MOTION

On motion of Mr. Armstrong, the House concurred in the Senate amendment to Substitute House Bill No. 1726.

FINAL PASSAGE OF HOUSE BILL AS AMENDED BY SENATE

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1726 as amended by the Senate.

Mr. Locke spoke in favor of passage of the bill.
FIFTY-FIFTH DAY, MARCH 8, 1986

On motion of Mr. Padden, Representative Locke’s remarks were ordered spread upon the Journal.

Mr. Locke: "This is the charitable solicitation’s bill and I wanted to take an opportunity to tell you some interesting points in the history of this bill. This bill originated from a great deal of exposure from the newspapers with the fraud that’s perpetrated on the public by organizations purporting to be raising money for charitable purposes, when, in fact, a very small amount does go to a charitable purpose and much goes for salaries and overhead. This bill was the result of the Secretary of State’s task force which recommended a great deal of disclosure and registration with the Secretary of State’s Office. Various members of the House Judiciary Committee however felt that those proposals were not strong enough and perhaps police and firefighters had to be regulated more or restricted in their ability to call and ask for charitable solicitations. We, in the House Judiciary Committee made the requirement that all groups had to disclose the actual percentage of funds going to a charitable purpose. That passed through the House here with a great deal of support, but lo and behold, in the Senate of all groups, Washpirg and Fairshare tried to scuttle this bill and tried to claim exemptions from the requirements of disclosure on the grounds that they did not want it known to the public that their solicitors received a percentage or a commission of the money they solicited from the public. They, in fact, tried to kill this bill in the Senate, after first trying to be completely exempt, not only from the disclosure requirements, but also from the requirement that they have to file information with the Secretary of State’s Office. I think it is extremely hypocritical and extremely disappointing for such organizations like Washpirg and Fairshare, which have always come to this legislature asking for more public disclosure and more input into government and more disclosure so that the public knew what was really going on, for them then to seek this type of exemption. I think it’s a credit to the Senate and to the members of this body that we were able to defeat the hypocritical stand and position of Washpirg in this particular case. I urge your adoption and final passage of this bill.”

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1726 as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the House by the following vote:

Excused: Representatives Lewis, Patrick, Winsley - 3.

Substitute House Bill No. 1726 as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL

March 6, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1762 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 8, chapter 18, Laws of 1935 as last amended by section 1, chapter 303, Laws of 1981 and RCW 88.16.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No person may pilot any vessel subject to the provisions of this chapter on waters covered by this chapter unless such a person is appointed and licensed to pilot such vessels on said waters under and pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

(2) No person is eligible to be appointed a pilot unless such a person is a citizen of the United States, over the age of twenty-five years and under the age of seventy years and a resident of the state of Washington at the time of appointment, nor unless the pilot applicant holds as a minimum, a United States government license as a master of freight and towing vessels not more than one thousand gross tons (inspected vessel), such license to have been held by the applicant for a period of at least two years prior to taking the Washington state piloting examination and a first class United States endorsement without restrictions on that license to pilot in the piloting districts for which the pilot applicant desires to be licensed, nor unless the pilot applicant meets such other qualifications as may be required by the board.

(3) Pilots shall be licensed hereunder for a term of five years from and after the date of the issuance of their respective state licenses. Such licenses shall thereafter be renewed as of course, unless the board shall withhold same for good cause. Each pilot shall pay to the state treasurer an annual license fee established by the board of piloting commissioners pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, but not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars, to be placed in the state treasury to the credit of the piloting account. The board may assess partially active or inactive pilots a reduced fee.

(4) Pilot applicants shall be required to pass a written and oral examination administered and graded by the board which shall test such applicants on this chapter, the rules of the board, local harbor ordinances, and such other matters as may be required to compliment the United States examinations and qualifications.

(5) On and after September 21, 1977, the board shall have developed five examinations and grading sheets for the Puget Sound piloting district, and two for each other piloting district, for the testing and grading of pilot applicants. The examinations shall be administered to pilot applicants on a random basis and shall be updated as required to reflect changes in law, rules, policies, or procedures. The board may appoint a special independent examination committee or may contract with a firm knowledgeable and experienced in the development of professional tests for development of said examinations. Active licensed state pilots may be consulted for the general development of examinations but shall have no knowledge of the specific questions. The pilot members of the board may participate in the grading of examinations. If the board does appoint a special examination development committee it is authorized to pay the members of said committee the same compensation and travel expenses as received by members of the board. When grading examinations the board shall carefully follow the grading sheet prepared for that examination. The board shall develop a 'sample examination' which would tend to indicate to an applicant the general types of questions on pilot examinations, but such sample questions shall not appear on any actual examinations. Any person who willfully gives advance knowledge of information contained on a pilot examination is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

(6) All pilots and applicants are subject to an annual physical examination by a physician chosen by the board. The physician shall examine the applicant's heart, blood pressure, circulatory system, lungs and respiratory system, eyesight, hearing, and such other items as may be prescribed by the board. After consultation with a physician and the United States coast guard, the board shall establish minimum health standards to ensure that pilots licensed by the state are able to perform their duties.

(7) The board shall prescribe, pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, a number of familiarization trips, between a minimum number of twenty-five and a maximum of one hundred, which pilot applicants must make in the piloting district for which they desire to be licensed. Familiarization trips any particular applicant must make are to be based upon the applicant's vessel handling experience.

(8) The board shall prescribe, pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, such reporting requirements and review procedures as may be necessary to assure the accuracy and validity of license and service claims, and records of familiarization trips of pilot candidates. Willful misrepresentation of such required information by a pilot candidate shall result in disqualification of the candidate.

Sec. 2. Section 9, chapter 337, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 88.16.103 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Pilots, after completion of an assignment or assignments which are seven hours or longer in duration, shall receive a mandatory rest period of seven hours.

(2) A pilot shall refuse a piloting assignment if ((said)) the pilot is physically or mentally fatigued or if ((said)) the pilot has a reasonable belief that the assignment cannot be carried out in a competent and safe manner. Upon refusing an assignment as herein provided a pilot shall submit a written explanation to the board within forty-eight hours. If the board finds that the pilot's written explanation is without merit, or reasonable cause did not exist for the assignment refusal, such pilot may be subject to the provisions of RCW 88.16.100 ((as now existing or hereafter amended)).

(3) The board shall quarterly review the dispatch records of pilot organizations or pilot's quarterly reports to ensure the provisions of this section are enforced. The board may prescribe rules for rest periods pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is appropriated to the board of piloting commissioners from the piloting account of the general fund, for the biennium ending June 30, 1987, the sum of twenty thousand dollars. or so much thereof as may be necessary. This money may be used by the board only to pay costs of investigating vessel incidents or accidents where a state-licensed pilot was involved and legal fees of the board."

In line 1 of the title, after "pilots;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 88.16.090 and 88.16.103; and making an appropriation." and the same is herewith transmitted.

(2) The commission shall resolve any dispute concerning selection of a bargaining representative in accordance with the procedures specified in this section.

(a) No question concerning representation may be raised within one year following a certification or attempted certification.

(f) The commission shall determine any question concerning representation by conducting a secret ballot election among the employees in the bargaining unit, except where the commission determines that a serious unfair labor practice has been committed which interfered with the election process and precludes the holding of a fair election, the commission may determine the question concerning representation by conducting a cross-check comparing the employee organization's membership records or bargaining authorization cards against the employment records of the employer.

(g) Where only one employee organization has qualified under (c) or (e) of this subsection, the representation election ballot shall contain a choice for that employee organization and a choice for no representation. The representation election shall be determined by the majority of the valid ballots cast.
(h) Where two or more employee organizations have qualified under (c) or (e) of this subsection, the representation election shall consist of two questions contained on the same ballot. The first question shall contain choices for and against organization of the bargaining unit under this chapter. The second question, to be counted only if the results of the first question indicate that organization of the bargaining unit has been chosen on a majority of the valid ballots cast, shall contain choices for each of the employee organizations qualifying under (c) or (e) of this subsection. The second question shall be determined by the majority of the valid ballots cast: PROVIDED. That where there are three or more choices on the ballot and none of the choices receives the vote of a majority of the valid ballots cast, a run-off election shall be conducted between the two choices receiving the highest and second highest number of votes.

(d) To discharge or otherwise discriminate against an employee because the employee has filed charges or given testimony under this chapter;
(e) To refuse to bargain collectively with the exclusive bargaining representative of its employees.
(2) It is an unfair labor practice for an employee organization or its agents:
(a) To restrain or coerce: (i) Employees in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in section 4 of this act, but this does not impair the right of an employee organization to prescribe its own rules for the acquisition or retention of membership in the organization; or (ii) an employer in the selection of its representatives for the purposes of collective bargaining or the adjustment of grievances:
(b) To cause or attempt to cause an employer to discriminate against an employee in violation of subsection (1)(c) of this section or to discriminate against an employee with respect to whom membership in such organization has been denied or terminated on some ground other than the failure of the employee to tender a representation fee equivalent only to their pro rata share of the costs of representation by the exclusive bargaining agent;
(c) To refuse to bargain collectively with the employer of employees for whom it is the exclusive bargaining representative.
(3) The expression of any views, argument, or opinion, or the dissemination thereof to the public, whether in written, printed, graphic, or visual form, shall not constitute or be evidence of an unfair labor practice under this chapter. if the expression contains no threat of reprisal or force or promise of benefit.

(2) A complaint charging unfair labor practices shall be filed within six months following the act or event complained of or discovery of such act or event complained of, whichever is later.

(3) The person or persons named as respondent in a complaint charging unfair labor practices shall have the right to file an answer to the complaint and to appear in person or otherwise to give testimony at the place and time set by the commission for hearing.

(4) If the commission determines that any person has engaged in or is engaging in any unfair labor practice, then the commission shall issue and cause to be served upon the person an order requiring the person to cease and desist from the unfair labor practice and to take such affirmative action as will effectuate the purposes and policy of this chapter, including the reinstatement of employees with back pay.

(5) The commission may petition the superior court of the county in which the main office of the employer is located or where the person who has engaged or is engaging in the unfair labor practice resides or transacts business, for the enforcement of its order and for appropriate temporary relief.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Actions by or on behalf of the commission shall be under chapter 34.04 RCW, or rules adopted under chapter 34.04 RCW. The right of judicial review under chapter 34.04 RCW is applicable to all these actions and rules.

(2) Any collective bargaining agreement may provide for all benefits, including wage and salary increases, to accrue beginning with the effective dates of any individual employee contracts covering employees in the bargaining unit for the same or related period.

(3) Any collective bargaining agreement may provide for the increase of any wages, salaries, and other benefits during the term of such agreement or the term of any individual employee contracts covering employees in the bargaining unit, if the employer receives, by increased appropriation, additional moneys for such purposes.

(2) A person designated as a mediator in a labor dispute under this section shall meet with the representatives of the parties, either jointly or separately, and shall take other steps as he or she deems appropriate to persuade the parties to resolve their differences. A mediator shall not have power of compulsion.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit an employer and an exclusive bargaining representative from agreeing to substitute at their own expense some other mediator or mediation procedure.

(3) If an employer and an exclusive bargaining representative are unable to reach an agreement in mediation, then the employer may implement all or part of the employer’s final offer without approval of the employee organization.

(a) The executive director shall provide the parties with a list of five persons qualified to serve as the neutral fact-finder. The parties shall without delay attempt to agree upon a fact-finder from the list provided by the commission or to agree upon some other person as a fact-finder. Upon the failure of the parties to agree upon a fact-finder within seven days after the issuance of the list, the commission shall, upon the request of either party, appoint a fact-finder. The commission shall not appoint as fact-finder the same person who acted as mediator in the dispute.

(b) The fact-finder shall promptly establish a date, time, and place to meet with the representatives of the parties and shall provide reasonable notice of the meeting to the parties to the dispute. The requirements of chapter 34.04 RCW shall not apply to fact-finding proceedings. The fact-finder may issue subpoenas requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of evidence.

A copy shall be delivered or mailed to each of the parties to the dispute. A copy shall be filed with the commission. The findings and recommendations of the fact-finder are advisory only, however, the employer may implement all or any part of the fact-finder’s recommendations without approval of the employee organization.

If the parties remain in disagreement following the expiration of the seven-day period, the findings and recommendations of the fact-finder shall be made public.

(e) The fees and expenses of the fact-finder shall be paid by the parties to the dispute, in equal amounts. All other costs of the proceeding shall be paid by the party incurring those costs. Nothing in this section prohibits an employer and an exclusive bargaining representative from agreeing to substitute, at their own expense, some other impasse procedure or from agreeing to some other allocation of the costs of fact-finding between them.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. An employer and an exclusive bargaining representative who enter into a collective bargaining agreement may include in the agreement procedures for binding arbitration of the disputes arising about the interpretation or application of the agreement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this chapter, nothing in this chapter shall be construed to annul, modify, or preclude the renewal or continuation of any lawful agreement entered into before the effective date of this act between an employer and an employee organization covering wages, hours, and terms and conditions of employment. Where there is a conflict between any collective bargaining agreement and any resolution, rule, policy, or regulation of the employer or its agents, the terms of the collective bargaining agreement shall prevail.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this chapter, nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to deny or otherwise abridge any rights, privileges, or benefits granted by law to employees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to interfere with the responsibilities and rights of the employer as specified by federal and state law, including the employer’s responsibilities to students, the public, and other constituent elements of the institution: PROVIDED. (2) The commission, through the director, may proffer its services in any labor dispute involving a political subdivision, municipal corporation, or any institution of higher education of the state, either upon its own motion or upon the request of one or more of the parties to the dispute, whenever in its judgment such dispute threatens to cause a substantial disruption to the public welfare.

(3) If the director is not able to bring the parties to agreement by mediation within a reasonable time, he shall seek to induce the parties to voluntarily seek other means of settling the dispute without resort to strike or other coercion, including submission to the employees in the bargaining unit of the employer’s last offer of settlement for approval or rejection in a secret ballot. The failure or refusal of either party to agree to any procedure suggested by the director shall not be deemed a violation of any duty or obligation imposed by this chapter.

(4) Final adjustment by a method agreed upon by the parties is declared to be the desirable method for settlement of grievance disputes arising over the application or interpretation of an existing collective bargaining agreement. The commission is directed to make its mediation and fact-finding services available in the settlement of such grievance disputes only as a last resort.

(1) Section 1, chapter 196, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 28B.52.010;

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. Sections 1 through 19 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 41 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. PREAMBLE. The legislature finds that higher education is of the utmost importance to the continued social, cultural, and economic well-being of the people of Washington state.

The legislature also finds that salaries for full-time state-funded teaching and research faculty are below faculty salary levels at their peer institutions and that this situation is detrimental to attaining excellence in the education and training of our people.

The legislature recognizes that continued deterioration in faculty salaries will result from the inability to adequately address faculty salary disparities particularly in the retention and recruitment of the most able and meritorious faculty.

The legislature recognizes that efforts to address the problem of competitive faculty salaries will require the commitment of significant state resources for which other important programs will compete.

It is therefore the legislature’s intent to reduce faculty salary disparities and achieve more competitive salaries for full-time state-funded teaching and research faculty at Washington state institutions of higher education as funds are available.

The legislature further intends that the salary increases which are provided by this chapter shall be based upon documented disparities in faculty salaries relative to those at peer institutions and be distributed within each institution on the basis of evidence of each faculty member’s contribution to the profession, the institution, and the community.

The legislature intends that the salary increases which are provided by this chapter shall not be distributed on an across-the-board basis.

In as much as there is a lack of information concerning the salary disparity between community college faculty and their counterparts in other states, the legislature also intends to establish an objective measure of competitive salaries for community college faculty. The legislature finds it necessary to conduct a national survey of community college faculty salaries which will be the basis for determining competitive salary levels for community colleges in Washington state.

The legislature further finds that in addition to the critical issue of faculty salaries, there is substantial need for additional funding in the areas of student scholarships, student loans, and enhancement of undergraduate education.

(5) 'Peer institution groups' means (a) for the University of Washington: The University of Arizona, the University of California at Berkeley, the University of California at Los Angeles, the University of Illinois, the University of Iowa, the University of Michigan, the University of North Carolina, and the University of Oregon; (b) for Washington State University: The University of California at Davis, the University of California at Santa Barbara, the University of Illinois, Purdue University, Iowa State University, Michigan State University, North Carolina State University, and Oregon State University; and (c) for the regional universities and The Evergreen State College: Northern Arizona University, California State University at Chico, California State University at Hayward, Western Illinois University, Northern Michigan University, Western Carolina University, and Portland State University.

(7) 'Eligible faculty' means full-time state-funded teaching and research faculty including primary support personnel who are appointed with a faculty title and paid a full-time equivalent salary.

(8) 'Merit' means excellence in performance, consistent with the role and mission of each respective institution and its individual colleges, schools, and departments as evidenced by (a) evaluations of teaching effectiveness, (b) contribution to the institution and its students, the profession, and the community, and (c) where applicable, the professional recognition of research and publications.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. APPLICATION OF CHAPTER. This chapter applies only to eligible faculty at Washington state institutions of higher education.

This chapter shall not prevent the granting of salary increases, on terms consistent with this chapter, to research faculty supported by moneys other than state funds at Washington institutions of higher education if sufficient moneys exist to support the increases.

This chapter shall not preclude eligible faculty from receiving general salary increases granted by the legislature to state employees through the normal appropriations process, but these general salary increases shall be fully recognized by the office of financial management or the higher education coordinating board, or both, in updating reports of faculty salary disparities at each Washington institution of higher education.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. PEER GROUP COMPARISONS. The office of financial management shall annually identify the faculty salary disparities between Washington state's research and regional institutions of higher education and their respective peer institutions. The office of financial management shall report these disparities no later than January 15, 1987, and no later than January 15 of each subsequent year. The office of financial management shall concurrently identify and report the level of appropriation from the higher education improvement account necessary to eliminate the faculty salary disparities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. COMMUNITY COLLEGE SURVEY. The office of financial management, in conjunction with the higher education coordinating board, shall conduct, or designate a recognized consulting firm to conduct, a national survey to determine average salaries for full-time instructional faculty at a representative sample of two-year institutions of higher education in other states. The sample shall be constructed to reflect, to the greatest extent possible, the nature and composition of Washington state's community college system, with particular emphasis given to similarity in (1) degree and program offerings; (2) enrollment levels; (3) types of communities served; and (4) degree of reliance on state funding. Based on the findings of this survey, the office of financial management shall prepare a report no later than January 15, 1987, and no later than January 15 of each subsequent year, that identifies the faculty salary disparity for Washington state's community college system. The report shall also identify the level of appropriation necessary to eliminate the community college faculty salary disparity.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. DISTRIBUTION PLAN REQUIREMENTS FOR FOUR-YEAR INSTITUTIONS. Each research and regional institution shall submit to the higher education coordinating board by March 15, 1987, and by March 15 of each subsequent year, a plan to distribute, solely on the basis of merit, the moneys provided under this chapter to their eligible faculty. Each plan shall be consistent with the role and mission of the institution and its colleges and schools, provided for the involvement of faculty in assessing merit, and be specific to each college and school within the institution. Evidence which documents faculty salary disparities by college and school and professorial rank shall be prepared to support and accompany each plan. For The Evergreen State College, the faculty disparities shall be identified to major disciplines or departments and by an appropriate proxy for professorial rank.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. DISTRIBUTION PLAN REQUIREMENTS FOR COMMUNITY COLLEGES. The state board for community college education shall submit to the higher education coordinating board by March 15, 1987, and by March 15 of each subsequent year, a plan to distribute, solely on the basis of merit, the moneys provided under this chapter to their eligible faculty. The plan shall be consistent with the role and mission of the community college system and each individual community college, provide for faculty involvement in assessing merit, and be specific to each community college. Evidence which documents faculty salary disparities by college and major instructional department shall be prepared to support and accompany the plan.

Each community college district shall submit a plan to the state board for community college education to distribute the moneys provided by this chapter to their eligible faculty on the basis of documented objective merit procedures developed and adopted by each district with the participation of the district's faculty. Each plan shall be consistent with the role and mission of each community college, provide for faculty involvement in assessing merit, and be specific to major instructional departments within each community college. Evidence which documents faculty salary disparities by major instructional department shall be prepared to support and accompany each plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. REVIEW AND APPROVAL OF PLANS. The higher education coordinating board shall review the plans submitted by the state board for community college education and each research and regional institution to certify whether each plan meets the requirements and intent of this chapter. By April 15, 1987, and by April 15 of each subsequent year, the higher education coordinating board shall approve only those plans which meet the requirements of this chapter.

If any institution's distribution plan is not submitted to the higher education coordinating board by March 15 of any year, or if the institution's plan has not been approved by the higher education coordinating board by April 15 of that year, the office of financial management shall retain in the higher education improvement account that portion of the appropriated moneys the institution would have otherwise received from the account. By September 15, 1987, and by September 15 of each subsequent year, each institution and the state board for community college education shall report to the higher education coordinating board on how their respective plan was implemented. The report shall specify the salary adjustments received by the eligible faculty of each school and college and be detailed by department and professorial rank within each school and college.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. REPORTS ON IMPLEMENTATION. By November 15, 1987, and by November 15 of each subsequent year, the higher education coordinating board shall submit to the ways and means committees of the senate and the house of representatives a report that documents the extent to which the faculty salary adjustments at each Washington state institution of higher education are being implemented in conformance with the plans approved by the higher education coordinating board. The report shall specify the salary adjustments received at each institution and shall provide detail on the distribution of these adjustments by the schools and colleges at each institution, including the distributions to major instructional departments by professorial rank.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 32. HIGHER EDUCATION IMPROVEMENT ACCOUNT. (1) The higher education improvement account is hereby created in the state treasury. The account shall only be used as provided in this chapter.

(2) Moneys in the account shall be subject to legislative appropriation according to the following priorities:

(a) Not less than twenty percent of the moneys in the account shall be used for student scholarships, student loans, and the enhancement of undergraduate education according to the annual plan submitted to the legislature by the board under this chapter.

(b) As much of the moneys in the account as needed that remain after distribution under (a) of this subsection shall be used to fund faculty salaries to bring them as close as funds in the account permit to the average salary of each institution's peer group.

(3) Funding levels attained for the purposes of subsection (2) of this section shall be maintained in succeeding years from the account and not from the general fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. As used in this chapter, the following terms have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) 'Consideration' means all proceeds received, whether in cash, credits, or property, of any kind or nature, without any deduction therefrom on account of the cost of the property sold, the cost of materials used, labor or services, or other costs, interest, or discount allowed, or any other expense whatsoever, except that deductions are allowed for returned merchandise.

(2) 'Department' means the department of revenue.

(3) 'Motor vehicle' means all vehicles, engines, machines, or mechanical contrivances which are propelled by internal combustion engines or motors.

(4) 'Oil company' means every corporation, association, joint-stock association, partnership, limited partnership, copartnership, natural individual or individuals, and any business conducted by a trustee or trustees wherein evidence of ownership is evidenced by certificate or written instrument, formed for or engaged in the sale or the importation of petroleum products within this state.

(5) 'Person' means any oil company subject to tax under this chapter.

(6) 'Petroleum products' means any product of the industrial processing of crude oil and its fractionation products manufactured or refined or used for the generation of power used in an internal combustion engine for the generation of power to propel motor vehicles of any kind or character on the public highways. Petroleum products include but are not limited to gasoline, diesel fuel, kerosene, propane, and any other product of crude oil used for such purpose. Petroleum products do not include any product used for residential heating purposes or in the generation of electricity by a public utility or municipality.

(7) 'Petroleum revenue' means all consideration derived from the first sale of petroleum products otherwise subject to liquid fuel taxes to wholesale or retail dealers in this state for marketing and distribution or to a direct user. If the consideration derived from the sale to a wholesale dealer includes federal gasoline taxes, the taxes shall not be considered a part of the petroleum revenue. If no consideration is received or if the transaction involves a person owned or controlled by the selling entity or a division within the selling entity and the consideration does not reflect the consideration which would have been received in an arm's length transaction with an unrelated person, then the selling entity shall be deemed to have received from such sale revenue equal to the consideration it would have received in an arm's length transaction with an unrelated person. Receipts from the sale of petroleum products are allocable to this state if the property is delivered or shipped to a purchaser located within this state regardless of the F.O.B. point or other conditions of the sale. The importation of petroleum products into this state upon which this tax has not been imposed or collected shall constitute a sale within this state and the importing purchaser shall be deemed an oil company for the purposes of this chapter. Subsequent exportation of these imported products from the state shall constitute a deduction from taxable revenue.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 34. (1) Every oil company incorporated or organized now or hereafter by or under any law of this state or of any other state or territory or by the United States or any foreign government or dependency, and doing business in this state, shall pay an excise tax of one percent of its petroleum revenues for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchise or of doing business, or of employing capital, or of owning or leasing property in this state in a corporate or organized capacity, or of maintaining an office in this state, or of having employees in this state, for all or any part of any calendar year.

(2) The tax imposed by this chapter is in addition to all other taxes imposed by this chapter or any other statute and shall not be permitted as a deduction in calculating any other tax imposed by the state.

(3) The tax imposed by this chapter automatically preempts any like tax or any tax on the privilege of processing or refining any petroleum product taxable under this chapter or any other refined product of crude oil imposed by any political subdivision of this state. This preemption does not extend to any local or personal or real property tax of general application or to any tax imposed by the state.

(4) The department may require purchasers of petroleum products to provide the selling oil company with documentation in such form and under such terms and conditions as the department may prescribe to substantiate any portion of its purchases which are or will be used for a nontaxable purpose.

(5) If at the time of a sale or importation of petroleum products by an oil company it cannot be reasonably determined whether the products will be used for a taxable purpose, it is presumed that the products are being used for a taxable purpose. The department may provide, in such form and under such terms as it may prescribe, a credit against any tax due and payable for any subsequent month upon submission to the department of such proof as it may require that any products presumed taxable were ultimately used for a nontaxable purpose.

(6) Any purchaser of petroleum products for a nontaxable purpose who provides documentation to an oil company pursuant to subsections (4) and (5) of this section and who subsequently sells or uses those products for a taxable purpose shall be deemed an oil company for the purposes of this chapter.

(7) The department may provide, in any case in which the purchaser is unable to provide documentation that petroleum products are used for a nontaxable purpose, for the payment of a credit based on the average wholesale price of petroleum products determined pursuant to rules adopted by the department.

(8) Any purchaser from an oil company subject to tax under this chapter who intentionally provides an oil company with false or fraudulent proof of the ultimate use of petroleum products, which enables that oil company to obtain a credit or exemption to which it is not entitled, or who directly receives a credit for taxes paid, is liable to pay to the department two hundred percent of the credit so obtained, plus interest at the rate of eighteen percent per annum.

(9) Any purchaser or user of petroleum products may, upon application to and approval by the department, elect to be deemed an oil company for the purposes of this chapter and to pay the taxes imposed by this chapter. Any purchaser or user electing to be taxed as an oil company may acquire petroleum products without the imposition of tax upon the supplier of the petroleum products.

(10) The tax imposed by this chapter shall be collected once on any petroleum products sold or used in this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 35. Chapter 82.32 RCW applies to the taxes imposed in this chapter, including RCW 82.32.045 on reports and returns.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 36. (1) The governor, or the governor's authorized representative, is hereby vested with authority to confer with the governor and the authorized representatives of other states with respect to reciprocal collection between this state and such other states of the tax imposed by this chapter.

(2) The governor, or the governor's representative, is authorized to join with such authorities of other states to conduct joint investigations, exchange information, hold joint hearings, and enter into compacts or interstate agreements with such other states to accomplish uniform reciprocal collection between those states who are parties to any compact or interstate agreement and this state of the tax imposed by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 37. The department shall administer this chapter and is authorized to make the inquiries, determinations, and assessments of taxes imposed by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 38. All taxes, interest, and penalties imposed by this chapter shall be deposited in the higher education improvement account.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 39. APPROPRIATION. The sum of seventy-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1987, from the higher education improvement account to the office of financial management to conduct the community college survey required in section 27 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 40. CAPTIONS. Section captions as used in this chapter do not constitute any part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 41. LEGISLATIVE DIRECTIVE. (1) Sections 23 through 32 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 28B RCW.

(2) Sections 33 through 38 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 82 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 42. EFFECTIVE DATE. This act shall take effect July 1, 1986.
On page 1, line 5 of the title, after "28B.52.200," strike the remainder of the title and insert "adding new chapters to Title 28B RCW; adding a new chapter to Title 82 RCW; creating new sections; prescribing penalties; making an appropriation; and providing an effective date." and the same is herewith transmitted.

MOTION

Mr. Wang moved that the House do not concur in the Senate amendments to Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 32 and ask the Senate for a conference thereon.

Representatives Vander Stoep, S. Wilson and Isaacson opposed the motion, and Representatives Wang and Sayan spoke in favor of it.

Mr. Vander Stoep again opposed the motion.

A division was called.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the motion that the House refuse to concur in the Senate amendments to Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 32 and ask the Senate for a conference thereon, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 47; nays, 48; excused, 3.

Excused: Representatives Lewis, Patrick, Winsley - 3.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mr. Smitherman, having voted on the prevailing side, moved that the House reconsider the vote by which the motion not to concur in the Senate amendments to Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 32 failed.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. G. Nelson: "Mr. Speaker, according to Reed's Rule 250, it is now the declaration of the Chair as to what the final action has been by this body since the prevailing side was do not concur. Could we have that ruling?"

The Speaker: "Your point is well taken at this point. Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 32, the motion to not concur having failed to receive the votes, the House has concurred in the Senate amendments."

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Mr. Smitherman moved that the House immediately reconsider the vote by which the House failed to pass the motion to not concur in the Senate amendments and ask for a conference thereon.

MOTION

Mr. G. Nelson moved that Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 32 be laid on the table.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'Brien: "Mr. Speaker, the motion to lay on the table, in my opinion, would be out of order--"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Barrett: "His first remarks addressed the motion, not the point of order."

The Speaker: "He did say, 'Point of Order,' that's why I recognized him. What is your point of order, Representative O'Brien?"
Mr. O'Brien: "My point of order, Mr. Speaker, is Reed's Rule 247 speaks of motions relating to agreement or disagreement between two houses. It spells out the motions in their order, and in no way does it say that the motion to lay on the table would be in order."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative O'Brien, Rule 16 speaks to the question of reconsideration. It is a privilege motion; it has a higher rank than a subsidiary motion, of second rank, to lay on the table. Therefore, your point is well taken.

"The question before the House is the motion to reconsider the vote by which the House defeated the motion to not concur. That is the question."

A division was called.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on motion for reconsideration of the vote by which the House failed to pass Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 32, and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 48; nays, 47; excused, 3.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative Zellinsky, the Speaker has examined Engrossed House Bill No. 1614 and the Senate amendment to that by the Committee on Transportation in the Senate. It's an act that deals with the prerequisite of the issuance of

(ii) Whether the defendant has been incarcerated and the length of incarceration.

(b) "Criminal history" includes a defendant's prior convictions (or pieces of guilty) in juvenile court if: (i) The (guilty plea or) conviction was for an offense which is a felony and is criminal history as defined in RCW 13.40.020(6)(a); (amt) (ii) the defendant was fifteen years of age or older at the time the offense was committed; and (iii) with respect to prior juvenile class B and C felonies, the defendant ((had not reached his or her twenty-third birthday)) was less than twenty-three years of age at the time the offense for which he or she is being sentenced was committed.

(9) "Department" means the department of corrections.

(10) "Determinate sentence" means a sentence that states with exactitude the number of actual years, months, or days of total confinement, of partial confinement, of community supervision, the number of actual hours or days of community service work, or dollars or terms of a fine or restitution. The fact that an offender through 'earned early release' can reduce the actual period of confinement shall not affect the classification of the sentence as a determinate sentence.

(11) "Drug offense" means any felony violation of chapter 69.50 RCW except possession of a controlled substance (RCW 69.50.401(d)) or forged prescription for a controlled substance (RCW 69.50.403).

(13) "Serious traffic offense" means vehicular homicide (RCW 46.61.520), vehicular assault (RCW 46.61.522), or felony hit-and-run injury-accident (RCW 46.52.020(4)).

(14) "Fines" means the requirement that the offender pay a specific sum of money over a specific period of time to the court.

(15) "First-time offender" means any person who is convicted of a felony not classified as a violent offense or a sex offense under this chapter, and except as provided in (b) of this subsection, who previously has never been convicted of a felony in this state, federal court, or another state, and who has never participated in a program of deferred prosecution for a felony offense.

(b) For purposes of (a) of this subsection, a juvenile adjudication for an offense committed before the age of fifteen years is not a previous felony conviction.

(16) "Nonviolent offense" means an offense which is not a violent offense.

(17) "Offender" means a person who has committed a felony established by state law and is eighteen years of age or older or is less than eighteen years of age but whose case has been transferred by the appropriate juvenile court to a criminal court pursuant to RCW 13.40.110. Throughout this chapter, the terms 'offender' and 'defendant' are used interchangeably.

(18) "Partial confinement" means confinement for no more than one year in a facility or institution operated or utilized under contract by the state or any the state or any other unit of government, for a substantial portion of each day with the balance of the day spent in the community.

(19) "Restitution" means the requirement that the offender pay a specific sum of money over a specific period of time to the court.

(20) "Serious traffic offense" means driving while intoxicated (RCW 46.61.502), actual physical control while intoxicated (RCW 46.61.504), reckless driving (RCW 46.61.500), or hit-and-run an attended vehicle (RCW 46.52.020(5)).

(21) "Serious violent offense" is a subcategory of violent offense and means murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree, assault in the first degree, kidnapping in the first degree, or rape in the first degree, or an attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit one of these felonies.

(22) "Sentence range" means the sentencing court's discretionary range in imposing a nonappealable sentence.

(23) "Sex offense" means a felony that is a violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020 or 9.88A.090 or that is, under chapter 9A.28 RCW, a criminal attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit such crimes.

(24) "Total confinement" means confinement inside the physical boundaries of a facility or institution operated or utilized under contract by the state or any other unit of government for twenty-four hours a day, or pursuant to RCW 72.64.050 and 72.64.060.

(25) "Victim" means any person who has sustained physical or financial injury to person or property as a direct result of the crime charged.

(26) "Violent offense" means:
(a) Any of the following felonies, as now existing or hereafter amended: Any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or an attempt to commit a class A felony, criminal solicitation of or criminal conspiracy to commit a class A felony, manslaughter in the first degree, manslaughter in the second degree, indecent liberties if committed by forcible compulsion, rape in the second degree, kidnapping in the second degree, arson in the second degree, assault in the second degree, extortion in the first degree, robbery in the second degree, vehicular homicide, and vehicular assault.

(b) Any conviction for a felony offense in effect at any time prior to July 1, 1976, that is comparable to a felony classified as a violent offense under subsection (((2))) (26)(a) of this section:

(c) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a violent offense under subsection (((2))) (26)(a) or (b) of this section.

Sec. 18. Section 4, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 2, chapter 192, Laws of 1982 and RCW 9.94A.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A sentencing guidelines commission is established as an agency of state government.

(2) The commission shall, following a public hearing or hearings:

(a) Devise a series of recommended standard sentence ranges for all felony offenses and a system for determining which range of punishment applies to each offender based on the extent and nature of the offender's criminal history, if any;

(b) Devise recommended prosecuting standards in respect to charging of offenses and plea agreements; and

(c) Devise recommended standards to govern whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently.

(3) Each of the commission's recommended standard sentence ranges shall include one or more of the following: Total confinement, partial confinement, community supervision, community service, and a fine.

(4) In devising the standard sentence ranges of total and partial confinement under this section, the commission is subject to the following limitations:

(a) If the maximum term in the range is one year or less, the minimum term in the range shall be no less than one-third of the maximum term in the range, except that if the maximum term in the range is ninety days or less, the minimum term may be less than one-third of the maximum;

(b) If the maximum term in the range is greater than one year, the minimum term in the range shall be no less than seventy-five percent of the maximum term in the range; and

(c) The maximum term of confinement in a range may not exceed the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in RCW 9A.20.020.

(5) In carrying out its duties under subsection (2) of this section, the commission shall give consideration to the existing guidelines adopted by the association of superior court judges and the Washington association of prosecuting attorneys and the experience gained through use of those guidelines. The commission shall emphasize confinement for the violent offender and alternatives to total confinement for the nonviolent offender.

(6) This commission shall conduct a study to determine the capacity of correctional facilities and programs which are or will be available. While the commission need not consider such capacity in arriving at its recommendations, the commission shall project whether the implementation of its recommendations would result in exceeding such capacity. If the commission finds that this result would probably occur, then the commission shall prepare an additional list of standard sentences which shall be consistent with such capacity.

(7) (((By January 10, 1983, the commission shall recommend its standard sentence ranges and standards to the legislature by providing the recommendations to the chief clerk of the house of representatives and secretary of the senate. If the commission has prepared an additional list of standard sentence ranges, as provided under subsection (6) of this section, then the commission shall include such list along with its recommendations:)))

(8) (((Every two years:))) The commission may recommend to the legislature revisions or modifications to the standard sentence ranges and other standards. If implementation of the revisions or modifications would result in exceeding the capacity of correctional facilities, then the commission shall accompany its recommendation with an additional list of standard sentence ranges which are consistent with correction capacity.

(((F))) (2) The commission shall study the existing criminal code and from time to time make recommendations to the legislature for modification.

(((H))) (2) The commission shall exercise its duties under this section in conformity with chapter 34.04 RCW, as now existing or hereafter amended.

Sec. 19. Section 7, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 and RCW 9.94A.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(((A))) At its regular session convening in 1983, the legislature shall enact laws approving or modifying either the standards recommended by the commission, or the additional list of standard sentence ranges consistent with prison capacity in the event an additional list has been submitted pursuant to RCW 9.94A.040(6). The standards so adopted shall take effect

(2)) Revisions or modifications of standard sentence ranges or other standards, together with any additional list of standard sentence ranges, shall be submitted to the legislature at least every two years ((and shall become effective as provided under subsection (1) of this section on July 1 of the first year in which they are submitted)).

Sec. 20. Section 12, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 6, chapter 209.
Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.120 are each amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2) ((and)), (5) and (7) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than three years, and shall not be eligible for turoough, work release or other authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility during such minimum three year term except for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility.
The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender((other than a person convicted of a violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020)) the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender refrain from committing new offenses. The sentence may also include up to two years of community supervision, which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions, may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
(b) Undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;
(c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;
(d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment;

(e) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer; or
(f) Pay a fine. ((make restitution;)) and/or accomplish some community service work.

(6) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work. ((restitution)) a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or a fine. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(7) (a) When an offender is convicted of ((any)) a sex offense other than a violation of ((chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020 except)) RCW 9A.44.040 or RCW 9A.44.050 and has no prior convictions ((of chapter 9A.44 RCW, RCW 9A.64.020,)) for a sex offense or any other felony sexual offenses in this or any other state, the sentencing court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine whether the defendant is amenable to treatment.

After receipt of the reports, the court shall then determine whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sexual offender sentencing alternative. If the court determines that both the offender and the community will benefit from use of this provision, the court shall then impose a sentence within the sentence range and, if this sentence is less than six years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and place the offender on community supervision for up to two years. As a condition of the suspended sentence, the court may impose other sentence conditions including up to six months of confinement, not to exceed the sentence range of confinement for that offense, crime-related prohibitions, and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
(ii) Undergo available outpatient sex offender treatment for up to two years, or inpatient sex offender treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment:
  (ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment:
  (iv) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer:
  (v) Pay a fine. ((make restitution;)) accomplish some community service work, or any combination thereof; or
  (vi) Make recoupment to the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime.

If the offender violates these sentence conditions the court may revoke the suspension and order execution of the sentence. All confinement time served during the period of community supervision shall be credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

(b) When an offender is convicted of any felony sexual offense and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, order the offender committed for up to thirty days to the custody of the secretary of the department of social and health services at the Eastern State Hospital or the Western State Hospital for evaluation and report to the court on the offender's amenability to treatment at these facilities. If the secretary of the department of social and health services cannot begin the evaluation within thirty days of the court's order of commitment, the offender shall be transferred to the state for confinement pending an opportunity to be evaluated at the appropriate facility. The court shall review the reports and may order that the term of confinement imposed be served in the sexual offender treatment programs at Western State Hospital or Eastern State Hospital, as determined by the secretary of the department of social and health services. The offender shall be transferred to the state pending placement in the treatment program.

If the offender does not comply with the conditions of the treatment program, the secretary of the department of social and health services may refer the matter to the sentencing court for determination as to whether the offender shall be transferred to the department of corrections to serve the balance of his term of confinement.

If the offender successfully completes the treatment program before the expiration of his term of confinement, the court may convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and may place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:
  (i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation:
  (ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment:
  (iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer:
  (iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of his community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of his community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

(8) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days.

(9) If a sentence imposed includes a fine or restitution, the sentence shall specify a reasonable manner and time in which the fine or restitution shall be paid. In any sentence under this chapter the court may also require the offender to make such monetary payments, on such terms as it deems appropriate under the circumstances, as are necessary (a) to pay court costs, including reimbursement for the state for costs of extradition if return to this state by extradition was required. (b) to make recoupment of the cost of defense attorney's fees if counsel is provided at public expense. (c) to contribute to a county or interlocal drug fund, and (d) to make such other payments as provided by law. All monetary payments shall be ordered paid by no later than ten years after the date of the judgment of conviction.

(10) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW (9A.20.090).

(11) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, restitution, or fines shall be under the supervision of the secretary of the department or such person as the secretary may designate and shall follow implicitly the instructions of the secretary including reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, and notifying the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment.

(12) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(13) A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.400(1) and (2) governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and may be appealed by the defendant or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.210(2) through (6).

(14) The court shall order restitution whenever the offender is convicted of a felony that results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property, whether the offender is sentenced to confinement or placed under community supervision, unless extraordinary circumstances exist that make restitution inappropriate in the court’s judgment. The court shall set forth the extraordinary circumstances in the record if it does not order restitution.

Sec. 21. Section 19, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 10, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.190 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A sentence that includes a term or terms of confinement totaling more than one year shall be served in a facility or institution operated, or utilized under contract, by the state. Except as provided for in subsection (3) of this section, a sentence of not more than one year of confinement shall be served in a facility operated, licensed, or utilized under contract, by the county.

(2) If a county uses a state partial confinement facility for the partial confinement of a person sentenced to confinement for not more than one year, the county shall reimburse the state for the use of the facility as provided for in this subsection. The office of financial management shall set the rate of reimbursement based upon the average per diem cost per offender in the facility. The office of financial management shall determine to what extent, if any, reimbursement shall be reduced or eliminated because of funds provided by the legislature to the department of corrections for the purpose of covering the cost of county use of state partial confinement facilities. The office of financial management shall reestablish reimbursement rates each even-numbered year.

(3) A person who is sentenced for a felony to a term of not more than one year, and who is committed or returned to incarceration in a state facility on another felony conviction, either under the indeterminate sentencing laws, chapter 9.95 RCW, or under this chapter shall serve all terms of confinement, including a sentence of not more than one year, in a facility or institution operated, or utilized under contract, by the state, consistent with the provisions of RCW 9.94A.400.

Sec. 22. Section 2, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 16, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.310 are each amended to read as follows:

1. NOTE: Numbers in the first horizontal row of each seriousness category represent sentencing midpoints in years(y) and months(m). Numbers in the second and third rows represent presumptive sentencing ranges in months, or in days if so designated. 12+ equals one year and one day.

2. (2) For persons convicted of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the presumptive sentence is determined by locating the sentencing grid sentence range defined by the appropriate offender score and the seriousness level of the completed crime, and multiplying the range by 75 percent.

3. (3) The following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence if the offender or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon as defined in this chapter and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection. If the offender or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection, the following times shall be added to the presumptive range determined under subsection (2) of this section:

   (a) 24 months (((0))) for Rape I (RCW 9A.44.040), Robbery I (RCW 9A.56.200), or Kidnapping I (RCW 9A.40.020).

   (b) 18 months (((0))) for Burglary I (RCW 9A.52.020).

   (c) 12 months (((0))) for Assault 2 (RCW 9A.36.020), Escape 1 (RCW 9A.76.110), Kidnapping 2 (RCW 9A.40.030), Burglary 2 of a building other than a dwelling (RCW 9A.52.030), (Delivery or Possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver)) or any drug offense.

Sec. 25. Section 7, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 19, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.300 are each amended to read as follows:

The offender score is measured on the horizontal axis of the sentencing grid. The offender score rules (as completely summarized in Table 3, RCW 9.94A.330, are as follows:

The offender score is computed in the following way: the sum of points accrued under subsections (1) through (14) of this section rounded down to the nearest whole number.

(1) A prior conviction is a conviction which exists before the date of sentencing for the offense for which the offender score is being computed. Convictions entered or sentenced on the same date as the conviction for which the offender score is being computed shall be deemed "other current offenses" within the meaning of RCW 9.94A.400.
Police Officer (RCW 46.61.500). Community two police points for each adult juvenile, prior conviction for each other felony offense or serious traffic offense. Juvenile nonviolent felony conviction): count one point for each adult, and 1/2 point for each prior adult and juvenile nonviolent felony conviction. Serious traffic convictions shall not be included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement, the offender had spent five consecutive years in the community without being convicted of any felonies. Class C prior felony convictions shall not be included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement, the offender had spent five consecutive years in the community without being convicted of any felonies.

(3) Include class A juvenile felonies only if the offender was 15 or older at the time the juvenile offense was committed. Include class B and C juvenile felonies only if the offender was 15 or older at the time the juvenile offense was committed and the offender was less than 23 at the time the offense for which he or she is being sentenced was committed.

(4) Score prior convictions for felony anticipatory offenses (attempts, criminal solicitations, and criminal conspiracies) the same as if they were convictions for completed offenses.

(5) In the case of multiple prior convictions, for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all convictions separately, except:

(a) Prior adult offenses which were found, under RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a), to encompass the same criminal conduct, shall be counted as one offense, the offense that yields the highest offender score. The current sentencing court shall determine with respect to other prior adult offenses for which sentences were served concurrently whether those offenses shall be counted as one offense or as separate offenses, and if the court finds that they shall be counted as one offense, then the offense that yields the highest offender score shall be used;

(b) Juvenile prior convictions entered or sentenced on the same date shall count as one offense, the offense that yields the highest offender score; and

(c) In the case of multiple prior convictions for offenses committed before July 1, 1986, for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all adult convictions served concurrently as one offense, and count all juvenile convictions entered on the same date as one offense. Use the conviction for the offense that yields the highest offender score.

(6) If the present conviction is for a nonviolent offense and not covered by subsection (1), (12), or (13) of this section, count one point for each prior adult felony conviction and one point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(7) If the present conviction is for a nonviolent offense and not covered by subsection (2), (3), (11), or (12) of this section, count two points for each prior adult and juvenile nonviolent felony conviction, one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(9) If the present conviction is for Murder 1 or 2, Assault 1, Kidnapping 1, or Rape 1, count three points for each prior adult and juvenile convictions for crimes in these categories. Two points for each prior adult and juvenile violent felony conviction (not already counted), one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(10) If the present conviction is for Burglary 1, count prior (s) convictions as in subsection ((5)) of this section; however count two points for each prior adult Burglary 2 conviction, and one point for each prior juvenile Burglary 2 conviction.

(11) If the present conviction is for Burglary 1, count prior convictions as in subsection ((5)) of this section; however count two points for each prior adult Burglary 2 conviction, and one point for each prior juvenile Burglary 2 conviction.

(12) If the present conviction is for Burglary 1, count prior convictions as in subsection ((5)) of this section; however count two points for each prior adult Burglary 2 conviction, and one point for each prior juvenile Burglary 2 conviction.

(5) If the present conviction is for a violent offense and not covered in subsections (2), (3), (4), or (6) of this section, count two points for each prior adult and juvenile nonviolent felony conviction, one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction); count one point for each adult, and 1/2 point for each juvenile, prior conviction for each other felony offense or serious traffic offense.
If the present conviction is for a drug offense count two points for each adult prior felony drug offense conviction and one point for each juvenile drug offense. All other adult and juvenile felonies are scored as in subsection (8) of this section if the current drug offense is violent, or as in subsection (7) of this section if the current drug offense is nonviolent.

(13) If the present conviction is for escape (Escape 1. RCW 9A.76.110; Escape 2. RCW 9A.76.120. Willful Failure to Return from Furlough. RCW 72.66.060; and Willful Failure to Return from Work Release. RCW 72.65.070), count only prior escape convictions in the offender score. Count adult prior escape convictions as one point and juvenile prior escape convictions as 1/2 point.

(14) If the present conviction is for Burglary 2, count priors as in subsection (13) of this section; however, count two points for each adult and juvenile prior Burglary 2 conviction, two points for each adult prior Burglary 2 conviction, and one point for each juvenile prior Burglary 2 conviction.

(15) If the present conviction is for a violation of chapter 69.50 RCW, except for possession of a controlled substance (RCW 69.50.401(d)), count two points for each adult prior felony drug conviction (chapter 69.50 RCW, except RCW 69.50.401(d)), and one point for each juvenile drug conviction. All other adult and juvenile felonies are scored as in subsection (5) of this section if the current drug conviction is violent, or as in subsection (9) of this section if the current drug conviction is nonviolent.

(16) If the present conviction is for a nonviolent offense and not covered by subsection (6), (7), or (8) of this section, count one point for each prior adult violent felony conviction and one point for each prior juvenile violent felony conviction and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony.

For all offender scores, the fractional totals shall be rounded down to the nearest whole number:

(11) In the case of multiple prior convictions for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all adult convictions served concurrently as one offense, and count all juvenile convictions entered on the same date as one offense. The conviction for the offense that yields the highest offender score is used:

(12) Class A prior felony convictions are always included in the offender score. Class B prior felony convictions are not included if the offender has spent ten years in the community and has not been convicted of any felonies since the last date of release from confinement pursuant to a felony conviction (including full-time residential treatment), if any, or entry of judgment and sentence. Class C prior felony convictions and serious traffic convictions as defined in RCW 9A.76.330 are not included if the offender has spent five years in the community and has not been convicted of any felonies since the last date of release from confinement pursuant to a felony conviction (including full-time residential treatment), if any, or entry of judgment and sentence. This subsection applies to both adult and juvenile prior convictions.

The designation of out-of-state convictions shall be covered by the offense definitions and sentences provided by Washington law:

The offense score is the sum of points accrued under subsections (1) through (12) of this section.

Sec. 26. Section 8, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 20, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9A.4A.370 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The intersection of the column defined by the offender score and the row defined by the offense seriousness score determines the presumptive sentencing range (see RCW 9A.4A.310. (Table I)). The additional time for deadly weapon findings shall be added to the entire presumptive sentence range. The court may impose any sentence within the range that it deems appropriate. All presumptive sentence ranges are expressed in terms of total confinement.

(2) In determining any sentence, the trial court may (use) rely on no more information than is admitted by the plea agreement, (and) or admitted (to or) acknowledged, or proved in a trial or at the time of sentencing. Acknowledgement includes not objecting to information stated in the presentence reports. Where the defendant disputes material facts, the court must either not consider the fact or grant an evidentiary hearing on the point. The (true) facts shall be deemed (proven) proved at the (evidentiary) hearing by a preponderance of the evidence. (True) Facts that establish the elements of (a higher crime) a more serious crime((a)) or additional crimes ((earnest)) may not be used to go outside the presumptive sentence range except upon stipulation or when specifically provided for in RCW 9A.4A.390(2), (c) and (d).

Sec. 27. Section 10, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 24, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9A.4A.390 are each amended to read as follows:

If the sentencing court finds that an exceptional sentence outside the standard range should be imposed in accordance with RCW 9A.4A.120(2), the sentence is subject to review only as provided for in RCW 9A.4A.210(4).

The following are illustrative factors which the court may consider in the exercise of its discretion to impose an exceptional sentence((c)). The following are illustrative only and are not intended to be exclusive reasons for exceptional sentences:

(1) Mitigating Circumstances
To a significant degree, the victim was an initiator, willing participant, aggressor, or provoker of the incident.

Before detection, the defendant compensated, or made a good faith effort to compensate, the victim of the criminal conduct for any damage or injury sustained.

The defendant committed the crime under duress, coercion, threat, or compulsion insufficient to constitute a complete defense but which significantly affected his or her conduct.

The defendant, with no apparent predisposition to do so, was induced by others to participate in the crime.

The defendant's capacity to appreciate the wrongfulness of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of the law, was significantly impaired (voluntary use of drugs or alcohol is excluded).

The offense was principally accomplished by another person and the defendant manifested extreme caution or sincere concern for the safety or well-being of the victim.

The operation of the multiple offense policy of RCW 9.94A.400 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly excessive in light of the purpose of this chapter, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.

(2) Aggravating Circumstances

The defendant's conduct during the commission of the current offense manifested deliberate cruelty to the victim.

The defendant knew or should have known that the victim of the current offense was particularly vulnerable or incapable of resistance due to extreme youth, advanced age, disability, or ill health.

The current offense was a major economic offense or series of offenses, so identified by a consideration of any of the following factors:

1. The current offense involved multiple victims or multiple incidents per victim;
2. The current offense involved attempted or actual monetary loss substantially greater than typical for the offense;
3. The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning or occurred over a lengthy period of time;
4. The offender's position of trust, confidence, or fiduciary responsibility to facilitate the commission of the current offense.
5. The current offense was a major violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, chapter 69.50 RCW (VUCSA), related to trafficking in controlled substances, which was more onerous than the typical offense of its statutory definition; The presence of ANY of the following may identify a current offense as a major VUCSA:
   a. The current offense involved at least three separate transactions in which controlled substances were sold, transferred, or possessed with intent to do so; or
   b. The current offense involved an attempted or actual sale or transfer of controlled substances in quantities substantially larger than for personal use; or
   c. The current offense involved the manufacture of controlled substances for use by other parties; or
   d. The offender possessed a firearm during the commission of the offense; or
   e. The circumstances of the current offense reveal the offender to have occupied a high position in the drug distribution hierarchy; or
   f. The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning or occurred over a lengthy period of time or involved a broad geographic area of disbursement; or
   g. The operation of the multiple offense policy of RCW 9.94A.400 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient in light of the purpose of this chapter, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.

The above considerations are illustrative only and are not intended to be exclusive reasons for exceptional sentences.

Sec. 28. Section 11. chapter 115. Laws of 1983 as amended by section 25. chapter 209. Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.400 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, whenever a person is convicted of two or more current offenses, the sentence range for each current offense shall be determined by using all other current and prior convictions as criminal history. All sentences so determined shall be served concurrently. Separate crimes encompassing the same criminal conduct shall be counted as one crime (in determining criminal history). Sentences imposed under this subsection shall be served concurrently. Consecutive sentences may only be imposed under the exceptional sentence provisions of RCW 9.94A.120 and 9.94A.390(2)(e) or any other provision of RCW 9.94A.390.
(b) Whenever a person is convicted of three or more serious violent offenses, as defined in RCW 9.94A.330, arising from separate and distinct criminal conduct, the sentence range for the offense with the highest seriousness level under RCW 9.94A.320 shall be determined using the offender's (prior convictions as) criminal history in the offender score and the sentence range for other serious violent offenses shall be determined by using ((criminal history)) an offender score of zero. The sentence range for any (remaining) offenses that are not serious violent offenses shall be determined according to (a) of this subsection. All sentences imposed under (b) of this subsection shall be served consecutively to each other and concurrently with sentences imposed under (a) of this subsection.

(2) Whenever a person while under sentence of felony commits another felony and is sentenced to another term of imprisonment, the latter term shall not begin until expiration of all prior terms.

(3) Subject to subsections (1) and (2) of this section, whenever a person is sentenced for a felony that was committed while the person was not under sentence of a felony, the sentence shall run (consecutively) concurrently with any felony (sentences previously) sentence which has been imposed by any court in this or another state or by a federal court subsequent to the commission of the crime being sentenced unless the court pronouncing the (subsequent) current sentence expressly orders that they be served (concurrently) consecutively.

(4) Whenever any person granted probation under RCW 9.95.210 or 9.92.060, or both, has the probationary sentence revoked and a prison sentence imposed, (this) that sentence shall run consecutively to any sentence imposed pursuant to this chapter, unless the court pronouncing the subsequent sentence expressly orders that they be served concurrently.

(5) However, in the case of consecutive sentences, all periods of total confinement shall be served before any partial confinement, community service, community supervision, or any other requirement or conditions of any of the sentences.

Sec. 29. Section 12, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 26, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.410 are each amended to read as follows:

For persons convicted of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the presumptive sentence is determined by locating the sentencing grid sentence range defined by the appropriate offender score and the seriousness level of the crime, and multiplying the range by 75 percent.

In calculating an offender score, count each prior conviction as if the present conviction were for the completed offense. When these convictions are used as criminal history, score them the same as a completed crime.

Sec. 30. Section 15, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 and RCW 9.94A.440 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Decision not to prosecute.

STANDARD: A Prosecuting Attorney may decline to prosecute, even though technically sufficient evidence to prosecute exists, in situations where prosecution would serve no public purpose, would defeat the underlying purpose of the law in question or would result in decreased respect for the law.

GUIDELINE/COMMENTARY:

Examples

The following are examples of reasons not to prosecute which could satisfy the standard.

(a) Contrary to Legislative Intent – It may be proper to decline to charge where the application of criminal sanctions would be clearly contrary to the intent of the legislature in enacting the particular statute.

(b) Antiquated Statute – It may be proper to decline to charge where the statute in question is antiquated in that:

(i) It has not been enforced for many years; and

(ii) Most members of society act as if it were no longer in existence; and

(iii) It serves no deterrent or protective purpose in today's society; and

(iv) The statute has not been recently reconsidered by the legislature.

This reason is not to be construed as the basis for declining cases because the law in question is unpopular or because it is difficult to enforce.

(c) De Minimus Violation – It may be proper to decline to charge where the violation of law is only technical or insubstantial and where no public interest or deterrent purpose would be served by prosecution.

(d) Controvert on Other Charges – It may be proper to decline to charge because the accused has been sentenced on another charge to a lengthy period of confinement; and

(i) Conviction of the new offense would not merit any additional direct or collateral punishment;

(ii) The new offense is either a misdemeanor or a felony which is not particularly aggravated; and

(iii) Conviction of the new offense would not serve any significant deterrent purpose.

(e) Pending Conviction on Another Charge – It may be proper to decline to charge because the accused is facing a pending prosecution in the same or another county; and
(i) Conviction of the new offense would not merit any additional direct or collateral punishment;

(ii) Conviction in the pending prosecution is imminent;

(iii) The new offense is either a misdemeanor or a felony which is not particularly aggravated; and

(iv) Conviction of the new offense would not serve any significant deterrent purpose.

(I) High Disproportionate Cost of Prosecution – It may be proper to decline to charge where the cost of locating or transporting, or the burden on, prosecution witnesses is highly disproportionate to the importance of prosecuting the offense in question. This reason should be limited to minor cases and should not be relied upon in serious cases.

(g) Improper Motives of Complainant – It may be proper to decline charges because the motives of the complainant are improper and prosecution would serve no public purpose, would defeat the underlying purpose of the law in question or would result in decreased respect for the law.

(h) Immunity – It may be proper to decline to charge where immunity is to be given to an accused in order to prosecute another where the accused's information or testimony will reasonably lead to the conviction of others who are responsible for more serious criminal conduct or who represent a greater danger to the public interest.

(j) Victim Request – It may be proper to decline to charge because the victim requests that no criminal charges be filed and the case involves the following crimes or situations:

(i) Assault cases where the victim has suffered little or no injury;

(ii) Crimes against property, not involving violence, where no major loss was suffered;

(iii) Where doing so would not jeopardize the safety of society.

Care should be taken to insure that the victim's request is freely made and is not the product of threats or pressure by the accused.

The presence of these factors may also justify the decision to dismiss a prosecution which has been commenced.

Notification
The prosecutor is encouraged to notify the victim, when practical, and the law enforcement personnel of the decision not to prosecute.

(2) Decision to prosecute.

STANDARD:

Crimes against persons will be filed if sufficient admissible evidence exists, which, when considered with the most plausible, reasonably foreseeable defense that could be raised under the evidence, would justify conviction by a reasonable and objective fact-finder.

Crimes against property/other crimes will be filed if the admissible evidence is of such convincing force as to make it probable that a reasonable and objective fact-finder would convict after hearing all the admissible evidence and the most plausible defense that could be raised.

See table ((I3)) below for the crimes within these categories.

Selection of Charges/Degree of Charge

(1) The prosecutor should file charges which adequately describe the nature of defendant's conduct. Other offenses may be charged only if they are necessary to ensure that the charges:

(a) Will significantly enhance the strength of the state's case at trial; or
(b) Will result in restitution to all victims.

(2) The prosecutor should not overcharge to obtain a guilty plea. Overcharging includes:

(a) Charging a higher degree;
(b) Charging additional counts.

This standard is intended to direct prosecutors to charge those crimes which demonstrate the nature and seriousness of a defendant's criminal conduct, but to decline to charge crimes which are not necessary to such an indication. Crimes which do not merge as a matter of law, but which arise from the same course of conduct, do not all have to be charged.

GUIDELINES/COMMENTARY:
Police Investigation

A prosecuting attorney is dependent upon law enforcement agencies to conduct the necessary factual investigation which must precede the decision to prosecute. The prosecuting attorney shall ensure that a thorough factual investigation has been conducted before a decision to prosecute is made. In ordinary circumstances the investigation should include the following:

(1) The interviewing of all material witnesses, together with the obtaining of written statements whenever possible;
(2) The completion of necessary laboratory tests; and
(3) The obtaining, in accordance with constitutional requirements, of the suspect’s version of the events.

If the initial investigation is incomplete, a prosecuting attorney should insist upon further investigation before a decision to prosecute is made, and specify what the investigation needs to include.

Exceptions

In certain situations, a prosecuting attorney may authorize filing of a criminal complaint before the investigation is complete if:

(1) Probable cause exists to believe the suspect is guilty; and

(2) The suspect presents a danger to the community or is likely to flee if not apprehended; or

(3) The arrest of the suspect is necessary to complete the investigation of the crime.

In the event that the exception to the standard is applied, the prosecuting attorney shall obtain a commitment from the law enforcement agency involved to complete the investigation in a timely manner. If the subsequent investigation does not produce sufficient evidence to meet the normal charging standard, the complaint should be dismissed.

Investigation Techniques

The prosecutor should be fully advised of the investigatory techniques that were used in the case investigation including:

(1) Polygraph testing;

(2) Hypnosis;

(3) Electronic surveillance;

(4) Use of informants.

Pre-Filing Discussions with Defendant

Discussions with the defendant or his/her representative regarding the selection or disposition of charges may occur prior to the filing of charges, and potential agreements can be reached.

Sec. 31. Section 7, chapter 14, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 4, chapter 244, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 9A.44.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person over thirteen years of age is guilty of statutory rape in the first degree when the person engages in sexual intercourse with another person who is less than eleven years old.

(2) Statutory rape in the first degree is a class A felony. No person convicted of statutory rape in the first degree shall be granted a deferred or suspended sentence except (for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility) under RCW 9.44A.120(7).

Sec. 32. Section 9A.56.080, chapter 260, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 2, chapter 174, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 9A.56.080 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every person who, (without lawful authority and) with intent to sell or exchange and to deprive or defraud the lawful owner thereof, willfully takes, leads, or transports away, conceals, withholds, slaughters, or otherwise appropriates (to his own use) any horse, mule, cow, heifer, bull, steer, swine, or sheep (shall be) guilty of theft of livestock in the first degree.

(2) A person who commits what would otherwise be theft of livestock in the first degree but without intent to sell or exchange, and for the person’s own use only, is guilty of theft of livestock in the second degree.

(3) Theft of livestock in the first degree is a class B felony.

(4) Theft of livestock in the second degree is a class C felony.

Sec. 33. Section 9, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 as last amended by section 1, chapter 43, Laws of 1984 and RCW 13.50.050 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) This section governs records relating to the commission of juvenile offenses, including records relating to diversions.

(2) The official juvenile court file of any alleged or proven juvenile offender shall be open to public inspection, unless sealed pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

(3) All records other than the official juvenile court file are confidential and may be released only as provided in this section and RCW 13.50.010.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this section and RCW 13.50.010, records retained or produced by any juvenile justice or care agency may be released to other participants in the juvenile justice or care system only when an investigation or case involving the juvenile in question is being pursued by the other participant or when that other participant is assigned the responsibility for supervising the juvenile.

(5) Information not in an official juvenile court file concerning a juvenile or a juvenile’s family may be released to the public only when that information could not reasonably be expected to identify the juvenile or the juvenile’s family.

(6) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the release, to the juvenile or his or her attorney, of law enforcement and prosecuting attorneys’ records pertaining to investigation, diversion, and prosecution of juvenile offenses shall be governed by the rules of discovery and other rules of law applicable in adult criminal investigations and prosecutions.

(7) The juvenile court and the prosecutor may set up and maintain a central record-keeping system which may receive information on all alleged juvenile offenders against whom a complaint has been filed pursuant to RCW 13.40.070 whether or not their cases are currently pending before the court. The central record-keeping system may be computerized. If a complaint has been referred to a diversion unit, the diversion unit shall promptly report to the juvenile court or the prosecuting attorney when the juvenile has agreed to diversion. An offense shall not be reported as criminal history in any central record-keeping system without notification by the diversion unit of the date on which the offender agreed to diversion.

(8) Upon request of the victim of a crime or the victim’s immediate family, the identity of an alleged or proven juvenile offender alleged or found to have committed a crime against the victim and the identity of the alleged or proven juvenile offender’s parent, guardian, or custodian and the circumstance of the alleged or proven crime shall be released to the victim of the crime or the victim’s immediate family.

(9) Subject to the rules of discovery applicable in adult criminal prosecutions, the juvenile offense records of an adult criminal defendant or witness in an adult criminal proceeding shall be released upon request to prosecution and defense counsel after a charge has actually been filed. The juvenile offense records of any adult convicted of a crime and placed under the supervision of the adult corrections system shall be released upon request to the adult corrections system.

(10) In any case in which an information has been filed pursuant to RCW 13.40.100 or a complaint has been filed with the prosecutor and referred for diversion pursuant to RCW 13.40.070, the person the subject of the information or complaint may file a motion with the court to have the court vacate its order and findings, if any, and order the sealing of the official juvenile court file, the social file, and records of the court and of any other agency in the case.

(11) The court shall grant the motion to seal records made pursuant to subsection (10) of this section if it finds that:

(a) Two years have elapsed from the later of: (i) Final discharge of the person from the supervision of any agency charged with supervising juvenile offenders; or (ii) from the entry of a court order relating to the commission of a juvenile offense or a criminal offense;

(b) No proceeding is pending against the moving party seeking the conviction of a juvenile offense or a criminal offense; and

(c) No proceeding is pending seeking the formation of a diversion agreement with that person.

(12) The person making a motion pursuant to subsection (10) of this section shall give reasonable notice of the motion to the prosecution and to any person or agency whose files are sought to be sealed.

(13) If the court grants the motion to seal made pursuant to subsection (10) of this section, it shall order sealed the official juvenile court file, the social file, and other records relating to the case as are named in the order. Thereafter, the proceedings in the case shall be treated as if they never occurred, and the subject of the records may reply accordingly to any inquiry about the events. records of which are sealed. Any agency shall reply to any inquiry concerning confidential or sealed records that records are confidential, and no information can be given about the existence or nonexistence of records concerning an individual.

(14) Inspection of the files and records included in the order to seal may thereafter be permitted only by order of the court upon motion made by the person who is the subject of the information or complaint, except as otherwise provided in RCW 13.50.010(8).

(15) Any adjudication of a juvenile offense or a crime subsequent to sealing has the effect of nullifying the sealing order. Any conviction for any adult felony subsequent to the sealing has the effect of nullifying the sealing order for the purposes of chapter 9.94A RCW for any juvenile adjudication of guilt for a class A offense.

(16) In any case in which an information has been filed pursuant to RCW 13.40.100 or a complaint has been filed with the prosecutor and referred for diversion pursuant to RCW 13.40.070, the person who is the subject of the information or complaint may file a motion with the court to have the court vacate its order and findings, if any, and order the destruction of the official juvenile court file, the social file, and records of the court and of any other agency in the case.

(17) The court may grant the motion to destroy records made pursuant to subsection (16) of this section if it finds:

(a) The person making the motion is at least twenty-three years of age;

(b) The person has not subsequently been convicted of a felony;

(c) No proceeding is pending against that person seeking the conviction of a criminal offense; and

(d) The person has never been found guilty of a serious offense.

(18) A person eighteen years of age or older whose criminal history consists of only one referral for diversion may request that the court order the records in that case destroyed. The request shall be granted if the court finds that two years have elapsed since completion of the diversion agreement.

(20) The person making the motion pursuant to subsection (16) or (18) of this section shall give reasonable notice of the motion to the prosecuting attorney and to any agency whose records are sought to be destroyed.

(21) Any juvenile to whom the provisions of this section may apply shall be given written notice of his or her rights under this section at the time of his or her disposition hearing or during the diversion process.

(22) Nothing in this section may be construed to prevent a crime victim or a member of the victim's family from divulging the identity of the alleged or proven juvenile offender or his or her family when necessary in a civil proceeding.

(23) Any juvenile justice or care agency may, subject to the limitations in subparagraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection, develop procedures for the routine destruction of records relating to juvenile offenses and diversions.

(a) Records may be routinely destroyed only when the person the subject of the information or complaint has attained twenty-three years of age or older, or is eighteen years of age or older and his or her criminal history consists entirely of one diversion agreement and two years have passed since completion of the agreement.

(b) The court may not routinely destroy the official juvenile court file or recordings or transcripts of any proceedings.

Sec. 34. Section II, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 6, chapter 443, Laws of 1985 and RCW 9.94A.110 are each amended to read as follows:

Before imposing a sentence upon a defendant, the court shall conduct a sentencing hearing. The sentencing hearing shall be held within forty court days following conviction. Upon the motion of either party for good cause shown, or on its own motion, the court may extend the time period for conducting the sentencing hearing. The court shall consider the presentence reports, if any, including any victim impact statement and criminal history, and allow arguments from the prosecutor, the defense counsel, the offender, the victim, the survivor of the victim, or a representative of the victim or survivor, and an investigative law enforcement officer as to the sentence to be imposed. If the court is satisfied by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant has a criminal history, the court shall specify the convictions it has found to exist. All of this information shall be part of the record. Copies of all presentence reports presented to the sentencing court and all written findings of fact and conclusions of law as to sentencing entered by the court shall be sent to the department by the clerk of the court at the conclusion of the sentencing and shall accompany the offender if the offender is committed to the custody of the department. Court clerks shall provide, without charge, certified copies of documents relating to criminal convictions requested by prosecuting attorneys.

MOTION

Mr. Armstrong moved that the House do not concur in the Senate amendments to Substitute House Bill No. 1399 and ask the Senate for a conference thereon.
FIFTY-FIFTH DAY, MARCH 8, 1986

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Barrett: "Mr. Speaker, I would challenge the scope and object of the Senate amendments on this bill and ask for your ruling."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "The Speaker has examined Substitute House Bill No. 1399, which is 'An Act Relating to sentencing of adult felons...,' the sentencing act of 1981, and the Senate amendments, the striking Senate amendment. The effect of the Senate amendment appears to deal with several additional subjects—robbery of controlled substances, business partnerships, minority prison population, etc. The Speaker finds, upon examination of the underlying bill and the Senate amendments thereto, that your point is well taken. The Senate amendments are beyond the scope and object of the original bill. The question before the House is the motion not to concur in the Senate amendments and request a conference thereon."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Locke: "Mr. Speaker, if the Speaker's ruling is that they are beyond the scope and object of the bill, is the proper motion simply then to not concur or should the motion include the request for a conference committee?"

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative Armstrong has made the usual motion to not concur in the Senate amendments and ask the Senate for a conference thereon. Reed's Rule 240 provides it is appropriate to ask for a conference, 'Whenever a disagreement as to amendments between the two houses has reached such a phase that it seems likely to be final....' Whether we have reached such a phase will be determined by this vote. Your point is not well taken."

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Prince: "Mr. Speaker, you ruled that the amendments were beyond the scope and object, which means that the Senate should take them away, therefore, we have nothing really to confer on. Right?"

The Speaker: "If for some reason the body wants possibly to have a conference on the underlying bill, they would vote with this motion. We did this earlier this evening. It's the same issue with the same point."

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Armstrong: "Mr. Speaker, if this vote not to concur and to request a conference fails, what happens to the underlying bill?"

The Speaker: "That is a hypothetical situation, Representative Armstrong. Rule 12(C) states that in that particular case, the bill would go to the committee in the House of origin, which would be the House Committee on Judiciary."

Mr. Armstrong spoke in favor of the motion.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Padden: "Mr. Speaker, would the proper motion under Rule 12(C) be simply to not concur, rather than do not concur and ask for a conference?"

The Speaker: "The Speaker will hold this under advisement and we will have a ruling for you tomorrow."

SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL

March 5, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1593 with the following amendments:

On page 1, line 21, after "membership" insert "or professional privileges"

On page 1, after line 23, insert the following:
NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The department of social and health services shall not require a certificate of need for the commencement of obstetrical services by an existing hospital as defined in RCW 70.41.020.*

On page 1, line 1, after "facilities" insert "creating a new section" and the same is herewith transmitted.

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

MOTIONS

On motion of Ms. Brekke, the House concurred in the Senate amendment to page 1, line 21 of Substitute House Bill No. 1593.

Mr. Day moved that the House do not concur in the Senate amendment to page 1, line 23 and the title amendment, and ask the Senate to recede therefrom.

POINT OF ORDER

Ms. Brekke: "Mr. Speaker, I raise a question of scope and object on this amendment."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative Brekke, the Speaker has examined the underlying bill, Substitute House Bill 1593, and has examined the Senate amendment on page 1, line 23. The underlying bill deals with standards and procedures for the considering of applications for staff membership or professional privileges. The amendment deals with the requirement for certificate of need. After examining both, the Speaker finds that the Senate amendment broadens the scope and object of Substitute House Bill 1593. Therefore, it is out of order. Your point is well taken."

The motion to not concur and ask the Senate to recede from the amendments to Substitute House Bill No. 1593 carried.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. J. King, the House adjourned until 1:00 p.m., Sunday, March 9, 1986.

SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1399:

The House resumed consideration of the Senate message. For previous action, see Journal, 55th Day, March 8, 1986.

The Speaker: "The question before the House is the motion by Representative Armstrong that the House do not concur in the Senate amendments to Substitute House Bill No. 1399 and ask the Senate for a conference thereon.

"Representative Padden has raised a Point of Parliamentary Inquiry as to whether the proper motion under Rule 12C would be simply to not concur rather than do not concur and ask for a conference. The Speaker would like to take a few extra moments to explain his ruling on this inquiry, because the rule in question, House Rule 12C, was amended this session which raises some issues that have not been presented to the body before.

"House Rule 12C prohibits Senate amendments which change the scope and object of House bills just as House Rule 12E proscribes House amendments which change the scope and object of the bill. Prior to this year, our House rules provided that when a Senate amendment to a House bill was beyond the scope and object of the bill, the bill would be referred to committee to take the same course as for original bills. Given the limited length of our legislative sessions, such a referral usually had the effect of killing the bill. House Rule 12C now provides that a motion to nonconcur may be adopted prior to referring the bill to committee, but should this motion fail, the bill would be referred to committee. The purpose of this rule change was to allow the body to keep bills alive while still respecting the Speaker's ruling on scope and object. Should this bill come back to us a second time, the Speaker's ruling on scope and object would still apply. In other words, an amend­ment which the Speaker has ruled beyond the scope and object of a bill under Rule 12C or under Rule 12E may not, at some later time, be adopted by the House.

"The amendment to House Bill 1399 which the Speaker ruled beyond the scope and object of the bill last night, was a striking amendment which contained many provisions, some of which changed the scope and object and some which did not. Should this bill go to conference and be before us again with language that changes the scope and object of the bill, the Speaker would rule the House could not adopt such language based on the scope and object ruling of last night. The only exception to this ruling would be the case where the two houses choose to grant the powers of Free Conference. At that point, where the question before the House is the adoption of a Free Conference Report, our House rules on scope and object are superseded by Joint Rule 8 which provides that a Free Conference Committee may consider new items within the scope and object of the title of the bill.

"Your parliamentary inquiry also raises the question as to whether or not it is proper to ask for a conference when making the motion to not concur in the Senate amendments. As the Speaker ruled last night, under Reed's Rule 240 as well as Reed's Rule 245, it is proper to ask for a conference at any time where a disagree­ment between the houses cannot be resolved through the concurrence/nonconcurrence process. The Speaker finds that the motion before us does not violate the purpose or the intent of House Rule 12C which prevents the House from concurring in or otherwise adopting language which changes the scope and object of the bill. Therefore, Representative Armstrong's motion is in order. I hope that this clarifies the Speaker's interpretation of this matter."

Mr. Armstrong spoke in favor of the motion and it was carried.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFEREES

The Speaker appointed Representatives Armstrong, Locke and Padden as conferees on Substitute House Bill No. 1399.

SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL

March 6, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed HOUSE BILL NO. 1337 with the following amendments:

On page 1, after the enacting clause, insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 10, chapter 164, Laws of 1985 and RCW 43.168.100 are each amended to read as follows:

The committee may make grants of state funds to local governments which qualify as 'entitlement communities' under the federal law authorizing community development block grants. These grants may only be made on the condition that the entitlement community provide the committee with assurances that it will: (1) Spend the grant moneys for purposes and in a manner which satisfies state constitutional requirements; (2) spend the grant moneys for purposes and in a manner which would satisfy federal requirements ((dealing with the entitlement community's spending of federal community development block grant funds): assuming the grant moneys were block grant funds received from the federal government)); and (3) spend double the amount of the grant for loans to businesses from the federal funds received by the entitlement community ((as community development block grant funds))."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively.

On page 1, after the enacting clause, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 43.168 RCW to read as follows:

The Washington state development loan fund committee is specifically authorized to operate as a licensed small business investment corporation under the provisions of the Small Business Investment Act of 1958, Public Law 85-699, as amended, if it can qualify thereunder, and if the committee shall determine that such operation would reasonably serve to carry out the purposes of the operation of the fund.

Sec. 3. Section 5, chapter 164, Laws of 1985 and RCW 43.168.050 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The committee may only approve an application providing a loan for a project which the committee finds:

(a) Is located within a distressed area and may reasonably be expected to increase employment or maintain threatened employment;

(b) Has been approved by the director as conforming to federal rules and regulations governing the spending of federal community development block grant funds;

(c) Will be of public benefit and for a public purpose, and that the benefits, including increased or maintained employment, improved standard of living, and the employment of disadvantaged workers, will primarily accrue to residents of the distressed area;

(d) Will probably be successful;

(e) Would probably not be completed without the loan because other capital or financing at feasible terms is unavailable or the return on investment is inadequate.

(2) The committee may not approve an application if it fails to provide for adequate reporting or disclosure of financial data to the committee. The committee may require an annual or other periodic audit of the project books.

(3) The committee may require that the project be managed in whole or in part by a local development organization and may prescribe a management fee to be paid to such organization by the recipient of the loan or grant.

(4) (a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, the committee shall not approve any application which would result in a loan or grant in excess of three hundred fifty thousand dollars.

(b) The committee may approve an application which results in a loan or grant of up to seven hundred thousand dollars if the application has been approved by the director.

(5) The committee shall fix the terms and rates pertaining to its loans.

(6) Should there be more demand for loans than funds available for lending, the committee shall provide loans for those projects which will lead to the greatest amount of employment or benefit to a community. In determining the 'greatest amount of employment or benefit' the committee shall also consider the employment which would be saved by its loan.
(7) To the extent permitted under federal law the committee shall require applicants to provide for the transfer of all payments of principal and interest on loans to the Washington State development loan fund created under this chapter. Under circumstances where the federal law does not permit the committee to require such transfer, the committee shall give priority to applications where the applicants on their own volition make commitments to provide for the transfer.

(8) The committee shall not approve any application to finance or help finance a shopping mall.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "committee," insert "amending RCW 43.168.050; amending RCW 43.168.100; adding a new section to chapter 43.168 RCW;" and the same is herewith transmitted.

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

MOTION

Ms. Fisher moved that the House do concur in the Senate amendments to House Bill No. 1337.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Schoon: "Mr. Speaker, I would like to challenge the Senate amendments on scope and object of House Bill 1337."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "The Speaker has examined House Bill 1337, which deals with exempting the Washington State Development Loan Fund Committee from the conflict of interest act. The Senate amendment expands the duties of the Washington State Development Loan Fund Committee a number of ways, and in addition, it increases the limits of the loan grants to $700,000. After examining both, Representative Schoon, the Speaker believes the Senate amendments have, in fact, broadened the scope and object of the bill. Your point is well taken."

MOTION

On motion of Ms. Fisher, the House refused to concur in the Senate amendments to House Bill No. 1337 and asked the Senate to recede therefrom.

Representative Van Luven appeared at the bar of the House.

March 7, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 1339 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 2. chapter 10, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 441, Laws of 1985 and RCW 28A.27.010 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) All parents in this state of any child eight years of age and under eighteen years of age shall cause such child to attend the public school of the district in which the child resides and such child shall have the responsibility to and therefore shall attend for the full lime when such school may be in session unless:

(a) The child is attending an approved private school for the same lime or is enrolled in an extension program as provided in RCW 28A.02.201(4);
(b) The child is receiving home-based instruction as provided in subsection (4) of this section; or
(c) The school district superintendent of the district in which the child resides shall have excused such child from attendance because the child is physically or mentally unable to attend school, is attending a residential school operated by the department of social and health services, or has been temporarily excused upon the request of his or her parents for purposes agreed upon by the school authorities and the parent: PROVIDED, That such excused absences shall not be permitted if deemed to cause a serious adverse effect upon the student's educational progress: PROVIDED FURTHER, That students excused for such temporary absences may be claimed as full time equivalent students to the extent they would otherwise have been so claimed for the purposes of RCW 28A.41.130 and 28A.41.140, as now or hereafter amended, and shall not affect school district compliance with the provisions of RCW 28A.58.754, as now or hereafter amended;
(d) The child is fifteen years of age or older and:
(i) The school district superintendent determines that such child has already attained a reasonable proficiency in the branches required by law to be taught in the first nine grades of the public schools of this state;
(ii) The child is regularly and lawfully engaged in a useful or remunerative occupation;
(iii) The child has already met graduation requirements in accordance with state board of education rules and regulations; or
(iv) The child has received a certificate of educational competence under rules and regulations established by the state board of education under RCW 28A.04.135.

(2) A parent for the purpose of this chapter means a parent, guardian, or person having legal custody of a child.

(3) An approved private school for the purpose of this chapter shall be one approved under regulations established by the state board of education pursuant to RCW 28A.04.120 as now or hereafter amended.

(4) For the purposes of this chapter, instruction shall be home-based if it consists of planned and supervised instructional and related educational activities, including a curriculum and instruction in the basic skills of occupational education, science, mathematics, language, social studies, history, health, reading, writing, spelling, and the development of an appreciation of art and music, provided for a number of hours equivalent to the total annual program hours per grade level established for approved private schools under RCW 28A.02.201 and 28A.02.240 and if such activities are:

(a) Provided by a parent who is instructing his or her child only and are supervised by a certificated person. A certificated person for purposes of this chapter shall be a person certified under chapter 28A.70 RCW. For purposes of this section, "supervised by a certificated person" means: The planning by the certificated person and the parent of objectives consistent with this subsection; a minimum each month of an average of one contact hour per week with the child being supervised by the certificated person; and evaluation of such child's progress by the certificated person. The number of children supervised by the certificated person shall not exceed thirty for purposes of this subsection; or
(b) Provided by a parent who is instructing his or her child only and who has either earned forty-five college level quarter credit hours or its equivalent in semester hours or has completed a course in home-based instruction at a postsecondary institution or a vocational-technical institute; or
(c) Provided by a parent who is deemed sufficiently qualified to provide home-based instruction by the superintendent of the local school district in which the child resides.

(5) The legislature recognizes that home-based instruction is less structured and more experiential than the instruction normally provided in a classroom setting. Therefore, the provisions of subsection (4) of this section relating to the nature and quantity of instructional and related educational activities shall be liberally construed.

Sec. 2. Section 1. chapter 201, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.27.020 are each amended to read as follows:

If a juvenile required to attend school under the laws of the State of Washington fails to attend school without valid justification recurrently or for an extended period of time, the juvenile's school, where appropriate, shall:

(1) Inform the juvenile's custodial parent, parents or guardian by a notice in writing in English and, if different, in the primary language of the custodial parent, parents or guardian and by other means reasonably necessary to achieve notice of the fact that the juvenile has failed to attend school without valid justification recurrently or for an extended period of time;

(2) Schedule a conference or conferences with the custodial parent, parents or guardian and juvenile at a time and place reasonably convenient for all persons included for the purpose of analyzing the causes of the juvenile's absences; and

(3) Take steps to eliminate or reduce the juvenile's absences (including). These steps shall include, where appropriate, adjusting the juvenile's school program or school or course assignment, providing more individualized or remedial instruction, preparing the juvenile for employment with specific vocational courses or work experience, or both, (or) and assisting the parent or student to obtain supplementary services that might eliminate or ameliorate the cause or causes for the absence from school.

Sec. 3. Section 2, chapter 201. Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.27.022 are each amended to read as follows:

If action taken by a school pursuant to RCW 28A.27.020 is not successful in substantially reducing a student's absences from school, any of the following actions may be taken: (1) The attendance officer of the school district through its attorney may petition the Juvenile court to assume jurisdiction under this chapter for the purpose of alleging a violation of RCW 28A.27.010 by the parent; or (2) a petition alleging a violation of RCW 28A.27.010 by a child may be filed with the juvenile court by the parent of such child or by the attendance officer of the school district through its attorney at the request of the parent. If the court assumes jurisdiction in such an instance, the provisions of this chapter, except where otherwise stated, shall apply.
Sec. 4, Section 28A.27.040, chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as last amended by section 56, chapter 275, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 28A.27.040 are each amended to read as follows:

To aid in the enforcement of RCW 28A.27.010 through 28A.27.130, attendance officers shall be appointed and employed as follows: In incorporated city districts the board of directors shall annually appoint one or more attendance officers. An educational service district superintendent shall receive no extra compensation if acting as attendance officer.

Any sheriff, constable, city marshal or regularly appointed policeman may be appointed attendance officer.

The attendance officer shall be vested with police powers, the authority to make arrests and serve all legal processes contemplated by RCW 28A.27.010 through 28A.27.130, and shall have authority to enter all places in which children may be employed, for the purpose of making such investigations as may be necessary for the enforcement of RCW 28A.27.010 through 28A.27.130. The attendance officer is authorized to take into custody the person of any child eight years of age and not over fourteen years of age, who may be a truant from school, and to conduct such child to his parents, for investigation and explanation, or to the school which he should properly attend. The attendance officer shall institute proceedings against any officer, parent, guardian, person: company or corporation violating any provisions of RCW 28A.27.010 through 28A.27.130, and shall otherwise discharge the duties prescribed in RCW 28A.27.010 through 28A.27.130, and shall perform such other services as the educational service district superintendent or the superintendent of any school or its board of directors may deem necessary. However, the attendance officer shall not institute proceedings against the child under RCW 28A.27.022 except as set forth under RCW 28A.27.022.

The attendance officer shall keep a record of his transactions for the inspection and information of any school district board of directors, the educational service district superintendent or the city superintendent, and shall make a detailed report to the city superintendent or the educational service district superintendent as often as the same may be required.

Sec. 5, Section 28A.27.100, chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as amended by section 6, chapter 201, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.27.100 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person violating any of the provisions of either RCW 28A.27.010 or 28A.27.090 shall be fined not more than twenty-five dollars for each day of unexcused absence from school. However, a child found to be in violation of RCW 28A.27.010 shall be required to attend school and shall not be fined. Failure by a child to comply with an order issued under this section shall not be punishable by detention for a period greater than that permitted pursuant to a contempt proceeding against a child under chapter 13.32A RCW. It shall be a defense for a (person) parent charged with violating RCW 28A.27.010 to show that he or she exercised reasonable diligence in attempting to cause a child in his or her custody to attend school or that the juvenile's school did not perform its duties as required in RCW 28A.27.020. Any fine imposed pursuant to this section may be suspended upon the condition that a (person) parent charged with violating RCW 28A.27.010 shall participate with the school and the juvenile in a supervised plan for the juvenile's attendance at school or upon condition that the (person) parent attend a conference or conferences scheduled by a school for the purpose of analyzing the causes of a child's absence.

Attendance officers shall make complaint for violation of the provisions of RCW 28A.27.010 through 28A.27.130 (by any person eighteen years of age or over) to a justice of the peace, justice court judge or to a judge of the superior court.

Sec. 6, Section 28A.27.110, chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as amended by section 7, chapter 201, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.27.110 are each amended to read as follows:

The county prosecuting attorney or the attorney for the school district shall act as attorney for the complainant in all court proceedings relating to the compulsory attendance of children as required by RCW 28A.27.010 through 28A.27.130 except for those petitions filed against a child by the parent without the assistance of the school district.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The school district attendance officer shall report biannually to the educational service district superintendent, in the instance of petitions filed alleging a violation by a child under RCW 28A.27.022:

1. The number of petitions filed by a school district or by a parent;
2. The frequency of each action taken under RCW 28A.27.020 prior to the filing of such petition;
3. When deemed appropriate under RCW 28A.27.020, the frequency of delivery of supplemental services; and
4. Disposition of cases filed with the juvenile court, including the frequency of contempt orders issued to enforce a court's order under RCW 28A.27.100.

FIFTY-SIXTH DAY, MARCH 9, 1986 1267
The educational service district superintendent shall compile such information and report annually to the superintendent of public instruction. The superintendent of public instruction shall compile such information and report to the committees of the house of representatives and the senate by January 1, 1988.

MOTION

FINAL PASSAGE OF HOUSE BILL AS AMENDED BY SENATE

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1479 as amended by the Senate.

Ms. Leonard spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Leonard yielded to question by Mr. Locke.

Mr. Locke: "Representative Leonard, you’re the prime sponsor of Engrossed Substitute House Bill 1479, and you participated in the drafting of the Senate amendments to which we concur. I have a question with respect to the language of that Senate amendment where it says, the counties ‘may limit the number of licenses granted in that county where such number is based on methadone programs per population....’ Do you mean by ‘per population,’ per general population?"

Ms. Leonard: "Yes."

Mr. Locke: "The effect of the Senate amendment deletes the amendment that I offered on the House floor and my amendment authorized counties to establish treatment standards more restrictive than the state standards. In negotiating and helping to write the Senate floor amendment which inserts the language on page 2, line 20, and which, in effect, strikes my amendment, is it your intent by this language that the counties may not impose stricter licensing standards than the state standards, other than limiting the number of licenses granted in the county?"

Ms. Leonard: "That is correct."

Representatives Brooks, Locke and Padden spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1598 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the sexual offender treatment programs at western and eastern state hospitals, while not proven to be totally effective, may be of some benefit in positively affecting the behavior of certain sexual offenders. Given the significance of the problems of sexual assault and sexual abuse of children, it is therefore appropriate to review and revise these treatment efforts.

At the same time, concerns regarding the lack of adequate security at the existing programs must be satisfactorily addressed. In an effort to promote public safety, it is the intent of the legislature to transfer the responsibility for felony sexual offenders from the department of social and health services to the department of corrections.

Therefore, on and after July 1, 1987, no person convicted of a felony sexual offense may be committed under RCW 9.94A.120(7)(b) to the department of social and health services at eastern state hospital or western state hospital. Any person committed before July 1, 1987, to the department of social and health services under RCW 9.94A.120(7)(b) and still in the custody of the department of social and health services on June 30, 1993, shall be transferred to the custody of the department of corrections. On and after July 1, 1987, anyone eligible for evaluation or treatment under RCW 9.94A.120(7)(b) shall be committed to the department of corrections.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) In cooperation and consultation with the mental health division of the department of social and health services, the department of corrections shall develop a plan for the administration of a sexual offender treatment program. In developing the plan, the department of corrections may consult with private agencies providing counseling to sex offenders. The plan shall include:

(a) Criteria to determine amenability to treatment;
(b) A description of the structure and organization of the program and program options, including staffing requirements;
(c) The treatment methods and the number and characteristics of offenders proposed to be served;
(d) The selection of the location or locations of the program within the existing institutions operated by the department of corrections, including identification of alternative sites within the existing institutions operated by the department of corrections;
(e) An analysis of a proposal to permit selected offenders to participate in the program only during the last two or three years of their term of confinement:
(f) Program security;
(g) Program costs;
(h) A description of the mechanisms and procedures to be used to collect valid and reliable data on program completion rates, recidivism rates, and escape rates;
(i) A method for tracking offenders who have been released which method can be used to determine the efficacy of the treatment program;"
(j) An analysis and description of other treatment models; and

(k) Negotiations with the exclusive bargaining representative of the employees affected to provide preferential consideration for job retention, including but not limited to interagency transfer or promotion during the period of transition.

(2) Any consultation, information, or other services necessary for the development of the plan, shall upon request by the department of corrections be provided to the department of corrections by the department of social and health services. the legislative budget committee, the office of financial management, the administrator for the courts, and the data processing authority and shall be provided without charge to the department of corrections.

(3) The plan shall be submitted to the legislature by January 1, 1987. and shall take effect on July 1, 1987. unless otherwise directed by law.

Sec. 3. Section 12. chapter 137. Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 6. chapter 209. Laws of 1984 and RCW 9A.44A.120 are each amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2) ((and)), (5), and (7) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than three years, and shall not be eligible for furlough, work release or other authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility during such minimum three year term except for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility. The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender, other than a person convicted of a violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020. the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(b) Undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;

(c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;

(d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment;

(e) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer; or

(f) Pay a fine (make restitution) and/or accomplish some community service work.

(6) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime. the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work. (restitution) a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or a fine. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(7) (a) When an offender is convicted of (any) a sex offense other than a violation of (chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020 except) RCW 9A.44.040 or RCW 9A.44.050 and has no prior convictions (of chapter 9A.44 RCW. RCW 9A.64.020) for a sex offense or any other felony sexual offenses in this or any other state. the sentencing court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine whether the defendant is amenable to treatment.

After receipt of the reports, the court shall then determine whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sexual offender sentencing alternative. If the court determines that both the offender and the community will benefit from use of this provision, the court shall then impose a sentence within the sentence range and. if this sentence is less than six years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and place the offender on community supervision for up to two years. As a condition of the suspended sentence. the court may impose other sentence conditions including up to six months of However, within thirty days prior to release from confinement and throughout the period of supervision shall be tolled during any time the offender is in confinement for any reason upon motion of the department of corrections, the offender, or the prosecuting attorney. The intervals; and Upon motion of the department of corrections, the offender’s sentence, exceed the statutory maximum term for the offender’s crime, as set forth in RCW 9A.20.021.

The offender shall be transferred to the state pending placement in the treatment program. The sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, order the offender committed for up to thirty days to the custody of the secretary of the department of social and health services at the Eastern State Hospital or the Western State Hospital for evaluation and report to the court on the offender’s amenability to treatment at these facilities. If the secretary of the department of social and health services determines that the offender is amenable to the treatment program provided at these facilities, the offender shall be transferred to the state pending placement in the treatment program. Any offender who has escaped from the treatment program shall be referred back to the sentencing court.

If the offender does not comply with the conditions of the treatment program, the secretary of the department of social and health services may refer the matter to the sentencing court. Whenever a court sentences a person convicted of a sex offense committed after July 1, 1987, to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court shall commit the offender to the department of corrections to serve the balance of his term of confinement.

Undergo available outpatient sex offender treatment for up to two years, or inpatient sex offender treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment.

The offender shall be transferred to the state pending placement in the treatment program. If the offender successfully completes the treatment program before the expiration of his term of confinement, the court may convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and may place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- Undergo available outpatient treatment;
- Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender’s address or employment;
- Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- Pay a fine.

If the offender violates these sentence conditions the court may revoke the suspension and order execution of the sentence. If the offender violates any of the terms of his community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of his community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

After June 30, 1993, (b) of this subsection shall cease to have effect.

Whenever a court sentences a person convicted of a sex offense committed after July 1, 1986, to a term of confinement of more than one year, including a sentence under (b) of this subsection, the court may also order, in addition to the other terms of the sentence, that the offender, upon release from confinement, serve up to two years of community supervision. The conditions of supervision shall be limited to:

- Crime-related provisions;
- A requirement that the offender report to a community corrections officer at regular intervals; and
- A requirement to remain within or without stated geographical boundaries.

The length and conditions of supervision shall be set by the court at the time of sentencing. However, within thirty days prior to release from confinement and throughout the period of supervision, the length and conditions of supervision may be modified by the sentencing court upon motion of the department of corrections, the offender, or the prosecuting attorney. The period of supervision shall be tolled during any time the offender is in confinement for any reason. In no case may the period of supervision, in combination with the other terms of the offender’s sentence, exceed the statutory maximum term for the offender’s crime, as set forth in RCW 9A.20.021.
If the offender violates any condition of supervision, the sentencing court, after a hearing conducted in the same manner as provided for in RCW 9.94A.200, may order the offender to be confined for up to sixty days in the county jail at state expense from funds provided for this purpose to the department of corrections. Reimbursement rates for such purposes shall be established based on a formula determined by the office of financial management and reestablished each even-numbered year. An offender may be held in jail at state expense pending the hearing, and any time served while awaiting the hearing shall be credited against confinement imposed for a violation. Even after the period of supervision has expired, an offender may be confined for a violation occurring during the period of supervision. The court shall retain jurisdiction for the purpose of holding the violation hearing and imposing a sanction.

(8) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days. Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.

(9) If a sentence imposed includes a fine or restitution, the sentence shall specify a reasonable manner and time in which the fine or restitution shall be paid. In any sentence under this chapter the court may also require the offender to make such monetary payments. On such terms as it deems appropriate under the circumstances, as are necessary (a) to pay court costs, including reimbursement of the state for costs of extradition if return to this state by extradition was required, (b) to make recoupment of the cost of defense attorney's fees if counsel is provided at public expense, (c) to contribute to a county or interlocal drug fund, and (d) to make such other payments as provided by law. All monetary payments shall be ordered paid by no later than ten years after the date of the judgment of conviction.

(10) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW (9A.20.020).

(11) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, restitution, or fines shall be under the supervision of the secretary of the department or such person as the secretary may designate and shall follow implicitly the instructions of the secretary including reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, and notifying the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment.

(12) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(13) A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.400(1) and (2) governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and may be appealed by the defendant or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.210(2) through (6).

(14) The court shall order restitution whenever the offender is convicted of a felony that results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property, unless extraordinary circumstances exist that make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment. The court shall set forth the extraordinary circumstances in the record if it does not order restitution.

Sec. 4. Section 12. chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 3, chapter ... (ESHB 1598), Laws of 1986 and RCW 9.94A.120 are each amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2), (5), and (7) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than three years, and shall not be eligible for furlough, work release or other authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility during such minimum three year term except for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility. The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender, other than a person convicted of a violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020, the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender refrain from committing new offenses. The sentence may also include up to two years of community supervision, which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions, may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
(b) Undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;
(c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;
(d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment;
(e) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer; or
(f) Pay a fine and/or accomplish some community service work.

(b) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or a fine. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(7) (a) When an offender is convicted of a sex offense other than a violation of RCW 9A.44.040 or RCW 9A.44.050 and has no prior convictions for a sex offense or any other felony sexual offenses in this or any other state, the sentencing court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine whether the defendant is amenable to treatment.

After receipt of the reports, the court shall then determine whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sexual offender sentencing alternative. If the court determines that both the offender and the community will benefit from use of this provision, the court shall then impose a sentence within the sentence range and, if this sentence is less than six years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and place the offender on community supervision for up to two years. As a condition of the suspended sentence, the court may impose other sentence conditions including up to six months of confinement, not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense, crime-related prohibitions, and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(b) When an offender is convicted of any felony sexual offense and is sentenced (before) on or after July 1, 1987, to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, (order the offender committed for up to thirty days to the custody of the secretary of the department of social and health services at the Eastern State Hospital or the Western State Hospital for evaluation and report to the court on the offender's amenability to treatment at these facilities. If the secretary of the department of social and health services cannot begin the evaluation within thirty days of the court's order of commitment, the offender shall be transferred to the state for confinement pending an opportunity to be evaluated at the appropriate facility. The court shall review the reports and may order that the term of confinement imposed be served in the sexual offender treatment programs at Western State Hospital or Eastern State Hospital, as determined by the secretary of the department of social and health services, only if the report indicates that the offender is amenable to the treatment program provided at these facilities. The offender shall be transferred to the state pending placement in the treatment program. Any offender who has escaped from the treatment program shall be referred back to the sentencing court.

(iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of his community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of his community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

Nothing in (b) of this subsection shall confer eligibility for such programs for offenders convicted and sentenced prior to July 1, 1987.

After June 30, 1993, (b) of this subsection shall cease to have effect.
(c) Whenever a court sentences a person convicted of a sex offense committed after July 1, 1986, to a term of confinement of more than one year, including a sentence under (b) of this subsection, the court may also order, in addition to the other terms of the sentence, that the offender, upon release from confinement, serve up to two years of community supervision. The conditions of supervision shall be limited to:

(i) Crime-related provisions;
(ii) A requirement that the offender report to a community corrections officer at regular intervals; and

(iii) A requirement to remain within or without stated geographical boundaries.

The length and conditions of supervision shall be set by the court at the time of sentencing.
However, within thirty days prior to release from confinement and throughout the period of supervision, the length and conditions of supervision may be modified by the sentencing court.
Upon motion of the department of corrections, the offender, or the prosecuting attorney. The period of supervision shall be tolled during any time the offender is in confinement for any reason. In no case may the period of supervision, in combination with the other terms of the offender's sentence, exceed the statutory maximum term for the offender's crime, as set forth in RCW 9A.20.021.

If the offender violates any condition of supervision, the sentencing court, after a hearing conducted in the same manner as provided for in RCW 9.94A.200, may order the offender to be confined for up to sixty days in the county jail at state expense from funds provided for this purpose to the department of corrections. Reimbursement rates for such purposes shall be established based on a formula determined by the office of financial management and rees-established each even-numbered year. An offender may be held in jail at state expense pending the hearing, and any time served while awaiting the hearing shall be credited against confinement imposed for a violation. Even after the period of supervision has expired, an offender may be confined for a violation occurring during the period of supervision. The court shall retain jurisdiction for the purpose of holding the violation hearing and imposing a sanction.

(8) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days.
Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.

(9) If a sentence imposed includes a fine or restitution, the sentence shall specify a reasonable manner and time in which the fine or restitution shall be paid. In any sentence under this chapter the court may also require the offender to make such monetary payments, on such terms as it deems appropriate under the circumstances, as are necessary (a) to pay court costs, including reimbursement of the state for costs of extradition if return to this state by extradition was required, (b) to make recoupment of the cost of defense attorney's fees if counsel is provided at public expense, (c) to contribute to a county or interlocal drug fund, and (d) to make such other payments as provided by law. All monetary payments shall be ordered paid by no later than ten years after the date of the judgment of conviction.

(10) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(11) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, restitution, or fines shall be under the supervision of the secretary of the department of corrections or such person as the secretary may designate and shall follow implicitly the instructions of the secretary including reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, and notifying the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment.
(12) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(13) A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.400(1) and (2) governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and may be appealed by the defendant or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.210(2) through (6).

(14) The court shall order restitution whenever the offender is convicted of a felony that results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property, unless extraordinary circumstances exist that make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment. The court shall set forth the extraordinary circumstances in the record if it does not order restitution.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to alter any existing collective bargaining unit existing on the effective date of this section or the provisions of any collective bargaining agreement existing on the effective date of this section until such agreement has expired or until any such bargaining unit has been modified by action of the state personnel board as provided by law.

wage expense and shall be paid by the department in the same manner and from the same appropriations as other salary and wage expenses of the department.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Braddock: "Mr. Speaker, I would ask for a ruling on scope and object of the Senate amendments."

The Speaker advised the body that he would take the point of order under advisement for a later ruling.

SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL

March 7, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed HOUSE BILL NO. 1631 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 36, chapter 177, Laws of 1980 and RCW 74.46.360 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The depreciation base shall be the historical cost of the contractor or lessor, when the assets are leased by the contractor, in acquiring the asset in an arm's-length transaction and preparing it for use, less goodwill, and less accumulated depreciation which has been incurred during periods that the assets have been used in or as a facility by the contractor, such accumulated depreciation to be measured in accordance with subsections (2), (3), and (4) of this section and RCW 74.46.350 and 74.46.370. If the department challenges the historical cost of an asset, or if the contractor cannot or will not provide the historical costs, the department will have the department of general administration, through an appraisal procedure, determine the fair market value of the assets at the time of purchase. The depreciation base of the assets will not exceed such fair market value.

(2) The historical cost of donated assets, or of assets received through testate or intestate distribution, shall be the lesser of:

(a) Fair market value at the date of donation or death; or

(b) The historical cost base of the owner last contracting with the department, if any.

(3) Estimated salvage value of acquired, donated, or inherited assets shall be deducted from historical cost where the straight-line or sum-of-the-years' digits method of depreciation is used.

(4) (a) Where depreciable assets are acquired that were used in the medical care program subsequent to January 1, 1980, the depreciation base of the assets will not exceed the net book value which did exist or would have existed had the assets continued in use under the previous contract with the department; except that depreciation shall not be assumed to accumulate during periods when the assets were not in use in or as a facility.

(b) (Subparagraph (4)) The provisions of (a) of this subsection shall not apply to the most recent arm's-length acquisition if it occurs at least ten years after the ownership of the assets has been previously transferred in an arm's-length transaction nor to the first arm's-length acquisition that occurs after January 1, 1980, for facilities participating in the medical care program prior to January 1, 1980. The new depreciation base for such acquisitions shall not exceed the fair market value of the assets as determined by the department of general administration through an appraisal procedure. A determination by the department of general administration of fair market value shall be final unless the procedure used to make such determination is shown to be arbitrary and capricious. This subsection is inoperative for any transfer of ownership of any asset occurring on or after July 18, 1984, leaving (a) of this subsection to apply alone to such transfers: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That this subsection shall apply to transfers of ownership of assets occurring prior to January 1, 1985, if the costs of such assets have never been reimbursed under medicaid cost reimbursement on an owner-operated basis.

(c) Where depreciable assets are acquired from a related organization, the contractor’s depreciation base shall not exceed the base the related organization had or would have had under a contract with the department.

(d) Where the depreciable asset is a donation or distribution between related organizations, the base shall be the lesser of (i) fair market value, less salvage value, or (ii) the depreciation base the related organization had or would have had for the asset under a contract with the department.

(5) If the net book value of the assets in the nursing home as of January 1, 1985 is below one thousand dollars per licensed bed using the standard lives and methods as stated in RCW 74.46.350 and 74.46.370, the depreciation base shall be one thousand dollars per bed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The legislative budget committee shall conduct a study of the changes in the state reimbursement system for nursing homes, RCW 74.46.840, resulting from requirements of the Federal Deficit Reduction Act of 1984, (DEFRA) (P.L. 98-369). The study shall include analysis of the effects of these changes on: (1) Nursing home sales since July 18, 1984, the effective date of DEFRA; (2) capital formation for nursing home purchases and sales; and (3) leased nursing homes. The study shall also review adjustments other states may be making as a result of DEFRA. The legislative budget committee shall report the results of this study, including recommendations for any needed legislation, to the ways and means committees of the senate and house of representatives by December 1, 1986.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. If ownership of a nursing home is conveyed on or before October 1, 1984, pursuant to an agreement entered into after July 1, 1984, the agreement shall be deemed legally enforceable under state law for the purposes of property reimbursement under federal law notwithstanding the absence of a legal description of the property in the agreement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.”

MOTION

Mr. Braddock moved that the House do not concur in the Senate amendments to House Bill No. 1633 and ask the Senate for a conference thereon.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Smitherman: "Mr. Speaker, I would ask for a ruling on scope and object."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "The title of the original bill is 'An Act Relating to taxation of timber harvest by public entity...'. The amendment sent to us by the Senate deals with Christmas trees, exempting the sales tax on the retail and the B&O tax on wholesale. In addition, the first amendment deals with open space classification and timber lands. The Speaker, after examining the title of the original bill and the Senate amendments, finds that your point is well taken and the amendments are out of order."

Representatives Appelwick and B. Williams spoke in favor of the motion not to concur.

The motion was carried.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Appelwick, Grimm and Hastings as conferees on House Bill No. 1633.

SENATE AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL

Mr. Speaker:

"FIRE PROTECTION BOARD

NEW SECTION. Sec. 54. A new section is added to chapter 43.63A RCW to read as follows:

The legislature finds that fire protection services at the state level are provided by different, independent state agencies. This has resulted in a lack of a comprehensive state-level focus for state fire protection services, funding, and policy. It is the intent of the legislature to consolidate fire protection services into a single state agency and to create a state board with the responsibility of (1) establishing a comprehensive state policy regarding fire protection services and (2) advising the director of community development and the director of fire protection on matters relating to their duties under state law. It is also the intent of the legislature that the fire protection services program created herein will assist local fire protection agencies in program development without encroaching upon their historic autonomy.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 55. A new section is added to chapter 43.63A RCW to read as follows:

There is created the state fire protection policy board consisting of ten members appointed by the governor:

(1) Three representatives of fire chiefs. At least one shall be from a fire department east of the Cascade mountains and at least one shall be from a fire department west of the Cascade mountains. One shall be from a fire protection district:

(6) One volunteer fire fighter; and

(7) One representative of fire commissioners.

The governor, the commissioner of public lands, the insurance commissioner, the chairperson of the commission for vocational education or its successor organization, and the director of fire protection or their designees, shall be nonvoting ex officio members of the board. If an ex officio member of the board elects to send a designee to any or all meetings of the board, then that designee shall be selected from the immediate staff of that ex officio member and may not be a person who otherwise serves as a member of the board.

In making the appointments required under subsections (1) through (7) of this section, the governor shall (a) seek the advice of and consult with organizations involved in fire protection; and (b) ensure that racial minorities, women, and persons with disabilities are represented.

The terms of the appointed members of the board shall be three years and until a successor is appointed and qualified. However, initial board members shall be appointed as follows: Three members to terms of one year, three members to terms of two years, and four members to terms of three years. In the case of a vacancy of a member appointed under subsections (1) through (7) of this section, the governor shall appoint a new representative to fill the unexpired term of the member whose office has become vacant. A vacancy shall occur whenever an appointed member ceases to be employed in the occupation the member was appointed to represent.

The appointed members of the board shall be reimbursed for travel expenses under RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

The board shall select its own chairperson and shall meet at the request of the governor or the chairperson and at least four times per year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 56. A new section is added to chapter 43.63A RCW to read as follows:

(1) An excise tax is imposed for the privilege of using a vessel upon the waters of this state, except vessels exempt under RCW 82.49.020. The annual amount of the excise tax ((is one-half of one percent of fair market value, as determined under this chapter, or five dollars, whichever is greater)) shall be as follows:

(a) For vessels sixteen feet or more in length but less than twenty feet, one dollar and thirty-five cents per foot, or fraction thereof;

(b) For vessels twenty feet or more in length but less than twenty-six feet, two dollars and forty cents per foot, or fraction thereof;

(c) For vessels twenty-six feet or more in length but less than thirty-two feet, three dollars and ten cents per foot, or fraction thereof;

(e) For vessels thirty-eight feet or more in length, three dollars and seventy cents per foot, or fraction thereof.

Length is determined by means of a straight line measurement of the overall length from the foremost point of the vessel to the aftermost part of the vessel, measured parallel to the centerline. Bow sprits, bumpkins or boomkins, rudders, outboard motor brackets, and similar fittings or attachments are not included in the measurement.

(2) The excise tax upon a vessel registered for the first time in this state shall be imposed for a twelve-month period, including the month in which the vessel is registered, unless the director of licensing extends or diminishes vessel registration periods for the purpose of staggered renewal periods under RCW 88.02.050. SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2014 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 20.01 RCW to read as follows:

The director shall have the authority to issue a notice of civil infraction if an infraction is committed in his or her presence or, if after investigation, the director has reasonable cause to believe an infraction has been committed. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person to refuse to properly identify himself or herself for the purpose of issuance of a notice of infraction or to refuse to sign the written promise to appear or respond to a notice of infraction. Any person wilfully violating a written and signed promise to respond to a notice of infraction shall be guilty of a misdemeanor regardless of the disposition of the notice of infraction.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 20.01 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any person who receives a notice of infraction shall respond to such notice as provided in this section within fifteen days of the date of the notice.

(2) Any employee or agent of a licensee under this chapter is fully authorized to accept a notice of infraction on behalf of the licensee. The director shall also furnish a copy of the notice of infraction to the licensee by certified mail within five days of issuance."
(3) If the person determined to have committed the infraction does not contest the determination, that person shall respond by completing the appropriate portion of the notice of infraction and submitting it, either by mail or in person, to the court specified on the notice. A check or money order in the amount of the penalty prescribed for the infraction must be submitted with the response. When a response, which does not contest the determination, is received, an appropriate order shall be entered into the court's record and a record of the response shall be furnished to the director.

(4) If a person determined to have committed the infraction wishes to contest the determination, that person shall respond by completing the portion of the notice of the infraction requesting a hearing and submitting either by mail or in person to the court specified in the notice. The court shall notify the person in writing of the time, place, and the date of the hearing which shall not be sooner than fifteen days from the date of the notice, except by agreement.

(5) If the person determined to have committed the infraction does not contest the determination, but wishes to explain mitigating circumstances surrounding the infraction, the person shall respond by completing the portion of the notice of infraction requesting a hearing for that purpose and submitting it either by mail or in person to the court specified in the notice. The court shall notify the person in writing of the time, place and date of the hearing.

(6) If a person issued a notice of infraction fails to respond to the notice of infraction or fails to appear at the hearing requested pursuant to this section, the court shall enter an appropriate order in assessing the monetary penalty prescribed in the schedule of penalties submitted to the court by the director and shall notify the director of the failure to respond to the notice of infraction or to appear at a requested hearing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 20.01 RCW to read as follows:

A hearing held for the purpose of contesting the determination that an infraction has been committed shall be held without jury. The court may consider the notice of infraction and any other written report submitted by the director. The person named in the notice may subpoena witnesses and has the right to present evidence and examine witnesses present in court. The burden of proof is upon the state to establish the commission of the infraction by preponderance of evidence.

After consideration of the evidence and argument, the court shall determine whether the infraction was committed. Where it is not established that the infraction was committed, an order dismissing the notice shall be entered in the court's record. When it is established that the infraction was committed, an appropriate order shall be entered in the court's record, a copy of which shall be furnished to the director. Appeal from the court's determination or order shall be to the superior court and must be appealed within ten days. The decision of the superior court is subject only to discretionary review pursuant to Rule 2.3 of the rules of appellate procedure.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 20.01 RCW to read as follows:

A hearing held for the purpose of allowing a person to explain mitigating circumstances surrounding the commission of an infraction shall be an informal proceeding. The person named in the notice may not subpoena witnesses. The determination that the infraction has been committed may not be contested at a hearing held for the purpose of explaining circumstances. After the court has heard the explanation of the circumstances surrounding the commission of the infraction, an appropriate order shall be entered in the court's record. A copy of the order shall be furnished to the director. There may be no appeal from the court's determination or order.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 20.01 RCW to read as follows:

Any person found to have committed a civil infraction under this chapter shall be assessed a monetary penalty. No monetary penalty so assessed may exceed one thousand dollars. The director shall adopt a schedule of monetary penalties for each violation of this chapter classified as a civil infraction and shall submit the schedule to the proper courts. Whenever a monetary penalty is imposed by the court, the penalty is immediately due and payable. The court may, at its discretion, grant an extension of time, not to exceed thirty days, in which the penalty must be paid. Failure to pay any monetary penalties imposed under this chapter shall be punishable as a misdemeanor.

The bond for a dealer handling agricultural products other than livestock, hay, straw or turf, forage or vegetable seed shall not be less than three thousand dollars. The actual amount of such bond shall be determined by dividing the annual dollar volume of ((that commission merchant's or dealers)) the licensee's net proceeds or net payments due consignors by fifty-two and increasing that amount to the next multiple of two thousand dollars. However, bonds above twenty-six thousand dollars shall be increased to the next multiple of five thousand dollars.

(5) ((The bond for a commission merchant or dealer in turf, forage, or vegetable seed or a dealer in hay or straw shall be determined by dividing the annual dollar volume of that commission merchant or dealer's net proceeds or net payments due consignors by twelve and increasing that amount to the next multiple of five thousand dollars, except that the determination of bond amounts for any portion of dollar volume directly related to proprietary seed bailment contracts shall be computed as provided in subsection (4) of this section. The bond for a new commission merchant or a dealer in turf, forage, or vegetable seed or dealer in hay or straw is subject to increase at any time during the licensee's first year of operation and shall be based on the monthly average of the volume of purchases of any three months of operation.))

March 7, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2021 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that:
(a) Good health care for indigent persons is of importance to the state;
(b) To ensure the availability of a good level of health care, efforts must be made to encourage cost consciousness on the part of providers and consumers, while maintaining medical assistance recipients within the mainstream of health care delivery;
(c) Managed health care systems have been found to be effective in controlling costs while providing good health care services;
(d) By enrolling medical assistance recipients within managed health care systems, the state's goal is to ensure that medical assistance recipients receive at least the same quality of care they currently receive.

(2) It is the intent of the legislature to develop and implement new strategies that promote the use of managed health care systems for medical assistance recipients by establishing prepaid capitated programs for both in-patient and out-patient services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 74.09 RCW to read as follows:
(1) For the purposes of this section, 'managed health care system' means any health care organization, including health care providers, insurers, health care service contractors, health maintenance organizations, health insuring organizations, or any combination thereof, that provides directly or by contract health care services covered under RCW 74.09.520 and rendered by licensed providers, on a prepaid capitated case management basis.

(2) No later than July 1, 1991, the department of social and health services shall enter into agreements with managed health care systems to provide health care services to recipients of aid to families with dependent children under the following conditions:
(a) Agreements shall be made within one class A county in the eastern part of the state for at least ten thousand recipients; and one class AA county for at least fifteen thousand recipients in the western part of the state; and one first class county of at least five thousand recipients in the western part of the state;
(b) At least one of the agreements shall include enrollment of all recipients of aid to families with dependent children residing in a defined geographical area:"
(c) The department shall, to the extent possible, ensure that recipients have a choice of systems in which to enroll and, if necessary and medically appropriate treatment for a recipient is not available from or through a participating managed health care system, the department shall exempt the recipient from any requirement to receive some or all of their medical services from such a system;

(d) To the extent possible, the department shall ensure that participating managed health care systems do not enroll a disproportionate number of medical assistance recipients within the total numbers of persons served by the managed health care systems;

(e) Prior to negotiating with any managed health care system, the department shall estimate, on an actuarially sound basis, the expected cost of providing the health care services expressed in terms of upper and lower limits, and recognizing variations in the cost of providing the services through the various systems and in different project areas. In negotiating with managed health care systems the department shall adopt a uniform procedure that includes at least request for proposals. Including standards regarding the quality of services to be provided; and financial integrity of the responding system. The department may negotiate with respondents to the extent necessary to refine any proposals;

(f) The department shall seek waivers from federal requirements as necessary to implement this chapter;

(g) The department shall, wherever possible, enter into prepaid capitated contracts that include inpatient care. However, if this is not possible or feasible, the department may enter into prepaid capitated contracts that do not include inpatient care;

(h) The department shall define those circumstances under which a managed health care system is responsible for out-of-system services and assure that recipients shall not be charged for such services; and

(i) Nothing in this section prevents the department from entering into similar agreements in additional counties or for other groups of people eligible to receive services under chapter 74.09 RCW.

The department shall seek to obtain a large number of contracts with providers of health services to Medicaid recipients. The department shall ensure that publicly supported community health centers and providers in rural areas, who show serious intent and apparent capability to participate in the project as managed health care systems are seriously considered as providers in the project.

(3) The department shall work jointly with the state of Oregon and other states in this geographical region in order to develop recommendations to be presented to the appropriate federal agencies and the United States Congress for improving the health care of the poor, while controlling related costs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The department shall report to the legislature not later than January 1, 1987, on progress toward implementation of the requirements of this chapter, but shall not delay implementation on account of this reporting requirement. The report shall also include an analysis of the possible expansion of the use of managed health care within other medical assistance programs, including making it available to certain recipients of general assistance and supplemental security income.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. As used in this chapter:

(1) "Washington basic health project" or "project" means the system of enrollment and payment on a prepaid capitated basis for basic health care services, administered by the board through participating managed health care systems, created by this chapter.

(2) "Board" means the Washington basic health project board created under section 6 of this act.

(3) "Managed health care system" means any health care organization, including health care providers, insurers, health care service contractors, health maintenance organizations, or any combination thereof, that provides directly or by contract basic health care services, as defined by the board and rendered by duly licensed providers, on a prepaid capitated basis to a defined patient population by enrollment in the project and in the managed health care system.

(4) "Enrollee" means an individual, or an individual plus the individual's spouse and/or dependent children, all under the age of sixty-five, who resides in a project area, whose gross family income at the time of enrollment does not exceed twice the federal poverty level, as adjusted for family size and determined annually by the federal department of health and human services, who chooses to obtain basic health care coverage from a particular managed health care system in return for periodic payments to the board, and who, at the time of enrollment, does not have access to employer-sponsored health care coverage.

(5) "Subsidy" means the difference between the amount of periodic payment the board makes, from funds appropriated from the basic health project trust account, to a managed health care system on behalf of an enrollee and the amount the board determines to be the enrollee's responsibility under section 10(2) of this act.

(6) "Project area" means one of not more than twelve distinct geographical areas within the state selected by the board as a demonstration site for the Washington basic health project. To the extent possible, the board shall select at least one project area in each congressional district of the state, define project areas cotermously with individual or adjacent cities, counties, or hospital districts, and take into special consideration any formal requests received from local governments or health care providers for selection of particular project areas.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The basic health project trust account is hereby established in the state treasury. All revenue received under RCW 82.08.020(2) shall be deposited in the basic health project trust account. Disbursements from the account shall be made pursuant to appropriation and upon warrants drawn by the Washington basic health project board. Moneys in the account shall be used exclusively for the purposes of this chapter, including payments to participating managed health care systems on behalf of enrollees in the project and payment of costs of administering the project. The earnings on any surplus balances in the basic health project trust account shall be credited to the account, notwithstanding RCW 43.84.090. After January 1, 1987, the legislature shall not appropriate for an ensuing fiscal period amounts exceeding ninety percent of the revenues anticipated to accrue to the account during the fiscal period.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. There is created the Washington basic health project board, which shall be a separate and independent board of the state. For efficiencies in operation and consultation, the offices of the board may be colocated with those of the hospital commission. The board shall be composed of five members appointed by the governor. The governor shall select one member to serve as chairman. Not more than one member may have any fiduciary obligation to any health care provider or facility or any material financial interest in the provision of health care services.

Members of the board shall serve for four-year terms. However, of the members initially appointed after the effective date of this act, two shall be appointed to four-year terms, one to a three-year term, one to a two-year term, and one to a one-year term. Appointments shall require senate confirmation. No member of the board may serve for more than two consecutive terms. A vacancy shall be filled by appointment for the remainder of the unexpired term and the initial appointments and vacancies shall not require senate confirmation until the leg-sislature next convenes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Meetings of the board shall be held as frequently as its duties require. The board shall keep minutes of its meetings and adopt procedures for the governing of its meetings, minutes, and transactions. Three members of the board constitute a quorum, but a vacancy on the board shall not impair its power to act. No action of the board shall be effective unless three members concur therein. The board may, consistent with the procedural requirements of chapter 42.30 RCW, meet in executive session with representatives of prospective or participating managed health care systems to discuss matters of a proprietary or sensitive nature.

The members of the board shall be compensated in accordance with RCW 43.03.250 and shall be reimbursed for their travel expenses in accordance with RCW 43.03.060 and 43.03.060.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The board shall employ a full-time executive director, who shall be the chief administrative officer of the board and shall be subject to its direction. The executive director, medical director, and up to three other employees shall be exempt from the civil service law, chapter 41.06 RCW.

The board shall employ such other staff as are necessary to fulfill the responsibilities and duties of the board, such staff to be subject to the civil service law, chapter 41.06 RCW. In addition, the board may contract with third parties for services necessary to carry out its activities where this will promote economy, avoid duplication of effort, and make best use of available expertise. Any such contractor or consultant shall be prohibited from releasing, publishing, or otherwise using any information made available to it under its contractual responsibility without specific permission of the board. The board may call upon other agencies of the state to provide available information as necessary to assist the board in meeting its responsibilities under this chapter, which information shall be supplied as promptly as circumstances permit.

The board may create committees from its membership, and may appoint such technical or other advisory committees as it deems necessary. The board shall appoint a standing technical advisory committee that is representative of health care professionals, health care providers, and those directly involved in the purchase, provision, or delivery of health care services, including consumers and those knowledgeable of the ethical issues involved with health care public policy. Individuals appointed to any technical or advisory committee shall serve without compensation for their services as members, but may be reimbursed for their expenses in the same manner as members of the board.

The board may apply for and receive and accept grants, gifts, and other payments, including property and service, from any governmental or other public or private entity or person, and may make arrangements as to the use of these receipts, including the undertaking of special studies and other projects relating to health care costs and access to health care.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The board may promulgate and adopt, under chapter 34.04 RCW, rules consistent with this chapter to carry out the purposes of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The board has the following powers and duties:
(1) To design and from time to time revise a schedule of covered basic health care services, including physician services, inpatient and outpatient hospital services, and other services that may be necessary for basic health care, which enrollees in any participating managed health care system under the Washington basic health project shall be entitled to receive in return for periodic payments to the board. The schedule of services shall emphasize preventive and primary health care, shall include all services necessary for prenatal, postnatal, and well-child care, and shall include a separate schedule of basic health care services for children, eighteen years of age and younger, for those enrollees who choose to secure basic coverage through the project only for their dependent children. In designing and revising the schedule of services, the board shall consider the guidelines for assessing health services under the mandated benefits act of 1984, RCW 48.42.080.

(2) To design and implement a structure of periodic payments due from enrollees. The payment structure shall be based upon enrollee family size and shall include a sliding scale whereby payments vary according to enrollee family income. The structure shall be designed so as to include payment amounts for enrollment of children without requiring enrollment of their parents. In each project area, the board shall not enroll such numbers of enrollees who quality for subsidies as might reasonably be expected to result in an overexpenditure of appropriations for such purposes in the area. Whenever the board finds that there is danger of such an overexpenditure, the board shall close project enrollment in the area until the board finds the danger no longer exists. Payments to the board by the department of social and health services on behalf of any person eligible for medical coverage under chapter 74.09 RCW, subject to section 17 of this act, shall not be less than the payments the board makes to managed health care systems for coverage of those persons.

(3) To select not more than twelve project areas in the state as sites for the project. In selecting the areas, the board shall take into account the need for geographic, demographic, and economic diversity among project sites, the actual and potential availability of managed health care systems in different parts of the state, levels and rates of unemployment in possible project areas, and the need to assess the financial ability of the project to provide basic health care coverage to a population reasonably representative of the portion of the state's population that lacks basic health care coverage.

(4) To solicit and accept applications from managed health care systems, as defined in this chapter, for inclusion as eligible basic health care providers under the project. The board shall endeavor to assure that covered basic health care services are available through the project from among a selection of participating managed health care systems in at least some project areas. In adopting any rules or procedures applicable to managed health care systems and in its dealings with such systems, the board shall consider and make suitable allowance for the need for health care services and the differences in local availability of health care resources, along with other resources, within and among the project areas.

(5) To receive periodic payments from enrollees, deposit the payments in the basic health project operating account, keep records of enrollee payments and status, and authorize periodic payments to managed health care systems on the basis of the number of enrollees participating in the respective managed health care systems.

(6) To accept applications from individuals residing in project areas, on behalf of themselves and their spouses and dependent children, for enrollment in the Washington basic health project, to establish appropriate minimum-enrollment periods for enrollees as may be necessary, and to determine, upon application and at least annually thereafter, or at the request of any enrollee, eligibility due to current gross family income for sliding scale payments that will be the responsibility of the enrollee. An enrollee who remains current in making periodic sliding-scale payments, as determined by the board under subsection (2) of this section, and whose gross family income has risen above twice the federal poverty level, may continue enrollment unless and until the enrollee's gross family income has remained above two and one-half times the poverty level for twelve consecutive months, by making payment at the maximum rate established in the sliding fee schedule. No subsidy shall be paid with respect to any enrollee whose current gross family income exceeds twice the federal poverty level or, subject to section 17 of this act, who is a recipient of medical assistance or medical care services under chapter 74.09 RCW.

(7) To require that prospective enrollees who may be eligible for medical coverage under chapter 74.09 RCW apply for such coverage.

(8) To determine, on a community rating basis, the amount of each periodic per capita or per family payment to a participating managed health care system in return for the provision of covered basic health care services to enrollees in the system. Although the schedule of covered basic health care services will be the same for similar enrollees, the periodic per capita or per family payments to participating managed health care systems may vary among the systems. In negotiating payment levels with participating systems, the board shall consider the characteristics of the populations served by the respective systems, economic circumstances of the project area, and other factors the board finds relevant.

(9) To monitor the provision of covered services to enrollees by participating managed health care systems in order to assure enrollee access to good quality basic health care, to require periodic reports on health care services rendered to enrollees in order to provide adequate information for evaluation, and to inspect the books and records of participating managed health care systems to assure compliance with the purposes of this chapter. In requiring reports from participating managed health care systems, including data on services rendered enrollees, the board shall endeavor to minimize costs, both to the managed health care systems and to the board. The board shall coordinate any such reporting requirements with other state agencies, such as the insurance commissioner and the hospital commission, to minimize duplication of effort.

(10) To initiate, at the option of the board, a matching grant program, in up to three project areas, to demonstrate the potential that better coordination of all local primary health care resources in the provision of necessary care to low-income residents who are unlikely or unable to enroll in the project can be more cost-effective. The board may award grants to local governments that sponsor consortia of health care providers, including at least one hospital in each area. Any grant proposal must meet minimum standards set by the board, including requirements for coordination of care by local providers and for coordination of local funding sources, which may include in-kind charity care provided by hospitals and physicians as well as public or private funds and sliding-scale payments from individuals served. Any grants awarded under this subsection shall be made from funds appropriated for such purpose from the Washington basic health project trust account, may be extended for up to three years, and shall be on the basis of one dollar from the board for every four dollars of local or private funds expended in the demonstration program.

(11) To monitor the access that state residents have to adequate and necessary health care services, determine the extent of any unmet needs for such services or lack of access that may exist from time to time, and make such reports and recommendations to the legislature as it deems appropriate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The benefits available under the project shall be subject to RCW 48.21.200 and shall be excess to the benefits payable under the terms of any insurance policy issued to or on behalf of an enrollee that provides payments toward medical expenses without a determination of liability for the injury.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. In each project area, on and after a date set by the board for the area, but in no case before March 31, 1987, enrollees whose payments to the board are current are entitled to receive covered basic health care services as defined by the board from the respective managed health care systems in which they are enrolled. The board shall not at any time maintain enrollment of more than thirty thousand enrollees who are eligible for subsidies. The board shall closely monitor growth patterns so as not to exceed that consistent with the orderly development of the project as a whole and in each project area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Any enrollee whose payments to the board are delinquent or who moves his or her residence out of a project area may be dropped from enrollment status. The board shall make reasonable efforts to notify delinquent enrollees of their removal from the project and shall provide for a hearing under chapters 34.04 and 34.12 RCW for any enrollee who contests the board’s decision to drop the enrollee from the project. Upon removal of an enrollee from the project, the board shall promptly notify the managed health care system in which the enrollee has been enrolled, and shall not be responsible for payment for health care services provided to the enrollee (including, if applicable, members of the enrollee’s family) after the date of notification. A managed health care system may contest the denial of payment for coverage of an enrollee through a hearing under chapters 34.04 and 34.12 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Managed health care systems participating in the project shall do so by contract with the board and shall provide, directly or by contract with other health care providers, covered basic health care services to each enrollee as long as payments from the board on behalf of the enrollee are current. Subject to board approval and with full disclosure to enrollees and prospective enrollees, a managed health care system may impose nominal copayments upon enrollees as an incentive for proper utilization of services. A participating managed health care system may offer, but not require acceptance of, additional health care benefits or services not included in the schedule of covered services under the project, that will be the sole responsibility of the enrollee. Any action by or on behalf of any enrollee based on a claim of professional negligence shall, at the option of the enrollee, be submitted for arbitration under chapter 7.04 RCW. The board may receive and act upon complaints from enrollees regarding failure to provide covered services or efforts to obtain payment, other than copayments authorized under this section, for covered services directly from enrollees, but nothing in this chapter empowers the board to impose any sanctions under Title 18 RCW or any other professional or facility licensing statute.

The project shall allow, at least annually, an opportunity for enrollees to transfer their enrollments among participating managed health care systems serving their respective project areas. The board shall establish a period of at least twenty days in a given year when this opportunity is afforded enrollees, and in those areas served by more than one participating managed health care systems the board shall endeavor to establish a uniform period for such opportunity.
Prior to negotiating with any managed health care system, the board shall determine, on an actuarially sound basis, the reasonable cost of providing the schedule of basic health care services, expressed in terms of upper and lower limits, and recognizing variations in the cost of providing the services through the various systems and in different project areas. In negotiating with managed health care systems for participation in the project, the board shall adopt a uniform procedure that includes at least the following:

(1) The board shall issue a request for proposals, including standards regarding the quality of services to be provided; financial integrity of the responding systems; and responsiveness to the unmet health care needs of the local communities or populations that may be served;

(2) The board shall then review responsive proposals and may negotiate with respondents to the extent necessary to refine any proposals;

(3) The board may then select one or more systems to provide the covered services within a project area; and

(4) The board may adopt a policy that gives preference, in one or more project areas, to systems substantially supported by public revenues or involving public agencies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. Enrollees of any participating managed health care system may, if offered, execute an agreement on behalf of themselves and/or any dependents enrolled in the project to arbitrate any dispute, controversy, or issue arising out of health care or treatment rendered by or through the managed health care system. The agreement to arbitrate shall provide that its execution is not a prerequisite to enrollment in the project or the provision of any services and shall provide that the enrollee may revoke the agreement within sixty days after execution by notifying the managed health care system in writing.

The agreement shall contain the following provision in at least nine-point boldface type immediately above the space for signature of the parties:

'This agreement to arbitrate is not a prerequisite to enrollment or the provision of any services and may be revoked by the enrollee within sixty days after execution by notification in writing.'

Participating managed health care systems that use arbitration agreements shall furnish to the enrollee at the time of enrollment a copy of an information brochure, prepared and approved by the board, which clearly outlines the arbitration process as an alternative dispute resolution process to that of a court and/or jury trial.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. The board shall submit to the 1987 session of the legislature the design plan for a schedule of basic health care services as outlined in section 10 of this act, including appropriate co-payments and/or deductibles, and the schedule of periodic payments that will be the responsibility of any enrollee. For this project to remain in effect it must be approved by the legislature by June 30, 1987, and the level of benefits and periodic payments cannot be changed without legislative approval.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. The department of social and health services shall make periodic payments to the project on behalf of any enrollee who is a recipient of medical assistance or medical care services under chapter 74.09 RCW, at the maximum rate established in the sliding fee scale, for the services covered by the project, and no premium may be charged to such an enrollee. With respect to enrollees eligible for medical assistance under RCW 74.09.510, the periodic amount payable to the project shall not be greater than the amount with respect to which full federal financial participation is available under Title XIX of the federal social security act. Any enrollee on whose behalf the department of social and health services makes payments to the project under this section and chapter 74.09 RCW may continue as an enrollee, making periodic payments based on the enrollee’s own income as determined under the sliding scale, after eligibility for coverage under chapter 74.09 RCW has ended. Nothing in this section affects the right of any person eligible for coverage under chapter 74.09 RCW to receive the services offered to other persons under that chapter but not included in the schedule of basic health care services covered by the project. The board and the department of social and health services shall cooperatively adopt procedures to facilitate the transition of project enrollees and payments on their behalf between the project and the programs established under chapter 74.09 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. In addition to the powers and duties specified in sections 8 and 10 of this act, the board has the power to enter into contracts for the following functions and services:

(4) With any public hospital district established under chapter 70.44 RCW or with any county or city, to administer the project as the board's agent with respect to enrollees residing and managed health care systems serving a project area within the boundaries of the district, county, or city. PROVIDED, That the district, county, or city shares with the board, on a dollar for dollar matching basis, the cost of payments to participating managed health care systems for coverage of enrollees residing within the boundaries of the district, county, or city less the amounts payable by enrollees to the district, county, or city as agent for the board. However, if the unemployment rate of a participating county exceeds by twenty percent or more the state average as determined by the employment security department, the board may increase the level of its contribution to not more than two dollars for each local dollar.

(5) With any community health center or other public or private nonprofit health care provider participating in a managed health care system under the project and demonstrating financial need, to furnish direct financial assistance in meeting the start-up costs of providing covered basic health care services under the project, for a period not exceeding one year after the managed health care system commences coverage of enrollees.

(3) In addition to the authority to discipline license holders, the disciplining authority has the authority to grant or deny licenses based on the conditions and criteria established in this chapter and the chapters specified in subsection (2) of this section. However, the board of chiropractic examiners has authority over issuance and denial of licenses provided for in chapter 18.25 RCW, the board of dental examiners has authority over issuance and denial of licenses provided for in RCW 18.32.040, and the board of medical examiners has authority over issuance and denial of licenses and registrations provided for in chapters 18.71 and 18.71A RCW. This chapter also governs any investigation, hearing, or proceeding relating to denial of license or issuance of a license conditioned on the applicant's compliance with an order entered pursuant to RCW 18.130.160 by the disciplining authority (the board of chiropractic examiners).
the board of dental examiners, and the board of medical examiners, if adopted pursuant to this chapter by the disciplinary authority).

Sec. 4. Section 7, chapter 279, Laws of 1984 and RCW 18.130.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The disciplining authority may adopt rules requiring any person, including, but not limited to, licensees, corporations, organizations, health care facilities, and ((federal)) state((c)) or local governmental agencies, to report to the disciplining authority any conviction, determination, or finding that a license holder has committed an act which constitutes unprofessional conduct, or to report information which indicates that the license holder may not be able to practice his or her profession with reasonable skill and safety to consumers as a result of a mental or physical condition. To facilitate meeting the intent of this section, the cooperation of agencies of the federal government is requested by reporting any conviction, determination, or finding that a federal employee or contractor regulated by the disciplinary authorities enumerated in this chapter has committed an act which constituted unprofessional conduct and reporting any information which indicates that a federal employee or contractor regulated by the disciplinary authorities enumerated in this chapter may not be able to practice his or her profession with reasonable skill and safety as a result of a mental or physical condition.

(2) If a person fails to furnish a required report, the disciplining authority may petition the superior court of the county in which the person resides or is found, and the court shall issue to the person an order to furnish the required report. A failure to obey the order shall be punished by the court as civil contempt.

(3) A person is immune from civil liability, whether direct or derivative, for providing information to the disciplining authority pursuant to the rules adopted under subsection (1) of this section.

(4) The holder of a license subject to the jurisdiction of this chapter shall report to the disciplining authority any conviction, determination, or finding that the licensee has committed unprofessional conduct or is unable to practice with reasonable skill or safety. Failure to report within thirty days of notice of the conviction, determination, or finding constitutes grounds for disciplinary action.

Sec. 5. Section 8, chapter 279, Laws of 1984 and RCW 18.130.080 are each amended to read as follows:

A person, ((firm, corporation, or public officer)) including but not limited to consumers, licensees, corporations, organizations, health care facilities, and state and local governmental agencies, may submit a written complaint to the disciplining authority charging a license holder or applicant with unprofessional conduct and specifying the grounds therefor. If the disciplining authority determines that the complaint merits investigation, or if the disciplining authority has reason to believe, without a formal complaint, that a license holder or applicant may have engaged in unprofessional conduct, the disciplining authority shall investigate to determine whether there has been unprofessional conduct. A person who files a complaint under this section in good faith is immune from suit in any civil action related to the filing or contents of the complaint.

Sec. 6. Section 9, chapter 279, Laws of 1984 and RCW 18.130.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If the disciplining authority determines, upon investigation, that there is reason to believe a violation of RCW 18.130.180 has occurred, a statement of charge or charges shall be prepared and served upon the license holder or applicant at the earliest practical time. The statement of charge or charges shall be accompanied by a notice that the license holder or applicant may request a hearing to contest the charge or charges. The license holder or applicant must file a request for hearing with the disciplining authority within twenty days after being served the statement of charges. The failure to request a hearing constitutes a default, whereupon the disciplining authority may enter a decision on the basis of the facts available to it.

(2) If a request for hearing is filed, the time of the hearing shall be fixed by the disciplining authority as soon as convenient, but the hearing shall not be held earlier than thirty days after service of the charges upon the license holder or applicant. A notice of hearing shall be issued at least twenty days prior to the hearing, specifying the time, date, and place of the hearing. The notice shall also notify the license holder or applicant that a record of the proceeding will be kept, that he or she will have the opportunity to appear personally and to have counsel present, with the right to produce witnesses who will be subject to cross-examination, and evidence in his or her own behalf, to cross-examine witnesses testifying against him or her, to examine such documentary evidence as may be produced against him or her, to conduct depositions, and to have subpoenas issued by the disciplining authority.

Sec. 7. Section 13, chapter 279, Laws of 1984 and RCW 18.130.130 are each amended to read as follows:

An order pursuant to proceedings authorized by this chapter, after due notice and findings in accordance with this chapter and chapter 34.04 RCW, or an order of summary suspension entered under this chapter, shall take effect immediately upon its being served. The order, if appealed to the court, shall not be stayed pending the appeal unless the disciplining authority or court to which the appeal is taken enters an order staying the order of the disciplining authority, which stay shall provide for terms necessary to protect the public.

Sec. 8. Section 16, chapter 279, Laws of 1984 and RCW 18.130.160 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon a finding that a license holder or applicant has committed unprofessional conduct or is unable to practice with reasonable skill and safety due to a physical or mental condition, the disciplining authority may issue an order providing for one or any combination of the following:

1. Revocation of the license;
2. Suspension of the license for a fixed or indefinite term;
3. Restriction or limitation (on the license holder's) of the practice;
4. (The establishment of a requirement that) Requiring the (license holder satisfactorily complete) satisfactory completion of a specific program of remedial education or treatment;
5. The monitoring of the (license holder's) practice by a supervisor approved by the disciplining authority;
6. Censure or reprimand;
7. Compliance with conditions of probation for a designated period of time;
8. Payment of a fine for each violation of this chapter, not to exceed one thousand dollars per violation. Funds received shall be placed in the health professions account;
9. Denial of the license request;
10. Corrective action (by the license holder);
11. Refund of fees (charged) billed to and collected from the consumer (by the license holder).

Any of the actions under this section may be totally or partly stayed by the disciplining authority. In determining what action is appropriate, the disciplining authority must first consider what sanctions are necessary to protect or compensate the public. Only after such provisions have been made may the disciplining authority consider and include in the order requirements designed to rehabilitate the license holder or applicant. All costs associated with compliance with orders issued under this section are the obligation of the license holder or applicant.

Sec. 9. Section 17, chapter 279, Laws of 1984 and RCW 18.130.170 are each amended to read as follows:

If the disciplining authority believes a license holder or applicant may be unable to practice with reasonable skill and safety to consumers by reason of any mental or physical condition, a statement of charges in the name of the disciplining authority shall be served on the license holder or applicant and notice shall also be issued providing an opportunity for a hearing. The hearing shall be limited to the sole issue of the capacity of the license holder or applicant to practice with reasonable skill and safety. If the disciplining authority determines that the license holder or applicant is unable to practice with reasonable skill and safety for one of the reasons stated in this subsection, the disciplining authority shall impose such sanctions under RCW 18.130.160 as is deemed necessary to protect the public.

(2) In enforcing this section, the disciplining authority may require a license holder or applicant to submit to a mental or physical examination by one or more (physicians, a psychological examination by one or more licensed psychologists) licensed or certified health professionals designated by the disciplining authority. The cost of the examinations ordered by the disciplining authority shall be paid out of the health professions account. In addition to any examinations ordered by the disciplining authority, the licensee may submit (psychiatric) physical or psychological mental examination reports from licensed or certified health professionals of the license holder's or applicant's choosing and expense. Failure of a license holder or applicant to submit to examination when directed constitutes grounds for immediate suspension or denial of the license, consequent upon which a default and final order may be entered without the taking of testimony or presentations of evidence, unless the failure was due to circumstances beyond the person's control. A determination by a court of competent jurisdiction that a license holder or applicant is mentally incompetent or mentally ill is presumptive evidence of the license holder's or applicant's inability to practice with reasonable skill and safety. An individual affected under this subsection shall at reasonable intervals be afforded an opportunity to demonstrate that the individual can resume competent practice with reasonable skill and safety to the consumer.

(3) For the purpose of subsection (2) of this section, an applicant or license holder governed by this chapter, by making application, practicing, or filing a license renewal, is deemed to have given consent to submit to a mental, physical, or psychological examination when directed in writing by the disciplining authority and further to have waived all objections to the admissibility or use of the examining (physicians or psychologist's) health professional's testimony or examination reports by the disciplining authority on the ground that the testimony or reports constitute privileged communications.

Sec. 10. Section 18, chapter 279, Laws of 1984 and RCW 18.130.180 are each amended to read as follows:
The following conduct, acts, or conditions constitute unprofessional conduct for any license holder or applicant under the jurisdiction of this chapter:

1. The commission of any act involving moral turpitude, dishonesty, or corruption relating to the practice of the person's profession, whether the act constitutes a crime or not. (The disciplinary authority shall define by rule acts involving moral turpitude, dishonesty, or corruption relating to the practice of the person's profession.) If the act constitutes a crime, conviction in a criminal proceeding is not a condition precedent to disciplinary action. Upon such a conviction, however, the judgment and sentence is conclusive evidence at the ensuing disciplinary hearing of the guilt of the license holder or applicant of the crime described in the indictment or information, and of the person's violation of the statute on which it is based. For the purposes of this section, conviction includes all instances in which a plea of guilty or nolo contendere is the basis for the conviction and all proceedings in which the sentence has been deferred or suspended. Nothing in this section abrogates rights guaranteed under chapter 9.96A RCW;

2. Misrepresentation or concealment of a material fact in obtaining a license or in reinstatement thereof;

6. The possession, use, ((addiction to)) prescription for use, ((diversion)) or distribution of controlled substances or legend drugs in any way other than for legitimate or therapeutic purposes. ((or)) the addiction to or diversion of controlled substances or legend drugs, the violation of any drug law. or prescribing of any drug law controlled substances or drugs for oneself;

7. Violation of any state or federal statute or administrative rule regulating the profession in question, including any statute or rule defining or establishing standards of patient care or professional conduct or practice;

8. Failure to cooperate with the disciplining authority by:
   a. Not furnishing any papers or documents;
   b. Not furnishing in writing a full and complete explanation covering the matter contained in the complaint filed with the disciplining authority; or
   c. Not responding to subpoenas issued by the disciplining authority, whether or not the recipient of the subpoena is the accused in the proceeding;

9. Failure to comply with an order issued by the disciplining authority or an assurance of discontinuance entered into with the disciplining authority;

10. Aiding or abetting an unlicensed person to practice when a license is required;

11. ((Wit!l or repeated)) Violations of rules established by any health agency ((or authority of the state or a political subdivision thereof));

12. Practice beyond the scope of practice as defined by law or rule;

13. Misrepresentation or fraud in any aspect of the conduct of the business or profession;

14. Failure to adequately supervise auxiliary staff to the extent that the consumer's health or safety is at risk;

15. Engaging in a profession involving contact with the public while suffering from a contagious or infectious disease involving serious risk to public health;

16. Promotion for personal gain of any unnecessary or inefficacious drug, device, treatment, procedure, or service;

17. Conviction of any gross misdemeanor or felony relating to the practice of the person's profession. 20. The willful betrayal of a practitioner-patient privilege as recognized by law;

21. Violation of chapter 19.68 RCW;

22. Interference with an investigation or disciplinary proceeding by willful misrepresentation of facts before the disciplining authority or its authorized representative, or by the use of threats or harassment against any patient or witness to prevent them from providing evidence in a disciplinary proceeding or any other legal action;

23. Drunkenness or habitual intemperance in the use of alcohol or addiction to alcohol;

24. ((Physical)) Abuse of a client or patient or sexual contact with a client or patient.
Sec. 11. Section 19, chapter 279, Laws of 1984 and RCW 18.130.190 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The director shall investigate (bona fide) complaints concerning practice by unlicensed individuals of a profession requiring a license. In the investigation of the complaints, the director shall have the same authority as provided the director for the investigation of complaints against license holders. The director shall issue a cease and desist order to a person after notice and hearing and upon a determination that the person has violated this subsection. If the director makes a written finding of fact that the public interest will be irreparably harmed by delay in issuing an order, the director may issue a temporary cease and desist order. The cease and desist order shall not relieve the person so practicing without a license from criminal prosecution therefor, but the remedy of a cease and desist order shall be in addition to any criminal liability.

(2) The attorney general, a county prosecuting attorney, the director, a board, or any individual may in accordance with the laws of this state governing injunctions, maintain an action in the name of this state to enjoin any individual practicing a licensed profession without a license from engaging in such practice until the required license is secured. (3) Unlicensed practice of a profession under the jurisdiction of a disciplining authority specified in RCW 18.130.040 (without a license), unless otherwise exempted by law, constitutes a gross misdemeanor. All fees, fines, forfeitures, and penalties collected or assessed by a court because of a violation of this section shall be remitted to the health professions account.

Sec. 12. Section 20, chapter 279, Laws of 1984 and RCW 18.130.200 are each amended to read as follows:

A person who attempts to obtain or obtains a license by willful misrepresentation or fraudulent representation is guilty of a misdemeanor.

The injunction shall not relieve the offender from criminal prosecution, but the remedy by injunction shall be in addition to the liability of the offender to criminal prosecution and disciplinary action.

No physician may be subject to disciplinary action by any entity of either the state of Washington or a professional association for prescribing or administering amygdalin (Laetrile) to a patient under his/her care who has requested the substance after having been given sufficient information in writing to make an informed decision.

It is not the intent of this section to shield a physician from acts or omissions which otherwise would constitute unprofessional conduct (as defined in RCW 18.57.170 and 18.72.030).

Sec. 166. Section 2. chapter 50. Laws of 1981 and RCW 70.54.190 are each amended to read as follows:

No hospital or health facility may interfere with the physician/patient relationship by restricting or forbidding the use of DMSO (dimethyl sulfoxide) when prescribed or administered by a physician licensed pursuant to chapter 18.57 or 18.71 RCW and requested by a patient under his/her care who has requested the substance after having been given sufficient information in writing to make an informed decision.

No physician may be subject to disciplinary action by any entity of either the state of Washington or a professional association for prescribing or administering DMSO (dimethyl sulfoxide) to a patient under his/her care who has requested the substance after having been given sufficient information in writing to make an informed decision.

It is not the intent of this section to shield a physician from acts or omissions which otherwise would constitute unprofessional conduct (as defined in RCW 18.57.170 and 18.72.030).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 167. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 168. The legislature recognizes that there is an increasing interest by the citizens of this state in physical fitness and that in response to such interest a wide variety of health and conditioning services are available. Therefore, the legislature declares that it is a matter of public interest that the citizens of this state be assured of reasonable protection when contracting for health and conditioning services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 169. (1) As used in this chapter, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(a) 'Contract for health and conditioning services' means: A contract which provides as one of its primary purposes services or facilities which assist the purchaser to improve physical condition or appearance through physical fitness programs, body building, exercising, reducing, weight loss, figure development, or any other similar activity;

(b) 'Initiation or membership fee' means a fee paid either in a lump sum or installments on a one-time basis when a person first joins a health and conditioning facility for the privilege of belonging to such facility;

(c) 'Use fees' means fees paid on a regular periodic basis for use of a health club. This does not preclude prepayment of use fees at the buyer's option;

(d) 'Health club' or 'club' means any individual, partnership, corporation, or other legal entity offering contracts for health and conditioning services to the public.

(2) A 'contract for health and conditioning services' does not include:

(a) Professional services within the scope of the person's license rendered or furnished by a person licensed under Title 18 RCW;

(b) Instruction at public common schools, public institutions of higher education, private schools approved under RCW 28A.02.201, and private institutions of higher education;

(c) Instruction, training, or assistance relating to diet or control of eating habits not involving physical fitness programs, body building, exercising, figure development, or any other similar activity; or

(d) Recreational or social programs offered by organizations listed in section 169(3) of this act, which either involve no physical exercise or exercise only incidental to the program.

(3) Except for the purposes of sections 170, 175, and 176 of this act, a 'contract for health and conditioning services' does not include: (a) Services rendered by bona fide nonprofit organizations which have been granted tax exempt status by the internal revenue service, including, but not limited to, the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association, or other similar organizations, whose functions as health studios are only incidental to their overall functions and purposes; or (b) services rendered by bona fide nonprofit corporations organized under chapter 24.03 RCW which have members and whose members... have meaningful voting rights to elect and remove a board of directors which is responsible for the operation of the health club and corporation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 170. Contracts for health and conditioning services shall be in writing and are subject to this chapter. A copy of the written contract shall be given to the customer when the customer signs the contract.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 171. Contracts for health and conditioning services between the same buyer and the same seller which have overlapping terms are deemed to be one contract for the purpose of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 172. If a contract exceeds three years, the buyer shall sign or initial the provision which establishes the duration of the contract.

Contracts may not be sold, advertised, or measured by the lifetime of the buyer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 173. A contract for health and conditioning services may be sold prior to opening of the facility. Such contract shall provide that:

(1) Agreed upon services will begin within twelve months from the date the contract is signed unless the buyer signs an extension; and

(2) A five-day period for cancellation of the contract shall begin to run from the day the facility opens for use of the buyer and the seller begins to provide the agreed upon services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 174. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, all moneys paid to the seller by the buyer prior to the opening of the facility shall promptly be deposited by the seller in a trust account, maintained by the seller for the purpose of holding such moneys for the buyer, in a bank, savings and loan association, mutual savings bank, or licensed escrow agent located in Washington. The seller shall within seven days of the first deposit notify the office of the attorney general, in writing, of the name, address, and location of the depository and any subsequent change thereof. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, the seller is entitled to receipt of interest paid on such trust account moneys. The seller shall provide the buyer with a written receipt for the moneys and shall provide written notice of the name and address and location of the depository and any subsequent change thereof. If prior to the opening of the facility the status of the seller is transferred to another, any sums in the trust account affected by such transfer shall simultaneously be transferred to an equivalent trust account of the successor, and the successor shall promptly notify the buyer and the office of the attorney general of the transfer and of the name, address, and location of the new depository. The buyer's claim to any moneys paid under this section is prior to that of any creditor of the seller, including a trustee in bankruptcy or receiver, even if such moneys are commingled. After receipt of the notice of cancellation of the agreement or if the seller fails to open the facility and provide the agreed upon services within twelve months of the signing of the contract, the seller shall within ten days give a full refund to the buyer. The moneys on deposit shall revert to the buyer on the day the facility opens.

(2) Subsection (1) of this section does not apply to any sellers who, prior to any preopening sales, have provided a bond guaranteeing performance of all contracts for health and conditioning services sold prior to the opening of the facility. The bond shall be drawn upon a surety in an amount acceptable to the office of the attorney general, running to the state of Washington. An action on the bond may be brought by the office of the attorney general or by any buyer of a contract for health and conditioning services sold prior to the opening of the facility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 175. (1) The contract for health and conditioning services shall contain:

(a) The name and address of the health and conditioning facilities operator;

(b) The date the buyer signed the contract;

(c) The current fees to be paid by the buyer and, if such fees are subject to periodic adjustment, such fact shall be disclosed;

(d) The services to be provided under the contract; and

(e) The duration of the contract.

(2) Unless the health and conditioning facilities operator has complied with subsection (1) of this section, the buyer may cancel the contract for health and conditioning services at any time.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 176. Contracts for health and conditioning services shall contain clauses which notify buyers of the following rights:

(1) The buyer has the right to cancel the contract at any time prior to midnight of the third calendar day after the date the contract is signed by the buyer. Cancellation under this subsection entitles the buyer to a refund of all moneys paid and relieves the buyer from any future obligations under the contract without penalty.

(2) If by reason of death or total disability the person agreeing to receive services is unable to receive services that have been contracted for, the person or person's estate may cancel the contract.

(a) For total disability, a written confirmation of total disability shall be submitted by the person's treating physician. The health and conditioning facility may require the person to be examined by a physician of their choice if requested within sixty days after a written confirmation is submitted by the treating physician. If the two physicians disagree, they shall choose a third physician to examine the person, each party bearing half the fee. The third physician's opinion shall be binding on all parties. Total disability is a condition incurred after the person signs the contract which precludes the person from physically using the facilities for the remaining term of the contract.

(b) For death, a certified copy of the death certificate shall be sufficient evidence to cancel the contract.

(3) If the health and conditioning facilities are permanently closed and comparable facilities owned and operated by the seller are not made available within a ten-mile radius of the closed facility, the person agreeing to receive health and conditioning services may cancel the contract.

(4) If a contract for health and conditioning services extends for more than one year or requires payment of an initiation or membership fee, the buyer has the right to cancel the contract for any reason upon thirty days' written notice to the seller.

(5) Upon cancellation under subsection (2), (3), or (4) of this section, the buyer is entitled to a refund and relief from future obligations for payments of one-time only initiation and membership fees and monthly use fees as follows:

(a) The buyer is entitled to a refund of the unused portion of any prepaid monthly use fees and relief from future obligations to pay use fees concerning use after the date of cancellation;

(b) If a contract includes a one-time only initiation or membership fee and the buyer cancels under subsection (2) of this section, the buyer is entitled to a pro rata refund of such fee less a predetermined fee not to exceed one-half of the initial initiation or membership fee;

(c) If the contract includes a one-time only initiation or membership fee and the buyer cancels under subsection (3) of this section, the buyer is entitled to a pro rata refund of such fee;

(d) If the contract includes a one-time only initiation or membership fee and the buyer cancels under subsection (4) of this section, the buyer is entitled to a pro rata refund of such fee and relief from future obligations for payment under the contract unless the contract clearly states that the initiation or membership fee is nonrefundable, or states what percentage of the fee is refundable, and the clause is separately signed by the buyer;

(e) To calculate the amount of the refund and relief from future obligations for payment under the contract, the fee shall be apportioned into an equal installment amount by dividing the total fee by the number of months of use contracted for by the buyer. The buyer is entitled to relief from the obligation for payment and a refund of any moneys paid in excess of the amount of months of use prior to the date of cancellation multiplied by the equal installment amount; and

(f) All refunds shall be made within thirty days of receipt of the notice of cancellation by the health and conditioning facilities operator. Notice of cancellation shall be provided to the seller by mailing or delivering a signed and dated notice, or sending a telegram which states that the buyer is canceling the contract, or words of similar effect. The seller may require the buyer to return the original copy of the contract, or any membership card, or any other materials which evidence membership in the club.

(6) For any period in which a person is precluded from physically using the facilities due to a temporary total disability, the obligation of that person to pay any monthly use fees will be suspended. For a temporary total disability, a written confirmation shall be submitted by the person's treating physician. The health and conditioning facility may require, if requested within sixty days after a written confirmation is submitted by the treating physician, the person to be examined by a physician of their choice. If the two physicians disagree, they shall choose a third physician to examine the person, each party bearing half the fee. The third physician's opinion shall be binding on all parties.

NEW SECTION Sec. 177. The provisions of this chapter are not exclusive and do not relieve the parties from compliance with all other applicable federal, state, and local laws and rules.

NEW SECTION Sec. 178. Any contract for health and conditioning services which does not comply with the applicable provisions of this chapter or in which the buyer waives any provision of this chapter is void and unenforceable as contrary to public policy.

NEW SECTION Sec. 179. It shall be unlawful to sell or offer for sale any contract for health and conditioning services entered into in reliance upon any false, fraudulent, or misleading information or representations.

NEW SECTION Sec. 180. A seller who has not furnished a bond under section 174 of this act and who receives money from a buyer under a contract for services from health and conditioning facilities sold prior to the opening of the facility and the provision of the agreed upon services and who fails to deposit such moneys in a trust account maintained by the seller for the purpose of holding such funds for the buyer in a bank, savings and loan association, mutual savings bank, or licensed escrow agent located in Washington within three business days of receipt excluding Saturday, Sunday and holidays shall be guilty of a class C felony as defined in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

NEW SECTION Sec. 181. A violation of this chapter, for purposes of the consumer protection act, chapter 19.86 RCW, constitutes an unfair or deceptive act or practice.

NEW SECTION Sec. 182. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any contracts for health and conditioning services entered into before the effective date of this act.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 183. Sections 168 through 182 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 19 RCW."

The effect of the Senate amendment is to add health club facilities and physical fitness conditioning services and make them subject to the consumer protection act under a new chapter created in Title 19 RCW. The Speaker, after examining both the original bill and the underlying purpose therein, and the Senate amendment, finds that your point is well taken: the Senate amendment broadens the scope and object of the bill."

SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL

February 27, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed HOUSE BILL NO. 1472 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that both consumers and producers of agricultural and aquacultural products benefit from practices and policies which reduce the postproduction costs of making such products available to consumers. The legislature declares it to be the policy of the state to encourage and promote the marketing of agricultural products directly to consumers at the sites of the production of such products as one means of reducing those costs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 47.42 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall take such actions as are practicable to assist the marketing of agricultural products including plantation Christmas trees, and cultured aquatic products as defined in RCW 15.85.020 at the sites of their production by ensuring that adequate directions to such sites within the state are available to the public. Adequate directions shall include allowing the placement of signs on public highway rights of way at no charge during the season that such products are available for purchase directly by consumers."
Sec. 3. Section 82.04.120, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 2, chapter 9, Laws of 1982 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 82.04.120 are each amended to read as follows:

"To manufacture" embraces all activities of a commercial or industrial nature wherein labor or skill is applied, by hand or machinery, to materials so that as a result thereof a new, different or useful substance or article of tangible personal property is produced for sale or commercial or industrial use, and shall include the production or fabrication of special made or custom made articles.

"To manufacture" shall not include conditioning of seed for use in planting, or activities which consist of cutting, grading, or ice glazing seafood which has been cooked, frozen or canned outside this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

On page I, line 2 of the title, after "section;" strike "adding a new section to chapter 43.23 RCW;" and the same is herewith transmitted.

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

MOTION

Mr. Vekich moved that the House do not concur in the Senate amendments to House Bill No. 1472 and ask the Senate for a conference thereon.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Smitherman: "Mr. Speaker, I request that you rule on the amendment in respect to scope and object."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "The Speaker has examined House Bill 1472, 'An Act Relating to agricultural marketing....' The amendment adds injunction for the conditioning of the seed used for planting from the definition of manufacturing for the purposes of the state B&O tax laws. Having examined both the amendment and the underlying bill, the Speaker finds that your point is well taken and that the amendment is outside the scope and object of the bill."

MOTION

Mr. Barrett moved that the House do not concur in the Senate amendments and ask the Senate to recede therefrom.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "While no Point of Parliamentary Inquiry or Point of Order has been raised, the Speaker would like to read from (Reed's) Rule 245, Method of Obtaining Conference. "...The formal method, which perhaps any House has a right to insist on, is illustrated in this way: A bill passed by one House is amended in the other and returned. The originating House disagrees to the amendment, and notifies the amending House by a message, returning the papers. Thereupon the amending body either recedes and concurs or insists and asks for a conference. 'The conventional method of dealing with this matter would be to not concur and ask the Senate to recede, as indicated in this rule. It has been the practice of this House to recognize the motion to not concur and ask for a conference thereon, but this action is also allowed. The Speaker believes that according to Reed's Rules, that the most conventional approach should come first and would find that your motion is, in fact, in order. Representative Barrett. Therefore, the question before the House is to not concur with the Senate amendments and ask the Senate to recede therefrom."

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Vekich: "Having ruled the amendment out of scope, is it possible subsequently to concur in the rest of the bill? Would that take precedent over Representative Barrett's motion?"

The Speaker: "The answer is no. There was only one amendment before us and that was a striking amendment. The Speaker ruled that out of scope and object."
The motion was carried.

SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL

March 7, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1950 with the following amendments:

SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL
The House resumed consideration of the Senate amendments to ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1598.

The Speaker: "Representative Braddock, you previously raised the question of scope and object of the Senate amendments to Engrossed Substitute House Bill 1598."
The Speaker has examined the original bill, 'An Act Relating to sexual offenders...,' which transfers this responsibility from the Department of Social and Health Services to the Department of Corrections. The Senate amendment by the Committee on Judiciary adds the provision that sets up a supplemental program to reimburse institutional care employees of the Department of Social and Health Services and the Department of Veterans' Affairs for costs related to being assaulted by residents, patients or inmates. The original bill deals with transferring the program from DSHS to Corrections. The Speaker, after examining the original bill and the amendments, finds that the amendments broaden the scope and object of the original bill. Therefore, you point is well taken. The Senate amendment is out of order; it is beyond the scope and object.

On motion of Mr. Armstrong, the House refused to concur in the Senate amendments to Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1598 and asked the Senate for a conference thereon.

Nelson: "Mr. Speaker, the motion presented by Representative Padden is to not concur and ask the Senate to recede therefrom, which is a high ranking motion by virtue of your ruling last night on another measure. The motion to ask for a conference is made only after the previous action in asking for the recession from the amendment."

The Speaker: "Representative Nelson, the action that I ruled on last night was that when Representative Barrett raised a question, and the motion was a motion to not concur and ask for a conference thereon, Representative Barrett made the motion to not concur and ask to recede therefrom. I ruled that had a high order, which I also indicated a few moments ago to Representative Padden, that this was the case. Subsequently, Representative King made the motion to concur. This has a higher order than any of the three. When that was turned down (the motion to concur), we are then in a position, having taken that action, of being in a position of having voted not to concur. At that point the only appropriate request would be either to send that message or to have a subsequent motion which gives further direction to the other body. In this case, Representative King has made a motion to request a conference and that is what is before us. I would like to read Reed's 245, please. 'Whenever the two Houses have reached the point where they disagree, the House which has the papers may reject the amendments of the other House and ask a conference...'."

Mr. G. Nelson: "I would ask that the Speaker then address to the body Reed's 250 relative to the ranking and relationship of the motions to concur and nonconcur."

The Speaker: "Representative Nelson, examining Reed's 250 in addition to 245, the Speaker would also point out 240 supersedes, notwithstanding Rule 250. Rule
A conference is one of the methods of communication between two assemblies which together constitute the legislative department of a government. Whenever a disagreement as to amendments between the two Houses has reached such a phase that it seems likely to be final, the House which has the papers usually asks a conference upon the disagreeing votes of the two Houses and announces the names of the committee of conference. The Speaker would rule. Representative Nelson, that your point is not well taken.

Representative Vekich appeared at the bar of the House.

MOTION

Mr. Padden moved that the House ask the Senate to recede from the amendments.

The Speaker: "That would be a redundant motion; we have already done that. Representative Padden."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Padden: "Mr. Speaker, we’ve only moved previously to ask the Senate to not concur and recede. We’ve not made a separate motion to recede, which I believe by your ruling yesterday, is a higher motion than a request for a conference."

The Speaker: "Representative Padden, you made the motion to not concur and ask the Senate to recede therefrom. Representative King made the motion to concur. That failed. As I stated previously, the effect of that action is to put us into the position of nonconcurrence. As I stated previously, at that point a motion to request conference was not one that was made previously and that is now being made. The question---"

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Barrett: "Regarding what you just said, if the record to the House should show that the first motion made—and you say that the request for conference has never been made before, but recession has—I would say that the record of the House would show that the first motion made was to nonconcur and request a conference. Your ruling seems a little inconsistent here."

The Speaker: "Representative Barrett, you are accurate in the sense that I am inaccurate in that the motion was made, but no action was taken on it, which is what I should have said, because of the higher ranking motion that was made."

A division was called.

(2) Funds appropriated in this section are intended to fully fund employer contributions to the public employees’ retirement system.

Sec. 504. Section 504, chapter 6, Laws of 1985 ex. sess. (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

FOR THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION—SCHOOL DISTRICT EMPLOYEE COMPENSATION

General Fund Appropriation .......................... $ 47,733,000

(1) For the purposes of section 503 of this act and this section, the following conditions and limitations apply:

(a) ‘LEAP Document 7’ means the computer tabulation of 1984-85 derived base salaries for basic education certified staff and 1984-85 average salaries for basic education classified staff, as developed by the legislative evaluation and accountability program committee on April 11, 1985, at 10:36 hours.

(b) ‘Revised LEAP Document 7’ means the computer tabulation of certificated and classified derived base salaries as developed by the legislative evaluation and accountability program committee on February 27, 1986, at 9:41 hours.

(c) For the purposes of the appropriation in section 502 of this 1986 act, each district’s average basic education certificated salary allocation shall be the district’s certificated derived base salary shown on LEAP Document 7, multiplied by the district’s prior year staff mix factor calculated using LEAP Document 1.

(d) For the purposes of the appropriation in section 502 of this 1986 act, each district’s average basic education classified salary allocation for both the 1985-86 and 1986-87 school years shall be the district’s classified derived base salary multiplied by the district’s prior year classified increment mix factor, as specified in this section. For the 1985-86 school year, the classified derived base salary for each district shall be the average classified salary specified for each district in LEAP Document 7 divided by the 1984-85 classified increment mix factor for each district calculated according to the formula used by the superintendent of public instruction in the 1984-85 school year. By December 1, 1985, the superintendent of public instruction shall provide to the legislative evaluation and accountability program committee the appropriate data with which to modify LEAP Document 7 to reflect the classified derived base salary for use in the 1986-87 school year.

(e) ‘Incremental fringe benefits’ means 19.44 percent for certificated staff and 15.49 percent for classified staff, which percentages shall be the fringe benefit rates applied to all salary increases provided in this section, and is for employer contributions to employee benefits and retirement benefits.

(2) For the purposes of RCW 28A.58.095 and section 503(1) of this act, the following conditions and limitations apply:

(a) Effective September 1, 1986, each school district is authorized to grant salary increases that increase the district’s actual basic education certificated derived base salary to no more than the sum of: (i) The district’s certificated derived base salary as shown on revised LEAP Document 7; and (ii) three percent of the state-wide average certificated derived base salary as shown on revised LEAP Document 7.

(b) Effective September 1, 1986, each school district is authorized to grant salary increases that increase the district’s actual basic education classified derived base salary to no more than the sum of: (i) The district’s classified derived base salary as shown on revised LEAP Document 7; and (ii) three percent of the state-wide average classified derived base salary as shown on revised LEAP Document 7.
(c) The maximum average percentage salary increase in school districts programs other than the basic education program shall not exceed the percentage increase authorized pursuant to this section for the district’s basic education program.

(d) Insurance benefits are limited by this act to an average monthly rate of $167 per full time equivalent certificated employee and to an average monthly rate of $167 per classified unit. Classified units shall be calculated on the basis of 1,440 hours of work per year, with no individual employee counted for more than one unit. In accordance with RCW 28A.58.095, this subsection relates to insurance benefit increases granted in either the 1985-86 or 1986-87 school year which would raise the rate per full time equivalent unit to over $167 per month.

(e) Increments granted by school districts to certificated staff shall constitute salary increase in the year in which the increments are given by a district to the extent only that the aggregate of increments granted by a district exceeds the aggregate of increments pursuant to LEAP Document 1.

(f) Seniority increments granted by a school district pursuant to the district’s salary schedule for certificated employees shall constitute salary increase in the year in which the increments are given to the extent only that the aggregate of the increments granted by the district exceeds the amount of the district’s increments calculated using the formula adopted by the superintendent of public instruction for the certificated increment mix factor.

(g) Districts may elect an alternate measure of salary compliance for certificated staff by comparing base salaries of 1986-87 staff to the imputed base that was or would have been paid the same staff in the same positions during 1985-86 if the districts electing this alternative certify by board resolution that any amount in excess of state-funded salary levels in each year henceforward is solely a district obligation created through local district personnel policies and salary schedule placements, and that the effect shall neither incur nor imply any current or future funding obligation by the state.

3(a) A maximum of $650,000 of the appropriation in this section is provided to fund the conversion from LEAP Document 7 to revised LEAP Document 7, effective September 1, 1986. The superintendent of public instruction shall distribute these moneys to fund increases in salary costs and incremental fringe benefits resulting from using revised LEAP Document 7 to calculate allocations for certificated and classified staff units as in section 502 of this 1986 act.

(b) $28,582,000 is provided, effective September 1, 1986, to increase funding for each basic education certificated staff unit allocated for the 1986-87 school year in section 502 of this 1986 act by an amount equal to the district’s 1985-86 LEAP Document 1 basic education staff mix factor times three percent of the state-wide average certificated derived base salary as shown on revised LEAP Document 7, and for incremental fringe benefits.

(c) $5,926,000 is provided, effective September 1, 1986, to increase funding for each basic education classified staff unit allocated for the 1986-87 school year in section 502 of this 1986 act by an amount equal to the district’s 1985-86 basic education classified increment mix factor times three percent of the state-wide average classified derived base salary as shown on revised LEAP Document 7, and for incremental fringe benefits.

(e) A maximum of $3,968,000 is provided for salary increases and incremental fringe benefits for state-supported staff unit allocations in the handicapped program (section 506), and for state-supported staff in educational service districts (section 502) and institutional education programs (section 507). The superintendent of public instruction shall distribute a three percent salary increase for these programs using the pertinent program state-wide average derived base salaries.

(f) $6,344,000 of the appropriation in this section is provided to enhance salaries for certificated personnel in state-supported programs pursuant to this subsection. Each school district with a certificated derived base salary of less than $16,500, as shown on revised LEAP Document 7, is authorized to grant salary increases effective September 1, 1986, which both:

(i) Increase the actual full time equivalent salary of each certificated employee of the district to a minimum of $16,500 for the 1986-87 school year, and

(ii) Increase the district’s actual basic education certificated derived base salary, excluding the salary increase provided in subsection (2)(a) of this section, to no more than $16,500.

For the purposes of allocating basic education funds in the 1986-87 school year, the superintendent of public instruction shall modify revised LEAP Document 7 to reflect a certificated derived base salary of $16,500 for each district which grants the increases authorized by this subsection. The superintendent of public instruction may distribute a maximum of $71,000 of the funds provided by this subsection to those districts whose actual cost of granting minimum increases to $16,500 under (i) of this subsection exceeds the increase in the district’s total salary allocation resulting from the modification of revised LEAP Document 7.

In addition to other increases provided by this section, each school district with a certified derived base salary of at least $16,500, as shown on revised LEAP Document 7, is authorized to grant such increases effective September 1, 1986, as are necessary to achieve a minimum full time equivalent salary of $16,500 for any individual certificated employee. $1,500, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be distributed by the superintendent of public instruction solely to increase salaries of individual certificated employees in these districts who would otherwise receive a full time equivalent salary of less than $16,500.

(4) Increases provided by this section shall be included in the programs referenced in RCW 84.52.0531(1) for purposes of calculating the levy lid.

PART IX

MISCELLANEOUS

Sec. 901. Section 4, chapter 39, Laws of 1970 ex. sess. as last amended by section 24, chapter 57, Laws of 1985 and RCW 41.05.040 are each amended to read as follows:

There is hereby created a fund within the state treasury, designated as the state employees insurance fund, to be used by the trustee as a revolving fund for the deposit of contributions, dividends and refunds, and for payment of premiums for employee insurance benefit contracts entered into in accordance with instructions of the board and payments authorized by RCW 41.05.030(2). Moneys from the state employees insurance fund shall be disbursed by the state treasurer by warrants on vouchers duly authorized by the trustee. However, before June 30, 1987, the treasurer shall not disburse moneys from the fund when the disbursement would result in a fund balance of less than $11,597,000. Notwithstanding RCW 43.84.090, all earnings of investments of balances in the state employees insurance fund shall be credited to this fund.

Sec. 902. Section 12, chapter 167, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 28, chapter 57, Laws of 1985 and by section 507, chapter 405, Laws of 1985 and RCW 43.19.610 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

There is hereby established in the state treasury an account to be known as the motor transport account into which shall be paid all moneys, funds, proceeds, and receipts as provided in RCW 43.19.615 and as may otherwise be provided by law. Disbursements therefrom shall be made in accordance with the provisions of RCW 43.19.560 through 43.19.630, 43.41.130 and 43.41.140 as authorized by the director or his duly authorized representative and as may be provided by law. All earnings of investments of balances in the motor transport account shall be credited to the general fund.

The ((office of financial management may direct the)) state treasurer ((to)) shall transfer to the general fund ((an amount not to exceed $1,500,000)) two million dollars from the motor transport account ((for the 1985-86 fiscal biennium)) on or before June 30, 1987.

MOTION

Mr. Grimm moved that the House adopt the report of the Free Conference Committee on Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4762.
POINT OF ORDER

Mr. B. Williams: "Mr. Speaker, I wish to raise a point of order regarding new section 904 on scope and object."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative Williams, the Speaker has examined the title of the bill, which is 'An Act Relating to state fiscal matters...'. The Speaker has also examined Joint Rule 8, Free Conference requests. 'In case of failure for the conferees to agree on matters directly at issue between the two houses, the committee may in addition consider new proposed items within the scope and object of the title of the bill in conference for the purpose of requesting the powers of free conference. A report requesting the powers of free conference shall be made in the same manner as other reports of conference committees and shall set forth the proposed report of free conference committee, including all amendments to the bill or resolution to be agreed upon by the free conference committee. The proposed report may be in the form of a new bill or resolution and such report must have the signatures of a majority of the members of the committee appointed from each house.' Representative Williams, after examining both the Free Conference Report as well as the specific section you have referred to, the Speaker believes that it is within the scope and object of the bill."

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. B. Williams: "Since this bill before us is uncodified, what happens at the end of the biennium to the section of law that it is amending?"

The Speaker: "Representative Williams, without the direction from the legislature, the Code Reviser has the authority to determine for the Session Laws what is codified and what is not."

Mr. B. Williams spoke against the motion.

The motion was carried.

FINAL PASSAGE OF SENATE BILL AS AMENDED BY FREE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill NO. 4762 as amended by Free Conference Committee.

Mr. B. Williams spoke against passage of the bill, and Mr. Grimm spoke in favor of it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Grimm yielded to question by Mr. Day.

Mr. Day: "Representative Grimm, the biennial operating budget prohibits the State Employees' Insurance Board from increasing benefit levels beyond the level that existed on July 1, 1985. Would SEIB compliance with SSB 4531 and ESSB 4762 be viewed as an expansion of benefits beyond the July 1, 1986 level?"

Mr. Grimm: "No."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Grimm yielded to question by Ms. Rayburn.

Ms. Rayburn: "Representative Grimm, is it your understanding that the biennial budget for Washington State University included sufficient funds to continue the Yakima Nursing Center through both the years of the 1985-87 biennium?"

Mr. Grimm: "We appropriated over $250 million to Washington State University for the biennium starting July 1, 1985. While we did not specifically in the budget earmark funds for the Yakima Nursing Center, it was and is my understanding and intention that WSU received sufficient funding to continue operation of the Yakima Nursing Center throughout the current biennium. This contention and understanding on my part is supported by debate which occurred on the budget in the Senate at the time the biennial budget was adopted in June of last year."
POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Grimm yielded to question by Mr. Tilly.

Mr. Tilly: "Representative Grimm, on that last question from the Representative from the 16th District regarding the medical program at Yakima Valley College, would that be part of our budget notes, that that funding would be continued through Washington State University?"

Mr. Grimm: "It is my understanding that it would be and it would also be a part of the Journal, which is, in fact, of overriding significance as far as expression of legislative intent."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4762 as amended by Free Conference Committee, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 55; nays, 43.

Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4762 as amended by Free Conference Committee, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease until 7:30 p.m.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, Washington State's Speaker of the House, Representative Wayne Ehlers, will be leaving the House of Representatives and will be sorely missed by his colleagues; and

WHEREAS, Speaker Ehlers was born in Bellingham, Washington on November 25, 1938 receiving his Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees at Western Washington University and his Masters degree at the University of Denver; and

WHEREAS, Speaker Ehlers has served as a public school teacher for over twenty-five years in the Franklin Pierce School District and part time at Pacific Lutheran University, and presently serves as field representative to the Public School Employees; and

WHEREAS, His civic activities include community services too numerous to enumerate; and

WHEREAS, His political career spans more than a decade of public service, being first elected to the House of Representatives in 1973 at the age of thirty three, serving on the Education, State Government and Ways and Means Committees and continuing to serve on these committees even after his appointment as Chair of the State Government Committee in 1976, continuing in that position until he was elected House Democratic Leader in 1980; and

WHEREAS, In 1983 he was elected Speaker of the House by his peers and became Chair of the House Rules Committee and has continued to serve in that capacity until the present time; and

WHEREAS, Speaker Ehlers' numerous honors and awards include 1977 VFW Legislator of the Year, TIME Pierce County Newsmaker of Tomorrow, and the 1978 Seattle Post-Intelligencer's Poll "Best Committee Chair in the House";

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the members of the House of Representatives, that we honor Speaker Ehlers for his many years of public service, commend him for his continued efforts on behalf of the Legislature and the people of the State of Washington, acknowledge our loss at his upcoming departure, and express our best wishes for his future endeavors and those of his family; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this Resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to Speaker Ehlers.

Mr. O'Brien moved adoption of the resolution.

On motion of Mr. Vander Stoep, the following remarks were ordered inserted in the Journal:

Mr. O'Brien: "We're losing a very valuable member of the House of Representatives. During his period as Speaker of the House, he has been a dedicated and able leader. He benefits tremendously by the powers of his own convictions and hard work. He also has a very fine memory. He remembers historical events and also important issues and he can cite them. When Wayne leaves here I'm sure he is going to remember us always in his memories. As a matter of fact, we're going to remember him too and I think, to a degree maybe, we should put our gavel up there in some kind of an iron case in the archives of the State of Washington, dedicated to Wayne Ehlers, because he has been a gentleman and a scholar, someone who demands decorum. I think it has been well for us that we've had someone of that nature to keep us in line from time to time. In these hallowed chambers of ours I know all of us remember what has happened in the past and, in the future the memory of being here always remains with those who participate. There's something about serving in the Legislature that is rather unique. It's different from any other realm of life. Tonight, for instance, they had an Old Timers' Meeting in Olympia at the Olympic Hotel, and many members of past renown were there talking about things of interest that occurred while they were members of the Legislature. So it's something we are always going to remember — Speaker Ehlers as being a person who showed great capabilities and responsibilities in his term as Speaker of the House here, and I know that I speak for all of you that we wish him well in his future endeavors and the memory of us serving with him will remain always in his memories."

Mr. S. Wilson: "I was elected to this august body in 1972, the same year that Wayne was elected. We have served together here for nearly fourteen years. Unfortunately, I don't think that at any time in that period we ever served on the same committee, so we haven’t had that kind of an experience at any rate; however, when he was elected Speaker by the body four years ago, I frankly thought: ‘Well, may be a good choice.’ But I think, like any one of us, we grow into the job; we learn the job. Some learn it extremely well and Wayne has learned extremely well. I think he has been a very able Speaker. I was asked by one of the news people the other day what I thought of the job he did, and of course, they always expect a quip of some sort out of me, just some sort of snotty remark—but, I really can’t find any because I’m afraid of his next ruling. In truth, I appreciate the kind of work he has done, particularly during the last two years. I hesitate to say he’s been fair, but I think he has tried. We will remember him. You look at the pictures of Speakers on the wall in the Speaker’s office there; most of them have been two years there. It’s a wearing job; it’s a hard job, but what I’ve observed of it, I don’t think it’s a job in which you get many thanks. It’s tough, and for an individual to serve two full terms in that job is, I think, rather remarkable; and he’s to be com­mented greatly for the kind of work he has done. There isn’t a great deal more I could say; Representative O’Brien said it far better. We will remember the years that Wayne has served here—in the majority and briefly in the minority—too bad you won’t be back to experience that again; however, we will remember you, and hope that Speakers in the future will profit by the example you have set. He has been truly cognizant of the institution, great regard for it, and that is one of the most important aspects of the work you do here. We have to have regard for our gov­ernment and how it is conducted and conduct it properly. Wayne, I thank you for the job you have done.”

Mr. J. King: 'I’m not Monty Hall from ‘Let’s Make a Deal,’ but one of the nice things you get to do as floor leader is say some nice things about some people you care a whole lot about. I had a chance during a break today, and it’s a nice day outside, to take a nice long walk with Wayne. It was pleasant weather and we had a chance to visit, and I think part of the character of Wayne came through on that walk when I asked him what he liked the best about that job—is it those tough rul­lings up there and the ability to wield the gavel? Or is it the tense situations when you have to ease through a tight spot? Characteristically, he said, ‘No, I liked chairing a committee a lot — back when I used to be able to get something done.’ I think that he liked to chair that committee says a lot about the man, the status of running that gavel up there that has motivated him and inspired trust from all of us. All of us have come to appreciate his incredible institutional memory. I particularly enjoy it when he is able, without going back through the records, to cite the rulings of Speaker Polk to use those to rule on difficult situations. One of the things that Democrats aren’t supposed to be able to do very well, all of us know that we can’t manage very well, that it’s just not part of our nature, that on the other side of the aisle are the people who can manage. We just went through a cutoff this time, the first time in maybe ten years according to Representative Nelson that we’ve been able to have a lunch break before we ended the cutoff day with a nice relaxed, well–managed phase. All of this was due to Wayne’s ability to set tight deadlines and urge us along and hurry us along and stick to those cutoffs. A job which I think really explains the respect that all of us have for Wayne. Wayne, more than any­body else, illustrates that it’s not just character that is more than anything else to be looked for in a leader, personal philosophy, the ability that when Wayne speaks — people who have worked with us say — that word is his bond, that is what is going to happen to the best of his ability to make it happen. It’s that trust that Wayne has inspired that has brought him to be so fair and straight when he wields that gavel up there.”

Mr. Barrett: "I don’t want to enshrine that gavel; we already enshrined a $400 piece of glass off that podium. That, I think, is monument enough and I think that sine die night, what it really showed was the exuberance of the Speaker, not only his bad aim, but it shows one of the only two disabilities that I’ve ever found that he has—he has a terrible aim and he’s hard of hearing. We sometimes—and he’s a young man—and we’ve stood right down there and couldn’t get his attention. I’ve enjoyed my relationship with Wayne. I think it’s been one of the delights of this position that I hold as a selection of my colleagues. I’ve been able to work closely with him and you know in my position, I’m not supposed to agree with the Speaker at all times. I'm never supposed to agree with the majority, but I'm not supposed to agree with the Speaker at all times because we are here to do our own battle and try to get our own input into the system. Parliamentary rules are made for the minority. The majority has the votes; they don't need anything else. They have the gavel; they have the votes. The minority has the parliamentary system, and if I can say, and I want to second what Representative Wilson said: In all of my dealings with the Speaker, I have found that, above all, he is a very fair person. His rulings have been impartial; they have been professional; they have been exact and I thank him for that."

Ms. Unsoeld: "I wanted to draw your attention to something as simple as the calendar of the day. When the Speaker first came here to Olympia to serve in the Legislature, there wasn't calendar to rely on. Of course, we skip around on it a bit, but there is a calendar with a list of the bill numbers, a description, so that everyone has the opportunity to know what the business of this body is. I think that part of what Wayne has brought to this body in his leadership is that movement toward process and fairness and open government, and I want to thank you, Wayne."

Mr. Jacobsen: "Mr. Speaker, I've been collecting parliamentary laws in this body and making some observations, and one of those that Speaker Ehlers gave me for my first term was, I observed one day that I had forty votes on a bill, and he said you can get forty votes on anything in this place, but you play hell getting the last ten. I found that to be very true. Also, the other Ehlers' law is, you know how far you can go when you have gone too far. Then we caucus and caucus and caucus and eventually we come out, and it's gone too far. The last thing I will say about Wayne is: Looking at Wayne, I really appreciate that line from the country-western song, 'How Can I Miss You If You Don't Go Away?' I think I'm really going to miss you:"

Mr. Tilly: "It has been my privilege, along with three others who have served with Wayne -- we're part of the Class of '72; our ranks are sort of getting thin -- but as I'm looking back here tonight, I'm sure that I see another one or two future Speakers of the House. There is hope -- if you stay here long enough, gain experience, gain knowledge of the system. When we first came here we were certainly starry-eyed freshmen. I'd say, for my part, that I'm still learning. You always learn and I guess that's the exciting part about being here. On a recent occasion I was at a dinner with another former Speaker, and they were asking me about what is the difference now and between 1973, and I say that the difference is the quality of the people serving here. After each election the quality of the legislature improves. I certainly have felt that way and this is my fourteenth year here. For those of us who are going to be leaving this time, I guess that tells you something about what is going to happen in the future. It's going to get better folks. Congratulations, Wayne."

Mr. Barnes: "When I first came down to the Legislature, I was appointed in the middle of a term, or shortly after the beginning of a term, and I came down here for the first time in a special session, and my first day and first committee meeting I was kind of lost, as you might imagine—so for guidance and advice I turned to the grizzled veteran sitting next to me and, this was Wayne. And of course, I took every word of advice that he gave me, and he instructed me on how to get along and so forth. I drank it all in, and you know, I didn't know until just a few minutes ago, when a gentleman from the 10th District was speaking, that Wayne had only been here about seven months before I had."

Ms. K. Wilson: "A little north of here, in Snohomish County, in a little tiny town of Lake Stevens, there is a faculty on a high school that has been, over the law few years, very proud to know that Wayne Ehlers, a former faculty member, was down here in Olympia earning a reputation for open democratic government and fair-minded leadership. They will be very sorry to know that Wayne is leaving. I might add that they hope to have another colleague down here in Olympia to carry on the tradition for open government and fair-minded leadership."
Ms. Winsley: "On behalf of the Pierce County delegation, I would like to give Wayne a big thank you. When I first came to Olympia, I first served in the Legislature in 1974, I guess the year following—the one thing that I will always think of Wayne as having the most political smarts of anyone I've ever known. I like to get into a conversation with him because he can remember any district, whether it's the 20th District or the 17th District or the 28th District, he has a vision of that district and he can just tell you every aspect of a district. He knows the state from one end to the other; what makes up the various economic situations of the state, which in essence, falls into different political realities. I think that Pierce County is very proud to have had him as our Speaker for the last four years. We're proud of the work and the time and the effort that he has put into that position. We hope that, in the future, Pierce County is well represented. I think someone has some big shoes to fill next session. Maybe Pierce County is going to lose a little bit of its power base, but I hope not. Congratulations Wayne for a job well done."

Mr. Dellwo: "When I first came from Spokane, I came with the understanding that eastern Washington was oftentimes ignored, making up only twenty-five percent of the body, sometimes we felt that we were cheated when we only received twenty-five percent of the bills and the money that went with them, but I found, very much to my delight, that with our Speaker—who has been Speaker from the time I've been here—Spokane and eastern Washington have not been ignored. We were not given gifts, although some thought that, but we were given the opportunity to obtain what was for eastern Washington State, and I want to thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Sayan: "I, perhaps, have a unique experience in relation to the Speaker. I preceded him in Olympia by a number of years and when he showed up among the number of new kids on the block in the Legislature, we found that, by gosh, we had a friend and I, as an agency director, found that agency directors didn’t have a whole lot of friends in the Legislature, but he was one. We soon learned this young fellow was a hard working fellow; you could tell he was hardworking, his shirttail was always out—most folks, however didn’t have it out in the front also—he would always stop and talk to you and unlike many of his colleagues, I regret to say, at the time (we are now different from that group) but unlike his many colleagues of that day, he never gave the impression that my problem was unimportant because I was running an agency and it was important to me. The attributes that he shared then are the attributes that I've experienced in the Legislature, and that is why I was proud to cast my ballot for him as Speaker of the House."

Mr. Braddock: "It's difficult to get up and talk about Speaker Ehlers without getting melancholy and I didn't intend to speak, but then I thought of all the hours I've had to listen to him. I think much has been said about Wayne and the reason we appreciate Wayne and one of the things, of course, is his institutional memory. He shares that with Speaker O'Brien, a great institutional memory, and it's something we all need and we all appreciate. Beyond that, Wayne, I think, epitomizes the best in politics. So much today politics has a bad name, but I think Wayne is a politician and he's proud of it and he will tell you that he's a politician. He does political things and he does them well, and he does them without weakening his integrity at all and without weakening the integrity of this body. He is an excellent politician and he's proud of it. I think that is something we all need and we all should appreciate and share in this democracy—we have to have politicians and people who are proud to be politicians and can be political with great integrity. Also, Wayne is a big 'D' Democrat; he's always a big 'D' Democrat and I hope he stays a big 'D' Democrat, but I think we can all appreciate serving here, and he's also a small 'd' democrat and that's very important and I think we should all appreciate and all learn that from Wayne—it's not enough just to be a Democrat or Republican, it's important to be a small 'd' democrat and be democratic in the way we act around here."

Ms. Rayburn: "I would just like to say a few things that are kind of personal to me that I think many of you would share. It seems to me, as a freshman, that Wayne always had the time to listen and he was always there when we, as freshmen, were needing help and advice and believe you me, freshmen need a lot of that; and we need a lot of advice, we need a lot of help in getting along in this process. None of our problems were ever so small and insignificant that he was not willing to sit down. Another thing that I really enjoyed and liked and admired about him, he always had that open-door policy. The door was never shut to you, and so I would just like to say thank you so much, Wayne, for all of that, from we freshmen.”

Mr. Prince: “Wayne, I’ve enjoyed so very much the friendship that we’ve developed over the last six years. I think that’s the real test of this body. I think it’s very fitting for us to say thanks and, as a friend, I’ve enjoyed seeing Wayne develop and grow in stature as a Speaker. It has been real rewarding to see that growth and to see the contribution that he has made to this body, and in the vernacular of agriculture and the farm backing that I come from, the greatest honor that I can bestow upon upon you, is to say, ‘The welcome mat is out.’ I hope you come to visit; we’d like very much to break bread with you.”

The Speaker (Mr. Madsen presiding): “This Speaker does have a few comments. I’ve known Wayne—well I knew him before he was elected back in ’71-72, most of the time the campaign boxes full of stuff have ended up in my garage and Wayne would get mad when the envelopes would stick together after two years in my garage. I know I can’t say good-bye to him because most likely I still have a table or a chair in my garage; I don’t know. I do want to say one thing, and I will say it honestly, thank you to a very good friend. Thank you very much.”

House Resolution No. 86-157 was adopted.

The Speaker (Mr. Madsen presiding) appointed Representatives Hine and Ballard to escort Speaker Ehlers to the rostrum.

Representative Ballard presented the resolution to Speaker Ehlers.

Mr. Ballard: “Wayne, on behalf of the other members, I would like to present you with this resolution. I would also like to make just a brief comment. I talked to Wayne the other night when we had a pretty hairy issue here and I said to him: ‘I really appreciate the consideration you gave us when you had the hammer.’ It has been a real delight to watch you as a professional, and so on behalf of the other members, may I present you with this special memory.”

Ms. Hine: “Mr. Speaker, on behalf of all the members of this Legislature, we would like to present you with this gift from us. I realize that this is your second term as Speaker and we honor you for that, and we also acknowledge the fact that you have decided to retire. Normally when someone retires, you give them a gold watch—well, we did that two years ago and you didn’t take the hint. This time we are giving you some place settings for your sterling silver in recognition of the respect that we hold for you. You have, indeed, created a high level for all of us to achieve. Your respect for the institution has been absolutely superb and those of us who are here, who will follow in your footsteps, will really take that as an example. We also will take some of the humor involved because you have been able, while doing it straightforward, sometimes you’ve been able to get your will through kind of circuitous routes and none of us will ever, whether we are on the right side or the wrong side, forget that cackle that occurred when you accomplished what you wanted to, whether straightforward or not. We truly do acknowledge that you have been fair; that your respect for the institution has been first and foremost, no matter how you felt on the issues. With that in mind, on behalf of all the members of the Legislature, Representative Ballard and I, on behalf of our caucuses, do present you with this gift.”

Speaker Ehlers: “Thank you very much. I’d like to take, under Point of Personal Privilege, just a couple of minutes. This is a big surprise to me. I wasn’t really expecting this tonight. Many years ago—it seems many galaxies from here—I used to sit back there where I sat tonight and those of you who have sat on either side know the advantages of sitting back there, and I had forgotten. I had forgotten how cool it is; it’s close to the water fountain; it’s close to escape—particularly when you are on this side and you are of the male gender because the men’s restroom is over there—you have all kinds of advantages that this position up here doesn’t have. I want to say that there have been a lot of nice things said tonight about me -- and I appreciate those -- and about the institution. On the bottom line, I don't think the general public fully appreciates the fine work that members on both sides of the aisle do in this body. We represent our constituencies, but we are State Representatives. We are not from Pierce County; we are not from eastern Washington; we are from the State of Washington. I appreciate the cooperation by members on both sides of the aisle and particularly the staff--I sometimes don't say thanks---and particularly my personal staff to which I don't say thank you often enough. I have to my right, my wife Patricia, my older son Jeff and his friend, who have come down tonight. I expected Patricia, because I thought she was going to be here for other reasons, and my older son Jeffrey, I did not expect. I want to say in conclusion, after saying about the institution and the importance of this institution, a little bit about politics. As Representative Braddock and others have said, I am, first of all, a politician. As Robert F. Kennedy said, that is an honorable profession. I have been proud to be a politician and I hope you have been too. Thank you."

The Speaker called on Mr. O'Brien to preside.

On motion of Mr. J. King, the House adjourned until 9:00 a.m., Tuesday, March 11, 1986.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "In regard to your point of order on Engrossed Senate Bill 4463, under Rule 8 of our Joint Rules, a Free Conference Report may include new proposed items within the scope and object of the title in conference. The Speaker has examined Engrossed Senate Bill 4463 and the report of the Free Conference Committee. The bill is entitled 'An Act Relating to the promotion of Washington products....' The report of the Free Conference Committee adds several new items, including the authorization for an additional lottery game dedicated to the benefit of urban parks, a change in the definition of urban parks for the purposes of park acquisition and development by the Interagency Commission for Outdoor Recreation, establishment of an employee's cooperative corporation act in chapter 23 RCW, a program in the Department of Community Development to assist employee-owned businesses and a B&O tax and sales tax exemption for plantation Christmas trees. The Speaker finds that these new items proposed by the Free Conference Committee do not fall within the title of the act relating to promotion of Washington products. The Speaker informed the House he would take the Conference Committee report under advisement for a later ruling.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Prince: "I'm a little confused. Are we getting opinions on the Free Conference report before the Free Conference is granted?"

The Speaker: "We're just as confused as you are, Representative Prince, and that's why we're taking some of these under advisement, to try and sort through what the Senate has done. That's one of our problems."
POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Barrett: "Mr. Speaker, from your statement just now, are you implying that this is the only time in this process, at the time of granting Free Conference, when we could properly raise the question of scope and object?"

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative Barrett, a lot of what we are doing here in some of our rulings within the last week or so, is plowing new ground and we want to make sure that when we are making these rulings—and sometimes we are taking them under advisement because of information coming from the Senate and other times we are getting into new ground. The Speaker would rule that when one is raising scope and object, it could be done on two occasions: When there is a motion to grant the powers of Free Conference, but not during debate once debate has commenced; and at the time that the motion to adopt the report of the Free Conference. The logic behind that is that members would have an opportunity in the twenty-four hours, unless the rules were suspended, to look at that issue and research it. So, Representative Barrett, that would be my ruling."

The Speaker: "Representative Cole, under Rule 8 of our Joint Rules, a Free Conference may include new proposed items within the scope and object of the title of the bill in conference. The Speaker has examined Engrossed Substitute House Bill 1754 and the report of the Free Conference Committee. ESHB 1754 is entitled, 'An Act Relating to economic development...'. The new items proposed in the report of the Free Conference Committee deal with the tax deferral programs in chapters 82.60 and 82.61 RCW and with the new program of tax deferrals in distressed areas for employers who increase employment by fifteen percent or more. The Speaker finds that these provisions relate to the subject of economic development and are therefore within the scope and object of the bill. Your point is not well taken."
POINT OF ORDER

Ms. Cole: "Mr. Speaker, I would like you to rule on the negative fiscal impact."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative Cole, you are speaking to Rule 25D(6). The question raised was of a negative fiscal impact. The rule reads, 'All bills having a direct negative revenue impact... (we're not talking about a fiscal impact) ...or a direct appropriation of fifty thousand dollars or more shall be referred to the ways and means committee or transportation committee as appropriate before their final passage.' Are you asking for a revenue impact? That's a different question."

Ms. Cole: "Yes."

The Speaker: "The Speaker, on at least two different occasions this session has ruled that issue is not appropriate at this time; it is only appropriate before final passage. We are not on final passage as yet. Your point is not well taken."

The motion to grant the committee powers of Free Conference was carried.

The Speaker has examined the bill and has examined the Free Conference report. In the Free Conference report there are several additions to the bill. One is that irrigation district associations may change their names, and so forth. The Speaker finds that to be within the scope and object. The Speaker also notes that under section 5 there is a portion dealing with seeding and Christmas tree plantations, exempting them from certain taxation statutes. Section 9 is exempting the conditioning of seed for use in planting in the definition of manufacturing for B&O taxation. The Speaker finds that in sections 5, 8 and 9, specifically, that those portions of the Free Conference Committee report are outside the scope and object of an act relating to agricultural marketing. Your point is well taken."

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 43.88 RCW to read as follows:

The omnibus biennial operating appropriations act shall include an appropriation for the full amount that will be paid out during the biennium under any postretirement cost-of-living adjustment adopted after the effective date of this act.

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 96, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 41.32.485 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, effective July 1, 1979, the retirement allowance of each beneficiary who either is receiving benefits pursuant to RCW 41.32.520 or 41.32.550 as of December 31, 1978, or commenced receiving a monthly retirement allowance under this chapter as of a date no later than July 1, 1974, shall be permanently increased by a post-retirement adjustment. This adjustment shall be in lieu of any adjustments provided under RCW 41.32.499(6) as of July 1, 1979, or July 1, 1980, for the affected beneficiaries. Such adjustment shall be calculated as follows:

(a) Retirement allowances to which this subsection and subsection (1) of this section are both applicable shall be determined by first applying subsection (1) and then applying this subsection. The department shall determine the total years of creditable service and the total dollar benefit base accrued as of December 31, 1978, except that this determination shall take into account only those beneficiaries to whom this subsection applies;

(b) The department shall multiply the total benefits determined in (a) of this subsection by six percent and divide the dollar value thus determined by the total service determined in (a) of this subsection. The resultant figure shall then be a post-retirement increase factor which shall be applied as specified in (c) of this subsection;

(c) Each beneficiary to whom this subsection applies shall receive an increase which is the product of the factor determined in (b) of this subsection multiplied by the years of creditable service.

(3) The provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of this section shall not be applicable to those receiving benefits pursuant to RCW 41.32.540 or 41.32.760 through 41.32.825.

Sec. 3. Section 1, chapter 96, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 41.40.198 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, effective July 1, 1979, as a cost-of-living adjustment, no beneficiary receiving a retirement allowance pursuant to this chapter shall receive, as the pension portion of that retirement allowance, less than ((ten)) thirteen dollars per month for each year of service creditable to the person whose service is the basis of the pension. Portions of a year shall be treated as fractions of a year and the decimal equivalent shall be multiplied by ((ten)) thirteen dollars. Where the pension payable was adjusted at the time benefit payments to the beneficiary commenced, the minimum pension provided in this section shall be adjusted in a manner consistent with that adjustment.
The provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall not be applicable to those receiving benefits pursuant to RCW 41.40.220(1), 41.44.170(5), or 41.40.610 through 41.40.740. For persons who served as elected officials and whose accumulated employee contributions and credited interest was less than seven hundred fifty dollars at the time of retirement, the minimum benefit under subsection (1) of this section shall be ten dollars per month for each year of creditable service.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is appropriated five million three hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, from the general fund for the purposes of paying the cost-of-living adjustments provided in sections 2 and 3 of this 1986 act. Of this amount, two million dollars shall be deposited in the teachers' retirement fund and three million three hundred thousand dollars shall be deposited in the public employees' retirement fund.

In line 1 of the title, after "adjustments," strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 41.32.485 and 41.40.198; adding a new section to chapter 43.88 RCW; making an appropriation; and providing an effective date."

and the same is herewith transmitted.

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 50. A new section is added to chapter 85.38 RCW to read as follows:

Special districts shall have authority to enter into contracts for the construction of any improvement authorized by law, or for labor, materials, or equipment entering therein, without public bidding, with the written approval and consent of the governing body in instances of genuine emergency to be declared by the governing body or in any instance where the contract price does not exceed ten thousand dollars.

Any proposed improvement or part thereof, not exceeding five thousand dollars in cost, may be constructed by district employees: PROVIDED, That this shall not restrict a special district from using volunteer labor and equipment on improvements, and providing reimbursement for actual expenses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 51. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

(1) Section 62, chapter 72, Laws of 1937, section 10, chapter 104, Laws of 1982, section 56, chapter 396, Laws of 1985 and RCW 86.09.184; and

Sec. 52. Section 51, chapter 72, Laws of 1937 and RCW 86.09.151 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Said flood control districts shall have full authority to carry out the objects of their creation and to that end are authorized to acquire, purchase, hold, lease, manage, improve, repair, occupy, and sell real and personal property or any interest therein, either inside or outside the boundaries of the district, to enter into and perform any and all necessary contracts, to appoint and employ the necessary officers, agents and employees, to sue and be sued, to exercise the right of eminent domain, to levy and enforce the collection of special assessments and in the manner herein provided against the lands within the district, for district revenues, and to do any and all lawful acts required and expedient to carry out the purpose of this chapter.

(2) In addition to the powers conferred in this chapter and those in chapter 85.38 RCW, flood control districts may engage in activities authorized under RCW 36.61.020 for lake management districts using procedures granted in this chapter and in chapter 85.38 RCW.

The definitions set forth in this section apply to sections 54 and 55 of this act.

(1) 'State highway right of way' means the right of way for a state highway. The phrase includes the right of way of a state limited-access highway inside or outside a city or town but does not include city or town streets forming a part of the route of state highways that are not limited-access highways. The term does not include state property under the jurisdiction of the department of transportation that is outside the right of way lines of a state highway.

(2) 'Storm water control facility' means any facility, improvement, development, property, or interest therein, made, constructed, or acquired for the purpose of controlling, or protecting life or property from, any storm, flood, or surplus waters.

(3) 'Rate' means the dollar amount charged per unit of surface area of a parcel of real property based upon factors established by the local government utility.

(4) 'Comparable real property' means real property equal to the state highway right of way or a section of state highway right of way in terms of the factors considered by the local government utility in establishing rates.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 54. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:

The rate charged by a local government utility to the department of transportation with respect to state highway right of way or any section of state highway right of way for the construction, operation, and maintenance of storm water control facilities under chapters 35.67, 35.92, 36.89, 36.94, 56.08, and 86.15 RCW, shall be thirty percent of the rate for comparable real property, except as otherwise provided in this section. The rate charged to the department with respect to state highway right of way or any section of state highway right of way within a local government utility's jurisdiction shall not, however, exceed the rate charged for comparable city street or county road right of way within the same jurisdiction. The legislature finds that the aforesaid rates are presumptively fair and equitable because of the traditional and continuing expenditures of the department of transportation for the construction, operation, and maintenance of storm water control facilities designed to control surface water or storm water runoff from state highway rights of way. The utility imposing the charge and the department of transportation may, however, agree to either higher or lower rates with respect to the construction, operation, or maintenance of any specific storm water control facilities based upon the extent and adequacy of storm water control facilities constructed by the department and upon the actual benefits to state highway rights of way from the storm water control facilities constructed by the local government utility. If a different rate is agreed to, a report so stating shall be submitted to the legislative transportation committee. If the local government utility and the department of transportation cannot agree upon the proper rate, and after a report has been submitted to the legislative transportation committee and after ninety days from submission of such report, either may commence an action in the superior court for the county in which the state highway right of way is located to establish the proper rate. The court in establishing the proper rate shall take into account the extent and adequacy of storm water control facilities constructed by the department and the actual benefits to the sections of state highway rights of way from storm water control facilities constructed, operated, and maintained by the local government utility. Control of surface water runoff and storm water runoff from state highway rights of way shall be deemed an actual benefit to the state highway rights of way. The rate for sections of state highway right of way as determined by the court shall be set forth in terms of the percentage of the rate for comparable real property, but shall in no event exceed the rate charged for comparable city street or county road right of way within the same jurisdiction.

Sec. 55. Section 1, chapter 315, Laws of 1983 and RCW 35.67.025 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided in section 54 of this 1986 act, any public entity and public property, including the state of Washington and state property, shall be subject to rates and charges for storm water control facilities to the same extent private persons and private property are subject to such rates and charges that are imposed by cities and towns pursuant to RCW 35.67.020. In setting these rates and charges, consideration may be made of inkind serdices, such as stream improvements or donation of property.

Sec. 56. Section 2, chapter 315, Laws of 1983 and RCW 35.92.021 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided in section 54 of this 1986 act, any public entity and public property, including the state of Washington and state property, shall be subject to rates and charges for storm water control facilities to the same extent private persons and private property are subject to such rates and charges that are imposed by cities and towns pursuant to RCW 35.92.020. In setting these rates and charges, consideration may be made of inkind serdices, such as stream improvements or donation of property.

Sec. 57. Section 3, chapter 315, Laws of 1983 and RCW 36.89.085 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided in section 54 of this 1986 act, any public entity and public property, including the state of Washington and state property, shall be subject to rates and charges for storm water control facilities to the same extent private persons and private property are subject to such rates and charges that are imposed by counties pursuant to RCW 36.89.080. In setting these rates and charges, consideration may be made of inkind services, such as stream improvements or donation of property.

Sec. 58. Section 4, chapter 315, Laws of 1983 and RCW 36.94.145 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided in section 54 of this 1986 act, any public entity and public property, including the state of Washington and state property, shall be subject to rates and charges for storm water control facilities to the same extent private persons and private property are subject to such rates and charges that are imposed by counties pursuant to RCW 36.94.140. In setting these rates and charges, consideration may be made of inkind services, such as stream improvements or donation of property.

Sec. 59. Section 5, chapter 315, Laws of 1983 and RCW 56.08.012 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided in section 54 of this 1986 act, any public entity and public property, including the state of Washington and state property, shall be subject to rates and charges for storm water control facilities to the same extent private persons and private property are subject to such rates and charges that are imposed by sewer districts pursuant to RCW 56.08.010 or 56.16.090. In setting these rates and charges, consideration may be made of inkind services, such as stream improvements or donation of property.

Sec. 60. Section 16, chapter 153, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 19, chapter 315,
Laws of 1983 and RCW 86.15.160 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purposes of this chapter the supervisors may authorize:

(1) An annual excess ad valorem tax levy within any zone or participating zones when authorized by the voters of the zone or participating zones under RCW 84.52.052 and 84.52.054:

(2) An assessment upon property, including state property, specially benefited by flood control improvements or storm water control improvements imposed under chapter 86.09 RCW;

(3) Within any zone or participating zones an annual ad valorem property tax levy of not to exceed fifty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value when the levy will not take dollar rates that other taxing districts may lawfully claim and that will not cause the combined levies to exceed the constitutional and/or statutory limitations, and the additional levy, or any portion thereof, may also be made when dollar rates of other taxing units is released therefor by agreement with the other taxing units from their authorized levies:

(4) A charge, under RCW 36.89.080, for the furnishing of service to those who are receiving or will receive benefits from storm water control facilities and who are contributing to an increase in surface water runoff. Except as otherwise provided in section 54 of this 1986 act, any public entity and public property, including the state and state property, shall be liable for the charges to the same extent a private person and privately owned property is liable for the charges, and in setting these rates and charges, consideration may be made of inkind services, such as stream improvements or donation of property:

(5) The creation of local improvement districts and utility local improvement districts, the issuance of improvement district bonds and warrants, and the imposition, collection, and enforcement of special assessments on all property, including any state-owned or other publicly-licensed property, specially benefited from improvements in the same manner as provided for counties by chapter 36.74 RCW.

Sec. 61. Section 7, chapter 136, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as amended by section 22, chapter 315, Laws of 1983 and RCW 86.15.176 are each amended to read as follows:

The supervisors may provide by resolution for revenues by fixing rates and charges for the furnishing of service to those served (including public entities) or receiving benefits from a flood control improvement (including public entities, except as otherwise provided in section 54 of this 1986 act. The service charge shall be uniform for the same class of benefits or service. In classifying services furnished or benefits received the board may in its discretion consider the character and use of land and its water runoff characteristics and any other matters that present a reasonable difference as a ground for distinction. Service charges shall be applicable to a zone or participating zones. The disposal of all revenue from service charges shall be in accordance with RCW 86.15.130.

Sec. 62. Section 8, chapter 315, Laws of 1983 and RCW 90.03.500 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that increasing the surface water or storm water accumulation on or flow over real property, beyond that which naturally occurs on the real property, may cause severe damage to the real property and limit the gainful use or enjoyment of the real property, resulting in a tort, nuisance, or taking. The damage can arise from activities increasing the point or nonpoint flow of surface water or storm water over the real property, or altering or interrupting the natural drainage from the real property. The legislature finds that it is in the public interest to permit the construction and operation of public improvements to lessen the damage. The legislature further finds that it is in the public interest to provide for the equitable imposition of special assessments, rates, and charges to fund such improvements. This shall include the imposition of special assessments, rates, and charges on real property to fund that reasonable portion of the public improvements that alleviate the damage arising from activities that are the proximate cause of the damage on other real property. Except as otherwise provided in section 54 of this 1986 act, these special assessments, rates, and charges may be imposed on any publicly-owned, including state-owned, real property that causes such damage.

Sec. 63. Section 9, chapter 315, Laws of 1983 and RCW 90.03.510 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever a county, city, town, sewer district, or flood control zone district imposes rates or charges to fund storm water control facilities or improvements and the operation and maintenance of such facilities or improvements under RCW 35.67.020, 35.92.020, 36.89.080, 36.94.140, 56.08.010, or 56.16.090, it (shall) may provide a credit for the value of storm water control facilities or improvements that a person or entity has installed or located that mitigate or lessen the impact of storm water which otherwise would occur.

Sec. 64. Section 84.64.050, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 2, chapter 179, Laws of 1984 and by section 19, chapter 220, Laws of 1984 and RCW 84.64.050 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

After the expiration of three years from the date of delinquency, when any property remains on the tax rolls for which no certificate of delinquency has been issued, the county treasurer shall proceed to issue certificates of delinquency on said property to the county for all years' taxes, interest, and costs: PROVIDED, That the county treasurer, with the consent of the county legislative authority, may elect to issue a certificate for fewer than all years' taxes, interest, and costs to a minimum of the taxes, interest, and costs for the earliest year.

The county treasurer may include in the certificate of delinquency any assessments which are due on the property and are the responsibility of the county treasurer to collect. For purposes of this chapter, 'taxes, interest, and costs' include any assessments which are so included by the county treasurer.

The change to a three-year grace period shall first be effective on May 1, 1983. Prior to that date, the county treasurer shall send a notice to all taxpayers with taxes delinquent for two years or more, notifying them of the change in the grace period. The treasurer shall file said certificates when completed with the clerk of the court, and the treasurer shall thereupon, with such legal assistance as the county legislative authority shall provide in counties having a population of thirty thousand or more, and with the assistance of the county prosecuting attorney in counties having a population of less than thirty thousand, proceed to foreclose in the name of the county, the tax liens embraced in such certificates, and the same proceedings shall be had as when held by an individual: PROVIDED, That notice and summons must be served or notice given in a manner reasonably calculated to inform the owner or owners, and any person having a recorded interest in or lien of record upon the property, of the foreclosure action. Either (1) personal service upon the owner or owners and any person having a recorded interest in or lien of record upon the property, or (2) publication once in a newspaper of general circulation, which is circulated in the area of the property and mailing of notice by certified mail to the owner or owners and any person having a recorded interest in or lien of record upon the property, or, if a mailing address is unavailable, personal service upon the occupant of the property, if any, is sufficient. In addition to describing the property as the same is described on the tax rolls, the notice must include the local street address, if any. It shall be the duty of the county treasurer to mail a copy of the published summons, within fifteen days after the first publication thereof, to the treasurer of each city or town within which any property involved in a tax foreclosure is situated, but the treasurer’s failure to do so shall not affect the jurisdiction of the court nor the priority of any tax sought to be foreclosed. Said certificates of delinquency issued to the county may be issued in one general certificate in book form including all property, and the proceedings to foreclose the liens against said property may be brought in one action and all persons interested in any of the property involved in said proceedings may be made codefendants in said action, and if unknown may be therein named as unknown owners. and the publication of such notice shall be sufficient service thereof on all persons interested in the property described therein, except as provided above. The person or persons whose name or names appear on the treasurer’s rolls as the owner or owners of said property shall be considered and treated as the owner or owners of said property for the purpose of this section, and if upon said treasurer’s rolls it appears that the owner or owners of said property are unknown, then said property shall be proceeded against, as belonging to an unknown owner or owners, as the case may be, and all persons owning or claiming to own, or having or claiming to have an interest therein, are hereby required to take notice of said proceedings and of all and any steps thereunder. PROVIDED, That (at least thirty days) prior to the sale of the property, if such property is shown on the tax rolls under unknown owners or as having an assessed value of three thousand dollars or more, the treasurer shall order or conduct a title search of the property to be sold to determine the legal description of the property to be sold and the record title holder, and if the record title holder or holders differ from the person or persons whose name or names appear on the treasurer’s rolls as the owner or owners, the record title holder or holders shall be considered and treated as the owner or owners of said property for the purpose of this section, and shall be entitled to the notice provided for in this section.

The county treasurer shall not issue certificates of delinquency upon property which is eligible for delinquency taxes under chapter 84.38 RCW but shall require the owner of the property to file a declaration to defer taxes under chapter 84.38 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 65. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

MOTION

On motion of Ms. Haugen, the House adopted the report of the Free Conference Committee on Substitute Senate Bill No. 4486.
FIFTY-EIGHTH DAY, MARCH 11, 1986

FINAL PASSAGE OF SENATE BILL AS AMENDED BY FREE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4486 as amended by Free Conference Committee.

Representatives Haugen, Betrozoff, Hankins, Brough and Appelwick spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Isaacson: "Mr. Speaker, oftentimes I have a little red book here on my desk that I kind of thumb through from time to time, and I would like to ask a question: In Article II, section 19, it says, 'No bill shall embrace more than one subject, and that shall be expressed in the title.' I am wondering if this bill fits that requirement?"

The Speaker: "Reed’s Rule 161 speaks to the incompatibility or the inconsistency of amendments and, also, the question of unconstitutionality is not for the Speaker to decide. Incompatibility, inconsistency and constitutionality are matters of argument. So, Representative Isaacson, I’m not going to comment on this."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4486 as amended by Free Conference Committee, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 96: excused, 2.

Substitute Senate Bill No. 4486 as amended by Free Conference Committee, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

REPORT OF FREE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

March 11, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Free Conference Committee to whom was referred ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 4738, revising provisions relating to juvenile offenders, have had the same under consideration, and we recommend that the bill be amended as follows and the amended bill do pass:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 19, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 as last amended by section 7, chapter 257, Laws of 1985 and RCW 13.32A.050 are each amended to read as follows:

A law enforcement officer shall take a child into custody:

1. If a law enforcement agency has been contacted by the parent of the child that the child is absent from parental custody without consent: or

2. If a law enforcement officer reasonably believes, considering the child's age, the location, and the time of day, that a child is in circumstances which constitute a danger to the child's (physical) safety: or

3. If an agency legally charged with the supervision of a child has notified a law enforcement agency that the child has run away from placement: or

4. If a law enforcement agency has been notified by the juvenile court that the court finds probable cause exists to believe that the child has violated a court placement order issued pursuant to chapter 13.32A RCW.

Law enforcement custody shall not extend beyond the amount of time reasonably necessary to transport the child to a destination authorized by law and to place the child at that destination.

An officer who takes a child into custody under this section and places the child in a designated crisis residential center shall inform the department of such placement within twenty-four hours.

5. Nothing in this section affects the authority of any political subdivision to make regulations concerning the conduct of minors in public places by ordinance or other local law.

Sec. 2. Section 21, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 as amended by section 5, chapter 298, Laws of 1981 and RCW 13.32A.070 are each amended to read as follows:

1. An officer taking a child into custody under RCW 13.32A.050 may, at his or her discretion, transport the child to the home of a responsible adult who is other than the child's parent where the officer reasonably believes that the child will be provided with adequate care and supervision and that the child will remain in the custody of such adult until such time as the department can bring about the child's return home or an alternative residential placement can be agreed to or determined pursuant to this chapter. An officer placing a child with a responsible adult other than his or her parent shall immediately notify the department's local community service office of this fact and of the reason for taking the child into custody.

2. A law enforcement officer acting reasonably and in good faith pursuant to this chapter in failing to take a child into custody, in taking a child into custody, or in releasing a child to a person other than a parent of such child is immune from civil or criminal liability for such action.

3. A person other than a parent of such child who receives a child pursuant to this chapter and who acts reasonably and in good faith in doing so is immune from civil or criminal liability for the act of receiving such child. Such immunity does not release such person from liability under any other law including the laws regulating licensed child care and prohibiting child abuse.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There shall be created a joint select legislative committee to review the implementation and administration of:

1. Chapter 13.04 RCW, the basic juvenile court act;

2. Chapter 13.32A RCW, procedures for families in conflict generally, and specifically review the alternative residential placement process and the advisability of granting the juvenile court jurisdiction to make in-house placements. The committee shall consider the establishment of a residential school to address the needs of children who, pursuant to law, may be ordered into an alternative residential placement. A residential school may be funded and operated, in whole or in part by private contributions;

3. Chapter 13.34 RCW, the juvenile court act relating to dependency of a child and the termination of a parent and child relationship; and

4. Chapter 74.13 RCW, child welfare services.
The joint select legislative committee shall be composed of bipartisan members of the house and senate judiciary committee to be selected at the discretion of the committee chairpersons.

The committee established under this section shall meet and conduct hearings as often as is necessary to carry out its responsibilities under this chapter.

In reviewing the implementation and administration of chapters 13.04, 13.32A, 13.34, and 74.13 RCW the joint select legislative committee may inquire into instances where it is alleged that a law enforcement officer, school employee, department employee, judge, or juvenile court employee has either misrepresented a provision of the cited chapters or has failed to follow any such provision.

The joint select legislative committee shall be granted access to all relevant information necessary to monitor behavior of agencies and/or employees: PROVIDED, That any confidential information shall be kept confidential by members of the committee and shall not be further disseminated unless specifically authorized by state or federal law.

The joint select legislative committee shall report its findings and make recommendations regarding implementation of the chapters cited in this section in a report submitted to the legislature before the 1988 regular session of the legislature.

The joint select legislative committee, unless recreated by the legislature, shall cease to exist after submitting the report required under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The legislature finds that there is evidence of failure to implement and enforce juvenile justice laws. This failure may be due to a number of factors, including, but not necessarily limited to, resource limitations within the various units of government charged with responsibility for such implementation and enforcement.

Therefore, commencing with the effective date of this act, and continuing through such time as further legislative direction is enacted into law, any person legally responsible for implementation or enforcement of any provision of chapter 13.04, 13.32A, 13.34, or 74.13 RCW who is unable to implement or enforce any such provision shall file a report on the situation as soon as possible with the oversight committee created under section 3 of this act or, if the oversight committee has ceased to exist, to the judiciary committees of the house of representatives and the senate. Any such report shall include a documented description of the situation and the reason or reasons for failure to implement or enforce the provision in question.

Nothing contained in this section is intended to limit criminal or civil liability or to protect any employee against possible disciplinary action for failure to perform his or her duties.

Sec. 5. Section 74, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 15, chapter 191, Laws of 1983 and RCW 13.40.200 are hereby amended to read as follows:

(1) When a respondent fails to comply with an order of restitution, community supervision, penalty assessments, or confinement of less than thirty days, the court upon motion of the prosecutor or its own motion, may modify the order after a hearing on the violation.

(2) The hearing shall afford the respondent the same due process of law as would be afforded an adult probationer. The court may issue a summons or a warrant to compel the respondent’s appearance. The state shall have the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence the fact of the violation. The respondent shall have the burden of showing that the violation was not a willful refusal to comply with the terms of the order. If a respondent has failed to pay a fine, penalty assessments, or restitution or to perform community service hours, as required by the court, it shall be the respondent’s burden to show that he or she did not have the means and could not reasonably have acquired the means to pay the fine, penalty assessments, or restitution or perform community service.

(3) (a) If the court finds that a respondent has wilfully violated the terms of an order pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) of this section, it may impose a penalty of up to thirty days’ confinement. Penalties for multiple violations occurring prior to the hearing shall not be aggregated to exceed thirty days’ confinement. Regardless of the number of times a respondent is brought to court for violations of the terms of a single disposition order, the combined total number of days spent by the respondent in detention shall never exceed the maximum term to which an adult could be sentenced for the underlying offense.

(b) If the violation of the terms of the order under (a) of this subsection is failure to pay fines, penalty assessments, complete community service, or make restitution, the term of confinement imposed under (a) of this subsection shall be assessed at a rate of one day of confinement for each twenty-five dollars or eight hours owed.

(4) If a respondent has been ordered to pay a fine or monetary penalty and due to a change of circumstance cannot reasonably comply with the order, the court, upon motion of the respondent, may order that the unpaid fine or monetary penalty be converted to community service. The number of hours of community service in lieu of a monetary penalty or fine shall be converted at the rate of the prevailing state minimum wage per hour. The monetary penalties or fines collected shall be deposited in the county general fund. A failure to comply with an order under this subsection shall be deemed a failure to comply with an order of community supervision and may be proceeded against as provided in this section.

Sec. 6. Section 1, chapter 170, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 17, chapter 191, Laws of 1983 and RCW 13.40.300 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) In no case may a juvenile offender be committed by the juvenile court to the department of social and health services for placement in a juvenile correctional institution beyond the juvenile offender's twenty-first birthday. A juvenile may be under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court or the authority of the department of social and health services beyond the juvenile's eighteenth birthday only if prior to the juvenile's eighteenth birthday:

(a) ((The juvenile court has committed the juvenile offender to the department of social and health services for a sentence consisting of the standard range of disposition for the offense and the sentence includes a period beyond the juvenile offender's eighteenth birthday; or

(b) The juvenile court has committed the juvenile offender to the department of social and health services for a sentence outside the standard range of disposition for the offense and the sentence includes a period beyond the juvenile's eighteenth birthday and the court by written order setting forth its reasons extends jurisdiction of juvenile court over the juvenile offender for that period; or

(c)) Proceedings are pending seeking the adjudication of a juvenile offense ((for seeking a disposition order or the enforcement of such an order)) and the court by written order setting forth its reasons extends jurisdiction of juvenile court over the juvenile beyond his or her eighteenth birthday;

(b) The juvenile has been found guilty after a fact finding or after a plea of guilty and an automatic extension is necessary to allow for the imposition of disposition; or

(c) Disposition has been held and an automatic extension is necessary to allow for the execution and enforcement of the court's order of disposition. If an order of disposition imposes commitment to the department, then jurisdiction is automatically extended to include a period of up to twelve months of parole, in no case extending beyond the offender's twenty-first birthday.

(2) If the juvenile court previously has extended jurisdiction beyond the juvenile offender's eighteenth birthday and that period of extension has not expired, the court may further extend jurisdiction by written order setting forth its reasons.

(3) In no event may the juvenile court have authority to extend jurisdiction over any juvenile offender beyond the juvenile offender's twenty-first birthday.

(4) Notwithstanding any extension of jurisdiction over a person pursuant to this section, the juvenile court has no jurisdiction over any offenses alleged to have been committed by a person eighteen years of age or older.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. There is established a juvenile disposition standards commission to propose disposition standards to the legislature in accordance with RCW 13.40.030 and perform the other responsibilities set forth in this chapter.

The commission shall be composed of the secretary or the secretary's designee and the following ((eight)) nine members appointed by the governor, subject to confirmation by the senate: (a) A superior court judge; (b) a prosecuting attorney or deputy prosecuting attorney; (c) a law enforcement officer; (d) an administrator of juvenile court services; (e) a public defender actively practicing in juvenile court; (f) a county legislative official or county executive; and (g) three other persons who have demonstrated significant interest in the adjudication and disposition of juvenile offenders. In making the appointments, the governor shall seek the recommendations of the association of superior court judges in respect to the member who is a superior court judge; of Washington prosecutors in respect to the prosecuting attorney or deputy prosecuting attorney member; of the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs in respect to the member who is a law enforcement officer; of juvenile court administrators in respect to the member who is a juvenile court administrator; and of the state bar association in respect to the public defender member; and of the Washington association of counties in respect to the member who is either a county legislative official or county executive.

(2) The secretary or the secretary's designee shall serve as chairman of the commission.

(3) The secretary shall serve on the commission during the secretary's tenure as secretary of the department. The term of the remaining members of the commission shall be three years. The initial terms shall be determined by lot conducted at the commission's first meeting as follows: (a) Four members shall serve a two-year term; and (b) four members shall serve a three-year term. In the event of a vacancy, the appointing authority shall designate a new member to complete the remainder of the unexpired term.

(5) Commission members shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060. Members shall be compensated in accordance with RCW 43.03.240.

(6) ((The commission's first meeting shall be held prior to January 1, 1982. Thereafter:)) The commission shall meet at least once every ((six)) three months.

Sec. 9. Section 4, chapter 299, Laws of 1981 and RCW 13.40.027 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) It is the responsibility of the commission to: (a) (i) Evaluate the effectiveness of existing disposition standards and related statutes in implementing policies set forth in RCW 13.40.010 generally and (ii) specifically review the guidelines relating to the confinement of minor and first offenders as well as the use of diversion. The committee shall propose modifications to the legislature regarding subsection (1)(a)(ii) of this section by January 1, 1987; (b) solicit the comments and suggestions of the juvenile justice community concerning disposition standards; and (c) develop and propose to the legislature modifications of the disposition standards in accordance with RCW 13.40.030.

(2) It is the responsibility of the department to: (a) Provide the commission with available data concerning the implementation of the disposition standards and related statutes and their effect on the performance of the department’s responsibilities relating to juvenile offenders; (b) at the request of the commission, provide technical and administrative assistance to the commission in the performance of its responsibilities; and (c) provide the commission with recommendations for modification of the disposition standards.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 13.40 RCW to read as follows:

The commission, in cooperation and consultation with the judiciary committees of the senate and house of representatives, shall propose to the legislature state-wide standards by November 1, 1987, on the following subjects:

(1) The detention intake procedures used and decisions made to release or detain youth in juvenile detention facilities;
(2) The use of punishment, security, and control mechanisms such as isolation, restraints, program restrictions, and the procedures required for their use;

The state board of pharmacy may make such rules for the enforcement and administration of this chapter as are deemed necessary or advisable. The board shall identity, by rule-making pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, those drugs which may be dispensed only on prescription or are restricted to use by practitioners. Only in so doing the board shall consider the toxicity or other potentiality for harmful effect of the drug, the method of its use, and any collateral safeguards necessary to its use. The board shall classify a drug as a legend drug where these considerations indicate the drug is not safe for use except under the supervision of a practitioner.

In identifying legend drugs the board may incorporate in its rules lists of drugs contained in commercial pharmaceutical publications by making specific reference to each such list and the date and edition of the commercial publication containing it. Any such lists so incorporated shall be available for public inspection at the headquarters of the ((state board of pharmacy)) department of licensing and shall be available on request from the ((board)) department of licensing upon payment of a reasonable fee to be set by the ((board)) department of licensing.

4. the history and current pattern of abuse;
5. the scope, duration, and significance of abuse;

(c) If the board designates a substance as an immediate precursor, substances which are precursors of the controlled precursor shall not be subject to control solely because they are precursors of the controlled precursor.
(d) If any substance is designated, rescheduled, or deleted as a controlled substance under federal law and notice thereof is given to the board, the substance shall be similarly controlled under this chapter after the expiration of thirty days from publication in the Federal Register of a final order designating a substance as a controlled substance or rescheduling or deleting a substance, unless within that thirty day period, the board objects to inclusion, rescheduling, or deletion. In that case, the board shall proceed pursuant to the rule-making procedures of chapter 34.04 RCW.

(e) Authority to control under this section does not extend to distilled spirits, wine, malt beverages, or tobacco as those terms are defined or used in Title 66 RCW and Title 26 RCW.

(1) Every person who manufactures, prescribes, distributes, or dispenses any controlled substance within this state or who proposes to engage in the manufacture, prescription, distribution, or dispensing of any controlled substance within this state, including agents or employees of manufacturers or distributors distributing samples of controlled substances to practitioners must obtain annually a registration issued by the (state board of pharmacy) department in accordance with the board's rules.

3. an ultimate user or a person in possession of any controlled substance pursuant to a lawful order of a practitioner or in lawful possession of a Schedule V substance.

(f) The department may inspect the establishment of a registrant or applicant for registration in accordance with the board's rule.

2. compliance with applicable state and local law:

3. any convictions of the applicant under any federal and state laws relating to any controlled substance:

(b) Registration under subsection (a) does not entitle a registrant to manufacture and distribute controlled substances in Schedule I or II other than those specified in the registration.

(c) Practitioners must be registered, or exempted under RCW 69.50.302(d), to dispense any controlled substances or to conduct research with controlled substances in Schedules II through V if they are authorized to dispense or conduct research under the law of this state. The board need not require separate registration under this Article for practitioners engaging in research with nonnarcotic controlled substances in Schedules II through V where the registrant is already registered under this Article in another capacity. Practitioners registered under federal law to conduct research with Schedule I substances may conduct research with Schedule I substances within this state upon furnishing the board evidence of that federal registration.

(d) Compliance by manufacturers and distributors with the provisions of the federal law respecting registration entitles them to be registered under this chapter upon application and payment of the required fee.

(c) If the board suspends or revokes a registration, all controlled substances owned or possessed by the registrant at the time of suspension or the effective date of the revocation order may be placed under seal. No disposition may be made of substances under seal until the time for taking an appeal has elapsed or until all appeals have been concluded unless a court, upon application therefor, orders the sale of perishable substances and the deposit of the proceeds of the sale with the court. Upon a revocation order becoming final, all controlled substances may be forfeited to the state.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE
March 10, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has adopted the report of the Conference Committee on ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2021, and has granted said committee the powers of Free Conference, and the report of the Conference Committee is here-with transmitted.

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE
March 10, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Conference Committee, to whom was referred ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2021, creating Washington health care project commission, have had the same under consideration, and we report that we are unable to agree and we respectfully request the powers of Free Conference in order to amend the bill.

Signed by Senators McDermott, Talmadge; Representatives J. King, Brekke.

MOTION

Mr. J. King moved that the House adopt the report of the Conference Committee on Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2021 and grant the committee powers of Free Conference.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Barrett: "Mr. Speaker, I challenge the scope and object of this conference report and ask the Speaker for a ruling."

SPEAKER’S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative Barrett, regarding your point of order on Engrossed Substitute House Bill 2021, under Rule 8 of our Joint Rules, a Free Conference report may include new proposed items within the scope and object of the title of the bill in conference. The Speaker has examined the bill and the report of the Free Conference Committee. The bill is entitled 'An Act Relating to managed health care...'. The original bill establishes a new program to enroll public assistance recipients in managed health care systems. The items proposed in the Free Conference report expand the bill to include a program for managed health care for low-income persons not eligible for public assistance, a dedicated tax source to fund this program and a study of the problems of health care. The Speaker finds the provisions of the Free Conference report relate to the subject of managed health care and are therefore within the scope and object of the bill. Your point is not well taken."

Mr. Vander Stoep spoke against the motion and Mr. J. King spoke in favor of it. The motion was lost.
MOTION

Mr. J. King moved that the House ask the Senate for a further conference on Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2021.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. G. Nelson: "Mr. Speaker, would you provide the House a reference as to the motion that has been made as to whether or not it is a motion that is privileged or to what extent this motion is proper in now accepting or asking for a conference?"

The Speaker: "Other than the fact that in the last twenty-four hours or so we have already done it three times. Reed's Rule 224, the last sentence reads: 'If not agreed to by either House, the only method of renewing the question is by a further conference or by one House receding and concurring with the other.' We have done this in the past."

The motion was carried.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFEREES

The Speaker appointed Representatives J. King, Brekke and Ballard as conferees on Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2021.

The House advanced to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING

On motion of Mr. J. King, the Rules Committee was relieved of HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 22 and it was ordered placed at the top of the second reading calendar.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 22, by Representatives Wang, Barrett, Brekke and Jacobsen; by request of Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped

Creating a joint select committee on disability employment and economic participation.

The resolution was read the second time. On motion of Mr. Appelwick, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Free Conference Committee, to whom was referred HOUSE BILL NO. 1631, modifying provisions relating to nursing home cost reimbursement, have had the same under consideration, and we recommend that the bill be amended as follows and the amended bill do pass:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

(1) The depreciation base shall be the historical cost of the contractor or lessor, when the assets are leased by the contractor, in acquiring the asset in an arm's-length transaction and preparing it for use, less goodwill, and less accumulated depreciation which has been incurred during periods that the assets have been used in or as a facility by the contractor, such accumulated depreciation to be measured in accordance with subsections (2), (3), and (4) of this section and RCW 74.46.350 and 74.46.370. If the department challenges the historical cost of an asset, or if the contractor cannot or will not provide the historical costs, the department will have the department of general administration, through an appraisal procedure, determine the fair market value of the assets at the time of purchase. The depreciation base of the asset will not exceed such fair market value.

(2) The historical cost of donated assets, or of assets received through testate or intestate distribution, shall be the lesser of:

(a) Fair market value at the date of donation or death; or

The new depreciation base for such acquisitions shall not exceed the fair market value of the assets as determined by the department of general administration through an appraisal procedure. A determination by the department of general administration of fair market value shall be final unless the procedure used to make such determination is shown to be arbitrary and capricious. This subsection is inoperative for any transfer of ownership of any asset occurring on or after July 18, 1984, leaving (a) of this subsection to apply alone to such transfers: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That this subsection shall apply to transfers of ownership of assets occurring prior to January 1, 1985, if the costs of such assets have never been reimbursed under medicaid cost reimbursement on an owner-operated basis or as a related-party lease.

(2) 'Person' shall have the meaning given in RCW 82.04.030 or any later, superseding section.

(3) 'Waste' means garbage, trash, rubbish, or other material discarded as worthless or not economically viable for further use. The term does not include hazardous or toxic waste nor does it include material collected primarily for recycling or salvage.

(4) 'Taxpayer' means that person upon whom the refuse collection tax is imposed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. There is imposed on each person using the services of a refuse collection business a refuse collection tax equal to three and six-tenths percent of the consideration charged for the services.

If any person charged with collecting the tax fails to bill the taxpayer for the tax, or in the alternative has not notified the taxpayer in writing of the imposition of the tax, or having collected the tax, fails to pay it to the department in the manner prescribed by this chapter, whether such failure is the result of the person's own acts or the result of acts or conditions beyond the person's control, he or she shall, nevertheless, be personally liable to the state for the amount of the tax.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Taxes collected under this chapter shall be held in trust until paid to the state. Taxes so received by the state shall be deposited in the public works assistance account created in RCW 43.155.050. The tax shall be due from the taxpayer within twenty-five days from the date the taxpayer is billed by the person collecting the tax.

The tax shall be due from the person collecting the tax at the end of the tax period in which the tax is received from the taxpayer. If the taxpayer remits only a portion of the total amount billed for taxes, consideration, and related charges, the amount remitted shall be applied first to payment of the refuse collection tax and this tax shall have priority over all other claims to the amount remitted.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The refuse collection tax shall not apply to any agency, division, or branch of the federal government or to services rendered under a contract therewith.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. To prevent pyramiding and multiple taxation of a single transaction, this tax shall not apply to any refuse collection business using the services of another refuse collection business for the transfer, storage, or disposal of the waste collected during the transaction.

To be eligible for this exemption, a person first must be certified by the department of revenue as a refuse collection business.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The department of revenue shall have the power to enforce the tax imposed in this chapter through appropriate rules.

The notice shall state (a) the general scope and nature of the systems and plants, for which the services are required, (b) the name and address of the representative of the city or town who can provide further details, and (c) the final date for the submission of qualifications.

(3) If the legislative authority of the city or town decides to proceed with the construction of a resource recovery facility or one or more of the services to be provided for such a facility, it may designate a representative to evaluate the vendor's qualifications and conduct discussions regarding proposals with one or more vendors. The representative shall provide the legislative authority with a written report concerning the results of the discussions. If the legislative authority decides to continue the process of selection, negotiations shall continue in accordance with this section at the sole discretion of the legislative authority until an agreement is reached.

(4) Prior to entering into such a contract with a vendor, the legislative authority of the city or town must have made written findings, after holding a public hearing on the proposal, that it is in the public interest to enter into the contract and that the contract is financially sound and advantageous compared to other methods.

(5) Each contract shall include project performance bonds or other security by the vendor in the judgment of the legislative authority of the city or town is sufficient to secure adequate performance by the vendor.

(6) The provisions of chapters 39.12, 39.19, and 39.25 RCW shall apply to a contract entered into under this section to the same extent as if the systems and plants were owned by a public body.

There shall be included in the contract specific allocation of financial responsibility in cases where the amount of solid waste handled during the contract period falls below the minimum level provided in the contract.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A new section is added to chapter 36.58 RCW to read as follows:

conduct discussions regarding proposals with one or more vendors. The representative of the legislative authority shall recommend to the legislative authority a vendor, based upon criteria established by the county, which shall not be determined solely by price but by all terms of the contract, who is initially determined to be the best qualified to provide one or more of the ser-two vendors shall be interviewed. One or more vendors may be interviewed and selected to provide services. The legislative authority or its representative shall attempt to negotiate a contract with the first vendor selected for one or more of the construction, design, or operation portions of the proposed project at a price and on other terms that the legislative authority determines to be fair and reasonable and in the best interest of the county. Only the legislative authority may approve and sign the contract: PROVIDED, That where a contract for design is entered into separately from other services permitted under this act, procurement shall be in accord with chapter 39.80 RCW. If the legislative authority or its representative is unable to negotiate such a contract with the first vendor selected on terms that it determines to be fair and reasonable and in the best interest of the county, negotiations with that vendor shall be formally terminated and other vendors may be selected in accordance with the procedures set forth above. If the legislative authority decides to continue the process of selection, negotia-

(4) Prior to entering into such a contract with a vendor, the legislative authority of the county must have made written findings, after holding a public hearing on the proposal, that it is in the public interest to enter into the contract and that the contract is financially sound and advantageous compared to other methods.

(5) Each contract shall include project performance bonds or other security by the vendor which in the judgment of the legislative authority of the county is sufficient to secure adequate performance by the vendor.

(6) The provisions of chapters 39.12, 39.19, and 39.25 RCW shall apply to a contract entered into under this section to the same extent as if the systems and plants were owned by a public body.

amended to read as follows:

enter into agreements with public or private parties providing for the construction, purchase, are in substantial compliance with the solid waste management plans prepared pursuant to chapter 70.95 RCW.

The legislative authority of a county may award contracts for solid waste handling, and such contracts may provide that a county pay a minimum periodic fee in consideration of the operational availability of a solid waste handling system or plant, without regard to the ownership of the system or plant or the amount of solid waste actually handled during all or any part of the contractual period. There shall be included in the contract specific allocation of financial responsibility in cases where the amount of solid waste handled during the contract period falls below the minimum level provided in the contract.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the operation of a solid waste collection system by counties.

March 11, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has adopted the report of the Free Conference Committee on ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1754, and has passed the bill as amended by the Free Conference Committee, and said report together with the bill are herewith transmitted.

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

March 10, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Free Conference Committee, to whom was referred ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1754, encouraging employers to hire recipients of unemployment insurance benefits and public assistance, have had the same under consideration, and we recommend that the bill be amended as follows and the amended bill do pass:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature recognizes that the essential purpose of state economic development programs is to encourage the hiring of the unemployed. It is of even greater benefit to the state if those hired were drawing unemployment benefits or public assistance and the benefits terminate when employment is secured. A targeted program that encourages employers to make a good faith effort to hire public assistance recipients and the unemployed will provide benefits to the state of Washington.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) 'Department' means the employment security department.

(2) 'First source contract' means an agreement by an employer to screen applicants from a pool of qualified individuals, if any, submitted to the employer by the department and to consider hiring from that pool.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The department shall encourage the use of first source contracts with employers looking to locate or expand in the state. The department shall make every effort to guarantee easy access by employers to qualified workers. The commissioner may delegate duties under this chapter to a local organization.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The department may provide specific financial incentives to employers who sign first source agreements if state funds are appropriated or if federal funds are made available for that purpose. The incentives may include but shall not be limited to providing an employer with up to fifty percent of a trainee's wages during the first ten weeks of employment and on-the-job training.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. An employer and a prospective employee to be hired from the pool may agree to a thirty-day training period, at the end of which time the employer shall make a decision whether to hire the individual. The individual may continue to draw unemployment or public assistance, or both during the thirty-day training period.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The funds specified in section 4 of this act shall be available during the thirty-day training period.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 1 through 6 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 50 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Sections 1 through 6 of this act shall expire December 31, 1989.

Sec. 9. Section 1, chapter 2, Laws of 1985 ex. sess. and RCW 82.61.010 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Applicant' means a person applying for a tax deferral under this chapter.

(2) 'Person' has the meaning given in RCW 82.04.030.

(3) 'Department' means the department of revenue.

(4) 'Eligible investment project' means: (a) Construction of new buildings and the acquisition of related machinery and equipment when the buildings, machinery, and equipment are to be used for either manufacturing or research and development activities, which construction is commenced prior to December 31, (i.e., 1986) 1988; or (b) acquisition prior to December 31, 1988, of machinery and equipment to be used for either manufacturing or research and development if the machinery and equipment is housed in a new leased structure. PROVIDED, that the lessor/owner of the structure is not eligible for a deferral unless the underlying ownership of the buildings, machinery, and equipment vests exclusively in the same person.

In addition to the requirements of this section, a project must create at least one new full-time qualified employment position for each three hundred thousand dollars of investment on which a deferral is requested.

(5) 'Manufacturing' means all activities of a commercial or industrial nature wherein labor or skill is applied, by hand or machinery, to materials so that as a result thereof a new, different, or useful substance or article of tangible personal property is produced for sale or commercial or industrial use and includes the production or fabrication of specially made or custom-made articles.

(6) 'Research and development' means the development, refinement, testing, marketing, and commercialization of a product, service, or process before commercial sales have begun.

(7) 'Buildings' means only those new structures used for either manufacturing or research and development activities, including plant offices and warehouses or other facilities for the storage of raw materials or finished goods if such facilities are an essential or an integral part of a factory, mill, plant, or laboratory used for manufacturing or research and development purposes. If a building is used partly for manufacturing or research and development and partly for other purposes, the applicable tax deferral shall be determined by apportionment of the costs of construction under rules adopted by the department.

(8) 'Machinery and equipment' means all new industrial and research fixtures, equipment, and support facilities that are an integral and necessary part of a manufacturing or research and development operation. 'Qualified machinery and equipment' includes computers, software, data processing equipment, laboratory equipment, manufacturing components such as belts, pulleys, shafts, and moving parts; molds, tools, and dies; operating structures; and all equipment used to control or operate the machinery. For purposes of this definition, new machinery and equipment means either new to the taxing jurisdiction of the state or new to the certificate holder. MOTION

Mr. McMullen moved that the House adopt the report of the Free Conference Committee on Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1754.

Mr. Schoon spoke in favor of the motion and it was carried.

FINAL PASSAGE OF HOUSE BILL
AS AMENDED BY FREE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1754 as amended by Free Conference Committee.

POINT OF ORDER

Ms. Cole: "Mr. Speaker, I request the Speaker’s ruling on the potential violation of the Free Conference Committee report of House Rule 25(D)(6) regarding a negative revenue impact and the requirements of Joint Rule 19."

SPEAKER’S RULING

The Speaker: "House Rule 25(D)(6) provides that all bills having a direct negative revenue impact or a direct appropriation of $50,000 or more shall be referred to the Ways & Means Committee or Transportation Committee before their final passage. Rule 25(D)(6) applies whenever a bill is on final passage, unless superseded by the Joint Rules. In that regard, the Speaker would note the provisions of Joint Rules 8 and 9 as well as Reed's Rule 236.

"Under the Joint Rules, the two houses together may grant the powers of Free Conference which includes the power to consider new items within the scope and object of the title of the bill. Reed's Rule 236 provides that the Joint Rules are controlling over the rules adopted in either house by itself. Therefore, the Speaker finds that House Rule 25(D)(6) does not apply to a bill on final passage when amended by the report of a Free Conference Committee. Your point is not well taken, Representative Cole."

Mr. Crane demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1754 as amended by Free Conference Committee, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 72; nays, 22; excused, 4.

Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1754 as amended by Free Conference Committee, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

Mr. Armstrong moved that the House adopt the report of the Conference Com­mittee on Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1598.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Braddock: "Mr. Speaker, I would ask for your ruling on scope and object of the amendments to this bill."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "On March 9, the Speaker ruled the Senate striking amendment to ESHB 1598 beyond the scope and object of the bill under House Rule 12(C). This ruling was based on the fact that while the original bill dealt with the sexual psy­chopath program, section 7 of the Senate amendment added a new program to reimburse state institutional employees for costs related to assaults by residents, patients or inmates. The report of the Conference Committee would delete section 7 of the Senate amendment. The Speaker has examined the remaining sections of the Senate striking amendment, and finds that they are not beyond the scope and object of the original bill and therefore, do not conflict with the Speaker's ruling of March 9. Your point is not well taken, Representative Braddock."

Representatives Locke, Niemi and Patrick spoke against the motion, and Rep­resentatives Armstrong, Padden and Valle spoke in favor of it.

A division was called.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker: "The Speaker would like to take a moment. Today is an important day for a number of us and particularly to a colleague of mine—we came into the legislature together. Many of you know that Representative Earl Tilly and I (there are others, too, of course) are voluntarily leaving. The Speaker would like to introduce Mrs. Tilly and guests who are here on Earl’s last day in the Washington State Legislature."

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Tilly: "I thought this would be something I might say late tonight when there is no one else here. I got the official call this morning. The other day when the Speaker said that he would like to announce my appointment, I said, 'Well, I appreciate that, and it was great news to have the Senator's announcement, but I haven't heard from the guy I'm going to work for yet.' The call did come this morning so we're okay. I guess Barbara didn't know that yet either. The people who are the most proud of this are my kids. They said, 'Dad, you're going to have a real job.'

'I have thought several times of what this would be like, this last day and I had to think about what it was like when I first came here. I remember when we told the children—they were very small then. Our boy was 4 or 5—and when I told him that Dad might go to work in Olympia, he said 'Well, I wouldn’t mind living in that big white courthouse over there.' We've really got a lot of good memories and I could tell a lot of stories. I could give you my oral history if the Speaker didn't want to get out of here today. There are some thoughts I would like to share and they really come from, I guess, my previous experience of being in business. Some of you maybe get tired of hearing this, but you need that business perspective down here. I got it from my Dad. I think a lot of us are lucky to have had parents who have shared their basic fundamentals. We were in a very, very competitive business and there's a present colleague here who I competed with for many years. He was selling another brand product, which I won’t mention because there are ladies present. A lot of times in that type of competition, people would say bad things about our products and Dad would never say anything bad about the others. His tenet was that if you can't say anything good about somebody, you shouldn't say anything. I guess that's the only part about politics that I have not enjoyed. I want to lay it on you folks; it would be great in the 1986 elections if all we heard was positive things about ourselves. I would sure like to see us prescribe to that rule.
Call that the Tilly Rule. We talked about the Sullivan Rule last night, and I think that should be a rule that we, as politicians, should use.

"I would not have been able to be here today without the support of my family. Without my parents and Barbara's parents, especially Barbara and the kids, it just would not have been possible. I think most of you know that this is my tenth year to be here without my family. The first four years when the kids were small, the family came with me and they went to school here and after a of day being here, they didn't want to go back to Wenatchee and we had that seesaw every year, but once they got to junior high age, we felt it was best for them to stay and be able to maintain their social contacts in the schools they were accustomed to being in.

"As I leave you today, the new agency I will be with is the Farmer's Home Administration. It's a division of the Department of Agriculture. The part that is really attractive to me is their mission statement to improve the quality of life in rural America. I wouldn't be able to take this position without your help, all of you. You have taught me a lot. People ask me how I ever got into politics and what did I have to know—business contacts would ask. I told them I had to take a lot of bumps on the head from you and that's what taught me to work over in this area. I think you have taught me how to care about people to a greater degree, and I really feel that this is going to help prepare me for this next position. You know, you hear the advertisement slogan. 'Baseball, hotdogs, apple pie and FHA.' I'm going to miss you. I know that you will do great things for the people in the state in the future, and if it's ever possible to do something with you again, I'd love to do it. Thank you very much."

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate insists on its position on SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1765, refuses to recede and once again asks the House to concur in the Senate amendments, and the same is herewith transmitted.

Bill Gleason, Assistant Secretary.

MOTION

Mr. Braddock moved that the House insist on its position and again ask the Senate to recede from the amendments to Substitute House Bill No. 1765.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Braddock yielded to question by Mr. Barnes.

Mr. Barnes: "Representative Braddock, you may know by now that I am a little bit slow-witted and I’m having trouble keeping up. Would you explain to us what this bill does?"

Mr. Braddock: "There has been a case filed against the Department of Social and Health Services defining whether or not the spouses of eligible SSI beneficiaries can receive grants and aid and medical assistance. This bill is intended to clarify that position. The Senate version that they have sent to us broadens beyond the original bill that I sponsored the benefits paid to beneficiaries and would have a cost estimated to be around $900,000. I believe that we should stick with the House position and provide a response to the case that has been lost but is on appeal. I believe we should not take the action that the Senate is requesting unless, or until, that appeal is finished and we know whether or not we will win or lose that case. I believe we have evidence that we can be successful in that case, and if we take the House position that I am recommending, we will be saving the state approximately $900,000."

Mr. Taylor spoke in favor of the motion and Ms. Brekke opposed it.

The motion was carried.

(2) The commission shall, following a public hearing or hearings:

(a) Devise a series of recommended standard sentence ranges for all felony offenses and a system for determining which range of punishment applies to each offender based on the extent and nature of the offender's criminal history, if any;

(b) Devise recommended prosecuting standards in respect to charging of offenses and plea agreements; and
(c) Devise recommended standards to govern whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently.

(3) Each of the commission's recommended standard sentence ranges shall include one or more of the following: Total confinement, partial confinement, community supervision, community service, and a fine.

(4) In devising the standard sentence ranges of total and partial confinement under this section, the commission is subject to the following limitations:

(a) If the maximum term in the range is one year or less, the minimum term in the range shall be no less than one-third of the maximum term in the range, except that if the maximum term in the range is ninety days or less, the minimum term may be less than one-third of the maximum;

(b) If the maximum term in the range is greater than one year, the minimum term in the range shall be no less than seventy-five percent of the maximum term in the range; and

(c) The maximum term of confinement in a range may not exceed the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in RCW 9A.20.020.

(5) In carrying out its duties under subsection (2) of this section, the commission shall give consideration to the existing guidelines adopted by the association of superior court judges and the Washington association of prosecuting attorneys and the experience gained through use of those guidelines. The commission shall emphasize confinement for the violent offender and alternatives to total confinement for the nonviolent offender.

(6) This commission shall conduct a study to determine the capacity of correctional facilities and programs which are or will be available. While the commission need not consider such capacity in arriving at its recommendations, the commission shall project the implementation of its recommendations would result in exceeding such capacity. If the commission finds that this result would probably occur, then the commission shall prepare an additional list of standard sentences which shall be consistent with such capacity.

(7) (By January 10, 1983; the commission shall recommend its standard sentence ranges and standards to the legislature by providing the recommendations to the chief clerk of the house of representatives and secretary of the senate. If the commission has prepared an additional list of standard sentence ranges, as provided under subsection (6) of this section, then the commission shall include such list along with its recommendations:

(8) Every two years;)) The commission may recommend to the legislature revisions or modifications to the standard sentence ranges and other standards. If implementation of the revisions or modifications would result in exceeding the capacity of correctional facilities, then the commission shall accompany its recommendation with an additional list of standard sentence ranges which are consistent with correction capacity.

(9) (By January 10, 1983; the commission shall study the existing criminal code and from time to time make recommendations to the legislature for modification.

(10) The commission shall exercise its duties under this section in conformity with chapter 34.04 RCW, as now existing or hereafter amended.

Sec. 19. Section 7, chapter 137. Laws of 1981 and RCW 9.94A.070 are each amended to read as follows:

((1)) At its regular session convening in 1983, the legislature shall enact laws approving or modifying either the standards recommended by the commission, or the additional list of standard sentence ranges consistent with prison capacity in the event an additional list has been submitted pursuant to RCW 9.94A.040((6)). The standards so adopted shall take effect on July 1, 1984.

((2)) Revisions or modifications of standard sentence ranges or other standards, together with any additional list of standard sentence ranges, shall be submitted to the legislature at least every two years ((and shall become effective as provided under subsection (1) of this section on July first of the year in which they are submitted)).

Sec. 20. Section 12, chapter 137. Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 6, chapter 209. Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.120 are each amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2) ((and)), (5), and (7) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years.

(5) An offender convicted of the crime of sexual assault in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to cause great bodily harm to the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years.

(6) An offender convicted of the crime of unlawful sexual conduct in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to cause great bodily harm to the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years.

(7) An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the second degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to cause great bodily harm to the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years.
term of total confinement not less than three years, and shall not be eligible for furlough, work release or other authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility during such minimum three year term except for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility. The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender((other than a person convicted of a violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020)) the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender refrain from committing new offenses. The sentence may also include up to two years of community supervision, which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions, may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(a) devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
(b) undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;
(c) pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;
(d) remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment;
(e) report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer; or
(f) pay a fine. ((make restitution;)) and/or accomplish some community service work.

(6) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work. ((restitution;)) a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or a fine. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(7) (a) When an offender is convicted of ((any)) a sex offense other than a violation of ((chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020 except)) RCW 9A.44.040 or RCW 9A.44.050 and has no prior convictions ((of chapter 9A.44 RCW, RCW 9A.64.020)) for a sex offense or any other felony sexual offenses in this or any other state, the sentencing court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine whether the defendant is amenable to treatment.

After receipt of the reports, the court shall then determine whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sexual offender sentencing alternative. If the court determines that both the offender and the community will benefit from use of this provision, the court shall then impose a sentence within the sentence range and, if this sentence is less than six years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and place the offender on community supervision for up to two years. As a condition of the suspended sentence, the court may impose other sentence conditions including up to six months of confinement, not to exceed the sentence range of confinement for that offense, crime-related prohibitions, and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(i) devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
(ii) undergo available outpatient sex offender treatment for up to two years, or inpatient sex offender treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment;
(iii) remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment;
(iv) report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
(v) pay a fine. ((make restitution;)) accomplish some community service work. or any combination thereof; or
(vi) make recoupment to the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime.

If the offender violates these sentence conditions the court may revoke the suspension and order execution of the sentence. All confinement time served during the period of community supervision shall be credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

(b) When an offender is convicted of any felony sexual offense and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, order the offender committed for up to thirty days to the custody of the secretary of the department of social and health services at the Eastern State Hospital or the Western State Hospital for evaluation and report to the court on the offender's amenability to treatment at these facilities. If the secretary of the department of social and health services cannot begin the evaluation within thirty days of the court's order of commitment, the offender shall be transferred to the state for confinement pending an opportunity to be evaluated at the appropriate facility. The court shall review the reports and may order that the term of confinement imposed be served in the sexual offender treatment programs at Western State Hospital or Eastern State Hospital, as determined by the secretary of the department of social and health services. The offender shall be transferred to the state pending placement in the treatment program.

If the offender does not comply with the conditions of the treatment program, the secretary of the department of social and health services may refer the matter to the sentencing court for determination as to whether the offender shall be transferred to the department of corrections to serve the balance of his term of confinement.

If the offender successfully completes the treatment program before the expiration of his term of confinement, the court may convert the balance of confinement to community supervi­sion and may place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
(ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the com­munity corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment;
(iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
(iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of his community supervision, the court may order
the offender to serve out the balance of his community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

(8) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days.
Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.

(9) If a sentence imposed includes a fine or restitution, the sentence shall specify a reason­able manner and time in which the fine or restitution shall be paid. In any sentence under this chapter the court may also require the offender to make such monetary payments, on such terms as it deems appropriate under the circumstances, as are necessary (a) to pay court costs, including reimbursement of the state for costs of extradition if return to this state by extradition was required, (b) to make recoupment of the cost of defense attorney's fees if counsel is pro­vided at public expense, (c) to contribute to a county or interlocal drug fund, and (d) to make such other payments as provided by law. All monetary payments shall be ordered paid by no later than ten years after the date of the judgment of conviction.

(10) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1), a court may not impose a sentence pro­viding for a term of confinement or community supervision which exceeds the statutory maxi­mum for the crime as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW (9A.20.020).

(11) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, restitution, or fines shall be under the supervision of the secretary of the department or such person as the secretary may designate and shall follow implicitly the instructions of the secre­tary including reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within pre­scribed geographical boundaries, and notifying the community corrections officer of any change in the offender’s address or employment.

(12) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(13) A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.400(1) and (2) governing whether sen­tences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limi­tations in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and may be appealed by the defendant or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.210(2) through (6).

(14) The court shall order restitution whenever the offender is convicted of a felony that results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property, whether the offender is sen­tenced to confinement or placed under community supervision, unless extraordinary circum­stances exist that make restitution inappropriate in the court’s judgment. The court shall set forth the extraordinary circumstances in the record if it does not order restitution.

Sec. 21. Section 19, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 10, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.190 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A sentence that includes a term or terms of confinement totaling more than one year shall be served in a facility or institution operated, or utilized under contract, by the state.
Except as provided for in subsection (3) of this section, a sentence of not more than one year of confinement shall be served in a facility operated, licensed, or utilized under contract, by the county.

(2) If a county uses a state partial confinement facility for the partial confinement of a per­son sentenced to confinement for not more than one year, the county shall reimburse the state for the use of the facility as provided for in this subsection. The office of financial management shall set the rate of reimbursement based upon the average per diem cost per offender in the facility. The office of financial management shall determine to what extent, if any, reimburse­ment shall be reduced or eliminated because of funds provided by the legislature to the department of corrections for the purpose of covering the cost of county use of state partial confinement facilities. The office of financial management shall reestablish reimbursement rates each even-numbered year.
(3) A person who is sentenced for a felony to a term of not more than one year, and who is committed or returned to incarceration in a state facility on another felony conviction, either under the indeterminate sentencing laws, chapter 9.95 RCW, or under this chapter shall serve all terms of confinement, including a sentence of not more than one year, in a facility or institution operated, or utilized under contract, by the state, consistent with the provisions of RCW 9.94A.400.

Sec. 22. Section 2, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 16, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.310 are each amended to read as follows:

Sec. 25. Section 7, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 19, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.360 are each amended to read as follows:

The offender score is measured on the horizontal axis of the sentencing grid. The offender score rules (partially summarized in Table 3, RCW 9.94A.330, are as follows:

The offender score is computed the following way: the sum of points accrued under subsections (1) through (14) of this section rounded down to the nearest whole number.

1. A prior conviction is a conviction which exists before the date of sentencing for the offense for which the offender score is being computed. Convictions entered or sentenced on the same date as the conviction for which the offender score is being computed shall be deemed 'other current offenses' within the meaning of RCW 9.94A.400.

2. Except as provided in subsections (3) and (13) of this section, class A prior felony convictions shall always be included in the offender score. Class B prior felony convictions shall not be included in the offender score, if since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent ten consecutive years in the community without being convicted of any felonies. Class C prior felony convictions shall not be included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement, including full-time residential treatment, pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent five consecutive years in the community without being convicted of any felonies. Serious traffic convictions shall not be included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or entry of judgment and sentence, the offender spent five years in the community without being convicted of any felonies or traffic offenses. This subsection applies to both adult and juvenile prior convictions. Out-of-state convictions for offenses shall be classified according to the comparable offense definitions and sentences provided by Washington law.

3. Include class A juvenile felonies only if the offender was 15 or older at the time the juvenile offense was committed. Include class B and C juvenile felony convictions only if the offender was 15 or older at the time the juvenile offense was committed and the offender was less than 23 at the time the offense for which he or she is being sentenced was committed.
((2)) (4) Score prior convictions for felony anticipatory offenses (attempts, criminal solicitations, and criminal conspiracies) the same as if they were convictions for completed offenses.

(5) In the case of multiple prior convictions, for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all convictions separately, except:

(a) Prior adult offenses which were found, under RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a), to encompass the same criminal conduct, shall be counted as one offense, the offense that yields the highest offender score. The current sentencing court shall determine with respect to other prior adult offenses for which sentences were served concurrently whether those offenses shall be counted as one offense or as separate offenses, and if the court finds that they shall be counted as one offense, then the offense that yields the highest offender score shall be used;

(b) Juvenile prior convictions entered or sentenced on the same date shall count as one offense, the offense that yields the highest offender score, and

(c) In the case of multiple prior convictions for offenses committed before July 1, 1986, for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all adult convictions served concurrently as one offense, and count all juvenile convictions entered on the same date as one offense. Use the conviction for the offense that yields the highest offender score.

(6) If the present conviction is one of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy, count each prior conviction as if the present conviction were for a completed offense.

(7) If the present conviction is for a nonviolent offense and not covered by subsection (11), (12), or (13) of this section, count one point for each adult prior felony conviction and one point for each juvenile prior violent felony conviction and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior nonviolent felony conviction.

(8) If the present conviction is for a violent offense and not covered in subsection (9), (10), (11), or (12) of this section, count two points for each prior adult and juvenile violent felony conviction, one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(9) (10) If the present conviction is for Burglary 1, count prior((9)) convictions as in subsection ((9)) (8) of this section; however count two points for each prior adult Burglary 2 conviction, and one point for each prior juvenile Burglary 2 conviction.

(11) (12) If the present conviction is for (Vehicular Homicide, only) a felony traffic offense count (the following crimes as part of the offender score): two points for each adult or juvenile prior conviction for Vehicular Homicide((— Vehicular Assault, Felony Hit and Run (RCW 46.52.020(4)), Hit and Run (RCW 46.52.020(5)), Driving While Intoxicated (RCW 46.61.502), Actual Physical Control (RCW 46.61.504), Reckless Driving (RCW 46.61.500), Attempting to Elude a Police Officer (RCW 46.61.500)): Count two points for each adult or juvenile Vehicular Homicide conviction, one point for each other adult felony traffic or serious traffic conviction, and 1/2 point for each other juvenile felony traffic or serious traffic conviction.

(13) If the present conviction is for escape (Escape 1. RCW 9A.76.110; Escape 2. RCW 9A.76.120; Willful Failure to Return from Furlough, RCW 72.66.060; and Willful Failure to Return from Work Release, RCW 72.65.070), count only prior escape convictions in the offender score. Count adult prior escape convictions as one point and juvenile prior escape convictions as 1/2 point.

(14) If the present conviction is for Burglary 2, count prior((9)) convictions as in subsection ((9)) (7) of this section; however, count two points for each adult and juvenile prior Burglary 1 conviction, two points for each adult prior Burglary 2 conviction, and one point for each juvenile prior Burglary 2 conviction.

(15) If the present conviction is for a violation of chapter 69.50 RCW, except for possession of a controlled substance (RCW 69.50.401(d)), count two points for each adult prior felony drug conviction (chapter 69.50 RCW, except RCW 69.50.401(d)), and one point for each juvenile drug conviction. All other adult and juvenile felonies are scored as in subsection (5) of this section if the current drug conviction is violent, or as in subsection (9) of this section if the current drug conviction is nonviolent.
(9) If the present conviction is for a nonviolent offense and not covered by subsection (6), (7), or (8) of this section, count one point for each prior adult felony conviction and one point for each prior juvenile violent felony conviction and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony.

(10) For all offender scores, the fractional totals shall be rounded down to the nearest whole number.

(11) In the case of multiple prior convictions for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all adult convictions served concurrently as one offense, and count all juvenile convictions entered on the same date as one offense. The conviction for the offense that yields the highest offender score is used.

(12) Class A prior felony convictions are always included in the offender score. Class B prior felony convictions are not included if the offender has spent ten years in the community and has not been convicted of any felonies since the last date of release from confinement pursuant to a felony conviction (excluding full-time residential treatment), if any, or entry of judgment and sentence. Class C prior felony convictions and serious traffic convictions as defined in RCW 9.94A.330 are not included if the offender has spent five years in the community and has not been convicted of any felonies since the last date of release from confinement pursuant to a felony conviction (including full-time residential treatment), if any, or entry of judgment and sentence. This subsection applies to both adult and juvenile prior convictions.

The designation of out-of-state convictions shall be covered by the offense definitions and sentences provided by Washington law.

The offender score is the sum of points accrued under subsections (1) through (12) of this section.

Sec. 26. Section 8, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 20, chapter 209. Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.370 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The intersection of the column defined by the offender score and the row defined by the offense seriousness score determines the presumptive sentencing range (see RCW 9.94A.310, Table 1). The additional time for deadly weapon findings shall be added to the entire presumptive sentence range. The court may impose any sentence within the range that it deems appropriate. All presumptive sentence ranges are expressed in terms of total confinement.

(2) In determining any sentence, the trial court may (use) rely on no more information than is admitted by the plea agreement, (and) or admitted (to or), acknowledged, or proved in a trial or at the time of sentencing. Acknowledgement includes not objecting to information stated in the presentence reports. Where the defendant disputes material facts, the court must either not consider the fact or grant an evidentiary hearing on the point. The (real) facts shall be deemed (proven) proved at the (evidentiary) hearing by a preponderance of the evidence. (Real) Facts that establish the elements of (a higher crime,) a more serious crime((c)), or additional crimes ((cannot)) may not be used to go outside the presumptive sentence range except upon stipulation or when specifically provided for in RCW 9.94A.390(2) (c) and (d).

Sec. 27. Section 10, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 24, chapter 209. Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.390 are each amended to read as follows:

If the sentencing court finds that an exceptional sentence outside the standard range should be imposed in accordance with RCW 9.94A.120(2), the sentence is subject to review only as provided for in RCW 9.94A.210(4).

The following are illustrative factors which the court may consider in the exercise of its discretion to impose an exceptional sentence((c)). The following are illustrative only and are not intended to be exclusive reasons for exceptional sentences:

The defendant knew or should have known that the victim of the current offense was particularly vulnerable or incapable of resistance due to extreme youth, advanced age, disability, or ill health.

The current offense was a major economic offense or series of offenses, so identified by a consideration of any of the following factors:

(1) The current offense involved multiple victims or multiple incidents per victim;

(2) The current offense involved attempted or actual monetary loss substantially greater than typical for the offense;

(3) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning or occurred over a lengthy period of time;

(4) The defendant used his or her position of trust, confidence, or fiduciary responsibility to facilitate the commission of the current offense.

The current offense was a major violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, chapter 69.50 RCW (VUCSA), related to trafficking in controlled substances, which was more onerous than the federal offense of its statutory definition: The presence of ANY of the following may identify (an) a current offense as a major VUCSA:

(a) The current offense involved at least three separate transactions in which controlled substances were sold, transferred, or possessed with intent to do so; or

(b) The current offense involved an attempted or actual sale or transfer of controlled substances in quantities substantially larger than for personal use; or

(c) The current offense involved the manufacture of controlled substances for use by other parties; or

(d) The defendant possessed a firearm during the commission of the offense; or

(e) The circumstances of the current offense reveal the offender to have occupied a high position in the drug distribution hierarchy; or

(f) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning or occurred over a lengthy period of time or involved a broad geographic area of disbursement;

The circumstances of the current offense reveal the offender to have occupied a high position in the drug distribution hierarchy; or

(i) The operation of the multiple offense policy of RCW 9.94A.400 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient in light of the purpose of this chapter, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.

(The above considerations are illustrative only and are not intended to be exclusive reasons for exceptional sentences.)

Sec. 28. Section 11. chapter 115. Laws of 1983 as amended by section 25, chapter 209. Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.400 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, whenever a person is convicted of two or more current offenses, the sentence range for each current offense shall be determined by using all other current and prior convictions as ((criminal history. All sentences so determined shall be served consecutively. Separate crimes encompassing the same criminal conduct) if they were prior convictions for the purpose of the offender score: PROVIDED. That if the court enters a finding that some or all of the current offenses encompass the same criminal conduct then those current offenses shall be counted as one crime ((in determining the criminal history)). Sentences imposed under this subsection shall be served concurrently. Consecutive sentences may only be imposed under the exceptional sentence provisions of RCW 9.94A.120 and 9.94A.390(2)(e) or any other provision of RCW 9.94A.390.

(b) Whenever a person is convicted of three or more serious violent offenses, as defined in RCW 9.94A.330, arising from separate and distinct criminal conduct, the sentence range for the offense with the highest seriousness level under RCW 9.94A.320 shall be determined using the offender's ((prior convictions as)) criminal history in the offender score and the sentence range for other serious violent offenses shall be determined by using ((a criminal history)) an offender score of zero. The sentence range for any ((remaining)) offenses that are not serious violent offenses shall be determined according to (a) of this subsection. All sentences imposed upon (b) of this subsection shall be served consecutively to each other and concurrently with sentences imposed under (a) of this subsection.

(2) Whenever a person while under sentence of felony commits another felony and is sentenced to another term of imprisonment, the latter term shall not begin until expiration of all prior terms.

(3) Subject to subsections (1) and (2) of this section, whenever a person is sentenced for a felony that was committed while the person was not under sentence of a felony, the sentence shall run ((consecutively)) concurrently with any felony ((sentences previously)) sentence which has been imposed by any court in this or another state or by a federal court((c)) subsequent to the commission of the crime being sentenced unless the court pronouncing the ((subsequent)) current sentence expressly orders that they be served ((consecutively)) concurrently.

(4) Whenever any person granted probation under RCW 9.95.210 or 9.92.060, or both, has the probationary sentence revoked and a prison sentence imposed, ((this)) that sentence shall run consecutively to any sentence imposed pursuant to this chapter, unless the court pronouncing the subsequent sentence expressly orders that they be served concurrently.

(5) However, in the case of consecutive sentences, all periods of total confinement shall be served before any partial confinement, community service, community supervision, or any other requirement or conditions of any of the sentences.

Sec. 29. Section 12, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 26, chapter 209, Laws of 1984 and RCW 9.94A.410 are each amended to read as follows:

For persons convicted of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or consspiracy under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the presumptive sentence is determined by locating the sentencing grid sentence range defined by the appropriate offender score and the seriousness level of the crime, and multiplying the range by 75 percent.

In calculating an offender score, count each prior conviction as if the present conviction were for the completed offense. When these convictions are used as criminal history, score them the same as a completed crime.

Sec. 30. Section 15, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 and RCW 9.94A.440 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Decision not to prosecute.

STANDARD: A Prosecuting Attorney may decline to prosecute, even though technically sufficient evidence to prosecute exists, in situations where prosecution would serve no public purpose, would defeat the underlying purpose of the law in question or would result in decreased respect for the law.

Examples

The following are examples of reasons not to prosecute which could satisfy the standard.

(a) Contrary to Legislative Intent – It may be proper to decline to charge where the application of criminal sanctions would be clearly contrary to the intent of the legislature in enacting the particular statute.

(b) Antiquated Statute – It may be proper to decline to charge where the statute in question is antiquated in that:

(i) It has not been enforced for many years; and
(ii) Most members of society act as if it were no longer in existence; and
(iii) It serves no deterrent or protective purpose in today’s society; and
(iv) The statute has not been recently reconsidered by the legislature.

This reason is not to be construed as the basis for declining cases because the law in question is unpopular or because it is difficult to enforce.

(c) De Minimus Violation – It may be proper to decline to charge where the violation of law is only technical or insubstantial and where no public interest or deterrent purpose would be served by prosecution.

(d) Confinement on Other Charges – It may be proper to decline to charge because the accused has been sentenced on another charge to a lengthy period of confinement; and

(i) Conviction of the new offense would not merit any additional direct or collateral punishment.

(ii) The new offense is either a misdemeanor or a felony which is not particularly aggravated;

(iii) Conviction of the new offense would not serve any significant deterrent purpose.

(e) Pending Conviction on Another Charge – It may be proper to decline to charge because the accused is facing a pending prosecution in the same or another county; and

(i) Conviction of the new offense would not merit any additional direct or collateral punishment;

(ii) Conviction in the pending prosecution is imminent;

(iii) The new offense is either a misdemeanor or a felony which is not particularly aggravated; and

(iv) Conviction of the new offense would not serve any significant deterrent purpose.

(f) High Disproportionate Cost of Prosecution – It may be proper to decline to charge where the cost of locating or transporting, or the burden on, prosecution witnesses is highly disproportionate to the importance of prosecuting the offense in question. This reason should be limited to minor cases and should not be relied upon in serious cases.

(g) Improper Motives of Complainant – It may be proper to decline charges because the motives of the complainant are improper and prosecution would serve no public purpose, would defeat the underlying purpose of the law in question or would result in decreased respect for the law.

(h) Immunity – It may be proper to decline to charge where immunity is to be given to an accused in order to prosecute another where the accused’s information or testimony will rea-nonably lead to the conviction of others who are responsible for more serious criminal conduct or who represent a greater danger to the public interest.

(i) Victim Request – It may be proper to decline to charge because the victim requests that no criminal charges be filed and the case involves the following crimes or situations:

(i) Assault cases where the victim has suffered little or no injury:
(i) Crimes against property, not involving violence, where no major loss was suffered;
(ii) Where doing so would not jeopardize the safety of society.
Care should be taken to insure that the victim's request is freely made and is not the product of threats or pressure by the accused.

The presence of these factors may also justify the decision to dismiss a prosecution which has been commenced.

Notification
The prosecutor is encouraged to notify the victim, when practical, and the law enforcement personnel, of the decision not to prosecute.

(2) Decision to prosecute.
STANDARD:
Crimes against persons will be filed if sufficient admissible evidence exists, which, when considered with the most plausible, reasonably foreseeable defense that could be raised under the evidence, would justify conviction by a reasonable and objective fact-finder.

Crimes against property/other crimes will be filed if the admissible evidence is of such convincing force as to make it probable that a reasonable and objective fact-finder would convict after hearing all the admissible evidence and the most plausible defense that could be raised.

See Table ((13)) below for the crimes within these categories.

Selection of Charges/Degree of Charge

(1) The prosecutor should file charges which adequately describe the nature of defendant's conduct. Other offenses may be charged only if they are necessary to ensure that the charges:
(a) Will significantly enhance the strength of the state's case at trial; or
(b) Will result in restitution to all victims.
(2) The prosecutor should not overcharge to obtain a guilty plea. Overcharging includes:
(a) Charging a higher degree;
(b) Charging additional counts.

This standard is intended to direct prosecutors to charge those crimes which demonstrate the nature and seriousness of a defendant's criminal conduct, but to decline to charge crimes which are not necessary to such an indication. Crimes which do not merge as a matter of law, but which arise from the same course of conduct, do not all have to be charged.

GUIDELINES/COMMENTARY:

Police Investigation

A prosecuting attorney is dependent upon law enforcement agencies to conduct the necessary factual investigation which must precede the decision to prosecute. The prosecuting attorney shall ensure that a thorough factual investigation has been conducted before a decision to prosecute is made. In ordinary circumstances the investigation should include the following:

(1) The interviewing of all material witnesses, together with the obtaining of written statements whenever possible;
(2) The completion of necessary laboratory tests; and
(3) The obtaining, in accordance with constitutional requirements, of the suspect's version of the events.

If the initial investigation is incomplete, a prosecuting attorney should insist upon further investigation before a decision to prosecute is made, and specify what the investigation needs to include.

Exceptions

In certain situations, a prosecuting attorney may authorize filing of a criminal complaint before the investigation is complete if:
(1) Probable cause exists to believe the suspect is guilty; and
(2) The suspect presents a danger to the community or is likely to flee if not apprehended; or
(3) The arrest of the suspect is necessary to complete the investigation of the crime.

In the event that the exception to the standard is applied, the prosecuting attorney shall obtain a commitment from the law enforcement agency involved to complete the investigation in a timely manner. If the subsequent investigation does not produce sufficient evidence to meet the normal charging standard, the complaint should be dismissed.

Investigation Techniques

The prosecutor should be fully advised of the investigatory techniques that were used in the case investigation including:
(1) Polygraph testing;
(2) Hypnosis;
(3) Electronic surveillance;
(4) Use of informants.

Pre-Filing Discussions with Defendant

Discussions with the defendant or his/her representative regarding the selection or disposition of charges may occur prior to the filing of charges, and potential agreements can be reached.

Sec. 31. Section 7, chapter 14, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 4, chapter 244, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 9A.44.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person over thirteen years of age is guilty of statutory rape in the first degree when the person engages in sexual intercourse with another person who is less than eleven years old.

(2) Statutory rape in the first degree is a class A felony. No person convicted of statutory rape in the first degree shall be granted a deferred or suspended sentence except (for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility) under RCW 9.94A.120(2).

Sec. 32. Section 9A.56.080, chapter 260, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 2, chapter 174, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 9A.56.080 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Such section governs records relating to the commission of juvenile offenses, including records relating to diversions.

(2) The official juvenile court file of any alleged or proven juvenile offender shall be open to public inspection, unless sealed pursuant to subsection (11) of this section.

(3) All records other than the official juvenile court file are confidential and may be released only as provided in this section and RCW 13.50.010.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this section and RCW 13.50.010, records retained or produced by any juvenile justice or care agency may be released to other participants in the juvenile justice or care system only when an investigation or case involving the juvenile in question is being pursued by the other participant or when that other participant is assigned the responsibility for supervising the juvenile.

(5) Information not in an official juvenile court file concerning a juvenile or a juvenile's family may be released to the public only when that information could not reasonably be expected to identify the juvenile or the juvenile's family.

(6) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the release, to the juvenile or his or her attorney, of law enforcement and prosecuting attorneys' records pertaining to investigation, diversion, and prosecution of juvenile offenses shall be governed by the rules of discovery and other rules of law applicable in adult criminal investigations and prosecutions.

(7) The juvenile court and the prosecutor may set up and maintain a central record-keeping system which may receive information on all alleged juvenile offenders against whom a complaint has been filed pursuant to RCW 13.40.070 whether or not their cases are currently pending before the court. The central record-keeping system may be computerized. If a complaint has been referred to a diversion unit, the diversion unit shall promptly report to the juvenile court or the prosecuting attorney when the juvenile has agreed to diversion. An offense shall not be reported as criminal history in any central record-keeping system without notification by the diversion unit of the date on which the offender agreed to diversion.

(8) Upon request of the victim of a crime or the victim's immediate family, the identity of an alleged or proven juvenile offender alleged or found to have committed a crime against the victim and the identity of the alleged or proven juvenile offender's parent, guardian, or custodian and the circumstance of the alleged or proven crime shall be released to the victim of the crime or the victim's immediate family.

(9) Subject to the rules of discovery applicable in adult criminal prosecutions, the juvenile offense records of an adult criminal defendant or witness in an adult criminal proceeding shall be released upon request to prosecution and defense counsel after a charge has actually been filed. The juvenile offense records of any adult convicted of a crime and placed under the supervision of the adult corrections system shall be released upon request to the adult corrections system.

(10) In any case in which an information has been filed pursuant to RCW 13.40.100 or a complaint has been filed with the prosecutor and referred for diversion pursuant to RCW 13.40-0.70, the person the subject of the information or complaint may file a motion with the court to have the court vacate its order and findings, if any, and order the sealing of the official juvenile court file, the social file, and records of the court and of any other agency in the case.
The court shall grant the motion to seal records made pursuant to subsection (10) of this section if it finds that:

(a) Two years have elapsed from the later of: (i) Final discharge of the person from the supervision of any agency charged with supervising juvenile offenders; or (ii) from the entry of a court order relating to the commission of a juvenile offense or a criminal offense;

(b) No proceeding is pending against the moving party seeking the conviction of a juvenile offense or a criminal offense; and

(c) No proceeding is pending seeking the formation of a diversion agreement with that person.

(12) The person making a motion pursuant to subsection (10) of this section shall give reasonable notice of the motion to the prosecution and to any person or agency whose files are sought to be sealed.

(13) If the court grants the motion to seal made pursuant to subsection (10) of this section, it shall order sealed the official juvenile court file, the social file, and other records relating to the case as are named in the order. Thereafter, the proceedings in the case shall be treated as if they never occurred, and the subject of the records may reply accordingly to any inquiry about the events, records of which are sealed. Any agency shall reply to any inquiry concerning confidential or sealed records that records are confidential, and no information can be given about the existence or nonexistence of records concerning an individual.

(14) Inspection of the files and records included in the order to seal may thereafter be permitted only by order of the court upon motion made by the person who is the subject of the information or complaint, except as otherwise provided in RCW 13.50.010(8).

(15) Any adjudication of a juvenile offense or a crime subsequent to sealing has the effect of nullifying the sealing order. Any conviction for any adult felony subsequent to the sealing has the effect of nullifying the sealing order for the purposes of chapter 9.94A RCW for any juvenile adjudication of guilt for a class A offense.

(16) In any case in which an information has been filed pursuant to RCW 13.40.100 or a complaint has been filed with the prosecutor and referred for diversion pursuant to RCW 13.40-0.070, the person who is the subject of the information or complaint may file a motion with the court to have the court vacate its order and findings, if any, and order the destruction of the official juvenile court file, the social file, and records of the court and of any other agency in the case.

(17) The court may grant the motion to destroy records made pursuant to subsection (16) of this section if it finds:

(a) The person making the motion is at least twenty-three years of age;
(b) The person has not subsequently been convicted of a felony;
(c) No proceeding is pending against that person seeking the conviction of a criminal offense; and
(d) The person has never been found guilty of a serious offense.

(18) A person eighteen years of age or older whose criminal history consists of only one referral for diversion may request that the court order the records in that case destroyed. The request shall be granted if the court finds that two years have elapsed since completion of the diversion agreement.

(19) If the court grants the motion to destroy records made pursuant to subsection (16) or (18) of this section, it shall order the official juvenile court file, the social file, and any other records named in the order to be destroyed.

(20) The person making the motion pursuant to subsection (16) or (18) of this section shall give reasonable notice of the motion to the prosecuting attorney and to any agency whose records are sought to be destroyed.

(21) Any juvenile to whom the provisions of this section may apply shall be given written notice of his or her rights under this section at the time of his or her disposition hearing or during the diversion process.

(22) Nothing in this section may be construed to prevent a crime victim or a member of the victim's family from divulging the identity of the alleged or proven juvenile offender or his or her family when necessary in a civil proceeding.

(23) Any juvenile justice or care agency may, subject to the limitations in subparagraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection, develop procedures for the routine destruction of records relating to juvenile offenses and diversions.

(a) Records may be routinely destroyed only when the person subject of the information or complaint has attained twenty-three years of age or older or is eighteen years of age or older and his or her criminal history consists entirely of one diversion agreement and two years have passed since completion of the agreement.

(b) The court may not routinely destroy the official juvenile court file or recordings or transcripts of any proceedings.

as to the sentence to be imposed. If the court is satisfied by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant has a criminal history, the court shall specify the convictions it has found to exist. All of this information shall be part of the record. Copies of all presentence reports pretended to the sentencing court and all written findings of facts and conclusions of law as to sentencing entered by the court shall be sent to the department by the clerk of the court at the conclusion of the sentencing and shall accompany the offender if the offender is committed to the custody of the department. Court clerks shall provide, without charge, certified copies of documents relating to criminal convictions requested by prosecuting attorneys.

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has adopted the report of the Free Conference Committee on ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2021, and has passed the bill as amended by the Free Conference Committee, and said report together with the bill is here–with transmitted.

Sidney R. Snyder, Secretary.

March 12, 1986

Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Free Conference Committee, to whom was referred ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2021, creating Washington health care project commission, have had the same under consideration and we recommend that the bill be amended as follows and the amended bill do pass:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that:

(a) Good health care for indigent persons is of importance to the state;

(b) To ensure the availability of a good level of health care, efforts must be made to encourage cost consciousness on the part of providers and consumers, while maintaining medical assistance recipients within the mainstream of health care delivery;

(c) Managed health care systems have been found to be effective in controlling costs while providing good health care services;"
By enrolling medical assistance recipients within managed health care systems, the state’s goal is to ensure that medical assistance recipients receive at least the same quality of care they currently receive.

(2) It is the intent of the legislature to develop and implement new strategies that promote the use of managed health care systems for medical assistance recipients by establishing prepaid capitated programs for both in-patient and out-patient services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 74.09 RCW to read as follows:

(1) For the purposes of this section, "managed health care system" means any health care organization, including health care providers, insurers, health care service contractors, health maintenance organizations, health insuring organizations, or any combination thereof, that provides directly or by contract health care services covered under RCW 74.09.520 and rendered by licensed providers, on a prepaid capitated case management basis.

(2) No later than July 1, 1991, the department of social and health services shall enter into agreements with managed health care systems to provide health care services to recipients of aid to families with dependent children under the following conditions:

(a) Agreements shall be made within one class A county in the eastern part of the state for at least ten thousand recipients; and one class AA county for at least fifteen thousand recipients in the western part of the state; and one first class county of at least five thousand recipients in the western part of the state;

(b) At least one of the agreements shall include enrollment of all recipients of aid to families with dependent children residing in a defined geographical area;

(c) The department shall, to the extent possible, ensure that recipients have a choice of systems in which to enroll and, if necessary and medically appropriate treatment for a recipient is not available from or through a participating managed health care system, the department shall exempt the recipient from any requirement to receive some or all of their medical services from such a system;

(d) To the extent possible, the department shall ensure that participating managed health care systems do not enroll a disproportionate number of medical assistance recipients within the total numbers of persons served by the managed health care systems;

(e) Prior to negotiating with any managed health care system, the department shall estimate, on an actuarially sound basis, the expected cost of providing the health care services expressed in terms of upper and lower limits, and recognizing variations in the cost of providing the services through the various systems and in different project areas. In negotiating with managed health care systems the department shall adopt a uniform procedure that includes at least request for proposals, including standards regarding the quality of services to be provided, and financial integrity of the responding system. The department may negotiate with respondents to the extent necessary to refine any proposals;

(f) The department shall seek waivers from federal requirements as necessary to implement this chapter;

(g) The department shall, wherever possible, enter into prepaid capitation contracts that include inpatient care. However, if this is not possible or feasible, the department may enter into prepaid capitation contracts that do not include inpatient care;

(h) The department shall define those circumstances under which a managed health care system is responsible for out-of-system services and assure that recipients shall not be charged for such services; and

(i) Nothing in this section prevents the department from entering into similar agreements in additional counties or for other groups of people eligible to receive services under chapter 74.09 RCW.

The department shall seek to obtain a large number of contracts with providers of health services to Medicaid recipients. The department shall ensure that publicly supported community health centers and providers in rural areas, who show serious intent and apparent capability to participate in the project as managed health care systems are seriously considered as providers in the project.

(3) The department shall work jointly with the state of Oregon and other states in this geographical region in order to develop recommendations to be presented to the appropriate federal agencies and the United States Congress for improving health care of the poor, while controlling related costs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The department shall report to the legislature not later than January 1, 1987, on progress toward implementation of the requirements of this chapter, but shall not delay implementation on account of this reporting requirement.

The report shall also include an analysis of the possible expansion of the use of managed health care within other medical assistance programs, including making it available to certain recipients of general assistance and supplemental security income.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is created the Washington health care project commission composed of fifteen members; four members shall be state representatives, two from each political party appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives; four members shall be state senators, two from each political party appointed by the president of the senate.
The legislative members of the commission shall select seven public members, to serve on the commission, that are representative of health care professionals, health care providers, those directly involved in the purchase, provision, or delivery of health care services, industry, consumers, and those knowledgeable of the ethical issues involved with health care public policy.

The legislative members shall select from among the public members one to serve as chairman and from among the legislative members four to serve, together with the chairman, as an executive committee of the commission.

(1) The commission may hire staff or contract for professional assistance with funds made available for their activities. To the extent possible, the department of social and health services, the house of representatives, and the senate shall provide staff support. The commission may apply for and receive and accept grants, gifts, and other payments, including property and services, from any governmental or other public or private entity or person, and may make arrangements as to the use of these receipts, including the undertaking of special studies and other projects relating to health care costs or access to health care.

The public members of the commission shall receive no compensation for their service as members, but shall be reimbursed for their expenses while attending any meetings of the commission in the same manner as legislators engaged in interim committee business as specified in RCW 44.04.120.

The commission may establish ad hoc technical advisory committees to assist it with any particular matters deemed necessary and any person serving in such capacity may be reimbursed for their expenses while attending any meetings of such committee or the commission in the same manner as public members of the commission.

(2) The commission shall have the following responsibilities:

(a) To review and estimate the following information about persons in the state of Washington who do not have health care coverage:

(i) The numbers of such persons;
(ii) Their age and geographic distribution;
(iii) Their employment status;
(iv) Their family size;
(v) Their economic status; and
(vi) Such other information as the commission deems relevant.

(i) The schedule of services shall emphasize preventive primary health care, including necessary physician services, and Inpatient and outpatient hospital services:
(ii) The schedule of services shall Include all services necessary for prenatal, postnatal, and well-child care;
(iii) In designing the schedule of services, the commission shall consider the guidelines for assessing health services under the mandated benefits act of 1984, RCW 48.42.080; and
(iv) The schedule of services shall be based upon an estimated cost not exceeding fifty dollars per month per person enrolled. The commission may develop alternative schedules of services based on higher or lower monthly costs as it deems appropriate.

(c) After establishing at least a tentative schedule of basic health care services, obtain the following information about persons identified in (a) of this subsection:

(i) An estimate of demand for basic health coverage expressed in terms of numbers of potential enrollees if such a program were made available to them, including the basis upon which such an offering should be made; and
(ii) The characteristics of likely enrollees including demographic and economic data, likely utilization and such other actuarial information as needed to estimate the likely cost of the benefit schedule defined by the commission.

(3) The commission shall then use the information obtained pursuant to this section to develop plans that includes:

(a) Methods of delivery for the schedule of basic health care services by managed health care systems;

(b) Methods of soliciting and accepting application for participation in the program to deliver such basic health care services on a demonstration basis from managed health care systems, including payment methods, rates, and any risk sharing provisions;

(c) Methods whereby the delivery of such services could be integrated with the managed health care systems that may be participating in the medical assistance program of the department of social and health services;

(d) A structure of periodic payments, based upon gross family income, that would be the responsibility of any person or subscriber within the identified groups, or that might be made the responsibility of another private party;
(e) Establishing necessary eligibility standards and guidelines for person seeking such health care coverage, and whatever administrative structure may be needed to enroll such persons;

(f) Methods of monitoring the provision of services to enrollees and the quality of care provided; and

(g) Methods of funding the reasonably anticipated costs of such plans, collectively or individually.

(4) For the purposes of this section, "managed health care systems" means any health care organization, including health care providers, insurers, health care service contractors, health maintenance organizations, or any combination thereof, that provides directly or by contract the schedule of services by duly licensed providers, on a prepaid capitated basis.

(5) The commission shall submit a final report to the legislature no later than December 1, 1986. The report shall include plans that address the needs for such a basic health care program for any identified groups of persons and an analysis of any alternatives considered, but not adopted.

(6) The commission shall terminate upon the submission of their final report.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars, of which ninety thou­sand is from the general fund---state and sixty thousand is from the general fund---federal, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated to the department of social and health services for the biennium ending June 30, 1987, for the purposes identified in sections 2 and 3 of this act.

The sum of one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be neces­sary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1987, from the general fund to the Washington health care project commission for the purposes identified in this act: PROVIDED. That the house executive rules committee and senate facilities and operations committee may jointly authorize expenditures for necessary expenses directly related to commission activities or studies on health care issues conducted by any legislative committee during 1986 or 1987.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The following state agencies are directed to cooperate with the office of financial management in order to establish appropriate health care information sys­tems in their programs: The department of social and health services, the department of labor and industries, the state employees' insurance board, the department of veterans affairs, and the department of corrections.

The office of financial management, in conjunction with such agencies, shall determine:

(1) Definitions of health care services;

(2) Health care data elements common to all agencies;

(3) Health care data elements unique to each agency:

(4) A mechanism for program and budget review of health care data; and

(5) Executive review of health care data.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Each of the agencies listed in section 6 of this act, with the exception of the department of labor and industries, which expends more than five hundred thousand dollars annually of state funds for purchase of health care shall identify the availability and costs of nonfee for service providers of health care, including preferred provider organizations, health maintenance organizations, managed health care or case management systems, or other nonfee for service alternatives. In each case where feasible in which an alternative health care provider arrangement, of similar scope and quality, is available at lower cost than fee for service providers, such state agencies shall make the services of the alternative provider available to clients, consumers, or employees for whom state dollars are spent to pur­chase health care. As consistent with other state and federal law, requirements for copayments, deductibles, the scope of available services, or other incentives shall be used to encourage clients, consumers, or employees to use the lowest cost providers, except that copayments or deductibles shall not be required where they might have the impact of deny­ing access to necessary health care in a timely manner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Plans for establishing or improving utilization review procedures for purchased health care services shall be developed by each agency listed in section 6 of this act. The plans shall specifically address such utilization review procedures as prior authorization of services, hospital inpatient length of stay review, requirements for use of outpatient sur­geries and the obtaining of second opinions for surgeries, review of invoices or claims submitted by service providers, and performance audit of providers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The state agencies listed in section 6 of this act shall review the feas­ibility of establishing prospective payment approaches within their health care programs. Work plans or timetables shall be prepared for the development of prospective rates. The agencies shall identify legislative actions that may be necessary to facilitate the adoption of prospective rate setting methods.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) Each agency listed in section 6 of this act shall individually or in cooperation with other agencies take any necessary actions to control costs without reducing the quality of care when reimbursing for or purchasing drugs. To accomplish this purpose, each agency shall investigate the feasibility of and may establish a drug formulary designa­tion which drugs may be paid for through their health care programs. For purposes of this section, a drug formulary means a list of drugs, either inclusive or exclusive, that defines which drugs are eligible for reimbursement by the agency.

(2) In developing the drug formulary authorized by this section, agencies:
   (a) Shall prohibit reimbursement for drugs that are determined to be ineffective by the United States food and drug administration;
   (b) Shall adopt rules in order to ensure that less expensive generic drugs will be substituted for brand name drugs in those instances where the quality of care is not diminished;
   (c) Where possible, may authorize reimbursement for drugs only in economical quantities;
   (d) May limit the prices paid for drugs by such means as central purchasing, volume contracting, or setting maximum prices to be paid;
   (e) Shall consider the approval of drugs with lower abuse potential in substitution for drugs with significant abuse potential; and
   (f) May take other necessary measures to control costs of drugs without reducing the quality of care.

(3) Agencies may provide for reasonable exceptions to the drug formulary required by this section.

(4) Agencies may establish medical advisory committees, or utilize committees already established, to assist in the development of the drug formulary required by this section.

to achieve that purpose, the director may:
   (a) Establish within the office of financial management a health care cost containment program in cooperation with all state agencies;
   (b) Implement lawful health care cost containment policies that have been adopted by the legislature or the governor, including appropriation provisos;

Mr. G. Nelson: "Mr. Speaker, I didn’t get a chance to join with the others the night before last during the floor resolution honoring you, and so I thought during this wind-down evening on the last day you are presiding, I thought that we would, perhaps, reminisce a little bit. I want to share with everybody that I know we have dealt with a lot of issues over the years and you’ve given a good deal of your time to make this a responsive body even when things are wild. I’m sure everyone here feels that you’ve passed along some straight thinking advice to be effective legislators in this full House. It has come to my attention that since this is the last evening of your presiding, and I know that my rule book, Reed’s, is getting dog-eared and kind of battered, so I would hope that you would put yours aside because I would like to have you now take on other rules that would be enjoyable. "This is a new rule book that I hope you enjoy: this is not Rules by Reed, this is Rules by Hoyle, and I would hope that it comes in handy. I know that with recent experiences that you have had, things have been getting tougher and I often thought maybe it was your glasses that needed some redoing, but on second thought, I knew it wasn’t your glasses; it was just something that perhaps happens when you do get a little older. So I am providing to you a new set of tools that should be used frequently, but not here. I don’t know how many of the folks here realize that for the last five years I’ve had your name on my IRS Form 1040. You’ve become a legitimate deduction for me on occasion, whether it happens to be at lunch hour or on certain evenings. In fact, I was thinking, with some of the bills that passed out of the chambers during the course of this session, that the acronym ‘DOE’ in these chambers won’t stand for Department of Ecology or Department of Energy, but it’s really ‘Deal Out Ehlers.’ We’ll probably have a bill dealing with the new DOE.

“In closing, we’ve had a lot of fun over the last fourteen years together and I suppose there will be times when we miss you. I’m really looking forward to the fact that you will be able to spend more time with Patricia, really, because those late evenings that you were spending away, staying down here to enjoy our company, certainly were not too profitable from our standpoint. This last evening, in saying good-bye to your official status as Speaker, I was hoping to have the colleagues behind me stand and give you the best hand you’ve ever had.”

I wanted to come, Wayne, and thank you for your four years of service as Speaker and to let you know, sincerely, on behalf of the people of the state, your leadership is going to be missed. You are another in a long line of distinguished Speakers, another of whom we have here on the podium tonight. I don't think there's a person in the Legislature that doesn't appreciate the leadership you have provided and the wisdom you have brought to this body and the fact that the House of Representatives did a sterling job this time, in a year when people thought it wouldn't be as strong because of your 'lame duck' status. In fact, you did a tremendous job, Wayne, and I want to say personally, from the bottom of my heart, I'll miss you and God bless."

MESSAGE FROM SECRETARY OF STATE

The Honorable. Speaker of the House of Representatives
The Legislature of the State of Washington
Olympia, Washington
Mr. Speaker:

I, Ralph Munro, do hereby certify that the attached is a full, true and correct copy of the Proclamation of the Governor calling a special session of the State Legislature, which Proclamation was signed and attested to on the twenty-fifth day of July, 1986.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand, and affixed the Seal of the State of Washington at Olympia, this first day of August, 1986.

(Seal)

RALPH MUNRO.
Secretary of State

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

Under the terms of the Nuclear Waste Policy Act, Public Law 97-425, Congress and the United States Department of Energy are required to follow certain processes in making the selection of a site for a high level nuclear waste repository. On May 28, 1986, the U.S. Department of Energy announced the selection of three sites, including one on the Hanford Reservation, for further study. It is my belief that the people of this state should have the opportunity to express their opinion about the process used to select sites. In order to accomplish this, it is necessary for the Legislature to meet solely for the purpose of taking action to place a referendum before the people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Booth Gardner, Governor of the State of Washington, by virtue of the authority vested in me by Article II, Section 12 (Amendment 68), and Article III, Section 7 of the State Constitution, do hereby convene the Legislature of the State of Washington on Friday, August 1, 1986, at 10:00 a.m. in Special Session in the Capitol at Olympia for a period of no more than twenty-four hours for the sole purpose of considering legislation to place a referendum before the people pertaining to the process for selecting the State of Washington as a potential high level nuclear waste repository site.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Washington to be affixed at Olympia at 2:00 p.m., this 25th day of July, A.D., nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

(Seal)

BOOTH GARDNER.
Governor
POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Padden: "Mr. Speaker, does the Governor have the legal authority to limit the agenda of a Special Session to one item, and further, to limit the time of this legislature to meet to twenty-four hours?"

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Article II, Section 12 of the State Constitution provides that 'Special legislative sessions may be convened for a period of not more than thirty consecutive days by proclamation of the governor....' This section of the Constitution also provides that any specification of purpose for which the special session is called by the Governor '....shall be considered by the legislature but shall not be mandatory.' In answer to your point of parliamentary inquiry, consistent with the prior rulings of both Speaker Polk and Speaker O'Brien, the Speaker would rule that in accordance with the State Constitution, the Governor may not limit the subject this body may consider and may not restrict the legislature's time to act to less than thirty days."

The House advanced to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. J. King, the rules were suspended to allow consideration of House Floor Resolution No. 86-175.

Mr. Dellwo: "In section 2, subsection (5), the Governor, legislature and state officials would be directed to... pursue alliances with other states and interested parties, particularly with Pacific Northwest governors, legislatures, and other parties... affected by a repository at Hanford. Is 'other parties' intended to include affected Indian tribes?"

Mr. D. Nelson: "Yes. The Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982 clearly specifies that affected Indian tribes have an active role in the repository site selection process. This state has worked closely with the Yakima and Nez Perce Indian nations and the Confederated Umatilla tribes on this issue. This subsection urges that those activities continue and that alliances be pursued with any other affected Indian tribes that may be identified."

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES ON HOUSE BILLS
VETODO AND PARTIALLY VETODO

Forty-Ninth Legislature
1986 Regular and Special Session

April 3, 1986

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 5, Substitute House Bill No. 495, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the health, safety, and welfare of the confederated tribes of the Colville reservation; authorizing retrocession of jurisdiction over Indian lands; and adding new sections to Chapter 37.12 RCW."

This bill authorizes a procedure for the state to retrocede (return) partial criminal jurisdiction to the United States over the Colville Indian reservation. The primary purpose of this bill is to make possible the Colville Tribe's application for federal funds for law enforcement functions. Currently, sixteen other tribal reservations in Washington State are already under a partial state jurisdiction similar to what this bill will allow. However, section 5 requires the Colville tribe to express their desire for retrocession by a majority vote of its enrolled adult members during the next general tribal election. Through their legitimate, elected governing body, the Colville Business Council, the tribal members have already expressed their official support for retrocession. The elected Boards of Commissioners from both Ferry and Okanogan Counties have also officially endorsed retrocession. The strong tribal and local expressions of support for retrocession make the tribal election vote called for in Section 5 unnecessary and I have vetoed this section.

With the exception of section 5, Substitute House Bill No. 495 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor

April 4, 1986

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 1, 2 and 3, Substitute House Bill No. 573, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to claims arising from improvements upon real property."

Sections 1, 2 and 3 are identical to sections 701, 702 and 703 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630. Since I am signing Substitute Senate Bill No. 4630, sections 1, 2 and 3 of this bill are duplicative.

With the exception of sections 1, 2 and 3, Substitute House Bill No. 573 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor

April 3, 1986

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 7, Substitute House Bill No. 588, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to setting retirement system contribution rates."
Section 7 suspends the reclamation of pension benefits paid to a retiree who is still employed by the state. This section is nearly, but not exactly, identical to section 8 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 3182. To avoid confusion in the law, I have vetoed section 7 of this bill.

With the exception of section 7, Substitute House Bill No. 588 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor
April 3, 1986

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 4(9), Substitute House Bill No. 1134, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the Department of Social and Health Services."

Section 4(9) of this bill would permit Department of Social and Health Services employees injured by assault to receive retirement credit for their period of disability. Similar provisions are also contained in section 2 of Engrossed House Bill No. 1652. To avoid conflict between the two provisions, I have vetoed section 4(9).

With the exception of section 4(9), Substitute House Bill No. 1134 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor
April 3, 1986

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 10(1) and (2) of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1333, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the deferring or deleting of the proposed termination and repeal of agencies and programs."

Sections 10(1) and (2) would repeal the requirement that the Cemetery Board be subject to sunset review by the Legislature in 1987.

The Cemetery Board is an anomaly with respect to its organizational placement in state government. It is an independent state agency, whereas nearly every other business and occupational regulatory board is placed within a larger agency for administrative purposes. It is also a very small agency, with only one full-time employee.

I recently proposed to the Legislature that the Cemetery Board and two other similar boards be transferred to the Department of Licensing for administrative support. This consolidation proposal would have aligned the Cemetery Board with related regulatory programs such as pre-need sales, real estate, securities, and embalmers and funeral directors. In addition, the Cemetery Board could have taken advantage of the administrative support services offered by full-time personnel in the Department of Licensing.

The sunset review process will afford an excellent opportunity to review the organizational placement of the Cemetery Board. I, therefore, do not believe that this opportunity to systematically review the operations and organizational placement of the Board should be repealed.

With the exception of sections 10(1) and (2), Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1333 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor
April 1, 1986

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to four sections, Substitute House Bill No. 1355, entitled:
AN ACT Relating to the Department of Agriculture.

I am vetoing sections 3 and 4 because they duplicate language contained in Substitute Senate Bill No. 4769, sections 1 and 2.

I am vetoing sections 5 and 6 because they duplicate language contained in Substitute Senate Bill No. 4425 sections 1 and 2.

With the exception of Sections 3, 4, 5 and 6, the remainder of Substitute House Bill No. 1355 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor
April 2, 1986

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 3 in part of Substitute House Bill No. 1400, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to indeterminate sentencing."

This bill makes a number of changes relative to the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles, including its redesignation as the Indeterminate Sentencing Review Board. I am supportive of the bill.

However, one sentence in section 3 appears to be an anomaly and reads as follows: "However, the Governor may request nominations of qualified persons when filling vacancies in the Board after July 1, 1987." I have vetoed this sentence out of section 3 of the bill because its meaning is not clear. At the present time I do request nominations of qualified people when filling vacancies on the Board and the direction to start doing this after July 1, 1987, does not make sense. Leaving this sentence in the statute could only lead to confusing interpretations if someone were to question the meaning of this section.

With the exception of section 3 in part, Substitute House Bill No. 1400 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor
April 3, 1986

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 6, Substitute House Bill No. 1458, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to local boards of health and the department of social and health services enforcing laws relating to public water supply systems."

Section 6 of this bill would significantly expand the authority of administrative law judges, turning them into a new arm of the judiciary. These judges now have the authority to issue a proposed decision. This section would give them authority to make a final decision which could be appealed only to the courts.

This new authority is not necessary or justified. Section 6 would also create a new appeals process outside the provisions of the state's Administrative Procedure Act. The Administrative Procedure Act has made agency actions more uniform and this uniformity is more understandable to the state's citizens. For these reasons, I have vetoed section 6.

With the exception of section 6, Substitute House Bill No. 1458 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor
April 3, 1986

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to portions of section 4, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1587, entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to port district sponsored trade expansion projects."

In passing the federal Export Trading Company Act of 1982, Congress recognized that "ETCs will periodically have to engage in importing, barter, third party trade, and related activities." (See: Conference Report to accompany S. 734, Rept. No. 97-924, 97th Cong. 2nd Session (1982).)

Given this recognition of Export Trading Company functioning, the section 4(7) prohibition on importation of goods or products for in-state sale in competition with Washington grown, mined or produced products could prove to be economically crippling to the newly-created companies and could violate the purposes of the federal act, even though an import activity was incidental to an export trading company's principal exporting objectives and activity.

In addition, this section may violate federal trade treaties to which the United States is a signatory, such as the General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs. The section furthermore may be unconstitutional as it delegates legislative power to state agencies without sufficiently specific legislative standards.

The section would also be costly and difficult to implement for the following reasons:

1) In order to identify goods that compete with Washington products, the agencies named must identify all goods currently grown, produced or mined in Washington. This is a potentially overwhelming task.

2) The departments must be knowledgeable of all goods imported into the state under this section. Currently, no state system exists for collection and evaluation of this information.

3) The departments would have to make evaluations about competitiveness of all goods imported versus all goods currently grown, produced or mined in Washington. I do not believe these judgments are practical or appropriate for state agencies to make, given the lack of information and specific statutory direction as to what would be competition and how great the protection would be. The potential for conflict and disagreement would be high.

Clearly, the legislation's specific intent is to increase exports of Washington products and enhance export trade -- it is not the purpose of the new law to create outside competition for Washington State businesses.

I commend the Legislature for its wisdom and leadership in enacting legislation to allow ports to take advantage of the Export Trading Company Act; such ventures have been successful in other regions of the country.

Section 4(1)(b) would authorize port districts to enter into contracts, joint ventures, brokerage or other agreements. This provision is redundant and would cause confusion in the interpretation of the provision. Section 3(1) of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1587 provides the authority for port districts to establish export trading companies and to enter into contracts with other public and private organizations for the provision of services. Section 4(1)(b) of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1587 restates the same authority.

With the exception of sections 4(1)(b) and 4(7), Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1587 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 3(7)(c), Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1598, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to sexual offenders."

Section 3(7)(c) provides for post-prison community supervision for sex offenders if their crimes are committed after July 1, 1986, and their term of incarceration is at least one year. Violation of the terms of supervision would result in confinement to the county jail at state expense.

The determinate sentencing law, passed by the Legislature in 1981, was a clear departure from the system of indeterminate sentencing and long-term parole or post-release supervision. It is important for that process to be more fully implemented so that the criminal justice system can stabilize prior to such a significant and costly change in direction as would be provided for in section 3(7)(c).

I do not believe that a limited amount of supervision for sexual offenders is sufficient to ensure public safety, particularly when it may provide a rationale for shorter sentences or early release from prison. In addition, there are no studies that have shown supervision to be an effective deterrent to reoffenses.

However, a short period of supervised transition for all offenders as they re-enter the community from prison was indicated in the original determinate sentencing bill and may be an issue worth revisiting. As this section would not have taken effect until July 1, 1987, it is appropriate that this issue is reviewed in the next budget cycle. However, there are a number of issues in the correctional area that also merit review, such as job training conducted in the institutions and alcohol and drug treatment. I have therefore vetoed section 3(7)(c) of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1598.

With the exception of section 3(7)(c), Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1598 is approved.

Sincerely,
Booth Gardner, Governor

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:
I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 5 and 13,
Engrossed House Bill No. 1630, entitled:
“AN ACT Relating to health care service contractors.”

Sections 5 and 13 of this bill conflict with amendments to RCW 48.44.145 contained in Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3636. The amendments in Engrossed Senate Bill

No. 3636 are part of a new method of funding the Office of the Insurance Commissioner and are thus the appropriate amendments to RCW 48.44.145.

With the exception of sections 5 and 13, Engrossed House Bill 1630 is approved.
Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor
April 4, 1986

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:
I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 4, 5, 6, and 7 of House Bill No. 1633, entitled:
“AN ACT Relating to taxation of timber harvested by public entities.”

These sections of House Bill No. 1633 would give Christmas tree growers the tax status of farmers. Specifically, it would exempt Christmas tree plantations from the timber tax and exempt them from sales tax on seedlings, fertilizer, and other spray materials used in producing Christmas trees, as well as exempting them from the B & O tax.

In vetoing these sections, it is important to recognize that Washington already has a tax designed especially for the business of growing trees. Christmas trees are not food, and they are not used to build housing; they are luxury consumption items priced so that anyone can afford them.

The proponents of this measure argue that their tax status is a detriment to their competitive position in the interstate market, a market in which transportation costs are a dominant factor. While I believe that it is important for Washington to reexamine its tax structure in order to mitigate barriers to business development and to enhance the interstate and international competitiveness of our industries, I do not believe that tax policies are effective in offsetting primary business factors such as transportation costs. In addition, the competitive market for Christmas trees is not comparable to the “price taker” market faced by producers of agricultural products, in which suppliers of perishable products have greater difficulty in passing on any portion of their tax burden. Furthermore, I do not believe it is appropriate to extend a preferential tax status designed for producers of food to the producers of non-food luxuries simply for the purpose of improving a competitive market position, especially when this measure shows no promise of producing additional jobs for Washington.

With the exception of sections 4 through 7, House Bill No. 1633 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor
April 3, 1986

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to one section, House Bill No. 1647, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the sunset termination and repeal of the public disclosure commission, of the powers and duties of the commission, and of the programs administered or enforced by the commission."

Section 3 of this bill would have restricted registered lobbyists from serving as executive state officers as that term is defined by RCW 42.17.2401 in the Public Disclosure Act. I do not believe that there has been a demonstrated need for this legislation or that the far-reaching effects have been recognized. Leaving this provision in the legislation would exclude persons who are appointed to any of the many boards or commissions of this state. Most of these positions are part-time and only minimally compensated by expense reimbursement. In this regard, section 3 would unfairly restrict the activities of those who serve on the state's boards of regents, boards of trustees and the numerous other boards and commissions.

With the exception of section 3, House Bill No. 1647 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor
April 3, 1986

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to a portion of Substitute House Bill No. 1678, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to telephone solicitations."

The last sentence of Substitute House Bill No. 1678 section 2(5), page 3, lines one and two, which requires the Attorney General to take action on second and subsequent violations by a company, conflicts with the first sentence of the same subsection which is permissive.

The legislation sets forth a scheme for controlling telephone solicitations. It sets standards for commercial telephone solicitations and allows consumers to remove their names from lists used to make these telephone calls.

Section 2(5) of the legislation deals with enforcement and is intended to give the Attorney General the discretion needed to enforce violations of the law. However, the last sentence of section 2(5) conflicts with that intent by requiring the Attorney General to take action on second and subsequent violations. I believe this unnecessarily limits the Attorney General's ability to determine the proper cause of action under the bill.

With the exception of the last sentence of section 2(5), Substitute House Bill No. 1678 is approved.
Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 23, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1687, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to private vocational schools."

Section 23 of this bill would create an advisory committee whose members serve as advisors in implementing this bill and for other liaison purposes as the Commission for Vocational Education determines. Boards, commissions, committees, task forces and similar entities have proliferated in this state, now numbering over 400 bodies. While many of these existing entities were created to serve useful purposes, the needs of the state change over time. Since these entities are specified in statute, they often persist beyond their period of usefulness. Statutory entities lack the flexibility to adapt to changing conditions since an entity designed to serve one purpose cannot change to meet new or different needs without legislative approval.

I have also found that it is difficult to abolish statutory entities that have outlived their usefulness. State agencies, moreover, generally have the authority to create ad hoc advisory groups as the need arises. This authority makes it unnecessary to create advisory committees in statute. For these reasons, I have vetoed section 23.

A veto of the entire bill was considered because I have strong reservations about the assignment of this legislation to the Commission for Vocational Education. Additional duties should not be given to an agency that will begin the sunset process on June 30, 1986. My approval of this bill should not give the impression that I favor strengthening or expanding the duties of the Commission for Vocational Education. However, students attending proprietary schools need the protections and safeguards provided in the bill.

With the exception of section 23, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1687 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor
April 3, 1986

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to several sections, Substitute House Bill No. 1709, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to consolidation of agencies into the department of community development."

This bill would consolidate the Office of Archaeology and Historic Preservation, the Department of Emergency Management, and the Fire Protection Board into the Department of Community Development. The original bill was introduced at my request in order to consolidate programs that deal with local government officials. I also encouraged this bill in order to reduce the number of executive agencies and to achieve better efficiencies by centralized support services. However, a number of partial vetoes are necessary to perfect the measure.

Sections 46 and 47 of Substitute House Bill No. 1709 would amend the Sunset Act provisions affecting the Office of Archaeology and Historic Preservation. Since I intend to sign the portion of Substitute House Bill 1333 that will repeal the same statute, I have vetoed sections 46 and 47 of Substitute House Bill 1709 to avoid a double amendment situation.

I have also vetoed portions of section 55 that would have put several officials on the State Fire Protection Policy Board as nonvoting ex-officio members. These members included the Governor, the Commissioner of Public Lands, the Insurance Commissioner, the Chair of the Commission for Vocational Education and the Director of Fire Protection. The latter official will, in fact, serve as the primary staff person for the Board, so it is inappropriate that he/she serve as a voting member. I believe the other officials will monitor the Board's activities with appropriate staff. Also, having the officials on the Board as ex-officio members makes the Board unnecessarily large.

Finally, I have vetoed section 140 so that the transfer of the Office of Archaeology and Historic Preservation and the Department of Emergency Management to the Department of Community Development can take place in June 1986 rather than in January 1987. The departments indicate the change can be accomplished earlier and the delay is not necessary.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 46, 47, 55 in part, and 140. With the exception of these vetoes, Substitute House Bill No. 1709 has been approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor

March 22, 1986

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:
I am returning herewith, without my approval as to one provision, Substitute House Bill No. 1754, entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to economic development."

I strongly support this bill’s intent to strengthen the State’s commitment to stimulating employment and job-creating private investment, particularly in economically distressed areas, as well as to encourage companies that receive State economic development assistance to hire job applicants from among the unemployed and welfare recipients.

This bill makes certain needed changes in existing legislation which provides for the deferral of sales tax on eligible investments in manufacturing facilities and equipment. The majority of these changes are reasonable and are supported by our experience to date with these programs.

However, I am vetoing that portion of Section 9(4) that would limit the sales tax deferral granted to firms making eligible investments in the state for the first time to a total amount not exceeding $300,000 per new full-time employment position created. This proposed limitation is not a part of the existing sales tax deferral statute for eligible first-time investments by manufacturing and research and development firms. Although I believe that creating new jobs is one important policy objective for the State’s sales tax deferral programs, I am concerned that enactment of this particular limitation would conflict with another important program objective—namely, to enhance the Washington’s competitiveness with other states in attracting certain industries for which this state possesses distinct strategic advantages. Washington is one of the few states that taxes capital expenditures and thereby significantly increases entry costs here compared to other states with whom this State competes for new investment.

Our experience with the program thus far has demonstrated that the limitation proposed in this bill would significantly reduce the number of industries that Washington could pursue to strategically diversity and expand our economic base. In particular, this limitation would make it more difficult to attract the more capital intensive, higher value-added, industries that tend to provide higher wage employment. Industries of this type are critical to raising Washington incomes and stimulating spin-off employment and growth in new industries.
Therefore, with the exception of that portion of Section 9(4) which I have vetoed, Substitute House Bill No. 1754 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to certain portions, Substitute House Bill No. 1950, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to medical malpractice."

The last sentence of section 2 would require Assistant Attorneys General assigned to the Medical Disciplinary Board to be subject to Board approval and to work under the Board's control. Section 3 would require investigators to be assigned solely to the Board and to be subject to the Board's approval. Both provisions are being vetoed.

Designation and supervision of full-time staff is not the duty of a part-time board. It is better performed by the staff of the administrative agency, in this case the Department of Licensing. If staffing problems arise, the Board should be able to work them out with the support agency, as a number of other boards presently do. One of the benefits of having a part-time board staffed by a larger administrative agency is that the agency can adjust workloads and tasks so that employees are efficiently utilized. To assign attorneys and investigators to only one board could result in inefficiencies and would prevent pooling of valuable personnel resources.

For these reasons I have vetoed the last sentence of section 2 and all of section 3. The remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 2, Substitute House Bill No. 1972, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to self-insurance."

Groups of local governments are presently authorized to pool for self-insurance, or purchase insurance, for liability coverage. Section 1 of Substitute House Bill No. 1972 extends that authority to include property replacement insurance, which I strongly support.

Property insurance lines are stable and profitable. Inclusion of property coverage as a part of local government pools should help them to attract commercial insurance packages that include the more volatile liability insurance coverages as well. The state's insurance code provides for the effective regulation of local government insurance pools by the Office of the Insurance Commissioner.

However, section 2 of Substitute House Bill No. 1972 seeks to exempt from the state insurance code both "fraternal benefit societies" that organize to self-insure against property and liability claims, as well as "cooperatives" which organize to self-insure against officer and director liability claims. I strongly oppose these two proposed exemptions. Unlike the local government insurance pools referenced in section 1 of the bill, the proposed exemption of "fraternal benefit societies" and "cooperatives" would effectively authorize a class of self-insurers operating totally outside the purview of the insurance code. The insurance code contains safeguards such as requirements for capital reserves, reinsurance and guaranty association protection. These safeguards protect both the self-insurer and those members of the general public who deal with the self-insurer. Exempting groups from these requirements is unwarranted.

In contrast to the approach proposed in section 2 of Substitute House Bill No. 1972, the state insurance code already provides the means by which such groups may form conventional insurance organizations with the appropriate financial and procedural safeguards.

With the exception of section 2, Substitute House Bill No. 1972 is approved.

To the Honorable, the House
of Representatives of the
State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 11(3), Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2021, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to managed health care."

Section 11 of this bill permits the Director of Financial Management to establish within the Office of Financial Management a health care cost containment program. The section also authorizes the Director to take other actions to control the cost of health care purchased by state agencies. I support wholeheartedly this effort to control costs. The bill, however, does not provide any funds for the creation of the cost containment program. Most of section 11 is permissive, giving the Director of Financial Management the flexibility necessary to undertake those aspects of the program that can be accomplished without funding. Subsection (3), however, is a mandatory reporting requirement that involves significant amounts of staff time and other resources, which are not available. For this reason, I have vetoed section 11(3).

With the exception of section 11(3), Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2021 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
Booth Gardner, Governor
