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 34; nays, 63; excused, 1.

Excused: Representative van Dyke – 1.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mr. Grimm, having voted on the prevailing side, moved that the House recon­sider the vote by which the amendment by Representatives P. King and Wang to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630 was not adopted.

Mr. P. King: “Perhaps this one went by us just a little bit fast. I think some people have been taking a look at it and what this amendment will do is it will fit in before the Bristow amendment and it provides that you receive interest from the date of filing. Oftentimes people have to go into lawsuits and other types of action, arbitra­tion, because of the other person delaying and paying or other dilatory action. This would prevent that delay. I urge you to take another look at it and reconsider this, and let’s put it on the calendar for consideration.”

Ms. Sommers: “Speaking against reconsideration, if you will take up the amendment and look at it, you will see that it is what I would call a flawed amendment. It deals only with government, the state and its political subdivisions, so the interest would be charged only in government suits, against government, against the taxpayer and not in private suits. We think the earlier vote to defeat this amendment was correct and we urge you to vote against reconsideration.”

Mr. Locke: “I urge the members to vote for reconsideration because I think the reasons outlined by the previous speaker for voting against it are the very reasons why you should vote for it. If, by this tort reform legislation, we are now saving local governments beaucoup bucks, tons and tons of money, and they ought to have the money to pay prejudgment interest and to try and encourage early set­tlement so we don’t even have to go to court. I think this is a grand idea. I urge your adoption of the motion for reconsideration.”

Mr. Tilly: “I’m going to be voting against reconsideration. I thought I was going to be voting for it, but when we have half a package and it’s tilted the wrong way, I have to vote no.”

Mr. Bond: “This kind of rings a bell with me. I thought I was going to vote no and maybe I will, and yet I just kind of like this. I’m going to give it serious thought.”
FIFTY-THIRD DAY, MARCH 6, 1986

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Appelwick: "Mr. Speaker, it is possible, if this motion passes and we reconsider Representative King's amendment, that we could suspend the rules and amend this amendment in order to have it be even-handed and apply to both government and the private sector?"

The Speaker: "Representative Appelwick, if the motion to reconsider carries, then the body could suspend the rules by a two-thirds vote to consider the amendment that you suggested."

Mr. Lux: "I heard the good representative from the 36th District say that this amendment is flawed. I think that's compatible with the rest of the bill that we just adopted. Let me point out, on page 17 it says, '...the presence of a foreign body not intended to have a therapeutic diagnostic purpose or effect.' A foreign body where? Is this the sanctuary movement that we are talking about? Would there be a foreign body in the operating room?..."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Bond: "Mr. Speaker, I wish you would advise the speaker to speak closely on the line with the motion for reconsideration."

The Speaker: "The motion is to reconsider the amendment, Representative Lux. Would you speak to that motion please?"

Mr. Lux: "Apparently, we are speaking about flawed amendments and I'm speaking about a flawed amendment and I think the two match and I think they ought to be put together: and so I'm supporting this motion for reconsideration and I think that's justified. I would hope that the rest of you would follow me."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the motion to reconsider the vote by which the amendment by Representatives P. King and Wang to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630 was not adopted, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 38; nays, 59; excused, 1.

Excused: Representative van Dyke - 1.

Mr. Appelwick moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On page 30 of the amendment, after line 15, insert the following:

"Sec. 913. Section 51.24.020, chapter 23, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 2, chapter 218, Laws of 1984 and RCW 51.24.020 are each amended to read as follows:

If injury results to a worker from the deliberate intention of his or her employer to produce such injury or from the act or omission of an employer who, with wilful disregard of the safety of a worker or in knowing disregard of written recommendations by the product supplier or in reckless disregard of an administrative agency's written notice of a violation of an administratively approved safety regulation, recklessly (1) removes, authorizes the removal of, or fails to install safety features or devices, or (2) misuses the product, the worker or beneficiary of the worker shall have the privilege to take under this title and also have cause of action against the employer as if this title had not been enacted, for any damages in excess of compensation and benefits paid or payable under this title."

Mr. Appelwick: "This amendment is a safety in the work place amendment. I truly can be added to the bill as it currently stands without any interference or problem. This says that if an employer removes or, with wilful disregard, doesn't follow the recommendations on the equipment or products that are used there, disregards a notice from OSHA or WISHA and doesn't deal with safety for employees in the work-place, doesn't install, or after installing, removes or fails to use safety equipment or misuses the product and that results in injury to an employee, that there is the opportunity for the employee to receive workers' comp benefits and also file a first party action. This amendment is projected to have a fiscal impact that is positive for the state. It means that more employees who are injured on the job as a result of the negligence and the safety violations, will have an opportunity to be made whole. This is a good amendment. It has a positive impact. It will offset some of the negative fiscal impact that is in the other workers' comp—that was in the Bristow/Ballard amendment—and I urge you to toughen up on the safety standards and protect workers in the workplace."

Mr. Bristow: "This amendment would pierce our worker's compensation shield and I strongly urge your defeat."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Representative Appelwick to page 30, line 15 of the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630, and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 35; nays, 62; excused, 1.

Excused: Representative van Dyke – 1.

Mr. Appelwick moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On page 30 of the amendment, after line 15, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 913. A new section is added to chapter 4.56 RCW to read as follows:

(I) As used in this section, the following terms have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) 'Economic damages' means objectively verifiable monetary losses, including medical expenses, loss of earnings, burial costs, loss of use of property, cost of replacement or repair, cost of obtaining substitute domestic services, loss of employment, and loss of business or employment opportunities.

(b) 'Noneconomic damages' means subjective, nonmonetary losses, including, but not limited to pain, suffering, inconvenience, mental anguish, disability or disfigurement incurred by the injured party, emotional distress, loss of society and companionship, loss of consortium, injury to reputation and humiliation, and destruction of the parent-child relationship.

(c) 'Bodily injury' means physical injury, sickness, or disease.

(d) 'Average annual wage' means the average annual wage in the state of Washington as determined under RCW 50.04.355 as now or hereafter amended.

(2) In any action based on fault seeking damages for personal injury or property damage, the claimant is entitled to recover noneconomic losses.

(3) No defendant shall be liable to any claimant in an action for personal injury or property damage for noneconomic losses exceeding the average annual wage multiplied by forty percent of the life expectancy of the claimant as calculated under subsection (b) of this section. This limitation on liability for noneconomic losses applies to each defendant in an action individually and limits each defendant's joint or several liability for those losses. In applying the limitation of this subsection, claims for loss of consortium, loss of society and companionship, and destruction of the parent-child relationship which are asserted by one who did not actually sustain bodily injury shall be added to any claims for noneconomic damages sustained by a claimant who did incur bodily injury.

(a) For purposes of determining noneconomic losses, no calculation for persons age sixty years or older shall be based on a life expectancy of less than ten years.

(b) The office of the administrator of the courts shall develop and publish annually, the schedule for noneconomic damages utilizing the life expectancy tables adopted by the Washington state insurance commissioner.

(4) The limitation on liability contained in subsection (3) of this section does not apply to a defendant whose intentional act caused the claimant's injury or damage."
Mr. Appelwick: "This amendment approaches the cap on pain and suffering from a different perspective than the Bristow/Ballard amendment did. It says that the limits on recovery using that formula, and there are just minor differences in the percentage factor to multiply these or less, says that instead the plaintiff's pain and suffering is capped at whatever that formula is, it says no defendant shall be liable for more than that. So what this does, in a lawsuit for an injury where the plaintiff has sustained incredible injuries—incredible pain and suffering at the hands of multiple defendants—it says that the cap is equal to that amount for each of the defendants. It really ameliorates one of the hardships that's in the Ballard/Bristow amendment. I'm sure the argument against it will be that it's inconsistent with the other provision, but this was adopted later and the Code Reviser can reconcile the two and it will not be a technical question that will be of any substance to the bill. It is important that you adopt this if you really—in a serious, most serious of accidents—want the plaintiff to have an opportunity to be made whole. I urge your support."

Mr. Bristow: "This amendment, if we look at it, is going to cause people to look for more and more and more and more contingents. I think it inappropriate and I urge that you defeat the amendment."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Representative Appelwick to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630, and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 34; nays, 63; excused, 1.

Excused: Representative van Dyke - 1.

Mr. Appelwick moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

On page 30 of the amendment, after line 15, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 913. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Applicant' includes an individual, corporation, government, or governmental subdivision or agency, business trust, estate, trust, partnership or association, two or more persons having a joint or common interest, or any legal or commercial entity.

(2) 'Property and casualty insurance' means property insurance as defined in RCW 48.11-.040 and casualty insurance as defined in RCW 48.11.070.

(3) 'Association' means the joint underwriting association established pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

(4) 'Plan' means the market assistance plan established pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 914. Upon a finding by the commissioner that an availability problem exists for the types of property and casualty insurance listed in this section, then the commissioner shall approve a reasonable market assistance plan for the placement of property and casualty insurance coverages for applicants who have difficulty in obtaining the type of insurance desired. The plan shall assist in obtaining property and casualty insurance for municipal liability, day care liability, liquor liability, trucking liability and professional liability. In addition, the commissioner shall determine whether availability problems exist for other types of property and casualty insurance and shall require the plan to assist applicants in obtaining such insurance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 915. All insurers possessing a certificate of authority to write property or casualty insurance within this state shall participate in the plan approved by the commissioner as a condition of its authority to continue to transact business in this state. However, the commissioner may exclude an insurer from membership if the commissioner determines membership would result in a hardship or inequity or would not be of benefit to the plan."
NEW SECTION. Sec. 916. The commissioner may adopt any rules necessary to ensure the effective operation of the plan, including but not limited to, setting limits on the fees the plan may charge to process an applicant's request for assistance. The commissioner shall not require that the plan provide insurance to applicants.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 917. The commissioner shall approve a reasonable design for the establishment of a nonprofit, joint underwriting association for property and casualty insurance, subject to the conditions and limitations contained in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 918. The association shall be comprised of all insurers possessing a certificate of authority to write property and casualty insurance within this state on a direct basis. Every such insurer shall be a member of the association and shall remain a member as a condition of its authority to transact business in this state, unless the commissioner excludes an insurer from membership because membership would result in a hardship or inequity.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 919. An applicant may seek property and casualty insurance from the association whenever the commissioner determines that the type of insurance the applicant desires is difficult to obtain in the usual market for such insurance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 920. The commissioner may adopt all rules necessary to ensure the efficient, equitable operation of the association.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 921. Sections 913 through 920 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 48 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 922. Sections 913 through 916 of this act shall take effect on June 1, 1986. Sections 917 through 920 of this act shall take effect on January 1, 1987.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 923. (1) If the commissioner finds that the imposition and operation of a market assistance plan under chapter .... RCW (sections 913 through 920 of this act) has not resulted in the availability of a type of property or casualty insurance, then the commissioner may by rule adopt a reasonable plan or plans for the equitable apportionment, among insurers licensed to write property or casualty insurance in this state, of property or casualty insurance or risks or losses thereunder for applicants for such insurance who are in good faith entitled to but are unable to procure insurance through ordinary methods. When such plan has been adopted, all such insurers shall subscribe thereto and shall participate therein. Any applicant for such insurance and any insurer affected may appeal to the commissioner from any ruling or decision of the manager or committee designated to operate such plan relative to acceptance or eligibility under the plan.

(2) The commissioner may by rule adopt a plan under subsection (1) of this section regarding property and casualty insurance for day-care liability without first imposing a market assistance plan under chapter .... RCW (sections 913 through 920 of this act).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 924. Section 923 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 48 RCW.

Mr. Appelwick: "One of the things that concerns me about the approach is that we have an insurance problem and all of the concentration on this effort is to cause amelioration of the tort system. This amendment deals with market assistance programs and joint underwriting authority. It does it in an integrated fashion to make some sense. In the course of the negotiation, one of the members of the third house who was sitting with us as an adviser said that if we were going to do it, if we are going to have MAPs or JUAs the way it ought to be done, is to have the Insurance Commissioner make a specific finding that the market is not meeting the needs, after public hearing makes that finding, and then begin the market assistance program. If the market assistance program is not working having public hearings, have a specific finding and-then take in the joint underwriting authority. That is precisely what this amendment does and it is better than the bill that has been wavering back and forth here. In fact, which has all been diluted and which has some serious problems. If we are going to step up to the total problem, and this also creates an immediate JUA for day care which we have already passed and affirmed that policy, if we are really going to step up to the breadth of the problem and all the speeches that this bill is intended to be a sincere approach to deal with the problem, I think you can't vote against this amendment either. It is integrated, comprehensive and from somebody who knows this is the way to do it if we are going to do it--we've all voted for those bills that would do an MAP and we've considered a JUA--this is the opportunity to do it right. It certainly does no violence to what else is in the bill. It's a good amendment and I recommend it to you."

Mr. Bristow: "We have addressed the insurance issue in the amendment that recently passed and we have addressed the insurance issue in bills before us now, and I would urge you to defeat this amendment."
ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Representative Appelwick to the committee amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630, and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 56; excused, 1.

Excused: Representative van Dyke - 1.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be adoption of the committee amendment as amended.

Mr. West: "After a long grueling night of dealing with this issue, I would recommend that we pass the committee amendment as amended by the Ballard/Bristow amendment and conclude the business on that."

Mr. Appelwick: "If you vote no on this amendment you will be left with the bill as it came from the Senate, and that bill, frankly, is in much better shape than this bill is with these amendments. I urge you to oppose the committee amendment as amended."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the committee amendment as amended to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630, and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 65; nays, 32; excused, 1.

Excused: Representative van Dyke - 1.

Mr. Armstrong moved adoption of the committee amendment to the title of the bill.

On motion of Mr. Bristow, the following amendment to the title amendment was adopted:

On page 30, line 21 of the title amendment, beginning with "amending" strike all material down through "date: on page 31, line 6 and insert "amending RCW 5.60.060, 4.22.030, 51.24-.060, 4.16.350, 4.24.115, 4.16.160, 4.16.310, and 4.16.300; adding a new section to chapter 4.22 RCW; adding new sections to chapter 4.24 RCW; adding new sections to chapter 4.56 RCW; adding new sections to chapter 5.40 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 7.70 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 48.19 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 48.22 RCW; creating new sections; repealing RCW 4.56.240; and declaring an emergency."

The committee amendment as amended to the title was adopted.

On motion of Mr. J. King, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Ms. Sommers: "I want to try to put this bill in a little bit different context. We have been talking about the details of the bill; we've been talking a lot about joint and several and many other aspects, detailed aspects, of this bill. I look at it a little bit differently. I think that there is a clear trend in this country away from so much litigation. I think our people are beginning to say in this country, 'We have too much litigation: we have too many suits and it is costing us a great deal.' The tort system and the adversarial system is not a good safety net. Not a good safety net all all. It is very expensive and very wasteful and a lot of people slip through the cracks. I look at this as just part of a major trend here in this state and in the country as a whole. Our legislature has taken other steps along this way. We have attempted to expand and have expanded arbitration potential; we worked on mediation and we have begun to discuss and approve other kinds of dispute resolution measures. I look at this as just one step along the way. I am sure we will continue to work on this issue and perhaps, as in most general trends in this country, a couple of steps forward, maybe one step backward for a zig-zag course, but I would ask you to think about the long term trend and place this action in that context."

Mr. D. Nelson: "There is another trend in this society, too, that ought to be mentioned in the context of this bill and that is that we live increasingly in a high-risk society. One that day-after-day sees more new chemicals, more new medicines, more new medical techniques, gene splicing, bio-technology—you name it—it's coming down on us. Recent history would suggest that when those things occur in society, those new procedures or new techniques, chemicals, they bring problems, problems that overwhelmed regulators and have caused damages to people and ultimately have caused withdrawal of many products in our society. The tort system, in my opinion and I have thought about this, if anything is an early warning system, it's a system that says that when we unleash things in society that do damage, we need an early message to the regulators, to the legislators, that there is a problem. The tort system provides that and has provided that very well. We don't do very well to regulate until we are finally forced to react to big problems that we are doing today. Sometimes we overreact. I guess I'd rather—and this is my fear about this bill—I'd rather continue under a system that has served us well especially if we are going to see more and more change, technological change, in this society. That system depends on our peers, juries of individual human beings who make the decisions and send the messages to us and to the regulators that there is something wrong. I think that system ought to be continued and that's why I will not vote for this bill."

Mr. Brooks: "I want to thank everybody for tonight's real struggle. Both sides have put a lot of effort into this and I think you have earnestly tried to come to a solution, and to quote Dr. Derek Bok II, from Harvard University, who is now the president of that organization, we are as what's known to him in his very well-known article, 'The Faulted System.' This is the first attempt in the House to start setting that right. We have made a small step. We may have made some errors on the way, but I think we've made a good positive step in particular for those patients who have been deprived. I think this is one great victory for those people. I want to thank everybody for their assistance."

Ms. Leonard: "I wasn't going to say anything further because I did speak on the other bill, but I did want to let people here know that while I did sign on the original bill for tort reform, I did support and do support—we need some reform in our tort system. We are having problems, I think the amendments that were offered tonight would have met those problems. We would have protected the doctors; we would have protected the cities, the counties. We would have done as much with the bill as it was amended as this bill will do, but we would not have hurt people and like my city, I'm really reluctant to move to support this bill. I think the mayor said, my city said to me, we know it will be good for the cities to support this, but we don't think it will be good for the people. And they didn't tell me to support it and I feel like they do, that maybe it's good for the cities, but I don't think it's good for the people and I do wish I could support this, but I can't. I do think it's going to hurt the people in the long run. I'm afraid I'm going to have to vote no on something I really wanted to support and would have supported if we had had the amended version from the committee. I urge you to vote no on this."

Ms. Miller: "I spent quite a bit of time reading letters from attorneys in my district and in neighboring districts. I spent a lot of time reading letters and talking to the medical people in my district. In my district we sort of have an Eastside Hill now. We not only have a major hospital, which is a tax-supported hospital, but we also have Mason Clinic East. We have a very large complex of doctors and dentists, therapists and we are going to have further facilities for people with drug problems. I've talked to many, many people in my community. I've gone to special meetings. I've talked to lobbyists on both sides and I don't have any relatives who are lawyers; I don't have any relatives who are insurance people; I don't have any relatives who are doctors, but I have a lot of people in my district who are in trouble on this issue. They can't get insurance or they can't afford to pay the price for insurance. I have people I have talked to who have been victims. They are either bedridden or they are in wheelchairs and much to my surprise, when I talk to them about this issue and try to bring both points of view, they were very clear that they felt that if they could be retributed for their damages, that they also felt that noneconomic damages, pain and suffering, ought to be capped; that is was unrealistic; that we did have some very large awards being given in what we might say is from somebody wanting to have a risk-free-system society. We don't have a risk-free society; we never will have. They also, interestingly enough, felt as if they were not only victimized by the system, but definitely victimized by all of the legal people that they had to work with. One of the things that is not in this bill, but I hope the Supreme Court is going to deal with, is the attorney's fees. It's very interesting to talk to somebody who has been lying flat on their back in a bed for five years, who is trying to work their way through the court system, and find out that one of their largest frustrations is the way the legal fees multiply on them and how much of their award is going to be taken at the end of the whole long struggle by the legal system. I hope the Supreme Court will look at that very seriously. I feel that I have to support this bill. There are a lot of people, just folks, in my district who need to have us move in this direction or we are going to find the victims in a worse situation because there will be no insurance, no coverage, nothing for them to recover when they are injured. I urge a yes vote."

Mr. Lux: "The previous speaker mentioned that her concern was the availability and the affordability of insurance for the folks in her district and that she had read a lot of letters from attorneys and a lot of memos from her constituents. I'd like to ask her if you've read the bill? Do you understand the bill? Let me point out that there's nothing in this bill that's going to make insurance more available. The insurance portion at the back of the bill talks about an MAP. It talks in one point about a voluntary and then it says 'shall' and then it says 'twenty-five companies.' Let me tell you, there's a printout of all the insurance companies that are admitted to the State of Washington---1,350 companies---and you're going to use twenty-five companies? That's all? What kind of assurance is that? Whal kind of sense does that make? How many people will even know they have the ability to do that? Who is going to inform them? You know, I wish I understood more about this, but I feel very insecure about it. All people who have talked said this isn't going to have a darn thing to do with making insurance more available. This didn't come from the folks that wander the gulch out there and represent the insurance companies; this comes from the vice presidents of insurance companies who the commissioner summoned down here for a hearing. None of it guarantees that insurance will be more available or more affordable if we had tort reform."

Mr. Schoon: "In the four years that I've been down here, this is the second time on the second major issue that I've voted with the majority. It's not a very happy evening because it's not been an easy subject. One of the trial attorneys with whom I spoke came into my office and showed me some photographs. One photograph of a young man, 35 years old, who had a three-inch stub of bone sticking out of the flesh of his left arm. His right arm was horribly burned from an electrical fire. Subsequently, both legs were amputated just above the knees. Not only were his hands amputated, but his arms and shoulders and his clavicle. The attorney showed me that bright colored picture that was used in the jury trial that they had and she asked me, 'How do you feel this man can get by with only $250,000 for pain and suffering? Don't you think he deserves more?' I don't know how you answer a question like that, but I haven't heard anybody say that this bill is perfect and I know that we will all work next year to try and make it a little bit better. I feel that it is a bill that has taken the first step. We did not like taking a no vote on the Christmas tree amendments that were offered. We know what the intent of the amendments is. We know that the amendments would have benefited a small segment, each and every one of them, but we also know that from the spirit of cooperation we need to get a bill passed and that was our effort. I'm going to vote yes for the bill because I think it is the first step and I think I will vote on the bill next year also and amendments to it of some sort. If the gentleman from the 11th District really feels that there are some things that need to be worked on, I know that we will all be glad to listen to them in Judiciary (Committee) and see if we can accommodate some of his complaints. It is a start and I think that is what we need. I recommend a yes vote on this bill."

Mr. Locke: "I really think this is one shameful way to make such sweeping changes in our legal system which has evolved so carefully over the last several hundred years. We saw this document basically for the first time last night. This morning at about 11 o'clock it was discovered that this document had major flaws and really did away completely with joint and several liability despite the intent of the authors. Then it had to be redrafted and we didn't see it again until about 4 o'clock this afternoon. What other defects does this major legislation have? What other rights are we extinguishing? What are we doing to the people of this state? I agree with Representative Sommers, that changes in the legal system have to be made, that we sue too often and that we are too quick to go to court, but does that justify the wholesale changes in the law that we are making this evening? I am not a defender of the trial lawyers. I am sometimes criticized as being too critical of the legal profession, but I have a very passionate love of the law--jurisprudence--which is the science and philosophy of law. I cannot, given that love, support what we are doing tonight. I oppose the current system of joint and several liability, no secret, and just as we said over ten years ago, that a person who was contributorily negligent should not be completely barred from bringing a lawsuit, so it is unfair that a person who is partially responsible and defendant should have to bear the full burden of the injuries caused by other defendants. But we do go to such an automatic and arbitrary standard, saying that if you are even one percent at fault, as a plaintiff there is no joint and several liability. I think that before such sweeping changes in the law can be made or should be made, we need careful and deliberate study. Not a delaying study, but a study and a commission composed of the consumers, both the injured consumers and the consumers who pay the insurance rates who have to bear the burden and the consequences of our legal system. But also the academicians people in labor and business and the attorneys and the doctors. We have not had this tonight and because of this, this is flawed, because there has never ever really been a public hearing on this latest document and because we have seen it such a short time. I really think we all should vote no. I urge you to do so."

Mr. Ballard: "Urging you to support the bill, I won't respond to some of the previous comments made as to why there wasn't public hearing. A lot of us have wondered about that particular issue and we don't need to address that. I would like to say that I think there has been an incredible amount of work put into this bill and I would like to say even the people who are going to vote against it, who opposed it, who worked long hours on it, that there were major changes made and surprising to the good representative across the aisle, there are actually people in this body who know what is in this bill. We have actually read it and actually studied it. Interesting enough, the people at home certainly know what is in the bill. They know the concepts, they know about joint and several, and they know the problems. Yes, it is a major step that we are addressing. Some of these issues. I think it's good that we have enough people who are willing to step up and spend the time and address this major problem. People going out of business simply can no longer employ people, councilmen who can no longer stay on city councils and county commissioners because they can't have any insurance. By doing this we are going to make. I think, significant moves in making insurance, number one, available. I think that is a major move. Yes. I think it is going to be more affordable and so I strongly recommend that we vote yes on this bill."

Mr. Appelwick: "First, I want to commend all fellow members for the very civil way this volatile issue has been handled. It makes it more respectable to the public that it has been brought through and worked out. The lady from the 36th District talked about a safety net and how we are really trying to deal with a safety net for the public out there, and, of course, find a place for that. You know, I happen to agree with her; we need to help people. A tremendous amount of the fabric of the law we pass is trying to keep people out of the courts, to let them enjoy their rights: to be made whole when a wrong has been done to them without having to go through the trauma and expense of the courtroom. So how does this bill help them? It helps them afford insurance. Why do they buy insurance? So they can be made whole when they are injured. What does it do? It puts a lid on whether or not they are made whole. We put a lid on pain and suffering. No actual data whatever that pain and suffering awards are out of hand—none at all. None. No where. We rejected an amendment for itemized verdicts, itemized settlements that would help you gather that data to find out if you are really dealing with the problem or if you are artificially taking money out of the hands of the people who have been injured and hurt. We help them by taking away joint liability, which is the way to insure that when they are honest-to-god hurt by somebody else's negligence that they are made whole—it's stripped away—gone. We help them by undercutting the ability to get settlements from people so that they don't have to stand the full expense of the litigation, the full trauma of testifying, the long, long delay. That's gone, that's undercut and that was the nub of the problem in the joint and several section. We've put a stitch in the fabric of law here and what will the people do, as the Representative from the 30th District has described? What will they do while we wail for another bill to fix this? They are cut off; their change is one—when they are in that courtroom that is their chance. They don't get to come back and amend it after we amend the law later. We tried in good faith, and I think those that I worked with did also, to find a better middle ground that didn't take the excesses that this bill does in its present form. The pendulum has swung too far with this bill and it will swing back and it will validate that I and others have been right on this, but frankly, that will be a very small consolation. I work in the system. I know it. It's kind of like that metaphor on that paper handed out by the gentleman from the 36th about the elephant. I know it. I know where the parts are. you are trying to administer medicine to a sick elephant, but you are putting the medicine in the wrong end. This is a bad bill. You ought to vote it down.”

Mr. Tanner: "I'm proud tonight to be a member of this institution, and I want to thank all the members here, every person on the floor. The reason I'm proud is not because I like to deal with this issue, because frankly, no matter what you do on this issue, there's winners and there's losers. I'm proud because we did our job and our job is to take the proposal from wherever it might come, whether that might be the original coalition proposal or a bill from the Senate, and to make it the best bill that we possibly can consistent with getting support from the majority of the people on this floor. I'd like to talk for just a minute about what we did with that original proposal that was filed a long time ago, over there in the Senate, and over here as well. It was done, and particularly needing congratulations here, are all the opponents of this bill, because many, many changes were made. The onerous attorney fees limitations that were in the original bill was stricken. The limits on noneconomic damages which originally were $250,000 were replaced with a sliding scale that now goes to $573,000. In the periodic payment section the threshold was raised up to $100,000 in terms of future damages above that, subject to periodic payment. All noneconomic damages are to be paid up front in a lump sum. That wasn't in the original bill. Very significantly, all future earnings are economic damages other than medicals that would be paid to the plaintiff, now will continue to the wife, the children, the estate and will not be cut off by that other plaintiff. Actions involving hazardous waste, business torts and market share liability were exempted from this bill and they were certainly included in the original bill that was filed. And the existence of the immunity of the employers in workers’ comp suits that was in the Senate bill that came over here was eliminated. There is an insurance provision in this bill, and maybe it doesn’t go as far as we would all like, but it goes as far as we can go and get fifty votes. There’s immunity in here for the board of directors of nonprofit corporations, hospitals and school directors and superintendents, and that wasn’t in any proposal. It certainly wasn’t in the proposal that was originally filed and that’s a major improvement in this bill that was made by the members on this floor. There are many other changes and they are almost all improvements. I don’t know whether any of us like everything in the bill. I certainly don’t like everything in the bill, but I’m proud because the members of this body and almost everybody participated in their own way and went through that agonizing procedure.”

Mr. Wang: “There are a number of things that we know and don’t know about this bill. We know that in effect we—we don’t know really whether it be a desired effect on the insurance problem—we know we have an insurance problem. We know we have an insurance problem in availability and affordability. We have a problem with the way in which insurance premiums are calculated because they don’t reflect our state experience: they don’t reflect the lack of punitive damages here. We don’t know what the effects are going to be and maybe it will help. I would like to believe that it will help. We don’t know that yet. We do know what the effects are going to be on a number of areas though. We do know that it will restrict the ability of victims of accidents, victims of negligence to receive compensation, whether it’s through the caps on damages, whether it’s through the joint and several liability provisions, whether it’s through the periodic payment provision, it clearly will restrict the ability of victims to be compensated. We know that the document is really expressing a policy statement and the policy statement is that we don’t trust juries. We don’t trust the juries who consist of the voters. In fact, we don’t trust the juries in their ability to decide to award or compensate damages appropriately. We don’t trust the court system, we are saying here. I recognize that the court system is a lousy way of compensating people; it is an inefficient system, but that’s only one of the functions of the court system.

“The tort system is also designed to provide preventative approaches and protection for people. What we are doing here is we know that we are causing a rush to the courthouse because of the way the bill is structured in terms of implementation dates, requiring filing, in effect, by August. We know that we have created a problem in workers’ compensation. I’ve spent a lot of time this session working on workers’ compensation, trying to restrict some of the payments and costs. This just generated an $8 million more problem for workers’ compensation.
I’m kind of curious, but despite all the jokes and comments and whatever about attorneys, and I understand that the comments about attorneys and the difficulties with attorneys in the legal system—the there are ten people in this body who practice as attorneys—and I’m not going to claim that attorneys know all they are doing whatever, they certainly don’t, but the ten attorneys who practice in the system, all voted no on the Bristow amendment. Just take that into consideration.”

Ms. Hine: “Often when we have these major issues here before us, it’s very clear between the white hats and the black hats, but this evening we are all wearing gray hats. We all want to do something about a problem brought to us with the tort laws and the insurance costs in our state, not just in our state, but in our nation.
We all have been attempting to deal with that. Unfortunately, the solution that has come before us is not a beginning, my friends, this is it. A solution that does not do either—help with the high insurance rates nor does it take care of the reasonable kind of a tort system. All of the people—I frankly resent a little bit in referring to this as a coalition bill. The coalition is not a coalition of legislators. If it had been a coalition of legislators, and we had duked it out here on the floor, I would have felt a lot better about that what we had was truly in the public’s best interest. We did make a lot of progress. I appreciate the very calm good way everyone has behaved this session, and this is the first time I've shot off my mouth about it. Some people didn't even know which side I was on. I'm for local governments. I come from local government. I'm for the hospitals and the doctors and I'm for all those people, but when we do something that gives a break to someone who someone else pays, clearly in this the victim of a potential court action is going to get less because these people are going to have to pay more. We have talked at great length to begin doing something in a sixty-day session in major tort reform instead of one hundred five days. Just think what we could do with our good will, and it is here, on both sides of the aisle, if we had another thirty days or another forty-five days that we could have been percolating this idea and not have the final document dropped here at 4 o'clock. I think we could have made a very good document. There are times you win and there are times you lose and you have to take your chances. I don't know that I have ever been in a situation—and this is true of a lot of us—where losing was not a matter of 'Darn it, I didn't win.' I have never felt so sad and yet so angry."

Mr. Sutherland: "As I sat listening to the debate tonight, I put myself in the shoes of those people who were watching the television last night around the state of Washington. I placed myself in probably the shoes of those people who are sitting in the gallery this evening and I thought what they might be saying about what went on this evening. The case that was being discussed, the proceedings of the evening. So I thought very carefully as we considered all those amendments, I prepared myself as many of you have for months now, trying to build up a good basic understanding of the issue, not committing myself on any side of this issue, but wishing to come here this evening and make a good decision as we went through the amendatory process. What I saw instead of a good case or a good discussion here was the proponents of the bill claiming the right to remain silent. the right to remain silent on all the discussion on the amendments that were going on. Instead I heard the proponents stand up and say that the gentleman from the 7th District and the lady from the 35th District, referred a number of times as 'we.' As I was sitting as perhaps a juror would sit or somebody in the gallery or somebody back home watching TV, I thought to myself, 'Who is we?' As the legislator who just spoke mentioned, I think 'we' refers to a coalition and it didn't refer to the members of this body. The case that's being discussed tonight, the coalition versus the 4.3 million people in the state of Washington, and I don't believe there was adequate discussion. I do believe that all of us are interested in tort reform. but I think this decision was made in some arm-wrestling contest that went on hours before we ever hit this floor. I don't think it's appropriate on this kind of an issue. I don't believe the proponents of the bill in their silence proved, as they should have, the burden of proof that this bill is going to do anything in the state of Washington to reduced insurance costs and make more available insurance. I thought to myself as I was going to stand up, 'Sutherland, your discussions likely won't make any difference.' But it will sure make me feel a lot better to know that I had the opportunity to vent a little steam and say that. although, Mr. Speaker. I appreciate the process we went through. As far as the institution goes this evening, I think the case that's being tried this evening has been very, very poorly handled."

Mr. Prince: "We went through an exercise here that leaves everybody a little drained and we're all talking about our inability to amend. We went through a budget and we talked about our inability to amend. We went through water quality and we talked about our inability to amend. I, for a short time, would like to talk to you about the tampering that we have done with our Free Conference system. If we would put our Free Conference system back in shape, we would have a vehicle to compromise our differences. the things that a democracy requires to stay free."

Mr. Bristow: "I certainly appreciate the tremendous amount of work that has been done today by the members and the staff in this body. So often we deal with issues and caseloads and dollars, but this issue was particularly personalized for me when a friend of our family was burned in a tragic accident in a restaurant where they were patrons about four weeks ago. This friend has become a touchstone. if you will. for reference points to consider against the proposed changes and has given me a very different perspective on the issue. Those changes have been reflected in the major changes that this bill has experienced since it was introduced. I truly believe that this is a fair, just and equitable proposal which is in the best interest of the people of the state of Washington.”

ROLL CALL

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Armstrong yielded to question by Mr. Isaacson.

Mr. Isaacson: "Representative Armstrong, we have a case in the tri-cities where a children's home or a nursery school had some problems and one of the people there was charged with child molestation. We're talking about preschoolers, and the question is whether or not their testimony could be taken. I was wondering how this might affect a case such as that where you could have some very young children that might have some emotional problems in responding to questions in a court of law."

Mr. Armstrong: "The court will examine the child and determine whether the child tells the truth, and if the child tells the truth, the child will be accepted as a witness."

Mr. Isaacson: "I think that is my point. How do we know whether or not a child is telling the truth?"

Mr. Armstrong: "The court measures on a case-by-case basis."

Revising provisions relating to juvenile offenders.

The bill was read the second time.

On motion of Mr. Armstrong, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 3, after line 31, insert the following:

"Sec. 3. Section 61, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 18, chapter 191, Laws of 1983 and RCW 13.40.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Complaints referred to the juvenile court alleging the commission of an offense shall be referred directly to the prosecutor. The prosecutor, upon receipt of a complaint, shall screen the complaint to determine whether:

(a) The alleged facts bring the case within the jurisdiction of the court; and

(b) On a basis of available evidence there is probable cause to believe that the juvenile did commit the offense.

(2) If the identical alleged acts constitute an offense under both the law of this state and an ordinance of any city or county of this state, state law shall govern the prosecutor's screening and charging decision for both filed and diverted cases.

(3) If the requirements of subsections (1) (a) and (b) of this section are met, the prosecutor shall either file an information in juvenile court or divert the case, as set forth in subsections (5), (6), and (7) of this section. If the prosecutor neither files nor diverts the case, he shall maintain a record, for one year, of such decision and the reasons therefor. In lieu of filing an information or diverting an offense a prosecutor may file a motion to modify community supervision where such offense constitutes a violation of community supervision."
An information shall be a plain, concise, and definite written statement of the essential facts constituting the offense charged. It shall be signed by the prosecuting attorney and conform to chapter 10.37 RCW.

Where a case is legally sufficient, the prosecutor shall file an information with the juvenile court if:

(a) An alleged offender is accused of a class A felony, a class B felony, an attempt to commit a class B felony, assault in the third degree, rape in the third degree, or any other offense listed in RCW 13.40.020(1) (b) or (c); or

(b) An alleged offender is accused of a felony and has a criminal history of at least one class A or class B felony, or two class C felonies, or at least two gross misdemeanors, or at least two misdemeanors and one additional misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor, or at least one class C felony and one misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor;

(c) An alleged offender has been referred by a diversion unit for prosecution or desires prosecution instead of diversion; or

(d) An alleged offender is accused of a misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor and has previously entered into a total of three diversion agreements for separate offenses, not in the same course of conduct.

Where a case is legally sufficient the prosecutor shall divert the case if the alleged offense is a misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor or violation and the alleged offense(s) in combination with the alleged offender's criminal history do not exceed three offenses or violations and do not include any felonies. PROVIDED. That if the alleged offender is charged with a related offense that must or may be filed under subsections (5) and (7) of this section, a case under this subsection may also be filed: PROVIDED FURTHER. That an alleged misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor shall be filed pursuant to subsection (5)(d) of this section.

Where a case is legally sufficient and falls into neither subsection (5) nor (6) of this section, it may be filed or diverted. In deciding whether to file or divert an offense under this section the prosecutor shall be guided only by the length, seriousness, and recency of the alleged offender's criminal history and the circumstances surrounding the commission of the alleged offense.

Whenever a juvenile is placed in custody or, where not placed in custody, referred to a diversionary interview, the parent or legal guardian of the juvenile shall be notified as soon as possible concerning the allegation made against the juvenile and the current status of the juvenile.

The responsibilities of the prosecutor under subsections (1) through (8) of this section may be performed by a juvenile court probation counselor for any complaint referred to the court alleging the commission of an offense which would not be a felony if committed by an adult. If the prosecutor has given sufficient written notice to the juvenile court that the prosecutor will not review such complaints.

Sec. 4. Section 70. chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 8, chapter 191, Laws of 1983 and RCW 13.40.160 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When the respondent is found to be a serious offender, the court shall commit the offender to the department for the standard range of disposition for the offense.

If the court concludes, and enters reasons for its conclusion, that disposition within the standard range would effectuate a manifest injustice the court shall impose a disposition outside the standard range. The court's finding of manifest injustice shall be supported by clear and convincing evidence.

A disposition outside the standard range shall be determinate and shall be comprised of confinement or community supervision, or a combination thereof. When a judge finds that a manifest injustice and imposes a sentence of confinement exceeding thirty days, the court shall sentence the juvenile to a maximum term, and the provisions of RCW 13.40.030(5), as now or hereafter amended, shall be used to determine the range. A disposition outside the standard range is appealable under RCW 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended.

(2) Where the respondent is found to be a minor or first offender, the court shall order that the respondent serve a term of community supervision. If the court determines that a disposition of community supervision would effectuate a manifest injustice the court may impose another disposition. A disposition other than community supervision may be imposed only after the court enters reasons upon which it bases its conclusion that imposition of community supervision would effectuate a manifest injustice. When a judge finds a manifest injustice and imposes a sentence of confinement exceeding thirty days, the court shall sentence the juvenile to a maximum term, and the provisions of RCW 13.40.030(5), as now or hereafter amended, shall be used to determine the range. The court's finding of manifest injustice shall be supported by clear and convincing evidence.

Any disposition other than community supervision may be appealed as provided in RCW 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended. by the state or the respondent. A disposition of community supervision may not be appealed under RCW 13.40.230 as now or hereafter amended):

(a) The court shall order that the respondent serve a term of community supervision; and
(b) If the minor or first offender has a criminal history of two or more offenses, the court may impose a term of confinement not to exceed seven days in addition to a term of community supervision. If confinement has been imposed, the court shall state aggravating factors as set forth in RCW 13.40.150.

(c) Only if the court concludes, and enters reasons for its conclusions, that disposition under (a) or (b) of this subsection would cause a manifest injustice, the court may impose a disposition other than community supervision and/or up to seven days' confinement. When a judge finds a manifest injustice and imposes a sentence of confinement exceeding thirty days, the court shall sentence the juvenile to a maximum term, and the range shall be determined under RCW 13.40.030(5). The court's finding of manifest injustice shall be supported by clear and convincing evidence.

A disposition under (c) of this subsection is appealable under RCW 13.40.230. A disposition under (a) or (b) of this subsection is not appealable under RCW 13.40.230.

(3) Where a respondent is found to have committed an offense for which the respondent declined to enter into a diversion agreement, the court shall impose a term of community supervision limited to the conditions allowed in a diversion agreement as provided in RCW 13.40.080(2) as now or hereafter amended.

(4) If a respondent is found to be a middle offender:

(a) The court shall impose a determinate disposition within the standard range(s) for such offense: PROVIDED, That if the standard range includes a term of confinement exceeding thirty days, commitment shall be to the department for the standard range of confinement; or

(b) The court shall impose a determinate disposition of community supervision and/or up to thirty days confinement in which case, if confinement has been imposed, the court shall state either aggravating or mitigating factors as set forth in RCW 13.40.150 as now or hereafter amended.

(c) Only if the court concludes, and enters reasons for its conclusions, that disposition as provided in subsection (4) (a) or (b) of this section would effectuate a manifest injustice, the court shall sentence the juvenile to a maximum term, and the provisions of RCW 13.40.030(5), as now or hereafter amended, shall be used to determine the range. The court's finding of manifest injustice shall be supported by clear and convincing evidence.

(d) A disposition pursuant to subsection (4)(c) of this section is appealable under RCW 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended, by the state or the respondent. A disposition pursuant to subsection (4) (a) or (b) of this section is not appealable under RCW 13.40.230 as now or hereafter amended.

(5) Whenever a juvenile offender is entitled to credit for time spent in detention prior to a dispositional order, the dispositional order shall specifically state the number of days of credit for time served.

(6) In its dispositional order, the court shall not suspend or defer the imposition or the execution of the disposition.

(7) In no case shall the term of confinement imposed by the court at disposition exceed that to which an adult could be subjected for the same offense.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The legislature finds that children who are dependent or in conflict with their families and who violate court-ordered placements or other terms of a court order which may detrimentally affect their emotional or physical well-being should face the consequences of their actions. The legislature further finds that use of the power of contempt of court can accomplish this while maintaining the distinction between these children and juveniles who have violated the criminal laws. It is the intent of the legislature to broaden the court's contempt powers and emphasize that contempt is the appropriate tool for punishing violations of court orders.

Sec. 6, Section 14, chapter 298, Laws of 1981 and RCW 13.32A.250 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Failure by a party to comply with an order entered under this chapter is punishable as contempt.

(2) Contempt under this section is punishable by a fine of up to one hundred dollars and imprisonment for up to ((seven)) fourteen days, or both.

(3) A child found in contempt under this section shall be imprisoned only in a secure juvenile detention facility operated by or pursuant to a contract with a county.

(4) The procedure in a contempt proceeding held under this section is governed by RCW 7.20.040 through 7.20.080, as now law or hereafter amended.

(5) A motion for contempt may be made by a parent, a child, juvenile court personnel, or by any public agency, organization, or person having custody of the child under a court order; and adopted pursuant to this chapter.

Sec. 7, Section 1, chapter 257, Laws of 1985 and RCW 13.34.165 are each amended to read as follows:

Mr. Braddock moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Braddock and B. Williams:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. I. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Advertisement' means any written or printed communication or any communication by means of recorded telephone messages or spoken on radio, television, or similar communication media published in connection with an offer or sale of a franchise.

(2) 'Affiliate' means any person, firm, or corporation who controls or is controlled by any motor fuel refiner-supplier, and includes any subsidiary or affiliated corporation in which the motor fuel refiner-supplier or its shareholders, officers, agents, or employees hold or control more than twenty-five percent of the voting shares.

(3) 'Community interest' means a continuing financial interest between the motor fuel refiner-supplier and motor fuel retailer in the operation of the franchise business.

(4) 'Marketing area' means an area five miles or less in any direction from a motor fuel retailer selling products of any trademark of the motor fuel refiner-supplier.

(5) 'Motor fuel' means gasoline or diesel fuel of a type distributed for use in self-propelled motor vehicles and includes gasohol.

(6) 'Motor fuel franchise' means any oral or written contract, either expressed or implied, between a motor fuel refiner-supplier and motor fuel retailer under which the motor fuel retailer is supplied motor fuel for resale to the public under a trademark owned or controlled by the motor fuel refiner-supplier or for sale on commission or for a fee to the public, or any agreements between a motor fuel refiner-supplier and motor fuel retailer under which the retailer is permitted to occupy premises owned, leased, or controlled by the refiner-supplier for the purpose of engaging in the retail sale of motor fuel under a trademark owned or controlled by the motor fuel refiner-supplier.

(7) 'Motor fuel refiner-supplier' means any person, firm, or corporation, including any affiliate of the person, firm, or corporation, engaged in the refining of crude oil into petroleum who supplies motor fuel for sale, consignment, or distribution through retail outlets and has an operable refinery capacity of three hundred twenty-five thousand barrels a day or more as reported to the federal department of energy.

(8) 'Motor fuel retailer' means a person, firm, or corporation that resells motor fuel entirely at one or more retail motor fuel outlets pursuant to a motor fuel franchise entered into with a refiner-supplier.

(9) 'Offer or offer to sell' includes every attempt or offer to dispose of or solicitation of an offer to buy a franchise or an interest in a franchise.

(10) 'Person' means a natural person, corporation, partnership, trust, or other entity and in the case of an entity, it shall include any other entity which has a majority interest in such an entity or effectively controls such other entity as well as the individual officers, directors, and other persons in act of control of the activities of each such entity.

(11) 'Price' means the net purchase price, after adjustment for commission, brokerage, rebate, discount, services or facilities furnished, or other such adjustment.

(12) 'Publish' means publicly to issue or circulate by newspaper, mail, radio, or television or otherwise to disseminate to the public.

(13) 'Retail motor fuel outlet' means any location where motor fuel is distributed for purposes other than resale.

(14) 'Sale or sell' includes every contract of sale, contract to sell, or disposition of a franchise.
(15) "Trademark" means any trademark, trade name, service mark, or other identifying symbol or name.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. It is unlawful for any motor fuel refiner-supplier to discriminate in price between motor fuel retailers in the same marketing area for purchases of motor fuel of like grade and quality, where the effect of the discrimination may be substantially to injure, destroy, or prevent competition with any motor fuel retailer who receives the benefit of the discrimination, or with the customers of either motor fuel retailer. Nothing in this section prevents differentials which make only due allowance for differences in the cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which the fuel is sold to motor fuel retailers. Upon proof being made of discrimination under this section, the burden of rebutting the prima facie case thus made by showing justification is upon the refiner-supplier. A refiner-supplier may show justification by establishing that a differential price was only made in good faith to meet an equally low price of a competitor if the price was also offered to all other motor fuel retailers under any trademark of the refiner-supplier within the same marketing area as the motor fuel retailer receiving the lower price.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Notwithstanding the terms of any motor fuel franchise, a motor fuel refiner-supplier shall not absolutely prohibit or unreasonably withhold its consent to any sale, assignment, or other transfer of the motor fuel franchise by a motor fuel retailer to a third party without fairly compensating the motor fuel retailer for the fair market value, at the time of expiration of the franchise, of the motor fuel retailer's inventory, supplies, equipment, and furnishings purchased from the motor fuel refiner-supplier, and good will, exclusive of personalized materials which have no value to the motor fuel refiner-supplier, and inventory, supplies, equipment, and furnishings not reasonably required in the conduct of the franchise business. A motor fuel refiner-supplier may offset against amounts owed to a motor fuel retailer under this section any amounts owed by the motor fuel retailer to the motor fuel refiner-supplier.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Notwithstanding the terms of any motor fuel franchise, no motor fuel refiner-supplier may prohibit or prevent the sale, assignment, or other transfer of the motor fuel franchise to a corporation in which the motor fuel retailer has and maintains a controlling interest if the motor fuel retailer offers in writing personally to guarantee the performance of the obligations under the motor fuel franchise.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Notwithstanding the terms of any motor fuel franchise, the interest of a motor fuel retailer under such an agreement shall be considered personal property and shall devolve on the death of the motor fuel retailer to a designated successor in interest of the retailer, limited to the retailer's spouse, adult child, or adult stepchild or, if no successor in interest is designated, to the retailer's spouse, if any. The designation shall be made, witnessed in writing by at least two persons, and delivered to the motor fuel refiner-supplier during the term of the franchise. The designation may be revised at any time by the motor fuel retailer and shall be substantially in the following form:

'I (motor fuel retailer name) at the service station located at ......... in the City of Washington, designate ... as my successor in interest under section 4 of this act and ....... as my alternate successor if the originally designated successor is unable or unwilling so to act. I so specify this day of .... 19 .... '

The motor fuel refiner-supplier shall assist the designated successor in interest temporarily in the day-to-day operation of the service station to insure continued operation of the service station.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Notwithstanding the terms of any motor fuel franchise, the motor fuel retailer shall be given the right of first refusal to purchase the real estate and/or improvements owned by the refiner-supplier at the franchise location, and at least thirty days' advance notice within which to exercise this right, prior to any sale thereof to any other buyer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Notwithstanding the terms of any motor fuel franchise, no motor fuel refiner-supplier may:

(1) Require any motor fuel retailer to meet mandatory minimum sales volume requirements for fuel or other products unless the refiner-supplier proves that its price to the motor fuel retailer has been sufficiently low to enable the motor fuel retailer reasonably to meet the mandatory minimum:

(2) Alter, or require the motor fuel retailer to consent to the alteration of, any provision of the motor fuel franchise during its effective term without mutual consent of the motor fuel retailer;

(3) Interfere with any motor fuel retailer's right to assistance of counsel on any matter or to join or be active in any trade association; and

(4) Sell or compel, directly or indirectly, the retail price at which the motor fuel retailer sells motor fuel or other products to the public.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. It is unlawful for any person in connection with the offer, sale, or purchase of any motor fuel franchise directly or indirectly:
(1) To sell or offer to sell a motor fuel franchise in this state by means of any written or oral communication which includes an untrue statement of a material fact or omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made in light of the circumstances under which they were made not misleading.

(2) To employ any device, scheme, or artifice to defraud.

(3) To engage in any act, practice, or course of business which operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon any person.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Without limiting the other provisions of this chapter, the following specific rights and prohibitions shall govern the relation between the motor fuel refiner-supplier and the motor fuel retailers:

(1) The parties shall deal with each other in good faith.

(2) For the purposes of this chapter and without limiting its general application, it shall be an unfair or deceptive act or practice or an unfair method of competition and therefore unlawful and a violation of this chapter for any person to:

(a) Require a motor fuel retailer to purchase or lease goods or services of the motor fuel refiner-supplier or from approved sources of supply unless and to the extent that the motor fuel refiner-supplier satisfies the burden of proving that such restrictive purchasing agreements are reasonably necessary for a lawful purpose justified on business grounds, and do not substantially affect competition: PROVIDED, That this provision shall not apply to the initial inventory of the motor fuel franchise. In determining whether a requirement to purchase or lease goods or services constitutes an unfair or deceptive act or practice or an unfair method of competition the courts shall be guided by the decisions of the courts of the United States interpreting and applying the anti-trust laws of the United States.

(b) Discriminate between motor fuel retailers in the charges offered or made for royalties, goods, services, equipment, rentals, advertising services, or in any other business dealing, unless and to the extent that the motor fuel refiner-supplier satisfies the burden of proving that any classification of or discrimination between motor fuel retailers is reasonable, is based on motor fuel franchises granted at materially different times and such discrimination is reasonably related to such difference in time or on other proper and justifiable distinctions considering the purposes of this chapter, and is not arbitrary.

(c) Sell, rent, or offer to sell to a motor fuel retailer any product or service for more than a fair and reasonable price.

(d) Require motor fuel retailer to assent to a release, assignment, novation, or waiver which would relieve any person from liability imposed by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) Any person who sells or offers to sell a motor fuel franchise in violation of this chapter shall be liable to the motor fuel retailer or motor fuel refiner-supplier who may sue at law or in equity for damages caused thereby for rescission or other relief as the court may deem appropriate. In the case of a violation of section 8 of this act rescission is not available to the plaintiff if the defendant proves that the plaintiff knew the facts concerning the untruth or omission or that the defendant exercised reasonable care and did not know or if he had exercised reasonable care would not have known of the untruth or omission.

(2) The suit authorized under subsection (1) of this section may be brought to recover the actual damages sustained by the plaintiff: PROVIDED, That the prevailing party may in the discretion of the court recover the costs of said action including a reasonable attorneys' fee.

(3) Any person who becomes liable to make payments under this section may recover contributions as in cases of contracts from any persons who, if sued separately, would have been liable to make the same payment.

(4) A final judgment, order, or decree heretofore or hereafter rendered against a person in any civil, criminal, or administrative proceedings under the United States anti-trust laws, under the Federal Trade Commission Act, or this chapter shall be regarded as evidence against such persons in any action brought by any party against such person under subsection (1) of this section as to all matters which said judgment or decree would be an estoppel between the parties thereto.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The pendency of any civil, criminal, or administrative proceedings against a person brought by the federal or Washington state governments or any of their agencies under the anti-trust laws, the Federal Trade Commission Act, or any federal or state act related to anti-trust laws or to franchising, or under this chapter shall toll the limitation of this action if the action is then instituted within one year after the final judgment or order in such proceedings: PROVIDED, That said limitation of actions shall in any case toll the law so long as there is actual concealment on the part of the person.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Any motor fuel retailer who is injured in his or her business by the commission of any act prohibited by this chapter, or any motor fuel retailer injured because of his or her refusal to accede to a proposal for an arrangement which, if consummated, would be in violation of this chapter may bring a civil action in superior court to enjoin further violations, to recover the actual damages sustained by him or her, or both, together with the costs of the suit, including reasonable attorney's fees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) The attorney general may bring an action in the name of the state against any person to restrain and prevent the doing of any act herein prohibited or declared to be unlawful. The prevailing party may in the discretion of the court recover the costs of such action including a reasonable attorneys' fee.

(2) Nothing in this chapter limits the power of the state to punish any person for any conduct which constitutes a crime by statute or at common law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. In any proceeding under this chapter, the burden of proving an exception or an exemption from definition is upon the person claiming it. Any condition, stipulation or provision purporting to bind any person acquiring a motor fuel franchise at the time of entering into a motor fuel franchise or other agreement to waive compliance with any provision of this chapter or any rule or order hereunder is void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The provisions of this chapter apply to any motor fuel franchise or contract entered into or renewed on or after the effective date of this act between a motor fuel refiner-supplier and a motor fuel retailer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. The Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW, shall wherever applicable herein govern the rights, remedies, and procedures respecting the administration of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. It is the intent of the legislature that this chapter be interpreted consistent with chapter 19.100 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. This chapter shall be liberally construed to effectuate its beneficial purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. This chapter shall be known as the 'Gasoline Dealer Bill of Rights Act.'

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. The Washington state attorney general shall conduct a study to determine whether motor fuel refiner-suppliers are injuring competition from motor fuel retailers, by charging retailers that sell products under their trademark, prices for motor fuel which equal or exceed the prices charged for motor fuel in the same geographic market to retail customers at retail motor fuel outlets operated by company personnel, a subsidiary company, or commissioned or contract agents. The attorney general shall report his findings and recommendations to the legislature by December 1, 1986. Periodic reports shall be submitted to the legislative transportation committee. For the purposes of this study, the attorney general is authorized to use all of the civil investigative demand powers enumerated in RCW 19.86.110, subject to the procedures and requirements specified in RCW 19.86.110: PROVIDED, That disclosure of documentary material, answers to written interrogatories, or transcripts of oral testimony pursuant to a demand, or the contents thereof, to members of the legislature and legislative staff shall not require a court order unless the documentary material, answers to written interrogatories, or transcripts of oral testimony are identified at the time they are furnished as containing trade secrets. When seeking a court order allowing disclosure of material containing trade secrets, the attorney general shall give reasonable notice of such proceeding to the party furnishing the material.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. To carry out this act, the sum of forty-nine thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated to the office of attorney general from the motor vehicle fund for the biennium ending June 30, 1987.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

These initial proceedings shall be confidential, unless confidentiality is waived by the judge or justice, but all subsequent hearings conducted by the commission shall be open to members of the public.

Whenever the commission adopts a recommendation that a judge or justice be removed, the judge or justice shall be suspended immediately, with salary, from his or her judicial position until a final determination is made by the supreme court.

Mr. Padden spoke in favor of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Padden yielded to question by Mr. Armstrong.

Mr. Armstrong: "Representative Padden, how does this procedure that you recommend differ from the current procedure?"

Mr. Padden: "Representative Armstrong, as I understand it, right now we are waiting on the disciplinary action with a certain judge. We are waiting for the Supreme Court to act and it's my understanding that judge is still hearing cases. There's some question of public confidence here. Secondly, with regard to the area of opening up the commission hearings, the commission is only open to hearings when they do it on their own motion and they have only done it. I believe, on one occasion. This was a matter that was discussed in the Judicial Administration Commission gatherings and it's something I think will be supported by the public."

POINT OF ORDER

Ms. Sommers: "Mr. Speaker, I would like you to rule on the scope and object of this amendment. I notice that when the Clerk read the title it seems to be a reasonably precise and tight title."
SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative Sommers, the Speaker has examined the floor amendment and the bill. The Speaker would like to note that the title is 'An Act Relating to deleting of statutory duties of the Legislative Budget Committee....' In fact, the Speaker would like to note that the bill itself deals with the reduction of duties, and in addition, it eliminates a report of the Secretary of State by responsibility of submitting a report to the Legislative Budget Committee, while the amendment only reduces or diminishes the responsibilities or duties of the Legislative Budget Committee. The Speaker, after examining both, finds that it is within the scope and object of the bill and your point is not well taken."

Mr. Vekich spoke in favor of the amendment, and Ms. Belcher spoke against it.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Vekich: "Mr. Speaker, I think my motives are being impugned. This amendment has nothing to do with salary surveys."

I'm sure you would not, now or in the future do so, so please continue on the issue before us."

Ms. Belcher continued her remarks in opposition to the amendment. Representatives Vander Stoep, Holland, Tilly, J. King, R. King, Sommers and Prince spoke against the amendment, and Representatives Sutherland, Schmidt and Walk spoke in favor of it.

With the consent of the House, Mr. Vekich withdrew the amendment.

The Senate has passed SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 136 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:
Sec. 2. Section 9, chapter 448, Laws of 1985 and RCW 70.105.220 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each local government, or combination of contiguous local governments, is directed to prepare a local hazardous waste plan which shall be based on state guidelines and include the following elements:

(a) A plan or program to manage moderate-risk wastes that are generated or otherwise present within the jurisdiction. This element shall include an assessment of the quantities, types, generators, and fate of moderate-risk wastes in the jurisdiction. The purpose of this element is to develop a system of managing moderate-risk waste, appropriate to each local area, to ensure protection of the environment and public health;

(b) A plan or program to provide for ongoing public involvement and public education in regard to the management of moderate-risk waste. This element shall provide information regarding:

(i) The potential hazards to human health and the environment resulting from improper use and disposal of the waste; and
(ii) Proper methods of handling, reducing, recycling, and disposing of the waste;
(c) An inventory of all existing generators of hazardous waste and facilities managing hazardous waste within the jurisdiction. This inventory shall be based on data provided by the department;
(d) A description of the public involvement process used in developing the plan;
(e) A description of the eligible zones designated in accordance with RCW 70.105.225.

However, the requirement to designate eligible zones shall not be considered part of the local hazardous waste planning requirements; and
(f) Other elements as deemed appropriate by local government.

(2) To the maximum extent practicable, the local hazardous waste plan shall be coordinated with other hazardous materials-related plans and policies in the jurisdiction.

(3) In recognition of the role of the private sector in providing hazardous and moderate-risk waste management facilities and transportation services, and in addition to other public involvement activities that may be required, local governments shall coordinate with those persons involved in providing such facilities and services.

(4) (a) The department shall prepare guidelines for the development of local hazardous waste plans. The guidelines shall be prepared in consultation with local governments and shall be completed by December 31, 1986. The guidelines shall include a list of substances identified as hazardous household substances.

(b) In preparing the guidelines under (a) of this subsection, the department shall review and assess information on pilot projects that have been conducted for moderate-risk waste management. The department shall encourage additional pilot projects as needed to provide information to improve and update the guidelines.

(5) The department shall consult with retailers, trade associations, public interest groups, and appropriate units of local government to encourage the development of voluntary public education programs on the proper handling of hazardous household substances.

(6) Local hazardous waste plans shall be completed and submitted to the department no later than June 30, 1990. Local governments may from time to time amend the local plan.

(((((((((((((I))(((())))))))))))))))

(7) Each local government, or combination of contiguous local governments, shall submit its local hazardous waste plan or amendments thereto to the department. The department shall approve or disapprove local hazardous waste plans or amendments by December 31, 1990, or within ninety days of submission, whichever is later. The department shall approve a local hazardous waste plan if it determines that the plan is consistent with this chapter and the guidelines under subsection (4) of this section. If approval is denied, the department shall submit its objections to the local government within ninety days of submission. However, for plans submitted between January 1, 1990, and June 30, 1990, the department shall have one hundred eighty days to submit its objections. No local government is eligible for grants under RCW 70.105.235 for implementing a local hazardous waste plan unless the plan for that jurisdiction has been approved by the department.

(8) Each local government, or combination of contiguous local governments, shall implement the local hazardous waste plan for its jurisdiction by December 31, 1991.

The department may waive the specific requirements of this section for any local government if such local government demonstrates to the satisfaction of the department that the objectives of the planning requirements have been met.

Sec. 2. Section 9, chapter 448, Laws of 1985 and RCW 70.105.235 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Subject to legislative appropriations, the department may make and administer grants to local governments for (a) preparing and updating local hazardous waste plans, (b) implementing approved local hazardous waste plans, and (c) designating eligible zones for designated zone facilities as required under this chapter.

(2) Local governments shall match the funds provided by the department for planning or designating zones with an amount not less than twenty-five percent of the estimated cost of the... work to be performed. Local governments may meet their share of costs with cash or contributed services. Local governments, or combination of contiguous local governments, conducting pilot projects pursuant to RCW 70.105.220(4) may subtract the cost of those pilot projects conducted for hazardous household substances from their share of the cost. If a pilot project has been conducted for all moderate-risk wastes, only the portion of the cost that applies to hazardous household substances shall be subtracted. The matching funds requirement under this

Ms. Brekke moved that the House do concur in the Senate amendment to Substitute House Bill No. 1495.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Brekke yielded to question by Mr. Hastings.

Mr. Hastings: "Representative Brekke, if we concur with the Senate amendment, will this statute in any way interfere with a clinical laboratory's ability to certify health care assistants who withdraw blood and perform other health services in the laboratory?"

Ms. Brekke: "No. Language in the bill on page 2, lines 12-13 goes beyond simply providing a mechanism for certifying health care assistants working in clinical laboratories. It also recognizes the existing practice for withdrawing blood in clinical labs for diagnostic purposes. RCW 18.135.050 very clearly authorizes the health care facility itself to certify assistants. This authorization is now provided to federally certified clinical laboratories in the language on page 2, lines 27-28. This language will put these laboratories in full compliance with state and federal law and give them the authority needed to certify their health care assistants."

The Washington land bank shall be patterned after the federal land banks organized under the Farm Credit Act of 1971, as amended, within state constitutional limits. The Washington land bank shall be organized by eligible borrowers and shall be designed to accomplish the objective of furnishing sound, adequate, and constructive long-term credit to farmer and rancher borrowers in the state of Washington. For purposes of this chapter, 'farmer and rancher' includes producers of privately cultured aquatic products.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The Washington land bank shall be a body corporate and, subject to regulation as provided by rules promulgated by the director of general administration, shall have the power to:

(1) Adopt and use a corporate seal.
(2) Have succession until dissolved under this chapter or rules promulgated pursuant to section 1 of this act.
(3) Make contracts.
(4) Sue and be sued.
(5) Acquire, hold, dispose, and otherwise exercise all the usual incidents of ownership of real and personal property necessary or convenient to its business.
(6) Make and participate in loans, make commitments for credit, accept advance payments, and provide services and other assistance as authorized in this chapter, and charge fees therefor.
(7) Operate under the direction of its board of directors.
(8) Elect by its board of directors a president, any vice-president, a secretary, and a treasurer, and provide for such other officers, employees, and agents as may be necessary, define their duties, and require surety bonds or make other provision against losses occasioned by employees.
(9) Prescribe by its board of directors its bylaws not inconsistent with law providing for the classes of its stock and the manner in which its stock shall be issued, transferred, and retired; its officers, employees, and agents are elected or provided for; its property acquired, held, and transferred; its loans and appraisals made; its general business conducted; and the privileges granted by law exercised and enjoyed.
(10) Borrow money and issue notes, bonds, debentures, or other obligations of such character, terms, conditions, and rates of interest as may be determined.
(11) Participate with one or more other lenders, including federal land banks existing under the Farm Credit Act of 1971, as amended, in loans that the corporation is authorized to make under this chapter.

(12) Deposit its securities and its current funds with any member bank of the federal reserve system or any insured state nonmember bank as defined in section 2 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and pay fees therefor and receive interest thereon as may be agreed.

(13) Buy and sell obligations of or insured by the United States or of any agency thereof, and, as may be authorized by its board of directors and by rule promulgated pursuant to section 1 of this act, (a) sell to other lenders interests in loans, (b) buy from other lenders interests in loans which the corporation could make directly under this chapter, and (c) make other investments.

(16) Exercise by its board of directors or authorized officers, employees, or agents all such incidental powers as may be necessary or expedient to carry on the business of the corporation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The voting stock of the Washington land bank shall be held only by borrowers who are farmers or ranchers, which stock shall not be transferred, pledged, or hypothecated except to other eligible borrowers. The rules promulgated by the director pursuant to section 1 of this act shall provide for the amount, par value, classes, voting, dividends, and other attributes of the stock of the corporation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The Washington land bank is authorized to make or participate with other lenders in long-term real estate mortgage loans in rural areas to eligible borrowers, and to make continuing commitments to make such loans under specified circumstances, for a term of not less than five nor more than forty years.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Loans made by the Washington land bank shall bear interest at a rate or rates, and on such terms and conditions, as may be determined by the board of directors of the bank from time to time, in accordance with rules promulgated pursuant to section 1 of this act. In setting rates and charges, it shall be the objective to provide the credit needed by eligible borrowers at the lowest reasonable cost on a sound business basis, taking into account the cost of money to the corporation, necessary reserves and expenses of the corporation, and providing services to stockholders and members. The loan documents may provide for the interest rate or rates to vary from time to time during the repayment period of the loan, in accordance with the rate or rates currently being charged by the corporation.

The value of security shall be determined by appraisal under appraisal standards prescribed by such rules. Additional security may be required to supplement real estate security.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A borrower may elect, during the first five years of a loan originated by the Washington land bank or in which it participates with another lender, to defer payment of all or any portion of the principal or interest due from the borrower to the corporation, unless the deferral of such payment would cause the principal and accrued interest on such loan to exceed sixty-five percent of the original appraised value or the current appraised value, whichever is less. Upon such election, the payment schedule related to such loan shall be recomputed and modified to provide for repayment of the principal amount of the loan plus accrued but unpaid interest and all interest which shall accrue during the period of deferral and thereafter over a term equal to the original term of the loan, commencing as of the date of such deferral.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Loans made by the Washington land bank shall be made on the basis of long-term profitability rather than short-term cash flow.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The Washington land bank may, in accordance with rules adopted pursuant to section 1 of this act, cause loans to be originated or serviced by other entities, including cooperative associations organized specifically for the purposes of this chapter, and may pay or charge a fee therefor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Loans made by the Washington land bank to farmers and ranchers may be for any agricultural need of the borrower. The bank may own and lease, or lease with option to purchase, to persons eligible for assistance under this chapter, facilities needed in the operations of such persons.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The provisions of the general corporation laws of this state, and all powers and rights thereunder, shall apply to the corporation organized under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. There is hereby created the land bank advisory committee to advise the department of general administration in the development of rules and procedures under section 1 of this act which apply to the establishment of the Washington land bank. Sec. 15. Section 30.04.020, chapter 33, Laws of 1955 as last amended by section 2, chapter 42, Laws of 1983 and RCW 30.04.020 are each amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 96, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 41.32.485 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, effective July 1, 1979, the retirement allowance of each beneficiary who either is receiving benefits pursuant to RCW 41.32.520 or 41.32.550 as of December 31, 1978, or commenced receiving a monthly retirement allowance under this chapter as of a date no later than July 1, 1974, shall be permanently increased by a post-retirement adjustment. This adjustment shall be in lieu of any adjustments provided under RCW 41.32.499(6) as of July 1, 1979, or July 1, 1980, for the affected beneficiaries. Such adjustment shall be calculated as follows:

(a) Retirement allowances to which this subsection and subsection (1) of this section are both applicable shall be determined by first applying subsection (1) and then applying this subsection. (b) The department shall multiply the total benefits determined in (a) of this subsection by six percent and divide the dollar value thus determined by the total service determined in (a) of this subsection. The resultant figure shall then be a post-retirement increase factor which shall be applied as specified in (c) of this subsection;

(c) Each beneficiary to whom this subsection applies shall receive an increase which is the product of the factor determined in (b) of this subsection multiplied by the years of creditable service.

Portions of a year shall be treated as fractions of a year and the decimal equivalent shall be multiplied by (ten) thirteen dollars. Where the pension payable was adjusted at the time benefit payments to the beneficiary commenced, the minimum pension provided in this section shall be adjusted in a manner consistent with that adjustment.

(2) The provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall not be applicable to those receiving benefits pursuant to RCW 41.40.220(1), 41.44.170(5), or 41.40.610 through 41.40.740.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Ebersole, the House refused to concur in the Senate amendments to Substitute House Bill No. 1829 and asked the Senate to recede therefrom.

Mr. Speaker:
The Senate has passed ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 134 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the use of both automatic dialing and announcing devices for purposes of commercial solicitation: (1) Deprives consumers of the opportunity to immediately question a seller about the veracity of their claims; (2) subjects consumers to unwarranted invasions of their privacy; and (3) encourages inefficient and potentially harmful use of the telephone network. The legislature further finds that it is in the public interest to prohibit the use of both automatic dialing and announcing devices for purposes of commercial solicitation.

The legislature finds that information delivery services, which are also known as information-access telephone services and more commonly known as '976' services, are in widespread use in the state. These services operate on a charge-per-call basis and provide revenue for both the service provider and the telecommunications companies. The marketing practices for these toll telephone services have at times been misleading to consumers and at other times specifically directed toward children. The result has been the placement of calls by individuals, particularly by children, uninformed about the charges that might apply. Therefore, the legislature finds that residential telephone users in the state are entitled to reasonable protection from telephone services they have no desire to use due to confusion or misinformation about these services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) As used in sections 1 through 7 of this act:

(a) An automatic dialing device is a device which automatically dials telephone numbers.

(b) Automatic announcing device is a device that plays a recorded message once a connection is made. An automatic announcing device includes recorded messages known as information delivery services.

(c) 'Commercial solicitation means the unsolicited initiation of a telephone conversation for the purpose of encouraging a person to purchase property, goods, or services.

(d) 'Information delivery services' means telephone recorded messages, interactive programs, or other information services which are provided for a charge to a caller. These services are usually provided through a '976' telephone number.

(e) 'Information providers' means the persons or corporations that provide the information, prerecorded message, or interactive program to the telecommunications company for the information delivery service. The information provider generally receives a portion of the revenue from the calls.

(f) 'Interactive program' means a program which allows an information delivery service caller, once connected to the information provider's announcement machine, to use the caller's telephone device to access more specific information.

(g) 'Currently equipped' means an existing switch and software that has the current capability of blocking access to information delivery services on an individual customer basis.

(2) No person may use both an automatic dialing and announcing device for purposes of commercial solicitation. This section applies to all commercial solicitation intended to be received by telephone customers within the state.

(3) A violation of this section is a violation of chapter 19.86 RCW. It shall be presumed that damages to the recipient of commercial solicitations made using an automatic dialing and announcing device are five hundred dollars.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the Washington utilities and transportation commission from adopting additional rules regulating automatic dialing and announcing devices.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The utilities and transportation commission shall by rule require telecommunications companies to offer each residential telephone subscriber the opportunity to have the subscriber's telephone blocked or deleted from access to all information delivery services. This means that the residential telephone subscriber's telephone would not complete a call to any 976 or information delivery service number. Under this rule, any telecommunications company that makes available information delivery services must also make available to its subscribers the blocking service described in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The utilities and transportation commission shall by rule mandate that information providers who make information available that constitutes lewd matter under RCW 7.48A.010 also provide at their expense for access to their services only through a personal identification number in conjunction with 976.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The telecommunications company shall inform subscribers of the rules adopted under sections 3 and 4 of this act, including the availability of the blocking service, through a bill insert or by publication in the telephone directory.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The costs of complying with the rules adopted under sections 3 and 4 of this act shall be borne by the information providers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The rules under sections 3 through 6 of this act shall take effect on or before December 1, 1986. The commission may also order a phase-in period for the rules if a telecommunications company is not currently equipped to block the services. If a telecommunications company is not so equipped, then the commission shall examine the economic feasibility of installing the blocking system if the newly installed system would be only for the purpose of blocking access to information delivery services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Sections 2 through 7 of this act are each added to chapter 80.36 RCW.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "adding" strike "a new section" and insert "new sections" and the same is herewith transmitted.

Concurrence as required in this section shall not be unreasonably withheld. The departments shall, by rule, provide a means whereby such concurrence may be sought. An export trading company shall not import goods or products for in-state sale in competition with products grown, produced, or produced in Washington state. The Washington public ports association shall, upon request, report to the legislative committee on economic development established in chapter 44.52 RCW with details of the impact of export trading companies on the state's economy."
On page 9, line 11, after "1991" insert ", and shall be subject to review under chapter 43.131 RCW"

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1870 with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds and declares that advertising, sales, and business practices of certain travel charter or tour operators have worked financial hardship upon the people of this state; that the travel business has a significant impact upon the economy and well-being of this state and its people; that problems have arisen regarding certain segments of the travel charter or tour operator business; and that the public welfare requires regulation of travel charter or tour operators in order to eliminate unfair advertising, sales and business practices. The legislature further finds it necessary to establish standards that will safeguard the people against financial hardship and to encourage fair dealing and prosperity in the travel business.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) 'Travel charter or tour operator' means a person who sells, provides, furnishes, contracts for, arranges, or advertises in this state that he or she can or may arrange, or has arranged air, sea, or land transportation either separately or in conjunction with other services. (2) 'Advertise' means to make any representation in conjunction with, or to affect the sale of, travel services and includes communication with other members of the same partnership, corporation, joint venture, association, organization, group or other entity.
(3) 'Passenger' is a person who purchases travel arrangements in Washington state and on whose behalf money or other consideration has been given or is to be given to another, including another member of the same partnership, corporation, joint venture, association, organization, group or other entity, for procuring transportation or other travel services.

(4) 'Adequate bond' means a bond executed by an authorized surety insurer in an amount not less than fifty thousand dollars or an amount equal to ten percent of the total revenue of the two highest consecutive months for the travel charter or tour operator's business during the prior calendar year, whichever is greater, but in no case, more than five hundred thousand dollars, for the benefit of every person for whom services have not been delivered by the wrongful act of the principal acting in the course and scope of his or her occupation or business or by any official, agent, or employee of the principal acting in the course or scope of his or her employment or agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A travel charter or tour operator shall not advertise that air, sea, or land transportation either separately or in conjunction with other services is or may be available unless he or she has, prior to such advertisement, received written confirmation with a carrier for the transportation advertised.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. At or prior to the time of full or partial payment for air, sea, or land transportation or any other services offered by the travel charter or tour operator in conjunction with such transportation, the travel charter or tour operator shall furnish to the person making the payment a written statement conspicuously setting forth the following information:

(1) The name and business address and telephone number of the travel charter or tour operator.

(5) The conditions, if any, upon which the contract between the travel charter or tour operator and the passenger may be canceled, and the rights and obligations of all parties in the event of such cancellation.

(6) A statement in eight-point boldface type in substantially the following form:

'If transportation or other services are canceled by the travel charter or tour operator, all sums paid to the travel charter or tour operator for services not performed in accordance with the contract between the travel charter or tour operator and the passenger will be refunded within fourteen days after the cancellation by the travel charter or tour operator to the passenger or the party who contracted for the passenger unless mutually acceptable alternative travel arrangements are provided.'

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) If the transportation or other services contracted for are canceled or the travel charter or tour operator shall return to the passenger within fourteen days after the cancellation all moneys paid for services not performed in accordance with the contract unless mutually acceptable alternative travel arrangements are provided.

(2) Any material misrepresentation with regard to the transportation and other services offered shall be deemed to be a cancellation necessitating the refund required by this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3) of this section, a travel charter or tour operator shall deposit ninety percent of all sums received for transportation or other services offered by the travel charter or tour operator in conjunction with such transportation in a trust account in a federally insured financial institution.

A travel charter and tour operator may withdraw from the account any interest earned and credited to the trust account for the sole benefit of the travel charter and tour operator after all services have been provided as contracted.

(3) A travel charter and tour operator instead of maintaining a trust account as provided in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, may maintain an adequate bond.

(4) A violation of any provision of this section shall constitute a gross misdemeanor punishable under RCW 9A.20.021(2).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A travel charter or tour operator is not required to comply with section 6 of this act if a written agreement exists between the travel charter or tour operator and a current member of the United States Tour Operators' Association to provide full service in the event the travel charter or tour operator defaults in providing services to passengers, and the travel charter or tour operator states the existence of this agreement in all of its promotional brochures. Any misleading statement is a violation of this section, and shall constitute a gross misdemeanor punishable under RCW 9A.20.021(2).

"Sec. 1. Section 5, chapter 357, Laws of 1985 and RCW 2.08.067 are each amended to read as follows:

All judicial positions created by the legislature after (the effective date of this act) July 28, 1985, including the additional judicial positions created by (sections 1 through 3, chapter 357, Laws of 1985) RCW 2.08.061, 2.08.062, and 2.08.064, shall be authorized only for counties that have implemented a mandatory arbitration program for civil claims to the maximum extent permitted by law. This section does not apply to counties of the third class or smaller, or to two- and three-county judicial districts with a population of less than seventy thousand. Implementing a mandatory arbitration program to the maximum extent permitted by law does not require a county to authorize arbitration for maintenance or child support issues as provided in RCW 7.06.020(2) if:

(1) The county uses a show cause or motion by affidavit calendar, or other procedure by which maintenance or support issues are decided on a summary basis; or

(2) Upon the request of the chief administrative judge of a judicial district, the office of the administrator for the courts determines that a mandatory arbitration program would be more costly and time consuming to the county than the procedure then in use in the county for determining support or maintenance issues.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 7.75 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Members of the board of directors of a dispute resolution center are immune from suit in any civil action based upon any proceedings or other official acts performed in good faith as members of the board.

The purpose of the mediation proceeding shall be to reduce acrimony which may exist between the parties and to develop an agreement assuring the child's close and continuing contact with both parents after the marriage is dissolved. The mediator shall use his or her best efforts to effect a settlement of the custody or visitation dispute.

(2) Each superior court may make available a mediator. The mediator may be a member of the professional staff of a family court or mental health services agency, or may be any other person or agency designated by the court. (3) Mediation proceedings shall be held in private and shall be confidential. The mediator shall not testify as to any aspect of the mediation proceedings.

(4) The mediator shall assess the needs and interests of the child or children involved in the controversy and may interview the child or children if the mediator deems such interview appropriate or necessary.

(1) For the purposes of applying for benefits under this chapter, the rights, privileges, responsibilities, duties, limitations and procedures contained in RCW 51.28.020, 51.28.030, 51.28.040 and 51.28.060 as now or hereafter amended shall apply: PROVIDED. Sec. 2. Section 3. chapter 107. Laws of 1980 and RCW 29.04.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No paper ballot precinct ((shall)) may contain more than three hundred voters. The county legislative authority may divide, alter, or combine precincts so that, whenever practicable, over-populated precincts shall contain no more than two hundred fifty registered voters in anticipation of future growth.

(2) Precinct boundaries may be altered at any time as long as sufficient time exists prior to a given election for the necessary procedural steps to be honored((PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that: Except as permitted under subsection (5) of this section, no precinct boundaries ((shall))))

(3) Precincts in which voting machines or electronic voting devices are used may contain as many as nine hundred registered voters (provided, that), but there shall be at least one voting machine or device for each three hundred registered voters or major fraction thereof when a state primary or general election is held in an even-numbered year.

(4) On petition of twenty-five or more voters resident more than ten miles from any place of election, the county legislative authority shall establish a separate voting precinct therefor.

(5) The county auditor shall temporarily adjust precinct boundaries when a city annexes county territory to the city. The adjustment shall be made as soon as possible after the approval of the annexation. The temporary adjustment shall be limited to the minimum changes necessary to accommodate the addition of the territory to the city and shall remain in effect only until precinct boundary modifications reflecting the annexation are adopted by the county legislative authority.

The county legislative authority may establish by ordinance a limitation on the maximum number of registered voters in each precinct within its jurisdiction. The limitation may be different for precincts based upon the method of voting used for such precincts and the number may be less than the number established by law, but in no case may the number exceed that authorized by law.

The county legislative authority of each county in the state hereafter formed shall, at their first session, divide their respective counties into election precincts with two hundred fifty voters or less and establish the boundaries of the (same) precincts. Failure to produce such identification except when necessary to establish the applicant’s date of birth at the time of registration as set forth in this section shall not deter the act of registration (provided, that, registration officials shall indicate on the registration form by checking either “identification produced” or “identification not produced”.

MOTION

Mr. Armstrong moved that the House do concur in the Senate amendments to House Bill No. 1499.

POINT OF ORDER

Ms. Niemi: "Mr. Speaker, I request a ruling on the scope and object of both of the Senate amendments."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "The Speaker finds that the first amendment, which deals with the possession of alcohol by minors, broadens the scope and object of the bill. In that particular case, your point is well taken. In the case of amendment number 2, it speaks to an interlocking device for breathalyzer tests and upon examining that with the underlying bill, the Speaker believes that the second amendment is within the scope and object and your point is not well taken."

MOTIONS

On motion of Mr. Armstrong, the House refused to concur in the first Senate amendment to House Bill No. 1499, and asked the Senate to recede therefrom.

Mr. Armstrong moved that the House do concur in the second Senate amendment to page 9 of House Bill No. 1499.

Representatives West, Padden and Barrett spoke against the motion, and Mr. Armstrong spoke in favor of it.

The motion was lost.

(a) The agency shall attempt to notify all potential claimants. If the absence of records or other circumstances makes it impossible or unreasonable for the agency to ascertain the names and addresses of the claimants, the agency after incurring due diligence and making reasonable inquiry to secure that information from all reasonable and available sources, may make a demand on a bond on the basis of information in the agency’s possession. The agency is not liable or responsible for claims or the handling of claims that may subsequently appear or be discovered.
(b) Thirty days after notification, if a claimant fails, refuses, or neglects to file with the agency a verified claim, the agency shall be relieved of further duty or action under this chapter on behalf of the claimant.
(c) After reviewing the claims, the agency may make demands upon the bond on behalf of those claimants whose claims have been filed. The agency may settle or compromise the claims with the surety and may execute and deliver a release and discharge of the bond.
(d) If the surety refuses to pay the demand, the agency may bring an action on the bond in behalf of the claimants. If an action is commenced on the bond, the agency may require a new bond to be filed.
(e) Within ten days after a recovery on a bond or other posted security has occurred, the private vocational school shall file a new bond or otherwise restore its security on file to the required amount.

(6) The liability of the surety shall not exceed the amount of the bond.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A private vocational school, whether located in this state or outside of this state, shall not conduct business of any kind, make any offers, advertise or solicit, or enter into any contracts unless the private vocational school is licensed under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The executive director of the agency may suspend or modify any of the requirements under this chapter in a particular case if the agency finds that:
(1) The suspension or modification is consistent with the purposes of this chapter; and
(2) The education to be offered addresses a substantial, demonstrated need among residents of the state or that literal application of this chapter would cause a manifestly unreasonable hardship.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. It is an unfair business practice for a private vocational school or agent to:

(1) Fail to comply with the terms of a student enrollment contract or agreement;
(2) Use an enrollment contract form, catalog, brochure, or similar written material affecting the terms and conditions of student enrollment other than that previously submitted to the agency and authorized for use;
(3) Represent falsely, directly or by implication, that the school is an employment agency, is making an offer of employment or otherwise is attempting to conceal the fact that what is being represented are course offerings of a school;
(4) Represent falsely, directly or by implication, that an educational program is approved by a particular industry or that successful completion of the program qualifies a student for admission to a labor union or similar organization or for the receipt of a state license in any business, occupation, or profession;
(5) Represent falsely, directly or by implication, that a student who successfully completes a course program of instruction may transfer credit for the course or program to any institution of higher education;
(6) Represent falsely, directly or by implication, in advertising or in any other manner, the school's size, location, facilities, equipment, faculty qualifications, or the extent or nature of any approval received from an accrediting association;
(7) Represent that the school is approved, recommended, or endorsed by the state of Washington or by the agency, except the fact that the school is authorized to operate under this chapter may be stated;
(8) Provide prospective students with any testimonial, endorsement, or other information which has the tendency to mislead or deceive prospective students or the public regarding current practices of the school, current conditions for employment opportunities, or probable earnings in the occupation for which the education was designed;
(9) Designate or refer to sales representatives as 'counselors,' 'advisors,' or similar terms which have the tendency to mislead or deceive prospective students or the public regarding the authority or qualifications of the sales representatives;
(10) Make or cause to be made any statement or representation in connection with the offering of education if the school or agent knows or reasonably should have known the statement or representation to be false, substantially inaccurate, or misleading; or
(11) Engage in methods of advertising, sales, collection, credit, or other business practices which are false, deceptive, misleading, or unfair, as determined by the agency by rule.

It is a violation of this chapter for a private vocational school to engage in an unfair business practice.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) A person claiming loss of tuition or fees as a result of an unfair business practice may file a complaint with the agency. The complaint shall set forth the alleged violation and shall contain information required by the agency. A complaint may also be filed with the agency by an authorized staff member of the agency or by the attorney general.

(2) The agency shall investigate any complaint under this section and may attempt to bring about a settlement. The agency may hold a contested case hearing pursuant to the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.04 RCW, in order to determine whether a violation has occurred. If the agency prevails, the private vocational school shall pay the costs of the administrative hearing.

(3) If, after the hearing, the agency finds that the private vocational school or its agent engaged in or is engaging in any unfair business practice, the agency shall issue and cause to be served upon the violator an order requiring the violator to cease and desist from the act or practice and may impose the penalties under section 13 of this act. If the agency finds that the complainant has suffered loss as a result of the act or practice, the agency may order full or partial restitution for the loss. The complainant is not bound by the agency's determination of restitution and may pursue any other legal remedy.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Any private vocational school or agent violating section 6, 9, or 11 of this act or the applicable agency rules is subject to a civil penalty of not more than one hundred dollars for each separate violation. Each day on which a violation occurs constitutes a separate violation. Multiple violations on a single day may be considered separate violations. The fine may be imposed by the agency under section 12 of this act, or in any court of competent jurisdiction.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Any entity or any owner, officer, agent, or employee of such entity who willfully violates section 6 or 9 of this act is guilty of a gross misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Each day on which a violation occurs constitutes a separate violation. The criminal sanctions may be imposed by a court of competent jurisdiction in an action brought by the attorney general of this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A private vocational school, whether located in this state or outside of this state, that conducts business of any kind, makes any offers, advertises, solicits, or enters into any contracts in this state or with a resident of this state is subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state for any cause of action arising from the acts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. If any private vocational school discontinues its operation, the chief administrative officer of the school shall file with the agency the original or legible true copies of all educational records required by the agency. If the agency determines that any educational records are in danger of being made unavailable to the agency, the agency may seek a court order to protect and if necessary take possession of the records. The agency shall cause to be maintained a permanent file of educational records coming into its possession.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. If a student or prospective student is a resident of this state at the time any contract relating to payment for education or any note, instrument, or other evidence of indebtedness relating thereto is entered into, section 18 of this act shall govern the rights of the parties to the contract or evidence of indebtedness. If a contract or evidence of indebtedness contains any of the following agreements, the contract is voidable at the option of the student or prospective student:

(1) That the law of another state shall apply;
(2) That the maker or any person liable on the contract or evidence of indebtedness consents to the jurisdiction of another state;
(3) That another person is authorized to confess judgment on the contract or evidence of indebtedness; or
(4) That venue.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A note, instrument, or other evidence of indebtedness or contract relating to payment for education is not enforceable in the courts of this state by a private vocational school or holder of the instrument unless the private vocational school was licensed under this chapter at the time the note, instrument, or other evidence of indebtedness or contract was entered into.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. The attorney general or the prosecuting attorney of any county in which a private vocational school or agent of the school is found may bring an action in any court of competent jurisdiction for the enforcement of this chapter. The court may issue an injunction or grant any other appropriate form of relief.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. The agency may seek injunctive relief, after giving notice to the affected party, in a court of competent jurisdiction for a violation of this chapter or the rules adopted under this chapter. The agency need not allege or prove that the agency has no adequate remedy at law. The right of injunction provided in this section is in addition to any other legal remedy which the agency has and is in addition to any right of criminal prosecution provided by law. The existence of agency action with respect to alleged violations of this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter does not operate as a bar to an action for injunctive relief under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. A violation of this chapter or the rules adopted under this chapter affects the public interest and is an unfair or deceptive act or practice in violation of RCW 19.86.020 of the consumer protection act. The remedies and sanctions provided by this section shall not preclude application of other remedies and sanctions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. The remedies and penalties provided for in this chapter are non-exclusive and cumulative and do not affect any other actions or proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. The agency shall, within sixty days after the effective date of this act and annually thereafter, empanel a private vocational school advisory committee. Said committee shall serve as advisors in the implementation of this chapter and for such other liaison purposes as the agency may determine. It shall consist of no less than seven and no more than eleven persons who are practitioners in proprietary education but one of whom is a recent graduate of a proprietary school. Consideration in making appointments shall be given to maintaining a geographic balance among areas of the state and achieving a balanced representation of occupational specialties offered among private vocational schools statewide. The committee shall meet at least quarterly. Members shall serve without pay but be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided under RCW 43.03.060 and 43.03.060 as now or hereafter amended. The committee shall adopt bylaws and elect officers from among its members annually.

Sec. 24. Section 2, chapter 160, Laws of 1917 as amended by section 6, chapter 53, Laws of 1981 and RCW 18.50.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person seeking to be examined shall present to the director, at least forty-five days before the commencement of the examination, a written application on a form or forms provided by the director setting forth under affidavit such information as the director may require and proof the candidate has received a high school degree or its equivalent; that the candidate is twenty-one years of age or older; that the candidate has received a certificate or diploma from a midwifery program accredited by the director and ((registered)) licensed under chapter ((28B.55.050)) 28C.- RCW sections 1 through 23 of this 1986 act, when applicable, or a certificate or diploma in a foreign institution on midwifery of equal requirements conferring the full right to practice midwifery in the country in which it was issued. The diploma must bear the seal of the institution from which the applicant was graduated. Foreign candidates must present with the application a translation of the foreign certificate or diploma

However, if the applicant is a registered nurse under chapter 18.88 RCW, a licensed practical nurse under chapter 18.78 RCW, or has had previous nursing education or practical midwifery experience, the required period of training may be reduced depending upon the extent of the candidate's qualifications as determined under rules adopted by the department. In no case shall the training be reduced to a period of less than two years.

(b) Meeting minimum educational requirements which shall include studying obstetrics; neonatal pediatrics; basic sciences; female reproductive anatomy and physiology; behavioral sciences; childbirth education; community care; obstetrical pharmacology; epidemiology; gynecology; family planning; genetics; embryology; neonatology; the medical and legal aspects of midwifery; nutrition during pregnancy and lactation; breast feeding; nursing skills, including but not limited to injections, administering intravenous fluids, catheterization, and aseptic technique; and such other requirements prescribed by rule.

(c) For a student midwife during training, undertaking the care of not less than fifty women in each of the prenatal, intrapartum, and early postpartum periods, but the same women need not be seen through all three periods. A student midwife may be issued a permit upon the satisfaction of the requirements in (a), (b), and (c) of this subsection and the satisfactory completion of the licensure examination required by RCW 18.50.060. The permit permits the student midwife to practice under the supervision of a midwife licensed under this chapter, a physician licensed under chapter 18.57 or 18.71 RCW, or a certified nurse-midwife licensed under the authority of chapter 18.88 RCW. The permit shall expire within one year of issuance and may be extended as provided by rule.

(d) Observing an additional fifty women in the intrapartum period before the candidate qualifies for a license.

The training required under this section shall include training in either hospitals or alternative birth settings or both with particular emphasis on learning the ability to differentiate between low-risk and high-risk pregnancies.

• Laws of 1985 and RCW 42.17.310 are each amended to read as follows:

(l) The following are exempt from public inspection and copying:

(a) Personal information in any files maintained for students in public schools, patients or clients of public institutions or public health agencies, welfare recipients, prisoners, probationers, or parolees.

(b) Personal information in files maintained for employees, appointees, or elected officials of any public agency to the extent that disclosure would violate their right to privacy.

(c) Information required of any taxpayer in connection with the assessment or collection of any tax if the disclosure of the information to other persons would (i) be prohibited to such persons by RCW 82.32.330 or (ii) violate the taxpayer's right to privacy or result in unfair competitive disadvantage to the taxpayer.

(d) Specific intelligence information and specific investigative records compiled by investigative, law enforcement, and penology agencies, and state agencies vested with the responsibility to discipline members of any profession, the nondisclosure of which is essential to effective law enforcement or for the protection of any person's right to privacy.

(g) Except as provided by chapter 8.26 RCW, the contents of real estate appraisals, made for or by any agency relative to the acquisition or sale of property, until the project or prospective sale is abandoned or until such time as all of the property has been acquired or the property to which the sale appraisal relates is sold, but in no event shall disclosure be denied for more than three years after the appraisal.

(h) Valuable formulae, designs, drawings, and research data obtained by any agency within five years of the request for disclosure when disclosure would produce private gain and public loss.

No exemption may be construed to permit the nondisclosure of statistical information not descriptive of any readily identifiable person or persons.

(3) Inspection or copying of any specific records exempt under the provisions of this section may be permitted if the superior court in the county in which the record is maintained finds, after a hearing with notice thereof to every person in interest and the agency, that the exemption of such records is clearly unnecessary to protect any individual's right of privacy or any vital governmental function.

(4) Agency responses refusing, in whole or in part, inspection of any public record shall include a statement of the specific exemption authorizing the withholding of the record (or part) and a brief explanation of how the exemption applies to the record withheld.
