The House of Representatives of the 1988 Regular Session of the Fiftieth Legislature was called to order at 12:00 noon by the Speaker, Joseph E. King.

The Speaker requested the Sergeant at Arms to escort the members to seats on the floor of the House. The members were preceded by Pipers Wally Clark D.M., John Lumsden P.M., Peter Rolstad P.M., Jack Donaldson and Jack Montgomery P.M.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by the Honor Guard of the Washington State Patrol, Troopers Mark Brown, Jim Foster and Ken Przygocki.

Prayer was offered by The Reverend Richard Hart of the First Baptist Church of Olympia:

Heavenly Father, there is always a certain overwhelming feeling of awe and wonderment that fills my being as I climb the steps of this great building, enter the doors of this House Chamber, and become aware again that I stand in the midst of freedom at its very best. There is a sense of joy and excitement in the newness which surrounds us today. The opening of a new session at the beginning of another year, a new opportunity to search for solutions to some very difficult problems. A new determination to fulfill promises made months ago, and a newly and beautifully decorated chamber in which to work. We give thanks for it all and for the privilege of being Your servants and the servants of the people of this great state. As we move through this day and on into the heart of the work before us, we ask that You will save each of us from dull routineness that slowly but surely destroys our creative enthusiasm for dealing with those issues and concerns which need our prime effort. Free us from just going through the motions even when we pray at the beginning of each day here in the House. And then, O Lord, because these are obviously days of tough negotiations and compromise is inevitable, grant to these our elected representatives the ability to understand and to accept that which cannot be changed, the perception of and determination to work with that which can be changed, and the wisdom to know the difference. And then our prayer. O Lord, in the midst of all the pressure, tension and long hours demanded in order to get the job done, is that You would let them hear clearly that there are those of us who really do care about them as individuals. Amen.

Prayer was followed by the performance of "Amazing Grace" by John Lumsden P.M. and vocalist Jan Stentz.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Smith: Ladies and gentlemen of the House of Representatives, today I handed to the Speaker an invitation from the City of Ellensburg which I would like inserted into the record. To explain what was said and what the invitation is all about, it was just one hundred years ago on this date, the first day of the first week of 1888, that an admissions convention was held in Ellensburg at the Old County Courthouse which still stands today. This convention of citizens was made up of people from all over the state and had ambitions to go back to Congress to ask that the Territory of Washington become a state.

A year from now, in January, we will be celebrating that one hundredth anniversary. Ellensburg wanted to be a part of this, so yesterday Representative Chandler and myself and Senator Hansen met a posse and a group of citizens from the Kittitas/Ellensburg area along with those from Thurston County. A group of horsemen rode into the Capitol Building and presented the First Lady of our state a handmade leather pouch which had in it the invitation to her and Governor Gardner to attend this ceremony next year, January 3rd through the 7th, in Ellensburg. At that same time we received the invitation to present to the House of Representatives. It has been my honor to give this to the Speaker and to read this into the record.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Chandler: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I appreciate the opportunity to add my few comments to the invitation to all of you to visit Ellensburg on the 3rd through the 7th of this coming January. I don't know how many of you know it, but the City of Ellensburg came quite close to being the State Capital. If it would have been, you would have been enjoying about 20–25 degree weather this morning. So I think that would really wake us up, make us really get in and work a little harder, Mr. Speaker, and get our job over with. We wouldn't have any problem in getting out in sixty days at all. We are planning a big event and would certainly appreciate all of you attending that event from the 3rd through the 7th.

The Clerk read the following invitation:

To the Members of the Washington State House of Representatives

The Honor of Your Company is requested at the Centennial Celebration of the Washington State Admissions Convention in Ellensburg, Washington by the people of the City of Ellensburg and the State of Washington Tuesday, the Third of January through Saturday, the Seventh of January Nineteen Hundred Eighty-Nine

Janiece Cook, Mayor City of Ellensburg

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The special committee appointed under the provisions of House Concurrent Resolution No. 4428 appeared at the bar of the House and reported that they had notified the Governor that the Legislature was organized and ready to conduct business.

The report was received and the committee was discharged.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Ms. Hine: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I think it would be fitting that we take a moment and look around us at the absolutely beautiful job that has been done in our Chambers. I think it has brightened it and has made it look absolutely elegant. I'm certain that our behavior here will reflect that kind of improvement in decor. Also, notice that those beautiful gold eagles are up there. Most of didn't even notice that they were there before. If we saw them, we thought they were vultures. I would like to point out that they are indeed eagles and maybe that also will influence our behavior here. I think that a word of thanks to those who had the foresight and vision for this kind of massive restoration of our gorgeous Capitol Building and that we are now able to begin our session in these beautiful surroundings deserve a round of applause and thanks from all of us.

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease.
The Speaker called the House to order.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE FROM SENATE

A special committee from the Senate, consisting of Senators L. Smith, West, Madsen and McMullen, appeared at the bar of the House and reported that the Senate was organized and ready to conduct business.

The report was received and the special committee returned to the Senate.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The special committee appointed under the terms of House Floor Resolution No. 88-4710 appeared at the bar of the House and reported that they had notified the Senate that the House of Representatives was organized and ready to conduct business.

The report was received and the special committee was discharged.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Ebersole: Thank you Mr. Speaker. I wanted to take this opportunity to say to the other side of the aisle that we hope to have a productive and cooperative session. We think there is opportunity to pass some significant legislation to reform campaign financing, to come up with some well-reasoned nuclear energy policy, and to establish a liveable minimum wage for the citizens of the state. We look forward to working cooperatively with you. We've had a good relationship in the past. We've all become fairly good friends and we are aware that we have much more in common than we have differences. We all have a great respect for this enduring institution and we are all humbled by the experience to serve in a representative assembly in a free and open democracy. That's a privilege that very few people on earth enjoy and we all want to leave our children with a more stable, compassionate, productive society than we now know. With those words we look forward to working with you and to working with our colleagues across the rotunda, to their leaders over there who are directing their activity. We look forward to a good session.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Ms. Brough: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I wish to rise and welcome all of us back to Olympia with a special warm welcome to our new colleagues. We, too, believe that this will be a productive session. We plan to work together for the good of the people of this state. We understand that we have differences. My colleague across the aisle has mentioned some major agenda items. We, too, have issues that we feel must be addressed. Chief among these are tax reform and spending reform. The welfare of the people in this state depends upon how we deal with these issues. Postponement of discussion of these issues is not the approach that is needed. This is a nonbudget writing year for us; it is the year when we have the time to focus on the major items of tax reform and spending reform.

We have additional issues that we wish to address this session as well. The one party consent bill that is so absolutely needed to help with the growing drug problem in our cities. The child rape statute reform—we worked on that last year and there was much, very bitter partisan discussion on that. I think that we have a solution to offer to you that is probably one of the best efforts of this House. The Representative from the 37th District and I put together an ad hoc committee over the period of the summer and we have worked a good solution to the child rape problem. Bipartisan cooperation can work. Another issue that we really need to have before us is a very full and open discussion on privatization. This is a very significant tool that we can use to have the best return for our taxpayers' dollars in this state. I could mention other issues, but I'll save them for another few speeches in the following few days. But most importantly, we have to be able to blend our ideas and to have all sides of an issue participate in reaching workable, positive solutions. I welcome you back and we will look forward to the work. Thank you.
MOTION

On motion of Mr. Ebersole, the House adjourned until 5:00 p.m., Tuesday, January 12, 1988.

JOSEPH E. KING, Speaker

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS
BY GOVERNOR BOOTH GARDNER

Governor Gardner: Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, distinguished Justices of the Supreme Court, Members of the Legislature, honored elected officials and fellow citizens of the State of Washington: Tonight marks the beginning of my fourth year on the job. The long hours that come with this job seldom give you the time you’d like to have with your family. I am fortunate to have an understanding and equally hardworking partner, my wife Jean. She is co-chairing the Centennial celebration with Secretary of State Ralph Munro, and devoting countless hours to improving the quality of children’s television and family viewing practices. I don’t say it often enough, but I’ll say it tonight—thank you, Jean, this job would be impossible without you.

In six days, our state will join the nation in celebrating the birthday of a truly great American. Dr. Martin Luther King never held public office. He was not interested in accumulating wealth. He had something much greater, much stronger than position or riches—he had a dream, and an unparalleled ability to articulate that dream. His dream was dedicated to the ideals of freedom and justice for all. It was a dream based on his desire to leave the world a better place for our children. Let us use the occasion of Dr. King’s 59th birthday, not only to remember the man and his many contributions, but also to recommit ourselves to a common purpose. Let us use this opportunity to remember the importance of having a dream. A vision that we use to measure all of our actions. An overriding vision, like Dr. King’s, that places children at the top of this state’s social agenda. Many children are at serious risk today because the structure that historically supports them—family, education and the economy—is undergoing dramatic change. We must make sure that our children are not victims of this change.

Which brings me to tonight’s topic, my vision for Washington’s future. A future that is only as healthy and as bright as our children. It is a vision that is probably shared by everyone of us in this room. I dream of an education system that is the finest in the world, of a safe and clean environment, of a government that is a waste-free service organization, one that can provide vital services wherever they are needed. I hope for a business climate that offers employment to every citizen that wants a job, because the best welfare program is a job. I hope for a strengthening of the family, because the best social service system in the world is a strong, healthy family.

This isn’t just my dream; it’s the dream of people throughout this state. In Othello and Sedro Woolley, Sunnyside and Port Angeles, and countless other communities across our state, I have heard people articulate this dream. From the day care center operator in Mt. Vernon, struggling to make ends meet, to the unemployed logger in Raymond wanting to go back to work, to a farmer in Ritzville with bushels of surplus wheat on the ground, I have heard this dream. We all have different needs and aspirations. But, there is one dream, one concern we all share. And that is a concern for our children, an overwhelming desire to provide them with an even richer quality of life, and greater opportunity to succeed, than we enjoy today. Achieving this dream will take time and effort, cooperation and commitment. Here in Washington, we are blessed with a solid foundation for making our dreams a reality.

Tonight I’m going to give you an open appraisal of the state of our state. On balance, we are in fairly good economic condition. I say on balance, because there is both good and bad. There is still hunger, poverty and illiteracy in Washington. Walk the streets of any city in this state, visit a crowded mission, go to a mill town where they have twenty percent unemployment, and you will better understand that the challenge of offering the American dream to every citizen is still a distant goal. We have thirty-nine counties in this State. Twenty-one, over half, meet the definition of economically "distressed areas." In Washington, D.C., those numbers are statistics. In Washington State, those numbers represent real human beings, with real human needs. The challenge is to help provide the opportunity for every one of us to make the most of our lives.

There is reason for optimism tonight. Statewide employment in 1987 hit an all-time high. For the first time in our state's history, we employ over two million people. Unemployment hit its lowest annual average since 1980. The timber industry is once again growing, and our aerospace industry is coming off a record breaking year. Despite growing national trade deficits, our exports are up. Our number one industry, agriculture, is coming off a generally good year and the promise of an even better year in 1988 is on the horizon. Washington farmers are diversifying their crops and are finding new markets in Asia and around the world. Finally, we have a developing advanced technology industry that is rapidly moving Washington to the cutting edge of world research and technology—technologies that will not only provide more jobs, but have a major influence in keeping our natural resource industries, like timber and agriculture, competitive.

Those are a few of the reasons why I speak with optimism tonight. But much of my optimism comes as a result of what we've been able to accomplish over the last three years. Accomplishments that were the result of a collective effort by all of us, including legislators, concerned citizens and state employees. Everything we have accomplished has occurred because we were able to replace partisanship with partnership. And that continues to be our challenge—to raise the policy debate beyond petty partisanship, to a plateau that will allow us to focus on the future. We must find, through debate, discussion and disagreement, a common ground and the courage to do whatever it takes to get us there.

Since the first day of my administration, I have had three goals, all critical to the future of our state. They are quality education, a clean and safe environment, and economic opportunity for all Washington citizens.

Education is the fuel that propels democracy. The most important investment a state can make is in its human resources. And the best time to make that investment is at the front end of a person's life. Without quality education a child faces overwhelming odds against success. It is literally like trying to run a fifty-yard dash with one hundred pound weights on your ankles. You'll be lucky to finish, let alone win. If you find that hard to believe, go down to your local jail, go to your local drug abuse center, go to your welfare office and ask how many of them have a high school diploma. During the past three years, we have embarked on the most ambitious education effort this state has ever seen. We created, funded and then doubled a state early childhood education program for children in poverty, and we reduced class sizes in kindergarten through third grade. We provided funding for dropout prevention, as well as drug and alcohol abuse prevention programs. We've established new competency test requirements and we've increased salaries for beginning teachers. We increased higher education salaries to stop the brain drain from our colleges and universities, and have embarked on the largest construction and renovation program in the history of the community college system. And, with our ground breaking Schools for the 21st Century program and a higher education master plan, we are establishing a road map that will lead the entire state's education system into the 21st Century.

We still have a long way to go. Last year was not the end of our educational improvement efforts. It was a tremendous beginning to a long-term effort which, we all hope, will lead to the day when our school system is the best in the country. Our children must leave our school system with the ability to think critically and self teach. Further, we must instill in our children a respect for human dignity, give them a sense of history, explain to them the responsibilities of living in a democracy, and make sure that they recognize the importance of honesty, integrity and hard work. Our future as a state is only as bright as our children. That's why we put education in its rightful position as the number-one priority.

Washington is probably the most environmentally conscious state in the country. And the reason is as obvious as Mount Rainier. Our natural environment is one of the most breathtaking in the world. It is an environment that is critical to our quality of life, to our economy, to our future.

But it is a natural heritage at constant risk. For too long the environment was taken for granted. Raw sewage was poured into our waterways, chemicals were used on our forests and fields without discretion, and garbage was dumped wherever it was convenient. Now we recognize that those practices have endangered our way of life. Today we are taking swift and sure action to turn the tide on yesterday's environmental mistakes. Through careful planning we can balance economic goals and environmental protection. But, when balancing the two concerns, the scale must always tip in the direction of the environment. We owe that to our children.

We have achieved many environmental successes. We have established ongoing financing to clean and protect our state's valuable water resources—from Puget Sound to the Spokane Aquifer. We have established a state superfund law which is expediting cleanup of hundreds of hazardous waste hotspots all over Washington. And, even more importantly, the bill funds a prevention program that will enable us to avoid new hazardous waste problems in the years to come. We have reached an historic Timber, Fish and Wildlife Agreement, an alliance among environmentalists, fishing interests, the timber industry and Indian tribes to protect and improve our rivers, our streams and our wildlife. And, with a strong, unified voice, we helped persuade the federal government to take Washington off their list as a site for the nation's high-level nuclear waste repository.

Economic development. Every single one of our economic development programs is based on one simple truth, "Washington won't work, if her people aren't working." We've created a welfare reform program for family independence, which is the model in this country, one that will improve the lives of countless children in poverty and give their parents the dignity and economic stability of employment. I am pleased to report that the program was approved by Congress, the only state program approved by Congress. And, with the help of this Legislature, the Family Independence Program will begin on schedule later this year. We authorized and have begun work on agricultural trade centers in Spokane and Yakima. And we have significantly expanded our efforts to market Washington products abroad. We have created economic development incentives for businesses, in-state as well as out-of-state. Incentives that have already led to investments in areas such as Anacortes, Goldendale, Longview, Pend Oreille County, Port Angeles, Chehalis, and many other communities across the state. Investments which have saved or created jobs. Jobs that preserve the stability for countless Washington families.

In addition to these successes, we have made other gains in other areas. The Legislature created a pilot health-care program for those who cannot afford health-care coverage, the first program of its kind in this country. We have improved consumer protection laws and strengthened penalties for numerous crimes from drunk driving to child abuse and we will continue to strengthen them. We have also taken numerous steps to cut waste out of government. One simple fact. If we are effectively to provide critical services in the years to come, we must spend the taxpayers' money as wisely and as efficiently as possible.

I could spend this entire speech listing other steps we've taken to improve government services and efficiency. Instead, I've given each legislator a list of some of our major improvement efforts over the last three years. And I extend an invitation to everyone watching tonight to write or call my office for your own copy. These accomplishments make an impressive foundation for our future. Our challenge is to continue building on that foundation and to do so within existing revenues.

During this session I am proposing that we increase penalties for sex crimes involving children, including child rape. The bill recognizes that many criminals don’t use force to intimidate a defenseless child into a sex act. This legislation is a moral imperative for 1988. Further, I'm asking the Legislature for one million dollars to finance AIDS education in our schools, other public education efforts and to finance case management recommendations that came from the AIDS Task Force. It is absolutely necessary to do all we can, within fiscal reality, to ensure that our children, and the general public, fully understand this deadly virus. And I am submitting a bill that will allow the state to supervise intensely some of the most hardened and dangerous criminals, including sex offenders, murderers and drug dealers. Currently, the state has no authority to monitor them after they are released from prison. That must change, and that will change, with the passage of this bill. There are numerous other items that deserve attention this session. They include the state employees health benefits system, wetlands protection and restoring funds to fight forest fires. Each of these items is important.

As I mentioned earlier, I spend a great deal of time with private citizens across this state. One thing is clear, they are tired of partisan, squabbling politics. They want a state government that will see beyond the end of its political nose—the next election. They want leaders who are willing to set priorities, to make tough choices and to prepare this state for the future. Tonight let us commit ourselves, and this legislative session, to a common purpose, to a general good. Let us judge legislation by how it affects our future as a state. The choices we make during the next few years will dramatically influence Washington’s position in the years to come. Let us use the occasion of Washington’s Centennial Celebration to reflect upon the past and to redouble our efforts to establish our state as an international trade center for the Pacific. Let us use the Pacific Celebration activities to promote Pacific Rim cultural and political exchanges and international friendship. Let us use our 100th birthday celebration to step up to the challenges that will influence the second century—challenges such as successfully competing in a rapidly expanding global economy. We know that to succeed in the 21st Century, we have to have a quality education system, because our kids in this state are not competing against kids from Oregon and Idaho for jobs. They are competing for jobs against children from countries like Japan, Korea, West Germany and Canada.

One man who fully understood this challenge was Western Washington University’s President, Bob Ross. His vision, his dedication resulted in Western’s recent selection as one of the finest universities in the country. In Bob’s memory I would like to announce tonight the formation of the G. Robert Ross Memorial Scholarship to assist talented community college graduates to recognize their dreams of a four-year college education. I encourage businesses and individuals to join me in contributing to this worthy cause.

We must develop a viable transportation system in this state. Our traffic problems, which are already interminable, will do nothing but get worse as we progress into the next century. I want to see the day when we can walk down the steps of this building and step onto a mass transit system which will take us to Tacoma, Seattle and beyond. Planning isn’t enough. In the not-so-distant future it will be mandatory that we build a rail system that spans most, if not all, of the I-5 corridor.

We must prepare for a rapidly growing senior citizen population. We must find better ways to utilize the skills, the perspectives that their vast experience provides. Tonight I want to announce the formation of Washington’s Senior Environmental Corps. There is a large reservoir of talented, retired individuals who are committed to the protection of the environment. The Corps would be made up of retired persons willing to serve as park guides, scientific researchers, and visiting teachers in our schools.

And now, a final challenge, one that I know you’ve all heard me talk about before, and you’ll hear again—it is time we have a reasoned, bipartisan discussion about how this state collects and spends revenue. In other words, tax and spending reform. I don’t believe anyone would seriously argue that our current tax system is a good one. Any tax system that puts the greatest burden on those least able to pay is a bad system. And that is exactly what ours does. It discriminates against middle income families and those on fixed incomes. Let me give you an example: In Washington State a person making $90,000 a year pays approximately three percent of his or her total income in state taxes, while a person making $20,000 a year pays on the average nine percent. That’s unfair. But our tax system is more than unfair. It’s a tremendous handicap to our economic development efforts. Think about this for a moment: Before a new business makes a single dollar in this state, we are already collecting taxes from it. That’s not right, and it is an obvious disincentive for doing business in this state.

Our tax system has not withstood the test of scrutiny in nearly fifteen years, and that is too long. It is time we take an exhaustive, bipartisan look at that system. Going into the process, there must be no sacred cows. Every part of our current tax system must be placed on the table. Each of us must drop our own personal favorite tax proposal, and pledge commitment to a process that leads to reform that is in everyone's best interest. There should be few restrictions on reform, but I will only support tax reform that meets these standards: We do not use tax reform to raise taxes. Any tax reform package must substantially improve our state's overall business climate. And when I say business climate, I'm not talking about corporate profit margins. I'm talking about jobs, new jobs, well-paying jobs. We must squarely address the issue of government spending controls and develop firm limits on tax rates. And we must create a system that doesn't require constant tinkering and more and more nuisance taxes.

Tonight I ask you to join this debate. Next to a quality education system we can do nothing that will have greater impact on Washington's economic future. And that challenge isn't limited to elected officials. It commands the effort of every citizen in this state. Tonight I ask every person watching to accept that challenge. Don't for one minute believe that you can't impact the direction of this state. You can. The decisions we make during the next few years will in large measure influence our second one hundred years.

Tonight by asking you to help me I'm not suggesting you agree with every element of my agenda. I only ask that you actively participate in a discussion of where we need to go, to ensure that our future is bright. We are all Washington citizens. We might not agree on the same path to the future. But we all share a goal of a secure future. A future that provides children an even greater quality of life than we enjoy today. A future that is safe and liveable for all. And the wings of dreams and goals and ideals. That's our challenge. I hope you'll help.

Good night and best wishes for a prosperous 1988.

The bill was read the second time.

Mr. Vekich moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Vekich and B. Williams:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 4. chapter 27. Laws of 1981 and RCW 7.72.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A product manufacturer is subject to liability to a claimant if the claimant's harm was proximately caused by the negligence of the manufacturer in that the product was not reasonably safe as designed or not reasonably safe because adequate warnings or instructions were not provided.

(a) A product is not reasonably safe as designed, if, at the time of manufacture, the likelihood that the product would cause the claimant's harm or similar harms, and the seriousness of those harms, outweighed the burden on the manufacturer to design a product that would have prevented those harms and the adverse effect that an alternative design that was practical and feasible would have on the usefulness of the product: PROVIDED, That a firearm or ammunition shall not be deemed defective in design on the basis that the benefits of the product do not outweigh the risk of injury posed by its potential to cause serious injury, damage, or death when discharged.

(b) A product is not reasonably safe because adequate warnings or instructions were not provided with the product, if, at the time of manufacture, the likelihood that the product would cause the claimant's harm or similar harms, and the seriousness of those harms, rendered the warnings or instructions of the manufacturer inadequate and the manufacturer could have provided the warnings or instructions which the claimant alleges would have been adequate.

(c) A product is not reasonably safe because adequate warnings or instructions were not provided after the product was manufactured where a manufacturer learned or where a reasonably prudent manufacturer should have learned about a danger connected with the product after it was manufactured. In such a case, the manufacturer is under a duty to act with regard to issuing warnings or instructions concerning the danger in the manner that a reasonably prudent manufacturer would act in the same or similar circumstances. This duty is satisfied if the manufacturer exercises reasonable care to inform product users.

(2) A product manufacturer is subject to strict liability to a claimant if the claimant's harm was proximately caused by the fact that the product was not reasonably safe in construction or not reasonably safe because it did not conform to the manufacturer's express warranty or to the implied warranties under Title 62A RCW.

(a) A product is not reasonably safe in construction if, when the product left the control of the manufacturer, the product deviated in some material way from the design specifications or performance standards of the manufacturer, or deviated in some material way from otherwise identical units of the same product line.

(b) A product does not conform to the express warranty of the manufacturer if it is made part of the basis of the bargain and relates to a material fact or facts concerning the product and the express warranty proved to be untrue.

(c) Whether or not a product conforms to an implied warranty created under Title 62A RCW shall be determined under that title.

(3) In determining whether a product was not reasonably safe under this section, the trier of fact shall consider whether the product was unsafe to an extent beyond that which would be contemplated by the ordinary consumer."

Mr. Vekich spoke in favor of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Vekich yielded to question by Mr. Lewis.

Mr. Lewis: I just received this on my desk. Is it your understanding that in this striking amendment, the only changes are on lines 30 through 35, the underlined portion to the bill, or is this a substantive change to the bill as was passed?

Mr. Vekich: It's not a substantive change. The underlying bill deals with a grey area in the law where a litigant could possibly bring suit, that a gun by its nature is a defective weapon—the fact that someone can shoot somebody else. The litigant, the victim, could then sue the firearms' manufacturer, not the perpetrator of the crime. That's the grey area that was found by the National Rifle Association. The amendment is the response by that organization and by the Trial Lawyers' Association to be sure that they were not exempting firearms that were faultily manufactured during the manufacturing process.

Mr. Lewis: All parties, including the NRA, have agreed to this?

Mr. Vekich: Absolutely.

The amendment was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Vekich, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "ammunition:" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 7.72.030."

The bill was ordered engrossed. On motion of Mr. Vekich, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Vekich yielded to question by Mr. Nelson.

Mr. Nelson: Now that we have amended this bill, could you tell the body how the original bill differs from the amendment?

Mr. Vekich: The original bill never talked about actual manufacturer of a firearm. Now we are clearly saying that a faultily manufactured firearm is not covered under the bill.

Mr. Nelson: For those of us who are not familiar with the original bill in detail, what did the original bill cover then?

Mr. Vekich: The original bill dealt with the ability of a litigant to bring a cause of action against a firearms' manufacturing company because a criminal shot somebody with that firearm. It's a response to a case in the State of Maryland, where a very enterprising attorney was able to convince the judge and a court that a gun, by the nature of its being able to shoot somebody, was a negligent product and a faulty product and was able to get recovery in the state's product liability suit. In response to that case most courts have overturned and distinguished it, but there is a concern that this sort of harassment case will be raised in other states. The bill is in response to that.

Mr. Nelson: Do I understand then that the amendment broadens the exemption from liability compared to the original bill?

Mr. Vekich: That is not my understanding at all.

Representative Nelson spoke against passage of the bill, and Representatives Meyers and Vekich spoke in favor of it.

She just returned yesterday afternoon and will be here with us for the rest of the session. She is my seatmate and everyone else's good friend. That's Katie Allen. I'd like to welcome her back.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Braddock yielded to question by Mr. Sanders.

Mr. Sanders: Representative Braddock, the summary on our bill says that this would allow the final six months to be on work release. If the offender has not spent his time in jail that he was required by the judge, would he still be able to spend that time in jail during the last six months? Some sentences require the offender to spend ten days of his six-month sentence in jail, and sometimes the judge will allow that ten days to be during the final period of work release. Is this enabling legislation or is it mandatory?

Mr. Braddock: To your question is it enabling, it would in some instances reduce the amount of time that person spends behind the walls in prison, but it does not change the amount of time they are under department custody. It just extends from three months to six months the amount of time they may be in work release.

Mr. Sanders: Thank you. I hope that this would still allow the judge some discretion on when the offender would spend his time in jail.

Mr. Braddock: This would not alter that position.

It's a girl—that's kind of a rarity in our family. That makes our eleventh grandchild, and our twelfth one is expected almost any day now. The only difference is that it'll be a little bit older than this one is when it arrives, because it's coming from Korea. That'll be number twelve, and it's also a girl, so that will add to the female population. I'm sure all you ladies will appreciate that.

Mr. Armstrong moved adoption of the following amendment: Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following: NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature intends, in establishing a child support schedule, to insure that child support orders are adequate to meet a child's basic needs and to provide additional child support commensurate with the parents' income, resources, and standard of living. The legislature also intends that the child support obligation should be equitably apportioned between the parents.

The legislature finds that these goals will be best achieved by the adoption and use of a state-wide child support schedule. Use of a state-wide schedule will benefit children and their parents by:

1. Increasing the adequacy of child support orders through the use of economic data as the basis for establishing the child support schedule;
2. Increasing the equity of child support orders by providing for comparable orders in cases with similar circumstances; and
3. Reducing the adversarial nature of the proceedings by increasing voluntary settlements as a result of the greater predictability achieved by a uniform state-wide child support schedule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter:

1. 'Child support schedule' means the standards and economic table adopted pursuant to this chapter;
2. 'Standards' means the standards for determination of child support adopted pursuant to this chapter;
3. 'Economic table' means the child support table for the basic support obligation adopted pursuant to this chapter;
4. 'Worksheets' means the forms adopted pursuant to this chapter for use in determining the amount of child support;
5. 'Instructions' means the instructions adopted pursuant to this chapter for use in completing the worksheets; and
6. 'Standard calculation' means the amount of child support which is owed as determined from the worksheets before any deviation is considered.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) In any proceeding under this title or Title 13 or 74 RCW in which child support is at issue, support shall be determined and ordered according to the child support schedule adopted pursuant to section 4 of this act.

2. An order for child support shall be supported by written findings of fact upon which the support determination is based.

3. All income and resources of each parent's household shall be disclosed and shall be considered by the court or administrative law judge when the child support obligation of each parent is determined.

4. Worksheets in the form approved by the judicial council shall be completed and filed in every proceeding in which child support is determined. Variations of the worksheets shall not be accepted.

5. Unless specific reasons for deviation are set forth in the written findings of fact or order and are supported by the evidence, the court or administrative law judge shall order each parent to pay the amount of child support determined using the standard calculation.

6. The court or administrative law judge shall review the worksheets and the order for adequacy of the reasons set forth for any deviation and for the adequacy of the amount of support ordered. Each order shall state the amount of child support calculated using the standard calculation and the amount of child support actually ordered. Reasons that may support a deviation from the standard calculation include: Possession of wealth, shared living arrangements, extraordinary debts that have not been voluntarily incurred, extraordinarily high income of a child, a significant disparity of the living costs of the parents due to conditions beyond their control, and special needs of disabled children. A deviation may be supported by tax planning considerations only if the child would not receive a lesser economic benefit. Agreement of the parties, by itself, is not adequate reason for deviation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1)(a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, the schedule proposed by the Washington state child support schedule commission in its report dated January 26, 1988, shall take effect July 1, 1988. The schedule shall remain in effect until revised under this section. In consultation with the advisory committee established pursuant to section 5 of this act, the judicial council shall review the schedule and propose changes as needed each even-numbered year.

(b) The Washington state child support schedule commission standard 7 for the determination of child support and the use of the schedule shall read as follows: 'When combined monthly net income exceeds four thousand dollars, child support shall be determined by that amount from the table, together with an additional amount determined on an individual basis."

(2) The judicial council shall review the schedule and recommended revisions based upon:

(a) Updated economic data which accurately reflect family spending and child rearing costs for families of different sizes and income levels in the state of Washington;

(b) Appropriate adjustments for significant changes in child-rearing costs at different age levels;

(c) The need for funding of the child's primary residence by a payment which is sufficient to meet the basic needs of the child;

(d) Provisions for health care coverage and, when needed, child care payments; and

(e) The support amount shall be based on the child’s age, the parent’s combined income, and the family size. Family size shall mean all children for whom support is to be established.

(3) The judicial council shall establish standards for applying the child support schedule. Included in these standards shall be:

(a) The type, net or gross, and sources of income on which support amounts shall be based;

(b) Provisions for taking into account the voluntary unemployment or underemployment of one or both parents or if the income of a parent is not known; and

(c) Provisions for taking into account a parent whose income varies.

(4) Any proposed revisions to the schedule shall be submitted to the legislature no later than November 1st of each even-numbered year.

(5) If the judicial council fails to propose revisions to the schedule, the existing schedule shall remain in effect, unless the legislature refers the schedule to the judicial council for modification or adopts a different schedule. If the schedule is referred to the judicial commission for modification, the provisions of subsection (7) of this section shall be applicable.

(6) The legislature may adopt the proposed schedule or refer the proposed schedule to the judicial council for modification. If the legislature fails to adopt or refer the proposed schedule to the judicial council by March 1 of the following year, the proposed schedule shall take effect without legislative approval on July 1 of that year.

(7) If the legislature refers the proposed schedule to the judicial council for modification or before March 1st, the judicial council shall resubmit the proposed modifications to the legislature no later than March 15th. The legislature may adopt or modify the resubmitted proposed schedule. If the legislature fails to adopt or modify the resubmitted proposed schedule by April 1, the resubmitted proposed schedule shall take effect without legislative approval on July 1 of that year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) The judicial council shall appoint an advisory committee to assist in the review of the child support schedule.

(2) The advisory committee shall be composed of the secretary of social and health services or the secretary's designee and ten other members. Eight members shall be appointed as follows: (a) A superior court judge; (b) a representative from the state bar association; (c) an attorney representing indigent persons in Washington; (d) two other persons who have demonstrated an interest or expertise in the study of economic data or child support issues, one of whom shall be a noncustodial parent; and (e) three public members who represent the affected populations, two of whom shall be noncustodial parents. Two members shall be the administrator for the courts or his or her designee and the attorney general or his or her designee. In making the appointments, the judicial council shall seek the recommendations of the association of superior court judges in respect to the member who is a superior court judge; and of the state bar association in respect to the state bar association and attorney representatives of indigents.

(3) The office of the administrator for the courts and the office of support enforcement shall provide clerical and other support to the advisory committee to enable it to perform its functions.

(4) The committee shall invite public participation and input, particularly from persons who are affected by child support orders.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The judicial council shall develop and adopt worksheets and instructions. The judicial council shall attempt to the greatest extent possible to make the worksheets and instructions understandable by persons who are not represented by legal counsel.
(2) The administrator for the courts, in consultation with the judicial council, shall develop standards for the printing of worksheets and shall establish a process for certifying printed worksheets. The administrator shall not alter the design approved by the judicial council. The administrator may maintain a register of sources for approved worksheets.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The schedule under section 4 of this act shall be published in the Washington State Register. The judicial council shall also request that the supreme court cause the schedule to be published in the official advance sheets of the supreme court of Washington. The judicial council shall also request that the Washington state bar association publish the schedule in the Washington State Bar News.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The judicial council shall examine methods for verifying the expenditure of child support payments and criteria for determining when verification is appropriate. The judicial council shall report to the house judiciary committee and senate law and justice committee not later than January 10, 1989, on its recommendations for a verification process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 26.09 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A parent required to pay child support may file a motion for an accounting of how the support is being spent by the receiving parent. The motion shall be accompanied by an affidavit setting forth facts that establish reasonable cause to believe that a substantial portion of the child support paid by the parent is not benefitting the child for whom it is intended. The motion and affidavit shall also be served on the parent receiving the child support payments.

(2) If the court determines that the motion and affidavit establish reasonable cause, shall require the receiving parent to appear at a certain time and place for a hearing on the motion. The court shall require the parent receiving the support to present such records and information as it determines are necessary to establish how the child support is spent.

(3) If after hearing, the court determines that a substantial portion of the child support payments are not benefitting the child, the court shall enter an appropriate order directing the receiving parent to spend the child support to benefit the child.

(4) Unless the court has entered an order under subsection (3) of this section, a parent may not file a motion under this section more frequently than once every six months.

(5) If the court does not enter an order under subsection (3) of this section, the parent receiving child support payments shall be entitled to costs and reasonable attorney's fees in defending against the motion.

Sec. 10. Section 10, chapter 157, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 3, chapter 430, Laws of 1987 and RCW 26.09.100 are each amended to read as follows:

The court may require annual adjustments of support based upon changes in a party's income or the child's needs, or based upon changes in (an index or) the child support schedule.

Sec. 11. Section 25, chapter 183, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 8, chapter 189, Laws of 1982 and RCW 74.20A.055 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The secretary may, in the absence of a superior court order, serve on the responsible parent or parents a notice and finding of financial responsibility requiring a responsible parent or parents to appear and show cause in a hearing held by the department why the finding of responsibility and/or the amount thereof is incorrect, should not be finally ordered, but should be rescinded or modified. This notice and finding shall relate to the support debt accrued and/or accruing under this chapter and/or RCW 26.16.205, including periodic payments to be made in the future for such period of time as the child or children of said responsible parent or parents are in need. Said hearing shall be held pursuant to RCW 74.20A.055, chapter 34.04 RCW, and the rules and regulations of the department, which shall provide for a fair hearing.

(2) The notice and finding of financial responsibility shall be served in the same manner prescribed for the service of a summons in a civil action or may be served on the responsible parent by certified mail, return receipt requested. The receipt shall be prima facie evidence of service. The notice shall be served upon the debtor within sixty days from the date the state assumes responsibility for the support of the dependent child or children on whose behalf support is sought. If the notice is not served within sixty days from such date, the department shall lose the right to reimbursement of payments made after the sixty-day period and before the date of notification: PROVIDED. That if the department exercises reasonable efforts to locate the debtor and is unable to do so the entire sixty-day period is tolled until such time as the debtor can be located. Any responsible parent who objects to all or any part of the notice and finding shall have the right for not more than twenty days from the date of service to request in writing a hearing, which request shall be served upon the department by registered or certified mail or personally. If no such request is made, the notice and finding of responsibility shall become final and the debt created therein shall be subject to collection action as authorized under this chapter. If a timely request is made, the execution of notice and finding of responsibility shall be stayed pending the decision on such hearing. If no timely written request for a hearing has previously been made, the responsible parent may petition the secretary or the secretary's designee at any time for a hearing as provided for in this section upon a showing of good cause for the failure to make a timely request for hearing. The filing of the petition for a hear­ing after the twenty-day period shall not affect any collection action previously taken under this chapter. The granting of a request for the hearing shall operate as a stay on any future collection action, pending the final decision of the secretary or the secretary's designee on the hearing. Moneys withheld as a result of collection action in effect at the time of the granting of the request for the hearing shall be delivered to the department and shall be held in trust by the department pending the final order of the secretary or during the pendency of any appeal to the courts made under chapter 34.04 RCW. The department may petition the administrative law judge to set temporary current and future support to be paid beginning with the month in which the petition for an untimely hearing is granted. The administrative law judge shall order payment of temporary current and future support if appropriate in an amount determined child support schedule adopted under section 4 of this 1988 act. In the event the responsible parent does not make payment of the temporary current and future support as ordered by the hearing examiner, the department may take collection action pursuant to chapter 74.20A RCW during the pendency of the hearing or thereafter to collect any amounts owing under the order. Temporary current and future support paid, or collected, during the pendency of the hearing or appeal shall be disbursed to the custodial parent or as otherwise appropriate when received by the department. If the final decision of the department, or of the courts on appeal, is that the department has collected from the responsible parent other than temporary current or future support, an amount greater than such parent's past support debt, the department shall promptly refund any such excess amount to such parent.

(3) Hearings may be held in the county of residence or other place convenient to the responsible parent. Any such hearing shall be a 'contested case' as defined in RCW 34.04.010.
The notice and finding of financial responsibility shall set forth the amount the department has determined the responsible parent owes, the support debt accrued and/or accruing, and periodic payments to be made in the future for such period of time as the child or children of the responsible parent are in need, all computable on the basis of the need alleged. The notice and finding shall also include a statement of the name of the recipient or custodian and the name of the child or children for whom need is alleged; and/or a statement of the amount of periodic future support payments as to which financial responsibility is alleged.

(4) The notice and finding shall include a statement that the responsible parent may object to all or any part of the notice and finding, and request a hearing to show cause why said responsible parent should not be determined to be liable for any or all of the debt, past and future.

The notice and finding shall include a statement that, if the responsible parent fails in timely fashion to request a hearing, the support debt and payments stated in the notice and finding, including periodic support payments in the future, shall be assessed and determined and paid in accordance with the child support schedule adopted under §4 of this 1988 act.

(5) If a hearing is requested, it shall be promptly scheduled, in no more than thirty days.
The hearing, including a hearing on prospective modification, shall be conducted by an administrative law judge appointed under chapter 34.12 RCW.

After evidence has been presented at hearings conducted by the administrative law judge, the administrative law judge shall enter an initial decision and order which shall be in writing and shall contain findings and conclusions as to each contested issue of fact and law, as well as the order based thereon. The administrative law judge shall file the original of the initial decision and order, signed by the administrative law judge, with the secretary or the secretary's designee. Copies of the initial decision and order shall be mailed by the administrative law judge to the department and to the appellant by certified mail to the last known address of each party. Within thirty days of filing, either the appellant or the department may file with the secretary or the secretary's designee a written petition for review of the initial decision and order. The petition for review shall set forth in detail the basis for the requested review and shall be mailed by the petitioning party to the other party by certified or registered mail to the last known address of the party.

The petition shall be based on any of the following causes materially affecting the substantial rights of the petitioner:

(a) Irregularity in the proceedings of the administrative law judge or adverse party, or any order of the administrative law judge, or abuse of discretion, by which the moving party was prevented from having a fair hearing;

(b) Misconduct of the prevailing party;

(c) Accident or surprise which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against;

(d) Newly discovered evidence, material for the party making the application, which the party could not with reasonable diligence have discovered and produced at the hearing:
TWENTY-FOURTH DAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1988

(e) That there is no evidence or reasonable inference from the evidence to justify the decision, or that it is contrary to law:

(f) Error in mathematical computation;

(g) Error in law occurring at the hearing and objected to at the time by the party making the application;

(h) That the moving party is unable to perform according to the terms of the order without further clarification;

(i) That substantial justice has not been done;

(j) Fraud or misstatement of facts by any witness, which materially affects the debt;

(k) Clerical mistakes in the decision arising from oversight or omission; or

(l) That the decision and order entered because the responsible parent failed to appear at the hearing should be vacated and the matter be remanded for a hearing upon showing of the grounds enumerated in RCW 4.72.010 or superior court civil rule 60.

In the event no petition for review is made as provided in this subsection by any party, the initial decision and order of the administrative law judge is final as of the date of filing and becomes the decision and order of the secretary. No appeal may be taken therefrom to the courts and the debt created is subject to collection action as authorized by this chapter.

After the receipt of a petition for review, the secretary or the secretary's designee shall consider the initial decision and order, the petition or petitions for review, the record or any part thereof, and such additional evidence and argument as the secretary or the secretary's designee may in his or her discretion allow. The secretary or the secretary's designee may remand the proceedings to the administrative law judge for additional evidence or argument. The secretary or the secretary's designee may deny review of the initial decision and order and thereupon deny the petition or petitions at which time the initial decision and order shall be final as of the date of the denial and all parties shall forthwith be notified, in writing, of the denial, by certified mail to the last known address of the parties. Unless the petition is denied, the secretary or the secretary's designee shall review the initial decision and order and shall make the final decision and order of the department. The final decision and order shall be in writing and shall contain findings of fact and conclusions of law as to each contested issue of fact and law. A copy of the decision and order, including the findings and conclusions, shall be mailed to each party to the appeal by certified mail to the last known address of the party. The decision and order shall authorize collection action, as appropriate, under this chapter.

(6) The administrative law judge in his or her initial decision, or the secretary or the secretary's designee in review of the initial decision, shall determine the past liability and responsibility, if any, of the alleged responsible parent and shall also determine the amount of periodic payments to be made in the future, which amount is not limited by the amount of any public assistance payment made to or for the benefit of the child. If deviating from the child support schedule adopted under section 4 of this 1988 act in making these determinations, the administrative law judge, and the secretary or the secretary's designee, shall (include in his or her considerations:

(a) All earnings and income resources of the responsible parent, including real and personal property;

(b) The earnings potential of the responsible parent;

(c) The reasonable necessities of the responsible parent;

(d) The ability of the responsible parent to borrow;

(e) The needs of the child for whom the support is sought;

(f) The amount of assistance which would be paid to the child under the full standard of need of the state's public assistance plan;

(g) The existence of other dependents; and

(h) That the child, for whom support is sought, benefits from the income and resources of the responsible parent on an equitable basis in comparison with any other minor children of the responsible parent) comply with section 3(4), (5), and (6) of this 1988 act.

If the responsible parent fails to appear at the hearing, upon a showing of valid service, the administrative law judge shall enter an initial decision and order declaring the support debt and payment provisions stated in the notice and finding of financial responsibility to be assessed and determined and subject to collection action. Within thirty days of entry of said decision and order, the responsible parent may petition the secretary or the secretary's designee to vacate said decision and order upon a showing of any of the grounds enumerated in RCW 4.72.010 or superior court civil rule 60.

(7) The final decision entered pursuant to this section shall be entered as a decision and order and shall limit the support debt to the amounts stated in said decision: PROVIDED, That said decision establishing liability and/or future periodic support payments shall be superseded upon entry of a superior court order for support to the extent the superior court order is inconsistent with the hearing order or decision: PROVIDED FURTHER, That in the absence of a superior court order, either the responsible parent or the department may petition the secretary or his designee for issuance of an order to appear and show cause based on a showing of good cause and material change of circumstances, to require the other party to appear and show cause why the decision previously entered should not be prospectively modified. Said order to appear and show cause together with a copy of the petition and affidavit upon which the order is based shall be served in the manner of a summons in a civil action or by certified mail, return receipt requested, on the other party by the petitioning party. A hearing shall be set not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the date of service, unless extended for good cause shown. Prospective modification may be ordered, but only upon a showing of good cause and material change of circumstances. The decision and order for prospective modification entered by the administrative law judge shall be an initial decision subject to review by the secretary or the secretary’s designee as provided for in this section.

(8) The administrative law judge, in making the initial decision and the secretary or the secretary’s designee in the final decision determining liability and/or future periodic support payments, shall ((consider the standards promulgated pursuant to RCW 74.20.270 and any standards for determination of support payments used by the superior court of the county of residence of the responsible parent)) order support payments under the child support schedule adopted under section 4 of this 1988 act.

(9) Debts determined pursuant to this section, accrued and not paid, are subject to collection action under this chapter without further necessity of action by; the administrative law judge, or the secretary or secretary’s designee.

(10) ‘Need’ as used in this section shall mean the necessary costs of food, clothing, shelter, and medical attendance for the support of a dependent child or children. The amount determined by reference to the ((standards established under RCW 74.20.270 and any standards for determination of support payments used by the superior court of the county of residence of the responsible parent)) child support schedule adopted under section 4 of this 1988 act. shall be a rebuttable presumption of the alleged responsible parent’s ability to pay and the need of the family: PROVIDED, That such responsible parent shall be presumed to have no ability to pay child support under this chapter from any income received from aid to families with dependent children, supplemental security income, or continuing general assistance.

Sec. 12. Section 16, chapter 164, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as last amended by section 8, chapter 276, Laws of 1985 and RCW 74.20A.160 are each amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 1. Section 1, chapter 374, Laws of 1985 as last amended by section 101, chapter 2, Laws of 1987 1st ex. sess. and RCW 84.52.0531 are each amended to read as follows:

The maximum dollar amount which may be levied by or for any school district for maintenance and operation support under the provisions of RCW 84.52.053 shall be determined as follows:

(1) For the purpose of this section, the basic education allocation shall be determined pursuant to RCW 28A.41.130, 28A.41.140, and 28A.41.145, as now or hereafter amended; PROVIDED, That when determining the basic education allocation under subsection (4) of this section, non-resident full time equivalent pupils who are participating in a program provided for in chapter 28A.44 RCW or in any other program pursuant to an interdistrict agreement shall be included in the enrollment of the resident district and excluded from the enrollment of the serving district.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (5) of this section, a base year levy percentage shall be established. The base year levy percentage shall be equal to the greater of: (a) The district’s actual levy percentage for calendar year 1985, (b) the average levy percentage for all school district levies in the state in calendar year 1985, or (c) the average levy percentage for all school district levies in the educational service district of the district in calendar year 1985."
(3) For excess levies for collection in calendar year 1988 and thereafter, the maximum dollar amount shall be the total of:

(a) The district's levy base as defined in subsection (4) of this section multiplied by the district's maximum levy percentage as defined in subsections (5) and (6) of this section; plus

(b) In the case of nonhigh districts only, an amount equal to the total estimated amount due by the nonhigh school district to high school districts pursuant to chapter 28A.44 RCW for the school year during which collection of the levy is to commence, less the increase in the nonhigh school district's basic education allocation as computed pursuant to subsection (1) of this section due to the inclusion of pupils participating in a program provided for in chapter 28A.44 RCW in such computation; less

(c) The maximum amount of state matching funds under RCW 28A.41.155 for which the district is eligible in that tax collection year.

(4) For excess levies for collection in calendar year 1988 and thereafter, a district's levy base shall be the sum of the following allocations received by the district for the prior school year, including allocations for compensation increases, multiplied by the percent increase per full time equivalent student in the state basic education appropriation between the prior school year and the current school year:

(a) The district's basic education allocation as determined pursuant to RCW 28A.41.130, 28A.41.140, and 28A.41.145;

(b) State and federal categorical allocations for the following programs:

(i) Pupil transportation;

(ii) Handicapped education;

(iii) Education of highly capable students;

(iv) Compensatory education, including but not limited to learning assistance, migrant education, Indian education, refugee programs, and bilingual education;

(v) Food services; and

(vi) State-wide block grant programs; and

(c) Any other federal allocations for elementary and secondary school programs, including direct grants, other than federal impact aid funds and allocations in lieu of taxes.

(5) For levies to be collected in calendar year 1988, a district's maximum levy percentage shall be determined as follows:

(a) Multiply the district's base year levy percentage as defined in subsection (2) of this section by the district's levy base as determined in subsection (4) of this section;

(b) Reduce the amount in (a) of this subsection by the total estimated amount of any levy reduction funds as defined in subsection (7) of this section which are to be allocated to the district for the 1987-88 school year;

(c) Divide the amount in (b) of this subsection by the district's levy base to compute a new percentage; and

(d) The percentage in (c) of this subsection or twenty percent, whichever is greater, shall be the district's maximum levy percentage for levies collected in calendar year 1988.

(6) For excess levies for collection in calendar year 1989 and thereafter, a district's maximum levy percentage shall be determined as follows:

(a) Multiply the district's maximum levy percentage for the prior year or thirty percent, whichever is less, by the district's levy base as determined in subsection (4) of this section;

(b) Reduce the amount in (a) of this subsection by the total estimated amount of any levy reduction funds as defined in subsection (7) of this section which are to be allocated to the district for the current school year;

(c) Divide the amount in (b) of this subsection by the district's levy base to compute a new percentage; and

(d) The percentage in (c) of this subsection or twenty percent, whichever is greater, shall be the district's maximum levy percentage for levies collected in that calendar year.

(7) 'Levy reduction funds' shall mean increases in state funds (allocated to a district) from the prior school year for programs included under subsection (4) of this section (a) that are not attributable to enrollment or workload changes, compensation increases, or inflationary adjustments (recognized in state allocation formulae). Any other increases in state allocations from the district's allocations for the prior school year that are not specifically excluded in this subsection shall be considered levy reduction funds; and (b) that are or were specifically identified as levy reduction funds in the appropriations act. If levy reduction funds are dependent on formula factors which would not be finalized until after the start of the current school year, the superintendent of public instruction shall estimate the total amount of levy reduction funds by using prior school year data in place of current school year data.

(8) For the purposes of this section, 'prior school year' shall mean the most recent school year completed prior to the year in which the levies are to be collected.

(9) For the purposes of this section, 'current school year' shall mean the year immediately following the prior school year.

(10) The superintendent of public instruction shall develop rules and regulations and inform school districts of the pertinent data necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The legislature recognizes that an increase in the state minimum wage from two dollars and thirty cents per hour to four dollars and seventy cents per hour on January 1, 1989 will cause severe economic strain on many new employers and employers of twenty-five or fewer employees.

In order to more fairly and reasonably share the burden of increasing the minimum wage so far and so quickly, and in recognition of the fact that an increased minimum wage is being promoted as a method to move persons off of public assistance, the legislature finds that the state general fund should share in the burden of increasing the minimum wage.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Any person who was not an employer on January 1, 1988 but who employs twenty-five or fewer persons on January 1, 1989 and any person who employed twenty-five or fewer persons on January 1, 1988 and who continues to employ twenty-five or fewer persons on January 1, 1989 shall be entitled to certain tax credits as set forth herein:

(1) For every employee who was paid less than four dollars and seventy cents per hour in 1988 there shall be a tax credit for the difference between four dollars and seventy cents and the highest 1988 salary paid by the employer to the employee, provided that no credit will be given for any part of a salary below three dollars and thirty-five cents.

(2) Employers may use credits to reduce B&O tax payments owed to the state.

(3) Credits may be taken only for wages earned in 1989 and no credit may be taken after March 30, 1990.

(4) The department of revenue shall adopt such rules as may be necessary to administer the credit provisions of this act."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Nealey yielded to question by Mr. Lux.

Mr. Lux: Representative Nealey, would you have any objection if the Senate put an amendment on this to reduce the unconscionable fees that are now charged for death certificates and birth certificates?

Mr. Nealey: Representative Lux, I guess I have no problem. It just depends on what happens and how far they reduce them. I would like to say this, though—this is something that I went through when I did some investigating on it, because most of you, if you’ve had anything to do with these records, know that in the county the first copy costs $11 and each additional copy costs $6. When it is transferred to the state, it costs $11 for each one that you get. So it is more expensive after it goes to the state. We’ve gone through this considerably with the Department of Social and Health Services and their people who were concerned about it. Originally, I asked that the counties have the option of maintaining those records in the counties, instead of those that are less than Class I having to transfer them to the state. Of course they are objecting, because they say that they are going to lose a lot of revenue. We agreed in our committee and with Representative Haugen that we had opened a can of worms, because we found quite a few little glitches in what can be done and what can’t be done and how it affects the Vital Statistics Department. We agreed that we would do a study and an investigation during the interim. I think it would be better if we would leave it that way. We’ll dig into all the aspects and try to get it consolidated. I guess, Representative Lux, I’d really rather leave it the way it is right now.

The department of transportation may, in considering bids under the provisions of RCW 47.28.090, correct mistakes in bids where the evidence is clear and convincing both as to the existence of the mistake and as to the precise bid amount actually intended, and as corrected and uncorrected, the bid is the lowest received. Such evidence must be ascertained from the bid proposals only and in no other manner. Such determination shall be totally within the discretion of the department, and nothing herein shall affect the authority of the department to reject a bid or all remaining bids as otherwise authorize by law."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Wang: Mr. Speaker, I would ask that you rule on whether or not this amendment falls within the scope and object of the bill.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Wang, the Speaker has examined House Bill No. 1364 and finds that it amends the law on public works contracts to prohibit state and local governments from accepting bids from contractors not registered with the state. POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Pruitt yielded to question by Mr. Basich.

Mr. Basich: This is an excellent bill, but will this bill teach preschoolers about the IRS, the taxman, Form 1040 and paying taxes from their piggy bank savings and will it teach young children, with a paper route earning over $500, that they now must have a social security number? Does this do this, Representative Pruitt?

Mr. Pruitt: Representative Basich, this bill really does not require the school districts to do anything different than what they are doing now. What it does in terms of their particular curriculum is include the definition of citizenship education and part of that would be consumer education. Hopefully, that will cause the school district to look at what they are doing in relationship to the very questions you propose and ask whether they should be teaching it.

The Speaker call on Mr. Appelwick to preside.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Pruitt yielded to question by Mr. Padden.

Mr. Padden: Thank you, Representative Pruitt. In the bill you indicate that each school district shall adopt a comprehensive plan by September 1, 1988 dealing with instruction in the following areas and then you define them, including values education, societal education and experiential citizenship. My question specifically is, are you limiting those areas to the examples given in sections 1, 2, 3 and 4 of New Section 1 of this bill?

Mr. Pruitt: No, the definitions in the bill are merely parameters for school districts to look at. I would suggest that you might have an earlier version of the bill, because in the current version there is no talk of values education. There is character education which is suggested as part of citizenship education, and it is defined in the bill as education relating to some basic concepts such as truth and honesty and justice. Also, the districts do not have to come up with a plan until September of 1989. The examples in each of those sections, such as consumer education, are examples that we want school districts to look at. The bill is not necessarily limited, because we do not want to exclude things that schools are already teaching.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Pruitt yielded to question by Mr. Taylor.

Mr. Taylor: Is the portion of the bill still in—it's in the explanation here—that says that up to one-half credit for contemporary world history, geography and problems may be earned by a student participating in a community service project? Is that still part of the bill?

Mr. Pruitt: No. Representative Taylor, it is not. That was amended out in committee.

Mr. Taylor: The thing that is bothering me is that we have a very erroneous bill report here before us. It refers to the substitute bill, the substitute bill compared to the original, so the explanation we have on the substitute bill still contains the substitution of contemporary world history. That's where some of us are confused. This is dated Monday, February 8, 1988.

Mr. Pruitt: As a former staff member, I appreciate your concern. Unfortunately, I did not write this bill report.

Mr. Taylor: That bill report is incorrect?

Mr. Pruitt: The bill report is incorrect. We amended out the portion of the bill relating to high school graduation requirements. I seem to recall that you voted for that amendment in committee.

Mr. Taylor spoke against passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Betrozoff yielded to question by Mr. Lewis.

Mr. Barnes: Representative Nelson, what are the standards that would be used to determine the minimum and maximum rates in this banded rating?

Mr. Nelson: The standards will be set by the Utilities and Transportation Commission based on input from the parties. At the low end, the rates should at least cover costs so that monopoly rate payers don’t subsidize competitive service. At the high end, the rates should prevent monopoly pricing.

Mr. Barnes: Thank you, Mr. Nelson. I wanted to clarify one other thing. The bill indicates that to prove effective competition a utility must show competition from energy sources not regulated by the Commission. Is that intended to include consumer-owned utilities, such as municipals or public utility districts or cooperatives or mutuals?

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. P. King yielded to question by Mr. Lux.

Mr. Lux: Representative King, is there anything in the legislation that deals with setting the rate that these pools can charge? I understand that some of the rates, that are now being charged, are unconscionable, and I just wondered if you put anything in there to restrict that?

Mr. P. King: No, I didn't. I would point out to the body that there is some concern. I know some of the people who work in the pools. These people do not receive any side benefits, so whatever they get I think is well warranted. It is my feeling that if the hospitals or whatever want to get qualified personnel, they ought to raise their wages. I'm sure they will have plenty of people then.

The legislature also intends that the courts should interpret provisions of this chapter consistently with decisions of other courts interpreting similar provisions of other states, the federal government, and model acts.

PART I.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Sec. 101. DEFINITIONS. Section 5, chapter 10, Laws of 1982 and RCW 34.04.010 are each amended to read as follows: The definitions set forth in this section shall apply throughout this chapter, unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

1. "Adjudicative proceedings" means a proceeding before an agency in which an opportunity for hearing before that agency is required by statute or constitutional right before or after the issuance of an order by the agency. Adjudicative proceedings also include all cases of licensing and rate making in which an application for a license or rate change is denied except as limited by RCW 66.08.150, or a license is revoked, suspended, or modified, or in which the granting of an application is contested by a person having standing to contest under the law.

2. "Agency" means any state board, commission, department, institution of higher education, or officer, authorized by law to make rules or to (adjudicate contested cases) conduct adjudicative proceedings, except those in the legislative or judicial branches, the governor, or the attorney general except to the extent otherwise required by law.

3. "Agency action" means the implementation or enforcement of a statute, the adoption or application of an agency rule or order, the issuance, denial, or suspension of a license, the imposition of sanctions, or the granting or withholding of benefits.

Agency action does not include an agency decision regarding (a) contracting or procurement of goods, services, public works, and the purchase, lease, or acquisition by eminent domain of real estate, as well as all activities necessarily related to those functions, or (b) determinations as to the sufficiency of a showing of interest filed in support of a representation petition, or mediation or conciliation of labor disputes or arbitration of labor disputes under a collective bargaining law or similar statute, or (c) any sale, lease, contract, or other proprietary decision of the department of natural resources in the management of public lands, or (d) the granting of a license, franchise, or permission for the use of trademarks, symbols, and similar property owned or controlled by the agency.

4. "Agency head" means the individual or body of individuals in whom the ultimate legal authority of the agency is vested by any provision of law. If the agency head is a body of individuals, a majority of those individuals constitutes the agency head.

5. "Entry" of an order means the signing of the order by all persons who are to sign the order, as an official act indicating that the order is to be effective.

6. "Filing" of a document that is required to be filed with an agency means delivery of the document to a place designated by the agency by rule for receipt of official documents, or in the absence of such designation, at the office of the agency head.

7. "Institutions of higher education" are the University of Washington, Washington State University, Central Washington University, Eastern Washington University, Western Washington University, The Evergreen State College, the various community colleges, and the governing boards of each of the above, and the various colleges, divisions, departments, or offices authorized by the governing board of the institution involved to act for the institution, all of which are sometimes referred to in this chapter as 'institutions.'
(8) 'Interpretive statement' means a written expression of the opinion of an agency, entitled an interpretive statement by the agency head or its designee, as to the meaning of a statute or other provision of law, of a court decision, or of an agency order.

(9) (a) 'License' means a franchise, permit, certification, approval, registration, charter, or similar form of authorization required by law, but does not include (1) a license required solely for revenue purposes, or (2) a certification of an exclusive bargaining representative, or similar status, under a collective bargaining law or similar statute, or (iii) a license, franchise, or permission for use of trademarks, symbols, and similar property owned or controlled by the agency.

(b) 'Licensing' includes the agency process respecting the grant, denial, renewal, revocation, suspension, annulment, withdrawal, or modification of a license.

(b) 'Order of adoption' means the official written statement by which an agency adopts, amends, or repeals a rule.

(11) Party to agency proceedings, or 'party' in a context so indicating, means:

(a) A person to whom the agency action is specifically directed; or

(b) A person named as a party to the agency proceeding or allowed to intervene or participate as a party in the agency proceeding.

(16) 'Rule' means any agency order, directive, or regulation of general applicability (a) the violation of which subjects a person to a penalty or administrative sanction; (b) which establishes, alters, or revokes any procedure, practice, or requirement relating to agency hearings; (c) which establishes, alters, or revokes any qualification or requirement relating to the enjoyment of benefits or privileges conferred by law; (d) which establishes, alters, or revokes any qualifications or standards for the issuance, suspension, or revocation of licenses to pursue any commercial activity, trade, or profession; or (e) which establishes, alters, or revokes any mandatory standards for any product or material which must be met before distribution or sale. The term includes the amendment or repeal of a prior rule, but does not include (i) statements concerning only the internal management of an agency and not affecting private rights or procedures available to the public, (ii) declaratory rulings issued pursuant to (RCW 34.04:866; as now or hereafter amended) section 203 of this act, (iii) nontraffic restrictions for motor vehicles, bicyclists, and pedestrians established by the secretary of transportation or his designee where notice of such restrictions is given by official traffic control devices, or (iv) rules of institutions of higher education involving academic advancement, academic credit, graduation and the granting of degrees, employment relationships, or fiscal processes.

(17) 'Rule making' means the process for formulation and adoption of a rule.

Every agency is granted all authority necessary to comply with the requirements of (the Administrative Procedure Act) this chapter through the issuance of rules or otherwise. No subsequent legislation shall be held to supersede or modify the provisions of (the Administrative Procedure Act) this chapter or its applicability to any agency except to the extent that such legislation shall do so expressly.

(4) All other agencies, whether or not formerly specifically excluded from the provisions of all or any part of the administrative procedure act shall be subject to the entire act.

Sec. 104. OPERATION OF CHAPTER IF IN CONFLICT WITH FEDERAL LAW. Section 19, chapter 234, Laws of 1959 and RCW 34.04.930 are each amended to read as follows:

If any part of this chapter ((shall be)) is found to be in conflict with federal requirements which are a condition precedent to the allocation of federal funds to the state, ((such)) the conflicting part of this chapter is (hereby declared to be) inoperative solely to the extent of ((such)) the conflict and with respect to the agencies directly affected, and such findings or determination shall not affect the operation of the remainder of this chapter in its application to the agencies concerned.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 105. WAIVER. Except to the extent precluded by another provision of law, a person may waive any right conferred upon that person by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 106. INFORMAL SETTLEMENTS. Except to the extent precluded by another provision of law and subject to approval by agency order, informal settlement of matters that may make unnecessary more elaborate proceedings under this chapter is strongly encouraged. Agencies may establish by rule specific procedures for attempting and executing informal settlement of matters. This section does not require any party or other person to settle a matter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 107. CONVERSION OF PROCEEDINGS. (1) If it becomes apparent during the course of an adjudicative or rule-making proceeding undertaken pursuant to this chapter that another form of proceeding under this chapter is necessary, is in the public interest, or is more appropriate to resolve issues affecting the participants, on his or her own motion or on the motion of any party, the presiding officer or other official responsible for the original proceeding shall advise the parties of necessary steps for conversion and, if within the official’s power, commence the new proceeding. If the agency refuses to convert to another proceeding, that decision is not subject to judicial review. Commencement of the new proceeding shall be accomplished pursuant to the procedural rules of the new proceeding, except that elements already performed need not be repeated.

(2) If appropriate, a new proceeding may be commenced independently of the original proceeding or may replace the original proceeding.
(3) Conversion to a replacement proceeding shall not be undertaken if the rights of any party will be substantially prejudiced.

(4) To the extent feasible the record of the original proceeding shall be included in the record of a replacement proceeding.

(5) The time of commencement of a replacement proceeding shall be considered to be the time of commencement of the original proceeding.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 108. VARIATION FROM TIME LIMITS. (1) An agency may modify time limits established in this chapter only as set forth in this section.

(2) The time limits set forth in this chapter may be modified by rule of the agency or by rule of the chief administrative law judge if:

(b) The agency does not have a permanent staff to comply with the time limits set forth in this chapter without substantial loss of efficiency and economy; and

(c) The rights of persons dealing with the agency are not substantially impaired.

(3) The time limits set forth in this chapter may be modified by rule if the agency determines that the change is necessary to the performance of its statutory duties. Agency rule may provide for emergency variation when required in a specific case.

(4) Time limits may be changed pursuant to section 104 of this act.

(5) Time limits may be waived pursuant to section 105 of this act.

(6) Any modification in the time limits set forth in this chapter shall be to new time limits that are reasonable under the specific circumstances.

(7) In any rule-making or adjudicative proceeding, any agency whose time limits vary from those set forth in this chapter shall provide reasonable and adequate notice of the pertinent time limits to persons affected. In an adjudicative proceeding, such notice may be given by the presiding or reviewing officer involved in the proceeding. In a rule-making proceeding, the notice may be given in the notice of proposed rule-making.

(8) Two years after the effective date of this section, the chief administrative law judge shall cause a survey to be made of variations by agencies from the time limits set forth in this chapter, and shall submit a written report of the results of the survey to the office of the governor.

PART II.

(4) The code reviser may, in his discretion, omit from the register or the compilation, rules((the publication of which)) that would be unduly cumbersome, expensive, or otherwise inexpedient to publish. If such rules are made available in printed or processed form on application to the adopting agency, and if ((such)) the register or compilation contains a notice stating the general subject matter of the rules so omitted and stating how copies thereof may be obtained.

(5) The code reviser may edit and revise rules for publication, codification, and compilation, without changing the meaning of any such rule((in accordance with the provisions of RCW 34.04.055)).

(6) When a rule, in whole or in part, is declared invalid and unconstitutional by a court of final appeal, the adopting agency shall give notice to that effect in the register. With the consent of the attorney general, the code reviser may remove obsolete rules or parts of rules from the Washington Administrative Code when:

(1) In addition to other rule-making requirements imposed by law:

(((((the))) (a)) Each agency shall adopt rules governing the formal and informal procedures prescribed or authorized by this chapter and rules of practice before the agency, together with forms and instructions((as PROVIDED. That)). Rules for the conduct of ((contested cases)) adjudicative proceedings shall be those which are (promulgated) adopted by the chief administrative law judge ((pursuant to RCW 34.04.022, as now or hereafter amended)) under section 205 of this act.

(((the) (b)) To assist interested persons dealing with it, each agency shall adopt as a rule a description of its organization, stating the general course and method of its operations and the methods whereby the public may obtain information and make submissions or requests. No person may be required to comply with agency procedure not adopted as a rule as herein required.

(((the))) (2) To the extent not prohibited by federal law or regulation, nor prohibited for reasons of confidentiality by state law, each agency shall keep on file for public inspection all final orders, decisions, and opinions in ((contested cases)) adjudicative proceedings, interpretive statements, policy statements, and any digest or index to those orders, decisions, ((or)) opinions, or statements prepared by or for the agency ((for its own use)).

(3) No agency order, decision, or opinion is valid or effective against any person, nor may it be invoked by the agency for any purpose, unless it is available for public inspection ((as herein required)). This ((provision)) subsection is not applicable in favor of any person who has actual knowledge ((thereof)) of the order, decision, or opinion. The agency has the burden of proving that knowledge, but may meet that burden by proving that the person has been properly served with a copy of the order.

(4) Each agency that is authorized by law to exercise discretion in deciding individual cases is encouraged to formalize the general principles that may evolve from these decisions by adopting the principles as rules that the agency will follow until they are amended or repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 203. INTERPRETIVE AND POLICY STATEMENTS. (1) If the adoption of rules is not feasible and practicable, an agency is encouraged to advise the public of its current opinions, approaches, and likely courses of action by means of interpretive or policy statements. Current interpretive and policy statements are advisory only. An agency is encouraged to convert long-standing interpretive and policy statements into rules.

(2) Each agency shall maintain a roster of interested persons, consisting of persons who have requested in writing to be notified of all interpretive and policy statements issued by that agency. Each agency shall update the roster once each year and eliminate persons who do not indicate a desire to continue on the roster. Whenever an agency issues an interpretive or policy statement, it shall send a copy of the statement to each person listed on the roster. The agency may charge a nominal fee to the interested person for this service.

Sec. 204. DECLARATORY ORDER BY AGENCY—PETITION—COURT REVIEW. Section 8, chapter 234, Laws of 1959 and RCW 34.04.080 are each amended to read as follows:

Such a ruling is subject to review in the superior court of Thurston county in the manner hereinbefore provided for the review of decisions in contested cases. Each agency shall prescribe the form for such petitions and the procedure for their submission, consideration, and disposition))) the agency. The petition shall set forth facts and reasons on which the petitioner relies to show:

(a) That uncertainty necessitating resolution exists;
(b) That there is actual controversy arising from the uncertainty such that a declaratory order will not be merely an advisory opinion;
(c) That the uncertainty adversely affects the petitioner;

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE
(d) That the adverse effect of uncertainty on the petitioner outweighs any adverse effects on others or on the general public that may likely arise from the order requested; and

(e) That the petition complies with any additional requirements established by the agency under subsection (2) of this section.

(2) Each agency may adopt rules that provide for: (a) The form, contents, and filing of petitions for a declaratory order; (b) the procedural rights of persons in relation thereto; and (c) the disposition of those petitions. These rules may include a description of the classes of circumstances in which the agency will not enter a declaratory order and shall be consistent with the public interest and with the general policy of this chapter to facilitate and encourage agencies to provide reliable advice.

(3) Within fifteen days after receipt of a petition for a declaratory order, the agency shall give notice of the petition to all persons to whom notice is required by law, and may give notice to any other person it deems desirable.

(4) Sections 401 through 429 of this act apply to agency proceedings for declaratory orders only to the extent an agency so provides by rule or order.

(5) Within thirty days after receipt of a petition for a declaratory order an agency, in writing, shall do one of the following:

(a) Enter an order declaring the applicability of the statute, rule, or order in question to the specified circumstances;

(b) Set the matter for specified proceedings to be held no more than ninety days after receipt of the petition;

(c) Set a specified time no more than ninety days after receipt of the petition by which it will enter a declaratory order; or

(d) Decline to enter a declaratory order, stating the reasons for its action.

(6) The time limits of subsection (5)(b) and (c) of this section may be extended by the agency for good cause.

(7) An agency may not enter a declaratory order that would substantially prejudice the rights of a person who would be a necessary party and who does not consent in writing to the determination of the matter by a declaratory order proceeding.

(8) A declaratory order has the same status as any other order entered in an agency adjudicative proceeding. Each declaratory order shall contain the names of all parties to the proceeding on which it is based, the particular facts on which it is based, and the reasons for its conclusions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 205. MODEL RULES OF PROCEDURE. The chief administrative law judge shall adopt model rules of procedure appropriate for use by as many agencies as possible. The model rules shall deal with all general functions and duties performed in common by the various agencies. Each agency shall adopt as much of the model rules as is reasonable under its circumstances. Any agency adopting a rule of procedure that differs from the model rules shall include in the order of adoption a finding stating the reasons for variance.

PART III.

RULE-MAKING PROCEDURES

NEW SECTION. Sec. 301. SOLICITATION OF COMMENTS BEFORE NOTICE PUBLICATION—RULES COORDINATOR. (1) In addition to seeking information by other methods, an agency may, before publication of a notice of a proposed rule adoption under section 303 of this act, solicit comments from the public on a subject of possible rule-making action under active consideration within the agency, by causing notice to be published in the state register of the subject matter and indicating where, when, and how persons may comment.

An agency may charge for the actual cost of providing individual mailed copies of these notices.

(4) In addition to the notice required by subsections (1) and (2) of this section, an institution of higher education shall cause the notice to be published in the campus or standard newspaper of the institution at least seven days before the rule-making hearing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 304. PUBLIC PARTICIPATION IN RULE MAKING. (1) The agency shall make a good faith effort to insure that the information on the proposed rule published pursuant to section 303 of this act accurately reflects the rule to be presented and considered at the oral hearing on the rule. Any (interested) person may petition an agency requesting the (promulgation) adoption, amendment, or repeal of any rule. Each agency (shall) may prescribe by rule the form for such petitions and the procedure for their submission, consideration, and disposition. Within (thirty) sixty days after submission of a petition, (or at the next meeting of the agency if it does not meet within thirty days) the agency shall (formally consider the petition and shall within thirty days thereafter) (1) either deny the petition in writing ((stating its reasons for the denial())), or (2) initiate rule-making proceedings in accordance with ((RCW 34.04.095)) this chapter.

The code reviser shall give notice of the withdrawal in the register.

(4) An agency may not adopt a rule before the time established in the published notice, or such later time established on the record or by publication in the state register.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 307. VARIANCE BETWEEN PROPOSED AND FINAL RULE. (1) Unless it complies with subsection (3) of this section, an agency may not adopt a rule that is substantially different from the rule proposed in the published notice of proposed rule adoption or a supplemental notice in the proceeding. If an agency contemplates making a substantial variance from a proposed rule described in a published notice, it may file a supplemental notice with the code reviser meeting the requirements of section 303 of this act and reopen the proceedings for public comment on the proposed variance, or the agency may reject the proposed rule and commence a new rule-making proceeding to adopt a substantially different rule. If a new rule-making proceeding is commenced, relevant public comment received regarding the initial proposed rule shall be considered in the new proceeding.

(2) The following factors shall be considered in determining whether an adopted rule is substantially different from the proposed rule on which it is based:

(a) The extent to which a reasonable person affected by the adopted rule would have understood that the published proposed rule would affect his or her interests;

(b) The extent to which the subject of the adopted rule or the issues determined in it are substantially different from the subject or issues involved in the published proposed rule; and

(c) The extent to which the effects of the adopted rule differ from the effects of the published proposed rule.

(3) If the agency, without filing a supplemental notice under subsection (1) of this section, adopts a rule that varies in content from the proposed rule, the general subject matter of the adopted rule must remain the same as the proposed rule. The agency shall briefly describe any changes, other than editing changes, and the principal reasons for adopting the changes. The brief description shall be filed with the code reviser together with the order of adoption for publication in the state register. Within sixty days of publication of the adopted rule in the state register any interested person may petition the agency to amend any portion of the adopted rule that is substantially different from the proposed rule. The petition shall briefly demonstrate how the adopted rule is substantially different from the proposed rule and shall contain the text of the petitioner's proposed amendment. For purposes of the petition, an adopted rule is substantially different if the issues determined in the adopted rule differ from the issues determined in the proposed rule or the anticipated effects of the adopted rule differ from those of the proposed rule. If the petition meets the requirements of this subsection and section 305 of this act, the agency shall initiate rule-making proceedings upon the proposed amendments within the time provided in section 305 of this act.

Sec. 308. FAILURE TO GIVE TWENTY DAYS NOTICE OF INTENDED ACTION—EFFECT. Section 4, chapter 237, Laws of 1967 and RCW 34.04.027 are each amended to read as follows:

Except for emergency rules adopted under section 309 of this act, when twenty days notice of intended action to adopt, amend, or repeal a rule has not been (filed with the code reviser, as required in RCW 34.04.025) published in the state register, as required by section 303 of this act, the code reviser shall not publish such rule and such rule shall not be effective for any purpose.
Sec. 309. EMERGENCY RULES AND AMENDMENTS. Section 3, chapter 234, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 4, chapter 324, Laws of 1981 and RCW 34.04.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If (here) an agency for good cause finds:

(a) That immediate adoption (or, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that (observance of) observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to (present view of the proposed action) comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest; or

(b) That state or federal law or federal rule or a federal deadline for state receipt of federal funds requires immediate adoption of a rule, the agency may dispense with (such) those requirements and adopt, amend, or repeal the rule (or amendment) on an emergency (or rule or amendment) basis. The agency's finding and a concise statement of the reasons for its finding shall be incorporated in the order for adoption of the emergency rule or amendment (or) filed with the office of the code reviser under (RCW 34.04.040) section 315 of this act and with the rules review committee.

(2) An emergency rule (or amendment) adopted under this section takes effect upon filing with the code reviser and may not remain in effect for longer than (ninety) one hundred twenty days after filing. Identical or substantially similar emergency rules may not be adopted in sequence unless conditions have changed or the agency has published notice of its intent to adopt the rule as a permanent rule, and is actively undertaking the appropriate procedures to adopt the rule as a permanent rule. This section does not relieve any agency from compliance with any law requiring that its permanent rules be approved by designated persons or bodies before they become effective.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 310. CONCISE EXPLANATORY STATEMENT. (1) At the time it files an adopted rule with the code reviser or within thirty days thereafter, an agency shall place into the rule-making file maintained under section 313 of this act a concise explanatory statement about the rule, identifying (a) the agency's reasons for adopting the rule, and (b) a description of any difference between the text of the proposed rule as published in the register and the text of the rule as adopted, other than editing changes, stating the reasons for change.

(2) Upon the request of any interested person within thirty days after adoption of a rule, the agency shall issue a concise statement of the principal reasons for overruling the considerations urged against its adoption.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 311. ORDER ADOPTING RULE, CONTENTS. The order of adoption by which each rule is adopted by an agency shall contain all of the following:

(1) The date the agency adopted the rule;

(2) A concise statement of the purpose of the rule;

(3) A reference to all rules repealed, amended, or suspended by the rule;

(4) A reference to the specific statutory or other authority authorizing adoption of the rule;

(5) Any findings required by any provision of law as a precondition to adoption or effectiveness of the rule; and

(6) The effective date of the rule if other than that specified in section 315(2) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 312. INCORPORATION BY REFERENCE. An agency may incorporate by reference and without publishing the incorporated matter in full, all or any part of a code, standard, rule, or regulation that has been adopted by an agency of the United States, of this state, or of another state, by a political subdivision of this state, or by a generally recognized organization or association if incorporation of the full text in the agency rules would be unduly cumbersome, expensive, or otherwise inexpedient. The reference in agency rules shall fully identify the incorporated matter. An agency may incorporate by reference such matter in its rules only if the agency, organization, or association originally issuing that matter makes copies readily available to the public. The incorporating agency shall have, maintain, and make available for public inspection a copy of the incorporated matter. The rule must state where copies of the incorporated matter are available.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 313. RULE-MAKING FILE. (1) Each agency shall maintain an official rule-making file for each rule that it (a) proposes by publication in the state register, or (b) adopts. The file and materials incorporated by reference shall be available for public inspection.

(2) The agency rule-making file shall contain all of the following:

(a) Copies of all publications in the state register with respect to the rule or the proceeding upon which the rule is based;

(b) Copies of any portions of the agency's public rule-making docket containing entries relating to the rule or the proceeding on which the rule is based;

(c) All written petitions, requests, submissions, and comments received by the agency and all other written material regarded by the agency as important to adoption of the rule or the proceeding on which the rule is based;

(d) Any official transcript of oral presentations made in the proceeding on which the rule is based or, if not transcribed, any tape recording or stenographic record of them, and any memorandum prepared by a presiding official summarizing the contents of those presentations;

(e) The concise explanatory statement required by section 310 of this act;

(f) All petitions for exceptions to, amendment of, or repeal or suspension of, the rule; and

(g) Any other material placed in the file by the agency.

(3) Internal agency documents are exempt from inclusion in the rule-making file under subsection (2) of this section to the extent they constitute preliminary drafts, notes, recommendations, and intra-agency memoranda in which opinions are expressed or policies formulated or recommended, except that a specific document is not exempt from inclusion when it is publicly cited by an agency in connection with its decision.

(4) Upon judicial review, the file required by this section constitutes the official agency rule-making file with respect to that rule. Unless otherwise required by another provision of law, the official agency rule-making file need not be the exclusive basis for agency action on that rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 314. SUBSTANTIAL COMPLIANCE WITH PROCEDURES. No rule proposed after the effective date of this section, is valid unless it is adopted in substantial compliance with sections 301 through 318 of this act. Inadvertent failure to mail notice of a proposed rule adoption to any person as required by section 303(3) of this act does not invalidate a rule. No action based upon this section may be maintained to contest the validity of any rule unless it is commenced within two years after the effective date of the rule.

Sec. 315. RULES FILED WITH CODE REVISER—REGISTER—EFFECTIVE DATES. Section 4, chapter 234, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 17, chapter 505. Laws of 1987 and RCW 34.04.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each agency shall file ((forthwith)) in the office of the code reviser a certified copy of all rules ((now in effect and hereafter adopted)) it adopts, except ((the)) for rules contained in tariffs filed with or published by the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission. The code reviser shall place upon each rule a notation of the time and date of filing and shall keep a permanent register of ((such)) filed rules open to public inspection. In filing a rule, each agency shall use the standard form prescribed for this purpose by the code reviser.

(2) Emergency rules adopted under ((RCW 34.04.050 shall)) section 309 of this act become effective upon filing. All other rules ((hereafter adopted shall)) become effective upon the expiration of thirty days after the date of filing, unless a later date is specified in the rule.

(3) A rule may become effective immediately upon its filing with the code reviser or on any subsequent date earlier than that established by subsection (2) of this section, if the agency establishes that effective date in the adopting order and finds that:

(a) Such action is required by the state or federal constitution, a statute, or court order;

(b) The rule only delays the effective date of another rule that is not yet effective; or

(c) The earlier effective date is necessary because of imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare.

The finding and a brief statement of the reasons therefor required by this subsection shall be made a part of the order adopting the rule.

(d) With respect to a rule made effective pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, each agency shall make reasonable efforts to make the effective date known to persons who may be affected by it.

Sec. 316. RULES FOR FILING AND FORM OF RULES AND NOTICES. Section 13, chapter 237, Laws of 1967 and RCW 34.04.055 are each amended to read as follows:

The code reviser may (( prescribe regulations)) adopt rules for carrying out the provisions of this chapter relating to the filing and publication of rules and notices of intention to adopt rules, including the form and style to be employed by the various agencies in the drafting of such rules and notices.

(1) All agency orders amending or rescinding such rules, or creating new rules, shall be formulated in accordance with the style, format, and numbering system of the Washington Administrative Code ((and));

(2) Any subsequent printing or reprinting of such rules shall be printed in the style and format (including the numbering system) of such code; and

(3) Amendments of previously adopted rules shall incorporate any editorial corrections made by the code reviser.

Sec. 318. FORMAT AND STYLE OF RULES AMENDING EXISTING SECTIONS. ADDING NEW SECTIONS—EFFECT OF FAILURE TO COMPLY. Section 1, chapter 19, Laws of 1977 as amended by section 14, chapter 186, Laws of 1980 and RCW 34.04.058 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Rules ((promulgated)) proposed or adopted by an agency pursuant to ((RCW 34.04.025 or 34.04.030, as now or hereafter amended, which)) this chapter that amend existing sections of the administrative code shall have the words which are amendatory to such existing sections

No rule may be forwarded by any agency to the code reviser, nor may the code reviser accept for filing any rule unless the format of such rule is in compliance with the provisions of this section.

(2) Once the rule has been formally adopted by the agency the code reviser need not, except with regard to the register published pursuant to ((RCW 34.04.050(2))) section 201(3) of this act, include the items enumerated in subsection (1) of this section in the official code.

(3) Any addition to or deletion from an existing code section not filed by the agency in the style prescribed by subsection (1) of this section shall in all respects be ineffectual, and shall not be shown in subsequent publications or codifications of that section unless the ineffectual portion of the rule is clearly distinguished and an explanatory note is appended thereto by the code reviser in accordance with ((RCW 34.04.050, as now or hereafter amended, and RCW 34:04:052)) section 201 of this act.

PART IV.
ADJUDICATIVE PROCEEDINGS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 401. APPLICATION OF PART IV. (1) Adjudicative proceedings are governed by sections 402 through 423 of this act, except as otherwise provided:

(c) One or more administrative law judges assigned by the office of administrative hearings in accordance with chapter 34.12 RCW.

(2) (a) An agency expressly exempted under RCW 34.12.020(4) or other statute from the provisions of chapter 34.12 RCW shall designate a presiding officer as provided by rules adopted by the agency.

(b) The presiding officer on review of a failure to pass a professional or occupational licensing examination shall be one or more administrative law judges assigned by the office of administrative hearings in accordance with chapter 34.12 RCW.

(3) Any individual serving or designated to serve alone or with others as presiding officer is subject to disqualification for bias, prejudice, interest, or any other cause provided in this chapter or for which a judge is disqualified.

(4) Any party may petition for the disqualification of an individual promptly after receipt of notice indicating that the individual will preside or, if later, promptly upon discovering facts establishing grounds for disqualification.

(5) The individual whose disqualification is requested shall determine whether to grant the petition, stating facts and reasons for the determination.

(6) If a substitute is required for an individual who becomes unavailable as a result of disqualification or any other reason, the substitute must be appointed by the appropriate appointing authority.

(7) Any action taken by a duly appointed substitute for an unavailable individual is as effective as if taken by the unavailable individual.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 407. REPRESENTATION. (1) A party to an adjudicatory proceeding may participate personally or, if the party is a corporation or other artificial person, by a duly authorized representative.

(2) Whether or not participating in person, any party may be advised and represented at the party’s own expense by counsel or, if permitted by provision of law, other representative.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 408. CONFERENCE—PROCEDURE AND PARTICIPATION. (1) Agencies may hold prehearing or other conferences for the settlement or simplification of issues. Every agency shall by rule describe the conditions under which and the manner in which conferences are to be held.

(2) In the discretion of the presiding officer, and where the rights of the parties will not be prejudiced thereby, all or part of the conference may be conducted by telephone, television, or other electronic means. Each participant in the conference must have an opportunity to participate effectively in, to hear, and, if technically and economically feasible, to see the entire proceeding while it is taking place.

Sec. 409. NOTICE OF HEARING. Section 9, chapter 234, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 1, chapter 31. Laws of 1980 and RCW 34.04.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) [(In any contested case all parties shall be afforded an opportunity for hearing after not less than twenty-days' notice; but no hearing shall be required until the hearing is demanded unless other statutory provisions or agency rules provide otherwise.) The agency or the office of administrative hearings shall set the time and place of the hearing and give not less than seven days advance written notice to all parties and to all persons who have filed written petitions to intervene in the matter.

(2) The notice shall include:
(a) Unless otherwise ordered by the presiding officer, the names and mailing addresses of all parties to whom notice is being given and, if known, the names and addresses of their representatives;

(b) If the agency intends to appear, the mailing address and telephone number of the office designated to represent the agency in the proceeding;

(c) The official file or other reference number and the name of the proceeding;

(d) The name, official title, mailing address, and telephone number of the presiding officer, if known;

(e) A statement of the time, place and nature of the proceeding;

(f) A statement of the legal authority and jurisdiction under which the hearing is to be held;

(g) A reference to the particular sections of the statutes and rules involved;

(h) A short and plain statement of the matters asserted by the agency; and

(i) A statement that a party who fails to attend or participate in a hearing or other stage of an adjudicative proceeding may be held in default in accordance with this chapter. (If the agency or other party is unable to state the matters in detail at the time the notice is served, the initial notice may be limited to a statement of the issues involved. Thereafter, upon request a more definite and detailed statement shall be furnished;

(2) Opportunity shall be afforded all parties to respond and present evidence and argument on all issues involved;

(3) An agency may provide by rule for entry of summary orders in part or in whole after notice and hearing to all parties. The motion shall be granted if the pleadings, dispositions and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any, show there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to the order as a matter of law;

(4) Unless precluded by law, informal disposition may also be made of any contested case by stipulation, agreed settlement, consent order, or default;

(5) The record in a contested case shall include:

(a) All pleadings, motions, intermediate rulings;

(b) Evidence received or considered;

(c) A statement of matters officially noticed;

(d) Questions and offers of proof, objections, and rulings thereon;

(e) Proposed findings and exceptions;

(f) Any decision, opinion, or report by the officer presiding at the hearing;

(g) Oral proceedings shall be transcribed for the purposes of agency decision pursuant to RCW 34.04.110, as now or hereafter amended, rehearing, or court review. A copy of the record or any part thereof shall be transcribed and furnished to any party to the hearing upon request therefor and payment of the reasonable costs thereof;

(6) Findings of fact shall be based exclusively on the evidence and on matters officially noticed;

(7) Each agency shall adopt appropriate rules of procedure for notice and hearing in contested cases:

(a) Agencies, or their authorized agents, may:

(i) Administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, and receive evidence, and no person shall be compelled to divulge information which he could not be compelled to divulge in a court of law;

(ii) Issue subpoenas as provided in RCW 34.04.105;

(iii) Rule upon offers of proof and receive relevant evidence;

(iv) Take or cause depositions to be taken pursuant to rules promulgated by the agency, and no person shall be compelled to divulge information which he could not be compelled to divulge by deposition in connection with a court proceeding;

(v) Regulate the course of the hearing;

(vi) Hold conferences for the settlement or simplification of the issues by consent of the parties;

(g) Dispose of procedural requests or similar matters;

(b) Issue summary orders;

(i) Make decisions or proposals for decisions pursuant to RCW 34.04.110;

(j) Take any other action authorized by agency rule consistent with this chapter;

(3) If the agency is unable to state the matters required by subsection (2)(b) of this section at the time the notice is served, the initial notice may be limited to a statement of the issues involved. If the proceeding is initiated by a person other than the agency, the initial notice may be limited to the inclusion of a copy of the initiating document. Thereafter, upon request, a more definite and detailed statement shall be furnished.

(4) The notice may include any other matters considered desirable by the agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 410. PLEADINGS, BRIEFS, MOTIONS, SERVICE. (1) The presiding officer, at appropriate stages of the proceedings, shall give all parties full opportunity to submit and respond to pleadings, motions, objections, and offers of settlement.
(2) At appropriate stages of the proceedings, the presiding officer may give all parties full opportunity to file briefs, proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law, and proposed initial or final orders.

(3) A party that files a pleading, brief, or other paper with the agency or presiding officer shall serve copies on all other parties, unless a different procedure is specified by agency rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 411. DEFAULT. (1) An agency may provide forms for and, by rule, may provide procedures for and impose time limits upon submission of requests for hearing. Failure of a party to request a hearing within the time limit or limits established by the agency rule constitutes a waiver of that party's right to hearing, and the agency may proceed to resolve the case without further notice to, or hearing for the benefit of, that party. There shall be a minimum of twenty days from notice of an opportunity to request a hearing before a party is deemed to have waived his or her right to a hearing under this subsection.

(2) If a party fails to attend or participate in a hearing or other stage of an adjudicative proceeding, the presiding officer may serve upon all parties a default order, which shall include a statement of the grounds for the order.

(3) Within seven days after service of a default order under subsection (2) of this section, or such longer period as provided by agency rule, the party against whom it was entered may file a written motion requesting that the order be vacated, and stating the grounds relied upon. During the time within which a party may file a written motion under this subsection, the presiding officer may adjourn the proceedings or conduct them without the participation of that party, having due regard for the interests of justice and the orderly and prompt conduct of the proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 412. INTERVENTION. (1) The presiding officer may grant a petition for intervention at any time, upon determining that the petitioner qualifies as an intervenor under any provision of law and that the intervention sought is in the interests of justice and will not unduly delay or prejudice the rights of当事人. The presiding officer may adjourn the proceedings or conduct them without the participation of the intervenor, upon the intervention of the presiding officer.

(2) If a petitioner qualifies for intervention, the presiding officer may impose conditions upon the intervenor's participation in the proceedings, either at the time that intervention is granted or at any subsequent time. Conditions may include:

(a) Limiting the intervenor's participation to designated issues in which the intervenor has a particular interest demonstrated by the petition; and
(b) Limiting the intervenor's use of discovery, cross-examination, and other procedures so as to promote the orderly and prompt conduct of the proceedings; and
(c) Requiring two or more intervenors to combine their presentations of evidence and argument, cross-examination, discovery, and other participation in the proceedings.

(3) The presiding officer shall timely grant or deny each pending petition for intervention, specifying any conditions, and briefly stating the reasons for the order. The presiding officer may modify the order at any time, stating the reasons for the modification. The presiding officer shall promptly give notice of the decision granting, denying, or modifying intervention to the petitioner for intervention and to all parties.

Sec. 413. SUBPOENAS, DISCOVERY, AND PROTECTIVE ORDERS. Section 10, chapter 237, Laws of 1967 and RCW 34.04.105 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ([In order to determine the necessity or desirability of adopting, amending, repealing, or otherwise revising a rule or proposed rule, agencies may hold public hearings, subpoena witnesses, administer oaths, take the testimony of any person under oath, and in connection therewith, require the production for examination of any books or papers relating to the subject matter of contemplated regulation. Each agency may make rules as to the issuance of subpoenas by the agency or its authorized agents. This subsection shall not preclude the exercise of subpoena powers for investigative purposes granted agencies by other statutory provisions:]

(2) [In any contested case after service of notice as required in RCW 34.04.090(1), as now or hereafter amended, agencies, their authorized agents, and hearing examiners hearing the case:

(a) Shall issue a subpoena upon the request of any party and, to the extent required by agency rule, upon a statement showing general relevance and reasonable scope of the evidence sought: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That such subpoena may be issued with like effect by the attorney of record of the party to the contested case in whose behalf the witness is required to appear, and the form of such subpoena in each case may be the same as when issued by the agency: PROVIDED FURTHER, That such subpoena may be served by the signature of such attorney;

(b) May issue a subpoena upon their own motion;

(3)) The presiding officer may issue subpoenas and may enter protective orders. A subpoena may be issued with like effect by the agency or the attorney of record in whose behalf the witness is required to appear.

(2) An agency may by rule determine whether or not discovery is to be available in adjudicative proceedings and, if so, which forms of discovery may be used.

(3) Except as otherwise provided by agency rules, the presiding officer may decide whether to permit the taking of depositions, the requesting of admissions, and all other procedures authorized by rules 26 through 36 of the superior court civil rules. The presiding officer may condition use of discovery on a showing of necessity and unavailability by other means. In exercising such discretion, the presiding officer shall consider: (a) Whether all parties are represented by counsel; (b) whether undue expense or delay in bringing the case to hearing will result; (c) whether the discovery will promote the orderly and prompt conduct of the proceeding; and (d) whether the interests of justice will be promoted.

(4) Subpoenas issued and discovery orders and protective orders entered under this section may be enforced under the provisions of this chapter on civil enforcement of agency action.

(5) The subpoena powers created by this section shall be state-wide in effect.

(6) Witnesses in an adjudicatory proceeding shall be paid the same fees and allowances, in the same manner and under the same conditions, as provided for witnesses in the courts of this state by chapter 2.40 RCW and by RCW 5.56.010, except that the agency shall have the power to fix the allowance for meals and lodging in like manner as is provided in RCW 5.56.010 as now or hereafter amended; as to courts. (Each) The person initiating an adjudicatory proceeding or the party requesting issuance of a subpoena shall pay the fees and allowances and the cost of producing records required to be produced by the subpoena shall be paid by the agency or, in a contested case, by the party requesting the issuance of the subpoena.

(5) If an individual fails to obey a subpoena, or obeys a subpoena but refuses to testify when requested concerning any matter under examination or investigation at the hearing, the agency or attorney issuing the subpoena may petition the superior court of the county where the hearing is being conducted for enforcement of the subpoena. The petition shall be accompanied by a copy of the subpoena and proof of service, and shall set forth in what specific manner the subpoena has not been complied with; and shall ask an order of the court to compel the witness to appear and testify before the agency. The court, upon such petition shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed in such order and then and there to show cause why he has not responded to the subpoena or has refused to testify. A copy of the order shall be served upon the witness. If it appears to the court that the subpoena was properly issued and that the particular questions which the witness refuses to answer are reasonable and relevant, and in the case of a rule-making hearing that the requested appearance and testimony are necessary to secure information the expected nature of which would reasonably tend to cause the agency to exercise its rule-making authority, the court shall enter an order that the witness appear at the time and place fixed in the order and testify or produce the required papers and, on failing to obey said order the witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 414. PROCEDURE AT HEARING. (1) The presiding officer shall regulate the course of the proceedings, in conformity with the prehearing order, if any.

(2) To the extent necessary for full disclosure of all relevant facts and issues, the presiding officer shall afford to all parties the opportunity to respond, present evidence and argument, conduct cross-examination, and submit rebuttal evidence, except as restricted by a limited grant of intervention or by the prehearing order.

(3) In the discretion of the presiding officer, and where the rights of the parties will not be prejudiced thereby, all or part of the hearing may be conducted by telephone, television, or other electronic means. Each party in the hearing must have an opportunity to participate effectively in, to hear, and, if technically and economically feasible, to see the entire proceeding while it is taking place.

(4) The presiding officer shall cause the hearing to be recorded by a method chosen by the agency. The agency is not required, at its expense, to prepare a transcript, unless required to do so by a provision of law. Any party, at the party's expense, may cause a reporter approved by the agency to prepare a transcript from the agency's record, or cause additional recordings to be made during the hearing if the making of the additional recording does not cause distraction or disruption.

(5) The hearing is open to public observation, except for the parts that the presiding officer states to be closed under a provision of law expressly authorizing closure or under a protective order issued by the presiding officer pursuant to rules adopted by the chief administrative law judge. A presiding officer may order the exclusion of witnesses upon a showing of good cause. To the extent that the hearing is conducted by telephone, television, or other electronic means, and is not closed, the availability of public observation is satisfied by giving members of the public an opportunity, at reasonable times, to hear or inspect the agency's record, and to inspect any transcript obtained by the agency.

Sec. 415. RULES OF EVIDENCE—CROSS-EXAMINATION. Section 10, chapter 234, Laws of 1959 and RCW 34.04.100 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (Agencies, or their authorized agents, may admit and give probative effect to evidence which possesses probative value commonly accepted by reasonably prudent men in the conduct of their affairs. They shall give effect to the rules of privilege recognized by law. They may exclude incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial, and unduly repetitious evidence;
(2) All evidence, including but not limited to records and documents in the possession of the agency of which it desires to avail itself, shall be offered and made a part of the record in the case; and no other factual information or evidence shall be considered in the determination of the case. Evidence, including hearsay evidence, is admissible if in the judgment of the presiding officer it is the kind of evidence on which reasonably prudent persons are accustomed to rely in the conduct of their affairs. The presiding officer shall exclude evidence that is excludable on constitutional or statutory grounds or on the basis of evidentiary privilege recognized in the courts of this state. The presiding officer may exclude evidence that is irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitious.

(2) If not inconsistent with subsection (1) of this section, the presiding officer shall refer to the Washington Rules of Evidence as guidelines for evidentiary rulings.

(3) All testimony of parties and witnesses shall be made under oath or affirmation.

(4) Documentary evidence may be received in the form of copies or excerpts, or by incorporation by reference.

((3) Every party shall have the right of cross-examination of witnesses who testify, and shall have the right to submit rebuttal evidence.

(4) Agencies, or their authorized agents, may take))

(5) Official notice may be taken of (a) any judicially cognizable facts, (b) technical facts, or scientific facts within the agency’s specialized knowledge, and (c) codes or standards that have been adopted by an agency of the United States, of the state or of another state, or by a nationally recognized organization or association. Parties shall be notified either before or during hearing, or by reference in preliminary reports or otherwise, of the material so noticed and the sources thereof, including any staff memora nda and data, and they shall be afforded an opportunity to contest the facts and material so noticed. ((Agencies, or their authorized agents, may utilize their experience, technical competence, and specialized knowledge in the evaluation of the evidence presented to them)) A party proposing that official notice be taken may be required to produce a copy of the material to be noticed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 416. EX PARTE COMMUNICATIONS. (1) A presiding officer may not communicate, directly or indirectly, regarding any issue in the proceeding other than communications necessary to procedural aspects of maintaining an orderly process, with any person employed by the agency without notice and opportunity for all parties to participate, except as provided in this subsection:

(a) Where the ultimate legal authority of an agency is vested in a multimeber body, and where that body presides at an adjudication, members of the body may communicate with one another regarding the proceeding;

(b) Any presiding officer may receive aid from legal counsel, or from staff assistants who are subject to the presiding officer’s supervision; and

(c) Presiding officers may communicate with other employees or consultants of the agency who have not participated in the proceeding in any manner, and who are not engaged in any investigative or prosecutorial functions in the same or a factually related case.

(d) This subsection does not apply to communications required for the disposition of ex parte matters specifically authorized by statute.

(2) Unless required for the disposition of ex parte matters specifically authorized by statute or unless necessary to procedural aspects of maintaining an orderly process, a presiding officer may not communicate, directly or indirectly, regarding any issue in the proceeding, with any person not employed by the agency who has a direct or indirect interest in the outcome of the proceeding, without notice and opportunity for all parties to participate.

(3) Unless necessary to procedural aspects of maintaining an orderly process, persons to whom a presiding officer may not communicate under subsections (1) and (2) of this section may not communicate with presiding officers without notice and opportunity for all parties to participate.

(4) If, before serving as presiding officer in an adjudicative proceeding, a person receives an ex parte communication of a type that could not properly be received while serving, the person, promptly after starting to serve, shall disclose the communication in the manner prescribed in subsection (5) of this section.

(5) A presiding officer who receives an ex parte communication in violation of this section shall place on the record the pending matter all written communications received, all written responses to the communications, and a memorandum stating the substance of all oral communications received, all responses made, and the identity of each person from whom the presiding officer received an ex parte communication. The presiding officer shall advise all parties that these matters have been placed on the record. Upon request made within ten days after notice of the ex parte communication, any party desiring to rebut the communication shall be allowed to place a written rebuttal statement on the record. Portions of the record pertaining to ex parte communications or rebuttal statements do not constitute evidence of any fact at issue in the matter unless a party moves the admission of any portion of the record for purposes of establishing a fact at issue and that portion is admitted pursuant to section 415 of this act.
(6) If necessary to eliminate the effect of an ex parte communication received in violation of this section, a presiding officer who receives the communication may be disqualified, and the portions of the record pertaining to the communication may be sealed by protective order.

(7) The agency shall, and any party may, report any violation of this section to appropriate authorities for any disciplinary proceedings provided by law. In addition, each agency by rule may provide for appropriate sanctions, including default, for any violations of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 417. SEPARATION OF FUNCTIONS. (1) A person who has served as investigator, prosecutor, or advocate in an adjudicative proceeding or in its preadjudicative stage, or one who is subject to the authority, direction, or discretion of such a person, may not serve as a presiding officer in the same proceeding.

(2) A person, including an agency head, who has participated in a determination of probable cause or other equivalent preliminary determination in an adjudicative proceeding may serve as presiding officer or assist or advise a presiding officer in the same proceeding unless a party demonstrates grounds for disqualification in accordance with section 406 of this act.

(3) A person may serve as presiding officer at successive stages of the same adjudicative proceeding unless a party demonstrates grounds for disqualification in accordance with section 406 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 418. ENTRY OF ORDERS. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section:

(a) If the presiding officer is the agency head or one or more members of the agency head, the presiding officer may enter an initial order if further review is available within the agency, or a final order if further review is not available;

(b) If the presiding officer is a person designated by the agency to make the final decision and enter the final order, the presiding officer shall enter a final order; and

(c) If the presiding officer is one or more administrative law judges, the presiding officer shall enter an initial order.

(2) With respect to agencies exempt from chapter 34.12 RCW, the presiding officer shall transmit a full and complete record of the proceedings, including such comments upon demeanor of witnesses as the presiding officer deems relevant, to each agency official who is to enter a final or initial order after considering the record and evidence so transmitted.

(3) Initial and final orders shall include a statement of findings and conclusions, and the reasons and basis therefor, on all the material issues of fact, law, or discretion presented on the record, including the remedy or sanction and, if applicable, the action taken on a petition for a stay of effectiveness. Any findings based substantially on credibility of evidence or demeanor of witnesses shall be so identified. Findings set forth in language that is essentially a repetition or paraphrase of the relevant provision of law shall be accompanied by a concise and explicit statement of the underlying evidence of record to support the findings. The order shall also include a statement of the available procedures and time limits for seeking reconsideration or other administrative relief. An initial order shall include a statement of any circumstances under which the initial order, without further notice, may become a final order.

(4) Findings of fact shall be based exclusively on the evidence of record in the adjudicative proceeding and on matters officially noticed in that proceeding. Findings shall be based on the kind of evidence on which reasonably prudent persons are accustomed to rely in the conduct of their affairs. Findings may be based on such evidence even if it would be inadmissible in a civil trial. However, the presiding officer shall not base a finding exclusively on such inadmissible evidence unless the presiding officer determines that doing so would not unduly abridge the parties' opportunities to confront witnesses and rebut evidence. The basis for this determination shall appear in the order.

(5) Where it bears on the issues presented, the agency's experience, technical competence, and specialized knowledge may be used in the evaluation of evidence.

(6) If a person serving or designated to serve as presiding officer becomes unavailable for any reason before entry of the order, a substitute presiding officer shall be appointed as provided in section 406 of this act. The substitute presiding officer shall use any existing record and may conduct any further proceedings appropriate in the interests of justice.

(7) The presiding officer may allow the parties a designated time after conclusion of the hearing for the submission of memos, briefs, or proposed findings.

(8) Initial or final orders shall be served in writing within ninety days after conclusion of the hearing or after submission of memos, briefs, or proposed findings in accordance with subsection (7) of this section unless this period is waived or extended for good cause shown.

(9) The presiding officer shall cause copies of initial and final orders to be delivered to each party and to the agency head.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 419. REVIEW OF INITIAL ORDERS. (1) As authorized by law, an agency may by rule provide that initial orders in specified classes of cases may become final without further agency action unless, within a specified period, (a) the agency head upon its own motion determines that the initial order should be reviewed, or (b) a party to the proceedings files exceptions to the initial order. Upon occurrence of either event, notice shall be given to all parties to the proceeding.
(2) As provided by law, an agency head may appoint a person to review initial orders and to prepare and enter final agency orders.

(3) Sections 406 and 416 of this act apply to any person reviewing an initial order on behalf of an agency as part of the decision process, and to persons communicating with them, to the same extent that it is applicable to presiding officers.

(4) The officer reviewing the initial order (including the agency head reviewing an initial order) is, for the purposes of this chapter, termed the reviewing officer. The reviewing officer shall exercise all the decision-making power that the reviewing officer would have had to decide and enter the final order had the reviewing officer presided over the hearing, except to the extent that the issues subject to review are limited by a provision of law or by the reviewing officer upon notice to all the parties. In reviewing findings of fact by presiding officers, the reviewing officers shall give due regard to the presiding officer's opportunity to observe the witnesses.

(5) The reviewing officer shall personally consider the whole record or such portions of it as may be cited by the parties.

(6) The reviewing officer shall afford each party an opportunity to present written argument and may afford each party an opportunity to present oral argument.

(7) The reviewing officer shall enter a final order disposing of the proceeding or remand the matter for further proceedings, with instructions to the presiding officer who entered the initial order. Upon remanding a matter, the reviewing officer shall order such temporary relief as is authorized and appropriate.

(8) A final order shall include, or incorporate by reference to the initial order, all matters required by section 418(3) of this act.

(9) The reviewing officer shall cause copies of the final order or order remanding the matter for further proceedings to be served upon each party.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 420. STAY. A party may submit to the presiding or reviewing officer, as is appropriate to the stage of the proceeding, a petition for stay of effectiveness of a final order within ten days of its service unless otherwise provided by statute or stated in the final order. Disposition of the petition for stay shall be made by the presiding officer, reviewing officer, or agency head as provided by agency rule. Disposition may be made either before or after the effective date of the final order. Disposition denying a stay is not subject to judicial review.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 421. RECONSIDERATION. (1) Within ten days of the service of a final order, any party may file a petition for reconsideration, stating the specific grounds upon which relief is requested. The place of filing shall be specified by agency rule.

(2) The petition shall be disposed of by the same person or persons who entered the order, if reasonably available. The disposition shall be in the form of a written order denying the petition, granting the petition and dissolving or modifying the final order, or granting the petition and setting the matter for further hearing. The petition shall be deemed to have been denied if not disposed of within twenty days.

(3) No petition for reconsideration may stay the effectiveness of an order.

(4) The agency head may extend the time limits in this section for good cause, with due consideration that the rights of the parties will not be prejudiced by the extension and that extension will be in the public interest.

(5) The filing of a petition for reconsideration is not a prerequisite for seeking judicial review. An order denying reconsideration, or an extension of time limits pursuant to subsection (4) of this section is not subject to judicial review.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 422. EFFECTIVENESS OF ORDERS. (1) Unless a later date is stated in an order or a stay is granted, an order is effective when signed, but:

(a) A party may not be required to comply with a final order unless the party has been served with or has actual knowledge of the final order;

(b) A nonparty may not be required to comply with a final order unless the agency has made the final order available for public inspection and copying or the nonparty has actual knowledge of the final order;

(c) For purposes of determining time limits for further administrative procedure or for judicial review, the determinative date is the date of service of the order.

(2) Unless a later date is stated in the initial order or a stay is granted, the time when an initial order becomes a final order in accordance with section 418 of this act is determined as follows:

(a) When the initial order is entered, if administrative review is unavailable; or

(b) When the agency head with such authority enters an order stating, after a petition for administrative review has been filed, that review will not be exercised.

(3) This section does not preclude an agency from taking immediate action to protect the public interest in accordance with section 424 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 423. AGENCY RECORD. (1) An agency shall maintain an official record of each adjudicative proceeding under this chapter.

(2) The agency record shall include:

(a) Notices of all proceedings;

(b) Any prehearing order;
(c) Any motions, pleadings, briefs, petitions, requests, and intermediate rulings;
(d) Evidence received or considered;
(e) A statement of matters officially noticed;
(f) Proffers of proof and objections and rulings thereon;
(g) Proposed findings, requested orders, and exceptions;
(h) The recording prepared for the presiding officer at the hearing, together with any part of the hearing considered before final disposition of the proceeding;
(i) Any final order, initial order, or order on reconsideration;
(j) Staff memoranda or data submitted to the presiding officer, unless prepared and submitted by personal assistants and not inconsistent with section 416 of this act; and
(k) Matters placed on the record after an ex parte communication.

(3) Except to the extent that this chapter or another statute provides otherwise, the agency record constitutes the exclusive basis for agency action in adjudicative proceedings under this chapter and for judicial review of adjudicative proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 424. EMERGENCY ADJUDICATIVE PROCEEDINGS. (1) Unless otherwise provided by law, an agency may use emergency adjudicative proceedings in a situation involving an immediate danger to the public health, safety, or welfare requiring immediate agency action.

(2) The agency may take only such action as is necessary to prevent or avoid the immediate danger to the public health, safety, or welfare that justifies use of emergency adjudication.

(3) The agency shall enter an order, including a brief statement of findings of fact, conclusions of law, and policy reasons for the decision if it is an exercise of the agency's discretion, to justify the determination of an immediate danger and the agency's decision to take the specific action.

(4) The agency shall give such notice as is practicable to persons who are required to comply with the order. The order is effective when entered.

(5) After entering an order under this section, the agency shall proceed as quickly as feasible to complete any proceedings that would be required if the matter did not involve an immediate danger.

(6) The agency record consists of any documents regarding the matter that were considered or prepared by the agency. The agency shall maintain these documents as its official record.

(7) Unless otherwise required by a provision of law, the agency record need not constitute the exclusive basis for agency action in emergency adjudicative proceedings or for judicial review thereof.

(8) This section shall not apply to agency action taken pursuant to a provision of law that expressly authorizes the agency to issue a cease and desist order. The agency may proceed, alternatively, under that independent authority.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 425. BRIEF ADJUDICATIVE PROCEEDINGS—APPLICABILITY. (1) An agency may use brief adjudicative proceedings if:
(a) The use of those proceedings in the circumstances does not violate any provision of law;
(b) The protection of the public interest does not require the agency to give notice and an opportunity to participate to persons other than the parties;
(c) The matter is entirely within one or more categories for which the agency by rule has adopted this section and sections 426 through 429 of this act; and
(d) The issue and interests involved in the controversy do not warrant use of the procedures of sections 402 through 424 of this act.

(2) Brief adjudicative proceedings are not authorized for public assistance and food stamp programs provided for in Title 74 RCW, including but not limited to public assistance as defined in RCW 74.04.005(1).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 426. BRIEF ADJUDICATIVE PROCEEDINGS—PROCEDURE. (1) If not specifically prohibited by law, the following persons may be designated as the presiding officer of a brief adjudicative proceeding:
(a) The agency head;
(b) One or more members of the agency head;
(c) One or more administrative law judges; or
(d) One or more other persons designated by the agency head.

(2) Before taking action, the presiding officer shall give each party an opportunity to be informed of the agency's view of the matter and to explain the party's view of the matter.

(3) At the time any unfavorable action is taken the presiding officer shall give each party a brief statement of the reasons for the decision. Within ten days, the presiding officer shall give the parties a brief written statement of the reasons for the decision and information about any internal administrative review available.

(4) The brief written statement is a proposed order. If no review is taken of the proposed order as authorized by sections 427 and 428 of this act, the proposed order shall be the final order.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 427. BRIEF PROCEEDINGS—ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW—APPLICATION. Unless prohibited by any provision of law, an agency, on its own motion, may conduct administrative review of an order resulting from brief adjudicative proceedings. An agency shall conduct this review upon the written or oral request of a party if the agency receives the request within twenty-one days after furnishing the written statement required by section 426(3) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 428. BRIEF PROCEEDINGS—ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW—PROCEDURES. Unless otherwise provided by statute:

1) If the parties have not requested review, the agency may review an order resulting from a brief adjudicative proceeding on its own motion and without notice to the parties, but it may not take any action on review less favorable to any party than the original order without giving that party notice and an opportunity to explain that party's view of the matter.

2) The reviewing officer may be any person who could have presided at the brief proceeding, but the reviewing officer must be one who is authorized to grant appropriate relief upon review.

3) The reviewing officer shall give each party an opportunity to explain the party's view of the matter and shall make any inquiries necessary to ascertain whether the proceeding must be converted to a formal adjudicative hearing.

4) The order on review must be in writing, must include a brief statement of the reasons for the decision, and must be entered within twenty days after the date of the initial order or of the request for review, whichever is later. The order shall include a description of any further available administrative review or, if none is available, a notice that judicial review may be available.

5) A request for administrative review is deemed to have been denied if the agency does not make a disposition of the matter within twenty days after the request is submitted.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 429. AGENCY RECORD IN BRIEF PROCEEDINGS. 1) The agency record consists of any documents regarding the matter that were considered or prepared by the presiding officer for the brief adjudicative proceeding or by the reviewing officer for any review. The agency shall maintain these documents as its official record.

2) Unless otherwise required by a provision of law, the agency record need not constitute the exclusive basis for agency action in brief adjudicative proceedings or for the judicial review of brief adjudicative proceedings.

PART V.

JUDICIAL REVIEW AND CIVIL ENFORCEMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 501. RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THIS CHAPTER AND OTHER JUDICIAL REVIEW AUTHORITY. This chapter establishes the exclusive means of judicial review of agency action, except:

1) The provisions of this chapter for judicial review do not apply to litigation in which the sole issue is a claim for money damages or compensation and the agency whose action is at issue does not have statutory authority to determine the claim.

2) Ancillary procedural matters before the reviewing court, including intervention, class actions, consolidation, joinder, severance, transfer, protective orders, and other relief from disclosure of privileged or confidential material, are governed, to the extent not inconsistent with this chapter, by court rules.

3) To the extent that de novo review or jury trial review of agency action is expressly authorized by provision of law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 502. PETITION FOR REVIEW—WHERE FILED. 1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section and section 508 of this act, proceedings for review under this chapter shall be instituted by filing a petition in the superior court, at the petitioner's option, for (a) Thurston county, (b) the county of the petitioner's residence or principal place of business, or (c) in any county where the property owned by the petitioner and affected by the contested decision is located.

2) For proceedings involving institutions of higher education, the petition shall be filed either in the county in which the principal office of the institution involved is located or in the county of a branch campus if the action involves such branch.

Sec. 503. DIRECT REVIEW BY COURT OF APPEALS. Section 1, chapter 76, Laws of 1980 and RCW 34.04.133 are each amended to read as follows:

The final decision of an administrative agency in (a contested case) an adjudicative proceeding under this chapter (34.04 RCW) may be directly reviewed by the court of appeals upon certification by the superior court pursuant to this section. An application for (a review) direct review must be filed with the superior court within thirty days of the filing of the petition for review in superior court. The superior court may certify a case for direct review only if the judicial review is limited to the record of the agency proceeding and the court finds that:

1) Fundamental and urgent issues affecting the future administrative process or the public interest are involved which require a prompt determination;

2) Delay in obtaining a final and prompt determination of such issues would be detrimental to any party or the public interest:
(3) An appeal to the court of appeals would be likely regardless of the determination in superior court; and
(4) The appellate court’s determination in the proceeding would have significant precedential value.

Sec. 504. REFUSAL OF REVIEW BY COURT OF APPEALS. Section 2, chapter 76, Laws of 1980 and RCW 34.04.135 are each amended to read as follows:

The court of appeals may refuse to accept review of a case certified pursuant to ((RCW 34.04.135)) section 503 of this act. The refusal to accept such review is not subject to further appellate review, notwithstanding anything in Rule 13.3 of the Rules of Appellate Procedure to the contrary.

Sec. 505. APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT OR COURT OF APPEALS. Section 14, chapter 234, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 87, chapter 81. Laws of 1971 and RCW 34.04.140 are each amended to read as follows:

An aggrieved party may secure a review of any final judgment of the superior court under this chapter by appeal to the supreme court or the court of appeals. (§§) The appeal shall be taken in the manner provided by law for appeals from the superior court in other civil cases.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 506. STANDING. A person has standing to obtain judicial review of agency action if that person is aggrieved or adversely affected by the agency action. A person is aggrieved or adversely affected within the meaning of this section only when all three of the following conditions are present:

(1) The agency action has prejudiced or is likely to prejudice that person;
(2) That person’s asserted interests are among those that the agency was required to consider when it engaged in the agency action challenged; and
(3) A judgment in favor of that person would substantially eliminate or redress the prejudice to that person caused or likely to be caused by the agency action.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 507. EXHAUSTION OF ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES. A person may file a petition for judicial review under this chapter only after exhausting all administrative remedies available within the agency whose action is being challenged, or available within any other agency authorized to exercise administrative review, except:

(1) A petitioner for judicial review of a rule need not have participated in the rule-making proceeding upon which that rule is based, or have petitioned for its amendment or repeal;
(2) A petitioner for judicial review need not exhaust administrative remedies to the extent that this chapter or any other statute states that exhaustion is not required; or
(3) The court may relieve a petitioner of the requirement to exhaust any or all administrative remedies upon a showing that:
(a) The remedies would be patently inadequate;
(b) The exhaustion of remedies would be futile; or
(c) The grave irreparable harm that would result from having to exhaust administrative remedies would clearly outweigh the public policy requiring exhaustion of administrative remedies.

Sec. 508. DECLARATORY JUDGMENT ON VALIDITY OF RULE. Section 7, chapter 234, Laws of 1959 as amended by section 8, chapter 6, Laws of 1982 and RCW 34.04.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(((H))) The validity of any rule may be determined upon petition for a declaratory judgment (thereon) addressed to the superior court of Thurston county, when it appears that the rule, or its threatened application, interferes with or impairs or immediately threatens to interfere with or impair the legal rights or privileges of the petitioner. The agency shall be made a party to the proceeding. The declaratory judgment order may be (rendered) entered whether or not the petitioner has first requested the agency to pass upon the validity of the rule in question.

(((E))) In a proceeding under subsection (1) of this section the court shall declare the rule invalid only if it finds that it violates constitutional provisions or exceeds the statutory authority of the agency or was adopted without compliance with statutory rule-making procedures:
(3) A petition for a declaratory judgment pursuant to this section may not be solely based on the contents of the small business economic impact statement. However, in the case of a petition for a declaratory judgment as to the validity of any rule which is adopted after June 10, 1982, and which is based on grounds other than the contents of the small business economic impact statement, the compliance or noncompliance by the agency with the provisions of this chapter and where applicable the small business economic impact statement shall constitute part of the whole record of the agency’s action in connection with the petition;)

NEW SECTION. Sec. 509. TIME FOR FILING PETITION FOR REVIEW. Subject to other requirements of this chapter or of another statute:
(1) A petition for judicial review of a rule may be filed at any time, except as limited by section 314 of this act.
(2) A petition for judicial review of an order shall be filed with the court and served on the agency, the office of the attorney general, and all parties of record within thirty days after service of the final order.
(3) A petition for judicial review of agency action other than the adoption of a rule or the entry of an order is not timely unless filed with the court and served on the agency, the office of the attorney general, and all other parties of record within thirty days after the agency action, but the time is extended during any period that the petitioner did not know and was under no duty to discover or could not reasonably have discovered that the agency had taken the action or that the agency action had a sufficient effect to confer standing upon the petitioner to obtain judicial review under this chapter.

(4) Service of the petition on the agency shall be by delivery of a copy of the petition to the office of the director, or other chief administrative officer or chairperson of the agency, at the principal office of the agency. Service of a copy by mail upon the other parties of record and the office of the attorney general shall be deemed complete upon deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark.

(5) Failure to timely serve a petition on the office of the attorney general is not grounds for dismissal of the petition.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 510. PETITION FOR REVIEW—CONTENTS. A petition for review must set forth:

(1) The name and mailing address of the petitioner;
(2) The name and mailing address of the petitioner's attorney, if any;
(3) The name and mailing address of the agency whose action is at issue;
(4) Identification of the agency action at issue, together with a duplicate copy, summary, or brief description of the agency action;
(5) Identification of persons who were parties in any adjudicative proceedings that led to the agency action;
(6) Facts to demonstrate that the petitioner is entitled to obtain judicial review;
(7) The petitioner's reasons for believing that relief should be granted; and
(8) A request for relief, specifying the type and extent of relief requested.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 511. STAY AND OTHER TEMPORARY REMEDIES. (1) Unless precluded by law, the agency may grant a stay, in whole or in part, other temporary remedy during the pendency of judicial review.

(2) After a petition for review has been filed, a party may file a motion in the reviewing court seeking a stay or other temporary remedy.

(3) If judicial relief is sought for a stay or other temporary remedy from agency action based on public health, safety, or welfare grounds the court shall not grant such relief unless the court finds that:

(a) The applicant is likely to prevail when the court finally disposes of the matter;
(b) Without relief the applicant will suffer irreparable injury;
(c) The grant of relief to the applicant will not substantially harm other parties to the proceedings; and
(d) The threat to the public health, safety, or welfare is not sufficiently serious to justify the agency action in the circumstances.

(4) If the court determines that relief should be granted from the agency's action granting a stay or other temporary remedies, the court may remand the matter or may enter an order denying a stay or granting a stay on appropriate terms.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 512. LIMITATION ON NEW ISSUES. (1) Issues not raised before the agency may not be raised on appeal, except to the extent that:

(a) The person did not know and was under no duty to discover or could not have reasonably discovered facts giving rise to the issue;
(b) The agency action subject to judicial review is a rule and the person has not been a party in adjudicative proceedings that provided an adequate opportunity to raise the issue;
(c) The agency action subject to judicial review is an order and the person was not notified of the adjudicative proceeding in substantial compliance with this chapter; or
(d) The change in controlling law occurring after the agency action; or
(e) Agency action occurring after the person exhausted the last feasible opportunity for seeking relief from the agency.

(2) The court shall remand to the agency for determination any issue that is properly raised pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 513. JUDICIAL REVIEW OF FACTS CONFINED TO RECORD. Judicial review of disputed issues of fact shall be conducted by the court without a jury and must be confined to the agency record for judicial review as defined by this chapter, supplemented by additional evidence taken pursuant to this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 514. NEW EVIDENCE TAKEN BY COURT OR AGENCY. (1) The court may receive evidence in addition to that contained in the agency record for judicial review, only if it relates to the validity of the agency action at the time it was taken and is needed to decide disputed issues regarding:

(a) Improper constitution as a decision-making body or grounds for disqualification of those taking the agency action;
(b) Unlawfulness of procedure or of decision-making process; or
(c) Material facts in rule making, brief adjudications, or other proceedings not required to be determined on the agency record.

(2) The court may remand a matter to the agency, before final disposition of a petition for review, with directions that the agency conduct fact-finding and other proceedings the court considers necessary and that the agency take such further action on the basis thereof as the court directs, if:

(a) The agency was required by this chapter or any other provision of law to base its action exclusively on a record of a type reasonably suitable for judicial review, but the agency failed to prepare or preserve an adequate record;

(b) The court finds that (i) new evidence has become available that relates to the validity of the agency action at the time it was taken, that one or more of the parties did not know and was under no duty to discover or could not have reasonably been discovered until after the agency action, and (ii) the interests of justice would be served by remand to the agency;

(c) The agency improperly excluded or omitted evidence from the record; or

(d) A relevant provision of law changed after the agency action and the court determines that the new provision may control the outcome.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 515. AGENCY RECORD FOR REVIEW—COSTS. (1) Within thirty days after service of the petition, or within further time allowed by the court or by other provision of law, the agency shall transmit to the court the original or a certified copy of the agency record for judicial review of the agency action. The record shall consist of any agency documents expressing the agency action, other documents identified by the agency as having been considered by it before its action and used as a basis for its action, and any other material described in this chapter as the agency record for the type of agency action at issue, subject to the provisions of this section.

(2) If part of the record has been preserved without a transcript, the agency shall prepare a transcript for inclusion in the record transmitted to the court, except for portions that the parties stipulate to omit in accordance with subsection (4) of this section.

(3) The agency may charge a nonindigent petitioner with the reasonable costs of preparing any necessary copies and transcripts for transmittal to the court. A failure by the petitioner to pay any of this cost to the agency relieves the agency from the responsibility for preparation of the record and transmittal to the court.

(4) The record may be shortened, summarized, or organized temporarily or, by stipulation of all parties, permanently.

(5) The court may tax the cost of preparing transcripts and copies for the record:

(a) Against a party who unreasonably refuses to stipulate to shorten, summarize, or organize the record;

(b) As provided by section 516 of this act; or

(c) In accordance with any other provision of law.

(6) Additions to the record pursuant to section 514 of this act must be made as ordered by the court.

(7) The court may require or permit subsequent corrections or additions to the record.

Sec. 516. JUDICIAL REVIEW. Section 13, chapter 234, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 1, chapter 52, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 34.04.130 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) [(Any person aggrieved by a final decision in a contested case, whether such decision is affirmative or negative in form, is entitled to judicial review thereof only under the provisions of this 1967 amendatory act, and such person may not use any other procedure to obtain judicial review of a final decision, even though another procedure is provided elsewhere by a special statute or a statute of general application. Where the agency's rules provide a procedure for rehearing or reconsideration, and that procedure has been invoked, the agency decision shall not be final until the agency shall have acted thereon;

(2) Proceedings for review under this chapter shall be instituted by filing a petition in the superior court, at the petitioner's option, for (a) Thurston county, (b) the county of the petitioner's residence or principal place of business, or (c) in any county where the property owned by the petitioner and affected by the contested decision is located. The petition shall be served and filed within thirty days after the service of the final decision of the agency. Copies of the petition shall be served upon the agency and all parties of record. If a timely petition is filed any party of record not filing or joining in the first petition who wants relief from the decision must join in the petition or serve and file a cross-petition within twenty days after service of the first petition or thirty days after service of the final decision of the agency, whichever period of time is longer. The court, in its discretion, may permit other interested persons to intervene;

(3) The filing of the petition shall not stay enforcement of the agency decision. Where other statutes provide for stay or supersedeas of an agency decision, it may be stayed by the agency or the reviewing court only as provided therein; otherwise the agency may do so, or the reviewing court may order a stay upon such terms as it deems proper.

(4) Within thirty days after service of the petition, or within such further time as the court may allow, the agency shall transmit to the reviewing court the original or a certified copy of the entire record of the proceeding under review; but, by stipulation of all parties to the review proceeding, the record may be shortened. Any party unreasonably refusing to stipulate to limit the record may be taxed by the court for the additional costs. The court may require or permit subsequent corrections or additions to the record when deemed desirable.

(5) The review shall be conducted by the court without a jury and shall be confined to the record, except that in cases of alleged irregularities in procedure before the agency, not shown in the record, testimony thereon may be taken in the court. The court shall, upon request, hear oral argument and receive written briefs.

(i) The court may affirm the decision of the agency or remand the case for further proceedings; or it may reverse the decision if the substantial rights of the petitioners may have been prejudiced because the administrative findings, inferences, conclusions, or decisions are)

Generally. Except to the extent that this chapter or another statute provides otherwise:

(a) The burden of demonstrating the invalidity of agency action is on the party asserting invalidity.

(b) The validity of agency action shall be determined in accordance with the standards of review provided in this section, as applied to the agency action at the time it was taken;

(c) The court shall make a separate and distinct ruling on each material issue on which the court's decision is based; and

(d) The court shall grant relief only if it determines that a person seeking judicial relief has been substantially prejudiced by the action complained of.

(2) Review of rules. (a) A rule may be reviewed by petition for declaratory judgment filed pursuant to section 508 of this act or by review of other agency action.

(b) The validity of any rule may be determined upon petition for a declaratory judgment addressed to the superior court of Thurston county, when it appears that the rule, or its threatened application, interferes with or impairs or immediately threatens to interfere with or impair the legal rights or privileges of the petitioner. The agency shall be made a party to the proceeding. The declaratory judgment order may be entered whether or not the petitioner has first requested the agency to pass upon the validity of the rule in question.

(c) In a declaratory judgment proceeding, the court shall declare the rule invalid only if it finds that it violates constitutional provisions or exceeds the statutory authority of the agency or was adopted without compliance with statutory rule-making procedures.

(3) Review of agency orders. The court shall grant relief from an agency order only if it determines that:

(a) The order, or the order or rule on which the order is based, is in violation of constitutional provisions on its face or as applied; ((or))

(b) (in excess of) The order is outside the statutory authority or jurisdiction of the agency conferred by any provision of law; ((or))

(c) ((made upon)) The agency has engaged in unlawful procedure or decision-making process, or has failed to follow a prescribed procedure; ((or))

(d) ((affected by other error of)) The agency has erroneously interpreted or applied the law; ((or))

(e) (clearly erroneous in view of the entire record as submitted and the public policy contained in the act of the legislature authorizing the decision or order) The order, other than a rule, is not supported by evidence that is substantial when viewed in light of the whole record before the court, which includes the agency record for judicial review, supplemented by any additional evidence received by the court under this chapter; ((or))

(f) The agency has not decided all issues requiring resolution by the agency;

(g) The persons entering the order were subject to disqualification;

(h) The order is inconsistent with a rule of the agency unless the agency explains the inconsistency by stating facts and reasons to demonstrate a rational basis for inconsistency; or

(i) The order is arbitrary or capricious.

(4) Review of other agency action.

(a) All agency action not reviewable under subsection (2) or (3) of this section shall be reviewed under this subsection.

(b) A person whose rights are violated by an agency's failure to perform a duty that is required by law to be performed may file a petition for review pursuant to section 502 of this act, seeking an order pursuant to this subsection requiring performance. Within twenty days after service of the petition for review, the agency shall file and serve an answer to the petition, made in the same manner as an answer to a complaint in a civil action. The court may hear evidence, pursuant to section 514 of this act, on material issues of fact raised by the petition.

(c) Relief for persons aggrieved by the performance of an agency action, including the exercise of discretion, or an action under (b) of this subsection can be granted only if the court determines that the action is:

(i) Unconstitutional;

(ii) Outside the statutory authority of the agency or the authority conferred by a provision of law;

(iii) Arbitrary or capricious; or

(iv) Taken by persons who were not properly constituted as agency officials lawfully entitled to take such action.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 517. TYPE OF RELIEF. (1) The court may order an agency to take action required by law, order an agency to exercise discretion required by law, affirm or set aside agency action, enjoin or stay the agency action, remand the matter for further proceedings, or enter a declaratory judgment order. In reviewing matters within agency discretion, the court shall limit its function to assuring that the agency has exercised its discretion in accordance with law, and shall not itself undertake to exercise the discretion that the legislature has placed in the agency. The court shall remand to the agency for modification of agency action, unless remand is impracticable or would cause unnecessary delay.

(2) The sole remedy available to a person who is wrongfully denied licensure based upon a failure to pass an examination administered by a state agency, or under its auspices, is the right to retake the examination free of the defect or defects the court may have found in the examination or the examination procedure.

(3) The court may award damages, compensation, or ancillary relief only to the extent expressly authorized by another provision of law.

(4) If the court sets aside or modifies agency action or remands the matter to the agency for further proceedings, the court may make any interlocutory order it finds necessary to preserve the interests of the parties and the public, pending further proceedings or agency action.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 518. PETITION BY AGENCY FOR ENFORCEMENT. (1) In addition to other remedies provided by law, an agency may seek enforcement of its rule or order by filing a petition for civil enforcement in the superior court.

(2) The petition must name as respondent each alleged person against whom the agency seeks to obtain civil enforcement.

(3) Venue is determined as in other civil cases.

(4) A petition for civil enforcement filed by an agency may request, and the court may grant, declaratory relief, temporary or permanent injunctive relief, any other civil remedy provided by law, or any combination of the foregoing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 519. PETITION BY OTHERS FOR ENFORCEMENT. (1) Any person who would qualify under this chapter as having standing to obtain judicial review of an agency's failure to enforce an order directed to another person may file a petition for civil enforcement of that order, but the action may not be commenced:

(a) Until at least sixty days after the petitioner has given notice of the alleged violation and of the petitioner's intent to seek civil enforcement to the head of the agency concerned, to the attorney general, and to each person against whom the petitioner seeks civil enforcement;

(b) If the agency has filed and is diligently prosecuting a petition for civil enforcement of the same order against the same person; or

(c) If a petition for review of the same order has been filed and a stay is in effect.

(2) The petition shall name, as respondents, the agency whose order is sought to be enforced and each person against whom the petitioner seeks civil enforcement.

(3) The agency whose order is sought to be enforced may move to dismiss the petition on the grounds that it fails to qualify under this section or that the enforcement would be contrary to the policy of the agency. The court shall grant the motion to dismiss the petition unless the petitioner demonstrates that (a) the petition qualifies under this section and (b) the agency's failure to enforce its order is based on an exercise of discretion that is arbitrary or capricious.

(4) Except to the extent expressly authorized by law, a petition for civil enforcement may not request, and the court may not grant, any monetary payment apart from taxable costs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 520. DEFENSES—LIMITATION ON NEW ISSUES. (1) In a proceeding for civil enforcement a respondent may only assert as a defense:

(a) That the rule or order is invalid under section 516(3) (a) or (b) of this act. The court may only consider issues and receive evidence within the limitations provided by sections 512, 513, and 514 of this act;

(b) That the rule or order does not apply to the party or that the party has not violated the rule or order; and

(c) A defense specifically authorized by statute.

(2) The court, to the extent necessary for the determination of the matter, may consider new issues or take new evidence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 521. INCORPORATION OF OTHER JUDICIAL REVIEW PROVISIONS. Proceedings for civil enforcement are governed by the following provisions of this chapter on judicial review, as modified where necessary to adapt them to those proceedings:

(1) Section 501(2) of this act (ancillary procedural matters); and

(2) Section 515 of this act (agency record for judicial review).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 522. REVIEW BY HIGHER COURT. Decisions on petitions for civil enforcement are reviewable as in other civil cases.

PART VI.

LEGISLATIVE REVIEW AND MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Sec. 601. JOINT ADMINISTRATIVE RULES REVIEW COMMITTEE—MEMBERS—APPOINTMENT—TERMS—VACANCIES. Section 5, chapter 324, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 1, chapter 53, Laws of 1983 and RCW 34.04.210 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) There is hereby created a joint administrative rules review committee which shall be a bipartisan committee consisting of four senators and four representatives from the state legislature. The senate members of the committee shall be appointed by the president of the senate, and the house members of the committee shall be appointed by the speaker of the house. Not more than two members from each house may be from the same political party. All appointments to the committee are subject to approval by the caucuses to which the appointed members belong.

(2) The initial members of the committee shall be appointed as soon as possible after July 26, 1981, and shall serve until the next regular session of the legislature convenes in an odd-numbered year. Thereafter, members shall be appointed as soon as possible after the legislature convenes in regular session in an odd-numbered year, and their terms shall extend until their successors are appointed and qualified at the next regular session of the legislature in an odd-numbered year or until such members no longer serve in the legislature, whichever occurs first. Members may be reappointed to a committee.

(3) The president of the senate shall appoint the chairperson in even-numbered years and the vice chairperson in odd-numbered years from among committee membership. The speaker of the house shall appoint the chairperson in odd-numbered years and the vice chairperson in even-numbered years from among committee membership. Such appointments shall be made in January of each year as soon as possible after a legislative session convenes.

(4) A vacancy on the committee shall be filled by appointment of a legislator from the same political party as the original appointment. The appropriate appointing authority shall make the appointment within thirty days of the vacancy occurring.

Sec. 602. REVIEW OF PROPOSED RULES—NOTICE. Section 6, chapter 324, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 1, chapter 451, Laws of 1987 and RCW 34.04.220 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever a majority of the members of the rules review committee determines that a proposed rule is not within the intent of the legislature as expressed in the statute which the rule implements, the committee shall give the affected agency written notice of its decision. The notice shall be given at least seven days prior to any hearing scheduled for consideration of or adoption of the proposed rule pursuant to ((RCW 34.04.025(1)(a)(iii)) section 303 of this act. The notice shall include a statement of the review committee's findings and the reasons therefor.

When the agency holds a hearing on the proposed rule, the agency shall consider the review committee's decision.

Sec. 603. REVIEW OF EXISTING RULES—POLICY STATEMENTS, GUIDELINES, ISSUANCES—NOTICE—HEARING. Section 7, chapter 324, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 2, chapter 451, Laws of 1987 and RCW 34.04.230 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) All rules required to be filed pursuant to ((RCW 34.04.040)) section 315 of this act, and emergency rules adopted pursuant to ((RCW 34.04.030)) section 309 of this act, are subject to selective review by the legislature.

(2) The rules review committee may review an agency's use of policy statements, guidelines, and issuances that are of general applicability, or their equivalents to determine whether or not an agency has failed to adopt a rule ((as defined in RCW 34.04.010(2)).

(3) If the rules review committee finds by a majority vote of its members: (a) That an existing rule is not within the intent of the legislature as expressed by the statute which the rule implements, (b) that the rule has not been adopted in accordance with all applicable provisions of law, or (c) that an agency is using a policy statement, guideline, or issuance in place of a rule, the agency affected shall be notified of such finding and the reasons therefor. has failed to provide for the required hearings or notice of its action to the committee, the committee may file notice of its objections, together with a concise statement of the reasons therefor, with the code reviser within thirty days of such determination.

(2) If the rules review committee finds, by a majority vote of its members: (a) That the proposed or existing rule in question has not been modified, amended, withdrawn, or repealed by the agency so as to conform with the intent of the legislature, or (b) that the agency is using a policy statement, guideline, or issuance in place of a rule, the rules review committee may, within thirty days from notification by the agency of its action, file with the code reviser notice of its objections together with a concise statement of the reasons therefor. Such notice and statement shall also be provided to the agency by the rules review committee.

(3) If the rules review committee makes an adverse finding under subsection (2) of this section, the committee may, by a two-thirds vote of its members, recommend suspension of an existing rule. Within thirty days of receipt of the notice, the governor shall transmit to the committee, the code reviser, and the agency written approval or disapproval of the recommended suspension. If the suspension is approved by the governor, it is effective from the date of that approval and continues until ninety days after the expiration of the next regular legislative session.

(4) The code reviser shall publish transmittals from the rules review committee or the governor issued pursuant to subsection (1), (2), or (3) of this section in the Washington state register and shall publish in the next supplement and compilation of the Washington Administrative Code a reference to the committee's objection or recommended suspension and the governor's action on it and to the issue of the Washington state register in which the full text thereof appears.

(5) The reference shall be removed from a rule published in the Washington Administrative Code if a subsequent adjudicatory proceeding determines that the rule is within the intent of the legislature or was adopted in accordance with all applicable laws, whichever was the objection of the rules review committee.

The board may adopt rules or issue advisory opinions in response to questions from professional health associations, health care practitioners, and consumers in this state concerning licensed practical nurse practice. The board shall establish criteria for proof of reasonable currency of knowledge and skill as a basis for safe practice after three years inactive or lapsed status.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

Mr. Bristow spoke in favor of the amendment, and it was adopted.

Mr. Bristow moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Bristow and Day:

On page 6, after line 12, insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The legislature finds that significant changes occurring simultaneously in the health care delivery system and the demography of the national population are resulting in a shortage of qualified nursing personnel which has the potential of dramatically reducing the quality of health care in the state of Washington, particularly in long-term care and critical emergent care. One of the more important contributors to this shortage is the fall in enrollment of students wishing to pursue nursing as a career. In today's complex health care environment, a more integrated approach to the delivery of nursing care may provide comprehensive answers to the problem. The legislature finds that encouraging qualified individuals to enter the nursing profession is of paramount importance to the state in reducing this shortage. The legislature urges the health professions, industry, and philanthropic community organizations to join with state government in assuring the success of this program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Conditional scholarship' means a loan that is forgiven in whole or in part if the recipient renders nursing service as a nurse serving in a nurse shortage area, as defined by the state health coordinating council.

(2) 'Institution of higher education' or 'institute' means a community college, vocational-technical school, or university in the state of Washington which is accredited by an accrediting association recognized as such by rule of the higher education coordinating board.

(3) 'Board' means the higher education coordinating board.

(4) 'Eligible student' means a student who has been accepted into a program leading to eligibility for licensure as a licensed practical nurse, or to a program leading to an associate, baccalaureate, or higher degree in nursing or continues satisfactory progress within the program; and has a declared intention to serve in a nurse shortage area upon completion of the educational program.

(5) 'Nurse shortage area' means those areas where nurses are in short supply as a result of geographic misdistribution; or specialty areas of nursing, such as geriatrics or critical care, where vacancies exist in serious numbers that jeopardize patient care and pose a threat to the public health and safety. The state health coordinating council shall determine nurse shortage areas in the state guided by federal standards of 'health manpower shortage areas.'

(6) Develop criteria for a contract for service in lieu of the five-year service in a nurse shortage area where appropriate, that may be a combination of service and payment.

(7) 'Forgiven' or 'to forgive' or 'forgiveness' means to render nursing service in a nurse shortage area in the state of Washington in lieu of monetary repayment.

(8) 'Satisfied' means paid-in-full.

(9) 'Participant' means an eligible student who has received a conditional scholarship under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The nurses conditional scholarship program is established. The program shall be administered by the higher education coordinating board. In administering the program, the board shall have the following powers and duties:

(1) Select students to receive conditional scholarships, with the assistance of a screening committee;

(2) Adopt rules and guidelines to implement this chapter;

(3) Publicize the program;

(4) Collect and manage repayments from students who do not meet their services obligations under this chapter; and

(5) Solicit and accept grants and donations from public and private sources for the program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The higher education coordinating board shall establish a planning committee to develop criteria for the screening and selection of recipients of the conditional scholarships. These criteria also may include, for approximately half of the recipients, requirements that those recipients meet the definition of 'needy student' under RCW 28B.10.802.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. The board may award conditional scholarships to eligible students from the funds appropriated to the board for this purpose, or from any private donations, or any other funds given to the board for this program. The amount of the conditional scholarship awarded an individual shall not exceed three thousand dollars per academic year. Students are eligible to receive conditional scholarships for a maximum of five years while continually enrolled in an approved program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) Participants in the conditional scholarship program incur an obligation to repay the conditional scholarship, with interest, unless they serve for five years in nurse shortage areas of the state of Washington. Nurse shortage areas may include geographical areas as a result of maldistribution, or specialty areas of nursing such as gerontology, critical care, or coronary care.

(2) The terms of the repayment, including deferral of the interest, shall be consistent with the terms of the federal guaranteed loan program.

(3) The period for repayment shall be five years, with payments accruing quarterly commencing nine months from the date the participant completes or discontinues the course of study.

(4) The entire principal and interest of each payment shall be forgiven for each payment period in which the participant serves in a nurse shortage area, as determined by the state health coordinating council, until the entire repayment obligation is satisfied or the borrower ceases to so serve. Should the participant cease to serve in this state before the participant's repayment obligation is completed, payments on the unsatisfied portion of the principal and interest shall begin the next payment period and continue until the remainder of the participant's repayment obligation is satisfied.

(5) The board is responsible for collection of repayments made under this section and shall exercise due diligence in such collection, maintaining all necessary records to ensure that maximum repayments are made. Collection and servicing of repayments under this section shall be pursued using the full extent of the law, including wage garnishment if necessary, and shall be performed by entities approved for such servicing by the Washington student loan guaranty association or its successor agency. The board is responsible to forgive all or parts of such repayments under the criteria established in this section and shall maintain all necessary records of forgiven payments.

(6) Receipts from the payment of principal or interest or any other subsidies to which the board as administrator is entitled, which are paid by or on behalf of participants under this section, shall be deposited with the higher education coordinating board and shall be used to cover the costs of granting the conditional scholarships, maintaining necessary records, and making collections under subsection (5) of this section. The board shall maintain accurate records of these costs, and all receipts beyond those necessary to pay such costs shall be used to grant conditional scholarships to eligible students.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. Sections 10 through 15 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 28B RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. No conditional scholarships shall be granted after June 30, 1994, until the program is reviewed by the legislative budget committee and is reenacted by the legislature.

Representatives Bristow and Brooks spoke in favor of the amendment, and it was adopted.

Mr. Day moved adoption of the following amendment:

Upon approval by the board and following verification of satisfactory completion of an advanced formal education, the department of licensing shall issue an interim permit authorizing the applicant to practice specialized and advanced nursing practice pending notification of the results of the first certification examination. The newly constituted metropolitan council shall be as follows:

(1) The nine directly elected members shall be elected at the 1988 general election and assume office in accordance with RCW 29.04.170.

(2) The twelve ex officio members shall include five elected officials from the central county, four elected officials from the central city, and three elected officials from the other component cities. Any initial selections of such officials that are required shall be made on or before December 15, 1988. However, the existing metropolitan council may adopt a resolution providing for an alternative distribution of the number of the twelve ex officio members who are from the central county, central city, and other component cities if this resolution is adopted before December 1, 1988, and the resolution is approved by a vote of at least a majority of the full metropolitan council.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The metropolitan council shall provide for a redistribution of the twelve ex officio member positions among the central county, central city, and other component cities, on the basis of relative proportion of the total population of the metropolitan municipal corporation that each of the three represented groups possesses, on a date specified by the metropolitan council, within six months after: (1) The date when state redistricting data is released to the state; (2) five years after the date when state redistricting data is released to the state; and (3) whenever the proportionate population ascribed to the central county, central city, or other component cities is altered by ten percent or greater amount due to incorporations or annexations occurring after the last date under subsection (1) or (2) of this section when the adjustment was subject to potential adjustment. The population of the unincorporated area of the metropolitan municipal corporation shall be ascribed to the central county for purposes of this potential adjustment.

After any redistribution of the number of ex officio positions between the central county, central city, and other component cities, the elected officials who become ex officio members of the metropolitan council shall be designated, or selected, as provided in section 2 of this act, except for the number of officials who are apportioned between the central county, central city, and other component cities and the date by which the designations or selections are made.

A metropolitan municipal corporation created after the effective date of this section shall have the ex officio members distributed among the central county, central city, and other component cities as provided in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Each directly elected council member shall reside in, be nominated from, and be elected from a separate county legislative authority district if the boundaries of the metropolitan municipal corporation are coterminous with the boundaries of the central county and the central county has nine county legislative authority districts.

The metropolitan council shall establish nine council districts if these conditions do not exist, which council districts, as nearly as possible, shall follow precinct lines, follow neighborhood and community boundaries, and include approximately equal populations. A metropolitan council shall redraw these council district lines to reflect the concept of 'one person, one vote' within six months of the date whenever state redistricting data is released to the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The five initial directly elected council members receiving the greatest number of votes shall serve terms of four years and the other four initial directly elected council members shall serve terms of two years until their successors are elected and qualified and assume office in accordance with RCW 29.04.170, if the election at which they are elected is in an odd-numbered year.

The five initial directly elected council members receiving the greatest number of votes shall serve terms of three years and the other four initial directly elected council members shall serve terms of one year until their successors are elected and qualified and assume office in accordance with RCW 29.04.170, if the election at which they are elected is in an even-numbered year.

Thereafter, each directly elected member of a metropolitan council shall serve a four-year term until his or her successor is elected and qualified and assumes office in accordance with RCW 29.04.170. Elections shall be held in odd-numbered years and shall be held in conformance with the provisions of Title 29 RCW.

A vacancy in a directly elected position shall be filled by action of the metropolitan council selecting a person qualified to hold the position until a person is elected to fill the remainder of the unexpired term at the next district general election, as provided in RCW 29.21.360, 29.21-370, and 29.21.410. The person so elected shall take office immediately when qualified as defined in RCW 29.01.135.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A vacancy in an ex officio position on a metropolitan council shall be filled in the same manner as provided for the original selection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The chair of a metropolitan council shall be elected by membership of the council from among the directly elected members, to serve at the pleasure of the metropolitan council.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Each member of the council shall receive per diem compensation at a rate of fifty dollars per day for each day or major portion thereof devoted to the business of the metropolitan municipal corporation, and for attending each meeting of the council or a subcommittee of the council, unless the council reduces the per diem rate of compensation, but not to exceed seven thousand dollars in any one year.

Each member of the council additionally shall receive a salary as follows: (1) Five hundred dollars per month, unless the council reduces the amount of salary, if the metropolitan municipal corporation had expenditures in excess of fifteen million dollars in the preceding calendar year; and (2) three hundred fifty dollars per month, unless the council reduces the amount of salary, if the metropolitan municipal corporation had expenditures of from two million dollars to fifteen million dollars in the preceding calendar year. The council members of a metropolitan municipal corporation that had expenditures of less than two million dollars in the preceding calendar year shall not receive a salary, unless the council establishes a salary of not to exceed two hundred dollars per month.

Metropolitan council members who are also county or city elected officials who serve in such city or county capacities on a full-time basis shall receive this salary, but shall not receive this per diem compensation. The county or city government for which these council members are elected officials shall receive the per diem compensation that would be paid to these officials if they did not serve the county or city on a full-time basis.

Any member of the council may waive all or any portion of his or her salary or per diem compensation as to any month or months during his or her term as a metropolitan council member, by a written waiver filed with the metropolitan municipal corporation as provided in this section. The waiver, to become effective, must be filed any time prior to the date on which the remuneration otherwise would be paid. The waiver shall specify the month or period of months for which it is made.

Each council member shall be reimbursed for reasonable expenses actually incurred in the conduct of official business for the metropolitan municipal corporation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The ex officio members of a metropolitan council shall be the governing body of a newly created metropolitan municipal corporation until the directly elected members are elected and take office in accordance with RCW 29.04.170. The ex officio members of the metropolitan council of a newly created metropolitan municipal corporation shall be selected, or designated, within twenty-five days after the date of the election at which the favorable vote was cast authorizing the creation of the metropolitan municipal corporation. The first order of business of a metropolitan council, that does not include its directly elected members, shall be to choose a temporary chair from among their number and provide for the election of the directly elected members, which may include creating nine districts within the metropolitan municipal corporation from which the directly elected members will be elected. The directly elected members shall be elected at the next general election occurring at least ninety days after the metropolitan municipal corporation has been created.

Sec. 11. Section 35.58.040, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 3, chapter 303, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 35.58.040 are each amended to read as follows:

At the time of its formation no metropolitan municipal corporation shall include only a part of any city, and every city shall be either wholly included or wholly excluded from the boundaries of such corporation. If subsequent to the formation of a metropolitan municipal corporation a part only of any city shall be included within the boundaries of a metropolitan municipal corporation such part shall be deemed to be 'unincorporated' for the purpose of selecting a member of the metropolitan council pursuant to (((RCW 35.58.120(3))))) section 2 of this 1988 act, and such city shall neither select nor participate in the selection of a member on the metropolitan council pursuant to (((RCW 35.58.120))))) section 3 or 4 of this 1988 act.

Any metropolitan municipal corporation now existing or hereafter created, within a class A county contiguous to a class AA county or class AA county, shall, upon May 21, 1971 as to metropolitan corporations existing on such date or upon the date of formation as to metropolitan corporations formed after May 21, 1971, have the same boundaries as those of the respective central county of such metropolitan corporation: PROVIDED, That the boundaries of such metropolitan corporation may be enlarged after such date by annexation as provided in chapter 35.58 RCW as now or hereafter amended. In the event of such consolidation the component city with the largest population shall be the central city of such consolidated metropolitan municipal corporation and the component county with the largest population shall be the central county of such consolidated metropolitan municipal corporation.

Sec. 12. Section 4, chapter 277, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 36.56.040 are each amended to read as follows:

If, from the testimony given before the county legislative authority, it appears that the public interest or welfare would be satisfied by the county assuming the rights, powers, functions, and obligations of the metropolitan municipal corporation, the county legislative authority may declare that to be its intent and assume such rights, powers, functions, and obligations by ordinance or resolution, as the case may be, providing that the county shall be vested with every right, power, function, and obligation currently granted to or possessed by the metropolitan municipal corporation pursuant to chapter 35.58 RCW (including RCW 35.58.273 relating to levy and use of the motor vehicle excise tax) or other provision of state law, including but not limited to, the power and authority to levy a sales and use tax pursuant to chapter 82.14 RCW or other provision of law: PROVIDED, That such ordinance or resolution shall be submitted to the voters of the county for their adoption and ratification or rejection, and if a majority of the persons voting on the proposition residing within the central city shall vote in favor thereof and a majority of the persons voting on the proposition residing in the metropolitan area outside of the central city shall vote in favor thereof, the ordinance or resolution shall be deemed adopted and ratified.

Upon assumption of the rights, powers, functions, and obligations of the metropolitan municipal corporation by the county, the metropolitan council established pursuant to chapter 303, Laws of 1965, shall take effect immediately.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

(6) Section 35.58.160, chapter 7, Laws of 1965, section 2, chapter 84, Laws of 1974 ex. sess., section 1, chapter 330, Laws of 1985 and RCW 35.58.160; and

Mr. Ferguson moved adoption of the following amendments to the amendment:

On page 3, line 3 of the amendment, strike "1989" and insert "1990".
On page 3, line 10 of the amendment, strike "1988" and insert "1989".
On page 3, line 21 of the amendment, strike "1988" and insert "1989".
On page 3, line 29 of the amendment, strike "1988" and insert "1989".
On page 14, line 29 of the amendment, after "Sec. 15." strike the remainder of the section and insert "This act shall take effect on June 1, 1989."

Representatives Ferguson, Betrozoff and Schoon spoke in favor of the amendments to the amendment, and Representatives Hine, Brough and Haugen opposed them. The amendments to the amendment were not adopted.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Ms. Hine. Representatives Hine, Brough and Nelson spoke in favor of the amendment.
POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Hine yielded to question by Mr. May.

Mr. May: I think you have done good work here, and I would like to compliment you for that. In your third little bullet on this explanation I’ve been looking at for about the last ten minutes, it says that it would permit ex officio members who are also full-time officials of the county or city to receive the salary. I look at this as double pay, and I need to understand a little bit better why we have to have this double pay.

Ms. Hine: Thank you, Representative May. The pay would go to the county or city where that person served in their elected position. The idea is that when people are working on the metro council on metro business, that metro ought to reimburse the sponsoring government where that elected official is paid full-time. In any other instance the pay would be for those who are truly part-time or are not drawing full-time salaries.

Mr. May: To follow up, are they getting both per diem and a salary in this, or is the per diem the salary?

Ms. Hine: Both would go back to the local government, to the government that they represent.

The amendment by Ms. Hine was adopted.

The bill was ordered engrossed. On motion of Mr. Ebersole, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Hine, Brough and Lewis spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1726, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 93; nays, 2; absent, 1; excused, 2.

Mr. Prince moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Prince and Haugen:
On page 5 strike all language through "moving" on line 2 and insert "Loads of not more than eighty thousand pounds which may be legally hauled in the state bordering this state which also has a sales tax, are legal in this state when moving to a port district."

Mr. Prince spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Lewis: With the committee amendment adopted on page 5, line 3, that prohibits triple trailers, how far does this amendment go since it says "on page 5, strike all language through "moving" on line 2 and insert...", but it doesn't have a pick-up point on the amendment? Would we be, in essence, striking the committee amendment and the rest of the language on line 3 and even "system" with this amendment?

The Speaker: No.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Prince yielded to question by Mr. Schoon.

Mr. Schoon: Would the amendment before us prohibit shipping of logs from the state of Oregon to the Port of Longview?

Mr. Prince: Yes, it would. Oregon does not have a sales tax.

The amendment was adopted.

The bill was ordered engrossed. On motion of Mr. Appelwick, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Prince and Walk spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 1884, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 96; excused, 2.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. INTENT. The legislature finds that the vitality of the state economy is dependent on the ability of existing, growing, and new firms in the state to generate enough quality employment opportunities for the state’s citizens. This task requires the availability of needed capital at the appropriate stage of development for the new firms and growing firms that are the major source of innovations and new jobs in the state. The state has a critical interest in increasing employment opportunities, retaining existing employment, assisting new and growing enterprises, and promoting an environment in which entrepreneurship can flourish. The limited availability of capital to viable firms that do not meet current commercial bank or venture capital criteria for loans or equity investments restricts the state’s efforts to pursue these goals. Without access to appropriate and adequate financing at each stage of an enterprise’s development, talented entrepreneurs and promising firms are unable to remain competitive or to gain access to the new markets essential for their long-term growth.

The legislature further finds that the availability of capital to finance the expansion of enterprises is particularly crucial for the creation of new employment opportunities. The state has an interest in the accessibility in the state’s credit markets of long-term financing and investment involving greater risk than bank financing but promising lower return than venture capital investment. To ensure the availability of capital to permit the expansion of new and growing enterprises in Washington state, the legislature authorizes the creation of business and Industrial development corporations which is a new form of regulated financing entity, provides for technical assistance to ensure their soundness, and authorizes incentives for investments in business and industrial development corporations which provide financing in the state, and authorizes greater incentives for investments in business and Industrial development corporations which provide financing in economically distressed areas of the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter:

(1) ‘Corporation’ means a Washington business and industrial development corporation created under this chapter.

(2) ‘Financial institution’ means any banking corporation or trust company, national banking association, savings and loan association, insurance company or related corporation, partnership, foundation, or other institution engaged primarily in lending or investing funds.

(3) ‘Board of directors’ means the board of directors of the corporation created under this chapter.

(4) ‘Loan limit’ means for any financial institution, the maximum amount permitted to be outstanding at one time on loans made by such financial institution to the corporation, as determined under the provisions of this chapter.

(5) ‘Business’ means an individual, proprietorship, joint venture, partnership, trust, business trust, syndicate, association, joint stock company, cooperative, corporation, or any other organization operating in this state, and paying more than fifty percent of its contributions or payments for the purposes of unemployment insurance to this state.

(6) ‘Associate’ means, if used with respect to a corporation:

(a) A controlling person, director, officer, agent, or advisor of that corporation.

(b) A director, officer, or partner of a person referred to in (a) of this subsection.

(c) A person who controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with a person referred to in (a) of this subsection directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries.

(d) Any close relative of any person referred to in (a) of this subsection.

(e) A person of which a person referred to in (a) through (d) of this subsection is a director or officer.

(f) A person in a relationship referred to in (a) through (d) of this subsection, or any combination of those persons acting in concert, owns or controls, directly or indirectly, a twenty percent or greater equity interest.

For the purposes of this subsection (6)(f), a person who is in a relationship referred to in this subsection within six months before or after a corporation provides financing assistance shall be considered to be in that relationship as of the date that corporation provides that financing assistance.

If a corporation, in order to protect its interests, designates a person to serve as a director of, officer of, or in any capacity in the management of a business to which that corporation provides financing assistance, that person shall not, on that account, be considered to have a relationship with that business. This exception does not apply if the person has, directly or indirectly, any other financial interest in the business or if the person, at any time before the corporation provides the financing assistance, served as a director of, officer of, or in any other capacity in the management of the business for a period of thirty days or more.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. FORMATION. Seven or more persons, a majority of whom shall be residents of this state, who may desire to create a business and industrial development corporation under the provisions of this chapter, for the purpose of promoting, developing and advancing the prosperity and economic welfare of the state and, to that end, to exercise the powers and privileges hereinafter provided, may be incorporated by filing in the office of the secretary of state, as hereinafter provided, articles of incorporation. The articles of incorporation shall contain:

(1) The name of the corporation, which shall include the words 'Business and Industrial Development Corporation of Washington.'

(2) The location of the principal office of the corporation, but such corporation may have offices in such other places within the state as may be fixed by the board of directors.

(3) The purposes for which the corporation is founded, which shall be to provide moderate risk financing and management assistance to businesses operating primarily in Washington state to increase job opportunities for Washington citizens and the prosperity of the state. In furtherance of these purposes, the corporation may provide a range of financing assistance.

(6) The amount of authorized capital stock and the number of shares into which it is divided, the par value of each share and the amount of capital with which it will commence business and, if there is more than one class of stock, a description of the different classes; the names and post office addresses of the subscribers of stock and the number of shares subscribed by each. The aggregate of the subscription shall be the minimum amount of capital with which the corporation shall commence business which shall not be less than two million dollars, except as otherwise provided in this chapter. The articles of incorporation may also contain any provision consistent with the laws of this state for the regulation of the affairs of the corporation.

(7) The articles of incorporation shall be in writing, subscribed by not less than five natural persons competent to contract and acknowledged by each of the subscribers before an officer authorized to take acknowledgments and filed in the office of the secretary of state for approval. A duplicate copy so subscribed and acknowledged may also be filed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. CERTIFICATION. The articles of incorporation shall recite that the corporation is organized under this chapter.

The secretary of state shall not approve articles of incorporation for a corporation organized under this chapter until the state supervisor of banking has certified the corporation as eligible to operate as a business and industrial development corporation under this chapter.

A person transacting business in this state shall not use a name or title which indicates that the person is a business and industrial development corporation including, but not limited to, the use of the term 'BIDCO', and shall otherwise represent that the person is a business and industrial development corporation until such time as the person has been certified as a business and industrial development corporation.

A corporation shall be certified by the state supervisor of banking as eligible to operate under this chapter upon meeting the following conditions:

(a) The corporation has paid a three thousand dollar certification fee to the state supervisor of banking;

(b) The corporation has submitted a business plan which includes at least three years of detailed financial projections and other relevant information;

(c) The corporation has provided information about the character and competence of each director and officer of the corporation; and

(d) The supervisor finds that the corporation will be run competently, will be run in accordance with its articles of incorporation, has a net worth and lendable funds sufficient to provide financing assistance, and that the directors and officers of the corporation have agreed to comply with the terms of this chapter. In making the finding under this subsection, the supervisor shall:

(i) Consult with the director of trade and economic development and the director of community development.

(ii) Require a minimum net worth of one and one-half million dollars and an additional one and one-half million dollars in lendable funds or an enforceable pledge for one and one-half million dollars in lendable funds unless the supervisor finds that special circumstances render lesser amounts adequate for the corporation to meet the intent of this chapter and operate according to its business plan.
Whenever the articles of incorporation shall have been filed in the office of the secretary of state and approved by the secretary and all taxes, fees and charges, have been paid, as required by law, the subscribers, their successors and assigns shall constitute a corporation, and said corporation shall then be authorized to commence business, and stock thereto to the extent herein or hereafter duly authorized may from time to time be issued.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE TO NEW BIDCOS. The director of trade and economic development is authorized to provide technical assistance and advice to persons forming corporations under this chapter. The director of trade and economic development is authorized to enter into contracts to carry out the purposes of this section. The director of trade and economic development may contract with the department of community development to undertake a portion of the activities necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. REGULATION BY THE SUPERVISOR OF BANKING. (1) A corporation shall transact its business in a safe and sound manner and shall maintain itself in a safe and sound condition. The supervisor of banking shall revoke the certification of a corporation if the supervisor finds that the corporation has failed to operate or maintain itself in a safe and sound manner or has failed to operate in accordance with its articles of incorporation under section 3(3) of this act, and the corporation may not transact business as a business and industrial development corporation until such time as the supervisor recertifies the corporation consistent with section 4 of this act. The secretary of state shall remove from the active files the incorporation records of a corporation with its certification revoked until such time as the supervisor of banking has recertified the corporation.

(2) In determining whether a corporation is transacting business in a safe and sound manner or has committed an unsafe or unsound act, the supervisor shall consider the risk of a provision of financing assistance to a business firm, within the context of the anticipated higher risks associated with the purposes of corporations organized under this chapter.

(3) Subsection (2) of this section does not limit the authority of the supervisor to:

(a) Determine that a corporation's financing assistance to a single business or group of affiliated firms is in violation of subsection (1) of this section if the amount of that financing assistance is unduly large in relation to the total assets on the total shareholders equity of the corporation.

(b) Require that a corporation maintain a reserve in the amount of anticipated losses.

(c) Require that a corporation have a written financing assistance policy, approved by its board of directors, including credit evaluation and other matters. The supervisor shall not require that a corporation adopt a financing assistance policy that contains standards which prevent the corporation from exercising flexibility in meeting the capital needs of the individual firms.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. AUDITS BY SUPERVISOR OF BANKING. The corporation shall be examined at least once every eighteen months by the state supervisor of banking and shall make quarterly reports of its condition to said state supervisor of banking and more frequently upon call of the state supervisor of banking, who in turn shall make copies of such reports available to the state insurance commissioner and the governor; and the corporation shall also furnish such other information as may from time to time be required by the state supervisor of banking and secretary of state. The corporation shall pay the actual cost of said examinations. The state supervisor of banking shall exercise the same power and authority over corporations organized under this chapter as is now exercised over banks and trust companies by the provisions of Title 30 RCW, where the provisions of Title 30 RCW are not in conflict with this chapter.

In adopting rules to govern examinations and reports of corporations operating under this chapter, the supervisor of banking shall determine whether or not the corporation is operating within the purposes of the corporation as specified in its articles of incorporation. In making this determination, the supervisor of banking shall consult with the director of trade and economic development and the director of community development or their designee. In regulating corporations under this chapter, the supervisor of banking shall not consider the risk of a provision of financing assistance to a business unless the supervisor determines that the risk is so great compared with the realistically expected return as to constitute gross mismanagement.

The state supervisor of banking shall publish annually and provide to the house trade and economic development committee, house ways and means committee, senate economic development and labor committee and senate ways and means committee information on the impact of this chapter in promoting economic development in Washington. At the minimum, the information shall include aggregate statistics on each of the following:

(1) The number and locations of corporations operating under this chapter;

(2) The number of instances and dollar amount of financing and management assistance given by corporations operating under this chapter to:

(a) All individual businesses assisted;

(b) Types of businesses classified using the standard industrial classification manual;

(c) Minority and women-owned businesses; and

(d) Businesses located in areas of high unemployment;

(3) The number of jobs created or retained by:

(4) The percentage of each business's total contributions or payments for unemployment insurance made to the state of Washington.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. POWERS. The business of a corporation shall be to provide financing and management assistance to businesses operating primarily in Washington state. In furtherance of its business and in addition to the powers now or hereafter conferred on business corporations by the provisions of title 23A RCW, each corporation shall, subject to the restrictions and limitations herein contained, have the following powers:
(1) To elect, appoint and employ officers, agents and employees; to make contracts and incur liabilities for any of the purposes of the corporation.

Mr. Padden again spoke in favor of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Padden yielded to question by Mr. Lux.

Mr. Lux: Thank you, Representative Padden. You tweaked my conscience there about all the other ninety-five and this being the only one. How many of the other ninety-five were profit operations prior to just recently changing over to a nonprofit status?

Mr. Padden: The one other one that I have some knowledge on, and I am not as knowledgeable as the Representatives from that area, is in the 9th Legislative District involving an action in the city of Pullman. My only point was that I thought this ought to apply equally across the board where it appears to be a special legislation aimed at just one entity. That was my concern. I think there is a good case, and a lot of the legislators have made a case for this legislation in general. I just think it ought to be applied equally as is the principle in most of our laws.

Mr. Lux opposed the amendment, and Mr. Appelwick again spoke against it.

The amendment was not adopted.

On motion of Mr. Appelwick, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, The conflict between North Korea and South Korea in the early 1950s is often referred to as the “Forgotten War”; and

WHEREAS, This war resulted in the deaths of 54,000 Americans, with another 100,000 servicemen wounded; and

WHEREAS, Four hundred seventy-two servicemen from Washington State gave their lives for their country in this war; and

WHEREAS, The Washington Legislature has, in the past, supported the creation of veterans' memorials, such as the Winged Victory and the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial which was erected last year on the Capitol Campus; and

WHEREAS, The United States Congress also has supported the creation of veterans' memorials and last year appropriated one million dollars for the construction of a Korean Veterans' Memorial in Washington, D.C.; and

WHEREAS, It is appropriate that Washington State remember the veterans of the "Forgotten War" with a memorial on the Capitol Campus;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State House of Representatives strongly support the Washington State Korean Veterans' Memorial Fund Committee in its efforts to construct a fitting memorial on the Capitol Campus to honor those fine patriots who served their country in Korea in the early 1950s; and

INTRODUCTIONS AND FIRST READING

HJR 4234 by Representatives Grimm, H. Sommers, Schoon and Winsley
Requiring full funding of state retirement systems.

Referred to Committee on Ways & Means.

HCR 4443 by Representatives Prince, Schmidt, Walk, Gallagher, O'Brien and Nealey Commemorating Elmer Huntley.

Referred to Committee on Rules.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding) referred the resolutions listed on today's introduction sheet under the fourth order of business to the committees so designated.

MOTION

Mr. Lewis moved that House Joint Resolution No. 4234 take its place on the bottom of today's second reading calendar.

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): I think now you would have to move to relieve the Committee on Ways & Means of House Joint Resolution No. 4234. According to the rules you would have to do that under the sixth order of business, second reading of bills, and you would need a suspension of the rules. Sooner or later today we are going to reach the order of business where you can properly make this motion, requiring a majority vote of the members.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Lewis: At which order is it appropriate to make the motion to have House Joint Resolution No. 4234 pulled from Committee on Ways & Means and placed on the bottom of today's second reading calendar?

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): Under a precedent which was established last year it would be the eighth order of business, although the rules state that it should be the order of business on which the bill may be considered. When we come to the eighth order of business today, I shall take your motion.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Ms. Brough: Was there a motion on the floor on the fourth order of business to refer the bills to the committees so designated? Was there such a motion made?

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): It was not a motion. I referred the bill to Committee on Ways & Means. We use the motion for a large number of bills to save time, but ordinarily we pass or refer bills.

Representatives Brough and Ebersole spoke in favor of the motion, and it was carried.

This joint service agreement shall be by mutual consent of the city or town, the first district which had annexed that city or town, and the fire district which serves the area to be annexed. This joint service agreement may allow the fire district serving the area to be annexed to continue such service. The joint service agreement shall provide for terms of reimbursement to the fire district serving the area to be annexed."

Renumber the following sections accordingly.

Ms. Hine spoke in favor of the amendment, and it was adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Haugen yielded to question by Mr. Schoon.

Mr. Schoon: Representative Haugen, the original bill had an appropriation of $1,500,000. It appears it was reduced to $750,000 in committee, and it appears that Ways & Means eliminated all funding.

Ms. Haugen: That is correct.

Mr. Schoon: Can the bill still be a meaningful bill and accomplish a lot with that total appropriation gone?

Ms. Haugen: We are going to be back to talk to the Ways & Means Committee next biennium, I assure you. We are eager to get the bill on the books because the Department of Community Development needs to get staff up to speed and they are willing to do this without any additional revenue at this time. We urge your support. We will be back for money. We don't want to mandate. One of the things we feel very strongly about is that this is not going to be mandated without some source of revenue to help out the local districts. However, it was felt very strongly by some of the financial people who work with these local governments that this tool—and this is what it is, folks, a tool—will help them save money in the long run and actually probably pay for itself.

Representatives Nutley and Ferguson spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

President Cherberg: The purpose of the Joint Session is to present the Medal of Merit Awards for the second time to three deserving Washington State citizens who have been distinguished by exceptionally meritorious conduct in performing outstanding services to the people and the state of Washington.

The President introduced Joseph E. King, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Speaker: Thank you, Governor Cherberg. Ladies and gentlemen and distinguished guests, members of the House and Senate: Before I introduce the first Medal of Merit award winner today, I would like to say a special word of thanks to Speaker John O'Brien, who had the vision to pass the original legislation that called for the establishment of this Medal of Merit. The Legislature was originally skeptical about the effort, but as I remember last year when we had the first Medal of Merit Award Ceremony, it was one of the most proud moments, one of the nicest moments, in the hectic sessions we sometimes face. Let's all give thanks to Speaker John O'Brien.

Today's first recipient of the Medal of Merit Award is a living example of America's spirit, ambition and tireless commitment to the public good. Most of us in this Chamber are trying to make a contribution to society through elective office. Ed Carlson has demonstrated that a private citizen can do more for his fellow man than many of us would ever dream of. For most of his life Ed Carlson has given his time and vision to helping make Washington a better, more liveable state. Through his considerable accomplishments in the business world and in the effort he has given to many civic activities, Mr. Carlson has established himself as one of the true leaders, in every sense of the word, of this state.

Upon graduating from the University of Washington, Mr. Carlson worked his way up in the hotel business to become the President and Board Chairman of what is now the Westin Hotel chain. He later became President and Chief Executive Officer of United Airlines. His business and civic accomplishments have earned him many honors and awards over the years. Putting Seattle on the map as Chairman of the 1962 Seattle World’s Fair helped earn him the city’s First Citizen Award in 1966. He is also the past recipient of the Horatio Alger Award, the Legion of Honor Award, the American Tourism Award and many others, too numerous to mention here. He has now supposedly retired, and I’m not sure how many retirements Ed Carlson has been through. He remains an active participant in public affairs. He continues to serve on various advisory boards and panels, including the University of Washington Board of Regents. Ladies and gentlemen, will you join me in welcoming and honoring one of Washington’s foremost citizens, Edward E. Carlson.

The Speaker presented the Medal of Merit to Mr. Edward E. Carlson.

Mr. Carlson: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Governor Gardner, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, Mr. Speaker, distinguished members of the Legislature, ladies and gentlemen: At a time like this Mrs. Carlson and I have much to be thankful for—a host of friends across the country, good health, with my many commitments and opportunities extensive travel across the world, and always the fascinating and sometimes frustrating challenges of an active life in the corporate world. Now, in what I call the harvest years of my life, I am honored to share this podium with Dr. William Hutchinson, Mrs. Henry Jackson and Governor Gardner before a joint meeting of the State Legislature as one of the recipients of the Medal of Merit.

Forgive me now for a few moments of reflection. I have often thought how fortunate I am to have been born in this country where there is no limit on opportunities, where—with a little luck and the willingness to work—men and women can enjoy the mental stimulation and the satisfaction of successes in the business world and civic affairs, where people can dream and make things happen, where the doers and the doubters can be separated. I have often said the doers make things happen; the doubters sit on the sidelines and carp with seldom any positive thoughts, yet always ready to say, “I told you so.”

Opportunities and challenges come in different ways. Although I have never been elected to a public office, I have been privileged to respond to the invitations of Governors of this state and to Presidents of the United States to serve as a member of a number of commissions. Those experiences give me the greatest admiration for those of you in public life who commit your skills, your energy and your intellect to matters essential to the public good.

In my judgment these commitments and your debates are essential to continued emphasis on a number of things, but may I mention particularly education and a sense of compassion to the disadvantaged of our society. I wish you well in that continued effort.

Governor Gardner, on behalf of my family, let me express my sincerest appreciation for this recognition today. I am deeply humbled and forever grateful to you. Thank you.

President Cherberg: Honorable ladies and gentlemen: It is indeed a rare and wonderful honor at this point to present the Medal of Merit to Dr. William B. Hutchinson as a pioneer in the field of medical research. As President and Founding Director of the Pacific Northwest Research Foundation, Dr. Hutchinson has earned international recognition in research on bio-medical problems not currently understood which relate to human disease. As the builder, the organizer and the President of the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Center—which honors his brother Fred, the great baseball player—Dr. Hutchinson established a facility which has further widened medical research programs in our region. I happen to know that Dr. Hutchinson was also a terrific baseball player in his own right and one who could have been a great success in major league baseball had he chosen to do so. Dr. Bill is a true son of Washington State and a remarkable organizer and research genius and well deserving of this honor, the Medal of Merit. It is my great honor and high pleasure to present to this distinguished audience, Dr. William Hutchinson.

President Cherberg presented the Medal of Merit to Dr. William B. Hutchinson.

Dr. Hutchinson: Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, distinguished members of the Supreme Court, the Senate and House of Representatives, members of the selection committee, and ladies and gentlemen: As I receive the Medal of Merit, I feel most humble, as I represent that wonderful group of people from all strata of our society who have given so liberally of their precious time, effort and financial substance to what I consider an important reality.

In my opinion it has been my duty, as a knowledgeable person in surgery and in the bio-medical sciences, to see that their trust in me has not been misplaced. We have put together two private bio-medical research institutions, the Pacific Northwest Research Foundation in 1955, which is the parent organization of the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center founded in 1972, from which I resigned in January 1, 1985. Senator Magnuson, the champion for cancer research, obtained five million dollars from the U.S. Senate, which was to be matched by two million dollars from the Pacific Northwest Research Foundation, to construct that facility. We also hosted the Thirteenth International Cancer Congress at Pacific Auditorium in Seattle in 1982 where ninety-one hundred delegates from eighty-nine countries assembled for one week of study. Over two thousand Washington State citizen volunteers helped make this a memorial event, illustrating the cooperative nature of our citizens. The state gift from Governor Ray made this event the success for which it is remembered. At present we, the citizens of this state, can for a variety of reasons take our rightful place with Massachusetts, New York, Texas and Washington, D.C. as leaders in medical advancements.

We must work diligently and intelligently to maintain this posture. I shall attempt to do this. God willing, in my small niche at the Pacific Northwest Research Foundation. As we mature in life, we recognize how fortunate we have been to be the recipients of the tremendous sacrifices our not-too-distant forebears made on our behalf. Thus recognized, it must create an inner desire in most of us to want to leave our successors a more decent and healthy society. This body of dedicated people is a living example of this truth. Often unappreciated, maligned and ridiculed, you push forward attempting to make our democratic system work. You are the leaders, and we must all hold you in the highest esteem, for you often put personal considerations and gain—both financial and political—aside if the system and you are to succeed. It is self-evident that no one wants an increase in taxes. But if we are to enjoy improvements, they must be paid for. Morally our duty in the research field is to be certain that such tax money is well directed and prudently used when the research programs are fortunate enough to be the recipients. Washington State has produced some outstanding legislators.

Again, I wish to thank you all for honoring me. I will humbly accept this honor on behalf of all those who made it happen to me. Thank you.

The President of the Senate introduced Governor Booth Gardner.

Governor Gardner: To the rest of the country, he was Senator Henry Jackson, one of the most powerful men ever to walk the floor of the U.S. Senate. But here in Washington he was always “Scoop.” His well-earned reputation as one of this nation’s greatest foreign policy experts, his chairmanship of the Senate Interiors Committee and almost forty-three years in the U.S. Congress gave Senator Jackson political power that we will likely never see again. Despite the fact that he was a valued advisor to eight different Presidents, Scoop never lost his down-home charm, a charm that won the hearts of citizens throughout this state. It didn’t matter whether you were a Democrat or a Republican, conservative or liberal, white collar or blue collar, woman or man, you were attracted to Scoop for his combination of fairness and sensibility. Senator Jackson left us more than four years ago, but his legacy will live in Washington State for centuries—in the forests he saved, in the students he enabled to obtain a college education, to thousands upon thousands of jobs that he brought to the State of Washington. He was a man both bigger than life and down to earth, a rare combination, but a combination that worked to make this state a tremendous place to live. To you, Helen, Peter and Ann Marie, who couldn’t be with us today, thank you for sharing Scoop with all of us in the State of Washington.

Governor Gardner presented the Medal of Merit to Mrs. Henry Jackson for the late U.S. Senator Henry M. Jackson.

Mrs. Jackson: Governor Gardner, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, Mr. Speaker, members of the Senate and the House: I am very pleased to accept this award on behalf of my husband. Scoop loved the Northwest, and he would be proud that the State of Washington honors him with its highest award, the Medal of Merit.

Born in Everett, Scoop—as many of you know—was the son of Norwegian immigrants. His parents were drawn to this state by its promise of a better life, its natural beauty so reminiscent of their homeland, and by its resourceful and strong-minded people who shared a sense of caring and community responsibility. Growing up in Everett, Scoop learned the values of hard work, frugality and self-reliance. He witnessed firsthand the toil of working men and women, the pain of economic hard times, and the courage and strength of his fellow citizens. His greatest joys in those days were to explore the back roads of Snohomish County and to camp in the wilderness around Monte Cristo.

So deep were his roots in Washington State that many of Scoop's legislative achievements can be traced to his experiences as a young man coming of age in the Pacific Northwest. For example, his championship of the major economic and social legislation of the post-war period grew out of his early career as a social worker during the Depression when, as he used to tell me, he saw women with good faces rummaging in garbage cans to feed their families. His unwavering support for the cause of labor can be traced to his father's strong union loyalty as a mason and cement worker in Snohomish County. Scoop's leadership in advancing social justice and human rights at home and abroad reflect his Scandinavian heritage of equality and independence. His pioneering role in the major environmental legislation of this century was influenced by the memory of those halcyon days spent climbing Mount Pilchuck and fishing in Puget Sound. Thus he was determined to preserve our state's national parks and wilderness areas for future generations to enjoy and explore.

Over the years Scoop assumed an increasingly important role as an international statesman, as a defender of freedom and democracy throughout the world, as the national chairman of his party and as a candidate for the Presidency. Yet never did he forget his paramount duty as representative of the people of Washington State. How well I remember the many evenings Scoop would come home with a stack of telephone messages and sit up until late in the evening returning calls to people back home. Or the long weekends in Everett he would spend helping widows solve problems they had with Social Security, advising young people on their future careers, raising funds for scholarships in memory of his sister Gertrude, or visiting old friends in nursing homes. At the time of Scoop's death, I received more than seven thousand letters of condolence from people all over Washington, from places like Chimacum, Republic, Walla Walla, Tenino and Aberdeen, each relating to me some special kindness that Scoop had done for them. Even now I am often approached by individuals who have a story to share about how Scoop had taken the time to help them with a personal problem. But then Scoop considered that to be his principle responsibility. His love for this state and its people was unending.

The award of merit would have made Scoop very proud, and I thank you sincerely on his behalf.

President Cherberg: Governor Gardner, you are certainly entitled to all the praise in the world for participating in the Medal of Merit Award Ceremony. We have such a wonderful group to receive the awards. Thank you so very much. Also, on behalf of the Legislature, thank you Eddie, Bill and Helen for being here today and for all of the wonderful things that you have done for the people, not only of this state, but internationally. Mr. Speaker, thank you and your group for the proceedings and the wonderful manner in which you have greeted us.

The President of the Senate instructed the special committee to escort Governor Gardner to his Chambers.

The President instructed the special committee to escort the State Elected Officials from the House Chamber.

The President instructed the special committee to escort the Supreme Court Justices from the House Chamber.

The President of the Senate returned the gavel to the Speaker of the House.
ON MOTION

On motion of Mr. Ebersole, the Joint Session was dissolved.

The Speaker instructed the Sergeant at Arms of the House and the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate to escort President of the Senate John Cherberg, President Pro Tempore Alan Bluechel, Vice President Pro Tempore Ellen Craswell, Majority Leader Jeannette Hayner, Democratic Leader Larry Vognild and the members of the Washington State Senate from the House Chamber.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker wishes to present this bouquet of red roses to Eljo Sutherland, who is retiring as of today. Eljo started her legislative career in the Office of the Code Revisor as a proof reader. She spent a bit of time in the Office of the Secretary of State and came to the House in 1969 as a proof reader in the House Workroom. She worked sessions until 1973, when she came to work on an almost full-time basis as the Journal Clerk. She worked in this capacity until December of 1987 when she transferred to the Accounting Office. Eljo and her husband Howard, who preceded her in retirement a year or two ago, are planning to take their motor home south for the next few months and, from there, wherever their dreams take them. We wish them a long and happy retirement and thank Eljo for her fourteen years on this rostrum as the Journal Clerk and some twenty years overall of faithful and effective service in the House of Representatives. Eljo, we all thank you and wish you every happiness.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. B. Williams: Mr. Speaker: Eight score and nineteen years ago a great American was born. Today as we pause to celebrate the Medal of Merit, we really reflect a great deal upon Abraham Lincoln. Virtually all Americans and American historians regard Abraham Lincoln as one of our greatest presidents. American author and editor, Bernard Devoto, captured the essence of Lincoln's legend when he said, "When America democracy reaches its crisis and needs a savior, and a great one, out of its native earth, its native shrewdness, reality and common sense it produces an Abraham Lincoln, a backwoods' politician and one of the greatest statesmen in all history."

As we pause here in this chamber today for a moment to remember Lincoln, let us focus on the characteristics which made him great. Lincoln had wisdom and courage, faith, justice, compassion and vision. And he possessed these qualities in greater quantity than many. Perhaps his greatest characteristic was that of having the wisdom of knowing when to compromise and when not to. President Lincoln could have held the nation together for probably a year or more longer and avoided the war had he chosen a political compromise approach to slavery. It would have been an immoral choice, but some would have taken that route. Lincoln knew that for a nation to stand, it must stand for what is right in the eyes of a just and holy God. Slavery was not merely out of date or wrong for the time, but it was wrong in God's plan. Lincoln did not want to divide this nation, but he had to choose between compromise and standing for what was right. He chose to stand. He did not stand in an arrogant, defiant way, but he stood in a humble and forgiving way with the confidence that he was right.

His conviction came from his strong spiritual strength which he had developed from a lifetime of setbacks and of defeat. His commitment was to his faith, and it gave him the strength, not only to stand firm, but the character to love his enemy. Said Lincoln, "We trust, Sir, that God is on our side, but it is more important to know that we are on God's side." Lincoln also demonstrated his confidence in the path he chose for our nation when he said, "If I were to try to read, much less answer, all the attacks made on me, this shop might as well be closed for all other business. I do the very best I know how, the very best I can, and I mean to keep on doing that to the end. If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me will not amount to anything. If in the end it brings me out wrong, ten angels swearing that I was right would make no difference."

Lincoln's character, his strength and his greatness all sprang from the kind of life he lead. From the adversity he overcame and the challenges he met head on. Now today we must strive to learn from Lincoln's example to make ourselves, our state and our nation better. Let us have leaders like Lincoln, who strive to be right, yet who are humble enough to admit that neither they nor their party are perfect. Let us have leaders who will be humble enough not to blame every ill on the last administration or legislature, and yet claim every victory for themselves. Let us have leaders who have the strength of their conviction to vote right and the strength of character to live right. Let us learn from Lincoln's example.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Vekich: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to say that I think we can honor Abe Lincoln—he's a great guy to honor. I think the best honor he ever had, though, was when the left-wing freedom fighters formed the Abraham Lincoln Brigade and went to Spain and fought fascism.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Todd: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to thank my colleague from the Longview area for that wonderful speech. I also rise to recognize this day as Abraham Lincoln's birthday. As many of you know, in my family was Mary Todd Lincoln. In reflecting on this day, one of the things I thought about is that we stand on the threshold of challenge here in the State of Washington. We stand on the threshold of the one hundredth birthday of the State of Washington. We stand on the threshold of some very difficult and challenging problems ahead of us.

I was looking back at some notes that I had made a few years back about Lincoln and reflecting on the fact that Abraham Lincoln patterned his political beliefs on ideals that were expressed in the Declaration of Independence. He once said, "I never had a thought politically which did not spring from the sentiments embodied in the Declaration of Independence." More than anything else we do remember Abraham Lincoln as the president who reunited the United States of America. Faced with a crisis that no other president has ever known, including a war that saw over six hundred thousand Americans die on their own soil, he demonstrated what seemed like limitless courage and an unshakeable faith in democracy. In his Gettysburg Address, which lasted a mere three minutes, he summed up the qualities that are the very foundation of our country. He began, "Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal." And he concluded, "Government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth.” Abraham Lincoln, who could have easily given in to bitterness and hatred over the war, led our nation in forgiving the South. Some of the most compassionate words ever spoken were in his second inaugural address when he asked for “malice toward none and charity for all.”
THIRTY-THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1988

When we look back on the life of Abraham Lincoln and the troubled times he faced, we are forced to reflect on our own lives and the problems facing this state, this country and this earth. We have many problems that still face us—democracy still struggles to be a reality in many countries and division in war, like that between the North and South, has never left this world. In fact it has gotten much, much worse with the ability to destroy ourselves many times over. Let’s never forget that these evils can be overcome, but only with great sacrifice. Abraham Lincoln dedicated his life, and finally he gave his life, for the ideals of freedom, democracy and peace. This soft-spoken man has taught us so much, let us never forget. Thank you.

The Speaker (Mr. O’Brien presiding) declared the House to be at ease.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Locke yielded to question by Ms. Brough.

Ms. Brough: Thank you, Representative Locke. Currently the law reads that second degree assault is defined as intentionally assaulting another and inflicting substantial bodily harm. The bill as proposed amends that so that the person has to be under twelve years of age. What happens if a twelve year old is intentionally assaulted and endures or has substantial bodily harm inflicted? What penalty is there if you do that to a twelve year old?

Mr. Locke: I’m sorry, Representative Brough, could you repeat that question one more time?

Ms. Brough: This bill takes out the word "another" and puts in instead that the person has to be under twelve years of age. So basically what has happened then is something has slipped away from the definition or the penalty of second degree assault. What happens if you intentionally assault a twelve year old and infict substantial bodily harm? What penalty is there?

Mr. Locke: The penalty would be the same as I read it. We are not in any substantive way changing the impact or the penalties or the nature of the crime with respect to a victim under twelve years old.

Ms. Brough: What if the victim is twelve or thirteen? What is the penalty?

Mr. Locke: The penalty would still be second degree assault, but there is a different burden of proof and we go back to the law that was in place prior to that time. That is you must show more than that you assaulted the person, but that you knowingly or intentionally inflicted that harm. The way it reads now, with the person over twelve, you don't have to have any intent. You could slap the person on the back in a greeting, and the person were to get injured or fall over, that would be second degree assault, regardless of the intent, regardless of whether or not that was foreseeable. The person who caused that harm would be liable as a class B felon, which has a maximum of ten years imprisonment or a twenty thousand dollar fine.
THIRTY-THIRD DAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1988

Ms. Brough spoke against passage of the bill.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Sec. 1. Section 44, chapter 460, Laws of 1987 and RCW 26.10.160 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A parent not granted custody of the child is entitled to reasonable visitation rights unless the court finds, after a hearing, that visitation would endanger the child's physical, mental, or emotional health. The court may order visitation rights for any person when visitation may serve the best interest of the child whether or not there has been any change of circumstances.

(2) (a) Visitation with the child shall be limited if it is found that the person seeking visitation has engaged in any of the following conduct: (i) Willful abandonment by the parent that continues for an extended period of time or substantial refusal by the parent to perform parenting functions; (ii) physical, sexual, or emotional abuse of a child; or (iii) a history of acts of domestic violence as defined in RCW 26.50.010(1) or an assault or sexual assault which causes grievous bodily harm or the fear of such harm.

(b) The limitations imposed by the court shall be reasonably calculated to protect the child from the perceived harm. If the court expressly finds limitation on visitation with the child will not adequately protect the child from the perceived harm, the court shall restrain the person seeking visitation from all contact with the child.

(c) If the court expressly finds that contact between the person seeking visitation and the child will not cause emotional or physical harm to the child and that the probability that the harmful conduct of the person seeking visitation will recur is so remote that it would not be in the child's best interests to apply the limitations of (a) and (b) of this subsection, the court need not apply the limitations of this subsection. The weight given to the existence of a protection order issued under chapter 26.50 RCW as to domestic violence is within the discretion of the court.

(3) Any person may petition the court for visitation rights at any time including, but not limited to, custody proceedings.

(4) The court may modify an order granting or denying visitation rights whenever modification would serve the best interests of the child (but the court shall not restrict a parent's visitation rights unless it finds that the visitation would endanger the child's physical, mental, or emotional health).

Sec. 2. Section 10, chapter 460, Laws of 1987 and RCW 26.09.191 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The permanent parenting plan shall not require mutual decision-making or designation of a dispute resolution process other than court action if it is found that a parent has engaged in any of the following conduct: (a) Willful abandonment that continues for an extended period of time or substantial refusal to perform parenting functions; (b) physical, sexual, or emotional abuse of a child; or (c) a history of acts of domestic violence as defined in RCW 26.50.010(1) or an assault or sexual assault which causes grievous bodily harm or the fear of such harm.

(2) (a) The parent's residential time or other contact with the child shall be limited if it is found that the parent has engaged in any of the following conduct: (((a))) (i) Willful abandonment that continues for an extended period of time or substantial refusal to perform parenting functions; (((b))) (ii) physical, sexual, or emotional abuse of a child; or (((c))) (iii) a history of acts of domestic violence as defined in RCW 26.50.010(1) or an assault or sexual assault which causes grievous bodily harm or the fear of such harm.

(b) The limitations imposed by the court shall be reasonably calculated to protect the child from the perceived harm. If the court expressly finds limitation on the residential time or other contact with the child, the court shall not restrict a parent's visitation rights unless it finds that the visitation would endanger the child's physical, mental, or emotional health.

(c) If the court expressly finds that contact between the parent and the child will not cause emotional or physical harm to the child and that the probability that the harmful conduct of the parent will recur is so remote that it would not be in the child's best interests to apply the limitations (or unless it is shown not to have had an impact on the child) of (a) and (b) of this subsection, the court need not apply the limitations of this section. The weight given to the existence of a protection order issued under chapter 26.50 RCW as to domestic violence is within the discretion of the court.

(3) A parent's involvement or conduct may have an adverse effect on the child's best interests, and the court may preclude or limit any provisions of the parenting plan, if any of the following factors exist:
(c) A parent's neglect or substantial nonperformance of parenting functions;
(b) A long-term emotional or physical impairment which interferes with the parent's performance of parenting functions as defined in RCW 26.09.004;
(c) A long-term impairment resulting from drug, alcohol, or other substance abuse that interferes with the performance of parenting functions;
(d) The absence or substantial impairment of emotional ties between the parent and the child;
(e) The abusive use of conflict by the parent which creates the danger of serious damage to the child's psychological development;
(f) A parent has withheld from the other parent access to the child for a protracted period without good cause; or
(g) Such other factors or conduct as the court expressly finds adverse to the best interests of the child.
(4) In entering a permanent parenting plan, the court shall not draw any presumptions from the provisions of the temporary parenting plan.
Sec. 3. Section 24, chapter 157, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 18, chapter 460, Laws of 1987 and RCW 26.09.240 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) The court may order visitation rights for any person when visitation may serve the best interest of the child whether or not there has been any change of circumstances.
(2)(a) Visitation with the child shall be limited if it is found that the person seeking visitation has engaged in any of the following conduct: (i) Wilful abandonment by the parent that continues for an extended period of time or substantial refusal by the parent to perform parenting functions; (ii) physical, sexual, or emotional abuse of a child; or (iii) a history of acts of domestic violence as defined in RCW 26.50.010(1) or an assault or sexual assault which causes grievous bodily harm or the fear of such harm.
(b) The limitations imposed by the court shall be reasonably calculated to protect the child from the perceived harm. If the court expressly finds limitation on visitation with the child will not adequately protect the child from the perceived harm, the court shall restrain the person seeking visitation from all contact with the child.
(c) If the court expressly finds that contact between the person seeking visitation and the child will not cause emotional or physical harm to the child and that the probability that the harmful conduct of the person seeking visitation will recur is so remote that it would not be in the child's best interest to apply the limitations of (a) and (b) of this subsection, the court need not apply the limitations of this subsection. The weight given to the existence of a protection order issued under chapter 26.50 RCW as to domestic violence is within the discretion of the court.
(3) Any person may petition the court for visitation rights at any time.
(4) The court may modify an order granting or denying visitation rights whenever modification would serve the best interests of the child.
Sec. 4. Section 4, chapter 188, Laws of 1984 and RCW 13.34.130 are each amended to read as follows:
If, after a fact-finding hearing pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, as now or hereafter amended, it has been proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is dependent within the meaning of RCW 13.34.030(2); after consideration of the predisposition report prepared pursuant to RCW 13.34.110 and after a disposition hearing has been held pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, the court shall enter an order of disposition pursuant to this section.
(1) The court shall order one of the following dispositions of the case:
(a) Order a disposition other than removal of the child from his or her home, which shall provide a program designed to alleviate the immediate danger to the child, to mitigate or cure any damage the child has already suffered, and to aid the parents so that the child will not be endangered in the future. In selecting a program, the court should choose those services that least interfere with family autonomy, provided that the services are adequate to protect the child.
(b) Order that the child be removed from his or her home and ordered into the custody, control, and care of a relative or the department of social and health services or a licensed child placing agency for placement in a foster family home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW. Such an order may be made only if the court finds that reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home and that:
(i) There is no parent or guardian available to care for such child;
(ii) The child is unwilling to reside in the custody of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian;
(iii) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian is not willing to take custody of the child;
(iv) A manifest danger exists that the child will suffer serious abuse or neglect if the child is not removed from the home; or
In a home not required to be licensed pursuant to chapter

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1988 481
(v) The extent of the child’s disability is such that the parent, guardian, or legal custodian is unable to provide the necessary care for the child and the parent, guardian, or legal custodian has determined that the child would benefit from placement outside of the home.

(2) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the child’s home, the agency charged with his or her care shall provide the court with a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, and what actions the agency will take to maintain parent-child ties.

(a) The agency plan shall specify what services the parents will be offered in order to enable them to resume custody and what requirements the parents must meet in order to resume custody.

(b) The agency shall be required to encourage the maximum parent-child contact possible, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement subject to the limitations of subsection (3) of this section.

(c) A child shall be placed as close to the child’s home as possible, preferably in the child’s own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child’s or parents’ well-being.

(d) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall provide all reasonable services that are available within the agency, or within the community, or those services which the department of social and health services has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services.

(3)(a) Visitation with the child shall be limited if it is found that the parent has engaged in any of the following conduct: (i) Wilful abandonment by the parent that continues for an extended period of time or substantial refusal by the parent to perform parenting functions; (ii) physical, sexual, or emotional abuse of a child; or (iii) a history of acts of domestic violence as defined in RCW 26.50.010(1) or an assault or sexual assault which causes grievous bodily harm or the fear of such harm.

(b) The limitations imposed by the court shall be reasonably calculated to protect the child from the perceived harm. If the court expressly finds limitation on visitation with the child will not adequately protect the child from the perceived harm, the court shall restrain the parent from all contact with the child.

(c) If the court expressly finds that contact between the parent and the child will not cause emotional or physical harm to the child and that the probability that the harmful conduct of the parent will recur is so remote that it would not be in the child’s best interests to apply the limitations of (a) and (b) of this subsection, the court may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed.

(((3)))(4) The status of all children found to be dependent shall be reviewed by the court at least every six months at a hearing in which it shall be determined whether court supervision should continue.

(a) A child shall not be returned home at the review hearing unless the court finds that a reason for removal as set forth in this section no longer exists. The parents, guardian, or legal custodian shall report to the court the efforts they have made to correct the conditions which led to removal. If a child is returned, casework supervision shall continue for a period of six months, at which time there shall be a hearing on the need for continued intervention.

(b) If the child is not returned home, the court shall establish in writing:

(I) Whether reasonable services have been provided to or offered to the parties to facilitate reunion;

(ii) The extent to which the parents have visited the child and any reasons why visitation has not occurred or has been infrequent;

(iii) Whether the agency is satisfied with the cooperation given to it by the parents;

(iv) Whether additional services are needed to facilitate the return of the child to the child’s parents; if so, the court shall order that reasonable services be offered; and

(v) When return of the child can be expected.

On motion of Mr. Ebersole, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Mr. Wang spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Wang yielded to question by Mr. Sanders.

Mr. Sanders: Representative Wang, you’ve seen photographs in the news media of mallard ducks wearing these rings around their necks. How long would a duck have to wear one of these biodegradable rings before it dissolved?

Mr. Wang: Representative Sanders, I’ve seen not only photographs of the problems which occur from these rings being caught on ducks, but I’ve also seen other birds which have had problems with the rings. It is a significant problem. That’s why I believe that the rings should be degradable. The amount of time required for a ring to completely degrade depends upon the amount of sunlight it is exposed to and other factors. It depends upon how long the ring has been sitting there before the bird got caught in it.

Mr. Sanders: Thank you, Representative Wang. The second part of my question is: As you know, ducks spend a lot of time under the water. Would that count?

Mr. Wang: No. these rings are photo-degradable. However, they are also buoyant, so that they would float and would not be under the water. If the ring were to be trapped under the water and stay under the water the whole time, it would not degrade during that time period if light did not reach it.

Mr. Schoon spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Wang yielded to question by Mr. Hargrove.

Mr. Hargrove: Representative Wang, could you tell me if anybody manufactures these rings that are not photo-degradable right now?

Mr. Wang: I am not sure whether the rings used in other states are nondegradable. I do not know.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 1545, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 94; absent, 2; excused, 2.

Absent: Representatives Ebersole, Hine - 2.

House Bill No. 1545, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

Mr. Ebersole moved that the House immediately consider House Bill No. 1507 on second reading. The motion was carried.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1507, by Representatives Appelwick, Taylor, Grimm, Haugen, Holland and Locke; by request of Governor Gardner

Revising the sales and use tax exemptions for food products sold by vendors required to have a worker’s permit under RCW 69.06.010.

The bill was read the second time.

Mr. Appelwick moved adoption of the following amendments:

On page 2, after line 36, add new subsection:

"(vi) Food products that are prepared on the premises and sold to the public in a form that requires further preparation, such as cooking, before consumption except for uncooked pizza’s prepared on the premises.”

On page 5, after line 9, add new subsection:

"(vi) Food products that are prepared on the premises and sold to the public in a form that requires further preparation, such as cooking, before consumption except for uncooked pizza’s prepared on the premises.”

Mr. Appelwick spoke in favor of adoption of the amendments, and Ms. Miller opposed them.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Appelwick yielded to question by Mr. Schoon.

Mr. Schoon: Representative Appelwick, if a person goes into a pizza establishment, which prepares both the uncooked pizza and the finished pizza for home consumption or for cooking at home, will that establishment have to keep track of the types of pizzas for tax exemption purposes, or will all of the products of that facility be exempted, because some of the pizzas are not cooked at their facility?

Mr. Appelwick: In the pizza place that sells either take-out uncooked pizza, delivers it uncooked or serves it on the premises, with this amendment and the bill, all three would be subject to the same taxation. There would be no separate record keeping.

Mr. Schoon: There are some pizza establishments that either serve the pizza uncooked or cooked. For that particular establishment I can see where they would have difficulty, because the uncooked pizza that you come and pick up is tax exempt. But if they cook it for you, it becomes taxable. Is that correct?

Mr. Appelwick: Let me tell you about the three circumstances. If you have home delivery of a pizza, it is currently not taxed. If you go to a you-bake-it and pick it up uncooked and take it home, it is not taxed. If you go in and sit down at the pizza parlor, it is taxed. The thrust of the bill would make all three of those circumstances taxable. The amendment, however, deals with grocery facilities, and it deals with the taxation of pizzas in those grocery facilities. If the grocery store itself prepares the pizza, it is subject to tax under this amendment.

Mr. Schoon spoke in favor of adoption of the amendments.

The amendments were adopted.
The bill was ordered engrossed. On motion of Mr. Ebersole, the rules were sus­

Mr. Appelwick spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Appelwick yielded to question by Mr. Sanders.

Mr. Sanders: Representative Appelwick, you said that this bill would raise

Mr. Appelwick: Eight million dollars plus or minus a hundred thousand.

Mr. Sanders: Eight million dollars per year or per biennium?

Mr. Appelwick: I believe that was a fiscal note for the rest of the biennium, so

Mr. Cooper moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Cooper, Ferguson and Haugen:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that, due to statutory and constitutional limitations, the interdependence of the regular property tax levies of the state, counties, county road districts, cities and towns, and junior taxing districts can cause significant reductions in the otherwise authorized levies of those taxing districts, resulting in serious disruptions to essential services provided by those taxing districts. The purpose of this act is to avoid unnecessary reductions in regular property tax revenue without exceeding existing statutory and constitutional tax limitations on cumulative regular property tax levy rates. The legislature declares that it is a purpose of the state, counties, county road districts, cities and towns, public hospital districts, library districts, fire protection districts, metropolitan park districts, and other taxing districts to participate in the methods provided by this act by which revenue levels supporting the services provided by all taxing districts might be maintained.

Sec. 2. Section 1, chapter 107, Laws of 1986 and RCW 39.67.010 are each amended to read as follows:

Any agreement or contract between two taxing districts other than the state which is otherwise authorized by law may be made contingent upon a particular property tax levy rate of an identified taxing district other than the state where such rate affects the regular property tax rate of one of the parties to the contract and therefore affects the party's resources with which to perform under the contract. The governing body of every taxing district that could have its tax levy adversely affected by such a contract shall be notified about the contract.

Sec. 3. Section 2, chapter 107, Laws of 1986 and RCW 39.67.020 are each amended to read as follows:

Any taxing district other than the state may transfer funds to another taxing district other than the state where the regular property tax levy rate of the second district may affect the regular property tax levy rate of the first district and where such transfer is part of an agreement whereby proration or reduction of property taxes is lessened or avoided. The governing body of every taxing district that could have its tax levy adversely affected by such an agreement shall be notified about the agreement.

Sec. 4. Section 3, chapter 107, Laws of 1986 and RCW 84.55.092 are each amended to read as follows:
The regular property tax ("levies") levy for each taxing district other than the state ("for taxes due in 1987 through 1991") may be set at the amount which would ("otherwise") be allowed otherwise under this chapter if the regular property tax levy for the district for taxes due in prior years beginning with 1986 ("and 1987") had been set at the full amount allowed under this chapter.

(This section shall expire December 31, 1991.) The purpose of this section is to remove the incentive for a taxing district to maintain its tax levy at the maximum level permitted under this chapter, and to protect the future levy capacity of a taxing district that reduces its tax levy below the level that it otherwise could impose under this chapter, by removing the adverse consequences to future levy capacities resulting from such levy reductions.

Sec. 5. Section 134, chapter 195, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 84.52.043 are each amended to read as follows:

Within and subject to the limitations imposed by RCW 84.52.050 as amended, the regular ad valorem tax levies upon real and personal property by the taxing districts hereafter named shall be as follows:

(1) Levies of the senior taxing districts shall be as follows: (a) The levy by the state shall not exceed three dollars and sixty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value adjusted to the state equalized value in accordance with the indicated ratio fixed by the state department of revenue to be used exclusively for the support of the common schools; (b) the levy by any county shall not exceed one dollar and eighty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value; (c) the levy ("for") by any road district shall not exceed two dollars and twenty-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed value; and (d) the levy by ("for") any city or town shall not exceed three dollars and thirty-seven and one-half cents per thousand dollars of assessed value ("provided further, that counties of the fifth class and under are"). However any county is hereby authorized to increase its levy from one dollar and eighty cents to a rate not to exceed two dollars and forty-seven and one-half cents per thousand dollars of assessed value for general county purposes ("and from one dollar and fifty-seven and one-half cents to two dollars and twenty-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed value for county road purposes") if the total ("levy") levies for both ("purposes does") the county and any road district within the county do not exceed four dollars and five cents per thousand dollars of assessed value ("provided further, that counties of the fourth and the ninth class are hereby authorized to levy two dollars and two and one-half cents per thousand dollars of assessed value until such time as the junior taxing agencies are utilizing all the dollar rates available to them: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, that the total property tax levy authorized by law without a vote of the people shall not exceed nine dollars and fifteen cents per thousand dollars of assessed value), and no other taxing district has its levy reduced as a result of the increased county levy.

(2) Except as provided in RCW 84.52.100, the aggregate levies of junior taxing districts and senior taxing districts, other than the state, shall not exceed five dollars and fifty-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation. The term "junior taxing districts" includes all taxing districts other than the state, counties, road districts, cities, towns, port districts, and public utility districts. The limitations provided in this subsection shall not apply to: (a) Levies at the rates provided by existing law by or for any port or public utility district; (b) excess property tax levies authorized in Article VII, section 2 of the state Constitution; (c) levies for acquiring conservation futures as authorized under RCW 84.34.230; and (d) levies for emergency medical care or emergency medical services imposed under RCW 84.52.069.

Nothing herein shall prevent levies at the rates provided by existing law by or for any port or power district); (b) excess property tax levies authorized in Article VII, section 2 of the state Constitution; (c) levies for acquiring conservation futures as authorized under RCW 84.34.230; and (d) levies for emergency medical care or emergency medical services imposed under RCW 84.52.069.

(3) It is the intent of the legislature that the provisions of this section shall supersede all conflicting provisions of law including ("section 24, chapter 299, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and section 6, chapter 124, Laws of 1972 ex. sess") RCW 84.52.050.

Sec. 6. Section 7, chapter 138, Laws of 1987 and RCW 84.52.100 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The governing body of any library district, public hospital district, metropolitan park district, or fire protection district may provide for the submission of a ballot proposition to the voters of the taxing district authorizing the taxing district to retain its otherwise authorized tax levy rate, and authorizing an increase in the cumulative regular property tax limitation established in RCW 84.52.043 of ("nine") five dollars and ("fifteen") fifty-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation within the taxing district, as provided in this section. A fire protection district may use this authority to increase its regular property tax levy up to fifty cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation.

(2) A resolution by a governing body, requesting that a special election be called to submit such a ballot proposition to the voters, must be transmitted to the county legislative authority of the county, or county legislative authorities of the counties, within which the taxing district is located, at least forty-five days before the special election date at which the ballot proposition is submitted. The ballot proposition shall be worded substantially as follows:
'Shall the cumulative limitation on most regular property tax rates be increased by an amount not exceeding thirty-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation for a five consecutive year period allowing (insert the name of the taxing district) to maintain its otherwise statutory authorized property tax rate?'

The ballot proposition for a fire protection district shall be worded substantially as follows:

'Shall the cumulative limitation on most regular property tax rates be increased by an amount not exceeding thirty-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation for a five consecutive year period allowing (insert the name of the taxing district) to permit the fire protection district to impose its property tax at a value up to fifty cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation?'

Approval of this ballot proposition by a simple majority vote shall authorize the following for the succeeding five consecutive year period: (a) Property tax rates of junior taxing districts are calculated first as if this proposition had not been approved; (b) subject to the one hundred six percent limitation, the regular property tax rate of the taxing district receiving such authorization is increased to a level not exceeding the lesser of: (i) its maximum statutory authorized regular property tax rate; or (ii) whatever tax rate it otherwise would have been able to impose plus an additional thirty-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation; and (c) the cumulative property tax rate limitation is increased within the boundaries of the taxing district receiving this authorization to an amount equal to ((nine)) five dollars and ((fifteen)) fifty-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation plus the increased amount of the regular levy rate of this taxing district, but not to exceed ((nine)) five dollars and ((fifty)) ninety cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation.

(3) If two or more taxing districts that occupy a portion of the same territory receive such approval, the additional authorized taxing capacity above ((nine)) five dollars and ((fifteen)) fifty-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation shall be distributed among these taxing districts by adjusting their levy rate requests in the same manner and under the same conditions as if they were the only taxing districts in the area subject to adjustment of their property tax rates and the levy rate adjustments were being made with the cumulative limitation of ((nine)) five dollars and ((fifteen)) fifty-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation.

(4) Levies authorized under RCW 84.52.069 are not subject to the rate adjustments and the ((nine)) five dollar and ((fifty)) ninety cent per thousand dollar of assessed valuation cumulative limitation on regular property tax rates established by this section.

Sec. 7, Section 84.52.010, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 1, chapter 255, Laws of 1987 and RCW 84.52.010 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as is permitted under RCW 84.55.050, all taxes shall be levied or voted in specific amounts.

The rate percent of all taxes for state and county purposes, and purposes of taxing districts coextensive with the county, shall be determined, calculated and fixed by the county assessors of the respective counties, within the limitations provided by law, upon the assessed valuation of the property of the county, as shown by the completed tax rolls of the county, and the rate percent of all taxes levied for purposes of taxing districts within any county shall be determined, calculated and fixed by the county assessors of the respective counties, within the limitations provided by law, upon the assessed valuation of the property of the taxing districts respectively.

When a county assessor finds that the aggregate rate of tax levy on any property, that is subject to the limitations set forth in RCW 84.52.043 or 84.52.050, as now or hereafter amended, exceeds the limitations provided in either of these sections, the assessor shall recomputed and establish a consolidated levy in the following manner:

(1) The full certified rates of tax levy for state, county, county road district, and city or town purposes shall be extended on the tax rolls in amounts not exceeding the limitations established by law((C) PROVIDED THAT in the event of a levy made pursuant to RCW 84.34.230, the rates of levy for county and county road district purposes shall be reduced in such uniform percentages as will result in a consolidated levy by such taxing districts which will be no greater on any property than a consolidated levy by such taxing districts would be if the levy had not been made pursuant to RCW 84.34.230), subject to subsection (2)(a) of this section, however any state levy shall take precedence over all other levies and shall not be reduced for any purpose other than that required by RCW 84.55.010; and

(2) The certified rates of tax levy subject to these limitations by all junior taxing districts imposing taxes on such property shall be reduced or eliminated as follows to bring the consolidated levy of taxes on such property within the provisions of these limitations:

(a) First, the certified property tax levy rates of those junior taxing districts authorized under RCW 36.68.525, 36.69.145, and 67.38.130 shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(b) Second, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates of flood control zone districts shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;
(c) Third, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates of all other junior taxing districts, other than fire protection districts, public hospital districts, metropolitan park districts, and library districts, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(d) Fourth, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates authorized to fire protection districts under RCW 52.16.140 and 52.16.160 shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(e) Fifth, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates authorized for cities and towns, fire protection districts under RCW 52.16.130, public hospital districts, metropolitan park districts, and library districts shall be adjusted as provided in section 8 of this 1988 act; and

(f) Sixth, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates authorized to fire protection districts under RCW 52.16.130, and the certified property tax levy rates of public hospital districts, metropolitan park districts, and library districts, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 84.52 RCW to read as follows:

(1) If, after any reduction in levy rates required by RCW 84.52.010(2)(a) through (d), the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds the limitations in RCW 84.52.043 or 84.52.050, then the department pursuant to rules shall direct the county assessor to adjust the regular property tax levy rates in the following manner:

(a) First, the assessor determines a first preliminary rate pursuant to RCW 84.52.010(2)(f) and (g).

(b) Second, the assessor determines a second preliminary rate which is the additional rate, if any, permitted by RCW 84.52.100.

(2) The preliminary rates together are sufficient to permit all rates subject to RCW 84.52.010(2)(f) to be levied without reduction, then the assessor shall extend on the tax rolls the full certified rates pursuant to RCW 84.52.010(2)(f) and 84.52.100.

(3) If the preliminary rates together are not sufficient to permit all rates subject to RCW 84.52.010(2)(f) to be levied without reduction pursuant to both RCW 84.52.010(2)(f) and 84.52.100, the assessor shall reduce the rate of the taxing district subject to RCW 84.52.010(2)(e) with the smallest assessed valuation such that, after first allowing for any additional rate permitted by RCW 84.52.100, there is no reduction of the rates under RCW 84.52.010(2)(f). Where the reduction of the levy of a taxing district is not sufficient, the taxing district with the next smallest assessed valuation shall have its levy reduced under this subsection until there is no reduction of rates under RCW 84.52.010(2)(f). The assessor shall then extend on the tax rolls the rates derived pursuant to this subsection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The department of revenue shall adopt such rules consistent with this act as shall be necessary or desirable to permit its effective administration using methods that will be the least costly to all taxing districts involved.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Sections 2, 3, and 5 through 7 of this act apply to taxes levied in 1988 for collection in 1989, and thereafter.*

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 43.63A RCW to read as follows:
The legislature finds that housing for migrant and seasonal farm workers is inadequate in terms of quality and number of units; that migrant and seasonal farm-worker income is inadequate to afford participation in the private rental market or improve their housing; that affordable housing for migrant and seasonal farm workers is a scarce and diminishing resource; that increasing numbers of these housing units are in deteriorated condition because they cannot be economically maintained and repaired; that the development of an adequate supply of safe and sanitary housing for migrant and seasonal farm workers should be the responsibility of the federal government, the state, and the agricultural community; and that the absence of sufficient state support for migrant and seasonal farm-worker housing has resulted in the loss of federal funds for farm-worker housing in this state.

The legislature further finds that the supply of safe and sanitary housing for migrant and seasonal farm workers would increase if the state took a leadership role in the development and rehabilitation of farm-worker housing; that the state should work with the agricultural community to develop innovative funding sources for the development and rehabilitation of farm-worker housing; that it is to the economic benefit of the state and a public purpose to encourage the availability and preservation of housing for migrant and seasonal farm workers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 43.63A RCW to read as follows: The department may make grants and may provide model construction plans, as provided in section 3 of this act, to local governing bodies and nonprofit organizations, as defined by the department, by rule, to assist in the development of permanent and temporary housing alternatives for farm workers and their families. Grants may be made for the following: (1) Technical assistance, design and finance services and consultation, and administrative costs; (2) Administrative costs when such grant will substantially increase the recipient's access to housing funds other than those available under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 43.63A RCW to read as follows: The department shall develop, and make available to the public, model or prototype plans for several types of farm-worker housing, including, but not limited to, dormitory housing, seasonal housing, family housing, campgrounds, and recreational vehicle parks. Any person or organization intending to construct farm-worker housing may adopt one or more of these models as the plans for the proposed housing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 43.185 RCW to read as follows: (1) The department may make loans and/or grants to local governing bodies and nonprofit organizations and loans to eligible individuals. (2) Loans and/or grants to local governing bodies or nonprofit organizations provided under this section shall be used to finance projects that will provide temporary or permanent housing that is affordable for low-income farm workers and their families. (3) Loans made to eligible individuals, as defined by the department, by rule, under this section shall be used solely for the rehabilitation of grower-provided housing that is affordable for low-income farm workers and their families. (4) The local governing body, nonprofit organization, or eligible individual requesting assistance under this section is required to demonstrate to the department that: (a) The applicant's existing resources are inadequate to finance, in whole or in part, the construction, rehabilitation, or acquisition of the project; (b) Without funding through the department, the project would not be feasible; and (c) The applicant has explored other additional sources of funds for the project. (5) Activities eligible for assistance include: (a) Construction, rehabilitation, or acquisition of housing occupied solely by low-income farm workers and their families. (b) Construction of migrant centers with related facilities, including but not limited to childcare, health care, and educational programs. (c) Construction of temporary housing alternatives for low-income farm workers, such as camp sites and recreational vehicle parks. (6) Grants made by the department under subsection (2) of this section shall: (a) Not exceed fifty percent of the amount necessary for project cost. (b) Not be used for project organization or planning. (c) Require the grantee to enter into an agreement with the department that requires the housing constructed, rehabilitated, or acquired with the grant be occupied, utilized, maintained, and operated for purposes consistent with the chapter for at least twenty years. (d) Require the grantee to make all units constructed, rehabilitated, or acquired under this section to be available to all eligible farm workers. (7) Loans made by the department under subsection (2) of this section shall: (a) Not exceed eighty percent of the amount necessary for project cost. (b) Not be used for project organization or planning. (c) Not exceed seven percent per annum.
(d) Require the recipient to enter into an agreement with the department that requires the housing constructed, rehabilitated, or acquired with the loan be occupied, utilized, maintained, and operated for at least twenty years.

(e) Require the recipient to make all units constructed, rehabilitated, or acquired under this section to be available to all eligible farm workers.

(8) Loans made by the department under subsection (3) of this section shall:

(a) Require the department to consult with the local governing body where the housing to be rehabilitated is located.

(b) Not exceed fifty percent of the amount necessary to rehabilitate the housing. The housing rehabilitated under this section shall be in compliance with at minimum, the requirements of the applicable state standards for farm-worker housing and/or migrant labor camps.

(c) Not exceed seven percent per annum.

(d) Require the recipient of the loan to enter into an agreement with the department that requires the housing rehabilitated with the loan be occupied, utilized, maintained, and operated under this section for at least the term of the loan.

(7) The department shall fix terms, rates, and conditions pertaining to loans made under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 43.185 RCW to read as follows:

The department may make grants to local governing bodies or nonprofit organizations to provide operating cost subsidies for migrant centers and farm-worker housing developed under this chapter. Grants made by the department under this section shall:

(1) Be the minimum amount necessary to ensure that the rents charged are affordable to low-income farm workers and their families;

(2) Not be used for operating expenses not associated with the migrant center or housing occupied by low-income farm workers; and

(3) Require the recipient of the operating subsidy to enter into an agreement with the department that requires the housing be occupied, utilized, maintained, and operated solely for low-income farm workers during the term of the subsidy.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 43.185 RCW to read as follows:

The department may receive such gifts, grants, and endowments from public or private sources as may be made from time to time, in trust or otherwise, for the use and benefit of the purposes of this chapter and expend the same or any income therefrom according to the terms of the gifts, grants, or endowments.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 19.27 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the governing body of a city, town, or county, as appropriate, may provide that the construction and thermal performance construction standards for the construction of seasonal farm-worker housing, developed by the United States department of agriculture, farmers home administration, apply to the construction of housing for farm workers if:

(a) The building or structure is occupied on a seasonal basis, but not more than six months per year; and

(b) The building is occupied solely by farm workers and their families in connection with their employment.

(2) The building code council may adopt, by rule, its own construction and thermal performance construction standards for the construction of farm-worker housing. In this event, the governing bodies of cities, towns, and counties may only adopt these standards under subsection (1) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 19.27A RCW to read as follows:

This chapter does not apply to the construction of housing for farm workers and their families if the local governing body has adopted standards under section 7 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. To carry out sections 2 and 3 of this act, the sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated to the department of community development from the state general fund for the biennium ending June 30, 1989. No more than five percent of this appropriation may be spent on administering this act by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.*

Mr. Lewis moved adoption of the following amendments by Representatives Lewis, McLean, Doty, Ballard, Nealey and Chandler to the amendment:

On page 2, line 21 of the amendment, after "to" insert "eligible individuals."

On page 3, line 23 of the amendment, after "to" insert "eligible individuals."

On page 6, line 32 of the amendment, after "to" insert "eligible individuals."

Mr. Lewis spoke in favor of adoption of the amendments to the amendment, and Ms. Nutley opposed them.
POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Nutley yielded to question by Mr. Lewis.

Mr. Lewis: In section 2 it says "The department may make grants and may provide model construction plans, as provided in section 3 of this act, to local governing bodies and nonprofit organizations, as defined by the department, by rule, to assist in the development of permanent and temporary housing alternatives. Grants may be made for the following: (1) Technical assistance, design and finance services and consultation, and administrative costs." A portion of my amendment is to put in "eligible individuals," namely growers. My question is where are growers taken care of in section 2, if it states "The department may make grants and may provide model construction plans, as provided in section 3..." where it talks about only prototypes, etc., etc., and has nothing to do with the financing of that project? It just gives a longer list of what is available. Where does the grower fit in?

Ms. Nutley: The grower fits in in section 4. The department is not providing the technical assistance money to growers to develop model plans. They instead are providing technical assistance to other kinds of people. Last time I looked I did not see too many architects and building officials in the grower community, so they are not included in section 2, because that is not their technical expertise. I think your concern about their being eligible at some point for the loans for rehabilitation of existing housing is addressed in section 4.

Mr. Lewis: What if a grower has no existing housing, is wanting to build housing and participate in this program. Can he or she do that?

Ms. Nutley: The grower may participate in this program by using the technical assistance product, the new construction plans, or perhaps by qualifying under the definitions as a nonprofit. In this bill we are not specifically making the growers eligible for funding for new on-farm housing, rather only rehabilitation at this point. We don't have lots of money.

Representative Lewis again spoke in favor of adoption of the amendments to the amendment. Ms. Doty spoke in favor of them.

Mr. May demanded an electric roll call vote, and the demand was sustained.

Ms. Nutley again opposed adoption of the amendments to the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Nutley yielded to question by Mr. Nelson.

Mr. Nelson: Would this new program be available to new residents of the state, who may be here, setting up a household, and may still be in possession of an out­of-state driver’s license and could make tax exempt purchases?

Ms. Nutley: The moment of residency is decided in another part of law, not here. This does not affect that, so the current law in terms of establishing residency still holds just like it does today. Nothing would change from today to tomorrow as to the ability of a person coming into the state being able to use the card.

Mr. Nelson: Could I ask one other question? Is the vendor or the retail sales persons obligated to ask any questions about the person’s intent in using the pur­chased item? In other words, would the vendor ask if that person intends to use the item instate or out of state?

Ms. Nutley: It does not change the current law, which specifies certain goods that are not exempt versus the goods that they can carry with them. It does not affect that.

(d) For the office of a member of the state house of representatives, twenty-five thousand dollars.

(3) If, during the twelve months preceding the election in which the candidate is seeking office, independent expenditures by any person or persons aggregating more than an amount equal to ten percent of the base amount established in subsection (2) of this section for the office sought are made in opposition to the candidate or for any other candidate for the office sought by the candidate, the expenditure limitation applicable to the candidate (not the other candidate) shall be increased by an amount equal to the amount of the independent expenditures. The candidate (not the other candidate) may choose to apply this amount to the candidate's expenditure limitation for the primary or for the general election or may choose to apply a portion of the amount to the primary expenditure limitation and the remaining portion to the expenditure limitation for the general election.

(4) (a) If, during the election cycle in which the candidate is seeking state office, any other candidate for the office sought by the candidate receives contributions, less any loan repayments, aggregating more than the expenditure limitation applicable to that other candidate under subsection (1)(c) of this section or the sum of the expenditure limitations applicable to that other candidate under subsections (1)(a) and (b) of this section, the expenditure limitation applicable to the candidate (not the other candidate) shall be increased by an amount equal to the base amount established for the office sought; or

(b) If, during the primary period, any other candidate for the office sought by the candidate makes expenditures which exceed the expenditure limitation applicable to that other candidate under subsection (1)(a) of this section, the expenditure limitation for the candidate (not the other candidate) for the primary shall be increased by an amount equal to the base amount established for the office sought.

For the purposes of this subsection (4), the expenditure limitations applicable to such an "other" candidate are those which could not be exceeded for that candidate to qualify for moneys from the state campaign account.

(5) If a candidate agrees to accept the expenditure limits in exchange for public matching funds under section 3 of this act by the deadline specified in section 3 of this act, but an opposing candidate does not so agree, then the expenditure limitation for the general election as it applies to the candidate (not the opposing candidate) shall be increased by an amount equal to the base amount established for the office sought. The provisions of this subsection apply only if: (a) The candidate is a major party candidate, or the candidate is an independent or minor party candidate who received more than fifteen percent of the votes cast for the office at the preceding primary; and (b) the opposing candidate is a major party candidate, or the opposing candidate is an independent or minor party candidate who received more than fifteen percent of the votes cast for the office at the preceding primary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) For the purposes of this subchapter:

(a) The expenditures made by and the contributions received by a candidate and the expenditures made by and the contributions received by the authorized committee of the candidate are considered to be expenditures made by and contributions received by the candidate.
(b) Payments made by a candidate to repay loans made to the candidate shall be reported but shall not be counted when determining the total expenditures made by the candidate and the candidate's authorized committee with regard to any of the expenditure limitations provided by this subchapter.

(2) The provisions of this subchapter apply to a special election conducted to fill a vacancy in a state office. However, the contributions received by a candidate and the expenditures made by a candidate for a primary or special election conducted to fill such a vacancy shall not be counted toward any of the limitations which apply to the candidate under this subchapter for any other primary or election.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. For a contribution received by a candidate or the candidate's authorized committee to qualify as being one which satisfies the requirements of section 3(1) of this act for raising a threshold amount of contributions or to qualify to be matched by public monies from the state campaign account under section 9 of this act, the contribution must satisfy each of the following requirements:

(1) The contribution shall be a gift of money made by a written instrument which identifies the person making the contribution:

(2) The contribution shall be made directly to the candidate or the candidate's authorized committee. Contributions made through any other person shall not count. The provisions of this subsection do not apply to bona fide joint fund-raising efforts conducted solely for the purpose of sponsorship of a fund-raising reception, dinner, or other event, under rules prescribed by the commission.

(3) The contribution shall have come from an individual who is a resident of the state of Washington. However, the contribution shall not have come from a candidate for any office;

(4)(a) Of the total amount of all contributions made by a person to the candidate and the authorized committee of the candidate or for the benefit of the candidate, not more than the amount listed in (b) of this subsection for the office sought may be counted toward the threshold amount or be matched by moneys from the state campaign account. The provisions of this subsection shall not be construed as limiting the total amount of contributions that may be made by a person to or for the benefit of a candidate or that may be accepted by the candidate or the candidate's authorized committee from the person;

(b) The amount referred to in (a) of this subsection is: (i) For the office of governor, one thousand dollars; (ii) for state executive office other than the office of governor, five hundred dollars; and (iii) for the office of a member of the state legislature, two hundred dollars;

(c) For the purposes of this subsection (4), all contributions by one person who is controlled by any other person shall be considered to have been made by such other person;

(d) The provisions of (c) of this subsection shall not be construed as applying to the relationship between an individual and the spouse of the individual;

(e) In determining whether a person is controlled by any other person for the purposes of (c) of this subsection, the following shall, if applicable, be considered:

(i) The authority, power, or ability to hire, appoint, discipline, discharge, demote, or remove or influence the decision of an individual;

(ii) Similar patterns or contributions; and

(iii) The extent of the transfer of funds between the persons.

(5) The contribution shall be received on or after January 1 of the calendar year preceding the year in which the general election involved is held and by the date on which the general election involved is held. However, in the case of a special election for a state office, the contribution shall be received on or after the date on which the vacancy occurs in that office and by the date on which the general election involved is held.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) A candidate who receives, either directly or through the authorized committee of the candidate, a payment from the state campaign account for use in a general election under this subchapter shall not make expenditures, during the primary period or during the general election period, for the candidate's primary or general election campaign from the personal funds of the candidate, or the funds of any member of the immediate family of the candidate, aggregating in excess of three percent of the expenditure limit established for the office sought by section 4(1) of this act. For the purposes of this subsection, a loan by a candidate or a member of the immediate family of the candidate to the campaign of the candidate shall be considered to be an expenditure by the candidate.

(2) A candidate who receives, either directly or through the authorized committee of the candidate, a payment from the state campaign account for use in a general election under this subchapter and the authorized committee of the candidate shall not make expenditures for the general election which in the aggregate exceed the expenditure limit applicable to the candidate under section 4(1)(b) or (c) of this act.

(3) For the purposes of this subchapter, a contribution received within the twelve-month period following a general election for a state office shall be considered to be a contribution during the election cycle for the state office. This subsection only applies to the extent the contribution is used to pay any debt or obligation incurred to influence the outcome on that election.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The threshold amounts established in section 3(1) of this act, the base amounts established in section 4(2) of this act, the campaign contribution limitations established in section 18 of this act, and the contribution limitation established in section 23 of this act, shall be increased or decreased by the commission by rule at the beginning of each calendar year based on changes in economic conditions as reflected in the inflationary index used by the commission under RCW 42.17.370. The base year to be used for revisions made under this section is 1988.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) Except as provided in subsections (3) and (4) of this section, an eligible candidate is entitled to payments from the state campaign account equal to:

(a) One dollar for each qualifying dollar received by the candidate as a contribution for the election campaign of the candidate if the expenditure limitation applicable to the candidate is not increased under section 4(4) or (5) of this act; or

(b) Four dollars for each qualifying dollar received by the candidate as a contribution for the election campaign of the candidate if the expenditure limitation applicable to the candidate is so increased.

A qualifying dollar is one which satisfies all of the provisions of section 6 of this act regarding contributions.

(2) Payments received by a candidate under this section shall be deposited as required in section 3(4)(d) of this act and shall be used to pay for goods and services furnished during the election period for which the payments were received. Such payments shall not be used:

(a) To make any payments, directly or indirectly, to the candidate or to any member of the immediate family of the candidate;

(b) To make any expenditure other than expenditures to further the election of the candidate;

(c) To repay any loan to any person except to the extent the proceeds of such loan were used to further the general election of the candidate.

(3) A candidate shall not be eligible to receive payments from the state campaign account for a general election for an office unless:

(a) At least two major party candidates qualify under state law for the same general election ballot for the same office; or

(b) One major party candidate and one or more independent or minor party candidates qualify under state law for the same general election ballot for the same office and at least one of those independent or minor party candidates received more than fifteen percent of the votes cast for the office at the preceding primary.

(4) (a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, the sum of all payments from the state campaign account to a candidate for a general election may not exceed the following amounts for the office sought:

(I) For the office of governor, thirty thousand dollars;

(II) For state executive office other than the office of governor, ten thousand dollars;

(III) For the office of a member of the state senate, one thousand five hundred dollars;

(IV) For the office of a member of the state house of representatives, one thousand dollars.

(b) If the expenditure limitation applicable to the candidate is increased under section 4(4) or (5) of this act, the sum of all payments from the state campaign account to that candidate for the general election may not exceed the following amounts for the office sought:

(I) For the office of governor, six hundred thousand dollars;

(II) For state executive office other than the office of governor, two hundred thousand dollars;

(III) For the office of a member of the state senate, thirty thousand dollars;

(2) A verification signed by the candidate and the treasurer of the authorized committee of the candidate stating that the information furnished in support of the request, to the best of the knowledge of each, is correct and fully satisfies the requirements of this subchapter.

No later than two business days after an eligible candidate files a request with the public disclosure commission to receive payments under this section, the commission shall determine whether the candidate is eligible to receive payments from the state campaign account and, if the candidate is eligible to receive such payments, disburse to the candidate from the account the full amount to which the candidate is entitled.

A candidate is not limited to filing only one request for payments under this section during each election cycle. After filing an original request, a candidate may file one or more supplemental requests to receive the payments to which the candidate is entitled.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Within two days after the date of making an independent expenditure, the person making the expenditure shall file with the commission a report, on a form prescribed by the commission, providing the date and amount of the expenditure: what the expenditure purchased: the name of the candidate supported or opposed: the office sought by that candidate: and any other information which the commission believes will assist it in carrying out its responsibilities under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) The commission shall decide all applications for payment from the state campaign account. Each application shall be decided as quickly as possible in accordance with rules adopted by the commission, and the commission's decision on the application shall be final unless appealed as provided in subsection (2) of this section. The commission's review of applications, and all actions taken by the commission on applications, shall be exempt from chapter 34.04 RCW.

(2) Any person adversely affected by the commission's decision and who believes the decision to be unlawful may appeal to the superior court of Thurston county by petition setting forth his or her reasons why the decision is unlawful. A copy of the petition on appeal together with a notice that an appeal has been taken shall be served upon the commission, upon the attorney general, and upon each candidate for the office sought by the applicant. The decision of the superior court shall be final. Such appeal shall be heard without costs to either party.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The state election campaign account is hereby established in the state treasury. Notwithstanding RCW 43.84.090, all earnings of investments of balances in the account shall be credited to the account. Moneys in the account shall be disbursed, subject to legislative appropriation, by the commission in the form of payments to eligible candidates as authorized by this subchapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. (1) After each general election, the commission shall conduct such examinations and audits of the campaign accounts of eligible candidates who received payments from the state campaign account for the general election and of authorized committees as are sufficient to determine, among other things, whether candidates have complied with the expenditure limits and other conditions of eligibility and requirements of this subchapter.

(2) If any portion of the payments made to a candidate under this subchapter was in excess of the amount to which the candidate was entitled, the candidate shall pay to the commission an amount equal to the excess.

(3) If any amount of any payment made to a candidate under this subchapter was not used as provided for in this subchapter, the candidate shall pay to the commission the amount improperly used.

(4) If any candidate who has received payments under this subchapter has made expenditures which in the aggregate exceed the limitation under section 4(1) of this act, the candidate shall pay to the commission an amount equal to the amount of the excess expenditure.

(5) Within sixty days after the date of the general election for which the payment was received, the candidate shall return to the commission any unexpended funds received by the candidate under this subchapter. The commission may adopt exceptions to this requirement for instances where debts are in dispute.

(6) Notification shall not be made by the commission under this section with respect to a general election more than three years after the date of such an election.

(7) The attorney general shall be responsible for collecting amounts due the state under this section. The attorney general may institute legal action or take whatever measures the attorney general considers appropriate to carrying out this responsibility. The commission shall not conduct any hearings to determine whether an amount is due under this section, but shall provide for sharing with the attorney general information showing that amounts may be due under this section. All amounts recovered under this section shall be deposited in the state campaign account.

(8) This section does not affect or impair the authority to impose or enforce civil remedies and sanctions under other provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) It is a violation of this chapter for any candidate to accept public payments under this subchapter which are in excess of the aggregate payments to which the candidate is entitled.

(2) It is a violation of this chapter for any candidate who has received public payments under this subchapter or for any officer, member, employee, or agent of a political committee for the candidate:

(a) To furnish to the commission under this subchapter any evidence, books, or information (including any certification, verification, notice, or report), which is false, fictitious, or fraudulent, or to include in any evidence, books, or information furnished any misrepresentation of a material fact, or to falsify or conceal any evidence, books, or information relevant to a payment by the commission or an examination and audit by the commission under this subchapter; or
(b) To fail to furnish to the commission any records, books, or information requested by it for purposes of this subchapter.

(4) It is a violation of this chapter for any person to accept any payment if the person knows, or has reason to know, that the payment is in violation of section 9(2) of this act. NEW SECTION, Sec. 16. (1) The commission shall, as soon as practicable after each election, submit a full report to the governor and the legislature setting forth:

(c) The amount of repayments, if any, required under section 14 of this act, and the reasons for each payment required; and
(d) The balance in the state campaign account.

(2) The commission is authorized to prescribe such rules in accordance with chapter 34.04 RCW, to conduct such examinations and investigations, and to require the keeping and submission of such books, records, and information, as it deems necessary to carry out the functions and duties imposed on it by this subchapter.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

During the debate on this amendment, I yielded to a question by Representative Heavey, who asked if I thought tax exemptions and tax deferrals which took money away from human services, education, transportation, economic development and the environment were morally wrong.

My answer was, and remains, "yes."

I would note that I am not aware of any current tax deferral or tax exemption program that is not for the purpose of supporting one or more of the goals above and, therefore, would not agree that any current deferral or exemption is morally wrong.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Anderson yielded to question by Mr. Prince.

Mr. Prince: One of the things that is important in my district would be to know this: Let’s say that you don’t have a concealed weapon. Let’s say that you have a rifle which is in full view. You are pulled over for a DWI. Can they confiscate that weapon?

Mr. Anderson: I’m not sure. This bill only deals with concealed weapons and people carrying concealed weapons permits.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Heavey yielded to question by Mr. Prince.

Mr. Prince: Representative Heavey, can you answer that question?

Mr. Heavey: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I had a case similar to this. If it is loaded, I believe the answer is “yes.” If it is not loaded, the car would be secured and the weapon would be left inside.

Mr. Prince: So this would not affect someone with a pickup who would have weapons in the rear window which is common practice in a lot of areas?

Mr. Heavey: I believe this only affects concealed weapons.

Representatives Lewis, Vekich, Bumgarner, S. Wilson and Schoon spoke against passage of the bill, and Representatives Haugen, Hankins, Heavey and Cole spoke in favor of it.

The Speaker resumed the Chair.

Mr. Wang moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Wang, Patrick and R. King:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. PURPOSE. The legislature finds that drug testing programs adopted by employers and licensing agencies raise serious concerns over the potential for abuse in the areas of employee, licensee, and applicant privacy; standards of testing; confidentiality of records; and disciplinary action based on test results. The legislature also recognizes that drug use exists in the workplace and that employers have an obligation to provide a safe working environment. The purpose of this chapter is to limit the potential for abuse by regulation of workplace drug testing and to provide remedies for violations. This chapter shall be construed liberally for the accomplishment of its purpose.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. As used in this chapter, the terms in this section have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) 'Applicant' means a person who applies to become an employee of an employer or who applies to a licensing agency to become a licensee.

(2) 'Confirmation test' means a second substance abuse test performed on a second portion of the original test sample through the use of gas chromatography-mass spectrometry or other at least equally reliable scientifically accepted method that provides specific data to verify the presence of a drug in the test sample as indicated by an initial positive screening test result.

(3) 'Drug' means a controlled substance under chapter 69.50 RCW.

(4) 'Drug or alcohol test' means the procedure of taking and analyzing body fluids or materials from the body for the purpose of detecting the presence of a drug, alcohol.
metabolite, or other related substances in the sample tested, but does not include tests designed to determine blood-alcohol concentrations from a sample of a person's breath.

(5) 'Employee' means any person working for salary, wages, or commissions within the state.

(6) 'Employee assistance program' means a program to assist employees or licensees with an alcohol, drug, or other health or behavioral problem, using professionals to conduct confidential evaluations and refer employees or licensees to the most appropriate resources available. An employee assistance program does not provide treatment or rehabilitation, but provides initial treatment referral and followup contact with the employee or licensee using the employee assistance program.

(7) 'Employer' means the state, an agency or political subdivision thereof, a municipal corporation, or a person, firm, corporation, partnership, or other organization or group of persons, however organized, located or doing business within the state or recruiting employees within the state, that employs personnel for salaries, wages, or commissions, or any person acting as an agent of such an organization. 'Employer' does not include a person or entity who contracts with an independent contractor with respect to the employees of the independent contractor.

(8) 'Licensee' means a person who, as required by Title 18 RCW or other applicable provision of law, holds a license to engage in an occupation or profession in the state.

(9) 'Licensing agency' means the state, an agency or political subdivision thereof, or a municipal corporation, that is authorized by Title 18 RCW or other applicable provision of law to issue occupational or professional licenses to individuals to permit them to engage in an occupation or profession in the state.

(10) 'Negative test result' means a test result that indicates that:

(a) A drug or metabolite is not present in the tested sample; or

(b) A drug or metabolite is present in the tested sample in a concentration below the threshold level.

(11) 'Positive test result' means a result on a confirmation test that indicates the presence of a drug, alcohol, or their metabolites in the tested sample at or above the specified threshold level.

(12) 'Rehabilitation program' means a clinically supervised program approved under chapter 69.54 or 70.96A RCW for the treatment of drug or alcohol addiction, as recommended by an employee assistance program.

(13) 'Screening test' means an initial drug or alcohol test performed on a test sample through the use of an immunoassay technology or other equally reliable scientifically accepted method that is used as a preliminary step in detecting the presence of a drug or metabolite in the test sample.

(14) 'Threshold level' means the minimum amount of a substance that must be present in a test sample to be considered a positive test result.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. LIMITATIONS ON DRUG AND ALCOHOL TESTING. (1) An employer or licensing agency shall not request or require an employee, licensee, or applicant to undergo drug or alcohol testing unless the requirements of this chapter are met.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, an employer or licensing agency shall not request or require an employee or licensee to undergo drug or alcohol testing unless the employer or agency has a reasonable suspicion arising from observable behavior that the employee or licensee is under the influence of drugs or alcohol in the course of employment. For the purposes of this section, 'reasonable suspicion' means knowledge of specific facts, circumstances, physical evidence, or physical signs and symptoms that would cause a reasonable person to conclude that an employee or licensee may be under the influence of drugs or alcohol. The grounds for requiring a drug or alcohol test under this subsection shall be documented.

(3) An employer or licensing agency shall not request or require an applicant for employment or licensing to undergo drug or alcohol testing or a preemployment or prelicensing physical examination that includes drug or alcohol testing unless the same test or examination is requested or required of all applicants who are finalists for employment in the same position. The employer or licensing agency shall provide at least twenty-four hours' notice prior to the drug or alcohol test or physical examination that a test or examination is required. Disclosure of the test or examination requirement shall be included in any notice or advertisement soliciting applicants for employment or licensing or in the application for employment or licensing.

(4) Random or mandatory drug or alcohol testing of employees or licensees is prohibited except for employees or licensees who refuse rehabilitation or who are found fit to return to work as provided in (a) of this subsection, for employees or licensees who are undergoing rehabilitation as provided in (b) of this subsection, as part of a routine annual physical examination as provided in (c) of this subsection, or in conjunction with a work-related accident as provided in (d) of this subsection.

(a) An employer or licensing agency may require an employee or licensee who has received a positive test result to submit to up to six subsequent drug or alcohol tests performed at randomly selected times over a one-year period as a condition of continued employment.
(l) If the employee or licensee chooses not to undergo rehabilitation or fails to complete successfully rehabilitation determined appropriate by the employee assistance program; or (II) after the employee assistance program or rehabilitation program determines that the employee or licensee is fit to return to work.

(b) While the employee or licensee is participating in a rehabilitation program either as a result of voluntary contact with or mandatory referral to the employee assistance program or after a positive test result, drug or alcohol testing may be conducted by the rehabilitation or treatment provider as required, requested, or suggested by that provider.

(i) Drug or alcohol testing conducted as part of such a rehabilitation or treatment program is not subject to the provisions of this chapter regulating drug and alcohol testing, except for section 16 of this act.

(ii) An employer or licensing agency shall not request or require that any drug or alcohol test be administered to an employee or licensee while the employee or licensee is undergoing such rehabilitation or treatment, except as provided in subsection (2) or (4)(a) of this section.

(iii) The results of a drug or alcohol test administered to an employee or licensee as part of such a rehabilitation or treatment program shall not be released to the employer or licensing agency.

(c) An employer or licensing agency shall not request or require an employee or licensee to undergo drug or alcohol testing as part of a routine physical examination unless: (I) The examination is required for all employees or licensees within the employee’s or licensee’s class; (II) the examination is a comprehensive health evaluation including a review of systems and laboratory tests as indicated by symptoms or required by chapter 49.17 RCW; (III) the conditions under which the testing is conducted are not more intrusive than those required for the physical examination; and (IV) the results of the examination, including any drug or alcohol testing, are evaluated by the examining health professional. The drug or alcohol test shall not be requested or required more than once annually and the employee or licensee shall be given at least forty-eight hours’ written notice of the examination date, including notice that a drug or alcohol test may be requested or required as part of the physical examination.

(d) An employer or licensing agency may require an employee or licensee to undergo drug or alcohol testing if the employee or licensee is directly involved in a significant work-related accident. Any testing under this subsection (d) shall be reported to the department of labor and industries pursuant to section 24 of this act. For the purposes of this subsection (d), ‘significant work-related accident’ means an accident involving property damage of more than one thousand dollars or personal injury, including fatality, that requires reporting and investigation or recording under chapter 49.17 RCW, but the application of this definition is not limited by the employer’s size. However, employers and licensing agencies are prohibited from using drug or alcohol testing to deter the filing of an industrial accident or injury report.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. EXCLUSIONS. (1) This chapter does not apply to:

(a) Drug or alcohol testing of health care professionals when testing is conducted pursuant to a substance abuse monitoring program approved by the disciplining authority as authorized by law;

(b) Drug or alcohol testing required as a condition of probation, court-ordered rehabilitation or other court order; or

(c) Drug or alcohol testing of law enforcement personnel whose job assignment specifically requires the enforcement of the uniform controlled substances act or laboratory examination and analysis of controlled substances.

(2) Except as provided under subsection (3) of this section, the protections provided under this chapter do not apply to employees, licensees, and applicants where the specific work performed requires those employees, licensees, or applicants to be subject to drug or alcohol testing pursuant to:

(c) Federal regulations that specifically preempt state regulation of drug or alcohol testing with respect to those employees, licensees, or applicants;

(b) Federal regulations or requirements necessary to operate federally regulated facilities;

(c) Criteria established by United States nuclear regulatory commission regulations, policy statements, or other official commission action; or

(d) Federal contracts that require drug or alcohol testing to be conducted for security, safety, or protection of sensitive or proprietary data.

(3) Employers, licensing agencies, and testing laboratories shall comply with the protections provided in this chapter with respect to employees, licensees, or applicants otherwise excluded under subsection (2) of this section to the extent that the provisions of this chapter are not inconsistent with or specifically preempted by the federal regulations, contract, or requirements applicable to drug or alcohol testing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. TESTING TO BE PERFORMED DURING WORK TIME—COSTS. (1) Any drug or alcohol testing by an employer shall occur during or immediately after the regular work period of current employees and shall be deemed work time for purposes of compensation and benefits.
(2) An employer or licensing agency shall pay all costs of testing for drugs or alcohol required by the employer or agency, including the cost of the employee's or licensee's transportation to the testing site if other than the work site.

(3) For testing of employment or licensing applicants, the employer or licensing agency shall pay the costs of drug or alcohol tests required by the employer or agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. WRITTEN POLICY OF EMPLOYER OR LICENSING AGENCY. Before establishing any drug or alcohol testing program, an employer or licensing agency shall develop a written policy in compliance with this chapter providing for:

(1) The procedure and consequences of an employee's or licensee's voluntary admission of a substance abuse problem and any available assistance, including the availability and procedure of the employee assistance program;

(2) The employees, licensees, or applicants subject to testing under the policy;

(3) The circumstances under which drug or alcohol testing may be requested or required;

(4) The right of an employee, licensee, or applicant to refuse to undergo drug or alcohol testing and the consequences of failing to undergo testing;

(5) Any disciplinary or other adverse personnel action that may be taken based on a positive test result:

(6) The right of an employee, licensee, or applicant to explain a positive test result or to request and pay for a confirmatory retest;

(7) Requirements for the collection of samples, including:

(a) The collection of any sample for use in a drug or alcohol test shall be conducted in a medical facility, which may include a temporary or permanent work-site medical facility, or a facility approved under chapter 69.54 or 70.96A RCW to provide drug or alcohol treatment, and shall be supervised by trained medical personnel or trained personnel approved under chapter 69.54 or 70.96A RCW to provide drug or alcohol treatment;

(b) The collection of a urine sample shall not be observed, directly or indirectly, except by medical personnel of the respective sex of the person being tested;

(c) Samples shall be stored before testing under conditions sufficient to avoid deterioration of the sample; and

(d) Chain of custody procedures shall be established sufficient to protect the samples from tampering and to verify the identity of each sample and test results;

(8) The drugs or metabolites for which tests may be conducted;

(9) The threshold levels for both screening and confirmation tests at which the presence of a drug or metabolite in a sample is considered a positive test result;

(10) Opportunities and procedures for rehabilitation following a positive test result;

(11) A procedure under which an employee, licensee, or applicant who receives a positive test result may appeal and contest the accuracy of that result; and

(12) Any other appeal procedures available.

An employer must consult with his or her employees, or an employee representative authorized by the employees, while developing, after the effective date of this section, a drug or alcohol testing policy under this section or any changes in an existing drug or alcohol testing policy. An employer with a drug or alcohol testing policy in existence on the effective date of this section shall consult with its employees and the employee representatives, if any, before effecting any changes that are designed to bring the policy into compliance with this chapter. Such changes must be posted pursuant to section 8 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM. Before establishing a drug or alcohol testing program for employees or licensees, an employer shall have or provide access to a functioning employee assistance program and a licensing agency shall adopt rules providing for referral to an assistance program meeting the standards of an employee assistance program. Employers or licensing agencies may meet the requirements of this section by participating in a cooperative assistance program that serves the employees or licensees of more than one employer or agency. The employee assistance program shall provide services with the highest possible degree of confidentiality, which shall, at a minimum, comply with section 18 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. NOTICE. An employer or licensing agency shall provide notice of its drug or alcohol testing policy to all affected employees and licensees upon adoption of the policy, to a previously nonaffected employee or licensee upon transfer to an affected position under the policy, and to an applicant as required in section 3 of this act. An employer or licensing agency shall also post written notice in an appropriate and conspicuous location on the employer's or agency's premises that a drug and alcohol testing policy has been adopted and that copies of the policy are available for inspection in an identified and suitable location during regular business hours.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. WAIVER PROHIBITED. (1) No employer or licensing agency may request or require that any employee, licensee, or applicant sign or agree to any form or agreement that:

(a) Attempts to absolve the employer or agency from any potential liability arising out of the imposition of the drug or alcohol test; or
NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. TESTING LABORATORIES. A drug or alcohol test administered under this chapter shall be performed in a testing laboratory that complies with this section. The testing laboratory shall have the minimum qualifications specified in this section.

1. The director of the laboratory or the director of the toxicology department:
   (a) Possesses a doctoral degree in pharmacology, toxicology, or chemistry, is a physician certified by the American board of pathology, or is certified by the state in which the laboratory is located as a laboratory director in forensic or toxicological analysis;
   (b) Has at least two years' experience in an analytical toxicology laboratory; and
   (c) Is certified by the American board of forensic toxicology, the American board of clinical chemistry in toxicological chemistry, the American board of pathology in clinical pathology, or other comparable national accrediting board in one of the laboratory specialties.

2. The laboratory has written testing procedures and procedures that ensure a clear chain of custody.

3. The laboratory is certified or accredited by the national institute on drug abuse, the college of American pathology (forensic urine drug testing program), or other comparable nationally recognized accrediting program for forensic toxicology.

4. The laboratory follows quality control procedures, including, but not limited to:
   (a) The use of internal quality controls during drug and alcohol testing, including the use of blind samples and samples of known concentrations that are used to check the performance and calibration of testing equipment;
   (b) Procedures for internal review and certification of test results; and
   (c) Implementation of adequate sample storage and security measures by the testing laboratory.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. TRANSITIONAL LABORATORY PROVISIONS. (1) A drug or alcohol test administered under this chapter shall be performed in a qualified testing laboratory. A laboratory shall be qualified under this section if the laboratory meets all federal requirements and is certified for medicare reimbursement.

(2) This section shall expire on December 31, 1990.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. CONSTRUCTION—LABORATORY REQUIREMENTS. Sections 10 and 11 of this act shall not be construed to preclude employees, licensees, or applicants from challenging the accuracy or reliability of drug or alcohol test results or create a presumption with regard to the accuracy or reliability of test results.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. LABORATORY REPORTS. (1) A laboratory may report that a test sample is positive only if both the initial screening test and confirmation test are positive for the particular substance being tested. The detection of the substance being tested below the established threshold level shall be reported as a negative test result. The laboratory's report shall not contain any information indicating the presence of the substance being tested below the threshold level.

(2) The laboratory shall provide the employer or licensing agency with a written report of the drug or alcohol test result that includes the following information:
   (a) The substances for which testing was conducted;
   (b) The type of test conducted;
   (c) The results of the screening test if the screening test is negative or, if the screening test is positive, the results of the confirmatory test;
   (d) The threshold level established for both the initial screening and confirmation procedures; and
   (e) The name and address of the laboratory.

(3) The laboratory shall preserve a portion of any positive sample in a condition that will permit retesting for a period of not less than ninety days after the person tested receives the result.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. RIGHTS OF EMPLOYEES, LICENSEES, AND APPLICANTS. (1) Before requesting or requiring an employee, licensee, or applicant to undergo drug or alcohol testing, an employer or licensing agency shall provide the employee, licensee, or applicant with a form, developed by the employer or agency, on which to acknowledge that the employee, licensee, or applicant has seen the employer's or agency's drug or alcohol testing policy. Prior to or at the time of the test, the employee, licensee, or applicant shall be given an opportunity to indicate any over-the-counter or prescription medications that the individual is currently taking or has recently taken and any other information relevant to the reliability of, or explanation for, a positive test result. The information shall be sealed and may be revealed to the laboratory or other medical professional evaluating the test results only if the drug or alcohol test result of the individual providing the information is positive. The information shall not be revealed to the employer or licensing agency.
(2) Within five working days after receipt of a test result report from the testing laboratory, an employer or licensing agency shall inform in writing the employee, licensee, or applicant who has undergone drug or alcohol testing of a positive test result and, upon request, the absence of a positive test result. In the case of a positive test result, the employer or licensing agency shall also, at the time of this notice, inform the employee, licensee, or applicant in writing of the right to submit further information relative to the positive test result or to have a confirmatory retest.

(3) Within five working days after notice from the employer or licensing agency of a positive test result, the employee, licensee, or applicant may submit information to the employer or agency. In addition to any information already submitted under subsection (1) of this section, to explain that result, or may request a confirmatory retest of the original sample at the employee’s, licensee’s, or applicant’s own expense.

(4) Within five working days after notice of the positive test result, the employee, licensee, or applicant shall notify the employer or licensing agency in writing of the employee’s, licensee’s, or applicant’s intent to obtain a confirmatory retest. Within three working days after receipt of the notice, the employer or agency shall notify the original testing laboratory that the employee, licensee, or applicant has requested the laboratory to conduct the confirmatory retest or transfer the sample to another laboratory meeting the requirements of this chapter to conduct the confirmatory retest. The original testing laboratory shall ensure that the chain-of-custody procedures are followed during transfer of the sample to the other laboratory. The confirmatory retest shall use the same drug or alcohol threshold detection levels used in the original confirmatory test and shall otherwise meet the requirements of this chapter that apply to the confirmatory test. All costs related to conducting the confirmatory retest are at the employee’s, licensee’s, or applicant’s own expense. If the confirmatory retest does not confirm the original positive test result, no disciplinary action based on the original confirmatory test may be taken against the employee, licensee, or applicant and the results of the original confirmatory test shall not be placed or maintained in the employee’s personnel file.

(5) An employer or licensing agency shall provide an employee, licensee, or applicant who has a positive test result an opportunity for an informal meeting to explain the results and explain why the result may not be accurate.

(6) An employee, licensee, or applicant has the right to request and receive from the employer or licensing agency a copy of a positive test result report on any drug or alcohol test or, if the employer or agency preserves a copy, of a negative test result report on any such test.

(7) Delay in reporting of drug or alcohol test results by a laboratory shall not be interpreted as a positive or negative test by the employer or licensing agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. ADVERSE PERSONNEL ACTIONS. (1) (a) An employer shall not discharge, discipline, discriminate against, or request or require rehabilitation of an employee nor may a licensing agency deny or withdraw a license on the basis of an initial screening test that has not been verified by a confirmatory test.

(b) If an applicant has received an employment offer made contingent on the applicant passing a drug or alcohol test, the employer shall not withdraw the offer based on an initial screening test that has not been verified by a confirmatory test.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, an employer or licensing agency shall not take disciplinary action against an employee or licensee solely on the basis of a positive test result if the positive result was the first such result on a drug or alcohol test requested by the employer or agency unless:

(a) The employee or licensee is given an opportunity to participate in a drug or alcohol counseling or rehabilitation program or other program, as determined appropriate by the employee assistance program; and

(b) The employee or licensee has either refused to participate in the program recommended by the employee assistance program or has failed to successfully complete the program.

(3) An employer or licensing agency may temporarily suspend the tested employee or licensee or transfer an employee to another position at the same rate of pay pending the outcome of the drug or alcohol test and, if requested, the confirmatory retest. If the employer or agency believes that it is reasonably necessary to protect the health or safety of the employee, coemployees, colleagues, or the public, an employee who has been suspended without pay must be reinstated with back pay if the outcome of the drug or alcohol test or requested confirmatory retest is negative.

(4) An employer or licensing agency may suspend an employee or licensee on the basis of a positive test result, but only for the period that the employee or licensee is participating in an employee assistance program or rehabilitation program and is determined by the program to be unfit to return to his or her regular employment.

(5) An employer or licensing agency shall not take disciplinary action against an employee or licensee on the basis of medical history information revealed to the employer or agency under section 14 of this act unless disclosure is required by state or federal law.
(6) An employee shall be given access to information in the employee’s personnel file relating to positive test result reports and other information acquired in the drug and alcohol testing process, and conclusions drawn from and actions taken based on the reports or other acquired information.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. OTHER DISCIPLINARY ACTION. (1) Except as expressly provided, nothing in this chapter shall add to or detract from: (a) An employer’s ability to establish job performance standards or to condition employment or continued employment on satisfactory job performance; or (b) the authority conferred on licensing agencies by law to establish licensing standards or to issue, renew, suspend, or revoke licenses.

(2) Nothing in this chapter prevents an employer or licensing agency from establishing written rules related to employees’ or licensees’ possession or use of drugs or alcohol, including convictions for drug-related offenses, and taking disciplinary action based on a violation of any of those rules, but any drug or alcohol test that is requested, required, or used as a basis for disciplinary action shall conform to the provisions of this chapter.

(3) Nothing in this chapter prevents an employer or licensing agency from disciplinary action based on an employee’s or licensee’s impairment as a result of drugs or alcohol.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS. This chapter does not prevent an employer from requiring or performing medical examinations of employees or applicants or from conducting medical screenings to monitor exposure to toxic or other harmful substances in the workplace if the screenings are limited to the specific substances reasonably believed to be present. The examinations shall not be used to avoid the restrictions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. CONFIDENTIALITY. (1) The use of information acquired by an employer, licensing agency, laboratory, or rehabilitation provider in the drug or alcohol testing process shall comply with this section.

(2) In conducting drug or alcohol testing under this chapter, the employer or licensing agency shall ensure to the extent feasible that the tests only measure and that the records of the tests only show or make use of information regarding drugs or alcohol in the body that are likely to affect the ability of the employee or licensee to perform safely his or her duties while on the job.

(3) A laboratory may only disclose to the employer or licensing agency test result data regarding the presence or absence of drugs, alcohol, or their metabolites in a sample tested at or above the specified threshold level.

(4) Test result reports and other information acquired in the drug or alcohol testing process are, with respect to private sector employees and applicants, private and confidential information and, with respect to public sector employees, licensees, and applicants, personal information as that term is used in RCW 42.17.310 and shall not be disclosed by an employer, licensing agency, laboratory, or other unit of the United States government as required under federal law, or to a third-party Individual, government contract; and (c) disclosed to an employee assistance program or a substance abuse rehabilitation program for the purpose of the evaluation or treatment of the employee or licensee.

(5) All information, interviews, reports, statements, memoranda, or test results received by the employer or licensing agency through a drug or alcohol testing program are confidential communications and shall not be used or received in evidence, obtained in discovery, or disclosed in any public or private proceeding, except that evidence of a positive test result may be: (a) Used in an arbitration proceeding pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement, an administrative hearing under chapter 34.04 RCW or other applicable state or local law, or a judicial proceeding, if the information is relevant to the hearing or proceeding; (b) disclosed to any federal agency or other unit of the United States government as required under federal law, regulation, or order, or in accordance with compliance requirements of a federal government contract; and (c) disclosed to an employee assistance program or a substance abuse rehabilitation program for the purpose of the evaluation or treatment of the employee or licensee.

(6) The results of a drug or alcohol test may be recorded in the employee’s personnel records. However, if an employee with a positive test result has undergone substance abuse evaluation and, when treatment is indicated under the evaluation, has successfully completed treatment for substance abuse, the employee’s personnel records shall be expunged of any reference to the test or its results when the employee leaves employment. This subsection does not prevent retention of drug or alcohol test results in an employee’s medical records.

The employer or licensing agency has the burden of proving that the requirements of this chapter have been met. The plaintiff has the ultimate burden of proving a violation of this chapter.

(5) (a) No cause of action arises in favor of any person based on the failure of an employer or licensing agency to establish a program or policy of drug or alcohol testing.

(b) No cause of action arises in favor of any person against an employer or licensing agency who has established a policy and initiated a drug or alcohol testing program in accordance with this chapter, for any of the following:

However, a cause of action shall not be barred for failure to take disciplinary action based on an act that is independent of the test result or the employer's or agency's knowledge of employee assistance program or rehabilitation program participation;

(iv) Termination or suspension of any drug or alcohol testing program or policy.

(6) Any complaint filed pursuant to this section shall be filed within six months after the act that is alleged to have violated this chapter.

An employer or licensing agency that chooses to conduct such testing is limited by this chapter and by applicable constitutional constraints, but may establish policies that are supplemental to and not inconsistent with this chapter or that exceed the minimum standards for employee protection provided in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. HANDICAP NOT DETERMINED SOLELY BY TEST OR PARTICIPATION IN REHABILITATION. An employee, licensee, or applicant with a positive test result on a drug or alcohol test shall not, solely on the basis of the test results or participation in an employee assistance program or rehabilitation program, be defined as a person with a 'handicap' for purposes of chapter 49.60 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. RETALIATION PROHIBITED. An employee or licensee shall not be discharged, disciplined, or discriminated against in any manner for filing a complaint or testifying in any proceeding or action involving violations of this chapter. An employee or licensee discharged, disciplined, or otherwise discriminated against in violation of this chapter may be awarded the amount of any lost wages and benefits arising out of the discrimination and may be reinstated to his or her previous position of employment or licensure.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. ACCIDENT TESTING--STUDY. All drug or alcohol testing required by an employer or licensing agency under section 3(4)(d) of this act shall be reported to the department of labor and industries under rules adopted by the department. The department's rules shall include:

REMARKS BY REPRESENTATIVE SCHOON

Mr. Schoon: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have spoken with the Speaker's attorney regarding the possible conflict of interest, and the attorney has advised me, since I don't have any personal gain coming out of this bill, that I have to vote on the piece of legislation as an elected legislator.

I serve on the Revenue Committee and, as we heard this testimony, some of the information that came up was very interesting. We're taxing a single entity. It is a single piece legislation that taxes only one company and one transaction. However, the explanation from the company I thought was very valid. They are in a joint operation with Jujo Paper of Japan on the NORPAC operation. Jujo requires very strict accounting for its transactions. As Weyerhaeuser supplies paper to NORPAC, it was necessary for them, as they sold the power, to identify it as a sole separate institution. I feel the other problem that occurs with this, as we look at it, is the very possible fact that this will impact major power sales by other PUD's from Grant, Douglas and other counties. So I am opposed to this legislation, because it does identify one company that is seeking to buy power from Cowlitz County, their PUD, and sell a portion of it to a partially owned subsidiary, NORPAC. I would urge your opposition to House Bill No. 1881.

Mr. Holland spoke against passage of the bill.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 1881, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 59; nays, 37; excused, 2.

Sec. 4. Section 14, chapter 122, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. as last amended by section 14, chapter 439, Laws of 1987 and RCW 70.96A.140 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) When the person in charge of a treatment facility, or his or her designee, receives information alleging that a person is incapacitated as a result of alcoholism, the person in charge, or his or her designee, after investigation and evaluation of the specific facts alleged and of the reliability and credibility of the information, may file a petition for commitment of such person with the superior court or district court. If the person in charge, or his or her designee, finds that the initial needs of such person would be better served by placement within the mental health system, the person shall be referred to an evaluation and treatment facility as defined in RCW 71.05.020. If placement in an alcohol treatment facility is deemed appropriate, the petition shall allege that: The person is an alcoholic who is incapacitated by alcohol, or that the person has twice before in the preceding twelve months been admitted for (the voluntary) detoxification or treatment for alcoholism pursuant to RCW 70.96A.110 and is in need of a more sustained treatment program, or that the person is an alcoholic who has threatened, attempted, or inflicted physical harm on another and is likely to inflict physical harm on another unless committed. A refusal to undergo treatment, by itself, does not constitute evidence of lack of judgment as to the need for treatment. The petition shall be accompanied by an order of a licensed physician who has examined the person within (two) five days before submission of the petition, unless the person whose commitment is sought has refused to submit to a medical examination, in which case the fact of refusal shall be alleged in the petition. The certificate shall set forth the licensed physician's findings in support of the allegations of the petition. A physician employed by the petitioning facility or the department is (not) eligible to be the certifying physician.

(2) Upon filling the petition, the court shall fix a date for a hearing no less than (three) two and no more than seven days after the date the petition was filed unless the person petitioned against is presently being detained (by the) in a facility, pursuant to RCW 70.96A.120 or 71.05.210, as now or hereafter amended. In which case the hearing shall be held within seventy-two hours of the filing of the petition: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the above specified seventy-two hours shall be computed by excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays: PROVIDED FURTHER, That, the court may, upon motion of the person whose commitment is sought, or upon motion of petitioner with written permission of the person whose commitment is sought, or his or her counsel and, upon good cause shown, extend the date for the hearing. A copy of the petition and of the notice of the hearing, including the date fixed by the court, shall be served by the treatment facility on the person whose commitment is sought, his or her next of kin, a parent or his or her legal guardian if he or she is a minor, and any other person the court believes advisable. A copy of the petition and certificate shall be delivered to each person notified.

(3) At the hearing the court shall hear all relevant testimony, including, if possible, the testimony, which may be telephonic, of at least one licensed physician who has examined the person whose commitment is sought. The person shall be present unless the court believes that his or her presence is likely to be injurious to him or her; in this event the court may deem it appropriate to appoint a guardian ad litem to represent him or her throughout the proceeding. If deemed advisable, the court may examine the person out of courtroom. If the person has refused to be examined by a licensed physician, he or she shall be given an opportunity to be examined by a court-appointed licensed physician. If he or she refuses and there is sufficient evidence to believe that the allegations of the petition are true, or if the court believes that more medical evidence is necessary, the court may make a temporary order committing him or her to a medical examination.

(4) If after hearing all relevant evidence, including the results of any diagnostic examination, the court finds that grounds for involuntary commitment have been established by clear, cogent, and convincing proof, it shall make an order of commitment to an approved treatment facility. It shall not order commitment of a person unless it determines that an approved treatment facility is able to provide adequate and appropriate treatment for him or her (and the treatment is likely to be beneficial).

(5) A person committed under this section shall remain in the facility for treatment for a period of (thirty) sixty days unless sooner discharged. At the end of the (thirty) sixty-day period, he or she shall be discharged automatically unless the facility, before expiration of the period, files a petition for his or her recommitment upon the grounds set forth in subsection (1) of this section for a further period of ninety days unless sooner discharged. If a person has been committed because he or she is an alcoholic likely to inflict physical harm on another, the facility shall apply for recommitment if after examination it is determined that the likelihood still exists.

(6) (A person recommitted under subsection (5) of this section who has not been discharged by the facility before the end of the ninety-day period shall be discharged at the expiration of that period unless the facility, before expiration of the period, obtains a court order on the grounds set forth in subsection (1) of this section for recommitment for a further period not to exceed ninety days. If a person has been committed because he or she is an alcoholic likely to inflict physical harm on another, the facility shall apply for recommitment if after examination it is determined that the likelihood still exists. Only two recommitment orders under subsections (5) and (6) of this section are permitted:
(7)) Upon the filing of a petition for recommitment under subsection((s)) (5) ((or (t))) of this section, the court shall fix a date for hearing no less than ((three)) two and no more than seven days after the date the petition was filed: PROVIDED, That, the court may, upon motion of the person whose commitment is sought and upon good cause shown, extend the date for the hearing. A copy of the petition and of the notice of hearing, including the date fixed by the court, shall be served by the treatment facility on the person whose commitment is sought, his or her next of kin, the original petitioner under subsection (1) of this section if different from the petitioner for recommitment, one of his or her parents or his or her legal guardian if he or she is a minor, and his or her attorney and any other person the court believes advisable. At the hearing the court shall proceed as provided in subsection (3) of this section.

(8)) (7) The approved treatment facility shall provide for adequate and appropriate treatment of a person committed to its custody. A person committed under this section may be transferred from one approved public treatment facility to another if transfer is medically advisable.

(8)) (8) A person committed to the custody of a facility for treatment shall be discharged at any time before the end of the period for which he or she has been committed and he or she shall be discharged by order of the court if either of the following conditions are met:

(a) In case of an alcoholic committed on the grounds of likelihood of infliction of physical harm upon himself, herself, or another, ((that he or she is no longer an alcoholic or)) the likelihood no longer exists; or further treatment will not be likely to bring about significant improvement in the person's condition, or treatment is no longer adequate or appropriate.

(b) In case of an alcoholic committed on the grounds of the need of treatment and incapacity, that the incapacity no longer exists.

(8)) (9) The court shall inform the person whose commitment or recommitment is sought of his or her right to contest the application, be represented by counsel at every stage of any proceedings relating to his or her commitment and recommitment, and have counsel appointed by the court or provided by the court, if he or she wants the assistance of counsel and is unable to obtain counsel. If the court believes that the person needs the assistance of counsel, the court shall require, by appointment if necessary, counsel for him or her regardless of his or her wishes. The person shall, if he or she is financially able, bear the costs of such legal service; otherwise such legal service shall be at public expense. The person whose commitment or recommitment is sought shall be informed of his or her right to be examined by a licensed physician of his or her choice. If the person is unable to obtain a licensed physician and requests examination by a physician, the court shall employ a licensed physician.

(10)) (10) A person committed under this chapter may at any time seek to be discharged from commitment by writ of habeas corpus in a court of competent jurisdiction.

((7))) (11) The venue for proceedings under this section is the county in which person to be committed resides or is present.

(12) When in the opinion of the professional person in charge of the facility providing involuntary treatment under this chapter, the committed patient can be appropriately served by less restrictive treatment before expiration of the period of commitment, then the less restrictive care may be required as a condition for early release for a period which, when added to the initial treatment period, does not exceed the period of commitment. If the facility designated to provide the less restrictive treatment is other than the facility providing the initial involuntary treatment, the facility so designated must agree in writing to assume such responsibility. A copy of the conditions for early release shall be given to the patient, the designated county alcoholism specialist, and the court of original commitment. The facility designated to provide less restrictive care may modify the conditions for continued release when the modifications are in the best interests of the patient. If the facility providing less restrictive care and the designated county alcoholism specialist determine that a conditionally released patient is failing to adhere to the terms and conditions of his or her release, or that substantial deterioration in the patient's functioning has occurred, then the designated county alcoholism specialist shall notify the court of original commitment and request a hearing to be held no less than two and no more than seven days after the date of the request to determine whether or not the person should be returned to more restrictive care. The designated alcoholism specialist shall file a petition with the court stating the facts substantiating the need for the hearing along with the treatment recommendations. The patient shall have the same rights with respect to notice, hearing, and counsel as for the original involuntary treatment proceedings. The issues to be determined at the hearing are whether the conditionally released patient did or did not adhere to the terms and conditions of his or her release to less restrictive care or that substantial deterioration of the patient's functioning has occurred and whether the conditions of release should be modified or the person should be returned to a more restrictive facility. The hearing may be waived by the patient and his or her counsel and his or her guardian or conservator, if any, but may not be waived unless all such persons agree to the waiver. Upon waiver, the person may be returned for involuntary treatment or continued on conditional release on the same or modified conditions.
POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Heavey: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would ask for a ruling on the scope and object of this amendment.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1450, by Committee on Trade & Economic Development (originally sponsored by Representatives Vekich, Schoon, Fox, Hargrove, Wineberry, B. Williams, Peery, Betrozoff, P. King, Sayan, McLean, May, Fuhrman, Doty, Sutherland, D. Sommers, Walker, Sanders, Rayburn, Moyer, Cooper, O'Brien, Spanel and Day; by request of Governor Gardner)

Extending the excise tax deferral and credit programs for manufacturing and research and development activities.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the point of order by Mr. Vekich regarding the amendment by Mr. Holland and others.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Vekich, the Speaker has examined Substitute House Bill No. 1450 and finds that the bill extends into the future three different programs, the sales tax deferral program, the business and occupation tax credit and the sales tax deferral program in economically distressed areas. This bill simply extends the life of those programs to July 1, 1994. I find that the amendment in all three cases expands the scope of those current programs. It just doesn't extend them into the future; it expands the scope of the programs. Representative Vekich, I find that your point is well taken and that the amendment is outside the scope and object of the bill.

Mr. Holland moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 4, after line 26, insert:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances in not affected."

Mr. Holland spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment, and it was adopted.

The bill was ordered engrossed. There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading consider the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Vekich and Schoon spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Vekich yielded to question by Ms. Hankins.

Ms. Hankins: Representative Vekich, how would this help a distressed county that isn’t on the list at this time?

Mr. Vekich: Thank you, Representative Hankins. There is a definition of distressed of twenty percent above the state average unemployment level. I represent a county, Mason County, and when we first enacted this bill in the legislature, Mason County was distressed. By the time the bill was implemented and became law it fell out of the terms of distressed. No matter how much we wiggled or how much we tried to deal with it through the bureaucratic maze there was no way a county, that is not distressed under the definition, could come under the effect of this legislation. That is the answer. I think the problem we have with specific outlying counties is the point that you are really concerned about. We had a bill here before us, the border county tax bill, which gave a tax exemption to specific counties and was ruled unconstitutional. The difference between that bill and this bill is that there is a certain level of distress and the counties can change all the time. There are not seven special counties, there is not one special county, but it is the standard or test of distress that triggers the whole bill.

Mr. Hargrove spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1450, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 84; nays, 12; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Representatives Amondson, Anderson, Appelwick, Armstrong, Ballard, Barnes, Basich, Baugher, Beck, Betrozoff, Bristow, Brooks, Brough, Bumgarner, Butterfield, Cantwell, Chandler, Cooper, Crane, Day, Dellwo, Dom, Doty, Ebersole, Ferguson, Fox, Fuhrman, Excused: Representatives Allen, Smith C – 2.

Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1450, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

The Speaker (Mr. Grimm presiding) called the House to order.

There being no objection, the House reverted to the third order of business.

MOTION

Mr. Ebersole moved that the House immediately resume consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 1383 on second reading from the previous day. (See Journal, 36th Day, February 15, 1988.) The motion was carried.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1383, by Committee on Human Services (originally sponsored by Representatives Leonard and Lux)

Changing provisions relating to alcoholism treatment programs.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the point of order by Mr. Heavey regarding the amendment by Ms. Brekke and others.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Heavey, the Speaker has examined Substitute House Bill No. 1383 and the floor amendment. Substitute House Bill No. 1383 gives DSHS the authority to conduct training and competency evaluations for drug counselors. The amendment amends the involuntary treatment act to change the commitment period and change certain definitions in the act. I find that your point is well taken and that the amendment is outside the scope and object of the original bill.

The Speaker would remind the members of what floor amendments are designed to do and that is to perfect the bill, not to broaden the scope of the bill, but to perfect the bill, to bring matters underneath the broad umbrella of the purpose of the bill.

The Speaker read the following amendment by Representatives Brekke, H. Sommers and Winsley:

On page 2, after line 28, insert the following:

"Sec. 3. Section 294, page 187, Laws of 1854 as last amended by section 1501, chapter 212, Laws of 1987 and by section 11, chapter 439, Laws of 1987 and RCW 5.60.060 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) A husband shall not be examined for or against his wife, without the consent of the wife, nor a wife for or against her husband without the consent of the husband; nor can either during marriage or afterward, be without the consent of the other, examined as to any communication made by one to the other during marriage. But this exception shall not apply to a civil action or proceeding by one against the other, nor to a criminal action or proceeding for a crime committed by one against the other, nor to a criminal action or proceeding against a spouse if the marriage occurred subsequent to the filing of formal charges against the defendant, nor to a criminal action or proceeding for a crime committed by said husband or wife against any child of whom said husband or wife is the parent or guardian, nor to a proceeding under chapter 70.96A or 71.05 RCW: PROVIDED, That the spouse of a person sought to be detained under chapter 70.96A or 71.05 RCW may not be compelled to testify and shall be so informed by the court prior to being called as a witness.

(2) An attorney or counselor shall not, without the consent of his or her client, be examined as to any communication made by the client to him or her, or his or her advice given thereon in the course of professional employment.

(3) A member of the clergy or a priest shall not, without the consent of a person making the confession, be examined as to any confession made to him or her in his or her professional character, in the course of discipline enjoined by the church to which he or she belongs.

(4) Subject to the limitations under section 6 of this 1988 act or RCW 71.05.250, a physician or surgeon or osteopathic physician or surgeon shall not, without the consent of his or her patient, be examined in a civil action as to any information acquired in attending such patient, which was necessary to enable him or her to prescribe or act for the patient, except as follows:

(a) In any judicial proceeding regarding a child's injury, neglect, or sexual abuse or the cause thereof; and

(b) Ninety days after filing an action for personal injuries or wrongful death, the claimant shall be deemed to waive the physician-patient privilege. Waiver of the physician-patient privilege for any one physician or condition constitutes a waiver of the privilege as to all physicians or conditions, subject to such limitations as a court may impose pursuant to court rules.

(5) A public officer shall not be examined as a witness as to communications made to him or her in official confidence, when the public interest would suffer by the disclosure.

Sec. 4. Section 2, chapter 447, Laws of 1985 as amended by section 1, chapter 212, Laws of 1986 and RCW 5.62.020 are each amended to read as follows:

No registered nurse providing primary care or practicing under protocols, whether or not the physical presence or direct supervision of a physician is required, may be examined in a civil or criminal action as to any information acquired in attending a patient in the registered nurse's professional capacity, if the information was necessary to enable the registered nurse to act in that capacity for the patient, unless:

(1) The patient consents to disclosure or, in the event of death or disability of the patient, his or her personal representative, heir, beneficiary, or devisee consents to disclosure; or

(2) The information relates to the contemplation or execution of a crime in the future, or relates to the neglect or the sexual or physical abuse of a child, or of a vulnerable adult as defined in RCW 74.34.020, or to a person subject to proceedings under chapter 70.96A, 71.05, or 71.34 RCW.

Sec. 5. Section 11, chapter 305, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 12, chapter 439, Laws of 1987 and RCW 18.83.110 are each amended to read as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

Communications otherwise deemed privileged under the laws of this state are deemed to be waived in proceedings under this chapter when a court of competent jurisdiction in its discretion determines that the waiver is necessary to protect either the detained person or the public. The waiver of a privilege under this section is limited to records or testimony relevant to evaluation of the detained person for purposes of a proceeding under this chapter. Upon motion by the detained person, or on its own motion, the court shall examine a record or testimony sought by a petitioner to determine whether it is within the scope of the waiver.

The record maker shall not be required to testify in order to introduce medical, nursing, or psychological records of detained persons so long as the requirements of RCW 5.45.020 are met, except that portions of the record that contain opinions as to whether the detained person is an alcoholic must be deleted from the records unless the person offering the opinions is available for cross-examination.

Mr. Wang moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Wang, Sayan, Heavey and Jesernig:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

“NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

(1) Employment is vitally important to an individual’s economic well-being and self-respect. The employees of a business invest their skills and efforts into a business and have a vital stake in its continued operation and their continued employment. When their employment with a business is terminated due to the closure, transfer of ownership, or relocation of the business, they suffer a heavy economic and personal loss.

(2) When an employer closes or relocates, particularly in cases in which the employer employs a large number of employees in a locality or within an industry, it is difficult, and sometimes impossible, for the former employees to find comparable employment with another employer.

(3) When an employer closes or relocates or when employees are terminated as the result of a transfer of ownership of the business, long-time employees lose the seniority, benefits, and unaccrued pension credits they have earned during their many years of service. Employment offering comparable wages and benefits is unavailable to many. Some older employees will be unable to find alternative employment.

(4) The potentially disastrous effects of the sudden elimination of an employee's employment, through no fault of the employee, should be shared by the employer, who has made the decision that closure, sale, or relocation of the business is an economic advantage. Moreover, continuity of employment is a desirable goal, which vitally affects the well-being of thousands of individuals and the public as a whole, and should be encouraged.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Employer' includes any individual, partnership, association, corporation, business trust, or other entity which employs eight or more persons.

(2) 'Employee' includes any individual employed by an employer.

(3) 'Relocation' of a business or part of a business means removal of all or substantially all operations of the business, a separate facility or branch, or a distinct division or department of a business to a location at least sixty miles away from its original location.

(4) 'Termination' of a business or part of a business means cessation of all or substantially all operations of the business, a separate facility or branch, or a distinct division or department of a business and the business or part of the business is permanently closed.

(5) 'Transfer of ownership' of a business or part of a business includes any transfer of ownership in a business, a separate facility or branch, or a distinct division or department of a business, including sale of stock, a sale of assets, a foreclosure or other form of repossession by creditors, a gift, a devise, or any other means of transfer of ownership.

(6) 'One month's pay' means the average monthly compensation paid to an employee by an employer based on the amount of compensation received by the employee during the preceding twelve months.

(7) 'Years of service' shall include all years during which the employee was employed by the employer, or any owner, subsidiary, division, or entity otherwise related to the employer, or during which the employee was employed in the same operation or facility while it was owned by a predecessor to the employer.

(8) 'Successor employer' means an employer to whom the ownership of a business or a part of a business has been transferred.

(9) 'Predecessor employer' means an employer who has transferred the ownership of a business or a part of a business to another.

(10) 'Comparable position' means a position that requires comparable education, skills, experience, and effort and is performed under similar working conditions.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. Any employer that relocates, terminates, or transfers the ownership in a business or any part of a business shall be liable to the employees for severance pay at the rate of one month's pay for each year of service by the employee, not to exceed twelve months' pay. The employer is liable to employees who have been employed by the employer for at least one pay period but less than one year for severance pay in the amount of one month's pay. The severance pay owing shall be in addition to any final wage payment to the employee and shall be paid within one regular pay period after the employee's last day of work. An employer's liability for severance pay under this section shall be limited to the value of the business at the time of the relocation, termination, or transfer of ownership of the business or any part of the business.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. An employer shall not be liable for severance pay under this chapter to an employee if:

(1) The employee is covered by an express contract providing for severance pay; or

(2) The employee accepts employment with the new owner of the business or with the predecessor employer at a different facility or location that provides the same wages and benefits as the employee received prior to the relocation, termination, or transfer of ownership of the business.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. A successor employer has an obligation to offer a position to each employee who was employed by the predecessor employer during the twelve months preceding the transfer of ownership. The employee shall be offered the position that employee held for the predecessor employer prior to the transfer of ownership if a substantial portion of the work performed by that employee continues to be performed by the business. If the work performed by an employee is no longer performed by the business, the employer must offer the employee a comparable position or, if no comparable position is available, any available position for which the employee is qualified. The wages, benefits, and other conditions of employment offered or provided to the former employees of the predecessor employer may not be inferior to the wages, benefits, and other conditions of employment provided to new employees filling the same or comparable positions with the successor employer.

A former employee of a predecessor employer who accepts a job with a successor employer may not be discharged, except for misconduct connected with the employee's work, for one year after the employee's date of hire by the successor employer.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Section 5 of this act does not apply to a former employee of a predecessor employer if:

(1) There is no work available which the employee is qualified to perform; PROVIDED, That all employees of a predecessor employer shall be offered employment before new employees are hired; or

(2) The former employee held a managerial position with the predecessor employer in which the employee was responsible for setting fundamental company policy, and it is necessary for the successor employer to replace the employee in order to implement its management plan; PROVIDED, That the employee shall be offered an alternative position for which the employee is qualified.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. An employer may not avoid the obligation under section 3 of this act by discharging or laying off employees prior to the relocation, termination, or transfer of ownership of the business or any part of the business. A successor employer’s obligation under section 5 of this act is not affected if the predecessor employer discharges or lays off employees prior to the relocation, termination, or transfer of ownership of the business or any part of the business. An employer or a successor employer is relieved of obligations to an employee employed during the twelve months prior to the relocation, termination, or transfer of ownership only if the employer or successor employer proves by clear and convincing evidence that the employee’s discharge or layoff was not a result of the expected relocation, termination, or transfer of ownership of the business or any part of the business.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Any employee may bring suit in superior court to enforce the employee’s rights under this chapter. The courts are authorized to direct specific performance of the successor employer’s obligation under section 5 of this act to offer employment to an employee of its predecessor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The director of labor and industries is authorized to take assignments of claims for severance pay under section 3 of this act and prosecute actions for the collection of severance pay under the same conditions provided for the assignment and prosecution of claims for unpaid wages under RCW 49.48.040.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Any individual who successfully prosecutes a claim for severance pay or a claim to enforce the successor employer’s duty to offer employment to the predecessor’s employees shall be awarded costs and attorney’s fees, including costs and attorney’s fees necessary to collect a judgment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (1) A person with a claim for severance pay against an employer or a claim for an offer of employment from a successor employer shall have a lien for moneys owing under this chapter on: (a) All of the property used in the operation of the business or part of the business that has been relocated, terminated, or transferred creating an obligation under this chapter, and (b) all proceeds of the sale or transfer of ownership of the property.

(2) A notice of the claim shall be filed within sixty days of the employee’s termination of employment with the auditor of the county in which the affected business or part of the business is or was located. The notice of claim shall contain a statement of the employee’s demands, the name and address of the employer, the name and address of the successor employer (if applicable), and the date of the employee’s last service. A copy of this notice shall be served or mailed to the employer and, if applicable, to the successor employer at the time it is filed.

(3) The lien may be enforced within the same time and in the same manner as mechanics’ liens are enforced when the lien is upon real property, or in the same manner as chattel liens are enforced when the lien is upon personal property.

(4) This lien shall be preferred to any encumbrance that may attach after the relocation, termination, or transfer of ownership that created the obligation under this chapter and to any encumbrance that may have attached prior to that time but was not filed or recorded so as to create constructive notice of the encumbrance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. This chapter does not apply to an employee who is terminated:

(1) Following a determination by the department of employment security that the employer has undergone a bona fide restructuring of the employer’s business for the purposes of efficiency and improvements in the productivity of the business;

(2) Because the employer has gone into receivership or bankruptcy;

(3) Because of the employer’s termination of a business due to death, serious illness, or an act of God;

(4) Because the employer’s business is not profitable. To qualify for this exemption, an employer must provide the employee with written notice of the expected termination, relocation, or transfer of the ownership of the business due to loss of profits at least six months prior to termination of the employee, and shall make the books of the employer open for inspection by the employee for the purpose of verifying the loss of profits; or

(5) If the employer had provided the employee with twelve months’ written notice of the intent to terminate the business.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Wang yielded to question by Mr. Sanders.

Mr. Sanders: Representative Wang, during public testimony we received letters from the Washington State Labor Council on the original bill and also the Association of Washington Business. I have them here in my files which I brought down from the hearing room. Do these letters still apply? Since there has not been a public hearing on this amendment, do these letters still apply?

Mr. Wang: The Labor Council still supports the bill. As you may recall, there was no public testimony in opposition to the bill.

Mr. Sanders: How about the letter from the Association of Washington Business dated January 25, where they had some problems with the bill? Have these all been resolved, or do we still have the same problems?

Mr. Wang: Although I have no direct evidence, I would certainly conjecture that the Association of Washington Business may still have problems with the bill.

PSSB 6591  Prime Sponsor. Committee on Higher Education: Establishing a college savings bond program. Reported by Committee on Higher Education

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature declares that for the benefit of the people of the state of Washington, the conduct and increase of their commerce, the protection and enhancement of their welfare, the development of continued prosperity and the improvement of their health and living conditions, it is essential that this and future generations of youth be given the fullest opportunity to learn and to develop their intellectual and mental capacities and skills. The legislature further finds that to achieve these ends it is of the utmost importance that Washington residents be provided with investment alternatives to enhance their financial access to higher education in this state. The purpose of this chapter is to encourage parents and other persons to save so that future generations may attend higher education institutions and to provide an alternative low-cost method of borrowing to benefit public higher education institutions in this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Bonds' means general obligation bonds of the state of Washington issued under the authority of this chapter.

(2) 'Board' means the higher education coordinating board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. For the purpose of providing needed capital improvements consisting of the acquisition, construction, remodeling, furnishing and equipping of state buildings and facilities for the state institutions of higher education, including facilities for the community college system, the state finance committee is authorized to issue general obligation bonds of the state of Washington in the sum of fifty million dollars, or so much thereof as may be required, to finance these projects, and all costs incidental thereto.

No bonds may be offered for sale without prior legislative appropriation of the net proceeds of the bonds to be sold.

The bonds shall pledge the full faith and credit of the state of Washington and shall contain an unconditional promise to pay the principal thereof and interest thereon when due.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The state finance committee is authorized to prescribe the form, terms, conditions, and covenants of the bonds, the time or times of sale of all or any portion of them, and the manner of their sale and issuance. However, if and to the extent that the state finance committee determines it is economically feasible and in the best interest of the state to do so, the bonds shall be sold at a 'deep discount' from their par value.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The proceeds from the sale of the bonds, together with all grants, donations, transferred funds, and all other moneys which the state finance committee may direct the state treasurer to deposit therein, shall be deposited in the state building construction account of the general fund in the state treasury. All such proceeds shall be used exclusively for the purposes specified in section 3 of this act and for incidental costs and costs relating to the payment of the expenses incurred in connection with the sale and issuance of the bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The state higher education bond retirement fund of 1988 is hereby created in the state treasury and shall be used for the purpose of the payment of principal of and interest on the bonds.

The state finance committee, on or before June 30th of each year, shall certify to the state treasurer the amount required in the next succeeding twelve months for the payment of the principal of and the interest coming due on the bonds and any amounts required to be set aside in the state higher education bond retirement fund of 1988 pursuant to the bond resolution. Not less than thirty days prior to the date on which any interest or principal and interest payment is due, or any date on which any funds are required by the bond resolution to be transferred to the state higher education bond retirement fund of 1988, the state treasurer shall withdraw from any general state revenues received in the state treasury and deposit in the state higher education bond retirement fund of 1988 an amount equal to the amount certified by the state finance committee to be due on the payment date or required to be set aside in the state higher education bond retirement fund of 1988.

The owner and holder of each of the bonds or the trustee for the owner and holder of any of the bonds may by mandamus or other appropriate proceeding require the transfer and payment of funds as directed in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The bonds shall constitute a legal investment for all state funds or for funds under state control and all funds of municipal corporations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. In marketing the bonds and consistent with other provisions of law, the state finance committee shall consider methods for encouraging purchase of the bonds as a means of college savings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The state finance committee and the board shall evaluate the effectiveness of the college savings bond program created by this chapter, and report to the governor and the appropriate committees of the house and the senate about the program and any changes recommended by December 1, 1991. The board and the state finance committee shall specifically consider the advisability of offering incentives to parents to purchase college savings bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The board shall develop and implement an educational program and marketing strategies designed to inform parents about the options available for financing a college education, including college savings bonds, and the need to accumulate the financial resources necessary to pay for a college education.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. This act may be known and cited as the college savings bond act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The state finance committee and the board shall evaluate the effectiveness of the college savings bond program created by this chapter, and report to the governor and the appropriate committees of the house and the senate about the program and any changes recommended by December 1, 1991. The board and the state finance committee shall specifically consider the advisability of offering incentives to parents to purchase college savings bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

(4) Within forty days after the conclusion of the final hearing on the proposal, the board shall file its written decision, setting forth the reasons therefor, with the board of county commissioners and the clerk of each governmental unit directly affected. The written decision shall indicate whether the proposed change is approved, rejected or modified and, if modified, the terms of such modification. The written decision need not include specific data on every factor required to be considered by the board, but shall indicate that all standards were given consideration. Dissenting members of the board shall have the right to have their written dissents included as part of the decision.

(5) Unanimous decisions of the hearing panel or a decision of a majority of the members of the board shall constitute the decision of the board and shall not be appealable to the whole board. Any other decision shall be appealable to the entire board within ten days. Appeals shall be on the record, which shall be furnished by the appellant, but the board may, in its sole discretion, permit the introduction of additional evidence and argument. Decisions shall be final and conclusive unless within ten days from the date of said action a governmental unit affected by the decision or any person owning real property or residing in the area affected by the decision files in the superior court a notice of appeal.

The filing of such notice of appeal within such time limit shall stay the effective date of the decision of the board until such time as the appeal shall have been adjudicated or withdrawn. On appeal the superior court shall not take any evidence other than that contained in the record of the hearing before the board.

(6) The superior court may affirm the decision of the board or remand the case for further proceedings; or it may reverse the decision if any substantial rights may have been prejudiced because the administrative findings, inferences, conclusions, or decisions are:

(a) In violation of constitutional provisions, or

(b) In excess of the statutory authority or jurisdiction of the board, or

(c) Made upon unlawful procedure, or

(d) Affected by other error of law, or

(e) Unsupported by material and substantial evidence in view of the entire record as submitted, or

(f) Arbitrary or capricious.

An aggrieved party may (see sec. 8) seek appellate review of any final judgment of the superior court (by appeal to the supreme court or the court of appeals. Such appeal shall be taken) in the manner provided by law (for appeals from the superior court) as in other civil cases.

Sec. 41. Section 29, chapter 72, Laws of 1967 as amended by section 98, chapter 81, Laws of 1971 and R.C.W. 36.94.290 are each amended to read as follows:

Within the ten days from the filing of such notice of appeal with the clerk of the superior court, the appellant shall file with the clerk of said court, a transcript consisting of the assessment roll and his objections thereto, together with the resolution confirming such assessment roll and the record of the board of county commissioners with reference to said assessment. At the time of the filing of the notice of appeal with the clerk of the superior court a sufficient bond in the penal sum of two hundred dollars, with sureties thereon as provided by law for appeals in civil cases, shall be filed conditioned to prosecute such appeal without delay, and if unsuccessful, to pay all costs to which the county is put by reason of such appeal.
The court may order the appellant upon application thereto, to execute and file such additional bond or bonds as the necessity of the case may require. Within three days after such transcript is filed in the superior court, as aforesaid, the appellant shall give written notice to the clerk of the board of county commissioners that such transcript is filed. Said notice shall state a time, not less than three days from the service thereof, when the appellant will call up the said cause for hearing. The superior court shall, at said time or at such further time as may be fixed by order of the court, hear and determine such appeal without a jury, and such cause shall have preference over all civil causes pending in said court, except proceedings under an act relating to eminent domain in such county and actions of forcible entry and detainer. The judgment of the court shall confirm, correct, modify or annul the assessment insofar as the same affects the property of the appellant. A certified copy of the decision of the court shall be filed with the officer who shall have the custody of the assessment roll, and he shall modify and correct such assessment roll in accordance with such decision. ((Appeal shall lie to the supreme court or the court of appeals from)) Appellate review of the judgment of the superior court((c)) may be sought as in other cases((c)). (1) The court shall review the hearing without a jury on the basis of the transcript and exhibits, except that in case of alleged irregularities in procedure before the board not shown by the transcript the court may order testimony to be given thereon. The court shall upon request by either party hear oral argument and receive written briefs.

(2) The court may affirm the order of the board, remand the matter for further proceedings before the board, or reverse or modify the order if it finds that the objection thereto is well taken on any of the grounds stated. ((Appeal shall be available to the employee to the supreme court or the court of appeals from)) Appellate review of the order of the superior court may be sought as in other civil cases.

Sec. 43. Section 49, chapter 62, Laws of 1970 ex. sess. and RCW 43.21B.190 are each amended to read as follows:

No bond shall be required on appeals to the superior court or on ((appeals to)) review by the supreme court unless specifically required by the judge of the superior court.

Sec. 44. Section 43.52.430, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 10, chapter 184, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 43.52.430 are each amended to read as follows:

The appeal shall be heard and decided by the court upon the record before the director and the court may either affirm, set aside, or remand the order appealed from for further proceedings. ((Appeal may be had to the supreme court or the court of appeals as in the case of such appeal from the director and the order appealed from for further proceedings))
Appellate review of the superior court’s decision may be sought as in other civil cases.

At the time and place appointed for hearing upon the complaint, which hearing shall be by summary proceedings, if the court or judge thereof finds that due notice has been given by posting and publication and that the order of the department was duly made, and is further satisfied and finds that the state highway or portion thereof described is legally a state highway having the width of right of way specified in the order and that the structure, buildings, improvements, or other means of occupancy of the state highway or portion thereof as stated in the certificate of the department do in fact encroach, or that any portion thereof encroach, upon the state highway right of way, the court or judge thereof shall thereupon make and enter an order establishing that each of the structures, buildings, improvements, and other means of occupancy specified in the order is unlawfully maintained within the right of way and is subject to confiscation and sale and that they be forthwith confiscated, removed from the right of way, and sold, and providing that six days after the entry of the order, a writ shall issue from the court directed to the sheriff of the county, commanding the sheriff to seize and remove from the right of way of the state highway each such structure, building, improvement, or other means of occupancy specified in the order forthwith on receipt of a writ based on the order and to take and hold the property in his custody for a period of ten days, unless redeposited earlier as provided for by law, and if not then so redeposited to sell the property at public or private sale and to pay the proceeds thereof into the registry of the court within sixty days after the issuance of the writ, and further in such action, including costs of posting original notices of the department, the costs of posting and publishing notices of hearing as part thereof and any cost of removal, be paid by the clerk to the state treasurer and credited to the motor vehicle fund. On the return of such order to show cause, and after a full hearing, the court shall either deny the relief sought in the application or grant the relief sought in the application together with such other relief as the nature of the case and the interest of policyholders, creditors, stockholders, members, subscribers, or the public may require.

No (appeal taken from) appellate review of a superior court order, entered after a hearing, granting the commissioner’s petition to rehabilitate an insurer or to carry out an insolvency proceeding under this chapter, shall stay the action of the commissioner in the discharge of his responsibilities under this chapter, pending a decision by the appellate court in the matter.

In any proceeding under this chapter the commissioner and his deputies shall be responsible on their official bonds for the faithful performance of their duties. If the court deems it desirable for the protection of the assets, it may at any time require an additional bond from the commissioner or his deputies, or from his or their deputies.

Within five days after filing such petition in court, the commission shall cause a notice of the petition to be sent by registered mail to all parties or their representatives.
(2) From the time the petition is filed, the court shall have jurisdiction of the proceedings and of the questions determined thereon, and shall have the power to grant such temporary relief or restraining order as it deems just and suitable.

(3) If the petition shows that there is a final order issued by the commission or administrative law judge under RCW 49.60.240 or 49.60.250 and that the order has not been complied with in whole or in part, the court shall issue an order directing the person who is alleged to have not complied with the administrative order to appear in court at a time designated in the order, not less than ten days from the date thereof, and show cause why the administrative order should not be enforced according to the terms. The commission shall immediately serve the person with a copy of the court order and the petition.

(4) The administrative order shall be enforced by the court if the person does not appear, or if the person appears and the court finds that:
(a) The order is regular on its face;
(b) The order has not been compiled with; and
(c) The person's answer discloses no valid reason why the order should not be enforced, or that the reason given in the person's answer could have been raised by review under RCW 34.04.130, and the person has given no valid excuse for failing to use that remedy.

(5) The jurisdiction of the court shall be exclusive and its judgment and decree shall be final, except that the same shall be subject to (g) appellate review by the supreme court in cases of appeals, on appeal, by either party, irrespective of the nature of the decree or judgment. (Such appeal) The review shall be taken and prosecuted in the same manner and form and with the same effect as is provided in other cases (of appeal to the supreme court or the court of appeals, and the record so certified shall contain all that was before the lower court).

If such worker, beneficiary, employer, or other person fails to file with the superior court its appeal as provided in this section within said thirty days, the decision of the board to deny the petition or petitions for review or the final decision and order of the board shall become final.

In cases involving injured workers, an appeal to the superior court shall be to the superior court of the county of residence of the worker or beneficiary, as shown by the department's records, or to the superior court of the county wherein the injury occurred or where neither the county of residence nor the county wherein the injury occurred are in the state of Washington then the appeal may be directed to the superior court for Thurston county. After the hearing the commission may alter any and all assessments shown on the roll and may, by resolution, approve it, but if an assessment is raised, a new notice, similar to the first, shall be given, and a hearing had thereon, after which final approval of the roll may be made. Any person aggrieved by the assessments shall perfect an appeal to the superior court of the county within ten days after the approval, in the manner provided for appeals from assessments levied by cities of the first class. In the event such an appeal shall be taken, the judgment of the court shall confirm the assessment in so far as it affects the property of the appellant unless the court shall find from the evidence that such assessment is founded upon a fundamentally wrong basis and/or the decision of the commission thereon was arbitrary or capricious; in which event the judgment of the court shall correct, change, modify, or annul the assessment in so far as it affects the property of the appellant. In the same manner as provided with reference to cities of the first class ((an appeal shall lie to the supreme court or the court of appeals from)) appellate review of the judgment of the superior court may be sought, as in other cases, ((if taken)) within fifteen days after the date of the entry of the judgment in the superior court. Any person owning any part of the land involved in a special assessment and desiring to have such special assessment against the tracts of land segregated to apply to smaller parts thereof shall apply in writing to the board of commissioners of the public utility district which levied the assessment. If the commissioners determine that a segregation should be made they shall do so as nearly as possible on the same basis as the original assessment was levied and the total of the segregated parts of the assessment shall equal the assessment before segregation.

The commission shall then send notice thereof by mail to the several owners interested in the tract, as shown on the general tax rolls. If no protest is filed within twenty days from date of mailing said notice, the commission shall then by resolution approve said segregation. If a protest is filed, the commission shall have a hearing thereon, after mailing to the several owners at least ten days notice of the time and place thereof. After the hearing, the commission may by resolution approve said segregation, with or without change. Within ten days after the approval, any person aggrieved by the segregation may perfect an appeal to the superior court of the county wherein the property is situated and ((therefrom to the supreme court or the court of appeals)) thereafter seek appellate review, all as provided for appeals from assessments levied by cities of the first class. The resolution approving said segregation shall describe the original tract, the amount and date of the original assessment, and shall define the boundaries of the divided parts and the amount of the assessment chargeable to each part, and shall order the county treasurer to make segregation on the original assessment roll as directed in the resolution. A certified copy of the resolution shall be delivered to the county treasurer who shall proceed to make the segregation ordered. The board of commissioners may require as a condition to the order of segregation that the person seeking it pay the public utility district the Unless otherwise provided in said resolution, the county treasurer shall apportion amounts paid on the original assessment in the same proportion as the segregated assessments bear to the original assessment. Upon segregation being made by the county treasurer, as aforesaid, the lien of the special assessment shall apply to the segregated parcels only to the extent of the segregated part of such assessment.

The notice shall state a time, not less than three days from the service thereof, when the appellant will call up the cause for hearing; and the superior court shall, at said time or at such further time as may be fixed by order of the court, hear and determine such appeal without a jury; and such cause shall have preference over all civil causes pending in the court, except proceedings under an act relating to eminent domain and actions of forcible entry and detainer. The judgment of the court shall confirm, correct, modify or annul the assessment insofar as the same affects the property of the appellant. In the event an appellant feels himself aggrieved by the decision rendered in the hearing provided for in RCW 74.08.070, he shall have the right to petition the superior court for judicial review in accordance with the provisions of chapter 34.04 RCW, as now or hereafter amended. Either party may ((such appeal-from)) seek appellate review of the decision of the superior court ((to the supreme court or the court of appeals of the state)): PROVIDED, That no filing fee shall be collected of the appellant and no bond shall be required on any ((appeal)) review under this chapter. In the event that the superior court, the court of appeals, or the supreme court renders a decision in favor of the appellant, said appellant shall be entitled to reasonable attorney's fees and costs. If a decision of the court is made in favor of the appellant, assistance shall be paid from date of the denial of the application or forty-five days following the date of application, whichever is sooner; or in the case of a recipient, from the effective date of the initial departmental county office decision.

Sec. 59. Section 125, chapter 255, Laws of 1927 as amended by section 139, chapter 81, Laws of 1971 and RCW 79.01.500 are each amended to read as follows:

Any applicant to purchase, or lease, any public lands of the state, or any valuable materials thereon, and any person whose property rights or interests will be affected by such sale or lease, feeling himself aggrieved by any order or decision of the board of state land commissioners, or the commissioner of public lands, concerning the same, may appeal theretofrom to the superior court of the county in which such lands or materials are situated, by serving upon all parties who have appeared in the proceedings in which the order or decision was made, or their attorneys, a written notice of appeal, and filing such notice, with proof, or admission, or service, with the board, or the commissioner, within thirty days from the date of the order or decision appealed from, and at the time of filing the notice, or within five days thereafter, filing a bond to the state, in the penal sum of two hundred dollars, with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the secretary of the board, or the commissioner, conditioned that the appellant shall pay all costs that may be awarded against him on appeal, or the dismissal thereof. Within thirty days after the filing of notice of appeal, the secretary of the board, or the commissioner, shall certify, under official seal, a transcript of all entries in the records of the board, or the commissioner, together with all processes, pleadings and other papers relating to and on file in the case, except evidence used in such proceedings, and file such transcript and papers, at the expense of the applicant, with the clerk of the court to which the appeal is taken. The hearing and trial of said appeal in the superior court shall be de novo before the court, without a jury, upon the pleadings and papers so certified, but the court may order the pleadings to be amended, or new and further pleadings to be filed. Costs on appeal shall be awarded to the prevailing party as in actions commenced in the superior court, but no costs shall be awarded against the state, the board, or the commissioner. Should judgment be rendered against the appellant, the costs shall be taxed against him and his sureties on the appeal bond, except when the state is the only adverse party, and shall be included in the judgment, upon which execution may issue as in other cases. Any party feeling himself aggrieved by the judgment of the superior court may ((appeal therefrom to the supreme court or the court of appeals of the state, in the manner, and within the time, for appealing from judgments in actions at law)) seek appellate review as in other civil cases. Unless ((appeal be taken from)) appellate review of the judgment of the superior court is sought, the clerk of said court shall, on demand, certify, under his hand and the seal of the court, a true copy of the judgment, to the board, or the commissioner, which judgment shall thereupon have the same force and effect as if rendered by the board, or the commissioner. In all cases of appeals from orders or decisions of the commissioner of public lands involving the prior right to purchase tidelands of the first class, if the appeal be not prosecuted, heard and determined, within two years from the date of the appeal, the attorney general shall, after thirty days' notice to the appellant of his intention so to do, move the court for a dismissal of the appeal, but nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the dismissal of such appeal at any time in the manner provided by law.

Sec. 60. Section 80.04.190, chapter 14, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 4, chapter 107, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 80.04.190 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission, any public service company or any complainant may, after the entry of judgment in the superior court in any action of review, ((prosecute an appeal to the supreme court or the court of appeals of the state of Washington)) seek appellate review as in other cases.

Sec. 61. Section 80.04.260, chapter 14, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 140, chapter 81, Laws of 1971 and RCW 80.04.260 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever the commission shall be of opinion that any public service company is failing or omitting, or about to fail or omit, to do anything required of it by law, or by order, direction or requirement of the commission, or is doing anything, or about to do anything, or permitting anything, or about to permit anything to be done contrary to or in violation of law or of any order, direction or requirement of the commission authorized by this title, it shall direct the attorney general to commence an action or proceeding in the superior court of the state of Washington for Thurston county, or in the superior court of any county in which such company may do business, in the name of the state of Washington on the relation of the commission, for the purpose of having such violations or threatened violations stopped and prevented, either by mandamus or injunction. The attorney general shall thereupon begin such action or proceeding by petition to such superior court, alleging the violation complained of, and praying for the appropriate relief by way of mandamus or injunction. It shall thereupon be the duty of the court to specify a time, not exceeding twenty days after the service of the copy of the petition, within which the public service company complained of must answer the petition. In case of default in answer or after answer, the court shall immediately inquire into the facts and circumstances in such manner as the court shall direct, without other or formal pleadings, and without respect to any technical requirement. Such persons or corporations as the court may deem necessary or proper to be joined as parties, in order to make its judgment, order or writ effective, may be joined as parties. The final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall either dismiss the action or proceeding or direct that the writ of mandamus or injunction, or both, issue as prayed for in the petition, or in such other modified form as the court may determine will afford appropriate relief. ((An appeal may be taken to the supreme court or the court of appeals from such)) Appellate review of the final judgment may be sought in the same manner and with the same effect as ((appeal from)) review of judgments of the superior court in actions to review orders of the commission. All provisions of this chapter relating to the time of ((appeal from)) review of any other action, hearings and proceedings, shall apply to appeals to the supreme court or the court of appeals under the provisions of this section.

Sec. 62. Section 14, chapter 45, Laws of 1970 ex. sess. as last amended by section 3, chapter 64. Laws of 1981 and RCW 80.50.140 are each amended to read as follows:

1) A final decision pursuant to RCW 80.50.100 on an application for certification shall be subject to judicial review pursuant to provisions of chapter 34.04 RCW and this section. Petitions for review of such a decision shall be filed in the Thurston county superior court. All petitions for review of a decision under RCW 80.50.100 shall be consolidated into a single proceeding before the Thurston county superior court. The Thurston county superior court shall certify the petition for review to the supreme court upon the following conditions:

(a) Review can be made on the administrative record;
(b) Fundamental and urgent interests affecting the public interest and development of energy facilities are involved which require a prompt determination:
ties may agree, or as the commission may consider advisable. All work within the limits of railroad rights of way shall be done by the railroad company owning or operating the same. The cost of acquiring additional lands, rights or easements to provide for the purpose of having such violations or threatened violations stopped and prevented, either by mandamus or injunction. The attorney general shall thereupon begin such action or proceeding by petition to such superior court, alleging the violation complained of, and praying for appropriate relief by way of mandamus or injunction. It shall thereupon be the duty of the court to specify a time, not exceeding twenty days after the service of the copy of the petition, within which the public service company complained of must answer the petition. In case of default in answer or after answer, the court shall immediately inquire into the facts and circumstances in such manner as the court shall direct, without other or formal pleadings, and without respect to any technical requirement. Such persons or corporations as the court may deem necessary or proper to be joined as parties, in order to make its judgment, order or writ effective, may be joined as parties. The final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall either dismiss the action or proceeding or direct that the writ of mandamus or injunction, or both, issue as prayed for in the petition, or in such other modified form as the court may determine will afford appropriate relief. (An appeal may be taken to the supreme court or the court of appeals from such) Appellate review of the final judgment may be sought in the same manner and with the same effect as (appeals from) review of judgments of the superior court in actions to review orders of the commission authorized by laws. The Thurston county superior court shall assign a petition for review of a decision under RCW 80.50.100 for hearing at the earliest possible date and shall expedite such petition in every way possible. If the court finds that review cannot be limited to the administrative record as set forth in subparagraph (a) of this subsection because there are alleged irregularities in the procedure before the council not found in the record, but finds that the standards set forth in subparagraphs (b), (c), and (d) of this subsection are met, the court shall proceed to take testimony and determine such factual issues raised by the alleged irregularities and certify the petition and its determination of such factual issues to the supreme court. Upon certification, the supreme court shall assign the petition for hearing at the earliest possible date, and it shall expedite its review and decision in every way possible.

(2) Objections raised by any party in interest concerning procedural error by the council shall be filed with the council within sixty days of the commission of such error, or within thirty days of the first public hearing or meeting of the council at which the general subject matter to which the error is related is discussed, whichever comes later, or such objection shall be deemed waived for purposes of judicial review as provided in this section.

(3) The rules and regulations adopted by the council shall be subject to judicial review pursuant to the provisions of chapter 34.04 RCW.

Sec. 63. Section 81.04.190, chapter 14. Laws of 1961 as amended by section 5, chapter 107. Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 81.04.190 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission, any public service company or any complainant may, after the entry of judgment in the superior court in any action of review, ((prosecute an appeal to the supreme court or the court of appeals of the state of Washington)) seek appellate review as in other cases.

Sec. 64. Section 81.04.260, chapter 14. Laws of 1961 as amended by section 143, chapter 81. Laws of 1971 and RCW 81.04.260 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever the commission shall be of opinion that any public service company is failing or omitting, or about to fail or omit, to do anything required of it by law, or by order, direction or requirement of the commission, or is doing anything, or about to do anything, or permitting anything, or about to permit anything to be done contrary to or in violation of law or of any order, direction or requirement of the commission authorized by this title, it shall direct the attorney general to commence an action or proceeding in the superior court of the state of Washington for Thurston county, or in the superior court of any county in which such company may do business, in the name of the state of Washington on the relation of the commission, for the purpose of having such violations or threatened violations stopped and prevented, either by mandamus or injunction. The attorney general shall thereupon begin such action or proceeding by petition to such superior court, alleging the violation complained of, and praying for appropriate relief by way of mandamus or injunction. It shall thereupon be the duty of the court to specify a time, not exceeding twenty days after the service of the copy of the petition, within which the public service company complained of must answer the petition. In case of default in answer or after answer, the court shall immediately inquire into the facts and circumstances in such manner as the court shall direct, without other or formal pleadings, and without respect to any technical requirement. Such persons or corporations as the court may deem necessary or proper to be joined as parties, in order to make its judgment, order or writ effective, may be joined as parties. The final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall either dismiss the action or proceeding or direct that the writ of mandamus or injunction, or both, issue as prayed for in the petition, or in such other modified form as the court may determine will afford appropriate relief. (An appeal may be taken to the supreme court or the court of appeals from such) Appellate review of the final judgment may be sought in the same manner and with the same effect as (appeals from) review of judgments of the superior court in actions to review orders of the commission. All provisions of this chapter relating to the time of (appeal) review, the manner of perfecting the same, the filing of briefs, hearings and supersedeas, shall apply to appeals to the supreme court or the court of appeals under the provisions of this section.

Sec. 65. Section 81.53.130, chapter 14. Laws of 1961 as amended by section 144, chapter 81. Laws of 1971 and RCW 81.53.130 are each amended to read as follows:

In the construction of new railroads across existing highways, the railroads shall do or cause to be done all the work of constructing the crossings and road changes that may be required, and shall acquire and furnish whatever property or easements may be necessary, and shall pay, as provided in RCW 81.53.100 through 81.53.120, the entire expense of such work including all compensation or damages for property or property rights taken, damaged or injuriously affected. In all other cases the construction work may be apportioned by the commission between the parties who may be required to contribute to the cost thereof, as the parties may agree, or as the commission may consider advisable. All work within the limits of railroad rights of way shall in every case be done by the railroad company owning or operating the same. The cost of acquiring additional lands, rights or easements to provide for the change of existing crossings shall, unless the parties otherwise agree, in the first instance be paid by the municipality or county within which the crossing is located; or in the case of a state road or parkway, shall be paid in the manner provided by law for paying the cost of acquiring lands, rights or easements for the construction of state roads or parkways. The expense accruing on account of property taken or damaged shall be divided and paid in the manner provided for dividing and paying other costs of construction. Upon the completion of the work and its approval by the commission, an accounting shall be had, and if it shall appear that any party has expended more than its proportion of the total cost, a settlement shall be forthwith made. If the parties shall be unable to agree upon a settlement, the commission shall arbitrate, adjust and settle the account after notice to the parties. In the event of failure and refusal of any party to pay its proportion of the expense, the sum with interest from the date of the settlement may be recovered in a civil action by the party entitled thereto. In cases where the commission has settled the account, the findings of the commission as to the amount due shall be conclusive in any civil action brought to recover the same if such finding has not been reviewed or appealed from as herein provided, and the time for review or appeal has expired. If any party shall seek review (or appeal from) of any finding or order of the commission apportioning the cost between the parties liable therefor, the superior court, the court of appeals, or the supreme court, as the case may be, shall cause judgment to be entered in such review proceedings for such sum or sums as may be found lawfully or justly due by one party to another.

Sec. 66. Section 81.53.170, chapter 14, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 145, chapter 81, Laws of 1971 and RCW 81.53.170 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon the petition of any party to a proceeding before the commission, any finding or findings, or order or orders of the commission, made under color of authority of this chapter, except as otherwise provided, may be reviewed in the superior court of the county wherein the crossing is situated, and the reasonableness and lawfulness of such finding or findings, order or orders inquired into and determined, as provided in this title for the review of the commission's orders generally. (An appeal may be taken to the supreme court or the court of appeals from) Appellate review of the judgment of the superior court may be sought in like manner as provided in said utilities and transportation commission law for (appeals to) review by the supreme court or the court of appeals.

Sec. 67. Section 82.32.180, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 148, chapter 81, Laws of 1971 and RCW 82.32.180 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person, except one who has failed to keep and preserve books, records, and invoices as required in this chapter and chapter 82.24 RCW, having paid any tax as required and feeling aggrieved by the amount of the tax may appeal to the superior court of Thurston county, within the time limitation for a refund provided in chapter 82.32 RCW. In the appeal the taxpayer shall set forth the amount of the tax imposed upon him which he concedes to be the correct tax and the reason why the tax should be reduced or abated. The appeal shall be perfected by serving a copy of the notice of appeal upon the department within the time herein specified and by filing the original thereof with proof of service with the clerk of the superior court of Thurston county. Within ten days after filing notice of appeal, the taxpayer shall file with the clerk of the superior court a good and sufficient surety bond payable to the state in the sum of two hundred dollars, conditioned to diligently prosecute the appeal and pay the state all costs that may be awarded if the appeal of the taxpayer is not sustained.

The trial in the superior court on appeal shall be de novo and without the necessity of any pleadings other than the notice of appeal. The burden shall rest upon the taxpayer to prove that the tax as paid by him is incorrect, either in whole or in part, and to establish the correct amount of the tax. In such proceeding the taxpayer shall be deemed the plaintiff, and the state, the defendant; and both parties shall be entitled to subpoena the attendance of witnesses as in other civil actions and to produce evidence that is competent, relevant, and material to determine the correct amount of the tax that should be paid by the taxpayer. Either party (shall be allowed to appeal to the supreme court or the court of appeals) may seek appellate review in the same manner as other civil actions are appealed to those courts.

It shall not be necessary for the taxpayer to protest against the payment of any tax or to make any demand to have the same refunded or to petition the director for a hearing in order to appeal to the superior court, but no court action or proceeding of any kind shall be maintained by the taxpayer to recover any tax paid, or any part thereof, except as herein provided.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to any tax payment which has been the subject of an appeal to the board of tax appeals with respect to which appeal a formal hearing has been elected.

Sec. 68. Section 84.28.080, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 152, chapter 81, Laws of 1971 and RCW 84.28.080 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever the department or the department of revenue shall enter an order or decision with respect to classification or declassification of forest lands under this chapter, the owner of such lands, the department, the county assessor of the county in which such lands are located, or the taxpayers in a case arising under RCW 84.28.060, may, within thirty days following the entry of such order or decision, appeal to the superior court of the county within which such lands are situated for a review of the order or decision of the department or of the department of revenue. The appeal shall be perfected in the same manner as is provided by law for appeals from decisions of the department of revenue. Upon such appeal, the superior court shall sit without a jury, shall receive evidence de novo and shall determine the correct classification of the lands involved in accordance with the requirements of this chapter. The decision of the superior court shall be subject to (appeal to the supreme court or the court of appeals) in the same manner ((and by the same procedure)) as appeals are taken and perfected in civil actions at law. Upon (appeal from) review of any order or decisions of the department or the department of revenue and pending the dismissal or final determination of such (appeal) review, the lands involved shall be assessed and taxed in the same manner as they were assessed and taxed prior to the effective date of such order or decision.

Sec. 69, Section 84.28.110, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 153, chapter 81, Laws of 1971 and RCW 84.28.110 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever the whole or any part of the forest crop shall be cut upon any lands classified and assessed as reforestation lands under the provisions of this chapter, the owner of such lands shall, on or before the fifteenth day of February of each year, report under oath to the assessor of the county in which such lands are located, the amount of such timber or other forest crop cut during the preceding twelve months, in units of measure in conformity with the usage for which the cutting was made, together with a description, by government legal subdivisions, of the lands upon which the same were cut. If no such report of cutting is made, or if the assessor shall believe the report to be inaccurate, incorrect or mistaken, the assessor may, by such methods as shall be deemed advisable, determine the amount of timber or other forest product cut during such period. As soon as the report is filed, if the assessor is satisfied with the accuracy of the report, or if dissatisfied, as soon as the assessor shall have determined the amount of timber or forest crop cut as herein provided, the assessor shall determine the full current stumpage rates for the timber or forest crop cut and shall thereupon compute, and there shall become due and payable from the owner, a yield tax equal to twelve and one-half percent of the market value of the timber or forest crop so cut, based upon the full current stumpage rates so fixed by the assessor: PROVIDED. Whenever within the period of twelve years following the classification of any lands as reforestation lands, any forest material shall be cut on such lands, the owner thereof shall be required to pay a yield tax of one percent for each year that has expired from the date of such classification until such cutting: PROVIDED. FURTHER. That no yield tax need be paid on any forest material cut for domestic use of the owner of such lands, or on materials necessarily used in harvesting the forest crop.

Whenever the owner is dissatisfied with the determination of the amount cut as made by the assessor, or with the full current stumpage rates as fixed by the assessor, and shall pay the tax based thereon under protest, such owner may maintain an action in the superior court of the county in which the lands are located for recovery of the amount of the tax paid in excess of what the owner alleges the tax would be if based upon a cutting or stumpage rate which the owner alleges to be correct. In any such action the county involved and the county assessor of the county, shall be joined as parties defendant, but in case a recovery is allowed, judgment shall be entered against the county only, to be charged against the funds to which the collected tax was paid. In such action the court shall determine, in accordance with the issues, the true and correct amount of timber and forest crop which has been cut, and if an issue in the case, the true and correct full current stumpage rates, and shall enter judgment accordingly, either dismissing the action, or allowing recovery based upon its determination of the amount of timber or forest crop cut and if in issue, the full current stumpage rate. The judgment of the superior court shall be subject to ((appeal to the supreme court or the court of appeals)) appellate review in the same manner and by the same procedure as appeals are taken and perfected in civil actions at law.

Sec. 70, Section 84.64.120, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 154, chapter 81, Laws of 1971 and RCW 84.64.120 are each amended to read as follows:

((Appeal to the supreme court or the court of appeals at any time)) Appellate review of the judgment of the superior court may be ((taken to the supreme court or the court of appeals at any time)) sought as in other civil cases. However, review must be sought within thirty days after the (rendition of said) entry of the judgment (by giving notice thereof orally in open court at the time of the rendition of the judgment, or by giving written notice thereof at any time thereafter, and within thirty days from the date of the rendition of such judgment;) and the party taking such appeal shall execute, serve and file a bond payable to the state of Washington, with two or more sureties, to be approved by the court, in an amount to be fixed by the court, conditioned that the appellant shall prosecute his said appeal with effect, and will pay the amount of any taxes, interest and costs which may be finally adjudged against the real property involved in the appeal by any court having jurisdiction of the cause, which bond shall be so served and filed at the time of the service of said notice of appeal, and the respondent may, within five days after the service of such bond, object to the sureties thereon, or to the form and substance of such bond. In the court in which the action is pending, and if, upon hearing of such objections to said bond, it is determined by the court that the sureties thereon are insufficient for any reason, or that the bond is defective for any other reason, the court shall direct a new bond to be executed with sureties thereon, to be justified as provided by law, but no appeal shall be allowed from any judgment for the sale of land or lot for taxes, and no bond given on appeal as herein provided shall operate as a supersedeas, unless the party taking such appeal shall before the time of giving notice of such appeal, and within thirty days herein allowed within which to appeal, deposit with the county treasurer of the county in which the land or lots are situated, an amount of money equal to the amount of the judgment and costs rendered in such cause by the trial court. If, in case of an appeal, the judgment of the lower court shall be affirmed, in whole or in part, the supreme court or the court of appeals shall enter judgment for the amount of taxes, interest and costs, with damages not to exceed twenty percent, and shall order that the amount deposited with the treasurer as aforesaid, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be credited upon the judgment so rendered, and execution shall issue for the balance of said judgment, damages and costs. The clerk of the supreme court or the clerk of the division of the court of appeals in which the appeal is pending shall transmit to the county treasurer of the county in which the land or lots are situated a certified copy of the order of affirmance, and it shall be the duty of such county treasurer upon receiving the same to apply so much of the amount deposited with him, as aforesaid, as shall be necessary to satisfy the amount of the judgment of the supreme court, and to account for the same as collected taxes. If the judgment of the superior court shall be reversed and the cause remanded for a rehearing, and if, upon a rehearing, judgment shall be rendered for the sale of the land or lots for taxes, or any part thereof, and such judgment be not appealed from, as herein provided, the clerk of such superior court shall certify to the county treasurer the amount of such judgment, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to certify to the county clerk the amount deposited with him, as aforesaid, and the county clerk shall then credit such judgment with the amount of such deposit, or so much thereof as will satisfy the judgment, and the county treasurer shall be chargeable and accountable for the amount so credited as collected taxes. Nothing herein shall be construed as requiring an additional deposit in case of more than one appeal being prosecuted in said proceeding. If, upon a final hearing, judgment shall be refused for the sale of the land or lots for the taxes, penalties, interest and costs, or any part thereof, in said proceedings, the county treasurer shall pay over to the party who shall have made such deposit, or his legally authorized agent or representative, the amount of the deposit, or so much thereof as shall remain after the satisfaction of the judgment against the land or lots in respect to which such deposit shall have been made.

Sec. 71. Section 84.64.400, chapter 15. Laws of 1961 as amended by section 155, chapter 81. Laws of 1971 and RCW 84.64.400 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person aggrieved by the judgment rendered in such action (shall have the right to appeal from) may seek appellate review of the part of said judgment objectionable to him (to the supreme court or the court of appeals of the state substantially) in the manner and within the time prescribed for appeals in RCW 84.64.120.

Sec. 72. Section 10, chapter 153, Laws of 1915 as amended by section 156, chapter 81. Laws of 1971 and RCW 85.05.079 are each amended to read as follows:

Either the dike commissioners or any landowner who has appealed to the superior court in accordance with the provisions of this act (shall have a right to appeal to the supreme court or the court of appeals) may seek appellate review within the time and in the manner prescribed by existing law.

Sec. 73. Section 6, chapter 342, Laws of 1956 as amended by section 158, chapter 81. Laws of 1971 and RCW 85.05.470 are each amended to read as follows:

Any protestant who filed a protest prior to the final order of the board, may appeal from such final order, but to do so must within ten days from the date said order was entered, bring direct action in the superior court in the county wherein such district or portion thereof is situated, against such board of commissioners in their official capacity, which action shall be prosecuted under the procedure of civil actions, with (right of appeal to the supreme court of the court of appeals) appellate review as provided in civil actions. In any such action so brought, the order of the board shall be conclusive of the regularity and propriety of the proceedings, and all other matters, except it shall be open to attack upon the ground of fraud, unfair dealing, arbitrary or unreasonable action of the board.

Sec. 74. Section 9, chapter 67, Laws of 1903 and RCW 85.06.630 are each amended to read as follows:

From any final order entered by the said superior court as above provided for, any party to said proceedings feeling himself aggrieved thereby may (take an appeal to the supreme court of the state of Washington) seek appellate review, as provided by the general appeal law of this state.

Sec. 75. Section 3, chapter 170, Laws of 1935 as amended by section 160, chapter 81. Laws of 1971 and RCW 85.06.660 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever the board of commissioners of any district desire to exercise any of the foregoing powers under this act, it shall pass a resolution declaring its intention to do so, which shall describe in general terms the proposed improvement to be undertaken. The resolution shall set a date upon which the board shall meet to determine whether such work shall be done.
Thereafter a copy of such declaratory resolution and a notice of hearing shall be posted by the Secretary or member of the board, in three public places in such district at least ten days before the date of hearing. The notice shall state the time and place of hearing and such plans thereof are on file with the Secretary of the board subject to inspection by any party interested.

Any property owner affected by such proposed improvement, or any property owner within such district, may appear at said hearing and object to said proposed improvement by filing a written protest against the proposed action of the board. The protest shall clearly state the basis thereof. At such hearing, which shall be public, the board shall give full consideration to the proposed project and all protests filed, and on said date or any adjourned date, take final action thereon. If protests be filed before said hearing by owners of more than forty percent of the property in said district, the board shall not have power to make the proposed improvement nor again initiate the same for one year. If the board determines to proceed with such project in its original or modified form, it shall thereupon adopt a resolution so declaring and adopt general plans therefor, which resolution may authorize the acquisition by condemnation, or otherwise, of the necessary rights and properties to complete the same. Any party who filed a written protest prior to said hearing may appeal from the order of the board, but to do so must, within ten days from the date of entering of such order, bring direct action in the superior court of the State of Washington in the county wherein such district is situated, against such board of directors in their official capacity, which action shall be prosecuted under the procedure for civil actions, with the right of (appeal to the superior court or the court of appeals)) appellate review, as provided in other civil actions. In any action so brought, the order of the board shall be conclusive of the regularity and propriety of the proceedings and all matters except it shall be open to attack upon the ground of fraud, unfair dealing, arbitrary, or unreasonable action of the board.

Sec. 76. Section 5. Chapter 187, Laws of 1921 as amended by section 161, chapter 81. Laws of 1971 and RCW 85.06.750 are each amended to read as follows:
